Approval of Budget Delayed by Protest

Brutus Comes Home

Pontiac Press Photo

BACK TO CAPTIVITY — Fenton Conservation officer Harold Stoll poses with "Brutus," the six-foot footloose alligator he netted Saturday in Springfield Township. "Brutus," who escaped from a local serpentarium in June, was the object of an 85-man search through a dense swamp Saturday. He has gained 25 pounds since escaping. Stoll is holding the noosing apparatus he used to snare Brutus.

Sparks Claims Salary Raises Are Inadequate

County Treasurer Airs Complaint at Meeting of Supervisors

Final action on Oakland County's $9 million budget was further delayed today after the county treasurer hotly protested what he called "inadequate" raises for elective officials.

Treasurer Charles A. Sparks told the Board of Supervisors' meeting that some appointed officials were getting up to 50 per cent in raises this year, while he was only getting $500.

A hot debate also ensued among supervisors over Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore's recommended $5,000 a year raise.

Some pointed out Sparks and other elective officials were getting "unequal" raises in comparison.

Under the Salaries Committee recommendations County Clerk Lynn D. Allen would get a $250 raise; Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem, $1,000 and Sheriff Frank Irons, $500.

ACTION WITHHELD

The recommendations were referred back to the committee and final action on the budget withheld.

Sparks, who was granted time to speak at his own request, said: "Apparently you don't think your elective officials are worth very much money.

"My work has doubled in the last two years," he pointed out, saying that the daily balance of investments in his office is running at $10 million a day.

Supervisor Helen P. Roberts, of Ferndale gave Sparks strong support, but Supervisor Robert R. Boyer, of Pontiac, claimed it was a "bad precedent" to allow officials and candidates to address the board on the subject of salaries.

Mrs. Roberts and Supervisor John L. Carey, of Springfield Township both were emphatic for a salary schedule for all county employes.

Star Smiles Farewell to Theater Special

Special to the Pontiac Press

But Pledges Oil, Dollars If Suez Route Is Blocked

Secretary Meets Ike Before Catching Flight to London

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of States Dulles said after a conference with President Eisenhower today there is no American plan to finance the "detouring of the Suez Canal."

Dulles told reporters at the White House the United States is prepared to help finance, through the Export-Import Bank, increased exports of American oil to Western nations if transit through the canal is "impractical or greatly diminished."

Asked whether he was barring financial aid to other nations to help them transport oil around Africa and thus detour the canal, Dulles said he and Eisenhower have planned only as a contingency the financing of American oil exports.

"We have not gone beyond that in our planning and we do not believe we will have to," Dulles said.

He spent an hour with Eisenhower in advance of his scheduled departure later in the day for London.

In London, Dulles will participate in a meeting of 18 governments which failed in efforts to get Egypt to accept internationalization of the canal operations.

'May Be War at Suez,' Admiral Burke Admits

WASHINGTON (INS)—Chief of Naval Operations Adm. Arleigh A. Burke concedes "There may be shooting" in the Suez crisis and says the U.S. 6th Fleet is standing by to evacuate Americans from the Middle East.

But in the long run, Burke told panelists on a TV program, "We could get along without the Suez Canal." Asked if he had any knowledge of Russian submarines operating in the Mediterranean, he replied, "I would rather not answer that question."

Water Tests OK Purity

Linda Vista School Opens for 400 Pupils Tomorrow

The new $399,600 Linda Vista Elementary School will open for an estimated 400 pupils tomorrow morning after a two-weeks delay because of water difficulties.

A series of tests concluded Saturday okayed the purity of water in the city's main supplying the new subdivision in which the school is located.

First through sixth graders will register at 9 a.m. for a full day of classes, according to the principal William Wright.

Kindergarten will have one and a half hour sessions starting at 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. he said. Parents in doubt in which session their children are scheduled should bring them to school at 9 a.m. for instructions, he added.

A special wing equipped to handle 80 handicapped children also will open at 9 a.m., Wright announced.

School officials breathed easier now that the Linda Vista School is finally open. Located at 859 Emerson ave., the one-story ranch-type building, with glass windows and colorful decorations, is the pet of the schools' expanded building program because of its beauty and low cost.

Earlier, construction tie-ups and other difficulties put off the opening last spring, according to Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent of schools for business. It was otherwise ready when water trouble delayed its opening with the other schools Sept. 6, he said.

The city will install a water meter this afternoon, he said, and the pipes will be flushed out by maintenance workers.

AAA Grants $50,000 to Study Traffic Safety

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Board of Trustese of the American Automobile Assn.'s Foundation for Traffic Safety has approved a $50,000 grant to Teachers College of Columbia University to finance basic research in traffic safety.

A spokesman said the proposed study will take into consideration other work of this nature being done by colleges and universities and there will be no duplication of effort. The grant will be supplemented by the resources of Columbia in a program covering five years of basic study in the field of traffic safety.

Heart Attacks Hit 2 on Roof

Walt Plumb Dies While Aiding Stricken Man on Holly Home

HOLLY — Postmaster Burton E. Jones is in an oxygen tent in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at Pontiac, following a heart attack which he suffered Saturday afternoon while repairing a TV aerial on the roof of his home.

His brother-in-law, Walt A. Plumb, went to the roof to assist him, and suffered a fatal heart attack. Mrs. Plumb and Mrs. Jones are sisters.

Plumb spent his boyhood days in Holly, but had lived in Pleasant Ridge for over 40 years. He leaves his wife, the former Nina Belford of Holly; a son, Jack; his mother, Mrs. Martha Plumb, and three grandchildren.

Service will be at one o'clock Tuesday at the Wessels Funeral Home at 23690 Woodward Ave., Woodward Heights, with burial at Lakeside Cemetery in Holly at three o'clock.

Travelers Reach Home Again

Press Special Makes Last Stop

"I'm pooped—but if that train headed out tomorrow for another week like last one I'd be the first one aboard."

That was one passenger's observation, but it seemed to express the feelings of each one of the some 90 Pontiac Press Theater Special riders who arrived back in Pontiac Saturday night after four event-packed days in New York City.

The happily-chatting group that stepped off the train in Detroit might have just been on the way back from a picnic, except for the topic of conversation: It was all New York.

The four or five hours before had been spent much the same way, except for an interlude of group singing which was claimxed by a serenade to Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Morrow of Rochester, who were celebrating their 37th wedding anniversary.

A swift chartered bus trip from the station and the passengers stepped off to be greeted by nearly 200 relatives and friends who had collected in front of the Pontiac Press Building.

"Welcome home! . . . did you have fun? . . . bet you could stand some sleep . . . how are things in New York?" It was an exciting homecoming.

Cobo Speaks in County, Cites State's Xway Needs

State highways remained a much-booted political football as Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo met at a press conference this noon before addressing an Elk's Temple luncheon of 250 Republicans.

Cobo, Republican candidate for governor, said, "I think the state is in worse shape today as far as highways are concerned than Detroit was when I tackled the the problem there."

He called attention to the "successful" Detroit system of expressways built during his terms of office.

Cobo said there is a great need for four-lane highways with "feeder" roads leading into them. He proposed to build the highways with federal money and construct the "feeder" system with funds raised by revenue bonds.

This would provide a "fast capitalization program for much-needed highways," he told reporters, "by which we cannot only make up for past lags, but can move ahead."

He did not elaborate on any specific highway needs in Oakland County.

He commented on the most re-

Farm Economy Rise Revealed

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—GOP Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper of Iowa reported to President Eisenhower today there is a "general upswing" in the farm economy. He predicted Republicans will carry the farm belt in November.

Hickenlooper, who faces stiff Democratic opposition in his bid for re-election, quoted the President as saying Republicans are going to "carry the facts" to the farmers and other voters in a vigorous campaign.

"The President said he and Republican campaigners are going to go to the farmers, businessmen and labor with the facts of the accomplishments of this administration and its objectives," Hickenlooper said.

Hickenlooper saw Eisenhower after the President had conferred with Dr. Milton Eisenhower, his brother who has served as an advisor on farm matters as well as on other issue.

MORE SATISFACTION

Hickenlooper said he based his report that there is a "general upswing" in the farm economy on the fact that hog and cattle prices are up from earlier lows.

He said there is now "more satisfaction" among the farmers than there was in the late winter and early spring when livestock prices were down.

He said Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Iowa Friday will be of "tremendous help" to Republicans in the area.

Open the Tap! Pot of Gold Overfloweth

And it will, unless some Press reader stops its frantic flight at $900 this week. We're looking for such a person, but if we don't get one this week the pot will have reached its next goal.

That's where you come in: If you crack Puzzle 16's fascinating maze of Pot-O-Gold words you can win either $1,025 or $125, depending on the outcome of last week's contest (results will be announced Friday).

Study the following list of words—they're all you need to win: agony, cask, cause, charm, claims, climax, copse, dose, echo, egg, family, flimsy, fort, fur, groan, hero, home, hope, hose, keg, leg, malice, menu, name, patio, piano, raft, ranch, rug, ruse, sack, sauce, scope, shoe, snake, sneak, soda, sure. Then turn to page 10 and play this week's game.

Adlai Readying Farm Belt Tour

Remains Mum on Hall Demand for a Comment on Alger Hiss Case

WASHINGTON (AP)— Adlai E. Stevenson, said to be encouraged after Round 1 of his campaign, takes off next weekend on a new eight-day tour of 11 states ranging from Colorado to Florida.

The 7,000-mile tour will start Saturday with a major farm address at the National Field Days and Plowing Contest at Newton, Iowa. President Eisenhower speaks there Friday.

In a telegram yesterday GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall challenged the Democratic presidential nominee to repudiate former President Truman's statement that Alger Hiss, in Truman's opinion, was not a Communist spy.

Hiss, a onetime State Department employe, served a federal prison sentence after being convicted of perjury in denying he passed government secrets to a Soviet spy ring.

"Does your silence mean you agree with Mr. Truman's statements?" Hall asked.

The Stevenson campaign itinerary announced last night for Sept. 22-30 not only starts in the Farm Belt with the Saturday speech at Newton; it includes addresses in several other key agricultural states, underscoring how both parties are working hard for the farm vote this year.

Traveling mostly by plane and some by automobile, Stevenson will go after that vote in such states as Kansas, Missouri, Indiana, Wisconsin, and Minnesota, in addition to Iowa. He will also dip into the South and some of the border states, visting Louisiana, Florida, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

UF Solicitors Start Doorbell Drive

Pontiac Area United Fund solicitors today rang the first doorbells of the fall campaign to raise $612,202 in support of 54 community service agencies.

After training sessions held at the Waldron Hotel this morning, United Fund workers started calling on 255 Pontiac area building trades firms and their employes.

Goal for the construction group is $15,658, chairman Fred J. Poole said. Building trades firms and employes are being asked to "Help Build a Better Community."

United Funds and Community Chests throughout Michigan are opening their building trades solicitation this week, before the main campaign opens, in order to avoid seasonal shutdowns on construction work.

The main campaign goal of $612,202 in Pontiac, Pontiac Township and Waterford Township this year will provide funds for 54 health, youth welfare, family counsel, recreation and assistance agencies.

The United Fund idea, intended to eliminate the multiple charity campaigns of past years, originated in Michigan.

Training sessions for solicitors are a new feature of this year's Pontiac area drive. They will be conducted for all area UF solicitors by Elmer Rosenberg, campaign training chairman.

A nine per cent increase in the gift of each contributor is being sought this year in order to meet the increased fund goal.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A head-on car collision south of Cheboygan late Sunday cost two lives and raised the Michigan weekend highway death toll to 14.

Four other persons died in other home and vacation accidents as summer waned and chilly fall weather set in.

William Shields and George Duffin of Cheboygan were killed late Sunday when their car collided head-on with one containing two Cheboygan women, on U.S. 27, four miles south of Cheboygan.

Miss Helen Baier, 33, and Miss Lena Chevalier, 41, were both hospitalized with injuries. State police said the car containing Shields and Duffin crossed to the wrong side of the road.

MINISTER KILLED

After preaching a Sunday sermon, the Rev. Earl J. Culp, 46, pastor of the Leroy Church of the Nazarene, was killed when his car hit a bridge on the way home to Reed City. His wife, Madeline, 45, and another passenger, Mrs. Leola Hunt, 40, also of Reed City, were injured seriously.

The accident occurred on the Hersey River bridge on U.S. 131, six miles north of Reed City.

Lee Bowen, 31, of Grand Rapids, was killed Sunday in a head-on collision on U.S. 16 bypass near Standale, some five miles west of Grand Rapids. Two other men were injured in the wreck.

Raymond LeRoy Daugherty, 20, of Ann Arbor, was killed Sunday when his car slipped out of control and struck a tree in Dexter Township near Ann Arbor.

Miss Gerrett Francis, 38, of Grand Rapids, was killed Sunday when she was thrown from a skidding car on an eastern Kent County gravel road.

BLOW-OUT DEATH

The blow-out of a right rear tire was blamed for a crash, three miles west of Three Rivers on M60, that killed Mrs. Minnie Deebe, 72, of South Bend, Ind., Sunday. Her son, Gail, of Flint said the blow-out caused him to swerve into the path of another car. Six were injured.

State Police said James F. Hall, 23, of Buchanan was killed Saturday when his car missed a curve on a Berrien County road and hit a parked car and a tree. The accident occurred 13 miles east of New Buffalo.

A head-on collision Saturday on M139 in Benton Township, Berrien County, fatally injured Rita Johnson, 20, of Niles.

Leroy Lebow, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Stewart, was killed Sunday when struck by a car while bicycling near his Fruitport Township home in Mukegon County. Deputy Russell Barrett said the boy was struck by motorist Mary Jane Enders, 18, also of Fruitport Township. She told Barrett she was blinded by the late afternoon sun coming over a hill and did not see the boy.

Two Detroit women, Mrs. Irene Adams, 33, and Daisy Mae Anderson, 56, were fatally injured Saturday in a two-car collision in Detroit.

Bonnie D. Veit, 21, of Coloma, was killed Saturday when her car left U.S. 12, three miles east of Benton Harbor, and struck a bridge abutment.

BALL PLAYER DIES

Firemen found the body of William Heibeln, a former Jackson semi-pro baseball player, near the bathroom of his burning Jackson apartment Sunday. Heibeln apparently suffocated from the blaze that started in his bed.

State police at Traverse City said Paul Egan, 32, was accidentally shot to death at his Nessen City home Sunday while moving a shotgun.

Clad in swimming trunks, the body of John D. Simon, 40, of South Bend, Ind., was found Saturday, floating in shallow water of Birch Lake, ten miles southwest of Three Rivers. Doctors said he died of a broken neck, apparently when he dove from a pier into four feet of water. He was a former Kalamazoo resident.

A 66-year-old retired Grand Trunk railroad man, James Dayton, was found Saturday on railroad tracks near his Ionia home. Coroner Wallace Jackson said he apparently had been struck by a train.

2 Passengers Hurt as Car Rolls Over

Virgil L. Hurst of Waterford Township, is being treated for possible neck injuries at Pontiac General Hospital after an auto accident Sunday morning.

He is reported in good condition. Also hurt was Laura Ursuli, 40, of Detroit. She was treated for bruises.

Both were riding in a car that rolled over on Indianwood road near N. Shore drive.

Cobo Speaks Here, Cites Road Needs

cent rhubarb between Gov. Williams and State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, saying of Williams: "It's easy for anyone to criticize, but what has the governor ever done to help?"

MORE SCHOOLS, PARKS

Cobo also came out for more schools and more land acquired in Upper and Lower Peninsulas for public recreation.

He said he favored state appropriated funds to rural areas to help provide services such as sewage and water. "These areas have not kept up with the urban areas," he commented.

The Mayor said he had no prepared speech to give at the luncheon. He was introduced by L. Harvey Lodge, Republican candidate for state senator.

At 2 p.m. he was scheduled to speak from the Pontiac courthouse steps. He will be a guest of honor tonight at the annual picnic of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County at Avon Park in Rochester.

He also was scheduled to speak in Keego Harbor at 2:55 p.m.; in Milford at 3:20; in Clarkston at 4:30, and in Oxford at 5:15.

Family of 7 Homeless After Trailer Burns

A Holly Township family of seven lost their house and belongings when their trailer was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon.

Firemen have been unable to determine cause of the blaze which left the Roy Simmons family homeless. The couple had no insurance on the trailer or their possessions.

2 Injured in Collision on M24 in Oxford Twp.

Two men suffered minor injuries in a collision on M24 in Oxford Township Sunday afternoon.

Malcolm Lawrence, 74, of Oxford, was treated for head cuts and Richard Ross, 11, of Marlette, had a bruised forehead. Both were treated by a doctor.

Cole told Oakland County deputies he was struck while making a left turn.

Other Stores Join in Celebration

Kroger Opens Third Area Food Market

A large-scale Kroger Co. expansion program touched the Pontiac area today with the opening of a new supermarket at the corner of Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Of brick construction, the one-story building covers an area of 18,000 square feet and is adjoined by a parking lot with space for 160 cars.

Among modern features is a series of pickup stations where customers may have parcels placed in their cars for them.

The store has eight check-out stands, "magic carpet" doors, air conditioning and wide aisles for complete self-service.

Manager Jerry McLarty heads a staff of 33 full-time and eight part-time employes. Harold Stutsman is assistant manager.

The store will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Saturday and from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Sunday, according to McLarty. The doors opened this morning at 9 a.m. for the first time.

Other area Kroger stores, located at 750 Perry St. and 178 N. Saginaw St., are participating in the grand opening celebration.

Local Blind Pig Raided, 7 Jailed

5 Held for Loitering, 2 Booked as Owners in Orion Township

Two persons were facing illegal liquor sales charges and five others were to be charged with loitering today after a raid by the Sheriff's Department early Sunday.

All were nabbed at a restaurant known as the Syl Farm at 4715 Joslyn Rd., Orion Township, by a group of 15 deputies led by Sheriff Frank Irons.

Arrested for maintaining and selling liquor illegally were Sylvester Vinegar, 41, and his wife, Otella, 35, who live at the address.

Charged with loitering are Mrs. Johnnie Johnson, 28, of 485 California Ave.; Mathew Kinnard, 29, of 269 Rapid St.; Robbie L. McElwee, 32, of 411 Howard McNeil St.; James H. Johnson, 46, of 3 Grant St., and Mack Williams, 63, of 35 Bagley St.

BEER AND LIQUOR

In the raid, 54 bottles of beer, 11 bottles of liquor, several empty bottles and playing cards were confiscated.

The raid was made at about 1 a.m. Sunday. All seven persons were held in the county jail to await today's arraignment before Justice Helmar G. Stanaback, in Orion Township Justice Court.

Royal Oak Doctor Dies in Hospital

Dr. Robert B. Hasner of Royal Oak, past president of the Oakland County Medical Society died Sunday morning at the William Beaumont Hospital at the age of 72.

He lived at 1712 Sycamore in Royal Oak and had practiced medicine in Royal Oak for 35 years.

He was a graduate of the University of Chicago and its institute of Medicine and was a native of Independence, Ia.

He is survived by his wife Gladys, a daughter, Mrs. Frederick A. Rea of Lathrup Village, a brother, Ralph W. Hasner of Waterloo, Ia., and two grandchildren.

Service will be at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday from the Spiller Funeral Home Chapel, 836 N. Main, Royal Oak, and burial will follow at White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

In lieu of flowers, the family has requested that donations be made to the Beaumont Hospital for the Oakland County Crippled Children's Society.

California Woman Hurt in S. Saginaw Accident

A Long Beach, Calif. woman received minor neck injuries in a car crash on S. Saginaw street Sunday night, Pontiac police said.

Mrs. Ruth A. Whiteman, 46, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital, authorities said. Her husband, William L. Whiteman, 53, was driving and was not injured, they added.

According to police, a car driven by Bert L. Morris, 51, of Mt. Pleasant skidded on wet pavement and rammed into the Whiteman auto, which was stopped for a traffic light at Pike street.

Rockpickers at Work

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—Police were sure it wasn't pickpockets who picked off four rock pickers. They weighed about 3,600 pounds.

Ike's Grandson Sports a New Confederate Cap

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—There was some speculation today—none of it serious—that 8-year-old David Eisenhower may be angling for Southern support in his grandfather's presidential campaign.

But David's grandmother dampened the political significance of the rakish headpiece with a casual remark:

"We never know whether he is Confederate or Union. Today he's Confederate."

Pontiac, Detroit Hospitals Unite

60 Institutions Merge to Help Solve Problems in 7 Counties

Pontiac General and St. Joseph Mercy Hospitals are among 60 member hospitals from seven Michigan counties which recently merged into the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council, Inc.

Its primary objective will be to serve as the official clearing house for all activities, programs and plans for meeting hospital needs of the seven-county area.

Allan W. Merrell, assistant to the Ford Motor Co. president, was elected council president.

The member hospitals provide about three million patient days of care a year at a cost of more than 100 million dollars, more than half the annual hospital bill for all of Michigan.

Miss Lauretta Paul, Pontiac General Hospital administrator, was elected to the 52-member Board of Trustees of the new group.

Sister Mary William, administrator at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, praised formation of the council. "There has been considerable strength added with the addition of members of business and industry," she said. "These men will have a better understanding of our needs."

