UAW Proposes Government End Deadlock

GM Convinced Such Bid Would Be Futile —It's Too Late

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers today made a bid for government help to break a deadlock in contract negotiations with the auto industry.

The UAW proposed that the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service enter negotiations.

GM said it already had met with this group and is convinced that it is too late now for the mediators to help.

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president in charge of GM negotiations, told newsmen GM made a farce of negotiations by standing firm on its original proposal to extend the wage formula of the present contract.

Woodcock said negotiations are continuing. But, he said, it will take a miracle to reach a settlement before the GM contract expires at midnight tomorrow.

Woodcock said the union has offered to modify its original demands and is ready to trim them even further.

Woodcock indicated the union is prepared to alter its proposals to provide cost-of-living increases for retired workers to meet company objections that the plan would be too costly. GM estimates revisions would increase costs 10 cents an hour per worker.

Woodcock said the union is prepared to make an alternate proposal which would be cheaper.

Woodcock's announcement broke a blackout that had prevailed over bargaining.

The Ford and Chrysler contracts expire at midnight Sunday.

Auto makers reportedly are

Propose to End Flight Pay for Desk Officers

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today called for an end to the military practice of letting deskbound officers fly a few hours a month so they can get higher pay.

★ ★ ★

In a report accompanying the new military money bill, the congressmen said the extra flight pay is justly due to those who fly fast, dangerous combat planes and who must keep up their combat proficiency.

★ ★ ★

The committee said flight pay—worth from $50 to $165 a month—was originally provided as compensation for hazardous duty. But it reported much flying is now done just to meet the four hours a month minimum required to qualify for flight pay.

Probe Failure of Vanguard

Navy Satellite Flies 2,000 Miles in Space, Then Plunges

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Navy scientists searched tirelessly today for a technical bug that brought their second basketball-sized satellite plunging to earth after a brief flight into space.

Blasted aloft by the Vanguard rocket shortly before midnight, the 20-inch ball flew 2,000 miles out in an arc-like course, then hurtled back into the atmosphere.

For the moment the Navy was unable to say what caused the satellite to fail after what appeared to be a perfect launching toward an orbit around the earth.

Meager information radioed back by the satellite before it went silent eventually may tell why it wound up just like the first basketball moon—at the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean.

Only a few flaming fragments may have hit the sea, however.

In all likelihood, said Dr. Richard W. Porter, chairman of the Vanguard satellite panel, most of the satellite was consumed by friction heat in its dive to oblivion.

First word that the launching had failed came as a shock to scientists here.

From the moment the Vanguard leaped out of a white-hot pool of fire up into a black Florida sky, Navy people who saw it were jubilant.

The rocket's brilliant exhaust flame cut a perfect path through a heavy overcast, straight upward at first, then arching gracefully over toward a horizontal course. Its whining radio signal was picked up, then lost.

Do you recognize any of the names above? Some of them were your friends and neighbors in Oakland County. All of them have something in common.

They are dead.

They died in Oakland County traffic accidents. All 35 of them. Many were innocently involved, out for a drive on a sunny day. Happenstance placed them at the wrong corner at the right time.

Right or wrong, they died. Some were victims of a childlike belief that if they were on their side of the center line, they were safe.

Ten persons have died in seven head-on crashes this year.

Others failed to realize that driving 20 or 30 miles over the speed limit, running stop signs and amber traffic signals only gets them to their destination a minute or two earlier.

Those saved minutes can be pretty expensive. Figuring a life expectancy of 72 years, we've wiped out 1,132 years since January 1.

Report Coty to Name New Premier Today

Communist Mobs Massing in Bastille Area to Protest Against General

PARIS (UPI)—President Rene Coty will announce the name of France's new premier-designate at 10 p.m. (4 p.m. EST), an Elysee Palace spokesman said today.

Meanwhile Gen. Charles de Gaulle left his home 150 miles east of Paris suddenly today. There was speculation he was answering a call from President Rene Coty to attend a conference of political leaders preparatory to forming a new government for France.

Simultaneously, thousands of angry Communists and Socialists massed in Paris's Bastille quarter — historic starting point of the French Revolution in 1789 — to protest De Gaulle's apparently steady rise to power.

De Gaulle sped away from his home at Colomey-Les-Deux-Eglises in his black Citroen shortly after 5 p.m. (11 a.m., EST).

It would take De Gaulle's chauffeur about two hours to make the trip. It would probably be several hours after that before an anxious France would know if De Gaulle's time had arrived.

Police took elaborate precautions at Colombey to keep newsmen from trailing De Gaulle. Roads were blocked for 15 minutes.

At that very moment tens of thousands of anti-De Gaulle demonstrators surged into the Place de la Bastille where the French Revolution of 1789 erupted. Former Premier Pierre Mendes-France, head of the Radical (moderate) Party, was among them.

"Fascism shall not pass," the

President Says Slump Slowing

Ike Cautions Against Optimism on Upturn in Near Future

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today he believes the recession has largly spent its force.

But he cautioned against any optimism that a healthy economic upturn would occur in the near future.

He told a news conference that some of the economic indices point to an upturn. But he said one swallow does not make a summer.

Some parts of the national economy, such as the auto and other durable goods industries, still are not doing too well, he said. On the whole, he noted, the nation is weathering the recession well.

In other news conference remarks, the President said:

— That as of now the economic situation does not warrant anti-recession tax cuts that would greatly increase the federal budget deficit.

— He would deplore any peacetime attempt to control wages and prices. But he feels strongly that both must be held down in an effort to maintain stable living costs and a sound dollar.

He declined to comment on the crisis in France and Lebanon. But he did say he happened to like Gen. Charles de Gaulle who appears headed for control of the French goovernment.

New Michigan Map Collector's Item?

LANSING (AP) — Although 600,000 copies of the 1958 official state highway map are being distributed starting today, it may become a collector's item.

Unless the legislature changes its mind, these will be the last maps put out by the department. The law-makers have banned future printing of the free maps, which cost $34,770 this year, as an economy move.

The maps will be distributed by the State Tourist Council, the four regional tourist associations, state and county highway offices and such other outlets as newspapers, radio and television stations, county clerks, chambers of commerce, hotels and garages.

Officers Fail to Force Showdown on Straley

By PETE LOCHBILER

An attempt by disgruntled police officers to force a showdown in their battle with Police Chief Herbert W. Straley fizzled out at an anticlimactic public hearing by the City Commission last night.

Twenty-seven officers had voted to seek Straley's resignation on the basis of criticisms contained in the controversial Public Administration Service report on low police department morale and efficiency.

LISTEN IN SILENCE

Commissioners listened to their petition in silence, then heard a counter-petition signed by 28 other officers.

Observing that there apparently was a split in the department's ranks, Mayor William W. Donaldson called an end to the hearing 20 minutes after it began.

He said that Straley was an appointee of City Manager Walter K. Willman and the commission was powerless to take any action on him, one way or the other.

ENDED HEARING

Thus ended what had been anticipated as a heated discussion of the PAS report and its appraisal of the police chief.

About 120 persons, mostly policemen and their wives, had turned out to hear what went on. Only one person in the audience had anything to say.

Lt. Donny Ashley, chairman of the Pontiac Police Officers Association's civil service committee, submitted a resolution he said was passed at a special meeting Thursday.

It said that if Straley wouldn't resign at Willman's request, the Commission should order Willman to file removal proceedings against the chief with the Civil Service Commission.

Asked by Willman for more details about the special meeting, Ashley said 35 policemen attended it, with 27 officers voting for the resolution, six voting against it and two abstaining.

Donaldson then had City Clerk Ada R. Evans read the other letter, which he said was turned into her office yesterday afternoon. It said it was not the business of any rank-and-file officer to suggest that anyone be dismissed.

GIVEN TO WILLMAN

The mayor turned both documents over to Willman, who said later that he would look them over.

Straley, who remained silent during the hearing, afterwards claimed a victory and said he had "no intention" of resigning.

"This was the first real chance during the long fight we've had in the department for the association members to stand up and be counted," he said. "I think the results show that those in the department who oppose me do not have as much support as they've advertised.

"I've said over and over that

Father of Five Loses Leg; Ground in Cement Mixer

A Detroit father of five miraculously escaped being ground to death last evening as he lost his right leg while attempting to clean out a cement mixer at a Southfield building firm.

Listed in critical condition at Detroit Receiving Hospital is Jasper Moore, 47, of 4845 Hurlbut St. Doctors say he lost his right leg at the knee and has a badly fractured left leg.

Moore, a laborer for the past seven years with Superior Cement Products Co. of 19614 W. Eight Mile Rd., entered the mixer shortly after 6 p.m. to clean it. Unaware Moore was in it, Pat Doss, company president from Ferndale, accidentally started the machine.

Doss, of 1748 Pinecrest Ave., who collapsed following the accident, said he immediately stopped the mixer when he heard Moore's screams. "I thought he had gone home. We had no idea he was in there," he said.

The paddles of the machine ripped off Moore's right leg. He remained trapped for about 90 minutes until Oak Park firemen, police and Clarence Franklin, operator of a metal fabricating business in the area, freed him with a torch.

Garden Lovers Beware

Frost Due Here Tonight

Garden lovers were warned by the Weather Bureau today to cover up those precious plants and flowers as frost, and sub-freezing temperatures were predicted to settle upon the Pontiac area tonight.

The mercury was expected to dip down to an unseasonable reading between 31 and 37 degrees in the southern part of the state. Colder readings were expected further north.

Although the weatherman forecast a high tomorrow around 73, he issued disturbing news to Memorial Day vacationers. He said it would be continued cool Saturday and Sunday.

Scattered showers or thundershowers might hit the area Friday night, he said.

The low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 49 degrees. The mercury had climbed to 63 at 2 p.m.

Ponders Leasing Buses

PORT HURON (UPI) — Port Huron may follow the lead of Ann Arbor and Jackson to get its bus system out of the red. The system has been in financial trouble for about a year. Under the plan, the city would lease the physical assets of the company, thus getting responsibility for all taxes for a 10-year period.

New Missile for Navy

POISED TO STRIKE — New and deadly addition to Navy's striking power is this Bendix Talos guided missile, poised on its launching turret aboard the cruiser Galveston. It is designed to destroy enemy aircraft at a range of more than 65 miles and at stratospheric altitudes. The ramjet missile weighs 3,000 pounds.

To Prevent Air Collisions

Create 3 Super Skyways

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board today created three transcontinental super skyways in a move to lessen the danger of aircraft collisions.

The skyways will be established June 15.

As of that date all flights between 17,000 and 22,000 feet altitude in the designated air corridors will be wholly controlled from the ground regardless of weather.

The ground control will apply to both military and commercial planes using the skyways.

The corridors will be 40 miles wide. Within them planes will be separated by at least 1,000 feet vertically and 1 minutes flying time horizontally.

The CAB said the airlines, which already have pledged their pilots will submit voluntarily to ground control in all operations above 10,000 feet, endorsed the skyway plan.

"The Department of Defense informed CAB this morning of its endorsement," the Board said.

Memorial Day Parade Set in Pontiac

To Honor War Dead

Pontiac's Memorial Day ceremonies will begin at 10:30 a.m. Friday as Americans throughout the country pause in remembrance of the nation's wartime dead.

Local ceremonies will begin with a parade up Saginaw St. from Jackson St. to the Civil War Monument at the intersection of Saginaw and Oakland Ave.

The parade will consist of three main sections.

The first will be made up of such dignitaries as Malcolm Oswalt, president of the Pontiac Memorial Day Association, and Floyd Cremer, marshal of the day.

Included will be the Pontiac Central High Band and various Armed Forces units including the Pontiac Naval Reserve, Army Reserve, National Guard, and a color guard representing the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, and Air Force.

The second section will be made up of delegations from the many local veterans groups. The final section will consist mainly of local mothers' clubs and women's patriotic and civic organizations.

The parade will end with the presentation of a wreath to the Civil War Monument by this year's parade marshal, Edward C. Tanner, of 94 Blaine St. Tanner is a Spanish-American War veteran.

Parade participants will then go to Perry Mt. Park Cemetery for a memorial program.

The program will feature an address by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools, who is speaker of the day.

Following the address a ceremony will be held at Wisner Memorial Stadium by World War II veterans.

Members of the Memorial Day Assn. will be at work early in the morning placing American flags on the graves of veterans at the cemetery, according to Oswalt.

City Police Arrest 5, Seek 6th Man

Believe Burglary Ring Cracked

A safe cracking and burglary ring responsible for at least 10 thefts and break-ins in the Pontiac area which netted over $2,000 is believed to have been smashed by the burglary detail of the Pontiac police.

Headed by Sgt. Raymond Meggitt, the detail has arrested five men and is seeking a sixth fugitive.

Arrested were Eugene F. Genest, 29, of 12 McKinley St.; Herman M. Opdenhoff, 26, of 501 S. Jessie St.; Gerald E. Jackson, 27, of 34 Harvey St.; Kester R. Morgan, 29, of 72 Green St.; and Cecil B. Warren, 29, of 12 McKinley St.

Genest stood mute in circuit court to a charge of safe cracking and awaits trial; Warren pleaded guilty to safe cracking; Opdenhoff and Morgan will be arraigned June 2 for safe robbery; and Jackson pleaded not guilty to a charge of breaking and entering and is out on bond.

All the men, except Jackson, have prison records, and Warren is on parole for burglary, while Opdenhoff is on parole for armed robbery.

WORK NEARLY MONTH

Sgt. Meggitt and Detectives Jame Bale, Robert Wachal and Eugene Hendren, assisted by other departments, particularly Chief Millard J. Pender of the Waterford Township Police Dept., worked almost an entire month on the case following the first break May. 3.

The opening lead in the case came with the safe robbery at Banner Linen Co., 366 N. Cass Ave.

The thieves took the safe and loaded it on a Banner truck to transport it to a place where they could open it at their leisure.

They were scared off by a cruising Bloomfield Township police car as they were hiding the safe on a country road. Working from that incident, detectives gradually were led from one member of the ring to another.

Meggitt and Bale even journeyed to Pittsburgh on May 9 to arrest Warren, who had fled Pontiac.

Jobs the detectives have now marked solved include besides the Banner Linen Co.:

Dolan's Drugs, 164 Auburn, burglary Sept. 25, 1957, television set, typewriter and 2,000 tablets of narcotics taken.

FURS, PISTOL TAKEN

Burglary of the home of Lamott Felshaw, 324 Menominee Rd., March 26, furs and a pistol stolen.

$200 FROM SAFE

McCloy Paper Co., Flint, April 12, $200 taken from safe.

The detectives said that Genest and Warren were on the Banner Linen break-in; Jackson and Opdenhoff at Dolan's; Morgan and Harry at Judge Holland's; and Opdenhoff, Morgan and Harry on the burglary at the Felshaw residence, plus the two churches, Harold Paper, Scrib's, Teamsters Hall and McCloy's.

Investigation is continuing with the possibility many more burglaries and safe jobs may be cleared up, Sgt. Meggitt said.

Capt. Oliver Lemeaux, head of the detective bureau, paid tribute to the burglary detail today. "They got a break and followed it up as it should be, working day and night and skipping days off. The entire detail is to be commended."

Police Guard De Gaulle as He Races for Paris

Coty was acting with all possible haste.

Earlier in the afternoon he conferred for two hours with leaders of three of France's middle-line parties.

DE GAULLE CALLED

Informed sources said the call to De Gaulle was issued after the Catholic Popular Republicans (MRP) and Independents had assented to asking De Gaulle to form a government.

The Socialists, who have opposed him energetically up to now, were said to have delayed their decision pending consultations with their parliamentary group this evening. The Socialists have 100 votes.

Coty was said to have appealed to all three parties to accept De Gaulle before the nation is plunged into chaos and possible bloodshed.

LEADERS WARNED

The sources said Coty warned the three political leaders that if they rejected De Gaulle his only alternative would be to summon Francois Mitterand, 42-year-old member of the small Moderate Leftist Resistance Union (UDSR), to form a "popular front" government that would include the Communists.

Coty was said to have told the party leaders such a step would be against his conscience and that he would resign rather than do that.

Coty, striving desperately to find an escape from the threat of a military dictatorship or a Communist grab for power, began his crucial conferences at 4 a.m.

He refused to accept Premier Pierre Pflimlin's resignation until a new government could be formed. Pflimlin, his government crumbling around him, asked to quit after he was unable to muster a constitutional majority in a fist-waving session of the General Assembly last night.

Coty asked him to stay on as caretaker.

A lightning strike shut down Paris subways, buses and suburban trains, coinciding with the anti - De Gaulle demonstrations and hitting the capital at its rush hour.

At least 50,000 demonstrators marched into the Place de la Bastille at 5 p.m., at the same time De Gaulle was leaving home.

De Gaulle, who had declared he would take power only by legal means, had conducted a round of consultations of his own. Two of his Free French associates of wartime—Marshal Alphonse Juin and Gen. Georges Catroux—went to see him.

Coty first consulted with the presidents of the two Houses of Parliament. Then he held a joint meeting—almost unprecedented in French government crises — with heads of three of the main middle-line parties — the Socialists, the Catholic Popular Republican (MRP) and the Independents (conservatives).

Informed sources said Coty had won agreement from the Catholic Popular Republicans and Independents (conservatives) for De Gaulle to become premier. Together, the two parties control 175 votes in the 595-member National Assembly.

As he did so, the Communists, bitterest opponents of De Gaulle's bid for power, were seeking to whip together a new "popular front" movement.

Powerful police reinforcements massed again around government buildings, the National Assembly, the Champs Elysees and particularly in the east end ready to act in case of disturbances. The place de la Bastille is in eastern Paris.

Coty ended his conference with the three party leaders about 5 p.m. The three hurried away from the Elysees Palace without talking to newsmen.

Earlier he had seen Assembly President Andre le Troquer who arrived at 4:45 a.m., still in his white tie and tailcoat although dawn already had broken.

Later, he was to see Senate President Gaston de Monnerville and this afternoon Socialist Party Leader Guy Mollet, Independent leader Antoine Pinay and Catholic Popular Republican (MRP), Pierre Henri Teitgen.

Mollet is known to oppose De Gaulle while Pinay favors him. Teitgen also could be expected to favor De Gaulle's return. Presumably, Coty was trying to learn whether middle-of-the-road and rightist parties could muster the strength in the 595-member Assembly necessary to overcome the 248 Communist and Socialist votes expected to go against him.

Pflimlin's resignation last night climaxed a day and night of tension and confusion unparalleled even in this two-week-old crisis of mounting crescendoes.

It began with De Gaulle's bombshell announcement that he was preparing to form a new "Republican" government, following a secret conference Monday night with Pflimlin himself.

Meeting De Gaulle's challenge, the Pflimlin government decided after two emergency cabinet meetings to go before the National Assembly and place upon it the responsibility of the final decision.

"Tonight you must choose between me and De Gaulle," Pflimlin told the Assembly in a speech which could go down in history as marking the end of the Fourth Republic.

"If I am confirmed in office, I will stay. If I am defeated I will go."

The decision rested on a vote to be taken on a resolution calling for constitutional reform.

Pflimlin said he would not count communist votes for him in the final tally.

But even as the Assembly met, Pflimlin's government was crumbling around him. First, three of the four Independent Party ministers quit. Then the whole party deserted the government to vote against him in the final showdown test.

The vote itself touched off a new round of confusion. It was 408 to 165 in favor of Pflimlin—a clear defeat for De Gaulle. But it also was unclear whether the premier could consider he had won the absolute majority of the House that he sought, once the 148 Communist votes were deducted.

At 1:45 a.m., the cabinet went into still another emergency session. Pflimlin wanted to quit. A majority of his ministers urged him to hang on.

only a handful of trouble-makers were creating all the dissension. This proves it."

Ashley felt otherwise. He maintained that only half of the 28 signatures on the second petition were those of association members.

"That makes it 27 to 14 in favor of our petition, as far as the association is concerned, not 28 to 27 in favor of theirs," he said.

Donaldson said the City Charter limited the Commission to consideration of policy matters and prohibited it from interfering in Willman's administration of the city government.

"The Commission is not concerned with personalities," he told the hearing. "It is concerned with the three broad policy questions brought up by the PAS report and nothing else."

He listed the three matters as (1) appointment of a public safety director over both police and fire departments; (2) transfer of the traffic violations bureau from control by the police department to the municipal courts; and (3) amendment of the State Civil Service Act or repeal of its adoption here.

Donaldson promised action on the issues after the Commission considers them again at another informal session next month.

FRANK F. RAND

Pontiac Miner, Prospector Dies

Frank Rand, 74, Known for Writings, Lectures on Labrador

Frank F. Rand, Pontiac prospector who has made more than 25 trips to Labrador, died yesterday at the home of his son, Frank F. Rand Jr., in Devon, Pa. He had been in ill health several months.

When on a fishing trip to Labrador in 1932, he found a lost gold mine by following a map given him by his grandfather, one-time magistrate in Nova Scotia. He returned year after year and staked claims covering more than 1,000 acres.

In 1955 Mr. Rand of 4224 Lanette St., Elizabeth Lake, completed writing a book on Labrador. He has spoken and shown slides of the country to numerous schools and churches in the Pontiac area.

Born in Augusta, Maine on Nov. 17, 1883, he was the son of Henry A. and Bessie Pickles Rand.

Besides his son, Mr. Rand leaves three grandsons.

His body will be brought to the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Arrangements will be announced later.

Government Help Proposed by UAW

standing firm on their offer to extend the present contracts two years with about 16 cents in raises spread over that period. Production workers in auto factories now average $2.40 hourly.

Reuther is seeking new contracts providing wage increases, better pension plans, improved health benefits and a share of the company's profits. He has not made public an estimate of the union's demands, but Ford and GM have estimated it would cost 70 to 73 cents an hour per worker.

Postal Hike to Cost State $250,000 Year Extra

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's state government, already saddled with growing debts, faces roughly another $250,000 yearly expense item because of postage rate increases, the Department of Administration said today.

"That's a very rough estimate of what the postage bill signed by President Eisenhower will cost the state," a department spokesman said. "We can't give a closer estimate yet, not knowing the mail volume for the 1957-58 fiscal year on which to base a prediction."

He was unable to say immediately whether the Legislature would be asked to make an additional appropriation to cover the higher costs when it returns for a two-day session June 12-13.

Contractor for City Succumbs at 82

Benjamin R. Blaylock, building contractor and former building inspector for the City of Pontiac, died this morning at his residence, 275 State Ave. He was 82.

A native of Tuscola County, Mr. Blaylock came to Pontiac in 1899. He operated a grocery store before entering the building field.

Mr. Blaylock was a life member of Masonic Lodge No. 21 F&AM and Knights Templar.

Surviving are his wife, Jennie; two sons, Galen A. and Gerald L. Blaylock, both of Pontiac; five grandchildren, and a sister.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Saturday from the DeWitt C. Davis Funeral Home with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Western Open Slated for TV Coverage

The Western Open Golf tournament at Red Run will be televised Saturday from 5-6 p.m., and Sunday from 4-4:30 and 6-6:30 on Channel 7, it was announced today.

The tournament begins Thursday and will end Sunday.

The Day in Birmingham

'Y' Secretary Resigning After 12 Years on Job

BIRMINGHAM—Edwin A. Kirbert, secretary of the Birmingham YMCA for the past 12 years, has announced his resignation.

He has accepted a position as executive manager and director of the Presbyterian Village in Redford. In so doing, he will be working with the aged instead of young people.

During his years here the "Y" has grown steadily under his management. It has developed from a small office site into a well-planned new building, the second stage of which has just been completed.

Kirbert commented that the basic aims of 12 years ago, the completion and activation of a YMCA building, have been accomplished and that it is time now for "new blood" and new ideas.

"My wife and I will always be interested in 'Y' activities, Kirbert says. "We will remain residents of Birmingham and will continue our activities in the community and church life. I feel this new position offers a greater challenge for me, personally, and that the YMCA will find a new director stimulating."

Another $10,000 is needed if the Birmingham Community House is to reach its Roll Call drive goal of $50,000, Norman Weston, house board president, said.

Weston also said the House is "backing into" the idea of opening on Aug. 1 instead of on Labor Day as in the past.

Ending 33 years as a city employe, Grant Capling of 560 Watkins St. was honored at a dinner last night at Terry Lee's Restaurant.

Capling first was employed in 1925 in the water meter department. Six years ago he was made parking meter superintendent.

Capling said he intends to maintain his Birmingham residence but will spend much of his time at the family cottage on Saginaw Bay.

About 30 members of the Police Department and city officials turned out to bid him farewell. They presented him with a clock radio, an electric skillet and a worn-out meter money bag.

At a special meeting last night, the Bloomfield Hills City Commission approved a $240,000 budget for the 1958-59 fiscal year. There was no public opposition. A proposed road paving program was tabled for more discussion.

Distribution of a booklet, "Know Your Town," compiled by the Birmingham League of Women Voters, is being completed.

Local and county government is explained in it, along with the several municipal services available here. There are sections on education, history, finance, voting, library and city recreational facilities.

Four new members have been named to the board of the Friends of Baldwin Public Library. They are James L. Cameron Jr., Uri B. Grannis, Mrs. Herbert D. Hunter and Mrs. John St. Clair.

