It's Official! Patrick Baldwin Is City's First Baby of Year

By SYLVIA COLE

Little Patrick Francis Baldwin was the first baby the stork brought to the Pontiac area in 1959.

The Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce announced today that Patrick, 5-day-old son of James and Catherine Baldwin, of 467 N. Perry St., is the winner of the 1959 First Baby of the Year Contest.

For being Pontiac's newest citizen in 1959, Patrick will be showered with more than $275 in prizes donated by local merchants.

Patrick beat other contestants to the punch by arriving at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital at 1:41 a. m. New Year's Day. At birth, he weighed 7 pounds, 2 ounces.

The contest, open to parents who live in Oakland County north of 14 Mile road, closed at noon today. Thirty-six merchants will shower the winning baby and his parents with gifts.

The Baldwins live in a rented six-room home and have three other children — Jimmy who is 4½ years old; Cathy, 3; and Dickie, 18 months.

Mrs. Baldwin, 28, a graduate of Nazareth College in Kalamazoo where she studied English and journalism, taught third grade at St. Michael Elementary School until June. Her 30-year-old husband has been unemployed for a year.

As she held her new baby in the hospital bed, she told of the slippery ride to St. Joseph's New Year's Eve.

"We got here about 11:15 p.m. My doctor had told me long ago that the baby was due Jan. 1. Although it was very icy, my husband and I made it in time but the baby was born before the doctor arrived."

"The nurse told me my baby might be the first of the year but when it was over an hour past midnight, I was certain others would be born ahead of mine.

"I sure was surprised when I found out Patrick was first," she exclaimed.

When asked what prompted the Irish name for her newest child, she chuckled:

"Well, it was a compromise. I wanted to name it Joan after a girl friend. My husband wanted a Patrick Francis, so that's what we have."

Lands Damaged Plane Safely

Crash-Landing Averted at City Airport by Sylvan Lake Pilot

Despite a damaged landing gear, a veteran pilot brought his light plane down at Pontiac Airport today as 50 police, firemen and ground crewmen stood by for a crash landing.

Richard C. Knudsen, 41, of 1483 Benvenue St., Sylvan Lake, had fueled up here and was en route to deliver the 5-passenger, twin engine Cessna 310 plane to Lansing.

After the take-off, Knudsen said, "I heard a loud crack in the nosegear and knew that I was in trouble."

The gear holding the front wheel dangled loosely in the air as officials and spectators on the ground watched helplessly.

Several times the plane circled the field. Then Knudsen dipped and turned the plane until suddenly the gear seemed to take hold, and he settled the plane safely down on the snow-covered runway.

Airport officials were in touch with Knudsen constantly, while attempting to figure out the best possible way of getting the plane down before the gear snapped into place.

Later at the Barber airport hangar, mechanics discovered a broken bell-crank in the gear mechanism, which rendered the nose gear useless.

Knudsen has been a pilot for the last 25 years, with some 10,000 flying hours to his credit. He is married and has four children.

The 1958 plane is owned by Angels, Inc., of Tampa, Fla., and has a 200-mile an hour flying capacity.

Fire at Chicago School

CHICAGO (UPI)—Fire broke out in a wall of the Richard Vocational High School on Chicago's southwest side today, and about 350 students, all girls, evacuated the building in good order.

Public Apathy Dooms 12th Night Ceremony Here

There'll be no burning of the green tomorrow night in Pontiac.

Rather sadly, city officials have decided to give up the colorful Twelfth Night ceremony they instituted two years ago.

Public apathy, high costs and cold weather figured in the decision, said Leonard T. Buzz, Pontiac recreation director.

"Only a handful of people showed up to watch last year's burning of the green," Buzz said. "No one bothered to bring a Christmas tree along to help build up the fire and everyone stayed in his car, ignoring the ceremony.

"We don't have any reason to believe that the situation would be different this year."

The Parks and Recreation Department had to use city workers to round up Christmas trees last year, and this expense amounted to between $400 and $500, Buzz said.

IGNORED BY PUBLIC

Not one of the 2,000 trees that were burned in the Christmas 1957 ceremony was donated by the public, he reported.

Buzz said he was sorry, because he and his fellow workers had taken a special interest in carrying on the Twelfth Night tradition.

Mercury Plunges Below Zero

Arctic Weather Due to Stay

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

Most of the nation was enveloped in the season's coldest weather today.

From the Pacific northwest to New England, temperatures pushed to record lows in many years.

The first winter blast of the new year tangled air, train and highway transportation, threatened citrus crops in Texas and Florida, forced industrial shutdowns in Texas and Colorado and brought storm and cold warnings to the Atlantic seaboard.

The thermometer skidded to 43 below zero, one of the coldest readings in U.S. history at Big Piney, Wyo., and Hibbing, Minn., over the weekend. Gordon, Wis., reported an unofficial temperature of 45 below early yesterday.

Up to 10 inches of snow blanketed Kansas and Missouri and covered roads throughout the midlands with treacherous coats of ice and snow. Highway crews were hampered by the intense cold in their efforts to clear the roads.

A two-foot snowfall hit sections of northwestern Indiana yesterday and high winds piled up four-foot drifts.

Michigan City recorded up to 15 inches of snow and the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor area of Michigan, on Lake Michigan's lee shore, collected 8 inches.

Bitter cold clung to wide areas in the midcontinent and sections of the Rockies.

The cold and snow was blamed for at least 15 deaths. At least three persons were found frozen to death. Others died from overexertion while shoveling snow and in traffic accidents on ice-slicked highways.

Farmers in Florida as far south as Ocala, in the northcentral region, got their smudgepots ready when they heard the cold wave forecast. Southeast Florida basked in summer-like climes, with another day of 70-degree weather in sight.

Below freezing forecasts in the normally subtropical lower Rio Grande Valley worried owners of citrus and vegetable farms.

Most of the Deep South braced for below freezing weather.

Temperatures dropped to 25 degres below zero Sunday in the Texas Panhandle. However, there was a general moderation and the worst of the cold snap appeared ended.

Michigan Again Defies Death

Nation Falls Short of Traffic Fatality Guess for New Year's Period

Traffic	376
Fires	60

From Our News Wires

Michigan went through its second-straight Sunday without a traffic death and the nation appeared to be falling short of fatality estimates as the long New Year's holiday weekend came to a close.

Safety officials gave the weather an assist in helping chalk up a relatively safe New Year's holiday. Snow and sub-zero cold prompted thousands to forsake auto travel in favor of public transportation.

The National Safety Council had predicted traffic would claim 390 lives during the New Year's holiday, but indications were the toll would fall below that figure.

Traffic accidents claimed 15 lives in Michigan over the New Year holiday.

State police said no traffic deaths were reported in the state during the last 35 hours of the four-day holiday period.

In addition to the traffic dead, five persons died in miscellaneous accidents and a small boy was killed in a home fire over the weekend.

California had the highest toll among states with 41 persons killed in traffic. North Carolina and Pennsylvania reported 22 each, New York 21, Ohio 20, Illinois and Michigan 15, and Texas 14.

Soviet Leader Arrives

THE MAN FROM RUSSIA — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan presented this picture of seriousness on arriving at Idlewild Airport. He said that though he is in the United States for a two-week "informal" visit, he is willing to discuss the West Berlin crisis or any other question with American officials.

Mikoyan Bypasses Pickets for Meeting With Dulles

DETROIT (AP)—Anastas Mikoyan, first deputy premier of Russia will visit Detroit Thursday and Friday.

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Soviet Dep. Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan strode past shouting anti-Communist pickets today to a meeting with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Mikoyan and Dulles were expected to discuss the cold war on a no-holds-barred basis. The Berlin crisis was tagged as a chief topic.

The Soviet leader, who arrived from Moscow Sunday, smiled broadly as he arrived at the State Department. Seven Hungarian freedom fighters, carrying placards read "Go home Mikoyan," shouted insults as he walked up with Soviet Ambassador Hikhail Menshekov.

Mikoyan and the ambassador pressed through a crowd of about 100 reporters and photographers. Arriving in Dulles' outer office, they posed for pictures with Dulles, seated on a divan.

"Very glad to see you," Dulles said, shaking hands with Mikoyan.

Once seated, Dulles put his arm behind Mikoyan on the back of the divan and the two men launched into a friendly conversation — all about the weather.

The 63-year-old Soviet first deputy premier flew into New York City and drove directly to Washington.

At New York's airport, he studiously ignored a group of Hungarian refugees, some of whom yelled "murderer" and "Communist dog" at him. But a larger contingent waited in vain at the

On the heels of a three-inch weekend snowfall, temperatures plunged below zero in the Pontiac area today, and more zero weather was predicted tonight.

The city awoke this morning to the lowest temperature of the winter. In was an even zero at 4 a.m., and by 8 a.m. the mercury had slipped down a notch to one below.

The latest cold wave made Oakland County driving hazardous and forced schools to shut down in one district.

Arctic temperatures covered Michigan, with the mercury falling to the lowest point in nearly 11 months in several places.

Looking ahead, the Weather Bureau predicted the icy spell would hold its grip for another five days at least. Although it might warm up a little bit tomorrow and Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will be colder again, it was predicted.

There'll be more snow, but not much, and the thermometer will stand at levels of about 8-10 degrees below normal, the Weather Bureau said.

HOLIDAY FOR KIDS

About 3,400 school children in Troy got an extra day's Christmas vacation when only two of the school district's 14 buses started this morning.

Supt. of Schools Rex B. Smith blamed the mechanical troubles on lack of garage facilities. Since more than half the children in Troy use buses to get to school, it was decided that all the children would remain home today, Smith said.

Drivers were urged to use caution on county highways. Drifting snow had caused icy spots on many trunklines, the Oakland County Road Commission said.

Gravel roads were described as "not in good condition," but the snow did provide some additional traction on side roads which were still glazed from the Jan. 1 freeze, the road commission said.

Crowds Cheer Troops Along Way

Rebels March On Havana

By LARRY ALLEN

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro and thousands of his hardfighting soldiers continued their slow westward march of triumph today, savoring the adulation being heaped on them as they approached Havana.

Tens of thousands in cities, towns and villages turned out to cheer wildly as Castro and his motorized columns made their way from the Oriente province center of their rebellion which overthrew the dictatorship of Fulgencio Batista last week.

The progress was slow: Camaguey, 300 miles from Havana, Sunday night; tonight, Santa Clara, scene of the decisive defeat which forced Batista to flee, 140 miles further along the march; Tuesday, Matanzas, 50 miles from the capital.

AP Wirephoto

PRETTY REBEL—The men with beards are not being replaced in the Castro army, but additions to the forces such as this pretty girl will not hurt the popular appeal of the forces now in command in Cuba's capital city of Havana. She was on patrol with rebel forces, and declined to give her name.

Castro and his men were expected in the capital Wednesday afternoon for one of the greatest welcomes in Cuban history.

In a prelude, Manuel Urrutia, named provisional president by Castro, was flying from Santiago de Cuba this morning to take the central government reins in Havana.

A big welcome was arranged for him, with government offices closed so employes could participate.

The people of Havana awaited Castro with full stomachs for the first time since the collapse of the Batista government and the dictator's pre-dawn flight to Ciudad Trujillo.

The rebel chieftain, now commander in chief of Cuba's armed forces, ordered an end to the paralyzing general strike which had closed the nation's stores, business and industries and tied up transport and communications.

He had said he would call off the strike when he was convinced Havana was safely in the hands of his men. There were still some scattered Batista holdouts, but reports from his commanders in Havana assured Castro the situation was fully under control and nothing could upset his hard won victory.

There were immediate signs of a return to normalcy in the tense excited city.

Newspapers began appearing again. Stores flung open their doors to do a landoffice business selling foodstuffs to hungry Havaneros. Taxis and buses resumed operation. Industrial workers began preparing to return to their jobs.

Castro's bearded soldiers patrolled the streets with rifles, pistols, and machineguns, guarded government buildings and banks and roamed the lobbies and corridors of hotels, on the alert for violence.

Signals Cease as Rocket Races to Orbit Around Sun

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soveit Union's cosmic rocket continued its headlong dash toward a solar orbit today in man's greatest conquest of space.

Its radio signals ceased as the 1½-ton device—today renamed Mechta (dream)—went past an estimated 370,960 miles in its plunge away from the earth. It had then been in flight 62 hours.

Resources for feeding the radio equipment had become exhausted, the Soviet news agency Tass said.

"The program of observations and scientific investigations of the rocket has been completed," an announcement said.

This predicted the rocket will finally enter an orbit around the sun Wednesday or Thursday. Mechta is due to take 15 months to go around the sun, traveling elliptically.

The Russians calculate this orbit would have a maximum diameter of 214¼ million miles.

The rocket would get no nearer the sun than 91½ million miles. The sun averages 93 million miles from earth.

The name Mechta was applied to the rocket today by Pravda, the Communist party newspaper.

When it was announced last Saturday that the rocket was headed toward the moon, it was called Lunik, a combination of Luna (moon) and Sputnik.

Reds May Orbit Moon Satellite

U.S. Scientists Predict Soviet 'Cosmic Rocket' Will Return to Earth

WASHINGTON (UPI)—American scientists said today that Russia's next space achievement might be to send a satellite into orbit around the moon.

They pointed to a New Year's statement of Soviet plans to circum-navigate the moon in 1959 as an indication of the direction of the Russian space program.

The U. S. scientists said Russia's new "cosmic" rocket, which bypassed the moon, eventually would return to earth. They said, however, it may take hundreds of years and that it would be unlikely that anyone would know when the moon returned to earth.

The U. S. calculations were based on Soviet announcements indicating that the 3,200-pound lunar vehicle will go into an elliptical orbit around the sun, taking 15 months to complete one orbit.

Meanwhile, Dr. T. Keith Glennan, head of the new U. S. civilian space agency, conceded that the United States has no long-range space program.

He said the first task of his National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) will be to develop such a program covering both military and civilian projects.

Planes Continue Hunt for 17 Fishermen

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP)—Seventeen ice fishermen were believed stranded far out on Great Slave Lake today, trapped by ice cracks and a sub-Arctic blizzard.

Air Force and civilian planes were to continue searching near the center of the 11,170-square-mile lake for some sign of the men, who have not been heard from since New Year's Eve.

Temperatures since then have been around 30 below zero. The blizzard, backed by 30-mile-an-hour winds, has been sweeping southward across the lake for a week.

The men are employes of two commercial fishing companies based at Hay River, Northwest Territories, a town of about 1,000 on the southern shore of the lake 500 miles north of Edmonton.

Hicherson was released on a $200 property bond Sunday. Sears is still being held by police here.

Dr. Robert Zipf, coroner, who ruled homicide in the death of Mrs. Linda Rose, 18, was to confer with the prosecutor today about possible charges against James Rose, 19.

Rose told authorities he strapped the gun and holster to his side then called to his wife in the bedroom a few feet away that he was going to do a "quick draw" and pretend to shoot her.

Mrs. Rose laughingly replied "Okay," he said, and emerged from the bedroom to receive a slug in the chest. She died a short time later in a hospital.

Rose said he then recalled he had loaded the pistol several nights ago when he heard a noise, but he forgot to unload it.

Alabama Case Decision Due

Officials Who Defied Civil Rights Board to Hear Judge's Ruling

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Alabama officials, who defied the U. S. Civil Rights Commission, today attempt to convince a federal judge they acted legally.

After the hearing in U. S. District Court, the judge will rule on the officials' contention they lawfully withheld from the federal agency evidence on Negro voting.

The ruling of U. S. Dist. Judge Frank Johnson Jr. can be appealed, however, and the clash of federal vs. state authority eventually may reach the Supreme Court.

Arguing immunity to civil rights investigators are Circuit Judge George Wallace of Clayton and five present or former voter registration officials.

Wallace refused to appear at the Civil Rights Commission hearing here Dec. 8-9. The registrars balked at testifying under oath about the Negro voting complaints. Designated judicial officers under state law, they claim the federal agency has no right to question them about their official duties.

Failure to convince Judge Johnson they are immune from the commission's probe would put them under federal subpoenas once again—at the risk of jail terms for contempt—to produce the requested evidence on Negro voting.

Johnson already has ordered the rebellious officials to obey the commission subpoenas. He postponed execution of his command pending today's hearing.

KEEPING WATCH IN HAVANA — Supporters of the revolutionary government of Cuba man a machine gun post overlooking one of the main streets into the heart of the city of Havana. Tensions have begun to ease in the city, but Castro's supporters kept a close armed watch.

U. S. Gamblers Wait Cuba Casino Ruling

HAVANA (UPI) — American gamblers were hibernating behind their smashed casinos and shuffling for a deal to revive their multi-million dollar business under Cuba's new revolutionary regime.

But even the canniest of these 200 oddsmakers—who include such men as Meyer Lansky and George Raft—are not ready to call the turn on their Cuban future.

Cuba's rebel leaders have pledged the provisional government will protect American business, but they haven't yet pronounced their policy in respect to legalized gambling.

While most gamblers are reluctant to speculate openly on the future, Lansky, a longtime gambling wheel in both the United States and Cuba, was more sanguine.

"All we know now is that there is a new government in power and we want to do everything possible to cooperate with it," he said. "I have reason to believe that all casino operators want to do likewise."

Lansky and many of the gambling colony erroneously were reported to have fled the country when President Fulgencio Batista fled into exile in the early hours of New Year's Day.

Owners like Lansky, Raft, Verne Stone, Joseph Silesi and others are still in Havana awaiting developments although many idle croupiers were planning to visit the United States, at least temporarily, to look for jobs.

If the revolutionary government elects to revive the casinos, it seemed certain only a few would be ready for operation before the winter tourist season comes to a close.

Mobs of vandals, taking advantage of the temporary breakdown of law enforcement following the Batista flight, stormed into most of Havana's casinos and wrecked them. Furniture was smashed, gambling wheels were wrecked, windows were broken and bars were ransacked.

Owners estimated it would require a month or two to re-equip and refurnish the salons.

Dems to Honor Michigan Author

Hold Reception Friday for 'Anatomy of Murder' Writer, John Voelker

Michigan Supreme Court Justice John D. Voelker will help the new Bloomfield Democratic Club kick-off the new year Friday at a private reception to be held in his honor at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.

Justice Voelker, author of the best selling novel, "Anatomy of Murder," under the pen name of Robert Traver, will make a rare visit to Oakland County. This will be the club's first official function since it formed last month.

Mrs. William A. Clemmons, temporary club chairman, said "many outstanding community leaders have been invited, regardless of political affiliation," to meet the justice and author from Ishpeming. There are no planned speeches she added.

Associate Justice Voelker, 56, served as prosecuting attorney for Marquette County for 14 years before his appointment to the Supreme Court to fill a vacancy in 1956. He was then elected to another term last April.

He is married and the father of three daughters.

Snow was credited with keeping Michigan's holiday death toll down, with travel largely restricted to essential driving.

The lowest reading in the state was at Sault Ste. Marie, where the mercury plummeted to 16 below this morning.

It was five below at Alpena, 10 below at Escanaba, 11 below at Gladwin and 15 below at Kinross. Other sub-zero readings were two below at Grand Marais, seven below at Jackson and Marquette, six below at Saginaw and two below at Ypsilanti.

It was one above in Detroit, the coldest since a -7 degrees on Feb. 17, 1958.

Benton Harbor had eight inches of snow yesterday, Houghton (which already had 36 inches on the ground) had another four inches; and Traverse City reported four inches.

It will be partly cloudy with possible snow flurries this afternoon, the Weather Bureau said. Today's high was set at 12 degrees, tonight's low at zero and tomorrow's high at 18.

It should be fair tomorrow; the Weather Bureau said, with winds of 10-20 miles an hour switching from the west to the southwest.

The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was zero. At 2 p.m. the downtown temperature was 10.

A Night on the Vice Beat as Seen by Press Reporter

By MAX E. SIMON

Saturday night is "big money" night for vice dealers.

While most of Pontiac slumbers, prostitutes, dope pushers and gamblers are busy peddling their sordid wares to anyone who will buy.

Into the vice districts come out-of-towners, thugs, teen-agers in search of "kicks." All have heard that they "can get what they're looking for" in certain neighborhoods.

More traffic in vice goes on Saturday night than any other.

Pontiac vice officers know this, and work until the sun dawns in their efforts to stamp out vice.

I spent last Saturday night with the city's vice officers to learn how the officers operate and of the progress of their vice suppression drive.

Leaving the police station at 10:45 p.m., vice officers cruised through the north end of the city to see if any action was taking place in suspected gambling houses.

Richard G. Evans, head of the detail, decided against any raids, and the officers headed for the Bagley-Wesson intersection, where many vice arrests have been made in the past month and a half.

Pulling up in front of a notorious gambling establishment at 11:15, officers hopped out of their car and rang the front doorbell.

A face peered out of a window, but the door was not immediately opened.

Instead, as the officers expected, signals were being sounded to the rear of the building and lights flashing on and off — a "danger" warning that police had come.

Finally the door was opened and the officers admitted by the doorman, now in a jovial mood.

Making their way to the rear of the building, they came upon a card game, but no money was on the table. The officers cheerily greeted the men at the tables, who in turn murmured embarrassed "helloes."

After checking the premises, the officers proceeded to a dingy basement pool parlor. No one was there but a group of youths, none over 19, seated at a table.

One of the officers spotted an almost completely empty liquor bottle on the table among soft drinks, but none of the boys was drinking when the policemen walked in.

The youths left quickly after sighting the officers.

The officers returned to the station to pick up two patrolmen, Richard Hayes and William Gracey. The pair carried small hidden mikes, used to gain evidence against vice customers.

They then returned to the Bagley-Wessen area, known to police as "The Corner," and waited for a signal from the two plants to come swooping down to make arrests.

Over the police radio at 12:25 came a call that a bar guard's gun had been taken from him in a scuffle at the Sanford Bar, 568 S. Sanford St.

Rushing to the scene, the officers learned that Cleve Bell, the guard, had been in a fight with two brothers, who had taken the weapon and fired it. No one was injured.

The vice detail assisted in arresting the pair, Clem Kinnard, 30, of 294 Raeburn St., and Matthew Kinnard, 31, of 269 Rapid St.