The Day in Birmingham

Commission to Eye Plans for Alley, Parking Lot

BIRMINGHAM—Alley problems in the Maple-Bates area, lighting of Parking Lots No. 3-A and HH, and six special assessment districts will be discussed at tonight's commission meeting.

Property owners in the area bounded by Maple, Bates, Henrietta and Martin have agreed that the planning board's suggestion of an L-shaped alley from Bates to Martin was the best solution, a report from City Planner Herbert Herzberg to commissioners advises.

However, he points to opposition because of the amount of property to be taken, and the lack of opposition to a 26-foot alley dead-ending at the S. S. Kresge property and leading into Bates.

Local store owners and realtors involved in the block were at a recent meeting, but Maple-Bates Inc. was not represented. The firm, as well as an official of B. Siegel Company, who had talked previously of establishing here, were advised of the meeting's discussions.

Hearings include assessment districts for Eton road sidewalk, Ferndale street right-of-way and pavement and Park street right-of-way and pavement, all involved in the Parking Lot 3-A general plan.

The court decision on the Latham suit against the city, denying that the residential zoning of the Latham land at Southfield and Lincoln is unconstitutonal, will be discussed.

The complete opinion of Judge Clark Adams is included in tonight's printed agenda, itemizing requests for multiple dwelling zoning.

A tally of the corner traffic on one day this spring revealed that over 12,000 cars passed, but the judge says the two-lane roadway carries far less heavy traffic than Woodward or Telegraph arteries.

Relocation of utilities to make way for Parking Lot 3-A and HH is to be considered, as well as installing a private sewer from proposed Valley Woods Elementary School to the sewage treatment plant, because of water-saturated land in the school area near the plant.

A baby-announcing box of cigars has been on the police desk almost continually for the last two months, and is due for replenishments twice this week.

Of the city's 17 patrolmen, nine have become "proud papas" in the past two months, or will in the next two weeks.

Current cigar-giver is Larry Winkleman, whose new son bowed in on Friday. Norman Probst has his supply ready for today, and Don Graham, sometime this week. Dick Brown also is to be a new father soon.

Recently becoming parents are Patrolmen Charles Blashfield, Don Moonen, Ed Long, Jim Cochran, and Dick Thomason, the latter a father for only three weeks.

Busy with ticketing motorists, police here issued 26 tickets on Saturday, almost double the usual daily deal. Ten were issued on Friday.

ence with the President that the United States "is dedicated to seeking by peaceful means assurance that the Suez Canal will carry out the international purpose to which it is dedicated by the convention of 1888."

"We are not, however, willing to accept for ourselves nor do we seek from other nations acceptance of an operating regime for the canal which falls short of recognizing the rights granted to canal users by the 1888 convention," Dulles said.

"We are not trying to organize any boycott of the canal but we cannot be blind to the fact that conditions might become such that transit through the canal is impractical or greatly diminished.

"There must always be ways to insure the development of vital supplies, particularly oil, to Western Europe. Accordingly, we are carrying out planning as a prudent precaution. But our hope remains that satisfactory operating arrangements can be worked out with Egypt."

Dulles added that at London "We will consider developments since the previous conference on the Suez adjourned Aug. 23 and, I hope, find a calm approach to the future."

The earlier conference proposed internationalization of canal operations. This was rejected by President Nasser of Egypt.

Dulles was asked specifically about reports that the United States is ready to put up half a billion dollars to help Western European countries finance the rerouting of their Middle East oil shipments.

In reply, Dulles recalled that he told a news conference last week that if it became necessary to reroute tankers around the Cape there would be a shortage of tankers.

Italians, Greeks, Jews Seem to Suffer More

Suspect Some Nationalities Harder Hit by Heart Disease Than Others in U. S.

WASHINGTON (INS)—A "map" of U.S. heart disease compiled by the Public Health Service shows death rates are higher in northeastern and far west states than in the deep south and plains states.

Dr. William H. Stewart of the service's National Heart Institute, said the heart death pattern seems to follow historic American immigration waves.

He pointed out the areas with the highest death rates have the larger share of Italian, Greek, and Jewish immigration. Areas with the lowest heart disease death rates are largely settled by English, Scandinavian and German stocks.

The former group is usually designated as Mediterranean and the latter as Northern European.

ONLY A START

The heart study, made for white males and females in each state, was described as "the starting place for more detailed, more revealing investigations."

According to the map, some states, notably New York, Rhode Island and New Jersey, have heart death rates twice as high as New Mexico, Arkansas and Kentucky.

And while female deaths ran considerably below male rates for each state, the map showed female rates are highest in the northeastern states and lowest in the south and plains states.

Stewart said urban-rural factors are not able to account for state-by-state differences.

The experts also discount the possibility state and regional variations reflect differences in methods of diagnosis or reporting rather than real, objective differences.

Other factors considered were diet, exercise and stress.

But Stewart indicated hereditary factors and differences in the physical characteristics of populations might prove the most fruitful area for research. He said:

"If we could find a town with an evenly divided Swedish and Italian population, for example, and they all lived and worked under similar conditions, then we would be able to test our ideas."

Nursing Exams Set

DETROIT (INS) — Mary M. Anderson, executive secretary of the Michigan Board of Nursing, reports examinations for professional nurses will be conducted by the board Oct. 30 through Nov. 2.

Meg to Bypass Egypt

LONDON (INS)—Princess Margaret will bypass Egypt in flying to Mombasa, Kenya, next week for her royal tour of East Africa, Buckingham Palace disclosed today. The Princess leaves Friday in a specially chartered airliner.

The normal route to East Africa provides for stops at Rome, Cairo and Khartoum.

There is a Paul Revere museum in Perigueux, France, the town in which the famous patriot's father was born.

AF Plant Studying Earth's Magnetism

HANSCOM AIR FORCE BASE, Mass. (AP)—A huge Air Force plane, loaded with special instruments, today was on the first lap of a 90,000-mile flight to probe magnetic fields which extend thousands of miles beyond the earth's surface.

The trip, which began yesterday, may provide data to help launch America's planned man-made moon and may yield information valuable for guided missile research. Air Force scientists would not comment. They would say only that the expedition is "of purely scientific interest" with no immediate application.

The plane carries a crew of 10 and a 1,500-pound cosmic ray monitor. It will fly a zig-zag path, crossing the equator a thouand miles to the north and south.

Detroit Jeweler Dies

Swedish Socialists Returned to Office

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Sweden's voters have given their Socialist government a mild slap on the wrist but continued it in office with a comfortable 25-seat majority in Parliament.

Complete, unofficial returns from yesterday's elections kept the Social Democrats and their Agrarian partners in a commanding position despite an impressive upsurge for the Conservative party.

The results indicated a demand from a significant segment of the public for lower taxes, better housing and action to stem inflation. The Conservatives, who campaigned on these issues, increased their representation in the Riksdag from 31 seats to 39.

Eight Persons Killed in Florida Car Crash

LAKE WALES, Fla. (AP)—Eight persons lost their lives when two cars collided last night.

Lone survivor was a small Negro boy in critcial condition at Orlando General Hospital.

The impact of the two cars was so great that one was bent in the shape of a half moon.

Draft Is Considered to Boost Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP)—A sharp lag in voluntary enlistments may make it necessary to draft men for military reserve duty, an advisory group reports.

Congress once rejected the draft idea, but the National Security Training Commission said voluntary enlistments during the first year draft age limit are encour- the 100,000 men sought for the program.

Under it, youths below the 18½-yea r draft age limit are encouraged to volunteer for six months of active duty training, to be followed by 7½ years in the active reserve. The volunteers become exempt from the 24-month service who also must continue service in the reserves.

Boy, 11, Shoots Dad in Spat Near Howell

HOWELL (AP) — An 11-year-old boy shot and wounded his 52-year-old father yesterday in a family quarrel, State Police reported today.

The shooting took place, police said, on the 120-acre Robert Travernier farm near Howell. Travernier is expected to live, after doctors treated him for wounds in his left side.

The son, Robert Jr., has admitted the shooting. The quarrel involved Mrs. Leola Travernier, 46, the boy's mother.

Troopers said no charges will be brought until statements are taken.

State's One-Man Grand Juries Colorful, but Are They Legal?

(Editor's note: Charges of corruption in Ecorse led recently to naming Judge Theodore R. Hohn as a one-man grand jury to investigate. This is the second of two articles prepared by MSU Political Scientist Robert G. Seigliano for the Associated Press. It highlights some of the colorful history of earlier one-man grand juries, and explains how they operate.)

EAST LANDING (AP) — Some 18 politicians ended up in prison for vote fraud after Michigan's third great one-man grand jury investigation in 1936. It all began when Orville E. Atwood, Republican candidate for secretary of state, was elected by a slim 10,538 vote margin.

The "Lame Duck" Legislature was controlled by Democrats who had a fairly safe majority in the House but only a precarious hold on the Senate. The newly elected Legislature, to be seated in January, 1936, would be controlled by Republicans.

The Democratic "lame duck" governor called the Legislature into special session. Over bitter opposition by Republicans, the two houses met in joint convention and established a special recount committee to investigate the contested election.

The recount committee opened 628 precinct ballot boxes in Detroit, and claimed to find enough improperly counted votes to elect the Democratic candidate for secretary of state.

The committee completed its report and it was adopted by the special session late on the night of Dec. 31, 1935. According to the Legislature, the Democratic candidate had won.

In the furor following, Judge Thomas M. Cotter, then Recorder's Court judge in Detroit, sitting as a one-man grand jury, investigated at the request of the state's attorney general. At the same time, the Michigan Supreme Court declared the action of the Legislature invalid.

Cotter found evidence of ballot tampering and other improprieties. He issued warrants which resulted in jail or prison terms for the chairman of the recount committee, chairman of the Democratic party of Michigan, recounters and precinct workers.

Best examples of men skyrocketing to national and statewide fame by their exposes as one-man grand juries are Homer Ferguson and the late Kim Sigler.

Ferguson conducted an explosive investigation of Detroit and Wayne County corruption from 1939 to 1942. Because of his findings, the prosecuting attorney and sheriff of Wayne County, the mayor and police superintendent of Detroit, and other city and county officials went to jail.

Ferguson ran successfully for U. S. Senator in 1942, serving there until 1955. He was named not long ago as a judge on the three-man U.S. Court of Military Appeals.

Judge Leland W. Carr, now of the Michigan Supreme Court, conducted a fifth great one-man grand jury investigation. From 1943 to 1945, he and his successor, Louis E. Coash, investigated Michigan legislative graft and corruption. Disclosures resulted in convictions for legislators, lobbyists and others.

Carr's special prosecutor, Kim Sigler, was elected governor in 1946 and served one term. Sigler later was killed in the crash of his private plane.

That was the last of the great one-man investigations under the old 1917 law. The law underwent surgery at the hands of the Legislature in 1949 and 1951, and the one-man grand jury had a number of its powers clipped. The judge-jury no longer can play the powerful role he could.

The U.S. Supreme Court has decided two cases involving the one-man grand jury, one in 1948 and the other in 1955. In both instances, the court took a very dim view of the powers exercised by Michigan judges acting as one-man grand juries. It has in the past, compared the Michigan procedure to the English star chamber and the Spanish inquisition.

The Michigan one-man grand jury has been changed since the Supreme Court drew these unflattering comparisons. It will be interesting to see what attitude federal justices will take if a case is taken to them from the present investigation.

Whatever the Ecorse investigation reveals, it will add another chapter to a unique and colorful phase of Michigan's constitutional and legal history.

French Schools

Troubles are piling up for the French. Not only are they losing their colonies, but one domestic difficulty after another arises.

The latest problem is in the schools. As a result, a wholesale overhauling of the whole school system probably is in prospect.

The French schools have continued to run on for many years much as they did in the time of Napoleon. Needless to say, Napoleon did not set them up on a democratic basis.

A few figures will show the fundamental nature of the faults that have come to light in France's educational system. Only three per cent of the university students are children of workers. Only four per cent came from farm workers.

But that is only part of the story. Nationwide tests are given to children at the age of eleven years, another, for those passing the first test, at sixteen to eighteen years of age.

Those who fail to pass the first test are unable to attend college. Their schooling ends at fourteen. Those who flunk the second test also are barred from college. Thus only a comparative few receive a higher education.

What brought about the big furor this year is the fact that far more students flunked both tests than was true before. More than half failed in each one, and their parents have demanded to know what was wrong.

There may have been some mistakes in the way the tests were given, and in the questions asked. But the investigation which followed brought out some fundamental faults which now appear to be headed for solution.

One suggestion has been made that all French children be allowed to stay in school until they are sixteen. Another is that a more democratic method be used in choosing what students may attend colleges and universities, and financial aid so many more may attend in the future.

The French have belatedly realized that they are falling behind the Russians in the production of scientists and technical workers. The same realization came to the people of the United States only recently.

Other problems will still face the French schools. They are short of buildings and teachers too. They really face a monumental task in bringing their educational program up to date.

Duo-Auditorium

While we are not suggesting that Pontiac try to duplicate Pittsburgh's proposed civic auditorium, local residents undoubtedly will be interested in it. So will people in many other cities who may be thinking of erecting civic buildings.

Pittsburgh plans to erect in its downtown area a combination auditorium and stadium. The building will be usable for both indoor and outdoor events. It will be covered by a giant dome which will be retractable. When the dome is rolled back, events can be held under the open sky. When the spherical roof is rolled up in place again, lighting is made available for indoor events and activities.

A twenty-acre site has been selected near Pittsburgh's Golden Triangle, the angle formed by the Allegheny and Monongahela Rivers where they meet to form the Ohio River. Efforts will be made to complete it in 1959 for the city's bicentennial celebration.

The vast metal dome will be 415 feet in diameter and will rise to a height of twelve stories above the ground. There will be seats for from 7,500 to 14,000 persons, depending on the type of event being held. There will be parking for 3,000 cars.

Pittsburgh has several ideas in mind in connection with this original concept of a civic center, in addition to providing a place for musical events and other meetings. It dreams of becoming a Big League city in hockey and of attracting major football games and prize fights.

The financing is complicated. A Pittsburgh and Allegheny County Public Auditorium Authority has been established which already is acquiring the site. The city and county have pledged $1,500,000 each, while $2,500,000 has been raised by public subscription. Additional funds will be sought through bond issues and foundation grants.

In its form, as well as in its financing, this project reveals originality. Long before it is finished Pittsburgh will reap publicity benefits through the interest it will arouse throughout the nation.

in Bloomfield Hills, with leaves "larger than a palm leaf fan."

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Flewelling

in Waterford to a height of 15 feet, and is heading for the chimney.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Burleson

of Lake Orion, brought some cotton seed, and now have cotton plants in bloom.

Dahlias up to eight feet tall are blooming for

Mr. Harvey Middlesworth

Jimmy Frimodig

of Keego Harbor now has a cucumber the exact shape of the bottle which it completely fills.

Castor bean plants seven feet tall are reported by

Mrs. Blanchard Meldrum

of Rochester, with leaves 15 inches wide.

In response to several inquiries, Pontiac Press delivery boys and members of their families are eligible to compete in our football contest, as the boys do not work directly for the paper.

The Hole in Adlai's Shoe

David Lawrence Says:

Did Adlai Goof in Harrisburg?

WASHINGTON — Whoever helps Adlai Stevenson prepare his speeches or whoever writes them for him certainly pulled a "boner" when the Democratic presidential nominee was politically "brainwashed" by his "regency" into making the following statement at Harrisburg:

"Why is President Eisenhower the first president in this century to lose control of Congress in his first elected term?"

Now a glance at the history books will show that November 1910 is in this century and that William Howard Taft, a Republican, who had been elected in 1908, was then serving his "first elected term." But the House went Democratic in the middle of that term.

LOST ONLY SENATE

It may be argued by the Stevenson speech writers, after all, Taft didn't lose control of all of Congress but only of a single House and that Adlai really meant loss of control of both Houses. But, if that's the definition, then Eisenhower didn't "lose control" of Congress either. For in November 1954 only the House went Democratic.

It will be recalled that the Senate was a tie and that the Republican vice president would have been able to exercise control for the Republican party had it not been for the action—three months after the 1954 election—of Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who during the six-year term for which he was originally elected in 1950 as a Republicn decided of his own accord to turn on his own party and vote with the Democrats.

There was indeed a clear case in this century of a president who lost control of both Houses of Congress in a decisive vote by the electorate during his first term. This happened in November 1946 to President Truman.

One wonders what difference it makes so far as the meaning of an election is concerned, whether a congressional defeat in mid-term happens under a man who has been elected or one who comes to the presidency as a vice president to serve his own first term. The whole purport of the Stevenson speech was to establish the fact that, when a president in his mid-term loses control of Congress, it is because "the fog is rising, the fog of half-truths and amiable complacency, and people perceive that all is not well."

OVERLOOKED TRUMAN

Maybe the Stevenson speech writers don't like to quote or re-read Harry Truman even for research purposes, but he didn't say anything like that when the people elected a Republican Congress in the middle of his term in 1946. He interpreted it all as a mistake on the part of the electorate and as a failure to perceive the merit of his policies. He predicted that the judgment would be reversed a couple years later in the presidential election. And it was reversed—thus disproving the theory that, because Congress goes against the administration in a mid-term election, it necessarily means a loss of the presidency to the incumbent party in the next presidential election.

The Stevenson quibble about the loss of control of Congress in a "first elected term" seems puzzling because, if loss of control of Congress means a lack of confidence in a president in mid-term, it would seem to have been much more to the point to say that, whenever it happens during any term, it's a sign of political unrest in the electorate.

So the score is that Democratic administrations have lost both houses of Congress twice in this century, while the Republicans during the same period have never lost both houses in mid-term but have three times suffered the loss of one house.

What is most insignificant, however, is why these defeats occurred. All of them, irrespective of party, were due to the same thing—a protest based on economic irritations, including wartime controls. In 1910 it was the "high cost of living." In 1918 it was wartime restrictions. In 1930 it was the big depression. In 1946 it was food controls, particularly meat. In 1954 it was economic recession.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Calcium Is Best Remedy for Arthritis, Rheumatiz

If I could in conscience tell anyone I have not examined what remedy, diet, or treatment to take for "arthritis" — but I can't and that's that.

Prevention of rheumatiz—physical degeneration of joint tissues—should begin before the degeneration process has become irreversible.

No mystery or magic about it. Generation means the birth, production, growth, and development of cells. Degeneration means the wearing out, breaking down, and death of cells. Regeneration means reproduction of new cells to carry on the functions of the old, worn-out ones. These vital processes go on at various rates in various parts of the body from infancy until one turns up one's toes.

When generation or regeneration fails to keep pace with degeneration there is first functional deficiency or impairment. If at this stage the individual's nutrition program is not thoroughly revised and improved, structural weaknesses or defects ensue—and that's rheumatiz.

Youngsters who are from necessity or choice drinking pop, tea, coffee, chocolate, cocoa, or some namby-pamby beverage instead of the health beverage, milk, not only suffer from malnutrition in youth but make likely candidates for premature physical degeneration, if or when they attain maturity.

In order to build and maintain vite a child or an adult must consume not less than 1½ pints of milk or the equivalent in dairy products every day of his life.

I know human nature, and I expect no one to be even mildly interested in the prevention of joint disability until he or she realizes he has it, and that is a little late.

In the past five years I have received hundreds of reports from people who have been following the advice given in the Calcium and rheumatiz pamphlet. At first I thought some of these reports were overenthusiastic, but as the file grew so did my interest in the prevention of rheumatiz.

So I urge every reader who is training for rheumatiz to send for the pamphlet and start the prevention program given therein. If your joint disabili'y is not physical degeneration, the program will probably do you no good, but, in any case, it can do you no harm. (Hail Hippocrates!)

Please remember, too, I recommend only food, nutritional essentials; so if the program does you any good, you'll have to keep on with it for the rest of your life if you hope to avoid a relapse.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Woman Favoring Dems Urges Everyone to Vote

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

My father worked in a coal mine from the time he was nine years old until he came to Pontiac in 1929. He was paid 50 cents an hour and the amount of coal he could dig. He worked 10 to 14 hours a day and the company store got what he made, and he lived in a company house. I say thank God for the union and the Democratic party.

Republicans claim there are more people working than ever before. I heard a news cast about a week ago. It said that more people are out of work than ever before and can't find jobs. Many of these are on their last employment checks. I don't think that the Democtatic party has done any worse than the Republicans.

Wilson was a Democrat. He abolished child labor and was the first to try to make a world peace pact. The Republicans didn't agree. I suppose Roosevelt started the last war because he didn't let Hitler take over. If anyone thinks there will never be another war, he is crazy. The articles you read in the paper everyday are just a prelude to the next war. Republicans might forestall it for a while, but it will happen sooner or later, no matter who is in office.

I am sorry our Republican friend had his Labor Day spoiled. Personally, I enjoyed listening to Stevenson's address. If the Democrats are blowhards, the Republicans have just as many or more. When the Democrats are in office, who are the fault finders then? If Republicans are elected again, I pity the little farmers and the common laborers and the small businesses, too.

No matter who or what you are, don't forget to vote. It is your chance to get the man in that you want.

