First Manned Apollo Flight Gets 'Green' for Tomorrow

ONE COLOR

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With green lights flashing for all aspects of the flight, the final countdown begins today for tomorrow's scheduled launch of the three Apollo 7 astronauts on an 11-day space journey.

The 300-man launch crew planned to start the final hours of the count by feeding electrical power to the 224-foot-tall Saturn 1B rocket.

As the launch team prepared the rocket and the Apollo 7 spaceship, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham expected to relax after a morning meeting in their quarters with key project officials.

The space trio is to ride the Saturn 1B into orbit at 11 a.m. tomorrow on a critical mission that could put the United States back on course toward its goal of a manned lunar landing next year.

MOON ORBIT NEAR

If Apollo 7 demonstrates the spaceship can function long enough for a half-million-mile round trip to the moon, the Apollo 8 crew may attempt to orbit the moon in December.

The 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 rocket for that mission rolled to its launch pad yesterday for about 40 days of prelaunch checks. The Apollo 8 commander will be Air Force Col. Frank Borman.

* * *

Schirra, Cunningham and Eisele practiced yesterday in a spacecraft simulator.

Cunningham visited last night with his wife, Lo Ella, and two children, who flew here from their home in Houston, Tex., to watch the launching. The wives of the other two crewmen plan to view the blastoff on television at their Houston homes.

SIX-HOUR NAP

When the launch crew starts the final count, the clock will read 14 hours 15 minutes and counting. When it reaches 6 hours, there will be an automatic hold of six hours for catch-up work and to allow most of the launch team to get some sleep.

* * *

Schirra, Eisele and Cunningham will be awakened in their ready room quarters at the Kennedy Space Center about 6 a.m. for breakfast and a preflight medical exam. When the count reaches 2 hours 25 minutes, they are to enter the spacecraft to make final checks before launch.

One Man Was Killed When This Car Crashed In Waterford Township

Area Car Flips, Killing Driver

One Waterford Township man was killed and another critically injured when their car veered off a road and careened for 493 feet last night. Witnesses and police estimate the car was traveling more than 100 miles an hour.

Killed in one of Waterford Township's most violent traffic accidents in several years was Charles V. Ostic, 21, of 2445 Maplecrest. He was driving the 1968 Corvette.

A passenger, Lloyd Busch Jr., 18, of 4664 Midland, is in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

SPEED LIMIT 40

Police said Ostic, who recently returned from the Army in Korea, was going more than 100 m.p.h on Airport Road north of Tubbs Road at 10:35 p.m. The speed limit is 40 m.p.h.

He apparently lost control of the car, which hit a culvert and rolled over and over for 493 feet before coming to a stop, according to police. Ostic was thrown an additional 127 feet. Busch wore a seat belt.

Parts of the car were scattered as far away from impact as 1,000 feet, police said.

1st Statewide Union for Police Is Formed

Higher pay and higher standards are the goals of Michigan's first statewide police union, which was officially formed yesterday at a meeting in Lansing.

DAVIDSON

Pontiac Patrolman Kenneth Davidson, elected vice president of the fledgling organization, described the new Police Officers Association of Michigan as "a big step toward professionalization."

Davidson is treasurer of the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA), which became a charter member group at the meeting.

* * *

He predicted that the statewide union will soon enroll a majority of Michigan's police organizations.

CAN'T JOIN AS INDIVIDUALS

Officers may not join as individuals.

Carl S. Parsell of Detroit, the Michigan association's first president, said the union will lobby for bills in the legislature and provide training, legal advice and professional negotiators to member groups in an effort to raise pay and standards across the state.

* * *

He said the membership total is now 5,000, including 3,500 officers from Detroit and patrolmen from Saginaw, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Ann Arbor, Cadillac, Livonia and Midland, in addition to Pontiac.

No supervisory police personnel will be accepted for membership, he added.

PRIMARY AIM

Davidson said the organization's primary aim will be a minimum annual wage of $7,500 for all officers in the state.

"State Police troopers have been invited to join and we expect to unite all of the some 25 law enforcement organizations in the state under one roof," said Davidson.

* * *

Parsell, in reference to training goals, charged that no state law now prevents a city from putting untrained officers on the streets.

Hubert Looks for Sign of Aid From McCarthy

From Our News Wires

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey looked for some sign of response from Eugene J. McCarthy today after a determined bid for the Minnesota senator's support in the presidential campaign.

* * *

Arriving in New York on a campaign swing yesterday, the Democratic presidential candidate said he thought he had already met most of McCarthy's conditions for support.

McCarthy, Humphrey's major rival for the nomination at the Democratic National Convention, said Tuesday he could support Humphrey only if he took a firmer stand on halting the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam and changing Saigon's government, committed his administration to making the draft more equitable and made more room in the political process for the young.

Humphrey said, "Hopefully my friend will recognize he can't stand by" and allow Richard M. Nixon or George C. Wallace to become president.

NIXON WOOS McCARTHYITES

Earlier this week, Nixon wooed McCarthy supporters in a visit to McCarthy's and Humphrey's home state of Minnesota.

Wallace plans to send his running mate, retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, to Vietnam to get a first-hand report on the war, according to the Associated Press.

Plans are for LeMay to make a four-day trip starting about Tuesday, in an effort to "find out what the servicemen themselves think about the matter," a source close to Wallace said.

He said LeMay is to report back before a nationwide television appearance by Wallace Oct. 20.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson said today he will not now present another nomination, in place of that of Justice Abe Fortas, for chief justice.

Chief Justice Earl Warren, who asked to retire, has indicated his willingness to continue on the bench at Johnson's pleasure.

Johnson issued a statement from the White House in which he said he deeply regretted that a Senate filibuster prevented a vote on the nomination of Justice Fortas to succeed Warren.

He said he was confident both Fortas and Homer Thornberry, whom he nominated to be a justice succeeding Fortas, would have been confirmed had their cases come to a vote.

Teen Togs: Naughty or Not?

NEW YORK (AP) — The annual fracas between school officials and students over classroom attire raged across the land today, spiced by glimpses of stocking tops, panties and even navels.

Each of the embattled sides, a spot survey disclosed, had won some and lost some and the ultimate outcome might fairly be described as moot.

* * *

There was hot and generally unresolved controversy over a number of burning questions:

At what point do a girl's culottes become so brief that they are, so to speak, more like sans-culottes?

Is a T-shirt underwear or outerwear?

TORRID ZONE?

Where is the torrid zone on miniskirts?

Should a girl wear a Nehru jacket with nothing underneath but panties?

What is a reasonable length for male sideburns?

School principals from coast to coast were bugged by love beads, and rode off in several directions. Some insisted that the wearing of love beads by males would not do. Others held that love beads, if worn, must be tucked inside shirts. Others said go ahead, wear 'em any old way.

Culottes, a sort of split skirt, were taboo last year in Chicago's Morgan Park High School. This term they are permissible if they extend within two inches of the knee.

3-INCH LIMIT

At Hollywood (Calif.) High, Culottes must be full enough to look like unsplit skirts, and three inches up is the limit.

U.S. Arguments Support Viet Peace Hopes

PARIS (AP) — Some U.S. officials say privately an early breakthrough toward a Vietnam peace still is possible despite the deadlocked talks here on ending the war.

Their optimism has them to the point of discussing the idea of a package deal in which conflicting American and North Vietnamese terms for a bomb halt would be reconciled.

★ ★ ★

Arguments advanced by informants who say a breakthrough still is on the cards emerged after the 25th session of the conference yesterday.

Taken together, these arguments suggest the North Vietnamese, for the first time, are revealing a readiness to yield some ground.

NIXON SCARES HANOI?

The first argument:

● Hanoi regards with some dismay the prospect of Richard M. Nixon being elected president Nov. 5. This, according to sources, appears to be the only conclusion to be drawn from North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy's statement that "President Johnson . . . still has enough time and power" to open the way to peace by ordering a halt now to the bombing of North Vietnam.

The second argument:

● Hanoi is being hurt militarily under the combined pressure and the increasing firepower of allied forces in South Vietnam. Ever-younger troops, sources said, are being pushed out of North Vietnam's eroded training bases into Southern battlefields. The rate of infiltration from the North is said to be falling.

★ ★ ★

The third argument:

● The men from Hanoi always display impeccable manners and all the courtesies during their meetings with the Americans. But yesterday something approaching friendliness if not actual warmth toward the Americans was reported. This could mean a little — or a lot.

★ ★ ★

Some North Vietnamese counter this by insisting they have no feelings of personal hostility against their American confrees. They point to speech after speech by Thuy in which he tries carefully to distinguish between the U.S. government and people.

School Execs to Attend Lab on Creativity

BIRMINGHAM — Administrators of the Birmingham Public Schools will attend a training laboratory workshop tomorrow, noon to 9 p.m., and Saturday, 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The workshop is part of Projects to Advance Creativity in Education (PACE), under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. The workshop is sponsored by the Birmingham Social Studies Curriculum Project.

The dual purpose of the social studies project is to demonstrate the curriculum improvement process and to assess its impact on students.

Two objectives of the Birmingham Social Studies Project are assessment of the social studies curriculum's impact on the student and demonstration that data from this assessment may be used by teachers to revise, adapt and improve the curriculum.

The purposes of the training laboratory are to help administrators improve their skills as instructional leaders. These skills involve group interaction and human relations understandings, and communication skills.

PACE is designed to encourage school districts to develop imaginative solutions to educational problems, to utilize research findings more effectively and to creative design and making intelligent use of supplementary centers and services.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Bloomfield Hills Camera Club will feature Mrs. Ferne Tate, photographer, painter and student of art, at their meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the Cranbrook Hall of Science.

The topic will be "Abstractions in Motion."

The meeting is open to the public.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Boy Scout Troop 1006 will meet Monday at 7:15 p.m. at the Bloomfield Junior High School on Quarton Road.

Any boys 11 to 18 years old who wish to become Scouts are invited by Scoutmaster Tom Regan to attend.

Gun Bill Faces One Big Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — After months of congressional fighting, a bill to ban the mail-order sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition faces only one major obstacle — a House eager to adjourn.

The Senate passed by voice vote yesterday a compromise measure recommended by a joint conference committee and sent it to the House for probable action today.

Although the House is expected to approve the gun-control bill, Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., said he would lead a fight against the conference committee's compromise because it deleted an amendment exempting most ammunition from the mail-order sales ban. He called the conference compromise "hypocritical on its face."

MacGregor successfully sponsored an amendment exempting rifle and shotgun ammunition as well as 22-caliber rimfire bullets from the mail-order prohibition when the bill was originally passed by the House during the summer.

PROVISION ACCEPTED

The bill as first passed on the Senate did not exempt ammunition. The conference committee accepted the Senate provision on that matter.

Another roadblock to easy passage was the possible absence of many members already back home campaigning for reelection or planning to leave early.

★ ★ ★

Another possible GOP tactic would be to try to prevent the bill from being considered immediately by employing the parliamentary procedures that forced the House to remain in consecutive session 27 hours, 37 minutes before completing action yesterday on a measure to allow for network debates between the major presidential candidates.

Break Is Rumored in Pueblo Release

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U.S. and North Korean negotiators met at Panmunjom today for the second straight day, and a substantial breakthrough was in the making on the release of the crew of the USS Pueblo, intelligence sources said.

But in Washington, State Department officials said they see no signs of a breakthrough and added they were unaware of a second meeting today.

U.S. officials in Seoul refused to comment on the report.

The informants said the two consecutive meetings at the meeting site of the Korean Armistice Commission were unusual.

The sources declined to elaborate on what they meant as a breakthrough.

PAPER HINTS RELEASE

At the same time, the South Korean newspaper Kyunghyang Shinmun quoted informed sources as saying the 82 Pueblo crewmen, held in North Korea since the ship's capture Jan. 23, may be released shortly.

The paper added that the Panmunjom meeting was attended for the first time by Lennart Elnmark, a Swede who is a member of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission of the Korean armistice.

The private talk yesterday was the 23rd at Panmunjom on the Pueblo.

The last confirmed private talk was held Sept. 30. Kyunghyang also said Maj. Gen. Gilbert Woodward, U.S. representative at the private talks, personally has toured a U.S. military hospital near Seoul and the Osan U.E. air base to inspect preparations for receiving the Pueblo crew.

The paper said Woodward made the inspection after he returned from the meeting yesterday at Panmunjom.

Civil Service Worker Unit Asks $100 Weekly Pay Base

LANSING (AP)— The Michigan State Employes Association asked the State Civil Service Commission today for a $47-million annual increase for the state's Civil Service Workers, plus a minimum pay of at least $100 a week.

The association represents some 17,000 of the state's more than 40,000 Civil Service Workers.

John Visser of Grand Rapids, chairman of the association's wage and salary committee, appeared at a commission hearing on pay proposals.

"The first and foremost recommendation is a minimum annual salary of $5,200," Visser said.

HIGHER COSTS CITED

"In these trying times of increased cost of living and a higher tax base, a mere $100 a week is the absolute minimum an employe of the great state of Michigan should receive," Visser said.

The association also asked for a 30 per cent across the board increase in longevity pay for workers with a long history of state employment.

Another association demand was that the state pay 100 per cent of the cost of hospital insurance for state workers instead of the present 90 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Night differential pay was asked for all state workers on afternoon or evening shifts. At present, only employes in state institutions receive this premium pay.

'DIGNITY DUE EMPLOYE'

"To remain in the highly competitive labor market, the state employe must be adequately compensated by his employer to meet his family needs and receive the dignity due him in his chosen profession," Visser said.

The commission will hold several such hearings before recommending any pay hikes for state workers. The commission decision generally is made at its December meeting.

★ ★ ★

It takes a two thirds vote of both houses of the Legislature to reject or cut any pay increase recommendations by the commission.

Ballot Issues Luncheon Topic

Speakers from the State and Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce will discuss issues on the Nov. 5 ballot at a public luncheon next Wednesday.

The issues to be discussed by the panel include the graduated income tax, daylight savings time, clean water bonds, recreation bonds and elected state officials.

The noon luncheon will be at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake. Tickets are $2.25 and must be ordered from the Chamber office at 33 W. Huron in advance. No tickets will be sold at the door.

The board of directors of the Pontiac Chamber is presenting the program in cooperation with the Michigan State Chamber of Commerce to inform local businessmen on these issues concerning the community.

Brazil Actress Turns Up

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — Brazilian actress Norma Benguel, who was reported kidnaped before a stage performance Tuesday, reappeared last night with no explanation for her disappearance. She said she would explain later.

Dems Abandon Equal-Time Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Democratic leadership decided today to bow to a Republican sit-out and abandon the fight to permit free television and radio time for joint appearances of major presidential candidates.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., told a reporter he had no choice under the circumstances except to give up to GOP opposition.

★ ★ ★

He said he will move to lay the equal-time bill aside and take up a session-end catch-all $674.7 million appropriations measure.

★ ★ ★

The Republican presidential candidate, Richard M. Nixon, has indicated willingness to engage in a joint debate with his Democratic opponent, Hubert H. Humphrey, but not if third party candidate George C. Wallace also participates.

HISTORIC DEBATE

The bill, passed by the House Wednesday after an historic, locked-in debate, provides for joint appearances by all three candidates on free time provided by the television and radio networks.

★ ★ ★

When Mansfield called the House-passed bill up at the start of today's Senate session, Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois made a point of no quorum.

★ ★

In an unexpected battle tactic, Dirksen had a page boy posted outside the chamber to tell GOP senators not to respond to the quorum call.

After more than an hour, only 37 of the 100 senators had responded. It takes a majority of 51 to meet a quorum.

Since there are only 37 Republican senators, to 63 Democrats, the GOP would not have been able to block action had the Democrats turned out in full force.

U.S. War Deaths Down Last Week

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. combat deaths in the Vietnam war dropped last week to their lowest total since the week of Aug. 17 while those of South Vietnamese forces went up, weekly reports showed today.

It was the 11th consecutive week that deaths among government forces have exceeded those of American military personnel. Some American officials have said this demonstrates increased combat activity on the part of the South Vietnamese forces.

Mental Health Group Feels Rejected

By ED BLUNDEN

One Oakland County mental health organization is mad at another one.

The Oakland County Psychological Association feels it has been slighted by the County Mental Health Service Board.

The contention is over a recent appointment to the 12-man board. In July, Dr. Robert M. Bookmyer of 110 Lone Pine, Bloomfield Hills, was named as a replacement on the board for the late James M. Joyce, a Birmingham psychologist.

With Joyce's death ended the only representation from the field of psychology on the board. He was replaced by a pediatrician thus placing three persons holding medical degrees on the board.

LETTER OF PROTEST

This apparently irked members of the psychological association and after due reflection and thought a letter of protest was mailed to the board.

Signed by Merle E. Smith of 3961 Morgan, Orion Township, psychological association president, the letter states: "The members . . . want to express their extreme disappointment at the recent action of the mental health board in appointing another representative from the medical profession to the board.

"This action points out that the board continues to ignore the need for representation of other mental health professions, namely psychology and social work."

"The continued emphasis solely on the role of the medical profession in community mental health affairs is considered by the Psychological Association to be detrimental to the fundamental concept of community mental health," the letter states.

COMPETENCE NOT QUESTIONED

Smith told The Pontiac Press that his group is not questioning the competency of any members of the board or any of its programs. "However, we feel that psychologists are as concerned with mental health programs as is any other discipline."

In asserting that his group should be represented on the county's board, Smith added the need for social work representation. He said that in most situations it is members of both these fields who carry out much of the community mental health programs.

★ ★ ★

The mental health services board is charged with carrying out a variety of programs, including child guidance, training of mentally retarded and disturbed children and adults and public information. The board uses matching funds from local, state and federal sources that amount to about $1.2 million yearly.

★ ★ ★

Paul N. Averill, a publisher in Birmingham, is chairman of the board and one of three laymen on the board. There are also two judges, two public officials and a school figure on the board.

DIFFERENCE IN FIELDS

The two psychiatrists on the board are not considered by psychologists to be representing them. Though the two fields are closely related, a psychiatrist holds a doctor of medicine degree and a psychologist might hold a number of degrees but they would not be in medicine, it was pointed out.

Averill admitted he feels badly about the psychology-sociology field not having representation. He said the appointment of Dr. Bookmeyr was made solely on the basis of his vast experience with children.

★ ★ ★

Apparently to soothe the psychologists, Averill said he has agreed to speak before the association on Oct. 24. He accepted the invitation to speak before he received the letter, however. "I'll probably be put on the spot," he commented.

★ ★ ★

Averill pointed out that as a reappointment to the board becomes due, three will be soon, a present member could be replaced by one from the protesting group. He added hes was very much in favor of this and it would have "top priority."

Appointments to the board come through the chairman of the Countny Board of Supervisors after consultation with mental health officials.

Utica Will Solicit Bids for Sewer Work on Greely

UTICA — The city will advertise for bids for enlargement of sanitary sewers on Greely Street, as directed by the City Council.

The project is expected to cost about $7,000, according to City Clerk Eunice Koepitz.

★ ★ ★

The Council also has instructed the engineering department to make a preliminary study of the Crissman and River Vista area for sanitary sewers, and make a report of estimated costs to the Council.

★ ★ ★

Construction of sanitary sewers in this area would complete the system for the entire city of Utica.

PLAT GETS FIRST OK

The council also gave preliminary plat approval to Normandy Subdivision with 38 lotsintheNorthlandPlaza.

38 lots in the Northland Plaza.

A parcel of land at the corner of Nichols and Davis was rezoned from two-family to multi-family use.

★ ★ ★

Two building permits were awarded. Boron Oil Company will construct a service station on Cass Street between Auburn and Hall.

★ ★ ★

The other permit was given for a 48-unit apartment building to be constructed on Harry Street between Hahn and Nancy.

Drain Projects Up to County After Avon Board Approval

AVON TOWNSHIP — Petitions to go ahead with drain projects for Brooklands and Springhill Subdivisions were signed by the Township Board last night.

★ ★ ★

The matters will come before the County Drain Commission for approval.

Plans are to finance the projects, an estimated $250,000 for Brooklands and 160,000 for Springhill, from a township-wide tax.

It recommended that the commission okay the use of Johnson and Anderson Inc. of Waterford Township as engineers and Stratton Associates of Detroit as financial consultants. The two firms have been involved in preliminary planning.

The board boosted its fee schedule on site plan approvals from $75 to $110 with any money not used to be returned to the applicant. The fee allots $35 for planners, $65 for engineers and $10 for administrative costs.

★ ★ ★

Clerk Thelma Spencer and Trustee Philip Trimble will attend a Board of Education meeting at 8 p.m. Monday at board offices, 522 W. Fourth, Rochester, to discuss road improvements.

Also invited for the meeting are representatives of the County Road Commission and the State Highway Department.

★ ★ ★

Under consideration is a light at Walton and Old Perch. The school board is attempting to learn what help may be obtained to make main roads around the Senior High and West Junior High Schools safer for student pedestrians.

★ ★ ★

The township board, on request of residents, will also investigate the opening of Varden Road from Auburn to South Boulevard. Though the entire road is in use, part of it is not dedicated and repairs are reportedly needed.

BIG HOLE IN STREET — Parts of Sheffield Street in Bloomfield Orchards Subdivision. The old line collapsed last Pontiac Township have almost disappeared as workmen install a $78,000 replacement of 1,200 feet of sewer line in spring, necessitating the spending of $25,000 in pumping operations over the summer to keep it operable.

County Authorizes Orion Drain Project

ORION TOWNSHIP — The proposed Bunny Run Drain to alleviate flooding in Bunny Run Subdivision should be ready for bids in 60 days.

The County Drain Commission at a hearing of necessity yesterday approved the project and gave engineers 60 days in which to prepare plans.

★ ★ ★

Estimated to cost $65,000, the project will be shared by the township and the Oakland County Road Commission.

★ ★ ★

The subdivision is located south of Long Lake. The drain as proposed would consist of ditches emptying into a covered drain along Detroit between Helliday and the lake.

OES Dinner Is Sunday

LAKE ORION — Orion Chapter 340, Order of the Eastern Star, will serve a roast beef dinner from 12:30 to 3:30 p.m. Sunday at the Masonic Temple, 24 N. Broadway.

Rochester Firm Merger Okayed by Shareholders

ROCHESTER — Shareholders of National Twist Drill & Tool Co. of Rochester, have approved a previously proposed acquisition of National Twist by Lear-Siegler, Inc. Vote was held in Rochester by shareholders yesterday morning.

★ ★ ★

The transaction which would involve Lear-Siegler common and preferred shares with a market value in excess of $30 million is subject to approval of regulatory agencies.

★ ★ ★

Directors of both companies approved the acquisition in June. Lear-Siegler shareholders are not required to vote on the matter.

★ ★ ★

PRODUCTS DIVERSIFIED

Lear-Siegler is based at Santa Monica, California, and produces diversified products for industry, space and consumer use. The firm's sales in the last fiscal year exceeded $477 million.

Downtown Promotion for Lake Orion Receives Public Approval, Support

LAKE ORION — Support and approval of a promotion plan for downtown Lake Orion was voiced at a public hearing of the planning commission last night.

The Chamber of Commerce, the Jaycees, and Lake Orion merchants were represented at the meeting.

★ ★ ★

Larry Denis, spokesman for the Jaycees, told of the group's planning committee with six subcommittees, designed to promote the solution of parking problems and the beautification of the city, and to consult with other committees.

★ ★ ★

The first project to be enacted by a subcommittee would be alleviation of the parking problem in the downtown area.

PARKING MALL MENTIONED

"Perhaps a parking mall, similar to the one in Pontiac, would affect the central business district in a beneficial way by increasing parking facilities so that more people will be willing to come into town rather than a shopping center with their huge parking lots," Denis said.

★ ★ ★

The mall would be on Bradway Street from Front to Shadbolt. Also included in this plan is a one-way circuit of streets around the central business district to eliminate traffic problems.

★ ★ ★

Proposed routing for this project is east on Front Street, north on Anderson Street north, west on Shadbolt, (two-way) and south on Lapeer Street.

★ ★ ★

No action will be taken to enact this project, however, until further traffic studies have been made by the Lake Orion Police and Fire Departments and possibly Bruno, Leon and Associates, city planners retained by the village.

PUBLICITY PLANNED

The six subcommittees also include a publicity committee, to get the ball rolling, get other townspeople interested in the project, and feel out the different possibilities, Denis said.

Also included is a beautification committee, to encourage owners to rejuvenate their businesses, inside and out. A long-range prospect would be the face-lifting of all downtown businesses, with a similar design to help beautify the town.

★ ★ ★

A merchant cooperation committee would call upon all businessmen to enlarge their stocks to raise the quality, quantity and variety in order to compete with other shopping facilities in the area.

★ ★ ★

A new business committee, Denis said, would encourage new businesses to Lake Orion, to benefit the growing population of the area.

ADVERTISING EYED

Also included in the group's plans is a merchants' advertising committee.

★ ★ ★

Darrell Hawley, president of the Lake Orion Chamber of Commerce, said of the proposals, "The Chamber is concerned as residents and businessmen about the entire area. The area is growing, but with our present parking situation and downtown district, what can we give to encourage citizens away from shopping centers?"

★ ★ ★

"We would like to enrich our town and bring in the consumers' wealth," he said.

★ ★ ★

"The joint program with the different village groups is a good thing. Its similar objectives will stop most of the stalemates which might be encountered," Hawley said.

Preliminary Plans for Subdivision Set

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Preliminary plans for Seale Subdivision, proposed as 57 lots on 28 acres at M24 and Thomas, have been accepted by the Township Board.

Gordon Seale is owner and developer.

★ ★ ★

The board last night also heard protests from neighbors of a dump north of Stoney Lake The dump is illegal on private property, according to Supervisor Lee Valentine. He said he would discuss the matter with the County Health Department.

★ ★ ★

Jack Salswadel, John Ruff and Harold Albertson were reappointed to the township planning commission.

Wixom Planners Add New Officers

WIXOM — Two new officers have been elected to the city planning commission for 1969-70.

★ ★ ★

Lloyd Preston has been elected chairman and James Lahde secretary. John Miner was reelected to his present post of vice chairman.

★ ★ ★

Several amendments to the zoning ordinance were proposed to the planning commission by the planning consultants at a recent meeting.

The commission took no action but will hold a special meeting to discuss the amendments on Oct. 28 at 7:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The commission rescinded original approval of a car wash located at the corner of Wixom and Wainstock because of an incorrect legal discription of the lots it is to include.

★ ★ ★

The plans, submitted by Arthur Button, have been put back into the hands of the commission for further study.

School Study Is Reactivated

LAKE ORION — Reactivation of a citizens' committee to study school needs has been accomplished here and Richard Young of 2810 Indian Lake Road has been named chairman.

The board of education was informed last night that 21 citizens had met Tuesday to restudy school construction needs and the financial situation.

Meetings will continue the second and fourth Thursdays of the month at board offices, 55 Elizabeth.

Lake Orion voters in August defeated a 3.5-mill operations tax hike, having defeated the same hike plus a $4.5-million bonding issue and $600,000 for a swimming pool last June.

The board signed teacher contracts with the Lake Orion Education Association setting a BA degree range of $6,850 to $10,886 and an MA degree range of $7,350 to $11,927. There are 12 steps involved.

The contracts, reportedly approved by the education association, have not yet been signed by teachers.

School Board Eyes Sports Field Bids

OXFORD — Fifteen bids on construction of an athletic field behind the senior high school will be studied by the board of education before contracts are awarded.

★ ★ ★

Supt. Roger Oberg said the bids appeared to be higher than the $90,000 estimated for the job. He said they would have to be sorted and totaled in that many were for only parts of the construction.

★ ★ ★

Fourth Friday enrollment, upon which state aid is determined, was 2,626, about one per cent below estimate. Oberg said the budget stands to lose some $11,000 from that anticipated. He said the enrollment showed a 92-student increase over last year.

Romney Asks Investment Report

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. George Romney Wednesday ordered a full report on the investment of $1.33 million in teacher pension funds in an uninsured mortgage on an apartment complex owned, in part, by the Michigan State University attorney.

The governor requested the information from State Treasurer Allison Green, who authorized the investment nearly a year ago.

The loan is the only uninsured apartment mortgage in the pension fund's $580-million investment portfolio. All the others are backed by the Federal Housing Administration.

The apartment complex, called Hallmark Estates, is located in southwest Lansing and is owned by a real estate trust that includes Leland W. Carr Jr., attorney for MSU and also for MSU's chief financial officer, Philip J. May.

OTHER MEMBERS

Other members of the trust are Lee C. Brown, Caro O. Geisenhaver, Zigmund E. Komiski, Joe Max Smith, Alfred J. Spragnuolo, Victor C. Anderson and Cassius E. Street Jr., all of Lansing. The latter two are law partners of Carr.

Green defended the investment as "prudent and wise." He said there was no "hanky-panky or anything of that sort" involved in the transaction.

* * *

Records in Green's office show that the state purchased the mortgage on the apartment complex Oct. 26, 1967, and that terms provide for 6½ per cent interest over a 20-year period. If the owners default on their payments, the interest jumps to 7 per cent.

The original loan to erect the complex was supplied by the American Bank and Trust Co the financial institution from which MSU President John Hannah resigned as a director last spring after a conflict-of-interest controversy arose.

Green said he had no personal knowledge that American Bank and Trust held the original mortgage, even though the pension funds were used to pay off the bank loan.

"We dealt with the real estate trust, not the bank," he said.

Green said his office was first contacted about the apartment mortgage last fall. He said before the agreement was signed, an independent appraisal was made and approval secured from the Michigan Public School Employes Retirement Board.

The independent appraisal, conducted by Dean Appraisal Co., Detroit, listed the market value of the property at $2-million. Two insurance company appraisals by the owners showed a similar worth.

Green said the owners were required to put up $10,000 on the mortgage at the outset and make payments of approximately $7,200 per month until Dec. 1, 1968, when they jump to $9,400 to cover principal on the loan.

"So far all payments have been made right on time," Green said. "This backs up our position that it is a sound investment."

* * *

Lawrence Van Zwoll, secretary of the teachers' retirement board, said he was satisfied that the money was invested wisely.

"But even if there was a foreclosure, we would get our money back because we hold the first mortgage and would need to get only two-thirds of the property's value to cover the loan," he said.

State Urged to Approve More Handicapped Funds

LANSING (AP)—Michigan is doing a good job of employing the handicapped—but could do better, the chairman of the President's Committee for Employment of the Handicapped said Wednesday.

Harold Russell, who lost both hands in a war time training accident, urged that the Legislature appropriate more funds for employment of the handicapped.

* * *

"For every $1 the state invests, it gets $3 from the federal government," he said. "Supplying the money helps keep the handicapped off relief."

Employment of the handicapped has increased, he said, except in severe cases—the blind or those who have lost both hands or legs.

"It has been proven that these people can be employable," Russell said, but he added that there are three times as many handicapped persons in lower-income classes as in middle- or higher-income groups.

"One of the problems is to reach these people," he said. "Sometimes they feel they are forgotten and just give up."

* * *

The Vietnam war, Russell said, is causing comparatively more severely handicapped veterans than both World War II and the Korean war.

"There are three main reasons," Russell explained. "They get quicker medical attention; more are saved from death but are disabled. There are a lot of cases of infection. Also, the close jungle fighting results in a lot of severe wounds."

* * *

Awards for work in helping the handicapped went to:

Gerber products Co., for employing a large number of handicapped; Dr. Homer Stryker of Kalamazoo for invention of devices to aid the handicapped; Oldsmobile Division of General Motors Co. and Schultz, Snyder & Steele Co., both of Lansing, for employment of the handicapped; Jean Fordyce, for work with the handicapped at Lansing; and Stevie Wonder, a blind musician from Detroit.

The bottle-top industry has produced 1,626 billion crown bottle-tops since the first one was made in 1892. Annual production at present exceeds 42 billion.

Hearings Begin on Pay Hikes for State Employes

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Civil Service Commission today opened hearings on pay increases for the 42,500 state employes.

Last year the state workers got an average salary boost of 6.3 per cent. The current payroll is $350 million a year.

* * *

The commission said it will make a final decision on a new pay plan in December for the fiscal year beginning next July 1.

The Legislature has limited veto power over any plan adopted. It may reject or reduce proposed pay increases by a two-thirds vote of both houses.

Griffin the Winner in High Court Issue

The three-month-long battle over Senate confirmation of President JOHNSON's nomination of Associate Justice ABE FORTAS and Federal Judge HOMER THORNBERRY for the posts of chief justice and associate justice respectively of the U.S. Supreme Court has ended in abject surrender by the President.

GRIFFIN

The surrender took the form of a letter from FORTAS to the White House suggesting that his nomination be withdrawn. LBJ accepted it, and the Supreme Court opened its current session with its panel of justices unchanged.

★ ★ ★

Americans owe a debt of gratitude to Michigan's junior senator, Robert P. Griffin, who opposed the presidential nominations from the start. Then, the Senator's voice seemed a lone one crying out in the wilderness against the unethical act of a lame duck president attempting to fill two permanent top Government offices and the fact that his choice of nominees smacked strongly of "cronyism."

Although GRIFFIN drew a small band of senatorial colleagues to his side, few gave their "crusade" a Chinaman's chance of success—particularly since the Senate Minority Leader, EVERETT DIRKSEN of Illinois, strongly supported the President and his High Court selections.

But the doughty GRIFFIN stuck to his guns, produced more and more evidence that FORTAS fell ethically short of qualifying for the post proposed for him, and gradually turned the confirmation tide of battle his way.

★ ★ ★

The ensuing capitulation by the Administration must be particularly galling to LBJ, marking as it did the first time since the presidency of GEORGE WASHINGTON that a presidential nomination for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court had failed of Senate confirmation.

If there is a political moral lurking somewhere in the President's ill-advised and abortive move to perpetuate the Supreme Court in his own image and the humiliating defeat he suffered, it might well be: "As ye sow, so shall ye reap."

Lawman Urges Finesse Instead of Force

There would be a lot less loose talk about "police brutality" if policemen knew how to handle lawbreakers and suspects with more subtle forms of physical persuasion than they frequently employ.

One man thinks so, and he ought to know. He works in the city— Los Angeles. His name's KOGA. He's a cop.

★ ★ ★

Too often, contends officer Robert K. Koga, standard training leaves police with no alternative but to rely on brute force or guns in situations he believes could be resolved much more surely and safely with a few simple hand and body holds.

Officers are not intent on being brutal, says KOGA, but their instinct for self-preservation is as strong as anybody else's.

Thus when confronted by a man who "looks like he could eat nails and says, 'You've got to take me the hard way,' what do you do under typical training methods?" he asks, and answers, "You go to an equalizer —a gun or a nightstick."

★ ★ ★

An instructor at the Los Angeles Police Academy, KOGA, of Japanese descent, has come up with "The Koga Method of Police Weaponless Control and Defense Techniques," a blending of judo, karate and various other Oriental systems of self-defense.

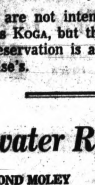
KOGA claims his methods "could do half a policeman's work" without resort to brute force or weaponry.

Even if it would only do a fraction, it bears looking into by police in every city.

Goldwater Return Would Be Welcome

By RAYMOND MOLEY

LOS ANGELES — In the course of this visit to the West I have just spent a few days observing the Arizona senatorial campaign where there is every indication that Barry Goldwater will be returned to the Senate in January.



MOLEY

Of the assets he would bring to the national scene, one of the most important will be his unquestioned appeal to the young people who are seeking education rather than revolution on our college campuses.

★ ★ ★

One of the serious losses in the ill-fated election of 1964 was the virtual removal from the scene of the great influence the Arizona senator had upon the course of conservative thinking.

For until his campaign for the Presidency, Goldwater had for several years conducted a veritable crusade, defining for the young and old who listened to his speeches not only the sound lessons of the past but the promise of a future in which the mad rush of liberalism might be modified and rationalized by conservative dissent.

BIG DEMAND

The best proof of the effectiveness of that crusade was the widespread demand that Goldwater be nominated for President.

There are varying opinions, even among Goldwater's friends, whether he should have resisted that demand and have sought reelection to the Senate in 1964. He himself had grave doubts before he announced his candidacy. But the movement for him proved to be irresistible.

★ ★ ★

And so after that election the conservative movement lost direction and impetus. The Great Society went its reckless way toward an unwieldy centralized government and a welfare state.

This, as we now know, ended in satisfying neither those who gave nor received. And it raised a host of mounting expectations.

INEVITABLE REACTION

A national policy which provided "more remedies than there were problems" (a phrase once applied to Hubert Humphrey) brought on the inevitable reaction. And now, as some of us predicted long ago, the Democratic party lies stricken by its own excesses.

★ ★ ★

The senatorial campaign in Arizona is relatively quiet.

The moving wheel of time finally terminated the long career of the venerable Carl Hayden who celebrated his 91st anniversary on Oct. 2 of this year.

Roy L. Elson, Hayden's staff member since 1952 and more recently the aging senator's major assistant, is the Democratic candidate for the prospective vacancy.

DEEP RESPECT

The people of Arizona have a deep respect and affection for the retiring senator. For that reason, and perhaps because Goldwater himself respects the many services to the state of the man he aspires to succeed, there has been no Republican attack upon Hayden or Elson.

In the new Senate Goldwater will certainly be a notable figure. The retirement of several Republican senators has left plenty of room at the top.

Moreover, Goldwater, despite some of his Eastern detractors, has a firm hold on the affections of his party. The remarkable ovation given him by the delegation at the Miami Beach convention proved that. No one else except the nominee received such a greeting.

★ ★ ★

And it is certain that if both are elected Nixon and Goldwater will enjoy amicable relations. For it will be remembered that in 1964, when so many Republican leaders were silent in their tents, Richard Nixon vigorously campaigned for the candidate of the party.

This will not be forgotten when a new administration takes shape. But Barry Goldwater wants no reward except to resume his place in the Senate.

The Bomb

David Lawrence Says:

Humphrey Losing Labor Votes

WASHINGTON — Union labor has lined up largely behind the Democratic nominees in all presidential campaigns since 1932. So when a public-opinion poll shows 57 per cent of the labor vote against Humphrey, it is an almost unprecedented piece of news.

LAWRENCE

A poll just conducted for the New York Times by Public Opinion Surveys, Inc., of Princeton, N. J., reports that 34 per cent of union labor is for Humphrey, 32 per cent for Nixon, 25 per cent for Wallace, and 9 per cent undecided.

The survey was made several days after the AFL-CIO had formally endorsed Humphrey.

While such a pronouncement doesn't mean that every union member accepts it, usually only a minority votes against those candidates — generally Democrats — endorsed by the labor leaders.

WHAT IS REASON?

What is the reason for the surprising change this campaign year? The answer emerged when the pollsters asked the union members the following question:

"Do you think integration of the white and colored races is being pushed too fast or not fast enough?"

Sixty-five per cent said it is going "too fast," 14 per cent said "about right," 12 per cent said "not fast enough," and 9 per cent didn't know.

