Senators Claim Indochina Policy as 'Edge of War'

But Soberly Favor U.S. Request for Coalition on Asia Protection

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two senators today spoke of the sending of U. S. naval and air units into the Indochinese fighting as a possibility and one said, "It looks to me as if we are on the edge of war there."

Sen. McCarran (D-Nev), who made this estimate in an interview, said, "If we should send in naval and air forces now, it would only bring the Chinese Communists in force and then I don't see how we could avoid sending troops."

The sober comment in Congress followed renewed expressions by President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles of the administration's determination that Indochina must not fall to the Communists.

Indications from abroad are that U.S. allies are not moving as fast as U.S. officials might wish in forming a coalition on defense of Southeast Asia.

Dispatches from London and Paris indicated both British and French leaders might consider the time inopportune and want more details on the "united will" and "united action" Dulles has advocated.

All sides seem to agree that if and when conclusive decisions are reached and some public statement is made, it must be not simply another "hands off" warning to the Chinese Reds but an announcement of determination with real teeth.

The question at this point is what kind of teeth — should the policy decisions be backed up by naval forces, air forces, ground forces, or some combination of these?

Eisenhower's refusal at his news conference yesterday to spell out probable free world action if the Chinese Communists move in force into Indochina caused some senators to speculate that a program of

French Destroy Red Trenches

Slow Commie Buildup Around Besieged Fort of Dien Bien Phu

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French Union troops, fanning out over a wide area around Dien Bien Phu today, destroyed a long string of enemy trenches being built for a fresh assault on the northwest Indochina bastion.

Sixty rebels were killed in the operations, the French said.

A French communique said the garrison defenders again last night had an "easy night" as the Communist-led Vietminh still did not resume their direct infantry assaults on the fortress plain.

The rebels halted their second round of such frontal charges Monday after six days of murderous French gunfire and hand-to-hand combat.

But the Vietminh troops kept up their feverish digging of new foxholes and winding trenches within 600 feet of the barbed wire mazes guarding the heart of the French Union stronghold 175 miles west of Hanoi. Observers believed Communist Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap again would send his black-clad legions pouring out in another attempt to overwhelm Dien Bien Phu.

Thunderstorms and rain increased in frequency, heralding the approach by the end of the month of the monsoons. The big seasonal rains annually halt large-scale operations. Time obviously was growing short for the rebels in their try for a big victory before the Geneva conference, scheduled to start April 26.

As the main Vietminh force rested up in the hills around Dien Bien Phu, long lines of trucks and coolies still followed the roads and trails from Communist China with ammunition, other war material and rice for the rebel force.

French fighters and American-supplied B26 bombers kept up their constant attacks on the supply lines.

Assessment Battle Ends

Troopers Oust Ziegenhardts From Log-Fortified Farm

LAPEER — Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt were evicted today from their farm home by 36 State Troopers and sheriff's deputies who descended upon "Fort Ziegenhardt" at dawn.

The elderly brothers, wrapped in blankets, were carried bodily from the $40,000 farm they lost through failure to pay a $280 assessment in the 1935 bankruptcy of a mutual insurance association.

Police equipped with tear gas and riot guns immediately blocked roads leading to the 240-acre farm as rumors persisted that Ziegenhardt sympathizers planned reprisals.

A report that Flint CIO unionists would attempt to crack the cordon tonight was officially denied by Charles Ziy, UAW-CIO international representative for the Flint region.

"If any members did attempt such action it would be as individuals and not in the name of the CIO," he declared.

The lightning raid was such a well-kept secret that neighbors of the brothers were unaware of it even two hours after the 16 squad cars ringed the farmhouse.

"You might as well take us out and shoot us," Paul, 73, told Sheriff Clark Gregory of Lapeer County as they carried him bodily from the farmhouse.

Their eviction was a sudden move in the 19-year-old legal battle of Lapeer County farmers and the brothers, who erected a sand bag and timber "Fort Ziegenhardt" on their farm to defy eviction.

The eviction was a closely guarded secret by police, who sought to avoid alerting resistance by the Ziegenhardts and their neighbors.

The Ziegenhardts were asleep when a 16-car police party surrounded the farm on M53, four miles south of Marlette.

Chris, 75, and his brother sat on the edge of their beds while Sheriff Gregory read the eviction writ obtained by Mrs. Grace S. White, Lapeer attorney who bought the farm for $13,000 at an auction ordered by the Michigan Supreme Court in 1948.

The writ was issued by Circuit Judge Timothy C. Quinn of Lapeer.

"We own this farm," Chris said. "Let Timothy Quinn come here like a man."

"Just give us a little time," Paul said. "We never got no notice."

Battle for Indochina

The critical Far Eastern war, for control of Indochina, every day is assuming more and more personal interest to every American. American taxpayers are now paying a major share of the 'foreign' war's cost. A picture story which gives the background of the fighting that could explode into the third World War starts in the Press today. The first panel appears on page 47.

U.S., Canada Push North Radar Fence

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said today that U.S.-Canadian plans for strengthening the far northern early-warning radar fence are "well advanced" and that the U.S. is extending the barrier northeast and northwest.

In a statement made public simultaneously in Washington and Ottawa Wilson pointed to atomic developments as calling for greater safeguards against a devastating enemy attack from over the North Pole.

Bulletin

MOOSE JAW, Sask. (UP)—A large passenger plane collided with a smaller plane in the air today and crashed into a house. First reports said between 20 and 25 persons were believed killed.

Lightning Raid on Ziegenhardts Bars Bloodshed

Split-second timing and the precision of a well-planned Army attack marked the lightning raid early today that resulted in the eviction of the Ziegenhardt brothers.

The raid was planned yesterday afternoon by Lapeer Sheriff Clark Gregory and State Police Capt. Earl Secrist.

It was kept secret for over 12 hours.

Both Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt, who earlier had threatened to shoot it out with police, were surprised in their beds!

Twenty-five state troopers converged on the farm from the north and 11 sheriff's deputies moved in from the south. Both traveled M 53 and side roads.

The raid was carried off so quietly that Lapeer's streets were deserted and farm houses near the Ziegenhardts were dark when squad cars rolled toward the 240-acre farm.

Scout cars dropped out of the State Police procession to blockade strategic roads to bar possible violence.

The remaining cars pulled up in front of the farmhouse simultaneously shortly before 7 a. m. They had maintained contact by short-wave police radios.

State troopers from as far away as Bay City joined the Lapeer deputies.

The strategy differed from the vain eviction attempt in 1951 in that the officers ruled out a rendezvous area for fear the disturbance would alert Ziegenhardt sympathizers.

The Ziegenhardts earlier had fortified the farmhouse and vowed never to leave the farm alive.

Court Affirms Perjury Opinion

Witness at Investigation of RFC Lustron Loans Ruled Guilty

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today affirmed the perjury conviction of E. Merl Young, a key figure in the Senate's headline-making investigation of Reconstruction Finance Corp.

The court overturned the perjury conviction of Young's older brother, Herschel Young.

The brothers, tried separately, each received a sentence of four months to two years. Both have been at liberty on bond pending the outcome of their appeals.

Merl Young, 39, was convicted of swearing falsely four times before the Senate Investigating subcommittee and the federal grand jury which returned the indictments.

The Appeals Court, however, dealt only with the one charge—involving Young's denial that while employed by the RFC he ever had anything to do with loan applications made by the Lustron Corp., a prefabricated housing venture. It held his conviction on that count to be "clearly valid."

The court said that since Young received four equal sentences to run concurrently it need concern itself with only one count of the indictment.

Counsel Ordered to Begin McCarthy Quiz on April 21

WASHINGTON (AP) — Trial lawyer Ray H. Jenkins had orders today to be ready to launch 13 days from now public Senate hearings aimed at finding the truth in the McCarthy-Army row.

Jenkins, a 57-year-old grandfather from Knoxville, Tenn., took the job of special counsel yesterday with a public pledge to fulfill it with "no prejudice, no bias."

"I have no record, publicly or otherwise, as to Sen. McCarthy or what has come to be known as McCarthyism," he told a news conference.

As special counsel to the Senate investigations subcommittee, he said, he intends to dig for and present the facts in the bitter charges involving McCarthy and high Army officials "without any favoritism, in as fair and impartial a manner as I know how."

An Army report has accused McCarthy (R-Wis) and two of his aides of seeking favored treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a drafted former associate.

McCarthy disputed that and said Army officials sought to "blackmail" him into dropping a search for subversives in the Army. The Army denies that.

Jenkins, who looks far younger than his age, succeeds Samuel P. Sears, a Boston lawyer previously selected by the subcommittee but whose name was never officially entered on the payroll.

Sears stepped out Tuesday, five days after being appointed, saying that baseless challenges to his impartiality had made it necessary for him to step aside "in the public interest." Sears was an avowed admirer of McCarthy, although he said he had taken no side in the current row.

Jenkins got the appointment at a closed door meeting of the subcommittee, which also ordered the televised hearings to start on April 21, instead of the old target date of sometime next week.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who will run the hearings as acting chairman, told reporters Jenkins' first assignment is to set up an office here, and the next one to help set up ground rules for the inquiry.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) first suggested Jenkins' name for the job. The Illinois senator, a subcommittee member, said he was in Tennessee last weekend on a personal mission when he got word from Mundt that it might be necessary to replace Sears as counsel.

Wilson Reveals Security Policy

Secretary of Defense Tells Senators of New Plan for Ousting Risks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today announced a revised security program designed "to clean out and keep out" of the armed forces persons deemed to be security or loyalty risks.

Wilson announced the new directive, and the security-loyalty yardsticks it lays down, at a public hearing before the Senate Armed Services Committee.

Its objective, he said, is to provide uniform standards for the Army, Navy and Air Force and "to speed up our procedures for getting such individuals out of the service and for keeping them out."

"I have come here this morning with a single purpose in view," Wilson said in a statement. "It is to give concrete assurance to this committee and to all concerned that the matter of subversives, Communist sympathizers, or other such security risks in the armed forces is being carefully worked out."

Second Twister Hits Apartment at Battle Creek

Minor Thunderstorms Lash Pontiac; No Heavy Damage Reported

Two tornadoes spawned by last night's severe thunderstorm injured two persons in Swartz Creek near Flint and ripped the roof of an apartment building in the small town of Fulton near Battle Creek.

Although alerted for possible tornadoes, the Pontiac area escaped with only a relatively harmless thunderstorm.

No one was injured in the twister which struck at 7:15 p. m. in the southeast part of Fulton Township, skipped over outlying homes and descended on the apartment on the town's main street.

The tornado struck Swartz Creek, five miles southwest of Flint, at 8:15, caught the fire hall, lifted it into the air, scattered cement blocks and dropped the roof on top of cars parked nearby. Loss was estimated at $5,000.

Herschel Wise, 38, and his 14-year-old daughter, Virginia, were cut and bruised by flying debris as the storm ripped roofs from several Swartz Creek homes and wrecked garages and power lines.

Swartz Creek fire chief Jack Adams watched the fire hall from the door of his home across the street. Wind ripped the door from his hand and dragged it into the yard.

Some witnesses reported a tornado-like funnel dangling from clouds near Flint's outskirts. The larger city, still jittery from last summer's storm, was battered by hail, a thunderstorm and 71-mile an hour winds that twisted telephone poles, uprooted trees and shattered windows. A similar storm hit Detroit.

Pontiac residents waited anxiously until the second tornado alert in 48 hours ended officially at 10 p. m. Winds here did not rise above 55 miles an hour.

Areas just south of Pontiac suffered heavier damage at the hands of thunderstorms.

A storm that battered Birmingham knocked out a main power line and left the homes of 150 Graefield Terrace residents without lights for three hours starting at 9:10 p. m.

A bolt of lightning wrecked the home of Adolph Swcicaki at 70 Knollwood, Clawson, and blacked out a five block square area. Another bolt destroyed an overhead traffic light at Rochester Rd. at 14-Mile Rd.

Ferndale suffered heavy rains that flooded an area near Livernois and West Eight-Mile road. Lightning struck two transformers in Dearborn blacking out an eighty-block area.

The storms ended Michigan's two-day summer — at least, temporarily.

Temperatures that soared from a low of 53 to a near-record 80 degrees at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon had tumbled to 43 degrees by 8 a. m. today. Thermometers stumbled up and down

State Lawmakers Grapple With Unbalanced Budget

LANSING (AP) — Amid unprecedented legislative confusion, Michigan's General Fund budget for next year appeared to be slipping about one million dollars into the red today.

With final adjournment 48 hours away, some House and Senate leaders conceded they did not have a clear picture of what the budget contained and did not know whether they would be able to get one.

It appeared that much of the budget will be thrown into House-Senate conference committees today and tomorrow in an attempt to bring order out of chaos.

One veteran legislator said privately, "This is the worst mess I have ever seen."

The stumbling block still was the State Civil Service Commission's 11th hour decision to boost state employe pay after most of the appropriation bills had been written.

The House threw up its hands at 6 p.m. yesterday and went off to a wild duck dinner sponsored by the Sheriff's Association. The Senate attended the dinner and then worked until nearly 10:30 p.m.

An unofficial and rough estimate of the budget at its present stage indicated it stood at about $366 million or one million more than the balanced budget Gov. Williams submitted and $6 million more than the appropriation committees predicted they would achieve.

Of this total, $5,400,000 of General Fund money could be traced to the Civil Service pay raise plus another $1 million in earmarked

Approval of Fire Station Bonds Brings Action; Set Ground-Breaking for July

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Voter approval Monday of a $225,000 bond issue to finance two new fire stations for the city produced speedy results.

Landscaping work on the site of the west side fire station at Chesterfield and Maple was also begun Tuesday morning, along with the moving of several utilities poles there.

"The bond market is very favorable, and I estimate it will take eight weeks to complete the sale," Egbert said. "We hope to award the contracts and break ground by July 1," he added.

CONFERENCE—Sheriff Gregory of Lapeer confers with Paul Ziegenhardt this morning before State Troopers evicted Paul and his brother, Chris, from their farm. "You might as well shoot me," Paul told the sheriff. The eviction was accomplished without shooting.

Evict Ziegenhardts in Dawn Raid Today

case," Gregory said. "I've got my orders."

The brothers were carried to the edge of M53 by sheriff's deputies. They were then taken to a Marlette Hospital though neither was injured in the eviction.

Sheriff Gregory ordered a tractor dispatched to the farm to tear down "Fort Ziegenhardt" and rip to the ground signs the brothers used to advertise their fight.

Two moving vans pulled into the farmyard as the brothers were taken to the hospital. Moving crews began removal operations. A Wisconsin family, identified only by the last name of "Baylist," was reported ready to occupy the farm home.

The interior of the Ziegenhardt home was in unbelievable disorganization. Ceiling laths were exposed where plaster had fallen. Waist-high piles of newspapers cluttered their bedroom. A pothelly stove was ice-cold. A 1947 dust-covered calendar hung on the wall. Egg shells and crumbs littered the floor.

In the farmyard, a number of dead chickens and cats were found. Eighteen head of undernourished cattle were in a barn.

Harold Jarvis, 37, who was a helper on the farm, was asleep in a gatehouse office when authorities arrived.

He was taken into custody to prevent possible agitation by Ziegenhardt sympathizers. No charges was placed against him.

Gregory also handed the brothers a $3,750 levy on their personal property, a judgment obtained by Mrs. White for the Ziegenhardts occupying the farm after the Lapeer woman purchased it a few years ago.

The eviction was the second attempt by police to take possession of the 240-acre farm that the Ziegenhardts purchased in 1903. On March 13, 1951, police evicted them but irate neighbors moved them back in.

The Ziegenhardts and several hundred Lapeer County farmers protested payment of assessments when the Lapeer Farmers Mutual Assn. collapsed in 1935. They were association members.

Their battle took them to the Michigan Supreme Court more than 50 times. Violence ended in prison sentences for three men involved in obstruction of justice.

State laws of mutual companies controlled the Farmers Insurance Association. They provide that members underwrite operation costs and losses.

In protesting farmers challenged the legality of the assessments and charged mismanagement of the association.

"Fort Ziegenhardt," a three-sided bastion near the farm house, was never used for a pitched battle with the law. It served to dramatize the fight against the assessments.

Friends estimate the Ziegenhardts have paid "at least $18,000" to fight the $280 assessment.

Paul once said that "I only went to the fourth grade, but I know what I believe in."

The smoothness of the eviction was in contrast to Sheriff Gregory's move to evict the late Mrs. Elizabeth Stevens of nearby Clifford. Like the Ziegenhardts, the widow refused to pay the bankruptcy assessment and lost her 80-acre farm.

Gregory and a deputy were manhandled by a mob of farmers June 2, 1952, when they sought to evict the widow.

Mrs. Stevens, who later was evicted, had refused to pay a $172 assessment ordered by the insurance association's receivers. Her $8,000 farm was also purchased at auction by Mrs. White for $500.

Irwin C. Russell, 60, of Lapeer, and Floyd Schreiber, 60, of Almont, were each sentenced to 2 years imprisonment for obstructing the eviction of Mrs. Stevens. Russell is in Southern Michigan Prison. Schreiber, father of nine children, is free on $2,000 bond while appealing.

Clayton C. Gilliland, 65, self-styled Detroit investigator, was convicted last Dec. 24 for conspiracy to obstruct the widow's eviction. He currently is appealing his sentence of 4½ to 5 years imprisonment.

Gilliland spearheaded a members committee of farmers fighting the bankruptcy assessments. He at one time unsuccessfully sought a 23-man grand jury investigation of the legal aspects of the assessment battle.

In an appeal to the embattled farmers to end the long dispute, Joseph M. Navarre, state insurance commissioner, once said:

"Every mature person has at some time in his life felt that he suffered an injustice. Usually he will go to reasonable lengths to see that it is corrected.

"But there must always come a time when he concludes that the past must be left behind, and that nursing of his grievances will destroy his value to himself and to the community in which he lives."

the scale for several hours and stood at 39 at 2 p.m.

But the U.S. Weather Bureau forecast "somewhat warmer" weather Friday after a chilly low of 24 to 26 degrees tonight. Winds should fall and temperatures rise to 56 to 64 degrees Friday.

While its neighbors to the north and south took a beating from Wednesday's storms, Pontiac had almost no damage.

The Detroit Edison Co. said lighting knocked out one transformer in Leonard, cutting off 25 customers' lights for half an hour. Pontiac City's forestry crew removed one fallen tree from Whittemore street near Perkins Wednesday afternoon.

Black - funneled twisters also slammed into Illinois and Wisconsin Wednesday, killing one woman and injuring 13 others.

The most violent tornado whirled for 15 miles just north of Kankakee, Ill. Mrs. Anna Barclay, 54, was killed when it destroyed her home north of Kankakee and shoved a timber through her body. Tornadoes also struck Iowa County in southwestern Wisconsin and Highland, Wis. Other wild thunderstorms were touched off all through the midwest.

Among these, Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said he sees no need to use U. S. troops in Indochina, but he added in an interview:

"In case of a crisis there, we may need to use naval power and undoubtedly air power. I don't think anything we are doing now contemplates employing American manpower in Asia but quite conceivably it calls for air and naval power."

Smith, who is chairman of a Senate Foreign Relations Far Eastern subcommittee, applauded Eisenhower's call for concerted action by the nations of the free world to prevent an anti-Communist defeat in Indochina and resultant falling-domino collapse of Burma, Thailand, Indonesia and other Southeast Asia nations now outside the Red orbit.

Almost without exception senators who commented agreed with the President's view that the loss of Indochina would hinder the U.S. island defensive chain of Japan, Formosa, the Philippines and threaten Australia and New Zealand.

Prince Aly Khan Buys $200 in Cowboy Clothes

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Prince Aly Khan has bought himself $200 worth of cowboy shirts, pants and wide-brimmed hats to wear when he returns to Europe.

The prince, shopping in a San Fernando Valley Western outfitting store while his heart interest, actress Gene Tierney, was busy at her studio, duly impressed a woman clerk.

"He was wonderful," she said, adding that he fitted the clothing "absolutely beautifully."

Aly plans to go to New York next week to visit his former wife, Rita Hayworth, and their daughter Yasmin.

Sets Medical Record

BOSTON (UP) — Dr. William J. Brickley, Boston medical examiner, says that in 33 years on the job only 2 of more than 30,000 problem deaths he has handled still are unsolved.

Stravinsky Gets Boot at Opera

Famed Composer and 2 Companions Ousted Because of Attire

ROME (AP)—World-famed composer Igor Stravinsky and a party of friends got the bum's rush at the Rome Opera House last night because their suits weren't of the dress variety.

Wearing dark, but not formal, attire, the trio showed up for a performance of a new German opera, Henze's "Boulevard Solitude," being presented in connection with the current International Conference of Composers, Performers and Music Critics.

Stravinsky is chairman of the conference's musical advisory board. His companions last night, conductor Robert Craft of Hollywood and composer Ned Rorem of New York and Paris, are attending the congress. A late meeting had prevented their changing clothes.

The conference secretary, Nicholas Nabokov, also was along but he was dressed up. Later he told what happened:

"We were stopped at the door and told we could not be admitted because we were not properly attired. I explained who Mr. Stravinsky is. The doorman said, all right, he could go in—but not the others.

"Mr. Stravinsky said he would not enter unless the others were admitted. We asked for the manager, saying Mr. Stravinsky was being stopped at the door. The manager sent some helper to say he was too busy to bother with us.

"When we protested, a strong-arm squad appeared. There was quite a noisy and violent scene. It really looked like a scramble for a moment.

"Well, we left. Apparently the Rome Opera never heard of Igor Stravinsky. Anyway, he didn't hear the Rome Opera."

Despondent Widow Dies Under Train

DETROIT (INS)—An elderly Detroit woman died of injuries received yesterday when she jumped in front of a diesel switch engine at a Grand Trunk Railroad crossing in Detroit.

Witnesses said Mrs. Katherine Dlugosielske, 64, whom relatives described as despondent over the death of her husband, appeared to wait for the train to come abreast before she leaped.

Engineer Frank Stanish, 58, said he thought the woman was waiting to cross the tracks. The engine was traveling about 20 miles an hour at the impact.

Team Sponsor Arrested in Theft of Equipment

CLEVELAND (AP)—The FBI says a Mansfield, Ohio, man stole a set of basketball uniforms from an Air Force depot to outfit a YMCA league team he sponsored.

Charles E. Taylor, 39, was arrested yesterday in Mansfield and brought here for arraignment. Since the uniforms were worth less than $100, conviction would result in a maximum of a year in jail.

The uniforms were stolen last year from the Wilkins Air Force Depot at Shelby, Ohio, where Taylor worked as a business machine operator. His basketball team, which the FBI says played this year in the uniforms, was called the Taylor bombers.

Drivers Given Prison Terms

Alabama Legal Setup Allows Courts to Brand Offenders as Convicts

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UP)—You can be sent to prison in Alabama and wear the brand of an ex-convict the rest of your life for no more than using abusive language or driving a car without a license.

Scores of men, and women too, walk into the penitentiary each month to serve sentences of a few months or a few weeks—or, in some instances only a few days.

They're checked in, given a number, fingerprinted and mugged like all other convicts even though they may have only 10 days to serve, or less. Records at Kilby prison tell the incredible story of men brought miles across the state with a debt to society of one day plus court costs which are worked out at the rate of 75 cents a day.

These short-termers are county prisoners, convicted of misdemeanors which carry hard labor sentences of a year or less. Under a 1927 law, counties can, and do, turn county prisoners over to the state rather than feed and house them.

In the 1952-53 fiscal year which ended Sept. 3, Kilby imprisoned 984 county convicts. Twenty of them had 30 days or less to serve, 266 had less than 60 days, and 389 were in for less than three months.

Many of the county prisoners go to prison because they can't pay court-imposed fines and costs. When that happens, the State Prison Department must pay the costs to the county in cash, collecting from the prisoners in labor at the rate of 75 cents a day.

In counties where officials still live on the fee system, they get their share of the money paid by the state the same as they would if the defendant himself paid it. And in liquor law violations, sheriffs or other officers or persons who give evidence for convictions get $50 for each case.

Efforts have been made to relieve the state of the heavy financial burden of housing county prisoners, but resistance has been too tough to overcome. And so luckless motorists who can't pay traffic fines still wind up in prison.

Cutting Down Television Aerial Brings Jail Term

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP)—Roscoe Tard, was charged by his wife Beatrice with chopping down their television antenna and then chasing her around the house.

"She played the TV all night, your honor," Tard explained. "I couldn't sleep. She just wouldn't turn that thing off."

"I can see that it might make you emotionally disturbed," the judge agreed. Then he sentenced Tard to five days in jail for disorderly conduct.

Charge of H-Bomb Delay Bewilders High Officials

WASHINGTON (UP)—Rep. W. Sterling Cole says he knows of nothing sinister in the fact that high officials debated for months before deciding to press work on the hydrogen bomb, a weapon the government says is due for "greatly increased production."

Cole, New York Republican who heads the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, recalled last night that full-scale work on the weapon was not decided upon until four months after Russia's first explosion in 1949 of an atomic bomb of the conventional type.

"This fact is not of itself sinister," he said, "nor does it imply that those who opposed the President's final decision were motivated by a desire to lessen our military strength."

He conceded that events have proved he was wrong in urging against the decision to go ahead with the superbomb.

Other present and former officials said they had no knowledge of any 18-month delay in the H-bomb project mentioned by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) on a nationwide television broadcast Tuesday night.

McCarthy said there was a deliberate delay, and he asked: "If there were no Communists in our government, why did we delay?"

President Eisenhower told his news conference he has never heard of such a delay.

Former President Truman, who made the decision to proceed with the H-bomb in early 1950, said in Kansas City, "The order was issued as soon as the scientists were ready to go to work." The first announced hydrogen explosion occurred 34 months later, in November 1952.

Sumner T. Pike, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission at the time, said in Augusta, Maine, he didn't know what McCarthy was talking about and he added of the senator: "I suppose as he frequently does he is just throwing mud and hoping some of it will stick." Pike is a Republican.

As for the current status of the H-bomb, AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee yesterday that "greatly increased production of thermonuclear weapons"—those popularly called hydrogen bombs—account for increased spending in the next fiscal year.

Operating costs will rise by 427 million dollars to $1,262,000,000, Strauss said, and he added:

"Virtually the entire increase occurs in the cost of producing uranium and of producing weapons and weapons materials."

Strauss said results of current tests in the Pacific "will play an important part in making the thermonuclear weapon a major instrument for the defense of the free world," but the commission also will seek for versatility through development of a "family of weapons."

AEC announced yesterday the third test of the current Pacific series, and Strauss said "information of great importance to national defense continues to be derived." The first two series blasts were described as thermonuclear. Presumably this one was too.

Rep. Cole did not mention McCarthy in his statement, but it obviously was prompted by the senator's broadcast.

"While it is true," he said, "that there was considerable discussion between September 1949 and January 1950 concerning the need of developing the hydrogen bomb, this fact is not of itself sinister . . .

"At the same time, we know that there is no security system which can guarantee to be 100 per cent effective against traitors.

"Therefore, we cannot exclude categorically the possibility that a person or persons in our program might have been motivated by a desire to lessen our military strength."

The Pacific ocean extends farther east than New York state.

Ike Calms Our Fears

The PRESS has watched with interest the reactions, both in Pontiac and throughout the country, that have followed the informal, neighborly talk President EISENHOWER gave to the people last Monday evening.

Not since his inauguration, it seems to us, has the President been as relaxed and persuasive in addressing the Nation. Recalling the spiritual climate in which our Republic was founded, he reminded his hearers of our need today for the spiritual strength to defend the rights and privileges handed down to us.

For the overwhelming majority, no doubt, the outstanding feature of the address was the list of reasons why the President believes a Russian attack on us is improbable. One of those reasons, he said, was that the men in the Kremlin know full well when dictators "challenge the whole world they are very likely to end up in any place except a dictatorial position."

In touching on the fear of Communist infiltration, the President said the danger had been greatly exaggerated as to numbers. He placed the total of doctrinal Communists in this country at 25,000, or about one in every 6,000 residents, and said that the FBI knows where they are.

The President was at his best in discussing our fear of depression. While admitting that unemployment had reached 3,700,000 in the transition from war to peace economy, he said it now is leveling off and pointed out that employment totals more than 60,000,000, very nearly an all time high.

"We have the great savings of our people," he added, listing other counterbalancing factors, "and the great requirements of 160,000,000 people of good income, and that is the kind of thing that gives employment and insures the productivity of our farms and factories."

We believe what the President said needed to be said. In saying it he dispelled fear and gave the country new faith in its ability and strength to face whatever risks the future may bring.

Toscanini Retires

ARTURO TOSCANINI for many years has been such a supreme master of great music that news of his retirement from the podium will sadden millions around the world.

At 87 this great artist, who began his career as a cellist in his native Italy, is a living legend known and admired wherever music is heard and loved. Since he was 19 TOSCANINI has devoted himself to the art of conducting opera and symphony orchestras.

Starting his work with the baton at Rio in 1886, his career included engagements at La Scala in Milan and the Metropolitan in New York. For the last 17 years he has directed the NBC Symphony Orchestra which was created for him.

Among the opera premiers for which he has conducted are LEONCAVALLO'S Pagliacci, WAGNER'S Gotterdammerung and PUCCINI'S La Boheme. His unparalleled ability to remember long opera and symphonic scores gives an insight into the greatness of this octogenarian who never has ceased striving for perfection.

The unexpected news of Toscanini's retirement is a heavy loss to the world of music. In the words of NBC Chairman Sarnoff, the Maestro will carry with him the love and gratitude of the great multitude whose lives he has enriched.

Vaccine Delay Wise

In view of questions raised about the Salk polio vaccine, County Health Director MONROE has reached a wise decision.

He has accepted the suggestion of Dr. HEUSTIS, State Health Commissioner. As a result plans for testing the vaccine on first, second and third grade children in Oakland County are being pushed.

But the tests themselves will be delayed until satisfactory guarantees of the vaccine's safety have been received from the manufacturer, the Public Health Service and Dr. Salk's laboratory.

One of the reasons for delaying start of the test is the refusal of the Michigan Medical Society to recommend the vaccine. Dr. HEUSTIS' statements should be reassuring to parents. He says that no vaccine will be distributed until his department is satisfied as to its safety and the medical society's questions have been answered.

It is to be hoped that the necessary assurances won't be so long in coming that the test can not be completed by the end of the school year. Too long delay would mean that if the vaccine is the weapon that can rout this terrible disease, the victory would have to be delayed another year.

THE intelligence of man is greatly overrated. Recently a seashore resident built a 28-foot boat in his basement and had to tear his house down in order to launch it.

Daffynition

Smile: A language that even a baby understands.

The Man About Town Baseball Contest closes Saturday noon—that's day after tomorrow. All entries must be in the Pontiac Press office at that hour. The prize of $250 in U. S. Savings Bonds goes to the person making the nearest correct answer to:

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Saturday, May 1, and what will he his batting average?

All that is necessary to compete is to write the player's name and your estimate on his average on a sheet of paper. Then sign your name and address plainly. Every member of your family can compete, but each must be on a separate sheet of paper. Last year nearly 100 entries were disqualified because they did not arrive on time. Better do this right now, and see that it is received by Saturday noon.

A Pontiac citizen phoning the law firm of

and asking for the city commissioner received this reply, "Which one?"

Not the voices of frogs as we know them are the sounds coming from the swamps and lowlands, according to

of Auburn Heights. She produces conclusive evidence to prove that they are spring peepers, little larger than a dime and weighing only a fraction of an ounce, but with abnormal voices. In fact, if a human being of average size had a voice in proportion it could be heard for over 10,000 miles. Its technical name is "hyla."

