No Date Listed for Witnesses in Arson Case

Further Teamster Quiz Is Called Indefinite by Washington Group

Another avenue of investigation in the fire death of Teamster official Frank Kierdorf appears closed after the Senate Rackets Committee yesterday postponed indefinitely its proposed inquiry.

Paul Tierney, assistant committee counsel, said no hearings on the Kierdorf case are planned in the immediate future.

Earlier this month, Oakland County's circuit bench refused to order a one-man grand jury to probe circumstances surrounding the torch death of Kierdorf despite appeals by Attorney-General Paul L. Adams and Oakland Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

The rackets committee yesterday ended seven weeks of hearings into other Teamster affairs, but did not call the witnesses still under subpoena in the death of Kierdorf.

The union business agent from Flint appeared at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital the night of Aug. 3, his body covered with burns which police believe he received in an arson of a Flint dry cleaners.

He died four days later without explaining his injuries to police satisfaction.

Oakland County ties to the burning crystallized a month later when Mrs. Iris Harrelson, former wife of Teamster Local 614 President Leaun Harrelson, told police her husband and Herman Kierdorf, uncle of Frank, were concealing knowledge of the arson and Frank's actions following his being burned. Both denied the accusations.

Earlier a 13-day search for Herman, who was wanted for questioning about his nephew and for possession of a pistol silencer, made headlines across the nation. Herman eventually gave himself up and awaits trial on the silencer charge.

Both Harrelson and Herman Kierdorf were subpoenaed by the Rackets Committee when the grand jury petition was denied here on the grounds it would be "expensive and time-consuming out of all proportions to benefits derived."

The Kierdorf probe now rests with the state police who are still investigating all leads, in cooperation with the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office.

To Air Problem of Mental Aid

Judge Moore to Report in Lansing on Efforts to Place 500 Patients

Proposals on how to solve the problem of a gross shortage of hospital beds for Michigan's mental patients will be presented Friday in Lansing to the State Department of Mental Health Commission by Oakland County Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

As chairman of a committee composed of Michigan Probate judges chosen to delve into the crucial situation, Judge Moore reported that to date some 30 of 500 mental patients on hospital waiting lists have been placed where they can receive proper attention. The problem is still considered critical in the state.

Friday's gathering in the capital of the 17-member panel of judges with the commission will be aimed at "putting the heat on the commission to speed up these admissions," Judge Moore commented.

Returning aged patients in state hospitals to the counties, and leasing vacant beds in general hospitals for the waiting patients, are the major points the committee will push for, he pointed out.

Dr. Harry E. August, chairman of the commission, outlined to Judge Moore in a letter the drawbacks of carrying out his suggested plan. The state's "greatest bottleneck," Dr. August said, was the lack of professionally trained personnel, besides shortage of money.

Little Rock Students Begin TV Lessons

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. — A television station scheduled an educational broadcast today for students enrolled at Little Rock's closed-down high schools. But some white pupils were calling for regular classes, even on an integrated basis.

Tension was high over the school closing, ordered by Gov. Orval E. Faubus to prevent the attendance of seven Negroes at Central High School.

More than 200 students have transferred out of Central, Hall High and Tech High. Only Horace Mann High School for Negroes has had no withdrawals.

At all-white Hall, 130 students—more than one-sixth of the 731-member student body—had pulled out as of yesterday. Central had 80 transfers this week and Tech had one.

Television lessons, which began today, are on film and are a pilot program for six hours' a day of lessons that begin on Monday over three Little Rock commercial stations.

The lessons today include: "Introduction to Biology;" "The Pilgrims;" "Better Reading," and "A Trip to the Moon."

They were scheduled for showing from 1 to 2 p.m. (CST) over a single station (KATV). Regular television instruction will be both live, with regular high school teachers, and film.

Bagwell Will Campaign in County Again Tuesday

Republican candidate for governor Paul D. Bagwell will swing his campaign back into Oakland County Tuesday and Wednesday, while his Democratic rival, Gov. Williams, begins working his way north from central Michigan.

After spending Monday in Wayne County, Bagwell will return Tuesday to south Oakland County, touring several business places and factories in Royal Oak and Ferndale.

He'll top off the day with a rally at 8 p.m. in the Maplewood Clubhouse, 2008 N. Woodward Ave., Royal Oak. A meeting with the Business Men's Assn. of Berkley at the Berkley City Hall is also scheduled Tuesday evening.

Wednesday, Bagwell will address a 1 p.m. gathering at the Birmingham Community House before heading back to Wayne and Macomb counties.

Williams will spend Sunday in St. Clair and Macomb counties, returning to the Capitol Monday for meetings of the State Administration Board and Industrial Safety Commission.

At a rally in Grand Haven last night, Bagwell again slammed the Democratic administration on the issue of highway bond issue financing.

"Michigan taxpayers are losing money hand over fist because of the grammar school approach of the state administration to the fiscal matters of the state," he declared.

Union Board Slates Sept. 30 Strike Date

Report Corporation's Bid Similar to Pact Reached Between Ford-UAW

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

DETROIT—General Motors, under a September 30 strike deadline, today offered the United Auto Workers Union a new proposal for a three-year agreement.

The basic terms of the proposed agreement were similar to those of a settlement reached between the UAW and Ford last Wednesday.

The proposal, which GM said would mean substantial economic progress and security to more than 250,000 employes, contained 19 specific improvements in pay and benefit plans for GM employes represented by the union.

It would become effective as of Sept. 1 if agreement is reached on all national and local issues by October 1, a GM spokesman said.

The principal feature of the new proposal is renewal of the wage formula under which employes would receive three annual pay increases totaling at least 21 cents per hour during the life of the agreement. The first increase would be retroactive to July 1.

The employes would receive an increase of 3 cents per hour in their cost-of-living allowances to compensate for increases in cost-of-living which have taken place in the last four months since the old contract expired during the Memorial Day weekend.

Other features which paralleled the Ford agreement were an offer to an additional 3-cents-an-hour increase for skilled trade employes, severance benefits and improvements in the Supplemental Unemployment Benefit plan, pension plan and insurance program.

"Our earlier proposal for a two-year extension of the expired agreement was a sound and liberal offer," GM Board Chairman Frederick G. Donner, said. "But we are willing to make this new and improved proposal for a three-year agreement in the interest of a long period of labor peace and stability."

UAW reaction to the new GM offer was not immediately available, but union sources had indicated they would not be satisfied with just a "carbon copy" of the Ford contract at either GM or Chrysler.

The UAW Executive Board authorized strikes at both General Motors and Chrysler during a five-hour meeting last night in an effort to speed up contract talks which had made little progress since they were started 5½ months ago.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther assumed personal command of the UAW's negotiations with Chrysler today and told newsmen that "If Chrysler would get down to serious collective bargaining, we could have an agreement by Monday."

Chrysler declined comment on Reuther's announcement that the

Discover Girl, 9, Burned, Beaten

Police Report Boy, 14, Admits Hitting Victim With Rock

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—A 9-year-old girl was found lying in the street last night, burned, beaten, teeth knocked out and her hair cut.

Police said a 14-year-old boy today confessed beating the girl with a rock but denied burning her. His name was not announced since he is a juvenile.

The girl Theresa McHugh, was in serious condition at Martland Medical Center. A physician there said she either had been set afire or held over a roaring blaze.

Theresa was rushed to the hospital suffering burns of the back, chest, arms and head. She also had a deep gash over the left eye and bruises on her face. Several teeth had been knocked out and most of the others loosened.

Police said the 14-year-old boy, a resident of the same apartment development, broke down after three hours of questioning, admitted hitting her with a rock, but sobbed repeatedly; "I don't know why, I don't know why."

He told police he met the girl outside the apartment building, accompanied her into the park, watched her light a cigarette and then attacked her, leaving her on the ground.

One of the girl's shoes was found beside a pool of blood in the park. A piece of burnt clothing, believed to be her blouse, was 100 feet further on.

The boy was among 10 juveniles rounded up in the area after a superintendent told police the apartments had been the scene of several fights and vandalism recently.

City Bus Tokens to Be Dropped

Decline in Passengers Given as Cause for Boost in Fares

Pontiac City Lines today announced elimination of token rates for both adults and students to meet a decline of patronage on its buses.

Total drop in passengers from Jan. 1 through Aug. 31, 1958, was 539,156, or 31.9 per cent, necessitating the elimination of tokens, the Lines said.

The new fare structure leaves the adult cash fares at 20 cents, with 15 cents for school children over the age of 12, who present identification cards between the hours of 7 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Children between the ages of 6 and 12 inclusive will pay 10 cents a ride.

Red China Delays Talks

TOKYO (UPI) — Communist China announced tonight that the ambassadorial talks in Warsaw Poland with the United States have been postponed one day for "administrative reasons."

Possible Showers, Cloudy Tonight

Partly cloudy and possible rain tonight is the forecast for the Pontiac area. Tonight's low will be about 55-60.

Scattered showers, windy and turning cooler is the outlook for Sunday. Monday will be fair and cool.

Today's southerly winds at 10 to 15 miles an hour will increase to 15-20 miles late tonight and tomorrow, shifting to northwesterly at 20 to 25 miles late tomorrow.

Fifty-nine was the lowest recorded temperature preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 1 p.m. was 68.

Gillis Asks for Hearing

DETROIT (UPI) — Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis has offered to resign from the bench if an impartial hearing fails to clear him in connection with his alleged association with the Teamsters Union.

Will Forward Proposals to State Legislature

Supervisors Seek Law Changes

When next year's State Legislature considers proposals for new and amended laws, it will find some measures recommended by Oakland County officials.

Norman R. Barnard, committee clerk for the Board of Supervisors, yesterday released 12 suggested law changes submitted by supervisors and county officials.

Among these are five laws on the books which must be changed if supervisors decide to consolidate the office of drain commissioner and the year-old Department of Public Works. Several committees of supervisors approved this move Thursday.

To help draft a strong plan of new legislation the county would like adopted in 1959, the supervisors' Legislative Committee, headed by John G. Semann of Berkley, will meet Monday to study the submitted 12 proposals.

Invited to attend the 10 a.m. meeting in Pontiac are Democratic and Republican legislative candidates who hope to be able to steer the suggested laws to passage.

Dr. William J. Emerson, superintendent of county schools, would like to see a law change which would enable Oakland County to receive a larger share of state aid. Emerson said less than 20 per cent of the county schools' income is from the state now, while other counties receive over 60 per cent in state assistance.

Oakland lawmakers undoubtedly will be asked again to push for legislation which would prevent an area from escaping taxation. Such a spot exists near Troy. For some reason or another, when Troy was incorporated in 1955 this uninhabited 9.60 acres was left out and today is not a part of any governmental unit.

Alger Zapf, Royal Oak supervisor, suggests separating the Michigan State Tax Commission from the Department of Revenue into a separate department.

Zapf also favors placing the road commission under the DPW.

Changes in voting requirements for incorporation of areas have been submitted as an amendment to the present City Home Rule Act by Cyril E. Miller of Avon Township.

Accompanied by a party of friends, the vacationing President and First Lady left the U.S. Naval Base at 9:15 a.m. on the 14-mile run south in Narragansett Bay to the ocean and a box-seat vantage point.

2 Bandits Take $1,000 in Cash

Pair Wearing Stocking Masks Hold Up Market Manager

Two bandits, hidden behind "Halloween-type stocking masks," held up the manager of Tom's Market, 888 Orchard Lake Ave., last night and made off with about $1,000 in cash.

Benny Schraffenberger, the manager, told police he and another employe, Sam Morey, were leaving the store at 9:30 p.m. by a side door when the men, carrying a shotgun and a 22-caliber rifle, forced them back inside and into a stock room at the rear.

The bandits tied up Morey and while one guarded him, his partner forced Schraffenberger to the front of the store where the safe was located.

Schraffenberger told police he was forced to open the safe and was then tied up in the stock room with Morey. The two men untied themselves about 11 p.m. and called police.

On Expulsion' From Formosa

Ike to Reject Soviet Threat

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower is expected to reject promptly and firmly Premier Khrushchev's tough warning that the United States abandon Formosa or face "expulsion" by Communist China.

In a new letter to Eisenhower yesterday, the Soviet Premier spurned a presidential bid to use his influence with the Chinese Communists to end the present Far Eastern crisis.

Khrushchev said Formosa belongs to Red China. If the United States does not abandon Nationalist China and pull out American forces, he said, "no other way will be left to people's (Red) China except expulsion of armed forces hostile to it from its own territory."

The Khrushchev letter, handed to Richard Davis, ranking U. S. diplomat now in Moscow, replied to a letter from Eisenhower Sept. 12.

In that letter Eisenhower told Khrushchev that if he was really interested in working for peace he would use his influence to get the Chinese Reds to stop aggressive acts in the Formosa area.

The Reds have been bombarding the Nationalist-held offshore island of Quemoy since Aug. 23. They also have been threatening broader military action aimed at eventual capture of Formosa, the Nationalist stronghold about 100 miles from the China mainland.

The 13-page Khrushchev letter was translated at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow before being transmitted here. A summary was broadcast by radio Moscow even before the State Department had time to notify Eisenhower, vacationing at Newport, R. I., that a new message was on the way.

At Newport, there was no immediate comment from Eisenhower on the Khrushchev note.

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said today at Eisenhower's vacation headquarters that the President had received a short summary of the 13-page note.

"It now is in the process of interpretation and study," Hagerty said.

There was a possibility of some official reaction—short of an immediate formal reply—later in the day.

Pending study of the full text today, the State Department withheld comment.

Secretary of State Dulles, returning here from the United Nations General Assembly meeting in New York, had nothing to say on the letter last night.

But officials noted privately that the United States has long been committed to the defense of Formosa against Communist attack and is supporting the Chinese Nationalists to some degree in their present efforts to stand firm on Quemoy. The United States has no intention of abandoning Formosa under threat from Moscow, these officials said.

Western diplomats in the Soviet capital said they did not consider Khrushchev's letter an ultimatum, but rather a strongly worded reply to match the tone of Eisenhower's note of Sept. 12. In that note, Eisenhower put full blame for the current crisis on the Chinese Reds.

mained closed and urged that classes resume "even if, upon reopening, qualified Negro students of the Hall High district may be assigned to classes in our school."

Leaders of the group said copies of the resolution would be mailed to Faubus and to federal officials.

David Johnson, a Student Council leader who helped arrange the meeting, said he thought the resolution conveyed the feeling of most Hall High students.

"Nobody has asked the students how they feel so we're telling them," he said.

Chris Barrier, another Student Council member, said he was sure most of the students who attended the meeting did not favor integration, "but we have been advised that this is the only way the school can be opened legally."

Faubus commented on the students' resolution last night while en route to Lexington, Ky., to attend a four-day meeting of the Southern Governors Conference.

At Danville, Ky., the governor said "65 out of 4,000 students doesn't seem like very many to me."

Faubus wouldn't comment on reports that the Little Rock school board feared to reopen the schools as private and segregated institutions. Nor would he talk about a report that he was considering letting Horace Mann High open as an integrated school to relieve pressure on students anxious to get back to their studies.

The governor has asked the school board to voluntarily hand over all four schools to a private corporation formed this week but the board has not answered his request.

A source close to the school board said last night board members felt they might be risking charges of contempt of federal court if they handed over the schools to private operators.

Shotgun and Sugar Bowl Melee Lands 3 in Jail

Three men, one with a gunshot wound in his foot, are being held at the Oakland County Jail today after engaging in a fight at a restaurant early this morning, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

Phillip G. Asbell, 20, of 102 S. Saginaw St., and Edward E. Burgett, 19, of 3427 Bendalow St., Rochester, required hospital treatment.

Asbell suffered a shotgun wound of the right foot and Burgett a head cut. The third man was identified by deputies as George W. Smith, 21, of 75 Wall St.

Deputies said that the three, along with several other people, got into an argument shortly after midnight at Minchella's Pizzeria, 1719 E. Auburn Rd., Avon Township.

During the fight that followed, witnesses told deputies, Smith hit Burgett over the head with a sugar dispenser, Burgett then went home and returned with a shotgun. During a scuffle Asbell was shot in the foot.

Asbell and Smith were held for investigation of felonious assault. Burgett is being held for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon.

Modern Kitchen Completed for Hospital in City

Installation of a $60,000, all-electric stainless steel kitchen has been completed at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, Director Harry W. Whitlow announced today.

Completion means improved patient service and increased efficiency, Whitlow said.

The new unit has been installed by the prime contractors, Medical Supply Corp. of Detroit, at the rear of the main floor, replacing old equipment which the hospital inherited from the Pontiac Hotel, the former occupant of the building.

Along with the kitchen improvement, Whitlow said, the employes' dining room has been renovated. It also is on the main floor.

Featured in the new setup are electrically-heated kitchen cabinets which pre-heat dishes before hot food is placed on them, Whitlow said.

"We believe the new arrangement will result in better food, delivered faster and hotter to our patients," Whitlow said.

GM Executive Elected Trustee at Cranbrook

Lawrence R. Hafstad, physicist and director of research for General Motors Corp., has been elected to the Board of Trustees of Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Hafstad, who lives at 5361 Lauren Ct., Bloomfield Township, was first director of the Reactor Development Division, Atomic Energy Commission, from 1949 to 1955. He received the Medal of Merit from the Navy and the AAAS award for development of the 1,000,000 volt vacuum tube.

Hafstad received his B.S. degree from the University of Minnesota and his Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins University, where he later was director of research.

Elected chairman of the Cranbrook board was Robert C. McMath, who succeeds the late L. James Bulkley. New vice chairman is James A. Bereford.

The Board of Trustees also announced acceptance of $4,000 in gifts and grants for the institute's research program.

2 Ex-Colonies Defy De Gaulle

Morocco, Tunisia Back New Algerian Rebel Government

PARIS (AP) — The former French colonies of Morocco and Tunisia put Premier de Gaulle's government into a diplomatic quandry today by backing the new Algerian rebel government in its war against France.

The two newly independent nations flanking France's big North African territory defied the French warning that any country recognizing the Exile Republic of Algeria would be committing an unfriendly act.

If De Gaulle follows up the warning by breaking diplomatic relations with Tunisia and Morocco, he will eliminate them as possible intermediaries in any future peace talks to end the 4-year-old Algerian fight for independence.

France has refused up to now to negotiate with rebel leaders, although President Habib Bourguiba of Tunisia has always hopes to bring the two sides together for a peaceful settlement. Bourguiba reportedly opposed the establishment of a rebel government because it would lessen the chance of talks, but he had to go along with recognition to avoid dangerous criticism.

A break with France also could force Tunisia and Morocco to seek support and financial aid elsewhere — possibly President Nasser's United Arab Republic or even the Soviet bloc. France still has some troops in Tunisia and Morocco and contributes to their economies.

Nasser was the first to recognize the Algerian government after it was proclaimed yesterday in Cairo. The new Republic of Iraq, the kingdom of Libya and Yemen followed within hours.

Ronald disappeared from the backyard of his home around 6 o'clock last night. State Police and sheriff's deputies searched the area around the home all night without turning up a clue to his whereabouts.

Whisk Lebanese Premier to Turkey in U.S. Plane

From Our News Wires

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Lebanese Premier Sami Es-Solh, target of five recent plots against his life, was whisked out of Beirut secretly today and flown to Turkey in the private plane of U.S. Adm. James Holloway.

The arrangements for Solh's departure were carried out under cover of pre-dawn darkness, apparently to forestall any further attempts to assassinate the 70-year-old premier.

Unrest seethed throughout Beirut today, only three days before a new Lebanese regime assumes power.

As time for the government changeover Tuesday approached, the revels were increasing tension, apparently purposely, with kidnapings and other lawlessness.

This has forced the authorities to clamp a curfew on Beirut and its suburbs beginning at 8 p.m. Monday "until further notice." It probably will last 24 hours, perhaps even longer.

Solh, a staunch supporter of Lebanon's pro-Western policy, was driven to the home of a friend above the mountain resort of Brounhana, north of Beirut as a wave of political kidnapings hit the capital.

A U.S. Marine helicopter picked up the premier and flew him to the airport. There Solh stepped aboard Holloway's DC6 which took off almost immediately for the NATO air base at Adana, Turkey.

Solh was scheduled to go on to Istanbul in a Turkish air force plane.

So secret was his departure that not even his brother or sister were informed until after the DC6 took off.

The stocky politician, who already has tendered his resignation as premier, has been the target of two unsuccessful assassination attempts. The plots to kill him were discovered before they could be put into action.

Solh's resignation will be submitted to outgoing President Camille Chamoun Monday. Chamoun is resigning to make way for Fuad Chehab, who was elected president recently. Solh will become a deputy in parliament, representing his old district in Beirut.

The Day in Birmingham

Hopefully Drill 4th Well for New School in Hills

BIRMINGHAM—Bloomfield Hills school board members crossed their fingers this week in hopes of finding sufficient water as drilling for the fourth well at the new junior high school on Quarton road began. The previous three have been unsuccessful.

Contractors for this well are the L and L Company of Royal Oak The cost will be $1,300 for one 50-foot well with additional drilling at eight dollars per foot, according to Superintendent Eugene Johnson.

