ONE OF 36—The Nativity Scene will be depicted on this float planned and constructed by the Pontiac Catholic Parishes in the annual Christmas parade set for 9:30 a. m. Saturday. Sponsored by the Pontiac Retail Merchants Assn., the parade will feature three dozen floats, Santa Claus and his reindeer, Miss Pontiac and more than 500 bandsmen from nine area schools.

A-War Threat Told to Mayors

Gen. Chidlaw Says Big U.S. Cities Would Be First Russian Targets

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's mayors were told by the Continental Air Defense commander today that the outbreak of a global war could mean "100 pinpointed minutes of atomic hell on earth" for a hundred big American cities.

Gen. Benjamin W. Chidlaw posed this frightening possibility, saying it is the United States which stands "the most likely chance of aerial blow" before Russia strikes anywhere else in starting a full scale war.

Chidlaw's remarks were prepared for the more than 200 mayors and city managers from the 48 states and territories gathered for briefings on the nation's foreign and defense policies.

President Eisenhower, who issued the invitations for the two-day series of meetings, arranged to greet the group with an informal speech.

The Mayors' Conference is the second of its kind.

Last year's conference developed a sharp dispute among the mayors and government leaders over the role the federal government should play in civil defense in an atomic emergency. Eisenhower told that meeting that the cities should shoulder the main burden.

Meanwhile, the National Security Council, which last year's conference asked to review the civil defense subject, and the Federal Civil Defense Administration have made what FCDA officials describe as "much progress" in working out plans. The FCDA is now stressing evacuation measures.

Chidlaw appealed for civic understanding of the problems of air defense, including the noise nuisance of jet fighter planes and the admitted danger of their operations and high explosive loads.

Donaldson at Meeting

Mayor William W. Donaldson is among the 200 mayors and city managers attending the Mayor's Conference in Washington, called by President Eisenhower.

Pope Pius, 78, Growing Worse

Pontiff Confined to Bed Since Saturday; Said Unable to Take Food

The pontiff has been suffering from a stomach ailment and hiccups that have made it difficult for him to sleep.

He has not been able to take any food by mouth since Saturday.

The Pope looked sick and fatigued when he returned here Saturday from his summer residence in the Alban Hills 15 miles southeast of Rome.

The Pope made one brief appearance at his apartment window Sunday and blessed street car workers whom he originally planned to receive in audience.

Lincoln Yule Parade Float Result of Teamwork Plus

Sometime today a giant pink-ish shoe (equipped with doors, windows and a stovepipe) and a transformed farm trailer (now a glamorous thing that seemingly floats on air) will come together just outside the Lincoln Junior High School door.

As the big brogan is secured to the trailer's deck, a collective sigh of relief will probably rise from the 80 students and dozens of teachers and parents who worked long hours to make the home for the proverbial "old woman who lived in a shoe."

Not that she is going to live in it long. It will be occupied by the oldster and her large brood only Saturday morning.

At 9:30 a.m. she (really 15-year-old Patricia Lantz) and her "children" will scramble aboard the portable shoe-house, light up the stove and join the line of march for the annual Christmas parade through downtown Pontiac.

If nothing else, the story of the building of the parade entry by the students, teachers and parents of Lincoln Junior High School is one of cooperation, just as it is in the other 11 Pontiac schools and 24 church groups constructing floats.

In the basement of the Pontiac Motor Division administration building one evening about a month ago, five skilled craftsmen (all Lincoln parents) worked to extend the dimensions of a trailer loaned from the motor division.

The dads — William Hildery, Ralph Pardee, Ford Everett, Leonard Thiese and Lyle McClements —also put new angles on the trailer and tacked on a sloping "bustle."

Meanwhile, in the school workshop, instructor William Sturgeon and his classes began hammering together the shoe's wooden frame.

When they were through, the frame went down the hall to the metal shop, where instructor James Bruno and his boys added chicken wire.

That finished, they went back to applying the finishing touches to the doors, shutters, stove pipe and mail box.

Fleeing Convict Gets Short Ride From Motorist

The driver, Deputy Sheriff Walter Doughty, said nothing but drove right to the honor farm office and turned in his passenger. He was identified as Frank Joseph Nemcek, 23, who since last March 8 had been serving one year as part of five years' probation on a robbery charge.

Nemcek, who said his home was in Portland, Ore., was booked anew on an escape charge.

Judge Refuses Plea to Dismiss Sheppard Case

Osteopath's Fate Rests With Jury for Decision as Defense Opens

CLEVELAND (AP)—The judge in the Sheppard murder trial overruled today defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal.

"This is not a case that can be disposed of by the court," Common Pleas Judge Edward Blythin said as the session opened.

Therefore, he said, the various motions made yesterday by the defense to dismiss the murder charges against Dr. Samuel Sheppard would be overruled.

Judge Blythin said his decision did not mean that he has any opinion "or even right to have an opinion" as to the guilt or innocence of the accused osteopath.

Sheppard, 31, is charged with first degree murder in the bludgeoning of his pregnant wife, Marilyn, also 31, in her bed at their lakefront home last July 4.

The effect of the judge's ruling against the defense motions for a directed verdict of acquittal or dismissal of the indictment was to leave the question of the handsome defendant's guilt or innocence for the jury of seven men and five women.

The defense then proceeded with its case, calling as its first witness Dr. Stephen Sheppard, elder brother of the defendant. Dr. Steve, one of three osteopath brothers who practice with their father, has been the only relative of the defendant allowed in court during the trial.

The state concluded its case yesterday morning, calling as its 30th and final witness pretty Susan Hayes. She told of sharing a bed with Dr. Sam, and receiving a ring and a watch from him, and she said he told her he loved her and was "thinking of divorce."

Defense lawyers in arguing yesterday that Dr. Sheppard be freed on grounds the state had failed to establish a motive or link him closely with the murder, gave several hints as to the nature of their side of the case.

One was a startling suggestion that whoever attacked the 31-year-old matron intended, not to kill her, but to disfigure her.

The defense keeps implying that a woman may be involved in the savage beating.

This thesis emerged in points emphasized by defense lawyers as

Mercury Expected to Drop in Pontiac

Pontiac residents can expect to bundle up tonight, as the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts a mercury drop to 20 to 24 degrees.

The 2 to 4 inches of snow forecast for yesterday failed to materialize but there were a few snow flurries late this morning and early this afternoon.

Between midnight and 10 a.m. yesterday 1½ inches of snow was recorded in the area.

Temperatures in downtown Pontiac ranged from 28 to 33 degrees yesterday. The high for tomorrow will be 34-38 with a low Friday night of 22-26.

This morning at 8 o'clock the mercury stood at 28 degrees, rising slightly by 1 p.m. to 29 degrees, and dropped to 28 again by 2 p.m.

Senator Still Smiling

AP Wirephoto

CENSURED—Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) appears undisturbed in Washington as he holds glasses with his injured arm and waves a telephone after move to kill the censure charges against him yesterday failed. McCarthy later was censured by a Senate vote of 67 to 20 for his alleged abuse of an election subcommittee which investigated his finances in 1951-52.

Fast Senate OK Forecast on U.S.-Formosa Treaty

WASHINGTON (INS)—Quick Senate approval seemed assured today for the treaty which will almost automatically send American ships and planes bombarding Red China if the Communists try to capture Formosa.

Unanimous approval was expressed by top Democratic and Republican senators who said they were filled in on the treaty details well before they were made public yesterday afternoon by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

In announcing the treaty Dulles said it was highly probable that the U. S. will strike back at China herself if the Reds attack Formosa.

He also left the door open for a U. S. naval or air blockade of the China coast to try to force Peiping to release 13 Americans jailed on "trumped up" charges of spying if peaceful pressures fail to bring their release.

The secretary added, however, that he was confident the men could be freed without a blockade.

Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, who has opposed the Eisenhower Administration by demanding blockade, said last night he expects the Senate to ratify the treaty shortly after the new session begins in January.

(See related story on page 16.)

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), one of the four Foreign Relations Committee members interviewed today, said:

"The new treaty with Formosa Nationalist China shows the Chinese Communists with great definiteness that we will resist firmly and powerfully any action against Formosa. The lack of a definite treaty would more likely have led to hostilities than the fact there now is one."

Ferguson noted it does not commit the United States to automatic war should an act of hostility, falling within the pact, take place against Formosa.

Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga), who is to be chairman of the Residents Urged to Mail Yuletide Greetings Early

Acting Postmaster Leslie H. Dean Sr. today urged Pontiac area residents to mail holiday greeting cards early to assure arrival of mail before Christmas.

Yuletide cards addressed outside the state should be mailed by Dec. 15 and local delivery requires mailing at least a week before Christmas, he said.

Dean said 300 temporary employes are being hired by the post office to process letters and packages from Dec. 13 to 28.

Christmas cards should be tied in two separate bundles, with each address facing the same way. Then attach the postal labels marked "All For Local Delivery." The tags are available at the post office, without cost and will shorten delivery time, added Dean.

Parcel post should be mailed even earlier. Dean recommends no later than Dec. 5 for out of state gifts, and Dec. 10 for local delivery.

Size and weight limitations for parcel post vary according to place of mailing and destination.

"Be sure to ask someone at the post office about this before wrapping your Christmas gifts," said Dean. Poorly-wrapped packages are another risk to avoid. Use heavy wrapping paper.

WASHINGTON (UP) — Air Secretary Harold E. Talbott announced today that a jet fighter base will be built seven miles west of Cadillac, Mich., "in the Lake Mitchell area."

Senate Voting on Two Other Counts Today

Ferguson, Potter Both Line Up With Majority Favoring Rebuke

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — The Senate gave overwhelming approval to one censure resolution against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and prepared to vote today on two more.

The first blow fell heavily last night when the Senate voted 67 to 20 to adopt the first of two censure counts returned by a special committee. It censured McCarthy for "repeatedly abusing" a 1951-1952 elections subcommittee.

First they voted against clearing him of the censure charges. They were among 22 Republicans voting against the proposal by Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill). Forty-three Democrats and Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) voted to reject Dirksen's proposal.

Both also voted against a substitute measure by Sen. Mundt (R-SD) for the McCarthy censure resolution which would have put the Senate on record as disapproving and disavowing "intemperate statements" by the Wisconsin Republican. The measure was defeated, 74-15.

Ferguson and Potter also voted against the Bridges amendment which was defeated, 68-20. This amendment said McCarthy had violated no rules or precedents of the Senate.

They then voted to condemn McCarthy for his alleged contemptuous conduct toward a Senate subcommittee probing his financial affairs in 1951 and 1952. The vote was 67-20 for the censure resolution.

Senate censure would not mean any loss to McCarthy of his rights and privileges as a Senator nor his position as chairman of the government operations committee. He will lose that post when the Democrats organize the next Senate in January.

Censure is an expression of the Senate and its effect is what force such condemnation carries in the public's minds and in the minds of senatorial colleagues.

Remaining to be voted on were the censure committee's second

$500 Million Michigan Road Bond Issue Should Benefit Oakland County

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

LANSING—Most details of Gov. G. Mennen Williams' proposal to issue $500,000,000 or more in bonds for highway construction and improvement in Michigan still must be worked out.

The governor asked some 40 experts and representatives of interested groups assembled yesterday for their views on formulating a bond-issue plan to be submitted to the Legislature in January and later made the subject of a statewide vote if the lawmakers first approve it.

The plan, however, as seen in outline by Williams and his advisers, should be very beneficial to Oakland County.

Passage of a bond issue by voters April 4 might make it possible to do two years' work in one next summer totaling $149,000,000. Williams indicated. This would be the biggest one-season construction program ever embarked on by Michigan.

Of significance to this area was a statement by Williams, supported by most other speakers, that bond-issue money should be spent building roads where the need is greatest—where number of cars, congestion and accident rates are highest.

If such a plan were followed, Oakland County and the whole Detroit metropolitan area should receive a major portion of benefits.

Studies are now being done by the Michigan Good Roads Federation and a Joint Legislative Road-Study Committee which are expected to point out the areas of greatest need.

A partial report is expected in January, with complete findings due in August. If the bond issue is approved by voters in April, Williams said, it would still not be possible to plan next season's work on the basis of the complete report.

The governor stated the highway department has work planned for the 1955 and '56 construction seasons and said if the bond money is voted enough might be allocated to allow both years' work to be done next summer.

Expenditure of remaining bond money could then be planned following the final road-study report next August.

Chief among these is the actual amount of the bond issue. While $500,000,000 has been talked of, said Williams, this might be revised when results of road-needs studies now under way are completed.

Harry C. Coons, chief engineer for the State Highway Department, said 1,300 miles of multiple-lane highway is needed on state trunk lines through new construction and widening existing routes.

"Counties and cities face the same problem of widening their roads," he stated.

The present division of funds finds 44 per cent of all state collected highway revenues going to the highway department, 37 per cent to county road commissions for county primary and farm-to-

Yule Music, Safety Hints to Curb Pedestrian Traffic

From Our Birmingham bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Hurried and harried Christmas shoppers will again be given a yuletime pick-up starting Dec. 13, when traditional Christmas strains float across the Maple-Woodward intersection, interspersed with safety warnings offered by the Police Department.

For the fourth year in a row the program will be directed by Police Lt. Henry Timm, who this year will be assisted in his sound equipment operations by Patrolman Richard Thomason.

A new corner, Maple and Henrietta, will be served by the loud speaker system set up on Maple between the two intersections, allowing a vantage point for both locations.

In Timm's recollection, holiday shoppers have suffered no injuries through accidents at the city's main intersection since the start of the seasonal program in 1951.

"In fact," Timm commented, "people act like they are glued to the curbs until a voice from the air tells them they may cross the intersection in safety."

Both the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs have donated equipment for the musical and safety broadcasts, Timm added.

A new look, but one that costs more, is being given to the city's over 450 parking meters. Grant Capling, the city's "meter man," is busy placing red and white tags on all the meters to remind users that the day of the penny parking meter is gone in Birmingham.

Capling started yesterday and expects to finish this week changing them over to nickel meters, a plan recently approved by the City Commission.

After almost two hours of discussion on the $117,000 Columbia relief sewer project, city commissioners this week tabled further talk until next week's session. Lawmakers will vote again on whether the city engineer and assessor should establish the share to be paid by Reid-Paterson, developers of the Porritt property.

With only five of the seven commissioners voting, the proposal was turned down 3-2.

Difficulties stem from a "gentlemen's agreement" made between the city and developers about a year ago in which Reid-Paterson agreed to pay a proportionate share of the sewer construction on Columbia between Hazel and Haynes streets.

Commissioners were voting on including a portion of the project not spelled out in the gentlemen's agreement which would mean an approximate $12,000 additional assessment to Reid-Paterson.

Bank Employe Faces Warrant

Teller Charged With Taking $7,900, Making False Entries

A Pontiac State Bank teller was charged today in a federal warrant with making false bank entries totaling about $7,900 over a period of two years.

The warrant, signed by Federal Judge Arthur A. Koscinski in Detroit, was issued against John Patrick Sheridan, 27, of 49 Oak Hill.

The shortage was discovered this week when Sheridan, who has been employed at the bank for seven years, went on vacation without first checking out his cash with the bank.

According to Detroit office of the FBI, Sheridan actually was serving a 15-day jail sentence in Ingham County where he was convicted of drunk driving on Nov. 12.

When the shortage was discovered, bank officials contacted Sheridan's wife, Betty, who in turn had her husband get in touch with the bank.

Yesterday afternoon Sheridan was brought to Pontiac in custody and when confronted with the evidence by bank and FBI officials, admitted the shortages.

Sheridan admitted, the FBI said, taking roughly $7,900 in lots of $50 and $100 over the last two years.

He said that he used the money for such things as liquor, horses, a vacation in 1952 and also to finance a car.

After making his statement here, Sheridan was returned to the Ingham County Jail where he will be turned over to federal officials after serving his drunk driving sentence.

Bank officials said any shortage there is fully covered by insurance.

Conviction on the federal charge carries a maximum penalty of a $5,000 fine or five years in jail or both.

McCarthy Censured on First of 3 Counts

County — a charge that McCarthy "intemperately" abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker during a Senate hearing last Feb. 18—and a resolution by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah). He damanded McCarthy censure for calling the censure committee the "unwitting handmaidens" of the Communist Party.

Last night's vote, the first such action in 25 years and only the fourth in Senate history, drove a steel wedge into the middle of Republican ranks.

Sen. Dirksen, an anti-censure leader, said there definitely would be moves today to kill it outright or modify it. And Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kan), a censure committeeman, conceded he didn't expect the count to fare as well as the one last night. The chances of defeating Bennett's resolution were rated somewhat less.

Separate votes were required on both the Bennett and committee resolutions. Other amendments could be introduced on the spur of the moment and likewise would require action after a maximum of an hour's debate. In the end, however, a final vote was required on the censure resolution as finally amended or altered.

The adoption of the censure committee's first count last night climaxed 10 days and hundreds of thousands of words of formal debate. And it quickly erased speculation on where everybody stood.

All 43 Democrats present, 23 Republicans, and independent Sen. Morse voted for it. Twenty Republicans — including GOP Senate Leader William F. Knowland — voted against.

The vote came amid a flurry of other votes in which:

1. The Dirksen compromise declaring there is no legal basis for McCarthy's censure was defeated 66 to 21.

2. A compromise sponsored by Sen. Mundt to deplore but not censure intemperate language by McCarthy and any other senator was defeated 74 to 15.

3. A substitute offered by Sen. Bridges (R-NH) asserting that McCarthy violated no Senate rule in the conduct for which the censure committee asked that he be condemned was defeated 68 to 20.

On all these ballots, the Democrats voted unanimously on the anti-McCarthy or anti-compromise side. The Republicans, however, split almost down the middle on three of the four votes, although a majority was on the anti-McCarthy or anti-compromise side in each instance.

Three Juveniles Admit Breakins

Boys Say They Entered at Least Fifteen Homes Since Thanksgiving

Three Farmington Township boys aged 8, 10 and 12, face possible juvenile court action today after admitting several Oakland County breakins, Redford Post State Police said.

All three are in custody of their parents pending further questioning.

They said they entered at least 15 homes in Farmington, Bloomfield Hills and Rochester since Thanksgiving and had broken into so many during the past week that "they can't remember them all."

Detectives Wayne Meier and Jack Wooley said the boys pointed out several loot caches which contained three watches, two shotguns, four rifles and $220 in cash.

The boys, led by the 8-year-old, said they planned to hold up filling stations with the guns in order to finance a hitchhike trip to Florida, Meier said.

Rochester Police arrested the trio Tuesday night after a hotel clerk there became suspicious when the boys tried to rent a room after flashing a large roll of bills.

The young hoodlums managed to elude police at a theater, and later reportedly attempted to take three autos. They were found by a passerby who saw them lying under a tree in Rochester, near a garage they had broken into. About $160 was found in their possession.

Meier also said the youths admitted breaking into two Bloomfield Township schools and claimed to have stolen at least 100 cars for joy rides. They said they used the cars to transport them from place of place.

"We are convinced these boys are responsible for many reported Oakland County breakins and we want to give authorities a chance to question them before we decide what to do," Wooley said.

Youth Little Impressed With Mercy of Court

Officials Will Share Cars for Economy

WASHINGTON (UP) — Government officials soon will be sharing cars and those cars will be traded in every three years in a drive to save the government $40,000,000 a year.

President Eisenhower yesterday ordered executive agencies to adopt a system of car pools and to trade in the vehicles either at the end of three years or 50,000 miles.

"What we're aiming for is the use of fewer cars by a greater number of people," Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said. He said the White House order is "not necessarily" intended to reduce the number of officials riding in government - owned cars, "but it might work out that way."

Hagerty said the car pool plan will save the government about $5,000,000 a year during the first year and the trade-in plan will save about $35,000,000 annually after three years.

Ex-Paris Police Boss Advertises for Work

PARIS (INS)—Jean Dides lost his job as a Paris police commissioner as a result of the investigation into the French spy scandal.

Today the following ad appeared in Figaro, a conservative Paris newspaper, in the "positions wanted" section:

"Ex-chief commissioner city of Paris dismissed for having denounced treason searching for honorable situation. For all information avoid minister of Interior. Telephone Jean Dides at DID 7785."

Dulles Bans Blockade

Promptly, properly and with the sanction of President Eisenhower, Secretary Dulles has ruled out a proposed blockade of Red China's coast.

The proposal came from Senate Majority Leader Knowland. His idea is that an air and naval blockade would hasten release of the 13 Americans imprisoned by Red China after their conviction on false spy charges.

Mr. Dulles put the whole matter in sensible perspective in his speech before the 4-H Club congress in Chicago. In the course of his extensive foreign policy review he pointed out that the United States is committed by U. N. charter to settle international disputes by peaceful means.

"Therefore," he continued, "our first duty is to exhaust peaceful means of sustaining our international rights and those of our citizens, rather than now resorting to war action such as a naval and air blockade of Red China."

Immediate reaction to the speech included a statement by the President agreeing that a blockade would be an act of war. It also presented the disturbing spectacle of the Administration's Senate floor leader opposing its policy while such Democrats as Senators Lyndon Johnson and Walter George endorse it.

★ ★ ★

The sad truth is that Sen. Knowland's demands are a disservice to the Republican party, the Administration and to its efforts to strengthen the free world against Communism.

In our view the President and Mr. Dulles are right and we believe have the support of an overwhelming majority of the party and the Nation.

An Overdue Modification

Rumors of early White House action to modify the Buy American Act is good news for those who concur with the tariff recommendations of the Randall Commission.

This act forces Federal agencies to give domestic suppliers a price advantage over foreign suppliers. In practice the differential has come to be 25 per cent. That means that foreign bids must be 25 per cent below those submitted by American firms before they are even considered.

Current reports are that President Eisenhower is planning a request for legislation to cut the differential to 12 or 15 per cent. Such change was discussed last Spring but the idea was abandoned after Congress indicated so much hostility to the trade-not-aid policy.

★ ★ ★

In the interests of better trade relations with our Allies, it is to be hoped that this overdue modification will get a better reception in the next session. Actually, with the United States the world's greatest creditor Nation, strong arguments can be made for repeal of this discriminatory act.

Reds Lose in Austria

This was demonstrated again in the recent voting in lower Austria and Vienna. The Russians went all out to help their stooges win in these two occupied zones. Money was spent freely for propaganda in the Russian controlled press and on eight Red radio stations.

In addition great care was exerted to keep public relations amicable. Russian troops were keep out of sight and the Moscow ballet was brought in to entertain.

When the results were in, however, it was clear that all this effort had been futile. The Communist party vote in both provinces remained at about the five per cent it has been since 1949.

Thus the Austrians have shown once more that if given a chance in a free election they'll turn thumbs down on Communism.

Father of the Atomic Era

The untimely death of Enrico Fermi at 53 is a reminder that this Italian scientist's name will live in history as the father of the atomic era.

It was his work in his native City of Rome which started Fermi toward his epoch making discoveries. There he found how to split the uranium atom and that by slowing the speed of neutrons, the amount of radioactivity could be increased.

For these discoveries he was awarded a Nobel Prize in 1939. Shortly after receiving the award at Stockholm he fled to the United States with his wife and two children. It was in that year also that he suggested to the U. S. Government that an atomic bomb could be produced.

Three years later under the University of Chicago's Stagg Field stands he directed the activation of the world's first atomic pile. The result was the first controlled atomic reaction which opened the door to A-bomb production.

Until all the possibilities of atomic reaction are known, the magnitude of our debt to this refugee from Italian Fascism can only be imagined. That it will be enormous, no one can doubt.

They also do similar work for several surrounding cities and villages and for many business places and private homes. And most of the material used is grown right here in Oakland County.

Reader Commends Howard R. Estes for Improving 'The Home for the Aged'

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

This being the holiday season I would like to send a special greeting to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Estes, manager of "The Home for the Aged," who is known to most of us at the Infirmary.

Since Mr. Estes has taken charge, one cannot imagine the change unless he chances to visit there. Everyone seems to be so happy and the place is so clean and nice.

He has encouraged occupational therapy work and the patients are making doilies, holders and many other nice things to sell.

When you are thinking of some gifts for friends, why not go out there and buy something from someone who does not have a store in which to display the articles. It builds morale to help those who are trying hard to help themselves.

Mr. Estes encourages visits and will always take time out to chat awhile with you. If we expect better government, we all should try to help if only in a small way.

This Christmas let's all think of the shut-ins at the TB San, the state hospitals, as well as the convalescent homes everywhere. I am sure the day will be brighter for all of us if we do.

Vernice A. McVean
State Hospital Grounds

Says U.S. Must Keep Prestige in World

There was a short article buried in the back section of this paper a couple of weeks ago which apparently went unnoticed.

It concerned a talk given by Dr. Maolin Han of Auburn Heights to the Oakland County Torch Club. In this talk he recommended: We recognize Red China; we admit Red China into the UN; we renounce Chiang Kai-shek; we turn over Formosa to the Reds.

He declared that "if we would do this, all our troubles in the Orient would be over." Now I have heard very good reports on Dr. Han's ability as a diagnostician in medical matters but it would appear that in politics he is a babe in the woods.

He should be familiar enough with the Oriental mind to know that should we follow his recommendations we would suffer an irreparable loss of face throughout the whole East. The Russian Communists through Red China want to take over Formosa, Korea, Indo-china, India, etc.

If we should renounce Chiang Kai-shek, a particularly sore thorn in the Communists' side, our loss in prestige to all the countries of the world who are looking to us for leadership, would be catastrophic.

I would suggest that in the future the good doctor stick to his medicine and surgical tools and forget political diagnosis and prognostication.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Song Can Make Person Sad or Happy Depending on Events at First Hearing

Does music make a lump come into your throat? Or do you feel like crying when you hear certain pieces played? Then you can sympathize with Kristina.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case M-382: Kristina D., aged 24, is a sensitive young woman who does commercial art work for an advertising agency.

"As far back as I can remember," she stated during a meeting of my social psychology class," I have always been strangely influenced by music, especially violin music.

"A lump comes in my throat and tears may come into my eyes within a few seconds after I hear certain pieces being played. Sometimes I have been embarrassed by my inability to keep from crying at a concert.

"Once when I was dancing with a fellow, I felt the tears come into my eyes during a waltz. He was very sympathetic and thought that I had had something unhappy occur to me recently, but it wasn't anything of the sort. I just felt like crying, but I couldn't explain why. He must think I am rather queer.

"This failing of mine has been with me ever since I entered high school and I can't explain it. Dr. Crane, what's your diagnosis?"

There are many people who feel much like Kristina. Music can exert a powerful influence over us. But the emotions which arise with reference to music are resurrected habits. And they are derived from the various events or moods which originally occurred during the time when we first met that specific melody.

Some music makes us feel energetic because of its faster tempo,

but apart from tempo we have learned by habit to feel sad when certain funeral hymns are played. We feel altruistic and reverent when other hymns are played.

Likewise, we are thrilled with patriotism at the strains of the national anthem or "God Bless America." Our college song also revives the campus emotions of the early twenties.

"Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," is a melody which makes us moody and homesick for the past, including our youth. These trigger stimuli will set off an emotional discharge typical of the mood habituated to the particular melody.

The same song could make us feel sad, or moody or hilarious or patriotic depending on how we felt when we first encountered it. If we are at a party and having a good time when we hear the new tune, then we tend to feel the same emotional gaiety throughout the years whenever that song is heard.

If fact, during the Middle Ages a writer of a mass would simply pick out a popular melody, and then fit the stanzas of his hymn to the rhythm of the song.

"The Red Noses" and "Farewell, My Lover" are two such popular melodies that were converted into sacred hymns simply because they were used in church services and thereby gained a sacred meaning. In short, the music and tempo are only secondary in importance. What counts more is our mood when we first encounter the melody.

Kristina broke into tears at violin music because her dead father, to whom she had been unusually devoted, had also played the violin during her childhood. She not only was conditioned to the violin but to definite pieces which he had played.

Without consciously realizing what was causing her moody spell, she had been listening to music formerly played by her father. It carried her back to her happy home which had been saddened and broken up by his passing away.

So it is with all of us. If we carefully analyze ourselves we can find why certain music makes us happy and other music makes us cry.

It is even possible to break up a mob or angry group by playing music to which opposing emotions have become conditioned. Try the Christmas carols, for instance, and notice how your ire will melt away.

Aunt Het

I don't blame our preacher. Wives and little younguns get spoiled the same way if they are treated like little tin gods.

David Lawrence Says:

Censure Means the End of Investigations of Reds

WASHINGTON — This week marks a milestone in American history. For this week sees the beginning of the end of effective investigation by committees of Congress into communistic activities inside or outside the government.

Adoption of the censure motion against Senator McCarthy means the squelching of all effective efforts in that direction not only by the Wisconsin senator himself but those of any other senator.

For the die has been cast. In response to a widespread wave of passion throughout the country, the Senate, by an overwhelming majority, has voted resolutions of censure which will frighten any other senator in the future who ventures to pursue an investigation of communism.

Likewise, free speech as the Senate has known it heretofore has now been abolished and only those senators who conform—in their thinking and speaking—to the dictates of a temporary majority in the Senate can hereafter feel safe against the adoption of censure resolutions.

It is ironical that a crusade which began on the theory that Senator McCarthy was stifling free speech and insisting on conformity of thought now has wound up with a restriction upon the members of the United States Senate themselves who may hereafter try to express a dissenting viewpoint.

Many senators—in fact, most of them—will deny vehemently that their censure resolution against Senator McCarthy means any such drastic change. They will insist that investigations of communistic activity will go on with unabated zeal. But, while that will be the claim, realism requires that the true situation be reported.

One by one, the chairmen of committees investigating communism have been pilloried, beginning with Representative Martin Dies of Texas, Democrat. After the treatment given Senator McCarthy, what senator will wish to risk censure or public calumny? Recalcitrant witnesses will be encouraged to new defiance of congressional inquiries.

Already proposals are being made that a joint committee be formed from members of both houses to deal with the investigation of Communists. But anyone familiar with the techniques of congressional committees knows that this is an insidious way to kill off any effective inquiry. Joint committees have no centralized responsibility, and it is difficult for a staff to be assembled which can do an efficient job under such joint control.

So, for all practical purposes, the fight that has been made by a valiant group of Americans other than Senator McCarthy to expose communism inside America has been lost.

Much of the responsibility for what has happened, curiously enough, must be borne by Senator McCarthy himself. As a tactician in the fight against him personally, he has made blunder after blunder. He had a good case on legal and constitutional grounds but he muffed it—indeed, he forfeited it—by insisting on constant attacks on his fellow senators at the special session that began Nov. 8.

"I realize," a senator who voted against McCarthy said to this correspondent privately, "that there are many good arguments against censure, but Joe simply showed his contempt for his fellow senators and they are all human after all."

So Senator McCarthy lost his own battle, and his colleagues in the Senate were not able to rise above the passions of the hour or their own sense of indignation to refuse to write into the record a precedent that will plague the Senate for decades to come. The closing hours of the debate on Wednesday showed how perplexed and bewildered some of the senators were as they struggled with the legal phases only to find themselves influenced finally by the personality prejudices involved.

Abuse of Senator McCarthy during the debate and the use of intemperate language about him rendered absurd the pious statement that the Senate was trying to uphold its own dignity. As for "traditional conduct," the Senate has never been any different from what it has been this week. Senator Lehman, for instance, made a bitter attack on Senator McCarthy in violation of Senate rules, but all that happened to him was an order to take his seat and a moment later he was permitted to proceed. Nobody mentioned censure for him.

The fact remains that only the man who fought communism has been or will be censured. Senator McCarthy, of course, deserved a rebuke for his attacks on fellow senators, but many of those same attacks were provoked. And the Watkins Committee itself held that provocation is a basis for withholding censure in certain circumstances.

The net result of it all is not only a defeat for Senator McCarthy—who will, of course, appeal to the country for vindication—but also a defeat for those who have felt that communistic activities should be exposed through relentless investigations by congressional committees.