Suez 'Users Association' Viewed as Stop-Gap Plan

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The big question on the so-called Suez Canal "users association" announced by Britain and France: What is it?

The plan is credited to the inspiration of U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, but the State Department has been very shy in acknowledging even American participation.

British Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden said that the Big Three Western powers had decided to found a separate canal group that would coordinate traffic through the canal.

It would have its own pilots, collect fees from the owners of ships using the canal, then pay Egypt an "appropriate" amount for use of the waterway that cuts across Egypt from the Mediterranean to the Red Sea.

Egypt already has its own canal authority, and the so-called "users association" which big shipping nations would be asked to join would be in direct competition with the Cairo authority created by President Gamal Abdel Nasser when when he nationalized the old company.

MILITARY SUGGESTION

Laborites angrily attacked Eden after he suggested that military force might be used eventually to force Nasser into some form of international rule over the canal.

They called the Eden position as one of "gunboat imperialism" and said the nation was not going to go to war over a prospective extra penny on a gallon of gasoline.

This was a reference to Labor leader Hugh Gaitskell's claim that if tankers were diverted on the long run around Africa instead of through Suez it would only mean an extra penny on the price of gas.

The "users association" project is thus far only a paper concern. In fact, there is belief allong London's government row that the plan exists at the present stage almost entirely in the minds of the Big Three foreign ministers.

The announcement created incredulity in some diplomatic quarters and provoked a crack from an Israeli who heard Eden:

"It looks like we are going to end up with two companies and no canal."

PRODDING NASSER

Egyptian reporters who heard Eden's speech in the House of Commons said Nasser would "throw it right back as crazy."

It would appear that the Big Three do not really expect the plan to be accepted by Nasser, but would like to prod the Egyptian leader into some line of new negotiations.

* * *

In short, the "users association" seems to be merely a diplomatic stop-gap to keep both sides talking instead of threatening use of military force.

Smiles

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Typewriter Will Aid School Work

..Notice how Herbert got a job by his persistence and use of a typewriter. A used typewriter costing no more than $25 can change the entire future career of your child and help him add $50,000 to his earnings in later life. Tutor your child deftly at home for 15 minutes per day by the methods outlined below. You owe it to your child, so don't fail him!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-367: Herber H., aged about 21, was applying for a job.

"But we have nothing open at the present," the business executive replied.

"Don't you have anything at all?" persisted Herbert, hopefully.

"Well, nothing except an opening for a stenographer," the executive responded.

"Then I'll take that job," Herbert added. "But I can't start work till Tuesday morning."

"If you are so eager for a job, I'm curious as to why you can't come till Tuesday," added the executive.

"It is now Friday afternoon, so why do you say you will not be available on Monday?"

"Well, sir," Herbert answered, "it will take me that long to get hold of a typewriter and learn how to use it."

"Then the job is yours. If you have that much grit and self-confidence, you can start on Tuesday morning."

And that was how former President Herbert Hoover was launched into his successful career.

BUY A TYPEWRITER

If you parents have children who are below par in their school marks, by all means purchase a typewriter, even if you procure an old one for $25 or less.

A typewriter is one of the best forms of insurance for your child's success in life. It will encourage him to pay closer heed to the internal arrangement of letters in the words he types.

And as a result, he will improve in his spelling, as well as his vocabulary.

Since words are the basic tools of the mind, you will thus help

High school and college English professors are bemoaning the fact that modern teen-agers are dificient in spelling, reading and grammar.

The fault is partly that of the parents, for fathers and mothers must team-up with school teachers and help encourage their children to be swift readers.

Reading is the motor of the entire educational machine, so tutor your child at home by deft methods so that he will not develop an inferiority complex in grammar school.

HOME TUTORING

A little tactful home tutoring can change the entire future course of your child's life!

For if you fail to help him make a success in school, he'll grow disinterested in education and try to drop out before the senior year of high school.

But a high school diploma is worth $49,000 to him the rest of his life in cash earning.

And each year of college adds an additional $25,000 to his total earnings, so you parents can make your child relatively wealthy by your deft home tutoring now.

If he is a poor reader, have his eyes checked. Then use flash cards on which you print words from his current reading book. Hold them up, one at a time, and slowly count to ten.

If he can identify the word, give it to him. If not, place it in your stack of cards. The one with the larger stack, wins the game each night.

Use flash cards for arithmetic, as 5x5, etc. And keep helpful comic books available to encourage more reading.

For further specific advice, send for my booklet, "How to Tutor Your Child at Home," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

You mothers don't need to have any college education to tutor your children expertly and make them topnotch students. A mere 15 minutes per day will do the trick.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Coast Women Face Warrants

DA to Issue Criminal Complaints Against 2 Kidnap Suspects

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Don Keller said he planned to issue criminal complaints today against two women who, says wealthy Mrs. Ruth Latham, kidnaped her and buried her alive and naked.

The accused are Mrs. Victoria Winn, 57, who is involved in court litigation over business matters with Mrs. Latham, and Mrs. Lucille Whisenand, 36, U.S. Customs Service clerk.

Police arrested them Friday, shortly after Mrs. Latham, 51, was found crouching behind a bush alongside U.S. Highway 80, twenty miles west of El Centro. They have been held on charges of suspicion of kidnaping and attempted murder, with bail set at $50,000 each.

The district attorney interviewed Mrs. Latham for 90 minutes yesterday at a hospital. He said several crimes appeared to be involved.

Mrs. Latham, wife of George Latham, investment broker, and an official of several of their corporations, said she was kidnaped from her home Wednesday.

She repeated to Keller her account of being forced to sign checks. She said she was beaten, stripped, bound and blindfolded, then buried alive beneath rocks in a shallow desert grave.

The blindfold slipped, allowing her to see her kidnapers, she said.

She struggled free and then walked and crawled five miles in blazing 110 degree heat. Friday night she reached a highway. She shielded her body with brush.

Both Mrs. Winn and Mrs. Whisenand have denied the charges. They said they themselves were kidnaped Wednesday and released near Calexico that night by three men and a woman who talked about getting money from Latham.

Traverse City Buys Railroad — Miniature That Is

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Traverse City has entered the railroad field with rolling stock and equipment which once was familiar to thousands of visitors at Detroit's Jefferson Beach amusement park.

As a civic gesture, he recently decided to sell the miniature railroad for $3,000, a fraction of its worth. It is planned for operation in city-operated Clinch Park.

The purchase price brings the C&M to Clinch Park with:

A two-ton gasoline powered locomotive; two passenger cars, each with a capacity of eight adults or 18 children; a parlor car; a flat car; a tank car; rails; block signals; a semaphore light; two crossing signs; one crossing gate; switches and a station.

The equipment will be placed in the park next year.

Straits Bridge 'Open' to Builders' Vehicles

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — Traffic was reported moving on some parts of the Straits of Mackinac Bridge this week, but it carried "authorized personnel only."

Jack Kinney, resident engineer for D. B. Steinman Co., bridge consultants, said light trucks and passenger cars are carrying bridge materials up approaches to the south span where about 800 feet of decking has been concreted.

North Span decking still awaits completion of approoach piers.

Kinney said the decking project is part of the generally satisfactory progress on the giant span between the Upper and Power Peninsulas.

Cable spinning for the bridge is more than 50 per cent complete, he said. The bridge is scheduled to open in November, 1957.

Welding Tools Stolen From Rose Twp. Lot

County Sheriff detectives today are investigating theft of equipment worth $300 from a Rose Township lot early Sunday.

The equipment included acetylene and oxygen tanks, gauges and torches. All were taken from the corner of N. Milford and Water Roads.

Kefauver Starts Midwest Tour

Bids for Farm Votes, Pledges Full and Fair Share of Income

JANESVILLE, Wis. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver bids for Midwestern farm votes today with a pledge that he and Adlai Stevenson would work to give farmers what he called "a full and fair share of the national income."

He said in a prepared speech that "the Republicans have betrayed the farmers' faith and the farmers' loyalty and that the only way out for the farmers is to return the Democrats to power.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate made public, in advance of his arrival here from Cleveland, the text of his talk. He said that "you don't have to take our farm plank with a grain of salt as you did the Republican plank in 1952."

On a 15-state campaign swing, Kefauver is moving into an area where he has experienced political success.

Before he withdrew in favor of Stevenson as a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, he won the Wisconsin primary without a contest. And in Minnesota, where he goes tomorrow, he scored an upset victory over Stevenson and state party leaders.

In a speech prepared for a Stevenons - Kefauver Committee luncheon here, he said he knew that Stevenson, as president, would "enthusiastically work for the adoption of every part" of the Democratic farm plank.

* * *

He quoted Stevenson as saying there that "the farmer is entitled to a full share of our prosperity—and we shall count it as an obligation of a Democratic administration to see that he gets it."

"Take it from me," said Kefauver, "Adlai Stevenson will keep his promise."

ELIZABETH OLSON

Name Guest Speaker for Red Cross Lunch

Elizabeth Olson will speak at the first executive committee meeting of the fiscal year for Oakland County's Chapter of the American Red Cross. She is Red Cross director of home service for the Midwestern Area.

Joining in the Wednesday meeting at Rotunda Inn with the executive committee will be the home service committee and home service volunteers of Oakland County.

The 12 o'clock luncheon was called by the Rev. William C. Hamm, chapter chairman, and Harold Brady, chairman of home service in the county.

She will speak about local home service and how it relates to Midwestern area service.

Red Refugees Expected

TRIESTE (AP)—One hundred and fifty refugees from Communist countries in the Balkans left here in the past week for new homes in the United States and Canada.

Governor's Son Wounds Friend

Ricochet Bullet Hits Playmate in Left Eye; Outcome in Doubt

LANSING (INS) — Gov. G Mennen Williams and his family anxiously awaited the outcome of an emergency eye operation performed on a close friend of 15-year-old Gerry Williams, the governor's son.

The two boys, and another Sexton High School student, 16-year-old Peter Zacharias, of Lansing, were visiting the cottage of Peter's parents. The boys left Lansing Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Zacharias, Sr., for the weekend outing.

Dr. Justin L. Sleight, a Lansing eye specialist said, "it is too early to tell what the consequences will be."

The governor's press secretary, Paul Weber said:

President's Daughter Outfoxes Wolf in U.S.

NEW YORK (INS) — Elisa Batista, teenage daughter of the president of Cuba, is recuperating today from a runaway adventure that early yesterday stranded her on a rainy Yonkers street with a would-be wolf.

The girl was rescued by firemen after she pulled a fire alarm. Police took her and her companion, Catherine Lang, 17, to a station. From there Catherine's parents took the girls back to the Connecticut rest home which Elisa and her friend had run away from Saturday night.

Driver Hits Bicyclist; Faces Drunk Charge

Pontiac police today sought to bring a drunk driving charge against a motorist who knocked down a bicyclist and his handlebar passenger Sunday evening on Auburn avenue.

The bicyclist, Michael Duff, 13, of 333 Michigan Ave. was not injured, authorities at Pontiac General Hospital said. His companion, Donald Carlson, 15, of 61 N. East Blvd. suffered forehead and neck bruises when he tumbled from the bike to the pavement, they added.

Police said a witness today will sign a complaint against Warren N. Ryan, 52, of Royal Oak. Ryan was held on a drunk and disorderly charge.

The witness, Joanne Berquist, of 3366 Willett Rd. said Ryan's car was weaving across the center line and jumped over the curb after sideswiping the bicycle.

She was riding in a car behind Ryan's, police said. Another bicyclist was not hit, they added.

Charge Bar Customer Pulled Knife in Fight

A warrant charging assault was sought today against Don H. Beets, 22, of 110 Hamilton St., who Pontiac Police said pulled a knife in a barroom argument Saturday night.

Bates was held for investigation until the owner of Jack's Bar, 64 E. Kennett Rd., signed a complaint.

Jack Skelton, who also was tending bar Saturday, said he disarmed Beets who was arguing with another customer.

What a Life! Luxury Yacht for the Winter

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Looking ahead to a long, cold winter? Consider the outlook for an Adrian, Mich., couple:

On a 50-foot yacht with luxuries right down to television and wall-to-wall carpeting, Mr. and Mrs. William A. Engel have left the Toledo Yacht Club on a six-month, 6,000-mile cruise that will include the West Indies.

Besides watching television and padding around in the carpeted lounge on the boat, they can take showers, raid the refrigerator and chat with various guest they plan to pick up briefly on the different legs of the trip.

Not even homesickness is a problem on the "Mae-Be IV." While the boat won't be back until April, the couple expects to make occasional trips back to Adrian by plane or rail from stops along the way.

Navigationwise, the yacht has an automatic pilot, a ship-to-shore telephone which can reach out 750 miles to pick up Coast Guard broadcasts and a mechanical depth sounder to guard against grounding. Adolph Bierline of Adrian will serve as the "crew" but Engle does his own piloting and navigation.

The Engels expect to reach Chicago Tuesday. The Chicago River, the Illinois River and the Mississippi River will foat them to the Guf of Mexico.

Engels owns the Oro Manufacturing Co..

Woman Hospitalized

Mary I. Bloem, 42, of Commerce Township, is in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with multiple facial fractures. She was injured Sunday morning when her car went out of control in rough gravel and overturned on Cedar Island road in White Lake Township.

Weather in Flint to Have a 'Ball'

Giant Sign Downtown to Flash Neon Signals 5 Miles or More

FLINT (INS)—A 15-foot, 2½ ton "weather ball," one of the splashiest forecasting devices in the country, soon will be built atop the Citizens Commercial and Saving Banks in Flint.

Rising more than seven stories above the bank roof, the giant ball will be visible more than five miles under good conditions.

The ball—lined with almost half a mile of three colored fluorescent tubing—is expected to become an aerial navigation landmark and may be seen from as far as 25 miles.

The ball was designed, engineered and built by Federal Sign and Signal Corp. of Chicago. It will glow red to indicate rising temeperatures, blue for cooler weather and brilliant gold for no change. Flashing of any color will indicate rain or snow expected.

ON THE SPOT

Forecasts will be kept "up to the minute" by remote controls from the U.S. Weather Bureau in Flint.

The huge steel and plastic ball—completely weatherproof—will be built to withstand winds of more than 120 m.p.h.

Built in sections, the weather display is constructed according to the same structural engineering principles used in skyscrapers.

The ball is built from a stainless steel framework to which molded plexiglas is applied. An external "skin" for the 15-foot "weather ball" is formed by the 800 square feet of plexiglas.

Craftsment from 10 trades, ranging from glass blowers to sheet metal workers, spent more than four months completing the display.

2 Hurt, 1 Hospitalized as 4 Cars Pile Up

One person was hospitalized and two others slightly hurt in a four-car collision in Waterford Township Saturday night.

Ernest P. Arsenault, 49, Hazel Park, one of the drivers, is in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital today with multiple face cuts and possible fractures of the nose and jaw.

Treated after the accident were his passengers, Lillian Dover, 37, of Royal Oak, and Darrell Bottorff, 30 of Waterford Township. Both had cuts and bruises.

The other cars were driven by Allen Kumpula, 42 of 756 Cedar St., Pontiac; Mary R. Britten, 51, of 5500 Elizabeth Lake Rd., and Edward De Rousha, 56, of 4990 Elizabeth Lake Rd.

Evangelist Don Lonie Extends Stay in Pontiac

Evangelist Don Lonie, who has been preaching for the past week at Silvercrest Baptist Church, will continue through this week, Lonie announced today.

Nightly meetings will be held through Friday of this week beginning at 7:30 p.m. Special music and a volunteer choir will be available.

Lonie of Detroit and formerly of Keego Harbor, has addressed more than 150 high school assembly groups in this area.

Freda Kills Five

TAIPEI (AP)—Typhoon Freda appeared to be blowing herself out today in the Formosa Strait after slashing through Formosa. Newspaper reports said five persons were drowned on Formosa in flash floods caused by the typhoon.

Prison records throughout the country indicate that the average time served for murder in Alabama is just short of four years. This compares with Illinois' average of 17 years and five months.

Register for Pontiac UM Extension Courses

Registration for the largest number of courses ever to be offered in Pontiac by the Extension Service of the University of Michigan will begin Tuesday at Lincoln Junior High School.

Any adult may take any one of 14 courses although they are slanted for teacher training programs, said Ardell A. Henry, of Flint, supervisor of the program in the Lower Thumb area.

All courses offered lead to degree at any college which will accept the credits, Henry said "and all courses carry graduate credit for a masters or doctorate program," he added.

A 15 week course costs $11 per credit hour. All Pontiac courses grant two credits.

Counseling is available should students request it, Henry said. All representatives of the University of Michigan who conduct classes in Pontiac can guide and counsel.

Students can register at the second session of the class if they are unable to attend the first class, Henry added.

The course schedule is:

Workshop in the teaching of Conservation Wednesday, Sept. 19, 4:30 and 7:30 p.m.
Principles of Educational Administration, Monday, Sept. 24, 7:30 p.m.
Appraising Student Progress, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 4:30 p.m.
Physical Growth of the Child, Tuesday, Sept. 25, 7:30 p.m.
Children's Literature, Thursday, Sept. 27, 4:30 p.m.
Seminar, Physical Education, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 7:30 p.m.
Modern Drama, Wednesday, Sept. 19, 4:30 p.m.
Geography for Teachers, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 7:30 p.m.
Europe since 1919, Thursday, Sept. 20, 7:30 p.m.
Government of Michigan, Tuesday, Sept. 18, 4:30 p.m
Attitudes and Social Behavior Wednesday Sept. 19 7:30 p.m.
Special Work in Psychology, Thursday, Sept. 27, 7:30 p.m.
Introduction to School Health, Tuesday, Sept. 25, 4:30 p.m.
Real Estate Management, Wednesday, Sept. 26, 7 p.m.

All courses will meet in Lincoln Junior High School with the exception of Real Estate Management, which will be held in Pontiac High School, Henry added.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

FUN WITH SHADOWS—1

Beware of the Dog

You can have lots of fun, and entertain your friends, with shadow shows.

When the sun is shining brightly shadows like animals and birds can be thrown against a wall. Or, in a shadow theater, cut-outs as well as your hands can be used to make interesting shadow scenes.

Here you see how to form the shadow of a dog. With a little practice you can make the jaws quiver and move and you can bark or growl at the same time.

Keep this and try it out again tomorrow when we will show you how to make a shadow theater.

To make the theater you will need a cardboard carton or box—one measuring 12 by 12 by 14 inches, is a good size — and piece of white cloth to stretch across the front. See if you can find these so you are prepared.

(Robert Pruitt, Birmingham, Ala., wins $10 for being the first to suggest this idea. If you have an idea send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Europe Allies Plan Test of Air Defenses

PARIS (INS)—Allied Command Headquarters in Europe plans a huge air defense exercise Sept. 26-28.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, supreme Allied commander in Europe, said the exercises will be held from Norway to Turkey.

Units of all the North Atlantic Treaty Organization air forces of the Allied Command in Europe will take part. An additional feature will be development of elements of the Tactical Air Command of the U. S. Air Force to bases in France, Northern Italy and Western Germany.

Too Much Danger

LONDON (AP)—Bill Low has had to give up smoking after 85 years. Bill is 92 and lives at an old folks' home. Three times lately he has put a lighted pipe in his pocket and burned up his jacket, overcoat and raincoat.

"There's too much danger," said Supt. William Barrett.

ROTC Cadets at U. of D. Get Plane to Train In DETROIT (INS) — A new four-place Navion plane will provide flight experience this year for Air Force ROTC cadets at the University of Detroit.

Pilots from the faculty will fly cadets to various Air Force installations in the area for a study of the service in actual operation.

16 Words, $100 Offer Challenge to Puzzle Fans

....If you feel sorry for old Pot-O-Gold, and would help it reduce its bulging waistline, pick up your pencil and earn yourself some money with the puzzle below. Its worth at least $100 plus worlds of fun and mental stimulation. Read the clues carefully and then take a good look at the rules before filling in the empty spaces. It can mean money in your pocket.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 16 must bear a Tuesday, Sept. 25, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9 There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Grand Rapids Group to Trek 13,000 Miles

Will Pioneer Vision Pay?

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — If Barth May's pioneer vision proves correct, he'll call for his wife and three children to join him sometime next year on Trinidad Island —640 miles east of Brazil.

May, 25, an ex-Grand Rapids fireman, thinks the volcanic remnant discovered in 1507 by Portuguese navigators has possibilities as a base for an inter-island shipping business.

He plans to leave Monday—starting the first leg of a proposed 13,000-mile trek through South America by auto.

His sister, Mrs. June Rigiero, mother of a year-old daughter, and neighbors Cecil Benedict, 24, and John Curte, 28, are joining him "just for the adventure."

Benedict already has tried uranium prospecting in Arizona. Curte is a former restaurant operator.

May's wife and children, along with Mrs. Rigiero's daughter, plan to wait with his mother, Mrs. Mae Baker, while the explorers seek the far horizons. Mrs. May also will act as landlord in renting their home.

"I figure the entire trip will take about three months," May says. "If it works out I'll return for my family. If it doesn't, I've made plans to get a job with the Immigration Service in Texas and will send for them there."

May got the idea for settling uninhabited Trinidade two years ago from a magazine article.