The district has already spent $10,000 in its search for water. Two of the wells drilled to 320 feet deep, were dry. The third well is already clogging with sand and it is expected to soon become useless.

Johnson said this is the district's first bad break on the water problem. Satisfactory wells ranging from 65 to 110 feet deep have been drilled at Eastover, Hickory Grove, Pine Lake and Walnut Lake schools.

The high school well is 320 feet deep.

Two driverless autos collided on Cole street yesterday. Damage to one, a Birmingham police car, was about $175.

Detective Richard Chambers said he had parked a squad car in front of his home at 1882 Cole street and had gone in for dinner. Mrs. Chambers suddenly called "Look" and pointed to the street. The detective saw a neighbor's car roll down the drive, cross the street and "clobber" the police vehicle.

Chambers said apparently a faulty transmission had let the other car roll back although it had been properly parked.

W. K. Von Wiler, district governor of Rotary International, will make his official visit to the Birmingham Club Monday at their luncheon meeting at the Community House.

Edwin F. Kirbert, president, and Forbes Haskill, secretary will meet with Von Wiler to discuss club affairs following the luncheon.

Texas Soaks in 12-Inch Downpour

Summer Bows Out Wetly

By The Associated Press

Rain, occasional showers and cloudiness were the damp outlook for much of the country today as summer entered its last weekend.

Temperatures were not especially chilly anywhere, and only in the extreme Northeast and the Southwest was there much evidence of clear skies.

Heaviest rains since midday Friday soaked an area from eastern Texas into the Tennessee Valley and were expected to extend northeastward into the lower Great Lakes and interior sections of the Virginias and Carolinas.

However, nowhere was there a downpour like the more than 12 inches which pounded Waxahachie, in central Texas, in nine hours Friday. Flooding blocked at least three railroad lines and 15 highways for a time.

Squalls coming in off the Gulf of Mexico were expected to produce additional heavy rains today.

Warming during the night expanded eastward and dominated much of the region between the Rockies and the Appalachians and spread clouds over a large section of the midcontinent.

Cool Pacific air moving into the northern Plains triggered blustery winds as high as 40 m.p.h. from the northern Rockies to the Dakotas. A few sprinkles attended the cool air push into the Plains, but the cooler trend was confined mainly to the Pacific Northwest.

New Contract Bid Offered by GM

union's 25-man international executive board had sanctioned strikes against GM and Chrysler.

The Chrysler strike time was left to the discretion of Reuther and other top UAW officials in light of what progress—if any—is made in efforts to reach contract agreement.

In the case of GM, the union was much firmer. It set a Tuesday, Sept. 30, deadline for the walkout. Reuther said the GM problem is much tougher since it has four times as many auto plants as Chrysler and hundreds of unsolved grievances in local GM plants.

Reuther said that if the union should get gains at Chrysler or GM over and above those obtained from Ford, it would not go back to Ford and ask for further concessions. "We made a contract with Ford and we'll stick by its terms," he said.

Virginia Seeks Private Classes

Two Groups Pushing for Reopening Schools in Charlottesville

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Plans were readied today for the private education of pupils displaced from schools in at least one Virginia locality under the state's policy of massive resistance to racial integration.

At Charlottesville, where the 1,050-pupil Lane High School and the 650-pupil Venable Elementary School were closed by state order Thursday, two groups pushed plans to open classes in private recreation rooms and lodge halls this coming week.

W. M. Pope, chairman of the Charlottesville Educational Foundation, said his group would register pupils from Venable Monday and seniors from Lane Tuesday. Plans call for the Venable children to attend their first classes sometime during the week.

Mrs. Nancy Manson, chairman of the Parents Committee for Emergency Schools, said registration would be held Monday morning for pupils from Venable and Lane. She said her group hoped to begin classes Wednesday.

Several groups in Norfolk are working to set up private schools to take care of children that may be displaced from schools within the week, but no firm plans have been announced.

At Front Royal, where the 1,000 pupil Warren County High School became the first to come under the state's school closure law, no plans have yet been announced for private schooling.

Student Wants 'Time to Think'

Walking From Texas to Peru's Capital

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Edwin J. Cashman is walking from Laredo, Tex., to Lima, Peru.

Cashman, 23, hails from New Richmond, Wis., where his father is a manufacturer. He spent two years in the University of Rochester, N.Y., then early this year decided he wanted to continue his studies in the University of San Marcos at Lima.

He decided the best way to get there was a-foot—to learn more about the various countries and have "time to think."

"I take shortcuts, to save time and see more of the country," he said. "Sometimes it's dangerous, but I've managed all right so far."

He can make about 25 miles a day with his light gear, and hopes to arrive in Lima next spring or summer.

"I sleep on farms and ranches, on floors of adobe huts, and eat native dishes," he said. "I'm growing a big beard, so people will think I'm crazy. They're more sympathetic that way."

He said he had lost 20 pounds—down to a trim 158 on his near six-foot frame—during the first 650 miles of his hike.

He's on his way to Guatemala now.

U. N. Group Plans Mission in Jordan

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—A special U. N. committee will go to Jordan next week and try to make arrangements insuring that nation's independence so British troops can withdraw.

Chinese Nationalists Claim Naval Victory

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The Chinese Nationalists today claimed a naval victory over Red Chinese torpedo boats as the vest pocket war over the Quemoy Islands entered its fifth week.

Two Nationalist gunboats tangled with three Communist PT boats, shortly before midnight last night, the Defense Ministry said. It claimed one torpedo boat was sunk in the action 35 miles south of Quemoy and the other two fled.

One Nationalist gunboat suffered slight damage but no casualties, the ministry reported. Foreign newsmen are now barred from the Quemoy area and were unable to confirm the claims.

Earlier in the evening, Communist antiaircraft guns fired at Nationalist planes dropping supplies to besieged Little Quemoy but did not hit any, the ministry said.

The Communist bombardment of the Quemoys continued with 1,401 shells reportedly hitting the islands between midnight and 6 a.m. Red guns also fired 18 shells at tiny Kaoteng Island, 160 miles northeast of Quemoy in the Matsu group of offshore islands. The Matsus have not been under bombardment in the current Red attack, which began Aug. 23.

The top U.S. commander in the Pacific said today considerable progress had been made in getting supplies to Quemoy during the last two weeks. As he spoke, the Nationalists announced another supply convoy had cracked the Communist blockade.

Adm. Harry D. Felt flew in for conferences with Nationalist Chinese President Chiang Kai-shek at the start of the fifth week of the Formosa Strait crisis. Felt described the situation as serious but said "I am not discouraged."

Asked whether the United States had sufficient forces in the Pacific to deal with any situation he replied "The forces are very strong and quite adequate."

Felt declined to comment on whether the American military buildup on Formosa would continue.

Off-Duty Officer Fatally Shoots Man

DETROIT (AP) — Carl Cottle, 21, of Detroit was shot fatally today by an off-duty patrolman in an argument outside a bar. The patrolman, Harley Hall, 24, of Detroit, said the shooting was accidental.

Hall, who has been on the force 14 months, told police the shooting occurred this way:

"I pulled out my badge and at the same time I pulled my gun. When I pulled it out it was pointing straight up in the air and it went off. I had no intention of shooting him or even firing the gun."

Cottle was a bakery employe.

Appoint Chairmen of Planning Council

Two Pontiac women will help guide activities of the Greater Pontiac Community Council during the coming year.

At the first meeting yesterday of the 1958-59 executive committee, council prsident Clark J. Adams appointed Mrs. S. V. Sekles chairman of the new social service planning division and Mrs. Floyd Smith chairman of the civic planning division.

The two divistons were created earlier this year to strengthen the council's organization.

Adams also appointed chairmen and members of three standing committees: finance — Carrol Osmun, chairman, Mrs. Barney Habel and David C. Utley, members; program — Mrs. William Wright, chairman, Mrs. Sadie Williams and the Rev. Carl Nelson; and public relations—John A. Riley and Larry Payne, co-chairmen, Jack Murray, Leslie Dean Sr., and Mrs. William Dean, members.

County Sheep Breeders Offered Purchase Chance

The Michigan State University Livestock Pavilion will be the scene Monday, Sept. 29, of a pure-bred sheep sale.

Approximately 200 rams will be displayed by leading breeders in the state, he said.

Pigeon Fouls Up Big Timepiece at Grand Central

NEW YORK (AP) — A pigeon wandered into Grand Central Terminal yesterday, perched on the minute hand of the big clock above the bulletin board and knocked it out of commission.

When the bird landed it was 5:15 p.m. The hand sagged under its weight and the pigeon started to thrash about his his feet, seeking a firmer toehold. That did the trick; the clock stopped.

Pat Carroll, 58, train announcer, had to announce the correct time at intervals until mechanics fixed the clock.

Commented Carroll: "As if the railroads don't have enough trouble."

Gypsy Sees Attorneys, Judge Peel

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Gypsy Rose Lee, one of the country's most famous strip tease dancers, went to court yesterday and saw a judge and some lawyers do a bit of stripping.

Superior Judge Red Hardy, taking note of the smog-clogged courtroom and near 90-degree weather, took off his judicial robe and invited lawyers and others in the room to shed their coats.

"I don't blame anybody for wanting to peel on a day like this," said the fully clad dancer who nevertheless declined to follow the judge's example.

LONDON (UPI) — Five men who took part in London's violent race rioting of three weeks ago have received sentences of 18 months to two years.

Reflections

J. L. VOORHEES

BETWEEN TERMINALS:

On the lawn was a baby carriage. On the porch was a big soft, easy chair; between these objects is the Highway of Life.

It isn't where we began life that is so important but it is significant what we do along this Highway. We have little regard for the "Clutter-upper," dislike the person who uses our friendship as a ladder, rushes madly past all the beauty spots, withholds kindness when it is more valuable than gold. No one has a second chance to travel this Highway; we must either help those we meet or forever wish we did. A smile is sunshine, a kind word a leavening, to reach down help someone up is a gateway to heaven, mile posts on the Highway of Life. When we use that soft, easy chair these are the incidents to enjoy the most. Each one is illuminated with soft shafts of multi-colored light. They are ours to treasure.

M. E. SIPLE

Unusual Guests Spend Third Week With Ike, Mamie

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Houseguests—to the average American family are a bit like Harry Hopkins' famed reference to mackerel on the beach at moonlight: "After four days they stink and shine and shine and stink."

This is obviously not the way that Ike and Mamie Eisenhower feel about houseguests—or at least about their close friends, George and Mary Allen.

Now winding up their third straight week with the first family at Newport, the bridge-and-canasta-playing Allens have captured the title of the year's most successful houseguests.

To succeed in this arduous role, one must avoid the more obvious pitfalls that make most long-time visitors seem such stinkers. Golfer George, who once penned a best-seller entitled "Presidents Who Have Known Me," now owes it to his public to write one called: "How to Visit Presidents and Make 'em Like It."

Since the Allens—two of my favorite people—have been virtually incommunicado for some time, I can only guess at their methods. For one thing, they are invariably amusing. George has a never-ceasing supply of funny stories geared to lighten any touchy situation.

Mary has a natural Irish wit that bubbles as effortlessly as Ike's grin. A classic example occurred after the Allens and Eisenhowers had bought neighboring farmhouses at Gettysburg. Gazing mournfully at the rain-swept tombstones outside her windows, Mary muttered: "At least we'll never have any trouble digging up a fourth for bridge."

The Allens, in order to enjoy such a lengthy stay at Newport, must have mastered the technique of staying out of sight until after breakfast. They must have developed a sixth sense—unknown to other houseguests—of when to do a fade-out for the night.

Between times, they apparently have managed to win at cards (or George at golf) just often enough to avoid being dolts, without capturing all of Ike's government paycheck.

Mary and George have the rare knack of being able to laugh at themselves. Mary delights in telling about the time that, at the Roosevelts' White House reception for the King and Queen of England, she suddenly reached up and discovered her hair still twisted into bobby pin curls.

My favorite episode in George's afore-mentioned book concerns the World War II day when, while lunching with Gen. Eisenhower at Telegraph Cottage outside London, the alarm sounded for a buzz bomb. While the two "sauntered" for the bomb shelter, the second warning sounded and an orderly advised Ike to run for it.

"My feet, overhearing the orderly before I did, carried me to the shelter well ahead of the general," George wrote. "I accidentally shut the shelter door in his face, locking him outside. The bomb fortunately fell some distance away."

George, realizing what he had done, decided to brazen it out, so—walking forth with dignity—he looked Ike in the eye and said severely: "Sir, you'd better practice your starts."

The Allens, who live in an apartment here when they aren't visiting the Eisenhowers, or wintering at their two-swimming-pool house in La Quinta, Calif., or summering at the Gettysburg farmhouse, are apparently unusual hosts as well as guests.

A few years ago this correspondent, while vacationing at La Quinta Hotel, walked across the road to call on Mary and George. It was a glorious day outside, but the pools and lawn chairs were empty. George and Sid Richardson of Fort Worth were lounging in the living room playing cards.

Throughout the two weeks of my vacation, I was to find the plump gentlemen thus disposed practically every hour of the day.

Since the Allens' guest rooms were occupied by Mary's mother and sister, and since Sid Richardson has been dubbed "the second richest man in the world," I naturally assumed that he was staying at the plush hotel across the street.

I was wrong, for as Sid explained in his inimitable Texas drawl: "Ain't no sense in me payin' them outrageous prices across the street when the maid's room was empty here."

Sure enough, the rugged multi-millionaire was sleeping in the cubbyhole off the garage.

GOP Counts Heavily on Nixon

Ike to Limit Participation in Forthcoming Campaign

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower apparently intends to limit his participation in the congressional campaign to fewer than half a dozen speeches in the final three weeks before the November election.

Republican campaigners, notified Eisenhower won't be available until after Oct. 15, are hoping Vice President Nixon will expand greatly a schedule that now calls for eight speeches in four states.

Although there has been no final decision, Eisenhower is expected to make personal appearances in the East, the Midwest and on the Pacific Coast.

About the only certainty thus far is that Eisenhower will visit California. There Sen. William F. Knowland, retiring as the Senate's minority leader, is facing an uphill battle in his fight for the governorship. GOP Gov. Goodwin J. Knight also apparently has the odds against him in seeking the Senate seat Knowland is vacating.

While there is no suggestion that Eisenhower's help would be unwelcome to any GOP Senate or House candidate, one Republican strategist said the demand for presidential appearances isn't as great as it was in 1956 or 1954.

On the other hand, Nixon was said to be receiving requests for campaign help that might cause him to reconsider his previous decision against the type of barnstorming he undertook four years ago.

Nixon has agreed thus far to make four speeches in California, where the outcome of the Knowland and Knight races may have a direct bearing on the vice president's expected bid for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination.

Even in California, however, Nixon thus far has ruled out whistle stopping. Instead he will speak at party fund-raising dinners in San Diego Oct. 1, in Oakland the following day, in San Francisco Oct. 14 and in Los Angeles the next day.

Nixon will start his campaigning with an appearance in Indianapolis Sept. 29. He is billed to appear at fund-raising dinners in Philadelphia Oct. 8 and Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 28. He also will be principal speaker at the Republican State Convention in Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 9.

U. N. Assembly Eyes Formosa

Debate Looms Despite Initial U. S. Victory in Keeping China Out

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A General Assembly debate of the Formosa crisis loomed today despite a preliminary U.S. victory in shelving a wrangle over U.N. membership for Red China.

The debate could develop next week when backers of a move to seat the Chinese Communists are certain to try overturning the American victory in the steering committee.

The committee voted 12-7 yesterday for a U.S. resolution that this Assembly session reject any proposals on Chinese membership. Nationalist China now holds a U.N. seat.

An Assembly debate on seating probably would involve discussion of the vest pocket war in the Formosa Strait. But U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge might propose separate discussion of the Formosa crisis.

This would happen, informed sources believe, if the current Warsaw talks fail to produce concrete results. The U.S. and Red Chinese ambassadors in Warsaw, Jacob Beam and Wang Ping-nan, are scheduled to meet again tomorrow on terms for a cease-fire in the strait.

Eye Air Fare Cuts

LONDON (AP)—The world's airlines were reported today considering fare cuts in a drive to persuade more people to fly.

Harriman Hits Ike on Schools

Rockefeller Says Action of President Displays 'Real Courage'

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman says President Eisenhower has hurt rather than helped integration in Southern schools.

The governor's Republican opponent in the gubernatorial race, Nelson A. Rockefeller, says Eisenhower has conducted himself commendably and shown real courage in the segregation controversy.

They aired their views last night before a Harlem audience, speaking from the same platform at an outdoor street rally.

"The President of the United States must bear a heavy responsibility" for the reluctance to move toward school integration in Arkansas and Virginia, declared Harriman.

He said Eisenhower should have "given the responsible groups in the South willing to move ahead the support which only the prestige and the power of his office can provide."

"The President's failure to exercise leadership has created a vacuum into which bigots and demagogues have moved," Harriman said.

Rockefeller departed from his prepared text to defend the President.

"Who got the troops to Little Rock?" he asked. "That takes courage in this country."

He added that the Republicans are "proud of the fact that under President Eisenhower the first civil rights legislation since Reconstruction days was passed by this session of Congress."

Cites H-Bomb Danger

LONDON (AP) — A trade union committee of scientific workers said today that if a plane crashed while carrying an H-bomb, the area would have to be evacuated and all cattle and vegetable matter destroyed—even if the bomb did not go off.

We constantly receive calls from housewives explaining that some magazine salesman or woman was at their door explaining some kind of a contest or they give a very strong sympathy appeal urging the housewife to purchase books or magazines.

Your Business Ethics Board frowns on such tactics. Buy the magazines for what they are worth and give charity to some local, legitimate agency.

'Semi-Nude' Picture Irks State Jurist

ISHPEMING (AP)— State Supreme Court Justice John D. Voelker says he has written a letter to the editor of Time magazine criticising the publication for printing what he said was "a semi-nude" picture of him in a Finnish bath.

The picture appeared in the current issue of the news magazine to illustrate a story about Justice Voelker's majority opinion in a State Supreme Court ruling last week involving nudism.

The high court held the arrest of four nudists near Battle Creek in 1956 was illegal.

In his letter, Justice Voelker said:

"You have literally stripped me in public and have forced upon me, a justice of the Supreme Court, the highly distasteful and undignified task of publicly defending myself."

The picture was one of a large number taken of Justice Voelker by Life magazine last spring.

The Michigan jurist said: "You have deceived your readers; you have portrayed me as a tasteless, witless and publicity hungry exhibitionist; you have callously brought needless heartache and shame to other innocent people; you have cheapened and degraded a serious court decision in a serious case; and you have done a vast disservice to any public concept of the dignity and responsibility of our courts and the earnest, hard-working men who sit on them."

USAF Transport, French Jet Collide

THIEL, France (UPI) — A U.S. Air Force C130 Hercules transport and a French Mystere jet fighter collided in flight near here today. French police said all six persons aboard the transport and the French pilot were killed.

The C130 was on a routine flight from Evreux air base in western France for Spangdahlem in Germany with a crew of five and one passenger.

Police said the two planes slammed together at about 1,500 feet near this village about 40 miles southwest of Paris. Some of the bodies fell into a fast-flowing stream and rescuers had difficulty in pulling them out.

The wreckage of the four-engined turbo-prop transport and the French jet were strewn over a wide area.

Crazy, Mixed-Up Birds Drop Dead Around Airport

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Thousands of crazy, mixed-up birds migrating South got lured into a vertical shaft of light at Newark Airport early today.

Floundering around the beam, many of them slammed into airport buildings and dropped dead.

"The ground is covered with them," one airport worker said. "They look like finches."

The light is a ceilometer, a steady beam pointed skyward to measure the cloud ceiling.

The birds caused no disruption in airport service.

At the funeral of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant in 1885, the hymn played by the marching bands was "Safe In the Arms of Jesus."

(He's Stuck With It)

It's Paperhanger's Tale

OMAHA (AP) — This is Leo P. Beasley's story and he's stuck with it.

Beasley, 64, is a paperhanger. When he made a sudden stop in his car yesterday the lid came off a five gallon can of quick-dry paste.

"Paste flew all over the front of the car and down my neck," he recalled. "When I pulled into my garage the paste had dried.

"I was stuck to the front seat." A neighbor boy ran for help.

"The little shaver thought I was sick. The kid's mother showed up just as I was taking my pants off," said Beasley.

Steelmen Supporting McDonald

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)— The United Steel Workers Union presented a united front to the basic steel industry today after voting unanimous confidence in its leader and crushing opposition to his program.

David J. McDonald, 55-year-old USW president, emerged from the ninth constitutional convention, which ended today, with tight control over the 1.2-million-member union.

In beating down the opposition at every turn, the great majority of the convention's 3,523 delegates finally recommended expulsion for the protest committee leaders.

The opposition was headed by Donald C. Rarick, a McKeesport, Pa., mill worker. He said he and others in the committee will fight the expulsion move.

In its final session, the giant union adopted several resolutions calling for improvements in the existing health and welfare program.

Brushes Death, Orders Workers Back to Jobs

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "All right, you guys. Don't just stand around. Get back to work."

Those were the first words of construction boss Charlie McCullough when his workers dug him out of a sewer trench cave-in yesterday. McCullough, checking a 20-foot deep trench, was completely buried for several minutes.

