Daniel Murphy Appointed Register of Deeds

Replaces Late Orrin McQuaid in County Post

Announcement Follows Two-Day Deliberation by Three Officials

Daniel T. Murphy Jr., 32, of 1023 Berwick Blvd., was named this morning as Oakland County's new Register of Deeds.

Murphy, a former deputy clerk under Lynn D. Allen, one of three officials who made the appointment, will replace the late Orrin McQuaid, who died suddenly May 15 of a heart attack.

The appointment was made by Allen, Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore and Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem after two days of deliberation.

In a statement issued today, the three officials said they are "unanimously convinced" that Murphy "presents the combination of energy, personality, experience and administrative ability necessary for the continuance of the excellent administration of the Register of Deeds office."

Murphy, who said he will assume his new post "as soon as possible," pledged to "devote full time and energy" to the office and "complete cooperation with all other county offices."

"Any person with a problem will be entitled to personal attention by myself," he added.

WILL SEEK RE-ELECTION

Murphy will hold the appointive position until January, and has said he will seek re-election for a two-year term in November if he wins nomination in the August primary. The post pays $9,750 annually.

Picked from a slate of 21 aspirants, Murphy is presently employed as customer relations executive and salesman with a local contractor. He is married and the father of four children.

In his three-year tour of duty with the U.S. Army in World War II, Murphy served in China, Burma, India, Africa and Egypt. Active in Amvets affairs, he is past commander of the local Jimmy Dey post.

Murphy also serves as a Civil Defense representative, a district committee member of the Pontiac Council of Boy Scouts, a member of the Greater Pontiac Youth Advisory Council and a member of the Kiwanis Club of West Pontiac.

He also belongs to the YMCA and the Oakland County Historical Society.

His wife, Carolyn, was chairman of the Oakland County Republican Committee from 1950-1952.

An Oakland County resident for 28 years, Murphy attended liberal arts and law school classes at Wayne University for five years following his discharge from the army.

Hare Discloses Truck Cheating

Firms Strip Carriers on Applying for Tags; One Company Caught

LANSING (AP)—Secretary of State James M. Hare said today the state has recovered $22,371 in license fees owed to the state by a trucking company which incorrectly reported the weight of its trucks.

Hare identified the firm as the Hess Cartage Co., which operates out of Melvindale, Port Huron, Saginaw and Bay City.

* * *

He said investigators from his office reweighed 126 tractors and 424 trailers owned by the company and found that 108 tractors and 247 trailers had been incorrectly reported, with the company claiming weights from 460 to 7,420 pounds under the actual weights found by the checkers.

Hare said his office is rechecking about 20 companies on which it has received complaints of cheating on license fees. Most of the complaints came from competitors, he said.

In the case of the Hess firm, the recovery was made in 1956 license fees only. But Hare said his office is checking to see whether recoveries can be made for previous years.

The truck license fee is based on the weight of the truck, starting at 70 cents per hundred pounds for trucks under 2,500 pounds and increasing to $2.25 per hundred for trucks weighing more than 15,000 pounds.

* * *

Hare said he has found some companies cheat by stripping down the chassis on their trucks before reporting at a weight station for the initial weighing. Afterwards, he said, they put a lot of additional weight on the chassis.

Lehman Wants GI Housing Act Extended to '60

New York Senator Says Continuation Will Allay Drop in Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A three-year extension of the GI home loan program was proposed to the Senate today as an amendment to the multibillion-dollar omnibus housing bill.

Sen. Lehman (D-NY) said he planned to sponsor the extension along with Senators Hill (D-Ala) and Sparkman (D-Ala).

He made the surprise announcement as the Senate prepared to take up the housing bill, which would increase Federal Housing Administration loan insurance authority, continue public housing development and provide special low-cost housing for elderly persons.

The GI loan program now is scheduled to expire for most veterans on July 25, 1957, but its extension has been urged by home builder and real estate groups and by veterans organizations. They have contended action must be taken this year to prevent a big slowdown in home building.

Lehman said his proposed amendment would apply to both the loan guarantee and the direct loan programs operated by the Veterans Administration.

As of the end of 1955, the VA estimated it had underwritten 4,260,000 GI home loans with a total principal of about 33 billion dollars. About one in every five loans had been paid off in full, it said.

The principal fight is expected to be made over public housing. The committee recommended authorization for about 135,000 new units of public housing each year. President Eisenhower asked a program limited to 35,000 units a year for two years.

Architect Presents View of Hospital Additions

THE NEW AND OLD—Pictured here is the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital $6 million addition surrounding the present local hospital. The present building is shown in the shaded portion inside the dark lines. A banquet, attended by 160 persons, was held last night to "kick-off" the fund-raising campaign. The large six-floor wing, located to the south of the present hospital, is expected to add 200 beds to the present capacity of 310. Construction will begin in October according to Adolph H. Roessling, architect for the project. The funds will be raised by public subscription.

Pontiac Trucker Killed in Crash

Sheriff's Deputies Think James W. Rochester Fell Asleep

A Pontiac truck driver, 26, died of injuries early this morning when his one and one-half ton truck left the highway and smashed into a cement culvert seven miles west of Cassopolis in Cass County.

Cass County Sheriff's Dept. said apparently James W. Rochester, 258 Elm St. had fallen asleep at the wheel.

The truck was headed west on M60, deputies said, when it careened 110 feet through a sign and two mailboxes, smashed through the culvert 30 feet further on and finally halted half-way up a 12-foot embankment.

A coroner's report showed Rochester died of a broken neck and fractured skull. The truck did not turn over. His body was taken to the Kiger Funeral Home in Niles.

Carp Take Over as Lake Floods Area Golf Course

Take along a fishing rod next time you play golf at the municipal course on W. South Blvd.

Floods there may spoil your low score but as compensation you may take home a 'catch' of carp.

Crystal Lake has inundated the fairway between the sixth and seventh greens, where several good-sized carp have been caught during the past two weeks.

Yesterday afternoon an archer hit his catch—nearly 18 inches long—with a nicely-aimed arrow. They say that a skilled golfer can avoid the flood by a good shot with a No. 2 wood.

Those who hook their shots into the water can always wade in, either in hope of finding the ball or of batting a stray carp on the head in anger.

Mercury to Hover Around 40 Tonight

The U. S. Weather Bureau's forecast for tonight is fair with a low of near 40 degrees.

Tomorrow will be warmer with increasing cloudiness. The high will be 66-70.

In downtown Pontiac, the lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. was 36 degrees. The thermometer registered 56 deegrees at 2 p.m.

There was generally light frost in the Pontiac area last night when the mercury dropped to 29 degrees.

For the 'Golden Months'

Extra money is a welcome item anytime—but particularly, it seems, in the summer months with their vacation trips and emphasis on having fun in the outdoors.

POT-O-GOLD is tailor-made to give readers of The Pontiac Press a chance to win the extra cash to finance those trips or buy that needed sports equipment.

Your chance is a fascinating word game which starts Monday. It will pay up to $125 each week to whoever sends us the correct solutions. It's fun—and it can mean a POT-O-GOLD to you.

Open Fund-Raising Drive for St. Joseph's Addition

Announcement of a $98,000 check from the Ford Foundation last night launched a $6 million fund raising campaign for the new St. Joseph Mercy Hospital addition.

Some 160 medical, industrial, and businessmen from the Pontiac area heard Sister Mary William, hospital administrator, "kick-off" the drive with the announcement declaring it the "first large contribution of the 1956 campaign."

The occasion was the "kick-off" banquet held in the hospital's Nurses' Home Auditorium.

Sitting in the corner of the hall was a large illuminated color sketch of the wing which is expected to add 200 beds to the hospital's present capacity of 310.

SISTER MARY WILLIAM

Clarence E. Manion, former Notre Dame University Law School dean spoke to the group on the "dangers of unlimited government."

"It isn't a solicitation you are making here — you are resisting the fires of government," Manion said.

"If there isn't a bed for that person your President of Staff (Dr. John M. Markley) was speaking of, the government will step in and build one if you don't."

The check from the Ford Foundation is half of a $196,000 grant made to the hospital last December. It was part of a $200 million program to 3,500 voluntary hospitals in the country.

Speaking briefly before the guests, Sister Mary William said:

Mendes-France Quits Mollet

Resigns Over Algerian Policy; Asks Socialists to Stay in Cabinet

PARIS (INS) — Pierre Mendes-France was back in his old role today as the lone wolf of French politics.

The dynamic former premier resigned yesterday as Minister of State in Guy Mollet's cabinet in protest against the government's Algerian policy.

In resigning, Mendes-France made it clear his action was a personal one to dramatize his proposals for ending the 18-month old rebellion in North Africa.

He said the present government was the best one France could expect "under present political conditions" and he asked his 13 fellow Radical Socialist ministers to remain in the cabinet.

His resignation and the fact that there appears to be little hope he can get his Algerian proposals adopted in the near future appears to have returned Mendes-France to the political isolation he endured for several years before becoming premier in 1954.

Students in Crash Had Been at Party

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Washtenaw County sheriff said today three University of Michigan students killed in an auto crash last Friday had attended a fraternity cocktail party shortly before the accident.

Sheriff Erwin Klager reported on his investigation of the accident which also killed a Detroit couple. The two cars collided head-on on U. S. 12 eight miles from Ann Arbor.

A witness, Mrs. Dorothy Anton of Detroit, said the students' car had been weaving in front of her shortly before the crash. She said it ran off the road several times and estimated its speed at up to 85 miles an hour.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. D. Howard Saltzer of Detroit and students Keith Ryan, 21, of Toledo, the driver; William B. McKean Jr., 23, Parris Island, S. C., and Nancy Robson, 19, Pompano, Fla.

A fourth student, Thomas Bernaky, 24, East Cleveland, Ohio, was critically injured but reported "showing some improvement" at University Hospital.

Visit to U.S.S.R. by Chiefs of Staff May Materialize

New York Daily News Reports Invitation for Inspecting Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — A White House spokesman said today he "wouldn't be surprised" if the Joint Chiefs of Staff should pay a visit to the Soviet Union if the Russians invited them.

Acting press secretary Murray Snyder said, however, no invitation has yet been received.

Snyder commented on a report in a copyright story published in the New York Daily News that Russia has sent word it would "welcome a visit" by the entire U. S. Joint Chiefs of Staff for an inspection of the Soviet armed forces.

FROM UNITED NATIONS

The Daily News story, under the byline of Peter Wallenberg, said the information came from United Nations sources.

Presumably the Soviets would expect a similar invitation from the United States for their own military leaders.

Snyder said at first, when asked about the report: "There has been no invitation."

Later, however, after making some checks with the government officials, he said that since the Geneva conference "there have been informal discussions about high officials of our government visiting Russia."

Snyder declined to say which officials are involved in the talks. But when asked if the Joint Chiefs would accept an invitation to visit the Soviet Union he replied:

"I wouldn't be surprised."

Snyder said he did not know whether such a visit now is under consideration.

An inquiry at the Russian Embassy brought a response that Marshal Sokolovsky, Soviet army chief of staff, has invited Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, to send a high-level delegation of two or three officers to the celebration of Aviation Day in Russia on June 24th.

This was reported by the office of Col. Philip Bachinsky, air attache of the embassy.

Heads for Atomic Age

WASHINGTON (INS) — Senate investigators were told today that the two and one-half million-man Soviet army has been completely re-equipped for atomic age warfare.

The statement was made in a paper sent the Senate Military Appropriations subcommittee by Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, chief of the U. S. Army's research and development program.

Gavin said that the U. S. Army now foresees the "time not far distant" when it will "change tremendously in character."

Rose Obtains License

NEW YORK (AP) — Broadway showman Billy Rose and actress Joyce Matthews obtained a marriage license yesterday. Rose, 56, and Miss Matthews, 36, did not say when they planned to wed. Recently, however, Rose said they would be married the first week in June.

Kensington Park's 'Queen' on Shakedown

"QUEEN" AT SEA—A boatload of officials and newsmen were aboard yesterday as the Kensington Metropolitan Park's "Island Queen" made her debut on Kent Lake. The diesel-powered replica of a Mississippi stern-wheeler will be plying the lakes on weekends and Memorial Day until June 11, after which a daily schedule will be followed.

Mississippi Stern-Wheeler Launched on Kent Lake

A 60-foot replica of a Mississippi stern-wheeler churned around Kent Lake in Kensington Metropolitan Park yesterday, and the only thing missing was smoke from the dummy stacks.

Although the "Island Queen" is powered by a diesel unit, the remainder of the picture looks authentic, although scaled down.

The usual cargo of cotton bales and mustache-tugging gamblers will be missing this summer, however.

The 50-minute voyages in the island-studded lake will be with cargoes of sight-seers, and those seeking a cooling breeze.

Beginning June 11 the Island Queen will make hourly cruises over the lake, from noon to 6 p. m. Before 12 and after 7 p. m. she will be available for special trips, park officials said.

Until then, cruises will be made on Saturdays, Sundays and Memorial Day.

Manning the "Queen" will be a crew of two, with Capt. Robert Watts of Milford at the wheel.

When fully loaded with 55 passengers, the craft draws 11 inches of water. The cruising speed is five to seven miles per hour.

Home port will be the park's boat launching dock near the main entrance from Grand River, near New Hudson.

Blind Columnist Leaves Hospital

Riesel Declares He'll Be Back at His Office No Later Than Monday

NEW YORK (AP) — Blinded labor columnist Victor Riesel is out of the hospital and says he expects to be back at his desk no later than Monday.

Riesel is continuing his nationally syndicated column with the aid of staff assistants.

The writer, who was blinded by an unidentified acid thrower April 5, walked out of a branch of St. Clare's Hospital yesterday after being discharged as a patient.

His wife Evelyn offered him an arm. But he shook it off and walked down the eight steps at the hospital entrance by himself. His eyes were covered with bandage patches.

An aide told newsmen that Riesel "has categorically refused a Seeing-Eye dog."

Police have assigned a 24-hour guard to Riesel.

* * *

A young man threw sulphuric acid into Riesel's face on a mid-Manhattan street in the early morning dark. Riesel has said the attack was motivated by his attacks on racketeers in the labor movement.

Army Praises the Nike; Tells of a Better Weapon

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N.M. (AP)—Top Army officers today are mulling over the results of a near-perfect series of tests made during the last two days with the Nike guided missile.

The tests were made in southern New Mexico before more than 100 newsmen.

The Nike yesterday scored hits on three of the four tiny, speeding radio plane drones which zipped high over the target area. It exploded in close proximity to the fourth.

The first public demonstration of the Nike began Tuesday. One of yesterday's hits was scored on the 12-foot-long drone plane at an altitude of 16,000 feet and more than 23 miles from the Nike launching site. The day before a drone had been knocked down while speeding by at 500 miles an hour.

WHITE SANDS PROVING GROUND, N. M. (AP)—The Army says it has a vastly improved weapon, still under security wraps, for use against enemy planes in event of attack.

The Army also disclosed there is a unit at this southern New Mexico rocket center trained to wed atomic warheads to existing surface-to-surface rockets.

Maj. Gen. Robert J. Wood, commanding general of Ft. Bliss at nearby El Paso, Tex., where rocket crews are trained, told newsmen that development is continuing on the Nike "B" — a tremendously improved version of the slender surface-to-air rocket now figuring in a controversy over the nation's guided missile program.

Teenager Kills Chum in Game

Massachusetts Lad, 14, Leads Officials to Spot Where He Buried Body

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (INS) — Gloucester police today disclosed that a 14-year-old terror-stricken schoolboy shot and killed his chum while they were playing "cops and robbers" and in panic buried the body.

He stayed mute for 48 hours while the victim's family and police hunted in vain for the missing boy.

Then he led them to where the body had been hidden in a lonely section off the old Rockport Road.

The victim was Walter Henry Meuse III, 13, son of a night line worker for the Essex County Electric Co. in Gloucester.

Police Capt. John J. Coyle identified the youth who allegedly killed him as Henry Merchant, 14, son of Orvin Merchant, an automobile mechanic who twice was an unsuccessful candidate for the Gloucester city council.

Young Meuse was killed in an isolated section of a wooded area of Cape Ann known as "Dogtown Common" about 11:30 Monday night, but it was not until 4 a.m. today that Merchant finally admitted his connection with the case, Capt. Coyle told newsmen.

During that time, Meuse's father and other relatives, together with Gloucester police, hunted high and low for the missing Walter. The father reported him missing at 11 o'clock Monday night, two hours after he left home to visit his long-time chum.

Both were in the seventh grade at Central Grammar School.

Reserve Act Topic at Meeting Tonight

The Pontiac High School Auditorium will be the scene of a discussion of the Federal Reserve Act of 1955 and its effect on area youths, tonight at 8.

Maj. Gen. Gordon A. MacDonald, commanding officer of the 46th Infantry Division, Michigan National Guard, will be the featured speaker on the program.

Members of various other reserve units in this sector will attend the meeting and give an explanation of their own function in the national defense plan.

An informal question and answer period will be conducted following the completion of talks on the act. Qualified personnel from the different units will be stationed throughout the auditorium to give specific details.

Pontiac Deaths

Randall George Regal

Graveside service was held at 10 o'clock this morning in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery for Randall George Regal, 20 month old son of George and Elsie Carlson Regal of 774 Stirling St. Prayer was given by Dr. Tom Malone of the Emmanuel Baptist Church.

Randall was born here Sept. 25, 1954 and died Tuesday in the Farmington Children's Hospital.

Surviving besides his mother and father are two brothers and three sisters, Duane Regal of Milan, Ill.; Mrs. Delores Tripp of Pontiac; Ray, Marlyss and Terri-Lyn, all at home.

Margaret Ann Warden

Word has been received of the death yesterday of Margaret Ann Warden, 20 month old daughter of Carl and Briguite Warden of 2512¼ Montilke Ave., Montrose, Calif.

She is survived by her parents, former residents of Dwight St., Pontiac, grandparents in Germany and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert J. Warden, of LaCrescenta, Calif., former Pontiac residents.

A graveside service will be held at Forest Lawn Cemetery.

British railways will train 300 engineering apprentices annually at the newly-opened school in the locomotive works at Crewe, England.

To Open Display of Student Work at Art Academy

The annual exhibition of student work at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Galleries will be opened to the public Saturday, it was announced yesterday by Wallace Mitchell, galleries head. A preview is planned for Friday evening.

The student exhibition will be on the upper floor of the galleries and include work from every department at the Academy of Art. It was designed by Theodore Luderowski, head of the design department.

The variety of work on display will include paintings, sculpture, weaving, ceramics, metalsmithing, architectural models, renderings, and several articles of furniture. A model living room and terrace has been constructed to show some of the furniture as it would look in a house.

Launch Fund Drive for Hospital Addition

"Generous as the Ford donation is, it does not meet our total needs."

She said yesterday approximately $221,000 (including the total Ford grant) had been received towards the goal of $6 million needed to construct the wing.

TO TAKE BIDS IN AUGUST

According to Adolph H. Roessling, architect for the project, bids will be taken in August for construction of the new structure to house the boilers and laundry facilities. "This is the first step, as these facilities are very badly needed to keep the present hospital running."

He added construction on the main part of the six-floor addition and adjoining sections will begin in October. Completion is expected in 2½ years after construction begins.

"Definite plans are being made for construction to proceed as the money comes in," Sister Mary William said.

She added that the hospital has applied for federal assistance in the construction under the Hill-Burton program.

Although no general chairman has been appointed, Dr. Harry Arnkoff will serve as chairman of the committee to receive pledges from the medical staff.

Two garden courts will be situated between the new one floor administrative wing and the old building. Directly to the north of this wing will be a new chapel of contemporary construction like the rest of the addition.

The administrative wing, to be situated where the present entrance is today, will house physical medicine, lecture rooms, admitting offices, coffee shop, gift shop, and special dining room.

In the main new building, south of the present, there will be: new X-ray department, emergency department, out-patient clinic, clinical and pathological laboratories, new surgical suite, 13 operating rooms including recovery rooms, new pediatric department, medical-surgical patients' rooms, a polio unit, orthopedic patients' unit, neuro-psychiatric nursing unit, and maternity facilities.

The present building will be renovated after completion of the addition to enable the hospital to keep operating during construction.

At the northern end of the present building will be built a enclosed stairway to serve as a fire escape.

27 to Get Degrees in Cranbrook Rites

Twenty-seven graduating students at the Cranbrook Academy of Art Convocation will receive degrees in commencement ceremonies in the academy library Friday at 4 p.m.

Harold O. Soderquist, Ph.D., professor at Wayne University, will be the speaker.

Zoltan Sepeshy, academy director, will present the degrees. They include 20 in master of fine arts, 5 master of architecture degrees, and 2 for bachelor of fine arts.

All graduates will be honored at a commencement dinner at Cranbrook House following the exercises with school faculty and trustees in attendance.

Solon Defends Postal Workers

Employes Can Criticize Post Office Department, Says Cederberg

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Cederberg (R-Mich), taking issue with Democratic leaders in his home state, says postal workers "have full and sufficient opportunity for criticizing" the Post Office Department.

Addressing the House yesterday, Cederberg accused Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams and Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) of making "demagogic" and "highly misleading" statements about department regulations involving employes' bargaining rights.

He asserted that Williams and Dingell "in their zeal to grab onto some badly needed votes" in the November election have "unwittingly stubbed their toes over a Democratic creation."

Cederberg cited a section of the new postal manual saying that employes "shall not actively engage in campaigns for or against changes in the (postal) service, or furnish information to be used in such campaigns, unless prior approval has been obtained from higher authority."

Williams Asks Drive to Get Defense Work

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams said he has asked the Michigan Industrial Production Commission to start a drive to obtain extra defense contracts for Detroit and Flint.

The two cities have been designated as substantial labor surplus areas by presidential order. This designation gives them certain advantages in the awarding of defense contracts.

Aides to the Governor said it was not clear at this time whether the designation also covered Port Huron, Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Marquette and Benton Harbor.

Williams asked that these cities also be designated as surplus labor areas on May 8, when he sent a telegram to President Eisenhower outlining the unemployment situation in Detroit and Flint.

"I am asking Walker Cisler, commission chairman, to get his group together and to take all necessary steps without delay to take advantage of the order and to get the maximum number of defense contracts for the areas," Williams said.

Convention Starts for Presbyterians

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — On a combined note of individual reverence and world evangelism, the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. today began seven days of solemn deliberation on such subjects as union with the United Presbyterian Church, segregation and a $24,344,063 budget.

The retiring moderator — Dr. Paul S. Wright of Portland, Ore. — laid the stress on the church's growing world scope in a sermon at the service of holy communion opening the General Assembly's sessions.

The Presbyterian church, marking its 250th anniversary, he said now is confronted by a religious situation "far more complex in its structure."

Diggs Named Chairman of State Dem Conclave

LANSING (AP)—Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr. (D-Mich) will serve as chairman of the Democratic State Convention June 2 in Grand Rapids, Democratic headquarters announced today.

Democrats also announced they will hold a breakfast meeting of Democratic attorneys attending the convention the morning of June 2. The attorneys will discuss the so-called Missouri Plan for the election of judges.

PAUL C. ALLISON

Pontiac Lions Club Names New Officers

Pontiac Lions Club has elected Paul C. Allison president for the coming year, succeeding Harry F. Vernon.

Other officers elected include: Lawrence L. Logsdon, George A. Harkless and Wayne N. McCandless, vice president; Walter D. Heaphy, treasurer; Tom Kent, secretary; Philip Wellemeyer, tail twister; James Piotrowski, Lion tamer; William Wright, chaplain, and Robert F. Beauchamp, Ernest G. Clark and Emery L. Mitchell, directors.

New officers assume their posts at the annual installation meeting of the club Wednesday evening, June 20 at a dinner meeting at Highland Manor.

Pre-School Parents Invited to Meeting

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Parents of children who will attend kindergarten at Vaughan, Wing Lake or Westview schools in the Bloomfield Hills school district starting next fall are asked to a meeting in Vaughan auditorium at 2 p.m. Monday.

Children eligible are those who will be five on or before Dec. 1 of this year. Children should not be brought to the meeting, school officials request, but arrangements will be made there for them to visit kindergartens before school closes this June.

A birth or baptismal certificate of each child will be required at the meeting. Parents are asked to park cars in the Barden Road lot near the school.

Will Display Pontiac Motor's Dream Car Here

Residents of the Pontiac area will have their first opportunity to see Pontiac Motor Division's fabulous new dream car, the "Club de Mer" at a special "Little Motorama" to be held at the Pontiac Retail Store starting Friday, and running through next week until June 2.

* * *

The aluminum bodied "Club de Mer" has been hailed as the most exciting sports car ever built in America, and has been the hit of this year's GM Motorama, which showed before capacity crowds in New York, Miami, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Boston.

In addition to the "Club de Mer," the "Little Motorama" will also feature an exact miniature replica, battery operated, working model of the "Club de Mer" called the "Club de Mer, Jr."

A favorite with the youngsters from coast to coast, the "Club de Mer, Jr." has an aluminum body, forward and reverse, brakes, and an exact duplicate interior of the "Club de Mer."

H. E. Gotham, manager of the Pontiac Retail Store said that in addition to the two dream cars, a "book engine" featured at the GM Motoramas would also be on display. This engine opens up before the visitors' eyes showing the innermost workings of the new 1956 Pontiac Strato-Streak V-8 engine.

Hours of the display will be from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily.

The Day in Birmingham

City-Country Pioneering in Work for Gifted Child

BIRMINGHAM — A school for gifted children, which City and Country School personnel hope will pioneer in the field, will be inaugurated at a dinner at the Bloomfield Hills school June 1.

Among leaders in the fields of education and psychology who have been invited to attend will be the evening's speaker, Dr. Gunnar Dybwad, director of the child Study Assn. of America, New York. He was formerly director of the State Welfare department in Lansing.

Planned to accommodate 180 Detroit area children of nursery, kindergarten and elementary grade levels, the school will utilize modern methods of testing to establish children's mental capacity for enrollment.

Intensified training in small classes with specially selected teachers will be features.

"The security and growth of our country demands that we maintain an edge over other nations in development of our most important resources, the training of our gifted children," says George Roeper, who, with Mrs. Roeper has for 15 years directed City and Country School.

Hosts at the dinner preliminary to establishing the new school will be City and Country's trustees and the PTA board of directors, who include Mrs. Fred C. Booth, Eliot Robinson, Mrs. Harry A. Mackie, and Mrs. William K. Whitney.

Plans for the curriculum and operation will be worked out in an institute from June 18 to 22 at the school, with Dr. Harry Passow, a Columbia University Teachers College professor, in charge.

PLANNING SOURCES

Source material for the planning will include the Horace Mann-Lincoln Institute on the gifted child, the studies of Hunter College on gifted children and reports on the Child Study Clinic at Yale University.

The Roepers feel that this new kind of education can best be tried in an independent school, small enough to be flexible for a change over and reorganization.

George E. Hawley

George E. Hawley, district manager for the George S. May Co., Chicago business engineering firm, and former owner of the Gray-Hawley Manufacturing Co., Detroit, died May 22 at William Beaumont Hospital.

A lifelong resident of Detroit and Birmingham, he lived at 17869 Buckingham, Southfield Twp. He founded the Gray-Hawley firm and retired in 1925, later affiliating with the May company.

He was an honorary life member and past president of the Detroit Boat Club, and a member of the Sons of the American Revolution.

Surviving are his wife, Bessie Fisher Hawley; a son, Charles, and two brothers, O. P. and Charles.

Service will be at 11 a.m. Friday at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Company with interment in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

* * *

Edmond F. Dodge, Jr.

Service for Edmond F. Dodge Jr., manufacturers agent who died Wednesday at Henry Ford Hospital, will be at St. James Episcopal Church at 2 p.m. Friday, with burial in Chicago, where he lived until coming here 20 years ago.

* * *

His body will lie at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. until noon Friday.

Mr. Dodge, who lived at 24701 Samoset Trail, Southfield Township, was 57. He was born in Chicago, and was president of the Edmond F. Dodge Associates which provides materials handling equipment for automotive firms.

He was a member of Southfield Lodge No. 573, F&AM, was a Shriner, and belonged to the Elks, the Chicago Athletic Club and the Materials Handling Institute.

He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Nancy Wickstrom, who as Vocalist Lisa Chickering is on a professional world tour and now is in Hong Kong, a brother, Edward; and a sister, Mrs. Bernard Peacock Smith of Lathrup Village.

Mrs. Carrie Parker, Clubwoman, Dies

BIRMINGHAM — Mrs. Carrie L. Parker, Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham resident for the past 28 years and member of several local clubs, died at the age of 84 yesterday. She had lived at 743 Colonial Court.

* * *

She leaves her daughter, Mrs. Percy K. Loud, three granddaughters, Mrs. Richard Kern, Mrs. Holt Ackerman, and Mrs. James MacMillan, and five great-grandchildren.

She belonged to the Piety Hill chapter of Daughters of the American Revolution, the Bloomfield Hills branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Assn., and Christ Church Cranbrook.

Service will be at Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Company at 11 a.m. Saturday, with burial in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

City Democratic Club Will Meet Sunday

The City Democratic Club will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday in the Fisher Body local Hall, No. 595, UAW, 821 Baldwin Ave.

George Hicks, president, said that a financial secretary will be elected.

Ann Arborite Elected Michigan Mason Leader

DETROIT (AP)—Glen Ault of Ann Arbor, an engineering professor at the University of Michigan, was chosen for the first elective office in the Grand Lodge Line at the annual convention of Michigan Masons yesterday.

* * *

Dr. Morgan J. Smead of Rochester defeated Dewey Stearn of Saginaw for the office of Grand Lecturer.

* * *

There's Good Reason to Celebrate Heritage Day

In connection with the observance of Michigan and Oakland County Week, now in progress, Friday has been designated as "Heritage Day."

It behooves us on that day to place heavy stress on our thoughts and recollections on our growth and development, not only in a numerical and financial way, but particularly in spiritual and civic standards.

It should make us reflect on what was done for us by past generations to make it possible for us to live as we do.

Perhaps in a large measure we should not take much credit for ourselves for our present standards. We inherited most of it—even if we inherited nothing in a financial way. None of us are self made.

It was our pioneers who laid the foundation—and they laid it well. We should strive our utmost to do as much for those who follow us.

Their brain and brawn made it possible for us to take over the heritage they left, without going through any of their hardships.

We may bring some new ideas into our world, but they cannot be put to constructive use without the footing that had been provided to receive them.

The dedication to the common interest of the experiences provided by the success and failures of those who trod this way before we came is what provided the setting and stimulus for our present standard of living.

★ ★ ★

To make us more cognizant and appreciative of these things is the purpose of Heritage Day.

Bills Seek to Stiffen Narcotics Penalties

It is encouraging to note the increased pressure in Congress for stiffer penalties for violation of narcotics laws.

Among several bills recently introduced is one calling for the death sentence for certain violations. As approved by the Senate Judiciary Committee it would permit juries to impose the extreme penalty on persons convicted of selling heroin to juveniles and on three time offenders in heroin smuggling and peddling.

Legislation equally drastic is coming up in the House. A Ways and Means subcommittee has agreed to make seven recommendations for stiffening all narcotics penalties. Among other things proposed are more severe sentences for adult traffickers selling to minors and removal of suspension of sentence and probation for traffickers.

We strongly endorse increasing all narcotics penalties. However, the widely held idea that with more severe sentences juries will be less inclined to convict, is not borne out by Federal experience.

★ ★ ★

Federal Narcotics Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger probably knows as much about this question as anyone. In his opinion the drug traffic can best be curbed by putting violators out of business for longer periods of time.

Congress should have public support in its effort to make narcotic law penalties so severe that all pushers, suppliers and importers would be driven out of this iniquitous traffic.

90,000,000 Vacationers

If you expect to enjoy a vacation this year, better make your plans early.

This is good advice against the background of reports that 80 to 90 million Americans will be on the move during the holiday months. According to those who know—transportation people and those who provide vacation accommodations—this summer will see a record business volume of $15.5 billion.

A survey made by U. S. News & World Report shows that nearly everywhere will be tight, with prices perhaps a little more than last year. Overall, the crowds will be as much as 10 per cent greater than the record summer of 1955. Certainly advance reservations will be necessary at nearly all the popular resorts.

According to the American Automobile Association 68 to 77 million people will travel in the family car. Bus, air and rail lines will share some 12 to 13 millions.

Since last summer about 1,500 motels have been added to the national total of more than 50,000. This means that there now are some 850,000 motel rooms available for tourists.

What it all boils down to is—if you want to be sure of accommodations, make your reservations early.

Most people these days are spending money as if it carried an early expiration date.

Brilliant Tulip Display Ready Over the Weekend

Color television: The best thing about which is that the neighbors cannot afford it either.

Within ten miles of Pontiac is a display of one hundred thousand tulips that will reach the peak of its blossoming time over this weekend. They are at corner of East Long Lake and Crooks Roads. According to Manager

Dorval D. Symons,

they will remain in top form for a week or more. The tulips, which surpass anything of a similar nature in our nation, are for the free inspection of the public every day, including Sundays, from eight o'clock in the morning until sundown. All can be seen without leaving your car. The entrance is on East Long Lake Road. Keep to the right on all of the driveways. The best route from Pontiac is east through Auburn Heights to Crooks Road, where you turn right for three miles.

A chain letter scheme with a new and quite unique angle turns up in Pontiac. You are requested to make a donation to a pet project of somebody on the list sent you, and request them to make one for yours. According to Mayor he sent two dollars to a Detroit party and named the Pontiac Foundation as his project—and got back a check for five dollars. Not so fortunate was whose request came from Pittsburgh, and he sent a check several weeks ago—and has heard nothing.

Bill Donaldson,

David Lawrence Says:

Court Submitting to Private Interests and Depriving Individual of His Opinion

WASHINGTON—The most unspectacular and yet the most sensational news happening of our times is the manner in which the 48 state governments are being deprived of their rights by the Supreme Court.

The latest decision, rendered this week, takes away from the states their power to regulate employment relations. It takes away from the worker his freedom of association and freedom of expression as an individual—his civil rights—and puts them at the mercy of an intolerant majority in Congress. He must join a union or be deprived of a job with the railroads. Minority rights, which from the foundation of the republic have been safeguarded by the Constitution, now are to be vested in a political majority in Congress.

In discussing the 60-year history of the fight for and against compulsory unionization, Justice Frankfurter reviews the criticisms against early Court decisions and traces the various opinions handed down. Then he says:

"The change in the Court's understanding of industrial problems, certainly as they affect railroads, in their bearing upon the country's commerce and all that thereby hangs, to no small degree reflected the changed attitude of the railroads toward the role of labor unions in the discharge of the functions of the railroads. As striking evidence as any of this important shift in opinion is the fact that the Railway Labor Act of 1926 came on the statute books through agreement between the railroads and the railroad unions on the need for such legislation."

Here is a confession that the Supreme Court nowadays doesn't consider what the Constitution says but what private interests, powerful in politics, may agree upon as between themselves. The famous "code authority" provision of the National Recovery Act, which permitted agreements to be made between management and labor, was struck down by a unanimous opinion of the Supreme Court in 1935 precisely because the nine justices believed the public interest was greater under the Constitution than any agreements made between private interests such as labor and management even though Congress sanctioned those agreements.

Actually, it was before the Court, but the nine justices chose technical grounds for shutting their eyes to the issue altogether. It is plain to see the handwriting on the wall—minority rights are vanishing, and whatever law Congress decides to enact hereafter to regulate employment relations will become "the supreme law of the land" in the eyes of the present Court.

In writing the main opinion, Justice Douglas in behalf of the other justices says: "Congress, acting within its constitutional powers has the final say on policy issues. If it acts unwisely, the electorate can make a change."

But when the Supreme Court endows Congress with greater power than the Constitution bestows and euphemistically calls it just a "policy," the electorate can't change their Supreme Court. Unless, therefore, the Court whose judges now concede that they are influenced by the pressures of popular opinion, takes heed of public criticism, certain constitutional rights will be lost for the period that an unwise or irresponsible Court holds office.

"One would have to be blind to history," says Justice Douglas, "to assert that trade unionism did not enhance and strengthen the right to work."

This is a frank avowal of the concept of expediency—the Machiavellian doctrine that the end justifies the means. Other justices—the men who made the Supreme Court the respected institution it has been for decades—did not fall victim to political expediency. They expounded the Constitution in accordance with legal and not political concepts and never allowed Congress to grant permissive power to private economic groups to take away minority rights.