That fake tornado warning the other afternoon caused a low flying jet plane to seem much louder than usual to Pontiac people.

Former Pontiac resident, now living over at Holland, sends word that the annual tulip festival will be May 12-15, and that he is to assist in mopping the streets.

Arthur VanBenscoten,

One man's way of describing his stomach trouble is told by

Sgt. First Class Arthur F. Bowen

of the Pontiac army recruiting station. He says a sign over a desk in an army headquarters in Korea reads: "Speak in a low, soothing tone. Do not disagree with me in any manner. Please be informed that when one has reached my age, noise and non-concurrence cause gastric hyper-peristalsis, hypersecretion of the hydrochloric acid and rubus of the muscosa, and I become most unpleasant."

The spring seed catalogs have a new vegetable, "chloriflower," being a cross between cabbage and cauliflower, so now we'll expect "flowerkraut."

My Farmington scout sends word that of that township took top prize with her painting "Seascape," among 76 entries at the recent Florida Art League exhibition at Lake Worth. She is 75 years old—or young.

Sending his baseball contest entry from Lapeer, writes, "Seems that a name like mine should beat out those women."

George Winner

Mrs. Joseph Landry Praises City Police and Fire Departments for Quick Service

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

I would like to praise the Pontiac Fire Department and Police Department for their quick service last Saturday morning when my son was taken very sick.

Says Better Sanitation Way to Confrol Rabies

Judge Hartrick held the Dog Law to be constitutional under the State Licensing Act, and I would like to know how this became a law.

The board of supervisors, less 25 members of the board who lack the courage of their convictions, walked out of the meeting. Then the Pontiac supervisors were allowed to vote on a proposal that only affected the districts they did not represent.

Ralph T. Keeling was right when he said in his argument before the court that a law that did not apply to all the county was unconstitutional when voted by the representatives of the entire county.

If the county is so concerned about the health of its citizens why does it allow the thousands of small animals that are killed every year on our highways to go unburied? Nearly every year we have a quarantine for dogs on a rabies scare, and only ⅓ of the dogs get tied up.

My wife had her toy manchesters vaccinated last year and this year three of the breed dogs lost all their puppies at birth. Vaccination is not the answer to the spread of rabies, but thorough sanitation is.

If we are to have a vaccination law, let us submit it to a vote by the people at the polls and try to make democracy work.

Believes Many Will Lose Sleep if Time Is Changed

Every year the golf players want to change to the so called daylight saving time, to the discomfort and loss of sleep of thousands of other people. Where does this handful of people get the authority to monkey with the established time anyway?

The farmers that grow our food cannot use this fast time and the factory worker has to lose up to two hours sleep at night. He has to get up an hour earlier than usual and go to bed with the chickens, when it is too early and too hot in the summer to rest.

The time we have is plenty fast when we have to get up at no later than 5:30 a. m. now in order to get to work at 7 a. m.

So, let the time alone and let the working people have their rest. I think there is still plenty of daylight in the long summer days for the golf players without changing the time and making it miserable for the people who don't have the time and energy to play golf.

Common Working Man.

Cause of Delay in Building the H-Bomb Comes Out Piecemeal and Superficially

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Why did it take the United States seven years and three months between the time it exploded the A-bomb and the time it made its first test of the H-bomb?

And why did it take Soviet Russia only four years to do that same job?

These two questions have presented the nation with a new mystery which was touched off quite incidentally in a television speech by Sen. McCarthy of Wisconsin on Tuesday evening.

The Wisconsin senator asked a hypothetical question implying that Communists in the government may have been responsible for the delay.

Whether he has anything more than suspicions to back up that theory, the fact is that he did set in motion the official confirmation at last of a story about the delay which has been hinted at in magazine articles at various times in recent months.

Now the official interpretation of what happened has come out only in part. It came in the form of a carefully worded statement on Wednesday night by the Joint Committee on Atomic Energy of the Congress of the United States.

That statement doesn't categorically affirm or deny whether any Communistic influence was responsible for the delay, though it does clearly absolve from any improper motive all the persons at the top level who engaged in the discussion that caused the delay.

The real question is what influences, if any, existed behind the scenes coincident with the strong desire of some American scientists to prevent the development of the H-bomb by the United States.

Some of the scientists carried on an almost emotional crusade against the idea, basing it on moral grounds, and some said it would goad Russia.

It is well known that there are scientists who do not believe in loyalty to any one country, but who consider themselves "citizens of the world" and who have explored the development of destructive weapons by America, even though at the same time the Communists have not been under any such moral restraints.

The story as told here by persons in the know is that there was a tendency on the part of a majority of the members of the Atomic Energy Commission to refrain from building the hydrogen bomb and that at first the Department of State took the same negative attitude.

This was, however, before confidential knowledge available to the U. S. government was definite that Soviet Russia knew about the hydrogen bomb.

In fact there is reason to believe that the treason of Klaus Fuchs and the Rosenbergs had much to do with the transmission of secrets about the hydrogen bomb to the Communists.

The divisions inside America's top councils did not remain fixed for any length of time. The debate covered a few months. Soon the Department of State changed its position in favor of the building of the hydrogen bomb.

The military men — the Joint Chiefs of Staff and Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson — were positive from the outset that the H-bomb should be developed, but it was only when Lewis Strauss, then in the minority in the Atomic Energy Commission, wrote a vigorous letter to President Truman bringing the matter to a head that something decisive occurred.

Also it is known that Admiral Souers, who was a close friend of President Truman and a confidential adviser on National Security Council matters, helped to sway the President toward the Strauss viewpoint.

The late Sen. McMahon, Democrat, vigorously backed up Strauss in five letters to the White House.

To the credit of President Truman, it must be said that he courageously decided to go ahead despite the opposition which came from such respectable and loyal persons as the then chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, David Lilienthal, and J. Robert Oppenheimer, a leading scientist in the development of America's A-bomb, and James B. Conant, of Harvard.

Today Lewis Strauss is the chairman of the commission and has the full confidence of President Eisenhower just as he had the confidence of President Truman.

Case Records of a Psychologist

U.S. Needs More Ulcer Sufferers With Ambition

If you have a peptic ulcer, don't moan about it. Instead, brag about it! For it's the fraternity badge of go-getters in this competitive age. It means you are shouldering adult responsibilities instead of drifting through life like a carefree child.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-365: Tom R., aged 37, is an executive of General Electric.

"Dr. Crane, I have a stomach ulcer," he spoke morosely. "I've tried medicines, but my doctor now says he can't do anything more for me.

"He prescribes a big dose of psychology. But how can I use psychology to correct my ulcer?

"I've had it since college. I got it trying to maintain an 'A' average at Purdue. And it has grown worse since I've had to meet production deadlines.

"My wife says she can hardly stand me at times, and I think my secretary would rate me as a 'bearcat.' So please help me."

Actually, America needs more people with ulcers. For an ulcer is the fraternity badge of a person who carries responsibilities.

Ulcer patients are usually the go-getter type who meet the deadlines and accomplish most of the good of the world.

Too many Americans are so listless and improvident that they never get an ulcer. So would that we had more ulcer victims in the U. S. A!

Newspaper workers, bosses of various sorts and those in positions of responsibility for meeting deadlines, often join the ulcer fraternity.

I had a peptic ulcer for years. It is my best prod toward accomplishment. I'm proud of it.

However, if it makes a "bearcat" of you at the office and an old grouch at home, then here are some suggestions for relieving the pain.

Always carry some alkali with you, such as soda, to reduce the burn of the gastric acid when it meets the eroded spot on the stomach wall.

Normally, the stomach is painted with mucus, which prevents the hydrochloric acid from dissolving the flesh.

But ultimately an eroded spot may apear, as from constant swallowing of tobacco juice, or from local infection, a fish bone stuck in the stomach wall, etc.

And if you are a dynamic, tense type of personality, your stomach will secrete more acid than is true of the average sluggish person.

So you can stop the ulcer pain by neutralizing the acid with protein foods, plus alkali powders. And you'll sleep soundly if you take some of these once or twice during the night.

A second treatment is to relieve the excess mental tension. Don't be so competitive in life. Be more placid. Vegetate between crises.

Each night make a daily agenda of tomorrow's duties. List big tasks as well as minor ones. Then cross them off as you get them finished. Use a colored pencil to impress your ego, as I do.

And when you get done, then don't anticipate the problems of the next day too much. Wait till morning to start on the duties of that day's agenda.

Carry adequate insurance so you don't need fret about the financial future. Join the "Compliment Club" to stave off being a "bearcat" boss.

And by all means team up with God almighty in an active partnership. Then at bedtime He will take over the night shift while you sink into deeper, more restful slumber.

If your Spring and Autumn flareups grow too painful, limit your total fluid intake to one glass (8-oz.) for a couple of days. That always stops my ulcer pain, apparently by drying up the acid secretion.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

We herewith warn the innocent bystanders not to take Senator McCarthy's lie test. It will detect lanolin on a sheep dog's taste buds.

When Ray Schindler was on the Sir Harry Orchard case he stopped off at our shack with the Chicago guy who invented the gimmick. It works on combustion out there.

The professor hooked it on 21 out of 22 guests. And all were as guilty as a bartender with a wet mustache.

When the prof put it on me I blew the fuse. All it provided in the Orchard case was the murder occurred on an island.

One intrepid legislator took the truth engine out for a trial run. On the first answer it lit up like a Christmas tree. On the second it rang sleigh bells.

That's a dangerous trinket to turn loose in the city of magnificent distances. And stupendous deficits.

The thing uses perspiration for fuel. It would have no more effect on those cool politicians than push buttons on a tornado. Put one on a lobbyist it would ring. "No sale."

A fellow who cannot stall without perspiring shouldn't play stud poker or run for Congress.

McCarthy is barkus-willing to try the fib-filter on himself. Might be a good idea to break in on a mumble-meter or a chatter-chart.

But we advise the average legislator to shun the fubious bander-snatch. Mac has an ace in the socket somewhere. We concede as the challenged party he has his choice of weapons.

But whoever heard of a duel with the truth before? You'd be better off hacking away with six-bladed knives in a broom closet.

Arthritis Caused by Body Degeneration, Which in Turn Comes From Bad Diet

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Chronic joint disability I call it rheumatiz, but you may prefer "arthritis" if you can afford to mess around with trick specialists and kli-NICK racketeers.

Anyone with rheumatiz who does not consume 1½ pints of milk or the equivalent in milk products 365 days in the year must enjoy his or her invalidism.

If this hurts anyone's feelings don't chide me for it. Sometimes a doctor has to hurt you a little in order to do you some good.

The reason why I believe anyone with rheumatiz must consume 1½ pints (three glasses) of milk, whole milk, buttermilk, sour milk, Acidophilus milk, Bulgarian milk, skim milk, separator milk, yoghurt, cottage cheese, Dutch cheese or any kind of cheese you prefer, is that milk is the best food source of calcium and I believe calcuum deficiency is the primary cause of rheumatiz.

At the mention of calcium (lime) in connection with the rheumatiz a lot of you folks will be alarmed because you have somehow acquired the notion that one with the rheumatiz has "too much calcium"—and as like as not some old fogy doctors have implied just that when you asked about it.

O.K., if you enjoy being an invalid.

A hundred thousand leading physicians will agree that I'm no authority about anything. So you may heed what I say about calcium and the rheumatiz or ignore it and enjoy your disability unworried about "calcium deposits."

For what it may be worth, however, I reassert, as emphatically as possible, that there is no scientific evidence that the deposit of calcium or calcification of body tissues is a cause of joint trouble, artery trouble or any other serious disease.

The scientific evidence rather shows that any such "deposit" of calcium (lime, calcareous material) or the calcification of body tissues is a consequence of degeneration, physical degeneration, and nutritional deficiency through the years from infancy to maturity is probably the chief cause of physical degeneration.

I doubt that any physician of standing will attempt to controvert this statement. It is not a pipe dream, though frankly I like to dream when my pipe is drawing well.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Conscience Pangs Get Best of Bad Coin Passer

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Retired storekeeper John F. Bowers received a dime in the mail yesterday from an unidentified Nappanee, Ind., woman with this note:

"About 10 years ago I gave you a foreign dime in payment of a purchase instead of an American one. It has bothered me ever since. Thus I am going to send you a dime and ask forgiveness."

Air Force Has Developed Idea for Super-Thrill Ride

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (INS)—The Air Force has figured out—strictly on paper for the present—a ride to out-thrill all roller coasters.

You simply climb to the height of six miles above the earth's surface in a supersonic rocket ship and bail out.

Dr. Fritz Haber, until recently a member of the Air Force School of Aviation's Department of Space Medicine, predicts the human body will be able to "take it" and that "you'll have a wonderful ride."

An expert on aerodynamics, Dr. Haber has written a report entitled "Escape and Survivial at High Altitude" in which he makes some startling conclusions about a human dropping from altitudes as high as 300,000 feet.

According to Dr. Haber, jumping from a craft which is traveling at some 6,000 miles an hour would not produce terrific windblast and shock, as might be presumed.

He explains that the dynamic pressure of the air decreases with altitude, and it would be relatively easy for a person to get out of a high-flying speeding rocket.

Falling and connecting with the earth's air pillow are the main problems.

The body must be enclosed in some kind of suit or capsule equipped with oxygen and pressure to stay alive until reaching air where a person can breathe and stand the temperature of his own body.

(Blood boils at 98.6 Fahrenheit, the normal body temperature, above 63,000 feet.)

When the body plummets in a free fall from sixty miles up, it will attain a velocity of two or three times the speed of sound which will give you a good thrill, but won't hurt, Dr. Haber says.

What will give a mighty sting, though, is hitting the earth's pillow of air at roughly 100,000 feet. This, according to the air specialists report, will be something like falling flat on the surface of a pool of water. With the aid of a space capsule it can be done, but it won't be fun.

From there down, open a parachute and its easy sailing.

There's just one other little problem. If you bail out of a high-speed rocket ship moving at 6,000 miles an hour and 60 miles up, you'll land 250 miles beyond where you bailed out, making it a little difficult for rescue teams to find you.

Dr. Haber's conclusion to all this is that you'd probably be better off if you ride your rocket ship down below 40,000 feet before you leave it.

Gambling Wheel Used to Pick Denver Juries

DENVER (AP) — A gambling wheel spins out about 200 "winners" every other week at Denver in Colorado's only legalized lottery.

The 50-year-old confiscated wheel is used to pick jury panels for Denver district court. It is kept locked in a large safe in the city and county building. Under law, it is brought out only in the presence of the presiding judge of district court, clerk of the court, jury commissioner and his deputy and the clerk and recorder.

U.N. to Discuss Border Raids

Lebanon, Israel Lodge Complaints Concerning Killings

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council turned today to a debate that may lead to a general review of murderous Israeli-Arab border raids in Palestine.

The council agenda listed rival Lebanese and Israeli complaints but Western members hoped to lump them together as one item.

Council president for this month is Andrei Y. Vishinsky of the Soviet Union, who twice this year has vetoed Western-backed Palestine resolutions that the Arabs disliked.

Two ambassadors to the United States—Abdul Monem Rifai from Jordan and Abba Eban from Israel—are representing the two countries most concerned in the debate. Neither is on the council and Jordan is not in the U.N.

Lebanon acted on Jordan's behalf in filing her complaint against Israel a week ago. Four days later Egypt, Iraq, Saudi Arabia, Syria and Yemen joined in it.

It charges that "military trained Israelis" attacked Nahalin village in Jordan the night of March 28, blew up the mosque, killed nine Arabs and wounded 19 others.

Israel in turn lodged four complaints against Jordan Monday. She charged these violations of the 1949 Israel-Jordan armistice agreement:

1. Refusal to attend a conference with Israel on armistice issues called by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold at Israel's request.

2. An armed attack fatal to 11 Israeli bus passengers March 17 in Israel's Negeb Desert.

3. Other "acts of hostility" and "constant threats against Israel security."

4. Refusal to let Israelis visit holy places and other sites in the Jordan section of divided Jerusalem.

Youths, 17, Demand Tolls for Crossing Overpass

DETROIT (AP)—Raymond Ford and Willie Alfred, both 17, tried to make a toll bridge out of a new expressway overpass in Detroit, police said today.

Police said the youths demanded money from school children to permit them to cross the overpass.

The youths were held for investigation of robbery not armed.

TB Survivors Live Longer

Survey by Insurance Firms Shows Patients Safeguard Health

CHICAGO (AP)—Having tuberculosis—and being cured of it—may actually mean a longer life for a person than he would have had if he never suffered TB, an insurance doctor reports.

Dr. Harry E. Ungerleider of New York said this is one of the indications from one of the most detailed insurance studies ever made of life expectancy among people having physical "impairments" ranging from heart disease down to a history of sun stroke, or heat prostration.

The physician, of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of the United States, told the American College of Physicians that the recent analysis involved studies of the records of 725,000 insured individuals and 18,000 deaths in some 132 "impairment" classifications.

He said the findings are based on the experience of 27 insurance companies.

Concerning tuberculosis, the doctor said the survey showed that if a person survives five years after his TB has been "arrested," the possibility of death is no greater than it would be for the average of people of the same age.

"And 10 years after arrest, mortality becomes appreciably (less) than average," he said. "It appears that the discipline accompanying cure of his disease pays dividends to the tuberculosis individual in training him to safeguard his health in the future."

Regarding diseases of the heart, he said, the study gave additional grounds for "a much more optimistic outlook" on life expectancy among people with disease of the coronary arteries, one of the major forms of heart ailment.

He said persons who survive without complications a heart attack caused by blocking of a coronary artery have a good chance of getting life insurance, and he added, "This is a concrete indication of our (insurance companies') changing attitude towards coronary disease."

But he declared the findings regarding mortality rates among people who have serious heart "murmurs" justify the present "conservative attitude towards insurability" of such people.

Detroit Police Nab Their Man: Model Motorist

DETROIT (AP)—Police went looking for a courteous driver yesterday. They found one—it took a bit of time—and they nearly scared all the courtesy out of him.

Ralph E. Cody, an automobile salesman, was driving along Woodward Avenue. A city truck loaded with workmen and a bubbling cauldron of asphalt was waiting a chance to get on the main drag.

Cody politely paused to let the truck pull out.

Police Inspector James Hoye, head of the traffic division, said, "That's our man."

The inspector pulled abreast of Cody, smiled at him and beckoned toward the curb.

Cody looked startled, but kept on driving.

But the inspector, who had spent all day looking for a courteous motorist, wasn't going to let this one get away.

"Pull over to the curb," he thundered. Cody did.

"What have I done," asked Cody.

"Not a thing," the inspector grinned.

Cody was the first driver to receive the Courteous Motorist award in a new safety campaign put on by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Dockhands Protest Arms to Indochina

SYDNEY, Australia (INS) — Sydney dockers walked off the job again today to protest the loading of the Australian freighter Radnor, which is scheduled to carry surplus Australian arms and ammunition to the French in Indochina.

Security officials began an investigation of the origin of leaflets calling on the longshoremen to boycott the shipping of military material to Indochina.

The dockers walked out in protest for a short time Wednesday but returned to the job before the end of the day.

Herb Clements Reveals Plans for Re-election

Four Youths Force Car Off Highway, Beat Driver

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—Jerrell Brooks shouted at a car which had made an illegal turn in front of him.

The car turned around. Four youths inside forced Brooks, an Arizona State College student, off the highway and beat him up.

Then they drove into his car, causing $85 in damages.

Brooklyn Burns at Being Classed Out of New York

NEW YORK (AP)—The Manhattan post office did it just to simplify mail sorting—but Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island resent being classed as "out of town."

Especially Brooklyn.

Last week the Manhattan office set out new, upright mailboxes in twosomes. On one was a sign reading "Manhattan-Bronx mail only." On the other a sign said: "Out of town mail only."

People got mad, or stayed careless, and deposited letters any old way.

So today a new sign appears on one of the Manhattan boxes: "Out of town mail only, including Brooklyn, Queens and Staten Island."

So what are they doing in Brooklyn today?

New mailbox signs going up, reading: "Brooklyn mail only"—"out of town or elsewhere including Manhattan and the Bronx."

State Road Commission Cool to Baltimore Orioles

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Maryland State Roads Commission, while insisting it is strongly behind the new Baltimore Orioles, has gently but firmly rejected a request to erect signs directing the way to Memorial Stadium here.

Chairman Russell H. McCain said yesterday he believed the state had done its part in erecting signs directing people to Baltimore.

From there "it's a city problem getting them to the stadium," he said.

Health Officials Explain Tests

50 Moms, Dads Attend Wednesday Briefing on Polio Serum

Some 50 parents defied Wednesday's tornado scare to question health officials at a public discussion of Oakland County's coming polio vaccine test.

Mrs. Stanley Watson, Pontiac public information chairman for the Oakland County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, presided.

Speakers included Dr. John D. Monroe and Dr. C. A. Neafie, of the County Health Department; Mrs. Hazel Boyington, National Foundation's state women's chairman; Mrs. Russell Hetzer, county polio test headquarters chairman; and Mrs. Ruth Parshall, executive secretary of the National Foundation's local chapter.

Mrs. Boyington told parents that "these are stirring days in the fight against polio."

"You have helped us in the fight against polio," she said. "You've helped by donating money and as polio emergency volunteers, working in hospitals. Now we have a vaccine that gives great promise of preventing polio and some of your families will take part in seeing if it does."

Health officials expect to know early in 1955 whether Dr. Jonas E. Salk's formula is the long-sought vaccine that will stamp out polio.

Parents of 35,600 children in first, second and third grades of this county's schools can ask that their youngsters take part in the test. Test children, called "Polio Pioneers" will get cards and buttons.

Half the test youngsters will get the vaccine; the others, an inactive serum with no effect at all. Not even doctors giving the shots will know which is which. Health authorities later will break the code on numbered vials to find out which was given each child.

Dr. Monroe said that he was sorry that the vaccine won't be on hand earlier. The tests are scheduled to start April 26. Three shots will be given each child several weeks apart.

"This runs us into the last week of school," Dr. Monroe said. "But we want to get the test over with this summer. If this is the vaccine that we've been looking for, getting it on the market a year earlier can save many lives and much suffering."

Dr. Neafie pointed out that Oakland County has had an average of 229 cases of polio and 13 deaths a year for the last five years.

Mrs. Parshall told of the need for volunteers to man telephones in the test headquarters office at 1025 N. Telegraph Rd. They will type, deliver vaccines, information forms, and other supplies to schools and work in the clinics.

"The National Foundation is paying the actual dollar costs of these tests," Mrs. Parshall said, "but we can never estimate the number of hours that our volunteers will give."

Paper Mill Pioneer Buried in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (UP) — George O. Comfort, 86, pioneer paper mill man, is dead. His funeral is to be held today.

Comfort was a former president of the Monarch Paper Co. At one time he owned mills in New York state and Canada.

He is survived by a son, George O. Jr., a member of the Butler University faculty and former faculty man at Western Michigan College.

Nurses Training Starts at State Hospital

Nine student nurses moved into Pontiac State Hospital's new nurses' home this week as the hospital's nurse training program got under way.

The two-story nurses' home, a $477,000 building of reinforced concrete, concrete block and brick can house 50 students and 30 registered nurses.

"We hope to be training 20 student nurses at a time by October," Miss Pat Kiefer, nurse instructor, said today.. "We'd have to get another instructor before we could take on any more."

Mrs. Ruby L. Eargle, director of nursing, is supervising the training program. Housemother at the nurses' home is Mrs. Nellie M. Frye.

Girls training to be registered nurses should spend 13 weeks of their three years of study working with mental patients, Miss Kiefer said. Until now, Michigan has had to send many students out of the state for their psychiatric training—there just isn't room for them all in nursing homes at state mental hospitals. Hospitals must furnish nurse trainees a place to live.

"We want to do our share to help ease the shortage of fully-qualified nurses," Miss Kiefer said. "Some of these trainees may even come back to Pontiac and work here later on."

The first group of nurse trainees includes two Grace Hospital students, Mary Deighton and Dorothy Mowry. The others, all from Flint's Hurley Hospital, are Marilyn Gettel, Joyce Kiefer, Patricia Bennett, Loretta Beyer, Betty Storm, Yvonne Hay and Harriet Henderson.

Indochina Using Transport Fleet

U.S. Planes Diverted From Korea and Japan for French Airlift

TOKYO (INS) — The U. S. Air Force said in Tokyo today that a substantial part of its Far East transport fleet has been diverted to the expanded airlift of supplies for the French union forces fighting the Communists in Indochina.

An Air Force spokesman termed the Indochina situation responsible "to a considerable extent" for the shortage of transport planes in the Japan-Korea area.

And the U. S. Army announced that because of this shortage its program of rest leaves for Korea-based troops has been reduced to a trickle of men.

The program, which brings soldiers to Japan for a five-day break from Korean duty, "has been temporarily scaled down due to a cutback in Korea flights," the Army said.

The transport plane shortage was attributed officially to "operational requirements with a higher priority," and the announcement added that the "airlift slowdown" between Korea and Japan "may be prolonged."

Another Jap Boat Shows Radioactivity

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese fishing boat apparently exposed to radiation from the second U. S. hydrogen explosion at Bikini March 26 returned home today with a contaminated cargo of Tuna, Kyodo news agency said.

Geiger counters showed radioactivity aboard the vessel was just below the danger point but its cargo of 33,000 pounds of tuna was reported dangerously radioactive.

Kyodo said the 44 crew members caused a counter to react slightly, but the newspaper Asahi said there was no reaction.

The ship fished in the Bikini area from March 17 to March 31, but the captain said he never was inside the greatly expanded danger zone surrounding the test area.

Crewman said they saw no explosion and the ship was not showered with radioactive ash, as was the Lucky Dragon which returned with 23 seriously injured crewmen after the March 1 explosion.

State House to Vote Today on Longer Terms of Office

LANSING (UP)—Michigan's House of Representatives is scheduled to vote today on constitutional amendment proposals to provide four-year terms for all elected state and county officials and permit teenagers to vote.

Supporters of both proposals are expected to have a hard time rounding up the necessary 67 votes, observers believed.

The four-year term resolution, adopted by the Senate by a 25-3 vote two months ago, ran into stiff opposition during preliminary debate Wednesday.

Rep. Willard I. Bowerman Jr., (R-Lansing) offered an amendment to provide that members of the House of Representatives would be elected to only two-year terms, as they are now. But it was defeated.

Supporters of the four-year term claimed office-holders would be less subject to pressure groups than they are now when they must run for office every two years.

Rep. John T. Lesinski (D-Detroit) told the House he would tell a lot of pressure groups to "go whistle Dixie" when they tried to influence his vote if he were serving a longer term.

Opponents of the bill contended the four-year term would tend to remove public officials from the close contact they now have with the voters.

LOVE WALKED OUT—Cupid turned his back on four of Hollywood's most glamorous women last week when, within a few days of each other, four movie queens flopped in real-life love roles. Dr. Lew Morrill walked out on Rhonda Fleming (left), Zsa Zsa Gabor tearfully told a divorce court that George Saunders would rather be a bachelor, pixieish Leslie Caron was divorced by wealthy George Hormel, and Corrine Calvert confessed that she accidentally took an overdose of sleeping pills because she was so upset over her divorce from John Bromfield.

Wiretapping Bill Seems Doomed

GOP Version Heavily Opposed; Some Form Expected to Pass

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican House leaders waged what looked like a losing battle today to save the administration version of a bill to legalize use of evidence obtained by wiretapping in cases involving national security.

As the House entered the second day of furious debate on the measure, some GOP quarters privately conceded defeat on a showdown vote later in the day over giving the attorney general authority to order wires tapped in national security cases. Most Democrats and some Republicans favor a proposal that would require a court order before wiretapping could be carried out.

However, passage of some form of wiretapping legislation appeared assured. The only important dispute centered on the form it should take. Both versions under consideration would restrict wiretapping to espionage, treason, sedition and seditions conspiracy cases.

The administration-backed version would give the attorney general authority to order wiretapping by FBI and military intelligence agents in specified cases.

A substitute proposal, authored by Rep. Willis (D-La), would require the attorney general to get a court order in advance of any official eavesdropping.

Brownell has opposed inclusion of the court order requirement as a time-consuming handicap on FBI agents.

Foes of unchecked wiretapping powers denounced the administration bill as "the first step toward making this country a police state," and an invitation to political chicancery.

Rep. Dodd (D-Conn) declared, "It reposes in one man a police power that the people of the United States have repeatedly refused to grant."

Rep. Keating (R-NY), author of the administration bill, told the House a provision in the bill permitting use of old wiretap information "may very well permit the conviction" of former government girl Judith Coplon and others against whom the government has not been able to use such evidence.

Drilling Under Way on New Water Wells

Drilling has begun on one of three new city water wells to be located near Silver Lake, according to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

The wells are expected to up Pontiac's potential water production about 25 per cent by producing an estimated 27,000,000 gallons per day.

One of the present wells in Beaudette Park is being relocated to increase its capacity, Willman said.

Car Rolls Over 4 Times, Driver Injured Slightly

NORTH READING, Mass. (AP)—This is what happened after farmer Kenneth C. Ormsby, 39, lost control of his car last night:

The car overturned four times and bounced off the highway and up into a tree. The front axle caught on a branch 12 feet from the ground.

Ormsby climbed down and police took him to a hospital.

Big 3 to Meet With Russia for Atom Control Talks

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The United States, Great Britain and France have called a meeting of the United Nations disarmament commission to give Soviet Russia another chance to say whether it really wants to ban A-bomb and H-bomb warfare.

The meeting was called also to quiet fears all over the world, from London to Tokyo—not to mention from New York to San Francisco—that a holocaust might result from a third world war.

The disarmament commission meets at U.N. headquarters in New York Friday. Its job will be to name a sub-committee which will seek a basis for agreement on disarmament, and especially on the prohibition of nuclear weapons.

Soviet Russia will be the key nation. Its representative will be, as he has has been so many times in the past, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, its chief U. N. delegate.

There is no reason to believe that Russia is ready to permit the one thing that would make a ban on the A-bomb and the H-bomb possible. That is, inspection of Russian facilities by teams of U.N. experts.

Whatever Vishinsky says in the disarmaments commission will come from Moscow direct. He is a voice, not a policy maker.

Will he be silky and outwardly conciliatory? Will he be vicious in attacks on "warmongering" nations? Will he be boastful?

Vishinsky was boastful when he said in a U.N. speech last November that Russia has the A-bomb and the H-bomb and added that "other countries . . . do not have everything in this field of atomic and other weapons the Soviet Union already has."

Vishinsky at 60 is still the sharp-tongued prosecutor of the grim Moscow purge trials of the 1930's. He is one of the few judges and prosecutors who have not been purged themselves. He is not a polished diplomat but a blunt man by nature.

Vishinsky is plump, with thinning white hair—once red. He has a tiny mustache. His complexion is ink and white. He wears horn rimmed glasses and favors black suits which are not, apparently, worn in mourning for the old comrades he has helped send to a shameful death.

In debate Vishinsky is still as fiery as he was in the purge trials. "Vinshinsky accuses," "Vinshinsky warns," "Vishinsky denounces," "Vishinsky adamant"—those are the headlines that usually follow his speeches in the U.N.

Friday Vishinsky will be in the spotlight again. What he says in the U.N. may still further dim, and may just possibly raise, hope of removing the H-bomb threat from the world.

