Outline Need to Build Up City Schools

By PETE LOCHBILER

Millions of dollars worth of school construction is needed if the Pontiac School District is to keep pace with enrollment increases, according to a report readied this month.

The report is issued after 18-months study by Dr. Otto C. Hufziger, assistant superintendent in charge of business.

It is intended as a guide for the Board of Education in providing building needs until 1965.

Among other things, it calls for a new senior high school, two junior high schools, eight elementary schools and hundreds of classroom additions.

Hufziger estimated a rough preliminary cost of $21 million, including a $1 million program to renovate existing schools.

An existing voted millage is adequate to pay the cost through 1960 if levied at the maximum extent, Hufziger figured. This would only result in an increase over 1956 taxes of 1.74 mills on state equalized valuations.

DR. OTTO HUFZIGER

Hufziger explained that this year the schools only asked for 7.01 mills out of 8.75 mills for construction and operating expenses made available by voters in 1954 and lasting through 1964.

He also assumed that the County Allocation Board would levy 9.75 mills on equalized values for the school system.

(The Board levied 9.32 mills this year, bringing the total school tax up to 16.33 mills on state equalized valuations. The voted increase was variable outside of the Pontiac city limits. In Pontiac, the tax was based on assessed valuation, which resulted in a different set of figures being used: 13.51 mills allocated by the county and 10.16 mills on the voted increase.)

* * *

The projects are needed to meet an expected 8,000-pupil increase in the next decade. "They also should provide a sound framework for the school plant needs of the district for a considerably longer period," the report says.

18,500 PUPILS NOW

The school enrollment now is about 18,500. Over 26,500 pupils are expected by 1965, according to the report's figures—17,026 in elementary school, 5,746 in junior high school, and 3,743 in senior high school.

* * *

The report is titled "School Plant Needs of Pontiac." In its 230 pages are estimates of the school population through 1965, an appraisal of the school district's financial and cultural background, and a critical inventory of present buildings.

From the conclusions drawn are recommendations for the building program and suggestions about financing.

The recommendations are expected to form the basis for continuing a 10-year building program on which the Board embarked in 1954.

* * *

Board members and school officials spent considerable time then 'selling" the community on new schools and winning the voted increase in millage to finance them. At that time, however, the cost was figured at $9 million.

PRAISES STUDY

The price difference of $12 million is in part due to the thoroughness of Hufziger's study, according to Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Schools.

"We have here one of the finest reports of its kind," Whitmer said. "It gives an unusually complete picture for a school district the size of Pontiac's."

The Board already has gone ahead with the first two steps of Hufziger's building plan. It has contracted for $2,530,317 worth of buildings and improvement and has approved a $1,796,000 building program for 1956-57.

* * *

By the end of 1960, when Step Five of the recommended program is finished, buildings representing over 60 per cent of the total cost will have been built, according to Hufziger's schedule.

WILL STUDY REPORT

The Board will officially see the report for the first time at an informal meeting tomorrow. No action is expected then, nor will the whole report be approved at one time. Approval will be given to the most needed construction on a year-to-year basis. The projects are spread over the 10-year period.

* * *

The third step, which includes the first 800-pupil section of the new senior high school, will be considered in the 1957-58 building program. It is expected that the building will cost from $2.5 to $3 million, Hufziger said.

The report calls for an 800-pupil addition to the new high school in

Ike Charges Dems 'Politick' on Farm Issue

President Returns to Capital Today After Peoria Talk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower accused the Democrats last night of "politicking at the farmers' expense" in his harshest attack on the opposition so far in the campaign.

He told the nation's farmers, on the other hand, that the program of his administration will give them "a full share in our country's good times."

Without making any specific new proposals to increase farm income, he said "good progress" is being made toward that goal.

Accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower, the President flew back here early today after he delivered at Peoria, Ill., his second major campaign speech to be carried nationally by radio and television.

He followed closely the Republican platform and public pronouncements of Secretary of Agriculture Benson in outlining steps he said now have brought farmers "brighter peacetime prospects than they have had for years" and which he said hold out the hope of "full income parity."

He said the Democratic program holds out to farmers only "mockery and deceit." And he used such phrases as "political expediency," "opposition politicking," and "political quackery."

"Our opponents," he said at one point, "today are criticizing the mess that they themselves left behind."

This strongly worded attack was delivered before a partisan, cheering crowd that overflowed the 10,000-person capacity of the Bradley University fieldhouse.

Eisenhower indicted his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson, and all others who back higher, rigid farm price supports. Eisenhower did not mention Stevenson by name but he left no doubt he was striking back at Stevenson's proposals.

He accused the Democrats of "politicking at the farmers' expense" by continuing high wartime supports. He said this piled up surpluses and that last year these surpluses cost the farmers two billion dollars in income by holding prices down.

Rule Hits 8 Pct. of Election Help

Nonpartisans Ineligible, Attorney General Says; Only 25 in Pontiac

Pontiac City Clerk Ada R. Evans said this morning 8 per cent of some 300 city election workers might be disqualified if Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh enforces his ruling that workers must state a political preference.

Mrs. Evans said about 25 workers are listed as nonpartisan.

"I'm naturally going to wait until I see any law in writing before acting," Mrs. Evans explained.

"If this law is handed down, possibly from the county clerk's office, and the workers don't want to show their preference, I guess they won't work."

Kavanagh has ruled all election workers must list a preference with no more than 50 per cent allied with any one political party.

Babe Still Fighting, but Extremely Weak

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — John Sealy Hospital officials today reported that Babe Didrikson Zaharias, famed woman athlete now in critical condition, still has not given up in her fight against cancer.

The Babe passed an easier night and appears to have lost no further ground, an official hospital bulletin said today.

Although she is extremely weak, officials said, when awake she recognizes her family and doctors and wants to talk briefly.

The Babe says she is suffering no pain, the bulletin said.

Warmer Days Forecast in Area —for a While

Golfers, baseball and football fans, picnickers need not get discouraged—at least for awhile—for warmer weather is on the way for the Pontiac area, according to the U. S. Weather Bureau.

* * *

Tomorrow's outlook is for a pleasant temperature of around 76 degrees. The five-day forecast is for the mercury to climb two to four degrees above normal.

A note of discouragement was added when the Bureau predicted showers over the coming weekend.

The mercury is expected to dip to a low of around 50 degrees tonight.

The lowest temperature in Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 45 degrees. The thermometer had reached 68 at 2 p.m.

Israel Requests Role in Debate

Asks to Join Security Council Discussions of Suez Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—A new complication was injected into the Suez dispute today when Israel asked permission to take part in Security Council discussions.

The Israeli request came as Britain and France squared off for a preliminary test of strength with Egypt at the start of the debate.

It also came as fighting flared between Israel and Jordan.

An Israeli spokesman made it clear that Israel would steer clear of this issue and concentrate on the Suez problem, but Western diplomats feared the Israeli request would be followed by similar requests from Arab countries.

Israel claimed special interest on the Suez problem because of Egyptian restrictions on Israeli shipping.

The first clash, however, was expected when Britain and France ask the council to block an Egyptian move to place on the agenda a charge that the two European powers threaten world peace by their actions in the Suez crisis.

Fire in French Quarter Kills New Orleans Man

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Fire raged through five small buildings on the edge of the famed French Quarter today. One man was killed.

Fire Chief Howard Dey estimated damage at $50,000. He said the fire apparently began in a bar on North Rampart Street, one of the city's original boundaries and three blocks from Canal Street.

Israelis Admit Raiding Border for 'Retaliation'

Both Sides Claim Foes Suffered Heavy Losses, Figures Disagree

JERUSALEM (AP) — A punitive raid into Jordan by artillery-backed Israeli infantrymen, the third of its kind this month, set off a seven-hour battle that ended at dawn today with heavy casualties on each side.

Israeli spokesmen said 50 Jordanians were killed in the raid on army and police positions near Husnan, six miles southwest of Jerusalem. Israel acknowledged 5 of its raiders were killed and 19 wounded.

A Jordanian army officer in Amman, the Arab capital, declared 90 or more of the Israelis were killed and the rest forced to retreat in disorder after blowing up a police post and some houses. By their account, 31 Jordanian soldiers, policemen and national guardsmen lost their lives.

Jordan said the Israeli attack was made in brigade strength, meaning perhaps 1,000 or more infantrymen, 2½ miles inside the armistice demarcation line.

Jordanians had estimated Israeli strength in each of the two previous attacks this month at 1,000 men.

Israel's government grimly labeled the raid as a warning against aggression. Six Israelis had been killed in border incidents since Sunday.

The Israeli army said a Jordan army post as well as the police station was overrun and dynamited. Explosions from the battlefield were heard in Jerusalem through the night.

A U. N. spokesman said the shooting lasted for some seven hours — until about 6 a.m. — although a ceasefire order was requested from both sides much earlier.

Jordan army headquarters in Amman said the Israeli forces launched a "large scale attack on Jordanian positions in the Wadi Fukin and Husan villages south of Jerusalem."

At mid-morning a spokesman for the U.N. Truce Commission said there had been no further shooting and all was quiet. Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, the chief truce supervisor, left for the battle ground, where four U. N. observers already were conducting an investigation.

Japan Braces for Typhoon

Storm Rips Okinawa and Grounds 2 Ships

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—Mountainous waves and 130 mile an hour winds drove two ships aground today as typhoon Harriet churned across the East China Sea.

The storm kept rescue vessels from reaching 106 passengers stranded on the Japanese liner Hakusan Maru and 34 crewmen aboard the battered British freighter Bedford Earl.

The typhoon raked Okinawa, then turned northward. The Japanese braced for a heavy blow up their east coast tomorrow. The storm center was 185 miles south southeast of Kagoshima, Japan, today.

Harriet, the season's eighth big typhoon, was the second to strike Okinawa in less than a month. One Okinawan was reported hurt. Only minor property damage was reported in contrast to the more than 20 million dollars damage inflicted by typhoon Emma on this U. S. island base earlier this month.

U. S. Air Force forecasters predicted Harriet's winds would drop to about 105 m.p.h. as it traveled northward.

Huge waves were pounding the 7,129-ton Bedford Earl to pieces on a coral reef at Ike Islet, 15 miles off Okinawa.

Thirty-four crewmen aboard the stricken British freighter prepared to launch lifeboats and abandon ship. The U. S. Army said a tug making its way through 15-foot waves to the ship turned back when it found the Bedford was only 1,000 yards offshore.

U. S. Army vehicles waited on the beach to pick up the crew. Earlier the ship's captain, R. W. Thompson, had said heavy seas made it impossible to launch lifeboats.

The Bedford was en route from Yokohama to Viet Nam to load coal for Europe.

The 4,300-ton Hakusan Maru, running between Kagoshima, Japan, and Okinawa, was driven aground in shallow water off Amami Oshima Island, some 120 miles north of Okinawa.

The giant seas kept away Japanese coast guard vessels trying to evacuate the Hakusan's passengers in response to a radioed S.O.S.

A U.S. freighter, the American Mail, also ran aground farther north, at a point about 15 miles south of Nagoya, but its mishap apparently was not caused by the typhoon and the ship was reported in no immediate danger.

Fatal Crash Driver Cleared of Blame

The Waterford Township man who was the driver of a car involved in a fatal collision with a Pontiac fireman yesterday is expected to be exonerated of any blame, it was stated today by the Oakland County Prosecutor's office.

Joseph P. Preston, 27, is in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured left knee and multiple cuts. He collided headon with a car driven by Hal O. Lloyd, 30, of Drayton Plains, on Elizabeth Lake road.

Lloyd was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital following the early morning accident. Preston has told investigators the accident occurred when the Lloyd vehicle drove across the center land at Roslyn road.

There has not been sufficient evidence found to warrant a negligence charge against Preston but the accident is still under investigation, George Taylor, assistant county prosecutor, told The Pontiac Press this morning.

Write-In Count Case Refused

3 Judges Turn Down City Attorney Seeking Nomination

Pontiac attorney Milton R. Henry yesterday lost the first round in his battle for nomination as Circuit Court Judge on the nonpartisan ballot, Nov. 6.

Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick, with Judge Frank L. Doty and Judge H. Russel Holland, turned down Henry's petition for a court order compelling election officials to count his primary election write-in votes and declare him a candidate.

Henry said today he is filing another suit in the State Supreme Court, asking the court to order Secretary of State James M. Hare to vacate the nomination of incumbent Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams and certify Henry in Judge Adams' place.

Henry has argued that since election officials, following election law, did not declare an election for the non-partisan ballot because there was only one candidate, Adams received no votes in the primary. He said a constitutional provision made the election necessary.

In their ruling yesterday, the three judges said the constitutional provision was passed with "intent" to allow such provisions in the election law.

Under the law, they said, "a few votes surreptitiously cast can have no legal significance."

Maglie, Pennant Race Hot

Sal Maglie, "The Barber of Brooklyn," kept the Dodgers on the heels of the Milwaukee Braves in the National League pennant race by pitching a no-hit, 5-0, game against the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday.

Despite the sparkling performance by the 39-year-old Maglie, Brooklyn still remained a half-game behind Milwaukee which stunned Cincinnati's hopes with a 7-1 victory.

Another fine pitching job was turned in by Warren Spahn of the Braves who won his 20th game of the season. (See Sports page 30 for details).

Dulles Answers Adlai's Charge

Milton Eisenhower's Role in U. S. Affairs Defended

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles, responding to statements by Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson, said today President Eisenhower's brother Milton has played a highly constructive role in foreign affairs.

Dulles told a news conference he felt he could depart from his self-imposed rule against being drawn into political charges and countercharges during this campaign.

Earlier White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty had referred newsmen to Dulles when they asked about the matter.

Dulles said he could willingly reply to statements attributed to Stevenson because the matter relates to what he called factual matters of U. S. foreign policy.

Stevenson said in a campaign speech at Miami last night the Eisenhower administration had appeased ex-dictator Juan Peron of Argentina.

He said a member of the President's "personal family assumed a special, if informal, responsibility for our relationships with Argentina."

Stevenson aides said he meant Milton Eisenhower, who has made trips to Latin America as a special White House representative.

Dulles said Milton Eisenhower had played a highly constructive role and had never interfered with normal policy matters at the State Department.

Dulles said some of the proposals brought back by the President's brother, dealing with trade and aid for Latin America, had been adopted.

As far as the U. S. attitude toward Peron is concerned, Dulles said Peron came into power under the Democratic administration in this country and went out of power under Eisenhower's administration. Dulles made no claim, however, that the Eisenhower administration had done anything to cause Peron's downfall.

Salt, Sand and Snow Fences

Winter's Here for Road Department

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department is mending its snow fences this week in the first phase of its annual war with the elements.

* * *

The fences—600 miles of them—will start rising next week in the Upper Peninsula, where the season's first snow has already fallen.

What does it take to keep Michigan's highway system free of ice and snow each year?

In terms of materials—22,000 tons of sand, 92,000 tons of salt and 12,000-odd tons of calcium chloride.

In manpower, some 400 state employes and 2,500 county workers.

In money, more than four million dollars.

THERE'S MORE

And that's just to keep the state highways clear. County roads and city streets are extra.

"People don't realize what a big job it is," says N. W. Paquette, who as assistant chief of maintenance helps direct the state's part of the campaign from a Lansing headquarters.

When Paquette joined the department in 1920, snow removal on state highways wasn't much of a problem.

* * *

"People didn't demand so much service then," Paquette says. "The public is getting to the point where it wants to have summer driving conditions all winter."

"When I started with the department the state didn't even have a snow removal service north of the Bay City-Muskegon line.

"In those days, most of the people in that area left their cars in the garage in the winter.

SLIDE BY SLEIGH

"Roads were made passable by big rollers, which packed down the snow. Many of the people traveled by sleigh."

Now the department has a fleet of nearly 400 vehicles to move the mountains of sand, salt and snow.

They include plow-equipped dump trucks and giant rotary snow plows that suck up a four-foot deep snow bank and throw it 100 feet off the highway.

* * *

Paquette's worst days occur when there's a succession of light snowfalls, packing down on the highways to form a slick sheath hard to attack with a snowplow.

It's then the sand and salt trucks are called out. Sometimes their crews work 12 hours at a stretch, return to the garage for a two-hour nap and go out on the highways again.

After a big blizzard in the Thumb in 1947, Paquette says, power shovels were brought out to dig a way through for the cars.

ONE WAY ONLY

And in the winter of 1935-36—the worst he can remember—there was only one-way traffic from the Ohio line to the Straits of Mackinac for days.

Are there any new weapons in the war against weather?

The department has experimented with liquid chemicals, found to be faster and more effective under some circumstances.

County Studying Drain Planners

May Form Department to Assist Communities in Organizing Projects

Five Oakland County supervisors have been appointed as a Special Committee to study the suggestion a County Department of Public Works be established, Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors, said yesterday.

Hamlin was authorized to appoint the committee at the Sept. 10 board meeting.

Under Chairman Lloyd L. Anderson of Waterford Township, new committee members are John G. Semann of Berkley, chairman of the board's Drain Committee; W. Ray Ransom of Pontiac; David Levinson of Birmingham, and John L. Carey of Springfield Township.

The new department was suggested by retiring County Drain Commissioner Ralph A. Main to take initiative in organizing and helping finance inter community drain projects such as the Twelve Town Drain.

Under Main's proposal, the new department could take initiative in organizing new drain districts, with natural drainage contours including several county communities.

Previously, such districts could organize only at their own initiative, and county planners could not step in until the participating communities had already agreed on the project.

The new department also would have power to back bonds for new projects with the county's "full faith and credit," and could assess the cost of the project against the areas benefited by it.

If the report is favorable, he said, supervisors will try to find existing state legislation authorizing such a department, and will try to secure new legislation from Lansing to fill any gaps.

Court Commissioner Wins Bar Office

Oakland County Circuit Court Commissioner Verne C. Hampton, of Pontiac, last night was elected treasurer of the Michigan Conference of Bar Officers at the group's annual meeting in Grand Rapids.

The meeting is being held in conjunction with the 21st annual meeting of the State Bar of Michigan, which continues through Friday.

Other officers elected include Merle C. Baker of Grand Rapids, chairman; Robert P. Small of Benton Harbor, first vice chairman; Sam Street Hughes of Lansing, second vice chairman and Harold M. Street, of Muskegon, secretary.

Joseph N. Welch, Boston attorney who was special Army counsel in the hearings between Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, will be key speaker tomorrow at the annual banquet.

Robert C. Miller Quits as Leader of GOP Group

Robert C. Miller, Republican candidate for Pontiac's State Representative, today announced he has resigned from his post as president of the Pontiac Republican Club.

Vice President William A. Garling is the new president, Miller said.

Miller, who was elected president at the club's reorganization meeting Aug. 14, said he resigned "to devote full time to my campaign."

Garling, an insurance agent, is a former member of the County Board of Supervisors.

Flossy at Sea, Toll Climbs to 13

13 Others Still Missing, Estimate Gulf Damage at Several Million

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hurricane Flossy, downgraded to storm status with half of its punch gone, swirled into the Atlantic today off the South Carolina coast. The season's sixth tropical storm left 13 dead and at least that many missing, plus property damage in the Gulf estimated at several million dollars.

* * *

The Miami Weather Bureau said the storm would regain some force after reaching the ocean north of Charleston, S.C., but probably not enough to get back into the hurricane class.

* * *

Flossy formed suddenly in the Gulf Saturday, aimed its center for a time at New Orleans, then swerved eastward and slammed the northwest Florida coast with 100-mile-an-hour winds late Monday. The storm's northeasterly journey brought drought relief to Georgia before skipping out over the Atlantic. More than 5 inches of rain were dumped on parched farm lands.

The hurricane hit Grand Isle, popular Louisiana vacation resort, destroying the Grand Isle Hotel and many houses and boats on the six-mile-long island. Damage was estimated at several millions of dollars.

Flossy churned high tides in its wake near Panama City, Fla., and caused damage estimated at $300,000. Damage to oil drilling equipment in the Gulf had previously been estimated at two million dollars.

Still missing were about a dozen fishermen and an undetermined number aboard the tug Rosalie E. somewhere in the Gulf.

Boycott Unsteady in Kentucky School

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP) — The white boycott of Weaverton Elementary School cracked slightly today as 223 students entered classes with five Negroes.

Yesterday, only 206 of the 870 students were in class.