McCullough, from the rough-tough school of construction bosses, was finally persuaded to go to a hospital for a checkup. But he drove his own car.

Truman Won't Receive Key to City in Virginia

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)— Mayor Harold Frankel, who presents golden keys of the city to visiting dignitaries, has found the cupboard bare.

He has no more keys and former President Harry S. Truman is visiting Huntington today for a Democratic campaign speech.

Frankel sent an emergency order to the manufacturer, but he doubts the new supply of keys will arrive in time for Truman's visit.

Aga Khan at Harvard

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—The Aga Khan, 22, spiritual leader of some 20 million Moslems, has resumed his studies at Harvard, majoring in Oriental history. On his return, he said he didn't think his American education would have any effect on future decisions on religion but added it might have a bearing on his decisions on secular affairs.

It Seems to Me . . .

Even With Many Road Deaths, Cars Needed for Saving Lives

In the current issue of Fortune Magazine, I read that the fatalities attributed to automobiles have a compensating factor that is always ignored and little understood. Approximately 4,000 Americans die every day from all causes, and of this total 100 are ascribed to cars.

"What," asks the Magazine, "would happen if all the cars were ordered off the roads for 24 hours?" Well, we'd probably save the hundred lives, although one or two might fall down elevator shafts or shoot each other in back fence brawls. But here's the important consideration. Fortune says:

"Doctors couldn't visit patients, people wouldn't have access to hospitals, firemen couldn't control fires and police would be handicapped in the prevention of fatal crimes. We would be pretty lucky if deaths on that day rose only a thousand over the norm."

Hence, Fortune places the automobile on a new and perhaps a hitherto unmarked pedestal. It's an actual preserver of life. Here's a concept that Pontiac is very happy to embrace.

Probably the automobile saves lives in other and less obvious ways. Certainly its overall contributions to mankind's advancement, success and happiness are immeasurable. And as an automotive community, we're very happy to recognize and accept the new role that our Number One Product occupies.

The death toll may be alarming and certainly it is something that we must struggle everlastingly to improve. We can never give up and the intensive campaigns that we wage must bear fruit although the results aren't always apparent. Safety campaigns reduce the totals. But it's encouraging and comforting to learn that our cars are very positive factors in the actual preservation of life on a large scale.

We Miss Spike Briggs . . . . . .

Bumped into Spike Briggs a fews days ago and it recalled the circumstances of The Tigers. I'm certain Walter O. Briggs, Sr. had every intention of keeping The Tigers in his family, with Spike running the show. After his death, attorneys advised the son and four daughters that their children might some day have legal action against their parents (as guardians) for the retention of a highly speculative investment.

Hence the team was sold.

Had BRIGGS senior foreseen this, he would have divorced The Tigers from other holdings and established the club independently.

Spike's departure was a matter of intense regret to me. He symbolized the old time professional sports-owner who placed the game and the team ahead of the dollar. The financial aspect was secondary. Once sports abounded with these individuals. But with taxation approaching confiscation, they've been crowded from the picture.

Spike was one of the last.

His burning desire was to produce a winning team — one that played well and was "up there." He didn't have to try and make a financial return first on five and a half million dollars as the present owners do. And this is no criticism of them. If YOU had invested that sum in a business, wouldn't you want a return on the money?

And so, professional sports lost one of the last great family ownerships—one that approached the picture primarily with the intent of building a team for the glory of the home town and the home town fans.

Similar Experience . . . . . .

The following is interesting and self-explanatory:

Dear Mr. FITZGERALD:

I read about your having dropped a bottle, with name and address, overboard in Lake Huron, stating that the bottle was picked up three weeks later on the shores of Ontario.

I had a similar experience while crossing the Atlantic. I had a small jar of English barley candy and I placed my name and address on a sheet of the ship's stationery and asked if found to notify me.

It took five days for my ship to dock at Southampton and only thirteen days for the bottle to wash in shore at a little town in Wales. The young man who found the bottle put it on display in a glass case and he and I corresponded about it.

I was still abroad when the bottle was picked up.

Sincerely,
Mrs. R. C. COLEMAN

And in Conclusion . . . . . .

Insiders tell me that if NELSON ROCKEFELLER wins the New York state gubernatorial race, friends hope to land him as RICHARD NIXON'S running mate in 1960 . . . . . Bishop EMERICK, back from Europe, says French movies are "centered in violence and sex." My word, Bishop, when did they add violence? . . . . . In Hamburg (Germany) they've introduced a system of lights which automatically flash red when a car exceeds the speed limit . . . . . In all the current turmoil about police forces surrounding the city, I want to say a kindly word about Keego Harbor officers. Last summer one of them stopped me and explained a circumstance quietly and in a very gentlemanly manner and with no show of force, power or autocracy. I give him a straight "A."

Young Bill Breech, head of the Michigan division of Ford tractors, was in a restaurant where he had entertained dealers several times and was a favored patron. The M.C. spied him and said: "Ladies and Gentlemen, I want to present a well known businessman who's dining here tonight: Bill Breech." Applause. "And oh, yes," continued the M.C. "I understand his father is here too, Bill Breech Sr." No applause. Of course, "Bill Breech Sr.," happens to be Ernest R. Breech, Chairman of the Board of Ford Motor Company . . . . . Peaches and apples are here. Sometimes the outstate products whip the Michigan variety in looks, but when it comes to flavor and juice, then we knock the spots off everything in the nation . . . . . The October 4th issue of The Saturday Evening Post will carry the first hard liquor ad in 60 years.

DANTON WALKER says things are so tough in Hollywood, the producers have started taking out their own wives . . . . . Some newspapermen think PETER will marry MARGARET before Christmas. Another group says his current move is a final farewell. I vote for the marriage. Let the little queen get over it the best way she can . . . . . Scouts tell me H. GRAY MUZZY, Oakland County resident and top flight Detroit industrialist, won the annual horseshoe pitching tournament at Castle Park from a field of hardy veterans. In Western Michigan circles, this is the equivalent of taking the Kentucky Derby, the World Series and swimming the English channel both ways.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Paralyzed at the height of his missionary career in China, Bishop Samuel Schereschewsky with the loving care of his wife went on to do the most important work of his life. Suffering sunstroke at 50, he lost the use of his arms and legs. Doctors doubted that he would be capable of any sustained mental effort. His wife nursed him, believing "As thy days so shall thy strength be."

For the remaining 25 years of his life, he was carried up stairs or lifted into chair or bed. Yet, with one usable, calloused finger, or grasping a stick, he typed a translation of the Bible into Chinese, working eight hours a day, every day, for eight years, believing "God had called me to it and had especially prepared and fitted me for it." His life was active until death. Bishop Schereschewsky and his wife were buried side by side under one cross.

Days of All Faiths:

Honored Saint May Not Be Real

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

In the eastern churches Tuesday they honor St. Thecla as the first woman ever to be martyred for the Christian faith. But there is a strong doubt that Thecla died for Christianity or anything else, for it is highly questionable that she ever lived. Her fame rests entirely on a romantic book called the "Acts of Paul and Thecla," which was written at the end of the second century.

She is supposed to have been the daughter of a noble family in the town of Icomium. She sat at her window one day as the great St. Paul was preaching outside, and was converted. Leaving home and the man to whom she was engaged, she disguised herself in boy's clothing and followed Paul.

Her discipleship led her to what are called the "three cruel torments." The first was the anger and abuse of her mother and her fiance; the second, an attempt to burn her at the stake; the third, an ordeal in an arena filled with lions. On the last two, at least, she came off completely victorious.

Rain from heaven put out the fire which was to consume her, and the lions humbly licked her feet. The efforts to make a martyr of her were utter failures. It is hard to understand why she is called a martyr.

The book of the "Acts of Paul and Thecla" was discredited and rejected by church authorities, but it had popular appeal and Thecla, even though she may quite possibly have been only a creature of some writer's fancy, was once held in high honor throughout Christendom.

It is from this spurious book that we get the description of St. Paul which people now generally accept as authentic, without realizing that it has no valid support. He is said to have been "a little man, bald-headed, bowlegged, stoutly built, with eyebrows meeting, rather long-nosed."

SCAPEGOAT REPLACEMENT

In ancient times, when the Temple still stood in Jerusalem and the old sacrifical customs could be observed, one great feature of Yom Kippur (which means the day of atonement) was the ceremony of the scapegoat. Two goats were brought to the priest. One was chosen to be sacrificed; the other was symbolically invested with the sins of Israel and driven off into the wilderness.

Such a custom is, of course, no longer possible, but there is, and has been for several centuries, a sort of replacement of the old scapegoat ritual. Known as the Kaparot ceremony, this is what is done: Some time on the day preceding Yom Kippur Eve, a chicken, preferably a white one, is taken (a rooster for a man, a hen for a woman) and according to a set formula is made to represent the person who offers it.

The formula, repeated by the penitent sinner, is: "This is a substitute for me; this is an exchange for me; this is my atonement. This cock (or hen) shall be consigned to death, while I shall have a long and pleasant life and peace."

The fowl is then ritually slaughtered and given to the poor. Or, if the penitent keeps and eats the fowl, the value of it is given to charity.

Not all Jews follow this procedure. Some in these days, especially the reformed, and those who live in large cities.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Wife's Cooperation Helps Alcoholic

Hal's alcoholism was cured by the cooperation of his devoted wife. And she removed his secret terror in a few nights so he didn't need whisky as an escape mechanism thereafter. Put out the fire and people thus will not require the fire escape! That is an axiom of psychiatry as regards drunkards.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Z-324: Hal B., aged 43, is the alcoholic sales manager mentioned yesterday.

"Yes, Dr. Crane," he confessed, "my addiction to liquor started when I realized our marriage was becoming purely platonic.

DR. CRANE

"I could not stand the idea that I was finished with romance. I figured I might as well be dead.

"But I didn't have nerve enough to commit suicide, so I kept loaded with whisky.

"I admit that my drinking has been a means of escaping from the deflating thought that I am on the shelf.

"If you could remedy my impotence, then I wouldn't need the whisky. But how can you cure my basic problem when testosterone shots didn't do me any good?"

SEX PANIC

A defeatism complex can offset the chemical tonic which testosterone will produce.

The latter medicine is helpful in many cases, but the mind is even stronger, so a person who is resigned to a platonic role, must banish his negative thinking.

In curing Hal, therefore, it was necessary to enlist the active cooperation of his devoted wife.

Like most women, she had no understanding of Hal's real dilemma till I finally explained it to her.

Even then, she hesitated to take a more aggressive role in their love making, for women are naturally rather passive in this realm.

But I reassured her that she could correct Hal's drinking in short order if she would simply prove to him that he was an ardent male.

"Dr. Crane, I love him with all my heart," she added, "so I'll do anything that will save him from drunkenness."

WIVES, NOTE WELL

The usual wife doesn't realize that she is generally 50 per cent to blame for her husband's melancholy after 40, or its counterpart, such as drunkenness, running around with other women, reckless gambling, etc.

When a man gets scared that he is on the shelf, sexually speaking, he may develop any or all the classical symptoms of the climacteric husband, such as:

Bitterness of spirit, with a tendency to be hypercritical and very sarcastic towards his wife, as well as the innocent children.

Suspicious to the point of hiring a detective to trail a wife who is so far above suspicion that the family may think the husband is actually crazy even to suspect her.

Gambling and recklessness. Some men drive their cars at excessive speeds, even expressing the hope they will blow out a tire and have a wreck.

Some even step out of lofty windows to commit suicide or else shoot themselves.

Others develop chronic alcoholism to hide from their own secret humiliation and also divert their wife's attention from their impotence.

Others, maybe by accident, happen to find that they can function with a strange woman, perhaps half their age, and then go beserk in their wanton love making and faithlessness.

Hal's wife did her part. She soon had produced the change which even the testosterone could not accomplish. Hal's sex ego immediately zoomed, so he didn't need any whisky to hide his shame.

So send for my booklet, "Sex Problems in Marriage," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

If you employ it earlier, you can nip in the bud these sex complexes after 40.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Stop Seeing Those Movies if You Don't Like Such Ads'

To those who are up in arms about these drive in ads, did you ever stop and think that if Pontiac didn't patronize them, that would put an end to the ads and to the pictures as well?

Public showing of these pictures hit all age groups, including teenagers, your biggest and most impressionable audience, and of course the loosely moraled parents who show their approval of these films by attending them.

It's inconceivable to me why some people can sit through two or three hours of filth yet find it difficult to sit and devote one hour a week in church. You'll have to agree church would be more beneficial to our future generation. It's no wonder today's papers are filled with stories of perversion, sex crimes and juvenile delinquency. Yet these same papers and magazines contribute the fuel igniting the weaker person into performing the above. Please, people of Pontiac, hop on the bandwagon and let's get rid of these disgusting films by not attending them.

'At Least It Isn't Just One Coattail'

Democrats are trying to label Potter a "coattail Senator." Pat McNamara made his first trip to Washington with his head screwed on backward so he could see exactly what Reuther wanted him to do. At lease they charge Potter with clutching several coattails. They don't accuse him of hanging on to just one.

Out-of-Towner Dislikes Light

I've been here two weeks and have occasion to drive south on Saginaw street about three times a day. That stop light at Raeburn is ridiculous. The one at Rapid is almost as bad, but taken together they form a blockade that gets Pontiac criticism from outsiders and I should think from residents, too. The most traveled route in your city stops and bows before that little Raeburn dead end. I can laugh now. I leave for home tomorrow.

'North End Station Is Urgently Needed'

I sincerely believe there's an urgent need for a fire station in the vicinity of Walton and Baldwin. This is a fast-growing community, both in residences and businesses.

Anyone who has sat back two blocks waiting for cars to switch on the tracks at Baldwin and Sheffield could hardly help but feel anxiety over what chance these places would have if a fire truck or respirator were waiting the same length of time.

Baldwin is the only road to two elementary schools with two sets of tracks between, and it would also mean a station closer to the new junior high and the high school.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

But our God is in the heavens: He hath done whatsoever he hath pleased.—Psalms 115:3.

Thou sovereign power, whose secret will controls the inward bent and motion of our souls.—Matthew Prior.

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Sleep, My Pretty One, or Suffer Consequences

"How many hours of sleep does a young adult doing office work need? (Dorothy M.)

Answer—Eight in summer, nine in winter. Less than that and you'll look less beautiful, lady.

"I'd like to know what the proper bedtime is for a 14-year-old. Many 8 or 9-year olds go to bed later than I do. At present I have to go to bed at 9 o'clock and get up between 7 and 7:15 a.m. Thank you very much." (Marie.)

DR BRADY

Answer—Ten hours sleep every night is just right for teenagers. If they try to do with less sleep it is at the cost of health and good looks. At age 20 nine hours may be sufficient. At age 25, 8½ or 8 hours sleep every night is enough. Some adults past 50 get along on 7½ hours sleep, and many oldsters need even less sleep at night, especially if they cultivate the good habit of enjoying a midday snooze of an hour or so.

"My doctor often asks "Did you read Dr. Brady's article about so-and-so? It contains just the advice you should follow." I believe you have a pamphlet telling how to prevent painful cramps in legs and arms at night." (Mrs. B. P.)

Answer—Yes, send stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet Adult Tetany. Your doctor would help me a lot if he would jot down a list of things in this colum which he approves and things which he doesn't approve. The best things in this column are directly or indirectly what real doctors tell me.

"Our son, 10-year old, wets the bed. He is always so thirsty . . ." (Reader).

Answer—Send stamped, self-addressed envelope to me for my FREE pamphlet, The Bed-Wetting Habit. Your boy may have diabetes. Without delay take him to your doctor and take along some of his morning urine in a bottle for analysis.

"Have been reading your column for years and always enjoy it. Have found several of your home remedies very helpful. I need these pamphlets for friends I am converting to the Brady method of better living:

Yankee Stomach
Pruritus
Why Have Headache?
Drops for Running Ear
Examination Jitters
Hygiene for Girls and Health for Women
Excessive Sweating
Young Folks and Old Folks.
(D.E.A)"

Answer—The pamphlets are two for a quarter.

Two-year-old daughter constantly sucks her thumb. I have tried everything to break the habit but . . . (Mrs. G.L.C. Jr.)

Answer—Send a stamped envelope bearing your address and ask in writing for my FREE pamphlet on Thumb Sucking.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Courtesy Is Never Wrong!

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have been working in a large department store for several years, and patience is 'wearing thin' as we saleswomen have to take so much from our customers. Do you really believe that the customer is always right?"

Answer: Tact is always an asset, and in business it is almost as essential as in diplomacy. But why any customer is led to imagine that the precepts of courtesy need not apply to her behavior, is to be explained only as a point of view of a person of utterly false pretense. It is true that patience and good temper are qualities exacted of saleswomen, whereas there is no one to restrain the ill humor or reasonableness of a customer except her own good breeding.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What obligation is there for the bride's family to put up the various ones coming from out of town for the wedding? Are there any who have to be taken care of and any who don't have to be?"

Answer: The bride's attendants who come from out of town have to be provided for by her family, but not necessarily any others. It would of course be very hospitable to take care of the bridegroom's immediate family, if possible. But this is the exception rather than the rule.

"Dear Mrs. Post: May a wife accept for herself alone an invitation to the wedding of a friend when the husband finds it impossible to go? If so, should the reply be sent in her name only?"

Answer: It is entirely proper for a wife (or husband) to take it for granted that either one alone will be welcome at a general wedding reception. The acceptance would be worded as follows:

Mrs. John Brown
accepts with pleasure
Mr. and Mrs. Smith's kind invitation for
but regrets that
Mr. Brown
will be absent at that time

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Little of Bloomfield Hills were among the first passengers to sail through the new American Locks in the St. Lawrence Seaway. They are pictured aboard the S.S. South American, which carried over 350 passengers on the history-making cruise.

ATTEND BRIDE

All attendants wore scarab green taffeta dresses with harem skirts and matching tiaras of feather tips. The maid of honor carried white cabbage roses and the bridesmaids carried deep red cabbage roses.

Carl A. Underhill served as his son's best man, and Edmud W. Wurzburg of Detroit, Robert Hosler of San Francisco, W. T. Cashman II of Boston, Gordon V. Lowe of Tenafly, N. J., Stephen F. Briggs II of Nassau and Peter Whiting of Birmingham seated the guests.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fentress wore a light blue silk dress with bows decorating the skirt, and matching accessories. Mrs. Underhill chose a royal blue silk dress with three-quarter length sleeves and a harem skirt. She wore a small veil hat with emerald green and royal blue butterflies and matching accessories.

CLUB RECEPTION

A reception was held at Onwentsia Club in Lake Forest, following which the new Mrs. Underhill changed to a gray silk suit with black accessories and the orchids from the bridal corsage.

The couple left for a wedding trip to Jamica and will reside in Wellesley, Mass., until the bridegroom is graduated from Babson Business School. Later they will return to Birmingham.

Pony Tail Can Bring Baldness

CHICAGO (UPI)—A Chicago dermatologist says that too prolonged use of the pony tail fashion may result in a pretty scrawny shock of hair.

Prolonged pulling of the hair upward and backward—as in a pony tail—may produce baldness, Dr. albert H. Slepyan, of suburban Highland Park reported. He knows of 24 cases of baldness occuring in young girls who wore their hair in pony tails during the last two years.

Hair was missing along the side of the head, the back of the neck, and the part—anywhere there was a constant pulling, Slepyan said. He named the condition "traction alopecia." Alopecia is the medical term for baldness, he said.

The doctor warned ladies they can avoid sporting that "plucked look" if they catch early signs of mild redness about the hair follicles, caused by the pull. He said occasionally scaling occurs and after a few months, stands of hair begin falling out.

Personal News of Interest

Dear Abby...

Love for Children Smacks of Subterfuge

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who was married once before. He has two children by his first wife and he is crazy about them. Now I love my husband, Abby, and I think he loves me as much but he goes to his first wife's house twice a week. He says he goes there to see his children, but he doesn't come home until way past midnight and when he gets home he has lipstick on his face and clothes. He swears there is nothing between him and his first wife. Should I believe him?"

ABBY

SECOND WIFE

DEAR SECOND: If the kids are old enough to wear lipstick—believe him!

"DEAR ABBY: I am a fellow, 19, who just bought a used car with my own money. Every time my mother rides in it she checks the ashtrays to see if I have been smoking. I do not smoke, but many of my friends do and I can't empty the ashtrays constantly to remove the evidence.

"When I tell my mother that the cigarettes were smoked by my friends and not me, she doesn't believe me. Smoking is greatly condemned in our home. How can I get my mother to believe me?"

ACCUSED

DEAR ACCUSED: If you are truthful in all other matters your word should be good enough.

"DEAR ABBY: We have a club and we are doing fine (especially our treasurer). Everyone pays their dues and fines and gets along okay but my problem is we can't decide how to divide the money when our club breaks up. All the members of the club want all the money that they have paid, including the fines for lateness and talking and other things they are fined for. I think that isn't fair and all the money should be divided equally among the members. What do you think about this?"

CAROLYN W. (President)

DEAR CAROLYN: In the event that your Club breaks up, I think all the money in the treasury should be divided equally among the members.