When asked about their reaction to the statement that "The police cannot do an effective job because their hands are tied by the politicians and the courts," 80 per cent agreed that this is the trouble.

WHITE RACISM?

On a question in the poll as to whether "racial attitudes of white people" are to blame for bringing about the Negro unrest and rioting in the big cities, 63 per cent disagreed.

Many of the workers fear that Negroes will be given jobs and promotions which they do not deserve, and that employers will be trying to curry favor on the Negro side at the expense of the white workers.

Whether or not this has become a general employment practice, undoubtedly there is apprehension which may be reflected by a substantial vote given to Wallace and Nixon against the Democratic nominee on Nov. 5.

Meanwhile, labor-union leaders are already spending considerable sums of money on a large amount of campaign literature in behalf of Humphrey. But most of the work will be personal canvassing done at the precinct level, where labor-union representatives will be concentrating their efforts.

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act, of course, forbids unions as well as corporations from making campaign contributions.

The labor unions, however, form separate organizations to handle the money, while some of the union officers and special committees are loaned to the political groups for the campaign.

Bob Considine Says:

Candidate Dick Nixon: Big Change in 8 Years

WITH NIXON — What a whale of a difference eight years have made in Dick Nixon, his style, and his method of getting around the nation.

CONSIDINE

Try these for starters:

- The lumbering DC7, into which he would retreat during the 1960 campaign after a sometimes discouraging talk to voters, has been replaced by three chartered 600-m.p.h. United Air Lines 727s — the Tricia, the Julie, and the David.
- The 1960 GOP candidate who tended to closet himself behind a green screen once aboard the DC7, too exasperated to talk to anybody, now out-affables John Kennedy. He is at ease, hip, and confident that this just happens to be his time to be president.
- The man who blew a comfortable lead over JFK between August and November in 1960 now holds such a prohibitive edge over Hubert Humphrey that he is concentrating much of his oratorical fire on George Wallace.
- There is a lilt of laughter among the man's camp followers where eight years ago there was an increasing tenseness that, somehow, he would blow it or get robbed. Both things happened, in all probability.
- He has a new delivery, hairdo, clothes, and a new cool.

PLUSH ACCOMMODATIONS

Travel on the Tricia, which is the Santa Maria of Nixon's three-ship fleet, is like voyaging on a combination of Air Force 1 and the plane carrying the St. Louis Cardinals to a game which Bob Gibson is scheduled to pitch.

The Tricia is loaded with electronic gear. There is a Xerox that not only duplicates messages he dictates but also wirelesses copies of them to his New York and Washington headquarters.

There are secretaries with electric typewriters, phones for reporters at their assigned seats, and pretty stewardesses running with food and drink.

Dick strolls back for a chat now and then, something he found difficult eight years ago on the DC7. He knows everybody by name, and if he doesn't Pat does.

It's a far cry from Quemoy and Matsu.

GOOD DEAL FOR NEWSMEN

The small army of newsmen and newshens which follows Nixon never had it better, if that's of any general interest. About the only thing they have to do about their baggage and gear is set it outside their hotel rooms at night — like the British put out their shoes.

Then unseen bearers, if that's the word, whisk it off to the airport and see to it that same is properly stashed in the hold of one of the Nixon planes.

Upon arrival at the next whistle-stop, there are chartered buses lined up for us, sometimes a text of what the candidate plans to say later in the day or night, and off we go to the hotel. No lining up at the reservation desk. None of that tedious jazz.

HARD TO SWITCH

There's a special desk for us. You've been checked into your room in advance. Your baggage is automatically delivered to the room. Room service seems to answer sooner than when you're on your own. Your bus goes to the ball behind a police escort.

It's going to be mighty tough switching over to the Wallace campaign. George's plane, a prop-jet Electra chartered from the American Flyers Airline, was parked near the Nixon jet fleet the other day at Washington's National Airport.

★ ★ ★

There was no commotion around it; no limousines and buses rolling up to it. It chugged out to the take-off strip behind the Nixon 727s and took off in our kerosene soot.

We wondered if the chitlings were spoiled. Hope not.

Answers Recent Letter on Demonstration at OU

To "Neil's Proud Mother," your "nonviolent" son had better take a close look at those fellow protesters. The demonstration at Oakland University was admittedly instigated by the Students for a Democratic Society whose leaders, I believe, have a definite admitted Red streak. What right does any group have to block a driveway, much less endanger a man's life by doing so? What would your reaction be if you were confronted by this group as you left work or a supermarket? I am also a proud mother of two college men and two high school boys whose pictures appear only on the front page of the sports section.

Voices Continue on Presidential Candidates

I agree that it would be a calamity for George Wallace to be elected. I beg those who have considered casting their votes for him to reevaluate their stand. This would not accomplish anything for our country but would be a one-way trip to complete anarchy and an end to a democratic way of life. Law and Order? Never. If Wallace is elected this may well be our last free election. Think before it is too late, unless you want Wallace to be our last president.

GALE SEEDORFF
2105 UNION LAKE ROAD, UNION LAKE

When Mr. Reuther made his statement that the UAW is for Humpty Dumpty, he was wrong. The blue collar worker is for Mr. Wallace, the man who can tell the truth and not twist the Constitution. In the 1930s and 40s we stood up and were counted when Hitler and Mussolini wanted to burn the world. We didn't run off to Canada or Sweden to avoid the draft. We had common decency and self respect. There were no crap games played on the American Flag.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Reuther, I don't know if you are after a cabinet job; however, I believe George Romney would be hired before you. If this is the heaven created out of eight years of the Kennedy-Johnson administration, then lead us back to that beautiful hell of the 30s and 40s where there were no violent groups that the law enforcement officers couldn't go after. And the Vice President didn't say he didn't blame them for rioting.

Comments on Increases for County Officials

We working people are told we should not ask for large pay increases, to help keep down inflation. Yet, the Oakland County Board of Supervisors can approve salary increases for County officials—an average increase of 13 per cent. It seems that every time there is an increase in taxes or the auditor finds some monies that haven't been spent, the first thing to come to mind is an increase of salaries for the officials. I think it is about time they pull their thumbs out of the pie.

'Waterford Police Need Support of Citizens'

Citizens of Waterford Township, your police officers are finally working under a 1968 contract. With the wonderful citizen response and backing we were able to complete negotiations for our 1968 contract. The officers were not happy with what we received but felt that further negotiations at this time were futile. We will soon begin bargaining for our 1969 contract and hope that citizens who supported us will again come forward and be counted. Only through your help can we receive adequate compensation for the services we provide 24 hours a day, 365 days a year. Let the Township Board know that you want the present high caliber of law enforcement maintained and professional law enforcement officers of Waterford Township paid as professionals.

'We Should Know How Tax Money Is Spent'

It seems to me Senator Hart should clean up his own back yard before he picks on the working people. Most know what they get for their money in a garage. What we should know is where our tax dollars are going. How much is spent to line politicians' pockets, buy parties, booze, etc.?

Reader Questions Union Leader's Actions

In regard to the letter wondering why the unions refused to back Wallace when he came out strongly against communism, I wonder why Walter Reuther gave several million dollars of CIO members' funds to "help organize unions in Russia." No one organizes anything in Russia without the Kremlin consent. Are unions really to help the workers or just a means to control the masses? I wonder why Walter Reuther proposed the Democratic Platform Committee "Abolition of the House Un-American Activities Committee, the Senate Internal Security Committee and the Subversive Activities Control Board?"

MAGGIE C

Discusses Russia's Plan to Take Over U.S.

I have read how Russia plans to take over the U.S. by two plans: by external encirclement and internal demoralization. External encirclement is self-explanatory by today's current events. Internal demoralation is evident in today's pornography in the false guise of art; sex advertisements and movies; encouragement of lawbreaking, etc. They have enlisted the help of many of our judges and legislators without their awareness of their enlistment.

Apollo Orbit Team Soon Out of Jobs

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Up to 100 people responsible for orbiting America's three Apollo 7 astronauts are working themselves out of a job at the Saturn 1B-Apollo launch pad.

After Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham blast off Friday, the launch team "will be reduced by 50 to 100 people," said Richard F. Gompertz, director of the systems test department for Chrysler Corp.'s space division here.

★ ★ ★

No more launchings of the Chrysler-built Saturn 1B rocket are planned until 1972, after the Apollo man-to-the-moon program is completed. All Apollo launchings following Apollo 7 are to use a larger Saturn 5 rocket, the type booster which will hurl astronauts to the moon.

★ ★ ★

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration has decided not to mothball its two Saturn 1B launch pads, however. Lt. Gen. Samuel Phillips, NASA's Apollo program director, said the two complexes, valued at $106.5 million, will be kept "in a state of readiness" so they can be used on six-months notice in the event problems develop with Saturn 5s.

COULD REHEARSE

If major problems show a need for additional development on saturn 5s, the space agency could use the smaller Saturn 1Bs for astronauts to rehearse lunar rendezvous techniques in earth orbit.

Saturn 1Bs could not be used for a lunar landing mission, NASA said.

Maintaining the backup capability for astronaut training, plus getting Saturn 1B launch complexes 34 and 37 ready for manned Apollo applications missions in earth orbit to follow the lunar landing program, will keep between 500 and 600 members of the Chrysler launch team busy "at least through the next few months," Gompertz said.

"It's really important that we maintain our capability to respond to Apollo and the Apollo applications program," he said.

Gompertz said he is confident those who remain can see to it that Apollo 7 is launched safely.

★ ★ ★

"They are very professional people motivated by their interest in keeping a flawless launch record," he said. Fourteen Saturn 1 rockets have been launched from Cape Kennedy since 1961, all successful. Apollo 7 is the first manned mission using the Saturn.

Some of the 50 to 100 people who will be cut from the launch team after Apollo 7 will be employed by other Chrysler divisions.

Families of Astronauts Gather Before Launching

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Walter Cunningham flew to Florida Wednesday for a quiet dinner with her astronaut husband on their last evening together before he blasts off for 11 days in space.

The pretty blonde flew by private airplane with the two Cunningham children, Brian, 8, and Kimberly, 5. They will return to their Houston home Friday night after the Apollo 7 launch.

★ ★ ★

The wife of the Apollo 7 command pilot, Mrs. Walter M. Schirra, will spend launch day at home with her daughter, Suzanne, 11, and friends. Walter M. Schirra III, 18-year-old son of the astronaut, expects to stay at Stanford University, where he is a freshman.

Mrs. Donn F. Eisele, wife of the third Apollo 7 crewman, plans to stay home throughout the flight. The Eiseles have three children, Melinda, 14; Donn H., 12; and Jon 4.

HOMES NEAR CENTER

The homes of the three astronauts are near the Manned Spacecraft Center.

A spokesman at the center said Mrs. Cunningham and possibly her husband also would attend the Wednesday night party organized by the wives of eight other astronauts.

★ ★ ★

The astronauts, not permitted guests on the night before the launch, will sleep in special quarters Thursday night a short drive from where their Apollo spacecraft awaits the final countdown.

★ ★ ★

Eisele and Schirra will be able to talk with their wives by telephone before the flight. In the past, astronauts have been permitted a final prelaunch call to their families from the spacecraft.

VETERAN WAITER

Mrs. Schirra is a veteran of waiting at home while her husband soars in space. Schirra flew the Sigma 7 Mercury flight in 1962 and was command pilot on the Gemini 6 flight in 1965.

Eisele and Cunningham are space rookies.

★ ★ ★

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said the home of each of the astronauts is wired to receive the audio channel carrying air-to-ground conversations between the astronauts and mission control and is equipped with a television set for each of the national networks.

Thieu's Office Insists That Coup Reports Are False

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu's office denied today that an attempt had been made to overthrow his government Tuesday.

A spokesman said the president's office considers the coup reports as false. He added that Thieu is going on radio and television tonight to deny the reports, which had been relayed by other government spokesmen Wednesday and repeated by them earlier today.

★ ★ ★

A government spokesman read a presidential communique to newsmen at a regular afternoon press briefing. It said: "During the past two days there have been many false rumors spread by the Communists or uninformed people saying that (ARVN) Army of the Republic of Vietnam troops are on alert to defend against a rebellion and, second, that a number of people have been arrested.

"All military measures being applied are normal to defend military installations. The military is continuing activities against the enemy."

'NO ARRESTS'

The communique said there had been no arrests. The spokesman who read the communique at the briefing declined to comment further, even when it was pointed out that a government spokesman earlier had confirmed that a coup attempt had been made.

That spokesman had told newsmen: "You can say that a government spokesman confirmed that there was an attempted coup but that it failed."

The highly reliable government informat who reported a thwarted coup attempt said again, "There have been arrests."

The source, who is in a position to know, said more arrests, both civilian and military, could be expected in the next two days. "The police are still investigating and interrogating," he said.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said, "We still have nothing on why they called the alert, other than that it was a normal precautionary alert."

Vietnamese government spokesmen attributed the alert to a move to counter possible action by "troublemakers," but they would not identify the "troublemakers."

The official Vietnam Press reported today that "several defensive measures were built up by security agencies in the Saigon capital and its vicinity (Tuesday) night.

Lesson Learned?

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Three admitted bootleggers were put on two years' probation Wednesday in U.S. District Court. Judge Gus J. Solomon said he thought they had learned their lesson after their very first customer turned out to be an agent from the U.S. Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division.

Stokes Ousts Police Chief, Seeks $17 Million for Program

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mayor Carl B. Stokes, troubled by racial unrest in Cleveland, announced Wednesday a $17-million program to improve law enforcement.

★ ★ ★

The Negro mayor also relieved Police Chief Michael J. Blackwell, 68, and gave the $22,125-a-year post to Deputy Inspector Patrick L. Gerity, 49.

★ ★ ★

Blackwell, who was appointed police chief when Stokes took office last November, turned down an offer to become a consultant to the police department and said he would rather go back to being an inspector.

Stokes told a news conference he would ask City Council for funds to overhaul the police communications system and to establish a modern command center to coordinate police response to crime calls.

★ ★ ★

He said he would fully detail the program later but the immediate aim was to correct the "internal breakdown of police morale and discipline."

★ ★ ★

Relations between members of the 2,200-man police department and City Hall became strained after the July 23 sniper incident when 10 persons, including three white policemen, were killed after a group of black nationalists opened fire on police.

Stokes withdrew white police and National Guardsmen from the Glenville area the night after the shootings. Black community leaders and Negro policemen patrolled the streets.

Although Stokes' decision was later praised by some persons as having prevented more bloodshed, the Fraternal Order of Police strongly criticized the mayor's actions.

DEROGATORY REMARKS?

The order demanded the resignation of Safety Director Joseph F. McManamon. A resolution calling for Blackwell's resignation was dropped in view of the police chief's age.

There were reports that patrolmen were broadcasting derogatory remarks about Stokes over the police radio and refusing to answer calls to Negro areas.

Stokes referred to the worsening situation last month in a televised address in which he blamed the Glenville incident for "a tenseness in our city."

He said the tragedy "has stirred the fears and suspicions of so many, turning police against citizen, citizen against citizen, governmental official against governmental official, black against white."

Student Unit Attacks MSU Resolution

EAST LANSING (AP) — The Michigan State University Board of Trustees has "consciously established the doctrine that students are guilty until proven innocent," says the student governing body.

★ ★ ★

In a six-page position paper, the Associated Students of MSU (ASMSU) criticized a resolution passed recently by the trustees at a closed meeting.

★ ★ ★

The resolution gives President John A. Hannah or his delegate the power to suspend a student whose activity is considered "an immediate threat" to normal university operations.

Hannah, who previously backed the measure, later said he would recommend rescinding the resolution that led to a "cremation" ceremony on his front steps.

COPIES BURNED

Students burned copies of the MSU academic freedom report, which they said was "dead" if the resolution were allowed to stand.

★ ★ ★

"The board of trustees, by secretly passing this resolution, has circumvented the amendment procedures established in the academic freedom report," the ASMSU paper said.

★ ★ ★

"Trustees have, in fact, placed themselves in a position superior to the report and have reduced it to a hollow testimony to the myth of academic freedom."

★ ★ ★

"MSU trustees," the paper added, "cannot expect students to follow a freedom report if they themselves do not."

★ ★ ★

Regarding the resolution, the paper added: "There could be nothing more ludicrous than a university official informing a torch-carrying student that he cannot burn a building because he has been officially suspended."

AAA Exec Hits Repair Cost Hike

'Hidden Wipers a Car Safety Hazard'

DETROIT (UPI) — Hidden windshield wipers, a new styling trend in the auto industry, have been indicted as a serious safety hazard, and an item that could add millions of dollars to the annual repair bills on American cars.

The man who makes the charge is Edward Daniels of the Inter-Insurance Exchange of the Automobile Club of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Daniels laid it on the line before the American Society of Body Engineers at their annual convention in Detroit earlier this month.

★ ★ ★

Though he pulled his punches in his words, Daniels left no doubt that the new hood design, permitting the hiding of windshield wipers, could become a horizontal guillotine for car passengers involved in a serious head-on collision.

FACTOR CITED

"The hidden windshield wiper design is such that in moderate front end accidents, the sharp hood corner or fender corner is driven back, breaking the windshield and adding an unnessary $100 to the repair. In severe accidents, the side mounted hinges give way, throwing the hood into the passenger compartment," Daniels said.

The prospect of a knife-edged front hood hurtling through a windshield back into the passenger compartment of a car is certain to occupy the attention of federal highway safety officials in Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

The hidden windshield wiper design was first developed and used on the 1967 Pontiac. It spread to other General Motors products on 1968 models and has been adopted on many models of the other car makers in 1969.

★ ★ ★

Daniels' speech to the body engineers was not essentially to point out any safety failures in design on new cars, but the failure of design engineers to stem the mounting cost of repairs to cars involved in accidents. Daniels, in fact, suggested that designers were increasing repair costs.

BIG REPAIR BILL

He pointed out that the accident-repair bill for American motorist runs between $5 billion and $6 billion annually, a 53 per cent increase over the past seven years. He conceded that the rise in parts prices and labor rates played a part in the increased cost of the repair, but said these items do not explain the rise in the over-all repair bill.

"I submit that design with a disregard for repair is responsible for the difference," he said.

Bumpers, he said, were now only ornamental and are easily damaged in accident impacts of less than 10 miles an hour. He said a functional bumper that could avoid damage in a 5 to 10 mile impact, like backing into a car while parking, could reduce auto accident losses by 20 per cent, or $1 billion a year.

Daniels pointed out some of today's front bumper and grille assemblies are held together with 57 bolts and require the efforts of three men to install and align. He said there is so much inaccessibility for repair designed into cars that it sometimes costs 10 times as much for labor as for the part being replaced. In some cases, he said, a bumper has to be removed to replace a taillight bulb.

LITTLE ROOM

There is so little room between a radiator and the engine fan that even a minor front-end accident can damage the radiator core.

He said many panels have square or oval holes for attaching exterior ornamentation, but replacement panels come without the holes and have to be put in by the body man. "I don't know of any tool available in the repair field which will make square or oval holes in metal panels," he said.

He said that when a side window vent is damaged, a $30 vent assembly must be purchased to obtain a $2 part of the assembly.

Negotiations Halted by 2 State Firms

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Wolverine Industries Inc. announced Wednesday that negotiations have been terminated to acquire the assets of Lamar Pipe Co. Both firms are headquartered in Grand Rapids, but the announcement was made at Wolverine's subsidiary in Battle Creek, the H.B. Sherman Manufacturing Co.

No reason for the breakoff in negotiations was given.

★ ★ ★

Kenneth S. Case, Wolverine president, had announced Sept. 17 that his company had agreed to acquire the assets of Lamar for stock, subject to approval of the directors and shareholders of both companies.

GOP Has High Hopes for Pacific Northwest

SEATTLE (UPI) — Richard M. Nixon's campaign leaders have already hung a "reserved" sign on the Pacific Northwest's 22 electoral votes and turned their sights on electing more Republicans to Congress.

★ ★ ★

The four Northwest states — Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Alaska — are Nixon country. Never has a Republican ticket including Nixon failed to carry all four.

Although the presidential candidate cautions his supporters he is not completely "safe" in Washington and Oregon, Republican leaders have turned to Senate and congressional races as possible dividends of a Nixon victory.

Sens. Wayne Morse of Oregon and Frank Church of Idaho, two of the earliest and most outspoken Vietnam doves, are running scared. A third dove, Alaskas' Ernest Gruening, was cut down in his state's primary election.

APPEARS SAFE

In races for four Senate seats up this time in the Northwest, only Washington's Democratic Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, the Senate's seventh ranking member, appears safe.

Washington, which has nine of the Northwest's electoral votes, represents Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's best hope in the area. But key Democrats concede he trails Nixon. Reliable Republican sources advised Nixon he will carry Washington by up to 100,000 votes.

★ ★ ★

The GOP hopes a big Nixon victory will spill over into the congressional races and give them a majority of the state's even seats.

Aside from the Nixon-Humphrey match, focal point of interest in Washington is the gubernatorial race where Gov. Dan Evans, the GOP convention keynoter, is opposed in his second-term bid by three-term Atty. Gen. John J. O'Connell.

SENATE RACE

In Oregon, attention is focused on the Senate race between Morse and State Rep. Robert Packwood, 36, a Portland attorney.

Morse, at 67, a political enigma who has wandered across the political spectrum from Republican to independent to Democrat, is seeking reelection to a fifth term.

★ ★ ★

He barely outpolled hawkish former Rep. Robert Duncan in Oregon's spring primary and now faces stiff opposition in the general election from Packwood.

While the hawk-dove subject has not been injected into the race, Packwood is hoping to pull some of Duncan's supporters into his own camp to counter the state's Democratic registration edge.

SLIGHT EDGE

The hawk and dove question is very much at issue, however, in 44-year-old Church's battle in Idaho against two-term Congressman George V. Hansen. Church, who is seeking a third term, has a slight edge at this stage.

The Church-Hansen Senate match shares the spotlight in Idaho with a three-day battle for Hansen's second district seat — a race which includes Joel Anderson of the American Independent party.

★ ★ ★

Anderson could siphon off enough conservative Republican votes from state Sen. Orval Hanson, the GOP candidate, to throw the election to liberal Democrat Darrell Manning.

In Alaska, the third-man theme runs more through the race for senator than it does through the presidential test, since Nixon again has a wide lead.

★ ★ ★

The third man in this case is Gruening, 81, who was beaten in the Democratic primary by Mike Gravel, 38-year-old Anchorage real estate developer.

Gruening has mounted a write-in campaign which, although it is now stalled in court, would probably hand the Senate seat to Elmer Rasmuson, an Anchorage banker, who is the Republican candidate.

Peddled by Pedaling Frenchmen

It's Onion Time in England

LONDON (AP) — The autumn tang has brought back the French—and their onions.

In the villages surrounding London, housewives are buying their French onions by the string to hang in their pantries for use as needed.

★ ★ ★

The seller is a man on a bike, wearing a beret, spurting out French if one is able to handle it or stumbling in some sort of patois English.

The invasion happens every year about now. London gets most of the traffic but it spreads sometimes much farther away, even to Scotland.

CENTURY-OLD

It's been going on for a century or more, to such an extent there is a permanent center on Lambeth Walk where the onions are collected and the bicycling Frenchmen take off on their journeys.

★ ★ ★

Fathers hand the custom down to sons, and frequently they work together so that the youngsters get the hang of it.

★ ★ ★

Strapped to the handlebars of a bike are 30 10-pound bunches of onions on a string. On a good day the Breton clears his handlebars completely and brings in $25-30.

★ ★ ★

In a month, Jean—and all of them seem to be called Jean—can peddle about four tons of the only onions he thinks are any good. The British housewife agrees with him on the quality of Brittany onions.

A string goes for around a dollar. The bicycle brigade goes back every year to the same houses, and the liaison becomes so firm that housewives often add tips to the price.

With tips the onion man may net $40. That's for a 70 to 80 hour week, but they all seem happy about it.

"We've always done it," said one Breton who parks his bike with a friend in Lambeth, returns every year and finds it intact.

★ ★ ★

Jean peddles around pretty rapidly to get rid of his onions. Where he gets stuck is in a household where the wife speaks fluent French. Unable to resist it, he stands and talks.

No union is particularly concerned about the situation. Nor are British dealers, who long ago decided the custom is so ingrained it never can be eradicated.

Those who work for the syndicate are more or less on a commission rate. The independents—perhaps half the sellers—are the real hagglers.

If the housewife refuses to haggle and pays the first price offered, she loses face and the peddler is quite unhappy. A bit of shouting back and forth makes his day.

★ ★ ★

How many onions in a string? If they are the right size, 24.

If there are 23 or 25, there's a good chance for a beauteous row. Which also will make the peddler's day.

Dem Sign-Up Drive Hailed as Success

DETROIT (UPI) — Michigan Democrats have concluded their "most successful registration drive in history," assuring Hubert H. Humphrey of the state in the November election, a party official said today.

★ ★ ★

James M. McNeely, the party's director of registration, said about one-half million Michigan residents have registered as voters since the drive began in April. He said the great bulk of the registrations were in Michigan's 16 industrial counties, centers of traditional Democratic strength.

★ ★ ★

He said former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace would not draw more than the "10 or 12 per cent" of the vote that always goes to persons with Wallace's philosophy.

More than 10,000 industrial employes in the United States may be exposed to the dangerous beam of a laser light, which can cause eye damage and severe burns.

'69 Kingswood Estate 3-Seat Walk-In Wagon

GM
Chevrolet introduces the walk-in wagon.

Here's a wagon that welcomes you in the back door without making you stoop over to keep from banging your head.

Now you simply walk up a step in the bumper and walk down a step inside. Then you simply turn around and sit right down. Don't worry. We've slanted the back-end to help avoid the roof from bumping your head.

Another thoughtful design is our dual-action tailgate. Its concealed door openers won't catch a sleeve like an outside handle.

And another: You can specify washers for the headlights.

Still another: Tri-Level loading in most wagons. Order a roof rack for carrying convenience on top, in addition to the load space you have inside and under the rear floor.

Our '69 wagons also are big on looks and performance. One quick example is the new 327-cubic-inch engine, standard in many models. It's the largest standard V8 in its field.

Look over both our wagon sizes, biggest and big. Even the names are new. All at your Chevrolet dealer's now.

Just walk in.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

Name Had to Have Style to Suit This Noted Fashion Designer

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard is all right as a name if you are running for president. And Richard is fine, too, if you are an actor named Burton. But if you are a couturier in Rome, you need a handle that is musical and has style.

That is why a cowboy, born Evan Richard in Fort Worth, Tex., in 1924 went underground as such in Italy, finally to emerge as Tiziani of Rome.

★ ★ ★

The metamorphosis has worked well. In a few years the new name has seared to prominence, helped somewhat by its close proximinity to that star everybody watches, Elizabeth Taylor.

Ever since she was in Rome making Cleopatra, she has had her wardrobe replenished by Tiziani. His tastes coincide with Richard Burton's.

SIMILAR CHOICE

"He chooses the things I would pick," says the small, bespectacled man with thinning blond hair.

Mrs. Burton is one of the few stars today who lives and dresses like a star, laments Tiziani.

Fortunately, she is not the last of the big spenders. Recently enough of the international jet set, waving checks, swarmed to his show in New York to keep the noses of his Italian seamstresses close to their needlework for months. Later in Palm Beach Richard-alias-Tiziani will repeat the show.

★ ★ ★

If, while at a plush party here, he bursts into song, it will be because guests expect it, even insist on it. Before taking up the rag trade and the Tiziani name, he was a tenor in Italian opera. Indeed, it was to study voice that he left his family's Texas ranch at 18 and headed for Italy.

Soon he knew so many chic people in Rome, and had so many strong fashion ideas, that he thought a small design business might be a sideline to singing.

"Why, I was still singing 'Butterfly' a month before my first collection," he remembers. "I was just going to do a few things, but I got caught in a snowball that grew very fast."

Now Richard the tenor has lost out altogether to Tiziani of Rome who lives grandly, works hard not far from the Spanish Steps, and attends lavish parties everywhere.

★ ★ ★

Elegant parties are as important to a fashion designer, he believes, as golf to the American businessman. Not only is he able to keep up with what styles the social scene requires, he meets the women with wallets enough to wear his clothes.

"I find that many women are bashful about coming to my showroom unless I have invited them personally," he says.

On the whole, Tiziani daytime dress is dramatic and a ball gown is spectacular, a blend of his love of both theater and fashion. So dazzling are some of his gem and sequin-encrusted garments that he has been dubbed by the trade as the King of Beads.

Does he approve of see-through apparel for older women? Yes, if they cheat by wearing flesh-colored underpinnings which give support to sagging muscles.

★ ★ ★

What is the future of skirt lengths? Hems may hover at the knee, but seldom lower, Tiziani says. The midi and the maxi are dead, except for kids who like to play grown-up in their mother's high heels, says Tiziani.

Another Yankee, Ken Scott, who decided that if his name was good enough for Indiana it was good enough for Italy, has done equally well in Milan as a fabric and fashion designer.

TIMING RIGHT

Both were successful, Tiziani believes, because the timing was right. Thanks to slightly lower wages and a greater supply of needle craftsmen, the country in the '60s just began to give Paris some serious competition. Moreover, two Italian houses, Capucci and Simonetta, had moved to Paris, leaving more customers per couturier in Italy.

Though Tiziani, who bears a resemblance to Truman Capote, is too mild-mannered to dig turtlenecks, Apache shirts and jangling chains for himself, he is gleeful over men's revived interest in fashion for themselves.

"I think some menswear designers have gone a little far out," he says, frowning thoughtfully over the problem. "I may do some men's wear myself, but something conservative."

Now and then he is contrite about killing off Richard the promising tenor. But on the other hand Tiziani of Rome is such a popular basically happy fellow that these moods soon pass.

After all, he has really made a name for himself.

More of Gift Than Planned

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Recently E. R. Waltman brought home $200 cash and hid it in the pocket of an old topcoat.

A few days later, his wife donated the coat to a charitable organization, a fact that Waltman didn't discover until several days later.

★ ★ ★

He rushed down to the organization's headquarters, explained his plight, and with the help of workers began rummaging through 22 crates of used clothing.

Waltman found his coat, and the cash, in the second crate.

Nixon Outlook, Bullish Factors Boost Mart, but Slump Likely

NEW YORK (AP) — The possibility of a Nixon election victory, easier money, and good business performance have sent the stock market soaring. But it's expected to drift down again.

The latest rally began in mid-September, built up strength and really flexed its muscles Thursday. The Dow Jones Industrial Average jumped 7.15 points to 949.47, and hit 952.95 Friday, best since the record high of 995.15 on Feb. 9, 1966.

Thursday also featured record first-hour trading of 6.74 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange. The 21.11 million shares traded during the day was second to the record 21.35 million on June 13.

"The market's ebullience generally comes," said Joseph F. Dorsey, president of Argus Research Corp. "From easier money, good business figures, Nixon optimism, and investor thinking that any future recession will be short-lived."

BULLISH IMPLICATIONS

The possibility of a Nixon victory is "having certain bullish (optimistic) implications for the stock market," said Richard Scruggs, a Goodbody & Co. analyst. "This stems from his indications that he would allow the 10 per cent income tax surcharge to expire next June 30, that he would favor less 'heavy-handed' regulation of the securities industry, and that he would favor removal of government curbs on overseas investment."

The market also is drawing strength from the fact the nation's economy continues to advance at a rapid pace despite the income tax surcharge and government spending cuts.

And advance by the bulls of Wall Street has led many of the bears—those who believe prices will go down—to get into the rising market. Among these were many of the influential institutional buyers.

"A lot of the money accumulated in institutions wasn't being spent because they thought the surtax would have a stronger effect than it has had," Robert Weingarten, senior vice president of Scheinman, Hoehstin & Trotta, said.

STEPPED-UP ACTIVITY

Evidence of stepped-up activity by institutions —which trade in large blocks—was seen Thursday by the record total of 118 trades of 10,000 shares or more. The previous record was 91 such trades.

"The institutions just got involved in a big way in recent years," Ralph A. Rotnem, senior vice president of Harris, Upham & Co. Inc., said. "They have a tremendous influence. The funds alone now have more than $3.4 billion to invest."

★ ★ ★

The experts aren't sure how long the market can keep its bullish tone.

"The market is going too far, too fast," Weingarten said. "While the market over-all is in good shape, it's going up too fast, and the market never sustains this kind of rally."

Castro Finds Youth Revolt a Bitter Pill

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro's complaint that young Cubans are burning flags, destroying posters of Che Guevara and turning to prostitution or delinquency is a painful admission for a Communist government that has pinned many hopes on its youth.

Some observers feel the actions of young Cubans are typical of the anti-Establishment trend bothering other countries, but others say it is a sign of disaffection with the grim life in Cuba.

★ ★ ★

If Castro has his way, and he usually does, life may become even grimmer for young Cubans.

In a speech last weekend, he said the government's answer to delinquency will be more obligatory education, with compulsory agricultural work and military training for those who backslide.

LAID TO SABOTEURS

Castro blamed the recent burning of buildings and agricultural installations on "saboteurs" incited by the Central Intelligence Agency. He blamed teen-age prostitution, which has always been widespread, on "imperialist propaganda."

★ ★ ★

Castro's statement that youths are destroying Guevara posters and vandalizing schools is a more serious acknowledgement that something has gone wrong. The government has invested thousands of pesos and hours educating youth in an attempt to make them adopt the national slogan that they "want to be like Che."

★ ★ ★

In the past, antigovernment activities always have been blamed on those with a "capitalistic hangover," but today's 14-year-old is hardly old enough to have been influenced by the happenings of pre-Castro days.

Reaction against present conditions and the government's demands for Communist militancy is believed to come from only a small percentage of youth centered in city areas.

MORE SCHOOLS

The Cuban prime minister indicated he probably would divert some money from housing to build more boarding schools where students can be kept "away from corrupting influences."

Gandhi's '1,000-Year Light' May Be Going Out Across India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India is observing the centenary of Mohandas K. Gandhi's birth — and many Indians are dismayed that their country has strayed far from the Gandhian path.

The inspiring spirit of India's independence was born Oct. 2, 1869. Throughout the year ending next Oct. 2 the Gandhi Centenary Committee will attempt to rekindle the memory of the spindly, bespectacled man who preached nonviolence and uplift of the downtrodden.

★ ★ ★

When a Hindu fanatic gunned down Gandhi at a New Delhi prayer meeting Jan. 30, 1948, Jawaharlal Nehuru, then prime minister, promised that Gandhi's message would far outlive the man.

"The light that shone in this country was no ordinary light," Nehru told India. "The light that has illumined this country for these many years will illumine this country for many more years, and 1,000 years later that light will be seen in this country."

LIGHT FLICKERING?

Twenty years away from Gandhi's death, many feel that the 1,000-year light is flickering.

★ ★ ★

The great Gandhian causes — nonviolence, uplifting the untouchables, prohibition, Hindu-Moslem unity — have run out of steam. The high moral standards Gandhi demanded of himself and others seem to be too high, as the country settles into easier ways of doing things.

★ ★ ★

Almost every day some aggrieved group — whether government employes, university students or the citizens of some region — launches a "Gandhi-style" protest movement.

"But," says Morarji Desai, India's deputy prime minister and leading Gandhian in the government, "the techniques of Satyagraha Gandhi's nonviolent method have been perverted in the wrong hands."

RESULT IN VIOLENCE

As often as not, such "nonviolent" demonstrations degenerate into some kind of violence. That would have caused Gandhi to fast in penance. Today it merely satisfies demonstrators that they have grabbed the spotlight.

★ ★ ★

"Violence is in the very air we breathe," says Dr. Sushila Nayar, the woman doctor who was at his side when he was shot.

★ ★ ★

Gandhi devoted much of his life to campaigning for one-fifth of India's citizens considered untouchables. He called the Harijans — "children of God."

"Socially, they are lepers," said Gandhi. "Economically, they are worse than slaves."

Yet, says Dr. Nayar, using an endearing variant for Gandhi, "the state of the Harijans would shock Gandhi today."

'PIOUS FRAUD'

Though the practice of untouchability — discrimination against Harijans — is on paper a crime, the Times of India says: "The harsh truth is that anti-untouchability sentiment has remained no more than a pious fraud."

★ ★ ★

Annually the commissioner for the scheduled castes — untouchables — lists continued discriminations. Untouchables are often refused food in hotels or water at public wells. In several recent cases they have been murdered for being "uppity."

Another collapsed Gandhian cause is prohibition. "I hold drink to be more damnable than thieving and perhaps even prostitution," he said. Today, 15 of India's 17 states hold drink to be an excellent source of excise tax revenue.

Nathuram Godse fired three pistol shots into Gandhi for "appeasing" Moslems who had persuaded the withdrawing British to partition old British India and create Pakistan beside independent India in 1947.

Today Hindu-Moslem amity — "Gandhi lived for it and died for it," says Dr. Nayar — has no great proponent, and the two communities, spurred by sporadic and increasing violence, are drifting farther apart.

Pleas for communal peace roll down from the highest officers in the land, but fall on deaf or uninterested ears.

★ ★ ★

The Gandhi Centenary Committee has promised to organize a corps of youths dedicated to nonviolence who will try to snuff out communal and other riots before they can erupt.

Acharya J. B. Kripalani, an 80-year-old independent member of Parliament, is considered by many the most faithful living interpreter of Gandhi. He says Gandhi's message was for the world, not just for India.

"Gandhi's ideals of passive resistance are gaining ground wherever people are subject to overwhelming armed force or the force of numbers," he adds.

"The far-sighted Negro leaders in the United States feel that their most effective weapon is through nonviolent action. Recently the Czech people are trying Gandhi's methods to resist the armies of Russia.

"Even in India, 20 years is much too little time to be able to assess the real impact of Gandhi's message."

Dag Hammarskjold Kin Sees Aviation Pacts as Breakthrough

MONTREAL (AP) — Knut Hammarskjold is convinced that international aviation agreements are a first step toward world government.

"I am very much an internationalist," says the thoughtful, quietly elegant director-general of the International Air Transport Association.

"Aviation could help to break down nationalism because it recognizes no land barriers."

Hammarskjold says IATA, which sets air fares and efficiency standards for airlines, is galloping to keep up with technological advances and to preserve order in an increasingly crowded sky.

* * *

He has some ideas for streamlining tedious procedures at international airports:

"In Norway and Sweden, the highways along the border are dotted with checkpoints manned by only one representative of either country who handles red tape for both. Why not introduce the same system at international airports?"

He suggests that governments have a single identity card for each citizen to replace the handful of customs and immigration information which now fills every international traveler's wallet.

* * *

"A single card could be processed easily by computers. Customs and immigration officials could even process passengers on the plane during the flight.

"Jumbo jets will begin flying to North America next year, starting with 350 passengers each flight and increasing eventually to 500.

"As planes get larger, you can in one action move two or three times as many people, but when the passengers reach the ground, the rest of the process can become very time consuming."