DONALD J. ENNIS

Service for Donald J. Ennis, 39, of 2740 Thedford St., Bloomfield Township, will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Trinity Lutheran Church in Utica. Burial will be in Forest Lawn Cemetery, Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Ennis died Monday evening at the University Hospital in Ann Arbor after a brief illness. The body will be at the Milliken Funeral Home in Utica until noon tomorrow.

A master plumber, he had been associated with his father in the Ennis Plumbing and Heating Supply Co., Rochester.

Surviving are his wife, Eva; a son, Donald Jr.; three daughters, Janet, Maxine and Susan, all at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ennis of Utica; two brothers, Earl and Raymond, both of Utica; two sisters, Mrs. Maxine Bender of Los Angeles, and Mrs. Doris Bianco of Utica.

Few Delegates Filed for County Conventions

Final count at County Clerk Lynn D. Allen's office this morning showed that only 172 Democrats and 166 Republicans had filed petitions for delegates to Oakland County conventions this August.

★ ★ ★

"This represents just over half of what both parties can send to their conventions," said Allen.

★ ★ ★

One delegate from each party is elected Aug. 5 to represent his or her voting precinct in the conventions which will be held between Aug. 13-25. There are 294 precincts in the county.

★ ★ ★

For those precincts not having a delegate submit a petition, one will be chosen at the conventions.

★ ★ ★

Bank Pays Out $3,750 on Bogus Check Here

A "certified" check that proved to be bogus cost the Pontiac State Bank $3,750.

Turris McCully, a cashier at the bank, told the Pontiac police that a man representing himself as Pat Mann presented the check on May 24 at the branch located at 1305 Baldwin Ave.

★ ★ ★

Human Frailty Prevents Timely Cancer Checkups

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — Modesty, fear and stinginess are among the chief reasons both men and women fail to get cancer checkups until it is too late, American Cancer officials report.

★ ★ ★

There are many who will "spend money for club memberships, bright skirts, a new automobile, bottles of bourbon, but will not spend the dollars necessary for a complete physical checkup," society vice president Clifton R. Read said.

About 28 million of U. S. citizens suffer some form of chronic disease or a physical disability handicap.

Most infants have blue eyes because the pigment which determines the eventual color of the eyes does not develop until after birth. The time factor in this change is variable.

Is Stevenson Thinking About 1960 in Making Amends With Truman?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Harry Truman should have added one more item to his stock of reading matter on that Mediterranean cruise.

He should have with him, to read and relish, the text of a speech delivered last week in Chicago by Adlai E. Stevenson.

In it, Stevenson seemed to be trying to make amends for the slights and indignities which Truman thinks he suffered at Stevenson's hands in the 1952 presidential campaign.

That was the year Truman hand-picked Stevenson to be the Democratic presidential nominee, and what happened?

What happened is set down in plain words in the second volume of Truman's memoirs. There are paragraphs of real praise for Stevenson in that book, and for some of his campaign performance.

The praise goes flat, however, under pressure of other Truman paragraphs of which these two are a sample:

"But, Stevenson's attitude toward the President (Truman) whom he hoped to succeed was a mystery to me for some time, and I believe Stevenson made several mistakes.

"Whether this was due to the urgings of his advisers or bad information or perhaps to the contagion other good citizens were suffering as a result of reading the anti-Democratic press, I do not know.

"The first mistake he made was to fire the chairman of the Democratic National Committee (Frank E. Mckinney of Indiana whom Truman had put in that job) and to move his campaign headquarters to Springfield, Ill., giving the impression that he was seeking to disassociate himself from the administration in Washington and, perhaps, from me.

"How Stevenson hoped he could persuade the American voters to maintain the Democratic Party in power while seeming to disown powerful elements of it, I do not know."

There was more, adding up to evidence that Truman felt that Stevenson was brushing off the Truman administration as unfit and unclean. Truman also faulted Stevenson for failing to cooperate with the big city Democratic machines — for a slip of the tongue in which Stevenson had referred to "that mess in Washington!"

★ ★ ★

The then President felt that Stevenson had failed to come out fighting against Richard M. Nixon's 1952 campaign charge that the Truman administration was soft on Communism.

That must have hurt Stevenson's powerful sponsor as much as the manner in which the nominee waived the President out of the campaign picture.

Averell Harriman in 1952, was the only 100-per cent-I-love-Truman candidate among the Democrats. But Truman would have none of him in 1952.

Four years later Truman shell-shocked the 1956 Democratic National Convention with a Harriman-for-president effort designed basically as a stop-Stevenson movement.

He might have gotten away with it, too, but for the political maneuvering of AFL-CIO's Walter P. Reuther who practically single-handed broke the 1956 convention deadlock in Stevenson's favor.

Perhaps, even, Stevenson is think-of all of that in Chicago last week when he went out of his way in a speech to pay the highest kind of tribute to Truman's presidency.

Perhaps, even, Stevenson is thinking about 1960 and a third presidential nomination. Stranger things have happened.

And if Stevenson has such a thing in mind it would be good for him now and hereafter and continuously to speak well of Harry S. Truman.

Presbyterians Molding Two Churches Into One

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Those historically scrappy Presbyterians patch up an old fuss today—and mold two churches into one.

They're forming "the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A.," which becomes the fourth largest body in American Protestantism.

Twin processions of robed delegates marching to a common rendezvous point will symbolize the emerging of the two strands of their tradition.

The ceremonies will be climaxed by sharing of the Lord's Supper.

Joining forces are the United Presbyterian Church and the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., with a combined membership of more than three million.

It marks the end of a breakup that started more than 200 years ago in Scotland, and has erupted in various cleavages since then.

The union also is the latest in a series which has brought several once-separated Protestant groups back together.

Dr. Montgomery, in a sermon prepared for the worship service consummating the merger, said: "The quest for unity among the people of God is one of those really wide horizons and great tasks and manly disciplines of life to which we must continue to be dedicated in the united church.

"It is the quest that has led us to become one."

The Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., popularly referred to as Northern Presbyterians, also includes some Southern churches, as well as congregations throughout the rest of the nation—a total of 8,489.

The United Presbyterians, strongest in Ohio and Pennsylvania, have 973 congregations. Together, the merged denominations include 9,462 churches.

Dr. Montgomery said "we shall hope and pray" that the quest for unity "may be in the lifetime of many of us bring about our union with our fellow Presbyterians in the Southern church."

There are eight other relatively small Presbyterian bodies.

Three Pilots Killed as AF Jets Collide

CLOVIS, N.M. (AP) — Three pilots died yesterday in the collision of two Super Sabre Jets over Cannon Air Force Base.

A two-seater F100F and a single seat F100D collided while the F100F was making an emergency landing.

The dead were identified by the Air Force as Capt. William R. Gilmore, 30, Interlaken, N.Y.; Lt. William R. Jarmon, 24, North Arlington, Va.; and Lt. Leslie Ikeda, 23, Honolulu. Gilmore and Jarmon were in the two-seater.

The base said the F100F was at a "pretty low altitude" making an emergency landing approach because of radio failure.

Dead Policeman's Wife Cleared of Manslaughter

DETROIT (AP) — Mrs. Shirley Cusenza, 25, was acquitted yesterday in the fatal shooting of her policeman husband.

Recorder's (Criminal) Judge Paul E. Krause said there was no evidence to show that the Detroit woman ever held the gun that fired the fatal shot.

Mrs. Cusenza's husband, Paul, 30, died Dec. 31, 10 days after he was wounded by a bullet from his service revolver.

Mrs. Cusenza was charged with manslaughter.

Takes Talent to Be Java-Taster

Work One Long Coffee Break

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Life is just one long coffee break for a group of workers here, but the boss doesn't mind.

Lloyd Cummings, chief tester for a company here, says recruiting testers is a matter of trial. "We can ask a man if he wants to try. Then it takes a long time just to find out if he's going to be able to do it."

It takes at least two years, Cummings said, before a tester feels confidence enough in his own judgment to attempt to classify a coffee.

The job is made harder because the testers have to master a private language necessary to describe the subtle differences in plantation lots. Regular English doesn't provide enough variations.

Testers "cup" every lot of coffee coming into the building just before it goes into the blend of various types that make up the final product. They also spot check the production line.

Coffee is "cupped" by steeping a half a tumbler of ground coffee in boiling water for three minutes. This goes into cups on the rim of a giant lazy susan. The testers use spoons to sample each coded cup, taking a mouthful with a noisy gush of air to spray the liquid over taste buds. Then they spit it out in a king-sized spittoon. Swallowing would temporarily hurt the efficiency of their taste buds.

The test is complete when all agree on classification of each cup.

Seeking to Draw More Industry Into Michigan

CHEBOYGAN (UPI)—The president of the Northern Michigan Development Council today appealed to all northern Michigan communities and organizations to seek industrial prospects among summer vacationists.

Myrton Riggs, who is publisher of the Cheboygan Daily Tribune as well as head of the development council, said many new industries have been located in the area through summer vacation contacts in the past.

"Every community should, through a special committee or some existing organization, follow every possible lead," he said. "It will not hurt to take industrial prospects on a tour and provide them with facts regarding sites, buildings, labor supply, raw materials and other economic factors."

Pox, Measles Down in City, Up in County

Compared to the previous week, chicken pox and measles were down in the city last week and up throughout the county while the number of mumps cases was up in the city and decreased in the county, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, health director.

French Crisis Disturbs NATO

Some of our military men are urging that we prepare for possible disaster by gradually moving major North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) installations from France to West Germany and Holland.

The whole Western defense system both political and military is based in France. Paris is the headquarters for NATO. Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers Europe (SHAPE) is at Versailles and all NATO operations from Norway to Turkey are controlled by SHAPE. Near Fontainebleau is the headquarters of the military force assigned to the defense of Central Europe.

Major NATO air bases are scattered around France, some of them operated by Americans. Oil pipelines from port cities branch out across France to storage tanks from which NATO planes and machines are supplied. A number of the pipelines go on to American bases and airfields along West Germany's eastern front.

The main U.S. Air Force depot at Chateauroux is one of five American military supply depots in France. U.S. forces attached to NATO operate major port facilities at Le Havre and Marseilles. More than one billion dollars has been spent in France on facilities used by Western troops.

From reports on the current grave crisis it would appear that Frenchmen are more concerned with politics than with preserving a free world. In a country with 300 political parties, 10 of them major, co-operation seems to be considered an infringement on individual rights. The Fourth Republic is so constituted that the chief executive has no real authority and the nation is governed, more or less, by a squabbling National Assembly. As constituted the political system is not a working democracy. It's a government without a head.

★ ★ ★

If a rightist regime should come to power in France, the whole idea of a mutual Western defense might be overthrown. If French Communists should control any future government, the Russians would know all NATO's plans.

What happens in France affects the whole world.

EVEN if we could do it, which many doubt, it would be much harder to spend ourselves out of the recession than it was to spend ourselves into it.

Exchange Programs Help Understanding

Cultural exchanges between the United States and Russia are being speeded up under an arrangement made last January.

The Russians, of course, finance their cultural missions out of government money but Americans going there have to be privately financed. For instance, a Rockefeller grant sent the Texas pianist, VAN CLIBURN, to Moscow where he won the $1,000 Tschaikowsky prize. However, the Moiseyev Russian dancers who are currently making a highly successful tour in this country, are financed by their own government.

The Amateur Athletic Union brought the team of Russian wrestlers over here. With the money it made, the U.S. all star basketball squads were sent on a successful tour of Russia. Our Institute of International Education arranges student exchanges. But perhaps the most startling of all plans is an agreement to exchange delegations of steel men.

Last year about 2,500 Americans went to Russia and it is estimated that they spent $2.5 million. This is a good source of foreign exchange. Furthermore the government charges admission to all the exhibitions and makes money on every show. Maybe that is why Premier KHRUSHCHEV is so enthusiastic about cultural exchanges.

One may be sure, however, that it ties in with Russian foreign policy. Americans can only hope that every little visit may result in a better understanding of this country and, most important of all, a somewhat less controlled Soviet press.

It is the largest and best appointed camp of its kind in the Pontiac area and around 1,000 Scouts from Oakland and Macomb Counties enjoy its summer facilities each year.

The charge is $18.50 for each period of six days. Each camp period starts at two o'clock Sunday and ends at 1:30 on Saturday. The camp opens on June 22.

For those who wish it, the opening period can be extended over two weeks. Reservations still are open for most of the periods.

Many improvements have been added at the camp since last year, including a chapel and many other features. The Camp Director will be

Gerald Black,

and the camp will be under competent supervision in every way. Enrollment can be made through scoutmasters.

David Lawrence Says:

Court Cracks Down on Picketing

WASHINGTON—When a "picket" line blocks a worker from entering a factory, his right to work is interfered with and anyone naturally assumes that state laws provide a remedy. Yet, when the Supreme Court of the United States renders a decision to that effect, as it did this week, it becomes first-page news and is a matter of general surprise.

LAWRENCE

The reason is that the Supreme Court in recent years, in decision after decision, has upheld the immunity of labor unions from punishment for most of the abuses which have caused nationwide complaint. Now that the court has ruled that, when a worker—even though not a union member—is prevented from entering the factory where he has a job, he may recover money damages from the union not only for lost pay but for any worries caused thereby, the pendulum has swung back in picketing cases to where it ought to have been for many years.

The court decided the case by a vote of 6 to 2, as one justice didn't participate. The dissenting opinion, however, written by Chief Justice Warren and concurred in by Justice Douglas, really contains a most interesting revelation.

The chief justice says that the man who was kept from working should not have been allowed to sue in a state court and that "there is a very real prospect of staggering punitive damages accumulated through successive actions by parties injured by members who have succumbed to the emotion that frequently accompanies concerted activities during labor unrest."

It is amazing that the chief justice would be willing to deny complete relief to an injured worker just because the precedent might thereafter be bothersome or annoying or costly to labor unions.

Such solicitude is understandable when uttered by a labor partisan, but it is surprising when it comes from a member of the highest tribunal, which is supposed to be impartial and primarily concerned with the law as written and not its political or economic consequences.

Curious reasoning is also revealed when the chief justice asks: "Must we assume that the employer who resorts to a lockout is also subject to a succession of punitive recoveries at the hands of his employes?" The answer is that every employer has always been subject to damage suits for violation of any contract and will continue to be if his "lockout" is in violation of a valid contract with a union.

There is no doubt that the majority opinion of the Supreme Court will have a salutary effect on picketing as it lately has been practiced in America. Here is how Justice Burton, who wrote the court's opinion in this case, describes what unhappily has become common practice in labor disputes:

★ ★ ★

"Such pickets . . . by force of numbers, threats of bodily harm to Russell and of damage to his property, prevented him from reaching the plant gates. At least one striker took hold of Russell's automobile. Some of the pickets stood or walked in front of his automobile in such a manner as to block the street and make it impossible for him, and others similarly situated, to enter the plant."

★ ★ ★

This is a familiar story. It happens usually with the sanction of union leaders. But Chief Justice Warren isn't preoccupied with what unions must do to discipline their members and to abolish "goon" tactics. He is more concerned that the court's decision might hurt unions financially—which, of course, should be a deterrent in itself. He writes:

"By reason of vicarious liability for its members' ill-advised conduct on the picket lines, the union is to be subjected to a series of judgments that may and probably will reduce it to bankruptcy, or at the very least deprive it of the means necessary to perform its role as bargaining agent of the employes it represents."

One wonders why the chief justice isn't as concerned with the plight of the employer against whom costly strikes are inflicted.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Allergic? Best Fortify Diet With Calcium, Vitamin C

Hippocrates, 400 B.C., described idiosyncrasy (a susceptibility, peculiar to the individual) to cheese.

Prior to 1905 the very word allergy was unknown.

DR. BRADY

Up to the late 30s, most cases of allergy were unrecognized as allergy.

Since the early 40s, smart-cracking Americans have been "allergic" to so many things that the term has lost its significance.

★ ★ ★

Bearing in mind that we do not know the nature or cause of the peculiar sensitivity called allergy, let us stipulate that in most instances these complaints are allergic:

Watery nasal drip
Machine-gun sneezing
Hyperesthetic "rhinitis" (temperamental coryza)
Pseudo or spurious "sinusitis"
Recurring hives
Chronic eczema (salt rheum)

In many instances these complaints are allergic:

Giant hives (angio-neurotic edema)
Asthma

In some instances, good physicians maintain that migraine (periodic sick headache) and ordinary neuralgic or nervous headache is a manifestation of allergy.

If the subject interests you, I have a pamphlet, "Relief for Allergy," which is yours for the asking if you will kindly provide a stamped envelope bearing your address. If that's too much bother I'll say here that in the pamphlet I advise the individual with any kind of allergic sensitivity to—

1. Follow a high calcium diet and supplement the diet with a good daily ration of calcium and D, to prevent allergy.

2. Be sure to get plenty of vitamin C, preferably in fresh fruit or freshly expressed fruit juice.

3. Use potassium for emergency relief—in lieu of adrenalin (adrenal gland hormone) to relieve allergy.

It is my belief, take it or leave it, that the underlying cause of allergic sensitivity is—here we go again—calcium deficency, and calcium deficiency is widespread in Yankeeland, thanks to our namby pamby diet.

Why does one with allergic sensitivity need more vitamin C than others? Well, if I may hem and haw about it, for one thing, in the healthy body, vitamin C is concentrated in the adrenal glands.

★ ★ ★

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Tells Advantages of Socialist Party

In an engine the dynamic impulse is the spark. In a capitalist society, the prospect of private profit is the spark. When this is absent, society recognizes the legal right of private owners to close up shop. This produces decay and human need midst potential plenty.

The idea grows that humanity's need must become the spark. The sanity and enduring dynamism of the Socialist Labor party program is derived from gearing the nation's production potential for abundance to the wants of humanity through the mechanism of democratic socialist industrial unionism, thereby releasing the today poverty fettered capabilities of the race.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

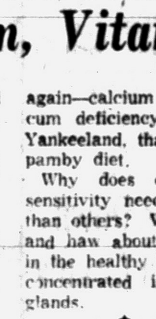
Have Children 18-24 Months Apart

Norma wants to know how near together her babies should be in age. Read the answer below, for children help educate children when they are close enough in age to hold mutual interests. And send for the booklet below so you will learn how to space your babies properly.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE Y-321: Norma J., aged 23, is an attractive housewife.

"Dr. Crane, we are expecting our first baby in six months," she began, "and we'd like to have several more children.



DR. CRANE

"How long should we wait between them? My mother thinks it would be best for me to avoid having any more for several years.

"What do you psychologists think about this problem?"

As a rule, children exert the most influence on each other if they are about 18 to 24 months apart in age.

That throws them close enough to have somewhat similar interest. They then play together and help entertain each other.

If you let a gap of five or six years intervene, the oldest child is so far removed from the next in line, that the two have few common interests.

"But don't children quarrel more if close together in age?" Norma asks.

Yes, that is true, but quarreling is very good for children. That may seem wrong to many people at first glance.

But it is only through conflict and differences of opinion that toddlers learn to compromise and share and become civilized.

When you sharpen a hoe or ax with an emery wheel, sparks fly. In much the same fashion, when personalities are smoothed down by social contacts, it is inevitable that verbal sparks will often fly.

And it is thus very desirable to have the social smoothing off occur in childhood, instead of after the wedding day.

For the new husband or wife may not be willing to put up with as many verbal "sparks" as will a toddler's parents and brother or sister.

WHET YOUR WITS

"Dr. James," he was once asked, "how does it happen that you children are all such brilliant people?"

"Well, if that is true," Dr. James modestly replied, "then it comes from the fact that we whetted our wits on each other's.

"For we all sat around a large dinner table. And Father encouraged free debate. If one boy advanced an idea, another soon took an opposing stand. And the resulting debate was sharp.

"So we just whetted our wits on each other's."

That case shows you the value of having children close enough in age so they can not only play together, but also argue together.

Modern wives can easily space their families much as they wish by use of the "rhythm theory" or the thermometer test for the ovulation date.

The usual time for conception is around the 15th day prior to the onset of the next menstrual period, regardless of whether a wife is on a 21-day, a 28-day or a 35-day cycle.

"MIDDLE" CHILD

Moreover, until you have at least three children, you have not experienced the full variety of personality types in your home.

The oldest child has a distinctive outlook. He is usually the introvert. He is more shy and inclined to daydreaming. He also hoards his possessions.

★ ★ ★

The middle child in a series of three is very different. He is more the extrovert. He learns to manipulate his parents by his wails so he gets them to help him wangle toys from the older child.

But the youngest adds some different traits. He tends to be spoiled by his parents. And he gets some extra spotlighting because he is the last.

So send for my booklet "Facts About Pregnancy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It shows how to space your babies.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

UPI Official Denies Merger Is Monopoly

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Lyle C. Wilson, vice president and Washington manager of United Press International, has denied a senator's charge that consolidation of two major wire services could confront small newspapers and radio stations with "an absolute monopoly" of national news.

★ ★ ★

In a letter to Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), Wilson said Kefauver's statements about the competitive situation in the press association field were "inaccurate and misleading."

★ ★ ★

Wilson said creation of United Press International would intensify rather than reduce competition in the press association field because it now "challenges a strong competitor (Associated Press) with physical facilities and human resources which are more nearly equal than ever before."

3 Million Now Wear 'Contact' Eye Lenses

NEW YORK — The Better Vision Institute reports that nearly 3,000,000 Americans now are wearing contact lenses to correct their vision deficiencies compared with 200,000 in 1950. Women wear 67 per cent of the contact lenses now in use. Sixty per cent of the feminine wearers are between the ages of 15 and 25, while 35 per cent are between 25 and 40.

Must Be Financially Liable

New State Laws Tighten Up on Drivers

By HAROLD S. COHEN

A number of acts of the 1958 State Legislature which is currently recessed affect police enforcement and the general public.

Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley calls the following new laws and amendments to existing laws to the public's attention:

Public Act 23 now prohibits the dagling of ornaments or other objects on car windows which obstruct the driver's view.

A person convicted three times within 10 years of drunk driving shall be guilty of a felony under Act 113.

Act 155 now requires motorists to be financially liable for $10,000 for injury or death of one person and $20,000 for injury or death from one accident plus $5,000 property damage.

A merchant who catches a suspected shoplifter shall be exempted from damages resulting from mental anguish as well as punitiave, exemplary or aggravated damages unless he tried to use unreasonable force in detaining the suspect, or detained him an unusual length of time or acted with unreasonable disregard for the suspect's rights. This is Act 182.

Another amendment makes it mandatory for drivers to stop for school buses even when going in the opposite direction. The bus drivers must signal traffic to proceed before resuming motion and keep as far right as possible.

The two-way stop provision does not apply inside incorporated cities or villages.

It is now a misdemeanor under an amendment to Act 58 to willfully and knowingly make a false report of a bombing or a threat to bomb to any person other than a police officer. It is already a crime to make a false report to the police.

Under Act 97, it is now a felony for a parent or gardian to torture a child, with a penalty of up to 10 years in prison.

A new policy setting up a point system for bad drivers was enacted which says that if one accumulates 12 points in two years the Secretary of State may suspend your license to drive.

Under the system manslaughter, drunk driving, failing to stop at the scene of an accident, and reckless driving are six - point offenses. Speeding 15 miles an hour over the limit is four points, other speeding, three points, disobeying a traffic signal, three points and other moving violations, two points.

Anyone applying for a driver's license shall be photographed and shall pay 25 cents for the picture which will be placed on the license. Also another 25 cents will be added to the cost of the license. This makes an original license $3.50 and renewal $2. It will go into effect this fall.

Orders Speedup on Missile Plan

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today ordered a speedup in missile and antisubmarine warfare programs. It did so in recommending $38,310,561,000 in new cash for defense in the coming fiscal year.

★ ★ ★

Approving $113,614,000 more than the Defense Department had asked, the committee vetoed administration plans to reduce the strength of the National Guard, the Army Reserves and the Marine Corps. It also provided funds for nine new missile-launching nuclear submarines instead of the five proposed by President Eisenhower.

The committee allotted $2,732,985,000 for research and development, including 510 million dollars for space research.

All the recommendations are subject to House action next week.

Here are the amounts the committee recommended, for the fiscal years starting next July 1, for the office of the secretary, interservice activities, Army, Navy and Air Force, compared with funds appropriated this year:

Office	$536,050,000	$16,350,000
Service	796,900,000	682,375,000
Army	8,617,626,000	7,264,550,000
Navy	11,042,210,000	10,216,355,000
Air	17,317,755,000	16,320,220,000

Eisenhower asked a big increase in funds for the office of the secretary of defense, with the bulk of the request earmarked for the new Advanced Research Projects Agency.

The committee voted to authorize the Army to use 425 million dollars of its stock fund money for regular activities, and the Navy to use 16 millions from a similar fund. Stock funds are revolving accounts built up from sales of uniforms and miscellaneous supplies and equipment.

The new cash, if finally approved by Congress, will give the Defense Department $47,805,000,000 to obligate during the coming year, counting an estimated carryover of about 7½ billion dollars from current year appropriations. The department plans to spend about 40½ billions during the 12 months.