Scientist Frowns on Sweet Snacks

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Dr. Jerome W. Conn of the University of Michigan medical school says that a candy bar or soft drink is the wrong cure for mid-afternoon hunger pangs.

"It would be much better to take a glass of milk instead," says Dr. Conn. "Meat, eggs and cheese would also be all right."

He said that "hunger-like feeling in the pit of the stomach" frequently is the result of a condition known medically as "spontaneous hypoglycemia."

This condition, he said, signifies an excess of insulin in the body. He said a candy bar increases the flow of insulin, but the protein in milk or meat conteracts it.

Talkies Cross Himalayas

HONGKONG (UP)—Movies have infiltrated the land of Shangri-la. The mainland magazine, People's China, reports that a mobile cinema team traveled into Tibet recently to show for the first time there the "talking pictures."

Private Jail Cell Holds Good Citizens

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP) — A turnkey for a jail cell here claims it has contained the most respectable citizens of any cell in the United States.

Thousands of persons pass by the cell every week and many of them end up behind the bars. They have their pictures taken for the folks back home.

The cell is no fake. It is of standard size and make and has regulation locking devices. However, it is not in a jail, but in the front yard of George A. Keene, a steel contractor who has worked on cell blocks in many prisons. He had an extra cell on hand and installed it in his yard for advertising purposes.

Located on a busy thoroughfare, the cell serves as a warning to speeding motorists. An ornery-looking wooden sheriff stands atop the cubicle, pointing inside. A sign says: "Speeders end here."

Family of 7 Escape From Burning Home

CADILLAC (INS)—A family of seven escaped unharmed from their burning house yesterday at Tustin, 10 miles south of Cadillac.

Mrs. Mary Walker, 31, found the kitchen in flames after she awakened at the smell of smoke. The mother aroused her husband, Dallas, who carried their 18-month-old baby boy to safety.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Walker directed the escape of the other four children who leaped from an upstairs window to the limbs of a tree close to the house.

Police Avoid Collision, Hit Viaduct, Hurt Selves

HAMTRAMCK (INS)—Two Hamtramck patrolmen were injured early today while attempting to avoid collision with an auto that ran a red light.

Injured were Henry Hojnacki, 43 and Harry Rogowski, 36.

The officers said they were forced to ram their scout car into a viaduct (at Russell and E. Grand Blvd.) when the auto, described as a 1946 or '47 light blue sedan failed to stop at the intersection.

Chicken Locked Up

WEST WARWICK, R. I. (UP)—West Warwick police have locked up many bad eggs, but a chicken only once. The chicken was found wandering around a city street. Police put it in a cell for the night.

WANTED—A nationwide search is on for the "baby" Reo, which is supposed to be the first complete, miniature working model of a motorcar ever built. An exact replica of the 1906 Model A Reo touring car, shown at right, it was built to an exact one-quarter scale, but only weighed 238 pounds. The manufacturer wants to get it back for their 50th anniversary celebration.

Discover Lost City in Portuguese Africa

LISBON, Portugal (UP) — The Portuguese Geographical Society announced its agents have confirmed existence of an ancient, walled "lost city" in the wilds of Southern Angola, Portuguese West Africa.

Society officials said they had received a report from Jose Andrade Franca, their chief explorer on the project, advising them he had found the remains of a fortified town near Cunene, in the hill country.

"Within a three-foot wide wall," the report said, "are vestiges of circular habitations of varying diameters averaging from 6 to 9 feet. At one place was found a conical stone tower."

The report pointed out that similar ruins had long ago been found in Southern Rhodesia, more than 1,000 miles eastward. The investigators are trying to unearth dates and other details of the Angola discovery, which had been brought to their attention by wandering natives.

Defendant Is Reluctant to Have Past Revealed

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Joseph Thomas, 59, arraigned on a drunk charge, was so reluctant to discuss a "previous arrest" that Judge Beverly Bousche was determined to look up the record.

But as soon as a detective brought in an identification bureau folder on Thomas the judge dismissed the current charge and set him free.

The record showed that the arrest Thomas admitted, but disliked telling about, was for speeding in 1913.

U. S. Tax Chief Pays Fine for Forgetting State Levy

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Perhaps its a throw-back to those innocent days of childhood, but I admit I got quite a charge the other day from a little news item from Richmond, Virginia.

"U. S. tax chief fined," it said. "Too busy to pay tax."

The happy little story was about that August personage known to his intimates and colleagues as T. Coleman Andrews, but to everybody else only by the awesome title of "commissioner of internal revenue."

The tax he slipped up on, unfortunately, was not the March 15th squeezer, which he paid on time, but a local affair — his income tax in Virginia.

"In the greater rush of handling federal tax collections," he's quoted as explaining, he had "left his personal filing chores in Virginia to a bookkeeper, who forgot the deadline."

Sounds perfectly possible, and something tells me that T. Coleman Andrews would be the last man in the nation squawked at the $25 fine slapped on him.

Just the same, this little episode proved his relationship to all lesser mortals, and thus filled me with an unholy glee and the nice warm glow of recognition. Even of palship.

It's the same sort of thing we feel if a President gets a bum golf score, if a presidential candidate has a hole in his shoe, or if a cabinet minister catches it from a cop for crossing against a red light.

In fact if I were hired as public relations council by some of our larger luminaries in various heavens of stardom, I'd purposely plan a few homely little disasters to win my clients greater popular affection to add to their popular acclaim.

I'd have Marlyn Monroe, for instance, appear in public with her slip showing a full inch below her glamorous hem.

I'd have Carl Erskine or Ed Lopat compete with some kids tossing skimmers over a pond — and get trounced by the small fry.

I'd have Albert Einstein make a mistake in adding up the stubs in his check-book.

At the Met, Zinka Milanov would flat four notes in a row, and out at Forest Hills Vic Seixas and Maureen Connolly would do nothing but double fault for an entire game.

And though this might be going so far nobody would believe me, I'd even have some real bigshot TV star get grounded for buzzing a control tower at his local airport.

Not Impressed by 'Head Tax'

New Kind of Levy Fails to Win Backing From Reduction Foes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Senate opponents of a further big cut in income taxes said today their stand would not be altered by a substitute "head tax" proposal.

Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Carlson (R-Kan) said in separate interviews they remained against the proposed income tax reduction because of the substantial net loss of revenue involved.

The substitute came to light yesterday after top Treasury officials said the income tax cut could mean dropping 25 million taxpayers from the rolls.

Sen. Frear (D-Del), one of the sponsors of the slash in income levies, said he proposed to keep all such persons on the rolls by making them liable for a $5 or $10 annual "head tax."

This would continue to make them conscious of their responsibilities as citizens, he said.

However, Byrd commented this appeared to him to be designed to "sugar coat" the income tax reduction. He said he doubted whether it would be administratively feasible. Frear said he was not ready to announce details.

The income tax plan, co-sponsored by Frear and Senators George (D-Ga) and Kerr (D-Okla), would raise exemptions by $200 this year, a 4½-billion-dollar tax cut, and to $400 in 1955 and thereafter, a $7,800,000,000 annual slash.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, who strongly opposes any additional income tax cut, told the Senate Finance Committee yesterday that 13,200,000 taxpayers out of the present 77,700,000 would drop off the rolls under a $200 exemption increase, and 25,400,000 under a $400 boost.

Byrd noted that a $10 tax on 25 million persons would bring in 250 million, just a small part of the revenue loss from the income tax reduction.

Sound of Locomotive Whistle Coming Back

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—An improved version of the old-fashioned locomotive steam whistle, which was so rudely brushed aside by the bus-like horns on diesel engine is being introduced by the Santa Fe Railway.

Company officials say that 21 of its diesels have been equipped with a pneumatic "chime whistle" which should evoke many memories of the old familiar sound.

Good Neighbor Nickles Lasted Only One Week

OXFORD, N. C. (UP) — The Oxford Chamber of Commerce, assuming people are honest, dreamed up a good will-building plan for careless motorists. When policemen saw a car by a parking meter on which the time had run out, they would put in a nickel and leave a note asking the driver to repay the chamber instead of paying a traffic fine.

The plan was dropped after a one-week trial. About the only people putting money in the meters were the policemen, and strangers who didn't know the police would.

Sheriff Is Humorist

LAWTON, Okla. (UP) — Sheriff Everett Hale of Comanche County took a "take-it-easy" attitude toward catching the thief who stole 22 hogs. "I'm just going to sit around my office and wait for one of those pigs to squeal on somebody," he said.

Scientist to Raise Strain of Rats Free of Disease

ANN ARBOR (INS)—An exclusive club for sneezeless white rats will soon be operating in one wing of the new $3,500,000 medical research laboratory to be dedicated at the University of Michigan, May 15.

Dr. David F. Bohr, associate professor of physiology, hopes to develope a strain of disease-free white rats similar to the colony he brought to Ann Arbor from the Rockefeller Medical Research Institute.

The need for an exclusive home for the rodents is necessary for rats are particularly susceptible to respiratory infections. Scientists working on radiation, for example, are forced to make allowances for the variables while arriving at calculations.

However, with sneezeless, healthy rats, laboratory tests are far more accurate. Developing a clinically clean clan of rats has its problems.

For one thing, the mice must be delivered from their mothers by Caesarean section under completely sterilized operating conditions. They are fed every three hours from a germ-free eye-dropper.

The "delivery room" and future home of the mice is truly an exclusive place. There are two doors to the inner, sterilized laboratory. Attendants must enter scrubbed to rawness and dressed in germ-free white garments and special laboratory boots.

Dr. Bohr wouldn't have to develop a new colony of clean white mice but for the fact that on the trip from New York one of his rats caught cold somewhere and infected the others.

Artificial Volcanoes Used in Research

LOS ANGELES (UP)—There are active volcanoes burbling on the UCLA campus — tiny man-made affairs designed to study the way nature creates rocks deep in the earth.

This is the same process by which she produces volcanoes.

Dr. George C. Kennedy, who is conducting the study, points out that the work might go a long way toward locating new ore deposits in this age of dwindling mineral reserves.

The artificial volcanoes involve the use of electrical furnaces and pressures exerted by water and carbon dioxide. The furnaces subject certain elements to temperatures of 1,750 degrees Fahrenheit while pressure is applied up to 4,000 atmospheres, thus duplicating the earth's crust.

Say Civilian Clothing Improves GI Conduct

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — U. S. Army officials report that incidents between soldiers and German civilians have dropped since G.I.s started wearing civilian clothes during off-duty hours.

"The conduct of soldiers generally improves if they are in civilian clothes—they don't feel as conspicuous and they're more relaxed," says Col. A. L. Selby.

Ocean Swimmer Gives Encouragement to Many

By FLORENCE CHADWICK
Famed Distance Swimmer

When I started out to swim the 21-mile channel from Catalina Island to the California Coast two summers ago, conditions didn't seem too different from any other swim. True, I missed my father a lot, and we knew that an attempt was being made to televise my effort to be the first woman to swim this California Channel.

Chadwick

Fifteen hours, 55 minutes later, they pulled me from the water. I was just a mile away from my goal. It was the first time in my life I had been forced to quit.

It wasn't until some hours later, when the numbing cold in my bones began to thaw that I really felt the shock of failure.

When a sympathetic young reporter came to talk with me, I blurted out what was secretly in my heart. "Look, I'm not excusing myself. But if I could have seen land, I might have made it."

Was that wishful thinking? Not entirely. When I first swam the English Channel in 1950, I thought I had gone as far as humanly possible. I was cold then, too. I asked to be taken out of the water.

Just then my father sighted land. He pointed. I saw it too. Land in sight. The thrill of that brought the warmth I needed and victory was sure. It didn't take much faith to swim on toward a distination I could see so clearly.

But the California Coast had been shrouded in fog on that 4th of July morning, in 1952. Even the boats in our own party were almost impossible to see.

When my mother and my trainer told me we were in sight of shore, that only fog obscured our landing place, I thought they were only coaxing, only encouraging me. I didn't believe them. I couldn't see it. And I was so cold.

True, I did wish for my father, who passed away in November 1951, but the best part of him, his sure strong faith, had been with me in that 48 degree sea. The same prayer for strength and courage we always made together when I entered the water, I had made alone.

Tired as I was at the end, I thanked God for my blessings as Dad had taught me to do when each swim was completed.

Because of television, millions has seen the swim, some staying up on through the night. The flood of messages and some 3,000 letters indicated they had seen much more in my long effort than I had.

There was a letter from a man and his wife, on the verge of breaking off their marriage, who sat in their living room and watched me to the end. Something in the picture of a cold, lonely girl, swimming on and on through the night, touched them. "If you have the strength, the purpose and endurance to try that again," they said, "Well, so have we."

A young man, who described himself as a tough, hard-boiled skeptic, wrote: "I never prayed in my life before, but when you were so close to shore, I found myself on my knees, asking God to give you strength."

This kind of response made me feel almost unworthy. None of my successes had ever won me so many friends. But the failure to swim a channel of water enabled me to learn something that will last a lifetime.

For reflection helped me see clearly that I had been licked by the fog. Like doubt, confusion or discouragement, the fog alone had no power to stop me. But because I let it blind my heart and reason, as well as my eyes, then it really defeated me.

I remembered that Jesus had said to one of His disciples: "Thomas, because thou hast seen me, thou hast believed. Blessed are they that have not seen and yet have believed."

At that moment I knew the real meaning of faith described in the Bible as, "the substance of things hoped for; the evidence of things not seen."

When fog obscures our own vision, even when we've gone all out, and still seems to be failing and we are too tired or cold to go on, then we must be willing to accept the word of someone who sees a little clearer, knows a little better than we do.

Realizing this made me accept my many new friends with a sure feeling that, fog or no fog, I wouldn't let them down again.

The day we picked for the second Catalina Island Coast swim was September 20, over two months later.

The weather was better, but we encountered many of the same obstacles as before.

When I reached the California shore, breaking the men's record by nearly two hours, I was never so humbly grateful for victory.

But the joy of this triumph can not compare with the thrill I received from a letter sent me by one chronic invalid. Though depressed by a long illness, he had watched my first failure, and what he could see of the second success.

He wrote how my effort had given him courage and strength to fight on. Even if he didn't see his goal of a complete cure, he had learned to have faith that for him, somewhere, there was . . . land ahead.

Kinde Man Kills Wife's Dad, Self

Foiled Reconciliation Results in 2 Shootings in Huron County

KINDE (UP) — A young man spurned by his ex-wife in a reconciliation attempt, shot and killed her father early today and then took his own life.

The father was shot when he tried to intercede in an argument between his ex-son-in-law and his daughter.

Huron County Sheriff Merritt R. McBride said that Billy Ward, 29, shot and killed Norman Simmons, 47, his father-in-law, and then shot himself to death.

As Sheriff McBride reconstructed the events, Ward accompanied his former wife, Dolores, 24, home from a tavern at 2:30 a.m.

The two argued in front of the Ward home. Dolores called for help and Simmons came in answer.

Don Pange, a neighbor, said he saw Ward fire a 20-gauge shotgun at point blank range at Simmons. The charge hit Simmons in the abdomen.

Ward ran off. Two and a half hours later his body was found behind a garage about two blocks away. He had shot himself.

Ward and Dolores were married in 1948 but had been separated prior to their divorce last October. A son, Barry, 3, is with the mother and her parents. Ward was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Ward.

'They're Just Wonderful,' Guest Conductor Says of PHS Bandsters

27th Concert Features Difficult Selections

And Audience Echoes His Praise

By DONNA ANDERSON

"I think they're just wonderful," said Prof. Graham T. Overgard, guest conductor, after Wednesday evening's 27th annual Pontiac High School Band Concert.

Behind that enthusiastic comment by Wayne University's professor of music education was profound praise for a group of outstanding young musicians and their conductor, Dale C. Harris.

DONNA

A glance at the band's list of selections for the evening told the music lover that he was about to hear a concert rarely presented by a high school band.

Opening the program with a Sousa march, "El Captain," the band followed with an unusual offering, the second movement, "Adagio Cantabile Ma Non Tanto," from Tchaikovsky's First Symphony. It is believed that this is the first time the work has been done by a band.

The fresh, lively music of Haydn was heard next in "Concerto for Trumpet". Gerald Frederiksen, one of the band's most outstanding members, was soloist.

If music was ever capable of creating mental images, surely Don Gillis' "Symphony No. 1 for Band" would rank among the most effective pieces. On the program was the third movement, "Uncle Walt's Waltz", which is based on the composer's impressions of the scenes of his boyhood in his home state of Missouri.

The waltz melodies of the movement are interspersed with brilliant brass fanfares and hilarious outbursts of "hoedown" music which provided humorous contrasts in mood and tempo.

The audience was fortunate in being able to hear the "Toccata for Tympani" by Capt. Samuel R. Loboda, assistant leader of the United States Army Band of Washington, D. C.

Still in manuscript form, the unique composition was introduced by the United States Army Band in Carnegie Hall in 1953. A most outstanding display of skill and love of music was shown in the poised performance of tympani soloist Harold Jones.

Prof. Overgard conducted a woodwind quartet from Wayne University's Alumni Band in Hamm's "Dialogue for Four". William Rockey, Warren Liljegren, Cleighton Melin and Andrew VanDeven are quartet members.

Prof. Overgard also conducted another unpublished work, "Fanfare and Fable," a march by Roi. The use of upper brasses in brilliant fanfare figures provided sharp, dynamic contrast to the subdued yet sonorous sections played by the band's lower register.

Much approval for Glen Osser's "Beguine for Band" was heard among post concert remarks. Based on one of the most popular dance rhythms, the number was prepared especially for the concert and was heard last night in its first performance.

A Richardson paraphrase of Foster's "Camptown Races" was heard before the concert's "inevitable conclusion", Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever." The Sousa marches were included on the program in recognition of the forthcoming 100th anniversary of the birth of the great bandmaster.

The audience was further delighted by the two encores, "Theme Music from Mr. Peepers" and another paraphrase, "Rakes of Mallow," an Irish reel.

When Prof. Overgard said the Pontiac High School Band members are "just wonderful," he meant that it is almost impossible to find another high school band that can perform the extremely difficult music that was before them Wednesday evening.

Lillian Laska of South Shore drive, president of Tipacon Chapter of the American Business Women's Association, got a preview of the speeches for Boss Night festivities from the guest speakers, Dr. George V. Bosses, Office Lovelies Step Out---on the Level

Secretaries Pay Tribute to the Men in Their Business Lives at Gala Dinner

By ROBERT B. TARR
Pontiac Press Managing Editor

If some of the usually sedate businessmen around town are a bit cagey today about where they were last night, and then admit they were out with their secretaries (or some other lovelies in their office), better believe them.

That's just where they were. About 70 of them. They had dinner and a delightful evening at Oakland Hills Country Club.

But it was all on the level.

The event was Boss Night of the American Business Women's Association, with members of the local Tipacon Chapter being hostesses to their bosses.

The Pontiac chapter of this national business-women's organization is just six months old and last night's dinner was one of its first major undertakings. About 140 members and guests attended.

Dinner folowed an informal reception hour, and welcome to the guests was extended by Lillian Laska, chapter president. She confided to the bosses that this date was selected because "income tax worries should be fairly well past by now; bowling season is almost over and the golf season has not yet opened. We thought we might be able to find a free night for many of you."

Julie O'Brien was toastmistress and introduced the guest speakers of the evening, Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick and Dr. George V. Bohman of the public speaking department at Wayne University.

Judge Hartrick spoke in a humorous vein on the topic "Virtues of a Secretary," suggesting that the perfect secretary should be tops in courtesy, have the education of a school teacher, the memory of an elephant and the appearance of a Hollywood starlet.

Dr. Bohman, on the topic "Speech in Human Relations," stressed the growing appreciation of human relations in business and industry. He compared the speech function to a simple radio, saying reception on the part of listeners must be good; digestion of what is received must be good, and transmission must be good for helpful exchange of ideas.

Entertainment for the evening included dinner music by Edith Whitfield Crocker; a skit by Mrs. Robert Anderson and selections by the MacDowell Male Chorus under direction of George H. Putnam. Jerry Libby was accompanist.

Miss Laska introduced other chapter officers: Arlene Newcombe, vice president; Alice Cook, secretary; Marjorie Gates, recording secretary, and Verna Preece, treasurer.

Hostess committee for the evening was Mrs. E. E. Van Tassell, Mrs. Chester Reynolds and Betty Le Cornu. Mrs. Dorothy Brooks was in charge of decorations and Ruby Brusha, the programs.

The young businesswomen of Tipacon Chapter plan to make an annual event of Boss Night. Last night's tribute to their bosses was an admission that bosses are necessary, in a way, although everyone understands that it's the secretaries, receptionists and young executives (female) that keep the offices humming along smoothly.

Many Pontiac business places should be moving along with unusual efficiency and harmony today.

Plastic Paneling Protects Patios

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (INS)—Plastic paneling provides the answer to those who have a patio but find that wind, rain and sun limit the amount it can be used.

The plastic paneling, similar to that used in airplane fuselages, provides a cheap, easily installed windbreak which will let in light while protecting the patio from glare, rain and wind.

The paneling is extremely light, shatterproof, very strong and can be sawed and nailed like wood.

Made of fiber glass reinforced plastic, the panels can be bought in flat, corrugated and woven-patterned sheets, and in colors.

Junior League Explains Its Projects

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BIRMINGHAM — To observe Junior Leaguers anywhere in the country doing their various worthwhile jobs is always inspirational, and to attend a meeting of the recently organized Junior League of Birmingham, Inc., is a lesson in sympathetic efficiency.

This month the leading project is vision screening, of which Mrs. Harvey A. Kresge and Mrs. Gene A. White are cochairmen.

With their committee of nine other members, they are preparing to have tests all day in several communities during May; at the Birmingham Community House May 3 and 4; at All Saints Episcopal Church in Pontiac May 10, 11 and 12; in Waterford Township at the Community United Presbyterian Church May 17, 18 and 19, and in the West Bloomfield Town Hall May 21.

The group is equipped with trained workers and apparatus, and it works under the sponsorship of the National Society for Prevention of Blindness in cooperation with leading ophthalmologists. Its aim is to detect visual defects in children before they enter school.

The league has made over 1,400 tests in the few years it has been working on this project, and it has the cooperation of parents and doctors in corrective work.

Also in April, the Junior League Players will rehearse for the annual show which they will give in children's homes and hospitals in May.

Mrs. Otis C. Thompson, president, opened a Wednesday meeting with representatives of several newspapers and called on the chairmen of league projects to explain their work.

Reports were given by Mrs. R. Jamison Williams, who is in charge of public relations for the vision screening; Mrs. White, who explained the processes of screening; Mrs. Kresge and Mrs. Rudolph Eberstadt, who gave a demonstration of the way a test is made, and Mrs. George R. Squibb, who is in charge of placement of volunteers.

Mrs. Eberstadt, education group; Mrs. Morgan D. Douglas Jr., provisional members; Mrs. Richard C. Kern, public relations; Mrs. Dorr Lovett, legislation; Mrs. William Crawford-Scriveners and Mrs. Edward E. Wilson, Senior Workshop; Mrs. Uri B. Grannis, the league's publication chairman for this area, and Mrs. Jervis B. McMechan, Junior League Players, were others reporting.

Correspondents for three Detroit newspapers and from several local weeklies and the Pontiac Press were invited to attend the meeting and luncheon yesterday at Oakland Hills Country Club to meet officers and committee chairmen of the league and to be informed as to its many projects and its program for April, May and June.

The only financial aid for the league projects is obtained by its resale shop, The Bargain Box on Woodward avenue in Birmingham. Proceeds for this single money-raising project go toward equipment. The shows given in schools and hospitals are financed by paid pre-shows for school children.

Medical Auxiliary Sponsors Show

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE

Doctors, lawyers and dentists will probably be hearing a great deal about latest fashions—for their wives saw these, and some of the wives even modeled them Wednesday afternoon.

The event held at Rotunda Inn was the annual luncheon and program which the Auxiliary of the Oakland County Medical Society gives for members of the Jury Club and the Auxiliary to the Oakland County Dental Society.

Fashions from the collection were divided into three catagories, beginning with the casual ensembles.

Polished cottons were highpoints of the collection, and a classic gray dress of sheer wool with white pique collar and cuffs would be ideal for any wardrobe.

A navy raw silk dress with handsome detailing in the back was very popular with the 105 members and guests attending the show. A V-neckline ending with a tiny bow drew attention to the pleating which extended from the waist.

A Swiss gingham accented with black lace drew applause when modeled by Mrs. Normand E. Durocher of the medical auxiliary. This was from the late afternoon collection.

Winding up the show was a gown which the designer called "Moonlight Sonata" and which was modeled by Mrs. P. T. Lahti.

Models from the medical auxiliary were Mrs. Durocher, Mrs. Lahti, Mrs. Kenneth Vandenberg, Mrs. Roman Boucher, Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer and Mrs. Ralph Fox.

Mrs. Vincent P. Russell, president of the medical auxiliary, presided at the luncheon and program.

Success Lies Where the Heart Is

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband likes the sales field," a young wife writes me. "He has just come out of the Army and is now applying for a job with a company which has a sales training program.

"Of course, there are hundreds of them and, since he is a college graduate and has had sales jobs during summers, he pretty much can choose what he likes.

"But I think he's making one terrible mistake. He's very interested in publishing and wants to be a book salesman.

"I keep telling him that books are not a good choice, because, first of all, the pay is smaller, and second, the future is uncertain.

"After all, books are a luxury, and if a depression should come, what would happened to him?

"Don't you think food, fr example, is a better field? After all, people always have to eat, and the food field is therefore much more secure and offers the best future."

I think your husband is right and you are wrong.

First of all, there is no security for anyone in any field that does not interest him. If your husband is to move ahead and be a success, he is going to have to put in a lot of extra work, studying the product, doing research, perhaps taking night courses.

In a field that fascinates him, this will be easy, because his own love for it will speed him along and it won't seem like work.

If he loves books, he will study everything about them, and quite possibly end up as sales manager or vice president.

But in a field he doesn't care for, it will be almost impossible for him to put in that kind of extra work. It will be like going up on the down escalator. Moreover, it will ruin his disposition and, consequently, his home life and marriage.

Food may be a more "secure" field, but if he has no love for the field, he will not do well, will probably get fired, and then where is his security?

In short, in good times or bad, the people who do not have to fear for their jobs are the people who are so interested that they accomplish all kinds of extra work without even feeling that it is work.

In our personal lives, home is where the heart is—and in our vocational lives, success is where the heart is!

Tells How Houseguest Should Act

Mrs. Post Places Visitor's Frame of Mind First

By EMILY POST

A reader writes me: "I would very much appreciate your answering the following question: What qualities make a good houseguest?".

Answer: Of first importance is the visitor's frame of mind. That means you should be ready to be pleased in any situation. If you are given a very good time, enjoy it thoroughly. If you find your visit disappointing, take it happily.

Take only the clothes and luggage you need and not a lot of extras which will give your hostess the impression that you have come to stay a month. Finally, if your hostess should have no help always be eager to share her work.

Dear Mrs. Post: How can an employe and his wife replay the kindnesses of Mr. and Mrs. Employer, who invited them once to a restaurant and once to their house?

Answer: In most situations, it is not exacted that an employe make any return from an employer's invitation unless a special opportunity happens to present itself.

When the thought of making a return becomes a "problem," this is evidence that no return would be suitable.

On the other hand, if the employer and the employe are nearly of an age and congenial, it would be natural to return repeated hospitality occasionally, in whatever way possible.

Dear Mrs. Post: Just what is the correct behavior for a Protestant at a Catholic church wedding? Should she remain seated the entire time or should she try to do as the Catholics do?

I have been told to sit still during the service but I think I would look very conspicuous sitting while others are standing or kneeling.

Answer: You should do as others do insofar as you are able.

Also Check Motoring Manners

Courteous Driving Lessens Dangers on the Highway

NEW YORK (NEA) — With the coming of spring, thoughts of the open road pop into the head automatically. Wanderlust is interpreted in terms of weekend trips, vacations or just Sunday afternoon riding around.

Whatever the trip, it's up to the family chauffeur to see that the car is checked well ahead of time.

She can make sure that her family is riding in a safe car by having brakes, headlights, rear and stop lights, tires, windshield wipers, muffler and exhaust system, steering, glass, horn and rear-view mirror all checked.

Because the woman of the family sometimes is not sure just what should be checked when she takes the family car into a garage, the National Safety Council expands this list with greater detail.

You should, the council says, make certain that brakes will take hold promptly and evenly and that the hand brake will hold the car.

Are the lights aimed to avoid glare? And does dimming switch work, as well as both upper and lower beams? What about the rear and stop lights? Do all bulbs burn and do the brakes operate the stop light?

Tires should be properly inflated, of course, and treads should not be worn. Windshield wipers should not only work, they should get the glass really clean.

The muffler and exhaust system should be free of worn spots, tight and quiet.

Make sure that the steering wheel has no excess play and that wheel bearings are tight. Wheels should be properly aligned and balanced.

Glass should be clear, clean and free from cracks, discoloration or those stickers that obscure the vision. The horn (when it's needed) should work and the rear-view mirror should provide a clear view of the road behind.

When these things are safely checked, the family chauffeur has only to check her own motor manners on the trip home from the garage.

The National Safety Council points out that there's a direct connection between a lack of courtesy on the road and sudden death.

Motor manners are simply a matter of driving as you'd like the other person to drive. This means obeying signs and traffic lights, complying with speed limits, yielding the right-of-way readily, being considerate of pedestrians, staying in the proper lane, stopping completely at stop signs and observing passing regulations at all times.

Once car and motor manners are checked, you and your family are set for those spring excursions into the countryside.

And you'll have a far better time free of worry about brakes, lights or tires.

Leather to Hold Spotlight in New Fashion Picture

One of our loves is here to stay, through spring at least. It's the use of leather as a fashion fabric.

Leather shirts and coats, both long and short versions, are being featured by fashion editors. And, they tell us, leather shorts are destined to make an appearance on the play-time scene.

Leather is big news in accessories, too. Here leather jewelry is getting top billing. Pigskin set in polished gold is expected to be an early favorite.

There will be necklace and bracelet sets aplenty. And, for dramatic effect, wide cuff bracelets of leather will be the thing. Hoop earrings will be seen in leather, too.

One of the many things about leather that pleases is that upkeep poses no problems.

So, even though white and pastel shades are favored by the fashion experts for leather clothes and jewelry, you needn't worry about their being an extravagance.

A cleansing with dry soapsuds is about all they will need to retain their fresh appearance.

All you will need to do is to whip up a thick lather, skim off the top and sponge the leather apparel with these dry suds. Then use a damp-dry cloth that's been wrung out in clear water to remove the suds.

And to renew the leather's soft gleam, buff it lightly with a dry cloth.

Requiring such a simple beauty treatment, the high-fashion leather items of this spring have a good chance of becoming favorite fashion standards.

Push Button Ends Zipper-Jamming

If you have ever had your schedule and your temper upset by a jammed zipper, hear this:

A leading manufacturer of slide fasteners has just introduced a zipper that gets itself out of jams.

The firm has solved the jamming problem with a magic tab and tiny push button. When the button is pushed by the tab, the slider rocks back on the chain, springing the jaws and releasing the fabric.

The new zipper, the product of years of experimenting, is said to be easily operated by a child. And it is so finely made, says the company, that it will be used in the sheerest dresses.

To be put into higher-priced garments at first, the zipper will be introduced in the popular-price dress market as production increases, the firm announced.

In addition to the new jam-freeing feature, the company said the entire zipper has been redesigned for smooth operation.