Hammarskjold is no stranger to airports. Since he was appointed in April 1966 he has spent two-thirds of his time traveling to the countries of member airlines.

A nongovernmental organization, IATA draws its legal existence from a special act of the Canadian Parliament. Its directors work closely with the International Civil Aviation Organization, an agency of governments which creates world standards for technical regulation of civil aviation. IATA was founded in 1945 with a membership of 57 airlines which has grown to 103.

Aeroflot, the Soviet line, is not a member but its pilots operate by IATA rules on international flights "for the sake of order."

Hammarskjold, 46, was educated in Stockholm in economics, law and languages. He became interested in international aeronautics as first secretary for four years in the Swedish legation in Moscow. He helped negotiate the Soviet Union's first bilateral aviation agreement.

He later became director of a Swedish foreign relations department dealing exclusively with civil aviation, and worked for the Organization for European Economic Cooperation and the European Free Trade Association.

He is fluent in English, French, Dutch, German, Swedish and Norwegian, has more than a smattering of Russian, and is a music and art lover, an amateur architect, and an avid skier.

Hammarskjold's father, a judge, died when Knut was a small boy, and he formed a close attachment to his uncle, Dag, who died in a 1961 air crash.

Turmoil Shows Reform Need in Education

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

The present churning and turmoil in the educational world indicates the need for major changes throughout our schools and colleges.

The immediate solutions worked out in the Columbia University uprising and the New York City strike will be only temporary. These kinds of problems will continue to plague education.

* * *

The problems facing education are generally the result of the problems facing our society and nation. Historically, educators have designed programs which maintain our society. It is time for these programs to lead our society.

The people are turning to educators and saying that there is a great need. The schools and colleges cannot continue to remain apart from the national turmoil. They must actively respond.

NEW RESPONSE

The response can not be more of the same. Obviously, the program and approaches of the past few years are not the solution. Educators must begin to meet the needs of the students.

Many of the demands are proper and should be met. Actually, they must be anticipated if educators are to become leaders and not only reactors to emergencies.

* * *

It is time for parents and educators alike to make greater efforts to understand and meet the needs of our society. New and creative programs are required. This means change and possibly money.

Our nation can no longer afford to wait. The people demand and educators must respond.

States' Aid to Education at Record Level

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new national survey discloses that state tax support for higher education over the past year has risen beyond an unprecedented $5 billion.

The amounts appropriated by New York and Illinois alone exceed the total $1.4 billion expended by all the states for this purpose in 1959-60, the survey results show.

Despite the mounting state financial support, however, public higher education still is not able to keep up with rising costs and demands, according to the Office of Institutional Research of the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges.

The new survey was carried out by Indiana University's Dr. M. M. Chambers as part of an annual report on state tax appropriations for operating expenses of higher education.

The report shows that the 50 states appropriated a total of $5,050,424,000 in tax funds for higher education over the past year—a 233 per cent rate increase over what was expended for this purpose in 1961.

Representative state tax fund appropriations for higher education over the past year include: $636,788,000 by California; $484,966,000 by New York; $402,273,000 by Illinois; $262,424,000 by Michigan and $105,131,000 by Minnesota.

A spokesman for the Office of Institutional Research, commenting on the Chambers survey results, noted that while state tax support is rising in dollars, it has steadily declined as a percentage of total income for many public institutions.

"With growing competition from areas such as welfare, highway and urban programs for state dollars," the spokesman said, "this proportion threatens to decline even more although dollar support will continue to grow."

Public institutions of higher education throughout the country currently are plagued with budget pressures caused by expansion, inflation and salary increase demands, according to data submitted to the office by 100 institutions in 41 states.

Plans to increase faculty salaries by at least 5 per cent and, in some cases, as much as 15 per cent, were reported by almost all the institutions. This reflects a spiralling cost of living increase and the need for public universities to close the salary gap between public and private institutions.

Last year, the office reported, public universities raised full professors' salaries an average 7.3 per cent. Yet, the office said, private universities still are able to offer full professors an average of $2,110 more per year above this amount in salary.

FALLING BEHIND

Chambers further reported that as far as quality in higher education can be measured by expenditures for the instruction of one student for one year, public colleges and universities are falling behind private institutions.

The remedy, Chambers suggests, is further augmentation of tax support for public institutions.

"It is within the capacity of the states to provide without hardship, if they update their revenue systems," Chambers said in his report. "It will pay large dividends in economic growth, wise citizenship and humane civilization."

It All Matters to Hemmings

British Star Has Gift for Living

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Everything matters—everything matters—but nothing matters frightfully."

BOYLE

At 26 this is the philosophy of David Hemmings, the handsome British movie star who has been hailed, mistakenly he says, as a symbol of modern youth.

Currently starred in "The Charge of the Light Brigade," Hemmings skyrocketed to fame as the haunted, nihilistic young photographer in Michelangelo Antonioni's film, "Blowup."

"That seemed to make me out to be an example of apathetic modern youth," he said. "I'm not. My ideal is the Renaissance man, one who is interested in everything, willing to try anything, and isn't frightened of making mistakes.

'TOO APATHETIC'

"I believe in youth today very much, but not in some of its beliefs about itself. It is too apathetic. Demonstrations and shouting are not necessarily involvement with anything—except shouting.

"I predict the suicide rate in this country and England will go up 500 per cent in the next 15 years as a result of overintrospection. People are too self-involved. They avoid the responsibility of society because they are unable to cope with the personal societies that are within them.

★ ★ ★

"Youth simply will have to burden itself with the responsibilities of adulthood, but presently they're not prepared for it."

The long-haired actor, gifted with an exuberant charm, has an extraordinary zest for living and has led a bohemian, knock-about life since childhood.

BOY SOPRANO

He started touring Britain at 9 as a boy soprano in an opera troupe, and when his voice changed at 14, he was so upset he fled his home to life alone in London.

"I didn't exactly run away," he said. "I just came to an understanding with my parents it would be better if I went off on my own. They agreed."

★ ★ ★

At 15 he held a successful exhibition of his paintings, then launched a career as a theatrical agent, which came to nothing. David then washed cars, worked with a mountain rescue team in Wales, spent two years in an Australian nightclub singing and playing the guitar. By the time he was picked for the role in "Blowup," he had become a well-known television and stage actor in London.

Hemmings reads widely, writes and hopes to become a director in another year.

NOT HANDICAP

"Lack of formal education hasn't been a handicap to me," he said. "It's a help.

"I quit school officially at 8. Supposedly I had tutors after that, but you know how they are—bad.

"But not being restricted by a rigid format, I have had much more freedom in learning the things I want to. I feel that gives you a greater appetite for knowledge—exciting knowledge.

David, who admits he is "a difficult person to have relationships with," married at 19. Now divorced, he is engaged to Gayle Hunnicutt, a slender young Texas actress.

These are the things David likes:

"Science fiction, black and white and green and yellow ochre colors, American football, March and November, strawberries and all kinds of breads, vodka, the sound of surf and all water sounds, the scent of fresh-cut grass, Dostoevsky and Dylan Thomas, casual clothes—I'm the world's worst dresser, pen and ink drawings, skeet shooting and fishing, girls with long hair, intelligence and strength, people who are optimistic."

These things bore him:

"Five o'clock in the afternoon—when I feel lowest, spilling things, incompetence, not having money in my pocket, spice-scented shaving lotions, telephone bells and car horns, Mexican food, the novels of Anthony Trollope, wristwatches, traveling and the passage of time, self-conscious girls, people who don't have a point of view or who won't state it, and people who don't wear their masks well."

Kitty Carlisle's Wit Showed in Her Search for Success

By YOLANDA BENAVIDES

Cutting as trim a figure as her college-age daughter, TV personality Kitty Carlisle proved equally young in spirit and wit on stage Wednesday for the first Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall, Inc., gathering of the season.

The charming brunette's appearance marked the 10th anniversary for the lecture series given at the Huron Theatre with traditional celebrity luncheon following at Devon Gables.

★ ★ ★

From the moment of her arrival, Miss Carlisle, who jokingly declared herself, "the oldest living settler" of the daily To Tell the Truth TV panel, brought rounds of laughter and applause from the capacity audience.

"My husband once remarked that no one is dull if they talk of something they know about," began Miss Carlisle.

The ultimate solution, as she found, was an intimate portrait of her career, sprinkled with the glamour of the stage and blended with frequent musical renditions she introduced on film.

Unlike most starry-eyed youngsters with visions of seeing their name in lights, New Orleans-born Kitty was bent on stardom under the determined zeal of her mother.

LONG STAY

Beginning with the pair's departure for Paris following her father's death, the then grade school age Kitty and her mother spent the next 10 years in Europe hunting for Miss Carlisle's stage break.

"It's true," reflected a serious Miss Carlisle, "along the way I found I wasn't the prettiest girl, nor the best singer around, or for that matter, the best actress.

"But with a little bit of courage and discipline, you'll find that one can make a small amount of talent go a long way."

★ ★ ★

And indeed, success finally engulfed the tall, slim lovely when she won the Broadway role of Prince Orlofsky in Champagne Sec. The first smash hit for Miss Carlisle was based on Strauss' Die Fledermaus.

Four months later she was on her way to Hollywood where four successful musical comedies brought further stardom.

In 1967 came perhaps the biggest thrill of her life, says Miss Carlisle, when she walked on stage of the Metropolitan Opera House on New Years' Eve to sing her original Broadway role of Prince Opera Die Fledermaus.

TWO CAREERS

As her very presence yesterday illustrates, Kitty Carlisle has indeed succeeded, in her professional as well as private life as wife of the late playwright Moss Hart and mother of two.

Son Chris is a junior at Harvard and daughter Cathy, 18, is a freshman at the University of Wisconsin.

In her civic endeavors she is a special consultant to Governor Rockefeller on Opportunities for Women, an offspring of the Status of Women Commission initiated by the late President Kennedy.

Other activities include membership of the Visiting Committee of the Board of Overseers of Harvard University for the School of Design and Visual Arts.

Telephone Tact Is Essential for Business

By ELIZABETH L. POST

A bank officer with whom I was discussing business recently needed some information from an associate seated two desks away. He saw that the man he wanted was busy, so rather than walking over to talk with him personally, he called him on the phone.

Obviously he felt that interrupting by telephone would appear less impolite than doing so in person. This incident reminded me how often many of us break the normal rules of courtesy and consideration by the way we use the telephone. To test your own telephone manners, see how many "Yes" answers you can truthfully give to the following questions.

- Do you try to time your calls so as not to interfere with the occupations of those you are calling?
- When making a business call do you identify yourself without waiting to be asked who is calling?
- When making a number of calls on a line serving several people, do you try to space them so that others may have a chance to use their phones?
- If someone else places your call for you, are you ready to speak as soon as the person you are calling is on the line?
- When making a call, do you wait for at least seven rings before hanging up?
- Do you ask a busy person if it is a convenient time before you start a lengthy conversation?
- Do you look up a number you're not sure of before dialing it on the chance that you remembered it incorrectly?
- Do you consider what time it is in the area you are calling before telephoning long distance?
- Do you avoid repeated calls to a friend's home when you know that someone else in the family will be disturbed each time?

Fiance Can't Understand Why Woman Acts in This Manner

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What is wrong with a wonderful, extremely well educated, good looking woman of 40 who becomes engaged, then proceeds to tell ME, her future husband, all about her previous love affairs in detail?

The next surprise she handed me was that although she is "in love" with me, she has not been able to discard a collection of pictures of her ex-boyfriends, and when I insisted that she throw them away she suggested breaking our engagement.

All of this was done with the full permission and approval of her psychiatrist who felt it would be "good" for her to tell me whatever came into her mind.

FINISHED AND DISGUSTED

DEAR FINISHED: Surely you must realize that the woman is in therapy and is attempting to face her problems squarely in an effort to resolve them. Her confessions were not very pretty, I agree, but her past adventures were probably causing her to feel guilty and unworthy, hence the truth session.

If she is truly "wonderful," have a talk with her doctor for a better understanding of the situation.

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I have been married for 14 years. She quit working when we got married because we had a family soon after. Now that the children are in school she's taken a part-time job. This is what bothers me. In the past all our money was placed into a joint account for both of us.

Now that she's working, she puts her earnings into a separate account for herself. She says she wants a "nest egg." Why should a wife need a nest egg? I don't have any such separate funds. Maybe you can understand a woman's reasoning. It eludes me.

DON'T GET IT

DEAR DON'T: Don't assume that because a wife wants a "nest egg" she is going to fly the coop. Those nest eggs which frugal wives stash away in sugar bowls are usually used to buy gifts for husbands and kids.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I would like your opinion which I respect highly. I have been going steady with a boy for two years. Ira is 20 and I am 17. My parents have a summer home at the shore, and on weekends Ira has been our houseguest.

One day after playing ball Ira asked me to wash his socks out. It is true, he was my guest, but I think that a 20-year-old intelligent boy should be able to wash his own socks out.

I told him "no," and we didn't have an argument or anything like that, but a few weeks later his parents brought it up to me in jest.

Was I wrong not to have washed his socks out?

IRA'S GIRL

★ ★ ★

DEAR GIRL: No. Ira needs a lesson in manners, and if he doesn't know how to launder his socks, it's time he pulled 'em up and learned.

'Wilson Weekend' Features Group

A concert by David, della Rosa and Brooks will be the featured attraction of "Wilson Weekend," which in the absence of a football team fills the role of homecoming at Oakland University.

The popular singing group will perform in concert at 8 p.m. Friday in the Sports and Recreation Building. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

David, della Rosa and Brooks, within one evening's concert, cover the spectrum of popular music, blending their voices to their own accompaniment on six and 12-string guitars, bass, vibes, and piano.

Other events scheduled for "Wilson Weekend" include the appearance Friday of former Undersecretary of State Roger Hilsman, who will give a lecture at 11 a.m. in Wilson Hall on "International Politics and the American Public" and will participate in an open discussion from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Oakland Center.

The Columbia University professor of government was appointed by the late John Kennedy to serve as one of the administration's chief foreign policy makers.

On tap for Saturday are two sports events, a varsity soccer game against Macinac College and a girls swim meet against Adrian College, both to be staged here beginning at 2 p.m.

* * *

The celebration of Mrs. Wilson's Weekend has been observed at Oakland University since 1962, when students surprised their "first lady" on her 79th birthday.

Use Baby Cream for Hand Care

Put a jar of baby cream on your kitchen shelf — not for the baby or for cooking, but to preserve the cook's hands.

A recent survey revealed that the kitchen is where most women's hands are ruined by the inevitable in-and-out of water that washes away most hand lotions.

* * *

Baby cream is the perfect kitchen companion because it was especially developed to protect skin exposed to excessive moisture. It doesn't wash right off every time you rinse a piece of lettuce or your hands and its purity makes it safe for sensitive skin.

Nylon and polyester have been combined in a single filament to produce a fiber that has strength, toughness and wrinkle resistance as well as being attractive to the eye. It will be used in the manufacture of carpeting.

Braille Markers Allow the Blind to Try Cooking

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The recipe book and buttons on the stove are marked in braille for the cooking classes for blind children being conducted by home economists at the Dallas Power and Light Co. in cooperation with the Dallas Services for the Blind.

* * *

The girls, ranging in age from 7 to 19, are divided into junior and senor groups and learn to use electric knives, can openers, blenders and other tools.

* * *

Some become interested enough in cooking to enroll in home economics courses in high school.

* * *

"Many of the parents are afraid to let the girls learn to cook at home," said Mrs. Pat Pittman, an instructor. "But with this training many of them go home to prepare meals for their families."

'Out of a Hat' Come Answers

"Out of the Hat" is the title of a program to be given by John Coppin, well-known Bloomfield Hills artist, writer and actor, on Tuesday at 8:15 in the auditorium of the Baldwin Library, Birmingham.

Coppin has had many portrait commissions here and abroad; his murals in the Detroit Public Library are widely known and he has had travel articles published in Motor Magazine.

Acting and directing plays for the St. Dunstan's Guild is his hobby.

Fun, Romance Are 'In' Look

What's in right now is the feeling of fun, romance, nostalgia, theatrical flamboyance and fairy-tale charm.

Leading newsmakers include the Dr. Zhivago-look of tall furry hats and cossack coats with hems flouncing down over boots to the new midi-length, swaggering capes and jabots, the little orphan-look of prim black schoolgirl dresses with black tights and a small touch of white or the international look of kilts and Irish sweaters.

Male Theatergoers Get Inside Dope on 'Women'

Modernized for today's audiences, Clare Boothe Luce's hit play of the 30s, "The Women" will afford its male audiences a glimpse into the peculiarly feminine mysteries of a dress shop's fitting room, a beauty parlor, a reducing salon, a hospital bedroom and a Reno hotel, where, even here, no man appears.

Vic Zink, Avon Players' director, will marshall his cast of some 35 women through fast-paced scenes of gossip and acidulous humor as "friends" on the sidelines witness the destruction of a marriage.

★ ★ ★

The curtain will rise at 8:30 p.m. week nights; 7:30 p.m. Sundays on Oct. 17, 18, 19, 20, 24, 25 and 26, at the Avon Playhouse on Washington Road, Rochester.

Adele Carraher plays the betrayed wife, while Carole Holderness appears as the "other woman."

SUPPORTING ROLES

Judi Womack of Denby Drive and Bonnie Gould of Terry Street have important supporting roles along with Irma Palmgren, JoAnne McVeigh, Barbar Roslik, Nancy McCully, Barbara Gram, Jane Szczesny, Bridgit Wilde, Beryle Konopnicki, Betty Wattles, Alana Cargle and Joan Blatch.

Other speaking parts are done by Nancy Cochran, Loraine Stewart, Marge Arsenault, Marge Whitlock, Kathy Gell, Sylvian Whitmeyer, Yvonne Erickson, Carole Schilke, Nancy Albyn, Barbara Smart, Jennifer Gaines and Pat Puchalla.

Stephanie Holderness has the only child's part, that of the daughter of the divorcing couple.

Holding to the pattern of femininity, "The Women" is produced by Marilyn Flanigan, assisted by Rosemary Langley. Jean Frailing is assisting the director.

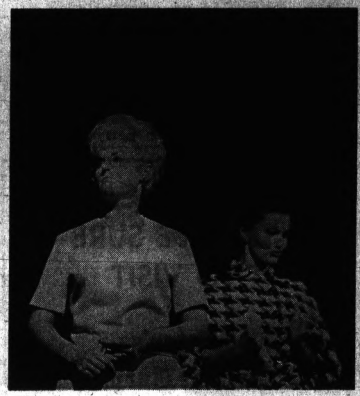
★ ★ ★

The box office at 100 East University Drive, Rochester, will be open each Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 to 12 a.m. and from 3 to 5 p.m.

Mail orders may be filled by writing Avon Players, P.O. Box 332, Rochester.

Avon Players was awarded first prize for publicity among theater groups in the $10,000 and up budget class for the 1967-'68 season. The award was presented at the convention of Community Theaters of Michigan which took place at Boyne Highlands recently.

Vic Zink of Rochester is the lone male involved in onstage doings at the Avon Playhouse right now. Even so, as director, he will not be visible to audiences as the all-feminine cast brings the hit play of the 30s, "The Women," by Clare Booth Luce, to life for seven performances this month.



Suitably brittle in the role of "the other woman," is Carole Holderness (Mrs. Dave) shown at left with the discarded wife, Mary, played by Adele Carraher (Mrs. Dennis). Long-standing members of the Avon Players, the sometime actresses live on North Umberland Street and East Maryknoll Street, both Avon Township, respectively.

Refugee Child's Care Teaches Needed Lesson

OCEANSIDE, N.Y. (AP) — Second grade students at the Fulton Ave. School are learning a lesson not in their books — to be grateful for what they have.

★ ★ ★

The children have adopted a 7-year-old girl refugee from mainland China. Through a fund raised by running errands, helping clean their homes and walking dogs, they are helping her attend missionary school in Taipei.

★ ★ ★

The undertaking is part of a social studies program titled "Understanding People." Their teacher, Mrs. Janice Kahn, reports that after hearing about the things lacking in the life of little Chen Ke Wei, the children have stopped complaining about food, clothes, treatment at home and the need to attend school.

A new look in sweaters and fancy pants will brighten many college campuses this fall reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. This blue, camel and toast-toned houndstooth check slack and gold popcorn stitch wool crew-neck sweater will warm the wearer as well as the scene.

Too Little Sugar Also Dangerous

Hypoglycemia is the opposite of diabetes — too little sugar in the blood. Symptoms include: general fatigue, nervousness, sharp hunger, rapid heartbeat, dizziness, and headache. Persons in their thirties or forties are most likely to be affected, especially women.

★ ★ ★

Unlike diabetes, hypoglycemia is not always a chronic disease. Functional hypoglycemia may be short-lived and treatable.

Because hypoglycemia patients, like diabetics, must collaborate with their physician to control their condition, Charles Weller, an MD who specializes in metabolic medicine, and medical writer Brian Richard Boylan, have written "How to Live with Hypoglycemia," a new Doubleday Book.

Buyer's Independence Limits Dress Snobbery

EAST LANSING, Mich. — More frequent exercise of the consumer's vote — to buy or not to buy — is limiting the influence of fashion snobbery, says Bernetta Kahabka, Cooperative Extension Service textiles and clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

"Fashion influence is really a two-way street," she notes. "The consumers' idea of fashion certainly can be influenced by promotions, advertising and display.

* * *

"But today's more informed, more confident consumer can counteract undue outside influence by her vote — to buy or not to buy," she continues. "It is the consumer who ultimately rejects or accepts fashion."

Miss Kahbka acknowledged the increasing importance of fashion in both specialized clothes and everyday wear. "We used to think of only dressy clothes as being influenced by fashion, but today most types of clothes are fashion oriented, even uniforms," she says.

Consumers look at fashion in a different way today. No longer slaves of fashion, they more frequently exercise their freedom of choice and develop a more individualized way of dressing.

Formerly, for example, consumers often purchased clothes in the color promoted as the color of the season. Wearing only those seasonal colors that were personally flattering was a first step in consumer independence.

Even more independent today, many consumers wear personally flattering colors regardless of the season or fashion trends.

Consumers are very aware of fashion but keep it in perspective, too, says Miss Kahabka.

Electric Scissors Aid to Seamstress

An electric scissors weighs only 10 ounces, has a switch at base of unit which provides four finger control in cutting.

* * *

The scissors is designed so that you rest it on a table and have complete vision at point of cutting. The manufacturer says the outstanding feature is the extra long blade and small indentation on top of lower blade which prevents sagging and bunching of fabric when cutting.

It is equipped with a nine foot, four inch cord for ease of movement while cutting.

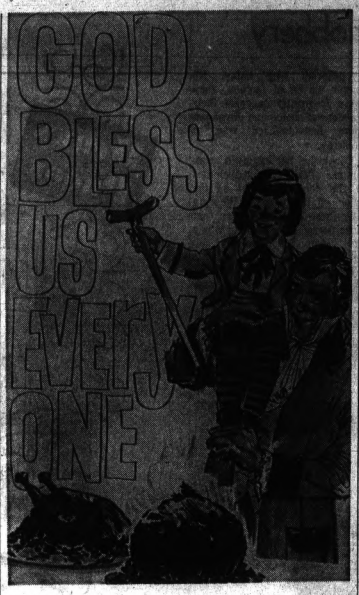
Epidemic Delays Commencement

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — The Missouri School for Doctors' Assistants was forced to cancel its graduation exercises because of an epidemic — not flu, but romance.

★ ★ ★

Eighty per cent of the medical laboratory assistants completing the course were either getting married or on their honeymoon on the date the ceremony was scheduled.



This is the Christmas card chosen by the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and Adults this year. The purchase of these holiday messages help the Society carry on its vital work for the handicapped. For further information contact the Society on North Telegraph Road.

Baby—It's All in a Day's Work

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's a myth that the housewife, hair up in rollers, sits at her picture window and glares green-eyed at the well-groomed career woman — mother on her way to work.

If such misplaced envy exists, perhaps the housewife would like to glance at the diary of a working mother:

★ ★ ★

6:30 a.m. — Alarm clock clangs. Hide head under pillow along with conscience. Try to go back to sleep.

6:31 a.m. — Loud baby noises wake mother and conscience. Get up, change diapers, smile at baby, baby smiles back, prepare bottle, begin feeding.

6:32 a.m. — Remember about forgetting to plug in percolator.

7 a.m. — Plug in percolator while baby takes burp break.

7:15 a.m. — Change diapers, tuck baby into crib. Resist temptation to climb into crib, too. Run bath.

★ ★ ★

7:30 a.m. — Waiting for baby to settle down while tub water gets cold.

7:45 a.m. — Make more coffee while fresh hot tub fills.

8 a.m. — Cook breakfast after getting into all work gear except dress and lipstick. Baby messes dresses; lipstick messes babies.

8:30 a.m. — Wake husband serve breakfast.

8:35 a.m. — Baby wakes as soon as mother begins eating eggs.

8:55 a.m. — Baby changed and in playpen. Breakfast now cold.

9 a.m. — Wash breakfast dishes because housekeeper — baby sitter believes they are beneath her dignity.

★ ★ ★

9:15 a.m. — Prepare laundry for husband to take down, play with baby now howling with boredom in playpen.

9:30 a.m. — Housekeeper should arrive but doesn't.

9:45 a.m. — Housekeeper has not arrived but husband leaves. Forgets laundry.

9:55 a.m. — Housekeeper shows up. Baby cooing at housekeeper while being bathed. Refused to smile at departing mother.

10:15 a.m. — Arrive at work five minutes late. Mother has all morning to sulk over child's refusal to smile.

★ ★ ★

1 p.m. — Lunch break. Go to supermarket. Disposable diapers sold out.

2:05 p.m. — Arrive home to feed baby. Baby won't smile at mother despite whistling, singing, finger-snapping and funny faces.

2:10 p.m. — Feed baby applesauce. Baby smiles because she loves applesauce, not because she loves mother.

2:30 p.m. — Housekeeper gives baby bottle, mother minces garlic for dinner. Return to work thinking baby can't smile and drink simultaneously.

6:05 p.m. — Arrive home, set out meat to warm to room temperature, take off dress and don milk-stained robe reserved for baby-feeding.

6:06 p.m. — Run in to howling baby who has spit up cereal. Take over feeding as housekeeper rushes out.

★ ★ ★

6:45 p.m. — Let newly arrived husband burp baby, dress for dinner, apply false eyelashes, collect burped baby and dress her up, too.

6:55 p.m. — Answer doorbell, holding baby.

7 p.m. — Watch baby smile at guests. Put her to bed, finally get smile.

7:05 p.m. — Put dinner in oven. Discover housekeeper lunched on dinner appetizer. Dig without.

7:15 p.m. — Enjoy guests, avoid noticing housekeeper didn't clean strained green peas spilled on blue living room carpet.

★ ★ ★

Outdoor Grills Are Unsafe Used Indoors

Outdoor cookery equipment was meant to be used in the great out-of-doors — not in a garage, a back porch, or anywhere in a closed space.

Richard Pfister, Michigan State University agricultural engineer specializing in safety, says families are flirting with real danger if they bring a charcoal burner into a closed area to do their grilling. This goes for a small habachi as well as a full-sized patio grill.

★ ★ ★

The danger is from the carbon monoxide given off by the smoldering charcoal. Where there's little ventilation, these fumes can easily overcome people before they realize what's happening, warns Pfister.

★ ★ ★

Charcoal grills are meant to be used only outdoors or where adequate indoor ventilation is supplied. Indoor barbecue grills built in today's homes are engineered for sufficient ventilation to eliminate this danger.

ODORLESS GAS

But because there is little flaming from charcoal briquettes, many people overlook the danger in bringing them into the house. Carbon monoxide is treacherous because it can't be seen or smelled.

Campers find charcoal a handy travel cooking fuel. But some have foolishly tried to use it inside cars and tents to help warm an area. Several have died from such use, says Pfister.

The first Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, who was 22 at her death, was the presidential wife who died at the earliest age.

Van Can't Take Everything

If you plan making a move this year, you should know about items that require special attention.

Burnham Van Service, nationwide movers, passes along some tips about pets, jewelry and other possessions.

● Pets — Burnham advises taking your pets with you on short moves. On long moves you may want to consider air express. When your pets arrive, the destination agent takes them to a kennel until you come for them. A visit to the veterinarian is recommended to prepare the pet for the move.

● PLANTS — Plants are best left behind unless you want to keep those that are particularly valuable. They can go with you in the car if properly wrapped in corrugated paper and placed in polyethelene-lined cartons.

● Jewelry — Jewelry should be carried on your person when you move. The mover is not allowed to take it.

● Second Car — The mover will make special arrangements for your second car. If both you and your wife drive, you will probably save money by driving both cars to your new destination.

Help Yourself in Bargain Offers Volunteer Bureau

An opportunity to enrich your life is offered by the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau. The Bureau is located in Birmingham. A telephone call or a trip to the office can be the beginning of meaningful service to others.

* * *

Right now, for example, the Bureau is looking for a volunteer to help newly arrived Spanish speaking students learn English. The teaching will be done in simple verbal conversation, and teaching aids are available so that the volunteer need not know Spanish.

Certainly, both pupil and teacher will learn as the new resident is taught nouns, verbs, and pronouns on a word by word basis using the Spanish counterpart.

Using Baby Oil Softens Cuticles

If your cuticles always seem to look rough and are constantly ripping, they need an intensive softening program to restore them to beauty.

Every night for a week, buff your entire nail with baby oil, rubbing the oil into the cuticle, and allow it to remain overnight. To keep the cuticles and your hands soft, immerse them in a pan of warmed baby oil once or twice a week.

Brew a Cup in 'Mini-Drip' Coffee Maker

Coffee connoisseurs now can brew a single cup of delicious drip coffee in minutes without making a whole potful. The West Bend Company has introduced a new "Mini-Drip" coffee maker that brews a full-flavored 7-ounce cup of coffee, using ground coffee, not instant. It's ideal for the early riser who wants a quick cup of freshly brewed drip coffee, for the homemaker at any time of day, for the student or office worker.

The "Mini-Drip" consists of an insulated coffee mug, an aluminum dripper fitted to the cup, and a cap-like bell spreader that holds the ground coffee in the well of the dripper until boiling water drips through into the cup.

To brew a cup of coffee, simply place 1 rounded or 2 level tablespoons of drip grind coffee into the dripper, insert the bell spreader, and fill the dripper with actively boiling water. The water drips through the ground coffee into the cup in less than 3 minutes.

The "Mini-Drip" coffee maker, a product of The West Bend Company, West Bend, Wis., retails for $2.95 and is available at leading hardware, housewares and department stores.

Cat Burglar Prefers Clothes

WALLACE CREEK, Calif. (AP) — A 14-month old male feline owned by Mrs. Paul Hoffman, wife of a retired Air Force Major, has been roaming around the neighborhood picking up anything loose but apparently specializing in clothing.

When Mrs. Hoffman found the cache of clothing the cat had dragged home, she gathered the items in a basket and made the rounds of the neighborhood returning the purloined items.

Mothers View Weddings as Funerals

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: When I was recently bridesmaid for a girlfriend, her mother cried all during the wedding service. She cried again, too, when my girlfriend and her husband left for their honeymoon. This upset my girlfriend very much. As I am to be married myself, please write and tell mothers they are selfish to cry at our weddings.

They are HAPPY occasions, Mrs. Lawrence, and mothers have no right to act as if they were funerals . . .

ANSWER: Haven't they, now? Well, let me inform you that your weddings are not unlike funerals for us.

* * *

They are ceremonial departures from us. They put an end to a person who's been primarily our dear child and turn you into somebody else's wife or husband. We don't cry out of "selfishness" at your weddings. We cry out of older experience than yours — one that has suffered many losses of loved people, losses that have made us aware that death will sooner or later make final our separation from all our loved people.

So, mind your own business by making yourself as lovely and happy as possible on your wedding day.

And let mother mind hers — which is sniffling into tissues if that's what she feels like doing.

* * *

Indeed, I'm frank to say I resent sneers at mothers who cry at weddings. Less-civilized societies are much kinder to us than this one. They permit us to wail our heads off at these ceremonial departures of yours.

* * *

But in America, everyone is obliged to pretend they don't mind painful changes in precious human relationship.

As you know, "happiness" (and the pursuit of it) often seem like our sole purpose in living. And while I don't want to depress a young creature like you by remarking that sadness is also involved in living, truth compels me to say it is.

* * *

I'm not for scolding you for wanting a perfectly "happy" weddings. It's a most reasonable want in an American girl. It's as reasonable as it is for undertakers to undertake to eliminate all sadness at death by using cosmetics to make dead people look as though they were merely enjoying an afternoon snooze — and will join us at dinner as soon as it's ready.

By all means, indulge your different feelings on your wedding day. But we mothers are entitled to ours, too.

Doll Hobbyist Has Over 100

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — In a quarter of a century of travel with her now retired Air Force officer husband, Mrs. R. R. Roth has amassed a collection of dolls from all over the world, including a pair from Japan nearly 400 years old.

* * *

The collection started with a doll from Williamsburg, Va., and expanded to more than 100 from 50 nations. Most were picked up when the couple was stationed in Japan, Okinawa, Hawaii, the Philippines and various South American countries, while others were brought back from Roth's assignments in Europe.

GODS AND DEVILS

Among the hobbyist's prizes is a tiny Peruvian devil dancer used for Mardi Gras and wearing a miniature mask that slips on and off. She also has a Japanese Geisha, an Okinawan water dancer, a Bolivian doll with a poncho and a carved wooden doll depicting the Chinese God of Starvation.

From Rock to Riches—1

Elvis, Respectable Now, Shuns the Limelight

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — He was first.

In the rock 'n' roll book of genesis, Elvis Presley is Adam; he of the jittery hips, the barely intelligible lyrics, the throbbing voice and the driving, unrelenting guitar.

* * *

All others are carbon copies of one sort or other.

The Beatles, the Jefferson Airplane, Moby Grape, Big Brother and the Holding Company, the Iron Butterfly. Had not Elvis originated the sound and the style, the others might be pondering acne cures instead of manipulating fortunes.

CHANGED WORLD

He changed the world of music just as surely as Picasso wrought changes in painting. Granted, the impact may not be so great artistically, but Elvis — once called Elvis the Pelvis — revolutionized pop music. And the revolt goes on.

It started with "Hound Dog," "Heartbreak Hotel" and "Blue Suede Shoes."

* * *

He was an instant star.

The establishment was alarmed, but youngsters thrilled. It may have been the first fissure of the generation gap we know today.

NOW MILLIONAIRE

Now Elvis is 33 years old and has earned some $20 million. The very adults who decried his music now find him acceptable. The teen-agers who brought him fame have grownup with him.

He has starred in 29 motion pictures and cut numerous recordings. His single records have earned 40 gold records, his albums 11, setting Elvis so far ahead of other musicians he stands alone.

* * *

Not Crosby, Sinatra, the Beatles or anyone else has sold as many different songs as Elvis.

During his headlong dash to the top Elvis managed to build a mystique not unlike that of Greta Garbo. When he wasn't working he became invisible to his fans.

FEW APPEARANCES

For almost a decade Elvis has not made a personal appearance.

* * *

If you want to see Elvis, you must pay your way into a theater where one of his pictures is showing, or catch a late television replay. Not since 1960 when he returned from a two-year hitch in the Army has he appeared on television — and that was with Frank Sinatra.

* * *

His most recent personal appearance was a 1960 date in Hawaii where he raised $67,000 for a memorial of the USS Arizona.

Behind Presley's every move is clever, wiley Colonel (honorable Dixie title) Thomas Parker. It was Parker's shrewd personal management that built the ungainly youngster into one of the highest-paid entertainers of all time.

FEW INTERVIEWS

The colonel looks at you with guileless blue eyes and says, "Don't talk to me. Elvis did it all. Talk to him."

Trouble is, Elvis talks to almost no one from the press. He doesn't have to. In the early days too many men and women with typewriters demeaned his talents and scoffed at his private life.

* * *

But Elvis had, and continues to have, a curious personal dignity, flawless manners and a self-effacing quality that is at once attractive and compelling to his elders. These same qualities, like quicksilver, slide into another form with younger people.

His manners remain, but there is a taunting, challenging look in his eyes for the girls. And an I'm-one-of-you-guys, hang-loose, attitude for the young bucks.

FEW PROBLEMS

Throughout his long career — and it is a record setter in these days of the instant hit record and the trapdoor disappearance — Presley has never made headlines with pot, booze, paternity suits or rumbles.

By whim or quirk, Elvis and I have been acquaintances since he first came to Hollywood in June 1956 for a guest shot on the Milton Berle television show.

* * *

At that time he told me, "You can tell as soon as I start singing that I haven't had any voice lessons; if I could sing good, I wouldn't be selling any records."

In those days he had the brashness of the very young, compensating for what he lacked in confidence.

BIG DEAL?

In the intervening years he has never denied the UPI an interview.

Big deal? Not when you consider Presley as something less than a head of state. But when you know his attitude toward the press, then, yes. It's given me an opportunity to know the boy and the man.

* * *

When he was 21 and inarticulate, Elvis was up tight. His lack of a broad education and his background as a $35-a-week truck driver cautioned him to keep his own counsel.

"I'm a country boy," he told me a dozen years ago.

He isn't any longer.

* * *

Elvis owns a magnificent estate near Memphis, Tenn. He calls it Graceland and it is home and headquarters to him. He also owns a mansion in Beverly Hills.

He is married now — to Prescilla Beaulieu, daughter of an Air Force colonel he met while on duty in Germany with the Army — and the father of little Lisa, 6 months old.

These responsibilities have wrought changes in Elvis that are quickly discernible if you are able to get close enough to him.

I got close enough.

Tomorrow: Elvis discusses an entirely new direction in his career and talks of the future.)

Some 600,000 automobiles were reported stolen during 1967 in the United States. This is a figure up 71 per cent from 1960.

CHILD IS RESCUED—Toronto firemen dug through nine feet of rubble to Anthony Derose, 3, after an explosion early yesterday leveled the child's home. The firemen used pry bars and power saws for 78 minutes before Anthony, who suffered only a bloody nose and a scratch, was freed.

LBJ Likely to Stay Out of Campaign Spotlight

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON — President Johnson apparently is going to remain uninvited to participate in Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey's campaign for the presidency — except for Texas.

Although the White House has made it clear Johnson will — in the words of press secretary George Christian — "do anything appropriate to help Humphrey, a Democratic party strategist said little that is appropriate seems likely to turn up.

* * *

The Humphrey spokesman, who preferred to remain anonymous, said there has been no discussion of asking the President to make any speeches for Humphrey during the remaining four weeks of the campaign. This obviously reflects the desire of the nominee to divorce himself from the Democratic administration without any outright repudiation of its policies.

But while presidential campaigning in other sections of the nation is not something the Humphrey camp wants, its members hope that Johnson will get in some quiet licks for the nominee in Texas.