4-6 Pct. to Research

NEW YORK — America's pharmaceutical manufacturers spend more than $100,000,000 a year on research, plowing back an average of 4 to 6 per cent of their gross income into the hunt for new or improved drugs.

Prisoners Enjoy Fashionable Life in South Pacific

Not only in Tonga (where the regular meals and good treatment that prisoners get in jail attracts more and more natives) but elsewhere in the South Pacific jails can be fun, apparently.

Rev. A. C. Hobson, a minister in Western Samoa, tells of going to see an Australian who was in jail for 12 months there "for muddling some accounts he was responsible for."

★ ★ ★

The prison in Samoa is a large plantation six miles from Apia, he said, and added: "What a surprise to find him residing in his own bungalow within the enclosure.

"He whistled for his servant and told him to bring tea and scones for his guest."

More Visit Alaska Peak

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — Attendance for the first 10 months of 1957 at Mount McKinley National Park totaled 10,647 persons compared with 5,194 for the like period the year before. The huge gain was attributed largely to the building of new roads, which made the tourist attraction more accessible.

Probation Violator Gets Prison Term

A Pontiac man, who last year was placed on five-year probation in the fatal stabbing of another man in a Waterford Township dump, has been sent to prison for violating his probation.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty sentenced Elmer S. Martin, 34, of 264 N. Saginaw St., to serve from 2 to 15 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan at Jackson.

Martin was convicted of manslaughter last November in the death of Joseph Compeau, 27, of West Bloomfield Township. Martin admitted the stabbing in the dump on Cooley Lake road on June 1, but claimed it was self-defense.

Judge Doty set aside the probation sentence, handed down when the jury recommended leniency, when Martin this month was arrested for being drunk and disorderly.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Theater manager Walter Gardner said he sent his doorman to a bank with $200 in bills to exchange for quarters. The doorman never came back.

Arkansas Mulls Death Penalty for Blackbirds

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Arkansas agriculture officials are investigating the blackbird to determine whether to shoot him for his crimes or spare him for his deeds.

★ ★ ★

Arkansas grain farmers lose millions of dollars annually because of the hungry bird. Yet, the blackbird devours many types of harmful insects and perhaps saves the farmer more this way than he costs the farmers with his appetite for grain.

★ ★ ★

State officials and the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation have joined to make a survey and determine the extent of damage to rice, grain, sorghum and small grain farmers. They believe that a reasonably authentic estimate of the state's losses will lead to an extermination or, at least, a control program.

★ ★ ★

Blackbirds are protected under the Migratory Bird Treaty Act, which also provides that they may be destroyed if found to be seriously damaging any agriculture crop.

U.S. Cars Top Others in Mexican Sales

You see lots of European models darting in and out of the increasingly heavy traffic, but the Fords, Chevrolets and Plymouths still dominate.

There are several reasons.

All car imports are on a quota basis and American companies, which have long led Mexico's market, are holding to their percentages with government backing.

Mexicans like the flashy American car, the gaudier the better. Americans may complain of flair and fins, but Mexicans ask for more.

Power and driving range are important in a country where service stations are sometimes 100 miles apart and many major highways circle 10,000-foot mountains.

Also the larger car is preferred by many who like to pack a family of 10 into the machine for a picnic or a trip. Thousands are converted into buses and taxis.

For economic reasons the quota has been cut sharply. This year it stands at around 35,000 cars.

General Motors, Ford and Chrysler all have large assembly plants here. They get about three-fourths the quota. Sutdebaker, Rambler and Packard account for much of the balance.

European makes trail. Fiat, assembled here in its new plant, probably accounts for five per cent. Volkswagen is next.

Mexican dealers beg for more cars.

"We could sell nine times as many as the quota allows," said a Ford representative.

But the government, to save its dollars, says no.

The duty amounts to around 110 per cent. Any of the lower-priced three cost almost as much as a small Cadillac in the United States.

★ ★ ★

The official import total actually is deceptive. Mexico really buys more than 35,000 cars. One newspaper recently estimated that 45,000 more are brought in annually by individuals — through special privileges or by smuggling.

Believes 15 Counties to Need Welfare Aid

LANSING (UPI) — At least 15 outstate Michigan counties will need additional state help with their welfare programs during the next fiscal year, State Welfare Director Willard J. Maxey said today.

Maxey said he expected the 55 million dollars appropriated by the legislature for the 1958-59 fiscal year to be about eight million dollars short of needs, despite the fact that the figure was about eight million higher than the appropriation for the current fiscal year.

He said Kent and Muskegon counties were especially hard hit and both would probably spend all their available funds for welfare, including state aid, by next month and would have to turn to the state for help.

Maxey said he had anticipated an average welfare load of 31,600 cases and about 24,000 aid to dependent children cases but these estimates were low.

★ ★ ★

From Little Rock High School

First Negro Receives Diploma

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Central High School awarded a diploma to a Negro for the first time last night in an orderly commencement, protected by 220 city police and federalized National Guardsmen.

Shortly after the ceremony the soldiers left the school area, perhaps never to return. They will be defederalized tomorrow.

There were no incidents at the floodlit stadium.

"I'm happy that's all over," said Ernest Green, the lanky 16-year-old Negro who made history. "I'm going to New York to live it up."

Green said a New York hotel restaurant union had invited him to spend a week's vacation there beginning June 12. He said he hopes to enter Michigan State next fall and embark on a law career.

★ ★ ★

Last night Green sat impassively with 601 other seniors on the football field. As he received a diploma and congratulations from Principal Jess W. Matthews an almost inaudible murmur was heard among the 5,000 spectators.

Green arrived in a taxi and walked unescorted to the meeting point of seniors. Detectives escorted him to another taxi after the ceremony.

About 100 policemen took positions throughout the stadium. Some 120 guardmen occupied the school building and the underside of the vacant stadium wing where they were out of sight. All traffic around the school was blocked off when the commencement began.

After Green got his diploma there was an exodus from the stadium of newsmen and spectators who apparently had come to see him be graduated.

Several teen-agers had showed up at the gate with counterfeit entrance tickets. They were turned away.

For the first time in recent years there was no formal speechmaking at the commencement. Instead, the seniors presented a choral reading, "The Story of Arkansas."

The only reference to the unprecedented school year, marked with opening violence, was made by class president Ronnie Hubbard in a short statement.

★ ★ ★

"Ever since September we have been in the world spotlight," he said. "We have met the challenge with humility and have produced a school spirit stronger than ever."

Only one student, polio-crippled Robert Van Shaw, received an individual ovation. Shaw's classwork was done by means of an intercommunication system between home and school.

Gov. Orval Faubus called out guardsmen last September to prevent nine Negroes, including Green, from entering Central High.

★ ★ ★

Later President Eisenhower federalized the entire Arkansas Guard and sent paratroopers to enforce court-ordered integration at Central. The number of soldiers on duty gradually dwindled to the present force.

4 Surviving Dionnes Mark 24th Birthday

MONTREAL (AP) — The four surviving Dione quintuplets are 24 today but any plans for birthday celebrations are their secret.

The girls — Annette, Cecile, Yvone and Marie—all live in the Montreal area. But efforts to reach them or persons close to them for information about their birthday plans have met with no success.

This is the girls' fourth birthday without Emilie, frailest of the five, who died Aug. 6, 1954, during an epileptic seizure.

Two of the sisters now are married, Annette to Germain Allard, a University of Montreal student, and Cecile to radio technician Philippe Langlois. Friends said several weeks ago that Cecile is pregnant.

★ ★ ★

Yvonne and Marie have been sharing an apartment in downtown Montreal, but reports circulated that they were no longer living together. Their whereabouts are not known to the local press, however.

Only Extra Care Can Cut Toll

Traffic Will Kill 350

★ ★ ★

The council's predicted toll is for the period from 6 p.m. (local time) Thursday to midnight Sunday. The 350 estimate is about 50 more deaths than would be likely if the period were not Memorial Day weekend, the council said.

The council said that the estimate could be kept lower "if a large enough number of motorists and pedestrians use more care and judgment than they do habitually."

★ ★ ★

An estimated 40 million cars will be on the highways during the 78-hour holiday period, the first extended weekend of the spring season.

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Rock 'n' roll singer Elvis Presley, his flowing locks gone and his guitar swapped for a tank, is headed for Germany.

★ ★ ★

This central Texas fort said Presley finishes basic training Saturday and will go into advanced training here after a two-week leave.

★ ★ ★

After eight weeks of advanced training as a tank crewman, he will undergo six weeks of basic unit training.

This phase ends Sept. 20 and he will be sent to New York for embarkation to Germany.

Unable to Identify Body Found in St. Clair River

SARNIA, Ont. (AP) — Provincial Police said they have been unable to identify the body of a man found Sunday in the St. Clair River near Walpole Island.

A check of missing persons files in Ontario and Michigan yielded no clues. An autopsy showed the man was stocky, between 40 and 45 and probably had been in the river since January.

Fighting Flares Anew in Tripoli

By TOM MASTERSON

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Intense fighting flared again yesterday in Tripoli, the Lebanese Mediterranean seaport where the little Middle East nation's crisis began 19 days ago.

★ ★ ★

Eyewitness reports said two members of the forces opposing pro-Western President Camille Chamoun were killed and 12 wounded. The opposition fighters reportedly tried to break out of the old Moslem quarter where they have been blockaded and the government's security forces forced them back.

Skirmishes also were reported in Halba, in northeast Lebanon. In central Lebanon security forces threw a cordon around Baalbek, held by rebellious Druze tribesmen.

★ ★ ★

Opposition leaders last night rejected the government's offer to solve the bitter crisis by pledging that Chamoun would not try to amend the constitution so he could serve a second six-year term. The President's known ambition to continue in office, which under the present constitution he must quit Sept. 23, has been a major issue in the recent violence in which more than 200 have been killed.

★ ★ ★

At U. N. headquarters in New York, the Security Council dodged an East-West debate on Lebanon's charges that the rebellion had been fostered by President Nasser's United Arab Republic. The Council agreed unanimously to take up the Lebanese complaint, then postponed discussion of it until after the Arab League Council considers the Lebanese charges at a meeting over the weekend.

Complete Big Drydock

PUERTO CABELLO, Venezuela — A large concrete drydock, capable of handling ships up to 30,000 tons, has just been completed at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela's second port. The $12,000,000 dock can accommodate tankers up to a length of 759 feet, a beam of 111 feet, and a depth of 40 feet.

Length of the U.S.-Mexican boundary is 2,103 miles.

Civil Service Unit Eases Discipline With Romance

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Let romance temper discipline.

So decreed the Michigan Civil Service Commission yesterday in reinstating a state hospital attendant fired for courting a convalescent patient he later married.

Dr. W. W. Dickerson, hospital chief, fired Lockwood March 1 after twice forbidding him to continue the courtship, which he said had a detrimental effect on medical treatment.

Lockwood and the former patient were married April 11—one day after her discharge from hospital care.

Tax Limitation Waterford Issue

Voters Will Decide on Continuing Five - Mill School Assessment

In the annual school election June 9, Waterford Township voters will be asked to continue an increase of five mills in tax limitation for school operation.

Superintendent William Shunck, who has been presenting explanatory talks to various organizations, yesterday gave the Waterford-Drayton Rotary club members a comprehensive report on what it would mean to the school system if the voters turn down the proposition.

He said that the question of continuing the tax limitation of $5 per thousand of equalized assessed valuation, is not an increase over the present tax limitation, nor is it a bond issue.

Voters approved a similar proposition in 1954. It is this tax measure which the Board of Education is asking Waterford Township residents to continue for another five years.

There are now 10,400 pupils enrolled in the school district and records show there will be some 1,200 kindergartners starting school in September. Only 300 seniors are graduating in June.

The 1958-59 school operating budget calls for 3½ million dollars, which includes the five mill tax now in use.

If the proposition should fail, it would mean a loss of $400,000 in school operations, Shunck said.

He explained that two alternatives remain. With the principal part of the budget earmarked for payroll operations, either the teachers would have to take a salary cut or each teacher would have to crowd more pupils in each classroom.

Memorial Day Weekend to See No Road Work

LANSING (AP) — All highway construction and maintenance operations except for emergency work will be suspended as a safe driving measure over the Memorial Day weekend, the State Highway Department said today.

★ ★ ★

Bridge and road construction work on all highways open to traffic will be halted at 12 noon Thursday until Monday morning. Contractors have been notified they will not be allowed to move any equipment on or across state highways during this period.

The department said all temporary and regular routes have been put in condition for safe travel.

Pontiac City Affairs

OK Repaving Telegraph

State Highway Department plans for repaving Telegraph road from W. Huron street to James K boulevard were approved by the City Commission last night.

★ ★ ★

The city already has set aside $11,500 in gas and weight tax money to pay the local share of the total cost. Now it must begin setting special assessments to cover a portion of that share.

★ ★ ★

Hearings will be scheduled after City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn submits cost estimates.

The total cost of the project is estimated at about $45,000, with the city paying about one-fourth and the state and federal governments the rest.

When the project is completed this summer, it will mean that the three-mile stretch of Telegraph around Pontiac's western city limits has been completely improved in the past four years.

A hearing on $103,113 in special assessments for another State Highway Department project, the widening of Perry street (M24), has been scheduled for next Tuesday.

Commissioners received assessment rolls for Perry street last night, but held up rolls on another project involving a new sidewalk on Cherry court until next week.

Four residents questioned the wisdom of improvements now, since the street is included in the proposed urban renewal project.

Another hearing saw approval of a new water line along the north side of Featherstone road from Kenilworth avenue about 300 feet west.

Commissioners set June 23 as th date to open bids on new insurance policies to cover city owned vehicles and workmen's compensation for sanitation workers.

Traffic Victim's Wife Sues 2 Algonac Bars

PORT HURON (UPI) — The widow of a man killed in a traffic accident March 17 near Algonac filed a $100,000 damage suit yesterday against two bar owners, charging they served the driver of the death car liquor before the mishap.

★ ★ ★

The victim, John Rezeppa Jr., 39, of Pearl Beach, was struck and killed by a car driven by Lawrence E. Fradette of Algonac. Mrs. Delphine Rezeppa filed a circuit court suit yesterday against two Algonac bars. Police ruled the death involuntary manslaughter.

Speedy Jet Fighter Takes Light Run

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A 56-foot two-seater jet fighter designed to fly faster than twice the speed of sound was given a light shakedown run yesterday.

★ ★ ★

The plane, built for the Navy, reportedly will fly faster and farther than any craft the Navy has.

Chief test pilot Robert C. Little of the McDonnell Aircraft Corp., took the twin-jet F4H-1 to 40,000 feet in a 20-minute test and remarked, "The Navy will be proud of this one."

★ ★ ★

He didn't try any speed runs. The needle-nose plane will carry air-to-air missiles and also is capable of taking nuclear bombs on a long haul.

What's a Steamroller?

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — Dennis Lurvey fell off his bicycle and into the path of a five-ton steamroller. The steamroller backed over the 9-year-old boy's foot before the driver could stop. Dennis was rushed to a hospital. But doctors couldn't find any injuries, other than a few scratches and bruises.

Has 2 Husbands Now, but She's No Bigamist

She plays Danny Thomas' television wife. Yesterday she and stage producer Randolph Hale, 47, were married at the North Hollywood home of TV producer John Guedel, who was best man.

Both had been married previously.

A really tactful person never gets himself into a situation where he has to use tact . . . When a woman goes on a drastic diet, she often has two objections in mind — to keep her girlish figure and her boyish husband.—Earl Wilson.

House Tentatively Kills Alaska Statehood Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House yesterday tentatively killed the Alaska statehood bill. It voted 144 to 106 to strike the bill's enacting clause.

★ ★ ★

It was a teller vote in which members pass down the chamber's middle aisle to be counted for and against a proposed amendment. The vote is subject to possible reversal today when a roll call vote is to be taken.

★ ★ ★

Indonesia Army Claims Capture

Says 30 Rebels Killed, Big Arms Store Nabbed as Celebes City Falls

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The Indonesian army command today claimed its forces have recaptured Parigi, in the Central Celebes, killed 30 rebels and captured large quantities of arms.

The communique added that loyalist forces were attacking Djailolo, on Halmahera Island, and had killed 70 rebel defenders.

The communique made no mention of the situation at Gorontalo, in the North Celebes, which the rebels claimed to have recaptured last week after killing 400 loyalist troops.

The air force gave newsmen a preview of the first MIG and Ilyushin planes delivered to the Sukarno government by Iron Curtain countries. Reporters watched two MIG jet trainers from Czechoslovakia take off from a Jakarta airfield and went for a ride in an Ilyushin converted transport.

An air force spokesman said the Ilyushins cost $250,000 each, payable over 10 years compared with the three-year period demanded by Western nations.

Meanwhile, an American civilian pilot captured when he bailed out of a rebel bomber was reported undergoing medical treatment in Jakarta.

★ ★ ★

The pilot, identified as Allen Lawrence Pope, 30, of Miami, fractured a thigh when he bailed out near Ambon Island and landed in a cocoanut tree.

$25 Bond for Best Display Here

It's Time to Fly Old Glory!

If you are not in the habit of flying Old Glory around your home, now is the time to start, suggests Lynn D. Allen, Oakland County Clerk.

★ ★ ★

"Within the next wto weeks we have two patriotic days coming up — Memorial Day Friday and Flag Day June 14," said Allen, general chairman of the annual Flag Day celebratoin held at the Elks Ttemple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

He said the Americanism Committee of the Pontiac Elks Lodge 810 will continue their policy of awarding a $25 U.S. Savings Bond to the family which best displays the American flag.

Allen also announced that this year's Flag Day program will be held June 11 at 6:30 at the Temple. It cannot be held June 14 because of Saturday commitments at the lodge, Allen said.

★ ★ ★

He expects around 80 perosns, who during the past year, were admitted to citizenship in Oakland County. Club members, their wives and others who have become citizens in the past several years will also attend.

★ ★ ★

RIDING HIGH — Taffy, a pet rooster shown with owner Vicky Harrison, 9, of Jackson, perches on the handle bars of Vicky's bike. Popular with the youngsters in the neighborhood, Taffy likes to ride the bicycle best although he enjoys going for a stroll, especially on a leash.

Reds Will Reduce Armies

Soviet Bloc Attempting to Revitalize Economy

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

While the eyes of the world have been fastened on France, the Soviet bloc has been holding conferences on an importance beyond their usual propaganda purposes.

The first was a 12-nation meeting designed to revitalize Communist economic cooperation and put a new edge on the Khrushchev boast that they will win the cold war through economic superiority.

The second, a meeting of the Warsaw Pact countries, obviously considered military matters against the background of the need for economic cooperation and acted accordingly.

With the dual purposes of reducing military manpower in favor of production and of creating a better atmosphere, Russia announced she was withdrawing all her troops from Romania and reducing the number in Hungary.

At the same time, some of the satellites themselves are being permitted to reduce their armies. This does not include Hungary and East Germany.

Part of these reduction claims may be propaganda, but not all, since juggling of troops to keep up the strength of the small satellite armies, as Russia sometimes does with her own in the face of similar announcements, would soon be detected by the people.

Reports from the economic meeting are less specific, but indicate a new drive in which the efforts of the Asiatic and European nations will be better coordinated, at least to a degree.

There are bound to be difficulties within the Soviet bloc in trying to set up an economic community just as there are among Europeans. But the mere sitting together of the Asian and European representatives is a tip on what they are trying for.

For many years the emphasis in Communist development has been on ideology as the binding clay for their international front. This has led to conflicts, with Red China and Yugoslavia both taking some initiative in the field of Communist theory.

★ ★ ★

When it comes to fixing prices and allotting production in inter-bloc trade, which they are obviously trying to do, agreement becomes even more complex.

Nevertheless, the two meetings serve as further notice to the West of the tactics Russia is emphasizing now.

Hart Honorary Chairman of Hospital Fund Drive

Lieutenant Governor Philip A. Hart has accepted the position as honorary state chairman of the Mercy Hall New Hospital Building Fund Campaign.

The campaign, now in progress, is to raise funds to purchase the Sacred Heart Academy on Woodrow Wilson and Lawrence in Detroit and to renovate the building into a first-class, 200-bed hospital for indigent cancer patients.

The estimated cost for the building and the renovation is $2,800,000.00.

U.S. Navy Commander Completes High School

MEADVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Lt. Cmdr. C. A. Betleyoun of the U.S. Navy will be graduated from Meadville High School June 3.

Betleyoun quit school to join the Navy while he was a sophomore at Meadville in 1924.

He recently applied for a high school diploma. The school board voted unanimously to give it to him.

Voting Against Alaska Rapped

Statehood Critic Calls Congress Consideration 'Window Dressing'

By WILLIAM J. TOBIN

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Advocates and opponents of Alaska statehood, who seldom see eye to eye, stood on common ground in the vast territory today.

With uncommon agreement, they viewed a preliminary vote on the Alaska statehood bill in Congress yesterday as another in a long series of legislative moves that over the years have continued territorial status.

"All this is window dressing," said John Manders, an Anchorage lawyer who is the most outspoken resident critic of statehood. "Congress isn't going to give us statehood. All this talk is for the benefit of the folks back home."

His comments followed a House vote, 144-106, to strike the enacting clause from the 1958 admission bill that would make Alaska the 49th state.

Deletion of the enactment clause would be fatal to the bill. A roll-call vote on the motion was scheduled today, if the House rejects an anticipated move by statehood opponents to recommit the bill to committee. Even if the bill survives in the House, Senate action would have to come before adjournment if Alaska is to be a state this year.

He Claims Order Restored in Ceylon

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—Gov. Gen. Sir Oliver Goonetilleke today claimed order is being restored throughout most of Ceylon after a week of Sinhalese riots against the Tamil minority.

Gooentilleke declared a state of emergency yesterday to help the government suppress the riots. He said only two new outbreaks had been reported.

★ ★ ★

Two persons were killed near the eastern town of Batticaloa when troops fired on a crowd defying the islandwide dusk-to-dawn curfew. In Colombo three persons were injured by a grenade burst.

Troops patrolled the streets of Colombo and the government banned assemblies of more than 50 persons.

It was difficult to assess the situation because of disrupted communications in the northern district of Jaffna, where the biggest group of Tamils lives.

Forget About Science, Just Say 'I Love You'

DENVER (UPI)—A nuclear scientist told a graduating class at Colorado Women's College yesterday that the scientific approach does not work in love.

"If you take the scientific attitude and say 'Of course I love you, otherwise I wouldn't have married you,' you soon discover that the scientific approach is worse than useless," he said.

Women like to be told "I love you" without any scientific reasoning, he said.

Even De Gaulle Acts Unsure on What He'd Do

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles de Gaulle has been so vague, or just confused, about what he'd do as French premier that his bid for power is like asking the French to buy a savior at midnight in a coalbin.

The French crisis—over his efforts to get into a spot to straighten things out—is one that has truly left the experts guessing if not gasping. And no wonder.

News that the Assembly had temporarily brushed De Gaulle aside early today—by voting confidence in Premier Pierre Pflimlin—had hardly cleared the wires in this country when a startling bulletin came rattling through.

This one said that Pflimlin, despite his victory in the Assembly, was thinking of quitting anyway, that could open the door wider for De Gaulle to become premier. But although Pflimlin submitted his resignation, it was rejected for the moment, and he agreed to continue in office until a new government is ready to take over.

The most notable feature of all the interpretations of the past two weeks — written or verbal — has been the lack of postitiveness not only on whether De Gaulle could take or be given power again but what he'd do if he got it.

De Gaulle has wrapped himself in such a fog—first by his silence in recent years, and more lately by his fuzzy statements—that no one not in his inner councils could claim to know what he had in mind.

He's opened up twice in the past week: first at a news conference and then in a written statement issued yesterday. The words that came forth were so arrogant, pompous and vague that they looked mystical.

De Gaulle appears hypnotized—and so do his followers, or they pretend to be — by the memory that he was the rallying point for the demoralized French in World War II and could be again now.

In short, he's been asking the French to buy him on face value, without any clearly stated program, policy or proposed solution for the multiple dilemmas of the French republic which has seen its army in effect revolt.

For the French to buy him on those terms is really asking for trouble since they don't, and can't, know whether he has any solutions whether he could assert himself, or whether he'd be simply a front man and mouthpiece for the army.

And, since not all Frenchmen want to buy him at all, there's the prospect of civil war.

From the pomposity of his language it is clear De Gaulle has reached the point of considering himself a kind of historic monument: he talks of himself in the third person, as he might about the long-dead Joan of Arc.

To add to the confusion — not only in France but around the world—it is not known:

1. Whether he would try to take France out of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, an event which might wreck it for keeps.

2. What kind of agreement he might try to reach with the Soviet Union independently of France's Western allies.

3. What he'd do about suppressing the revolt of the Algerian Moslems, who want independence, or trying to work out some kind of settlement satisfactory to them.

Try to Tow Cars, Nearly Cause Riot

Tech security police called two wreckers yesterday to impound several cars parked on the grass between two dormitories. The wrecker drivers were greeted with catcalls aad missiles.

Keith Elkins, one of the drivers, was hit by bottles and a beer can, police said.

Police and sheriff's officers raced to the scene and had to duck bottles and listen to jeers themselves. But the officers moved the yelling students bxack into the dorms.