Little Boy vs. Feminine Look

2 Trends in Girls' Apparel

Two directly opposite fashion themes appear for spring for little girls and teenagers. The strictly tailored "little boy look", that can be classed as Edwardian coat and suit fashions, shirt-influence blouses and dresses, is the continuation of the success of the little boy shirt that was so strong last fall.

On the other hand, the completely feminine look is found in shaped princess coats, costume suits and in full-skirted dresses based on empire and princess silhouettes.

Classic gray and navy predominate in the little boy coats, contrasting with the watermelon pink and pale pastels that are so pretty in feminine princess coats. Strict Chesterfield collars contrast with soft narrow shawl collars for feminine fitted coats with fall shirts.

The little boy suit shares the spotlight with feminine costume suits detailed with soft collars. Straight-appearing loose coats contrast with nipped waists and full skirts.

Fine, smooth fabrics; strictest attention to detailing and the look of fine tailoring in coats and suits for girls and teens add up to a look reminiscent of the Edwardian era.

Silhouettes for these strictly tailored coats are eye fooling. Back and front are cut for the straight boxy look, but side fullness offers a skirt full enough to wear over layers of petticoats.

Pocket interest takes an important place in the fashion scheme featuring flapped patch pockets at the hipline, small change flaps and breast pocket flaps. Narrow rever collars, buttoned high, are borrowed from the boy coat.

Back views are very much in the limelight with the same attention to details. Coat and suit jackets feature welt-stitched seams ending in double back vents. High-buttoned half-belts or side belts buttoned toward the back are other instances of back interest in Chesterfield-influenced fashions.

The smooth fabrics that appear in Edwardian types are carried over in a feminine way but interpreted in watermelon pink and sky blue to make no mistake about the feminity.

Sound-Proof the Ceiling of TV Room

Good Deal of Noise Will Be Absorbed by Acoustical Tile

By HUBBARD COBB

There are two ways to quiet a TV set. One is to blow it apart with a shotgun and the other is to put it in a soundproof room or a room that is as soundproof as you can make it.

Blowing the set apart is fun but it's expensive and then you've got to figure out a way to quiet the kids. We recommend the soundproofing deal.

A good way to absorb sound that comes out of a TV set or anything else is to cover the ceiling of the room with acoustical tile.

This type of tile is highly absorbent and will take care of a good deal of the sound that would normally be transmitted to other parts of the house. If the ceiling in question is plaster and is in good condition, the tile can be fastened in place with an adhesive.

The first step is to measure off the ceiling and then decide where to start on the application of the tile.

If the room is perfectly square and the width and length of the ceiling can be equally divided by the tile, start at the edge. If the room is not square or if it will be necessary to cut some of the tile, start at the middle.

Lightweight acoustical tiles are installed in place with a special adhesive. You need a dab of the adhesive near each corner and additional spots every eight inches or so on the tile.

These dabs should only be about four inches in diameter and do not place them too close to the edge of the tile. After the adhesive has been applied, the tile is pushed up onto the ceiling, and slid back and forth into place so it is level.

It's best to have two persons do this job. One works at putting the adhesive on the tile and the other stands on the stepladder and positions the tile.

Have clean hands for this job and keep the adhesive off hands and the face of the tile.

Sleek Coiffure No Problem for Smart Miss

As you probably know, teenagers, the trend away from last year's disheveled Italian cut is continuing very strong. Emphasis is on the neat, sleek, very feminine hairdo.

For you whose hair tends to fly away at the slightest whiff, it is quite a problem to maintain a perfectly sleek style. But if you are patient, you can train your hair in neatness.

Be certain that you are using a shampoo that is right for your kind of hair. And, should you get a permanent, have one that allows for your hair's fine quality.

For a really perfect appearance, use one of the many liquid sprays now available. When applied carefully, one of these should give the extra control you need without giving your hair that artificial, lacquered look.

To avoid this, we recommend that you spray the preparation onto the hair brush and then brush it through thoroughly.

Do this two or three times so that the spray is distributed evenly. Then you should have no trouble combing your hair into place, and keeping it there.

Ready for Anything

The well-groomed woman is always prepared for little emergencies. She totes a miniature manicure set, safety pins and bobby pins everywhere.

Dry Hands Insure Firmer Nail Polish

Your nail polish will adhere better if you wait to apply it until some time after having your hands in water.

Of course, after it has been applied, you should allow a couple of hours before washing your hands.

NOGALES, Mexico (AP)—Traffic lights installed in this Mexican border town yesterday, and the result was worse than anything on bullfight days.

"Don't be old-fashioned, Mother— suds went out when all came in!"

If you're more interested in what's new today than the "old-fashioned way," you'll see why automatic washer makers prescribe this modern "controlled suds" detergent for the cleanest wash in the world.

WHEN YOU USE all your washer turns out cleaner, fresher, brighter clothes than it possibly can if it's all jammed up with heavy suds.

The way all solves that problem for you is to do its work with almost no suds at all!

Instead of wasting its power in suds on top of the wash water, all stays on the job down in the water where the dirty clothes get clean.

There all captures the dirt—and hangs on to it—till it rinses down the drain. all does this in its own special way.

"Controlled suds" make all the difference

An automatic washer is designed to swirl and slosh the clothes around freely, so the stubbornest dirt will come out.

But the trouble with heavy suds is that they smother this vital washing action. So the clothes just slither lazily around and come out half clean.

all's controlled suds do just the opposite. Instead of working into useless lather, all promotes full washing action so every trace of dirt comes out.

The wonderful difference shows up in the whiteness of your linens, the softness of your towels, and the clear, true colors of your dresses.

Thorough rinsing is all-important

You know how hard it is to get rid of suds when you wash clothes or dishes by hand.

Well, it's hard for your washer, too. Thick suds glue themselves to the clothes and won't rinse out thoroughly even after three or four rinse cycles.

But all's controlled suds rinse out quickly and completely, usually in the first rinse cycle. No dingy suds-film is left to discolor fabrics. No harsh suds-curd remains to cause skin irritation. Even nappy fabrics like baby diapers are soft, fluffy, and hygienically clean.

Washer makers urge you to use all

When old-style foaming detergents proved disappointing in the modern automatic washer, the problem was turned over to the research chemists of Monsanto.

They came up with all... a brand new kind of detergent that's low in suds, but high in washing power.

Scientifically tailor-made to give you the cleanest possible wash, all now is actually prescribed by leading washer manufacturers. (Some of them even pack a free box of all in each new machine to get you off to a perfect start.)

all saves you money and bother

You don't have to use bleaches, bluing, or water softener when you use all.

all contains a special whitening agent that's better than a bleach, because it's milder. And all contains its own water softener in just the right amount.

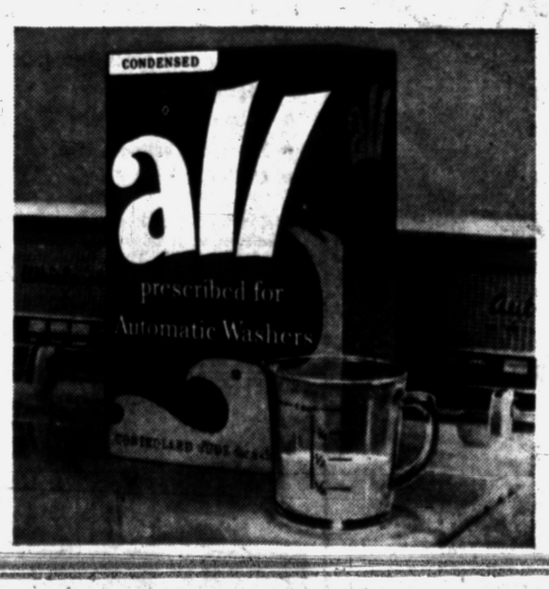
In hard water areas, particularly, women who wash with all know that for week-in, week-out economy, it's their very best buy.

You know your automatic washer is too valuable to mistreat. So take care of it with all, the prescribed detergent that's not only best for washing, but best for your washer, too.

Money-back guarantee

Try all next time you wash. It's wonderful for the grimiest work clothes, for dainty lingerie, for baby's diapers. It's unconditionally recommended for the new miracle fabrics like Acrilan, Orlon, Dynel and nylon.

If you don't honestly believe that all can outwash ordinary thick suds detergents, your dealer is instructed to refund your money. Monsanto Chemical Company, St. Louis, Missouri.



Before you switch to "wash" better switch to "all"

Buns! There'll Be None Left!

Hot Cross Trim Right for Lent

But Suitable All Year if Top Is Iced by Plain Sugar Frosting

Have a cinnamon Hot Cross bun with us. The call of the street vendors in long-ago England during Lent is a cue:

"One a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns!
If you have no daughters, give them to your sons;
But if you have none of these merry little elves,
Then you may keep them all for yourselves."

Spicy little hot breads, filled with currants, are good at any time. By simply brushing them with confectioners sugar icing instead off putting the icing on in the form of a cross, the buns are suitable for serving the year around.

Like any other breads, Hot Cross Buns are best served hot, or at least warm. Should any be left over, an easy way to re-heat them is to put them into a paper bag, then close the bag tightly.

Put the bag into a moderately 400 oven for 10 or 15 minutes, and the buns are hot and as good as freshly baked.

The homemaker with a freezer can wrap and store these spicy rolls fo rweeks, re-heating them when ready to serve. Freezer storage actually seems to improve their already delicious flavor.

Hot Cross Buns

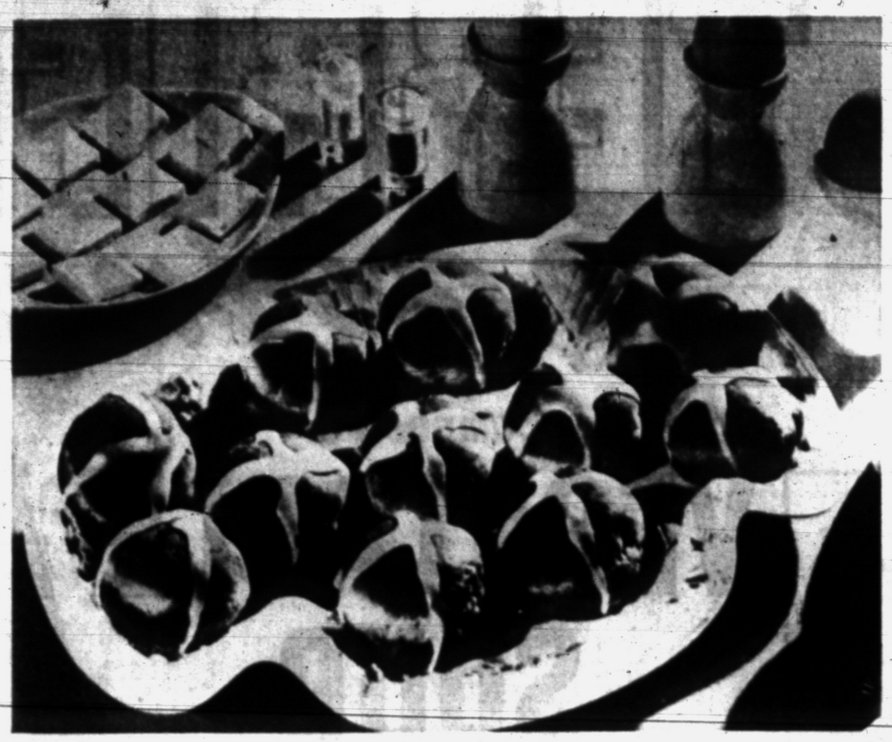
1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
¼ cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons melted margarine
1 egg
2 tablespoons dry milk solids
3¼ cups sifted flour (about)
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon allspice
⅓ cup currants
Confectioners' Sugar Icing

Sprinkle yeast over warm water in bowl and let stand five minutes. Add sugar, salt, 1 cup flour and milk solids. Mix smooth. Add melted margarine and egg. Beat well. Stir in remaining flour, cinnamon, allspice and currants.

Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and elastic (about 5 minutes). Shape into ball and put into lightly greased bowl. Cover with waxed paper, then clean towel.

Set in cozy place to rise until doubled (about 2 hours). Punch down. Divide dough into pieces about the size of walnuts. Cover and let rest 5 minutes. Shape each piece into smooth ball.

Place two inches apart on greased baking sheet, or 1 inch apart in greased shallow pans. Cover and let rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Bake in 350 oven 15 to 20 minutes, depending on size of rolls. Remove from pans at once and make cross of white icing on top of each roll. Makes 2 dozen small buns.



HOT CROSS BUNS—Homemade spicy Hot Cross Buns will pep up your Lenten meals, since they are the traditional bread of the season. Serve them hot with any meal and watch the family stow them away. Use the same recipe throughout the year with a plain confectioners sugar icing.

They'll Get Up Early to Get Steamed Eggs

Ever steam eggs in a casserole? Here's how to do it.

Steamed Eggs

For each serving—
1 tablespoons top milk
1 egg
Salt and pepper
Butter or margarine

Put milk in casserole; carefully break in eggs. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper; dot with butter.

Place casserole in dutch oven with one inch of hot water. Cover dutch oven; place over heat that keeps water just simmering until whites are set—8 to 10 minutes. Serve at once.

Searching for New Ways to Vary Hot Beverages?

Suggestions for hot beverages to drink with meals or for between meal snacks have been coming thick and fast. Many like the flavor of coffee and for those who want to extend this South American beverage, here are ideas that have found popularity with the coffions for other hot drinks.
for other hot drinks.

One of the most savory concoctions served in France, and the French are famous for it, is Cafe au Lait. In one pitcher they have steaming hot coffee; in another pitcher, hot milk. These are poured simultaneously into a cup and the resulting flavor is delicious.

It is a solution for those who do not want to give up the flavor of coffee and yet a small amount of coffee will go along way. At the same time, milk, rich in calcium and important for other food nutrients, is added.

Cafe, au Lait, or coffee with milk as we might say, is ideal for any meal, but particularly appropriate as a breakfast beverage. It gives a warm, stimulating start for the day.

In much the same category is the beverage made by adding 1 teaspoon of instant coffee to 1 cup of steaming hot milk. This too is finding favor.

Tea, served with milk is delightful drinking. The English have enjoyed this beverage for many, many years. The milk enhances the flavor of the tea and those who have tried it, have found it very acceptable.

Hot chocolate and cocoa too serve well as meal beverages as well as for between meal pick-ups.

A meal may seem incomplete without a hot beverage, and cocoa and chocolate drinks are suitable for most members of the family. Instant cocoa makes preparation easy for the mix is quickly combined with hot milk.

Always rinse your egg beater under cold water right after you use it.

Frozen Cherry Juice Next for Homemakers

WASHINGTON (INS) — Frozen cherry juice concentrate may be the next juice on the breakfast table.

The Oregon Experiment Station of the Department of Agriculture has tested a possible cherry juice concentrate, and come up with a "delightful beverage."

The government agency reports that no single variety of cherry yielded an acceptable juice. But a mixture of Royal Ann and Bing sweet cherries, plus a dash of concentrated cranberry juice, produced a fine-tasting cherry juice.

Orange Juice Tops Casserole

After Easter you count on giving the family some of that traditional ham in sandwiches, and salads too. Ever try a good Ham and Sweet Potato casserole?

Tangy with the flavor of frozen orange juice, topped with crunchy peanuts and baked to a delicate golden brown, it's a recipe you will want to keep on file.

Did you know — when cooking meat, you always use a low to moderate temperature. High heat toughens it. When using up left-over meat as in a casserole you try to combine it with other foods already cooked.

This does away with the risk of over-cooking your meat.

Ham and Sweet Potato Casserole

6 medium sweet potatoes, cooked
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
½ teaspoon powdered cloves.
2 cups diced, cooked ham
1 can frozen orange juice, water
½ cup chopped peanuts
1 tablespoon butter or margarine

Grease a 1½ quart casserole and place a layer of sliced, cooked sweet potatoes in the bottom. Blend brown sugar and cloves and sprinkle part of the mixture over sweet potatoes. Top with layer of diced, cooked ham and repeat until ham and sweet potatoes are used. Place frozen juice in measuring cup and add water until it measures 1 cup. Blend and pour over mixture in casserole. Top with chopped peanuts, dot with butter or margarine and bake in 350 oven 35 to 40 minutes. Serves 6.

Take New Look at 'Energy' Food

Would you be a lamb — just to play follow the leader? "No, indeed," you say, yet you may permit your eating habits to be influenced by the talk-of-the-day.

Conversations over American dinner tables frequently come around to calories. Too often, good foods are rejected solely on the basis of their reputed calorie count, learned through hearsay. Other times, the estimation of calories is mere guesswork.

This confusion causes essential foods to be called "high energy or high calorie" foods which mistakenly are condemned as fattening.

Products which supply protein, minerals or vitamins are more than energy foods despite their calorie content. Only those foods which are primarily sources of calories such as sugar and certain fats; should be thought of as "high energy" foods.

One does not consider milk as a high energy food even though a glass of milk furnishes 165 calories. About one-fourth of the solids of milk is protein and milk is an excellent source of calcium and riboflavin.

Likewise, one should not think of bread as a high energy food just because a slice of enriched bread furnishes 63 calories. Enriched bread provides protein and in addition calcium, iron and the three B vitamins — riboflavin, niacin, and thiamine.

It is revealing that, calorie wise, varieties of bread are not so different. Enriched bread, rye, whole wheat and various specialty breads all contain nearly the same number of calories, ounce for ounce.

Selection of foods should be on as functional a basis as are many of the other choices made in modern living. This thought applies to those who are concerned with reducing the total number of calories in their daily diet. They should limit those foods which furnish nothing but calories more drastically than foods such as milk enriched bread, eggs and meat which furnish a good cross section of the various needed nutrients.

CANDY RABBITS AND EGGS—Eastertime treats that'll have youngsters hopping with joy are these bunnies and eggs made from "bite-size" shredded rice biscuits and marshmallows. They're easy, thrifty, and actually good for children.

Tiny Bunnies Fun to Make, Delicious, Not Too Sweet

These pert bunnies are not only "not too sweet," but they're actually good for children, since cereal is the main ingredient. And they have plenty of child-appeal, because they're dressed up with marshmallow tails and ears, raisin eyes, and colorful jelly bean feet.

When you fill your Easter Basket, use this same economical recipe to make delicious Easter eggs. With a bunny or two and these delicious eggs, you'll have the satisfaction of knowing that this year there need be no day-after-Easter upsets from sweets that are too rich.

Candy Easter Rabbits and Eggs

1 tablespoon butter or margarine (for greasing bowl and fingers)
1 package "bite-size" shredded rice biscuits
⅓ cup butter or margarine
½ pound marshmallows (about 30)
½ teaspoon vanilla
6 marshmallows
6 raisins
8 jelly beans

Butter generously a 4-quart bowl or kettle. Pour "bite-size" shredded rice biscuits into buttered bowl. Heat the ⅓ cup butter and ½ pound marshmallows over boiling water until marshmallows are melted, stirring often to blend. Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla. Pour marshmallow mixture evenly over cereal. Mix with large spoon until all pieces of cereal are coated. Allow to stand 15 to 20 minutes so that mixture is cool and less sticky to handle.

To Make Rabbits: divide mixture into 8 equal portions. With buttered hands, firmly press each of 6 portions into a ball to make the body. For the head, divide the remaining 2 portions into 6 equal parts and press each into a ball. Place one of these small balls on each large ball and press firmly together. For ears, cut each marshmallow crosswise into 2 circles. Cut one circle in half and pull each half a little to make ears. Firmly press ears onto rabbit's head, molding the cereal mixture around them. For tail, use remaining circle of marshmallow, pressing cut side against back of body. For feet, cut 6 jelly beans in half lengthwise. Use a half for each foot, pressing cut side against bottom of body. For face, use ½ raisin for each eye. Cut 2 jelly beans in half crosswise. Press one of these pieces onto head for rabbit's nose. Makes 6 rabbits.

To Make Eggs: divide above mixture into 8 equal portions. With buttered hands, firmly press each portion into an egg-shaped ball. Makes 8 eggs.

Are You in Rut on Meat Choice?

You're missing a wonderful opportunity for adding interest to your meals if you overlook tongue, heart, liver and the other variety meats. Like porterhouse steak, lamb chops or other meat cuts, they're a leading source of body-building protein and vital minerals.

Treat these meats as you do other meat cuts you prepare so often. For instance, serve smoked tongue with a raisin sauce, a sweet sour or an orange sauce, the same as ham.

To prepare tongue simmer it in water to cover, allowing one hour to the pound. Slice and reheat in the fruit sauce.

Serve heart fricassee. When buying, consider that a beef heart will make 10-12 servings, lamb heart individual servings, pork one or two servings and veal 2 servings.

Prepare heart for fricassee by dredging the slices with flour, seasoned with 2 teaspoons salt and teaspoon pepper. Brown them in lard or drippings.

Add ½ cup of sliced onions and brown, then add 1 cup sliced carrots and 1 cup canned tomatoes. Cover and simmer for 1½ to 2½ hours.

In place of beef rolls prepare liver rolls. Have liver sliced at your market about ¼ inch thick. Cut it into pieces 3 by 3 inches.

Shape sausage into small rolls and wrap each with liver slice. Fasten with round wooden picks, place them in a baking dish, cover and bake for 45 minutes in a moderate oven. During the last 15 minutes uncover the meat to allow it to brown.

Lemon Butter for Fish

Lemon butter can turn ordinary steamed fish fillets into an elegant delicacy. To make this sauce, simply melt butter or margarine and stir in an equal amount of lemon juice.

Minced parsley or chives, added just before serving time, give the dish a chef's special look.

Salmon Is Poached in Foil Wrapping

Some fish are difficult to identify especially when they have been cut up in steak or fillet form—but not salmon steaks. They are easily recognized. Not only are they beautiful in color but distinctive in shape, all of which makes a fine platter of fish indeed.

Salmon, caught in both North Atlantic and North Pacific oceans, and in some fresh-water streams flowing into these oceans, has well earned its reputation of being one of America's favorite foods. Not only is it well endowed with nutrients — protein and Vitamins A, D, thiamine and riboflavin, and minerals such as calcium, phosphorus and iodine—but a salmon steak makes delicious eating.

To preserve its excellent flavor and texture, one of the best methods of preparing it, says the National Fisheries Institute, is to poach it in aluminum foil.

Salmon Steaks Poached in Foil

Put about a half inch of water in the bottom of a large frying pan or kettle. Add ½ teaspoon salt, 1 bay leaf, a sprig of parsley, 1 celery top and 1 sliced carrot. Wrap each steak in a sheet of aluminum foil and place it in pan with water.

Bring water to a boil, then turn the heat down so that water simmers. Cover and let simmer about 10 minutes. Remove wrapped steaks and dry on a paper towel.

Serve immediately with creamy egg or tartar sauce.

Sprinkle Whipped Cream With Toasty Coconut

Whipped cream makes a quick and delicious topping for a cake. But after you spread it on the top layer, sprinkle it with toasted coconut, chocolate shot or shavings of chocolate, or chopped nuts, so you'll have a pretty effect. Tastes good, too!

Sprouts Rich in Vitamin A

Fresh winter vegetables, such as vitamin A-rich brussels sprouts, pack health and pleasure into family menus.

Fresh Brussels Sprouts with Lemon Cheese Sauce

1 basket fresh Brussels sprouts (1½ pounds)
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon sugar
1 inch boiling water in pan

Wash brussels sprouts. Trim off imperfect outer leaves and bits of stem ends. Soak 20 minutes in cold, salted water, using 1 teaspoon salt to 1 quart of water. Place in saucepan; add salt, sugar and pour in boiling water. Cover.

Cook 10 to 15 minutes or until just tender. Lift cover occasionally while cooking to help the vegetable to retain its green color.

Drain off water. Spoon vegetable into serving dish (save 6 to 8 of the greenest Brussels sprouts for garnish).

Cover with Lemon Cheese Sauce made as follows:

Lemon Cheese Sauce

2 tablespoons margarine or butter
1 tablespoon flour
½ cup milk
2 egg yolks, beaten
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
¼ cup grated Cheddar cheese
¼ teaspoon salt
1-16 teaspoon ground black pepper

Melt margarine or butter in saucepan. Remove from heat. Stir in flour. Gradually add milk. Cook until medium thickness over low heat.

Combine egg yolks and lemon juice. Mix with sauce. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour over Brussels sprouts.

Garnish with additional grated cheese, paprika and brussels sprouts saved for that purpose.

Oil Mixer Motor

If the motor of your electric mixer is not permanently lubricated, you'll need to oil it regularly. If you use the mixer almost every day, you'll probably find a few drops of oil once a month does the job.

Pork Chops Baked With Tasty Dressing

Off the beaten track is this recipe for stuffed pork chops.

Have your butcher cut a pocket on the bone side of six double pork chops (to serve six). Stuff with following mixture.

½ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons minced onions
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
1 cup fine bread crumbs
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon melted butter
1 cup whole cranberry sauce, broken up with a fork

Brown stuffed chops first in hot fat in skillet over a medium flame. Transfer to shallow baking dish with scrapings of skillet. Add one cup of hot water and bake in 350 oven until tender — about an hour.

Baked sweet potatoes, broccoli and green bean salad with French dressing go well with this pork dish.

Make Your Own Syrup

NEW YORK (UP) — Pancakes are most popular when served with butter and maple syrup. But there are other ways to give flavor to them.

Try homemade brown sugar syrup. Combine 1 cup brown sugar, ¾ cup water, and ⅛ teaspoon salt in a saucepan. Cook about 5 minutes. Add ½ teaspoon maple syrup.

A dash of curry powder gives zest to cream of tomato soup.

Slice Doughnut, Frost and Broil

The doughnuts are cut crosswise to form a cake base for the cheese and jelly, and a delicious crumb topping with a nut flavor.

The confection look of this dessert comes from the doughnuts — the confectioners sugar-covered kind you'll find in your grocers ready-to-eat cake department. These packaged doughnuts are made from cake batter from a cook book recipe, and then completely coated with sifted powdered sugar.

Try Doughnut Bon Bons as a dessert following a main course soup, or soup and sandwich. Serve them also with a beverage as a TV snack, or for a children's party.

DOUGHNUT BONBONS—When you want a dainty tidbit to set before a guest, take your inspiration from a doughnut, fluffy whipped cream cheese, and tart jelly. These three favorites make a pretty bon bon that is tender and sweet to eat as a finger food or table dessert.

Doughnut Bon Bons

1 package doughnuts (eight)
2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
Red jelly

Bring cream cheese to room temperature and whip. Cut crosswise slice from top of doughnut. Crumb the slice and set aside. Spoon jelly on the cut side of the doughnut, and cover with whipped cream cheese. Add crumbs.

Place completed bon bons on a cookie sheet and put under the broiler six inches from source of heat, until browned. Serve warm.

Quick Fish Sticks Most Popular With Busy Cooks

Fish sticks, the latest contribution of the fishing industry to the fast tempo of today's living, have become tremendously popular with homemakers throughout the country.

These pre-cooked, frozen sticks, so easily purchased in packages, become crispy and hot in a matter of minutes — 12 to 17 minutes, most fish companies recommend.

In fact, the sticks are so convenient for quickie meals that the National Fisheries Institute suggests variations for the many housewives who would like to serve fish sticks several times a week.

Whichever variation you choose, the Institute recommends that you bake the sticks according to the directions on the package. The fish sticks should be prepared before baking, of course.

Cheese-fish sticks: Sprinkle the sticks with grated cheese, either the dry grated cheese that comes in shaker cans or any freshly grated cheese.

Herb-baked sticks: Sprinkle the sticks with either of these herb mixtures — (1) dried thyme, marjoram and oregano; (2) dried parsley, celery flakes and poultry seasoning.

Deviled fish sticks: Spread fish sticks with a little chili sauce, or with horseradish and catsup.

Spicy fish sticks: Sprinkle sticks with dried mint flakes and nutmeg.

Broiled Grapefruit Is Breakfast Treat

Prepare a breakfast treat sometime because this first meal is an important one for good health.

Broiled Grapejelly with Currant Jelly

For each serving—
1 grapefruit half
1 tablespoon currant jelly

Remove seeds, if any, from grapefruit. Cut around segments with small sharp knife to loosen from dividing membranes; cut out center membranes with kitchen scissors so there is small cavity in middle of grapefruit that juices can run into.

Mash jelly with a fork to break up; spread over grapefruit. Broil on lowest rack under high heat until grapefruit is hot through and browned around edge — 5 minutes or longer. Serve at once.

Penny-Saving Ways to Use Beef Chuck

These are "beef-for-dinner" days, so get acquainted with all the economical beef cuts offered at your meat market.

No doubt you are familiar with beef chuck (shoulder) pot roast, which is available as either a round or a blade bone roast. But did you also know that beef chuck can be cut into steaks for a thriftier than usual Swiss steak?

Many people also choose chuck as the best buy for grinding, as it has just the right proportion of lean and fat for tasty, juicy hamburgers. In addition, chuck often is boned and cut into cubes for stew meat.

Here's a penny-saving idea using beef chuck: Buy a chuck pot roast and have it cut in two. Cube the boneless piece for stew or slice in two (crosswise) to make a pair of Swiss steaks. The other, bone-in piece makes a handy size pot roast.

Cut Marshmallows

If cutting marshmallows is part of your preparations for a party, you'll do it easily if you use a pair of scissors that has been heated for a few minutes in water. Of course, they should be washed thoroughly first.

Chef Tells How to Prepare Canapes for Big Crowd

NEW YORK—(INS)—It's fun to have a party but whipping up canapes for a crowd can be a chore.

Short of calling a caterer, there's no way of skipping the job.

But a hotel chef who turns out something like 750,000,000 hot and cold canapes a year insists that canape-making can be easy and inexpensive.

"All you need is a few basic ingredients and a few tips on how to put them together," says Frank Romersa, chef at New York's Hotel St. Mortiz.

The results, according to Romersa, will be a large-sized batch of party snacks that are both tasty and attractive and easy on the food budget.

To prove his point, Romersa says any woman can make 60 cold canapes with the following ingredients.

¼ pound smoked salmon
3 ounces of sliced sturgeon
10 anchovy fillets
4 sardines
4 slices of salami
1 hardboiled egg
¼ pound chopped chicken liver, six slices of bread (rye, wheat or white) and some butter or cream cheese.

For everything except the hard-boiled egg, follow this formula.

Toast the bread and allow it to cool. Spread with butter or cream cheese paste. Sprinkle with English mustard.

Then place salmon or anchovies or sardines or salami on the toast and press down firmly.

You can glaze the slices with gelatine for a glossy appearance. Either way, remove the crusts of the toast and cut each slice into very small pieces—just enough to make one bite each. When cutting, you can make a variety of shapes—circular, triangular, square or rectangular—to use up all the toast.

Garnish with parsley, lemon or paprika. Keep the finished canapes in the icebox until ready to serve.

The hard-boiled egg canapés require a few extra preparations. Chef Romersa suggests chopping the egg very fine, and then mixing in paprika, mayonnaise, chives or parsley. Spread the egg mixture on a slice of cold toast, cut into desired shapes and keep in the icebox until ready to serve.

The chef declares that a batch of canapes made as suggested will get any party off to a good start.

Hot canapes require more time and more work, and should be reserved for special occasions or when the housewife has some help in the kitchen.

For quick preparation, Romersa advises the cold canapes made from toast and delicatessen goods.

Planning Popcorn Party?

The teenage gang at your house planning to pop corn at their next party? Then remember this arithmetic; a cup of unpopped corn will make about five cups after it's popped.

