President, Dulles Confer Today on Indochina Aid

May Discuss Tempest Stirred by Statement on U. S. Entering War

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles confer here today on American efforts to bolster Indochina against the Reds and save the rest of Southeast Asia from Communist aggression.

The President sent his private plane, The Columbine, to Washington for Dulles, who arrived here at 12:03 p. m. (EST).

Dulles planned to lunch with the President at his Easter holiday headquarters at the Augusta National Golf Club then fly back to Washington in the late afternoon.

One aspect of the Eisenhower-Dulles conference may be the controversy touched off in Congress by Vice President Nixon's statement Friday, in reply to a hypothetical question, that American troops might have to be sent into Indochina if the French withdraw.

Nixon prefaced his answer, however, by saying he doesn't think the French will pull out.

The vice president spoke at a meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and stipulated at the time that his remarks were not to be attributed to him. But the identity of the speaker later leaked out.

Eisenhower's headquarters has declined comment on whether Nixon's statement represents administration policy. James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, refused comment specifically last night on a demand by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) that Eisenhower make his policies clear with respect to Indochina.

Dulles also plans to consult with the President regarding the Geneva meeting and an NATO conference he will attend in Paris before going to Switzerland. He leaves for France by plane tomorrow night.

Eisenhower plans to fly back to Washington Thursday afternoon for a brief informal talk at a meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, then go on to New York for a major address that night before the American Newspaper Publishers Assn.

The President's headquarters announced over the weekend that he will call on American Newspapers to help "transform an age of atomic hysteria and horror into an age of international understanding and cooperative peace." The speech will be broadcast nationwide.

Churches Are Filled

EASTER MORNING—Pontiac churches were filled with capacity crowds for services Easter and many held two services to accommodate the worshipers. Risen Christ Proclaimed in Easter Church Services

With ideal weather for the day, Christians in Pontiac and vicinity turned out in large numbers Sunday to hail the Resurrection of Christ.

From early dawn and into the evening churches held traditional services marking joyful end of the three day period of sorrow which opens with Good Friday.

Hallelujah choruses and other hymns of praise and adoration were a marked contrast to the songs of the Cross sung on Friday.

The black drapings on altars in liturgical churches were changed to white. Flowers, symbolizing the miracle of the Resurrection, were banked on altars in all of the churches.

Many of these flowers were given as memorials for loved ones, bespeaking the donors' faith in the Resurrection.

Some of the Pontiac Churches held duplicate services to take care of the crowds, and in all of the churches record attendances were reported.

Babies were dedicated in many churches, and new members were received, in others.

The day was the traditional day of victory for the Christian Church.

In St. George Greek Orthodox Church, Palm Sunday was observed with Holy Week events coming next week climaxing with Easter next Sunday.

Reds Gain New Territory as French Fight Furiously

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The French fought furiously today to hold back Vietminh assault troops stabbing toward the center of Dien Bien Phu's fortifications from the northwest.

The rebels were in a newly menacing position after weekend fighting widened their break in the northwestern rim of the fortress' defense system. They captured a second outpost yesterday and filtered back last night into trenches on the main Dien Bien Phu airstrip.

Vietminh pressure also was reported increasing against the southernmost strongpoint of the French-held plain.

Bayonet-wielding French infantryman had driven the Vietminh from airfield entrenchments for a few hours yesterday.

But the latest infiltration re-established their foothold in the shadow of the French headquarters' bunkers, just 800 yards away.

A terse French army communique said heavy fighting in the sector still raged today. French tanks and artillery blasted at the Vietminh troops taking cover in trenches running across the northern part of the airstrip. French Union troops charged them in hand-to-hand encounters.

French army spokesmen said thus far there had been "losses on both sides."

An army spokesman said the Vietminh still in the airstrip trenches "were not in considerable strength." But they were bitterly (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

FHA Probers Given Access to Tax Returns

Ike Opens Files After Housing Chief Tells of Alleged Bribery

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave the Senate Banking Committee access to income tax returns for use in its investigation of the FHA housing scandals.

Eisenhower acted after Albert M. Cole, chief of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, disclosed that one unnamed official involved in the inquiry has been accused of receiving money for favors, presumably to builders.

The President's move, announced at his vacation headquarters here, came as the Banking Committee was starting an inquiry in Washington into affairs of the scandal-shocked Federal Housing Administration.

Eisenhower's order gives the committee access to income tax returns in connection with FHA loans under Section 608 of the National Housing Act. That section covers insured loans for apartment projects.

The order does not apply to that phase of the inquiry dealing with small loans for home improvement.

The Banking Committee's investigation and one by the Housing and Home Finance Agency were touched off last week after Eisenhower accepted the resignation of FHA Chief Guy T. O. Hollyday and impounded the agency's files and records.

Cole said later that irregularities had been uncovered which were responsible for that action.

Eisenhower's order today gives the committee access to income tax returns for the years 1942 through 1953. It also applies to returns on excess profits, capital stock, estate and gift taxes.

The order does not set a precedent so far as congressional investigations are concerned.

Eisenhower and some of his predecessors have given the same authority to other committees in other inquiries.

Hollyday testified today he knew when he took office a year ago that "unscrupulous promoters" were active in the home repair loan field and had tried to stop their "abuses."

* * *

He told investigating senators he put through new regulations, effective last Dec. 1, and was satisfied they "would go a long way toward preventing improper practices."

Hollyday was the first witness at an inquiry by the Senate Banking Committee into reports of multi-million dollar swindles in the government's housing program.

Brands China Unfit for U. N.

Lodge Charges Reds Supporting Aggression in Indochina

NEW YORK (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, said today Red China is giving substantial aid to aggression in Indochina and that it is "unfit" to join the United Nations.

He gave 10 reasons why the United States would resist any efforts of the Chinese Comunists to "bribe" their way into the U.N. with promises of future good behavior.

His statement delivered at The Associated Press annual luncheon, significantly came only a week before the opening of the Geneva conference. Red China will send representatives to the conference to discuss a Korean war settle ment.

"I can promise you that the United States will steadfastly resist all maneuvers by the Chinese Communist regime and its advocates to bribe its way into the United Nations on mere promises of good behavior in the future," he said in a prepared address.

Slashings Leave Paraders Unruffled

NEW YORK (AP) — Easter paraders, happy and smiling in the spring sunshine, jammed Fifth avenue for their traditional stroll yesterday. But one man in their midst had little spirit for the occasion.

After dresses of about 15 women were slashed from behind, police arrested razor-carrying Joaquin Gonzales, 27. He denied cutting the dresses but told police, "I have no use for women—they cheat and they lie."

Later in court he struck at a patrolman and bit and scratched him. He was held for investigation of the dress slashing and for felonious assault on the policeman. Police said he had once been a mental patient.

Only a few in the Easter throng were aware of the dress slashings. Most enjoyed the fine weather and the display of new spring outfits.

AP Writer Presents Indochina Outlook

Will the war in Indochina explode into World War III?

What are the possibilities of saving the country from Communist domination? Will the struggle become another Korea?

These are some of the questions William L. Ryan, Associated Press specialist on Communist affairs, will attempt to answer in a series of three articles, the first of which appears today on page 17.

New Pal Arrives in Time for Easter

Urges Indochina Action by U. N.

GOP Senator Warns Against U.S. Unilateral Military Move

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Kuchel (R-Calif) proposed today that America seek United Nations action and avoid any single-handed military attempt to save Indochina from the Communists.

Amid a growing controversy over Vice President Nixon's statement that this country might send troops to Indochina as a last resort, Kuchel said, "I don't believe we can put fires out all over the world single-handedly."

"We ought to take the case before the United Nations and ask for united action there," he said in an interview.

"The 16 nations that signed the Korean truce," he said, "pledged themselves to a joint effort to prevent aggression and our allies should be called upon for help."

Nixon told the American Society of Newspaper Editors last Friday he thought French withdrawal from Indochina unlikely, but that if that happened and other means failed the United States might have to send troops. France so far has opposed submitting the Indochina matter to the United Nations.

Although Nixon's statement indicated to many in Congress that the administration is resolved to hold Indochina even at the cost of going it alone, State Department officials insisted that the basic policy is one of "united action" such as Secretary of State Dulles called for in a March 29 speech.

In a statement issued Saturday, the department said Nixon had "enunciated no new U. S. policy toward Indochina," Secretary of State Dulles, returning to Washington yesterday from a brief vacation at Lake Ontario, had no comment.

Despite this, there are reports that the administration asked for but did not receive assurances from Democratic as well as Republican leaders that if the worst comes to the worst they would back single-handed intervention in Indochina.

Pontiac Tot, 3, Killed Playing With Pistol

A three-year-old Pontiac girl was shot to death Saturday night when she accidentally pulled the trigger of a pistol lying in a buffet drawer.

Irvine Lee Marshall, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Marshall of 31 Crawford St., was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital. She had been shot through the chest.

The girl's father and a visitor to the Marshall home told Pontiac Police the child reached into the top drawer while playing and grabbed the loaded .38 caliber automatic.

Marshall said he kept the unregistered, war-souvenir pistol for protection.

Boy's Heartache Is Eased by Gift Pup's Tiny Bites

Those tiny bites eased the pain that has gnawed at the 8-year-old boy's heart since a truck killed his dog, Sandy, last Thursday.

The nipper was a small black Cocker Spaniel who joined the Sheffield household precisely at 2:30 p. m. Saturday when Doug fell in love with him.

Cinder, as Doug calls him, was given to the boy by Oliver Hessam, 5324 Sashabaw Rd., who learned of Sandy's death through a picture and story in the Pontiac Press.

Several persons, including a man in Kentucky, offered dogs to replace Sandy.

So Saturday Doug and his mother, Mrs. Walter S. Sheffield, decided to call on the people who made the generous offers.

Hessam's house was the first one visited. It also was the last.

When Doug saw the little black ball-of-fur waddle toward him, he said:

"Let's take this one, Mommy. Oh, isn't he cute. He's so little and I like 'em best when they're little. I want him, Mommy."

After a day and a half in the Sheffield home at 25 Henry Clay Ave., what does Doug think about his new pal?

Pocked Windows on Eight Autos Found in County

Pock-marked windshields began cropping up in Oakland County today.

Five were reported in the Pontiac area and three in Farmington.

Homer C. Tinney, of 6230 Elizabeth Lake Rd., said he found about a dozen spots the size of pinheads etched into his windshield. They aparently were made over the weekend.

From Farmington, Max Doll, of 28555 W. 10-Mile Rd., said his windshield and two others were pitted mysteriously.

He said they couldn't have been caused by street salt or road gravel as one of the cars hadn't been on the road in over a year.

McCarthy Row Hits Showdown

Senator Standing Pat in Demands to Retain Questioning Powers

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and his Senate Investigations subcommittee head for a showdown today on whether he will be allowed to take part in questioning of witnesses at hearings on his dispute with the Army.

The Wisconsin Republican reportedly intends to stand pat against efforts to bar him from doing this. He was scheduled to meet with the group today to iron out the issue.

Also to be settled is whether McCarthy will withdraw as a member of the group during the broadcast . televised hearings scheduled to open Thursday.

He already has agreed to step down as chairman during the probe, which acting Chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-SD), has described as an "unprecedented" case of a committee investigating its own staff and top member.

McCarthy and his chief counsel were expected to file a formal statement at today's meeting with which they plan to bolster their case against Army officials who have accused them of "improper" interference.

Their statement of specifications, a reply to one submitted by the Army last week and prematurely leaked to the press, is expected to raise new allegations against Army leaders whom (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Waterford Twp. Land Proposed for New Building

Supervisors Foresee No Objection to Switch of 100 Acres

Oakland County supervisors voted today to ask the City of Pontiac to annex about 100 acres of Waterford Township as a tentative site for the proposed new County Courthouse and Office Building.

The Board of Supervisors also asked the Waterford Township Board to approve the transfer.

Assurances that Waterford Township would not object to the transfer were given supervisors by Lloyd Anderson, supervisor from the township.

The resolution was proposed by the ways and means committee headed by Supervisor Fred W. Smith of Royal Oak.

Harry Merritt, county corporation counsel, said the annexation would not require a vote of the people as the land is publicly owned.

City Commissioners plan to meet with county ways and means committeemen and other officials tonight to discuss the proposal.

Only approval by Pontiac City Commission and the Waterford Township Board is needed to annex the property.

Easter Monday Egg Roll Held at White House

The south grounds of the White House were thrown open to Washington's younger generation today for the annual Easter Monday egg roll.

St. Louis Chimps, lion cubs, baby llamas and a goat were decked out in bright costumes for the St. Louis Zoo's first annual Easter parade.

Inmates in Muskegon's county jail had venison for their Easter dinner after a deer was killed by a car on the outskirts of town. Conservation department officials gave the jail permission to serve the meat.

"The number one suit for all ages," said Menscher, New York's Fifth Avenue Easter fame, "is dark, very dark, charcoal gray. With it goes a pink shirt with the new rounded, pinned collar, or button-down collar. Rounded is the number one collar.

"The number one tie," he said. "Two inches wide all the way down — stripes horizontal, not diagonal. By next fall," he said happily, "all the well-dressed men and boys in America will look like undertakers. Darker and darker suits — you'll see nothing but black-gray, black-blue, black-brown, very new that, and black-black."

Turncoat Goes on Trial on Collaboration Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cpl. Edward S. Dickensen goes on trial before an Army court-martial today on charges of collaborating with the Communist enemy while he was a prisoner of war in Korea.

The 23-year-old soldier from Cracker's Neck, Va., faces a maximum sentence of life imprisonment in this precedent-making trial. He is fighting the charges.

Dickenson was one of the 23 American POWs who first refused repatriation under the Korean armistice terms, but later he and one other POW changed their minds and came home.

Col. C. Robert Bard, the prosecutor, said he planned to take a week to present his case and that he would summon about 40 ex-POWs who were with Dickenson at Prison Camp No. 5 at Pyoktong, Korea.

The defense attorney, Col. Guy Emery, a retired Army officer, said he was undecided as to whether Dickenson would be put on the stand to testify in his own behalf.

The two formal charges lodged against Dickenson accused him of:

"Having, without proper authority, communicated with and made contact with the enemy directly and indirectly.

"Having for the purpose of securing favorable treatment by his captors, acted without proper authority in a manner contrary to law, custom and regulation, to the detriment of other persons held by the enemy as prisoners."

This second point is the one that breaks precedent. No one ever has been brought to trial under it before.

ROKs to Attend Geneva Parley

President Rhee Utters Thinly Veiled Threat of Korean Action

SEOUL (AP)—President Syngman Rhee announced today that South Korea will attend the Geneva conference opening next week. But he warned it is "a final time-consuming attempt" to unite Korea by peaceful means.

He didn't say what his government would do if the conference fails. But there was a thinly veiled threat in his statement that "we obviously cannot continue to sit idly by while the Communists exterminate or exile our people to the North and make a Red Chinese province out of half our country."

* * *

The peppery 77-year-old President said "clear and encouraging" assurances from the United States "enable us to go to Geneva with confidence and considerable hope."

Rhee didn't elaborate on the assurances. But in New York You Chang Yang, Korean ambassador to the United States, said his nation had been assured (1) the United States will aid in greatly increasing the Republic of Korea's army and (2) a prime objective of the conference will be to reunite all of Korea and eliminate all Red Chinese troops from that country.

A highly placed Korean source said the assurances were contained in a letter from President Eisenhower delivered to Rhee Sunday by U. S. Ambassador Ellis O. Briggs.

County Passes Budget Plan

Tax Board Preparing to Review Figures for Millage Split-up

Oakland County Board of Supervisors today passed a tentative budget of $6,513,164.84 to pay county government costs during 1955.

The budget, $463,567.64 higher than this year's was sent to the county tax allocation board. The tax board met this afternoon to choose a chairman and get ready to start splitting the 15 mills of taxes allowed here between the county, school systems and townships.

The tentative budget, drafted by the county board of auditors, came through a week of study by the supervisors' ways and means and salaries committees without any changes.

The biggest single increase in next year's budget is $330,655.50 more for salaries.

Another sizable increase is $40,363 more for Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, which runs several big parks here. The tentative budget includes $325,000 for the Authority.

Operating costs are $84,261.64 higher for next year as the county's growth in people calls for more service from the children's home, infirmary, health department and other county departments.

County men think the county will get $1,605,597.25 in fees and other receipts next year, leaving $4,907,567.59 to be raised by taxes. But auditors think the county has enough new homes, businesses and industry so the county tax rate can be held down to this year's 5.25 mills ($5.25 on every $1,000 worth of property as valued by the county) and still balance the budget.

McCarthy Refuses to Give Up Powers

he already has charged with "blackmail" and other offenses.

Meanwhile, it was learned by International News Service that Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens have replied to the senator's query on the number of requests by congressmen for special treatment of Armed Service personnel.

The McCarthy-Army controversy centers around former subcommittee aide G. David Schine, now a private in Military Police training at Camp Gordon, Ga.

The Army has charged that McCarthy and Cohn through "improper means" sought special favors for Schine. The senator and his aide countered that the Army tried to hold their former colleague a "hostage" in an attempt to block a probe of Communist infiltration into that branch of the Armed Forces.

The two officials said, however, that only on "rare" occasions have any lawmakers sought special favors for servicemen.

Sen. Knowland of California, the GOP floor leader, said in a weekend interview he is confident the President will ask prior approval by the lawmakers if it becomes advisable to use any American combat units in Indochina—including air and sea task forces.

"It is my belief that prior to the commitment of any American armed forces, the President should and would come to Congress to lay the facts and his recommendations before it," Knowland said.

Rep. Judd (R-Minn), a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said Eisenhower had assured his group that Congress would be consulted.

4-Car Chain Crash Sends 3 to Hospital

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A fourth car crashing into the last of a chain of cars stopped for a light at Telegraph and Square Lake Rds. last night sent three persons to Pontiac General Hospital.

Treated were Roy Woodworth, 58, driver of one of the cars, and his wife Myra, 46, both of Ferndale, and Thelma Fennell, 30, of Pontiac.

Police said a car driven by Albert Willis, 25, of Detroit struck the last car in a procession of autos driven by Woodworth, Edward Backman, 56, of Detroit and Eugene Tomaszewski, 26, also of Detroit.

He stood mute when arraigned on a first degree murder charge March 15 and was returned to Oakland County Jail today for sentencing May 3 after changing his plea.

PATIENT AND FRIEND—When Mark McGovern was injured in an auto collision en route home from Mexico, he received first aid from the donkey pictured above. McGovern, who lives at 20485 W. 11-Mile Rd., had purchased "Cinco Rose" for his 5-year-old son, Marty. Cinco was licking McGovern's face when the ambulance arrived. Marty now is becoming an authority on donkey training.

The spokesmen added that the French were continuing to bolster their defense barricades in the northwestern corner of the fortress and also those in the northeastern sector.

American civilian pilots operating Flying Boxcars dropped tons more ammunition and war materiel into the fortress.

The Vietminh already hold a key height in this same sector, and have launched several infantry attacks from it. The French think much of the force of the next rebel mass assault they expect at any time will come from that sector.

There still is no indication when this expected all-out strike will come.

It is thought, however, that the Communist Vietminh commanders will try for a major victory to influence the East-West conference starting in Geneva April 26.

Decision Deferred on Land Verdict

Decision on whether or not to accept a jury's verdict of "no necessity" to condemn property at 11-49 Parke St. for municipal parking, submitted March 2, was postponed to April 26 today by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

Judge Hartrick criticized the jury for its verdict last March saying it was "inconsistent" and took under advisement a motion by defense attorney William J. Beer to accept the verdict.

City Attorney William A. Ewart's motion to set it aside and grant a new trial will also be considered.

Scouts Locate Dead Elm Wood

Survey Is Part of City's Campaign to Eliminate Dutch Disease

Some 200 Boy Scouts of the Clinton Valley Council have completed a search for dead elm wood on Pontiac's East Side and turned in reports to the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, according to Loyal McMillin, scout field service director.

At least two dead trees and several piles of brush and logs were located, said City Forester William Aho.

The city will now check the reports and ask property owners to remove the wood.

Sponsored jointly by the scouts and city, the survey is part of a campaign to remove the threat of Dutch elm disease in Pontiac.

Destruction of the wood will kill any of the disease-carrying beetles which may have hibernated in it during winter, Aho explained.

Hessam said he had sold the other puppies and only had Cinder left.

"When I read about Doug and Sandy in the Pontiac Press, I decided not to sell the other pup. That boy needed that dog."

Cinder is about eight weeks old. He stays in a little box-bed that Doug made for him Saturday afternoon.

Will Cinder ever replace Sandy?

"Boy, he sure is a nice dog," said Doug.

That's the answer.

Historic Khyber Pass Again a Busy World Crossroads

WASHINGTON — Khyber Pass, historic invasion route to India known to almost every adventure-hungry American boy, again has become a crossroads of world events.

For centuries migrating tribesmen and marching or mounted troops have threaded the narrow defile. Soldiers of Alexander the Great, the Tatars of Tamerlane, bejeweled Mogul potentates and their implacable enemies, the Afridi Pathans, all crossed the pass. Hard-fighting British and their local allies won fame as the Khyber Rifles for guarding its camel caravan traffic.

"That narrow sword-cut in the hills," as Rudyard Kipling called the Kyber (pronounced Ki-ber), now lies on the border between Pakistan's north-west Frontier Province and Afghanistan, says the National Geographic Society. This region has become a bone of contention between the two countries. Afghanistan recently requested the British to revise the 1921 boundary treaty.

In Kipling's day the pass was busy with commerce:

And there fled on the wings of the gathering dusk
A savour of camels and carpets and musk,
A murmur of voices, a reek of smoke,
To tell us the trade of the Khyber woke.

The 30-mile gorge still is a vital link in the trade of southern Asia. Bright-colored trucks carry pomegranates and cotton from the north, and buses transport passengers, inside or on their roofs, from Kabul, Afghanistan's capital, to Peshawar, near the southeastern mouth of the pass in Pakistan. Between sheer cliffs double-humped Bactrian camels still crest the pass, 3,733 feet above sea level, with bulky burdens. Vehicles use one road, pack-animals another.

The barren, toilsome way is studded with pillboxes erected by the British during World War II. On the Pakistan side a railway winds to the border.

Few mountain gaps possess so many historic associations as this gateway to the plains of India through the Safed Koh Range.

Although Alexander led the main body of his Greek forces into India farther to the north along the Kabul River, he probably sent a division through the Khyber. There in 1672 Afghan tribes captured a neighboring army of 40,000 men, including its elephants and treasures.

The British fought a series of nineteenth century wars along the border. The campaigns were marked by heroic deeds, hazardous sieges and weary marches, many of them centering about the Fort of Ali Masjid, high on the pass. Today bronze plaques commemorate places where British and Indian regiments fought.

The cropless, waterless Khyber still has its warlike tribesmen, but since World War II they have mainly feuded among themselves, leaving the Khyber open as a door of commerce between nations. There is an ancient reason for this: they are paid to keep the peace.

Movies Scout Met Talent

Three Leading Bassos Able to Sing, Act, Look Handsome

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — In the past quarter of a century, the average age of Metropolitan Opera Company singers has dropped 20 years and the average avoirdupois has dropped at least 40 pounds per singer, with the result that movie talent scouts are now casing the Met performances as attentively as they do the Broadway openings.

This is the word from Gottfried Reinhardt, an opera fan himself who has been eyeing the opera as the background of a possible future screen story.

The time is pretty well past when so many top opera singers seemed to have acquired some hefty physical ballast, the maturity of the years, and a nice comfortable look along with their vocal education, this MGM director reports.

Currently likely to be wooed sooner or later by movies are the Met's three glamorous bassos, who might be said to be jockeying for position to fill the gap left when Ezio Pinza went to "South Pacific."

"All of them are handsome, good actors, in addition to being fine singers, and under 35 years of age," said Reinhardt, who recently completed "Betrayed" in England and Holland for MGM. "And they are all over six feet tall and built like lumberjacks."

Radioactivity Used to Study Synergism

AMES, Iowa (INS) — Radioactivity is being used at Iowa State College in a study to determine what causes the phenomenon of synergism, or what makes certain chemicals more active and more potent when they are mixed with other chemicals.

In cooperation with U. S. Industrial Chemicals Company, Division of National Distillers Products Corporation, Iowa State scientists are making the study with radioactive piperonyl butoxide, an outstanding synergist in the insecticide field, to determine its biological behavior when mixed with pyrethrins, one of the oldest and safest insecticide materials known.

Dr. Paul Dahm, professor of zoology and entomology at Iowa State, who is in charge of the investigation, hopes by synthesizing radioactive piperonyl butoxide to be able to chart the reactions that will clear up the mysteries of synergism, which has been a stumbling block to science.

Hope lies in doing the following things: Relieving the muscular aches and pains, because pain acts in a vicious cycle. It prolongs the spasm of the muscles around the joints and this spasm causes the sufferer to refrain from movement of the joint. This voluntary immobilization may cause the muscle to atrophy or waste away. Result is this vicious cycle. The joint may be on its way to deformity. Relieve the pain to break the vicious cycle and you take a very important step.

First . . . to break the vicious cycle of muscular pain a safe, harmless, fast-acting medication is indicated. This effective medication is contained in PRUVO Tablets.

Get genuine PRUVO today from your druggist — start on the road back by first getting relief from pain. And then be sure to work with nature to insure the best ultimate results. As pain is relieved, become gently active at first — easily, comfortably. Stimulate circulation by action. When you realize that with PRUVO you move about with more comfort — your biggest worry is past — and just forget other worries — concentrate on living a more normal life — you help break the bonds of pain while taking PRUVO.

Then a well-balanced diet — avoid overweight or underweight—secure plenty of rest—avoid worry. That is the scientifically developed, newest therapy — using safe medication to obtain relief from pain when it occurs, and nature's laws to give you a new, more comfortable, more active and healthful life.

The most reliable drug stores feature PRUVO Tablets — no prescription needed. They can supply you with the $1.50 trial size, also the Economy Home size, $4.00, and the Hospital-Clinic size, $7.50.

GEORGE'S NEWPORT'S

MUSICAL HOBBY—Fritz Meng, of Bad Homburg, Germany, shows violin he made from 8,000 matches. He claims tone is more resonant than that of workshop-made instruments.

Hal Boyle Says:

Medics Uncover Panacea for 'That Tired Feeling'

NEW YORK (AP)—The medical profession has come up with another tremendous wonder drug.

It gets rid of "that tired feeling" millions of sluggish Americans complain of. It makes you feel better. It adds zest, pep and variety to your life.

* * *

Properly used, this miracle cure for what ails you can also benefit people of nearly all ages, sizes, sexes and weights. It leaves no billious after-taste. It can be taken at home or away from home. And it doesn't cost a mint of money. It's absolutely free.

What do they call this vital miracle medicine? Well, frankly, maybe that's what's wrong with it. The name has a bad sound. It is called—let's face it—"exercise!"

"I knew it . . . I knew it," says the average man, settling back grumpily into his easy chair. "Just a trick. Exercise is for children. Maybe it's for women now, too, since they don't have enough to do around the house. But I don't need it. Even the thought of exercise bores me."

* * *

But it isn't a trick. Modern physicians are seeing the widsom of a health hint written more than 2,000 years ago by Cicero, the Roman sage, who wrote, "exercise and temperance can preserve something of our early strength even in old age."

Take coronary heart disease, for example. It and cancer are probably the two diseases the average man fears.

Dr. Ernst Simonson of the University of Minnesota told the panel of the "protective effect" of exercise against coronary heart disease. He said a study of 2,500,000 British workers showed that those who did heavy work, such as mining and farming, had a far lower death rate from this ailment than those who did light tasks, such as desk workers, hairdressers, or employes in factory jobs requiring little physical effort.

The reason would seem to be obvious. Man is a sweating animal full of animal energy, and working up a real physical sweat helps keep him relaxed and healthy.

* * *

The other day I asked a doctor I know, whose waiting room is always thronged:

"Couldn't half the people who come to see you cure themselves of what is really wrong with them if they spent an hour walking in the open air every day, and got one more hour of sleep every night?"

"Probably," he said. Then, since he likes to point out how doctors are killing themselves through overwork, I asked:

"Wouldn't it cure everything that is wrong with you, too?"

Scientists Devise Electronic Reader

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UP)—Scientists are developing a machine that could do much of man's reading for him.

President Clyde Williams of Battelle Memorial Institute explained that the electronic machine eventually may be able to scan up to five million published documents an hour and identify those related to a particular topic.

The screening of past knowledge is important to engineers, scientists, and others doing research to develop new products; processes, and materials.

But Dr. Williams cautioned against looking upon the machine being developed at the institute as a cure-all for information-hunting problems. He pointed out that reading involves the ability to understand and the machine won't have that ability. It will be able to do routine information hunting with speed, precision, and patience, but it will be a "moronic robot" he said.

Iraq Seeks to Move Unfinished Pipeline

BEIRUT (AP) — Iraq wants a big oil pipeline planned to end in Haifa in Israel to be diverted through Syria to the Lebanon coast. The line was partially built in 1948 but was never finished because of the Israel-Arab war which still is going on despite a cease fire.

If the line were completed by the new route it could increase by 7½ million tons the 36 million tons now pumped through Lebanon, Iraq officials say.

Meanwhile, officials of the Iraq Petroleum Co., dominated by the British have denied that the big, idle oil refinery in Haifa will be moved to Lebanon.

Wise Union Co-Operation

Willys and Kaiser cars soon will be in a better competitive position pricewise if the proposal of its 3,500 UAW-CIO employes becomes operative.

At the suggestion of International Vice President Richard T. Gosser, these workers voted almost unanimously to accept a pay cut proposal.

The term "pay cut" is subject to two interpretations. Gosser himself explains the union suggestion as a means of getting rid of an "obsolete incentive system" in exchange for a bonus plan.

While the latter might not show any results until December, Gosser says the long range effect will be a gain in pay for the workers. At the same time he says the plan would cut Willys labor costs about 10 per cent or $56,000 a week. For the employes whose earnings average $80 a week the plan, without the bonus, would result in individual pay cuts of from five to 10 per cent.

★ ★ ★

It seems to us these Willys workers rate a vote of commendation. Knowing that their employer's products aren't selling as well as they should and fearing additional layoffs, these unionists wisely decided to do something about it.

The result should be to place Willys and Kaiser cars in a better competitive relationship to the low priced lines of the Big Three.

Scandal Rocks FHA

President Eisenhower has acted swiftly and wisely in ordering a complete investigation of a multimillion dollar scandal in the Federal Housing Administration.

Besides accepting the resignation of Guy T. O. Hollyday, FHA Chief, he has ordered agency files seized to facilitate the inquiry. Another step in the shakeup was the appointment of Norman T. Mason, Bay State lumber company executive, to replace the ousted Baltimore mortgage banker.

According to Albert M. Cole, head of the Housing and Home Finance Agency, the investigation will involve both the Eisenhower and Truman Administrations. He also said that irregularities occurred in two FHA programs.

Under one it is charged that promoters got FHA loans totaling $75,000,000 more than the cost of 251 apartment house projects. In these cases gross neglect or collusion on the part of FHA officials is suspected. Widespread abuses by contractors also are charged in the billion dollar a year home repair field with some home owners charged double the value of the work done.

Some Congressional sources consider these disclosures a serious blow to the Eisenhower housing program and others disagree. But there can be no doubt about one thing — the people want the mess cleaned up and the guilty punished.

Cash From Garbage

At East Lansing's sewage disposal plant a machine developed by Michigan State College engineers has proved that it is possible to transform garbage into cash.

A $5,000 municipal appropriation helped speed development of the machine. Dr. John R. Snell of the civil engineering department, calls it a mechanical digester or high speed composter.

The digester is shaped like a water heater and is two stories high. In operation it churns five to seven tons of garbage a day into pulp, removes the harmful bacteria and converts the pulp into organic fertilizer which sells for up to $10 a ton.

Recent legislation regarding the feeding of garbage to hogs has created a field for such a device. In several states this practice is prohibited. While in Michigan the garbage can be fed only after it has been cooked to prevent vesicular exanthema in hogs and trichinosis in humans.

College officials believe that within a year they will be able to supply manufacturers with blueprints for the production of economical and practical digesters.

Of Mutual Benefit

Realizing that one in every 16 students at the University of Michigan comes from a foreign land, United Church Women of Pontiac cooperated in acting as hostesses to 20 of them.

The weekend program provided the students first hand experience with life in a Christian American home. In the process the guests also got some very satisfying first hand experience with American home cooking.

While the students were learning about American customs and hospitality, the hostesses were learning more about the homeland of their guests, to the benefit of all concerned.

We like the idea behind this program and think the hostesses and guests have made a fine contribution to international understanding.

Local real estate men tell me that they have many inquiries from Detroit business people for residential property along the railroad lines north of Pontiac. Says Motorists Who Block Side Streets Should Be More Considerate of Others

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Sometimes I am quite annoyed when I observe traffic in the downtown area at 5:00 when the traffic is at its peak.

Many drivers line up at red lights and don't pay any attention to the fact that they are blocking the path of motorists in alleys and side streets who would like to get out into the main street and go in the opposite direction of the person blocking their way.

Instead of just sitting in their way wouldn't it be just as easy to stop a little sooner and let the person out so he too can get on his way? Maybe you will be in his spot sometime and would like the same courtesy extended to you.

Claims Racketeers Take Over When Leaders Fail

I get a kick out of investigations. Hundreds of valuable dollars are spent and when they get through, the high courts say they are sorry but nothing can be done because there is not enough evidence to punish them.

So, they go right back out and get in the game with a bigger knowledge of how to operate. I am sure the day will come when some of these officials themselves are going to wish they took investigations more seriously.

Things are not getting better, worse if anything and the operators are more powerful than ever before because people can't believe in such goings on in the government.

When leaders fail watch out for the racketeers, because they're in power and no one can do anything about it. What a laugh!

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—There is something inspiring about the resoluteness with which President Eisenhower has proclaimed anew America's fidelity to the principle of collective security as against the policy of isolated aloofness which prevailed two decades ago.

For in this age of the atomic bomb and the intercontinental bomber the old idea of the two-ocean defense with a strong navy has been superseded by the more realistic concept that America's first line of defense is in Europe far away from our shores.

What the President has just said in his momentous pronouncement is that the United States is committed to the defense of all of free Europe, including Germany, and that those abroad who have had misgivings about the firmness of our view can dispel them now.

The fact that Eisenhower issued his statement just after the return of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles from conferences with the heads of the British and French governments means that in advance of the Geneva Conference an allied front of unmistakable solidarity is being presented.

Dulles by his indefatigable labors and personal persuasiveness has brought to a dramatic climax a policy that didn't start with this trip but with many visits he has made to Europe in the last 15 months.

Nor is the skill of Dulles and his statesmanlike approach to the tangled problems of the world fully revealed by the phrases of the statements themselves.

What is beginning to be realized here is that the timing of certain statements and the careful preparation through discussions with the National Security Council and members of the foreign relations committees of both parties in Congress are all part of a master plan to prevent a third world war. It tells the potential aggressor explicitly what to expect if he misconstrues our pacific attitude as weakness.

The Eisenhower statement is not in itself an executive agreement, but an interpretation. It is not a new commitment, but an explanation of an existing obligation.

The key to it all is the North Atlantic Treaty Organization which the Senate ratified by an overwhelming vote. It provides that an attack on any one of the 13 other member countries will be regarded as if it were an attack on the United States itself. That's why American troops now are in Europe and an Allied command is set up in Paris.

That's why Moscow is so anxious to break up the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, for it is designed as a deterrent to Soviet aggression.

But Germany has not been permitted — due to French fears — to become a member of NATO and so the European Defense Community plan for continental countries only was devised. Germany ratified it. Britain last week said her troops would be integrated with EDC though she is not a member.

America is not a member but would associate her troops with it in defense of continental Europe. France has been hesitant to ratify the European Defense Community agreement. There have been contentions by French politicians that America would withdraw from NATO as soon as the European Defense Community plan was consummated.

To allay such fears Eisenhower pointed out that American troops were committed under the NATO plan to stay in Europe as long as there is a threat to peace. He now spells out clearly that America counts on both the EDC and NATO plans to assure the defense of Europe and that American military strength will be integrated indefinitely in both.

Now, if France and Germany ever get to fighting again, America would have a free hand to decide what to do. But as things look today all the free countries including West Germany are together in showing a united front against the Soviet empire.

The Communists have been trying to divide the Allies and frustrate their diplomacy, but on the eve of the Geneva Conference the Allies are standing together as firmly as ever. This solidarity was of incalculable value before the Berlin Conference and it is a tremendously important factor on the eve of the Geneva Conference.

What a different page in history might have been written if those of us who urged American entry into the League of Nations in the 1920s had been able to persuade the Republican administrations of those years to adopt a policy of announcing in advance America's prospective military cooperation with France and Britain.

Also what a profound impression on Hitler might have been made if President Roosevelt's so-called "quarantine speech" in Chicago in the 1930s, which so many of us supported, had been followed by as explicit a projection of American policy as President Eisenhower has just made. Maybe then the second World War would never have happened.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Friendly Attitude Is Key to Salesmanship Success

Being a waitress or waiter in a restaurant is a complicated job. For you need to understand psychology and star salesmanship. Besides, you must be efficient and hygenic. Rate your local waiters with the psychological" yardstick outlined below and see if they are as good as Marjorie.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-379: Marjorie L., aged 27, is a waitress in a restaurant near my office.

"Hello," she cheerily greeted two other physicians and myself as soon as we sat down at a table.

"I'll be with you in a minute," she added, with a smile, "but meanwhile maybe you'd like to look over the menu," and she handed each of us a menu card.

"She's a snappy waitress, all right," one of my colleagues added as soon as she had turned away.