There, they feel, the President could be most effective by bringing the warring elements of the party a little closer together than they are now. While his political influence may have waned elsewhere, they think Johnson still retains plenty in his home state.

With 25 electoral votes, Texas is a prize for which Humphrey, GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon and third-party candidate George C. Wallace are contending vigorously.

News Analysis

Although the Democratic national chairman, Lawrence F. O'Brien, Humphrey's campaign manager, said party polls show the vice president leading in Texas, he conceded that they gave Wallace 26 per cent of the vote.

Any such percentage on election day would indicate a plurality could win the electoral vote. And Humphrey's friends think the President might help tip the scales to give his party's nominee that winning plurality.

Although he declined to comment on Johnson's possible role in the campaign, Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., backed up Christian's contention that the President is not holding back $700,000 in Democratic party funds from Humphrey's campaign.

Harris, a top Humphrey adviser, said it is his opinion that this sequestered fund could not be used for any political campaign purposes.

He said the money was raised by sale of advertising in the party's 1964 convention brochure and the donors had charged contributions off their income tax. Harris said this would make the money unavailable for campaigning.

Junior Editors Quiz on BIRTHSTONES

QUESTION: How did each month gets its birthstone?

* * *

ANSWER: In ancient days, there were many beliefs about forces or things which might bring good or bad luck. Most of us nowadays call these superstitions and refuse to consider them seriously. The idea of birthstones was one such superstition originated by fortune tellers in the Middle Ages. They selected and gradually agreed on 12 stones to stand for the 12 months of the year.

Wear the right stone for your month, said these people, and it would bring you good luck (many, no doubt, were ready to supply you with the right stone, at a good price). It is said that the selection of birthstones as now in use was further developed in Poland in the 1700s.

Although modern people have little faith in birthstones as good luck charms, they do appreciate them for their own interest and beauty. People tend to act and look alike in our standardized modern world, and it is refreshing to find something which makes one stand out as an individual. So, many of us still enjoy buying birthstones and wearing them set in brooches, rings or other types of jewelry.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

NOTICEABLE CORRUPTION — New items on black market stalls, such as this one in Da Nang, may not yet have reached the troops in the field. They may also be sold at a cheaper price on the black market than at the PX. Soap and cigarettes are the best-selling items. In spite of the fact that new controls have been imposed and police action stepped up, corruption in Vietnam has long been accepted as a regrettable necessity and shows no signs of being easily eradicated.

Despite Crackdown Efforts

Viet Corruption Abated Little

SAIGON (AP) — "Corruption exists in every country," Premier Tran Van Huong said recently. "But since Vietnam is at war, corruption has been a little more noticeable than in other countires."

Corruption appears in many forms in South Vietnam and involves not only the Vietnamese but Americans and the other allies as well.

★ ★ ★

It ranges from outright theft and embezzlement to bribery, graft and the sale of PX goods on the black market.

It takes such forms as opium smuggling from Laos to illegal payments collected by civil servants in the countryside. There is no part of Vietnamese life where it does not exist.

MASSIVE SIPHONING

Just how much has been siphoned off from American taxpayers is unknown. But it is massive, in the hundreds of millions of dollars by anybody's figures.

One "rock bottom figure" put the loss to corruption at $272 million in the past five years.

A previous investigation by a team of Associated Press reporters put the figure at a minimum of $175 million for a single fiscal year — and that included only the losses in PX supplies and economic aid, not the losses from the billions being spent on the massive American involvement in the fighting.

★ ★ ★

Faced with this enormous loss, the government and the U.S. mission have taken steps to reduce corruption. The government has removed 17 province chiefs, fired dozens of district chiefs and replaced hundreds of lesser officials, most of them for corruption.

The legislature is working on a bill to set up a cabinet-level inspectorate to seek our corrupt officials and bring them to court.

OFFICERS TRIED

Several military officers have been tried for embezzlement, looting and other corrupt practices and two have been sentenced to death.

But the government's drive so far seems to be only scratching the surface. Mai Tho Truyen, minister of state in charge of the anticorruption drive, admitted recently that he was moving slowly because of lack of personnel.

The big fish, some in high government posts, remain untouched. It does appear, however, that the rate of corruption is down in 1968.

The most effective action has been improved control applied by the U.S. government, whose $30 billion annual investment in Vietnam bears the brunt of corrupt practices.

REDUCED MAY BE LESS

The enemy offensives in February and May appear to have reduced corruption among government officials.

Said one U.S. foreign service official: "As long as we're in this insecure position in the countryside, as long as Saigon is under siege and they don't really know who's going to win, as long as they don't know for sure if the Americans will stick around after the presidential election, there won't be any real corruption."

★ ★ ★

The Vietcong use corruption in the South Vietnamese government as an effective propaganda subject, but even the Vietcong are not immune.

A Vietnamese Cabinet minister reported that farmers in the Mekong Delta told him a number of Vietcong tax collectors had been discovered dipping into the till. Some were shot and others sent to "D" zone, the enemy's rugged hideout north of Saigon.

CORRUPTION EASIER

The mountains of military supplies, PX goods, U.S. commodities and food, as well as direct financial aid to the government, have just made it easier and more lucartive to be corrupt.

"As an integral part of the Vietnamese way of life, its elimination cannot be expected soon," lamented a Vietnamese magazine.

For one thing, civil servants are paid low salaries which must be supplemented. As a result, many government posts are so lucrative they are bought and sold, with the buyer assured of making back quickly his purchase price and much more.

The system works in many ways. For example, the chief of construction in a province south of Saigon received one million piasters to build a road. He drew out the money but loaned it to businessmen at interest rates of up to 50 per cent for one year.

POCKETS INTEREST

For the rest of the year he made excuses why work on the road had not begun. At the end of the year he collected the loans, pocketed the interest, and returned the one million piasters, saying the road could not be built.

Government posts are considered so potentially lucrative that most of the four corps commanders, the 44 province chiefs, the 243 district chiefs and thousands of lesser officials purchased their jobs.

★ ★ ★

The richer the province, the higher the cost of the job of province chief.

U.S. advisers recently compiled reports on 82 of the Delta's 92 district chiefs. Twenty of them were rated as inefficient and "strongly suspected" of corruption. The evaluation was made on reports from Vietnamese, the chiefs' living standards, the homes they lived in, their cars, the parties they gave.

WHENCE THE GRAFT

Where do the province officials get their graft?

"The rice mill owners, for instance, all pay the province chief for 'protection,'" said a U.S. adviser. "If they don't pay, some government soldier might get drunk and throw a grenade into the mill. The mill owners probably have to pay the VC as well."

★ ★ ★

Other sources are taxes on road traffic, labor organizations' bribes for licenses, payments for the right to export food to Saigon.

The flagrant black market is another aspect of Vietnam's troubles.

STOLEN GI ITEMS

One black market shopping arcade in Saigon has stall after stall filled with stolen U.S. army uniforms, ponchos, boots, hats, and fatigues. Often new items reach the black market before troops in the field can get them.

Most black market items come from the post exchanges, clubs, commissaries, U.S. aid and military warehouses and from ships unloading American goods at the docks.

★ ★ ★

From the beginning of 1966, when the present post exchange system was set up in Vietnam, the PXs have lost more than $38 million worth of goods, about 60 per cent attributable to theft.

The loss occurred all along the pipeline for PX goods, starting at Oakland, Calif.

GOODS DISAPPEAR

Most of the goods disappeared during the unloading from the ships in Vietnam and during transportation from the docks to the PX warehouses. This has been curtailed since the port has been cleared up, and trucks carrying goods from the docks now have military police escorts.

Previously classified statistics show that from December 1965 until January 1967 nine per cent of all the goods sent to the Vietnam exchanges never reached the cash registers. That is, $13.6 million worth of goods were stolen, destroyed or got lost in the bookkeeping.

From February 1967 to January of this year, the rate of loss has been cut to 6 per cent, a one-third reduction. But PX sales are now running about $1 million each day, and 314 outlets in Vietnam showed a total loss of $19.1 million.

Officials say there is little they can do about it.

HORSE RESCUED FROM WELL—This 4-year-old Appaloosa mare is almost exhausted as rescuers try to keep her head above water. The mare, named Pepper, was floated out by pumping water into the well. When she emerged, the other horses in the pasture gave her a whinnying and stomping welcome, said owner Mrs. Naomi Brown. The incident took place near Kansas City.

Car Is Bombed in Roseville Lot

ROSEVILLE (UPI) — A bomb blew up a car in a shopping center parking lot Wednesday night. It was the second bombing in Roseville and at least the sixth in the Detroit area in less than two months.

★ ★ ★

Police said a small explosive device planted below the gas pedal demolished the car, which had been left by its owner, Robert Schieldknect of St. Clair Shores, at the rear of the Tavern on the Mall restaurant in the Macomb Mall shopping center.

★ ★ ★

There were no injuries.

The explosion scattered glass and debris 80-100 feet but no other cars were parked nearby, and there was little other damage.

Schieldknect could give no explanation for the bombing.

TIMING UNKNOWN

Investigators were unable to determine whether the bomb was supposed to go off when the car was started, and exploded prematurely, or whether it was set to go off when no one was near.

★ ★ ★

Police could not say whether the incident was connected with other recent unsolved bombings.

★ ★ ★

In August, a bomb destroyed a Selective Service office in Roseville. Another blew up an Army recruiting car in Detroit and three others exploded near police stations last month. There have been no injuries in any of the bombings.

Ford Reveals Dearborn Plan

DEARBORN (AP) — Plans for a multi-million-dollar development on some 1,400 acres of Ford Motor Co. land in Dearborn were announced today.

Henry Ford II, board chairman, said the company soon will name an architect - planner and a real estate economist firm to develop long - term recommendations on the best use of the land.

★ ★ ★

The developers will be asked to come up with a plan "that will be beneficial to the city of Dearborn and to Ford Motor Co.," Ford said, adding that it will take several months to complete preliminary studies.

"From discussions with planners so far, the land appears adaptable to a wide range of uses that might include office buildings, shopping centers or apartment buildings," he said.

Ford owns about 4,000 acres of land in Dearborn, with 2,600 being used for manufacturing operations, research, engineering, design and office facilities.

Park Spillways Partially Shut

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Army engineers Wednesday partially closed 24 spillway gates through which nearly 900,000-acre-feet of water have cascaded into the soggy Everglades National Park this year.

ST. LOUIS — The 65th World Series, suddenly reaching almost indescribable extremes, comes to a close today at Busch Memorial Stadium with the expected but not anticipated seventh game.

Confused? It is understandable. But then, so are most of the members of the extensive corps of broadcasters, writers and reporters trying to put in perspective all of the changing aspects of the 1968 fall classic.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday, the Detroit Tigers left the rain-soaked red feathers of the host Cardinals scattered throughout the arena of combat as the visitors evened the series at three games apiece with a 13-1 victory.

★ ★ ★

The fact that the showdown between the defending world's champions and the new American League champions is going the limit isn't earth shaking. The two teams dominated their respective leagues and made shambles of the pennant races.

OUTCLASSED FOES

But what is unexpected is the way they have manhandled each other in the series Truthfully, in the six games to date the loser has been outclassed five times.

Only Monday's 5-3 win for the Tigers can be termed a good game, the kind expected each time between two clubs with the 1968 records of the Cardinals and Detroiters.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, after Sunday's 10-1 romp by the Redbirds at Tiger Stadium there was no doubt that the National League titlists would have any trouble wrapping up their ninth world's championship in 12 series.

★ ★ ★

But here come the Tigers. A dramatic come-from-behind victory Monday has been coupled with yesterday's shattering conquest before 54,692 shocked St. Louis fans.

★ ★ ★

So, the wearer of the crown will now be decided this afternoon when the two-game winners for both combatants, Mickey Lolich of the Bengals and Bob Gibson of the Cardinals, tangle for the first time in the series.

★ ★ ★

The momentum is definitely with the Detroiters; but the usually decisive pitching advantage lies with the St. Louis club. Gibson goes with three-days rest, Lolich with only two.

★ ★ ★

But back to Wednesday. Never has there been anything like it in Tiger series' history. The 13-1 triumph is the biggest in the team's history, and avenges an 11-0 shellacking it took from St. Louis in the 1934 series windup at Detroit.

★ ★ ★

After a scoreless first inning, the Tigers finally broke through for two runs in the second — the first markers they tallied for ace pitcher Denny McLain in nine innings of series play with him on the hill.

WHIPPING IT IN — Denny McLain, the Tigers' 31-game winner this season, gained his first World Series victory by downing the Cards yesterday, 13-1. Denny allowed nine scattered hits.

Tigers' Pitcher Restores Grasp on Big Contract

ST. LOUIS — Although Denny McLain wasn't concerned that his earlier poor showings in the world series would cost him any money during the off-season when he plans to tour, Wednesday's crucial victory might have restored his grasp on the $100,000 Tiger contract he wants for 1969.

After failing to last nine innings and suffering two losses in his first two starts against the St. Louis Cardinals, McLain may have felt the lucrative pact he desires slipping through his fingers.

But "Dandy" Denny — thanks to a cortisone shot Monday in his ailing right shoulder — made a remarkable recovery to give the desperate Tigers a 3-3 stand-off with the Redbirds and force a final, decisive seventh game today.

McLain, who admits he is "scared to death of needles" and used his quote of X ray treatments before agreeing to the pain-relieving cortisone shot, came within one out of pitching the most lopsided shutout victory in series history.

FOILED
BID FOILED

"He hit a mistake, a fast ball and out over the plate," he reported when asked about Julian Javier's two-out single in the ninth inning that ended his bid for shutout win.

In hurling yesterday's sixth game of the series Denny was starting with only two day's rest, something he did successfully three times during the season.

He told me his arm felt fine Tuesday after throwing for about 10 minutes with Hal Naragon at Tiger Stadium, manager Mayo Smith revealed:

"I didn't decide who would start until arriving at the ball park in the morning," he added.

If Wilson had been 100 per cent I'd have gone with him, Mayo continued, "I think Earl's the kind of pitcher who do well against this ball club, and he will be the No. 1 man in the bull pen today."

Series' Predictions Has Kearns in Lead

The Tigers in seven games! That's what the prediction was before the series started by Sports Editor, Bruno Kearns. The final outcome will be known later today.

Jere Craig, staffing the games in St. Louis, said it would be the Tigers in six.

As for picking each individual game, Kearns picked five out of seven, while Craig broke even in guessing three correct out of the six he predicted.

Partly Cloudy Forecast for Finale of Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) The weather is expected to be fair to partly cloudy for Thursday's seventh World Series game with the temperature in the low 60s.

The rain clouds that delayed the start of the sixth game Wednesday and interrupted play for 49 minutes in the eighth inning were due to give way to a clear, cool night.

Freehan Breaks Ice

Happy to Collect First Hit

ST. LOUIS — "I was very happy to get a hit," smiled handsome Bengal backstop Bill Freehan after the conquest of the Cardinals.

The big catcher didn't knock in four runs, as did both Jim Northrup and Al Kaline. But he did get a hit to end an 0-for-16 hitting slump through the first five Series games.

How did it feel? "Great!" said the burly catcher.

★ ★ ★

His locker had letters and telegrams taped all around it with advice from fans on how to come out of his batting slump.

"If I thought of everything the people told me I couldn't even swing," he said.

"One guy had me move six inches closer to the plate," Freehan added with a grin. "That would put me right in the middle of it. I think he was trying to tell me something."

"It sure gave him a big lift," said Manager Mayo Smith of Freehan's drive, a single in the second inning that drove in a run.

★ ★ ★

Despite all the joy by the Tigers after the game, attention quickly focused on today's seventh and deciding game against the Cardinals.

"Probably tomorrow (Thursday) it'll be a 1-0 ball game one way or another," said Freehan. "Up to now, we've either won big or they've won big."

"Outside of the fifth ball game everything's been so decisive," said Smith.

Denny McLain, Wednesday's winner, who received a shot of cortisone to relieve the pain in his aching right shoulder Monday, was not named to start until just prior to game time.

"I think he got better as he went along," said Freehan, "but I think his arm was still stiff."

"I was concerned about his velocity," he added. "His fast ball wasn't working at the beginning but it got better as he went along."

Bookies Like Cards

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) Las Vegas bookmakers made St. Louis a 17-10 favorite to win the seventh game of the World Series Thursday.

A bettor picking St. Louis and pitcher Bob Gibson must put up $17 to win $10. Backers of Detroit and pitcher Mickey Lolich must put $2 on the line to win $3.

Tigers' Grand Slam Guy Produces Again

Northrup Ties Series Record With Key Hit

ST. LOUIS — "It was a bigger thrill than the two I hit in Cleveland," a relaxed Jim Northrup stated in the Detroit clubhouse Wednesday while reflecting upon the grand slam home run he hit in the Tigers' 13-1 World Series squaring victory.

Although Northrup hit four such blasts during the regular season and now has eight for his career, he is only the 11th man in Series history to hit one.

"I got the ball from the guy who retrieved it. I gave him a new bat and ball for it and we're both happy," the slender, slightly gray-haired outfielder related.

"I have the balls from the others I hit in Detroit, but I don't consider them anything special, yet. But this one is the biggest thrill."

The 28-year-old product of Alma College and the Tigers' farm system recalled hitting a homer off Larry Jaster, the former Midland High School three-sport standout who served the gopher ball yesterday, the first time they dueled in the minor leagues.

MINOR LEAGUERS

"I hit a three-run homer off him when he was at Winnipeg in the Northern League. I was with Duluth-Superior. I also faced him in the International League while at Syracuse," he added.

Northrup admitted he thought about the grand slam possibility while kneeling in the on deck circle but that he was only trying to hit a sacrifice fly ball. Of his five in '68 four have come with McLain on the mound.

"I hit a slider right out over the plate," he concluded.

When he came down the third base line after the blow, Northrup jumped and landed with both feet on home plate. He was still excited when he reached the dugout and manager Mayo Smith had to restore calm.

"I just told him to sit down" said Mayo. "They were all having a good time and I was afraid someone would step on his toes.

Series Reaches Final Stage as Excitement Reigns High

Ray Washburn for a double to deep left-center, scoring Cash. With one out, Bill Freehan singled to make it 2-0. It was his first safety and rbi of the series.

It was only the beginning. In the next inning, the record-conscious saw their fingertips develop blisters from searching the series book as the Bengals sent 15 batters to the plate, scored 10 runs, and forced the Redbirds to use four pitchers.

The big blow in the inning was Jim Northrup's grand slam home run 395 feet to deep right-center field. Al Kaline and Cash each had two singles; Dick McAuliffe walked twice; Kaline drove in three runs and he, Cash and McAuliffe each crossed home plate twice before the eruption ceased.

Details of the record-tying outburst and the series marks equalled in the inning are described elsewhere.

Kaline made the score 13-0 when he slugged a high fly ball into the second deck in left field in the fifth inning, his third hit in the game and 11th of the series.

He is now two hits shy of Bobby Richardson's record 13 for the New York Yankees of 1964, and his eight rbi's are tops for this year's classic.

McLain was superb, scattering nine hits and striking out six. A loser in his first two unimpressive series starts, the 31-game victor during the regular season captured his 32nd win in his most important outing of the campaign.

Bothered with a sore shoulder and pitching with two days' rest after going less than three innings Sunday, McLain came through in a win-or-else contest.

★ ★ ★

The well-built right-hander missed becoming the first Tiger hurler since Bobo Newsome in 1940 to register a series shutout when Roger Maris, Orlando Cepeda and Julian Javier singled in the last of the ninth.

St. Louis speedster Lou Brock earlier had a bad-hop single but didn't attempt to steal any bases. He still needs one theft to rewrite the series records for stolen bases.

In addition, he is only one hit shy of Richardson's mark; and he, Javier and Kaline each need a hit today to join the list of players hitting in every game of a seven-game series.

Locker Room Quiet After Whipping

ST. LOUIS — As the St. Louis Cardinals trooped into the clubhouse after absorbing a 13-1 loss to Detroit in the sixth game of the World series Wednesday, catcher Tim McCarver shouted:

"Hey, get 'm tomorrow, men, get 'm tomorrow."

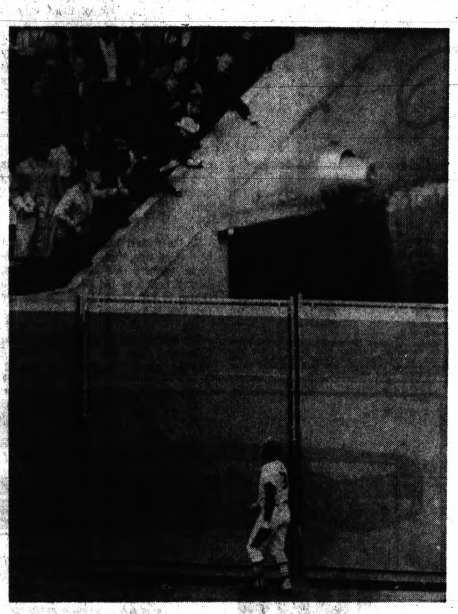
Except for that plea, the Cardinals were generally quiet.

★ ★ ★

Manager Red Schoendienst was something of an exception.

"Glad to see your smiling face, Red," one newsman remarked.

"What else can you say," Schoendienst replied. "They beat the dickens out of us. Everytime they moved a bat it was a hit."



GOOD-BYE BALL — Roger Maris of the St. Louis Cardinals, along with the fans in right field, watch helplessly as the ball hit by Jim Northrup goes between the stands for a grand slam homer in the third inning. The Tigers scored 10 runs in the inning and it was the 11th grand slam in World Series history.

Batter by Batter for 10-Run Third

ST. LOUIS—Here's how the Tigers' record tying 10-run third inning went:

Leadoff batter Dick McAuliffe walks on four pitches;

Mickey Stanley hit a one-and-one pitch, to left field for single, McAuliffe stopping at second

After taking one ball, Al Kaline lines single to center, McAuliffe scoring from second and Stanley going to third, Detroit 3, St. Louis 0; exit starting hurler Ray Washburn

Norm Cash hits first pitch by relief pitcher Larry Jaster for line drive single to center, scoring Stanley and sending Kaline to third, Tigers 4, Cardinals 0.

Willie Horton walks on 3-2 pitch after fouling two pitches, loading the bases.

GRAND SLAM

Jim Northrup takes one ball, then lofts home run to deep right center field to clear the bases; Tigers 8, Cardinals 0; exit Jaster

Don Willis relieves, walks Bill Freehan on four pitches.

Don Wert hit a 2-2 pitch, moving Freehan to second

Denny McLain takes a ball, then bunts and is retired as Freehan and Wert move up one base.

McAuliffe draws intentional walk to load the bases.

After taking ball and strike, Stanley grounds to Cepeda whose throw home forces Freehan for second out.

Kaline hits first pitch to center for single, scoring Wert and McAuliffe and sending Stanley to third; Tigers 10, Cardinals 0; exit Willis, enter Dick Hughes.

CASH DELIVERS

Cash raps 1-2 delivery down right field line for single, Stanley scores and Kaline goes to third; Tigers 11, Cardinals 0.

Horton also hits 1-2 pitch off Hughes' leg for infield single, driving in Kaline with 10th run of the inning and moving Cash to second; Tigers 12, Cardinals 0.

On first pitch, Northrup lifts fly to left field for third out. 15 batters, 7 hits, 4 walks, 1 hit batsman, 10 runs, 2 left on base.

ANXIOUS MOMENTS — Detroit Tiger players and fans were a little shaken when outfielder Al Kaline was hit by a pitch tossed by Wayne Granger in the seventh inning of the St. Louis-Detroit World Series game in St. Louis yesterday. Kaline grimmaces in pain after being hit on the left elbow, but he remained in the game. Al picked up three hits in sparking the Tigers to a 13-1 win.

Manager Mayo Offers First Words of Optimism

The first words of optimism in the World Series from manager Mayo Smith came yesterday when the Tiger mentor said:

"There's going to be a big victory dinner in Detroit Friday."

Smith and many of the Tigers are keyed up about the Tigers' chances today.

★ ★ ★

Norm Cash, who was 3-for-4 with two runs batted in, was hitting .333 in the Series before Wednesday's performance.

"When a man's hitting the ball, he's going to hit off anybody," he said, looking ahead to today's game against Gibson.

One of the few problems encountered by the Tigers was the infield. McAuliffe appeared to have easy plays on two grounders, only to have them bounce over his head at the last minute for singles.

"It's a bad infield," he said. "The ball takes all kinds of bad hops."

"They played football on it Sunday," said Smith, referring to the St. Louis Cardinals football team. "Maybe they, the ground crew, can get rid of the problem by tomorrow."

The Series closely resembles last year's match between St. Louis and Boston. Boston was down 3-1 and came back to win the next two games, only to lose the finale to Gibson.

The Tigers were down three games to one and were to meet Gibson for the last match.

KALINE HAPPY

"If we lost the Series I wanted it to be in seven games," said Kaline. "At least we haven't embarrassed ourselves or the American League."

"With two good teams it couldn't be a better ending," said Cash.

SWAMI ASSOCIATION OF THE GRAPEVINE

Holy Moly, look at Swami Craig pulling away in the Grapevine race.

Swami Craig is setting Grapevine history like Swami Brock of the Cardinals. He picked every colloge game correctly last week and missed only eight of the 48 games.

In another shuffle, Swami Vogel again moved ahead of Swami Kearns, but both are far back of the leaders Swami Craig and Swami Spears.

The experts say Michigan State over Michigan, the Lions in a close choice over the Bears and the Firebirds to lose to Lackawanna Saturday night.

Micki King After World Olympic 'Gold'

Coach at Poolside During Micki's Bid

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard King of 19 Norton Street, the proud parents of Micki King, won't be in Mexico City to watch their daughter bid for one of the World's most coveted award, because they felt it would be more beneficial if Micki's coach Dick Kimball was at poolside for the 3-meter diving event.

King, who is employed at General Motors Truck, said he felt it be best that he and Kimball pool their financial resources and have the U. of M. diving coach in Mexico City when Micki starts her 3-meter springboard diving competition next Thursday.

* * *

Kimball started tutoring Micki when the Pontiac diver was a student at Michigan in 1965. Kimball was the diving coach of U.S. diving team at the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

"We are certainly excited with pride and anticipation when Micki competes," said her dad, "this has been a dream of hers since she became interested in diving 10 years ago."

Since 1965 when Micki won her first national championships, the former Pontiac Central athlete, who was also the sports editor of the school's yearbook, has claimed the bulk of women's national and international titles.

* * *

She owns five Michigan AAU women's titles, five national AAU titles, the Tokyo World Games crown and Pan-American crowns.

LOOKING FOR GOLD — In 1967 Micki King of Pontiac was considered the No. 1 woman diver in the United States when she claimed four National titles. The World Olympics start in Mexico City this weekend and next week she will try to be the second Pontiac competitor to win a gold medal. Hayes Jones did it in track in 1964.

SALUTE TO U.S. — Lt. Maxine J. King of the United States Air Force will temporarily shed the uniform and don the swim suit of the U.S. Olympic team when she competes in the XIX Olympiad next week at Mexico City.

Pontiac Diver's Goal Started as Student at PCH

MEXICO CITY — The goal she set as a 16-year-old in 1960 has become a reality of Pontiac's Micki King.

Now, a 24-year-old 2nd Lt. in the U.S. Air Force, Micki will be hoping to bring to the city of Pontiac its second gold medal winner of the World Games.

* * *

Pontiac's Hayes Jones, who earned a bronze medal in Rome in 1960 and then came home with a gold medal in the 110 meter hurdles in 1964 at Tokyo, is in Mexico City as a member of the U.S. Olympic Board of Consultants of which Jesse Owens is chairman.

PCH STUDENT

In 1960, when Micki was a student at Pontiac Central, she was one of 30 candidates competing in the U.S. Olympic swim trials held at Detroit's Brennan pool.

She didn't fare too well against the seasoned veterans such as Paula Jean Pope, who then was 24 and the queen of U.S. women divers.

But rather than disappointment, Micki was happy to have gained the experience and from that time on she decided to work hard to reach her goal — the U.S. Olympic team.

* * *

In 1964, and with the goal in her grasp, Micki dropped from second place in the Olympic trials in New York to 6th in her final three dives, and when the U.S. contintent left for Tokyo she dejectedly was left behind.

One of the many people who helped her along the way, Ed Dauw, then swim coach at Pontiac Northern, spearheaded a drive for funds to send her to California in 1965 for the National AAU Women's platform championships where she repaid the confidence of Pontiac people by winning the national championship.

The same year at Toledo she won the three-meter national championship to become the No. 1 woman diver in the United States.

* * *

There was a slight lapse in competition in 1966 when she joined the Air Force, but it wasn't long after that she again started taking the headlines in competition with diving coach Dick Kimball of the University of Michigan helping her.

In August of 1967 she again won the National three-meter and one-meter crown and later the gold medal at the Tokyo World Games.

* * *

When the trials were held this past August in Long Beach, Calif., for the current Olympics, Micki had to rally from eighth place in the final dives to finish second and she will remember August 21, 1968 as the day she realized her Olympic goal.

The only other day which would provide even a greater thrill and lifetime memory will be Oct. 18, 1968 — the day of the finals of the world's greatest competition — the day she hopes to strike gold.

Ex-Maple Runner Also Competing in XIX Olympiad

Another area competitor in the 1968 World Olympiad is Jack Bachelor, former Birmingham Seaholm runner who will compete in the 5,000 meter run, slated for next Tuesday, Oct. 15 with the preliminaries.

The finals of this event is scheduled for Thursday, Oct. 17 at 5:20 p.m. Mexico time.

Bachelor, a 25 year old Doctorate student at the University of Florida finished second in the recent Olympic trials.

* *

He received his Bachelor's degree from Miami of Ohio in 1966.

His best performance in the event in 1968 was 13:48.0 which is recorded at sea level.

In the trials at 7,400 foot altitude Bachelor's time was recorded at 14:37.4.

Micki's Schedule

Micki King is scheduled to compete in her 3-meter diving event of the World Olympics on Thursday and Friday, Oct. 17-18.

At noon on the 17th, three-meter diving eliminations for women will start.

At 5:00 p.m., the same day, the semi-finals are scheduled with the finals slated for Friday Oct. 18 at 7:00 Mexico time.

U. S. Divers Await Strong Competition

The United States has been the dominant force in Olympic diving for years but the rest of the world is catching up.

Still, the acrobatic and graceful American men and women figure to win at least two and possibly three or all four of the gold medals in the pressure competition at Mexico City, Oct. 17-26.

Since 1924, the Yanks have captured 32 of the 36 gold medals, 15 of 18 by the women and 17 of 18 by the men. The only loss by the men was to Mexico's talented Joaquin Capilla in the 10-meter platform at Melbourne, Australia in 1956.

GERMAN DIVER

Only one woman, the fabulous Ingrid Kramer of East Germany, has been able to break the American stranglehold.

Now Mrs. Gulbin, and 25, the German blonde swept both the three - meter springboard and the spectacular platform at Rome in 1960 and nearly duplicated the feat at Tokyo in 1964.

She repeated in the springboard and finished second to 16-year-old Lesley Bush of Princeton, N. J., in the platform.

* * *

No diver, either a man or woman, ever has won Olympic golds in three Olympics. Mrs. Gulbin will try to accomplish the unprecedented feat but the reports from Europe is that her comeback is coming along very slowly.

She may be a contender in the springboard but faces formidable opposition from the favored Americans and the rising Russians.

* * *

The Americans won three of four at Tokyo but only one of the quartet is back for another shot—Miss Bush in the platform.

The 20-year-old coed from Indiana University finished second in the American Olympic Trials to Ann Peterson, a consistent 21-year-old performer from Arizona State U., and Bellevue, Wash. They have to be rated co-favorites.

* * *

The third member of the team is Mrs. Barbara Talmage, a two-time Olympian from Phoenix, Ariz., who finished seventh at Tokyo.

U.S. TOP 3

Uncle Sam also will be strong in the springboard with Keala O'Sullivan, a 17-year-old newcomer from Honolulu who upset seasoned Air Force Lt. Micki King of Pontiac and 1964 Olympic fourth-placer Sue Gossick in the Trials.

In the Platform the Americans' chief competition is expected from Russia's formidable Galina Alekseeva, third at Tokyo; Natalia Lobanova and Vera Baklanova; Mrs. Kramer-Gulbin; Inge Pertmayr of Austria and Regina Krause of West Germany.

* * *

In the springboard, the other contenders are expected to include Mrs. Kramer-Gulbin, and the Soviet Union's Tamara Pogozeva, the national champion, Alena Anokhina, sixth in the Tokyo Games, and Mrs. Lobanova.

Despite the retirement of two-time Olympic platform champion Bob Webster and springboard king Ken Sitzberger, the Americans will be solidly represented in the men's events. The team is talented and experienced.

Jim Henry of Indiana University, Keith Russell of Mesa, Ariz., and Pan-American champion Bernie Wrightson of Phoenix will compete in the springboard. Russell, a strong, acrobatic 20-year-old, will double in the platform, an event in which he won the Trials after finishing second to Henry in the springboard.

The next two in the platform are Win Young, a confident competitor from Indiana U. and Rick Gilbert of Lancaster, Pa.

Honors of '67 Included High Spot Among Best

In January 1968, Micki King was selected among the top ten Female Athletes of 1967 by the Associated Press.

The honors went to tennis queen Billy Jean King, but Micki placed high in the national balloting as result of her national AAU championships in 3-meter and platform diving.

Pontiac Could Have '72 Olympics Entry With Hurdler Tipton

Hayes Jones in 1960 and 1964!
Micki King in 1968!
Bill Tipton in 1972?

Pontiac has been represented in the last three Olympics and there is a strong possibility that 1972 when the games are held at Munich, Germany, Bill Tipton, hurdler at Pontiac Central could be a member of the U.S. team.

Tipton, who broke all of Jones' high school records statewide national, is a sophomore at Eastern Michigan and in 1972, the lean hurdler would be 23 years when he competes for an Olympic berth.

'Good Luck Micki' Telegram Planned

People of the city and friends of Micki King will have the opportunity to boost the morale of the Pontiac diver when she competes for a gold medal in the World Olympics at Mexico City.

Bruce Norvell and other Pontiac Central swimmers when Micki was also in school, are spearheading a "Good Luck and Bring Home the Gold" campaign in the form of a telegram.

Norvell, who later attended Ohio State, said a telegram will be sent to Micki just prior to the day she competes, Thursday, Oct. 17, and $1 will add the individual's name to the message.

PLACE TO SIGN

Norvell said signatures for the telegram can be signed at Osmun's Tel-Huron store, Hughes-Hatcher at the Mall, Austin-Norvell Insurance and at all branches of the Community National Bank.

Those wishing to sign by mail can do so by mailing $1 to, "Good Luck Micki," 2636 Patrick Henry, Pontiac, Mich. 48057. The message will be sent next Wednesday afternoon to Mexico City.

The original message and names of well wishers would be posted in the Western Union Office on Perry Street in Pontiac.

* * *

Any surplus of money from the cost of the telegram would be used to get Micki a welcome home gift, Norvell noted.

RETURNS TO WINGS — Terry Sawchuk has returned home. The former Red Wing great, a resident of Union Lake, became a member of the Wings organization again yesterday in a trade that sent Jim Peters to the Los Angeles Kings in exchange for the popualr netminder.

Vet Sawchuk Rejoins Wings

DETROIT (AP) — Former All-Star goalie Terry Sawchuk is returning to the Detroit Red Wings for the third time in his 18-year National Hockey League career.

The 38-year-old Sawchuk was obtained by the Wings Wednesday from the Los Angeles Kings in a trade for forward Jimmy Peters, 24, who scored five goals in 45 games for Detroit last year.

★ ★ ★

The Wings already have two goalies on the club—Roger Crozier, himself an All-Star goaltender, and Roy Edwards.

It was not immediately known how Sawchuk would fit into the club's plans. The NHL allows a team to have three goalies on the roster, but it can dress only two.

"We're going with Edwards and Crozier right now," said Coach Bill Gadsby. "We think Sawchuk can help us. I think he's a good backup goalie."

MORE TO SAY

Gadsby said he would have more to say about the trade and Sawchuk in a couple of weeks. He indicated Sawchuk might be good for 20 to 25 games.

★ ★ ★

Sawchuk was in 36 games for the Kings last year after the club picked him in the expansion draft from the Toronto Maple Leafs in 1967. He was in the second year of a two-year contract at an annual salary estimated at between $35,000 and $40,000.

★ ★ ★

Last season with Los Angeles, Sawchuk posted two shutouts for a career total of 102, highest in NHL history. His goal average was 3.07 last year.

He began his NHL career with the Red Wings in 1950 and was named Rookie of the Year. In 1955 Sawchuk was traded to Boston where he played for two seasons before coming back to Detroit in a trade involving nine players.

MAPLE LEAF

He then played the next seven seasons with Detroit giving him a total of 12 seasons with the Red Wings before he was drafted by Toronto in 1964.

Sawchuk has won the Vezina Trophy four times. This prize is awarded annually to the most valuable goaltender in the league. He has been named to the NHL All-Star team seven times.

Huskies Hope to Snap Streak

The end of an embarrassing losing streak could come tomorrow night for the Huskies of Pontiac Northern.

The Huskies' situation in the title race was muddled in a loss to Livonia Stevenson two weeks ago, but still intact is the team pride and that'll be on the line when the strong Walled Lake team visits Wisner Stadium. Game time is 8 p.m.

STEVENSON AHEAD

From a league standpoint, Stevenson at 2-0 can wrap the whole thing up by winning the rest of the way. Should Stevenson falter somewhere, then Northern (1-1), Walled Lake (1-1) or Waterford (1-1) could claim a share of the championship.

★ ★ ★

While Walled Lake is at PNH, Stevenson will be visiting winless Southfield Lathrup. Waterford is at Farmington (0-3-1) for an afternoon conest.

VIKINGS SMARTING

The Vikings of Walled Lake are still smarting from their 13-7 loss to Stevenson last week, so they should be ready for the Huskies, who will be playing before a large Homecoming crowd.

★ ★ ★

The PNH-W. Lake series is an interesting one. In the nine games played, Northern has never won.

And during those nine games, Walled Lake outscored the Huskies 250-74. There were a couple of close ones in the series. The Vikings prevailed last year, 21-20, and in 1961 took a 9-6 decision.

GOOD ON ROAD

What may seem a bit odd is that the most lopsided defeats for PNH have come on the Huskies home field.

★ ★ ★

In the last two visits to Wisner, the Vikings won 35-7 in 1966 and gained a 52-7 verdict in 1964.

Indications are, however, that this one will be a low-scoring affair.

SHARP DEFENDERS

PNH has had trouble getting its offense in gear, but the defense has been extremely sharp, giving up only 19 points in four outings. Included in those four games were shutouts over Trenton and Farmington.

★ ★ ★

Walled Lake is almost as sharp on defense. The Vikings have permitted just 32 points while scoring 86 themselves.