Chowder Ingredients on Pantry Shelves

You can keep the ingredients for this quick soup on your pantry shelves.

Tomato Corn Chowder

1 8-ounce can tomato sauce
2 cups liquefied nonfat dry milk (liquefy according to directions on package)
2 tablespoons flour
Dash of salt
Dash of pepper
1 12-ounce can whole kernel corn
Dash of ground allspice

Combine tomato sauce and liquefied nonfat dry milk. Add flour, salt and pepper. Beat with rotary beater until just blended. Stir in corn, including liquid from can, and allspice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture is thoroughly heated. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Wash water cress thoroughly in cold water and drain in a colander. Store it in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator.

Broiled Fruits Perk Up Fish

Some fruits are so plentiful in winter that they should be used often to perk up main courses. Easy-to-buy oranges and bananas, for example, are delicious when broiled or baked with fish, and make a very attractive dish.

This combination is an especially good one, because both foods require a short cooking time, and the colors of the fruit contrast beautifully with the golden brown of the fish. In the recipe given below halibut is suggested because frozen halibut steaks are plentiful right now and easily available throughout the United States.

Halibut Steaks with Broiled Fruit

Wipe halibut steaks with a clean damp cloth or paper towel. Place on greased preheated broiler pan about 2 inches from heat. Brush with melted butter and squeeze juice of a half of lemon over steaks. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Broil 5 to 8 minutes or until slightly brown. Turn carefully.

Arrange bananas around steaks and one or more slices of orange on each steak. Brush steaks and fruit with melted butter, squeeze juice of a lemon over all. Sprinkle with salt, pepper and paprika. Broil 5 to 8 minutes or until fish flakes easy when tested with a fork.

Allow ½ large steak or 1 small steak for each person. Allow ½ banana for each.

HALIBUT BROILED WITH FRUIT—Delicately browned halibut steaks have a colorful garnish of broiled fruit. Orange slices and small whole bananas give a new taste to this delicious fish. Fresh green parsley makes the dish pretty as the picture.

Ground Beef Rings Economical, Tasty

Cuts from the beef chuck are good buys in many markets today. Because it contains just the right proportions of fat and lean, beef chuck is excellent for grinding.

And for flavorful individual ground beef servings, prepare these beef rings. The meat mixture is molded in small ring molds, baked, then cleverly served with a filling of mashed potatoes.

Ground Beef Rings

1½ pounds ground beef
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup soft bread crumbs
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 egg
2 to 3 cups mashed potatoes

Combine all ingredients except mashed potatoes. Mix thoroughly. Pack into 8 greased individual ring molds. Bake in 300 oven for 25 to 30 minutes.

Serve filled with mashed potatoes. 6 to 8 servings.

Toast Sponge Cake

Cut day-old sponge cake into slices, then toast in the broiler. Remove and cover each slice with your favorite jam, top with meringue, brown quickly. Serve with iced coffee.

Avoid Work and Have Fun: One-Dish Meal on Paper

Do you know how to avoid work and have fun? The 70,000,000 meals eaten daily in restaurants attest to the fact that most people consider dining out the magic formula.

Little wonder when you consider that those 70,000,000 meals represent 2,000 miles of dishes to wash.

But homemakers can treat themselves to a no-work meal at least once a week and really enjoy the luxury of a minimum of cooking and dishwashing if they use paper pie plates and paper plates in place of pots and china.

Make it a casserole meal, a meat and vegetable pie, for example, baked the night before in a paper pie plate. With the pie warmed up for the no-work meal there's nothing to do but toss a salad and set the table.

Like china, paper plates can set a mood, express an atmosphere, either of elegance or homey comfort. If it's elegance you want, paper plates in patterns similar to those of Lenox and Wedgwood china will create the desired effect.

White plates with a gold or silver border denote a formal dinner for two and call for your best appointments, candles, silver and attractive mats or table cloth.

For a casual next-to-the fire type of meal, the pie and salad are dished out on paper plates that simulate the pattern and color of knotty pine, served on individual trays by the fire.

When youngsters enter the picture it's generally agreed that it's more relaxing to feed them at home than in a restaurant where one has to cope with periods of boredom between courses.

Dinner can be served right in the kitchen with a checked table cloth and paper plates in pretty pastel shades or one of the new deep solid colors.

With the dinner over, each member of the family disposes of his or her plate and puts the silver into the sink. The homemaker or even one of the youngsters can wash the silver in a mere matter of minutes.

With paper plates taking the dishwashing out of a meal, a homemaker can enjoy a dinner in as well as a dinner out, and put the money that would have been spent at a restaurant towards that new dress, hat or stove she needs.

'Bake Until Cake Is Done'; What a Frustrating Rule!

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

"Bake until done." That is one of the most exasperating sentences in the English language.

How do you know when it's done, especially if you are not an experienced cook? Let's go over some of the ways of testing "doneness" of food.

CAKE: When minimum baking time is up, test by lightly touching middle of cake. As soon as the cake "springs back" it is done. It will also shrink away a bit from the sides of the pan. An added test for oblong or loaf cakes is to thrust a straw or cake tester into the center of the cake. If it comes out clean, the cake is done.

MRS. ODELL

CUSTARD: For baked custard, bake until a silver knife or spoon inserted into the center of the custard comes out clean. Remove from the oven at once, as the interior heat of the custard will continue to cook it for some minutes thereafter. For soft custard or custard sauce cook over boiling water until the custard coasts a silver spoon with a thin film.

CREAM PUFFS: Bake in a 400-degree oven for ½ hour. Reduce the heat to 350 degrees and bake 5 minutes longer by removing one from the oven. If it does not fall it is thoroughly done.

LEMON PIE FILLING: For any cornstarch mixture where the liquid, cornstarch and the sugar are cooked together, cook it until the mixture is clear. If it is cloudy, there will be a pronounced starchy taste. For cornstarch puddings made with milk, one cookbook says to use the taste test: if the mixture does not taste starchy it is done.

YEAST BREAD: When done, yeast bread will shrink from the sides of the pan. A further test is to tap the loaf gently out of the pan, and tap the bottom of it. It should sound hollow. If not, bake a few minutes more. Quick breads and muffins are usually tested like cake; if the top springs back, they are done.

GRIDDLE CAKES: The cakes are ready for their first turning after they have been baked from one to three minutes. When bubbles appear on their surface and just begin to burst, turn them and bake until nicely browned on the other side.

RICE: Test rice by lifting a few kernels out with a fork. If they are soft when pressed between the fingers, the rice is done.

PASTAS: This includes macaroni, spaghetti and noodles. There is an amusing story in connection with testing these foods for "doneness."

The mother in one Italian family would take a few lengths of the spaghetti on a fork and hurl it at the wall over the sink. If the spaghetti stuck to the wall it was done!

That seems a little hard on the wall, so why don't you test these foods with a fork! When they are tender, they are done. If the pasta is to be further cooked in a casserole, let it be just a bit hard when you stop boiling it; the oven cooking will soften is sufficiently without making it mushy.

Bake Rich Scones as Shortcake Base

A rich scone dough makes ideal shortcake for the season's sweetest and most luscious fruits. Scones, which are basically the same as biscuits, have sugar and eggs added.

Bake the dough in a round cake pan or squares for individual shortcakes. Fresh rhubarb sauce, frozen strawberries and blueberries are all available now, so you'll want to take full advantage of these fruits and serve them often.

Scone Shortcake

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
⅓ cup shortening
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Add grated lemon rind. Mix well. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Combine egg and milk. Add to flour mixture, stirring only enough to moisten flour.

Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out ½-inch thick. Cut with 3-inch biscuit cutter.

Bake on ungreased baking sheet in 425 oven about 15 minutes. Makes 6 individual shortcakes.

When broiling chicken, some good cooks like to turn the birds about every 10 minutes, brushing each time with melted butter or margarine.

RHUBARB PIES—Our grandmothers called it pie plant which shows where they thought rhubarb should be used. Call it what you will, the first rhubarb pie of spring is as welcome as the first robin. Make the kind that best suits your family; you can't go wrong with any of them.

Luscious Spring Pie Plant Makes Oozy Rhubarb Pies

Rhubarb time is springtime when this stout, tart flavor calls for a revival of old-fashioned recipes. Old-time cookbooks had a multitude of recipes for "pie plant", the favorite of them all being "Rhubarb Pie."

Below are given recipes for three rhubarb pies that divide honors as voted favorites: Rhubarb Pie with egg-type thickening; Lattice Topped Pie with brown sugar and orange flavor; and a newcomer, Rhubarb Chiffon Pie with coconut trimming the fluffy pink filling. Each one makes a 9-inch pie.

Elegant Rhubarb Pie

Make pastry for two 9-inch crusts.

Filling:

1½ cups sugar
2 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 egg, slightly beaten
4 cups (1¾ pounds) 1-inch pieces rhubarb

Beat together the sugar, flour, salt, butter, and egg until well blended. Spread the rhubarb in a pastry-lined 9-inch pie pan. Spread the sugar mixture evenly over the rhubarb. Cover with the slashed top crust folding top crust under bottom crust. Flute edges securely together. Bake in a hot 425 oven about 40 minutes.

Rhubarb Orange Pie

Make pastry for lattice top, 9-inch pie.

Filling:

4 cups (1¾ pounds), 1-inch pieces rhubarb
1 orange, peeled, cut in pieces
¾ cup brown sugar, packed
¾ cup granulated sugar
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
⅓ cup flour
⅓ cup butter or margarine, melted

Roll out pastry for one 9-inch crust. Allow ¾ inch overlap to make a good seal for edge of pie.

Combine rhubarb, orange sugars, nutmeg and flour. Place pie shell. Pour melted butter over all. Roll out remaining pastry in 10-inch circle. Cut into 1-2-inch strips. Weave strips of pastry over top of filled pie. Press ends to bottom crust. Fold the ¾-inch overlap of bottom over the top crust. Flute with finger tips. Bake in a 425 oven 40 to 45 minutes.

Rhubarb Chiffon Pie

Make one baked 9-inch pie shell.

Filling:

2 teaspoons gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
2 eggs, separated
¾ cup sugar
1½ cups rhubarb sauce
Red food coloring
¼ teaspoon salt

Soften gelatin in cold water. Stir and cook egg yolks and 1-2 cup sugar over very low heat or in a double boiler until mixture thickens. Stir in gelatin. Combine with rhubarb sauce. Cool until thickened but not stiff. Stir in few drops red food coloring. Beat egg whites and salt until soft peaks form. Add remaining ¼ cup sugar gradually while beating until stiff peaks form. Fold into rhubarb mixture. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill until set, about 2 hours.

Note: Sprinkle shredded coconut on top, if desired.

One pound rhubarb, sliced thin, 1 cup sugar, and 1 tablespoon water cooked 10 minutes, or until rhubarb is tender makes the sauce.

Those ordinary boiled or fried fish fillets will taste deluxe if you serve them with a sprinkling of chopped filberts lightly browned in butter or margarine.

Eggs, Dairy Products Listed as Plentiful

NEW YORK (INS)—April means Easter this year and Easter means eggs.

Fortunately, eggs are among the dozen or so foods on the April Plentifuls List of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Other items expected to be in good supply are beef, broilers and fryers — especially fryers, as these young chickens will be in very heavy supply.

Cheese, butter and other dairy products will be as plentiful as eggs. Vegetables on the plentifuls list for April include cabbage, onions, potatoes, as well as oranges, grapefruit, raisins and cranberry sauce.

There will also be ample supplies of peanuts, salad oils and vegetable shortening.

Orange-Ginger Ale Puts Punch in Kiddie Party

Practically any time is party time for the kiddie crowd. They seem to have more birthdays than anybody else.

If you're stuck for a different idea on what to serve them for refreshments, try combining ¾ of a cup (6-oz. can) quick-frozen orange juice concentrate with 1 cup water and mixing well. Add 2 cups of ginger ale and serve over crushed ice in tall glasses. They'll love it.

Peanut Recipes Please Children

Most youngsters wold down peanut butter and gobble all the peanuts in sight. These are both excellent foods, rich in vegetable protein and niacin and other B vitamins. So give them all they want.

They are on the plentiful list now and rate the homemakers interest. The United States Department of Agriculture cooking experts have just revised a booklet on peanuts and peanut butter recipes (Home and Garden Bulletin No. 36). To get it send 10 cents to Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Peanut-Meat Loaf (from the bulletin) is an economy main dish.

Peanut-Meat Loaf

1½ cups ground beef (¾ pound)
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion,
½ teaspoon powdered dry mustard
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, if desired
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup finely chopped salted peanuts
¾ cup fine crumbs
1 egg
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon tomato catsup

Mix ingredients lightly. Bake in greased loaf pan at 350 degrees about 1 hour. Serve with tomato sauce. Makes 6 servings.

You'll welcome these peanut butter sandwich filling ideas: Each recipe makes about 1 cup filling.

Date: One-half cup peanut butter, ½ cup chopped pitted dates, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, ½ cup thick salad dressing. Mix lightly.

Pineapple: One-half cup peanut butter, ½ cup drained crushed pineapple. Mix lightly.

Cranberry Sauce: One-half cup peanut butter, ½ cup cranberry sauce. Mix lightly.

Pickle Relish: One-half cup peanut butter, 1-3 cup pickle relish, 2 tablespoons thick salad dressing. Blend well.

PICKLE SANDWICH TRAY—For a simple and tasty supper, serve an assortment of pickle sandwich spreads with plenty of fresh bread. Sweet mixed pickles are good sandwich accompaniments. Set out a variety of breads, the pickle fillings and let the family make their own.

Zesty Sandwiches Offer Satisfying Supper Fare

Sandwiches, simple to prepare and satisfying fare for a hungry family, are wise choices for supper menus. Delicious spreads and fillings can be kept on hand in the refrigerator and need only to be placed on the table when the supper signal is given. Eggs, peanut butter and cheese are teamed with a variety of pickles in fillings which will soon be family favorites.

Sunny Egg Pickle Sandwiches

3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
¼ cup sweet pickle relish
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
Salt
Bread
Softened butter or margarine

Combine eggs, sweet pickle relish and mayonnaise. Add salt to taste and mix well. Spread bread with softened butter or margarine. Spread pickle filling over bread. Serve with dill pickle sticks or mixed sweet pickles, if desired. Makes 4-6 sandwiches.

Zesty Cheese Sandwiches

½ pound American cheese
4-6 medium-sized sweet pickles
¼ cup canned drained pimientos
2 tablespoons sweet pickle liquid
Mayonnaise
12-16 slices buttered bread

Put cheese, pickles and pimientos through food grinder, or grate cheese and chop pickles and pimientos. Combine pickle mixture with pickle liquid and enough mayonnaise to moisten; mix thoroughly. Spread bread with pickle mixture and top with remaining bread. Cut in halves, to serve. Makes 6-8 sandwiches.

Creamy Peanut Butter Spread

2 3-ounce packages cream cheese
¼ cup peanut butter
12 sweet gherkins, chopped
2 teaspoons mayonnaise
Buttered bread

Combine all ingredients; mix thoroughly. Spread on buttered bread to make sandwiches. Makes about 1 cup spread.

South-of-the-Border Version of Beef Stew

Beef stew is an international dish. Here's the tested recipe for a South-of-the-Border version of the versatile stew.

Cubes of beef are cooked with tomato sauce and kidney beans. Then the mixture is poured into a cornmeal mush "crust" and baked.

Mexican Beef Pie

1½ pounds beef stew meat
Flour, salt, pepper, fat
½ cup chopped onions
1 clove garlic
2 teaspoons chili powder
1 (8 ounce) can tomato sauce
1 No. 2 can kidney beans
1 cup cornmeal

Cut meat into ½ inch cubes, sprinkle with salt and pepper and roll in flour. Brown well in a little hot fat. Add onions, minced garlic, chili powder, tomato sauce and 2 cups water.

Cover and cook over low heat until meat is tender, about 2 hours. Stir occasionally to prevent sticking. Add undrained kidney beans and heat thoroughly.

Line the bottom and sides of a greased 1½ quart casserole with cornmeal mush made by cooking the cornmeal in 3 cups boiling, salted water; fill with meat mixture. Bake at 375 degrees for 275 minutes. 6 servings.

U. S. Modernizes German Kuchen

This is an American rendition of an old German recipe. Kuchen, served in Germany with strong coffee, becomes a breakfast bread or afternoon tea snack when made according to this "new" recipe.

The use of whole wheat flakes cereal as a topping modernizes the recipe considerably. It's an easier-to-do version with an out-of-the-ordinary flavor.

Cinnamon Flake Kuchen

1½ cups sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon nutmeg
½ cup brown sugar
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon nutmeg
⅔ cup milk
¼ cup shortening
½ cup sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons butter or margarine melted
½ cup whole wheat flakes

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and nutmeg. Blend shortening and sugar; add egg and beat well. Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk, being careful not to overmix. Spread in greased 9x9 inch pan.

Mix together sugar, spices, butter and whole wheat flakes. Sprinkle over batter. Bake in 400 oven about 25 minutes.

Yields 12 servings.

Spanish Onions Mildest

When it comes to providing taste appeal, onions are an excellent way to obtain it. Use the big white onions called "Spanish" for mild flavor, and the smaller yellow ones known as 'Yellow Gloves" for a slightly stronger taste.

Veal Sees Drop, Coffee Goes Up

Asparagus at Lowest Price, Citrus Fruits Are Good Buy

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Veal will be a good buy in many of the nation's food stores this weekend. Also on the feature list: beef and chickens.

There'll be specials in some markets on shoulder veal roast and legs or rumps of veal.

One chain reports that its stores in the New York area will be selling shoulder veal roast for 39 cents a pound, compared with 55 or 57 cents a few weeks ago.

Chickens will show small price changes either way this weekend.

Legs of lamb will show little price change from a week ago. Pork chops will be unchanged to four to six cents a pound higher.

Butter is headed lower. One large chain plans to trim prices two cents a pound in New York, four cents in Chicago, six cents in Pittsburgh, eight cents in Jacksonville and a dime in Boston.

Eggs also will be lower in many markets. From two to four cents a dozen on top grade large whites.

Coffee can hardly be described as a bargain. Some chain stores boosted the prices of their own brands a nickel a pound this week while coffee roasters added five to six cents to their wholesale prices.

One survey showed that ground coffee buying by consumers is off 15 to 20 per cent while the instant type has shown a slight rise.

In the vegetable line, you'll find plentiful supplies of celery, potatoes, onions, cabbage and spinach at reasonable prices.

Some stores are featuring asparagus at the lowest price this season. Produce men say receipts of that vegetable are increasing and prices are coming down.

Grapefruit and oranges will be among the fruit buys offered for the weekend.

Charcoal Salt Available

For those who believe that steaks and chops just don't taste right unless they are charcoal broiled, there is now available a charcoal salt that's said to impart the flavor.

Extensive Testing Proves Margarine Holds Vitamin

When margarine leaves the modern sanitary plants where it is made, each pound contains a minimum of 15,000 International Units of Vitamin A.

Margarine manufacturers wanted to be sure that that important nutrient was still present in this amount when their product reached American tables.

So a scientific committee of the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers, called the subcommittee on vitamin A, sponsored an important research study.

The study was made at the University of Southern California School of Medicine, under the direction of Dr. Harry J. Deuel Jr., and Dr. Samuel M. Greenberg. After several years' work, Dr. Deuel and Dr. Greenberg recently reported their findings.

What they learned is reassuring and important to every American family. In brief, they found that:

1. Margarine, on the average, holds vitamin A well. Even after storage periods up to two years at 14 degrees Fahrenheit, more than 75 per cent of the original content of vitamin A was still present.

2. Seven of the eight original samples tested contained more than the 15,000 U. S. P. units of vitamin A, required as a minimum per pound under federal law.

This was true after two years' storage at 14 degrees Fahrenheit, and after more than one year at 41 degrees. (As a rule, manufacturers of margarine fortify their product with more vitamin A than is required, to be sure they are complying with the law.)

3. Even after storage at room temperature for four months, the amount of vitamin A in six of the original samples was more than the amount stated on the label.

4. Margarines stored for as long as 45 weeks at 64 degrees Fahrenheit wwere still flavorsome and appetizing.

These findings prove still further what American home-makers have long known: Modern margarine is a high-quality, nutritious food with excellent keeping quality, as well as fine flavor. That is why in 1953 some 1,291,000,000 pounds of margarine were used in American homes.

Bowls of Salad Call for Cheese

Spring blooms early this year, wherever the salad bowl puts in its crisp, appetite-tempting appearance. No matter how chill the winds may blow, there's spring and a promise of summer in every green leaf and rosy tomato slice.

Happily for all of us, salads are a year-round "must" on our menus, enjoyed 12 months each year.

But there seems a special pick-me-up quality to green salads after the winter season — much pleasanter, too, than that bygone remedy for spring fever, sulphur and molasses.

Markets are already blooming with a variety of greens, with radishes, tomatoes, cucumbers to tempt the eye and the palate.

Over in the dairy department, do not neglect an ample supply of creamy cottage cheese to make a satisfying luncheon or supper dish of the green salad. This basic member of the cheese family is a wonderful source of high-quality protein, of milk minerals and vitamins — a treasury of nutriments for the salad bowl, and a thousand other everyday uses.

During Lent, you will find cottage cheese available in colorful and wonderful re-usable plastic mugs are heat-resistant, sturdy, mugs are heat-resisitant, sturdy, attractive for table use—and for refrigerator containers. They seem destined to become standard equipment in homes around the land.

WELCOME SPRING SALAD—Heap the bowl with crisp greens —with slices of tomato and cucumber, then add generous amounts of creamy cottage cheese and serve with French dressing. This is a wonderful way to bring springtime onto the table even if the season itself lags behind.

She'll Appreciate 'Meat Cookery' Bridal Shower

For a novel courtesy for the bride give her a "Meat Cookery" shower. With meat the center of her every meal, this is one shower sure to be greatly appreciated and long remembered.

Here are some gift suggestions made by the nationally known meat expert Reba Staggs. First, suggests Miss Staggs, consider the needs for cooking meat by dry heat — roasting, broiling, panbroiling.

For roasting, the bride needs a shallow roasting pan with a fitted rack (for free circulation of heat around meat as it cooks). To have the roast cooked to the exact degree of doneness desired, she will want a roast meat thermometer. This is inserted into the thickest section of the roast, but not in fat or on bone.

Her range will provide the necessary equipment for broiling. However, a handy piece of equipment is a small size broiling pan with a rack or grill — perfect when broiling for two.

In panbroiling, a heavy frying-pan is desirable. This, also, may be used for panfrying.

Likewise, this same frying-pan when fitted with a tight cover may be used for cooking by the moist heat method, braising.

In preparing stews and large cuts of meat completely covered with liquid she needs a Dutch oven or other deep utensil fitted with a close cover. A French fryer will give her the necessary equipment for deep-fat frying. A deep-fat frying thermometer will be useful in determining the temperature of the lard.

Corn cannot be grown in England except as a green fodder plant.

Cutlery Is an Investment for It Can Last a Lifetime

Finest steel, keenest blades, beautiful handles of woods, plastics and other modern materials—those are the features of the cutlery made by our leading American cutlery manufacturers. They are the firms who make tests, publish the resuts on labels, and stamp their names on blades.

Good cutlery is an investment!—with proper care it lasts a lifetime!

There are seven major cutlery classifications: (1) Table knives, forks, spoons and carving sets; (2) Kitchen knives, forks, spoons, spatulas—and other "hand" equipment — from ladles to pancake turners—each of which may be purchased singly or in sets; (3) Industrial and professional knives (for hotel and restaurant chefs, etc.); (4) Pocket or folding blade knives, hunting and fishing knives; (5) Shears and scissors; (6) Straight razors and (7) the many popular "do-it-yourself" items and miscellaneous fixed-blade, and hand-operated cutting knives.

Every housewife knows knives are the important "tools" of her trade—for the three-a-day and the inbetween snacks: She uses cutlery in some way from morn to night!

It's the man who makes it who has anticipated these needs and his advice is: Cut those cutlery-chores with the "basic six," the minimum requirement for a well equipped kitchen.

Added to these are the many extras which fine cooks find basic to them! It makes sense! The right tool for a specific job saves time, and energy.

What is meant by the basic six?

1) Paring Knife . . . 3 or 3½ inches. For a dozen incidental uses for which there is no substitute.

2) Utility Knife . . . 6 or 7 inches. For halving oranges, grapefruit; slicing tomatoes, onions, dicing celery and vegetables.

3) Narrow Slicer . . . 8 inches. For slicing bread, serving hot or cold meat, poultry; shredding cabbage, etc.

4) Cook's Knife . . . 8 inches. (Sometimes called a French Cook's or Chef's knife.) For carving hot roasts; mincing small quantities of onions, parsley, peppers, etc. For mincing hold tip of knife on slicing board and rock back and forth. Deep choil protects knuckles.

5) Long-Handled Pot Fork . . . 7 or 8 inches. For getting food from kettle; for use as serving fork, etc.

6) Sharpening Steel . . . 8 or 10 inches.

Make Batch of Crisp Sugar-Pecan Wafers

There's wonderful flavor in these crisp brown-sugar drop cookies.

Brown-Sugar Pecan Wafers

¾ cup sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
¾ teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
½ cup finely chopped pecans

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, brown sugar and vanilla. Beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in sifted flour mixture until blended, then pecans.

Drop, by slightly rounded teaspoonfuls, onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake at 400 degrees about 5 minutes, or until well browned around edges. Cool in pan about ½ minute.

Remove at once with spatula to wire racks to cool. Makes about 8 dozen small cookies.

Thaw Fruit in Package

Fruit Swirl Pie Special Dessert

You might consider this pie when you are looking for an extra special dessert.

Frozen Fruit Swirl Pie

1 package (12 ounces) frozen berries
¼ cup sugar
½ cup light corn syrup
1 cup heavy cream, whipped
1 baked pastry shell

Thaw fruit according to package directions. (If blueberries are used, drain juice from fruit). Crush fruit lightly and add sugar; stir until well mixed. Carefully fold the corn syrup into whipped cream. Add fruit to syrup-cream mixture folding just enough to give a marbled effect. Turn into baked pastry shell.

Place in freezing compartment or refrigerator and freeze until filling is firm; about 3 hours. (Pie may be prepared in advance and stored in freezing compartment overnight.) Makes 1 9-inch pie.

Strawberries, raspberries or blueberries may be used.

Budget-Stretching Potato Has Interesting History

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Aptly called the antional budget balancer and dollar stretcher, potatoes are one of the universal foods. In a giant effort to reduce the huge supply of potatoes on hand, growers and retailers are joining hands to promote the liberal use of this old, reliable standby.

Prices are inviting, being as low as three cents a pound in some stores.

MRS. ODELL

In every civilized country of the temperate zones the potato crop ranks next to the cereal crops in importance. Long before the days of Columbus potatoes were grown and used by many Indian tribes of tropical and semi-tropical America.

Although the history of the potato is lost in antiquity, we do know that they were cultivated from wild potatoes, some of which still grow.

Our Irish potatoes are not Irish at all, but very American. The Spaniards who conquered the South American Indians in the sixteenth century carried potates home to Spain.

Forty years later they came back to Florida when that place was settled by the Spaniards. British adventurers took some of the strange edible roots home to England, but it was over two hundred years before the British regarded the potatoes as more than cattle fodder.

Meanwhile the Irish had become fond of this crop that yielded so generously. When colonists sailed to establish homes in New England, "Irish potatoes" were among the other plants and seeds to be cultivated in their new land.

Potatoes had to cross the Atlantic four times before they came "home" to America.

It seems queer that at one time the Europeans believed potatoes were the cause of leprosy, fevers and other illnesses. In order to induce the people to believe potatoes were edible, King Louis XVI of France wore potato flowers in his buttonhole and ordered potatoes served on the royal table.

Potatoes are one of the great energy-producing foods. Wherever hard work is to be done, as on farms, in mines, or in Army camps, the potato is an important part of the diet. Active men, women and children need this protective food.

Even those on a reducing diet can use potatoes, as the caloric value of a medium potato is only 100, no more than an orange or half a cup of green lima beans.

Potatoes have a happy ability for teaming with many other foods in inexpensive casserole or stew dishes, or holding their own in a variety of different roles for family meals.

One of the most interesting recipe booklets to come to my desk recently is a small pamphlet titled, "State of Maine Potato Cook Book," published free by the Maine Potato Committee at Orono Maine.

The pictures are mouth-watering and the recipes intriguing. Here's a sample you can try out for your next luncheon.

Cheese Potato Fluff

3 cups mashed potatoes
1½ cups grated Cheddar cheese
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
2 tablespoons minced pimiento
2 eggs, beaten
Salt and pepper

Combine ingredients in order listed. Mix well and place in buttered casserole. (Top of fluff may be brushed with melted butter or sprinkled with bread crumbs.) Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

Watch for potato bargains and join the big potato parade in April.

Prevent Boiling Over

Grease the top of the kettle and the inside of the rim when you cook rice, macaroni or other foods which tend to boil over. Boiling water won't pass the grease ring.

Duckling Perfect for Easter Table

Are you planning a special Easter dinner and haven't yet settled on the menu?

Here is an idea that we think you will like — duckling a natural for the day — with springtime stuffing so colorful and gay that it will match the flowers on the table or the new hat you just bought.

Finish your menu with buttered fresh asparagus, pickled beets, green salad, hot rolls and daffodil cake — making a very special dinner for Easter or any day of the year.

Duckling With Springtime Stuffing

1 Long Island duckling, 4 to 5 pounds ready-to-cook weight
¼ cup fat
½ cup minced onion
2 cups shredded carrots
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon rubbed marjoram
Chopped cooked giblets and neck meat
2 tablespoons duck broth
4 cups finely cubed day-old bread
½ cup minced parsley
2 tablespoons honey
1 teaspoon kitchen bouquet

Prepare duckling for roasting. Cook giblets and neck in 2 cups unsalted water until tender, about 45 minutes. Melt fat in large frying pan over moderate heat. Add onion and cook, stirring frequently, until just tender, about 5 minutes. Add carrots, salt, marjoram, chopped giblets and neck meat and duck broth.

Cover, lower heat and allow to simmer for about 3 minutes. Remove from heat, add and mix in bread cubes. Lightly stir in parsley. Stuff duck lightly. Close vent by lacing string around poultry pins inserted from side to side. Roast on rack in open pan in 325 oven until tender and brown, about 1½ to 2 hours.

About 15 minutes before duck is done brush all over with mixture of honey and kitchen bouquet. Serve immediately with your favorite orange sauce, or a gravy made from the roast duck drippings, made festive by the addition of a can of sliced broiled mushrooms. Serves 4.

Nutmeat Yield

A pound of walnuts in the shell usually makes about 1 2/3 cups nutmeats; a pound of almonds in the shell makes about 1¾ cups nutmeats; a pound of filberts in the shell makes about 1½ cups nutmeats.

DUCKLING WITH SPRINGTIME STUFFING—This year when you plan your Easter menu, have duckling as your main course. Garnish it with turnip "calla lilies." Cut very thin slices from a peeled turnip. Curl into lily shape, fasten with a green pick and tuck a pointed carrot pistil in the center.

One Coffee Tree Supplies Family Only One Week

Coffee is cheap at about 2½ cents per cup in your home.

Fifty two trees just for you—It takes an entire coffee tree to supply one American family with coffee for one week.

A crop in five years—It takes a coffee tree five years to bear after planting. If frost or other things kill a farmer's trees, it will be five years before he can hope to have any income—if he is not too broke to start over.