"You just watch her and you'll find that she can wait on twice as many customers as any other girl in the place.

"Moreover, she doesn't stick her fingers inside clean drinking glasses like a lot of stupid folks.

"Nor does she take hold of spoons by the bowl and leave her thumb prints there for customers to lick off.

"She organizes her work, too, which is why she handles so many customers without apparent rushing."

So I observed Marjorie carefully, and she fulfilled what my medical colleague had said.

She always smiled and greeted new customers, cordially even though she wasn't immediately able to wait upon them.

In other words, if she was bringing in a tray of food for another table, she would smile across at the new people who had just sat down nearby.

Watch this trait, for it is the mark of a good sales person, whether in restaurants or department stores.

Stolid, second-rate sales clerks stick to the customer at hand and don't even acknowledge the presence of other prospects who may be waiting for service.

Restaurants, however, should be characterized by even more sociability and friendliness than department stores.

For eating has been a social event from our infancy. It starts with the baby in a high chair, joining his parents at the table.

In later life, therefore, even if we are alone at a restaurant, we subconsciously crave the friendliness and sociability of our childhood dinner table.

It isn't enough that a restaurant offer good food for the stomach. It should also give its patrons the psychological food for their emotions, such as smiles and cordial greetings and a friendly, homelike atmosphere.

A charming waitress or jolly waiter is worth as much as the calibre of food on the menu.

In fact, customers will follow a popular waitress to a different restaurant because of their greater emotional enjoyment of her friendliness.

So being a waitress or waiter involves salesmanship and good Applied Psychology, as well as efficiency in movements.

Good waitresses also are fastidious and hygienic. They don't handle dirty money at the cashier's till and then pick up pats of butter in their fingers the next moment.

The super-duper waiter also remembers the names of his customers and pays them compliments on their new hat or frock, etc. For a topnotch restaurant should be a happy substitute for one's childhood home dining room.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3-cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

An Optimal Daily Ration of Riboflavin Delays Old Age, Promotes Well-Being

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

These are the words of the noted nutrition authority, Prof. E. V. McCollum, but the word vite is mine, coined with the cooperation of two of my readers.

Dr. McCollum ascribed to riboflavin (formerly called vitamin G and vitamin B2) most essentially the preservation of the characteristics of youth.

Other investigators have found that an optimal daily ration of riboflavin (that is, considerably more than the normal or adequate ration) results in more rapid growth, better vigor, postponement of the signs of senility and enhancement of nutritional well-being, at least in animals.

Signs of senility are . . . on the whole I'd rather not describe the signs here. Instead let's talk about riboflavin.

Dr. Paul L. Day, University of Arkansas, found that a diet entirely free from riboflavin caused all but two of 37 white rats to develop sticky eyelids, and cataracts in two or three months.

If riboflavin was restored to the diet the cataracts were prevented or cured. But no one has established that this applies to human beings.

* * *

Cracking and maceration at the corners of the mouth and red, sore lower lip showing increased transverse markings; red, itching, burning eyes and inability to see in dim light; magenta tongue; fine scaly desquamation of the skin in the folds from sides of nose to angles of mouth and across nose and cheeks; fine scaly desquamation of the skin of the hands and other parts of the body. These are common manifestations of riboflavin deficiency.

* * *

Best food source of riboflavin is milk, whole, skim milk, evaporated milk, dried milk, cheese, and other milk products.

People most likely to suffer from riboflavin deficiency are food faddists, persons with obsessions against milk ("mucus-forming," "constipating," "fattening") and wiseacres who adhere too faithfully to dietary regimens prescribed or recommended for obesity, high blood pressure, peptic ulcer, allergy, arthritis or what do you guess.

The daily consumption of not less than 1½ pints, (three large glasses) of milk is best way to keep a good complexion. If you cannot or will not take your milk every day then at least take a suitable daily ration of riboflavin, calcium, etc., to supplement your inadequate diet, as directed in pamphlet Young Folks and Old Folks, available free if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday

Tomb Changed to Glory From Place of Darkness

REV. PAUL R. HAVENS

Speaking in First Methodist Church Easter Sunday, the Rev. Paul R. Havens, pastor since 1944, spoke on this order. The church was organized in 1828.

* * *

In the Gospel of Matthew, chapter 28, verse 6, we read the words of the angel to the women, as they came to the tomb on the first Easter Day, "Come, see the place where the Lord lay."

The Easter story will always bring a thrill as we read it year after year, because it is hope after defeat, joy after sorrow, life after death. The Apostles were beginning to believe that Jesus was the promised Messiah, the fulfillment of the Prophet's predictions of the Old Testament, but now He had been arrested, tried, condemned and crucified.

Notice first, this spot had been a place of defeat. The tomb designated had contained the body of Jesus, the One they believed to be immune from death. He had healed the sick, cleansed the lepers and raised the dead, and now He was dead. All of their hopes had ended in defeat.

Paul tells us that "Now we see through glass darkly." There are times in life when we are confronted with situations, with plans and dreams that look like the end but again the Bible says, "All things work together for good to them that love God." We are urged to hang on, keep trusting, never lose faith.

Notice again, the angel said, "Come see the place." It had been a place of darkness. These women had seen Jesus die an awful death on the cross. They had seen His body placed in the tomb and the sun had gone down; darkness covered their faith.

I suppose, in a measure, death will always be darkness to people, for it means separation, broken plans and dreams. It need not be eternal separation.

During the last world war, it was said in England that "The lights are going out all over Europe." There is a darkness of hate, jealousy, war, evil and sin that brings discouragement and defeat to men and nations.

The angel said, "Come see the place." It was the place of dawn, of new life, of new beginnings. Some years ago I was presented with a young fryer. Liking fried chicken as I do, I accepted gratefully. Placing him temporarily in a crate in the basement, I was awakened very early the next morning by the crowing of the young rooster.

Hurrying down to the basement, I threw a covering over the crate and said, "Now keep still!" I had no more than arrived in the bedroom until he was crowing again. He knew it was about day. I do not know how they know, but roosters somehow know that daylight is not far away.

The place of defeat and darkness had become, for these of old, and for us today, a place of a new day. Within the tomb was an angel clothed in white and shining with the radiance of heaven.

Death had lost its sting and the grave had lost its victory. The late Dr. M. S. Rice of Detroit, was calling in a home where death had taken the husband and father. He was met at the door by the widowed mother with these words, "Dr. Rice, we are Christians." The Christian knows that through the tomb there is light, life and eternity.

Let us notice finally that it was a place of decision. They looked and marveled, but the word came, "Go tell." The world is in need of such a word, that Christ died on the cross for man's redemption, rose again from the dead that man might live here and now with the peace of God in his heart and hear at the close of life the words of commendation: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, enter into eternal life." That word is needed in the world today. You are the only one to take it to a needy world.

Paddling on Way Out

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Big Ten Intra-fraternity Council Pan-Hellenic Conference decided Sunday that paddles and "hell weeks" were on the way out. The group voted for banishment for the paddle and "all viollent physical hazing." They also recommended that "help weeks" be substituted for the traditional hazing periods.

97 Auto Accidents Recorded in March

A total of 97 auto accidents with 39 injuries was recorded in March by Pontiac Police Traffic and Accident Bureau.

Although a slightly higher number of acieents is noted for the first three months of this year, as compared with a 1953 corresponding period, traffic deaths show a decline.

During the first three months 339 auto accidents and one traffic death were reported. A police summary states 311 accidents and three deaths occurred during the same period last year. Last month's total is four accidents lower than n March 1953.

AP Tells of Forward Interpretive Reporting at Annual Meeting

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press produced during the past year "the most ambitious series of enterprise stories in AP history" in an ever-broadening effort "to meet the news," the Board of Directors said today.

The board, noting that the AP now served a record 6,791 newspaper, radio and television members and subscribers throughout the world, said in its annual report:

"From an organization 'waiting for the news to happen,' The AP, broadening out carefully over a period of years, now goes to meet the news—wherever it may be; then goes behind and beyond it for greatest possible clarity, balance and understanding."

* * *

Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, was the speaker for the annual luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel.

The Board of Directors said "nothing is more significant in the increasing value and usefulness of the service" than stories that explain, interpret and background the news. To do this, the board said, "The AP went to the news fronts of the world at large for explanation, interpretation, background."

* * *

It cited "unparalleled coverage of the Russian scene"—largely through stories by AP staffers Eddy Gilmore and Thomas Whitney on their return here after years in Moscow, and by William L. Ryan, AP foreign news analyst, who made a 6,000-mile unescorted tour of Russia.

The AP serves more than 3,800 subscribers outside the United States, a gain of more than 650. Newspaper membership in the United States totals 1,738, a gain of 7; and radio and television membership total 1,253, a gain of 83.

ELECTRICIAN'S NIGHTMARES—This tangle of wires in Columbia, Pa., was the result of a terrific explosion which was set off when 31 cars of a Pennsylvania Railroad freight train jumped the track and smashed into a high tension tower. Wreckage of the train can be seen in the foreground while an electrician overhead starts the nightmarish task of untangling the wires.

State GOP Woman, WBA Founder Dies

CHICAGO (AP) — Mrs. Bina West Miller of Port Huron, Mich., the first woman vice chairman of the Michigan Republican Committee and founder of the Women's Benefit Assn., died yesterday. She was 86.

Mrs. Miller died at the suburban Evanston home of a nephew, DeWitt Davis, a former executive member of the National Republican Committee. Services will be held in Port Huron Wednesday.

Mrs. Miller founded the association in 1892 and served as supreme president for more than 50 years, retiring in 1948. She saw her group grow to 218,000 members all over the world.

She also represented the National Council of Women at Geneva in 1908, was the first woman president of the National Fraternal Congress of Americans in 1925, and served as a member of the President's Planning Committee on Child Health and Protection in 1929.

Car Windshields Reported Pocked in Center of State

State Police said about 9 out of 10 cars, parked on Mount Pleasant streets, were found to have damaged window glasses. Chips, they said ranged from pinhead size to larger.

In nearby Alma similar damage was reported.

State Police said apparently the only cars to escape the damage were parked in garges.

The damage was believed to be caused by something dropping straight down. Car tops, greenhouse roof and slanted windshields were all damaged. Vertical objects were not harmed.

U. S. Weather Bureau stations said that many parts of the state were hit by a dusty haze, whipped into the Michigan air by high winds over the plains states. But they said, there apparently was no connection between the dusty air and the pock marked windshields.

Choir Boys Begin Trip to Sing Before Pope Pius

NEW YORK (AP) — Six choir boys from Ann Arbor left Sunday night by plane for Rome where they will participate in the fifth congress of the International Federation of Little Singers.

The boys, all from St. Thomas Roman Catholic Church, arrived by train Sunday on the first leg of their trip, which is sponsored by donations answering a newspaper appeal.

The boys will sing for Pope Pius April 25 with some 4,200 other youths.

GOP Woman Prefers Greeting From Truman

BELLOWS FALLS, Vt. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Jackson Bacon, who was 103 last Saturday, is a life-long Republican but she says she likes better the birthday greeting she received two years ago from Democratic former President Truman than the one she got from Republican President Eisenhower.

She explained last night that Truman sent her a personal letter while Eisenhower's greeting was on a standard engraved White House card.

Ships Near Florida Told to Look Out for Iceberg

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Ships in the Atlantic off the Florida coast were warned today to be on the lookout for—of all things—an iceberg.

The SS Trinity, an American merchant ship, reported yesterday that it sighted a small iceberg 300 miles off Cape Canaveral, Fla. It was estimated to weigh 18 tons.

Machine Goes to Hospital Without 3-Year-Old Girl

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Carol Downing, 3, put her finger into the slot of a drugstore chewing gum machine. It stuck there.

Bystanders couldn't get it out. Neither could the crew of a police ambulance. So the gum machine was sawed off and, with Carol, was loaded into the ambulance.

As the ambulance sped to a hospital, street bumps jiggled the machine free of the finger. Carol was taken home.

Five Are Hurt in Chain Crash

5 Cars Jam Together on Elizabeth Lake Road Near M59

Five persons were injured in an "accordion accident" yesterday when five cars ran into one another on Elizabeth Lake road near M 59.

Treated at Pontiac General Hospital were Albert A. Marcora, 36, of 170 S. Roslyn, Waterford Township, for leg bruises; his wife, Lillian, 27, neck injury and knee bruises; their daughters, Mary Lynn, 6, and Sue Ellen, 5, with head injuries, and Marcora's sister, Dorothy, 27, of 3665 Oakview, Drayton Plains, with back bruises.

Marcora told Waterford Township Police that his car was shoved into a pickup truck ahead of him by a car driven by A. V. Cheshier, 28, of Mount Morris.

The truck, driven by Robert C. Gallagher, 23, of Detroit, was pushed into a car driven by Raymond R. Byron, 22, of 53 Berkley Ave., which in turn was shoved into a car driven by Mrs. Marjorie Van Jaarazelt, 28, Detroit.

Cheshier told police that he ran into Marcora's car after it smashed into Gallagher's truck.

Some 800 persons representing 12 wards of the Detroit Stake gathered in the Washington Junior High School auditorium Sunday morning for a two-hour Easter service of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints.

William Stover, representing the church's welfare committee in Salt Lake City, delivered the Easter sermon. He recently returned from East Germany where he conducted missionary work.

U. N. Commission on Disarmament Gathers Today

UNITED NATIONS N. Y. (AP) — Spurred by recent hydrogen bomb tests, the U.N. Disarmament Commission gathered today to set up private big-power talks on disarmament. The Soviet Union was given little chance to get Communist China included.

The 12-nation commission had before it a British draft resolution for the private talks to be held by a subcommittee composed of Britain, Canada, France, the Soviet Union and the United States.

Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky had proposed that Communist China, Czechoslovakia and India be added to the list. Spokesmen for three of the 12 delegations on the comission said they anticipated the Soviet amendment would be voted down.

The draft resolution would have the subcommitte start work tomorrow and report by July 15. Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain has suggested that it hold its first meeting here and later meetings in London. Vishinsky did not object to this nor to Sir Pierson's timetable.

TB Patient Slashed After Drinking Binge

A patient at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium was slashed with a razor Sunday night during a quarrel with another patient, according to Dr. Lynn Webber, director of the sanatorium.

Dr. Webber said today that it is believed the two men quarreled after drinking liquor smuggled in by a visitor.

The victim, Lee Campbell, 43, of 27½ N. Saginaw St., was treated at the sanatorium for cuts about the neck and face.

Alva Harty, 47, of 304 Elm St., is held in Oakland County Jail for investigation of felonious assault. Dr. Webber said a complaint would be signed today formally charging Harty.

"He (Harty) has been a troublesome patient ever since he came here," Dr. Webber said. "We transferred him to Saginaw and they locked him up, but he escaped and was in an auto accident, fracturing several ribs. They wouldn't take him back."

Protesting Wife of Red Diplomat Leaves Australia

SYDNEY (INS) — The weeping wife of a Soviet diplomat-spy who gained asylum in Australia was thrust aboard a plane by Soviet couriers today and some in the protesting Australian crowd heard her cry "I don't want to go — save me."

Mrs. Evokiya Petrov, dazed, bedraggled and in tears, was pushed, pulled and dragged 200 yards by the Russian officials who had to fight their way through a crowd where some men tried to punch the Russians.

One punch knocked off the hat of one of the Soviet couriers sent from Moscow to Australia to return the woman whose husband last week deserted the Russians and turned over documents which the government said exposed local traitors in a spy ring.

Women in the crowd at the Sydney Airport grew hysterical and cried: "She must not be allowed to go."

Men trying to prevent the departure ripped away the gangway of the plane but struggling airport officials and the Russians restored it and Mrs. Petrov was bundled aboard the plane amid the boos of the crowd.

New Vaccine May Cure Cattle Plague

CHICAGO (UP)—The American Veterinary Medical Association reports that a new vaccine shows promise against leptospirosis, one of the nation's fastest-growing cattle diseases.

The association said the vaccine will provide veterinarians with a weapon it hopes will protect exposed herds and half further losses in herds already stricken.

The vaccine was developed at the Veterinary Virus Institute of the New York State Veterinary College at Cornell University.

Leptospirosis, considered rare five years ago, now has been diagnosed in at least 40 states and is a serious problem in many areas, the association said. Symptoms vary and often resemble those of other diseases, it said.

Miler Alibis Again for Missing Record

Running by himself after the half mile mark, Landy finished more strongly than he has in any previous appearance. But a slow third quarter spoiled any chance of breaking Gunder Haegg's world record of 4:01.4.

Landy said after the race he had run most of the distance with a football stud stuck on a spike in his right shoe, which had put him off balance throughout.

University Hospital Works on A-Bomb Casualty Plan

ANN ARBOR—In the event of atomic warfare the University of Michigan's medical facilities would be increased six-fold.

The University Hospital has worked out a joint plan with civil defense officials to make emergency changes which would permit the treatment and hospitalization of 6,000 casualties.

This would make Ann Arbor the medical center of the state should there be atomic bombing of industrial areas.

Dr. Roger B. Nelson, associate director of University Hospital said:

"The first thing we would have to do at University Hospital is mass-evacuate about 90 per cent of our present patients to dormitory row until their families could come and transport them home."

The remaining 10 per cent of the hospital's patients are not capable of discharge under any circumstances, he declared.

University officials have approved emergency use of three dormitories which lie directly south of the hospital should the state undergo atomic incident. Stockwell, Alice Lloyd, and Mosher residence halls have a present total house capacity of 1,451.

"Taking all our physical resources together," said Dr. Nelson, "we could hospitalized a total of 6,000 patient-casualties."

The defense plan calls for a screening of casualties at points of evacuation. When they arrive in Ann Arbor, all victims of radiation burns would be sent to Alice Lloyd Hall. Those suffering other forms of radiation sickness would be hospitalized in Mosher, and patients requiring general observation would be sent to Stockwell.

All head and chest injuries would be referred directly to the University Hospital.

"We have over 450 doctors on our staff," stated Dr. Nelson. "Together with junior and senior medical students, the hospital could provide an emergency medical staff of over 800 doctors."

To meet the critical nursing situation, University officials are planning on the 300 nurses now on duty, the 125 private registry nurses, and approximately 400 student nurses in the School of Nursing, making a total emergency nursing complement of over 800.

Every car, every station wagon, every ambulance would be pressed into service, meaning that Ann Arbor would be choked with traffic far exceeding that of an entire season of football Saturdays.

Dr. Nelson indicated that any new atomic development might render the plan obsolete. "Today," he said, "there must be more than one ace in the hole."

Tuna Haul Condemned

Parnell Thomas Back in Politics

Pardoned GOP Solon Running for Congress in New Jersey

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — Former Rep. J. Parnell Thomas is making a comeback bid in tomorrow's New Jersey primary election, for which a light turnout is expected.

A lack of statewide issues accounts for the expected slack voting. Both the Republican and Democratic senatorial nominees are unopposed. Party battles exist in only eight of the state's 14 congressional districts.

Considerable attention is focused on a bingo-raffles referenda. But here too the issue is strictly local. The games were legalized by constitutional amendment last November. In tomorrow's referenda, each municipality will decide whether it wants the games permitted within its borders.

* * *

Thomas, onetime chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, has based most of his campaign on support of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his objectives and methods. He is running against the incumbent, Rep. William N. Widnall, for the Republican nomination in the 7th district. Widnall is backed by the party at state and local levels.

Thomas, 59, served seven terms in the House before he was convicted of padding his payroll while in office. He served a nine-month prison term and was pardoned in 1952.

In his comeback campaign, he says he is "1,000 per cent" behind Sen. McCarthy.

This Week Dedicated to Society

Local Organization Plans Observance Activities

Today the Pontiac YWCA launches the seventh National YWCA Week with the theme "We go to church, we go to school; we go to work—we go to the YWCA—Go with us."

In a proclamation setting April 19-25 as National YWCA Week, Mayor William Donaldson said, "In behalf of the citizens of Pontiac I congratulate the YWCA for its past, and for its present, and I wish it continued growth for its future."

National YWCA Week is observed annually throughout the country. During this week members of the local association join with those in 438 cities and towns and 641 colleges and universities for a nationwide celebration of the anniversary of this organization dedicated to the services of women and girls.

"During the week the public is welcome to tour the building on Franklin boulevard and view the activities," announced Eileen Muir, executive director.

Today members of Y-Teen clubs joined with the boys of the Hi-Y clubs in an all-day conference devoted to the problems of teenage youth.

On Tuesday the Golden Agers will welcome any woman 70 years or over to join them in a program of music. Following luncheon at 12:30 p.m., the group will be entertained by Pontiac High School Girl's Ensemble and by accordion selections played by Mrs. Helen C. Bell.

The Y-teen Interclub Council will sponsor a picnic after school Thursday, when Shirley Clancy is to be honored as "Y-Teen of the Year."

The board of directors will hold an evening meeting on Thursday to discuss basic standards for community YWCAs as adopted at the last national convention. Directors will measure progress over the past three years in such areas as membership, leadership, program and services, records and reports, etc.

Friday evening members of the Junior High Teen Canteen will have an evening of informal fun and recreation.

A trip to Greenfield Village is scheduled for all day Saturday, open to all young employed women. Reservations may be made by calling the YWCA by Friday.

Sunday will be marked throughout the nation as "YWCA Sunday in the Churches." On that day each one of the more than 3,000,000 members of this organization is urged to attend the church of her choice, thus joining with other members in communities throughout the country in accenting the religious emphasis of the YWCA in the nation and the world.

Local pastors will give recognition to the association on that day as a worldwide organization with a Christian purpose committed to work for the brotherhood of all men.

"For 99 years the YWCA has worked toward building a better society for all," Miss Muir said. "We are proud to celebrate our anniversary and we shall be prouder still next year when the centennial of the YWCA in the world will be observed.

"For nearly 100 years the YWCA has kept pace with the times during a century of unprecedented challenge and change in the lives of women."

Mrs. King Talks About Schools at Zonta Meeting

Mrs. Harry King, local school board member and state president of the Michigan Congress of PTA, was guest speaker at the Zonta Club luncheon Thursday at Hotel Waldron.

She emphasized the value of public schools by reminding members of other countries where there is little public education and low living standards prevail. She pointed out that some states in the United States have low educational standards also, and that these states cannot qualify as many men for military service.

Mrs. King also spoke of the educational problems caused by the increased birth rate, saying in 1953 there were 3,000 more births in Oakland County. At 30 children to a room, she figured that the number of births would call for 100 rooms and 100 teachers.

To secure sufficient elementary teachers, salaries must meet competition, young people must find the profession attractive and there must be adequate buildings, she stated.

Mrs. King suggested that more women in public office might be a solution and pointed out that women are qualified to fill such positions well.

Pythias Lodge Entertains PTA

"The Lesson of Fellowship," a drama by Knights of Pythias Lodge 277, was presented to Malkim PTA Thursday as part of a Fathers' Night program.

George Janes, father vice president, presented the group and Harry Patterson of Knights of Pythias gave a resume of the story, saying the Pythagorean epic dates back to 600 B.C. The epic is one of harmony, peace and brotherly love on the Samos Island in the Aegean Sea.

Damon was portrayed by Carl Ericson, Pythias by Lester Frownfeller and Dionysius by Milton Probert. Dean Peterson played the part of Philistius.

In charge of arrangements were Mrs. William Mihalek, Mrs. Walter Lamphere, Mrs. Rudolph Pfeuffer, Mrs. James Mirovski, Mrs. Frank Dennis and Mrs. Lorraine LaBarge.

Pals Are Revealed by Pioneer Sisters

Secret pals were revealed Thursday when Pioneer Sisters met with Mrs. Richard Raber on Winding drive, and new officers were elected.

Mrs. Ella Sanderson was elected president, with Mrs. Emmitt Miller as first vice president; Mrs. Ada Schreck, treasurer, and Mrs. Myrtle Kath secretary.

Devotions were given by Mrs. M. E. Baldwin on "It Began to Dawn" and the hostess served a cooperative luncheon. Those who had April birthdays were honored with a birthday cake.

There's nothing extravagant about even the most fragile-looking pastel accessories and blouses as long as they can be kept flower-fresh with soapsuds.

Fruit Punch Will Serve Big Crowd

Mrs. John Neaves Uses Four Juices in Festive Drink

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Going to have a party? Want a good punch recipe? Why not try this one contributed by Mrs. John Neaves?

All the ingredients can be readied ahead of time, and putting them together is only the work of a few minutes.

Although Mrs. Neaves is the mother of five children, she is active in outside affairs. She is the president of the Wilson PTA and of the Fashionettes Club. She lists her hobbies as sewing and crocheting.

PUNCH FOR A CROWD
By Mrs. John Neaves

6 cups cold water
2 pounds granulated sugar
Juice of 12 lemons
1 quart pineapple juice
1 quart orange juice
1 quart grape juice
4 quarts gingerale

Boil the water and sugar together for five minutes. Cool this syrup. When ready to serve, add the fruit juices, pour over a large block of ice in a punch bowl. Add the gingerale. This makes about 50 cups of punch.

Wood Slat Folding Door Also Serves as Divider

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

When a wood slat folding door isn't a door, it's a room divider. As a door, it saves space, and it does the same thing as a room divider — can often be used where there's no room for a divider of another kind.

A wood slat divider is taller, ceiling high, and can't be seen through as many open-shelf room-dividing pieces of furniture can, and it folds back to reopen the divided area into a single large space.

And it's as easy to hang the woven wood slat fabric from the ceiling to use as a room divider as it is to suspend it from the top of a doorway or closet front — it comes ready to hang and with the necessary hardware.

For either purpose, building supply and lumber dealers can furnish the right length, standard or cut to measure. The folding doors come in natural finishes or colors, stained or lacquered, to fit the room scheme.

With this sort of room division, there can even be a change of pace in the decoration of walls.

* * *

Mrs. D. J. McD. "We're trying to bring an old home up-to-date. Our biggest problem is elaborate woodwork with a lot of detail on the doors. Each door has a transom — and there are seven doors in the dining room!

"The woodwork needs refinishing. Would it look well painted? If so, what color? Dining room walls are blue."

Where there is so much woodwork, and in a design you aren't enthusiastic about, the best idea is to make it as inconspicuous as possible. Do this by painting it the color of the walls.

Mrs. J. G. "I have just purchased a yellow bedspread and draperies to match for two windows of my bedroom, and the rug is a cedar color.

"If three walls were painted light green and one dark green, what color should the woodwork be painted on the fourth wall? Should it be light green if the rest of the woodwork is light green?"

If the woodwork matches three walls, it should also match the fourth wall — the purpose in matching is to eliminate contrast. But there should be a reason to paint one wall different from the others.

We haven't information needed to decide whether or not there should be a contrasting wall, but doubt if two shades of green are the best color choices with the yellow and cedar color. A single shade of green, perhaps a soft olive or light gray-green might be better.

Perforated Hardboard Very Handy

Provides Storage for Various Types of Equipment

By HUBBARD COBB

One of the minor problems connected with modern living is that as we turn out more and more goods, we build homes with less and less room in which to store them.

This eventually produces a very difficult situation. The best thing to do about it, of course, is to take full advantage of every bit of potential storage space about the house.

And fortunately, there are several moderately new materials that can help you to do just this. One of the best materials for helping to solve this problem of where to put things is perforated hardboard.

This is a sheet of hardboard with holes drilled into it about 1 inch apart. Into these holes you insert various kinds of devices which can be used to hang things on or to hold them.

For example, if your problem is where to hang pots and pans, a sheet of this perforated hardboard attached to the back of a closet door will probably handle all of the pots and pans you use for daily cooking.

If your problem is where to store the tools you use for doing things about the house, this same material with different hanging devices will do the trick.

If garden equipment is the problem, a heavy grade of this material can be mounted in the garage or basment and will take care of just about every kind of garden tool including the lawnmower and garden hose.

Perforated hardboard is easy to cut and to install. It's sold at most lumber yards and with it you can get the various kinds of hanging devices that fit into the holes so that various articles can be hung.

Tops in toppers is the prediction for this jaunty hip-length short coat. Part of the formula for charming the mid-teen is found in the luscious creaminess of blanket fleece. The rest is the knowing way that high fashion treatments are added . . . in row on row of stitching around the collar, for a yoked effect . . . and in the rows of stitching that pattern the cuffs.

Gracefully Brush Aside Rudeness

Give Light Reply to Tactless, Personal Remarks

By EMILY POST

A reader asks: "Will you please print something in your column about those people who always greet others with some unpleasant remark, and how to cope with them?

"I mean, for example, the person who upon meeting you says, 'My how fat you are getting!' or 'How thin and drawn you look' or 'That color gives you a very sallow complexion.' I am sure you know the type I mean, Mrs. Post, and I know that your comments will be of help to many people."

Answer: It is true that such unthinking, tactless people do exist, but fortunately they are in very small minority.

The best thing to do is to take what they say lightly and answer, in the first instance, "I thought I was getting thinner," and to the second remark you might say, "I've been trying my best to lose weight," and to the third, "I thought the color so very becoming!"

Dear Mrs. Post: I work in an office and am on quite friendly terms with everyone working there. Most of the men are married but I do not know their wives.

I would like very much to invite my co-workers to my wedding, but don't know what to do about their wives. Must they be included?

Answer: If you ask the office force as a group and say that you are being married on such and such a day and that you would like all of them to come to your wedding, then the wives need not be included, unless you know them.

But if you are sending engraved invitations, then they must be addressed to Mr. and Mrs.

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the proper way to help oneself to an olive, and then what is the proper way to eat it?

Answer: Help yourself with your fingers. If it is a big olive, hold it in your fingers, eating it in three or four bites.

Doll-Making Hobby Proves Profitable

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have always thought that making dolls would be a fascinating hobby," a reader writes me, "and I wonder if you would recommend a book on it. There seem to be so many, and I have no idea how to tell the good ones from the bad."

My overhwhelming favorite is Charlotte Eldridge's "The Godey Lady Doll Book."

This is a charming how-to book, with complete directions and patterns for making and dressing the delightful dolls which are based on the mid-19th Century Godey ladies.

Mrs. Eldridge gives explicit directions for every step, and the finished dolls are captivating.

But more important, the story of how Mrs. Eldridge got interested in this hobby, and the miraculous results, will be a great inspiration to you.

In fact, any young mother at home, who wants and needs a project, could learn a good deal from Mrs. Eldridge's experience.

You see, Mrs. Eldridge was stricken with a severe illness which made it necessary for her to stay home for a while.

She refused to give in to self-pity, and before long she came across a Godey Lady Book, which was a kind of fashion magazine in the 1850s.

In order to amuse herself and her young daughter, Mrs. Eldridge started trying to make miniature Godey ladies. The story of how she went about it is hilarious, but she eventually succeeded at it.

Next came the process of making the lovely Victorian dresses.

Before she was finished, Mrs. Eldridge had a hobby that brought her fame, money and great pleasure as well.

Now she not only writes and lectures about her dolls, but is besieged by doll buyers, arranges window displays for department stores, and travels all over the country showing her dolls.

Make Sachet Placecards

Here is an idea sent in by Ann Stoddard of Milwaukee. Since I do not know much about sachets and such things, I am following Ann's letter and will let her tell you about them.

This is a fine idea for you older girls, for this seems to be something which girls like and, therefore, it will be used. Many favors do not serve a purpose, but are pretty to look at, but Ann's idea is both pretty and useful.

You will need some paper to make the cover. If you are carrying out a color scheme at a party, use paper which will go with your scheme. You can make one of these for each guest and then put their names right on the sachets to also serve as placecards.

To make your cover or envelope, measure a square, 2 inches by 2 inches. Make flaps on each side of the square, and your pattern will look like the one in the drawing.

You will need something to hold the scent of the perfume, and 1½-inch square of cardboard will do this. Use the corrugated kind, for this has thickness which will absorb the perfume and hold the odor much longer.

The most wardrobe for the least sewing! Low-cut dress has your favorite 4-gore skirt. You'll love the smooth-and-flared look of it. And that companion cardigan is the latest fashion. Pop it on over other dresses, too!

Parents' Self-Respect Should Not Be Rooted in Youngsters' Behavior

They Ought to Uphold Own Dignity

And Then Children Can Be Taught to Take Responsibility

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

The principal of a certain big city junior high school came to work this week to find these things: A flooded gymnasium; smashed laboratory equipment; a burned school banner; overturned desks; ripped couches in the teachers' lounge and paint-splashed walls.

Said the principal to the press: "Too many parents have forfeited their responsibilities."

Responsibilities to whom?

Our children? Of course, our children. Always, the children. Doesn't "responsibility to children" define the American parents' success or failure? Isn't it on our minds day and night?

Yet the children go on destroying. And on the charts, the delinquency rate creeps up and up . . .

I am tired of exhortations urging more of this "responsibility to children." What I'd like to see is someone stand up and shout across this nation, "Too many parents have forfeited responsibility to themselves."

Because the destructive and undisciplined children are made by people who feel no responsibility to themselves.

Mostly, I've seen hate and shame of what it means to them. Because the only self-respect these parents have is what the children's conduct permits them.

So they have pursued the children with their terror of this power to make or break their self-respect. They have had to either overlook or scream at the bad behavior which threatens it — or plead slavishly for the good conduct which can justify it.

We simply cannot love children who have the power to make us feel a success or a failure.

To teach Jimmy to be responsible for his conduct, we have first to find a self-respect that is independent of it. Then we are free of the bondage that makes his public tantrum or his lie our disgrace.

And out of our independent self-respect, we can deal with his conduct firmly, kindly and convincingly.

If the authorities want more responsibility for children, they better start telling us to regain control of our own integrity.

A clever buffet . . . designed to make serving easy on the hostess . . . is set with Barkwood, a modern pattern featuring a free-form design in cinnamon brown on a rich beige background. Versatile serving pieces include an 8-nich covered casserole and individual covered chicken pie servers that can be brought direct from oven to table. The divided vegetable dish holds two vegetables or relish and olives.

Some Teenagers Are Too Impatient

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

What's the big rush? Some of you sound as though you thought today's the only day that counts. There's no such thing as patience in you. It's now or never. Tomorrow just doesn't matter.

And you rebel at anybody who makes you wait. You figure you're being thwarted unjustly. What you want, you want right now. And your insistence on having it at once is because you're secretly afraid you won't want it when the interference says you can have it!

At least, I suspect this lad fears there will be no romance left in it when his girl's dad gets around to—but this is what he writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been going with her for about a year and a half. Her folks don't allow her to date, but we write back and forth and she calls me whenever she's out babysitting.

"Her mother knows we write to each other, but if her father knew—oh brother! Isn't there some way we can get him to let her date now? He says she has to wait until next year!"

And you haven't seen a calendar for 1955 yet, so you assume there isn't going to be any next year. And you can't possibly wait to find out?

Are you scared your girl will want to date somebody else when her dad lifts the ban? Are you afraid your own interest will wane unless it gets more encouragement and reward than it's getting now. Afraid your relationship is too vague and blurry to live through a wait?

Face the thing. Make up your mind whether it's worth waiting for the big moment. If so, be satisfied with things as they are now. If not, get yourself a girl who can date!

And this girl just can't wait until her boy friend grows up. But this is what she writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 12 and I've liked Tom for a month now. He seems to like me, but he's bashful around girls. I've tried in every way to get him over it.

"My girl friend talks to her boy friend at recess sometimes and Tom will put in a couple of words, maybe. Otherwise he won't talk to me unless we're alone, which isn't often. What can I do?"

Some boys just don't get a bang out of thinking of girls as girls until a little later than 12. At that age they're either completely indifferent to girls—or scared to death of them.

The indifferent ones wouldn't be caught dead talking to a girl at recess. They've too much steam-letting-off business to attend to with the other boys. The scared ones don't know what to say. Girls panic them.

Of course, both attitudes change eventually. But the boys are the ones who do their own growing up. There's not much an impatient girl can do but wait it out.

Since liking Tom is so unrewarding, maybe you'd better convince yourself that you started the game too soon!

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Famous, Successful Folks Are Timid Beneath Poise

They look so calm and sleek and sure of themselves, the successful men and women you see on stage and screen or in public places. But after 20 years of probing at them, I've decided they're just like shrinking you and me, sometimes even more so, underneath.

"Two hundred were invited to the party and 300 came, but I was so terrified there wouldn't be anybody there that the palms of my hands were wet as I greeted the first arrivals," one of the most famous actresses in the world confessed to me not long ago.

Deborah Kerr, who followed a hit Hollywood role in "From Here to Eternity" with a Broadway triumph in "Tea and Sympathy," tells me she used to be so shy that in a room full of people she would retire to a corner and wish she would die.

"My Aunt Jane who taught dramatics shook her head sadly and predicted that I was too timid to get anywhere in the theater," said Deborah.

MISS McBRIDE

Beatrice Lillie actually shook the first time I interviewed her, though as soon as we got past the first bad moments she was as funny and endearing as she was on the stage.

Danny Kaye, always hilarious, scampers away like a frightened wood creature if you ask him a question that threatens to pull aside the protective mantle of clowning he throws about himself.

Marian Rich, speech teacher who has coached many great stars, declares she is startled to realize that in each new class of aspiring actors and actresses, some of the most promising are not radiant, beautiful, virile or handsome, but shy, introverted, in some cases homely or even handicapped.

Miss Rich's theory is that the theater is an ideal atmosphere in which to live out glorious fantasies, to hide one's unloved self behind costume, makeup and other men's thoughts and words.

Shirley Booth, adored by critics and public, evidently has the same idea. "I seriously suspect that there's no such person as me," she declared. "The only time I really feel like an adequate human being is when I've been given a role and lines to say. It's like putting on a wonderful cloak that covers all your deficiencies."

