Top Nixon Aide, State Chief Justice Speak in County

THOMAS E. BRENNAN

By JIM LONG

The voices of law and order at the top level were heard in Oakland County last night, calling for justice and equality for all and an end to college uprisings.

Speaking in Southfield before the Detroit Bar Association, U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said that all forces necessary should be used to stop "minority tyranny on the nations campus."

Meanwhile in Pontiac, appearing at the County Courthouse, Michigan Chief Justice Thomas E. Brennan told a Law Day audience, "All around us, men cry for justice. And they shall have it, for it is their birthright."

But perfect justice will not come in this life, Brennan said. "The justice that we do to each other in the meantime will only be as good as we want it to be — as fair to all of us as it is fair to each of us."

NATIONAL OBSERVANCE

Both men were featured speakers at ceremonies in conjunction with the national observance of Law Day, originated by a presidential proclamation in 1958 and carried on May 1 each year.

A highlight of the program at the courthouse was the presentation of awards to outstanding Oakland County citizens who have contributed to the principles of law.

★ ★ ★

Liberty Bell Awards went to Dr. Jaap B. Delevie, 534 Wooddale, and Mrs. Edward Rambie, 901 Abbey, both of Birmingham.

Dr. Delevie, chairman of the legislative committee of the Oakland County Medical Society was recognized for his many activities with civic groups. Mrs. Rambie was honored for her work with Girl Scout Cadet Troop 292.

MAJOR PRONOUNCEMENT

Mitchell's speech was considered a major policy pronouncement that closely followed the Lines of President Nixon's statement earlier this week that campus officials must crackdown on disrupters.

The attorney general said that university officials are not law enforcement experts or judges.

"They should not take it upon themselves to decide how long violence should endure and what rights should be trampled upon before local government is called in.

"The time has come," said Mitchell, "for an end to patience. The time has come for us to demand, in the strongest possible terms, that university officials, local law enforcement agencies and local courts apply the law.

'MUST BE PROSECUTED'

"If arrests must be made, then arrests there should be. If violators must be prosecuted, then prosecutions there should be."

Mitchell said that in view of what has been happening on campuses — and that campus police apparently cannot cope with the problem — there are times when local police should move in without being called.

★ ★ ★

He rejected the notion that the university is an "extraterritorial enclave" further from the reach of law enforcement than other institutions.

Mitchell suggested that university of-

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clark M. Clifford, a strong supporter of U.S. Vietnam policy when he became the Johnson administration's defense chief in 1968, has said he left office convinced the nation's military effort in the war was hopeless, sources say.

Fulbright, one of the strongest critics of the nation's Vietnam involvement, called the meeting April 22, the sources said, after learning of Clifford's change of heart.

★ ★ ★

Clifford, one of President Johnson's closest associates, entered the Defense Department publicly committed to the idea that the American intervention was necessary, not only to save South Vietnam, but to prevent the take-over of other non-Communist nations in Southeast Asia.

CLARIFIED VIEWS

Clifford made his views clear when he told a Senate committee considering his appointment Jan. 25, 1968:

"To me it is not a question of years, it is a question of weeks and months, if we weren't there, until Southeast Asia, nation by nation, succumbed and that is not happening now, because it is not happening, in my opinion, because we are there and because we have extended this shield and I believe we must continue to do it."

But at the meeting last month, the sources said, he told the senators he left office in disagreement with many of former President Johnson's Vietnam policies and convinced the domino theory that the fall of Vietnam would lead to the takeover of other nations was fallacious.

In addition, Clifford told the senators he didn't feel President Nixon had tried hard enough to extricate the United States from Vietnam.

The sources also said Clifford's statements were one of the reasons behind a call yesterday by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., for the United States to start an immediate withdrawal of troops from the war zone.

Dr. William B. Pollard Talks To Urban League

Urban League Puts Its Focus on Ghetto

By ED BLUNDEN

Vows for deeper involvement with the ghetto community were given by principal speakers at the Pontiac Area Urban League annual dinner last night at Oakland University.

More than 450 persons attending were urged to take part in a renewed membership drive.

★ ★ ★

Guest speaker was Dr. William B. Pollard, coordinator for school decentralization for Milwaukee Public Schools. His theme was "Building Ghetto Power."

Dr. Pollard said: "It's impossible to make me believe that a nation that can send a white man to orbit the moon can't help a black man on his feet."