The key to the league race appears to be in the hands of Waterford's Skippers. They're favored to handle Farmington with ease and then coming up on the schedule is an October 25 date at Stevenson. Should Waterford stop the Spartans, it could create a deadlock for the title.

The Waterford eleven has a high-powered offense led by Steve Goit, who has tallied 42 points in four outings. Mike Sheldon has 30 and Bruce Saffron 21, 15 of them on PAT kicks.

Boston Drops 8th

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP) — The Atlanta Hawks handed the defending National Basketball Association champions, the Boston Celtics, their eighth exhibition loss in nine starts Wednesday night, 111-102.

Zelmo Beaty led the Atlanta scoring with 28 points and Larry Siegfried topped the Celtics with 23.

OLYMPIC CHALLENGE — Avery Brundage, 81, (left) is being challenged for the leadership of the International Olympic Committee by France's Count Jean de Beaumont, 64. The attempt to unseat Brundage will be made in the elections Friday by the 70-member IOC committee.

Palmer Blames PGA for Impasse in Talks

VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Arnold Palmer said today big time golf appears to be in a deep freeze for 1969 until a legal decision is reached in the fight between the U.S. Professional Golfer Association and the rebellious touring professionals.

The 39-year-old Latrobe, Pa., golf star counted himself amongst the so-called rebels.

He blamed the officials of the PGA for the impasse which has reached the federal courts of Wilmington, Del.

The court is ruling now on an injunction by the PGA to stop the touring professionals from proceeding with their own group, known as the American Professional Golfers (APG).

Here for the eight-man World Match Play Championship, Palmer made his comments on the altercation to newsmen:

"There's only one playing professional of any importance backing the PGA," Palmer said. "That is Sam Snead."

MUST WAIT

Until the legal ruling is made, however, there is nothing to be done, he added.

The APG, led by Gardner Dickinson of Nassau, has lined up "more sponsors than we have time to play," Palmer declared.

At stake in the row are all the major tournaments as well as the international competitions like the Ryder Cup.

"What is most disappointing is that they (PGA) had nothing to lose by letting the players have autonomy," Palmer said.

"I'm with the players. They want to run without being told why and how. I have no intention of giving up my PGA membership. But the officials are just a bunch of . . . well, nice fellows."

SAD THING

"It's all a very sad thing."

Asked if the row had spread too far for a solution, Palmer said, "Nothing ever really goes too far, but time is running out."

He said if the dispute is not settled soon the split would defy negotiation and the PGA would wind up with nobody playing except Sam Snead."

PGA membership involved the 200 or so top playing pros and about 5,600 club professionals.

Colts' Unitas Joins Workout

BALTIMORE (AP) — John Unitas faces a major hurdle in practice today after passing his first serious test of his ailing right elbow.

The veteran quarterback of the Baltimore Colts, who has missed the first four games of the National Football League season, took a regular turn in the team's passing drill Wednesday and reported only minimal pain.

"John threw half of our passing offense," Coach Don Shula said. "He threw with some authority and that pleased me. He told me his elbow felt all right."

If there is no stiffness today, Unitas will throw again in practice.

"And if there isn't any pain after that," Smith said, "I'll have to believe he is over the hump and will probably use him in Sunday's game."

Earl Morrall, who has directed the Colts to four consecutive victories, is expected to start again Sunday at San Francisco with Unitas seeming some action to help get his timing back.

Olympic Group Voting Friday

Frenchman Challenges for Top Position

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Avery Brundage, iron-fisted ruler of the International Olympic Committee since 1952, today faces probably the biggest threat to his regime, a drive by the Comte Jean de Beaumont of France to unseat the Chicago millionaire as head of the world-wide organization.

★ ★ ★

"At 81, there's time for a change," De Beaumont said Wednesday after his nomination to oppose Brundage as president.

★ ★ ★

Beaumont, 63, and a millionaire in his own right, also was nominated for two other posts—one of four for first vice president and one of seven as a board member—in the elections scheduled to begin at 12:30 p.m., EDT.

★ ★ ★

Most close observers, however, feel that Brundage—who has had one of his most trying years in pulling through these strife-torn, death-ridden and racially tainted Games—again would be elected.

U.S. BACKING

De Beaumont, prior to the nominations, had said he would not seek the post unless drafted. He said he had the backing of the United States, Morocco and Iran among the 69 members of the IOC.

Brundage, 81 only a few days ago, maintained a pre-election silence.

★ ★ ★

The ram-rod straight champion of amateurism has had probably the most difficult year of his career in bringing about these 19th Olympic Games.

Bump Silent on Grid Plans

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan Coach Bump Elliott isn't saying much about what surprises — if any — he may have in store when his team takes on arch-rival Michigan State in Ann Arbor Saturday.

"If I had something different, I don't know that I'd talk about it," said Elliott. "If I did, then it wouldn't be different anymore."

★ ★ ★

Elliott did say that he has nothing special in the works for practice this week. The team Tuesday went through its normal routine of offensive and defensive drills and extensive wind sprints.

"We're not doing anything more than to try and get the team ready for a good tough game," Elliott said. "Our team is going to be ready to play."

Elliott refused to speculate on the outcome of Saturday's game.

"State has got some pretty good players. I've always counted them among the top teams in the Big Ten and not only because we have to play them."

RUNNING ATTACK

Elliott said he expects MSU to attack with a diversified offense based heavily on their running game. He indicated that the Wolverines will try a balanced attack of running and passing.

Sophomore flanker Paul Staroba will probably not see action in the State game, said Elliott. Staroba, a Flint product, suffered a shoulder injury in Michigan's 32-9 victory over Navy last Saturday.

★ ★ ★

Both junior flanker John Gabler of Royal Oak and sophomore Jim Betts of Cleveland have been working out with the first team in Staroba's spot, Elliott said he is not yet certain which of them will start.

Elliott said he plans to retain senior Tim Killian of West Bradock as the team's No. 1 place kicker. Killian missed three of five conversion attempts in the Navy game. "I have confidence in Killian," said Elliott.

The Wolverines will go into the game 2-1 on the season. The game Saturday is their first Big Ten contest.

Michigan State is undefeated in three games, including last Saturday's Big Ten opener, a 39-0 romp over Wisconsin.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan-Michigan State series dates back to 1898 and the teams have met every year since 1910.

Michigan leads in the series 36-19 but since 1955, the year MSU was admitted to the Big Ten, the Spartans have won nine, tied two and lost two.

Last year Michigan State rolled over Michigan 34-0.

Bucks Tip Suns in NBA Game

BELOIT, Wis. (AP) — The Milwaukee Bucks led all the way and defeated Phoenix 116-102 Wednesday night in the first meeting of the two National Basketball Association expansion teams.

Milwaukee's Bob Love and the Suns' Gale Goodrich each collected 22 points to lead the scoring.

San Diego 11 in Top Spot

Coast Eleven Holds Small College Poll

By the Associated Press

Unbeaten San Diego State held on to first place today in The Associated Press' small college football poll, but North Dakota State made a dent in the Aztecs' once big lead.

San Diego State, 3-0, idle last weekend, nailed down nine of the 15 first-place votes in picking up 278 points in the balloting by a regional panel of sports-writers and broadcasters.

SECOND BALLET

North Dakota State, 4-0 after whipping South Dakota 35-13, had only one top vote, but used second ballot strength to amass 208 points. A week ago, the Aztecs held a 112-point advantage over the Bison.

Eastern Kentucky, which nipped Austin Peay 21-20 for its third straight, remained third while idle Northern Michigan 4-0, held on to fourth.

★ ★ ★

Chattanooga, Illinois State and Wittenburg are newcomers to the rankings this week, replacing dropouts Akron, Eastern Washington and Texas-Arlington.

1.	San Diego State 9	30 278
2.	North Dakota State 1	40 208

Table Tennis Star Holds Instructions

Sam Veillette, Michigan Table Tennis Association ranked player, will join the Pontiac Table Tennis Association as an instructor this season.

★ ★ ★

The PTTA, with its largest membership in history and largest in the state of Michigan, has set aside Tuesday evenings as instruction time for its members.

★ ★ ★

Veillette will conduct instructions in the girl's gym at PCH at 7:00 p.m. each Tuesday.

League play for the PTTA is each Thursday.

Harriers' Streak Comes to Close

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Springfield's streak of 20 straight cross country victories over a three-year span have ended.

★ ★ ★

Art Dulong improved upon his own individual record Tuesday in leading Holy Cross to a 21-34 triumph.

Dulong covered the 4.7 mile course in 22:08, breaking by 15 seconds the course record he had set only a week ago.

Top Seeded Netter Wins

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Top-seeded Gardnar Mulloy of Miami trounced Louis Baudis of Fairfield, Conn., 6-1, 6-0, in 56-and-over singles Wednesday to advance to the semifinal round of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association's Senior Clay Court Championships.

The former U.S. and Wimbledon champion joined with C. Alphonso Smith of Alexandria, Va., to form the No. 1 ranked team in 50-over doubles and defeat Frank Cantwell, New Smyrna Beach, Fla., and Henry Crawford, Atlanta, 6-0, 6-1.

Rochester Meets Madison in Top O-A Contest

The Falcons of Rochester will make a big pitch for the Oakland A football title when they entertain Madison's Eagles.

Both head into the game unbeaten, but Rochester holds the league lead at 3-0 after winning all games while Madison has a tie (2-0-1) with defending champion Troy (2-0-1) on its record.

While the Eagles and Falcons are battling, Lake Orion visits Avondale, Romeo is at Clawson and Troy plays host to Troy.

SPARK ROCHESTER

Talented quarterback Mike Scally and speedy halfback Gary Miller have provided much of the spark for the Falcons, who are 4-0 over-all.

Since that 27-27 standoff with Troy a while back, the Madison squad has manhandled Avondale, 38-0, and disposed of Utica, 10-6.

Orion, after a season-opening 25-14 win over Waterford Kettering, has simply been unable to untrack its offense.

TWO TD'S

The Orion Dragons have crossed the goal line only two times in the past three games and coach Doug Holcomb, in his first year at Orion, is hoping his runners will have more room when they take on winless Avondale (0-4).

* * *

Avondale has had its offensive problems, too. The Yellow Jackets have only a pair of touchdowns in four outings. Gary Monroe and Clyde McCauley collected those six-pointers.

TITLE TONES

A contest with title overtones is on tap in the Southeastern Michigan Association where Ferndale (2-0) plays host to Southfield (1-0-1). They are the only unbeatens in the league and the winner is unlikely to encounter much opposition after tomorrow in the drive to the championship.

* * *

Other SEMA games have Birmingham Seaholm at Hazel Park and Royal Oak Kimball at Berkley.

SPOILER ROLE

In the Wayne-Oakland, Clarkston, out of the race with an 0-3 record, could be a spoiler in playing host to Northville, which still has title hopes with a 1-1 mark.

* * *

The northville squad will bring along talented halfback Barry Deal, who'll give the Clarkston defenders all they can handle.

KETTERING TRAVELS

Elsewhere in the W-O, Kettering (1-1) will get a look at league-leading West Bloomfield (3-0), while Brighton visits Milford in the other evening contest. Bloomfield Hills Andover will entertain Clarenceville at 3:30.

* * *

Holly takes on Fenton in a renewal of their long-standing rivalry. Both are in the Metro League. Another game in that loop finds Lapeer at Flint Carman.

Three games are on tap in the Southern Thumb League but the biggest one — the fourth — will be played Saturday.

* * *

Tomorrow, Memphis is at Almont, Dryden at Capac and Armada at Anchor Bay.

* * *

Club One Spot, Briggs Win in Touch Football

King Briggs and Club One Spot picked up victories in city touch football last night.

Jerry's Gulf (0-2) fell to King Briggs (1-2), 14-7, while Club One Spot (1-1) handed previously unbeaten Latham Stallions (3-1 a 22-0 setback.

Mike Thornberry hauled in a 26-yard pass from Ralph Landry and a PAT pass from Greg Glynn to boost Jerry's Gulf into a 7-0 first-quarter lead, but King Briggs' came back on a pair of touchdown passes from Lees Maxwell to Robert Morris to pull it out.

* * *

Morris hauled in a 16-yarder plus the PAT in the second and another 16-yarder in the third. Elmer Strickland took a Maxwell pass for the other PAT.

Willie Holloman passed for two touchdowns to pace the Club One win. He hit Bill Spann with a 19-yarder and tossed a 76-yarder to Cecil Jones. Spann raced 42 yards with an intercepted pass for the other six-pointer. Lee Latimore downed the Latham ballcarrier in the endzone in the fourth for a safety.

Rochester Harriers Run Record to 7-0

Rochester's cross-country team ran its record to 7-0 yesterday with a 19-44 victory over Madison.

Keith Wattles paced the Rochester win with a time of 10:22. Cal McDanile was third for Rochester, followed by Doug Hauk (4), Bob Sanderson (5), Dave Arnold (6) and Chris Vizena (7). Mark Fusco placed second for Madison.

Lake Orion defeated Avondale 17 to 41 as Charles Hopper posted a 10:45 timing and a meet record.

Orion captured the first three spots. Dave Stenquist and Mike Barowsky placed second and third.

Lahser Wins Game

Barry Kovack and John Oviatt scored two goals apiece in leading Bloomfield Hills Lahser to a 6-2 soccer victory over Ferndale yesterday.

Cards Hole-in-Cone

Reino Nustonen of Wixom posted an ace on the 180-yard No. 6 hole at Kensington last week. He used a 2-iron in recording his first hole-in-one.

Predict 190 Speeds at New Track

Speeds to 190 miles an hour are being predicted during Saturday's time trials for the inaugural race at the Michigan International Speedway in the Irish Hills.

The 250-mile race will be Sunday at 1:30 p.m. Entrance to the new plant is on US-12, about a half mile west of Cambridge Junction in Lenawee County.

★ ★ ★

The gates will open at dawn on race day. A crowd of 75,000 is expected. The grandstand, which seats 25,000 persons, is priced at $20 and $25. Spectators will be admitted to the infield for $5.

★ ★ ★

Practice starts Saturday at 9 a.m. and the time trials are set from 1-4 p.m. There are 42 entries competing for the 26 starting spots in the United States Auto Club (USAC) championship points race. Ticket price for the Saturday activities is $2.

INDY CARS

Many of the drivers and cars that appeared at Indianapolis will be competing on the two-mile D shaped oval. It features 18-degree banked curves at each end and a slight 9-degree banked curve in front of the grandstand. The backstretch is flat and straight.

★ ★ ★

Gordon Johncock of Hastings set the track record during test runs of 182.91 miles an hour, turning the oval in just over 39 seconds. Joe Leonard, driving a turbine car, was running at 180 before the car crashed earlier this month. The turbine will be ready for the time trials.

Parnelli Jones, owner of the car, was reinstated by USAC yesterday and may take the wheel.

Other drivers entered include A. J. Foyt, Mario Andretti, Bobby and Al Unser, Roger McCluskey, Bud Tinglestad, Gary Bettenhausen, Sam Sessions, Mel Kenyon, Art Pollard, Johnny Rutherford, Lloyd Ruby and Billy Vukovich.

★ ★ ★

They will be competing for points toward the national USAC driving championship.

Four USAC events are tentatively scheduled for 1969 — two sprint car races and two for modified stocks. In addition, two road racing courses, the longest a three-miler, are being constructed.

Conley Posts Nine TD's

Dash Champion Takes Scoring Lead

Speedy halfback Terry Conley of West Bloomfield has moved into the top spot in the Oakland County football scoring race.

★ ★ ★

The slender 155-pound Conley, dash champion in the Wayne-Oakland League, has piled up 54 points in four games and has opened up a six-point lead over hard-running Barry Deal of Northville.

Conley played a key role in West Bloomfield's 21-6 victory over Northville last Friday.

★ ★ ★

With Northville leading 6-0 and seemingly headed for another touchdown with time running out in the first half Conley broke up the drive and the game by picking off a Northville pass at his own 14 and raced 86 yards for a touchdown.

Conley's teammate Jim Taperek added the extra point and instead of being behind at the half, the Lakers went into the break with a 7-6 lead.

SCORES AGAIN

Conley came back later in the game to pick up his second touchdown of the night.

★ ★ ★

Running behind Conley and Deal is last week's leader, Jon VanWagner of Novi, who was held scoreless in Novi's victory over Waterford Mott.

LEADS IN SVC

Russ Davis continues to set the pace in the Saginaw Valley Conference race with 36 points but several players are applying pressure.

★ ★ ★

Rollie Garcia of Pontiac Central shares the No. 2 spot with Chuck Markey of Saginaw with 30 points apiece. Among a group with 24 is Pontiac Central fullback Jerry Hinsperger.

Topping all scorers in southeastern Michigan, however, is 135-pound Ron Thrushman of Port Huron Northern, who has piled up 86 points on 13 touchdowns and eight PATs in sparking the team to a 4-0 record.

Ron Rusk of Armada and Neil Evans are running two-three among the area leaders.

No Taxi for Bills' Tackle

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Dudley Meredith, 33, joined the taxi squad if he clears waivers, the American Football League team said Wednesday.

LEADING SCORER — Halfback Terry Conley of West Bloomfield has moved in front of the pack in the Oakland County scoring race. Conley has 54 points and he'll try to add to that total tomorrow night when he and his teammates entertain Waterford Kettering.

Toledo Kicker Sets Boot Mark

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Ken Crots is a little guy who gets a boot out of football.

The University of Toledo's place kicking specialist has become the most prolific point-after-touchdown performer in college football.

You might say the 5-foot-9, 175-pound junior is automatic. At least, he hasn't missed yet and already has carved his name into the NCAA record book twice.

★ ★ ★

Last Saturday, in Toledo's 40-31 loss to Ohio University, Crots booted four extra points, running his string of successful placements to 54. That broke by two the standard of 52 set by Wayne Barfield of Florida from 1965-67.

"I felt tremendous pressure on that 52nd kick," Crots confided. "My leg felt like wood when I was trying for the equalizer. But after I made it I was completely relaxed."

Crots, who played offensive end in high school but sees no contact work with the Rockets, set his first NCAA mark as a sophomore.

He kicked 35 of 35 last year establishing a one season record. The old mark of 32 was set by Princeton's Charlie Gogolak in 1965.

Crots, a product of Whiteford High School in Ottawa Lake, Mich., said he never had an overwhelming desire to be a kicker.

"My coach needed a kicker and I was willing to give it a try."

He was successful 62 of 91 times and caught the eye of Frank Lauterbur, the athletic director and football coach. Ottawa Lake is just across the Ohio line from Toledo.

Crots does not get much chance trying for field goals for the high-scoring Rockets but has placed eight of 13 through the uprights.

His longest three-pointer was a 35-yarder.

Major Hoople Picks 'M' Over MSU, Purdue

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Football's Foremost Forecaster

Egad, friends, no matter what direction you may look — East, Midwest, South, Southwest, Far West — there is a crucial contest slated for this Saturday.

Top meeting of the day sends the No. 1 Purdue club into football-mad Columbus, tostadium the Michigan tangle with the up-and-coming Buckeyes. We look for Woody Hayes' lads to give Purdue a tussle before succumbing to the Boilermakers' superior manpower. Our prediction: Purdue 32, Ohio State 28!

OTHER TOP GAMES

Other headline engagements find California invading the East to meet the improving Army eleven, in the South, Georgia Tech will play host to Tennessee, in the Southwest, Oklahoma and Texas clash for the 63rd time, and in the Far West, Southern California takes on the Stanford Indians.

The Hoople System, which is functioning in its usually efficient manner — 32-13 — .711 last week — selects California, Tennessee, Oklahoma and Southern California to prevail — hak-kaff!

Our Three-Star Special is Michigan to down Michigan State in their torrid intrastate rivalry.

Playing before a packed house in their 100,001-seat football-mad Columbus, tostadium the Michigan Wolverines will outpoint the Spartans, 21-18 — um-kumph!

A Big Eight conference clash that is sure to be a crowd pleaser, pits high-scoring Kansas against undefeated Nebraska.

The Jayhawks, who have amassed 153 points this year, will make it four straight this season by thumping Nebraska, 28-14.

It's out of the frying pan into the fire for the plucky Northwestern lads and their fine coach, Alex Agase. After three consecutive losing efforts — Miami (Fla.), Southern California and Purdue — the Wildcats journey to South Bend to meet the Irish. When Hanratty and Seymour have finished for the day it will be N.D. 46, Northwestern 12.

I trust you will forgive me for mentioning it, dear readers, but did you notice the Hoople System correctly predicted Mississippi's triumph over Alabama last week? It was the first victory for Old Miss over the Crimson Tide since 1910 — har-rumph!

Now go on with the forecast.

2 Undefeated in Billiards Tourney Play

LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Only two straight pool shooters remained undefeated Wednesday night in the $25,000 U.S. Open Billiards Tournament.

Joe Balsis of Minorsville, Pa., and Danny DiLiberto of Miami, Fla., were scheduled to meet today in a semifinal match that would see one of them advance unbeaten to the finals Friday in the double elimination tournament.

Balsis defeated the 1966 tournament winner, Irving Crane of Rochester, N.Y., 150-118 Wednesday.

DiLiberto defeated Bill Amodeo of Baldwin, N.Y., 150-130.

Defending champion Jimmy Caras of Springfield, Pa., was eliminated by Cicero Murphy, Brooklyn, N.Y., 150-128, and 1967 runner-up Luther Lassiter of Elizabeth City, N.C., lost to Dallas West, Rockford, Ill., 150-36.

Women's defending champion Dorothy Wise of Half Moon Bay, Calif., advanced to the final round by defeating Sue Lynn Merrick of Prairie Village, Kan., 75-29.

Her opponent was to be Sheila Bohm of Rochester, Ind., who defeated a nine-year-old fourth grader, Jean Balukas of Brooklyn, N.Y., 75-50.

In the men's three-cushion division, Larry Johnson of Cambridge, Mass., gained a 50-46 victory over Jimmy Cattrano of New York to advance to the finals today.

SOVIET SPRINTERS — Two Soviet runners warmed up on the Tartan track at the World Olympic in Mexico City yesterday. Dr. Natasha Pechenkina, 22, (left) and Inga Verbele, 20, a schoolteacher are among the strong challengers in the 400 meter event. The Olympics start officially on Sunday.

Curvy Reds in Games Spotlight

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Confirmed girl watchers at the 19th Olympic Games are seeing red.

Well, actually they're seeing gold and red-flowing gold tresses flying with the red CCCP uniforms of the Soviet Union. And they like it.

★ ★ ★

The two most watched females on the Olympic training tracks are, surprisingly, a pair of blonde, leggy Russians, both of whom specialize in the 400 meter run.

One of them is Inga Verbele, a 20-year-old statuesque school teacher from Rigo. The other is Natasha Pechenkina, a 22-year-old surgeon from Moscow.

They have been dubbed The Golden Twins.

CLOSER LOOK

When they work out, athletes of all nations stop and stare. Fans crowd to the edge of the tartan track to get a closer look. Photographers move in like hungary vultures. Autograph seekers mob them.

"They are by far the most popular track and field athletes to work out here," said one of the custodians of the practice track at the University of Mexico. "When they finish, it sometimes takes them an hour to walk to their bus. People are around them all the time."

★ ★ ★

Inga is 6-foot tall, weighs 145 pounds and has all the curves in the right places. She has blonde hair that she allows sometimes to fall halfway down her back. When she runs, she ties it in twin pig-tails. Her complexion is peaches and cream.

Natasha is shorter, 5-9¾, weighing 129. Her blonde hair is closer cropped, coming to the nape of her neck. Like Inga's it is the color of spun cotton.

Inga looks much like the late Jayne Mansfield, giving a few inches here and there. Natasha has the puckish good looks of Doris Day.

Both speak English fairly well, Natasha better than Inga. They are cordial and cooperative even at times coquettish and flirtatious.

In this way, they are marked contrast to the old style Soviet female athlete, Dowdy, muscular, mannish with a freezing stare at any foreigner who sought to communicate.

The Russians as a whole have changed considerably from the grim suspicious, uncooperative team that made its Olympic debut in 1952 at Helsinki. Then their shoes squeaked, their finger-nails were dirty, the women shunned lipstick and perfume. They were guarded from outsiders by MKVD men with black hats and steel teeth.

Vikings' Pair Receive Honor

Cuozzo, Kapp Chosen as AP Stars

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Gary Cuozzo and Joe Kapp talked about team play Wednesday when informed they were named by The Associated Press as National Football League Offensive Players of the Week.

The Minnesota Vikings' quarterbacks spearheaded a 24-10 victory over the Detroit Llons Sunday. The win boosted the Vikings into sole possession of first place of the Central Division with a 3-1 record.

"These things honors are nice to get," Kapp said after being told of the award. "The only thing we're concerned about is winning the football game.

"In the second half, we had to have two touchdowns. We moved it down for them."

Cuozzo, who broke his left collarbone but remained in the game for 15 plays, said, "I only wish I was healthy.

"I'm glad I was able to contribute to the Vikings' win. We are really happy to be in first place."

Kapp was knocked dizzy in the first half by Detroit tacklers but returned in the second half to spark the Vikings to two fourth-quarter touchdowns.

Cuozzo's clavicle snapped at the start of a 79-yard TD drive in the second period.

Firebirds' QB Facing Tough Foe

CURRENT MFL STANDINGS

	W	L		W	L
Dayton	5	0	Hamtramck	2	3
Lackawanna	4	2	Ypsilanti	2	3
Flint	3	3	Fort Wayne	0	7
Pontiac	3	4

The first starting assignment for Doug Holcomb, the new quarterback of the Pontiac Firebirds, won't be an easy task.

Holcomb, who entered the game with 12 minutes remaining against Dayton last week, throwing four passes for 85 yards and a touchdown, will be facing one of the league's best defenses Saturday night when the Lackawanna Lancers visit Wisner Stadium.

The team from Buffalo, N.Y. is the strongest challenger to Dayton's title bid.

The Lancers have a huge and stingy defensive line which has been tough on MFL foes.

The only two defeats for Lackawanna have been a last minute 35-28 loss to Dayton and a 31-21 setback on Flint's Astroturf when the Wildcats scored three touchdowns in the final four minutes.

Last week, Lackawanna whipped Ypsilanti 38-6 for the second time this season.

Big gun in the defensive line for Lackawanna is Carmen San Marco a pro prospect who has been a taxi squad member of the New York Jets of the AFL.

San Marco stands 6-4 and goes 270 pounds at the defensive tackle position.

Offensively, the Lancers have one of the best runners in the MFL in Norman Maxwell a 200-pounder from Tennessee A & I.

When the Firebirds lost a 6-0 decision to the Lancers in Buffalo earlier in the season, it was Maxwell who did the bulk of the running.

★ ★ ★

Lackawanna also has a kicker who is a redshirt of the Cleveland Browns' camp, Wolfgang Flagelmaker, a soccer stylist who booms the kickoffs into the end zone and who also can be accurate on field goals.

Out of the title race, the Firebirds can play the role of spoiler as the Lancers must win in Pontiac or find themselves out of the race.

★ ★ ★

Next week, Pontiac has an open date. Saturday night Oct. 26, the Firebirds travel to Wyandotte to meet the Ypsilanti Vikings in a charity game there for the Wyandotte hospital.

Tickets for that game are available at Griff's and Osmun's downtown as are the tickets for the final two home games, Saturday with Lackawanna and Nov. 2 with Fort Wayne.

U.S. Politics Shows Nervous Breakdown, Says Press Abroad

LONDON (AP) —One English newspaper says the American elections are "the product of a national nervous breakdown" produced by too many political assassinations. Another paper says they have in some ways become "one of the greatest political shams in the world."

* * *

These views turned up in a survey this week of comment on U.S. affairs from abroad.

The Spectator, an independent-Conservative weekly, predicted a Nixon victory and suggested that supporters of George C. Wallace in the North would return to a Democratic party headed by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., in 1972.

* * *

"This election—Mr. Nixon's recovery and Gov. Wallace's transient glory—will be seen as what it was: the product of a national nervious breakdown consequent upon the durance of too many political assassinations," the Spectator said.

IMPORTANT QUESTION

Anthony Howard, Washington correspondent for the Observer, wrote: "The strangest thing about the American presidential election is that the really important question—What is it all about anyway? — is one that somehow never seems to get asked."

Howard said that if Wallace comes in on election day with 15 or even 20 million votes "it will not only be because he is, on any judgment, a better popular candidate than either of his two rivals.

* * *

"It will also at least partly be because he has succeeded in exposing the American presidential election for what it has now turned into—'the Greatest Show on Earth'—which in many ways has also become one of the greatest political shams in the world."

Jeremy Campbell, Washington correspondent of the Evening Standard, said the relationship between President Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was at "Its lowest ebb."

'HHH EXASPERATED'

Humphrey "is now exasperated at the ruthless way LBJ has undercut all his efforts to become his own man on Vietnam, and has pointedly refrained from asking him (Johnson) to make a single speech in support of his candidacy," Campbell wrote.

Other papers commented on a speech by Humphrey in which he called conditionally for a bombing halt in North Vietnam.

* * *

The Guardian,, a Liberal newspaper, credited Humphrey with "the courage to say how he would try to tackle the nightmare legacy that the next president will inherit in Vietnam. He offers the prospect, though not the certainty, of stopping American bombing of the North."

West Germany's Frankfurter Allgemeine wrote: "Humphrey's concept is more than a careful step back from the course steered by President Johnson, a course Humphrey actually should have followed until Jan. 20.

RICHARD M. NIXON

Nixon Sources Make It Very Clear: No Debates

By WALTER R. MEARS

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — There aren't going to be any presidential campaign debates this year involving Richard M. Nixon, Republican sources made clear today.

Aides to the GOP presidential nominee said Nixon is not going to ease his opposition to any confrontation including third-party candidate George C. Wallace. Nor, they said, will Nixon agree to any arrangement raising the prospect that Wallace might win separate but equal television treatment.

They acknowledge that these Nixon reservations eliminate any prospect that the Republican nominee will meet Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, his Democratic rival, in debate before the election on Nov. 5.

The Nixon camp insists that there must be assurances Wallace would have no claim of free television time as a result of any Nixon-Humphrey debate.

NIXON RATIONALE

The Nixon rationale: It would not be in the public interest to provide Wallace with an avenue to more national attention than his third-party campaign now commands.

Nixon argues that it is essential the two-party system must be safeguarded.

* * *

The Republican nominee said nothing after the House, stalled by GOP parliamentary tactics, passed in a 27-hour session a bill to facilitate televised meetings between Nixon, Humphrey and Wallace.

The Senate has passed a measure spending equal-time requirements, which could otherwise bring demands upon the networks from minor presidential candidates, but leaving up to the broadcasters to invite who they want.

But as the Nixon camp sees it, even the Senate version of the legislation could open the way for Wallace to obtain a national television forum.

Ziegler said Nixon was in no way involved in the GOP delaying tactics. The Republicans who did the stalling said they were trying to use the debate bill to force action on congressional reorganization and election reform measures.

But Democrats charged the Republicans were trying to insulate Nixon from campaign debate.

Robert Ellsworth, Nixon's political director, countered with a charge that Humphrey lobbied for legislation to "give him and

News Analysis

George Wallace a million dollars worth of free TV time."

AN ACCUSATION

Ellsworth accused the Democrats of trying to enhance Wallace's standing in hopes of denying Nixon an Electoral College Majority. If there were no majority, the House would choose the next president with each state casting one vote.

* * *

Nixon men are not a bit unhappy with the situation which insulates their candidate from televised debate. The polls indicate Nixon is ahead and thus they see no advantage for their candidate in a debate.

Hubert Tells McCarthy: Our Dream Is Yours

NEW YORK (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey has made a new appeal for Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy's support, warning that otherwise the senator's "impossible dream" might "turn into a quite possible nightmare of George Corley Wallace or Richard Milhouse Nixon."

Speaking to a dinner of New York's Liberal party, which is backing him for president, Humphrey said Wednesday night that the president to be chosen in less than four weeks "probably will not be" Wallace, but "could be" Nixon.

* * *

Then, using the words that became a keynote of McCarthy's unsuccessful quest for the Democratic presidential nomination, Humphrey said, "I myself have pursued the impossible dreams. I pursued them before, and I'm possibly pursuing one again.

* * *

"But," he continued in evident reference to his fellow Minnesotan's continued refusal to support him, "I hope that last year's dreamers will take up today's realities, lest their impossible dreams turn into a quite possible nightmare of George Corley Wallace or Richard Milhous Nixon."

21 ARRESTED

Just before the vice president arrived at the Americana, the midtown hotel where he spoke, 21 anti-Humphrey demonstrators were arrested and five injured, along with five policemen, when officers attempted to disperse a crowd of about 800 protesters.

* * *

One mounted patrolman was hospitalized in serious condition with a back injury after he reportedly was pulled from his horse to the pavement. Some demonstrators contended he fell off his horse.

Officers at the scene said there was no attempt by the demonstrators to rush the hotel but that the pickets pushed police barriers and tried to pull policemen into their ranks.

* * *

He said he still hopes McCarthy will support him, but "I'm not prone to meeting conditions." The senator said Tuesday night the Democratic party should take a stand for a coalition government for South Vietnam, for reform of the draft and restructuring of the party. He said he saw "no reason why the direction of the party could not be changed with a presidential candidate this year."

TALK TO McCARTHY

The vice president said he spoke with McCarthy Tuesday and that the senator indicated he was more concerned with the makeup of the Saigon government than with halting the bombing of North Vietnam.

After a morning of closed meetings today, devoted to efforts to raise additional funds for his financially hard-pressed campaign, Humphrey rides down lower Broadway for a traditional ticker-tape greeting before speaking in the heart of New York's financial district.

* * *

In remarks prepared for a rally there, the vice president observed that "that old social revolutionary Hubert Humphrey" was on Wall Street "among some of the greatest revolutionaries the world has ever known — the people who have built an incentive system in this country that has brought more benefits to more people than any other social or economic system in the history of the earth."

Romney Says Nixon to Offer Peace Policy

TARRYTOWN, N.Y. (UPI) — Michigan Gov. George Romney, campaigning for the Republican presidential ticket, said Wednesday night that Richard M. Nixon will offer a "new policy for peace" if he wins the White House.

Romney told a GOP fund-raising dinner Nixon has a vast knowledge of international problems and how to solve them.

"He affirms a new internationalism in which our allies will play their proper part in defense of their own interest, rather than relying on America to do the job for them," said Romney.

"He affirms a policy to bring an end to the war and lasting peace to Vietnam, and to prevent similar tragic entrapments in the future."

WALLACE TARGET

The governor blasted third-party candidate George C. Wallace and his running mate, retired Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, in prepared remarks.

"Wallace and LeMay speak of law or order at home and military victory abroad but they cannot deliver on these promises because their methods would aggravate the very conditions they promise to correct," he said.

"It is time for each of us to tell our friends and neighbors that a vote for Wallace and LeMay is a misguided, self-defeating vote against America and all America stands for in the world."

Muskie Calls for Harmony on Home Front

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Sen. Edmund S. Muskie says harmony at home takes precedence over all other campaign issues, including peace in Vietnam.

"Bringing people into our society—that's why we're here," he told a luncheon gathering Wednesday.

A downtown lunch-hour crowd that greeted Muskie at a rally following a confetti-strewn motorcade in the Democratic stronghold of Philadelphia was estimated at 15,000 by Police Commissioner Frank L. Rizzo.

A few silent antiwar protesters appeared at the rally at noon and some white teen-age boys and girls shouted Wallace slogans at Muskie's evening appearance in a Polish neighborhood, but he met no hecklers at other stops.

* * *

At the luncheon for 800 persons, the Humphrey-Muskie ticket was endorsed by Leon Shull, a native Philadelphian who was national director of the Americans for Democratic Action.

GOP Aspirant Hits Crime Rise

MOLINE, Ill. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon said today the United States is operating "a crime university" graduating more than 200,000 hardened criminals a year.

In a speech prepared for a rally at a municipal field house, the Republican presidential candidate promised, if elected, "new leadership will break the vicious cycle that snares a first offender into a lifetime of crime."

* * *

As possible approaches of reversing what he saw as a trend among former prison inmates, Nixon suggested that "job training work-release programs and halfway houses can correct men's lives and prevent future crimes from being committed."

The former vice president said it's hard enough to catch and convict a criminal without bearing the added burden of finding him "a worse menace to society upon his release" from prison. He said "The prison must begin to turn out rehabilitated men."

HECKLERS AT WORK

In the Los Angeles area Wednesday, Nixon encountered a few score hecklers among several thousand backers. Many of the supporters had been brought by bus to three suburban rallies.

The Republican candidate ignored the harassment for the most part. But the din of 20 or so hecklers in a Santa Monica auditorium prompted him to depart from his speech to urge his backers to "sock it to 'em."

Nixon obviously intended that the antiwar, anti-Nixon, demonstrators be outshouted—which they were at each stop. There was no violence other than some tearing down of rival signboards.

Nixon stuck very close to his standard speech text, used day after day in state after state. He pictured himself as the candidate who can end the Vietnam war, restore domestic tranquility and guarantee that the American flag will "never again be used as a doormat." And, he pictured his Democratic opponent, Hubert H. Humphrey, as a big spender: "The nation cannot afford him."

Agnew Makes Pitch to Youth

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Ending the draft and lowering the voting age to 18 will be two goals of a Republican administration, says Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, the GOP vice presidential candidate.

"We believe that when the war in Vietnam is over, the nation should shift from the present draft system to an all-volunteer Army," Agnew said of himself and his running mate, Richard M. Nixon.

* * *

"Any draft system is inherently unfair," Agnew said.

Agnew's statements today also said he and Nixon would push for giving the vote to 18-year-olds because they are "smart enough to vote."

Portuguese Chief to Visit Colonies

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Prime Minister Marcello Caetano will visit Portuguese Guinea, Angola and Mozambique soon, the news agency Lusitania reported Wednesday.

This will be the first time in 40 years that a Portuguese prime minister visited the territories in Africa.

LeMay Will Travel to Viet for Wallace

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP) — Retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay is going to Vietnam to take a first hand look at the war for presidential candidate George C. Wallace, the Associated Press has learned.

Tentative plans call for Wallace's running mate to make a four-day trip to Vietnam about Oct. 15, reporting back in time for an Oct. 20 nationwide television address by the former Alabama governor.

* * *

Sources close to Wallace said he planned to announce the trip at a speech today at Vandenburgh County Courthouse here.

LeMay, meanwhile, was campaigning in Florida.

IKE TRIP RECALLED

The trip by LeMay, former Air Force chief of staff and head of the Strategic Air Command, recalls the trip to Korea by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952.

* * *

The difference is, however, that Eisenhower, a five-star general who led allied forces to victory in Europe in World War II, pledged to go if elected and then made the trip before taking office.

* * *

Wallace has pledged to end the Vietnam war with conventional weapons if the Paris peace talks fail and LeMay has said he agrees.