Williams Hopes Auto Tax Killed

Disappointed Ike Won't Support Repeal, Looks to Congress for Action

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams said he was disappointed that President Eisenhower will not support repeal of the auto excise tax and hoped Congress would kill the tax over the President's objection.

Williams told a news conference yesterday:

"I speak for all of Michigan, I believe, in expressing disappointment in the President's statement that he will not support elimination or cuts in the excise tax on automobiles.

"The sale of cars is the life blood of Michigan's economy and an important part of the economy of the entire country inasmuch as one in every seven persons is concerned with the auto industry either directly or indirectly.

"I sincerely hope that Congress will not be deterred from going ahead and repealing the tax."

An aide to the Governor aid that the 10 per cent excise amounts to $1,400,000,000 on automobiles alone and $1,830,000,0 if trucks, parts and accessories are considered.

The state legislature almost unanimously adopted a resolution in February urging repeal, and the state's Congressional Delegation, including both Republicans and Democrats, repeatedly have urged reduction or elimination of the levy.

Some supporters of repeal have estimated it would mean a $20 to $300 reduction in new car prices and stimulate sales.

East Germans Get Wage Hikes

Scrap Food Ration Cards

BERLIN (AP) — Communist East Germany today scrapped food rationing cards introduced by Hitler in 1939 and boosted the wages of over three million workers to help them pay higher food prices.

Premier Otto Grotewohl, fresh from the economic parley of Soviet bloc leaders in Moscow, decreed the long-awaited end to the rationing of meat, fat and sugar. They were the last three restricted items.

★ ★ ★

A system of graduated living allowances alos was set up aimed mainly at helping the lower income brackets. Additional allowances were specified for children, pensioners and housewives of lower paid workers.

50-Day Car Supply Reported on Hand

DETROIT (UPI)—Ward's Automotive Reports has announced there will be a 50-day supply of unsold new cars on hand as auto industry labor contracts expire this weekend.

The report by the industry's leading statistical agency means there will be only about four to eight weeks work at auto plants this summer before shutdowns for model changeover.

It explained why the United Auto Workers has ruled a strike "insane" in the lagging industry, preferring to give its members whatever work is available and keep them eligible for unemployment benefits.

Ward's reported new car buying in mid-May went up eight per cent over May 1-10, however. Ward's said May auto buying should hit 380,000, highest since January, but well below sales for May 1957.

Puerto Ricans Given Citizenship in 1917

SAN JUAN — Puerto Rico came under United States sovereignty by the Treaty of Paris December 10, 1898. The U. S. Congress provided for civil rule of the island in 1900. The original act was larrely superseded in 1917 by the Organic Act of Puerto Rico, which granted Puerto Ricans U. S. citizenship.

Gaullist Forces Fail to Unnerve Legislators

French Assembly Shows Courage

By PRESTON GROVER
Chief of Paris AP Bureau

PARIS (AP)—The French National Assembly, which has more memories of defeat than victory, witnessed a dreary but somehow courageous little drama during the night.

With Gen. Charles de Gaulle and the army's paratrooper corps almost physically besieging its quaint building, the Assembly voted defiantly to keep Pierre Pflimlin's Cabinet in office—if it would stay.

All day yesterday there were reports of paratroopers moving in the direction of Paris.

Nobody accepted the rumors for certain. But everybody knew that only 20 miles away a paratroop unit is in training.

In Algeria, 800 miles to the south, paratroopers already had hurled defiance at the Paris government.

Then Corsica was seized and De Gaulle suggested in a midnight conference with Premier Pflimlin that he should be invited to the seat of power.

Almost unanimously, the military forces have indicated they are with their World War II leader and against the government of tired and timid Pflimlin.

To protect the Assembly during its overnight deliberations, thousands of police were flung around it.

They would protect it against any civilian mob—but would they defy the paratroopers if they moved in to force the issue? The answer almost certainly was no.

"If we don't vote to bring in De Gaulle, the partroopers will be in on us," said one important deputy.

★ ★ ★

"If they don't accept De Gaulle, there'll be bloody fighting in Paris," a woman editor said.

Many a deputy thought so too.

Outside the building rain was pelting down on the ranks of police. Inside, all was light and, strangely, a little gay.

In marched Pflimlin and his Cabinet to take a front row bench. The Premier, who looks like a bank clerk, evidently wanted to quit. But the Socialists and center parties who voted him into office two weeks ago persuaded him it would be an act of weakness in the face of pressure.

Aged Socialist warrior Paul Ramadier, talking to Pflimlin and his ministers as if they were a class of college juniors, said, "The Assembly alone can relieve you of the burden of government. . . . To give in at this hour would be more terrifying for the destiny of the country. . . . You have no right to quit—even if you are in physical danger."

Even the Premier—tired to the edge of collapse by almost unending day and night meetings—seemed to stiffen.

Then came the attacks.

A deputy yelled at Pflimlin an insult so unprintable that the speaker would not repeat it in reprimanding the offender.

Jean Lipkowski, a Gaullist supporter, leaned from the rostrum to shout, "We do not believe you can master events! It is not you who is abandoning power. It is power which is abandoning you."

With clear reference to the defections among the armed forces, Lipkowski asked Pflimlin what power he had left to govern.

Service will be Saturday morning in St. Michael's Church, Muskegon.

Deaths Elsewhere

DETROIT (AP) — Leonard L. Healy president of Detroit's D. J. Healy shops and son of the founder, died Tuesday in a Detroit hospital following an illness of several months. Healy, 63, was one of Detroit's leading civic leaders.

DETROIT (AP) — Redmond W. Walsh, former manager of American Motors Corp's Kelvinator Division in the Detroit zone, died Tuesday after a brief illness. He was '66. Walsh was a native of Owosso.

DETROIT (AP) — Byron G. Pfeiffer, a man who helped put Henry Ford's first car in running shape, was buried here today.

Pfeiffer, who died at 82, and the late Ford were friends when the auto builder was working on his first car. Pfeiffer often told how he pointed out a method to Ford which would prevent oil from running out of the car's motor. He said Ford adopted the idea and the motor worked.

Pfeiffer was born in Switzerland. His parents brought him to Elk Rapids at the age of 5. In addition to being an inventor, Pfeiffer also toured the vaudeville circuit at the turn of the century as a banjo player.

'Nice Reception in England, Says Warbler Lewis

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

MONTREAL (AP)—Lionel Shapiro, 50, widely known Canadian writer, died yesterday. He started his writing career as a Montreal Gazette sports writer in 1929.

★ ★ ★

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Mrs. Alice Edna Zisemann Busch, 92, widow of August A. Busch Sr., a former president of the Anheuser-Busch, Ind., died yesterday of a coronary thrombosis. A son, August A. Busch Jr., is president of the company and owner of the St. Louis Cardinal baseball club.

SANTA MONICA, Calif (AP)—Leslie H. Savage Jr., 35, who had written 22 Western and historical novels, died Monday. Some of his novels had been adapted for the movies and television.

NEW YORK (AP)—Rock 'n' roll warbler Jerry Lee Lewis flew home from Britain today, nonchalantly chewing gum and denying he was hooted out of England because of his marriage to a 13-year-old girl. He maintained that he was treated very well there.

"Yes, sir, we had a very good reception in England," asserted the seemingly unperturbed 22-year-old singer as he stepped off a plane with his Tennessee bride. She also was chewing gum but appeared far less at ease than her husband.

Newsmen were eager to get his comment on news accounts that he was booed and called "baby snatcher" during a London theater appearance two nights ago.

"I can't agree with that," he replied, "I had a nice reception."

Asked for comment on public reaction to his marriage to a 13-year-old cousin, Lewis retorted that "I know lots of people here who are married to 13-year-olds."

Kissing his bride—his third wife—on the forehead, Lewis said "She'll be 14 in July, and I'll tell you she's a woman."

★ ★ ★

Arriving with the couple were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brown. Brown is a bass fiddle player.

Approves Borrowings

The State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday approved proposed borrowings by three Oakland County school districts.

Oak Park received permission to issue $350,000 and the Huron Valley $150,000 in tax anticipation notes, both for operating expenses.

A $500,000 bond issue by the Oxford Area School District for school construction also was approved.

Sees Nuclear Energy as Power Source

★ ★ ★

Dr. Richard F. Post of the University of California's Radiation Laboratory at Livermore, Calif., said basic experiments in taming thermonuclear energy should be completed within 5 to 10 years.

★ ★ ★

He spoke at a nuclear energy symposium at the California Institute of Technology. Fusion power, he said, would draw upon hydrogen as fuel, and hydrogen is cheap and plentiful. There is no danger of atomic accident and no atomic residue, he said.

Plenty of Picnic Foods Found on Grocer's Shelf

Good supplies of fresh produce and specials in the meat department are guides to good eating for the Memorial weekend, reminds the Marketing Information Agent.

Smoked and canned hams, frankfurters and various types of luncheon and canned meats will be emphasized as picnic fare.

Supplies of potatoes, green beans, cucumbers, radishes and green onions are increasing. Tomatoes and cabbage are in good supply. There is slightly less corn and head lettuce than a week ago.

Strawberries are in the fresh fruit limelight. Quality is good, prices are similar to those of last week. Watermelon, which is always a favorite for Memorial day, is in light supply compared to previous years. Bananas are available in good supply, remain one of the best fruit values.

MEATS — Even though pork prices continue to fluctuate, you will find all kinds of ham at special prices.

Whether you want a portion, half or whole ham depends upon the size group you plan to serve. Remember that portions have the center slices removed, will yield 2 to 2½ servings per pound. Halves will yield 2½ servings per pound. Whole hams yield 3. Center slices and canned hams yield 4.

A whole ham that is fully cooked will serve more people than one which requires cooking. A skinless semi-boneless ham will yield more servings than a regular ham with some skin and no bones removed.

Franks, bologna and various kinds of luncheon meats are being sold in several size packages. Check the number of ounces as well as the price, suggests Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Eight, twelve, fourteen and sixteen ounce sizes are most popular.

Beef, veal, lamb and fish continue at about the same prices found a week ago. Retailers report that more choice grade beef is expected within six to eight weeks. Both fryers and turkeys show price increase compared to last week. Higher wholesale costs are naturally being passed along to the shopper.

VEGETABLE OUTLOOK — Increasing supplies of new potatoes have brought prices to a new low. These new potatoes will be better for salad and scalloping than for baking. Buy what you need for a week.

You'll find larger supplies of green beans arriving from Florida and Louisiana for as much as ten cents a pound less than last week.

Salads will be easy with the ample supplies of cucmbers, radishes and green onions. Tomatoes are in good supply and prices are about like last week. Cabbage is a favorite salad maker. Now that cabbage is arriving from so many growing areas it is one of the most economical choices—about 10 cents a pound.

Make salads more interesting by using tender leaf lettuce or Boston lettuce. Both are reasonably priced. Poor growing conditions are affecting price and quality of head lettuce again.

The Florida corn season has reached its peak, but you can find good supplies for several weeks more.

FRUITS—The strawberry season is moving north with berries from Tennessee and Kentucky in the markets. Some limited supplies of watermelon from Florida and Mexico are available at about 15 cents a pound.

Banana supplies are very ample. Bananas are a good food broiled in their skins over hot coals. A picnic food already wrapped for traveling.

EGGS & DAIRY—Lots of eggs for good potato salad are available at 50 to 55 cents a dozen for the large size. Natural, processed, cottage cheese, cheese spreads and ice cream will be specially marked at many dairy counters.

GET ON THE VODKA WAGON—WITH SMIRNOFF

There's no vodka like Smirnoff! The Vodka of Vodkas is smooth and flawless. It blends with any mixer, fruit juice or soft drink . . . loses itself completely in just about anything that pours! That's why Smirnoff lets you vary your drinks—without mixing your liquors. From cocktail to nightcap, you can stay with Smirnoff all evening long. For instance:

VODKA MARTINI. Smirnoff makes the world's smoothest, driest Dry Martini. Just use it instead of gin—but follow your usual martini proportions.

BLOODY MARY. 1 jigger Smirnoff to 2 of tomato juice, squeeze of lemon, dash of Worcestershire Sauce, pinch of salt and pepper. Shake with ice. Strain in glass.

VODKA & TONIC. Smirnoff has no liquor taste—so it never "takes over" in your drink. You'll find it leaves the tonic's flavor freshened—but unchanged!

VODKA HIGHBALL. For a tall, delicious cooler, add Smirnoff to ginger ale—or any other mixer. But also be inventive. Dream up your own Smirnoff drink!

Scout Leader Held for Cruelty

Boy's Hearing Impaired by Father's Blows With Belt Buckle

DETROIT (AP) — A neighborhood Boy Scout commissioner will be charged with cruelty in the beating of his son, Assistant Prosecutor William Bolio said yesterday.

John McMillen, the boy was hospitalized for examination and police said his head, face, back and buttocks were a mass of cuts and welts. Patrolman James Apel said the boy's hearing had been damaged by blows with the buckle of a belt.

Scout headquarters said McMillen, a fire extinguisher salesman, had been a Scout leader several years and was responsible for promoting scouting among half a dozen Cub, Scout and Explorer units in his area.

Apel said he was arrested on a similar charge two months ago but was released on condition that he take psychiatric treatment.

The officer said the boy told detectives this story which later was confirmed by his father:

John came home Sunday from a camping trip at a Boy Scout camp at Lexington with his eyeglasses broken. Asked by his father what happened he first said he dropped them and later admitted he fell on them.

His father beat him with a belt. Later the boy was beaten because it took him 20 minutes instead of an allotted 15 to wash the dishes.

★ ★ ★

A third beating was administered after John came home from a movie. The father asked him why he looked upset and he answered, "I'm not too happy."

Prosecutor Bolio said the maximum penalty for cruelty is four years in prison.

Questioned by newsmen, McMillen said, "I guess I was pretty harsh."

To Arraign Pair Here on Bad Check Charge

Circuit Court arraignment on a charge of issuing a worthless $50 check in a Drayton Plains supermarket, was set for June 9 for a former Detroit auto salesman and his woman companion.

John Bradley, 28, and Gloria Ann Ryerson, alias Mrs. Gloria A. Hoover, 26, both of Detroit, waived examination yesterday before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle. They are charged with uttering and publishing.

Mrs. Hoover was released on a $1,000 bond while Bradley was remanded to the county jail when he failed to post a $10,000 bond.

★ ★ ★

The pair was returned to Pontiac this month when material for printing fraudulent checks was allegedly discovered in Bradley's car when he was stopped for a traffic violation in Cadillac.

Supplies for Corsica

MARSEILLE, France (AP) — A plane loaded with milk and medicine took off for Corsica today. The French Mediterranean island has been largely cut off from supplies in continental France since supporters of the Algiers insurgents seized power there last Saturday. But supplies have been sent from Algeria.

22 Make Cars in France

PARIS — Although there are 22 automobile manufacturers in France, the "Big Five" — Citroen, Panhard, Peugeot, Simca, and Renault — make 95 per cent of the passenger cars and 85 per cent of the commercial vehicles manufactured in the nation.

Science in Ads Blamed for Dip

M'Manus, John, Adams Official Says Approach to Buyer All Wrong

TOLEDO, Ohio—Dependence of some advertisers on the "glass crutch of pseudo-science" and abandonment of the "creative hunch" in selling has been a contributory factor to the current recession, Charles F. Adams, vice president of MacManus, John & Adams, Inc., national advertising agency, today told members of the Advertising Club of Toledo.

"All the sterile statistics in the world cannot force the consumer to want something," Adams declared. "All the motivational mumbo-jumbo, all the psychological data assembled since Herr Doktor Freud was knee high to a couch, cannot make the public's taste-buds tingle or its ego pant for a new car.

"The public doesn't care how much research went into the preparation of advertising. Nor will it buy blindly to bail the economy out of a slump. It will buy only when its basically selfish instincts, health, comfort, security and the rest, are appealed to."

Adams said he believes there is evidence of a return to individualistic creativity in advertising and selling and the replacement of psychological formulas by hard work.

Dow Chemical Plans Payroll Cut by Sept. 1

MIDLAND (AP) — Dow Chemical Co. said today it plans to lay off 600 of its salaried employes by Sept. 1.

Layoff notices already are being distributed.

Dr. W. H. Schuette, general manager of Dow's Midland Division, said the firm's current Midland employment is 12,000. Schuette said, "We expect to reduce this to 11,400 by Sept. 1."

Cool Air Scuds Rain Into Ohio and Northwest

By United Press International

A cool air invasion over the nation's north central section pushed today into the Ohio Valley and the northeast, triggering scattered showers and thunderstorms in its path.

The cool air blast ended a brief warm weather respite in the northern Great Lakes as readings dropped an average 12 degrees. Early morning temperatures ranged from the 30s in the northern lakes to the 50s near the forward edge of the cool air.

Elsewhere, generally light precipitation also occurred along the New England coast, the Southern Plains and the Pacific northwest.

Forecasters said the cool air was expected to reach into the central and north Atlantic coast states by nightfall today.

A few showers and thunderstorms broke out during the night from southeastern Missouri and northern Tennessee through Kentucky and into southern Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. Most amounts were light, although some spots in Missouri and Kentucky reported one-half inch rainfalls.

★ ★ ★

TED SMITH'S PRESENT REFRIGERATOR

Clark Kimball, manager of The Good Housekeeping Shop of Pontiac presented Mr. and Mrs. Ted Smith of 51 S. Anderson Street a new General Electric Automatic Refrigerator in connection with the activities of our First "Appliance Fair". The "Fair" ran from May 1 through May 10. It was an exceptionally good day for the Smith's because Mr. Kimball made the presentation on the Smith's Wedding Anniversary date.

CLOWNS AT PTA FAIR — Activities of most Oakland County Parent-Teacher Associations came to a close last weekend with the staging of annual PTA fairs, the big event of the year as far as the youngsters were concerned. Lending a circus atmosphere to the Eastover Elementary School fair in Bloomfield Township were these four little clowns, all pupils in the school. Expertly made up by members of the school's Boy Scout troop, the girls are (from left) Debby Rogers of 905 Eastover, Julie Spina of 3525 Squirrel Rd., Penny Stresen-Reuter of 1296 Lenox Rd. and Kathy Spina.

No Property Owners Objecting to Special Assessment Districts

ROMEO — The improvement program for Benjamin and Tillson streets was given the go-ahead Monday by the Romeo Village Council following a public hearing on setting up special assessment districts on the two street. No property owners appeared at the meeting to voice objections.

★ ★ ★

Resurfacing and installing curbs and gutters on Benjamin street will proceed as soon as final arrangements can be made. New curbs and gutters also will be installed on Tillson street this summer.

The council then voted to give $600 to the Romeo Youth and Civic Center for its proposed summer recreation program. The Little Leaguers will receive $200 from village funds.

Trustees approved the expenditure of $1,790 for a new fire pump for the Fire Department to be purchased from the Firemaster Corp., Mount Clemens.

Village Clerk Sidney J. White was named to serve on the committee planning the program for the dedication on June 7 of the new Romeo Post Office.

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Highlighting the Auburn Heights neighborhood Girl Scouts Court of Awards last night at the Avondale Junior High School was the presentation of coveted Curved Bar awards to two girls.

The highest rank that can be attained by a girl scout, the Curved Bars were pinned on Sue Ann Latendress of 640 Nichols Rd. and Norma Craddock of 3333 Rockhaven.

A flag ceremony by Troop 244 opened the program. Following was a prayer by Troop 448. While a model fire glowed, Troop 217 softly sand, "Each Campfire Lights Anew. . ."

Troops receiving awards were 73, 219, 244, 247, 217, 469, 331 and 320, of Auburn Heights; Troops 341, 421, 424, 19 and 258 of Elmwood School, Senior Troop 448 and Stiles School Senior Troop received 5-point pins, aid bars and badges.

Guest of honor at the program was Mrs. Fred Bisballe, president of the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council, who made the presentation of curved bars.

A 10-year pin in scouting was awarded to Mrs. Carlos Arteaga of 5899 Brimfield and a 5-year pin to Bettilen Hebel of 620 Nichols Rd.

In charge of the program was Mrs. Harvey Pyke, neighborhood chairman.

The University of Michigan has twice the number of students in beginning study of the Russian language than it had a year ago.

Will Concentrate on Civic, Economic Issues

Plan Federation of Bloomfield Groups

By STAN BOK
Press Correspondent

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Plans for the formation of the Federated Associations of Bloomfield Township were discussed at a meeting last night at Bloomfield Hills High School.

In attendance were two delegates from each of 36 civic associations in the township and members of the Bloomfield Township Tax Protest Committe.

The new organization is an outgrowth of the tax protest committee. It will be concerned with matters of economic and civic interest within the township, according to organizers.

Federated Associations of Bloomfield Township will officially come into being June 24 when representatives from civic associations adopt by-laws and elect officials at a meeting at Bloomfield Hills High School.

Copies of proposed by-laws were handed to delegates last night for study. Proposed changes will be acted upon at the June 24 meeting.

A board of directors comprised of 14 members will be elected as the main governing body. Present by-laws will not permit more than one board member from one civic association.

Eleven standing committees, each specializing in certain phases of economic or civic interests, will be elected.

Orion Turns Down Bid to Rezone 15½-Acre Site

ORION TOWNSHIP — The Orion Township Zoning Board rejected a request by Charles Belton to have a 15½-acre site belonging to him rezoned from residential to commercial use. In making the denial, the board said it was going along with the wishes of adjacent property owners.

★ ★ ★

Belton said he had planned to buy and sell game birds on property located between the Artco Manufacturing Co. plant and Joslyn road.

Jeanette Bowen to Wed J. R. Burman of Detroit

SOUTH LYON — Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wiedman of South Lyon have announced the marriage of their niece, Jeanette Bowen, to Joseph R. Burman.

The bride is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ashley E. Bowen. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Burman of Detroit.

Marlette High Alumni Will Gather Saturday

MARLETTE — The Marlette High School alumni banquet will be held at 7 p.m. Saturday in the high school auditorium.

This is the first get-to-gether since 1955. The classes of 1906, 1907 and 1908 will celebrate their 50th anniversary, and the classes of 1931, 1932 and 1933 hope to meet their former classmates to celebrate their 25th anniversary.

The program committee of Robert Thornton, Robert Willis and Dean Ruggles is planning a short but interesting program.

Waterford Scouts Tops

Sponsored by Christ Lutheran Church, the troop was awarded the Brown Jug for the highest rating in the two days of competition in scouting. Second place went to Troop 23 of the United Presbyterian Church in Auburn Heights. Troop 123 of St. Paul Methodist Church of Rochester placed third.

Participating in the outing were 438 scouts and 119 leaders and parents. They represented 21 troops of the Manita District which embraces northern Oakland County.

Among the activities were cooking, pioneering, use of knife and ax, rope making and knot tying, first aid and the use of the compass.

On Saturday the scouts were taken on five mile hikes. In the evening they gathered around a camp fire and presented skits as some 250 parents looked on.

NANCY ANN DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Norman R. Day of Walnut Blvd., Rochester, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Ann, to John T. Cochran Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Cochran of Peach Tree Lane, Rochester. The bride-elect attends Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo. Her fiance attended the University of Detroit where he was affiliated with Delta Sigma Phi fraternity. A Sept. 6 wedding is being planned.

Mrs. Agnes Rau Wed in Oxford to Ken Ferguson

OXFORD — The Congregational Church of Oxford was the scene Saturday night of the wedding of Mrs. Agnes S. Rau of 80 Indianwood St., Lake Orion, and Kenneth N. Ferguson of Pontiac Lake.

The bride wore an aqua ballerina gown with boufant skirt and a rolled collar which became a Grecian drape accenting a tight bodice. Her feathered cap matched. She carried a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Clifton King, daughter of the bride, was matron of honor, and Mr. King was the best man.

The newlyweds will live at 80 Indianwood Rd., Lake Orion, when they return from their honeymoon to Northern Michigan.

CAROLE SUE WADE

The engagement of Carole Sue Wade to Charles D. Boldin has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Wade of Kingston road, White Lake Township. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Boldin of Kingston road. The wedding date hasn't been set.

Students Shaken Up as Bus Overturns

ROMEO — All the Washington School pupils, shaken up when their school bus overturned, were back in school today.

Two of the bus load of students were cut by broken glass while all the others escaped injury.

William Hathcock, 14, of 13271 31-Mile Rd., Romeo, suffered a cut on his elbow, and Jesse Grimes, 14, of 13685 31-Mile Rd., received minor cuts on the hand.

The driver, Aloysius Skrzycki of 3838 Taft Rd., Romeo, told Romeo State Police he took his eyes off the road to move a broom near his feet. The next thing he knew the bus was over on its side in the ditch.

Chooses Fiery Death

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A 37-year-old brush salesman, Nelson Bloom, killed himself by sloshing the inside of his car with gasoline, tying himself inside of it and setting it afire, sheriff's deputies reported.

Rochester Considers Problem of Water

ROCHESTER—A plea for better water service has been made by residents of the Oak Bluff Subdivision, a high area on the northeast side of Rochester.

Spokesmen for the subdivision, Michael Davinich and Porter Summerfield, both of Williams road, suggested the village council either have water rationed throughout the village during dry spells or have a booster tank installed in one of the main lines.

