Blaze Guts Detroit Factory

Detroit Roofing Plant Razed by Fire

ENGULFED IN FLAME—Flames consumed the Lloyd A. Fry Roofing Company in Detroit Thursday night, with loss at $750,000. Fourteen workmen and five company officials fled from the building unharmed. The blaze started in a vat of asphalt in the processing room of the huge 750 by 150 foot structure.

Estimate Loss to Roofing Firm At $750,000

Five-Alarm Fire Is One of 3 Which Broke Out in Motor City Thursday

DETROIT (AP)—A roaring five-alarm fire gutted a big roofing company last night, causing an estimated $750,000 damage.

With big nearby gasoline tanks endangered, the blaze for a time threatened to become a major disaster. Firemen saved the tanks, however.

The fire, which swept the block-long Lloyd A. Fry Roofing Co. in southwestern industrial Detroit, was one of three which broke out within a period of hours in Motor City environs.

Two firemen, knocked off their ladders, were hurt in fighting an appliance store blaze in Highland Park. In downtown Detroit a fire forced 300 night school students out of the Michigan Building.

The series of fires followed by four days the destructive blaze which virtually wiped out an entire downtown business block in Royal Oak.

Last night's roofing company fire was spectacular in the extreme.

For nearly three hours firemen fought the blaze with 20 pieces of equipment. The fireboat John Kendall also joined in the battle, sending streams of water from the nearby Rouge River.

Huge towers of smoke soared up and flames shot 60 to 70 feet into the sky before the blaze was brought under control near midnight.

Fourteen workmen and five company officials, in the one-story building when the fire broke out, escaped injury.

No one was hurt fighting the fire but three firemen were injured as they raced to the blaze and their fire truck collided with a semi-trailer truck.

A west wind kept the flames

FRANK B. ANDERSON

Former Postal Aide Succumbs

Frank Anderson Was Assistant Postmaster for Nearly 35 Years

Frank B. Anderson, 89, former assistant postmaster for nearly 35 years, died at a local convalescent home yesterday.

Mr. Anderson, who retired in 1935, was one of the best known businessmen in Pontiac during his active years.

He lived to see the population of Pontiac grow from 10,000 to 73,000.

Born in Detroit Feb. 5, 1865, he was the son of Charles and Sarah Grills Anderson. He married Nellie Lull in Wetumpka, Ala., March 27, 1889.

He came to Pontiac when he was six years old and attended Pontiac schools and Pontiac Business College.

For a short time he worked for his brother, W. B. Anderson, in his grocery store. He was with the Second National Bank as bookkeeper for 12 years.

He became substitute clerk at the Pontiac Post Office in 1888 and assistant postmaster in 1892. He held this post until his retirement at the age of 70.

At 78, he came out of retirement during World War II, and for several years delivered Western Union messages in the downtown areas.

Mr. Anderson saw the local postal force grow from seven city carriers to 104; three rural carriers to six; three clerks to the 86 now employed.

He was a member of the First Presbyterian Church and had held many positions on the church boards. He also was a life member of Lodge 19, Knights of Pythias; Lodge 21, F&AM, the No. 1 Commandery, Knights Templar, and the Metropolitan Club.

He is survived by his widow.

Funeral will be Monday at 2 p. m. from Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Dr. William H. Marbach will officiate and burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Big 3 Rejects Red's German Unity Proposal

Dulles Says Russian Plan Is Move to Extend Power to the Rhine

BERLIN (AP) — The United States, Britain and France today rejected Russia's plan for unifying Germany and charged Moscow is trying to extend its powers all the way to the Rhine.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden of Britain and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault exhausted 4,000 words more to notify Soviet Minister V. M. Molotov that his idea of merging rival governments in divided Germany is not slick enough to fool anyone.

Dulles took the lead in today's session, denouncing the Russian plan as a mere grab for power west of Berlin.

Dulles said Molotov had rejected a Western plan for unification of Germany through free elections because he is afraid that the 18 million Germans in the Communist zone "would overwhelmingly reject its present Red regime."

"Mr. Molotov has good reason to be afraid," the American Secretary said.

Dulles led off the Western attack on the Molotov plan, which he said follows the "tragic pattern" by which the Soviet Union has spread Communist control over Eastern Europe since the war.

Dulles said Britain's Anthony Eden, France's Georges Bidault and he had come to Berlin two weeks ago hoping that solutions would be found to the problem of German unity in a conference which at the outset carried the promise of easing world tension.

But, he said, the Molotov program which the Russian minister put before the conference yesterday shows that "he has no inten-

Wins Cat-Mouse Game in Soviet After Escaping

John Hvasta Arrested as Spy 5 Years Ago but Hides for 24 Months

MUNICH, Germany (AP) —Young John Hvasta smilingly flew back today toward freedom in the United States, the land of his adoption, after five fantastic years—in prison and in hiding—in Red-ruled Czechoslovakia, the land of his birth.

The winner in a grim cat-and-mouse game with Communist officialdom, he took off for Zurich, Switzerland, on the first leg of a flight to New York.

He got to the airport just in the nick of time. The plane's propellers were turning and the passenger ramp had been removed when he arrived from Nuernberg in a U. S. consulate car.

He jumped out, embraced an old companion of his Czechoslovak prison break, sidestepped reporters and sprinted to the plane.

The ramp was replaced and he climbed aboard, bareheaded and smiling.

He is due at New York's Idlewild Airport tomorrow.

His friend was identified as Jaroslav Bures, now a stateless person living in Munich, where he is employed by the American-run Radio Free Europe.

Hvasta's plane reached Zurich at 2 p.m. (8 a.m. EST) for an hour's stopover. At the request of the U.S. State Department and Swiss federal police, airport officials took strict measures to guarantee complete privacy for Hvasta and his escort. Reporters and photographers were barred from the area where Hvasta waited for his plane to London.

Shortly before takeoff at Zurich, Hvasta came out of a locked room, looked at the group of correspondents outside the door and said:

"I am going to make a statement at home. All I want to do is to go home. Please give me the chance."

Asked how he was feeling, Hvasta, who seemed pale but in

Pope's Condition Weaker, Medical Bulletin Reports

VATICAN CITY (UP) — The general condition of Pope Pius XII has weakened, the first official medical bulletin by his physician said today.

Dr. Riccardo Galeazzi-Lisi said the 77-year-old pontiff was suffering from the "symptoms of gastritis" and had a slight fever. He said the Pope's condition was weakened because he has difficulty in taking nourishment.

However, the doctor added that the Pope's heart was in good condition and the hiccups which accompanied the stomach trouble vanished three days ago.

The medical analysis was published in the Vatican City newspaper Osservatore Romano because of world-wide concern over the state of the Pope's health, Vatican sources said.

The doctor's report said:

"From the 25th of January, the Holy Father has had, together with a slight fever, symptoms of gastritis, preceded by insistent hiccups.

"An objective clinical examination has excluded any other possible reaction of peritoneium, and laboratory examinations have given normal results, excluding the possibility of excessive nitrogen in the blood and damage to the heart.

"It is hoped that soon special radiological examinations may be repeated to ascertain the condition of the gastric part, and of the other nearby organs, which so far have produced normal results.

"The general state, weakened by excessive and prolonged mental and physical work, has suffered a further depression due to the tiring gastric disturbance and difficult nourishment.

"The hiccups, however, disappeared three days ago."

That was the end of the medical bulletin. It was signed by Galeazzi-Lisi, a Rome eye specialist who has treated the Pope, for years.

Vatican sources said earlier doctors were administering strength-giving drugs to the Pope orally and through muscular injections.

Radford Silent on Secret Report

Admiral Keeping Quiet About Topic of Meeting With Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (INS)—Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, goes back to Capitol Hill today to make a super-secret report on military strategy.

His appearance at a closed-door session of the Senate Armed Services Committee — on which all sources refused to offer any advance explanation—was arranged on the heels of two possibly related developments:

1. Information that the Eisenhower administration has decided to give Indochina all the military and economic aid it can "absorb"—short of armed intervention. French needs are now under re-examination by a four-man team headed by Acting Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and Deputy Defense Secretary Roger M. Kyes, reporting to the National Security Council.

2. Announcement by the Army that a third atomic artillery battalion has been alerted to leave for Europe within three months. The Army indicated another may follow shortly. Two atomic battalions went to Europe last fall.

Thursday the temperatures ranged from a low of 22 to a high of 33 degrees in the city. A trace of snow was also recorded yesterday.

At 8 a.m. today the mercury registered 27, but by 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac the reading was 33 degrees.

Finish Hearings in Straley Case

Trial Board to Have Written Opinion at Next Meeting

A five-man Police Trial Board last night formally closed hearings of charges filed by Pontiac Attorney Milton R. Henry against Pontiac Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

John B. Wilson, chairman, said the board decided to take "the matter under advisement after allowing both parties opportunities to present their case and witnesses."

A written opinion probably will be presented at the board's next meeting March 11, Wilson said.

The board held its first session on the matter Jan. 5 after Henry filed three specific charges against Straley with the city clerk's office Nov. 19. Following two later meetings, the board adjourned to allow Henry to amend his bill of complaint which was to be filed by the next official meeting Jan. 27, said Wilson.

"But Henry failed to appear at the meeting and failed to amend his charges," Wilson stated.

No further amendments were permitted by the board after Henry's failure to appear. Wilson said the board especially reconvened last night to hear a witness summoned by the trial board. A total of 17 persons gave testimony.

Charges cited by Henry date back to 1952. In his bill of complaint, Henry alleged dereliction of duty.

Former Governor's Widow Succumbs

DETROIT (AP)— Mrs. Woodbridge N. Ferris, 72, widow of Michigan's former governor and United States senator, died today at Wayne County General Hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Ferris was active in Democratic circles and was a candidate for various offices several times after her husband's death.

Ferris, governor from 1913 to 1917 and senator from 1922 until his death in 1929, founded Ferris Institute at Big Rapids.

Mrs. Ferris disclosed in 1946 that the $250,000 estate left by her husband had been wiped out by the depression and poor investments. She had been an indigent patient at the county hospital since 1948.

Born in Indianapolis, Mrs. Ferris was graduated from De Pauw University in 1905 and taught music in her home town for many years.

East Detroit Gets Municipal Parking

A 249-meter municipal parking lot—the first in East Detroit—will be under construction by spring, city officials have announced.

The site, behind shops on the southeast corner of Nine Mile and Gratiot, will be purchased by the city for $55,000. According to City Manager Charles Beaubien, the lot will be paid for by a special assessment on business owners in the area.

Improvements on the lot will cost about $31,000 and will be financed through meter revenues.

Air Force Plans to Name Plane After Pontiac

An F-80 jet fighter will be named after Pontiac in a ceremony at Selfridge Air Force Base Feb. 13 at 10 a. m., according to Col. F. L. Vidal, commander of the 439th Fighter-Bomber Wing, Air Force Reserve.

Vidal made the announcement in a letter to Pontiac Mayor Arthur J. Law. The city will endeavor to have representatives present, Law said.

The action, Vidal explained, will honor the many "Air Force reservists from Pontiac who train in our wing one weekend a month, and for 15 days each summer."

"In event of emergency they could spring into action for Pontiac's defense," he added.

Honor Marines for Bravery in Korean War

Sgt. Elmer R. Betts of 220 Cottage, Pontiac, and Lt. Alva D. Howard Jr. of 524 Catalpa, Royal Oak, both marines, were decorated last night in Detroit for bravery during the Korean fighting.

SGT. BETTS

Sgt. Betts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer R. Betts, was awarded the Navy Cross for rescuing two wounded Marines as he was preparing to withdraw his flame-throwing tank after burning enemy trenches.

Betts, who enlisted Aug. 3, 1951, was serving with the 1st Marine Divison at the time, in February, 1953.

4 Testify in Suit of City vs. Habel

Pontiac Claims Need of Parke Street Property for Parking Area

Four more persons testified in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday in the city's suit to condemn land at 11-49 Parke St. for use as a municipal parking lot.

Jury members spent most of the morning going over the disputed property with city officials and representatives of the Jack Habel Chevrolet Co., owners of the land.

City Clerk Ada B. Evans told how the city authorized filing of a petition to condemn the property last September after unsuccessful negotiations to gain title.

Pontiac Police Detective James L. Carr and aerial photographer Homer C. Tinney identified photographs they'd taken of traffic flow within the city in the past few months.

City Attorney William A. Ewart claims the pictures show the need for additional parking space and said that moving pictures of traffic conditions will be introduced later.

Engineer Here to Check Rail Crossings for Safety

A. N. Laird, Grand Trunk Railroad chief engineer, is in Pontiac today investigating railway-street crossings in company with City Manager Walter K. Willman and Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

In December, the Pontiac City Commission requested the PSC to take action toward obtaining better warning signal system in the city.

The high number of accidents at crossings in recent years was given as the reason for the request.

The PSC was asked to compel installation of traffic control devices where they are considered necessary and to direct the railroad to route freight trains on the Belt Line.

City Commissioner Benjamin M. Gates said an agreement to use the Belt Line was made between the railroad and Pontiac in 1927-28. The PSC replied it had no record of the agreement and felt it might have been destroyed in the State Office Building fire of 1951.

City Commissioners have directed Williams to check any agreements made with the Grand Trunk regarding the Belt Line.

Among crossings slated for study are those at Rundell, Virginia, Tregent, Cass at the Sibley Coal Yard, Branch, Lake Jessie and Sanford.

Conlin Plan for School Aid Fails to Win Support From 64 Area Superintendents

School superintendents from Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties cast 64 votes against the Conlin proposal for school aid Thursday at a special Metropolitan Area meeting at Birmingham High School. Four votes supported the plan.

Resolution adopted by the school officials said that they opposed the Conlin plan and "recommended study of a proposal that would more adequately meet needs of the boys and girls of the State of Michigan."

On long-term basis, said the superintendents, the Conlin Plan was not the answer to the schools financial problems in the state.

Representative Rollo Conlin's proposal presented this year to the legislature calls for repeal of the Sales Tax Diversion Amendment.

He proposes to replace it with another plan that would earmark two of each three cents of sales tax for the schools. However, the cost of the sales tax collection is a deductible item on a prorated basis and the teachers' retirement fund is tied in with the schools' allotment.

Consensus of opinion among the Metropolitan Area superintendents, who are state leaders in educational circles, said that it is time there was a sound plan adopted, not just another "expedient measure," such as the Conlin Plan would be.

State Parent Teacher Associations have not supported the Conlin Plan — feeling, too, that it is not the answer to the school's financial dilemma.

Endorsement from the Michigan Association of School Boards has not been forthcoming for the plan and, although it may receive approval in the state legislature, there will not be organized help for it from state educational groups if it comes up for a vote in November.

The Metropolitan Area superintendents did adopt a commendation for Rep. Conlin, saying they appreciated his interest and the work he has done in preparing his proposal.

Complete Reorganization of Civil Defense Program Started by Birmingham

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—A dying civil defense program received a shot in the arm last night. Members of the Civil Defense Council met informally with interested parties to revive and reorganize for emergencies of either national or local character.

Explaining that there are 10 separate divisions within the program, Deputy Director Roland Reese asked that a workable plan be submitted by each division head at a Feb. 17 meeting.

Additional Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills social news on page 15.

These would be coordinated into a master plan, Reese said.

The 10 divisions are: wardens, medical, welfare, schools, clergy, communications, police, fire, DPW and utilities.

Until a better location is suggested, central headquarters will be in the basement of the Municipal Bldg.

Fire Chief Vernon M. Griffith said he felt the key to the entire system was proper alerting. He added his opinion that "the city can no longer depend on the city sirens for a signal of disaster."

He described the 21 large gasoline driven sirens, with a hearing range of four miles, which Detroit has set up.

"One of those would serve this whole city," Griffith stated.

A communications system vital to a Civil Defense program is available to the city and ready to operate at a minute's notice, James F. Abbott stated.

A "Ham operators" organization was formed five years ago, he said. It consists of about 265 amateurs, with 51 in Birmingham alone, all owning their own equipment.

A control station for all of Oakland County has been in operation in the St. James Church here for several years, he added.

Birmingham High, Cranbrook and Holy Name Schools were mentioned as emergency hospitals.

Representatives of the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross, the local Civil Air Patrol and Oakland County Civil Defense were present to offer assistance to the program.

The cast has been chosen for Gilbert and Sullivan's "H. M. S. Pinafore," to be given Feb. 26-28 in a joint producton by Bloomfield Hills and Cranbrook Schools.

Male leads, sung by boys from Cranbrook School, include Robert Reed, Robert Griswold, Charles Lawson and Dwight Davis.

Stolen Typewriter Sent to Woman Through Mail

BIRMINGHAM — A typewriter mysteriously mailed to a Birmingham woman has been identified as one stolen in Pontiac, Dec. 28.

Mrs. Nancy Simmer, 857 Redding, notified Birmingham police of its arrival Jan. 28. A check of the return address in Lake Orion proved it to be fictitious.