When he was picked a week ago to take second place on the Wallace ticket, he revived the dormant issue of nuclear weapons by saying "there are many occasions when it would be most efficient" to use them.

'NOT NECESSARY'

He added at the time that he didn't think it was necessary to use them in Vietnam.

* * *

Meanwhile, Wallace unleashed his oratorical vengeance Wednesday on the national polls. It is a familiar ploy for political underdogs, but there was little in his attack to indicate he feels his campaign might be slipping.

* * *

"I have no inside knowledge of what the next national poll is going to show," Wallace said in an interview.

"But if the next one doesn't show me going down, then the following one will, and if that one doesn't, then the one after that. You can count on it. I told you in September it was going to happen, and I think it's about to happen now."

* * *

Wallace said he is convinced the polls are "owned by the big money interests who want Nixon to win," and that they will try to start a homestretch bandwagon rolling for the front runner.

Humphrey Tells Financial Worth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic presidential candidate Hubert H. Humphrey says his net financial worth is $281,423.

Humphrey's total assets are $377,867, his office said Wednesday in disclosing his financial standing at his request. But his liabilities total $96,444.

High Kingdom of Nepal: World's Last Never-Never Land

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Now that Shangri-la has vanished with Tibet behind the Bamboo Curtain, neighboring Nepal has got to be the world's last remaining never-never land.

Topographically, at any rate, no place else on earth is closer to heaven. In the northeast corner of this tiny kingdom of Sherpas and Gurkhas, mighty Sagarmantha — Mount Everest, the world's highest moutain — raises her snow-covered head 29,028 feet into the clouds. Ninety sister peaks tower to 22,000 feet and more.

Cut off from the world until 1954 when the road to India was opened, Nepal still clings more to the sky above than the earth below: a land of enchantment suspended in a supernatural vision between the lofty Himalayan range and lowland plains of malaria-ridden jungle still haunted by elephants, tigers and wild buffalo.

Magicians, fortune tellers and Hindu holy men wander through the quaintly medieval streets of Katmandu, the capital city. In the marketplace, near the ferociously leering figure of Kal Bhiarab, the God of Terror, a Muslim string and flute orchestra beats out the tempo for a chorus of robed seers eerily keening a passage from the Koran. Under the all-seeing eye of Lord Buddha, peering down from a magnificent stone stupa, a Tibetan Lama squats on straw mat whirling his prayer wheel in endless clockwise devotion.

GODS CAJOLED

It is any day in Nepal, and everywhere in the kingdom the gods are being conjoled and assuaged. Funeral pyres of scented rosewood are burning on rafts in the sacred Bagmati River, where wailing Hindu parents are cremating their infant offspring who failed to survive the monsoon plagues. Further upstream, beneath the porticos of a magnificently gold-leafed temple, goats and lambs are being slaughtered with a single stroke of the khukuri, the curved knife of the Gurkhas, and already the waters are crimson with sacrificial blood and the banks reek with the flotsam of discarded entrails. Pilgrims by the thousands push and shove to place a joss stick on the altar of a minor deity who on other days of the year would be overlooked.

Bearded Sikhs in jeweled turbans mingle in the crowded bazaars with bead — and flower-bedecked hippies from foreign lands. Sacred cows sleep undisturbed in the middle of the road, oblivious of the klaxon horns of the rickshaw boys, and a priesthood of monkeys presides over a Tibetan pagoda, where handsome, high-cheekboned Mongol women with dark braided hair and enormous rings in their earlobes pray the day away in sing-song chant.

This is Nepal, a lovely land with one eye constantly fixed on heaven and the other warily divided between anxious glances at China and India, her two formidable neighbors.

Although the kingdom of Nepal has been open to the Western world a little over a decade, the Chinese have had some sort of diplomatic representation here since 646 A.D. Once Nepalese trade loomed so important with the great country beyond the wall of the Himalayas that a Nepalese arrested in Tibet could only be tried by a special three-man court, two of whom had to be from Nepal. Then when Tibet fell in the 1950s, Red Chinese maps began to claim Nepal, Bhutan, Sikkim and East Kashmir as Chinese territory.

WORRIES ABOUT INDIA

Along with the military menace of Red China, Nepal worries about being economically and culturally engulfed by India, with whom she has been closely bound since emerging as a nation from her mountain fastness. Ninety per cent of all Nepal's trade is with India, which leads even the United States in foreign aid to Nepal, along with exporting her form of government, her trade and customs and, as one Nepalese put it, "some of the world's worst movies." To keep one tiny step ahead of India, Nepal sets its clocks 10 minutes ahead of Indian time.

The Chinese have built the Kodari Highway to Tibet, the finest road in the country. They also have built a shoe factory and a tile factory and flooded the country with photographs of Mao and endless Chinese propaganda. Russia, Great Britain, the United States also have poured aid into Nepal, but overall, her ways are more and more becoming India's ways.

★ ★ ★

Only 500 miles across by 50 miles long, roughly the size and shape of North Carolina, Nepal's 10 million people are a conglomeration of many diverse tribes and peoples: Newars, Sherpas, Magars, Tamangs, Muslims, Gurkhas, Bradmins, Satars, Kshetriyas all living under a many-tiered democratic monarchy called the Panchayat system. Borrowed both from India and Pakistan, the Panchayat consists of villages electing representatives to a district council, and districts sending representatives onto a zonal assembly, which in turn elects a National Assembly — or at least part of it, with the rest being chosen directly by the king or selected from various special interest groups such as the peasants, women, workers, ex-servicemen, etc.

The complexity becomes a bizarre land that until 1959 was ruled by a series of hereditary prime ministers, most of whom seem to have inherited the job by disposing of their uncle.

KING INDISPOSED

The present king, Mahendra Bir Bikram Shah Deva, is currently indisposed from a heart attack suffered on a recent tiger shoot. He has the distinction of being preceded in the job by the second prince. It seems that when the Indian government helped overthrow the Rana family in 1950 — the family which had produced the hereditary prime ministers — the present king's father fled to India with the royal family, but as a symbol of independence left behind his 3-year-old grandson with a nurse. In a desperation move to maintain control, the Ranas crowned the little boy king.

Nepal's most renowned export is still people: the fierce Gurkhas, among the world's finest soldiers. Today there are 12,000 Gurkhas serving in the Indian army and 8,000 in the British army, compared with the 200,000 who served with 45 British and Indian battalions in World War II. The 60,000 retired Gurkhas living in Nepal form a mainstay of the economy, since their pensions from the British and Indian armies is five times the monthly wage of a peasant. Now with the British cutting back east of Suez, the future of the Gurkha legions is in doubt.

Equally famous with the Gurkhas are the Sherpas, the nimble-footed mountain people who make a profession of staffing expeditions into the high Himalayas. In a tiny office in the capital city of Katmandu, the national Nepalese Sherpa Association keeps the Sherpa "service books," which lists each guide's achievements and qualifications with incorruptible objectivity. Alongside the name of Sherpa Tenzing Norkey is the one line that every sherpa was born to dream of: "First to reach the summit of Everest."

Legal Abortions Soar in Colorado Under New Law

By Science Service

Since Colorado liberalized its abortion law last year, legal abortions have increased 900 per cent—from less than 1 per 1,000 live births to 8 per 1,000.

Dr. Abraham Heller, assistant director of Denver General Hospital's Psychiatric Services, reports that most of the abortions are being authorized for psychiatric reasons, to guard the mental health of the mother.

★ ★ ★

These women are not usually severely mentally ill, but tend to be the unemancipated teenager and the middle-aged widowed or divorced women with three children, says Dr. Heller.

In the nine months following the new law broadening grounds for abortion, 224 women were granted legal operations.

Denver General performed 109 operations, 90 per cent of them for psychiatric reasons. Other grounds for abortion in Colorado now include danger of a defective fetus, rape or life threat to the mother.

Giles Leads U.S. in Amateur Cup With Record 68

MELBOURNE (AP) — Marvin Giles, law student from Lynchburg, Va., shot a five-under-par 68 today at the Royal Melbourne golf court and moved the United States into the lead in the Eisenhower Cup for the World Amateur Team Championship.

★ ★ ★

His record-equalling round with a 69 by teammate Richard Siderowf of Westport, Conn., and a 74 by Jack Lewis of Florence, S.C., swept the United States into a two-stroke lead over Great Britain and Mexico, which came on with a rush today.

Today's round was the halfway mark in the 72-hole competition, in which the best three scores of four in each team count for aggregate.

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

TB Drugs Effective Against New Disease

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

"Those who believe there is nothing we need lose than a new disease can count me as one of their number.

Nevertheless, several new ones have cropped up in recent years, possibly to replace some of those that are apparently headed for extinction.

BRANDSTADT

The latest in this succession will until a shorter name can be coined, be known as the M. kansasii disease. It is caused by Mycobacterium (Mycobacterium tuberculosis).

reported in many states. The exact mode of its spread has not been established but it is apparently related to the consumption of unpasteurized dairy products.

* * *

Like tuberculosis, the disease settles in the lungs, causes symptoms characteristic of tuberculosis and may be fatal.

* * *

The modern drugs used to treat tuberculosis have proved effective against the new disease. Persons with severe involvement may have to have part of a lung removed.

In any case, the treatment is the same as for tuberculosis. An organism first isolated in Kansas that is similar to the tubercle bacillus

REPORTED IN MANY STATES

The new disease has now been best carried out in a hospital and, when started early enough, complete recovery in five or six months is the rule.

Q—I have a friend, 45, who has narcolepsy. None of the drugs his doctor has given him has helped. He is now taking Dexamyl. Are there any drugs that would help him?

A—Several drugs have proved helpful to persons who get this sudden uncontrollable desire to sleep. These include pentylenetrazole with niacin and glutamic acid (Niapent) and methamphetamine (Desoxyn). Both are prescription drugs.

Q—What are the first signs of a nervous breakdown?

A—A so-called nervous breakdown is closely related to profound depression. The first symptoms are inability to concentrate or to make simple everyday decisions such as what to wear and what to eat.

This is followed by a loss of interest in one's surroundings and in the things one ordinarily does for pleasure.

If you have these symptoms, it is important to rule out a chronic low-grade infection, anemia and thyroid or adrenal deficiency.

If these are not contributing factors, a change of emotional climate is advisable.

Phone Listing Doesn't Ring True

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) — The Marquis of Bristol complained today that he is listed in the telephone book as a pub.

The mistake apparently arose because many English taverns are named after titled persons. The Marquis of Bristol is listed in the Cambridge phone directory as a public house between two real ones—the Market Tavern and the Marquis of Cornwallis.

Stamp Honors Viking Explorer

SEATTLE (AP) — Ralph W. Nicholson, assistant postmaster general, dedicated a six-cent commemorative stamp Wednesday honoring Viking explorer Leif Ericson.

"Seattle is the proper place to issue this postage stamp because it is a town whose history was built on the exploits of men who went down to the seas in ships," Nicholson said in the ceremony at the Norway Center.

The post office will print 120 million of the stamps. The issuance was timed to coincide with what is believed the 1,000th anniversary of Ericson's birth. The exact date is not known. The stamps go on sale today in other parts of the country.

* * *

Ericson sailed to the North American continent about 1,000 a.d. and is believed to have landed in the northern part of Newfoundland.

Grocery Store Clerk Gets Rise Out of Bandit

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP) "Give me all your bread," the armed bandit told grocery clerk Mary Udell Wednesday night.

Miss Udell, not hip, directed him to the bakery counter.

"Look lady, I'm not kidding. You want to get shot?"

Miss Udell, now hip, gave the bandit about $300, and he fled.

Humphrey Attacking Nixon Stand on Draft

By JERRY T. BAULCH
AP News Features

WASHINGTON — Richard M. Nixon has said relatively little about the military draft in his campaigning but what he said was enough for his Democratic opponent, Hubert H. Humphrey—who has said more — to find an issue.

BAULCH

The vice president has torn into the Republican presidential nominee's proposal that when the war in Vietnam is over the United States should build an all-volunteer force and end the draft.

* * *

"Pay them on a basis that is competitive, draw them into our armed services and have a highly trained professional group," Nixon said.

He argues that Korea probably was America's last conventional war and thus he says of future wars: "Those we must prepare against in the future are either nuclear exchanges, in which the draft would be irrevelant, or guerrilla wars.

"To be fully effective in a guerrilla-war situation, we need a highly skilled, highly motivated professional corps that can train and work with the local indigenous forces, supplemented by a civilian corps of equally skilled nation-builders under civilian control."

'DRAFT INADEQUATE'

Nixon says the draft "is simply not adequate to meet the needs of this highly professional force of the future. By raising military pay scales and ending the draft we can have better military protection with a smaller armed force, while eliminating the inequities of the draft in the most effective way possible — this is, by eliminating the draft."

Nixon's view, echoed in the Republican platform, prompted Humphrey to come out with his "Draftee's Bill of Rights," a nine-page document that accuses Nixon of being "highly irresponsible."

"No responsible candidate for high public office can, in my opinion, legitimately hold out the promises of ending the need for draft calls in the foreseeable future," the vice president declared.

He said it would cost an extra $8.3 billion to $16.7 billion a year to attract enough volunteers to maintain a pre-Vietnam-size Army.

BENEFIT HIKE

Noting that it is current policy to get as many volunteers as possible in the services, Humphrey said this could be encouraged with increased benefits, including salary. And he advocated "the greater use of civilian employes in the armed forces for clerical and other functions" — a policy now being implemented.

Both Humphrey and Nixon, backed by their party platforms, agree there is need now for more equity in the draft and they want to reduce the number of years during which a young man can be considered for it.

* * *

Nixon hasn't spelled out what he wants on that score, except to tell an informal gathering of editors that the pick should be from the younger men rather than graduate-age students heading into careers.

Humphrey, more specific, says he wants to adopt the recommendation of the National Advisory Commission on Selective Service which Congress rejected last year: drafting 19-year olds through a random lottery. Deferments for the most part would be limited to extreme hardship cases and conscientious objectors. Medical school deferements would continue.

SOME OPTIONS

However, men would be permitted the choice of finishing two years of college or vocational training before going into the service. And men who want to go to college for four years to take ROTC and become officers before going on active duty would be permitted to do so.

2 State Soldiers Die in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Michigan soldiers were listed by the Defense Department Wednesday as having died recently in Vietnam of nonhostile causes.

They were Spec. 4 Larry L. Costley, husband of Karen Costley of Hope, and Pfc. John W. Lucier, son of Mrs. Phyllis M. Leach of Plymouth.

Film Crew Still Running Into Problems

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

ANET, France — "Name all the bad things that could happen to a film company, and they happened to us. Plus a few things that nobody thought of before."

THOMAS

This was the bemused comment of Blake Edwards, the youthful-looking movie veteran ("Days of Wine and Roses," "The Great Race") who has been filming—or trying to film — "Darling Lili" since March 18. Now the leaves are beginning to turn golden, and he still hasn't completed the European shooting.

★ ★ ★

The day's work in this French village near Paris was an example of Edwards' trials. He required only two brief scenes: one in which Julie Andrews and Rock Hudston strolled beside a stream; another in which Miss Andrews, portraying a World War I spy, entertained wounded veterans. All morning long, clouds dodged around the sun, idling the cast and crew of 250, including 85 homesick Hollywoodians.

"And both these shots are retakes," Edwards explained with controlled exasperation. "I filmed them once before, but the camera was defective."

ADDS TO COST

Such troubles have added $5 million to the cost of "Darling Lili." Edwards now estimates the final total at between $16 million and $17 million—provided there are no more catastrophes.

Edwards, a third-generation film maker who is producer, director and co-writer of "Darling Lili," rattled off some of the calamities that have befallen it.

"In Brussels we had a full-scale riot; 1,500 extras put on a demonstration for more pay. Naturally we had to pay them. So I shot the sequence—and the film was ruined. I shot it again—and the film was ruined once more. So I shot it a third time.

"You wouldn't believe the amount of film that the London lab has ruined. And the weather! The worst within memory. We have sat around for days waiting for the sun to appear. This scene I'm trying to get today—this is the fourth day we have been waiting for sun.

"In Ireland I figured I would lick the weather. I knocked myself out rewriting the scene for cloudy weather. So what happens? We encountered the hottest 10 days in recent Irish history. That was when Charles Bludhorn, chairman of the board of Paramount's parent company, Gulf and Western, chose to arrive.

"What are you doing?' he asked. I had to tell him I was waiting for the sun to go away.

★ ★ ★

"Finally I gave up on Ireland and came to France to shoot a sequence of an airplane landing on a green field. Then I found out they have mowed the fields and they're all brown. I have toured all of France in a helicopter and cannot find a suitable field. Now I will have to go back to Ireland to finish the sequence before we can go back to Hollywood and finish the picture."

Edwards admitted that all the travails—and the extra $5 million—will be forgotten if "Darling Lili" is a hit. And with Juli Andrews, who happens to be Edwards' own darling in real life, its chances are good. With the all-time top money-maker, "Sound of Music," to her credit, as well as such blockbusters as "Mary Poppins," "Thoroughly Modern Millie" and "Hawaii," the lady appears unable to do wrong.

Hormones Offer Women Hope

NEW YORK (AP) — Through the potent power of hormones, modern women are winning greater ability to say yes or no to the prospect of having babies.

On the "no side, there is The Pill for birth control. The pill—some 10 brands are available succeeds because it contains certain hormones that prevent ovulation, the monthly release of an ovum or egg that could become fertilized to start new life.

★ ★ ★

But on the "yes" side, for some barren women, there are hormonal preparations that are bringing true their dream of at last having a child. These chemicals stimulate the release of an ovum.

Sometimes these drugs oversucceed, by stimulating the release of numerous eggs. Such was the case with the sextuplets born last week in Birmingham, England, to Mrs. Sheila Ann Thorns.

POWERFUL CONTROLLERS

Hormones, produced in minute amounts by numerous internal glands, are powerful controllers of life processes. Adrenalin, for example, supplies stimulus to function in emergencies. And hormones are also vital in the complicated processes of human conception and birth.

A beginning in all this process is ovulation, the cyclical release of a mature ovum or egg from the storehouse of some 100,000 ova contained in the two ovaries of a female child at her own birth.

This maturation and release of a monthly egg is controlled by a hormone, gonadotrophin, produced by the pituitary gland at the base of the brain.

Gonadotrophin is a mixture of hormones. One important one is FSH, the follicle stimulating hormone, and another is luteinizing hormone. Both are essential for production of an egg that could meet with a male sperm to begin new life.

FERTILITY DRUGS

Acting on this knowledge of basic physiology, scientists in the last decade have produced two fertility drugs. One is gonadotrophin obtained and purified from human sources. Another is a hormonal-like drug, clomiphene citrate, that acts through the central nervous system to jog the pituitary gland to produce more gonadotrophin.

Both have assisted childless women in having babies. Up to 15 per cent of women may be childless because they fail to ovulate normally, Dr. Richard U. Hausknecht of Mt. Sinai Hospital in New York City estimates.

Specialists in clinics around the world are engaged in careful studies to learn how to apply this hormonal action in aid of childless women.

The batches of gonadotrophin, some obtained from the urine of women past menopause or child-bearing age, vary in their potency or content of the two principal hormones, Dr. Hausknecht explains. Even childless women may be producing some gonadotrophic hormone on their own. An additional amount may bring about ovulation of more than one egg.

When that happens, as with Mrs. Thorns in England, mothers can be in for surprises. Problems of how to specify the exact dosage of a hormonal drug for individual women are still being worked out.

For some women, Dr. Hausknecht adds, the hormone may produce a huge and serious enlargement of the ovaries, with danger that they may rupture. There are risks with such drugs, and the U.S. Food and Drug Administration has not yet approved clinical use of gonadotrophin.

The fertility drugs are affecting the old odds of multiple births. The estimates of such child-handicapping vary widely.

Says the American Medical Association, drawing on one statistical source: The chances of having twins are one in every 96 births, for triplets one in 9,216, for quadruplets one in 844,736, for quintuplets one in 84,934,656, and for sextuplets one in 8,153,726,976.

Equatorial Guinea to Be Nation Friday

SANTA ISABEL, Equatorial Guinea (AP) — As of Friday, this will be the world's newest country, under the name Republic of Equatorial Guinea.

Spain is cutting its last ties to a territory in West Africa which has fewer than 400,000 inhabitants, perhaps one-fourth of them nonresidents who came to pick cocoa or to escape the civil war in Nigeria.

Equatorial Guinea, not to be confused with Portuguese Guinea, comprises an island called Fernando Poo and a piece of the mainland of West Africa 150 miles away not far from the area where Dr. Albert Schweitzer founded his hospital.

Most of the wealth is planted on this volcanic island, 35 miles long. Most of the people are on the poorly developed mainland in a province known as Rio Muni. The total area of the two provinces is about that of Vermont.

PEOPLE ARE 'BUBIS'

The people are known as Bubis, pronounced boo-bees, and as Fangs and Fernandinos.

It won't be easy to take the Spain out of Guinea.

★ ★ ★

You cannot eat lunch before 2 p.m. nor dinner before 9, unless you frequent what the expatriates derisively call "that American place" overlooking the port. You can't get anything done between 12:30 p.m. and 4.

At night you watch American cowboys speaking Spanish over the television station inaugurated a few months ago.

SPANISH AND GOTHIC

A massive plaza in Santa Isabel has the customary statue of a noble-looking Spaniard in the shadow of a twin-towered cathedral the residents proudly say is Africa's only Gothic church.

You could be in Venezuela or Mexico or Spain itself except that the pace is slower. Friends dawdle over dominos and San Miguel beer and old copies of Spanish papers.

The island spills down off a volcano that is the apparent little brother of Mt. Cameroon on the mainland. Vegetation is lush.

There are cocoa, coffee and timber. Total exports in 1965 were $27.3 million, all but 3 per cent of them going to Spain.

SECLUSION ENDS

Until this year the colony went about its business undisturbed, linked to the outside world only by a Morse code signal—telegrams to New York are more than a dollar a word—and a faltering telephone circuit to Madrid. Communications have not improved, but now you need reservations for dinner and getting a hotel room is difficult.

First, Nigeria's war spilled thousands of Ibo tribesmen onto the island, bringing the Nigerian and Biafran total to about 100,000, 80 per cent Ibo. Nigerians have traditionally worked the fields under contracts.

★ ★ ★

Then as Port Harcourt fell, Mobil Oil moved its substantial exploratory operation over to Santa Isabel. Gulf Oil also has installations on the island.

Next the Red Cross mounted an airlift to Biafra, with more than a hundred Europeans taking part. As independence neared, United Nations officials and observers came in to supervise a series of elections.

MIXED LANGUAGE

The common language is a mix, with English running close behind Spanish and not too far ahead of French for dominance in the polyglot.

Practically nothing happened for 300 years after three Portuguese explorers found the place about 1470. Portugal ceded the unoccupied island to Spain in 1778. The first Spanish expedition fizzled out.

In the early 1800s, as Spain's empire diminished, the British made the island a West African squadron station, depositing freed slaves that eventually became the Fernandinos.

Peking Accounts Offer Clues to Variety of Chinese Puzzles

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Official Peking accounts of Red China's 19th anniversary celebration this month bolster an impression that the military is wielding immense political power. The same accounts dangle before Westerners some tantalizing clues to a variety of Chinese puzzles.

Among the puzzles: Is the "great proletarian cultural revolution" beginning to fade away after two violent years? Has a process of compromise set in among top leaders which can bring political stability? What has happened to Red China's nuclear weapons program after a dazzlingly swift pace up to mid-1967?

★ ★ ★

Chinese press articles make it clear that an elite group of 13 members is ruling the nation's 700 million. It is equally clear that the military, under Defense Minister Lin Piao, Mao Tse-tung's heir apparent, occupies a dominant role in governing the country. At the same time, people are popping up in fairly high places who might not be expected to be there.

Accounts of the celebration departed from recent custom by announcing the presence of "the political bureau of the Central Committee," and making it clear that this body is separate from and greatly subordinate to the ruling elite, none of whose members are included in the Politburo listing. Before 1966, the Politburo was the all-powerful governing body of the Communist party and the nation.

News Analysis

6 WERE DENOUNCED

At least six of the 10 listed as members of the Politburo had at one time or another been denounced by Red Guard rallies as foes of Mao's thinking. Their appearance as Politburo members could point to a process of compromise in the upper levels which could permit Red China to stabilize herself after the vast disruption of the party and government bureaucracies wrought by the excesses of the cultural revolution.

★ ★ ★

Two military men in this Politburo listing are connected with the nuclear weapons program. One is Nieh Jung-chen, who had a marshal's rank before the abolition of all ranks in 1965, and Yeh Chien-ying, also a former marshal and vice chairman of the National Defense Council. The former has been in general charge of the nuclear weapons development program. The latter is president of the Military Science Academy.

★ ★ ★

Something which looked suspiciously like a catastrophic test failure at the end of last year seems to have interrupted the nuclear program. There has been only mild boasting about nuclear weapons from Chinese leaders in recent months. But with Nieh and Yeh ranking as members of so high a body, and with a prospect of the cultural revolution simmering down, the way may be open for a resumption of testing.

There have been signs recently, despite reports of continuing violence, that the cultural revolution had turned a corner, as if it had spent much of its original energy. Apart from the continuing denunciations of them in the press, there has been no evidence of Mao's major enemies for months. President Liu Shao-chi, whom the propaganda calls "China's Khrushchev," and his allies appear to have been thoroughly defeated.

LITTLE REMAINS

Little can remain, however, of the party and government structure as it existed before 1966. Much of the bureaucracy in the generation, which fought for the Communist revolution, has been destroyed.

There seems to be a firm link between the restoration of order in Red China and the rising influence of the armed forces

★ ★ ★

This month, the army was singled out for extravagant praise as "the pillar of the dictatorship of the proletariat under the direct command of Vice Chairman Lin Piao . . . a great steel wall defending the country . . . and defending the great proletarian cultural revolution."

Whatever has taken place, it has not lessened the hostility of the current Red Chinese regime to the Soviet leadership. The tone toward Moscow is as defiant and provocative as ever.

CLOSE AT HAND

Red Chinese leaders have predicted that the cultural revolution would end by 1969. That time is close at hand.

The regime now ruling China bears little resemblance to what was charted in the Communist constitution. All this makes puzzled China watchers wonder: When Mao, now 75, passes out of the picture, will the regime, while retaining Communist trappings, bear a close resemblance to a military dictatorship?

1st Big Snow Predicted Dec. 6

YPSILANTI (AP) — The first significant snowfall of the winter should hit the Lower Michigan area around Dec. 6 — at least that's the prediction from the Gallagher System.

And the computer — used to study weather in the past — seems to bear out the system devised by James W. Gallagher, a weather and climate expert in the Eastern Michigan University geography department.

Jerry Ryan, who now teaches at Muskegon Junior College, wrote his master's thesis on Gallagher's calculations.

Here's how it works:

Gallagher divides the four seasons into 91 days, based on climate and weather rather than solar calculations.

'YOU CAN TELL'

"If you can tell the beginning of one season, you can tell the beginning of another," Gallagher said.

"Around here, fall is usually signled by one major drop in temperature. After you've discovered this, it's simple," said Gallagher, who noted that this year the temperature drop took place on Sept. 6.

"All you do is count 91 days ahead and you have the day when the first significant snowfall hits. That is, snow that sticks and creates traffic jams and you wind up working the shovel," he said.

"When we miss, we miss by eight days — no more, no less. And when we miss, the winter is of unusual quality," he said.

UNUSUAL WINTER

"Last year we missed by eight days, and, if you recall, it was an unusual winter — relatively little precipitation, on the mild side," he said.

He noted, however, he has not been able to find when summer starts, so the system only works for when winter and spring begin.

90 PCT. ACCURATE

To bear out Gallagher's theory, Ryan fed weather data from stations from Traverse City and Willow Run airports from 1935 to 1965 into a computer. Matching it with the first day of a wintry storm showed the system was 90 per cent accurate.

Romania Gets Over Its Fear of Invasion

SATU-MARE, Romania (AP) — People are slowly getting over their fear of an invasion in this small city near the borders of the Soviet Union and Hungary.

There are reports of Romanian troops and tanks moving into frontier villages, but these are not confirmed. On two air trips and a 45-mile drive along a border road this reporter saw no signs of military activity.

★ ★ ★

People feared an invasion because their Communist government has for some time been showing independence of Soviet foreign policy. Czechoslovakia was starting to show such independence when Soviet troops marched in Aug. 20.

Less than a week before, President Nicholas Ceausescu of Romania had visited Prague. Some experts think that visit may be what touched off the invasion of Czechoslovakia. President Tito of Yugoslavia, long known for his independence of Moscow, also had visited Prague a few days before.

Antarctic Ocean Is Likely Source of Protein in Future

LONDON (UPI) — The Antarctic Ocean may be able to provide the additional protein for human consumption that will be needed for the increased world population of the year 2000.

This opinion was expressed by scientists on both sides of the Iron Curtain at an International Symposium on Antarctic Biology attended by representatives of the 12 nations engaged in research on continental Antarctica.

★ ★ ★

N. A. Mackintosh of the British Museum estimated that not less than 30 or 40 million tons a year of fish protein could be obtained from the krill now available because the numbers of whales which feed on it have been heavily reduced by whaling.

Krill are crustaceans about two inches long which are part of the smaller marine life or plankton, of the oceans.

TOO CONSERVATIVE?

P. A. Moiseev, director of Soviet Pacific Fisheries, said Mackintosh was too conservative and that Russian measurements indicate up to 150 million tons a year could be safely taken from the antarctic against current world fishery production of 50 million tons.

A Soviet trawler was used for experimental krill fishing last season and pulled up an average of 6 tons every 30 minutes, according to Moiseev, who said it was a commercially promising operation because of the abundance and nutritional value of the crustacean.

★ ★ ★

Some of the catch was processed and later fed to pigs and chickens, which were reported to have grown faster than animals fed on conventional foods. Krill has only 7 per cent fat against 16 per cent protein.

★ ★ ★

One question raised at the conference, reported in Science Journal, was whether it would be better to harvest krill direct or allow whale stocks to recover and get the benefit of the krill after it has been processed by the whales. Delegates said whales in the antarctic have been reduced 80 per cent in the past 50 years.

Dr. Martin Holdgate warned that since krill was a vital food for many fish and birds, the catching it for humans would have to be carefully researched.

Maddox to Speak

DEARBORN (AP) — Georgia Gov. Lester Maddox is scheduled to address a rally at the Dearborn Youth Center tonight in behalf of the candidacy of third-party presidential nominee George Wallace.

Harvest Is Good Season for Vegetable Eaters

By JANET ODELL
Food Editor, The Pontiac Press

Despite the dislike for vegetables exhibited by many children and a number of husbands, there are people who live almost exclusively on vegetables. Honest.

In this harvest season, there are so many delicious fresh vegetables that it's a shame not to enjoy them. Perhaps one of the following recipes will make a convert out of someone.

★ ★ ★

Cabbage is a rather plebian vegetable. It would be interesting to know how many tons of cabbage go into cole slaw each day.

If you like this salad, but would welcome a change in its composition, try the following recipe.

HARVEST CABBAGE SLAW

4 cups shredded green cabbage
1 large unpeeled red apple, diced (about 2 cups)
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup cubed sharp natural Cheddar cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
2 teaspoons prepared mustard

Combine cabbage, apple and salt. Mix well. Toss in cheese cubes. Mix together mayonnaise, Tabasco and mustard; combine with cabbage mixture. Chill about 1 hour to blend flavors. Serve on crisp greens if desired. Yield: About 6 servings or 5 cups.

★ ★ ★

Wedges of fresh fall cabbage cooked briefly are delicious served with cheese sauce. A few drops of Tabasco add zest to the sauce.

CABBAGE WEDGES WITH CHEESE SAUCE

4 slices bacon
¼ cup margarine
¼ cup flour
¾ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded sharp natural Cheddar cheese

Fry bacon until crisp; remove from pan, drain on absorbent toweling, then crumble. Discard fat from skillet or refrigerate for later use.

Melt margarine; stir in flour and salt. Gradually stir in milk and Tabasco. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until smooth and thick. Add cheese and heat until melted. Keep warm while preparing cabbage.

COOK FAST

Core and cut cabbage into 4 or 6 wedges. Cook in a small amount of boiling salted water with 3 or 4 drops of Tabasco until tender, about 10 to 12 minutes.

Place drained wedges in bowl or on platter. Cover with cheese sauce and sprinkle with crumbled bacon. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Cauliflower is another vegetable that can be excellent if prepared properly. Don't overcook is the first rule.

CABBAGE WEDGES WITH CHEESE SAUCE

SQUASH AND MEAT BALL BAKE

Below are recipes for serving it hot with a curry sauce or cold in place of salad.

CAULIFLOWER WITH TOMATO-CURRY SAUCE

2 tablespoons diced fresh onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 to 2½ teaspoons curry powder
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups diced tomatoes
3 tablespoons water
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
1/16 teaspoon garlic powder
1 medium (3 pounds) whole head cauliflower, cooked

Saute onions in butter or margarine until they are limp and transparent. Blend in curry powder. Cook ½ minute, stirring constantly. Stir in flour. Add diced tomatoes and water. Cook until tomatoes have softened and the mixture is of medium thickness. Add seasonings. Mix well and pour over a head of cooked cauliflower. Yield: 6 servings.

FRESH CAULIFLOWER VINAIGRETTE

1 medium (3 pound) head fresh cauliflower
-inch boiling water in saucepan
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup cider vinegar
3 tablespoons salad oil
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
1/16 teaspoon ground white pepper
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons finely chopped parsley

Wash cauliflower and break into flowerets. Place in a saucepan with 1-inch boiling water and the 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to boiling point and cook, uncovered, 5 minutes. Cover and cook 10 minutes or until cauliflower is only crisp-tender. Drain.

Combine vinegar, salad oil, salt, paprika, white pepper, onion and parsley. Pour over drained cauliflower. Chill and serve in place of salad. Yield: 6 servings.

Acorn squash is good baked all by itself, but even better when you fill the cavity with meat balls. Both are glazed with a pineapple-mustard mixture.

SQUASH AND MEATBALL BAKE

½ pound ground beef or 1½ cups ground cooked ham
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
⅛ cup crushed pineapple
1 teaspoon salt
1 medium-size acorn squash
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 tablespoons prepared yellow mustard
¼ teaspoon nutmeg, optional

Combine meat, egg, bread crumbs, ¼ cup of the pineapple, and salt; mix together lightly with a fork. Shape meat mixture into twelve balls.

Remove ends from squash. Cut squash into four slices, crosswise; remove seeds. Arrange slices in shallow baking pan; place three meat balls in the center of each slice.

★ ★ ★

Combine remaining ¼ cup pineapple, brown sugar, mustard, and nutmeg; stir until well blended. Brush pineapple mixture over meat balls and squash.

Bake in 350 degree oven 45 minutes, or until squash is tender. Baste occasionally with juices in baking pan. Yield: 4 servings.

New Appetizer Eaten on Picks

Aloha Bites are attractive hot appetizers. Reserving pineapple, drain syrup from 1 can (13¼ ounces) pineapple chunks into saucepan or skillet. Stir in 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons brown sugar and 6 whole cloves.

Cut 1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat into ½-inch cubes; add along with reserved pineapple chunks to sauce. Simmer 5 minutes more.

To serve, spear chunks of pineapple and meat on cocktail picks. Makes about 8 appetizer servings (about 48 luncheon meat cubes and 24 pineapple chunks).

Bake gingerbread in the waffle iron. Top with applesauce and serve immediately.

Chocolate Peanut Bars Never Go Near Oven

Fans of the high protein peanut will have their day at the races with this recipe.

Peanut butter, pre-sweetened breakfast cereal, chocolate bits, and salted peanuts join forces in the following unbaked bar cooky, which is certain to earn straight A's with scholars from the kindergarten crowd through the advanced algebra class.

TOFFEE SQUARES
Cooky Mixture

½ cup butter
½ cup peanut butter
1 pound marshmallows
1 tablespoon milk
4 cups pre-sweetened puffed oat and wheat cereal

Combine butter, peanut butter, marshmallows, and milk in a heavy Dutch oven. Place over low heat and stir constantly until all ingredients are melted and smooth. Add cereal and stir until cereal pieces are coated with peanut butter mixture.

Remove from heat and turn mixture into two greased pans, each 11¾ x 7½ x 1¾ inches. Press into even layers.

Cooky Topping

2 six-ounce packages (2 cups) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 tablespoon shortening (not butter, margarine, or oils)
½ cup salted peanuts, chopped
¾ cup pre-sweetened puffed oats and wheat cereal

Melt chocolate bits and shortening in top of double boiler. Spread half of chocolate over each pan of cookies and sprinkle tops with chopped peanuts and cereal. Cool. Cut into bars or squares. Yield: About 96 squares.

Center of Slaw Is Plain Tuna

A good salad for lunch: chill a can of tuna (7 ounce size) and drain off the oil: turn out tuna in the center of a medium-size serving plate.

Surround the tuna with shredded green cabbage that has been mixed with olive oil, white wine vinegar, salt, white pepper and a little prepared mustard. Top tuna and slaw with radish roses and ripe olives.

Dried Eggs Are Inspected

If you're a cautious reader of labels at the grocery store, you are probably aware that more and more convenience foods contain dried egg products.

An array of products from noodles to dried drink mixes are now found on grocers' shelves. And in some areas, consumer-size packages of dried eggs are available.

★ ★ ★

To assure users of wholesome egg products, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service offers an inspection program which is voluntary and on a fee-for-service basis.

Before a plant is approved by USDA, it must meet strict requirements for facilities, equipment and operating procedures. In the Midwest, over 15 plants that handle dried eggs are under Federal inspection.

From the selection of the shell eggs for breaking through the final products, an inspector is on the scene continuously to check the procedures. Sanitary conditions must be optimum throughout the plant.

★ ★ ★

Last year, 72 per cent of the dried eggs in the United States were processed under the supervision of a USDA licensed inspector.

Fancy Fork-and-Plate Course

This fork-and-fancy-plate appetizer would make an exotic beginning for a party dinner. You spread a robust mixture of chutney and creamy cottage cheese over thick crosscuts of western iceberg lettuce, top with cooling slices of fresh Bartlett pears and garnish with chutney and salted peanuts.

Crosscuts or "rafts" of western iceberg lettuce make ideal carriers for any number of appetizers and salads. Whether you top them with fruit, marinated vegetables, cheese mixtures or seafood, you'll enjoy the crisp texture and succulence of the iceberg lettuce.

When you taste this particular concoction, we think you'll agree that "Joe" must have been a rather high-living trader.

Appetizer a la Trader Joe

1 head western iceberg lettuce
½ cup homogenized creamed cottage cheese or dairy sour cream
⅓ cup chutney
1 fresh Bartlett pear
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup salted peanuts

Core, rinse and drain lettuce; place in disposable plastic bag and chill well. Mix cottage cheese with ¼ cup of the chutney.

Pare, halve and core pear; cut lengthwise into 12 slices and coat with lemon juice to prevent browning.