Baering Down

(International News Service)

How's chances of Premier Mendes-France slapping the dampers on drinking on the boozevards of Paree?

About as good as you have of doing the mambo in a broom closet.

First from all the French are not heavy drinkers. They're light sniffers.

Your dead-in-the-wool boulevardier likes his cognac. That's too strong for American tourists. The last time I saw Paris there were two of everything.

An American orders a drink in the manner prescribed by Li Hung Chang, the suave Manchurian ambassador to 1890 Washington. He puts in whisky to make it strong, water to make it weak, lemon to make it sour, sugar to make it sweet, bitters to make it hot and ice to make it cold. Then he says "Here's to your health" and drinks it himself.

The manner of drinking astonishes the Frenchman. An American tourist holds his drink at arm's length and throws it at himself. He never misses the target.

God never made His work for man to mend.—Dryden.

Dr. Brady Never Answers Letters Pertaining to Disease or Diagnosis

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Harping, they call it when it doesn't suit their taste or confirm their notion or belief. I harp incessantly on nutritional deficiency, dentistry, the abuse of "sedatives" and the like, subjects about which every one knows as much or more than I do. Why don't I tell people more about common diseases and . . .

Well, I don't tell people about common diseases because this is a health service, not a medical service.

Perhaps my title misleads people who think they know as much as or more than I do about personal health. I received the degree M.D. (Doctor of Medicine) from a Class A medical school (Buffalo) and a license (No. 5087) to practice any and all branches of medicine, suggery and the specialties in New York State from the University of the State of New York.

I'd like to trade in my degree on a new one, namely, P.H.D. (not Ph. D.) if such a degree were available. P. H. D. stands for Doctor (teacher) of Personal Health. Some day in Utopia there may be a department and a professor of personal health in some school which will be authorized by the state to grant this degree.

Notwithstanding the notice which is or should be printed at the head or foot of this column, specifying that letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered, a good many readers submit questions about disease, diagnosis or treatment and then complain that I do not answer letters.

I can understand why a reader who thinks he or she knows as much as or more than I do about dentistry, for example, regards my pieces on that subject as "harping."

This mid-western C. P. A. calls it constant repetition. He writes:

"I have been a regular reader of your column for a good many years, whenever the paper publishes it, and have great respect for your down-to-earth advice. I am apologetic that it has taken constant repetition by you to get me on Ca and D and Iodin . . ."

Well, here we go again, folks. Just a couple of twangs—do you mind? If you have joint disability of gradual development and long (more than a year) duration—the trouble I call rheumatiz (you may use any high-price term you think your rheumatiz rates)—I beg you to send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet "Calcium and Rheumatiz." And if you like, enclose ten cents in addition (clean, not all sticky) for the pamphlet "The Iodin Ration."

I have a strong conviction about Ca and D and I for rheumatiz. With every pair of pamphlets I send out goes my prayer (I don't care whether you believe this or not) that the poor soul who receives the pamphlets will follow the advice therein and derive great benefit.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

U.S. Party Leaves on South Pole Trip

BOSTON (AP)—The 6,500-ton Navy icebreaker Atka headed southward today carrying civilian and government specialists towards the Antarctic.

The 269-foot vessel commanded by Cmdr. Glen Jacobsen, of Seattle, Wash., left Boston yesterday on a five-month expedition.

Chief purpose of the voyage, first U.S. expedition toward Little America in seven years, is to make preliminary scientific surveys in preparation for a larger expedition planned for the International Geophysical Year in 1957-58, in which 38 nations will participate.

Fred Warings Divorced After Long Separation

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Estranged for six years, bandleader Fred Waring and Mrs. Evalyn Nair Waring were divorced yesterday.

A financial settlement and other terms of the divorce were sealed. No grounds for the divorce other than the long separation was contained in the complaint.

She was awarded custody of their three children, Dixie Lyn, 20; Frederick Monroe, 18; and William Griffith, 16.

Arkansas Minister Warring on Nudists

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP)—The Rev. Braxton B. Sawyer's battle with nudists is going to be carried into the next session of the Arkansas Legislature.

The Fort Smith radio evangelist, who was tossed out of a nudist convention last summer because he refused to disrobe, said last night that State Rep. Dewey D. Stiles will introuce two anti-nudist bills in the State Legislature.

Bills also will be introduced in the state legislatures in Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Michigan, Sawyer said in promising a nationwide campaign next year against colonies of nudism.

U.S. Suggests Grasshoppers, Fried or Baked

BOISE, Idaho (AP)—Idaho's Agriculture Department has a letter from a California man who wants to know if it's true that Idaho's Indians used to eat grasshoppers, and if so, how they cooked them.

Officials of the University of Idaho Extension Service, to whom the letter was passed, said yesterday they don't know the answer, but they're sending A. A. Johnson, of Azusa, Calif., a U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin which says in part:

"Fried or roasted in nothing but their own oil, with the addition of a little salt, grasshoppers are by no means unpleasant eating and have quite a nutty flavor."

British Shift Brass to Island of Cyprus

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt ceased to be the site of Britain's Middle East headquarters today. The command has been transferred to the Mediterranean island of Cyprus.

British officials emphasized that the shift does not mean Cyprus will replace the Suez Canal zone as Britain's chief Middle East base in the event of war. Under terms of the recent Anglo-Egyptian agreement, the Canal Zone remains available for seven more years.

Garrison forces stationed in Cyprus will be only for the defense of the island.

Forbidden Fruits Tempt Motorists

RED BANK, N.J. (AP) — There are enough signs on the Garden State Parkway to keep you from getting lost, but if you do you shouldn't starve. The north Jersey-shore superhighway boasts of peach and apple orchards in the center island and outer margins plus berries, mushrooms and vegetables.

Of course, unless you are lost and starving, picking berries and fruit is forbidden. A parkway official put it this way: The highway would become a desert in a short time if motorists were allowed to forage at will.

Many flowers which have strong odors do not have nectar from which bees can make honey.

Hal Boyle Says:

Many of Today's Notables Started by Ringing Bells

Bruce Barton sold cooking utensils from door to door to help pay his college tuition. Billy Graham toted around a well-known line of household brushes. Eric Johnston once was a vacuum cleaner salesman.

Arthur Godfrey, who later learned he could get into more living rooms via television than by knocking on front doors, in his youth sold cemetery lots for a time by house to house plugging.

They are just a few of the honored graduates of a form of direct selling, symbolized by the roving Yankee peddler, which began in this country almost as soon as the pilgrims landed. Approximately a million Americans today devote all or part of their time to this kind of salesmanship. This huge army of doorbell ringers now sell items as small as a nail file, as large as an oak tree. (Fortunately, they don't have to carry sample oak trees in their daily rounds. Pictures will do.)

"Direct selling seems to rise and fall with the tempo of retailing generally," said George Graves, president of the National Assn. of Direct Selling Companies.

"There is no available census of the industry, but we estimate its volume at between two and four billion dollars a year. And this doesn't include the door to door business done by insurance agents, milkmen, or auto salesmen. There are quite a few auto salesmen now out looking for sales by pushing doorbells."

His organization has quietly set about trying to stamp out unsavory practices in the industry. Member firms must subscribe and live up to a code of ethics. Crews of high pressure salesmen who move from town to town are frowned upon.

"The backbone of our industry is the sales representative who is known and respected in his own community," Graves said.

This kind of agent relies less and less on pushing a cold doorbell. He likes to arrange house parties at which he can demonstrate his wears to groups of clubwomen and neighboring housewives.

The field is divided equally between men and women. While it still draws college boys, it also attracts many retired business men.

Graves, who heads one of the world's largest cosmetics firms, has 60,000 sales agents, mostly women, from girls of 18 to one woman who, now 85, is still a top seller.

"They come from all walks of life," he said. "Many are former schoolteachers or widows. Many, many minister's wives take up this work—but three of our representatives are the wives of small town bankers."

The great problem in the industry is the turnover in sales agents, which averages more than 50 per cent a year.

"Many people take up direct selling for a single purpose," explained Graves. "They want to make enough money to buy new furniture, a TV set or a new car. When they've done that, they often drop out."

Pencil Stubs Donated

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)— The Richmond Public Library asked city departments to save their pencil stubs for library purposes. Librarians were puzzled, however, when they received a quart of short pencil stubs from an anonymous donor in Fulton, N. Y., a few days after the request.

Anyone Seen Winnie's Feet?

Storm Is Raging Over Modernist's Portrait of Prime Minister

LONDON (AP)—"Why no feet on our Prime Minister?"

That's just one of the questions being asked in the squall of controversy which has broken over artist Graham Sutherland's birth portrait of Sir Winston Churchill, given him by members of the houses of Parliament as an 80th anniversary present yesterday.

Opinions are violent in the fight in which there seem to be no neutrals. Sutherland, a top-ranking British artist, painted a picture of an alert old man who seems to be thinking of something and about to spring out of his chair to do something strenuous about it.

* * *

But no feet. Sutherland, who won fame and great respect as a painter of highly subjective landscapes and who only lately has turned to portraiture, told newsmen that the feet once were there. But he thought they destroyed the balance of head and hands so painted them out, ending the portrait vaguely at the trouser cuffs.

"It's disgusting — it's ill-mannered — it's terrible," said Lord Hailsham, a former Conservative member of the House of Commons.

* * *

"It is a splendid legacy to posterity," said George Rogers, a Socialist member of Parliament and himself an artist.

Churchill himself called it a great example of modern art combining force and candor. (The Old Man is known for his aversion to modern art.) The Daily Express reported that at a private viewing before yesterday's public unveiling the Prime Minister quipped: "It makes me look half-witted, which I ain't."

* * *

Sutherland expected the controversy, but seemed to be a little shaken by its violence.

"It is Churchill as I see him," he said. "My idea of him is probably nothing like the man in the street."

The art critics divided sharply. The portrait, said the Manchester Guardian, "is a surprising proof that the truly contemporary artist, for all his preoccupation with abstraction and purely formal problems, can be, when the need arises, as much of a humanist as Rembrandt. Doubtless this portrait will, for a few years, seem shockingly unacademic, but in the end it will set the tone for a new and a soldier kind of academism, and help to rescue official portraiture from the dreary trough into which it has fallen."

An Iranian legend says the world is perched between the horns of a cow and when the cow shakes her head there is an earthquake.

Utility Pole Lumberjack Gets 30 Days in Prison

KEENE, N. H. (AP) — Responding to a trouble call early one morning, a power company repairman and a police officer discovered a man trying to chop down a utility pole on the city's main street.

Edward E. Weeks Jr., 25, pleaded guilty to a charge of malicious destruction of property in municipal court and was sentenced to 30 days in jail. Police said Weeks could give no reason for his action.

Collectors say history, arts, science, sports and many other activities can be followed through cigar band collection. Many of the exhibitors do not smoke.

It Was MURDER

Somebody had tried to make the slaying look like an accident. Somebody else had moved the body to make it look like murder. Four women thought they could get away with anything, even murder, because their conscience was encased in a glass and put away where it wouldn't bother them. That's part of a new, exciting murder mystery that you mustn't miss—

Shah Raps Government on Iran Cost of Living

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—The newspaper Keyhan quoted Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlevi yesterday as criticizing the government for failure to tackle Iran's "shocking" living costs.

The monarch was quoted as saying: "Responsible government authorities have done nothing to reduce the cost of primary needs of the people, such as vegetable oils, meat and charcoal."

Revised Postal Manual Due for Issue Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new streamlined postal manual will be issued in final form today.

Postmaster General Summerfield described the new manual as "the most complete revision and simplification of postal regulations in history," asserting that the rewritten manual eliminates "booby trap" regulations and reduces the rules to simple English.

Soviet Youths Scouring Country for Scrap Iron

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union has ordered Young Communists to scour the countryside for scrap iron to feed blast furnaces.

Sundays and other days off are suggested as good times to indulge in "socialist competition" to see which Young Communist organization can bring in the most.

Speedy Senate OK Forecast for Pact

Foreign Relations Committee if —as expected— the Democrats organize the Senate, said the treaty was of extreme importance because it will let all Asian nations know just where the U.S. stands in the Far East.

Dulles was surprisingly frank at his afternoon news conference yesterday in setting forth just what the treaty will mean.

In effect, he once again enunciated "massive retaliation" as a phrase which raised such a storm of controversy last winter.

In explaining "retaliation," Dulles said: "It does not mean every local attack becomes a general war with atomic bombs being dropped all over the map.

"It is a retaliation of sufficient severity to make it clear that the aggressor cannot gain by his attack more than he loses. I think that is the important principle to establish."

The main points the secretary made were:

1. If the Chinese Reds attack Formosa they cannot expect that their homeland will be a "privileged sanctuary" free from attack as were their Manchurian bases during the Korean War.

2. The Chinese Reds can keep on guessing as to whether or not U. S. ships and planes would be thrown into the defense of the 30 or 40 coastal islands still held by the Nationalists.

3. Nationalist China, under the treaty, would be obliged to consult the U. S. before attacking the mainland so the treaty protects the U. S. against being dragged into a war it doesn't want.

4. The treaty dispels, once and for all, speculation that the U. S. is ready to trade Formosa to the Reds in exchange for release of captive Americans or anything else.

5. The treaty "will provide that we can by mutual agreement have base rights on Formosa." At present there are an estimated 600 American military advisers on Formosa, but no other U. S. forces are regularly based there.

16-Months-Old Baby Hurt in Novi Township Crash

Cheryl Prieskorn, 16 months old, was injured yesterday when the car driven by her mother, Mrs. Joan M. Prieskorn, 21, of 45350 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, and another auto collided head-on on East Lake Drive near Herman Street in Novi Township.

Harold A. Geppert, 24, of Detroit, driver of the other car, told Oakland County sheriff's deputies he was passing another car when he met the Prieskorn auto. He was ticketed for reckless driving.

Wreck Kills, Injures German Soccer Fans

Road Bond Issue Should Help County

market roads plus 19 per cent to cities and incorporated villages.

If the $500,000,000 were made available and divided under the present formula, the highway department would receive about $220,000,000 to use improving the state trunkline system, counties $185,000,000 and cities $95,000,000.

Coons stated his department has $20,000,000 in construction plans completed, over $100,000,000 on drawing boards and $400,000,000 located.

This precipitated questions as to whether the half million would be enough and if counties and cities should be excluded with bond money spent only on state trunk lines.

Oakland County Road Commission Engineer-Manager Leon V. Belknap has said it would take $100,000,000 in the next ten years to put Oakland's roads, exclusive of state and federal highways, in shape to meet all traffic demands.

Regarding federal aid, which must be matched by the state, Coons said enough money will be on hand to match money available in 1956, but another $27,000,000 will be offered in 1957 "which we'll have trouble matching without some added funds."

The bond issue is expected to serve as an addition to present revenue including federal money, about $126,000 of which will filter through to Oakland County each of the next two fiscal years.

Chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority, William E. Slaughter Jr., asked that the bond-issue plan be devised so not to conflict with toll road construction.

Slaughter's group itself is planning a $400,000,000 revenue bond issue for building two toll highways. The bonds would be paid off from fees paid for using the roads. One of the toll roads is planned to run just east of Pontiac in a north-south direction.

Speakers agreed with the governor that, should the bond issue become a realit', roads must be built where most needed considering, among other things, traffic flow, congestion and accident rates. Oakland County has some of the most heavily traveled and accident-producing routes in the state.

Several cited Ohio as an example of a state which floated a $500,000,000 bond issue and set up a council to supervise spending the cash on roads according to need.

Former Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner said sections where the greatest need exists should have priority under the bond plan.

State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs said, "An average of five persons are killed on Michigan highways every day and 160 injured in 500 accidents." Many accidents are due to inadequate roads, he added.

A note of dissension was sounded in a news release by State Rep. Emil A. Peltz (R-Rogers City) who did not attend the meeting asserting he was not invited.

Peltz, chairman of the House Committee on Roads and Bridges, termed the governor's proposal a "build-Williams program" and a "hysterical pork-barrel" which would "set Michigan back another ten years."

Lincoln Parade Float Made by Teamwork

went to the art department, where Mrs. Margaret Burrette and her classes slapped on wadded paper toweling and newspapers soaked in wallpaper paste.

They applied a layer at a time, letting each layer dry, then applying another until a hard surface resulted.

After smoothing the surface, they applied two coats of paint. That finished the "frills" from the metal shop were brought out and attached.

While all this was going on, Mrs. Alice Allen had her homemaking classes busy stitching costumes for the 30 youngsters who would be either riding on the float or dancing alongside.

Mrs. Eunice Thompson, gym teacher, meanwhile was working her 16 dancing girls and boys into shape. And in the music department instructors Robert Slusser, Gretchen Pierson and D. Schwartzbeck rehearsed their all-girl chorus.

The chorus made the recording which will be used to play the song "Old Woman in a Shoe" from loudspeakers on the float.

The loudspeakers are part of the Wisner Stadium public address system. In charge of setting up and wiring them was Lawrence Ware, school engineer, with Worley Smith assisting.

Final job on the float was up to the PTA mothers.

Applying the final bits of fringe and gloss to the completed float were Mrs. Kay Weaver, Mrs. Lauren Kelley, Mrs. H. Bunch, Mrs. W. G. Crowder and Mrs. Jack Chetister, PTA president.

At the wheel of the white Pontiac convertible towing the float down Saginaw street to Oakland avenue and down Oakland to Sanderson avenue Saturday morning will be Phillip J. Wargelin, school principal.

Handling finances for the entire project was Mrs. Myrtie Meabon, a math instructor.

"It has been a lot of work, but it has shown a very fine spirit of cooperation between teachers, parents and students," said Mrs. Theodore Wiersema, English teacher and general chairman for the project.

"And everybody did it because they wanted to," she added.

Judge Refuses Plea to Dismiss Sheppard

they called for a directed verdict of innocence. They insisted—

1. That the state must explain a fleck of fingernail polish.

It was found in microscopic examination of scrapings from under Marilyn Sheppard's fingernails. She was not wearing any polish on her fingers the night of the murder.

2. That she died from blood in her lungs, not from the blows on her head.

Atty. William J. Corrigan, his voice rising with emphasis, said the vital areas of her skull were not fractured. He contended, "This seems to indicate a disfigurement was intended."

3. That she may have been struck only a few times, even though 35 wounds were counted on her head and face.

He concluded that a "multi-pronged instrument" would account for the even spacing, and that Mrs. Sheppard actually may have been struck "only two, three or four times." The defense has indicated it believes a garden rake may have been the instrument.

Atty. Arthur E. Petersilge argued that the state's case against Sheppard is based "entirely on circumstantial evidence." He ridiculed the contention that the handsome, dark-haired osteopath wanted to divorce his wife because of Susan Hayes.

"He certainly didn't have to kill her (Mrs. Sheppard) to get Susan Hayes," the lawyer said. "He had her whenever he wanted her."

Petersilge concluded:

"The facts, as brought out by the state, show the crime could just as well have been committed by someone else."

Screw propellers were first used about 1836.

Piggy Bank Yields $1,000

Make Packages Non-Crushable

Corrugated Boards or Boxes Insure Safety of Yule Presents

The package that comes crushed and battered probably looked dandy when it started its journey. The principal fault in its wrapping? Enough cardboard and paper to keep the contents in line, but not enuogh for the package to withstand the crush of dozens of heavy bundles resting on top of it.

Without exception, packages should be enclosed in corrugated board or corrugated boxes that will withstand 200 pounds of pressure per square inch. The bursting strength is marked by the marker on the carton.

The package must be firmly packed, but not overpacked. An outside wrap of heavy brown paper adds strength.

If gummed tape is used to seal the ends, there should be a clear indication that it's fourth-class matter and may beopened for inspection.

But never should tape be used alone. There should be two strong cords going each way on the package.

Postal authorities make a further suggestion: Address the outside wrapper clearly, but also enclose a slip of paper containing both sender and receiver's name and address inside the package.

This may save it from the dead letter office if the outside wrap gets lost or tears off.

There are many regulations governing the size and bulk of packages allowed to go parcel post. If you are unsure about your present, check at your local post office about the rules.

Indians Still Arguing Over Country's Name

NEW DELHI (AP) — The old dispute over whether India should really be called Bharat has cropped up again, this time in the Delhi state assembly where some members urged use of that name. In Pakistan it is argued that the undivided sub-continent was India and that division in 1947 made it Pakistan and Bharat—not India.

But Indians say that as the legal and constitutional heir of the rights and liabilities of undivided India their country is rightfully called India. The word India is an anglicized version of "Hindustan," the land of the Hindus.

Ancient maps show Bharat as covering not only what is now India but Pakistan, Afghanistan, parts of Iran, Nepal, Tibet, and most of the Chinese mainland.

Latin America Receives U. S. Financial Aid Pledge

But Little Hard Cash Promised

First Inter-American Economic Conference Nears Adjournment

QUITANDINHA, Brazil (AP)—The first Inter-American Economic Conference headed for adjournment today on a friendly note. The United States pledged financial help to Latin America but kept a firm hold on its purse strings.

The only formal U.S. commitment was a maximum of 1½ million dollars for the technical assistance program of the organization of American States, plus unspecified millions in loans from the Export-Import Bank, World Bank and the new International Finance Corp. Washington has said it will establish.

The Latin Americans generally expressed satisfaction with results of the parley. Some said they felt they did not get all they wanted, but they admitted the United States had been sympathetic and cooperatively inclined toward their problems.

• • •

A number of study groups created by the conference and scheduled to report within the next six months could lay the groundwork for even closer cooperation between the United States and Latin America.

Counted in dollars, little hard cash was given out. The Latin Americans had hoped for possible commitments from the United States running toward a billion dollars yearly.

The U.S. delegates refused to discuss actual figures but did pledge that the recently expanded Export-Import Bank would give a green light to worthwhile Latin-American requests for development funds. The World Bank representative also emphasized that his institution had money available if sound projects were presented.

• • •

The proposed International Finance Corp., which Washington put forward as another possible source of funds, is to have 100 million dollars available in the risk capital Latin America particularly wants. This corporation is to be part of the World Bank setup.

The United States refused at the conference to go along with a 15-nation proposal for an international coffee agreement but did go along with a plan for a study of the world coffee situation.

PARTING—SUCH SWEET (?) Christmas Tree Harvest Lags

Ten Per Cent Drop Under Last Year Is Reported

LANSING (AP) — The harvest of Michigan's 1954 Christmas tree crop is running slightly behind schedule, the State Agriculture Department said today.

Department field men report that about 10 per cent fewer trees were cut during the last two weeks than were felled during the first weeks of last year's season.

"This doesn't mean there will be a shortage of Christmas trees this year," said C. A. Boyer, chief of the department's plant division.

"The drop is undoubtedly due to the warm weather," he said. "Cutters are cautious about harvesting the trees so early that they spoil before Christmas."

The department receives reports on Christmas tree cutting and movements from 20 field men stationed throughout the state to enforce the Christmas tree law.

During the last two weeks, Boyer said, 15,083 trees were checked at the St. Ignace post. They were carried by some 5,000 cars and trucks.

Michigan's Christmas tree industry is a 5 million dollar a year business.

"Anyone transporting six or more Christmas trees is required by law to have a legal bill of sale," Boyer explained. The law is designed to cut down "pirating" of the trees from private property.

The department furnishes bill of sale forms for the convenience of shippers. The forms can be picked up at state police posts, from county sheriffs, the Department of Agriculture, conservation department headquarters, or from county agriculture agents.

Business Increases at Deeds Office

A total of 13,503 papers were processed by the Oakland County register of deeds office last month, compared with 11,258 in November of 1953.

Fees increased to $21,351 during the past month, contrasted with $15,974 a year ago, according to Register of Deeds Orrin McQuaid.

Papers handled last month included 4,873 chattel mortgages, 3,193 deeds, 1,878 mortgages, 1,533 photos, 471 discharges, 7 bills of sale and 2,020 miscellaneous.

Office Is Burglarized

Dick's Used Car Office at 4350 Dixie Hwy., Drayton Plains, was broken into Tuesday night by thieves who took a shotgun, a knife and $10, according to a report received yesterday by Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post.

What Religion Means to Our Family

Faith Binds the McLaughlins to God, Becomes Basis of All Their Activities

By LULA B. OGDEN

From the time the door was opened for your reporter and photographer until we said "goodbye" there was something doing at the McLaughlin household.

James was home for the weekend from the Navy, having recently been made corpsman first class. He expects to be discharged soon and to enter the University of Detroit next February.

Mary Louise is a junior majoring in home economics at Michigan State College, where her brother, Edward Francis, is a sophomore majoring in agriculture. The three younger children, Joseph, Patricia and Maureen, attend St. Frederick School of St. Vincent de Paul parish to which the family belongs.

Mr. McLaughlin has served two terms on the church board and was chairman of the Archdiocesan Development Fund drive in 1954.

The boys are present or past acolytes who serve Mass for the priests at St. Vincent.

The mother and daughters are members of such groups as the Altar Society, guilds and teen clubs. The children in college are members of the Newman Club.

As a family, the McLaughlins enjoy home movies, sports and current events. One is impressed with the idea that everything they do and enjoy is done as a family.

Indicative of the spirit of the family is the fact that before the father submitted his statement of what their religion meant to them as a family, he handed it to the boys to read and asked their approval.

"The word 'religion,' viewed from its Latin derivatives, means literally 'to bind back' (retro means back and ligo, to bind). So it is that our religion embodies the authoritative means through which we are 'bound back' to our Creator during our temporary sojourn of trial on earth—with the prize of returning to Him at the end of this sojourn if we love Him and follow the precepts He has established," the father wrote.

"This bond of love of God, then, becomes the basis of all our activities and relationships—

". . . It is the life blood of our spiritual existence, since it constantly reminds us of the ways and means provided by God to aid us in loving Him and following His precepts.

". . . It serves as a flux to weld us solidly into that basic unit of society called 'the family,' and to accept the duties and responsibilities as well as the joys inherent in that status in life.

". . . It provides a wholesome climate for the development of mutual love, good citizenship, love of country, and an abiding interest in the general welfare of the community — all of which have their beginnings in the family," he said.

". . . It influences our relations with all other segments of society, since the motive is always present 'to love our neighbor as ourselves.'

". . . It brings a definite focus to our sense of values both in the spiritual and the material realms.

"Without this positive concept of life and the constant striving to fulfill its requirements, an overwhelming void would exist both in our intimate family relationships and in respect to the meaning of life itself.

"It is an attribute of the infinite goodness and justice of God that He would set forth the conditions of our salvation and make them an obligation of our everyday life.

"Two thousand years ago He did this through the coming into the world of Christ, the Second Person of the Trinity, whose birth we commemorate on Christmas Day.

"Our religion, in the final analysis, is a way of life with a definite purpose—the most exalted purpose, in fact," concluded Mr. McLaughlin.

Mr. McLaughlin was born in Saginaw and Mrs. McLaughlin in Groveland Township, Oakland County. They met while working in Flint and were married in 1927.

"It is pretty quiet around here sometimes with four of the children away from home, but there is still plenty to do, especially when laundry bags come home," the mother said.

Metropolitan Opera Signs Negro Star

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera has signed a second Negro to sing leading roles.

Robert McFerrin, 32, a baritone, will be the first Negro to join the company on a general repertory basis.

Contralto Marian Anderson, the first Negro hired, joined the company specifically to sing the role of Ulrica in "The Masked Ball" this season. She will make her debut in January.

McFerrin won the Metropolitan Opera Auditions of the Air in 1953. He made his opera debut in the title role of "Rigoletto" with the New England Opera Co. at Boston.

U.S. Snubs Russia's Call for Korea Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Rejecting Soviet efforts to include Red China and North Korea in the U. N. Assembly's Korean debate, the United States and its allies turned a deaf ear today to Russia's call for new direct talks on that divided land.

Russia's Jacob Malik proposed a new Korean conference last night after the Assembly's main Political Committee had voted over Soviet bloc opposition to invite South Korea to join in the U. N. debate, which opened in the committee yesterday.

• • •

A previous conference on the Korean question was held last June in Geneva, with Red China participating. It ended in a deadlock.

• • •

Before Malik threw in his proposal for a new conference, U. S. Delegate James J. Wadsworth made the U. S. position clear on that score. Citing Red China's recent sentencing of 13 Americans as spies, Wadsworth declared:

"At this time when Communist China has just furnished fresh evidence of its brutal and illegal treatment of captured personnel of the United Nations Command in violation of the armistice agreement, the members of this committee will surely agree that conditions for negotiations are not favorable."

• • •

Wadsworth made plain that the United States will not negotiate unless the Communists show a change of heart and accept the two principles agreed upon by the U. N. allies at the Korean phase of the Geneva talks. They are:

• • •

1. The U. N. has the right to repel aggression.
2. Elections in all of Korea should be held under U. N. supervision.

Malik in his speech offered no apparent grounds for hope that the current debate would produce a solution for Korea. He stated repeatedly that it was useless to expect a Korean settlement unless the Peiping and North Korean regimes participate in the discussion. The Russians have tried this tack unsuccessfully for the past four years.

Dulles Gets Lesson in Language for Free

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles dropped in yesterday at the formal opening of the Voice of America's new Washington headquarters and was delighted to get a lesson in languages "for free."

Dulles made his remark after listening to a recording of "This Is the Voice of America" translated into a score or more of tongues ranging from Russian to Burmese.

The secretary, in an informal talk, said he sometimes thought a better name for the agency might be "the voices of America because America speaks with many voices."

He added, however, that "although there are natural differences of opinion," the country "speaks with a single voice" in its determination to prevent Communist subversion of the free world.

Michigan Traffic Kills 5, Including Hit-Run Victim

By International News Service

A 73-year-old Detroit woman was critically injured last night by a hit-run car and four other persons died as the result of outstate traffic crashes.

Struck and thrown 100 feet (as she was crossing Harper at Iroquois) in Detroit was Mrs. Mary Kaminski, who had just stepped from a car driven by a friend. The two were returning from St. Anthony Catholic Church.

Witnesses said the car, a black or dark maroon sedan, was speeding and made no attempt to stop after striking the woman.

Police found a 2-inch piece of hose from the heater of the auto at the scene. They trailed a path of water, apparently draining from the radiator, more than a mile from the accident but there the trail ended.

A filling station operator two miles from the scene reported a man driving a 1951 maroon Dodge drove into his station and filled his radiator with water about the time of the accident.

Dead in outstate misbaps were:

Mrs. Lula Jane Sturgiss, 78, of Crystal, who died of injuries suffered Thanksgiving Day in a crash in which her husband and another man were killed.

Mrs. Lea R. Iverson, 27, of Milford, killed last night and her son and husband critically injured when their car swerved to miss another auto and hit a tree eight miles northwest of Pontiac.

Michael G. Knight, 5, of Newaygo, struck and killed by a car on a road near his home.

Albert C. Hoard, 22, of Millington, instantly killed last night when a car in which he was riding crashed head-on into another north of Flint.

Mate Fries Eggs on $175 Hidden in Stove by Wife

NEVADA CITY, Calif. (UP) — John Huse, a tavern operator, had two fried eggs for breakfast, at a cost of about $87.50 each.

Mrs. Huse hid $175 in the kitchen stove. Her husband lighted the stove the following morning to cook his eggs. Eggs and money cooked.

30 Revisions Due for Michigan Election Code

LANSING (UP) — At least 30 revisions to Michigan's election code will be submitted to the 1955 Legislature for the first time since 1937.

A four-man legislative elections committee, headed by Sen. Clyde Geerlings (R-Holland) drafted the recommendations yesterday.

"These are the first major changes proposed since the Legislature turned down revisions in 1937," Geerlings said. "They are, in effect, revisions to a code that isn't even in force yet."

Geerlings said the code adopted by the 1954 Legislative was a "scientific arrangement" of election laws but contained no major revisions.

The code goes into effect June 1, 1955.

The committee voted to ask the Legislature to:

Take the state elections director out of the secretary of state's office and make it a non-political job.

Make it mandatory for every voter to sign for ballots. This now is required in larger cities but not in some smaller ones.