"DEAR ABBY: I feel so bad I could cry. My husband and I have two children and, like all parents, we love them both the same. The oldest is a boy and if I have to say so myself he is a very good-looking boy. The little one is rather puny because she has been sickly and to be honest, she is not a pretty child, but that is not my problem. It is my in-laws (especially my mother-in-law).

"When they come here they make a big fuss over the boy, but they treat my little girl something terrible. They even bring presents for the boy and nothing for the girl. It makes me sick. How can I get them to be more considerate?"

FEELING BLUE

DEAR FEELING: These people are either plain mean or else they are ignorant. You and your husband should have a private discussion with his parents. Explain that you will not tolerate their playing favorites and issue orders that if they don't bring a gift for both children, they should bring none. And if they are going to show favoritism, they had better stay home.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a man who has had only an eighth grade education. I married a woman who graduated from college. Our marriage is as good as most of them, but my wife never lets me forget that she is smarter than I am. What can a man in my position do?"

UNEDUCATED

DEAR UNEDUCATED: Your wife may have had more schooling than you — but she is not smarter than you. If she were — she'd never let you know it.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is 25 years old, yet he complains if he gets less than 16 hours sleep a day. We can't go anywhere because he is always sleepy. If he worked hard it would be different but he rides around all day and doesn't do any hard work. On our wedding anniversary (our first) he did take me out but we came home at 9:30, although he didn't have to go to work until 4:30 the next afternoon.

"What can I do to get my husband to stay up and pay some attention to me? I never see him. Please print this. It might wake him up."

IGNORED

DEAR IGNORED: It will take more than a letter to "wake him up." Your husband should make haste in the direction of the nearest doctor. No man, aged 25, needs 16 hours of sleep a day.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LOIS AT THE JR. HIGH SCHOOL: The boy is "chicken" . . . don't egg him on.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Beauty Within

Maturity Needs Self Appraisal

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The beauty of youth comes without effort. The beauty of maturity is created by the woman herself.

When the first bloom of youth begins to fade, the hair has fewer highlights, the complexion loses some of its glow and the figure begins to bulge in the wrong places.

Far too many women feel this is inevitable and by their attitude speed the aging processes. To the contrary, this age should be a challenge. It is the time to realize that we no longer can rest on the oars of youthful beauty and vigor but from here on must do some pretty strenuous rowing of our own.

Once we realize that it is possible to do this and turn our thoughts and efforts in this direction, we can achieve a distinctive beauty which makes youth seem almost insipid by comparison.

This is the time to learn about individuality in dress, hairstyling, makeup, skin and hair care. It is the time for honest self-analysis. We should learn what our best points are and emphasize them while we work faithfully at correcting our defects.

The same thing is true of personality. A woman at middle age, because of her experience, because she has a better understanding of values, because of mind and emotions which have been trained by the rigors of life, should be more tolerant, kinder, more interesting, and have a better sense of humor than any pretty young thing possibly can have.

This all sounds very easy, but of course it isn't. It calls for real self-discipline and cutting out many of the indulgences of the past in both emotions and diet. Pouting may be cute at 18, but it is not only horrible but ridiculous at 40. Chocolate layer cake may be harmless at 20, but fatal for your figure at 50.

You can make age an ally if you let the years know that you are not afraid of them.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Woman of Fifty" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 33. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

american designer's pattern

The body beautiful is the main interest of Ceil Chapman, and she sticks to her ideas whether she be dreaming up a gorgeous ball gown or a simple daytime tailored model such as this. The body of this model lends itself to sizes up to twenty (the V neck is part of this), but is equally good for size twelves—was one of the biggest sellers in a recent collection.

The envelope-fold pockets on bodice and skirt do a marvelous and wondrous trick of minimizing the tummy while emphasizing the bosom which, from a style viewpoint, is necessary in all sizes.

As easy to sew as it is to wear, it was originally made in gray flannel with linen collar and cuffs. In tweed, or any of the new wools, it is the perfect way to start the Fall. In faille or crepe it is an ideal casual afternoon dress. From this chart select the one size best for you.

| Sizes | Bust | Waist | Hips Inches | Length From Nape of Neck to Waist |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| 12 | 35 | 25 | 36 | 16¾ |
| 14 | 36½ | 26½ | 37½ | 17 |
| 16 | 38 | 28 | 39 | 17⅛ |
| 18 | 40 | 30 | 41 | 17⅛ |
| 20 | 42 | 32 | 43 | 17¾ |

Size 12 requires 2⅝ yards of 54-inch material for dress and ½ yard of 39 inch material for contrast. To order Pattern No. 1191, state size, send $1.00.

New 96-page Pattern Book No. 15, $1.00 For Ceil Chapman label, send 25c. If paid by check, bank requires 4c handling charge.

Confident Living:

Man Driven by Anxiety Can Solve No Problems

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

The man in my hotel room was filled with anxiety. He had driven a good many miles to keep his appointment with me in this midwest city and now that he was with me he was too agitated to tell me what he had come to see me about.

DR. PEALE

He paced up and down. He chain-smoked, his shaking fingers lighting one cigarette on the stub of the other. He couldn't keep his hands still. Finally he asked, "Can't we have some coffee sent up? I must have some coffee."

So I called room service for coffee. After it arrived, he was able to begin. His cigarettes and coffee were, obviously, not things he enjoyed but crutches on which he leaned.

"I have to have some answers," he said, "and I have to have them quick, for I have a lot of problems."

Well, I don't know enough answers to all the problems there are and I'm not wise enough to figure them out. But I do know that when you pray you always get an answer. So I prayed and got the answer I needed for this particular situation.

I sat back in my chair in a relaxed manner and, although it wasn't very dignified, I put my feet up on the coffee table. "What's the use," I asked, "of being in such a dither; you're just wearing yourself out pacing up and down like that. Sit down."

'TAKE IT EASY'

He sat down on the edge of a chair, perched like a bird about to take flight. "That's no way to sit on a chair," I told him. "Sit back." And he sat back. "Now, make yourself real comfortable. Put your feet up on this coffee table like mine are."

Then I said to him: "You've asked me for answers. I can't give you any. You're going to have to find them within yourself, because that's where they are. All I can do to help you is to speak peace to your mind in the hope that I can calm those anxieties and let the answers come up."

It so happened that I had something in my briefcase which I thought would help. It had been read to a Rotary Club meeting in Bridgeport, Conn., by an old friend, Dr. William H. Alderson, and se tnto me. I took it out and began to read:

"Slow me down, Lord. Ease the pounding of my heart by the quieting of my mind. Steady my hurried pace with a vision of the eternal reach of time. Give me amidst the confusion of my day, the calmness of the everlasting hills.

"Break the tension of my nerves and muscles with the soothing music of the singing streams that live in my memories. Help me to know the magical, restorative power of Thy touch. Teach me the art of taking minute vacations, slowing down to look at a flower, to chat with a friend, to pat a dog. Remind me each day of the fable of the hare and the tortoise, so that I may know that the race is not always to the swift. There is more to life than increasing its speed.

"Let me look upward into the branches of the towering oak, and know that it grew great because it grew slowly and well. Slow me down, Lord. Inspire me to send my roots deep into the soil of life's enduring values."

Then we talked a while, about some other similar statements and about God. And, as we talked, he became more and more composed. Finally, we both were quiet. He sat thinking. "Now," I said, "what about your problems?"

"Oh," he answered. "I don't think I need to take any more of your time. My anxiety is gone and I think I can find my own answers."

And that's how this man found his answers. He had turned his mind from his own problems to God, his anxiety had been relieved, and he was able to work out the solutions he needed.

Jews Preparing for Yom Kippur

Yom Kippur, the holiest day of the Jewish calendar, will be observed in homes and synagogues throughout the world beginning at sunset Tuesday.

Yom Kippur is Hebrew Day for Atonement, a time devoted to self-examination of the soul and resolutions to live on a higher moral plane in the future. It marks the conclusion of the ten-day period of repentance which begins with Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year.

The Yom Kippur eve synagogue liturgy begins with the singing of the celebrated and majestic Kol Nidre, a musical plea for remission of hasty and impetuous decisions.

The prayers and sermons at the evening services which last most of Yom Kippur Day, stress man's capacity to use the powers given him by God to overcome error and dereliction.

Purpose of the day is summed up in the following statement by Rabbi Maurice N. Eisendrath, president of the Union of American Congregations:

"As we Jews enter upon the Hebrew year 5719, we must also renew our determination to help make this neighborhood which we call the world, a place where hunger, hatred and horror, as well as brutality and strife, shall give way to helpfulness and satisfaction and to brotherliness and peace."

CALL TO CONSCIENCE — Rabbi Israel Goodman is shown as he blew the ram's horn at sunset Sunday, in Congregation B'nai Israel. The Shofar or ram's horn is sounded in the synagogue as a call to conscience at the beginning of the Jewish High Holydays, Rosh Hashanah, and at the conclusion of Yom Kippur.

TEMPLE BETH JACOB

Reform Jewish services will be held on Kol Nidre Eve, 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, at Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake Rd. Kol Nidre will be chanted by James Rosenthal, soloist. Rabbi Nathan Hershfield will preach on "Broken Vows."

On Wednesday, Yom Kippur morning, services will begin at 10 o'clock and continue through the day. The rabbi will speak on "Missing the Mark."

A children's service, directed by Stanton Walker, with the Temple Beth Jacob Youth Group participating, is scheduled for 2 p.m.

A memorial service will be conducted at 4 p.m. with the service closing with the blowing of the ram's horn by Jacob Meyer before the Scrolls in the open Ark.

Charles A. Wilson, organist and choir director, has arranged the music for the High Holiday with the assistance of Rebecca Gould and James Rosenthal, soloists.

CONGREGATION B'NAI ISRAEL

Traditional Jewish services will be held at 6:15 p.m. Thursday at Congregation B'nai Israel, 143 Oneida Rd., with Rabbi Israel Goodman preaching on "Keys to Our Future."

On Yom Kippur morning services will begin a 9 and will conclude at 6:45 p.m. The sermon will be given at 11:30 a.m. at which time Rabbi Goodman will preach on "Signs of Forgiveness."

A memorial service will be held at noon and the children's worship period will be conducted at 2:30 p.m. Cantor Lazarus Hershovitz will assist with the rendition of the liturgical music.

Translator of Indian Language to Speak

The Rev. William Sedat who has translated portions of the New Testament into the Kekchi Indian language of Guatemala will speak and show pictures at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Parkdale Church of the Nazarene.

Before translating the Bible into the Indian language, the missionary had to reduce the language to writing. He said only a small part of the 150,000 Kekchis are literate.

A native of Germany, the Rev. Mr. Sedat came to the United States and settled in the Southwest. His theological and missionary training were received at Pasadena College in California. He speaks several languages.

Thy word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path.

Church Groups Planning Constructive Halloween

Instead of "tricking" neighbors at home, thousands of American youngsters this Halloween will be helping "treat" neighbors overseas.

Church councils, local churches and church-school groups are now making plans for October 31 to secure community participation in a "happy constructive observance of Halloween."

When the witches and goblins, wearing identification tags, knock on doors this year and squeal "Trick or Treat," they will be asking for money for the Share Our Surplus program of Church World Service.

Or perhaps it will be for pennies for the United Nations United Children's Fund (UNICEF), or, as Friendly Beggars of the American Friends Service Committee, they will be collecting needles, pins, thimbles and scissors for sewing kits for mothers overseas.

In 1950, a group of churches in Lost Nations, Iowa, got the children to ask for money for others instead of candy and pennies for themselves. The money was sent to the churches' Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), which now is a part of Church World Service.

That same year, a group in New England urged the children to collect money for UNICEF. Since that time both programs have caught on across the country and, in addition to providing sorely needed funds for food, vitamins and milk for the world's needy, they have also been effective in reducing youthful vandalism on Halloween.

Pilgrim Holiness Holding Services

The Rev. Melvine Snyder of Indianapolis, Ind. is the guest speaker at the special services being held at the Pilgrim Holiness Church, Baldwin and Fairmount.

The Rev. Mr. Snyder, one of the three general superintendents of the denomination, will preach at 7:30 each night through Sept. 28 except tonight.

Here from Owosso to assist with the music and singing is the Brecheisen Family. They play the accordion, Hammond organ, vibraharp and chimes. As well as illustrate their songs with felt-o-gram pictures.

The pastor, the Rev. E. C. Swanson, stated the public has been invited.

Pastor States Building Plans

Branch Sunday School Started in Longfellow Elementary

The first unit of extensive building plans of Memorial Baptist Church, 351 Prospect St., will be under construction this fall.

The congregation will worship in the 50x90 foot new educational unit until finances permit the building of the church. Members have purchased 300 feet of frontage on Michigan avenue and 320 on Midland.

Under the direction of the Rev. G. H. Rapelje, pastor, and Ed Justin of 275 S. Sanford St., finance chairman, debentures of several denominations will be sold to finance the $50,000 venture.

In January, a branch Sunday School was started in the Longfellow Elementary School with Claude Harroun serving as superintendent. Classes are held every Sunday from 10 to 11 a.m., in the auditorium. The school will be continued until the new unit is completed.

ORGANIZED IN 1910

Memorial Baptist was organized in the home of Frank Picture on Raeburn street in 1910 by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. Hoffman.

A lot was purchased on the corner of South Saginaw and Prospect streets and a building erected. It was opened as a branch of First Baptist Church under the name of The Baptist Mission.

Dr. Rufus M. Traver was pastor of First Baptist Church at the time.

In 1917, the church was given the name of Memorial Baptist in memory of Fanny Utley, one of the early workers and organizers.

When South Saginaw street was widened, the church was moved to its present location, 351 Prospect St.

Gen. Twining Says:

Strength of U.S. Outweighs Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's top military chief contends it is wrong to assume Russia will gain an overwhelming weapons advantage over the United States.

At the same time, Gen. Nathan Twining expressed "full confidence that we are militarily superior over-all to the Soviet Union today."

Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, voiced these views last night in a speech to the Defense Orientation Conference Assn., an organization representing industry, business, labor and the professions.

He took issue with critics of Eisenhower administration military policies who contend Russia is outdistancing the United States in war capability.

In this connection, Twining said:

"I do not for one minute deny that the Soviets have made great progress in the development of long range missiles and strategic bombers. However, undoubtedly, they have had their problems in developing completely operational ballistic missiles, just as we have had.

"I believe that it is erroneous to compare what the Soviets might have in 1962 with what we feel certain we will have at the same time.

"We are still only at the threshold of the missile age. No one can predict today with accuracy what we will have tomorrow."

As for relative U.S.-Russian strength today, Twining said:

"The Soviets outnumber us in divisions and submarines. They are probably ahead of us in development—and I stress the word development — of long range strength does not depend on numbers alone or on developmental progress.

"Considering our superior strategic retaliatory power, our flexible and mobile tactical power, our industrial prowess and our economic strength, I say in full confidence that we are militarily superior over-all to the Soviet Union today."

Conclave Lambasts Surrender

CHICAGO (UPI) — An American held captive by the Reds in Europe for nine years said last night what happened to him "is only a shadow of what would happen in America if the Communists took hold here."

The American, John Noble, a native of Detroit, spoke before "We, The People" in the opening session of its three-day fourth annual convention. The group claims nationwide membership in 1,500 communities.

Also addressing the group, in addition to Noble, was Col. Victor J. Fox, an author.

"Not only are plans being studied to surrender the U. S. to Soviet Russia," Fox claimed, "but a committee of the World Council of Churches made public a resolution urging Christians to surrender, if necessary on the enemy's terms, in the event of an all-out war." Fox said anti-communist leaders see a connection between the church statement and "the military plans that have been under study in the Pentagon."

In explaining the theme of the meeting, "Stop Surrendering the U. S. to the Reds," Harry T. Everingham, executive vice president of the group, said that "for the past 25 years every branch of the government has been surrendering America to the communists.

"It is time that we, the people of America, take back our government and place it where it rightfully belongs, in the hands of the American people," Everingham added.

In describing the life he led as a prisoner of the Communists from 1945 to 1955, Noble claimed he was shuttled from one prison to another. At one time, he said, he was forced to push two-ton coal cars in mines above the Arctic circle, even after his weight had dropped under 100 pounds.

Noble said he learned to speak Russian and "talked to many persons who told him of the dissatisfaction that exists throughout the Russian territory."

He has written a book relating his experiences.

Two Republican congressmen from Michigan, Clare E. Hoffman and August E. Johansen, were slated to address the convention today and Sunday.

The Territory of Wyoming was organized in 1868, and it was admitted to the union in 1890.

ANCIENT MUSIC-MAKER — Lending to the carnival atmosphere in Pontiac this week is this old-time hand-cranked organ—the hurdy-gurdy. Operating the instrument, on display in front of the WKC, Inc., store, 108 N. Saginaw St., is Mrs. Warren J. Kamin, bookkeeper at the store. The original hurdy-gurdy dates back to 1200. This type was made around 1880. The crank turns a barrel, which has pegs that operate the keys.

His Picture's Off White House Wall

Truman Rips Into GOP Administration

BALTIMORE (AP) — Harry S. Truman criticized, chided and ridiculed the Republican administration last night on subjects ranging from the Formosa crisis to the removal of his picture from the White House wall.

A bit weary after several days of vigorous stumping on behalf of Democratic candidates in the Nov. 4 elections, the 73-year-old former president attracted 2,010 to a party fund raising dinner at nearby Pikesville.

The Republicans "tried to discount and discredit everything" he had done while in office, Truman told the $100-a-plate audience, biggest ever to attend a Maryland political dinner.

But this backfired, he said, citing the present Far East program as an example.

"They ordered the 7th Fleet out of the Formosa Strait," he said. "They were going to unleash Chiang Kai-shek and let him go take the China mainland. But then they had to move the fleet right back in again."

Truman said the Republicans had criticized his administration for budget deficits but now face a probable deficit of more than 12 billion dollars themselves. At the same time, he added, their fiscal policies have increased both unemployment and inflation, a situation he never heard of before.

"Budgetary geniuses," he scoffed. "Beat that one if you can."

His reference to the White House picture came after he told of a group of Baltimore fourth-graders who had asked the President by letter "why the Army and Navy couldn't get together on the satellite program."

Truman said presidential assistant Sherman Adams acknowledged the letter with a note ignoring their question and sent them a picture of President Eisenhower for their classroom.

"A picture of the President is nice to have," said Truman. "I have one of him in my library, even if they did take mine off the wall in the White House."

After the frequently applauded speech, Truman returned by motorcade to Washington, where he planned to rest before making a similar campaign appearance today in Charleston and Huntington, W. Va.

Elvis Rolls East Toward Port of Embarkation

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Pvt. Elvis Presley, the rock 'n' roll kid, rolled east toward New York today, aboard one of four special trains moving 1,360 trainees toward embarkation for Germany.

Presley and the other soldiers will sail next week to report as replacements for 3rd Armored Division troops on European duty.

The trains are scheduled to reach Brooklyn Army Terminal Monday just eight hours before the troops board ship.

Health Department Sets 5 Classes for Diabetics

The Oakland County Health Department will conduct the first of a series of five classes for persons who have diabetes and their families at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, in the Birmingham office of the department, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

County residents interested in enrolling are requested to contact the health department Monday. Prospective students must have written approval of their physicians to attend sessions.

Purpose of the classes is to help diabetics and their families gain a better understanding of diabetes.

"It is important that the person who has diabetes cooperate with his physician and accept the responsibility for the prescribed treatment," Monroe added.

He said that in no other disease is the education of the patient a more important part of treatment.

"With proper care diabetics can expect to live as long as anyone else and as usefully and happily," he said.

Annabel Rickard, public health nutritionist and Mrs. Ann Fecko, county public health nurse, will be the instructors.

'Sergeant Preston' Adds Executive Role to Duties

By BOB THOMAS
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Sgt. Preston of the Yukon has a new outfit to go with his scarlet jacket—a gray flannel suit.

Sgt. Preston, the handsome, stalwart peace officer of the Northern wilds is Richard Simmons. This week he was signed for another 26 TV shows in the series and as executive of the Jack Wrather organization too.

The new setup came about when Dick was up for renewal. TV tycoon Wrather took into account the actor's many trips to win friends for the show and its sponsor. "We ought to get more work out of this boy," Wrather declared.

So besides keeping the sourdoughs in line, Dick will serve as liaison between the Wrather Co. and the new stations and sponsors of the show, which is now going into syndication. He also hopes to get into the production end.

"This is just an extension of the work I used to do at MGM," he remarked in his Encino home. "I was signed as an actor, but I ended up emceeing all the studio's premieres, greeting exhibitors, recording 14 radio shows a week, etc."

So begins a new phase of a career that has had its ups and downs. "But I can't complain," he said. "It has been a good living."

He started in Hollywood back in 1940, when he was spotted in a Palm Springs rodeo. Louis B. Mayer had the Hardy, Kildare and Maisie series going and envisioned an action series for Dick. But it never came about.

"Instead, they put me into drawing room parts," he recalled. "I wore out nine tuxedos."

Dick finally left the studio in 1952, when the freeze was on. Fortunately, TV was getting into full swing, and he started getting good roles in home-screen dramas. He was doing well in TV and occasional films when doughty Sgt. Preston came along to monopolize his time.