It was in May 1935 when a unanimous Court headed by Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes knocked out the expediency argument by declaring: "Extraordinary conditions do not create or enlarge constitutional power."

And the same Court could properly have added that a change in political or sociological conditions or in the tides of public opinion does not change the Constitution of the United States unless Congress by a two-thirds vote of both houses and three-fourths of the states of the union say so in approving an amendment to the Constitution itself.

Let's Face It---the Trouble Is Tissue Deterioration

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Degeneration, in medical language, means "deterioration of a tissue or an organ in which its vitality is diminished" (Webster); or, as Stedman (medical dictionary) defines it, "a retrogressive pathological change in cells or tissues in consequence of which the functioning power is lost" (impaired would be a better word, for if the functioning power is lost, you're dead) "and the living substance becomes converted into an inert mass"—such as fat or fibrous material (scar tissue).

If that is not clear, still another authority explains degeneration as decline of regeneration or diminished capacity to replace worn out or damaged tissue cells with new cells to carry on the function of the tissue or organ. You see, in a healthy young person 20, 30 or 40 years old regeneration easily keeps pace with degeneration, and both processes go on constantly from cradle to grave. After forty degeneration naturally progresses to produce or regenerate new cells. That's what degeneration means. Fewer and fewer cells that wear out are replaced with vigorous young cells. It's the way of all flesh. Indeed it's the way of all life, animal or vegetable. The natural way to—I say, how long have you—well, I've been dying for years and so far it is good fun.

Cardio - vascular degeneration covers nearly all acquired heart and artery troubles but not so-called "rheumatic" heart disease—"rheumatic fever" with endocarditis (heart lining inflammation) from steptococcic infection, usually a consequence or complication of tonsillitis, quinsy, or septic sore throat. This sometimes leaves damaged heart valves.

There's nothing more morbid, depressing, or pathetic about cardiovascular degeneration in itself than there is about baldness, graying of the hair, wrinkling of the skin, winter cough, or the rheumatiz.

Arteriosclerosis (hardening of the arteries), for instance is a condition as common as store teeth in men past 45, especially men of sedentary habit who have not done their morning somersaults (forward rools), and their belly breathing exercise every evening and taken their daily iodin ration, etc., as I have done for years.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac Michigan.

Wants to Restore Custom of Holiday Flag Displays

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

When I was a boy, I remember that flags were displayed in front of almost every house on Memorial Day and the Fourth of July.

The passing of this custom has made our neighborhood less colorful and our patriotic holidays less solemn and moving occasions.

Recently a few of my associates attempted in a very small way to reverse this trend by purchasing flags for their own homes. They were surprised to discover that it was difficult to find a store which carried in stock a flag and staff of the size appropriate for home display.

Eventually the story got to my brother and myself and we pushed the research one step further. We wired an order for 20,000 flags to a large manufacturer of flags. To our amazement, our office received a phone call asking if we made a mistake in the size of the order. It seems we had placed the largest order in the history of this company.

To help restore a noble old custom and as a community service, so that they may know again the thrill we knew as youngsters of walking down a flag decked street, we plan to display and sell home size American flags in time for Memorial Day.

Hal Boyle Says:

Cherokee Indians Yearn to Share U.S. Generosity

CHEROKEE, N. C. (AP)—Should Uncle Sam include the American Indian under its program of aid to foreign nations?

* * *

Some members of the proud and diabetes-ridden Cherokee Nation think he should.

NEED POINT 4

"Certainly we feel the need of some kind of Point Four program," said Walter Jackson, a Navy veteran and one of the 12 Tribal Council leaders of the Cherokees here.

* * *

"We need capital. If the federal government would provide us with the capital, we could create more industry. We could put more Indians in business. We could be independent again. And that's what we want to be."

* * *

Most historians agree the Cherokees were more peaceful than warlike, better farmers than warriors. They lived in log cabins, tilled their own fields.

SADDEST SAGA

What happened to the Cherokees, of course, is about the saddest chronicle in American history.

* * *

At one time they ruled some 480,000 square miles ranging from Virginia into Alabama. They tried hard for peace.

"We made 80 separate treaties with the white man," said Jackson gravely. "We lived up to every treaty—and the white man broke every treaty."

* * *

Under the pressure of incoming settlers, the U. S. Army was ordered in 1838 to move them to a new home in the area that is now in Oklahoma. Some 18,000 Cherokees submitted, and started the 1,000-mile winter march. Some 4,000 died on this famous "Trail of Tears."

OWN RESERVATION

Some 900 Cherokees chose to hide out in the hills here. Thanks to the help of changing times—and their own hard-saved money—they now own a 55,000-acre reservation in the Great Smoky Mountains, which they bought themselves. They have grown to 3,500 members.

* * *

Most of them are Christian. There are 18 churches on the reservation—14 of them Baptist—and all but about a dozen of the oldest Cherokees speak English. The younger ones now usually go through high school.

The federal government maintains the schools and a 25-bed hospital. The Cherokee Historical Society in 1950 started producing "Unto These Hills," an outdoor summer drama which employs 350 Indians, has paid them a million dollars in salaries, this year hopes to draw its millionth customer.

* * *

The customers aren't all tourists either. North Carolina loves its Cherokees, wants to help them.

NOW CITIZENS

A Cherokee can't sell his land to anyone else except another Cherokee without federal approval. He doesn't pay a land tax. But he is now a citizen of both North Carolina and the United States. He pays income taxes, sales taxes—all other taxes.

* * *

"The operation has shown a profit every year," said Jackson, "and we are 10 years ahead on our repayment schedule. All we want is to be self-sufficient."

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Anemia, in Young or Old, May Cause Appetite Loss, Even if You Need Food

Your appetite doesn't always tell you the truth! Sometimes you get so anemic you aren't hungry. In that case your brain must rule your stomach and force it back into proper action. Notice the dramatic change in my cousin when her anemia was partially overcome by a single blood transfusion.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case R-364: Welcome B., aged 17, was a cousin of mine who developed osteomyelitis 15 years ago and lay on a hospital bed for many weeks with a high daily fever.

* * *

Mrs. Crane and I visited her one day. She looked so pale her fingers appeared to be translucent.

She was wan and distinterested in food. Her fever ran to 101 or 102 each day and never dropped under 100 degrees.

"She needs more food," my wife suggested, "but she takes only a few nibbles for she says she isn't hungry."

When I inspected her medical chart, I found that her red blood cells were down to less than 50 per cent and so was the iron (hemoglobin) therein.

"She doesn't have sufficient red blood cells to nourish her stomach glands and make them secrete enough acid to generate hunger," I told Mrs. Crane.

So we suggested she have a blood transfusion. It was done the next day, and her temperature dropped to 98.6 immediately.

Her hunger also began to reappear and soon she was out of the hospital.

* * *

Now don't think that a single blood transfusion will always work such dramatic cures, but when you are afflicted with anemia, your body will not even register normal hungers.

Ordinarily, we assume that the body will dictate what it needs, so we then crave protein or sweets or vegetables, etc.

But that is true only of the normal body! When we become overly starved and our iron supply is too low, we may not have enough rich blood to generate normal, healthy hungers.

DIZZY SPELLS

And after the age of 45 to 50, many of us become slightly anemic. This may be a result of inadequate false teeth. We then begin dunking doughnuts in coffee to soften them, and live largely on mashed potatoes and gravy.

Instead, we must eat the diet of youth if we wish to feel youthful! But this diet includes raw vegetables and meats.

* * *

Vitamins aren't enough to make old folks youthful, for they need many trace chemicals in their food. And if their food is deficient therein, then they go downhill fast.

You are aware that adding a minute amount of fluorides to the city water supplies will greatly reduce tooth decay.

A tiny trace of iodine will also stop goiter. And the sheep in Australia were dying off a few years ago until the government dusted the pasture fields with a trace of cobalt.

But the normal man with a rugged appetite obtains barely enough iron in his three square meals per day to keep his blood supply up to par.

And women, from the age of 15 to 45, need about four times the iron input that men require.

Is it any wonder that many people are listless, for they haven't enough iron going down the hatch to perk up their bodies and even generate a proper appetite.

* * *

This lack of iron may show up in dizzy spells, too. Anemia of the brain often makes old folks foggy in their thinking. They may wander in their speech and not know the day of the week or even the month.

Hardening of the arteries helps reduce the blood's nourishment of the brain but lack of iron (anemia) does the same even without hardening of the arteries.

So compel yourself to eat, especially after 65. Don't depend solely on your appetite, either, for when you get anemic, your appetite doesn't always work properly.

Use your brain to force proper foods and chemicals down your throat, even though you don't feel hungry for them.

Some people must use food, like medicine, and take it because it is good for them, even though they don't want it.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Town's Project Brightens Lives of Lonely Oldsters

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

With $21 and an idea, the 42 women of the Altrusa Club of Burlington, Iowa, launched a project two years ago that's reached deep into the lives of many of the city's older citizens.

The $21 was its entire treasury. The idea popped up when in June, 1953, the club sought a project which would make Burlington a better community.

The women found that almost everywhere they looked young people had the spotlight—YWCA, YMCA, scouting, three youth centers, church youth programs.

Nowhere did they find even one similar organization for older people. Yet, more than 1 out of 10 of the city's 32,000 people were over 65, while only about 2 out of 10 were under 18.

OLDSTERS LACKED COMPANY

A deeper look showed that many of the older people were lonely and would welcome a sense of belonging in the community again. They wanted activity and friendships.

Then the women asked themselves: What can replace the importance of work in the lives of these older people when working is no longer possible?

After talking with some other organizations, the club members decided their first effort should be a Senior Citizens' Center—a counterpart for oldsters of the city's youth centers.

A community council was formed with a cross section of the city's organizations to steer the project. One hundred attended the first meeting in June, 1954.

After hearing of the idea, the mayor and city council of Burlington turned over an old residence in a city park to the council, put it in shape and provided free heat, light and gas. The center was officially opened in September.

EVERYONE CHIPPED IN

Following the city's lead, local manufacturers and others chipped in with regular refreshments for the center—cookies, ice cream, coffee, sandwiches. Other groups offered prizes to be used on special days at the center. Girl Scout troops, during the center's weekly meetings, assisted in serving refreshments.

Since the start, more than 200 volunteers have acted as hosts and hostesses. The weekly meetings have attracted as many as 118 oldsters and more than 400, ranging in age from 64 to 94, have used the center for activities—playing cards, checkers, conversation, hobbies, crafts, lectures and a lot of other things.

Around Christmas and Easter time for the last two years the center has held parties at which Christmas and Easter seals have been folded. On one occasion, 70 oldsters took part and folded more than 27,000 seals in less than two hours.

For the future, the Community Council has its eyes on much broader activities. Considering its Senior Citizens Center only "a small beginning," the council hopes to branch out to include projects for oldsters covering their health, employment, retirement, housing, mental health, nursing homes, education.

Whether the council ever launches such activities, many of Burlington's senior citizens will be satisfied with only their own center.

A story told about one grey-haired lady shows their general satisfaction.

Asked how she enjoyed the lecture on hobbies she'd just listened to, she answered happily:

"I couldn't hear a thing he said, but I enjoyed every word of it."

She was hard-of-hearing and just liked being with people.

Un-Sowing Wild Oats Can Be Profitable

DES MOINES—Know how to unsow wild oats? A $600,000,000 market awaits any company that can turn this neat trick.

* * *

Already this costly weed has spread over 60,000,000 acres of the cultivated plains of the United States and Canada.

This year wild oats are expected to cause a loss of $250,000,000 to farmers. At present this weed is reducing farm income more than any other.

* * *

Farmers are willing to pay up to $10 an acre for some chemical pesticide that will kill wild oats.

Purpose Dictates Area Used in Outdoor Living

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—Householders who like outdoor living are advised to let function be the deciding factor on where and how to locate their outdoor living space.

* * *

If food is to be served there regularly, it should be near the kitchen and have partial shade; for picnics, the space should be father back.

For sleeping and resting it should be in the quietest spot with shrubs and trees used as sound barriers. For sun bathing, of course it should be where one will get the most sunshine.

* * *

The suggestions are made by the American association of Nurserymen.

Home construction has slowed down so much in Dublin, Eire, that 10,000 workers are reported looking to England for new jobs.

Mexican Rebozos Have Versatile Uses

MEXICO CITY — Stoles, popular in many countries, are derived from the Mexican rebozo, which in turn was adapted from the wider shawls of Spain and other European countries.

* * *

A rebozo's fringe is a work of art and often requires more time to make than the rest of the shawl. The finest rebozos come from Santa Maria; they can be drawn through a wedding ring.

* * *

The rebozo serves many uses, such as substituting as a coat or blanket, serving as a cradle, providing shade over sidewalk stands, doubling as a shopping bag when tied to one's shoulders, or being folded and used as a hat.

Lumber Well Cured

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — In the 1870's Grandpa C. H. Dudley cut down some longleaf Southern pine trees on his plantation. Through the years the wood has aged beautifully as part of a factory building.

Now his Grandson A. H. Dudley has purchased the aged logs from the razed factory and is using lumber for paneling and flooring in his new home.

Washington, the U. S. capital, has over 300 conventions a year.

Airline Explains Radar Meaning for Passengers

NEW YORK (INS) — "Radar" is a word most people know but many have only a vague idea of what it means.

* * *

So American Airlines, which is equipping its planes with weather radar, is campaigning to explain radar and how it works in "everyday language."

One part of the airlines campaign features an illustrated booklet by artist Eric Stone. It explains, in words and pictures, how a radar pulse is sent out from a plane as an invisible beam.

This pulse, or beam, passes through light clouds or mist but "bounces" when it hits large rain drops or snow that exist in most areas of weather turbulence.

This "bounce" or reflection shows on the plane's radar screen and the pilot, forewarned of bad weather ahead, can change course to miss it. Such a change in course may mean only flying a little below, or over, the rough area.

. . . And He Was Pleased

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—San Diego state college students, in a contest sponsored by Gamma Phi Beta sorority, chose campus policeman John Daniel over 14 co-ed candidates for the title of "Miss Olympic of 1956." The contest was part of a drive to raise funds for the U. S. Olympic team.

FOR HELICOPTER PILOTS — Aid in managing toughest job in air.

New Automatic Controls Will Aid Helicopter Pilots

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Out of a chill and fog-streaked German sky, a formation of U. S. Army helicopers drummed downward toward a practice landing in maneuvers.

* * *

Suddenly a turn in the wind blanketed the landing area in milky fog. The leading pilots fought desperately to pierce the gloom. Their instruments were of no avail.

FULL SPEED CRASH

Forgetting to haul back on his pitch stick to slow the descent, the first pilot crashed into the ground. A second whirlybird following close behind also crashed at full speed into ground and trees.

Only a fast alarm from the ground party alerted the remainder of the helicopters to pull up until the vision improved. But by then six men and two helicopters were dead.

To prevent incidents such as this, scientists have come up with some aids for the hard-working helicopter pilot. They say the helicopter skipper is the hardest working man in the air. He does his work with both feet and hands during the entire period of flight. It's nerve-wracking and muscle-fatiguing.

NOW AUTOMATIC

But now a system of automatic controls has been developed which frees him from as much of this manual work as he wants to shed, merely by touching a switch. The system also gives automatic, pilotless flight.

At the same time they've come up with brand new, simplified instruments which permit "blind" all-weather flying.

These advances break a bottleneck in military and civilian use of helicopters, Pentagon experts assert. They have been achieved by the Sperry Gyroscope Company working with the Air Force, Marine Corps, Army and helicopter manufacturers.

NEW CONCEPT

A Marine Corps spokesman says:

"Our whole new concept of surprise attack and taking beach heads by striking through the air is based on carrying troops with helicopters. But up until now the difficulty of taking advantage of protective clouds, bad wether or darkness has been a major handicap. We lost our element of surprise by only being able to fly in good weather and during the day.

"With new instruments for blind flying and with the pilot freed to navigate better it's obvious that attacks with helicopters will be accomplished more efficiently."

* * *

The two tragic crashes are typical of what has always been a fault in helicopter flying. They have lacked instruments which tell the pilot their exact positions and directions in the air. The ones they do have don't react fast enough for a crisis situation.

DIFFICULT FLYING

The inherent instability of a helicopter and the many unusual positions it has during flights are why conventional aircraft instruments haven't been satisfactory. This is aggravated by the physical difficulty of flying a whirlybird.

If the two Army pilots had had the new system they hould have turned on the automatic controls and held the altitude they had when the fog enshrouded them.

The new gear also permits automatic backward, forward or sideways flying, depending on the pilot's selection for some phase of a flight. It will permit the pilot to hover over a spot for an indefinite period, automatically correcting for wind drift or other variables.

Soviet Supports Cancer Claim

Red Researcher Cites Smoking, Hot Foods as Possible Causes

LONDON (AP)— A Soviet medical man agreed today with those Western researchers who believe smoking may lead to lung cancer.

The Russian added that cancer of the stomach may be caused by addiction to hot soup.

* * *

A Moscow radio broadcast carrying the views of the medical spokesman identified him as Prof. Larionov, an associate member of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Medical Sciences.

"It goes without saying," Larionov declared, "that by giving up smoking the chances of contracting cancer of the lung can be considerably reduced.

* * *

"As for cancer of the stomach, on the whole it is likely that the intake of excessively hot food plays an important role in causing this .Many people, for instance, love soup, the temperature of which is 60 to 70 degrees centigrade (140 to 158 degree fahrenheit), while the cells of our bodies can be damaged within a few minutes by a temperature of 45 degrees (113 degrees fahrenheit).

* * *

"Among the rural population in Egypt, who consume mainly fruit and milk, there are practically no cases of malignant tumors of the stomach," Larionov added.

Bathroom Scale on Way Out as Weight Dope

YELLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (AP) — The bathroom scale could be on its way out as an accurate measurement of whether or not you're overweight.

That's because it isn't how much weight you carry around, but how much of that weight is "subcutaneous fat," says an Antioch College professor. Dr. Stanley M. Garn has been studying 100 Antioch students under a U. S. Air Force grant.

* * *

He measures body fat with his own X-ray method. His studies have produced interesting sidelights, including the fact that several professional football players were rejected for World War II Army Service because they were "overweight", when it was actually lean and not fatty tissue that added the pounds. No other body tissue varies to such an extent as fatty tissue, he says.

Seven Come—What?

PORTALES (AP)—Candidates for county office left it strictly to chance to determine the order in which they would appear on the ballot. The county clerk provided dice and a game of craps settled who came first.

Stay Off Wet Paint!

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Thirteen motorists were hauled into city court for conducting a smear campaign down a Knoxville street. Police said they had crossed freshly painted center stripes, ruining the job with their tires.

Flames destroyed the Northcliff Tearoom, a popular Johannesburg, South Africa, restaurant, when 2,000 passenger cars raced to the scene and blocked the progress of fire engines.

Pigeons Are Mad, City Fathers Glad

BALTIMORE (AP)—While hundreds of pigeons continue to harass Baltimore's War Memorial Plaza, the People's Court Building remains birdless as it has been for years.

* * *

Associate Judge William T. Tippett Jr., says he suggested that cornices of the building be constructed in such a way as to be uncomfortable for pigeons. It was greeted with smiles from all except the architect, the late James R. Edmunds.

* * *

He liked the idea and designed the cornices at a steep slant to discourage roosting. Hence, the building remains undefiled, the judge explained.

What Will Be Next?

SYDNEY—A Geiger-counter telescope that measures the weight of the earth above tunnels has been developed at the University of Sydney. It is said to permit savings of thousands of dollars in construction of Australian mountain tunnels.

Moslem Prince Prefers American Way of Living

NEW YORK (INS)—When Mohammed Ali was Prime Minister of Pakistan he switched traffic from the left side of the road to the right, in the American style, and used the word "filibuster" in a parliamentary debate.

"Filibuster!" snorted his opponents, after looking it up in the dictionary, "he'll be introducing chewing gum next."

But Mohammed Ali, now back for his second tour of duty as ambassador to the United States and delegate to the United Nations, makes no excuses for being pro-American.

"Old-fashioned diplomacy doesn't pay dividends any more," he told International News Service. "American-style frankness and outspokenness is taking its place."

Then he described an American political convention he once attended for the benefit of slim, beautiful second wife, Aliya Saadi.

As a Moslem, Mohammed Ali may have more than one wife, but his quiet marriage recently to Aliya, formerly his social secretary, stirred up a storm of controversy in Pakistan where the ancient custom of polygamy now is under attack.

PREFERS POLYGAMY

Mohammed Ali quietly explained that a Moslem prefers polygamy to the Western custom of divorce, since it allows the first wife to maintain her status and dignity.

"Because I respected my first wife," he added, "I have been attacked."

Now that he has explained the matter, the ambassador hopes it won't be raised again; especially in Washington.

"Will Americans ask questions about it?" he asked. "I hope not; I hope it won't be mentioned. There is really no reason to discuss it."

Aliya will be his official hostess at the Pakistan Embassy in Washington. Mohammed Ali's first wife, Hamida, is in London to visit their sons at Marlborough College. Aliya has lived in Canada and visited the U. S. before.

The ambassador loves to talk about the United States, which he admires, and in even a brief interview his conversation can range over such varied subjects as foreign policy, television, American political customs, race relations, the philosophy of success, and photography, which appears to be one of his hobbies.

During his first tour of duty as Pakistan's ambassador to the U. S. he visited 44 states. In keeping with his belief in outspokenness, he offers his opinions freely.

On U. S. political conventions: "When I got back to Pakistan that was one of the things I was interviewed about. I think all the noise and the excitement is a good thing; it is sort of a political safety valve."

On U. S. television: "I watched one of the Congressional investigations on television. It is a very good thing, because it keeps the people informed. The only danger I see is that some people tend to play up to the camera."

On Pakistan foreign policy: "There will be no change in our policy of cooperation with the free world, even though there have been changes in Pakistan. The new prime minister was associated with me in working out the policy of cooperation."

On Americans: "Americans are still misunderstood in many parts of the world. Naturally they like to talk about their country, and sometimes people of other nations think they are bragging.

False Beliefs About Teeth Still Persist

CHICAGO (AP) — Superstitions and false beliefs about teeth are still widespread in the United States, says the American Dental Assn.

One common misconception is that pregnancy causes tooth decay.

"Dentists are continually having to debunk the old wives' tale that a tooth is lost for each child born," the dental group reports.

"Fortunately, dental health education is convincing more and more people of the necessity for frequent use of toothbrush and toothpaste and regular visits to the dentist," it states.

Superstitions still prevalent are that wisdom teeth are related to intelligence, that blindness will follow the removal of "eye teeth," and that children born with teeth are "bewitched."

Pure bunk, according to dentists.

Whopper of a Word

SEATTLE (AP)—In a fourth grade "spelling challenge" at the Magnolia Bluff School, the teacher encouraged pupils to test their classmates with new words picked up outside the classroom.

Johnny tossed this one to the class: "Antidisestablishmmentarianismically."

When the teacher admonished him that the rules required that he be able to use the word in a sentence, Johnny replied:

"Sure; here's the sentence: I can spell antidisestablishmentarianismically."

'Flying Fish' Glide When Out of Water

WASHINGTON — Flying fishes don't have muscles that could possibly help the fins to flap like the wings of birds, according to Dr. Leonard P. Schultz, Smithsonian Institution curator of fishes.

* * *

"Instead," he says, "the fins are used as glider wings, and although some of the oceanic flying fishes can sail for more than 30 seconds at about 35 miles an hour, the freshwater flying fishes can sail only a few yards.

* * *

"These little aquarium fishes are thin as a wafer and shaped like a hatchet.

European Ports on Shippers' List

Lake Steamship Firm Reveals Plans of New Expanding Routes

DETROIT (AP)—The T. J. McCarthy Steamship Co. said it will operate ships between the Great Lakes and northern Europe.

Clarence G. Morse, federal maritime administrator, told a Detroit marine group the 22-year-old firm which operates three auto-carrying lake freighters now intends to carry cargo to other lake ports and Antwerp, Rotterdam, Hamburg and possibly London.

Troy H. Browning, president of several Detroit steamship companies, previously filed an application for federal subsidies to build and operate ships over the St. Lawrence Seaway.

McCarthy and Browning plan to build six large ships each for deep-water use by 1959, but McCarthy said it meanwhile will charter two 278-foot freighters from the government's mothball fleet.

Both firms intend to build seven-million-dollar "clipper" class ships with a gross tonnage of about 10,000 tons and a speed of 18 knots.

VFW Posts to Combine to Mark Memorial Day

Ultrasonics Help Out Making Insulations

NEW YORK — Uutrasonics — sound waves that are inaudible to the human ear — are being used successfully to speed up the manufacture of electrical insulation.

• • •

The new technique is said to be 10 times faster than current methods of impregnating insulation materials and is expected to result in significant cost reductions.

In the process, the ultrasonic beam agitates the treatment liquid with a to-and-fro motion that changes direction of the liquid's particles a million times a second.

• • •

The semiporous cloth or paper used for insulation thus is impregnated more speedily than with the present method, which subjects the material to a pressure-vacuum cycle in the liquid impregnant.

The new par value of Paraguay's currency is 60 guaranies per U. S. dollar.

Father-Son Combinations Work on Mackinac Bridge

MACKINAW CITY (AP)—Work on the Straits of Mackinac bridge is a family affair for at least two sets of father-son steelworker teams.

Tailing alongside Eugene (Whitey) Miller, 50, of Dubuque, Iowa, is old stuff for his son, Leonard, 27.

They've been a construction gang team for eight years.

But it's the second season as a team for L. F. (Hap) Cormican, 54, of Cheboygan, and his son, Bob, 21.

"He decided this was what he wanted when he still was in the service," Hap says of his son. At the end of this construction season, Bob will have served the two years of appenticeship required for a journeyman ironworker's certificate.

"Funny thing how some fellows take to this work," Hap comments. "My oldest boy, Jim, 23, didn't care for steelwork. . .He's a pilot for a corporation—flies executives around."

Cormican and his steelworker son drive to work daily from their Cheboygan home. They moved there 11 years ago from Detroit.

Miller, who came to the Mackinac job from the Nyack Tarryton bridge on the Hudson River in New York State, has a second son on the Michigan bridge project. Eugene, Jr., works as a night watchman.

The Miller boys and Mrs. Miller live in a house trailer at Mackinaw, a short distance from the bridge job.

New Jeep Radio Has Span of 2,000 Miles

FORT MONMOUTH, N. J.—The Army Signal Corps has developed a new jeep radio transmitter-receiver that has a range of up to 2,000 miles and can be coupled with the corps' lightweight 100-word-a-minute tele-typewriter to relay voice and teletype messages concurrently.

It is four times more powerful than the standard vehicle radio used in World War II and Korea.

The new radio has seven channels preset as in pushbutton commercial models and it tunes itself and its antenna automatically. It is said to be so easy to use that its operation can be taught in 10 minutes.

British Electronics Develop 'Tellaloud'

LONDON—A new kind of telephone, the "tellaloud," is being demonstrated by a British electronics firm.

It enables a group of people to join in a conversation, without holding handsets and while sitting in their chairs in the office or at home. It resembles a small radio set with a telephone dial in the center, a microphone on one side and a loudspeaker on the other.

The caller just switches on, dials his number and waits until the other voice is heard on the loudspeaker.

Neither person has to speak close to the microphone. Each can be heard by the other and several people can join in one conversation.

U. S. Buys Yugoslav Woodwork Products

BELGRADE—So great has been the postwar demand for wickerwork, one of Yugoslavia's oldest handicrafts, that large new areas have been turned into plantations for growing willow reeds.

The United States, in particular, has become a relatively heavy buyer of Yugoslavia's wicker and wood products. In 1955, for the first time, bentwood chairs, folding chairs and basketry manufacturers took first rank in that country's rather limited exports to America.

• •

Yugoslav beech, oak, walnut and ash are being made into furniture for sale abroad instead of being exported in unmanufactured form.

Drive-In Trash Cans

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—Drive-in trash cans are Florida's latest method of coaxing motorists not to scatter rubbish along the highways.

Signs along the right-of-way advise drivers they are approaching the cans which are set back from the road and reached by semi-circular approaches. All the motorist has to do is pause briefly, lean out the car window, drop in his trash and be on his way.

Suit Seeking Millions in Damages for Neglect Filed in Behalf of 88

DENVER (AP) — A suit seeking millions of dollars in damages from the U.S. government was filed in U.S. District Court yesterday on behalf of 88 persons whose sons or husbands were killed during the Korean War.

• • •

A court clerk said the suit asks payment of a million dollars in damages for relatives of each serviceman killed but the total damages could not be determined immediately.

The suit was filed by Eugene R. Guild, Glenwood Springs, Colo., a retired Army captain and long-time critic of the government's policy in Korea. He heads an organization he has called "Fighting Homefolks for Fighting Men."

His son, Marine Lt. John Guild, was killed early in the Korean fighting.

• • •

Guild and 87 other parents or wives of dead servicemen charged in the suit that "Presidents Truman and Eisenhower, on behalf of the defendant, betrayed our sons, husbands, to the enemy in the Korean War."

The suit alleged the two presidents also "deliberately withheld tactical and strategic support to which the American soldier was entitled in Korea."

"The government, in fear of and to appease the Red enemy, rigged the rules to prevent victory, thereby depriving our sons, husbands, of a better chance for their lives or liberty," the suit said.

• • •

The plaintiffs, whose homes are scattered throughout the nation, also claimed the government "deprived our men of their defenses, maintained a sanctuary for enemy planes, refused the aid of (Nationalist) Chinese allies and broke up a blockade on the Red China coast."

During the Korean War, Guild demanded that nuclear bombs be used in Korea to prevent more deaths of American servicemen.

Solar Radio Operates 8-Months in Dark

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — A 10-ounce, pocket-size solar-powered radio receiver capable of working more than eight months in total darkness without recharging has been developed by a Syracuse electric research laboratory.

• • •

There are no plans for early production of the radio, since highly efficient solar batteries such as those it must use are still too expensive to justify commercial manufacture.

Used at the rate of 2 hours a day, considered normal usage for a portable radio, it would work for a minimum of 250 days in absolute blackout.

Such long operation, it was said, is made possible by use of a miniature storage battery contained in a transparent plastic case along with four transistors, seven solar cells and other components.

Aluminum Saves Lives

ALBUQUERKUE, N. M. (AP)—Capt. Joseph Garner found a military use for kitchen aluminum foil and recently won a commendation from authorities at the Air Force Special Weapons Center at Kirtland AFB. At his suggestion, jet pilots there now carry sheets of the foil in their survival kits. Garner, an aeronautical engineer, suggested it makes good cooking utensils as well as emergency signaling reflectors for downed pilots.

H-Bomb Tests Insure Our Lives and Freedom

(The author of this, the last of three articles on the significance of the current nuclear tests in the Pacific, was director of the famed "Manhattan project," which produced history's first atomic bomb.)

By LT. GEN. LESLIE R. GROVES USA (Ret)

The current H-bomb tests are a form of insurance on our lives and freedom.

Only a foolish man would risk his life by jumping from an airplane with an untried parachute. Yet, there are those who would persuade us to stake the liberty of the free world on new defensive weapons on the drawing boards — weapons which have not been tested thoroughly.

Suggestions that we should not engage in further H-bomb tests, are impractical, to say the least. This would be, in my opinion, distinctly not in our best interests.

In this day and H-bomb era, once an enemy attacks, it will be too late to start testing and experimenting.

One of the greatest disadvantages of not testing is that we would never know if we were safe. We might design a bomb that could mean the difference between survival and death but would never be sure that if would work if we bowed to demands to stop testing.

Very few people would be willing to ride in an airplane that had never been tested but had merely been built from drawings and the fertile mind of an engineer. Why should we do less on this matter of such tremendous consequences?

There has been a lot of talk about sharing all of our scientific and technical secrets in the atomic field with Russia and other foreign nations. I have always been strongly opposed to this.

Just why should we give up all of this information? It is not just casual information. It is life and death information. It is information that might lead to the destruction of our country. It is information which, in the hands of an enemy, might lead to catastrophic war which might otherwise be avoided.

Some people say 'well, you don't have to tell them some of the technical secrets, but couldn't we tell the people of the world how many bombs we have and what our bomb production rate is and thus deter any potential aggressor?'

In my opinion, every bit of data is precious when it would enable an enemy power to plan more accurately and to determine more precisely whether or not it would be advantageous for him to attack us.

If he is behind us in production, it might well spur him on to greater efforts. There is nothing more likely to induce war or attack than for a potential enemy to be able to blueprint every single resource that we have and to know exactly what we are going to do.

We don't do it in any other activity. We don't tell our biggest business competitors what we are going to do tomorrow. No baseball manager ever tells his opposition what he is planning for the next game.

It just is not clear thinking to believe that by giving up this vital information we will improve our own position.

The best way to insure and preserve peace is to destroy any enemy's illusion that a cheap, quick and easy victory is assured. This point must be emphasized over and over.

Naturally, we are all disappointed that our efforts to achieve world peace through international control of mass destruction weapons did not prove successful.

I believe that today the Russians realize they made a mistake in spurning the sincere United States efforts which were made in 1946. Mr. Bernard M. Baruch's inspired initial address in the United Nations looked toward the permanent control of atomic and other weapons of mass destruction.

Personally, I doubt if any responsible leader or knowledgeable person in any country ever believed that the United States has any military ambitions to conquer other peoples.

It is unfortunate the Russians were not farsighted enough to go along with attempts to channel atomic energy solely into peaceful avenues.

Whether their attitude is changed today is another question. Most Americans are not sure of the Russian character and the Russian motives. We simply cannot understand them. We rightly view any Soviet pronouncements with suspicion and wonder whether they are really sincere.

Until foolproof international controls are set up, the best way we can insure the peace is to maintain our military strength and improve our defensive weapons to the point where an aggressor knows he will be severely punished if he starts a war.

State Economy to Profit at Seaway's Completion

LANSING (AP)—Completion of the St. Lawrence Seaway should increase present tonnage on the waterway by at least five times, legislators were told today.

Col. Arthur C. Nauman, of the Detroit district corps of engineers, gave the testimony before a Senate interim committee studying the impact of the Seaway on Michigan economy.

Col. Nauman said once the Seaway is completed, ships more than twice the size of those now using the waterway will be able to reach Michigan ports.

By 1956, he said, the St. Lawrence Seaway Corp. expects ships to carry 55 million tons of cargo annually compared to the present 10 million tons.

COMPLETED BY 1962

Work on dredging connecting channels is expected to begin this summer and is scheduled to be completed by 1962, he said. He warned, however, that this schedule could be delayed by availability of construction crews and supplies and changes in congressional appropriations.

An estimated 60 per cent of all money to be spent on improving connecting channels will be expended in the area from Port Huron to the lower Detroit River, Col. Nauman said.

Col. Nauman said that some potential ocean traffic to Michigan would be limited because of the Welland Locks needing improvement on the Canadian side.

He said present schedules call for 14-foot navigation depths by July, 1958, and 27-foot channels by the opening of the navigation season in 1959.

At present, he said, the Seaway can accommodate vessels 14 feet deep, 44 feet wide and 252 feet long. After improvements are made, the waterway will be able to accommodate vessels up to 30 feet in draught, 80 feet wide and 780 feet long.

In opening the hearing, Sen Carlton Morris (R-Kalamazoo) cited the need for early planning by Michigan and many of its communities in order to take full advantage of the seaway when it is completed.

THE SNARE DRUM

Saxophone, French horns, trumpets, cornets, slide trombones, and tubas belong to the "brass winds" group of instruments, and are used in bands as well as orchestras.

Then there is a final group, percussion instruments, sometimes called the timpani. This includes snare drum, kettle drum, bass drum, tamborine, xylophone, glockenspiel, chimes, gong cymbals, and castanets.

Connie has a snare drum, which has skin stretched over both ends, and beside her she has castanets which she can play either by hand or fastened to a handle.

Color this picture with crayons. Paste it down on cardboard, and then cut out the parts carefully. Fold forward the end of the panel on the dotted line, and Connie will stand up.

Attach the separate arms by putting brass fasteners or bent pins through the holes indicated, and then Connie can swing her drumsticks.

Atom Fuel Is Made by Swedish Process

STOCKHOLM — Five tons of highly refined uranium metal will be the annual output of the first Swedish atomic - fuel plant, the semipublic Atomic Energy Company's new unit near Stockholm. It has just gone into full production.