Both were booked for investigation of attempted murder.

By 1 a.m., the officers were back at "The Corner." But at 4, no arrests had been made, the intersection was deserted, and no one had approached the officers planted there.

"The news is getting around that we're cracking down," Evans said. "When people read that we're arresting persons who solicit for vice, they're not tempted to come down here."

Despite the lack of traffic Saturday night, Evans said the vice detail, now known as the Special Investigations Unit, will continue to heavily patrol any suspected vice areas.

FUN IN THE SNOW — Cold and snow may not be something adults look forward to, but for the kids, it means a lot of fun. Improvising games and sliding on slopes are these youngsters at Montieth School, Crescent Lake at Hatchery roads, Waterford Township.

The Day in Birmingham

City Expected to Approve Plan to Convert Hospital

BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners are expected to record their approval of using a former Oakland County Contagious Hospital on Telegraph road to provide additional services for treating the mentally ill.

A request from the Oakland County Chapter of Michigan Society of Mental Health was studied by City Manager L. R. Gare who recommends support of the plan.

Facilities for treating mental disorders are woefully inadequate for all age groups, the chapter states.

Arthur Ball will be considered by commissioners for post of sealer of weights and measures. The post was left vacant by the illness and subsequent resignation of Henry Johns in March 1957.

In order to comply with a 25-year-old ordinance, Ball will also have to be appointed "a member of the police department during such times as he is actively engaged in the duties of sealer of weights and measures," officials said.

Appointment of two members to the city's Board of review also will be made tonight.

Fire of undetermined origin caused damages estimated at about $20,000 to the home of Barry Hodgins, 412 Greenwood St., yesterday afternoon.

Fire Chief Park Smith said the blaze started in a basement closet and swept up the nearby stairwell. Due to the absence of the family, the fire made considerable headway before being discovered by a neighbor.

Smith said partitions in the basement made it difficult to get at the fire effectively. Fred Sawyer, 325 Manor Rd., owner of the house, placed its value at about $12,000. Hodgins estimated the value of furnishings at about $8,000.

Residents have been reminded that Friday will be the final day for the collection of Christmas trees by the Department of Public Works.

Birmingham Chapter 220, OES, will hold a business meeting at the Masonic Temple at 8 p.m. Wednesday. Mrs. Parker Eckersen is chairman of the social hour.

Mrs. Fay Green, 894 Pierce St., will be hostess to the 1 p.m. luncheon Thursday of the Franklin Cemetery Auxiliary. A regular business meeting also will be held.

Mikoyan, Dulles Talk Today on Cold War

Soviet U.N. mission headquarters on Park Ave., which he bypassed.

Today, however, some of the same determined picketers arranged to march with placards outside the State Department, where Mikoyan had his appointment with Dulles.

Both Mikoyan and State Department officials indicated the Berlin situation would figure in the talks.

The Federation of Hungarian Former Political Prisoners briefly picketed the State Department in today's freezing weather. Dr. Bela Fabian, federation chairman, was allowed to enter the building to lodge a protest against Dulles' scheduled noon talk with Mikoyan.

The pickets withdrew after about a half hour but were expected to return. Washington police sent a half dozen men to bolster the department's normal security guard.

For Mikoyan so far the trip has been "America revisited." He came here in 1936, when he was so impressed with ice cream and the automat that he introduced both ideas to Russia.

This time he got excited about motels, parking meters and rental automobiles.

NO FIXED SCHEDULE

The days ahead also have no fixed schedule. Mikoyan says he will be happy to talk about anything Dulles wants, including Berlin. Dulles says "The initiative is his."

Mikoyan says he would be pleased to talk to President Eisenhower if the President has time. The White House says it is up to Mikoyan to ask.

One thing stood out clear. The critical Berlin situation—provoked two months ago by Soviet Premier Khrushchev — is the biggest cold war issue at present, and hence the most likely topic of any talks Mikoyan holds here.

The question in the official American mind was: How far is Mikoyan authorized to go—if at all—in backing down from Khrushchev's seeming ultimatum, rejected by the West, that the allies pull their troops out of West Berlin by next May?

Mikoyan is expected to take off on a 10-day tour of several American cities Tuesday. He is reported considering stops at Philadelphia, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Boston, Dallas, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

He will address the Economics Club in New York City Jan. 14 and the National Press Club in Washington, Jan. 19.

But any attempt to learn details of his plans draws a Slavic shrug at the embassy and such comments from Mikoyan as, "I am on holiday and I am a free man."

Sign Is True to Spirit of Christianity

DETROIT (UPI)—"Please say a prayer for the person that took the infant from his mother."

That was the sign placed in the straw before a kneeling figure of Mary in a nativity scene outside St. Bonaventure's Monastery in Detroit.

A thief stole the figure of the infant Jesus.

often was described as the day the three wise men finally completed their long journey, arriving at the tiny stable in Bethlehem where the Christ child had been born 12 days before.

In modern times, the event has usually marked the end of the Christmas season.

In keeping with this, the Parks and Recreation program began with having five high school girls place in a ceremonial fire such Christmas symbols as sprigs of holly and fir.

Then each girl took a torch and, escorted by a fireman, walked over to the huge mound of Christmas trees, arranged in the shape of a five-pointed star, another Christmas symbol.

At the signal, each girl put her torch to one of the five points and the whole mound would blaze away spectacularly for about half an hour.

The firemen who helped out were in dress uniform and while the brief ceremony took place, a narrator would explain the significance of Twelfth Night over the public address system.

Unfortunately, almost no one got near enough to watch the ceremony and no one seemed to mind missing it, Buzz said.

"We would be happy, of course, to arrange a program next year if the general public expresses any interest," he said.

State Senator Advocates Tax on Soft Drinks

LANSING (UPI)—The chairman of the Senate Liquor Committee today proposed a special one-cent tax on soft drinks.

"I'm not aiming at the kids," said Sen. John Minnema (R-Traverse City).

"The guy who can afford to drink liquor should be able to afford an extra penny for the mix he uses."

Minnema estimated about 75 per cent of all soft drinks are consumed as mix for liquor.

Airline Lays Off 20,000 Workers

375 Detroit Employes Furloughed as American Strike Continues

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 20,000 of American Airline's 22,000 employes were furloughed today as efforts continued to settle a 17-day strike by pilots.

Progress was reported in narrowing issues between the airline and striking members of the Air Line Pilots Assn., when a mediation session broke up early today. Another meeting was scheduled for 10:30 a.m.

American had announced in advance that the furlough order taking the employes off the payroll would become effective at midnight Sunday night if the strike was not settled. Employes kept on the payroll are in supervisory, maintenance and protective classifications.

In Detroit American said it has laid off 375 Detroit-area employes because of the strike.

A company spokesman said the layoff would leave 25 American Airlines employes working in the Detroit area.

Before the strike, American had 75 flights scheduled in and out of Detroit. The airline carried some 1,500 passengers daily in its Detroit operations.

Leverett Edwards, chairman of the National Mediation Board, said he would try to keep the negotiations going until a setlement is reached. The sessions are being held in his office here.

American is the nation's largest domestic airline from the standpoint of passenger miles flown. It normally carries an average of 22,000 passengers daily, serving 77 cities in the United States, Canada and Mexico.

2 Policemen Fail in Attempt to Save Child

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The mother said her baby couldn't breathe. Police dispatched two officers in an ambulance.

One drove while the other tried artificial respiration. But at the hospital, doctors pronounced the baby dead. They said the infant, one-month-old Craig Allen Pistorious, had a congenital heart condition.

One of the ambulance men was asked to break the news to Craig's mother. He was Officer William D. Pistorious—the baby's father.

Australian Scientists Speed Culture of Pearls

CANBERRA — The Australian Government Scientific and Industrial Organization reports that its scientists have produced cultured pearls in a 15-month experiment that are larger and more lustrous than Japanese pearls, which reportedly take up to eight years to develop.

The Australian scientists, after their initial experiment with cultured pearls, attributed their success to the use of the giant Silver Lip oyster shell, which is several times larger than that used in Japan.

Firemen Locate Voice in Fire, Arrive Too Late

QUINCY, Mass. (AP) — Firefighters heard what they thought was a human voice on the second floor of a burning dwelling Sunday.

Several of them put on gas masks and went to the apartment of Edward Anderson, 80. They got there too late. "Tweety," Anderson'e parakeet, suffocated after apparently trying to attract attention.

Anderson and seven other persons got out safely.

Show Women Actually Are 'Weaker Sex'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—In any discussion of the "sex revolution" of the 20th century, the woman is always the heavy.

She, who once was envisioned on a pedestal, is now seen on a soapbox.

As a sex, she is presumed to be pampered and ambitious, shrewed and vain, forceful and thoroughly self-confident. She is ageless and strong and powerful.

This is the picture that has been painted, by psychologists and geriatrists, life insurance statistics and persons who call themselves modern historians.

It is not, according to a researcher named T. F. James, a true picture. James (in a Cosmopolitan Magazine article) reveals that a survey of American women revealed that no less than 90 per cent were deeply dissatisfied with some aspect of their appearance.

This belies the female vanity theory and, in so doing, knocks down the contention that women are thoroughly self-confident.

Though insurance statistics show that the female in America outlives the male by more than six years—doctors' reports prove she feels neither "strong" nor "ageless." Women still outrace men to the nearest physician at the slightest pang or tremor; they still hold to the illusion that they are the weaker sex.

As for ambition—basically, woman's ambition always has been and always will be to obtain a good man. And the money and prestige, of course, that comes with such an acquisition.

A few females are fighting for the dollars and fame alone, and the Devil take the man, but they are decidedly in the minority. A modest number of Amazons is par for any century.

There can be no doubt, however, that the American woman is pampered. She has more luxury, more gadgets, more leisure and more men wiping her Wedgewood dishes than any other race of females in history.

So what has all this got her?

More time to read and hear about what an ambitious, confident, shrewd, strong and powerful sex she represents . . . and to wonder why she, personally, doesn't measure up.

"We've reached a stage in history where everybody's his own psychiatrist," Sam Levenson said. "It should simplify life, but it doesn't.

"Now that we have 'things'—possessions—we ought to feel secure. But no other country in the world is as frightened of so much.

"That's because the 'things' give us something to worry about. Worry about getting them, and worry about losing them. And when there's time left over, we worry about how we worry."

In past generations, women did not have it so good. They had to work. They didn't have time to think very much, about "am I happy?"

Now, women have machines to wash the dishes and husbands who wipe them. They can sit down and dissect life, to figure out why it is meaningless.

They wind up with active inferiority complexes. But it's better, they say, than being bored.

Auto-Lite and Union Okay New Contract

PORT HURON (AP) — Agreement on a new contract was reached yesterday by Electric Auto-Lite Co. and Allied Industrial Workers Local 647.

The new contract offer was the second. Workers at the auto parts manufacturing plant rejected a new contract offer last month but did not strike.

The latest contract offer previously was ratified by union members at the company's Hazelton, Pa., plant. Details of the pact were not revealed.

To Maintain Nation's Prestige:

U.S. Needs to Recognize New Cuba

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

HAVANA (AP) — The United States has been fairly lucky so far with the Cuban revolution.

The big neighbor to the north is still popular with the Cubans. But some of that popularity, as well as prestige elsewhere in Latin America, likely will be lost if Washington drags its feet about recognizing the new provisional government of Cuba.

By banning the shipment of arms to Fulgencio Batista's government during the revolution, the United States seriously hurt the dictator's cause. In Cuba it was considered the United States actually had sided with Fidel Castro's rebels, particularly since smuggled arms continued to stream steadily to the rebels from U.S. sources.

That built up goodwill for the U.S. government. But Washington likely would surrender some of that goodwill if it lets the Soviet Union and other Communist countries grab the distinction of being the first to recognize the new regime.

The United States has seldom in modern history been on the side of popular revolution in the non-Communist world. And it has had little hesitation in the past in recognizing regimes brought to power through military coups d'etat. American action in Cuba will be watched throughout Latin America as an indication of whether Washington learned anything from the riots that greeted Vice President Nixon in Venezuela.

There is no point now in Washington worrying about whether Communist elements are involved in the revolution. The rebel leaders have indicated they intend to keep the Reds at arms' length. And the United States can gain nothing by appearing as a timid giant afraid to take a decisive step without cautiously feeling its way first.

The complexion of the provisional government at least is far from extreme. The men provisional President Manuel Urrutia has chosen to serve in his cabinet have the look of able patriots.

There can be no doubt about the popularity of Castro's revolution. The depths of the hatred of the Cuban people for Batista, his dictatorship and the dreary history of corruption on a fabulous scale has to be seen to be believed.

The new government is starting off on an enormous wave of popular support. Failure by the United States to encourage it—indeed to offer it help and guidance—is certain to be deeply resented.

Pat Boone Replacing Van Cliburn

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—The U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce said singer Pat Boone has been substituted for concert pianist Van Cliburn on its list of 10 outstanding Young Men of 1958.

Cliburn was dropped from the list after he informed the Jaycees his concert schedule would not permit him to attend the award ceremonies at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Jan. 17.

Boone, 25, previously had to reject the honor for the same reason, a Jaycee spokesman said. However, he informed the Chamber of Commerce he now can attend the ceremony, a requirement of the sponsors.

Names of the other nine men will be publicly announced within the next few days.

Mikoyan Walks 2 Hours in Icy Capital Weather

WASHINGTON (AP) — Not even the Russians know what Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan will do next.

That became clear Sunday when the short, bouncy Armenian with the black moustache and collapsed nose began his two-week visit to the United States.

After a motorcade brought Mikoyan to the Soviet embassy, newsmen and photographers figured their work was done. Surely he would decide to rest after his long journey from Copenhagen.

Security police agreed. "The only action around here is the chauffeurs cleaning the cars with feather dusters," one officer reported in midafternoon.

Suddenly Mikoyan, muffled and overcoated, with an old, beat-up fedora on his head, strode from the embassy to start a two-hour walk through Washington.

Newsmen and photographers rushed after him, surprised at the lack of advance notice. But they couldn't complain about unfair treatment to the Western press. Also unwarned was the correspondent for Tass, the Soviet news agency. He was warming himself in his office at the embassy when Mikoyan began to fight the cold wind in the streets.

Soon the Tass man rushed after the other newsmen rushing after Mikoyan. And soon Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov and Mikoyan's 29-year-old son, Sergo, were rushing after everyone. It took ten blocks for them to catch up.

The wind, so fierce that it shattered a street lamp near him, did not daunt Mikoyan, who clutched his fedora at a rakish angle and fought past three miles of sights. Traffic lights also did not daunt Mikoyan, who refused to stop for any.

His son, watching a motorist screech on his brakes to avoid causing a painful international incident, made a remark that may set the keynote for Mikoyan's visit.

"He's always in a hurry," said Sergo of his father. "There is too little time."

Adenauer Marks 83rd Birthday

West Germany Leader Looks to Future With Some Optimism

BONN Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer turned 83 today and said he's looking forward to the future with a certain measure of optimism.

"I've been hearing a lot of talk about the bad year that's ahead for us," West Germany's leader said. "But for my part I am by no means pessimistic."

Adenauer looked his age. He is not entirely recovered from a severe cold which has been bothering him for more than a month. Der Alte — the Old Man, as he is called throughout Germany—generally stands a bit more erect and has more color in his face.

But he was anything but despondent as he joked with members of his Cabinet and his family at the annual birthday reception.

Responding to the Cabinet's good wishes, Adenauer called attention to the crisis over Berlin.

"Every solution is preceded by a crisis. It would be going too far to speak of an open clash, but certainly of a crisis. If we all stand together in seeking to fulfill the great aims of the West, we shall be successful," he said.

Commies Gain Outer Space Control Again

The Russians score again.

After an interlude, during which this country wrested top space honors back from Russia, the Communists bound into the arena with a tremendous feat and gain world acclaim.

No one outside of a handful in Russia is probably certain just what the Reds had in mind. It's a cinch they'll adapt the actual happenings to the best uses possible. Had their rocket struck the moon, they would have announced that as the objective; and now as it whirls giddily around the sun, they proclaim that feat as the primary idea.

In any event, they've achieved a triumph of international or even interglobal character. This country can't "laugh it off," or "write it down." It just won't submit to either of these treatments.

The thing is real, it's huge, it's legitimate and it's really "out there." No one anywhere can make any mistake about that. This nation will be the first to bow before the inevitable and acknowledge that we've been outstripped.

American scientists and diplomats unite in declaring that we must move forward with greater speed and greater concentration. We must "step on it" and race ahead. The entire globe places too much importance on this rocket and intercontinental moon business. We are being judged too much on this one isolated phase of national offense and defense.

But since that's the inescapable fact, we must "play the ball where it lies" and move ahead with greater speed in this division, whether that seems the logical step or not. Perhaps we might do ourselves and the world greater good by concentrating on some other features of this rocket business. But our world standing is currently appraised by our successful or unsuccessful competition with the Russians in this particular division.

AP's Eleven Football Selections Are Best

Fully a dozen All American football teams have been offered the fans, but it remains for the Associated Press to come up with the best of all. This doesn't refer to the official selections but to this one which they subsequently prepared:

ENDS—Coyle, Oklahoma, and Wetoska, Notre Dame.

TACKLES—Strom, Air Force; Cvercko, Northwestern.

GUARDS — Koenig, Southern Methodist, and Guzik, Pittsburg.

CENTER—Donnell, Vanderbilt.

BACKS — DAWKINS, ARMY AND OAKLAND COUNTY, CAPTAIN; White, Ohio State; Tranchini, Navy; and Hobbs, Wisconsin.

There they are.

There's the smartest football team in the United States. There stand the eleven college football players of 1958 with the highest scholastic grades.

Five of these boys are also on the "consensus "All-America" which means a poll of the leading selectors for football ability alone.

These eleven are our boys.

The Man About Town

The Biggest Gain

Newest Recreation Area in Our County Makes It

Winter sports: Another matter in which the Pontiac area has everything.

Now the largest such area in Oakland County, and one of the largest in Michigan,

The Holly Recreation Area,

also made the biggest gain in attendance during the past year. It also is the newest in development in the county.

Figures just released by its Manager,

Murray W. Titsworth,

show that 506,750 visited it during 1958. Camping permits and extensions to a total of 938 issued. He is preparing for an attendance close to a million this year, including 2,000 camping permits.

On this property is located the new

the land being under lease to

Mort Graddis,

where 25,656 paid for participating in this sport, while other untold thousands came as witnesses. This is showing a big increase over last winter, the customers registered before Jan. 1 being more than one-third of last season's entire number.

Another very refreshing item in Mr. Titsworth's report shows that vandalism in the thousands of acres under his jurisdiction again showed a big drop during 1958.

Retiring at the end of 1959 as dean of Oakland County Circuit Judges, has served in that capacity since 1927. Fifteen other Michigan Circuit Judges also retire this year, the 16 having a total of over 300 years in that capacity.

Frank L. Doty

After spending over a half million in looking into the matter, the Michigan Turnpike Authority, of which is chairman, returns $77,000 of the $650,000 appropriated to them, and suspends — without one foot of turnpike being built or one foot of right of way for same being secured. Ho hum!

Letters, phone calls and personal contacts from readers of this column, the most urgent of which comes from

Mrs. Henry Lange

of Walled Lake, seek for a suitable place to dispose of old Christmas cards. Any suggestions?

A shepherd dog owned by

of Pontiac Lake, retrieves fish. When a fish nibbles on the hook, he grabs the line and runs along the ice until it is pulled out, after which he takes a point on it until his master gives the order.

I like that letter from

which says it was so icy early New Year's morning that he couldn't drive his car home, so he walked two miles, "and only a drunk could do that."

A Switch

David Lawrence Asks:

Is the Senate a 'Continuing Body'?

WASHINGTON — Shades of Joe McCarthy! Strange as it may seem, the so-called "liberals" in the Senate of both parties—who voted on one count to "censure" the Wisconsin senator in 1954 for something that happened in his previous term in the Senate — are adopting this week the very same argument he made, namely, that the Senate is not a "continuing body."

LAWRENCE

Expediency is the reason the northern senators who want to change the rules to curtail filibusters — aimed principally at "civil rights" legislation—do not have enough strength to muster a two-thirds vote as the present rules require. They seek the right, therefore, to gag the Senate by means of a 51 per cent majority vote.

The southern senators who voted against Senator McCarthy are consistent today, for they hold that the Senate is a "continuing body" and its rules can be changed only by a two-thirds vote.

Logically the "liberals," on the other hand, in their insistence that the Senate is not a "continuing body," ought to adopt a motion to expunge from the records of the Senate their vote, which said that Senator McCarthy should be "censured" for refusing to testify before a Senate committee during his previous term of office.

Actually, he had been elected by the people of Wisconsin after those charges were fully aired, and, when he took his oath as a senator in January 1953, for a new term, he challenged the Senate to ask him to stand aside while it investigated any charges.

This the Senate did not do, but two years later, when there was an acrimonious fight against the Wisconsin senator on other grounds, the failure to testify in 1952 was trumped up as an excuse to "censure" him.

It is true, of course, that the Senate may at any time expel a member for any reason, but this must be by a two-thirds vote. It was well known at the time that there were not two-thirds of the Senate who would have voted to expel the late Wisconsin senator, so his opponents resorted to the "censure" tactics.

Likewise, in examining the strategy used by the school of thought which believes the "end justifies the means," it is worth noting that the effort being made this week to curtail filibusters is based on the knowledge that a majority of the Senate would vote to limit debate, but two-thirds might not.

The "liberals" themselves have often used the filibuster weapon to kill legislation which they knew a 51 per cent majority would adopt if a vote were permitted.

Is the Senate a "continuing body"? Unlike the House of Representatives, all of whose members go out of office every two years, only one-third of the senators come up for election every two years. This means that two-thirds of the Senate are "holdovers" after every election.

So far as they are concerned, the Senate is realistically a "continuing body," but the newcomers argue they should have a chance to say what the rules should be. The opponents are willing to grant them that right, but only under the existing rules requiring a two-thirds vote before any change becomes valid.