Hand picked—4500 to the pound—Coffee trees must be picked by hand, one berry at a time. There are approximately 4,500 beans in one pound.

Coffee in the depression—During the 1930s, coffee growers were on such starvation prices that a great many allowed their trees to die. They plowed up land for other products and there are no new trees.

More coffee drinkers — At about this time, people all over the world gradually began drinking more coffee. After World War II, many European countries started buying coffee—some who had used almost none before.

Coffee countries try to catch up —As the coffee countries realized demand was picking up and that they would not starve to death growing coffee, they began new planting. We had expected a bumper crop this year.

The kiss of death—Then the big frosts (worst in 35 years) hit Brazil. Many a planter's life's work was wiped out and there were several suicides. Others have very little coffee to sell—therefore, must get more for what is left.

The mysterious "They"—People ask, "What are 'They' doing to coffee? What are 'they' going to do about coffee?" There is no "they." There is positively no nation, group or any one person who is making a "killing." Also, coffee is one of the few products whose price is affected only by supply and demand.

The ideal way for a coffee grower or coffee roaster to make money is to sell a lot of coffee at the cheapest possible price. Of course rising prices sometimes overshoot from momentum. It is possible there could be a lowering later.

Our good customers and friends — Coffee countries manufacture very little of anything. They buy almost everything from the U.S.—and you know what some of our prices are like. Their heavy purchases help, in a big way, to keep our wheels of industry turning—to make work for American labor. In our fight against communism some of our very stauncest friends are among the coffee countries.

Lapps Languish as Lapp Lasses Shun Lapp Lads

Some authorities here believe the Lapps, now numbering about 30,000 in Sweden, Norway and Finland, may be a vanishing race if the tendency continues.

• • • •

"One of the biggest problems in Lapland is for a young man to find a wife," said Erik Thulin, a Swede who has lived with the Lapps in their tent homes to study their ways. "Few of the Lapp girls are willing to marry them. They want to escape the hardships of life here."

When they can, the girls in Swedish Lapland marry Swedes, which insures them a higher living standard. Swedish girls, in return, are unwilling to marry Lapp boys and share their rough, nomadic life.

Since a Lapp boy in Swedish Lapland has almost no hope of marrying at all unless he can find a Lapp bride, the bachelors are already making courting forays among the less numerous Lapps over the border in Finland. That presumably adds to the shortage of brides there too.

Susan Hayward Divorce Trial Is Set for June 14

Tyrone Power Defends Actors for Job Refusal

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tyrone Power today sprang to the defense of himself and other top male stars who have been accused of partly causing the production slowdown in Hollywood.

An independent producer recently rushed into print with a statement decrying a lot of top stars for refusing to work. This has helped stall filming in Hollywood, he claimed. He also asserted that he sent John Wayne a $400,000 check to do a picture and it was returned uncashed.

Another producer claimed to have sent a $350,000 check to Clark Gable for a film commitment. It was also sent back.

Why would stars turn down such fabulous offers? Ty Power explains:

"Supposing Clark had taken that $350,000. When it is added to his other earnings, he'd probably get to keep $15,000 or $20,000 out of it. So the salary itself doesn't represent any great profit.

"But it's not just a matter of money. Actors like myself, Wayne, Gable, Gary Cooper, Burt Lancaster, Kirk Douglas and others named by that producer—whose name escapes me right now — no longer have studio contracts to protect us.

"The only real security we have is our talent. Our livelihood depends on getting good scripts. If we are willing to do just any picture in order to make money, we might find out eventually that we have hurt our chances to continue earning good money. It's not the salary that attracts us; it's what is between the two covers of a script."

Power illustrated with his current film, "The Long Gray Line." Although he and John Ford—Irishmen both—were long at 20th Century-Fox, they never did a picture together. The director always swore he would find a script they could do together. He finally found it at Columbia, the story of Marty Maher, long-time athletic trainer at West Point. Ty ages from a young man to 70 and talks with a brogue. Don't be surprised if he gets a long overdue Oscar for the role.

The United States was without a public debt in 1835, but thereafter a new debt was created by reason of war and economic depression.

Senate Approves Highway Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Senate passed a bill late Wednesday to boost federal aid for highway construction to $1,010,000,000 annually for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1955.

Present highway budget is $652,500,000.

The measure was approved by voice vote after the Senate rejected, 44-37, an attempt by rural state senators to kill a new method of alloting federal highway aid funds among the various states.

The bill now goes to a House-Senate Conference Committee for adjustment of differences with a $875,000,000 bill passed earlier by the House.

Bob Considine Says:

Two Fine Old Editors Die, Belonged to Rough Days

NEW YORK (INS) — Two great old editors, Walter Howey and Jack Lait died within days of each other recently after a half century and more of the rough and tumble journalism whose gradual disappearance brings sadness to so many in the business.

Their obits read fine, even in the newspapers whose circulations and prestige suffered in bygone days at their nimble minds and willing hands. Fine men, hard workers, heavy contributors to the lore of the game, etc.

Talked today with a man who worked with both Howey and Lait — Charlie MacArthur, coauthor of "The Front Page" and a lot of other hits.

"Lait probably started more reporters writing plays, novels, short-stories and the like — on this side — than any other working newspaperman," MacArthur said.

"He was a miracle to the rest of us around Chicago in those days. That's when he was on the Herald, under Jim Keeley.

"Jack would cover the main story, write a feature on the side, turn out a novelette during lunch, and show up at the ball game. There was never anybody who could touch him for output under pressure. Sure, there was pressure. The Herald's circulation staff carried guns, like the others."

MacArthur worked for Howie. "He was Walter Burns, the managing editor in 'The Front Page' — pore by pore," Charlie said. "He pretended he was mad when he first saw it. But he got over that. We were great friends . . . shared a lot of assignments together — great assignments.

"I went up to Boston to New England General to see him not long before he died. You know the circumstances, don't you? It was the Book of Job all over again.

"Broke his back a few years ago, then it was broken again, along with a lot of ribs, when a runaway cab broke off a mail box in a Boston street and the thing hit him like a shell.

"While he was in a coma he caught pneumonia and the wife he idolized died. They had to tell him she was dead and buried when he came out of the fog . . . but he carried on. Was full of beans and ginger the last day I saw him. He was sitting up in bed, editing his obituary.

"Quite a man, Howey," MacArthur mused. "You know, he was the only Chicago editor to back Big Bill Thompson when Thompson ran on a 'punch King George in the nose' platform. Thompson was so grateful he assigned a police lieutenant and two sergeants to help our city staff.

"We broke the Carl Wanderer case by having Carl 'arrested' by one of our officers and taken to a Chicago hotel. We sweat him a bit through the night and he finally confessed he and not the 'mysterious stranger' had killed the old lady. We came out with his confession at the same time the Trib was saying the city was going to decorate him for bravely trying to defend his wife.

"I could go on . . ." Charlie said.

Wisconsin Monkeys Hide No Thoughts

MADISON, Wis. (UP) — A group of University of Wisconsin monkeys are letting scientists in on their innermost thoughts through a peep hole.

The peep hole was devised by two university scientists who, by means of an operation, have installed permanent windows in the animals' skulls.

Scientists believe the plastic windows may give some clue to the effect of drugs on brain blood vessels.

Bishop Attacks Probe Group

Oxnam Talks in Detroit, Says Committee Files Hearsay Allegations

DETROIT (AP) — Methodist Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam last night attacked the House Committee on Un-American Activities saying it was "incompetent, irresponsible and lacking in integrity."

Bishop Oxnam, who is from the Washington area, talked at a lecture series at Detroit's Central Methodist Church.

He appeared voluntarily before the House committee last summer and since has been touring the country speaking against the group's methods.

Bishop Oxnam said the files of the committee were packed with derogatory reports about him personally and many other persons.

"This committee has files on a million persons," he said. "Its so-called public files are composed of newspaper clippings, letterheads, hearsay, allegations made by miscellaneous individuals or organizations, and rumors.

". . . They are unverified and unevaluated," he said. "The committee assumes no responsibility for their accuracy and insists that the material released does not represent a conclusion of the committee.

"Such derogatory statements can easily take the earning capacity away from a person and ruin his reputation in the community."

Frog Jumping Sport Spreads

South Africa Now Has American Pastime Made Famous by Mark Twain

WASHINGTON — Frog jumping, an American pastime glorified by Mark Twain, has spread to South Africa. That British Dominion now claims its tailless amphibians can outhop the prodigious jumper of the United States, the common bullfrog or Rana catesbeiana.

In 1865 Mark Twain's story of the Jumping Frog of Calaveras County (California) told how Jim Smiley's "educated" frog, Dan'l Webster, was so loaded with quail shot that it couldn't get off the ground in a crucial contest.

From this tale stemmed annual championship matches now held in Angels Camp, Calaveras County, with real frogs, says the National Geographic Society. There a number of years ago a bullfrog named Maggie set a world's record of 16-feet 4 inches for three successive jumps That mark has stood despite the frantic efforts of challengers from England, Australia, Trinidad, Mexico and the United States.

Now, however, come reports from Pretoria and Cape Town that South Africa has a Natal Provinveince performers, Leaping Lena, whicsh has spanned 22 feet 10½ inches officially and 32 feet in an exhibition jump.

American herpetologists are curious about Leaping Lena. They wonder what species among the 50 to 60 in South Africa could accomplish such feats. Any salientian that can consistently beat the bullfrog of this country's brooks and ponds east of the Rocky Mountains is a formidable creature, for few jumpers in the entire animal world can compete with Rana catesbeiana.

In relation to the performer's size, man lags far behind Maggie's mark. In 1935 Jesse Owens established a running broad jump world's record of 26 feet 8¼ inches not much more than four times his length. A kangaroo is good for about 26 feet, or five times its body length. A three-foot hop for an average frog is approximately 12 times its length.

Only the flea tops the frog's achievement as a broad jumper. With a leap of 12 inches, it springs 200 body lengths. The impala, an African antelope, is probably capable of the greatest horizontal leap, 30 to 40 feet. But this achievement is not comparable to that of the frog or flea.

Whether jumping or not, the American bullfrog is perhaps the best known frog. Its hind legs provide an epicurean delicacy, and the bass-fiddle call of the male—"jug o'rum"—is a familiar outdoor sound.

Before singing, the bullfrog inflates its body and floats. If alarmed, it grunts and dives under water, deflating itself at the same time.

Solicitor Only Proves a Classical Background

CONCORD, N. H. (UP)—At least City Solicitor Gordon M. Tiffany brushed up on his Latin the day Thomas E. Tefft was in court charged with not paying a $2 poll tax in 1941.

Tefft contended he paid the $2, but he couldn't locate the 12-year-old receipt. Tiffany brought him into small claims court where Tefft said he couldn't be sued because of the six-year statute of limitations.

Tiffany came up with a brief which said: "Nullun tempus occurrit regis," or, "Time doesn't run against the crown"—the Concord tax collector, in this instance.

The court ruled "nihil"—nothing—for the city on the grounds that the limitations statute applied.

Plants, ramps and yard areas of a single U.S. aircraft manufacturer cover almost 62 million square feet! That's enough area for 1,270 football fields.

Jet Could Heat House All Winter

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. (INS)—The jet blast of one of America's newest and most powerful warplanes gives off enough heat in one hour to keep an average six-room house nice and warm almost all winter.

Engineers estimated that the engine blast of the new swept-wing fighter-bomber is equal to 160,000,000 BTUs an hour. That's enough heat to keep 1,600 houses warm for an hour or one house warm for more than two months.

The Thunderstreak's Wright Sapphire J-65 engine develops 7,200 pounds of thrust, equal to 11,000 h. p. at near sonic speeds.

Library Is Tallest

WATERVILLE, Me. (UP)—The tallest building in the State of Maine is Miller Library at Colby College, whose tower rises 191 feet above the ground.

Gas Station to Help Build New $250,000 Church

CHICAGO (INS) — Members of the Disciples of Christ are seeking to build a $250,000 Protestant church in Chicago with proceeds of a gas station. The sect recently took over a gas station on the site of the famed White City amusement park, where a housing development now is being built. The Disciples operate the filling station and hope to purchase land for their church for $80,000.

Dutch Architect Says U.S. Needs Town Planning

CHICAGO (UP)—Willem Dudok, Dutch architect and town planner, sharply disagrees with the advocates of extreme functional architecture.

"Why only visible construction should be considered as honest work has never become clear to me," he said in a lecture here.

"Architecture is simply a game of space. We must play that in our own way, expressing the time in which we live."

American cities, he said, are daring in architecture and engineering but lack organic town planning.

For one thing, he said, it is now necessary to begin thinking about limiting the size of cities to achieve decentralization.

One way to do that, he said, is by surrounding towns or sections of cities with parks and landscaped areas on which building would be prohibited.

"If America could come to recognize the need for town planning on a large scale, expressing a clear form, it would be a country of unlimited architectural possibilities," he said.

Averages Make Question Perfectly Reasonable

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP)—Two hotel diners were asked if they represented a delegation to a meeting of the Young Republican Club of Vermont. The two men looked at each other in surprise, smiled and politely said they weren't.

They were State Highway Board chairman Cleon A. Perkins and State Tax Commissioner Leonard W. Morrison—the only Democrats holding high state positions in Vermont, a Republican stronghold.

COLDWATER (UP)—Paul Baker, 35, of Bronson, faced examination today on an involuntary manslaughter charge in the traffic death of Frank P. Yesh, 75, also of Bronson.

A warrant was served on Baker Wednesday as he left Memorial Hospital at Sturgis. He was injured in the accident that killed Yesh last Sunday.

Water District Quenches Thirst of Some 47 Cities

MONTEREY PARK, Calif. (AP)—Quenching the thirst of 47 swelling cities that contain more than a fourth of the total population of the 11 western states is the never ending task of the Metropolitan District of Southern California.

Newest undertaking is the Garvey reservoir in the foothills bordering this Los Angeles suburb. It involves moving 3,600,000 cubic yards of earth. When completed in 1955 the reservoir will have a capacity of 489 million gallons of water piped from the Colorado River.

Outlines Need for Teachers' 'Escape' Room

PHILADELPHIA (UP) — School kids who think they have problems ought to give a thought to their teachers.

Walter D. Cocking, editor of the School Executive, thinks an "escape room" where harrassed mentors can flee occasionally from their nerve-wracking work should be an essential part of every new school.

Cocking told a meeting of the Eastern Division of Pennsylvania School Administrators that such sanctums would provide a pleasant place for weary teachers to "let their hair down" and relax after suffering through their various occupational ordeals.

The editor said such a room would promote better teacher relations and provide for a comfortable meeting place with parents to discuss junior's progress without tension.

But Cocking pointed out that the room's major value would be as a quiet place to recoup "after sitting on the lid of incipeint revolution for hours."

"Nothing is so wearing as being with people continuously for six hours at a time," Cocking observed.

Expand Danube Fleet

PARIS (INS)—Reports reaching Paris from Vienna say Russia is expanding its Danube River fleet. The Skoda plant in Czechoslovakia and the Korneuburg factory in Austria are producing river naval craft and commercial barges. The huge Ganz factories in Budapest recently built eight gunboats for the Soviet Danube fleet.

INDO-CHINA—The World's Oldest War

By Walter Parks and Ralph Lane

The Chinese Communists — and, of course, behind them, the Russians—are after Indo-China. Just what is Indo-China and why is its fate important to the remaining free countries? Indo-China, half again as large as France, has been a French colony since early in the 19th Century. It is important to the free nations because it is the key to all southeast Asia.

If Indo-China falls to the Reds, Malaya, Burma, Indonesia and perhaps the Philippines will be a soft touch. The Japs did it in '41, using Indo-China as a springboard. Southeast Asia is a prime source of rice (world's No. 1 crop) rubber, tin and other critical materials.

The Communist grip on Indo-China followed a familiar pattern. The Reds simply infiltrated a native nationalistic movement, gradually took it over and warped its aims from simple independence to becoming another Kremlin stooge country. Until recently, raw terrorism was the chief weapon.

Indo-China includes the provinces of Tonkin, Annam and Cochin-China and the protectorates of Laos and Cambodia. The first three make up the Viet Nam Republic. It was here that the strongest native fight against harsh French colonialism was made. Short-sighted French rule of the past 80 years incubated the germs of revolt.

The French gave natives little or no part in governing themselves. Frenchmen held all offices, even minor ones. This embittered the more intelligent natives, who were unable to realize their potential abilities.

Native resentment, long smoldering, broke out in flaming revolt in 1930. The Great Depression had hit Indo-China. Thousands were starving. Peasants were desperate. The uprising was quickly suppressed, but its embers ignited a nationalist movement whose growing force led to today's crisis. More important, the embers also sparked the formation of the Indo-Chinese Communist Party.

Williams Signs Eight New Bills

Justice Court Witness Fees Get Shot in Arm From Legislature

LANSING (UP) — Gov. Williams today signed into law bills to:

Increase the maximum fine from $2,500 to $10,000 for an indictable common law offense for which no other statutory provision is made.

Increase the witness fee in justice courts from two dollars to five dollars for each day's attendance and from one dollar to $2.50 for each half day's attendance.

Permit the boards of supervisors to order the county treasurer to destroy tax sale records and state land lists which have been on file for at least 15 years after they have been microfilmed or filmed.

Delete from the investment provisions of the insurance code restricting issuance of bonds of city, county, township, village, school districts and other political subdivisions.

Provide for an increase in salary from $5,000 to $5,400 for circuit court clerks in counties with more than 350,000 population.

Extend medical payment protection to apply to all automobile accidents, pedestrian or otherwise.

Increase from 5 to 15 days the time in which the clerk of a common pleas court shall issue an alias summons.

Amend the law covering intercounty drain districts to require notification of the Highway Department prior to new construction.

Three-fourths of the world's population lives on about one-eighth of the earth's surface.

Should've Called Derrick Instead of Fire Trucks

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Jesse Hale pleaded guilty yesterday to sending in a false fire alarm. He needed help, he told the judge, because his wife had fallen down and he couldn't pick her up. She weighs in the neighborhood of 270 pounds, he said.

The judge placed him on probation for two years.

The surface of the Gulf of Mexico is aproximately six inches higher than that of the Atlantic ocean.

Grandma of 60 Still Dives Afire

Tours With Carnivals Performing Feats That Defy Deaths

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—Ella Carver looks like the hundreds of gray-haired grandmothers who have come to the Florida Gulf Coast to relax in the sun, chat with their neighbors and knit sweaters for their grandchildren.

But Miss Carver, who uses her maiden name, doesn't knit or gossip for relaxation.

Her idea of a good time is to climb a 90-foot steel tower, coat herself with gasoline, set it afire, and dive into a steel tank containing 5 feet of water.

Another one of her amusements is to climb on one of her five trained horses, and then with her mount leap from a 40-feet tower into a tank of water 12 feet deep.

Ella Carver, at 60, is a carnival performer—has been since she was 10 and following her father around the carnival circuit.

Her father originated the diving horse act the year she was born.

"Heights have never worried me," said Miss Carver. "When I was a kid in Bluefield, W. Va., I climbed every tree n the county. My mother always worried about me."

Her seven brothers and sisters decided against a carnival career. Her son, Lewis, tried the act for a while but quit to join the Navy.

The performing grandmother toured Japan and other parts of the Orient twice before World War II and still laughs over some of the experiences on the return trip.

"I kept in shape by doing aerial acts on the ship's riggin," she said. "Once I dived off the ship's bridge when we were anchored. The captain was horrified."

She has been burned repeatedly in her 'fire dive," but never seriously enough to cancel her act.

Actually, Miss Carver said, she can remember only a few occasions when she was at all uneasy.

Once was at Iron Mountain, Mich., in 1938, when she misjudged a dive and hit her head on the bottom of the tank.

"My son pulled me out," she said. "I made a bow to the audithe dressing room."

Hunters Gang Pheasant; Two Are Wounded

FRANKLIN, Pa. (UP — Three Venango County hunters following fresh snow tracks trailed a pheasant into a hole in the bottom of a pine tree. The three surrounded the tree spaced about 30 feet apart. The ringneck was frightened out of its hiding place and all three fired.

Results, according to a report made to the state game commission — one dead pheasant, two wounded hunters.

Danger Appeals to Older Woman

School Teacher Loves Treacherous Trips on Mountain Rivers

FRESNO, Calif. (UP)—A life of adventure can begin at 60 or later. Just ask Emma Schray, who spent 46 years teaching school before embarking on her hazardous hobby.

At 68, Miss Schray is an expert at riding the rapids of treacherous streams such as the Colorado, winding through the Grand Canyon, the Snake in Idaho, and the San Juan in Utah.

Actually her interest in unusual river jaunts began when she was a child studying geography, but it wasn't until she retired that she could do anything about it.

Her last trip was by small boat through the famous Hell's Canyon of the Snake, a trip few other persons have made.

Before tackling it by boat, she flew over it's "white" water — rapids.

Miss Schray describes the canyon as "V-shaped, and 10 miles across at its widest point, with the stream zig-zagging through the rocky gorge." And at this point most people would have quit.

But the retired schoolteacher got a guide and a motor boat, and started the perilous descent. Three other adventurers joined the party, and during the 22-mile ride, they shot a series of 10 rapids.

"Out side of getting a little wet," she said, "we came out unscathed"

Before negotiating the Snake, she already had marked up a victory over the Colorado where it runs through the Grand Canyon, and the goosenecks of the San Juan.

She started the Colorado venture in 1949, four days after being released from a hospital. On that trip the party consisted of eight women and five men, including four boatmen.

They navigated the treacherous stream in six 15-foot boats. The trip took 10 days. At night the travelers slept on sand bars.

The adventurous 68-year-old woman is tall and sturdily built. Her hair is gray, but her clear blue eyes shine merrily through her specs.

"I am having the time of my life," she said.

She has another hobby — road map collecting. But it's turned into grist for the mill of her river riding. Whenever she looks at a map, the first thing she sees are rivers.

She's also navigated the Rhine, the Yukon and the Danube rivers, but shrugs these off as "nothing" compared to tough ones in America.

Now that she's taken care of Hell's Canyon, she confesses there's another river on her mind—the Salmon in Oregon.

And the bets are that Emma Schray will be heading for Oregon fairly soon.

Hawthorn Tree Rates With Shamrock for Luck

KENT, Ohio (UP)—For good luck on St. Patrick's Day, a hawthorn tree rates with the shamrock, according to a tree expert, Martin L. Davey, Jr.

Irish legend holds the hawthorn sacred, for the wee folk are said to dance beneath its boughs at night. St. Patrick's Stone, on an island in the River Shannon, is shaded by a hawthorn tree. Water that collects in the hollow of the stone is believed to be medicinal.

Broken Arm No Bother

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (UP)—Mrs. Miriam Knox Dent, energetic editor of the weekly Waynesburg Republican, easily solved the problem of publishing the paper on time when she broke her "writing arm" recently. Her husband, James Dent, rigged up a telephone next to the linotype machine in the newspaper's plant. As she dictated most of the paper's copy from her hospital bed, Dent set the copy up directly on the linotype keyboard.

PROTESTS ANTIQUE LAW—Calling herself "Mrs. Voteless," Mrs. Ambrose Martin Walsh, of Washington, D. She represents capital's League of Women Voters.

Depositor Has Bank Prove Its Solvency

WASHINGTON (UP) — Banking history of a sort was made by a seven-year-old Washington boy who recently undertook to check the solvency of his bank.

Alfred C. Peterson, the young "bank examiner," has been periodically depositing his savings in a local bank. After a year or so of odd jobs—and steady depositing—his bank book showed $163.

But Alfred wanted proof — he wanted to see the money.

He persuaded his mother to take him to the bank where he presented his case to a sympathetic teller. He was admitted to the teller's cage where $163 in cash was shown him.

The boy counted it out carefully, expressed his confidence in the bank and left. Bank officials said it was their first such experience.

Colored Packages to Make Pills Easier to Take

DALLAS, Tex. (INS) — Pill boxes — the kind that medicine comes in — are taking on a new look.

The trend is toward pastel coloring and attractive packaging to make the patient enjoy taking the tablet.

And they're even making special boxes and labels to appeal to small fry in the hope that parents will have an easier time getting pills into their offspring.

Special background inks which show up at various light angles are used to print attractive pictures on the prescriptions and boxes that contain children's pills.

The new psychology of the pill-box business also includes colored prescription paper.

And the containers are no longer pill-boxes, they are "druggist boxes."

Paul B. Craig, of Dallas, president of the only pill box manufacturing concern in the southwestern United States, said it is all in the interest of trying to make the pill takers feel better.

Jet Plane Tanker Explodes in Mid-Air

TOKYO (UP)—An American Superfort tanker plane exploded and crashed today while refueling a jet fighter in the air and five crewmen are believed to have died.

The jet was not damaged.

The Air Force said it has found four bodies and another crewman is missing and presumed dead.

Six crewmen parachuted from the flaming air tanker. They were taken to a hospital for a check.

Names of the crew were withheld.

A spokesman said cause of the fire was not determined.

The tanker sprang a leak while refueling an F84 Thunderjet near Nagoya in central Japan. The jet disengaged.

Fire broke out almost immediately and an explosion followed.

Flying Foglights Seen Circling in Pontiac Skies

Last night's bad weather not only brought tornadoes and thunderstorms. It also had flying foglights.

At least that is what Mrs. Herman Opdenhoff, 19, of 420 Riverside Dr., reported seeing about 11:30 p.m. in clearing skies northwest of Pontiac.

"They were white and looked like foglights. There were six of them, we counted them. They seemed to be circling."

Mrs. Opdenhoff said two other persons also saw them.

Senate Favors Law on Auto Turn Signals

LANSING (UP) — Legislative action was completed today on a measure requiring all cars and trucks to be equipped with automatic turn signals next year.

The Senate agreed to House changes in the bill Wednesday.

The act applies only to new cars manufactured after Jan. 1, 1955, but requires immediate installation of turn indicators on certain large trucks. Sponsors said 25 other states already have laws requiring cars and trucks to be equipped with turn signals.

An amendment will allow boards of supervisors to vote funds for financing county safety campaigns.

Blue Star Mothers Entertain Officials

KEEGO HARBOR—National and department vice presidents were guest speakers at Monday night's Blue Star Mothers meeting.

Their topics were rehabilitation of veterans and preparations for the state convention in Detroit next June.

In other business, Mrs. Harold Mullen, ways and means committee chairman, reported on the "Bakeless Bake Sale," now in progress. She will also be chairman of the planned sale of boxed candies and utilitarian articles.

Gas Station Robbed

Thieves broke into a filling station at 293 Mount Clemens St. last night and stole $22 from the cash register and a vending machine. Pontiac Police said the thieves gained entry by breaking a rear window.

Hard of hearing persons often say their ability to hear is lowered when they are nervous or upset.

Arizona Miners More Optimistic

Government Plans to Prop Up Metal Prices Ease Their Fears

By SAM DAWSON

TUCSON, Ariz. (UP)—Arizona mining men are shaking off some of that depressed feeling today. Production is down from its peak, but government plans to prop metal prices have somewhat eased their fears that bigger drops were on the way.

And some new copper mines west and north of here will be coming into production with Uncle Sam pledged to take metal at fixed prices that assure profitable and steady production, even if present market prices should drop—as mining men here privately admit is still likely.

Since Arizona produces more than one third of the copper mined in the nation, a sharp cutback in output or drop in price would quickly be felt by its economy. So far this year, Arizona's copper output is running nearly 2,000 tons a month below last year's rate.

Government buying for the defense stockpile would help. But copper men here say that a return to former production levels will have to await a turnabout in industrial production or a stepup in defense spending, perhaps through some new war scare.

Price advances in lead and zinc on the strength of expected government buying for the military stockpile have allayed fears the state's one remaining mine primarily producing lead and zinc might close. It has kept operating largely because of the gold and silver content of its ore.

Other mines primarily producing lead and zinc have closed, and Arizona output of these metals is now only about one third that of a year ago.

Mining men say the closed mines will reopen only if the government's stockpiling program—yet to be spelled out—provides an adequate price floor, assures government buying over a fairly long period and guarantees that the government won't dump its metal stocks on the market later on.

Some mining men think the market price of lead would have to rise to around 17 cents a pound, a gain of at least 3 cents, before mine owners would start rehiring laid-off miners.

Privately, copper men will tell you that they still look for the price to come down—perhaps to 25 cents a pound, a drop of 5 cents—if and when Chile returns to the world market with its huge pile of metal.

Copper mine production here has been pared down because of signs of an approaching oversupply. So far the cutback has been mostly in costly overtime work.

Squawks Continue as Cup Scene Shifts to Montreal

By Press Wire Services

MONTREAL — The penalty-and-power-play series, probably one of the most unusual in National Hockey League's Stanley Cup annals, opens its Montreal stand tonight with no diminution in off-stage squawks over the refereeing.

In the two games in Detroit — each settled by a 3-1 score, first in favor of the Wings and then the Canadiens — not one of the total eight goals was scored while 12 players were on the ice. The Red Wings counted one goal when one of their own men was in the penalty box.

With penalties playing such an important part, the roars and bellows were bound to come. Coach Dick Irvin sounded off first. His team lost the Sunday game, handled by referee Bill Chadwick.

The outraged Montreal coach proclaimed that "it's strange opposing teams get penalties until the Red Wings are in front."

Detroit's loss Tuesday night, when referee Red Storey handled the game, brought a blast from general manager Jack Adams to the effect that Storey was never any good and as a Montreal man would of course favor the Canadiens.

To cap this, Bruce Norris, co-owner of the Red Wings, announced he would file a letter of protest over the officiating to President Clarence Campbell of the NHL.

The two games produced a total of 25 penalties, 14 against Canadiens and 11 against the Red Wings.

Canadiens, blessed with a slight advantage in the schedule, were slight favorites to retain the cup. Slight edge lies in the fact that three of the possible seven remaining games will be played on Montreal ice.

Wings took the opener 3-1 on Sunday night when Ted Lindsay, Red Kelly and Earl (Dutch) Reibel scored against a lone tally by Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion.

Tuesday night's game saw Maurice (Rocket) Richard erupt from a five-playoff-game scoring slump to beat goaltender Terry Sawchuk for two goals.

Dickie Moore, who assisted on both of Richard's, scored the remaining goal to hoist his phenomenal playoff production to five goals and eight assists, well ahead of any other player.

Richard thus inserted his name for the 6th time in the "playoff records" section of the National Hockey League record book — it was already recorded seven times in regular season records.

His two goals shattered two of his own records as he brought his total playoff production to 56 goals and his playoff point total to 81.

Lauds Busby

Griffith Says Mickey Mantle Is Overrated

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Mickey Mantle is probably the most overrated player in baseball," Calvin Griffith said today.

Griffith is executive vice president of the Washington Senators, who own a bit of baseball property named Jim Busby.

Griffith said that if Mantle were playing for anybody but the New York Yankees, "you'd hardly ever hear of him."

His idea was that the Yankee publicists and New York sports writers have built Mantle up into something he is not. "If Busby were playing for the Yankees," Griffith said, "they'd be calling him another Tris Speaker or something."

Mantle, the youngster from Commerce, Okla., is out of action as the result of a knee injury and won't be in the lineup when the Yankees play the Senators on opening day here next Tuesday.

Yankees' successor to Joe DiMaggio, he has been billed in many parts as one of the hottest prospects to hit the major leagues in some time. Griffith well remembers his power, since it was in the ball park here that Mantle socked a 565-foot home run last year.

Busby, a native of Kenedy, Tex., is at 27 nearly five years older than Mantle. Griffith regards him as one of the most underrated players in the league.