'LIKE LABOR STRUGGLE'

He compared the struggle of labor unions in the 1930s with the present efforts of the black community for recognition. "What began more than 30 years ago as a white workingman's revolution for economic rights has since evolved into a black revolution for human rights."

Pointing out the rapid technological advances of recent years, Dr. Pollard observed, "Scientific knowledge has advanced by leaps and bounds while social progress has moved forward at a snail's pace."

Dr. Pollard posed a question: Is white America ready to take appropriate actions to end centuries of discrimination?

"If white America turns her back on 25 million black Americans, if white America does not come to grips with herself, if white America does not use her resources to 'let my people go,' then the United States Constitution might as well be just a piece of paper."

'PROGRESS CAN BE MADE'

Dr. Pollard touched on his experiences in Liberia where he served as a consultant and counselor from 1960 to 1963. Though educational processes there were undeveloped, Dr. Pollard said he found the people quick to learn and adaptable to new techniques. He said the success there indicated the progress that can be made with limited facilities.

Regarding his duties as coordinator for decentralization of Milwaukee schools, he explained the effort there has established neighborhood councils centered around each high school.

The councils have brought about more involvement with school programs and problems. Speaking at an afternoon press conference, Dr. Pollard said he felt each community's problems involving integration were different and no blanket procedure should be recommended.

He said that, in general, he felt busing of students was undesirable and where possible the neighborhood concept, especially at the elementary school level, should be maintained.

Taking office for the first time at the dinner was Dr. Joseph Grayson, Pontiac pediatrician, new Urban League presi-

Man, Woman Kidnap Texas Police Officer

HOUSTON (UPI)—A man and woman kidnaped Texas highway patrolman Kenneth Crone today, and threatening by radio to kill him if pursuit got too close, raced into Houston with their victim in his own squad car.

At last report, Crone was still alive and was reported driving.

In Houston, the kidnapers, headed toward the downtown area at 90 miles an hour, ran into heavy morning traffic and turned back east in Interstate Highway 10 toward Beaumont, Tex., from where they had come.

Crone was kidnaped — exactly how was not clear — at Winnie, Tex., 30 miles west of Beaumont. Threatening on the radio in the squad car to shoot Crone if there was close pursuit or a roadblock, the kidnapers doubled back to Beaumont.

TURN AROUND

The kidnapers turned around in Beaumont, and with only an unmarked police car following, drove on U.S. 90 toward Houston, 75 miles away. Eight or 10 squad cars from the Houston sheriffs' department pulled in behind the procession.

"He said he was going to kill that officer if we didn't back off. He is talking constantly. We dont' know how they are armed but we do know they have his (patrolman's) gun." a police spokesman said.

After the kidnapers turned around in Houston and headed east, police thought they might be trying to get to Baytown, Tex., or the Louisiana border, which also are in the general direction of Beaumont.

Clean Water Bond Bill Clears House

LANSING (UPI) — The House today passed, 92-8, the long-delayed bill to implement a $285-million clean-water bond issue approved by voters last November.

The measure was passed earlier by the Senate but must go back to the upper chamber for concurrence or rejection of House amendments.

Sponsors hope to complete legislative action next week.

House members deferred a final vote on a companion bill to establish a $50-million lateral sewer loan fund for local communities. It is not considered as urgent.

50,000 GM Workers Idled

UAW Sees a Long Strike

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — Union officials said today a series of strikes which have idled more than 50,000 General Motors employes could be long and costly.

The strike at facilities in Van Nuys, Calif., Kansas City, Baltimore, Atlanta, North Tarrytown, N.Y., and Janesville, Wis., began Monday.

That was the deadline set by the United Auto Workers for completion of new local contracts in the wake of the merger last November of Chevrolet and Fisher Body assembly operations in the six cities.

The union maintained that the merger eliminated jobs in some locations and forced remaining personnel to work faster to meet quotas.

36,100 ON STRIKE

In all 28,000 men struck at the six plants. They joined 8,100 UAW members who struck Fisher Body and Chevrolet plants in St. Louis April 10 over work standards.

Charles Tyer, president of UAW Local 93 at Kansas City, said he wouldn't be surprised to see a shutdown lasting six to eight weeks.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday's layoffs hit seven Chevrolet plants in New York, Michigan and Indiana. Michigan plants previously affected are Fisher Body plants in Grand Rapids and Detroit and the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant in Livonia.

L. L. Coats, an official at Local 34 at Atlanta, said the union spent "six weeks last year negotiating this contract, and now the management is trying to take some of it away from us. They can't justify this to the people — workers, the public or anyone else."