Define the rights of official challengers.

Require county clerks to keep their offices open election day so unofficial returns will be available to newspaper, radio and television reporters.

Allow counties to use colored ballots.

Raise the number of signatures needed on a petition to place a new party on ballot from one to seven and a half per cent of the number of votes polled by successful candidates at last election for secretary of state.

Not entitle special aid at the polls to people who can't read since it is not considered a physical handicap.

Eliminate initialing of ballots by election inspectors. This proposal is designed to eliminate the risk of voters being disenfranchised because inspectors forgot to initial ballots.

Prohibit elective officials from serving as election inspectors, and set age limits of 70 for inspectors who have served more than once and 55 for new inspectors.

Limit the size of precincts to 800 registered voters in paper ballot precincts and 1,400 registered voters in machine voting precincts.

Sen. John Minnema of Traverse City called today for tighter seals on ballot boxes following disclosure there was "absolutely no security" on some boxes after the Nov. 2 election.

"There is a crying need for a tighter seal," Minnema, a member of the Senate Elections Committee, said. "The Kalkaska recount is a glaring example of this need."

The Traverse City Republican was referring to the prosecutor's race in Kalkaska County where state officials have ordered some ballots "invalid for recount."

Deputy elections director James O. Chapman said some seals were so loose it was possible to remove ballots from the boxes without removing the seal.

"There was absolutely no security on these ballots," the attorney general's office said in ruling them invalid.

Chapman admitted the metal "box car" type of seals now in use were longer than necessary but said local officials would have "no trouble" if they "double-looped" the seals as instructed in directions accompanying the seals.

Wayne Probes Vicious Letters

Pursues the Author of Attacks on Dr. Henry Circulated in Illinois

DETROIT (AP)—Wayne University said it would begin today to attempt to run down the author of "poison-pen" letters sent to the University of Illinois' Board of Trustees, and aimed at former Wayne President David D. Henry.

Wayne officials have indicated they have an idea who sent the letters.

Dr. Henry has been offered the job as president of the University of Illinois by its board. He said he is considering the job, but has not yet accepted. He said he will announce his decision tomorrow.

Wayne's Board of Trustees Tuesday directed Dr. Clarence B. Hilberry, Wayne's president, to enlist the aid of the Police Department and postal authorities to track down the writer of the anonymous statements circulated in Illinois.

Arthur Neef, vice president and provost at Wayne, has been appointed to make the investigation. Dr. Henry now is chancellor of New York University.

Says Reds Holding 13 to Win Concessions

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Dr. George Yeh, foreign minister of Nationalist China, says Red China jailed 13 Americans on spy charges "to exact concessions."

Yeh, Nationalist delegate to the U.N., told a Chamber of Commerce dinner last night:

"My personal feeling is that they are creating a situation for some neutralist country to step in and mediate and in the process of mediation they would present some counterproposal in order to exact concessions."

Illegal ROK Immigration Worries Japan Official

TOKYO (AP)—Justice Minister Naoshi Ohara today urged immigration officials throughout Japan to make an intensive effort to prevent illegal entry into Japan of South Koreans.

Ohara said the number of South Koreans sneaking into Japan had increased alarmingly since July. He said there were indications Koreans are attempting a "mass illegal entry into Japan."

Doctor, Once Tried in Death, Accepted

EXETER, N.H. (AP)—The Rockingham County Medical Society last night unanimously voted to accept Dr. Hermann N. Sander, acquitted in 1950 in the death of a cancer patient, as a member.

This makes Dr. Sander eligible to apply to any hospital in the state for staff privileges, a right he lost when he was dropped as a member of the Hillsborough County Medical Society after his trial.

The 45-year-old Candia, N.H., physician was acquitted on a charge of murder after the state had accused him of causing the death of Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto, incurably ill of cancer, by injecting air into her veins.

Claims Field's Daughter Is in 'Better' Labor Camp

LONDON (AP)—A friend of the last missing member of the Field family, Noel Field's foster daughter, reported today that the Soviets have transferred the 31-year-old German-born woman to a "much better" labor camp.

Mrs. Erika Glaser Wallach disappeared in Berlin in August 1950 while seeking information of her foster father. Noel Field, his wife Herta and his brother Hermann were released recently after five years in Communist prisons in Hungary and Poland on spy charges.

* * *

The Communists, in freeing the Fields, said the spy charges against them were unsubstantiated but made no mention of Mrs. Wallach. Several days ago a former Soviet prisoner reported to a Hamburg newspaper that she was serving a 15-year sentence in the notorious Siberian labor camp at Vorkuta.

* * *

Erika's friend, American-born Mrs. Leah Manning, of Essex, wrote in an open letter today to the News Chronicle: "Through International Red Cross contacts that now have been established, Erika has been removed to a much better camp and has received and sent letters to her mother, Mrs. Glaser." Mrs. Manning said Mrs. Glaser is living in England.

* * *

Appealing to the British government to seek Mrs. Wallach's release, Mrs. Manning added:

"Erika is stateless and neither British nor American authorities are willing to receive her or make representations to the Russians on her behalf . . . Dr. Glaser (Erika's father), now dead, and Mrs. Glaser have lived here since 1939. Her brother Kurt, who was my ward, lived here nearly all his life and died in the service of England. He was killed returning from a dawn patrol on the last day of the war."

* * *

Mrs. Wallach lost her orignal German citizenship when Field adopted her, and has never acquired any other. She is the wife of an American and the mother of two young children. Mrs. Manning said she had been lured to Berlin in 1950 "on the promise that she would see the Fields."

Government Briefs 'Executive Reserve'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirty-three industry and labor officials conferred with mobilization officials here yesterday preliminary to the forming of a voluntary "executive reserve" of men who could be called to government service in wartime.

Mobilization Director Arthur S. Flemming told the group, mostly corporation executives with wartime experience here, that each "reservist" will be attached to the Office of Defense Mobilization as an unpaid consultant.

In event of full mobilization, each will be prepared to step into an executive post in a specified phase of emergency activity, such as price control, wage stabilization, rationing or allocations.

Real Entertainers Just Can't Retire ...as Betty Hutton Will Find Out

By EDDIE CANTOR

Miss Betty Hutton
202 North Canon Drive
Beverly Hills, California

Dear Betty,

I was among the fortunate present at your closing night when you gave your last performance at the Desert Inn in Las Vegas. You were only wonderful. I never saw you look better. How you sang and clowned and danced!

When it was over, with hundreds of others, I stood up and cheered. It must have been a joyous moment for you, but there were people in the audience with tears in their eyes. Surely this is not the end of your great career. You are not actually retiring from show business. You don't intend to keep this God-given talent locked up for all time.

Oh, I know the things you have been through—the heartaches—the sleepless nights—the moments of "will they like it?"—Can I get through this performance?" But Betty, dear, whether you know it or not, you are a champion and a champ never quits.

I was there the night Firpo knocked Jack Dempsey through the ropes and out of the ring, but Jack got up and k.o.'d Firpo, and retained his world championship.

Just around the corner from the Desert Inn, at the Flamingo, there's a girl belting out songs and making the customers blister their hands. She works from a wheelchair. Even polio couldn't knock out Connie Boswell.

On January 31, "Banjo-eyes" Cantor will celebrate his sixty-third birthday. At that time he will be broadcasting a half-hour daily, doing a filmed television show and writing five columns a week. Two years ago he was in an oxygen tent at the Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in Los Angeles. He found out then, just as you will, that people like us can't ring down the curtain on ourselves.

True, you want to spend more time with your children—and you should—and you can. I am sure you realize that Dinah Shore's children are not neglected. Neither are the children of Esther Williams or Gracie Allen. Please remember this, Betty, when your children grow up they will love you all the more for sharing your wonderful talent with the whole world.

Affectionately,
Eddie

Early Christmas Shopping Often Causes Frustration

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — "Do your Christmas shopping early"—From now on we're going to be given that advice a dozen times a day in ads, on broadcasts, by our best friends and nearest relatives.

Which is all very well for those folks whose natures make them do everything early rather than late.

But that doesn't mean all of us. Some of us are just naturally early starters and others are, equally naturally, late starters, and who is to say one kind is better than the other?

Somewhere, a good while ago, I read about a piece of research carried out in the best scientific tradition, which proved that some people simply don't function at their best without a sufficiently late start.

As I recall it, the test consisted of a series of problems that had to be solved by logic, as well as a series of facts that had to be learned by heart.

Some of the people tested did their best work with the first couple of hours of the morning — and then went steadily downhill to 5 o'clock shadow and all the other signs of mental and physical fatigue.

But another group of citizens did their worst work in the very first hours after arising.

These didn't start to come alive mentally until well in the afternoon — for them five o'clock shadow was like a sunrise.

I can no longer cite chapter and verse on those old tests, but being one of the late starters myself, that research made a deep enough impression so I memorized its main points (after five o'clock no doubt) and have never forgotten them since.

All of which take me around — after a good slow start — to the question of doing your Christmas shopping early.

Sure, if you have packages to send to boys overseas; sure if you're sending gifts to relatives abroad. But otherwise?

I don't know about you, but I'm remembering that scientific alibi and stalling as long as I possibly can.

Nobody's going to talk me into heading into that implacable crowd of early - bird Christmas shoppers — not until after a few of them have worn out their first fine frenzy of energy and ideas.

Nobody can persuade me a bright early start on my gifts will mean lots bigger selections, more variety, and better service.

What about all those "new stocks of fresh merchandise" we always read about in the newspaper ads a week before Christmas? In seasons past those ads never failed to appear — why should they this time?

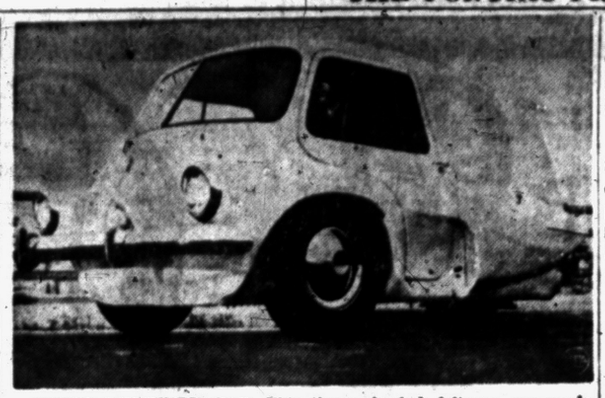
It always amazes and dazzles me that the department stores and specialty shops are so clever about pulling great stocks of new goodies right out of the hat just a few days before Santa's arrival.

I'm sure I'll be amazed and dazzled the same way this year too.

And how awful I'd feel if every last one of my own gifts had already been bought by them, if all my money were already spent, if none of those bright new ideas came to me in time to make use of them.

I just can't risk such frustration in the merry merry month of December, nor in the happy Yuletide season.

So, as usual, I'm not starting my Christmas shopping early — far from it. I'll do all of it late — and I'll carry every last parcel home myself to be sure to get it under the tinsel wire.



SMALL DELIVERY CAR—This three-wheeled delivery car made of Fiberglas-reinforced plastic was recently shown in New York City. The body is molded directly to the underhalf of the vehicle, which eliminates the conventional chassis. It has a cargo space of some 110 square feet, a 24-horsepower, four-cylinder, water-cooled rear engine, and cruises between 40-45 mph.

Helicopter Photography

KANEOHE MARINE AIR STATION, Oahu (AP)—Marine Staff Sergeant William R. Burkart has developed a new type mount which permits aerial photographs to be taken from transport type helicopters.

The inexpensive mount, Burkart said, would be ideal for training men in the principles of aerial photography.

Sugar Industry Eyes Expanding Markets

HONOLULU (AP)—Hawaii's sugar industry has a new word—surochemistry — and the industry is hopeful it spells out new markets. Surochemistry was coined by Dr. Henry B. Hass, president of the Sugar Research Foundation Inc., to describe industrial organic chemistry in which the starting material is sugar and its by-products.

Experiments are going on for the production of such things as detergents, plastics, fibers, rubbers, solvents, insecticides and adhesives.

Ringing Telephones Tell of Shoppers' Bargains

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The day of the country party line is rapidly becoming history, but apparently the users haven't changed much since crank-and-talk days.

"Why, even in Nashville we don't have to read the papers to tell when the dollar-day sales are on," says Sam Youngblood, Tennessee general manager for the phone company. "We know by the flurry of telephone calls in the afternoon —when the housewives get home from shopping and start telling all the neighbors what they bought."

'Any Deer' Day Shows Low Kill

Officials Estimate Less Than One Bagged for Every 3 Hunters

By UNITED PRESS

State conservation officials today estimated that the 40,000-45,000 hunters who took part in Michigan's one-day "any deer" season bagged less than one deer for every three hunters in the field.

The hunter estimate—there were 72,000 permits issued—was based on a roadside car count made by conservation workers yesterday. It was estimated that less than 12,000 deer were taken.

Ralph Gray, 22, of Interlochen was the only reported shooting injury, accoring to State Police. He was hit in the head and the mouth by a bullet that split. The hunter who fired the shot was not immediately known.

The actual deer kill during yesterday's any deer season will not be available until tomorrow or Saturday, the Conservation Department said.

However, the kill was expected to be down more than 50 per cent from last year when 99,000 hunters took part in the special season and bagged 26,000 does, fawns and bucks.

The decrease this year in hunters could be blamed partially on a quota new this year limiting the number who could participate.

If You Want Something Different

Here Are Yule Home Decoration Ideas

That once-a-year feeling doesn't really set in until the boxes are out of the closet and all the home decorations are unpacked and going up. For decorating the home with traditional or original fancies makes the season as full of Christmas as a holly berry.

Safety considerations should rate high when picking your tree for, according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, the tree is Christmas' greatest hazard.

They suggest: Choose a small tree and keep it outdoors until a few days before setting it up.

If you have land, pick a live tree, cover the dirt with foil and plant it afterwards; saw the butt of a cut tree slantwise and stand it in a tub of water; locate it away from fireplace, exit or radiator; avoid untreated paper or cotton ornaments; use electric lights with the UL (Underwriters Laboratory) mark, never candles; don't run electric trains around the base; don't use outlet or plug under the tree.

When your tree is set up, wire the top to the molding or window frame, using wire which is inconspicuous. Or, if you wish, the guy wire can be hung with decorations.

Strictly contemporary are two of science's contributions to the tree decorations. Styrofoam shapes — balls, stars, canes, snowmen and Santas — can be bought at the five-and-ten and decorated with sequins secured by sequin pins.

For the family that wants to by-pass the traditional tree, there are many ideas. Such as cutting a tree from an appropriately colored roll of wallpaper and pinning it above the mantel with common pins, which can hold light Christmas balls.

For those who sew, a double mantel tree can be made of felt that can stand up over a bottle or glass. A small ready-made tree that folds away is also on the market.

Door decoration ideas, besides the usual wreath, include the "Magic Christmas Tree" — an evergreen branch or small artificial tree taped to the door and hung with candies of all sorts. Another idea makes the cards received into three gay triple-layered fans. Gold cardboard fans with loops of Sasheen ribbon are secured with Scotch cellophane tape to the door. Cards, as they arrive, can be inserted between layers of the fans.

They're made of Christmas balls covered with peach flameproof crepe paper for the heads, pleated duplex crepe paper for the skirts. Skirts are edged with gaily-printed Scotch tape. The lacy wings are paper doilies.

Auxiliary Does Charity Work at Yule Season

Jimmy Dey Post 12, Amvets Auxiliary members find holiday time a busy time. The 10th birthday of Amvets in Michigan will be celebrated on Dec. 11 with a dinner at American Legion Hall for members and their friends.

Plans are being completed for the auxiliary's annual Christmas party. Dec. 15 is the date and it will be held in the YWCA.

At a recent meeting of the group held in YMCA, members sewed cancer pads. A rug loom and sheets will be delivered to Haven Hill School for retarded children, and a case of cigarettes will be sent to the Veterans' Hospital in Saginaw for Christmas.

The group also made plans to adopt two veteran's families for the holidays. Food, clothing, toys and Christmas trees will be furnished for each family.

Square Set Holds Hunters' Ball

Hunter's Ball was the theme of Wednesday evening's Square Set Dance held at Wever School. Members danced in a setting of woodland scenes. Harry Anderson was master of ceremonies.

Guests for the evening were the Ralph McMichaels, William Beckett, Diane Hardy, Mrs. Wilson Palazini, the John Fritchers and Betty Cariveau.

Callers were Sam Joan, Harry Anderson, Melvin Norberg, Sid Olson, Jack Price and James Thompson. Refreshments were served by Pete Messeman and the Art Yargers. The group will hold a Christmas party on Dec. 15.

Her name in print on the door of an airliner cockpit marks a big moment for Joyce Forrest who recently received her wings as a full-fledged stewardess. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Forrest of West Fairmont avenue.

Betty McMiller Wed

Betty Elaine McMiller of North Perry street and William R. Dabbs Jr. spoke their marriage vows Saturday evening in First Methodist Church. The Rev. Paul Havens performed the seven o'clock ceremony.

The bride's parents are the Roy N. McMillers of Granite City, Ill., and he is the son of Mrs. William Dabbs of Augusta avenue.

The bride wore a street-length dress of eggshell white satin brocade. She wore a matching jacket with a Peter Pan collar trimmed in seed pearls. An illusion veil held a crown of lace, trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of yellow roses surrounded with shattered carnations and ivy.

Attending the couple were Mrs. James C. Turner of Trenton and the bridegroom's brother, Ted Dabbs. Mr. Turner was an usher.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. McMiller wore a navy faille suit dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy nylon dress with white accessories and a corsage of red roses.

An aqua knit suit with black accessories and a corsage of yellow roses was chosen by the bride for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls. They will reside in Pontiac.

Stick Good Mixer

The sticks that come in ice cream bars make good paste applicators and fingerpaint-mixers for your kids. A doctor's tongue depressor, tempting as it seems for the purpose, should be disposed of permanently (because of germs) unless the doctor will donate you a fresh one.

Make Awning Last

If you take your awnings down and want them to look sparkling next spring, first paint them with a solution of two parts linseed oil and one part turpentine.

Study Club Plans Party

A Christmas program committee was appointed by Parliamentary Study Club at the group's Wednesday meeting held in the East Lawrence street Masonic Temple.

Serving on this committee will be Mrs. Russell French, Mrs. Fred Mittledorf, Mrs. Lester Oles, Mrs. Edwin Carlson, Mrs. Aden Thornton and Mrs. John McNeeley.

Mrs. Harley Bowers was elected to membership and Mrs. William Kramer was in charge of the guest book. Leader of the demonstration group was Mrs. Basil Hartt who explained the lesson on methods of voting, report of tellers, tie vote, majority and plurality and two thirds vote.

Officers for the next demonstration will be Mrs. William Pfahlert, president; Mrs. Robert Scharf, vice president; Mrs. Clarence Crawley, recording secretary; Mrs. Stanton Deyo, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Orrin Huntoon Jr., treasurer and Mrs. Harley Bowers, auditor.

Mrs. Joseph Panter, Parliamentarian emeritus conducted the question box.

Biochemist Still Works Despite Illness

Mrs. William Uhlendorf, formerly Carol Jean Peruchi of Pontiac (daughter of the Don Peruchi's of Franklin Blvd.) has found a way to be a post-polio patient and keep abreast of her job with the Atomic Energy Commission at the same time.

Hospitalized two weeks ago with polio, she is a patient at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

To be confined to the hospital for several weeks yet, she is doing much of her research work from her bed where the AEC has brought her data material to study.

Mrs. Uhlendorf has been an instructor at Oak Ridge and is a young biochemist with the Ann Arbor branch of the AEC.

Use Plastic Tape

For the ends of legs of kitchen stools which just can't seem to keep rubber tips on, here's a solution: tape them with black plastic electrician's tape. This will make them skid-proof and keep the linoleum from being dug.

Secret Pals Revealed by Leal Emes Group

Mrs. Richard Lasho's Luther street home was the setting for a recent meeting of Leal Emes group of First Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Paul Blystone assisted the hostess.

Secret pals were revealed and gifts exchanged. Elsie Benson will be hostess in her Josephine street home for the January meeting.

Christmas Brings Out Gay Beauty

Holiday Should Be Warm, Splendid, Bright Occasion

All of a woman's yearnings for beauty—gay, regal and romantic—seems to burst into flower when the first Christmas wrappings appear on store counters.

The housewife, dragging a baby, looks longingly at a red velvet dress that she knows is just plain foolishness. The career gal tries to plot ways of having a chafing dish dinner on a wiener budget. A grandmother wonders if it would be silly for her to invest in a long, sweeping robe.

And this is as it should be. The holidays—from the first scent of wood in the fireplace—should be warm and splendid.

Colors should be rich, homes should be inviting, women should be glittery. For the budget-bound and the tied-down, there are ways of dressing for the party season without departing from the daily realities.

Not the least of the ways an imaginative woman or teenager can make herself splendid is in dealing with her hair and ears. However dreary last year's coat may be, if the head above it is pretty and glitters with light, the effect is as seasonal as holly.

Attention to earrings, with an investment in a colorful or sparkling pair to be worn only in the core of winter, can be a help. A new hat—or a frothy piece of nothing with a veil—can spark a tired wardrobe. A scarf light as snowfall in a distracting color can point up the weary suit.

For the gayest occasion, when startling splendor is as necessary to a woman as her lipstick, the hair can be turned into a real crown.

Last year, this might have meant a dunk in a holly-red dye, but this year the news is an arresting streak or chignon of non-tarnishing metallic fiber, lurex.

This is not the hair streak to be passed off as your own tinted pink or purple. This is a frankly fake addition that has its own sparkle to point up the gleam of freshly-washed and set hair. With one of these hairpieces, the glitter generally left to a rhinestone clip on a hat can be incorporated right into the hair. Gold, silver, blue or black are the colors that can be a metallic bright spot in holiday hair.

For the chignons, the crisp metallic fiber has been interspersed with dynel for softness and shape. For the streaks, pure lurex sparkles solo.

Watch Gauges for Auto Care

Watch the gauges! It doesn't take an engineer or a master mechanic to know when the modern automobile performs best. The instrument gauges tell the story. With these gauges set in an easy-to-read cluster, you can see that the oil pressure is normal; the ammeter shows the battery is charging properly; and that the water temperature is normal.

Any deviation from these indicates the need for attention—and all you need to do is drive in to your dealer, or gas service station for a check. Most cases a minor adjustment—such as adding water to the battery, checking engine oil or radiator water, will do the trick.

Cover Putty Can

Colorful Shirts Pretty and Gay as Fiesta Morn

Fashion sometimes succeeds where diplomats fear to tread. A typical international entente is Digby Morton's new collection of shirts, in which British tailoring techniques, Spanish colors and patterns, and American workmanship are allied.

The famous British designer who arbitrated this particular alliance began work on the collection during a visit to Granada and Seville. Impressed with the bold clarity of 14th century mosaics, he sketched them on the spot. He borrowed colors from the Alhambra's tawny walls; lifted bright accents from Flamencon patterns and translated them all to fine cotton broadcloth.

Shirts cut from this cloth are Spanish in line as well as in color in both long and short-sleeved versions. Convertible collars have a new look of width. They can be worn primly closed at the top or deeply open with yards of bright beads, Spanish gypsy style, filling the neckline.

Besides being pretty and gay as a fiesta morning, the Spanish patterned shirts are astonishingly versatile. An overall mosaic print shirt is good with sportswear — and a nice surprise with a tailored suit. Bold striped shirts (in all cotton or cotton with satin embossed stripes) and splashy Flamencon rose prints are perfect mates for easy-going at-home skirts and pants.

Automobile Finish Not Hard to Clean

The finish of your car is no harder to keep clean than the finish on your refrigerator, gas range, or colorful kitchen cabinets.

Keep your car clear of dull grime, oil film, city smog and dust-settling chemicals on the highways by giving it a washing once a week. Keep it clean, and it will stay bright and shiny for years!

40th Annual Michigan Welfare Conference Held

"Communication, Cooperation and Coordination in Social Welfare," was the theme of the 40th annual Michigan Welfare Conference which closed Wednesday at the Hotel Statler, Detroit.

The three day conference was arranged by the League, which is a state-wide association of citizens and organizations working for the improvement of welfare, health and recreational programs in Michigan. Invitations here were issued by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Among those attending from this area were Mrs. Lucille Denison, executive secretary of the Volunteer Bureau and public relations director of the Pontiac Area United Fund; and Karl Bradley, assistant director of the United Fund.

Arthur Heaton of the Oakland County CIO Council, Mrs. Harold Ackerman and Mrs. E. L. Windeler of the Northern Oakland Girl Scout Council; and Oriole Endelman, director of the Michigan Children's Aid Society and Marian Bishin, Mrs. Marie McCracken, Mrs. Elizabeth Thornton and Mrs. Jenne Walters, also of the Children's Aid Society were others.

Still others were Walter Campbell and Mrs. Everett Spurlock, home service director of the American Red Cross; Ora Hinckley of the Oakland County Bureau of Social aid; and Madeleine Half, director, and Mrs. Elsie Lifton, psychiatric workers, from the Pontiac Child Guidance Clinic.

Mrs. Fred L. Haushalter, president of the board of the YWCA was one of five new members of the Michigan Welfare League elected to its board of directors Wednesday.

The conference included general and concurrent sectional meetings on problems of those services concerned with the health and welfare of the physically, mentally and emotionally handicapped, plus those of the migrant and older workers.

The group planned organization of welfare corresponding to that of the Council of Agencies on the state level.

PHS Play Shows Talent, Skill for Serious Script

By CORENNA MORTON

A switch to the more serious side of drama proved the versatility of Pontiac High School dramatists last night, as their production, "On Borrowed Time," opened successfully at the High School auditorium.

In a story of an old man trying to stave off death so he could take care of his orphaned grandson, the entire cast provided warm and skillful entertainment for a receptive audience.

Going outside the high school to find talent, the Speech Department borrowed eight-year-old Jack Bennett from Crofoot School to play one of the leads as the little boy, Pud.

A natural for the part, he carried many lines and moods throughout the play with seemingly little effort. Unexpected understanding of the role made his one of the more professional jobs of the show.

A small but amusing part of a boy caught by the seat of his pants in an apple tree was played by another Crofoot student, Jon Gary.

Don Bumgardner, as the profane but kindly Gramps, held his character skillfully without a single letdown and again displayed the talent that has been evident in previous performances.

Nagging, soul-saving Granny was played convincingly by Martha Varney, and Leah Mae MacNutt cackled amusingly through the role of Demetria, Pud's hypocritical maiden aunt, out to get his money and raise him righteously.

Burton Belant, remembered for his earlier role as a twittery female, did an about-face and took the part of Gramp's serious-minded doctor. Professional timing and expert vocal inflection turned a minor part into an important role.

Brenda Jo Wells did a good job of the sweet neighbor girl and Bob Crandall brought laughs as the doubting lawyer.

An excellent set provided proper background for the action, and exceptional make-up combined to create a fine production.

Hair Stylist 'Gives Away' His Art

Session in Beauty Offered With Hints Women Can Use

A man who would seem, at first glance, to be defeating his own purpose is New York's Victor Vito. This established hair stylist has opened a school to teach women how to be beautiful of face and hair without the aid of a beautician or hair stylist.

In other words, he is giving the women who lap up his beauty hints the ability to say "poof" to weekly stays in his salon if they like.

In the variety of courses and sessions he offers, Mr. Vito shares his beauty tips with great generosity. And they are hints any woman could use.

For instance, most women's daily ritual, setting the hair could use some improvement, Mr. Vito suggests some rules to make every set look professional.

"Speed is essential," he claims. "The sooner you get the net on your hair, the more chances of success you have." He suggests setting lotion or beer to moisten the hair for the set.

"Use as few pins as possible," Mr. Vito advises. "Also, pin the hair where you want the actual curl to be when you're done. The pincurl shouldn't be lifted more than a quarter of an inch above the desired location."

On using a hair net, Mr. Vito also has some tips. Put it on with care and don't squash the curls with a tight net.

When it comes to combing out the set, this hair stylist recommends combing away from the face and with an upward movement. He says that 90 per cent of all hairdos should be combed out in this way, whether they are down and forward hairdos or ones with back and side interest.

He explains that one of the purposes of combing the hair in this way is to make the bottom hair appear thicker and stand away from the head.

Leisure Shirt Fine in Wool

For his leisure, which is what men live for, a cheerful, warm wool shirt is a true delight. They are just the thing to slip into for hours of idleness, providing that gentle warmth that completes the hearthside comfort.

However, the male should be sized up before choosing which wool shirt suits him best. Is he likely to make it part of his hunting regalia, or wear it outdoors? Then look for a warm wool flannel model. Is it strictly for television or similar indoor pastimes?

Then a tissue weight worsted wool is right. Both fabrics are available in cheerful plaids, small checks and solid colors. A pair of soft gray worsted flannel slacks is a good complementary gift, and remember to ask the store to tailor the cuffs after the holiday season if you aren't sure of the proper length.

Remove Ink Stain

You can always tell a woman who's just paid bills—she's got ink stains on the fingers. These come off easily when rubbed with the well-moistened head of a match.

Keep Insects Out

To keep insects out of a seldom-trodden rug, fill a spray gun with a five per cent DDT solution. Spray the floor under the rug, the underside of the rug, then the top. It'll last a year.

Sacrificing Femininity Is Wrong

Strictly Tailored Business Clothes Are Antiquated

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "I have been a business woman for many years, and in my early training was taught always to dress conservatively for the office. By this I mean, tailored suits and blouses and very little jewelry.

I am the personnel director of a large company and it seems that the latest trend, according to the new girls coming here to work, and who are fresh out of college, is to wear very feminine-looking clothes, frilly blouses and rather oversize jewelry. In fact, I have been told by a certain young woman that strictly tailored clothes in business was antiquated and belongs to an era when a woman in business was rare. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this subject."

Tailored clothes are in best taste in the business world because they represent the acme of neatness and utility which inevitably suggest an orderly and efficient mind. It is not, however, necessary to sacrifice feminine becomingness but merely to choose clothes that are well cut and free from an effect of dangling trimmings that get in the way.

A "frilly" blouse with a good-looking skirt is entirely proper. As a matter of fact, the latest fashion in blouses is practically masculine—even to long sleeves with French cuffs and a high neck finished with a man's collar. On the question of oversized jewery, it is, of course, out of place.

Dear Mrs. Post: When in a theater with a "date" and a collection is taken up for some charity, is it up to the boy she is with to give for both of them, or is she supposed to give her own donation?

She should give her own contribution and not expect him to give it for her.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to serve straws with iced tea or coffee or any other tall drink at home, or is this only soda fountain or lunch counter service?

While certainly not fashionable, there is no objection to straws for those who like them.

Cracker Barrel Feeling Lives in Spite of Time

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

For the first time in years I'm going to have the fun of doing my Christmas shopping in a country store. True, progress has moved into Skin Davis' and where the pickle and cracker barrels used to stand, there is now a frozen food locker. The red-not, pot-bellied stove has been supplanted by central heating, and Skin's helper, Joe, uses an adding machine instead of a stub of pencil to tot up my purchases.

But the feeling of the country store is there. Everybody samples the merchandise, uses first names and gossips cheerfully about neighborhood news—that Jack Donaldson may buy a trailer and go to Florida; that some mischievous boys were caught toppling over the headstones in the old abandoned cemetery south of town.

There's no local newspaper nor is it missed. The walls of the store serve. Thus, on an emergency visit to pick up some birthday oddments, I learned from a hand-lettered notice on a piece of cardboard that the Samsonville Fire Department was throwing a pancake supper, that a nearby farmer was holding a public sale and that the hour for Methodist church service had been changed.

Skin, the community's young elder statesman, in his role of justice of the peace, was issuing licenses to three men who looked like prospective hunters, reassuring somebody on the telephone about an electric light failure, choosing ripe melons for me and advising two little boys about nickel candy bars, modern version of jaw-breakers and licorice ropes.

On the outside at least my country store remains true to the past.