The island is a Brazilian possession, alone in the south Atlantic off the main coast. May's research found it has an average temperature of 70 degrees, with plant life and fishing plentiful.

There is no record of its having been inhabited by humans after an unsuccessful attempt to colonize it in Civil War times, May says.

"I'm interested in seeing if a family could live there," he adds.

The four pioneers are making their start in a reconditioned 1940 sedan.

Their proposed route lies through Missouri, Texas and Mexico and calls for a brief halt at Guatemala, from where they plan to ferry the car to Barranquilla, Colombia.

From there they move to Equador, Peru, Chile, Argentina, Uruguay and finally Santos Brazil, to charter a boat for a week's investigation of Trinidade.

Vaccinations, inoculations, passports, visas and the like already are set, May says.

"It's hard to say how much the trip will cost," he adds. "We plan to work along the way and there aren't going to be many motels to sleep in. Mostly we'll camp out."

Reds Now Fighting Head-Hunters

WASHINGTON — Chinese Communist troops reported moving into Burma are operating in a country full of difficulties for military action.

The area, where Burma, China and India meet, is a southern spur of the great Himalaya range, which there becomes a tumbled mass of parallel ridges and valleys, the National Geographic Society says.

Long one of the least known regions in Asia, the district achieved some fame during World War II when the Burma Road was built through it to carry supplies to China.

Red Chinese soldiers are reported to have advanced to within 100 miles of Lashio, a sleepy frontier town until it became a bustling terminus for the Burma Road. The railway from Rangoon, Burma's capital, ends there.

The territory reported in Chinese hands is inhabited by two of the Hill Tribes of Burma, both renowned as fighters.

Near Lashio the Wa tribesmen live on hills bordering the Salween River. The most primitive people of Burma, the Was are suspicious and unfriendly toward strangers. They are also head-hunters, although this activity—practiced as part of fertility rites at planting time — is "strongly discouraged" by he Burmese government.

The Was are expert in the use of booby traps along jungle trails. One of their favorite weapons is the panji—a bamboo stick, sharpened and hardened in the fire. The sticks are planted aslant in jungle and elephant grass in the hope that enemies can be decoyed into skewering themselves. Some of these tribesmen have settled in more civilized regions, have given up head-hunting and become known as "tame Was."

KACHINS A WARLIKE RACE

To the north of the Wa States, the Chinese are in the territory of the Kachins, a warlike people who plagued the Japanese invaders in World War II.

Themselves invaders from Tibet some 50 or 60 generations ago, the Kachins are short and sturdy jungle fighters. Something of their temperament, religion and the dangers they face in their daily lives is revealed in one of their oaths:

"If I lie," they say, holding their swords over their heads, "may the tiger eat me, may the Water Spirit swallow me up, may the lightening strike me and may I die a violent death."

When the Chinese opened the frontier post of Wanting to serve the Burma Road in 1937, the Kachins raided it, killing officials and destroying buildings.

The boundary between China and Burma in the area has been a matter of dispute for many years. Where the line has been fixed, tribesmen often take up the marker stones to use in grinding grain.

In the monsoon forests through which the Communist troops moved toward Fort Hertz, or Putao, an outpost reportedly in their hands, travel is further menaced by leeches. Innumerable swarms loop along the ground and foliage, awaiting a chance to fasten to any animal or man that passes.

'Gator on the Loose in Oklahoma City

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—An eight-foot, 250-pound alligator named Alfred has escaped from Oklahoma City's Lincoln Park Zoo reptile house into a nearby lake. He crawled out through an unlocked door.

The alligator was seen on the bank of the muddy lake once but efforts to nab him only frightened him back into the water.

Bob Jenni, curator of reptiles, who claims there isn't much danger from the alligator, hopes to shoot an arrow into Alfred's tail to serve as a marker above the murky water.

Ike Contacts Nehru About Suez Situation

NEW DELHI (AP)—Indian officials said today that President Eisenhower has sent Prime Minister Nehru a message on the Suez Canal crisis.

It was understood the message was in reply to a communication Nehru had sent the President last week asking him to consider favorably Egyptian proposals for treaties under which Egypt would assure freedom of navigation through the canal.

One Billionth Dollar Paid in Unemployment Aids

DETROIT (AP)—The one billionth dollar of unemployment benefits was paid by the Michigan Employment Security Commission yesterday—more than 18 years after the first benefit check was paid.

Mrs. Delia Sherman of Detroit, a mother of four children whose husband has been ill for more than a year, received her weekly $37 check. She was laid off from a factory job in June.

Stuck With the Bill

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — W. E. Hawkins of Raleigh can thank a wad of chewing gum for a ten dollar bill. Hawkins said he drove his car home and noticed an object sticking in the tread of one of the tires. Hawkins plucked it off. It was a $10 bill, securely fastened to the tire by a wad of gum.

Pretty Good Poison

PITTSBURGH (AP)—That chicken John Giancola fried as a present to his mother on her 89th birthday tasted pretty good to them . . . until Giancola's wife came home from work. She discovered Giancola had fried the chicken in grease into which she had mixed mouse poison. Giancola, 54, and his mother were rushed to hospitals and given antidotes. Both responded quickly and were discharged.

This petal bridal gown in pure silk white taffeta was designed by Gaston Mallet. The skirt is made up of lace-edged tiers that flow into the chapel train. Ruffling of modesty repeats on short set-in sleeves.

Fall Styles for Brides Are Elegant

'Great Lady' Mood Reflected in Proud Lines, Rich Fabrics

Autumn wedding dresses have all the romance and tender feelings traditional with THE day — plus lots of 1956 fashion ideas. Edwardian elegance returns in rich silks, silhouette and a general "great lady" mood.

Softness of the directoire period revives draping, crushed effects and shirring set high on the bodice or in panels across wide skirts and trains.

Silk taffeta is more in evidence this season because it interprets all these softer lines so beautifully. Tissue weights lend themselves to billowy, cascading tiers or pretty petal layered skirts. Pure silk peau de soie and satin puff into harem hemlines and elaborate cross-drapings that are whipped-cream fluffy.

STATUESQUE LINES

A very gentle overtone in all of fashion, the 1900s look revamps the fall bridal figure. Lean princess lines make the body taller and more statuesque. The carriage is proud, erect, almost haughty.

Hemlines take on renewed importance via low pleated flounces, lavish lace decorations completely circling skirts, and trains or flower bouquets minutely embroidered by hand with creamy pearls. The effect is sumptuous and grandiose.

Part of this ladylike aura is the demand for trains. Whether they are the short chapel length or dramatic ones that regally sweep the ground, all brides want them and practice their poised management before the ceremony and reception.

Trigere Collection Vanishes

$250,000 Group of Gowns Disappears at Kansas City

Miss Trigere estimated her loss at $250,000.

The FBI is working on it but has not reported any progress.

The 92 dresses—packed in five cartons weighing 253 pounds—were delivered to the airport after a style show here. They were bound for another showing at Louisville.

The deliveryman told investigators he loaded the cartons on a cart at the dock and got a receipt for them. A freight clerk at the terminal said they were not on the cart when he went for them 20 minutes later.

Miss Trigere said she had about $26,000 in insurance.

Miss Trigere said at her summer home at Lewisboro, N. Y., that there was "always the possibility" that a band of copyists had stolen her collection.

Branell, a Manhattan dress firm, said yesterday that four Christian Dior Paris originals had cleared customs but were missing from their boxes on delivery.

The Branell firm said the four creations it failed to receive were worth between $1,000 and $1,500 each.

Fill Hamburger Buns With Beef Surprise

Brown one pound of chopped beef with one medium-sized chopped onion in a large skillet. Add one can condensed chicken gumbo soup, 2 tablespoons of prepared mustard, 2 tablespoons of ketchup. Simmer for 15 to 20 minutes over the top burner of your gas range.

Spoon onto toasted hamburger buns direct from the broiler. This fills 8 buns generously. Doubled or tripled it's an excellent recipe for a large crowd.

The "surprise" is that this delicious mixture firms up so the buns may be eaten in the hand.

ROBERT E. LEE

Beth Jacob Men to Hear Robert Lee

Robert E. Lee, curator at the Fort Wayne Military Museum for the Historical Commission, will speak Tuesday evening before the Men's Club of Temple Beth Jacob.

Cooperating with the Detroit Historical Museum, he prepared an exhibit on Jewish Life and Culture in Detroit to commemorate the American Jewish Tencentenary. In recognition of his work he was awarded the Tercentenary medal by the Detroit committee.

He is currently secretary of the Algonquin Club, a past president of the Detroit Display Club, and holds memberships in the Association for State and local History, Midwest Museums Conference, Michigan Historical Society and Detroit Historical Society.

Mr. Lee has chosen the topic, "What They Did There."

His talk at Rotunda Inn will be preceded by a 6:30 p.m. dinner. Marvin Talan will preside at the meeting.

Aging Makes Beef Tender

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (INS) —Properly aged beef, a little darker in color than the ordinary run, is more tender and juicy and has a characteristic flavor many people like.

Ordinarily, beef reaches the retail market one to two weeks after slaughter, but is sometimes ripened for a longer time under controlled temperature and humidity.

Aged beef is more expensive because there is added cost for refrigeration and for loss from shrinkage and additional trimming.

Extent of the change in flavor of aged beef depends on the length of the ripening period.

Program Set by Alumnae of 7 Colleges

Lodge to Address Eastern Groups in Detroit Oct. 15

Eastern college graduates of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area are taking the lead in the planning for a talk by Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, on Oct. 15 in Detroit's new Ford Auditorium.

Chairman Mrs. David H. Lynn, 7007 Middlebelt Rd., Bloomfield Township, enthuses, "It will be the first chance for many to see the new memorial auditorium and the metallic circus figures done there by Birmingham's Marshall Fredericks.

"With civic events scheduled on its first day, we have our program just the day after it opens," she adds.

Rivaling Grosse Pointe for presidencies of the seven college alumni groups uniting in sponsoring Lodge's talk, the committee shows influence of Eastern schools on suburban life.

PLANNED AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. William T. Gossett, who hostessed a planning luncheon last week at her Bloomfield Hills home, is Barnard Alumnae president in the Detroit area. Mrs. John C. Finegan of Birmingham heads Radcliffe Alumnae; Jeanne B. Lloyd of Birmingham, Wellesley Alumnae of the Birmingham area; and Mrs. E. Steven Bauer of Bloomfield Hills, Smith women of this area.

Other groups are of alumnae of Bryn Mawr, Mt. Holyoke, Smith (Grosse Pointe), Wellesley (Grosse Pointe) and Vassar.

Tickets for Lodge's talk, scheduled to deal with the U. S. role in world government, are available from Mrs. Phillips Van Dusen, a former Birminghamite now living in Grosse Pointe Farms.

HEAD COMMITTEES

Mrs. Gossett is arranging patronesses, who will number about 1,000; Janet Gallaudet, of Bloomfield Hills, is in charge of ushers. She also is doing the public mailing, which will reach about 2,500.

The committee is sponsoring a dinner for its own members preceding the Lodge talk, an event also at the Ford Auditorium.

Funds from the event, expected to attract about 1,000 will go toward scholarships for Michigan girls to the seven schools.

The Life and Legend of Actor James Dean

Not since Rudolph Valentino has the death of a movie actor produced such a wave of posthumous adulation as surrounds James Dean, killed a year ago in an auto accident. What are the facts? For the answers, INS looked to Dean's youth in Indiana, his career in New York and Hollywood. This is the first of five articles.

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

James Byron Dean, a blue-eyed, bushy-haired young man of great acting ability, charm and temperament, is rapidly becoming Hollywood's most popular actor.

He died one year ago, a star of three films, a star of no long-run Broadway hits, just 24 years old, still full of promise.

A tremendous, rapidly building "James Dean Myth" says that the star, killed Sept. 30, 1955, in a high-speed head-on auto crash in California, was something more than a good, young actor of promise.

The myth portrays Dean as the teenage archetype, a born genius, a poor, lonely, troubled mystical youth who wore T-shirts, rebelled against authority, suffered from a "death wish," had great musical talent, a desire for speed and independence.

STUDIED LAW

Like most myths, this one begins with some truth—his acting ability. But it exaggerates and minimizes facts to come up with the story the myth makers really want.

There can be no doubt about Dean's right to a myth. Warner Brothers Studio receives more than 5,000 letters a month asking about the tawny-haired young man who left his small Indiana town to study law in Los Angeles, took up acting, went to New York for television and the stage and returned to Los Angeles to triumph.

Hundreds of fan clubs have sprung up from Japan to Norway, wherever "East of Eden" and "Rebel Without a Cause" have played.

Thousands of young people speak of him like New York teenager Freda Rudnik: "His talent was special. It came from the heart." Or 16-year-old Patricia Magda, president of Dean's teens: "You get a feeling when you watch his pictures." Or Mrs. Therese J. Brandes, in her 20s, "He left us in a state that we just love his pictures . . . we're sensible. When we get to see a James Dean picture, we cry . . . we're so sad about Jimmy."

Practically every movie magazine and many others have featured articles on Dean. One-issue magazine like "The Real James Dean Story," or "James Dean Album," have sold well over a million copies.

PEOPLE MAKING MONEY

A girl named Carol Archer Sturmond, who never met Dean, wrote a poem printed in the magazine, "Hear": "I still see your face, Jimmie. I will never forget it, anymore than I will ever forget the brilliance and the magic that is Jimmie Dean."

Record companies have put out such items as "The Ballad of James Dean," and "James Dean (the greatest of all)."

Moviegoers, voting in an audience award poll, posthumously named him the best actor of 1955. He was nominated for the 1955 academy award. Already there is talk of a nomination for 1956 for his work in the still unreleased film, "Giant."

Friends, relatives and fellow workers have set up a non-profit James Dean Memorial Foundation, Inc., to perpetuate his memory in further drama, music and literature.

SENTIMENTAL VISIT

Dean's violent death in an auto crash has contributed immeasurably to the myth. A rumor spread that Dean was not killed but was so badly burned and injured that he lives today in the seclusion of a sanitarium.

Thousands attended his burial in Park Cemetery at Fairmount, Indiana. His grave is marked by a simple headstone: "James B. Dean, 1931-1955"—thousands more have sent flowers, stopped by the grave, driven through the little town.

Victor A. Selby Jr., president of the Fairmount Citizens Bank and a lifetime friend of Dean, says:

"Because of the roles he played (young men in both "East of Eden" and "Rebel Without a Cause") I believe he became a symbol of his generation. The fact that he was killed, when he was, actually added to his impact. If he had gone on living that impact might have been lessened."

MRS. STANLEY SWIERCZYNSKI

First Presbyterian Church was the scene of the Saturday wedding of Patricia Lee Butler and Stanley Swierczynski. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Butler of Henry Clay avenue and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swierczynski of State street.

Patricia Butler Is Wed to Stanley Swierczynski

Honeymooning in northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Swierczynski who were married Saturday evening at First Presbyterian Church. Dr. William H. Marbach officiated at the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis R. Butler of Henry Clay avenue are parents of the bride, the former Patricia Lee Butler. Stanley's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Swierczynski of State street.

For the ceremony performed in the presence of 200 guests, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta with a Peter Pan collar, tiny covered buttons on the bodice and long sleeves pointed at the wrists.

The Chantilly lace was repeated in her crown headpiece accented with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The gown was designed and made by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Clare Chapin of Lake Orion. The veil was designed and made by the bride's mother.

Mary Jo Chapin of Lake Orion was maid of honor. She wore forest green changeable taffeta and carried gold chrysanthemums in a cascade arrangement.

Walter Swierczynski of Lansing was best man. Ushers were Richard Adadow of Lansing, Neil Decker of Detroit and Lewis H. Butler.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Butler greeted her guests wearing a dress of gray taffeta and lace with pale pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Swierczynski wore a blue sheath with beige accessories. Her flowers were pink roses.

Sorority's New Officers Take Over

Mrs. Stanley Slabinski, newly elected president, presided at the recent meeting of Beta Alpha Chapter of Sigma Beta Sorority.

Other officers assuming their duties for the first time at this meeting were Jackie Downer, vice president; Mrs. Ronald Weaver, treasurer; Mrs. Paul Beith, recording secretary; Mrs. Richard Noble, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Thomas, editor; Mrs. Stanley Fisher, chairman of charities and Miss Windiate, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Richard Anderson was named gratuity chairman and Miss Downer, pledge chairman and custodian of the scrapbook.

Divorced Parent Must Curb Fear

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Gerry came home from summer camp with a rock collection, a tooled leather belt, soiled laundry —and a deep disappointment.

His father had failed to visit him on Field Day. At the last minute, he'd called to say that he had to rush his new wife to an ailing relative instead of spending the day with Gerry. Reporting this to his divorced mother, Gerry said bleakly, "I sure wish I had a Dad like other kids."

She sank down on his bed. Her immediate response was this: "Oh, how sorry I am that my broken marriage must hurt you this way. How I regret you must suffer because your father and I were mismated."

Thus, her first spontaneous sympathy for Gerry's hurt included some responsibility for causing it.

Then she became afraid of the responsibility. As she thought more about Gerry's hurt, it began to seem so cruel that she could take no responsibility for it. Frightened, she sought to place it all on his father, saying with rising anger, "There's no use in your ever expecting Daddy to keep his word. How many times do I have to tell you not to depend on him?"

So Gerry never got to know that his mother shared his pain over the Field Day disappointment, but was left with the impression that her feeling had been anger at his father instead of sympathy for him.

This was a pity. As a hurt little boy, he needed to know that he was not alone in his hurt. What he needed from his mother was not accusation for his father but comfort for himself.

He needed to be hugged and told, "That was a hard disappointment. I am sorry that Daddy couldn't come. But now that you know I am as sorry as you, we can cheer each other up. How about the zoo this afternoon?"

If we can only attack an ex-spouse when our divorced state brings hurt to our child, we ought to know why. Our first, true, spontaneous response to the hurt is always tenderness. Nearly always, if we look closely at our queer resistance to expressing that tenderness, we'll find it is fear of admitting any part in causing the hurt.

We must conquer the fear. For until it's overcome, it diverts all our attention from the child's hurts to the ex-spouse's faults. By making us too anxious to blame the other parent for all the child's pain, the fear blinds us to our own ability to comfort it.

It tricks us, like Gerry's mother, into changing our compassion into anger.

Cook Gets Food Hints on Vacation

Mrs. DeBeauclair Liked Sesame Toasted for Salad

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

When Mrs. Wayne DeBeauclair visited her sister in Hot Springs, Arkansas this summer, she was impressed with some of the food that was served. She says that rotisseries are almost standard equipment in that city.

Among the meats shet enjoyed most was smoked fresh ham. Housewives in Hot Springs need only to take a whole fresh ham to a certain bakery. For fifty cents it is smoked, cooked and delivered hot at serving time.

Mrs. DeBeauclair is an active worker in both the Saybrook group and the Couples Club of her church. She works in PTA and is a member of the YWCA.

A talent for cooking and a flair for fine and intricate mending are two of Mrs. DeBeauclair's accomplishments.

One special recipe brought back from Arkansas is the use of sesame seed in tossed salad. Toast the seeds in the oven until brown. Use one teaspoonful for each serving of salad.

After removing the seeds from the oven, mix with one tablespoon of butter or margarine for each four teaspoons of seeds. Sprinkle over the salad before mixing with either roquefort or plain french dressing.

Doting Mother Headed for Letdown

BY ANNE HEYWOOD

Most young mothers, when they hear the expression, "As the twig is bent, so the tree inclines," think entirely in terms of their children.

They are training their children to reach successful adulthood and that is the whole twig-bending department, as far as they are concerned.

Actually, the young mother is training herself, too. The way she bends the twig right now, in her early adulthood, is going to determine how her middle age turns out.

If she devotes herself entirely to the family, every second of the day, with no time out to develop herself, she will have a bankrupt middle age. She will bore her children to death in the bargain, to say nothing of her husband.

HEADING FOR TROUBLE

If she lets her own self-development come to an abrupt halt the moment she has her first baby, she will be hard put to it to pick up the pieces twenty years later.

* * *

Mrs. J. doesn't agree with me on this point. When we discussed it recently, she told me in no uncertain terms that I was voicing a selfish philosophy.

"My three kiddies deserve every minute of my time," she told me in a tense and harried voice.

"When they are in school, I spend the time after the housework is over in making extra clothes for them and fancy cookies and little improvements in their rooms. A normal mother devotes herself to her children."

The trouble is, my work brings me in contact with too many women like Mrs. J. when they reach their forties. The children have left and they are empty shells, with no inner resources, no interests, nothing to do but sit and wait for grandchildren.

When the grandchildren come, they move in on them, emotionally speaking, until the grown children rebel and tell Grandma off. By this time it's often too late for Grandma to build anything like a life of her own.

The wise young mother realizes that her effectiveness as a mother is related to her effectiveness as a person.

KEEPS INTERESTS

She grabs little seconds between chores and keeps up her interests. It may be just reading, or it may be a night course of a half-hour with the sketchbook or piano.

But it is important, because it makes her feel like a person in her own right.

Moreover, it refreshes her, so that she can return to the domestic chores with better temper and better energy. It makes her children like her better and find her more interesting.

But most of all, it prepares her for the day when she will be an unemployed mother!