ICC Recesses Train Hearing

Await Autopsy Reports on Crew of Ill-Fated New Jersey Commuter

NEW YORK (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission has recessed indefinitely its hearing here into the wreck last Monday of a Jersey Central commuter train that plunged through an open drawbridge into Newark Bay.

The bodies of 45 persons have been recovered. Three others are reported missing.

ICC Commissioner Kenneth H. Tuggle recessed the hearing yesterday after completion of testimony by George C. Wilms, an executive of the railroad.

Tuggle said he would return to Washington to study the testimony and await official autopsy reports on the engineer and fireman of the ill-fated train. He added he expected to announce his findings in the case within the next two months.

The findings also will depend on the study of the tape from a speed-recording device on the diesel locomotive. The tape will be examined Monday at the Jersey Central's offices in Jersey City.

Wilms, who is assistant superintendent of the line's rolling car and motor equipment division, testified yesterday that the train's brakes apparently were applied about 25 feet before it plunged off the drawbridge.

The hearing essentially sought to determine why neither the engineer, Lloyd Wilburn, nor the fireman, Peter Andrews, stopped the train in time to prevent the disaster. The train went through three warning lights and ploughed over a derailing device before the lead locomotive, a deadhead engine, and three passenger coaches of the five-coach train landed in the water.

Messenger Boys Now Receive Smog Bonus

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Some messenger boys now get a smog bonus.

Twenty tearful messengers told their boss yesterday that unless they got a bonus they wouldn't ride their bikes.

Herman Levy, operator of the Action Messenger Service, took one look outside, wiped his eyes and agreed to pay the boys time and a half on smoggy days.

Los Angeles had been having its worst smog attack of the year.

Cuban Rebels Report Big Push Under Way

HAVANA (AP) — The Cuban rebels say two of their armed columns spreading out from Fidel Castro's southeast Cuban stronghold now have penetrated into Las Villas Province in central Cuba.

Four other columns are continuing their advance, a rebel broadcast last night claimed. It said seven government soldiers had been killed and five captured.

President Fulgencio Batista's army headquarters in Havana has been silent on the reported rebel offensive.

The broadcast said two rebels had been killed. A wounded rebel was listed as a North American named Richard Hellman.

Breakfast Club Meetings Set at Tel-Huron

On Thursday morning, Oct. 2, at 9:30, a series of breakfast club meetings will be inaugurated at Tel-Huron Shopping Center.

These meetings which are planned to cover a wide range of subjects are open to the public, free of charge.

"The Wear and Care of Clothing" will be the subject of the first session. Luella Nault, county extension agent in home economics, will preside with a panel of experts to carry on the discussion.

A sound movie on dry cleaning procedures and its problems will be shown. The panel will participate in a question and answer period.

More such morning meetings are planned for the next few months.

In November and December there will be seasonal food demonstrations. A program on picture-taking is coming soon. All meetings are scheduled in a vacant store building on the Huron Street side of Tel-Huron.

Jack Carson Denies Accusations of Cruelty

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack Carson has denied cruelty accusations made by his estranged wife, actress Lola Albright, in her divorce suit.

Carson's answer, filed in Superior Court yesterday, requested approval of a property settlement. Miss Albright asked $1 a month token alimony.

The actor's attorney said Carson won't contest the suit. The Carsons married in 1952 and separated in September, 1956.

Pontiac Central Dump Skippers, 26-0

Waterford 11 Steamrollered in Second Half

Chiefs Grind Out 371 Yards While Winning 1958 Season Opener

By BILL CORNWELL

They packed the place Friday night and saw a close, hotly-contested battle — for one half, that is.

Upwards of 5,000 spectators jammed into Waterford High School Stadium to watch the Skippers "do or die" against Pontiac Central in the opening game of the 1958 football season for both teams.

The Skippers "did" for the first 24 minutes, then "died" under the wheels of Pontiac's 2nd half steamroller which cruised to four touchdowns and a 26-0 triumph for the Chiefs.

Dave Freeman's outgunned Waterford gridders made a rip-snorting contest of it in the 1st and 2nd quarters before yielding to fleet-footed ball carriers and superior manpower.

Neither the adversities of a bumbling, fumbling 1st half nor a total of 95 yards in penalties could halt Jesse MacLeay's Chiefs, who rushed for an astonishing 371 yards and completed five out of six passes for 63 more.

The Chiefs weren't fussy how they crossed the goal. They hit pay dirt twice in the 3rd period and twice again in the 4th stanza with the ground assault accounting for two of them and passes producing the other pair. Their TDs were sustained drives of 85, 26, 90 and 55 yards.

To top it all off, they were on the threshold of a 5th touchdown in the waning seconds of the game following an intercepted pass but elected to have guard Charley Brown try a field goal from the Skipper 10 yard line. His boot was the game's final play and it missed the mark.

After a scoreless 1st half, quarterback Harrison Munson took charge of the PCH attack and sent halfbacks Frank Ellison and Bill Ratcliff and fullback Larry Douglas storming for large chunks of yardage through Waterford's tiring line.

Ellison, a high-stepping junior, was the workhorse of the offense and he broke the scoring ice with a 17-yard thrust up the middle. Douglas tallied the 3rd TD with a four-yard burst off tackle and Munson's arm did the rest of the damage.

He pitched a nine-yard aerial to Bill Pritchett, big sophomore end, for the 2nd six-pointer and completed Pontiac's scoring efforts with a 10-yard heave to end Ray Smith in the end zone. Brown converted twice from placement.

The Skippers gave PCH all it could handle in the 1st half, but they failed to cross the last white stripe. Their deepest penetration into Pontiac territory came late in the 2nd quarter when they reached the five yard line before losing the ball on downs.

Halfbacks Mike Ewer and Jim Hoke and fullback Wendy Meyer sparked Waterford's 1st half heroics. They were completely throttled by Pontiac's defense following the 15-minute rest period.

Waterford failed to make a 1st down in the 3rd and 4th quarters and made only 14 yards rushing after gaining 77 prior to intermission.

The tide turned at the beginning of the 2nd half. The Chiefs received the kickoff and marched 85 yards in seven plays with Ellison ending the drive. End Gerry Andrews blocked Dick Finkbeiner's punt to set up the 2nd TD and from then on it was a landslide.

Brown's field goal attempt came when Stan Hertel intercepted John Saum's toss and raced to the eight where Saum tripped him from behind.

Imlay City Bows, 21-18

Despite making 19 first downs to six for the opposition, Imlay City's football team dropped a 21-18 decision to Flint Dye last night in the 1958 season opener at Flint. Bob Maison plunged one yard, Dean Goodrich went four yards and Jim Ward passed 35 yards to Gordon Hocksema for Imlay's three touchdowns. Imlay fumbled away four scoring chances.

Rochester, Lake Orion Lose Grid Openers

Avon Defeats Milford, 14-13

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Rochester, the favorite lost, and Avondale, the underdog won, in their respective games against Davison and Milford last night.

Lake Orion lost the ball six times on fumbles and dropped a 12-0 decision to Flint Beecher in another area game.

Avondale jammed its offense into the last four minutes as the Yellowjackets napped Milford 14-13 but Rochester could not contain the running of Davison's Tom Mowery in losing 19-14.

Milford scored in the first quarter with John Zeeman going 34 yards on the trap play. The kick was wide.

The Jackets missed numerous scoring chances in the first half, twice when TD passes were dropped and another when they fumbled on the Milford one yard line at the end of the half.

In the third quarter Milford made it 13-0 when Terry Anderson took a 30 yard pass from Jim Scheffler. Anderson booted the point.

Avondale snapped to life when after a 60 yard march Larry Douglas scored from the one with four minutes showing on the clock. Douglas ran the point.

Then Pat Shurtz and Walt Cooley blocked a Milford punt and Don Barnhart, defensive end, picked up the ball and ran it to the 13 yard line.

From here Dick Smith passed to Dennis Shaw 13 yards and Douglas ran the winning point with 1:20 remaining.

On the ensuing kickoff Milford returned all the way to the Avon 20, but a pass attempt was intercepted as the clock ran out.

Rochester took a 7-6 lead when Larry Hummel passed to Reggie Dixon and Ted Knapp ran the point, but Davison made it 12-7 at halftime when Ralph Palmer went 24 yards on a pass play from Lynn Stephens.

Mowery took a pitchout from Stephens and went 35 yards in the third quarter as Davison led 19-7 with Stephens' point.

Hummel again passed for the final Rochester TD to Gene Lothery on a 36 yard play and Dixon ran the point.

Orion reached the Flint Beecher 15 yard line four times and even reached the one yard line for a first down in the final quarter but failed to score.

Beecher scored in the second and third periods, once by a ground attack and another via the airlanes.

Among the other Oakland B schools, Troy and Madison opened play with victories while Clawson was dropping a 7-0 verdict to Center Line.

Troy walloped Lutheran West 25-0 while Madison was outscoring Royal Oak St. Mary, 18-12.

RAMBLING CHIEF — Quarterback Harrison Munson was a busy boy for the Pontiac Central football team last night at Waterford High Stadium. He's shown here reeling off yardage against the Skippers during a 26-0 PCH win in the 1958 opener for both schools. Munson threw two touchdown passes and piloted the Chiefs to two other TDs after Waterford had held them to a scoreless deadlock in the 1st half.

Doctor's Order 'Ousts' Zwicker

Rams Lose Big Veteran

One of those unexpected blows that make a prep football coach's life a worrisome business landed smack in the middle of St. Frederick's front line yesterday.

After a checkup by his family medic, 203-pound Frank Zwicker, three-year-letterman tackle for Gene Wright's Rams, has been ordered to quit the game. A heart condition, Wright explained, had become worse, and big Frank was directed to turn in his uniform, a move that hit both the team and Zwicker a real belt.

Zwicker was expected to bulwark the right side of the line with weight and experience. Too, he had his heart set on a big year with being a part of a hoped-for SCL title-winning club.

Wright will probably send inexperienced Mike Haskins (185) against St. Pat's of Wyandotte in Sunday afternoon's opening game on the Irish field. This will be the only change. Rams' fast, shifty backs from 1957, led by Tom Derocher, and last year's city scoring leader, Jack Lyon, will go at the start, along with veteran Bill Cassidy at center, and Bob Yapo at tackle, two of the Rams' best defensive players.

'FINISHED' — Frank Zwicker, 203-pound tackle for St. Frederick High today was a finished athlete. The term is used in its true terminal meaning. Frank, veteran Ram, has been ordered to quit football because of a worsening heart condition. He has turned in his uniform, but will still be with the squad as a manager.

Walled Lake Is Winner by 25-7

Fink Scores 3 Times After Redford Union Takes 7-0 Lead

Walled Lake spotted Redford Union the first touchdown then fought its way to a 25-7 victory last night, with spunky Frank Fink scoring three times.

Redford recovered a Viking fumble on the 26 and Doug Manley went over from the three as John Craft booted the point.

An 80-yard drive climaxed on a 45-yard pass play from Bill Habel to Fink made it 7-6, as the point was missed.

In the second period Fink went 12 yards and booted the point and in the third quarter Walled Lake scored twice more.

Mike Wurst went 37 yards after a fumble recovery and Fink then put a thrilling climax to the period with an 88-yard punt return.

Ortonville 7-0 Loser; Dryden in 0-0 Tie

Ortonville missed two chances to score and then saw Goodrich break up the contest with a touchdown with four minutes left to play to win 7-0 at Goodrich.

Armada got off to a good start beating New Baltimore St. Mary 20-0 at home while Dryden, hindered considerably by penalties, was held to a 0-0 tie at Peck.

Wayne-Oakland Teams Fare Well

Clarkston Nips Oxford as Holly Falls

Wayne Oakland League schools, with the exception of Holly and Milford, had successful openers with non-league teams last night as Clarkston, Northville, Brighton and West Bloomfield came out victorious.

Holly fell, 6-0, to Grand Blanc in a game lacking offensive power. Grand Blanc scored the winning TD in the final four minutes when a Holly pass was deflected and intercepted by Jon Mangus who ran to the one foot line.

Mangus then scored on the 4th down after Holly held on three plays on the goal line. The game featured good defensive play as Holly also held at the half with Grand Blanc on the two yard line.

Clarkston dumped Oxford, 6-0 with the winning TD in the last eight minutes when Ron Morgan went over from the two. Mel Joseph set up the TD with a 30 yard run. Don Marsh attempted but his kick was wide.

Fumbleitis hurt Clarkston as Oxford recovered once on the 15 with two minutes to play but was unable to capitalize.

In the second quarter a penalty nullified a touchdown pass from quarterback Bob Porritt to Larry Crouch for Clarkston.

Defense played a big part in this game with John Parks, Johnny Tisch and Ron Morgan kingpins in the Clarkston defensive unit.

Brighton shut out South Lyon, 13-0, with one touchdown in the first period after recovering a fumble on the South Lyon 30. Keith Williams went 20 yards and Sean Lavan kicked the point.

In the third quarter Brighton blocked a punt and recovered on the 30 from where Ron Visel passed to Lavan for the touchdown.

South Lyon also had a case of fumbleitis losing the ball within its own 20 several times.

Northville scored a mild upset in tripping Plymouth, 12-6 in their rivalry.

Spike Walker went one yard in the second quarter for Northville and the Mustangs made it 12-0 in the fourth period when Bob Starnes went three yards.

Starnes also had another TD nullified a moment later which would have made it 18-0. Plymouth's Runge scored on a 12-yard pass from Egloff for its lone TD.

Clarenceville and Bloomfield Hills of the Wayne-Oakland League do not open until next week.

Utica Plays 14-14 Tie With Van Dyke

UTICA — After a scoreless first half, Utica broke the ice in the third period to score first against Van Dyke, but the two teams then battled to a 14-14 deadlock.

An 18 yard pass from Dennis Schneider to Barry Grace and Jim Roney's conversion made it 7-0 for Utica. Van Dyke then scored twice on 15 yard run by Norm Douglas and a 35 yard pass from Ron Kwierant to Walt Venandam. Lynn Capps ran both points.

Roney went five yards in the final quarter for Utica and he ran the point. Time ran out with Utica on the Van Dyke 8.

Lapeer Winner but Romeo Falls

Richmond had too much ground power for Romeo as it defeated the Bulldogs, 26-0, while Lapeer another Tri-County, was beating Caro, 27-6.

Bob Stevens scored from the 20 and ran the point to give Lapeer a 7-0 lead but Caro made it 7-6 in the first period.

A 30-yard pass from John McKillen to Ed Marshall along with Stevens' point made it 14-6 at the half. Don LeDuck went two yards in the third quarter and Dick Kollhoff went four in the final quarter to complete the scoring. Kollhoff ran the other point.

Richmond scored once in the first, twice in the second and another in the fourth quarter as Romeo failed to cross pay dirt.

Elliott Denies He Has Turned Pro Trackman

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australian miler Herb Elliott Friday denied a rumor that he has turned professional but said that if he did the "ridiculous rules" on amateur's expenses would be the main reason.

The world's fastest miler made the denial after talking with Lewis Luxton, managing director of the Shell Oil Co. of Australia. Elliott returned to his Melbourne hotel smiling after a long session with Luxton who offered him a job and a university scholarship. Luxton also is a member of the International Olympic Committee.

The 20-year-old runner declined to disclose details of the offer.

Millington 0, Vassar 0

Millington and Vassar High School football teams fought to a scoreless tie Friday night in their 1958 season opener at Vassar. A 35-yard touchdown run by Millington's Bill Sawyer on a pass interception in the 3rd quarter was nullified by a penalty.

Shamrocks Wilt in Opener, 33-7

Easy Win for Lakers

By H. GUY MOATS

Faced by sparkling play on the part of Johnny Lucadam, and marked by alert performances from the entire first string, West Bloomfield high's grid squad last night rolled to a crushing victory over Pontiac St. Michael, 33-7. Shamrocks, who appeared to be demoralized, made their only sustained moves in the last two minutes when Jim Niebauer's charges broke over for a touchdown.

The Pontiac club simply wilted under the hot action set off by Lucadam as sparkplug for Art Paddy's Lakers. Lucadam was in great form. The flashy senior figured in most every play when he was in the game. He ran for first downs with that hip-slipping, hard driving style that earned him all-county stature last fall, did the passing, connecting on two, missing two more that slipped from the intended receivers' hands (one would have been a TD).

Lakers were constantly in Shamrock territory, and usually when that happened they moved in for counters. Paddy had benched most of his first stringers when the Pontiac eleven drove in for its lone TD.

The Keego club scored midway in the first period after taking the opening kickoff and ramming straight down the field for 75 yards to send Johnny DeCouteau over. That TD took 12 plays. When the 2nd frame opened Lakers started from the 40, and in five more plays rung up their 2nd tally, by Lucadam. An intercepted pass set up the 3rd counter, in the 2nd period, after a sustained 8-play march. That left the halftime count at 19-0.

Less than two minutes of the 3rd period had elapsed when the packed stands were electrified by a rare occurrence—a big lineman going 60 yards for a TD!

Lakers' 220-pound guard, Gerry McLennan, smashed through Shamrocks' front line, snatched a handoff from Chuck Steinhelper that was intended for a St. Michael back. Bulling his way through the Shamrocks, shaking off a half dozen would-be tacklers, Gerry thundered all the way to pay territory. Some timely blocking by his mates helped to keep McLennan going.

Three minutes after start of the final frame, Tom Bell nailed his 2nd TD from the one. Lakers had put the ball in play on the Shamrocks' 15 where it rested at end of the 3rd session.

Shamrocks then blasted through the Keego reserves on 11 straight plays and five first downs over a 60-yard distance. Steinhelper charged over from the one, added the point on a run.

New Shamrock coach Jim Niebauer was "disappointed" over his team's showing. "They just fell apart; looked like they forgot everything they had learned. The spirit to win wasn't there."

Bill Flanigan showed flashes of his speed and drive as did Tom Dabbs and Mike Flynn.

ROAD BLOCK — Only 40 seconds to go before the end of the West Bloomfield-St. Michael grid tilt, last night, Lakers had started another drive. But here is where it stopped—on the Shamrock 43-yard stripe. Doug Watson, with ball, hit a road block in a pair of unidentified Shamrocks, while Lakers' Eliason, in background, and Chamberlain, at right, get into the play. Lakers won 33-7.

Busch Scores Twice to Pace 27-6 Victory

Sophomore Jacobson Birmingham Star; Lead Series Now 11-4

By CHUCK ABAIR

Flashing some of the best backfield speed to be displayed at Birmingham in several years, the Maple footballers romped to a 27-6 opening night victory over Cranbrook in the annual meeting of the area rivals before an overflow crowd last night.

The charges of coach Carl Lemle came on to almost completely dominate the last half after being outgained, although not outscored, in the first two periods.

It was the 8th straight triumph for Birmingham in the series between the schools which started in 1928. BHS now holds a 12-4 overall edge over the Cranes and has not lost to the Bloomfield Hills school since 1938.

Senior halfback Ed Busch was the scoring star of the contest with his two touchdowns on passes from quarterback Jeff Boucher. Both were short flips which Busch grabbed on the three and then crossed the goal line easily.

The first opened the scoring in the 1st quarter covering 19 yards. The final ended a 48-yard march early in the last period and covered 12 yards.

Boucher and Rod Ruddy ran well along with Busch in matching Cranbrook's 222 rushing total but the boy who stole the show was an unheralded sophomore named Steve Jacobson.

Running at halfback because veteran Phil Russell was out of action with an injury, the 175-pounder ran through and around the Cranes all evening. His best effort was a 55-yard gallop to paydirt to give the Maples a 13-0 lead in the 2nd stanza. Ruddy tallied the other TD, while Phil Isbell booted two extra points and Boucher ran over for the other.

Cranbrook's only six-pointer came with just seconds remaining in the first half when smooth-working quarterback Bill Mosher passed 18 yards to end John Hayden.

Cranbrook halfback Jim Williams was one of the outstanding players on the field. He piled up most of his team's first half yardage and started a final threat which fizzled after reaching the Birmingham 20.

The statistics:

| | B | C |
|---|---|---|
| First downs | 9 | 13 |
| Rushing yardage | 222 | 222 |
| Passing yardage | 44 | 42 |

Birmingham: TD, Busch 2 (19 pass from Boucher, 12 pass from Boucher); Jacobson (55 run) and Ruddy 4 run). PAT: Isbell 2 (kicks), Boucher (run).

Cranbrook: TD, Hayden (18 pass from Mosher).

Southfield Has 27-27 Deadlock

Southfield and Royal Oak Kimball engaged in a wild scoring football game which ended in a 27-27 deadlock last night.

An offside penalty nullified the winning point kicked by Bob Filar of Southfield in the final minute of the game.

The kick was good but after the penalty Southfield tried to pass the point and it was incomplete.

| | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| Southfield | 0 | 14 | 7 | 6 | —27 |
| Kimball | 7 | 13 | 0 | 7 | —27 |

Southfield Scoring: Filar pass to Newsome (9 yards); Selberg run (15 yards); Filar pass to Newcome (5 yards), Oldham run (2 yards). PAT: Filar (3 kicks).