There was no disorder. The Negroes, brought to the county school by their parents, mingled with white children on the playground as a small crowd of segregationists watched from across the street.

Raymond Sugg Jr., chairman of the White Citizens Council, said the "boycott will continue."

Nixon Foresees 4-Day Work Schedule

Campaign Talk About 32-Hour Week Coincides With Active Labor Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Campaign talk about eventual shorter hours for the American working man comes at a time when the topic is being actively debated in labor union circles.

Vice President Nixon said in Colorado last Saturday he foresaw in the not too distant future a four-day week for workers.

This prompted a query from Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers and an AFL-CIO vice president, as to whether Nixon was ready to commit the Republican party to propose and support legislation at the next session of Congress for a 32-hour work week.

Nixon replied yesterday that "mere artificial legislation will not accomplish this task which is one that calls for the dedicated joint efforts of labor, management, government and research."

* * *

Many labor union leaders seem to feel as Nixon does—that a shorter work week will not be accomplished by a single act of Congress, but through industry-by-industry collective bargaining over a period of years, perhaps followed by legislation.

This seemed to be the consensus of a meeting of AFL-CIO union research specialists only two weeks ago. George Meany, AFL-CIO president, recalled then that most labor laws have come only after their underlying principles have been established in labor contracts for large groups of workers.

* * *

Meany's theory was that there's no point in reducing work hours just to provide more leisure. He said there's nothing inhuman about the present 40-hour work week.

He said the real problem is maintaining a sufficient number of consumers with enough money to buy an increasing amount of production. Blaming the depression of the 1930s on a shortage of purchasing power, Meany added that shortening work hours may be a way of turning out more consumers.

Reuther's position favoring prompt decisive action undoubtedly comes from his current experience in the auto industry. Labor Department data shows a net decrease since the first of the year of more than 250,000 jobs in the auto industry, which normally employs about 900,000.

Other union leaders feel the time for installing this share-the-work principle is now, while their industries are prospering and before any serious unemployment may occur.

Most labor leaders feel, like Nixon, that shorter working hours are inevitable in view of the increasing productive capacity of industry.

However, there's much debate even on this. A Senate-House committee held lengthy hearings last year on the effects of automation, or introduction of automatic machines. Most industry spokesmen said demand for goods is growing faster than output is increasing. Some foresaw a labor shortage even if the 40-hour week is maintained.

On the other hand, Labor Department statistics show that 17 per cent of all plant and office workers in major cities already are working less than 40 hours a week.

Meeting Moved Up Day

Ten-Point Agenda Faces Pontiac City Commission

A short 10-point agenda—half of which lists routine public improvement items—will be the order of business for the Pontiac City Commission when it convenes tonight at 8.

The meeting was moved up from its regular Tuesday night schedule to allow officials to attend the Kiwanis Club's "Flowers To The Living Program."

City Manager W. K. Willman will report on claims of damages of two property owners in connection with the right-of-way for the widening of Bay street south of Mt. Clemens street.

Action is expected on a communication from the State Highway Dept. on possible city charges for the widening of M 218 from Commerce road to the city limits.

City Attorney William A. Ewart is slated to bring the commissioners up to date on the purchase on a land contract of property at 63 S. Parke St.

Tabulation of bids is scheduled for pavement, curb, and gutter projects planned in the city.

Engineer estimates will be aired on curb, gutter, grade, gravel, and related work for First street from Joslyn to Highwood, and on Hollywood avenue from Kennett to Parkdale.

Commissioners will schedule payments during confirmation of the following water main projects: Telegraph Road from Orchard Lake to Golf, Pearsall Avenue from Bagley to Wrenn, and for Durant Street from Inglewood to Pershing.

In a two-car accident Friday on Baldwin avenue, a car driven by Robert G. Almas Sr., 47, of 4281 Quebec St., rammed the rear of an auto driven by Norman R. Saint, 34, of 108 W. Strathmore Ave., according to a Pontiac Police accident report.

The Pontiac Press in Saturday's editions incorrectly stated Saint's car struck Almas'.

Seek Meeting on Evergreen

Ask Area-Wide Session to Force Detroit's Hand on Sewage Capacity

BIRMINGHAM — Harold K. Schone, city manager here, was elected secretary of the North Evergreen Authority this morning as the authority took steps toward an area-wide meeting to plan a full-length Evergreen intereceptor.

The authority board resolved to call on the drain commissioner for a plan to revitalize an Evergreen intereceptor to the county's south limits, at Detroit.

The chairman of the Board of Supervisors will be asked to call a meeting of the interested municipalities plus the drain commissioners, state health department and the city of Detroit, to bring about a final decision.

"We feel if we can get all of these people together we can find out definitely if Detroit sewage treatment capacity is available," Schone said following the meeting. His new post was formerly that of Don C. Egbert, whose city managership he took here this summer.

"There is evidence that Detroit is ready to make the capacity available," he says, "and also that the state health department will approve the project with those capacities. But there is some conflict of assurances from Detroit."

The request for the meeting will be heard at the Board of Supervisor's Monday meeting, and the North Evergreen group indicated hopes that a meeting could be scheduled at least by the week of Oct. 8.

Sylvan Lake City Affairs

Candidates Must Submit Petitions by Saturday

Deadlines for filing petitions for four Sylvan Lake city offices and for voter registration for the presidential election in November have been announced by City Manager Ernest L. Ethier.

* * *

Candidates must submit their petitions prior to Saturday noon, Sept. 29.

Offices to be filled are for two councilmen, Anthony Kreps and Joseph E. Gilson; Justice of the Peace, Joseph J. Leavy, and Constable Frank L. Scott.

Petitions have been requested from the city clerk for William B. Taylor for city councilman, Joseph J. Leavy for Justice of the Peace, and Harold Hacht and Frank L. Scott for constable.

Ethier said the deadline for registering is Oct. 8. The city clerk's office in the City Hall will be open 8 a.m. until 8 p.m. on that date.

Registrations are accepted Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

In other Sylvan Lake city affairs, Ethier announced that sewer service bills for residents will be in the mail Sept. 30. These cover the period from April 1 to Oct. 1, 1956. On Nov. 1, a 10 per cent penalty is added to all unpaid bills, Ethier said.

Ethier reported that 219 connections have been made to the city's year-old water system. He added that final testing of the storage tank has been completed and in use.

At a recent hearing, property owners of the Pioneer Highlands-Pioneer Telegraph area of the city asked that only road blacktopping be performed in this area. Earlier, residents petitioned for curb, gutter, and storm sewers also.

Ethier said an engineer's estimate on the single project would be aired at the next Sylvan Lake council meeting.

Mrs. Anthony Osler, chairman of the West Bloomfield Community Chest Drive, announced a goal of $16,617.25 for the drive from Oct. 6 to Oct. 22.

Community House Invites 9,000 to Annual Dinner

BIRMINGHAM — Lecturers star on special programs slated here, but none will face as large an audience as the Rev. Robert Dewey at the Community House annual meeting on Oct. 3.

A total of 9,000 have been invited to the meal and program. Names have come from the Roll Call, donors list of last year, says Harold Hagan, president of the House's board of directors.

Mr. Dewey will talk on "Birmingham, the Good and the Not so," using observations for this few years here. He is a lively young Congregational minister whose church has more than quadrupled since he took it, and he is an orator who won the Daggett Award on his graduation from Yale University Divinity School.

Son of a university professor, he lived in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kansas, was a chaplains aide in the war, operated a war-time youth center in East London, and worked in Boston slums in his summers from Yale.

Mrs. Raymond Peck is in charge of the dinner, with Mrs. Walter Jackson sending invitations. Norman Weston procured the speaker.

Board members will elect replacements for four with expiring terms, Mrs. Harry Gruber, Harold Hagan, William Lerchen, Mrs. Anthony Daley and Mrs. Richard Brown.

* * *

Soroptimist International will hold its first social meeting at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow at Devon Gables with observation of "Founders Week," designated by Gov. G. Mennen Williams as Sept. 24 to Oct. 2.

The week seeks to have citizens recognize their service clubs' contributions to home, community, state and nation.

Delegates to the national and international conferences in New York this summer will report, bringing actual recordings of some of the meetings and speeches.

* * *

"The High Calling," a film, will be shown at the Oct. 14 Family Night program of First Presbyterian church, following the 5 p.m. meal. It deals with the place of the church in members' lives.

* * *

Mrs. Ralph H. Read, wife of the Rev. Read of North Congregational Church, will talk on "Israel Today," to the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church Oct. 2, at a 12:45 p.m. luncheon.

She spent a summer in Israel on a scholarship from New York university, studied Biblical history and background for Israel today. Earlier, she had specialized in teaching in public schools for the handicapped children in Melbourn, N. J.

ESTHER CLOUDMAN DUNN

Professor Esther Cloudman Dunn of the Smith College English department will talk to Detroit-area high school girls, their mothers and teachers at the Birmingham High School Auditorium here Oct. 5 at 3:30 p.m.

She is sponsored by the Detroit and Birmingham Smith Clubs, which are headed by Mrs. E. Steven Bauer, of Bloomfield Hills and Mrs. W. Brace Krag of Grosse Pointe, respectively.

An authority on Shakespeare, she this year won a doctor of letters degree for "The Art of Teaching." Her topic will be "What you have a right to ask from college."

City School Report Calls for Building

'EXCELLENT CREDIT'

Concerning financing after 1960, the report points out that the Pontiac school district has an excellent but relatively untapped borrowing capacity. Right now it could borrow $6.3 million, or two per cent of the assessed valuation of property in the district.

* * *

By referendum vote, the district could borrow up to 15 per cent of the assessed valuation, or $47.5 million on today's values. The assessed valuation will have increased by the time any borrowing is necessary, Hufziger said.

At present the district has a bonded indebtedness of $5,809,000, including $3 million in bonds this spring to finance construction under contract and part of approved construction.

The present debt is being amortized at a rate of more than $1 million a year and will be paid off by 1964.

Among the buildings built with this money are the Walton Boulevard Elementary School, which will open early next month; the Cora Bailey Elementary School, which partially opened last week; multi-purpose rooms at eight elementary schools for activities such as gym, auditorium and cafeteria. These will be ready next spring; nine classroom and two kindergarten additions at three elementary schools, which will be ready next semester.

CLASSROOMS FOR 870

All told, there are new classrooms for 870 pupils in the additions and schools, plus room for 480 more at the new Linda Vista Elementary School, which is not included in Hufziger's 10-year plan.

* * *

Although only five temporary or substandard classrooms are eliminated by construction presently under contract, it is hoped that 429 more pupils will be removed from such conditions as a result of Step Two of the program, which is the 1956-57 approved building program.

It calls for two new elementary schools, additions of 16 new classrooms at two elementary schools and a multi-purpose room. This will leave a little more than 1,000 pupils still in temporaries or substandard classrooms.

An important aim of the building program, Hufziger said, is to eliminate the "temporaries" and substandard classrooms, which can be accomplished by Step Four, or by the time school opens in the fall of 1959.

* * *

Although the census figures are highly reliable, he said, the idea behind the plan is to keep it flexible.

"The hard job behind the report has been to determine where we stand now," he said. "Any future changes we can't foresee can be dealt with when they come up."

LOOK TO FUTURE

He showed that from school censuses already taken, the school staff knows how many children in Pontiac right now will be in the various grades in 1965.

"The only thing we're not absolutely sure of are the new babies who will be in kindergarten through third or fourth grade in 1965," he said. But, he added, new babies are counted in the census every year, even though they won't attend kindergarten until they're five.

None of the existing 29 schools is slated for razing, Hufziger said, although nine of them were built before 1922. But an extensive program of modernization and rehabilitation is recommended in the report.

The needs are particularly great, Hufziger said, because only small amounts of money have been available since Depression days. A larger share of this year's budget, he added, is going for rehabilitation.

He figured the cost would be about $1,100,210, but pointed out that this sum is based on current building costs, as is the total of $20,018,317 which the report lists for new construction.

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Vice President Nixon disclosed today that he is an honorary member of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People.

He told a news conference prior to leaving for Springfield, Mo., on his campaign swing that he became an honorary member of the NAACP in 1946 following an address at a Methodist Church meeting in Monrovia, Calif.

* * *

Asked if he subscribed to the organization's policies, he said he held the general view that "we must work toward a relization of equality of opportunity" in education, employment and "the good things of life regardless of race, creed or color."

Urge Integration on Ability Basis

Teachers Tell Probers About Problems Arising in Capital Schools

By EDMOND LEBRETON

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee investigating Washington's integrated school system had before it today a proposal for clearer-cut division of students by ability — but not by race.

* * *

Chairman James C. Davis (D-Ga) of the special District of Columbia subcommittee said in an interview that before his group prepares its report he intends to sift the lengthy hearing record for this and other proposals by witnesses.

Questioning of school principals and teachers called before the subcommittee has been devoted largely to problems created by racial integration of the Washington school system two years ago.

Miss Emilie Lassalle, an attendance officer, told the subcommittee yesterday it sould consider methods by which children of different learning abilities could be handled separately "so that those who can go ahead faster will not be held back."

* * *

Other witnesses had advanced similar ideas, some even suggesting separate schools. However, Miss Lassalle developed the proposal in somewhat more detail, saying that in her work with truants she had encountered a number of cases of children who were unable to advance from grade to grade with their classmates, but under the compulsory attendance law had to be kept in school until they reached 16.

Mrs. Ella A. Hanft, who retired this year after teaching at Coolidge High School, struck out in testimony at what she said was the too abrupt institution of integration.

* * *

Another retired teacher, Miss Katherine Fowler, also said mixing of white and Negro pupils in Washington schools should have been done "at a much slower rate."

Driver Walked Away

HOLDENVILLE, Okla. (AP) — The driver walked away from this accident reported by the Oklahoma Highway Patrol: The car went out of control, travelled 390 feet and jumped a 12-foot ditch. It went on another 228 feet and tore out a 75-foot stretch of fence. Then the car broke a power-line pole and three 7,200-volt lines fell. One hit the top of the car and arced out. The other two became entangled with the fence which was wrapped around the car.

Terrapin Hurts Dog's Feelings by 'Hiding Out'

LOUISVILLE, Ky (AP) — Candy, the dog, is getting nervous because an "adopted" terrapin is rejecting her maternal advances.

The terrapin—a land-roving turtle—is getting nervous, too.

The Robert Kessler family picked up the terrapin Sunday and at first were amused by Candy's fierce and noisy adoption of the newcomer.

Candy licks its face with affection, but the turtle withdraws into its shell to avoid the loving passes.

This bewilders and hurts Candy, who then scratches the turtle's back as if begging it to come out again.

Mrs. Kessler decided yesterday the furtle must go. Its unresponsive nature is upsetting to Candy. She growls and barks if anyone comes near the terrapin—and is especially ferocious if her own pup hovers around.

Fished Way Through

ELY, Minn. (AP) — A Minneapolis woman and her daughter swallowed their pride and plenty of fish to finish a 5-day canoe trip through northern Minnesota wilderness. A bear made off with all the provisions Mrs. Lydia Eliason and her daughter, Marion, took on the expedition. That happened on the second day. They came through on schedule by catching and eating fish—and doing some good natured scrounging from passing canoeists.

Scents, Cents, Sense Describe Checks

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—It's not the cent that counts — it's the scent.

The Todd Co. said it has received an order for a supply of scented checks from a Winton, Conn., perfume manufacturer. The checks are to be printed with perfumed ink.

The payee line reads: "Pay to the odor of" and the dollar amount is followed by the amount of "scents."

The printing company also said it had received a request from a bakery to scent its checks with the aroma of newly baked bread and a spaghetti maker wants checks fragranted "with just a touch of garlic."

Sees a Desperate, Hungry Nation Taking Back What It Owns

An Egyptian Gives His Views on Seizure of the Suez Waterway

(Editor's Note: The following story, giving background on the Suez Canal from the Egyptian point of view, was written by Saad Abdou, a graduate student in journalism at the University of Michigan.

Saad, son of a prominent Egyptian family, has been assigned to the Battle Creek Enquirer and News as part of his graduate study. His father is a retired college professor; an elder brother, Col. Hafez, is assistant commander of the Tourist Police in Egypt and two other brothers are on the army staff.)

By SAAD ABDOU

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The Suez Canal problem threatens to explode into a national or a world war. It is a matter of life and death for Egyptians who are determined to maintain sovereignty over the Canal which is an integral part of Egypt.

* * *

During past decades, Egypt has suffered too much from the injustices of wealth and land distribution. A dawn, however, appeared when the revolution kicked out King Farouk. Egyptians waited, hoping for any sort of improvement in the standard of living.

There was a danger inside the country from those who had all the benefits under the old corrupt regime, as well as a constant menace threatening the eastern borders. Also there was a major obstacle which for decades remained a symbol of humiliation, the British occupation. Egyptians were determined to shake it off.

It was proved by the recent creation of "Liberation Province," at the southwestern side of Alexandria, that if sufficient water, which goes yearly into the Mediterranean for lack of dams and reservoirs, could be stored, Egypt would be able to reclaim some arid land for needed agriculture.

HOPES DEPEND ON DAM

The high dam in upper Egypt which the United States refused to finance was the only way to provide water and bring about industrialization.

Egypt has always lived for its international obligations. The Egyptians have always looked toward the Suez Canal as a source of income of which they had been deprived. They decided to wait until the company's concession expired in 1968.

Egypt pleaded for a fair share of income. Instead, the revenue largely was sent to be invested abroad in foreign companies.

Meanwhile Egyptians were starving and in bad need of capital for important projects.

* * *

Yet Egypt was paying the same tolls as other countries on its own shipping even when passing through the canal from one Egyptian port to another.

The only answer Egypt received to its pleas was a constant and adamant demand for extending the duration of the company's concession. The Egyptians were determined not to starve any more or allow such big revenue to pass from their hands.

When the International Court in 1952, in the crisis between England and Iran over Abadan Oil Co. ruled all countries have the right to nationalize companies on their territory, paying fair compensation to stockholders, Egypt found a chance to regain its rights.

* * *

The Suez Canal, on which Egyptians have long built hopes for the future, was neglected by its owners because it realized the concession expiring in 1968 was drawing close.

Egypt has never thought of blocking the canal. On the other hand, the government announced navigation will continue without any complications or without any toll increases. It is to the interest of Egypt to keep the canal open for all ships and at all times at least to gain more revenue.

Unlike Britain, which has more than once blocked the canal to enemies, Egypt has always respected all conventions and treaties emphasizing the neutrality of the canal. Israel's ships carrying strategic materials are the only vessels barred from the canal on security grounds because Egypt is still in a state of war with Israel.

WON'T GO COMMUNIST

Egypt will never turn into a Communist satellite because the Egyptians are for democracy, according to Islam, the major religion in the Middle East. History and previous attitudes of Egypt indicate this.

Egyptians still look toward the free world for help and justice. They only want to live as human beings and do not wish to starve and see their children die of hunger and disease.

Egyptians want justice from a friendly country which, like Egypt, has struggled hard against the British for independence.

* * *

Even if Egypt will use some of the canal revenue surplus, after improving the waterway, in carrying out its much needed economic projects, this should gratify all who are interested in the peace and prosperity of an old but newly born nation.

Deserted Wife Traps Husband After Long Trip

DETROIT (AP)—A frail little woman from Alaska says she finally caught up with her man after a 3,000-mile journey.

* * *

Mrs. Rena Millard, 56, told Circuit Judge Victor Targonski yesterday it took her 3½ years to catch up with her husband, Lawrence, 48. She said he abandoned her and her son on Tiny Gavina Island near Ketchikan, Alaska, in 1952.

Learning her husband was in Detroit, Mrs. Millard flew here Sept. 17 and located him after checking telephone directories and tracking down several old addresses.

Millard, a truck driver, was arrested for nonsupport and ordered by Judge Targonski to pay his wife $25 a week.

Today, Mrs. Millard prepared to return to Alaska, commenting on her mission, "It was really nothing."

Estes Says Ike Ducking Crises

GOP Sweeping Them Under the Rug Instead, Kefauver Charges

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today in an appeal for the votes of young people that the Eisenhower administration has swept world crises "under the rug."

* * *

The Democratic vice-presidential candidate also said that young people who worked for President Eisenhower's election four years ago have not been rewarded "very well."