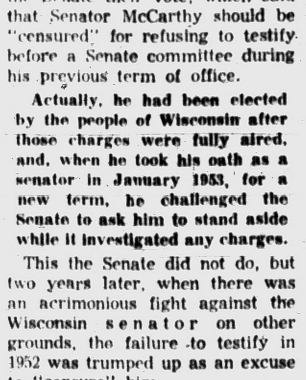
The Country Parson



"The smartest men I've known probably wouldn't have done well on a quiz show—but they knew how to live."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Copper Sulfate Acts Fast as Emetic in Emergency

For years I have ascribed to Dr. Abraham Jacobi, father of pediatrics, the suggestion of copper sulfate (blue vitriol) as an emetic for infant, child or adult. In the third edition of his book "Therapeutics of Infancy and Childhood," he mentioned that "a promptly administered emetic" (ipecac, zinc or copper sulfate, turpeth mineral, apomorphine) "has often relieved the spasmodic dyspnea" (difficult breathing) "of nocturnal attacks of croup."

Then, the third great textbook on "Diseases of Infancy and Childhood" appeared (the second, of course was Holt's "Care and Feeding of Children)." This was written by Louis Fischer, M. D., of New York. In the chapter on Spasmodic Laryngitis, Spasmodic Croup or Catarrhal Croup, Fischer said:

"Emetics. — The most rapid method of relieving catarrhal accumulations is in giving an emetic . . . A safe emetic is a teaspoonful of syrup of ipecac. Dose may be repeated in half an hour if not effectual . . ."

Stop! What in Sam Hill will the doctor or child's mother do to while away half an hour, waiting to see if the emetic is going to work? Maybe play a game of checkers?

". . . Mustard water and sulfate of zinc are also useful. Tartar emetic in 1/10th grain doses, gradually increased, is valuable. My favorite emetic is sulfate of copper, 1-grain doses, in half an ounce or less of water. This usually produces an instantaneous effect."

Like most of my colleagues of the time, I had my office in my home. One day my daughter, Laila Rookh, crept into the office, and knocked a bottle of corrosive sublimate (bi-chloride of mercury) tablets to the floor. The bottle broke and the baby liked the blue color of the tablets.

SAVED BABY

Her mama noticed how quiet baby was—which meant mischief. When she reached her, baby's mouth and lips were dyed blue. Fortunately, her mama had just helped me prepare a solution of copper sulfate, two grains in the ounce of water, to carry for emergencies. She gave Laila Rookh one dose, about half of the ounce vial, or a tablespoonful of the copper sulfate solution. It bounced right back, with the contents of stomach.

How much poison the baby had swallowed, there was no way of knowing. But thanks to the instantaneous vomiting produced by the copper sulfate she showed no ill effect.

Imagine waiting half an hour or half a minute for the emetic to act, under such circumstance!

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Salesmen Advance Civilization

Dr. Glenn Frank once called salesmen the "spark plugs" of civilization. He said they take the products of cloistered scientists or inventors and put them into our average homes, thereby raising our standard of living. America has zoomed because of its stellar salesmen.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case A-419: Harry B., aged 25, has returned to college after two years in the Army.

"Dr. Crane, I am graduating at the end of this semester from engineering school," he began.

DR. CRANE

"And I have two choices available. I can get a position inside a factory as a research man.

"Or I can become a salesman for the same firm and after a year's specialized training program, I can have a sales territory.

"Dr. Crane, which would you take if you were in my place? I'm a quiet fellow and more of an introvert. But I have always felt I'd like to be a salesman."

SALES PSYCHOLOGY

For several years I taught the courses on the "Psychology of Advertising and Selling" both at George Washington University, as well as at Northwestern University.

So let me give you young folks some salient points to consider. First, selling is a topnotch profession, just like law or medicine.

But in all professions, it takes years to build up a flourishing clientele.

One of America's leading dental educators thus said it requires 500 different patients in a dentist's operating chair to produce a fairly busy practice.

And he estimated 800 are needed to swamp a dentist with office appointments.

Much the same thing is true in selling insurance or automobiles, stocks and bonds, or steel products.

SALESMEN ARE MADE

Good salesmen are made; not born that way! And the breezy talker who can gush words by the hour is not necessarily the best salesman.

A quiet, introvertive fellow can still become a star if he will memorize an established sales talk and learn his product thoroughly.

Then he must contact his prospects regularly and not give up because they don't buy on his first call.

A survey of 1,000 retail merchants revealed that seven out of every eight salesmen quit calling on prospects after the third visit, yet the great majority of those 1,000 merchants didn't buy from a new salesman till the fourth or fifth calls.

Thus, only ONE salesman out of eight ever stuck around long enough to sign up the prospects to a bona fide order!

Pick a good commodity that renders a constructive service to mankind. And stick to the same territory so your years of early cultivation of prospects will accrue to your advantage later on.

Salesmen are inclined to succumb to the "distant pastures appear greener" fallacy. Thus, they work hard for a few years to build up a good clientele, only to discard those hard-won friends by running off to a new territory.

A-B-Cs FOR SALESMEN

A salesman has far more job security than a research man inside the plant, for the research man usually has ONE boss. The latter may fire him on a moment's notice, whereupon his salary may drop from $100 per week to ZERO.

But a salesman soon has many bosses (customers. Like the dentist mentioned earlier, when he has 500 clients, if he loses one, that drops his "bosses" only to 499, so his income doesn't fail greatly.

And by a little cold canvassing, he can soon recruit another customer to make up for the loss. So salesmen have maximum job security!

Send for my booklet, "New Psychology of Salesmanship," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It contains a dandy test to measure your sales understanding.

* Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'City Should Clear Walks, at a Price, for Lazy Few'

I thought it was a city law that sidewalks be cleaned off after snowfalls or other bad conditions which endanger safety of those walking.

The majority of home owners are very prompt about cleaning their walks, but the minority group! If they're that lazy, the city should step in and do it, for a charge, of course, just as was done with weeds on empty owned lots.

I enjoy taking a short walk, but the lazy minority make it difficult. Let's hear from other walkers on this serious subject.

Tired of Slipping

Urges Open Shelf for Sex Education

The Pontiac library has a closed shelf, containing engineering textbooks and other similar types, books on childbirth and books on sex education, which are written by doctors and ministers.

This is depriving our children of the one place where the shy, embarrassed child can go for information and leaves them no choice but to learn half truths. They have nowhere to learn the sacred part of marriage.

Our many unwed mothers might have been helped to understand the importance of chastity had they had the opportunity to learn both sides of the story. Childbirth books locked in a case make having a baby seem like a horrible experience, too terrible for their ears. Just because a book is technical is no reason to keep our brighter children from reading them. I beg you to work with your PTA and similar groups to help make sex something that's looked on with the wholesome attitude it should be.

'Too Big Business Is at This Stage'

In your editorial a short time ago you mentioned big business and asked the question, what or when is big business. From my limited knowledge the answer is this:

The slogan, "Competition is the life of trade," has been accepted for generations. When an organization consisting of a single corporation with or without subsidiaries or a holding company that is all subsidiaries, or companies with gentlemen's agreements operate to the point where competition is artificial, they are too big.

Reader Condemns Human Vivisection

Shame on our newspapers for printing Dr. Kevorkian's ideas about using humanity for experimental purposes by means of vivisection. It's quite likely parts of the world will welcome just such a revolting article for propaganda purposes.

The doctor did interview two condemned prisoners on this, but these men weren't of the doctor's equal in professional knowledge, etc. Would he have used the same approach had these two men been of his profession?

It's entirely out of place for the medical profession to become involved in any type of destructive surgical procedures on a living human being, even for advancement of medical science. All said, I believe the doctor means well, but he's still young.

Waterford Graduate Defends Teacher

I'm a 1958 graduate of Waterford Township High School and have known Mr. Mooney as an instructor and a personal friend. Never have I read such maddening and malicious slander about anyone as has been printed about Mr. Mooney.

I, for one, believe he's one of the finest men many students have known and certainly one of the best teachers ever to be at Waterford, a school that's literally infested with instructors with socialistic viewpoints.

Walkout Settled in Grand Rapids

Both Dailies Planning to Publish for First Time in 6 Weeks

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Grand Rapids' newspaper blackout is expected to end tomorrow when its two daily papers plan to publish for the first time in six weeks.

The city's newspaper strike ended yesterday. Members of International Typographers Union Local 39 voted 114-31 to approve a new two-year contract with the morning Herald and the afternoon Press. The strike started Nov. 25.

Both papers are members of Booth Newspapers, Inc. Similar strikes at seven other Michigan dailies owned by Booth were settled last month.

The new Grand Rapids contract provides an hourly wage increase of nine cents for the first year and 10 cents for the second year, said local President Hugh Wygmans. The contract also provides expanded fringe benefits.

Wygmans said in addition it includes a clause on possible loss of employment if the papers should merge. Anyone forced out of a job by a merger would get a maximum of three week's severance pay, Wygmans said. Should they join another Booth paper within the 30 days, the contract would grant them retention of their pensions and similar rights except seniority.

The Grand Rapids ITU local said it had negotiated separately from the seven other papers because of contractural problems arising from the operation of two Booth papers in one city.

A strike of the Herald's American Newspaper Guild editorial employes was settled last week. That strike began Dec. 9. Non-striking stereotypers at both papers also accepted a new contract last week.

Swift Kick Man Jailed, to Relief of Young Ladies

MENDOZA, Argentina (UPI)—Argentine womanhood breathed a sigh of relief today. The swift kick man is in jail.

The swift kick man was Humberto Victor Hidalgo, 34, who was identified at the police station by a dozen of the young ladies he had annoyed.

Hidalgo operated by dropping a coin on the sidewalk. If a young lady stooped to pick it up, the questionable Don Juan would dash out of his hiding place, administer a swift kick and flee on his bicycle.

McNamara May Initiate Bill for 30-Hour Week

DETROIT (AP)—The new Congress convening Wednesday may get a 30-hour work week bill from Sen. Patrick McNamara (D-Mich).

Inger Stevens 'Fair' After Drinking Poison

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie actress Inger Stevens, found unconscious in her apartment late Sunday night, was reported in fair condition today at Columbus Hospital.

Doctors said she apparently had swallowed "a caustic — possibly cleaning fluid."

The superintendent of the fashionable Gramercy Park apartment where Miss Stevens lives found the 24-year-old bonde, clad in a nightgown, lying unconscious on her bed. A partly empty ammonia bottle lay nearby.

Police said there was no note or other indication of a possible suicide attempt.

Poll Results No Surprise to Skeptic

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Do people really know what they're talking about when polltakers quiz them?

To find out, Los Angeles Mirror-News columnist Paul Coates called 150 people by telephone and asked this question:

"Do you think the Mann Act deters or helps the cause of labor, and if you feel it deters, would you vote for its repeal?"

Coates found that 38 per cent of those polled want to repeal the Mann Act, which since 1910 has made it illegal to transport a woman across state lines for immoral purposes.

The columnist said only 12 per cent realized the question was rigged.

Price Is 1,300 Tons

Buys Farm With Milk

From United Press International

Ever hear of a milk mortgage?

A Wisconsin farmer has one. He bought a farm for 2,600,000 pounds of milk.

The unusual sale was reported in "Successful Farming."

Under the terms of the sale, the buyer agreed to furnish 1,300 tons of milk to the seller over a period of 25 years.

Fluctuations in the price of milk during the life of the mortgage won't have any effect on the contract.

The buyer and the seller used the average price of milk for the last three years to arrive at the number of pounds of milk necessary to meet the dollar price of the seller.

If milk prices increase during the life of the mortgage, the seller will benefit. But if milk prices drop in the next quarter of a century, the buyer will benefit.

It wasn't indicated whether or not the buyer will have to throw in a few extra quarts of milk as a penalty if he falls behind in his payments.

Among Indians from Oregon to Alaska, the potlatch was once the winter's main social event. Dancing, singing and feasting led up to extravagant giving in which the host impoverished himself and his clan in a frenzied bid for prestige.

Iowa Students Get Punch-Type ID Plates

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI)—Students at the State University of Iowa are putting to good use this year a new time-saving "ID" card system which has been described as "unique" among major educational institutions.

Registrar Ted McCarrel said the idea is to expedite services to students, and to increase the accuracy and efficiency of the university's recording and filing system.

The plastic black and gold card bears the student's signature and is embossed with his name and "ID" number. It resembles a department store charge plate and is issued in much the same manner.

Various offices and departments on campus have "hand registers" similar to those used in stores where the customer's name is transferred from his credit card to the firm's billing form.

For university purposes, this procedure is used for recording services a student might receive at the library, the dental clinic, student health center, athletic department, and so on.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge.

Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONAID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

(1) COLONAID moisturizes dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) COLONAID's unequalled rebuilding action helps retone flabby colon muscles. (3) And COLONAID acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon.

COLONAID relieves even chronic constipation overnight. It so gentle it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And COLONAID won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get COLONAID today! Introductory size 43¢.

Hal Boyle Says:

2 British Girls Hold 40 Jobs Traveling U. S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Two pretty and adventurous British secretaries, after a 15-month work-travel tour of America, have come up with these conclusions:

"American bosses are more lenient than British bosses."

"In England you get longer lunch periods, but in America you have longer coffee breaks."

"Here a boy on a date asks a girl what she would like to do. In England he has a plan and tells her what they will do. But American boys, on the whole, are more enterprising."

The girls, Hilary Birley and Cecily Thompson, both 22, landed in this country in September, 1957, with $280 each and a determination to see the United States. They drew up their tour with the help of Manpower, Inc., an organization specializing in providing industrial firms with skilled employes on a part-time or emergency basis.

In their journey across America and back the two girls held some 40 jobs and earned about $2,200 each.

"We held about every type of job you can imagine," said Hilary. "We waited on tables in Aspen, Colo. We mixed drinks at a convention in San Francisco, we made surveys in Minneapolis, we worked as secretaries in several cities."

"People everywhere were friendly and willing to give us jobs," said Cecily. "We could have earned a lot more, but we took a number of vacations so we could get to see more."

The girls bought a second-hand car in San Francisco for $160—"we named it Celeste"—and drove it 9,000 miles. They then reluctantly sold it to a Minneapolis junk dealer for $30 rather than invest $50 more to repair it.

The high-spirited girls said the biggest blow to their pride came in Aspen when they overheard a chef grumble: "I wish those girls would learn to speak English."

"But we ran into a number of misconceptions about Britain," said Cecily. "Many people here still seem to have the idea that the British working class is oppressed, that food is rationed in our country, that the British have no sense of humor, and that everyone in England drinks tea. Neither of us happens to like tea."

What thing about America upset them most?

"I suppose," said Hilary, "it was the time we went on a date out West and one of the boys ordered a hamburger and topped it with a slice of pineapple and a maraschino cherry."

And the hardest thing about America to adjust to?

"Girls going to work in the morning still wearing bobby pins in their hair," said Cecily.

"No, men wearing T-shirts in public," said Hilary.

What did they miss most from their homeland?

"The taste of good sharp chese," said Cecily. "Here all your cheese seems to be processed."

"We both missed the year-round greenness of England," added Hilary.

What quality do they think the British have that Americans lack?

"An ability to amuse themselves," said Hilary, after a thoughtful pause. "The British are more self-sufficient in the use of leisure. The American is likely to be at loose ends if he doesn't find something outside himself to entertain him."

And Cecily added: "The British young people have more respect for their government, their police, and their elders."

But both girls agreed they'd had a wonderful time and would like to come again. They also think it would be a fine idea if more American working girls would go to Britain and Europe and learn about living conditions there on a similar job-travel program.

"The best way to learn a country is to work in it," said Hilary.

Bandit Swept Off Feet During Holdup Attempt

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A would-be holdup man was swept off his feet here.

The bandit entered a liquor store and pointed a gun at manager Sal Waldman.

Waldman, 67, grabbed a broom and started pushing the man out of the store. Janitor Clinton Calbert came from a back room and helped.

Waldman and Calbert wrestled the gunman, identified by police as Charles Ray Booth, 31, to the sidewalk, hit him with his own gun, and held him until police arrived.

Herbert Hoover in Florida for Yearly Fishing

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — former President Herbert Hoover headed today for a month's vacation and his annual fishing trip in the Florida Keys.

The 84-year-old former President arrived here from New York Sunday aboard a National Air Lines jet plane and said he found the trip "a true revolution in air travel."

Hoover said in an interview that the United States will continue to have periodic recessions or slumps about every seven years.

He said the nation's economy is in for two or three more good years — maybe more.

'Hall of Fame' for Fashion Set

NEW YORK (UPI)—The New York Fashion Institute established a permanent "Hall of Fame of Fashion" today, with the Baltimore-born Duchess of Windsor leading the list and her royal niece-in-law Queen Elizabeth II three paces behind.

The institute supplemented its annual list of best dressed women with a permanent gallery of walking fashion plates that included actresses Mary Martin, Irene Dunne and Claudette Colbert.

The regular best-dressed list was topped by Mrs. Winston Guest of New York and Palm Beach, a socialite sportswoman, and the Countess Rodolfo Crespi of Rome, a former New York debutante, who tied for first place.

Princess Margaret of Britain, who was displaced by her sister last year, returned to the list in the No. 3 spot this year.

Princess Grace of Monaco was not even in the running.

But British actresses Kay Kendall, Audrey Hepburn and Merle Oberon were among the 12 women voted to the best dressed list.

POLLS THE FIELD

The institute, devoted to keeping New York's highest priced dressmakers before the public, compiles its annual list from a poll of fashion writers and editors and others in the field.

Here is the way the 1958 best dressed list stacked up:

1 — Mrs. Guest and Countess Crespi.
2 — Mrs. Henry Ford II, wife of the president of the Ford Motor Co.
3 — Princess Margaret.
4 — The Countess of Quintanilla, of Madrid, an American career girl who married a Spanish noble.
5 — Mme. Arturo Lopez-Willshaw of Paris.
6 — Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr. of New York.
7 — Miss Kendall and Mrs. Thomas Bancroft Jr. of New York, wife of a grandson of the late millionaire sportsman William Woodward.
8 — Mrs. Norman K. Winston of New York and Paris.
9 — Miss Hepburn.
10 — Actress Dina Merrill.
11 — Mrs. David K. Bruce, wife of the U.S. ambassador to West Germany.
12 — Miss Oberon.

8 IN HALL OF FAME

The roster of the new Hall of Fame contained eight names:

1 — The Duchess of Windsor.
2 — Mrs. William Paley, wife of the board chairman of the Columbia Broadcasting System.
3 — Countess Edward Von Bismarck, who often made the best-dressed lists when she was Mrs. Harrison Williams.
4 — Queen Elizabeth II.
5 — Mrs. Jacques Balsan, the former Consuelo Vanderbilt.
6 — Mary Martin.
7 — Irene Dunne.
8 — Claudette Colbert.

Mrs. Balsan, Miss Martin and Miss Dunne were elevated to the new Hall of Fame despite the fact they were not on the best dressed list at all last year.

Wraps Can Go to Dinner

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: What should one do when dining in a very cold house? I was having dinner with a friend whose circulation is evidently better than mine and who seemed blissfully unconscious of the fact that I was struggling to keep my teeth from chattering. She is an extremely sensitive person and I was afraid to bring up the subject of her cold house for fear of hurting her feelings. What is the perfect behavior under these conditions?"

Answer: If you go to this house often and know that it is always cold, then take something to the table with you—a jacket or a cape or a scarf, to wrap yourself in. If you've left it in the entrance hall you can say, "I've been feeling shivery all day. I don't think I've got a cold, but I hope you don't mind if I get my wrap."

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband is having some visiting cards made up and we had a slight disagreement as to how his name should appear on them. He thinks they should read Arthur Townly. I think they should be Mr. Arthur Townly. His reason for not including a title is that a man does not precede his name with title on stationery and his cards should be the same. Will you please tell us who is correct?

Answer: You are; a gentleman's social visiting cards always has Mr. before his name.

"Dear Mrs. Post: May a toast be suggested at a dinner party in the main dining room of a hotel? I'm thinking of the conspicuousness of seeing a whole table of people rise in a public dining room."

Answer: If there are not more than eight or possibly ten at table a toast may be proposed and drunk inconspicuously, if all remain seated. For all to rise and attract the attention of the whole room would be in poor taste.

Don't Use This Method to Try for Compliment

Mature women who make frequent references to age are quite likely to succeed in getting others to think of them as decrepit.

Remarks like: "This dress is a little young for me but the salesgirl talked me into it" or "I can't wear these new hairdos that do so much for young women" are not calculated to make your friends and acquaintances think of you as dashing.

Never refer to your age. There's no need to.

Develop Discipline in Teens

If a teenager is worried about her appearance, chances are very good that it's one of two things: Too much poundage or poor skin.

Both plague many girls and make them feel less than lovely.

This feeling, in turn, can do damage. It can make itself shown to other people so that they really stay away.

The answer lies in doing something if either of these problems is yours.

Overweight can be safely banished in one way only: By going on a diet. There's no other way to get rid of those ugly pounds.

So you might as well develop character and a sense of self-discipline while you're in your teens. It's easiest then to get into the firm and dependable habits that stand by you for a lifetime.

As for the poor skin, clear it up by keeping it absolutely clean and eliminating sweets, starches and fats from your diet.

Drink plenty of water each day and eat lots of leafy green vegetables.

Fine Service Is Guaranteed and Flowers Arrive Fresh

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: It's too bad that one dishonest florist has to spoil it for 11,000 honest ones by sending half-dead flowers because he knows the sender will never see them and the recipient probably hasn't the courage to speak up. People desiring to send flowers out of town should select a florist who is a member of the Florist Telegraph Delivery. All flowers delivered by them are guaranteed to be first class or the money is promptly refunded to the sender." JOE DALEY

ABBY

DEAR JOE: Thanks for the tip. If I'm ever forced to wire flowers through a florist who is not a member of the FTD, I'll make sure they're daisies. Daisies don't tell.