* * *

The entire process is Swedish, from the concentration of the uranium-bearing shale at Kvarntorp, in the central province of Naerke, to the metal itself.

Later the plant will be enlarged to include a unit in which uranium is converted into atomic fuel.

The uranium produced will be stored until a new experimental reactor has been completed and industrial reactors have been built.

Ohio Convicts Enroll as Cancer 'Guinea Pigs'

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)— Warden Ralph W. Alvis asked for 25 volunteers from among convicts in Ohio Penitentiary to take injections of live cancer cells in a cancer research project.

Nearly four times that number responded to the plea in last Saturday's Ohio Penitentiary News, a prison publication.

Announcing details of the research project yesterday, Alvis said between eight and a dozen men will be selected from among the 96 volunteers, each to take injections of live cancer cells.

The project is to be conducted by the Sloan-Kettering Research Institute of New York City and Ohio State University's college of medicine. Information on how a non-cancerous individual's system kills off foreign cancer cells transplated into the body is the object.

REMOVE AREA

Two weeks after the injections, the injected area in one forearm will be removed surgically for study. The cancer cells will remain in the individual's other forearm for an indefinite period.

* * *

Dr. Richard H. Brooks, prison medical director, said researchers do not expect the cells to multiply. "But if they do, the injected areas will immediately be surgically removed," he said. Numerous different cell types will be used, Dr. Brooks said.

* * *

Among the convicts who gave reasons for volunteering, a majority said members of their families had died or were suffering from cancer, said Alvis. Several, he said, volunteered out of gratitude to the prison.

* * *

"One man said he had received an education in prison which he could never have obtained otherwise," the warden said.

Tornado Alarm System for Motor City Predicted

DETROIT (AP)—A "sound and uniform" program for handling tornado and other natural disasters is in the making for the Detroit area.

A committee of 50 Red Cross, Civil Defense, police and city officials, meeting yesterday to develop such a plan, heard Detroit Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins report that the state can expect tornado warnings for the next 90 days. Moreover, he said, "meteorologists tell me that this condition will persist during this season for the next 10 years."

"In other words, tornadoes are more probable now than air raids and nuclear bombing," Piggins declared.

DISASTER AREAS PICKED

Maj. Gen. Clyde E. Daugherty, Detroit and Wayne County Civil Defense chief, said his group has set up 270 disaster areas, all centered at the nearest school. He said all Civil Defense activities were ready to function quickly at Detroit area schools.

At Lansing, J. E. Griffin, acting state Civil Defense director, said yesterday that the St. Clair County sheriff's department already has devised a "very good" system of warning county residents of approaching tornadoes.

The system, set up three years ago by Sheriff Ferris Lucas, county Civil Defense director, is based on direct telephone contact with 35 specially trained tornado spotters living in scattered sections of the country.

When one of the spotters notifies Lucas that a tornado funnel has been sighted, he pushes an electric button in his office. The button actuates a small radio set which sends out a warning tone to receiving equipment in 11 township fire departments.

Firemen, hearing the signal, turn on radios to hear reports on the tornado's progress. They in turn warn township residents, schools and business places.

Ohio Police Witness Ax Slaying of Wife

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Dayton police today held a 53-year-old man they said split his wife's skull with an ax, killing her, as police rushed toward them in a vain effort to rescue the woman.

* * *

Police said they were called last night to the West Side apartment of Reed Alexander by neighbors who said Alexander and his wife Elizabeth, 50, were quarreling. When police arrived, the two were standing in the street in front of the apartment.

* * *

As officers ran toward the couple, police said, Alexander raised a long-handled ax and struck his wife.

Alexander is held for investigation.

Bus Transfer Trick Sends Man to Jail

CHICAGO (AP)—Thomas A. Harris, 29, a State Street bus driver, called police yesterday when an elderly man handed him a transfer which Harris said was out-of-date.

* * *

Harris told police a new date had been pasted on the transfer given him by Walker Therien, 72. Police said many of the dates on the nearly 100 transfers found in Therien's pockets also had been altered. They said he also had a bank book showing deposits of $12,880. A bank confirmed his deposits.

* * *

Therien, charged with disorderly conduct and using a scheme or device to perpetrate a fraud, was jailed when he refused to put up $25 bond.

Anxious Chester Learns to Fly Plane in 1-Day

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Chester Day took his first flight instruction at 9:45 a.m. and made his first solo flight at 3:30 p.m. of the same day.

His instructor said it was the shortest training period he ever had had for a pupil.

Orders Crackdown on Striking Drivers

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentina's provisional government today put striking public transport workers in Buenos Aires under military control.

* * *

President Pedro Aramburu's regime ordered "mobilization" of the trolley, bus and subway drivers who staged a surprise walkout yesterday afternoon at the start of the rush hour. Only government-run lines were affected, but the small private companies could not begin to cope with the mass of homeward-bound workers in this city of four million people.

* * *

A big percentage of the population of Greater Buenos Aires commutes to work. The sudden stoppage left thousands of persons stranded on street corners. Night fell before many of them managed to make their way home by taxi or other means.

Warning Signals for Eruptions Urged in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP)—Dr. Gordon A. MacDonald, noted Hawaiian volcanologist, urged today that instruments capable of picking up imminent volcanic outbreaks be set up immediately on Oahu and Kauai islands.

He said there are no instruments in the area capable of picking up tremors that precede an eruption.

Dr. MacDonald said the belching of smoke and ashes from an eruption 40 miles from Honolulu in the Kauai Channel is evidence that the volcanoes of the north Hawaii chain still are potentially active. However, he doesn't think the undersea eruptions noted by planes the past two days necessarily mean a shift to either of the heavily populated islands.

$100 Acts of Conscience

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — A bothered conscience was responsible for a $100 bill found in an unsigned letter sent to Ernest Evans.

Evans said he had no idea who sent the letter and money nor why.

The letter said, "Dear Sir. I feel I owe you this money. Thank you. An act of conscience."

Army Uniform Contracts Investigation Unearths More 'Willful Irregularities'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark) said today "willful irregularities" in the handling of government contracts for military uniforms have been shown in an inquiry by his Investigations subcommittee.

* * *

"The plot thickens every time we hear another witness," he told reporters, declaring the testimony spells out a story of "willful irregularities that go beyond mere incompetence or inefficiency."

COLONEL ON STAND

McClellan said Army Col. Louis H. Shirley will be asked to reply, probably tomorrow, to an unsworn statement that $24,745 in alleged "kickbacks" on one contract had been described as a fund to make "payoffs" to Shirley. The allegation was made by John W. Roberts, a Briton from whom this country is trying to collect some back income taxes.

Shirley termed this "absolutely untrue and a lie" and said he hopes to testify tomorrow.

Shirley, 51, is stationed at Ft. Lee, Va., as an assistant to the commanding general. Reached at his home near there, he said he never had heard of Roberts.

In previous testimony last June 23, Shirley swore he never took any bribes and that "I know nothing about any finaglers."

Sol Schlesinger, head of the Ideal Uniform Cap Co. of Freeport, N.Y., who allegedly got the $27,745, testified the same day he never bribed Shirley. Schlesinger invoked the Fifth Amendment against possible self-incrimination in declining to answer questions about other phases of his business with government people. He also may testify tomorrow, McClellan said.

* * *

McClellan said "Col. Shirley has much to explain" about his reasons for awarding two contracts to Schlesinger for the manufacture of 720,000 Air Force caps in 1950 and 1951. Shirley then was a Quartermaster Corps procurement officer, handling contracts for all of the armed forces.

POOR JUDGMENT?

Witnesses testified yesterday that Shirley awarded the contracts in the face of an inspector's findings that Ideal Uniform Cap Co. had neither the staff nor equipment to produce more than 350,000 caps in the allotted time, was not the low bidder on the second contract, and had made a poor record of previous work for the government.

* * *

Howard Bayly, president of the J. W. Bayly & Sons hat factory in Philadelphia, claimed his own bid was low for 220,000 of the caps, but that he was denied the contract.

Jack S. Balaban, a subcommittee investigator, testified that Schlesinger got the second contract although he said the government had to pay a subcontractor an extra $18,000 to help Schesslinger catch up with production on the first one.

* * *

The subcontractor, Balaban said, was the Mid-City Uniform Cap Co. of Chicago, owned by Harry Lev, who now is under federal indictment on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government.

British Copy U.S.

DOVER, England (INS)—British hotelkeepers are cautiously building American-style motels in England, noted for its ancient inns. A first motel venture at Newingreen, near Dover, was hailed as a curiosity. But two others have been built, and a dozen are in the planning stage.

Bolivia Buys Cattle

LA PAZ, Bolivia—Some 750 Cebu cattle are being imported by Bolivia from Brazil in an effort to improve its livestock industry. The animals are being driven over a 750-mile overland route to the Beni District, where they will be crossed with the district's native cattle.

Salty Sled Runs

You don't have to wait for the snow to practice winter sports in Germany. The salt mines between Berchtesgaden and Austria's Salzburg are lit up like diamond fairylands. Sporty tourists add to the fun by zooming on wooden sleds down the salt slides from one cavern level to the other.

Coal Tops Rail Freight

CINCINNATI — Soft coal is the largest single commodity carried by American railroads. In 1954 it accounted for 17 per cent of total revenue freight loadings and yielded the railroads income of more than $960,000,000, nearly 18 per cent of the railroads' total freight revenues.

NEW-TYPE BOAT WITH A LASTING FLOAT—In his new-type unsinkable lifeboat, Claus Sorensen, of Esbjerg, Denmark, sits in the navigator's seat as the craft is put through a trial run. The boat, 20 feet long and seven feet wide, is capable of holding eight tons. A proposed world cruise will test the craft's unsinkability in hurricane weather.

National Parks Expect Tourist Overflow

WASHINGTON — Nature's wonderland of scenery in the national parks is expected to lure a record-breaking number of travelers—at least 53,000,000 this year.

* * *

Termed "irreplaceable national treasures" by President Eisenhower, the parks attract ever increasing numbers: 380,000 in 1916, more than 20,000,000 in 1941 and about 50,000,000 in 1955, the National Geographic Society says.

* * *

Conrad L. Wirth, director of the National Park Service, foresees 80,000,000 visitors a year by 1966.

DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The Park Service has started a 10-year program nicknamed "Mission 66" to care for the increasing demands on facilities. It will provide overnight accommodations for 54,000 visitors, as compared to present quarters for 26,000. Additional campsites, parking and picnic areas, improved roads, trails, power and communication systems, will increase enjoyment of parks and historic areas.

Any government facilities or concessions which mar natural beauties of the parks will be relocated. Altogether, the National Park Service looks after 181 areas. From Acadia in Maine and the Florida Everglades, the group extends westward to Mount Rainier in Washington and the Channel Islands off the California coast.

Of all the areas, the Blue Ridge Parkway in Virginia and North Carolina drew the largest number of travelers in 1955 — more than 4,000,000. Three other areas counted 2,000,000 persons—Great Smoky Mountains National Park, the Natchez Trace Parkway in Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee, and Lake Mead National Recreational Area in Arizona-Nevada.

ISLE ROYALE, TOO

Both East and West boast parks and historic areas with familiar names: Yellowstone in Wyoming, Montana and Idaho, Glacier in Montana, Yosemite in California, Zion in Utah, Grand Canyon in Arizona, Mammoth Cave in Kentucky, the Great Smoky Mountains in North Carolina and Tennessee, Isle Royale in Michigan, and Shenandoah in Virginia.

Reaching into the Territories, the system includes 20,320-foot Mount McKinley in Alaska, highest summit in North America, and Hawaii National Park with the scenic volcanoes Kilauea and Mauna Loa and the extinct cone of Haleakala.

Museums and historic houses in the parks receive about 14,000,000 persons a year. Nearly 4,000,000 visitors attend lectures and campfire programs. Some 2,000,000 go on guided tours.

* * *

The battlefield at Gettysburg, which was visited by 719,740 persons in 1955, holds top interest among the National Military Parks and Cemeteries. Shiloh, Tennessee, also a popular shrine, attracted 505,895.

Crushed to Death

MUSKEGON (AP) — James Varga, 45, of Muskegon Heights, suffered fatal injuries Monday in a work accident at Shaw-Box Crane Division. Coroner John A. DeHorn said Varga was assisting a crane operator and was crushed when a sheet of steel broke loose and fell on him.

Dragon trees in the Canary Islands may be 50 feet in circumference and 3,000 years old.

Medical Doctor's Course Presents Arduous Trial

(Many high school seniors will start college next fall. To acquaint them and their parents with what they might expect in training they might take, this fourth of five articles has been prepared.)

By JOHN BARBOUR

ANN ARBOR (AP)—"When we consider applications for medical school, we are selecting a doctor, not just a student."

* * *

To the high school student who hopes someday to be a doctor, these words by Wayne L. Whitaker, assistant dean of the University of Michigan's Medical School, have considerable import.

There is more to being a doctor than an abstract wish, more than an inclination to science studies, more than the desire to emulate a relative or friend in the medical profession.

"We deplore the tendency," Prof. Whitaker says, "to classify students early by their ultimate goals . . . a general education is the first requirement."

MUST KNOW ENGLISH

What should the high school student bring with him to his first four years in college? "A sound preparation in the use of the English language and other languages as a foundation of success in mathematics and the sciences," says Prof. Whitaker.

He should develop "the habit of study and the habit of success." He should be "physically able to stand rigorous study" and "have considerable manual dexterity."

It is quite all right, Prof. Whitaker says, for a student to have "a tentative interest in medicine, but he should also have an open mind to sample other fields."

"He should," he adds, "expose himself to many courses, different teachers and associate with people in other professions."

NEEDS THE CLASSICS

Emphasis on science in high school is not enough. "It is unfortunate," Prof. Whitaker says, "that he should go so far in science in high school as to have no time for literature, history and language."

The cost and time involved in training often scare off applicants. After four years of college, a would-be doctor must take four years of general medical school and at least a year of internship before practice. If he wants to specialize, he must add two to five years of residency training in his specialty.

There is a great need for more doctors in central and northern Michigan. With the wartime bulge of returning veterans over, medical schools are accepting about half of the students who apply.

They carefully explain, however, that they want more well-qualified applicants—especially from doctor-short areas.

* * *

"We are interested," Prof. Whitaker explains, "only in the person and his qualifications."

An applicant is judged not on grades alone, but on his personal maturity and his maturity of purpose. He must have, Prof. Whitaker says:

* * *

"The motivation or desire to be a physician; interest in other people; integrity; initiative and considerable courage."

Because he will care for the lives of other people, he must be sound without question.

Turkish Quads Collect $800 in Prize Money

IZMIR, Turkey—The only quadruplets in Turkey—named Liberty, Justice, Fraternity and Equality—recently won $800 in a drawing held by a bank for its depositors.

* * *

The quads were born in July, 1950, to Ayshe Susuzlu, wife of an itinerant vendor of Izmir.

* * *

Liberty is a boy; the other three are girls. They were born on the anniversary of the proclamation of Turkey's democratic constitution.

Irish Hope to Make Silk From Seaweed

DUBLIN — Ballina, in County Mayo, hopes to gain a new industry, with the help of Dutch authorities. It will be the manufacture of silk from seaweed.

* * *

Sea rods and seaweed are the raw materials for the making of artificial silk and its by-products. Largest output at present comes from the Netherlands where there are three factories exporting to America, it is said.

But Ballina people have long been gathering seaweed and believe they could easily rival the Dutch producers, if either Dutch or Irish capital can be interested in the new industry.

Grim Sea Search Fails to Stir Film Fans

ABOARD USS McKINLEY, ENIWETOK PROVING GROUND (INS)—One of the very strangest scenes that has unfolded in front of these eyes in 25 years in this business presented itself the other night aboard this communications ship.

The night's movie continued to bellow on the fantail (Alec Guiness in "The Detective") while the ship shuddered to a stop, its searchlights played, and two boats were lowered into the raging Pacific in search of a downed flier.

What is more, better than a half of those watching the movie did not budge from their seats. Callousness would seem to have reached a point it might have difficulty attaining again.

Guiness' shadowy antics outshone as grim a real life story as these times can tell, an airman down in a black and surly sea.

* * *

True, the futility of trying to find one bobbing head in a black and endless seascape must have helped root the movie viewers to their chairs. The sea is deceptive as well as cruel, and the minds of searchers are fertile with wishful thoughts.

A thousand times as the great lights passed over the waters one's heart leaped at the sight of what surely, this time, must be a buffeted raft or a man waving his hand. The lights would pause . . . and the breaker, for that it was, would return to the color of the water about it.

BRIGHT OBJECT

Once a searchlight reflected a tantalizingly bright little object in the water perhaps a mile away. It blinked on and off, and the men who lined the rails must have remembered that this is how the downed flier's buddy had been rescued 15 hours before — by flashlighting a passing plane.

From his bridge, the McKinley's skipper, Capt. H. A. Renken, barked an order to keep the light trained on the object, and by radio he ordered his two surfaced boats to close in.

It was a beer can.

Capt. Paul Crumley, the missing flier, took off with Capt. James E. Hall in a twin-jet B57 light bomber just three minutes before Adm. Red Hanlon called off the H-bomb test for the ninth time.

Their British-designed Martin-built jet was the 17th plane airborne that morning, including the massive B52 which at least proved the H-bomb is portable and got back safely to earth with a load equivalent to several million tons of TNT.

The 18th plane in line was about to follow Crumley and Hall into the pre-dawn darkness when the postponement was announced.

Crumley and Hall climbed into the darkness on a mission that would have sounded like science fiction a little over one decade ago. Their job was to race through the stem of the radioactive mushroom at about 20,000 feet and streak back to base with what they found therein.

* * *

The normal wingtip tanks of their craft had been replaced by great scoops leading to rear chambers in which the highly dangerous particles could be trapped.

The customary board of enquiry is at work but as of this writing no one, including the surviving Hall, knows what happened. The plane iced up at 20,000 feet. Hall, piloting, asked permission to go to 24,000 and it was given.

At 22,000 the craft went out of control and Hall sounded "May-Day"—the ultimate distress call. They let the canopy go off into space and pressed the buttons which shot them and their seats up, out and over the razory rudder of the stricken plane.

Hall was picked up 3 hours and 35 minutes later and was back in action 48 hours later.

It can be only small balm to Mrs. Crumley, but it's not likely there have been many more faithful and thorough searches ever made for a lost man. Or more prayers offered that he has found a place where people can live without thought or fear of the bomb that indirectly cost him he life.

One would like to think that the movie watchers prayed, too.

Education Host to 150 for Day

Event Highlights Needs of City System During Annual Program

In a "turnabout" inspection, some 150 representatives of Pontiac business and industry took a day off from their jobs yesterday to tour the city's schools for annual BIE Day. Only this year it was EBI Day (Education-Business-Industry).

Purpose of the day's program was to better acquaint business and industry with the school system and its needs, according to John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, which sponsors the annual event.

Businessmen met for a morning session at Pontiac High School which included several musical numbers by the Pontiac High School band under the direction of Dale C. Harris; a welcome from Louis Schimmel, president of the Board of Education; and a talk by Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of schools, on the current and future financial outlook of the schools.

From 10 a.m. to 12 noon the visitors to the schools toured assigned schools to become better acquainted with school operation, new equipment being used and methods of teaching.

Visitors to the new Madison Junior High School were among those impressed with school facilities. The layout of the classrooms, the gymnasium's facilities and the new cafeteria were among items praised by the visitors.

"Things weren't like this when I was in school," — "teachers are prettier nowadays," — "The use of new equipment is good," were some of the many comments the visitors had to say about their tour.

Use of tape recorders, slides and the parents' part in school activities, were some of things that impressed the visitors.

* * *

A barrage of questions struck the teachers when they joined their visitors for lunch at the 25 public and three parochial schools participating in EBI activities.

The day's program officially ended at 1:30 p.m. About 25 of the business and industry representatives went back to the high school to question Dr. Whitmer and his staff about new developments in counseling, science and reading.

Chairman of the day's program was James F. Nye and serving on the planning committee were Robert Emerick, Hirlinger, Dr. Whitmer, Cecil Cox, Francis Staley, Edward T. Barrett, Dr. George N. Petroff and Cecil Thrash.

AT MADISON—Pupil James Weisenborne, explains a project under way in crafts class to Jack Zeunen of the Detroit Edison Co. (center) and R. M. Critchfield, general manager of Pontiac Motor. The project was letter openers made as favors for the EBI guests.

'The Body' McDonald Reported 'Satisfactory'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Marie (The Body) McDonald, who last week told police her estranged husband struck her on the abdomen, is in "satisfactory condition" at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where she went yesterday for observation of her pregnancy.

The husband, shoe manufacturer Harry Karl, whom she has married, divorced and remarried, has filed suit for divorce. Their child is expected in four months.

Red Cross Group Reviews Progress, Names Leaders

Approximately 125 Oakland County Chapter members of the American Red Cross attended the annual dinner meeting of the chapter at the Pontiac Motor executive dining room last night.

Main speaker of the evening was Robert Shea, national Red Cross vice president, in charge of national emergency planning for Red Cross in Washington, D. C. Topic for the evening was "75 Years of Service" in which Shea outlined accomplishments of Red Cross and the "tremendous job yet to be done."

In speaking of the founding of Red Cross, She said, "This was the opportunity to bring God and the goodness of man to the battlefields of the world. From there Red Cross evolved to its position today of helping in peacetime as well as war."

He discussed Red Cross accomplishments in which the organization had pioneered, such as water safety programs, first aid, blood donation and public health nursing.

"This spirit of pioneering must exist today, "She said, "We have barely scratched the surface of some of these programs. We haven't done the complete job."

Chapter officers, a Board of Directors and the Executive Committee of the Oakland County chapter were elected and installed in other business at the meeting.

A report on the Flint tornado was given by Terry Townsend, director of Field Service for the Michigan Chapter.

Presiding over the meeting was the Rev. William Hamm, Assisting him in giving 41 awards to volunteer members contributing five, 10 and 15 years of service to the chapter were Leonard Lewis, Pontiac first vice chairman, and Mrs. Mildred E. Bennet, Pontiac, executive director of the county group.

Mrs. Doreen Voltmann directed the Pontiac High School Girl's Ensemble in several numbers preceding the program.

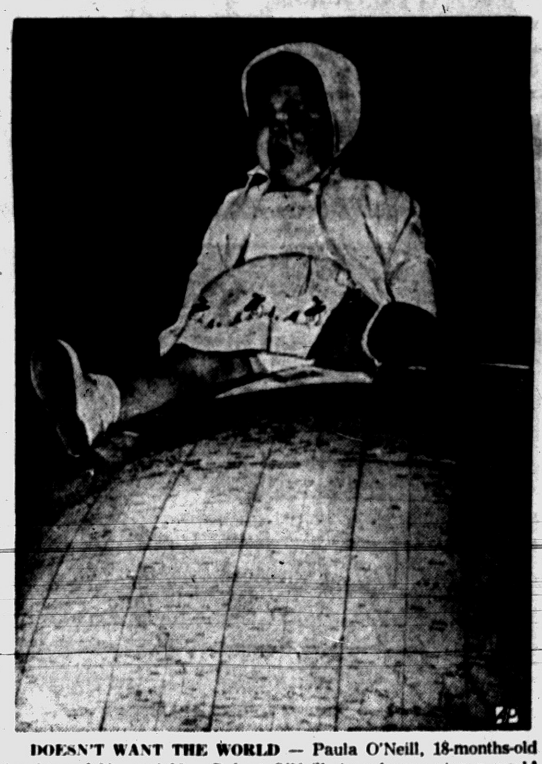
In charge of arrangements for the meeting was Leonard Lewis assisted by Mrs. John Blanchard.

The same chapter officers were re-elected. They include the Rev. Mr. Hamm, chapter chairman; Lewis, first vice chairman; Carleton C. Patterson Jr., of Pontiac, second vice chairman; Adolph Klein, of Royal Oak, treasurer; and Mrs. A. T. Barnes of Royal Oak, secretary.

Now executive committee members elected for three year terms were Mrs. John Blanchard of Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. D. H. Curry, Royal Oak; and Richard Poole of Pontiac.

New board members for 3 years include Mrs. Reynold Berti, of Royal Oak; Mrs. Blanchard, Mrs. Curry, Fred Haggard, of Drayton Plains; Mrs. W. E. Lentz, of Holly; Mrs. G. H. Goble, of Rochester; Mrs. A. H. Magnus, of Bloomfield Hills; Mrs. F. C. Ozar, of Berkley; Poole, Patrick Thomas of Madison Heights; George T. Jeffers, of Birmingham; and Mrs. Carl Pirscher, of Oak Park.



DOESN'T WANT THE WORLD — Paula O'Neill, 18-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O'Neill, is unhappy atop a world globe on arrival in New York aboard liner Independence. Her father was Vice Consul at Bilbao, Spain.

It Ain't Funny—Not to the Man Who Has a Lawn

BECKLEY, W.Va. (AP) — Ben Porterfield lives in a "house by the side of the road" and he's getting tired of motorists smashing down his fence and coming into his front yard. Yesterday it happened for the 27th time.

* * *

Porterfield, who lives on a curve of Johnstown Road, built a fence of locust posts and wire to start with, but to no avail. Later he drove railroad rails into the ground, but they too fell before the onslaught. For his latest attempt he filled an old water tank with concrete, making an eight-foot barrier a foot in diameter and sunk halfway into the ground, like an iceberg.

* * *

It got the business yesterday when Stanley Hollinghead, 32, of Quinwood smashed through into the front yard. Porterfield, who does not see the humor in the situation, says he's going to sue the State Road Commission and the city because, he said, they had been promising to fix the curve.

Red Germans Return Dresden Art Works

BERLIN (AP)—The Dresden art collection is on its way home.

The paintings are being shipped from East Berlin to the state art museum in Dresden. An exhibition there June 4 will coincide with the city's 750th anniversary observance.

The paintings were removed from the Dresden gallery in the early days of World War II and hidden in 50 underground shelters. This precaution saved them. The gallery was bombed out and today is still only partly restored.

Samaritan Gets Hurt

England Resolves to Keep Her Overseas Colonies

LONDON (AP)—Britain, celebrating the 40th anniversary of Empire Day today, has hardened her resolve to hold several restless overseas bastions no matter how much the people there want to get rid of the Union Jack.

* * *

The British resolve to remain ruler of strategic outposts — proclaimed by Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd in a speech this week — cuts across a traditional policy of leading colonies to political independence. The idea was that the colonies, once freed, would continue to coordinate their military, economic and foreign policies with Britain's as members of the British Commonwealth.

A BREACH OF FAITH

That policy still applies to "non-strategic" imperial territories. But mounting anti-British campaigns in Cyprus and Singapore — and the ambitions of Aden's neighbors Saudi Arabia and Yemen — promise little hope for Britain's influence once she releases those outlying military outposts.

* * *

"It would be a breach of faith with the rising generation," Lloyd said, "for us to cast away those overseas possessions which are vital to our strategic interests."

The foreign minister specifically named Cyprus (in the eastern Mediterranean) Aden (a sentinel point for the Suez Canal, Arabian Sea and the Indian Ocean) and Singapore (crossroads of Southeast Asia).

OTHER BASTIONS

Lloyd's statement also applies to three other fortress-colonies — Gibraltar and Malta in the Mediterranean, and Hong Kong, on the South China Sea and Red China's southern doorstep. But their inhabitants have given no signs they want to break with Britain. If anything, they have sought to strengthen their links.

* * *

Of the nonstrategic territories, Lloyd observed:

"We have been taking risks, in my view rightly, in heaping responsibility on those who, in theory, may not yet be fully ready for it."

He obviously had in mind Britain's promise of full independence to Malaya by August 1957, to the Gold Coast on the westward bulge of Africa after a general election, and to the project for a self-governing Caribbean federation.

British spokesmen maintain they have to hang on to such key bases as Cyprus, Aden and Singapore not only as vital links in the worldwide empire chain but also as bastions for the free world. Without them, the nation's leaders believe, Britain cannot maintain the economic and military power which makes the commonwealth America's leading partner in the Western alliance.

But, Will They Take It?

One Way to End Pollution

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—An industrial engineer says the only way the problem of air pollution can be eliminated overnight is "to give up our automobiles, do without heating systems, shut down the vast industrial network that provides us with the necessities and luxuries of life, and return the country to the Indians."

* * *

Granville M. Read, chief engineer of the E. I. Du Pont de Nemours and Co., states the problem stemmed directly from trying "to meet the demands of twentieth century technological advances in eighteenth century city locations and layouts."

Most of our large cites, Read said, " have paid, and will continue to pay, an uncomfortable penalty for their location until some genius of the future discovers how the forces of nature can be harnessed."

Read addressed a dinner meeting Tuesday of the Air Pollution Control Assn., which is holding its 49th annual meeting here.

He said industry was spending an estimated half billion to combat the problem.

Irish Lead World in Eating Praties

DUBLIN — The Irish are the world's champion potato eaters, a Food and Agricultural Organization bulletin reports. They ate 403 pounds each last year, almost twice the European average and four times the American.

* * *

The Irish do not eat much fruit —only 55 pounds last year. The Swiss ate 198 pounds of fruit and the Belgians 192.

* * *

The average European ate 136 pounds of fruit last year and 159 pounds of vegetables. These figures compare with 97.9 pounds of fruit and 149.6 pounds of vegetables before World War II.

Back Seat Advice May Help Airmen in Sonic Flight

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. (INS) — Back-seat driving, one of the most irritating of traffic hazards, may be turned into an asset for airplane pilots.

* * *

According to John M. Williamson, chief flight test engineer at Republic Aviation Corporation, plans already are being considered to help pilots of future aircraft from the back seat through the use of automatic electronic devices.

He predicted that aircraft to follow the current F-84F Thunderstreak, will need this help because of the tremendous speeds it may attain.

He pointed out that the aid pilots receive from "aerodynamic damping" falls off sharply around 800 miles an hour. This is the tendency of the airplane to make its own corrections when deviated from straight and level flight by "bumps" in the air.

Army Hires Aliens

WASHINGTON — Fewer than 14,000 of the 300,000 civilian workers hired by the United States Army in foreign countries are American citizens. The remainder are natives of the area in which they work.

100 Kinds of Fossils

WASHINGTON — More than 400 fossil birds are now known from North America and the West Indies. Almost 100 species were added to the previously known list in the last 15 years.

Long Process Gives Vanilla Bean Flavor

TANANARIVE, Madagascar — When harvested, vanilla beans have little flavor. They must undergo a process of curing or fermentation as carefully controlled as in the finest wines.

* * *

During this curing, which takes several months in the sun, they change from green to chocolate black and shrivel.

Years ago homemakers bought whole beans, chopped them in the kitchen, and steeped them to bring ou the flavor. Now the extract is usually the result of percolation. Chopped beans are placed in baskets suspended inside a glass-lined vat.

While the beans are agitated, warm alcohol and water are continually pumped from the bottom to the top of the vat until all the flavor is taken out of the beans.

The mast of the U. S. aircraft carrier Saratoga stands above the water as high as a 25-story building.

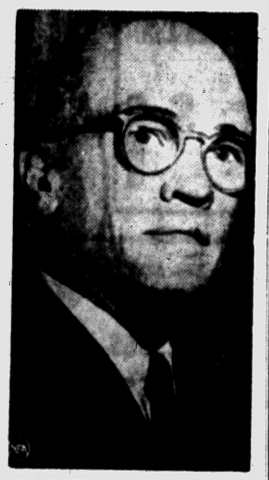
Let Family Doctor Decide to Call Specialist for You



DR. JACK DeTAR: The family doctor is team captain.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — When you're sick, don't call a specialist.

* * *

That's the advice of family physicians who are members of the American Academy of General Practice. The word comes from their Eighth Annual Scientific Assembly here.

What the doctors mean, however, is that you, the patient, should not decide to call in a specialist.

"You're making a self-diagnosis when you do," Dr. Jack DeTar, new head of AAGP, explains. "Let your family doctor decide if you need a specialist," he warns, "because the general practitioner can take care of about 80 per cent of your ills.

"Modern medical care requires the services of a medical team," Dr. DeTar admits, "but the family doctor, a diagnostician, should be the captain of that team."

AT THE PEAK

This is the keystone of a long battle which the AAGP has fought against what it considers to be a dangerous over-emphasis of specialization in medical education and practice in the U.S.

Right now, AAGP members agree, medical specialization in the U.S. is at its peak. A recent study of the medical class of 1950 reveals that 82 per cent have now become specialists. And today there are 98 resident physicians training in U.S. hospitals for specialties, to two training for general practice.

As a result, more than 30 million Americans have no regular family physician.

SCHOOLS COMPLY

Recent action by the American Medical Association, however, should swing the pendulum back to normal, AAGP members hope. The AMA recently passed a resolution requesting the 80 U. S. medical schools to create special courses for training general practitioners. Only eight of the schools had such courses previously. The schools are complying with this request.

The AAGP is also helping with a new program which has 1,000 medical students spending various periods working with general practitioners.

Medical specialization has boosted the country's doctor bills to a dangerous point, claims Dr. Ralph Cross of Johnson City, Tenn. "It has put the cost of medical care out of the reach of many patients," he says, "and could lead to socialization of medicine."

THE 'HOPPER'

"Specialist hopper" is the name they give to persons who ignore the family physician. One doctor tells of a patient who developed severe head pains and rushed to a brain tumor specialist. After long expensive study the specialist simply told the man that he did not have a brain tumor.

Next the man rushed to a specialist on high blood pressure. Another big bill told him his blood pressure was all right.

Finally the man went to his family doctor. Knowing the family, the doctor quickly diagnosed the head pains as resulting from a family difficulty. When the family trouble was ironed out the pains left.

* * *

More money, better hours and medical school training are the causes of too much specialization, members of the AAGP agree.

* * *

They agree there is a vital place for the specialist. But they claim that the profession has got to have more general practitioners if the American public is going to get the brand of medical attention it needs.

King of Jazz Cherishes Work - - - Even After 50 Years

Paul Whiteman Rejoices Over Newest Job

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Paul Whiteman, the spherical czar of modern jazz, has been making music for 50 years—and what does he get for it?

• • •

Not a rockin' chair from the estate of Mildred Bailey; not a 14-karat recording of "Rhapsody in Blue;" not a citation from the dozens of top musician's he's discovered. But a brand new chance to go back to work.

"It's a whole new show," says the maestro as if he were a kid again, at the turn of the century, eyeing his first music chick in a New York saloon. It's great, I tell you."

Whiteman, it should be noted here, is not mentally ill. He is just extremely physically fit and music mad. Since he first picked up a baton in 1906 and discovered that by waving it in the air, great melodies surged through his ample interior, he has been a sucker for work.

"I will cherish the right to work until the day I lay down my baton," he says,—"and I trust that won't happen until the day I die."

The music world's brightest stars turned out last night to celebrate with Whiteman his 50th anniversary in show business, and to hear about his NBC-TV "The Paul Whiteman Show."

It's a Tuesday night affair in which a famous guest star each week selects a promising young entertainer—no amateurs, please—to be presented on the show.

"Then we build the entire show around them and give them their—well, how can you say it without cliches — their big chance!"

It's well known that, among dozens of legendary successes in show business who have been boosted by the bulky Whiteman, were Bing Crosby, Bix Biederbeck, the Dorsey brothers, Johnny Mercer and Jane Froman.

George Gershwin wrote "Rhapsody in Blue" especially for Whiteman's first all-jazz concert in Aeolian Hall in 1924, and Paul and George must have felt they had mutually discovered one another.

• • •

"You know, the music business is one of the toughest there is to break into. There are millions of very good musicians, and I suppose there are even hundreds of great ones.

"But there's just room for so many at the top—and what all of them yearn for, and few ever get, is that one big break that makes all the training and talent worthwhile."

MODEST MAN

In all other ways, Whiteman is a modest man. But when it comes to conceding his worth as a discoverer of talent. . .Well, he capitulates.

• • •

"It's been most important phase of my life." His mustache trembled sentimentally. "You don't get coy with most important achievements of your life."

The maestro says that the biggest thrill he has had in recent years came when his home town of Denver dedicated a new $4 million dollar school to his father. Whiteman Sr. had served as supervisor of music in Denver schools for more than 30 years.

"He was a fine and important man, Says Whiteman wistfully. "I wish I were half as good."

• • •

There are thousands of greatful musicians who would say he is twice as good as the next best man. But this is no time for sentiment. Back to work, Mr. W.—the second half century is the toughest.