Gun HQ Butt of Vandals

Malpractice Suits Hike Medical Care Costs

By CHARLES G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer

Malpractice suits filed by patients against doctors are contributing to the increased cost of medical care in the United States.

Rates on malpractice insurance for doctors have soared across the country and the increased costs are borne, at least in part, by the patient.

Statistics show that one doctor out of every six of the 300,000 in the United States has been, or is being, sued for malpractice. Last year, doctors paid $75 million in malpractice insurance premiums.

Some $18 million was paid in awards to patients in 1968, according to Bernard D. Hirsh, general counsel of the American Medical Association. Legal fees added to the costs.

William F. Martin, a New York lawyer, said in a paper recently before the National Medicolegal Symposium in Las Vegas: "Spokesmen both for the medical profession and the insurance industry agree that the higher rates are caused by the increased number of malpractice suits being filed by disgruntled patients and the larger settlements being made both in and out of court."

Doctors and lawyers say that today's society is more permissive and citizens are more prone to sue, so the problem is not limited to the medical profession.

The Insurance Information Institute in New York says premiums on malpractice insurance are up 47 per cent over a year ago.

An AMA survey also found instances in 14 states in which physicians were unable to obtain malpractice insurance.

RATE REVISIONS

The institute, in a recent announcement of rate revisions, stated that from 1959 through 1963, insurance companies paid $140 for every $100 received in premiums from physicians. For surgeons it was $151 for every $100.

The increases ranged from 10 per cent in four states to 75 per cent in Montana and Ohio and 100 per cent in Vermont. Rates in six states went up 50 to 60 per cent.

Rates were reduced 10 per cent in New Hampshire and 15 per cent in Oregon.

HOSPITAL RATES RISING

Rates for hospitals maintaining liability insurance likewise are rising.

There are other patient costs, too, engendered by extra-cautious—and perhaps unnecessary — tests, a committee of the AMA trustees reported.

House to Air Osteopath School Ties

The final reading of a bill to create a state-supported osteopathic medical school was expected today in the House of Representatives.

Three supporters of the bill, Reps. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, Josephine Hunsinger, D-Detroit, and Dale Kildee, D-Flint, seek to authorize the college to be affiliated with Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM), now under construction in Pontiac, is the likely choice to receive the state funds in affiliation with Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Opponents of the bill have proposed the college be affiliated with Oakland University and established there.

POINT UNCLEAR

But it is unclear, some said, whether Oakland University, an affiliate of Michigan State University, could accept operation of the college without approval from MSU.

Arguing for a separate college, Kildee said the school should be independent because the American Medical Association (AMA) likely would not grant accreditation for osteopathic courses.

★ ★ ★

MSU's fledgling medical school is linked with the AMA.

It is expected that the measure will be voted on in four or five weeks.

LICENSING CHANGE

Another bill in the House concerning osteopathy seeks to combine the licensing of osteopaths and medical doctors under a single board.

Under provisions of the bill, one board would administer the same qualifying test to all candidates for the practice of medicine in Michigan. The designations of "Doctor of Medicine" and "Doctor of Osteopathy" would remain.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Irvin J. Kurtz, president of the Michigan Board of Registration in Medicine, said both the MD and DO professions have developed to the point where "there is no significant, practical difference at this time. One law should apply to all."

Ford Sees Taxpayer Revolt Unless College Strife Cools

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford today forecast a taxpayers' revolt against spending for higher education unless university officials clamp down on student violence.

"I think the administrators have got to be firmer and, if they're not, they ought to be changed," Ford told a news conference.

Ford, here for the conference of GOP governors, said there will be "diminishing support financially" for public education unless student violence is quelled.

"The taxpayers as a whole will revolt against expenditures, tax monies being used for higher education, if the institutions are not used for the prime purpose of giving higher education," Ford said.

ABM NOT PLUGGED

Ford also put in a plug for President Nixon's Safeguard missile defense system.

He said it is necessary for national defense and will pass the House by a margin of 2-to-1 or better.

★ ★ ★

Most of the governors, including their host, Kentucky's Louie B. Nunn, appeared ready to accept local responsibility for controlling student disorders.

Some governors suggested cutting off federal aid to institutions which condone rioting and students who participate.

Police were alerted to cope with a group of students who planned an afternoon rally at the University of Kentucky, followed by a march on a downtown hotel where the conference's formal state dinner is scheduled.