Kimball Scoring: Voelfrey (run, 15 yards), Holbrook (run, 11 yards), Voelfrey (run, 35 yards), Whan pass to Holbrok (24 yards). PAT: Voelfrey (run), Sparrow (kick), Wassen (run).

Almont Win Streak at 17

Little Almont High School ran its unbeaten string to 17 straight football games last night by whipping Flint Atherton 25-6 with Frank Hartway, all-state Class C gridder, scoring twice on five and two yard plunges.

Larry and Jim Ostrander each scored for Almont, Larry went 36 yards on the first play from scrimmage while Jim went two yards in the second quarter.

In other Southern Thumb games Brown City romped over Kingston 35-0 and Memphis nipped Richmond St. Augustine, 6-0.

Four Veterans, Rookie Lewis to Miss Game

Two Players Will Be Cut After Game; 5 Games Sunday

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—The Cleveland Browns take another crack at the only team they can't handle, the Detroit Lions, in a National Football League exhibition game tonight. The game will be played before about 35,000 fans.

Cleveland leads in its series with every N.F.L. team except Detroit. Coach Paul Brown's Brownies never have beaten the Lions in a regular season game. They have lost three of four championship clashes to Detroit and dropped an exhibition game at Detroit last month, 17-7.

The Lions moved into the game desperately short-handed in receivers.

Steve Junker, a sensation as a rookie end last year, suffered ae knee injury in the Lions' last game, a 31-24 beating by Philadelphia. Jerry Reichow, another standout end, is still recovering from a knee operation and will be sidelined for at least four more weeks.

Moreover, Detroit is without the services of Dave Middleton who is taking final examinations in medical school at the University of Tennessee.

Defensive back Jack Christiansen won't play because of an ankle injury and a leg injury probably will keep rookie fullback Dan Lewis out of the game.

The Lions and Browns both carried exhibitions records of two wins and three defeats into the game.

Coach George Wilson rates the game an important one. He'll be watching rookies, nursing the injured regulars, and hoping to add another chapter to his mastery over Brown.

The Lions have to cut two players to meet the league limit of 35 starters by next Tuesday.

Experts rate the Browns an improved team and have installed the Cleveland squad as a four-point favorite.

Former Michigan State star Jim Ninowski's passing has improved and the Browns' running game has stepped up with Leroy Bolden and Jimmy Brown continuing to move well.

The league exhibition slate comes to a close with five games Sunday. The feature will have the unbeaten Chicago Bears at Washington, Green Bay and the Chicago Cards will tangle at Minneapolis, Baltimore plays New York at Louisville, Philadelphia is at San Francisco and Los Angeles hosts Pittsburgh.

EML Teams Get Opening Wins

Eastern Michigan League teams Ferndale and Hazel Park scored victories last night while East Detroit and Royal Dondero were playing to a 12-12 tie.

Ferndale bounced Berkley 27-6 with Tom Morey scoring twice and passing for two more. He ran four and 50 yards and passed 21 and 21 yards to Luther Graham and Jim Mitchell. Mike Crane converted three times.

Steve Besevich scored on an 8-yard TD pass for Berkley. Bill Polly went 80 yards, Bob Fulcher 25 yards on a pass and Len Golinski 2 and 17 yards to lead Hazel Park to a 27-0 win over Fitzgerald. Murphy booted all three points.

Dondero fumbled on the East Detroit one yard line in last minutes to lose chance to win. Bill Waldrup and Jack Rudduck scored for Dondero, with Ray Dries passing to Chris McChesney and Don Petroft 11 and 34 yards for East Detroit.

Keego Harriers Edge Eaglets in Opener

Laker and Eaglet harriers met yesterday afternoon at OL St. Mary's in season openers for both squads, and the West Bloomfield runners took a 26-31 decision.

Steve Rogers of KH led the pack with a fast 10:38 time. Chet Wlodkowski of Orchard Lake was runnerup at 11:06. Lakers also finished in 3-4-6 spots. Lakers entertain Melvindale next Wednesday afternoon.

Foytack Pitches 4-Hitter, Loses 2-1

Tigers Leave 16 Stranded

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, who have known some pretty dismal days over the last several months, reached the height of futility yesterday against the Cleveland Indians.

They left 16 runners on the bases and got only one across home plate, wasting a solid four-hitter by Paul Foytack in a 2-1 loss to the close-behind Indians. This is only four short of the Major League record set by the New York Yankees in 1956 against Boston.

The verdict left the Indians only six percentage points behind the third-place Tigers and the two clubs had a doubleheader scheduled today and a single game Sunday.

The Tigers collected nine hits off Cal McLish in the first seven innings but failed each time in the clutch. In the first, they had a runner at second and none out, then the bases loaded with two out.

In the second, there were runners at first and second and none out. The bases were loaded with two out in the third when Red Wilson grounded into a force play. The Tigers blew two other scoring opportunities, in the sixth when they loaded the bases with one away and in the seventh when they had every base occupied with two out.

Reliefer Jim (Mudcat) Grant never gave the Detroit batters a chance in the last two frames, pitching no-hit ball and striking out four.

The Tigers didn't deserve any more chances. In addition to their nine hits, they could have benefited from six walks and three Indian errors.

Their only run came on Harvey Kuenn's eighth home run in the fourth inning. It was the third time he has connected off McLish. Kuenn also had a double and raised his batting average to .316. Al Kaline was hitless in five trips, dropping to .307. Cleveland's Vic Power was hitless in three at-bats and his average dipped to .314.

The Indians scored on a walk and two singles in the second and got the winning run in the eighth on a walk, a sacrifice and Larry Doby's two-strike single to right. Doby's hit was the only Cleveland blow in the last seven innings but it was a crucial one.

21-6 Win for Titans 'Shot in Arm' for UD

DETROIT (UPI)—Bruce Maher, Lou Faoro and 19,271 fans gave football at the University of Detroit a much-needed shot in the arm last night.

The Titans, returning to night play after two unsuccessful years of trying to fight for fans against Michigan and Michigan State on Saturday afternoons, rewarded their biggest turnout in at least seven years with a 21-6 victory over George Washington.

While Detroit lacked polish, it showed promise of better things to come for a school that has kept the game going despite disappointing attendances.

Maher provided the spark with an all-around performance that easily made him the best back on the field. The junior left halfback from U. of D. High gained 81 yards in 15 rushing attempts, pulled in four of Detroit's seven completed pass for another 46 yards, set up all three touchdowns, scored a pair of conversions and intercepted a pass.

Maher picked up 60 yards of the 84 Detroit covered in its first march midway through the first quarter, catching a pass from Faoro for 22 to the Colonial 37 and then ripping off a 22-yard run on the next play. Bill Dando skirted left end 15 yards for the TD.

Maher first tried a kick for the conversion but it was wide. When the Colonials were called offside, he tried to run it but was stopped. He booted the extra point after the second TD and ran over after the third.

Faoro connected with Vic Henning on a 14-yard pass with 45 seconds gone in the second period for a 13-0 lead but the Colonials came back with a 65-yard march, Duane Whetstone going in from the three, to cut the lead to 13-6.

Faoro directed a 55-yard march that he ended with a quarterback sneak after hitting Maher with a key 25-yard pass. Only 50 seconds were left when Faoro scored and Maher sprinted around right end for the two-pointer.

The only other Michigan college game last night was at Ypsilanti where Hope defeated Eastern Michigan, 19-7. All four touchdowns in the game followed breaks.

Flint Central Stuns Midland

By United Press International

Flint Central crushed defending state champion's Midland's hopes of a second straight unbeaten season last night with a stunning 25-19 upset to open the unpredictable prep football season in the Lower Peninsula.

Paced by a pair of fleet halfbacks, an inexperienced quarterback and a smaller line that outmaneuvered the heaviest high school line in the state, underdog Central grabbed a 7-0 lead midway in the first period and never yielded it before 8,295 fans in Flint Atwood Stadium.

Halfbacks Art Thrash and Ron Watkins — both trackmen — and quarterback Carl Jackson, who saw only a few minutes' action last year, each scored a touchdown.

While Flint Central was guilding the prestige of the Saginaw Valley League, another SVL coach had a tough debut in Grand Rapids where Grand Rapids South walloped Saginaw, 54-0 in Jim Blenkhorn's first game as mentor of the Trojans.

Farmington 28-0 Victor

Farmington piled up three touchdowns in the final quarter to hand Livonia Bentley a 28-0 blanking at Livonia last night. A 60-yard punt return by Mike Agee featured the Falcon scoring.

Farmington Harriers Square Season Record

After taking a beating at the hands of Howell, state Class B harrier champions, Farmington, bounced back Thursday to edge Van Dyke 24-35 to square the record. Van Dyke's Charles Teeney was first home in 10:27, but Falcon runner Andy Staudt was 2nd, Bob Mazur, Tom Peckham, Warren Cawley (state Class A hurdle champion) and Bob Rumford were in order from 4th through 7th.

Friend Wins 22nd Game, 4-2

Bucs Holding Hope

By ED WILKS
By The Associated Press

Any game may be their last, but those Pittsburgh Pirates ain't pushin' up any daisies yet.

Not with Bob Friend, now the majors' top winner, pitching a five-hitter that beat Philadelphia 4-2 for his 22nd victory last night while Milwaukee's first-place Braves were knocked off 7-1 at Cincinnati.

The Braves, 13-4 over the Redlegs for the season, still have a magic number of two for their second straight National League pennant.

That means any combination of Milwaukee victories and/or Pirate defeats puts the flag in the bag.

But with six games left for both the Pirates are a persistent second, five games back. The Bucs play the last-place Phillies in all six — three more at Philadelphia this weekend, three at home next weekend. The Pirates are 9-7 for the year against the Phils.

The Braves, who eased to the 1957 pennant by taking 18 of 22 games with Cincinnati, have five left with the Redlegs, two at Cincinnati this weekend, three at Milwaukee next weekend. They play Philadelphia at Milwaukee Tuesday.

In the other NL games last night, San Francisco whipped St. Louis 8-1 as Willie Mays moved within .002 of the batting lead. Los Angeles defeated the Chicago Cubs 5-1 in their bout for sixth place.

In the American League, Baltimore beat New York, 5-4, Kansas City nipped the White Sox 7-6, Cleveland rapped Detroit 2-1 and Boston beat Washington 2-0. Pete Runnels retained the AL batting lead .321, while Boston teammate Ted Williams skidded into a second place tie with Detroit's Harvey Kuenn at .316.

A two-base error by Mickey Mantle opened Baltimore's ninth. Gus Triandos converted it into two runs with his 28th homer. Then came three singles and the wrap up shot by Woodling, who had complained of being pooped from overwork.

A two-out error by fine fielding Nellie Fox gave the A's the tie-breaking run in the ninth. Dick Tomanek 7-7 won it and Turk Lown 3-3 lost it, both in relief. Al Smith of the Sox and Hec Lopez of the A's swapped two-run homers.

Maples Add 22nd at PCH's Expense

Although finishing on the long end of yesterday's 1958 cross-country opener at Birmingham, PCH's harrier coach, Detn Wilson, was satisfied with his squad's performance. Chief harriers will be young this year, with only two lettermen.

Kermit Ambrose's Maples collected their 22nd consecutive dual victory, 24-35 (low total wins). It was their 2nd win of the fall. First position was that of Maples' Jim Reilly (10:22.7, a new Birmingham course record). Pontiac's Rufus Anderson was 2nd, Dave Pew (B), John Jefferson (P), Fraser Cocks (B), Jim Nelson (P), a step back of Cocks, finished in that order.

Junior Maples also won, 20-43, but Chiefs' Maurice Johnson led the pack (11:22).

"We've got some boys who like to run," said Wilson, "and we'll be OK as soon as they gain some experience."

FRIDAY'S FIGHTS
NEW YORK—Carlos Ortiz, 137, New York, outpointed Johnny Busso, 140, New York, 10.

Port Authority Seeking Part of Pte. Mouille Area

HIGGINS LAKE (AP) — The State Conservation Commission heard Friday that Detroit Port Authority is eying part of the Pointe Mouille State Game Area for its proposed new port expansion.

The commission was notified that Jerry Warren, a representative of the Detroit Board of Commerce, wanted to meet with the commission to discuss the port authority and the game area.

The marshes south of Detroit on Lake Erie attract heavy concentrations of waterfowl and are one of the most popular shooting areas for Detroit hunters.

Any such proposal was thought sure to bring protests from sportsmen and conservationists, already up in arms about an attempt by copper mining interests to secure exploration and mining rights in the Porcupine Mountains State Park.

To consider the second issue, the commission scheduled its next meeting for Oct. 9 and 10 at White Pine, in the western end of the Upper Peninsula. Members will tour the park and will hear pro and con arguments on the mining proposal. The commission announced that a public hearing would be held at the January meeting on a proposal to increase the stretch of the Au Sable main stream set aside for flies-only fishing from eight to 22 miles.

Background for LIVING

A SUBURBAN FAMILY — Denise is Daddy's girl and Billy is Mommy's boy; that's the way it is in the William Buckingham family. They sat for their picture in their family room. Furniture is the "it can take it" type — covered with tough plastic upholstery. The striped carpeting is multicolored. Walls are brick like the exterior of the house. There's a glass topped table in front of the rear windows at the left.

Your Neighbor's House

Buckingham Home on Large Square Lot

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Denise and Billy Buckingham are going to grow up in the country. Denise who's a brown-eyed, pony-tailed four may remember when she lived in Detroit. But blue-eyed, two-year-old Billy — "the tiger" — won't. He'll think he always lived in the country where the back yard has nice trees and where green lawns stretch endlessly on all sides. The Buckinghams' lot is 200 x 200.

Since Christmas the William Buckinghams have lived in their new home on Shallow Brook Drive. Their house, revised from a stock plan by an architect friend, was built by Russell Young. It is buff color Roman brick with wide overhangs. The fifth occupant of the new house is Maypo, the maltese cat.

BREEZEWAY

It seemed simpler to enter through the door into the breezeway. There is a front door, of course, at one side of the living room. But the circle drive lets you stop near the garage.

This breezeway is the family room. Walls are brick with jalousie windows both back and front. These are shaded with matching bamboo draw draperies. The floor is carpeted in random color hooked rug carpeting.

Furniture is covered in Naugahyde. There is a beige sofa and two tangerine armchairs. For Father there is a gray tweed lounge chair and matching ottoman.

In front of the windows overlooking the back yard there is a glass-topped table. Wrought iron chairs are upholstered in brown end beige plastic. Lamp tables are bleached walnut. Matching lamps on either side of the sofa have pink bases and white shades. Mrs. Buckingham makes extensive use of bottles filled with colored water for decoration.

Counter tops are white with coral and gray lines in it. This plastic is used also as splash boards. The refrigerator is aqua. A copper tone breakfast set with a plastic "wood" top is on the long wall. The chairs have brown tweed cushions on them.

Louvered doors open into the dining room. This is an ell of the living room. Walls are sandalwood with a white cove ceiling. The carpeting is also sandalwood in a textured pattern.

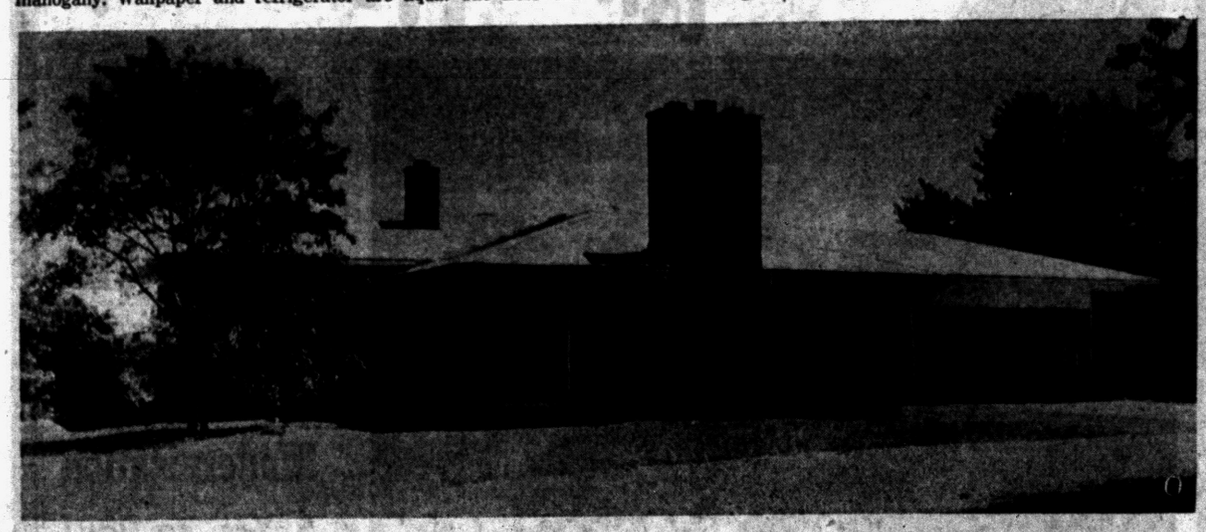
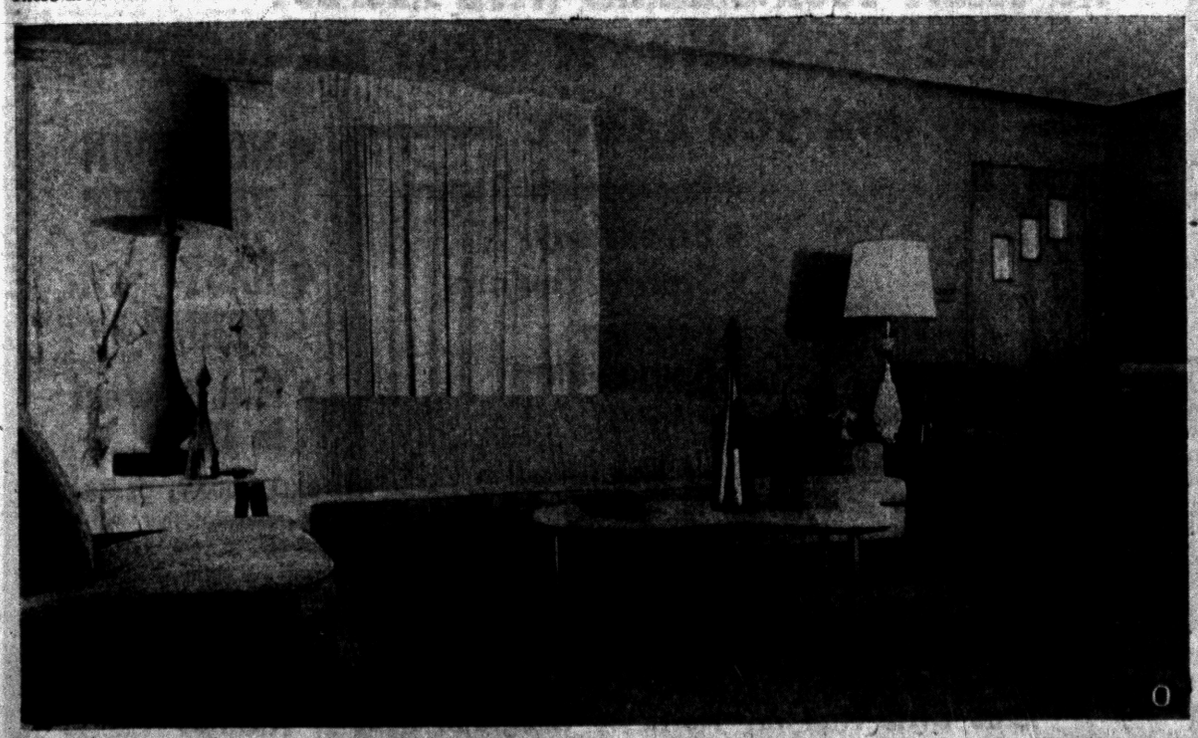
AQUA KITCHEN — Aqua and white are the predominant colors in this kitchen. Wainscoting and cupboards are Philippine mahogany. Wallpaper and refrigerator are aqua. The floor and ceiling are white. The breakfast set is an unusual copper-toned metal with brown tweed chair seats. Those louvered doors open into the dining room.



ON SHALLOW BROOK DRIVE — This buff Roman brick home belongs to the William Buckinghams. The lot is nicely shaded. There are two front entrances, one at the left into the living room, the other at the right, near the garage. Russell Young was the builder. The Buckinghams have lived here since last Christmas.



FREE FORM TABLE — The marble coffee table is a free form one. It fits well in the space before the sectional sofa. Note the various colored bottles used as decoration. The upholstery on the sofa is a textured gold material.

Inch Is Bigger When It's Wooden

One inch of wood is equal to six inches of brick or 15 inches of concrete or sandstone in insulating value. The American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers Guide also says that the nearly four inches of dead air space provided in 2x4 studding in a wood-frame wall gives wood an added advantage in home construction.

The dead air space can be filled with blanket or bulk insulation for protection from summer heat and winter cold. The nation's most widely used home framing lumber is tough, rugged Douglas fir manufactured in western Oregon, Washington and California.

Wood paneling not only makes an attractive camouflage for kitchen cabinets, but the natural insulating value of the material can also be a great comfort when the pots are boiling.

Bedrooms Placed on Upper Level

Hardware and the ceiling star-spray light fixture are brass.