"There was commonly a porch or raised platform at the front for convenient loading and unloading of farm wagons with either a hitching rack or sled shelter nearby for wagons or bobsleds," writes Gerald Carson in The American Heritage, magazine about our past, published under the auspices of the American Association for State and Local History and The Society of American Historians.

The high porch at Skin's hasn't changed though it is now used for unloading trucks. The space formerly occupied by wagons and bobsleds has been preempted by automobiles and the hitching rack replaced by gasoline pumps. But vegetables—including fresh-pulled corn, locally grown tomatoes, cucumbers, turnips and such in season—are heaped outside the door. And on the porch the philosophers gather in good weather to tell tall tales as Gerald Carson says they did in the old days.

The whole family still goes along on holiday shopping excursions, too, though the picture today is somewhat different from Carson's: "... the youngsters sitting on a bed of wheat or oat straw in the light spring wagon or the heavier farm wagon. Father would throw in a few live chickens, legs tied together, stash away a bucket of cream, or load in whatever butter they had on hand.

The boys would take along their pelts—not many so early in the season—and Mother would be in charge of the eggs. This last item was of particular importance to her, since it was a firmly established folkway of farm life that 'the Missus' kept the egg money for her own personal use."

Alas, the Missus can't bolster her holiday buying by trading in her eggs at Skin's any more—not because Skin wouldn't do it, but because the Law says that all eggs have to be candled and graded, hard to do at home. O, tempora, o, mores!

Lubricate Skin With Natural Body Lotion

Does your skin have that parched, drawn feeling? Wintry winds, steam heat and frequent baths have a tendency to dry-up the natural oils of the skin. A well-known all over body lotion will help lubricate your skin and restore all-over softness.

Apply this penetrating lotion after your bath, before you are completely dry. You'll find that it spreads easily and disappears quickly, leaving your skin smooth and fresh.

You'll find it relaxing, refreshing and soothing with a delicate light fragrance that will not intrude on your perfume and cologne. Even its color is softly feminine—the palest of pale pinks.

This all over body lotion is penetrating because it is laden with a rich, nourishing supply of esters and cholesterols—the nearest elements to natural skin oils yet to be discovered.

After every bath, use this body lotion and your skin will lose that tight, dried-up feeling. You will feel silky smooth from head to toe.

Reversed Seasons Supplied Income

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband and I have worked out a really weird way of living on his retirement pension and still living like a king," a woman writes, "and I thought your readers might enjoy hearing about it. You see, we really misfigured things but still it came out all right in the end."

She went on to say that she and her husband had, through the years, invested in a four room city apartment, which they bought as a cooperative, and also a small house on the shore which they owned outright.

"We assumed," she continued, that, since we owned our own winter place and our own summer place, we could live nicely on social security and his small pension. And, aside from that, we had no savings, no investments, nothing but the two little homes.

"Well, the first two years after he retired were horrible. We just barely squeaked along. All winter we lived in the city apartment, but after we paid the food and utilities, there was nothing left.

We had no new clothes, could never enteretain or go out, couldn't even replace a wornout slipcover.

Then, in the summer, we'd move to the shore, and it would be the same thing—just existing, no extras at all. A small dental bill was a big crisis.

"First my husband decided to try to get a job—but he had no luck at all. Then I tried—and I had no luck. Then we considered selling the little house—but the money it would bring would be so small, that even if we invested it well, it would not keep us.

"Finally," she concluded, "we got a big brainstorm. Places like ours at the shore, fully furnished, bring huge season rentals from people who want a country summer. And, at the same time, places like ours in the city, fully furnished, can be sublet for the six winter months for a fortune, to people who crave a city winter.

So—now we live in the country in the winter, and we live in the city in the summer.

We make a lot of money, and have fun, too. In the summer, we can afford an air conditioner in our apartment, and we can take in the shows, see friends, have a fine time. In the winter, we live fine in the country, and have even been able to buy a secondhand car! Of course, the country gets a little cold in the winter—but now we can buy the firewood we need. And it's kind of fun, swimming against the tide!"

Modern Autos Real Dreamy

Today's automobiles have certainly reached the dream car stage in their colors. Just look at some of the beautiful colors: Dover White, mindful of England's chalky cliffs; Victoria, a regal, medium-toned blue; two greens with Erin's fresh charm—Belfast, deep and rich, and Galway, a dazzling jaunty hue; a pottery blue designated Stafford; and a brilliant yellow named Condor.

Also, a bright Cherokee Red, challenging as a war cry; and the softer bronze red known as Titian; Gulf Turquoise, a vibrant, sun-drenched blue-green; and Cascade, the blue of cool bright water. Who could ask for anything more beautiful?

Clean Lamp Well

Don't do a half-way job when you clean lamps. Take the globe or reflector and give it the works in the sink or dishpan. You'll save light bills, for the reflector is often the demon that makes a reading lamp like a night-light.

Make Holiday Greetings

How about your Christmas cards? Have you given any thought to sending greetings to your friends? You like to receive cards and your friends do too, so how about making some for your Christmas greetings to them?

These Christmas cards are different and you can make them to fit the person who is to receive them. Buy some plain white envelopes at the dime store and you will also need some construction paper. Measure the size of the envelope, then cut the paper just a little smaller so that it will fit inside. Make a paper pattern of any design that suits you and cut this into a cardboard pattern. I have made a snow man and have cut him from white paper.

He is pasted to the red construction paper. His hat is put on with show card colors in red and green stripes, and the card is lettered in red. Sign your name, and the card is ready to go!

You may want to make several cut out figures so that you will have different desgins to send. These are fun to make.

IF big-bosomed—

Avoid shiny satin cuffed top and bottom, plain in between, which will never give you the fashionable flat chest look.

Mrs. B. B.—Turtle neck satin blouse not for you. Less exaggerated bustline, and eased waist are in the new silhouette and this the shirtwaist blouse gives you. There are many luxurious but not shiny fabrics you can wear.

Say Family Ties Getting Stronger

New American Study Shows Husband Tends to Stay Home More

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

BOSTON (AP)—The American husband is becoming a homebody.

That's the conclusion of family-life specialists of the National Council of Churches after some extended peeks into U.S. households.

"There is a growing solidarity within the American family," said Methodist Bishop Hazen G. Werner, of Columbus, Ohio, chairman of the councils Department of Family Life.

"We can see clear signs of the domestication of husbands and fathers."

Instead of gadabouts and rovers, he said, they're becoming homebound creatures who help to the shopping at the supermarket and putter in home workshops with "do-it-yourself" equipment.

• • •

The department recently concluded exhaustive surveys in three cities — Dayton, Ohio; Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and Grand Rapids, Mich., as a preliminary to setting up family counseling clinics.

About 1,100 volunteers have been trained to serve in church programs in the three localities to help solve family problems, in cooperation with other social agencies. Similar projects are planned in other communities in the future.

"There is a greater interest nowadays in sound home life than there used to be a decade or so ago," said Bishop Werner. "Young couples are especially serious about it."

He noted that growth in the size of families, with four-child families up 60 per cent and two-child families up 98 per cent in the last 13 years, was an indication of greater home solidarity.

"There is more security and development of maturity in a large family," he said.

And he added that there was also an abandonment of a fad to shelter children from any kind of problems — a policy which he said produced "soft souls for a hard existence."

"You might say there is a healthy movement back to the woodshed," he said. "There's less of this domination and blighting of lives with kindness, so that children lack the ability to make decisions."

Monkeys Pose Tough Problem for New Delhi

NEW DELHI (UP) — The municipal committee wants to take measures against the monkeys that have become a nuisance in parts of this Indian city but can't agree on what to do.

The committee hired a contractor who gets $1.20 for every monkey he catches. But the contractor releases the monkeys not far from New Delhi and they make their way back into the city.

Some members of the committee suggested the monkeys should be shot or poisoned, but the proposal was opposed by the majority who are Hindus, to whom the monkey is sacred.

Another suggestion was that the monkeys caught should be branded, or have their tails cut off, so the contractor could not make money by catching the same monkeys repeatedly.

One suggestion was that the monkeys caught should be turned over to the Malaria Institute for laboratory purposes. The secretary of the committee pointed out, however, that the institute could not handle a large number of monkeys.

Cookies Announce Yule Season

Anise Flavoring Adds Distinction

Bright-Hued Candies Lend Christmas Air to Rich Brown Treats

As bright and gay as the season itself are these plump little anise cookies. The rich brown cookies sparkle with a festive topping of red, green, yellow and blue sugar balls.

The cookies are basically the molasses type, but finely ground anise seed gives them a distinctive ficorice-like flavor. The spicy aroma as they bake will definitely announce that Christmas in in the air.

If you want to pack cookies for gifts, anise cookies are just the thing. They're the chewy semi-hard type that packs particularly well. And coffee cans covered with holiday wrapping paper double nicely as cookie containers.

Anise Cookies

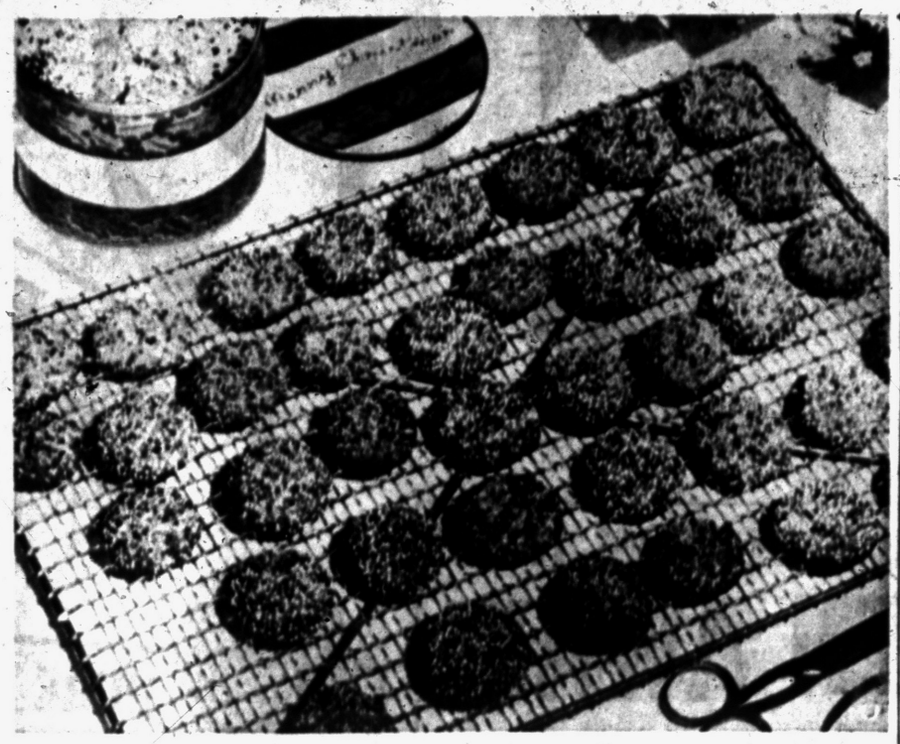
1 cup butter
1 cup granulated sugar
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons molasses
½ cup evaporated milk
⅓ cup whole anise seed, finely ground (about 2 ounces)
3½ cups sifted flour
½ teaspoon soda
6 ounces multi-colored decorettes

Cream butter until smooth and plastic. Gradually add granulated and brown sugar and continue creaming until mixture is light and fluffy. Beat in egg, molasses, milk and ground anise.

Sift flour with soda. Stir into butter mixture. Chill dough in refrigerator two to three hours.

Measure dough by teaspoons and roll into a ball. Put decorettes in sauce dish or other small container and dip each ball into decorettes so that a little more than half is covered with decorettes.

Place each cookie, plain side down, on a lightly greased baking sheet. Bake cookies in moderate ovens (375 degrees) until very lightly browned, about 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 110 cookies.



ANISE COOKIES — Anise cookies studded with bright colored sprinkles fit right in with the colorful Christmas season. They're a tempting sight spread out on the cooling rack—a gay surprise when packed in containers for gifts.

Juice-Flavored Toast

Start the morning with a special holiday breakfast, say freezer home economists. For breakfast, substitute frozen pineapple or orange juice for the milk in a French toast dip. Just beat together one-half cup juice, two eggs, and one-fourth teaspoon salt to dip six slices of bread. Dust with cinnamon-sugar before serving; then just watch them ask for more.

Only One Pan Used in Creaming Peas

Quick Creamed Peas

1 10-ounce package frozen green peas
¼ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
Milk
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
Freshly ground pepper

Put frozen peas, water and salt in saucepan—1½ quart is a good size. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, breaking up peas as they thaw. Boil gently, covered, until just tender—5 minutes.

With lid held over saucepan, drain water from peas into a measure; add enough milk to make 1 cup; return pea liquid and milk to peas in saucepan; heat.

Mix butter and flour together with back of spoon until blended; add to saucepan. Stir constantly over moderate heat until thickened and bubbly.

CRANBERRY WAFFLE CAKES — Celebrate Cranberry Festival Time with this combination of waffles, link sausages and hot cranberry sauce. It's an excellent Sunday morning suggestion or a good idea for a brunch menu.

Bright Sauce Tops Waffles

Ever thought of serving cranberries for breakfast? This is just the week to try putting this cheerful-looking fresh cranberry sauce on the table with waffles.

Chilled Orange Juice
Cranberry Waffle Cakes
Coffee Milk

Just see how easy it is to make

Cranberry Waffle Cakes

1 package waffle mix
12 pork sausage links
1 pound can whole cranberry sauce

1. Bake waffles according to directions on package.
2. Fry sausages over low heat until brown and done.
3. Heat cranberry sauce.

Place two or three link sausages over each waffle. Ladle hot cranberry sauce over top and serve immediately. Makes six servings.

Pork, Lamb and Poultry Good Buys This Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork, lamb and frying chickens will be favored features in markets across the country this weekend. You'll also find specials on selected cuts of beef.

Loins will get the top billing in the pork line. Legs of lamb will be featured widely at slightly lower prices. Beef generally is on the expensive side, but many stores have singled out one cut or another for weekend shoppers. Among them are sirloin steak, chuck roast and round roast.

Broiling and frying chickens will be on the bargain counter again, and the poultry industry fervently hopes you'll eat your share.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture figures production this year at well over a billion birds, the highest in history. And marketings in December are expected to be much heavier than a year ago.

"Low-priced, light-weight, easy-to-cook broilers and fryers can stretch the food dollar at a time when consumers need it most — after Thanksgiving and before the Christmas holidays," the USDA remarks.

Poultrymen in New York state, faced with huge supplies and unusually low prices, are asking families to eat at least two stewing chickens each before the end of the year to help them out of their financial stew.

Eggs are a problem, too. During the week, wholesale quotations in New York dropped to the lowest of the year, despite the fact that spring is the traditional time for low egg prices.

Produce men favor cabbage, potatoes, eggplant, escarole, romaine lettuce, brussels sprouts, radishes and turnips this week. And they also consider beans, cucumbers, broccoli, onions, and peppers to be worth while buys. Tomatoes, carrots and artichokes are described as moderately priced.

Hearty Beef Soup Is Supper in Itself

Here's a soup that's a meal in itself! It's tasty and hearty with beef and onion! Browning the beef gives the soup extra beef flavor.

Parmesan Beef and Onion Soup

3 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ pound ground beef
4 cups thinly sliced onions (use small onions or large ones halved)
2/3 cup uncooked white rice
3 teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
6 cups of water
Parmesan cheese

Melt the butter or margarine in a large saucepan or soup kettle. Add the ground beef and onions and cook rather quickly, stirring frequently, until the beef is very brown.

Add the rice, salt, pepper and water. Bring to a boil. Cover and simmer for 20 minutes or until the rice is tender.

Serve in a soup tureen or in individual soup bowls. Sprinkle Parmesan cheese over each serving.

Party Sandwich Fit for Gourmet

Sandwiches vary from the simple hot dog to the elegant tea sandwich. Chicken tropicale goes on the menu when you want a special star for company supper.

This open-face sandwich is in the elegant class. We think that you and your guests will agree that this is a sandwich for the gourmet.

Chicken Tropicale

2 cups chopped cooked chicken
1¼ cups condensed cream of celery soup (10½-ounce can)
½ cup milk
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ teaspoon salt
12 slices enriched toast
Butter or margarine
6 slices pineapple
1½ cups shredded American cheese (6 ounces)
½ teaspoon paprika

Combine chicken, cream of celery soup, milk, onion and salt, mixing until blended. Spread toast with butter or margarine. Arrange toast slices on baking sheet for open face sandwiches, allowing 2 slices toast for each sandwich.

Prepare Giblets Soon After Buying Turkey

Be sure to clean and cook those giblets shortly after you buy your turkey. Season the water the giblets are cooked in with salt, peppercorns, bay leaf, a whole clove or two and a little carrot, onion and celery leaves.

The giblets may be chopped fine and used in egg salad sandwiches if desired; the broth should be strained and used in gravy or sauce, or in a hearty soup.

Large kitchen tongs are handy for removing baked potatoes from the oven, turning broiled chops or chicken and lifting bacon slices from a skillet.

Powdered Cream Makes Rich Sauce

Readers who keep powdered cream on a pantry shelf for use in coffee have asked whether this new product can be used in cooking.

Creamy Cheese Sauce

4 tablespoons powdered cream
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup water
1 cup (¼ pound) grated sharp cheddar cheese
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Salt

Stir powdered cream and flour together thoroughly in 1-quart saucepan. Gradually stir in water; use a small whisk if necessary to mix smooth.

Cook and stir constantly over low heat until bubbly and thickened. Add cheese and stir until melted. Remove from heat; stir in butter and salt to taste.

Ice Cream Sparks Prune Nut Pudding

Prune Nut Pudding is a hearty dessert that is bound to please. Dress it up with ice cream and enjoy the contrast of hot and cold flavors.

Prune Nut Pudding a la Mode

2 cups all-purpose flour
¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup ground suet
½ cup chopped nuts
1½ cups chopped dried prunes
¼ cup grated orange rind
2 eggs, well beaten
1 cup milk
1 cup molasses
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Sift flour, salt and soda together. Combine remaining ingredients. Stir in flour mixture blending thoroughly.

Pour into greased 2-quart pudding mold or two 1-quart molds, cover with lid or waxed paper tied in place. Steam 1½ hours.

Pot Roast Browns Without Braising

If you want to hear one of the quickest meat-cooking tricks in town, just lend an ear. It's a trick in cooking rump roasts, those deliciously flavored beef roasts which now are on the market in such good supply.

This is a method of pot roasting in which no preliminary browning is required, yet the roast turns out well browned and deliciously juicy and tender.

Sprinkle a boned and rolled rump roast with salt and pepper; place on a rack in a roaster or Dutch oven (the heavier the utensil, the better).

Cover and place in a 300 degree oven; cook for about four hours or until the meat is tender when pierced with a fork.

Special note: No water is added at the beginning of the cooking period; this allows the meat to brown. However, it's important to watch for signs of sticking and to add water in small amounts during the last part of the cooking time.

Rock Lobster Tails Good Boiled, Broiled

Huge rock lobster tails, taken from New Zealand waters, are being split, frozen, glazed and sent to American markets.

These "splits" may be boiled and used in salads or other lobster dishes, or they may be broiled and used for individual servings. After boiling or broiling, the solid lobster meat is easily lifted from the shell.

Tuna, Scallops Easy on Budget

Canned tuna from California offers today's meal planner the chance to go epicurean without putting a dent in the family food budget. For example, tuna and scallops, California-style, served on fluffy rice will make your dinner sparkle.

This festive-looking dish doesn't require any extensive preparation, and yet it creates the impression that it does.

Tuna and Scallops, California Style

- ¼ cup butter or margarine
- ¼ cup all-purpose flour
- 2 cups milk
- ¼ cup chili sauce
- 1 teaspoon curry powder
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- 2 tablespoons chablis wine
- ½ pound scallops, cooked
- 1 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, drained
- 3 cups cooked rice

Melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and chili sauce and cook until thickened, stirring constantly.

Add curry powder, salt, pepper, wine and scallops. Break tuna into large pieces with a fork and add. Heat to serving temperature. Serve with rice. Makes 4-6 servings.

TUNA AND SCALLOPS—Canned tuna is a versatile food and goes well with other flavors. This dish uses cooked scallops and tuna and serves them in a tangy sauce spiced with curry and wine. Rice is the perfect accompanying dish.

Bake Limas in Sauce

A casserole of dried lima beans and tomato sauce tastes wonderful with boiled or grilled frankfurters. Nice change, too, from the mashed potatoes that usually accompany frankfurters!

Be fussy about your bread box! Occasionally wash it thoroughly with hot sudsy water; rinse with boiling water, dry well with a towel, then if possible air it in the sunshine.

Instant Dry Milk Means New Kitchen Convenience

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

With Thanksgiving behind us and Christmas just three weeks away we're all caught up in a multitude of activities. Still, I hope you have a few minutes to read about some new things in the food world.

First of all, I'm sure that if you use dry skim milk at all, you are using the new instant kind. It needs only a spoon for mixing and may be prepared with ice water for immediate drinking.

One company even puts out a package containing three foil envelopes, each one with enough milk powder for one quart. Be sure to follow package directions for this new type of dry milk.

From time to time I get samples of new food products. The very newest one is a prepared pineapple filling all ready to put into a pie crust and bake. Put out by a famous pineapple company, it is a combination of pineapple, water, sugar, corn syrup and flavoring.

It may also be used for cake filling or as a sauce on ham, cake or pudding. I, for one, am anxious to try my sample can.

In the same mail came a bottle of a savory sauce, a new creation of an old American firm that specializes in 57 varieties.

From the publicity material accompanying the sauce I quote, "... an exotic new fruit-and-spice sauce for meat, fish, poultry and eggs, now being sold for the first time in the American market. ... Use it as a pour-on sauce or as an ingredient in curries, pilau, salad dressings, gravies, etc." I tasted a bit and found it pleasingly tart.

I don't know about you, but our family is going to eat turkey many times in the coming months. Never since depression days do I remember turkeys for such low prices. I'm going to keep some in my freezer all the time and try out all these interesting turkey recipes I've been printing lately.

My last news is about a new book, "What's Cooking", by Jane Kirk (Fleming H. Revell Company, $3.95). I'm interested in this book for two reasons.

One, it is the first book of its kind to present menus and recipes for food served by church groups or other organizations. Most large quantity cookbooks have been slanted toward the restaurant or institutional fields. This one is wonderfully complete.

I commend especially to your study the chapter on luncheons and the excellent suggestions therein. They are very practical sounding.

The second reason I'm interested in the book is that Jane Kirk and I went to school together for several years. It's always a thrill to know the author of a book—I know so few of them.

As a wife and mother, Jane Kirk has had practical experience in the homemaking field and in church and PTA organizations. She edits the woman's section of the Christian Herald magazine and is also the author of that unusual little volume called, "Projects That Pay."

*Caused by a lack of certain food elements essential to normal growth and health.

UNLIKE PEOPLE, your dog can't tell you when his vitality is running low. Unknown to you, the food you are giving him may lack essential food elements he needs for normal growth and health.

IN DOG FOOD, as in everything else, you get what you pay for... no more. Cut-rate brands are no bargain. You may think you are saving a few pennies a day, but these foods cannot possibly give your dog Friskies protection against "Hidden Hunger."

FRISKIES provides your dog with every known food element he needs. Friskies gives him rich, red horse meat, from choice steaks, chops and roasts. Every ingredient is certified by U. S. Government meat and food inspectors. The Government seal on the can guarantees this.

CONSIDER FOR A MOMENT, isn't your dog's love and affection worth the extra protection you give him when you feed Friskies? It's the "table-quality" dog food that's backed by over 50 years' experience in animal nutrition.

Add Prune Cake to Yule Menu

Holiday cakes, cookies and bread made with dried fruit are tasty companions for the turkey, suggest Mrs. Jessie Cartwright, director of a Chicago home institute.

She says supplies of dates and prunes are larger this year than usual, and big supplies usually mean lower prices.

California Prune Cake

1-3 cup butter
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
2 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup sweet milk

Cream the butter. Add the sugar gradually and continue creaming until the mixture is light and fluffy. Beat the eggs until they are foamy. Add them to the creamed mixture and beat thoroughly. Sift the flour with the other dry ingredients.

Add the flour mixture alternately with the milk to the creamed mixture combining the ingredients thoroughly. Fold in the prunes and bake in a loaf pan 50 minutes at 350 degrees.

When the cake is cool, cover it with a butter icing made of 4 tablespoons of butter, 2 cups of confectioner's sugar, 1 teaspoon of vanilla and 3 tablespoons of cream.

To prepare the icing, cream the butter, add sugar, and cream thoroughly. Then add the vanilla. Stir in a small amount of cream at a time until the mixture is the desired consistency for spreading.

Macaroni, Ham, Cheese Teamed in Golden Souffle

Macaroni and Ham Souffle

1 tablespoon salt
2 quarts boiling water
4 ounces (2 cups) elbow macaroni
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup flour
1½ cups milk
¼ pound cheddar cheese (grated)
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
½ teaspoon tabasco sauce
½ pound cooked, finely chopped ham
4 eggs (separated)
Dash salt

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender. Drain in colander.

Meanwhile melt butter and blend in flour, add milk and cook and stir constantly over low heat until thickened.

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; fold into macaroni mixture.

Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven one hour, or until souffle is browned and firm. Makes four to six servings.

For Better Blending

Electric blender rule: Cut raw vegetables and fruits into small pieces before putting them into the blender container. If you are planning to liquefy the vegetables and fruits make sure you add enough liquid to the blender container to cover the agitator blades.

ITALIAN VEAL CUTLETS—The secret of the delicious flavor of these cutlets lies in the tender crisp coating made with crumbled cheese crackers. They are baked in a spicy tomato sauce and topped with slices of Mozzarella cheese.

Fix Veal Cutlets the Italian Way

Veal is in relatively plentiful supply which means this is an excellent time to prepare veal cutlets for dinner some night.

Serve the cutlets with their traditional accompaniments of Mozzarella cheese and tomato sauce. To complete the meal have macaroni, a tossed salad and a continental dessert of fruit, cheese and crackers.

Veal Cutlets Italian-Style

1 small onion, chopped
2 cloves garlic, chopped
3 tablespoons olive oil
2 cans tomato sauce
½ teaspoon sweet basil
¼ teaspoon salt
1 large egg
2 tablespoons water
1 pound veal cutlet, pounded thin
Cheese crackers, rolled fine
Mozzarella cheese

Saute onion and garlic in oil until golden. Add tomato sauce, basil and salt. Simmer 30 minutes. Combine egg and water. Coat veal cutlet with cheese cracker crumbs, dip in egg-water mixture, coat again with crumbs.

Fry in hot fat until golden brown. Pour sauce in baking dish. Top with cutlets and slices of Mozzarella cheese.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 10 minutes or until cheese melts. Serves five to six.

Chocolate and Mint Combined in Filling

Chocolate Peppermint Cookie

1 6-ounce package semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 tablespoon shortening
1-3 cup undiluted evaporated milk
1 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
¼ teaspoon peppermint flavoring
Sugar cookies

Melt chocolate and shortening over hot (not boiling) water. Remove from heat; stir in evaporated milk and sugar; beat with spoon until smooth.

Fluffy, Golden Meringue Isn't Difficult to Produce

This is a special pie because there's no cooking to speak of—just enough to brown the meringue top. Easy enough for any teenager to fix, delicious enough to keep this recipe on file for year-round use.

When your egg whites are stiff and glossy—not dry, remember—add your sugar, but gradually. By beating the sugar in slowly you make sure that it is thoroughly dissolved. It's undissolved sugar in meringue that gives it the "weepy" look.

Spread your meringue right to the edge of the pie, then it won't shrink. Finally, beat your egg whites, whether for meringue, cakes or frosting, just before you use them. It's when beaten egg whites are allowed to stand that those delicate air cells break down, and you end up with a sad-looking dish.

Meringue is really not a bit temperamental if you remember these simple do's and don'ts.

Refrigerator Lemon Meringue Pie

4 cups cornflakes
¼ cup sugar
5 tablespoons melted butter or margarine

Roll or crush cornflakes on baking board. Combine with sugar. Add melted butter or margarine and blend well.

Lemon Filling

½ cup fresh-frozen lemon-ade (undiluted)
1 can sweetened condensed milk
3 egg yolks

Add fresh-frozen, undiluted lemonade slowly to the sweetened condensed milk, stirring constantly. Add egg yolks and blend well. Pour mixture into prepared pie shell.

Cover with meringue and bake in moderate oven (350) 10 minutes or until top is golden brown. Chill in refrigerator at least three hours before serving.

Meringue

2 egg whites
¼ teaspoon cream of tartar
4 tablespoons sugar

Beat egg whites until frothy. Add cream of tartar and continue to beat until stiff and glossy, but not dry. Add sugar, 1 tablespoon at a time, beating after each addition.

Spread meringue evenly over surface of pie, taking care to spread it with spatula right to edge of pie. Bake in moderate oven (350) 10-15 minutes to brown lightly. Chill before serving.

New trick: Use buttermilk in place of the milk or water called for in the package directions when you are baking a white cake.

Pineapple Treat Tops Off Meal

A bright finale for hearty meals is this refreshing Pineapple Mousse. Bits of golden pineapple enhance the flavor, color and texture of this smooth molded dessert.

It requires few ingredients and can be made well in advance of serving time.

Pineapple Mousse

1 cup (No. 1 flat can) crushed pineapple (do not drain)
1-3 cup sugar
1 tablespoon gelatin
¼ cup pineapple juice
2 eggs
Dash of salt

Heat crushed pineapple with sugar. Soften gelatin in pineapple juice and add to heated pineapple and sugar. Cook on low heat until sugar and gelatin are dissolved.

Add beaten egg yolks, first pouring some of the hot mixture over the yolks to blend. Cook on low heat, stirring, until thin portion of mixture coats spoon. Cool. (To hasten cooling, set pan in bowl of ice cubes.)

Add salt to egg whites and beat until stiff, but not dry. Then, add to cooled mixture. Turn into a ring or fancy mold and chill until firm.

Unmold on platter and garnish with mint leaves at one end. If desired, dip pineapple chunks in creme de menthe (or green coloring) and place around mold.

Dry Milk Is Nutritious

Protein is obtainable from many foods, but the most economical concentrated source is nonfat dry milk solids. Calcium and riboflavin are harder to get from other foods, and here again, nonfat dry milk is the most economical, concentrated source of these nutrients.

Fashion a Jelly-Go-Round of Bread, Chicken and Jam

Keeping ahead of your gregarious menfolk, with their "short-notice" guests, needn't take too much conniving.

One way is to make use of the corner grocery and stock up with tumblers of jams, jellies and preserves. For, out of these jars come quick ideas and wonderful flavor combinations.

Just suppose your guests are on the way over. You take a look at your refrigerator. Currant jelly does wonders in perking up left-over chicken salad. And, it's a natural for cottage cheese.

Jelly-Go-Round

1 six-inch round loaf of rye, white or whole wheat bread
Butter or margarine
2 cups seasoned creamed cottage cheese
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 cup currant jelly
¾ cup chicken salad

Cut hard crusts from top and bottom of bread. Cut trimmed loaf crosswise into four slices, one slice for each jelly-go-round circle. Spread top of each cut slice with softened butter or margarine.

Combine cottage cheese and parsley; mix thoroughly. Starting from the outer edge of bread circle, spread about a one and one-fourth inch ring of cottage cheese mixture around outside of each slice. Next a narrow ring of currant jelly, then a slightly wider ring of chicken salad. Fill center with currant jelly.

Cut into pie shaped wedges to serve. The amounts of ingredients listed above will be enough to spread four slices. (About 20 wedges.)

As a garnish for each serving, make vegetable flowers out of carrot slices. Slice carrots crosswise . . . cut the slices very thin. Pierce center with a toothpick and on the end of the pick add an olive or pickle to resemble the center of a flower.

If you are partial to baked apples that hold their shape, choose Rome Beauties.