Lee Graham, who has written a self-improvement book for women, offers a tip for those of us who lack a stage. "Practice imitating people who seem to you interesting and stimulating," Lee counsels. "Dress and act like the woman you want people to think you are. Put on surface poise—and you will eventually have it.

Reminds me of a story Eleanor Wilson McAdoo told me about how she overcame her agonies of embarrassment at being the center of attention when her late father was President.

"One night at dinner," said Eleanor, "I heard a man say 'That woman is a beauty but nobody knows it because she comes into the room like a mouse and people take her at her own valuation.'

"I resolved to try an experiment. I knew that I was no beauty, but if I could sail into a party with my head high, pretending to myself that I was perfectly fascinating, it could do no harm and might keep people from knowing I was dying of fright. The experiment was a success. At once I began to lose much of my self-consciousness."

Woman Farmer Much Too Busy at 66, to Retire

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Mrs. Blanche Stoker laughs off those who suggest that she retire, now that she's old enough.

Mrs. Stoker, at 66, is too busy operating her 40-acre cattle farm. She has been farming since her husband died 31 years ago, and she still gets out in the fields like any other farmer. She's been known to pick 400 pounds of cotton a day and keep up with her housework also.

Now, the farm is producing beef cattle and Mrs. Stoker runs a tractor and bales hay better than many men.

Winter is not Mrs. Stoker's favorite season. She says she got stiff last winter from lack of hard work, and it took her some time in the spring to get the stiffness worked out.

During the winter, all she has to do is feed the cattle, milk, mend fences and a few other chores.

More Warrants Issued for Pair

Cox and Minder Linked by Identification to 3 Flint Hold-ups

Three more robbery warrants have been issued against accused bank robbers, Hugh T. "Buddy" Cox and James J. Minder Jr., this time by the Flint Police Department.

Cox and Minder already are accused of holding up the Dearborn branch of the Manufacturers National Bank for $53,000 April 2 and with a $4,826 stick-up in Ann Arbor Feb. 26.

Cox, who also faces prosecution on a kidnaping charge, and Minder have been identified by victims of three Flint hold-ups, according to Flint Det. George Edwards and Lt. Loren Herfurth.

Edwards said warrants have been signed which charge Cox, 21, of 88 W. Mansfield Ave., and Minder, 24, of Dearborn, with two hold-ups March 19 and one stick-up Feb. 16, in which $4,000 in cash, narcotics and merchandise were taken.

"We've filed detainers on them (Cox and Minder) and we want them when the federal agents are through with them," Edwards said, pointing out that each hold-up conviction carries a possible life sentence.

Cox is also accused of abducting Wendell Manchester of 3300 Elizabeth Lake Rd., Waterford Twp., March 25, the same day that Cox broke away from the Oakland County Jail where he was being booked for questioning by the Flint police on the above holdups.

Two Pontiac brothers are also implicated in holdups with Cox and Minder in Ann Arbor. Charles E. Ervin, 37, of 470 Oakland Ave., and his brother, Gordon, 27, of 88 W. Mansfield Ave., have been named by Cox and Minder as accomplices in the Ann Arbor supermarket holdup last February. The brothers deny the charges against them.

Detroiter Greets Missing Brother

Couple Back Together After 20 Years Apart; Meet in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A 58-year-old Detroit housewife Sunday was reunited in New York with a brother she had not seen in 20 years.

Mrs. Erma Mann stepped from a plane into the arms of her brother, Otto Lang, of New York.

Formerly of Mainz, Germany, Mrs. Mann last saw her brother in 1934 when he fled from his home to avoid Hitler's dreaded secret police.

"Otto had no money, so he joined the crew of a steamer leaving the country," Mrs. Mann told newsmen." When we inquired about him, the Gemans told us he was missing. In 1936, they reported he had died in Panama."

Recently another brother, living in Argentina, was able to trace Otto to New York. The missing brother had lived there the past 13 years. Otto was told Mrs. Mann was living in Detroit.

"Last week we received a letter from Otto, followed by several phone calls," Mrs. Mann's husband, Willy, said. "Everyone was so happy, we all cried."

Mann said he and his wife lost all of their possessions to the German government shortly after Otto disappeared. He said they escaped to Shanghai in 1939. The escape followed a government order giving all the Jews in Mainz 24 hours to leave Germany.

Mann said they returned to Germany in 1947 and migrated to America in 1952.

"Now we have found Otto here," Mann beamed. "Ah, this is such a wonderful country."

Hermit Prefers Living in the Airy Out-of-Doors

Williams' only home is a well-patched lean-to. For a short time about five years ago he lived in a home given to him, but "there just wasn't enough air in there for me," he drawled.

Occasionally he goes to town for staple groceries which he stores in a hollow tree.

'54 Police Report Shows Crime on Upswing in Pontiac

By JOSEPH K. SFAIR

Pontiac Police officials today agreed that the city's major crime rate is increasing with a national upsurge.

This is pointed up mainly in the upswing of burglaries presently running ahead of a similar period in 1953.

Up to Saturday noon, 129 breakins had been reported to police by businessmen and residents, with April only at the half mark. Throughout the first quarter period of last year, only 95 burglaries were reported.

STRALEY

Careful not to blame the upswing on any particular cause, officials are speculating on several reasons.

Capt. Clark M. Wheaton, chief of Pontiac detectives, says the increase probably is due to a combination of manshortage in the police department and the slight dip in present economy.

"Crime increases are reported throughout the United States," said Capt. Edward H. Shigley administration head. "There is some evidence which indicates the increase is underlined by lowered social-economic conditions."

WHEATON

Capt. Shigley added that the Pontiac Police shortage problem also is similar to departments in other cities.

"This shortage of policemen may have a direct bearing on the volume of increase," he added.

Meanwhile, Police Chief Herbert W. Straley hopes that the addition of 12 recruits recently hired will serve to combat the present crime increase.

City Manager Walter K. Willman also noted that the police budget and personnel is being increased yearly to match higher crime activity.

Willman explained that Pontiac Police payroll is over a 1953 national median of $3,256, according to a survey, and added salaries here are continually going up annually. Police recently were granted a five per cent raise.

Thirty reserve policemen, organized by Straley last year, have been added to patrol crews to meet the threat of further breakins and other crimes.

Straley also has indicated that forthcoming promotions in various bureaus and reshuffling of personnel, after recruits are assigned May 7, "will be a great factor in deterring crime in Pontiac."

WILLMAN

The recent breakins, according to Capt. Wheaton, were being committed faster than his seven general assignment detectives could solve them.

"One team of detectives had 68 complaints to follow up and another detective had 95 last month. It's difficult for detectives to concentrate on solving one or more crimes with such a big load to follow," Wheaton said.

Wheaton added that men in his bureau had some 300 assignments last month, working over 100 hours overtime, collectively.

The present number of recruits will raise the department's force to 109, according to Straley, but "we hope to reach an adequate number of between 140 and 170 someday."

According to Straley Pontiac needs at least 140 policemen "to begin an adequate job of retarding crime." His estimate is based on results of a national survey which claims 1.4 policemen per 1,000 persons are needed in normal industrial communities.

The survey also states that heavy industrial cities, such as Pontiac, requires 1.7 per 1,000.

SHIGLEY

Judging from the report, Straley said, "According to these statistics, Pontiac should have 170 officers to do an adequate job.

"The department's personnel has not kept up with the increasing conditions requiring more policemen." He added that the department has never been adequately manned.

According to city manager records, Willman said the police budget has grown bigger each year since 1950 and a slight increase in personnel was noted.

This year's approved police budget is $277,613 greater than the one in 1950 and $67,474 over last year's.

Willman said that every effort is being made to put Pontiac Police Department on the same level as other departments.

Police records show that 2,739 complaints were handled by the department's 97 men last year. A total of 2,640 arrests were made, of which 81 per cent were found guilty. Major crime totals for the year were 8 homicides, 19 rapes, 40 robberies, 151 grand larcenies, 632 simple larcenies, 297 burglaries, 156 auto thefts, and 80 aggravated assaults.

Of an overall total of 1,385 actual offenses, 380 were cleared and all eight murders were solved.

Locally stolen autos were estimated at $207,747 while stolen accessories and miscellaneous articles were valued at $9,179.87 and $65,991.68, respectively.

Pontiac residents lost $27,176.51 through fraudulent deals during the year. However, police were able to recover $230,518.23 in stolen property and money. Unfounded reports were estimated at $67,380.23.

Illiterate Vietnamese See Ho Chi Minh as Patriot Who Will Banish Foreigner

Editor's Note—William L. Ryan, AP specialist on Communist affairs, has reported the cold war from the Soviet Union and many other countries on four continents. A few weeks ago he went to Indochina to see the hot war involving communism on one side and the free world on the other. He then flew to Singapore to write his findings free of censorship. This is the first of several articles he will write this week on the eve of the Geneva Conference.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

SINGAPORE (AP)—In North Indochina today you find it difficult to shake off the feeling you are standing by and watching a nation slowly die.

Veit Nam can be saved, you are told. But all the solutions involve time—and time is running out in Indochina.

In Tonkin in the north and Cochin China in the south, I attempted to sift all shades of opinion — French, Vietnamese and American, optimistic and pessimistic, the wishfully thinking and the bluntly realistic. I could only conclude: Unless the West holds fast at the Geneva Conference, opening next Monday, Indochina eventually will become another Communist-dominated people's democracy.

* * *

These questions are uppermost in many minds in Saigon and Hanoi:

Is Viet Nam to be another Korea? Can it be saved short of powerful military intervention? Is it in fact the sputtering fuse of World War III?

There are some encouraging signs on the horizon, but they are too few to warrant any pleasant optimism. There is a long hard road ahead for the French and the Vietnamese if the country is to survive. If it does not, the best American military opinion is the West can write off most of Southeast Asia in the vast political and economic war.

Why are the French and Vietnamese, with so much superiority in equipment, such vastly greater firepower and such an economic advantage in Indochina still largely on the defensive after 7½ years of dreary jungle war?

For one thing, Ho Chi Minh and the other Communists who lead the Vietminh rebellion are fighting the war on three fronts — military, political and psychological. On the other side, the French and Vietnamese up to now have been waging only a military war, with little attention to the other fronts.

Ho directs powerful propaganda to areas not yet within his grasp. There has been little to counter it. Ho's iron discipline, his rigid control and his total mobilization in areas he controls are met by the other side with half measures.

Even the French — those who speak frankly — admit Ho has a strong grip on the imaginations of a large number of illiterate, landless peasants an deven an intellectuals outside the areas he controls. The Vietnamese masses know nothing about the global war between democracy and communism. To many of them, Ho is a nationalist, a patriot who is going to drive out the foreigner and who is going to give them land.

In free Viet Nam there is no cohesive force, no bandwagon, no ideal, no leader who can capture the imagination of a whole people. Nor has there been any adequate counter-propaganda to Ho's promises.

To say Chief of State Bao Dai is a respected leader is to deal in delusion. From all I could gather in Indochina, the most popular thing Bao Dai ever did was abdicate the throne of Annam in late 1945 and join Ho's Cabinet as an adviser.

The French insist the Vietminh already have reached the peak of their effort, that the rebel forces can improve in quality with Chinese advice and supplies but not in quantity. Yet the same French admit that Ho's forces even now remain at full strength, despite his steady and heavy losses.

The French say they hope by 1955 to develop a Vietnamese army which can take over national defense. There is even some French hope that by next fall the Vietnamese can take over large areas in the Red River Delta of Tonkin and elsewhere, permitting the French to launch an all-out offensive against Ho. The prospects, however, seem dim.

In the opinion of experienced American military observers, the Vietnamese army will not be ready. They say it will be three years — maybe five — before the Viet Nam army as an effective fighting force can shoulder responsibility for the defense of its own nation.

On the credit side of the ledger, the French still control the key delta areas—the pie-shaped wedge on the north with Hanoi as its focal point and most of Cochin China in the south. In the northern delta area some seven million people are nominally under Vietminh control in Tonkin. In all Viet Nam, the French contniue to control areas sheltering more than half the population. And the areas which the French control are rich producing ones which feed the land and used to feed much of Asia.

On the debit side, the Vietminh are strong inside the French-held Tonkin delta, ready to strike when and if the signal is given. The Vietminh also retain the initiative, choosing the time and place of battle. The rebels have forces scattered all through the French-controlled areas, posing a constant danger to French control.

* * *

But this war is being fought just as much in Paris as in Viet Nam, just as much in the French National Assembly as on the jungle battlefield. Soviet propaganda guns are aimed at metropolitan France, playing on its irritation with the costly conflict in Southeast Asia. And in the long run, they say in Saigon, Paris will decide whether the Indochina war is won or lost.

Needs Donors for April 27

Bloodmobile Will Be at First Presbyterian Church From 9 to 3

Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross needs 250 men and women to give blood when the Red Cross "Bloodmobile" visits Pontiac Tuesday, April 27.

The mobile unit will stop at the First Presbyterian Church, West Huron and Wayne streets, from 9 a. m. until 3 p. m.

"We've scheduled this visit downtown, so people who work in offices and stores can give blood conveniently," Mrs. N. E. Duorcher, Red Cross blood donor recruitment chairman for Pontiac, said today.

"We hope they'll take advantage of it—along with members of organized blood banks, who can build up their banks' credit by giving blood this month."

The Red Cross offices, FEderal 4-3575, are taking appointments for next Tuesday's visit from 8:30 until 5 p. m. this week.

Nasser in Again, Naguib Out Again in Egypt's Mixup

By ROBERT HEWETT

CAIRO Egypt (AP) — Lt. Col. Gamal Abdel Nasser once more was Egypt's boss today, in title as well as in fact, and Maj. Gen. Mohamed Naguib was relegated to a figurehead presidency.

In the latest shift in the turbulent Egyptian political picture, the young army officers of the ruling Revolution Council early yesterday switched the premiership and military governorship from Naguib to Nasser.

The 53-year-old Naguib, who recently lost out in his fight to reestablish parliamentary rule in Egypt, swore in a new Cabinet. The first formal session, lasting less than an hour, was held last night under Nasser. He reportedly outlined general policy. Naguib did not attend.

A decree by Naguib also relinquished to Nasser the military governorship set up by the martial law clamped on Egypt after the 1952 Cairo fire riots.

Man Cadges Ride Then Robs Driver

Harold Patterson of 14 N. Cass Ave., told Oakland County sheriff's deputies Sunday morning that he was robbed on Squirrel road in Bloomfield Township by a man he met in a bar.

Earlier, Patterson said, he met a man in a bar at 913 Baldwin Ave. and the man asked Patterson to take him out to Squirrel road. When they arrived there, deputies were told, the bandit asked Patterson how much money he had.

"When I told him $25 he told me to give the money to him or he'd shoot me. I didn't see a gun," deputies quoted Patterson as saying. The holdup victim was unable to give a discription of the bandit.

Judo Training Booms

LONDON (INS) — Mounting crimes of violence and sex offenses have brought unprecedented popularity to the Japanese art of judo throughout Britain. Schoolgirls, housewives and even tough prison wardens and policemen are flocking to courses in the "Way of Gentleness" to learn how to handle thugs scientifically.

Week of April 26 to 30

Cancer Society Invites Guests

The North Oakland area of the American Cancer Society is throwing open its doors to the public for the final week of the 1954 Cancer Crusade.

The new office at 66 W. Lawrence in Pontiac will be the scene of the Crusade Open House, April 26—from 3:00-5:30, 7:30-9:30 p. m.

Francis F. Miller of Pontiac, 1954 Cancer Crusade chairman, stated today that 10 major civic groups from North Oakland County will act as hosts.

"Our motto is "Strike Back at Cancer," he said. "The keen interest that has been shown in the work of the ACS clearly indicates that our county citizens recognize individual and group responsibility in the fight to end cancer."

Miller stated that Monday's hostess group, serving in the afternoon, will be the Pontiac City Federation of Women's Clubs. The evening hosts will be members of the Oakland County Medical Society. Honor guests for the day will be city officials and department representatives from all communities in northern Oakland County.

Tuesday afternoon representatives of four women's religious organizations will act as hostesses: United Church Women, League of Catholic Women, and the sisterhoods of Temple Beth Jacob and Congregation B'nai Israel. Hosts for the evening will be honorary cancer Crusaders. Oakland County officials and department representatives will be the day's special guests.

Social agency staff and volunteer representatives will be honored on Wednesday when the New Citizens League will be hostesses and the representatives from the CIO Council, the AFL and one of the railroad Brotherhoods will be hosts.

Thursday's hostess group will be members of the Women's Auxiliary of the Oakland County Medical Society, while religious leaders will act as hosts. Honored that day will be representatives of North Oakland newspapers and station WCAR.

Friday hospital administrators, department heads and board representatives will be guests, while the hostess group will be the Oakland County PTA Council and hosts will represent business and industry.

Two educational films on cancer will be presented each evening. "The Warning Shadow," newest of the American Cancer Society's movies designed to fight lung cancer through promotion of regular chest X-rays, will be projected at 8 p. m. each evening.

"Man Alive," an animated color cartoon depicting the need for regular physical examinations by a reputable physician, will be shown at 8:30 p. m.

"We have been overwhelmed by the generosity of organizations and businesses," Miller said. "Everything needed to make our open house a success has been furnished at cost, loaned or donated. The only cost to the Cancer Society has been sending out invitations, and ACS volunteers have addressed the envelopes, while Camp Fire girls have stamped and stuffed them."

Members of the Future Nurses Club of Pontiac High School will distribute tags and stickers to each guest throughout the week, reminding them of the seven danger signals, and will act as junior hostesses for the open house.

Miller listed the following organizations as having in some way contributed to the success of the 1954 crusade: CIO Local 594, Davidson's Caterers, Pontiac Motor Division, Detroit Creamery, Fox Dry Cleaners, Harold Paper Co., W. N. McCandless, Inc., Oakland County Industrial Union Council, CIO, Oliver Supply Co., Pontiac Letter Shop, Pontiac Motor Division of GMC, Pearce Floral Co., Tasty Bakery, Thomas Pastry, Simms Bros., Inc.

Are You Pinpoint Honest? How About Parking Time?

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
(International News Service)

A picturesque pickpocket crime has just been reported—the "lifting" of an operation and surgical care from a large national organization for hospital insurance.

It cuts met to the quick to tell you a woman pulled off this bit of sharp practice, a confirmed pickpocket, aged 31, recently arrested in St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York by detectives Margaret Kearney and May Shanley of the pickpocket and confidence squad.

Questioning at headquarters revealed the offender had just been at a well-known hospital for 21 days, recovering nicely from an operation for cysts—which operation she had obtained by using a "lifted" Blue Cross hospitalization card.

The therapeutic card had been acquired well in advance by picking a woman's pocket of a wallet, and the patient will now undergo the full treatment that the local courts will prescribe.

This bizarre story set me thinking of how many strange little things are done every day by more honorable members of the citizenry—things none of us would call "crimes," yet which do have a minor amount of skullduggery tied up to them.

If the coinbox in a public phone booth disgorged a few dimes and quarters by mistake, would you put them all back into the slots—or happily pocket them and brag to your friends of your luck?

If the conductor on your morning train forgot to punch a hole in your commutation ticket, would you run after him and make him do it?

When you park at a vacated parking meter and see there's half an hour to go before the red flag shows up, do you drop your pennies or nickel in anyway, or simply hitch-hike on that prepaid parking?

The most law-abiding and straitlaced among us usually feel it's perfectly okay to get away with such "crimes" when any great big impersonal think like a phone company, a railroad or city hall is involved.

Naturally we'd never permit a salesgirl to give us a dollar too much in change, because she'd have to make it good out of her own money when she toted up her saleschecks at the end of the day.

Nor would most of us let a taxi-driver make a money mistake in our favor, nor our grocer give us 10 pounds of potatoes and charge us only for five.

"It's different," we all feel, "when an individual you see face to face is involved."

But how many otherwise upstanding mothers and fathers have looked a moxie box-office teller right in the eye and said, "He's only 11," because the price goes up for twelves?

How many have done the same thing at airplane and steamship counters?

Right now I'll publicly confess that a weekly magazine with several million circulation keeps mailing me a copy week after week though my subscription expired three months ago — and that I wouldn't dream of mailing back my mistaken copy each time.

What's more, if they don't wake up soon, I'll sure raise hob with their complaint department for needling my conscience one whole day out of every seven.

The great Nile river of Africa has nine mouths.

Corny Yarn Is True, Old Gal Ain't So Bad

By BILLY ROSE

The other night a fellow told me a heart-warming story about an old lady. When he had finished, I opined that the yarn was too corny to be true.

"On the contrary," he said, "it's too true to be corny. . . ."

As the man told it, several months ago an old lady, whose husband had died a couple of weeks before, came east from St. Paul and went to live with her daughter in New Rochelle.

BILLY ROSE

Her daughter, Betty, had a 13-room house, and her mother was certain, with all that room, she wouldn't be a bother to anyone.

Well, as often happens, it didn't work out that way. Betty's husband was a middle wheel in the advertising business who hankered to be a big wheel, and one of his major strategies was to give fancy parties for people who might do him some good.

And no sooner had the old lady arrived than he took his wife aside and said he didn't know how he was going to do all this important entertaining with an 80-year-old female on the premises, a woman who had about as much bounce as Whistler's mother.

A few weeks later, the advertising man made a more specific complaint. His principal account, he said, was a soap company, and it was important for him to get on a social footing with its president, Mr. R. J. Rutherford.

Rutherford, he pointed out, had attended several of his parties, but of late he had been sending polite excuses.

"I'll bet I know why R. J. stopped coming," he told Betty. "He's a sophisticated fellow and used to mixing with sophisticated people.

"Chances are he's heard your mother is living with us now, and he doesn't care to rub elbows with a dame who was learning how to waltz when Cleveland was President."

Betty's mother happened to be in the hall and heard these remarks. In no time at all, she had her bag packed, and announced she was going to New York to stay at a hotel. The red-faced ad man drove the old lady to the station and put her on a train.

A few minutes later, as she was watching the manicured Westchester countryside roll by, a tall, gray-haired man asked if the seat next to her was occupied.

The old lady said no, certainly not, and the man thanked her and sat down. He read his paper for a while, then put it down on his lap and sighed.

"Fission, bombs, bombs, fission," he said. "That's all you read these days."

"In my time," said the old lady, "fission was something a kid did down by the swimming hole, and what he brought home, everybody ate for breakfast."

The gray-haired man looked startled. Then he chuckled and started chatting. He explained he was on his way to New York to have dinner with his daughter who was getting married next month. "She's picked herself a fellow in a law office who's making 75 a week," he said. "Seems like she's determined to prove that two can live as cheaply as one."

"It may not be cheaper," said the old lady, "but sure as sassafras, it's a darn sight warmer."

The gray-haired man looked startled again. Then he complimented the old woman on her sense of humor and asked how old she was. When she said, "Going on 81," he suddenly became all business.

"It so happens," he said, "that I'm interested in a television show — one of those panel programs where the experts are 80 or over. You might be a big hit on it. Would you like to try?"

The old lady said she's try anything once. . . .

A week later, the perky old gal made her TV debut and walked away with the show. A month later, she was a permanent fixture on the program.

As of this writing, she is living in one of the better midtown hotels and having the time of her old life. Betty and her husband have tried a dozen times to get her to move back to New Rochelle, but their celebrated relative claims the crickets would keep her awake nights.

Last Saturday evening, according to my informant, Betty's husband threw a swank party in her honor, and the old girl arrived on the arm of a distinguished looking escort—the tall, gray-haired gent who had recruited her for the TV show his soap company sponsored.

His name was—what else?—R. J. Rutherford.

Allocation Unit Gets 3 New Men

Group Meets Monday to Determine Tax Rates in County

Three new members have been named to the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board. The board will hold its first session this year Monday at 1 p.m. in the county clerk's office.

They intend to elect a chairman and start setting tax rates for the county, townships and school districts.

Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore has named James S. Thorburn, of Royal Oak; Howard Warner, of Farmington, and Harcourt S. Patterson, of Pontiac, to the board.

Other members are Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the County Board of Auditors; Charles A. Sparks, county treasurer, and William J. Emerson, superintendent of county schools, automatic members because of their positions.

The county tax board's task is to split the 15 mills of taxes allowed here between the county, school districts and townships. The three taxes must not total more than 15 mills ($15 on every $1,000 worth of property as valued by the county) in any area unless the people of that area have voted an increase.

The county government, school districts and any townships which want to spread general taxes not voted by the public must deliver their budgets to the tax board by 1 p.m. Monday.

Lebanon Hopes to Shift From Goats to Cattle

BEIRUT (UP) — Goat control is the aim of a new bill being drawn up by Lebanon's Ministry of Agriculture.

To promote a forestation program on the nearly-bare Lebanon Mountains, Minister of Agriculture Kazem El Khalil has proposed a law curtailing the goats. He calls them the greatest enemies of its forests.

Proposed is a slow transfer from goats, first, to the less-destructive sheep, and finally from sheep to cattle.

Illinois University Uses 'Automation'

URBANA-CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP)—The school routine of 13,797 University of Illinois students and instructors is geared to an automatic time system.

Perforated tapes used in the mechanism of six program clocks in the Engineering Research Laboratory control the ringing of bells in 50 buildings. A network of 1,000 miles of underground cables is used to synchronize the system in each classroom. The bells ring at the start and end of each 50 minute class period.

The bells don't ring on Saturday afternoon, Sundays and holidays because calendar wheels on the master clocks shut them off.

Try Abacus Method to Teach Arithmetic

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Seven schools in Milwaukee County are trying an experiment in teaching mathematics with the aid of the ancient abacus.

All students in the first, second and third grades are given small abacuses. Their teachers use the devices in teaching arithmetic.

At the end of the school year, tests will be given the students to determine if they were able to learn arithmetic better or faster than children in other schools who were taught by modern methods.

The abacus is still used in Asia for computing by means of rows of buttons which represent the various multiples of one, ten, 100 and 1,000.

Dr. Andrew F. Schott, on leave of absence from Milwaukee State College, developed the small abacuses used in the experiment.

Man Trying to Collect for Damage by Buffalo

LAWTON, Okla. (UP) — Can a man collect insurance on a car that has been rammd by a buffalo?

Williams was driving to the refuge headquarters and slowed down to pass a herd of buffalo. A playful yearling suddenly dashed across a pasture, lowered his head and bulled into the car.

Snead Waited for Victory to Publish New Golf Book

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Samuel Jackson Snead has long been known in professional golfing circles as a man who has tremendous respect for a dollar, and there are many of his friends who would have tried to get down a fat bet on the noted hillbilly in the just-completed Masters Tournament if they had only been tipped off as to what Sammy had on his mind.

* * *

As it was, only Sam and his publishers knew that great stacks of "Natural Golf," the Slammer's personal gift to golfing literature, had been run off the presses and were only awaiting Sam's one-stroke playoff victory over Ben Hogan before being rushed into the mails. This is a paper back, or "popular" edition, and is expected to carry the secrets of Snead's skills to millions, at least.

The only weakness we can find in Sam's sales talks is that he admits—nay, boasts—that he never took a golfing lesson in his life. One is free to infer too that he was always too busy hitting golf balls to have read anything on the subject. However, by the time the reader finds this out he's already spent his quarter.

The latest thing in amateur tennis tournaments is to be unfurled here next Monday night when Tony Trabert, the national champion, plays the nation's No. 2 star, Vic Seixas, in the opening match of a round robin series at the swank new Town Tennis Club in midtown Manhattan.

On the following Monday night, Art Larsen, No. 3 in the national ranking, is schedule' to meet Gardnar Mulloy, the No. 4. Both Seixas and Mulloy canceled overseas appearances to play in the series, which will be sponsored by the USLTA and is an opening effort by the ruling body to stir up renewed interest in the amateur game.

Jimmy Peters Rated Favorite in Boston Race

34-Year-Old London Optician Holds Mark for Course

By BUD WEEKS

BOSTON, (AP) — Britain's Jimmy Peters was the favorite today as a strong international field of 176 road racers lined up for the 58th running of the famed Boston AA Marathon from suburban Hopkinton to Boston's Back Bay.

* * *

The 34-year-old optician from London was the favorite off his brilliant record—including a 2 hours 18 minutes and 34.5 seconds time which stands as the unofficial world record for the 26 miles, 385 yards route.

* * *

Some 500,000 persons are expected to see the race. The weather forecast was favorable—cool and overcast.

Peters has won seven of his marathon starts and twice has bettered the BAA record of 2:18:51 set in 1953 by Japan's Keizo Yamada.

The Briton likes the hilly course. He calls it "a good one—very much like the Windsor Castle to Chiswick course back home. What impresses me is the under-footing. The roads are terrific to run on."

Foreign stars have dominated this event since 1945—when John A. Kelley of the United States led the pack. The last English-speaking winner was Canada's Gerry Cote in 1948.

* * *

This year the hopes of the United States lie with another Kelley—23-year-old Boston University senior John A. of New London, Conn. He was fifth a year ago, the first American to finish.

* * *

That was his first try at the marathon distance and this year his preparations have been much more intensive. He spend away from his rivals in tests at 18, 12 and 10 miles in recent weeks.

Air Force Hit for Ambulance Aid to Colts

WASHINGTON, April 19 (AP)—The Air Force today drew a sharp rebuke from a House Armed Services subcommittee for providing ambulance service last fall for the Baltimore Colts football team.

The group, headed by Rep Hess (R-Ohio) said the Air Force "was just playing 'Johnny Goodfellow' at the expense of military personnel and taxpayers' property supposed to be performing military duty."

The ambulance, carrying injured members of the team from Friendship Airport to a hospital here, became involved in an accident in which a Korean War veteran was killed.

'M' Football Drills Start

Oosterbaan Must Find Replacements for 14 Graduated Seniors

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Faced with the task of rebuilding the line and filling two backfield posts, University of Michigan was scheduled to start spring football practice today.

Permitted to have 20 drills in a 30-day period under NCAA rules, coach Bennie Oosterbaan will be seeking in that time to get some idea who will take the place of 14 graduating lettermen.

Oosterbaan has lost the entire line which started the final game of the season last fall against Ohio State. Also lost through graduation are fullback Dick Balzhiser and halfback Ted Kress.

Only two returning players who started against Ohio State are quarterback Lou Baldacci and halfback Tony Branoff. Branoff is with the Wolverines baseball team and will miss spring drills.

Oosterbaan enters the spring practice with two new assistants —Bob Holloway and Don Dufek, former Michigan stars.

SWINGS WHERE THEY PITCH 'EM—Jim Greengrass, Cincinnati Redleg outfielder, is the hottest hitter in the major leagues this budding season. In five games he has 12 runs batted in and an average of .611. Sunday, he led the Cincinnatians to a twin victory over Milwaukee. "They're pitching 'em where I'm swinging," he said.

Grady Hatton Waived Out of NL to Chisox

DETROIT (AP) — The Chicago White Sox have reached into the National League for Cincinnati's Grady Hatton in their continuing efforts to bolster a weak third-base situation.

* * *

General Manager Frank Lane obtained the Redlegs infielder yesterday, in return for Johnny Lipon, another veteran infielder, and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Hatton was expected to join the club today in Detroit where the Sox are playing the Tigers.

Hatton was waived out of the National League to permit his transfer to the Sox.

* * *

Manager Paul Richards said the Sox expect to use Hatton for "general utility" work and pinch hitting. However, there is no doubt that the 31-year-old ex-Redleg can have the third base position if he is up to it. The Sox have tried eight men at the position this spring.

Minnie Minoso, normally an outfielder, has been assigned the position for the early games but, although he does a good job, would rather play outfield. In addition, Richards is said to fear that Minoso's hitting will fall off if he continues at third.

* * *

Lane earlier obtained Cass Michaels from Philadelphia in the hope that he could handle the hot spot. However, Michaels, who once played second base for the Sox as well as the A's, has been a disappointment.

Richards also tried Nelson Fox, the Sox' regular second baseman, and outfielder Willard Marshall at third. In spring training, minor leaguers Bob Winkles and Jim Baumer also were given a shot at it, as were reserve outfielders Fred Marsh and Lipon.

* * *

In Hatton, the Sox are getting a once brilliant performer who slipped to an in-and-outer in the Redleg lineup last season.

Hatton came up to the Reds from the University of Texas as a $25,000 Bonus Baby in 1946 and played regularly until last season, when he appeared in about half of Cincinnati's games, hitting three pinch-hit homers and four other roundtrippers, compiling a .233 batting average.

His best year at bat was 1947 when he hit .281 and drove in 77 runs.

Mrs. Slaughter Thanks Public for Tributes

ST. LOUIS, April 19 (AP)—The St. Louis Post-Dispatch today published the following note in its "Letters from the people" column:

* * *

"I know that if my husband had the time he would thank you personally for the fine tributes you have made to him, now and through the years. And so, I would like to say for him, "Thank you for the letters you have printed from his loyal fans. I'm sure he will be as happy to read them as I was. (Signed) Mrs. Enos Slaughter"

* * *

Several indignant letters from baseball fans, opposing the trade that sent the veteran St. Louis Cardinal outfielder to the New York Yankees last Sunday, have appeared in the column this week.

Mayer, Nagy to Roll in ABC This Week

SEATTLE (AP) — The Easter lull behind, the 51st American Bowling Congress resumes its normal schedules this week with some of the nation's top keglers shooting at marks posted by early leaders.

Ora Mayer of Oakland, Calif., 1953 all-events winner, and Steve Nagy, the 1952 doubles and all-events champion, are among the headliners who will take the alleys this week.

Bowling for the G. I. Machine Co. of Akron, Ohio, Nagy will try Friday night for his 3rd straight 1900 or better all-events mark in an ABC tournament. Mayer, member of the Capri Salami team of Oakland, will roll Tuesday night.

Ushers, Police Battle 3 Unruly Cubs' Fans

CHICAGO, April 19 (AP)—A score of ushers and policemen fought with three fans in a free-for-all on the playing field at the Chicago Cubs-St. Louis Cardinals doubleheader here Sunday. The brawl delayed play some five minutes.

One fan, apparently attempting to get into the range of the television cameras, walked onto the field from a box seat section gate in Wrigley Field.

When a single usher attempted to block his path, a fight broke out between the two. Two more fans charged over the top of the Cardinal dugout to join the fight.

It took five minutes for police and more ushers to clear the field.

Detroit Club Faces Chicago Today at Home

Tigers Now Have Won 4 of 5 Starts; Orioles Are Dumped 8-3, Sunday

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Tigers came home today, at the top of the American League for the 1st time in almost two years. But they were of a cautious frame of mind.

They arrived to play a team that had been labelled as 1st division material, but which at present was in the league cellar — the Chicago White Sox.

Tigers widened their lead to 1½ games with a powerful 8-3 decision over the Baltimore Orioles yesterday. Actually it was the Orioles or the old St. Louis Browns, who were the biggest reason for the altitude of the Tigers flight.

Tigers, who have won four and lost one in their 1st five starts, have beaten the Orioles three times, lost to them once. Their only other win was over Cleveland, 3-2.

Yesterday's margin of victory—five runs — was the most the Tigers have built so far this season. They won the 1st game 3-0, lost the 2nd to the Orioles 3-2. Then they beat Cleveland and traveled to Baltimore to beat the Orioles again 1-0 and yesterday 8-3.

Tigers also cautiously noted that the last time they led the league was in 1952, near the start of the season. That was the year they finished in the league cellar — the only time.

But the Tigers were impressive in their 1st five games of this year, precedent notwithstanding.

Their attack of 15 hits yesterday was paced by Walt Dropo and Harvey Kuenn. They drove in three runs with a double and two singles apiece.

Steve Gromek was Detroit's winning pitcher although he gave up nine hits. It was his 2nd win this season, both coming over Baltimore. Both were by three run margins.

He pitched a well-controlled game though never walking a man. He hit Bobby Young in the seventh, but otherwise was pretty much on top all the way.

Don Larsen, young Baltimore righthander, gave up four runs and seven hits in the six innings he pitched and got the loss. It was his 2nd this season at the hands of the Tigers.

Tigers went ahead 2-1 in the 4th inning and were never behind again. But Larsen's pitching was still tight. It was when Lou Kretlow relieved him that the Tigers went wild.

The Detroit squad jumped on Kretlow, an ex-Tiger, for four hits and four runs. Then they greeted another ex-Tiger hurler, Marlin Stuart, with another hit that brought in a run.

Tigers got their eighth and last run on a single by Jim Delsing and a double by Dropo in the 8th inning.

In today's game Tigers will put up Billy Hoeft against the White Sox. It will be the 1st start of the season for Hoeft. White Sox expect to use Virgil Trucks, and ex-Tiger, who lost his only start this season.

Greengrass Now Hitting at .611 Clip

Redleg Left-Fielder Ruining NL Pitchers in 1st Week

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The hottest hitter in the major leagues has a simple answer to why he's off to a running start this spring.

* * *

"They're just pitching 'em where I'm swinging," says Jim Greengrass, slugging Cincinnati outfielder who carried a .611 batting average—but didn't know it—after yesterday's double header with the Milwaukee Braves.

* * *

The 26-year-old Redleg left-fielder, who was taken out of the second game after hurting his back on a slide into second base, is ruining National League pitchers with the season less than a week old. He's trapped 11 hits for 23 total bases in 18 official trips to the plate and, in the process, driven in 12 runs. His production includes two home runs, six doubles and three singles.

* * *

Greengrass tied a major league record in the opener at Cincinnati last Tuesday—also against Braves pitching—with four doubles. He hit another two bagger and a home run with the bases loaded at Chicago Thursday.

* * *

"Is it that high?" he asked. "I hadn't figured it out."

Babe Is Runnerup in Own Tourney; Win 5th for Louise in '54

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Sweet-swinging Louise Suggs of Atlanta held her fifth championship today as the ladies PGA winter tour came to a close and the gals of the fairways scattered for their homes—all except Babe Zaharias, who has a date with her doctors for a check.