The ledgerock fireplace takes up about a third of one wall. Three shelves hold accessories. The hearth is slate.

The coffee table is a free form marble one. On it are more colored bottles. Lamp tables are black with glass shelves. All lamps are tall.

PLANTER WALL

A half wall planter shields the living room from the front door. Like the fireplace, this is made of ledgerock.

To reach the bedrooms you go up a few steps. At the right is the master bedroom. This has its own attached bath, decorated in sandalwood and beige.

Pink carpeting covers the floor. Curtains and bed skirts are green and pink flowered print on a white background. The spread on the twin beds (with a king-size, gray, tufted leather headboard) is emerald green. Furniture is gray walnut.

A BOY'S ROOM

Billy's room is blue and white. Carpeting and walls are blue. Ceiling, nursery furniture and curtains are white. There's a gay clown print on the curtains.

Far more dainty and feminine is Denise's room. She has pale pink walls and a pink carpet. Her curtains are pink and white striped. The heirloom type bedspread on the ivory bed is pink, as is the painted bookcase. Cuddly stuffed toys and ballet pictures are used as decoration.

The main bathroom is blue and pink. Tile and vanity and fixtures are blue. The wallpaper is pink with gold and white flowers on it. Curtains are pink.

The Buckinghams are glad they moved to the country.

Can Stain New Shingles by Dipping in Barrel

New shingles can be stained before they are put on your roof or siding. The most effective way is to dip them into a cut-down barrel or similar receptacle containing enough stain to reach the desired height of the shingles when they rest on the bottom, butt end down. Several shingles can be dipped at a time.

Make sure the area to be exposed to the weather is completely covered and allow a few inches to spare. Before you begin, place a metal or wooden trough with one end on the tub, the other end raised several inches. The standing shingles are laid in the trough to drain, then piled to dry.

RIVERDALE HILLS — This three-bedroom face brick home is the first model to be open in the new Riverdale Hills subdivision. Situated west of Williams Lake road on Elizabeth, the house is set on a half acre lot. Features are the attached double garage, walk-in basement, one and a half baths with built-in vanities and mirrors between the double closets. Birchcrest Builders constructed the house. Jim Williams Realty Company is handling sales. The price is $20,800.

House Your Folding Bed in Room-Divider – Desk

Treat your fold-up guest bed to a new home—a storage place right in the room where it may be used. Then, when your guest gets sleepy you won't be tempted to flip coins to see whether you get the bed down from the attic or he sleeps with the dalmatians on the floor.

This is supposed to be a do-it-yourself project, so you should have an inkling of how to use a level, saw and sand paper. Dimensions vary with the size of the bed, but in any case the unit can serve as a room divider or decorative addition.

The unit is a plywood box with no bottom, with doors at one end and a desk shelf along the side. You'll need two panels of three-quarter inch fir plywood for the one-by-four and one-by-two lumber for the door stop and desk brackets, and hardware for the doors and desk.

The body, built much like a box, must be put together by glueing and nailing all joints. Fasten the end panel between the side pieces, then insert and fasten the top. Position the structure against the wall of the room, cutting out a section of baseboard to fit the unit tightly against the wall. Fasten the whole assembly to the wall with screws driven through the back panel into the wall.

Put a metal fitting—brass, aluminum or steel—to anchor the front of the storage cabinet at the base. Leave space on either side of the length of metal so your bed wheels may slide easily through the spaces. Screw the anchor to the floor.

The desk which may be used on either side of the unit is not the full length of the cabinet, but is cut shorter so the cabinet doors may swing back. You'll need brackets for the desk. Cut them from 1x4 lumber. Fit doors allowing for ¼ inch or more bottom clearance, hanging them with cabinet hinges—either pin-type or mortised butt hinges. Supply pulls and catches.

Fill nail holes and the edge grain with filler, sand the unit until smooth, and then finish it to match the room decor. Sand each coat of paint before applying the next to insure a slick finish. Some of the new adhesive backed wallpapers that are easy to use may make a nice contrast to painted walls when used on this unit.

A brick pattern, for instance, may give an unusual effect with trailing variegated ivy and geraniums gracing the top of the bed storage unit. The top may also be used for books.

If you build this unit for a double bed it will be more on the long side, if built for a coil or link spring bed, it may need to be wider than you'd expect, so it is a good idea to measure the bed carefully before going ahead with your project.

A new, paste-like plastic filler called Platch is offered by Humphrey-Wilkinson Inc., North Haven, Conn. It is said to be useful for repairing breaks, holes and chips in metal, concrete, plastic, wood, plaster and stone.

Paper Corrects Defects

becomes an asset when the stairwell is papered with a majestic, spreading tree rising two stories high. Similary, patterned wallpaper seems to lower a high ceiling, and an arresting spray of leaves or boughs may be used to camouflage an off-center doorway.

Paint Will Camouflage

It is still decorating practice to paint walls and woodwork all one color. Furthermore, using the same color on walls and woodwork of a small room makes the room look larger. It's advisable also in rooms where the woodwork is not well placed. By making the woodwork blend with the surrounding wall, its deficiencies are less noticeable.

Blue Green Pleases All

In an office where all workers face the same way, it is considerate to paint the wall they face in a soft, restful, inconspicuous color. A blue-green is suggested, and a pale shade advised. The other three walls and the ceiling should be coated in a color with high light reflectance.

The average cost of a new one-family home has risen from $7500 in 1948 to over $12,500 this year.

Closing Summer Cottage Is Painstaking Job

One of the saddest days of the year is the one when you close the summer cottage for the last time until next spring. However, you can ease the pain some by making sure that everything possible is done to leave the place in good shape for the next season.

Here are some helpful hints for buttoning up for the long winter:

1. Air bedding in the sunshine before storing. This will keep it fresh longer and minimize dampness. Store bedding in closets or tightly fitting trunks. Spray with a moth proofer.

2. Clean and wax refrigerators and stoves. Leave door of refrigerator slightly open. The air will keep it fresh.

3. Dispose of all foods, particularly liquids. If the liquids are in cans they will freeze during the winter and be inedible; if in glasses they will burst.

4. Cut off all water and drain water out of pipes.

5. Remove screens, wax the edges of the frames and store. Shutter and board all windows and doors.

6. Cover chimneys to keep out squirrels and birds and close all dampers in stoves and fireplaces.

7. Before you store garden tools and outdoor furniture, give them a coat of paste wax. Wax painted or enameled furniture. This fills up the pores and unevenness in the film of paint, providing a smooth dry surface to which dirt will not stick.

8. Wax boots, bathing caps, baseball gloves and other leather and rubber articles being left behind; also fishing tackle, golf clubs, paddles, etc.

9. Line closets with wire mesh to make them mouse proof.

10. Disconnect electricity and gas.

11. Lock the front door.

The air force began in the U. S. in 1907 as the aeronautical branch of the army's signal corps.

Watch Those Shadows

Colors of walls are effected by lights and shadows. Since the wall area surrounding windows is in shadow, it appears darker than the walls on which the light from the windows falls. Decorators often have window walls painted in a lighter tint to compensate for this condition.

Over five billion square feet of shingles and otoher asphalt roofing were used in home construction during 1957 to protect home against weather and fire.

CUSTOM MADE — This ranch-type split will fit the personality of any owner because it has a large select-your-plan area adaptable to the special needs of any individual. The floor plans, in the inserts above, show all three levels. The basement is under the area occupied by living and dining rooms and kitchen.

Pick Your Plan Area Fits Owners Own Taste

By JOHN O. B. WALLACE

Houses should have a personality all their own, too. This happy state of affairs is seldom realized except in the expensive custom-built dwellings, but the stylish three-level ranch-type split shown here is an emphatic exception to this statement.

Designed by a noted American architect and designated X-24 in the "House of The Week" series, it is a "personality house" in the sense it was created to fit a wide variety of contrary needs and tastes.

Its chief feature is a large entrance-level room — more than 400 square feet in area. This space can be adapted to many purposes according to the needs, temperament and personality of the owner.

The architect, Rudolph A. Matern, says:

"I wanted to design a home in which there is a large area — easily accessible to the outdoors and other parts of the house — that could be used or arranged according to the personal requirements of the individual owners.

"The basic living requirements can be designed into a home to satisfy the population in general. But all individuals live differently and have their own special needs.

"The select-your-plan area in House of The Week design X-24 gives each owner the opportunity to build his own special needs into a basic, well-designed home."

Here are complete details of this plan in an easy-to-follow, area-by-area description:

THE LIVING AREA

Nearly square in shape, this area includes the 14 by 20 foot front living room and the dining room. The living room has banks of glass on two walls, one of which is formed by sliding glass doors leading to an adjacent porch.

A through, two-way fireplace serves as a separation between the living and dining rooms. The outside extension of this fireplace becomes a barbecue grill on the covered porch at the right. The dining room opens directly onto this porch through sliding glass doors.

There are four bedrooms and two baths in the sleeping wing which is separated from the living level by eight steps. Both baths are of the "Hollywood" type with built-in vanitories and planters.

The master bedroom, 18 feet 8 inches by 11 feet 6 inches, has its own private bath. There is a cathedral-type window at the front of the master bedroom, with a long planter box outside.

HOUSEKEEPING AREAS

The kitchen, at the rear of the house and adjoining the dining room, has the appearance of being a balconied kitchen because of its connection with the lower, adjoining level.

There are no partitions to detract from this feeling of openness. A rear service entrance is near the foot of the four steps at the back of the kitchen. The kitchen, an ample 15 by 12 feet, has space for a four-chair breakfast table.

Laundry facilities and a lavatory are on the lower level and handily near the kitchen. The heating plant and the utilities are in the basement.

THE CASUAL AREAS

The porch at the right is covered by the extending roof, is enclosed on two sides by brick walls and runs the full depth of the house. There is a rear terrace off the lower level.

In the bedroom wing alone there are 12 closets and a five-unit bank of linen closets. A full basement lies under the living area. The garage is under the bedroom wing at the left. There are large storage closets in both the lower and upper foyers.

The select-your-plan area is 15 feet 3 inches wide and extends the full depth of the house, 27 feet 5 inches. There are stairs from this area to the basement. A lavatory is only a step away. Its possible arrangements are numerous.

The front part could become an office and the rear a family room. Other possibilities include a doctors' or professional suite, shop, dark room, maid's room, recreation room, den, hobby room, guest room, a fifth bedroom — or even a rental apartment.

Brick and vertical boards are used in combination on all outside walls. The twin-door front entrance is recessed in masonry and protected overhead by a flat deck.

A pierced masonry wall, planters and an angled trellis add decorative touches. The roof is of asphalt shingles. The chimney is brick with a concrete smoke cap above the flues.

DIMENSIONAL DATA

Overall dimensions are 65 feet 2 inches by 29 feet 6 inches. A minimum lot of 90 by 100 feet is recommended. There are 1,585 square feet in the living and bedroom levels and 541 square feet in the entrance level. The garage has 286 square feet. There are eight rooms, including four bedrooms, and 2½ baths.

POSSIBLE ARRANGEMENTS — Here are four of many possible arrangements for the select-your-plan area on the lower level. They include a rental apartment or an apartment for older relatives.

Housewives Shake Heads at Flat Roofs

Architects and home builders please note:

Flat roofs have struck a sour note with the American housewife.

This fact is prominent in a roundup of the clear-cut dislikes of the hundreds of housewife delegates to congresses sponsored by the government and private industry to find out what women want in their future homes.

Why have they condemned flat roofs? "Very boring," said some delegates. "No attic storage space," said others. "Too hot inside," commented some. "Makes a house look like a pill box," complained one.

Many builders and architects from coast to coast agree. Some developers used pitched roofs exclusively because the houses can be roofed with asphalt shingles in colors to give them individuality.

In addition, studies have shown that a house built with a flat roof usually costs more to construct than one built with a pitched roof.

Leave Expansion Room

In fitting interior plywood panels leave an expansion space both top and bottom so that the panels will have room to expand when there is moisture in the air. An overlapping molding and a baseboard will cover this space and give your paneling job a professional look.

Chicago was incorporated as a city in 1837.

More than 4,000 uses are found for wood, but home building continues to take most of the nation's lumber output.

Make your room look larger by painting your base-boards the same color as your wall to wall carpet.

New Saw Combines Five Tools in One

Versatility is the key-word for the newly introduced Cummins Sabre-Jig Saw. Combining in one saw all the features of a rip or cross cut saw, band saw, hack saw, jig saw, and scroll saw, the new Cummins Sabre-Jig Saw can breeze through 2" dressed lumber, plywood, plastics, leather and even metal with the proper blade.

A comfortable handle grip provides for cool and accurate saw control and a handy heel rest makes blade changing easy and protects the blade when the saw is not in use. The saw even cleans a path for itself as it works with a special built-in chip blower which insures faster cuts and reduces blade drag.

Ideally suited for plumbers, electricians, pattern makers, fabricators, carpenters, heating installers and home craftsman, the polished aluminum saw comes equipped with 2 wood blades, 1 metal cutting blade, an Allen wrench and wrench holder, as well as a special calibrated rip fence guide and circle cutting attachment.

It may be fastened on a water pipe, on the wall of your home, on a fence or anywhere else that's convenient for you to store your hose. This reel is particularly handy because in a matter of seconds you can crank as much as 200 feet of hose on it. Building the reel is easy when you use the full size pattern. Simple hand tools are all you need. To obtain the full size hose reel pattern No. 178 send 50 cents in coin to Steve Ellingson, The Pontiac Press, Van Nuys, Calif.

Plastics, Metals Gain in Homebuilding Field

NEW YORK (UPI) — The manufacturers of plastic, aluminum, steel and some other "modern" materials are stepping up their efforts to invade the home-building field, dominated for centuries by wood.

Some of these manufacturers have built prototypes of their "homes of tomorrow," while others have merely expressed their intention or desire to invade the multi-billion-dollar home market.

U.S. Steel Corp., for example, is now making a three-bedroom, ranch-style home that utilizes 2½ tons of steel in its structure. The home is designed to sell in the $10,000-price range.

A spokesman for the corporation's prefabricated home division, U.S. Steel Homes, said the new home can be erected and enclosed on a site in less than one day by an average crew. It features load-bearing exterior walls framed in steel which permit use of a free roof-truss span.

"This will allow interior partitions to be placed with an eye to better design layout rather than where they must be placed for support."

Monsanto Chemical Co. has built the model of an all-plastic home featuring large plastic units bent to form ceilings, walls and floors of entire rooms.

These moulded modules may "be easily removed or added to the house to meet a family's changing space needs," a Monsanto spokesman explained.

He said the house also incorporates conduits, ducts and piping made of flexible and corrosion-resistant plastic which are integrally formed into wall and floor sections.

General Electric Company's idea of the "home of tomorrow" is a prefabricated, all-electric house making the maximum use of plastic panels.

The kitchen sink and bathroom lavatories are molded into plastic counters. The tub also is plastic. The plastic walls of the shower stall have perforations through which water jets against the bather from all angles.

A GE spokesman said the roof also is the ceiling, which at night serves as a single lighting fixture, bathing every area — except the bathroom — in even, indirect light.

ALUMINUM HOUSE

Aluminum Co. of America has designed two homes making wide use of aluminum in both the exterior structure and the interior finish.

Seaporcel Metals Inc., manufacturer of architectural porcelain enamel, believes that in the near future there will be a place for its product in the construction of small, economical homes.

M. Jesse Salton, president of the company, said the exterior walls, insulation and interior walls would be laminated — put together like a sandwich — at the factory and shipped to the site for erection. The walls would be in modular form and could be fitted together to form various shapes.

The porcelain enamel could be laminated on steel, aluminum or other materials. The home buyer would have a choice of any color or design, even polka dot or her ringbone.

Salton, who believes such a home could be built more cheaply than one made under present construction methods, said a home already has been built of porcelain enamel in California.

This is not to say that wood — the building material used in homes down through the ages — will be relegated to a minor role. But it might augur stiff competition ahead for the lumber companies if these ideas catch on.

New Products Make News in Home Field

In Cranston, R. I., Kay Enterprises has come up with a device aimed at eliminating much of the messiness from a job of painting. It's a plastic rim for the top of a paint can. The rim has a magnetized brush holder, a brush drip ridge which keeps the can clean from dripping paint and also a pouring spout.

Silwray Lighting Inc., Bound Brook, N. J., has come up with a fluorescent lighting system called Colorcril which provides luminous, pastel-colored ceilings designed to provide up to 2½ times the illumination level usually found in well-lighted areas.

While the system provides ultra-bright illumination there is no harsh glare. Interesting design effects are possible in two or more colors through use of plastic egg-crate panels. Fatgue through eye-strain is minimized and working efficiency increased, it is claimed.

An insulated aluminium window, internally weather sealed by means of a two-piece frame and furnished with double-glazing which is made to equal or better the insulating qualities of special storm sash has been introduced by Textron Metals Co., Girard, Ohio.

Water Based Contact Cement Non Flammable

A new water-based, non-flammable contact cement has been announced by the Borden Chemical Company.

The product provides exceptionally strong bond, yet can be washed off hands and equipment easily with warm, soapy water. Compared with solvent-based contact cements, the economical new cement gives twice as much coverage when applied by brush, roller or spray. In addition, ia may be used as it comes from the can; no thinning is necessary.

The new contact cement, being non-toxic, does not harm skin. Neither does it produce dangerous fumes.

Designed for bonding plastic laminates and installing plywood wall panels, the cement also bonds dissimilar materials. Because it bonds instantly on contact, no clamping is required.

The new product was developed by Borden's to replace its solvent-based non-flammable contact cement. The company also manufactures a broad line of other adhesives for the home handyman.

Lower Prices, Easy Money Help Home Buyers Now

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Buy now, the experts say, if you're thinking about getting a house. To a man, banking and housing authorities here agree that interest rates and new home prices have touched bottom for the foreseeable future.

Mortgage money, meanwhile, continues in abundant supply.

How long before borrowing costs start turning up is one on which the experts hesitate to speculate. They agree, however, that with mortgage interest rates traditionally more sluggish than others, no noticeable upturn is likely before autumn.

But they also agree that the recent easing of rates and the availability of loan money has ended.

"Families today are getting a better buy in the housing market than they were just a year ago," W. Franklin Morrison, president of the National League of Insured Savings Associations, told United Press International. "But how long this will continue is a matter of serious question."

Morrison noted that half of this year's output of new houses is selling for $14,300, compared to a median price of $15,000 in 1957.

"The builders have been hungry. They've been going all out" was the way one authoritative building industry source explained it. "But with materials prices and wages rising they're going to change their tune."

The experts agree that mortgage money is still plentiful for qualified borrowers. The National Association of Real Estate Boards found an "ample" supply of funds for conventional financing in 80 per cent of the nation.

Mason, Morrison and others also reported that mortgage money is easily available. They contrast this situation with a year ago when lenders were turning away many qualified borrowers who were ready to pay the going interest rate.

Paint Window Shades

A home artist can work more effectively if he knows the base of paint used. A plastic-based paint is good for applying decorative touches to bathroom, kitchen or nursery window shades. Besides being washable, the paint resists cracking as the shade is pulled up and down.

Turkey produced 65,500,000 quarts of alcoholic beverages in 1957 compared with 63,400,000 in 1955, 46,500,000 in 1952, and 3,060,000 in 1950.

'Dry' Lumber Best to Use

Several years ago, technicians of the U. S. Forest Products Laboratory, Madison, Wisconsin, performed what then seemed to be a routine experiment.

However, the simple procedure produced some astonishing results. In fact, they provided a broad new base for all of the great advances in wood technology during recent years.

Before their experiment, the U. S. technicians knew that the process of seasoning (air or kiln drying) had a salubrious effect on the performance of lumber. By further testing, they hoped to determine the specific impact of low moisture content on wood strength and durability.

When the tests were completed and the results tabulated, an amazing story began to unfold. Their "guinea pig" had been Southern Pine, the strongest of structural woods in its rough unseasoned state. After thorough drying, the following increases were noted in the potent natural strength properties of this species:

Bending strength, 75 per cent; vertical strength, 106 per cent; stiffness, 27 per cent; and hardness, 57 per cent.

In a separate report, the federal agency said a state of dryness was also the best assurance of permanence in wood.

These twin advantages of "dry" lumber: (1) uniformly higher strength and (2) permathe improved and expanded lumber usage of today.

Knowledge of the virtues of "dry" lumber has contributed to the comfort and security of millions of U. S. home owners. Lumber builds the most important part of the house, its structure, and well-seasoned wood gives it added strength and weather-tightness. Good constduction practices assure a constant state of dryness after the lumber is installed. This, in turn, provides a permanent building whose future maintenance will be low.

So important is the process of seasoning that the standard grading rules for Southern Pine lumber provide specific moisture content restrictions on lumber of the type used for house framing. When this species is grade-marked, and thus certified as to grade, the user is assured the lumber is properly seasoned.

U. S. Report Hails Durability of Walnut

American walnut has many outstanding properties which account for its wide popularity for furniture, wall paneling and other uses, according to the United States Department of Agriculture.

"Even under conditions favorable to decay," the department reports in a handbook, "walnut heartwood is one of our most durable woods. It holds its shape well after seasoning. Walnut works easily with handtools and has excellent machining properties.