"Delighted," said Paul.

Clothes for Dancing

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Billy R. Granger reported to police somebody stole a pair of pants, sports shirt and shoes from his car outside a dance hall.

A couple of days later, police were making a routine check of the place. Granger was there. Suddenly, he turned and pointed to a youth on the dance floor.

"My clothes," he said.

They were.

Many Towns Own Forests

CHICAGO — Some 3,300 communities in 47 states own forests that yield revenue from the sale of timber, aid in soil-erosion prevention, and flood control, and provide recreation areas.

Niuafo'ou, Tincan Island of the Pacific, Today Is but an Abandoned Paradise

WASHINGTON—Ever get a letter postmarked "Tin Can Island"? It's probably the only spot in the world where sharks rather than dogs nipped at the heels of a postman on his route.

• • •

Wave-lashed and remote, the volcanic isle of Niuafo'ou smolders on the northern fringe of the Tonga archipelago, the Friendly Islands of the South Pacific. For years, the National Geographic Society says, islanders swam to steamers far offshore to collect mail in sealed biscuit tins. As the paddling postmen's fame spread, stamp collectors sent countless letters to be reposted with the imprint "Tin Can Mail."

Nature, however, was less friendly to Niuafo'ou than to other islands in the Tonga group. Frequent eruptions made the 10-square-mile island about as comfortable to live on as a sizzling doughnut. The recent death of George Quensell, a founder of the unique postal system, adds another milestone to the fateful history of Niuafo'ou.

Tonga tradition says the god Maui, grappling with an immense fishhook, pulled Niuafo'ou from the bottom of the sea.

CROWNLESS HAT

Certainly the island has curious topography. The Volcano thrusts some 6,000 feet from the sea bed although its highest point rises only 800 feet above the blue waves of the Pacific. In the distant past the volcano blew off its top, leaving in the hollow shell a peaceful tropical lake. The island resembles a crownless hat.

Generations of happy, hard-working Polynesians lived on the fertile crater, growing some of the largest coconuts ever found in the Pacific. They managed to export copra although the island has no harbor. Only occasional ships anchored off the lava cliffs. Landings were always difficult.

The hardy islanders had a rare manner of fishing. They ventured out to sea with buoyant swimming logs to which their fishing lines and splinter rods for stringing fish were attached. A fisherman swam with his arm across the log and his face thrust beneath the surface to watch his bone hooks—and keep an eye out for sharks.

SPECIAL DELIVERY

A mail-hungry Britisher, Charles Ramsay, who ran a copra-trading station on Niuafo'ou, conceived the idea of using similar logs to meet passing steamers. Ramsey himself swam the mails for a decade.

To the delight of passengers aboard the ships, husky swimmers cut through the churning waves, holding aloft the island mail wrapped in greased paper and tied to the tops of sticks. They towed back soldered tins containing mail for the islanders or for reposting.

Shark attacks stopped the practice. But a regular canoe mail service was systematized by Quensell, a German trader on the island.

World War II again cut off Niuafo'ou from civilization. At the request of the Tonga sovereign, Queen Salote, a United States Navy vessel paid a call. Clouds of volcanic smoke were swirling above the island at the time, but the 1,200 inhabitants refused to leave their precarious paradise. Finally, a severe eruption in 1946 made it necessary for the Tonga Government to resettle them on another island.

• • •

In his memoirs of the Friendly Islands, Sir Harry Luke, former British High Commissioner for the Western Pacific, recalls his last visit to "Tin Can Island." He had the honor of tossing down the mail tin. Ashore, he said he was greeted with brass band and the best rendition that he had ever heard of the "Hallellujah Chorus."

How to Keep Love

COLLEGE PARK, Ga. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. William T. Wheeler after 70 years of married life are agreed on a simple formula for keeping a marriage functioning and it is:

"Don't both get mad at the same time."

Wheeler is 91, his wife 86.

Honesty Pays Off— for Lawyer, Client

• • •

But when attorney Edward Apodaca said he had no excuse for failing to show up when his client's case was called, Hatch said the explanation was "sufficiently rare" and there would be no reprimand.

Then Apodaca said his client, Cipriano Jose Sandoval, 25, likewise had no excuse for his offense. Sandoval had pleaded guilty to making false claims for railroad insurance act benefits.

• • •

Taking note of Sandoval's "honesty" and the fact the money was repaid, Judge Hatch gave him a one-year suspended sentence.

The Top-Banana

NEW YORK (INS) — Eighty per cent of the world's banana exports come from tropical America. South America's Ecuador out-produces all other countries by a wide margin. Last year Ecuador shipped more than a sixth of the record-breaking total of 128,524,000 bunches.

Danes Think Graham Gospel Is Too Strict

COPENHAGEN—People here are reported indignant at having their city dubbed Europe's "moral black spot" by American evangelist, Dr. Billy Graham.

* * *

They accuse him of being old fashioned and of sticking to high minded principles that do as much to wreck marriages as make them.

"At least we are not hipocrites," one Danish girl summed it up. "We don't bother to hide what others do in secret."

However, social workers, ministers, and some judges in Copenhagen were quoted as in agreement that illegal operations and loose moral standards are among their principal problems.

One social worker said that at present one child out every nine born is illegitimate.

Secretary of State's Office Suggests Civil Service for License Branches

LANSING (AP) — The State Civil Service Commission has been asked to remove the state's 210 auto license branch managers from political patronage and place them under civil service.

* * *

Sidney H. Woolner, deputy secretary of state, told the Commission the change could result in higher calibre managers and more convenient facilities.

The branch managers are now appointed by the Secretary of State on recommendation of county political committees and legislators.

Woolner said the Secretary of State's office does not want to establish the branch managers as salaried employes because that would cost between two and one half and three million dollars a year.

Instead, he said, the Commission should draw up qualifications for the managers, conduct examinations and select the best qualified candidates as is done for other civil service jobs.

PAID BY FEE

Under this system, the managers would be paid a fee for each license sold — the same system of reimbursement as is in effect now.

Commissioners raised the question of whether the state might get some candidates who were qualified for the jobs who had no other businesses or other facilities in which to set up the offices. Woolner said this problem could be prevented by requiring candidates to have office facilities before applying for the jobs.

"Civil Service status for these people would give them continuity and it would attract people who wouldn't otherwise apply because of political patronage and the temporary status of the job," Woolner said.

Secy. of State James M. Hare first broached the subject of putting the managers under Civil Service in a letter to Arthur G. Rasch, civil service director, several weeks ago.

Hare said the disappearance of Mrs. Anne Thorpe, manager of the St. Clair Shores branch office, with $74,000 had raised criticism of the present method of appointing branch managers.

He added there had been trouble with embezzlement in other administrations too.

Mrs. Thorpe, traced to Mexico, has not been found.

Know a Laureate?

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—The Souhtwest Writers Conference asked the governors of each state to appoint a poet laureate if they didn't already have one. Spokesmen for the conference said several governors replied their states didn't have one — and wondered how you went about getting one.

Workers Paid More

WASHINGTON (INS) — The average weekly earnings of 2,729,000 construction workers reached a new high of $98.94 in July. In reporting the rise, the Commerce Department said that the average weekly earnings in July was two dollars higher than the figures for both June, 1955 and July a year ago.

A3D 'SKYWARRIOR' — Equal status with the Air Force?

New Naval Jet to Bolster Seaborne Nuclear Force

WASHINGTON (NEA)—The U. S. Navy is adding a brand new nuclear striking force to its Atlantic and Pacific fleets.

It's a transonic, twin-jet, carrier-based bomber, called the A3D Skywarrior, which can deliver 9,000 pounds of atomic or hydrogen bombs 1,500 miles to a target and return to its ship.

Weighing 37 tons it's the heaviest plane ever to operate from a carrier.

Squadrons of the Skywarrior, now undergoing final phases of a fleet indoctrination program, will give the U. S. a start toward the seaborne equivalent of the Air Force's war-deterring Strategic Air Command.

All important cities of Russia will be within range of the Skywarriors when they are based on carriers around the world.

LESS VULNERABLE

This new instant-retaliation capability, experts say, backs up the claims that the Navy shares equal status with the Air Force in the defense structure of the free world.

Chief of Naval Operations, Adm. Arleigh Burke, claims the carrier-based bombers are less vulnerable to being wiped out by the first enemy attack than the fixed land bases of the Air Force.

He also points out that by operating from carriers near enemy shores such a plane as the Skywarrior has a range equivalent to the B47 or B52.

NEEDS ANGLE DECK

Secrecy surrounds many of the details of the Skywarrior and its performance except that it carries a crew of three, can fly faster than 700 mph, cruise above 40,000 feet. It is powered by two Pratt & Whitney J57 jet engines which develop more than 10,000 pounds of thrust each.

It has a wingspan of 73 feet and a fuselage 77 feet long.

This great size limits its operations to carriers with angled decks. It can either be steam catapulted for take-off or get airborne with the assist of rockets.

In earlier tests a Skywarrior flew from Los Angeles to Jacksonville, Fla., in three and one-half hours. This is an unofficial transcontinental record and can be duplicated for the record any time.

At the same time the Navy is putting Skywarriors into operation the Air Force is giving an almost identical sister-ship, the B-66, to a few of its light-bomber groups of the Tactical Air Command.

NUMBERS SECRET

Both the B66 and the A3D are manufactured by Douglas Aircraft Company at El Segundo, California. Production figures are a secret but the Pentagon admits that they are coming off the line "in quantity."

Although classed as a "light" bomber by the Air Force the B66 is probably the fastest one it will be operating until a new family of supersonic bombers comes along. It's faster than the B47 or B52.

The first supersonic bomber, classed as a medium bomber—which is reported to be in limited production—is the Convair B58. It is expected that the B58 will be able to fly faster than 800 mph. It has a delta, or triangular-shaped wing.

Underground Reserves Give Necessary Water for Land Reclamation

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (INS) — Water for household, industrial and irrigation uses, sources of which already are serious problems in many parts of the country, eventually may come from vast underground reservoirs of brackish liquid.

* * *

And the water plant operator of the future will have to be versed in many fields such as cloud seeding and atomic fall-outs.

Such were the predictions made at the 38th Texas Water and Sewage Works Association Short School held at Texas A&M College.

Dr. William Katz, of Cambridge, Mass., speaking for Dr. Rolf Eliassen, professor of Sanitary Engineering of Massachusetts Institute of Technology said there were vast underground reservoirs of brackish waters, with salt contents above the limit normally considered desirable for potable water supplies.

USED IN HOMES

Those waters eventually will be used in homes, factories and on farms.

One problem, under study, he said, for areas using surface reservoir is the prevention of evaporation.

* * *

Some foreign countries, he said, faced with obtaining adequate, pure potable water already are using solar energy in distillation of brackish and sea water.

'Typewriter' Known Away Back in 1876

WASHINGTON — A directive written in 1876 by the "chief clerk" and addressed to the "principle clerks" in the Army's Office of the Quartermaster General was found recently. Here's how it ordered use of the "type writer," a newfangled invention then:

* * *

"The Quartermaster General desires that use be made of the type writer.

The principle clerk of each branch of this office will therefore please designate some one person under his direction to take charge of a type writer and by practice become familiar with and proficient in its use in order that all letters, not mere forms, and products of each branch, be printed by it."

* * *

The directive was written by hand.

Nuclear Fall-Out Seen Harmless

Canadian Researchers Say Tests Show Health Not Affected

DEEP RIVER, Ont. (AP)—Experiments with milk have given Canadian scientists assurance that radioactive fall-out in Canada so far appears to be harmless to health.

Tests conducted here show that the radioactivity of milk has increased minutely since the United States, Britain and Russia began exploding atomic bombs.

Monthly experiments with milk help determine the present level of atomic radiation throughout Canada. This level is made up of natural radiation background—that contained in soil and rock formations and caused by cosmic rays from space striking the earth—and man-made radioactivity.

'BASELINE GUIDE'

A "baseline" measurement of existing radioactivity will be the yardstick scientists will use to determine any increases in radiation levels.

When an atomic bomb explodes, radioactive fission products are thrown off. Some of these products settle in the immediate area of the explosion, while part of them rises high into the atmosphere and eventually falls on distant areas. One of these fission products is strontium 90.

Like the human body, milk always has contained some radioactivity. Milk has minute quantities of radium. Tests at the Deep River laboratory with samples from various areas of Canada show that milk now contains a small amount of strontium 90.

"The amount of radioactive strontium detected in milk at present is reassuringly slight," said Dr. E. A. Watkinson of the Federal Health Department.

MANILA (AP)—A boat loaded with 100 Filipino Catholic pilgrims burned off Leyte Island yesterday. At least 15 persons were reported dead and 12 missing. There were 20 injured.

The Philippine news service said most of the victims were ailing men, women and children en route to receive the annual blessing of a local patron saint in northern Leyte.

Judge Wade H. McCree to Talk on Race Relations

Wayne County Circuit Court Judge Wade H. McCree Jr., first Negro in Michigan to sit on a circuit court bench, will discuss problems in racial relations at the YMCA tonight.

Judge McCree has been active in the recent controversy concerning segregation. Now 35, he was one of the youngest judges when appointed Oct. 15, 1954.

He had spent two years first as deputy commissioner and then as commissioner of the Workmen's Compenation Commission, located in Detroit.

His talk will be open to the public. It will be sponsored by the Young Adults Club at 8 p.m. in the YMCA building, 131 Mt. Clemens St.

Judge McCree has been known to advocate dispassionate, fair research as a means to solve racial conflicts.

He has described position of Negroes in this country as a kind of measuring stick by which other nations often judge the full extent of democracy here.

The problem has an international as well as a domestic aspect, he has pointed out, saying that the sooner the problem is solved, the better off the nation will be in its competition with Communism.

Born in Des Moines, Iowa, he was graduated "summa cum laude" from Fisk University and from Harvard Law School. He served as an infantry lieutenant in Italy during World War II.

He was engaged in private practice in Detroit since 1947. He is a member of the civil rights committee of the Detroit Bar Assn. and is active in YMCA affairs.

Expert Aghast at College Costs

Evans Predicts Growth of Socialism Through Taxes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bergen Evans, the man who thinks up $64,000 questions, is "aghast at the burden parents bear to send their children through college."

* * *

At $2,000 a year, it now costs $16,000 to send two through college, Evans said last night. "That, I am sure, eats up more than the lifetime savings of the average parents."

Evans, Northwestern University professor of English, spoke at a banquet for delegates to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The Congress ends today.

SOCIETY OFF BASE

Evans told a news conference before the banquet:

"The prices for higher education have soared. . . . Society has been caught off base."

In particular, he said, medical education costs have gone up, and "it takes seven years and more to turn out a doctor."

* * *

"Only doctors now can afford to send their sons to medical school," he said. "There isn't a chance for a laboring man's son to get to be a doctor."

DISAVOWS BASEBALL

Evans, son of a doctor and father of two boys, augments his facult ysalary by drafting all but the baseball questions for The $64,000 Question television program. He said he doesn't produce the baseball questions because "I don't like intellectuals pretending an enthusiasm for baseball."

* * *

Society soon will be deciding whether it wants its doctors to come from the talented and the skilled, or those who can afford it, Evans continued.

TAXED TO SOCIALISM

"The question we are skirting is: Can democracy stop short of socialism?" he said. "I assume that it can't. There will be more state financing for education.

"Through taxes is one way our democracy is approaching closer to socialism.

"How many are there in our country now who earn—I mean earn—$100,000 a year? I'd say there can't be many more than a hundred. After taxes they keep $33,000.

* * *

"The ordinary working man gets $5,000 a year, and there isn't much bite out of his take-home pay. So we can say that the top talented men of our time can take home in money only seven times as much as the ordinary worker in our society."

Senator Seeks to Grill Wilson

Statement by Secretary Over Service Rivalry Causes Stir by Solon

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Jackson (D-Wash) proposed today that a Senate subcommittee find out if Secretary of Defense Wilson is attempting "thought control" over feuding military leaders.

Jackson, a frequent critic of administration defense policies, alluded to a statement by Wilson about the row between Army, Air Force and Navy officials over rival missile programs and defense missions.

Asked by newsmen Tuesday what steps he planned to take, Wilson told newsmen: "We'll see who sticks their head up next. I think it might be a little dangerous."

Jackson termed this "a terrible thing to say," and added: "Thought control, that's what it is. Our committee should look into what he means by that statement."

* * *

He referred to an Armed Services subcommittee, headed by Sen. Symington (D-Mo), which has been inquiring into the relative air strength of the United States and Russia. Symington has said he intends to broaden it to look into the interservice disagreement and perhaps try to fix basic missions for the services.

President Eisenhower, previously described by Wilson as a bit unhappy over the latest outbreak, said yesterday "I would be frightened indeed" if there were no service rivalries, especially at a time when new military concepts are developing rapidly.

Odor Tells True Tale

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Earl Sizemore plunked down a tooth before Acting Judge Duffy Horan and said:

"The officers might have thought I was drunk, but I just came from the dentist's chair where I had been given four shots of novacaine. It made me groggy."

Horan replied: "I can assure you that novacaine has no odor like bay rum. Fifteen days."

Cypriot Turks Riot in Nicosia

Tumult Results From Killing of Police Officer by Greek Terrorists

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Turkish Cypriots rioted through Nicosia today in revenge for the killing of a Turkish Cypriot police sergeant.

Bullets sprayed from the window of a taxi driven through the Greek shopping center. Youthful bands stoned Greek Cypriots and their shops. Most shopkeepers, both Greek and Turk, had slammed down their shutters earlier as tension built up.

* * *

British troops dashed in with tear gas to break up the groups of young Turks and rolled out barbed wire barricades between the Greek and Turkish sections of the British island colony's capital.

No one was hurt by the bullets from the taxi, but a crowd of Turkish youths stoned several cars driven by Greeks who were caught on the wrong side of the barbed wire. A number of persons were taken to hospitals with bleeding head wounds.

* * *

Eoka, the pro-Greek underground fighting to unite Cyprus with Greece, was blamed for the slaying of the Turkish policeman last night at Polis, 60 miles west of Nicosia.

Cyprus' Turkish-descended minority is opposed to the drive to join this British island colony with Greece. The Turks maintain Cyprus should be returned to Turkey if British control ends.

Kefauver Finds New Adlai Charge

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sen. Estes Kefauver has made a campaign issue of Adlai Stevenson's 1951 veto of a pension bill while he was governor of Illinois. And Stevenson has accused Kefauver supporters of circulating "scurrilous literature" against him.

The pension issue could have considerable impact on the outcome of the Florida Democratic presidential primary next Tuesday and the California primary June 5 — both important preconvention tests of the relative strength of Kefauver and Stevenson with the voters. Both states have sizable populations of retired persons.

* * *

At the same time, Howard Pyle, one of President Eisenhower's assistants, ran into a strong protest from Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, for saying in unemployment-beset Detroit that "the right to suffer is one of the joys of a free economy." Last night, Pyle got out a statement apologizing for the remark, made to newsmen Monday.

CORDIALITY SHEDDED

As the Florida primary drew closer, the rival candidates for the Democratic presidential nomination shed the cordiality that marked their joint appearance last Monday night on a radio-TV discussion of campaign issues.

At Cocoa, Fla., Kefauver said in a street corner talk that "as governor, Mr. Stevenson vetoed a bill that would have raised old age assistance by 10 per cent." Soon afterward, Kefauver added, the Illinois Public Aid Commission cut pensions by 10 per cent.

* * *

Stevenson's Florida campaign chairman, Rep. Robert Sikes, said the pension bill Stevenson rejected wouldn't have provided "one single cent more" for Illinois old age assistance recipients. Sikes said Stevenson had been forced to veto pension and other bills because the Republican Legislature provided no money to finance them.

RESENTFUL OF LITERATURE

In Jacksonville, Stevenson said that during his administration as governor, Illinois old age pensions were boosted by 18 per cent."

"Frankly," he added, "I am a little resentful of critical and scurrilous literature being circulated by Kefauver supporters, perhaps without the knowledge of the senator . . ."

Stevenson said this material was distributed "widely" in California and now is showing up in Florida. Sikes accused Kefauver forces of handing out pamphlets which he said contain "distortions, untruths and half-truths" about the 1951 pension bill veto.

Stevenson last night won the formal support of five more Florida Democratic congressmen, who signed a statement saying they believe the former Illinois governor "most closely represents the views of the citizens of Florida." This puts six of the state's seven U.S. representatives in Stevenson's corner. The seventh, Rep. Rogers, has not announced his position.

* * *

In Washington, Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) said that primary victories in Florida and California "would absolutely cinch the nomination" for Stevenson.

Tired of Rhubarb?

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Laugh makers Jack Benny and George Burns have teamed with tire maker Leonard K. Firestone to raise grapefruit. The trio, capitalizing at $20,000 apiece, yesterday filed a limited partnership agreement to operate a grapefruit ranch in the Indio area.

Jury Returns 'Bitter Verdict'

Killer of Family Insane

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—A jury's decision that Ellis Lauhon was insane when he shot three members of a Dickinson, Tex., family to death drew a bitter courtroom reaction last night from a relative of the victims.

* * *

Lauhon was insane before he shot them and is insane now, the jury also declared after six hours of deliberation.

The jury's verdict means the 26-year-old former airman from Altus, Ark., will not be tried for the June 22 deaths of Mrs. Ruby McPherson, 42, her son George, 12, and her mother Mrs. Zola Norman, 63.

BITTER VERDICT

The verdict was received bitterly by Jack McPherson, 19, brother, son and grandson of the three victims.

"What are they going to do keep him in jail for a year or two and then let him loose to kill again?" he asked attorneys.

He sat, trying not to cry, as the crowded courtroom emptied. But tears spotted his cheeks as he stood and searched the courtroom with his eyes.

When he saw Mrs. Pat Morton, Lauhon's sister, he walked to her.

* * *

"I want you to see this," he said reaching into his pocket for two pictures.

"This is my little brother that your brother killed. He was my idol."

Historical Units Seek State Data

Older Citizens Asked to Give Details of Interest on Michigan's Growth

DETROIT (AP)—Older citizens who knew Michigan in its younger days have been asked to furnish historical groups with details of the state's long and colorful history.

The University of Michigan and the Historical Society of Michigan, in a joint announcement, outlined a project aimed at obtaining eye-witness accounts of past events and locating and preserving historical records.

Michael Church, supervisor of special projects of the university's extension service, will direct the project. He said researchers will make interviews with tape recordings and take microfilms of significant records.

Lewis Beeson, secretary-treasurer of the Historical Society of Michigan and executive secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission, said the group hopes "for an inventory of personal recollections that will throw new light on earlier events in Michigan."

"The recollections of older residents about their youth and experiences in preautomotive Michigan form an extremely valuable source of information for the historian," he said.

Announced as a feature of Michigan Week, the project will be conducted with the cooperation of the state's 30 local historical societies.

Texas Remembers British War Dead

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The American-British Club of Dallas makes its annual Memorial Day pilgrimage to Terrell Sunday to pay tribute to its "little bit of Britain."

* * *

Twenty-one British Royal Air Force fliers were killed at Terrell during World War II while taking flight training. They were buried there and since 1942 Misses Bertha and Virginia Brewer have seen that the graves were kept up.

* * *

The Rev. Russell Flagg of the Church of the Good Shepherd (Episcopal) in Terrell will conduct the services. Arnold Ramsden of Dallas, president of the American-British Club, will handle floral tributes both to the British fliers and to American soldiers buried in the cemetery.

Lite-a-Bumper, Teen Road-E-O Due at Waterford

Jaycees Back Safety Projects

Auto Taping Campaign Saturday; Drivers Vie Sunday in Drayton

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The Junior Chamber of Commerce has scheduled two big projects for this weekend. Both accent highway safety.

On Saturday Jaycees will have their "Lite a Bumper for Safety" campaign and on Sunday, their annual Road-E-O for teenagers.

George Scantland is chairman of Saturday's event which is part of a national campaign to overcome one of the major killers on streets and highways—the nighttime rear-end collision.

National Safety Council statistics show that 20 per cent of all auto accidents result from this type of accident, according to Scantland.

On Saturday, Jaycee members will be stationed at the main intersections of the township selling and applying the tape to auto bumpers.

Proceeds from this sale will be used to finance a scholarship for some needy Waterford Township High School graduate.

Jack McCaffery is in charge of the Teenage Road-E-O scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. Sunday at the A & P parking lot in Drayton Plains.

Patterned after the national The winner will go on to the truck roadeo, the Teenage Road-E-O is open to any boy or girl who will not have reached 20 years of age by August 10 (last day of the national fainals in Washington D. C.), has a driver's license or permit, and has a clean record of no moving traffic violations in the past six months.

For each contestant there will be a written test on driving knowledge and a performance test in four obstacle-type exercises.

The winner will go on to the state eliminations in June. The state winner receives an all-expense trip to Washington, D.C., for the national finals in August. Three scholarships, totaling $3,000 will be given national winners.

Name Delegates at Rochester

10 to Attend Boys State; 2 Girl Students Picked for Wolverine Event

ROCHESTER — Ten boys have been chosen to represent five Rochester organizations at Boys State, to be held in East Lansing next month. Two girls will represent Rochester at the Wolverine Girls State, to be held in Ann Arbor in June.

Boy delegates are Monte Clute, Douglas Engler, Jon Applegate, John Barkham, Fred Lutz, Arden Holland, Dave Peters, Donald Mitchell, Douglas Falls and David Milne. Alternates who will attend in the event any of the delegates are unable to make the trip are Dan Allen and Bill Blanton.

The boys were chosen by the High School faculty and sophomore and junior classes. They are sponsored by the American Legion, Lions, Kiwanis, Rotary and Brooklands Exchange Clubs.

Joyce Tolhurst and Patti Evanson were selected to attend Wolverine Girls State, with Sharon Hinkel as an alternate. Sponsor organizations are the American Legion Auxiliary and the Women's Relief Corps.

The students were chosen on the basis of character, leadership, courage, honesty, scholarship, cooperativeness and physical fitness.

DOOMED SCHOOL — Long-range Troy Board of Education plans call for tearing down of this 1918 school on Big Beaver Road in the City of Troy. It will make room for an addition to the larger school standing next to it. The old gabled brick structure is second only in age to Poppleton School there.

Rochester Pair Marks Golden Wedding Date

ROCHESTER — Mr. and Mrs. William Bliemaster of 809 Ludlow Ave. have spent the past two Sundays celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary.

Last Sunday 30 of the immediate family attended a dinner for the Bliemasters at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Frank Allen of Lake Orion.

On May 13, a Golden Wedding celebration complete with three-tiered wedding cake was held at Avon Park Pavilion. Some 200 friends and relatives were present.

George Taylor Slated by Avon Photo Club

ROCHESTER—The Avon Photographic Club will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the library here. George Taylor will demonstrate how to process and mount exhibition prints.

Church to Begin Drive for Funds

Goal of Congregational Unit at Rochester Is $165,000 for Building

ROCHESTER—A drive to raise $165,000 to start construction of a new church building is being started by the First Congregational Church of Rochester on Sunday.

On that day, 120 men from the parish will visit homes of members to share plans and receive three-year pledges that will assure construction of the $450,000 church and Sunday School unit on a 6-acre plot between Pine and Oak streets on the north side of the Rochester city limits.

The drive is being directed this week by LeRoy E. Eide of the Board of Home Missions of the Congregational Christian Churches. Eide says of the Rochester project:

"One of the greatest experiences of any person's lifetime is that of helping to build a church. The erecting of a church building enriches the individual, the congregation, the community, the nation and the forces for good in the world."

The First Congregational Church of Rochester is the oldest Congregational church in Michigan. It was organized in a one-room log cabin on July 1, 1827, with only 10 members. At present, there are over 600 members.

Built in Big Beaver, 1918

Old School to Come Down

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK
Troy Correspondent

TROY — Doomed to be torn down is the gabled red brick school house built in Big Beaver in 1918.

Troy school board members have tentatively agreed that the building should be replaced with a wing to the modern school building that overshadows the little school building.

The two buildings stand side by side on Big Beaver road.

It may be some time before the plan is carried out, however. A new school and several additions are planned before expected enrollment will make it necessary.

Only Poppleton school is older in the township. At the old Big Beaver school, facilities are inadequate, several rooms are too small, and walls would burn too easily, school officials agree.

* * *

Kindergarten and several other classes are taught there at present.

County Deaths

Claude Ross

LAPEER—Service for Claude Ross, 67, of 316 Oriole Ave., was held this afternoon at Baird Funeral Home, with military burial in Mt. Hope Cemetery. He died Tuesday. Mr. Ross was well known to school children, since he had been employed as a guard at the school crossing at North Main and Park Sts.

He leaves his wife, Corlie, and four children, Emagen, Anna Lois, Claude Jr. and Gary, all at home.

Jim W. Brown

WALLED LAKE — Service for Jim W. Brown, 33, of Willow Camp here, will be held at the Lane Funeral Home, Moreland, Ky. The body of Mr. Brown, who died suddenly Monday, was taken to Kentucky this afternoon from the Pursley Funeral Home, Pontiac.

He is survived by his wife, Bessie Perry Brown; two daughters, Nancy Carol and Ruth Ann, at home; his mother, Mrs. Dee Brown; one brother, Andrew Brown of Indiana and three sisters, Mrs. Bessie Fairchild, Mrs. Heddy Perry and Mrs. Ethel Gillum, all of Kentucky.

Frank Amy

ORTONVILLE — Service for Frank Amy, 75, of 425 Schoolhouse St. at 2 p.m. Saturday from the C. F. Sherman Funeral Home here, with burial Pine Grove Cemetery, Atlas Township. Mr. Amy died yesterday in a Pontiac Hospital after several months of illness.

He is survived by two sons, Arthur W. of Ortonville and Alfred F. of Clio; four grandchildren and two sisters, Mrs. Mary Ransier of Ortonville and Mrs. Cora Vernon of Pontiac.

John Kaake

SANDUSKY—Services for John Kaake, 96, of Sandusky, a former resident of Rochester, Almont and Imlay City, will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at his home and at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Laurel Baptist Church, Elmer Township. Stewart of Almont, Mrs. Otto Vanderveer at home, Mrs. Walter Morris of Rochester; seven sons, William of Sandusky, Horace, Russell and Colin of Detroit, Howard of Romulus, Theodore of Center Line, and Arthur of Imlay City; 32 grandchildren and 35 great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Mortimer Junod

UTICA — Service for Mrs. Mortimer (Nellie) Junod, 59, of 7821 Powers Ct., will be held at 8:30 a.m. Saturday at Milliken Funeral Home and at 9 a.m. at St. Lawrence Catholic Church, with burial in Mt. Olivet Cemetery, Detroit. Rosary will be recited at 8:30 tonight at the funeral home. Mrs. Junod died Wednesday after a short illness.

She leaves her husband; two sons, Earl of Utica, Bruce of Ann Arbor; three sisters, Mrs. Maude Beckey and Mrs. Florence McMannus of Elk Rapids, Cora Goodman of Florida; one brother, Everett Durocher of Traverse City; and seven grandchildren.

Metamora Vote Shows Choice in School Issue

METAMORA — A preference vote taken in the Metamora School District indicated that electors favor consolidation with Dryden and other area communities to build a new high school, rather than annexation to the Lapeer School District, officials announced.

* * *

A total of 165 registered voters cast ballots in the preference election Saturday. Of these, 130 voted for consolidation with Dryden and area districts, and 35 for annexation to Lapeer.

* * *

Population growth and mounting enrollments have made it necessary for the district to consider new methods of educating its junior and senior high school students.

To Receive Adult Class at Commerce Sunday

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — An adult membership class will be received into the Commerce Methodist Church at regular Sunday services.

* * *

A reception in honor of the new members will be held from 4 until 6 p.m., Sunday, in the church basement. Members of the Board of Stewards will form a special welcoming committee.

2,000 to Be in June 5 'Water Wonderland'

Waterford Schools Join for Festival

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The history of Michigan, "Water Wonderland," set to music, will be the theme of the biennial elementary school music festival scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, June 5, on the high school athletic field.

Under the direction of Mrs. Lois Tiffany, music supervisor, 2,000 students from the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will interpret the state's story by song, dance and pantomime.

Earliest Michigan history when this was "Mishigamaw — The Land of Great Waters" will be portrayed by students from Waterford Village and Waterford Center schools in an Indian scene.

Then a French Canadian episode with students from Lambert and Stringham schools will be followed by the lumberjack's story with students from Covert school.

Michigan farm life will be brought out by students of Williams Lake and Monteith schools participating in an old county fair, complete with animals, fruits, vegetables and farmers.

The story of the miners and different mines will be told by students from Four Towns and Lambert schools in a dramatization and dance.

A tourist scene, featuring Donelson youngsters in fishing, hiking, picnicking and campfire episodes, will have a Water Wonderland ballet as a focal point.

CAR CAVALCADE

The immigration of the Swedish, Polish, Mexican and Dutch peoples into our state will be portrayed by Drayton Plains students followed by a motor scene. A cavalcade of Michigan cars will move across the field to highlight this main industry.

Education in Michigan will constitute the final scene and all the participants will be on the field for the grand finale.

Pontiac Woman Prayed for Lusitania Victims

A Pontiac woman, who read stories in The Pontiac Press of Mrs. George McDougall and her experiences as one of the passengers during the sinking of the Lusitania in 1915, has an interesting sidenote on that tragic sea disaster.

Mrs. Agnes Hartman of 26 Lewis St. reports that when the Lusitania was torpedoed and sunk off the coast of Ireland, she herself was aboard another ship, the SS Cassandra, in the same area but traveling in the other direction, toward Canada.

"I was just a young girl at the time," says Mrs. Hartman, "but I remember when the captain announced that the Lusitania had been sunk and hundreds drowned, the whole ship prayed.

"Many passengers fell on their knees right on deck when we heard the tragic news. We were all afraid our ship would be next.

"The captain said he ducked torpedoes for days during the perilous crossing. In Canada, my people had read of the sinking and were anxious and worried about our safety.

"Mrs. McDougall's graphic story of the sinking makes me realize again how lucky I and my sisters, with whom I traveled, were to escape."

Mrs. McDougall, who lives at Walnut Lake, is one of the few remaining survivors of the Lusitania disaster. Recently her story was included in a book on the sinking, as well as in newspaper and radio accounts.

Your PTA Is Planning

Band Music at Wixom; Final Avondale Session

WIXOM — The monthly meeting of the Wixom PTA will be held tonight at 8 p.m.

Entertainment for the evening will be furnished by the school band, which, according to Holland-Moritz, music instructor, is one of the best Wixom has had.

In addition, the fourth grade will play several of the musical numbers they have learned on the song flute.

Refreshments will be served by the 5th grade room mothers.

Avondale

Avondale High School's final PTSA meeting of the year will be held tonight at 8 p.m. in the high school band room.

Installations of officers and a report on last week's Spring Carnival will be the main order of business. This year's president, Mrs. Rachel Doan, will also receive the past president's pin.

Mrs. Walter Riggle is the new president, supported by Mrs. Willard Fulkerson, mother vice president; Thad Johnson, father vice president; Alfred McClellan, teacher vice president; and Donald Davis, student vice president.

New treasurer is teacher Mrs. Benjamin Douglas while teacher William Saville and student Catherine Gorang are new secretaries.

Refreshments will be served.

Davisburg

Davisburg Elementary School PTA met Monday night for the last meeting of the current year. New officers were installed.

Mrs. Don Chamberlain became president for the second consecutive year. Mrs. Donald Aaron was installed as vice president; Mrs. Donald Walls, recording secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Sutton, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Robert Rodewald as treasurer.

Scott Pursued; Estate Tangled

Bail Jumper Hinted in Nevada; Wife's Assets Hit Legal Barb

LOS ANGELES (AP)— While police looked for L. Ewing Scott in Nevada gambling resorts, his missing wife's $600,000 estate ran into further complications in superior court here.

Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz issued a new all-points bulletin for Scott yesterday, addressing it particularly to sheriffs in Reno, Las Vegas and Tonopah, Nev. The bulletin said Scott has a pistol in his possession and "is believed to have a large number of $100 bills."

Scott, 59, a Bel-Air investment counselor, is sought on a bench warrant issued May 15 when he failed to appear to plead to an indictment charging forgery and grand theft. The charges are in connection with his handling of the estate of Mrs. Evelyn Throsby Scott, 63, missing a year.