Little Miss Suggs wrapped up the Babe Zaharias $3,500 Open yesterday with a par 73 over the 6,219-yard Beaumont Country Club course that gave her 224 for the 54 holes and brought her $700.

She has won the Sea Island Open, Betsy Rawls Open, Carrollton Open and Zaharias Open to become the top feminine linkster of the year.

The Babe finished second with 74.

Mrs. Zaharias, who made a gallant bid for the tournament named for her here in her old home town, said the checkup with her doctors was "routine."

Marriage Won't Keep Santee From Relays

By SKIPPER PATRICK

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Wes Santee isn't going to let a little old thing like matrimony disrupt his plans for a good time in the Drake Relays at Des Moines this weekend.

* * *

Santee, University of Kansas senior who married his schoolmate sweetheart, Miss Danna Lou Denning, yesterday, said he would be working out with his KU teammates this afternoon.

Santee, who holds the American mile record of 4:02.4, ran the second fastest mile by an American, 4:03.1, in the Kansas Relays Saturday.

The choppy strider from Ashland, Kan., came back two hours later to run a mile anchor in 4:12 in the university distance medley. He took the baton 100 yards back of the leader and Kansas won by at least 40 yards in 10:26.4.

Santee will devote his efforts in the Drake Meet to relay events.

Santee said he lacked the "urge" to run the four-minute mile Saturday. He didnt get interested, he said, until he heard the screaming of the fans on the second half. He was clocked unofficially in 59.5 seconds, 61.07, 63.03 and 58.6.

* * *

Santee will have at least eight more shots at the four-minute mile as an undergraduate.

Santee now has run the mile 21 times under 4-minutes, 10-seconds.

Klein Turns Job Over to Bill Vandewater for 1954 Race

By DALE BURGESS

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Seth Klein, who has waved the checkered flag at every Indianapolis 500-mile auto race winner since 1923, today turned over the head starter's job to W. H. (Bill) Vandewater of Chicago.

The retund Klein first gave the winner's flag to Tommy Milton of Detroit, who won the 1923 race at an average of 92 miles an hour. He waved it the last time last May 30 at Bill Vukovich of Fresno, Calif., who averaged 128.74.

Harry McQuinn of Indianapolis and Harlan Fengler of Dayton, O. again will be chief steward and referee, respectively. Both are former race drivers. Howard S. Wilcox of Indianapolis, son of 1919 winner "Howdy" Wilcox, was appointed a steward.

William S. Powell, Mooresville, Ind., was renamed head of the technical committee. His vice chairman will be Harry Hartz, Indianapolis; V. G. Raviolo, Detroit; E. W. Pummill, Indianapolis; S. L. Reed, Detroit, and S. A. Silbermann, Indianapolis.

Other officials include Tommy Milton, the 1921 and 1923 winner.

Determine En Route to Derby After Win

SAN MATEO, Calif. (AP)—Determine, money-winningest horse in America this year, is enroute to Louisville by plane today to compete in the greatest of all races for 3-year-olds, the Kentucky Derby.

Kentucky-bred Determine, owned by Andrew J. Crevolin of Alhambra, Calif., proved his fitness Saturday by winning the Bay Meadows Derby in a gallop, eased up at the 1-8th pole, in near track record time of 1:49 1-5.

Writer Recalls Terrible Golfing Luck of Veteran Pro Chandler Harper in Various Tournaments

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—The chances are that Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., is looking in the direction of the coming $35,000 Las Vegas golf tournament with a dire, morbid touch.

* * *

It might be said here that the veteran Harper has suffered more from the slings, stings and barbed arrows of outrageous fortune than any golfer I ever knew.

* * *

I recall Harper in one U. S. Open needed only a four-foot putt to turn in the lowest qualifying score ever offered in an Open, up to that date. But his fine approach settled in a hole on the green and he blew the opportunity.

* * *

Then the Las Vegas Tournament of Champions arrived last April. Harper was ahead coming down the stretch with a few holes to play. Then he knocked his ball in the lake at the fifteenth. This cost him two shots. He was still ahead when Al Besselink came along.

Now as it turned out Besselink had to sink putts of 12 feet, eight feet and ten feet to win by one stroke. He made a 12-footer on the sixteenth and an eight-footer on the seventeenth for birdies. He was now one stroke ahead. He overshot the green on the eighteenth but came back and holed a ten- or 12-footer—his third in a row.

That was an almost certain $10,000 win that Chandler Harper blew. Or rather fate did it to him.

Now we'll switch the scene to the May's "World Championship" at Chicago last summer. Harper was among the first to finish this $35,000 event where first prize was $25,000.

* * *

Harper looked safe enough with his score already posted. A par for LowWorsham would give Harper the victory by one stroke. A birdie by Worsham would mean a tie. Worsham needed an eagle two and this was tough to get on a 380-yard hole.

* * *

Worsham had a good drive, around 240 or 250 yards. This left him an approach of some 130 yards to the pin. He played a wedge and millions of TV fans saw the ball hit around the front edge of the green, then start rolling until it reached the cup—where it disappeared.

Harper was at the green's edge looking on. This was a $25,000 hole that he had practically won—until a miracle shot happened.

Derby Picks Correlation, Fisherman, May Clash in Wood Memorial Saturday

By ORLO ROBERTSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The top preview of the 80th Kentucky Derby shapes up for Saturday with two of the favored horses in the future book expected to headline the $100,000 added Wood Memorial at Jamaica.

* * *

The Derby is May 1, a week from the Wood Memorial.

Robert S. Lytle's Correlation, 2 to 1 choice for the Derby, definitely will have his final prep in the mile and one-eighth test. He'll then head for Churchill Downs.

And if Trainer Syl Veitch has his way, C. V. Whitney's Fisherman 5 to 2 co-second choice with A. J. Crevolin's California-owned Determine, also will accept the issue. A definite decision was expected today after Veitch talks with Whitney.

Correlation, winner of the Florida Derby, and Fisherman were down to meet in last Saturday's Gotham at Jamaica. Correlation was scratched after Trainer Noble Threewitt decided it would be asking too much of the lanky son of Free America to compete in three tough races on successive Saturdays.

* * *

Fisherman, however, took advantage of the mile and one-sixteenth Gotham to improve his Derby standing although Jamaica's racing strip Saturday was muddy. The son of Phalanx came from off the pace, took the lead a quarter-mile from the finish and won by four lengths in 1:46 1-5, just two seconds slower than Native Dancer chalked up in winning one division of the stake a year ago.

* * *

Veitch originally planned to send Fisherman after either the Gotham or Wood but not both. He figured it would be too much for the colt, who is built on the slight side.

Errard King, Derby hope of Boston bakerman Joe Gavegnano and conqueror of Fisherman in the six furlongs of the Experimental, also was withdrawn from the Gotham. Since he is not eligible for the Wood he is slated to head for Derbytown early this week.

* * *

The Yanks and Dodgers, struggling at .500, definitely do not look like runaway pennant winners off their form for the first week of the new season.

* * *

Lefthanders baffle the Yanks and a sideburned gentleman by the name of Sal Maglie has cast his old spell over the Brooklyns.

* * *

Cincinnati and Detroit, generally picked to bounce around the second divison, and the Philadelphia Phillies are right up there at the head of the class if you pay attention to the standings at this date.

The case of Cincinnati might bear watching. There is a strong suspicion that the Reds were sold short in the pre-season rundown. Philadelphia, too, has reversed its sorry Florida showing on the strong pitching of Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons and Murry Dickson.

Roberts and Simmons teamed up on the Pirates, 6-0 and 7-1. After Roberts bounced back from his opening day defeat to blank Pittsburgh with four hits for the Phils' third straight shutout, Simmons stretched the string to 32 innings before he yielded a run in the sixth. Earl Torgeson's homer with two on gave Roberts all he needed and Del Ennis hit two home runs behind Simmons.

* * *

Maglie's old charm worked at Ebbets Field where he is unbeaten in nine starts over his career. He went the route for the first time since last July 16 for New York's 6-3 triumph over the Dodgers.

It was Maglie's second success against the Dodgers in the new season. He needed help opening day but lasted the full nine in Brooklyn where he again decisioned Carl Erskine.

Willie Mays also homered for New York and Duke Snider and Gil Hodges for the Dodgers.

A three-run pinch homer by Tom Alston off the first pitch Chicago's Jim Davis threw in the majors helped the St. Louis Cardinals finally break into the win circle, 6-4 over Chicago. The second game went only two innings before darkness stopped it.

* * *

Two spring training phenoms failed in their American League debuts. The Yanks' Bob Grim was knocked out and beaten by Washington's Maury McDermott, 9-3. And Boston's Tom Brewer, who ran a long string of scoreless innings in Florida, was chased by Philadelphia as the A's won the first game from the Red Sox, 6-4. Jackie Jensen's 13th inning homer gave reliefer Ellis Kinder and the Bosox the second game 4-3.

* * *

Jim Rivera, Minnie Minoso and Ferris Fain hit home runs that made Billy Pierce's spotty 10-hit pitching stand up for a 6-2 Chicago edge over Cleveland in a game cut to six innings by rain. The second game was postponed.

CONGRATULATIONS — Frank Perna (right) congratulates Joe Mattock after the latter won a special roll-off for the singles championship in the City Men's Bowling tournament Saturday. Mattock defeated Perna by two pins, 606 to 604, for the title after they had tied during regular tournament competition.

Dykes Doesn't Picture Tigers as Real Threat

Oriole Manager Thinks Bengals Only Periodic Troublemakers

BALTIMORE, (AP) — The Detroit Tigers are leading the American League today by virtue of beating his Baltimore Orioles three out of four, but Manager Jimmy Dykes still isn't convinced they'll prove more than a periodic troublemaker.

* * *

And Dykes isn't down on his club off what he's seen. he said we "should win a lot of games and surprise a lot of people" although it has won only two of five so far.

In both cases, Manager Dykes' opinion revolves mostly around pitching. He doesn't believe Detroit has what it takes and that the Orioles might just have what it takes.

* * *

'Detroit admittedly has hitting strength in the middle with Harvey Kuenn, Ray Boone and Walt Dropo," he said. "and those youngsters like Al Kaline, Frank Bolling and Bob Tuttle are going to bother you.

"But they've got to get superb pitching and I don't think they will. Take Steve Gromek for instance. Even though he beat us (8-3) yesterday, he wasn't nearly as sharp as he was against us the first day."

Gromek shut out the Orioles on Opening Day. Yesterday, they got to him for nine hits and three runs.

Needs 2 More Starters

O'Neill Not Excited Despite Fast Start by Pitchers Roberts, Simmons, Dickson

By NOAH HALPER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Steve O'Neill hasn't called for the crying towel but he refuses to get enthusiastic over red-hot performances by Philadelphia Phillies pitchers.

His aces, Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons, together with Murray Dickson, the veteran righthander acquired in a trade with the Pittsburg Pirates, have allowed only four earned runs among them as the Phils won four of their first five contests.

But, said stout Steve after yesterday's double win over the Pirates, "I still need two more starting pitchers and I don't know who they'll be."

His choices, he said, probably will come from Karl Drews (9-10 last year), Bob Miller (8-9), Jim Konstanty (14-10) and Steve Rdizik (9-6).

* * *

Only Konstanty of that quartet has seen league action this year. Jim pitched two-thirds of an inning in relief in the opening 4-2 loss to the Pirates. Roberts impressed in that game until he tired in the eighth inning. Then, outfielder Del Ennis lost a routine fly in the sun and opened the gates for a four-run Pirate outburst.

* * *

The next day, Simmons blanked the Pirates, 6-0. Then Dickson shut out the Giants 2-0 in a six and a half inning game halted by rain. Roberts came back to hurl a 6-0 shutout and strike out eight in defeating the Pirates in the first game of yesterday's doubleheader. Simmons was equally effective in the 7-1 second game when the Pirates managed only one unearned run.

* * *

Roberts' performance caused O'Neill to remark that rumors about the big righthander having an ailment should end.

Cards Finally Break 3-Game Losing Streak

Beat Cubs, 6-4, Sunday After Bowing in 23-13 Rout Saturday

CHICAGO (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals finally broke the ice in the 1954 National League baseball season which, as Manager Eddie Stanky says, is better.

Better, of course, than losing three straight—including a 23-13 pasting by the Chicago Cubs Saturday.

* * *

The Cards recovered from that lopsided licking by turning in a 6-4 victory over the Cubs yesterday, scoring all their runs with a sixth-inning spurt climaxed by rookie Tom Alston's three-run pinch homer.

* * *

The Cubs and Cards had a second game scheduled but it was called after two scoreless innings because of darkness.

Although Stanky was interested enough in yesterday's activities to get himself thrown out during the big seventh for debating too long on one of Umpire Abe Ballanfant's decisions, it's obvious that he and his Cardinals are still thinking about their showing Saturday.

* * *

But his terse "Well, that's better" comment on Sunday's victory indicated it will be a long time before Stanky forgets the previous day's drubbing.

* * *

Nor, for that matter, will his players. Red Schoendienst, veteran second baseman, described the record 3 hours and 43 minute marathon as "the worst game I can ever remember playing in."

Floyd Patterson Eyes 12th Straight Victory Tonight

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Floyd Patterson, the unbeaten 19-year-old Brooklyn light heavyweight contender, is favored to rack up his 12th straight pro victory tonight when he faces Alvin (Chief) Williams, of Wichita, Kas., at Eastern Parkway Arena.

Limited to eight rounds because Patterson is under 20, the bout will be telecast (Dumont) starting at 10 p.m., EST.

* * *

Bobby Jones, the 27-year-old Oakland, Calif., middleweight who upset Gil Turner on March 10, will attempt to prove it was no fluke when he meets the Philadelphia puncher in a ten rounder at the Philadelphia Arena Wednesday night.

The bout will be telecast (CBS) starting at 10 p.m., EST.

* * *

Jed Black, a 23-year-old Middleweight from Janesville, Wis., will be out to add to his 26-fight unbeaten string Friday night at New York's St. Nicholas arena. The former NCAA champion meets 24-year-old Joey Klein of New York.

Starting time is 10 p.m., EST for the ten rounder. It will be broadcast (ABC) and telecast (NBC).

* * *

Another young fighter with a long win streak, Tony De Marco of Boston, takes on veteran Carlos Chavez of Los Angeles at the Boston Garden Saturday night.

Their ten rounder starts at 9 p.m., EST. It will be telecast (ABC).

Monte Breaks Plate Slump With 3 Hits

Sparks Giants to 6-3 Triumph Over Brooklyn Dodgers

* * *

Before the game here with the Dodgers Irvin told Associated Press sports writer Joe Reichler he wasn't worrying because he had gone 11-for-0 in the first week of the season.

* * *

"I know I feel good and that's what counts," said Irvin. Then he turned Sawami.

"Don't be a bit surprised if I break out of it today. Just to show you how confident I am I'm going out there and help myself to four hits. Four big ones for Monte and don't spell my name with a "Y." It's M-O-N-T-E. Monte with an "E."

* * *

The Prophet, the guy who spells his name with an "e", slammed out three straight hits—two singles and a home run—and the Giants beat Brooklyn 6-3.

Chips' Jim Podoley Wins Decathlon Championship

The Central Michigan athlete built up a lead in the five-opening events and climaxed his performance Saturday with a total of 6,128 points. He broke the old record of 6,066 set by J. W. Mashburn of Oklahoma last year.

Podoley placed 1st in the 110-meet high hurdles. He finished 2n in the pole vault, 3rd in the 1,500-meter high hurdles. He finished 2nd two events — javelin and discus throw.

Finishing second with 5,460 points was Roger Ruth of the Emporia (Kan.) State K-Club. Bob Kemp of Beloit, Wis., was 3rd with 5,258; Neil Moore, Dana College, 4th, 4,881; John Wilkinson, Fort Sill, Okla., 5th, 4,574.

Mashburn has transferred to Oklahoma A&M and did not defend his crown in this year's relays.

Krieger Bags Ace

First ace of the season was not long in arriving at Twin Lakes Golf Club. Bud Kreiger, 457 South Edith, Pontiac, dumped in his tee shot on the 125-yard 8th hole Saturday at the west suburban club. It helped him to a 44 for the nine holes. Playing with Krieger were Roy and Tom Bone and Bill Trudgen, all of Pontiac.

Rookie's First Pitch Slammed for Home Run

CHICAGO (AP) — Rookie pitcher Jim Davis of the Chicago Cubs won't easily forget his first pitch in the big time. It was a lulu.

Davis, recently acquired from Seattle of the Pacific Coast League came into his first game yesterday against the St. Louis Cardinals. It was the seventh inning. There were two men on base. Pinch-hitter Tom Alston slammed Davis' first pitch over the right field wall for a three-run homer. The Cards won 6-4. Davis wasn't involved in the decision however.

Globetrotter's Condition Reported Much Improved

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 18 (AP)—Fifteen days after an auto accident which left him near death, Junius Kellogg today was conscious and talking to attendants and visitors at Veterans Hospital here.

Attendants said Kellogg, former Manhattan College star whose volunteered information broke the 1951 gambling scandal in college basketball, is much improved and conscious all the time.

Doctors at first held little hope for recovery of the Portsmouth, Va., member of the Harlem Globetrotters "B" team.

Jensen Finds Happy Home in Boston's Fenway Park

BOSTON (AP)—Red Sox outfielder Jackie Jensen—who hit only 10 homers while batting .266 last season — today eyed Fenway Park's short left field wall with affection as he noted his three homers and .471 batting mark.

The former Washington player hit two home runs against Philadelphia at Fenway yesterday—the second of which cleared the wire screen—to bring Boston a 4-3 triumph in the 13th inning of the nightcap.

Jensen pulled the Red Sox into a 2-2 tie in the opener with a two-run homer, but the Athletics' Negro righthander Bob Trice posted a 6-4 victory.

Jensen played in 147 games in 1953 and 151 in 1952, but managed only 10 homers each season. With only four games played this season, he has hit three. He has socked two doubles and batted in five runs.

What's the story? A new swing? Maybe.

"I'm swinging the way I always did," he says. "but I've been working a lot on my timing."

"On those two singles in the second game," he says, "I was still jumping out in front of the plate."

John Dough Rubs Elbows With John Doe on Easter

NEW YORK (INS) — Fifth Avenue — the Mecca of minks, poodles and celebrities say nearly 2,000,000 gather into the biggest, happiest crowd in Easter parade history.

Sunday the only way you could tell socialites from secretaries was to count their diamonds.

The parade began at 9:30 when the first big crowds began to pour out of church services. It hit its peak shortly afternoon.

Except for a few mild flurries of excitement the crowd was as placid as the weather. As contrasted to past years when kiddies have been trampled and Communists have started street fights.

Women's hats usually were small and white, while most men went hatless. The dress and coat appeared tohave a slight edge over the suit as a fashion costume.

Probably the happiest man in the city was a burly Deputy Chief Inspector named Patrick Kirley. Inspector Kirley observed: "Bless me, this is the most perfect parade I ever did see. Bot a bum on the avenue!"

James Boys Didn't Make History Alone

But it had one other claim to infamy, too.

A resident was riding in his buggy before the turn of the century and some irate neighbors reined in, grabbed him and cut off his ears. They stuffed the auditory appendages in his vest pockets and counseled him to quit gossiping about the womenfolk in the area.

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Today Fireside Theater finishes its 200th telefilm, and there seems to be no end in view for this popular series.

The first Fireside Theater half hour was "Time Bomb," suspense drama with John Mitchum which cost $8,000.

* * *

In between these two films, Fireside Theater has pioneered the filmed television field and has managed to climb into and remain among the top ranks in audience ratings. The guilding genius behind the show is a waspish Lithuanian named Frank Wisbar. I paid a 200th anniversary call at his office in what used to be the old Eagle-Lion movie studio. It now thrives with TV film activity.

I caught Wisbar fo a few minutes in between this race from the daily rushes to the set. He has directed, produced, cast and supervised all 200 of the films.

"What's more, I wrote them for the first three years," he said. "I stood on street corners and asked writers if they wouldn't turn out scripts for $45 a copy. I had no trunk full of stories myself, so I had to raid the public-domain classics. I looted Chekhov, plundered De Maupassant and stripped Robert Louis Stevenson."

* * *

Nowadays he relies on more modern authors. His script bills sometimes amount to $4,500.

But the money wasn't that good in the pioneer days—way back in the dark ages of TV five years ago. To put together his first film, Wisbar says he mortgaged and second-mortgaged his home.

"In those days, you had to lie, brag and exaggerate to get backing," he remarked. "You would go to a money man and tell him what you think the situation would be with TV films. You could talk about reruns, but he would ask, 'Does anyone know what reruns will bring?' You had to admit no, no one had ever tried it. It was pioneering all the way."

Fire Suspect Probe Pushed

Fenton Man to Be Given Further Lie Detector Examinations

FLINT — Further lie detector examinations were scheduled today for a 35-year-old Fenton man liste dby the Genesee County Sheriff's Dept., as "a good suspect" in the probe of two costly Fenton lumberyard fires.

Undersheriff Jack Turner said the sheriff's department was "going to submit the whole thing to the prosecutor's office today" but aded that he didn't have "too great hopes" for the case as it now stands.

The suspect, whose name is withheld by authorities, still maintains he might have started the fires, but doesn't remember," Turner said.

Previous lie detector tests indicated he was lying about his whereabouts on the night of the last fire, early Wednesday.

He is reported to have suffered a had injury in World War II and says he "blacks out" sporadically and does not remember his actions during these periods.

Several Claim Title as Youngest Granny

"I was a mother at 14 and a grandmother at 27," she said.

Mrs. Herbert disputes the "youngest" claims of Mrs. Roger Howe, 31, of Dover, Del., and Mrs. Anne Wamon, 32, of Chicago.

Mrs. Herbert said she was 27 when her daughter, Mrs. Clark Brown, of Miami, gave birth to a daughter at the age of 12, on Sept. 17, 1925.

Mrs. Brown's daughter, Mrs. Pearl Stacy of Bostwick, Fla., has two children, making Mrs. Herbert a great-grandmother.

CHICAGO (UP) — Zoning laws must answer such questions as when does a puppy become a dog and how many dogs make a kennel.

The American Society of Planning Officials says such questions must be covered by law to make sure that keeping pets does not become a commercial operation in a residential neighborhood.

The society said at least four communities — Muskegon, Mich., Salt Lake County, Utah, and Los Angeles and Los Angeles County, Calif., have decided that a puppy becomes a dog at four months.

But in places where "dog" is not so directly defined, the designation presumably follows the licensing practice, which ranges from four to eight months.

Bob Considine Says:

VIPs of World War Two Now Doing Mighty Well

NEW YORK (INS) — What's become of some of the Very Important Persons in World War II? Lee Van Atta, former INS war correspondent who now is in an even more interesting game — money — comes up with a few answers:

Maj. Gen. John Deane, who helped to distribute $11,000,000,000 among our Russian co-belligerants, and who was one of the first to put the finger on Red ingratitude, (he wrote "Strange Alliance") heads Italian Swiss Colony Wines, San Francisco. The firm's list includes a red wine.

Maj. Gen. William H. Draper, who helped reshape Europe with U. S. money, is now president of Mexico power and light.

Gen. Mark Wayne Clark, whose book "From the Danube to the Yalu" you should read, is president of the Citadel, famed old military academy at Charleston, S. C.

Gen. George C. Kenney, MacArthur's chief airman, heads the National Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation and also is president of the Air Force Association.

MacArthur, as is well known, is chairman of the board of Remington Rand, whose vice president in charge of advanced research is Lt. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, the man who coordinated the opening of the atomic age.

Adm. "Bull" Halsey diped unhappily and briefly into the shipping business, now is U. S. representative at the 10th anniversary celebration in Australia of the battle of the Coral Sea.

Adm. Richard Conolly is president of Long Island University. The one and only Jimmy Doolittle, who bombed Tokyo 11 years ago yesterday, is a vice president of Shell Oil.

Averell Harriman, who carried out some of the most momentous decisions of F. D. R. and served in many places as his eyes and ears, dreams of high political office.

Gen. Lucius Clay, whose record extends from mobilizing the war effort to mounting the $1,000,000 a day Berlin airlift, is chairman of the board of Continental Can. Adm. Oscar Badger, one of the great old men of the sea, is on a host of boards of big companies.

Maj. Gen. Hugh J. Casey, who thought he had a headache when MacArthur ordered him to build air strips in advance of his march to Tokyo, knows what a real headache is now. He's in charge of New York City's subway system.

Gen. John K. "Uncle Joe" Cannon, who headed tactical air operations in Italy and through France and Germany, raises rhododendrons. Gen. Al Wedemeyer, the nation's No. 2 authority on Far Eastern matters, is vice president of Aviation Corporation of America. Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault, leader of the Flying Tigers, runs Nationalist China's air line, out of Formosa. He and his Chinese wife, Anna Marie, are now en route to the U. S.

Generals Tooey Spaatz and "Uncle Bob" Eicheiberger, who headed respectively the Eighth Air Force in Europe and the Eighth Army in the Pacific, both contribute to "News-Week."

By and large the giants have done well. To the extent of 100 per cent, the'd be ready to serve the nation again.

But it is the custom of the country not to take positive advantage of their vast reservoir of experience and administrative qualities. It's a pity we can't derive continuing benefit from this composite genius.

MILFORD, N. H. (UP)—Eugene Woodward, a dairyman, needed a good land roller, but he didn't want to spend much money for one. He got a metal shaft, inserted it lengthwise through an old water tank, filled the tank with rocks and cement—an inexpensive land roller.

Grain Prices Move Ahead

CHICAGO (AP)—A little case of war jitters turned up in the grain pits on the Board of Trade today and prices moved ahead in quite substantial volume.

Wheat and soybeans were the favorites of the buyers but even feed grains firmed shortly after the opening. Lard also was strong. All soybean futures made new seasonal highs with the May contract bringing a top price for any soybean delivery since 1948.

Gains in wheat ranged to 4 cents at the opening, the December contract making that unusually large jump for the bread cereal. It lost a part of this advance later.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 2¼ to 3 cents higher, May $2.14⅝, corn ⅝ to ⅞ higher, May $1.52⅞, oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, May 76½, rye ¾-1½ higher, May $1.06¾, soybeans 3¼ to 6¾ higher, May $3.94¼ and lard 30 to 78 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $21.75.

Stolen Safe Found in White Lake Area

Oakland County sheriff's deputies reported finding another abandoned safe in White Lake Township, the third one abandoned in that area this year.

Detectives Delos Anderson and Leo Hazen said that a safe found by William Buell on his farm at 5690 Cedar Island Rd., was taken from Oak Park March 15 along with a truck, which Buell also found abandoned at the back of his farm.

The 300-pound safe and the pick-up truck were taken on the same night from H. W. Stanley Co. at 21201 Scotia, Oak Park.

The detectives said that two other safes have been abandoned with in two miles of the one found this wtekend. One of these was taken from Marysville, and the other, removed before deputies could get to the scene, was believed to be from Pontiac.

Driver Hurt in Collision Sunday Morning on M24

Randolph R. Harpool, 43, of 1680 Opdyke Rd., Pontiac Township, was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for injuries suffered in a two-car collision Sunday morning on M24 near Baldwin Rd.

John W. McGee, 19, of 927 Long Lake Blvd., Lake Orion, driver of the other car, told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies that Harpool's southbound auto was over the center line and he could not miss it. Harpool maintained McGee's car was over the center line.

College Graduates of 1954 Will Find Jobs Aplenty

(Editor's note: Do rising unemployment figures mean that 1954 college graduates will be pounding the pavement hunting for jobs after commencement? The United Press polled 12 big colleges and universities to find out.)

By UNITED PRESS

A nationwide survey of colleges and universities indicated today there is no "recession" in job prospects for the class of '54.

The United Press polled campus placement bureaus at 12 schools across the country and found that recent rises in unemployment have not been reflected in the demand for professional trainees.

Graduates with engineering degrees are in great demand. Grade school and high school teachers are being scooped up quickly.

Business and industry are offering graduates starting salaries ranging five to 10 per cent higher than those offered a year ago.

At one university, the young scientist with a bachelor's degree is being offered $320 a month where a year ago he could have expected $300. A master's degree in the technical fields is drawing $420 a month to start compared with $397 last year.

None of the schools polled reported a decline in total placements. But jobs remained scarce for the prospective college instructor and for graduates aimed at the "glamor" fields such as radio and television.

Talk of a business recession has prompted many graduates to do less "shopping around" for jobs. They are more likely to pick one of the first that comes along.

The UP survey covered Georgia Tech, Purdue, Stanford, University of Michigan, University of Minnesota, Texas A & M, Colorado University, University of Pennsylvania, University of Missouri, Harvard, Wellesley and the undergraduate schools of Columbia University.

American colleges and universities will send out a flood of 279,000 seniors with bachelor's degrees next June. Another 36,100 will receive master's degrees and 7,920 will get doctor's degrees.

Salaries offered to prospective school teachers are on the rise, although in most states they still rank below those paid for comparable training in other fields.

Colorado was an exception in reporting that for the first time in the school's history, classroom teachers were being offered salaries comparable to those paid engineers and scientists.

One university spokesman said there would be more demand for teachers on college faculties in a few years. By 1960, he said, the population bulge which now is causing teacher shortages in grade schools and high schools will be moving into college.

Wellesley College reported that out of its 375 women graduating this year about 70 per cent planned to go to work and "practically all" were finding jobs. The University of Minnesota noted an increasing demand for college-trained women in business.

Miss Margarite C. Thompson, 21, of 47801 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, was found dead in her cell at Oakland County Jail soon after she was booked there Saturday night on a charge of drinking liquor in a parked car.

Shortly after 9 p. m. Miss Thompson set fire to her cell bedding. Deputies put out the fire and a matron took all but the woman's underclothes from her.

Nancy Hale, Fess Parker Coming Up in TV

Featured Lately in Death Valley

Both Are Single, Live in Hollywood, Have Had Good Training

NEW YORK — Two up-and-coming video personalities are cute Nancy Hale and virile Fess Parker who were featured recently in the 'Death Valley Days" series. Both youngsters are seasoned entertainment veterans and have made countless television appearances.

Six feet, four inches tall, and weighing a strapping 200 pounds, Fess Parker hails from "deep in the heart of" ... Texas, of course ... reared on his father's ranch near San Angelo, Fess is a graduate of the University of Texas.

A World War II veteran, he spent three years in the South Pacific with the Navy ... after the war, went to college and then came to Los Angeles.

He got his first acting job on the stage with the road company of Mr. Roberts ... first motion picture break in "Untamed Frontier."

His first stellar role in television was in the 'Death Valley Days" telefilm, "The Kickapoo Run," ... likes to sing Western folk ballads as a hobby and accompanies himself on the guitar.

* * *

Nancy's making good in her own home town ... Hollywood.

Born and reared in the City of the Angels, Nancy was educated at Claremont College and the University of California at Los Angeles.

From little theater work, she "graduated" to a motion picture contract at Paramount Studios ... appeared in My Son John, Just For You and War of the Worlds before embarking on a TV career.

"The Kickapoo Run" is her second stellar role in the Death Valley Days series ... regular viewers will remember her performance in Dear Teacher.

Single, Nancy's main ambition is to combine a happy marriage with a successful career ... hobbies are painting and swimming ... 107 pounds, 5'4", she has brown hair and brown eyes.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery

Finds Healing Substance That Relieves Pain—Shrinks Hemorrhoids

New York, N. Y. (Special)—For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids and to stop bleeding—without surgery.

In case after case, pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

Now this new healing substance is offered in ointment form under the name of Preparation H.® Ask for it at all drug stores—money back guarantee. ®Trade Mark.

ASTHMA COUGHS

Don't let difficult breathing, coughing and wheezing, due to recurring spasms of Bronchial Asthma or simple Bronchitis ruin sleep and energy without trying MENDACO. TOP FLIGHT TRIO—Caught in the stance of an old vaudeville team are three of the brightest and most revered names in show business. All three have made their mark in nearly all the fields of entertainment, and it is no chore recognizing (left to right) Bing Crosby, Jack Benny and George Burns. Benny and Burns are established stars in the television media, and Bing, not to be outdone, recently performed in his second video show, and revealed plans for many more.

Nebraska's New Senator Is Range-Riding Cowgirl

MERRIMAN, Neb. (AP)—A Nebraska "cowbelle" moves into the United States Senate this week.

And whether or not 62-year-old Mrs. Eva Bowring writes history as a stateswoman in her alloted seven months, friends say she's a cinch to add a dash of Western color.

One of Nebraska's wealthiest widows, range-riding operator of a 10,000 acre sandhills cattle ranch, and a long-time Republican party worker, Mrs. Bowring was appointed Friday to fill part of the unexpired term of Sen. Dwight P. Griswold (R-Neb).

* * *

Griswold died in Washington April 12.

"I'm going to have to ride the fence awhile in Washington until I find where the gates are," says Mrs. Bowring, who can't keep the ranch out of her mind — or her talk.

* * *

Those who know her say she combines a drawing-room charm with the ruggedness of the cattle country she loves.

She's spunky, witty, frank and friendly.

In 1944 she was widowed for the second time and left with the sprawling ranch near Merriman and all the responsibilities of a going big business.

Typically, she decided to carry on alone.

"I've not been one to believe that the Lord should make life easy," she says. "He should be asked just to make you strong."

Backed by the philosophy and a belief that one should never order someone else to do "what you couldn't do yourself," Mrs. Bowring has worked and prospered.

She has been state vice chairman of the Republican party for eight years and one of the party's favorite speechmaking campaigners.

Under state law, Mrs. Bowring's interim appointment lasts until another interim successor can be elected in November. Thus Nebraska voters in November will elect one short-termer and one full-termer.

Mrs. Bowring will serve until the November election results are certified. The short-termer then will serve the month or more remaining before the new full-term senator takes over.

Phone-y Delays; Stock Answer

Mexico City Telephone Users Must Buy Shares or Wait 1-2 Years

To get a phone moved or installed, the prospective subscriber finds himself under heavy pressure to buy phone company common stock. This seems not much of a hardship, since the stock has been paying 10 per cent. But it is hard on the small storekeeper or the middle class householder without much capital. He goes to the company to ask for a phone. Generally he is told there will be a long wait—one or two years—unless he wants to "help the company buy new equipment by investing in stock."

* * *

If he makes an issue of it, they will take his application without a stock purchase. But he knows he has a long wait. If he spends 1,000 or 2,000 pesos—$115 to $230—on stock, he is promised the phone within a few weeks.

* * *

In the first month of such sales, the company placed 2½ million dollars worth of stock. One company official said the campaign has done away with a black market in phone installations, for which demand has been tremendous.

Historic Boston Stone

BOSTON (UP)—The strange object early Bostonians used as the starting point for the measurement of mileages between surrounding communities can still be seen by tourists in a North End alley. Known as "the Boston Stone," this consists of a granite block surmounted by a granite sphere the shape and size of a cannonball. Dating from 1737, it originally was used for grinding paint.

ACHIEVEMENT — Albert Raizner, of New York City, listens to the coffee-can radio he built. At first the set didn't work, so he sent it to the General Electric plant in Schenectady, N. Y., and an expert explained his slight error in construction. Because he wouldn't rest until it worked, Albert finds himself a symbol of the nation's scientists.

Old-Time Blacksmith Fixes Up Antique Cars

CLARKSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—George Smith, blacksmith, isn't shoeing many horses these days but he manages to live in the "golden age" anyhow. He's rebuilding antique autos. He has an easy time finding them. Years ago he carried his smithing equipment as he visited southwestern Pennsylvania farms and often he saw old cars stored in barns.

Now he has found a ready market for the renovated vehicles.

Easter Happy for Eisenhowers

Egg Hunt and Worship Mark Day for President and Family

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—It was a happy Easter for all the Eisenhowers, from the President and the First Lady right on through to their youngest grandchild in her perky new bonnet.

The grandchildren—David, 6, Barbara Anne, 4, and Susan, 2—started the day at the Little White House with a rousing egg hunt which the President got up to watch shortly after 6 a.m.

The grownups went to church later, and when the President got home he and David put on their "little stunt," as Grandfather Eisenhower termed it. It went like this:

* * *

The youngster was just about as fast on the draw as a real live cowboy, and the President got a hearty laugh out of it.

But President or not, he couldn't conceal a bit of caught-in-the-act uneasiness when David's mother, Mrs. John Eisenhower, showed up.

"Don't tell your mother," the President said in an aside to his grandson. "Cover up the gun."

Back it went fast—into David's belt, and the blue coat whisked over it. But mother saw it and said to the two of them in a tone of mild and smiling reproach:

All of this took place on the lawn in the bright sun in front of the Little White House at the Augusta National Golf Club.

The President and Mrs. Eisenhower had just come from 9 a.m. worship at the Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church, and they were dressed in their Easter best. So were their son John, an Army major, his wife Barbara, and the First Lady's mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

* * *

Mrs. Eisenhower wore a white straw hat with a flat crown and a wide curving brim edged with navy blue grosgrain and with tabs the same color in back. A Sally Victor number.

Her dress was by Molly Parnis—a navy blue silk with white polka dots and elbow length sleeves. The designer said it all aded up to the new "dancing girl" silhouette. At her shoulder the First Lady wore a three-orchid corsage.

Island Spurns Independence

Puerto Rico Has Large Degree of Self Rule, but Chose Commonwealth

WASHINGTON — Puerto Rico stands today as an example to the world of an island commonwealth that has won a large measure of self-government but still spurns complete independence from a powerful neighbor.

The shooting of five United States Congressmen by Puerto Rican terrorists raised anew the question: Does the 3,435-square-mile West Indies island really want freedom from this country?

Recent history points to an unmistakable conclusion: Puerto Rico has not achieved full independence because it does not want it.