"He has done less than any person in my memory to us young men and women in government," Kefauver said, adding that "we have a rather elderly government in Washington."

Kefauver, in an address prepared for a young voters organization at the University of Louisville, said that "in Korea and Indochina, in many places the Eisenhower administration has not solved crises — it has swept them under the rug."

* * *

"They may be out of sight for the moment," he said, "but they are still there."

Besides this speech, Kefauver also had on his schedule a luncheon address to the Louisville Municipal League before moving on to Indianapolis for a drive to Anderson, Ind., where he is to speak at an ox roast tonight.

Throughout his current 15-day campaign tour, ending Saturday night, Kefauver has accused Eisenhower of breaking his 1952 election promises to farmers and of supporting policies that he said undermine the family-size farm.

He kept up this line of attack yesterday in putting in a 16-hour day of campaigning that started at Jamestown, N.D., and ended at Grand Rapids, Mich., around midnight after a tour by plane and car through Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Marine Recruiter Ralph D. Coffman was delighted to get a letter asking about his branch of the armed forces. The prospect sounded so promising he drove the 85 miles to Holdenville to talk to Clifton House about signing up. Coffman had to turn House down, however. He was just 9 years old.

Modernization Program Planned

Algiers to Replace Famed Casbah

ALGIERS, Algeria (AP)—A whole generation still throbs to the words in that throaty accent: "Come with me to the Casbah . ." That generation should be aware, however, there probably won't be any Boyer-Lamarr type Casbah much longer.

* * *

Instead, Algiers may have something like the "Algerian Village" at the last World's Fair if the city fathers have their way.

As part of the modernization of the Algerian capital, city architects have prepared a plan to clean up this hillside complex of narrow alleys and shrouded passageways sheltering about 65,000 persons.

The Arab nationalist rebellion against French rule has given the project almost an emergency status. The labyrinth is too convenient as an escapeway for rebel gunmen or grenade throwers. There also are considerations of public health, sanitation, housing facilities and the tourist attraction.

* * *

One aim, both from a security and a health standpoint, is to thin out the Casbah's population.

High in the hills west of the Casbah, over a wide valley known as "Climat de France," the city government is currently building a housing project of 4,500 units which, it is estimated, can house roughly 30,000 persons in conditions of comfort and hygiene.

The plan is to move families from crumbling, overcrowded houses in the Casbah to "Climat de France," thus eventually cutting the Casbah population down to a manageable 25,000.

* * *

Buildings which are demolished will be replaced with Moorish or Turkish type houses, built along the old lines but equipped inside with modern sanitation. Old structures in relatively good shape will be repaired and remodeled.

As landlord or general supervisor, the city administration will control the persons who live there and will assure upkeep as a tourist attraction.

Copter Carries Plane to Shelter From Storm

MOREHEAD CITY, N. C. (AP)—A helicopter plucked a damaged light airplane from the storm-tossed sands of Shackleford Banks yesterday and carried it to the safety of nearby Ft. Macon.

The Air Force helicopter from Ft. Bragg was buffeted by rains and winds of close to 50 miles per hour as it picked up the light National Guard plane.

The plane, based at Norfolk, Va., crash landed on the outer banks island Sunday morning.

It weighs about 2,300 pounds.

Farm Women Get 'Sweet Talk'

Seek Government Aid, Higher Payments for Potatoes

WASHINGTON (AP)—A group of farm wives made no headway yesterday in efforts to get higher government payments for potatoes. One woman said the group got only "sweet talk" at the Agriulture Department.

* * *

After a day of protest demonstrations and conferences with department officials, leaders of the 150 or so farm women fearfully told newsmen they had received no satisfaction.

"We are going to lose our farms the way we are going now," said Mrs. Leo Borkoski of Waterville, L.I., N.Y.

The women came in buses from Long Island, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Pennsylvania. They sought increased government help in coping with a sharp drop in potato prices, caused by a sudden surplus. In some places, grower prices have dropped below $1 a hundred pounds.

* * *

After he had talked with the women, Asst. Secretary of Agriculture Earl C. Butz told newsmen the farm group wanted payments boosted under a recently announced potato diversion program. Butz said he told the women this could not be done for any one group.

Butz said that last year a similar diversion program "got the job done when potato prices were lower than they are now."

Bathtub Runs Second to TV in Popularity

LOS ANGELES (AP)—As mothers of dirt-tinged little boys have long known, the bathtub runs a poor second to television in popularity.

"There are now more TV sets than bathtubs in American homes," Robert S. Bell, executive vice president of the Packard-Bell Co., said yesterday.

U. S. manufacturers in eight years have produced 49 million TV sets, he told a National Television Week meeting of industry representatives.

Young Pioneer Is Lost in W. F. Maybury's Death

Pontiac loses a fine, Christian gentleman in the death of William F. Maybury.

★ ★ ★

Well known in industrial, social and religious circles, Mr. Maybury possessed an unusually large group of friends whom he had attracted throughout his busy and energetic life time. Although he was only 65, he originally ranked among the manufacturing pioneers of this area. He began his climb to achievement back under the late William L. Day.

MAYBURY

He was also a younger contemporary of such well known earlier manufacturers as Oliver J. Beaudette, the two Wilson brothers, George Hannum, Will Kelly, Paul Siler and others. Young Maybury was "coming along" and was favorably known to these men as they stood at the peaks of their careers.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Maybury and his family have long been staunch members of All Saints Episcopal Church where he has always been an interested and active communicant.

It is men like William F. Maybury who are the bulwark of a community's success. Their own personal labors, their example to others and their ready cooperation with contemporaries help establish and maintain a constructive and winning civic pace.

Western Nations Join in Program on Suez

The eighteen nation conference which met recently in London reached agreement for action on the seizure of the Suez Canal by Egypt. Its agreement was not unanimous, but a majority of the nations agreed to the program that was finally adopted, and more are expected to approve it after their home governments have had a chance to study the plan in detail.

★ ★ ★

Briefly these nations plan to draw up a plan for international control of the canal and seek the endorsement of the United Nations Security Council. They will seek Egyptian cooperation in seeing that their nations' ships are assured safe and orderly use of the canal. Finally, if their ships find the canal closed to them, they will plan ways to bypass the canal.

One representative of each of the nations approving the new Suez Users' Association is to meet at London on Oct. 1. This group will seek to carry out the program outlined above.

The new group's threat to bypass Suez in case Egypt refuses to make any concessions, opens up interesting possibilities. Oil pipelines have been mentioned which would bring Mideast oil by land to the eastern shores of the Mediterranean Sea, thus avoiding the Suez Canal. Shipping could go all the way around the Cape of Good Hope, at Africa's southern tip, a long and costly operation.

★ ★ ★

However, such steps would be costly to Egypt too, for her purpose in nationalizing the canal was to take over the canal's big income. If that income should be drastically cut, Egypt's whole aim in seizing the canal would be defeated.

★ ★ ★

The new group hopes that this threat will be sufficient to cause President Nasser of Egypt to agree to some compromise, such as an international voice in control of the canal. Whether this happens probably depends largely on whether Nasser believes the new group can carry out so ambitious a program.

★ ★ ★

At any rate, the new approach minimizes the danger of a shooting war, at least for some time, and increases the possibility of some sort of compromise.

At Least Let's Make the Detour Smooth

Thousands of Pontiac area residents are being inconvenienced by the delay in construction of the grade separation at Orchard Lake avenue and Telegraph Road. Many of them are convinced that if those in charge of this job had been on their toes in lining up the steel needed, it would have been possible to continue the work without interruption.

★ ★ ★

As it stands, nothing is being done, and work will not be resumed until next spring. Meanwhile, the usual heavy traffic is going around a detour which is delaying thousands of people each day as they go to and from their work.

★ ★ ★

However, as if that were not bad enough, the detour has buckled in a couple of spots so that motorists are wearing out their tires at an unnecessarily rapid rate. The least those in charge might do is to smooth out the detour so that, slow going as it is with its sharp curves, at least the roadbed would be smooth.

Sticky Proposition

David Lawrence Says:

International Pacts Are Inviolable

WASHINGTON—These are perilous times for people who give money and energy trying to make the world economy function—perilous because the confidence of investors is being shaken by widespread but unthinking applause for "nationalism."

So accustomed have many become to the idea governments—and particularly the U.S. government—must furnish capital for "undeveloped" countries there has been a tendency to overlook conditions that could cause both the government and the private investor to shun the so-called "nationalistic" countries.

This week there's a meeting here of the World Band and the International Monetary Fund. It is no secret Harold Macmillan, British chancellor of the exchequer, who is in Washington for the meeting, thinks Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal has seriously shaken the confidence necessary for private investment in underdeveloped nations. But what is more and more significant is that public opinion in countries like Britain and the United States is growing more hostile to the extension of government loans to governments which have no respect for law or equity.

Perhaps the best statement of principles has just come from M. J. Rathbone, president of the Standard Oil Co., N.J. He declares:

"On the question of nationalization and the Suez problem, there is one thing I'd like to say: We think that the great issue there is not whether the government has the right to nationalize property or not, but whether it has the right to abrogate contracts.

* * *

"For instance, if you should build a power plant in Cairo, just as a business venture without any contract with the Egyptian government, and the Egyptian government wanted to nationalize it, I don't think you would say a word about it. All you would ask is that they would give you satisfactory compensation.

"But where you have a concession contract with a government, it is an entirely different situation. A concession contract means the government has given a private individual the right to do something.

"If you want to come into any foreign country and develop subsoil wealth there, no matter whether it is oil, coal, iron or what, you make a contract with the government. Now, the government itself owns it and it has a perfect right to find it if it can. But when it elects not to do so and gives a concession to a private investor to do that, it is done for a specific period of time and with specific benefits to the government.

"I think that the thing we need in the world today, and need most badly, is a clear recognition of the fact that governments don't have to give these concessions but, once they do, then they ought to abide by them.

"If we don't have that kind of a set of rules we are not going to have foreign investments in, nor have the development of, the natural resources of many countries. Important as the Suez Canal is, it is very clear to me that much more important is the acceptance of this principle—that once a sovereign government makes a contract which it doesn't have to make, that contract ought to be respected."

Secretary of State Dulles in a television interview, emphasized the Treaty of 1888 gave Suez Canal users certain rights. That treaty has 12 more years to run. If treaties are to be superseded by "nationalization" of private properties without regard to concessions given by treaty, Dulles says "alternatives" to the canal will have to be planned. He points out

"It takes a little time, but you can get tankers—these big tankers—and it's cheaper for them to go around the Cape of Good Hope than it is to use the canal." He added:

"Egypt is losing in other ways far more than the equivalent of canal revenues . . . Ordinary business is drying up. . . ."

So economic force becomes more important in many ways than military force and it is wholly voluntary. Investors—either private or governmental—cannot be compelled to put their money in countries which violate treaties and take an arbitrary or capricious attitude toward private contracts.

Wisdom views with an indifferent eye all finite joys, all blessings born to die.—Hannah More.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doctor Levels Criticism at Medical School Setup

One of my bowling cronies, the admirable O. N. B., heads the bank, has a grandson who, like mine, has finished his sophomore year in college. Now, the banker says, his grandson has decided to be a doctor, and takes no interest whatever in coming into the bank. The banker feels some disappointment about it, but if the boy is determined to go into medicine, he, the banker, is all for it.

My grandson, who graduated from high school with the banker's, apparently has no interest whatever in becoming a doctor. (A sudden uneasy thought: Does the fate of his grandfather turn him away from medicine?) My grandson, however, has not yet decided what to do. However, his mom explains patiently that there's the uncertainty about the effect of military service.

If my son, grandson, daughter, or granddaughter, or any other boy or girl in whose career I am interested chooses medicine, I'm all for it; although I can't help feeling sorry for any youngster who seeks admission to the medical profession today.

In the first place, training takes at least four years too much time—the minimum of premedical college, medical school, and internship or residency training now required is ten years—far too much of the productive life, in my opinion. Charge it to my ignorance—I never had any college education—but I have never been able to see that four years of college loafing between high school graduation and matriculation in medical school makes one a better doctor.

Then, even if the boy or girl completes premedical college with the highest grades, there may still be cruel disappointment when he or she applies to this or that medical school. I am morally certain, although I can't prove it legally, that some medical schools reject applicants because of color, nationality, or creed and that some schools accept applicants because of political, or social influence. I believe there is nearly as much shady business in the selection of students for medical schools as there is in the licensing racket. Oh, yes, it is a racket conducted for the benefit of the petty politicians who hold soft jobs on state boards of medical examiners.

You see, the state is only kidding when it authorizes a medical school to give a graduate the degree, Doctor of Medicine. The heck with that, says the state, when the monkeyshines are over. Now, you trot down to the board and see whether the boys think you are fit to practice your profession—and don't forget to slip them a century note, just to keep 'em happy.

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Increase in Milk Prices Is Protested by Mother

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am wondering how other mothers of young children are accepting the latest price increase in milk. Are they nonchalantly saying, "Well, what can we do about it?" or are they getting busy with letters to the state capitol in protest?

Within the last two years the retail price on a half gallon of milk has risen eight cents through periodical raises. To say that the farmers' demands make this necessary is ridiculous. Anyone who is acquainted with dairy farmers knows different.

To think we mothers have to cut down on milk and possible risk weak bone structure and underdeveloped teeth in our youngsters because some big shot up the line felt he needed an extra Cadillac makes my blood boil.

Thank goodness the Federal government has provided schools with milk for the children. A student can receive ten half pints of milk for 25 cents. Yet the retail price of one quart of milk is 24 cents. Sound unjust? It is. If other food commodities can reach a price leveling off, why not so in the case of milk?

Foes Marshal Strength for U.N. Debate on Suez

BY JOSEPH L. PEARLMAN
INS Staff Writer

Both sides are lining up support for the new phase in the Suez dispute that opens in the United Nations Security Council today.

* * *

Egypt counter-punched effectively against the Anglo-French request that the Council consider the situation created by nationalization of the canal.

Egypt asked for an urgent meeting to consider the action taken by Britain and France—chiefly the military preparations in the eastern Mediterranean—in the quarrel that has been perking and boiling intermittently for weeks.

Egypt said the Anglo-French moves threatened international peace and security, and violated the United Nations Charter.

* * *

The rapid-fire developments left V. K. Krishna Menon standing in the middle of the controversy.

LITTLE LISTENING

The man on the Indian rope was in London trying to catch the ear of the British, but they were doing little listening.

India's roving ambassador, fresh from new talks with Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser in Cairo, was said to believe he could pry open the door to a settlement if given the chance.

But the feeling in London was that Menon needed more than an Indian rope trick to unravel the problem, and that the next clue to where everyone goes from here will have to come out of the U.N.

U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is backing the Anglo-French play in the U.N. but he feels it would be better if the real, down-to-earth debate in the Council comes after the actual formation of the canal users' association as a going concern.

The French were still angry over failure to put any teeth into the draft charter for the users' association.

The Egyptians were busy talking with leaders of neighboring Arab states and the Soviet envoy in Cairo in preparation for the Council showdown.

If need be, the Egyptians believe, Russia will always be in a position to veto any Council action considered unfavorable by Cairo.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser got King Saud of Saudi Arabia and Syrian President Shukry El-Kuwatly to announce their full support of Egypt's stand in the dispute.

Saudi Arabia and Syria joined with Egypt in asking for direct negotiations between the nations interested in the canal and Nasser.

* * *

Both sides say they are willing to talk. The trouble is the British and French insist the talks be based on proposals to end rule of the canal by one nation, and Egypt insists it owns the canal and has every right to run it.

The Security Council will have to try to figure some way out of the stalemate.

Why is it that all babies are . . . So cuddly, cute and sweet . . . That they appeal to everyone . . . At home and on the street? . . . What causes human hearts to melt . . . When little arms reach out . . . Or when a tiny voice gives forth . . . A whimper or a shout? . . . The answer is that babies all . . . Are truly heaven-kissed . . . So they look lovable beyond . . . Our power to resist . . . God fashions them to win our hearts . . . And all that we can spare . . . Of time and effort to provide . . . The tenderest of care . . . He makes each baby beautiful . . . And precious as can be . . . For us to cherish, and to learn . . . To live unselfishly.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Expect Effortless Miracle

Margaret shows a juvenile lack of judgment concerning modern doctors. And she also wants Uncle Sam or some other miracle worker to do the job which only she can accomplish. Most of you readers have some friend or relative who could profit from this case, so clip it out and mail it.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-375: Margaret S. aged 17, telephoned my office from Union Station.

"I simply must see you, Dr. Crane," she demanded. "I have come all the way from Ohio just to talk to you."

* * *

"Well, I'm sorry but I haven't a minute of time free today. Besides, you should realize that you can't break in upon any busy doctor without having a confirmed appointment.

"But since you are here, at least I'll talk to you on the phone, so what's your problem?"

"Oh, Dr. Crane, I can't put it into words," she began and I could tell she was crying, so I coaxed her along tactfully.

Finally she voiced her tremendous dilemma.

"I am so fat that boys don't ask me for dates!" she blurted out the unpleasant fact.

"Didn't you ever consult a local physician about your problem? I countered.

* * *

"Yes, and he put me on a diet. But I can't stick to my diet," she added, tearfully. "So what can I do?"

PITY YOUR DOCTOR

Margaret is a reasonably smart girl for she is a senior in high school. But notice the total lack of "horse sense" which she demonstrates.

And many supposedly mature adults will come to Chicago to see me without even knowing in advance if I am in town or out on a lectrue trip.

They don't seem to realize that you can't barge into a busy modern specialist's schedule without a confirmed previous appointment. Why, even the leading hotels will not rent you a room any more without a confirming wire or letter to you.

Besides, it is foolish to run half way across the nation to consult a doctor in Chicago when you have topnotch advisers in any fair sized city nearby.

Doctors are given a standardized training. They are much like drug stores or garages.

Wouldn't it be silly to drive from St. Louis to California just to purchase a tube of toothpaste at a California drug store which you could have bought at home?

And wouldn't you deem it silly to steer your car 1,000 miles to some distant garage to have new rings installed, when any good local garage mechanic could have done the same thing?

Yet this is exactly what many people do. They get enamoured of distant clinics and may spend as much money to travel there as the local expert would charge for an equally good surgical operation.

I suppose it is largely due to the power of modern advertising and the sheeplike nature of modern Americans. People nowadays tend to stampede, instead of resolutely trying to solve their own problems at home, and by their own efforts.

UNCLE SAM'S MISTAKES

Some of this evil has resulted from the tendency to expect Uncle Sam to shell out cash or medical treatment or other miracle cures for all local evils.

* * *

It's high time we began to look to ourselves once more for our own help. And that's what I told Margaret, albeit a little more tactfully than I am doing in this terse column today.

She had a good diet prescribed by her local physician. But Margaret still took her malted milks in between meals, and otherwise violated that diet.

No diet will get any results unless the dieter follows it per the rules! And quit expecting drugs or outside miracles to offset your own gluttony.

If you want to lose weight, send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. Follow it and you'll be down 10 lbs. but it is all up to you.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Dewey Talks Tonight to UM Republicans

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey will deliver a major Republican campaign speech at the University of Michigan, his alma mater.

More than 3,000 students are expected to jam Hill Auditorium to hear the two-time GOP candidate for president. He will be introduced by Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich).

Grade School Pupils Like Foreign Tongues

CHICAGO—Some 271,600 American public-school children between kindergarten and the sixth grade are studying a foreign language. They are learning any of seven—French, Spanish, German, Italian, Latin, Norwegian, or Greek—under the direct guidance of a classroom or visiting teacher.

In Roman Catholic schools 142,700 elementary school pupils are learning a foreign tongue. In 1939 there were probably fewer than 2,000 public elementary school children studying a foreign language.

Suggests 'Miscellaneous Information' Instead

Commentator Crusades Against Small Talk

By PHYLLIS BATELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—The most painful part of parties—aside from the occasional old fool who goes around hugging the ladies—is the nonsensical drivel exchanged by people known in the cocktail circuit as "small talkers."

* * *

These are the folks of any age or sex who invariably greet you with an enthusiastic question. Like "Honey, wherever did you get that hat?" (The male version is usually less specific: "How you doing, boy?")

If given a piece of information, the small-talker's three-word stock answer is, "Isn't that interesting!"