"DEAR ABBY: I want to say to the girl who is engaged to the sweetest boy in the world whose ears are never clean: After 48 years of married life I still wash my husband's ears for him. He bathes every day and is clean inside and out but his fingers are too large to get into his ears to clean them out well, so I say, 'Dear, you've left a little soap in your ears.' Then I dig in there myself with a damp cloth and clean his ears out. He doesn't know to this day that I'm cleaning his ears for him and why should I hurt his feelings by telling him?"

"DEAR ABBY: I am 27 years old and have been married for six years to about the most patient and loving husband in the world. I have put off having a baby for a reason that is so frightening that I have never been able to tell anybody. Maybe if I tell you it will help get it off my chest.

"Don't laugh, Abby, but I dream at night that my baby will be born blind or crippled. There is nothing like that in my family or my husband's, but everything has been going so well for us I am afraid if we had a baby we would be pressing our luck. How can I get this idea out of my mind, or do you think it is some kind of a 'warning' for me not to have any children?"

FRIGHTENED

DEAR FRIGHTENED: I urge you and your husband to go to a doctor. Let him give you both physical examinations. Give him your family history of illnesses and have your husband do the same. Ask him what your chances are for having a healthy, normal offspring—and believe him! Good luck!

"DEAR ABBY: Is it proper for a stranger to ask a person who is riding on a bus to give up her seat for an elderly man or woman? I was practically pushed out of my seat with a request to accommodate another person. I am 19 years old and was returning from work." GRIPED

DEAR GRIPED: It seems that with some people, charity begins in their neighbor's homes. It is NOT proper to offer that which belongs to someone else.

The Great Mogul who founded the Mogul Empire, said upon visiting his newly conquered land of India in 1524 A.D.: "They have no baths or colleges."

He then built baths of pure white marble, with columns and sculptured windows interspersed with mosaic of lapis lazuli.

Water ran in marble beds, exotic perfumes mingled with the cold shower sprays from gold and silver fountains — all of this under a dome of fresco and jewels.

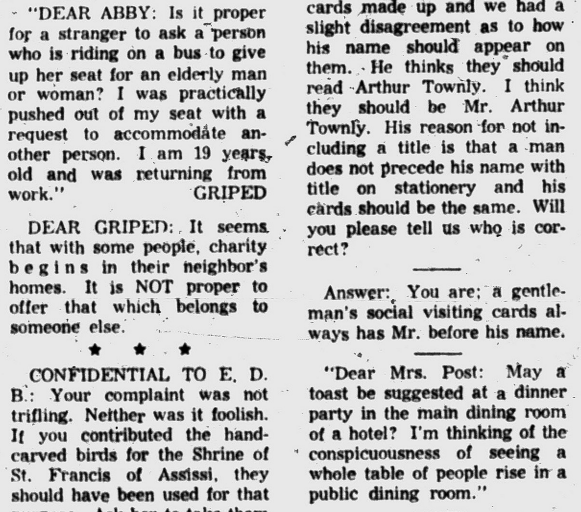
Keep Christmas Beauty the Year 'Round

Combine Yule Cards in Composite Picture

Instead of throwing away those Christmas cards you received this holiday season, select a few of the most attractive ones and frame them to make new pictures for your walls.

All you need to make these elegant, yet inexpensive, framed pictures are a few yards of fabric, simple 8"x10" wooden frames purchased at the dimestore, shellac and glue.



Select the Christmas cards you wish to frame and carefully trim off all excess paper. Give the cards three coats of shellac, allowing at least an hour's drying time between coats. When the cards are dry, mount them on the fabric-covered boards, being careful to allow at least one-quarter-inch more space at the bottom of the board than at the top and sides.

HERE'S HOW

Here, from the Picture and Frame Institute, are the instructions for making a pair of 8 by 10-inch Christmas card pictures pretty enough to hang in any room in your home.

Select the cards you wish to frame and carefully trim away all excess paper. Cover the cards with shellac, using at least three coats and allowing at least an hour's drying time between coats for shellac to partially dry.

While cards are drying, cover two pieces of 8 by 10-inch heavy cardboard with fabric to form an attractive, textured matting for the cards. (In the accompanying picture a piece) of glosheen was used.) Use rubber cement to attach the fabric to the cardboard.

When the cards are dry, mount them to the fabric-covered boards with rubber cement or, if the cards are printed on very thin paper, using a thin mixture of flour, water and salt.

When mounting the cards don't forget to leave at least a quarter of an inch more space at the bottom of the board than at the top and sides. This variation in margin width is to compensate for an optical illusion which would make a mat, exactly the same size on all four sides, appear to be narrower at the bottom when hung on the wall.

For the final step in this do-it-yourself project, insert the boards into the frames. Cover the back of the picture with a plain piece of cardboard and seal all the edges with brown paper tape.

How Does Dorm Appearance, Coeds?

College girls in training for their "MRS." degree can get a head start by keeping their dorm rooms spic and span.

"A girl with a neat room is an odds-on bet to be a good wife," observed a home cleaning advisor.

A handy tool for every co-ed is a pint-sized carpet sweeper. These miniatures are half the size of the standard models, but have the same pick-up mechanism. They're available in solid brass.

Mother's Help Needed in Disaster

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Holly's birthday present from Grandma was a dress, a navy blue wool with a red apple appliqued on it for a pocket and little red apple buttons down the front.

She teased and teased until she got permission to wear it to school the next day.

At breakfast she was very excited. Her mind was so busy wondering what her second-grade classmates would think of her appearance that she grabbed her cup of cocoa too hastily, and knocked its contents into her lap.

She had a shocked moment of realization. Then, bursting into tears, she cried to her mother, "You made me do it! Look what you made me do!"

Her mother was shocked at not only what Holly had done to her dress but at her denial of doing it. Hastily unbuttoning the sodden garment, she made many scornful comments on people who blame others for their own mistakes.

The remarks were inappropriate. Holly showed deep wisdom in blaming her mother for her mistake.

The child who blames us for his disasters uses us exactly as we use a crutch when we've broken our leg. Just as your leg bone will break under too strong a blow, so Holly's self-trust cracked under the intolerable blow of a ruined dress.

In this temporary state of weakness, she grabbed at her mother's unfractured self-trust to get the support she needed to maintain her balance.

I'm not suggesting that parents should spare children the responsibility for all their mistakes. That would be very extreme, indeed—as extreme as refusing the responsibility for any of them.

Both extremes are destructive. But I'm only writing about one today: the fear that we are encouraging weakness in Holly to allow her to blame us for ruining her dress.

We are, of course, doing nothing of the kind. We are just lending her our moral strength until she's recovered some of her own.

Some of us have the idea that moral courage is the ability to carry intolerable burdens. It isn't.

Quite often it involves yelling, like Holly, "I can't carry this load alone. Help me!"

Don't Try to Recapture Hair's Original Coloring

Gray hair can be beautiful. But, too often, it creeps up on a mature woman long before she's willing to accept it gracefully. No matter what rinse she might use to make her gray hair a flattering frame for her face, she feels she would look younger and prettier if she didn't have it. And quite frequently she's right.

However, the mature woman who can be honestly critical of herself when she looks in the mirror, will realize that if she was formerly a brunette, she'd be wise not to try to restore her original shade of hair coloring.

DARK HUE HARSH

She should take her cue from nature. Though gray hair may seem to add years to her appearance, it is kind in that it provides a soft, flattering frame for her face. Dark hair will only form a harsh contrast to her skin tone, emphasizing age lines.

If you doubt this, there are many temporary hair colorings on the market that can be removed by shampooing. Try one, and you'll see for yourself that things aren't quite the way they were when you were 21.

BE A BLONDE

Since the grass is always greener on the other side, there was probably a time in the life of every brunette when she wished she had been a blonde. Well, now's the time to be one.

In coloring gray hair, the trick is to duplicate the lightness, while changing the color, and a blonde shade is the answer. If you want to change your hair color from gray to a more becoming shade, go "light-headed."

The experts of one leading hair coloring laboratory maintain that blonde is not only a good shade for the mature woman, but is also an easy transformation to achieve.

Beauty salons now have a creme color shampoo that enables the beautician to lighten dark strands of hair and blend them with the gray into an even shade of blonde in just one step. And you can choose any shade from light golden to dark ash blonde.

LONG HAIR AGES

If you feel that your gray hair is right for you, be careful to wear it in a style that lifts it up and away from the face. For long, hanging gray hair will add years to your looks no matter how free of age lines your face may be.

But if you want to change the color of your gray hair, try blonde, no matter how startling the idea may seem. You'll love the newness of it and, at the same time, the change won't be so drastic as to scare you out of a year's growth.

You Can Change Lip Line

If you have a mouth that does not express your true nature, says a makeup authority, change its appearance by means of a lip brush.

First, extend the foundation make-up over your lips, and powder them for a more secure and beautiful background to draw upon.

If you are thin-lipped, draw slightly outside your natural lip line. The same technique will make average lips look more voluptuous.

Don't try to make old-looking lips less noticeable by wearing an overly pale lipstick and by applying it haphazardly from the stick.

If your mouth has droopy corners, lift them, by creating a cheerful pattern so that your lips will look young and gay.

Diet on Just Three Meals a Day

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Marathon is, in a way, a "do it yourself" program. In other words you can stay right at home and achieve beautiful results just as you would if you took a course at a beauty salon. However, you're not actually doing it by yourself because I give you explicit directions during this week and in my Marathon booklet.

The majority of women who join my Self-Improvement Marathon each year are most interested in losing overweight. In fact many women depend on Marathon every year to help them streamline or recondition their figures.

In many instances overweight women feel that they eat very little. They may eat breakfast, skip lunch and count calories at dinner time. However, what they have for breakfast and what happens in between meals can make a big difference.

400 CALORIES

Two pieces of toast, loaded with butter and jelly or jam will give you a calorie count of around 400 calories. Add to this a fried egg and cream and sugar in your coffee and you can imagine what the total will do to your reducing efforts.

Perhaps you skip lunch and then become so hollow before dinnertime that you fix yourself a snack, or stop by the drug store for a chocolate milk. OR you may be careful at dinner and then raid the ice box for a comforting little something before going to sleep.

She's caught in the act. But she knows you can't raid the ice box and reduce, too.

In other words, it really is best to divide your calories in three meals a day. Also, the way you prepare your food is of the greatest importance. Broil, boil or bake — do not fry. You can have some butter and some salad oil on a 1200-calorie-a-day reducing diet. However, this must be counted carefully and should be less than is your usual habit.

It is true that it is easier to stick to a self-improvement routine when you're doing it in luxurious surroundings and with constant encouragement or when you are in a class. However, Marathon brings you many of these advantages.

You may not be in luxurious surroundings but I am here to give you encouragement. My Marathon booklet gives you detailed directions, and you have plenty of company, because thousands and thousands of women join Marathon every year.

So, if you want to look and feel like a new woman eight weeks from now, send for my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon booklet. If you would like to have it, send 10 cents with a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Black Eye Pencil Not Best Color

If you are a brunette, learn the magic of brown or brown-shades, advises a noted Hollywood make-up authority. Black eyebrow pencil is often overly harsh looking, while the brown or brownish-black shades give the eyes the necessary definition with a natural, well-defined beauty.

Use black only when the eyelashes and eyebrows are blue-black or for special dramatic effects.

Outline your eyes with the brownish-black pencil or use the brown color first and add faint touches of black. Select the pencil shade which matches the exact color of your brows, or mix two or even three shades to get the correct effect.

Children Like Own Bath Set

Toil and trouble! That's what bath time usually turns out to be for mothers who haven't introduced their little girls to the helpful and glamorous bath-time aids especially designed for "little ladies."

Children who have their very own bath-time accessories are delighted to scrub themselves clean in a bathtub filled to the brim with bubbles.

What little girl wouldn't cherish her very own bath set complete with bubble bath, toilet water, cologne, hand lotion, and a terry cloth soap mit filled with scented soap? Plastic articles, too, come filled with bubble bath powder with milk and make wonderful play toys when they're empty.

A large box of delicately scented dusting powder comes with its own soft and fluffy lamb's wool puff that's fun to use, and the gift box will grace any little girl's vanity.

There's a double treat in a child's purse spray set. A bottle of mild cologne is combined with an atomizing dispenser that's so handy to carry in tiny handbags, and it's the ideal way to keep any youngster fresh and sweet smelling all day long.

Beauty Hint

When you apply hand lotion, keep going right up to the elbow if you want soft, beautiful arms.

A white lip pomade worn under your lipstick is good protection during blustery, wintry weather.

Moments "saved" by neglecting your beauty routine are often redeemed at a cost measured in hours.

This semi-bulky sweater features the blouson look in the back. Although the sweater has the casual look, it can be used for more than casual occasions.

This coat of shearling lamb fur is the answer for keeping rugged outdoorsmen warm this winter. The double breasted coat is seamed with suede and has a natural lambskin collar and roll-back cuffs. Large pockets will take care of all kinds of needs from car keys to flash bulbs.

You Drop Hint Now, Fellows

NEW YORK (NEA)—Next time your wife (or girl friend, as the case may be) hints that she'd like a mink coat, you hint right back at her—you could use a new fur coat, yourself.

Fur for men? It may be coming. There are quite a few real and fake fur coats on the market for this winter. Some are all fur, some only lined or collared with fur. Some are in short lengths, some in the windbreaker models.

Most of the all-fur coats are the old-fashioned beaver or raccoon type. And these fakes are lighter and moth-proof.

A new fur for coats—a real one—is Southwest African Persian lamb which generally has been dyed black for women's coats. But it can, and is, available in men's garments in browns and grays as well as black. Manufacturers are using Southwest African Persian lamb in many ways—full coats, linings, collars, even a fancy waistcoat dotted with solid gold buttons.

This development is undoubtedly an outgrowth of the popularity of pile coats and pile-lined coats, which has been steadily increasing. More and more coats—particularly suburban coats—will have the pile linings and pile shawl collars this season.

Men apparently like the softness of pile and its warmth, so the chances are good the real and fake furs will find a market, too.

Pewter Having More Tin Less Likely to Dent

Pewter experts list these rules for collectors:

When two pieces look alike, the heavier gauge indicates the better piece. Hand-cast pieces require more labor, have more tin content, and so are less apt to become dented than spun pewter.

A bright, light-toned sheen indicates a superior piece of pewter because the tone proves the high tin content. Tin costs more than lead, is sturdier, and does not oxidize as easily.

Pewter care is simple. Leave space between pieces because burn marks often result from contact. Keep pewter away from heat since it melts easily. Its rich luster can be maintained by regular washing with hot soap or detergent suds. Never polish antique pewter as this ruins its natural patina.

Mr. Mort designed this sheer wool dress, accented with white linen at the neckline and sleeves. The Empire waistline is set off by a large white button. May be purchased locally.

Revise Your Outlook for the Year Ahead

By RUTH MILLETT

Almost any woman would benefit by making and doing her best to keep these resolutions at the start of the new year:

To hurry less. Much of our hectic rushing around is the result of letting ourselves in for unimportant activities and making big productions out of simple things.

To spend more time with those we enjoy being with and less time with people who actually mean nothing to us.

To attempt at least a few things we have never tried before, just so that we won't become too set in our ways.

To spend more time reading than we spend watching TV.

To save some time out of each day for our own enjoyment, so that we are more likely to look forward to tomorrow than to dread it.

To dwell more on our accomplishments than on our failures.

To take time to enjoy the beauty that surrounds us, a lovely sunset, the face of a happy child or the leaping flames of a fire that takes the gloom from a gray day.

To enjoy work, instead of trying to wade through it.

To be more gentle, more gracious and more in sympathy with the moods and feelings and needs of others.

To expect the best, instead of always fearing the worst, and to take the worst, when it occasionally comes, with courage instead of self-pity.

To make a real effort not to be easily hurt, quickly disillusioned, or quickly angered.

Wear With Care

Brown-and-black make a wonderful color combination but only when fabric and styling are superior. Otherwise, these two together can present a shabby, dowdy appearance.

UP AND DOWN BUSINESS — It would be difficult to guess just what this odd-looking device is used for. Of all things, it's a flagpole painting machine. Its inventor, Arthur Edelberg, of Cleveland, Ohio, displays it in opened position. To paint a pole, the machine is hoisted to the top the same way a flag is. Sliding back down, it sprays the pole with paint. Two brushes inside revolve to give a smooth, even coat. Edelberg, a professional painter for 30 years, claims his invention can do in an hour what it normally takes two men a whole day. He reflects happily on the number of flagpoles there must be in this country.

Policeman Quits Force to Become Minister

DETROIT (AP) — A Detroit policeman has resigned his beat after 16 years to become an Episcopalian minister.

He is ex-patrolman Joseph J. Kopera, whose wife, Kay, is household editor of the Detroit News.

Kopera will be ordained next Saturday as a deacon in the Episcopal church. The following week he will become a chaplain at the Wayne County Juvenile Court and Detention Home.

Within a year, he hopes to complete his studies at the Michigan School of Theology and be ordained to the priesthood. He also holds a college degree in engineering.

The father of two sons, Joe Jr., 17, and Paul, 8, Kopera walked a beat for a year in Detroit's Petoskey and Canfield precincts.

He worked eight years in the Accident Prevention Bureau and for the last seven years has been an investigator in the Police Liquor License Bureau.

For the past two years Kopera has been a lay reader in charge of Episcopal mission churches in Saline and Clinton, Mich.

He also has been active with young people's groups in the Episcopal church and the Big Brother program of the Detroit Commandary No. 1, Knights Templar.

State Students Get U.S. Loans

Needy Collegians Can Borrow $1,000 Per Year Up to $5,000 Maximum

DETROIT (AP) — Eligible college students in Michigan will begin to benefit in the coming semester from loans provided in the new national defense education act.

Students in need of funds may borrow up to $1,000 a year with a maximum of $5,000 to further their education. The loan fund provides 90 per cent of the funds and the school 10 per cent.

Repayment of the loans at 3 per cent interest starts one year after the student leaves school and may continue over a period of 10 years.

For students who become teachers in either elementary or secondary public schools, the loan will be cancelled up to 50 per cent including interest at the rate of 10 per cent a year for five years.

Special consideration is given to those who are superior in the mathematical sciences, engineering and modern foreign languages. Screening is done by school authorities.

Funds for the loans have been provided by Congress and supplemental appropriations are expected to be requested by the U.S. Office of Education.

Eerie Flash in Sky at Night Shakes Many in Area

Motel Near Rochester Opens Soon

AVON TOWNSHIP—The first motel in the Rochester area is in final stages of construction and will open to the public next month, its owner Harold Brown of St. Clair Shores said today.

The 12-unit motel is located in the Juengel Orchards subdivision on Rochester road between Boyken and Hamlin roads in this township.

NEW MOTEL NEAR ROCHESTER — Work is progressing rapidly on the first motel which is being built on Rochester road between Boyken and Hamlin roads in Avon Township. Owner Harold Brown of St. Clair Shores plans to open Feb. 1. The 12-unit building will open to the public sometime next month.

Brown said the L-shaped building will contain six units front to back in the wing facing on Rochester road. He and his family will have their living quarters in the other section which fronts on Boyken road.

The Browns have three children, Scott, 6, Deborah, 4, and Brian, 1.

The one-story building, designed by Architect Elmer E. Parke of Mount Clemens, will be finished in dark buff face brick and will have a large picture window in each unit.

All rooms will be carpeted, air-conditioned and soundproof. They all will have telephones and individual television sets.

The interior decor will feature paneling of one wall, a built-in desk and furnishings by Robinson Furniture Co., Detroit. Each unit will have its own ceramic tile bathroom with a shower.

Brown, who is sub-contracting the work on the building himself, started to build in the middle of October and plans to move his family in around Feb. 1.

There is plenty of room for expansion on the property, Brown said, because he owns the whole block except for the northeast corner which belongs to the Standard Oil Co. He has 300 feet of frontage on Rochester road, 110 feet on Hamlin and 230 feet on Boyken road.

Brown's future plans include a swimming pool and more units in an additional building north of the present structure.

Robber Slugs Gas Attendant

Bandit Steals $120 After Hanging Around Service Station Talking to Youth

SOUTHFIELD — City police here are looking for a man who slugged and robbed a local gas station attendant at about 7 last night.

David Bernier, 18, of 19218 Melrose St., was alone in the Bill's Service Station at 22980 Southfield Rd., when a stranger entered about 6:30 p.m. and hung around making small talk.

Bernier said that when he turned his back on the man he was slugged on the head with what "felt like a lead pipe." No weapon was found by police at the scene of assault later.

When Bernier regained consciousness he discovered $120 missing from the till and his assailant gone. He called police who took him to William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

High Wire Falls in Southfield

Homes Without Lights as Cold Is Blamed for Power Line Break

An eerie white light that flashed over South Oakland County at about 7 last night threw a scare into hundreds of resident sand darkened many homes in the area, according to reports turned in to police and fire departments in Southfield, Lathrup and Berkley minutes later.

I thought we'd been hit by an atomic bomb, reported one eyewitness.

Cause of the flash was a shattered high-voltage wire which fell from a tower at Southfield and 11-Mile roads. There was no explosion heard in the area.

An arc of flames leaped from one end of the broken power line to the other, over a distance of about six feet, before voltage was automatically cut off by an emergency safety switch, standard equipment on all such lines. The broken line carried 8,000 volts.

The Southfield Fire Dept. and the police from Southfield, Lathrup and Berkley arrived at the scene shortly thereafter.

They called the Edison Company, owner of the power line, which is making repairs today. No power cut of any duration was reported from area homes, according to Edison officials.

Only a few homes were without lights momentarily, until the emergency power went on, Edison's assistant division manager for South Oakland County, Harlan Ritze, said today.

He said that Edison officials believed the extreme cold weather experienced last night caused the 8,000-volt line to snap. It fell into an open field, landing on some trees which were burned slightly.

Ritze denied that the newly operational WXYZ-TV station in the area could have caused the power failure.

Lower Net Income Seen for Farmers This Year

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University agricultural economists forecast lower net income for farmers in 1959.

Reason: Less government support and a probable trend toward sending less grain abroad.

A report issued by the MSU experts says: "Government programs and price-supporting levels will probably not be sufficient to buoy farm income up to 1958 levels."