Orange Blossom Cookies Are Treat

Cream ½ cup butter with ¼ cup sugar. Add ¼ cup light corn syrup and 1 egg. Beat well. Stir in 1 cup shredded cocoanut, chopped, and 1½ tablespoons grated orange rind.

Sift together 1¼ cups flour, ¼ teaspoon baking soda and ⅛ teaspoon salt. Add dry ingredients alternately to the creamed mixture with ¼ cup orange juice. Drop by teaspoonfuls onto greased cookie sheets. Bake in the oven at 350 degrees for 8 to 10 minutes.

Felts Resemble Fur

New long-haired felts look so much like fur, it often takes an expert to tell the difference. These fluffy-textured felts are favored by big name milliners as well as popular-price manufacturers, and simulate such elegant pelts as fox, sheared beaver and mutation mink.

Mayflower Unit Plans Activities

Eighteen members were present for the luncheon meeting of the Mayflower Group of First Congregational Church. Mrs. S. W. Barnes opened her home on Chippewa road for the Friday meeting. Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Zella Lewis and Mrs. C. W. Heathman.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Gale Hedrick, and Mrs. Sidney Olson reported on her experiences at Pilgrim Haven summer camp. She also displayed articles made at the camp.

Plans were made to assist with the annual smorgasbord to be held at the church Oct. 10, along with other projects planned for the fall season.

Let Friends Make Move to Go Home

Couple Who Shared Another's Car Can't Be First to Leave

BY EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: When we go out with another couple for an evening's entertainment, and we go in their car, do we have to wait until they suggest going home? The other evening my husband and I were out with friends of ours and we wanted to leave at a certain time but our friends showed no signs of leaving and we felt that we had to stay since it was their car. Would it have been proper for us to suggest leaving?"

Answer: You cannot say anything unless you had made an agreement with them before you left that you had to leave at a certain time.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My daughter was maid of honor at a friend's wedding recently. She was given the bridegroom's ring to take care of for the double-ring ceremony. Somewhere between the bride's house and the church, because of a lot of last minute confusion, the ring was lost.

"Needless to say, my daughter was, and still is, very much upset over it and thinks that she should replace the ring. I do not think she should as she would actually be buying the wedding ring for her friend's husband which does not seem right to me. What is your opinion?"

Answer: Since she lost the ring, she should buy another to replace it, if she possibly can, and if she can't, you should!

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married some time this fall. I had planned on having two young relatives of mine take part as flower girl and ring bearer. However, my fiance has a niece and nephew whom he would also like to take part in the wedding. Would it be proper to have two flower girls and two ring bearers?"

Answer: You can have two flower girls. You can have two ring bearers only if it is a double ring ceremony.

Plastic Sheet Handy

It's safe to give a visiting baby the best bed in the house—if you cover the bedspread with a plastic sheet. Nothing's easier to keep clean, of course. Just swab the plastic with a sudsy sponge, rinse, wipe it with hot water, and then wipe it dry.

Shoes That Don't Fit Can Hurt Child for Life

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Thousands of mothers all over the country have gotten or are getting their children outfitted for school. It is amazing how much more time and thought many of them spend on their own wardrobes than on the kind of shoes their small fry wear.

This is not because they are disinterested but because they do not realize that one or two pairs of ill-fitting shoes can give their child lifelong punishment.

Shoe manufacturers have done their part in providing shoes with soft, pliable leather soles and uppers. There are enough different styles to meet your child's wish to wear what is good form and style, whether he or she is in the first or fifth grade.

Foot doctors recommend shoes with leather soles and uppers because they have microscopic pores through which perspiration can evaporate, keeping the feet warmer in cold weather and cooler in hot weather.

This is especially important for children. If they go from steam-heated buildings to outdoor play they are apt to have winter-long sniffles. So, pliable leather shoes give support needed and also keep the feet at an even temperature.

THINGS TO REMEMBER

If you want to be sure that your child is properly fitted, here are a few things to remember.

1. You cannot rely on a child's statement that a shoe is comfortable. He will stand up in a shoe that crushes his bones like medieval torture and say that it feels fine if he likes the shoe.

Have your child stand on each foot while bearing his full body weight and feel to see if there is plenty of room for all the toes and at least ¼ of an inch between the longest toe and the tip of the shoe.

2. Be sure that the leather is firm enough to maintain its shape but not so stiff that it will rub blisters on the heels. Then check the lining to be sure that it has no ridges or projecting stitches. Lastly, press down on the insole to see that it gives a little, but not too much.

3. See that the uppers and soles are united with a leather welt. This keeps the feet dry and the shoe from twisting out of shape. Most shoes now have them.

CHECK OFTEN FOR FIT

4. Check frequently to see that the shoes still fit. There is no set rule but most growing children need new shoes every two months up to the age of 10 and then every two or three months.

5. To save yourself turmoil you might make a friend of your shoe salesman and have an understanding with him. If your little son or daughter is dead set on the wrong pair the salesman always can be out of the right size.

If you would like to have my exercises for the feet, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 14 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

MODERATION WATCHWORD FOR HEALTH, BEAUTY

It is a wonderful thing to take advantage of all of the new information about prolonging the youthful portion of life, about nutrition and the latest beauty aids. However, in their enthusiasm women are apt to think that if a little is good for them, a lot will be better still.

Don't overdo health and beauty! A woman may massage her face so avidly that she stretches the skin. She may take exercise to such an extreme when she is not in condition for it that she damages her health or builds bulging muscles. She may eat so much roughage that she gets an irritated colon.

There are cases on record of women who took such huge doses of vitamins over long periods of time that drastic symptoms developed. There has been some indication that large amounts of vitamin A may cause a loss of hair.

TAKE NORMAL AMOUNT

This does not apply to the usual dosage of vitamin capsules daily. My readers know that I believe in these. They do not take the place of correct diet, but with the lowered vitamin content in foods (which occurs because of storage and cooking and the kind of soil in which vegetables are grown) an addition of synthetic vitamins seems a sound measure.

This is merely a warning against self-medication. Do not take doses larger than usual without first checking with your physician.

We women are likely to be extremists. Once we make up our minds to lose weight, to improve health, to look younger longer, we may take all measures too far. Moderation seems to be the watchword.

For this reason directions always should be carefully given. This reminds me of the woman who was told to drink from six to eight glasses of water a day. Late in the afternoon she developed severe abdominal pains and was rushed to the hospital. She thought the doctor had said to drink 68 glasses of water a day.

So take advantage of all of the new information but take it easy!

Tomorrow: "Color Has Impact on Our Moods, Happiness."

Something to remember about your child's shoes: See that the uppers and soles are united with a leather welt. This keeps the feet dry and the shoe from twisting out of shape.

29 Attend Lunch, Meeting of Church Colonial Group

Twenty-nine members and guests of the Colonial Group of the First Congregational Church met Friday for luncheon and a meeting. Mrs. Marcus Scott opened her house on Marlborough drive for the meeting.

Mrs. Earl Treadwell served as chairman of the luncheon committee assisted by Mrs. Harry Pearce, Mrs. J. P. Niggeman, Mrs. Arthur MacFayden and Mrs. Gertrude Thomas.

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Fred Voelker, president, plans were discussed for the Women's Fellowship smorgasbord to be held Oct. 10 at the church. Mrs. E. C. Russell was appointed ticket chairman for the event.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Perle Bauma of Adrian, and Mrs. J. B. Tramer of Bloomfield Hills. Mrs. Adolph Magnus invited the group to meet at her house in Bloomfield Hills for the October meeting.

Dances Planned by Promenaders

The Warren Allens of Arcola drive were host to the Promenaders, Board of Directors at a planning meeting for the coming dance season. As in previous years, dances will be held the second and fourth Tuesday of the month at Daniel Whitfield School. The season begins Oct. 9.

A pre-season dance will be held Sept. 25 at the West Bloomfield Town Hall.

Mrs. Walter Koenig is handling tickets for the New Year's Eve Dance. They are on sale now.

Feb. 12 was the date set for the annual Presidents Ball, when presidents from other clubs will be invited to be guests of the Promenaders.

'Hat Tip' for Cafes

Smart restaurants are taking a tip from the lovely new dinner hats. Recently, the manager, of New York's Colony was seen at John Frederics salon, getting a preview of the new fashion so that he could redecorate in keeping with the latest style.

Church Group Holds Luncheon

Mrs. B. B. Kimball was hostess at her Lahser road home Friday to members of the February-December Group of First Presbyterian Church for a cooperative luncheon and meeting.

Mrs. William Marbach gave the Bible study from the Book of Ephesians, and Mrs. J. C. Covert reported on the study book "Christian Living, Family Style."

Mrs. Henry Koenig of Royal Oak, a former member of the group, was a guest. Members were invited to meet at the home of Mrs. Merle Voss on East Hammond Lake road for the Oct. 12 meetings.

Rice is making a comeback. Americans used to eat about 6 pounds of rice per person; around 1940 they ate only 4 pounds; but now each person eats more than 5 pounds.

Miss America's Mom to Remarry in October

MANNING, S.C. (AP)—When beautiful Marian McKnight, Miss America of 1957, returns home next month, one of the first events she will attend will be her widowed mother's wedding.

Mrs. Annie McKnight, Marian's mother, said she plans to be married to Cecil Cook, operator of the Manning Oil Co., either Oct. 18 or 19, the tentative dates set for Marian's return. Her husband, B. C. McKnight, died about 10 years ago.

Brownell Will Try to Halt Partisanship

WASHINTGON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Brownell says his department will try to see that there is "no partisan aspect" to ending racial segregation in the schools.

He said during a filmed television interview yesterday that "great progress is being made" in integrating the schools. He noted that the Justice Department is now involved in only one such court case — that affecting an appeal from what he called "the courageous action" of the Hoxie, Ark., Board of Education in ordering integration of its schools.

* * *

Brownell described as "pretty much of a speculative realm" the possibility that U.S. marshal may have to be used to enforce court orders but told a questioner that so far integration is proceeding "in an orderly way without the necessity of any action by the courts of the type that you suggest."

Towering Light Dimmed to Aid Southbound Birds

NEW YORK (AP)—A bright beacon atop the Empire State Building has been blacked out to prevent fatal crackups by southbound birds.

Bird lovers feared the dazzling light would charm thousands of night-flying birds off course and send them crashing into the skyscraper or each other.

The building management announced yesterday that the powerful stationary beam will stay dark until Nov. 1 and the end of the migrating season.

The announcement said the revolving beacons on the building will continue to sweep the Manhattan sky because moving lights "are not considered a hazard to birds."

Blonde Wife of Petty Officer Mrs. U.S. Navy

She was selected Saturday night from among 31 finalists from stations throughout the world. The contestants were picked on the basis of their contribution to their husbands' naval careers.

Mrs. Ellis comes from Wheeling, W. Va. Her husband Alfred, 28, hails from Nutley, N.J. They have been married seven years and have two children.

Bastogne Hero Tells of Soviet New Look

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe (ret.) says the "greatest challenge in our times" is the Soviet leaders' "avalanche of joviality and a tidal wave of vodka."

"Unfortunately, many of our friends seem to be accepting the 'new look' at its face value," the general said last night at a meeting of chemists.

McAuliffe, former commander of the U.S. Army in Europe, said, "There is nothing more important in the world today that the capacity of the free nations to meet the changing tactics of communism with imagination and enterprise."

But Don't Confuse It With Romance!

Love Is Here to Stay, Prof Assures World

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Probably the world's most over-publicized emotion—or would you, like Cole Porter, call it a "thing?"—is love on the boy-girl level.

Here is an attitude, a deception, a delusion, a confusion that until today we've heard only idiots and 16-year-olds feel qualified to define. Who was it who called love "a feeling you feel when you feel you are going to feel a feeling you never felt before?"

It is the only illness in existence that leaves a patient feeling worse when he gets better; a recurring kind of sickness, like malaria; for which there is no quick cure, as in the common cold.

Love is odd. Though at one time or sereval it causes a pack of trouble for almost everybody, no one wants to abolish it.

How long, one may well ask, can this miserable nonsense go on?

F. Alexander Magoun, director of the Marriage Study Association and former prof in "human relations" at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, says it's here to stay—and furthermore, it isn't bad at all once you get the meaning of it.

ROMANCE ISN'T LOVE

"Mankind," he says, " is barely on the theshold of understanding love. We know far more about water in its three physical states than we know about human relations."

Marriages frequently do not last, he believes, because there's too much emphasis on "romance." And romance isn't "love by a long shot."

"The inability to distinguish emotional chocolate sundae (infatuation) is imposed upon us early in life. The music of romance becomes familiar, dear irresistibly touching.

"Instead or recognizing romance as a daydream, a phantom, a will-of-the-wisp, it becomes a synonym for love . . .

"This, despite the easily observable fact that no matter how busily Aladdin rubs the lamp, only those two people who do not know each other intimately can feel romantic."

UNTOLD HEARTACHES

In other words, says Dr. Magoun, romance is stars in the eyes and an upset stomach and has nothing to do with love and marriage. "The struggle to put the glowing romanc of courtship into marriage, as though it were love, leads to untold heartaches."

The good professor has written a book for Harpers called "Love and Marriage," and in it is some of the most poetically expressed proof that love is not what the cynics and the adolescents like to think it.

And oddly enough, it is not many of the things even the poets have tried to make it—the worship and respect for someone, the serving of that someone, the giving of one's most ardent efforts to make another happy.

He sums it up this way: "The loving person loves himself, is completely self-respecting, does not care what other people think of him. Thus he has tolerance of himself, and only then can he love and be tolerant of another person's shortcomings."

Therefore, it is reasonable to assume that love occurs only among good people—people who are good enough to respect themselves, and thus others. And this probably explains why there are so many more romances than there are long enduring marriages.

Eye Bond Vote in Hazel Park

Citizens Group Starts Readying 2nd Ballot for School Funds

HAZEL PARK — A citizens committee here plans to call for a new school bond election this fall in an effort to solve the pressing problem of schoolroom shortage.

Voters turned down a $8,500,000 bonds issue recommended by the committee in the June 11 election.

Committee chairman Joseph J. Mitchell said this morning the committee may ask for a vote on a smaller issue and said he hoped a recommendation could be made to the school board within the next few weeks.

The $8,500,600 bond issue would have built a new high school, two junior high schools and eight elementary school additions.

A meeting has been called by the committee for next Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school. Mitchell said he hoped the committee will be able to work out a plan which the whole group supports.

See Terrific '57 Crop

Muskegon County blueberry growers estimate their crop has run one-third to one-quarter behind the bumper crop of last year. Concensus figures, however, predict a "terrific" crop for 1957, based on buds now forming.

MRS. CARLYLE HAGER

Mrs. Carlyle Hager, who spoke wedding vows with the son of the Carl Hagers, formerly of Pontiac and now of Marlette, recently, is the former Arlene Lenore Feick of Port Huron. The newlyweds are residing on their farm southwest of Marlette.

MRS. ROBERT L. JOHNSON

MRS. WALLACE GLENN TATRO

Dons Silk for Rites Saturday

The couple spoke vows in First Congregational Church in 6:30 p.m. ceremonies performed by the Rev. E. John Yuells before 200 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bertram Arscott, 517 Ludlow, and the bridegroom's parents are the Henry Carl Johnsons of 332 Ferndale.

The bride carried a Bible topped with an orchid and stephanotis as she walked up the aisle. A heart-shaped headpiece of pearls held her fingertip veil.

Her attendants, carrying white gladiola and wearing coral ballerina gowns were Mrs. Kenneth Thompson, a cousin from Plymouth, as matron of honor, and Mrs. James T. Upton and Mrs. Barbara Robertson, as bridesmaids.

Flower girls were two other cousins, Kathleen White of Inkster and Diane Norman of Detroit for whose mothers the bride had been a wedding attendant.

The couple, foregoing a honeymoon, will reside in Olivet where the bridegroom is starting classes at Olivet College. He was recently discharged from the Army after service in England.

Tatro-Dailey Vows Read at Lake Orion Church

A white pearl prayerbook with amazon lilies, stephanotis and a white catteyla orchid was carried by Lavonne Corine Dailey for her marriage Saturday morning to Wallace Glenn Tatro.

The square neckline of the floor-length gown of Chantilly lace over taffeta was accented by scalloped lace, seed pearls and sequins. A tiered tulle skirt extending into a chapel train fell from her fitted bodice.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas J. Dailey of Lake Orion are parents of the bride. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tatro of West Rutgers street.

The ten o'clock Nuptial High Mass at St. Joseph Catholic Church, Lake Orion was attended by 300 guests.

Maid of honor for the double ring ceremony was Mary Sue Taylor of Lake Orion. Marguerite Leipprandt and Penny Hanson were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of emerald green taffeta and carried bouquets of chrysanthemums, croton leaves and gladioli in shades of yellow, bronze and brown.

Best man for the ceremony was Vern L. Smith of Birmingham. Ushers were William Dower and Lane Vanderkoek. Cecil Lyan Griggers of Davisburg was ringbearer.

A reception was held in the Veteran's Hall in Oxford. A beige wool jersey dress was worn by Mrs. Dailey for the wedding. Her accessories were brown and she wore a corage of yellow roses. Mrs. Tatro wore a brown sheath dress with black accessories. Her flowers were red roses.

70-Mailbox Line Doomed at Orion

LAKE ORION — One of the landmarks of Orion Township, the line of over seventy mail boxes at Sunset and Clarkston roads, is disappearing. The boxes will be moved by today by owners so that Gordon Brown, mounted carrier, can deliver mail in front of their houses on Sunset boulevard, Walnut and Vernita streets.

According to Postmaster Arthur Weitchat this will eliminate a traffic hazard, for the long line of boxes are at the beginning of a sharp curve.

Mail boxes from Indianwood road will be placed in front of owners' houses on Absequamsi trail, and a group on Height road will be moved to Shady Lane, Pine Grove and Orion Drive.

Robert Gehrig, rural carrier, will bypass these areas and continue on his route down Clarkston road to Baldwin and then south.

Houses where the mounted carrier serves will not be able to get money orders or stamps as they did from the rural route.

Fall Fashions to Be Starred in Rochester

The luncheon at 12:15 p.m. at the Pontiac Elks Club will feature all fashions by Bloomfield Fashion Shop with professional modeling.

Co-chairmen are Mrs. Cecil Nirider and Mrs. Charles Talley, with Mrs. Richard Brooks in charge of tickets, Mrs. Warren Snyder, tables, and Mrs. Henry McNalley, staging and decor.

William Lords Visit Florida After Rites

MARLETTE — Lt. and Mrs. William K. Lord, who were wedded in Grand Rapids recently, are on a Floridian trip previous to reporting to the groom's Air Force base in Albany, Ga.

The bride is the former Virginia Dawn Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gregory of Grand Rapids and the bridegrom is son of Mrs. Kenneth Lord of Marlette and the late Mr. Lord.

The bride wore an embroidered tulle gown with fitted bodice and scoop neckline, and chapel train skirt. Her illusion veil was held by a crown of orange blossoms and tulle petals, and her bouquet included white carnations and sweetheart roses.

Nancee Peckover was her maid of honor and junior bridesmaid was Janice Gregory. Best man was J. Ronald Johnson of Midland, and ushers were Mark Kremer and Donald Nelson, both of Ann Arbor.

Youth Pays $75 Fine

METAMORA—Lewis Grubb Jr., 22, of Flint, who police say waited in the car while his two teenage companions broke into a Hadley police station last week has been fined $75 and freed after his charge was reduced from breaking and entering to simple larceny. He had no previous record.

His companions have been turned over to Genesee County juvenile authorities.

Sylvan Group Meeting

WEST BLOOMFIELD — Paul S. Kearns, president of Sylvan Manor Assn., is extending an invitation to all home owners in the subdivision to attend the first meeting this fall, which will be tonight at 8 in West Bloomfield Township Hall. The meetings, he said, afford a wonderful opportunity to "meet your neighbors and get better acquainted."

Russell Meirow Marries

DRYDEN — Roberta Bissett, daughter of the Ernest Bissetts of Imlay City, and Harvey Meirow, son of the Russell Meirows of Dryden were married Saturday in the Imlay City Methodist Church, before 60 relatives and friends.

The bride wore a beige suit with matching accessories and an orchid corsage. She was given in marriage by her father.

Her sister, Norma, was bridesmaid, wearing a tangerine suit with black accessories, and the groom's sister, Arlene, was maid of honor, wearing a rose pink suit.

Aiding the groom were Tom Seidell and the bride's brother, Raymond, and ushers were Fred Bissett and Earl Meirow.

A supper was served afterwards at the Meirow home on Hollow Corners road, and that evening 200 guests were received at the General Squires Club.

MSU Educator Set for Marlette Course

MARLETTE—Dr. H. M. Byram, educator at Michigan State University, will teach the course in principles of vocational education and practical arts this fall at the Marlette high school.

Area residents may enroll Thursday night, and the group will meet Thursday nights from 7 to 10 p.m.

Dr. Byram, who will come from the East Lansing campus to teach the extension course, is a professor in the department of vocational education. He has taught this course for MSU extension twice before and is co-author for the text.