Perk Up Pork Chops

A perk-up touch for pork chops is to cook them in tomato juice. Brown four chops (about 1 pound) on both sides in a skillet. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Then add one-half cup of rice, a sliced medium onion and abut 2 cups of tomato juice (13½-ounce can).

Cover pan and simmer about one-half hour or until eat is done and tender. Makes four servings.

AMERICA'S LARGEST SELLING SUGARS

Aspic Sparked by Blue Cheese

Unexpected combinations of food are intriguing. Take fried chicken in a basket . . . a checked-tablecloth type of meal. Who would imagine it served with American blue cheese, generally considered the finale to a fine silver-and-candlelight type of meal.

Yet the two get along together as compatibly as Mutt and Jeff, with the subtly sharp flavor of the cheese complementing the bland flavor of the chicken.

From the point of view of appearance, they're compatible too . . . the crispness and gold of the chicken, a pleasing contrast to the mottled blue veins which marle through the creamy, crumbly white of the cheese.

BLUE CHEESE TOMATO ASPIC—A touch of elegance for that homey, chicken-in-the-basket dinner comes in the form of an American blue cheese tomato Aspic. It's certain to be a duplicated salad in your repertoire.

Blue Cheese Tomato Aspic

3 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1½ cup cold water
4 cups tomato juice
½ cup minced onions
1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 4 ounces cheese)

Soften gelatin in cold water. Combine tomato juice, onions, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper. Cook over medium heat until mixture boils.

Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in one-half cup cheese. Pour into a 5-cup mold. Chill until firm.

Unmold and garnish top of mold with remaining cheese. Surround with crisp salad greens, if desired. Makes six servings.

Now's the Time to Bake and Age Yule Fruitcakes

No matter how early the stores display their exciting array of gifts, Christmas never really begins until it's fruitcake time in the kitchen. And it's about that time as of now for homemakers who like to age their luscious cakes before the holidays.

Rich with fruits, spices, nuts and port, this fruitcake tastes especially good when served with small glasses of dessert wine.

Port Wine-Pineapple Fruit Cake

2 cups (16 ounce package) mixed candied fruits
2 cups seedless raisins
1 cup chopped dates
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 (No. 2) can crisp cut crushed pineapple, drained
1 cup port wine
¾ cup shortening
1 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
¼ teaspoon cloves
4 eggs, well beaten
2½ cups sifted all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1½ teaspoons baking soda
1 teaspoon salt

In a large bowl mix together the candied fruits, raisins, dates, nuts and pineapple. Pour wine over fruits and set aside while preparing remaining ingredients, stirring occasionally.

Cream the shortening, brown sugar and spices until light and fluffy. Blend in the beaten eggs. Sift dry ingredients together and add to spice mixture. Add the fruits and wine and stir until well distributed.

Grease and flour two bread-loaf pans, 9 x 5 x 3 inches, and divide batter equally between the two pans.

Bake in a slow oven (300 degree) for two hours (or until toothpick inserted in center of loaf comes out clean).

Remove from pans and cool thoroughly. Wrap in a cloth moistened with brandy, then in heavy waxed paper or foil.

Store in covered container or in a cool place for at least one week before cutting. Makes two loaves.

Fresh apples are a basic food in reducing diets because the fruit is low in fats, low in calories yet supplies the important protective minerals and vitamins.

Peanut Brittle, Wine Vary Holiday Pie

Pumpkin Chiffon Peanut Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup sherry wine
3 eggs, separated
1 cup canned pumpkin
½ cup milk
½ cup (firmly packed) brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
Dash of salt
1½ cups crushed peanut brittle
1 (9-inch) baked pie shell
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Soften gelatin in the wine. Beat egg yolks slightly in top of a double boiler; stir in pumpkin, milk, brown sugar, spices and salt; cook, stirring, over boiling water for five minutes.

Remove from water. Add softened gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool, then chill. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in stiffly beaten egg whites and 1 cup of the peanut brittle. Pour into pie shell.

Parsley, Cheese Vary Flavor of Cornbread

Give a new taste to cornbread—but be sure you use a recipe for the southern kind of cornbread that is made without sugar. Add lots of minced parsley to the batter, then when you have turned it into the pan, sprinkle the top with grated Parmesan cheese.

Use a kitchen scissors to cut the parsley fine, or chop it on a board with a cook's knife.

Use a wide pan when you are cooking more than one package of frozen vegetables that come in "blocks" so you won't have to stack them

Soup Flavored by Tuna, Onions

What could be more appetizing or mouth-watering than a big bowl of piping hot soup rich with the flavors of tuna and onion?

Throughout the ages soup has been a welcome treat — its warming quality sets the pace for a thoroughly enjoyable meal.

We suggest you try this unusual recipe for Tuna Onion Soup. It's hearty enough to serve for Sunday night supper or for an informal meal when friends drop in.

You'll find that the tuna makes an old favorite twice as good. Just watch everyone come back for second helpings.

Tuna Onion Soup

¼ cup butter or margarine
10 medium-sized onions, thinly sliced
2 cups hot water
1½ quarts brown beef stock or bouillon
1 teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 7-ounce cans solid-pack tuna, drained

Melt butter or margarine over low heat. Add onions and cook until soft. Add water, stock or bouillon, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Cover and cook over low heat, 1 hour.

Break tuna into large pieces with a fork and add to soup. Cook 15 minutes longer. Serve with grated Parmesan cheese, if desired. Makes about 2 quarts.

Small Turkeys Ideal for Family of 2 to 4

Turkeys today certainly prove the famous slogan, "Give the lady what she wants." For the family of two to four, there's a new 8-pound turkey that has been "small-grown" with a large proportion of meat to bone. What a joy for the small family!

These meaty little birds require a special roasting schedule because of the plumpness of the breast and the large amount of sliceable meat. These turkeys will require longer roasting time per pound of bird than the regular turkeys.

RAISIN PECAN TIMBALES—Here is a dessert that's easy to make, chockful of goodness, and sure to please all members of the family. Cooked rice is combined with raisins, nuts and whipping cream. Molding the timbales takes just a few minutes.

Spoon Hot Lemon Sauce on Raisin-Pecan Timbales

Raisin-Pecan Timbales

2 cups water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup uncooked white rice
⅓ cup sugar
½ cup cooked raisins
½ cup coarsely chopped toasted pecans
½ pt. (1 cup) chilled whipping cream
½ teaspoon vanilla

Put the water, salt and rice into a 2-quart saucepan and bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and leave over this low heat for 14 minutes.

Turn the heat off. Leave lid on for 10 minutes. Stir the sugar into the hot rice. Chill the rice.

Fold in the raisins and the pecans. It is important that the pecans are toasted. Do this by placing the pecans on a greased shallow pan in a 350 degree oven for 10 minutes, or until browned.

Whip the cream and stir in the vanilla. Fold the whipped cream into the chilled rice mixture.

Use a wet custard cup for molding the timbales. Press the rice into the custard cup and then unmold by running a knife around the edge of the custard cup and shaking out the timbale.

Cover and store in the refrigerator until time to serve. To serve, garnish the top of each timbale with a toasted pecan and serve with the hot lemon sauce. This recipe makes six timbales if a custard cup holding two-thirds of a cup is used for molding.

Hot Lemon Sauce

1 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups boiling water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Mix together the sugar, cornstarch and salt in a saucepan. Slowly stir in the boiling water. Cook over a medium heat stirring constantly, until clear and thick.

Stir in the lemon juice and lemon rind. If desired, color with yellow food coloring. Serve hot over the Raisin-Pecan Timbales.

GIFT COFFEE CAKE—Gaily wrapped, homemade coffee cakes with luscious fillings make welcome gifts for Christmas, New Year—any special day. If you have a freezer, make them early, freeze them, then frost and decorate when you're ready to give or use them.

Homemade Coffee Cake Fills Bill for Yule Giving

At Christmastime and any gift-time, homemade coffee cakes are welcome gifts. No gift speaks more personally than the one you make yourself—and there is an endless variety of luscious fillings, shapes and decorations to distinguish your thoughtful gift.

The basic recipe given here is made with nonfat dry milk solids. You will note the nonfat dry milk is sifted with the other ingredients. It makes doughs easier to handle, improves their texture and flavor, gives them a beautiful brown color, and keeps the resulting product fresh longer.

Recipes for two fillings are given—the Fruited Rum is esepcially suitable for Christmas and New Year holiday giving, though it and the Apricot-Walnut-Date are good at any season.

Wrap your gift gaily. We wrapped this one in cellophane to give a hint of the beauty and goodness of the gift enclosed.

Basic Sweet Dough

1 cup boiling water
½ cup butter
2 cakes compressed yeast or 2 packages dry yeast
½ cup sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
2 well-beaten eggs
½ cup nonfat dry milk solids
5-6 cups all purpose flour

Apricot-Walnut-Date Filling

½ cup apricot jam
½ cup walnuts, coarsely chopped
½ cup dates, coarsely chopped

Fruited Rum Filling

1 teaspoon rum flavoring
½ cup white raisins
½ cup citron, shredded
½ cup candied cherries
½ cup Brazil nuts, shredded
½ cup powdered sugar
½ egg, beaten
2 tablespoons cream

Pour boiling water into a 5-quart bowl. Add butter. When lukewarm crumble yeast into bowl. Let stand until softened (about one minute). Add sugar, salt and eggs.

Sift nonfat dry milk solids with 2 cups of flour. Add to first mixture. Beat well. Add remaining flour gradually, until the dough is stiff enough to handle.

Knead gently on a well-floured pastry cloth until smooth. Place in a buttered bowl. Cover with waxed paper and towel. Let rise in a warm place until double in bulk (about 40 minutes). Punch down and let rest about 10 minutes.

Roll dough into a 9x18-inch sheet one-fourth inch thick. Brush with melted butter.

Combine ingredients for filling. Spread filling lengthwise down middle third of dough. Cut the two outer thirds, at right angles, up to the filling, into 18 1-inch strips. Alternate strips diagonally over filling.

Bring two ends together to form into a ring, or form into a crescent. Place on a greased cookie sheet. Brush with melted butter. Let rise until double in bulk.

Bake at 375 degrees for 25-30 minutes. Frost when slightly cooled and decorate, if desired.

Beef, Tomato Blend in Spaghetti Sauce

Skillet Tomato-Beef Sauce

3 tablespoons olive or peanut oil
1 cup finely diced onion
½ cup finely diced green pepper
1 pound ground beef chuck
1 can (1 pound and 12 ounces) tomato puree
2 large cloves garlic (peeled and crushed)
1½ teaspoons dry coarsely crumbled oregano
½ teaspoon dry, coarsely crumbled basil
½ teaspoon brown gravy coloring sauce
Salt and pepper

Heat oil in 12-inch skillet; add onion, green pepper and ground beef. Mash beef with long-handled two-tined fork until it loses its red color.

Add tomato puree, garlic, oregano, basil, gravy coloring and salt and pepper to taste.

Custard Makes Nutrition a Joy

The family will literally enjoy nutrition when you serve them a new frozen custard recipe made with economical nonfat dry milk.

It's a delicious way to get those important milk nutrients contained in nonfat dry milk—protein, calcium, riboflavin and lactose—into the family diet.

Nonfat dry milk, which is most inexpensive, comes in a 1-pound package, which makes five full quarts of dairy sweet nonfat milk for a little as eight cents a quart. It will keep in this package with its protective foil lining on a cool, dry, shelf almost indefinitely.

Nonfat dry milk also is sold at the grocer's in a pre-measured package which contains three foil-lined envelopes, each of which will make 1 quart of nonfat milk.

Frozen Vanilla Custard

2 cups water
⅓ cup nonfat dry milk
¼ teaspoon salt
⅓ cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
2 teaspoons vanilla

Set refrigerator control at coldest point. Pour 2 cups water into top of double boiler. Sprinkle nonfat dry milk powder, salt and one-half cup sugar over surface of water; beat with rotary beater until smooth. Stir in beaten eggs.

Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture has slightly thickened. Cool. Add 2 teaspoons vanilla. Pour mixture into refrigerator tray and freeze until almost firm, about one to two hours.

Pour one-third cup water into 1-quart bowl. Sprinkle one-third cup nonfat dry milk powder over surface of water; beat with rotary beater or electric mixer until stiff, about 8 to 10 minutes. Blend in 2 tablespoons sugar and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Turn custard mixture into bowl and beat until free from lumps. Fold whipped nonfat dry milk into custard. Freeze until firm, about two hours. Serves four to six.

Chocolate Frozen Custard

Increase one-half cup sugar to three-fourths cup. Add two (1-ounce) squares shaved unsweetened chocolate before stirring in beaten eggs. Follow as directed above.

Have Large Scallops

Frying scallops to serve with French-fried potatoes, tartar sauce and cole slaw? If the scallops are large, cut each one in half. Roll the scallops in a mixture of beaten egg and a little milk, then in fine dry bread crumbs before frying golden-brown in deep fat.

Serve Pear Sundae

Here's a new kind of ice cream sundae. Peel, halve and core a fresh pear; fill each pear cavity with a small scoop of vanilla ice cream and top with chocolate sauce.

Sauces Should Bring Out Full Flavor of Puddings

Pontiac Press Food Editor

For the past several weeks we have printed a number of recipes for hearty puddings. They seem to be an essential part of the holiday season.

Most pudding recipes end with these words, "Serve with your favorite sauce." And there they often stop. We are about to remedy that lack of good dessert sauce recipes with this article.

Irma S. Rombauer in her excellent cookbook, "The Joy of Cooking," has this to say about pudding sauces:

"A sauce should complement a pudding. If a pudding is acid, serve a bland sauce; if a pudding is bland, serve a sauce with character; and if a pudding is rich, shun whipped cream and try a fruit sauce. The success of the pudding with sauce will depend upon your sense of discrimination."

For holiday puddings the obvious sauce is Hard Sauce. It may be given different flavors, but its basis is always the same. Stated simply, it calls for one-half cup butter with as much confectioner's sugar beaten into it as it will hold. Flavor as desired. You may even use brown sugar.

To be really hard sauce it should be chilled so that when it is put on the pudding it will hold its shape. There is something indescribably delicious about that combination of icy sauce and hot pudding. Cut sauce into fancy shapes with cookie cutters if you like.

A quick sauce that is exceptionally good on fruit cobblers or dumplings is this one. The spices blend well with the fruit.

Timesaver Sauce

1½ cups light cream
4 teaspoons sugar
¼ teaspoon vanilla
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅛ teaspoon cloves

Another sauce that needs some cooking is Foamy Sauce. It may be served hot or cold.

Foamy Sauce

1 cup confectioner's sugar
½ cup butter or margarine
1 egg, separated
1 teaspoon vanilla or 2 tablespoons wine
¼ teaspoon salt

Sift sugar, beat butter or margarine and add sugar. Beat until well blended. Beat in egg yolk and vanilla or wine. Place over hot water.

Beat and cook until yolk has thickened slightly. Fold stiffly beaten egg white and salt into cooked mixture. Makes about 2 cupfuls.

Apricot Sauce

½ pound dried apricots
¼ cup sugar
1 stick cinnamon
Juice and grated rind of 1 lemon

Wash apricots, soak them in 3 cups water until softened, add rest of ingredients. Cook slowly until the apricots are soft, then press through a sieve. Serve hot or cold over baked or steamed pudding.

Slowly Beat In Sugar

If you beat in sugar a little at a time, when you are making a meringue, the sugar will have its best chance of dissolving. When the sugar dissolves in the egg whites in this way, the meringue is creamy, airy and holds up well.

Simply Amazing...
CHOCOLATE-MOCHA CREAM

There's no end to the exciting desserts you can make with Amazo—the only basic instant dessert. Others will "set" only when mixed with milk.

But magic Amazo sets instantly with ANY liquid—fruit juice or coffee, for instance. Try...

AMAZO CHOCOLATE-MOCHA CREAM: Combine in deep bowl 1 cup cold milk and 1 cup cold strong coffee. Add 1 pkg. Chocolate Amazo*. Whip 30 seconds with rotary beater and it's ready to serve!

*Be sure to use Amazo. So-called instant puddings will not work in this recipe.

VANILLA, CHOCOLATE, BUTTERSCOTCH

Cook Beans in Shortening For Tender-Crisp Texture

This interesting way of cooking green beans and tomatoes is just one example of a new time-saving method of cooking vegetables developed in a famous test kitchen.

The vegetables are cooked with a little shortening in a very small amount of water for as short a time as is required to give a tender-crisp texture.

The advantages of the method are many. The vegetables cooked this way have an attractive, bright color—the natural color of the vegetables is not faded by a large amount of liquid or long cooking. Brief cooking in a minimum of liquid also gives the vegetables a tender crispness and "garden-fresh" natural flavor.

Panned Beans and Tomatoes

1½ pounds fresh green beans
2 tablespoons vegetable shortening
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
½ cup water
2 tomatoes

Wash beans; cut in thin lengthwise strips or in crosswise 1" pieces. Melt shortening in heavy skillet or saucepan. Add beans, salt, pepper and water and mix lightly together. Cover and cook over medium heat 13 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove skins from tomatoes, cut in half and lay on top of beans, cover and cook 5 minutes longer, or until beans are tender-crisp. Makes 4 servings.

Spark Baked Fruits

Baked apples and baked pears take on new dessert interest when served with a sauce made from a package of lemon pie-and-pudding filling mix. Or, if you prefer, serve the fruit with a soft custard sauce.

Treat Teeners to Slumgullion

When your teenager wants to have the gang in for a supper party, serve them Slumgullion. You will probably have to double the recipe if the guests have the appetites most youngsters this age do.

Slumgullion

4 slices bacon, diced
1 medium-sized onion, sliced thin
1 medium-sized green pepper, cut in small pieces
1 pound lean boneless chuck beef, cut in 1-inch cubes
1 teaspoon salt
3½ cups canned tomatoes
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
¼ pound processed American cheese, shredded (about 1 cup)
4 to 6 hamburger rolls

In a large, heavy skillet, combine bacon, onion, green pepper, beef and salt. Cook over moderate heat about 10 minutes, or until mixture begins to turn brown, stirring occasionally.

Cook over low heat 45 to 50 minutes, or until beef is tender; stir occasionally. If mixture becomes too thick, stir in a little lukewarm water.

To serve, cut rolls in halves and toast cut sides. Arrange two halves on each plate, toasted sides up. Then pour piping-hot slumgullion over them. Serve immediately. Makes 4-6 servings.

Chili Meatballs Conceal Chunks of Sharp Cheese

Braised Chili Meatballs

1 pound ground beef
1 teaspoon salt
1-16 teaspoon garlic powder
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 egg (slightly beaten)
8 one-inch cubes sharp American cheese
1 tablespoon shortening
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
Tomato juice

Mix beef, salt, garlic powder, chili powder and egg. Shape into eight balls, each around a cube of cheese.

Simmer 10 minutes; the cheese in the center of the balls will melt and some of it will ooze out.

To make gravy, if desired, pour the drippings in the pan after the meatballs are cooked into a measure and add enough tomato juice to make 1 cup. Return to skillet while keeping meatballs warm.

Yuletide Popcorn Balls Coated With Chocolate

No Christmas stocking is complete without a tasty chocolate-coated popcorn ball. Here's a sure-to-please recipe from freezer home economists.

Mix 1 cup sugar, ½ cup water, ½ cup white corn syrup, 3 tablespoons butter and 3 squares chocolate. Cook to hard ball stage (254 degrees). Pour over 4 quarts freshly popped corn and mix quickly.

Butter hands and shape into balls. Then store in freezer till needed.

DOUBLE STRENGTH

Muffins Glorify Simple Supper

So you've prepared a meat loaf in the morning and plan to serve it cold with a fresh vegetable casserole for dinner.

Suddenly your cousins from the next county phone that they're stopping by late in the afternoon. Naturally you invite them to stay for the evening meal.

Then, for the "company touch", the quick trick that will turn what you'd planned for just the family into enough more to include a couple of guests, you know there's nothing like a pan of hot, mouth-melting muffins.

Cheese Muffins

2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
1 cup milk
¼ cup (½ pint) margarine, melted
½ cup grated American cheese

Preheat oven to 425 (hot). Sift flour, baking powder, salt and sugar into a bowl. Beat egg until very light. Add milk and melted margarine and blend thoroughly.

Make a well in the middle of flour mixture and pour in egg mixture all at once. Gently combine flour and liquid until all flour has been moistened, then stop. Do not beat.

Drop a generous teaspoon of batter into greased muffin tins, sprinkle with one half the cheese. Top with remaining batter and rest of cheese. Bake 15 to 20 minutes.

Serve hot. Yield: 10 large or 12 medium muffins.

2 Soups Combined in Oyster Chowder

You've heard of corn chowder, and you've heard of oyster stew. Now comes a recipe that combines the best features of both. This recipe has its place for any number of meals.

Oyster Chowder

4 tablespoons butter
½ cup finely diced onion
5 cups milk, scalded
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
Dash cayenne
2 cups cooked diced potatoes
1 2-3 cups cooked whole kernel corn
1 cup raw oysters
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Fry onions in 2 tablespoons melted butter, over low heat, until tender. Add hot milk, seasonings, potatoes and corn.

Heat remaining 2 tablespoons butter; add oysters and Worcestershire sauce and simmer until edges of oysters begin to curl. Add to corn chowder. Serves six.

TURKEY IN THE STRAW—Colorful as Christmas, this appetizing casserole combines leftover turkey and fine egg noodles with asparagus, cheese and minced pimientos. Mugs of apple cider and a bowl of fruit and nuts complete the hearty meal.

Tired of Eating Leftovers? Try 'Turkey in the Straw'

Thanksgiving and Christmas come and go, but the traditional turkey seems to go on forever, unless you know plenty of appetizing ways of using it up.

Children, especially, get tired of eating the same food but they'll really go for this tempting Turkey in the Straw, combining leftover turkey and tender fine egg noodles.

For extending leftover meats, poultry and vegetables there's nothing to beat economical macaroni products. They're easy to prepare and mix well with almost any other food.

Turkey in the Straw

1 tablespoon salt
3 quarts boiling water
8 ounces fine egg noodles (about 4 cups)
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1½ tablespoons all-purpose flour
1½ cups milk
2 cups grated processed Cheddar cheese
2 canned pimientos, minced
1½ cups diced, cooked turkey
1 10-ounce package frozen asparagus, thawed and diced
Salt and pepper to taste

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add noodles so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

Melt butter or margarine and blend in flour. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Add cheese and stir until cheese is melted.

Add remaining ingredients and mix well. Turn into center of casserole. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes. Makes four to six servings.

Treat Cauliflower Graciously, Gently

Cauliflower is the belle of fall and winter vegetables. So treat is graciously. The first rule is to avoid overcooking.

Escalloped Cauliflower

1 medium-size cauliflower
½ cup sharp grated cheese (the sharper the better)
1 cup medium white sauce
½ cup bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Drain the cauliflower and place in a casserole. Stir grated cheese into the white sauce and pour this mixture over the cauliflower.

Sprinkle crumbs over top and bake at 350 degrees (moderate oven) for 20 minutes, or until the crumbs are brown.

Muffins Delicious With Main Course

Cranberry Orange Muffins

1 egg
1 cup milk
2 cups pancake mix
¾ cup canned whole cranberry sauce
Grated rind of ½ large orange (1 tablespoon)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine (melted).

Fill small buttered muffin cups (about 2 inches across top) about three-fourths full. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center of muffin comes out clean.

Sweet Potatoes Contain Pots of Gold, Healthwise

A pot of gold is hidden under the whitish or red-colored skin of the sweet potato. From each pound the homemaker can expect four servings for her family.

A wealth of food value is stored in one medium sweet potato. Ten per cent of the iron, thiamine and niacin; 30 per cent of the vitamin C, and 50 per cent or more of the vitamin A needed each day can be found in one such sweet potato.

Best quality is usually found by choosing medium size with tapering ends. Thick, firm, well-shaped, smooth and unscarred sweet potatoes are other guides to look for when choosing quality.

At home, keep the sweet potato in a cool dry room not below 55 degrees F. Hot sunlight and high temperatures hasten spoilage. Frequent buying is much better than stocking large quantities. Handle carefully, since they bruise easily.

Most sweet potatoes in the United States are grown in Louisiana; however, a few are shipped into Michigan from New Jersey, Indiana and Virginia. Those in the stores now are mostly the Puerto Rico variety, from Louisiana.

There are two types of sweet potatoes: Those having dry, somewhat mealy flesh when cooked, and those having a moist flesh and high sugar content. The latter ones are commonly, but incorrectly, called yams.

For almost 300 years sweet potatoes have been grown in the United States. For that same length of time, they've been baked, candied, boiled, broiled, mashed and roasted in the meat pan.

Sweet potatoes are favorites with ham, chicken, fresh pork and duck. Other popular allied foods are marshmallows, brown sugar, butter, apples, cabbage, green peas and nutmeg. Enough to stir imagination?

Sweet Potatoes and Apricots

2 pounds of peeled, cooked sweet potatoes
1 cup drained, cooked, dried apricots
1 cup brown sugar, packed
⅓ cup melted butter or margarine
⅓ cup liquid drained from apricots
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ cup chopped walnuts

Heat the oven to 375 degrees. Cut the potatoes into six pieces and arrange a layer of potatoes in a greased 10x6x2-inch baking dish. Cover with a layer of apricots and spread with brown sugar. Repeat layers.

Combine butter, apricot liquid and orange rind, and pour over potatoes and apricots. Bake for 45 minutes, basting once or twice with the liquid in the bottom of the dish. Top with nuts in the last five minutes. Serves eight.

Color Pineapple Rims

Pineapple garnish: You'll draw many compliments from family or guests if you edge pineapple slices or half slices with color to garnish a platter of turkey, baked ham, meat loaf, etc. Just roll edges in paprika or in finely chopped parsley — or do some each way, and arrange alternately.

Fruitcake Snacks Easy, Glamorous

When guests drop in to share your holiday hospitality, offer them glamorous fruitcake appetizers, made the easy way.

Start with fruitcake slices from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. Cut slices crosswise into strips about 1 inch wide. Spread with softened cream cheese or a fruit-flavored cream cheese spread.

Garnish with bits of red and green cherries—a slice of one color cherry in the center, and slices of the other color in the four corners. You'll think of many interesting ways to arrange the cherry bits on the cream cheese to make your tray sparkle with color.

Gay Cake Fits Holiday Mood

Christmas is always a busy time—so much to do and so much to see. Chief among things to do seems to be preparing and enjoying holiday foods.

Cherry Meringue Cake

Filling:
- ¾ cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 can (16 oz.) red tart pitted cherries
- ½ cup juice drained from cherries
- ½ cup water

Meringue:
- 1 egg white
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- Dash of salt

Bake a one-layer cake and allow to cool in baking dish. To prepare filling, mix together sugar and flour. Add cherry juice and water, stirring until well blended.

Cook over direct heat, stirring constantly for seven to ten minutes or until thickened. Cool and add cherries. Place cherry mixture on top of cake.

Pile meringue into six mounds on top of cherry mixture. Bake in oven at 300 degrees

CHERRY MERINGUE CAKE—Originated as a holiday recipe, this Cherry Meringue Cake would be at home on your table any time of the year. Try it on your family first, then plan it for a festive Christmas meal.

Waldorf Salad Goes Modern for New Appeal

Along with a lot of other people, we have always thought that the Waldorf Salad—that combination of apples, celery, walnuts and mayonnaise—could not be improved upon. But here is a way to vary the Waldorf Salad with outstanding results.

The versatility of the Waldorf Salad is one reason it has appeared so steadily, for so many years, in our cookbooks and on our tables.

It is delicious with roast beef, lamb, veal, turkey, duck or chicken—whether the meat or poultry is served cold or hot.

Broiled and pan-fired fish take to this salad, too. It is also a fine salad to serve for lunch prefaced by a hot meat or vegetable soup, or a fish chowder.

New Waldorf Salad
- 1-3 cup mayonnaise
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- 1 teaspoon commercially - prepared horseradish
- 1-3 cup (lightly packed) seedless raisins
- 2 good-sized red Delicious apples (about ¾ pound)
- Salad greens
- 1 3-ounce package cream cheese
- 6 teaspoons roasted and diced buttered almonds.

Mix mayonnaise, lemon juice, and horseradish in medium-sized mixing bowl. Put raisins in small strainer, rinse with hot water, drain throughly and add.

Cut each apple into eight wedges and core; do not peel. Slice apples, in thin fan-shaped pieces, into bowl; mix to coat apples with dressing.

Place greens on individual salad plates; spoon apple mixture over greens.

Cut cream cheese into tiny cubes, dipping knife into hot water often; arrange cubes over apple. Sprinkle almonds over salad. Serve at once. Makes four large of six medium-sized servings.

If desired, the apple mixture may be put into a salad bowl lined with greens, then the cream cheese and almonds sprinkled over apples.

Fruitcake Log Pudding Suitable for Holidays

Fruitcake Log Pudding is a dessert you'll want to make during the holiday season. Choose quality fruitcake slices (light or dark) from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. Cut crosswise into bars, or "logs."

Allow four logs per serving (two on two). Make your favorite lemon pudding from a mix or from your own recipe, and chill. To serve, pour chilled pudding over fruitcake logs.

Slice a banana thin and overlap the rounds on hot buttered whole-wheat toast. Small fry usually enjoy this snack!

Always Delicious Cups Per Pound

Broil Lobster Tails for Savory Supper

This dinner dish is easy-do but it tastes delicious.

Savory Broiled Lobster Tails
- 2 rock lobster tails (about 6 ounces each)
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 1 clove garlic, paprika

Thaw lobster tails if frozen. Cut away thin undershell with kitchen scissors. Crack hard shell in middle back so lobster tails will lie flat and not curl in broiling.

Melt butter; crush garlic and add. Place lobster tails, hard shell side up, about 3 or 4 inches from source of heat in preheated broiler; broil about three minutes.

Turn lobster tails and dribble a little of the garlic butter over the lobster meat. Dust with paprika.

Broil about five minutes longer or until lobster meat is opaque, cooked through and golden brown. Serve at once with rest of garlic butter.

Avocado Dip Comes From Old Mexico

Guacamole With Potato Chips
- 2 cups mashed avocado
- 1 to 2 teaspoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
- 2 teaspoons lemon juice
- Salt and freshly-ground pepper
- Potato chips

Mash avocado just before serving; mix in onion, lemon juice, salt and pepper to taste. Spoon into small, deep, pretty bowl; place on lazy susan or round chop plate; arrange potato chips around bowl.

Guests dip potato chips into avocado mixture (guacomole). Makes plenty for eight.

Ham, Cheese Make Hearty Sandwiches

Mixed Ham and Cheese Sandwich
- ½ cup ground cooked ham (firmly packed)
- ½ cup grated cheddar cheese (lightly packed)
- ¼ cup mayonnaise or mayonnaise-type salad dressing
- ¼ cup finely diced dill pickle
- Whole wheat bread

Mix ham, cheese, mayonnaise and pickle. Makes 1 cup spread. For hearty sandwiches use one-fourth cup of the spread for each sandwich.

For Festive Ice Cubes

To add to the holiday spirit, freeze some ice cubes with a sprig of holly or a few cranberries in each one, says Sara Walls, a home economist. Or, try this: Freeze a ring mold of plain or tinted water for a cooling, floating addition to your punch bowl. Green and red maraschino cherries placed in the bottom of the mold will add color and interest.

Dry Milk Is Important

In reducing diets, nonfat dry milk is important because it supplies concentrated amounts of protein, calcium, minerals, vitamins — nutrients essential to maintenance and repair of muscles, nerves and other tissues, bones and teeth.

Toe Dancer Wears Black

Fan Shoots Self on Stage to Help Burlesque Queen

By JACK STEVENSON

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The burlesque show at the New Follies Theater went on as scheduled last night.

Red-haired toe dancer Loretta Miller wore a black ribbon in her hair as she appeared. That was the last request of Roger Wing Whittier, 26, a Korean War veteran from Gold Beach, Ore.