Cut lettuce head crosswise to get three 1-inch thick slices, then cut each slice into halves. Spread with cheese-chutney mixture and place 2 pear slices on top of each. Dollop with remaining chutney and sprinkle with peanuts. Makes 6 servings.

Olive and Ham

Popcorn Fleet Honors Columbus Day

It's no secret that, among other things, Christopher Columbus discovered popcorn! That is, he found the West Indies natives snacking on it, and wearing popcorn decorations as well, when the Santa Maria discharged those intrepid early seamen on the shores of the New World.

So what would be more appropriate than to include popcorn in the picture when you give a Columbus Day party? And since Columbus Day is going to be the occasion for one of those Congress-approved long weekends in coming years, we can see a lot more such parties being planned in the future.

But why wait? The youngsters in your house are probably begging to stage a party for the school friends they've just rejoined.

POPCORN FLEET — Columbus Day (Oct. 12) would be a great occasion for a party — especially if you decorate with a sassy Popcorn Columbus Fleet. The red, yellow, and green popcorn ships with white popcorn sails take a bit of time to make, but could be a fun project for a young hostess. The best part of all is that, when the party's over, the fleet makes pretty good nibbling . . . if you can bear to break it up.

POPCORN COLUMBUS FLEET

About 8 quarts popped popcorn.

★ ★ ★

Ships:

2 cups sugar
1½ cups water
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ cup light corn syrup
1 teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla
Red, green, yellow food coloring
½ teaspoon vanilla
Long cinnamon sticks
Licorice strings

Sails:

1 cup sugar
¾ cup water
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ cup light corn syrup
½ teaspoon vinegar

TO MAKE SHIPS: Cut 2 strips cardboard 3½x12 inches; cut 2 strips 3x20 inches and 2 strips 2½x8 inches. Staple ends of each matching pair together and cover with aluminum foil to form oval or boat shape.

Cover cooky sheet with foil and place boat-shaped cardboard forms on it. Divide popcorn into 4 large mixing bowls, containing about 9 cups, 6 cups, 4 cups, and 10 cups.

★ ★ ★

Butter sides of large saucepan; combine 2 cups sugar, 1½ cups water, teaspoon salt, ⅛ cup light corn syrup and 1 teaspoon vinegar. Bring to a boil, wiping down sides of pan with a brush dipped in water.

Boil to hardball stage (250 degrees). Add vanilla; pour off half and divide remaining half in two. Color largest amount with red food coloring and color remaining with green and yellow.

COLOR CORN

Pour red syrup over the 9 cups of popcorn and mix. Pour green over 6 cups of popcorn and yellow over 4 cups. Mix well.

★ ★ ★

Pack red corn into largest boat-shaped cardboard form; pack green corn into next form, and yellow corn into remaining form. Allow to cool, and remove from forms.

To Make Sails: Make syrup from remaining ingredients as before. Pour over remaining corn. Press into a jelly roll pan. Cool.

Cut into desired triangle sail shapes. Large sails may need to be supported on cardboard; attach to cardboard with syrup.

Complete ships by using a cinnamon stick for center mast and licorice strings for rigging. Top with colored paper flags attached to toothpicks.

Simmered Meat Is Cooled in Broth

Meat cuts which are simmered (not boiled) to be served cold should be allowed to cool in the broth in which they cook. This makes them more flavorful and juicy. However, they should be cooled quickly during warm weather.

Some of the meats prepared by covering with water and cooking slowly include ham, smoked pork shoulder, tongue and corned beef.

If you have difficulty getting the range regulated to a low enough temperature, use a thermometer in the water. It should register 180 degrees (at sea level) for simmering.

Squash, Ham and Oranges a Good Trio

Foods that reflect the season make a hit with the family. This casserole which uses squash, ham cubes and spices reflects fall color and flavor.

Leftover cooked ham may be used, advises Reba Staggs, home economist with the National Live Stock and Meat Board. Tiny canned mandarin orange sections lend sparkle to both ham and squash.

Indian Summer Casserole

3 cups (1 pound) diced cooked ham
2 packages (10 ounces each) frozen squash
¾ teaspoon salt
1 can (8½ ounces) mandarin orange sections, drained
¾ cup brown sugar
⅓ teaspoon ginger
¾ teaspoon nutmeg

Heat squash 5 minutes. Combine squash, salt, orange sections, brown sugar, ginger and nutmeg. Place in a greased 2-quart baking dish and top with ham.

Bake in a moderate oven 350 degrees 20 minutes or until heated through. 6 servings.

Creamy Crumb Fudge

Today's homemaker, though up to her ears in household responsibilities, still likes to entertain and do do it with personal flair. Because time is a scarce commodity however, she needs to cut food preparation to a minimum in order to enjoy her friends and relax when party-time comes.

One easy answer to finding a treat for, say, an afternoon bridge gathering is a confection spiced with the unusual addition of aromatic bitters. To a simple syrup recipe, just add aromatic bitters and—surprise, again, —crushed chocolate creme-filled cookies!

Serve with coffee and you'll hear applause.

Bitters-Sweet Fudge

12 chocolate creme-filled cookies
2¼ cups sugar
1 cup light cream
1-16 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
2 teaspoons light corn syrup
1 tablespoon aromatic bitters

Break cookies into small pieces; set aside. Place remaining ingredients, except bitters, in a 3-quart saucepan. Mix well and boil over moderate heat until temperature reaches 236 degrees, or when a small amount dropped in cold water forms a soft ball.

★ ★ ★

Remove from heat and cool to about 150 degrees, or until bottom of pan is quite warm but not uncomfortably hot to the palm of the hand. Stir in bitters and beat until mixture loses shiny appearance. Stir in broken cookies.

Beat until first sign of stiffening. Pour into buttered 8" x 8" cake pan. Cut into squares when cooled and set.

Remove from pan to a rack and let dry on undersides. Store in airtight container.

BITTERS-SWEET FUDGE — Ever put cookies in fudge? Or aromatic bitters? This recipe does. Result is an interesting new confection.

Demand Follows Closing Mart Declines in Heavy Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market declined in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Losses outnumbered gains by more than 100 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .8 at 355.1, with industrials down 2.9, rails unchanged, and utilities up .8.

With the ticker tape running late at times, the increase in trading was attributed to the usual pent-up demand following a Wednesday closing. The mid-week closings are expected to continue for a while to allow Wall Street further time to catch up with back-office paper work.

Profit taking depressed blue chips. The possibility of Credit tightening was cited as a reason for some caution in the street.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 6.03 at 950.21.

Prices were higher on balance on the American Stock Exchange in heavy trading.

Cinerama, up a fraction, paced the list on activity, followed by GTI Corp., up about a point. Reeves Broadcasting slumped more than 2 points, and Milgo Electronics was down about 2. National Bowl-O-Mat slipped more than a point.

Purex Merges With State Firm

Menominee Company Starts Thinking Big

MENOINEE (AP)—Financially bolstered by its merger into the Purex Corp., the Michigan-grown, helicopter-manufacturing R. J. Enstrom Corp., is stepping up production and dreaming of expansion.

Enstrom stockholders earlier this month approved a swap of their stock for that of Purex, a major national producer of soaps and bleaches and owner of aircraft sales, service, conversion and overhaul subsidiaries on both the East and West coasts.

Purex stock currently is quoted at approximately $30 a share on the New York Stock Exchange. Enstrom stockholders are slated eventually to receive three-tenths of a Purex share for each one they own in the helicopter company.

Jack Christensen of Menominee, who has headed Enstrom as president since its founding in 1960, views the merger as giving the Michigan company "the financial strength and research and development ability which we have lacked."

TURBINE TESTING

Since directors of the two firms agreed on merger last December, Purex has lent Enstrom $900,000 on a secured note basis and Enstrom now is well along in testing a turbine-driven helicopter it hopes to have in production next summer.

Next month Enstrom's production is slated to go from three a month to four a month, and the mid-1969 target is eight a month.

Christensen reports a backlog of 25 orders, which he expects the Purex merger to firm up.

Enstrom helicopters sell for $35,960 each, which Christensen says is about $10,000 less than a machine of comparable size and ability can be bought elsewhere. They are designed to carry two or three persons.

FIRST DELIVERY

Enstrom made its first delivery in September of 1964 at a price of $27,400 to Lockheed Aircraft Corp., which uses the helicopter as a radar test vehicle for its electronics division in Plainfield, N.J.

The Enstrom had its conception as well as birth in Michigan. It incorporates a simplified rotor mounting and drive system invented by Rudy Enstrom, a one-time Crystal Falls iron miner.

★ ★ ★

It was from a home-made, hand-built helicopter Rudy constructed that the corporation grew. Christensen, a salesman for a family-owned wholesale hardware firm, interested aviation experts in Enstrom's unique aircraft.

Despite an economic squeeze which Menominee and the rest of Michigan's Upper Peninsula were undergoing at the time, sufficient shares were sold at $12 each to put Enstrom and Christensen in business.

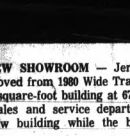
Apollo 7 to Reheat Priority Argument

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Whether successful or not, tomorrow's scheduled orbiting of a three-man spacecraft will reheat that old argument of spending priorities.

The question asked is whether the country can afford to spend as it has for space exploration.

Before the Apollo program is completed in



CUNNIFF

1971, by which time it is hoped that two Americans will have set foot on the moon, an estimated $24 billion will have been spent, or about $285 for every working man and woman.

Those who consider such spending wasteful argue that the earthly problems of urban chaos, pollution of the atmosphere and the financial plight of colleges are among projects more worthy of financial attention.

They can come up with a convincing argument by showing, for example, that the $44 billion already spent in space exploration could have provided better housing and food for millions, and might even have helped avert racial riots.

Supporters of heavy spending for space exploration argue that prestige, scientific and technological advance and military security demand that unceasing efforts be expended. Otherwise, they say, the United States might slide toward mediocrity.

The "general welfare and security of the United States require that adequate provision be made for aeronautical and space activities," is the way Congress phrased it in the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958.

To place everyone in "or" or "against" categories is to oversimplify the positions. Most Americans perhaps fall into both categories, supporting exploration but asking for practical achievements. They seek priorities.

These practical achievements have been numerous, especially in weather analysis, communications, metallurgy and electronics. Although the value of any of these achievements is difficult to measure in dollars, human beings do benefit to one degree or another.

Sports fans recently saw televised live from Sweden a boxing match between Jimmy Ellis and Floyd Patterson, which was made possible by a satellite in the sky, a product of the space program. An advance? Millions counted it so.

Satellites now relay photographs of the world's meteorologists for the first time to obtain an over-all view of disturbances. Potentially damaging hurricanes have been spotted by satellites.

Heat-resistant metals, which were developed for space capsules, are expected within the next decade to permit travelers to fly in supersonic aricraft. Admittedly, a great many people question that this is an advance.

The need to miniturize instruments in space vehicles has helped also in the developmnet of a wide number of products in other industries. Faster and smaller electronic computers, which have the potential for vast improvements in the human condition, have resulted from space technology.

Advances in aerial photography have come from space studies. The making of better maps is one result. The discovery of minerals and water and other underground resources of enemy installations.

★ ★ ★

All these "advances" can be questioned and must have. But one argument against large space expenditures often is overlooked. It is that hundreds of thousands of students, professors and workers have been drawn from other useful pursuits.

The entire question is one that might never be settled either way, for the proposers and opposers can support their point of view with a long list of documentation.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q — Why is there such a disparity in prices between common and preferred stock? I note that North American Rockwell sells in the 30s and its preferred is close to 100. Getty Oil is just the reverse with the preferred at 22 and the common over 100. — W.W.

A — The preferred stocks of the companies you cite are classified differently. North American is a $4.75 convertible preferred, which in essence is a high-grade common, whereas the $1.20 cumulative preferred of Getty is a straight income issue.

The North American preferred is convertible into 2.474 shares of common and for this reason tends to follow the action of the common shares at about 2½ times their price.

Getty preferred is cumulative — if dividends are defaulted they build up until paid — and is redeemable at any time on 30 days notice at $25.

Because this is an income issue it is influenced by monetary conditions. Therefore, since the yield is less than that available elsewhere, the shares trade at a discount from their $25 redemption value.

Q — Several years ago we bought Detroit Michigan Stove which was later merged into Welbilt Corp. We now own 1,400 preferred shares in the latter company and would appreciate any information you could give us on this issue. — H.C.

A — The growing investor interest in home-furnishings companies, together with Welbilt's improving position within the industry, have pushed the shares to new high ground. The improved outlook for Welbilt has resulted from its disposal of the assets of a division which was operating at a deficit, increasing emphasis on furniture operations and a shift in sales to consumers rather than to builders.

The preferred stock which you hold can be redeemed by the company at $10.50 and is convertible into common on a share-for-share basis. Since the shares are trading close to redemption value and the market for the preferred is very thin, I would convert at this time.

G&W to Dump Stocks in Firm

DETROIT (AP) — Gulf and Western Industries Inc. probably will dump about $90.5 million worth of stock it holds in Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co., G&W president David N. Judelson hinted Wednesday.

Answering a question before the Financial Analysts Society of Detroit, Judelson said it is not G&W's policy to press ahead with investments in companies "where the management doesn't welcome our entrance."

★ ★ ★

Judelson said the fate of G&W's 3.37 million shares of Allis Chalmers — about one third of outstanding shares — might be similar to what happened to its Armour & Co. holdings.

★ ★ ★

G&W last month completed the sale of 750,000 shares of Armour stock to General Host. G&W had announced plans to acquire Armour, but the plans were scrapped when the Justice Department said it was investigating possible antitrust violations.

★ ★ ★

Judelson also said the firm, which got its start as a small Grand Rapids firm, now ranks among the top 60 industrial corporations in the United States in sales.

Earnings for the fiscal year ended last July 31 were $69.8 million, 18 per cent higher than the previous year, Judelson said. Sales climbed $1.3 billion from $1.2 billion, he added.

The firm was started 11 years ago as a supplier to the auto industry, Michigan Bumper Co.

Opening lead—♦Q

By OSWALD and JAMES JACOBY

South's jump to four hearts announced a minimum opening bid with very good trumps. In other words, it said, "Partner, my hand calls for play in hearts. If you have enough high cards to go along with my good trumps, we have a slam; otherwise we belong in game only."

JACOBY

North might have simply jumped to the heart slam but North decided to make some effort to get to seven. Hence his bids of four and five no-trump. South had told his story and settled for the small slam.

South looked over dummy carefully and counted his winners. There were just 11 of them. He could get a 12th easily by taking the double finess in clubs or h could gt the 12th by setting up dummy's fifth spade.

The odds that West would hold at least one of the club honors were 3 to 1 in South's favor; the odds that spades would divide 4-3 only about 8-to-5, so that if taking the double finesse in clubs or he could get the 12th by setting up dummy's fifth spade.

On the other hand there was a way for South to try both plays. He started by winning the diamond in dummy. Then he entered his hand with the queen of trumps. Next came a spade to the ace and the ruff of a spade. Back to dummy with the king of trumps and the ruff of another low spade.

When both opponents followed to that spade lead, South drew the last trump and showed his hand, conceding a club.

It was just as well that he gave himself that extra chance. The spades did break but both club honors were wrong.

What do you do now?

A—Bid six hearts to show the king. Your partner has expressed a willingness to get to seven. Tell him that you are willing to go there but that you can't win the first diamond lead.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four spades, your partner has bid four no-trump over your three spades and five no-trump over your five diamond reply. You have bid six hearts and he has gone to six spades. What do you do now?

Three Measures Eliminate Moths

To eliminate moths, follow these three steps:

- Kill all moths; the little yellowish variety with about a half-inch wingspan is the dangerous type.
- Get rid of moth eggs by airing and cleaning all clothes.
- Store clothes in a closet lined with aromatic red cedar, whose fragrance repels moths.

University of Chicago students now have their own student ombudsman.

The university announced yesterday the appointment to the post of John W. Moscow of New York City, a senior majoring in political science. He will hear student grievances about administration policies, bring them to the attention of the proper authorities and suggest changes in policies when necessary.

The office of ombudsman was first established in Sweden in 1810 as an intermediary between citizens and government officials.

Mrs. Alliluyeva's memoirs, "Twenty Letters to a Friend," have attracted wide attention in serial and book form.

Bush Pilot Flies to Base With Severed Arm

Brian Steed, 28-year-old missionary turned bush pilot, told from his hospital bed how he flew his light plane 15 miles after the propeller severed his right arm near the shoulder.

Steed said he had landed his pontoon plane on a lake near Green Water Lake in the Ontario wilds to scout the shoreline for International Nickel Co. Stepping onto a pontoon, he was struck by the whirling prop and thrown into the water.

The airman said he finally got back into the cockpit, "prayed and fastened my seat belt," and took off for Lake Shebandowano where his employer, Austin Airways of Toronto, maintains a base. Another pilot flew Steed 60 miles to the hospital.

Dem Charges Protester on Antipoverty Payroll

Yippie leader Abbie Hoffman was on the city's antipoverty payroll when he led antiwar demonstrations at the Democratic National Convention, City Councilman Bertrand Gelfand, a Bronx Democrat, said yesterday.

A spokesman for the Human Resources Administration said Hoffman, 32, went on the payroll July 15 as a $40-a-day consultant for a $120,000 free store experiment for hippies in the East Village.

The spokesman added that Hoffman did not draw pay during the week of the Democratic convention Aug. 26. He said Hoffman worked 17 days before being dropped from the payroll Sept. 30.

Violent Prisoner Hurt

A apparently berserk Oakland County Jail prisoner's rampage ended early today when he severly cut his foot while deputies attempted to subdue him.

Facing surgery at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital is Arch Myers, 40, address unreported, who deputies said was booked by Pontiac police shortly after midnight on a drunk and disorderly charge.

Myers cut his foot, investigators said, when he managed to smash loose part of his cell toilet and jumped on the jagged portion still connected to the wall.

This followed incidents in which the prisoner jerked loose an upper cell bunk and later threw a part of the toilet at guards, according to deputies.

Officers said they had no explanation for the outburst.

Judge Changes 'She' Into 'He'

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Judge Christ T. Seraphim yesterday critically eyed the person standing before him.

"Are you a he or a she?" he asked the long-haired "woman" who wore a blouse and pedal-pusher pants and had identified "herself" as Katherine E. Kahler, 31.

★ ★ ★

"I am a woman," came the reply.

The judge was dubious and ordered a physical examination by court aides.

TRANSFORMATION

As the examination was beginning, "Katherine" admitted "she" was really a man, Darrell Franke of South Beloit, Ill. He said he was a professional female impersonator.

★ ★ ★

Seraphim fined Franke $10 for being drunk, then ordered authorities to swear out another warrant, this one for disorderly conduct.

Request for Changes on College Funds Hit

LANSING (UPI) — State officials Wednesday took issue with a study report calling for a change in the method of allocating tax funds to colleges and universities.

The report was compiled by the Michigan Conference of the American Association of University Professors and called for the State Board of Education to determine financial needs.

★ ★ ★

Presently each school has its budget request reviewed by the governor's office, the Budget Bureau, Senate Appropriations Committee and the Legislature.

"The process is crude, irrational and unsatisfactory," the AAUP said.

DIRECTOR DISAGREES

But Glenn S. Allen Jr., state budget director, stoutly disagreed.

"The Michigan Constitution says there must be an executive budget," he said. "Someone impartial must set this up, and the Department of Education is far from impartial."

Allen said allowing the education board to compose its own final budget would result in other agencies asking for the same privilege.

★ ★ ★

"Without the governor and the Budget Bureau this would go toward an automatic appropriation," he said.

AAUP UNINFORMED

Sen. Charles O. Zollar, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said the AAUP "knows less about the problem than those presently in charge."

He said professors "traditionally live in ivory towers" and do not realize that priorities must be set in the expenditure of tax funds.

★ ★ ★

"We allow the professionals to set the priorities, but not to reach into the general fund," Zollar said.

"It's time somebody defended the capabilities of the taxpayers who are supporting all of these functions."

N-Weapons Role Eyed by NATO

BONN, Germany (AP) — Defense chiefs of seven NATO countries began secret two-day consultations today on the role of nuclear weapons in the defense of the West.

The North Atlantic Treaty Organization's nuclear planning group, also known as the McNamara Committee after former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, was meeting under maximum security conditions.

The U.S., British, West German, Italian, Danish, Belgian and Greek delegations to the semiannual session were believed to be hearing details of a series of studies compiled since they conferred in April in the Hague.

Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford, who arrived Wednesday night with a message from President Johnson to Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger, will meet with the West German leader Friday. He sees Defense Minister Gerhard Schroeder Saturday before flying to West Berlin.

British Defense Chief Denis Healey conferred for 90 minutes with Schroeder Wednesday night.

The six defense ministers, with Greece represented by Foreign Minister Panayotis Pipinelis, have two major concerns—the Warsaw Pact invasion of Czechoslovakia and its effects on the East-West balance of military balance in central Europe, and U.S. warnings to Western Europe that America's costly protective shield around Western Europe cannot be maintained indefinitely.

This Art Has Depth

There are no depths, apparently, to which a painter will not go for the sake of art. Addison Loomis, a free-lance artist for the last 21 years and full-time diver at a California marineland, decided to combine his vocation and avocation and now does his painting underwater. The 45-year-old former Air Force pilot soon found he had some obstacles to overcome. He devised a net-covered bucket to hold his equipment. The net keeps the gear in and the hungry fish out. Another innovation is a wrist loop which holds his brushes and palette knife, keeping them from floating away. One thing is certain: With the Pacific Ocean at his doorstep, Loomis should never run out of subject matter.

Winning Bid Sets Record for Impressionist Painting

NEW YORK (AP) — It took only five minutes of bidding at the Parke-Bernet Galleries Wednesday night to set a world auction record of $1,550,000 for an Impressionist painting.

That price was paid by the Norton Simon Foundation of Fullerton, Calif., for "Le Pont des Arts, Paris," an early work of Pierre Auguste Renoir, painted about 100 years ago.

Simon, a Los Angeles industrialist, was not present. The bidding was done in his behalf by Stephen Hahn, a New York dealer, started at $250,000. Nearly all succeeding bids were in jumps of $50,000.

The previous auction record for an Impressionist work was $1,411,200 paid by the Metropolitan Museum of Art, New York, at Christie's in London last December for Claude Monet's "La Terrasse a Sainte Adresse."

The previous auction record for a Renoir work was $299,600 in Paris in 1966 for his "Portraid de Jeune Fille."

The Renoir landscape was consigned to the sale by Mr. and Mrs. W. Clifford Klenk of Wainscott, L.I., N.Y.

Of five works by Camille Pissaro, also consigned by Mr. and Mrs. Klenk, two surpassed the previous auction record for a work by Pissarro, at $163,790. They were Jardin des Tuileries, Matinee de Printemps," which went to an unnamed private collector for $280,000, and "Le Pont-Neuf, Paris," which went to Nathan Cummings of Chicago for $210,000.

The nine French paintings in the sale brought $3,245,000 in bidding which lasted 25 minutes.

The one Picasso in the auction, "Paysage de Gosol," from the artist's Rose period, went to an unnamed Swiss buyer at $430,000. The auction record for a Picasso work is $532,000.

Area Crash Injures Youth

A 19-year-old Waterford Township youth is in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital after being injured in a two-car collision last night.

William Timmerman, 3811 Percy King Court, was a passenger in a car driven by William R. Riggs, 18, of 3904 Percy King. Riggs was treated at the hospital and released.

The Riggs car collided with one driven by Beverly L. Penny, 39, of 7044 Desmond, Waterford Township, at Highland and Williams Lake roads, Waterford Township.

Area Teen Mute at His Arraignment

A Waterford Township teenager is back in Oakland County Jail today after being arraigned on charges of kidnaping, statutory rape and gross indecency.

Michael Lemon, 19, of 3867 Iris stood mute yesterday before Waterford Township Justice Kenneth H. Hempstead. Bond on all three charges was set at $5,000. A preliminary examination was set for Oct. 15.

★ ★ ★

Lemon is charged with kidnaping a 15-year-old girl at gunpoint and rapeing her in a field near her home Tuesday. Police are also questioning him in at least two other attempted abductions.

3 Speakers Set for Relations Unit

State Rep. Donald E. Bishop, R-63rd District; Richard Wilcox, county board of supervisor candidate; and Richard D. Kuhn, GOP candidate for county prosecutor, will be the guest speakers today at a meeting sponsored by the Oxford-Orion Human Relations Council.

The 8 p.m. public meeting will be held at St. Joseph's Church in Lake Orion.

Chicago Eying Rules on Permits

CHICAGO (AP) — City Council received a proposal Wednesday to limit permits for parades and open-air meetings in the city to Chicago residents and organizations.

The objective of such a proposal, Alderman Edwin P. Fifielski, its sponsor, said, would be to prohibit hippies and other outside groups to march in Chicago. Fifielski said such persons were primarily responsible for violence during the Democratic National Convention.

Pearl Makes Quick Change at Her Testimonial Dinner

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Pearl Bailey has probably given all our wives a fresh, new unforgiveable idea.

Dressing twice in one night.

Pearl wore a white gown to the reception honoring her as the Broadway March of Dimes "Man of the Year" — then went into the ladies' room and changed to black for her promenade to the dais.

"I just feel more comfortable in basic black," explained Pearlie Mae, as all husbands in earshot shuddered, thinking of waiting for a wife to get dressed twice in one evening.

Pearl has also been chosen USO "Woman of the Year," and says, "Since I wore a gown as 'Man of the Year,' I guess I gotta wear pants as 'Woman of the Year.' Anyway, in these days, I'm glad I have a choice."

There was a small undercurrent of politics at the dinner. Pearl is being wooed by Nixon forces led by old friend Larry MacPhail who has lined up many athletes and entertainers. Jack Valenti, who was there as an honored guest, mentioned that he has seen some private polls that show HHH is on the upswing . . . and he thinks he'll win.

Little ole "Hello, Dolly" from Newport News was overwhelmed as Toastmaster Joey Adams brought on Dr. Ralph Bunche, Perle Mesta, Ed Sullivan, Arthur Godfrey, Ed McMahon, Ted Lewis, Tony Bennett, Allan Sherman, Jack Dempsey, Joe Pepitone, Cab Calloway, Virginia Graham, Harry Hershfield, David Merrick, Meara & Stiller, Leonard Sillman, Louis Sobol, Horace McMahon, Henny Youngman, Milton Berle, Joe E. Lewis and George Jessel — as glittering a dais as the N. Y. Hilton's ever had.

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ed Sullivan's five grandchildren (Bob Precht's brood) wanted to pose with Tiny Tim backstage at CBS TV — though it's rare for them to be so interested in a guest star. Tiny Tim favorably impressed the backstage crowd. He shlepped his precious ukelele onstage in a plastic shopping bag, explaining he can't find the same paper bags here he finds in California.

Kirk Douglas, due in N.Y. to start filming "The Arrangement," flew to Denver in his capacity as Public Affairs Director of the Olympics to show the 200 U.S. athletes his picture, "The Brotherhood." Douglas paid a hospital visit to Jesse Owens, stricken in Denver with pneumonia.

★ ★ ★

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Half the people in the world are unhappy because they don't have the things that make the other half miserable."—Sanford (Me.) Tribune.

EARL'S PEARLS: Joan Rivers mentioned her ugly cousin: "It takes Polaroid an hour to develop her picture."

Buddy Hacket told Corbett Monica, "If I ever need a heart transplant, I hope they give me Don Rickles' — because it's never been used." . . . That's earl, brother.

A Look at TV

Current Events in Focus

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Network television, with a brand new season just launched, is now more concerned with current events than in the usual assortment of entertainment programs.

With the windup of the World Series, all three major networks will be focusing their cameras and using a big chunk of their news staffs on the launching Friday of the Apollo 7 spacecraft and its three man crew on an 11-day journey around the earth.

Then, on Saturday, ABC will start getting some returns on the reported $4.5 million it paid for broadcast rights to the summer Olympic Games in Mexico —two weeks of broadcasts on the track, field, swimming, diving, basketball and equestrian events.

Events following the Apollo launching will lend themselves to television for the first time because a television camera will be in the space capsule and, hopefully, will transmit pictures for broadcast for about 12 minutes daily during the flight.

SIMULATIONS

Since 1962 when the space program took off, launchings and recoveries have been covered with the aid of simulations, verbal descriptions and mock-ups of equipment. The networks have correspondents so familiar with their subject that they talk of details and machinery with the expertise—and lack of emotion—of the astronauts and their back-up men.

NBC, in an inspired moment, has signed a new kind of space expert—Rene Carpenter, wife of one of the original astronauts Navy Cmdr. M. Scott Carpenter. She will work with David Brinkley, New York anchorman, during the takeoff coverage and during the recovery, expected Oct. 27.

Mrs. Carpenter, an attractive blonde, has emerged as a personality in her own right through her writings—first about astronauts and their family life and later as author of a syndicated column.

Mrs. Carpenter, whose four teen-age children are away at school, was not sure Wednesday what her contribution to the coverage would be, but it is certain to be an explanation of the feelings and emotions of the people—including wives and children—concerned.

"The wives know when we marry these men that the demands of the job come first," she said. "Scott and I have been separated about half of our married life by his job. And I think that the wives think about the flights just about the way their husbands do—part of the job. We're conditioned, in our way, just as they are in theirs. What other people don't realize is that all these men feel that death is an integral part of life and accept it."

Tent Meeting

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The National Apartment Association will meet in a tent next week. Its convention was scheduled for the Flamingo Hotel, but fire Sunday caused extensive damage to the main meeting hall. The tent covers 22,000 square feet and was set up Wednesday by the hotel.

Punch card accounting was devised in 1884 by Hollerith.

First Manned Apollo Flight Gets 'Green' for Tomorrow

ONE COLOR MAKE OVER PAGES

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With green lights flashing for all aspects of the flight, the final countdown begins today for tomorrow's scheduled launch of the three Apollo 7 astronauts on an 11-day space journey.

The 300-man launch crew planned to start the final hours of the count by feeding electrical power to the 224-foot-tall Saturn 1B rocket.

As the launch team prepared the rocket and the Apollo 7 spaceship, Navy Capt. Walter M. Schirra Jr., Air Force Maj. Donn F. Eisele and civilian astronaut Walter Cunningham expected to relax after a morning meeting in their quarters with key project officials.

The space trio is to ride the Saturn 1B into orbit at 11 a.m. tomorrow on a critical mission that could put the United States back on course toward its goal of a manned lunar landing next year.

MOON ORBIT NEAR

If Apollo 7 demonstrates the spaceship can function long enough for a half-million-mile round trip to the moon, the Apollo 8 crew may attempt to orbit the moon in December.

The 363-foot-tall Saturn 5 rocket for that mission rolled to its launch pad yesterday for about 40 days of prelaunch checks. The Apollo 8 commander will be Air Force Col. Frank Borman.

* * *

Schirra, Cunningham and Eisele practiced yesterday in a spacecraft simulator.

Cunningham visited last night with his wife, Lo Ella, and two children, who flew here from their home in Houston, Tex., to watch the launching. The wives of the other two crewmen plan to view the blastoff on television at their Houston homes.

SIX-HOUR NAP

When the launch crew starts the final count, the clock will read 14 hours 15 minutes and counting. When it reaches 6 hours, there will be an automatic hold of six hours for catchup work and to allow most of the launch team to get some sleep.

* * *

Schirra, Eisele and Cunningham will be awakened in their ready room quarters at the Kennedy Space Center about 6 a.m. for breakfast and a preflight medical exam. When the count reaches 2 hours 25 minutes, they are to enter the spacecraft to make final checks before launch.

One Man Was Killed When This Car Crashed In Waterford Township

Area Car Flips, Killing Driver

One Waterford Township man was killed and another critically injured when their car veered off a road and careened for 493 feet last night. Witnesses and police estimate the car was traveling more than 100 miles an hour.

Killed in one of Waterford Township's most violent traffic accidents in several years was Charles V. Ostic, 21, of 2445 Maplecrest. He was driving the 1968 Corvette.

A passenger, Lloyd Busch Jr., 18, of 4664 Midland, is in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

SPEED LIMIT 40

Police said Ostic, who recently returned from the Army in Korea, was going more than 100 m.p.h on Airport Road north of Tubbs Road at 10:35 p.m. The speed limit is 40 m.p.h.

He apparently lost control of the car, which hit a culvert and rolled over and over for 493 feet before coming to a stop, according to police. Ostic was thrown an additional 127 feet. Busch wore a seat belt.

Parts of the car were scattered as far away from impact as 1,000 feet, police said.

1st Statewide Union for Police Is Formed

Higher pay and higher standards are the goals of Michigan's first statewide police union, which was officially formed yesterday at a meeting in Lansing.

DAVIDSON

Pontiac Patrolman Kenneth Davidson, elected vice president of the fledgling organization, described the new Police Officers Association of Michigan as "a big step toward professionalization."

Davidson is treasurer of the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA), which became a charter member group at the meeting.

* * *

He predicted that the statewide union will soon enroll a majority of Michigan's police organizations.

CAN'T JOIN AS INDIVIDUALS

Officers may not join as individuals.

Carl S. Parsell of Detroit, the Michigan association's first president, said the union will lobby for bills in the legislature and provide training, legal advice and professional negotiators to member groups in an effort to raise pay and standards across the state.

* * *

He said the membership total is now 5,000, including 3,500 officers from Detroit and patrolmen from Saginaw, Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, Ann Arbor, Cadillac, Livonia and Midland, in addition to Pontiac.

No supervisory police personnel will be accepted for membership, he added.

PRIMARY AIM

Davidson said the organization's primary aim will be a minimum annual wage of $7,500 for all officers in the state.

"State Police troopers have been invited to join and we expect to unite all of the some 25 law enforcement organizations in the state under one roof," said Davidson.

* * *

Parsell, in reference to training goals, charged that no state law now prevents a city from putting untrained officers on the streets.

Hubert Looks for Sign of Aid From McCarthy

From Our News Wires

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey looked for some sign of response from Eugene J. McCarthy today after a determined bid for the Minnesota senator's support in the presidential campaign.

Arriving in New York on a campaign swing yesterday, the Democratic presidential candidate said he thought he had already met most of McCarthy's conditions for support.

McCarthy, Humphrey's major rival for the nomination at the Democratic National Convention, said Tuesday he could support Humphrey only if he took a firmer stand on halting the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam and changing Saigon's government, committed his administration to making the draft more equitable and made more room in the political process for the young.

Humphrey said, "Hopefully my friend will recognize he can't stand by" and allow Richard M. Nixon or George C. Wallace to become president.

NIXON WOOS McCARTHYITES

Earlier this week, Nixon wooed McCarthy supporters in a visit to McCarthy's and Humphrey's home state of Minnesota.

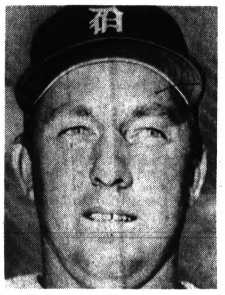
Wallace plans to send his running mate, retired Air Force Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, to Vietnam to get a first-hand report on the war, according to the Associated Press.

Plans are for LeMay to make a four-day trip starting about Tuesday, in an effort to "find out what the servicemen themselves think about the matter," a source close to Wallace said.

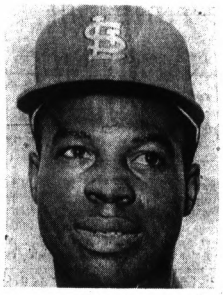
He said LeMay is to report back before a nationwide television appearance by Wallace Oct. 20.

Wallace, meanwhile, has accused national public opinion pollsters of trying to "control" the election in favor of Republican Richard M. Nixon and has called for an investigation of pollsters by the next Congress.

Democrat Hubert H. Humphrey's camp challenged the accuracy of a new Gallup Poll indicating no drop in Nixon's lead over Humphrey — but said it would not join Wallace in advocating a congressional inquiry.



AL KALINE



LOU BROCK

Lolich Carries Detroit Hopes

By JERE T. CRAIG

ST. LOUIS — Detroit Tiger southpaw ace Mickey Lolich hopes the hot water he's been in the last two days will put the St. Louis Cardinals in hot water today.

Lolich has won two games in the 1968 World Series and the 28-year-old Washington, Mich., resident is manager Mayo Smith's choice to oppose strikeout star Bob Gibson of the Cardinals, whose two victories in this classic have given him a Series record seven straight complete game wins.

* * *

While that duel is in progress, another will be taking place between the Tigers' Al Kaline and the Cardinals' base-theft artist Lou Brock.

Brock, with 12 hits, and Kaline, with 11, have a shot at the Series record for most hits — 13 set by Bobby Richardson of the New York Yankees.

* * *

"I use a lot more hot water on my arm when I know I am going to pitch with only two days' rest," Lolich revealed yesterday. "Just stand under the shower and let the arm soak, to heal the adhesions.

"I feel fine," he added.

Only five pitchers have won three games in one Series, and Gibson will be trying to become the first to do it twice. In addition, he needs just five strikeouts to break his own record of 31 whiffs in a seven-game classic.

Democrats Adopt Platform for County Board Hopefuls

The Oakland County Democratic Executive Committee has adopted a platform on which party candidates for the Board of Supervisors will wage their campaigns.

It's believed to be the first document of its kind in the nation, according to Philip Mastin, vice chairman of the Democratic committee.

* * *

Based on testimony taken by a committee from county department heads, and concerned citizen groups and organizations the last two weeks, the eight-page platform establishes a set of priorities with human needs being the first recognized.

The platform calls for improved welfare services, mental health services, housing, job opportunities and training centers, transportation, youth and retiree services, and law enforcement.

'ELABORATE PROJECTS'

"We deplore the budgeting of surpluses for elaborate projects rather than services for people," the platform reads.

Mastin, a Hazel Park councilman and a candidate for the reapportioned board of supervisors from that city, said the platform encourages the scheduling of board meetings for times convenient to the people "and the consulting of people on major projects like the Oakland-Orion Airport."

The platform also urges that the new

Teen Togs: Naughty or Not?

NEW YORK (AP) — The annual fracas between school officials and students over classroom attire raged across the land today, spiced by glimpses of stocking tops, panties and even navels.

Each of the embattled sides, a spot survey disclosed, had won some and lost some and the ultimate outcome might fairly be described as moot.

* * *

There was hot and generally unresolved controversy over a number of burning questions:

At what point do a girl's culottes become so brief that they are, so to speak, more like sans-culottes?

Is a T-shirt underwear or outerwear?

TORRID ZONE?

Where is the torrid zone on miniskirts?

Should a girl wear a Nehru jacket with nothing underneath but panties?

What is a reasonable length for male sideburns?

School principals from coast to coast were bugged by love beads, and rode off in several directions. Some insisted that the wearing of love beads by males would not do. Others held that love beads, if worn, must be tucked inside shirts. Others said go ahead, wear 'em any old way.