According to Pontiac police, the machine was part of loot, including a watch and $25 in cash, taken from Nuella Moore, 163 E. Rundell, Pontiac.

good health, smiled and said: "Great."

First a prisoner, then a fugitive, then a refugee sheltered for four months in the U.S. Embassy in Prague, the 26-year-old Czechoborn U.S. Navy veteran started catching up on freedom when a State Department car whipped him through the Iron Curtain at the Czecho-German border yesterday.

The full story of at least one phase—how he bounced from pillar to post as a hunted man in Czechoslovakia for 21 months, always one step ahead of his Red pursuers—may never be publicly told. It could touch off a reign of terror against the anti-Red Czechs who sheltered him.

Like AP Correspondent William N. Oatis, freed from Czech imprisonment last May 17, Hvasta was accused by the Red regime of espionage. He was sentenced to 10 years. He had served 2½ years when he took part in a five-man break from Leopoldov Prison near Bratislava early in 1952. Then came his 21 months as a fugitive and four months in the Prague embassy, technically American soil, while diplomats dickered over his fate.

The Prague radio, skipping the details, reported he had been "released" and ordered expelled.

* * *

U.S. military policemen stood guard as Hvasta slept overnight at the Grand Hotel in Nuernberg, 85 miles north of Munich. His final stepping stones to safety were all arranged by a jubilant U.S. government: three commercial airlines—Munich to Zurich, to London, to New York.

* * *

He looked forward to the reunion with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Hvasta of Hillside, N.J., like him naturalized citizens of the United States. The family came to the United States in 1939.

Hvasta returned to Czechoslovakia in 1948 as a student under the GI Bill of Rights at the University of Bratislava. He worked four months at the U.S. consulate general in Bratislava. But Czechoslovakia still considered him a Czech citizen. He was arrested in October that year as a spy. The conviction came the following May.

* * *

There was no immediate news about Hvasta's wife, a beautiful young Czech he married while in prison. Ironically, the wedding was five years ago to the day on which he left Czechoslovakia a free man.

"I would say to Mr. Molotov," Dulles declared, "that it is late, but not too late to redeem the promise of Berlin."

The cornerstone of the Russian program, Dulles said, is the Communist government of East Germany which he declared was put in office and kept there by Soviet power. It would have been "forcibly ejected" by the workers of East Germany last June, Dulles asserted, had it not been for "elements of 22 Soviet divisions, including tanks and armored cars."

He referred to the workers' rebellion in which two million East Germans defied their government and the Russian occupation itself to show their resentment of Red rule.

Police Raider Fired From Detroit Force

DETROIT (INS) — Detroit Police Sgt. Thomas Watson, 38-year-old head of the Bethune Station cleanup crew, was dismissed from the force today for making illegal raids and the three members of his squad found guilty of conduct unbecoming officers, although they were not discharged.

Watson, on the force since 1943, had been suspended for leading raids last New Year's Day against several private residences.

Clerk Misused Licensing Funds

Woman Admits Taking Drivers' License Money in Muskegon Heights

MUSKEGON (UP) — A 38-year-old former clerk for the Muskegon Heights Police Department Thursday was said to have admitted missuse of drivers' license fees entrusted to her.

Gladys Webster of Muskegon Heights, now a clerk in another municipal office, signed a statement admitting responsibility for a shortage expected to total $390, according to Alex J. Bell, Muskegon Heights police chief.

Her statement "came as a distinct shock to all the members of the Heights Police Department as we have had the utmost confidence in her," Chief Bell said.

Miss Webster converted to her own use some of the money taken in on drivers' license applications since last August, according to Chief Bell. She had expected to replace it later, he said.

Two checks were made out to the Secretary of State covering license fee money that had not been mailed, the police chief reported.

Miss Webster was auto license examiner at Muskegon Heights for nearly six years. Recently she transferred to a position as mail clerk in the Heights Water Department.

Many motorists have not received drivers licenses for which they had applied and Chief Bell said the number may go to 300.

Misuse of the license fees came to light at Lansing this week.

Thursday night there had been no decision as to action to be taken in the case, Chief Bell said.

BURBANK, Calif. (UP) — Diminutive Dianna Bixby is preparing today for an assault on the 'round the world flight record that eluded her four years ago.

The recognized record of 73 hours 5 minutes 11 seconds was set by the late Bill Odom Aug. 10, 1947.

Mrs. Bixby's 20,525-mile route will take her from San Francisco to Newark, N. J.; Paris; Basra, Iraq; Karachi; Calcutta; Tokyo; Midway Island; and back to San Francisco.

Blood Donors Needed Tuesday

Red Cross Mobile Unit Will Visit Presbyterian Church 9 to 3

Some 150 blood donors are still needed for next Tuesday's American Red Cross bloodmobile visit to Pontiac, Oakland County Red Cross chapter said today.

The Pontiac Press will sponsor the Feb. 9 visit at First Presbyterian Church at Wayne and West Huron streets. Hours are 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Mrs. N. E. Durocher, Red Cross blood donor recruitment chairman for Pontiac, asked anyone who can give blood Tuesday to contact her at FEderal 5-4344 this weekend or chapter offices, FEderal 4-3875, Monday for appointments.

"We hope to keep a steady supply of blood coming in," Mrs. Durocher said, "so we can keep our whole blood program going. Whole blood keep just 21 days. After that, it must be made into plasma, gamma globulin and other blood derivatives."

$750,000 Fire Hits Plant in Detroit

from reaching 10 huge gasoline storage tanks belonging to another firm, Sucher Bros. Inc.

The fire broke out shortly after 9 p.m. in the processing room of the plant. There hot asphalt is used to impregnate roofing material.

The Highland Park blaze destroyed the Dostal Housekeeping Shop, an appliance firm.

Lt. Elwood Conland, 41, suffered lacerations and knee and chest injuries. Fireman Paul Gilmore, 35, was hurt about the head. At Highland Park General Hospital their condition was described as serious.

All told, about 500 persons evacuated the Michigan Building because of smoke. There were others in the building in addition to 300 students at the Detroit Business Institute.

1 Dead, 8 Injured When Trains Meet

BALTIMORE (INS) — One man was killed and at least eight persons were injured today when the Baltimore and Ohio's crack National Limited was derailed after sideswiping a yard engine near Willsmere, Del.

Railroad officials said W. A. Jackson of Philadelphia, engineer of the yard engine, was fatally injured in the wreck.

Three trainmen and at least five passengers required hospital treatment. Names of the injured were not immediately available.

Scores of passengers were bruised and shaken up in the crash. Ten passenger cars left the track but none was overturned.

Authority Voted to Add Districts

7 School Areas Must Now Decide on Joining District 1

DRYDEN — In a special meeting last night, voters of district 1, fractional, unanimously gave the district authority to annex seven neighboring districts. The vote was 84 to 0.

Next steps toward annexation are up to the seven school districts, which will hold similar meetings to decide if they want to consolidate with district 1.

All but five of the seven already send their children to the district 1 school in Dryden. The school now has an enrollment of 375, ranging from kindergarteners to 12th graders.

Should the districts agree on the merger, an eight-room elementary addition would be added.

"If we can get the vote within the next month, I'd say we can get a new elementary to go next fall," Fred Patterson, district 1 superintendent, stated.

Cost of the addition would be approximately $150,000. Like all operating and maintenance costs, it would be shared by taxpayers of all eight districts.

About 86 per cent of all children between the ages of 5 and 17 in the U. S. attend school.

Coffee Price War Rages Between Cafe, Drugstore

ST. ANTHONY, Idaho (UP) — There's something of a cold war over coffee under way in St. Anthony.

The Thrifty-Way Drug Store advertises in its window that coffee is 5 cents a cup, with refills free.

And two doors away, the sign in a cafe window reads:

"Coffee still 10 cents, but aspirin and all other drugs in stock free."

Beneath the cafe sign are the drugs "in stock:" one box of aspirin, one box of bandages, a bottle of antiseptic.

Club Members Match for Check—All Win

SALINA, Kan. (UP)—The 11 members of the Highbinders club, who meet for a coffee klatch each morning, matched coins for the check. All 11 coins turned up tails. It's the first time in 200 meetings such a thing happened.

Did You Have a Fire, Big Medical Bills? These, or Some Parts, Are Deductible

By RICHARD A. MULLENS
Article 10

Every dollar of deductions you can claim will save you at least 22 cents and even more if your income is over $4,000. Don't overlook any.

That's why you should read through this and the previous article carefully. They will remind you of deductions that you might otherwise overlook.

And when you finish this article, you will know whether your deductions exceed 10 per cent of your income and should be itemized on page 3 of Form 1040.

Property losses caused either by a casualty or theft can be shown on page 2 even though the property is for your own personal use.

Casualty losses include damage from fire, storm, flood, lightning, hurricane and other sudden, unexpected or unusual causes. Thus damages from a bursting boiler or frozen pipes would be a casualty loss.

You can deduct damages to your car caused by a collision unless the collision was due to your willful negligence. Faulty driving is not classed as willful negligence but driving while intoxicated is.

The amount of the loss or damage to be deducted should be computed in accordance with the official instructions on page 11.

If you have difficulty determining the fair market value of the property both before and just after the loss, as required by the instructions, remember that such things as repair bills, insurance adjuster's estimates, and police or fire department records are good evidence of the amount of your loss.

A loss from a casualty or from theft should be deducted in the year the loss occurred. If you are covered by insurance, the loss must be reduced by any recovery.

If your casualty loss in 1953 exceeds your 1953 income, you can deduct the excess from your 1952 income and get a refund. Do this by filing a claim on a form you can get from your District Director of Internal Revenue.

Medical and dental deductions are figured exactly the same as last year. That means if either husband or wife had the 65th birthday on or before Jan. 1, 1954, then they can deduct all expenses for their own medical care, provided they choose to itemize deductions on page 3 of Form 1040.

If either husband or wife spends money on medical care of a dependent as defined below, only that part of the expense that exceeds five per cent of their adjusted gross income (Item 4, page 1) can be included in the deduction.

If neither husband nor wife was 65 or over in 1953, then only those expenses in excess of five per cent of their adjusted gross income can be deducted.

Medical and dental expenses include any such amount you paid in 1953 for yourself, your wife, all dependents claimed on your return, and also your child to whose support you contributed more than half but who was not a legal dependent because he earned more than $600.

Payments that can be considered deductible medical or dental expenses are listed on page 11 of the official instructions.

Note that costs of travel necessary to get medical care are deductible while costs of travel ordered or suggested for a rest or change are not.

If your minor child is ill and it is necessary to travel to get medical care, you can deduct the expense of transportation, meals and lodging for your child and yourself, if you go along.

There is a maximum limitation on the medical deduction which varies according to the number of dependents and type of return you file. The limitations are explained on page 11 of the instructions.

The last deduction schedule on page 3 is a catch-all for deductions not taken elsewhere. Typical examples of items that can be deducted in the "Miscellaneous" schedule are:

1. Expenses of earning your salary or wage. Any ordinary and necessary expenses in your line of work are deductible. This includes dues, initiation fees and assessments to labor unions, and professional societies; entertainment of customers to promote specific deals and not just for general good will; uniforms, work clothes, and costumes required in your work and that do not replace your own ordinary clothing; safety equipment, tools and supplies necessary and customary in your work.

It also includes expenses of travel for your employer when you did not stay away overnight.

Do not deduct on page 3 any overnight travel expenses for which you were reimbursed by your employer. These should be deducted in item 2, page 1 of the return as explained in the 4th article.

2. Alimony paid regularly, but not necessarily at fixed intervals under court order. You cannot deduct any sums specifically designated for the support of your minor children.

3. Costs of management, maintenance and conservation of property held for investment. This includes cost of a safety deposit box for your securities.

4. Fees or expenses incurred in preparing your income tax return.

Postal Workers Fired as 'Risks'

Summerfield Reveals 166 Discharged in U. S. for Security Reasons

WASHINGTON (AP)—Postmaster General Summerfield has told Congress that 166 postal employes have been discharged as "security risks" with "many hundreds" still under investigation. The postal service has about 500,000 employes.

Summerfield's testimony was given to a House Appropriations subcommittee last December and made public by the committee today.

Summerfield told the subcommittee he had not checked to determine if any record of security findings existed prior to his own administration, but he added:

* * *

"I know we inherited a tremendous number of possible security risks that were supposed to be in process of investigation . . . but they are in such numbers that it may be some time before the work is completed."

Summerfield said employes in the security risk category "were pretty general all over the country."

* * *

David H. Stephens, chief post office inspector, said in reply to questioning that some of the dismissals took place under the Truman administration loyalty program and some under the new Eisenhower security program which supplanted it.

Stephens said security cases received for handling in the department have totaled 23,548, including personnel checks on 13,000 new postal workers and "many" re-evaluation cases.

All America City

Congratulations are in order to our neighboring City of Flint which has just received formal citation as the Nation's truly "All America City."

The award was given by the National Municipal League and Look Magazine. It was based on the heroic manner in which 7,800 volunteers rebuilt in two days the homes destroyed by a tornado last June 8.

This recognition couldn't have happened to a more deserving community.

Power Direct From Atoms

Nothing has fired the imagination more than the announcement that electrical energy has been obtained directly from atomic material.

True, the battery revealed by RCA Board Chairman SARNOFF, generates only a millionth of a watt. But the way this has been done points at least to the possibility when homes can be heated and appliances operated by matchbox size batteries with a life of 20 years.

Tiny though the test battery is, about the size of a pencil eraser, it produced enough current to operate a Morse key with which Chairman SARNOFF tapped out a brief message.

The secret of this new battery is strontium-90, a waste product resulting from the splitting of uranium 235 atoms. The current is produced when the strontium is brought into contact with a thin wafer of silicon.

★ ★ ★

Wonderful though this accomplishment is, it would be a mistake to expect that within a few years all household power needs could be supplied by these batteries. Much slow and costly research will be necessary to determine whether they would be practical in larger sizes.

Moreover, if they should prove workable, there would remain the enormous economic problem of what to do with existing power producing facilities.

Nonetheless the inspiring fact is that science has taken another vastly important step into the still mysterious realm of atomic energy. We can at least hope that this discovery will prove as important to the advancement of its peaceful uses as A-bombs have been to the science of war.

Sound in Principle

Awaiting House approval at Lansing is a bill which would make it possible for public school children to get religious instruction outside the classroom.

Introduced by State Senator VANDERWERP, Fremont Republican, this measure seems to avoid any conflict with the historic separation of Church and State.

At the parents' request children could be excused from regular classes for one hour a week so they could get religious instruction by members of their own denominations. To prevent abuses the bill requires that religious instructors keep a record of attendance.

The bill's author told the upper chamber his measure was favored by Protestant, Catholic and Jewish leaders and that a similar law had worked well in New York State. The Senate then gave it unanimous approval.

In principal we favor this bill in the belief that one of the most urgent needs of the day is more religious instruction for the younger generation.

It seems to us, however, that the House should determine before approving it, whether it provides for any means of preventing disruption of regular classroom work. If not, it should be a simple matter to add such safeguards.

Air Tour to Pakistan

The government of Pakistan has invited two American high school students to be its guests on a 30 day all expense air trip to this new republic.

Back of this invitation is Pakistan's belief that international understanding is a two way street. So the Government at Karachi is making it possible for an American boy and girl to win such a vacation.

The means chosen for selection of the winners is an essay contest. This is limited to high school juniors and seniors who are asked to write not more than 1,500 words on "Pakistan — A Friendly Nation."

These essays must be in the hands of the Pakistan Embassy in Washington by February 20, and winners will be announced March 5. The trip will start about the 1st of April, so they can enjoy Pakistan's pleasantest weather.

★ ★ ★

We urge eligible students to compete for this wonderful travel opportunity. The experiences of our own students and those from many foreign countries who have participated in the student exchange program have been extremely worthwhile.

Another fact which should stimulate student interest in the contest is that Pakistan is a staunch ally of the United States and one of South Asia's strongest bulwarks against Communism.

Robert Dunham Seeks Revival of Interest

Daffynition

Old maid: A person with nobody to blame when things go wrong.

Is checker playing becoming a lost art? Many Pontiac devotees of the game say that such is the case. There was a short revival after the appearance of the great Banks here a few years ago, but interest again is lagging. In order to create a renewal, of 272 Cottage St., volunteers to act as a get together agent for those who desire to play, but lack the opposition. If you have a longing to get into contact with somebody who can out-move you, or just want to learn more about the game, get in touch with Mr. Dunham. His phone is FE 2-4947.

Robert E. Dunham

But he regrets leaving the associates here who with him have seen Pontiac grow into the industrial city that it is. Mr. and Mrs. Havershaw soon will move to Chicago. He is succeeded here by who comes from Durand, where he has been statistician on terminal performance.

"Although he had every opportunity to see his shadow Tuesday and duck back for six weeks, at least one ground hog stayed out," phones

Says Fewer City Skyscrapers to Be Built; Parking Is Bigger Problem Each Year

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

The parking problem has been very bad for the last ten years, not only here, but in all major sized cities. Leading architects have said that few new skyscrapers will be built in the future. The cars of the tenants alone present a serious parking problem.