* * *

Whittier had fulfilled his final pledge—to get her lots of publicity. He was killed at the theater by two bullets, one from his own gun, the other from police, who returned fire, they said, after he first shot once at them.

The man died on stage at dawn clutching photos of Miss Miller. Written on one showing her in ballet costume were the words: "Angel Face. All I can do is worship you. Goodbye. Roger."

* * *

The shapely Miss Miller, 25, said she had never met the man but had received two letters and bouquets of roses from him.

The strange drama began shortly after 5 a.m. yesterday when a man telephoned The Associated Press.

"I broke into the New Follies burlesque a couple hours ago," he told me. "I'm in love with a dancer there, Loretta Miller.

* * *

"I want to get her publicity. I want to get her picture in every paper in the country.

"Call the police and come over here. But you be careful. I'm armed."

I called the detective bureau.

Two detectives and two officers entered the theater with a portable floodlight. A man onstage was caught in its glare.

Police said he fired twice with a .32 automatic. The first was at the light and the second struck him in the head. The officers returned fire.

The stage floor bore printed testimonials of his infatuation: "Dear Loretta, just to hold you in my arms. . . My red-headed angel. . . ."

Miss Miller previously had reported to police that she received two letters signed, "Roger." One said:

* * *

"My plan is to go backstage just as the last show ends. With my automatic in my hand I shall attempt to fight my way to you. . . . At most I want to hold you in my arms. . . I mean you no harm and wouldn't hurt you for the world."

He never carried out that plan.

The second note to the dancer said in part, "If you happen to read or hear of a guy named Roger coming to a violent end, please pin a little piece of black to your costume."

Miss Miller did that and commented:

Beauty Queen's Welcome Miffs Scranton Judge

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Miss America of 1955 came to town yesterday and Judge T. Linus Hoban complained about all the noise.

The wailing of police sirens during a parade for Miss Lee Ann Meriweather disturbed Judge Hoban, hearing testimony in a criminal case. He ordered the district attorney to telephone Mayor James T. Hanlon and ask him to stop the noise.

"I'm sick and tired of hearing sirens sound while court is in session," he said.

3 Prisoners Indicted in Remington Killing

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted three prisoners at Lewisburg (Pa.) Penitentiary on a general charge of murder in the slaying of former government economist William W. Remington.

No date has been set for trial of the three — Lewis Cagle Jr., 17, Chattanooga, Tenn.; Robert Carl Parker, 21, Washington; and George Junior McCoy, 34, Grundy, Va.

Remington, 37, a prisoner at the penitentiary, was assaulted with a half-brick stuffed in a stocking Nov. 22. He was serving a sentence for perjury in denying he passed government secrets to a Communist spy ring. He died Nov. 24.

Cagle was quoted by prison officials as saying the motive was robbery.

Freshness Guaranteed

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A customer walked into Jack Holdsmar's seafood restaurant and asked if the hard shell crabs were fresh. Holdsmar displayed a bandaged finger and told the woman customer: "I was bit an hour ago. Fresh enough? She bought six.

Will Work for Free, Indian Man Writes

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Anybody need a linguist (five languages) who's also a good man in a print shop and played a nice game of Rugby with Travancore-Cochin police football team in India this year?

H. Plinton Surrao of Quilon, South India, offered his services to Virginia's Gov. Tom Stanley as personal handyman at no remuneration other than food and clothing.

"My lord," he wrote Stanley, "If you are not in a position to own me up I beg you to recommend me to somebody who is willing to take me up."

American Lions Clubs Aid Philippine Settlers

MANILA (AP) — Lions clubs of the United States have donated some $500,000 worth of trucks, tools, plows and a complete rice mill to the Philippines.

Most of the equipment has been sent to the southern island of Mindanao, where the Philippine Army is resettling those former Communist Huks who agreed to cease their rebillion and turn in their arms.

Do-It-Yourself Fad Gives New Christmas Gift Ideas

Christmas shopping has been done over by the do-it-yourself delirium. According to the National Retail Hardware Association, hardware stores are as busy as the tie counter at Christmas time.

More and more families, lured by economy and the fun of accomplishment, putter constantly in their homes. And with this pleasant growth of family activity comes the yen for better equipment to do the job with and that little kit, just right for meeting faucet emergencies.

It is not so impossible to see why these families consider a power sander or a nail kit a gift full of romance and fun.

The basic good tools often appear under the tree of the newlyweds or the new home owners. An unbreakable steel hammer with a leather grip, a set of screw drivers, a hand drill with various sized bits and a good wrench, often a vise-grip, are the beginnings of the do-it-yourself disease.

The wife who hopes to infect her husband with handiness about the house often chooses a complete tool set.

One such is called a wallboard tool set. It has 15 popular tools hung on steel pegs on a board that will hang on the wall in the most crowded home.

For the husband who is ready for tougher things, an outfit which weighs only 20 pounds, and is eight power tools, fills the bill.

But it is the individual power tool that most often attracts husband and wife as their gift to themselves. The variety is bewildering, but most of these families have borrowed neighbors' tools enough to know whether they need a drill, a sander or a saw the most.

The skilsaw is an item that attracts many because it can be stored on the shelf of any closet. It will cut up to two-inch dressed lumber.

A drill with a polishing bonnet, wire wheel brush and sanding discs has high appeal. There is also a power saw that blows the dust out of the way.

One item the ambitious but low-budget family wants is a paint sprayer. These families, while they may not own their own home, refinish a lot of furniture. With a sander and a paint sprayer they make fine furniture out of chaff from auctions.

Some families with gutter problems tend toward electric torches or welders.

Of course, the arrangement has its disadvantages—those who used to love to shop late at the local nail-and-saw monger's now have to shop early to avoid the rush.

Oklahoma Woman, 71, Takes Flying Lessons

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—At 71, Mrs. Ida May Relf, a professional photographer of Ponca City, Okla., is learning to fly. Fay Linehan, civil aeronautics safety agent says he thinks she is the oldest woman ever to receive permission to take flying lessons, although there have been many women who have continued to fly past that age.

"I plan to fly for pleasure but it will also be a great help to me if I can fly to Oklahoma City to buy supplies for my studio," she said.

Hoover Group Incorporates

Papers Filed in Iowa for Furthering Ideals of Ex-President

DES MOINES, Iowa (UP)—Incorporation papers were filed today at the secretary of state's office here for the "Herbert Hoover Foundation, Inc.," by a group of persons who said they wish to "further the ideals of Herbert Hoover."

Lewis J. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission and secretary to Hoover during his presidency, was listed as chairman of the foundation. Other officers and trustees included nationally-known newspaper and magazine publishers, syndicated columnists and industrialists.

Projects to be undertaken will not be decided upon until initial meetings of the executive committee and annual meeting of the board of trustees have been held, said John M. Henry, director of public affairs for the Des Moines Register and Tribune. Henry was listed as vice-chairman of the foundation's executive committee, and William B. Anderson, West Branch, as chairman.

Two of Hoover's sons, Herbert Jr., Washington, D. C., and Allan, New York, were named as vice chairman and executive committee member, respectively.

Trustees named in the incorporation papers include W. H. Vander Ploegh, Battle Creek, Mich.

Squirrel Takes Earring

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—One of Arline Gillam's earrings dropped off as she ran for a bus. A squirrel in Capitol Park grabbed the earring, ran up a tree and paid no attention when Mrs. Gillam pleaded for him to drop it.

1st Leg of Ohio Pike Dedicated

22-Mile Span Connects With Toll Highwgy in Pennsylvania

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (INS)—The first leg of the Ohio turnpike, joining with the western end of the Pennsylvania toll road, opened to traffic yesterday.

Ohio and Pennsylvania officials took part in ceremonies dedicating the 22-mile span as a milestone in American travel—the first joining of the turnpikes of two states.

The rest of the $346 million dollar roadway, which will run 241 miles across northern Ohio, is scheduled for completion Oct. 1, 1955. Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy said last night however that the commission is considering opening each section as it is completed.

The Ohio turnpike will form part of a toll superway expected to stretch from New York to Chicago by 1957.

Ship Radiomen Walk Off Jobs

Tie Up West Coast's Merchant Fleet; Claim Contract Canceled

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—CIO radiomen, angered by what they called an abrupt cancellation of their contract, walked off their jobs at 12:01 a.m. today, tieing up West Coast shiping.

Philip O'Rourke, vice president of the CIO American Radio Assn., estimated the strike will affect 200 merchant ships operated by members of the Pacific Maritime Assn.

* * *

He said approximately 170 of those vessels are at sea and will not be affected until they reach port. The rest are in West Coast ports and won't move until the dispute is settled, he said.

He said the union is planning court acion charging the PMA with breaking the contract, which he said was negotiated and ratified last June.

William Steinberg, ARA president, said the strike was called yesterday after th owners notified him they will not honor the contract.

* * *

Intercoastal ships operating under East Coast contracts, tankers and steam schooners are not involved.

PMA's position was that the contract was not valid because it never has been ratified by its member companies, according to J. Paul St. Sure, PMA president. St. Sure said the issue was over an overtime clause. Steinberg said it was over a pension plan which was to be discussed under the tentative contract.

* * *

All local maritime unions affected have given pledges to the ARA that their members would not cross its picket lines.

TO PRESERVE POTATOES—University of Michigan engineers have designated this facility for exposing potatoes to atomic radiation to preserve them for more than a year when stored at 50-degree temperature. The crop would be loaded on conveyor belt at left for 10-minute-trip into thickwalled irradiation chamber, past a powerful source of radiation and out again, right center.

Actress in Jail for Sixty Days in Hit-Run Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Blonde actress Lynne Baggett is in county jail today, serving a 60-day sentence for hit-run driving in an accident in which Joel Watnick, 9, was killed.

Miss Baggett, 27, previously convicted on this charge but acquitted of manslaughter, was sentenced yesterday. She also was placed on three years' probation and her driver's license was revoked for one year. She was taken to jail immediately.

The actress, estranged wife of film producer Sam Spiegel, claimed she "blacked out" after the July 7 collision. Superior Judge Mildred Lillie commented: "I cannot accept her story of a 'blackout' and the jury couldn't believe it either. She was extremely rational soon after the accident, and from then until she was arrested two days later she used every resource at her command to get her car repaired and to conceal her identity."

Fined for Sunday Work

NEW YORK (AP) — An aircraft mechanic at Idlewild Airport was fined $5 yesterday for violating a state law that prohibits work on Sundays which is "not of a necessary, emergency or charitable nature" or beneficial to public welfare. The mechanic, Alex Leciston, of Clifton, N.J., had been repairing aircraft engines.

Barbara Billingsley Mum on Elopement

The pretty 18-year-old bride hedged when asked about her father Sherman's attitude concerning the marriage. Her husband John Rogers Christoffers, a 28-year-old commercial photographer, stood on the sidelines at Newark Airport as newsmen descended on Barbara.

Aid Flown to Laos

WASHINGTON (AP)—An airdrop of U.S. aid supplies in northern Laos is under way, according to reports received by the Foreign Operations Administration. The reports indicated the supplies are going to soldiers and civilians either released or escaped from Communist forces in the recent Indochina fighting.

Less Bought on Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Reserve Board reports installment credit increased by 17 million dollars during October, much less than in October 1953 or 1952.

2 Years' Work Wasted

BALTIMORE (AP)—For two years Louis J. Smith worked on building himself a six-room home. It was almost finished and he expected to move into it soon. But the house caught fire yesterday and burned almost to the ground before firemen were able to get the flames under control.

Man Arrested for $5 Theft Has Assets of $10,687

BALTIMORE (AP)—Emile P. Gow, 55, a factory worker, was arrested here last night and charged with stealing $5. When police searched him before locking him up for the night, they found:

Wads of bills in every pocket—total cash, $495, five bank books showing deposits of $10,000, an uncashed $42 check and six $25 savings bonds.

Also inside his money belt was a jar of jam and some crackers, tooth brush, shaving gear, a bottle of iodine, adhesive bandages and cotton.

August Hoffman told police he had cashed a check in a supermarket when he dropped the $5 on the floor. He said Gow picked up the bill, but instead of returning it, he stuck it into his pocket and headed for the street. Gow denied the theft charge.

A TOY ELEVATOR

104 years ago the first elevator—of the type we have today—went into operation. It was a hand-operated platform hoist between two floors. Now there are millions of automatic elevators in use every day in office buildings, apartments and stores all over the world. Here's a toy elevator you can make...

1. Wash and dry an empty cardboard milk container. At bottom of front side, cut out an opening about two inches high and almost as wide as container.

2. Punch hole in the container's lid and thread a piece of string through it into the container, as shown. The string should be about 18 inches long. Tie a loop in the top for a finger hold (A).

3. Use strong, brown wrapping paper to make basket part of elevator, as shown in Figure B. Punch four holes in its sides, as shown. Tie four short pieces of string through this, joining them two or three inches above basket. Tie this to the end of the long string at the bottom opening of the container.

4. Your elevator is ready. Place marbles or other small objects in the basket, and raise to top by pulling string through lid of container. The basket should raise and lower easily. You can keep the loaded basket at top of elevator shaft by winding string around lid once or twice.

Kits Answer Kids' Queries

Inquisitive 8-Year-Old Prompted Dad to Start Business

CHICAGO (AP) — Parents puzzled by their youngster's probing questions can get help from a new company organized to deliver the answers to junior's scientific problems.

Millard Deutsch was inspired to start it by his 8-year-old son's questions about the how's and why's of things like radio, machinery, health and weather.

When his son wanted to know about radio, pop asked a big radio company for the answers. For weather, he consulted an instrument company. He arranged to distribute the answers so other dads could benefit.

Five initial kits will be distributed by leading department stores. The kits deal with medical training, optical science and instruments, basic electronics, weather and geology. Each is sponsored by a firm which has business connected with the subject. They include booklets by leading scientists.

Foam Rubber Mattress Adjusted by Air Valve

NAUGATUCK, Conn. (AP) — A mattress you can make as firm or as soft as you like has been perfected by a firm here. You sleep on a surface of foam rubber supported by an "envelope of air, joined to lateral cylinders of air," the firm says.

The firmness or softness is controlled by regulating the air pressure through a valve at the foot of the bed.

For Something Different

China, Glass Mementos for Good Taste

Housewares, because they're used almost every day by the whole family, should be selected carefully with an eye to practicality, looks and durability. For this reason, china, glass and linens are wonderful gifts to give within the family. They show superb taste.

Some families add to their china every year. But if you have never had china, quiz mother and see if it isn't something she's craved.

A touch of the very best—Lenox' Plymouth cream and sugar, for instance—may satisfy her taste for the expensive.

But perhaps she'd rather start buying place settings of table china. Royal Worcester's "Montego" has a fern pattern that's informal but not too modern. Royal Jackson's "Pagoda" is in the traditional dark-and-gold pattern of classic English china.

A set of glasses just for entertaining is welcome in most homes. Libbey's "Golden Rose" has the unornate shape so popular today, but has a rose design in 22-karat gold.

For a golfer, Libbey has a glassware pattern with a Scotsman that comes packed with golf balls. Pilsener glasses that are plastic have ducks on them.

Good-looking canisters for the kitchen may be more of an investment than you expect. Copper ones are pretty, but come high. In the fancy canister department are Braat's blue Delft ones that would grace any traditional kitchen. Moderately priced are plastic ones by Columbia. The clear ones have the popular Pennsylvania Dutch patterns painted on them.

FOR ANY WOMAN—Finest china, even a small piece of it, makes an elegant gift for any woman who has cravings beyond the budget. This is Lenox' Plymouth cream and sugar. Twenty-four karat gold bands the ivory-toned translucent pair.

Easy to care for are the lovely stainless steel flatwares. Ekco's Flint Deluxe never needs polishing.

A nice pattern is "Patina." Ekco's Flint carving set is a sound buy if you've always lacked a good carving set.

You fay use paper or plastic tablecloths, but at least one real cloth is still a necessity. Bates' pine green "Festival" is a warm-looking cloth for Christmas and winter.

Tradition Handed a Jolt; Woman Becomes Club Pro

By JACK SAYLOR

Lee Kocsis is a woman of distinction.

For the second time, Mrs. Kocsis has invaded a field usually reserved for men. She was recently named golf professional at Twin Lakes Golf Club on Williams Lake road, near Pontiac.

She is the only feminine golf club pro in the entire area. Detroiter Sally Sessions also is a pro, but her teaching is confined to a driving range.

Mrs. Kocsis also is the only one of her sex in the drafting field at Pontiac Motor Division. She has been active in drawing board and drafting work for 10 years.

Lee first became interested in golf in 1936 while working at Wise's Golf Club (now Morey's). Her previous sports interest was in swimming. It was at Wise's that she met her husband, Al Kocsis, a member of the area's most famous golfing family.

Coincidentally, it was at the Twin Lakes club, owned by Mrs. E. E. Vantine, where Al turned professional in 1941. He subsequently held golfing jobs at Morey's, Hickory Hills, Ionia Golf Club and Knollwood Country Club and now is pro for the J. L. Hudson Company's Northland shop.

Lee actually became a pro last fall when she gave some group lessons at Twin Lakes. She will spend afternoons and week ends at the club next season, plans to continue the group lesson plan, and hopes to start some women's golf leagues at the course.

The Kocsis family lives at 1934 Union Lake Road, near Pontiac.

Owens Scores 'Gloomy' Talk on Olympics

Track Immortal Says Americans Have Fine Chance in 1956

CHICAGO (AP)—Jesse Owens, 1936 Olympic star who was voted the greatest track athlete of the half-century in the AP poll, gives the United States a fine chance against Russia in the 1956 Olympic.

* * *

Owens suggested in an interview Wednesday that it was time to quit spreading "gloom" about the chances of this nation's athletes against the Russians in next year's games at Melbourne, Australia.

Owens now serves as secretary of the Illinois Athletic Commission, operates an insurance agency and is affiliated with a drive-in cleaning plant in Chicago. In 1936 at Berlin he won the 100 and 200-meter sprints and the broad jump and ran on the winning 400-meter relay team.

His reference to spreading "gloom" followed a speech in Chicago Tuesday by Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee. Brundage said Russia's success in international athletic competition has been phenomenal and is destined to progress.

Non-Loop Tilts Dominate List of 18 Contests

Home Games at Orion and Waterford Mark 2 Coaches' Debuts

High school basketball gets into full swing Friday night with a total of 18 games listed for Oakland County and area quintets.

All except three are non-conference games as the prep five attempt to iron out the wrinkles before embarking on league schedules.

Pontiac High School starts its season with a road game at Royal Oak, Waterford's Skippers are at home to Milford, and Walled Lake entertains Cranbrook. Troy will be at Lake Orion and Clarkston at Oxford.

Rochester's revamped forces journey to Fitzgerald and Romeo will be a trial horse for Utica. The lone league games are in the Southern Thumb and send Dryden to Almont, Armada to Memphis and New Haven to Brown City.

The games at Waterford and Lake Orion will mark the coaching debuts of Don Beedle and Hal Carlin. Milford will provide a strong test for the Beedle-coached Skippers, while Carlin's Orion quintet is taking a good taste of Oakland-B competition by meeting the defending champion Troy club.

Orion will become an active member of the Oakland-B next spring.

Some early light may be shed on the Bi-County race with Romeo as a medium. Bob Hutton's Bulldogs fell to South Lake Tuesday, 64-40, and now faces Utica, which is expected to battle South Lake for the Bi-C title.

Coaches Niles Freeland at Walled Lake and Gene Konley at Rochester will probably make liberal use of underclass prospects along with key seniors Myrel Taulbee and Earl Kitchen, respectively.

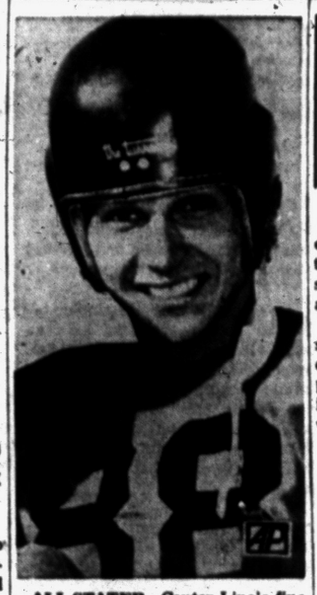
Sal Maglie, pitching ace for the New York Giants, broke into the major league competition when he had attained the age of 28 years.

Fine Pitching Mark

John Hunter, 28, of Clearwater, pitched the Clearwater Bombers to a world softball title with a record of 27 won, one lost, while striking out a total of 448 opposing batters.



ALL-STATER—Center Line's fine back, Larry Bielat, won a place on the Associated Press Class B All-State football team, announced today. Larry was a 1st team choice.

Tokle's Memory Renewed at 10th Annual Ski Jump

NEW YORK (AP) — Torger won't be around when the 10th annual Torger Tokle Memorial ski jumping tournament is held at Bear Mountain, New York, Dec. 19, but of Michigan friend of his will tell you his memory still lives on.

Torger won't be there because he died on a snow-covered mountain peak March 3, 1945, in Italy when he led his U. S. Army platoon up a sheer rock wall, surprising a Nazi garrison. That's when a German 88mm. shell wiped out the sergeant.

Sgt. Lyle Munson of Iron Mountain, Mich., one of Torger's bitterest sports rivals and closet friends in the war, saw him killed.

Norkus Defeats Roland LaStarza

Detroit's Moses Ward TKO Victim in Second Bout at Cleveland

CLEVELAND (AP)—Free-swinging Charlie Norkus dealt a punishing blow to the comeback plans of Roland LaStarza of New York Wednesday night by winning a unanimous 10-round decision from the onetime top-ranked heavyweight contender.

* * *

The televised bout saw the willing slugger from Port Washington, N. Y., carry the battle to LaStarza most of the way in a slow-moving contest. He climaxed his attack in the final round with a sizzling roundhouse left to the head that had LaStarza reeling in a clinch when the gong sounded.

* * *

In another featured bout on the Cleveland News' 29th annual Toyshop Fund Boxing Show, Cleveland's Rocky Castellani, the No. 3 middleweight contender, sent outclassed Moses Ward of Detroit crashing to the canvas four times before finally scoring a technical knockout in 2:30 of the eighth round.

Juniors in Front

Four of Them Dominate Class B All-State Eleven

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Four juniors, each a brilliant performer, feature the Associated Press Class B all-state high school football team announced today.

Usually, seniors dominate all-state selection, but this year coaches and sports writers who picked the Class B team dipped into the junior ranks and came up with four outstanding players.

Most notable, perhaps, is center Dave Hurd of Three Rivers, who made the squad for the 2nd straigst year. He is the only repeater.

A hard-hitting 200-pounder, Hurd played center on offense and linebacker on defense. He was the key player in Three River's 9-0 record—1st perfect season in the school's history.

Other juniors to make the squad are backs—Dean Look of Lansing Everett, LARRY BIELAT of CENTER LINE and Gene Dekoyer of Grand Haven.

In addition to Hurd, rest of the line consists of ends TED CUNIO, FITZGERALD, and Dennis O'Connor, Redford St. Mary; tackles Maynard Stetten, Trenton, and Gene Tomassuci, Iron River, and guards Jack Grobbel, Ionia, and Larry Essenmacher, Bad Axe. The forward wall averages 199 pounds, with Essenmacher's 235-pound figure being tops.

Bielat compiled a tremendous passing record for Center Line. The 180-pound junior completed 81 of 150 passes for 1,273 yards and 15 touchdowns.

The ends—Cunio of Fitzgerald and O'Connor of Redford St. Mary — proved outstanding two-way players. Cunio, a linebacker on defense, caught 12 touchdown passes and was rated by his coach, Paul Smarks, as the finest wingman he has ever had in 39 years.

Ends—Robinette (Claire), Taliaferro (BC Lakeview); tackles—Payne (Lans. Resurrect.), Gehl (Allegan); guards—Karpinski (Buchanan), Poor (Gladwin); center—Carson (Manistique); backs—Miles (Kaco St.), Furlong (Red. St. M), Wieland (Caro), Guy (N. Musk.).

Honorable mention (Pontiac area)—tackles John Burkhart (RO Shrine), John Dean (Center Line); guard Dan Lezowski (OL St. M.); backs—Mike Benedict (Oxford), Walt (Buzz) Debsenb (Rochester) and Jerry Hunter (Holly).

New Spartan 5 Sets Record in 1st Appearance

Galloping MSC Sinks Marquette 91-72 for Anderson's Debut

EAST LANSING (AP) — It took new coach Fordy Anderson only one game (that's all) to set a new scoring record at Michigan State.

No Spartan basketball club ever made 91 points in a single game. But perhaps no Spartan team ever ran and shot the way it did last night.

Led by Julius McCoy and Al Ferrari, Michigan State was in command from start to finish against the weary Warriors from Marquette. McCoy banged in 31 points and Ferrari 25.

"I was very pleased the way the boys shot from close-in," said Anderson, who gained national fame as head coach at Bradley University. "McCoy and Ferrari picked up the fast-break style of play very quickly."

Anderson used 15 players in the rout. He explained that he was seeking to find some hidden bench strength.

"It will be rougher when we start playing in the Big Ten," said the likable, 35-year-old coach. "I don't know if we can keep up a pace like that."

Spartans will get a chance to see if they can maintain their high-scoring antics Saturday night, when they entertain the University of Detroit.

"After that, we'll head east for the holiday classic in Philadelphia," Anderson said. "We'll play Penn and Princeton. Then I'll be able to tell you what kind of club we've got."

Tracy Wins Place on All-SEC Squad

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Tom Tracy, an all-state player at Birmingham (Mich.) High School in 1951, was named today to the Associated Press All-Southeastern conference football team for 1954.

Although injured late in the season, Tracy finished 2nd among the rushers in the SEC with 794 yards and a 6.8 average. For much of the season he was almost the entire offense at Tennessee because of injuries to the Vol tailbacks.

Only 500 Spectators

Horseshoe Champion

Guy Zimmerman of Danville is the world champion horseshoe pitcher for 1954. He has records of 72 consecutive ringers and has won 12 California state crowns.

'We'll Be Back,' Spartan Coach Says at 'Bust'

Prexy Hannah Reveals Confidence in Duffy and Staff

DETROIT — A bit of Brooklyn seeped into the annual Michigan State football bust last night.

Nobody exactly said "wait'll next year!"—the oft-used phrase made famous by the followers of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Instead, the Michigan State motto was:

Athletic director Biggie Munn flashed a placard bearing these words to the 400 alumni and fans gathered in the Statler Hotel to honor the 1954 Spartan team. It keynoted the evening.

Dr. John A. Hannah, MSC president, attended his 1st bust since 1947—and he said his presence wasn't due to the fact that the Spartan football team was a bust.

"I am not here because we feel Duffy Daugherty and his staff need any vote of confidence," Hannah said. "I would have liked to have been here before, but couldn't."

Daugherty, chipper as ever, said:

"They say the important thing is how you play the game. But I say it's advisable to win a few along the way—a few more than we did, anyway."

Then, in a moment of seriousness, Daugherty added:

"I know we are going to be on the spot next year, but we'll give you the best we have."

Lyman L. Frimodig, a 10-letter star for Michigan State in 1914-17, was given a special varsity ring, as were the seniors on the Spartan squad.

Howe, Kelly 'Golden Goals' Lead Wings Out of Slump

NEW YORK (AP) — Gordie Howe and Red Kelly each scored a pair of "golden goals" last night to lead the Detroit Red Wings out of a two-game slump with a resounding 6-1 victory over the New York Rangers.

Kelly, a defenseman who skates and shoots like a forward, triggered the 99th and 100th goals of his career, while Howe fired the 249th and 250th of his career.

They came at an opportune time, ending the Red Wings' two-game slide in which they were flattened by scores of 4-1 and 6-2 over the weekend.

No official records are kept but it was believed that Kelly's two goals made him the first defenseman in the history of the National Hockey League to reach the 100 mark.

Howe's 250th goal placed him among select company. Only seven other players had ever reached that figure. Teammate Ted Lindsay and Chicago's Bill Mosienko made it last week.

After Vic Stasiuk shot Detroit into a 1-0 lead against the Rangers, Kelly widened the margin to 3-0 with a pair of consecutive tallies. He jabbed in a close-up shot, then added No. 100 with a goal-mouth deflection of Glen Skov's shot.

Goalie Terry Sawchuk, loose over the weekend, sharpened up and made 21 stops. He lost his shutout midway in the final period when Don Raleigh found the range for the New Yorkers.

Small Drawing Range

The Pacific coast conference area of four states has only 753 high school teams to draw upon for material.

Cardinal Farm Transfer Near

Parent Club Agrees to Negotiate Price With Western Loop

HOUSTON (AP) — The St. Louis Cardinals were expected today to complete negotiations with the Western League for the transfer of their Columbus American Assn.

* * *

The Cards received permission from the A. A. Wednesday to do business with the Western League. The only thing that stands in the way is a matter of some $30,000 or $40,000.

* * *

The Western has reluctantly agreed to part with Omaha but has asked the Cardinals for $100,000 damages. The Cardinals feel the price is much too high but have agreed to negotiate. A meeting was scheduled for today.

Saxton-Fuentes Non-Title Bout Brings 'Wild Apathy'

By BOB MYERS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Newly crowned world welterweight champion Johnny Saxton and challenger Ramon Fuentes meet in a 10-round non-title bout this evening, and every fight fan worthy of the term faithful hopes the encounter will turn out better than it shapes up, meaning dull.

* * *

This is the first appearance for Saxton, the 24-year-old Brooklynite, often described as a specialist in defense, since he out-defended Kid Gavilan for the title in their struggle in Philadelphia Oct. 20.

* * *

You remember the match. It sent the nation's television fans, a highly vocal faction to say the least, into screams and a mad, mass twirling of dials from coast to coast.

Apparently the TV patrons here still remember, because the appearance of the new world champion hasn't quite sent them into a state of wild excitement. Wild apathy might be closer to the fact.

True, the loyal old guard of boxing out here, fellows like George Raft, Danny Goodman, George Burns and assorted combinations of the Ritz and Marx brothers, will decorate the ringside. They never miss a fight, even a bad one.

Only 2 Major Changes in New College Cage Action

By ROBERT E. VOGES

EAST LANSING (AP)—Fans have only two major rules changes to catch up with as the college basketball season again gets underway.

One is the switch to two 20-minute halves instead of four ten-minute quarters. The other is the junking of the controversial "one and one" free throw rule for a new so-called "bonus" rule.

Forddy Anderson, new Michigan State basketball coach, explained the national rules committee approved the changes following the recommendations of the country's basketball coaches.

Both rule changes are designed to speed up the game and cut down on some of the fly-specking, whistle-blowing by officials that has irked many fans.

Anderson features a galloping type of play with the emphasis on the offense and so favors both the innovations.

"The original purpose of breaking the game into quarters," Anderson said, "was to allow an extra time out. But there was a general complaint that some teams would go into a semi-stall in the last few minutes of a quarter, trying to control the ball for one last shot before the quarter ended."

So college teams will run for 20 minutes at a stretch again this season, with the only breather during the half.

The new foul shot rule replaces the "one and one" rule. On minor fouls last season, the official could award a one and one shot.

If the shooter made his first throw from the foul line, the ball went back into play. But if he missed, he had another try at the basket. This season, the rule is the exact opposite.

Michigan's high schools, of course, still will play the eight-minute quarters to give the younger boys a rest.

Fighting Age Peak

Professional ring boxers are said to be at their peak performance when they are about 25 or 26 years old.

Iowa Favored Over Indiana

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Indiana's two-year reign as kingpins of Western Conference basketball should come to an end this season.

Unless all signs fail, Iowa's oncoming sophomore team of last year should be ready to prevent the Hoosiers from taking their third straight title. Minnesota, with the talented and veteran pair of Dick Garmaker and Chuck Mencel, also has a fighting chance for the Big Ten championship.

The Hoosiers must be reckoned with but they've lost Bob Leonard, star guard, and Dick Farley and Charlie Krak, forwards. Leonard was one of the greatest players in Indiana history. The Hoosiers still have Don Schlundt and as long as the big fellow is in the pivot, Indiana will be tough to down.