"I would guess that half the population of the United States wastes half its waking hours either spouting off, or listening to, small talk," says Arthur Van Horn, an expert on insidious insignificance.

* * *

"It starts out with a mother cooing nothings to a child, and it winds up when the child has turned 85 and is saying 'Yep, but it ain't like the good old days.' In between there are millions of meaningless 'Nice weather we're havings' and 'How do you like my new dress's'?".

RADIO EXPERIENCE

Van Horn is a big, handsome radio and TV commentator who became an anti-small talk man only after he started his professional career and learned that "dead air" is the most fearsome foe of a broadcaster's peace of mind.

Suddenly, he realized that he was either going to have to talk small talk, to fill up his time, or he'd have to find something interesting to say.

It was in San Francisco, he was barely out of the University of California, and the truth was that all he could think of to "fill" with were football anecdotes (he'd managed the college team) and tender love words (he'd always liked girls.)

"I might have been a small-talk man today if I hadn't realized that to hold my job I'd have to learn something more factual to gab about," he says.

* * *

A radio or TV man, Van Horn explains, must have at his fingertips a wide assortment of "miscellaneous information" on a wide assortment of subjects.

He must have them pigeonholed in his subconscious so that he can haul them out at a moment's notice, to fit the mood and theme of whatever show he's commenting—or whatever party he's pacing himself through.

TRUE, HONEST FACTS

"Miscellaneous information consists of short spurts of conversation, of the same duration as small talk," he explains, "but there's one vital difference. You are imparting some bit of true and honest fact to a conversation, rather than adding only a subjective sort of cliche.

* * *

"For instance, you may not be interested in this particularly, but when it rains turkeys are so enthralled that unless they are put under cover they will open their mouths, tip back their necks, and deliberately drown themselves."

Van Horn concedes that this example of miscellaneous information is not appropros to many party gatherings—"though let's not forget Thanksgiving is coming."

But still, it is a better conversation filler than a typical small talk remark such as "Man, have I got a hangover."

In covering big news assignments like the Geneva Big Four conference and the recent political conventions, and the Stockholm-Andrea Doria collision for ABC, the commentator has found that, more than ever, miscellaneous information is important to acquire.

You do it simply by keeping your eyes and ears opene, by remembering what you see. Thus, when the weary and frightened survivors of the Andrea Doria limped into New York harbor, Arthur Van Horn could fill up the "dead air" with life and put his interviewers at ease.

The chit-chatters would have approached a survivor with a "Well how do you feel today?"

Which would have been as devastating as a big-drinking, small-talking cocktail party.

Pair Monkeying Around With Language of Apes

TOKYO (INS)—Two Tokyo animal lovers have compiled a "vocabulary" for persons who want to chat with monkeys.

* * *

The book, entitled "Monkeys in the Four Seasons," lists 23 distinct monkey expressions which it says are easily intelligible to the average human.

The authors eavesdropped for more than a year at the Tokyo Zoo's Monkey Island in research for their volume on ape chatter.

FAMOUS INDIAN CHIEFS — 3

Black Hawk

At 15, Black Hawk brought in his first scalp, and at 19 he was chief of the united tribes of Sacs and Foxes. He was opposed to giving land to white settlers, and in the war of 1812 joined the British against the Americans.

After the war he continued guerrilla warfare against the settlers, but was defeated and, with his two sons, taken prisoner. A fifty-foot statue of Black Hawk now stands near Oregon, Ill., overlooking the Illinois river.

Indians moved supplies on a travois or drag, attached to a pony or dog. To make a travois you can attach to a toy horse you need two long poles — their length depending on the size of the horse — two short poles, and a square of firm brown cloth.

The two long poles are slipped through two slits on each side of the saddle blanket (E). A series of slits are made at each side of the cloth (C), then the sticks are woven through top and bottom (D) and tied firmly to sticks A and B as shown in the diagram.

Use your crayons to color this picture and then paste it down on cardboard and cut around the heavy outline. Fold back the ends at the dotted lines to make Black Hawk stand.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

City Inspector Urges Checkup

Asks Homeowners to Have Heating Units Examined

With the home heating season rapidly approaching—and for many already arrived—Peter Hickey, Pontiac plumbing and heating inspector, has issued a warning to have units inspected before firing.

* * *

"There is a potential hazard to life and property each year if these heating units are not inspected by a qualified person each year before use," Hickey emphasized.

He warned against home owners making the checks unless they are qualified.

Hickey pointed out two explosions in the last two years that were the result of furnaces being started without proper inspection.

GET EXPERT

If the unit is a steam or hot water system, call in a plumbing contractor; if your system is hot air, phone a heating contractor familiar with your type of furnace, he said.

He stressed that, he, along with the city fire marshal and his assistant, would be available at the City Hall to answer questions. "But we cannot suggest companies to perform the inspections as that is against our policy," he said.

* * *

Hickey mentioned that safety valves on boilers, flues, all lines, and controls should be checked before the furnace is fired.

O-JIB-WA BITTERS!
THE ONLY MEDICINE TO HELP MY ARTHRITIS

"After suffering for such a long time, it's great to be up and around again, and I'm thankful for O-JIB-WA BITTERS," says Mr. George Stubbs, 3205 Campbell, Dearborn.

"I haven't been able to work in over two years because of arthritis all through my system. Every joint was stiff and ached with pain. My neck was so stiff that I had to turn my whole body to move my head. It got so bad that my wife had to help feed me, and assist me getting in and out of bed. I was like this all through the winter and tried about everything offered for arthritis to no avail. Then a friend of my son's recommended O-JIB-WA BITTERS because she had received so much help from it. In fact, O-JIB-WA was always recommended so highly, I decided to try it, and in about two weeks, I could see that this was the medicine that would help me. The pain and stiffness was leaving me, and I could move about more freely. I'm in pretty good shape now for my age. My wife is also bothered with arthritis in her fingers and back, so I'm going to get her started on this wonderful product at once. I think that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is as good a medicine as anyone can take. It has done wonders for me, and I will always praise it to the highest, to anyone who needs it."

Bob Considine Says:

Love of Nature Dominates Old Irish Poetry

NEW YORK (INS)—"There is one on whom I should gladly gaze, to whom I would give the bright world, all of it, all of it though it be an unequal bargain."

* * *

Isn't that beautiful? It was written about 1,500 years ago in Ireland and is part of the tragic tale of Diarmait and Grainne, star-crossed lovers.

We can be indebted for it to Prof. Gerard Murphy, professor of the history of Celtic literature in Dublin's University College. Murphy has compiled a treasury of early Irish lyrics for the London publishers, Clarendon Press.

The Irish are an outdoor people, ancient foes of central heating and the bolted window. Their attachment to gentle things beyond the door and to nature at its most rambunctious fairly surges through Murphy's "Early Irish Lyrics."

Hist!—

"The little bird which has whistled from the end of a bright-yellow bill; it utters a note from Belfast Loch—a blackbird from a yellow-heaped branch." (From the margin of a Ninth Century manuscript "The Scholar and His Cat." a dissertation on the search of the scholar for words while the cat seeks only mice.

THE SIGHTS OF LIFE

Guaire, a Seventh Century king of Connaught, asked his hermit half-brother Marban what he saw in the life. Marban, his eye in a fine frenzy rolling, answered:

"The wind's voice against a branchy wood, on a day of gray cloud; cascades in a river; roar of rock: Delightful music." Guaire said to hell with his kingdom and trooped off to Marban's cave.

The Irish never did like a pay rent.

Try this for conscience-stricken womanhood speaking out in the religious poem "I Am Eve," struck sometimes between the 10th and 12th Century:

"There would be no ice in any place; there would be no glistening windy winter, there would be no hell; there would be no sorrow; there would be no fear, were it not for me."

* * *

Colum Gille, 6th Century Irish Missionary off somewhere harvesting souls in the alien corn, pined thus for Derry:

"This is why I love Derry, it is so calm and bright; for it is all full of white angels from one end to the other."

And here is sadness so moving, from the Ninth Century "Lament of the Old Woman of Beare"—

"Ebb-tide has come to me as to the sea . . .

"It is well for an island of the great sea; flood comes to it after its ebb. As for me, I expect no flood after ebb to come to me."

FINALLY BEFRIENDED

Suibhne Geilt, who was called Mag Rath in A.D. 649. He wandered out of doors for years, shunned but near the end of his days he was befriended by a holy man named Mo Ling. To Mo, Mad Sweeney sang:

"If I were to wander alone over the mountains of the great world, I would prefer the site of a single hut in the Glen of the Mighty Bolcan . . .

"Good its pure blue water; good its clean fierce wind; good its cress-green watercress; better its tall water-parsnip . . . Good its pure icy-clad tree; good its pleasant bright willow; good its yewy yew; better its melodious birch."

One last lament, which will strike as responsive a chord in some today as it did in the heart of Oisin, friend of Blessed Patrick himself:

"Once I was yellow-haired—ringleted; now my head puts forth only a short gray crop.

"Courtin' belongs not to me, for I wile no woman; tonight my hair is hoar; I shall not be as once I was."

Easy on the poison, Oisin. You've You've got plenty of company.

Juvenile Crime at Peak Between 9 and Midnight

NEW YORK (INS) — The average American juvenile delinquent gets in trouble between 9 p.m. and midnight.

This "critical" period was set today by the International Assn. of Chiefs of Police after a nationwide shurvey and study of juvenile delinquency problems.

Surprisingly, the association check found the "peak" mischief period for youths in the largest cities—of 500,000 and over—is between 6 p.m. and 9 p.m. but in smaller places the "peak" carries though to midnight.

The association polled police chiefs in 150 cities in an effort to better combat the ever increasing number of youthful criminals.

FBI crime reports show more than 42 per cent of murders, killings, assaults, rape, auto theft and other felonies in 1955 were committed by persons under 18.

GREATEST WASHDAY NEWS IN 25 YEARS:

Anything powders wash... Wisk can wash cleaner!

...because it's a liquid!

Only a liquid can dissolve completely...instantly. Can get clothes so clean, so fast!

Only a liquid can penetrate so deep into each cloth fiber and remove the grease, grime and hidden dirt that laundry powders leave behind

FOR FAMILY WASH

Yet it costs you less to use Wisk!

Because it's a liquid, you only need a little bit ...as little as 1/3 cup!

Liquid Wisk is concentrated! One-third (1/3) cup will do a whole load of wash. The pint can goes further than a "large" box of powder. Saves you money, too. But the quart and half-gallon cans save you even more. In fact, the bigger the can, the more money you save.

You haven't washed your cleanest wash, until you've washed with WISK

QUESTIONS women ask us about Wisk

Because WISK is so new and such an improvement on laundry powders, women just naturally want to know more about it. Here are the answers to their questions.

Do I have to use bleach or bluing?

No. WISK is blue. You don't have to add a thing. And it will get your wash whiter than any laundry powder — even the blue ones!

I have a dingy white nylon blouse. Will WISK get it white again?

Pour WISK right on the blouse, concentrated the way it comes out of the can. Squeeze the blouse until you have worked WISK into every part. Use plenty of WISK. Let blouse sit for five minutes to give WISK a chance to work. Then put in machine and wash, or wash by hand in basin for at least three minutes. Blouse will be white as new.

What kind of stains will WISK remove?

For most stains just use WISK the regular way in your washing machine. For really stubborn stains, the kind laundry powders won't budge no matter what you do, follow these simple steps: 1) Wet stain with water. 2) Pour a little WISK on stain. 3) Rub gently. 4) Put in machine with rest of wash.

Is WISK safe for my hands?

Yes. WISK is safer for you, your wash, and your machine. It is safe for delicate fabrics and for any color that is safe in water. It's ideal for "special wash" like baby's diapers and clothing.

Is WISK guaranteed?

Unconditionally! If you don't agree that WISK does the best job of any detergent you've ever used, Lever Brothers will give you your money back.

My washer is a top-loader. How much WISK should I use?

One-third cup of WISK will get your wash cleaner and whiter than a cup and a half (1½ cups) of laundry powder! Liquid WISK costs you less to use because you need only a little bit.

Is WISK meant for washing machines only?

No. WISK is great for dishes, walls, woodwork, removing grease from stoves. When we say: "Anything powders wash, WISK can wash cleaner!"...we mean it!

Bethany Group Hears Talk on India

Mrs. John K. Ormond of Birmingham was the speaker at the recent meeting of the Women's Society of Bethany Baptist Church. Mrs. Edward Lewis, president, presided at the meeting held in the church parlors.

Mrs. Ormond and her doctor husband served at a mission hospital and medical school in Mirage, India, for three years, under the direction of the Presbyterian Board of Missions.

The speaker told how she and Dr. Ormond made contracts with the depressed people of India and educated and converted them to Christianity. She stressed that their idea of service is not deep unless there is a background of Christian training.

In closing the speaker said, "The best way to help the people is to live with them and become their friend. Then they can be influenced to help themselves."

ILLUSTRATES POINT

Mrs. Ormond illustrated this point with a story of a group of Indian children that was given 2,500 trees by the government. Following the planting of the trees and the constant care, parents became interested and a reforestation program was under way.

* * *

Mrs. Ormond said that this was the type of program missionary workers plan now . . . cooperation with the people to help themselves, the result being a group of consecrated people working for their own people.

A report was given on the women's house party held in Hillsdale and officers presented their monthly reports. It was announced that the society will have their silver ingathering on Nov. 8, and the annual Harvest Dinner on Dec. 6.

Let Interest Decide Night Course

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Education is certainly a wonderful thing, but, unfortunately, its purpose is often misundrestood.

I've known people to take courses — I'm speaking now mostly of adult education — just to impress others with their "culture," or because a friend took the course or, as one very frank young woman told me, "It's as good a way as any for killing Tuesday night!"

Actually, the only reason for taking adult studies is because of a really deep interest in the subject. Only then do we incorporate it into the body of our knowledge and enrich our lives.

To study things that we don't like is not only to waste time, since the information goes in one ear and out the other, but also to distort our personalities. Again, the time could be spent more profitably studying something of real significance to us.

DIDN'T BELIEVE IT

Betty didn't believe that at first. She was office manager of a medium-sized company.

* * *

"I never would have risen to this job," she told me, "if I hadn't taken all those courses in purchasing and traffic."

Night after night, year after year, Betty had been taking courses to advance in her job. There was ony one rub — she hated the job!

Finally, she admitted it. Taking the courses had been a nightmare but, because she had a good mind, Betty had been able to pass them.

She was only in her thirties, yet she was already dreaming of the day when she would retire from her job and do something in arts and crafts, a field she really loved.

Betty finally dropped her purchasing courses and began taking ceramics and sketching and rug-making.

Before too long she'll be switching into a new job instead of living through another 30 years of misery.

The truth is, if advancement in the job you're in requires you to take courses that bore you, you're in the wrong job.

The solution is to begin studying, at night, things that really interest you and eventually you will be able to move into the proper field.

THE CAREER WOMAN

Women who work have a double reason for looking their best and only half the time to do it in.

Sometimes you have to wedge in beauty care between housekeeping jobs after five. The career women's beauty secret must be a simple plan she can keep up. Ten minutes in the morning to brush your hair and apply make-up. Another half hour at night to bathe, pin your curls in place, clean and rejuvenate your face. Then there are the weekly duties of manicure, hairdo and pedicure. It adds up to about an hour a day for the simplest of good grooming. That may be a sacrifice for the busy woman, it pays off in added efficiency from increased confidence.

Next week we will give you the simplest beauty program possible.

MR. and MRS. EDWIN J. KEEL JR.

Married in Central Christian Church were Nancy Ann Tibbitts and Edwin James Keel Jr. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tibbitts of Logan road, and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Keel of Marylestone drive.

Nancy A. Tibbitts Becomes Bride of Edwin J. Keel Jr.

The Rev. Charles Race of Central Christian Church officiated at the wedding service Saturday evening when Nancy Ann Tibbitts became the bride of Edwin James Keel Jr.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Tibbitts of Logan road. Edwin's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edwin J. Keel of Marylestone drive.

For the candlelight service, the bride chose a gown of point d'esprit lace with a sweetheart neckline. Tapered sleeves accented her fitted bodice and the skirt was fashioned in a double apron effect with hand clipped Chantilly lace. The skirt featured five tiers of lace ending in a chapel sweep train.

A demi-cap headpiece secured a fingertip veil of illusion.

The bridal bouquet was composed of white chrysanthemums, and stock with a center of pink rosebuds and lily of the valley.

THREE ATTENDANTS

Bridal attendants were JoAnn Tibbitts, Beverly Coin, and Dorothy Armstrong. Their gowns were cotillion blue crystalette of ballerina length. They carried pink glamellias and gladioli in crescent shapes.

Sharon Jones, flower girl, wore white tulle accented with lace and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and carnations.

Eugene Pool was best man Robert DeLongchamp and Dale Hargraves were ushers for the ceremony.

RECEPTION FOLLOWS

A reception in the church hall followed the service. For the wedding, Mrs. Tibbitts selected a beige lace dress with brown accessories and corsage of pink roses and carnations.

* * *

Mrs. Keel chose blue crepe with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses and carnations.

The newlyweds will make their home on Blair road.

Don't Hide Breakables, Says Psychiatrist

Teach Child to Be 'One' of Family

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Many psychiatrists don't like to be publicly quoted. What they seem to fear is not that you'll get their words wrong but that you'll twist the words' meaning to get support for some view they don't hold. So when I quote psychiatrists, my habit is to try to check my use of their statements with them.

Recently I quoted Dr. Milton M. Berger on our modern custom of removing all breakables from a toddler's environment. Calling it "over protective," he said.

"It is better for a child to learn from the beginning that he's a member, not a ruler of the family." Delighted with his words, I tried to check with him at his office.

He wasn't in. Nor was he at the country home to which I was referred. But his wife was. As soon as she learned why I'd telephoned, she became so interested in how I was quoting her husband that I read her in the column.

* * *

Her response was immediate. "Oh, I'm glad you chose that statement of my husband's to repeat," she told me. "Young mothers need so much to hear it, I think."

WILL THEY LISTEN?

"Yes," I agreed. "The question is, will they listen? If you're the mother of a toddler, it seems much simpler to strip your rooms of your own things than taking the time to repeat over and over, 'No—that's not yours—it's mine.'

Besides, young mothers' most trusted experts advise them to withdraw their claims in the home at this very time when thei barbies are testing out their own."

"I know," Mrs. Berger said. "I had to learn the hard way myself. Finally my husband helped me see that removing all our things from our babys reach was training him to expect us to ask nothing for ourselves.

It was a struggle learning to respect my rights — but just this morning a nice thing happened as a result of it . . ."

* * *

"What was it?" I asked.

"I found myself respecting Tommy's rights spontaneiously," said the psychiatrist's wife. "A neighbor's older boy had come over to ask for a loan of Tommy's beach ball. Without even thinking I heard myself saying, " 'Why do you ask me if you can borrow Tommy's property? Tommy is the person to decide whether he wants to lend his beach ball.' You should have seen Tommy's face. He looked so pleased and proud . . ."

"Maybe the young mothers might listen to that," I said. "Anyway, I'm going to give them a chance."

Posture Most Important in Teens

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Teen age is such an important period in life. It is a time of great change during which much of the foundation for future health and good looks or for future trouble is laid.

Many who had good posture as children begin to slump at adolescence. This is partially due to the rapid growth at this age and to the fatigue which often accompanies it.

Fatigue causes poor posture and poor posture causes fatigue. Therefore, the teenager may find himself in a vicious circle unless he or she gives thought to posture during these years.

At adolescence one can see the shadow of things to come. We can see the double chin of the future, deepening lines on the neck, the developing hump at the back of the neck, the rounding shoulders and the weakening abdominal muscles.

POSTURE EXERCISES

It is much easier to keep good posture than to correct poor posture and it is simpler to improve poor posture at adolescence than it is in later years. The following exercise is one which most teenagers will profit by using.

* * *

Stand tall. Make large circles with your arms, pulling back as your arms move sideward-downward. Be sure your head does not drop forward. Look up.

Another. Move your arms backward. Take the ends of a towel in each hand, shoulder width apart. Grip the towel as you lift your arms upward as far as comfortable, elbows straight. Lower arms. Continue lifting and lowering.

Overweight may cause fatigue even in a teenager. At this age dieting should be done very carefully. However, it is important from the standpoint of personality development as well as health that the adolescent should lose extra pounds.