A great many firms are locating in urban areas with enough land surrounding the buildings to take care of all customer and personnel cars.

Roger Babson said several years ago that it will become impossible for firms to do business in a downtown area unless the cost of the merchandise is enough that they can afford their own fleet of cars to pick up prospective customers. There is no satisfactory solution to the situation except to make it unnecessary for cars to congest such a small area.

Says Union Men Deserve Right to Voice Opinions

As a member of Local 614 Teamster Union, speaking for myself, I have no desire to become an officer, but just to remain a member of this union.

I can't say I am too proud of being a member as of now. I have had two grievances in the past and the only answer I received for them after Dan Keating and my employer discussed my grievances was that it won't happen again.

But it has happened again and again. I contacted Louis Linteau early in the spring of 1953 before the new contract was supposed to have been made up.

I wished to make a motion at a meeting for a change in our contract and, if voted on by the majority of the members, to have it negotiated in the new contract. The answer I got was the contract has already been drawn up and we can't make any changes in contract.

My officers have never notified me when they were going to draw up a new contract and I believe if those contracts belong to the members we should all have a voice in them.

Location of Speed Signs Was Not Published

Through error the location of two speed signs which read 15 m.p.h. was omitted from a letter written by Armond and Raymond Pace which appeared in this column on Feb. 2. The speed signs are located in Sylvan Village.

It was stated in the letter that, "At one time the state became so annoyed at speed limit signs in small towns that read 10, 15, and 20 m.p.h. that they passed a law that no place could there be a speed limit slower than 25 m.p.h. unless given special permission by the state. Now Sylvan Village has at least two that read 15 m.p.h. These are the only ones I have seen in Michigan for a long time that are less than 25 m.p.h."

GOP Should Show Party's Good Faith and Compromise Bricker Amendment

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Avoidance of a decision now on the basic issues growing out of the debate over the Bricker amendment to the Constitution would be detrimental to the Republican party at the polls next November.

Perhaps that's the reason Sen. Knowland, Republican leader, has been striving so hard to get a compromise, and perhaps it's the reason why various Democrats in the Senate are so eager to see the issue buried by sending the measure back to committee for further study.

Like many deep-seated issues, the widespread impact of which does not always appear on the surface, the Bricker amendment is far more than a controversy over legal technicalities.

Hence, the impatience of those who say it's too important to be acted on now and needs further study simply plays into the hands of those forces which want to pile up troubles for the Republican party this year.

The fundamental problem involved in the Bricker amendment is far better understood generally than it is by some of the lawyers here who are arguing against its phraseology.

It is no accident that the Bricker amendment has come up for consideration at this time, and furthermore it wasn't proposed suddenly. It has been debated before such organizations as the American Bar Assn. for the last several years, and approval was specifically given the Bricker amendment by the association after considerable study.

The public furor backing the demand for the Bricker amendment has arisen from the abuse of executive power by both Presidents Roosevelt and Truman in making far-reaching commitments in foreign policy without consulting the Senate.

It is not persuasive to say that President Eisenhower will be different. What one President has done in abusing power can be done by a future President.

Incidentally, that's why the latest amendment to the Constitution prohibiting a third term was adopted — because Roosevelt used governmental power and funds to get himself elected to a fourth term. It was no answer to say no other President would try the same tactics.

The proponents of the Bricker Amendment have indicated a willingness to compromise so as to meet possible misinterpretations. It is to the credit of men like Sens. George and McCarran, Democrats, and Sens. Knowland and Ferguson, Republicans, and others that conscientious efforts have been made by them to try to rewrite the amendment so as to make it satisfactory to two-thirds of the Senate.

If the Senate takes another week or two to debate and then act on the issue, it will not be time wasted.

And if the Senate drops the issue because a two-thirds vote is not attainable for any compromise, the controversy will grow in intensity and bring about a split in both the Republican and the Democratic parties, but with more serious consequences to members of the Republican party, especially in the House of Representatives, whose members will be called upon to express themselves as candidates in primary and final campaigns this year.

Judging by the amount of organization work already done throughout the country and the likelihood that many influential bodies will take up the fight if nothing is done about it, the Bricker amendment controversy will play a leading part in the coming campaign.

The public attitude will not always be identifiable as a position for or against the Bricker amendment but may appear as a demand that congressional candidates stand up and be counted on the issue of permitting the executive alone to make commitments which could lead the nation into more wars.

If the American people are told that, by making a treaty with a foreign government with the approval of a two-thirds majority in the Senate — such a majority as the late President Roosevelt had in his own party early in his administration — a President can amend the Constitution and take away the people's rights, there will be a greater clamor next year for Bricker amendments of various kinds than there is today. The obvious lesson is to write a compromise now and dispose of the issue.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Use Clever Psychology if Dealing with Young

Michael beat his Grandma to the draw. But she was a clever child psychologist, so she disarmed him by her return volley. Then he offered to surrender. If you want to be better parents, send for the 200-point Rating Scales named below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-317: Michael T., aged 3, went across the street to visit his grandmother one morning, as was his usual custom.

But he greeted her with a frown and studious indifference, although he normally was overjoyed at seeing her.

"My goodness," his grandmother exclaimed, "What's the matter, Michael?"

"I don't like you," he bluntly told her. "You are a mean Grandma. Today we are going out to see my other Grandma."

Now Michael loved this grandmother deeply and usually had to be bribed to visit the more distant grandparent, for the latter wasn't as fond of children.

"That's too bad, Michael," his Grandma replied with a shrug. "I didn't know I was so mean. I guess I'll just have to visit Jeff today and try to be nice to him."

Jeff was Michael's cousin, also aged 3, and a rival of Michael.

"Oh, you're not really mean, Grandma, not very," Michael then hastened to say.

"But we haven't time to stop long today 'cause Mama is going to sew at my other Grandma's house and we'll stay there all day."

This gem of child psychology was told me by Mrs. Ross D. Hyatt, of Clearfield, Utah, to illustrate a previous Case Record.

I had mentioned therein the fact that whenever we do a person a wrong, we first feel guilty and may wish to make amends.

But that guilty feeling is unpleasant, so if we can't quickly atone we may grow irate. Then we may irritably do a second wrong to the injured party.

In Michael's case today, he felt that he was rudely jilting his favorite Grandma. This made him feel inferior. So, in order to reinflate his ego, he tried to deflate her morale further by rudely saying she was mean and he didn't like her.

Actually, he didn't like the uncomfortable feeling of doing her a wrong. She thus made him feel mean.

So he decided to put her in her place. He beat her to the draw by squelching her with his opening statement when he said "I don't like you."

But she was a very tactful grandmother. So she didn't argue or upbraid him and further the feuding,

Instead, she expressed chagrin, but then she deftly inserted some competition into the situation by suggesting that she'd visit Jeff and maybe retain him as her pet grandchild.

And this strategy worked at once, for Michael backed water fast. He then tried to mollify her and explained at great length the real reason why he couldn't spend the morning with her.

It is a curious fact that children, even of Michael's age, may subconsciously "sense" a certain situation and adopt the standard human response to it, yet not be able to explain or consciously analyze that same situation till they are 10 or 15 years older.

"You're a mean man. I don't like you," our Judy, as a toddler, once greeted my uncle when he was out mowing the grass in his yard nearby.

"Why Judy, I'm surprised!" he answered. "Who told you to say such a thing?" he added.

"Mama did," she glibly retorted and skipped on along the sidewalk.

But "Mama" had not even intimated such a thing. Judy may have simply tried to put him in his place, and then deftly slipped out from under the dilemma by passing the buck to "Mama."

It takes a lot of judgment and forbearance to be a good parent, so send for my 200-point "Tests for Fathers and Mothers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Remember in 1941 when the illustrious Bob Taft made a crack that circumnavigated the hall of echoes?

The nation's wealth, material and men were ear-marked for the seven seas. Bob and his pals were fighting the New Deal nail, tooth and temporary fillings.

Bob magnovoxed the podium with this promissory inflection on a patriotic note, "Politics stop at the water's edge."

Whereupon he put his shoulder to the wheel and removed the tire. Politics did stop at the water's edge. Even though that famous Roosevelt hoss was still in midstream.

How did that hoss get in the middle of the Liverpool jump? That was one the Prince of Wales didn't ride.

Why can't the Democrats reciprocate that good right hand of substantial camaraderie offered by the GOP in times of national stress and peril? Does the glove always have to be on the other foot?

Dr. Brady Says Rabies Is for Animals, Doesn't Occur in Man (in His Opinion)

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

From Warren's Surgical Pathology, published in 1895, I quote two passages to show I'm not just whistling when I deplore the wretched practice of whipping up mad dog scares:

(1) During the day there is a slight stiffness in the muscles of the jaw, which renders it difficult for the patient to open his mouth . . . Attempts to swallow cause pain and distress. . .

(2) Cases seen by the writer had all reached the stage when that most striking symptom of the disease — Difficulty in swallowing — was plainly marked. . .

The first quotation is from the eminent author's description of tetanus (lockjaw). The second quotation is from his description of alleged human rabies (hydrophobia.

Reading Warren's authoritative book, or any other textbook I have seen, one must constantly glance back at the chapter heading to make sure whether the author is describing tetanus or rabies.

In the "rabies capital of North America," Jefferson County, Alabama, in which Birmingham is situated, Drs. Dowling and Dennison, the head men of the county health department, concluded after years of experience with rabies that rabies is so rare, if it occurs in man, that it does not constitute a public health problem but should be left to the veterinarians.

* * *

It would do health board politicians no harm to read the report of Drs. Dowling and Dennison, published in the A.M.A. Jour., in 1938, if I recollect,

Has anybody heard what ever became of Mr. X who was so valiantly sought by the health authorities in Chicago, who gave the poor fellow only 14, or was it 9 days to come in and get Pasteur treatment?

It seems a doggie had wagged his tail or barked at Mr. X and later the health department pathologist had pronounced the doggie rabid.

The Chicago health authorities are so good at mad dog scares that they got a plea to Mr. X splashed across the front page.

Nothing can come of this. If Mr. X was not found the scare just peters out and public interest lags.

If Mr. X was found and consented to take Pasteur treatment, he survived and the Pasteur treatment saved his life; or he died and the Pasteur treatment was started too late.

If he succumbed, it must be obvious to any one (but me) that the man had rabies. Can I prove he died of tetanus? Of course not.

But can any physician, health officer, pathologist or politician in Chicago or anywhere else prove the man or any man has rabies? Of course not.

A diagnosis of rabies in man is only an opinion. And in my opinion—merely my opinion — rabies does not occur in man.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 300 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, symptoms or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Seniors Ready for Annual Play

St. Michael Students Preparing to Present 'No More Homework'

St. Michael High School seniors will present their annual play "No More Homework," Feb. 14 and 15. The comedy will be shown to grade school youngsters at a matinee program scheduled for Feb 12.

The consequences of allowing the student council to rule the school is the theme of the play, whose locale is the Elmer B. Ames High School.

The role of Pamela Jones will be played on alternate evenings by Carlene Linsenman and Katherine Bentham. Buzz Bailey will be portrayed by Wayne Magnan.

Other characters are: Judy Steinhelper and Sue O'Neil as Shalimar Ames; Maria Leone, Dolores Taylor, and Elaine Kraft play teachers; Charles Landry and Dick Doll will play janitor; and Pat Walsh and Margaret Martin are cleaning women.

Richard Fleming will be the school board head; Ronald Sassoon will play Alvin Wilhelm, Talullah Plotez is Dorothy Felix; Faversham Lightly will be acted by Pat Crowley; and Coath Guthrie will play Tom Pruente.

Completing the list are Donald Farrell, Annabelle Vavarek, Carol Flanders and Jane Thornberry as teachers. Jeannette Ashton and Nancy Polasek will alternate as school secretary; Ronald Sears will play the principal; and Mrs. Clendenning will be played by Maria Leone.

MICHAELITE MAYHEM—Re-enacting a scene from the forthcoming play "No More Homework" are four St. Michael thespians who seem to be caught in a hilarious dilemma. As Wayne Magnan, of 455 Airport Rd., lies in disgrace on the floor, Richard Fleming (left) of 867 N. Perry St., seems to be pointing out of hasty exit. Alvin Wilhelm, of 792 Irwindale Ct., gallantly shields Carlene Linsenman, of 212 Edison St., from the trying proceedings. The play will be presented Feb. 14 and 15, in addition to a matinee performance scheduled for Feb. 12.

Bill to Require Inside Latches on Ice Boxes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Manufacturers would be required to install inside door latches in ice boxes and refrigerators under a bill introduced Thursday by Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont).

This, he said, would prevent any additional accidents in which children suffocate after locking themselves in abandoned boxes.

Mansfield's bill says any refrigerator, ice box, ice chest or freezer of more than one and a half cubic feet, sent across state lines, would have to contain such latches.

General Sees U. S. Planes Smashing North of Yalu if Korean War Renews

(Editor's note: In this third and final exclusive interview, the commanding Air General in Korea tells what might happen if fighting breaks out again—U.S. planes roaring beyond the Yalu.)

By ROBERT EUNSON

TOKYO (AP)—If the Korean armistice is scrapped and fighting breaks out again, American bombers may range far north of the Yalu River and hammer Chinese factories in Manchuria—possibly with atom bombs.

Gen. O. P. Weyland, Far East Air Forces commander, won't say they will. He did say in an interview, however: "It is my understanding that the Yalu River might no longer be the boundary, if the war is resumed in Korea, and we might strike the enemy wherever we could hurt him the most and with whatever would do the most damage."

China proper could also come into its share of bombing, it would be assumed.

"The Far East Air Forces would be reinforced," Weyland said. "The Strategic Air Command (SAC) is prepared to operate anywhere in the world and could extend its range to this theater."

SAC is the outfit which packs the big wallop. Bombers of this command specialize in atom warfare.

There are at least five planes in the U. S. Air Force which can carry the atom bomb and bases in Weyland's command can accommodate all of them. The five types are B29, F84, B47, B50 and B36.

B29s, B50s and F84s already are based in the Far East.

"We could get the B47 jet bombers here in 12 hours if we needed them," Weyland said.

Whether there is a stockpile of atom bombs in some lead cave in the Far East for those atom carriers already here is a matter of conjecture, but 12 hours would be pretty swift retaliation if the Russians attacked Japan.

"In case of attack from the Soviets, FEAF is in a flanking position to strike advancing Communist air forces," said Weyland. "Notice our positions on the map and you will see that we are just offshore from all Communist territory in the Far East—China, North Korea, Manchuria and Russian Siberia.

"We could strike to the north, east or southeast from our positions in Japan, Okinawa, Korea and the Philippines."

The Air Force is keeping up a secondary chain of bases just in case they are needed. Although there are few planes on them now, the fields are in good shape and long enough to land anything that will fly.

"We would have to fight hard again to get back the initiative," Weyland says. "But it can be done if hostilities are renewed.

"We had air supremacy so thoroughly during the war in Korea that some people got the wrong idea. Do you know our front lines never had a real air attack and the area back of our lines looked like Los Angeles or New York from the air at night? I've never seen so many lights," he laughed. "Imagine riding around like that, with all lights burning at night, in Europe during the last war.

"The Reds had about 200 planes in North Korea within striking range of our lines, but after the first five days of the war hardly used them outside of Mig Alley."

Vandals at Union Lake Displace Mail, Checks

Vandals yesterday took $800 in checks from a Union Lake store mail box and after ripping open the envelopes placed them in other mail boxes along the same street.

Mrs. Robert Pittman, wife of the owner of the Union Lake Feed and Supply Store at 7215 Cooley Lake Rd., W. Bloomfield Township, said she believes whoever took the mail was looking for money because all checks were recovered.

Post office officials at Pontiac said they have had no reports of tampering with the mails in that area recently but some complaints that came in last year from that neighborhood were blamed on school children.

Oldster Enjoys Cycling

WICHITA, Kas. (AP) — C. N. Horner, 82-year-old cycling enthusiast, has piled up 3,000 miles at the pedals since the autumn of 1952—nearly 7 miles a day — he recently made a pleasure jaunt on his bicycle to the Fall River reservoir 78 miles east of Wichita.

Mrs. DiMaggio Visits Tokyo Army Hospital

TOKYO (AP)—In a quick tour of Tokyo Army Hospital today, film star Marilyn Monroe chatted on the floor with one patient and autographed the cast of a homebound G.I.

In order to talk to Pvt. Albert Evans, Canton, Ohio, she had to lie on the floor and look up. Evans suffered a broken back in a jeep accident in Korea on Jan. 11 and has been immobilized in a face down position.

Homeward bound Cpl. Donald L. Wakehouse of Iowa City, Iowa, will wear an autographed cast. Wakehouse is a former prisoner of war who was wounded in the final stages of the war, captured and then returned by the Communists.

Judge Adjourns Teamster Trial

Postponement Granted so Counsel Can Appeal to State's High Court

DETROIT (AP)—Eight members of Local 985, AFL Teamsters Union, on trial for alleged labor racketeering and extortion, have won a 90-day adjournment for a State Supreme Court appeal.