The Popular Democratic Party, prime supporter of political and economic ties with the United States, has proved itself the dominant party through decision of the electorate, says the National Geographic Society. The Independence Party, aiming at a complete break by constitutional means, has won only a small minority, and the revolutionary Nationalist Party almost no ballots.

Several aspects of relations with the United States now are being studied. Puerto Rico has no voting representation in the United States Congress, which can enact draft laws and other legislation vitally affecting internal affairs of the commonwealth.

The island, rich in sugar, tobacco coffee and fruit, may not negotiate trade treaties. Nor does it have the right to accept immigrants.

Whatever remains for future action, great progress toward self-rule has been made since the United States took over in 1898, more than 400 years after Columbus discovered the island. Not long ago the President appointed the governor, heads of the executive departments and mmbers of one house of the Legislative Assembly.

But by 1948 the executive and legislative branches were already in the hands of elected officials. That year, moreover, an island referendum overwhelmingly favored a commonwealth associated with the United States rather than American statehood or complete independence.

A constitution modeled after the United States constitution and embodying a bill of rights was approved by Congress and by the Puerto Rican people—more than four to one—in 1952.

Under it, executive authority rests in a Governor, at present Luis Munoz Marin, leader of the Popular Democrats. Re-elected in 1952, he is now serving a four year term.

The Governor also appoints the judges of the Supreme Court and the lower tribunals.

The island's lawmaking arm is the Legislative Assembly. Like its United States counterpart, it consists of a Senate(two Senators from each of eight districts plus 16 at large) and a House of Representatives (one member each from 40 districts plus 24 at large.) All legislators are elected by direct vote and meet every January in San Juan, the capital. Power to tax commonwealth citizens resides in the legislature.

Under universal suffrage, men and women 21 and over qualify to vote. There are no property or literacy requirements.

Puerto Rico enjoys tariff-free trade relations with the United States. Its people are United States citizens and, if residents of this country, may vote in United States elections. Puerto Ricans may also migrate freely to the mainland. New York City, 1,750 miles away, now has 450,000, twice the population of San Juan proper.

Ground Glass Put to Profitable Use

GENEVA, N. Y. (UP) — Washing and sorting ground glass seems like the most useless pastime, but it's paying dividends for an optical company here.

The powdery grains of glass left from lens grinding are mixed with water, agitated and boiled until oil, grease, tar and other foreign matters are removed. Ground glass is graded in micron sizes by catching smaller grains in suspension after larger particles have settled to the bottom.

The company sells the ground glass to its abrasives suppliers who, in turn, sell it back to the firm. A small amount of ground glass in combination with abrasive materials is found to be superior to the plain abrasive for grinding still more glass.

Death Valley Tells Tale of 100-Foot Deep Lake

LA JOLLA, Calif. (UP)—Mammoth lakes over 100 feet deep once covered the vast stretches of desert which now extend for hundreds of miles in the Death Valley area.

Dr. Carl Hubbs, professor of oceanography at the University of California's Scripps Institution says that pinnacles rising 125 feet above the desert are mute testimony to the depth of waters which existed in the region thousands of years ago. The desert pinnacles were built up under water by tiny fresh plants, he adds.

Dr. Hubbs is an advocate of a state park in that area.

Secretary Dulles Leaving Tonight for Paris Meet

Assures Congressional Leaders He Will Fight Appeasement

WASHINGTON (U P)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles called in congressional leaders today to assure them he will fight against any appeasement regarding Indochina or Red China at next week's Geneva conference.

Dulles leaves tonight (6 p. m., EST) for the North Atlantic Council meeting in Paris this weekend and the Geneva conference beginning next Monday.

The secret session this morning at the State Department came amid a thundering controversy over possible use of American troops in Indochina and considerable uneasiness about what might happen at Geneva.

If pressed, it was learned, Dulles was prepared to tell the congressmen it is unlikely U. S. troops will be sent to Indochina since the French are not expected to pull out.

Officials said, however, that the secretary hoped to devote most if not all of the meeting to outlining his plans and soliciting advice for the momentous Geneva talks with Russia and Red China.

One congressional leader, Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), called Monday night for "unequivocal cooperation" from U. S. allies since the "hour of decision is at hand" in southeast Asia and "they must stand up and be counted or run the risk of disastrous division of the free world."

In a speech at Grand Rapids, Mich., Senate GOP leader William F. Knowland declared it will not be necessary to send American troops to Indochina since there are 600,000 South Koreans and 500,000 Nationalist Chinese who could be used in an emergency.

The secretary considered the advance session with congressional leaders essential—1. To exchange views since congressional observers are not going to Geneva as they have to other conferences, and 2. To enlist support for administration strategy despite congressional fears that Geneva might lead to a Munich settlement in Indochina and Red China's admission to the United Nations.

The main plank in Dulles' strategy is to create a 10-nation front against further Red aggression in Indochina and thus whittle down some of the psychological advantage the Communists may have achieved by the siege of Dien Bien Phu. Dulles called a meeting with diplomats of the 10 countries after the congressional session.

Accused of Collaborating

ON TRIAL—Cpl. Edward Dickenson, 23, of Crackers Neck, Va., poses for photographers, seated in the witness chair, just before the start of his court-martial in Washington. Dickenson, who first refused repatriation in Korea and then changed his mind, is accused of collaborating with the enemy and engaging in activities that led to mistreatment of fellow prisoners.

Polio Tests Start Monday; State Society Cooperates

Health officials pressed plans for launching the Salk polio vaccine program in Oakland County Monday after being assured that the Michigan Medical Society would co-operate in the state project.

Dr. William Bromme, chairman of the society's executive committee, said last night that the society has withdrawn earlier objections to the vaccine.

"The Michigan State Medical Society will not withhold approval from the experiment on children by mass inoculations of the Salk poliomyelitis vaccine . . ." said Dr. Bromme.

At Lansing today Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, said that he was "extremely disappointed in the lack of definite, clear-cut action taken by the Michigan State Medical Society."

The commissioner said that if the society had any information which casts doubt on the safety of the vaccine it has the responsibility to make it public.

Dr. Heustis added that on the basis of evidence he has that tthe vaccine is safe "we are going ahead."

In Pontiac, Dr. John D. Monroe, director of the Oakland County Health Department, said he is going ahead with plans to start the inoculations Monday.

He said, however, that he plans to confer today with Dr. Robert J. Mason, president of the Oakland County Medical Society, on the county society's attitude toward the tests.

Forms have been sent to parents of county children in the first, second and third grades asking whether they want their children inoculated.

Inoculations are scheduled Monday at Clarkston Village School, Bertha Baker School in the Huron Valley (Milford area) district, and Novi School. Youngsters of Chapman and Novi-Stone Schools will also be taken to Novi School for inoculations. Pontiac and other county schools are to be scheduled later.

Dr. Monroe said the final decision on the undertaking will rest with Dr. Albert E. Heustis, the state health commissioner.

3 Windshields Found Pitted Here Monday

The windshields of three cars parked in downtown Pontiac were mysteriously pitted between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. yesterday.

This makes a total of eight reports from the Pontiac area since yesterday morning. Three similar cases were found in Farmington.

Those making the latest reports were George F. Taylor, chief assistant Oakland County prosecutor; Robert Miller, investigator for the prosecutor's office; and Dave Breck, a deputy clerk.

Taylor said he found about a dozen pinhead-size pockmarks on his windsheild.

"I thought this pitted windshield business was a lot of hooey, but now I'm convinced there's something to it," said Taylor.

All three cars were parked near the Oakland County Courthouse.

Williams Seeks 4th Term as Governor of Michigan

LANSING (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams announced today he will seek an unprecedented fourth term as chief executive of Michigan.

With a brief press announcement, Williams ended a year's speculation as to whether he would try again to be governor or contest for the U. S. Senate with the incumbent Republican, U. S. Sen. Homer Ferguson.

The governor, in a brief press statement said:

"My decision is to run for governor. My reasons will be fully explained on my statewide radio and television broadcast at 10:30 this evening."

Thus Williams finally cleared the Michigan political picture for 1954, settling doubts as to how the races in both the Democratic and Republican parties would shape up.

Former U. S. Sen. Blair Moody, now a weekly newspaper publisher, is expected to announce in a day or so for another shot at the senatorial post. He has been waiting for Williams to declare himself out of the race.

Williams is expected to be unopposed in the Democratic primary

Legal Disputes Mark Ex-PW's Court Martial

Army Tries to Confront Dickenson With Alleged Pro-Red Recording

WASHINGTON (A P)—Army lawyers moved today to confront Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson with a pro-Communist recording they claim he made while a prisoner of war in Korea.

From all indications, the second day of Dickenson's court-martial would produce the same kind of legal maneuvering that marked the opening session yesterday.

Dickenson, a 23-year-old soldier from Cracker's Neck, Va., is charged with collaborating with the enemy while a POW and with supplying his captors information that led to mistreatment of fellow prisoners. He pleaded innocent yesterday.

Dickenson, short, round-faced and dark-haired, first refused repatriation when the Korean armistice was signed but later changed his mind and returned to this country.

Col. Guy Emery, Dickenson's attorney, protested heatedly against introduction of documents the prosecution said were linked to Dickenson.

At one point, Emery asserted that Army intelligence had instructed prospective witnesses not to cooperate with the defense. The attorney said he would call as a witness an Army doctor who Emery said would swear to this.

The doctor is Capt. William R. Shadish of Bridgeville, Pa., who, like Dickenson, was kept at Prison Camp No. 5 at Pyoktong, Korea. Shadish has been at the Army's Walter Reed General Hospital here since last February.

In advance of the prosecution move to introduce the recordings, Emery argued it was impossible to prove these had been made by Dickenson and that the prosecution was trying to bring in material it could not tie to the defendant.

Col. C. Robert Bard, the prosecutor, protested that Emery wasn't letting him get his case off the ground.

The recordings in question, Bard told reporters, were made by Dickenson for the Peiping radio on Jan. 1, 1952. The attorney said they were monitored by Edwin D. Yokley of Silver Hill, Md. A deposition from Yokley was admitted as evidence.

Fort Defenders Supplied by Air

U.S. Civilian Airmen Drop Ammo and Food for Dien Bien Phu

HANOI, Indochina (UP) — The thousands of valiant defenders of Dien Bien Phu—trapped by encircling hosts of Communist-led Vietminh troops — received fresh strength from the skies today.

American-supplied Dakotas and Flying Boxcars, piloted by American civilian fliers, swooped low through curtains of fire from rebel artillery and antiaircraft batteries to parachute tons more ammunition, food and war material of all types into the long - besieged French Union bastion.

Despite cloudy, rain-laden skies which forced war planes to curtail radically their assaults on rebel positions, fighters firing rockets and heavy machine guns tried to knock out the Vietminh's antiaircraft guns.

They gave cover to the low-flying transports dropping more supplies for the garrison, battered by two all-out rebel assaults since March 13 and constant local Vietminh attacks in the intervening weeks.

Constantly pressing in on the Y-shaped French chain of defense, the legions of Communist Ho Chi Minh by today had ringed the shrunken fortifications with trenches and dugouts 1,000 yards or less from the fortress' main barriers.

The French Union defenders fought back with renewed fury in their never-ending effort to deny the Vietminh a major victory before the big powers meet next Monday to talk about peace in Asia.

Seeley Pleads Guilty in Fraud

Sentence Delayed for Buyer and Companion in State Land Deals

MUSKEGON (UP) — G. Palmer Seeley of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Lois Porter Moon Ley of Muskegon today pleaded guilty in circuit court of conspiracy to defraud property owners and the state of $10,000 and upwards in highway land deals.

The original charge against Seeley, 53, ousted chief of right-of-way buyer in the Grand Rapids district, and Mrs. Ley, 47, a real estate dealer and house mover, involved $90,000.

That was reduced today to $10,000 and upwards in a compromise agreement between defense attorneys and assistant state Attorney General Perry A. Maynard.

Maynard said the state's position was not changed, however. He said the state still claimed the amount involved was $90,000.

Judge Fox announced that while the "amount involved is not the essence of the charge," he would investigate to determine the exact amount before passing sentence.

Muskegon County Prosecutor Robert A. Cavanaugh said the investigation might not be completed until the middle of May.

The maximum sentence under the charge is five years in prison or $2,500 fine or both.

The action followed disclosures of alleged irregularities in right-of-way purchases found by the state auditor general and attorney general departments.

In an ever-widening investigation by state and county authorities Seeley was arrested twice more.

In Ottawa County, with his ousted assistant, Ronald V. Kennedy, 42, Seeley is awaiting examination next month on a second conspiracy charge to defraud two Hudsonville brothers.

In Allegan County Seeley alone is accused of larceny by conversion and forgery.

Both Seeley and Mrs. Ley had denied wrong doing in connection

Woman Accepts Refuge in Australia; Gunmen Fly to Russia Alone

DARWIN, Australia (UP)—Australia granted political asylum today to Mrs. Vladimir Petrov, wife of a confessed Soviet spy, whose armed guards tried to return her to Moscow against her will.

Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies gave freedom to the bewildered woman after Australian territorial Police overpowered and disarmed her escorts in a dramatic struggle at Darwin Airport.

Mrs. Petrov, who believed her husband had been killed after he fled the Soviet embassy at Canberra and asked asylum, has asked to join him after a telephone conversation with him assured her he was alive.

Shoeless and dazed, Mrs. Petrov was forced aboard an airliner at Sydney Monday. Onlookers at the Sydney Airport heard her plea, "Save me, save me."

The Soviet embassy's second secretary who was accompanying Mrs. Petrov on the flight that failed, angrily charged that Territorial police had "kidnaped" her.

F. Jarkov, one of the two Soviet couriers escorting Mrs. Petrov, tried to draw his .32 caliber revolver when the Territorial Police boarded the plane on orders from Menzies.

Jarkov was cut slightly on the head before he and the other escort were disarmed. The escorts left empty-handed for Singapore an hour and 30 minutes later.

Soviet Ambassador Nikolai Generalov made his first visit to Parliament House and delivered to the Acting External Affairs Minister a note demanding the return of Mrs. Petrov.

Generalov also protested against the disarming of the couriers, charging that the police had violated their diplomatic immunity.

Later Menzies said in a statement he had directed J. L. Davis, captain of the airliner, to interview Mrs. Petrov to determine whether she wanted asylum in Australia.

Menzies' statement was given to Generalov.

"The captain said Mrs. Petrov was very tired and appeared

Board Selects Dana Whitmer Superintendent

Will Come Here in July to Succeed DuFrain, Who Is Retiring

He will succeed Supt. Frank J. DuFrain, who retires July 1, having reached the retirement age of 65.

"We all agree that we're getting a real top man," school board president Glenn H. Griffin said in announcing Whitmer's appointment. "He has had 18 years of experience and we regard him as one of the nation's outstanding educators."

Griffin said J. Cecil Cox will continue as Pontiac's assistant superintendent of schools.

Whitmer, picked from 25 educators who applied for the Pontiac job, has been assistant superintendent of Gary City schools since 1950.

Born in Bluffton, Ohio in 1913, he graduated from Bluffton High School in 1930.

He received his bachelor's degree from Oberlin College and master's and doctor's degrees from Ohio State University.

He started his career as a mathematics teacher and coach at Pandora High School in 1934; and taught at Rawson High School in 1935-37. He served as principal of Worthington, Mechanicsburg and Newcomerstown High Schools, in turn, from 1937 through 1945. All are in Ohio.

Whitmer next was vice-principal and principal of Steubenville High School, Steubenville, O., until 1947, when he came to Gary as vice-principal and later, principal, of Froebel School.

He held the latter post until he was made assistant superintendent of the Gary schools, in 1950.

Whitmer is a member of the Presbyterian Church. Married and the father of two children, he plans to come to Pontiac about July 1.

Fenton Fire Suspect Released in Genesee

A 35-year-old Fenton man, questioned since Thursday in an arson investigation of two recent lumberyard fires, was ordered released last night by Genesee County Prosecutor Chester R. Schwesinger.

The World War II veteran was called a "good suspect" earlier by Genesee County Sheriff Don Carmichael after the man said he might have set the fires during one of his periodic "black-outs." The man has received mental treatment.

A total estimated damage of $375,000 was caused by the two lumberyard fires April 2 and April 14.

County Offices Change Hours

To Close on Saturdays Starting May 3; Some to Extend Friday Time

All Oakland County offices will stay closed Saturdays starting the week of May 3, but some offices will remain open until 8 p. m. each Friday.

The County Board of Supervisors Monday approved the Saturday closing suggested by its ways and means committee, headed by Fred W. Smith. County offices now close at 5 p. m. Fridays and are open Saturday mornings.

The committee's resolution says the county office hours will be 8:30 a. m. until 5 p. m. Monday through Thursday and 8:30 a. m. until 8 p. m. Friday, "except those offices not directly serving the public." The latter would close at 5.

Smith said his committee thinks the county treasurer's office, friend of the court, county clerk and register of deeds offices should stay open Friday evenings.

"If we find others that aren't staying open which need to, we can always specify they do," he added.

Oakland County's Circuit Court has not held Saturday sessions for several months. The county prosecutor's office said today it will post one man at the County Jail Saturday mornings and keep the staff on call over weekends.

Some 450 county employes will have extra Saturday mornings off because of the change, said Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the County Board of Auditors.

William Dennis, Hazel Park supervisor, noted that people in his area who quit work at 5 p. m. would have a hard time getting to Pontiac conveniently before offices close Friday nights.

Our Stake in Indochina

Are We Moving Toward Intervention? Issues Make U.S. Decision Difficult

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK (INS) — Do you have a feeling that we are being conditioned for participation in the war in Indochina?

A few weeks ago the very suggestion of such participation, if made by someone in authority, might have brought demands from all sides that the man be removed from office as a dangerous interventionist. Now it no longer is a preposterous suggestion.

The way has been paved. The paving began the day we began paying for the French side in that war against Communist-supplied natives.

They may have started fighting for independence but now they are fighting not for independence from France but subservience to Russia.

Since then, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has called for a Pacific version of NATO, and has flown to London and Paris to bolster our reluctant (so far as Indochina is concerned) allies. On top of that, Vice President Nixon, on whom the President places great trust, has said that there is a possibility we'll throw our weight in there.

The vice president is not a man to go off half-cocked.

When the Korean War began, our participation consisted of two rifle companies flown over from the easy life of occupied Japan. The Truman administration would not permit this to be called a war involving Americans. It was a police action, believed at first to be not unlike a skirmish between MP's and AWOL's.

As it turned out the police action lasted longer than our bloody tour of duty in World War I, cost more in dollars, and resulted in an unknown number of American casualties — the figure usually given being about 150,000.

With the possible exception of the War in 1812, it turned out to be the only war we didn't win.

Asiatic and Communist torture methods introduced in this war broke brave men and made them into tools for enemy propaganda. The courts martial of those men and verdicts rendered therein will affect the attitude of U. S. servicemen for generations to come.

The investment of two rifle companies in an obscure land truly snow-balled. Whether we labelled it bluntly or smeared the price

Birmingham Commission Takes No Final Action on Woodward-Hunter Land

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—No final action was taken by the City Commission last night on the possibility of extending Oak street across US 10 but City Manager Donald C. Egbert and a representative of Socony-Vacuum Oil Co. will confer with the State Highway Dept. on sharing the cost of such a project.

The city has been trying to secure the crossover for several years, since the Woodward-Hunter (US 10) intersection just north of Oak has long been considered a traffic hazard.

The proposed extension would cut through the island property which separates Woodward and Hunter and is owned by the oil company.

The firm hopes to develop the land which is in Bloomfield Township. Annexation is being considered in order that the city can provide water and sewage facilities and control traffic.

A proposed 17-page taxicab ordinance was outlined to the lawmakers and will be further discussed with the city manager, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley and owners of the city's two cab companies.

Following a hearing, the way was cleared for widening West Maple avenue from Lake Park to Westchester Way, assessing only business property for the city's share.

War in Indochina—Will We Intervene?

tag, the fact remained that this country said — in effect—"Russia and stooges thereof, hereafter you advance only over our dead bodies."

What is our stake in Indochina as compared to Korea?

We inherited jurisdiction over South Korea after World War II. After three or four years the Truman administration felt it had put the country back on its feet as an independent power and, acceeding to loud demands that the boys be brought home, pulled out and expressed doubts that that part of the world meant anything to us. Into the vacuum thus created moved the Reds. When we fought there we fought for something that was peculiarly our own, or, at least, had been.

This country was not nearly as intimate with the trouble in Indochina, which began about four years before the Korean War. But by now not only is our investment tremendous but we are on record as ready to go to war in behalf of all oppressed friends. In this case, France is oppressed and France is our friend.

We have about 500 men in Indochina. As of this date, none has met with harm. The French guard most of them very well. Those Americans who fly the "Boxcars" meet with no enemy aircraft or gunfire from below. At least one member of Congress has suggested that these men will not be brought home when their time runs out, and nobody in the administration has called for the congressman's impeachment.

There is pretty good reason to believe that troops in this country now are undergoing training which might indicate preparation for war in that part of the world and against that type of opposition.

If we do fight in Indochina we will have the difficult task of explaining to the Indochinese that we are not fighting to maintain French imperialism, and not fighting the old white man's war against the Asiatics. It will be our difficult job to explain that if we do not fight there against fellow Indochinese, who fight for independence from France, worse white men — from the Kremlin — will be the rulers of that coveted part of the world.

It will take some explaining, at home and abroad.

FHA, Tax Men Face Congress

Cole and Andrews to Testify Concerning the Housing Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's housing chief and the head of the Internal Revenue Service were summoned to Capitol Hill today as a congressional investigation of the multimillion-dollar housing scandal went ahead on two fronts.

Albert M. Cole, housing and home finance administrator, faced rigorous questioning by Senate Banking Committee members on various phases of the situation, including the ousting of Guy T. O. Hollyday as federal housing commissioner. Sen. Douglas (D-Ill) called this "incredible."

Cole, who has over-all supervision over the Federal Housing Administration FHA, also was due to undergo quizzing on statements that there may have been collusion between FHA officials and builders of apartment projects who allegedly pocketed as much as half a billion dollars out of oversized government-backed construction loans.

At just about the same time, Commissioner T. Coleman Andrews of the Internal Revenue Service was scheduled to be the first witness at a parallel hearing by the Senate-House Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures headed by Sen. Byrd (D-Va).

Andrews has said his files contain 1,147 cases of builders who he said sought to pay the 26 per cent capital gains tax rather than the 52 per cent corporation income tax on excess profits.

From his Augusta, Ga., vacation headquarters, President Eisenhower yesterday ordered that the revenue service open its income tax files so the Banking Committee can look into the returns of these builders for the 1942-1953 period. Nothing was said about permitting the Byrd committee to have a look.

* * *

The Banking Committee met a blank wall yesterday in efforts to question Clyde L. Powell, who has tried to resign as assistant FHA commissioner in charge of rental housing. His resignation has not been accepted.

Powell was subpoenaed after he refused to testify voluntarily and when the committee started questioning him, he declined to answer, claiming his Fifth Amendment privilege against possible self-incrimination.

Styles Started by Southwest

Clothes and Furniture Show Fiesta, Ranch Influences

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)— The easy-going but colorful life that is typical of Texas and the Southwest made its mark on other parts of the United States during 1953.

Fashions, home furnishings designed and created in the Lone Star State were sent far and wide.

Typical of women's fashions from the southwest were the "fiesta style" clothes, a mixup of the Mexican and Indian influence which added up to flowing skirts, pretty ruffles and bright colors.

A western slack suit, more aptly described as a modified cowboy suit for women, made a successful 1953 debut.

Texas is the home of the country's largest manufacturer of men's slacks and the millions of pairs spread around the U. S. stressed color and easily-cared-for fabrics.

To the nation's furniture departments, Texas sent more of its famed ranch-oak furniture, manufactured in Fort Worth.

It's a sturdy style designed after the rough-hewn furniture the western pioneers used in their homes, but brought up to date with plastic upholstery and finishes that are guaranteed to stand the ravages of rough and tumble wear.

The Southwest's contribution to Mrs. America's home furnishing was a prettier, but just as practical, version of the famed Texasware, the molded plastic dinnerware that doesn't look, feel or taste like plastic.

The dinnerware comes in bright or pastel colors, in a simple, efficient design. This year the manufacturer added "San Jacinto Contemporary" to the line — the color is flecked and the makers say a new process makes it even stronger.

Dulles Will Fight Any Appeasement

U. S. forces will be sent to Indochina.

He is sticking to the position that the French will have the upper hand in the fighting in another year but that meanwhile the free world must do everything feasible to help stem the Communist attack.

Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass) declared late yesterday that the administration has assured him there has been no change in U. S. Indochina policy. This is to avoid the commitment of American troops under present circumstances. It does not rule out their use in some future emergency.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson charged that Vice President Richard M. Nixon was "whooping it up for war" when he said last week, in a hypothetical discussion, that U. S. troops might be used in Indochina in the unlikely event France withdrew.

afraid of the two couriers who were armed," Menzies' statement said. "I then instructed Government Secretary R. S. Leydin to meet Mrs. Petrov on arrival and ask her if she wanted asylum.

"The officers engaged the couriers in conversation. Then Leydin stepped in and asked Mrs. Petrov if she wanted to stay."

After the couriers had been disarmed, Leydin talked with Mrs. Petrov and she asked for asylum.

"She also said she did not believe her husband was alive, whereupon arrangements were made for Petrov to telephone his wife at Darwin," Menzies' statement said.

Mrs. Petrov's husband was third secretary at the Soviet embassy and chief of police agent in Australia. When he asked for asylum two weeks ago he turned over information on Australian espionage and enabled intelligence operatives to crack the Soviet code.

Mrs. Petrov was taken to Government House to "rest" under heavy guard. She was expected to leave for Sydney on the first available plane, possibly tonight.

Polio Vaccine Tests Will Start on Monday

announced earlier this month that it would withhold approval of the vaccine until it was assured the substance is safe, powerful enough to immunize and backed by a responsible agency's "legal and moral responsibility."

Bromme said careful exploration has convinced the society and its executive committee that it would be well to go ahead with the inoculation program in efforts to stamp out polio.

"It (the society) is interested in cooperating with any public health experiment that holds promise of good for our citizens," he said.

The society's announcement apparently removed all barriers against proposals to vaccinate 100,000 of Michigan school children in nationwide field tests of the newly-developed vaccine.

Plans have been made to give injections to certain school children in Bay, Calhoun, Ingham, Kent, Lenawee, Macomb, Monroe, Muskegon, Oakland, Ottawa and St. Clair Counties.

Washtenaw county originally had been scheduled for inoculations but it withdrew April 10 when the medical society announced that it would withhold its endorsement until further investigation.

"It is likely that certain children — perhaps between 100 and 150 in the nationwide test — will react adversely to the penicillin content in the vaccine," Bromme said.

"This is not alarming," he added "nor is the possibility that other children will react adversely to other ingredients among the 28 included in the vaccine."

U.S. Relatively Safe, Wilson Maintains

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says he believes the United States is "relatively secure" from surprise atomic attack and even more secure from sustained aerial assault.

Wilson said Russia would lose many bombers and trained crews in the initial stages of any air war over America "and I do not believe they could keep it up."

Testifying recently before a House Appropriations subcommittee considering the defense budget, Wilson challenged an opinion of Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) that the United States is "highly vulnerable to atomic attack at this time."

The secretary said he believes the nation is vulnerable but "relatively secure," adding that he believes the Russians "have been much more afraid of us than we are of them."

McCarthy Near Accord in Row

Rumor Says Committee to Permit Questioning by Both Parties

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — With only two days to go, investigating senators sought today to complete the rules for their public hearings to probe the McCarthy-Army row.

As the Senate investigations subcommittee arranged a closed door meeting today to consider the problem, informed quarters said the group seemed near an agreement that Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his Army antagonists should be allowed to question one another and other witnesses. But the informants emphasized that a hitch in the arrangements was possible.

The issue involves how far McCarthy will step to the sidelines while the subcommittee, which he heads, investigates his dispute with top Army officials.

* * *

McCarthy and two of his subcommittee aides planned, meanwhile, to provide during the day a "bill of particulars" outlining what they will attempt to prove against top Army officials, plus a reply to the Army's charges that McCarthy and the aides "sought by improper means" to get special favors in the Army for Pvt. G. David Schine, former unpaid subcommittee consultant.

McCarthy and his aides, Roy M. Cohn and Francis P. Carr, have accused Secretary of the Army Stevens and John G. Adams, Army general counsel, of using "blackmail" tactics in efforts to halt subcommittee investigations of the Army.

* * *

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), who will preside at the inquiry, has said the bill of particulars approach was adopted to hold the inquiry within limits, and to give each side a final opportunity to expand or reduce its original accusations.

Mundt told reporters yesterday he is "confident" the televised hearings will start on schedule Thursday. He said the special subcommittee staff predicts it will take 10 days to two weeks of morning and afternoon hearings to complete the job.

City Brothers to Be Examined

Face Washtenaw Court April 29; Cox Told to Get Own Counsel

Two Pontiac brothers demanded examination yesterday in Ann Arbor on armed robbery charges and another local man, who faces similar charges, was turned back to his cell until he can find legal counsel.

Charles Edward Ervin, 37, and his brother, Gordon, 27, were unable to furnish $30,000 cash bond each set by Ann Arbor Municipal Court.

They will be examined April 29 on the charge that they participated in a $4,826 supermarket holdup there Feb. 26.

Hugh T. "Buddy" Cox, 21, of 88 W. Mansfield Ave. was denied a court-appointed lawyer in Federal Court in Detroit yesterday, when the judge learned that Cox had money in his possession.

The court ordered Cox to obtain his own legal counsel before trying him for the $53,000 robbery of the Dearborn branch of the Manufacturers National Bank April 2.

An accused companion of Cox, James J. Minder Jr., 24, of Dearborn, pleaded guilty to the bank robbery last week and is awaiting sentence. Both are being held on $50,000 bond.

Cox's wife, Juanita, 19, arrested with Cox and Minder in a Dearborn home by federal agents and Dearborn Police, is now free in the custody of her lawyer, pending a hearing in Oakland County Probate Court May 3.

A phone call to Mrs. Cox by the Ervins led to their arrest last week when they asked her to meet them at Union Depot, but were met instead by Detroit Police.

6 County Committees Get New Chairmen for 1954-55

Six committees of Oakland County Board of Supervisors got new leaders Monday as Floyd Andrews, board chairman, named committees for the 1954-55 year.

New chairmen are Charles R. Miller, auditor-general committee; Theodore F. Hughes, bylaws; Louis F. Oldenburg, health; Roy F. Goodspeed, local taxes; Mrs. Hope F. Lewis, welfare; and Ransford Bromley, civil defense.

The board passes a tentative county budget of $6,513,164.84 for 1955, approved Andrews' committee slate and finshed off several bits of business in the two-hour session.

Supervisors told the board of auditors to take bids for a test well on the "county center" land west of Telegraph road, where road commission headquarters and the new county farmers' market will be built. The board set a limit of $2,000 on the cost of the test well.

Supervisors' flower committee, headed by Mrs. Genevieve Schock, passed the hat to board members. Supervisors donated $139 for flowers for sick or bereaved members during the coming year.

Andrews and Delos Hamlin, re-elected chairman and vice-chairman at last week's session, passed cigars and candy at Monday's meeting.

The board's new committees for the year starting this month are listed below. The first member named in each committee is chairman. New members are identified by asterisks after their names.

Broadens Powers of State Osteopaths

Millard reversed a 1935 ruling and held that an osteopath is qualified by training and legal standing to sign certificates for the commitment of insane and feebleminded persons. Until now, this right has been reserved for medical doctors.

Noting that the law requires commitment certificates to be signed by a physician, Millard held that osteopaths are physicians practicing a "school of medicine recognized by the laws of Michigan."

Pilgrimages as a Christian practice began to have increasing importance about the ninth century.

Fire Destroys UM Lab at Willow Run Airport

YPSILANTI (INS) — Firemen from ten communities last night fought a blaze which destroyed one of the University of Michigan's air research buildings at Willow Run Airport.

Expensive equipment used in research on combustion, transmission, and icing was extensively damaged. Loss was estimated at $200,000.

Greatest Development in Brewing Since Repeal!

NOW GOEBEL IS FROST-FINISHED FOR FINER FLAVOR

FF
FROST-FINISHED for Finer Flavor

Perfected in Goebel's great research laboratories

For more than 20 years brewers have been striving to brew a light, dry beer that's low in sugar and starch, yet still retains its fine, full flavor. Now this has been accomplished by Goebel's great new Frost-Finishing process!

This important contribution to brewing, the result of years of research by Goebel scientists, reduces sugar and starch content to a minimum while, at the same time, it actually improves the flavor.

Frost-Finishing is two additional brewing steps. Twice, before it is bottled, the temperature of the beer is suddenly plunged to points close to freezing. This sudden reduction in temperature removes excess sugars and starches, and allows the beer to reach its true flavor peak.

Allotment Board Picks Chairman

County Treasurer Gets Post at First Meeting Monday

The Oakland County Tax Allocation Board chose Charles A. Sparks, county treasurer, as chairman at its first meeting Monday afternoon.

The six-man board met briefly in the county court house and adjourned until May 3.

The board must split the 15 mills of taxes allowed here between the county, school systems and townships which want to spread taxes not voted by the public.

The government units have turned in tentative budgets; but until the county board of supervisors sets an equalized value on the county, the tax board can't proceed. The supervisors passed a tentative county budget of $6,513,164.84 Monday and sent it to the tax board.

Sparks; Robert Y. Moore, chairman of the county board of auditors, and William J. Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County Schools, are automatically members of the tax board because of the jobs they hold. Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore has named James S. Thorburn, of Royal Oak; Harcourt S. Patterson, of Pontiac, and Howard Warner, of Farmington, as the other three members.

Taipeh Cosmopolitan Except for Night Life

TAIPEH (AP) — More than 3,000 foreigners now live in Formosa, the majority in Taipeh, giving this capital city of Nationalist China some of the cosmopolitan atmosphere which once prevailed in Shanghai and other former treaty ports on the mainland.

There is no chance, however, of Taipeh ever becoming the Paris of the East as was Shanghai. The government's austerity program prevents that.

Air Force Missile Range Extended to 3,500 Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force plans to extend its 1,000-mile-long guided missile range in the Atlantic Ocean by 3,500 miles.

The test range now stretches from Florida to Puerto Rico. The projected extension would carry it to tiny Ascension Island, in the south Atlantic midway between Brazil and Africa.

Liquor License Renewals on Agenda of Commission

Pontiac City Commission tonight is scheduled to consider renewing class C, tavern and hotel liquor licenses for 1954.

Renewal of 27 of the licenses was deferred last week on request of Commissioner Floyd P. Miles. He requested time to study the legality of the last 12 class C liquor-by-the-glass permits issued.

Miles stated he thought the last dozen licenses might be illegal because they increased the total over the 24 allowed by a city ordinance. Including the 12 questioned by Miles, there are 35 class C permits in Pontiac.

Last week City Attorney William A. Ewart said he considered the Pontiac ordinance illegal because it conflicts with a state law allowing one class C license for every 1,500 people in Pontiac. Under the state ruling Pontiac could have up to 54 such licenses, Ewart said.

This doesn't mean that Pontiac must have 54 class C places, said the attorney, but only that an ordinance setting a lower number would probably be illegal.

In other action the commission is expected to appoint two of its members to fill vacancies on the City Plan Commission and the board of trustees for the city retirement system.

Two citizens are also slated for appointment to the housing commission and the Fair Employment Practices Board.

Commissioners are also expected to consider Pontiac's off-street parking problem.

Cost estimates are expected for planned construction of:

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Longfellow from Baldwin to University; on Second from Joslyn to Barkell; and on Tennyson from Joslyn to Highwood.

A communication is slated from J. A. Fredman, Inc., requesting a change in the contract for construction of the northside branch library.

South Boulevard from the Belt Line Railroad to Opdyke.

Paddock from the Michigan Airline Railroad to Jessie.

A bid is slated from the Pilgrim Holiness Church for purchase of the west 95 feet of lots 123 through 127 inclusive of Hillside Manor Subdivision.

Declarations of public necessity are expected for:

Curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Tennyson from Joslyn to Highwood.

Grade, gravel and necessary culverts on Highwood from Sheffield to Princeton; Princeton from Highwood to the east line of Glenwood Estates Subdivision; and Laurel from Sheffield to Princeton.

A request is scheduled from the Northside Community Club for a festival and permission to display fireworks July 3 through 5.

Confirmation of special assessment rolls are expected for:

Storm drain in right of way and alley from Harris Lake to Montcalm; in the south side of Montcalm from Young to Portland; and in the north side of Montcalm from Wing to Portland.

Confirmation is scheduled of a special assessment roll for a water main in Sheffield from Baldwin to University.

A public hearing is scheduled on a special assessment roll for curb, gutter, drainage and related work on Hazel Bend from Belmont to Jessie.

Michigan was the first state to permit women to serve on juries, the act passed in 1915. Maine and Utah legislatures followed shortly thereafter, with similar enabling acts.

Strawberry Output Up

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The nation's leading strawberry state, California, is expected to produce 25 per cent more berries this year than the 93 million pound crop in 1953, 41 per cent of the national crop. The state's acreage is being increased by more than 1,000 acres to 10,500.

Flu Strikes Just Twice

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Howard Butler, 39, recently missed a day from work for the first time in 19 years. He had influenza.

Butler, a laundry plant superintendent, had flue once before. During the 1918 epidemic doctors said he wouldn't live through it. He hasn't been seriously ill since.

Gas Rate Order Hit

Though its effect is to reduce a natural gas rate increase effective since December 1952, a Federal Power Commission order is the target of Republican attack.