Teenagers will profit by this exercise. Make large circles with your arms, pulling back as your arms move sideward-downward. Be sure your head does not drop forward. Look up.

If there is much weight to be lost the reduction should be under the supervision of a physician. He probably will make a metabolism test.

The teenager must have a well-balanced diet. Usually she can lose weight by cutting out the in-between snacks, eating fresh fruit instead of dessert and leaving off "seconds."

If you would like to have my leaflet for teenagers send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 58 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newsapepr.

Gear for Hunters

Hunters will do well to carry a small but well-stocked first aid kit on their treks into the wilderness this fall. Aside from the obvious hazards involved, there are the much more frequent cuts, bruises and falls that can ruin the trip and even cause serious harm. What to take? Bandages, iodine, aspirin and eye drops should do the job.

Countryside Group to Mark Birthday

The Countryside Improvement Association will meet Oct. 26 at the home of Mrs. Gene Mitchell, 7035 Alden drive, for a 12:30 luncheon. This final meeting of the year will celebrate the group's 45th birthday.

MR. and MRS. JAMES A. SASSER

Mary Jane Massie became the bride of James Alvin Sasser Saturday in Sunnyvale Chapel. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Massie of Fiddle avenue and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Sasser of Hospital road.

Mary Jane Massie Wed to James Alvin Sasser

Before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums, gladioli and palms, Mary Jane Massie became the bride of James Alvin Sasser. The candlelight ceremony was held Saturday evening at Sunnyvale Chapel. It was also the 39th wedding anniversary of the bride's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nathaniel Massie of Fiddle avenue are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur F. Sasser of Hospital road are James' parents.

The bridal gown of Chantilly lace over satin was fashioned with a square neckline and long tapered sleeves. A crown headpiece of seed pearls and irridescent sequins held the bride's fingertip veil of illusion, and she carried a cascade arrangement of rose melia with an orchid.

A strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom was her only jewelry. She was given in marriage by her father.

STAND UP FOR BRIDE

Mrs. Gerald Massie of Toledo was matron of honor. She wore an orchid gown of lace over taffeta in a ballerina-length.

* * *

Faye Bodiford, AnnaLee Johnson and Alma Parker wore similar gowns in shades of pink, blue and yellow respectively. Penny Norris, flower girl, wore white embroidered nylon and carried a basket of rose pedals.

James had Gerald A. Massie of Toledo, brother of the bride, as best man. Ushers were Arthur F. Sasser Jr., Floyd Johnson, Jack Price, Terry Walker and Joe Phillippe. Donnie E. Norris was ringbearer.

Donna Lou McCallum was organist for the service, and the bridal recital was sung by Mrs. Caloyn Phillippe.

* * *

For her daughter's wedding and the reception held in the church hall Mrs. Massie chose powder blue lace over taffeta with mauve accessories and a corsage of rose melias.

Mrs. Sasser wore teal blue crepe with mauve accessories and a corsage yellow rose melia corsage.

The new Mrs. Sasser changed to a rust sheath dress with beige accessories. She wore the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The newlyweds will reside on Claybourn street on their return from a wedding trip in Northern Michigan.

Out-of-town guests attended from Miami, Fla., Toledo, Kentucky, Detroit, Garden City, Brown City, Lapeer, Almont and Mio.

Fast Cake Topping

Sprinkle cocoanut over the top of the cake when it's hot out of the oven, and run under the broiler flame just long enough to toast cocoanut to a golden brown. Or cover cake with a 5-cent bar of chocolate, place under the direct broiler flame to melt, then spread smoothly with knife while soft.

Mrs. Nichols Proxy Delegate

Named to Kitchen Kabinet

Mrs. Kenneth Nichols of Franklin, a member of the Republican Women's Federation of Michigan, has been appointed a "Kitchen Kabinet" representative, to serve as proxy for the wife of C. E. Wilson, secretary of defense, at the meeting in Lansing Friday of Republican women.

* * *

Mrs. Nichols, a graduate of Michigan State University, is president of the Republican Women's Federation of Oakland County and a past vice president of Southfield Republican Women's Club.

She is a member of the Franklin and Birmingham PTA, Franklin Village Players, Franklin Bowling League and Women's Metropolitan Golf Association.

More than 1,000 women are expected at the "Kitchen Kabinet," an all-day session. The wives of nine members of President Eisenhower's cabinet will attend, according to Mrs. Lee S. Worthington of Lansing, publicity chairman of the event.

COMMITTEE AIDES

Aiding on the reception committee at the gathering will be wives of Michigan's Republican State and County officeholders and candidates.

* * *

The day's program will include an 11 a.m. coffee-reception on the club floor lounge at the Hotel, and a 12:30 luncheon in the hotel ballroom.

Cabinet wives will speak on their husband's work, the national situation and women's role in modern America, following the luncheon.

'Strip' Suit Is 3-Way Wardrobe

ROME (INS) — The latest from Rome is a "capsule wardrobe" which fits into a handbag and provides a gal with three different "looks."

The fashion wizard who invented this magic wardrobe did it with zippers instead of mirrors.

He is Roberto Arena and calls himself "professor" in a school for tailors he has founded in Rome.

His "three looks" wardrobe consists of one suit.

By zipping off parts of this tailor-made in a strip-tease sequence, Arena lets a girl change three times a day, starting with a strictly tailored suit in the morning and winding up in a decollete sheath dress for evening.

Arena had his idea patented and claims that the model can be made in any fabric such as tweed, plain wool, velvet or silk.

The different stages of Arena's strip-tease are:

A long sleeved suit with notched lapels and a hip-long peplum, which becomes short sleeved by zipping off three-quarters of the sleeves.

The suit peplum zips off to leave a waist-long bolero jacket.

Return From Funeral

Since Parents Live Abroad, Send Bids in Cousins' Names

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: "My parents are in Europe and I am an only child living in this country. I am about to have my wedding invitations made up and am puzzled as to how they should be worded.

"I live with a cousin and his wife. He sponsored me into this country. Some think the invitations should be sent out in their names and others think it is proper to have them go out in my parents' names even though they can't be present. Will you please advise me?"

Answer: The invitations to the wedding should go out in the names of those who are to be present — in other words, in your cousins' name.

Dear Mrs. Post: "My husband and I often dine in a small French restaurant that we like very much. It is crowded and occasionally we are asked if we mind sharing our table with a stranger.

"When we do this, should my husband introduce himself and then me and do we have a conversation, or do we pay no attention to the stranger?"

Answer: You would greet them but you wouldn't give your name nor try to carry on a conversation.

Dear Mrs. Post: "What is the proper way to dispose of a piece of meat which can't be chewed and swallowed?"

Answer: The only to do is to dry it as well as you can with pressure of your tongue against your closed teeth and then remove it from your mouth with your thumb underneath and four fingers pressed close together above (forming a screen over the piece of meat) and put it on your plate.

Local BPW Club Hears Report on Miami Parley

"Highlights of Miami" was the program presented at the Monday evening meeting of the Pontiac Business and Professional Women's Club held at Hotel Waldron.

Reporting on the recent biennial convention held in Miami, Fla., Mrs. C. W. Salton said:

"The National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs represents over 700 different professions and businesses. We are heightened by the progress made. Let us help lead the five million new young women workers and the 20 million already in our labor market toward the summit of responsibility and leadership."

Margaret Long read a humorous original poem she wrote on the convention, and Hazel Mac Girr reported on places of interest in Miami.

THREE CITED

Among the members to whom special recognition was given at the convention were Dr. Bertha Oxenius, a former member of the Pontiac club now living in Hawaii; Lena Madesin Phillips and Lena Lake Forest, pioneers in the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Marguerite E. Buck, international hair fashion designer, spoke on "Fashion and What It Means to the Business Women." Miss Buck is visiting here from Paris.

Tart Salad Goes Well at Buffets

By JANET ODELL

When you have a starchy casserole as your main dish, a tart salad is always a welcome addition. Mrs. James C. Clarke of Waterford has a favorite recipe for a Grapefruit and Vegetable Salad.

Mrs. Clarke's interests include cooking, entertaining, music and gardening. She is a member of Tuesday Musicale and of the Colonial group of her church.

She puts in many hours as a volunteer for the Red Cross and the Cancer society, both in Holly—her former home—and in Pontiac.

Grapefruit and Vegetable Salad
By Mrs. James C. Clarke

1 package lime gelatine
1 cup hot water
1 cup cold water
1 cup grapefruit sections
6-8 long green pepper strips
1 teaspoon grated onion
1 tablespoon horseradish
1 tablespoon vinegar
½ cup chopped celery
1½ cups shredded cabbage
¼ cup finely shredded carrot

Dissolve gelatine in hot water. Add cold water. Arrange sections of grapefruit in the bottom of a one-quart mold. Line sides with green pepper strips. Cover with a layer of gelatin and chill until firm.

Chill remaining gelatin until slightly thickened. Mix remaining ingredients and let stand ½ hour. Fold into thickened gelatine and spoon carefully over gelatine-fruit layer in mold.

Chill until firm. Serve with a horseradish dressing, made by stirring horseradish into mayonnaise. Garnish with carrot curls. Serves 6-8.

Needle in Heart Found to Relieve Cardiac Patients

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Sticking a six-inch needle through the breastbone into the heart sounds lethal, but physicians are using the procedure in the fight to save lives among cardiac patients.

The technique, enabling better X-ray pictures of the heart, was described by Dr. J. Stauffer Lehman of Philadelphia yesterday at the American Roentgen Ray Society meeting.

The hollow needle is used to squirt an opaque material into heart valves. While the needle is in the heart as many as 12 X-ray pictures can be taken in three minutes.

No deaths have occurred in 77 such examinations, Dr. Lehman reported. He said there is no pain.

Patients are given a few special sleeping pills and some novocaine is applied to the chest; the heart is punctured while patients are conscious.

There were about 115,000 women who were widowed by the death of husbands who were less than 55 years of age during the 1955 calendar year.

Hire Engineers From Pontiac

Lots to Cost $39,825 With Options Secured in East, Main Area

ROCHESTER—Councilman acted Monday night to secure option on four pieces of property for the proposed Off-the-Street parking lot and resolved to engage the services of Johnson and Anderson, Engineers of Pontiac, for the lot engineering.

The four properties will cost $39,825. They are the Lionel Smith property Lot 104, to cost $16,000; Mrs. C. W. Case property, $7,000; Lot 104 of Philipino Folino, known as the former Fabiano home, $7,875, and the Mary G. Hall property, Lot 106, $8,950.

Owners of the properties have the privelege of moving houses off from the lots if they so desire.

All properties are lots of the original plant of the Village of Rochester and located between East and Main streets. The village treasurer was instructed to issue warrants in the amount of $100 each to secure each option, same amount to be applied on the purchase price if the option is exercised.

President Clarence Burr authorized Village Manager Robert A. Slone and Village Clerk, Lillian Easterle to attend the Annual meeting of Municipal Employes Retirement Saystem at East Lansing, at Kellogg Center, on Oct. 8th.

A special meeting will be held at 8 p.m. Monday for a public hearing on a special assessment for the asphalt, curb and gutter and sidewalk on Alice St., Fairview St., and First Streets.

Milford GOC Post Moves With All Hands 'On Deck'

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD — When members of the Ground Observers Corps moved their post to a new location recently, they were in touch with the Grand Rapids Filter Center constantly.

Not a second was lost from the time the four-year old post began its mile and a half trip from Lovejoy Hill to the new site on the Huron - Clinton Metropolitan park property on General Motors road. The General Telephone Co., installed telephones on the poles outside and double shifts of workers were on the job at both ends.

All work was donated by members of the GOC in moving and refurbishing of the post. There is a new roof, floor, inlaid tile and paint job.

Clyde Shirtcliff and Ralph Morrow, the two men who built the post originally, did all the remodeling with Harry Patterson donating the tile work.

Morris Mancour offered to haul the post to the new site and Perry Orvis supplied all the sand and gravel for the new road and parking lot. Walter Kern and the George Eberles' painted the building. According to Mrs. Melvina Eberle, no one seems to know where it came from, but there is a brand new flag flying over the east side of the post.

Tonight, a "Briefing and Planning" meeting has been called by the Oakland County Chapter of the Red Cross, to meet at the Baker Multi-purpose room at 8 o'clock.

All members from the southeastern corner of Oakland County and the surrounding area are asked to be present to hear a five-member panel discussion on "If Detroit were bombed — what would we do in case of disaster." Mrs. Mildred Bennett, Executive Secretary of the Red Cross will be the moderator and a question and answer period will follow the panel discussion.

There are 130 members of the Milford GOC with Cecil Stetler heading the group.

Dog Training Classes to Begin at Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Plans have been completed between the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club and the recreation department of this Township for a 12-week dog training class to begin at the Community Center, Oct. 1.

Classes will be conducted Tuesday evening, from 8 - 9 p.m. beginning Oct. 9.

Oct. 1, 8 - 9 p.m., will be the first meeting and the only one held on Monday.

This meeting will be for a threefold purpose: Getting acquainted, a demonstration by dogs that have been trained previously by the club, and for registrations.

'Many people in the last several years in Waterford Township have requested a program such as this, where they might train their dogs to become obedient and a better companion, attentive to instruction, and to learn retrieving and tricks," announces recreation director, Thomas Belton.

"This proposed first-time program is an excellent chance to train dogs in these areas and by an excellent instructional staff," he added.

The Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club is a voluntary organization that has been in operation for 12 years. They conduct classes each year in many of the Detroit and Oakland County communities including Pontiac, Bloomfield Hills and Royal Oak.

President of the SMOTC is Bill Averill of Birmingham; vice president is John Icker of Pontiac. Bill Reekie of Farmington is the training director and will direct classes in Waterford this year.

There will be a charge for registration. All residents in the Waterford Township vicinity are invited to the first demonstration, Oct. 1, free of charge, and may call the recreation office, OR 3-9152 for further information.

Hazel Parkers Request School Design Study 30-Year Borrowing

HAZEL PARK—Eying the schoolroom shortage, a citizens committee here Monday night agreed unanimously to accept a 30-year borrowing plan, check on next year enrollment and request the board of education to have qualified engineers review the architectural plans for new schools and additions rejected in the June election.

A school building bond issue of $8,500,000 recommended by the citizens committee was turned down by voters in the June voting.

Committee Chairman Joseph J. Mitchell said his group would recommend another bond issue to the school board to be put on the November ballot but that no figure could be reached until present basic costs had been ascertained and enrollment confirmed.

Mtichell said the 30-year borrowing plan would be under a new federal law recently passed under which interest is not paid on money borrowed until it is used, with 30 years to repay.

Under the mill system, interest acrues on the money as soon as it is accepted on the ballot.

Adult Classes to Start Tuesday in Waterford

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Adult Education classes start Tuesday in Waterford Township, with an announcement due next week on what courses will be offered and the time of registration.

Suggestions as to particular courses desired are being welcomed, according to Wayne McNeans, director of adult education.

Efforts will be made to provide any course for which a sufficient enrollment can be obtained, he said.

SYLVAN LAKE — Residents here are collecting a fund and planning a home-rebuilding session to help Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beecham, elderly couple whose home burned this week.

The Beechams, both in their 70's live on pension funds at 2291 Garland. They fled to safety after a can of paint exploded, apparently lit by defective furnace wiring. Their home suffered $1,000 in damage, with $1,000 damage to its contents.

Ernest Ethier of the Sylvan Lake police is engineering a drive for funds for the couple, left with no funds and no insurance. Donations may be sent to the Sylvan Lake City Hall, he says, and will be used to buy building materials and to aid the couple.

The Men's Club is planning to work weekends to re-do the Beechams' house.

NEW JET BON AMI*

SMASHES THRU "DIRT BARRIER"!

Pushbutton freedom from messy, tiresome cleaning chores... gives homes sparkling "Jet-Clean" look!

"Why didn't somebody think of this before!" That's what you'll say when you try revolutionary, new Jet Bon Ami. Pushbutton ease and speed make it fun to use. Spray it on—wipe it dry. Dirt...finger prints, scuff marks...even stubborn smudges...disappear...surfaces sparkle.

On windows, for example, there's none of that messy spill-over you get with "runny" cleaners. No streaks or powdery dust. And...listen: Jet Bon Ami leaves a protective coating that actually sheds dirt—so surfaces stay clean longer.

* This new cleaning formula, made by The Bon Ami Company, is as mild as your favorite toilet soap. Safe for surfaces you'd never trust to harsh, gritty cleaners. Ask for Jet Bon Ami at neighborhood stores.

MEN: Keep your auto windshield jet-clean for clearest, safest vision —make sure you have an extra container of Jet Bon Ami for your glove compartment.

Lovely hands stay lovely—never even get wet! If they do, Jet Bon Ami is as mild and safe as your favorite soap. Even after you're all "fixed up" for company, use Jet Bon Ami for last-minute clean-ups ...children's smudges on walls or windows.

White Lake Centennial Farm Now U.S. Home of Norwegian Student

By MRS. BERT McKEACHIE
White Lake Correspondent

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Harald P. Breivik, 16, of Aalesund, on Norway's west coast, is being sponsored by local community organizations through an American Field Service scholarship.

Living on the Centennial farm of Mr. and Mrs. Clare G. Voorheis in the northern part of the township, the lad will be learning American ways from the Voorheis' four children as well. One is in high school, one in college, the eldest aids his father on the farm and their only daughter works in a Pontiac office.

Harald applied, he says, for the AFS scholarship because so many from his town had seen America and he wanted to learn of customs and ideals here.

His visit here is part of a plan begun in 1914 when a group of Americans in Paris used theer won cars to help in removing wounded from battlefields. Their scholarship program was started during 1947-48, when 50 students were sent over here from various European countries.

Locally, Harald's visit is sponsored by $650 raised by Holly Kiwanis club and other civic groups to pay his traveling expenses, personal allowance, medical expenses and so forth.

Homes taking such students receive no compensation for this except whatever aid students give in household or farm chores outside school hours.

With 650 aboard the ship as he came to the United States, the AFS sponsors staged a program to further racial understanding among the many students. Aboard were 75 from Norway.

Harald's mastery of English, he says, was learned in four years of study in school, along with study of German and French as part of his high school work.

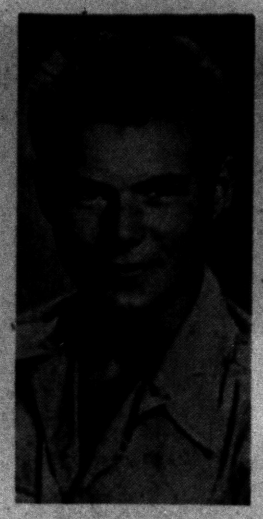
High school is six years in Norway, but Harald explains that very bright students finish in five. More subjects are offered than in U.S. curriculum and Harald indicates some courses there are similar to U.S. junior college study.

A great commercial nation, Norway, Harald says, ranks third in trade among nations of the world, although its area is comparable to Florida's, and it has only three and a half million people.

Since the steep slopes of the country provide many waterfalls, hydroelectric power is plentiful and cost of electricity is less than here.

* * *

After completing his regular high school course, the youth hopes to go to Frondheim Technical High School to study engineering.



HARALD BREIVIK

HAROLD'S HOME TOWN — Details of his home town, Aalesmund, on the west coast of Norway, are being compared with farm life here, as Harold P. Breivik lives on the Voorheis Centennial farm and studies in White Lake Township schools for the year.

Anita Mae Ellis Marries Friday in Parent's Home

MARLETTE —In the home of the bride's father, Clarence Ellis, Anita Mae Ellis was united in marriage to Richard C. Benedict in a double ring ceremony Friday evening.

The bride wore a white crystalette ballerina length gown with wide neckline and fitted midriff. Her shoulder length illusion net veil was secured to a tiara of pearls.

Her flowers were a cascade of white carnations and red roses.

Velva Jacobs of Marlette was her maid of honor and Paul Dunsford, Marlette, served as best man.

The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Benedict, Marlette.

Following the ceremony witnessed by the immediate families, the bride's sister, Mrs. Edward Fishell, served a buffet lunch. The reception was held Saturday evening in the American Legion hall for some two hundred relatives and friends.

After a northern Michigan trip, they will be at home in their new home in Marlette, where both are employed. Both are graduates of Marlette Community High school.