Recorder's Judge Joseph A. Gillis ordered the three-month delay Thursday.

George S. Fitzgerald, counsel for William E. Bufalino, one of the defendants, asked for the adjournment. He said he wished to take the case to the State Supreme Court to appeal the constitutionality of state laws involved.

The eight members of the juke box local were bound over for trial after an earlier examination based on findings of a one-man grand jury.

It was the constitutionality of the grand jury that Fitzgerald questioned. He also said he was prepared to take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court if the state high court fails to uphold his thinking.

Judge Gillis warned, "if at any time the Wayne County Prosecutor shows that the defendants are stalling for time, the order (for adjournment) will be set aside and they will be brought to trial immediately."

The adjournment of the case until May 24 also halted a separate trial of five other teamsters' officials and business agents.

Nine other candidates have filed for commission posts. Primary election is March 1 and general city election April 5.

Government to Give Food to Help Needy

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—A government official says surplus commodity food will be shipped into Dunklin County to relieve about 3,000 persons there who are without food and funds.

Floyd H. Tuchscher of Chicago, assistant area field supervisor for the Department of Agriculture, says the food items should start moving into the southeast Missouri county the first part of next week.

County Judge C. M. Burcham appealed for the government aid after reporting the earnings by farm laborers, cut sharply by last year's drought, have been running out over the past several weeks.

Detectives Embarrassed by 9 Wayward Weapons

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

NEW YORK (INS) — "The case of the Dumbfounded Dicks" is my title for a mystery that's still unsolved. It's been worked on for a month by both the Pinkerton Detective Agency and the New York Police.

There's a kind of wild charm to the story and in case you missed the zany yarn, here's a fast rundown of the clues.

Fact 1 — On Jan. 2, the Pinkerton agency applied to the police for renewal permits for its 400 revolvers.

Fact 2 — "New York's Finest" asked for an accounting of each revolver.

Fact 3 — Nine of the 400 couldn't be located. The Pinkerton offices searched without success.

Fact 4 — City detectives were assigned to the search.

Fact 5 — On Jan. 17, the police sent out a 13-state alarm for the nine missing revolvers.

Facts 6, 7, 8 — The police announced they would continue the search; the detective agency gave the press the old "no comment," and as this column went to the Linotype it was still no soap on the guns.

J. O. Camden, vice president and general manager of the Pinkertons, says, "there was just a mixup in our records . . they have simply not been straightened out. The police will not find the guns because they were not stolen."

On the other hand, Police Detectives told him, "we are still working on the case."

All of which will prove to mystery fans that "The Case of the Dumfounded Dicks" differs in one glaring respect from the basic formulae of such experts as Conan Doyle or Mickey Spillane.

For thus far no case has been made to prove either of the two indispensable theses of any mystery story, to wit:

A) That a private eye can solve cases quicker, or

(B) That a public eye can solve cases quicker,

Which leaves innocent bystanders up a tree.

In case you'd like to help out, just have a look around among any revolvers you know. Four of the missing nine are Colts, four are Iver Johnsons, and one lonely little fellow is a Smith & Wesson. They are all .38 caliber.

So if you come across any suspicious candidate, check with headquarters before making any public accusations.

There's too much trigger-happy smearing going on as it is.

The smallest pipe organ has about 370 pipes, and the largest has more than 40,000 pipes.

Schunck Talks to Zonta Club

"Progressive Education" was the topic presented by William Schunck, superintendent of Waterford township schools Thursday noon to members of the Zonta Club.

Speaking about report cards he said schools have a responsibility to report to parents telling them where their child stands in relation to his own ability, and where he stands in the group.

"A good teacher needs more skill than a physician" he said, stressing the importance of first grade teachers.

Helen Reese was chairman of the day.

Junior's Helmet Easy to Wash

Junior's space helmet may transport him right out of this world, but it's mother's job to be down to earth about the cleanliness angle.

When Junior dons his helmet, make sure that he's not covering his head with a lot of germs. To avoid this, wash the helmet often with soap and water.

Since it's made of plastic, this is a simple mater of swishing a soapy cloth and a clean damp cloth over both the outer and inner surfaces.

Dagwood would approve of this recipe given us by Mrs. Raymond P. Clemens of Union Lake. Bun Steads make super eating for meatless Fridays or for any time that calls for a filling snack.

Mrs. Clemens is a delightful person to be with; she's an excellent conversationalist. She has devoted much time to committee work in the League of Women Voters. For pure pleasure she spends as many hours as possible with her two grandsons.

BUN STEADS
By Mrs. Raymond P. Clemens

- ½ pound American cheese (1 cup cubed)
- 3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
- 1 7-ounce can flaked tuna fish
- 2 tablespoons chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons green pepper
- 2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
- 2 tablespoons sweet pickle
- ½ cup salad dressing
- 6 barbecue buns

Mix all ingredients except buns together lightly. Split buns and fill with salad mixture. Wrap in aluminum foil. Bake 30 minutes in slow oven. Serve hot.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

High Fashion Can't Exist Without Daring Dressers

What it is that 1953's 10 best-dressed women are wearing this year, I wouldn't know, but it's not real high fashion anyway. I should guess after talking to Cecil Beaton, famous photographer, writer and longtime student of this important subject.

Mr. Beaton didn't even mention the 10 best-dressed women in our conversation but he did assure me that fashion is now almost non-existent because of the absence of leaders with ideas. It seems that to set a style you must have an intrepid personality combined with a knack of making others play follow-the-leader.

MISS McBRIDE

Thus equipped, you design or wear something as different as possible from everybody else. Then all of us who are uncertain about out taste presumably will trample one another in the rush to copy the new vogue.

To show how mode-setting in the best days used to work, Cecil Beaton recalls the night that Rita de Acosta Lydig, fashion leader of the 20s, turned up at the opera with an evening gown cut to the waist at the back.

Everybody in the golden horseshoe was excitedly discussing her as she unconcernedly waved a big black fan. Next morning, the papers front-paged her daring exploit and in a week all the women who had pretended to be scandalized were aping Mrs. Lydig.

In the same period, designer Gabrielle Chanel imperiously yanked women out of the ornate Orientalism of the Paul Poiret period with its tight skirts and wired tunics that looked like lampshades over the hips. The new fashion monarch gained followers at once, for her popular idea was to slice years off a woman's life as well as produce a new silhouette.

It was also her whim to make the rich look poor, but expensively poor. So she lined plain felt overcoats with sable, made dresses of material ordinarily used only for men's underwear, and finished them off with quantities of rubies, emeralds and pearls.

Among fashion-setting exponents of unexpected clothes mentioned by Cecil Beaton in his book "The Glass of Fashion," two of my favorites are the Hon. Mrs. Reginald Fellowes of England and Millicent Rogers, daughter of an American oil pioneer.

The Hon. Mrs. Fellowes would appear hatless at Ascot, in a plain linen suit when other fashionable women were wearing enormous cartwheels of chiffon with elaborate frocks to match. She had the trick of making everybody else feel foolish and overdressed, a harmless if disconcerting hobby.

Millicent Rogers started the idea, now perpetuated by women emcees in television, of rotating costumes during an evening. Thus, she would start the party in a black silk dress with bustle and train. On the pretext of having sat on some ice cream, she would then change to a robe of looped taffeta. Over this she would spill coffee, necessitating a further switch.

My prime choice of Mr. Beaton's gallery though is Mrs. Augustus John, wife of the painter, who 40 years ago found a style that suited her and has worn it ever since, a feat in my opinion more daring than all the others put together.

Really perfect for you is the new ease and softness for day and evening. In laces, seam the dainty but prefer heavier lace in simplified silhouette.

Mrs. A. B.—Gathers are not good for you. The straight, slim silhouette, cut with ease and softness, is one of your best. Have the torso smooth, with moderate skirt fullness and unbelted to narrow your waist.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—A crippled 16-year-old boy, who said he was a victim of polio, told police yesterday he had been exploited by magazine subscription crews for 2½ years.

The boy said he was Franklin Miller of Huntington, W. Va. He hobbled up to the Travelers Aid Society desk at Union Station and asked for money to get back home to his widowed mother.

He told police he was forced to exploit his crippled condition to sell magazines. He told how crew managers never turned over his earnings but doled out spending money and wrote down the balance in his books.

When no orders arrived by 11 months, Reiner wrote to a New Jersey newspaper and with its help, reported here to settle his case. He has been in the stockade here since Dec. 17.

WESTERN ROYALTY—Long a favorite with fans are the "king and queen" of the west, Roy Rogers and Dale Evans, who are a team in real life too. The versatile performers not only star in movies but thrill "hoss opera" enthusiasts on radio and TV as well.

Records, Rodeo, TV in Busy Life

Singing Cowboy's Story Like an Old-Time Alger Success Tale

NEW YORK — Roy Rogers, King of the Cowboys, star of his own radio and television show, is actually a farm boy who made good.

There is more than a small Horatio Alger touch about the life story of the boy from the little farm in Duck Run, Ohio, who was able to rise from his impoverished childhood to become one of America's most fantastic success stories.

Roy, who was born in Cincinnati, spent most of his early life on the Duck Run farm, had little formal education, but was endowed with a tremendous reservoir of energy.

Aside from attending grammar school, he found time to help his father (Andrew Slye) with many of the chores about the farm.

His knowledge of carpentry, plumbing, electrical work and complete farm experience with crops, animals and tools formed a firm foundation for his later life.

His big break came quite by accident. Roy stopped by a Glendale tailoring shop to see about having his Stetson cleaned.

While he was waiting he overheard another aspiring movie cowboy telling the tailor how much he needed to pick up the hat he'd left, because Republic Studio was holding auditions for singing cowpokes. This was enough for Roy, who grabbed his hat and ran.

Becoming a top star in Western films has been only part of the Roy Rogers success story. His voice became as well-known to the record collector as his face to the TV and motion picture fan. Then came Roy Rogers' World's Championship Rodeo, Held in New York's fabulous Madison Square Garden in 1945, the rodeo grossed over $1,000,000 during its run.

Since that time, Roy has advanced the popularity of the Western show all across the country. All told, over 13,000,000 people have seen Rogers' rodeos.

Despite all this activity Roy found time in 1948 to star in his own radio show. Then in 1952 Roy began producing his own TV films.

Roy married Dale Evans, his co-star, Dec. 31, 1947.

One of his credos is: "If you enjoy your work, you're always on a vacation".

Although charcoal has been made for centuries, modern methods of heating wood in retorts and recovering such by-products as wood tar, acetone and acetic acid is comparatively modern.

Polio Victims Die in Bedroom Blaze

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Two small polio-victim brothers perished last night in a fire that swept their bedroom.

They were Eugene Blais, 5, whose arms and shoulder were in a brace, and Delbert, 4, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Blais.

Mrs. Blais, who was watching television in an adjacent room, was summoned to the bedroom by her 7-year-old daughter Gail.

Gail carried her 1-year-old sister Judy to safety while the mother tried to smother the flames enveloping the boys' bunk beds.

Then she carried another daughter, Nancy, 2, to the street and tried to return for the boys. She was driven back by the flames.

Fire officials blamed the fire on a defective oil heater in the bedroom.

2 Area Children Hurt as Car Hits Sled

Two nine-year-old Waterford Township children were injured yesterday when the sled they were riding was struck by a car at Westlawn and Lodi streets.

The motorist, William Van Jaarsveld, 35, of 8351 Lyford, Detroit, said he was unable to stop because of icy road conditions when the children came across the road in front of him, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy Jack Fritch.

Treated at Pontiac General Hospital were: Mary Copp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Copp of 4625 Motorway, lip injuries; and Richard Pfeuffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry V. Pfeuffer of 4719 Westlawn, admitted with fractured leg, concussion, and severe forehead cuts. His condition today is reported as good.

In its ice-free season, the St. Lawrence River handles nearly a third of Canada's foreign trade.

Dems Send Out 'Truth' Packets

Make Move to Check Claims Made in Tour by Sen. McCarthy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee said today it is sending "truth kits" ahead of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) to editors and party workers in the cities along his present speaking route.

The committee said in an accompanying letter it is providing the material because of indications that McCarthy "has been considerably more careless with the truth while speaking away from Washington than he has been in the capital, where he is under the scrutiny of reporters who have the facts readily available to enable them to check on his claims."

McCarthy opened his Lincoln Day tour last night in Charleston, W. Va., with a charge that the era of recent Democratic administrations was "20 years of treason."

The Wisconsin senator said the "label Democrat (is) . . . stitched with the idiocy of a Truman; rotted by the deceit of an Acheson; corrupted by the Red slime of a White."

* * *

He said there were Democrats "who hold their heads high . . . and who refused to yield," but they were not numerous enough to "hold the lever that controlled the political destiny of a nation for two decades" and the result was "20 years of treason."

Speaking about the same time in Cheyenne, Wyo., Democratic National Chairman Stephen Mitchell accused the Republican party of giving up its scruples and making "a new and massive attempt to win a national election through the systematic use of slander."

Mitchell said there was a "calculated, deliberate, nationwide campaign launched by the Republicans to try to paint the Democratic party as the party of communism—as the party of treason and disloyalty."

He denounced also what he called the philosophy of "what is good for big business is good for the country."

There was no immediate comment on McCarthy's statements from the two living persons he singled out for special mention—former President Harry S. Truman and former Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Fun for Every Age Provided in City Recreation Plan

NEW UAW-CIO HALL—Pontiac Local 653, UAW-CIO, will dedicate their new hall (above) at ceremonies Saturday at 7 p. m. The union's President Walter P. Reuther and Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey will be on hand for the affair, local officials said. The new building, located at 386 E. Kennett St., is 85x113 feet, contains an assembly hall, business offices, conference rooms, complete kitchen and banquet rooms.

Leonard Buzz Cites Activities

Gives Credit to Many PTAs, School Board and Clubs Who Help

No matter what you fancy, checkers, dramatics or a fast flip on a tumbling mat, there's activity for everyone in Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's winter recreation program.

Leonard T. Buzz, program activities supervisor, said "activities have been designed to include everyone, from 8 to 80 and over."

Some 20,685 participations were recorded during October through January, "but there's room for many more persons," said Buzz.

"The activities are made possible," he said, "through cooperation of the Board of Education in allowing free use of their facilities.

"Various PTAs, civic, luncheon and community clubs also are of much help," Buzz added.

No charge is made and anyone can participate, said Buzz. Information is available by telephone from the Parks and Recreation Department.

Events take place through the week at various schools including Pontiac High, Daniel Whitfield, Jefferson, Whittier, Bagley, McConnell, Wilson and Eastern.

Others are Longfellow, Central, Crofoot, Webster, Washington, Baldwin, Lincoln, LeBaron, Owen, Wever and Lakeside Community Center.

Activities include choral group work, fencing, basketball, gym for men and women, square dancing, dance classes, adult social hours, young adult and teenage dances, game rooms, table tennis and community center projects.

This winter has proven exceptionally good for ice skating, Buzz said. Skaters were active every day during January, he explained.

Rinks are located at Oriole Field, Bagley and Brush streets, Northside Community Center plus Wilson, Crofoot, Washington and Wever schools.

IT'S MY TURN—A slight debate developed during a Chinese checkers game at Wilson School Wednesday night with Carlos Gomez, 11, of 291 Midway Ave. saying it was still his turn. He and Judy Carle, 12, of 33 Allen St. soon resolved the argument, however. The two were taking part in the winter recreation program sponsored by Pontiac Park and Recreation Department.

Lobbying Bill Causing Furor

Senator Accuses Group of Trying to Kill Plan by 'Sitting On It'

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Donald W. Gilbert (R-Saginaw) will try to do what no one has achieved in the Senate for 43 years—take a bill away from a committee.

Gilbert's plan results from the Senate State Affairs Committee's refusal to release his bill to tighten regulation of legislative lobbyists.

Committee members said Gilbert broke up a hearing on his bill Thursday with a motion to report it to the floor. He did not even get a second for his motion.

To newsmen, he accused the committee of planning to sit on his measure without action until the deadline for decisions has passed.

The hearing was marked by clashes between Gilbert, the Committee Chairman, Sen. Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids) and W. F. Doyle of East Lansing, manager of the Michigan Chain Stores Bureau.

Greene said no lobbyists appeared for the hearing, so he invited Doyle to appear and testify.

Members quoted Doyle as saying he would neither oppose nor recommend the measure, but wished to indicate changes which would have to be made if the bill were to be workable.

At this point, they said Gilbert accused Doyle of sabotaging his bill and demanded the vote.

The Senate passed and sent to the House his bill to reorganize the State Fair Board.

And 28 of the 32 senators joined in sponsoring reintroduction of a Gilbert measure which was summarily knifed in the House. This measure would have removed the state inheritance tax from the real and personal assets held jointly by husband and wife.

The state fair bill seeks to end the dual control of the fair grounds. For years the grounds have been controlled by the 20-man fair board during fairs and by the State Agricultural Commission between fairs.