Eight of Iowa's 10 players on last year's squad were sophomores and all are back. In fact the only absentee is Chuck Jarnagin but Coach Buckey O'Connor has such proven players at his disposal as Carl Cain, Bill Logan, Milt Scheurman, Bill Seaberg and Deacon Davis.

Minnesota, which finished in a third place tie with Illinois, behind Indiana and Iowa, has lost three regulars but in Garmaker and Mencel they own two of the best in the Midwest.

Behind the big three come Northwestern, Wisconsin and Michigan State. Illinois, weakened by the loss of John Kerr, remains an uncertain quantity. Ohio State, Michigan and Purdue will have their own private fight to stay out of the cellar although the Buckeyes have the league's best outside shooter in Robin Freeman.

* * *

Big Seven Choice

Missouri is the choice to capture the Big Seven Conference and Wichita is the pick for the Missouri Valley title. Each, however, will meet stiff competition.

Oklahoma A&M, perennial champ of the group, will miss Bob Mattick, a fine all-around performer. For the first time in years, Coach Hank Iba won't have a big man.

Moving over to the independents, the Midwest has two of the strongest teams in the nation in Dayton and Notre Dame. Dayton again is led by John Horan, towering Bill Uhl and Jack Sallee. The Irish have an All-America candidate in Jack Stephens and several players from last year's great freshman team, Bradley lost Bob Carney and Dick Estergard but the team will be tough.

It looks like a wide open race in the Mid-Western Conference. Western Michigan and Western Reserve have good returning veterans, Miami of Ohio is strong.

LaSalle, 3 Big 10 Quintets Win

By BEN OLAN
The Associated Press

College basketball slipped in on the sports scene last night with a smattering of upsets and several record-shattering performances.

• • •

One conference champion — George Washington—was knocked off. Yale was beaten by little Amherst College. Three Big Ten conference teams—Ohio State, Michigan State and Iowa—won nonleague games as expected. La Salle, the defending NCAA titleholder, also captured its season's opener.

• • •

George Washington, last year's Southern Conference kings, bowed to a powerful Wake Forest team, which set a school scoring record in its 107-86 victory. Dickie Hemric bagged 36 points as the Deacons took an early lead and rolled up a 50-39 edge at halftime.

• • •

Amherst, paced by Doub Hawkins, came with a rush in the final minutes to surprise Yale 61-56.

• • •

Ohio State snapped five Pitt fieldhouse records in downing the Panthers 98-87. Robin Freeman poured in 42 points to personally account for two of the records—total points and field goals.

• • •

Michigan State, using a new fast-break, run-and-shoot style of play taught by its new coach Ford Anderson, crushed Marquette 91-72, also setting a one-game team scoring record.

• • •

Iowa handled its opener with ease by routing Washington of St. Louis 80-61 for the Hawkeyes' 63rd straight nonconference victory at home.

• • •

All America center Tom Gola was held to 15 points, while La Salle's Explorers easily vanquished Millersville (Pa.) Teachers 88-72.

• • •

Richmond, tabbed as a Southern Conference power, defeated Furman 101-87 in a league game. Rice edged Lamar Tech 73-71. Texas nipped Hardin-Simmons, 59-57. Southern Methodist routed Austin College 84-60.

• • •

In other games, Seton Hall downed Roanoke 93-62; North Carolina State whipped William and Mary 111-97; Presbyterian edged Clemson 81-75; Dayton beat Gustavus Adolphus 82-63; Tennessee walloped David Lipscomb 95-38; Connecticut set a school scoring record by crushing Rhode Island 116-77; Oregon State defeated Hawaii, 69-47; and Alabama humbled Jacksonville State 96-63.

UM Has Youthful Teams in Both Cage and Hockey

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Two Michigan coaches set out on similar tasks with the same tools this weekend.

Basketball coach Bill Perigo sends his youthful squad against Pittsburgh at Michigan's Yost Field House Saturday. He is trying to build a basketball reputation which Michigan is sadly lacking.

Hockey coach Vic Heyliger, whose teams have gone to the NCAA tournament every year for the last six years, sends an equally youthful team to defend this reputation.

Heyliger's squad, admittedly thin and young, has a high potential. His job is to crystalize this talent into a winning team. He has done it before.

In six years of NCAA hockey play, Michigan teams have taken four championships. This year, they will battle a stiffer grade than ever before. They begin Friday and Saturday by facing McGill University of Canada.

Perigo sends a team of unknown quality against Pittsburgh. It is the 1st of a 22-game schedule, 12 of them at home.

Michigan is further burdened by a tough list of opponents this year. They face the usual 14 conference games, two each with improved Northwestern, powerful Iowa, always tough Illinois, Michigan State and Ohio.

It's Time Out!

"Wow! I thought you had him for sure that time, boss!"

Rams' Ace Sits Out Start of Weekend Tilt

LOS ANGELES (AP)—For the first time since 1952, when Bob Waterfield was still playing, Norman Van Brocklin will not start at quarterback for the Los Angeles Rams when they face Baltimore here Saturday.

Coach Hamp Pool said the Rams' bonus star, Billy Wade of Vanderbilt, will direct the team.

"This is no reflection on Van Brocklin," said Pool. "Since the Rams are out of the championship running I think Wade should get as much work as possible. There is no substitute for combat experience."

MV Mark for Riley

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Lee Riley of the University of Detroit, is one of two seniors to win an individual title in the 1954 Missouri Valley statistical summaries.

Riley leads the punts returned department with 228 yards. Connie Hoffmans of Wichita is the other senior with 47 per cent of his passes completed. He also led the conference by returning four intercepted passes 37 yards.

Durocher Says Giants May Be Stronger in '55

Hints NL Rivals Must Improve to Take Flag

Leo Counting Heavily on Irvin Making Big Comeback

By JOE REICHLER

HOUSTON (AP)—Leo Durocher refushed to predict another pennant today but declared the New York Giants might be stronger in 1955 and hinted that Brooklyn and Milwaukee would have to be better if they are to prevent his world champions from repeating.

Relaxing in his plus hotel suite while attending the minor league convention here, the dapper Giant manager conceded his job "might I a bit tougher" if the Dodgers' Roy Campanella and the Braves' Bobby Thomson return to top physical form.

* * *

"I don't know whether we can win or not," he said frankly. "I do know we have a good ball team. It may be even better than last year's. But it might be harder to win. It all depends on how much the Dodgers and Braves help themselves from now until the start of the season. You've also got to remember that every club shoots at the champ. That's the way it should be."

* * *

Durocher also conceded he could use another starting pitcher but added quickly his team was set and that he had made no attempt to make a deal here.

Calling Johnny Antonelli and Ruben Gomez his "Mr. Left and Mr. Right," who would pitch every four days regardless of the opposition, he said he was counting on Sal Maglie, 37-year-old clutch pitcher, as a one-a-week starter.

He said he was counting heavily on Monte Irvin making a comeback and predicted the big left fielder would climb back into the .300 class again next year.

Trading business picked up a bit as the New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles finally announced completion of their 18-player deal. The Orioles sent first baseman Dick Kryhoski, catcher Darrell Johnson, outfielder Jim Fridley, pitcher Mike Blyzka and farmhand Ted Delguerchio, an outfielder with Wichita, to the Yankees for southpaw Bill Miller, and infielders Kal Segrist and Don Leppert. Kryhoski stays with the Yankees but Johnson, Fridley and Blyzka go to Denver and Delguerchio to Birmingham. Another Baltimore player must be sent to New York by April 1.

Committee Puts OK on Present TV Plan

CHICAGO (AP)— Recommendation of continued restricted football television at the national level will be made to the annual National Collegiate Athletic Assn. convention next month by the NCAA television committee.

The TV committee Wednesday ended a two-day session of reviewing the 1954 television plan and drafting a report on it for the convention in New York Jan. 5-7.

The Williamsburg, Va., Jockey Club is believed to have been founded in 1693.

Surging Knicks Ready to Make Move in East

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The slumping New York Knickerbockers are now the surging Knicks and they gave every indication Thursday of being ready to make their move in the Eastern Division of the National Basketball Assn.

The Knickerbockers have won two in a row after four straight setbacks and although still tied for third place with Boston, they're only two games behind the front-running Syracuse Nationals.

Wednesday night, the New Yorkers snapped the Nats' seven-game winning streak, 88-86, holding off a Syracuse rally in the fourth quarter.

In other league games, the Fort Wayne Pistons defeated the Rochester Royals 101-96 in overtime, the Minneapolis Lakers downed the Philadelphia Warriors 91-88 and the Boston Celtics whipped the Milwaukee Hawks 101-90.

Soviets Admit Detroiter Is Strongest Man

MOSCOW (AP)—Who is the strongest man in the world? Why, none other than Norbert Schemansky of the Dettroit YMCA.

Who says so?

In an article on the recent world weightlifting championships in Vienna, the Russian magazine said:

"According to our information, the American team gave our Soviet athletes the most serious competition. Norbert Schemansky undoubtedly now is the strongest heavyweight weightlifter in the world. He combines great physical strength with high technical skill."

The magazine also had some nice words about the tournament in general:

"It was excellently organized and proceeded in an entirely friendly atmosphere without any conflict.

"It was very pleasant."

P.S. It must have been. The Russians won.

Mrs. Hoad Says Son's Slump Due to 'Discipline'

Aussie Ace's Mother Declares Lad Needs Time to Relax

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Lewis Hoad's mother said today her son's tennis slump is due to "too much discipline."

Hoad's no-care attitude and spotty play has been a source of worry to Australian Davis Cup selectors, who are depending on him to help protect the cup in the challenge round Dec. 27-29 against either the United States or Sweden.

"Lew has not had a chance to relax since the Davis Cup last Christmas," Mrs. A. Hoad said at her home here Thursday.

"He was under discipline during the Davis Cup and soon afterwards went into the Army for national service training. When he came out he went on an overseas tennis tour still under discipline. And he still is under discipline.

Mrs. Hoad pointed out Lew will be only 20 years old next week and said "I feel a lad of that age needs more time to relax."

Harry Hopman, Australian Davis Cup captain and team-touring manager, has been sharply criticized by the Australian press for his strict disciplinary measures. His demands for rigid training limited all social activites of players under his supervision.

Asked for comment on Mrs. Hoad's statement, Hopman replied: "Mother knows best."

PGA Boss Suggests Golfing Conference

ST. PAUL, Minn. (UP)—Horton Smith of Detroit, outgoing president of the Professional Golfers Association, has suggested creation of a "nationwide golf conference" to improve the game throughout the country.

Smith, who will relinquish the PGA presidency today, said everyone from greenskeepers to players would have a voice in the conference.

He said "that way there would be more representation than now exists in such bodies as the PGA.

Preps May Ask for More Cage Games

DETROIT (UP) — The Michigan High School Athletic Association may request to increase the maximum number of basketball games a team is allowed to play at today's annual meeting here.

High school basketball teams currently are restricted by the number of games their football teams play. The association allows a total of 24 football games and basketball games with a maximum of nine football games.

Schools playing the maximum of nine football games can thus play only 15 basketball games. Many coaches think the number of basketball games should be increased since the season is 14 weeks.

Ex-Tiger 'Farmer' Gets Kansas City Job

HOUSTON, Tex. (UP) — Ray Kennedy, former farm director of the Detroit Tigers, was named personnel director yesterday of the new Kansas City Athletics of the American League.

Kennedy retired as farm director of the Tigers in 1951 and went into private business in Sanford, Fla. He had been with Detroit for three years.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Delay Elbow Break.

A common fault one finds in teaching is an abrupt, hurried arm lift. The pupil is too anxious to apply hook spin to the ball. He gives his wrist a twist, so that the ball loses its line.

Let me emphasize again that bowling is easy physically — if you'll permit it to be. Simply push the ball away to begin with, get it into swing, thinking of a weight attached to the end of the arm, like a stone on a string. Let it swing unrestrained.

Meanwhile, in practice, remember to delay the elbow break. Concentrate on keeping the arm straight through its downward, forward arc, as the sketch shows. Allow the ball to swing freely all the way, so that the arm lift comes naturally.

Philadelphia's Hopes for Win Lie With Burk

Top TD Passer Has Tossed for 19 Scores This Season

DETROIT (AP) — It will be the league's No. 1 touchdown passer against the league's No. 1 pass defense when the Detroit Lions tangle with the Philadelphia Eagles Sunday in Briggs Stadium.

A victory for the Lions will clinch the Western Division championship and send them into the National Football League's title game for the 3rd straight year.

But the Lions' pass defense—best in the 12-team circuit—will get a severe test from Philadelphia's one-two quarterback punch of Adrian Burk and Bobby Thomason.

Burk, who has been erratic this season, is the league's leading touchdown passer. He has flipped 19 scoring aerials. Thomason has pitched 10 others. That's 174 points—or 203 if you count the automatic extra point which usually follows professional touchdowns.

Detroit's pass defense, keyed around Jack Christiansen, Jimmy David and Carl Karilavicz, has permitted only 114 completions in 291 passes. That's an average completion of only 39.2 per cent.

If this statistic doesn't sound impressive, take a look at some of the pass defense records of the other teams:

Los Angeles has permitted 179 completions, San Francisco 151 and Green Bay 170.

Burk comes into the game with a strange record. Twelve of his 19 touchdown passes have been against one team—the Washington Redskins. He completed seven on one occasion to tie a league record, and five another time.

Lions, with eight wins in nine starts, also boast a pair of pretty fair tossers in Bobby Layne and Tom Dublinski. They rank 4th and 3rd respectively, in the league.

Five Major Colleges Looking for New Coaches

By ORLO ROBERTSON
The Associated Press

The last of the 1954 football gear has not yet been hung up but already five major colleges and at least one minor school are looking for new head coaches.

The unexpected resignation of Ed Danowski at Fordham University Wednesday, left the fifth major vacancy and there were reports that Harvey Robinson was on his way out at Tennessee.

Major college coaches who have been fired or resigned within the last few days include Kip Taylor of Oregon State, Bill Young of Furman and Bernie Wituchi of Tulsa. Red Dawson stepped out at Pittsburgh in mid-season because of ill health.

* * *

At the rate they are going, the turnover may be as great as it was last season, when some three dozen small and large colleges came up with new coaches.

Young, who also was athletic director at Furman, was the only one of the five to as much as break even this season. Taylor had a 1-8-0 record at Oregon State, Wituchi 0-11-0 at Tulsa and Benz 3-5-0 at Norwich. Pittsburgh lost three straight under Dawson before Athletic Director Tom Hamilton took charge. Young's Purple Hurricanes broke even in 10 games.

Danowski's resignation caught Fordham officials completely by surprise. Although the Rams had won one and tied one of their nine games this fall, the former Fordham and New York Giants' great had given no indication that he was planning on stepping out.

Although Danowski was not available for comment his wife said he hoped to remain in the coaching profession. Athletic Director Jack Coffey said no consideration had been given as to Danowski's successor but the matter probably would be discussed at today's meeting of the athletic board.

* * *

Following his graduation from Fordham in 1934 Danowski joined the New York Giants of the National Football League and developed into one of the greatest forward passers in pro history. From 1934 through 1939 he completed 307 passes in 645 attempts and paced the Giants to five Eastern and two world's championships.

* * *

He took over at Fordham in 1946 and in nine years his teams won 29 games, lost 44 and tied 3. The most sucessful year was an 8-1 reord in 1950.

Meantime, the Knoxville Journal said Robinson and his entire staff at Tennessee will be dismissed when contracts expire Dec. 31.

The Journal said the cheif reasons for the decision to make a change were defeats by Vanderbilt and Kentucky, both ancient foes of the Vols.

Baumholtz Deal Is Sidetracked

Cubs Failed to Obtain Waivers Before Sending Frank to Chisox

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—The sale of veteran outfielder Frankie Baumholtz of the Chicago Cubs to the Chicago White Sox has been nullified — at least temporarily — because Wid Matthews, director of player personnel for the Cubs, did not ask the other National League clubs for waivers.

* * *

"I made an honest mistake," Matthews said eary today. "I confused the Baumholtz deal with something else I had written on paper."

* * *

Matthews said he felt "morally obligated to deliver Baumholtz to the White Sox" and that he would now ask for waivers.

* * *

The Cubs announced Tuesday they had sold Baumholtz to the Sox for slightly in excess of the waiver price of $10,000.

* * *

Warren Giles, president of the National League, probably would have to rule if any National League club now claimed Baumholtz.

U. S. Cup Hopes Rise

Seixas Moves to Finals as Australians Worry Over Hoad's Lackadaisical Play

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia's Davis Cup hopes tumbled to a new low Thursday as America's Vic Seixas cut down an unhappy, lackadaisical Lew Hoad in the semi-finals of the Victoria Tennis championships.

* * *

Supremely confident and showing a rare touch, the tall U. S. titleholder from Philadelphia won over Australia's problem child in a drizzling rain and tricky gale-like winds at Kooyong Stadium 6-4, 6-2, 7-5.

On Saturday, Seixas plays Aussie Ken Rosewall for the title, but nothing that happens then can lift the pall hanging over this tennis-mad nation as a result of the complete collapse of Australia's No. 1 star.

Rosewall won the right to play Seixas by whipping his fellow countryman, Rex Hartwig, 6-2, 6-2, 6-3 in the other semifinal.

* * *

The 20-year-old Hoad, who scored two important singles victories in the challenge round against the United States a year ago, was on the verge of tears when he left the court a badly beaten victim of Seixas nimble racquet.

"Lew is a badly mixed up kid," said Adrian Quist, the youngster's employer and adviser. "He's so troubled with himself he just does not give a darn. It will be necessary to do something to revive his enthusiasm for the game."

* * *

Bill Talbert, captain of the U.S. Cup team, was greatly pleased with Seixas' victory, but was quick to point out the danger of thinking that the United States is sure to win back the cup this year.

"It would be foolish for us to be lulled into a feeling of satisfaction at this stage," Talbert said. "Certainly Hoad is in bad form and his mental attitude is not all to be desired, but we know this much, Australia has many good players and they will have a singles player against us who wants to win. If not Hoad, it will be somebody like Mervyn Rose, Hartwig or someone else."

Tigers Buy Southpaw

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Tigers purchased southpaw Robert Shultz yesterday from the Pittsburgh Pirates for an undisclosed sum.

Schultz, who stands 6-foot-3 and weighs 205 pounds, won 18 games and lost 11 with New Orleans of the Southern Association last season. He formerly was the property of the Chicago Cubs.

Lodge Expressway Too Much for Indian

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. Murlidhar Sahumo, an interne from India, told Traffic Judge John D. Watts yesterday he was so "intrigued" by a Detroit expressway he "just had to speed."

He was arrested for driving 85 miles an hour in a 55-mile zone on the John C. Lodge Expressway.

"I was not going 85 but I will admit to 70," said Dr. Sahumo. "The open feeling on the expressway intrigued me. We do not have roads like these in India. They are beautiful, almost unbelievable."

Judge Watts fined him $25 for reckless driving.

Drunken Actor Scandal Rocks Soviet Theater

MOSCOW (AP)—Moscow's Stanislavsky Theater has been rocked by a scandal. A leading male star of the company was fired for drunkenness and lack of theatrical discipline.

"There is no room among Soviet artists for drunkards, rowdies, violators of trade discipline, or Bohemian geniuses," declared Soviet Culture, reporting the downfall of youthful star Eugene Vesnik. The newspaper tells how a theater in Saratov had scheduled its first performance of Emil Zola's drama "The Inheritors."

* * *

Everything was ready. The property man had set the stage; the electrician was at his post; the assistant stage manager was giving the last call. But where was the star?

"I don't want to play! I will not play!"

Finally the cast got him on stage and seated in a big armchair where he was to be discovered as the curtain rose.

THANKS, DADDY—Robert Bechtold, of Massillon, Ohio, shows the President's Medal of the National Safety Council, awarded to him for saving the life of Roberta, his five-year-old daughter. Sanding Machine Plays Bridal 'Tune'

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — The first wedding in the new Bannock County Courthouse was performed yesterday to the accompaniment of music from a sanding machine and decorations by the Pocatello Painters Union.

The bride was Charlene Gay Parris, of Virginia, Idaho. She was dressed in white and red accessories. The groom was William Arthur Gunter, of Arimo.

When they appeared to be married they found the old county courthouse, which was built in the 1890s, being torn down. County Commission Chairman Cantril Neilson said he thought the old building unsatisfactory for a wedding arranged for it in a room in the nearly completed first floor of the new building.

UNESCO Head Gets Authority for Dismissals

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The UNESCO Administrative Commission has authorized Director General Luther H. Evans to dismiss staff members "lacking the highest standards of integrity." The action cleared one obstacle to Evans' firing of three American employes who refused to answer U.S. loyalty board questions.

The commission last night approved a series of amendments to staff regulations which Evans — an American citizen — had proposed as a result of a running argument with Washington officials over the trio.

UNESCO sources said the director general is now expected to dismiss all three if a special advisory board concurs. Evans had claimed he lacked authority to fire them.

Lionel Wills $25,000 Estate to His Nurse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lionel Barrymore's $25,000 estate will go to 40-year-old Miss Florence Rozella Wheeler, who was his nurse for many years.

The veteran actor, who died Nov. 15 at the age of 76, named Miss Wheler as his sole beneficiary. His will, filed for probate yesterday, specified that anyone succeeding in establishing claim to the estate should receive no more than $1.

Smog Records Snatched

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A thief broke a window screen on an office building, reached in, and grabbed for valuables. All he got, the Stanford Research Institute reported, was a notebook of smog control records—"flowmeter calibration charts."

U. of M. Faculty Aids Fired Man

Money Requested for Instructor Ousted After Defying Solons

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A committee of University of Michigan faculty members said last night it has drawn up a letter requesting contributions to raise money for dismissed mathematics instructor H. Chandler Davis.

Davis was dismissed by the University's Board of Regents last August when he refused to answer questions before a House unAmerican activities subcommittee headed by Rep. Clardy (R-Mich).

He used the Fifth Amendment in refusing the answer and now is facing contempt of Congress charges in Grand Rapids' District Federal Court.

The letter, signed by some 75 faculty members, will be sent to all members of the University's Literary College faculty, the committee said.

Prof. Raoul Bott, who says he is "sort of in charge" of the committee, said his group hopes to raise a sum comparable to the $5,000 salary Davis would have received if he had not been dismissed.

The committee said its purpose is to provide support for Davis' family. His wife now is in the hospital after giving birth to his third child. Davis now is unemployed.

"My feelings about the plan are mixed," said Davis. "Naturally I'm gratified that the committee is concerned, but responsibility for my unemployment is the regents, not my colleagues. It is he regents who owe me severance pay."

Teen Drivers Will Hold Safety Meet in February

LANSING (UP)—The second Michigan teenage driver safety conference will be held sometime in February, Gov. G. Mennen Williams announced today.

Williams met with an adult teenage advisory committee yesterday to map plans for the regional meetings that will lead to the statewide conference.

Find Detroiter Guilty of Beating Little Girl

DETROIT (AP) — Kenneth Easter, 34, of Detroit, was found guilty of beating his 11-year-old stepdaughter yesterday and sentenced to 90 days in jail.

The stepdaughter, Nancy, was in tears throughout her testimony as she told Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca how Easter hit and shoved her down the basement stairs of their home last Nov. 21. Her left leg was broken.

Policewoman Marjorie Fleming said Easter was convicted of cruelty to children in 1949 when he beat his son, Kenneth. She said he was placed on two years probation and violated it four times. He also was twice convicted af assault and battery on his wife, Mary, 28.

Hopes Labor Will Finish Welfare 'Clean-Up' Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman McConnell (R-Pa) said today he is hopeful labor unions will act to "clean up" their welfare fund operations as a result of hearings held this week by his House Labor subcommittee.

It is possible, he said, that the investigation will lead to corrective legislation unless the unions themselves take action to cure "abuses" in welfare funds handling and try to "safeguard" benefits for rank-and-file members.

Straits Ferries Starting Early Winter Schedule

LANSING (AP)—The early winter schedule for Straits of Mackinac ferries went into effect today, to continue through Jan. 1, when the ferries go on the winter schedule.

The three ferries remaining in operation will leave Mackinaw City on the hour every hour from 5 a.m. to 1 a.m. and leave St. Ignace hourly from 4 a.m. until midnight, the State Highway Department said.

Air Officer Says U.S. Ahead of Reds in Arms

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Nathan F. Twining, Air Force chief of staff, says the United States is ahead of Russia in the armament race and its best chance for peace is "to stay there."

He told an American Ordnance Assn. dinner last night:

"Only if we give them (the Soviets) reason to believe that the freedom which was fought for at Valley Forge, at Verdun, at Tarawa and at Taegu is no longer worth the cost of battle—only then will they feel free to attack."

Proposes to Lady Cop in Attempt to Stay Free

OMAHA (UP)—Thomas Judd Bennett, 50, was arrested for petty larceny and proposed matrimony "several times" to a policewoman to avoid going to jail.

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series

Maybe once in a car-buying lifetime, you come across something that breaks all the old patterns and establishes new ones. This is that kind of car. This is the true story of how Chevrolet and General Motors shaped a new idea in steel.

Like most good ideas, this one is pretty simple. But it wasn't an easy one to carry out. For Chevrolet and General Motors set out with the idea of building the first low-priced car that would do all these things:

- bring you the very freshest and finest styling to be had.
- bring you the most advanced engine design and engineering features.
- bring you the kind of performance and the kind of ride that have never been available before in a low-priced car.

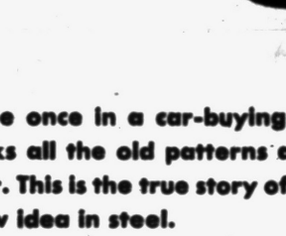
All this in Chevrolet's price field? That did take some doing! And isn't it logical that only Chevrolet and General Motors have the people, the skills, the resources and facilities, to carry out this exciting new concept? Here is how this new Chevrolet changes all your own ideas about cars!



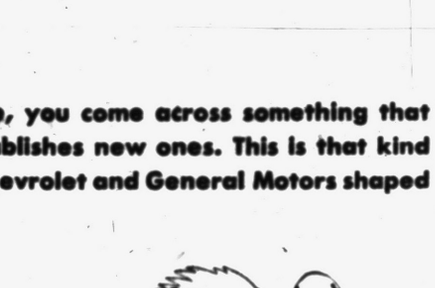
Real Show-Car Styling!

Your eye tells you the Motoramic Chevrolet is no styling "patch-up" job. A rakish, low profile . . . soft swiftness from its sleek rear fenders to its wide-eyed Sweep-Sight windshield . . . a new outlook for motoring. And that outlook doesn't change when you slip inside . . . there's more room for hats and hips . . . exciting fabrics and trim harmonized with the whole car . . . as carefully as a bride matches carpet to curtains.

A Sensational Ride!

You live the new idea instantly . . . you glide . . . actually glide because spherical joints "roll with the punch" of the road in Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. And outrigger rear springs mean new balance in turns . . . turns made so effortless by new ball-race steering.

And when you stop suddenly, new Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front . . . you get more level stopping. Tubeless tires mean much greater protection against blowouts. And with new high-level ventilation there's fresher air.



Power Beyond Compare!

You also feel the new idea quickly . . . quick power like a panther's paw with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And sparking this performance is a 12-volt electrical system giving you better ignition, faster starting, greater electrical reserve for any of the power assists you might desire. You have a transmission choice of economical Overdrive and improved, automatic Powerglide (optional at extra cost) or standard shift.

Even Air Conditioning!

And if you desire the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost) . . . you'll find new power-steering and improved power brakes on all models. Power-controlled windows and powershift seat are available on the Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models, while air conditioning may be added on V8 models.

Won't You Try It?

Here, we can only tell you how sucessfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get.

WORK SQUAD — Last-minute preparations for the annual Waterford Township High School carnival are being made in the high school gymnasium these days. To be held Saturday from 7:30 to 11:30 p. m., the carnival will feature the crowning of the king and queen, a dance and dozens of booths and exhibits. Shown working on booth frames are, left to right: Karl Liawert, Allan Olson and Sally Purcell.

Oakland Cattle Get TB Tests

Seek to Establish Rating of County as Modified Tuberculosis-Free Area

Tuberculin testing for the purpose of reaccreditation of Oakland county as a modified tuberculosis-free area by the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the United States Department of Agriculture is now under way.

Townships in which cattle are being tested are Holly, Groveland, Brandon, Oxford, Addison, Oakland, Orion, Independence, Springfield, Rose, Waterford, Pontiac, and Avon.

Bovine tuberculosis has cost Michigan dairymen and stockmen hundreds of thousands of dollars. Under certain conditions it is transmissible to man.

One-half of each county is retested every three years, and the infection must not exceed one-half of one per cent in order for the county to be reaccredited as a tuberculosis-free area.

Testing will be done by local veterinarians wherever their services are available to the state.

Waterford High Students Plan All-School Carnival

The annual all-school carnival which draws hundreds of spectators to view the crowning of the school king and queen and to enjoy the wares of the student-made booths will be staged Saturday from 7:30 to 11:30 p.m.

The carnival is a project of the senior class. Contenders for the royal crown in the queenship division are Nancy Johnson, Ann Secan, Joanne Thomas and Sandy White.

Hunters Take More Bear, Fewer Deer

LANSING (AP)—Fewer deer but a lot more bear were killed in the Upper Peninsula and carried across on Straits ferries this season, the State Highway Department reported.

With the close of the hunting season, the department reported that 9,989 deer were carried on the straits ferries this year compared to 10,651 a year ago. But 497 bear were carried this season as against 331 a year ago.

In other species, the ferry attendants counted nine wolves, 43 coyotes, 27 bobcats and 12 fox this season. The count last year was six wolves, 23 coyoytes, 36 bobcat and 12 fox.

Detroiter Gets Fined for Stealing Food

West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle yesterday fined Theodore Lewandowski, 64, of 1332 Bagley, Detroit, $25 and $25 costs after the Detroiter pleaded guilty to simple larceny.

Lewandowski admitted taking food from the Franklin Hills Country Club where he worked this year as a dishwasher.

Drop Off Discarded Toys at Auburn Fire Hall

AUBURN HEIGHTS — The American Legion, Fireman's Association and the Auburn Heights Lions Clubs are conducting a "Discarded Toy Crusade" to procure toys for needy children at Christmas.

Area residents with toys no longer needed or used have been asked to drop them off at the Auburn Heights fire hall.

Accept Gift of 40-Acre Site for Lake Orion High School

LAKE ORION—Plans for Lake Orion's new high school appeared much nearer realization today with the announcement that the board of education has accepted the gift of a 40-acre tract of suitable land as the site for the proposed building.

During the past week a citizen's committee has investigated many available sites, some offered as gifts and some for sale.

The sub-committee on sites rates this location as best of those considered. Dr. Don Leu, of Michigan State College, school building consultant retained by the board of education to assist in plans for the new building, also inspected the site, and praised it.

The land, a 630-foot wide strip, lies along the north side of Scripps road, between M-24 and Bald Mountain road, about 2.5 miles south of the center of Lake Orion village.

The proposed building site itself, on high ground, is visible from M-24. The tract is approximately 3,000 feet long and adjoins the state-owned Bald Mountain Recreation Area on the north.

The ground has proper slope for good drainage, and the area is adequate for athletic fields, parking, and future school expansion.

Wesley B. Allen, president of the Lake Orion Board of Education, announced the tentative selection of the site at a meeting of the advisory committee.

"Names of the donors are not being revealed at this date," Allen said, "as certain legal technicalities regarding transfer of title to part of the property are still being worked out."

Since more than 80 per cent of the high school students are already being transported by bus, the location will not alter this transportation situation materially, according to Supt. Arlie A. Reed.

Eleven architects have been interviewed by the school board, and the field is now narrowed to three. Final selection is expected in a few days.