Village Manager Paul A. York told them that an Ann Arbor firm is making a study of the water situation here.

Any immediate solution, however, would be only temporary, York said, because the state requires elevated water tanks to boost pressure. This requirement will have to be met eventually, he said.

New State Flag Waves Over Township Hall

CLARKSTON — The Independence Township Hall has a new State flag of Michigan, thanks to the Gay Twenties Extension Club of Clarkston.

The flag was presented at the township board meeting by Mrs. Donald McRae in behalf of the club. It was accepted by Supervisor Duane Hursfall.

Award Brandon Seniors

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Jeannine Brooks, Loren Mayhew and Allyn Solley, all students in Brandon Township schools have been awarded three-week music scholarships to Michigan State University. The grants were made possible by gifts from the Ortonville Rotary Club and the Band Parents Club.

Italy Returning Christian Dems

By STAN CARTER

ROME (AP)—Final election returns made plain today the pro-Western Christian Democrats will continue to govern Italy, either in coalition with the minor center parties or with their support.

★ ★ ★

The balloting Sunday and Monday for a new Parliament left the political picture about the same. The center and extreme left made small gains. The Monarchists lost heavily and the Fascists dropped slightly.

When the new Parliament meets Jan. 6, the Christian Democrats will be asked again to form a government. They have ruled since World War II.

Premier Adone Zoli is expected to step down and give Christian Democrat Leader Amintore Fanfani a chance to become premier a second time. He held the job for 22 days in 1954. Zoli, a senator, got the job a year ago because he was a less controversial figure than the party leader.

★ ★ ★

The Christian Democrats took 273 seats in the dominant 596-member Chamber of Deputies, or 26 short of a bare majority. But they can count for support on most issues from the other center parties, whose 46 seats could give the government a safe margin of at least 42.

Dem Congressman Out After 22 Years

By KYLE VANCE

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Noble J. Gregory bowed out today after 22 years of serving the 1st Dist. in Congress. He was one seniority step away from chairmanship of the House Ways and Means Committee.

★ ★ ★

Druggist Frank A. Stubblefield, backed by Democratic forces opposed to Gov. A. B. Chandler, upset Gregory in yesterday's Democratic primary by an unofficial margin of 432 votes.

The reversal was an exception in statewide voting.

Democratic Congressmen Frank Chelf and Brent Spence were renominated and Republican Eugene Siler looked like a winner.

Gregory's defeat marked the first time in state history a 1st Dist. congressman failed to win renomination. Gregory himself took over after the death in office of his brother Voris in 1936. He was re-elected 11 times.

★ ★ ★

Stubblefield will be opposed by Republican James G. Bandy of Hopkinsville in the November general election. Bandy has no opposition.

New Plane Able to Wage War Alone; Air Force Receives Initial Delivery

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. (AP)—The Air Force today received its first delivery of a new type one-man fighter bomber so lethal it could stage a fair-sized war all by itself.

Tabbed the F105 Thunderchief, the jet plane is a flying arsenal of the nation's most potent weapons — nuclear and otherwise. It could deliver a hydrogen bomb to any point in the world within a few hours.

★ ★ ★

Gen. O. P. Weyland, commander of the Tactical Air Command, and officials of the Republic Aviation Corp. gave this other data on the craft:

Capable of traveling at twice the speed of sound, it can deliver more firepower than the entire U.S. Air Force during World War II and the Korean War.

In addition to nuclear weapons, it is equipped to carry both guided and unguided missiles, clusters of rockets, 4,000 pounds of conventional bombs and napalm (fire) bombs.

It also is armed with a 20mm. automatic cannon which can fire 6,000 rounds a minute. One 20mm. shell is slightly larger than an ordinary cigar.

Bombs can be dropped from tree-level or an altitude of 10 miles with equal pin-point accuracy.

The plane's increased fire-power, mobility and versatility is expected to compensate for reduction in tactical Air Force strength made necessary by rising costs of defense.

As soon as enough Thunderchiefs can be delivered, they will be stationed at bases around the world.

The craft is 63 feet long and has a 34-foot wing span. It can carry tons of fuel internally and in five external tanks. While it cannot carry enough fuel to range the globe, it could be refueled in the air to enable it to attack a target of any size anywhere in a matter of hours.

"This is the most modern airplane of its kind in the world," said Gen. Weyland in accepting the first F105 at the Republic plant here. "It is probably the most versatile in the world today. The Air Force wants as many as it can get as fast as it can get them."

He said the F105 would not make obsolete the bombers of the Strategic Air Command but that the F105s would be integrated with them.

★ ★ ★

The general said the Thunderchief probably was the world's first plane "designed from the bottom up to do the job of a fighter-bomber," and that it embraced ideas of fighter pilots in the last two conflicts.

The first group of F105s is expected to go into service next year, he said.

West German President En Route to America

The 74-year-old President's special plane was due in Quebec this afternoon for the start of an official visit to Canada and the United States. He arrives in Washington June 4.

Moscow Cheers Musician From Philadelphia

MOSCOW (AP) — An overflow crowd cheered the Philadelphia orchestra last night at its Moscow debut. The orchestra is touring western Russia as part of the new U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange program.

★ ★ ★

Conductor Eugene Ormandy was presented with a huge bouquet after a program that included "Pictures From an Exhibition" by Russian composer Modeste Moussorgsky and American Aaron Copland's "Quiet City."

Soviet composer Aram Katchaturian welcomed the orchestra on behalf of Moscow music lovers and musicians. He and pianist Emil Gilels paid glowing tribute to Ormandy and his musicians.

All five concerts in Moscow are sold out. The orchestra gave three concerts in Kiev and will present four in Leningrad.

Begining in Kiev tomorrow, former Philadelphia conductor Leopold Stokowski will b the guest leader of Soviet orchestras for 10 performances innKiev, Moscow and Leningrad.

About 39 per cent of American eyeglass wearers use the bifocal lens type.

Push-Button Stripper Could Shock Taxpayers

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Chief Clerk Murray W. Snyder of Allegheny County appeared before the county commissioners and read a request for an "all-purpose, push-button stripper."

"What will the taxpayers think," said Commissioner Howard B. Stewart. "Read that again."

Snyder then said the request was for an "all-purpose push-button striper." It's an $8,600 machine used to paint traffic stripes on roads.

Main Issue of Our Time, Says Dulles

A-Bombs or Ministers?

NEW YORK (AP)—Which of two types of plants is to survive—the kind that turns out ministers or the kind that turns out atom bombs?

This, John Foster Dulles said last night, is the issue of our time, perhaps the issue of all time.

★ ★ ★

The secretary of state addressed a dinner of the Board of Directors of Union Theological Seminary. Afterward he and Mrs. Dulles saw their only daughter, Mrs. Lillias Hinshaw, receive her bachelor of divinity degree from the seminary.

"Out in Tennessee there is a plant which turns out bombs," Dulles said at the dinner.

"The two seem remote and unrelated.

"Actually, the issue of our time, perhaps the issue of all our human time, is which of the two outputs will prevail."

Dulles, a former member of the seminary board, is the son of a Presbyterian minister. The secretary is also a ruling elder of the Brick Presbyterian Church here.

"Our great theological seminaries, more than any other institutions, are the mainsprings of the spiritual life of our people," Dulles said.

★ ★ ★

"They are in reality the central power plants upon which men must, above all, depend not merely for their spiritual salvation, but for their material safety."

Mrs. Hinshaw, 43-year-old mother of four, follows her father's faith. Her husband, Robert, is a Quaker.

She has already passed her ordination examinations and hopes to get a part-time job as an assistant minister and be ordained in the fall.

New Industry Prospects Arrive With Summer

MARSHALL (AP) — Michigan communities interested in attracting new industries should look for them during the next three months on their own streets.

Don Weeks, director of the State Economic Development Department, told an industrial workshop that communities should search for industrial prospects among their summer visitors.

"There will be scores and scores of industrial prospects among the thousands and thousands of summer visitors," he said. "The community that wants new industry can find some of them by looking hard and selling hard."

Two Ask Reduction of Prison Sentences

ST. LOUIS (AP) — T. Lamar Caudle and Matthew J. Connelly, former Truman administration officials, have asked for probation or reduction of their prison sentences.

★ ★ ★

Both were convicted in June 1956 by a U.S. District Court jury for conspiracy in an income tax case. They were sentenced to two years in prison and fined $2,500 each.

The U.S. Supreme Court last week refused for the second time to act on their appeals.

In the petition to District Court here, Connelly claimed his family has no other source of support outside of his income as a public relations consultant. He listed former President Harry Truman and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson as character references.

Caudle's plea said he was a "victim of circumstances."

School Gives Diplomas, Then Gets Them Back

★ ★ ★

Bad weather and a flu epidemic forced North Middletown to extend the school term, but it couldn't work out a satisfactory date for commencement exercises after final examinations.

★ ★ ★

Highway Bonds Sale Approved

$100 Million Loan Will Add 250 Miles of Roads in Michigan

LANSING (AP) — Sale of 100 million dollars in state highway bonds bearing an average interest rate of 3.30732 has been approved by the State Administrative Board.

★ ★ ★

The board at a special meeting yesterday acted after the Highway Department received a single bid from a syndicate headed by Blythe & Co., Inc., and including six other bond houses.

Alfred H. Lawrence, chief of the department's finance division, described the interest rate on the 25 year bonds as "very favorable under the circumstances."

The huge borrowing, largest for highway purposes in state history, will permit a speedup in road work under the state's one and one quarter billion dollar, five year road construction program.

It will finance 245 miles of new highways to be placed under contract this year and in 1959, including some 180 miles of four lane divided construction.

Lawrence said the bond market had softened in recent days, largely because of reported plans of the federal government to refund several billion dollars in outstanding issues.

The issue will be distributed by Blythe and associate investment firms through 267 dealers across the country. The bonds carry an "A" rating. Through maturity, their interest yield will amount to nearly 45 million dollars.

Automobiles used by the White House are not the property of the presidents. They are leased to the government by the manufacturers at nominal rates because of the publicity value.

Khrushchev Rules Without Reign of Terror

(This is the third of six articles by a former Moscow correspondent on the personality and policies of Russia's Nikita Khrushchev.)

By CHARLES H. KLENSCH

LONDON (UPI)—Nikita Khrushchev today wears Stalin's two hats as party and government boss, but he's a Bolshevik czar with a difference—so far.

Stalin held Russia in the iron grip of police terror. He let the party itself deteriorate until it became a subsidiary of the MVD.

PURGE HONORS

Khrushchev graduated with honors from the bloody Stalin purge school, but unlike Stalin he chooses to rule through the Communist Party.

In 20 years as party chief of Moscow, the Ukraine and finally all Russia he built up the party power and prestige. Khrushchev put men, and women, who share his views into the top positions and made the party into a personal political machine.

When the final clash came a year ago with Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and his old mentor, Lazar Kaganovich, he didn't have to call the secret police as Stalin used to do. He went to the Central Committee, now loaded with his own picked men, and boosted the "anti-party" group.

AVOIDS SHOOTING

So far, Khrushchev has avoided shooting anyone—since Police Chief Lavrenti Beria.

Khrushchev clearly doesn't want to have to start shooting. But the man once described as "a lump of granite with clothes on," hasn't gone soft.

He bluntly warned restless Soviet writers recently:

"If the Hungarian government had shot a few writers, they wouldn't have run into that trouble (the anti-Communist revolt) . . . I might remark that in a similar case my hand would not tremble."

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev didn't denounce Stalin's reign of terror because he's become tender-hearted. His hand didn't tremble when he sent Stalin tanks to crush Hungary. But he believes naked police rule has outlived its usefulness.

He's offering the carrot instead, on the theory that Russia can develop into a modern, efficient state only if it's given a larger measure of controlled freedom.

★ ★ ★

Most Kremlinologists would agree, and not just because he runs the most powerful political juggernaut ever assembled.

WINS AFFECTION

After the august pomposity of Stalin and the relative drabness of Malenkov and Bulganin, Khrushchev carries off his self-proclaimed role as a man of the people with an infectious and convincing air.

He boasts the standard ingredients for a successful presidential candidate. He was born in a log cabin, and he displays the inspiring virtues of the self-made man, a sort of Communist Horatio Alger.

Khrushchev even has a politically "correct" family.

His shy, stylish wife, Nina, is a short, heavyset woman with drab hair and a motherly, peasant face. She dresses inelegantly in black or dark blue dresses. At Kremlin receptions, she mixes quietly with the wives of the other top Soviet officials who generally observe the pre-Bolshevik Russian tradition that a woman's place is in the home.

Khrushchev's two daughters also keep out of the public eye. The older, about 23, is married to the editor of Komsomol Pravda, the Young Communist newspaper. The younger is studying languages at Moscow University.

Sergei Khrushchev, who is in his middle twenties, is an engineer and accompanied his father to Britain in 1956. Khrushchev's first-born son was a pilot in the Red air force and was killed over Germany during World War II.

There is one facet of Khrushchev's personal life that probably would be turned against him if he were politicking in the U.S.—and that is "another woman."

The precise relationship between Khrushchev and Ekaterina is, of course, not known to the public, but their careers have been closely linked since 1950. Only a few months after Khrushchev took charge of the Moscow party apparatus, she was named second in command.

When Nikita became over-all party boss, she stepped into his Moscow post—the first woman to hold such an important position in the Soviet Union. She accompanied Khrushchev on this trips to Prague and Peiping, and in 1956 the Soviet leader shattered precedent again by making her a member of the ruling Presidium.

A political pundit surveying Khrushchev as an election candidate would have to give him the benefit of the old political axiom that "you can't beat somebody with nobody."

For the moment, at least, there's no opposition candidate worthy of the name. Khrushchev has political enemies among the bureaucrats whose private preserves he has whittled away to boost the power of the party men. He has long been at war with the chair-borne corps.

But bureaucrats, industrial managers, army officers and the other members of the Soviet middle classes have seen their own stalwarts squashed by the cunning proletarian.

Today, the Soviet middle class is asking the same question that worries the West: "What next, Nikita Sergeevich?"

If the carrot fails, how long can Khrushchev put off using the whip? And once he became the naked autocrat, who's going to restrain him?

★ ★ ★

It's still too early to judge how effective his new Kremlin team will be in checking his stubborn streaks of impulsiveness and unpredictability.

Sir David Kelly, former British ambassador to Moscow, points out:

"With all Stalin's suspicions and bloodthirstiness, one had a relative certainty—based on his own record and character—that he would always act with prudence and caution.

"We are far from having, as yet, the necessary experience to feel similar assurance about Mr. Khrushchev."

China Adopting New Phonetic Alphabet

WASHINGTON — China's recent adoption of a phonetic alphabet follows by more than 500 years a similar reform in Korea.

But ancient cultures fade slowly. Korea's ingenious alphabet, which is considered to be one of the most perfect phonetic systems ever devised, has gained widespread use only since the end of World War II.

And China has no intention of abandoning its poetic, precise, incredibly complex system of ideographs or characters. However, the use of a Latin alphabet will enable the translation of those thousands of characters into 26 letters known and accepted all over the world.

Chinese authorities apparently have concluded, as did a great Korean king of old, that character writing retards mass education. It also runs counter to the demands of modern communication. Telegraphing in China, for instance, requires putting each character into code.

Mankind has no greater benefactor than the unknown genius of the Syro-Palestinian Semites who first conceived alphabet writing, the National Geographic Society says. All true alphabets—Greek, Latin, Runic, Hebrew, Arabic, Cyrillic (Slavic), Brahmi and Korean—descend from it.

Korea's 24-letter alphabet is a striking cultural achievement in its own right. It is especially versatile and easily romanized. The word "football," for example, can be transliterated precisely into Korean. It would come out "futoboru" in Japanese.

TCP adds Anti-Miss to anti-knock

Save gasoline! Get back 20 to 30 horsepower lost by spark plug "miss." It takes only 2 to 3 tankfuls of Super Shell with TCP.

If your car just isn't making the grade—yet you can't put your finger on the cause—you're probably losing power to spark plug "miss."

It can steal 20 to 30 horsepower from your engine—even if your car is new—after as little as 2000 miles of driving.

Misfiring happens when harmful combustion deposits build up on your spark plugs and short-circuit them. With plugs "missing," you lose power and waste gasoline.

TCP* additive stops spark plug "miss" by neutralizing these harmful engine deposits. It restores lost power and saves gasoline, too.

What's more, Super Shell has higher octane so that engine knock is no longer a problem. TCP adds anti-miss to anti-knock to give all the power any car was designed to deliver.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research.

'Used by Hollywood Stars'

Los Angeles Firm Cans Smog for Sale to Visitors

LOS ANGELES (AP)— In this zany city anything can happen. When it does, somebody usually makes money on it.

★ ★ ★

There are days, for instance, when you can see men waving empty tin cans in the air. They do this when it's smoggy. After a few swipes at the murky atmosphere, they clap lids on the cans.

SMOG CANNED

You'd swear they were canning smog.

They are.

Once sealed and labeled, the cans are packed for shipment by the Los Angeles Smog Corp.

The firm claims it has two aims — to turn a profit for its founder, a 52-year-old actor named Carleton Young, and to help rid Los Angeles of smog. While it hasn't won any prizes on the second, it seems to be making out on the first.

MAKE MONEY

How can you make money out of smog? Young's idea is to sell the cans as souvenirs of Los Angeles.

"To insure freshness and purity, keep container tightly sealed."

The canned smog is sold at such tourist attractions as Disneyland and the Farmer's Market and at joke shops. Firms holding conventions in Los Angeles are big buyers.

Young, who has appeared on radio, television and in the movies and served as producer and director as well as actor, says he is more interested in the second of the company's two goals than the first.

★ ★ ★

"Gad," he recalls choking out one day as he peered with streaming eyes at the smog-draped city, "If only we could pack this stuff up and ship it someplace."

All that remained was to draw up the articles of incorporation.

Public Speech Club Recesses for Summer

A new club designed to aid county employes in the art of public speaking recessed for the summer last night after three successful trial months.

★ ★ ★

The organization, known as OCMSIA (Oakland County Men's Speech Improvement Assn.), meets every two weeks and trophies are handed out to the best speakers at each meeting.

★ ★ ★

Trophies can be kept for only two weeks at a time, but last night's winners will keep their trophies for thre months, until the first club meeting in September.

Host of the evening was George Williams, business director at the Oakland County TB Sanitarium. Winner of the Table Topic Award was John Witherup, county personnel director.

Gerald Terrien, justice court coordinator, walked off with the Five Minute Speech Award. The group now numbers 25 and they are shooting for a maximum of 30 members.

Hired Farm Hand Gets Record Wage

CORVALLIS, Ore. (INS) — Wage rates for hired farm workers are now at record highs in the United States.

★ ★ ★

According to a survey by Mrs. Elvera Horrell, extension agricultural economist at Oregon State College, farm wage rates advanced faster than rural living costs in both 1956 and 1957. The result is that the traditional "hired man" down on the farm had greater buying power than at any time except in 1945 and 1946.

German Envoy Hails Relations With America

WASHINGTON (INS) — German diplomat Heinz L. Krekeler believes that progress in the cultural field is a cornerstone of the present good relations between his nation and the U. S.

The ambassador, who has just left Washington after representing his country eight years in the U. S., stressed that the most lasting effects of the German-American progress since the end of World War II are the cultural advances.

In an interview prior to assuming his new duties as a member of the five-man Euratom Commission, Krekeler expressed great satisfaction over the way in which full U.S-German diplomati crelations have been resumed.

Furthermore, he said that relations between the United States and Germany are better and more extensive than at any time in history.

In addition to common defense cooperation through NATO, the ambassador said, economic relations have progressively improved, there is closer cooperation in trade than ever existed before and exchanges of know-how are at an unprecedented high level.

Krekeler came to New York in 1950 as the first German Consul General after the war, a year later, he was transferred to Washington as charge d'affaires. He became ambassador in May, 1955.

Make Own Money to Solve Necessity

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Francis Warren Adams and Clifford P. Rowe needed money and so they made it. Trouble was the Secret Service caught up with them.

★ ★ ★

The pair of counterfeiters were seized when State Trooper Donald Gibbons stopped their car near Springfield because it had only one license plate. Gibbons saw Adams stuff something under the front seat.

★ ★ ★

Gibbons found $2,340 in bogus bills and $620 in genuine money under the seat. Both men signed written confessions. Adams told officers he made about $15,000 of bogus money in $10 and $20 denominations using a multilith process in a basement workshop.

Small Quake Recorded

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A moderate earthquake, 75 miles south of San Francisco, was registered at 4:09 p.m. yesterday on the University of California seismograph. There were no reports of damage.

Smelling Out Pigeons

BOSTON (AP)—Boston University has purchased 300 pounds of mothballs to chase pigeons from Bil Field (once Braves Field).

No Need for Fishing

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—More than 1,200 trout, bound for streams, died on a highway yesterday when a State Fish Commission truck and a furniture truck collided. Spectators took all they could carry home for dinner.

A weather bureau on a national basis was established in 1870 as a part of the U. S. Army signal corps.

Visits to Grandmother Stay Precious Forever

Fishing from the bridge over a small stream at the home of their grandmother, Mrs. Ernest R. Breech of West Long Lake road, is a favorite pastime of Kathy and Kim Breech. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Breech of Franklin road. Four more grandchildren live in Pacific Palisades, Calif., with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest R. Breech Jr.

By MARY ANGLEMIER

Grandmothers are something special and somehow the shining eyes of children always reflect the wonder of a visit there.

★ ★ ★

We heard a little 8-year-old girl say she picked flowers at her grandmother's and put them in every room. "Then we played Old Maid and I See Something You Don't See," she said.

And from a woman in her 30s — "My brother and I used to put on shows in the living room when we were lucky enough to stay all night at grandmother's. And she always gave us just what we wanted for breakfast — fried mush."

REMEMBERS FARM

A grandmother beyond 50 years told us, "On my grandfather's farm the hens laid eggs in the hayloft and all around the barnyard. My grandparents let my sister, brother and myself gather the eggs and play with the farm wagons.

"At the whistle of a train, we raced down the lane and perched atop the rail fence to wave at the engineer and passengers."

In talking with mothers, fathers and grandparents we hear of all the funny antics and lovable ways of boys and girls. Recently we ran across two articles written by Alan Beck for a national magazine. They are entitled "What Is a Boy" and "What Is a Girl." Here are some of his observations:

WHAT IS A BOY

Boys come in assorted sizes weights and colors. They are found everywhere — on top of, underneath, inside of, climbing on, swinging from, running around or jumping to.

Mothers love them, older sisters and brothers tolerate them, adults ignore them, and Heaven protects them.

★ ★ ★

A boy is Truth with dirt on his face, Wisdom with bubble gum in its hair and the Hope of the future with a frog in its pocket.

★ ★ ★

A boy has the appetite of a horse, the digestion of a sword swallower, the curiosity of a cat, the lungs of a dictator, the imagination of a Paul Bunyan, the shyness of a violet, the audacity of a steel trap, the enthusiasm of a firecracker, and when he makes something he has five thumbs on each hand.

★ ★ ★

A boy is a magical creature. You can't lock him out of your heart or out of your mind. He is your captor, your jailer, your boss, your master — a freckle-faced pint-sized bundle of noise. But when you come home at night with only the shattered pieces of your hopes and dreams, he can mend them with two magic words — "Hi, Dad."

WHAT IS A GIRL

Little girls are the nicest things that can happen to people. They are born with a little bit of angel-shine about them and though it wears off sometimes, there is always enough left to lasso your heart — even when they are sitting in the mud or parading up the street in your best clothes.

A little girl can be sweeter (and badder) oftener than anyone else in the world. She can jitter around, and stomp, and make funny noises that frazzle your nerves, yet just when you open your mouth, she stands there demure with that special look in her eyes.

★ ★ ★

God borrows from many animals to make a little girl. He uses the song of a bird, the squeal of a pig, the stubbornness of a mule, the antics of a monkey, the curiosity of a cat, the spryness of a grasshopper, the slyness of a fox, the softness of a kitten and to top it all off, He adds the mysterious mind of a woman.

Club Set Plans for Holiday

Pontiac area country clubs have planned special events for members over the holiday weekend. The swimming pool at Birmingham Country Club will be opened for the season on Friday and members will be invited to enjoy mixed golf events.

Family activities and a special Decoration Day dinner menu are planned at Forest Lake Country Club, while Oakland Hills Country Club junior members and adults have been invited to a dinner-dance.

Oakland Hills swimming pool will be opened Friday, and on Saturday evening members will don formal attire for the club's white coat dinner-dance.

★ ★ ★

Bloomfield Hills Country Club will have no special holiday events — however, members will be able to enjoy a bit of golf and relaxation at the club.

Women of Pine Lake Country Club will begin the holiday a little early with a fashion show today.

Three-year-old Jane and 4-year-old John Cvengros play the piano and sing when visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Louis H. Schimmel of West Iroquois road. John also likes to follow his grandfather around and help with the gardening. Mr. and Mrs. Jack H. Cvengros of Eileen drive are the children's parents.

Miss Tennant to Wed Aug. 8

Rush of Parties in Bloomfield Hills

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Mr. and Mrs. Roy G. Leitch Jr. and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Getsinger have invited guests for a "Recession" dinner party this Saturday in the Leitch home on Lone Pine Hill.