Mantle, considered an expert in grabbing flies, "can't compare with Busby as fielder," Griffith said.

Clark Griffith, 84-year-old owner of the Senators, chimed in: "Busby is one of the best flycatchers I've ever seen." Then there's the matter of hitting. Last year Mantle batted .292. Busby's average was .312.

Mantle batted in 92 runs and Busby 82, but Griffith noted that a lot more Yankees were on base last season for Mantle to drive home than there were Senators ahead of Busby.

The Yankee centerfielder, considered more of a power hitter than Busby, hit for 229 total bases last season. Busby's total: 243.

Mantle stole 8 bases, Busby 13. "That enough?" Griffith asked with a wink.

Boone Expected to Return to Play Soon After Injury

PORTSMOUTH, O. (UP)—Third baseman Ray Boone's early return to action was expected today as the Detroit Tigers met the Cincinnati Redlegs in an on-the-road exhibition game.

Boone was hit on the arm by one of Curt Simmons' fast balls Wednesday in the Bengals' tilt at Durham, N. C., against the Philadelphia Phillies.

Tigers won the game, 7-5, and thereby polished off their spring series against the Phillies with a margin of five games to three.

Boone, relieved by Fred Hatfield, was withdrawn from the game and hustled before technicians for X-rays to determine the extent of his injury. It was believed the bruise would heel quickly.

The Tigers piled up 17 hits off Simmons and Steve Ridzik. Bonus rookie Al Kaline clouted a double and two singles. Jim Delsing homered in the 7th.

Philadelphia, collecting nine hits off Steve Gromek and Dick Donovan battled the Tigers on even terms in the first six innings but was unable to recover from Detroit's two-run advantage in the 8th.

Kaline scored Detroit's winning run when he doubled in the 8th and came home on Matt Batts' two-bagger, a wild pitch then allowed Batts to come home for the marginal run.

Phillies edged ahead, 5-4, in the bottom of the 5th inning on a three-run splurge resulting from Del Ennis' homer and singles by Ted Kazanski, Richie Ashburn and Earl Torgeson.

Delsing, however, soon knotted the score at 5-all by swatting his 7th inning homer—his 5th of the spring season. Tigers then promptly settled the issue in the eighth.

HAIR RAISER—Gerald Dreyer's hair stands up as he takes a jolting right to the face from Chuck Davey (right) in the 3rd round of their welterweight bout in Oakland, Calif., last night. Davey, boxing's college graduate from Lansing, scored a unanimous decision over the South African.

* * * * * * * * *

Davey Eyes Martinez

OAKLAND, Calif. (UP) — Chuck Davey had a unanimous decision tucked away on his comeback trail today, but figured he needed a bout with Vince Martinez before taking another shot at welterweight champion Kid Gavilan.

The stylish southpaw from Michigan State earned a lop-sided verdict over rugged Gerry Dreyer of South Africa Wednesday night in a 10-round nationally televised bout that saw the Britisher on the verge of a knockout several times.

But Davey never was able to put across the big punch, although he hit Dreyer virtually at will toward the end with left and right combinations to the body and head.

Davey, who went into the ring weighing 149, had the 151-pound Dreyer in trouble as early as the 2nd round when he nearly dropped Dreyer with a left to the head.

In the meantime, Davey got a few lumps of his own when Dreyer blasted him with hard rights over the collegian's unguarded left hand sector.

The brawling, pushing Briton landed four of those shots during the 4th round and three more in the 7th but was never in sight of pulling a storybook knockout.

Then Dreyer tired visibly from the 7th round on as Davey tried to end the fight before the last bell.

Hec Knowles, Davey's manager, suggested that his television idol get a bout with Martinez before facing the Gavilan chopper again and Davey agreed.

It was Gavilan who stopped Davey in the 10th round early last year in a title fight.

Neither Izzy Kline, Davey's trainer, nor Willie Ketchum, who manages Dreyer, were happy with the ring surface.

"It was too slow and hampered Chuck all night," Kline said.

"It definitely hurt my boy," Ketchum said, "he isn't a fancy-dan like Davey and has to dig his feet in to throw a punch."

Babe Favored Over Colonial Women's Field

Mrs. Zaharias Posts Five-Under-Par 70 in Practice

NEW ORLEANS (UP) —Babe Zaharias wasn't making any predictions today but her blazing five-under-par 36-34 — 70 practice round established her as the favorite as 16 professional women golfers and 53 amateurs teed off in the $5,000 Colonial Women's Open.

Mrs. Zaharias dispelled thoughts of retirement with the statement that she wanted "to play golf for years" if she could get back on her game after a cancer operation.

She shot a first nine 34 earlier on the narrow fairway course on the banks of the Mississippi River. Her 70 Wednesday was one-under men's par.

Otherwise, it was hard to pick a favorite in the field. But Patty Berg of Chicago, who won the 72-hole medal play event here the past two years; Louise Suggs of Atlanta, leading PGA money winner and champion in the recent Carrollton, Ga., Open, and Betsy Rawls, Spartanburg, S. C., National Open Champion, loomed as threats to the Babe's efforts for top money.

Tigers Refund Tax on Tickets

Rebates Will Be Made at Box Office After Each Game

DETROIT (UP) — The Detroit Tigers announced today federal excise tax refunds on tickets purchased before April 1 may be obtained at Briggs Stadium immediately after each game by presenting rain checks at the box office.

President Walter O. Briggs said the refunds will range from 10 to 20 cents a ticket. He said all tickets purchased prior to April 1 are subject to the tax refund.

The excise tax cuts dropped the ticket prices from $2.50 to $2.30 on box seats, from $1.75 to $1.65 on reserved seats, from $1.25 to $1.15 on grand stand seats and from .75 to .65 on bleacher seats.

Briggs pointed out that only seven games, all this month, are included in the direct refund category. Tickets for games at later dates have not been distributed yet and the refunds will accompany those tickets.

Badgers Heavy Ring Favorites

Expected to Dethrone Idaho State as NCAA Boxing Champs

STATE COLLEGE, PA. (UP) — Wisconsin was heavily favored to dethrone Idaho State as NCAA boxing champion as the 17th annual collegiate tournament got underway here today with 61 entries from 15 colleges and universities scheduled to take part.

Badgers, who have won six previous team titles, boast two previous individual champs and two other entries who have won six bouts each without a defeat this season.

Stiffest competition for Wisconsin was expected to come from defending champion Idaho State and Michigan State, with Maryland, the East Coast title holder, rated a strong darkhouse.

However, Idaho State lost its 119-pound titlist, Victor Koeb, because of influenza, and 132-pound Johnny Jaegger was sidelined by a shoulder injury. Michigan State's Tom Hickey, 165 pounds, and Choken Hashawa, 119, were scholastic casualties.

Another Triplicate

Another triplicate has been rolled at the Pontiac Recreation. Charles Slabinski, who bowls for Mickey's Bar in the Moose Bowling League, had three games of 154 in league play this week. Slabinski's average is 159.

Jockeys Injured in Three-Horse Spill

LINCOLN, R. I. (UP)—Two apprentice riders were hospitalized today after a 3-horse spill at Lincoln Downs but jockey Tony DeSpirito's luck still held good.

DeSpirito, Mike Thomas and Paul Bohenko hit the turf when their mounts tangled on the stretch in Wednesday's 9th race. Thomas suffered a concussion and Bohenko an injured shoulder and both were hospitalized at Woonsocket. DeSpirito, though badly shaken, refused hospitalization.

Spill occurred when Bohenko, riding Our Jan, made a bid for the lead and his horse swerved and fell, tripping Thomas' mount, Hatter War. DeSpirito, on Red Hoops, piled into Hatter War.

One-Time Pontiac Boxer Referee in Davey Match

Pontiac fans watching last night's Chuck Davey-Gerald Dreyer televised fight from Oakland, Calif., may have recognized the 3rd man in the ring.

He was Russ Bradford, one-time Pontiac fighter who gained prominence in Michigan fistic circles during the 1920's.

After graduating from Pontiac High School in 1922, Bradford fought as a featherweight and twice met Johnny Weber, now a Detroit referee, Weber won both matches, the 2nd of which was for the state featherweight title.

Bradford later moved into the lightweight class and fought until the early 30's, when he broke his hand in a bout in Los Angeles. That ended his boxing career, and he worked as a playground instructor on the West Coast until the war. He returned to Michigan to work in Detroit during the war years and went back to the coast a few years ago.

His last visit here was last fall, when he competed in the barber shop quartet contest in Detroit.

Porterhouse Out of Derby

Trainer Says Favored Horse to Miss Classic Due to Injuries

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Porterhouse, the favorite for the Kentucky Derby, has been declared out of the race because of recent forefeet injuries.

The decision to scratch the champion two-year-old of 1953 was made yesterday by owner Mrs. M. E. Person after a long distance talk with trainer Charley Whittingham who is with the juvenile wonder horse of the Keeneland Track in Kentucky.

Mrs. Person said that since the colt injured first his left foot and then his right one within 10 days, his trainers have been able to do little with him.

Porterhouse won five of eight starts last year and captured a six-furlong sprint in his only race during the Santa Anita meet.

Reports From Major Camps

By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS —Manager Jimmy Dykes says the Baltimore Orioles' pitching has "been all right so far, but those exhibition games don't count." Joe Coleman, Duane Pillette and Don Larsen have pitched complete games so far.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. — Manager Lou Boudreau was gloating over the Boston Red Sox' startling hitting improvement today. Red Sox totaled 25 hits in their last two games with Milwaukee. During yesterday's 7-2 triumph George Kell homered twice and Charley Maxwell once.

WASHINGTON — For the first time a Negro has played with the Washington Senators at Griffith Stadium. He is Angel Scull, the little Cuban outfielder, who is still being given a chance to make the team before the May 13 deadline.

Williams Reported Ready for Practice

BOSTON (AP)—A medical report to General Manager Joe Cronin indicates that Ted Williams' fractured collarbone is knitting so well that the Boston Red Sox slugger is ready for light workouts.

Cronin said the injured star would come to Boston from Miami early next week. The Red Sox open their home season against Washington April 15.

It's Time Out

"Uncanny how things happen in threes! Ted Williams busts his shoulder, Thomson his ankle, and now Stinky Callahan comes down with measles!"

Rio May Lose Coach as Well as Cage Star

Newt Oliver Says He Will Leave if Francis Quits Ohio School

RIO GRANDE, Ohio (INS) — "Operation Switch" moved into its second phase today as Newt Oliver, coach of Rio Grande College's basketball team, let it be known that "if Bevo goes, I'll go too."

Newt was referring to a statement made by his star Bevo Francis that finances were too pressing for him to continue at the little southern Ohio college.

The lanky 6-9 center said earlier in the week that money problems may force him to drop from school at the end of the current semester.

Oliver says he has a few financial difficulties himself. He spoke of his $3,500 annual salary and commented that he could make that much "coaching a grade school." The wiry mentor said:

"Bevo and I feel we don't owe anyone at Rio Grande anything. We came together and we'll leave together."

Oliver picked Bevo up when he was coaching in high school and when he took the job at Rio, his alma mater, Bevo followed.

A transfer by Bevo may turn into a full scale exodus of the Rio cage squad as Oliver predicted the entire team would probably leave.

Francis holds nearly all the scoring records for a small college player.

Tests Indicate Deer Have Homing Instincts

LANSING (UP) — "Deer seem to have homing instincts," conservation game workers said today in a report of a test they are making at the Cusino Wildlife Station.

So far, it seems, most deer that are live-trapped and then released several miles away eventually return to the station.

One thing puzzled the game workers. Deer that were taken across a main highway and released failed to return to the station.

"It seemed the highway itself might have formed a blockade against their movements," the report said. Experiment will continue next winter.

Organized mountain lion hunts are a popular sport in southern Utah.

UM Trackmen Favored to Defeat UCLA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Michigan's track and field team, rated one of the nation's leading dual meet squads, will be highly favored to defeat UCLA in their twilight engagement Friday on the Westwood campus.

The first running event on the program, the mile run, is scheduled to start at 7:15 p. m. (EST).

Wolverines are favored to stow away their 2nd Pacific Coast Conference victim in less than a week. Last Saturday they defeated Stanford, 86-35.

Uclans lack overall balance as compared with Michigan.

Big Ten team boasts a pair of excellent milers in John Ross, conference champion and a member of the 1952 Canadian Olympic games team, and John Moule, a sophomore. Ross has a best indoor time of 4:11.2 this season, and Moule has done 4:16.4.

Michigan Nine Hands Belvoir Team 1st Loss

WASHINGTON (UP)—Fort Belvoir Engineers had a chance to even the score today in their 2nd game against the University of Michigan baseball team.

Two unearned runs in the 10th inning gave the Wolverines a 4-2 victory over Belvoir Wednesday. It was the Engineers' 1st loss of the season.

Jack Ritter of Michigan and Don Shaffer locked in a scoreless pitching duel for seven innings, but rallies by both teams forced the game into an extra frame.

In the 8th, Michigan catcher Dick Leach doubled to left, scoring Milbury Benedict. Leach tallied on two sacrifice flies to give the Wolverines a 2-0 lead.

Engineers tied it up in the 9th on Nick Testa's 3-bagger, but Michigan clinched it in the 10th when Dan Cline scored on Shaffer's wild pitch and an error by shortstop Don Lamb.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Pushaway for Speed.

Long Arc Important — Turning now to the distaff side, a tip from Wisconsin's fine bowler, Mrs. Frances Day. The thing most obviously needed by women is more speed, says the Badge star.

How to get it? First, by holding the ball a bit above waist-high level, starting from an upright position. This stance means strength, steadiness, balance. Hold ball in palm of left hand and, as action sketch of Mrs. Day shows, push ball well out from body as first step is taken.

Don't "baby" the push-away. Make it full, complete, so arms are extended all the way. Most important thing is a long swinging arc, and the push-away gives it to you. Then merely keep on going to the foul line, allowing the ball to swing freely, of its own weight, back and forward.

It'll pay off in speed and control. Take Mrs. Day's word (and her record), for that.

Bantam Ben Is Prime Target of Master's Golfers, but Superior Thinking Can Win Again for Hogan

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—Ben Hogan's score of 274 in last year's Masters—14 under par over a tough layout, will not be beaten this weekend. That was the master's master round.

On the other side of the picture, Ben will have a rugged battle to face against the hungry, invading horde rolling in from the Western coast.

I saw this bunch start from California in early January. They have traveled from 3,000 to 4,000 miles over bunkered terrain since that start over three months ago. Their main target is Ben Hogan, the titantic Texan who has been at Augusta ten days getting ready for the big test.

Why shouldn't Hogan be the only target? He is not only the Masters champion, he is U. S. Open Champion and British Open champion. He is monarch of all he surveys.

But he is also some 43 years old, he has been on the battle front many, many years and he can't be expected to keep on forever.

The younger pack snarling at his heels includes such stars as Bob Toski, Jim Turnesa, Ted Kroll, Jimmy Clark, Jack Burke, the Furgols, Mike Souchak, Art Wall Jr., Lloyd Mangrum, amateur champion Gene Littler, Bo Wininger and many others — supported by Sammy Snead and Byron Nelson.

The 127-pound Toski from Massachusetts has won four big tournaments in less than eight months and is now the hottest member of the Get-Hogan Brigade.

In Florida recently at the Seminole Amateur-Professional show, Hogan played a round without a birdie. He can't remember when that happened before. The next day he shot a 61, with 11 birdies. That's how golf goes.

If Hogan wins at Augusta again he will win with his head. He has won that way so many times before. And you need your head at Augusta's red and white dogwood layout more than any course ever saw—including the great courses of England and Scotland and the prize courses of the United States.

Ben, coupled with Bobby Jones, is the greatest star combination golf has ever known on this side of the Atlantic. Over here we offer Jones, Hogan and Walter Hagen, with Gene Sarazen close. Hogan stands alone through recent years. I would say he is the most accurate shot-maker I have ever seen, and this includes Jones, Hagen, Sarazen, Vardon, Snead and Ted Ray.

Tribe May Sign Hal

By UNITED PRESS

Manager Al Lopez said today he will recommend that Hal Newhouser be signed to a contract with the Cleveland Indians, provided the once-great southpaw and general manager Hank Greenberg "can agree to reasonable terms."

"There is no doubt that Newhouser can help the Indians," Lopez said after the 32-year-old former Tiger's impressive five-inning performance against the New York Giants Wednesday. "I'm going to tell Greenberg by telephone today that I'd like to have Hal but it's up to them to work out the terms."

NEWHOUSER

Newhouser earned close to $40,000 last season—a sum which Lopez conceded Greenberg could hardly approach. But the forthright Cleveland pilot pointed out he was in something of a quandry "because I'm sure the Chicago White Sox will sign Newhouser if we don't."

Lopez said he understood that general manager Frank Lane of the White Sox "had been following Newhouser closely" and "wants to add him to the Chicago staff if we give him the chance."

Newhouser left the Indians in Chattanooga, Tenn., Wednesday night for Detroit where he is expected to contact Greenbrg. He told Lopez he would rejoin the Indians in Indianapolis next Sunday.

Newhouser, who quit the Tigers after appearing in only seven games and failing to score a victory last season, has allowed five runs in his last 13 innings of Grapefruit League pitching. He turned in his best effort Wednesday — striking out five batters and yielding only two hits and an unearned run in five innings.

St. Louis Cardinals, New York Yankees, Chicago Cubs, Boston Red Sox and Giants also were encouraged by outstanding pitching performances in Wednesday's games.

Opening day pitcher Harvey Haddix hurled seven shutout innings as the Cardinals scored a 2-1 victory over the White Sox. Haddix, a 20-game winner last season, now owns a brilliant 0.25 earned run average for the spring.

Whitey Ford, Yankees' No. 1 disappointment of the spring only a week ago, scattered five hits and struck out eight batters as the world champions defeated their Norfolk farmhands, 4-1.

Mel Parnell, Boston's opening day pitcher, and rookie Tom Brewer combined for a six-hitter as the Red Sox beat the Milwaukee Braves, 7-2.

Johnny Antonelli's eight scoreless innings highlighted the Giants' victory which also assured New York the edge over Cleveland in their spring series.

Jackie Robinson's four hits sparked the Brooklyn Dodgers to a 10-4 triumph over the Washington Senators.

PHS' Spring Sports Campaign Under Way Friday

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High School's spring sports campaign gets under way Friday, when both the track squad and tennis team open their 1954 schedules. Chiefs' baseball and golf teams start competition next week.

Coach Wally Schlaerke will take 24 members of his track squad to Central Michigan College at Mt. Pleasant to compete in the annual Arthur Hill-Saginaw High Invitational Indoor Relays.

Three other Saginaw Valley Conference schools—defending champion Flint Northern, Flint Central and Bay City Central—are entered in the test along with Pontiac and the two host teams. Other Class A entries include Muskegon Heights, Lansing Eastern, Traverse City, Alpena, Midland and Bay City Handy.

Chief thinclads finished 2nd to Northern in last year's meet and were runnersup to the Vikings later in the state outdoor test.

PHS squad will include dashmen Jimmy Williams, Buddy Walker, Freeman Watkins and Ed Ringgold; hurdlers Willie Wilson and Jimmy "Red" Taylor; quartermiler Norris Jackson; half-miler John James; shot-putter Jack Hopkins; pole vaulter George Thrasher; medley relay runners Alonzo Watson, Coley Gracey, Charles Robinson and Felix Brooks; high jumpers Marvin Cagle, Rodney Treais and Walter King; and miler Bill Douglas.

Ringgold is also entered in the low hurdles, broad jump and high jump, while Williams, Walker and Taylor are slated to double in the broad jump. Willie Wilson will team with Williams, Walker and Watkins in the sprint relay.

Alternates making the trip are quarter-milers Jim Shorter and Leonard Briscoe, distance man Fred Cox, miler Fred Wilson, high jumper Harry Bennett and pole vaulter Bob Lamson.

Coaches Ray Lowry, Ed Graybiel and Dean Wilson will accompany Schloerke.

Six lettermen return to bolster Coach Vic Lindquist's tennis team that goes to Saginaw Arthur Hill Friday for its opener. Veterans are Norman Lebin, Eddie Macadaeg, Kent Mills, Jack Niggeman, Jim Ryerse and Lowell Satterlee. A total of 27 candidates have been working out under Lindquist.

Baseball team plays host to Cranbrook at Wisner field next Tuesdy in its '54 opener. Coach Ed Heikkinen has given senior right-hander Marv Caswell, a letterman, the nod to start on the mound against the Cranes.

First-base job and two outfield positions are still open. Ted Wharry and Al Hayward are battling for the infield slot, while the two outfield berths will go to lettermen Bob Johnston, Walt Poe, former junior varsity player Bob Sykes or Colle Hunt, who was ineligible last year.

Bill McLarty will be behind the plate, while Jerry Vallad is set at second, Don Daniel will start at short and Dick Slade will be at 3rd. Trueman Lamphere, a JV player last year, has the left field job.

John Maturo will make his debut as golf coach one week from today, when the PHS linksmen entertain Royal Oak at the Pontiac Municipal Course.

Maturo inherited seven lettermen from former coach Bill Lacy, including Norb Capistrant, Harold Titus, Arthur Scott, Luciano Ramirez, Don Walker, Jerry Richards and Mike Rosenberg.

Golfers held their 1st of four 9-hole qualifying rounds last night. Low six men at the end of the 36 holes will comprise the Pontiac team in the Royal Oak match.

Albion Swamps Indiana

ALBION (UP) — Albion College, capturing every event except one, defeated Manchester, 103¾ to 27¼, Wednesday in a track meet. The Manchester, Ind., team won the pole vault. Jim Timmons of Saginaw was a 2-time winner, placing 1st for Albion in the 100 and 220-yard races.

Utah has 2,000 lakes open to fishermen.

Charles Cites Reasons Why He'll Beat Rocky

Says Marciano Won't Get Solid Punch at Him in Title Bout

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — A fast concensus of the fight mob discloses that virtually all of them think Rocky Marciano is a cinch to rock Ezzard Charles to sleep in Yankee Stadium June 17.

But there are at least three dissenting voices in the wilderness and these are Ezzard Charles, and his co-managers Jake Mintz and Tom Tannas.

Let's forget what the so-called experts have to say and listen to Charles:

"Rocky says he'll weigh about 187 and I expect to do 185, so there will be no weight advantage worth mentioning.

"I've seen Rocky fight. He's good and he's got a great punch. I've read that somewhere along the 15 round route he is bound to catch up with me and stiffen me with one punch.

"Let me ask you something: How many good fighters in all the history of title fights were ever flattened with one punch?

"Sure, Rocky will hit me. I expect to get hit a lot. But I don't think he can get a solid shot at me in 15 or 50 rounds.

"I'll admit that anybody who stays away from Rocky and let's him take pot shots at his whiskers is just inviting suicide. But I expect to stay on top of him all the time and inside I'm sure I can handle him.

"After all, I've met other great hitters like Jersey Joe Walcott and Archie Moore and I'm still alive today to talk about it.

"I expect to be the first man to regain the heavyweight title he lost because I'm younger than the others who failed were, and I'm more flexible because I haven't laid off a year or two since losing the title."

Helpful Beavers Aid of Missouri Anglers

MONTAUK STATE PARK, Mo. (AP)—Officials here scratched their heads and tried their best to overcome a serious problem. But they found no solution. Gravel had filled in two famous trout pools.

When the stymied men were ready to quit, a pair of energetic beavers with know-how did the trick. They built a pair of dams and thereby produced two new pools for the anglers.

USF Drops Tennis

The University of San Francisco has dropped inter-collegiate tennis as a sport because of what the school authorities term a "lack of players."

Spring Practices Open

Flood of Football Hopefuls Beginning to Roll Out on Big 10 Drill Fields

CHICAGO (AP) — A flood of football hopefuls — about 850 in all— is starting to roll out on Big Ten practice fields for the opening of spring drills.

Purdue, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio State and Wisconsin already have opened their NCAA-restricted spring program of 20 sessions within a period of 30 calendar days.

Michigan, Michigan State and Northwestern will start Monday. Minnesota opens April 19 and Iowa is the last to get started, April 20.

Purdue was the first to issue the call, on March 16, and will finish Saturday.

In all, the 850 players reporting will include more than 200 lettermen. The total number of lettermen lost through graduation is about 120.

Michigan State, the 1954 Rose Bowl champion and Big Ten cotitlist with Illinois, lost 16 — about the most in the conference — but has 20 returning.

Ohio State lost only nine — the fewest — and has the most coming back, 29. Other lettermen on hand for 1954 includes Illinois with 13, Michigan 17, Wisconsin 15, Northwestern 26, Indiana 16, Purdue 20, Iowa 18 and Minnesota 27.

Probably the largest turnout for spring drills will be the 103 greeted at Indiana by Bernie Crimmins. It was a record high for the school and Crimmins said:

"We have a green squad but we've strengthened our weaknesses of last year (when the Hoosiers finished ninth) and we have more to work with than in the last two years."

Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan State, Ohio, Iowa and possibly Michigan appear to head the 1954 form chart, not especially in this order, however.

"All Big Ten teams will be tougher, better manned and in line for a good shot at the title next fall," predicted Wisconsin's Ivy Williamson. "There is an abundance of balance and power, the most since I came to Wisconsin in 1948."

Originated Pivot Shot

Dutch Dehnert of the Original Celtics is generally credited with having originated the now commonly used basketball pivot shot. He came up with that effective scoring weapon sometime in the early 1920's.

Barons and Bears Resume Cup Playoffs

By International News Service

Cleveland Barons and the Hershey Bears resume play in the American Hockey League Calder Cup playoffs tonight at the Cleveland Arena.

The Barons, now that they are on home ice, are expected to take the lead in the best-of seven finals. The series now stands at one game apiece.

Cleveland is the 1953 Calder Cup kings and are gunning for their seventh cup title since coach Bun Cook took over the helm in 1943.

Bears jumped to a one game lead last week by taking the first game, 3-0. Barons, however, tied it at one-all by copping the second game, 4-2.

Fifth game of the series will be played Saturday at Cleveland.

Evashevski and Taylor Named Tatum's Aides

CHICAGO (AP) — Forest Evashevski of Iowa and Chuck Taylor of Stanford have been named assistant coaches for the College All-Star football squad which meets the Detroit Lions at Soldiers Field Aug. 13.

They will be included on the coaching staff headed by Jim Tatum of Maryland, whose right-hand man is Oklahoma's Bud Wilkinson, assistant in charge of offense.

Two more assistants, both from the midwest, are to be named today to round out the staff.

All-star practice will open July 23 at Purdue.

Ted Lyons, new Dodgers' coach, won 260 games as a White Sox pitcher over a period of 21 seasons.

County Spring Sports Activity Gets Started

By JACK SAYLOR

Spring sports, which will keep prep athletes busy until the school term ends in June are scheduled to get into full swing this week, providing there is a little cooperation from the weatherman.

First baseball game is listed today with Waterford playing at Cranbrook. Other diamond action sends Howell to Northville and Brighton to Pinckney.

Track activity picks up Friday when Pontiac High's thinclads go to Mt. Pleasant for the Arthur Hill-Saginaw Relays at Central Michigan College. Locally, two other meets are slated, with Waterford going to OL St. Mary and Keego Harbor to Clarkston.

Waterford will be trying to overthrow runnerup rating in both baseball and track in the Inter-Lakes Conference. Southfield is the I-L baseball champ, while Walled Lake has won the track title for the past six years.

Other defending baseball champs include Roseville in the Oakland B, Imlay City in the South Central and Holly and Clarenceville, who tied in the Wayne-Oakland. Romeo won the Tri-County pennant last spring, but there is no league baseball competition this year.

Besides Walled Lake, track titles will be defended by Utica in the Bi-County, Romeo in the Tri-County, Milford in the Wayne-Oakland and Ortonville in the South Central.

In golf, Brighton won the Wayne-Oakland and Southfield the Inter-Lakes, while Birmingham is defending champion in the Pontiac Press Invitational prep meet.

Friday's meet with OL St. Mary should shed some light on Waterford's chances. Skipper coach Jack Hackett has a 55-man squad, including nine letter-men, and feels prospects are the best ever at the suburban Class A school.

Standout returnees include dashmen Ray Campbell and Kerry Keating, hurdler Laine Hetherington and shot putter-high jumper Jim Holtom. In addition, Hackett has a good-looking sophomore crop.

Meanwhile, St. Mary opened Wednesday by routing Southfield of the Inter-Lakes, 79-30. Pacing the Eaglets were hurdler Walt Boguzki and dash man Bob Leszcynski with two wins each and Vince Pernicki, who turned in a 2:06.7 half mile.

New coaches are numerous in the Oakland County area this spring. Walled Lake's tracksters will be without their highly-successful coach, Rollie Langerman. Now a junior high principal, he will coach only cross country.

Langerman's assistant for the past two years, Don Smith, takes over. Chet Aubuchon has turned over Holly track chores to Don Harrower in favor of golf, while Jim Gibbard has moved from Roseville to Hazel Park, as Gus Paulos takes over at Roseville.

Other new track coaches are Tom Hughes at Avondale, Len Visser at Lake Orion and Neal Jordan at Berkley. In addition to Aubuchon, other new golf mentors this season are Hobart Doerr at Bloomfield Hills, Joe Borovich at Birmingham, Bob Lichty at Milford, Earl Bye at Farmington and DeForest McIntyre at Walled Lake.

Birmingham and Milford also have new baseball bosses, Lew Parry replaces Vince Secontine with the Maples and Dick Yeager will handle the Redskin nine.

Dave Freeman is Waterford's new baseball coach, while Ed Fedorsky and Ed Clauss have the reins at Oxford and Rochester, respectively.

Skippers' Nine Meets Cranes This Afternoon

Contest on Cranbrook Diamond Opens Prep Baseball Campaign

Waterford and Cranbrook are slated to tip off the 1954 prep baseball season this afternoon on the Cranbrook diamond at 4 p. m.

Cranes, coached by Fred Campbell, are fresh from a successful southern tour on which they won three and tied one of five games played. Another was rained out.

Waterford is operating under a new coach, Dave Freeman. He has a good supply of veterans on hand and if the Skippers' pitching holds up, they could be a strong factor in the forthcoming Inter-Lakes Conference race.

Campbell has tabbed either Steve Hayes or Dave Morris to work against the Skippers today.

Freeman's opening game lineup and batting order has Loren Bray, lf; Jim Lesar, c; Bill Wood, 2b; Jim Attard, 1b; Bill Gard, cf; Dale Hoobler, ss; Chuck Piese, rf; Larry Brown, 3b; and Barry Fell, p.

Furgol Placed on Probation, Violated Ethics

AUGUSTA, Ga. (INS) —Marty Furgol was on six-months probation today after paying fines with Doug Ford and Bill Nary for violation of the golfer's code of ethics.

Furgol, who was defeated by Ford in a playoff for the Greensboro Open title Monday, was fined $250 and placed on probation by the professional golfers association executive committee yesterday for heckling Ford during the Greensboro play and for earlier remarks before a gallery at Wilmington.

Ford and Nary were fined $50 each for loud arguing before fans at Greensboro over rule interpretations.

U-D Coach Is Mayor

DETROIT (UP)—The University of Detroit may not have the best football team in the country. But it's the only team which boasts a grid coach who also is a mayor. He is line coach Ken Stilley who is mayor of Clairton, Pa.