Although higher production is expected for some crops, this will be more than offset by price declines and higher prices for machinery and other items used in crop production, the report adds.

Here are some capsule forecasts for 1959 by the MSU men:

FEED — Continued large feed supplies will keep corn prices near the $1.00-$1.15 level; oats and barley near 1958 levels. Little advantage seen in buying corn ahead unless dry corn is much below $1.00. Compliance corn should be put under a government loan of $1.38 per bushel. Protein feed prices will average somewhat less.

DAIRY — Prices will average about the same as 1958. Production will continue to exceed use. Output per cow will continue to rise as will herd sizes. Slight increase in receipts seen, but little change in net income.

CATTLE — Prices slightly lower than in 1958. Cattle feeding profits will dip sharply due to high feeder cattle prices.

HOGS—Due to decline to lowest levels since 1958 by late 1959. Hog-corn price ratio should generally stay about average (12.5 to 1).

EGGS—For first half of year will average four to six cents a dozen under first six months of 1958. By late fall, however, will be several cents a dozen above prices in fall of 1958.

WHEAT—Will stay close to average support price of $1.81 per bushel through early summer, then will decline seasonally as 1959 harvest nears.

BEANS—Should remain at support level. Farmers holding beans after first of year should not expect repeat of last year's sharp spring price rise.

POTATOES — Below last year's prices. Seasonal price rise through May likely to be smaller than average; it may even turn down.

SOYBEANS—Prices unlikely to rise above support level. Best bet is storage under a government loan.

APPLES AND ONIONS—Storage will be profitable for 1959 crop.

FAMILY LIVING—Prices of consumer goods will average 1 to 2 per cent higher than 1958.

2 Area Councilmen to Seek Re-Election

OAK PARK — Two Oak Park councilmen, whose terms expire in April have indicated they will seek re-election this year.

Councilmen R. J. Alexander and Paul W. McGovern stated that they will file nominating petitions for the February primary election.

Mayor Richard W. Marshall, whose term also expires in April, said this morning that he had not yet decided whether he will sek re-election. If Marshall runs, it will be for his sixth two-year term as mayor.

On Area Farm

Two Men Burned

UTICA — Two workmen were burned yesterday, one of them seriously, as the result of an explosion on a mushroom farm near Utica.

Hospitalized was Feliciano Arreoyobaez, 18, who suffered first degree burns of his eyes and second degree burns on his face and neck, Center Line State Police reported today. Doctors at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, say he may lose his sight in both eyes.

The other man hurt in the explosion was Mariano Colon, 50, who was treated for first and second degree burns of face and eyes at the hospital and released.

State police said the men were filling their carbide (miners') lamps over a barrel of carbide, and when Arreoyobaez leaned over to put the lid on the barrel, some water on the cover spilled into the carbide. Arreoyobaez's lamp ignited the resultant fumes, causing the explosion.

The M. G. M. farm where the accident occurred is located at 2425 W. Utica Rd., in Shelby Township and is owned jointly by Alex Marzetti, Alex Grimani and Joseph Marzetti.

Milford Church Scene of Beam-Smith Wedding

MILFORD—At 2 p.m. Saturday, Evelyn Marie Smith, of 424 Liberty St., became the bride of Bradley Marion Beam, of 145 Mont Eagle St., in the flower-decorated Presbyterian Church sanctuary.

She is a Milford high school teacher, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester B. Smith of Fort Wayne, Ind. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Beam, of Milford.

The bride wore a white chantilly lace over slipper satin gown, with a fitted lace bodice, high neckline and long, tapered sleeves. A bouffant skirt was enhanced with lace panels.

Her fingertip veil was fastened to a tiny crown of seed pearls, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and carnations.

Officiating at the afternoon ceremony was former pastor of the church, Dr. Robert Woods of Alma. Mrs. William Rakozy was guest organist.

The rostrum of the church was banked with white mums, gladioli, carnations and palms for the candlelight ceremony.

Maid of honor was Betty Hehman of Minnesota. Bridesmaids were Mrs. J. Paul Mutshlecner of Ann Arbor and Carolyn Shreves of Indiana.

Brother of the bridegroom Joel Beam was best man, and brothers of the bride, David and Douglas Smith served as ushers.

A wedding brunch was held at the El Mil Shoppe Saturday morning, and following the ceremony there was a reception for guests in the church parlors.

MRS. BRADLEY M. BEAM

The couple will reside at 912 Pearson Dr., in Milford following a honeymoon in northern Michigan.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State University, having majored in horticulture, and is now manager of Phillip's nursery.

The new Mrs. Beam is a graduate of Indiana University.

Pontiac Flier Lands Safely in Open Field

ORION TOWNSHIP — A small plane piloted by Ward Sly, 1037 Argyle St., Pontiac, made a forced landing in a farmer's field one mile north of Pontiac yesterday. The emergency landing was caused by a power failure, Pontiac State Police said today.

Sly, who was unhurt in the mishap, walked away from the accident and called State Police himself.

The landing gear and nose of the plane were damaged and one wheel was broken off, police said. They estimated the damage at about $200.

Sly was en route from Pontiac Municipal Airport to Allen Airport on Giddings road, when the power failure forced him down in an open field between Giddings road and M24.

Try to Help Widow Fire Victim

ROCHESTER — A trio of sympathetic citizens have started the ball rolling to restore the home of Mrs. Cora Barwick, 63, which was partially destroyed by fire early New Year's Day.

Headed by the Rev. Donald Olson, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Rochester, the three are trying to raise $2,000 to renovate the Barwick home located at 333 Woodward St. Rev. Olson is accepting the contributions.

The other two persons vitally interested in the project are Thomas Cleary, 1712 South Blvd., Troy, and Mrs. William Voss, 420 Fourth St., Rochester.

AROUSES INTEREST

Cleary's interest in Mrs. Barwick dates back several months — to the time he saw her on the street carrying a large board she had picked up to take home to build a fire.

Cleary subsequently made Mrs. Barwick's acquaintance and saw the condition of her home which had only two panes of glass in the windows and was heated solely by a space heater in the basement.

The Troy man immediately began soliciting help from others in Rochester in making the home habitable for the widow who lived alone and eked outa meager existence by selling junk to dealers in the area.

BEGIN WORK

Local dairy bar owner Lyle "Red" Knapp and Rochester Councilman John Dahlmann worked about two weeks installing windows in the home. Cleary and his nephew, Robert Berghoffer of Utica, rebuilt the fireplace.

A next door neighbor, William Kernick, gave a small oil stove and a few gallons of oil and sent over dinner on Christmas Day.

Arrangements were made to turn on electricity and water in the house, and to put Mrs. Barwick on the welfare rolls. And just as work was progressing satisfactorily, the fire broke out.

The upstairs was gutted and the rest of the house ruined by water and smoke. Mrs. Barwick was forced to seek shelter elsewhere.

Mrs. Voss, who is a medical assistant in a Rochester doctor's office, took Mrs. Barwick into her home and, is keeping her until the house is ready for occupancy. Mrs. Voss had befriended the unfortunate widow long before the fire.

The fire started in the upstairs bedroom when Mrs. Barwick took warm bricks to heat her bed, which was her custom before the fireplace was rebuilt. The bed caught fire, and despite Mrs. Barwick's efforts to put out the blaze, it spread quickly through the second floor.

Rochester firemen brought the blaze under control in about three hours.

The three persons hope to receive other than monetary assistance in their humanitarian effort to renovate Mrs. Barwick's home. They want materials and labor whenever and wherever it is possible, they say.

'HAVE A JOB HERE'

"We have a job here," Mrs. Voss said, "for not only do we want to restore the home but also Mrs. Barwick's faith in humanity."

Safety to Be Theme of Rochester PTA

ROCHESTER — Safety will be the theme of the "Father's Night" program at the Jan. 12 meeting of the Woodward School PTA.

The program will start at 8 p.m. with the regular business meeting to follow.

Stanley Keast, vice president, will preside, and Lawrence Holt, safety chairman, will assist with the program.

Rochester Fire Chief George Ross will give a brief speech on fire prevention. In his talk he will describe some of the more unusual causes of fires.

Service Squad girls and Safety Patrol boys will be honor guests at the meeting which fathers are particularly invited to attend.

A 10-minute movie illustrating the work of the safety patrol will be shown. It will describe what drivers and parents can do to assist the patrol boys in the performance of their duties.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

Jolly Pope John Tempers Humor With Tact

NEW YORK—People . . . places . . . things . . .

A bishop fresh back from Vatican City brings two stories about jolly Pope John XXIII.

Seems that among the gifts received after being named successor to Pius XII was a couple cases of wine from Bordeaux. The new Pope faced the donor and spoke as follows:

"I am due to have a short pontificate. I am, after all, 77 years of age. Now, I am permitted two glasses of wine a day. This is an enormous gift and, at the permissible rate of consumption, I will never be able to get through it."

The Pope noticed that the man was suddenly saddened.

"However," he continued, "your region produces a magnificent wine, and I'm sure my successor will be flattered and pleased."

The other concerned the new Pope when he was nuncio to Paris shortly after World War II. At a diplomatic dinner he was seated next to a diplomat's wife whose gown would have brought a blush of shame to Sally Rand. The cardinal maintained an eye-level conversation with the lady and was not deterred when several fellow diplomats made markedly leading remarks.

At long last, the fruit arrived. Angelo Cardinal Roncalli selected a banana as the dish went by.

His assigned dinner companion chose an apple. That was too much.

"Not that," he said. "At least, don't take a bite of it. Eve tried that once and only then did she realize what a condition she was in."

Small boy we know in Allenhurst, N.J., returned recently from Paris, France. Threatening him with a chocolate pistol we gained the following information.

Q.: How did you like living over there?

A.: I don't like Paris, France.

Q.: Why?

A.: The toys are bad.

Q.: But that's only a seasonal thing. Why else?

A.: We had to have soup before every meal.

Q.: How did father like Paris?

A.: He hated it.

Q.: Has he returned to Allenhurst?

A.: No, he went to Spain. (A long pause.) And, you know something? He'll hate Spain, too.

The incredible thing about Cuba is that it can survive successive raids by thieving administrations. It can rebound from treasury assaults comparable to, let us say, the military budget of the United States of America for the coming fiscal year. No thievery seems capable of breaking the island republic financially. Let a good sugar crop come in and Cuba is as rich as ever.

The brother of a not too distant president of Cuba was placed in charge of destroying old paper currency. He turned out to be a forgetful soul, according to our embassy there. The forgetful soul forgot to burn $30,000,000.

Another Cuban official, now dead, backed a truck up to the treasury in Havana some years ago and removed so much currency that the DC3 he had chartered could hardly get off the ground.

There is, of course, no law in this country against the import of currency. When the customs people at Miami asked him what he had to declare, he had only cash. He bought property galore, built many structures—died of cancer. Batista must have gotten out with a huge bundle.

Carlos Hevia, graduate of our naval academy at Annapolis, Md., is the only honest Cuban politician I ever met. I wondered through the years, however, about some of his associates.

Hevia should have been president of Cuba six or eight years ago when Batista took over again. The people wanted him. A professor named Agramonte was running second in the Cuban Gallup poll. Batista was a bad third when he seized power.

We who knew Hevia were indignant. But really, how would it have turned out if Hevia had won? Well, I think he himself would have been okay, but a fellow who might have been one of his cabinet officers burst into tears after his rout and said, "There is an honest man, and if he had won and I had been named minister of agriculture I would now be a millionaire."

Michigan's '58 Pig Crop 21 Per Cent Above '57

LANSING (AP) — The federal-state crop reporting service says Michigan's fall pig crop totaled 665,000—21 per cent above the 1957 figure and the largest fall crop since 1951.

The service also reported Michigan farmers intend to farrow 101,000 sows and gilts next spring—12 per cent more than the 1958 spring farrow.

Earth to Pass Russian 'Lunik'

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — By the familiar race track maneuver of cutting through on the inside lane, the earth will overtake and pass the Russian cosmic rocket as both orbit around the sun.

That's because the rocket, according to Russian reports and estimates, will swing in a wider orbit around the sun than does the earth. The rocket got off to a head start because of the force of its launching, but if it goes into the expected orbit, the earth will pass it in the next couple of months.

There's no chance of a collision of the celestial racers — because they'll be several hundred thousand miles apart when the earth moves ahead.

And it will be at least two centuries before they get that close together again.

At some time, many centuries hence, there's a chance the rocket may zoom again into the earth's atmosphere and be consumed like a fiery cinder — but the chance is only about one in a million.

These estimates on the future history of the rocket came today when a reporter asked Dr. G. N. Clemence, scientific director of the U.S. Naval Observatory, to analyze preliminary calculations of the Russians regarding the expected orbit of their "Lunik" around the sun.

The Russian scientists figure it will take the rocket 15 months to make a swing around the sun. It will be moving in an elliptical orbit whose nearest point to the sun is 91½ million miles from it, and the farthest point, 123¼ million miles, the Russians estimate.

The earth also has an oval-shaped orbit around the sun, but it's a tighter one. The nearest point, called the perinelion, is about 91¼ million miles from the sun, the farthest, 94½ million miles.

Because of its tighter pathway, it takes the earth only 12 months to swing around the sun, compared with the expected 15 months for the rocket.

Right now, thanks to the launching help it got from earthbound rocketeers, the rocket has a head start on the earth in the race around the sun — more than two days and some hundreds of thousands of miles, in fact.

Meanwhile, the earth is already swinging away from the sun, having reached its annual perinelion on Jan. 1.

The rocket is still approaching the sun, and won't reach its closest point until Jan. 14. But when it does start swinging away from the sun, it will swing out faster than the earth does.

It's roughly as though two racing cars had rounded the far turn at a race track and were heading towards the grandstand. Right now, the car representing the rocket has the inside track is in the lead. But as it swings out, the "earth" car will be moving closer to the inside rail and begin to creep up.

Sometime in February or March, Dr. Clemence estimates, the earth will overtake and pass the rocket.

Worker's Buying Power Up, Says Labor Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Mitchell said today the purchasing power of working people generally has been greatly strenghtened in recent months.

Considerable improvement has been noted in both unemployment and inflation, Mitchell said in a new year statement.

He said the business recovery in the last half of 1958 "has been especially gratifying because simultaneously the cost of living has halted its rise." A slight increase was reported in November, the month in which the weekly earnings of the average factory worker reached an all-time high of $86.58.

Mitchell said the nation's 22 million women workers make up one-third of the total working population.

Looking to the new year, Mitchell predicted jobs will remain scarce early in 1959 but that nonfarm employment will climb to the highest point in history before the end of the year.

"But we must not ignore the fact that we still have too much unemployment," Mitchell said. "The situation is improving steadily, even though joblessness will rise in January and February as a result of seasonal factors."

He said the outlook for the near future is for continued over-all stability in prices and rising incomes, so that further increases in consumer purchasing power and demand are very likely.

A government-sponsored survey on the 1959 industrial outlook was released Sunday by the Commerce Department.

The survey pointed to a steady but not spectacular rise in business activity based on a predicted 30 per cent increase in auto production, expected record activity in the construction field and a prospective continuation of the strong recovery in steel output.

Bearded Recluse Who Loved Dogs Frozen to Death

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—Robert Tilton, 79, a bearded dog lover, was found apparently frozen to death in his unheated shack Sunday.

Nine dogs, mostly hounds, were in the shack with Tilton's body.

Peace Justice Cliford Roberts ordered an autopsy. He said the body "was frozen stiff and Tilton apparently had been dead or several hours." Temperatures had dropped to below zero.

Tilton was a familiar figure on Amarillo streets, accompanied by his beloved dogs.

Weird Goal Lets Wings Tie Montreal

Rookie Lunde's High Shot Knots Canadiens, 2-2

Gordie Howe Connects Early in Battle With NHL Leaders

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT—It was a weird goal, but the Detroit Red Wings were only too glad to accept it with no apologies offered.

Len Lunde, Detroit's rookie center, fired the freak counter midway through the 3rd period here Sunday night and the shot produced a 2-2 tie between the Wings and the mighty Montreal Canadiens.

Just about all of the 12,645 spectators in Olympia Stadium were completely surprised by Lunde's game-tying effort and the most startled person on the premises was Jacques Plante, the Montreal goalkeeper.

Lunde chipped the puck much in the fashion of an approach shot to the green. The disc sailed high in the air and flew over Plante's head, landing high in the net to create the deadlock.

"I just chipped at it, like a 9-iron shot," Lunde remarked. "It lobbed up and I thought Plante caught a little piece of it with his glove before it went over his head."

Montreal defenseman Jean Guy Talbot was riding herd on Lunde when Len lofted his shot from a right angle.

It was Detroit's 3rd tie with the Canadiens this season and the Wings are still trying to find a formula for their 1st victory over the defending National Hockey League champions.

Terribly embarrassed by Saturday's 8-2 drubbing at the hands of the Boston Bruins in a nationally televised NHL contest and rudely chastized by general manager Jack Adams, the slumping Wings revived noticeably last night.

Playing their finest hockey in several games, the Redshirts started out like whirlwinds and Gordie Howe handed them a 1-0 lead after a scant 57 seconds of the 1st period.

Howe rifled a sizzler from a wide left angle and Plante appeared to have the shot blocked. Plante couldn't control it, however, and it dribbled through his pads and slid into the cage as Howe clicked in his 4th straight game.

Gordie apparently scored another goal half a minute later, but referee Red Storey had called a delayed penalty on Talbot and the puck hit a Monteal player's skate before Howe let go, thus nullifying the effort.

Claude Provost and Andre Pronovost tallied goals for the Canadiens with Provost's marker tying the score in the 16th minute of the 1st stanza. Pronovost connected at 5:52 of the 2nd period to give Montreal a 2-1 lead.

Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk was helpless to stop Provost, who skated in point blank without interference after taking a perfect pass from Dickie Moore. Pronovost scored during a goalmouth scramble, getting off the ice and flicking the disc over the prone Sawchuk.

The Wings outshot Montreal in every period. Plante was credited with 32 saves while Sawchuk halted 23 shots.

Michiganders Shine in Hawaii's Hula Bowl

Layne Paces Stars' Victory

HONOLULU (UPI) — A collection of Michiganders—past, present and coming—starred in the 13th Annual Hula Bowl yesterday won by the pro-loaded Hawaii All-Stars, 47-27.

The names were Bobby Layne, Bob Ptacek, Sammy Williams, Nick Pietrosante and Jim Martin.

Layne sparked the All-Stars with five touchdown passes including three of 34, 10, and 90 to Green Bay Packer end Bill Howton and the former Detroit Lion ace flipped an extra point to Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch.

Ptacek, top man in an otherwise disheartening University of Michigan football season, masterminded the collegians' attack with a pair of touchdown tosses and he ran 42 yards for another.

Williams, All-America end from Michigan State and voted most valuable lineman in last week's East-West Shrine game, repeated the honor yesterday. The husky Los Angeles Ram draft choice barrelled in time and again on the professionals and was a key reason for Layne not completing even more TD strikes and the inability of Joe (The Jet) Perry of the San Francisco 49ers to chalk up any sizeable yardage.

Pietrosante, the Lions' No. 1 draft choice and top player in the Shrine game, didn't score but along with Auburn's Tommy Lorino helped the collegians to 309 yards rushing compared to 138 for the Hawaiian All-Stars.

Martin, of the Lions, booted four extra points for the professionals.

Layne was named best back and Howton outstanding lineman for the All-Stars while Ptacek and Williams drew similar acclaim for the collegians.

Despite the victory margin, the game was close until midway in the fourth period when the Hawaiian All-Stars struck for three quick touchdowns. On of them was the 90-yard Layne-Howton pass play. Layne clicked on 20 of 33 passes for 457 yards while Ptacek connected on 13 of 27 for 160 yards.

Perry scored twice for the professionals, on a one-yard plunge and a 46-yard pass from Layne with Ollie Matson and Clyde Connor getting the other Hawaiian All-Star touchdowns.

Ptacek's TD passes went to Don Clark of Southern California and Notre Dame's Bob Williams with Lorino scoring on a plunge.

HONOLULU (AP) — Statistics of Sunday's Hula football bowl game:

HOWE SCORES — Jacques Plante, Montreal goalie, takes a backward look as the puck sails by him toward the net. Plante came out of the net to face a charge by Red Wing Gordie Howe who broke away and beat Plante with his shot in the first minute of play. The game ended 2-2 at the Olympia last night.

M'-MSU Join to Meet Soviet Team

Russian Skaters at Olympia Tuesday

DETROIT (UPI) — The touring Russian hockey team meets a combined Michigan and Michigan State team at Olympia Stadium tomorrow night.

The Russian squad is undefeated after three games with the United States national team.

The Russians tied the United States 5-5 in the opener in New York, then beat the U. S. 8-3 in Minneapolis Saturday and 7-1 in Hibbing, Minn., last night.

The college all-star team is actually the U. of M. squad with a few reinforcements from MSU.

Because of NCAA regulations which prohibit freshmen from participating in this exhibition game, Michigan hockey coach Al Renfrew, who is working with only a 14-man team this year, was forced to call upon Amo Bessone, coach of the MSU pucksters, for player help.

The 22 collegians making up the team will oppose a 25-man Soviet squad. The all-stars will have three goalies, eight defensemen and 11 forwards. The Russians carry two goalkeepers, six defensemen and 17 forwards.

The International Ice Hockey Federation and the Amateur Hockey Federation and the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States are sponsoring the Russians' first visit to this country.

Professional hockey observers like Detroit's star rookie Charlie Burns and general manager Lynn Patrick of the Boston Bruins have seen the Russians in international competition and are convinced they present one of the speediest, smoothest skating amateur hockey teams ever to appear in this country.

Burns was voted the most valuable forward in last year's world tournament at Oslo, Norway, which his team, the Whitby Dunlops of Canada, won by defeating the same Russians in the final game, 4-2.

MSU Wins Puck Title in East

Spartan Team Victor Over Rensselaer for Tourney Honors

By The Associated Press

Michigan State wound up a successful Eastern hockey tour Saturday night by defeating Rensselaer 10-3 and winning the championship of the Rensselaer Holiday Tournament.

It was the eighth victory in nine nights for Michigan State which also won the Boston tournament over the Christmas weekend.