The Gilbert bill would create a new 23-man board with sole control over the fair grounds and fair.

Instead of being all appointed by the Governor, the proposed board would include 17 members elected by congressional districts through boards of supervisors and five named by the Governor. The other member would be the State Agricultural Director.

The House Republican caucus gave the green light to a proposed codification of state election laws.

The majority decided to pass the compilation of existing statutes with only one major change in present law. This change would re-combine the presidential and state officer ballots.

The ballots were separated in the days of the late Pres. Roosevelt when Republicans feared he was drawing votes away from their state tickets.

House committees favorable reported bills to raise the present $60 monthly old age assistance benefit to $70, to invalidate "quickie" divorces for Michigan residents in such places as Nevada and Mexico and to impose a statewide curfew on youngsters.

The House passed a bill permitting probate courts to withhold bequests that could go into iron curtain countries for confiscation by the government.

Reuther Will Speak Here at Union Hall Dedication

Walter P. Reuther, UAW-CIO president, will discuss the nation's employment situation Saturday at 7 p. m. during dedication ceremonies of the union's new hall, 386 E. Kennett St., recently completed by Pontiac's Local 653.

Charles S. Curry, the local's president, said that Emil Mazey, secretary treasurer of the international group, also will highlight the dedication by relating some of the union's efforts.

Invited to attend the affair are leaders of international, state and local labor organizations and representatives of government, civic, religious and fraternal groups.

The Local which represents 13,500 Pontiac Motor Division workers has already occupied its new quarters, moving from its former location at 726 Glenwood Ave.

Curry said the new building, 85 by 113 feet, has an assembly hall on the first floor with a 500 seating capacity. Administrative and business offices also are situated on the first floor.

Four conference rooms, a completely equipped kitchen and a banquet room, comprise the basement. Ten full-time employes conduct the union's business at the new hall.

HOWARD K. KELLEY

Royal Oak Mayor Will Preside; Sen. Carlson to Talk at Affair

Toastmaster at next Wednesday's Lincoln Day Banquet will be Mayor Howard K. Kelley of Royal Oak.

The annual dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at Royal Oak's Northwood Inn. U.S. Sen. Frank Carlson (R-Kansas) will be main speaker.

He also studied at University of Michigan, Detroit Institute of Technology, Wayne University and American Institute of Banking.

Man Dies in Dentist Chair After Having Teeth Pulled

CLEVELAND (AP) — A physician slit open the man's chest and massaged his still heart while a dentist applied oxygen in an unsuccessful attempt to revive a 58-year-old businessman who died in the dentist's chair after removal of six teeth yesterday.

Police said the man, James M. Smith, had been given an anesthetic and had regained consciousness briefly. Then he lapsed into a coma. The dentist summoned the physician.

Change in MSC Name Up Again

House Group Will Ask for More Time on Bill at Students' Request

LANSING (AP) — The proposal to change Michigan State College to Michigan State University, once dead and buried, was stirring in the grave today.

On the request of Michigan State College students, the House Educational Institutions Committee agreed to ask for a two-week time extension on the bill and to arrange for a public hearing.

Without the extension, the bill will be shelved automatically under house rules on Monday.

The bill was reported without recommendation by the committee last week, but it was hurried back when constitutional objections arose and an attorney general's opinion was asked. The University of Michigan regents had issued a strong statement objecting to the name change.

Chairman Loyd Gibbs (R-Portland) said then that he believed the bill was dead and would not again be considered by his committee.

Meanwhile, however, a strong movement in favor of the change has developed on the Michigan State College campus.

David Hyman, 23, Buffalo, N. Y., senior and chairman of the MSC student government, told the committee that 2,000 signatures have already been collected on a petition. He said eventually there would be 5,000 signatures.

He said that the college has long since outgrown its name and that foreign students, professors who travel abroad and students who plan to leave the state after graduation are especially interested in the name change as a matter of prestige.

Joining him in meeting with the committee were Marilyn McBride, 20, Bay City junior, who is treasurer of the student government, and Pat Yaroch, 21, Kinde, Mich., senior, who is editor of the Michigan State News.

Gibbs said that the public hearing probably would be held some evening next week if the House approves the time extension.

Junior Achiever Group Chooses New President

The Junior Achievement group sponsored by Community National Bank elected Gordon Dodge of 485 N. Johnson Ave. new president Wednesday at a meeting in the bank offices, according to adviser Carroll L. Osmun.

Dodge succeeds John Hovis of 190 Wall St. Other teen-age officers for the "Japlaco" firm are Virgi Chance of 458 Branch St., vice-president; Patricia Waters of 208 N. Johnson Ave, secretary; and Lawrence Decker of 267 Elizabeth Lake Rd., treasurer.

The achievers presented a bronze "sponsors' plaque" to the bank and received their national charter from Junior Achievement Inc.

One of eight JA groups in Pontiac, Japlaco has produced and sold about 175 plastic salt and pepper shakers since last fall, Osmun explained.

Besides Osmun, bank advisers for the group are Willard B. Johnson, Gordon M. McLeod and Edward S. Ladd.

COMING DOWN'S EASY—Frank Ortega, 14, of 381 Irwin Ave. demonstrated his tumbling skill for the camera Tuesday night at Wilson School. This gym class is part of Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department's winter recreation program, which provides a wide range of activities for all age groups. Forming the pyramid are Danny Moore, 10, of 481 Central Ave. (top). Victor Martinez, 12, of 585 S. Paddock St., (front) and Charles Emery, 12, of 447 E. Wilson Ave. (behind Martinez). Help-Each-Other Loan Club Brings in Fort Knox Interest

By BILLY ROSE

One afternoon in the worst days of the depression, a scared high-school kid walked into the Henry Street Settlement Boys Club and asked if anyone could lend him enough cash to get out of town.

His story was a common one on the East Side: Two years before, he had borrowed $25 from a local loan shark and agreed to pay interest of $5 a week. So far, he had paid over $500 interest, without making a dent in the principal.

BILLY ROSE

Now he was broke and the loan shark had threatened to beat him up if he didn't catch up on his interest payments by Saturday. Would anybody advance him the train fare to Camden, Trenton or even Newark?

One of the club members who heard the story was a lad named Nat Rafferman. He promptly went to the Settlement officials and persuaded them to pay off the boy's loan, principal and all.

That night Nat had a talk with a pal of his, Sol Curalnick.

"A lot of people in this neighborhood are in the same spot," he said. "Isn't there some way to set up a square lending agency on the East Side?"

The two boys began to ask questions, and before the week was out they learned that the Federal Credit Act of 1934 provided for the licensing of community loan banks. The fee for a charter was $25.

Sol and Nat went into action, canvassing the neighborhood and explaining what they had in mind. Soon nickels and dimes began to dribble in. Two weeks later when they counted up, they had not only the $25 but an extra $3.75.

The $25 was sent off to Washington, and in January 1937 the kids received an engraved document headed "Charter." It licensed the Henry Street Settlement Credit Union to lend money to the extent of its resources. Which were still $3.75.

The neighborhood loan sharks, of course, weren't worried about the new competitor. They continued charging interest rates up to 1,040 per cent a year and enforcing payment, when necessary, with brass knuckles and baseball bats.

At an emergency meeting, presided over by Nat Rafferman, the teenage financeers discussed ways and means of raising the necessary capital to begin operations.

It was obvious that some electric gesture was needed to persuade the better-off East Siders to invest in the new loan agency. The problem was how to generate sufficient electricity with a bank roll of practically nothing.

"Let's put on a play showing up these loan sharks," Rafferman finally suggested. "We can do it easy for $3.75."

From all accounts, the homemade drama presented for free in the Settlement House Auditorium a month later would not have interested the Theater Guild.

It did, however, interest the hundreds of East Siders who came to see it. The hero was a little man who had borrowed a little money, and the villain (boo!) was a big loan shark who conducted his business with the aid of a big baseball bat.

The moral of the play was pure cliche — "Help yourself by helping your neighbor." But it made magnificent sense to a group of immigrants who were principally interested in survival.

As a result of this one-night stand, quarters and half-dollars began to flow into the Credit Union's treasury. The first loans were never more than $2, but they were promptly made and as promptly repaid. The snowball began to roll.

How far it has rolled in the past 17 years is told in an article Harrison Negley recently wrote for "The Freeman."

According to Negley, the Henry Street Settlement Credit Union has loaned over $1,637,000 at minimum interest rates, and has seldom been beaten out of a dollar.

In many cases, grateful borrowers who straightened themselves out have become investors. Currently, the Union's capital assets are $388,000.

Check my arithmetic if you want to, but the way I figure it, when you put on a show for $3.75 and wind up with $388,000 in the till, the profit is $103,466.67 for every dollar invested.

Even Rodgers and Hammerstein have never scored that big a success.

Are loan sharks still operating in New York? I'm afraid they are. But not around Henry Street.

Whale Traffic Jam Results in Collision

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The skipper of a fishing boat yesterday told of hooking a whale on a fish line and witnessing a collision between two other whales, all within the space of 30 minutes.

Harold W. Hanson, skipper of the Lucky II, said he was fishing at the edge of kelp beds offshore when one of his hooks caught either a part of the lobe of the whale's tail or became entangled in the mass of barnacles that encrusted the mammal's side.

Hanson said the whale surfaced, spouted and then headed south at full speed, snapping the fishing gear.

The fisherman said he then sighted two other whales bearing down on his small boat, but they suddenly swerved and crashed into each other head on.

He then got out of the area as fast as the Lucky II could go.

How the Snacks Add Up! You Eat Light, Stay Heavy

By ELMER WHEELER

Chapter 9

Every day at first I went down half a pound, sometimes a pound. It got to be a game — one of the most satisfying games I ever played.

It was a scientific approach that was doing it. I repeat, before dieting always see your doctor first. No more homemade diets for me.

I trimmed the fat. I sidestepped the starch. I short-circuited the sugar.

I ate wisely. I ate easily. I ate slowly!

Here is an example of my homemade, self-prescribed diet, the reason fatties so often say, "I eat like a bird, yet look at me!"

This is a fine example of how to eat light and stay heavy by concentrating on high-calorie foods that put on weight as they keep you hungry.

This won't reduce you:

Breakfast:
Double orange juice, calories	200
3 slices of any bread, butter	300
Coffee, cream and sugar	100
Dab of jelly	25
	625
Luncheon:
Cream of tomato soup	300
Sandwich, most 2-deckers	300
Glass of milk	150
Hunk of most pies	300
Ice cream, chocolate	250
	1,310
Afternoon snack:
Milk shake	600
Twenty peanuts	200
Hunk of candy	300
Bottle of beer	200
Soft drink	65
Coffee, sugar, cream	100
	1,465
Supper (Dinner to Some)
Cream soup	300
Meat (2 rounds)	300
And bread, buttered (5 slices)	500
Two more for gravy licking	200
Double order vegetables	100
Another spoonful waiting for dessert	50
Salad — roquefort dressing (yum)	300
2 cups of coffee with cream, sugar	200
Apple pie (my size slice)	300
With hunk of cheese	100
Some Brazil nuts (50 calories each)	300
Two after-dinner cordials	150
Cigars or cigarettes or pipes	000
	3,100

Depending on how often he sneaks off for those midmorning and midafternoon snacks that don't count if nobody is watching.

Reducing Chart Free by Writing to Press

This chart, 3½ by 6 inches, may be obtained free in the lobby of the Pontiac Press, of by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope. Address the Fat Boy's Diet Editor, Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Fatty—operating under his homegrown system—has totaled somewhere between 4,900 and 6,400 calories.

Forty-nine hundred calories! Look at the Fat Boy's Slide Rule! That's enough for "Athletes and Hyperthyroid Geniuses!"

Sixty-four hundred calories! Why, that's enough for a family!

On his so-called "diet" he has consumed twice or three times what a normal man should have! No wonder he tells his doc, like I did, "I eat like a bird, and look at me!"

A buzzard!

Spring Term Begins in City

Senior Play, Cards and Schedules Set High School Pace

A brand new semester beckoned invitingly to eager Pontiac High tribesmen as class schedules were issued to all students Monday.

Clubs have resumed activities and all students are making a good start by buckling down to the business at hand.

At St. Michael High the senior play "No More Homework" stole the spotlight as comic antics prevailed in the school.

St. Frederick halls were quiet during the week as students concentrated on the Retreat planned for better spiritual and mental understanding.

ST. MICHAEL

While St. Mike seniors readied their dramatic offering "No More Homework," underclassmen busied themselves with a variety of events this week.

MARGARET

Meanwhile general science classes have become especially interesting to freshmen as they begin to study electricity.

School reporter Margaret Martin, writes that dance plans also filled the schedules of Michaelites who will gather for the CYO dance tonight at the St. Michael Hall. The 8 to 11 p. m. affair will feature dancing lessons.

PONTIAC HIGH

The most exciting news this week, reports scribe Vicky Micu, is the addition of the long awaited journalism class to the PHS curriculum.

VICKY

The class which will be offered in the place of English IV or as an elective will be taught by Robert Beauchamp, who also serves as advisor on the Tomahawk.

Taking scrub brushes and water buckets in hand, 10 ambitious girls undertook the task of cleaning the girls' gym for the coming activities. Refreshments followed this strenuous exercise.

Members of the Future Nurses Club were invited to an open house Feb. 13 at the Mercy School of Nursing in Detroit.

At a meeting of the Retailing Club, Thursday, plans were discussed for coming group events. R. B. Eastridge, manager of the J. C. Penney Co. here was guest speaker.

Eyes were attracted to the stunning display of jewelry in the showcases in the lower front hall. The creations were made by students at Pontiac High.

ST. FREDERICK

Thoughts of the future were prevalent, Monday when Merrill Walls, Michigan Employment Commission representative spoke to prospective 1954 graduates at St. Frederick.

MARY

Mary Drake reports that Walls' topic concerned the importance of aptitude tests in job selection. Interviewers will be on hand Tuesday to offer these tests to the students.

A lighter note crept into the life of each junior as plans for the class dance Feb. 19, were completed.

The girls basketball team chalked up two more victories to their already glowing record by downing Pontiac High and St. James High School teams.

PHS Projectionist Club Watches Demonstration

A meeting of the Pontiac High Projectionist Club was held Tuesday to demonstrate a carbon arc projector in the auditorium.

The demonstration was presented by Jim Schellenberg, Mal Walker, Gary Montgomery and Phil Twitchell.

Fims were also shown at the meeting and general business was discussed at that time. Miss Marion Lehner is faculty co-ordinator.

Hal Boyle Says:

Show Love for Husbands With Little Considerations

NEW YORK (AP)—Many thoughtful wives today are asking themselves, "What can I do to show my husband how much I appreciate him?"

I heard of one wife recently who surprised her husband on his birthday by handing him the paid-up deed to a lot in an ultra exclusive cemetery—a lot with a fine view and plenty of sunshine, all for his very own self.

"Honey," she told him, "after you're gone, I want you to know you'll be in good company. There isn't a better location in the whole cemetery, and I want to tell you from my heart that I feel there isn't a man in town who has earned it more than you."

* * *

Well, this particular husband was so touched by this evidence of his wife's solicitude he broke down and cried, and later went out and bought her a fur coat.

However, all husbands are not as high class as this man.

What can a conscientious wife do to win and hold the love of the average husband, so that he will remain her boy friend instead of becoming her sparring partner?

Too often women think that the way to do this is to spend money on clothing and beauty treatments to make themselves more attractive.

But really isn't such a wife merely coddling herself? Why not coddle him for a change?

Here are a few ways any strapping wife can give that man in her life a thrill, and let him know he got more than a barnacle when he married her:

1. Serve him breakfast in bed at least twice a week.

2. Don't keep asking him if he really loves you. On the other hand don't keep telling him how mad you are about him. Just tell him whenever he looks blue, "Boy, oh boy, am I glad you took me out from behind that counter in Klotz's five-and-ten-cent store, and gave me a nice house to loaf in. It takes a guy with a real heart to give a dizzy blonde like me a break like that, and don't think I don't know it." This kind of love talk makes sense to a man.

* * *

3. Surprise him with little special wifely attentions, such as, for example, cutting the lawn yourself, polishing the family car, or pumping up a flat tire. The gentle light of joy that lights up in your husband's weary face will more than repay you.

4. Take in washing. This will enable you to earn the extra pin money your husband needs to indulge in weekly poker games with the boys at his office. There are probably dozens of people right in your own neighborhood who will be glad to give their business to you instead of a professional laundry. One wife earned so much money this way her grateful husband bought her a second machine on their wedding anniversary, and now she can handle twice as much work. Their happy home life is the talk of the whole community.

* * *

5. Why tag along with the kids every time your husband has a vacation? Why not let him take at least one vacation by himself each year? And why not let him make it a really carefree one? A wife by selling magazine subscriptions in her spare time can earn enough in a few months to send her husband on a nice restful voyage to Bermuda. Think of all the interesting things he will have to tell you when he returns. Make him promise to bring you back a sea shell.