Guests will not know just how the idea will be carried out until they arrive at the Leitch home.

HONOR MARIA RISING

Mrs. Richard L. Campbell gave a luncheon and shower today for bride-elect Maria Rising. Maria arrived home from Harvard University last week, and will attend another party to be given for her Sunday evening when her hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Cahn.

Her fiance John McKenzie of Appleton, Wis., will receive his master's degree at Dartmouth over the weekend and will come immediately to Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. David R. Burton has invited them to a small dinner with Maria's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rising of Martell drive, Monday evening at Orchard Lake Country Club.

Mr. McKenzie and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Basil F. McKenzie, will drive over from Appleton to attend a cocktail and supper party Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Wellman will give this evening and another dinner party which Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Welty and their son, Peter, will give June 5 in their home in Burning Bush road.

Friday June 6 Mrs. L. L. Colbert has planned a brunch for members of the wedding party and out-of-town guests, and that evening Mr. and Mrs. Rising will give a buffet supper party after the rehearsal.

Maria and John will be married at a morning service at Holy Name Church June 7 and a reception and wedding breakfast will be given at Bloomfield Hills Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin Jr. of Franklin and Mr. Martin's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Martin of Grosse Ile, have invited friends to a cocktail party June 20 at The Old Club, St. Clair Flats.

Nancy Mae Schumann, daughter of the Oscar A. Schumanns, and Leroy J. Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kelley, were married Saturday evening in St. Trinity Lutheran Church.

MR. and MRS. LEROY J. KELLEY

Nancy M. Schumann Wed in St. Trinity Ceremony

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar A. Schumann of Dell Rose drive, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Kelley of Trumann, Ark.

For the occasion, the bride wore a floor-length gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over bridal satin. The dress featured a portrait neckline accented in appliqued lace, a fitted bodice and long sleeves. The full tulle skirt was trimmed with a band of lace.

Her fingertip veil fell from a cap of lace, flowers and seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white carnations and rosebuds.

Sister of the bride Sally June Schumann, of Cleveland, was maid of honor. Other attendants were Linda Bretzloff of Bay City, Karen Sampson and Constance Haaseth. The bridesmaids carried bouquets of yellow and aqua carnations.

John Edgar Such of New Kensington, Pa., served as best man. Ushers were Donald Hagadone, Warren Cassidy and Edmund Knittel, both of Detroit.

★ ★ ★

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. After a trip through the east, the couple will live in Detroit. For her going-away costume, the bride wore a blue knit dress with white accessories.

★ ★ ★

You Are Behaving All Right

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am a 23-year-old college student and am in love with a young man who goes to the same college. He shares an apartment with two other friends. I have been going to his apartment to parties and on occasion, to dinner.

"Even though I never go there alone, my aunt and uncle, with whom I live, object to this as they do not think it proper for young people to be left alone in an apatment, unchaperoned. I cannot see any harm in it as long as there are others present. Will you please give your opinion?"

Answer: Assuming that you all behave correctly I see no reason why you together with other young people may not go to the apartment of these three young men unchaperoned. To go alone would be another matter.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Neither my husband nor I drink alcoholic cocktails, but we like tomato or clam or fruit juice ones every much. What does one say to find out what is in a cocktail?"

Answer: At the house of a friend ask frankly, "What is in this?" If asked why you want to know, say, "Because neither John nor I can take alcohol." It is more tactful to say "can't" than "won't."

In the house of a stranger either refuse or taste it carefully and if you do not like it, hold the glass in your hand for awhile and then quietly put it down.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Would it be improper for a guest, who is not a member of either family, to wear flowers to a wedding reception? I have been told that only members of the families wear corsages. Will you please tell me if this is true?"

Answer — No, anyone who wishes to, may wear flowers.

Romans Object to Restaurant in Colosseum

ROME (INS) — Rome's ancient Colosseum may go into the restaurant business — and a lot of Romans are having ulcers over the project..

Plans to install a hot plate eatery inside the historic arena have aroused esthetic-minded Romans who feel that it would desecrate and commercialize the place. .

They point out that use of the Colosseum for wrestling events during the 1960 Olympics has been ruled out and feel such a ban should apply to commercial establishments as well..

ROBERT J. DEATRICK

To receive a B.S. degree in civil engineering from Michigan College of Mining and Technology is Robert J. Deatrick. Exercises will be held June 15. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Deatrick of South Marshall street.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Pierpont of Detroit, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ratz of Lounsbury street.

The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of lace and taffeta with an orchid corsage. Mary Ellen Kirkendall of Garden City was maid of honor. She wore a mint green dress of dotted swiss over taffeta. Her flowers were yellow carnations.

Best man was Robert A. Menninger of Detroit. William Pierpont of Detroit was usher.

No Substitute for Cleanliness

Although old-time beauty advice was seldom based on scientific knowledge—and some of it makes us shudder today—one bit of counsel culled from the 18th Century has a modern ring.

"Every house should make some provision for a bathroom," it reads. "Nothing is so conducive to health and beauty as the bath . . . if there is no bathroom, a sponge bath can be substituted."

To this sound advice, 1958 beauty experts add a fervent amen!

Warm Sun Clears Back Blemishes

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Many times pimples and blackheads mar the beauty of an otherwise lovely back. The most usual reason for these is the inaccessibility of this region of the body. We cannot reach all of our back unless we use a long handled bath brush.

★ ★ ★

Without regular scrubbing the little oil glands may become clogged with oil and dirt. This leads to blackheads and pimples. Therefore one of the best preventatives or remedies is a daily, soapy cleansing of the skin of the back.

Of course pimples anywhere on the body may come from infection from diseased teeth or tonsils or sinuses or other sources, from poor elimination or the wrong sort of food, from constipation or allergies. If you will rid yourself of these handicaps, drink plenty of water, get a lot of sleep and exercise and outdoor life and use a long handled bath brush, you probably will banish these skin defects.

Since oiliness is often an underlying cause of blackheads and pimples, sunbathing is most helpful. Those women who have blemishes on their backs should take advantage of this during warm weather. Expose your back to the sun for a few minutes each day. This will aid your outer coating as well as your health. Many women who have skin trouble of this kind during the winter find that it clears up during the summer months.

Also, remember that vitamin deficiency has an effect on your skin. If you eat rich heavy devitalized food and neglect your fruits and vegetables, you may have trouble.

BEND OVER

Here is another corrective exercise for fat across the back. Stand erect. Bend over until your trunk is at right angles to your body. Let your arms and head drop forward toward the floor. Keep your trunk in this position as you pull as far to the right as you can with your left shoulder.

Return to forward position. Now pull as far to the left as you can with your right shoulder. Return forward. Continue, alternating right and left. Do this VERY slowly, taking time for the pull.

If you would like to have my leaflet "Round Shoulders — Flat Bust — Reverse!" send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Tomorrow: "Hairlines and Hair are Part of Beauty Scheme."

The old bouffant petticoat will not do, but trapeze slips under gently flared or gored skirt will bring newness to last year's skirts.

Trapeze slips are emerging to prop the line of trapeze suits and dresses. Two layers of net over taffeta shape the trapeze line of slips which will give the new silhouette look to any gently flared or gored skirt.

If you give some youngster a cuddly bunny, or other take-to-bed animal, be sure that you don't give dangerous germs as well.

Cinnamon Sugar Ribbon Flavors Coffee Cake

BY JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Why not treat the family to homemade coffee cake on Memorial Day? Everyone will get up for breakfast if they smell your baking. Sour cream makes this cake really tender.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Harold Abrams says this recipe has been in her family for many years. She loves homemaking and enjoys cooking, sewing and knitting. She is active in the Sisterhood at her temple and in the Hickory Grove PTA.

SOUR CREAM COFFEE CAKE
By Mrs. Harold Abrams

¼ pound butter or margarine
¼ cup vegetable shortening
1 cup sugar
3 eggs
1 cup sour cream
2½ cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream shortenings, add sugar and beat in eggs. Sift dry ingredients and add alternately with sour cream. Pour half the batter into a greased 10-inch tube pan.

Mix 3 teaspoons cinnamon with ½ cup brown sugar. Sprinkle half of this mixture over batter. Cover with remaining batter and sprinkle rest of sugar-cinnamon mixture over top. Bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees.

Running Hot Water Possible Outdoors

Better 'Table' the Indignation

by ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I had a coffee table in my house and my sister-in-law admired it and admired it and admired it? I finally took the hint and gave it to her. Then she turned around and SOLD it to her sister.

ABBY

"I don't care about the few dollars, but I think this was a cheap trick. I want to buy it back from her sister, but my husband says to forget the whole thing. Should I?"

BOILING OVER

DEAR BOILING: Your sister-in-law used extremely poor judgment. If I were you I would forget it and charge it to experience.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: The man who thinks he gives his teenage son an allowance that is "MORE THAN PLENTY" sounds just like my father. Some fathers forget that times have changed since they were teenagers.

"If a boy wants to take a girl to the movie and buy her a hamburger and a malt afterwards, he can't do it on 50 cents like his old man did. Will you please remind MY father and the fathers of other teenage boys that the cost of living has gone up.

LIVING MODERN

DEAR LIVING: The father who is paying the grocer, the butcher, the dentist, the doctor, the insurance man and the tax people doesn't need ME to remind him that the cost of living has gone up.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: My problem is a young woman who works for my husband. She is 26 years old and has already been through two husbands. She drives her own car to work all right, but my husband has to follow her home in his car after work to be sure she gets home safely.

"She invites him in for a cup of tea (he has ulcers so I don't have to worry about it being anything else) afterwards. Sometimes it is 7:30 before he gets home for dinner. Do I have to put up with this?"

PATIENT WIFE

DEAR PATIENT: You don't have to. So why do you?

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I came across an old Japanese magazine and it says that you should take some salt (about one tablespoon) wet it a little and rub it where you want to reduce. Some people might think it is a joke, but my stomach was coming out for long time and now it is getting smaller."

K. F. J.

DEAR K. F. J.: I don't see how this could possibly work. Unless, of course, you rub the salt on your stomach INSTEAD of eating desserts.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband has had four children by his first wife and three by me. He is a good man and was fully divorced before I met him. I raised his children and they are as dear to me as our own.

"The problem is that I get along fine with his ex-wife. She comes here and we have meals together and visit like old friends. My neighbors say I am completely insane for allowing her in my home. They said if I were normal I would call her names and pitch her out my front door. Are they crazy or am I?"

FRIENDLY

DEAR FRIENDLY: You are certainly normal in my book. There should be more people like you and less like your neighbors.

Pat Nixon Is True Helpmate to Dick

(This is the third of four articles in which a famed Washington reporter describes the life and romance of Mrs. Richard M. Nixon.)

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A nation-wide television audience first glimpsed Pat Nixon as the slim, self-effacing girl who hovered behind her husband while he accepted the tumultous cheers of the Republican National Convention in 1952.

Her second TV role was equally low-keyed. While the GOP vice presidential nominee fought for his political life in the now-famed "checkers" speech, the cameras switched occasionally to the tense young wife who sat immobile in the studio chamber.

Before and since those dramatic occasions, Pat Nixon has listened quietly through thousands of her husband's political addresses. Never by so much as a stifled yawn has she indicated that she's heard it all before.

"Bored?" she asks in wide-eyed amazement when friends suggest such heresy. "Why no! Even though I do hear Dick discuss the same issues sometimes 10 times a day during a campaign, he always interjects new incidents and different phrases. I'm always terribly interested."

The term "helpmate" could have been invented to describe Pat Nixon.

At the end of World War II, Lt. Comdr. Richard M. Nixon was handling contract-termination work for the Navy in Baltimore when a family friend in Whittier, Calif., asked him to fly home to talk to a citizens committee that was looking for a political amateur to oppose five-term Democrat Jerry Voorhis for Congress.

GOT START

The committee liked the dynamic, vocal young man. As soon as he could get out of uniform, therefore, Pat and Dick pooled their savings to rent a little office in Whittier for the campaign.

Dick's mother contributed an old leather sofa from her garage, and his brother hauled it to the office in his truck. They found a battered desk, and friends lent them a typewriter and a rug.

While Dick—a real unknown—began traveling around the district to address servicemen's groups, Pat sat in the seedy office typing letters, accepting donations a dollar at a time, and handing out pamphlets. Once she cried because there was no money for stamps to mail the campaign literature.

"We were the rawest of amateurs," the second lady ruefully admits. "When nearly all of our expensive pamphlets were gone, I discovered I had been naively giving them to opponents who took them out and burned them."

She remembers that the only civilian suit Dick had was too small for him, and when a friend finally located a new one they sold the other model to buy more office stationery.

BABY WAS BORN

Pat was pregnant, and three weeks after Tricia's birth that February of 1946, she left the baby with Dick's parents to join him in the primary campaign.

Dick won, as he always has, and when they at last came to Washington a national magazine played him up as the "greenest new congressman." It seems incredible that all this happened only nine years ago!

During the next few years while the future vice president was exposing Alger Hiss, co-authoring a bill for registration of Communists and presenting the House Un-American Committee's cases against Gerhard Eisler and Eugene Dennis, Pat was cooking and washing dishes at home, chauffeuring Dick and their two little daughters, going to school to learn how to make draperies, slipcovers and hats, and joining in his re-election campaign.

SHUNNED COCKTAIL CIRCUIT

They played no bridge, belonged to no clubs, and studiously avoided the cocktail circuit. For relaxation Dick played the piano, or took the family on picnics. Once, when the thermometer was broiling, they spread out their picnic cloth on the floor of his air-conditioned Capitol office and unpacked their lunch basket.

Throughout Dick's 1950 campaign for the Senate against New Deal Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, Pat rode with him in a borrowed station wagon wired with a loudspeaker.

While Nixon addressed laboring groups outside of factories and faced down the hecklers, Pat smilingly passed around his campaign literature.

★ ★ ★

Once, at a big rally in Los Angeles they took 4-year-old Tricia along to hear daddy speak. In a hushed moment, as Dick paused for effect, the little girl suddenly piped: "My goodness! Daddy takes a long time, doesn't he?" She drew the biggest laugh of the meeting.

WAITED IT OUT

By election day, Dick was so uncertain of victory that he refused to listen to early returns. Instead they took a picnic lunch to the beach, but it was cold and dreary, and at last Dick went alone to a movie. Much later, in despondent mood at home he switched on the radio to discover that he was winning by 670,000 votes.

They were even more flabbergasted two years later, however, when President Eisenhower tapped the 39-year-old junior senator from California for his running mate.

Pat, answering mail and telephone calls during the '52 convention, had slipped out with friends for a sandwich when a TV program was interrupted to announce that Ike wanted Dick as his running mate.

As Pat phrases it: "That bite of sandwich popped right out of my mouth, and we practically ran back to the hall. The next few hours were so hectic for me that I can hardly recall the details after friends pushed a way for me through the crowd, so that I could join Dick and the Eisenhowers on the platform."

"He didn't have time to shave," she recalls sympathetically. "That's why the television cameras showed him on the convention platform slightly dark alone the jawbone."

New Gloves Are Belted

And what, you ask, is a chemise glove? Why, it's a glove with a belt in the back—the back of the hand.

The idea is to make the hand look uncurved, and considering that hands are always shaped like hands, the French leather people have gone to lots of trimming trouble to achieve the desired effect.

No more vertical trim to give hands a long look—those three little stitched lines are gone. Instead, the glove takes a "belt"—a horizontal band centered back of the knuckles.

Swiss Inspired by Snowy Peaks

Switzerland has built its reputation with tourists on its gleaming cleanliness, as well as on its natural wonderland features.

Everyone who has ever been there thinks simultaneously of its splendid mountain heights, its sapphire lakes, its warm friendliness, and its hand-scrubbed look.

Obvious Question Annoying to Cary Grant

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (UPI) — It is not altogether easy to talk to Cary Grant. He is quickly annoyed by obvious questions — and obvious questions, obviously, are the ones most people ask.

★ ★ ★

"I'm sick and tired, for instance, of being questioned about why I look young for my age," he said, "and why I keep trim. I'm not at all sure I look young for my age, but even if I did, why should the idiots make so much of it? Why don't they emulate it, rather than gasp about it?

★ ★ ★

"Everybody wants to be fit, so what do they do — they poison themselves with the wrong foods, they poison their lungs with smoking, they clog their pores with greasy make-up, they drink poison liquids. And the one thing they should be doing—making love—they're incapable of, because their system is poisoned.

"So the H--- with them."

Having purged himself of his health theories, Grant smiles quickly and easily. Then a new frustrating thought occurs. He leans forward.

"What really makes me furious is that people mock and make fun of the people who stay fit and trim . . . Poke fun at them, imagine, because they don't smoke or drink. What else can they do to defend their own miserable physical condition?

"It's something like gossip. People think that if they gossip about somebody they can pull him down to their own level. These are idiots. I have no pity for them."

The actor, at 54, is lean and tan. He claims not to have a tense muscle in his body. He has been married to actress Betsy Drake, his third wife, for nine years. He claims to be "interested in everything" to like "almost everybody," and to love "living anywhere in the world."

One of his interests is hypnotism; he relaxes through self-hypnosis and hypnotic suggestion from Betsy; but he avoids being pinned down on the subject by remarking, "It's an old story, and too vast a subject."

Grant does admit that he can sit motionless for hours thinking, Yogi style. But the master of this great art in our society, he says, was Grace Kelly (in whom the gossip "idiots" reported, him romantically interested before her marriage to Ranier.)

"Grace is the greatest champion in the movie business," he says. "She can sit with calmness and serenity and great concentration for hours. It is why she's such a fine actress. But Grace will go through life completely misunderstood, because she always says completely what she means. Most people are too hypocritical to appreciate that."

Grant, upon being asked the next obvious question about how he happened to give up all the vices and take up contemplation, replied in brief terms. "I matured" he said. "I haven't solved it all. God knows we're all looking for something — and I probably have some nice faults I haven't even acquired yet.

"But at least I've begun to grow up. I've stopped being interested only in myself, and now I'm interested in everything."

★ ★ ★

Name Former Student as President of USC

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The University of Southern California, without a president since last July, has selected a former student for its top post.

★ ★ ★

He is Dr. Norman H. Topping, 50, a scientist and educator, who got both his bachelor of arts (1933) and M.D. (1936) at USC.

★ ★ ★

His appointment was announced by Asa V. Call, president of the school's Board of Trustees. Topping succeeds Dr. Fred Fagg, who retired last year after 10 years' tenure.

Topping has been a vice president of the University of Pennsylvania since 1952.

Michigan Hopes Look Slim in Western Open

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The day is coming when we may see a Major League and Minor League in the Professional Golf Association.

Today more pro golfers are making more money on the circuit, but on the other hand the pro field has become so bulky that a lot more of the PGA members can't even break even playing the tour.

The PGA circuit today has 87 tournaments with a total purse of $1,350,000. Including endorsements and sporting goods affiliations there are 40 pros making $10,000 or better a year.

Looking back about 20 years ago, hardly a half dozen players could actually make a living on the rugged tour. When Cary Middlecoff and Lloyd Mangrum settled for a co-championship of the Western Open in 1949 at Meadowbrook, (they went 11 playoff holes and were tied when darkness stopped play) only the top dozen pros were in profit bracket of the circuit.

Sam Snead feels that the circuit is becoming a cold, businesslike affair completely devoid of color. He criticized the tour as an "attendance contest", and he feels that fines for various things such as temper displays are taking away much of the game's color.

There are more tournaments, bigger crowds, bigger purses today in professional golf, more than ever before in PGA history.

For this reason PGA tournament director Ed Carter feels things are getting too big to handle as they are and he is advocating the two-circuit idea.

In fact Carter would be ready to make the PGA a three-circuit proposition. His golf circuits would probably carry the titles "The Pro International Golf League," "The Professional Major Golf League," and the "Professional Minor Golf League."

The International tour, which would jump around the continents, would be made up of hand picked choice pros. The purses for these world circuits would start at about $60,000.

The rest of the pro field, as Carter sees it, would be broken up into one circuit shooting for purses from about $25,000, while the smaller or "minor" pro circuit would shoot for the $15,000 or $20,000 purses.

We can remember when the $15,000 purse was quite a plum, but today this plum is what the top pros would like as the first prize in a tournament, with an equal figure to be split with the rest of the field.

Take the field at the Western Open starting tomorrow at Red Run. There are 133 pros among the 152 golfers entered. After two days about 70 will be left when the field is cut and when things end Sunday about 25 or 30 pros will win more or have at least enough money to pay for their week long stay here for the tournament after splitting the $25,000 pot.

Anyway, the day is gone where a boy who wants to be a pro golfer has to fear of starving alone. If he isn't among the top 20 winners, at least he will have a lot of company.

Softball Meeting Tonight

A meeting for the purpose of organizing Waterford Junior and Little League softball this summer has been called tonight by the Waterford Township Recreation Department. The meeting will be held in the Community Activities Building on Williams Lake Road at 7:30 p.m. Fathers and other interested adults are urged to attend.

TRAPPED — Boston Red Sox catcher Lou Berberet slides into third base but Reno Bertoia was waiting for him after he was trapped off second. Shortstop Billy Martin threw to Bertoia as Berberet was unable to get back to second. Umpire is Ed Runge. The Tigers won, 3-2.

Breaks Change, Go for Tigers

Unearned Runs Help Bengals to 3-2 Victory

Valentinetti Puts End to Red Sox Rally in 9th Inning

DETROIT (AP) — The breaks — those terrible things that went so regularly against the Detroit Tigers in their recent nine-game losing streak — are going the other way now and the club's winning streak stands at four.

Tighe admitted after last night's 3-2 achievement over the Red Sox that "every break went our way."

The victory enabled the Tigers to gain a full game on the New York Yankees — though the difference between the clubs is a whopping 11 games — and it nudged the Tigers into sixth place.

Two of the Detroit runs were unearned because of an error by third baseman Frank Malzone.

Paul Foytack was putting down one Boston batter after another, had a two-hit, nine-strikeout job working for him until the ninth inning. Boston had been hitless since Ted Williams' fourth inning home run but Foytack was able to hold on long enough for his fifth complete game.

After retiring Williams on a bouncer back to the mound to open the ninth, Foytack yielded a single to Dick Gernet. He retired Malzone on an infield bounder — but only after the Red Sox third baseman came within a foot or two of tying the score with a drive that sailed just outside the foul pole in left field.

When Foytack walked Jackie Jensen on four pitches and failed to get the first pitch over to Lou Berberet, the Tigers called Bill Hoeft from the bullpen. Bill Renna reached Hoeft for a pinch double that scored Gernert. Renna's drive bounced off the left field wall on one hop to Charlie Maxwell — and without the favorable hop Jensen doubtless would have scored, too.

It took Vito Valentinetti to put out the rally. He got a third strike past pinch batter Gene Stephens, ending the contest that was played before 17,224. The clutch performance was identical to the one the burly righthander put on Sunday in the second game of the Washington doubleheader, when he blazed a third strike past Jim Lemon to end that game.

Harvey Kuenn was a major factor in the Tiger triumph. He had two doubles, his 14th and 15th of the season, and drove in the first run. In the first inning Kuenn doubled, scoring Billy Martin, who had walked.

★ ★ ★

Tom Brewer, the Boston starter, retired the first two batters in the Tiger sixth before Martin lined a single to center. Then came Malzone's error on Kuenn's grounder. A walk to Charlie Maxwell loaded the bases.

Bob Hazle, getting into the regular lineup because Al Kaline was sidelined with a stomach disorder, drove in the go-ahead run.

Burkemo, Fleck, Harbert State's Top Contenders

By BILL CORNWELL

What are the chances of a Michigan golfer winning the Western Open golf tournament when the 55th classic begins its four-day 72-hole stand tomorrow at Red Run.

If consistent performance on the professional circuit is a reliable indicator, the hopes for a champion from Michigan are slim — very slim indeed.

Who has the best chance to win it? According to PGA facts and figures, the nod goes to long-hitting Chick Harbert, the veteran Meadowbrook pro, with Wally Burkemo of Franklin Hills rating a close second.

He currently ranks 18th on the official PGA money list with earnings of $6,588.14. Chick was among the leaders in the famous Masters at Augusta last April and has made several strong showings in other events.

Burkemo, who must always be respected in any tourney he enters, has gained a tremendous reputation as a match player, but he has seldom fared well in medal play.

The hard-working Franklin pro has one victory to his credit on the winter trail, that one coming at Sanford, Fla. He now stands 24th on the money sheet with $5,853.34.

Beyond Harbert and Burkemo the state's chances grow slimmer. Jack Fleck of Rochester, 1955 U.S. Open champion, and Indianwood's Mike Dietz look like the next bets, but their performances have been highly erratic.

Fleck has really had his ups-and-downs since winning the National Open while Dietz seems to slip in crucial places when his opportunities are the best.

From the amateur standpoint, the nod must go to Chuck Kocsis, winner of the Detroit Medal Play crown last weekend at Indianwood and long the dominant figure in Michigan "simon pure" circles. Kocsis will be playing over his home course.

Other Michigan pros entered in the prestige-loaded Western are Gene Bone, Bill Martin and Emerick Kocsis, all from Pontiac.