"The wood finishes beautifully with a handsome grain pattern. It takes and holds paints and stains exceptionally well, can be readily polished and can be satisfactorily glued."

Walnut is hard, strong and stiff and has good shock resistance, the report points out. It can be easily bleached to attain many of the lighter than natural tones so popular today.

Use Old Nylon Stocking

The most thorough mixing of paints will sometimes leave a few lumps hard to get rid of by stirring. Take an old nylon stocking, stretch it over the top of an empty can and pour paint through it. You will find this an efficient way to have a smooth coating, and it hasn't cost you a penny.

Capital Investment Up

NEW YORK — During the past 10 years in the United States the average capital investment per production worker rose more than 80 per cent, to $16,000. In 1948 the figure was $9,000.

BIDS WANTED

The Board of Trustees of the Ortonville Methodist Church will receive bids for the construction of a frame addition to the Church until 8:00 P. M. E.S.T. on October 14, 1958 at the Methodist Parsonage, Church Street, c/o Rev. I. R. McPhee, Ortonville, Mich.

Separate proposals are requested for General, Mechanical, and Electrical work.

Plans, specifications and other bidding documents may be obtained from Rev. I. R. McPhee, Methodist Parsonage, Church Street, Ortonville, Mich.

INSTALLING BATTS — Follow rule illustrated, above, when installing batts of insulation, if you'd have insulation work most efficiently.

Make Your Home Snug Against Cold Weather

Ideally, a home should be fully insulated when built or remodeled. But there may be parts of your home not insulated, or which need additional insuulation.

Insulation is a barrier that slows down temperature changes. It slows down heat loss from the inside in winter, of heat from outdoors in summer.

That's all it is. Insulation of itself neither heats nor cools.

It has no magic properties. And if you install it where there is little likelihood of heat transference, you're wasting money.

Decide first where you need additional insulation; second, what sort of insulation would work best in each spot.

HEAT LOSS

Since warm air rises, most heat loss is through the attic. And in summer this is also the spot in which heat builds up quickly because of the sun's rays beating directly on the roof.

Walls vary in their need for insulation. Those most exposed to the weather need the most protection. Chances are, in winter the north wall is the coldest. In summer, the south wall most needs protection from the sun's rays.

Conditions may vary in different areas. The presence of other buildings and of trees should be considered.

Floors in basementless homes should be insulated. So should floors of rooms built out over the top of a porch or attached garage.

When you shop for insulation, you'll find these four basic types available:

FILL INSULATION is sold as bagsful of loose material, and is the least expensive type. It is suitable for pouring between joists in an unfinished attic. Used in that fashion, it should be spread from two to four inches deep.

Loose insulation is used, too, to fill between walls of older homes. This requires installation by use of a blower, and professionals only should handle the job. It's no task for the handy man.

BAT OR BLANKET insulation is loose insulation packed between sheets of specially treated paper. Batts are short strips, blankets are the same material made in rolls up to 100 feet in length.

Thicknesses vary from one to four inches; width, from 16 to 24 inches.

Material is installed between studding or joists, and is nailed or stapled in place.

INSULATION BOARD is a thick wallboard which serves as both insulation and a wall-finishing material. It's often used in attics, sometimes in addition to batt-type insulation.

REFLECTIVE INSULATION is metal foil, usually aluminum, which insulates by reflecting summer heat. It's ideal for keeping out summer heat. It is often used in combination with other insulations to serve as a vapor barrier.

Most insulating materials contain rock wool, mineral wool, glass fibers, vegetable fibers or vermiculite.

Make certain that the insulation you purchase is both fire resistant and vermin proof.

Vegetable fibers do not have those qualities unless specially treated.

Wood Deck Popular for Outdoor Living

Families on the lookout for a patio design featuring charm, convenience, a minimum of upkeep, and simple construction will cast a favorable glance toward using a wood deck as the basis for their fresh air family room. Although decks are popular for use on level ground, they have always been a special favorite for sloping lots since they can be built out right over the slope and thus eliminate any need for leveling or filling.

One of the features of the wood deck which endears it to American do-it-yourselfers is its simplicity, for construction of a wood deck is so elementary that even a man endowed with five thumbs per hand can design and build one.

Decking boards of 2x6 Douglas fir, spaced a quarter inch apart to allow water to run through, are set on a heavy framework of 2x8s and supported by sturdy columns of fir set into concrete. There's no finish work involved, for folks these days have learned that time and tempest do a far better job of weathering natural woods than the paintbrush.

One of the newest ideas in deck design is the addition of a bench built along one edge. The bench affords convenient seating, and a flash of color can be introduced with a backrest of bright plastic panels set into a frame of fir. In addition to providing a lounging area, the bench and backrest form a sort of fence which screens the deck and lends privacy to this area for sunbathing.

Can Pull Headless Nails

Headless nails are always a problem to pull. Next time, try this trick. Grip the nail firmly between the jaws of side cutters after you position the claws of a hammer or wrecking bar at the base of the nail. Pry against the cutters, repositioning them for leverage as the nail slides out.

Don't store aerosol paint cans in temperatures of over 120 degrees; avoid exposure in sunny window areas and the back seats of autos, for instance.

New Roller Paints Pipes

Painting with a roller is the handyman's joy nowadays — but how about painting pipes? You can do that with a roller, too, now that EZ Painter Corp., Milwaukee, Wis., has come out with a sectional roller which revolves on a spring axle. The harder you press, the more the roller curves to fit around the pipe.

Windows Vital to Home Decor Inside and Out

Good-looking windows and doors are vital to the appearance of a house because they are the only building materials that serve the dual role of decorating components both on the exterior and interior.

This is one reason windows and panel doors of ponderosa pine are favored by leading decorators. They know that:

1. Wood can be painted or stained to match or harmonize with color schemes inside and out.

2. Panels on panel doors of ponderosa pine provide interesting texture that adds to the appearance of both exterior and interior designs.

3. Wood windows and panel doors are manufactured in dozens of styles and sizes to fit practically any architectural plan and decorating scheme.

Questions and Answers

QUESTION: Can you tell me something about the wood that is called pecky cypress. I like the appearance of it and would like to finish the walls of an extra room with it, but will the rotted part, or what looks like the rotted part, spread to the rest of the wood in time?

ANSWER: Pecky cypress is the name applied to wood cut from cypress trees which have been infested with a fungus. This fungus enters the living trees through broken branches and works its way down through the heartwood of the branches into the main trunk of the tree.

It leaves pockets in the wood which are filled with a brown powder. This powder seems to have an antiseptic action which halts the progress of the fungus. What you called the rotted part will not spread. In fact, pecky cypress has a strong resistance to decay, which is why it is used so often for outdoor fences, barns and the like.

Wax Cabinet Toe Space

The base of kitchen cabinets usually has a tiled or linoleum backing, up from the toe space. This can get really marked up from shoe scuffs and should receive the same cleaning and waxing care you give floors. When thoroughly cleaned and dried, apply a self-polishing floor wax.

Wall Panels 'Hang' Furniture

An amazing new method of modernizing old walls and putting them to work holding things such as desks, dressing counters, cabinets, magazine racks, pictures and other items is now available at some lumber dealers. Known as the Masonite Panelok system, the modernization idea is a new concept for interior walls.

It consists of hardboard panels two feet wide and eight feet high, held vertically against steel splines, barely visible between the joints, and Adjust-a-bilt fixtures which fit into the splines to hold a variety of objects.

The panels come in two factory-grained styles — one with random grooves and the other, not grooved —and also in unfinished panels with a natural surface. After installation, the factory-grained panels require only waxing, or a coat of lacquere, shellac or clear varnish to protect their finish. Natural surfaces may be primed and painted, enameled or lacquered.

The system may be installed over existing walls or over studs in new construction, the local dealers said. It permits the building contractor or home owner to remodel old rooms attractively and reorganize work and storage areas. In new homes it furnishes good looking, functional walls at the outset.

Fifty-five Adjust-a-bilt accessories are available to give the Panelok system a high degree of function in any room of the house. The system is especially helpful in making available more room in closets. Proper arrangements of accessories can add 50 per cent more storage capacity to a closet, the dealers reported.

The accessories fit easily into the slots which appear at on-inch intervals in the splines. They may be moved at will from one wall to another, or from one location to another. Since the hidden splines extend from floor to ceiling, they offer a wide range of heights for the homemaker's selection.

Fixtures include shelves, book and magazine racks, drawer units, fittings for desk tops, flowerpot holders and other items for planned or extra storage in the home.

Rougher the Better

For the man who doesn't like to paint his house any oftener than necessary, rough-sawn siding is the answer. It holds paint or stain about twice as long as planed wood, and such popular species as western red cedar and Douglas fir take paint exceedingly well.

MUSIC DIVIDER WALL — A low divider section is occasionally needed to separate living and dining areas. One like this defines the two areas, and provides an amazing music wall for radio, hi-fi and television, plus record storage. Can be built of any softwood such as west coast hemlock. Finished to bring out its golden tones, it makes an elegant piece of furniture.

Our Safety Is Underground!

While the objective of scientists throughout the world is to conquer the frontiers of space and the eyes of our citizens are peering into the sky, there is an equally important objective of Sanitary Engineers to protect the health of our people through efficient sewerage systems.

Clay sewer pipe has been relied upon as the standard sanitary sewer pipe material for the protection of health and sanitation since the days of the mighty Greek and Roman Empires and veen before.

It is interesting to note that some medical authorities claim a complete breakdown of our sanitary disposal systems would destroy the population of the world more quickly than all the ingenious means of destruction that man has been able to devise. Within hours disease and pestilence would prevail.

and Roman Empires and even behappen and to keep up with the needs of our ever-expanding population the association of clay pipe manufacturers known as the National Clay Pipe Manufacturers, Inc., has established a new, modern research laboratory in Crystal Lake, Illinois.

The work of this lab will be devoted exclusively to the continued development and improvement of clay sanitary system which are so instrumental in protecting public health—America's first line of defense.

Think Twice About Built-ins

It's cheaper to buy furniture with a built-in look than to pay a contractor to install cabinets and storage areas in your home.

Completely-finished units mass-produced by furniture manufacturers can be bought for as little as $50 a piece, according to the Home Furnishings Industry Committee. In many areas it costs as much to have a rough unfinished unit put together by hand.

HIDDEN COSTS

The buyer of a new home is often the victim of this disparity. Hidden in the price of the house is the high cost of built-ins. This includes about $30 a day, the salary of the carpenter who made them, plus materials.

Modular furniture units scaled to fit compactly together along a wall include book cases, desks, cabinets and chests. They can be used in living room, dining room or bedroom.

Generally more handsome wood grains are used in furniture construction. Hardware is selected to match and enhance the piece and such details as magnetic door fasteners, drawer guides and smoothly finished (on all edges) adjustable shelves in bookcases give you that rich craftsman-like look of good furniture.

And best of all, if you decide to move, you can take such free-standing pieces with you, or regroup them in one room or another as you wish.

Use Extra Care in Storing of Inflammables

Since nearly every family now has a power lawn mower, outboard motor or some other power-driven apparatus, the proper storage and handling of gasoline and oil around the home is of major concern in safety-conscious communities.

Safety officials state that the majority of accidents in and around the home are caused by careless operation of relatively safe gadgets. These experts say that many accidents involving the storage and handling of fuel could be eliminated if all gasoline and oil were stored in steel fuel cans instead of fragile glass bottles or other substitute containers.

Steel fuel cans have tight-fitting caps and convenient pouring spouts to facilitate handling by any member of the family. The caps on these rust-resistant fuel cans lock in dangerous fumes that present a distinct fire hazard. The pouring spout should come into contact with the tank when handling gasoline. This serves to ground the spout and prevents the formation of static electricity, which could ignite the fuel.

A small spark from a cigarette or match is enough to ignite gasoline. Adults should adhere to strict safety procedures when handling gasoline not only to prevent a deadly fire, but to set a good example for the children in the family.

Both fire and safety officials emphasize that gasoline and oil present no safety hazard if stored in steel fuel cans and handled properly.

Lends Muscle to Formosa

Presence of Deadliest Jet Fighters in World Discourages Reds

STARFIGHTER BASE, Northern Formosa (AP) — The needle-nosed killer tore down the runway and shock waves of sound thundered across the base.

The newly arrived F104A Starfighter, billed as the deadliest jet fighter in the world, was on its way—a part of the mushrooming American buildup to help Nationalist China meet the threat of communism in Formosa Strait.

The stubby, 55-foot plane was officially unveiled here this week.

The Starfighter set a new world altitude record of 91,249 feet. It has a range in excess of 1,000 miles, operates easily above 50,000 feet, has only a 22-foot wingspan. It has the most powerful jet engine ever built and looks more like a missile than a plane.

It squats low on the ground, a bullet-like weapon with a long nose filled with special air recording devices.

Nestling under the thrust-forward cockpit is a special 20mm. cannon whose rate of fire is still secret.

The wings are knife sharp to slice the air with minimum resistance. Rubber covers protect them on the ground.

Underneath nestle lethal Sidewinder air-to-air missiles, capable of seeking out an enemy plane and knocking it out of the skies.

The pilot wears spurs that fit into sockets inside the cockpit. They are to keep his feet in place if he has to eject in flight—downward in this plane.

Capt. Walter Irwin of Novato, Calif., rates it as a real pilot's airplane, "not dangerous, extremely simple to handle." He set a speed record of 1,404 m.p.h. in a Starfighter last May.

He and his fellow pilots are shaking down their unit to get it into full combat-ready condition. Their planes were flown from California in four parts and assembled here.

Their coming mission has not been disclosed but at Hamilton base in California the squadron was shaped for interception of high-flying enemy bombers.

As Extra-Cost Option in '59

Most Car Makers to Offer Non-Slip Differentials

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—Non-slip differentials will be offered by virtually all car makers with 1959 models.

Excepting for a few models this feature will be available as an extra-cost option on an almost industrywide basis.

Several suppliers make the new differential, but all have the same objective — to deliver power to whichever rear wheel has the better traction.

It provides stall free operation excepting in extreme cases where the car is sunk frame-deep in mud or is driven on a steep hill completely covered with glare ice.

Another comparatively new development apparently sweeping through the industry is an improved exterior finish. It is said to retain a high gloss for years without polishing.

In most instances it is being provided as a standard item at no extra cost.

A feature common to several of the new models is a wider hood cover that spreads into the center of the front fenders. In some instances the separation of hood and fender is concealed by a strip of trim atop the fender.

This contributes to the appearance of wider front. Functionally, it provides easier access to the growing amount of equipment in the hood.

Electric windshield wipers also are gaining in favor among the car makers. A recent survey shows slightly under 40 per cent of all the cars built this year were equipped with electrically-operated wipers.

More manufacturers are switching to them for 1959 as standard equipment items.

Several auto makers will announce improvements in mufflers and tail pipes, among the most perishable items on the modern automobile.

Aluminized coatings for internal pipes and zinc coatings for other parts are being provided.

With the use of non-corroding materials the auto makers probably can provide much longer life mufflers. Some top executives say, however, that the average motorist is reluctant to pay a higher price for a better muffler system.

Longer life mufflers are becoming increasingly important to the motorist as replacement costs increases and dual muffler systems become more common.

The replacement market is a big one, especially for the filling stations and independent garages.

Makers of conventional automobiles apparently have given up any thought of a further reduction in wheel diameters. When the 14-inch tires were introduced a couple of years ago it was said a 13-inch casing was planned.

So far no maker has shown any interest in the smaller diameter tire. But more makers will have wider tread tires, adopting the 9.00x14 casing. One maker last year had a 9:50x14 tire.

Telegraph Hill, a landmark in San Francisco, has its counterpart in Telegraph Hill in Winchester, England.

To Decide Village Issue at Same Time.

Novi Votes Monday on School Tax Hike

By STAN BOK

NOVI TOWNSHIP — Two separate, special elections will be held simultaneously Monday in Novi Township.

Precincts will be established in the Novi Township Hall and the Novi Community Building for the election involving approval or rejection of a proposed village charter.

Also, a precinct will be set up at the old Novi Elementary and Junior High School for voting on a proposed two and one-half mill tax increase for school operating expenses.

The proposed school tax levy will be in effect for a five-year period if approved, according to Arthur Heslip, president of the Novi Township School Board. The two and one-half mill tax hike would produce from $25,000 to $30,000 per year.

A steady climb in enrollment figures accounts for the need for additional school operating expenses, Heslip said. More than 600 children are now attending elementary school classes in Novi Township and the teaching staff has been increased.

Until this year Novi Township had only one elementary school. A second elementary school is being completed at 10-Mile and Meadowbrook roads and four classrooms are already in use.

The scheduled completion date for the new school has been set for October 15, Heslip said. There will be a total of 12 classrooms in the new school.

The "old" Novi Elementary and Junior High School is located on Novi road north of Grand River avenue.

Heslip said that additional revenue was needed to enable Novi schools to maintain current programs.

High school pupils in Novi Township attend either Northville or Walled Lake high schools.

To Honor Composer

BUDEAPEST, Hungary (UPI) — A two-week festival honoring Bela Bartok, Hungary's famed modern composer, opens today with a concert featuring American violinist Yehudi Menuhin.

This Year You'll See a Sophisticated Berle

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "You were a millionaire when I first met you almost 20 years ago," I said to Milton Berle. "So why are you going back to work?"

"His brother Frank needs the money!" yelled Milton's gag-writer friend, Jay Burton, who was sunning himself on the terrace.

"Shut up!" commanded Milton. "You know me. I can't stay idle. I'm an actor."

WILSON

Through the smoke from a dollar cigar, Milton explained that after he was on the Academy Award and Red Skelton shows, "There were many, many letters—thousands of letters—saying they'd like to see me on the screen again . . . All these notes and letters that the public'd be pleased were a big kick to me . . . and I decided to do it."

"You mean you've been drafted?" I said.

"Yes—drafted! Milton Eisenhower!" he laughed.

But on his Wednesday-at-9 TV show starting Oct. 8, Uncle Miltie'll be sophisticated. And as though to prove he can do it, he said that his new producer-director Hal Kanter had done one script. "It's in the Berle idiom," Milton said. I was amazed at his using such a word as idiom . . . but I was in for a bigger shock when I asked why he'd decided to do the show mostly from Hollywood.

BERLE & 'ERL'

"I think the words are more important than the emanation," Milton answered. What he meant was that Hal Kanter lived in Hollywood and didn't want to move to New York; hence the "emanation" from California.

"So Milton's going to the mountain instead of the mountain coming to Milton." He puffed vigorously on the cigar as he tossed off that literary allusion.

"Does this mean no seltzer bottles, no pies in the face, no long underwear?"

"I don't think so. I don't think it's clever. Where we kid it, it might me done," he conceded.

"Let's face it, I just had a birthday. I'm 50 years old. Spasmodically there might be a few hokey bits. But the trend of guest stars exchanging with guest stars, I think, is getting a little shopworn, a little old hat. What Hal has in mind is to introduce new faces."

Milton had been intermittently posing for Photographer Tony Calvacca.

"I'll do a pensive pose," Milton said. (Pensive yet! Egad, was there no end to the man's erudition?)

Naturally, Milton hopes for a good press. One columnist did a review of a Berle program as he imagined it was going to be—and he didn't like it.

"Hal had a wonderful line about that," exclaimed Milton, pointing with his cigar. "He said, 'This is the only newspaperman I know who can reminisce about tomorrow.'"

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: One reader thinks the western craze has now gone too far. The other day he saw a woman carrying her baby in a holster.

The sponsor of a TV dramatic show insisted on a really happy ending—HE wanted . . . That's earl, brother.

Further information may be obtained at the CAI.

Report Escape to West

BERLIN (UPI) — The anti-communist "Information Bureau West" intelligence agency said today that Dr. Friedrich Leutwein, a former communist party leader in East Germany, had fled to West Germany with his family.

In the last six years the ratio of pupils per classroom in the nation's public schools declined from 30 to 1 to 28½ to 1. The pupil-teacher ratio dropped from 27½ to 1 to 26.2 to 1.

Auto Firms Rely Heavily on Video Personalities

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Are you product identification prone?

American advertisers invest millions of dollars annually in various television personalities and programs on the bet that you are. Among the heaviest investors are automobile manufacturers.

Think of a make of American auto and see if you identify with it a TV entertainer whose program advertises the car. Or, since identification is supposed to work both ways, think of a TV entertainer and see if you identify an advertised product with that individual.

If you do, you're prone to product identification. If you don't—well, presumably the system or theory isn't working.

One who is convinced that it works is Bill Hayes, a singer and actor who has been promoting a particular auto in the past year.

"From about 1951 to '53," he said recently, "people identified me with TV's 'Show of Shows.' In '54 they were asking me for tickets to 'Me and Juliet,' the Broadway hit I was in. In '55 and '56 they called me Davy Crockett.

His recording of "The Ballad of Davy Crockett" sold more than two million. Nowadays people ask me, 'Are you selling those cars?'"

Nearly every auto manufacturer who advertises on television uses his TV entertainers to tour the country and help introduce new designs to his sales force.

In this identification of a product with an intertainer Hayes sees as much advantage for the entertainer as for the product.

It's a Fact!

And It is also A Fact