Any wife with a little ingenuity can probably think up dozens of other stimulating ways to pep up her marriage and win her husband's heart anew.

The big idea is to make the guy feel more important, and that you are in there pitching every moment to keep your romance alive.

Remember, the more things a wife does for her husband, the more he feels he loves her for herself alone.

3 Pupils Drown After Ice Breaks

BRIDGETON, R. I. (AP) — Three first-grade pupils drowned yesterday when they stopped to play on the thin ice of a mill pond on their way home from school.

News of the tragedy was brought to the victims' families by Linda Frenette, 6, who also fell through the ice but managed to scramble to safety.

The bodies of William Cooney and Charles Hopp, both 6, were found floating face down in the water. The body of James Scanlan, 7, was recovered by grapplers about four hours later.

Bob Considine Says:

Boston Tea Party in 1773 Launched U.S. on Coffee

NEW YORK (INS)—If this country is to declare war (I hate war) on Brazil, over the price of coffee, we who will be forced by the draft board to bear muskets through the Matto Grosso had better learn more about the stuff.

Man named William Black, whose quick-turnover restaurants in New York serve 100,000 cups of coffee each day, accused the Brazilian government of holding back, in Brazilian seaports, 30,000,000 more pounds of coffee now than during a similar period last year when there was no so-called shortage.

The Brazilian foreign office has taken note of the dispute and hurled counter-charges against U.S. middlemen.

All the housewife knows is that she's paying a buck a pound now for what cost her 54 cents not long ago.

So, to the topic of coffee—with my tongue in the cheek of the Columbia University encyclopedia:

It it hadn't been for Pope Clement VIII (a Florentine named Ippolito Albobrandini, who lived between 1536 and 1605 a lot of people in the U.S. could not drink coffee without committing a sin.

When the brew was first brought to Rome many churchmen denounced its drinking on the ground that it was the drink of the infidel. Clement either liked it himself or was touched by the public affection for it, so he declared it was a fitting drink for Christians.

Coffee seems to have come out of Ethiopia, and its early history is largely legend. Before the year 1000 it was used mainly as a food.

African nomads chewed the fruit of the coffee plant, wrapped in fat. Wine, not coffee, then became the product of the coffee beans enclosed in the deep red fruits that once were fragrant white coffee flowers.

Arabs began roasting and grinding coffee beans in the 1400s. Word of their drink, and the makings, were carried by ship and caravan into Egypt and Turkey.

Heads soon were rolling. Mohammedan leaders declared coffee a stimulant — shrewdly enough — and therefore displeasing to Allah. But Allah, in time, was reported to be pleased, and coffee has become the universal drink from Casablanca to the Himalayas.

Nobody much cared for coffee in North America, after its introduction here in 1668. Then came the cold night of Dec. 16, 1773.

Three ships filled with tea (prime drink of the colonies) swung at their Boston docks. The tea had not been unloaded because of almost violent protests against the tax which parliament had imposed upon its drinking.

A few startling figures appeared out of the murk. They were dressed as Indians, faces painted garishly. Hardly their closest friends would have recognized such "red Indians" as Paul Revere and Samuel Adams. They quickly boarded the ships and threw the tea into the harbor.

Parliament was furious. It passed five laws (the Intolerable Acts) limiting freedom in the colony. Four were the direct result of the tea episode at Boston.

Parliament closed the port of Boston tuntil the East India Company was paid for the lost tea. Another act sent troops into Massachusetts without provincial approval.

There were two results from the tea party. People began drinking coffee for spite. And the First Continental Congress was formed. Our nation, in effect, was launched with a cup of coffee.

Much of the literature of the world from the 1600s to more or less recent times was born of conversations held and dreams entertained in coffeehouses.

Johnson, Addison, Steele, Sheridan, Dryden, Swift, Goldsmith, Hogarth and others were patrons at Will's Coffee House in London.

Will's New York counterpart today is Toots Shor's, which shows the kind of progress literature is making.

Away, to the barricades, men. And I hope there's enough of the stuff to pass around. How many of your friends and relatives can you bear, before they've had their morning cup of java?

Sees Little Rise in Delinquency

Pontiac Officer Tells Mothers of Good Effect of Boys' Club

Pontiac Police Lt. Walter Krause told a mother's group at Pontiac Boys' Club Wednesday night that juvenile delinquency "has not varied astonishingly as many believe in recent years."

Krause, at one time the city's juvenile officer for 21 years, said the difference in the number of juvenile court cases for years 1930 and 1953 is negligible.

Last year there were 117 juvenile hearing as compared with 112 in 1930.

He pointed out that juvenile delinquency in Pontiac actually has decreased in per capita terms.

"Statistical charts show that juvenile delinquency varies with leniency by parents and severity of punishment," he told the group.

He explained that "youth is likely to become brazen with inordinate leniency. The home is the first place for the child's proper direction. Parents must penetrate the vivid imagination of the boy and direct him accordingly."

Krause told the group that Pontiac Boys' Club has helped to decrease the number of juvenile delinquency to an "unnoticeable factor."

He recalled that juvenile delinquency was mostly concentrated on the east side of Pontiac before the establishment of Boys' Club. "Less cases of juvenile delinquency now are reported from this area than any other in the city," he explained.

Police Find Cash in Shoe of 60-Year-Old Shoplifter

CHICAGO (AP)—Detectives found $3,083 in currency stuffed in the pockets and one shoe of a 60-year-old man they arrested last night for stealing two articles valued at $1.98 from a loop store.

"Don't let my wife know about this money," Orval Schlatter, of nearby Whiting, Ind., told Sgt. James Fitzgerald. "I want to buy an automobile."

Fitzgerald said Schlatter could give no reason for stealing a box of candy and a bottle of mineral oil from the store. He was held without charge.

Votes $500,000 for Missions

State Episcopal Diocese OKs Funds at Detroit Convention

DETROIT (AP)—An outlay of more than a half a million dollars for missionary work mostly in this country was voted this week at the 121st annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese of Michigan. The budget includes $294,168 for the Missionary Extension Program, with $154,000 for use in building the church in Michigan.

An additional $223,000 was approved for the National Builders for Christ program. Of this, $50,000 is to help construction of a new All Saints Episcopal Church on the Michigan State College campus at East Lansing.

Another $25,000 of this fund will be spent for real estate needed for expansion of the church in Michigan. The diocesan budget also includes an additional $68,155.

Delegates attending the convention at the Masonic Temple learned that 3,000 new church members had been confirmed during the last year. Only three other dioceses in the nation exceeded this record.

The convention voted for a special election May 12 to replace Suffragan Bishop Russell S. Hubbard, who is leaving to become Bishop of the Missionary Diocese of Spokane, Wash. Bishop Hubbard has been an assistant to the Rt. Rev. Richard S. Emrich, bishop of Michigan.

Delegates decided to name a second suffragan bishop at the 1955 diocesan convention.

There are 147 Episcopalian parishes in the diocese. The number of clergy has risen from 121 to 171 in the last few years.

Brando Facing Suit for Delaying Movie

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marlon Brando's studio has announced it will sue the actor for failure to report for work on a picture. The amount of damages to be sought will depend upon the sum the studio has lost through delayed production, said a 20th Century-Fox statement.

Brando, the studio said yesterday expressed no objection to the script or his role in "The Egyptian," but disappeared just before filming was to start.

Last Tuesday the studio received a wire from Brando's physician in New York, Dr. Bela Mittelmann, saying he was giving Brando psychiatric treatment. The actor would be unable to work for 10 weeks, the doctor's message said.

Hold Off on Test of Bricker Bill

Key Senate Votes on Hot Issues to Come After Lincoln Day

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California said today there will be no key test votes on the Bricker amendment dealing with treaty powers until Feb. 16 or later.

The hotly controversial issue is being put aside to simmer all next week while the Senate turns to other matters.

Knowland told newsmen he thought the delay would be healthy in giving the country a chance to be heard from further.

* * *

Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio), author of the original proposal fought determinedly by President Eisenhower, appealed to his followers to make known their backing for a modified plan he unveiled yesterday.

This revised proposal makes big concessions but still is far more sweeping than anything the administration has indicated it would accept.

* * *

Knowland had been trying to dispose of the Bricker proposal this week. It has been before the Senate for two weeks of debate while repeated efforts were made—without success—to compromise.

Knowland said in advance of today's session it might be possible to adopt two minor amendments to the Bricker proposal at this afternoon's session. But he added there will be no important rollcall tests until week after next.

The week's delay is forced by the plans of many GOP senators to leave Washington for Lincoln Day speeches next week.

* * *

As the Senate prepared to put the issue aside for 10 days, there appeared to be little change in the four-way split that makes it difficult for any constitutional change in treaty powers to get the necessary two-thirds vote.

One key senator predicted privately that the substitute for Bricker's plan advanced by Sen. George would attract the most support.

The Georgia senator's substitute says (1) that treaties and international agreements are void if they conflict with the Constitution and (2) that presidential agreements not subject to the Senate ratification shall not override domestic law unless Congress so votes.

* * *

However, the first senate votes are scheduled on three amendments offered as a substitute for Bricker's amendment by four top administration leaders in the Senate.

Knowland, one of the four, says he believes they are acceptable to Eisenhower although the President has not publicly endorsed them.

One of this group's amendments is the same as George's first clause. Another simply would require a rollcall vote in the Senate on all treaties.

These are relatively noncontroversial. But the third appeared to face considerable opposition.

It would amend Article 6 of the Constitution to state that treaties shall be the supreme law of the land only if "made in pursuance of this Constitution."

Tallulah Hopes to Get Steady Job This Year

By BOB THOMAS

To the layman, it would seem that the magnolia blossom from Alabama is busy enough. In the past year, she has:

1. Made her night club debut at the Sands in Las Vegas, where she returns next Tuesday;
2. Appeared on everything in TV from Ed Murrow's Person to Person to Hedda Gabler to the Jimmy Durante show, which she does Sunday;
3. Authored an autobiography that led nonfiction books for five months and sold out the first two 35-cents editions of 250,000 apiece;
4. Acted in a movie, "Main Street to Broadway."

* * *

But all this is not enough for Tallou. She told me her troubles in her hotel suite, where she was battling "the actor's nightmare," laryngitis. She explained that she wasn't supposed to smoke and proceeded to light a cigarette every two minutes.

"I'm not supposed to talk either," she added. "But you know how impossible that would be for me, baby." She then poured forth thousands of words in an endless stream. I noted that she seemed to have given up "dahling." Everyone was "baby."

"I can't go on doing work in bits and pieces, really I can't, baby," she remarked. "I've got to have some steady line of work to keep the wolf from that door. Years ago, I bought a perfectly tremendous place in the country with a huge swimming pool and everything. I thought I would retire there and enjoy the country life.

"But I have to keep working my fool head off to afford the place! People in our business should never acquire big possessions. You become a slave to them.

* * *

"Two courses are open to me: I could go back to the stage or I could do a regular TV show. I still read all the play scripts that are submitted to my agents. So far I haven't found anything suitable. It's pretty hard to find a star vehicle. I don't mean the play has to be tailored for me. Lord knows, in my two greatest hits in this country, aside from 'Private Lives,' which was a revival—I'm talking about 'The Little Foxes' and 'Skin of Our Teeth'—my part wasn't big at all.

"I wouldn't mind going back to the theatah, except for one thing: the road. I suppose if the show were a hit, I would have to travel all over the country with it. The thought of it bores me. It's all right for some stage-struck child, but I've been through all that.

"Besides, you have such a limited audience in the theatah. In eight performances a week, you play to perhaps 8,000 people. You can play to more people in one night on TV than you could in a lifetime in the theatah. Being in radio and TV has brought me to millions of people who never knew I existed. The sale of my book proves how important the mass audience can be.

"The other thing I could do is a regular TV show, and one is being cooked up for me. No, I can't tell you all about it, baby, but it will be a situation comedy show. Something in which I would have an entertainer and perhaps a figure in the news as guest stars. I would be able to play myself, not a crude caricature.

"I wasn't happy with the revues I did last season. It was like being shot out of a cannon. When you're playing with all those guest stars, you have to do things that aren't suited to you. I felt that the only thing I really did well was the closing monologue. In the rest of the show, I was like a fish out of water."

I might add that Miss Bankhead was sipping tea. She explained that she was still recovering from the celebration of her 51st birthday.

Strip-Teaser's 50-50 Contract Voided by Court

BALTIMORE (AP) — A judge has voided the contract in which he said Pat (Amber) Halliday, 28-year-old strip-tease dancer, "sold herself down the river."

The contract was with Jack A. White of Hyattsville, Md., who had been Miss Halliday's manager about four years. It called for a 50-50 split, but the dancer said she frequently got very little of her weekly pay, which sometimes reached $500. "Only enough for the bare necessities," she told Judge Herman A. Moser.

The stripper said she was fed up with taking her clothes off in front of people and continued to work because she owes the government income taxes.

Rochester Man Waives Examination for Larceny

Examination on "larceny from a dwelling" charges was waived yesterday by a Rochester man who was bound over for appearance in Oakland County Circuit Court Feb. 8 by Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Phillip Kaminski, 43, of 133 Terry, accused of taking an $800 diamond ring from a Rochester home Jan. 31, was unable to furnish $500 bond. He is being held in Oakland County Jail.

Rochester Police Chief Sam Howlett said Kaminski admitted taking the ring from the home of Mrs. Nelda Carmichael of 337 Drace. The pawned ring was returned by Howlett from a Highland Park store.

BERKLEY—Two firemen were cut by falling glass as they fought a $3,000 fire which shot through the Chester Wilson home at 3162 Buckingham, yesterday afternoon.

According to Damery, the blaze started in the basement when an oil-burning, hot-water heater overflowed its fuel and caught fire. Flames leaped up through the first floor and into the attic.

Firemen were on the scene for three hours, Damery said.

Building Booms in Waterford

Permits Total $188,500 for January Include 14 New Homes, Bank

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The boom in Waterford Township is reflected in the building permit figures for January just released by Supervisor Lloyd Anderson.

Led by a permit for the $56,000 Pontiac State Bank branch, the list totals a whopping $188,500. It compares with $79,400 for the same 31-day period a year ago.

Anderson's figures show permits issued for 14 new homes, costing a total of $87,500.

Nine addition and remodeling licenses added $33,600, and two commercial buildings — including the new bank — swelled the total another $63,000.

Metamora Steer Highest Scorer at Farmers Week

EAST LANSING (AP) — The judging and auction of steers yesterday marked the high point of the 39th annual Farmers Week at Michigan State college, with the top award winning steer shown by Lee Walker & Son of Metamora.

The steer was the junior champion and reserve grand champion of the show and won the Michigan Livestock Improvement Association award for the best rate of gain.

Grand champion of the show was a 1,655-pound Angus exhibited by the Grand River Stock Farm of Webberville.

The grand champion was second best in the show because the Shorthorn had the better rate of gain.

The grand champion went for the best price of the auction, however. He was sold to Roseville Packing Co. of Dewitt for 66 cents a pound.

Grand champion for rate of gain, shown by Robert McLachlan of Evart was a 1,100 pound Shorthorn that sold for 27½ cents a pound. The animal gained 2.7 pounds a day during the showing period.

Farmers Week entered its final stages today with officials expecting a new attendance record for the week-long exposition.

Main event today was to be the crowning of an onion king, 26-year-old Duane Baldwin of Stockbridge, who produced 1,361 bushels per acre from a test plot of yellow globe onions.

Break in Europe's Winter Finds More Than 300 Dead

LONDON (AP)—A bright wintry sun brought a break in Europe's coldest spell in seven years today as relief missions rushed supplies to snowbound highland hamlets and islands still isolated.

Helicopters were used to reach 70 hamlets in Italy's Appenine Mountains east of Rome, where some communities have been cut off for a week. Outbreaks of minor epidemics of tonsilitis were reported in two villages—Capracotta and Baselice.

Hardy inhabitants of the lone island of Foula in the Shetlands north of Scotland welcomed their first mailboat in 31 days. The 70 islanders — accustomed to long periods of isolation in the winter—had laid in a good stock of foodstuffs beforehand, however, and suffered no great hardship.

The death toll over Europe is estimated at more than 300.

Ironically, the thaw brought threats of more hardships. The fearsome landslide of Missano de Zocca in the Italian Appennines, halted by frozen ground—began moving again during the night and swallowed up two more buildings.

A fresh snowstorm hit the Isle of Guernsey during the day. Cargo steamers were stormbound in St. Peter Port harbor. Greece reported zero temperatures in many sections.

Berlin had 10.4 degree weather but it was a fine, sunny day. The mercury reading dipped to 14 degrees in Austria and skies were clearing. Brussels temperatures were around 15 degrees above zero. In Amsterdam it was about the same.

The temperature in Paris was 25 degrees above and the sky was clear. Four inches of snow fell in Toulouse in southwestern France. Newspapers reported 10 persons died from cold yesterday.

Vengeful Indians Aim to Scalp Chiefs

Aggies Near Berth in NCAA

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—The Oklahoma A&M Cowboys are making certain they won't be left on the sidelines when the Western Regional NCAA Basketball Tournament opens on their home court in Stillwater next month.