By a vote of four to one the commission lopped nearly $9,000,000 off a $21,400,000 rate increase ordered by Panhandle Eastern Pipeline. Just how this will affect the 1,000,000 Michigan consumers of Panhandle gas isn't yet clear.

But it does appear that the pipeline company will have to refund $32,000,000 to 48 utilities companies in six midwestern States. Among those utilities is Consumers Power Co. which uses Panhandle gas exclusively to service its 375,000 customers.

This gas is purchased from the Michigan Gas Storage Co. For that reason David H. Gerhard, Consumers southeastern division manager, says it is impossible to tell yet how the FPC order will affect gas users here.

The fact that FPC has reduced the amount of the rate increase hasn't saved it from criticism by Sen. Ferguson, Rep. Oakman and other Republicans. Their reasons are the same which prompted introduction of the Ferguson-Oakman bill.

Its aim is to block FPC's willingness to grant Panhandle Eastern a new rate making base. Heretofore that base has been the actual cost of gas reserves and facilities. Panhandle wants reproduction cost to be the rate base.

★ ★ ★

Claude L. Draper, only member of the GOP dominated FPC to vote against the rate raise, contends that a large part of the increase is "wholly unjustifiable." The facts lend weight to this opinion which reportedly is shared by Michigan members of Congress who are critical of FPC's action.

Helicopter Jeeps Near

Though it will be of only academic interest to most people, we think it is big news that the day of the helicopter jeep appears at hand.

Both the Army and Marine Corps are pushing development of these tiny flying windmills. Progress has been such that the motor of one of them can be changed with tools as simple as a screw driver and a jack knife.

Another model is so small and light that the operator straps it it to his shoulders instead of getting aboard and presumably flies through the air with the greatest of ease.

★ ★ ★

Our Army and Marine Corps are interested mainly in the additional mobility these machines can supply. The matter of overcoming such obstacles as mud, water and mountains remains an important problem for the military. But it isn't necessary to be a five star general to realize the advantages these machines would have over paratroop and glider operations.

★ ★ ★

For civilians, however, the greatest interest in these flying jeeps lies in their possibilities as a new form of individual transportation.

The day may be nearer than anyone now thinks when the more adventurous among us will use a jeep helicopter with folding rotor to fly like a bird from home to office.

Wings World Champions

If anyone in this part of North America doubted that Detroit's Red Wings are the Yankees of professional hockey, that doubt no longer exists.

It evaporated as suddenly and dramatically as Tony Leswick's overtime goal brought the Stanley Cup back to Detroit with $18,000 in it for the players to split. That victory further adorns a winning record that rivals the Yankees' diamond triumphs.

The Wings now have won six consecutive NHL season races. They also have captured the Stanley Cup, symbolic of world hockey supremacy, six times since Jack Adams' arrival in Detroit.

In fairness to the Canadiens it must be said that they lost no luster in defeat. Actually when the winning goal came they were fresher and stronger than the Wings. Besides, they had to their credit the unusual feat of forcing the seventh game to sudden death overtime after trailing in the series three games to one.

★ ★ ★

By coming through the NHL's gruelling playoffs to final victory, the Red Wings join the Detroit Lions in strengthening Detroit's claim to being the City of Champions.

An advance peek at proofs for the 1954 edition of the annual directory issued by reveals some remarkable progress figures. It shows how we're tops among the state's 83 counties in many respects, including public recreational areas and other things that make for better living. We are second only to Wayne County in population, industry, assessed valuation, automobiles and in several other respects. Our growth in percentage of population that comes from outside the state is over twice the percentage of the state itself. We lead all other counties in this respect. In other words, when they're moving to Michigan they prefer Oakland County.

Joseph Fisher Says Dumping of Gravel, Sludge in Lake May Destroy Fish Beds

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical to its nature.)

A very unsightly situation now exists at the once beautiful Maceday Lake, in the vicinity of Ward's Gravel Pit.

Last fall a petition was signed by myself and other residents of the comunity and was forwarded to the State Conservation Department to have this condition corrected. However the gravel pit owners continue to dump pea gravel and sludge into the lake.

Their trucks have destroyed all the roadside shrubs and trees and the drivers lunching, throw their refuse and cans around the area and into the lake. I am sure that the conditions are hurting the fishing and spawning by destroying the fish beds.

Any action that any sportsmen can take to clean up this dirty mess would be greatly appreciated by all the people of the county and especially the people living in this community.

Claim Waitress Must Be Lawyer, Dietician, Etc.

We are waitresses and noticed a letter in this column on Friday heralding the efforts of the hard-working waitress.

We claim that a waitress nowadays has to be a paychologist, lawyer, dietician, doctor and a grand gal to get along with, all rolled up in one. We may set up a gripe bureau and charge an extra fee in addition to the meal ticket.

Senators May Regret Ceding Power to Executive Branch in McCarthy Case

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Several of the members of the United States Senate are slowly awakening to the fact that they have built a Frankenstein monster in what they are doing in the case of the dispute between the civilian officials of the Army and the junior senator from Wisconsin, Joseph R. McCarthy, Republican.

For, any time in the future a department or agent of the executive branch of the government wishes to restrain a senator who refuses to do its bidding, it can dig out of its files some letter or communication and proclaim that the request was "improper" — as it has done in the case of McCarthy versus the office of the legal counsel of the Army.

It can publicize the charges, and the Senate, to be consistent with the precedent it now is establishing, must then immediately ask a committee to investigate and the senator accused must temporarily step out of his position on the committee and perhaps lose his right to cross-examine witnesses. This immediately subjects him to a curtailment of his rights as a United States senator.

But this can be legalized because the Senate itself may, by a two-thirds vote, expel a senator. Hence, to take him off a committee and deny him the right to face his accusers could be construed as implicitly within the rules of the Senate.

Up to now Congress has had the thing all to itself. It can pass laws forbidding executive officials from lobbying or using "improper means" to influence Congress. It can impeach anyone in the judicial and executive branches of the government. Such is the power the people gave Congress under the Constitution.

But now, without benefit of constitutional amendment, a way has been devised whereby in the future a majority party with a narrow margin of one vote can get another vote or two if charges can be brought which in the eyes of the people will discredit a senator.

Many senators are vulnerable to attack because some of them own large holdings of stocks and bonds in companies with defense contracts. Charles E. Wilson was forced to sell his holdings before he could be confirmed as secretary of defense, and public opinion would probably demand that senators do likewise if the issue were ever pressed in a specific case.

Also senators have been known in the past to vote on pending bills which directly or indirectly could affect the value of the investments they hold. Unlike judges, they do not uniformly disqualify themselves from voting.

Then there is the matter of outside income received by members of Congress. Several members continue to get fees from their law firms. Some accept fees for public speaking from organizations which have legislation pending in Congress.

It would seem logical, after the McCarthy case is over, that efforts may be made to force all these cases into the open and then deprive senators from participating in the trial of their own cases.

The senators who look upon the prosecution of the McCarthy case with approbation today may some day wish they hadn't. For — as Sen. Mundt of South Dakota, acting chairman of the McCarthy case, has said publicly — neither side has violated a law or committed a crime and, unless a perjury case emerges, no punishment can be meted out.

Then what is the present controversy all about? It is really a new kind of public trial carried on in the name of the United States Senate, with the defendant one of its members whose views happen to be unpopular with a segment of the electorate and whose methods in the conduct of his investigating committee have drawn sharp criticism from various quarters.

The accusation that "improper means" were used by him to secure from an executive department special treatment for a staff member of his committee is just a trumped-up charge and, though the Pentagon has often been the recipient of many oral requests for special treatment in the past, no such case was ever brought into the open before.

It is, in brief, a new way by which the executive branch of the government, by an indictment in the court of public opinion, can in the future apply restraint or pressure upon members of the Senate, either because they may have failed to vote for the appropriations desired by the executive or because they may have too penetratingly exercised their power to investigate executive departments.

It could be a far-reaching precedent and had better be carried now by the Wisconsin senator to the floor of the Senate for decision by roll-call vote before more precedents are established that will make the Senate a subservient tool of the executive branch of the government.

Try Frequent 'Briefing' to Insure Personal Joy

Rodney shows why American aviation is the best in the world. For our pilots get "briefed" every time a disaster occurs, even though it is on European airlines. We married folks should likewise "brief" ourselves every time we read of a divorce and thus be on better guard to maintain a happy marriage. Use the tests below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-380: Rodney Stair, aged about 35, is a very talented pilot on one of our great commercial airlines.

"Whenever a plane crashes," he said, "we pilots are called in for a briefing of the event.

"That's true even if our lines are not involved and the crash may have occurred in a distant line in Europe.

"We go over the causes of the crash and get a refresher lesson in safety to keep us dubly on guard.

"For the private American passenger lines are the finest in the world and they don't let down for an instant in safeguarding their reputation.

I am quoting Mr. Stair today because the airlines know the danger that is described by the adage "Familiarly breeds contempt."

Men may work around hazardous machinery or in coal mines or with gasoline or high explosives and finally get so calloused to their situation that they violate the anti-smoking rules.

For example, I quit patronizing a certain gasoline station because the attendant filled the tank while holding a lighted cigar in his mouth.

He'd peer down into the tank to watch the raw gasoline flow with a spark not three feet away from it and likely to drop at any moment.

I had warned him and others had done the same, but he was so accustomed to having the cigar in his mouth that he did'nt know he was endangering himself as well as his patrons.

A few years ago I read an article by Westbrook Pegler in which he stated that most of the disasters in the coal mines were caused by the miners themselves who would light matches or smoke in areas labelled "Danger" and liberally placarded with "No Smoking" signs.

Pegler then pointed out that the usual buck-passing technique is to blame the mine owners and complain to the state about lack of adequate safeguards, when the real cause for a large majority of accidents is carelessness by the men themselves who violate those posted rules.

There are two general types of mistakes that plague human beings. One is due to inadequate knowledge. Such an error of ignorance may not even be your fault.

Thus, the doctors who bled George Washington during his fatal illness, thought they were being scientific. For in those days the fire of the body was regarded as the blood. If a patient then had a fever, they believed they could lower the temperature simply by draining off blood.

So they let about a quart of Washington's vital fluid drain from his veins, and indirectly caused his death by this error of ignorance.

But most of our mistakes are not due to ignorance but are traced directly to carelessness. We are so familiar with the situation that we become contemptuous of its hazard.

That's why most accidents occur at railroad crossings, too, though they are usually plainly marked.

That's why it is also so important that we take frequent inventory of our behavior as married folks or parents, for we usually fail by lazily ignoring acts that we know we should perform.

So send for my 100-point "Tests for Husbands & Wives" and rate yourself thereon at least every month.

It's much like the fire drills we urge upon school children. Except in marriage the fire of love may go out unless you go through these frequent drills.

Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper enclosing a long 3-cent stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Brady Tells His Story of Sen. Harding; Says Our Presidents Should Be Well

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Old timers may remember that I examined Gov. Cox of Ohio when he was candidate for the presidency and Sen. Harding of Ohio when he was a candidate, and gave a report on them both in this column.

Gov. Cox was in excellent physical condition and he knew it.

He went through the functional tests as though he enjoyed it. I could only give him an A in my report.

Sen. Harding proved hard to interview. Before he would even answer questions he exacted a promise that I would print nothing without obtaining his written consent. He was in bad physical condition and he knew it.

I told a number of people in confidence that I doubted the senator would live to serve out a term as president. But I couldn't print it.

Today some one sent me a newspaper clipping about a forthcoming book in which the changes in President Roosevelt's handwriting over the years of his public service will be interpreted as indicative of his physical and mental fitness or decline.

This may be interesting but such diagnosis by handwriting is not to be taken seriously.

It seemed likely enough, from pictures of President Roosevelt at Yalta that the man was in very bad physical condition.

I thought then, as I have thought ever since the Harding administration, that a candidate for the presidency should have to meet a reasonable standard of health, and a chief executive in office should be required to maintain reasonable physical health, as officers in the Army are required to, from year to year, or else retire.

Sen. Harding had a lovable personality and as for Franklin D. Roosevelt, I loved and admired him as much as I did his cousin Ted.

But I don't care who the man may be or how much anybody or everybody loves him, when he passes his physiological (not chronological) peak his judgment in matters of importance becomes less and less reliable.

For this reason he should be retired before something regrettable happens.

If Army officers retire almost automatically at the age of 64 and business corporations arbitrarily reject applicants past forty, why should we ever allow an ailing man to preside over the welfare of our country?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

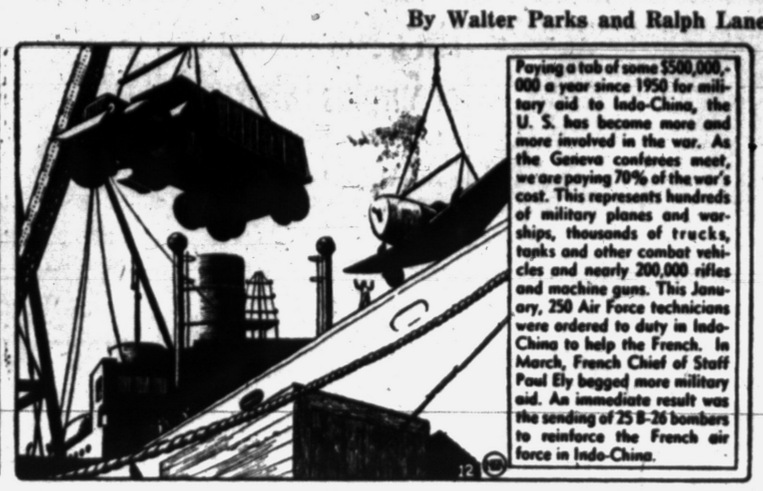
INDO-CHINA—The World's Oldest War

By Walter Parks and Ralph Lane

France and Viet Nam have paid heavily in their fight against the Reds. Up to the present time, French national forces alone lost 34,600 killed and missing, including 16,500 Frenchmen. Wounded numbered 34,500. Viet Nam lost 31,900 killed and more than 2,000,000 Indo-Chinese civilians were made homeless. But the Communists' toll was heavier—estimated at 222,000 killed and 230,000 captured.



Paying a tab of some $500,000,000 a year since 1950 for military aid to Indo-China, the U. S. has become more and more involved in the war. As the Geneva conferees meet, we are paying 70% of the war's cost. This represents hundreds of military planes and warships, thousands of trucks, tanks and other combat vehicles and nearly 200,000 rifles and machine guns. This January, 250 Air Force technicians were ordered to duty in Indo-China to help the French. In March, French Chief of Staff Paul Ely begged more military aid. An immediate result was the sending of 25 B-26 bombers to reinforce the French air force in Indo-China.

Roosevelt Plans to Seek Divorce

James Offers His Wife Property Settlement of About Half His Estate

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — James Roosevelt, whose marital affairs have become involved in his candidacy for Congress, has offered his wife a property settlement and plans to sue for divorce.

The eldest son of the late President filed notice in Superior Court here yesterday that he will petition on April 30 for leave to amend his separate maintenance suit to ask for a divorce instead.

The document quoted a letter between attorneys for the Roosevelts indicating that his wife Romelle also will ask for a divorce on grounds of cruelty, the same as in her husband's projected suit.

In the proposed property settlement, Roosevelt agrees to give his wife half his stock holdings in his various corporations, the family home in Pasadena with household furniture and furnishings, the family automobile, and to drop any contest over the ownership of stocks, bonds, real estate, bank accounts and insurance policies to the total value of more than $100,000 in her possession.

He also promises to pay Mrs. Roosevelt half his annual net income for her support and that of the children, and to transfer to her all money now on deposit in his name. He agrees to place in a trust fund for the children half of any property he might acquire in the future and anything above $50,000 he may inherit from the estate of his father should he survive his mother, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt, after payment of any sum now pledged against his inheritance.

The chances are that you think well of Pontiac's appearance. Most people do. In fact, most people call the big, luxurious Silver Streak America's most distinctive car.

But that, as owners will be quick to state, is only a fraction of Pontiac's appeal. It is just as distinguished in action as in looks—America's great all-around performer.

One reason is Pontiac's engine. Governor Signs 7 Acts Into Law

One Permits Korean Veterans to Serve as Fund Trustees

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams today signed seven legislative acts into law, including one permitting Korean War veterans to be members of the state and county boards of trustees of the Veterans' Trust Fund.

The bills:

Permit taxpayers to have personal property assessed on the tax date, Jan. 1, or on an average monthly inventory of the previous 12 calendar months, instead of the prior fiscal year.

Remove the requirement that real estate acquired by municipalities for slum clearance must be sold at public auction.

Allow the redetermination of inland lake levels in the same way as the original determination was made.

Allow the State Aeronautics Department to lease land at the Lansing Airport for 50 years, instead of the present 20.

Housewives Set to Vie for Title of Mrs. America

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (UP) —A beauty contest in which a hemline counts more than a bustline gets under way here Wednesday with 50 beautiful housewives competing for the title of Mrs. America of 1954.

There will be beauty in abundance in the four-day competition but a neatly sewed seam and a deep-dish apple pie will count more than physical perfection with the judges.

The 50 housewives from each of the 48 states, District of Columbia and Canada have been selected from photographs and "favorite recipes" to compete for the $15,000 grand prize which includes a trip to Europe.

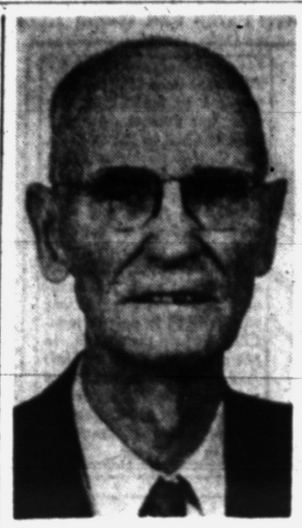
The contestants have received an all-expense paid trip to Elinor Village near here where each family will be assigned to an individual gas-equipped home.

Mrs. America will have to cook, sew, iron, clean house, prepare menus, keep her husband and children happy and still manage to look fresh and beautiful in a bathing suit.

All hubby and the kids have to o is bask on the beach and criticise mom's cooking.

One of the favorites in the competition is an attractive 42-year-old grandmother from Wilsall, Mont., who may be hard to beat in the cooking department. She is Mrs. Carrie Toresdahl, a U. S. rural letter carrier and mother of three daughters, who submitted a secret fudge recipe which still has the judges licking their lips.

The danger that the Moslems might conquer Europe was continually present from 622 to 1638 when they were turned back from the siege of Vienna.



WILLIAM POTTS

Pontiac Masonic Lodge 21 announced that a certificate of recognition and a gold pin were presented to William Potts, 92, of 73½ West End Ave., recently by the Grand Lodge of Tennessee for his 50 years of continuous membership in Hess Lodge of Dyersburg, Tenn. The gold pin awarded Potts, who came to Pontiac in 1939, indicates he has been a Master Mason for a half century. He was congratulated officially in this month's Masonic publication, the Pontiac Masonic News.

Searchers Comb Mountain Area for 3-Year-Old

The little girl, daughter of Mrs. Goldie Sherman of Kingwood, has been missing since Easter morning when she wandered away from the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Sites, about 20 miles north of here.

State Trooper W. G. Cunningham said the little girl was wearing only a thin dress, shoes and socks when she wandered off.

List 3 More Areas of Surplus Labor

LANSING (AP)—The governor's office reported today federal authorities have declared three more surplus labor areas in Michigan. This brings the state's total to 10.

The new additions, the office said, are Iron Mountain, Jackson and Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti.

Previously Detroit, Battle Creek, Bay City, Muskegon, Monroe and Ionia-Belding-Greenville were declared to have a sufficiently large unemployment to warrant consideration in the awarding of government contracts.

Baby Death Toll Hits 12

READING, England (AP) — The death toll of newly born babies in the Dellwood Maternity Hospital fire reached 12 today as doctors fought desperately to save the lives of the three surviving infants. Fire swept the nursery ward of the hospital Sunday.

Cut Your Cost of Long Distance Calls

Instead of paying 25% federal excise tax on Long Distance calls, you now pay 10%.

The reductions are of direct benefit to all users of Long Distance telephone service. For your telephone bill is lowered by the entire difference between the old and new tax.

The tax cuts apply to all calls billed to you on or after April 1.

The lower tax rates make Long Distance calls —always low in cost—an even bigger bargain.

NEWS ABOUT THE MODERN LIVING CAR

Come on- if you like to set new trends

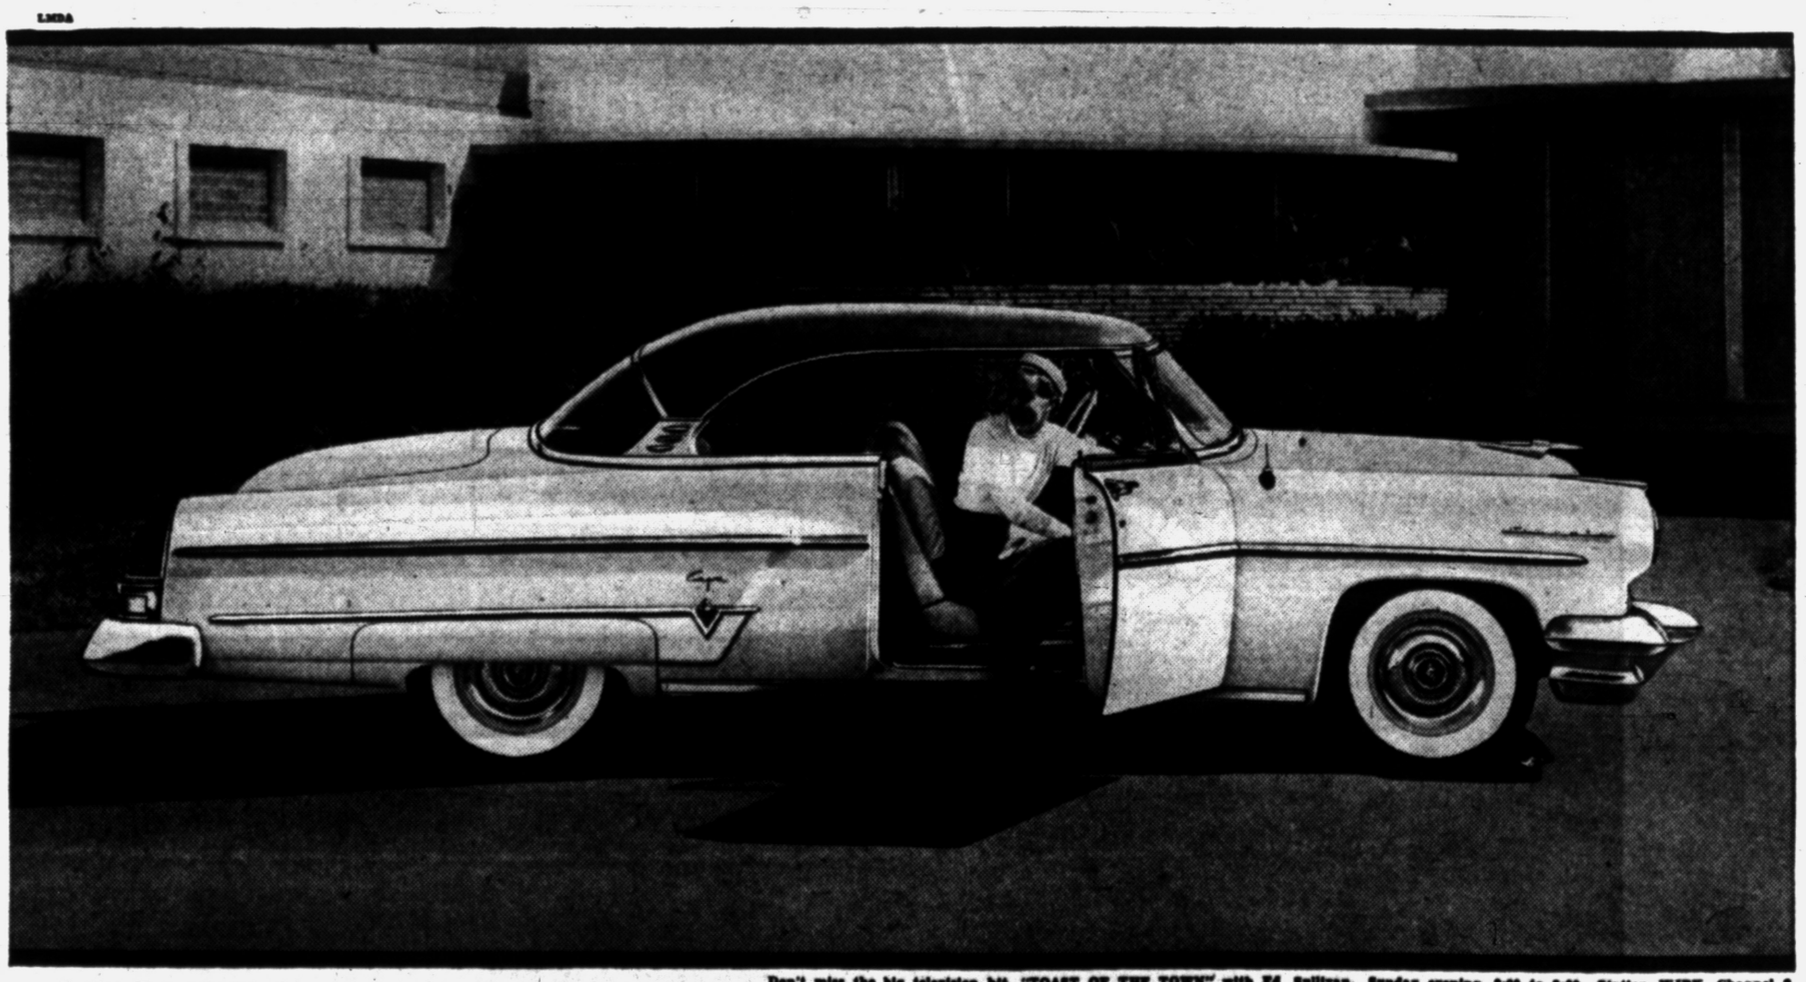
The world's divided into two kinds of people: those who follow, and those who set new trends. If you're the trend-setter type, we talk the same language, about many things.

You are probably among the first in your community with the latest in home decorations, books, records, with new ideas. You like active living. And you want your driving to be as modern as your living. You are what we call the "Lincoln type."

So, when you go places, you go in a Lincoln. You like its stable ride, surging power, and the firm, responsive control of ball-joint front suspension. You like the terse, clean lines of Lincoln—its purposeful lack of useless bulges, curves, and excessive brightwork.

You're the confident type. You drive a Lincoln because it's somehow like you. It doesn't have to boast—to shout. You know—and they know—that you have all the performance that could be desired in a fine car: performance that may not be matched for years.

If you are driving another car, but feel you are the "Lincoln type"—won't you see us? The moment you drive the Lincoln or Lincoln Capri, you'll discover why the trend to this fine car is growing so fast.



Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN" with Ed Sullivan. Sunday evening, 8:00 to 9:00. Station WJBK, Channel 2.

County Accepts $3,560 for Land

Supervisors Put Five More Parcels, 3 With Houses, on Sale

Oakland County Board of Supervisors Monday approved the sale of $3,560 worth of county land and put five more parcels on the auction block, three of them with houses.

The board's action was suggested by its buildings and grounds committee, headed by Harry W. Horton.

The County Board of Auditors will take bids on the five new pieces of land, all in Pontiac. The highest cash offers will take lot 200 of Bloomfield Hills Addition and lot 327, Crystal Lake Subdivision.

Buyers can have time payments on the other three plots of land. These are houses and lots at 61 School St., 451 S. Anderson St. and 180 Wall St.

Horton explained the land was given to the County Social Welfare Commission by welfare patients to settle their bills in the County Infirmary. Selling it, he said, is just a way of getting back some of the money paid out for the patients' care.

The board accepted J. A. Tillson's offer of $500 for lots 239 and 240 of Bloomfield Hills Addition.

Three other pieces of land have been sold to high bidders, Horton reported.

Mary Drake bought lots 217 and 218 of Bloomfield Hills Addition for $1,500; Don C. Derragon, lot 69 of McConnell Addition in Pontiac for $1,260; and Leonard Pahoiak, lots 435 and 436 of West Bloomfield's Dewey Beach Subdivision for $300.

FLOODS BRING JOY AND SORROW—These youngsters seem elated as they wade through the deep water near their home town of Elsa, Texas, in the Rio Grande Valley. However, the floods caused by torrential rains have driven more than 4,000 from their homes in the area which was almost waterless a week ago. Note depth of water on car at left.

Who Is the "George" That Will Start the Next War?

According to ancient prophecy, a man named Gog, of the Land of Magog, will bring about the worst war in history. A new book, entitled "Beware of These Days!" reveals that the Land of Magog is Russia, and that "Gog" is an ancient spelling for the name of George. There are several leaders named Georgi now prominent in Russia; so the author warns that any one of them is likely to be the prophesied Gog.

The astounding 64 page book, which gives a complete analysis of several great prophecies covering these times, is offered free of charge by Edwin J. Dingle, well known explorer and geographer. He tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happniess. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

These strange methods were found in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long-hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled man to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods of using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

The 64-page book he is now offering free to the public offers guidance for those who wisely wish to prepare their affairs for the great crisis ahead. It gives details of what to anticipate, and when. Those who do pull through will have little to fear, because a glorious era will follow. Meantime, it says "Beware of These Days!"

This liberal offer is made because he expects that many readers will later become interested in the entire sysem of mind power he learned in the Far East and which is now ready to be disclosed to the Western World.

For your free copy of the astonishing prophecies, covering these momentous times, as revealed in this 64-page boow, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 S. Hobart Blvd., Dept. J462, Los Angeles 4, Calif. Send no money. Just your name and address on a postcard or in an envelope will do. No obligation. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

No One Knows Who the Vietminh Are; They Strike at Night, Then Disappear

Editor's Note—Depending upon the turn of events at Geneva next week, Indochina may be barely outside the grasp of international communism. Today William L. Ryan discusses the strength of the Vietminh military forces which spearhead the Communist campaign. Ryan toured Indochina this month, then returned to Singapore to write his findings free of censorship.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

SINGAPORE (AP) — A cluster of Tonkinese peasants watched stolidly as our jeep drove by. Their faces were inscrutable under their big, round, pointed straw hats.

"These people," said a French officer, gesturing, "maybe they are Vietminh. Maybe they are not. One never knows.

"Who are the Vietminh? Where are they? Who knows? They are everywhere."

* * *

That is why, in the Tonkin delta area of north Indochina, anything that might possibly be damaged by sabotage is heavily guarded by barbed wire and watched by armed guards. It is the barbed wire that reminds you in Hanoi that there is a war going on.

The city seems peaceful enough. But the peaceful look is deceptive. The French admit that inside Hanoi, capital of Tonkin, there are at least two armed battalions and perhaps more of Vietminh in hiding, ready to rise when and if the signal is given.

A French sergeant warned me not to venture abroad at night in the bicycle rickshaws—there's no such thing as a taxi in Hanoi. The rickshaw boy might be a Viet. The French call the rebels "the Viets."

* * *

The French nominally control all the delta area, an expanse of swampy ricefields and dense forests surrounding 5,400 villages and harboring seven million persons. But Gen. Rene Cogny, French commander in north Indochina, an outstanding colorful officer, says the Vietminh in this area has 30 battalions of regular troops, 15 "regional" battalions, 100 "district" companies and about 50,000 guerrillas.

In Hanoi and the villages, these troops would rise from the straw-thatched huts, out of the fields, even out of the city's sewers if the signal were given to attack. For the time being they are lying low.

The troops constantly harass the French and Vietnamese in the delta. Striking under cover of darkness, the Vietminh regularly each night cut the road between Hanoi and Haiphong, the port from which comes the U. S. supplies so vital to the defenders of Viet Nam. Just as regularly in the daylight, French engineers restore the road.

* * *

The Vietminh persistently carry out sabotage, stab attacks and terror forays to strike fear into the hearts of any Tonkinese sympathizing with the French. They raid, kill and plunder, they impress men into their army and labor forces. They take over the rural vilages—they hold more than 2,000 villages in the delta and terrorize at least another 2,000.

Frequently the rumble of artillery and the chatter of machine guns can be heard by night in Hanoi. That means another of the endless stab attacks is under way.

If the gallant defenders in the fortress complex at Dien Bien Phu, 180 miles northwest of Hanoi, should be defeated it might mean a signal for a rising throughout the delta. If the Vietminh should suffer such severe losses at Dien Bien Phu as to make it no longer worth the effort—in effect a military defeat—rebel forces in the delta also might rise, not only for the military objective involved but for purposes of revenge. Thus, in any case, it is not a comfortable situation for the French and Vietnamese.

The Vietminh has forces scattered all through Viet Nam, though almost none in the neighboring associated states of Laos and Cambodia. Saigon, a comfortable modern city which you'd hardly guess from a glance is the nerve center of a nation at war, often experiences stab "attente" attacks on its outskirts, particularly in the heavily Chinese area of Cholon.

An "attente" attack is simply a foray to show the Vietminh are still around. The Vietminh pulled one such attack only recently. It was at a Saigon area training camp for Vietnamese officers—a camp guarded by barbed wire and strongpoints. The Vietminh struck suddenly in the dark, accomplished a lot of shooting and little else, then vanished as suddenly as they appeared.

Ho Chi Minh's barefoot hordes infiltrate French-held territory at will. They float in and out in the guise of peasants, arms concealed under brown tunics. They have allies who will hide them and feed them—allies who are not Communists but just people who hate the French, hate the foreigner and want him to go.

* * *

The Vietminh uses terror, too, to accomplish infiltration whenever it is necessary. Tales filter back of people convicted as "collaborationists" and summarily executed in villages. Ho has a long arm and peasants who might be against him know it.

Ho's draftees from regular down to guerrilla are disciplined by stern terror. Recalcitrants face at best service in the labor corps of coolies on the jungle supply line. At worst, they face execution.

Ho's military leaders have made soldiers out of a horde of skinny, unshod, underfed peasants. The Tonkinese are clever people and learn quickly.

* * *

"The Viet is a damn good soldier," a tough French parachute troop noncom said as we flew over Dien Bien Phu. "He can march harder and longer than any soldier in the world and on less food."

"And he can shoot too," added a mustached sergeant. "He is getting better all the time."

Here is how Ho's forces are organized:

Total mobilization has been enforced in the areas controlled by the Vietminh. The army is organized in a sort of ladder. At the top are the regulars, the main striking arm. These are the best trained and best equipped. There are seven divisions of regulars in all, or about 110,000 men.

Local defense is relegated to the next rung of the ladder, the provincial or regional troops used both in Communist-held and non-Communist areas. These also are regulars, but they are not so well trained and equipped. They are stationed in their respective areas as a corps of defense. They provide help in offensive actions when the regulars reach their areas and are invaluable because they know their country well. The regional troops also form a pool from which the Vietminh makes up losses among the regulars.

* * *

Next down the ladder, district companies consist largely of irregulars. They have charge of the corps of boys, women and old men impressed into labor battalions. This group is kept at full strength by constant recruitment from the villages. It also forms a pool for regional troops.

A never-ending process of conscription, training and shifting keeps the Vietminh ranks from being depleted by heavy losses inflicted in battle.

Some French authorities say the Vietminh has reached the maximum number it can recruit in this way. Indeed, Dien Bien Phu losses have hurt Ho's forces, requiring him to throw in green troops in a desperate gamble. But competent American military observers—and some franker Frenchmen too—are inclined to believe the Vietminh will continue making up losses in the usual pattern, though the process might be somewhat slowed.

* * *

But the Vietminh is having other troubles. They have a problem of supply. In the northern delta area, Vietminh troops live off the land and the people as much as possible but they are hard pressed to bring up material and ammunition.

Heavy weapons and supplies for the Dien Bien Phu assault have been coming by trucks—Molotov trucks shipped down from Russia through China. Several hundred trucks have been in the supply line along the dusty mountain roads. Other supplies streamed in on the backs of heavily laden coolies over miles of mountain and jungle trails. But soon the rains will be coming—the steady pelting monsoon rains of Southeast Asia. Already it has been raining some in the northwest. In a few weeks the rains will become torrents and will cut roads much better than air attack could.

Congressmen in Training for Inter-Party Baseball

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — It isn't always baseball when visiting congressmen take the baseball field in spring "training" for their annual game of Republicans against Democrats.

In yesterday's session, Rep. Jack Westland (R-Wash) struck out. But he quickly changed sports, placing a golf ball on home plate, producing a No. 9 iron and golfing a Texas Leaguer over second base.

The managers, Runt Bishop (Ill) of the Republicans and Syd Herlong (Fla) of the Democrats, hope to have their teams in condition for an exhibition game tomorrow night.

Builders Start 3 New Sewers

Blacktopping Program Waits for Dry Weather to Arrive

Work has started on three new sewers — part of Ponntiac's 1954 street improvement program, City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn said today.

Blacktop construction on sections of 41 streets and planned curb and gutter projects may be started next week if weather conditions allow, he said.

Bids will be taken May 3 on street recapping work for this year, Wrenn said.

To aid in the program the Department of Public Works called back eight men who had been laid off and hired 18 more.

The blacktopping work will be done by A & A Asphalt Co., of Birmingham, at a cost of $130,717. The weather muet be warm and dry before it's safe to pour the two-inch blacktop, Wrenn said.

Romanian Red Quits Top Post

Action Follows Lead Established by Death of Stalin

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Communist Romania announced today that Premier Gheorghe Gheorghiu-Dej had resigned as general secretary of the Romanian Communist party.

His action was in line with a similar division of governmental and party responsibilities already carried out in the Soviet Union Hungary and Poland.