Marlette Pair Married, Live in Georgia

MARLETTE — Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Curtis announce the marriage of their daughter, Nancy, to Airman First Class Kenneth Chard, son of the Harry Chards, at the Marietta, Ga., First Presbyterian Church on Sept. 8.

The young couple will live for the coming year in Marietta, where the bridegroom is stationed at Dobbins Air Force Base.

He was graduated from Marlette High School in the class of 1953, and has completed three years of a four-year enrollment in the U.S. Air Force.

Call Polio Rate 'Encouraging'

Total in Michigan Dives to Half of 1955 Mark, Deaths Drop to 3

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's polio record so far this year is "very encouraging" a State Health Department authoriy said.

There have been 401 cases in the state this year compared with 859 in the same period last year and 1,119 in 1954.

"More important, said Dr. F. S. Leeder, head of the department's Bureau of Disease Control, "is the drop in the number of deaths. There have been only three polio deaths so far this year. This is a remarkable figure when compared with the 213 deaths in 1953, our peak polio year."

The three deaths to date is the lowest number recorded since the Health Department started keeping track of polio cases in 1922.

The case total in the 1952 peak year was 3,912. The highest total of polio deaths was recorded in 1949 when 216 persons died.

The Health Department said there were 71 polio cases reported the past week. But 30 of these were late reports making the new total for the week 41.

This compared with 77 cases during the same week last year and 115 in 1954.

If the polio figures follow the usual trend, there should be a gradual decline from now on, Leeder said.

He said it 'can't be definitely stated yet that part of the decline is because of the use of Salk polio vaccine.

"The vaccine certainly appears promising," he said, "and we recommend that all children take the shots. But 1947 was a low year an we didn't have the vaccine then. We should wait a few year and we didn't have the vaccine before we can definitely link the low polio rate and the vaccine."

Hay-Filled Barn Burns at Milford

MILFORD — A barn full of newly-baled hay and about $200 worth of new plywood and other material for remodeling the adjacent farm home burned late Saturday.

J. E. Manley, who bought the farm and buildings on Wixom road recently, said loss would total about $5,000, with no insurance coverage.

Volunteer firemen from Milford fought to save nearby buildings after the fire was ignited by a rubbish fire started by workmen in an old silo foundatoin. Spread quickly by high winds, the fire nearly trapped Tom Manley, a son, who was rearranging bales of hay in the loft.

Hal Boyle Says:

American Pooches Never Had It So Good

NEW YORK (AP)—If the average man never had it so good in America—well, the average dog is having it even better.

"Dogs in this country are increasing faster than people, per cent agewise," said Walter Kendall, "and they are also better fed than their owners because they eat a more balanced diet.

"They are also healthier, because very few dogs drink or smoke."

Kendall, a Los Angeles dog food manufacturer who has raised some 500 Scottish terriers, is president of the National Dog Welfare Guild. The organization sponsors the 29th annual national dog week which opens Sunday.

The theme this year is Rover's role in creating a safe home.

"Some 17 million American families now own a total of 23 million dogs," said Kendall. "The growth of the suburbs is causing a tremendous increase in the dog population.

"But you don't need a police dog or a mastiff to protect your home. Burglars aren't scared off so much by dogs that attack them as by dogs that alert the household by barking.

"For this purpose the smaller dogs — terriers, miniature schnauzers and toy poodles — are often best, because they are more nervous."

Kendall gave this tip for training watchdogs:

"If you want the dog to guard your house at night, feed him in the morning. Then he'll be alert and hungry by nightfall, and won't fall asleep.

"If you want him to be alert during the day, feed him at night."

Kindall is a strolling encyclopedia of canine statistics, such as:

"Americans spent 264 million dollars for dog food last year, and the nation's pet shops grossed 50 million dollars from the sale of dogs.

"The average dog weighs 20 pounds, eats 800 calories a day, costs $50 a year to feed and lives to be 10 years old.

"The larger the breed the shorter the life. A great Dane ordinarily lives to be 7 or 8, a chinhuahua will last 12 or 15 years.

"I heard of one dog — I forget the breed — that lived to be 26. Since a dog lives seven times as fast as a person, that's equivalent to a man living to be 182. Very remarkable.

"Some parents now worry because their young children prefer dog biscuits to cookies. No reason to. They won't hurt a child and have more real food elements than most cookies.

"South Carolina has more dogs, in comparison to the number of people, than any other state. But dogs in California are better fed and live longer."

It seems that Rover, like his master, likes varying flavors in his food. His favorites: Meat, vegetable, cheese, ginger and charcoal. Not even a talking dog has ever been known to murmur, "make mine vanilla."

The dog, like man, often becomes a victim of man's civilization. Just like his owner he is prey to a host of ailments ranging from tonsilitis and halitosis to hepatitis and a seemingly increasing amount of cancer. Cancer in dogs usually, however, is external. This may be simply because internal cancers in pets are rarely diagnosed.

"People should beware of feeding their dogs candy and the wrong kind of table scraps," said Kendall. "They have a poor tolerance for sugar. Throws 'em right into dermititis."

Kindall gets real cross over owners who think it cute to feed their dogs alcoholic drinks. Booze can turn the mildest Fido into an uproarious cop-biter.

"Dogs tend to act like the people who own them," said Kendall. "If a man who gets aggressive when he takes aboard too much liquor starts sharing his drinks with his dog, the dog too is likely to develop an aggressive personality.

"It is inhuman to teach dissipation to an animal whose only real joy in life lies in loving you."

Seeks to Move Patients

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Lyle Rosso, director of Macomb County's Infirmary, is seeking space for 75 elderly patients in a proposed hospital addition. The state fire marshal has condemned the 50-year-old infirmary as a fire trap. Rosso said it would cost $60,000 to correct the hazards.

Thief Has 'Hot' Feet and Doesn't Know It

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (INS) — A thief who made off with a pair of shoes worn by a dummy at a Nashville Civil Defense display, has the first atomic feet in history.

Civil Defense officials say the shoes were used in the A-test "Operation Cue" and may be highly radioactive.

Malays Show Concern

KUALA LUMPUR (AP)—The government is considering measures to prevent leftist agitators crossing the half-mile causeway linking Singapore island to the Malay Peninsula. Authorities complain the agitators are responsible for industrial strikes.

The Alaskan brown bear is the size of a rat at birth. Cubs are usually born while the mother is denned up for the winter, and weigh 15 to 20 pounds when she leaves the den.

Bagwell Quits as Chief of State Citizens for Ike

FLINT (AP)—Paul Bagwell, Republican candidate for state auditor general, has resigned as chairman of the Michigan Citizens for Eisenhower saying, "I don't want anybody to think I am using that position for my own political advantage."

Bagwell, on leave as head of the School of Communications Skills at Michigan State University, said the new chairman is Eugene Pfeiffer, executive vice president of the Saginaw Savings and Loan Assn. and president of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce last year.

Bob Considine Says:

Inventive Americans Work at Record Rate

WASHINGTON (INS) — The one government bureau that doesn't seem concerned over the upswing in Russian know-how is the U. S. Patent Office. Americans are busier inventing all sorts of things than they've been since the peak year of 1932, when 56,856 patents were issued.

A bit over 1,000 patents a week are being processed. A vast majority are issued to men, but there is no law prohibiting the issuance of a patent to a woman or even an infant. Here are the rules:

"A patent may be granted on any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition or matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, or on any distinct and new variety of plant, other than a tuber-propatated plant, which is asexually reproduced, or on any new, original and ornamental design for an article of manufacture.

"A patent may not be granted on a useless device, on printed matter, on a method of doing business, on an improvement in a device which is the result of mere mechanical skill, nor for a machine which will not operate, particularly for an alleged perpetual motion machine . . . No patent is granted on a mere idea or suggestion."

Thumbing through this past week's "Official Gazette" of the Patent Office, characterstically more than 500 pages thick, one notes the new existence on earth of an automatic pilot for dirigibles, a cigarette holder that gathers in the ashes as the butt burns, a fertilizer that in addition to serving its normal purpose prospects for uranium, a new idea in door stops, a combination automobile-helicopter, a new fishing reel, an "odorous liquid for application to fish bait" —called Getzem, new jet engines, a 10-cent curtain threader, toothpick maker, automatic dust collector and pneumatic inner soles.

CULLED FROM MANY

The 998 patents listed and briefly described and illustrated in the above-mentioned "Official Gazette" are the end result of an avalanche of applications that descended on the Patent Office.

They ran the gamut of a staff of more than 800 examiners trained in all branches of science who diligently searched U. S. and foreign patents to see if itringement of any sort might be involved.

It all began on April 10, 1790, when President Washington signed the first patent bill—the first time in history that the intrinsic right of an inventor to profit from his invention was recognized by law.

Patent No. 1 went to Samuel Hopkins of Pittsford, Vt., but then living in Philadelphia for an improvement in "the making of Pot Ash and Pearl ash by a new Apparatus and Process."

The President signed the grant, as did Attorney General Edmund Randolph and Secretary of State Thomas Jefferson.

Four years later a young Yale graduate named Eli Whitney obtained a patent for his cotton gin, which brought about such massive changes in the nation as the enormously increased cotton trade, the textile industry, the increase in slave holdings, segregation, civil War and what not.

GREAT INVENTIONS

"The Patent Office has recorded and protected the telegraph of Morse, the reaper of McCormick, the telephone of Bell, the incandescent lamp of Edison," notes an office publication. "It has fostered the genius of Goodyear and Westinghouse, of Whitney and the Wright brothers, of Mergenthaler and Ives, of Baekeland and Hall.

"Under the patent system American industry has flourished. New products have been invented, new uses for old ones discovered, and employment given to millions. A small, struggling nation has grown into the greatest industrial power on earth."

Abraham Lincoln obtained patent No. 6469 on May 22, 1848 for "a device for buoying vessels over shoals." A man once got a patent for a baby spanking machine, guaranteed to break before permanent harm could be inflicted.

The incredible Thomas A. Edison was granted 1,097 patents, one or more every year for 65 consecutive years! He obtained four more posthumously. His patents ranged through 94 general classes of the 300 known classes in the patent realm.

George Westinghouse won 340 patents, Francis H. Richards 847, John F. O'Connor 949, John Hays Hammond Jr., about 500.

Your reporter, looking for a chance to make a million or two, today sat down and invented something: A tasteless sulphur band to be wrapped around the light-up end of a cigarette so that you could strike a cigarette instead of finding a match or operating a lighter.

Breathlessly, we took the idea to the Patent Office and a man there said that applications for a patent on that sort of thing averaged about 1,700 a week.

Announce New Way To Shrink Painful Piles

Science Finds Healing Substance That Does Both—Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®)—the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drugstores. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

P.S. DOCTORS PRESCRIBE SPECIAL LAXATIVE TO EASE PAINFUL ELIMINATION WHILE SHRINKING PILES

The makers of Preparation H also make Petro-Syllium®, a special type laxative prescribed by doctors for hemorrhoid sufferers. Softens hard dry stool and assures easy elimination without pain. Ask for Petro-Syllium.

Jewish People Returning to West Germany to Live

BERLIN (INS)—A West Berlin Jewish leader said today Jews are returning to West Germany from Israel and South America at the rate of 50 to 60 a month.

Heinz Galinski, secretary of the West Berlin Jewish Community, said between 3,000 and 4,000 have returned to West Germany during the past two years.

"The majority of them are elderly persons who left their country when Hitler's Nazis took over Germany," Galinski explained. "Ten-thousand Jews left Germany for Israel."

He said there are presently 23,000 Jews living in West Germany, of which 5,000 are in West Berlin.

"The reason for their coming back is that they found it too difficult to adapt themselves to the foreign languages, customs and climates of their newly-adopted lands," the Jewish official said.

Galinski added that the exiles also were lured back by West Germany's old age benefit laws.

He noted, however, whereas elderly Jews were returning to West Germany, Jewish youths were emigrating to the United States, Canada and Australia.

Galinski said the Jewish Community organization plans to open a special Jewish denomination school for Jewish children in West Berlin.

"There are now 500 Jewish children living in West Berlin," Galinski said. "The denomination school will be opened to them after next easter holiday."

He said similar denomination schools will opened in Frankfurt, Munich and possibly in Hamburg where a large number of Jews live.

Galinski said there are presently 1,800 Jews living in East Germany of which 700 are in East Berlin. Almost all of them are more than 50 years old, he noted.

"The Jewish population is a dying community in Communist East Germany," the Jewish leader said.

"There are Jewish synagogues in Erfurt, Leipzig and Dresden, but there are no rabbis to hold the religious ceremonies."

Chandler Explains His Actions

'You Do a Job You're Sworn to Do'

By KYLE VANCE

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—An angry mob stormed the courthouse at Lexington 36 years ago, bent on taking a young Negro rapist to the nearest tree. Six men were killed.

Gov. A. B. Chandler, then a student at Transylvania College, watched as officers turned back the raiders with machineguns.

"As they retreated," Chandler recalled in an interview today, "they left six or seven of their number sprawled on the ground, dead.

"Federal troops were brought in from Louisville, but too late to save men's lives. They didn't act fast enough."

He told the story in explaining why National Guard troops and state policemen were sent, on his orders, into Sturgis, Ky., two weeks ago to keep order in strife stirred up by the admission of Negroes in a previously all-white school.

"That experience was in my mind when the Sturgis trouble broke out," he said. "But I would have done as I did anyway.

"Mobs led by bad-tempered men were taking over. You can't let mobs enforce the law. The rights of the people were at stake. Streets were closed. Lives were in danger.

"We had to act fast. We knew the situation, because we had the information from an air-tight intelligence organization.

"My orders were to move in—not to force people to do things, but to open the streets and give the people free movement. I gave instructions to take over in force.

"The tanks were taken along for the proper psychological effect. Some men won't let a soldier with a gun push them. No man is going to argue with a tank.

"I am pleased with the results we have obtained so far. After all, nobody has been hurt and nobody has been killed. You can speculate that the reverse might have been true if we had acted slower. I am convinced that the trouble at Sturgis would have been serious."

Asked if he considered his action "politically popular," he said he was not concerned in the least over political implications.

"At times like this, you don't consider politics," he said. "You do the job you are sworn to do."

He said it was "absolutely untrue" that his friendship with Mayor Herman Z. Clark of Clay influenced his late movement of troops into that town after "taking over" in Sturgis from the outset.

Chandler then explained how secret agents of the state kept abreast of the situation in both Sturgis and Clay.

He said plainclothes state detectives moved into Sturgis when word first arrived that trouble was brewing.

"They wore overalls and mixed with crowds," he said. "They even attended the demonstrators' meetings. They knew what was going to happen as soon as anybody else did. In that way, we were prepared for the proper action at the proper time."

East Germany Bans It

American Rock 'n' Roll Blamed for British Riots

By EDDY GILMORE

LONDON (AP)—A wave of youth riots has been rolling over Britain—to the pulsating beack of rock 'n' roll music from America—but kids across the English Channel so far are not excited.

In Norway teen-agers "are playing rock 'n' roll just like everybody else but they're keeping their shirts on," says an Oslo dispatch. Italy's only reaction is a large-scale sale of records.

Frankfurt reports it's difficult to assess the part rock 'n' roll and other jazz are playing in soldier incidents in West Germany, but many incidents begin in bars where juke boxes regularly blare out American music.

Rock 'n' roll has been banned from the radio in Communist East Germany. However, word has seeped through that East German youth is going for it and picking up everything available from radio stations in the American sector.

Rock 'n' roll seems to be known in Paris only because of the antics in London and elsewhere.

The British antics, accompanying the showing of the American film, "Rock Around the Clock," exploded into a wide headache to the nation's understaffed police force.

Rioting began Aug. 26 in a movie house in London's Shepherds Bush section when 60 teen-agers jived up and down the aisles to the blaring notes of "See You Later Alligator." When the manager protested the gang picked him up and pitched him into the theater lobby.

Two nights later a rhythm-happy group of Teddy Boys (teenagers who dress in narrow pants and long coats) pounded up and down the aisles of a Paddington theater and finally one of them slashed the protesting manager with a razor.

Five London movie houses showing the film had to call on the police Sept. 2 when teen-agers got out of hand and smashed seats and slashed the screen. Police and special guards battled with the youths Sept. 4 in 12 theaters showing the picture.

In Manchester Sept. 9 Teddy Boys ripped firehoses from walls, sprayed the audience and then rushing outside tied up the city's downtown traffic for an hour.

Eleven movie houses, from Welling in Kent to Bootle in Lancashire, called out police riot squads Sept. 10.

Malaria Is Costly

Latin Republics Meet to Review Problems

WASHINGTON (AP)— Representatives of the presidents of the 21 American republics meet here today to review Latin America's economic problems, and ways of solving them.

The meeting grew out of a suggestion by President Eisenhower.

Dr. Milton Eisenhower, the President's brother, is the United States representative at the conference.

After the conference ends Wednesday, delegates are to consult with their governments, then meet again in Washington, probably early next year, to draft specific recommendations.

Harriman Faces Quiz of Campaign Expenses

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Sen. Carl Curtis (R-Neb) said today he expects New York Gov. Averell Harriman to be called to testify by a Senate subcommittee before its current sessions end.

In a statement through the Republican National Committee, Curtis demanded a "full investigation" of what he said were published reports Harriman spent upwards of two million dollars in his unsuccessful bid for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Harriman called the reports "preposterous."

No Room for Students

ADRIAN (AP) — No place to go is a problem for some pupils at crowded Adrian Junior High School, where study hall space is used as a lunchroom. Students whose study hours are cancelled by the lunchtime crush find themselves out of school as long as three hours in the middle of the day.

One of these eight will go to the hospital this year

It is true that, on the average, one out of every eight Americans will go to the hospital this year. It may be because of accident, sudden illness or need for surgery, or it might be a happy occasion like the birth of a baby. In any event the chances are that you or members of your family will need hospitalization several times in the course of your family life.

The cost of illness or injury can be a sudden and staggering blow to the family budget. Not only may there be medical and hospital expenses, but also loss of income. This is why it is well to be prepared for such an emergency . . . to have one of Metropolitan's new Accident and Sickness Policies to help pay for your loss of time from work . . . and, of course, Hospital and Surgical Expense Insurance to help cover the cost of hospital confinement or surgery.

How do you select such insurance policies? No advertising message could give you a complete answer to this question. Two of the more important considerations, however, in selecting sickness insurance are:

1. Choosing a policy which contains benefits appropriate to your family needs, at a premium cost within your budget.

2. Insuring with a company which has the facilities and the reputation for giving prompt and considerate attention to your claims.

Sound, competent advice by an insurance expert can help tailor a plan suitable to your needs. Your Metropolitan Representative is such a person. He has been carefully trained in the analysis of insurance needs, and he is interested in helping you get the most coverage for your money.

With Representatives located in more than a thousand Local Offices in the United States and Canada, insurance service the Metropolitan way is always nearby. You will find it a continuing source of comfort and security to know that in times of emergency . . .

Metropolitan service is as local as Main Street . . . as close as your phone

THE POWERHOUSE

By Jimmy Powers

Today he has ridden more winners than any jockey in the world.

He began his ride to fame in a box car, went through long years of borrowing tack for an occasional mount at bush tracks.

He rode his first winner at a recognized race course after 287 races. In three years of riding he had only 38 winners. He was told over and over again by kindly owners he would never make a race rider. He dropped so low that he fell to riding "Roman" races at Western fairs to "put meat on the table."

Johnny's first contract was with the late A. G. Tarn, whose daughter, Hazel, is now Mrs. Longden. Born in Wakefield, England, Johnny grew up in western Canada where his father worked in the mines.

Johnny had a taste of mining, which explains the broad shoulders on his small frame. But mining rigors gave him an equally powerful determination to find a career above ground.

GREAT FISHING SPOT

One of the most fabulous fishing clubs in the world is the Cabo Blanco Club, Peru, located at the confluence of two great ocean currents. Surging up from the south is the cold Humboldt current, a mass of water 150 miles wide.

It swings offshore to meet the southward sweep of the equatorial current. The junction of these two waterways creates a traffic jam of fish, large and small, like nothing else in the world.

Striped marlin, sailfish, big eyed tuna, broadtail swordfish, bull dolphin roosterfish and amberjack have been caught in record quantities.

GRANGE STILL GALLOPS AIRWAVES

Good to see Red Grange preparing for another year of football telecasting. His old college coach, Bob Zuppke, tuned his TV set into a football game Red was telecasting a few years back and remarked: "Grange has more people looking at him now than when he was playing football.

Grange flashed on the American sports scene in 1923 at the U. of Illinois. In the next three years he made every All-America and made his No. 77 a legend. In the Illinois-Michigan game of 1924 Red had six carries in the first 12 minutes of play.

He made touchdown runs of 92, 70, 57 and 43 yards. Later he ran 15 yards for his fifth TD, then threw a pass for No. 6.

He retired from pro football in 1935. He was elected to the all time All-America with the largest number of votes received by any of the grid greats.

Tigers Creep Nearer to 4th

Detroit Gains Two Victories Over Red Sox

Hitting Gives Bengals 5-4, 8-4 Wins Against Faltering Bosox

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers and the Boston Red Sox are making the runaway situation in the American League a little more interesting with a spirited battle for the first division.