JUDGE GIVES RULING

Superior Judge Clyde C. Triplett ruled yesterday that neither his court nor the Citizens National Bank can control Mrs. Scott's assets and property until a trusteeship appeal is settled.

* * *

Scott is appealing the bank's appointment as trustee. His attorney argued that the court now has no jurisdiction and the bank cannot legally exercise control over Mrs. Scott's property. The judge agreed.

Prosecutor Adolph Alexander said police have established Scott was in the sparsely settled mining country around Tonopoh last month while awaiting grand jury investigation of his wife's disappearance. Alexander did not elaborate.

Scott was reported seen in Bishop, Calif., about 300 miles north of here in the high Sierra, May 2, 3, 4 and 5, said Gordon Bowers, chief of sheriff's detectives.

* * *

The Nevada hunt also was spurred by a report a man answering Scott's description was seen in the Reno gambling club May 16, changing $100 bills from a huge roll, police said.

13 Reds Restored to Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP)—Thirteen former employes of the U.S. Communist party have been restored to social security rolls as eligible for retirement benefits.

* * *

The Social Security Administration had denied them benefits on the ground that work done for the party did not constitute covered employment. The law prohibits disclosure of their names, but one is known to be William Z. Foster, ailing national chairman of the party.

* * *

Their restoration to the rolls was based on a decision by Referee Peter J. Hoegen of the administration's appeals council. He held that the law bars the government from disregarding wages on which social security taxes were paid in the 1937-52 period.

* * *

Pending further study, Hoegen delayed a decision on the basic issue of whether employment by the Communist party is covered by the Social Security Act.

Michigan Boy Scout Named for 'Caravan'

CINCINNATI (AP) — Twelve "Explorers," older boy members of the Boy Scouts of America who have made outstanding achievements in conservation, were named today to make a 17-day "conservation caravan" to Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Alaska.

* * *

The boys represent the 12 Boy Scout regions of the nation.

They include Thomas Peters, 16, Ann Arbor, Mich.

* * *

Names of the boys were announced at a luncheon meeting of the conservation committee of the Boy Scouts of America. It was held as a preliminary to the opening tomorrow of the 46th annual meeting of the National Council of the Boy Scouts. Approximately 1,500 adult scout leaders are expected to attend the conference.

Name No John Doe

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The desk sergeant asked the man arrested on a drunk charge for the usual information, including name and address.

"John Smith Jr." was his reply to the name question.

The officer looked skeptical. "All right now," he said, "what's your real name?"

The prisoner hauled out his wallet and displayed a Social Security card which said, "John Smith Jr."

Benson Asks Detailed Analysis of Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary Benson today asked Agriculture Department lawyers for a detailed analysis of the new farm bill.

He asked for a legal outline of changes in the 1956 farm program which he would be required to make and changes which he would have discretionary power to make under the farm bill on which the action yesterday.

WILL IKE SIGN?

Department officials declined to predict whether President Eisenhower would sign the measure. But Benson's action was taken as a clear indication that the department expects the President to approve it. Elsewhere Eisenhower's signature was taken for granted.

* * *

Questions which officials said the legislation raises include one as to whether the department is required to offer soil bank payments for the retirement of corn, wheat, cotton, tobacco, rice and peanut land already planted or intended for planting this crop year.

WINS SOIL BANK

A major feature of the new bill is a soil bank program under which farmers would be offered up to $1,200,000,000 a year to retire crop land from production until present price-depressing crop surpluses are reduced.

* * *

From a practical standpoint, department officials said there appeared to be little use in offering soil bank payments for this year's crops because of the lateness of the season. They expressed belief that most farmers would have already completed planting operations by the time the department could determine payment rates and issue regulations and instructions to field workers.

PRICES STRENGTHEN

Meanwhile, the department's Agricultural Marketing Service reported that farm prices — a generally accepted weathervane of agricultural welfare — strengthened further during the last two weeks of April and the first half of May.

In its last general farm price report issued late in April, this service said the level of farm prices in mid-April was 4 per cent above that of last December. Exact amount of the increase since mid-April will be determined in a new price survey report to be issued a week from today.

* * *

Students Veto Proposal for Controlled Drinking

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. (AP) — The senior class of Horace Greeley High School here has dropped plans for controlled drinking at the annual prom June 25.

Recently it had been proposed to serve limited drinks to prom patrons over 18 years old, the minimum legal drinking age in New York. The scheme drew adverse criticism, especially from some clergymen.

The 70 seniors later voted on the proposal and turned down the idea.

Hubby Resents Playing Second Fiddle to Pets

DENVER (AP)—It wasn't only that Frederick J. Betts of Denver had to share his home with 11 chinchillas, a parrot, a cat, a dog and three large bowls of tropical fish.

* * *

It was also, he told a District Court jury in seeking a divorce, that his wife Anonia reminded him repeatedly that she preferred the animals, bird and fish to him.

* * *

The jury agreed this was "extreme and repeated cruelty" and granted Betts a divorce.

Nipped by Fox Twice

AMISSVILLE, Va. (AP) — Harvey Sutphin believes he is the only man around who has twice been nipped by a rabid fox. Sutphin now taking the Pasteur treatment, was working at his woodpile when the fox ran up and bit him. Tests on the fox's head were positive. Sutphin was bitten the other time in 1953.

MSU Graduates to Hear U. of Iowa President

EAST LANSING (AP) — President Virgil M. Hancher of the University of Iowa has been announced as the commencement speaker for June 10 spring graduation exercises at Michigan State University.

* * *

The spring graduating class of 2,195 will be the second largest in MSU history, topped only by 1950, when 2,432 degrees were awarded.

Graduating exercises are scheduled for 4 p.m. They will be held in Macklin Stadium or, in the event of rain, in Jenison Fieldhouse.

Sandusky Man Saved; Trapped in Sewer Cavein

SANDUSKY (AP) — Everett Diem, 20, of Sandusky, was rescued Tuesday night after he was buried in 14 feet of earth by a sewer cave-in.

Fellow workers who had been laying sewer pipe quickly cleared the dirt from around Diem's head so that he could breathe.

But it took an hour for the workers, helped by city police and state police, to free Diem from the cave-in.

Hollywood Headlines

New Mason Film to Deal With Cortisone Addiction

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Found: A way to film an addiction story without incensing the censors.

The solution: The hero gets hopped up on cortisone.

* * *

Dope addiction was taboo on the screen until Otto Preminger came along with his "Man With The Golden Arm." The picture was refused a seal of the Production Code Administration, Hollywood's self-censoring body, but did excellent business anyway.

ACTUAL CASE

Now 20th Century-Fox is filming "One in a Million," which is also about addiction but is experiencing no Johnston office troubles. The story is based on an actual case, as reported in the New Yorker.

* * *

James Mason plays a schoolteacher who is suffering from a rare arthritic condition that threatens to cripple him. His doctor prescribes cortisone. This was at a time when the drug was new and its effects not completely known.

"The doctor warns him to take only small amounts," Mason explains. "But the man is desperate. He cannot face life as an invalid."

* * *

So he goes on a cortisone binge. He indulges in many adventuures to acquire the drug and manages to become an addict in the meantime.

He was asked who he thought the picture would affect the public's confidence in cortisone.

* * *

"I don't think it will have a bad effect," he replied. "The story takes place when the drug— it's actually a hormone—was new and relatively untried. The doctor warns the man to go easy.

* * *

Mason speaks with authority on the picture because he is not only its star but the producer as well. Stars often produce their own films independently; this is one of the rare instances in which a star has produced a picture for a major studio.

Wayne Residents Support March of Dimes Drives

DETROIT (INS) — Charles L. Gehringer, Wayne County campaign director for the March of Dimes, reports county residents contributed more to the charity drive this year than ever before.

Final figures show the county's gifts totaled $778,265, an 11 per cent increase over last year and more than has been given since the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was founded 18 years ago.

Mushroom Plant Hit by Morning Blaze

A Groveland Township mushroom factory was damaged to the extent of an estimated $700 in a Wednesday morning fire, the Holly Township Fire Department reported today.

A spokesman for the department said it took two hours to extinguish the blaze in the building located north of Dixie Highway and Grange Hall Road.

The fire is reported to have started in the roof and spread to the lower regions. Damages were to the roof, equipment, and parts of the mushroom crop, according to firemen.

FRY CHICKEN AND CORN FRITTERS—Frying chicken and corn fritters for the same meal makes the doing easier and the eating mighty fine. Serve with a tray of celery, radishes and olives; green peas and applesauce. Use salad oil for the frying.

TIPS ON DINING

Cooking Fried Chicken? Don't Forget the Salad Oil

The warm months of the year provide a fine opportunity to plan some get-togethers — perhaps a luncheon party or a buffet supper after the movies or theater. Here are some dining ideas for the gorgeous days ahead:

* * *

Flowers from your garden or picked from the wayside add charm and color to any table setting. One rule to remember is to keep your flower centerpiece low enough so that guests can converse easily across the table. A too-high, bulky flower arrangement, no matter how eye-catching or costly, will strain the party spirit if people have to crane their necks over it.

* * *

Need more serving room for your buffet party? Try this space-saver: instead of spreading out cutlery and napkins on the table, stack service plates with a colorful paper or linen napkin between each plate; arrange knives and forks in individual clusters instead of in rows.

* * *

Modern Melmac dinnerware is so light it can be stacked in a jiffy for serving or clearing; its gay colors provide just the right touch on the buffet table. Every Mother will treasure it as a gift. Made by a number of quality molders, it's remarkably break and chip-resistant.

* * *

The most delicious and well planned meal cannot be served to advantage without proper untensils. Always provide an adequate number of serving spoons and forks for relishes, salads and sauces.

* * *

Each vegetable dish should be equipped with a serving fork and spoon for ease in service. When the entree is a roast or fowl, be sure to double check your carving knife for sharpness—a dull blade can spoil the finest cut of meat.

Next best to you or a thick broiled steak, a man loves fried chicken best. He tastes the crispy crusted chicken, all golden brown and tender and meaty and the fellow feels happy.

He enjoys the crunchiness, the delicate good flavor. And he dotes on seeing his children reach for the drumsticks. For easy go-with, have corn fritters at the same meal.

What pleases papa helps mama. Frying is one of the quickest cooking methods, especially when salad oil is used as the liquid shortening. A person pours the amount of oil needed into the frying pan or kettle. This saves spooning out solid shortening and the bother of melting too much or too little. There is no waiting for the melting, no waste. The salad oil starts to heat right quick.

Chicken deep-fries in about 12 minutes because frying temperatures are considerably higher than boiling. The salad oil bubbles all around the pieces to form a thin crust and holds in the flavors and juices while the meat cooks well done inside.

It is a time-saving idea to fry corn fritters to go with the chicken, for both can be cooked in the same hot oil in the fry kettle. Fry the chicken first and then the fritters in the last minutes before the family comes to the table.

The fritter recipe makes delicious fritters as is. However, for a change sometime, try adding two tablespoons chopped pimiento to the batter. Or, if you like, add a tablespoon of minced onion.

Batter Fried Chicken

1 egg, slightly beaten
¾ cup milk
1 tablespoon salad oil
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
1 ready-to-cook fryer chicken (2 pounds), disjointed
Salad oil for deep frying

Combine egg, milk and oil. Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; add to milk mixture; beat until smooth. Dip pieces of chicken in batter; drain 5 to 10 minutes on rack. Lower chicken into deep hot salad oil (350 degrees); cook about 12 minutes. Drain on absorbent paper. 4 servings.

Corn Fritters

1½ cups all-purpose flour
1 teaspoon baking powder (or 1¼ teaspoons phosphate or tartrate type baking powder)
1½ teaspoons salt
1 can (1 pound 4 ounces) cream-style corn, (2 cups)
2 tablespoons salad oil
2 eggs
Salad oil for frying

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Combine corn, milk, oil and eggs in bowl; add dry ingredients and beat thoroughly. Dry by tablespoons into deep salad oil heated to 375 degrees (hot enough to brown a ½-inch cube of day-old bread in 35 seconds), fry 3 or 4 minutes until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. 25 to 30 fritters.

Mix a cup of finely crushed graham-cracker crumbs with a third cup of butter; pat evenly over bottom and sides of an eight-inch pie plate. Chill, then add a filling of whipped cream (sweetened) and sliced bananas.

SPRINGTIME SHORTCAKE — Use shortcake dainties to make this interesting spring shortcake. Spoon 1 tablespoon fresh strawberries into each shortcake. Alternate slices of banana and berries around edge of shortcakes. Top with sweetened whipped cream, and garnish with a whole berry. Serve with additional strawberry sauce if desired.

Try Orange Crisps for Company Snack

An unbaked roll of cookie dough in your refrigerator is assurance of a tasty "company" snack in minutes. Try flavorful Orange Crisps.

Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon soda and one-half teaspoon salt. Cream together one-half cup shortening and 1 cup sugar until light and fluffy. Add 1 egg. Beat well.

Add 2 teaspoons grated lemon rind, 2 teaspoons grated orange rind and 3 tablespoons orange juice. Add flour mixture to creamed mixture. Mix thoroughly.

Shape into rolls and wrap in waxed paper. Chill until firm. Slice one-fourth inch thick and bake on ungreased baking sheets in moderate oven (375 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes.

Makes about 7½ dozen small cookies.

---

Cook diced celery just until tender-crisp and drain; mix with another cooked vegetable — carrots, peas or snap beans — for variety.

Here's Another Recipe for Making Meat Loaf

Every cook has her favorite meat loaf recipe. Here's one that's different and so delicious it may become your favorite.

* * *

Combine 2 pounds ground beef, ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup chopped green pepper, ½ chopped onion; salt, pepper, ground dill seed to taste, 1 cup fine bread crumbs, 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup. Bake in loaf pan at 350 degrees in oven of your gas range for an hour and a quarter.

---

Leftover white fish in the refrigerator. Mash it with a beaten egg and shape into patties; fry lightly on both sides in butter or margarine.

CF Girls Serve a "Malonpaki"

Let's go to a "Malonpaki." That's what Camp Fire Girls are saying these days. Just what is a "Malonpaki?"

A "Malonpaki" is an Asiatic dinner which is one of the requirements of the Camp Fire Girls' 1956 Birthday Project, "Plant Seeds—Reap Friendship." In this project the girls are studying four Asiatic countries, Burma, Ceylon, Pakistan and the Philippine Islands. The word "Malonpaki" is made up of a syllable from the name of each of these countries.

At St. Frederick school the Tekakwitha Camp Fire group is one that recently undertook this project. They had a dinner for their parents and served foods they had learned to make while studying the four countries.

Chicken Chow Mein is a Philippine recipe.

Chicken Chow Mein

1 stewing hen, about 3 pounds
2 bunches celery
2 pounds onions
2 cans bean sprouts

Boil chicken until tender, cool, and remove meat from bones. Cut celery diagonally and slice onions. Saute in fat until tender. Add 2 cups chicken stock to sauteed vegetables.

Bring mixture to a boil. Thicken with corn starch and add shredded chicken and drained bean sprouts. Stir and once more bring to a boil. Season to taste and color with soy sauce.

From Ceylon comes an interesting stuffed onion dish.

Puravapu Luna

6 large onions
2 tablespoons cooked chicken, ham or lamb
4 tablespoons bread crumbs
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon chopped fennel or parsley
Salt and pepper to taste
A little stock
Butter or margarine

Peel onions. Put into saucepan of boiling water and boil 10 minutes. Drain. When cold, scoop out centers, making a hole large enough to receive a teaspoon of stuffing.

Fill onions, sprinkle tops with bread crumbs and put a piece of butter or margarine on top of each. Arrange in a well greased baking dish and bake about half an hour. Serve with brown gravy.

For the stuffing chop 3 of the onion centers and mix with finely chopped meat. Add breadcrumbs, sauce, fennel and season to taste. Moisten with a little stock or a beaten egg.

For the dessert at this international dinner a rich pudding from Pakistan was served.

Siwayyone-ka-Zarda

1 cup butter
2 cardamon seeds
2 3-inch sticks cinnamon
¼ pound vermicelli
2 tall cans evaporated milk
½ cup seedless raisins
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon saffron
1 teaspoon water
¼ cup shredded almonds
¼ cup pistachio nuts

Melt butter with spices. Add uncooked vermicelli and cook slowly, about 5 minutes. Add milk and cook slowly until milk is absorbed, about 15-20 minutes.

Remove cardamon seeds and cinnamon. Add sugar and stir until dissolved. Mix saffron and water and add to pudding. Stir in nuts and raisins. Cover and let stand 5 minutes.

Garnish with small silver candies (dragees) to serve. Serve warm. Makes about 5 cups. In Pakistan this dessert is garnished with silver paper.

The dinner tables were covered with cloths made by the girls. In the center of each cloth was a crayoned replica of a flag of one of the countries. Surrounding the flag were questions about the various countries.

After dinner a quiz, using these questions, was held. The girls demonstrated a Philippine game. Leaders of this Camp Fire group are Mrs. Timothy Daily and Mrs. Marcus Smith.

Baked Beans Recipe Cuts Cooking Time

Here's an old favorite recipe for baked beans that doesn't require overnight soaking.

Baked Beans Pronto

4 cup dried navy beans
1 large onion
½ lb. salt pork
Salt to taste
½ cup catsup
½ cup molasses
½ teaspoon pepper
2 teaspoons dry mustard

Cover beans with water. Boil onion, salt pork and beans in covered saucepan till beans are tender. Drain; save 3 cups bean liquid (add additional water to make 3 cups, if necessary). Mix bean liquid with catsup, molasses, pepper and mustard. Pour beans and salt pork into bean pot. Add liquid mixture. Cover. Bake at 325 deg. F. for 1¾ hours. Uncover. Lift pork to top; bake 20 to 25 minutes to brown.

Want new flavor for your standard loaf of banana bread? Add a half teaspoon each of cinnamon and nutmeg.

Lemon juice helps to tenderize meat. So add thin rounds of fresh lemon to Swiss Steak for both texture and flavor.

AT EVERY STOP...

St. Joseph's Publishes Diet Manual

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital has announced publication of its diet manuel compiled by Mrs. Ada Heckert, dietitian, and Marie Hickey, director of nursing. Work on the material has progressed over the past year with hospital staff, doctors, dietitians, nurses and patients each contributing information and data.

The manual contains, in tabulated form approved diets for regular household use. It presents specially constructed diets for use of diabetics, hypertensive, and overwrought persons in their own homes.

Hospitals will find this manual a valuable reference to specific continuing diet information. Each diet is calculated according to the caloric or the therapeutic application of food in the treatment of patients.

In presenting the manual to the medical staff, Dr. Carleton A. Smith stated, "The salient facts are here. The diets given are flexible and adjustable to the likes and dislikes of the individual physician, dietitian, nurse and patient."

* * *

The manual is dedicated to Sister Mary William, administrator of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Quick-Frozen Lemonade Handy for Lemon Pudding

Now is the time for all smart homemakers to stock up on those convenient little cans of quick-frozen lemonade concentrate. Keep a supply in your freezer . . . then when the temperature soars, it just takes a moment to mix up a pitcher of that clear, cool, refreshing thirst-quencher.

And, as long as your freezer is full of lemonade concentrate, you might like to use it now and then as the basis for some light and lovely desserts. The quick-frozen lemonade makes a beautiful lemon cream pudding — fluffy and light as a cloud — that can be served in a fancy mold or poured into a baked pie shell or graham cracker crust. Serve either pudding or pie topped with just-thawed frozen raspberries. Either one makes a just-right, utterly delicious dessert.

Lemon Cream Pudding

1 envelope (1 tablespoon) gelatin
¼ cup water
¾ cup (6-ounce can) concentrated quick-frozen lemonade, thawed
⅓ cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream

Add gelatin to ¼ cup of the water. Place over hot water and stir to dissolve gelatin. Add remaining water, lemonade, and sugar and mix well. Chill until slightly thickened.

Then whip with egg beater until thick and fluffy. Whip the cream. Fold into whipped gelatin mixture. Pour into serving bowl or dessert dishes. Serve at once or chill to desired consistency. Or pour into 1½-quart mold and chill until firm. Serve with whipped cream garnish or top each serving with a spoonful of just-thawed quick-frozen red raspberries. Makes about 5½ cups, or 8 to 10 servings.

Lemon Cream Pie

Use recipe above and pour into baked 9-inch pastry pie shell or graham cracker crust. Chill until firm. If desired, top each serving with a spoonful of just-thawed quick-frozen red raspberries.

Serve Yummy Gingerbread Hot From Oven

Serve this gingerbread hot from the oven.

Gingerbread

1¼ cups sifted flour
¾ teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup molasses
½ cup hot water

Sift together the flour, baking soda, salt, cinnamon, ginger and cloves. Cream butter and sugar. Beat egg until thick and pale colored. Beat egg and molasses into creamed butter and sugar.

Beat sifted dry ingredients alternately with hot water into molasses mixture; begin and end with flour.

Turn into waxed-paper lined baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean.

Turn out on cooling rack and strip off paper. Any gingerbread left over may be wrapped in aluminum foil and reheated in a moderate oven.

Flavor for Carrots

Give new flavor to canned carrots. Drain the carrots and mix seedless raisins with the liquid; simmer 10 minutes. Add the carrots, a little butter and lemon juice, and cook 5 minutes longer until carrots are heated.

Treat Family to Navy Beans

We're celebrating Michigan Week and what better time to treat the family to Michigan navy beans! Our state grows 95 per cent of all the navies grown in the country and it's our No. 1 agricultural product.

There's a very good reason why Michigan navies are so good. Surrounded by the Great Lakes and dotted with thousands of inland lakes, Michigan's climate, soil and fresh lake breezes give our beans their delicious flavor, make them rich in vitamins and minerals. When you buy dry beans, look for the name of the Michigan shipper on the package. When you buy canned beans you can be sure they're Michigan's if it's any well-known name brand.

* * *

The following recipe calls for boiled beans, simply seasoned with salt and pepper but canned baked beans (without tomato) do nicely in this delicious dish.

Bean-Stuffed Peppers

6 green peppers
Boiled, seasoned beans
Vienna sausages or frankfurters
Tomato sauce

Wash peppers, cut off tops and remove seeds. Parboil 5 minutes and drain. Cool. Fill peppers with boiled, seasoned beans and top with one-inch slices of Vienna sausage or frankfurter. Arrange in shallow baking pan and add ⅛ inch water to pan. Bake at 350 degrees until peppers are tender and beans are hot. Serve with hot tomato sauce.

Honey Butter Sauce Puts Taste in Pancakes

To "butter and syrup" your pancakes all in one easy operation use this good honey butter sauce.

* * *

Place ½ cup honey, ½ cup evaporated milk, and ½ cup butter in small saucepan. Cook over low heat, stirring occasionally, until butter is completely melted and sauce is smooth. Makes four luscious servings to serve hot or cold over pancakes.

Baked Fish Plate

Two whole baked fish make a good-looking and good-tasting company dish. Each fish will need to weigh about three pounds to serve six. Stuff and bake according to standard directions.

Scientific Cookie

Now there is a new scientific cookie made of a protopectin flour developed from the pulp of oranges that is supposed to curb both appetite and hunger. The idea is to help you cut your intake of other foods.

Frozen fish thaws best in the refrigerator at 38 to 40 degrees

Tamales and Beans

A can of tamales and a can of green beans take well to each other when combined casserole style. Remove parchment from tamales and arrange them with their liquid over drained beans in a baking dish. Top with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven about 25 minutes, until heated through.

For a dessert gauged to cool all comers, add canned or bottled lime juice and sliced banana to fruit cocktail. Let flavors blend while chilling in thet refrigerator. Serve topped with orange sherbet.

Flavored Dish: Grilled Franks

Franks, cheese, barbecue sauce. These three are companionable flavors which can be the basis for many savory dishes.

Perhaps the most elementary combination is the Surprise Barbecued Franks while appear as foil cylinders. Heating may be in the oven, broiler, outdoor grill, or the coals of a campfire.

The surprise comes in the revelation, upon untwisting the foil, of a plump frank with the lengthwise slit filled with cheese and swathed over all in a full-flavored tomato barbecue sauce.

It's easy to transfer the frank and sauce from foil to bun. The salad may be crisp bits of several types of salad greens dew-coated in French dressing.

For lesser splendor, serve chilled sliced tomatoes, sweet onions, green peppers, and crispy leaves of Bibb, garden, or head lettuce. A bottle of French dressing lets guests douse to please.

The success of the Surprise Barbecued Franks depends on a wise choice of flavorful juicy franks, aged-flavored cheese, and a savory sauce. These may be foil wrapped and kept in the refrigerator for several hours until the hours of heating. Do heat 10 to 15 minutes so the "internal" flavors blend, and do serve when steaming hot at the peak of goodness.

Try This Barbecue: Corned Beef Burgers

Looking for a minute-mastered main dish? Barbecued corned beef hashburgers are tops for this class.

Slice a can of corned beef hash and place rounds in a greased baking dish. Brown in a hot oven (400 degrees) for 10 minutes, turn and brown the under sides.

Combine ¼ cup catsup, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard and one teaspoon vinegar and spread over tops of hash during the last baking period. Cut sandwich buns in half and toast both sides. Place a slice of barbecued hash in each bun.

Glazed Apples Add Tastiness to Pork Dinner

An accompaniment for pork that is good to eat and look at.

Glazed Orange Apples

½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons grated orange rind (1 large orange)
½ cup strained orange juice (2 large oranges)
Salt
3 large Delicious apples (about 1½ pounds)

Stir sugar, orange rind, orange juice and a dash of salt together in a 10-inch skillet over low heat until sugar dissolves. Remove from heat.

Wash and dry apples; cut into eighths; cut away cores; arrange in skillet. Heat until syrup boils gently; cover and continue boiling gently about 10 minutes.

Remove cover. Simmer, basting often, until outsides of apple slices look translucent. Turn slices and as those at bottom get cooked, exchange their places with apples on top. This will take about 20 minutes and there will be only a little syrup left.

Arrange apples in orderly rows, with skin side showing, on serving plate and spoon syrup over them. Serve hot or warm. Makes 6 servings.

Note: If desired, a little brandy flavoring may be added to the syrup left in pan after apples are glazed.

Plan Holiday Picnic Now With Help of Food Specials

MEATS — With Memorial Day the official opening of the picnic season, shoppers will be looking for foods to fill their baskets. Picnic enthusiasts will find a good supply of frankfurters, ground meat, canned meat, spareribs, some cuts of smoked ham, picnic shoulders, and broiler-fryers to stretch the food dollar. There is a variety of U.S. Choice quality steaks for popular outdoor cooking for a few cents less per pound than they were a year ago.

According to Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent, several cuts of smoked ham are specially priced in many markets. Shank portions and halves are generally priced about 10 to 20 cents less per pound than butt portions or halves. Since the center slices are not removed from the halves, more servings per pound are available from these cuts.

Homemakers who plan to eat at home may profit by checking the current prices and quality of the small 4 to 8 pound broad-breasted turkeys, ready-to-cook duck, or beef potroast.

For safety and the best flavor, ground beef should be used within 1 or 2 days; cut-up chicken within 1 to 3 days. Smoked ham should be used within 10 days after purchase for best quality. Wrap in foil or moisture-proof paper, and keep these meats refrigerated at 36-38 degrees F.

VEGETABLES — Each week brings summer a little closer with fresh vegetables from the South and West. Increasing supplies of corn and greenhouse tomatoes is welcome news, since prices usually drop slightly as more comes to market.

When selecting corn-on-the-cob, choose ears with bright shiny kernels well filled to the tip. Ears with a bright luster of "bloom" will be fresher and sweeter in flavor. After the kernels become dull, the flavor will be flat and more starchy.

Carrots, dry onions, and cabbage are on the economy list; quality is very good. According to some retailers, all new potatoes are not fully mautre. Wise shoppers will remember to buy potatoes in small quantities for quick use, and will store them in a cool dark place.

Homegrown asparagus has thrust its head through the ground, but warm sunshine is needed to bring the peak of the season. Some of the shipped-in asparagus has a large amount of woody portion that must be discarded as waste, so consider this when comparing prices.

FRUITS — Cantaloupe, strawberries, and watermelons highlight the fruit counter. The 36 size (36 to a crate) and the slightly larger 27 size (27 to a crate) cantaloupe are of surprisingly good flavor for this early in the season.

Strawberries vary in price according to quality and the locality in which they are grown. Arkansas, Tennessee and California berries are on the local markets in pints and quarts. Remember that variety, not size, determines strawberry flavor. 25 to 27 pound watermelons of good quality will be selling at about 7 to 10 cents per pound for the holiday ahead.

EGGS — Egg prices are about the same as last week. Each dozen of large eggs weighs 24 ounces compared to medium eggs weighing 21 ounces, and extra large eggs weighing 27 ounces. At the current prices, the large size represents the best value.

DAIRY — Never skimp on milk, for this means skimping on good health. Milk is the most economical way of getting needed calcium for building and keeping strong bones and teeth. It is a "must" for youngsters and oldsters alike.

Asparagus and Ham With Cheese

1 pound sliced smoked ham
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
¼ teaspoon salt
Dash red pepper
1½ cups milk
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Melt butter in heavy saucepan over low fire. Stir in flour, salt and red pepper. Slowly add 1½ cups milk, stirring until thickened. Stir in 1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese until melted.

Cut 1 lb. sliced smoked ham in ½ inch strips and brown in skillet. Place in 8-inch baking dish. Top with 8 stalks of tender cooked home grown asparagus cut in half. Add cheese sauce, then place more asparagus over this. Bake 15 minutes in 375 degrees F. oven. Serves 4.

Ice Cream Fills Crumb Crust

Here's a really glamorous Cranberry Ice Cream Pie for that big party night.

* * *

It's an out-of-this-world dessert with a spicy gingersnap crust, a mellow vanilla ice cream filling and tangy ruby red cranberry sauce for a topping.

* * *

Place thick wedges on your fanciest dishes and serve from your low table in the living room. The coffee's hot, the pie's supreme and your guests will soon be asking for the recipe.

CRANBERRY ICE CREAM PIE

Gingersnap Crust

Blend together:
1½ cups finely-crushed gingersnap crumbs
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup melted butter
Pat into bottom and sides of an 8-inch pie pan.
Chill in refrigerator.

Filling

1 quart vanilla ice cream
1 pound can whole cranberry sauce

Spoon vanilla ice cream into gingersnap crust. Top with whole cranberry sauce. Place in freezing compartment of refrigerator until serving time.

Cherry Cream Dessert Made With Jelly Roll

Jelly roll, an everyday favorite for desserts, snacks and lunchboxes, is the basis for many party pretty desserts, too.

Marshmallows, cherries and pineapple, folded into whipped cream, make a delicious party coating for the many-layered jelly roll from your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department. It's quick to make, too, with this easy recipe:

Cherry Cream Dessert

1 12-ounce jelly roll
2 cups whipping cream
1 cup finely cut marshmallows
½ cup drained, crushed pineapple
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup maraschino cherries, cut into bits

Cut jelly roll into six slices. Whip cream stiff. Carefully fold remaining ingredients into cream. Spread each cake slice with a heaping tablespoonful of whipped cream mixture.

Reassemble slices loaf-fashion on serving dish. Cover roll evenly with remaining whipped cream mixture.

Chill thoroughly, six to eight hours. Slice serving portions on the diagonal from alternate sides of the loaf for full beauty of design in servings.

Drain liquid from 1 can (1 lb.) peas into saucepan; boil quickly to reduce to about 1-3 cup. Add peas, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and ½ teaspoon salt; toss lightly; heat well. Serves 4.

Teatime Treats Can Be Frozen for Use in Jiffy

Ever turn out a lavish tea spread in 20 minutes or less?

"You can, if you have a freezer," says Virginia Thabet, associate equipment editor of a home magazine.

In an article called "Freeze the Fixings," in the magazine's current issue, she shows how to prepare everything in advance and pop it into a freezer so it's ready to serve on a moment's notice.

* * *

A delightful edible centerpiece like frosted grapes, for example, is very easy to prepare. Just wash and dry large red or blue grapes and place them uncovered on a flat surface in the freezer. Then package them when they are frozen. Serve them still frozen and they'll be the hit of the tea when they appear on the table shimmering with frost.

BABAS — Babas, little sweet yeast cakes, are served in an apricot syrup sauce. Bring the chafing dish right to the table for a dramatic ending to the evening meal.

European Dessert, Babas Will Surely Appeal to All

NEW YORK, N. Y. — Home cooks with a desire to tempt the family's palate with a different kind of dessert should consider a European creation known as Babas. Babas, originally called Ali Babas in tribute to the woodcutter in The Arabian Nights, are small syrup-soaked cakes made from sweet yeast batter containing currants and raisins.

BABAS
(Little French Yeast Cakes)

1 package active dry yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
1½ cups sifted enriched flour
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
2 large or 3 small eggs
¼ cup milk
2-3 cup shortening
1 tablespoon raisins
1 tablespoon currants

Soften yeast in the water for 5 minutes, then stir until blended. Combine flour, sugar and salt in a mixing bowl. Stir in yeast and the eggs, beaten lightly with the milk. Beat until batter is smooth, about 100 strokes. Add shortening, raisins and currants and beat until shortening is blended into batter, about 50 strokes. Spoon batter into greased baba molds or custard cups, filling them half full, and let rise until batter is rounded over rim of molds or cups, about 1 hour. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 12 to 15 minutes or until browned. Unmold hot Babas and drop them into a saucepan of apricot sauce. Reheat before serving. Recipe makes 8 Babas.

Apricot Sauce

¾ cup sugar
1¼ cups apricot nectar
2 teaspoons lemon juice

In a saucepan combine sugar and apricot nectar. Bring to a boil and boil rapidly for 5 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in the lemon juice.

Babas au Rhum

Add ½ cup rum to the apricot sauce with the lemon juice. Unmold hot Babas and drop them into the apricot rum sauce. When ready to serve, put Babas into a flameproof serving dish or chafing dish with any unabsorbed syrup and heat. Sprinkle Babas with 2 tablespoons sugar and pour over

Leftover Ham? Don't Fuss, Smallest Bits Are Useful

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Perhaps the fact that there is a ham sandwich in my lunch today accounts for this article. Anyway, I thought if high time to talk about some of the ways you can use leftover ham.

I think ham is wonderful to have on hand. There are so many ways you can use it. If you're feeling lazy, all you need do is slice it and serve it that way for a second meal or in a sandwich.

Here's a new recipe you can try if you have a cup and a half of ground cooked ham. In English its title means ham served in a basket—in this case a roll.

Ham En Panier

1½ cups ground cooked ham
6 large hard rolls
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
1½ tablespoons butter or margarine
1 tablespoon flour
¼ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1½ cups milk
3 tablespoons prepared mustard
Pimiento, if desired

Cut a slice from the top of each roll. Scoop out the center of the rolls. Combine cooked ham, hard-cooked eggs and parsley.

Melt butter or margarine. Stir in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk stirring constantly until thickened. Add mustard.

Add ham and egg mixture to mustard sauce. Fill buns with creamed mixture. Heat rolls in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 10 minutes. Garnish with chopped pimiento, if desired. Yield: 6 servings.

A simple supper or luncheon dish is Eggs Benedict. This is found on menus in the most famous restaurants in the country. You can serve it in your home with very little trouble.

Eggs Benedict

Hollandaise Sauce
2 English Muffins, or 4 slices bread
4 teaspoons margarine
4 thin slices ham, about size of muffin or toast
4 eggs

Prepare Hollandaise Sauce. Split English muffins and toast. Or toast bread. Spread with margarine. (If toasted in oven, spread with margarine first). Fry ham and poach eggs.

To serve, arrange a slice of ham on muffin or toast. Top with poached egg then Hollandaise Sauce.

Hollandaise Sauce: Place 2 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar, ½ teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon cayenne pepper, and 2 tablespoons cream into a small heatproof bowl. Beat with wire whip until smooth.

Place bowl in a skillet of hot water over moderate heat and beat with a whisk until mixture begins to thicken. Cut 1 stick of margarine into 3 parts and add 1 portion at a time, beating well after each addition. Makes about ¾ cup sauce, or enough for 4 servings Egg Benedict.

Sandwiches with a dash of imagination will be yours if you use this unusual combination of foods for a filling. That last cup of ground ham will do the trick.

Ham-Apricot Sandwich Filling

1 cup chopped cooked ham
⅓ cup apricot puree

Combine ham and apricot puree. Yield: 1 cup, or filling for 5 sandwiches.