The Spartans rolled up a 3-0 lead in the first period and held a 7-0 lead before Rensselaer scored its first goal in the third period.

Three Michigan State players were named on the tournament's all-tourney team by sportswriters and sportscasters. They were defensemen Bob Norman and Ed Poliseel, and forward Dick Hamilton.

In other games, Michigan Tech split with North Dakota in a weekend series, winning a 21 overtime decision Saturday night after losing 32 Friday night. Ron King scored Tech's winning goal in the overtime contest. Assisting were Joe Poole and Ralph Lyndon.

St. Michael's of Toronto scored four goals in the first eight minutes of play and defeated Michigan 6-4 in a hockey game at Ann Arbor Saturday night.

The victory gave the Canadian team a split in a two-game set.

Bardstown Wins Tuneup

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Bardstown won the $20,000 added tuneup, and now comes the main event—the $50,000 added Tropical Park Handicap next Saturday with the same field and a few added starters promising to give the seven-year-old Calumet thoroughbred all the competition he can handle.

Bardstown took the Orange Bowl Handicap Saturday.

Grid Writers Pick Iowa Top Team of 1958

NEW YORK (UPI—Iowa, which climaxed its season with a 38-12 victory over California in the Rose Bowl, was chosen the nation's leading college football team of 1958 today by the Football Writers Association of America.

The Big Ten champions received four first-place votes and one second for a total of 14 of a possible 15 points from the five-man committee which handled the voting. Look magazine will present Iowa with the Grantland Rice award.

Louisiana State, the nation's only major unbeaten and untied team and a 7-0 winner over Clemson in the Sugar Bowl, was second with eight points and Army and Oklahoma each had four points.

Passers Shaded by 2 Fullbacks

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Two of the finest passers in the land were on the field. But two hard running fullbacks took the laurels in Saturday's 10th annual Senior Bowl game, won by the South 21-12.

Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns had Baylor's Buddy Humphrey at the South controls in the nationally televised game. Lee Grosscup of Utah was the starter at quarterback for North Coach Joe Kuharich of Notre Dame.

Humphrey was the nation's leading passer this season. Grosscup was No. 1 a year ago.

But when the dust had settled, it was Theron Sapp of Georgia and Norm Odyniec of Notre Dame who had won the honors. They tied in the poll of sports writers for most valuable player.

Brown found his ground game working so well that Humphrey tried only 11 passes, completing four for 97 yards and a touchdown. Most of the yardage came on a 52-yard Humphrey pass to Billy Stacey of Mississippi State that set up the South's go-ahead touchdown in the third quarter.

Grosscup connected on 14 of 26 passes for 168 yards.

Elliott Not Sure About U.S. Visit

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—World champion miler Herb Elliott was undecided today whether he could visit the United States in February to receive The Associated Press award as the outstanding male athlete of 1958.

"I don't know whether I will be able to fit in the trip as I have a series of Australian races which knock out February for the trip," said Elliott, "I don't think I'll be able to go overseas this year after February for reasons I can not disclose at present."

Yesterday the Australian Athletic Union gave Elliott permission to go to America and receive the award.

STUDY OF FACES—These were the expressions of a couple of golfers in the Los Angeles Open. At left, Doug Sanders of Miami Beach closes his eyes as he misses a short putt on the 14th, while Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., lifts a clenched fist trying to help along his putt which gave him a birdie-4 on the 9th green. Wall shot a 3-under par 68 yesterday.

Art Wall Leads as LA Open Enters Final Day

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tournament-tested Art Wall Jr., who almost stayed home, led the way into the final round today of the $35,000 Los Angeles Open Golf Classic.

The personable Wall, a slender, youthful 35, went into the final 18 holes in quest of the $5,300 top money with rounds of 71-68-68 and a total score of 207, six blows under par for the distance.

He was one stroke ahead of 25-year-old Doug Sanders of Miami Beach, Fla., and spaced within five strokes of the leader were such dangerous threats as National Open champion Tommy Bolt, veteran Lloyd Mangrum, Mike Souchak, Billy Maxwell, first round leader Johnny Bulla and two dark-horses, Howie Johnson of Glenwoodie, Ill., and John McMullin of Alameda, Calif.

"Yes, I appreciate the pressure but I'm not—well, I have no butterflies about it," said Wall, who enjoyed his finest year in eight years as a pro last year.

The one-time Duke University star, who plays out of Pocono Manor, Pa., disclosed how he almost decided against coming out for this one. On Dec. 29, the day before he was to leave his new home in Honesdale, Pa., one of his four children, Gregory, 7, fell into a frozen pond.

It could have been tragic but the lad was rescued in time. That, plus the strain of moving into his new home during the holidays and his busy golfing year, were the factors against coming west.

He actually didn't change his mind or even pack until a few hours before his plane left Pennsylvania Dec. 30.

Wall teed off with 61 other pros at the Rancho Golf Course. It stretched 7,120 for the final round and par is 36-35—71.

Sanders, who led after two rounds, fell back yesterday with a 73. But remaining or pulling into contention were Maxwell, now at 209; Bolt, Souchak and McMullin at 210; Mangrum, four-time winner here, and Johnson were tied at 211, and Bulla, whose 64 topped the field the first day, was at 212.

Detroiter Surprise in Open Ice Event

DETROIT (AP)—Detroiter Bobby Snyder was the big skating surprise in the 38th annual Detroit Open championships yesterday, a day perfectly suited for ice skating.

Snyder, old for speed skating at 32, shared honors with heavily favored Tom Augustitus in the senior men's A competition in eight-degree weather. They were trailed by Terry Browne of Detroit and Gary Lewis of Bay City, who deadlocked for third.

A former national champion, Snyder raced to victory in the 220, breezing across the finish line five yards ahead in :20.3. He finished second behind Augustitus in the 440. Augustitus, who failed to place in the 220, won the longer event in :38.3.

20,000 Schools Represented in Football Confab

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The national Alliance Football Committee today opened a three-day meeting with more than 20,000 high schools and colleges in 40 states represented.

The main action expected to be taken by the committee is football rule changes effecting 20,000 high schools, 300 junior colleges and 450 small colleges.

A morning session was devoted to reports from safety, equipment and other standing committees. Possible rule changes were scheduled for discussion during the afternoon.

Aussie Cooper Signs Pro Pact

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI)—Australia's Ashley Cooper bolted the amateur tennis ranks today in a move that gives pro king Pancho Gonzales a glamorous new opponent and probably assures a United States victory in the next Davis Cup challenge round.

United States promoter Jack Kramer announced that the 22-year-old Wimbledon and U. S. and Australian national champion has agreed to a three-year contract which should earn him about $140,000. Kramer said Cooper would be guaranteed $100,000 over the three-year period plus 20 per cent of the gate the first year and five per cent of the gate for each victory.

Cooper, considered the smoothest player ever developed in Australia, is scheduled to make his pro debut Tuesday night against Ecuador's Pancho Segura in the Jack Crawford Testimonial tournament. Segura, a fabulous, bandy-legged retriever, is a world-famed "speller."

Cooper's move, shortly after Davis Cup teammate Mal Anderson also turned pro, breathed new life into Kramer's 1959 professional plans but was a tremendous blow to Australia's chances of regaining the Davis Cup from the United States this year—and perhaps for several years.

Leslie Blackborn, former head coach of the Green Bay Packers, signed a three-year contract at Marquette Saturday.

Hilladale, owned by Detroit fight promoter C. W. Smith, beat the famous Round Table by a slim margin Saturday in a $65,000 race in California. The victory boosted the 4-year-old to the role of new logical contender to Round Table in the Santa Anita Handicap.

Michigan State is well on its way to its best hockey record in history after sweeping six games and two tournaments. Last season's 11-11 mark had been the best Spartan slate in 17 years.

Steve O'Neill, former manager and player for Cleveland, and Harrison Dillard, Olympic hurdles and dash star, have been dropped from the Indians' coaching staff and will not be replaced. O'Neill had served as scout-at-large since 1954 while Dillard had done public relations work and was more recently secretary of the farm system.

Few Tigers Get Cuts in Salary

McHale Says Contract Offers for 1959 to Be Largely Unchanged

DETROIT (UPI)—There will be few salary cuts for the Tigers in 1959, despite a fifth-place finish last year, according to general manager John McHale.

McHale today mails out contract proposals to the Bengals. He said there won't be much difference between last year's payroll and this year's.

McHale's biggest savings over 1958 will be the salaries of two players — Ray Boone and Jim Hegan.

Hegan, sold to the Philadelphia Phillies, was drawing about $27,500. Boone was getting close to $25,000 when he was traded to the Chicago White Sox.

The highest paid Tigers — Harvey Kuenn and Al Kaline — both are near $30,000. And both had good seasons after taking slight pay cuts last spring.

Outfielder Charley Maxwell and pitcher Billy Hoeft, both of whom had poor seasons, are among those expected to be slashed.

A healthy raise reportedly will go to 1st sacker Gail Harris, one of the club's few pleasant surprises of 1958. Pitchers Frank Lary Jim Bunning and Paul Foytack are expected to remain in the same salary range.

Wilf Greaves Fights Otis Woodard Tuesday

DETROIT (AP)—Canadian middleweight champion Wilf Greaves, riding a hot streak, goes after his 12th straight victory tomorrow in a 10-round bout against Otis Woodard at Graystone Ballroom here.

The bout will be a rematch between Detroiter Greaves and Woodard, a sparring partner of middleweight champion Ray Robinson. They fought last June at New York with Greaves pounding out a unanimous decision.

Greaves latest bout was only a week ago. He knocked out Harry Roberts in Louisville.

Cousy Now 3rd in NBA Scoring

BOSTON (AP)—Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics has moved into the No. 3 spot among all-time National Basketball Assn. scorers.

When the classy backcourt performer contributed 26 points in yesterday's 111-108 victory over Cincinnati, he moved past former teammate Ed Macauley in the NBA scoring listings.

The point-output, coupled with his 17 in the 116-110 loss to St. Louis Saturday, gave Cousy a nine-year career total of 11,244 points. The recently retired Macauley, now coach of St. Louis, had 11,225.

Lindsay's Goals Spark Hawks to Second Place

By The Associated Press

The Chicago Black Hawks, who have not finished higher than fifth place since 1953, today held the runner-up spot in the National Hockey League after a productive weekend during which they gained ground on every team in the circuit.

The red hot Black Hawks defeated the Boston Bruins 5-3 last night as veteran Ted Lindsay set the pace with two goals. Chicago took over sole possession of second place as the New York Rangers, with whom they had been deadlocked, lost a 4-2 decision to the tail-end Toronto Maple Leafs.

In the other game, the Detroit Red Wings tied the Montreal Canadiens 2-2 on rookie Len Lunde's final period goal.

The Hawks, who nipped the Maple Leafs 2-1 Saturday night, streaked past Boston with three goals in the second period. Lindsay, Jack McKenzie and Tod Sloan were the Chicago marksmen. Bobby Hull got the other tally for the winners while Vic Stasiuk, Don McKenney and Larry Regan registered for the Bruins.

A freak goal by Bobby Pulford moved Toronto toward its victory over New York. With the score deadlocked 2-2 midway in the 3rd period, Pulford's drive hit Gump Worsley while the Ranger goalie was prone on the ice. The disc bounced off Gump's back into the nets.

Billy Harris had a pair of goals for the Leafs. Red Sullivan and Andy Hebenton scored for the Rangers.

In Saturday's other games, Boston walloped Detroit 8-2 in a nationally televised encounter and the Canadiens trounced New York 5-1.

Take 2 'Come-From-Behind' Wins

Knicks Close in on Celts

By The Associated Press

The New York Knickerbockers, with a couple of come-from-behind victories over the weekend, have moved within shooting distance of the Boston Celtics in the race for the Eastern Division lead in the National Basketball Assn.

While the Celtics were splitting a pair, the Knicks produced second half rallies to defeat the Detroit Pistons 106-102 Saturday night and the St. Louis Hawks 122-114 yesterday.

The twin triumphs enabled New York to move to within three games of the Celts, who bounced back to beat Cincinnati 111-108 yesterday after bowing to St. Louis 116-110 Saturday.

In other games yesterday, Minneapolis walloped Philadelphia 111-95 in a nationally televised tilt and the Syracuse Nationals trounced Detroit 118-94.

Although Ray Felix, Willie Naulls and Guy Sparrow fouled out, the Knicks pulled away from the Hawks with two minutes remaining as Ron Sobie scored four straight points. St. Louis led by 21 early in the game. Cliff Hagan had 34 points and Bob Pettit 31 for St. Louis. Richie Guerin led New York with 25 while Sobie finished with 18.

Boston was hard-pressed to turn back lowly Cincinnati. Bob Cousy iced the verdict with two free throws and some expert ball-handling near the finish. Wayne Embry of the Royals captured scoring honors with 27 points, one more than Cousy.

Elgin Baylor had 28 points for Minneapolis, which won its fifth straight. The Lakers streaked to a 37-18 lead and had it easy the rest of the way. Philadelphia, sparked by Paul Arizin's 23 points, played without Tom Gola and rookie Guy Rodgers. Gola was sidelined with an infected foot and Rodgers was out with the flu.

'M' Quint Meets Big 10 Favorite

Northwestern 5 Tests Strength of Wolverines

Surprising U. of M. Cagers Meet Wildcats Tonight

ANN ARBOR (AP) — It's taken coach Bill Perigo seven tortuous years to assemble a Michigan basketball team that could make him proud.

Now—much to his own amazement—he has one.

Five weeks ago Perigo would have scoffed at the suggestion the Wolverines would take a six-game winning streak into tonight's game with Northwestern.

But in the past week, Michigan ripped through the Motor City tournament and topped it off with an 82-75 upset of Purdue on the road Saturday.

Purdue and Northwestern were joint pre-season favorites with Michigan State for the Big Ten championship.

Perigo, recalling late season slumps, refuses to be overly exuberant about the Wolverines' fast start.

"We've had them before, but this is the best record (7-1) we've had at this point since I've been here," said the Michigan coach.

"We'll have our bumps, maybe right now with Northwestern.

A good big man will stand in the way of the Wolverines' streak tonight. He's 6-9 Joe Ruklick, an All America candidate who led Northwestern to two victories over Michigan last year.

A balanced attack must reap the credit for Michigan's success. It was evident again Saturday at Purdue. M. C. Burton led the way with 27 points. George Lee chipped in with 18, sophomore John Tidwell scored 17 and Terry Miller 16.

Michigan State was still breathing hard after a two-point last second Big Ten basketball win over Indiana Saturday night. But the Spartans packed their gear Sunday and flew out to the corn country to tackle Iowa tonight.

Michigan State placed among the five conference winners on a 79-77 margin over the Hoosiers, defending conference champions. Iowa lost to Northwestern, 80-77.

In other games Saturday, Lawrence Tech won 80-75 over Alma, Loyola (Chicago) rolled over Western Michigan 113-91, Marquette beat the University of Detroit 75-66, Defiance of Ohio defeated Olivet 78-60, Manchester of Indiana went into overtime to beat Kalamazoo 71-68, Wooster of Ohio trounced Albion 88-51 and Benton Harbor Junior College downed Traverse City Community College 74-66.

Ex-Wolverine in Line for Grid Job

U-D Huddle Today

DETROIT (AP) — Jerry Burns, another of Michigan's bright young men, was to discuss taking over the head football coaching job at the University of Detroit today.

It was Burns who helped recruit and develop Iowa's quicksilver backfield that ran California ragged in the Rose Bowl.

Burns, 32, reportedly will be offered and will accept the position at Detroit in the near future. Wally Fromhart was fired by the Titans Dec. 2.

A former Michigan player who never quite achieved first string status, Burns was to meet with John Mulroy, Detroit's vice president for athletics. The Titans' six-man athletic board was expected to sit in on the discussions.

Mulroy has said he was anxious to talk to Burns and hopes to fill Detroit's vacancy by Jan. 15.

Burns also is being considered for head coaching berths at a couple of other schools. He may want to weigh all the offers. But he's reportedly most interested in the Detroit job which would bring him to his hometown.

Burns was graduated from Michigan in 1950 and later coached at Redford St. Mary. He went to Iowa as freshman coach in 1954 and became head backfield coach under Forest Evashevski when Bump Elliott went to Michigan in 1957.

He has been active in Iowa's recruiting program, being instrumental in the luring of Willie Fleming there from Hamtramck.

Should Burns become Detroit's head coach he would join a growing list of young coaches who played at Michigan. Among them are the Elliott brothers, Bump of Michigan and Pete of California, Davey Nelson of Delaware and Evashevski.

Pistons Take Day Off After 3rd Loss in Row

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—The flu-weakened Detroit Pistons, losers of four straight, had a very welcome day off today before resuming the National Basketball Assn. grind Tuesday.

The weary and punchless Pistons dropped their third game in three days yesterday to the Syracuse Nationals 118-94. Johnny Kerr paced the Nats to their 32nd victory in 33 tries over Detroit on the Syracuse court.

The defeat forced the Pistons three games under the .500 mark. Their hold on second place in the Western Division is menaced by the onrushing Minneapolis Lakers, who now trail Detroit by one game.

Syracuse permitted Detroit to take an early lead before overhauling the tiring Pistons after seven minutes. Detroit threatened by closing the Nats' advantage to five points in the fourth quarter. But Syracuse was equal to the belated challenge.

Phil Jordon was high man for Detroit with 24 points followed by Earl Lloyd with 17. George Yardley, one of the Pistons' several flu sufferers, was limited to three baskets and eight points.

Kerr's 31 points was high for the game. He was injured late in the third quarter and forced out of action. Syracuse led 59-49 at halftime.

The Pistons, with eight defeats in their last 10 starts, play the Philadelphia Warriors tomorrow as part of a doubleheader in Philadelphia.

Cincy Goes Against Unbeaten Braves

Wildcat Five Stays on Top

By The Associated Press

Humiliated by two consecutive defeats in the Dixie Classic last week, Cincinnati and Big O, Oscar Robertson, jump right back into the fire tonight when they tangle with Bradley.

All last season, the Bearcats lost only three games. Bradley licked them early in the campaign. Then it was Oklahoma State and finally Kansas State in the NCAA tournament. They took Bradley over the second time around, however.

This is a big one for Robertson and Co. Their pride has been hurt. More realistically, Bradley is rated the only team in the Missouri Valley Conference, with the possible exception of St. Louis, with a chance of knocking Cincinnati out of the title.

The Braves also are undefeated, having raced past all eight of their opponents to date. They warmed up to their task by turning back Drake 91-57, Saturday night.

Another worry for Cincinnati is the possibility of being knocked right out of the top 10 in the weekly Associated Press poll. None of the others in the select circle last week has lost more than one game and three — Kentucky, Auburn and Bradley—are undefeated.

Kentucky, riding along at the top of the heap with 11 victories —high in the nation—polished off Georgia Tech, 72-62, Saturday.

But Adolph Rupp's slick Wildcats may not have things easy this year. Already they're casting worried looks over their shoulder in the direction of Auburn. The Wildcats won the 1958 Southeastern Conference title by just one game over Auburn, which is about as thin as you can slice it.

The Plainsmen figure to make Mississippi their ninth straight victim tonight after dealing Mississippi State its first defeat, 97-66, Saturday.

Kansas State, No. 3 in the nation behind Kentucky and Cincinnati, has been the class of the Big 8 so far in non-league games and opens its loop season against Iowa State.

In the Atlantic Coast Conference, the main battle is developing between North Carolina and North Carolina State. They are running 4-5 in the AP poll and have almost identical records—8-1 for the Tar Heels and 9-1 for State.

The Tar Heels turned back Notre Dame, 69-54, in a nationally televised game Saturday.

After a week of activity in the Pacific Coast Conference, Southern California leads the parade with a 2-0 mark, defending champion California has a 1-1 mark.

Texas A&M so far has justified its role as Southwest Conference favorite by clipping Southern Methodist, 65-63, Saturday to run its overall record to 9-1. In the Southern Conference, it's West Virginia (4-0) as usual at the top.

Idaho State, with a 9-2 record in non-league play, is the big favorite in the Rocky Mountain Conference.

Utah, the favorite, helps open the Skyline Conference season against Montana Wednesday night.

'World Series' Next Weekend

Buffalo Host to Pin Event

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The "world series" of bowling starts here next weekend with 288 of the nation's best bowlers rolling in the 18th annual all - star individual match-game tournament.

The defending champions are Don Carter of St. Louis, who has won four all - star crowns, and Merle Matthews of Long Beach, Calif., who won her first title last year in an upset.

The prize money totals $26,225, with $5,000 first prize in the men's division and $2,000 in the women's.

Carter and Miss Matthews, as well as Buzz Fazio of St. Louis and Mrs. Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., the runners-up last year, have been seeded into the match-game finals, which start Jan. 15.

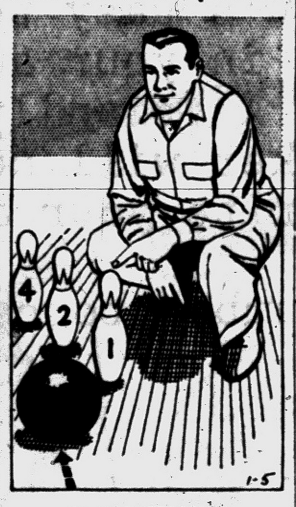
The windup on Jan. 18 will be telecast nationally by ABC.

The 192 men will shoot 24 games in a preliminary round, scored on total pinfall. The high 96 go into the semifinals and then the top 14 join Carter and Fazio in the match-game finals, scored on the Peterson point system.

The 96 women will follow a similar schedule.

Strikes and Spares



By JOE WILMAN

Many hook ball bowlers in my instruction clinics have a similar problem—crossing over and hitting the 1-2 pocket instead of going into the 1-3 pocket on the strike ball. It bothers some straight ball bowlers, too.

A straight ball bowler who does this very often probably has too sharp an angle. To correct it, he should draw a mental line from the 1-3 pocket back to his release point, and try to have the ball follow that imaginary line.