The Tigers, after sweeping both ends of a Sunday doubleheader from the Boston crew by scores of 5-4 and 8-4, are only 3½ games behind the 4th-place Red Sox. Detroit has 11 games remaining, 2 with Baltimore, 3 against Chicago and 6 against Cleveland.

The Red Sox, with 10 games to play, must face the high-flying new York Yankees six times.

Can the Tigers make it? The players, picked for a 5th place finish before the 1956 season ever started, are sure they can. Manager Bucky Harris says "We'll be okay if our pitchers can come through."

While the Tiger starters faltered in yesterday's twin bill, the hitters and the relief pitchers pulled the club to a pair of come-from-behind decisions and put the Tigers seven games on the plus side of the .500 mark.

Jim Bunning, whose excellent work has been a big factor in Detroit's late - season splurge, nailed down the second-game triumph with a double-barreled exhibition of solid hitting and pitching after old-timer Walter Masterson picked up the victory in the lid-lifter.

The Tigers now have won 14 of their last 17 games and finished the season with Boston at 10-12.

Detroiter Wins Walking Race, Olympics Berth

The captain, Adolf Weinacker, also won a berth on the U.S. Olympic team with his victory in the Olympic walking trials. With a time of 4 hours, 38 minutes and 57.5 seconds, he bested defending champion Leo Sjogren of the Finnish-American A.C., New York and James E. Hewson of Buffalo, N.Y., both of whom qualified for the Olympic squad.

Miss Thriftway Beats Miss Pepsi This Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Gold Cup may have slipped her grasp, but persistent Miss Thriftway had a lock today on another of speedboating's major prizes, the President's Cup.

Miss Thriftway, a thunderbolt on water, roared to victory in two of her three heats over the weekend. And despite hurriedly mended damage to her hull, she finished second in the last of the 15-mile runs to defeat her bitterest enemy, Miss Pepsi.

The triumph, besides overjoying owner Willard E. Rhodes and driver Bill Muncey, gave Seattle grounds for glee in its torrid boating rivalry with Detroit.

Two weeks ago Muncey thought he had powered Thriftway to the Gold Cup at Detroit, but he was disqualified on an official's declaration that he had rammed a course marker.

That ruling, which Rhodes has appealed to the American Power Boat Assn., shifted the Gold Cup to otherwise second-place Pepsi, a Detroit hydroplane owned by soft drink executive Roy Dossin and driven by veteran Chuck Thompson.

Fourteen of North America's fastest hydros vied for the President's Cup. At the end of two days on the Potomac River, Thriftway was on top with 1,100 points and Pepsi next with 925.

Muncey, a master at cutting the turns close, steered Thriftway to a pair of heat victories over Pepsi. He said he nursed her to a second in yesterday's final to avoid further damage to the hull, gashed in bouncing over a wind-churned course in the semifinal.

Jack Regas, a 135-pound daredevil from Livermore, Calif., pushed Hawaii Kai III to a record 105.675 clip over one three-mile lap and 103.487 in one of two heats while winning a secondary regatta feature dubbed the American speedboat championship for the William Rogers Memorial Trophy.

Women's Meet Favors Lesser

Seattle Golfer Ready to Defend National Amateur Title

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Since Pat Lesser won the Women's National Amateur golf championship a year ago, you might think she had a pretty good golf game. But tall, tanned Pat from Seattle wasn't satisfied.

"I've made some changes in my swing since last year," she said before starting out against Sally Caroll of Wheeling, W.Va., for her first-round match today in the 56th Women's Amateur at the Meridian Hills Club.

As the field of 105 began play in the first round over the 6,340 yard, par 36-38—74 Meridian Hills course, Miss Lesser was rated as one of three or four favorites to go all the way. Others were husky, freckled Wiffi Smith, who has won the British and French women's titles this year; perky, blonde Barbara Romack, the 1954 winner, and little Marlene Stewart, the Canadian and former British champion and current U.S. collegiate champion.

MSU Picked for 2nd

Sooners Head Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The power in college football again lies in the Mid-West this season in the minds of the nation's experts, and Oklahoma is the pick to be the mightiest of 'em all once more in the pre-season Associated Press poll.

The sports writers and sportscasters who took part in the balloting voted over-whelmingly for Coach Bud Wilkinson's 1955 National Champions to repeat, and jammed no less than four other Mid - West perennials — Michigan State, Notre Dame, Ohio State and Michigan—among the Top 10.

Michigan State, a surprise runnerup in the final 1955 poll, again took the No. 2 spot behind the Sooners. Notre Dame was third. Then it was Georgia Tech, Ohio State, Maryland, Texas Christian, Michigan, Texas A&M and Pittsburgh.

Only the Far West and the Rocky Mountain areas were missing from the Top 10. That "who-payed - whom - and - how - much?" mess which chopped down Pacific Coast powers choked off the Far West, leaving Stanford no more than a 14th place prospect. The Rocky Mountain area, shut out among the top 20, again failed to come close to the nation's established powers.

Oklahoma, favored on 111 of the 150 votes cast for a 1,427-point total, had a challenge only from Michigan state. The Spartans piled up 1,050 votes, but with only 20 first-place ballots built its count with second and third place votes in the counting system which allows 10 points for first, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc.

The Sooners, with 30 straight victories, won't wait long to put the vote of confidence to a test. They tangle with Notre Dame at South Bend, Ind., Oct. 27 after getting a chance to break their own modern winning record of 31 (1948-1950) in their first two outings, against North Carolina and Kansas State. Another season sweep would better Notre Dame's national unbeaten record of 39 games (1946-50).

AP Wirephoto

Ward Repeats as Amateur Champ

Bubble Bursts for Kocsis

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP)—It was the general opinion all last week at the Knollwood Club that Harvie Ward just couldn't miss. He didn't.

The only thing the 30-year-old San Francisco auto salesman lost was eight pounds in weight, dropping to 151, as he ground down his rivals and finally defeated veteran Chuck Kocsis 5 and 4 in Saturday's finale.

Ward already has set as his goal the 1957 championship when the tournament is held at Brookline near Boston, a course he never has played. If he accomplishes it he will become the first man in the tournament's long history to take it three times running.

And already there is a boom on to name Ward as the U.S. Walker Cup Team captain next year. He was a member of the team in 1953 and 1955.

"Selection of a Walker Cup Team is a long way off and I don't want to comment that Ward will be named captain," said Richard S. Tufts, president of the U.S. Golf Assn. "But I would think he would be on the team, wouldn't you?"

His next competition probably will be as a member of the U.S. team which faces Mexico and Canada in the America's Cup matches in Mexico City Oct. 27-28.

In his showdown with Kocsis, Ward was 3-under-par for the 32 holes played while his opponent was 2-over. For the entire tournament, Ward was 11 under in 144 holes.

Kocsis, whose remarkable putting had featured his game throughout the meet, went stale on the 17th and 18th greens of the morning rund. He three-putted the 17th, missing an 18-incher on his last try after Ward had three-stroked from 40 feet. On the 18th he missed a 30-inch put.

If he had canned them he would have been 3-up entering the afternoon round. As it was he was only 1-up at the turn.

"That, in my opinion, was the turning point of the match," Ward said later.

Ward squared the match on the 24th, then won the next three holes in succession.

"As for me," said Kocsis, "my bubble just burst I met a fine golfer and he beat me."

Rams Muff Opportunities

St. Frederick Bows, 12-0

St. Frederick's inexperienced football team muffed numerous golden scoring opportunities Sunday afternoon and extended its winless string to 26 games.

Marine City Holy Cross struck for touchdowns in the 1st and 4th quarters, then repulsed all efforts to cross its goal to defeat the Rams, 12-0, in the 1956 season opener at Marine City.

Jim Springborn, a transplanted end who starred at halfback for the Crusaders last year, scored the 1st touchdown. While on his knees in the end zone, he grabbed a 35-yard pass from quarterback Vic Piper to break the scoring ice.

Piper had set up the scoring situation by intercepting a Tom Derocher pass. The Piper-to-Springborn aerial came late in the 1st quarter on a 4th down play.

Holy Cross marched 65 yards for its 2nd touchdown, hitting paydirt on the 2nd play of the final period when Piper swept 16 yards around right end.

Piper crossed the goal line again with four minutes remaining in the game, but all to no avail. A clipping penalty nullified a 65-yard dash with an intercepted pass.

Fumbles and the clock prevented St. Fred from denting the scoreboard.

Marty Koenig intercepted a Crusader aerial in the 3rd quarter and sprinted 70 yards to the Holy Cross four-yard stripe where a fumble lost possession on the 1st play from scrimmage.

The Rams reached the Crusader 12 in the 1st period and again lost the ball on a fumble. They drove to the Holy Cross two-yard line in the last quarter as precious time ran out.

Stand Collapses During Regatta, 35 Are Injured

Officials said the stand apparently gave way when the approximately 600 persons on it leaped to their feet at the start of the final heat of the power boat races. The wooden platform was about 50 feet long and 3 feet high.

Beat Giants, 21-16

Bears Still Unbeaten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's getting about time for Otto Graham to come out of retirement again.

There has been no indications that Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns will ask his star quarterback of many years to change his mind about quitting football for good. But the way the National Football League champions have been going in exhibition games, Brown apparently is going to have to do something and quick. The championship season opens Sept. 30.

When the Browns dropped a 31-14 decision to the Detroit Lions Saturday night it marked the fifth exhibition defeat without a victory for the champs. It also was the second loss to the Lions, who have a 4-1 exhibition record.

The Chicago Bears remained the only unbeaten club, turning back the New York Giants (3-2), 21-16 for their fifth straight triumph. Pittsburgh's Steelers (1-3) edged the Philadelphia Eagles (1-5), 14-12. Green Bay (4-1) continued to show championship form with a 29-21 victory over the Chicago Cards (1-4) and Baltimore (2-3) took the measure of the Washington Redskins (3-2) 21-13.

Two veterans paced the Packers to their triumph. Fred Cone kicked three field goals and Tobin Rote, former Rice star, scored twice and passed to Bill Howton, ex-college teammate, for the third touchdown.

A 97-yard runback of a kickoff by Lowell Perry, one-time Michigan star, carried the Steelers to their narrow victory over the Eagles. It was the second time this season that Perry had run back a kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown.

George Blanda passed for two touchdowns, set up another and kicked three extra points as the key man in the Bears fifth victory.

St. Rita 11 Wins; Dales, Shrine Lose

Touchdown runs of 70 and 30 yards by halfback Jim Jacobs led Hazel Park St. Rita's football team to a 25-0 victory over Detroit St. Cecilia Sunday afternoon at Hazel Park.

In other games yesterday involving Suburban Catholic League teams, Highland Park St. Benedict whitewashed St. Francis de Sales, 14-0, and Visitation defeated Ferndale St. James, 19-13. Royal Oak Shrine was nosed out by Holy Redeemer, 14-12.

Bout Date Changed

BOSTON (AP) — Former welterweight champions Tony DeMarco of Boston and Kid Gavilan of Cuba will meet in a 10-round bout at Boston Garden Saturday, Oct. 13, instead of four days earlier.

Matchmaker Sam Silverman announced the change in dates last night for the bout which will not be telecast or broadcast.

Bada Paces GMC Victory With Course Record 63

The area's hottest club swinger hung up another new course record Saturday at Davisburg when he fired a 33-30—63 to lead his 24-man General Motors Truck & Coach team to victory in the annual General Motors golf tournament. Bada's 63 was two under the former mark.

Truck squad broke a four-year old meet total by 26 strokes, compiling 1890 for the 18-hole event. Fisher Body's 1901 and Pontiac Motor 1952 followed.

Par, out	344	445	345	—36
Bada, out	433	444	254	—33
Par, in	344	445	345	—36—72
Bada, in	443	343	233	—30—63

It was a great day for the redheads, for another carrot-top, "Red" Pender, playing in Bada's foursome fired a sizzling 69 (36-33).

Maglie Hits Mound Peak

The 39-year-old pitcher now owns an 11-4 record for the first-place Dodgers. Even Birdie Tebbetts, Cincinnati manager, admits he's better than ever.

Maglie won another big one yesterday, whipping powerful Cincinnati 3-2 with a last out assist from reliefer Don Bessent. The former New York Giants and Cleveland Indian has won six straight and nine of his last 10 games, beating Milwaukee and Cincinnati to help Brooklyn open up a half game lead.

Although Tebbetts and other managers have hinted from time to time that old Sal was moistening the ball a bit, nobody ever has proved it. His main stock in trade is the curve ball and he throws at least three different varieties.

Reds Meet Brooks, Braves Play 2

Crucial Series in NL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Just two weeks ago, the Brooklyn Dodgers appeared to be finished. They had dropped a doubleheader to the New York Giants, their hitters were floundering and their pitchers were unsteady.

That was 14 days ago, and to Manager Walt Alston it probably seems like 14 years.

Today, the Brooks are at the top of the heap in the tight National League race. They have a working margin of a half-game over the Braves, are one game up in the vital lost column, and play most of their remaining games in the friendly confines of Ebbets Field.

While the Braves certainly cannot be accused of wilting under pressure, there are these facts to be considered:

1. They have lost eight of their last 13 games.

2. They are at .500 in their last 10 games.

3. In their last 13 games, their pitchers have turned in only two complete games. Bob Buhl has been knocked out four times in a row and Lew Burdette twice.

4. Normally a placid lot, the Braves have been snapping at the umpires, a sure sign of their high tension.

So it is apparent that their own failure, as much as any streak by the Dodgers has been hurting them.

Their game with the New York Giants was postponed because of rain yesterday while Brooklyn was whipping the Cincinnati Redlegs, 3-2. The defeat was a severe blow to the Redlegs. They now are three games out with only 12 to go.

Yesterday's postponement means the Braves must play the Giants a twi-night doubleheader tonight. That they don't mind, for they welcomed the day's rest.

While the Brooks were struggling to open up daylight in their league, the New York Yankees were frustrated in their effort to wrap up the American League pennant when they could do no better than a split with Cleveland. The Yanks won the opener, 10-3, to assure themselves of no worse than a tie, but dropped the nightcap, 4-3.

Both the Indians and the Boston Red Sox, who dropped a pair to the Detroit Tigers, 5-4 and 8-4, were eliminated. Only the Chicago White Sox, who took two games from the Washington Senators, 7-5 and 7-2, still are in the running. The next game the Yanks win or the White Sox lose will end it.

The doubleheader between Baltimore and Kansas City wound up in a stalemate. The Orioles won the first, 3-2, and the A's the second, 10-1.

In other NL games, St. Louis won the first from Pittsburgh, 3-2, but the Pirates captured the second, 9-3. Chicago and Philadelphia also split, the Cubs grabbing the first, 7-4, and the Phillies the afterpiece, 4-1.

Six Top Backs Give 'M' Hopes

Pair of Ohio Sophs Shine for Wolverines in Scrimmage

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Can six able backs win a Big Ten football title and make it through the rugged conference season in one piece?

The very next day, left halfback Ptacek slammed 36 yards through a reserve team for a driving touchdown — and then passed 30 yards for another.

The man who caught the scoring pass had a similar story to tell. Fullback John Herrnstein, a 212-was banged up in spring practice—but you couldn't tell by his Saturday scrimmage performance. He scored three touchdowns.

Between them Herrnstein and Ptacek accounted for four of the eight touchdowns the varsity scored against the reserves in the closed game-style scrimmage in the 100,000 seat Michigan stadium.

Stefani's 4 Goals Pace Rangers' Win

Led by Mac Stefani with four goals and Jack Ivory (team captain) with three markers, Ivory Rangers defeated the Pontiac Chiefs in a Sunday game 8-2. Whitehead, a new rider, scored the other goal for Rangers.

Sunday's match probably wound up the polo season at the new field west of Pontiac. Big earth movers and other equipment is already on the ground to begin work on the permanent layout, to be ready next year.

Rangers led at halftime 5-0. Stefani scored early, while Ivory bagged his goals in the 5th chukker (2) and the 6th. Chief goals came in the 4th and 5th chukkers

Skippers Give Chief Harriers First '56 Test

New cross-country coach Mike Andonian will get his first look at the 1956 Chief Harriers under competition, Tuesday afternoon. The squad will meet a Waterford crew on Beaudette park's course in the opening meet.

"I have only two lettermen out at present, but expect Perry Williams, rated No. 3 last year in the state, to help us out," Mike reported today.

Williams, ace miler on the state MHSAA champion track team, was also the Chiefs' No. 1 harrier last season. With both runners who led him in the state meet graduated. Perry looms as a potential state champion, if he decides to run again this fall.

Andonian's top hopes just now are Pete Cox, Roger Coats and Hastings Martin, all members of the 1955 team. About 25 have signed for the team, with more than a dozen working out all last week.

Fans Jam Canadian Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Canada's professional football leagues are cashing in on record-standings have a familiar look.

With the season nearing the half-way mark, it is the Montreal Alouettes in the east and Edmonton Eskimos in the west at the top of the standings.

The champion Eskimos delighted an all-time record crowd of 21,737 at Edmonton Saturday night with a 34-8 walloping of British Columbia. In the other Western game, the Calgary Stampeders defeated the Winnipeg Blue Bombers 16-6 on a 61-yard touchdown run by Joe Pagliei, 22-year-old Clemson College alumnus.

The Eskimos now have 12 points, six up on the Winnipeg Blue Bombers, BC and the Saskatchewan Roughriders, all tied for second place.

In the East, the league-leading Alouettes lost 20-9 to Ottawa's Rough Riders.

Wall Winner on Extra Hole

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., has destroyed the jinx against former champions repeating in the Fort Wayne Open golf tournament, but it took an extra-hole playoff to do it.

Wall was tied with Bill Trombley of Dallas, Tex., and Gardner Dickinson of Panama City Beach, Fla., at 269 after 72 holes yesterday but fired a birdie 3 on the overtime hole to take top prize money of $2,400 in the $15,000 tournament.

His other victory here, in 1953, came the same way. He bested Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis in the playoff. No champion had repeated in six previous years of the tourney.

Even Earphones Don't Help

Lions Still Have Browns' Number

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions pounded faltering Cleveland, 31-14, in a weekend National Football League exhibition game despite the fact that Browns' quarterback George Ratterman was wired for sound.

Cleveland held a 14-7 lead at the half before a crowd of 28,201 at Akron, Ohio. But the Browns wilted in the second half when the Lions scored 24 points.

Coach Paul Brown, who usually has something up his sleeve, had something in Ratterman's helmet this time. Instead of his messenger-guards, brown called the plays by telephone.

The Cleveland quarterback had a tiny receiver and reception unit wired into his helmet and Brown gave him directions through a speaker on the sidelines.

Rookie quarterback Jerry Reichow, the former Iowa star, got the Lions off to an early 7-0 lead in the first quarter with a one-yard plunge. Linebacker Joe Schmidt set the stage for the score by intercepting a Ratterman flat pass and racing 32 yards to Cleveland's 2 before he was dropped.

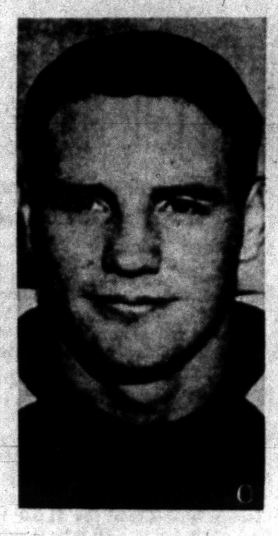
Schmidt also figured in perhaps the game's most exciting play. In the fourth quarter he picked off another Ratterman toss, ran 10 yards and flipped a lateral to Karl Karilivacz, who sped 68 yards for the final touchdown of the game.

The Lions tied the score at 14-14 after the second half kickoff, marching 80 yards in 14 plays. Bobby Layne's nine-yard pass to end Dorne Dibble climaxed the drive.

Later in the period, Hopalong Cassady ran a punt back 56 yards for a TD and put the Lions ahead to stay.



PUNT RETURNER — For the third time during the Lions preseason schedule, Hopalong Cassady has returned a punt of 50 yards or more for a touchdown. He went 56 yards against the Browns Saturday after taking the kick.

Spotlight on Texas

Irish, USC Face SW Foes

DALLAS (AP)—The Southwest Conference shoves off on a gaudy intersectional football schedule this week with prospects of making a good showing in quantity if not in quality. The two games this league would rather win most may be out of reach.

Southern Methodist, a team that reeks with inexperience, meets Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl here Saturday night. Texas, generally ranked about fourth in the conference, engages Southern California at Austin at the same time.

The three acknowledged championship contenders get foes that had poor records last season and don't appear capable of bettering them this time. Texas Christian, big, tough, deep in experienced material and rated the strongest potential in its history, opens with Kansas, a team the Christians walloped 47-14 last season.

Texas A&M clashes with Villanova, which hasn't beaten anybody much in years. Baylor goes out to Berkeley to engage California, not too strong last year and further weakened by the subsidization rhubarb on the West Coast.

Rice plays Alabama, a team that didn't win a game last season. Even Rice, which is green as prairie grass this season, seems to have enough to handle the rebuilding Crimson Tide.

That leaves Arkansas, which gets Hardin - Simmons of the Border Conference at Fayetteville. Arkansas might find Hardin-Simmons with its Sam Baugh aerial ideas a worthy foe, especially since it appears senior quarterback George Walker won't be able to play with the Razorbacks because of injuries.