★ ★ ★

California's Ronald Reagan, who took a tough line on campus demonstrators, also sought to put the Republican governors on the line for Nixon's decision to deploy the Safeguard system.

★ ★ ★

He, Nunn and about a dozen other governors indicated their support for Safeguard. But there was some dissent, and a considerable group of governors wanted to avoid taking a position on the issue now.

Wilson Ouster Eyed by Rebels

LONDON (AP) — Political sources say an attempt from within his own Labor party to replace Prime Minister Harold Wilson may be imminent.

Reports of a plot against Wilson by some of his former cabinet ministers and other backbench MPs are circulating in the lobbies of the House of Commons and appeared today on front pages of most major newspapers.

One report said the rebels were discussing whether to bring a vote of no confidence against the prime minister at an early meeting of the Labor party members in Commons.

The immediate sore point is Wilson's insistence on pushing through Parliament this summer laws to curb the wildcat strikes crippling British exports. The party's traditional cornerstone of political support, the trade union movement, is fighting the legislation tooth and nail.

Protest Limits Lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in nearly two years, there is no limit today on the size of crowds that may demonstrate in front of the White House.

Court action has upset the restriction of 100 persons on the sidewalk and 500 in nearby Lafayette Square, at least until May 9 when the U.S. Court of Appeals will again consider the case.

U.S. District Judge William B. Bryant ordered the government to drop the restrictions, and the Court of Appeals in a 2-1 decision last night refused to stay that order.

Chrysler Cuts Valiant by $200

DETROIT (AP)—Chrysler Corp. today cut the price of its lowest priced car, the Plymouth Valiant, by about $200 in an apparent move to meet competition from Ford's new Maverick and various imported cars.

The new price tag was set at $2,094, or $99 more than the base price of Ford's Maverick.

Official announcement of Chrysler's move was to be made at a news conference today. Company officials declined comment before that hour but an advertising source confirmed the report.

Chrysler reportedly will launch an intensive national advertising campaign next week in which it will stress the fact that dimensions of the Valiant are considerably larger than the Maverick.

Lynn A. Townsend, Chrysler board chairman, said only last week, "We are selling autos under the most intensively competitive conditions that automobile men have encountered during their entire careers."

NEW YORK (AP) — After two days of policy speeches, the 19th national convention of the U.S. Communist party today gets down to discussion of details of the party program.

★ ★ ★

National Chairman Henry Winston said Thursday that he expected the new program of the party—a 165-page document—to be adopted as written.

Ten working panels from among the 275 delegates to the four-day session at Brooklyn's Towers Hotel have prepared the ground for the start of today's discussion.

The question of party discipline, especially among leaders of the national committee, was raised in a speech at Wednesday's opening session by General Secretary Gus Hall. It was expected to be a major topic for debate.

'CONSTANT TURMOIL'

A Communist informant said Thursday that the question of discipline "is what the meeting is all about."

Hall told newsmen Wednesday that party leaders who opposed the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August 1968 had not changed their minds. But he added that the membership unanimously supported and endorsed the position of the national committee favoring the invasion.

In his keynote address, however, he hinted that decisions like that by the national committee on Czechoslovakia were not being fully carried out.

"If decisions are meant only for those who agree with them, then there is no need for decisions or votes," he stated.

The party claims about 13,000 members in 30 states. This year it commemorates its 50th anniversary.

Smith's Story: Turbulent Troy Tenure

TROY — "There's a little joke among us school superintendents: Each year you make enemies of about 10 per cent of your constituency . . . Well, this is my 10th year."

Dr. Rex B. Smith, outgoing superintendent of schools, mixes criticism, humor and proud memories in speaking of his 10 turbulent years as this district's chief school executive.

Smith arrived in Troy in August 1958 amidst turmoil. He will leave May 21 with the district "not in shambles, but with problems that make it very difficult to maintain order."

In 1958 Smith took the helm of the district's eight schools (there are 12 now) as a result of controversy over the former superintendent's contract.

MILLAGE PROBLEM

"I was immediately faced with the problem of a millage defeat. The same millage question was resubmitted to voters a second and third time, only to be defeated again and again," Smith recounted.

'The (Financial) Mismanagement Charges Have Been A Horrible Nightmare, But Some Day The Truth Will Be Known.'

—Dr. Rex B. Smith

"The fourth time, the question only narrowly passed. In fact, we had a jam-packed gymnasium full of people who were watching a recount of the votes on that fourth time around," he related.