The field is absolutely tops. Snead, Middlecoff and Palmer may be favored, but anybody can win in a talent-loaded roster such as this.

★ ★ ★

Palmer, the Masters champ and leading money winner, has stars like Ken Venturi, Bill Casper, Jay Hebert, Frank Stranahan, Billy Maxwell, Dow Finsterwald and defending Western king Doug Ford to ward off plus Snead and Middlecoff and all the rest of a star-studded field.

Practice rounds at the plush Red Run layout indicate that scoring will be low, which is what tournament officials want.

Play begins at 8 o'clock tomorrow and Friday, then the field will be cut to the low 70 plus ties for the final 36 holes.

Two Tiger Farm Teams Lead Leagues

DETROIT (AP) — Two of the 10 Detroit Tiger farm clubs are in first place in their respective leagues.

Statistics from the Tiger farm office show Augusta is leading the Sally league and Valdosta heads up the Georgia-Florida League. Three clubs are in second place and five are in the second division.

Bill Taylor, recently sent down to Charleston by the parent club, is hitting .375 . . . Ossie Virgil is batting .288, Wayne Terwilliger .292 and Tom Yewcic .155. Among the Charleston pitchers, Don Lee is 3-2, Art Houtteman 2-3, Bob Miller 2-2, Chuck Daniel 2-1, George Spencer and Jerry Davie 2-0 and Herb Moford 4-0.

Mel Clark, another ex-Tiger, is hitting .297 at Birmingham but has 36 runs batted in. Steve Boros is hitting .252; pitcher Phil Regan of Wayland, Mich., has a 4-3 record along with veteran reliefer Harry Byrd.

At Augusta, George Alusik, an outfielder, has a .444 average and bonus player George Thomas is hitting .400 . . . Jack Feller of Onsted has a .248 mark while Wyman Carey leads the pitching staff with a 6-1 mark.

For the seventh-place Durham Bulls, ex-Michigan State halfback Dennis Mendyk is batting .255. The club's leading pitchers are Dick Sheldon of Birmingham, Mich., and Paul Gatza, of Flint, each with a 3-1 record.

The Valdosta, Ga., club boasts two pitchers who have yet to be defeated as professionals. Joel McDaniel and Jim Boger are rookies, and McDaniel has a 6-0 record and Boger is 5-0. Another rookie, Bill Lawrence, is 6-1.

★ ★ ★

Even manager Steve Gromek is doing some pitching in an effort to help the Class D Erie (Pa.) Sailors. Gromek has pitched nine innings in six games but has been involved in no decisions for his sixth-place club.

Dave Reed of Battle Creek is 3-2 with Birmingham and Ron Rozman is 0-2 . . . Frank Franchi of Dearborn is batting .392 with Idaho Falls in the Pioneer League.

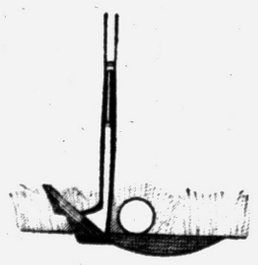
Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Impossible Shots Around the Green.

DIAGNOSIS: Failure to Explore Possibilities.

Treatment: When you find your ball in a very bad lie near the green, and also in a situation that make it necessary to loft the ball may think you've found steeply and quickly, you something you can't possibly handle.



Before giving up, however, give some thought to playing an explosion-type shot even though you're not in sand. This is a desperation shot; but when conditions call for it, it can be valuable.

The technique is the same as for an explosion from the sand—with slight variations. What you want to do, in effect, is knock out a piece of turf beginning about an inch behind the ball and extending two to three inches in front of it, and let the ball ride out on top of the piece of turf.

There are two variations from the sand explosion: 1.) Use a pitching wedge or nine-iron stead of the flanged sand wedge so you can cut into the turf more readily, and 2.) Let the clubhead contact the ground about an inch behind the ball instead of the two inches that would be right for this same shot from the sand, because the clubhead won't move through the solid ground as readily as it would through sand.

Braves' Pitcher Gains 7th Victory

Spahn Works "Magic" Over Cards

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Warren "The Wonder" Spahn, working his usual magic over the St. Louis Cardinals, is a third of the way home today in his run for a record 20-victory season. And the National League schedule is less than a quarter over.

The 37-year-old southpaw gained his seventh victory of the season last night on a pinch-hit, two-out, ninth-inning homer by Joe Adcock as the Milwaukee Braves junked Sam Jones' two-hit shutout for a 3-2 decision over the Cards.

It was Spahnie's fifth straight over St. Louis, second this season, for a 49-26 lifetime record against the Redbirds—who have supplied almost a fourth of his 231 major league victories.

Spahn, now 7-1, can set a major league record for left-handers by bagging his ninth 20-victory season. He shares the record with former American League Bob "Lefty" Grove.

The Braves closed within a game of first place San Francisco, beaten 5-1 at Philadelphia, while third place Pittsburgh moved within four games of the top with a 5-3 victory over Los Angeles. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3 in 10 innings.

If Sad Sam's sad these days, it's no wonder after what's happened to the Cardinal right-hander in his last two starts. He allowed only three hits, but was beaten 1-0 by Philadelphia and Robin Roberts last week. Last night, he gave up only a pair of harmless singles until the ninth.

Then Ed Mathews singled and Jones hit Wes Covington with a pitch. A couple of force outs carried Mathews home, and Sad Sam then gave up his fourth hit—Adcock's towering two-run shot over the center field fence.

A bases-loaded single by Don Hoak gave the Redlegs an unearned, tie-breaking run in the 10th against reliever Don Elston. Hal Jeffcoat won it in relief as Brooks Lawrence failed to finish for the seventh time in 10 starts. Home runs by Jerry Lynch and Frank Robinson gave the Redlegs a tie after the Cubs counted three in the fourth, two on Walt Moryn's homer.

The Pirates counted 10 hits — the first six for extra bases — while handing Don Drysdale his eighth defeat against two victories. Ron Kline won his sixth, but needed Ron Blackburn's relief in the ninth, when the Dodgers loaded the bases.

Consecutive doubles by Dick Groat, Ted Kluszewski and Frank Thomas gave the Bucs a 2-1 lead in the fourth. Bill Virdon opened a three-run fifth with a triple and scored on a wild pitch. Then Bob Skiner chased Drysdale with his third homer, Groat tripled off reliever Ed Roebuck and came home on Thomas' single.

Cerv Ruins Yank's String

A's Blast Turley, Grab 2nd

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Cerv, who became a hefty hitter by shedding some weight, seems to have made Bob Turley his favorite target as the Kansas City Athletics make their bid to tip the scale against the New York Yankees this season.

The slugging outfielder, down to a trim 204 or so after sweating off about 10 pounds, crashed his second home run off the no-windup right-hander and drove in four runs as the band of ex-Yankees cracked the varsity 7-3 and made a shambles of Turley's perfect record.

Turley's season-opening string of shutout innings was junked at 19 by Cerv's home run as the A's lost 8-1 in New York May 2. He had given up only six earned runs while completing each of his starts for a 7-0 record going into last night's game at Kansas City.

This time, he lasted only five innings, giving up six runs—three on Cerv's first - inning homer—while losing to the A's for only the second time in 15 decisions. His earned run average jumped from 0.86 to 1.61.

The victory hoisted the A's past Boston into second place behind the American League leading Yankees. The Red Sox lost 3-2 at Detroit. Cleveland defeated Baltimore 7-6 in 10 innings and the Chicago White Sox beat Washington 7-3.

Cerv, sold to the A's in 1956, upped his AL-leading RBI total to 36 while banging three hits. It was his 12th homer—his one-season high in the majors. Hec Lopez also had three of the A's nine hits.

★ ★ ★

Jack Urban, a one-time Yankee farm hand, won his third. He walked none and struck out eight, three times fanning Mickey Mantle, whose hitting streak was ended at 14. The Yankees, 1-1 against the A's this season after winning 19 of 22 last year, scored on Elston Howard's fourth - inning homer and got two in the seventh with two out before Urban struck out pinch-hitter Harry Simpson, late of Kansas City.

★ ★ ★

A bases-loaded walk by relief pitcher Billy O'Dell handed the Orioles their sixth straight defeat after J. W. Porter's first homer of the year had given the Indians a 6-6 tie in the ninth. It was Porter's third in the majors, second against Baltimore. Hoyt Wilhelm won his first in relief. Billy Harrell also homered for Cleveland. Gus Triandos hit his seventh for Baltimore.

★ ★ ★

Early Wynn (5-2) won his fourth in a row for the White Sox, but gave 10 hits and needed relief in the ninth. Four runs in the fourth, two scoring on an error and the other pair on Wynn's single, bagged it against loser Hal Griggs.

Romeo Tri-County Champ

Grabbing all but two first places, a total of 11 in all, Romeo's well-balanced track squad last night walked off with an easy Tri-County league championship, 75½ to 59¼ for its nearest opponent, Rochester. Lapeer was 3rd with 43 and L'Anse Creuse last with 5.

★ ★ ★

The meet under the lights of Romeo's field, was the first since revival of the league this year. Only first places that missed the Romeo thinclads come when Rochester's John Becker took the 100 and Dick Owens of L'Anse won the broad jump.

Three Romeo athletes compiled more than 10 points each, led by Bob Peterson's 11¼, Bob Ford had 10¼ and Gary Douglas 10¼. Winners' firsts were by Stirling, Ford, Redman, Peterson, Jersey, Emmett, Douglas and Coleman. They included the hurdles, shot, pole vault, medley and 880-relays, mile, 440, 220 and half mile.

City Golfers Enter Saginaw Tournament

At least three Pontiac teams have entered the June 1 best-ball invitational golf tournament at Saginaw's Rolling Green Club, says veteran shotmaker Chuck Whipple. Whipple will play with Tod Brackett as his partner.

"This is a fine tourney," says Whipple. It is a 36-hole affair, and will have players from Grand Rapids, Detroit, Lansing as well as from Pontiac.

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

It's been a banner spring for Carl Lemle and his Birmingham High School golf team. The Maple swingers, like Alexander, are looking for new worlds to conquer.

The Maples have cleaned up everything in sight this year behind the stellar shooting of Pete Green, Warren Stmner, Dick Taylor, Gary Mouw and John Roberson.

Last Saturday they won the state Class A championship at Battle Creek Country Club. Monday they piled up more honors by winning The Pontiac Press Prep Invitational tournament for the 5th time and the 2nd year in a row.

Lemle, a likeable young coach who runs the Birmingham golf team in the spring and dabbles with football during the off-season, was the proudest one of the group.

He had nothing but praise for his boys. "They're a great bunch of youngsters," Lemle said, "they have a good temperament and the right attitude toward the game."

Birmingham's four - man squad found the Battle Creek layout to its liking. Nobody shot higher than 80 over the par 36-36—72 links, a fairly flat course with slightly elevated greens.

Green, whose 71 sparked the Maples to the Press title, was the pace-setter in the state tourney with 38-38—76. Taylor's 78 came next while Sumner and Mouw, the latter only a sophomore, each carded 80.

It was a typically solid Birmingham performance at Battle Creek with excellent team balance paying rich dividends. A salute is in order.

SHORT PUTTS

The most unfortunate golfer in Saturday's Class A state meet was Calvin Cooke of Dearborn. He took 14 shots on a single hole and the disaster ruined a possible par round.

There were only 31 strokes on Cooke's scorecard when he drove from the 9th tee. After driving straight down the middle, Cooke hooked four straight blows out of bounds and finally holed out with 14 on the par five stretch for a total of 45.

WESTERN OPEN NOTES

One of the younger set in the Western field is Bob Keller, former assistant pro at Red Run and now in partnership with Walker Inman Jr. at Pensacola, Fla.

Pontiac's Gene Bone, who was diligently practicing his short irons yesterday, says that a tip from Wally Burkemo about his grip has improved his game.

Although he is listed among tomorrow's Western Open starters, colorful Jimmy Demaret may not play, according to reliable sources.

Pontiac Skaters Top State List

Pontiac will have the largest entry in the annual Michigan State Roller Skating Championships being held in the Rollarena in Muskegon May 30-June 2.

Pontiac's 78 skaters will participate in 110 events. The total entry from throughout the state is expected to exceed 350 skaters.

Thursday evening Marcia Murthum, 16, of Pontiac will vie for honors as State Roller Queen.

Brethren Softball Team in 1st Place

Church of the Brethren took over the lead in the Church Softball League last night by defeating First Baptist 7-6. Four errors hurt the Baptist cause.

In other games, Jim Wheatley of Columbia Baptist hit a homer to give his team a 5-4 win over Christian Missionary, and Bethany Baptist defeated Oakland United Presbyterian, 14-4 as Lowell Vollmar drive in five runs with two triples.

Andrew White pitched 3-hit ball as Trinity Baptist defeated St. John's Lutheran, and in the other game Salvation Army defeated Liberty Baptist, 9-6.

Moore Agrees to Fight

Moore has beaten King three times, all in 10-round decisions. He is tied with the late heavyweight Young Stribling for the record of 126 knockouts.

Russian 'Shoe' Banned by IAAF

LONDON (AP)—The big question in track and field circles today was:

Just how good are the Russian high jumpers now that they must wear standard track shoes?

The Russians have three 7-footers—Yuri Stepanov, Vladimir Sitkin and Igor Kashkarov. But they all got over their marks with a special built-up shoe.

★ ★ ★

The shoe was banned yesterday in a surprise action by the International Amateur Athletic Federation and Stepanov's 7 feet 1⅛ inch record which had been submitted by the Russians as a world standard goes out the window.

★ ★ ★

The action leaves American Charlie Dumas, who went up 7 feet ⅛ inch two years ago, still the world record holder. Until the Russians began their fantastic feats, the high jump was regarded strictly as an American monopoly.

It won't be long before the Russians are put to the test, because they have a big duel meet scheduled with the U. S. in Moscow in July 27-28.

Richards Gets 'Heave' First Time in Season

CLEVELAND (AP)— Baltimore Manager Paul Richards, who had managed to control his temper pretty well, got tossed out of a game for the first time this season by Umpire Frank Umont last night.

★ ★ ★

Richards walked slowly out to register his beef about a pitch that Umont called a ball in the ninth inning while Cleveland was at bat. He spoke only a few words and was thumbed out.

★ ★ ★

Richards' complaint was on a 1-2 pitch to J. W. Porter, Cleveland pinch hitter. The Baltimore pilot thought it should have been a third strike. Porter drilled the next pitch by southpaw Billy O'Dell for a 400-foot home run to tie the score 6-6. Cleveland won the game, 7-6, in the 10th inning.

Buc Boss Fined $100

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Manager Danny Murtaugh of the Pittsburgh Pirates and two San Francisco Giants have been fined $100 each for their part in a fracas during a doubleheader here Sunday.

Murtaugh, pitcher Ruben Gomez and first baseman Orlando Cepeda said yesterday that National League President Warren Giles had notified them of the fines by telegram.

F. Central Wins Undergrad Test

Balanced power paid off for Flint Central's undergrad track squad yesterday, in what could be a preview of what's in sight for the Saginaw Valley next spring. Central ran roughshod over Northern and Pontiac and the other Valley juniors and sophomores, with a 70-point total.

Pontiac had 37, Bay city 31½, Northern 28, Arthur Hill 21, and Saginaw 13½.

Chiefs had one winner, Arzo Carson (6-1 high jump), with Fred Brooks tied for 2nd, and Charley Kimbrell and Willie Robinson, tied for 5th.

Central had six first, shared in another with Vikings and grabbed four seconds and other places. Northern took two firsts, shared another. Wolves also won two events.

Meet, held at Flint Northern, reported some very good times and efforts, including Ron Watkins (FC) 9.9 century; Bill Milium (FC) 4:39.8 mile; Dennis Wright (N) 50.9 quarter (Jim Pritchett of Pontiac was second); Kokaly (BC) 11-6 vault (Frank Shorter, Pontiac tied 3rd).

Maples Advance in EML Tourney

Birmingham and Ferndale will meet tomorrow on the Maple diamond in the second round of the Eastern Michigan League baseball tournament after both posted victories yesterday.

Ferndale romped over Mt. Clemens, 12-4 and Port Huron shutout East Detroit 6-0. Hazel Park had a bye.

Jennings Hurls Shutout in Waterford Softball

Norm Jennings struck out 11 batters and gave up only three hits last night as Lakeland Pharmacy blanked Nonnes Restaurant, 4-0, in Waterford League American division softball action at Drayton Plains.

In National League activity, Drayton Drug B scored five runs in the 1st inning and four more in the 3rd and coasted to a 16-8 victory over the Eagles.

Cranes Trip Dales

Legion's Spears Hurls No-Hitter

Ken Spears pitched a brilliant no-hit, no-run game last night as the American Legion defeated O'Neil Realty, 1-0, in City League softball action at Beaudette Park. It was the 2nd no-hitter of the season.

Don Thompson clouted a home run and Gerry Larson pitched a two-hitter as the Pontiac Merchants whitewashed the Moose, 4-0.

In games at North Side, the Sports Shop thrashed State Hospital 13-3, with Alvah Webster tossing a four-inning no-hitter, and Cliff Brown's 7th-inning double scored the deciding run in Dostal Foundry's 8-7 win over International Autos.

Our Jets Spank 'A' Champ, 6-4

After spotting Shaw's three runs in the 1st inning, the Jets bounced back with five in their own half of the 1st and held on to their advantage for a 6-4 triumph.

PCH Wins Finale; Cranes Lose, 3-2

Both PCH runs came in the 5th inning on singles by Bill Hayward, Ken Shaw and Dave Kimball along with an error.

The Chiefs finished the season with an 8-9 record. At Flint Northern yesterday, Cranbrook lost a 3-2 decision as the winning run scored on an error in the 7th inning.

Maple Netters Win EML's 'Dual' Title

Birmingham High's tennis team yesterday afternoon "collected" the 4th dual EML championship this season for a Maples' squad, when it defeated Mount Clemens 4-1, at Birmingham. Bathers took only the 1st doubles match (Hank Parkinson - John Buckholtz def. Frank Forshew-Gordon Loveland, 6-1-, 6-4). Birmingham also holds swimming, golf and track dual titles.

U.S. Surveys Shoreline Park Sites

LANSING (UPI) — Locations of 21 shoreline sites expected to be included in a federal master plan or recommended Great Lakes park development were disclosed today by the Conservation Department.

The sites were among those included in an aerial survey by the National Parks Service early this month.

State parks director Arthur C. Elmer emphasized the survey, similar to ones conducted on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards, was aimed only at finding desirable shoreline sites for public ownership. Development of the parks would be up to the state.

Elmer said money for land acquisition is not available now — but he indicated results of the survey might be used to spur the 1959 legislature to enact a "buy now" parks program.

(The 1958 legislature rejected a proposed 30-million-dollar park bond plan and a two-million-dollar fee bill is deadlocked in a conference committee, where it may die.)

The need for quick action in acquiring park land was stressed by David A. Wilcox, state park planning consultant who accompanied the three-man parks service team on a six-day, 2,400-mile helicopter survey.

"One of our greatest recreational resources — the lake shore — is rapidly vanishing from public use," Wilcox said. "It will be too late if we don't act soon to get more public land. We already have lost valuable parcels in southeastern Michigan."

Among the potential new park sites surveyed in eastern and southeastern Michigan:

Chippewa — St. Vital Point on Lake Huron and Raber Fossil area on the St. Mary's River could be acquired in connection with Munuscong State Forest. But industrial expansion near Ford Drummond on Drummond Island would make park development difficult.

Huron — Expansion possibilities are limited at Lighthouse Point, about seven miles northwest of Port Hope on Lake Huron. The county probably will be encouraged to do the development.

Ten more sites were surveyed, but the locations will not be announced by federal officials until ownership can be determined. Five were in the Lower Peninsula, and five in the Upper Peninsula.

Little Stories About Sports

★ ★ ★

The flight of the Canada goose is heavy, but powerful. It averages about 55 miles per hour. To cut down air resistance, Canadas usually form a V-shaped flock and sometimes negotiate a nonstop flight of hundreds of miles.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The star-nosed mole, common to swampy areas of Michigan, gets its name from a fringed disc on its nose tip. This peculiar nose helps the animal to locate worms and insects, its chief food.

★ ★ ★

Although "buck" usually brings to mind a male deer, it is also the name for the male of several other species, including rabbit, caribou, antelope and trout.

★ ★ ★

Michigan's 59 state parks and recreation areas host as many as 18,000,000 visitors in a single year. This total includes campers, hikers, picnickers, swimmers and others.

★ ★ ★

Hunting and fishing opportunities in Michigan are famed throughout the nation and the state annually lists more combined hunting and fishing license holders than any other state.

'Marsh' Johnson Leaves OCSC Post

Marshall (Marsh) Johnson, personable young public relations man for Oakland County Sportsmen's club for the last year and a half, has resigned. His post as editor of the club magazine has not yet been filled. He will leave June 15.

Johnson leaves the OCSC position in order to return to his alma mater, San Diago State College, to enter the graduate school for further study.

Wins Hearst Matches

Only OCSC shooter in the recent Hearst rifle matches in Detroit to be listed among the winners in this big event was Joan Gobel, a shooting mate of Nancy Newman at University of Michigan. Joan fired a 195 x 200 (20 shots prone) to become the women's novice champion.

IN THEY GO — Watkins Lake Yachting association has taken the first step in a planned busy season of sailing competition, as picture at top indicates. This was the annual spring launching party and on this day, the three craft shown were "introduced" to lake waters. Sailor Dunked; Trout Active

Stream Fishing Better

By JACK PATTERSON

Game management men and biologists of other stripe are well aware that transplanting a species from a familiar habitat to a foreign one is a risky procedure, with highly unpredictable results. Now it appears that that familiar species, H.S. Sapiens, is governed by the same factors that affect other species. Dawson Baer PATTERSON that cat-footed argonaut of Sylvan Lake sailing fame, doesn't, it seems, take well to transplanting to large waters.

★ ★ ★

Returning from an inspection of the fishing grounds around the "Idle Hour," over at the Flats, the other day, on Al Pollock's cruiser, Daws offered to help tie up when they reached the slip. "You take the starboard side, Al," says the ever-obliging Dawson, "and I'll take the port — glub, gurgle." A fine set-up for famous last words but Al had a life preserver handy, and anyway, bankers never sink — they can always float alone.

For people who manage to stay aboard ship these days, muskies are proving to be willing antagonists on Lake St. Clair, and the fishing should continue to be good until the hot weather (if any) sets in.

Warming waters in northern trout streams (why they're warming is a mystery to us, but they are) are putting trout on a real feeding kick. Fly fishermen had better git a'gittin before big mayfly hatches (the "caddis-fly" hatches of the unlettered) come along and make the fishing too easy. Juggling all known facts together, and with a wet finger held up to the cold north wind, we'd pick the first two weeks in June as the season's best.

Roaming around the rural parts of Oakland County on these fine May days, the observer can't help being impressed with the immense number of quail in evidence. A way has got to be found to get these babies back on the list of Michigan game birds. It is to be hoped that controlled shooting experiments scheduled for this fall will prove that the birds can stand some shooting.

One possible snag: The birds seem to do extremely well on state hunting lands, which consist, for the large part, of abandoned farms — prime quail cover.

The trouble is that these areas where birds are very plentiful take a heavy beating during the hunting season; maybe too heavy for the birds to stand, although it would seem worthwhile to us to give it a try. There is no question but what there are enough quail to provide good hunting on private lands, principally farms.

Playing Dead Saves Man From Leopard

GHANZI, S.A. — A young Bechuanaland farmer, Johnny van Zyl, is alive only because he played dead when attacked by a leopard. He was hunting near his home in Ghanzi when suddenly a leopard charged him. In self defense he fired both barrels of his shotgun but the pellets did not stop it and the great cat leaped at him for the kill.

★ ★ ★

With great presence of mind, van Zyl let himself be borne to the ground and lay still, one arm outstretched, with the leopard snarling over him. It seemed puzzled at this development and did nothing more than nuzzle the prostrate figure, then seemed to lose interest completely.

★ ★ ★

Glenn Ford on Suspension After 18 Years at Columbia

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Ironic that Glenn Ford, after 18 years under contract to Columbia (a split deal with MGM) goes on suspension at Columbia for what would have been his final picture.

Glenn tells me he has notified Columbia that he will not play the role of Thrasher in "The Last Angry Man" starting July 15.

Headman Sam Briskin says that Glenn asked to play Thrasher. In his contract it states that any picture Ford makes must cost a certain amount and this film is way over that budget, says Sam.

The reason he's turning down "The Last Angry Man," according to Glenn, is that although the studio has tried to build up the role of Thrasher equal to that of the old doctor, he still believes the doctor part overshadows the young advertising executive.

★ ★ ★

Kim Novak will be absent from the Hollywood scene for four days. She's gone with her mother, sister Arlene, Arlene's husband and her nephew Bobby, to Alisal Ranch for a short holiday.

I had a nice telegram from her and I'm banking on Kim to look before she leaps in the future. I'm sorry I couldn't go to the Cobina Wright-Arthur Cameron party at which Kim made such a spectacular arrival in a taxicab.