* * *

If this week's games go the way they look, it will pretty well establish pre-season forecasts are accurate.

Ike to Receive German Plates as Orbach Gift

The plates, made by the 300-year-old pottery firm of Mueller and Doening, were shipped to German-born Karl Reuling of Franklin, N. Y., for presentation to the President.

'No $1,000,' Hall Tells Harry

GOP Chairman Claims H.S.T. Still Can't Prove Traitor Charge

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said today former President Truman's claim of proof that Vice President Nixon called Truman a traitor is "without foundation."

Truman, saying 'it has been proved rather conclusively," made public Saturday a letter suggesting that Hall contribute to the Korean Red Cross the $1,000 he had offered last February if such a statement were proved.

Replying today, Hall told Truman his letter "like so many of your speeches, is without foundation," and added:

"When you try to leave the impression with the people that you have been accused by Vice President Nixon of being a traitor to America, the statement is without foundation, and your letter contains no proof of it."

Hall in his letter used the term "traitor to America." Truman, like Hall in his original statement, used only the word "traitor."

Hall made his offer Feb. 12 on a filmed television program on which he appeared with Representatives F. Edward Hebert and Hale Boggs, Louisiana Democrats. It was in reply to a question from Hebert, and Hall in his letter to Truman quotes himself as saying: ". . . If you find where he (Nixon) said Mr. Truman is a traitor or you find where he said the Democrat party is a party of treason, I'll make a donation of a thousand dollars to any charity you name."

Associated Press stories on Oct. 27, 1952, quoted Nixon as saying in a speech at Texarkana that Truman, Dean Acheson and Stevenson "are traitors to the high principles in which many of the nation's Democrats believe." They went on to quote Nixon: "Real Democrats are outraged by the Truman-Acheson-Stevenson gang's toleration and defense of communism in high places."

Acheson was secretary of state under Truman.

6-Hour Blaze Ruins 3 Stores in Hancock

HANCOCK (AP) — Fire roared out of control for more than six hours last night, wiping out three stores in downtown Hancock and causing more than $200,000 damage.

The only casualty was a fireman overcome by smoke, who responded to first aid.

Six fire departments battled the blaze that threatened the main street of this Upper Michigan town of 5,223 persons.

Flames licked at a welfare building and endangered a hat shop, Hancock's biggest department store and a bank, but firemen soaked the area with water.

The fire apparently broke out in the furnace room of the Hodge Sport Shop with a small explosion. Flames raced quickly through the sport shop and the Cloverland Candy Kitchen which occupies the same building.

JOHNSTOWN, N.Y. (AP) — There were complaints aplenty about the old-fashioned nib pens in post offices but, says Johnstown Postmaster George McMillan: "No one every stole them." He chained 10 new ballpoint pens to writing desks Monday. Every one of them had been stolen by Saturday.

Hollywood Headlines

'Anniversary Waltz' Play Will Be Made Into Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — "Anniversary Waltz," the hit Broaway play that ran for two years and has played in practically every major city in the U.S.A., is coming to the movies. Who better than Joseph Fields, the author, to script and produce it.

This announcement was made by Arthur B. Krim, president of United Artists Corporation. He has just concluded a deal with the Fields Production Company.

It was bound to happen eventually, either as a movie or a play—and here it comes—"The Life of Will Rogers." Arnold Marquis has obtained the rights from the Rogers' estate to dramatize the life of America's beloved humorist.

I am fascinated with the way "Jack and the Beanstalk" is being presented as a TV spectacular. Helen Deutsch, who wrote it, tells me it's basically the fairy tale but it has been expanded into an adolescent story with a moral toward solving teenage problems.

To think I should live to see "Jack and the Beanstalk" solve a problem! I used to be terrified of the giant — a hundred years ago when I was a child.

At any rate, Helen says that Joel Grey has just been signed to play Jack for the Nov. 12 show, and, of course, Celeste Holm already has been announced to play Mad Maggie. And Peggy King is also in the cast. There have been many new characters added.

SERIOUS INJURIES

Poor Brod Crawford's injuries from falling off that location truck are much more serious than first thought when he was rushed to St. John Hospital. He has a broken wrist, sprained back, a slight concussion and X-rays may reveal he has a broken nose.

Even though Brod expects to be released from the hospital next week, the accident has set back his TV show, "Highway Patrol," so far that he won't be able to go into "Do Ri Mi" with Jayne Mansfield and Tom Ewell.

One hundred thousand dollars was planked down by Freddie Brisson for the film rights to "The Loving Couple" by Patrick Dennis—oh, pardon me, Pat wrote this under his other pen name of Virginia Rowans. He is the one who wrote "Auntie Mame" for Rosalind Russell.

The story of "The Loving Couple" is very amusing, telling first the side of the wife, then the side of the husband, printed upside down. It is a rip-roaring comedy and will not be a musical as were "The Pajama Game" and "Damn Yankees," Freddie's other two smash hits.

The busty blonde flew in yesterday with an entourage that included her 5-year-old daughter Jaynie Marie, weightlifter Mickey Hargitay and two Chihuahua dogs — Phillip and Charlessa.

Jayne, unnoticed in Hollywood before she hit the jackpot in Broadway's "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter," told newsmen at the airport:

"I'm grateful to New York for what it did for me, but now that I'm back here I want to stay 99 years."

She begins work on the film "Do Re Mi," with Tom Ewell.

Bulganin Proposes Disarmament Talks

WASHINGTON (INS) — Soviet Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin has proposed a new East-West disarmament conference while renewing Russia's objection to President Eisenhower's "Open Sky" inspection plan.

Bulganin said a ban on nuclear tests could serve as an important initial step toward an agreement on disarmament.

His letter to Eisenhower, delivered in Washington Wednesday and made public yesterday, was a reply to the President's Aug. 4 message.

There was no comment at the White House or at Eisenhower's headquarters at Gettysburg, Pa.

Grains Edge Little Higher

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grains tilted a little higher in fairly active dealings on the Board of Trade today.

* * *

A firm tone prevailed in wheat and rye, while oats held steady. Soybeans eased but losses did not run very large. In contrast the September contract strengthened while other months tended a little lower.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅝ higher, Sept. $2.26¼, corn ¼ lower to ⅜ higher, Sept. $1.49⅞, oats unchanged to ¼ higher, Sept. 72¼, rye ½ to 2 cents higher, Sept. $1.50, soybeans ¼ to 1 cent lower Sept. $2.29¾, and lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, Oct. $11.25.

* * *

Wheat started out firm, was knocked back by profit taking, and then quickly rallied above the previous close. The distant futures showed the most strength.

With the July wheat contract the main influence was continued dry weather in the winter wheat belt. This has led to the belief that farmers will put a good portion of their 1957 winter wheat acreage into the soil bank, thereby reducing the crop.

Market Shows Mixed Dealings

The Market was higher in the early stages but turned mixed near midday. Chemicals were down, rails were up a shade and most other major divisions were irregular.

Pivotal issues generally moved within a point a share in either direction. A few favored stocks managed gains of 2 to 3 points.

Trading was estimated at around 2,200,000 shares for the day, compared with Friday's 2,100,000 shares. Today's early advance was a carryover from the higher market Friday when railroad issues registered good gains.

In the chemicals, American Cyanamid, Union Carbide and Du Pont dipped more than a point. Texas Co. and Gulf Oil Bethlehem were off between 1 and 2. Gulf had opened up 1⅛.

Ahead a point or so were Caterpillar, Goodrich, Chance Vought, International Paper and Hiram Walker.

Says Nixon Lied to Win in 1950

Mrs. Roosevelt Raps Tactics Used to Beat Mrs. Douglas

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt says Vice President Nixon employed a Communist issue he knew to be false in his campaign for the Senate in 1950.

"I've always felt that anyone who wanted an election so much that they would use those means did not have the character that I really admired in public life," she said.

Mrs. Roosevelt was asked yesterday on the NBC-TV program Meet the Press what she thought of Nixon. She replied:

"I happen to remember very clearly his campaign for the senatorship. I had no respect for the way in which he accused Helen Gahagan Douglas of being a Communist because he knew that was how he would be elected and I have no respect for the kind of character that takes advantage and does something they know is not true.

"He knew that she might be a liberal and he knew quite well, having known her and worked with her, that she was not a Communist . . ."

Nixon defeated Mrs. Douglas, a Democrat, for a Senate seat from California in 1950. Both had served in the House of Representatives.

Mrs. Roosevelt was asked if Nixon actually called Mrs. Douglas a Communist in that campaign.

"Yes, he did," she said.

A search of news files did not show that Nixon made such an accusation. He did say during the campaign that if Mrs. Douglas had her way, Alger Hiss would still be influencing U. S. foreign policy.

* * *

Hiss was imprisoned for perjury for denying he passed out State Department secrets for a Russian spy ring.

NOTICE OF SALE
$1,000,000
WATERFORD TOWNSHIP SCHOOL DISTRICT
OAKLAND COUNTY, MICHIGAN
BUILDING AND SITE BONDS
SERIES 1

Sealed bids for the purchase of Building and Site Bonds, Series 1, to be issued by Waterford Township School District of Oakland County, Michigan, of the par value of $1,000,000 will be received by the undersigned, at the office of the Board of Education, 3101 West Walton Boulevard, in said school district (Post Office address: Pontiac, Michigan), until 8:00 o'clock P.M., Eastern Standard Time, on Thursday, the 4th day of October, 1956, at which time and place said bids will be publicly opened and read.

Said bonds will be dated August 1, 1956, will be coupon bonds in the denomination of $1,000 each, will be numbered consecutively in the direct order of their maturities from 1 to 1,000, both inclusive, and will bear interest from their date at a rate or rates not exceeding 4% per annum, payable December 1, 1956 and thereafter semi-annually on June 1 and December 1. Each bid shall state the annual rate or rates upon which it is submitted, expressed in multiples of ¼ of 1%. The interest rate for each coupon period on any one bond shall be at one rate only. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially on the first day of June in each year as follows: $25,000 in each of the years 1959 thru 1961, $30,000 in each of the years 1962 thru 1965, $35,000 in each of the years 1966 thru 1968, $40,000 in each of the years 1969 thru 1971, $45,000 in each of the years 1972 thru 1974, $50,000 in each of the years 1975 and 1976, $55,000 in each of the years 1977 thru 1979, and $60,000 in each of the years 1980 thru 1982. Bonds maturing in the years 1977 to 1982, both inclusive are subject to redemption at the option of the school district prior to maturity, in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after June 1, 1967. Bonds called for redemption prior to maturity shall be redeemed at par and accrued interest plus a premium on each bond in accordance with the following schedule:

$25 if called to be redeemed on or after June 1, 1967 but prior to June 1, 1970

$15 if called to be redeemed on or after June 1, 1970 but prior to June 1, 1973

$15 if called to be redeemed on or after June 1, 1973 but prior to June 1, 1976

$10 if called to be redeemed on or after June 1, 1976 but prior to June 1, 1979

$5 if called to be redeemed on or after June 1, 1979.

Notice of redemption shall be published not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds. The remaining bonds will not be subject to redemption prior to maturity. Both principal and interest will be payable at such bank or trust company as shall be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds.

The bonds are to be a part of a total issue of $3,500,000 voted for the purpose of defraying the cost of erecting and furnishing a new junior high school building, four new elementary school buildings and an addition to an existing elementary school building, and acquiring sites for said four new elementary school buildings and for two additional school buildings, and will be the general obligations of the school district which is authorized and required by law to levy upon all the taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay said bonds and the interest thereon, without limitation as to rate or amount.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from November 1, 1956 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school district. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check for the amount of $20,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the school district must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Berry, Stevens & Moorman, attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and of the printing of the bonds will be paid by the school district. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan.

Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Bonds."

ELMER R. JOHNSON,
Secretary of the Board of Education

Notice is further given that the abovementioned issue of bonds has been qualified to the extent of 100% by the Michigan Superintendent of Public Instruction pursuant to Act No. 151 of the Public Acts of 1955.

Strive to Write Laws for Crimes in Planes

GENEVA (AP)—A 10-nation committee of jurists meeting here is trying to decide how to deal with crimes committed in the air.

For example: If a passenger on an international flight strangles another, should he be tried in his own country? In the country over which he committed the crime? Or in the country where the aircraft is owned?

The legal experts hope to reconcile conflicting national laws.

Networks Offer Variety of Fare

By ROBERT R. METZ

NEW YORK (INS) — The long summer drought is ending for the nation's television viewers.

Despite an apparent lack of pioneering this season, the networks have spent several million dollars lining up what sounds like interesting viewing. Here's a rundown of sofe of the major programs in sight:

SUNDAY

"Omnibus" shifts to evening on ABC beginning Oct. 8. "Wide Wide World" returned to NBC yesterday. Alternating with it for 13 weeks beginning Oct. 21 wil lbe an hour-long show, "Washington Square," starring Ray Bolger.

Over the year, "Hallmark Hall of Fame" will present five special programs on NBC. The programs begin Oct. 28 with Mary Martin in "Born Yesterday."

For 26 weeks beginning Nov. 11, CBS will present an Air Force documentary, "Air Power." Ed Sullivan returned to his show last night.

MONDAY

Danny Thomas resumes his series on ABC Oct. 1. Bandleader Lawrence Welk gets his second ABC hour-long show on Oct. 8.

The only new live comedy show of the season debuts on NBC Sept. 24.

It's called "Stanley" and stars Buddy Hackett.

TUESDAY

"Conflict," beginning tomorrow, and "Cheyenne," starting Sept. 25, will alternate on ABC film for an hour. New films in the Phil Silvers series start rolling on CBS Sept. 25.

Herb Shriner emcees a half-hour variety show on CBS beginning Oct. 2.

WEDNESDAY

This week "Disneyland" devotes its second ABC program of the year to "The Great Cat Family." Ozzie and Harriet return Oct. 3 on ABC.

Wally Cox will be an NBC regular this year with a filmed show, "The Adventures of Hiram Holiday," beginning Oct. 3. CBS adds a quiz, "Giant Step," starting in November.

THURSDAY

ABC launches "Wire Service," an hour-long film show, on Oct. 4. George Brent, Dane Clark and Mercedes McCambridge are rotating stars.

Tennessee Ernie Ford gets a half-hour variety show on NBC beginning Oct. 4.

On CBS, Jack Benny will host five "Shower of Stars" shows, which begin replacing "Climax" once a month the last week in October. On Oct. 4 CBS unveils "Playhouse 90."

FRIDAY

Walter Winchell launches a half-hour variety show Oct. 5 on NBC The same night, NBC will present Dinah Shore in the first of five hour-long variety shows. Bob Hope will do the same number of show spread over the year.

Ed Murrow has resumed his CBS visits "Person to Person."

SATURDAY

Perry Como has returned to his NBC show. He's being followed this year by the Sid Caesar Show.

George Gobel returns to NBC its Saturday spectacular series on Sept. 29 with Esther William's "Aqua Spectacle of 1957."

Jackie Gleason goes back to live programming on CBS Sept. 29, and the 90-minute "Ford Star Jubilee" begins its new CBS season Oct. 6 with a review of Cole Porters music, "You're the Top."

Jail 'Resentful' Driver

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Thirty days in jail was decreed for Henry A. Curtis, 20, of Clinton Township, who admitted forcing a loaded school bus off the highway. The bus driver, Mrs. Dorothy Jeffers of Roseville, said she had to swerve onto the road shoulder to avoid being hit by Curtis. Police said Curtis apparently was resentful because he failed to collect damages after an accident with a Fraser school bus a year ago.

Views Grace's Dinner From Crack in Screen

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Posing as an old messenger boy, I sneaked up the service elevator to Princess Grace Kelly's private homecoming and witnessed the Buffet Dinner of The Year—by squinting through a crack in a screen.

(Pardon my house-breaking, Your Highness. You're news, you know.)

It was so easy! A crew of about 40 from Louis Sherry's, the caterers, had been lading out cake and hospitality—especially cake—to Grace, Rainier and 16 or 18 guests. Maybe the help thought I was a member of the crew because of my crew cut.

Photog Gary Wagner came along and snuck a shot of the gigantic cake . . . 3½ feet tall, and made in the shape of three crowns: Papa crown, Mama crown and a teeny-weeny baby-sized crown.

While he shot the cake—which had live roses on each crown—including pink and white roses on the baby crown—I cased the guests through this wallpaper screen set up between a buffet table in the dining room and the eatin' tables in the red-and-gold drawing room which had three waiters to each four guests.

A cad can look at a king—so I saw the Prince and Grace, bridesmaid Judy Balaban Kantor and her spouse Jay, RCA Vice Prez Manzie Sacks, Wedding Guest Gant Gaither, Grace's attractive mother who was the hostess, the back of the neck of Grace's handsome father.

"A guy named Bill Foerst, from Philly and Bucks County, who's with Sherry's, is catering this do," a fellow'd told me. "He's a genius. He'll take a $3,000 party and dress it up so's it'll cost $50,000. He's gonna have gold service. Where d'you find gold service today?"

Later I found Mr. Foerst and showed him the cake picture. Though nonplussed, not to mention sore, he asked if I'd observed the white bouffant skirts adorning the table legs—a new touch here.

"No," I admitted. "It was interesting that it was a buffet dinner."

Anyway, the Kellys, true to form, showed their son-in-law some real American hospitality, and we're proud of them and their Philadelphia-flavored generosity. I keep wondering about the cake, though. Three feet of cake seems too much to put under your pillow.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N. Y. . . .

Kim Novak and Mack Krim started to elope the other day, but changed their minds en route . . . Ex-king Peter of Yugoslavia will front a N.Y. branch of a big London tailor shop . . . Elvis Presley has 13 of RCA-Victor's 25 top record sellers (and the company, remember, has Como, Dinah Shore and Jaye P. Morgan!) . . . Roosevelt Raceway shooed out the horses and installed a county fair, with Shelley Honig as queen.

Frank Parker philosophized, "At my age you have to be fired and get on the front page to get any work" . . . Marisa Pavan will stop all bustup rumors by joining Jean Pierre Aumont in Paris Sept. 26.

An Academy Award-winning author told an interviewer, "A writer is treated worse in Hollywood than the slaves before the Civil War!" . . . Maurice Chevalier demanded $3,000 to play a benefit in Belgium, then turned the loot over to the charity.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The average girl would rather have beauty than brains; she figures the average man can see better than he can think.—Lynn Dollar.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Joe Berger says his nephew had a bad day at school. None of the questions the teacher asked were in his category. That's earl, brother.

Redecorate Wall Behind Speaker in U. N. Assembly

The wall formerly was decorated with rows of concave discs which had almost become a U.N. trademark. The new scheme has entirely eliminated the discs and substituted a single, huge U.N. emblem more than 12 feet in diameter. It is a globe rimmed by olive branches, set against a larger disc, all in blue and white.

* * *

Engineers say the change was not made entirely because of appearance. Originally the discs were to have been covered with emblems of all member nations. Membership outgrew the number of discs even before emblems could be obtained.

State Road Toll 139 Behind '55

Trooper Credits Dip to Improved Highways, Stricter Patrols

DETROIT (AP) — Highway deaths in Michigan for the first eight months of this year are 139 under last year, State Police report.

Cpl. Hugh Potter of the State Police Safety and Traffic Bureau, says the traffic death toll this year is 1,112 compared with 1,251 for the January-August period last year.

He added the current figure will increase slightly with delayed reports.

Potter gave the figures at a conference on traffic problems sponsored by the Michigan State University Traffic Safety Center.

He said the decrease is sharpest in rural areas. He attributes the over-all decline to stricter enforcement of traffic laws, improved roads and "natural selection at work." He defined this as permanent removal of a dangerous driver through a fatal accident.

J. Carl McMonagle, assistant director of the MSU Traffic Safety Center, forecast a rapid increase in highway traffic in Michigan in the next few years with five million cars on state roads by 1980.

Selfridge Reservists to Vie in Gunnery Meet

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eight teams of crack jet fighter-bomber Reserve pilots will compete in an aerial gunnery meet at Casper, Wyo., Sept. 23-30.

Each team will consist of four pilots. The contest — first of its kind — will test the combat value of the nation's citizen-airmen, the Air Force said.

The Reserve fighter-bomber wings that will participate include the 439th, from Selfridge Air Force Base at Mount Clemens.

Brazil Buys Czech Guns

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—Czechoslovakia sold Brazil almost 40 million dollars worth of pistols last year, government import figures show. The official statistics gave no indication of how many guns this represented, but they were specific in reporting Brazil also imported 588 pianos from Czechoslovakia in 1955.

Oh Burro Me Not . . .

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The agriculture ministry says Mexico is exporting about 500 burros a month to the United States and is very happy about it. The burros are a pest to northern Mexican farmers because they damage crops. But in the United States they are popular as pets for children.

Flashlight batteries with rechargeable cells are being developed for everyday and commercial purposes.

Banneritis in Germany

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany has launched a drive against "banneritis," the Communist practice of plastering party slogans and emblems everywhere. The party newspaper Neues Deutschland said overuse of banners has resulted in "a political agitation chamber of horrors," destroying the effectiveness of visual propaganda.