Junior Foods Developed to Satisfy Adult Tastes

The very young men and women of today are learning "grown-up" flavor combinations long before they are ready to eat adult foods. It's all because junior foods are being developed in food combinations that please the younger set in taste and texture. One of the newest, chicken - noodle dinner—is ready for baby to enjoy. It contains, among other ingredients, chicken broth, chicken, carrots and egg noodles—all expertly blended into a nutritious, delicious dinner.

Packed in a 7-¾ oz. jar, the food can be heated right in the jar, but, be sure to raise the lid before heatings. If you are planning to use only part of the food, heat that portion in a small saucepan. Then, recap the partly-used jar tightly and store it in the refrigerator.

Of course I use sugar on my cereal—I know

Punch Is Meant for Fun Serve It Often at Parties

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

With weddings, showers and graduation parties in the engagement books of many Oakland county residents, we think a recipe or two for punch might be appreciated.

The word "Punch" comes from Asia, from either a Persian or a Hindustani word meaning five and referring to the five properties of punch; Hot, cold, sweet, bitter and strong. The making of punch was once almost a fine art and took a great deal of time. With all the canned and frozen ingredients we can get, making punch is a matter of minutes.

As a rule, punch is made in large quantities to serve to a great many people. If you have the basic ingredients ready, it is simple to make up additional batches.

There is a new canned fruit juice on the market that should be excellent for punch this summer. It is a combination of pineapple and grapefruit. Our family considers it just right for sweetness.

Frozen lemonade is an ideal punch base. The following recipe uses it in addition to other fruit juices.

Lemonade-Pineapple Wedding Punch

4 (6-ounce) cans frozen concentrate for lemonade.
1 (6-ounce) can frozen orange juice
1 (6-ounce) can frozen grapefruit juice
2 (No. 2) can pineapple chunks
2 (28-ounce) bottles sparkling water
2 (28-ounce) bottles ginger ale
Ice, or ice cubes
Fresh lemon slices for garnish

Mix the concentrate for lemonade, orange and grapefruit juices and combine with pineapple. Pour over ice in punch bowl.

Just before serving, add sparkling water and gingerale. Garnish with fresh lemon slices. Yield: 48 (4-oz.) servings.

Our grandmothers used tea as the base for their punches. This recipe starts off like iced tea and winds up deliciously different.

Four Fruit Punch

2 tea bags
1 cup boiling water
1 (6 ounce) can frozen orange juice concentrate
1-3 cup lemon juice (1 large lemon)
½ cup grapefruit juice
1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice
1 pint dry gingerale
½ cup sugar syrup*
1 tray ice cubes
Sliced strawberries

Pour boiling water over tea bags and let steep 5 minutes. Add tea to remaining ingredients except strawberries. Cover and let stand in refrigerator until ice has chilled beverage. Add strawberries just before serving.

Top each serving with a whole berry. More gingerale or water may be added if desired. Yield: 2½ quarts.

Make syrup by boiling together equal parts of sugar and water for 5 minutes or until clear. Keep a supply on hand for iced tea and cold beverages.

*Use frozen whole strawberries or fresh strawberries in season. Maraschino cherries, halved, may be substituted if desired.

Have you ever considered using honey to sweeten your fruit drinks? This recipe makes only a small quantity of punch. Frosty orange sherbet is used for a topping. If you make the drink in a punch bowl, drop in scoops of the sherbet to float on top.

Citrus Honey Cooler

2 cups fresh orange juice
½ cup lemon juice
¼ to 1-3 cup honey
1 pint orange sherbet
Orange slices and strawberries, if desired

Combine orange juice, lemon juice, and honey; stir until honey is thoroughly mixed. Pour into tall glasses and top each glass with a generous scoop of orange sherbet. Garnish with orange slices and fresh strawberries, if desired. Serves 4 to 6.

A good many people like wine punches. This recipe comes from California. It will go well with potato chips and dips, tiny open-faced sandwiches and salted nuts.

Wine Punch

Two (4-5 quart) bottles red table wine, chilled
1 (1 quart) bottle apple juice, chilled
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup sugar
1 large bottle ginger ale, chilled

Combine wine, apple juice, lemon juice and sugar in a punch bowl; stir to dissolve sugar. Pour in ginger ale and stir to blend.

Add a block of ice or a tray of ice cubes. Serve at once.

This makes about 3½ quarts.

Note: If you want to use grape juice in place of the red wine, omit sugar in recipe and dilute grape juice with water to desired strength.

Above all, don't be afraid to experiment. Use the kinds of fruit juices you like, putting any combination together. Mix fresh, frozen and canned juices. Freeze lemonade in your ice cube trays for cooling. Make decorated ice cubes with cherries, mint or strawberries. Punch is a fun food—keep it that way.

Vegetable Sauce

Heat a half cup ofready-prepared mayonnasie with a quarter cup of cream and a half teaspoon of lemon juice over hot water. Add a dash of salt and white pepper and serve over vegetables.

Mints Popular in Grapefruits

You don't have to go to the Kentucky Derby to appreciate the flavor and aroma of mint, which is one of the many traditions surrounding this great event of the sports world. As Spring moves northward, one of the pleasant things that comes with it is mint.

If you want your mint to keep good company, combine it with grapefruit, which the Department of Agriculture has listed as a Plentiful Food for several months. Whether you use fresh grapefruit cut in half, grapefruit sections canned or frozen, or grapefruit juice, mint will give grapefruit a Springtime lift.

One of the simplest ways to combine grapefruit and mint is to cut a grapefruit in half and put some mint jelly in the center. The jelly will dissolve and percolate through the sections, so every bite will be a joy.

When the weather gets hot, try a Florida Julep. Fill a shaker or jar with crushed ice and canned grapefruit juice; add crushed mint leaves and powdered sugar and shake until the sugar is dissolved and the mint is evenly distributed. Then pour into a glass powdered with confectioner's sugar and filled with crushed ice. Decorate with a sprig of mint. Sip through a straw.

If you can't find fresh mint, don't be downhearted. Dissolve some candy mints and you have a combination of mint and sugar.

Cooking Extra Foods Means More Treats

Is gardening competing with time in the kitchen? Try cooking extra on purpose, such as enough extra potatoes for Potato Cheese Puffs.

* * *

Combine 2 cups leftover mashed potatoes with 1 unbeaten egg. Form into 8 patties and insert a ¼-inch cube of cheese into each patty. Roll generously in bread crumbs and French fry in deep fat (375 degrees F.) until light brown.

A cup of medium white sauce will be enough for a 6½ or 7-ounce can of tuna when you are preparing the fish cream-style.

Cottage Cheese Topped Colonial Breakfasts

Back in 17th Century New Amsterdam, the early morning service of cottage cheese was taken for granted, no matter what else the groaning board might provide. Generous dishes heaped with cottage cheese stood on the table from five a.m. on — handy to a variety of breads — rye, wheat, oat, barley and bean.

Youngsters and hungry grown-ups impatient for the larger morning feast to follow, spread slices of bread thickly with cottage cheese and jam — or a favorite sweet delicacy known as Green Jelly — made of milk, parsley, sugar and cinnamon.

The cinnamon used in the milk sweet was such a rare spice that it had to be purchased at an apothecary shop, as did rare wheat flour as well. An everyday breakfast of that time might include pasties of venison and meat, fried fish, waffle cakes, egg cheese and roasted chestnuts. But whatever else it included, it always featured bread, butter and cottage cheese as the mainstays.

Aluminum foil may be had in a new package: the foil comes in flat sheets, each 12 by 10½ inches, that may be pulled out easily.

GM Girls' Club Entertains Employers at Dinner

"Bosses' Night" brought out 230 members of General Motors Girls' Club and their employers Wednesday evening for the sixth annual banquet sponsored by the club. Guests on hand for the occasion were (left to right) G. M. Watson, personnel director; A. F. Johnson, manufacturing manager, and B. B. Kimball, advertising manager, all of Pontiac Motor Division. Photographed with them is Betty Lou DeGroot, assistant vice president of the Girls' Club.

Pontiac Press Photos

Robert M. Critchfield, general manager of Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors, attended "Bosses' Night" as the guest of Margaret Dernberger, president of the General Motors Girls' Club.

Elected president of GM Girls' Club for the coming year at the annual banquet Wednesday evening was Laura Bowmaster (right). She is photographed with C. V. Crockett, chief engineer of General Motors Truck and Coach Division, and Margaret Hutchinson, recording secretary.

Elks Temple Is the Scene of Festivities

Group's Charitable Work Is Explained to Executives

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Womens Editor, The Pontiac Press

Employers were honored by their secretaries and office girls Wednesday evening at Elks Temple when General Motors Girls' Club hosted its sixth annual spring dinner.

• • •

Maybe the boss thought that his efficient office girl merely did her duties at work, leaving for the day to find a good book or an evening of pleasure.

But he had his eyes opened last night when he learned about some of the philanthropic activities of these girls.

When they leave the office these club members concentrate primarily on helping underprivileged, crippled and emotionally disturbed children.

• • •

Their efforts are highly praised by such institutions as Pontiac State Hospital, the Oakland County Convalescent Hospital (where they have not forgotten the senior citizen), the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children, the Boys' Club of Pontiac, and the Dearborn Veterans' Hospital.

328 MEMBERS

There are some 328 members of the club who divide their time among these worthy organizations.

• • •

They reminisced a little Wednesday night—with their president of two years, Mrs. Margaret Dernberger. And as they recounted these activities, it was apparent their employers were experiencing a feeling of pride.

In an election of officers held at the banquet Laura Bowmaster was named as the club's new president. Her fellow officers include Shirley Taylor, vice president; Margaret Mitchell, secretary, and Donna Wilmot, treasurer.

Outgoing officers are Mrs. Dernberger, Betty Lou DeGrott, Shirley Slaughter, Kathryn Moyer and Margaret Hutchinson.

• • •

General chairman of the banquet was Miss Bowmaster. She introduced Albert Barnett who spoke to the 230 members and guests attending the affair.

FIELDS OF BATTLE

Tracing his experiences from a foxhole in France where he served with the Canadian Army in World War I, Mr. Barnett took the audience through a travelogue to Flanders Field, the beachhead of Normandy, and to many historical areas in England and France.

• • •

Included were comparison pictures of the front lines as they were in 1914 and as they appear today. Devastated areas were shown, as well as the cemeteries containing the graves of those who gave their lives in that war.

The trip taken 38 years later was inspired by a promise to a friend who had been killed in the war, but who had filled the speaker with hope in a near-hopeless time.

Introduced as special guests of the evening were Robert M. Critchfield, T. F. Wiethorn, Beverly Payne, past president of the Detroit GM Girls' Club, and Margaret O'Neill, president.

• • •

The invocation was given by Barbara Frazier. Prizes were awarded by Janet DeConick.

Fisher Body Division of General Motors was represented at "Bosses' Night" by T. F. Wiethorn (standing), plant manager, and R. J. Nicholas, resident comptroller, who accompanied Shirley Slaughter to the banquet at Elks Temple. Miss Slaughter is an assistant vice president of the General Motors Girls' Club.

R. T. Jennings, sales promotion manager of General Motors Truck and Coach Division, attended the banquet as a guest of Margaret Mitchell (left), recording secretary of the club, and Kathryn Moyer, treasurer of the club. Miss Mitchell was winner of the 1956 "High Fever Follies" queen contest.

Music Guild Officers Are Introduced

Officers for the 1956-57 season were introduced to members at the annual banquet of the Pontiac Music Guild held Tuesday evening at Hotel Waldron.

Oscar Schmidt presented Amy Hogle, president; Mrs. Walter Schmitz, vice president; Mrs. Lester Snell, recording secretary, and Mrs. Lester Quye, corresponding secretary.

During the program portion of the meeting Mrs. Don Derragon introduced John Mathews, double bass soloist, who played the "Dragonettie Concerto" and "Chanson Triste" by Koussevitsky. He was accompanied by Shirley Forest of Ann Arbor.

Fenton Mathews of Birmingham showed pictures of his recent trip to the West Indies, following which Jerry Stone of Rochester presented several piano solos including "Childhood Scenes" by Robert Schumann and "May Night" by Palmgren.

Guests attending the annual meeting were Mr. Snell, Mrs. Vinnia Hogle, Mrs. Don Derragon Jr., Mrs. Roy Wright, Mr. Schmitz, Mrs. R. J. Howland and Mrs. Robert A. Harrison of Oxford.

Mrs. Everett Russell was chairman of the banquet arrangements. The group plans a picnic to be held in June.

Teachers' Federation Sponsors Event

Dinner Honors City School Retirees

The annual dinner of the Pontiac Federation of Teachers was held Wednesday evening in the Pontiac High School cafeteria. The dinner was in honor of teachers and other employes retiring from the Pontiac school system this year.

• • •

The invocation was given by the Rev. Herbert Ryan, and Mrs. Naomi Dennis, president of the federation, extended greetings and welcomed guests. She introduced Donald Schultz, newly elected president, who served as toastmaster.

The Rev. Mr. Ryan, of the Faith Evangelical United Brethren Church of Detroit, was guest speaker. His topic was "The Philosophy of Retirement." He said, "Age is not a thing on the calendar, but a thing of the heart."

The Rev. Mr. Ryan also stressed that doing a job does not consume a life for there is still much to be done by retiring persons. In closing, he paid tribute to all teachers.

Musical entertainment was furnished by the Pontiac High School Junior Girls' Ensemble under the direction of Merlin Asplin.

J. Cecil Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, paid tribute to the retirees, Mrs. Elmer Huntley, Olive Taylor and John Bennett, Mrs. Ralph Dawe, secretary of the federation, presented a gift to Mrs. Dennis, outgoing president.

Special guests introduced were Dr. and Mrs. Dana P. Whitmer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Schimmel, Mrs. Harry King, Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Osmun, Mr. Cox, Mrs. Otto Berendt and Mr. and Mrs. Frank DuFrain.

Mrs. Cleo Wiley and Mrs. Nettie Fouts were cochairmen of the program committee. Teachers of Owen School made decorations for the affair.

Family Night Held by Pontiac WCTU

Members of the Pontiac WCTU gathered in Friendship Hall Tuesday evening for the annual Family Night dinner. The Rev. Charles Race of Central Christian Church gave the invocation.

• • •

Mrs. Ray Fleming presided over the gathering. During the program portion of the meeting, the Rev. and Mrs. Robert Shelton told of their missionary work and experiences with the people of the Orient. The Rev. Mr. Shelton sang one of his own compositions, "Go Ye," accompanied by Mrs. Shelton at the piano.

• • •

Vocal numbers were presented by Verlaine, Deloris and Norman Wilson. Mrs. Roy Shafer gave the benediction.

Dip-Dry Dresses

Women will find lots of machine-washable cottons this year, good-looking fashions that are moderately priced. Most of these will need touching up with the iron even though they're classed as drip dry.

Chapter Holds Candlelight Rite to Install Officers

Mrs. Park Buchner opened her home on Chippewa road Tuesday evening to members of Phi Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Mrs. Clinton Richards assisted the hostess.

• • •

At a candlelight installation service, Mrs. Walter Hiller was installed as president for the coming year.

Others installed were Mrs. Ray Slaughter, vice president; Mrs. Arlene Burlington, secretary; Mrs. William Killen, treasurer; Mrs. Richards, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. John Whitehead, council delegate.

Plans were discussed for the annual picnic to be held at the home of Mrs. Hiller on June 2.

• • •

Serving on the picnic committee are Mrs. Cecil Elsholz, Mrs. Edgar Arnold and Mrs. Fred Rigotti.

Don't Look Frumpy

The woman who wears glasses must be careful about veiling, too much sparkly jewelry, too much glitter on her hat. If she isn't, she'll look frumpy and overdressed.

U. of M. Alumnae Group Meets at Crawford Home

Members of the Pontiac Alumnae Club of the University of Michigan met for a cooperative dinner at the home of Mrs. Franklin Crawford on Commerce road Tuesday evening.

• • •

A report of the Ninth District Alumnae Association Conference held on May 5 at the Dearborn Country Club was given by the representatives of the Pontiac group, Mrs. Harry Richards and Mrs. Robert B. Tarr.

There are six pages in today's Women's Section

A highlight of the district meeting was the attendance of Dr. Harlan Hatcher, president of the University of Michigan, who arrived at the club by helicopter, addressed the group and returned to Ann Arbor by helicopter to report 20 minutes later that he was back at his desk at the university.

Announcement was made of the spring Alumnae Council meeting to be held in Ann Arbor on June 15.

• • •

Committee chairmen who will assist Mrs. William Gordon, president-elect, for the coming year were presented.

Mrs. Paul Taylor, will serve as chairman of the program committee, Mrs. Harry Richards, scholarship; Mrs. Tarr, social; Mrs. Vernon Abbott, membership, and Dorothy Cummins, telephone.

Janet Heitsch, finance; Mrs. Jay Wagner, courtesy; Iama Hook, constitution; Mrs. L. L. Dunlap, historian, and Mrs. Carroll Braid, publicity, are others.

Mrs. Dunlap, social chairman for the meeting, was assisted by Mrs. Taylor and Gertrude Overton.

Flowered Beach Hats Popular This Summer

Large flower-covered beach hats are popular this year. Many fashion-wise beach belles make their own with inexpensive hats bought at variety stores, covering the crown with seashells, bows, flowers and other motif.

These are tied under the chin with a big sash that sometimes goes right up and over the crown of the hat.

Dated Hair Style Ages the Wearer

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is always fun to talk with Michel (Helena Rubinstein), one of today's truly distinguished hair stylists. He is not only a creative artist in his work but he is witty and understanding of feminine psychology.

I visited with him in New York not long ago. This year he is introducing what he calls his "Parasol Look." If this is as popular as his poodle cut was a few years ago we had better learn about it.

Like the soft look of organdy, this coiffure is smooth on top with a lifted effect. The sides are slightly winged in a diagonal curved line. The back, as featured in all the Parasol coifs, continues in the curved-straight line.

This is a softly turned-inward coiffure, demi-length. The length he calls demi-length is just below the ear lobes. No curls are visible.

He uses what he calls the "undercurl," which is just as it sounds. The hair underneath is curled to give body but the top hair is straight. This new cutting and waving allows each creation to have smooth, long curves to fit the individual face.

* * *

Michel takes the current styles in hats and clothes into consideration when designing new hairdos. His smooth, sleek coiffures go beautifully with this season's billowing hats and empire dresses.

ADAPT STYLES

I asked Michel how far along he thinks a woman should go with current styles, whether she should sacrifice becomingness to style. He answered, "A current fashion can always be adapted to the individual woman. It should be becoming to her but it can also be enough in trend to be up to date."

* * *

He continued, "A woman looks youthful as long as she looks up to date. A hat or hair style or dress which is dated makes her look older. She should not be afraid of change. Our eyes teach us what to like."

It is true that what we are accustomed to looks good to us. This stylist is aware of the fact that women are afraid to change their hairdo and therefore he shows them just what the new style will look like before he begins actual work on them.

To show the aging effect of a dated hairdo, Michel coiffed a daughter 20 years old and her mother who was 40, giving the daughter the old-fashioned hair style and the mother the modish one.

* * *

If you could see their pictures I am certain that you would be completely confused and would think that the daughter is the mother and vice versa.

3 SUGGESTIONS

From this interview I bring you three definite bits of advice:

1. Try for an uncurled, sleek but shaped style, to go with the season's hats.

2. The hair should always be lifted at the temples if a woman is middle-aged or more. You should have this lift even if the hair is reversed and turns back toward the face.

3. Change your hair fashion, at least to some extent, so that you will not look dated, and therefore older.

Tomorrow: "Young Girl's Fat Face May Be Blessing Later."

Sally L. Pulver to Become Bride in July Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Pulver of Greenlawn drive, Square Lake, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sally Lee, to Robert Allen Davis, son of Ralph Davis of Fort Wayne, Ind.

* * *

Sally attended Wittenberg College, Springfield, Ohio, and is a student at Elmhurst College, Elmhurst, Ill. She is affiliated with Kappa Delta sorority.

* * *

Bob is a graduate of Wittenberg College where he was affiliated with Phi Gama Delta fraternity. He is at present a student at the Chicago Lutheran Theological Seminary, Maywood, Ill. The couple plans a July wedding.

Wash Gloves Often

Most women who wear white gloves are aware that they must be a fresh white in order to look well. But the same is true of pale beige or any other light color. So have your gloves cleaned (or wash them yourself) often.

Students Hold Banquet

A "Bon Voyage" banquet and program was presented Tuesday evening by sixth graders of Baldwin School. One hundred and forty parents and guests attended. Mrs. Irene Albright, school principal; Ray Young, band director and Mrs. Harold Northon, music director, were guests at the banquet given by pupils of Mary Virginia Luther and mrs. Edward Leland.

Decorations inthe dining room carried out the theme of a Bon Voyage Cruise. Favors were miniature ships of the "Good Ship Baldwin" and place cards were programs in the form of booklets.

The Baldwin Serenaders, and a boys' quintet accompanied by Mrs. Northon, numbers by the sixth grade band and a brass trio were part of the program. Other numbers were the presentation of the Gettysburg Address, a piano duet, and an accordion solo and a demonstration of a square dance.

The banquet committee included Mrs. Teddy Bowes, Mrs. Clifton Ashley, Mrs. James Dalton, Mrs. Thomas Folsom, Mrs. Lawrence Mitchell and Mrs. James Ward.

Bethany Baptist Women Hold Meetings

Members of the Bethany Baptist Church Women's Society met recently in the church auditorium. Mrs. Edward Lewis presided at the morning meeting and presented the theme for the year, "Precious Treasurer."

* * *

Among the activities planned by the group are a father and daughter banquet on June 19 and a picnic to be held at the home of Sally Peck on Silver Lake that will conclude the society's activities until fall.

Luncheon was served by the Esther Group. Mrs. John Webb gave the invocation.

The afternoon program was opened with Mrs. George Zamoth singing two selections. Mrs. Irl Williams of the Oakland Park Methodist Chkrch gave devotions.

* * *

"A Gift From the Sea" by Anne Morrow Lindbergh was the book reviewed by Mrs. Eddard Williams of Rochester. The book is a study of how sea shells symbolize the different phases of life.

The speaker stated that books read in our younger days can fill our later life with beauty and that books can always be returned to as we return to our old friends.

Mrs. Williams concluded with several passages from "The Secret River," a book by Marjorie Rawlings, showing how our mind can build a beautiful picture through a book.

* * *

Group meetings were held in members' homes and in the chur parlors during the week.

Dorcas

Members of the Dorcas Group gathered at the home of Mrs. Aaron Fox on Cherokee road for a luncheon meeting. Mrs. Turris McCully gave devotions. A short business meeting was conducted.

Esther

Mrs. Alfred Coles entertained members of the Esther Group for luncheon at her home on Whitfield court. Mrs. Henry Berry assisted the hostess. Devotions were given by Mrs. John Webb. Members made plans to serve the women of the Christian Church on June 12.

Martha

A salad luncheon was enjoyed by members of the Martha Group when they met at the home of Mrs. Walter Krause on Menominee road. Mrs. Clarence Smith assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Aden Thornton gave devotions, using "Another Year is Dawning" as her theme.

Lydia

Mrs. Lewis Cornell opened her home on Dwight avenue to members of the Lydia Group for a cooperative dinner. Mrs. Maynard Johnson gave devotions.

Officers elected to serve during the coming year are Mrs. Daniel Owen, president; Mrs. Hayden Henley, vice president; Mrs. Cornell, secretary, and Mrs. Emma Clark, treasurer.

The group voted to send two delegates to the Business and Professional Women's house party at Hillsdale.

Naomi

Members of the Naomi Group met for luncheon at the home of Mrs. James Crew on Seminole avenue. Mrs. Archie Karr gave devotions.

Mrs. George Cameron presided at the business meeting, after which members spent the afternoon sewing for the American Cancer Society.

Ruth

Mrs. Arthur Wilcox was hostess to members of the Ruth Group when they met in the church parlots. Mrs. Charles Kelly assisted the hostess. The devotional theme, "Abundant Living," taken from the 24th Psalm, was given by Mrs. Andrew Pepper.

Plans were made to hold a picnic for the June meeting.

Travel Postcards Should Be Saved

BOSTON (INS)—Most everyone has an album for snapshots. But what happens to all the travel maps, picture postal cards and pamphlets about historic sites you collect on your auto tour?

This summer save them all. Then when you mount the snaps in the album, the left hand side of the page can be used to mount the other material which not only augments the snaps, but adds color and life to the photos you made of the trip.

Modern furniture accounts for about 60 per cent of all furniture manufactured this year.

Shower Given for Betty Brill at Menzel Home

Mrs. Lucille Menzel of Edna avenue entertained at a miscellaneous shower for Betty Brill Tuesday evening.

* * *

Betty, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Brill of Williams Lake, is the bride-elect of Jack Kratt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kratt of Waterford. The couple will be married June 9 at Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford.

She has asked her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Wyers of Clarkston, to be her maid of honor. Jack will be assisted by his brother, Donald Kratt, as best man.

Shower guests were Pat Parmenter, Marilyn Weber, Rachael Deckard, Norma McGlouthin, Doris Lindeberg, Ann Stukas, Corrine Lomerson, Irene Hackeney and Donelda Stinchcomb.

* * *

Thyra Kimmel, Geraldine Lawrence, Liz Cady, Freida Huntsman, Rose Kawiecki, Laura Crain, Ann Capogna, June Vanderpool and Ruth Ruggles completed the list.

Be Careful

For safety when you use a washing machine, connect or disconnect the washer cord only when standing on a dry floor and with dry hands. If the floor is damp, stand on a dry rubber floormat. And, grasp the plug, not the cord, when you make or break connections.

Don't Let Plans Control Your Life

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some old proverbs are sound and true and full of wisdom. But some—we might as well admit it—are a lot of nonsense and ought to be put into the incinerator before they can do any more harm.

* * *

Among these is the old chestnut, "Plan your life and live your plan."

Actually, most of the big successes I know — and I know an awful lot of them — did no such thing. They played it by ear, as it were, and had nothing to do with rigid plans.

Elliott and Ruth Handler are an example of what I mean.

The Handlers now have a million dollar toy business on the West Coast. But it all began, really, because they had some leftover wooden slats once.

Elliott Handler was — and is — an inspiring designer. Ruth loves working with people and business organizations.

PRETTY BROKE

In the early years of their marriage, they weren't well off financially. In fact, they were pretty broke off and on. But they kept on with one project or another, knowing that eventually they would hit the jackpot.

* * *

There was a jewelry business — Elliott's designs — and there was a doll furniture project that was simmering away.

One day, when they were looking for something more to do, they saw a bunch of leftover wooden slats from a shipment of the doll furniture.

They decided to use them for something — and it was the beginning of their toy business! They are now one of the biggest, and most successful, manufacturers of toys in this country.

* * *

Mrs. Handler came to see me, straight from the National Toy Show.

When I asked her the secret of their success, she said, "Well, Elliott sticks to his territory — design — and I stick to the business end. Also, we work hard but don't plan too much. In this business, you never know what's going to happen next!"

DROP THE IDEA

If you are constantly tempted to make elaborate plans for your life, drop the idea.

Instead, get to work on whatever is around you to be done and let life — which is a pretty smart operator—take it from there!

First Lady Candidates

Job Couldn't Faze Mrs. Harriman

This is the third of six articles providing illuminating personality profiles of some of the "candidates" for the position of America's first lady."

BY RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON (INS)—The very thought of becoming chatelaine of the White House would stagger some women—but not Marie Harriman. She has already presided over grander mansions.

The wife of New York's multi-millionaire governor, Averell Harriman, is charming, attractive, and born to the purple. She is also a talented artist and interior decorator who once turned her hobbies into a well-paying enterprise.

If green plush eventually vanishes from all railway cars, a grateful public can thank Mrs. Harriman, who designed the interiors of her husband's crack streamliners — Union Pacific's City of Los Angeles and City of San Francisco.

The industrious lady not only outlawed plush on these two trains, but inaugurated comfortable mattresses and pillows, planned more leg and head room, and designed new linen, silver and china.

Running the 54-room White House would be a breeze for witty, outspoken Marie, who once graced Arden House, the 150-room mansion which Harriman inherited and later presented to Columbia University.

Besides the governor's mansion at Albany where they now reside, the Harriman's boast a New York town house, a "cottage" on the grounds of Arden House, a Long Island estate at Sands Points, a Sun Valley mansion and a winter home at Hobe Sound, Fla.

* * *

The blue-eyed daughter of Sheridan Norton, a prominent Democratic lawyer, was born 52 years ago in New York City. Her marriage to Harriman is the second for both of them.

Marie's two adult offspring, Payne Whitney and Mrs. Edwin D. Morgan Jr., are the children of her first marriage to Cornelius (Sonny) Vanderbilt Whitney, whom she divorced during her mid-20s. Harriman was also divorced by his first wife, who died several years ago.

If Harriman should capture the White House, his wife would promptly replace Mamie Eisenhower's softly feminine pinks and greens with striking blues and yellows — to set off her fabulous collection of modern art.

* * *

Marie, who once sold a pink Picasso to Chicago's Art Institute, ran her own thriving New York art gallery for 12 years after her marriage, dealing only in American moderns and French impressionists.

But an original painting by traditionalist Ike Eisenhower would probably hang in the White House, if she moved there. It's an oil depicting a scene at Sun Valley, the fabulous Idaho resort founded by Harriman.

* * *

Marie also owns a Winston Churchill original which she laughingly describes as "a glass, a bottle of Scotch and a bottle of brandy painted with great feeling."

A rabid baseball fan, Marie would undoubtedly look on with real longing if her husband ever performed that traditional presidential chore — throwing out the first ball of the season.

One of those unusual women who can quote the batting averages of most New York Giants players, she also bowls, swims, skis, fishes and plays canasta.

She collects foreign recipes and slips away from official duties as often as possible to partake of her favorite Chinese food.

Europe saw much of Marie while her husband was President Truman's roving ambassador, but Russia has yet to meet her. Mrs. Harriman flatly refused to accompany Ave there during his war years as our chief envoy to Moscow.

VOLUNTEER WORK

At the time, officials explained that she was too busy with volunteer war work in New York, where she toiled from 8 to 16 hours a day with the Ships Service Committee.

* * *

Four years ago, however, when Ave was making a bid for the presidency at the Chicago convention, Marie confided that a series of eye operations for glaucoma had kept her in America.

If lightning should strike her husband at this year's convention, Marie will happily ride the campaign train but will leave the speech-making to Ave.

A motherly woman who reared her own two children, adopted two English moppets for the duration of the war, and raised the infant son of widowed pianist Eddy Duchin, Marie would unquestionably overflow the White House guest rooms with visiting grandchildren — of whom there are nine.

And she would frankly love to live there! Asked if she thought her husband's 40 million dollar fortune would prove a handicap for the candidate of the "common man's" party, Marie protested:

"Averell was a boy once, and any American boy can aspire to be president. Doesn't that apply to rich, as well as poor ones?"

250 Guests Attend Event in Civic Room Wednesday

By JOAN RITTER

Two hundred and fifty guests attended the invitational concert given Wednesday evening by the Pontiac Women's Chorus. The chorus, under the direction of Charles E. Hutton, presented a wonderful performance.

* * *

The concert was held in the Civic Room of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building. It was the first time the group had sung in the low-ceilinged room, but the singers adapted their voices to the situation excellently.

Their program ranged from very serious hymns to the light-hearted "Arkansas Traveler" and "Comin' Through the Rye."

The 24th annual spring concert was the first to be presented by invitation only. Dorothy L. McKibben served as accompanist.

* * *

Included on the program were "Lord, Who Hast Made Us for Thine Own" by Holst, "Veni Jesu" by Cherubini and Riegger, and "Lord, Thou Art Mindful" by Bach-Gibbs. The final selection in this group was "Thee, Lord, Most Holy" by Sateren.

SOLO NUMBERS

Mrs. John Keinert served as soloist for the evening. Her numbers were "The Answer" by Robert Huntington Terry, "A Memory" by Rudolph Ganz and "Love Is Where You Find It" by Nacio Herb Brown.

A special feature of the program was the singing of four numbers by a barbershop quartet. Quartet members were Mrs. James Absher, Mrs. C. E. Coonfield, Mrs. Martin Wolfe and Mrs. Keinert.

Following their rendition of "Angry," "Nobody Knows the Trouble I See" and "Kentucky Babe," they chose "Prairie Moon" for an encore.

Other selections were:

| | |
|---|---|
| Lowlands | Scott |
| Celtic Lullaby | Roberton |
| Arkansas Traveler | Delany |
| Comin' Through the Rye | Howarth |
| To the Spirit of Music | Stephens |
| Abou Ben Adhem | Dykema |
| Music When Soft Voices Die | Dickinson |
| I Am Joy | Davis |

* * *

The evening was concluded with a coffee hour for chorus members and their guests.

Club Elects Mrs. Bunce President

Mrs. Robert Bunce is the newly elected president of the Pontiac Toastmistress Club. Election was held Tuesday evening at a dinner meeting at Hotel Waldron.

* * *

Others elected to office were Mrs. W. Arthur Vernon, vice president; Mrs. Orben Wilkins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Evelyn Mrs. Louis Davidson, treasurer.

Representatives for the group are Helen Lapisch, Mrs. Robert Sutton and Mrs. Ivan Wilcox, with Shirley Dovre M.rs. Gerald McLeod and Mrs. P. Eugene Miller a salternates. Officer will be installed June 12.

Mrs. Sidney Olson spoke on "It's a Bargain"; Mrs. George Gaches chose "All That Glitters Is Not Gold" for her impromtu speech. "Why I Am Proud to Live in Michigan" was chosen by Mrs. Lapisch spoke on "Highlights of the Regional Conference."

Critics for the evening were Mrs. Miller, Gertrude Foley and Mrs. Vernon. Helen Turek was toastmistress and Miss Dovre served as chief evaluator.

Mrs. Clayton Rule was grammarian, and tail-twister was Mrs. Howard Wheatley. The Oscar was awarded to Mrs. Sutton.

Blue Star Mothers Plan Agenda

Plans were made for Memorial Day services when the Blue Star Mothers Chapter Four, met at the YMCA Tuesday evening. Members also made plans for a Flag Day dinner to be held at the Elks Temple.

A social evening followed with Mrs. William Mavis, Mrs. Edward Schram, Mrs. Letti Hancock and Mrs. George Brown receiving recognition for having birthdays during the month of May.

The caraco, from Paris, is really a little bolero jacket and the tiniest topper there is.

Expect the Best --- and You'll Get It

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Nine-year-old Steve attends a school whose students elect class officers every term. As policy, they're all encouraged to seek nomination.

Recently, Steve's teacher asked her class, "Which boys and girls want to become candidates for class president?" Hands were raised. So were those of hopeful treasurers and secretaries.

But Steve announced no political interest. "Why, Steven," his teacher asked in surprise, "don't you want to try out for class office?"

"Aw, who'd vote for him?" someone inquired loudly. And was instantly echoed by cries of "He'd be no good! Why ask him?"

In dismay, Steve's teacher promptly telephoned his mother to report this cruel experience. But though two weeks have passed, the boy himself has never mentioned it. His mother writes, "The teacher says I must make him talk to me about it. How can I do this?"

BANISH OWN FEAR

By recovering from your own fear of his social failure.

A child who keeps such a hurt secret from his parent does so to protect himself. Weakened by fear of his own worthlessness, he's in no condition to deal with the parent's, too.

He avoids agitated concern over him for the same reason you bypass a rickety chair when you stub your toe — avoidance of more pain. Rather than entrust his weakness to someone who believes it fatal, he prefers to lick the wound himself in solitude.

If Steve's mother has no encouragement that can take the sting out of this experience, she'd better get some quick.

For though she can offer Steve pasteurized milk, conditioned air, antiseptic toys and comic books, she cannot guarantee him completely sterile contacts with human nature.

• • •

Though psychiatrists are working on it, it still shares some instincts with the wolf and shark. Like these animal mobsters, the nice children in Steve's class sensed weakness in him — and rushed to tear him down. That this shocked him is natural.

CAN'T UNDERSTAND

But that it should have so shocked his teacher and mother, I don't understand unless they are as young as he in experience. And unaccustomed to judging between good and evil, have simply failed to register the times mob feeling has struck out at them.

• • •

Instead of contempt, they seem to feel such respect for the evil in this experience of Steve's, I can only ask, "Where have you been all your lives that you are so scared of rejection?"