The next meeting of the advisory committee will be Dec. 21 to consider the reports of the committee on needs and requirements. The committee on finance is waiting until the needs report is submitted and discussed.

5 Found Alive at Wreck Site

2 Are Unaccounted for as Searchers Locate Northeast Plane

MILAN, N.H. (AP)—At least five of the seven persons marooned for two nights in cold mountain wilderness with a wrecked airplane were reported alive today.

Radio reports from a helicopter which landed on Mt. Success, a few miles south of here, said five persons were alive but did not indicate their condition.

First reports said two persons waved from the cabin. Later a third person was seen near the wreckage. After a helicopter was flown in, two others were reported alive.

The wrecked plane was discovered by A. M. Bountis of Manchester, N. H., a pilot for Trans-Ocean Airlines, who was among the searchers. Bountis said two persons were seen waving from the cabin.

Churchill Safe From Censure

But Official Apology for German Arms Speech Draws Fierce Attack

LONDON (UP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill appeared safe from censure today on his "Germans versus Russians" speech, but one of London's biggest newspapers demanded to know if he would "stay in power until he drops down dead."

Churchill confessed in the House of Commons yesterday that his memory may have failed him last week when he said in a speech he had ordered captured guns be stacked for use by the defeated Germans against the Russians in 1945 if the Soviets continued their advance into Western Europe.

Parliamentary observers said it was most unlikely that a censure motion would be introduced against Churchill in Commons. The Laborites seemed content not to press their advantage after hearing the Prime Minister's remarkable expression of "regrets."

But the London Daily Mirror, which has a circulation of 4,500,000, followed up Churchill's apology with one of the fiercest attacks by any British newspaper in years against a prime minister.

"Sir Winston Churchill has turned rejoicing over his 80th birthday to alarm and dismay about his failing powers," the Mirror said.

"What a tragedy that this man whose noble career was spent in the service of his country should be reduced to such a farcial performance in the House of Commons."

"How can our affairs be left any longer in the hands of a man whose memory fails him on vital issues?" the Mirror asked.

John Wayne's Wife Will Quit Acting Career

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—John Wayne says he has no special preference for Latin gals. It's just coincidence that he happens to marry them.

Last month the lumbering actor took his third bride, thereby keeping his record intact. Here's how it shapes up: No. 1—Josephine Saenz, daughter of a Dominican diplomat; No. 2 — Esperanza Baur, Mexican movie actress; No. 3—Pilar Palette, Peruvian beauty.

"I've never been conscious of going for any particular type," protests Wayne. "They say a man follows a pattern, but I haven't been aware of it myself. Each of the women I married has been entirely different.

* * * *

"I certainly don't have anything against American women. As a matter of fact, my wives have been as much American as they have been Latin. None of them speaks with an accent.

"My first wife had a French and Spanish mother and father, but she was brought up in Texas. Esperanza spent a lot of time in this country, not here, but in Florida and elsewhere. And Pilar has been here a great deal and speaks English perfectly."

I asked him if Pilar will pursue her acting career, and he replied with an emphatic no.

"She never had much of a career," he explained. "Once Sol Lesser sent a crew to Peru to make a picture about hunting Inca gold, and they needed a girl to walk in front of the camera with bare feet and long hair. She did it. Then an independent producer went down there to make a picture, using amateur actors, and she was in it. But I don't think the picture was ever released here."

Wayne said that he and his bride will have a honeymoon—at home. They've been traveling all over the world, he explained, and will be happy to sit by the hearth for a while. He still has a week's work to go in "The Sea Chase," and it can't finish too soon for him.

Wilson With Crewcut Confuses Gobel Fans

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Since my crewcut, people say I look like George Gobel.

At an NBC party for Gobel's winning the Sylvania "Comedian of the Year" Award, a woman exclaimed to me, "Mr. Gobel, I've enjoyed you so much on television."

Don Ameche belts out Cole Porter's ballads so well in "Silk Stockings" in Philadelphia that folks'll forget he invented the telephone. He's been studying voice for two years.

Which reminds me: Grace Kelly—who isn't going to marry Oleg Cassini: they're "just good friends"—said recently, "People in my building got such a thrill!" Listeners thought maybe tenants had seen her with the shades up. "Don Ameche moved in," she explained.

With Marilyn Monroe hoping to come in to exploit the picture "No Business Like Show Business"—Joe's already here—Actor Hugh O'Brien, who's also in the film, says:

"Marilyn's the only singer I know who, when she sings, you don't notice her voice."

KIM NOVAK

Kim Novak's studio, Columbia Pictures, has destroyed all its old pictures of her and is starting all over. "That's because in the beginning they didn't know whether they wanted her to be Marilyn Monroe or Rita Hayworth," it's explained. "They've finally decided they want her to be Kim Novak."

Ginger Rogers—who goes to the Stage Delicatessen to eat the pastrami—was told by Boss Max Asnas that Broadway, which has many many "New Faces" revues, should now have an "Old Faces" production. He wants Frank Fay, Bert Wheeler, and Phil Baker in it—with every old-timer who comes to town taking a bow. Best idea we've heard in months.

Groucho Mark has something to say about his son Arthur's writing a book called "Life With Groucho." Says Groucho: "In this one year, four sons have perpetrated books about their fathers. If this trend keeps up, I wouldn't be surprised if a lot of fathers stop having sons and just concentrate on girls. But now that I think of it, that's how they probably got into this trouble to begin with—by concentrating on girls."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Dick Haymes is to be allowed to leave the U. S. voluntarily "in lieu of deportation," then after a few months will file for re-entry—and be granted permission. The draft-dodger charge will be dropped. No wonder he's feeling good.

Zsa Zsa and Rubirosa laughed most at the Latin Quarter when Mae West told her leading man, "If you get any closer, you'll make a bum out of Rubirosa." . . . Rob't. Cummings expects his new baby and his TV show about Jan. 1 . . . Lillian Roth signed for six annual return dates at El Rancho Vegas.

Earl's Pearls . . .

Mary McCoy described Marilyn Monroe: "When she crosses the street, the DRIVERS look both ways."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "A bachelor apartment," notes Gene Weber, "is a place with a wall full of etchings and a sink full of dishes."

IT'S BILL HOLDEN'S LINE in "Country Girl": "There are two kinds of women. Some pay too much attention to their appearance; the others don't pay enough." That's Earl, brother.

Instrument Gift Tops at Yuletide

Entire Family Can Get Many Years of Pleasure Through Music

One of the most charming, warm, beautiful and challenging gifts you can choose for someone in the family is a musical instrument.

The variety of instruments matches any gift budget and can suit any degree of musical interest and skill and age group.

Of course, you've got to know who is going to get the gift. If it's going to be for the whole family, then it will be something like a piano or organ. Many families have pooled their in-the-family gift funds for one major gift like this.

But while it's going to provide a center of fun for the kids and a relaxing hobby for the adults, it takes expert advice by a reputable dealer to buy the gift.

You'll want to listen to the tone and resonance of such an instrument. And you'll want to plan on your floor space and room arrangement in buying it.

If the gift is going to be for the children, your selection can cover all of the simple rhythm and melody instruments. The tiny tots will like drums and rhythm sticks. But the four and five-year-olds will go for ukuleles and flutes or tubas and cornets—now available in plastic.

If the musical instrument is for the teenagers, look at the guitars available at your local music store. This instrument is a good accompaniment to singing. But make sure it has been constructed well, because it is sure to be passed around the party soon.

Accordions are popular among the teenagers. There are semi-accordions, 12-bass and 120-bass jobs, each with an increased playing range and increased price.

For the kids who go for South American rhythms, there is the Bongo—a small pair of drums with a high beat; and the Congo—a tall, tapered drum with a deep tone.

If the instrument is to be for school, that will require your talking with the head of the music department. The selection is very wide: woodwinds, brasses, percussion instruments or strings.

If the instrument is for hobby, don't overlook the old recorder—a flute-like woodwind with a haunting tone.

Young French Reporter Surprised by Murder Trial

CLEVELAND (INS) — France Soir, the largest paper on the continent, said today:

"Sam Sheppard un petit garcon de sept ans s'test promene hier a Cleveland transformee deja en creche geante avec tous les abres de Noel qui illumine 'public square' la place principal de la ville. Sam Sheppard tenant la main de sa tante contemplait une vitrine de jouets."

"Pedant ce temps dans une salle Surchauffee du Tribunal de Cleveland le pere de cet enfant le Dr. Sam Sheppard luttait contre la chaise electrique. Le Dr. Sam Sheppard est accuse d'avoir tue sa femme Marilyn decouverte le 4 Juillet dernier dans son lit le crane fracasse."

I asked the brilliant French reporter on hand for the Sheppard trial to translate what he had written. He is Daniel Morgaine, youngest French correspondent in this country. He is a big hit at the trial, having been interviewed by the Cleveland Plain Dealer and on local radio and TV.

Morgaine, who came up through the sportswriting ranks in French journalism, will go on from here to San Francisco to cover the Olson-Longlois fight for the middleweight title Dec. 15. Before coming to this sordid affair in Cleveland he covered the trip of Mendes-France to Canada and the U.S.

Morgaine was more than cooperative when we asked for a translation. He sat down at my typewriter and tapped out:

"Sam Sheppard seven years old little boy was walking in Cleveland street yesterday. Cleveland who is already change in a giant creche with all illuminated Christmas trees. Sam Sheppard was holding his aunt's hand. He was looking a toys shopwindow.

"During this time in a very warm room of the Criminal Court Building of Cleveland the father of this child, Dr. Sam Sheppard was fighting against the electric chair.

"Dr. Sam Sheppard is accused to have killed his wife Marilyn discovered on July the 4th in her bed the face thirty five times injured."

Which, I hasten to add, is much better than I could do if covering the trial in Digne, France, of the murder of Sir Jack Drummond and his family by 77-year-old Gaston Dominici, recently voted most likely man in his province to meet the guillotine.

Daniel has noticed some odd things in Judge Edward Blythin's court, when contrasted to his knowledge of French and British courts.

The handcuffs on Dr. Sam, for instance. Daniel Morgaine had been led to believe that in the U.S. a man on trial was considered innocent until proved guilty. "Why then handcuffs?" He asked me, and I couldn't answer. He wondered, too, about the miscrophones in the courtroom, lack of robes and elaborate courtesy between rival counsel, and the absence of wigs.

The jury "with chewing gums" reminded him of a movie, as seen from the screen—looking out into the audience. He was astounded by the size of Judge Blythin's courtroom, which he found oppressively hot and, to boot, so small that "Marilyn Shepard's aunt must sit next to Dr. Stephen Sheppard. They do not speak. But they are very dignified."

He was suprised, too, by the fact that the jury is not older. But most of all he was surprised, and pleased, by the presence in the box of Mrs. Luella Williams. "I never saw a colored people on a jury," whose stories are front page news in Paris.

said this bright and observant young man from France Soir.

Sheriff Holds His Nose While Counting Bounties

CHARLES CITY, Va. (AP)—Each month the sheriff and clerk of courts conduct a nose count—while holding their own. They count noses of dead groundhogs and skunks and the beaks of crows to total up the bounties due the slayers. Skunks and groundhogs are worth 50 cents each, crows bring 15 cents.

Grains Steady in Active Trade

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 (AP) — An active trade developed in grains on the Board of Trade today but the market was not able to move far in either direction from the previous close.

There was a slight side at the opening. This was brought about by a modest overnight accumulation of selling orders in the hands of commission houses, apparently created by the drop in the last half of yesterday's session.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ¼ higher, December $2.27¼; corn ¼ lower to ¼ higher, December $1.57½; oats unchanged to ¾ lower, December 81⅝; rye unchanged to ½ lower, December $1.22¼; soybeans ¾ lower to ½ higher, January $2.81¾; and lard 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $14.10.

More Russians to Be Farmers

Surplus Desk Workers Will Be Used in Fields to Up Food Production

MOSCOW (AP)—Another massive effort for 1955, to move more people to Soviet farms to raise enough food for the growing population, is forecast in the Moscow press.

This is to be the second big push. And this time, it is indicated, a real effort will be made to weed out surplus employes in overstuffed government ministries, not only in Moscow but in all the republic (provincial) capitals. They will be sent out to do their bit on the virgin lands, state farms and machine tractor stations.

Khrushchev kicked off the first of his multiple farm drives in September 1953. Volunteers were recruited and the country was able to report a slight increase in grain production but still fell short of the goals in livestock raising.

Now the leaders want to open more acreage, with more people. The Soviets need more grain not only for their own people but for trading purposes.

The Ministry of Health announced that those it dismissed would be guaranteed new jobs. The announcement said the best opportunities seem to be on the virgin lands of Siberia and Central Asia. It repeated all the inducements given to prospective farmers—cash bonuses, tax exemptions, free railway tickets, loans for building cottages, etc.

The Communist party organ Pravda says the whole government needs streamlining and that there are still too many paper pushers in the Soviet Union.

Detroit Firm Buys Grand Rapids Transit

GRAND RAPIDS—City Coach Lines, Inc., of Detroit, is buying the bus and taxicab properties of Grand Rapids Motor Coach Co. for $307,430 and will take over operation Dec. 15.

The Detroit company filed suit in Kent County Circuit Court in May asking an audit of the books and later asking receivership. It owns 9,000 shares of the local bus company stock.

Louis J. Delmarter Sr., president of the Grand Rapids company, will continue as chairman of the board and consultant to the new company, to be known as Grand Rapids City Coach Lines.

Clumsy Possum Evicted During Nightly Prowl

PULASKI, Va. (AP)—The crash of shattering glass brought Carl Haner awake with a start. On a chair beside his bed lay 40 pounds of loose change—some $300 proceeds from the Kiwanis Kids Day peanut sale.

Haner ran to the basement. The door was still locked. But a wrench had fallen into a shelf of fruit jars.

Officer I. D. Long's report:

Packard Holds Private Show

Firm Tries to Recapture Spot With Completely Restyled Car

DETROIT (AP) — Packard cars for 1955, completely restyled after a two-year program to recapture Packard's former prominence in the higher-priced car field, were shown at a privat edisplay today.

James J. Nance, president of Studebaker-Packard Corp., told a news conference the cars are being produced in new Detroit area facilities representing the greatest move in the company's history.

Nance said the main aim for 1955 was to make comfort an outstanding feature rather than place the emphasis on horsepower as other auto firms have done.

Nance said public introduction of the new Packards and Clippers scheduled for January, has already been preceded by receipt of 20,000 advance orders.

He said all economic barometers point to 5,600,000 units in new car sales for the auto industry in 1955. He added that Packard dealers are in a stronger position to compete for what shapes up as a bigger market potential for prestige class transportation.

Selective-Cell Process Is New

Huge Installation Here Is Only One of Kind Built to Date

By ROBERT B. TARR
Pontiac Press Managing Editor

Those highly polished, chrome plated bumpers which highlight the 1955 Pontiac cars are being processed in a new automatic plating machine at Pontiac Motor Division which is termed the most modern in the industry.

It employs a new process in plating; it is the largest continuous line plating machine and to date it is the only one of its kind.

Built by Udylite Corp. of Detroit the machine is 460 feet long and has a capacity of 360 bumpers an hour.

The new machine, using what its designers call the "selective cell" system, suspends racks of bumpers in successive tanks for each plating operation, and in washing tanks between operation.

This permits anodes to be arranged in the shape of the metal being plated, to achieve a more uniform strike of the several metals.

In the plating process used at Pontiac Motor bumpers receive a cyanide copper coating to assure a chemically clean surface for the main copper plating, then nickel plating and finally the chrome cover which gives the highly polished surface on the finished product.

The machine is the latest word in automation. After carriers are loaded manually the parts are not touched until they are ready for the assembly line. The machine does all other operations even to by-passing loaded tanks with each rack to find an empty one with each load. There are eight tanks for the major copper dip and 16 for nickel, in addition to numerous washing sprays and tanks.

In the plating process bars of the metal to be used (copper, nickel, chrome) are immersed in an acid liquid with the metal to be plated. Electric current causes a coating of the metals to cover the parts being plated. Careful control of factors such as temperature, electric current and time, determines thickness of the plating.

The process uses about 50,000 pounds of copper and about the same of nickel a month. The copper plating cells operate with 60,000 amperes of current at 6 volts; the nickel at 40,000 amperes at 9 volts.

Cost of designing, building and installing the huge machine was in excess of $2 million dollars and auxiliary and standby equipment boosted the figure even higher.

Reserve pumps, heat exchangers, and similar installations equipment are available for every station on the machine to provide continuous operation even when repairs or adjustments are needed.

A departure from former plating installations, the machine at Pontiac has all tanks and machines on floor level. Previously, tanks frequently were sunk below the floor. Racks of parts are carried overhead on a specially designed Cleveland Tramrail and all operations proceed automatically.

Officers of Udylite, which has some 700 plating machines in operation throughout the country, report the Pontiac installation is the largest the firm has ever built. The smallest is 30 feet in size.

Sees Rocket Airliners

CHICAGO (AP)—A former German army rocket expert says rocket-propelled airliners can be built in the next 10 or 15 years with speeds up to 13,000 miles an hour. Dr. Walter R. Dornberger, missile specialist for Bell Aircraft Corp., said such aircraft could flash from San Francisco to Australia in 1½ hours.

Cow Time-Study Made

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—According to the Virginia Experiment Station, cows on a grass-legume pasture spend nine hours grazing, six hours loafing and 8½ hours ruminating. The experts said 51 per cent of the grazing is done at night, and 15 of the 24 hours are spent in a standing position.

Fire Strikes Lapeer Apartment House

LAPEER — Fire which struck a four-family apartment home at 190 Higgins St. this morning caused an estimated $2,500 to $3,000 damage, firemen estimated.

The blaze, which was confined to the apartment of Mrs. William Vesely, destroyed two rooms of her first-floor flat. Fire started in a back room used for storage, and quickly spread to the kitchen. Spontaneous combustion was considered a possible cause.

Mrs. Vesely discovered the flames about 8:45 a.m. and called the firemen, who fought the blaze for a half hour. No one was injured. Besides the destruction of the two rooms, water damage was reported in a basement apartment and smoke damage in other rooms.

Faltering Firm Reports Much Improved Position

PORT HURON (AP)—Pressed Metals of America, Inc., auto parts firm which once feared it would have to liquidate because of lost business, reports a much improved competitive position.

Recently the company has added 40 workers. It now has a total of 425.

The company had lost contracts when automobile manufacturers developed their own auto wheel suspensions and ceased to depend on pressed metals.

Business Notes:

Pontiac Output Takes Big Spurt

November Near Double Corresponding Month of Year Ago

The corporation produced 303,935 vehicles this November, compared to 135,155 during the same month in 1953. The heavy increase was due to an earlier display of new models.

GMC Truck and Coach Division's production rose from 5,668 in November, 1953 to 6,135 last month. GMC, however, introduced no new models at this time.

This year's 11-month total is 3,065,803, last year's 3,248,171.

Two Drivers Injured as Autos Collide

Two Rochester motorists are in Pontiac General Hospital with injuries suffered when their cars collided on Auburn road near Livernois road in Avon Township.

James E. Smith, 31, of 2594 Weaverton, the other motorist, sustained fractured ribs and cuts of knee and forehead and is reported in good condition.

MERRY CHRISTMAS FROM PETER PAN—To the Neverland of fantasy comes a realistic note as Christmas comes early this year to Heller Halliday, shown receiving a United States Savings Bond from her mother, actress Mary Martin. Both are playing in the current Broadway musical production of James Barrie's immortal "Peter Pan." As Peter Pan, Miss Martin wishes that every boy and girl could receive a Savings Bond for Christmas. So she hopes that parents will play Peter Pan to their children by giving them the Christmas present for a brighter tomorrow—a United States Savings Bond.

3-1 Air Advantage Seen

Asia Reds Hold 3-2 Edge Over Allied Ground Forces on Duty in Far East Zone

Editor's Note: The announcement last night of a mutual defense treaty between the United States and Nationalist China raises the natural question—How do we stack up militarily against Communist Forces in the Far East? The answer is given in the following article by INS Far Eastern director Marvin Stone, who recently completed an on-the-spot survey of key areas in that part of the world.

By MARVIN STONE

TOKYO (INS) — Communist ground armies hold a 3-2 edge in numbers over combined free world forces in Asia today and they are building up to a massive 3-1 advantage in the air.

Latest estimates of Red power, compiled from reliable sources including Western intelligence, further indicate that the Communist military machine is very nearly as well equipped and modern as that of the U.S. and its allies.

The four major Communist land armies in Asia—Red China, the Soviet Far East Army in Siberia, North Korea and Indochina's Vietminh—are believed to be holding a total force of 3,600,000 soldiers under arms.

Arrayed against them are 2,400,000 free world troops, including such diverse contingents as U.S. Marines, Republic of Korea (ROK) infantrymen, Malayan military police and Nationalist Chinese infantrymen.

In the air it is Russia-Red China on one side, the U.S. Far East Air Force on the other, for America is providing virtually all the free world's air might in Asia.

An estimate considered most recent gives Russia credit for 4,500 planes and Red China credit for another 2,000—a total of 6,500 against the Far East Air Force's over-all 2,400 planes of all types.

Backbone of the Communist land forces is Pieping's reported Army of 2,500,000. This includes an estimated 600,000 in North Korea and another 1,900,000 on the mainland, possibly 1,000,000 of them poised along the east coast.

At least half of this gigantic force has been completely modernized, a standardized Chinese version of the Soviet model.

Additionally, the Red Chinese on the mainland have an estimated 600,000 men in their "Kung An" divisions, or troops used for home-front security. They form the backbone of the Red Chinese reserve corps.

Within 13 months the Chinese are expected to have 165 first-class combat divisions. The Red Chinese army has standardized the division to 10,000 men, with recoilless rifles, rocket launchers, mortars, cannon and antiaircraft, as well as division artillery.

Of the free world's total, there are 15 "Western divisions"—American, British and French—scatered from Korea to Malaya.

In contrast, the Russians alone maintain between 35-40 divisions in Eastern Siberia—their Far East Army.

The Chinese Nationalists, with similar help, have 21 divisions, an estimated total ground army of 500,000 men. Some 300,000 are ready for combat at any time.

Other free world troops are scattered through Japan, Okinawa, the Philippines, South Indochina and Malaya.

The North Korean Communists, with 350,000 troops, today have a bigger army than before the Korean War. The Vietminh Army of Ho Chi-minh includes an estimated 250,000 soldiers.

Intelligence sources believe the Russian Far East Air Force, based in Siberia and in Chinese Manchuria, includes 2,500 jet fighters and another 750 twin-jet bombers in the 4,500 total poised on Asia's rim.

The Red Chinese are believed to have 950 MIG-15 fighters—many being replaced by the superior all-weather MIG-17—and 150 IL-28s, the Russian-biult twin-engine jet bomber.

In a year the Red Chinese will have 3,500 planes, according to current estimates. They are said to be training 2,500 pilots a year.

Russians Settle Iranian Dispute Over Debts, Line

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Soviet Union signed a pact with Iran today agreeing to settle this country's war debt claims and iron out frontier differences dating back to czarist times.

The debt claims involve a bill of 11 tons of gold and 8 million dollars the Russians ran up during World War II. Iran said it was for services to the Soviet forces when Allied forces occupied the country to keep open a supply line from the West to the Soviet Union.

Soviet Ambassador Anatoli Lavrientiev signed the pact to settle the claims, thus ending a long period of negotiations often marked by acrimonious exchanges.

* * *

An Iranian Foreign Office official predicted last July the agreement would be signed but apparently there was a hitch in the negotiations.

Hamid Sayah, who had been handling the Iranian side of the negotiations, said the gold would be paid in ingots and the eight million dollars in Soviet products.

The adjustments on the 750-mile northern border involve some areas about which there has been dispute since the times of the czars.

Michigan Forest Fires Seem at All-Time Low

LANSING (AP) — Forest fires in Michigan will aparently be at an all-time low this year, the conservation Department said today.

To date, fires have burned 3,384 acres in the state, the department average of about 7,500 acres for the previous five years.

Few fires are usually reported after November because of the rain and snow. No fires were reported last week and the department expects few, if any, during the rest of the year.

Students of population believe the number of people in Tibet has been decreasing because of the large number of celibate monks and the practice of polyandry—a system under which two or more brothers have one wife.

Committee Hits Wasted Expense

Barrymore Is Included on Board of Critics Who Rapped Shows

By JACK GAVER

NEW YORK (UP) — The committee of judges for the Sylvania Television Awards of 1954 is made up of a number of polite persons such as Ethel Barrymore, Deems Taylor and James A. Farley, so its review of TV carefully avoided the use of so controversial a word as "spectacular."

However, there was no mistaking the target of a knuckle-rapping section that referred to special programming for color transmission, involving prodigious effort and vast sums of money, and observed:

"But have the results been commensurate with the vast outlay? Sadly, we think not. Although we applaud the spirit of these enterprises and their striving to bring new entertainment techniques to television, we are forced to conclude that few have provided worthwhile entertainment. Those in charge of these shows must realize by now that an open checkbook does not guarantee a quality presentation."

However, the judges, who gave awards in 18 TV categories last night, viewed the picture tube with general satisfaction because "The past year has brought a definite upward swing in the quality of television programs.'

Foremost progress was noted "in the area of dramatic entertainment, and in programs of educational or public service nature," but—

"There is still too much time and energy devoted to trite, banal and downright silly concoctions. Many shows, in aiming at the widest possible audience, altogether miss the target of true entertainment values."

In short, television, like the movies, stage, radio or what-have-you, is never going to satisfy everyone.

The committee proved to be right up to date by giving awards to at least three entertainments that have been on the air only a few weeks—George Gobel, as the comedian of the year; "Medic," by James E. Moser, as the most outstanding program on television for which the second grand award in four years was made; "Disneyland," described as "the most outstanding television series for children of all ages."

Liquid Currency Used to Pay Rent, Man Says

DALLAS (UP)—The rent hadn't been paid, a landlady complained in Justice Court yesterday. She sought an order forcing the defendant to move.

"I don't remember it," the landlady said.

"Sure," said the defendant. "She drank the whisky and passed out."

Two Youths, Girl Jailed in Slaying of 82-Year-Old

CHICAGO (UP)—Two youths and a girl were sentenced in Criminal Court yesterday to prison terms totaling 317 years for killing an 82-year-old man June 26.

Pablo Delgado, 20, was sentenced to 199 years; Victor Camacho, 18, to 100 years; and Miss Emily Shouse, 16, to 18 years.

They were convicted after pleading guilty to a charge of murdering Joseph Gruner in an attempted robbery of a restaurant.

Army Reveals Injection for Lockjaw, Diphtheria

WASHINGTON (UP)—An Army researcher has announced a double-action injection against both diphtheria and lockjaw for adults.

Dr. Geoffrey Edsall, chief immunologist of the Army Medical Service Graduate School, told the Association of Military Surgeons that it might eventually be possible to put almost all available protective injections against other diseases into "one jumbo shot."

Educator Hits Closed Districts

Claims Non-Operating State Schools Drain Off Needed Revenue

EAST LANSING (UP) — The some 800 closed Michigan school districts which no longer operate schools were termed a "dry rot" in the Michigan educational system by a speaker at the annual conference of superintendents and school boards at Michigan State College.

"Millions of dollars appropriated for the support of schools in Michigan never get to the schools at all," H. T. James, director of the Michigan Administration Center, University of Chicago, told conference members yesterday.

"The money is diverted to maintain the favorable tax advantage of these 'islands of privilege,' the rich, non-operating or partially operating school districts.

"No state is so rich," he said, "that it can afford the luxury of continuing to appropriate huge funds to local school districts which perform services badly or not at all.

"Your state superintendents for years have pointed to the fact that the closed districts should be abolished," James said. "The reasons are logical—so logical that the Illinois and Wisconsin Legislatures have abolished them in the past four years."

2 — Discontinue the payments for tuition of non-resident pupils.

3 — Reduce or abolish appropriations distributed on a school census basis and divert the revenue now used for that purpose to a fund distributed under the equalization formula.

Tots Thank Traffic Cop

TULARE, Calif. (UP) — Kindergarten children had teacher write to Patrolman Finley Smith, thanking him "for showing us how to cross the street. We like you." Their tiny fingerprints adorned the letter.

Texan Wants His Bank to Be Tallest in Dallas

"This building is somewhat taller than I would have wished for," he said. Thornton is president of the Mercantile National Bank, whose 551-foot building has been Dallas' tallest.

Liquor Store Owner 'Paying' Unemployment

DENVER (UP)—Denver liquor store owner Louis Berg wishes two local bandits would get a job.

The two gunmen entered Berg's store last week and took $133. They told him they would return the money when they got jobs.

Last night the two men returned but took $138 from Berg.

Couldn't Save Himself

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP) — The Oklahoma highway patrol revoked the driver's license of a 32-year-old Ponca City Indian yesterday after he had been convicted of automobile theft. The patrol listed his name as Marvin Save the Others.

Cop's Brother to Stand Trial

Officer Says Turning In Relative 'Toughest Job' Anyone Could Ask

DETROIT (UP)—Two brothers stood side-by-side in recorder's court yesterday.

One of them was an accused felon, the other a patrolman who brought about the suspect's arrest.

The suspect, Henry de Pugh, 22, stood mute when arraigned before Judge Joseph A. Gillis on an armed robbery charge. He was released on $500 bond pending examination next Monday.

Since he was discharged from the army, Henry had been living with William and his wife. William suspected his brother when he noticed his service revolver was missing from his bureau drawer last Sunday.

While William was reporting the theft to his superiors at Sheafer station, he heard a police report of a beer store holdup. The description of the bandit matched Henry perfectly.

The patrolman said that turning in his "kid brother" was the "toughest job" anyone could ask of an officer.

Jailed for Editorials

ISTANBUL (UP)—Husseyin Cahid Yalcin, veteran Turkish newspaperman, has started serving a 26-month sentence for editorials in th newspaper Halkci which a court found insulting to the government.

Test Tube Explodes, Four Students Hurt

CHESTER, Pa. (UP)—A chemical-filled test tube exploded with a roar of flames and injured four pupils in a study hall at nearby Ridley Park High School yesterday.

Gordon Ziegler and Thomas Stiles, both 16, were seriously injured by flying glass. There were 30 pupils in the room.

Treated for cuts were John Pierson and Betty Clark, both 16.

School officials said the test tube was held under a desk in the rear of the room by an unnamed pupil.

There was no explanation where he got the chemicals.

Dr. William C. Menninger Lists Maturity Yardsticks

By MARGARET LATROBE

Most of us have our "pin-ups," tacked over the desk, the kitchen sink or the playroom wall. They remind us of the pleasant, the foolish, the funny or the dead serious.

It can be Marilyn Monroe. It can be Edgar Guest. It can be a Shakespearean soliloquy. But it is something we want to remember.

Dr. William C. Menninger, psychiatrist of Topeka, Kansas, in a lecture at Town Hall in New York the other day mentioned eight yardsticks by which people can evaluate their own degree of emotional maturity. And I wish he would print it up in card form for easy pin-up reference.

It would be a very good thing if you and I could take a gander at ourselves now and then, measuring our own maturity by the good doctor's eight criteria: (And incidentally, Menninger says that self-evaluation is morbid only if unhealthy tendencies are already dominant).

First—The ability to deal constructively with reality. Second—the capacity of finding more satisfaction in giving than receiving. Third—relative freedom from tensions and anxieties. Fourth—to adjust to others with mutual satisfaction and helpfulness (especially with our children). Fifth—the ability to accept frustrations. Sixth—the ability to profit from experience. Seventh—the ability to turn instinctive hostilities into creative, constructive channels. Eight—the capacity of love.

The signs of emotional illness are not as obvious as a toothache, unfortunately, except to those trained to perceive them. Many of us live with mental quirks, cultivate our strange little habits, and are miserable. The day hasn't yet come when emotional off-beats will be treated as frequently and casually as sore throats. Until it does, maybe it would help to glance now and then at Dr. Menninger's eight points on the yardstick of maturity.