A hook ball bowler who suffers from "cross-over" trouble is probably not allowing his ball enough room to move out to the right before it hooks back. If he moves a board or two to the left in taking his starting position, he should keep the ball on the right side of the headpin.

A 1-2 pocket hit is not as good as the 1-3 because the ball is moving away from the 5-pin and toward the left corner when it hits. The sketch shows that. The usual 1-2 pocket hit will leave the 5 and 9 pins standing.

A hook ball bowler can also prevent his ball from crossing over by speeding up his ball. This will cut down somewhat on its hooking action. But because this takes a delicate touch, I don't recommend it for the average bowler.

LABOR OF LOVE — Cleaning the statue of Eros, god of love, appears to be a pleasant task for a workman in Piccadilly Circus in the heart of London. Even Cupid becomes begrimed from traffic fumes.

The Green Empress

CHAPTER XVIII

"What time do we start this morning?"

"Eleven, sir. Lunch at Pamplona."

"And after that, a two-night stop in Burgos?"

"Yes. Time for the passengers"—He smiled—"to do a bit of serious sight-seeing."

Lord Lorrimer stirred his coffee and smiled in sympathy.

"You don't find us responsive travelers?"

Unresponsive, thought Angus, was perhaps the word. Lord Lorrimer had his mind on something else, Yule had his nose in his papers.

Mr. Zoller was asleep and his wife filling books with car numbers, like a five-year-old schoolboy.

The admiral was unresponsive to travel as a whole and his sister . . . .

"Not too responsive, sir," he said.

He went to the door, and heard Lord Lorrimer call him.

"Angus."

THE FIRST TIME

It was the first time he had used the name. Surprised, Angus turned to find the old man staring at him with a strangely fixed expression.

"Sir?"

He waited. The silence lengthened and he saw that though Lord Lorrimer's gaze was on him, he was looking beyond him at something else.

Angus knew that a struggle was going on, he had been called back to hear something — something important, something, he felt certain, that would explain Lord Lorrimer's preoccupation. He was . . . he wasn't . . . he was about to speak.

And then, with a slight shake of the head, the older man came to himself and Angus knew that the moment had passed. The impulse had gone. He was going to say nothing.

He walked thoughtfully back to his room. Putting away his instructions on France and getting out those relative to Spain, he studied them and wondered whether this particular Green Empress journey could be said by Sir Claud to be going according to plan.

He had refused to accept the word courier, and had stressed that his young men were liaison officers but what was needed more than a liaison officer on this trip, reflected Angus, was a detective, an elementary schoolmaster and a psychiatrist.

He walked to the window and stood looking out at the view, trying to fix it forever in his mind. The Basque country. There would be more of it on the other side of the border.

Spain. If he loved France for the memories it evoked, Spain bred in him an excitement that was of the senses. The music, the language, the land itself with its dramatic contrasts of softness and starkness . . . soon he would be seeing it again, and seeing it, this time, with Angela.

He thought of the day's run, and gloom descended on him as he reflected that nobody, on the coach would be in the smallest degree interested — in Burgos.

The admiral might recall that cellophane was made there, and somebody might remember, vaguely, that it had some connection with Charing Cross — but for the most part, they would be completely . . . yes there was the word again — unresponsive.

BORDER AGAIN EASY

They would chatter about the dispatch case, argue about the Occult.

At eleven o'clock, he saw the passengers aboard, and the coach moved towards the frontier. When they reached Hendaye, he found, as he had found on their entry into France, that formalities were reduced to a minimum.

The passengers got out and strolled to and fro, changing money and buying souvenirs. As they drove onto Spanish soil, they passed a Green Empress on its way to France.

There was a pause, an exchange of courtesies and then Ferdy drove on once more in the direction of Pamplona.

Angus explained to the passengers that as they were now to adopt the Spanish times for meals, lunch would not be until three o'clock, and dinner at ten.

They would therefore halt at a tasca at about one o'clock and eat and drink a little to stave off hunger before the late lunch hour.

"Play hell with my digestion," grumbled the admiral. "Oily food's bad enough, but oily food at three in the afternoon and ten at night."

Mrs. Zoller thought that in this weather, so hot, one did not wish to eat anything.

"It is pleasant, no?" she asked the admiral.

He did not think so. He had ascertained that the warm weather was general over Europe, and his mind was in his garden at home, left in charge of a day-a-week man on whom he placed not the smallest reliance.

Instruction in Physics by TV Rated Success

CHICAGO—Instruction in physics given to 692 Chicago high-school students by television in spring and summer classes proved successful, according to the American Journal of Physics. The TV-taught pupils were tested against 906 conventionally taught students. Those who I. Q.'s were between 100 and 120 got nearly comparable scores by either method; class-taught students with I. Q.'s of more than 120 or under 100 did better than TV students of similar caliber.

Continue to Hunt Kidnaped Infant

New York Police Seek West Coast Blonde as Possible Suspect

NEW YORK (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chionchio waited anxiously, hopefully, prayerfully for some news today of their kidnaped newborn daughter. A city shared their anxiety, their hope, their prayers.

An intense, agonizing search by police and FBI agents continued for the missing infant. She was taken from a fourth-floor nursery of St. Peter's Hospital in Brooklyn Friday night, only 2½ hours after birth.

"There are leads," Det. Chief James B. Leggett said Sunday.

Police and private citizens were on the alert for a heavy-set bleached blonde believed to be the kidnaper.

She was seen loitering in the hospital before the kidnaping. Transportation employes kept an especially watchful lookout.

San Francisco police sent here a description of a woman who took a baby from Mt. Zion Hospital there three years ago. The description fitted the woman seen at St. Peter's.

The California woman was identified as Mrs. Betty Jean Benedicto, 31, who is wanted for parole violation.

$35-75 Millions Needed by State

Williams Says Money Vital 30 Days After Legislature Convenes

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams today said the Legislature must come up with 35 to 75 million dollars within 30 days after the 1959 session convenes Jan. 14.

Otherwise, he said, state government operations will be "seriously hamstrung" by early spring when cash reserves normally dip to their lowest point.

Williams told a news conference his opening message to the lawmakers would propose a means of producing the needed funds although he and his advisers hadn't settled yet on a specific plan. He said he has considered but hadn't "rejected or accepted" proposals to liquidate the 50 million dollar Veterans Trust Fund, the most frequently mentioned revenue source.

"We have looked at every possibility that holds any hope at all," he said. "By the time the Legislature gets back into session we will have settled on something. We will ask it to take as quick action as is legislatively possible."

Williams said 35 million dollars would be the minimum amount needed to keep state government machinery in operation until new tax revenues start pouring in.

The governor in his inaugural message address Jan. 1 warned that new taxes are forthcoming.

Williams observed that the three big state universities and public elementary and secondary schools already are "financially embarrassed" because of delay in state payments.

"When that point is reached, it's a pretty good indication that the state is in trouble," he said.

'Flying Bandit' Given 1-10 Years in Prison

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — "Flying Bandit" Walter Molenkamp Jr. was sentenced to one to 10 years in prison today for the $1,600 armed robbery of a gas station two months ago.

The 19-year-old Grand Rapids youth chartered a plane and flew to Chicago after robbing the south side service station last Nov. 6. He was arrested by Chicago police when the plane landed at Midway Airport about two hours after the daylight holdup.

Molenkamp pleaded guilty to armed robbery Nov. 24 and has been free on $5,000 bond awaiting sentence which was pronounced by Superior Judge Thaddeus B. Taylor.

To Hear About Killing of Watchman

Murder Trials Scheduled

The murder of a Southfield nursery night watchman and a self-styled gangster prince from Texas are among a large number of criminal cases which the Oakland County Prosecutor's Office will bring to trial during a new jury term beginning tomorrow.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said Raymond L. Alyea, 36, will go to trial, tentatively scheduled to begin Thursday, charged with the first-degree murder in July of Anthony J. Jasinski, 51-year-old watchman at a landscaping nursery.

Alyea, of Detroit, was ordered to stand trial after his defense attorney failed to show he was not mentally capable of standing trial due to alleged battle fatigue from World War II combat.

Scheduled to be tried for second-degree murder Jan. 13 is Demitrios B. Tsermengas, who has admitted the "accidental" shooting of George Kean in a Commerce Township cottage a year ago.

Kean, Tsermengas and two others were members of a Fort Worth gang which stopped off here on their way to stage a holdup in Sault Ste. Marie.

State Police and Texas Rangers discovered Kean's buried body in a shallow grave near Alpena last September on a tip received by the Rangers.

Ziem said besides the Alyea and Tsermengas trials, there is a "large call" of some 200 other criminal matters to be tried this first 1959 jury term.

Scheduled to hear the criminal cases are Circuit Judges Frank L. Doty and William J. Beer.

Straits Traffic Up 48.2 Pct.

New Bridge Accounts for All but 2 Months of 1958 Total

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Traffic over the Straits of Mackinac — all on the big, new bridge — was almost half again as heavy in 1958 as it was the year before.

It was 48.2 per cent greater, according to the bridge authority. Except for the last two months, state ferries carried all the traffic in 1957. The bridge opened Nov. 1 of that year.

Total traffic in 1958 was 1,390,390 vehicles. Revenue from this was $5,132,958. In 1957 the traffic was 938,283 and revenue $3,664,948.

Traffic in December fell off 17.8 per cent from December of 1957, second month of the bridge's operation.

"The novelty of the new structure probably caused the difference," said Prentiss M. Brown, authority chairman.

The authority said truck traffic also was greatly increased. It said truckers apparently have revised their routes to take advantage of the faster crossing by the bridge.

Blue Cross Survey Report Is Scheduled

DETROIT (AP)—The University of Michigan's three-year, state-ordered study of Blue Cross will come up with partial findings next summer. The final report is expected in the spring of 1960.

Circuit Judge George E. Bowles, chairman of the governor's commission on prepaid hospital plans, announced the timetable on the weekend.

The university study, which the commission requested, is headed by Prof. Walter J. McNerney, hospital administration specialist in the school of business administration. The study is supported by a grant from the Kellogg Foundation.

Joe Foss' Son Dies 5 Hours After Birth

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — A son was born Sunday to Gov. and Mrs. Joe Foss, but the baby lived only five hours.

Mrs. Foss was off the critical list today and was reported resting comfortably.

The governor, a Marine flying hero in World War II, flew his wife, June, here from Pierre Saturday when she went into premature labor.

The baby, 6 pounds, 5½ ounces, was born by emergency Caesarean section at 6:30 a.m. Sunday. The baby died at 11:40 a.m., an hour after being baptized.

Got Secret Yen to Become Ham Radio Operator?

Persons interested in becoming ham radio operators, are invited to attend a beginners' forum, to be conducted by the Oakland County Amateur Radio Society at 7 p.m. tomorrow night.

The meeting, to be held at the conference room of the Consumers Power Co., 28 W. Lawrence St., will precede the regular monthly meeting of the society.

An official of the society announced today that it is now possible for members of the group to assist parents and relatives back home to make "phone patch" radio connections with servicemen stationed in Korea. He said this has been made possible by the Korean government, which lifted a ban Dec. 15.

Use Parking 'Hostess'

HARLINGEN, Tex. (UPI)—This south Texas town is looking for a woman who is tired of receiving parking tickets and would like to give some for a change. City manager Douglas Henslee has asked for applications for the newly established job of parking "hostess." Her main duty—giving tickets to overtime parking violators.

Ike Bares Plans to Legislators

Some of Dem Leaders Feel Defense, Missiles Budget Too Small

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower outlined his spending plans to congressional leaders today. And the reaction from some top Democrats was: Too little for defense and missiles.

Eisenhower reportedly told them that defense spending in the new fiscal year, beginning July 1, would be about $40,900,000,000—an increase of roughly 100 million dollars from the current year.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Senate Democratic leader, was one of those he indicated he wasn't satisfied.

"I think it appropriate to say I didn't observe any substantial increase in the military field, and I was rather disappointed that we are not going farther faster with the missile program," Johnon said.

Johnson, in addition to being the Democratic leader, is chairman of the Senate Space Committee.

The president's military spending figure was reported to newsmen by Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis.).

The congressmen spent 2½ hours with the President.

Eisenhower will formally set out his spending plans in his budget message. Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-Ill) said this will go to Congress on Jan. 19.

Dirksen said the administration presented a timetable for "a speedup in every field of rocketry," including getting a manned rocket to the moon.

Orion Man Injured in Auto Accident

A Lake Orion resident, Harry E. Brooks, 40, was reported in poor condition today at Pontiac General Hospital from injuries in an auto accident Sunday afternoon.

Brooks, who lives at 2376 Joslyn Rd., was driving his auto along Cooley Lake road near Canton street, West Bloomfield Township, when it apparently went out of control and struck a tree, Oakland County sheriff's deputies said.

Brooks was unable to make a statement and there were no witnesses, deputies said.

New System Aids Fast Coding of Drugs

CHICAGO — A method of coding widely used drugs for speedy identification of unknown drugs by references to their physical characteristics is being developed by the American Medical Association.

The system relies solely on such characteristics as size, shape, color, scoring, and similar features of tablets and capsules.

Through its use, physicians, attendants in hospital emergency rooms and poison-control centers, law officers, pharmacists, and medical examiners will be able to narrow down a drug's identity to a relatively few products in a short time. Then chemical tests can be made to confirm the identity of the drug.

See Ohio Xway Link

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The Detroit-Toledo Expressway may be linked finally with the Ohio Turnpike before the end of February. The final link is the 14½-million-dollar north Toledo expressway that bypasses the congested Point Place on the Ottawa River. This new superhighway is nearly completed and may be opened this month.

Hollywood Headlines

'Guns of Navaronne' Part Interests Hugh O'Brian

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — A New Year's greeting from London came over the telephone from Hugh O'Brian who has extended his run for five weeks. He'll also be on a British spectacular on Jan. 16. "And best of all," said Hugh, "I have been talking with Carl Foreman about 'Guns of Navaronne.' He wants me for one of the four male leads and I am certainly going to do it."

In the midst of the conversation I told Hugh about the big fire, and when I said it was on Mulholland Drive he almost jumped through the telephone. "Will you find out if my house is all right and call me back? Ask Nancy Sinatra to find out." Nancy was having trouble of her own with the fire and was all packed to move.

The old Southern aristocracy takes another beating via William Faulkner in Jerry Wald's "The Sound and the Fury," but audiences are in for some of the best acting and drama seen in many a month.

The biggest scene thief is England's Margaret Leighton in this, her American movie debut. She plays Joanne Woodward's foolish mother who ran away when the baby was born and who, pathetically defeated, walks home.

Joanne is very fine, too, and outstanding are Jack Warden as her retarded brother, Ethel Waters as the Negro mammy, and Stuart Whitman as the carnival roustabout who teaches Joanne things she didn't learn in books. The love scenes are terrific — hail Martin Ritt for the direction.

A farewell call came on New Year's Day from Gregory Peck and his Veronique. They left the next morning for Australia where they will live for the next few months while Greg is making "On the Beach." They have taken their two babies with them.

The night of the big fire one of the firemen suffered a heart attack in Harriet Parsons' driveway. The bravery of these men who went without sleep or food didn't receive half enough praise.

Frank McCarthy and Rupert Allen fought the fire throughout the night with sprinkler and hose going full force. The wind finally sent the flames in the opposite direction.

Kirk Douglas is giving a cocktail party to welcome Sir Laurence Olivier to Hollywood on Jan. 11. Larry certainly had a welcome when he arrived in the midst of the fire.

Praise for Mrs. Evelyn Sharp, who put up costs for all the evacuees and their families at the Beverly Wilshire Hotel.

For the first time in the history of the Cocoanut Grove they had to open an extra room to take care of the New Year's Eve revelers. The Ritz Brothers performed in both rooms making, in all, four shows.

Keely Smith and Louise Prima were offered a house and lot—and I do mean house—if they would stay for six more days at the Moulin Rouge.

The California press photographers have voted the six males who have smiles with the most magnetism. Here are the winners: President Dwight D. Eisenhower, James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Robert Young, Maurice Chevalier, Ronald Reagan and Gene Kelly.

Mothers Appeal to Youngsters

Chimes in Osaka Cry 'Please Go Home'

Japanese mothers are using a gentle reminder of the late hour as an attempt to curb juvenile delinquency. No one is sure how immediately effective the campaign is, but hopes are high for the long-range benefit.

By MARK KURAMITSU

TOKYO (AP)—Every night the chimes sound through the dark alleys and neon-lighted spots of crime and violence.

They are the Chimes of Love, appealing to the restless youngsters to go home.

The chimes are part of a campaign started a few years ago by mothers in the large industrial city of Osaka to combat the postwar rise in juvenile crime.

Now the movement has spread to more than 200 Japanese cities. It has the support of government and police agencies.

Says a welfare ministry official: "The ministry is all for the campaign and hopes it will be pushed even more intensively and promulgated throughout the country. The campaign, I believe, will greatly contribute to the prevention of juveninle crimes and keep children from becoming stained by vice."

A Tokyo metropolitan police spokesman says there isn't evidence to show it has done any immediate good, but that he has confidence in the long-range effects.

The Osaka campaign was launched by Mrs. Takao Sudo, a family court mediator and a member of the Osaka Education Commission.

The city's mothers and various organizations donated $8,333 in May 1955 to buy a big church bell for the city hall.

The bell was named "Myo-Tsukushi-No-Kane" (The Chimes of Loves of Mothers) and on it was inscribed the words:

"Ring to echo
Thruogh the streets at night
So sweet and so gentle. . ."

The bell was patterned after London's Big Ben. It rings at 10 p.m., appealing to youngsters to go home.

"The Chimes of Love campaign is a spiritual movement," says Mrs. Sudo, "so it is not wise to debate how effective it has been in lessening teenagers' crimes.

"I hope the day will come soon when we will not need the chimes."

In Tokyo last August, a "Go Home" chimes tower was erected on top of a big department store in Shinjuku, one of Tokyo's more notorious spots, by mothers and shop owners who contributed to a building fund.

Driving force behind the Shinjuku movement was Nagao Shimizu, chairman of the Tokyo metropolitan city assembly and former police official.

"Residents, mothers' associations and shop owners in the Shinjuku section desired to clean up the area," Shimizu explains. "They decided first to erect signboards at street corners appealing to the kids to 'go home at 10 p.m. tonight.'

"To promote the cleanup more extensively we all decided to build the chimes tower with an electrically-controlled chime system to carry our appeal."

In nearby Meguro, some 60,000 mothers donated 50 yen (14 cents) each to build a 60-foot chimes tower atop the Meguro ward office on Nov. 10.

The chimes are carried by nine speakers throughout the area, playing daily a song called "The Chimes of Tomorrow" at 7 a.m., 5 p.m. and 10 p.m.

The melody can be heard for a distance of 2½ miles.

Mrs. Kurako Tomita, a government-appointed juvenile probation official who launched the Meguro campaign with two other mothers, says:

"We hope the chimes' soft melody will awaken the conscience of juvenile delinquents or boys and girls who are about to commit crimes.

"We hope our sons and daughters will grow up to be good and honest citizens by listening to the chimes."

Mothers in Meguro are planning to establish two more towers to "let residents in every corner of our residential area hear the chimes."

The chimes play the song:

"The morning is bright, in the sky of hope
Today, too, justly and pleasantly
The chimes echo toward tomorrow
The chimes echo toward tomorrow."

Governor of Alaska Starts Off in Hospital

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP)—It was the first workday today for the new state of Alaska but it's first elected governor spent it at a hospital.

While residents of the union's 49th and largest state went to their places of business, Gov. William A. Egan rested easily under treatment for a jaundice condition.

Egan, 44, who recently underwent surgery for a hemorrhoid condition, was hospitalized after delivering his inaugural speech here Saturday. Doctors said it would be at least a day or longer until he can assume his duties.

Taconite is so hard that regular blasting drills can pierce only about one foot of the rock every hour.

Wheat Drops, Others Steady

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat futures prices weakened but other grains and soybeans held about steady to firm in unusually slow Monday transactions today on the Board of Trade.

Dealers said the reaction in wheat probably was related to reports of additional snowfall over the weekend in much of the winter crop region of the Great Plains.

The only export business reported was about 700,000 bushels of red wheat to India. Domestic demand was slow.

Wheat was unchanged to ¾ cent a bushel lower near the end of the first hours, March $1.96⅝; corn ⅛ to ⅜ higher, March old type contract $1.13¾; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, March 65⅝; rye ⅜ higher to ⅛ lower, March $1.33½; soybeans ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, January $2.14⅝.

Columnist Starts Jail Sentence

NEW YORK (AP)—Newspaper columnist Marie Torre surrendered today to serving a 10-day jail sentence rather than disclose a news source.

Miss Torre, 34 and mother of two young children writes a syndicated television and radio column for the New York Herald Tribune. She appeared before U.S. Dist. Judge Sylvester J. Ryan and was remanded to custody of a marshal at 10:05 a.m.

"I have great hope that this action will lead to legislation which will protect a newsman's sources," she told reporters as she arrived at the courthouse.

She was accompanied to the courthouse by her husband, Hal Friedman, a television producer.

Judge Ryan had found Miss Torre in contempt for refusing to disclose the source of a story she wrote in 1957 concerning movie star Judy Garland.

Mart Advances in Heavy Trade

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market advanced toward new highs in very heavy trading early this afternoon.

Pivotal issues rose from fractions to a point or more.

The ticker tape was late repeatedly as strong buying pressure came in wave after wave.

For the first two hours turnover was a half million shares better than Friday when the day's total was 3,380,000.

Investment demand went from group to group and was not sustained enough in any one section of the market to cause very large gains anywhere except in a few special situations.

Brokers said bullish forecasts for 1959 and good business and economic news bolstered market sentiment.

Steels, motors, rails, aircrafts, utilities and most chemicals were higher. Nonferrous metals, drugs and airlines were mixed while tobaccos were firm.

Several Fish Shanties in Area Broken Into

Reports of break-ins at fishing shanties on area lakes began coming in to the Oakland County Sheriff's Department this weekend.

Sheriff Frank W. Irons warned ice fishermen to be sure their shanties are locked and not to leave any more equipment in them than is absolutely necessary.