A state hospital for the insane, located at Williamsburg, Virginia, is believed to have been the oldest such institution, publicly-supported, within the limits of the United States.

42 Share Romeo Plan

Form Authority for Center

ROMEO — A civic center to serve the Romeo area is one step closer to reality today with the addition of a resolution creating the Romeo Community Building Authority, and the election of a temporary board of directors at a special meeting last night.

Forty two representatives of area clubs, churches and youth groups meeting in the village clerks office considered possible sites for the proposed structure.

They discussed size of the building and means of raising funds for its construction and maintenance, and how the center would operate once built.

Local attorney J. Gerald McLean and Edgar Priest conducted the meeting. Priest and Joseph Glisch were unanimously elected co-chairmen of the temporary board. A permanent organization will be established later.

Mrs. Anthony Yurenka was elected secretary, with Tom Williams, Romeo High School student council president named to represent area youth on the new board.

The board will submit the or- Romeo Village council and continue investigating sites.

Those present unanimously voted on behalf of their organizations to actively support the project, both with time and money.

Among sites considered were properties adjacent to Kernaghan Engineering Co. and the Harry Sisson home, both on Sisson street, the village park, the south end of Memorial Stadium, acreage across the street from it, the Croswell Street School grounds, and the Lions Community Field.

A 40,000 pre-panelized building has been offered as a gift to the community by Detroit Industrialist W. F. Sheets, who makes his home in Romeo. He is president of the R. C. Mahon Co. on 8 Mile Rd.

'12 Walked Away' Author Dead at 57

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Ralph H. Tate, 57, the wife of Brig. Gen. Ralph H. Tate, retired, died in Walter Reed Hospital yesterday.

* * *

Writing under her maiden name of Marguerite Gaylord, Mrs. Tate was the author of "12 Walked Away," a book based on a 1946 airplane crash in Switzerland. In that accident her son, Capt. Ralph Tate of the Air Force, was the plane's pilot and she was a passenger.

In January she completed her novel, "The Long Road."

Mrs. Tate was a niece of the late novelist James Oliver Curwood. She was born in Owosso. She married Tate in 1920.

Mrs. Tate first entered Walter Reed in February. She returned in the spring.

Asks Bar to Rewrite 36-Cents Tax Law

LANSING (AP) — The State Bar of Michigan has been asked to propose changes in the law that would prevent a repetition of the "36-cents tax case."

The request was made Tuesday by Gov. Williams in a letter to Albert E. Blashfield, bar president.

The governor said he asked the Legislature to undertake the task but received a negative response.

"Nevertheless, such a study ought to be made, and it occurs to me the State Bar of Michigan is the logical body to do so," Williams said.

Williams reviewed the case in which Harold and Evelyn Farr, a Kent County couple, failed to pay a 36-cents penalty for late settlement of their 1947 property tax bill of $12.

The Farr house and two lots later went on the block for back taxes and penalties.

It is estimated tha an average adult person has more than 2,500,000 sweat glands which are distributed over various sections of the body.

3515 SASHABAW ROAD CORNER OF SASHABAW AND WALTON, DRAYTON PLAINS

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

To go along with the 100,001 seats in its tremendous football arena, the University of Michigan has now added what is without doubt the dream house in press relations.

★ ★ ★

No longer is the haven for sports scribes referred to as the press box at Ann Arbor. Writers, radio and TV men, photographers, technicians, newsreel cameramen and everyone else in the field will make their way to the magnificent Communications Center.

Here is a three-tier structure, 180 feet long, equipped with facilities which are unequalled anywhere.

The first deck of the new Center has three leg stretching aisles with 74 working seats in the first row, 64 in the second and 58 in the third, all for the working press.

★ ★ ★

A concourse with a snack bar is located in the rear of this level.

News photographers, newsreel cameramen and television technicians, along with six darkrooms, photo transmission wires, Western Union wires comprise the middle deck.

On the top level are 17 radio and television booths, bench phones, public address, scouting coaches, and a special box for the University president and visiting dignitaries.

★ ★ ★

A few additional conveniences include a dining room, statisticians' section and elevators.

It's all there and it opens for business this Saturday.

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

If you want to know how the state sportswriters feel about the football strength of the Saginaw Valley Conference just look at this week's Associated Press Class A poll.

All of the SVC schools except Saginaw were listed in the top ten.

Ann Arbor of the Six-A League was first. Then came Bay City Central, Flint Northern, Saginaw Arthur Hill, Midland, Pontiac, Battle Creek Central, Dearborn Fordson, Flint Central and East Detroit.

'Barber' Maglie Clips Phils With No-Hitter, 5-0

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Comebacks? Baseball has had 'em. How about Ted Williams, returned from the wars? Or a "washed up" Johnny Mize tagging home runs for the 1950 Yankees? Or Roy Campanella, most valuable again with a healthy thumb last season?

Now it's Sal Maglie—the pappy guy the Giants had enough of; the old man Cleveland couldn't squeeze into its second place pitching staff.

* * *

It was Sal, the one-time Dodger killer, who beat Milwaukee for Brooklyn's over-night share of the National League lead two weeks ago. And last night, it was Maglie again, this time using his curve and control to gain his first no-hit, no-run game with a 5-0 masterpiece against Philadelphia that kept the Dodgers within three percentage points of the first place Braves.

At 39, Maglie is the oldest National Leaguer ever to pitch a no-hitter—and ironically, it overshadowed a splended six-single job by Warren Spahn, another comeback guy, who pitched Milwaukee to a 7-1 victory over Cincinnati and all but shut the door on Redleg pennant hopes. It was the 20th victory for the 35-year-old southpaw, prematurely tagged a has-been last season.

So, with only five days remaining, the race stacks up with Milwaukee on top with a 91-60 won-lost record and a .603 percentage. The Dodgers are a half game back at .600 by virtue of a 90-60 mark. Cincinnati is 89-63 for .586. Brooklyn plays four more, the Braves three and the Redlegs a pair.

* * *

Even if the Redlegs sweep their remaining two, at Chicago Saturday and Sunday, the Cincys are dead should the Braves win even one of their remaining three, beginning Friday night at St. Louis. Two more victories by Brooklyn, facing Philadelphia again today with a chance to deadlock the Braves before a windup three-game series with Pittsburgh this weekend at Ebbets Field, would chill Cincy, too.

* * *

St. Louis clinched fourth place by defeating Chicago 5-1 in a doubleheader opener, then lost to the Cubs 6-2 in the nightcap, cut to 7½ innings by darkness. New York's Giants moved within a game of sixth-place Pittsburgh with a 10-0 decision over the Pirates, who had just taken three of four from Brooklyn.

* * *

In the American, the champion New York Yankees belted Baltimore 11-6; Cleveland beat Kansas City 4-1 in 10 innings for Early Wynn's 20th; Detroit spilled Chicago 5-3, and Boston whacked Washington 10-4.

Maglie, gaining his third shutout with his 12th victory, allowed but three base runners—walking two and hitting Richie Ashburn with a two-out, 1-2 pitch in the ninth. He retired the first eight men he faced, gave up a walk to loser Jack Meyer, then knocked off 13 in a row.

* * *

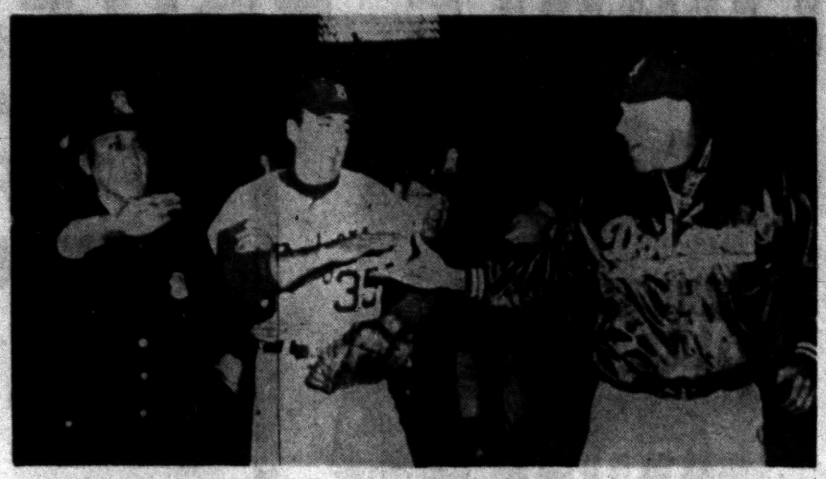
The Dodgers, held to just four hits by three pitchers, scored three runs in the second on two hits—one a two-run homer by Roy Campanella, his 19th. Stan Lopata's error produced two unearned runs in the third.

* * *

Dodger Carl Erskine has the only other NL no-hitter this season. He beat the Giants May 12 at Ebbets Field. Boston's Mel Parnell gave the AL a no-hitter July 14 against Chicago.

Spahn, missing a shutout on three singles in the third, doubled home two runs for a 3-0 lead that chased Larry Jansen in the second inning. The Braves had 15 hits off six pitchers while cracking Cincinnati's winning streak at six games.

Spahn, a shaky 17-14 last season, now has seven seasons of 20 or more victories—joining Christy Mathewson (13) and Grover Cleveland Alexander (9) in a select NL group. He's also the only Milwaukee pitcher to win a complete game since Labor Day, doing it three times.



NEED POLICE ESCORT — Pitching here Sal Maglie needs a police escort to clear the way to the dugout after his 5-0, no-hit victory over Philadelphia yesterday. Even Dale Mitchell of Dodgers gets a push from one of the officers, but not before he gives Maglie a congratulatory handshake. Ebbetts Field fans poured onto the field after Maglie got the last Philly out in the final stanza.

THAT NO-O-O-O-O-O-O HIT FEELING — Veteran pitcher Sal Maglie, old pro at 39, whose hurling has been a real mainstay of the Dodgers this year, smiles happily after posting his no-hitter against Philadelphia yesterday at Ebbets Field, to enable Brooklyn to stay right on the heels of Milwaukee in the hectic pennant race.

Gains Most Important Victory

Brooklyn Happy Over Day It Got Sal

BROOKLYN (AP)—Sal "The Barber" Maglie has done it again.

The ancient mound magician pitched a 5-0 no-hit victory against Philadelphia last night to keep Brooklyn on the heels of the Milwaukee Braves and make it possible for the Dodgers to climb into a first place tie today.

* * *

Manager Walter Alston, after blessing the day the Dodgers acquired the former Dodger killer, nominated Don Newcombe, his 26-game winner, to hurl against Robin Roberts and the Phillies this afternoon.

Newcombe will work with a two-day rest, one day less than Maglie had when the 39-year-old right-hander pitched his masterpiece which enabled the Dodgers to hang within a half game of the Braves who earlier had all but knocked Cincinnati out of the National League pennant race with a 7-1 triumph.

* * *

Sal was at his magnificent best as he faced 29 batters, permitting only three to reach base—hitting one batter and walking two. A double play followed one of the walks.

Only once did the Phillies come close to connecting safely. That was in the second inning when Willie Jones drove a hard grounder up the middle. Shortstop Pee Wee Reese, playing in his 2,000th major league game, darted to his left for a fine stop and threw to retire the batter.

Maglie was inclined to minimize what may have been the best pitched game of his brilliant career. The chilled crowd of 15,204 stood up and cheered his every pitch in the ninth inning. When he finally disposed of Marv Blaylock for the final out, the delirious fans, who so often jeered and hooted him when he was with the Giants, swarmed out on the field, all seeking to hug their new idol.

* * *

"Sure, I knew I was working on a no-hitter," Maglie told reporters when he finally was able to make his way into the clubhouse. "I've been around long enough to know what's going on. No, it didn't bother me one bit.

"In this game, you either do or you don't. It's not the first time I had a no-hitter going into the late innings. In fact, twice I was within outs of getting one right here when I was with the Giants. Once, when I was pitching in the Mexican League, I had a no-hitter for 8 2-3 innings but the next guy got a hit off me."

Roy Campanella, whose two run homer in the second inning, was all Sal needed, said he had caught two other no-hitters but called Maglie's the most important he ever handled.

Tigers Win, 5-3

Maxwell Blasts 28th

DETROIT (AP) — There's a lot of mileage on the words, "it couldn't have happened to a nicer guy."

But seldom are they more appropriate than when baseball people talk about Charlie Maxwell, personable and hard-hitting leftfielder of the Detroit Tigers. The 29-year-old Michigan-born slugger set a Tiger home run record for lefthanded hitters yesterday in the 5-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox.

After hitting a grand slam homer off Chicago in Monday's losing effort, Maxwell came through with a jet-propelled shot into the upper right field stands yesterday that sewed up the triumph for Billy Hoeft.

Earl Torgeson's solo blast in almost the same spot actually was the blow that broke the backs of the Sox. Breaking into the regular lineup for the first time since he was injured exactly two weeks ago, Torgy sent one of Dick Donovan's pitches screaming into the bleachers to break a 3-3 deadlock. Both homers came in the 8th inning after the Tigers had come from under a 3-1 deficit.

* * *

This was the climax to a great year for Maxwell, whose lusty hitting and superb fielding kept him in the lineup in his first real shot at a regular Major League job.

Maxwell's home run was his 28th and erases the mark established in 1950 and matched in 1951 by Vic Wertz, former Tiger outfielder now with Cleveland.

Hoeft, making good on his third attempt for victory No. 19, will have one more start in Cleveland this weekend to win his 20th. He scattered eight hits as the Tigers equalled their 1955 victories. They now have 79 victories and 71 defeats, compared with 79-75 a year ago.

* * *

Today winds up the 1956 season at Briggs Stadium. Paul Foytack of Detroit will oppose Jack Harshman in the finale. Foytack is 14-13 and Harshman 15-10, including five victories in his last six decisions.

Girl Seeks Coxswain's Place on Crew at BU

BOSTON (AP)—A permanent wave may take the place of the traditional dunking for Boston University's crew coxswain if a determined lass from Forest Hills, N.Y., has her way.

* * *

Crew Coach Jim Nesworthy still is shaking his head over yesterday's shock when 18-year-old freshman Suzie Sims attended opening practice and asked for the job of coxswain for the freshman shell.

* * *

Suzie, a five-foot, 105 pounder who loves athletics, says she has previous experience in this man's rowing domain.

"I was coxswain once in a four man shell," Suzie says earnestly. "I think I ought to have the job," she told Nesworthy. "It's the coxswain's job to keep the boys' morale up and I think I could do that."

* * *

The amazed coach says he won't turn Suzie down until he finds out definitely if a ruling applies to the situation. There are no written rules that women can't participate in intercollegiate athletics.

Miss Sims, who learned something about crew while attending Harvard summer school, has filled out an application form and will be allowed to practice — for the time being, anyway.

Terps' Mentor Can Still Joke

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Tommy Mont, knocked off stride in his hot spot as new coach of Maryland's football fortunes by a wholesale string of personnel losses, still could force a joke today.

* * *

"If we have one or two more injuries in the backfield, I may have to dip into the student body," he said wryly.

* * *

The 33-year-old naturally witty coach was kidding only a little.

Last spring he inherited from Jim Tatum what looked like the lushest crop of backs in years at Maryland.

Folley Outlasts Valdez

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Zora Folley of Chander, Ariz., outlasted a sluggish Nino Valdez and won a unanimous decision over the Cuban heavyweight in a 10-rounder last night.

7th Straight Is Titan Aim

DETROIT (INS) — The University of Detroit will attempt to notch its second straight victory of the 1956 football season Sunday when the Titans and Villanova clash in the Motor City.

* * *

The Titans will be trying for their 4th in a row over Villanova and their 7th successive game without a loss. This will be the 24th game in the Detroit-Villanova series, which was originated in 1931, and Detroit has won the last three — all by shutouts. The score was 27-0 in 1953, 20-0 in 1954, and 6-0 last year.

However, this year's edition of the Wildcats is the best in years. The squad boasts speed, depth and size as evidenced by the rugged battle the Wildcats gave top-ranked Texas A&M last Saturday before losing, 19-0.

* * *

Detroit got off on the right foot last Saturday by trouncing Marquette, 20-7, for the second straight year and coach Wally Fromhart is convinced that he has far greater depth and scoring punch than a year ago.

Open League Play

Maples, Bathers Go Friday

Opening gun of the Eastern Michigan League will be fired Friday night at Birmingham, when Carl Lemle's Maples tackle a Mt. Clemens outfit that could prove very difficult.

Both Lemle and Coach Bill Mowry (in his 1st year as Bathers' mentor), believe that if their clubs come along as they should at this time, a victory is not out of the picture. Each has high respect for the other.

Maples split in their two games and Bathers have dropped two.

Little change will be noted in either Lemle's lineup, or the starters Mowry used against Van Dyke last week.

They include, for Birmingham—center, Dick Miller; guards, Jim Fry and Jerry Rennell; tackles, Carson Janes and Jack Palmer; ends, Jim Sechrist and Big Bob Isbell (who is regarded as one of the Maple aces Bathers will have to contain); quarterback, Dave Ritchie; left half, Mike Nordstrom; right half, Tony Evangelista and fullback, Chuck Gibson.

Chiefs, Dales Continue Old Rivalry on Gridiron

By H. GUY MOATS

Renewal of another old-time football rivalry was scheduled Friday night for Pontiac's gridiron Chiefs. Coach Ed Graybiel's crew meets Ferndale's club, a better-than-it-showed outfit that lost to Grosse Pte. last weekend, 19-0.

Friday's tilt is set for the Ferndale field. Starting time is 8 o'clock.

Chiefs hold an edge over the Dales in the series, started back in 1931, when PHS won 25-0. In the last engagement between the schools, Chiefs won, 33-0, a year ago. Ferndale won 7-6 in 1954 and down the years previously these PHS . Dale battles have always been hard-fought and interesting.

Pontiac's club has experienced a rash of minor ailments, slight injuries this week that have slowed up some key performers and could sideline some of them Friday night. On this list is No. 1 quarterback Dick Whitmer, who had a slight recurrence of asthma, same thing that kept him out of the opener. However, he was in yesterday's scrimmage and was expected to be ready for at least part-time work Friday.

There was also a possiblity that Jimmy Shorter would be cast in another of his various jobs, at fullback. In case Whitmer is OK, Shorter probably will go in the middle-back spot. He's good at it, too.

Other starters will include about the same list that opened against Sexton: ends Cagle and Baxter; tackles Holloway and Kelly; guards Kors and Larry Lamphere (his 1st start); center, Joe Hill; backs—Whitmer, or Shorter, Freeman Watkins (lh), Spann or Shorter (fb), McDonald (rh).

For Ferndale, Coach Ted Meister is expected to start Jack Smith and Jim Santee (co-captain) at ends; Clayton Ploch and Dick Royer at guards; Dennis Blenman at center; Dick Wyatt and Chet Dietrich at tackles; backs, probably Ken Schultz at quarterback where Meister is still experimenting; Larry Brown (rh), Larry Wepling (lh) and Dick Sergozo (fb).

Dales were reported in good physical condition, and coaches predicted another close game, if "the club performs up to its potential."

TUESDAY'S FIGHTS

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Zora Folley, 198, Chandler, Ariz., outpointed Nino Valdes, 209, Havana, 10.
LOS ANGELES—Rudy Garcia, 125¾, Los Angeles, knocked out Jose Lopez, 124, Mexico City, 1.
LAKE CHARLES, La. — Floyd East, 137, Lake Charles, stopped Pete Sanchez, 143, Houston, 5.
PHILADELPHIA — Bobby Douglass, 146½, Philadelphia, outpointed Bobby Rosado, 153½, New York, 8.

Stanford to Take Air Route Against MSU 11

PALO ALTO, Calif., (AP) — Stanford's 36-year-old football coach Chuck Taylor must rate as one of the nation's top exponents of the forward pass.

Blessed again with a pair of sharpshooting quarterbacks, the Indians of 1956 figure to take the air route as far as it will take them, and the early predictions had the Rose Bowl as the destination.

Stanford opposes Michigan State here Saturday. The Indians opened their season last weekend with a 40-26 decision over Washington State.

Stanford's running attack can be classed not much better than fair, but the passing of T-formation quarterback John Brodie and his understudy, Jack Douglas, makes up the difference. Behind that pair come sophomore Bob Nicolet and Jack Taylor, switched from halfback.