Masters Tourney Opens Today

Hogan Believes His Mark May Fall This Year

Porky Oliver Fires 64 in Wednesday's Final Practice Round

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UP)—The big boys of the 20th anniversary Masters Golf Tournament shoved their hot practice rounds into the background today and settled down to the deadly serious business of playing under pressure.

With a field of brilliant golfers such as the Masters draws, the pressure is terrific. Sensationally low practice rounds don't mean a thing when they start playing for keeps.

Take it from Ed (Porky) Oliver, the Lemont, Ill., veteran who was runnerup to Ben Hogan in the 1953 Masters. Porky fired a 34-30—64 in practice yesterday, matching the competitive record for the Augusta National Course.

It was the lowest tuneup round turned in, but Porky wasn't exactly overjoyed about it.

"I don't like these kind," the hefty man commented. "They do not count."

He may have remembered last year, when Lloyd Mangrum fired a practice 63 and took a 74 in the opening round.

Low scoring in the warmups may have prompted Hogan's prediction that his record 274 of last year will be broken. The little perfectionist from Texas is about the only one suggesting a new record, though.

Most folks think Ben's 14-under-shot performance last year will give the boys something to shoot at for years to come, although Jack Burke Jr. has bettered it in practice.

Marty Furgol had a 36-30—66 yesterday over the rolling course which usually plays about 6,800 yards during the Masters. Par is 36-36—72.

With a record 79 players entered, 78 of the field were pondering pretty much the same question: "Is it possible to beat that little guy Hogan?"

Being a target for all the other contestants did nothing to lessen the pressure on the defending champ. But pressure never seems to bother the current ruler of golf, who went on from his Masters' triumph last year to capture the U. S. and British Opens.

The picturesque course, where President Eisenhower likes to play, makes a man earn every par he scores, but it was in fine shape.

Because of the record field, starting time was advanced half an hour. Two oldtimers, Fred McLeod and Jock Hutchinson, drew the honor of teeing off the tournament at 10:30 a.m. (EST).

MR. MASTERS' — Ben Hogan, a target for all other contestants in the Masters golf tournament opening today at Augusta, Ga., has predicted that his record 274 will be broken this year. Hogan fired the 14-under-par total last year to win his second Masters title.

State Still Is Receiving Deer Starvation Reports

LANSING (UP) — Conservation department game officials said today they still are receiving reports of deer starvation in the Mio district and in Montmorency and Alpena counties and in the west half of the Upper Peninsula.

However, deer were reported to be ranging freely in most other Lower Peninsula areas.

New Leaders Arise in ABC

All-Events Standings Shuffled in Individual, Team Divisions

SEATTLE (UP)—There were new 1st place holders in the all-events and team all-events standings of the American Bowling Congress today as the 51st annual tournament went into its 20th day.

The all-events lead was the property of Carmen Salvino, 20-year-old bowling instructor from Chicago. His 1935 total, put together on a 611 doubles score, 626 singles and 698 team play, knocked Detroit's Tony Lindemann into second spot.

New leader of the team all-events ladder is Tri-Par Radio of Chicago, which tallied 3226 to bump Strohs Beer of Detroit from the throne room by eight points.

Joe Wilman of Berwyn, Ill., three times an ABC champion, knocked over 1906 pins for fifth place in the all-events.

Delay Is Seen for Allen Appointment

LANSING (UP) — It appeared today the state senate will adjourn this week without confirming Shirley Allen of Ann Arbor as a member of the Michigan Conservation Commission.

However, that does not mean Allen will not be confirmed this year. Senate could not act on his appointment when it returns in mid-May for sine die adjournment.

Allen, a retired University of Michigan forestry professor, was named to the commission last September to succeed Harold W. Glassen of Lansing.

Allen's appointment was made after the senate rejected Ben East of Holly as Glassen's successor.

Four Holes-in-One Have Been Posted in Masters

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — The Masters, regarded as one of the nation's three finest golf tournaments, got under way today. Off past performances it should provide some of the year's finest divot drama by the time the last putt is holed.

Not that the boys always have to putt. Because there have been no less than four holes in one in this select affair — aces which proved that one shot doesn't always win a tournament.

Ross Somerville had one in 1934, Ray Billows in 1940, Claude Harmon in 1947 and John Dawson in 1949. Dawson finished 16th with his helpful ace while the others were out of sight.

Of course one shot can win a tournament.

Jimmy Demaret, Sam Snead and Gene Sarazen all proved that. Joviel James won in 1947 despite a drive into water on the 15th hole. He played it out to within inches of the cup for a birdie.

Snead was leading going to the 12th hole in 1952 when he hacked three times into a bank below the green — and then holed out his blind shot to protect his winning margin.

Sarazen canned the most famous shot of all when he holed out a 230-yard spoon shot for a double eagle which tied Craig Wood — and then won the playoff.

Young fellows with hot practice rounds have been getting a big pre-tournament buildup but "Wee Bobby" Cruickshank could warn them about that. In 1938 he had a first nine practice round of 29 — and finished 18th.

Anybody can blow hot and cold, as Wood proved in 1936. Craig opened with a fat 88, and scored a 67 the next time — a difference of 21 strokes. Imagine being disgusted with an 88.

A Few Letters Spawned Reunion of War-Time Pals

By JOAN DIETER

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Like most war-time buddies, members of the Seventh Bombardment Group lost track of each other after World War II, but more than 300 of them have established contact again as a result of the work of the wife of one of them.

Mrs. Helen Hillsman said it all started about three years ago when her husband, Max, suggested sending "a few Christmas cards to some of my former buddies."

The result was a major letter-writing project that now keeps Mrs. Hillsman busy with a pen in most of her spare time.

Hillsman served with the Seventh Bombardment Group as a sergeant from the time of Pearl Harbor through the long months that the outfit was based first in Australia and then in Java and India. He was sent home in 1944.

"Thirty-seven months is a long time to spend with people" he said. "You can get pretty attached during that time—and then you lose track of each other."

Hillsman brought back only a half-dozen or some home addresses from the Pacific, and it was to those that he and his wife dropped a few lines that Christmas.

"Those we contacted wrote back asking about so-and-so," Mrs. Hillsman said. "They also sent the addresses of some of the other boys in the group, and I sent letters to each of those."

More replies, more addresses, and "the thing just grew and grew."

"Now I write on the average of three letters a day—sometimes 25 when I get behind—to more than 300 former group members in every state in the nation and as far as Rio de Janeiro, Japan and Germany," she added.

The Hillsmans are always trying to contact more, remembering how many of the replies to her letters started out with "I thought all of you guys were dead."

One name on her mailing list is that of the group's commanding officer, Col. Wesley Werner, who had been shot down over Burma and at first was reported killed. Mr. and Mrs. Hillsman just happened to be listening to a radio broadcast on which he appeared.

The flow of letters back and forth resulted in a group reunion last August in Bryon National Park, Utah. Forth-three group mmbers plus families showed up.

Hillsman and his wife, who have no children, were "Uncle Max and Aunt Helen" to the youngsters.

"It was just like a bunch of relatives—the kind who get along well—meeting each other for the first time in years," said Mrs. Hillsman.

They have planned another get-together in the summer of next year.

Mrs. Hillsman, who works as a stockroom clerk at Douglas aircraft plant, where her husband is a leadman on an assembly line, admitted her mounting correspondence is "getting to be quite a chore." But she thinks they have found a solution in their plans for a monthly magazine. In it, each group member is to take turns telling how he and his family are getting along.

"We should do something," she concluded. "Max would rather do almost anything else than write letters — although he has been known to address a few envelopes."

Light Pulls Wool Over Sheep's Eyes

AUCKLAND, N. Z. (UP)—Corriedale ewes produced as much as 30 per cent more wool during experiments on the effect of light on sheep in New Zealand.

The research work is still in progress at Lincoln College, Christchurch.

Throughout the experiments on the breeding performance of sheep it was noted the pituitary gland, stimulated by an abnormal number of alterations of light and dark to which the sheep were subjected, had a profound influence on the amount of wool produced.

The difference in production was most marked during the winter when wool growth normally reaches its lowest point.

The wool board said possibilities of really important advances in wool production may arise from the experiments.

About 9 per cent of the land area of Connecticut and of Massachusetts is classified as urban.

Finally Arrest Bond Jumper of 1932—in Jail

A 22-year-old bench warrant for his arrest finally caught up with Paul Cutter today — in Oakland County Jail.

He was scheduled for sentence in Circuit Court in 1932 on a grand larceny charge but jumped his $400 bond and disappeared. A horse trainer, he had pleaded guilty to stealing a saddle and bridle from the Oakland County Riding Academy.

Michigan State Police of the Redford Post arrested Jack Kellogg, 57, last Jan. 21 for passing a bad check in Farmington Township.

A routine check of his fingerprints disclosed his double identity.

Kellogg, of 36301 10-Mile Rd., Farmington Township, pleaded guilty to the bad check charge before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland and will be sentenced Monday.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said he will also ask for sentence on the grand larceny charge so the case may be closed.

Unbalanced Budget Threatens Michigan

funds. The Senate wrote $1,278,840 into the educational appropriations to provide comparable pay raises in the state colleges and universities.

A House-Senate fight over unemployment compensation in the closing hours of the 1954 session loomed today after the Senate passed a less generous bill than approved in the House.

The Senate's Republican leadership was in firm control, jamming the bill through on a 19-7 vote after beating down a bipartisan attempt to liberalize the measure on the floor.

The bill appears certain to go to a House-Senate conference committee amid predictions that the House, at least, will stand fast on its more liberal bill.

The measure as approved in the Senate would give jobless men with four children a maximum of $41 a week, compared to the House figure of $43 and the present $35.

The Senate voted to give single men $28 a week, compared to the House vote for $30 and the present $27.

But the Senate added a new provision allowing single men with dependents the same $2 a week per person dependency benefit allowed married men. This is not allowed now and was not in the House bill.

Both chambers have agreed to extend the benefit period from 20 to 26 weeks. And both agreed to give employers a new merit rating system of computing their contributions to the unemployment fund.

However, the Senate voted a two-year period of adjustment to make the change from the present method.

The Senate voted to use only half an employer's 1946 unemployment record in figuring contributions as a gesture to industries which had serious postwar unemployment. The House voted to use 80 per cent.

4th of 6 Countries Joins in EDC Plan

LUXEMBOURG (AP) — The European army plan has cleared four out of six parliamentary hurdles but the highest still looms ahead, and probably far ahead.

Tiny Luxembourg became the fourth nation to approve the European Defense Community Treaty last night when the grand duchy's one-house Assembly ratified it 46-4. The Parliament's four Communist deputies cast the only votes against it.

Others approving the six-nation pact so far are Belgium, The Netherlands and West Germany.

Italy and France have yet to act. The measure was introduced in the Italian Chamber of Deputies Tuesday, but no vote is expected until the fall, after Parliament's long summer vacation.

A date has not even been set for debate in the French Chamber of Deputies, where opposition is strong from both the right and left.

McCarthy Says Most of 81 He Named as Reds Have Since Been Removed

(Editor's note: Sen. Joseph McCarthy, in an interview with two veteran Associated Press reporters, was asked about his campaign to dig out Communists. Here is an up-to-date statement of the senator's views.)

By JACK BELL and RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Joseph McCarthy says "a sizable number" of the 81 he listed in a Senate speech four years ago as Communists or fellow travelers in the State Department "have been removed."

Of 30 or more in defense plants who pleaded the Fifth Amendment before McCarthy's investigating committee, "they have all been either suspended or fired," the senator says.

The idea of a box score on the success of the committee has, he says, "a lot of merit."

"I think it could be useful," he told two questioners in an exclusive recorded interview. Roy M. Cohn, the committee's chief counsel, also sat in on the session. Here are the questions, and McCarthy's answers:

Q—Some of the chairmen of investigating committees have published in the Congressional Record a box score of the results of what they have done. Do you plan anything similar to that in the near future?

McCarthy Likes Idea of Probe Box Score

McCarthy—It hadn't occurred to me. It might be a good idea.

Q—Would you consider keeping a running box score week by week or month by month, or something of that sort?

A—If any of the members of the committee wanted it, yes.

Q—I mean for your own personal use. You are always alluding to how many Communists were in such a position or in such place. If you keep a box score, wouldn't you have it at your fingertips?

A—I think it is a good idea. In fact, it is a good idea for the speeches from now on.

Q—How would you break this down, such a box score, in categories? You have talked about Communists. You don't usually use the words "fellow traveler." You have said the "Communist associates." You have also said "Fifth Amendment Communists." Would you break that down into gradations of these people?

A—I suppose you would have to break it down because there is a difference between a man who has been named an espionage agent, a man who has been named as a spy in a high planning position, or the Communist who is, we will say, driving a truck in a defense plant. There is certainly no comparison between the two insofar as the damage they can do is concerned.

As I say, it is the first time that an idea of keeping a box score has been broached. I think it has a lot of merit. I think it could be useful. I think, Roy, you should give that some thought.

Davies Is Cleared by State Department

Q—What is your present figure for the number of Communists, Fifth Amendment Communists, and of Communists associates, take those three categories, on which you claim you have turned up or your committee has turned up?

A—First, I suppose we will have to go back to the old figure of 81 that I gave to the Senate. A sizable number of the 81 have been removed from week to week.

Q—Those are the 81 cases you cited in that Senate speech?

A—Yes. That included the 57 that I mentioned over at Wheeling, W.Va. I think the most recent of those cases which is getting attention is the case of John Paton Davies.

(Davies is counselor to the U.S. Embassy at Lima, Peru. He was cleared seven times by State Department loyalty-security boards, and once by the top government loyalty review board under the Truman administration. Secretary of State Dulles has announced that Davies will go before a special security board to clear up "conflicting points" raised in a new investigation).

What will be done about his case, I don't know. I frankly couldn't at this time give you a complete list of the 81 who have been removed from government. In the book that I wrote a short time ago—not a short time ago—two years ago we had a list, which is not up to date now. I have no way of following the 81 except by a personal investigation. Under the present rules, under the old Truman order, we cannot get that information from the government. In other words, whether they were discharged for security reasons, loyalty reasons or what.

Thirty Take Refuge in 5th Amendment

Cohn—That is a composite figure.

McCarthy—That includes more than Fifth Amendment cases.

Cohn—It includes Fifth Amendment cases but not all of them were currently employed at that time.

McCarthy—So as of now, Roy, you would say that over 30 who were in defense plants, which plants in turn were handling classified defense work, have appeared before the committee and refused to answer whether they were Communists on the grounds of self-incrimination; some of them even refused to answer whether they would sabotage the plant if they were ordered to do so by the Communist party, and they have all been either suspended or fired.

Cohn—That is conservative.

McCarthy—I might say that General Electric, which does a lot of defense work, adopted the rule of removing Fifth Amendment Communists after we started our hearings. Then, of course, keep in mind also that at Ft. Monmouth, according to the news stories, some 32 individuals were suspended. That doesn't mean that they were all guilty. Some of them were reinstated because they were called before our committee and acquitted themselves very well, showed they had some Communist connection a number of years ago but convinced the Army authorities, who were listening, that they were not bad security risks. I don't know how many of the 32-odd have been reinstated because we have been tied up in other work recently.

Ruth Levine Case Among the 'Worst'

Q—In connection with that — McCarthy—Can I state just one other thing? I think you ought to pick out some of the worst cases. You would take someone like Levine who was handling top secret,

McCarthy Says 'Sizable Number' of 81 Listed 4 Years Ago as Reds in State Department Have Been Removed had been for 10 years, in telecommunications. They do top secret radar and electronic work, and "crypt." The day we served the subpoena, on Dec. 13, she did say she was not an espionage agent but refused to tell whether or not she had been delivering secret material to espionage agents.

Q—Levine?

Cohn—Ruth Levine.

McCarthy—She was before the committee on the 16th, called on the 13th. Incidentally, the security officer over there I think has been doing a pretty good job, don't you, Roy?

Cohn—Yes. He is a former FBI man.

McCarthy—No matter how good a job they are doing keep in mind they can't put a witness under oath and swear them, subject them to indictment for perjury if they testify falsely. So the committee has quite an advantage in digging them out.

Q—I want to ask you in connection with that what is your attitude toward the people in government who you have said in the past, "think like a Communist." How do those people figure in this whole supposedly espionage system which you are investigating?

McCarthy—I don't recall the phrase being used in connection with Communists. I think I was referring to teachers who act like, think like and do all the things that a Communist would do. You don't know whether they belong to the party or not.

Q—In your own mind are those people as guilty of acting against our government as a Communist himself, people who think like Communists?

A—Let's not talk about "thinking." Let take the people who do all the things the Communists would do. If they are teaching school, if they would teach the way they would teach under Communist discipline, if they follow the Communist party line, if they are acting as a Communist is acting, if they are following a Communist line certainly anyone who is teaching conspiracy and treason should not have a captive audience in a school.

Teachers Must Tell About Communism

Q—Suppose they are not teaching conspiracy and treason but merely teaching what communism is? Is there a difference in your view?

A—Of course there is. I think it is impossible to fight communism unless you know all about it. Unfortunately, many people have confused teaching what communism is with advocating communism.

Q—You would draw a definite line between telling school students what communism is and in some way advocating it, then?

A—There is no comparison. It is like the difference between teaching about the dangers and the evils of crime or advocating murder.

Q—In that same line, Sen. Flanders said in the Senate recently that while you are active in pointing out the dangers of communism within you seldom mention the dangers of communism without, that you seldom mention Russia. Is there any reason for that or is that true?

A—I don't think it is necessary for me to talk about the dangers of communism from Moscow. That is very easy. It is a very popular sport. You find politicians from coast to coast during a campaign waving their arms and talking about the evils of communism a couple of thousand miles away; while there is certainly danger from without, the biggest danger is from within.

As Abraham Lincoln said some time ago—I can't quote him verbatim; I will let you do that—

Q—You flatter me.

McCarthy—He said, "All the Armies of Europe and Asia combined, with all the wealth of the world in their military chests, with a Bonaparte as a commander, in a trial of a thousand years could not make one track upon the Blue Ridge nor could they take one drink from the Ohio." He said, "From whence then will danger come. If this country is to be destroyed, it will be destroyed from within or live for all time to come." I agree with that heartily.

Red Spy in Moscow Does Little Damage

Q—In your investigation—

A—Let me finish one other thing. One Communist spy in the State Department, in policy division, can do tremendous damage while one Communist spy over in Moscow can do us very little damage.

Q—You mentioned the State Department. When you get around to the armed services, however, you seemed thus far to have investigated only the Army in any major way. Is there any reason for that?

A—If we found any Communists in the Air Corps or in any 'other branch, we of course would have to expose them. We have only found them in the Army so far. I think we should emphasize the fact, that the vast majority of the officers in the Army who have contacted me in regard to this investigation—a great many have, especially in the last week—are heartily 100 per cent in favor of exposing any Communists that are found.

Our difficulty comes principally from the civilian Pentagon politicians, if I may refer to them as that.

Q—Are they in all services, "the Civilian Pentagon politicians" or are they only in one, the Army?

A—Our principal difficulty has come from the legal departments so far.

Q—Of the Pentagon, representing all the services or the legal department of the Army?

A—Both the defense establishment and the Army. A good example of how officers feel, I think, was demonstrated by Gen. (Kirke) Lawton, who is the commanding officer of Ft. Monmouth, which we investigated. He was before the committee. I can't quote it verbatim as I don't have the testimony here.

Roy, see if this isn't substantially what he said.

Pentagon Reverses Army Suspensions

I said, "General, why did you wait until we started our investigation before you started to suspend these people with Communist records?"

He said, "Your question is the answer, senator." He said, "I wouldn't get the backing until you started your investigation." Then he went on to tell us of all the cases that they had suspended, some with very bad records. They would get by the 1st Army's loyalty board. Then, of course, if the 1st Army's loyalty board agreed with the commanding officer at Ft. Monmouth, the appeal would be to the board in the Pentagon. They call it the screening board, or something like that. Almost without exception they would reverse the findings and send the man back and order him reinstated and back pay would be paid to him. That board was disbanded, incidentally, during our Ft. Monmouth hearings. A different board was set up with different personnel.

Q.—There has been some question in the minds of some people, which they have expressed publicly, that your objective in this committee investigation is to expose information already in your possession rather than trying to uncover new information about people. What do you say to that sort of theory in connection with your investigations?

A—I am not sure that I follow you on that.

Q—Well, there are contentions that you have this information, that you have obtained it somehow, and that you hold your hearings not to obtain new information but merely to expose what information you already have, that you are not gathering new information by your public hearings.

A—The principal purpose of a public hearing is to let the public know what is going on. As far as getting information ourselves is concerned, we could get all that information behind closed doors.

There are two theories, of course. There is one theory, followed by some, that it is a favor to the American people to let them know what their elected officials are doing. I don't follow that theory. I think they have an absolute right to know what is going on.

I think we have an absolute duty to bring all the facts in regard to any misconduct on the part of public officials to the attention of the public. If there are Communists handling defense work, the American people should know it. That is the way you get them.

FBI Data Never Used in Probes

Q—Do you ever get any tips from the FBI? You have said that you do not have access to their files?

A—I neither ask the FBI for information nor do they supply me with information. The only time I ask for information is through the attorney general. By official letter we occasionally ask for name checks. We occasionally ask that an individual we can't find be located. That is always done through the attorney general; and if he authorizes, we get the information as to the location.

As far as a file is concerned, Roy, up to this time we have never gotten an FBI file, have we?

Cohn—We have never gotten an FBI file and we have never gotten a tip from the FBI.

Q—Have you ever gotten information from the FBI on cases? Have some of your requests been granted by the attorney general?

McCarthy—Information as to the location of people whom we couldn't find.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY dear husband, Tom Marinoff, who passed away one year ago today, April 6, 1953.
It is lonesome here without you
And sad and weary the way.
Life has not been the same
Since you were called away.
Sadly missed by his wife Mary, Daughter and Grandson.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MY husband
Leonard P. Blank,
Who passed away 3 years ago today.
When all is still and silent,
And sleep forsakes my eyes.
My thoughts are in the silent grave
Where my dear husband lies.
Sadly missed by wife Bernice.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MARY E. Pope
Who passed away April 8th, 1944.
Sadly missed by children and grandchildren.

MASS EVACUATION

Is now the only protection cities have from the H bomb according to our defense leaders. Wouldn't it be just good sense to move your family to a farm for security and prosperity? Among our many farm offerings is one of 80 acres with a very attractive mod. farm home just 15 miles out on a main road with $5,000 down. Another is 157 acres on the pavement about 12 miles out. Big 12 room modern home and other buildings. In recreation area. Also ripe for subdividing into ranch home sites. Held vacant for your immediate occupancy. Don't fail to see these farms.

Pin Money

Selling pins in quantities didn't come into practice until 1844 when a small manufacturer in Derby, Connecticut, worked out a way to produce them by machinery at the rate of two million a week.

Up to the time ordinary pins sold for as high as twenty cents apiece and were looked upon as appropriate gift for weddings and Christmas. They were also used as small change to supplement barter between individuals which incidentally is the origin of the term "Pin Money"

Is on Pinky Lee Show, With Over Million of Her Records Sold

NEW YORK — Molly Bee, the featured vocalist on TV's Pinky Lee Show is only 14 but viewers and critics agree that she has more stage presence than a lot of veterans three times her age.

Originally ('way back when she was six) Molly aspired to be a ballerina. In her Oklahoma home her brothers taught her to sing and to yodel, but vocalizing did not really interest her then — dancing was to be her career.

A short time later, the family moved to Tuscon, Ariz. Molly worked hard at her lessons and danced in children's shows and recitals, at church and in school.

When she was 10, the half-Indian youngster was heard singing in a school play by Rex Allen, then a disc jockey at a Tucson station. Rex invited Molly to sing the song, "Lovesick Blues," on his radio show, and is was then that she decided singing was more fun, and less work, than dancing.

Soon after her radio debut, the family moved again, this time to Hollywood. Once again, "Lovesick Blues" paid off.

Cliff Stone, Western recording artist and Los Angeles television star, heard her and wanted to meet the little girl with the big braids.

Stone felt Molly needed training, but he also felt that she had a fuller, more developed tone than any youngster he had ever heard. He believed, too, that Molly had an indefinite asset — perhaps liking the audience and enjoying performing for them.

From that point on, Molly's career gained momentum. Soon she was starring on her own television show in Los Augeles. She later signed a recording contract and more than a million of her records have been sold.

Now, on the TV network, Molly is at the peak of her short career. She still can't get over the fact that she is seen and heard in homes from coast-to-coast five days a week.

A very busy young lady, Molly has time for neither boyfriends nor hobbies, for after school, there is the show, and after the show there's homework.

Teachers Told to Keep Sanity by Being Human

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—How can teachers make sure their mischievous charges won't drive them insane?

Dr. Percy Teska, professor of special psychology at the University of Oklahoma, listed three simple rules in an address before the senior high school section of the Oklahoma Education Assn.:

1. Admit to yourself you would like to hit the little demon in the back row with a baseball bat.

2. Don't try to act the role of a superman, with 100 times as much patience as the average human being and 1,000 times as much understanding.

3. Don't feel guilty about disciplining students.

By recognizing that you "really hate" that little terror in the back row, Teska said, you will be less inclined to actually smash his head in.

He said only one in every dozen children that are brought to the University of Oklahoma's psychological clinic can be helped "and we have near ideal conditions for therapy."

Yet, he added, teachers who tried to help these emotionally disturbed youngsters before they were sent to the clinic "have a feeling of guilt because they failed."

The psychologist added the quickest way to the asylum is believing the theory that when a teacher signs a contract she automatically becomes a "superman."

"You have the same fears, doubts, worries, hostilities and feeling you had pre-contract," he warned.

"For every teacher for whom the experience of teaching is an enhancing thing you will find 50 more for whom it is a destroying thing."

The best rule to follow?

Realize that teachers are human beings and act—and react—like one.

Bill in Congress Would Ban Television Drinking

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Budget (R-Idaho) introduced a bill Wednesday to ban televised advertising showing pictures of persons pouring, drinking or opening containers of alcoholic beverages.

Violations would be subject to up to $1,000 fine or a year's imprisonment.

Hal Boyle Says:

Engineer Makes Progress by 2,000 Fizzles on Shelf

NEW YORK (AP)—If you have met with repeated failure in trying to get something from life, do you try to forget your own mistakes?

"Why not, instead, put your fizzles out in the open on a shelf—so you can keep learning from them?"

This theory helped Lloyd Preston Gardner, an RCA electronics engineer, to develop the world's most powerful vacuum tube. It took him 10 stubborn years and 2,000 separate fizzles to fail his way to victory.

The new super-tube—it has 2,937 parts—enables the U.S. Navy for the first time in its history to keep in instantaneous touch by wireless with any of its airplanes, surface vessels, submarines or land outposts anywhere in the world.

It is also used in secret government projects. It is a big step toward the automatic factory of the future, in which electronic equipment will take the place of many human workmen.

The "fizzle shelf" is not just a figure of speech with Garner, who is also a practical philosopher. The story of his own final success is dramatically told by a four-row glass fizzle shelf in his office which still holds the results of hundreds of adverse laboratory experiments.

In 1953 Garner, who holds some 25 patents, was given a lab in the RCA plant at Lancaster, Pa., and a mission. The mission was to design and build a vacuum tube many times more powerful than any then known, a tube needed in hush-hush military projects, a tube far surpassing the power requirements of television.

Most of the nine engineers on his staff were freshly out of college, and that gave Garner the idea for his fizzle display.

"We were heading into uncharted waters, and I knew rough sailing lay ahead—plenty of it," he recalled. "If I could keep my boys from becoming discouraged, from hiding their mistakes under a carpet, I knew we could make better progress.

"So I built those shelves and started with my own mistakes, accumulated over the years.

"You'd be surprised how that perked them up. Just getting a look at something that baffled the boss put over the idea, better than words, that in this business your blunders are the stepping stones to success."

Some visiting engineers shook their heads on seeing the crowded fizzle shelf. They felt almost as unprofessional as if a doctor, for example, should hand photographs of dead former patients in his waiting room.

"I was taught not to be ashamed of failing," he said. "There is no reason for either shame or humiliation if things don't turn out as you expect.

"Even in simple experiments I'd say we get what we hope for only about 15 per cent of the time. But we wouldn't have the 15 per cent except for the experiments that are 85 per cent unsuccessful.

"That's why I say failure is our best teacher. If a man doesn't keep a museum of his failures—at least in his own mind—he's hiding from things that could help him most."

Garner, who is 50, is still a bachelor.

"That's my biggest fizzle of all," he said, smiling wryly. "And how to turn that mistake into a profit baffles me. I love children dearly."

Is there any girl with shelf room for a pleasant-faced engineer with a steady job, 25 patents and brown eyes?

$2,800 Mink Coat Stolen From Car

A $2,800 mink was stolen yesterday afternoon when thieves broke into a car parked on Clinton street, according to Pontiac Police.

The owner, Mrs. Beatrice Valentine, 50, of Detroit, said she discovered the theft at about 2 p.m. The car door appeared to have been jimmied by the thieves, who also took a raincoat and car robe, she said.

Mrs. Valentine, a saleswoman, said the coat was partially covered by insurance.

'American Lady' Sends Pope Weekly Bouquet

VATICAN CITY (AP)—A big bouquet of white carnations are delivered once a week at the Vatican's bronze door for convalescing Pope Pius XII.

They are brought by a carriage driver. Yesterday, when asked who sent the flowers, he would only say:

"They are from an American lady. She sends them every week."

2 in Contempt for Not Silencing Courthouse Fan

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The noisy exhaust fan that prompted Circuit Judge James F. Nangle to find two city officials in contempt will be shut off while the judge is in his chambers.

Health Commissioner Dr. J. Earl Smith and Hubert W. Guth, superintendent of municipal buildings, agreed to the compromise yesterday and promised to find a way to use the fan on a full-time basis while keeping the judge happy too. Judge Nangle gave them a week to solve it.

They were cited for contempt when they failed to heed Judge Nangle's order to silence the fan March 3.

The fan (it's vital, says Dr. Smith) is atop the Municipal Courts Building and blows fumes from the Health Department laboratory through an exhaust duct. The judge says the fan's hum invades his chambers and is "an obstruction to justice."

American Legion Contest Won by Student Speaker

LOS ANGELES (AP)—High school student Jack E. McNees of Kansas City, Kan., is the winner of the American Legion Oratorical Contest finals, and a $4,000 college scholarship.

McNees, a sophomore at Shawnee Mission High School, won out yesterday, giving prepared and extemporaneous speeches.

Milton H. Copeland, Wichita Falls, Tex., won second place and $2,500 for higher education, and George J. Clements, Penn Yan, N.Y., won third and a $1,500 scholarship.

For every person killed in a U.S. auto accident, about 35 are disabled, permanently or temporary.

Michigan Youth Gets 3 Years in Arkansas

MONTICELLO, Ark. (AP) — Justice followed swiftly upon the two hitch-hiker robberies in this area.

One day after the crimes John K. Raymond, 20, of Grand Rapids, and Roy R. Sexton, 24, of Vanduser, Mo., were sentenced to prison terms Wednesday.

Circuit Judge John Golden sentenced Raymond to two 3-year terms and Sexton, an ex-convict, to two 8-year terms. The pair pleaded guilty to two counts of armed robbery. Their sentencs will run concurrently.

The robberies were perpetrated against 75-year-old James C. Adams, of Cullendale, and James T. Edds, 19, of near Hot Springs. Both were gagged and bound to trees after the robberies.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mamie Eisenhower tops the list of America's "best-chapeaued" women named yesterday by 10 noted millinery designers.