Three hanties were reported broken into on Pontiac Lake in White Lake Township, according to deputies. Stolen were six poles, five tip-ups for ice fishing, two ice scoops, a folding stool, an oil heater and tank, one stove and other fishing equipment.

Cuba Just One Problem Facing U.S. Trade Abroad

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The Cuban revolution is only one of a multitude of uncertainties today facing Americans with investments and trade abroad.

In all parts of the globe 1959 should offer answers to questions now baffling American business planners.

Here is the stake:

American private investment abroad is approaching 37 billion dollars, the Department of Commerce reports. The total exports of commercal merchandise by American concerns in 1958 is estimated at 17 billion dollars by the National Foreign Trade Council — and with luck it should rise in 1959.

Here are some of the trouble spots:

CUBA: Americans have about one billion dollars invested in the sugar, oil and tourist industries. The uncertainty: what the attitude of the new Castro government will be toward outsiders. For the sugar trade and American consumers the question: Will the approaching sugar harvest enter world trade on schedule, keeping American refineries busy and the price of sugar here stable?

VENEZUELA: The old 50-50 split of profits between American and other oil companies and the government has been changed to 40-60. U.S. concerns are protesting getting the short end of the deal and the final outcome is still up in the air. Worrying them as anything is the effect this example could have on their vast holdings in the — MIDDLE EAST: Already some inroads have been made on the traditional 50-50 arrangement; more are being talked up. Also furrowing the brows of oilmen is the general political unrest. Nasserism, communism and the Israeli question keep Americans on an almost daily alert.

INDONESIA: Political strife has had the oil and rubber companies on the defensive. All is quiet at the moment but Americans are not sure for how long.

ARGENTINA: How to develop the oil industry there is just part of a general fiscal crisis, with Americans in the thick of it.

BRAZIL: A monetary crisis keeps American companies watchful. The coffee surplus — and what's to be done about it — will affect both American roasters and consumers.

EUROPE: Uncertainties here have come thick and fast of late. France is trying to bolster its shaky currency, first by devaluing the franc to bring prices in line with its competitors, and second by an austerity drive to combat the treasury deficit. Americans can only guess how De Gaulle will make out.

Americans mostly rejoice at the rush of European nations to make their currencies partly convertible with the dollars as a step in the right direction. But the main object wasn't so much to improve trade with the United States as to adjust to the new competitive factors in the birth of a new European economy.

THE COMMON MARKET: France, West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg are starting a lengthy process of lowering tariff walls among themselves and presenting a common tariff front to outsiders. Americans fear that will make it harder for them to sell in the six nations, and will make it easier for the six to take world markets away from Americans. U.S. companies also are wondering if they should open more plants inside the common market.

IMPORTANT QUOTAS: Many nations still have them against American goods. Americans noted that France in ending some quotas did so on raw materials which French manufacturers might want to buy from us, but not on goods made by U.S. companies which French consumers might want to buy. In other words, France is still keeping a rein on how many francs Americans can earn to dollars.

RUSSIA: The uncertainty here is global now. The Soviets have declared a trade war on the United States. They are out to take world markets from us wherever they can and when it suits their policies to try.

News in Brief

A break-in at Mike's Bar, 4800 Dixie Highway, Waterford Township, Saturday netted thieves an undetermined amount of change from several vending machines plus several cases of beer, according to Pontiac State Police.

Sam Ross, of 3205 Shimmons Rd., Pontiac Township, reported to Oakland County sheriff's deputies Sunday morning that someone had stolen a six-volt battery from his auto while it was parked in front of his home Saturday night.

Doctors Study Problem Child

Use of Tranquilizers Brings Peace, Interest in Lessons to Many

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Tranquilizers may provide teachers with a cure for one of their biggest headaches — the problem child.

This encouraging outlook for perpetually blissful classrooms is the result of recent medical reports concerning the effects of happiness pills on certain types of emotionally disturbed children.

These are kids with mental troubles which cause them to be so nervous, tense or belligerent that they constantly cause trouble in class or flunk all their school work.

After taking tranquilizers, however, many of these youngsters calmed down to the extent that they developed a real interest in their studies and started making better grades. Others, whose conduct had tempted teachers to start swallowing pills themselves, suddenly decide dto behave.

In fact, it's reported that officials of one school have become so sold on the rehabilitative merits of the drugs that they have made tranquilizer treatment one of the requirements for letting expelled kids return to class.

NEEDS MORE STUDY

Most doctors, however, are far from being this enthusiastic about labeling the drugs as a classroom cure-all. First, they point out that there is relatively little known about how tranquilizers actually work and why they don't have the same effects on everybody who takes them.

For instance, they explain that a few of the noisy kids, who are mentioned in the reports, got worse after swallowing the drugs.

Thus, they believe that it's wrong to say that tranquilizers will always boost learning ability. In fact, a few doctors are afraid happy pills might dull the senses so much that kids who take them might grow up with a "don't give a damn" attitude about everything.

As a final argument they point out that most tranquilizer studies have been made for only short periods of time. They explain that long range, highly detailed studies must be completed before the pros and cons of using the drugs on children can be fully determined.

The Public Health Service's National Institute of Mental Health has recently started such projects at Nebraska's Psychiatric Institute in Omaha and at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore, Md. Both studies are concerned with pinpointing the actual effects of tranquilizers on an emotionally disturbed child's learning ability.

Public Power Called Unfair

WASHINGTON (AP) — Seventy-six private power companies will seek to justify, in a hearing scheduled to open tomorrow, the expense of a series of advertisements attacking public power as unfair competition.

But Federal Power Commission attorneys contend the hearing is not the proper occasion for such a private-vs.-public power argument.

The hearing was called by the commission to question the propriety of the companies' action in charging an aggregate of $557,645 —their share of the cost of nine advertisements in national magazines in 1957—to expenses that figure in rates paid by consumers of electricity.

Contending that the advertisements related to a subject of political controversy, the commission staff recommended they be charged to the power company stockholders under the commission's accounting rules.

The nine advertisements were part of the 1957 advertising program sponsored by "America's independent electric light and power companies."

Half of Students Will Feel Effect

Combine Teacher, TV for Most Effective Use, Coordinator Advises

Within 10 years, at least half the nation's students on every grade level, will have had at least some exposure to education via television, says Dr. Edwin P. Adkins, coordinator of "Continental Classroom," Channel 4, Monday through Friday, 6:30-7 a.m., EST), the early-morning atomic age physics course.

Dr. Adkins expressed his views on education via television to newsmen at a press conference in Los Angeles.

"Television is not a panacea or a cure-all for the nation's educational ills, but it is an important supplemental tool and our experience with it thus far leads me to believe it will have a permanent and important place in our education program," Dr. Adkins said.

Asked if increased use of TV in education would prove an answer to the teacher shortage, Dr. Adkins said: "Definitely not. As a matter of fact, 'Continental Classroom' has created the need for 250 new jobs at universities and colleges where the course is being offered for credit."

"Ideally, we can work best with a mixtuure of the two. There is no substitute for the teacher in education. The academic life, association with and learning from others, is still a vital part of the education process and our present program was conceived to aid teachers themselves.

"We're trying to put into the hands of the high school teacher, the latest informatoin on his or her field. And, from what we can gather now, we're succeeding in doing just that."

Designed primarily to effect an improvement in science education in the country's schools, the nationwide physics course is produced in cooperation with the American Association of Colleges for Teacher Education and financed similarly by the Ford Foundation and the Fund for Advancement of Education.

GAMBLING LADY — Delores Donlon is featured as the love-stricken operator of a swank gambling palace, in "The Texan," 8 p.m. tonight on Channel 2. Rory Calhoun stars as Bill Longley, object of Miss Donlon's romantic eye.

France 3rd in Coolers

PARIS—The 70 firms in France that manufacture refrigeration equipment grossed about $238,000,000 in 1957. They made 525,000 household refrigerators—50 times as many as in 1938. France now ranks third in refrigerator production, surpassed by the United States and Germany.

Avalanches Kill 18

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI) — The deaths of two young Austrians under an avalanche during the next weekend raised the number of avalanche victims in Austria so far this winter to 18.

How to Become Bore in Few Easy Lessons

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Want to be a bore—a pest—a know it-all? Clip my "Fearless Forecasts," stick them in your wallet or purse then electrify your friends with your immense knowledge of everything.

WILSON

Eddie Fisher's TV sponsor won't renew him beyond March, but won't cancel him earlier, either. "We bought 11 shows, we're still sponsoring 11, he has five to go," says Ad Exec Terry Clyne. "We only budgeted for 11. "Even last summer" (before Liz Taylor) "we didn't plan beyond March."

Harry Truman will accept a Show Biz offer... Diana Dors will sing, yet, on the Steve Allen show (Jan. 11)... Jack Barry and Dan Enright will part... Julie Newmar of B'way will make a super-size De Laurentis film in Italy next summer and try to show that Gina Lolio is a flattie.

"Go north, young woman, go north!" will become the husband-hunters' cry. In Alaska there are six single men to each single gal and the nights are six months long for spooning.

Milton Berle will Rolls-Royce around Hollywood. Car's a gift of his wife Ruth. (Now Henny Youngman'll have to have one)... NBC will buy Jack Paar's idea that Jonathan Winters relieve him. (Jonathan's joined AA)... Only two of Bing Crosby's sons'll get married in '59 (that's all he's got left)... Nixon and Tom Dewey, Nelson Rockefeller's adviser, will declare open war.

Jackie Gleason will be revealed to be his fattest yet (due to blonde Honey Merrill making him so contented)... Bob Hope'll do a TV film in S. America (only continent he's got left)...

ASIA

Liz Taylor will spend 100's in trade ads trying for the Oscar for "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." Other strong gal contenders: Deborah Kerr, Susan Hayward, Ingrid Bergman, Roz Russell, Jean Simmons; males: David Niven, Spencer Tracy, Burl Ives, Tony Curtis... Asia Mercoolova, the Russian-born "girl with the walk" in the show "Whoop-up," will outwiggle Jane Mansfield.

"Classiest Guy in America" title will go to Baltimore Colts Owner Carrol Rosenbloom who, Christmas eve, gave each of 39 players a turkey — then said "They're kinda hard to carry home" — whereupon each man got a new Oldsmobile convertible: $100,000 worth of automobiles.

Two more forecasts: (1) The above will be 90% correct and (2) if so, I will faint.

Chrysler Strike Voted in Canada

98 Pct. of UAW Local in Favor of Walkout, No Date Set

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Members of the United Auto Workers here voted overwhelmingly yesterday in favor of strike action against Chrysler of Canada.

President Charles Brooks of Local 444 said the vote was 98 per cent in favor of a walkout. No deadline was set for a strike, and any strike action must be sanctioned by the international union, Brooks added.

The union leader said the current offer of the company was unanimously rejected by the membership at yesterday's meeting.

Brooks listed the outstanding issues, as wages, production standards clauses, use of outside contractors for work normally done by regular employes, rest periods, health and safety measures, pensions, length of contract, and retroactivity.

The union's contract with Chrysler expired Aug. 15.

Yesterday's strike vote was the second taken in recent weeks against a major auto producer. Two weeks ago Ford workers here voted 96 per cent in favor of strike action. Subsequent votes taken by Ford employes at Oakville and North York also supported a walkout.

Blackbirds' IQ Rating High Among Fellows

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — You should never underestimate the intelligence of a blackbird, says H. G. Coleman.

He said he placed several pieces of hard bread in his backyard bird feeder. Sparrows and a jaybird tried unsuccessfully to eat them. Then along came a blackbird.

The blackbird carried the hard bread to the nearby birdbath and dunked it until it was soft enough to eat.

Cyclist Draws 7 Fines for Lacking All Lights

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Ronald Leach, a 19-year-old motorcyclist, was hailed into District Court for not having a headlight, taillight, brakelights, a light over his license plate, a horn and a speedometer. A noisy muffler attracted the arresting officer.

"Apparently this man was operating with nothing," commented Judge Frank Gregorski as he fined Leach $1 and costs on each of the seven charges.

Sale of Cemetery Lots Soars to New Record

HONOLULU (AP) — A local firm claims a new world's record for first month sales — of cemetery plots.

Hawaiian Memorial Park said 1,750 sites were purchased during the period. It said the mark exceeded the old record set at Modesto, Calif., by about 300.

Reds Aid Indonesia

LONDON (UPI)—Russia and Indonesia signed an economic and trade agreement yesterday providing for Soviet aid in construction of iron and steel plants, a sulphur-ently while inspecting the rephosphate factory and two mechanized rice plantations. Moscow radio reported. Russia will supply equipment and technical assistance on credit, the broadcast said.

U. of M. Expert Sees Record Output in '59

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan business expert says 1959 will be the best year in the history of the nation's economy.

Prof. Thomas Gies told the Benton Harbor-St. Joseph Rotary Club in a prepared speech today the total output of goods and services this year will hit between 460 and 465 bilion dollars—up more than six per cent from 1958.

Gies said the country's work force will reach record levels, although unemployment may not be reduced below five per cent.

Prices will remain fairly stable, thanks to a "terrific rise" in productivity and a "more forehanded" policy of the Federal Reserve Board in restraining credit, he said.

Gies said continued firmness by the Federal Reserve Board will make itself felt more and more as the year progresses.

"This year the board probably will restrain any substantial growth in bank reserves, despite increased demand for credit from business firms seeking to increase their working capital.

"As a result interest rates are almost certain to rise further," Gies said. He gave this breakdown for a 27 billion dollar increase in the production of goods and services:

Consumer spending up nine billion dollars over 1958; govenment spending up at least seven billion; plant and equipment spending up two billion; inventory accumulation up seven billion; and housing expenditure up two billion dollars.

Plans for Cuba Taking Shape

Stable Economy, Better Living, No Communism Part of 4-Point Plan

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba's future under Fidel Castro appeared headed for a four point program: encouragement of foreign investments, stability for business at home, a higher standard of living, and a closed door to Communists.

The future of organized labor, however, faced some doubt.

Castro, the 31-year-old bearded rebel who chased dictator Fulgencio Batista out of Cuba, has never laid down a clear outline of his program for Cuba. But at various times he and his top lieutenants have discussed what they were fighting for.

"Let me make this clear," Castro told me a few months ago. "Ours is a special kind of revolution. It is political, not social. It is not a revolution of class against class, but of all social classes against the government — against a small army group."

Castro and his lieutenants have emphatically denied that their revolution has anything to do with Communism, despite rumors that the Reds have given him aid.

Castro admits that "It is possible there are two or three persons in the movement with radical socialist ideas." But he quickly adds:

"As for myself — I'm not at all a Communist. In its program the 26th of July movement has nothing at all in common with communism."

Castro's aides claim that Batista started the rumors that the Reds were behind Castro's revolution in order to discredit the movement.

U.S. economists in Washington tend to agree that Castro is not tied up with the Reds, although they believe that some Reds may have tried to exploit the revolution.

Dog License as Proof of Taxes Paid on Car

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A new West Virginia law requires a motorist to show proof of payment of personal property taxes on his car before he can obtain a license plate. Sounds simple, but it has the State Motor Vehicles Department tearing its collective hair.

Here are some of the things that have been received instead of a small card certifying payment of the tax: A $2 weekly offering obviously intended for a church, a dog license receipt, a capitation tax receipt and a marriage certificate.

Winner Goes to Hospital

SYRACUSE, Sicily (UPI) — Sebastino di Mauro, 22, was recuperating in the hospital today after winning a bet with a friend that he could eat five partridges and three pheasants at one sitting.

2nd Week of Trial Opens in Petoskey

PETOSKEY (AP)—The murder trial of former insurance broker Paul Achenbach enters its second week today with a ruling on admission of vidence as the first order of business.

Court adjourned last Wednesday to permit Asst. State Atty. Gen. Perry A. Maynard to attend a funeral in Lansing. Maynard is assisting the prosecution.

Meanwhile, Emmet County Circuit Judge Edward H. Fenlon took under study certain notes from the defendant which the prosecution introduced at an earlier inquest and examination and seeks to present as evidence.

Achenbach, 46, is charged with first degree murder in the death of his mother, 78-year-old Mrs. Clara Achenbach. Her body was found in her apartment last November. Authorities said she had been dead several months.

3 Juvenile Architects Analyze House Design

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — After a thorough study of city building codes, analysis of 40 basic house designs, and a lot of mathematics for reduction to scale, three young men here have designed some forward-looking homes.

They're not quite ready to hang out shingles as architects yet, however. All are in the eighth grade, and the homes are built on a scale of a half-inch to the foot.

U.S., Canada Hold Trade Talk

Dulles Heads Delegation Trying for Smoother Border Exchanges

OTTAWA (AP) — Top U.S. and Canadian officials open annual talks tonight aimed at reducing friction that could hurt their seven billion dollars worth of across-the-border trade, a world high for any two countries.

Secretary of State Dulles was to lead the group of high U.S. officials due at nearby Uplands Airport this afternoon for meetings with Canadian officials headed by Finance Minister Donald M. Fleming.

Dulles and his companions likely are after assurances that Canada won't be using her new tough antidumping laws to discriminate against U.S. textiles and other exports.

The United States has already lodged formal protests, charging that the new laws enacted last year are a breach of Canada's international trade obligations. Canada's conservative administration has rejected the protests, arguing the legislation is fair and reasonable.

With Canada holding a strong bargaining lever in the antidumping laws, the four-man Canadian ministerial team is likely to seek American concessions in oil, lead and zinc, and wheat.

Reductions in U.S. oil import curbs affecting Canada are anticipated, but no early easing of lead and zinc import quotas is seen.

Only U.S. Permits One-Man Sentencing

CHICAGO — Among all the world's countries with highly developed legal systems, only the United States leaves the sentencing of criminals entirely up to one man, according to the National Judicature Society.

In other countries penalties are usually imposed only by a majority of three or more judges, and they must present reasons for the sentences.

The other countries also provide for appeals by the criminal or the parties he injured, seeking lower or higher penalties. And generally sentences are lighter than in the United States.

Allies' Firm Stand Frustrates Russia

Missiles Actually Guard the Peace

By PIERRE J. HUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Recurrent Soviet saber-rattling such as Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's threat to ignite World War III over the Berlin dispute is the best reminder to the Western Powers and especially to the starry-eyed neutrals that knockout nuclear weapons are the guardians of peace.

Second to these missiles but no less important are the alliances which, in reaching around the free world, cement the defensive strength of the western atomic powers and of the smaller countries into one solid front of security and capacity to retaliate with overwhelming impact against an aggressor.

U.N. experts on Russia concurred in the opinion that the intensified war threats being levelled by Moscow at the Western Powers are designed to smokescreen Soviet concern over mounting Allied preparedness in fact and in spirit to fight rather than to retreat from any solid position this side of the Iron Curtain.

The consequence is that Moscow, stopped dead in its tracks on seizing new areas by force, must rely entirely on cold war tactics and the Communist weapons of intrigue and subversion to maintain or improve its position in the free world.

The U.N. experts are equally convinced that the apparent ease with which the United States orbited the four-ton Atlas in many ways shocked and rattled the Soviet high command both in the military and political circles. This feat catapulted the U.S. back to the top in the race for outer space achievements, with prospects that American manpower will be on the moon to have a voice in who will rule that real estate before or at the same time that Russians get there.

On the basis of the Atlas triumph, it goes without saying that the Soviet high command must assume that the United States is on the threshhold of even greater potency in the variety of its outer space missiles and undoubtedly its conventional weapons.

Consequently, as explained by military men at U.N. the Moscow leaders are now faced with the necessity of assuming that 1959 presents even a greater calculated risk and 1960 a proportionally greater one to anyone attacking the Western Powers.

In other words, the chances of scoring a knockout blow against the United States or Britain have receded in 1958 and the risks of being destroyed under Allied retaliatory blows are so great that starting a war would be gambling with Russia's continued existence.

But to cover these fears, the Kremlin resorts to war shouts and through Gromyko tells the world that — in the upside-down language of Communism — any attempt at "aggression" against East Germany "may start a big new war in which millions upon millions will die." He added: "The flame of war would inevitably spread to the American continent."

In past years, when Stalin occasionally uttered such words, there were some countries in the free world which shook in their boots. Today these Moscow threats have become old hat. This is to say that, far from being apathetic and deaf to Red warnings, the free world is on the alert and has made it clear that the deadline has been drawn — this far and no farther. Moscow can have the showdown today or tomorrow.

In measuring relative military strenghts and capabilities, the Kremlin has been goaded to an extent into intensified propaganda threats also by the aggravating existence of the western alliances.

This is particularly true of NATO, which only recently concluded its annual meeting and made it clear to Russia that this combination of military power is ready to strike back anywhere and everywhere on the European continent.

Perhaps the Soviet high command in its estimate of NATO detected some if not many causes for satisfaction, and may have concluded that NATO is leaking at the seams. There is, for instance, the continuing British-Turkish-Greek dispute over Cyprus, a sorry and dangerous trouble-maker in the Allied defensive lineup. There is the French demand, sparked by General De Gaulle's amazing rise to power, for a bigger role and voice in NATO.

There is the reluctance of some NATO nations to accept United States missiles on the grounds that these deadly nuclear weapons would make the countries equipped with such launching bases the sure victims of the enemy's nuclear attack.

Then, unfortunately, there are neutralists who would stoop to appeasement with the Soviet Union over Berlin and Europe.

However, it would be somewhat foolish to assume that the Russians are fooled by these obvious weaknesses of an otherwise great military combination. The Kremlin knows as well as the Pentagon that a military alliance functions with electric speed and with remarkable vivacity when imminently threatened or actually when compelled to fight. Then all bets are off and weaknesses give way to combined strength. So, all in all, Soviet war threats are noisy but not so scary to the free world.

Tot Tries to Mail Letter —but in Fire Alarm Box

POTTSVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Young Francis Davis was filled with pride at his first test of responsibility — mailing a letter for Mommy. But nobody told him about mail boxes and fire alarm boxes.

When he couldn't find a slot to insert a letter in the big box on the pole, the 5-year-old tried pulling the lever on the box. He was still trying minutes later when nine Pottsville fire trucks, sirens screaming, arrived.