Brodie last season connected on 76 of 133 attempts for 1,024 yards and an average of 57.1 per cent. Only seven of his passes were intercepted. Douglas, then a third stringer, had 22 completions in 46 tosses and only one fell into enemy hands.

That could be true of the Indians this season since in addition to the throwers, they've got one of the best end squads in their history, including Carl Isaacs, Joel Freis, Gary Van Galder, Jerry Beatie and a sophomore 200-pounder, Ben Robinson.

Michigan State, however, has warm memories of West Coast hospitality. Understandable, since Spartan football teams have beaten their last eight Pacific League opponents.

Mikes, Rams Seek Griffin Award Sunday

An old gridiron feud will be resumed Sunday afternoon at Wisner Stadium when St. Michael and St. Frederick clash in their annual intra-city spectacle.

At stake in this 22nd renewal of a bitter cross-town rivalry will be the Steve Griffin Memorial Trophy, authored by Miss Rose Griffin in honor of her late brother.

The trophy becomes retired by the 1st team to gain three victories. A new trophy was introduced last year and St. Mike scored a 26-13 triumph to take the 1st step toward permanent possession.

Since its inception in 1942, three Griffin Memorial awards have been permanently retired. The Shamrocks claimed the trophy in 1951 and 1954 with 19-14 and 34-0 decisions respectively.

St. Fred has not retired the traveling award since 1946 when the Rams defeated the northsiders, 26-12.

The Mikes now hold six straight victories over St. Fred. The overall series record shows 11 wins for St. Mike, seven for the Rams, and three ties.

Mort Neff Guest Tonight at OCSC

One of the largest crowds ever to attend a monthly membership meeting of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club is anticipated tonight, which will feature "Mr. Michigan Outdoors," Mort Neff.

The program will include the world premiere showing of "Calling All Ducks," Neff's newest film, as well as an additional film supplied by Ducks Unlimited, "The Training Of Mike," the story of a duck retriever.

"Calling All Ducks," was 3 years in the making with such famous wildlife photographers as Dick Borden and Bob Wood assisting Neff. It will feature Art Beauchamp, the world's champion duck caller, and how young Billy Ridley of Flint takes up the dare of duck shooting.

NEW YORK — Yankee pitcher Tom Sturdivant was a minor league infielder his first three years in baseball. He changed to the pitching mound in 1951-52.

Rochester's Wings Win Governor's Cup

TORONTO (AP)—The come - from-behind Rochester Red Wings have added their bit to prolonging a jinx that has plagued International Baseball League pennant winners.

The Wings, never ahead of the Toronto Maple Leafs throughout the series, walloped the pennant winners 7-1 last night to win the Governors' Cup and the right to advance into the Little World Series.

Rochester now meets the Indianapolis Indians, American Assn. champions, in the best - of-seven Little World Series which start Thursday. The first three games will be in Rochester, the next four, if necessary, Indianapolis.

Play First Game Against UCLA

Soph 'M' Backs Bit Jittery

ANN ARBOR (AP)—What thoughts leak through the mind of a sophomore about to play his first college football game?

The thoughts of Michigan's vaunted sophomore twins from Ohio, left halfback Bob Ptacek and fullback John Herrnstein, are of great anticipation and desire blended with twinges of apprehension.

"I'm a little bit nervous," said Herrnstein, the touted 212-pound line smasher from Chillicothe.

"I'm jittery myself thinking about the game," echoed Ptacek, his talented sidekick from Cleveland.

But both lads are quick to add they expect these feelings to vanish when they make their first contact with a UCLA player Saturday. It's not the expected 66,000 spectators that daunt them, they say; it's just the waiting and the thinking of that opening kickoff.

* * *

From all appearances on the practice field "Herrnie" and the 208-pound Ptacek forget all about Saturday's game and the crowd it will draw. They run through their plays like a pair of veterans, performing their assigned tasks automatically, running and faking with the perfection expected of a Michigan first stringer.

For Herrnstein in particular, the UCLA game will mean fulfillment of a long and cherished dream. His father, Bill, played halfback for Michigan during the 1920's and was a teammate of Coach Benny Oosterbaan.

His great uncle, Al, played in the same backfield with the fabled Willie Heston of fielding Yost's "point-a-minute" teams of 1901 and 1902.

Both will come up from Chillicothe to view John in his debut.

"This is probably the only game they'll be able to make this year," Herrnie said. "They're corn farmers and the fall harvest will keep them busy the rest of the season."

Herrnstein, with his Michigan heritage, was destined to come here for a long time, although he says he did think occasionally of going to Ohio State. The Columbus school definitely missed its opportunity to grab Ptacek.

"I decided on Michigan because I liked their brand of single wing football," said the stocky Clevelander.

Baker Favorite Over 'Hurricane'

Bob Figures He Has Licked Weight, Hopes to Beat Jackson

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Bob Baker, confident he's licked his weight problem, is an 8-5 favorite to do the same tonight to Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson in a 12-round outdoor fight that probably means a crack at the heavyweight title for the winner.

* * *

The 29-year-old Pittsburgh resident has long been on the fringe of the division's outstanding fighters but overweight—and brittle hands—have kept him from reaching his peak.

* * *

With time starting to run out for him, Baker and his handlers are confident that an arduous training routine which has cut his weight to a trim 210 pounds will give him all that's needed in this return bout to defeat the ever-pressing Hurricane from Far Rockaway, N.Y.

* * *

Jackson is ranked No. 3 and Baker No. 4 behind Archie Moore and Floyd Patterson in the scramble for the heavyweight title vacated by Rocky Marciano.

Tonight's bout will be broadcast, ABC-TV and radio, 9 p.m., EST, with Pittsburgh area TV screens blacked out from Forbes Field.

In event of a heavy rainstorm the bout will be postponed until tomorrow night.

Washington Target as Usual

Junior Grid Season Begins

The 1956 Pontiac Junior High League football season gets under way today, with defending champion Washington colliding with Lincoln in the opening game at Wisner Stadium.

* * *

Jefferson will tangle with Madison in the 2nd game of the league schedule on Thursday afternoon, also at Wisner.

As usual, Washington will be the target of all league foes. Em Ghianni, who has since departed to enter business in Grand Rapids, guided the Braves to four consecutive loop titles.

Don Kelly, who joined the staff at Washington after his discharge from service, takes over the reins of a team which has gone undefeated in its last 19 starts. The impressive string includes 17 victories and two ties.

* * *

Jefferson, coached by Dick Craig, is expected to provide Washington with its stiffest competition this season. The Warriors finished next to the cellar last year.

Other members of the league are Eastern, coached by John Andrews; Madison, with Jack Cole at the helm, and Larry Sherwood's Lincoln Railsplitters.

A full-scale junior varsity program will also be conducted this fall to encourage greater participation in junior high school football. Jefferson meets Madison today and Lincoln faces Washington tomorrow to start the junior varsity program.

All varsity games will be played at Wisner Stadium while Lincoln's field will be the scene of JV contests. All games begin at 4 o'clock. Each team will play a four-game league schedule in addition to one non-league opponent.

22 Million Keg Entries to Roll Against Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—The nation's 22 million bowlers will compete against the All-Star titleholders on a handicap basis during a three-week "beat the champion" tourney which will be climaxed with a nationally televised program Sunday, Oct. 14.

Bill Lillard of Dallas, the men's champion, has an average of 206. Male Bowlers who roll against him will get 80 per cent of the difference of their average and that of Lillard. Women participants will bowl against Anita Cantaline of Detroit, who has a 190 average. They also get 80 per cent of the difference.

Each contestant must pay an entry fee of 50 cents. All receipts will be turned over to the Red Cross. Bowlers who do beat the champion will receive medals and will be eligible for other prizes.

BOSTON — Mel Parnell on July 14 became the first Red Sox pitcher to throw a no-hitter since Howard Ehmke did it against the Athletics in 1923.

Ban on Night Grid Games Is Discussed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A special board of education meeting scheduled tomorrow is expected to determine the future of night football for Grand Rapids City League high schools.

William H. Beaman, board president, called the meeting after a conference with school principals on possible action following outbreaks involving teenagers at football games last weekend.

Beaman, the principals and Dr. Jay L. Plyman, assistant superintendent of schools, met yesterday to review the incidents, one of which involved the beating of a high school cheerleader.

* * *

Meanwhile, Wendell H. Emery, director of high school athletics, proposed changes of policy at the city's football fields on the premise that the board will allow the 1956 night schedule to be completed.

NL's Playoff, If Necessary, Starts Oct. 1

CINCINNATI (AP) — If the tight National League pennant chase ends in a tie, the playoff games will get started Oct. 1.

* * *

League President Warren C. Giles said yesterday that the playoff games will be played on successive days in alternating cities.

* * *

Giles said that if Milwaukee and Brooklyn tie, the first game will be played in Brooklyn, Oct. 1, the second in Milwaukee Oct. 2 and if a third is needed, it will be in Milwaukee Oct. 3.

* * *

He said that if Cincinnati and Brooklyn tie, the first game will be played in Brooklyn, Oct. 1. If Milwaukee and Cincinnati should tie, the playoff opener will be in Cincinnati.

* * *

Giles said that if there is a playoff, there will be a day off between the last game and the start of the World Series.

Too Many Problems

Little Hope for New Loop

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The prospects of forming a football conference of independent Eastern colleges appear dim according to Penn State University Athletic Director Ernest McCoy.

McCoy told the Philadelphia Football Writers Assn. yesterday that such a conference would undoubtedly enhance collegiate football in the East, but, he added, the problems arising from scheduling and forming a uniform code on such matters as eligibility, aid to athletes and scholastic entrance requirements form an almost insurmountable obstacle.

McCoy vigorously defended the Eastern brand of football and called upon writers and radio and TV sportscasters to speak up against what he termed "this insidious whispering campaign that Eastern football is on the skids."

"Football originated in this section of the country. This is where the power was and still is. But we have to sell it," he added.

He mentioned Pitt, Syracuse, Army and Navy along with his own school as potentials for such an arrangement, adding that they would constitute one of the toughest conferences in the nation—if they ever got together.

Jay Back Leads County Scoring

BY BILL CORNWELL

Ron Brewer of Southfield and Imlay City's Orill Frantz, a pair of classy halfbacks, are leading all scorers of 35 Oakland County and 12 area high schools after the 1st two weeks of the 1956 season.

* * *

Both Brewer and Frantz have rambled to six touchdowns for a total of 36 points, barely under half of the two-game output by their respective teams.

The shifty Brewer accounted for his six touchdowns in the same afternoon. Held scoreless while the Jays were blanking Birmingham, 21-0, he ran wild last Friday as they buried Notre Dame under a 53-0 avalanche.

Frantz, meanwhile, was evenly dividing his six-pointers as Imlay walloped Marine City, 33-6, and Capac, 40-0.

* * *

Trailing the co-leaders by only one touchdown are powerful Jim Kearney of Bloomfield Hills and Dryden's tricky Bill Avery. Kearney scored four times in the season opener against Oak Park.

Rochester and Walled Lake, currently ranked among the state's top 10 Class B schools, boast two of the county's leading point-makers.

Dave Peters, Rochester's fast-stepping halfback, has chalked up four touchdowns and three extra points for 27 points to place 3rd in the county. Rugged John Walker, fullback at Walled Lake, holds down 4th spot with 20 points on three touchdowns and two conversions.

Southfield's Ed Foster comes next with 19 points. Foster has picked up two touchdowns and seven extra points.

Half a dozen county players are tied at 18 points, including Sim Acton of Troy, John Schoff of Lake Orion, Birmingham's Mike Nordstrom, Al Bowland of Bloomfield Hills and Lyndon Salathiel and Ed Clark, both from Waterford.

Each member of the 18-point group has tallied three touchdowns. Norostrom made all of his TD's against Cranbrook last Friday.

Lake Orion's Ralph MacLachlan is next in line with 15 points. Dick Kelly of Troy and Ortonville's Chuck Graves are deadlocked at 14 points, while Bob Harrison of Oxford has made 13. Harrison, quarterback for the Wildcats, occupies a unique position. He has scored all of his team's points.

Ray VanDeweghe, Utica's deceptive halfback, is one of the top point-makers in the area with four TD's and four conversions for 28 points, all but six of his team's total output.

80-Yard TD Gallop Marks JV's Victory

An 80-yard touchdown gallop by Johnny Zeeman started Milford's junior varsity 11 on a 31-6 victory march yesterday at Clarenceville, where a big crowd of junior grid followers watched their team perform. JV's wore brand new red and white uniforms.

Zeeman later on made another TD, along with Jim Schreibner (2) and Terry Anderson's 25-yard-pass-25-yard-run TD. Zeeman grabbd a punt on his own 20, raced rest of the way. JV Coach Bill Golden used 36 players, took 47 along.

Clarenceville's TD was made by Tom Davis on a short buck.

Legal Betting Gains Heavily

Inglis Says State's Crackdown Indicated Big Illegal Take

DETROIT (AP) — The state commissioner of racing said today there are "strong indications" that illegal bookmakers made thousands of dollars a day off the state and the Detroit Race Course before a crackdown at the track last week.

Commissioner James H. Inglis said a study of legal wagers placed through the mutuel windows indicates that per capita betting jumped $5.60 daily immediately after official action to stamp out bookmaking.

Inglis said it "is more than a coincidence" that the legal wagering increased so noticeably. He said it is a strong indication that much of the track handle was being lost to bookmakers and that other illegal operators have been frightened away from the track.

Hunters Await Opening of State Duck Season

LANSING (AP) — Michigan hunters will be out en masse Monday for the opening of the duck season, the archery deer season and seasons on several types of small game.

Most of the hunters will take to the marshes in search of waterfowl. The State Conservation Department predicts this season will be about the same as last year's—a good one.

Monday marks the opening of Upper Peninsula seasons on sharp-tailed grouse and prairie chickens. Woodchuck and raccoon also may be hunted in northern areas beginning Monday, but will not become legal game in lower Michigan until Oct. 20.

The statewide bear hunting season under small game licenses also opens Monday. Bear may be hunted also under a bow and arrow license beginning next week.

The waterfowl season, covering ducks, geese, coots, rails and gallinules, ends Dec. 9. A shorter season on woodcock also opens Monday in the northern areas, as well as a statewide season on Jacksnipe.

Obedience Classes Open on Thursday

First of the fall and winter obedience training classes for dogs, under Southern Michigan Obedience Training club auspices, gets under way Thursday at 8 p.m. Classes will be held in Daniel Whitfield School, Orchard Lake Ave., just west of Telegraph.

PHS, Press Hold Hunting Safety Program on Oct. 10

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac High School Physical Education department and The Pontiac Press have joined forces to conduct a big, comprehensive "Hunt and Live" program on Oct. 10.

The event, designed to stress the prime matter of hunting safety for the young nimrod, also reaches out and includes the parents and all area hunters as well. It is hoped to stimulate a wider, better understanding of the outdoors and the way to enjoy it safely, and, to provide a means by which boys and their dads may find greater and more satisfying companionships, by hunting together. Every one interested in the outdoors is invited.

Program will take place in the big PHS boys' gymnasium, where there will be many exhibits of equipment and materials for outdoorsmen, including hunting, fishing, camping and other outdoors activities.

With the state's duck season, small game season, pheasant and deer hunting seasons close at hand, the "Hunt and Live" program is believed by its sponsors to be extremely timely and important.

"It may help to reduce the growing incidence of hunting accidents and to help create a better understanding of responsibility when carrying a gun in the field or woods," says director of athletics Tom Dodson. Art Van Ryzin, PHS cage coach, will serve as coordinator for the event.

"The program is based on a growing desire on the part of thoughtful parents for schools to assume a more positive role in teaching shooting education. Its objective, of course is to prevent gun accidents and to teach skills that will build wholesome leisure time shooting activities," Dodson added.

The Oct. 10 program begins at 7 p.m. with visits to the various exhibitions. Program proper, including many highlighted features, starts at 8 o'clock.

"It offers hints, tips, and worthwhile suggestions to all hunters" says Van Ryzin. "It's an opportunity to learn hunting skills".

Demonstrations include Charlie Frank's training dogs to hunt through obedience work, such as that offered by Southern Michigan Obedience Training classes, starting soon for their winter program. John Eicher will assist Frank.

Al Tang, Joe Kerr, bow experts, will demonstrate archery skills and techniques. Both are veteran bowmen, both in field competition and in the actual hunt.

Herb Albaugh, Detroit firearms expert, will give a demonstration of firearms safety. Clyle Haskill, C. of C. safety chairman will assist.

Conservation officers of the area have been asked to chat with the young — and older — hunters about game, fish and other conservation matters. OCSC's Howard Shelley will also have a part in this feature. A demonstration of firearms will be given by the 704th Tank Battalion, Army Reserve.

There will be a fine outdoors film as a concluding feature.

Everything is without charge, and every one interested in hunting and the outdoors, and in means to make them safe, for all, is invited.

Local Duck Outlook Good

By JACK PATTERSON

Wyoming antelope hunting gets more popular every year among local riflemen. Accessibility, better than reasonable chance for a trophy and early season are attractions. In addition open country and somewhat longer range shooting give the brush country deer hunter a chance to see what a flat trajectory and a good scope can really do.

PATTERSON

Currently afield for antelope and upcountry work for elk are Dr. Vernon Abbott and J. Lee Voorhees. Two parties from Lake Orion include Ed Peck and Bill Bossert, out for a week and Barney Lawrence, Harold White and Charles Feldman who plan to stay two weeks just in case.

* * *

Speaking of Lake Orion, the Lake Orion Gun Club recently purchased a new range which boasts a 100 yard range with covered firing point and a 200 yard range for riflemen and a trap layout for the scattergunner. A skeet set-up is in the works, should be in by the first of the year. Pontiac Rifle and Pistol Club is in the process of disbanding and will recommend that its members join the Orion outfit.

The Lake Orion Club is an active group and in addition to its outdoor facilities the club leases the building on Park Island in Lake Orion for winter small-bore work.

With somewhat more than 100 members, the LOGC feels it would like some more, and new members are being solicited. What with the club's facilities and scheduled events, including a monthly turkey shoot, the modest three bucks per year fee sounds attractive. Shooters interested in further details can contact the club secretary, Margaret (Mrs. John A.) Feldmann, 456 Indianwood Rd. Phone is MY 2-4771.

Shooters who plan to spend Oct. 1 in pursuit of wildfowl should remember that the season opens at the regular time, one half hour before sunrise, and not late on the first day. Duck shooters will also stand less risk of apoplexy if they confine their efforts to smaller waters. Opening day brings out hordes of skyshooters (they are really deer and pheasant hunters in disguise) and the duck hunter—the real duck hunter—seethes in helpless wrath.

There should be good on-shore puddle duck shooting almost everywhere Oct. 1. Mallards, blacks, ringnecks, a scattering of other species that breed locally to a greater or lesser degree, tail-end of migrating teal and pintails should be predominant. Offshore gunning, with big rigs won't hit its stride until later.

Aside from potholes, local or farther afield, our best guess for mallards on Oct. 1 would be Houghton Lake's North Bay, selected areas of the Flats and downriver and Lake Erie marshes. Best fun for blacks on opening day might well be found jump-shooting on northern and central streams.

Young Rifleman Wins at Culver; in Outdoorama

A 15-year-old rifleman who attended summer school at Culver Military academy and is now back at Walled Lake HS as a sophomore, tossed a real surprise in the weekend Multi-Lakes Outdoorama at Reed's Lake.

Jimmy Ray Mason, 3094 South Wind Drive, Walled Lake, who acquired considerable honors at Culver this summer, for his marksmanship, was the last shooter in the big-bore (men's) division. He had to beat a fix15 but calmly rammed home 15 straight.

JIMMY RAY MASON

At Culver Jimmy won the silver Tuxis, an all-around award. In 1955 he won the bronze tuxis. This summer he was the silver medal winner for rifle marksmanship, and also was made a sergeant in the school corps.

As a member of the famed Black Horse Troop, Jimmy was rated as outstanding, by the director, Col. C. A. Whitney.

Why Sit Back? All That Money Can Be Yours

Pennies from heaven may be all right for some, but more enterprising individuals are concentrating on the dollars in Pot-O-Gold. With nothing to lose and possibly $1,125 to gain, why don't you get busy on the clues and rules and see if you can come up with the right answers? Sixteen words are all between you and at least $100.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Reds Compete in Broadcasting

Vie With Radio Europe in Sending Messages to Hungary

NEW YORK (INS)—Radio Free Europe reports it has Communist competition.