Zebra Look Is the Thing This Season

Mattress Ticking Effect Now in Silk and Cotton, Colors

PARIS (INS) — Paris stars stripes this season and a "Zebra Look" is the height of chic.

One stripe-pattern especially has proved a favorite with Paris fashion creators. It is black or navy-blue with narrow white stripes set about one inch apart. It looks like striped mattress-ticking but comes in wool or linen and even in satin for evening wear.

Jacques Heim's "mattress-ticking" model is one of the smartest. It is composed of a slim skirt and a tailored, short, loose jacket of both black and white striped linen. It is worn over a black silk jersey top.

The most popular "Zebra" model is a classic shirtwaist dress with black and white stripes. When Patou first showed the model it was much applauded because it combined chic and wearability.

It has been much photographed and many a Parisian home-seamstress is planning on making it for spring and summer wear. It will look smart in cotton or silk and can be worn with a red, green, yellow or white belt and hat.

Lanvin-Castillo used black satin with the white mattress-ticking stripe even for a dramatic effect. He has come up with a ground-length evening coat of this fabric which is cut with a hood and entirely lined in white organdy.

COLOR TRANSFERS

Sew and save by making either (or both) of these pretty pinafores for the young lady of the family. No. 5113 trimmed with easy-to-do embroidery and No. 5345 with cute stamp-on bunnies. Two separate patterns.

Pattern Nos. 5113 and 5345 contain tissue—sizes 1, 2, 3 inclusive; material requirements; sewing directions. No. 5113 has hot-iron transfer and embroidery directions for daisy motifs; No. 5345 has color transfer for eight motifs.

Send 25c in coins for each pattern ordered, your name, address and the pattern number to Anne Cabot, Pontiac Press, 372 W. Quincy St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Now available—the colorful 1956 Needlework Album containing dozens of lovely designs from which to choose more patterns in crochet, embroidery and knit — plus three gift patterns, directions printed in book. Only 25c a copy!

Husbands Attend PEO Gathering

Thirty-five members and guests of Chapter AW, PEO Sisterhood, gathered at the home of the John H. Littles on Franklin road Monday evening for the final meeting of the season. Mr. and Mrs. William L Miller were assistant hosts.

• • •

The occasion was the annual BIL Dinner with husbands present. Those attending as guests were Norman Allen, Joseph Bara, James Boaz, Charles Coppersmith, David Crocker, Webster Francis, William Kalwitz, John J. Little, Clarence Norton, Harry Pearce, Everett Peterson, George Reed, Paul Snover and the Rev. Walter Teeuwissen.

Following the business meeting, Mr. Francis, Mr. Crocker and Mr. Bara were initiated as BILs and there was group singing.

For Your Leather

One of the best ways to renew the life and looks of spoiled patent leather shoes, belts and bags is with a creamy white clean-up wax. The wax cleans as well as polishes. Merely go over the patent leather article with a little of the wax on a soft cloth and wipe off any residue.

The paint used on the new U.S. aircraft carrier Saratoga would cover 30,000 average homes.

From the Press Box

The oldest governing body in amateur sports, the United States Lawn Tennis Association, celebrates its 75th anniversary of its founding this week.

In order to promote the net game, May 24-31 has been designated by the USLTA as "Play Tennis Week" and since this is also "Michigan Week", an adequate slogan for the residents of the Wolverine State would be "Play Tennis This Week in Michigan."

Michigan has produced an adequate share of net champions in the junior ranks, but the noticeable absence of these juniors to any prominent senior status brings about the question, "What happens to the youngsters who do so well in junior competition?"

One tennis coach we know often pondered over this question. Trying to get an answer merely leads to suppositions, but one factor which seems evident is the need for organization on the state and local level.

The junior development program of tennis has grown rapidly all over the country and nothing is better for any sport than to start its proteges off at an early age.

But what of tennis after the junior stage? Except for a few tournaments, many invitational and others private country club affairs, the impetus of competitive tennis for the senior players seems to lose ground.

Professional tennis has long lost the interest of the sports spectator and definitely needs a shot in the arm.

★ ★ ★

It all adds up to the need for more community sponsored tennis play, more tennis clubs and more promotion.

Two communities in the state which have gained a prominent tennis reputation nationally are Hamtramck and Kalamazoo.

Locally there is very little. The Birmingham Tennis Club with many of the better area players among its membership has upheld the local angle in promoting the sport.

★ ★ ★

If you've never played the game, you ought to try it. The USLTA calls it "the sport for a lifetime." It's a great sport, a lot of fun and a fine conditioner for all ages.

What better time than now during "Play Tennis Week" would be more appropriate for trying the game?

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

The Birmingham Tennis Club will mark the 75th anniversary of the USLTA by holding its annual membership dinner at Sylvan Glen Golf Club tomorrow evening.

The club is planning an ambitious schedule of inter-club and intra-club activities, which will get under way on the Kingswood courts with the start of the regular season June 10th.

Ray Sackett, president of the club for the forthcoming season, sees a promising future for the organization.

"We have some of the best players in the area in the membership," he said.

Among the leading players spearheading the club are Gil Bogley, local insurance salesman, and Bob Faught, both former top-ranking junior players, and Don MacKay and Jim Tobin a former pair of top flight players at the University of Michigan.

So we join them in a salute to "Play Tennis Week."

WHO'S TAGGING WHO? — Ray Boone of the Detroit Tigers appears to be tagging Gil McDougald, but actually he is getting to his feet after colliding with the Yankee shortstop. Billy Martin looks toward first after getting the ball away too late to double Harvey Kuenn. Umpire is Red Flaherty. The Yanks, won, 13-5.

14 Area Teams in '56 Press Tourney

By H. GUY MOATS

Another strong field of fine young sharpshooters is promised for the 5th annual Pontiac Press Prep invitational golf tourney, set for Monday, May 28. When entries closed this week 14 schools in the Pontiac area had filed. Tournament will take place over the rolling, tricky Pontiac Municipal course. First foursomes will tee off at 10 a.m. and the players will go 18 holes of medal play.

Defending champion Birmingham, Pontiac, Waterford, and Southfield appear as strong candidates for the championship. But there may be some surprises in store for the bigger schools, with several unusually good teams among Class B-C entries.

The tourney, individually, may be the best in years. There are a half dozen, or more, boys who have been consistent shooters in the 70s. This outstanding list includes Skippers' ace, Jack Reynolds; PHS newcomer, Dick Whitmer (who invaded the low 70 ranks at the Valley meet at Owosso); Tom Cross (PHS); Maples' Tim Baldwin and Mike Conroy; Bob Turner of Southfield; Bud Badger of Bloomfield Hills (on Class C team); Frankie Syron (Shrine); and Keith Fox (RO).

Troy (Class B) has a fine candidate in George Catto, who has been scoring in the middle 70s. Dale Wheeler and John Wettlaufer, "veterans" with Reynolds, of the Skipper team, are also strong players.

Coach Joe Borovick's Maples and Pete Everett's Skippers are currently figured as leading candidates for the title, held now for three consecutive years by the Maples, Birmingham has two of last year's record-breaking team. Waterford has three of the 1955 squad back in action.

Tourney competition is on a 5-man team total medal score basis. Besides the handsome Pontiac Press perpetual trophy (championship school has possession for one year) winner gets a fine plaque and team members receive gold medals. Overall tourney medalist and runnerup get medals, regardless of class. Class A and B-C medalists also receive awards.

Draw for pairings and starting times was completed yesterday. The list appears on this page. All players must be on hand at starting time to assure smooth running of the tourney.

Schools on the roster include Pontiac, Birmingham, Waterford, Royal Oak, Southfield, St. Frederick, Bloomfield Hills, Avondale, Shrine, Milford, Troy, Brighton, Van Dyke Fitzgerald and Clawson. This is Clawson's first time in the tourney.

First foursomes off the tees Monday at 10 a.m. will include: (North course — Tom Cross (Pont), Ernest Farrar (Avon), Tim Baldwin (B'ham), and Bud Badger (Bl'fd. Hills). (South Course) — Ed Tokarsky (Mil), Keith Fox (RO), Dave Short (Shrine) and Dick Doyon (St. Fred). Teams will leave tees at five minute intervals. No team plays as an entity, being split so that no two players are in the same foursome.

A COMMANDING RIGHT — Johnny Summerlin of Detroit bounces a right off the head of Harold Carter, of Linden, N. J., in the 8th round of the nationally televised bout from Detroit's Olympia last night. Summerlin won a unanimous decision in the 10-round heavyweight contest. The Detroiter is aiming at a crack for Rocky Marciano's vacated title.

Wants Crack at Title

Summerlin Beats Harold Carter

DETROIT (AP) — If the world had a heavyweight champion, the cry from the Johnny Summerlin camp today would be "bring on the champ."

As it is, Summerlin's handlers are bellowing for "anyone who thinks he can whip us."

The 24-year-old Detroit heavyweight used a strong start and a furious finish last night to take a unanimous, 10-round decision from seventh-ranked Harold Carter. His handlers hope the victory will be a springboard to a crack at the crown left vacant when Rocky Marciano retired.

The nationally-televised scrap at Detroit's Olympia was a big opportunity for both fighters. The favored Summerlin, who weighed 194¾, was the stronger puncher and built up an early margin to coast to the victory.

"We're the best until someone makes a liar out of us," said Frank Loftus, Summerlin's manager. "The big ones have been dodging us long enough. They can't do it after tonight. We're ready for anyone — just anyone who thinks he can whip us."

Carter, who took the bout on just five days notice and had only 10 rounds of boxing, was surprisingly strong in the late going and kept Summerlin off balance. His co-manager, Gene Holmes, said the short notice "kept Hal from being sharp. We'd like another try at Summerlin."

Bob Satterfield of Chicago was origially scheduled as Summerlin's opponent but pulled out because of an elbow injury.

★ ★ ★

Although there was some talk of a rematch, it appears likely Summerlin will be pitted against one of the higher-ranked contenders — Tommy (Hurricane) Jackson, Bob Baker, or Floyd Patterson.

Last night's bout drew a crowd of 2,177 which paid a gross gate of $3,459.30. Carter came in at 195 and Summerlin was a quarter of a pound lighter.

Yanks Rip Tigers, 13-5 in Shabby Exhibition

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers took advantage of nearly every New York Yankee mistake to score five runs on just one base hit. But the Tigers outfumbled the league-leading Bombers and it cost them a victory.

When yesterday's 3-hour-plus shabby exhibition was over, the scorers counted seven errors, 14 bases on balls and 22 base hits. Detroit owned four of the errors and only five of the hits, while the Yanks went away with a 13-5 triumph.

Two big innings whipped the Tigers. The Yanks scored five times in the 2nd inning to run up a 6-0 lead, then made seven hits good for six runs in the 5th to wipe out Detroit's comeback efforts.

Until the big splurge in the 5th, the Bengals had come within two runs of the league leaders. Then the Yankee power, provided by veteran Hank Bauer, shot the New Yorkers out of reach. Bauer drilled a 3-run homer into the left field lower deck and the Yanks went on to add three more runs off bonus rookie Jim Brady, making his first extended showing for the Tigers.

The former Notre Dame student, just 20, became the third Detroit pitcher in the 3rd inning. He breezed through the 3rd, giving up only a two-out single to Bob Grim, the second New York pitcher.

After fanning Billy Martin to open the 4th, Brady weakened and allowed one run. Gil McDougald, who had three singles for the day and scored three runs, singled to left field. He scampered to second and third on passed balls and trotted home on Mickey Mantle's double off the glove of 3rd baseman Bob Kennedy.

★ ★ ★

Brady got out of the inning on a double play, but fell apart in the 5th. Six straight hits, including Bauer's home run and two bunts, finished him and Al Aber checked Casey Stengel's charges the rest of the way.

The two teams wind up their 3-game set today with another afternoon contest, Duke Maas (0-2) will go for the Detroit club against the Yanks' Bob Turley.

SVC Title for Chiefs

Take Winning Points in 3-Way Battle

Another Saginaw Valley championship was placed alongside the shining track title at Pontiac High School today.

Coach Johnny Maturo's Chief golfers made good use of a triangular match at Saginaw Country Club to snatch a one-point title total from under the nose of Flint Central's links squad.

Chief shotmakers achieved their winning 10 points on a two-point victory yesterday over Bay City Central and Saginaw Eastern. "It was a close squeak" said Maturo today, "But we did manage to win despite the worst effort of the season, all round. It must have been conditions, or something, that caused our squad to hit its lowest rounds, for both Saginaw and Bay City were afflicted in similar fashion."

Pontiac's team took indenical 8-7 wins over the two upstate schools to edge Flint Central, which had already compiled 9.

What happened is seen in the cards of the players, Dick Whitmer, who had a fine 75 at Owosso, had 99 yesterday, and only 1½ points count out of a possible 6. Nick Shorter's 85 was Chiefs' best and he had 3½ points. Dick Singleton, at 93, also got 3½ points. Tom Cross, with 87 still managed only one-half point of a possible six, and Sammy Coleman got 90 for two points.

In connection with Coleman's count, Maturo pointed out that Sammy was given three at first, but he, himself, called attention to the fact he had only two. "That made me feel very good, about the kind of sportsmanship our boys displayed."

Match medalist was Gary Mitchell of Saginaw with 84.

Maple Golfers Win EML Title

Victory Over Hurons Is Third in a Row for Borovick's Squad

Birmingham's golf team yesterday afternoon hung up its 3rd straight Eastern Michigan League title. Maple swingers defeated Port Huron 341-378 over the still soggy Black River Country Club layout, where the state tourney will be played June 2.

Title - winning Maples were paced by Bob Emde's 40-41—81, as medalist. Other Maple scores were the 82 by Tim Baldwin, Mike Conroy's 87, Pete Green's 91. Dave Gough was top hitter for the Big Reds with 88.

Birmingham compiled a straight 5-0 season (4-0 in EML). The Maples still have a return match with Waterford, today, at North Hills. It should be an interesting tilt, considering the two are among top candidates for the Class A title, as well as leading squads for the 5h annual Pontiac Press Tourney next Monday.

'Throwout' Features Highland Golf Play

Highland Golf Club's ladies league enjoyed a "throwout" event at its weekly play this week, with Mrs. Roger Bass hostess. The "throwout" was one hole, identity of which was kept from the players until after the round. Score on this hole was not counted on the cards.

Flight winners for the day were: championship, Mrs. William Smith, 54; first Mrs. Sam Lerner 53; 2nd, Mrs. Frank Daley 59; 3rd, Mrs. Robert Locke 62 and 4th, Mrs. Robert Ganshaw, 72.

Club invites any new women golfers of the area to join the league, which plays each Wednesday.

Stadium Edges Elks Team, 3-2

Ed McManus pitched a neat five-hitter and his Stadium Inn teammates punched across three runs in the 1st inning to nip the Elks No. 810, 3-2, in City Softball League action Wednesday night at Beaudette Park.

After a shaky start, Al Miller was invincible for the Elks, but the damage had been done. Stadium collected four hits in its early uprising, then touched Miller for only three the rest of the route.

Doug Hall spun a six-hit shutout as GMC trounced Bicmar Inn, 13-0, at Beaudette. The Coachers backed Hall with a 13-hit attack and scored in five of the six innings they batted.

Home runs were sprayed around the confines of North Side Park as the North Side Merchants crushed Oxbow Pavilion, 24-3, and the GMC girls drubbed Gingellville, 10-2.

The Merchants blasted four round-trippers, Reginon clouting two and LaRose and Lawrence adding the others. Bendig and Reaver slammed homers for the GMC girls.

In tonight's activity, Lunsford Market meets Drive-In Cleaners and Louie's Tavern plays Franklin Products at Beaudette. Drayton Drug faces Royal Bar in an exhibition contest and Shaw's Jewelers meet Sam Benson at North Side. Game times are 7 and 8:30 p.m.

DISTANCE MAN — The New York Giants were disconsolate after losing four straight to the Brooklyn Dodgers, but have a new home run threat in First Baseman Bill White.

Grand Rapids Wins JC Meet

BAY CITY (AP)—Harry Huyser and Harvey Vander Pol won two events apiece in leading Grand Rapids J.C. to the Michigan Junior College Conference field and track championship last night. Marks were slowed by unseasonably crisp weather.

Huyser captured the 100 yard dash in 10.1 seconds and followed up with a first place in the broad jump leaping 20 feet 2½ inches. Vander Pol won the 120-yard high hurdles in 16 seconds flat and then took the high jump, clearing the bar at 5 feet, 11 inches.

Grand Rapids piled up 63½ points, with runnerup Bay City winding up with 59. Flint was third with 48½ and defending champion Dearborn fourth with 32½. Jackson had 23, Muskegon 3⅓ and Alpena 1.

Cranes Trim Skippers, 4-1

Three runs in the 4th inning coupled with Bruce Richards' superb relief pitching gave Cranbrook's baseball team a 4-1 victory over Waterford yesterday at Waterford.

Richards came to the rescue of starter Peter Bedford in the 1st inning when Bedford walked the 1st three batters he faced. After Richards issued a base on balls to force in Waterford's only run, the southpaw hurler throttled the Skippers the rest of the way.

Cranbrook tallied one run in the 1st inning, then jumped on sophomore Chuck Kirken for three counters in the 4th stanza to settle the argument. Dave Cooper, who made three hits for the Cranes, delivered the key blow—a two-run single to right.

It was the 8th win in 15 games for the Cranes and the Skippers' 4th loss in 11 attempts.

No Gripe for Casey

Manager Casey Stengel, who has been complaining about the poor hitting of the Yankee infielders, had plenty of reason to smile today. His infielders collected 10 hits among them in yesterday's 13-5 victory over Detroit. Gil McDougald and Bill Martin had three safeties apiece and Bill Skowron and Andy Carey two each.

Relaxation Key, Sime Says

DURHAM, N. C. (AP)—If the track world is asking what makes Dave Sime run so fast, here is the answer in a nutshell:

A trumpet, hot music, a little bit of Yogi and a flaming urge to win.

"I feel that relaxation is everything, and I have a lot of peculiar ways to relax," the 19-year-old Duke University sophomore said in discussing his phenomal streak of world springing records during the past few weeks.

"I never think or worry about a race. I avoid tension as much as possible. I try to store up my energy so I can explode it in one big burst as soon as the gun goes off. That's my formula."

It's a formula which has sent the tall, supple redhaired youth streaking to six world record performances this spring—three beaten and three tied—and made him America's foremost olympic prospect since Jesse Owens captured four gold medals in the 1936 games at Berlin.

Sime has announced he won't try to duplicate that feat but will shoot for both the 100 and 200 meter crowns plus a share of the 400 meter relay. Already he has outsped Owens in spring specialities.

The Duke cannonball's record-busting feats were 9.5 seconds for the indoor 100 yards, 22.2 seconds for the 220-yard low hurdles and 20.1 seconds for the 220-yard dash. He equalled the world marks for 60-yard indoor dash with :06.1, the 100-yard dash with :09.3 and the 220-yard dash (which he previously had bettered) with :20.2. The latter two came on the same day last Saturday at Raleigh, N. C., in the national AAU championships.

Ben Hogan Up With Favorites

Tunes Up at Dallas for Open; Strong Field Begins Play Today

DALLAS (AP) — A field comparable to that of the National Open moved out today in the 1st round of the $30,000 Dallas Centennial golf tournament with Ben Hogan most prominently mentioned among a score of favorites.

On the short, tight, treacherous Preston Hollow course anybody who can pitch and putt will rate up there, said the experts and the golfers themselves. And, added Jimmie Demaret, "It's a thinking course. If you don't think all the time you'll end up with a handful."

Hogan, who has said he's playing this tournament and next week's $70,000 Texas International Open here to tune up his game for a try at a 5th National Open championship, is considered golf's deepest thinker and he also is playing exceedingly well.

There have been plenty of subcourse—the best being a 6-under-par 64 sh otby little known Deen Wood of Liberty, Tex., yesterday—but those all are discounted as "shadow boxing."

Most of the tournament veterans said they thought it would take at least 266 to win the $6,000 1st money and some predicted as high as 270.

Jefferson and Washington routed Pontiac Junior High League foes in dual track meets Wednesday at Wisner Field.

The defending champion Warriors overpowered Eastern, 60⅔-16⅓, for their 2nd victory in as many tries.

Jefferson captured six events and tied for 1st place in another and Sammy Cole led the way with triumphs in both hurdles. Cole ran the 50-yard high sticks in the time of 7.5 seconds. Marvin Copeland heaved the shot 50 feet 7 inches.

Washington took seven events in its runaway 60-17 conquest of winless Lincoln.

Harrison Munson paced the Braves with three victories. Munson won the high jump, broad jump and 75-yard dash.

New Charges Against Southern Cal

Athletic Storm Continues in Coast Loop

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The annual spring meeting of the Pacific Coast Conference has ended but the stormy struggle in the field of athletics is far from over.

* * *

Developments, at Victoria, B.C. where the PCC met, included the possibility that the conference would hold a special meeting to consider charges that a secret booster group handed out $71,235, under the table fashion, to more than 60 athletes at the University of Southern California over a two-year period.

Gov. Knight of California recommended that the Board of Regents look into the general situation, notably the three-year suspension, heavy fine and loss of a year's eligibility for athletes in the punishment voted for the University of California at Los Angeles.

The American Civil Liberties Union urged the conference to reconsider its action against Bruin football players. The players face loss of a year eligibility unless they can prove themselves innocent of receiving money in excess of the $75 a month allowed by the conference for campus jobs.

State Sen. Richard Richards demanded that the UCLA players be reinstated immediately and blame placed "on the adults who are responsible for this mess."

Former Oregon Coach Jim Aiken, who reportedly was pressured out of his job by the conference several years ago, said at Roseburg, Ore.:

It would be a good idea to kick out the faculty representatives "and a couple of those presidents . . . as soon as somebody comes along and breaks the rules, they don't know anything. The hell they don't. But they're always trying to hang the rap on the coach or the athletic director or the kids . . ."

J. Miller Leavy, an alumnus of UCLA and a member of the school's athletic advisory board—but speaking, he said, only as an individual — announced he has mailed documentary evidence to the conference about the unidentified USC booster group.

He said the evidence contains names, dates and amounts allegedly paid to the Trojan athletes. He refused to divulge details or the source of the information.

Leavy, a deputy district attorney here, said that in the near future, evidence of similar alleged violations of the code by the University of California at Berkeley and Stanford University will be sent to the conference

* * *

When questioned, he added that the same action will be taken in regard to Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State and Idaho "if the same documentary evidence is available."

* * *

He would not elaborate on this.

Leavy said the secret USC booster group was organized in 1949 and included among the founders three Los Angeles Superior Court Judges. He would not name them.

Leavy said he was deeply concerned at the treatment given UCLA and Washington.

"I am convinced that other schools in the conference have violated the code and that the conference in taking action only against two of the member schools has taken an arbitrary, unjustified and undemocratic attitude," Leavy said.

He denied that any official of UCLA had asked him to keep his information from public knowledge, although it was reported UCLA booster clubs had made such a move.

Leavy specifically said the Trojan group was neither the Trojan Club nor the Trojaneers, alumni booster organizations.

AP Wirephoto

ACCUSES—J. Miller Leavy, a prominent UCLA alumnas and a Los Angeles county deputy district attorney, reads a statement in which he charged that the University of Southern California illegally paid $71,235 over a two year period to 60 athletes. He forwarded the statement to Pacific Coast Conference officials.

'Master Minds' Do All Right in Major Tilts

Big League managers did some effective masterminding yesterday. Of the 13 pinch-hitters used, five hit safely, three walked, one hit a sacrifice fly and only four were retired.

The pinch-swingers who hit safely were Vic Power and Alex Kellner of Kansas City, Clint Courtney of Washington, Ted Lepcio of Boston and Eddie Robinson of the Yankees.

Missed the Doubles

— Jackie Jensen of the Red Sox, who finished up among the American league leaders in doubles with 37 last season, has put together an unusual record this year. He's hit 20 singles, four triples and four home runs. But no doubles.

Title Looms for Gophers

CHICAGO (AP) — The Big Ten baseball pennant as well as the "statistical championship" is within Minnesota's reach as the campaign closes this weekend.

The Gophers, with an 11-1 mark, can cinch their first title since 1935 by beating the Buckeyes (7-3) at Ohio State tomorrow. They have a doubleheader on tap at Indiana (5-5) Saturday while Ohio State hosts a twin bill with Iowa (4-7).

Big Ten statistics today show that Minnesota has the loop's two leading hitters and top pitcher.

Third baseman John McCartan heads the batters although his average skidded from .577 to .472. His teammate, shortstop Jerry Kindall, has moved into second with .457.

* * *

Based on 25 times at bat or more, Jim Sack of Michigan State is third with .452, Les Hawthorne of Iowa fourth with .405, and Em Lindbeck of Illinois fifth with .386.

McCartan, Kindall and Doug Gillen of Minnesota each has six homers which ties the Big Ten record set by Illinois' Vic Petreshene last year. Kindall has 42 total bases on 21 hits and McCartan 39 in 17. McCartan is tops in runs bated in with 17 while Kindall has 14.

The gophers' Jerry Thomas is the league's no. 1 hurler with a 5-0 record. Ohio State's Galen Cisco has 4-0.

Minnesota leads in team batting with .331, followed by Michigan with .271 and Wisconsin with .258. The Gophers also top team fielding with .977 while Wisconsin has .967 and Purdue .963.

The remainder of the weekend schedule:

Tomorrow — Michigan (4-4) at Michigan State (3-5), Purdue (4-8) at Northwestern (4-6), Illinois (4-8) at Wisconsin (5-4) and Iowa at Indiana.

Saturday's doubleheaders—Michigan State at Michigan, Purdue at Wisconsin, Illinois at Northwestern.

Musial Goes Hitless in 10 of 32 Games

Is Stan (The Man) Musial losing his touch? The St. Louis Cards' stalwart is batting only .272 and has gone hitless in 10 of his team's 32 games. He has had no more than two safeties in any game. Stan drew the collar in three trips as the Pirates downed the Cards 6-0 last night.

Joint Puppy Match at Metamora Club

First joint spring puppy match will be held at Metamora Hunt Club and the North Country Beagle Club Saturday at 2 p.m. Match takes place at Metamora Hunt Club with Dean Bedford of Fallston, Md., the judge.

There will be 10 classes for fox-hound puppies, classes for beagles, puppy races on drag tails, and a horn blowing contest.

Fox hound classes are open only to hounds owned by a recognized hunt, but beagle class is open to all registered beagle puppies.

Maurice Richard of the Montreal Canadiens has made the National Hockey League all-star first or second team 13 seasons in succession.

Schooling Show Set for Weekend

With emphasis on the working hunter, Metamora Hunt will offer its annual spring schooling show this weekend, at the Metamora Club.

A dozen classes have been arranged, with all judged as working hunters. Several junior horsemanship events are carded. There are classes for green hunters, green hunter hacks, open hunters, lightweight, middle and heavyweight hunters and one class for hunters over four foot fences. Other jumps are 3-3, 3-6 and 3-9.

The United States Hunts has not missed a race meeting in New York since its founding in 1905. It was the only association to hold racing in New York state in 1911-12.

Bucs Continue Win Spree

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Want to take a stab at naming the best pitcher-hitter combination in the National League at the moment? Newcombe and Snider? Mizell and Repulski? Spahn and Aaron? Antonelli and Mays?

* * *

Nice try, pal. But it's Pittsburgh that has 'em, with Bob Friend piling up seven victories and seven complete games and Dale Long belting the ball at a .409 clip. They've got the Pirates so close to first place it looks like a typographical error.

* * *

They've worked so well, Manager Bobby Bragan can hardly wait to get 'em together. Last night he couldn't wait any longer and called on Friend after only two days' rest. The 25-year-old righthander looked like he didn't mind a bit—hanging up his first shutout of the season with a neat six-singles job that beat the St. Louis Cardinals 6-0.

* * *

Long, at 30 the oldest of the Pirate regulars, kept up his end with a 4.36-foot-plus home run — giving him the NL's runs-batted-in lead with 32 and tying Cincinnati's Wally Post for the homer lead with 11—as the Bucs moved within 1½ games of the lead and a mere half game behind fourth place Brooklyn.

The Pirates have won four of their last five in the present drive —and Friend has claimed two of the victories (against first-place Milwaukee and second-place St. Louis) while Long has homered in all five and has driven in 14 runs.

Rain stopped Milwaukee at Brooklyn and Cincinnati at New York. In the only other NL game played, Chicago's Cubs beat Philadelphia 5-4 on eighth-inning homers by Monte Irvin and Harry Chiti.

In the American, the New York Yankees kept their 2½-game lead by banging Detroit 13-5. Cleveland held the pace, defeating Boston 6-3 as Herb Score won his fifth. The Chicago White Sox beat Baltimore 3-2. Kansas City, scoring the winning run on a wild pitch, outlasted Washington 7-6 in 17 innings.

Two singles, two walks and Jim Busby's double off previously unbeaten Frank Sullivan in the sixth scored the two runs Cleveland needed to edge Boston for the first time this season. All three Red Sox runs were scored in the eighth without a hit—the first on four of Score's eight walks and the other two on a bases-loaded walk by reliefer Don Mossi and a sacrifice fly.

* * *

The White Sox-Orioles game also had some charity pitching. Reliefer Ray Moore walked the final two Chicago runs home and winner Jack Harshman forced the first Oriole run home with a walk. All of Baltimore's seven hits were gathered by three players who weren't with the club two weeks ago. Hoot Evers, the ex-Indian, had two, while George Kell and Bob Nieman, formerly with the White Sox, got the other five.

Camilio Pascual uncorked the wild pitch with the bases loaded in the 17th at Kansas City as the A's climbed out of the cellar and dropped the Senators in. Washington 17th, but Jim Finigan homered to even it at 6-all to get Kansas City started in the winning frame.

AP Wirephoto

Novi Racers Optimistic About Chances at "500"

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — The Novi garage area at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway had reason for optimism today as weathermen gave car owners and drivers the first green flag in days.

Practice has been extremely limited since the first 29 qualifiers made the May 30th 33-car lineup certain of a record qualifying speed.

But since the winds or rains have kept most activity at the speed plant confined to the garage areas.

However, Ed Russo took the unqualified Novi out for a practice run Wednesday and hit 139 MPH despite high winds. No one currently believes 139 MPH will be fast enough to assure a car of a starting position in the race but most observers felt that was a good speed in Wednesday's high wind.

Eddie's uncle, Paul Russo, got the other Novi in with a 143 MPH qualifying run last week-end. Qualifications will be completed this Saturday and Sunday. There are 29 cars at the track ready to try.

Duke Nalon, who was leading the 500-mile race in 1949 when an axle broke and he crashed in flames in the jinxed front-drive Novis, arrived at the track Wednesday and hoped to take a ride in the rear drive Novi still unqualified.

Specualtion was Nalon might standby as relief driver for the Novis on race day.

Thrifty Drug Wins in Waterford Loop

Thrifty Drug pounded out nine hits to score an easy 8-1 verdict over White Brothers in a Waterford League softball game Wednesday night at the Drayton Plains ball park.

* * *

Ed Farnsworth twirled a 6-hitter for the winners and catcher Mel Karrigan and Jim Swain each made two hits. Karrigan slammed a 2-run triple in the 7th inning when Thrifty tallied four times.

White Brothers see action again tonight against Emmanuel Baptist at 8 o'clock.

Martinez Trains for Welterweight Fight

REVERE, Mass. (AP)—Vince Martinez, the No. 4 welterweight contender, will train at a famous local landmark for his 10-round fight with former champion Tony DeMarco June 16 at Boston's Fenway Park.

The Paterson, N.J., boxer will do his work at the Revere Rollaway Arena where Jack Johnson who later won the heavyweight championship, prepped for his fight against Sam Langford in Chelsea in 1906.

The DeMarco-Martinez bout is billed as stepping stone with the winner to get a shot at Johnny Saxton's crown.

Tartar Golf Record

Wayne University's all-time golf record stands at 115 victories, 78 defeats and three ties.

Joe Louis Returns to Olympia Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—Joe Louis, idolized by thousands in Detroit as one of the finest fist fighters in history, returns to Olympia Stadium tonight—for a wrestling match.

Louis has been touring the country as the feature event in a wrestling card, working several nights a week. He will meet Jim Bernard here.

Press Honors State Track Champions

A feast "fit for kings"—and arranged to pay honor to the finest Pontiac High track team in the school's history—will be given by The Pontiac Press for the state's prep champions next Monday night. Banquet will be held in Stevens Hall, at All Saints Episcopal Church.

The Pontiac Press was host at a similar banquet a year ago to pay honor to what is believed to have been the first state championship team, at least in modern times, to represent the West Huron street school.

Besides the title-winning squad of 21 athletes and their coaches, list of guests will include superintendent of schools Dr. Dana Whitmer and the only speaker for the affair, Karl Schlademan of Michigan State University. Schlademan is the veteran track coach for the Spartans, and has developed many outstanding Big Ten and national collegiate athletes.

* * *

Principal of PHS, a strong advocate of prep sports, Francis Staley; athletic director Tom Dodson and coaches Wally Schloerke (head coach), Ray Lowry and Dean Wilson, also will be there.

The Chiefs have steam-rollered all opposition over the last two years. They were Michigan champions a year ago, besides taking the Saginaw Valley crown and both indoor and outdoor titles at Central Michigan College. This spring they continued to roll, at an accelerated speed. They not only again won the two CMC events, the Valley title and assorted duals, but took the state and Mansfield Ohio titles as well.

Prestige of the squad skyrocketed with the surprisingly strong championship effort at Mansfield. This meet is one of the most highly rated in the country.

Blessed with leadership of probably the finest track athlete in the school's history in Hayes Jones, Chiefs were also an unusually well balanced squad. Steady, all around point-making was one of the biggest factors in Pontiac's success on the cinder paths.

Wayne to Fete Athletes

DETROIT — Highlighted by the films of the Tartar's NCAA game with Kentucky, Wayne University will present its Fourth Annual All-Sports Day at Warren Valley Golf Club Monday.

Sports activity is planned for the entire day at the golf club. The 6:30 p.m. dinner will be followed by the showing of NCAA films to climax the day's activity. Athletes from all nine University teams will be honored.

Full Schedule for Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP)—A full slate of Big Ten games and contests with several new opponents are included in the 1956-57 Michigan State basketball schedule, announced today.

The 1st two MSU games are with a pair of newcomers, Iowa State on Dec. 1 and Brigham Young on Dec. 8. Michigan State also will participate this year in the Big Seven Tournament at Kansas City Dec. 27-29.

The 1st home Big Ten opener in several seasons features Purdue at East Lansing, Jan. 5.

Complete schedule:

Dec. 1—Iowa State at East Lansing; Dec. 8—Brigham Young at East Lansing; Dec. 17—Butler at Indianapolis; Dec. 22—Marquette at East Lansing; Dec. 27, 28, 29—Big Seven Tourney at Kansas City; Jan. 5—Purdue at East Lansing; Jan. 7—Michigan at East Lansing; Jan. 15—Notre Dame at South Bend.

Sophomore Again Leads Bloomfield Golf Squad

Sophomore Bud Badger again took medalist honors to lead Bloomfield Hills to 179-214 win over Northville in a golf match played at Edgewood Country Club.

Badger shot a 37 for the Barons who have now posted a 6-2 record to date.

Today Bloomfield Hills meets St. Fred of Pontiac.

MSU Student Named Steward for Olympics

EAST LANSING (AP)—Karl Schlabach of Benton Harbor, a hotel administration student at Michigan State University, has been selected as official steward for the U. S. Olympic team when it leaves for competition in Australia next fall.

Schlabach, a 21-year-old junior, is the son of the registrar for Benton Harbor Junior College. He previously made two Rose Bowl trips with the MSU band.

Schlabach will be an official member of the Olympic delegation with his job to arrange for rooms and meals during the month-and one-half trip, to include a stop in Japan.

First Winning Season

Wayne University's outdoor track squad posted its 1st winning season in five years when it won three of five dual tests this year. It was also the biggest dual meet schedule in Wayne's history.

FIRING LINE — Here's a glimpse along the firing line at the Williams Shooting School, near Lapeer during the 1955 session. Tenth annual school (a no-expense affair) will take place at 7389 Lapeer road, Davison, June 2 and 9 (weekends). It is for youngsters interested in shooting and gun safety.

Gives Mantle RBI Leadership

DETROIT (AP) — Mickey Mantle took over the American League lead in runs batted in with his performance against the Detroit Tigers yesterday.