• • •

They took their biggest stride so far towards the Missouri Valley Conference title—and its automatic NCAA invitation—last night by clipping Wichita 59-51 in a fierce struggle. The victory was the Aggies' fourth without a loss in league play and put the second black mark against the Wheatshockers' conference hopes. Wichita has lost only three times in 22 starts, but two of the defeats have come against Missouri Valley foes.

• • •

Wichita made it tough all the way for the Oklahomans and led twice in the final three minutes. Layups by Clayton Carter and V. R. Darnhouse helped decide the issue in favor of the Aggies.

Cleo Littleton of the losers was high man with 24 points against 21 by Bob Mattick of A&M.

The Aggies, ranked fifth in the latest Associated Press poll, now have an 18-1 record.

• • •

Kentucky and Western Kentucky, along with Duquesne the nation's only remaining unbeaten teams, both extended their streaks last night. Kentucky, No. 1 in the country, trampled Georgia 106-55 for its 120th consecutive home victory with Frank Ramsey scoring 29 points. Kentucky has won 15 games this season.

• • •

Furman's Frank Selvy increased his own all-time major college basketball scoring record to 1,946 points with a 42-point display in New York as his team whipped Manhattan 92-80. Selvy broke the all-time Madison Square Garden record for foul shooting as he sank 16 of 19 and his total was high for the current season.

In other action, Oklahoma City returned home after a disastrous road trip and showed the home folks a winning style, 69-54 against Creighton. West Virginia whipped New York University 92-80, Denver upset Utah State 65-60 and Dayton defeated Memphis 66-59.

REBOUNDERS—Some of the effective rebounding that brought St. Michael a 38-19 triumph over Royal Oak St. Mary here last night is demonstrated above. Shamrock forward Russ Shindorf outleaps St. Mary's Joe Hearn (hidden behind Shindorf) while Royal Oak's Al Polanski (19) and Mikes' Joe Wilhelm (23, right) watch. Victory evened St. Michael's record at 5-5.

Wings Stretch Lead to Widest Margin of Year

Shut Out Bruins 5-0 for 9-Point Edge as Road Trip Nears

DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Red Wings have stretched their league lead to nine points—their largest margin of the season—and it couldn't have come at a more opportune time.

Wings likely will need every point of that lead as they embark on their most strenuous road trip of the season. Seven of their next eight games will be played away from the confines of friendly Olympia Stadium.

Wings widened their lead last night by blanking Boston Bruins, 5-0, as Ted Lindsay scored twice and goalie Terry Sawchuk posted his 9th shutout of the season.

These 4 teams will meet again in a "doubleheader" Saturday and Sunday in Boston Garden. Wings will visit New York and Chicago, before returning to Detroit Monday, Feb. 15, to meet Chicago.

After that they'll go on the road again, playing in Toronto and Montreal (twice). By then, Wings should know what their chances are of winning their 6th straight National Hockey League title.

As the Wings were whipping the Bruins last night, Toronto downed Montreal 4-3 to move past Canadiens into the 2nd place. Toronto built up a 3-0 lead and only a goal by Maurice Richard kept the night from being a complete disappointment for the Montreal fans.

In the other league game, red-hot New York Rangers nudged the Chicago Black Hawks, 3-2, to climb within one point of the 4th place Boston Bruins.

A crowd of 10,502 saw Lindsay shoot Detroit into a 2-0 lead in the first 22 minutes of play, connecting with his 17th and 18th goals of the season. Glen Skov, Red Kelly and Johnny Wilson were other Detroit marksmen.

Flint Central's vengence-seeking Indians come here tonight to meet Pontiac High in a Saginaw Valley Conference game.

Coach Joe Dowdy's Tribe will be trying to avenge an earlier 56-54 loss to the Chiefs. Central overcame a 17-point deficit late in that game, only to lose it in the final minute when Walt Poe and Bob Johnston converted three straight free throws.

Indians have dropped only two games since that early-season setback, while lacing Arthur Hill, Midland, Saginaw and Lansing by a combined total of 70 points. Central's overall season mark is 5-3.

Sparkplugs in the Flint quintet's recent drive have been forward Larry Catlin and center Joe Quarles. The two 6-foot-plus performers have together contributed more than 26 points per game.

Pontiac lost its top pointmaker when guard Dick Ayling graduated at the end of last semester. Ayling had collected 111 points in eight games. Forward John James, who has 96 points in nine starts, is 2nd high man, while Walt Poe is 3rd with 69.

Teaming with James and Poe on Art Van Ryzin's starting lineup will be forward Dave Ballard, center Dick Blacklaw and guard Bob Johnston.

The Pontiac-Central game is the only Saginaw Valley Conference contest on tap tonight. Bay City Central goes to Midland, Ann Arbor is at Flint Northern in non-league tilts.

Young Finally Gets Official State Praise

LANSING (AP)—Ralph H. Young, retiring athletic director at Michigan State college, today had the commendations of the house of representatives after all for his years of service "to the youth of this state."

The house previously had killed the senate-originated resolution to serve notice it was sick of the recent flood of congratulatory resolutions.

But off-stage work had been done, apparently, Rep. George A. Gillespie (R-Gaines) moved that the action be reconsidered.

Ted Lennox, member of the Michigan State varsity wrestling team, is totally blind.

NL Lists Record Total of Night Tilts in '54 Season

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP) — National League released its 1954 baseball schedule today, which listed a record number of 239 night games and unprecedented single games for two clubs on the Decoration and Labor Day holidays.

Every team in the league except the Cubs, who do not have lights, increased its archlight output. Last year the circuit scheduled 220 night games, which tied the all-time mark set in 1951.

Cardinals again have more floodlight contests scheduled than any other club, 53. That's two more than last year.

Philadelphia has slated 48 moonlight tilts, six more than in '53. Milwauke has 33, one more than last season; Cincinnati, 32, four more; Pittsburgh 28, one more; Brooklyn 26, two more and New York 19, three more.

Season starts on April 13 and for the 1st time in 61 years the Pirates will open at home. Philadelphia will furnish the opposition. In other opening day pairings, Brooklyn is at New York, Chicago at St. Louis and Milwaukee at Cincinnati.

In what is believed to be the 1st time single games have been scheduled on Decoration Day (May 31) and Labor Day (Sept. 6), Brooklyn is at Philadelphia for one game on the former date and St. Louis at Cincinnati for a single on the latter.

Kentucky's Paul Bryant Accepts Texas Grid Bid

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (INS)—Texas A. & M. authorities today awaited the formality of Paul (Bear) Bryant's release from his Kentucky contract before completing plans to welcome Bryant as the Aggies' new football coach and athletic director.

BRYANT

Bryant wired acceptance yesterday from Lexington, Ky., of a six-year contract at $15,000 per year to guide the Aggies' football fortunes.

He replaces Ray George who resigned a month ago as football coach. Bryant also succeeds Barlow Irvin as athletic director.

Bryant, whose Kentucky contract had nine more years to run, submitted his resignation to Kentucky officials. Dr. H. L. Donovan, Kentucky president, is expected to act favorably on the resignation today at a meeting with the athletic board.

HEADS SOUTH—Pontiac's Jim Engleman (above) left the city by train today, en route to the New York Yankees Rookie School in St. Petersburg, Fla. Engleman signed a conditional contract with the Kansas City Blues (American Association Class AAA) last fall after a year with Binghamton, N.Y. He will report to the Blues training camp at Lake Wales, Fla., around the middle of March.

3-Million Tag Put on PCL's Angels

CHICAGO (INS) — Philip K. Wrigley placed a three million dollar price tag today on his Los Angeles Pacific Coast League baseball club.

The owner of the Chicago Cubs said:

"There's a rule in baseball that you can own only one major league club. I'll have to sell eventually because Los Angeles will be big league within a few years."

Schwartz Paces Shamrock Five to SCL Victory

Fine Defensive Game Brings 38-19 Triumph for St. Michael

Led by the rebounding of center Bud Schwartz, St. Michael's Shamrocks turned in a fine defensive game here Thursday night to dump Royal Oak St. Mary, 38-19, in a Suburban Catholic League contest.

Schwartz, a husky 6-footer, controlled both boards as the Mikes limited St. Mary to five field goals.

It was the 5th victory in 10 starts for the Pontiac parochials, and the 4th time they've held their opposition to less than 30 points.

Russ Shindorf and Bob Anderson whipped in a pair of fast baskets to give St. Michael an early 4-0 lead, and the Shamrocks never relinquished the advantage. Coach Bob Mineweaser's crew led 11-4 at the 1st quarter and 17-6 at halftime.

Schwartz led scoring with 14 points, while Shindorf added 11.

Two SCL tilts are scheduled tonight. St. Frederick, winner in four of its last five starts, goes to Orchard Lake to take on the once-beaten Eaglets, while undefeated St. Benedict is at St. Rita.

Middleweights in Bout on TV

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—The fight in the Garden tonight suggests that old bromide about "the kid with a future" and "the vet at the crossroads."

• • •

The "kid" in this cast is 23-year-old Joey Giardello of Philadelphia, the No. 2 challenger to middleweight champion Bobo Olson. The "vet" is 29-year-old Walter Cartier of New York, no longer listed among the top 10 of his division.

Both radio (ABC) and television (NBC) will carry the 10-round match nationally at 10 p.m., EST. Giardello is a 2 to 1 favorite.

• • •

Giardello showed unexpected punching power in his last start, Jan. 8, when he stopped Garth Panter, who never had been stopped before.

Pontiac Skating Club Schedules Sunday Show

Pontiac Skating Club will give an exhibition Sunday at 2 p.m. at Holiday Park on Cass-Elizabeth Lake road.

Pontiac's newly-crowned Ice court will be present in the ice-Queen, Jackie Dubay, and her tunes they will wear for their exhibition at the Grayling Winter Sports Carnival later this month.

Public is invited to Sunday night's show free of charge.

Loss to Marshall Puts Broncs Fourth

By The Associated Press

Western Michigan's basketball squad dropped a 70-61 decision to Marshall (W. Va.) Thursday night — and fell from 2nd to 4th place in the Mid-America Conference standings.

Western Michigan's league record now is 3-2 and the Broncs apparently have lost all chance of catching Toledo, which leads the loop with a 6-1 record.

Western Michigan's next game is Saturday night against Ohio University.

'Rasslin' Was My Racket'

Hickman Claims Phony Wrestling Matches Had Their Start Long Ago

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—There has been a suspicion for quite some time that the modern wrestling game was not entirely on the level.

• • •

There have been dark rumors that the lardy brotherhood works from a script, and that the eventual winner of any given "match" is known before the participants begin pulling knives on one another.

There is no great shock, therefore, in coming suddenly upon Herman Hickman's essay in the current Saturday Evening Post entitled "Rasslin' Was My Racket," providing the reader has not lived an unusually secluded life.

In breaking this most sacred of all sporting trusts, Herman doesn't cut any corners. He names names, many of them nationally famous in their way, and he tells how the acts are arranged. It is doubtful that the wrestling fraternity will think Herman is very funny, but he evidently is prepared to accept his burden, being built for it.

• • •

Not until he gets well down into his narrative does the former Yale coach throw one which this corner finds a trifle hot to handle. This is when he says that, contrary to widespread belief, there is nothing anywhere near new about the practice of putting on a vaudeville skit for the customers. Herman asserts it was going on in granddad's day, if not before.

• • •

Now, if there is anything we have accepted as gospel it is the legend that up to about a generation ago wrestling was so doggone honest that a real fan was in danger of yawning himself to death. Every match in the good old days when such giants as Gotch and Hackenschmidt and Stetcher and Lewis roamed the land was a genuine "shooting match" that might not finish before dawn.

That's what we've always been told. Hickman says it simply isn't so. How he knows he doesn't say, for there was a lot of wrestling before his gladitorial debut in 1932, but Herman sounds mighty sure of himself. He says that no matter how long ago you experienced your first wrestling thrill, the odds are that you were being kidded

Barbers hold a slim one-point edge over the Drug team, but there is a drop of 16 points between Furtney's and 3rd place Typhoon Steel. Rest of the league is separated by only nine points.

Dissatisfied Konstanty Looms as Philly Holdout

NEW YORK (AP)—Jim Konstanty, relief pitcher who sparked the Philadelphia Phillies to a pennant in 1950, was one of the major league's most disgruntled performers today.

The 36-year-old bespectacled righthander already has tossed two contracts back to the Phillies and if his present mood continues, it could well be he will be listed as a holdout when the Phillies batterymen report to Clearwater, Fla., later this month.

Officials of the British C... is game commission estimate that 1,600 moose were killed by hunters during the 1953 season.

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Skiing, the fast growing Michigan sport, will get a boost Saturday as 92 boys and girls compete in the first Lower Michigan High School Ski Championship events at Sugar Loaf Mountain in Leelanau County.

The meeting, sponsored by the Michigan High School Athletic Association, will bring together teams from 10 Northern Michigan high schools and a number of individual contestants.

Problem of Obtaining Suitable Stadium Facilities Biggest Chore Facing Coast in Bid for Majors

By GRANTLAND RICE

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — The request has come from various parties that we give a true picture of the Los Angeles big-league war now in the process of breaking.

It is well known, as a starter, that a major league minus Los Angeles and San Francisco isn't a major league. Or if it is, the charge can be made that it is badly frayed and a bit morbid.

• • •

Here is the dope we got from one of the best insiders. "For Los Angeles to build a ball park of major-league capacity would require a bond issue which requires a two-thirds majority vote. Two attempts to get an auditorium by the same method have failed.

• • •

"One way to accomplish the obtaining of a suitable place for major-league baseball is the one Bill Veeck is working on (for Wrigley). It works this way:

"The Coliseum commission, under a state charter, can issue revenue-producing bonds for the purchase of and operation of an arena or plant 'for athletic exhibitions.'

"If P. K. Wrigley would sell Wrigley Field for a reasonable price to the Coliseum commission, it could then condemn surrounding property to enlarge the stadium to seat (instead of 20,000) 45,000. This would cost about $3,000,000. Wrigley, as a private owner, could only attempt to buy out the property owners and he has attempted this with a resultant sky-high raise in property price.

• • •

"Wrigley Field is the prototype of Wrigley at Chicago, which was enlarged by cutting the grandstand into three sections, moving it back and filling in the gaps. That gives more box-seat capacity.

• • •

"Wrigley does have control of the Coast League, and is close to Clarence Rowland, president of the league. He can have control of the San Francisco situation.

• • •

"San Francisco is in the same circumstance as Los Angeles, in having no suitable place in which to play major-league ball. A major-league park probably would be most successful in Oakland and that must be why Dressen cast his lot with Brick Laws."

Scoring Stars Lead Teams in Crucial Tilts

By JACK SAYLOR

Pressure will be on Oakland County's individual prep cage scoring leaders as they lead their teams in a number of important league games tonight.

Troy is hoping for another hot night from its southpaw ace, Mike DeKane, to carry the Colts past their number one rivals in the Oakland B race, Roseville. DeKane, who sports an average of 19.7 points per game, bagged 23 in Troy's 1st win over the Wildcats.

DeKane's mark is 2nd only to Rochester's Arlan Stone among county preps. Colts also must be primed to stop Roseville's dangerous Jim Berger.

Birmingham's Don Dorough carries the Maples' offensive hopes against unbeaten Ferndale in their crucial Eastern Michigan settle at Birmingham. Defensively, however, the Maples have a tough job.

Roy Burkhart's 'Dales have a well-balanced attack that features no individual. Tom Turner can be rough to handle, though, as witness his 21 points which brought Ferndale through against Royal Oak.

Farmington and Berkley battle for a share of the Inter-Lakes lead with Farmington's biggest task centering around the Bears' 6-5 Dick Radatz, whose 29 points led Berkley to a Tuesday victory over Hazel Park.

Rochester's Stone will be back on his home court for the 1st time in 3 games as the Falcons seek to wrap up the Tri-County title. Although slowed up away from home, the Rochester sharpshooter still boasts an average of 22.5 points.

Jim Davidson leads his Milford club against always tough Keego. A win will keep the Redskins atop the Wayne-Oakland standings. Davidson's 30-point chore against Holly last week lifted his mark back up to 16 points per game.

Clarkston is looking for its 4th straight win against Holly with Ron Schebor and Earl Garner in the principal scoring roles. Schebor snapped out of a slump to tally 38 points in Clarkston's last two games.

Garner hit 40 during the same time for Holly, including 28 against Milford.

Waterford meets Walled Lake in their return meeting on the Skippers' floor. Key men in this encounter are Dan Williams of the Vikings and Waterford's Bob Jacober. Williams had his best night. (31 points) to spark a Walled Lake rout in the 1st game, while Jacober was experiencing one of his worst (only one field goal).

Utica joins Birmingham in taking a pot shot at an unbeaten quintet. Chieftans probably are the last threat to Warren's romp to a Bi-County crown, if not a perfect season. Warren has 10 in a row, including a narrow 1-point verdict in the 1st Utica game.