The official Red radio in Hungary has inaugurated a program of personal messages from Hungarians in the West, in an effort to combat the popularity of similar broadcasts over Radio Free Europe.

For several years Radio Free Europe's 20-hour-a-day broadcasting schedule to Hungary has included many programs of messages from Hungarians living in America and Western Europe to their families and relatives behind the Iron Curtain.

These programs, RFE said, are popular throughout Hungary, drawing a large mail response from all regions of the country.

The latest Communist effort to compete with Radio Free Europe for listeners within Hungary is a program entitled, "Sent by the Heart from Faraway." The program went on the air over Radio Budapest on Aug. 5.

* * *

Announcement of the program appeared in a recent issue of the Communist paper, "Eszakmagyarorszag," published in Hungary.

The article said the new program would include "musical messages and songs from Hungarians living in America and Western Europe to their relatives in Hungary . . ."

Communist newspapers earlier had criticized Radio Free Europe's "messages" programs.

Pamphlet Most Ambitious

GOP Gimmicks, Gadgets Promote Political Cause

WASHINGTON (AP)—All kinds of gimmicks and gadgets, from comic books to 9-inch buttons and zipper lubricators, are available at a price this year to promote the Republican political cause.

* * *

The GOP National Committee doesn't sell them but it has a catalog telling where party partisans can buy them.

Party headquarters is putting out for free a limited supply of the comic book, a 16-page full color job sponsored by the national committee and the GOP Senate and House Campaign Committees.

The pamphlet, perhaps the most ambitious of the offerings, relates from the GOP viewpoint how four fictional characters feared under the Democrats and under Eisenhower. They are a war veteran, a "workingman . . . who used to vote Democratic," a housewife married to the veteran after his return from Korea, and a farmer.

* * *

Each state headquarters, an accompanying announcement says, will get at least 500 of the booklets in a week or so for distribution. Rates range from $75 for the first thousand to $20,000 for a million.

For $3.50 you can get a 9-inch button urging: "For the Love of Ike Vote Republican." But you can get 10,000 "I Still Like Ike" buttons for $2.79.

The catalog is heavy on buttons, stickers and jewelry. But there is plenty of wearing apparel, too, including items from aprons to suspenders ("support Ike"), to sweat shirts and vests.

* * *

And you can buy Republican soap and matches, charging elephants, bottle caps, coil banks, candy, chewing gum, and automobile air freshener, cuticle sticks, measuring spoons, and Democratic crying towels.

You're seeing why you'll ride sweet and low in the '57 FORD

On Wednesday, Oct. 3rd, you can see the new '57 Ford in all its glory. But (above) we're giving you a sneak preview of the "hidden beauty" that made the new Ford possible. You see, the new Ford was built from the inside out . . . just as a beautiful piece of architecture starts with its foundation. The new "Inner Ford" is the secret of Ford's magic . . . the inside story of why Ford is the longest, lowest, biggest, most spectacular Ford ever!

For the first time, you get a full-cradle frame that sweeps out as it dips down between the wheels. This helps give Ford a lower silhouette for 1957 . . . as much as 4 inches lower. You get full head room and leg room—actually you get more inside room, easier entry than ever. Rear springs are mounted outside the frame so the rear seats are lower. The new driveshaft is tapered and hooks up with the differential lower down than ever before. This lets you ride sweet and low with full road clearance.

But this is just the beginning of the new Ford story! Wait till you try its exciting new sizzle! Wait till you see Ford's wonderful new bodies that ride sweet and low with Ford's remarkable new frames. They not only have quality in every built-to-last part and feature . . . but they say "quality" in every clean-limbed, sculptured line. Your Ford Dealer will have something really new to show you for '57.

Brass-Bound Rules Need Ironing Out

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — There's nothing as goofy as some military regulations.

One says every government building must have a door and a means to lock it.

At Kirtland Air Force Base here, there is a 20-40 foot building with only two sides — the ends are open. The building houses a truck.

In one of the sides there is a door — as regulations require. Furthermore, it has a hasp on it so it can be locked — as regulations require.

Grains Feature Moderate Dip

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains slid lower in moderately active dealings on the Board of Trade today. The decline did not carry far as there were resting orders under the market.

* * *

Largest losses were recorded in soybeans, which had enjoyed the best gains in the previous sessions. But the decline in beans did not wipe out all of yesterday's upturn.

Wheat held fairly steady but rye again retreated on profit-taking. There was not much activity in oats. Corn backed down with soybeans but did not lose all of yesterday's gain.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was unchanged to ½ lower, December $2.30⅝; corn ⅛-¼ lower, December $1.37¼; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, December 74⅜; rye ⅜-1¼ lower, December $1.51¼; soybeans ¼ to 1 cent lower, November $2.35, and lard unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, October $11.65.

Treat State River to Rid Water of Carp

NASHVILLE (AP) — The Michigan State Conservation Dept. has begun treating the Thornapple River with rotenone, a poison to rid the waters of carp and other rough fish.

* * *

It is the first time for such a project to be attempted on a Michigan river, but the solution has been used earlier in various lakes.

The experimental project covers the river from Potterville to the backwaters of the Nashville Dam. Also on an experimental basis, game fish are being taken from the river by net and transferred to Hastings until the poison solution dissipates.

The conservation group plans to restock the Thornapple later this fall and again in the spring to restore the river as a game fish producer.

The rotenone solution is described as harmless to humans and animals.

Post Office to Test Potential Supervisors

Pontiac Postmaster Leslie H. Dean Sr., announced today 47 city postal employes have registered to take a supervisory promotional examination Saturday.

"Results of this examination will be used to fill supervisory vacancies," Dean said. "It is part of our policy to promote men who have demonstrated their ability on the job and through qualification in an examination."

The test, he said, is based on a general abilities test and a test in supervisory problems.

Expansion of facilities in the past six years has created a need for the test, Dean said. In 1950, some 105,400 persons received mail through the Pontiac office. This year, there are 157,540.

Drop Follows Market Upturn

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market headed lower early this afternoon after failure to pursue a rise in the morning.

* * *

Prices of leading issues fell around 2 points or more and turnover increased on the decline.

Volume for the day was estimated at around 2,500,000 shares compared with 2,100,000 yesterday. That would be the heaviest trading in weeks.

* * *

Steels, coppers, oils and aluminums, showing the steepest losses, were the most actively traded.

Wall street, which has always reflected the prospects of President Eisenhower's continuance in office, showed greater concern about the current presidential campaign.

But the technical condition of the market also bothered trades, along with the continuing worries over tight credit and the Suez Canal.

The market opened lower but quickly showed an irregularly higher tendency in what looked like a possible recovery from yesterday's steep setback, ranking among the worst since Eisenhower's intestinal ailment June 8.

But the recovery movement was short-lived and prices dropped in all major divisions. Prices were above their worst in early afternoon.

* * *

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 80 cents to $175.30 with the industrials down $1.40, the rails down 70 cents and the utilities down 10 cents.

State Doctors Elect President

Dr. George W. Slagle, Battle Creek Physician, Named to Post

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. George W. Slagle, Battle Creek physician, is the new president-elect of the Michigan State Medical Society.

* * *

Slagle, 47, was elected last night at the society's annual convention as Dr. Arch Walls of Detroit, took over as president, replacing Dr. William S. Jones of Menominee.

Other new officers are Dr. Kenneth J. Johnson of Lansing, speaker of the House of Delegates, the organization's policy-making body; and Dr. James L. Lightbody of Detroit, vice speaker.

Dr. C. Allen Payne of Grand Rapids, and Dr. Harold J. Meier of Coldwater, were elected to the Society's Council. Sixteen other members of the group were re-elected.

STUDY BLUE CROSS

In other action, the society adopted a resolution supporting a study of the Blue Cross hospital plan, provided it is "unbiased, authoritative and complete."

It also recommended Blue Cross find a feasible way to pay fees of surgeon's assistants as well as surgeons. Another recommendation proposed that the Legislature boost appropriations to the Wayne State University School of Medicine to enable 50 more students to enroll each year, starting in 1957.

Hubbard Blocks Grand Jury Funds

DETROIT (AP) —Objections by Dearborn Mayor Orville L. Hubbard left a graft grand jury without a $35,000 appropriation for expenses today.

Hubbard, controversial mayor, yesterday assailed the grand jury's investigation of affairs in four downriver communities as "a Spanish inquisition."

Once again he demanded Circuit Judge Theodore R. Bohn, the grand juror, explain why money is needed to pay extra employes, overtime, hotel rooms and meals.

Under regulations governing the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, Hubbard's objection automatically delayed a vote on the appropriation for at least a week. The board will meet again Tuesday. Hubbard is a member.

Meanwhile, Bohn can cover necessary expenses of the probe by drawing on a fund created by the County Board of Auditors.

Community Hospital Plans Topic of Tonight's Session

ROMEO — Directors of the Community Hospital Foundation will meet at 8 p.m. tonight in their offices here at 207 North Main, to hear a preliminary report on the proposed hospital planned to serve area that includes parts of four counties.

The report, result of a survey of doctors in the community, was done by Smith, Hinchman and Grylls, Detroit architectural engineering firm, retained to plan and design the hospital.

The proposed facility, expected to cost upwards of $400,000 according to David M. Ross, foundation president, will be on the east side of M53, three miles south of Almont.

It is anticipated that groundbreaking will be early next spring, Ross said.

Ferndale Considers Drive-In Curfew

The City Ordinance Committee of Ferndale is studying the possibility of a night curfew for youths at drive-in restaurants as the result of a request by Mayor Bruce D. Garbutt.

The mayor asked for such a curfew after a distrubance Saturday in which nine youths were arrested and two policemen hurt. "We are not going to have the town run by a bunch of hoodlums," commented Garbutt in discussing the situation.

Here in Pontiac, Mayor William W. Donaldson disclosed he had no plans in mind for having a curfew but said the city fathers would cooperate in every way if local police authorities should ask for such a ruling at area drive-ins.

Detroiter Bound Over to Court on Larceny

A 21-year-old Detroit woman was bound over to the Oakland County Circuit Court on a larceny from a building charge Tuesday.

Shirley J. Moore, of 4043 Carter St., was remanded to the county jail under $1,000 bond following a hearing before Berkley Justice Ralph F. Finley.

She was arrested by Huntington Woods police Sept. 17 on a charge of stealing various articles of clothing valued at over $65 from a home which had employed her as a maid.

Commission to Rule on Electricity Sale

LANSING (AP) — The State Public Service Commission is expected to decide in October whether the Consumers Power Co. can sell electricity to two Alpena firms.

* * *

Commissioner James H. Lee said stenographers are preparing a transcript of testimony taken in a two-day hearing two weeks ago. The ruling should come within a month, he said.

Involved in the case are the Alpena Power Co., the Huron Portland Cement Co. and the Wyandotte Co., an affiliate of the cement firm.

The Huron-Portland Cement Co. and its affiliate now receive electric power from the Alpena Power Co. In turn, they furnish power to the Alpena Power Co. from a surplus produced in their plants, Lee said.

* * *

The firms asked the commission to allow it to buy electric power from the Consumers Power Co.

County Dems Keep Later Office Hours

County Democrats will keep later hours in their two offices during the rest of the campaign, Carlos Richardson, chairman of the County Democratic Committee, said today.

The new hours are 9:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. on weekdays, and 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays, Richardson said.

Township and city chairmen have been asked to recruit volunteers to run the offices, he added.

The Pontiac office is in the Roosevelt Hotel. The Royal Oak office is at 1815 Main Street.

The accident occurred at the intersection of M59 and Elizabeth Lake road.

American Businessmen Plan Freedom From Suez

NEW YORK (AP)—The Suez Canal dispute moves to the United Nations tomorrow, but American businessmen are already making plans to free themselves from dependence on the big ditch.

* * *

Their worst handicap is time. To build the giant tankers and freighters, the oil pipe lines, or even possibly another canal nearby, will take time. Until this can be done there's the constant threat of a rising cost of shipping and trade.

These higher costs would be passed along in time to the American consumer of finished products made from materials that now move more cheaply and swiftly through the canal. But American business is taking the canal dispute much more calmly now than a few weeks back.

What business does worry about now is just how long the Egyptian, Soviet and other pilots can keep the boats moving without mishap.

The view becoming more popular among American businessmen is that shipping must be built up to take care of any future trouble.

* * *

Giant oil tankers are already on order and some new ones will shortly join the fleets. But American shipyards complain that shortages of steel are slowing down work on the big tankers designed to carry oil more cheaply than smaller ones that now slide through the Suez. The giants are too big to go through but could make the long run around Africa or from American oil fields to Europe handily.

They were planned before the Suez crisis and the thinking then was that European demand for oil would increase so much in coming years that the smaller tankers that ply the canal would not be adequate to the task.

* * *

Until enough new tankers and freighters can be built, Nasser would appear to be holding the top cards.

Commerce Church Issues Debentures to Match District Funds

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—In an effort to hasten construction of a new church, members of the Commerce Methodist Church building fund committee have announced an offering of debentures for sale in several denominations.

Each debenture will provide a return of five per cent interest per annum on a 10-year plan, payable each six months. The debentures may be purchased in $25, $100, $250, $500 and $1,000 amounts.

Church officers seek to raise $40,000 from the sale, to be added to a pledged 35,000 from contributions. Once the building fund hits $75,000, the Revolving Fund of the Methodist Church of Detroit will provide an additional $30,000 for a grand total of $105,000—the estimated cost of the first section of the new church.

The site of the new church will be a section of the Mount Royal subdivision plat, just west of Commerce village. The excavation work has already been accomplished.

Two other churches in the Oakland County area, the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church and the Lutheran Church of Waterford, have utilized this form of financing for a building program.

Groucho's Quiz to Offer $10,000

Video's Sir Lancelot Won't Smooch Despite Romantic Settings

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—"Playhouse 90" will be awash with the "multiple-star" system: Its Oct. 4 premiere will have Charlton Heston, Tab Hunter, Diana Lynn, Vincent Price, Victor Jory and Charles Bickford . . .

Groucho's quiz this year boosts its prize to $10,000 and it's the only quiz on the air which doesn't need the injection of currency . .

NBC's Sir Lancelot series has a lot of romantic settings and suggestions but no smooching. Sir Lancelot's most passionate TV moment will be a buss on Lady Guinivere's fair forehead . . .

Fred Astaire snooted $50,000 opposite Nanette Fabray in NBC-TV's "High Button Shoes" . . . The original Phil Silvers part in "High Button Shoes" will be split into two roles for TV . . .

On his second show, Reginald Van Gleason will do an imitation of Elvis the Pelvis . . .

MYSTERY SOLVED

The CBS purse-strings man naturally questioned "six bottles of witch hazel" on the budget of "You're the Top," the Cole Porter tribute Oct. 6, until it was explained Louis Armstrong must have witch hazel to bathe his lips into "that powerful ol' pucker" . . .

The Oct. 14 "Wide Wide World" will be titled "Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness," on which Lena Horne will sing "Love" . . .

Among problems Kraft Theater faces in its "Mickey Mantle Story" Oct. 3 is finding someone to play Casey Stengel and talk like ol' Case. The next problem — an interpreter to explain "Stengelese" . . .

TV can wave bye-bye to talented Carol Haney until next spring: She gets big cash in Miami and four Las Vegas weeks, followed by 12 weeks shooting "Pajama Game" in Hollywood. Then TV again . . .

Peter Lawford was approached for "The Most Beautiful Girl in the World" emceeship before Hal March came to heel . . .

TWO 'STUDIOS'

Jack Barry's "Twenty-One" is another gimmicky giveaway which differs from "The $64,000 Question" by having two small "studios" on stage instead of isolation booths.

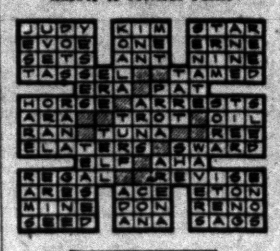
Martha Wright's doc prescribed a 30-block walk to CBS for her morning radio show . . . Joe Cotten's medics canceled him off one eipsode of "On Trial" so Walter Abel gets to be Kim Hunter's "husband" . . .

Gene Kelly accepted $50,000 to star in "Front Page" on "Producer's Showcase" . . .

The projected "Mitch Miller Show" was offered to a car sponsor for Friday night on ABC-TV . .

The U.S. has more than three million miles of highways which is more than all of the rest of the countries of the world combined.

Answer to Previous Puzzle



Utah's output of bituminous coal is about seven million tons per year.

Largest cherry producing county in the U. S. is Door cunty in Wisconsin which has a yield of upwards of 18 million pounds in an average year.

GOP Pays Cost for Ike's Trips

$3,971 Check Goes to Treasury for Illinois Air Journey

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today the Republican National Committee has sent the U. S. Treasury a $3,971 check to pay for the operations of the presidential plane Columbine III on yesterday's trip.

* * *

The Columbine flew President Eisenhower to Peoria, Ill., and back for a major farm speech last night.

Presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty told reporters that "I again renew my request" that they check to see whether other presidents followed a similar practice during political campaigns.

Hagerty made such a suggestion last week. In response to an inquiry, Sam Brightman, public affairs director for the Democratic National Committee, said then that in the 1948 campaign President Truman used a government plane only once.

* * *

Brightman said Truman flew to the American Legion convention in Miami, Fla., and stopped at Raleigh, N. C., on the return trip for a dedication ceremony. He said this was regarded as a "presidential" rather than a political trip and the Democratic National Committee did not pay for it.

West Germany exported $9,100,000 worth of canned hams and other packing - house products to a drop of $2,100,000 from 1954.

Hal Boyle Says:

Look What Mail, Books Can Teach You!

NEW YORK (AP) — Odd facts a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail—or peek in a few books:

That twins rarely commit crimes.

* * *

That virgin births now have been induced in rabbits, cats, ferrets and turkeys. The offspring are invariably female, as no male cells are involved.

That scientists estimate virgin births in humans, if it ever happens naturally—which many doubt—probably occurs about as frequently as sextuplets — or once every 3,212,800,000 times that the stork calls.

* * *

That screech owls have an extra pair of eyelids that operate like windshield wipers to clear their vision.

That it is no more necessary to slit a pet crow's tongue to teach it to speak than it is for you to slit your throat in order to breath deeply.

* * *

That tiny Switzerland has about 95 per cent of the world's watch business. (But betcha we lead in timeclocks!)

That wine sales in America increased from 260 million dollars in 1940 to 600 million dollars in 1955. (Memory note: Wonder how many people still make dandelion wine? Haven't seen any in years.)

* * *

That the intersection of Piccadilly Circus and Shaftesbury Avenue, London's equivalent of Times Square, is called "the most photographed corner in the world." It was the favorite rendezvous point for U. S. servicemen in the last war.

That left-handed women usually marry right-handed men. (This seems so obvious as to sound sily. But think: Do you know a single married couple, both of whom are left-handed? I don't.)

That Hunter Reams of Hagerstown, Md., an oddity collector who sent in the foregoing item, also poses this query: "Why is it you never see any monogrammed toothpicks?" (In our house we simply pencil on them — "ourn" and "yourn.")

That if you happen to be in the Panama Canal Zone you can call from the Pacific to the Atantic coast for one little old nickel... hardly seems worth the trip though, does it?

* * *

That the Egyptians invented the first true fishing pole about 2,000 B.C.

That bandleader Sammy Kaye notes these are the days when the GOP tries to pin elephant tales on the donkey.

That girls wear engagement rings on the fourth finger because it used to be believed the "venis amoris" or vein of love, ran from this finger directly to the heart. Now it runs to the pocketbook.

That Tony Hofford of the Narragansett (R.I.) Times reports finding this definition inscribed on a cocktail napkin: "A good salesman is a fellow who can convince his wife she looks fat in a fur coat."

That one reason foreigners insist English is the toughest of all languages to learn is the letter "a," which we pronounce in 10 different ways...and in some words, such as "eagle," has no sound at all.

* * *

That cleanliness may really rank next to Godliness. Anyway the United States, now enjoying its greatest religious revival, is also consuming 10,000 gallons of water a year per person.

That Diogenes asked to be buried face down, and when queried why, repied: "Because in a little while everything will be turned upside down."