After four years of litigation, Charles Vidor told me today that he has finally cleared the rights to the story of the world's most famous dancer, Nijinsky.

Charles bought the story from the wife of the dancer, but Oscar Serlin as well as a British company claimed prior rights.

The courts ruled in favor of Vidor, who will bring the famed Russian dancer's life to the screen next year. Nijinsky spent the last days of his life in an asylum.

Charles and Doris are just back from the Cannes Festival and Charlie said that the stories that "Brother Karamazov" was hissed is ridiculous. He said Claire Bloom, one of the stars, received a great ovation.

For the past 11 years we have taken stars to Father Thomas English's annual fiesta at St. Joseph's Church in Pomona.

Over 8,000 people greeted us on Sunday and I have never heard such enthusiasm. Tommy Sands, accompanied by the Raiders, Graham Turnbull, Eddie Edwards and Leon Bagnell, was received with squeals of delight.

Wyoming Candidate Asks Re-Emphasis on Sports

LARAMIE, Wyo. (INS) — A candidate for governor of Wyoming wants a re-emphasis—not de-emphasis—of athletics in the state.

The stand was taken by State Senator Samuel J. Fratto (D), Laramie, who said:

A-Bomb Hit His House, He's Asking $99,939

FLORENCE, S.C. (AP)—Walter E. Gregg says he may sue the Air Force for damages sustained on his property when an unarmed atomic bomb fell near here last March. Only a TNT detonating device went off.

★ ★ ★

Gregg said he turned down as inadequate a $43,344 settlement offered by the Air Force two weeks ago. He said he was asking $99,939 for property damage and personal injury to himself and Mrs. Gregg. Claims for his three children will be made later, he added.

All About Men . . . Chapter Fifteen

Retirement . . . What a Letdown!

By JOSEPH H. PECK, M.D.

If you have decided to move when you retire, condition your wife for the event. She may never completely reconcile herself, but at least you can say you talked it over beforehand, and she never did say positively she wouldn't move.

Consider her feelings and perhaps you will understand her attitude better. Not that this loving understanding should in any way influence your plans. It is the nature of the distaff side to gripe.

However, your wife has cared for you too long to desert you now. But, being expert in fighting a delaying action, she will campaign to the bitter end.

If she should balk, grab her by the hair and drag her along. She is a Ruth at heart who wants to go "whither thou goest."

NOW IT'S YOUR TURN

Her procreative machinery ran out of gas some 10 years ago and you were only helpful in reminding her that all women come to that pass if they live long enough.

Now the shoe is on the other foot. You expect your retirement to be as big a production as the launching of the "Queen Mary," and you can't understand why she isn't more excited.

Look, Pop, she concluded long ago that you were just a moth-eaten edition of a little boy, and she knows that boys are not very stable. One day they want to be a cowpoke when they grow up, the next day a tuba player.

This retirement dream, she figures, will also pass.

Then come the letdown. The thought of having you around the house all day every day is just too awful to contemplate. She recalls the time you sprained your back playing softball and had to stay home a week.

Of course, she always loved to hear your footstep on the porch, and she managed to endure weekends, but may the saints preserve her from week after week of Sundays.

Well, you say, the guys who died so soon didn't plan their retirement. Anyway, since your income is to be halved, you can't hope to keep up with the old crowd.

At this point she reminds you of all the things you can deny yourself. Golf is not only expensive, but also a waste of time. It never occurs to her that all those trips to the beauty parlor aren't paying off. When she wails, "I just can't do a thing with my hair," you should add, "And neither can the beauticians."

★ ★ ★

Don't expect your social security checks to add up to happiness. You must discover your own methods of keeping pleasantly entertained, and I hope you're more original than a lot of old duffers who go around visiting the sick and infirm.

YOU CAN BE REPLACED

It's hard for you to accept the fact, but your wife is now the only person on earth who cares half a damn whether you get up or not in the morning; she is the sole listener whose duty requires her to sit through your long-winded dissertations on what is wrong with the country.

If you think you are indispensable, it may jar you to know that, once you are gone, a wheezy little dog or a mangy old cat will replace you as beneficiary of her maternal instincts. Pets can take the place of husbands, you know.

Now is the time for you to revive all the tricks of courtship which have lain dormant for 40 years. Praise your wife's cooking, admire her hair-do, give her surprise presents and be as gentle with her as you were before marriage.

Don't do all these things at once, however, or she will suspect your sincerity and think you have been up to some mischief with the widow down the block. And the shock of your resurrected devotion may kill her.

Another thing, Pop. Don't make an ass of yourself, as I often have, trying to tell your kids how to raise their children or run their homes.

You had your day. For 50 years or more you were like the storied rooster that thought the sun rose just to hear him crow. Now, Dad, there are a lot of cockerels fighting among themselves for the honor of knocking you off your dunghill.

Go gracefully under your own steam; it saves bitter disappointment and frustration if you bow off the stage while the applause is still ringing in your ears.

THE END

Thieves in Africa Multiracial School

SALISBURY, S. A. — A "Noble Experiment" in anti-segregation seems to be working out successfully in Africa. The multi-racial University of Rhodesia and Nyasaland, with fine modern buildings at Mount Pleasant, just outside Salisbury, is now in its second year and fully established, according to Dr. Walter Adams, its head.

★ ★ ★

White students are sharing a hostel with Africans and there are some 30 African students among the 150 or more in the student body. The one African girl student is sharing a residence with European girls, as is one Indian girl student. It is the only university in the new Federation.

★ ★ ★

Incoming white students are asked, privately if they would object to sharing a residence occupied by Africans. Of 80 youths asked, only two said they would prefer not to.

GM Labs Testing Aluminum Engines

DETROIT (AP) — Three experimental aluminum V-8 automotive engines are being tested in laboratories and on the road by General Motors engineers.

The engines are hand-built and weigh about 30 per cent less than standard engines of camparable displacement and power. They are liquid cooled and somewhat higher in compression ratio than the conventional units.

Emphasizing that the engines are not production prototypes, Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, General Motors Research Staff head, said they represent another look down the road toward a possible future power package similar to gas turbine and free piston engines.

He added "use of aluminum in possible future engines depends largely on successful development of castable, wear-resistant aluminum alloys or dependable coattings (in cylinder bores) which may be economically and simply applied."

★ ★ ★

Dividend Announced

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit Bank and Trust Co. has declared a quarterly dividend of 45 cents a share on its $10 par value common capital stock, payable June 30 to stockholders of record June 10.

News in Brief

Richard H. Reagan, 22, of 2851 St. Clair St., Auburn Heights, pleaded guilty today to reckless driving before Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum. He was sentenced to two days in jail and a $100 fine, or 22 days.

Carl Sellers, of 189 S. Sanford St., reported yesterday to Pontiac police that a burglar had stolen a watch and a pen and $3 in change from his home.

China Plagued by Lack of Work

Reds Inherited Woes of Unemployment From Nationalist Regime

TOKYO (INS)—The Communist Chinese regime, now in its ninth year of business on the mainland, still is plagued by a major headache inherited from the Nationalists—unemployment.

Although the figure is not proportionately large compared to China's overall population of more than 600,000,000, the significance is made clear when contrasted against China's total of gainfully employed persons.

The official estimate of those holding jobs is only 24,180,000, less than half the working population of the United States, which has about 175,000,000 inhabitants.

Ushering in the first year of the second five-year plan, Red China is pushing a "back to the country" movement today as partial solution to the pesky unemployment problem.

Most of the unemployed, according to the Lao Tung (labor) semi-monthly published in Peiping, live in the "13 major cities each with a population of more than one million."

The labor mouthpiece admits that one of the difficulties in solving the employment problem is that most of the jobless are reluctant to take up "offensive occupations" recommended by the authorities in the provincial level.

★ ★ ★

—Selling hot potable water. For centuries the only palatable water in China has been boiled water. Selling boiling water is generally considered a job beneath one's dignity.

★ ★ ★

The annual birth-rate increase in Red China is officially estimated at 2.2 per cent. In other words, Red China boss Mao Tse-Tung greets some 12,000,000 new mouths to feed every year.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR beloved son Donald L. Gots who passed away May 26, 1956.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away from sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by Mother and Dad

IN GRATEFUL APPRECIATION for all the kindness and sympathy shown us during the recent loss of our son and brother. A special thanks to Rev. Richards, The Gertrude Atkins Circle, to Muriel Mercer who sang, To Mr. Sharp, to all who helped to lessen our burden. The William R. McKee family

IN MEMORY OF ALFRED ROY McMillan, who passed away May 28, 1945.
They are waiting by the river,
Just across the silent stream;
Where sweet flowers are ever blooming.
And the banks are ever green.
Sadly missed by Wife and Children.

Lakes Channels Expected by '62

Army Engineers Set Target Year Following Congressional Prod

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of the work on Great Lakes connecting channels will be complete by 1962 under a spending program proposed by the Eisenhower administration, Army engineers say.

Maj. Gen. L. J. Rumaggi, Chicago division engineer, made the forecast after congressmen prodded him for what they called slowness in finishing the 141 million dollar channel deepening project.

The transcript of the House Public Works Appropriations Subcommittee was released last night.

Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) noted that $3,150,000 was transferred to the project this year and the budget request for the next fiscal year was increased from 18 million dollars up to 23½ million.

"In the face of all this apparent speedup," commented Cannon, "you still estimate that it will be June 1964 before you finish the project and again this is a full year behind the schedule given . . . last year."

Rumaggi replied that all the finishing touches won't be completed until 1965 but most sea going traffic from the St. Lawrence Seaway can be accommodated by June 1962. The seaway itself opens next year.

There was no mention of the 30 million dollar request many midwestern congressmen say is needed to finish the channels by 1962.

Rep. Ben F. Jensen (R-Iowa) used the hearing for his annual attack on the toll-free nature of the connecting channels.

Jensen contended "water carriers pay just exactly nothing and whether or not they get benefits from it, have to pay the bill. That is the reason why the railroads are in the financial condition they are."

UF Orientates Panel Tonight

Preparing for Year's Series of Hearings on Budget Requests

A Pontiac Area United Fund orientation session will be held tonight at the Waldron Hotel for the 1958-59 budget panels in preparation for this year's series of agency budget hearings.

Some 80 community leaders, who are members of the eight Community Cheat — United Fund budget panels, will attend tonight's session. They will be briefed on the importance of their work in the federated process of fund raising.

★ ★ ★

In addition, each member will receive material relating to the agencies whose budget requests their panel will review and act upon.

In all, fifty-five local, state and national community service agencies will present their requests to the eight panels beginning June 9.

Robert Nelson, chairman of the Budget Steering Committee will welcome panel members, and speak on "The Role of the Budget Panels."

★ ★ ★

Philip J. Monaghan, 1958 campaign chairman, general manager of GMC Truck & Coach Division and a GM vice president, is scheduled to outline prospects for the forthcoming campaign.

★ ★ ★

The panels are representative of the total community with appointees from the AFL-CIO, Oakland County Bar Assn., Oakland County Medical Assn., Oakland County Dental Assn., Pontiac PTAs, Waterford PTAs, and the Federation of Women's Clubs.

Fireworks Scheduled at Walled Lake Park

A gala holiday weekend is planned at Walled Lake Park with fireworks displays on Memorial Day and CKLW-TV stars, "Captain Jolly" and "Poopdeck Paul" making a personal appearance Saturday, May 31. The free fireworks display will include soaring rockets, high explosive bombs and climax with the breath-taking "Battle in the Clouds."

About one-fourth of the area of Kansas is planted to wheat fields and this state is said to produce about one-fourth of the annual wheat harvest of the entire United States.

Wilson Goes to Defense of Old Neighborhood

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I went back to another one of my old home towns the other day—not Rockford, Ohio . . . but Greenwich Village.

WILSON

You see, some literary people have been making cracks about my old neighborhood, Bleecker Street.

An ex-boxer, Vincent L. Gigante, who is known as "Tthe Chin" because he so frequently leads with it, is charged with nicking Frank Costello in the noggin with a bullet. Colmunist Murray Kempton referred to "The Chin" as being "the Bleecker St. sidewalk type."

Hold on there, Murray, I'm a Bleecker Street boy myself.

The B.W. was a secretary then and I'll never forget the morning she phoned to tell me of her $2 raise. The year before—May 26, 1934—I'd arrived here to be a N.Y. newspaperman. (One year from now it'll be 25 years and you bosses better be gettin' up that gold fountain pen.)

On a Christmas day, my father-in-law-died and naturally we were rather broke. Those wonderful Bleecker Street neighbors rallied to us. A fat Polish barkeeper, John Scheib, long dead, and the friendly Gilibertis next door, were kind and helpful.

When I went back the other day, John Scheib's bar had been torn down to make way for a fancy new Washington Square Village.

But 134 Bleecker still stands — and I thought it was nice that in view of my fame as a columnist, there should now be a plaque there. I read it carefully.

To Borrow $317,000 for Pontiac General

The Municipal Finance Commission yesterday approved Pontiac's borrowing $317,000 next month in anticipation of 1958 taxes to pay for equipment and furnishings at Pontiac General Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Bids are to be sought and opened within two or three weeks, City Clerk Ada R. Evans said.

The city borrowed $317,000 on 1958 taxes earlier this year and intends to borrow $316,000 on 1960 taxes next year to make a total $950,000 earmarked for the hospital.

All the loans are to be paid back out of tax monies that otherwise would have been earmarked for public improvements.

Prison officials who caught him made sure he'd stay close to his beloved. They put him in a cell.

You'll Pay 4c to Mail Letter

520,000 Postal Workers to Get $265 Million More

The legislation also carries pay increases for some 520,000 postal workers and foreshadows probable pay hikes for another million workers in the government's civil service.

Eisenhower had asked a bigger rate increase and a smaller postal pay boost. He voiced disappointment that the new rate adjustments allowed by Congress "fall by several hundred million dollars to bring the postal account into balance."

But the President said he signed the bill "because it is clear that those provisions which are in the public interest outweigh the objectionable provisions of the bill."

The rate boosts will bring in an estimated 550 million dollars a year in additional revenue. The 10 per cent pay increase for most postal workers, retroactive to Jan. 1, will cost an estimated 265 millions. Both the postal rate and pay increases are the biggest ever voted by Congress.

Effective Aug. 1, the price of a letter stamp will rise 1 cent from the 3 cents in effect since 1932. On that same date, air mail will go up from 6 cents to 7 and post cards from 2 to 3 cents.

Rates on the advertising portion of newspapers and magazines will rise 60 per cent in three annual jumps. On the editorial portion of these publications, the rate will go up 30 per cent, also in three annual stages.

For advertising matter, the rate will increase 66 2-3 per cent in two annual steps.

Merchant's Suspicions Reasonable at Any Rate

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI)—Merchant Sam Bruce was more than faintly suspicious when he read the name on the check. Then he read the signer's address and really began to worry.

He called the bank on which the check was drawn.

Yes, the check was all right, bank officials assured Bruce. The customer's name was really Blue Monday and he really lived on Dead Man's Alley in Langley, S.C.

Issue Stirs Up National Uproar

Shows From the U.S., Westerns in Particular, Draw Criticism

By JEREMY MAIN

LONDON (UPI) — Are those nice British children who once loved Winnie the Pooh being changed into little savages by scenes of violence on television?

★ ★ ★

Yes, say child welfare experts, who place a large part of the blame on imported American films; no, say British television authorities, who brush off such charges as baseless.

Yes and no, say British newspapers, who are split on the question which parents have been arguing in Britain and America for years.

The Council for Children's Welfare, fresh from victory in a four-year battle for legislation to control horror comics, has now trained its guns on TV.

★ ★ ★

TAKING IT CALMLY

Britain's two TV networks, the government BBC and the commercial Independent Television Authority, are taking it all very calmly. A spokesman for one said "they're going to have a deuce of a time finding excessive violence on our programs."

★ ★ ★

An American TV fan would be inclined to agree. According to highly informal statistics, the incidence of sadistic beatings and violent death seems greater on American than on British screens.

But the council insists great harm will be done to Britain's youngsters unless TV is cleaned up by putting a stop to "repetitive violence" and low-quality programs and by importing less from America.

The only type of program specifically criticized by the council is the American Western, of which one is broadcast weekly by the BBC and three by the ITA.

★ ★ ★

The council admits the BBC has a pretty clean record. Over the years, the BBC has formulated a voluntary code, although its officials admit it is impossible to define just what will frighten a child. The code bans sudden noises, closeups of faces, bared fangs and actual hangings on programs for small children.

OK FOR GROWNUPS

The code is an interesting sidelight on child morality, for while it prohibits scenes of children or animals suffering, it doesn't mind what happens to grownups.

ITA has no written code, but it does have a children's advisory committee for "liaison." The ITA admits it made a mistake a few weeks ago by showing a flogging, but claims that otherwise its record is pure.

Sir Robert Fraser, director general of ITA, says that only "sadism" and "erotic cruelty" should be banned from TV. Other types of fear and excitement can be beneficial, he claims.

He says it is ridiculous to "compile a casualty list of dead and wounded" on TV because the same statistics would emerge from Homer, the Bible or Shakespeare.

School Construction Up

WASHINGTON — Construction of schools and colleges in the United States cost 2.8 billion dollars in 1957, an increase of 11 per cent over 1956. An estimated 69,200 public-school classrooms were added to the public-education system during the year.

Calls Humanities Guide of Man in Years Ahead

ANN ARBOR (INS) — The president of Resources for the Future, Inc., says man must look to the humanities rather than science for guidance in making his social judgments in years ahead.

★ ★ ★

R. G. Gustavson, in a recent speech at the University of Michigan, said all of man's activities as they affect society call for value judgments.

"These judgments," Gustavson declared, "are based on our conceptions of right and wrong, of justice and injustice, the place of mercy in human relations, and our reverence or lack of it for life, our conceptions of liberty and the dignity of man.

★ ★ ★

"Where will we find help in making these most important value judgments on the basis of which we must act? Not in science, because science is not concerned with value judgments. In the humanities? Here is a better chance because here over the centuries has been recorded man's experience with these value judgments."

Crime and Brutality Get Worse on TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Crime and brutality on television are getting worse, says the National Assn. for Better Radio and Television.

An association report for the week of May 3-9 listed 223 killings in the programs aired before 9 p.m. by the seven Los Angeles stations.

"Our report indicates that crime on TV has reached an all-time peak," Clara S. Logan, association president, said yesterday.

Crimes for the week totaled 161 murders, 60 so-called justifiable killings, 2 suicides, 192 kidnappings, 24 conspiracies to commit murder, 21 jailbreaks, 7 attempted lynchings, 6 dynamitings, 11 extortions, 2 cases of arson and 2 cases of physical torture.

Fights, sluggings and threats to kill weren't even counted, she added.

Trucker Freed in Costello Trial

Jury Acquits Gigante of Attempted Murder of Racketeer

NEW YORK (AP)—Vincent (The Chin) Gigante goes back to his job as a trucker's helper today, acquitted of the attempted assassination of racketeer Frank Costello.

A gunman fired a single shot at Costello last May in the lobby of his Central Park West apartment building. The bullet only creased the 68-year-old gambler's skull. Gigante, 30, was charged with attempted murder.

★ ★ ★

The announcement of acquittal by jury foreman Hayward T. Carter to Judge John A. Mullen was the signal for loud applause by about 40 relatives and friends of the hulking, pasty-faced defendant.

★ ★ ★

An ex-boxer, Gigante had faced a possibility of 25 years imprisonment. He halted several jurors as they moved to leave the courtroom, and thanked them "from the bottom of my heart" for the verdict.

To reporters, he said: "I knew it had to be this way because I was innocent."

Norval Keith, a building doorman who has extremely poor vision in one eye, was the only witness to identify Gigante as the assailant.

Insurance Record Set

NEW YORK — Americans bought 66½ billion dollars' worth of new life insurance during 1957, an increase of 11 billion over new coverage sold in 1956 and about the same amount as the total life insurance in force at the end of 1925.

Periled by Age

Wright's Hotel in Tokyo Faces Fight for Survival

TOKYO (INS) — Frank Lloyd Wright's famous Imperial Hotel — having survived an earthquake that destroyed most of Tokyo, countless World War II air raids, and the trample of millions of pairs of feet — faces its biggest battle for survival yet.

"I guess the old building can hold up another ten years at most," said the hotel's assistant manager, Ichiro Inumaru.

But he added he didn't intend any major renovation projects while his father, Tetsuro, remains president of the company.

"Mr. Wright and my father built the 'Old Imperial' together and he has a great sentimental attachmen to the place," young Inumaru explained.

The "Old Imperial" accommodates 300 guests, but an already completed ultra-modern annex plus a second annex scheduled for completion this August for a 900 total-guest capacity will make it Asia's biggest.

The original Imperial, established, according to Inumaru senior, as a "diplomatic necessity" rather than a commercial venture, has catered to princes, maharajahs, prime ministers, millionaires and movie stars among its distinguished guests.

World War II incendiary bombs dropped by B-29s gutted one wing, but this was quickly rebuilt along exactly the same lines as the original to preserve a Tokyo landmark which had already become world famous.

Today, some sections of the old Imperial have sunk three feet—possibly because of the soft foundation—providing a lopsided look on careful inspection.

Assistant manager Inumaru says, however, that while the guest rooms of the old Imperial will eventually have to be torn down to make way for more up-to-date accommodations in keeping with a first-class hotel, everything will be done to maintain the entrance of the old building for posterity.

See 9 Million Tons of Newsprint in '58

MONTREAL — The North American newsprint industry in 1957 pushed its rated production capacity past the 8,000,000-ton mark for the first time—twice as much as the continent's mills produced in 1939. Before 1958 is over, the start-up of new or modernized facilities will bring rated capacity above 9,000,000 tons—twice as much newsprint as the North American market absorbed in 1946.

★ ★ ★

At present the newsprint needs of all the industry's customers, including the foreign market, are being filled without using 700,000 tons of manufacturing capacity. Unused capacity is expected to pass the million-ton mark this year.

Multimillionaire Hid $290,000 in Secret Cellar

Atty. Robert H. Parsley said the existance of the hidden treasure, in silver dollars and smaller coins, had been kept secret for fear of prowlers in the West home.

An armored car was reported to have made seven trips in carrying the money to the Texas National Bank, where it was piled 5 feet high in an area of 8 by 10 feet in a counting room.

West, a diabetic, died Dec. 18, at the age of 54. An inventory of his estate has not been filed, but unofficial estimates of its value run as high as 100 million dollars.

His idiosyncrocles were many. In addition to handing out silver dollars, West frequently rode night patrol with Houston policemen. His home and his fleet of cars, which once included 41 Cadillacs, had elaborate radio equipment. His home also had disappearing doors and other trick devices.

Guards were reported to have crawled under the house to reach the hidden cellar where the money was found in cotton bags, paper sacks, barrels and gallon cans.

Although West inherited money he was said to have multiplied his estate many times through investments and business enterprises.

★ ★ ★

The primary beneficiaries of his estate are his widow, Mrs. Alice Sneed West, 57; and two daughters, Mrs. Margene Lloyd, Houston, and Mrs. Marian Blakemore, Midland, Tex. Trusts were also established for his four grandchildren.

Laminated-Oak Ship Searches for Mines

BOSTON — The Bittern, now on Atlantic Coast patrol, is the United States Navy's first non-magnetic mine hunter. The ship is made of laminated red-oak timbers because the white oak normally used for shipbuilding is in short supply.

Since red oak is not seaworthy, the Bittern's timbers were protected against rot by being impregnated under pressure with a specially developed chemical compound. A copper-bearing chemical protects her lower hull against marine borers.

Although it owns only eight per cent of the world's commercial forest area, the U. S. produces 44 per cent of the world's lumber, 58 per cent of its plywood, and 43 per cent of its wood pulp.

FALSE TEETH
With Little Worry
Eat, talk, laugh or sneeze without fear of insecure false teeth dropping, slipping or wobbling. FASTEETH holds plates firmer and more comfortably. This pleasant powder has no gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Doesn't cause nausea. It's alkaline (non-acid). Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Pontiac Area Telephone Lines

District Manager

ANOTHER SATELLITE rocketed into orbit! Exciting news to read about, isn't it? And did you know that the Bell Telephone System plays a big part in these historical events? The transmitters inside the miniature "moons" use transistors, an invention of the Bell Telephone Laboratories. And a satellite radio that is supposed to transmit indefinitely — years and years — gets its power from solar batteries, which Bell Telephone scientists invented to turn the sun's energy to electricity. These Bell System skills that contribute so much to the Space Age are the same ones that help make your telephone service the best in the world.

PLANNING A TRIP FOR MEMORIAL DAY WEEK END? If so, you'll want to make the most of every free minute and leave all your worries behind. So plan the details in advance, by telephone. Make Long Distance calls to fix up reservations and settle the other details of travel. They're worth far more than their modest cost. And, if you happen to be delayed along the way, telephone ahead to say you'll be late in arriving.

MAYBE YOU'VE SEEN this unusual motor vehicle carrying the telephone company emblem. Unusual, because it has three wheels and is only a third the length of a family car. Because it is economical to run, can "turn on a dime," park almost anywhere, and get a repairman to his destination quickly, Michigan Bell is trying them out in larger cities... another example of how the company tries to keep down the cost of telephone service.