The announcement, broadcast by Radio Bucharest, said the top party post had been taken over by Gheorghe Apostol. It added that he gave up his post as deputy premier and minister of agriculture to take on the new duties.

Radio Bucharest said the shift was ordered by the party's Central Committee.

* * *

The pattern for such divorcement of the top government and party posts in the Communist world was laid down in Moscow following the death of Stalin last year. The Russian dictator had been both premier and secretary general of the Soviet party, but in the shakeup after his death Georgi Malenkov became the government head and Nikita S. Khrushchev subsequently took over as party chief.

Western observers in Vienna anticipate a similar shakeup soon in Bulgaria, where Premier Vulko Chervenkov is also party secretary general.

Gheorghiu-Dej had been both premier and party secretary since June 1952.

Group to Promote School Relations

LANSING (AP) — A 35-member committee on public relations was created by Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, today to build a better understanding of public schools.

Dr. Taylor said "over the past years there has been an entire series of sensational articles that have had a rather negative effect upon schools, children and teachers. It shall be the purpose of this committee to develop positive programs designed to meet troubles before they come.

The committee will meet next Monday in Dr. Taylor's office.

Dr. Taylor said goals of the committee will be to acquaint the public with facts on curricula, finance, school building and similar problems, to emphasize the positive values in teaching and attract young people to the profession, and to help people understand that "education itself must change with economic and social conditions that affect the homes and lives of children."

FBI Captures Suspect in $1,846 Bank Robbery

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The FBI reported today it had captured Herman K. Rodig, 35, wanted for questioning in the $1,846 robbery of a branch bank here yesterday.

Gerald B. Norris, agent in charge of the FBI in Arizona, said Rodig was picked up at Sky Harbor Airport at midnight where he had intended to catch a plane out of Phoenix.

Local Guard Seeks Recruits

Campaign by Pontiac Units Aimed at Building to Full Strength

Michigan National Guard units of Pontiac will launch a recruiting campaign on May 15 to bring the units up to their full strength, it was announced today by Capt. A. J. Largent, commanding officer of Company "M".

According to Capt. Largent, the local appeal will be co-ordinated with similar drives being conducted by other units of the Michigan Guard and other National Guard Units throughout the United States.

Prospective guardsmen can enlist at the National Guard Armory, 57 Water St., weekdays from 8 to 5 by an officer who will also supply details about guard activities.

Age limits run from 17 to 35, with written consent of parents needed by those not yet 18 years old.

"Aside from the primary consideration of fulfilling a patriotic obligation to one's country," said Capt. Largent, "the guard has never offered young men so many training, promotion and pay opportunities."

Norma Shearer Reveals Daughter's Marriage

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Former actress Norma Shearer has announced the elopment and marriage in Reno, Nev., last Thursday of her daughter Katherine Thalberg to Jack Reddish, University of Utah law student.

Miss Shearer, now the wife of Martin Arrouge, former ski instructor, is the widow of Irving Thalberg, movie producer. Her daughter, 18, has been a student at Stanford University.

SHIRLEY'S THIRD BABY—Shirley Temple, Mrs. Charles Black in private life, leaves Santa Monica, California, hospital this week with her daughter, Lori, born April 9. The Blacks, who live in Beverly Hills, also have a daughter, Linda Susan, 6, and a son, Charles Jr., 2.

Gary Cooper's Boone Won't Wear Coonskin

By BOB THOMAS

The reason is that Boone didn't like a coonskin on his head. Too hot, said the frontiersman, who had a bushy head of hair. Besides, you're liable to collect fleas that way.

This is one of the facts uncovered by Milton Sperling, who will produce "Daniel Boone" with Cooper this summer. The producer has culled most of the historical works on Boone, selecting the fact from the legend.

"It is sometimes hard to find the real story," said Sperling in his Warner Brothers office. "Although Boone died less than 150 years ago, his story has become almost like folklore.

"The public has many misconceptions about him. Most people think of him as a tall man, about Cooper's size. Actually, his skeleton reveals he was of medium size. He is also considered to be the discoverer of Kentucky. He wasn't. Other white men had been there before. He was the first to settle there.

"In many respects he was a fabulous man. His great appeal to the American consciousness is that he was the first Boy Scout. He could read the signs of nature and live off the land. He had amazing escapes from danger. When he went into Kentucky, he was in the midst of 100,000 Cherokees and Shawnees, who were eager to fight off an invasion by the white man.

"He was a great walker. He shunned the use of a horse because it would scare off the game. He walked all over the continent, including up to Canada and down to the Florida Everglades in his earlier years. In the last year of his life—he died at 85 in 1820—he wanted to prove he was still in good shape. So he walked from his home in Missouri to Yellowstone!"

Sperling, a young, well-read movie maker, said the script will stick largely to fact. It is being written by Philip Yordan, who wrote "Anna Lucasta."

"Boone's life was fabulous," said the producer, "but the mere recital of heroic deeds is not enough for a movie. We needed to have a theme for his life, and I think we have found it.

"Although Boone killed many men in his life, both white and redskin, he placed great value in human life. He was a kind, gentle man who merely wanted to satisfy his simple wants. After he had seen Kentucky, he realized that the good life was there.

"He practically had to shoulder his way through the game; the presence of salt licks in Kentucky made it an animal wonderland. And he knew by the blue grass that the soil was rich. He could shoot enough to eat right from his front porch, and all he had to do was drop seeds in the ground.

"Our picture will start with Boone as an adult. He has returned from a year alone in Kentucky and contemplates moving his family from Yadkin County, N.C. He hesitates, because he knows it will mean bloodshed. The richness of the land made it a battleground for the Indians—'the dark and bloody ground.' And he knew the Indians would band together to fight off the white man. But he decided to go."

Press Offers Fertile Field for Political Candidates

OMAHA (AP) — When about 25 years ago, the late U.S. Sen. Dwight Griswold was a member of the Nebraska State Legislature, he was elected president of the State Press Assn.

He resigned his legislative seat. The man appointed to succeed him was rancher Arthur Bowring of Merriman, Neb.

Last week, Gov. Robert Crosby named Mrs. Arthur (Eva) Bowring, the rancher's widow, as successor to Griswold in the U.S. Senate pending the November election.

The wholesale value of motor vehicles produced in 1952 was estimated at $9,000,000,000.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — British actress Simone Silva and Hollywood's Robert Mitchum, whose pose together at the Cannes Film Festival made headlines almost everywhere, arrived here yesterday—separately, and didn't do any posing.

Mitchum refused requests of cameramen that he stand beside the English bit player. "Nothing doing," he snapped. "I went all through this bunk in New York."

Mrs. Mitchum was with him. She objected, and strenuously, when her husband's pose with Miss Silva appeared in some newspapers abroad. It showed Miss Silva nude from the waist up.

Miss Silva has come to Hollywood to do a movie for Hal Pekter, who has taken over the former Charlie Chaplin studio. She announced that "I think I can replace Marilyn Monroe."

Mitchum's plane arrived within 20 minutes of Miss Silva's. His three children were present to meet him.

Woman Finds Sunshine in Midst of Gloomy Day

Probably you get them, too—days when it seems as if the bottom has dropped out of your world and there is no balm anywhere.

I was having such a day—the headlines were horrifying, a person I depended on had disappointed me, I had pulled a boner of gigantic proportions and I was coming down with a head cold.

MISS McBRIDE

So I opened with listless indifference Ruth Baehr's letter from Belleville, Mich. And promptly straigtened as if I had touched an electric wire. The woman was describing just such a day as I was going through.

"I am at my wits' end," she confessed. "Everything is going wrong. The wash line breaks and dumps my clean clothes in the mud. My son is still sitting in the living room reading and the ashes are not yet carried out after 10 reminders.

"My young daughter has a friend over and they have strewn snibbles from their sewing and paper dolls all over the floor and not yet swept them up. Now they are giggling and scuffling all over the place.

"This is the third week in a row that our income has failed to meet the budget and I am wondering how I am going to squeeze out another ton of coal. My husband has been working hard but our intake is not keeping up with the rise in prices and the increasing costs as the children grow older.

"He keeps asking where all the money goes. My hair stands on end to think how much comes in—but has to go right out again.

"Our big collie, excited over a new mailman, has just ripped the door curtain to shreds. But as I sit in despair with my head in my hands he senses something and comes to help in his way. I feel a nudge and a long nose is laid sympathetically in my lap. Right the nand there I forgive him his moment of excitement and destruction.

"Then I think of the long-legged, good, even if slightly lazy, boy reading in the next room. I compare him with some boys of si age who are hanging around corners, smoking, some even drinking or using dope or shooting out street lights with BB guns and getting into trouble with policemen.

"Everyone has a good word for my son and even if he is lazy with his chores, his mind is not lazy and he is not lazy in his after-school job.

"I think of other girls, no older than mine, who are becoming involved with older boys and running wild. My girl's messes and giggles and noisy friends drive me crazy, but she does stay at home. And sometimes she sings like an angel!

"The money that was taken out of our pay for income taxes would have balanced my budget—but thank God for a United States even if it means more taxes to keep it as it is. Soon we won't need coal anyway and the car payments will be finished. Then the budget will balance.

"And that kind good man whose children adore him, who makes me feel like a queen, who comes home each evening instead of rushing to a beer garden and staying for hours, well—that man belongs to me and no other woman."

You're wonderful Ruth Baehr, and I am thankful for you and all the women like you who, when things go wrong, can set them right by counting blessings. You've certainly started me counting mine this day.

Wash Ironing Cover

If you've been wondering about discoloration on your newly washed and ironed clothes, you better take a second look at your ironing board cover. Wash it in hot soapsuds several times a month — it will save you time and gray hairs.

Fine Linen Often Ruined by Lipstick

Wipe Your Mouth Without Smearing Napkins

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter tells me: "My sister took me to task the other evening, after I dined in her house, for having smeared lipstick on her best dinner napkins. She said that she always keeps a tissue on hand and wipes her lipstick off on that and wouldn't think of wiping it on her hostess' linen.

"What are napkins for if not to wipe one's mouth on? Even if lipstick stains are hard to get out, I feel that any extra time spent rubbing them clean is part of the work involved in giving a dinner.

"I have had this happen to me any number of times and would never think of criticizing my guests for it. May I please have your opinion?"

Answer: Taking a napkin and wiping it across your mouth so hard that a heavy smear of lipstick comes off on it can permanently destroy a fine linen one.

One who uses lipstick should learn to turn one's lips in so firmly as to avoid smearing any trace of red on the napkin. (With a little practice this is easily done.)

Dear Mrs. Post: When sending personal notes of invitation to my daughter's wedding, may I put R.s.v.p. down at the bottom to be sure of getting replies?

Some of the people are strangers (bridegroom's side) and I'm afraid they won't let us know ahead of time. My own friends I'd feel free to call if they didn't reply, but the strangers I wouldn't.

Answer: R.s.v.p. is correct only for a third person invitation. A personal note is worded in such a way that a reply is implied.

For example, close your letter with, "Hoping to hear that you and John (or Mr. Smith will be with us on that day. Sincerely."

Dear Mrs. Post: When husband and wife, or any man and girl, go to see friends together, which one should make the first move to leave.

Answer: In the case of a man and wife, there is no rule. And although the girl should properly make the first move, the man may quite well do so if it becomes necessary.

White Jewelry Sparks Navy

Nothing's prettier with a navy suit or coat dress than snowy white jewelry, whether it's a collar or a necklace. Chalk white beads sparked with glitter, white shell effects, and white buttonlike motifs are all in the new picture.

Of course, like anything else that's white, jewelry needs frequent perking up and the best way is to swab it off with soap and water.

Much of the white jewelry can be put right into the suds. However, it's better not to immerse glued pieces; wipe them off gently just with a soapy cloth or sponge, and dry immediately.

To keep jewelry looking best, swab it off after each wearing, so that cosmetics and body oils can't dim its shine.

Baby Learns Words by Associations

Baby learns to talk through the repeated associations you give to the sounds he makes.

Everyone interprets the "m-m-m" sound an infant makes as "mama" until, after several months, he says it to get his mother's attention.

White Lingerie Most Popular

NEW YORK (UP) — The American woman's dresses, suits and even her aprons range the color spectrum. But the chances are six to one her lingerie is white.

Robert E. Heydn, vice president of Exquisite Form lingerie, says a survey shows manufacturers and retailers have had little success in persuading women to buy colored lingerie.

He says 85 per cent of all intimate apparel sold is white, 10 per cent black, and the other five per cent other colors, with pink and blue predominating.

The reason for the prefence for white: Heydn said that 75 per cent of the women, under 40 years, associate colored lingerie with the voluminous rose and peach bloomers and chemises their mothers and grandmothers wore.

Chocolate Cake Made With Yeast

Grace McLaughlin Provides Unusual Dessert Recipe

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

One of our busy high school teachers, Miss Grace McLaughlin, gave us this chocolate cake recipe. Miss McLaughlin loves to cook and is enjoying an apartment with a kitchen big enough to work in.

Evenings find Miss McLaughlin participating in the numerous groups to which she belongs. In Pontiac she is a member of Panhellenic and the Business and Professional Women's Club. She goes to Birmingham to meet with the alumnae group of Alpha Xi Delta sorority.

CHOCOLATE YEAST CAKE
By Miss Grace McLaughlin

½ package yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
¾ cup butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
3 eggs
¼ cup warm water
1 teaspoon vanilla
⅔ cup sifted cocoa
3 cups sifted cake flour
1 cup sweet milk
1 teaspoon baking soda

Soften yeast in one-quarter cup lukewarm water. Meanwhile, cream together butter and sugar. To creamed mixture add well-beaten eggs, vanilla and cocoa. Add flour and milk.

Then mix in softened yeast, beating just enough to mix well. Cover and let stand overnight at a comfortable temperature (not too warm).

In the morning, dissolve soda in one-quarter cup warm water and stir into cake mixture. Pour into three greased cake tins, lined with buttered paper.

Bake about 25 minutes in a 350-degree oven.

Manners
MAKE FRIENDS

In this hurried, busy age many a man doesn't take the time or trouble to stand up when a woman comes into his office.

He can get by with this in the business world, but he ought to know that women do appreciate the man who is never too business-like or hurried to treat women like women.

Mechanical Woman Advised:

Try Operating Business Machines

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I am 33 years old, with two school-age children," a woman writes me.

"I married the week after I graduated from high school and have never had a job. Now it is important that I get one if we are to have any money for extras.

"I took vocational tests which said I was very good mechanically and had good manual dexterity. But I don't want to go into factory work, and I wonder if you can think of anything else.

"I can't afford more than a few months for a training course, and what in the world can a mechanical woman do? I can't be a watch maker or a TV repairman!"

The growing field of office machines should be a natural for you. The big companies in the field are bringing out new kinds of machines all the time—complicated "mechanical minds" which handle all kinds of bookkeeping and record-keeping processes.

If you will look under "Business Machines" in your classified telephone book, you can find the companies and their addresses.

Then go and see if they have a showroom where they demonstrate the machines; most often, they do. If they look interesting, then go up to the personnel office and apply for a job. Tell them you would like to be trained to operate one the machines. It might also be a good idea to take with you the results of your vocational tests.

Because the machines are new, there are not many girls who know how to operate them, so most of the companies have their own training courses, after which they place you in a company which has bought the machine you are trained to operate.

The future in this field is good, too. Every year a new machine makes its appearance, and if you really have the skill and are good at it, you can keep steadily employed.

Moreover, there is an opportunity to work up to supervisor, in which post you would be teaching other girls how to operate the machines.

The woman with good mechanical aptitude and manual ability no longer needs to think in terms of factory work, or just typewriting. The world is beginning to be full of intricate business machines which need alert and mechanically minded women to operate them.

Rugs Can Be Eliminated If Floor Has Good Design

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

It's a fashion to show bare floor, but even when rugs cover only relatively small areas, floors don't look bare. They so often have design of their own.

Waxed and shining wood floors are parquet in various block designs, or planks are interestingly laid, and finish makes the most of wood grain patterns.

All sorts of hard surface floor coverings are used, linoleum, asbestos, rubber and vinyl tile with wide variety in tile patterning and color contrast. Cork and ceramic tile are individual and attractive.

If the new floor won't be rug covered, choose it for design interest and the floor needn't look the same all the time.

Rugs can give it finish and extra luxury part of the time, but the floor won't look bare without them.

The marbleized vinyl asbestos tile in gray, black and white laid in stripes as it is here is enough floor decoration for the room even when rugs are taken up to be cleaned or stored away during hot weather.

IF top-heavy but narrow-hipped—

Slight bloused jacket with peplum if tall, shorter jacket if you are short.

Mrs. N. H.—The short box jacket suit minimizes the bust and you have no hip problem. The belted peplum suit softly fitted is especially smart if you are tall.

Be Sure to Wipe Up Stains Immediately

Wipe up spots and stains as quickly as they appear. Don't be embarrassed if the house is full of company and you'd rather avoid the whole issue.

A good housekeeper is one who can silently — and smilingly — whisk away the soil and still put guests at ease by remarking that soap and water will take care of everything.

Flower Festivals Lure Motorists All Over America

In the spring, a motorist's fancy often turns to thoughts of flowers in bloom. This time of the year you can find flower festivals and "trails" in all sections of the country.

In the western United States, Grand Canyon in Arizona offers a great variety of wild flowers, and forests of pine, juniper and aspen. In late April and early May, the canyon floor is a mosaic of rainbow blossoms.

A Rhododendron Festival is a highlight of each May in Mendocino, Calif. Orange City, Iowa, a town settled by the Dutch, celebrates a Tulip Festival in mid-May, at which time the streets, curbs and gardens are gay and colorful with tulips.

Benton Harbor, Mich., the heart of the orchard lands, stages a Blossom Festival, complete with parades, crowning of a queen and other events each May.

A Daffodil Festival highlights each May in Puyallup, Wash., while an Apple Blossom Festival is the event of the month in St. Joseph, Mo.

Galveston, Texas, the "Oleander City," offers streets and gardens lined with 67 choice varieties of the flower in 14 different shades, beginning in April.

U. S. highways lead to a horticultural heaven for the motorist each spring.

Art Teacher Is Speaker at Meeting

John C. Allshouse Addresses Pontiac Women's Club

John C. Allshouse, of the Art Department of Pontiac High School was guest speaker for the Monday meeting of the Pontiac Women's Club held in the Franklin boulevard YWCA.

Mr. Allshouse expressed a love for depth, spaciousness and rich, blended colors. He said that he has chosen to be independent and follow his own inclininations to paint realistically regardless of the present tendency toward abstract art.

In illustrating the evolution of a picture, the speaker showed his audience a sketch book and a finished painting. He explained how students are instructed in the use of different media.

He said, "After one has learned all the techniques of painting, it is a slow, laborious job to build up one's ability from this knowledge."

Mrs. M. E. Baldwin conducted the business meeting and reported on the convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs held recently in Grand Rapids.

She gave a resume of the report on the coffee situation in Brazil, saying that drought, insects and frost caused severe damage to crops which had previously produced an over-abundance.

It was announced that the City Federation of Women's Clubs will sponsor a card party and fashion show on May 5 in the Elks Temple. Proceeds will go to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children. Mrs. H. T. Rombough is taking reservations.

On May 5 and 6 Adult Education Institute will be held at the Rackham Building in Ann Arbor. The Oakland County federation meeting will be held in Holly on May 7. Local music and an antique show are planned for the occasion.

The May 17 meeting of the club will feature Sarah Van Hoosen Jones of Rochester as guest speaker.

On the committee for the Monday meeting were Mrs. Joseph Panter, Mrs. Forrest Brown, Mrs. Frank Kuhn, Mrs. John Lyons, Mrs. George Waller and Mrs. E. Oscar Teng.

Moist Soap Holds Stray Hair in Place

When spring rains fall, your hair is likely to do the same. Try a handy tucker-upper trick: use moist soap to slick up stray locks of hair.

It will hold them firmly in place —and there is always some soap handy if the stubborn hairs begin to drift down again while you're away from home.

AN HOUR A DAY

Today every publication you pick up is full of interesting ideas for turning you into the glamorous creature you wish to be, and it sounds so easy. But try as you may your efforts fall short of what you had hoped for. Let's try to think this through for a minute. If you did everything suggested in these articles you would have no time for anything else. The first step in making a good grooming schedule is to honestly decide how much time you can spend each day on improving your personal appearance. I believe an hour a day is about the minimum amount of time for good results . . . 45 minutes at night . . . 15 minutes in the morning. Even this amount of time calls for a very simple program if you are going to get it done. Next week I will discuss and suggest a simple program to fit your day.

Reports From Russia Show Malenkov in Uphill Struggle for Absolute Power

By LEON DENNEN

PARIS (NEA) — Russia's Premier Georgi Malenkov has even bigger headaches backgrounding the Geneva conference than the economic crisis raging in the Red empire..

More than a year after Stalin's death he is facing an uphill struggle in his bid for absolute power in the Communist world, according to Allied diplomats just returned from Russia.

The great internal fight for power in the Kremlin is still unresolved, they say. Malenkov will have to lop of many more heads of his potential rivals before he reaches the stature of the late dictator.

The rise in importance and influence of the Red Army and some of its leaders like Marshal Gregory Zhukov—whose power was rigidly controlled by Stalin—has been more rapid than is generally realized in the West.

The Red Army, which was primarily responsible for the fall and execution of Lavrenti Beria, former all-powerful chief of police, has emerged as the balance of power in Russia. Its influence now equals that of the Communist Party—if not actually surpassing it.

Here are four significant facts which, in the view of Allied diplomats, throw aditional light on the new role of the Red Army behind the Iron Curtain:

1. Strong military detachments which during Stalin's lifetime were under the party's security police have now been transferred to the Army.

2. For the first time in Soviet history top Army officers were "elected" to the inner party councils of Russia's "Republics" — Marshal Timoshenko in Byelorussia, Marshal Bagramyan in Latvia and General Antonov in Georgia.

3. In Poland, Moscow's most important satellite, two Soviet Army officers, Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky and Gen. Edward Ochab, now hold the balance of power in the newly-elected Politburo.

4. The same is true of Red Bulgaria where two Russian-trained generals have been promoted to membership in the Politburo.

However, Malenkov, in addition to the growing political strength of the Red Army, is also faced with a widespread rift in the Cominform, the political arm.

The whole Red underground in France is riddled with strife and dissension. According to French Cominform scouges, bigger and bloodier purges of "Malenkov's enemies" are brewing not only in France, but also in Italy, Germany, Belgium and satellite states.

It is in his relations with Red China, however, that Malenkov's failure to achieve supreme authority in the Red world is clearly demonstrated.

Stalin's attitude towards Mao Tse-tung was that of a "Marxist-Leninist teacher" and superior revolutionist. His advice was accepted by the Chinese as from an oracle.

Malenkov wields no such authority. From the very day of Stalin's funeral he treated Red China and Mao with notable respect and even deference.

Not that Mao shows any signs of wishing to break out of the Soviet embrace. But the Chinese also have plans for rapid industrialization for which they require basic equipment. If they do not receive it from Russia they will eventually look elsewhere.

Under the circumstances, it is trade with the West — especially in industrial equipment and strategic goods — that Russia seeks at Geneva.

Judged by the Soviet press — which usually predicts the strategy of the Red diplomats — the Russians are not expected to negotiate seriously on Korea—just as they did not want an agreement on German unity.

Burmese Capture Town

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — The Burmese army announced today it had captured a key stronghold commanding a supply route into southern Thailand from Karen rebels and their Chinese guerrilla allies.

The army said troops operating in the southern Tenasserim coastal strip had seized the town of Myawadi as part of a drive launched early in April to clear the area of the rebel tribesmen and the Chinese.

Pigeon Came to Dinner and Now Won't Leave

SALEM, N. H. (AP)—The pigeon that came to dinner is still on Frank Bemis' back porch.

The bird has gone by the name Polly since Saturday when a Boston & Maine Railroad train crew found her stowed away aboard a northbound freight.

But when he turned her loose she refused to go. She's still on the back porch today, waiting for dinner as usual.

Hannah Says U.S. Must Save Indochina

DETROIT (AP)—Dr. John A. Hannah says the United States cannot permit Indochina to fall into Communist hands.

Dr. Hannah, assistant secretary of defense and president of Michigan State College, said the United States would be committing "a great and tragic mistake" if it permits Indochina to fall.

Speaking before the Detroit Economic Club, Dr. Hannah said:

"The tragic events in that area affect the future of Detroit as much as they affect the destiny of Paris, London, Brussels, Ottawa and Canberra."

He said from Indochina the Reds would move to Burma, Thailand, India, the East Indies and the Philippines to get any resources the Communist world needs. It would put the free world, he said, in a precarious position.

Largest animal ever to inhabit the earth or its waters is the sulphur-bottom whale, which sometimes weighs 150 tons, surpassing in weight and size even the giant dinosaurs of the Age of Reptiles.

Major League Flag Races Off to Close Start

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

In case you haven't noticed, the major league pennant races are away to one of the closest starts in recent seasons.

* * *

No team has jumped off to a long winning streak. No team has fallen far behind. Today, after one week, only a game and a half separates first and last in the American League; just two games divide top from bottom in the National.

* * *

Compared with the first week of the 1953 season the standings have undergone considerable juggling, particularly in the American League.

Detroit is leading the American by half a game over Washington. A year ago the Tigers were last, four games behind the old St. Louis Browns, and Washington was in seventh place.

Cincinnati, co-leader with Philadelphia in the National League, languished in seventh last year at the end of the first week while the Phils were tied for third.

Neither Brooklyn nor New York, top-heavy choices to repeat their 1953 triumphs, have been able to match their first-week pace of last season. The Dodgers already were in first with a 4-1 mark—they are third this time with 3-2—and the Yankees were second at 4-2. They're 3-3 this year.

The leaders all lost yesterday. Detroit was toppled by Chicago 5-1. Cincinnati bowed to St. Louis 6-3, and the Phillies were clubbed by Brooklyn 9-7.

* * *

In other action the Yankees split a Patriot's Day pair in Boston, losing 2-1 in the morning and winning 5-0 in the afternoon with a brilliant one-hitter by Jim McDonald. Washington shaded the Philadelphia Athletics 4-3 on Eddie Yost's ninth-inning home run. Pittsburgh beat the New York Giants 7-5.

* * *

Baltimore and Cleveland in the American League and Milwaukee and Chicago in the National weren't scheduled.

Mickey Mantle struck out four times in the morning contest, batting left-handed, but he hit a home run right-handed, his first of the season, in the after-lunch encounter.

Yost got his home run, a 415-foot blast, as the leadoff batter in the last of the ninth at Washington. Rookie Art Ditmar was the victim. Morrie Martin joined Bobby Shantz on the A's sore arm list. He started but had to give up after five innings.

Jackie Robinson was the hitting star in Brooklyn's triumph over the Phillies. He broke a 5-5 tie with a home run in the seventh inning and finished the night with a 4-for-4 performance. The Phils drove Don Newcombe to cover in the third inning when they took a 4-1 lead but the Dodgers' 18 hit attack was too much for the ineffective Philadelphia pitching.

Successive homers by Stan Musial and Ray Jablonski in the sixth inning helped Harvey Haddix win his first game for St. Louis. Haddix already has lost twice and he was lifted in the ninth inning last night when Cincinnati threatened. But Stu Miller and Al Brazle subdued the Reds.

Pittsburgh scored five runs with only one hit in the third inning against the Giants. Four walks, interference by catcher Ebba St. Claire, and a hit batter aided in the spree. Johnny Hetki, in relief, was the winner as the Pirates triumphed for the first time since they beat the Phils on opening day.

Tigers Still Top AL Despite Loss to Chisox

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP)—Walt Dropo fans with bases loaded . . . Tigers make two errors on one play . . . Billy Hoeft lasts only five innings.

These were the events which took place in the gloom of Briggs Stadium yesterday and, at least for one day, turned the "new" Detroit Tigers of 1954 into the "old" Tigers of 1953. Detroit offered little resistance in dropping a 5-1 decision to the Chicago White Sox.

After three brilliant road victories in Cleveland and Baltimore, the Tigers were riding for a fall. And they fell with a thud.

It's unfortunate for them that it had to happen before 13,854 fans, believed to be the largest Monday turnout in Briggs Stadium in recent years. They came out to see the league-leading Tigers strut their stuff but had little chance to whoop it up as the Detroiters ran into an old nemisis, Harry Dorish.

A 30-year-old relief specialist, Dorish came out of the bullpen in the 3rd inning to choke off the Tigers' bid for a rally, and then hold them scoreless for the rest of the game. He gave up only four hits.

Trailing 4-1, the Tigers filled the bases in the 3rd against starter Jack Harshman with only one away. Manager Paul Richards of the Sox waved for his "right hand man"—Dorish—and he came on to fan Dropo on three pitches and get rookie Al Kaline on an inning-ending, rally-killing force out.

Hoeft, Detroit's 21-year-old southpaw, was in constant trouble, giving up all five Chicago runs in five innings. He hadn't pitched since an exhibition game in Portsmouth, Ohio, 11 days earlier and obviously was rusty.

Chicago pecked away for one run in the 1st, two in the 2nd, one in the 3rd and one in the 5th. Johnny Groth, with a home run and single, knocked in two runs.

Tigers gave the Sox a run when they committed a pair of errors while Cass Michaels was stealing 2nd. It resulted in Michaels running all the way home on the miscues by catcher Matt Batts, who fired the ball into centerfield, and by centerfielder Bill Tuttle, who failed to pick it up from the soggy turf.

Trout Opening Will Intensify Danger of Fires

Visitors to Woods Are Warned to Use Great Care in Use of Fire

By JAMES A. O. CROWE
Associated Press Outdoor Writer

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's woods and fields are ripe for costly, dangerous fires right now. The influx of some 200,000 trout fishermen to open the season next weekend will intensify the danger.

The period between the disappearance of the snow and the late spring "greening up" is always a high forest fire hazard period. Last year's dead ferns and leaves and the broken limbs and other debris of winter only await a spark to set them roaring through the timber.

So anytime you are in the woods, be careful with fire in any form. Break matches before you throw them away, be sure your cigarette, cigar or pipe ashes are dead out and take every precaution to keep campfires from spreading.

121 Candidates Greet Bennie at UM Practice

Pete Kinyon Is Added to Coaching Staff as Drills Begin

ANN ARBOR (AP) — University of Michigan began spring football practice yesterday, with 121 players—and one new assistant—reporting to head coach Bennie Oosterbaan.

Oosterbaan wasted little time and sent all through a three-hour workout under gray skies.

"Of course, it's a little too early to tell how we'll shape up," Oosterbaan said. "I hope we'll be able to scrimmage by the end of the week."

Newest addition to Michigan's coaching staff is Pete Kinyon, who played offensive Wolverine guard during the 1950-51 seasons. Just back from Japan and two years in the Army, he'll work with the guards and tackles both in the spring and in the fall.

Six of Oosterbaan's eight assistants were on hand to help divide the large turnout into groups and start working on fundamentals. Missing were Matt Patanelli, who is with the baseball team, and Cliff Keen, coach of the wrestling squad.

Dave Hill, who was unable to play last fall through an ineligibility quirk, ran from the fullback post along with Fred Baer, a regular from last fall.

Oosterbaan seemed particularly pleased over the size of the ends roaming the practice field. There were 13 of them in all—and all over six-feet.

Under NCAA rules, Wolverines are permitted 20 days of practice in a 30-day period. Oosterbaan said practice will be held every day except Sundays, with Saturdays devoted to intra-squad games.

Chief Teams in Action on Three Fronts

Baseball Nine Travels to Flint; Track, Net Squads Are at Home

Three Pontiac High School teams are scheduled for action this afternoon, weather permitting.

Coach Ed Heikkinen's baseball team goes to Flint to meet Northern, while the PHS track team entertains Hamtramck and the tennis squad plays host to Flint Northern.

Pontiac - Hamtramck test, scheduled for 3:30 p. m., at Wisner field, marks the 1st home meet for the Chiefs in three years. Improvement work on the Wisner track during that time forced Pontiac track teams to run all their meets away from home.

Wally Schloerke expects to use the same boys that last week defeated Flint Central by a lop-sided margin.

Vic Lindquist's netters, seeking their 1st victory in three starts, meet the Vikings at 3:30 p. m. at Oakland Park. PHS tennis team bowed to Arthur Hill and Saginaw High in two previous matches.

Ex-Tribe Hurler Dies

NORTH CHICAGO, Ill., April 20 (AP)—Woodward W. Gunke, pitcher for the Cleveland Indians in 1916, died Monday in the Downey Veteans Hospital after a prolonged illness. He was 60.

Gunkel, a veteran of World War I, was born in Sheffield, Ill., and was a University of Illinois graduate.

Horse Doping Is Investigated

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 20 (AP)—Keeneland track stewards said a hearing will be held this week for the trainer of a horse which showed traces of benzedrine, a stimulant, after winning a race here.

After a routine laboratory examination of Tonight showed the benzedrine, the winner's purse was given to Fidget, who was second.

Kalensky said he did not know how a drug might have been administered to Tonight.

Edwin Brooklyn is a pitcher for the Chattanooga Lookouts in the Southern Association. His home is Lake Mary, Fla.

Wings, Canucks Still Feuding Over Handshake

Stewart Says He Was Misquoted Regarding Montreal Policy

DETROIT (AP) — A fued between the Montreal Canadiens, the Detroit Red Wings and a Detroit hockey writer, was perking briskly today.

Here's how it stands:

Gaye Stewart, Montreal forward, was quoted yesterday as denying he said the Canadiens were restrained "from higher up" from shaking hands with Red Wing players after Detroit won the Stanley Cup from Montreal last Friday.

Statement in question was printed in the Detroit Free Press in a story by Marshall Dann, a hockey writer. Dann quoted Stewart as saying: "I guess I should apologize for some of our fellows. They felt like I did and wanted to come out on the ice and shake hands all around but we were restrained from higher up."

This reportedly happened at a Detroit victory party Stewart visited to see Bob Goldham, a Red Wing who is a former teammate of Stewart's.

The Montreal Forum said yesterday Stewart was "boiling mad" when he saw the statement.

Dann said he got the quote from a "very reliable" source and if Stewart was misquoted, he is sorry a misunderstanding has arisen.

Meanwhile, in the same statement concerning Stewart, the Forum said:

Patterson May Get Bout With Joey Maxim

BROOKLYN (AP) — Matchmaker Teddy Brenner hopes for speedy action today in his bid to match former world champion Joey Maxim and Floyd Patterson, a red-hot lightheavyweight prospect.

Maxim and his manager Jack Kearns have been offered a guarantee of $10,000 and have promised to meet with Brenner today.

The bout would go on at the Eastern Parkway Arena either May 17 or 24, Brenner said.

Lanktree Paces Ward's

Ward's Furniture of the Pontiac Ladies' All Star bowling league rolled in the WIBC tournament at Syracuse, N. Y., over the weekend.

Ward's were led by Doris Lanktree, who included a 238 game in her singles total of 543. She hit 1528 in all events to 1517 for Capt. Viola Cargal. Mrs. Cargal and Thelma Peterson led in doubles with 927. Team rolled 2,297.

Sal Tossing 'Junk'

Maglie, Robinson Feud Over Barber's Ability

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—There seems to be some little difference of opinion on how Sal Maglie beats the Brooklyn Dodgers and the dispute showed signs today of developing into a merry feud between the Barber and Jackie Robinson of the Brooks.

* * *

As the entire National League knows by now, all Maglie must do is show up on the mound and the Dodgers look the other way.

Robinson has been knocking the Barber since the start of the season. The Brooks have lost only twice and both times it was Maglie who turned the trick. After the first time, Robbie said there was no reason the Brooks couldn't whip him with the "junk" he was throwing.

Jackie has now changed his mind ever so slightly.

"Maglie makes awful good pitches with men on bases," he admitted. "He throws the ball to a certain spot and he doesn't often miss. He knows how to pitch. I'll give him that.

At one point in Sunday's game—the ninth without defeat that Maglie has won at Ebbets Field—Robinson called out to the mound:

* * *

"Junk, eh," muttered the Barber. "I hope I throw that junk to him all year. Last year I was trying for the corners and it would go over the plate. If I aimed high, the ball would go low. If I tried to pitch a batter tight, the ball wouldn't go where I wanted it.

"Now I'm satisfied that I'm ready to go out and pitch for the Giants. That last game against the Dodgers was my big test. I got tired in the late innings but didn't worry me."

Jackets Repeat Last Season Victory Pattern Against South Lyon

Don Spencer's Yellowjackets scored three times in the 7th inning Monday to nip South Lyon, 7-6, on the Lions' diamond. Of nine games won by Avondale last year, winning marker in seven of them came in the 7th inning or extra innings.

Avon took a 3-0 lead Monday, but South Lyon scored four times in the 4th. Trailing 5-4 in the 7th, 'Jackets staged their rally.

Dan Butler singled and Marv Evans was safe on an error. Sophomore pitcher Mearl Van Gilder singled home both runs. Two walks and a sacrifice fly by John Engstrom sent in Van Gilder with the winning marker.

Engstrom pitched the 1st four and a third innings before being relieved by Van Gilder, who got the victory. Tom Moore had a triple for Avondale, while Marion Speares and Butler each had two hits.

HOUSTON (AP) — National chairpion Tony Trabert and defending champion Gardnar Mulloy entered the third round today with other favorites in the River Oaks tennis tournament.

Baltimore Crowds Lagging Behind Milwaukee Mark

BALTIMORE, April 20 (AP)—Baltimore is off to a slow start in its race to "Beat Milwaukee" in baseball attendance.

Baltimore officials publicly declared they were out to beat Milwaukee's record of 1,826,397 for the season of 1953. They had a couple of advantages.

* * *

Transfer of the Braves from Boston to Milwaukee came shortly before last season started and there wasn't time for a long selling campaign. Baltimore had from last September to put on the pressure.