The hard-hitting centerfielder for the New York Yankees batted across two runs with a 5th inning single and got credit for another when he walked with the bases full in the second.

That made Mantle's total 36 — two more than teammate Yogi Berra, who is sitting out the Detroit series because of a pulled muscle.

Mantle also leads the American League in hitting with a .398 mark; in runs with 36; in hits with 51 and in home runs with 16.

Pontiac, Royal Oak Open State League

Already postponed five times, another try will be made tonight to play the Michigan State Amateur Baseball League opener between Pontiac and Royal Oak.

Manager Paul Parks said he would pitch big Steve Kleber, former Waterford High right hander, against the Oaks at Memorial Park. Game is set for 8 o'clock.

Rain, wet fields and cold weather have conspired to defeat every planned starter up to today. Good weather was promised for this effort.

Elks 9 Keeps Pace With GM

Score Second Victory by Trimming Anderson at Wisner Field

The Elks No. 723 kept pace with General Motors atop Pontiac's Class A City Baseball League by trimming the Anderson Jets, 6-4, at Wisner Field last night.

* * *

Bill Hurd and Lawrence combined to pitch the Elks to their 2nd victory in as many starts, the latter aking over mound duies in the 5th inning. The two hurlers li ited the Jets to six safeties.

* * *

The Elks virtually wrapped up the decision in the 1st stanza when they unloaded five hits and scored four runs. Singles by Chet Woodmore, Hubert Huston, and Frank Johnson, along with a double by Amos Dorsey and Lee Bevers' triple, did all the damage.

The Jets tallied two runs in the 1st inning and added singe counters in the 2nd and 4th frames. The winners completed their scoring with one in the 2nd and one in the 4th.

* * *

GMC clashes with the Elks Friday night at Wisner Field at 5:30. City League teams are idle tonight.

Loss of Deer Reported at 36,000 Last Winter

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Department said today some 19,600 deer starved in the upper peninsula last fall and winter, bringing the total loss for the state to about 36,000.

* * *

The department made the estimate on the basis of a survey conducted by three-man teams wasiking over selected strips of land two-and one-half miles long.

* * *

It was the first scientific survey of deer starvation in the Upper Peninsula. The department earlier released figures on starvation losses in the Lower Peninsula, based on a similar study.

* * *

Total starvation losses for the year were the highest since the winter of 1950-51, when an estimated 50,000 deer died for lack of food.

The department's Upper Peninsula survey also disclosed that 7,300 deer were shot illegally, 300 were killed by dogs, 600 in accidents and 26,400 from unknown causes.

* * *

The department said many of those dying from unknown causes might have starved.

Stays in the Groove

Ray Moore, Baltimore righthander, has pitched 10 hitless innings in his last two relief appearances. He held the Detroit Tigers hitless in five frames May 19 and extended his skein yesterday by throttling the Chicago White Sox without a safety in five more innings.

UM Favored in Track, Tennis Meets

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Defending champion Michigan herds its 28-man crew against a field bristling with Olympic prospects tomorrow in the opening of the Big Ten track meet at the University of Minnesota.

Michigan, packing four 1955 titlists, is favored to retain its crown but the Olympic-level individual shows are expected to come from elsewhere.

The top-raters include Northwestern's Jim Golliday, 1955 NCAA and Big Ten champion in the 100 and 220-yard dashes and co-holder of the world's record of :9.3 in the 100! Greg Bell of Indiana in the broad jump; hurdler Joe Savoldi Jr. of Michigan State, a strong Olympic decathalon possibility; hurdler Les Stevens of Iowa and middle distance man Ted Wheeler of Iowa.

Golliday, idle with a leg muscle injury this spring while Duke's Dave Sime was dominating sprint honors, should be ready for his title defense.

If he's right physically, most Big Ten coaches expect the Northwestern flash to give the Wildcats a double victory in the sprints.

But Michigan is looking to Iowa for its toughest challenge.

Wheeler is a strong bet to win both the half and mile runs. Stevens is the conference's ranking low hurdler, and his high hurdle duel with Savoldi might be the choice individual scrap of the meet.

In addition, Stevens is considered a threat in the high jump, won last year by Mark Booth of Michigan.

None of its rivals can match Michigan in depth, however. The Wolverines have holdover winners in Booth, half-miler Peter Gray, pole vaulter Bob Appleman and Dave Owen in the shot put.

Michigan and Indiana are the ranking teams in the relay. Minnesota's Byrl Thompson is the discus favorite and Don Ward of Indiana is a strong quarter mile choice.

Michigan also was the favorite in the conference tennis meet which got going here today.

Feud in Track Route Growing

Madison Heights Police Bar Racing Fans From Residential Streets

MADISON HEIGHTS (INS)—The feud between Madison Heights and Hazel Park over traffic from the Hazel Park Race Track resulted today in motorists being barred from residential streets bordering the track unless they had passes.

Madison Heights police, who have been blockading homeward bound track fans, barred all drivers not equipped with yellow window stickers issued by the city.

The dispute is over money Madison Heights seeks from Hazel Park for wear-and-tear on its streets due to traffic from the track.

Hazel Park paid $1,000 last year and was asked to pay $5,000 this year. However, Madison Heights has not yet received any money in 1956.

Kansas City Outfit Still OK in Clutch

The Kansas City Athletics, who compiled the best major league record in one-run games last season, still are playing good ball under pressure. They were 30-15 in the close ones in 1955 and they've won five of six games by a single tally this year.

OL St. Mary Thinclads Win

Orchard Lake St. Mary won eight out of 13 events and set a record in Wednesday's 61½-47½ victory over Detroit St. Joseph in a dual track meet at Orchard Lake.

Stan Majewski was a triple winner for the Eaglets and scored 16¼ points. Majewski took both hurdles and broad jump and ran a leg on the triumphant 880 relay team.

The 880 relay squad posted a new school mark. The foursome of Gerry Leszczynski, Pete Madelans, John Daniels and Majewski recorded the time of 1:34.85 to break a record set by the same team last Saturday at the Class C state meet in Ann Arbor.

Madelans tied for 1st place in the pole vault and finished 2nd in both hurdles to score 11¼ points and Leszczynski picked up 9¼ points by winning the 220 and taking 2nd in the 100 dash.

Bill Young led St. Joe with 8½ points. Young won the 100, placed 2nd in the 220, and tied for 3rd in the broad jump.

More on Longer Side

Who said big league ball games are getting shorter? The five regulation nine-inning games played yesterday took an average of 2 hours and 42 minutes to complete. This does not include the 17 inning Kansas City - Washington game which dragged to 4 hours and 5 minutes.

Cary Middlecoff was the first golfer to earn $10,000 on the pro tour during 1956.

Shot at Title Seen for Humez-Fullmer Winner Friday

* * *

At the CYO Gym where Humez trains, one of his Gallic brain trust was explaining how Fullmer fights and how Charley should fight him.

Translated, it went something like this:

Handler: "Now this Fullmer is a strong fellow who always is in wonderful condition. He is a counter puncher. He likes his opponent to throw the first punch and then he fires back fast and strong. Now you must move in on him and make believe you are going to throw a punch. But don't throw it.

"That will make him punch first. If he throws a left hook, you throw a right hand. If he throws a right hand, you follow with your left. You understand?"

"No," replied Humez.

Then, rubbing his cauliflowered left ear, Humez added:

"This fellow Fullmer, is good puncher, Yes? He will try and knock me out, Yes? Then I will try and knock him out."

"That is the best strategy for him," said Manager Philippe Filippe. "Let him go out and fight. In Europe he is like a bulldog. If he fights Fullmer like he fought at home he will win."

* * *

"This time it is all or nothing," said Humez. "I must win decisively so I can get a chance at the championship. If I can not fight for the title I might just as well go home and take it easy."

Humez celebrated his 29th birthday the night champion Ray Robinson knocked out Bobo Olson.

* * *

Fullmer, winner of his last three over Rocky Castellani, Gil Turner and Jones has a 35-3 record, including 19 kayos.

At the moment, Fullmer is a 7-5 favorite. The odds may change by fight time.

Fall Pheasant Hunting Hurt

Bad Weather Expected to Delay Growth Along With Hatching

LANSING (AP) — Wet, cold weather this spring may have hurt chances of pheasant hunters for good shooting next fall.

The State Conservation Department says the weather delayed growth of nesting vegetation, which in turn will delay hatching.

In the past, department game biologists say, poor pheasant years have been associated with cold, wet spring weather.

Pheasant hens are fairly regular in their egg-laying habits, which are governed by light conditions rather than temperature.

The department says hens started laying eggs in late April in spite of the weather, but thdy do not incubate the eggs until nesting conditions are favorable.

"Many hens were laying eggs without nests and other nests were flooded out," says Ralph I Blouch, department phesant specialist.

Blouch said, however, that if the state has good weather the rest of the spring the pheasant situation "still looks good" for he fall.

'Rhymes With Jim'

DURHAM, N.C. (AP)—Dave Sime, Duke University's record smashing sprinter, pronounces his name "Sim," to rhyme with "Jim."

"A lot of people pronounce it to rhyme with 'time,'" the Duke sophomore said. "But it's a Scotch name and we pronounce it 'Sim.'"

Hartack Rides 5 Winners

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Jockey Willie Hartack, aiming at his second successive title as the nation's winningest, added five more victorie to his string yesterday at Garden State Park.

"Winning Willie," who brought 417 horses to the victor's circle last year added two seconds and a fourth to complete his work yesterday.

He booted home Guadalupe ($5.40) in the first race; was second with Dixie Price ($6.40) in the second and Saragossa ($6.80) in the third, and then booted home winners in the next two races. They were:

* * *

Roommate ($16.40) in the featured $13,075 Cherry Hill Stake, and Half Shell in the fourth.

Big Underground Pipeline Feeds Oil-Hungry Nation

WASHINGTON—Oil for the cars of America, for its industries, and for its homes, travels in a vast transport system that is largely unseen and often unsung.

Underground pipelines—free from traffic jams and collisions—quiet river barges, giant ocean tankers, trucks and railroad tank cars deliver more and more oil and oil products every year.

To the nation's demanding gas tanks alone, this system carries a third again as much gasoline as it did just five years ago. In all, says the National Geographic Society, it delivers an average seven and a half million barrels of oil every day of the year.

An estimated 85 per cent of the total now travels at one stage or another through some of the 170,423 miles of pipeline interlacing the country. When oil first began to flow in Pennsylvania in 1859, it was carted in barrels over wilderness roads. Rough and tumble teamsters, with a strangle hold on the business, charged as much as $5 a barrel for a six-mile haul. They tore up early pipelines as fast as they were laid.

TODAY IT'S INEXPENSIVE

Thanks to armed guards, the first successful line, a five-mile pipe of cast iron, began operating in 1865. Railroad tank cars were developed about the same time, and within a decade, tankers were plying the seas.

Today, though more petroleum is handled by pipelines within the United States, tankers are the principal carriers in world petroleum trade. Less expensive than the other forms of transport, tankers are becoming increasingly efficient as they grow larger and larger. The largest can carry a gallon of oil halfway round the world for the price of a postage stamp.

Such "supers" have revolutionized the tanker industry in the last five years. Double and triple the size of the 16,000-ton T-2 tankers built during World War II, they knife through water at 16 to 19 knots, compared to the previous 14.

Some dry-cargo ships spend half their time in port. But the supper tanker is almost constantly at sea. It can load in 8 to 10 hours and unload, with its own pumps, in 12 to 15. Since shore leave is limited, it bids for crews with fine food and luxurious fittings. Some of the leviathans have air-conditioned cabins, swimming pools, elevators, automatic washing machines and tiled showers. One boasts windows instead of portholes.

• • •

Almost every new tanker built breaks a record for beauty and size. No sooner was the then-largest 46,650-ton Al-Malik Saud Al-Away launched last year at Hamburg, West Germany, than the 47,750-ton Spyros Niarchos slid down the slipway at Barrow-in-Furness, England.

Wheat Lower, Others Steady

CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat tilted a little lower while other grains held steady in relatively quiet dealings on the Board of Trade today.

There was not much in the overnight news to inspire any excitement in grains. Dispatches from Washington indicated President Eisenhower would sign the new farm bill, but this stirred up little or no demand for cereals.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to ⅞ lower, July $2.04¾; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, July $1.52⅞; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, July 65⅞; rye ¼ to ½ higher, July $1.25; soybeans ¾ lower to ½ higher, July $3.16½, and lard 5 to 13 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $12.85.

Steel Output to Soar in '56, Says Blough

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger M. Blough, chairman of U. S. Steel Corp., said yesterday he expects the nation's steel output for 1956 to be close to the record 117 million tons produced last year.

The same production estimate was given by J. L. Mauthe, president of Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co., to newsmen during the 64th annual meeting of the American Iron & Steel Institute.

* * *

Blough said he expects production for the last half of the year to be less than for the first half. The third quarter, he said, will bring less production than the preceding three months, but output should pick up in the fourth quarter.

Concerning industry expansion, Blough said, "so far as U. S. Steel is concerned, we are planning two, three and four years ahead and we still think demand for steel for the long pull is going to gradually increase."

Seeks Stock Issue to Finance Plants

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Gypsum Co. of Buffalo, N. Y., has asked the government to register 417,403 shares of common stock to be sold.

The funds would be used to develop a new gympsum deposit in Michigan and to locate two plants in the Great Lakes area for manufacturing wallboard, lath and other gypsum products.

3 Hurt in Collision Near Crest of Hill

Three persons sought medical treatment for injuries suffered in a two-car accident last night on M24, south of Lake Orion, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Mrs. Lillian I. Smith, 41, of Lake Orion and her six-year-old son, Norman, who was riding with her, were injured when their car was rammed in the rear by the auto of Kenneth L. Raymond, 17, of Lake Orion.

All three sought treatment from private physicians, deputies said.

Raymond told them he had driven over the crest of a hill and could not stop in time to avoid the woman's car, which had slowed to make a left turn, deputies said.

Detroit Firm to Merge With Indiana Company

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—A plan to merge the Ross Gear & Tool Co., Lafayette, and the Gemmer Manufacturing Co., Detroit, was approved yesterday by the boards of directors of the two firms.

John E. Jarrell, president of Ross Gear, said stockholders of the Gemmer Co. would receive one share of Ross Gear for each 4.25 shares of Gemmer stock they now hold.

Jarrell said a special meeting of stockholders of the two firms will be held July 2 to ratify and confirm the merger.

Gemmer would continue its Detroit operation as a division of Ross Gear.

Tobacco Firm Reverses Cigarette Price Boost

NEW YORK (INS)—Liggett and Myers Tobacco Co. has announced a cancellation of the wholesale price increases put into effect last Friday. The hike of 50 cents per thousand would have meant a rise of one cent a pack at retail.

The company gave no explanation for the withdrawal of the price advance. However, trade sources noted that other cigaret makers had not followed the price boost.

Market Prices Moving Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—Prices headed lower in the stock market early this afternoon following a feeble attempt at a rally.

* * *

Leading issues lost from fractions to around 2 points. Trading activity speeded a bit as stocks lost ground.

The market's latest decline followed a mixed opening and then a flicker of rising prices which expired almost as soon as it appeared.

* * *

U.S. Steel, which opened unchanged, slipped around a point. General Motors was fairly steady.

A big loser was Georgia Pacific Corp., down more than 2 points after its gain of 3⅛ yesterday, apparently in anticipation of the news that Hammond Lumber Co. has granted it an option to buy its shares.

* * *

Volume for the day was estimated at a little more than two million shares compared with 2,140,000 yesterday.

The slight upturn occurred in mid-morning. Then prices weakened. By third hour, the steel and rails divisions, which had still been fairly mixed, showed a general pattern of minus signs.

* * *

The coppers, which lost yesterday as news came of a two-cents-a pound price drop by custom smelters, retreated further today.

The motors also gave ground temporarily, but as the afternoon trading proceeded they held firm despite the recent news of more layoffs and temporary plant closings.

GM Publishes List of Available Movies

Fifty-seven films ranging in subject matter from "The ABC's of the Automobile Engine" to "Horizons Unlimited" were listed today in General Motors' new motion picture film catalogue for use by schools, churches, business, civic and social clubs.

The films may be borrowed free of charge for non-commercial uses. All with sound, they range in length from 9 to 55 minutes.

An estimated 30 million persons viewed the films last year. Some 277,000 audiences totaling more than 14,300,000 persons saw them at private showings. Another 15,600,000 saw the films on some 867 television programs.

This year's catalogue lists general categories including "Safety and Driver Education," "How it (engines) Works," "Behind the Scenes of Industry," "Progress—Past and Future," "The Human Side of Industry," and "Sports."

There also are seven films on general topics such as "Farmer of Tomorrow" and "Tomorrow and Today in the Kitchen," in addition to nine special-purpose films.

Accused Gun Wielder Freed on $500 Bond

A Royal Oak Township mother, 26, who reportedly shot and wounded her landlord after he allegedly slapped her son, yesterday was freed under $500 bond.

Township Justice Delbert W. Hunt scheduled Mrs. Marie Thomas for examination May 31 on a charge of felonious assault with intent to do great bodily harm.

The incident occurred Monday at the woman's rooming house, 21013 Riemanville Rd., township police claimed.

County Historical Group Holds Annual Luncheon

The annual luncheon of the Oakland County Historical Foundation at the Oakland Avenue United

Presbyterian Church Wednesday was attended by about 75.

The guest speaker, Marcus Shattuck of Detroit gave a talk filled with suggestions for perpetuating the memory of area pioneers. Richard Poole gave a report on the progress of restoring the Moses Wisner home now owned by the foundation.

* * *

Mrs. E. V. Howlett was designated as an outstanding person in pioneer work, this being in response to a request from the state pioneer society that such a person be named from Oakland County.

* * *

Officers chosen for the coming year were: Ernest Huthwaite, president; Mrs. L. L. Dunlap and William A. Ewart, vice presidents; Mrs. Whitney Prall, secretary; Carl Bird, treasurer and Mrs. E. V. Howlett, historian.

Long-Term Future Bright, Says Ford

DETROIT (AP) — Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Motor Co., told some 3,000 of the company's stockholders today that while there will be declines in sales and profits this year, the long-term future is "particularly bright."

The stockholders, holding the first annual meeting since Ford stock was placed on public sale last January, met in a huge tent on the lawns of the Rotunda grounds. They toured the Ford plant before the meeting and were provided with box lunches afterward.

Ford told the shareholders it now appears domestic sales of new cars for the entire industry in 1956 will be under six million units, compared with 7,400,000 in record-smashing 1955.

U.S. News Agencies Will Merge June 1

Merger of Congressional Quarterly News Features with Editorial Research Reports was announced today by officials of the two news service agencies. The combination will go into effect June 1.

The services presently supply 380 daily newspapers in the U. S. and abroad in addition to numerous national weeklies.

The move was hailed by heads of the agencies as a step toward providing more comlete coverage in all phases of U. S. and world affairs.

Joint announcement of the merger was made by Thomas N. Schroth, CQ's executive editor, and Richard M. Boeckel, editorial director of ERR.

Alleged Conspirators Released on Bond

Three more persons charged in an alleged drug conspiracy were released yesterday from Oakland County Jail under reduced bonds of $1,000.

They are Louis Cummings, 29, of 465 Arthur St.; Leon Nelson, 21, of 489 Fildew St. and Roy White, 22, of 173 Bagley St.

Nine others, including three women, charged with conspiracy to violate state narcotics laws, remain in jail under $5,000 bonds each, pending examination June 6.

Two other men have been released under reduced bonds of $5,000. All of the arrests came after an eight-months investigation into alleged drug traffic in the southwest area.

Libraries Show Early Pictures of City, County

The Pontiac City Library and its Adah Shelly Branch this week are featuring a collection of historic pictures of early Pontiac and Oakland County as part of Michigan Week.

The pictures are reproductions of a collection of J. L. Van Wagoner of Pontiac who collected them over a period of years.

Noteworthy among them are: One showing a "cracker-barrel" conference around an old fashioned store; photographs of historic Pontiac fire teams with horses, engravings of many old homes, some no longer standing; and many others showing how the city's principal streets looked from the 1840s onward.

Masked Thugs Rob Dearborn Loan Office

DEARBORN (AP)— Two gunmen, both wearing Halloween masks, robbed the First Federal Savings & Loan Assn. yesterday afternoon of an estimated $15,000 cash.

* * *

Wayne County sheriff's officers said the well executed robbery took about two minutes.

The men had their guns drawn when they entered the office at 12:15 p.m. One gunman told assistant cashier Kenneth Ralls, 33, "put your hands up and face the wall."

Ralls said "I thought at first it was a joke until he jumped over the counter and repeated his order. Then the other man jumped over the counter and I was ordered into the back room."

* * *

After forcing two women employes to join Ralls, the men quickly rifled the cash drawers of the three employes and fled in a blue car.

Questions Court Ruling

CADILLAC (AP)—Recorder's Judge B. G. Kearney says his attorney is preparing a petition for rehearing of a Michigan Supreme Court ruling that would remove him from the bench because he is not an attorney.

GM Newspaper Ads Total 62.5 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp., the world's largest private corporation, paid out more than 62½ million dollars for newspaper advertising last year in retaining its position as the leading national newspaper advertiser in the United States.

* * *

This figure was for all of the many products made by GM.

GM increased its newspaper advertising budget to $62,587,251 in 1955, a 67.4 per cent boost over 1954.

The nation's two other leading automakers, Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler Corp., made substantial contributions to the spectacular newspaper lineage increases by the auto industry in last year's record production drive. Ford and Chrysler held their respective ranks as No. 2 and No. 3 overall behind General Motors.

Ford's newspaper advertising rose 64.5 per cent to $29,610,982 while Chrysler more than doubled its 1954 outlay to $24,058,711.

* * *

The Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Assn., announced the totals yesterday. They were based on actual lineage counts in daily newspapers representing more than 90 per cent of weekday and Sunday circulation in the country.

The study includes national advertisers who invested $25,000 or more in newspapers last year. It embraces 1,424 companies and 3,382 products.

Police Officer Heads Pontiac Legion Unit

Pontiac police Sgt. Medford E. Pittman was elected commander last night of the newly formed Tobin-Cote Post of the American Legion.

Other officers are James Taylor Jr., first vice commander; John Felts, second vice commander; Raymond Holsworth, adjutant; James Skinner, finance officer; Lawrence Shelton, sergeant-at-arms and John Furlong, chaplain.

The post is named after two police officers who died in action during World War II—Pat Tobin and Paul Cote.

Burglar Flees House With Pants, Wallet

The midnight sneak-thief known to Pontiac police as the "Bedroom Burglar" was on the prowl again last night.

He entered at least one home while occupants slept and stole a man's billfold and pants, found later discarded on the front lawn at 20 Cross St.

The victim, Ernest Anderson, told detectives Orville Johnston and Robert Emery that $1 was missing.

The burglar has been credited with nearly two dozen similar thefts this year. Police say he only enters unlocked homes, moving so quietly and quickly that none of the burglary victims so far have seen him.

Suffers Minor Injuries as Two Vehicles Collide

J. C. Thomas, 34, was slightly injured when his auto struck a car about to turn into a driveway on Franklin road at 6:30 p.m. yesterday.

Thomas, of 573 Pearsall Ave. was released after treatment for bruises at Pontiac General Hospital.

He told Pontiac police he couldn't stop in time to avoid hitting the car of Joppa Haskins, 37, halted to turn left into his driveway at 593 Franklin. Haskins' car was knocked into a utility pole, but he was not injured, police said.

Defense Building Quiz Opens Today in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A House Military Operations subcommittee today opens the San Francisco phase of hearings that already have convinced its chairman that the country needs a 10-to-12-billion-dollar defense shelter building program.

* * *

The chairman, Rep. Chet Holifield (D-Calif) said in an interview last night that, after five months of hearing expert testimony, mostly in Washington, he is convinced that such a system of shelters would save 75 per cent of the potential victims of hydrogen bomb blasts.

SO YOU ARE A TEE TOTALER! THEN YOU CAN TAKE THIS LOVELY BAR OUT AND SELL IT TO A NEIGHBOR . . . HOWEVER IF YOU WOULD LIKE TO LEAVE THE BAR IN THIS RECREATION ROOM AND MAKE SOME USE OF IT, I WOULD SUGGEST THAT YOU CALL US AT ONCE AND MAKE AN APPOINTMENT TO SEE THIS LOVELY 3 BEDROOM HOME. THE BAKED ALUMINUM SIDING AND ALUMINUM WINDOWS REDUCES THE GENERAL MAINTENANCE & LEAVES PLENTY OF TIME FOR YOU TO ENJOY THE FULL LIVING THAT THIS HOME PROVIDES.

A NEWLY REMODELED KITCHEN THAT WILL CHARM THE MOST PARTICULAR HOUSEWIFE IS THE HIGHPOINT IN THIS 3 BEDROOM HOME IN THE CITY. GAS HEAT IS SWELL, BUT IT IS STILL OVERSHADOWED BY THE KITCHEN. THE BASEMENT IS NICE, THE ENTIRE CONDITION IS EXCELLENT. AND WITH THE SCREENS AND STORMS, WE ARE VERY PLEASED. BUT ONCE AGAIN, I MUST REPEAT, THE KITCHEN IS THE TOP SPOT IN THIS EXCELLENT BUY.

FOR IMMEDIATE POSSESSION IN AN IDEAL COUNTRY CLUB SUBDIVISION, IS A FINE OLDER 5 ROOM HOME . . . ON THE CANAL THAT LEADS TO BOTH WILLIAMS AND MACEDAY LAKES. IF YOU WANT A COOL SUMMER SPOT THIS IS THE HOME THAT WILL FILL THE BILL. THE PRICE IS LOW AND THIS IS DUE TO THE FACT THAT HOUSE NEEDS DECORATING.

IF IT IS INCOME, ACREAGE, COMMERCIAL, LAKE FRONTAGE OR ANYTHING TO DO WITH BUILDING OR THE SELLING OF REAL PROPERTY, THEN FEEL FREE TO CONTACT US AT ONCE. IF YOU FEEL THAT CONVERSATION IS NEEDED TO HELP YOU, THEN PHONE OR COME OUT TODAY. IF YOU FEEL THAT A REAL SERVICE IS NEEDED TO HELP YOU, THEN PHONE OR COME OUT TODAY. WE ARE HERE TO SERVE YOU AND ARE HONORED AT THE CALLS YOU MAKE TO US.

Old RKO Gems Saved for Show

Many of the Pictures Are Past Winners of Academy Awards

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — General Tire has placed an order with CBS-TV for a Sunday afternoon fall 90-minute series of 52 top movies —many of which won Academy Awards for acting, writing, or some creative component . . .

Could be they'll land in the time being left by "Omnibus," shifting to ABC-TV . . .

The movies are "the finest 52" held out of the RKO sale-to-TV package of 750. The cream of them star Cary Grant, Katie Hepburn, Astaire-Rogers, Dick Powell, etc. . . .

If the expectant mom and her officer husband miss any queries on the $64,000 Question, they still will be a two-Cadillac family . . .

The $64,000 Q. will be a year old June 5, and will of course try for two . . .

FINAL SPECTACULAR

Max Liebman's final spactacular June 9 will be a musical version of Elmer Rice's 1951 Broadway play, "The Grand Tour" . . .

Comic Jimmie Komack (of the original "Damn Yankees" cast) makes his dramatic TV debut tonight on "Star Tonight," with Horace McMahon.

CBS will swallow the $250,000 (and Jackie Gleason's pride) for the contracted cost of filming the now abandoned Honeymooners . . .

Gleason's return to an hour variety means Buick quits; so that $11,000,000 contract no longer is worth the publicity it was printed on . . . But it will considerably lengthen his TV appeal when the fat one returns to Reginald Van Gleason and other pleasanter "live" characters . . .

Benny Fields makes his debut on the Ed Sullivan Show Sunday . . .

GOP ORDERS TIME

Republicans have ordered 15 half-hours and 35 five-minute segments on all TV networks. The Dems don't know what they'll do until they dig up the candidate . . .

New shows due in TV shortly: "Chicago 2-1-2," starring Frank Lovejoy, directed by Norman Foster, the old movie actor; "Policewoman," a whodunit celluloid series; "Pony Express," produced by Alan Dinehart Jr.

"Adventure Theater" with Paul Douglas as host summer-replaces the Hit Parade on NBC as of June 16.

An average TV evening heaves 40 to 75 commercials at you, the equivalent of playing host to half a dozen door-to-door salesmen a night . . .

Jack Webb's sponsor wants "Dragnet" to drag in an alternate sponsor . . .

Lippy Signs With NBC

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Leo (Lippy) Durocher, ex-baseball player-manager, has signed a new one-year contract as a National Broadcasting Co. executive. Durocher will continue to work primarily in the field of talent relations, NBC announced yesterday. Terms of the contract were not announced.

Greatgrandpa De Mille

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Cecil B. DeMille of the movies is now a great-grandfather. A son was born yesterday in nearby Santa Monica to Mrs. Peter Calvin, the former Katherine Durning. Her husband is the son of DeMille's daughter Mrs. Joseph W. Harper.

Experts recommend tree fertilization at the rate of two pounds of fertilizer for every inch of trunk diameter.

Mansfield's Romancing 'Mr. Universe' Now

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Jayne Mansfield's new romance is with "Mr. Universe," Hungarian Nicky Hargitay, of the Mae West "muscle-man" troupe, who has medals acclaiming him "the best built man in the world." They met at the Latin Quarter and, though he's gone on to Syracuse with Mae, he phones Jayne three times a day and Jayne's agent is helping him become an actor on his own . . . soon. "This could develop into something," says Jayne, whose build is equally famous; "he's so modest," she adds, "and never says anything about his muscles. He's really divoon."

JAYNE

Then there was this Texan who said to the toll-collector at the George Washington Bridge, "I haven't any change. How much do you want for the bridge?"

Jackie Gleason plans to do no "Honeymooners" sketches for the first eight weeks next season . . . The Shuberts, who'll take control of the Follies in the fall, hope to star Beatrice Lillie and Bert Lahr. (Keeping the Winter Garden dark costs them $4,000 a week) . . . A Salvation Army chap on E. 42d St. went modern—didn't sing the hymns but played them from records on a hi-fi set.

Ooh, goodee! Marilyn Monroe'll be back in NY starting around Memorial Day. (What happened to those who said Milt Greene'd ruin her career—and to the 20th Century-Fox spokesman who on Jan. 17, '55, said, "In two years Marilyn Monroe will just be a memory"?)

Cincinnati Reds' manager Birdie Tebbetts prophesied that Wally Post, the St. Henry, O., slugger, will belt several homers against NY Giants . . . A sports writer's wife, urged to eat something at a cocktail party, snorted, "I'm the Irish Lillian Roth; 'I'll Eat Tomorrow.'" . . . By a contractual quirk, Dick Haymes is working for Rita Hayworth. His film contract with UA was made through a corporation they set up which Rita headed. Rita'll give him his release to correct it.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ed Murrow appears to have grabbed Gina Lollobrigida for an early June Person to Person (from a hotel here) . . . Bearded Franchot Tone ("Uncle Vanya") was talking White Russian with Billy Reedski at the Little Club with his gal Dolores Dorn . . . Gretchen Wyler'll do the Comedy Hour June 3 from LA—her first big TV shot . . . Dolores Del Rio's diamonds are the most.

Carol Haney refused to return to "Pajama Game," though offered star billing and triple her old salary . . . Joan Collins and Arthur Loew can't get tickets to "My Fair Lady," so they'll settle for standing room . . . The Perry Comos plan a Honolulu vacation when his TV'er folds for the summer . . . Pretty Barbara Lawrence will star on a TV series.

BARBARA

Billy Daniels owns a cufflink factory in England . . . Sherry Britton's taking riding lessons so she can do a Lady Godiva bit in her cafe act . . . Sarah Vaughan lopped off 30 pounds with her own diet—nothing but chili. . . . Joe E. Lewis, discussing his film bio, announces, "Everybody in the picture has got to take a saliva test."

Robert Alda's doing musicals in Italy . . . A TV network may have a major personnel change; there's hassling over whether to drop its manufacturing business . . .

EARL'S PEARLS . . . Furniture, says Martha Scott, is another thing that women like to push around.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Bob Olin tells of the nudist camp that's so strict they won't even let the members wear toupees. That's earl, brother.

Ike to Meet GOP in Texas

Purpose of Conference Undisclosed; Baylor U. to Award Degree

WACO, Tex. (AP)—President Eisenhower will meet with Texas Republican leaders immediately after he gets an honorary degree from Baylor University tomorrow.

But whether it will be social or political appeared a matter of dispute.

* * *

The White House indicated last night it might be political when Asst. Press Secretary Murray Snyder announced that the President would remain in Waco an additional 30 minutes. Asked by reporters if it would be given over to a conference with Texas politicians, Snyder replied:

NO ELABORATION

"There's a possibility of it."

Snyder, in reply to other questions, said he could not elaborate at the present. He said he did not know whether it would be for Democrats who supported Eisenhower in 1952 as well as Republicans.

President Eisenhower will make an address on foreign policy before an expected audience of 11,000 persons at tomorrow's convocation.

* * *

His address will be carried nationwide on televisison by the CBS network starting at 11 a.m., CST. Other television and radio networks will carry delayed broadcasts later in the day.

The oldest Bishop of Ireland, Most Rev. Dr. Fogarty, has died in Ennis, County Clare, at 96 years of age.

U. S. industry spent $3,700,000,000 for research and development in 1953 of which 4 per cent was for basic research.

Dulles Keeps Double Outlook on All Russian Moves

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If you sometimes get confused trying to follow Secretary of State Dulles on the Russians, it's because he seems to have two separate ideas about them although not necessarily at the same time.

* * *

On what must be his sunny days he sees the Russians changing their ways because of their own weakness and Western pressure. On cloudier days he looks upon the new Soviet policies as a grave danger.

He has expressed a double worry of what might happen if there was a general acceptance of the idea that the Russians were mending their ways and concern about war was gone: (A) that the Western alliances might break up and (B) that Congress might be reluctant to vote as much money for the foreign aid program as the Eisenhower administration thinks necessary.

Last May 25 he said:

"There are within the free nations some who are tempted by this prospect (the idea the Russians are changing for the better) and they look toward the United States to see how we interpret the recent Soviet gestures.

* * *

"If we seem to regard them as demonstrating a basic change of Soviet attitude and as indicating that the danger is over, they will hastily follow in that way. In that event much of the solidarity in strength which has been built over the past year would quickly disintegrate."

NOW SKEPTICAL

Then, with Congress considering the foreign aid program, he added: "There could be no worse moment to depart from the policy represented by the foreign aid program which has brought us where we are."

This month—when Congress is considering this year's foreign aid bill—Dulles has been persistently skeptical of the Russians' good intentions in announcing they were cutting their armed forces by 1,200,000 men.

On May 15 Dulles said this wouldn't reduce the Soviets' ability to wage atomic war—that men taken out of uniform could be used making nuclear weapons — although it would substantially reduce the size of the ground forces.

KEEPS SAME VIEW

He stuck to this same view of the Russian cut, on Tuesday, saying that if they really went through with it, it was for economic, military and propaganda reasons.

Here are some of the things Dulles has had to say about the Russians in the past two years:

In 1955:

On May 16 he saw some "promise of constructive accomplishment" at the Big Four summit meeting in the following July. On May 17 he said the biggest danger of the summit meeting was that the world might expect too much.

On June 7 he thought the Russian attitude toward the whole of Eastern Europe might be changing. On June 10 he said the new Soviet policy was the result of "strains" created by the West, that the Russians had really not undergone any change of heart, and that their economy was on the point of collapse.

On Sept. 22, after the Geneva conference, Dulles said a "new spirit does indeed prevail" and the world might be entering a decade of peaceful change. But on Dec. 9 he said the Russians hadn't really changed, except in tactics.

He talked of a need for the West to keep a capacity to retaliate massively against attack but on Dec. 16 he said "it seems the Soviet leaders will seek to pursue their ambitions by means other than the use of threat of open force."

In 1956:

On Jan. 11, just as the administration was getting ready to ask Congress for foreign aid money, Dulles and Eisenhower issued a statement warning the country to wake up to the Russian danger and that "we could lose the economic contest."

On Feb. 14, in a statement in which he said the country shouldn't be "panicked," Dulles also said Russian policies had failed and "they had to devise new ones."