Culottes, a sort of split skirt, were taboo last year in Chicago's Morgan Park High School. This term they are permissible if they extend within two inches of the knee.

3-INCH LIMIT

At Hollywood (Calif.) High, Culottes must be full enough to look like unsplit skirts, and three inches up is the limit.

U.S. Arguments Support Viet Peace Hopes

PARIS (AP) — Some U.S. officials say privately an early breakthrough toward a Vietnam peace still is possible despite the deadlocked talks here on ending the war.

Their optimism has them to the point of discussing the idea of a package deal in which conflicting American and North Vietnamese terms for a bomb halt would be reconciled.

* * *

Arguments advanced by informants who say a breakthrough still is on the cards emerged after the 25th session of the conference yesterday.

Taken together, these arguments suggest the North Vietnamese, for the first time, are revealing a readiness to yield some ground.

NIXON SCARES HANOI?

The first argument:

● Hanoi regards with some dismay the prospect of Richard M. Nixon being elected president Nov. 5. This, according to sources, appears to be the only conclusion to be drawn from North Vietnamese Ambassador Xuan Thuy's statement that "President Johnson . . . still has enough time and power" to open the way to peace by ordering a halt now to the bombing of North Vietnam.

The second argument:

● Hanoi is being hurt militarily under the combined pressure and the increasing firepower of allied forces in South Vietnam. Ever-younger troops, sources said, are being pushed out of North Vietnam's eroded training bases into Southern battlefields. The rate of infiltration from the North is said to be falling.

* * *

The third argument:

● The men from Hanoi always display impeccable manners and all the courtesies during their meetings with the Americans. But yesterday something approaching friendliness if not actual warmth toward the Americans was reported. This could mean a little — or a lot.

* * *

Some North Vietnamese counter this by insisting they have no feelings of personal hostility against their American conferees. They point to speech after speech by Thuy in which he tries carefully to distinguish between the U.S. government and people.

Birmingham Area

School Execs to Attend Lab on Creativity

BIRMINGHAM — Administrators of the Birmingham Public Schools will attend a training laboratory workshop tomorrow, noon to 9 p.m., and Saturday, 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The workshop is part of Projects to Advance Creativity in Education (PACE), under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. The workshop is sponsored by the Birmingham Social Studies Curriculum Project.

The dual purpose of the social studies project is to demonstrate the curriculum improvement process and to assess its impact on students.

Two objectives of the Birmingham Social Studies Project are assessment of the social studies curriculum's impact on the student and demonstration that data from this assessment may be used by teachers to revise, adapt and improve the curriculum.

The purposes of the training laboratory are to help administrators improve their skills as instructional leaders. These skills involve group interaction and human relations understandings, and communication skills.

PACE is designed to encourage school districts to develop imaginative solutions to educational problems, to utilize research findings more effectively and to creative design and making intelligent use of supplementary centers and services.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The Bloomfield Hills Camera Club will feature Mrs. Ferne Tate, photographer, painter and student of art, at their meeting Monday at 8 p.m. at the Cranbrook Hall of Science.

The topic will be "Abstractions in Motion."

The meeting is open to the public.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Boy Scout Troop 1006 will meet Monday at 7:15 p.m. at the Bloomfield Junior High School on Quarton Road.

Any boys 11 to 18 years old who wish to become Scouts are invited by Scoutmaster Tom Regan to attend.

Gun Bill Faces One Big Hurdle

WASHINGTON (AP) — After months of congressional fighting, a bill to ban the mail-order sale of rifles, shotguns and ammunition faces only one major obstacle — a House eager to adjourn.

The Senate passed by voice vote yesterday a compromise measure recommended by a joint conference committee and sent it to the House for probable action today.

* * *

Although the House is expected to approve the gun-control bill, Rep. Clark MacGregor, R-Minn., said he would lead a fight against the conference committee's compromise because it deleted an amendment exempting most ammunition from the mail-order sales ban. He called the conference compromise "hypocritical on its face."

MacGregor successfully sponsored an amendment exempting rifle and shotgun ammunition as well as 22-caliber rimfire bullets from the mail-order prohibition when the bill was originally passed by the House during the summer.

PROVISION ACCEPTED

The bill as first passed on the Senate did not exempt ammunition. The conference committee accepted the Senate provision on that matter.

Another roadblock to easy passage was the possible absence of many members already back home campaigning for reelection or planning to leave early.

* * *

Another possible GOP tactic would be to try to prevent the bill from being considered immediately by employing the parliamentary procedures that forced the House to remain in consecutive session 27 hours, 37 minutes before completing action yesterday on a measure to allow for network debates between the major presidential candidates.

Break Is Rumored in Pueblo Release

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — U.S. and North Korean negotiators met at Panmunjom today for the second straight day, and a substantial breakthrough was in the making on the release of the crew of the USS Pueblo, intelligence sources said.

U.S. officials refused to comment on the report.

* * *

The informants said the two consecutive meetings at the meeting site of the Korean Armistice Commission were unusual.

The sources declined to elaborate on what they meant as a breakthrough.

PAPER HINTS RELEASE

At the same time, the South Korean newspaper Kyunghyang Shinmun quoted informed sources as saying the 82 Pueblo crewmen, held in North Korea since the ship's capture Jan. 23, may be released shortly.

The paper added that the Panmunjom meeting was attended for the first time by Lennart Elnmark, a Swede who is a member of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission of the Korean armistice.

* * *

The private talk yesterday was the 23rd at Panmunjom on the Pueblo.

The last confirmed private talk was held Sept. 30. Kyunghyang also said Maj. Gen. Gilbert Woodward, U.S. representative at the private talks, personally has toured a U.S. military hospital near Seoul and the Osan U.E. air base to inspect preparations for receiving the Pueblo crew.

* * *

The paper said Woodward made the inspection after he returned from the meeting yesterday at Panmunjom.

Dirksen: Senate GOP Plans to Block Equal-Time Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minority Leader Everett M. Dirksen, without mentioning a filibuster, says Senate Republicans will use "the means at our command" to block passage of the equal time bill that survived historic locked-door debate in the House.

Dirksen indicated in an interview after the 27½-hour House debate on the measure ended yesterday that numerous amendments may be offered to the bill permitting a radio-television confrontation by the major presidential candidates without requiring equal time for minor aspirants.

* * *

Shortly after the 280 to 35 House vote of approval, the Columbia Broadcasting System offered GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon, Democratic nominee Hubert H. Humphrey and third-party candidate George C. Wallace, and their running mates, one hour of prime time on each of the next four Sundays.

The National Broadcasting Co. asked the three to arrange meetings with network officials to agree on a time and format acceptable to all.

But Dirksen made it clear Senate Republicans have no intention of letting the bill become law in its present form, if they can stall it in the waning days of a session with a quorum to conduct business is rapidly disappearing.

"We are going to resist this with the means at our command," Dirksen said.

* * *

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana made the House-passed bill the pending business at a session today called two hours earlier than the usual noon meeting time. Observing that he expected "considerable discussion" by the minority, he added:

"I hope the Republicans will do their best to see that we get home before the polls close on Nov. 5.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., said that the adjournment of Congress might be delayed by the argument over the measure.

House Republicans denied that they had been trying to prevent passage, saying they had been driving for action on stymied election reofrm and congressional reorganization legislation.

County Dems Adopt Platform

board be made a part-time job, "with reasonable remuneration." It also calls for the streamlining of committees. (Presently there are 28 committees and the new board will have only 27 members.)

Included in the platform is the establishment of an information center where county residents can call with questions about services.

ANTIPOVERTY BOOST

Planks in the platform include increased county support to the antipoverty program, implementing the Kerner Report as it affects the county, the discontinuance of discriminatory practices, and the encouragement of municipalities to work toward better housing.

Wholehearted support is given in the platform to the Southeastern Michigan Council of Government (COG), the purchase of land banks for future recreational use and a model-cities program.

* * *

Prime consideration will be given by the Democrats to making Oakland a home-rule county, according to the platform.

* * *

"We view with alarm (Delos) Hamlin's opposition to home rule," said Mastin. Hamlin is serving his 14th term as chairman of the board of supervisors.

Topping the list of priorities in the platform is the county mental health program. "Oakland entered it early," said Mastin, "but it has been allowed to lag."

Democrats on the board, according to the platform, will work toward improving the county road system, using its appointive powers to make changes in the road commission if necessary.

U.S. War Deaths Down Last Week

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. combat deaths in the Vietnam war dropped last week to their lowest total since the week of Aug. 17 while those of South Vietnamese forces went up, weekly reports showed today.

It was the 11th consecutive week that deaths among government forces have exceeded those of American military personnel. Some American officials have said this demonstrates increased combat activity on the part of the South Vietnamese forces.

On T-shirts, the official rule at Mandan, N.D., High School is: "They're underwear and not proper school apparel."

But at Radford High School, near Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, T-shirts receive the stamp of approval as long as they do not bear words on pictures.

Officially fixed miniskirt lengths range from two inches above the knee in Jefferson Parish, La., to four inches in Glendale, Calif. But there are other less specific views.

The Westport, Conn., school board ruled simply that skirts must cover the girl' "undergraments and their torsos."

SKIRT DECREE

Principal J. H. Boucree of Booker T. Washington High in New Orleans said: "When a girl sits, you should not see the tops of her stockings."

A pretty girl in Pacific High School, San Bernardino, Calif., admitted her miniskirt was five inches up the thigh, officially an inch too high, but told an interviewer: "If I pull the dress down and hold in my stomach it's only four inches above the knee."

The Phoenix, Ariz., high school system ran into Nehru jacket trouble and had to put its foot down.

Explained Mick Herzog, the system's community relations director: "The girls were wearing them with nothing but panties on underneath, which turned everybody on.

Gandhi's '1,000-Year Light' May Be Going Out Across India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Indian is observing the centenary of Mohandas K. Gandhi's birth — and many Indians are dismayed that their country has strayed far from the Gandhian path.

The inspiring spirit of India's independence was born Oct. 2, 1869. Throughout the year ending next Oct. 2 the Gandhi Centenary Committee will attempt to rekindle the memory of the spindly, bespectacled man who preached nonviolence and uplift of the downtrodden.

★ ★ ★

When a Hindu fanatic gunned down Gandhi at a New Delhi prayer meeting Jan. 30, 1948, Jawaharlal Nehuru, then prime minister, promised that Gandhi's message would far outlive the man.

"The light that shone in this country was no ordinary light," Nehru told India. "The light that has illumined this country for these many years will illumine this country for many more years, and 1,000 years later that light will be seen in this country."

LIGHT FLICKERING?

Twenty years away from Gandhi's death, many feel that the 1,000-year light is flickering.

★ ★ ★

The great Gandhian causes — nonviolence, uplifting the untouchables, prohibition, Hindu-Moslem unity — have run out of steam. The high moral standards Gandhi demanded of himself and others seem to be too high, as the country settles into easier ways of doing things.

★ ★ ★

Almost every day some aggrieved group — whether government employes, university students or the citizens of some region — launches a "Gandhi-style" protest movement.

"But," says Morarji Desai, India's deputy prime minister and leading Gandhian in the government, "the techniques of Satyagraha Gandhi's nonviolent method have been perverted in the wrong hands."

RESULT IN VIOLENCE

As often as not, such "nonviolent" demonstrations degenerate into some kind of violence. That would have caused Gandhi to fast in penance. Today it merely satisfies demonstrators that they have grabbed the spotlight.

★ ★ ★

"Violence is in the very air we breathe," says Dr. Sushila Nayar, the woman doctor who was at his side when he was shot.

★ ★ ★

Gandhi devoted much of his life to campaigning for one-fifth of India's citizens considered untouchables. He called the Harijans — "children of God."

"Socially, they are lepers," said Gandhi. "Economically, they are worse than slaves."

Yet, says Dr. Nayar, using an endearing variant for Gandhi, "the state of the Harijans would shock Gandhi today."

'PIOUS FRAUD'

Though the practice of untouchability — discrimination against Harijans — is on paper a crime, the Times of India says: "The harsh truth is that anti-untouchability sentiment has remained no more than a pious fraud."

★ ★ ★

Annually the commissioner for the scheduled castes — untouchables — lists continued discriminations. Untouchables are often refused food in hotels or water at public wells. In several recent cases they have been murdered for being "uppity."

Another collapsed Gandhian cause is prohibition. "I hold drink to be more damnable than thieving and perhaps even prostitution," he said. Today, 15 of India's 17 states hold drink to be an excellent source of excise tax revenue.

Nathuram Godse fired three pistol shots into Gandhi for "appeasing" Moslems who had persuaded the withdrawing British to partition old British India and create Pakistan beside independent India in 1947.

Today Hindu-Moslem amity — "Gandhi lived for it and died for it," says Dr. Nayar — has no great proponent, and the two communities, spurred by increasing sporadic violence, are drifting farther apart.

Pleas for communal peace roll down from the highest officers in the land, but fall on deaf or uninterested ears.

★ ★ ★

The Gandhi Centenary Committee has promised to organize a corps of youths dedicated to nonviolence who will try to snuff out communal and other riots before they can erupt.

Acharya J. B. Kripalani, an 80-year-old independent member of Parliament, is considered by many the most faithful living interpreter of Gandhi. He says Gandhi's message was for the world, not just for India.

"Gandhi's ideals of passive resistance are gaining ground wherever people are subject to overwhelming armed force or the force of numbers," he adds.

★ ★ ★

"The far-sighted Negro leaders in the United States feel that their most effective weapon is through nonviolent action. Recently the Czech people are trying Gandhi's methods to resist the armies of Russia.

"Even in India, 20 years is much too little time to be able to assess the real impact of Gandhi's message."

TIGERS FLEX MUSCLES

Denny Dandy in Comeback

By JERE CRAIG
Sports Writer, Pontiac Press

ST. LOUIS — The 65th World Series, suddenly reaching almost indescribable extremes, comes to a close today at Busch Memorial Stadium with the expected but not anticipated seventh game.

Confused? It is understandable. But then, so are most of the members of the extensive corps of broadcasters, writers and reporters trying to put in perspective all of the changing aspects of the 1968 fall classic.

★ ★ ★

Wednesday, the Detroit Tigers left the rain-soaked red feathers of the host Cardinals scattered throughout the arena of combat as the visitors evened the series at three games apiece with a 13-1 victory.

★ ★ ★

The fact that the showdown between the defending world's champions and the new American League champions is going the limit isn't earth shaking. The two teams dominated their respective leagues and made shambles of the pennant races.

OUTCLASSED FOES

But what is unexpected is the way they have manhandled each other in the series Truthfully, in the six games to date the loser has been outclassed five times.

Only Monday's 5-3 win for the Tigers can be termed a good game, the kind expected each time between two clubs with the 1968 records of the Cardinals and Detroiters.

★ ★ ★

Moreover, after Sunday's 10-1 romp by the Redbirds at Tiger Stadium there was no doubt that the National League titlists would have any trouble wrapping up their ninth world's championship in 12 series.

★ ★ ★

But here come the Tigers. A dramatic come-from-behind victory Monday has been coupled with yesterday's shattering conquest before 54,692 shocked St. Louis fans.

★ ★ ★

So, the wearer of the crown will now be decided this afternoon when the two-game winners for both combatants, Mickey Lolich of the Bengals and Bob Gibson of the Cardinals, tangle for the first time in the series.

★ ★ ★

The momentum is definitely with the Detroiters; but the usually decisive pitching advantage lies with the St. Louis club. Gibson goes with three-days rest, Lolich with only two.

★ ★ ★

But back to Wednesday. Never has there been anything like it in Tiger series' history. The 13-1 triumph is the biggest in the team's history, and avenges an 11-0 shellacking it took from St. Louis in the 1934 series windup at Detroit.

★ ★ ★

After a scoreless first inning, the Tigers finally broke through for two runs in the second — the first markers they tallied for ace pitcher Denny McLain in nine innings of series play with him on the hill.

WHIPPING IT IN — Denny McLain, the Tigers' 31-game winner this season, gained his first World Series victory by downing the Cards yesterday, 13-1. Denny allowed nine scattered hits.

Tigers' Pitcher Restores Grasp on Big Contract

ST. LOUIS — Although Denny McLain wasn't concerned that his earlier poor showings in the world series would cost him any money during the off-season when he plans to tour, Wednesday's crucial victory might have restored his grasp on the $100,000 Tiger contract he wants for 1969.

After failing to last nine innings and suffering two losses in his first two starts against the St. Louis Cardinals, McLain may have felt the lucrative pact he desires slipping through his fingers.

★ ★ ★

But "Dandy" Denny — thanks to a cortisone shot Monday in his ailing right shoulder — made a remarkable recovery to give the desperate Tigers a 3-3 stand-off with the Redbirds and force a final, decisive seventh game today.

McLain, who admits he is "scared to death of needles" and used his quote of X ray treatments before agreeing to the pain-relieving cortisone shot, came within one out of pitching the most lopsided shutout victory in series history.

FOILED BID FOILED

"He hit a mistake, a fast ball and out over the plate," he reported when asked about Julian Javier's two-out single in the ninth inning that ended his bid for shutout win.

In hurling yesterday's sixth game of the series Denny was starting with only two day's rest, something he did successfully three times during the season.

He told me his arm felt fine Tuesday after throwing for about 10 minutes with Hal Naragon at Tiger Stadium, manager Mayo Smith revealed:

"I didn't decide who would start until arriving at the ball park in the morning," he added.

If Wilson had been 100 per cent I'd have gone with him, Mayo continued, "I think Earl's the kind of pitcher who do well against this ball club, and he will be the No. 1 man in the bull pen today."

Series' Predictions Has Kearns in Lead

The Tigers in seven games! That's what the prediction was before the series started by Sports Editor, Bruno Kearns. The final outcome will be known later today.

Jere Craig, staffing the games in St. Louis, said it would be the Tigers in six.

As for picking each individual game, Kearns picked five out of seven, while Craig broke even in guessing three correct out of the six he predicted.

Partly Cloudy Forecast for Finale of Series

ST. LOUIS (AP) The weather is expected to be fair to partly cloudy for Thursday's seventh World Series game with the temperature in the low 60s.

The rain clouds that delayed the start of the sixth game Wednesday and interrupted play for 49 minutes in the eighth inning were due to give way to a clear, cool night.

Freehan Breaks Ice

Happy to Collect First Hit

ST. LOUIS — "I was very happy to get a hit," smiled handsome Bengal backstop Bill Freehan after the conquest of the Cardinals.

The big catcher didn't knock in four runs, as did both Jim Northrup and Al Kaline. But he did get a hit to end an 0-for-16 hitting slump through the first five Series games.

How did it feel? "Great!" said the burly catcher.

★ ★ ★

His locker had letters and telegrams taped all around it with advice from fans on how to come out of his batting slump.

"If I thought of everything the people told me I couldn't even swing," he said.

"One guy had me move six inches closer to the plate," Freehan added with a grin. "That would put me right in the middle of it. I think he was trying to tell me something."

"It sure gave him a big lift," said Manager Mayo Smith of Freehan's drive, a single in the second inning that drove in a run.

★ ★ ★

Despite all the joy by the Tigers after the game, attention quickly focused on today's seventh and deciding game against the Cardinals.

"Probably tomorrow (Thursday) it'll be a 1-0 ball game one way or another," said Freehan. "Up to now, we've either won big or they've won big."

"Outside of the fifth ball game everything's been so decisive," said Smith.

Denny McLain, Wednesday's winner, who received a shot of cortisone to relieve the pain in his aching right shoulder Monday, was not named to start until just prior to game time.

"I think he got better as he went along," said Freehan, "but I think his arm was still stiff."

"I was concerned about his velocity," he added. "His fast ball wasn't working at the beginning but it got better as he went along."

Bookies Like Cards

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) Las Vegas bookmakers made St. Louis a 17-10 favorite to win the seventh game of the World Series Thursday.

A bettor picking St. Louis and pitcher Bob Gibson must put up $17 to win $10. Backers of Detroit and pitcher Mickey Lolich must put $2 on the line to win $3.

Vikings' Pair Receive Honor

Cuozzo, Kapp Chosen as AP Stars

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Gary Cuozzo and Joe Kapp talked about team play Wednesday when informed they were named by The Associated Press as National Football League Offensive Players of the Week.

The Minnesota Vikings' quarterbacks spearheaded a 24-10 victory over the Detroit Lions Sunday. The win boosted the Vikings into sole possession of first place of the Central Division with a 3-1 record.

"These things honors are nice to get," Kapp said after being told of the award. "The only thing we're concerned about is winning the football game.

"In the second half, we had to have two touchdowns. We moved it down for them."

Cuozzo, who broke his left collarbone but remained in the game for 15 plays, said, "I only wish I was healthy.

"I'm glad I was able to contribute to the Vikings' win. We are really happy to be in first place."

Kapp was knocked dizzy in the first half by Detroit tacklers but returned in the second half to spark the Vikings to two fourth-quarter touchdowns.

Cuozzo's clavicle snapped at the start of a 79-yard TD drive in the second period.

Firebirds' QB Facing Tough Foe

CURRENT MFL STANDINGS	W	L
Dayton	8	0
Lackawanna	6	2
Flint	5	3
Pontiac	5	4
Hamtramck	3	5
Ypsilanti	2	7
Fort Wayne	0	9

The first starting assignment for Doug Holcomb, the new quarterback of the Pontiac Firebirds, won't be an easy task.

Holcomb, who entered the game with 12 minutes remaining against Dayton last week, throwing four passes for 85 yards and a touchdown, will be facing one of the league's best defenses Saturday night when the Lackawanna Lancers visit Wisner Stadium.

The team from Buffalo, N.Y. is the strongest challenger to Dayton's title bid.

The Lancers have a huge and stingy defensive line which has been tough on MFL foes.

The only two defeats for Lackawanna have been a last minute 35-28 loss to Dayton and a 31-21 setback on Flint's Astroturf when the Wildcats scored three touchdowns in the final four minutes.

Last week, Lackawanna whipped Ypsilanti 38-6 for the second time this season.

Big gun in the defensive line for Lackawanna is Carmen San Marco a pro prospect who has been a taxi squad member of the New York Jets of the AFL.

San Marco, stands 6-4 and goes 270 pounds at the defensive tackle position.

Offensively, the Lancers have one of the best runners in the MFL in Norman Maxwell a 200-pounder from Tennessee A & I.

When the Firebirds lost a 6-0 decision to the Lancers in Buffalo earlier in the season, it was Maxwell who did the bulk of the running.

* * *

Lackawanna also has a kicker who is a redshirt of the Cleveland Browns' camp, Wolfgang Flagelmaker, a soccer stylist who booms the kickoffs into the end zone and who also can be accurate on field goals.

Out of the title race, the Firebirds can play the role of spoiler as the Lancers must win in Pontiac or find themselves out of the race.

* * *

Next week, Pontiac has an open date. Saturday night Oct. 26, the Firebirds travel to Wyandotte to meet the Ypsilanti Vikings in a charity game there for the Wyandotte hospital.

Tickets for that game are available at Griff's and Osmun's downtown as are the tickets for the final two home games. Saturday with Lackawanna and Nov. 2 with Fort Wayne.

Harvest Is Good Season for Vegetable Eaters

By JANET ODELL
Food Editor, The Pontiac Press

Despite the dislike for vegetables exhibited by many children and a number of husbands, there are people who live almost exclusively on vegetables. Honest.

In this harvest season, there are so many delicious fresh vegetables that it's a shame not to enjoy them. Perhaps one of the following recipes will make a convert out of someone.

★ ★ ★

Cabbage is a rather plebian vegetable. It would be interesting to know how many tons of cabbage go into cole slaw each day.

If you like this salad, but would welcome a change in its composition, try the following recipe.

HARVEST CABBAGE SLAW

4 cups shredded green cabbage
1 large unpeeled red apple, diced (about 2 cups)
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup cubed sharp natural Cheddar cheese
½ cup mayonnaise
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
2 teaspoons prepared mustard

Combine cabbage, apple and salt. Mix well. Toss in cheese cubes. Mix together mayonnaise, Tabasco and mustard; combine with cabbage mixture. Chill about 1 hour to blend flavors. Serve on crisp greens if desired. Yield: About 6 servings or 5 cups.

★ ★ ★

Wedges of fresh fall cabbage cooked briefly are delicious served with cheese sauce. A few drops of Tabasco add zest to the sauce.

CABBAGE WEDGES WITH CHEESE SAUCE

4 slices bacon
⅓ cup margarine
¼ cup flour
¾ teaspoon salt
2 cups milk
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
1 cup (4 ounces) shredded sharp natural Cheddar cheese

Fry bacon until crisp; remove from pan, drain on absorbent toweling, then crumble. Discard fat from skillet or refrigerate for later use.

Melt margarine; stir in flour and salt. Gradually stir in milk and Tabasco. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until smooth and thick. Add cheese and heat until melted. Keep warm while preparing cabbage.

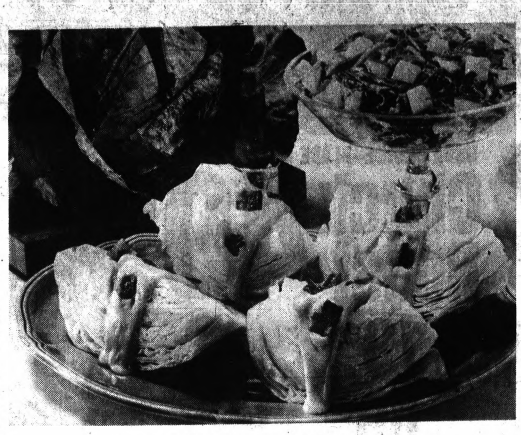
COOK FAST

Core and cut cabbage into 4 or 6 wedges. Cook in a small amount of boiling salted water with 3 or 4 drops of Tabasco until tender, about 10 to 12 minutes.

Place drained wedges in bowl or on platter. Cover with cheese sauce and sprinkle with crumbled bacon. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

★ ★ ★

Cauliflower is another vegetable that can be excellent if prepared properly. Don't overcook is the first rule.



CABBAGE WEDGES WITH CHEESE SAUCE

Below are recipes for serving it hot with a curry sauce or cold in place of salad.

CAULIFLOWER WITH TOMATO-CURRY SAUCE

2 tablespoons diced fresh onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 to 2½ teaspoons curry powder
2 tablespoons flour
2 cups diced tomatoes
3 tablespoons water
¾ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
1/16 teaspoon garlic powder
1 medium (3 pounds) whole head cauliflower, cooked

Saute onions in butter or margarine until they are limp and transparent. Blend in curry powder. Cook ½ minute, stirring constantly. Stir in flour. Add diced tomatoes and water. Cook until tomatoes have softened and the mixture is of medium thickness. Add seasonings. Mix well and pour over a head of cooked cauliflower. Yield: 6 servings.

FRESH CAULIFLOWER VINAIGRETTE

1 medium (3 pound) head fresh cauliflower
-inch boiling water in saucepan
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup cider vinegar
3 tablespoons salad oil
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon paprika
1/16 teaspoon ground white pepper
1 teaspoon finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons finely chopped parsley

Wash cauliflower and break into flowerets. Place in a saucepan with 1-inch boiling water and the 1 teaspoon salt. Bring to boiling point and cook, uncovered, 5 minutes. Cover and cook 10 minutes or until cauliflower is only crisp-tender. Drain.

Combine vinegar, salad oil, salt, paprika, white pepper, onion and parsley. Pour over drained cauliflower. Chill and serve in place of salad. Yield: 6 servings.

Acorn squash is good baked all by itself, but even better when you fill the cavity with meat balls. Both are glazed with a pineapple-mustard mixture.

SQUASH AND MEATBALL BAKE

½ pound ground beef or 1½ cups ground cooked ham
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs
½ cup crushed pineapple
1 teaspoon salt
1 medium-size acorn squash
½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 tablespoons prepared yellow mustard
¼ teaspoon nutmeg, optional

Combine meat, egg, bread crumbs, ¼ cup of the pineapple, and salt; mix together lightly with a fork. Shape meat mixture into twelve balls.

Remove ends from squash. Cut squash into four slices, crosswise; remove seeds. Arrange slices in shallow baking pan; place three meat balls in the center of each slice.

★ ★ ★

Combine remaining ¼ cup pineapple, brown sugar, mustard, and nutmeg; stir until well blended. Brush pineapple mixture over meat balls and squash.

Bake in 350 degree oven 45 minutes, or until squash is tender. Baste occasionally with juices in baking pan. Yield: 4 servings.

SQUASH AND MEAT BALL BAKE

New Appetizer Eaten on Picks

Aloha Bites are attractive hot appetizers. Reserving pineapple, drain syrup from 1 can (13¼ ounces) pineapple chunks into saucepan or skillet. Stir in 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce, 3 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons brown sugar and 6 whole cloves.

Cut 1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat into ½-inch cubes; add along with reserved pineapple chunks to sauce. Simmer 5 minutes more.

To serve, spear chunks of pineapple and meat on cocktail picks. Makes about 8 appetizer servings (about 48 luncheon meat cubes and 24 pineapple chunks).

Bake gingerbread in the waffle iron. Top with applesauce and serve immediately.

Chocolate Peanut Bars Never Go Near Oven

Fans of the high protein peanut will have their day at the races with this recipe.

Peanut butter, pre-sweetened breakfast cereal, chocolate bits, and salted peanuts join forces in the following unbaked bar cooky, which is certain to earn straight A's with scholars from the kindergarten crowd through the advanced algebra class.

TOFFEE SQUARES
Cooky Mixture

½ cup butter
½ cup peanut butter
1 pound marshmallows
1 tablespoon milk
4 cups pre-sweetened puffed oat and wheat cereal

Combine butter, peanut butter, marshmallows, and milk in a heavy Dutch oven. Place over low heat and stir constantly until all ingredients are melted and smooth. Add cereal and stir until cereal pieces are coated with peanut butter mixture.

Remove from heat and turn mixture into two greased pans, each 11¾ x 7½ x 1¾ inches. Press into even layers.

Cooky Topping

2 six-ounce packages (2 cups) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 tablespoon shortening (not butter, margarine, or oils)
½ cup salted peanuts, chopped
¾ cup pre-sweetened puffed oats and wheat cereal

Melt chocolate bits and shortening in top of double boiler. Spread half of chocolate over each pan of cookies and sprinkle tops with chopped peanuts and cereal. Cool. Cut into bars or squares. Yield: About 96 squares.

Center of Slaw Is Plain Tuna

A good salad for lunch: chill a can of tuna (7 ounce size) and drain off the oil: turn out tuna in the center of a medium-size serving plate.

Surround the tuna with shredded green cabbage that has been mixed with olive oil, white wine vinegar, salt, white pepper and a little prepared mustard. Top tuna and slaw with radish roses and ripe olives.

Dried Eggs Are Inspected

If you're a cautious reader of labels at the grocery store, you are probably aware that more and more convenience foods contain dried egg products.

An array of products from noodles to dried drink mixes are now found on grocers' shelves. And in some areas, consumer-size packages of dried eggs are available.

★ ★ ★

To assure users of wholesome egg products, the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service offers an inspection program which is voluntary and on a fee-for-service basis.

Before a plant is approved by USDA, it must meet strict requirements for facilities, equipment and operating procedures. In the Midwest, over 15 plants that handle dried eggs are under Federal inspection.

From the selection of the shell eggs for breaking through the final products, an inspector is on the scene continuously to check the procedures. Sanitary conditions must be optimum throughout the plant.

★ ★ ★

Last year, 72 per cent of the dried eggs in the United States were processed under the supervision of a USDA licensed inspector.

Fancy Folk-and-Plate Course

This fork-and-fancy-plate appetizer would make an exotic beginning for a party dinner. You spread a robust mixture of chutney and creamy cottage cheese over thick crosscuts of western iceberg lettuce, top with cooling slices of fresh Bartlett pears and garnish with chutney and salted peanuts.

Crosscuts or "rafts" of western iceberg lettuce make ideal carriers for any number of appetizers and salads. Whether you 'top them with fruit, marinated vegetables, cheese mixtures or seafood, you'll enjoy the crisp texture and succulence of the iceberg lettuce.

When you taste this particular concoction, we think you'll agree that "Joe" must have been a rather high-living trader.

Appetizer a la Trader Joe

1 head western iceberg lettuce
½ cup homogenized creamed cottage cheese or dairy sour cream
⅓ cup chutney
1 fresh Bartlett pear
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¼ cup salted peanuts

Core, rinse and drain lettuce; place in disposable plastic bag and chill well. Mix cottage cheese with ¼ cup of the chutney.

Pare, halve and core pear; cut lengthwise into 12 slices and coat with lemon juice to prevent browning.

Cut lettuce head crosswise to get three 1-inch thick slices, then cut each slice into halves. Spread with cheese-chutney mixture and place 2 pear slices on top of each. Dollop with remaining chutney and sprinkle with peanuts. Makes 6 servings.

Olive and Ham

A quick ham and olive dip . . . combine a 3 oz. can of deviled ham with 1 cup sour cream, ¼ cup chopped olives, ½ teaspoon of horseradish and a dash of onion salt. Mix until well blended.

Purex Merges With State Firm

Menominee Company Starts Thinking Big

MENOINEE (AP)—Financially bolstered by its merger into the Purex Corp., the Michigan-grown, helicopter-manufacturing R. J. Enstrom Corp., is stepping up production and dreaming of expansion.

Enstrom stockholders earlier this month approved a swap of their stock for that of Purex, a major national producer of soaps and bleaches and owner of aircraft sales, service, conversion and overhaul subsidiaries on both the East and West coasts.

★ ★ ★

Purex stock currently is quoted at approximately $30 a share on the New York Stock Exchange. Enstrom stockholders are slated eventually to receive three-tenths of a Purex share for each one they own in the helicopter company.

Jack Christensen of Menominee, who has headed Enstrom as president since its founding in 1960, views the merger as giving the Michigan company "the financial strength and research and development ability which we have lacked."

TURBINE TESTING

Since directors of the two firms agreed on merger last December, Purex has lent Enstrom $900,000 on a second note basis and Enstrom now is well along in testing a turbine-driven helicopter it hopes to have in production next summer.

Next month Enstrom's production is slated to go from three a month to four a month, and the mid-1969 target is eight a month.

Christensen reports a backlog of 25 orders, which he expects the Purex merger to firm up.

Enstrom helicopters sell for $35,950 each, which Christensen says is about $10,000 less than a machine of comparable size and ability can be bought elsewhere. They are designed to carry two or three persons.

FIRST DELIVERY

Enstrom marks its first delivery in September of 1966 at a price of $27,400 to Lockheed Aircraft Corp., which uses the helicopter as a radar test vehicle for its electronics division in Plainfield, N.J.

The Enstrom had its conception as well as birth in Michigan. It incorporates a simplified rotor mounting and drive system invented by Rudy Enstrom, a one-time Crystal Falls iron miner.

★ ★ ★

It was from a home-made, hand-built helicopter Rudy constructed that the corporation grew. Christensen, a salesman for a family-owned wholesale hardware firm, interested aviation experts in Enstrom's unique aircraft.

Despite an economic squeeze which Menominee and the rest of Michigan's Upper Peninsula were undergoing at the time, sufficient shares were sold at $12 each to put Enstrom and Christensen in business.

Apollo 7 to Reheat Priority Argument

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Whether successful or not, tomorrow's scheduled orbiting of a three-man spacecraft will reheat that old argument of spending priorities.

The question asked is whether the country can afford to spend as it has for space exploration.

Before the Apollo program is completed in 1971, by which time it is hoped that two Americans will have set foot on the moon, an estimated $24 billion will have been spent, or about $285 for every working man and woman.

CUNNIFF

Those who consider such spending wasteful argue that the earthly problems of urban chaos, pollution of the atmosphere and the financial plight of colleges are among projects more worthy of financial attention.

They can come up with a convincing argument by showing, for example, that the $44 billion already spent in space exploration could have provided better housing and food for millions, and might even have helped avert racial riots.

Supporters of heavy spending for space exploration argue that prestige, scientific and technological advance and military security demand that unceasing efforts be expended. Otherwise, they say, the United States might slide toward mediocrity.

The "general welfare and security of the United States require that adequate provision be made for aeronautical and space activities," is the way Congress phrased it in the National Aeronautics and Space Act of 1958.

To place everyone in "for" or "against" categories is to oversimplify the positions. Most Americans perhaps fall into both categories, supporting exploration but asking for practical achievements. They seek priorities.

These practical achievements have been numerous, especially in weather analysis, communiations, metallurgy and electronics. Although the value of any of these achievements is difficult to measure in dollars, human beings do benefit to one degree or another.

Sports fans recently saw televised live from Sweden a boxing match between Jimmy Ellis and Floyd Patterson, which was made possible by a satellite in the sky, a product of the space program. An advance? Millions counted it so.

Satellites now relay photographs of the world's meteorologists for the first time to obtain an over-all view of disturbances. Potentially damaging hurricanes have been spotted by satellites.

Heat-resistant metals, which were developed for space capsules, are expected within the next decade to permit travelers to fly in supersonic aricraft. Admittedly, a great many people question that this is an advance.

The need to miniturize instruments in space vehicles has helped also in the developmnet of a wide number of products in other industries. Faster and smaller electronic computers, which have the potential for vast improvements in the human condition, have resulted from space technology.

Advances in aerial photography have come from space studies. The making of better maps is one result. The discovery of minerals and water and other underground resources of enemy installations.

★ ★ ★

All these "advances" can be questioned and most have. But one argument against large space expenditures often is overlooked. It is that hundreds of thousands of students, professors and workers have been drawn from other useful pursuits.

The entire question is one that might never be settled either way, for the proposers and opposers can support their point of view with a long list of documentation.

★ ★ ★

In recent years, however, the American people seem to be taking a more practical approach to space exploration. They have withdrawn the blank check and, as a result space spending this year will be $1 million less than the $7.7 billion spent in the peak year of 1966.

G&W to Dump Stocks in Firm

DETROIT (AP) — Gulf and Western Industries Inc. probably will dump about $90.5 million worth of stock it holds in Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co., G&W president David N. Judelson hinted Wednesday.

Answering a question before the Financial Analysts Society of Detroit, Judelson said it is not G&W's policy to press ahead with investments in companies "where the management doesn't welcome our entrance."

★ ★ ★

Judelson said the fate of G&W's 3.37 million shares of Allis Chalmers — about one third of outstanding shares— might be similar to what happened to its Armour & Co. holdings.

G&W last month completed the sale of 750,000 shares of Armour stock to General Host. G&W had announced plans to acquire Armour, but the plans were scrapped when the Justice Department said it was investigating possible antitrust violations.

★ ★ ★

Judelson also said the firm, which got its start as a small Grand Rapids firm, now ranks among the top 60 industrial corporations in the United States in sales.

Earnings for the fiscal year ended last July 31 were $69.8 million, 18 per cent higher than the previous year, Judelson said. Sales climbed $1.3 billion from $1.2 billion, he added.

The firm was started 11 years ago as a supplier to the auto industry, Michigan Bumper Co.