* * *

The Milwaukee Stadium last year sat only 36,011 while Baltimore's has a capacity of 48,399. Despite all the fever building up for months, there were 2,000 empty seats at the first Oriole game last Thursday.

Bad weather was blamed Saturday for keeping attendance down to 9,955. But the Oriole officials were openly disappointed at yesterday's turnout of 20,057 on a sunny day with temperature around 75. They had anticipated at least 30,000.

Even the advantage of novelty hasn't helped Baltimore keep step with Milwaukee so far this season. Milwaukee in its first three home appearances has averaged 29,389 to Baltimore's 25,455.

'Fixer' Gets 10-Year Term

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 20 (AP)—A Des Moines man was sentenced Monday to a 10-year term on a charge of attempting to bribe an athlete. He immediately moved to ask the Iowa Supreme Court to nullify the new law under which he was sentenced.

* * *

The defendant, Floren DiPaglia, 27, posted $4,000 appeal bond and remained at liberty after District Judge C. Edwin Moore pronounced sentence.

* * *

A jury convicted DiPaglia of offering Ben Bumbry, Drake University basketball star, money if he would "shave points" in the Drake-Iowa State game last Dec. 22. Bumbry reported the incident to authorities prior to the game.

Bantamweight Title Bout Slated for Siam, May 2

By OLEN CLEMENTS

BANGKOK, April 20 (AP) — Australia's Jimmy Carruthers, the world bantamweight champion, and Thai challenger Chamrera Songkitrat plunged into heavy training today for their 15-round championship fight May 2.

* * *

Carruthers arrived over the week-end and found the hot Bangkok climate somewhat to his liking. Chamrera Songkitrat lives here, of course, and is used to the hot, humid weather. He is a police lieutenant when not in the ring.

The fight gives every evidence of being a sellout. The stadium seats 56,000 and the gate is expected to be 5,780,000 ticals ($275,000)—the richest bout in the history of Southeast Asia. The fighters will divide what is left of two million ticals ($95,000) after the stadium rent has been paid.

Carruthers realizes this may be the toughest fight of his brief 18-bout professional career. The 24-year-old champ is serious and has a healthy respect for Chamrera, 25-year-old product of Thailand's rough and tumble, eye-gouging, fists and elbows, knees and feet style of fighting.

* * *

The championship fight will be under international Marquis of Queensberry rules. Carruthers was permitted to bring an Australian referee.

IBC Hits Rumor of Monday TV Feature

CHICAGO, April 20 (AP)—The International Boxing Club Monday spiked rumors that it will televise fights nationally on Monday nights.

Truman Gibson, IBC secretary, said such rumors were current in New York. Gibson said:

"The IBC, contrary to rumors, does not plan a television tieup with the Dumont network, or any network, to televise fights on Monday nights from Chicago or any other city."

Bevo Still Fishing

Newt Oliver Approaches Globetrotters About Signing Francis to Contract

By TOM BRANAGAN

CHICAGO (AP)—If Bevo Francis and Newt Oliver ever get together on just what they're fishing for, high-scoring star Bevo may be professional basketball's next big attraction.

* * *

The Harlem Globetrotters' impressario, Abe Saperstein, has been approached by Oliver, the headline-conscious little guy who coached Bevo and Rio Grande College into national prominence.

Object: that good old Yankee dollar.

* * *

Saperstein isn't sure just what Oliver has in mind about working Bevo into the razzle-dazzle professional basketball picture Saperstein created more than 20 years ago. But he's "interested" in Bevo's potential as a "big draw" at the gate.

Main trouble, as far as Saperstein is concerned, is Bevo's current concentration on fishing, a strictly amateur pursuit, to the exclusion of career matters.

* * *

Meantime, Oliver officially joined Bevo on college basketball's sidelines. He resigned last night as Rio Grande's coach and athletic director, saying "I can't take it any more down here."

* * *

Margolis said Oliver told the Globetrotters organization he and his star are considering several professional basketball contracts. The aggressive little coach hinted that Bevo might be the hub around which a National Basketball Assn. team might revolve.

Oddities Vie With Records in ABC Action

The oddity came in the Alaska Freight team's game, the Seattle squad rolling games of 898, 899 and 900 for a total of 2697. Each game was one pin better.

A Port Angeles, Wash., team rolled the high individual game for all booster teams participating thus far in the 1954 tournament. The Habit Cleaners and Dyers of Port Angeles rolled a 1010 game in their final effort. They had previously rolled games of 866 and 799 for a 2675, some 100 pins short of the leaders.

Entry List Now 65

INDIANAPOLIS, April 20 (AP)—A delayed mail entry from Roy McKay, Youngstown, Ohio, Monday increased the field for the 500-mile auto race May 31 to 65 cars. No driver was listed for the four-cylinder car.

Many Good Derby Threats Falling By Wayside Through Injuries, Partridge Now Likes Correlation

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—The number of fine three-year-olds which have faded from competition prior to various Kentucky Derbies is almost unlimited. They are more than I can remember.

* * *

There was Stagehand, Howard Maxwell's sure winner years ago, trained by Earle Sande. Stagehand was the winner of the Santa Anita Derby and the Santa Anita Handicap, two $100,000 races. Stagehand was a hot Derby favorite. Three days before the race he cracked up on Kentucky soil.

* * *

There was Ben Jones' Ocean Wave, one of his great horses, he thought. There have been others far too many, including Uncle Miltie and Tom Fool. This season we have had Turn-To and Porterhouse, the two top favorites, pass from the picture.

* * *

You can't tell anything about a horse's staying power in a six-furlong race. Fast sprinters often have a distaste for the longer grind. Turning to my favorite selector, John Partridge, the veteran horseman, he names Correlation as his first choice in the Derby.

"I think Turn-To could have been the winner," John says. "From what I saw of him in Florida, he was two lengths on top. Now I like Correlation."

If he had been right The Pie King would have been a strong contender. So could Duke's Lea under the care of Jimmy and Ben Jones.

* * *

California has its best chance in years to take the Kentucky Derby. In addition to Correlation there is Andy Crevolin's starter, Determine.

* * *

I don't know whether Determine has speed enough to last for a mile-and-a-quarter. But he is well named. I saw him win three of his Western races and there is no more determined horse running.

Greentree has two challengers in Maharajah and Palm Tree. Maharajah has shown promise in spots, and proved disappointing on other occasions. Palm Tree ran well his first test this season.

* * *

Fisherman and Errard King have speed enough if they can handle the route. This leaves Correlation, Determine, Fisherman, Errard King, Double Speed, Goyamo, Maharajah and Palm Tree to be considered.

McDonald Stops Bosox With One-Hitter

Enos' Attitude Puzzles Mize

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Johnny Mize would like to know why Enos Slaughter cried when he was traded to the New York Yankees earlier this month.

* * *

Big Jawn, who didn't start collecting World Series money until the Giants sold him to the Yankees in his 14th season in the majors, couldn't understand why anybody should feel badly about joining the world champions.

"I just can't figure it," Mize said today. "A fellow should thank his lucky star for an opportunity to join the Yankees. And here is this guy Slaughter crying like a baby. What do you know about that?

"Imagine feeling sorry about being traded to a club that's practically a unanimous pick to win the pennant again. All that means is Slaughter is due to pick up about six or seven thousand dollars this year that he almost certainly would not have gotten if he remained on the St. Louis club.

Mize, who is doing a pre-game sports show from the Polo Grounds this year, retired from baseball at the end of the 1953 season after collecting five straight World Series checks with the Yankees. Prior to that he spent 13 years (including three service years) in the National League with the Cardinals and Giants but never was on a pennant winner.

"The best thing that ever happened to me was when the Yankees purchased my contract from the Giants," he said.

"Maybe he was told he would never leave the Cardinals.

"I learned last year you can't depend on promises. Dan Topping (Yankee co-owner) assured me I'd stay with the Yankee organization after my playing days were over.

"He approached me during the Yankees' World Series celebration last October and told me that as soon as he got a few things out of the way, he'd discuss my future with me. I never heard from him again."

Agganis' Single Spoils No-Hitter for Yank Hurler

Bombers Finally Halt Jinx of Mel Parnell With 5-0 Win

BOSTON (AP)—New York Yankee righthander Jim McDonald had the last laugh on his former Boston owners today after coming up with the best game of his career—a one-hit, 5-0 triumph over the Red Sox.

* * *

A leadoff single in the second inning by rookie Harry Agganis was all that spoiled a no-hitter yesterday for the chunky 26-year-old McDonald. He walked five and fanned four.

The victory was a big one for New York as well as the Modesto, Calif., pitcher. It snapped the Yankee jinx against lefty Mel Parnell—who had a 5-0 mark against New York in 1953—and also got the world champions back on the victory trail. Boston had won 2-1 in the morning game of the twinbill.

* * *

"This was his best game," said Manager Casey Stengel, "and remember it was his first start. He gave us what we needed. We haven't been hitting and it's been tough winning."

Stengel described McDonald, who was traded to St. Louis by Boston after coming up through the Red Sox farm system, as "an unfortunate pitcher. He only won 10 games (including one in the world series over Brooklyn) last year, but you should have seen some of the ones we lost for him.

McDonald said his previous lowest hit game in the majors was a three-hitter against Boston for St. Louis in 1951—"I think the score was 6-2."

* * *

Asked whether he liked to beat the Red Sox because he is a Boston castoff, the husky righthander said:

"Heck, I don't care who I beat so long as I win 'em."

He said his sinker "was working especially well, but my curve was good at times. Agganis got his hit on a curve ball right off his fists, but it was a pretty good hit. He didn't hit it too hard, but hard enough to drop into left field. I have no gripes about that one."

McDonald said his world series triumph "helped my confidence. I feel more secure this spring. I felt better out there today than I have all year."

Then he winked:

"All I'd like is 19 more like that one."

In almost six years with the Yankees as a reserve catcher, Charlie Silvera has appeared in only 160 games.

All Get Into Act

Cuban Opening Day International Affair

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Ah, yes, senor, down here we like our baseball.

* * *

We have the Cuban winter league which boasts many major league players. But that is as nothing compared to our Havana Sugar Kings, the new entrants to the International League.

* * *

This is the first time we have climbed so high in organized baseball, senor, and we intend to make the best of it.

* * *

Take the opening game today. In the states, a famous politician throws out the first ball. We, too, will have that. But we don't stop there.

* * *

The Canadian Ambassador, Harry A. Scott, will throw out the first ball for our game against the Toronto Maple Leafs. But it will be a real pitch. The catcher will be Roberto Fernandez Miranda, sports director of Cuba, the batter will be International League President Frank Shaughnessy and the umpire will be American Ambassdor Arthur Gardner.

May Increases Tourney Purse to $100,000

Victor in Tam O'Shanter Test Gets $50,000 Plus Exhibition Contract

CHICAGO (AP)—The 1954 "world championship of golf" at Chicago's Tam O'Shanter country club will be worth $100,000 to the winner.

* * *

Promoter George S. May announced the purse yesterday. Total prize outlay for the multiple-tourney affair Aug. 5-15 will amount to $205,000—exactly $80,000 more than the 1953 total.

The golf extravaganza starts with the All-American tourneys Aug. 5-8. Like the "world championships", these are divided into four divisions—for men pros, men amateurs, women pros and women amateurs. Top prize for men in this meet is $3,420, for women $1,000.

* * *

The "world's" championship follows, with first prize worth a flat $50,000—double the amount collected by winner Lew Worsham last year. In addition, Promoter May, president of Tam O'Shanter, will give the victor a contract for 50 exhibition matches at $1,000 each.

Warmath Calls for Speed From Gophers

MINNEAPOLIS, April 20 (AP)—Murray Warmath took Minnesota off its hallowed single wing standard Monday and officially installed the split T with a call for "speed, speed and speed."

Warmath, who came into the Minnesota coaching situation cold from Mississippi State four months ago, preceded the first workout with a rapid-fire outline of what he expects from the team.

Keystoners Not Up to Par

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—It will not take long for the news to get around the American League that Phil Rizzuto, the veteran shortstop of the Yankees, does not appear to be getting the jump on the ball that he did in other years. It's early yet, but Manager Casey Stengel is said to be doing a spot of worrying.

All Casey's rivas have been waiting to hear for several years now is a report that little Phil has begun to feel his 35 summers and has slowed up a step. In their opinion, Rizzuto has been the key man in the Yankees' string of world championships, and they are convinced he is the one player the club cannot hope to replace from its farm system.

Although he was free of the stomach ulcers which plagued him last season and appeared fit, Phil caused shakings of the head in exhibition games in Florida this spring. He was supposed to be working himself into shape gradually, as is a veteran's privilege, but now the boys are beginning to wonder.

* * *

Neither is Gerry Coleman making Stengel happy by his play at second base. The feeling is that the Korean veteran put in far too much time in preliminary baseball camps all through February and was tired before he even reported to Stengel at St. Petersburg. He is of the slight, nervous type and needs to conserve his energy. Looks as though the champs might be in for a long summer.

Finnish Marathon Runner Avenges Loss to Briton

By BUD WEEKS

BOSTON (AP)—Finnish marathoner Veikko Karvonen—a fellow with a long memory—relaxed happily today after squaring accounts with Britain's Jimmy Peters.

* * *

The 27-year-old mail clerk defeated Peters—holder of the unofficial world record for a 26 miles, 385 yards grind—by 800 yards yesterday while winning the 58th Boston AA Marathon.

* * *

Only last October Karvonen finished second to the 35-year-old London optician's assistant as Peters set his world mark of 2:18:34.5 right in the Finn's home town of Turku.

But Karvonen vowed he'd work harder than ever. He and teammate Erkki Puolakka, the current Finnish champion, spent more than a month training in Clifton, N.J., for yesterday's race from suburban Hopkinton to Boston's Back Bay.

His winning time of 2:20:39 wasn't as swift as his 2:19:19 effort here in 1953, when the runners had a brisk tailwind. This year a lively head wind bothered them the last six miles. Peters' time was 2:22.40.

* * *

The chief hope for an American victory, 23-year-old collegian Johnny J. Kelley of New London, and Boston University, was seventh in 2:28.51.

Turner Is Favored in Bout With Jones

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Philadelphia's Gil Turner was rated today an 11-5 choice over Bobby Jones, Oakland, Calif., in their 10-round return bout here tomorrow night.

Jones was a 3-1 underdog when he upset Turner on a split decision March 10.

Turner is expected to weigh 151 for the fight, the same poundage he carried into the previous bout.

Softball Tryouts

Stadium Inn softball club management has issued a call for candidates for the 1954 squad. First rehearsal is set for tonight at 6 o'clock at Oriole Field, at Paddock, Auburn and Chandler streets.

Hoover Cites New Record

Reports U. S. Crime Rate Outstrips Population Rise

WASHINGTON (INS) — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported today that crime in the U. S. is outracing population growth by a four to one margin and reached an all-time high during 1953.

Hoover said his estimate of the violent postwar upswing in major crimes is "conservative" but that every major type of offense except murder showed an increase last year.

The new annual record of 2,189,060 major crimes was six per cent above 1952 and reflected significant boosts in manslaughter, rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft, as well as other offenses.

The FBI chief said that despite the 1.2 per cent drop in murders, there were 12,180 killings and 17,900 rapes, over half of them forcible.

He declared: "Strong-arm thugs and criminals armed with deadly weapons forcibly took more than 14 million dollars in 1953. These potential killers threatened their victims in 63,100 robberies and obtained an average of $222 per robbery."

The 8.5 per cent increase in robberies represented the highest per cent increase of any major crime during the year, according to reports gathered from law enforcement agencies throughout the United States.

There wwere 479,120 burglaries of homes, business houses and other structures during the year with an estimated loss of $78 million in money and property. This crime increased 8.2 per cent.

Although property crimes cost the public more than $400 million during 1953, criminal violence also took a shattering toll. In addition to the rapes and killings 92,600 persons were stabbed, shot, cut, clubbed or seriously beaten during the year — up 5.3 per cent from 1952.

Hoover's estimate that crime is outstripping population growth by four to one was based on the fact that population increased five per cent, while crime jumped 20 per cent since 1950.

He noted that rural America was sharing more and more of the crime burden, with major offenses rising 9.6 per cent in these areas compared with 4.5 per cent in the cities.

Car thefts remained an important problem for law enforcement authorities during the year, but 93.9 per cent of the estimated 226,530 stolen autos were recovered and returned to their owners.

Pony Express Faster Than Postal System?

ASHLAND, Kan. (AP) — Saddle Club members are going to prove that the pony express could carry mail from her to Dodge City faster than the odern postal system does.

Kansas towns are only 40 miles apart, a letter posted her is routed to eastern Kansas and gets back to Dodge City the next Day.

Toll Road Emphasis on Upswing in U.S.

Increased emphasis on toll roads in the United States was reported today in Ward's Automotive Reports.

The statistical agency said the Mississippi House of Representatives has passed a bill creating a commission to build a toll road from Memphis to New Orleans while another attempt will be made to create a statewide toll authority in Arkansas.

The publication also said that Kansas Turnpike Authority has taken first steps toward financing construction of a toll road from Kansas City to south of Wellington.

Grain Prices Lower Today

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain prices dropped in active dealings on the Board of Trade today. Soybeans and wheat, the leaders in yesterday's sparkling up-turn, fell the most today.

"The war-scare" which swept over the market yesterday was completely absent today. Helping to abate it was Secretary of State Dulles' statement he considered it unlikely American troops would be sent into Indochina.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1¼ to 1⅝ lower, May $2.13⅜, corn ½ to ⅞ lower, May $1.52⅞, oats unchanged to ¼ lower, May 76⅝, rye ⅝ to 1 cent lower, May $1.06¼, soybeans 4 to 5¼ lower, May $3.93 and lard 10 to 65 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $21.60.

Jail Term Fails to Halt Thomas

Former Congressman Seeks GOP Nomination in New Jersey Primary

Widnall has the support of party organizations.

* * *

Polls were opened at 7 a.m., EST. They will close at 8 p.m.

Thomas, who said he "never once" met Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) would only know him from his pictures, has campaigned on a pledge of "1,000 per cent" support of the Wisconsin Republican and his Communist-hunting methods.

"The time has come," Thomas said today, "when you need more drive, more McCarthys, more Martin Dies, and more Parnell Thomases."

* * *

He was re-elected to his seventh term in the House in 1948, six days before he was indicted. The following year, after two days of trial, he changed his plea from innocent to no contest and was sentenced to 6 to 18 months in federal prison.

Thomas was paroled in 1950 after serving 8½ months and was pardoned, with all citizenship rights restored, by President Truman two years later.

He has promised that, if elected, he will follow the lead of McCarthy, ferret out Reds wherever they may be, and plug for the outlawing of the Comunist party.

Auction Ziegenhardt Equipment Today

LAPEER (AP) — A sheriff's auction of livestock and equipment on the Chris and Paul Ziegenhardt farm was scheduled for today.

The sale is to satisfy a $3,750 judgment obtained by Mrs. Grace S. White, Lapeer attorney, for the Ziegenhardts occupying the farm after she purchased it several years ago.

The Ziegenhardts lost their 240-acre farm near Marlette by refusing to pay a $280 assessment in the 1935 bankruptcy of a Mutual Fire Insurance Association.

Mrs. White purchased the $40,000 farm for $13,000 at an auction ordered by the Michigan Supreme Court in 1948.

The elderly brothers were evicted from the farm April 8 by 36 state troopers and Lapeer County sheriff's deputies. They are residing at the farm home of William L. Mathews of Burlington Township.

The sale today is to be supervised by Sheriff Clark Gregory, several deputies and Capt. Earl Secrist of the state police post at Bay City.

Mexico Business Reacts Quickly to Peso Deflation

MEXICO CITY (INS) — Mexican businessmen feared today that the devaluation of the Mexican peso may have serious economic repercussions.

Treasury Minister Antonio Carillo Flores announced the devaluation Saturday and since then prices on American goods have been climbing.

Distressed businessmen immediately predicted that the U. S. would place higher duties on exports and Mexican businesses along the border were reported seriously endangered by the devaluation move.

In some localities, there were mysterious commodity shortages and sharp jumps in price on certain commodities.

Articles such as chocolate, powdered milk and prepared foods were fast disappearing from super market shelves. Other hard-to-get items were canned goods and olive oil.

There was panicky buying in American cigarettes and available supplies were nearly exhausted.

The peso is now pegged officially at 12.5 pesos per dollar as compared to the rate of 8.65 before its devaluation.

Trading Keeps Mart Irregular

Motors and chemicals tended to ease, as did some farm implement companies. Steels, oils, utilities, aircrafts and railroads were mixed. Mail order houses found some ready buyers.

Strong demand was evidenced for Vanadium, Climax Molybdenum and General Electric. Zenith Radio was under selling pressure.

The market opened fast but with changes generally minor fractions. There was no continuation of yesterday's sharp shakeout, which witnessed a late tape of one minute for a brief period. Yesterday, losses of one to three points were frequent among steels, motors, railroads, aircrafts and chemicals.

Among today's risers were Bethlehem, U. S. Steel, Goodrich, Sears Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Schenley, Philco, American Telephone, American Cyanamid, Westinghouse, American Tobacco, Santa Fe Railroad, Texas Co. and Pan American Airways.

Slipping slightly were Youngstown Steel, Chrysler, Packard, U.S. Rubber, International Harvester, Boeing, United Aircraft, Public Service Electric, Kennecott, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, New York Central, Sinclair Oil and Eastern Airlines.

Consumers Calls Stockholder Meeting

Pontiac area residents who are shareowners in Consumers Power Co. have been called to the annual regional stockholders meeting by D. H. Gerhard, manager of the company's Southeast Division.

Gerhard said the meeting will be held April 27 at the Stevens Hall at 7:45 p.m. D. E. Karn, president, will talk briefly about the company's business plans and discuss recent developments in the electric and gas industries.

A short film on atomic energy will be shown, along with several exhibits, some of which will concern the 75th anniversary of the invention of Edison's incandescent light bulb being celebrated this year.

The company is holding 10 such regional sessions in its outstate Michigan service area this month, Gerhard said. He said that about 300 persons are expected at the session in Pontiac.

Senators Speak Tonight

CHICAGO (AP)—Senators Kennedy (D-Mass) and Douglas (D-Ill) were listed as chief speakers tonight at the $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner for the Democratic party. Some 1,300 state and national party leaders were expected to attend.

Factories Tame Cowboy Drivers

GMC Training Program Eliminates Hot-Rodding in Plants

The "industrial cowboy," long a terror in manufacturing plants as he roared his bug-like truck down narrow aisles and around blind corners, has finally been tamed.

A new safety program to license industrial drivers and make them obey special traffic laws within plants which was developed by GMC Truck and Coach Division was described today at the opening session of the 24th annual Michigan Safety Conference in Detroit.

G. E. McNeive, GMC superintendent of material handling, said the program, in effect for seven months, has already "greatly reduced injuries to workers and damage to equipment and material in four plants in Pontiac."

"The 400 drivers participating in the program to reduce accidents with fork trucks, tow trucks, platform trucks and other small vehicles used within our plants are enthusiastic to the point of heckling a reckless driver into being careful," McNeive said.

Safety policemen aid department supervisors in enforcing traffic laws. Drivers are subject to loss of their plant truck driver's license and transfer to non-driving jobs for serious infractions.

"The program includes careful hiring procedures, physical and mental testing, a two-week training course and a final examination with a road test inside the plant," McNeive said.

Some of the 17 traffic rules listed in a special book carried by all drivers include: No Horse Play, Give Pedestrian the Right of Way, Speed Limit 8 m. p. h. At All Times, and Keep Within Aisle Lines.

McNeive said the program has been adopted by many General Motors divisions and a large number of industrial firms throughout the country. He offered full details to any firm interested in the program.

Average of 14.3 Autos Held by U.S. Dealers; Sales Gaining

New automobile stocks reached near postwar record levels on April 1, with a total of 604,156 units, according to Automotive News.

The postwar high of 606,387 was reached last Nov. 1. On March 1 of this year, stocks in dealers' hands, in storage and en route from the factories totaled 578,122 units.

On an average-per-dealer basis the April 1 stocks were at postwar record levels. The Detroit trade paper said the average was 14.3 cars per dealer against 13.4 on Nov. 1, 1953. It noted also that increased numbers of new car dealers are going out of business.

At the same time it reported new car sales are continuing to increase, with indications the April total may top 500,000.

Construction in the first quarter in southern Michigan reached $225,219,000, a 25 per cent increase over the same period last year, says Dodge Marketing reports. March construction was $78,057,000 or 6 per cent higher than March 1953, but 19 per cent below February construction.

GM's Stock Gains Help Boost Market

An upsurge in General Motors' stock value was credited today with playing a key role in the current advance of the stock market.

Ward's Automotive Reports said GM stock now is bringing nearly the same price as the 1953 high of just under $70 a share. At the start of this year, the stock sold for as low as $58.75.

"GM's advance has been an important factor in the current bull market and the attendant rise of the industrial averages to a new quarter-century high," Ward's said.

Southfield Twp. Election OK'd

Electorate Gets Chance to Decide on Becoming a City

Southfield Park's request for a special election on becoming a city won the county supervisors' approval Mongay, but Clawson's move to annex part of Troy Township didn't do so well.

The board passed its Boundaries Committee's suggestion to let Southfield Park voters decide June 7 whether their area is to be a new city.

The committee recommended all voters of Clawson and Troy be allowed to vote on the matter Aug. 3.

But two committee members, William Roeser and Clayton G. Lilly, urged the board to reject the petitions for annexation.

Lilly pointed out that the petitions only ask that Clawson and the area affected vote on the transfer.

He also said that there was no affidavit filed to prove nobody lives in the area. The board turned down the petitions.

90 Days in Cooler Follows Hot Chase

HAZEL PARK — Gary Graves, 18, of 537 E. Elza, will have 90 days to cool off from his torrid flight at 85 m.p.h. speeds from Ferndale police Saturday night.

The police chase of Graves ended when his car crashed into another auto at 7-Mile and Meyers Rds, in Detroit, tipping it over and causing minor injuries to Mr. and Mrs. Lee R. Alvin of Detroit.

Watts told the youth it was only because the Alvins saw the crash coming and got down on the floor that they were not more seriously injured.

3 From Rochester Fined on Alcohol Charges

A Rochester man was assessed $20 fine and costs on a drunk and disorderly charge and two Rochester youths were fined $10 each yesterday when they pleaded guilty to illegal possession of alcohol before Orion Township Justice Helmar Stanaback.

Harley J. Quick, 21, Garland Gabbard, 18, and Larry Seaton, 17, were arrested by Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies when they were discovered drinking in a car with three minor girls. The girls were released into custody of their parents.

With Geiger Counters

Radiation Experts Check X-Ray Rooms at Hospital

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

ROYAL OAK—A squad of Geiger counter-equipped radiation experts made its way through the chilly, unfinished corridors of the new Oakland Hospital to the second floor X-ray section yesterday afternoon.

Although the doors were not yet hung in the five lead-lined rooms, Owen Pinkerman, hospital director, explained it was important to determine that there was no major leak through the walls before the plaster is applied.

The three-man team—Dr. James Lofstrom, professor of radiology at Wayne University's school of medicine; Norman Horowitz, a Wayne U. physicist, and Clark Warren, chief of X-ray technicians at Detroit Memorial Hospital—ran the tests and called the construction safe.

In July, when the doors are in place, they will be back to conduct a second test. A final examination will be given when the $4,000,000 hospital is completed next January.

Pinkerman said construction of the 220-bed institution, located at 13-Mile Rd. and Woodward, is on schedule and that the hospital should be open for its first patients Jan. 5—"with no foreseeable delay."

Radiation tests are run by placing a small quantity of radium in the room to be tested. The Geiger counter is placed on the other side of walls shared with adjacent rooms and hallways.

If the device's clicks remain at a given standard, the room is deemed safe and given the inspectors' stamp of approval.

Pinkerman said the inspection was unofficial and that the scientists "came out as a courtesy to us."

Wire-Tap Fight Taken to Senate

Brownell to Appeal for Full Authority to Use Such Evidence

WASHINGTON (UP) — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. took his fight to the Senate today for authority to order the use of wire-tap evidence in the prosecution of subversives.

He was slated to be the first witness before a Senate judiciary subcommittee considering a number of wire-tap bills including one passed by the House that did not give Brownell all the authority he sought. Brownell was expected to make a strong appeal for the full power he wants.

The House earlier this month approved legislation permitting the use of wire-tap evidence already gathered in the prosecution of spies and subversives. But it would require a Federal Court order for the use of such evidence in the future.

But he faces tough going in the Senate. Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev), ranking Democrat on the full Judiciary Committee, plans to fight for his own bill which would give Brownell less wire-tapping power than he now has.

City, County Discuss Annexation Proposal

Pontiac City Commission last night took under study a request from Oakland County asking the city to annex about 100 acres of Waterford Township as a site for the proposed new County Courthouse and Office Building.

The plan was explained to commissioners by the county ways and means committee and other officials in a meeting at Hotel Waldron. The property lies between Telegraph road and the city's West Boulevard boundary lines.

City Manager Walter K. Willman today said an official request for annexation was received by Pontiac yesterday after county supervisors voted to support the move.

Because the land is publicly owned, only approval by the commission and the Waterford Township Board is required. Waterford Township Supervisor Lloyd L. Anderson said the township supported the annexation.

111 Forest Fires in State Denote Advent of Spring

LANSING (AP) — The annual spring upswing in the forest fire danger was evidenced last week.

A total of 111 fires were reported this week. They more than doubled the year's damaged acreage bringing it up to 1,217 acres.

Mayor of Grand Rapids to Change City Managers

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — George W. Welsh, a former Grand Rapids mayor and city manager will be re-named city manager when the new city administration takes office in May if the newly chosen City Commission doesn't change its mind.

Mayor-elect George Veldman's close victory in the April 5 election was confirmed in a recount Monday. He backs Welsh and four of the seven City Commission members said they also favor appointment of Welsh to replace Millard M. Moore, now serving as both city manager and city engineer. Moore is expected to continue as city engineer.

Is Only Waiting for Right Part

1st Film Was 'Smiles'; Started TV Work This Year in 'Secretary'

NEW YORK — Ann Sothern's fans want her to sing on Private Secretary, her television comedy series.

The blond star would like nothing better. Music has played a major role in her career. But Ann's flock of admirers will have to wait.

"Quite a lot of my mail raises the question of why I don't sing occasionally," she says. "I'll sing all right, when a script has a logical reason for me to do so. I won't need any begging. But, after all, I'm a comedienne now."

Ann's main musical interest at this time is in helping her eight-year-old daughter Patricia with her piano lessons. Patricia, or Tisha, attends Marymount School in Brentwood, near Hollywood. Her musical studies are divided between teachers there and her mother.

At 11, Ann was a promising musician. Later, at Central High School in Minneapolis, she won first prize three consecutive years for her original musical compositions.

Florenz Ziegfeld saw her in one of those films and offered her a part in Smiles, with Marilyn Miller, on Broadway. She also appeared in such hits as America's Sweetheart, Everybody Welcome and Of Thee I Sing.

After Of Thee I Sing she went to Hollywood, was soon established as a motion picture star. Among her notable films in this period were Panama Hattie, As Thousands Cheer, Lady Be Good and Cry Havoc.

Then she began her highly successful Maisie series. She broke away from the Maisie characterization in 1947 and appeared in such musicals as April Showers, Nancy Goes to Rio and later in the academy Award-winning comedy Letter to Three Wives.

Last Feb. 1, Miss Sothern made her television debut in the Private Secretary series.

Champ Chimp Gets Teeth Into His TV Part-ners

NEW YORK (AP)—J. Fred Muggs had an active weekend. He bit two women—television actress Martha Raye and her pretty blonde understudy, Vicki Carlson — and it wasn't just monkey business.

"I think he just got excited at Miss Ray's antics and lost his head," her manager, Nick Condos said. He said the elbow wound was just a scratch.

But Miss Carlson got a more severe injury — two, inch-long teeth cuts. She said a National Broadcasting Co. doctor told her it would leave a permanent scar.

"I still think Mr. Muggs is sweet," she said. "There had been so many people around, upsetting him, that he just did it unintentionally."

Tree Growing in Parlor Will Be Chopped Down

International Conference on Atoms Planned by Ike

LOS ANGELES (AP) — President Eisenhower plans an international conference of scientists to explore "the benign and peaceful uses of atomic energy," says Lewis L. Strauss.

The chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission made this disclosure last night in addressing the Los Angeles World Affairs Council. He said it is the President's intention to ask a national American scientific organization to call the meeting later this year.

No specific date was mentioned for the meeting, which would be the first conclave of its kind in the nuclear age.

* * *

Strauss, in stating its purpose, quoted the President's words: "To hasten the day when the fear of the atom will begin to disappear from the minds of the people and the governments of the East and the West."

The AEC chairman's announcement came during his discussion of Eisenhower's Dec. 8 speech, in which the President called upon the world's atomic powers to set up an international agency to develop peaceful atomic pursuits.

The nations participating, said Eisenhower, "must, of course," include the Soviet Union. Strauss, amplifying this point during a question-answer period following his address, said the nations participating must include, under the President's plan, the three powers in the atomic energy area—the United States, Great Britain and Russia.

* * *

"The United States proposal," said Strauss, "is not just another move in the chess game of world politics nor is it primarily a disarmament formula. It does not endanger the atomic weapons secrets of any nation that now has or may possess such secrets. It does not involve suddenly placing trust where yesterday trust could not be reposed."

Calls H-Bomb Greatest Instrument for Peace

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. John T. Rettaliata, president of the Illinois Institute of Technology, said Monday that the H-bomb and peace will grow together.

Calling proposals to stop H-bomb experiments "silly," Dr. Rettaliata said:

"The H-bomb in the hands of the United States is the greatest instrument of peace that has ever been devised, and our hopes for continued, and possibly permanent peace will increase in proportion to the effectiveness of that bomb."

Dr. Rettaliata spoke at a meeting of Illinois Tech alumni.

State Weight Limit Eased

Builders to Bid on County Mart

Earlier Offers Rejected When Company Finds Error in Estimate

Contractors again will be asked to bid on building a new Oakland County farmers' market on Pontiac Lake road, the County Board of Supervisors decided Monday.

The board turned down all nine bids on the market submitted earlier this month, allowing the low bidder to withdraw.

A contractor, who offered to build the market for $68,964, found a mistake that made his bid $9,500 too low.

"We're reluctant to suggest this," said Harry W. Horton, chairman of the supervisors' Buildings and Grounds Committee, in asking the board to reject the bids. "But it seems the only thing we can do. In other cases like this, the courts have said contractors have the right to correct any honest mistakes in bids before contracts are issued."

Supervisor E. H. Waterhouse objected that "rejecting bids and taking new ones was "unfair" and it might be wiser for the board to accept the next lowest bid. Horton pointed out that the board has set aside only $65,000 for the new market while the next highest bid is about $75,000.

Norman R. Barnard, chairman of the Supervisors' Market Committee, moved that the board of auditors accept new bids and supervisors award a contract at their next meeting. Waterhouse asked to add a requirement that the county ask for cashiers' checks as deposits from bidders, instead of the costlier bid bonds.

The board of supervisors passed all these suggestions.

Cozy Couples Pull Big Switch in Married Life

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—It was all very friendly as two Pomona, Calif., couples got divorces here yesterday, went together to get marriage licenses and then were wedded to each other's former spouses by the same justice at the same time.

Millard D. Platt, 35, was divorced by Arlene Platt, 35, on grounds of mental cruelty. And Claude Fowler, 39, was divorced by Vivian Fowler, 46, on grounds of extreme cruelty.

At the marriage license bureau they told a clerk, "We are all very happy," and said they would return to Pomona together.

U. of M. Names Vice President of Student Affairs

ANN ARBOR, (AP) — James A. Lewis, has been appointed to a newly created post at the University of Michigan to coordinate and develop "the non-academic aspects of student life."

Harlan Hatcher, president of the university, made the appointment yesterday, creating the post effective July 1. Lewis now is director of the bureau of school services at the university.

Lewis came to the university last fall from the school superintendent's job at Dearborn. Previous to that he taught at Cass City, Dowagiac and St. Joseph. Lewis, a native of Owosso, was graduated from Central Michigan College.

Hatcher said the university now has 5,000 more students than it had at the end of World War II. He said an additional increase of about 5,000 is expected within the next five or six years.

Lewis is on leave at Harvard, where he is working on a doctorate in education. He will return to Michigan next month.

Senate Votes Today on Construction Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate planned to complete voting today on a bill which sponsors say would enable the government to catch up on a huge backlog of building needs.

A unanimous agreement controlled the debate, apparently assuring final action on the House-passed measure sometime during the afternoon. Passage in some form seemed assured.

Under the bill, the government would have contractors put up post offices and other buildings to its specifications, then would buy them through long-term payments like rent.

Bantamweight on Scooter Surprises Horn Tooter

TURIN, Italy (AP)—Four young men in a car thought the motor-scooter ahead was a road hog. When they finally got by, they stopped to give their opinion to the man on the scooter.

That proved a mistake. Police said the scooter rider, Giovanni Sanna, 29, a professional bantamweight fighter, knocked all four unconscious. Sanna suffered a broken nose.

Elizabeth Climbs Temple to See Buddha's Tooth

KANDY, Ceylon (AP)—Britain's Queen Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, took off their shoes last night to climb the steep temple steps for a glimpse of Buddha's tooth, Ceylon's most prized religious relic.

After seeing the famed relic, in the Temple of the Tooth, the royal couple took places on an octagonal dais to watch a glittering royal perahera, the festival traditional parade in which the Sinhalese chiefs of the past pledged allegiance to other British monarchs.