Tonight's schedule:

SHOOTING THE WORKS—Tonight is the night Birmingham has been waiting for. John Petrakis sends his Maples against the unbeaten league leaders of the Eastern Michigan loop, Ferndale. 'Dales won the 1st game by only six points and the Maples have their sights on Ferndale's perfect 8-game record. From the left are Payson Chapman, Mike Groves, Chris Christie, Petrakis, Dick Muller and Capt. Don Dorough.

Cameron Joins Steelers' Squad

UCLA All-America Will Be Teammate of Lattner at Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Paul Cameron, flashy UCLA halfback, has become the second All America backfield star to agree to play for the National Football League's Pittsburgh Steelers and Steeler President Art Rooney is the most jubilant man in town.

* * *

"With Cameron and Johnny Lattner we should have the best backfield in the National League," Rooney declared.

Cameron agreed to terms last night from Los Angeles. The transaction, handled by phone, is scheduled to be completed sometime today when Cameron goes through the formality of signing a contract with a West Coast representative of the Steelers.

The Steelers didn't reveal what they are paying the All America players but sources close to the club indicated each will get around $10,000 for one-year contracts.

Boxing Cleared in U.S. Anti-Trust Action

NEW YORK (AP)—The government has lost its civil anti-trust suit against the International Boxing Club of New York and Illinois.

After hearing 40 minutes of argument yesterday, Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan threw out the monopoly action, saying he was following a principle used by the U.S. Supreme Court last fall in dismissing an anti-trust action against organized baseball.

In an action brought in March 1952, the government accused the IBC of conspiring to violate the Sherman Anti-trust Act by monopolizing championship bouts.

West Virginia University carried an unbeaten post-season record into its Sugar Bowl contest with Georgia Tech on Jan. 1, 1954. The Mountaineers were victorious in the 1938 and 1939 Sun Bowl games.

Cubs Need Better Defensive Protection at Second Base, Shortstop, Center Field

By PHIL CAVARRETTA

DALLAS (AP)—Chicago Cubs had several weaknesses last year but the main weakness was failure to make the double play and the absence of an outstanding centerfielder.

If my memory serves me right, the Cubs were last in double plays. We never had a steady second base combination. In center, Frank Baumholtz did a good job but we need someone who can fly out there.

We need a guy who can help Ralph Kiner and Hank Sauer. Ralph and Hank are not too bad in the outfield but they do need help.

We have two boys coming up this spring who we think will be able to make the double play. One is Ernie Banks whom we purchased from the Kansas City Monarchs. He has a good chance to be our regular shortstop.

The other is Gene Baker, up from Los Angeles. He will battle it out with Eddie Miksis among others for the regular second base spot. Let's not forget Roy Smalley at short.

Banks impressed me a lot last year. He played about 10 games for us last September and showed me he can hit. He batted .314 and hit two homers.

Another kid I like is Bob Talbot, an outfielder from Los Angeles. If he can hit .275 or .280, he can be my regular centerfielder. He is a fine defensive outfielder.

Among the rookies who have a chance, in addition to Banks, Baker and Talbot, are Bob Zick, a pitcher from Des Moines; Don Elston, a pitcher from Springfield; and Bill Moisan, a pitcher from Los Angeles.

We have just about the same club we had last year except for the rookies I have named.

Pitcher Bob Rush was out for a month with a sore arm. Warren Hacker pitched with a blister on his pitching hand all season. Hank Sauer broke his finger three times. When you lose three key men like Sauer, Rush and Hacker, that's not good.

If I can keep all my men sound this year we may fool a lot of people. And I have a hunch we will. We're not as bad as we looked last year.

It's too early to pick pennant winners. But it looks like it's going to be the same old story. Brooklyn, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Philadelphia will be the teams to beat.

Cheer Leader Dies Shouting for Brother

* * *

* * *

At the hospital she was pronounced dead of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Lesser Lights Take Lead in Phoenix Open

Thomson, Harden Take 2-Stroke Edge Posting 1st Round 64s

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Lesser known lights in tournament golf, headed by Australian Peter Thomson of Melbourne and Jack Harden of El Paso, dominated the picture today as play continued into the 2nd round of the $10,000 Phoenix Open.

The 24-year-old Thomson, runnerup to Ben Hogan for the British Open championship last summer and former Australian Open titlist, and Harden, 40, a club pro who plays a few tournaments each winter, found par no mystery in the opening round at the Phoeniz Country Club.

They rapped out 64's, seven strokes under par for the 36-35 — 71, 6,600 yard test. Harden did it with seven birdies for 32-32. Thomson mixed up the round a bit with 29-31.

Thirty-three other pros were unimpressed with par, including the nearest challengers to the co-leaders, newcomers Manuel De La Torre of Milwaukee, and John Weitzel of Hershey, Pa. They began today's play two strokes back of the pace.

Far back in the plight of sub par scorers was Lloyd Mangrum, who trailed with a 73 in a bid to win the Phoenix event for the 3rd straight year.

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., was alone at 67 for the 1st round, and the 68 group was littered with eight players.

Riley, McWane Golf Favorites

Miss Riley and Miss McWane joined forces to win this in 1948 and 1952 and reached the finals last year. Two of the favored teams were eliminated Thursday.

Defending champions, Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., and Mary Ann Downey of Baltimore, were defeated 1-up by Marjorie Burns of Greensboro, N. C., and Jeanne Dobbins of St. Louis.

Edean Anderson of Helena, Mont., and Grace Demoss Smith of Coral Gables, Fla., were ousted 2 and 1 by Mrs. Maurice Glick of Baltimore and Ellen Gery of Reading, Pa.

The Riley-McWane team reached the quarterfinals by defeating Barbara McIntyre of Toledo and Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif. 1-up in a give and take match.

Milwaukee's NL Players Money-Hungry

Only 4 Regular Braves' Stars Signed for '54

Players Out to Share in Profits Club Made Through Shift

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The rich give-away menu at Milwaukee County Stadium last summer appears to have produced a winter crop of money-hungry baseball players.

* * *

The Milwaukee Braves had only 17 players under contract today—Cincinnati reported 40 signed yesterday in comparison—and there's been no visible stampede into the front office for salary chats. What it boils down to is a so-far-unsuccessful clamor for a bigger cut of the profits from the top money-making club in major league baseball last summer.

* * *

The 1953 Braves really lived it up in their first Milwaukee season, but more on the fabulous generosity of a baseball-crazy populace than the contents of their pay envelopes. There was hardly a man on the club that didn't receive items ranging from $1,000 bonds down to free milk for his kids for six months. Tractors, automobiles, wrist watches and a year's supply of fresh lamb figured in too.

* * *

The front office fared equally as well as fans fought for tickets, so well it's been estimated the club cleared enough to pay off its losses for the final dismal years in Boston.

But only four regulars are among the 17 in the fold—and two of them were here last year only as visitors. Bobby Thomson, the ex-Giant, agreed to an estimated $35,000, and Danny O'Connell, a refugee from Pittsburgh, to about $12,000. The two "old" Braves—Warren Spahn, ace left-hander, and home run king Eddie Mathews—came in for a reported $42,000 and $25,000, respectively.

* * *

Three Braves wintering here still are unsigned. Shortstop Johnny Logan is said to be asking $18,000 without much luck, while outfielder Billy Bruton and pitcher Lew Burdette are in the same boat.

General Manager John Quinn admits several men have returned unsigned contracts, but says, "We're not upset."

Unbeaten Arthur Hill Swimmers Test Pontiac High Squad

Pontiac High's swimming team, burdened by five consecutive losses, were entertaining undefeated Saginaw Arthur Hill this afternoon.

Lumberjacks, who defeated Pontiac 58-26 early last month, were heavily favored today. Arthur Hill has four victories and a tie in five starts this season.

Chiefs' best chances for individual victories rested with sophomore breast-stroker Bob Keavy and sophomore free-stylist Bob Lamson. Keavy has won his specialty in six of seven meets, while Lamson has been beaten only twice at 200 yards. They accounted for Pontiac's only 1st places in last month's meet with Arthur Hill.

Score Was in Error

In a report to this department on the week's basketball games in the Girls' League Skid Kids were listed as having lost to the Basketettes. The reverse was true. Basketettes bowing to the "Kids", 19-9.

Brennan Is Impressive With Poise, Confidence

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Men of long-standing football fame were there, to be sure, but it seemed all eyes were focused on a young man who was a comparative unknown only a week ago.

Young Terry Brennan, new head coach of Notre Dame, was making his first major public appearance last night at the Detroit Downtown Quarterback dinner, and he handled himself with a sureness that usually only comes with years of experience.

"I've stepped into some big shoes which can only be filled by hard work. I'm going to provide that hard work."

His speech was short, crisp. He had followed to the podium such football greats as Biggie Munn, Johnny Lattner, Forest Evashevski — but yet he received the biggest ovation.

Prior to the dinner, Brennan held forth at a press conference. A flock of questions were fired at him. He answered calmly, optimistically.

Of Notre Dames rugged schedule, he said:

"I wouldn't want any breathers on it. The only way you can prove you're the best is by playing the best."

Would an elder man hesitate to work for Brennan?

"I do not feel age enters into it. I simply want the best men for the job."

Reporters noted Brennan's use of the pronoun "I." It appeared to indicate the young man's self-confidence.

His presence was the highlight of the annual affair. Lattner, Notre Dame's All-America halfback, was honored as "Player of the Year" and Forest Evashevski of Iowa as "Coach of the Year."

Among those also honored were Ralph Young and Biggie Munn of Michigan State and Ray Eliot of Illinois, the Detroit Lions, Otto Graham, "Pro Player of the Year," and Matt Mann.

Only 10 players in the history of the National League have hit more than 40 home runs in one season.

Lincoln Upsets Unbeaten Eastern in Junior Action

Lincoln's Railsplitters registered the biggest upset of the Suburban Junior High Basketball League season Thursday afternoon, toppling unbeaten Eastern, 37-35.

Northsiders jumped into a 16-3 first quarter lead and never lost the advantage. Eastern shaved the margin by 2 points in the finale, but could not catch the resurgent Railsplitters.

Jefferson handed Waterford its fifth consecutive setback, 52-20, with Jim Hawkins popping in 17 counters. Victory marked the Pontiac coaching debut of John Andrews, who came to Jefferson from Muskegon when Bill Terry resigned last week.

Washington beat Walled Lake, 34-31, in non-league play, while the Braves' jayvees trounced Wever, 33-18.

Guatemala Leader Denies His Country Is Red...

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

Guatemalan President Col. Jacobo Arbenz has denied heatedly and repeatedly that his government is Communist or Communist-dominated.

Opposing this view is Sen. Alexander Wiley, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, who calls Guatemala "the bridgehead of communism in Latin America."

Recent events lend considerable support to Wiley's view.

* * *

Last week the country's Communist-ruled General Labor Confederation held its second national congress. It had President Arbenz's blessing and it attracted such Red leaders as Giuseppi Di Vittorio of Italian Labor Confederation, Luis Saillant of the Red World Trade Union Federation and Mexico's Vicente Lombardo Toledano, Latin America's No. 1 Red and head of the Latin American Labor Confederation.

* * *

Host to the meeting was Victor Manuel Gutierrez, a firm friend of Moscow, whose opening address called for "international labor solidarity"—presumably the Moscow brand.

Guatemala, one of the so-called banana republics, is about the size of Tennessee and has a population of 3,283,000 persons.

Only about 30 per cent of the population can read or write.

Here are the elements which are making Guatemala the No. 1 fly in the ointment of Western hemisphere good will:

A Mowcow-disciplined party organization known as the Guatemalan Workers Party; anti-capitalist and anti-American propaganda; expropriation of the properties of the "imperialistic capitalists" of the north; a land "reform" program in the classic pattern; secret arrests; a campaign to control press and radio and explusion of correspondents ruled "undesirable" by the state.

Controlling Guatemala's politics is a four-party coalition called the National Democratic Front. The Workers Party is the dominant one. It claims only 1,500 members but through unions under its domination it actually controls 100,000 laborers.

The party's first aim has been to force a break in the friendly links between Guatemala and the United States.

It has been accomplished, at least in part, through expropriation of the properties of the American-owned United Fruit Co., it charges that former Ambassador Richard C. Patterson was "plotting" the overthrow of the Guatemalan government and its later demand that he be recalled; actions against the American operated Electric Co. of Guatemala and the seizure of the American-owned International Railways of Central America.

There have been reports, not fully confirmed, that Guatemala is harboring Gilbert Green and Henry Winston, two of the top U. S. Reds who jumped $25,000 bail in 1949 to avoid five year prison terms.

Recent causes for alarm have been not only the explusion of foreign newsmen of vague charges that they "defamed" Guatemala, but also a series of secret arrests of opposition leaders and threats against the free press by Communist and semi-government press.

Soybeans Push Brisk Buying

CHICAGO (AP)—A strong demand for soybeans touched off a brisk buying flurry in grains on the board of trade today. Dealings were active.

The market opened quietly enough, only soybeans showing a firm tone. That was because of strength displayed by soybean oil. But after the first few minutes the major grains started pushing ahead. Their gains were mainly limited to fractions, however.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅝ cent higher, March $2.11⅝, corn ¼ to ⅝ higher, March $1.53, oats ⅛ to ⅜ higher, March 78⅝, rye ¼ to ½ higher, March $1.23, soybeans ¼ to 2¼ higher, March $3.15, and lard 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $16.75.

Death Driver Jailed After Second Mishap

LILLINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Julian Hart, 29, was convicted in Superior Court and sentenced to three to five years in the death of John Wilson Lockamy, 16. The latter was killed March 26, 1953 when Hart's car struck his tractor. The wreck occurred on the Benson-Angier road.

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Political prisoners are to get their freedom under a new amnesty decree approved last night by Congress.

Trading Declines After Fast Start

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market started higher with a rush today and then simmered down quietly.

Trading at the start was so heavy that the ticker fell behind a couple of minutes in reporting actual floor transactions.

With the big rush of overnight orders out of the way, the market turned quiet and began to back down from its best.

Gains and losses spread out over a range of around a point either way with the plus signs holding a slight edge.

Trading in the first hour was greater than a half million shares, and the market maintained a pace better than two million shares for the day. That compares with 2,040,000 shares traded yesterday when the market advanced briskly.

Key divisions such as the rails, oils, and steels were higher. The motors displayed considerable backwardness, and there was a lot of hesitancy in the chemicals.

Union Considering Pension Safeguards

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—AFL leaders today were reported considering drafting a set of rules for managing union welfare and pension funds to head off the strict legislative curbs recommended by President Eisenhower.

One of the top leaders of the AFL Executive Council said the council at its winter meeting may recommend a code for AFL union handling of such worker trust funds.

Eisenhower recently proposed that Congress conduct a broad investigation of union management of welfare and pension funds and enact stricter safeguards. He suggested including such new rules as part of the Taft-Hartley labor law.

Union leaders claim that actually their union trust funds are already well safeguarded, but they want to avoid the restrictions they feel would come if Congress should decide to make such funds subject to the rules of the federal government or of state banking commissions.

3 Boys Drowned in Sewage Pond

Attempts to Revive Tots, Who Fell Through Ice, Prove Futile

SOUTH HAVEN (AP)—Grief pierces the hearts of the parents of three small South Haven playmates who drowned Thursday beneath the thinly coated ice of a sewage pond.

The young victims were Robert Roy Kirchner, 5, his 4-year-old brother, Timmy Lee, and Michael James Holman, 5. All were dead on arrival at a South Haven hospital.

The little brothers were sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Kirchner. Young Michael was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Holman.

The parents of the three youngsters, worried over their absence, began a search at 11 a.m.

The search ended an hour and a half later at a pond used as a sewage pit by the National Motor Casting Co.

The body of the Holman boy was sighted floating in the icy, shallow water by Pat Underwood, grandfather of the Kirchner youngsters, and a police officer.

South Haven Police Chief Donald Hardy estimated the boys had been in the water about 45 minutes. A 90-minute effort to revive the youngsters proved futile.

Holman is a Michigan Highway Department crane operator. The father of the two young brothers owns a bar in Benton Harbor.

The Holmans have another son, Thomas, 3; the Kirchners, a daughter, Susan Ellen, 7.

Police Chief Hardy said tracks in the snow proved the boys had crawled under a fence before making their way out onto the thin ice covering the pond.

Recruiting Center Enlists 83 in Month

Some 83 men and women, 38 from Pontiac and 45 from outcounty, were enlisted by the local Army and Air Force recruiting station in January.

The office ranked secing in the state behind Detroit for total enlistments, according to Sgt. P. R. Moore, recruiting chief.

The 83 accepted ame from a total of 118 sent to Fort Wayne in Detroit for processing.

"More young men are enlisting in the paratroopers," said Moore. "The sudden increase is no doubt due to the additional pay for jumping," he explained.

"Aviation cadets are now being accepted without the college training previously required," Moore stated. Men who are single, 19 years old and possessing a high school diploma may apply.