★ ★ ★

The problems and the crises of Troy Schools never stopped during Smith's tenure. Agitation from "would-be politicians on the board and the events of the past two years" have forced him to throw in the towel, Smith admits.

"It's a pretty riduculous situation when the board has frozen the salaries of the top three administrators, when one board member has charged the board with mismanaging building site funds and when there is such a deep split in philosophy over the modular scheduling program at the high school," Smith said.

Speaking of a charge of alleged mismanagement of $857,000 in land acquisition and building site funds, Smith blasted Board Trustee Harold Janes and "the sensational press."

"Janes approached the Royal Oak and Pontiac papers with his 'proof' of financial mismanagement and then the Detroit papers picked up the story. This was all before he even called the attorney general's office for an audit," Smith explained.

★ ★ ★

"The mismanagement charges have been a horrible nightmare, but some day the truth will be known," Smith declared.

He pointed out that the so-called "shady land deals" Janes accused the board of entering into were arranged on land contract. Under a land contract agreement, the deed transfer is not completed until the terms of the contract are met.

"So of course, anyone can go down to the Oakland County offices and find no record of land acquisition transactions," Smith explained.

And the superintendent boasts that the same land acquisition has provided Troy Schools with all the sites the district ever will need for schools, at a savings of $1 million.

"We never made our dealings public. We worked quietly for about eight months gathering up the land and buying at normal prices. Since we purchased all the land the property has increased in valuation some $2,000 per acre," he contended.

"I don't know of any other school district in the state that has all the land it will ever need and all the building sites within walking distance of all students," Smith proudly declared.

'NOTHING IMPROPER'

In his letter of resignation last December, Smith wrote that he had "to my knowledge . . . done nothing improper or illegal."

Speaking on the controversy of Troy High School's unique modular scheduling program, he expressed regret over the misunderstanding, the mistakes and what he terms the "misuse" of the modular theory.

He also complained of "unauthorized and unnecessary introduction of sensitivity training at the high school level" and inadequate facilities and finances to carry off modular scheduling with success.

"People sometimes forget that we have 11 schools in this district operating beautifully, with the indiivdual school administration and faculty united in philosophy. Our only problem is at the high school," he said.

PARENT-TEACHER TALKS

Upon arrival in Troy, Smtih introduced formal parent-teacher conferences in all grade levels, which he has termed "a huge success in understanding."

He also says that a major accomplishment has been "for me to survive 10 years, since the average longevity for superintendents is 5-7 years."

"The controversy in this school district and the noteriety it has given me personally has made it difficult for me to get interviews for other positions," Smith said.

He has talked with several school districts with openings for superintendents and also is looking in private industry for employment. "Nothing is definite, though," he said.

SMALL COMMUNITY

Before coming to Troy, Smith was superintendent for seven years of the Holt school system, a small community south of Lansing.

Wistfully, he recalled his tenure in Holt with the conclusion that "you can't go home again."

He will be rather selective in considering employment in another school district — if that is the case. "I don't want another split board!"

"Troy's problems are difficult, but I believe they are of a passing nature. The future of education in Troy is most promising," he said.

Smith had a warning about the future:

"I would advise voters to be careful in selecting school-board trustees. We must elect men who are not politicians, men who are sincerely interested in the children's education."

Dr. Rex B. Smith Discusses Troy School Woes

Oxford Twp. 'Homeowners' Still Await Answer in Row

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Bewildered residents of Red Barn Subdivision No. 1 here will have to wait longer for an answer to the housing hassle that may find nearly 50 "homeowners" evicted from their dwellings.

Malcolm Kahn of Pontiac, attorney for the residents said that "discussions are still being held. This problem cannot be settled overnight."

Residents received letters from the Marion Building Co. of Detroit last April informing them that Marion had purchased all property of the subdivision from subdeveloper Villa Homes, Inc. of Oak Park.

Villa Homes had reportedly neglected to pay some $4,300 in land contract installments to Marion. Marion, in turn, reclaimed the land — and all homes attached — by paying the land contract balance, it was reported.

WON ITS CASE

The Pontiac Press last summer went to Oakland County Circuit Court, charging Villa Homes with defaulting on some $800 of classified advertising bills. The Press won its case.

According to former County Curcuit Court Commissioner Vern Hampton, there is a 25-year-old State Supreme Court ruling that originated in Oakland County whereby the sale of property on which homes or buildings are attached must be an agreement "by all parties involved," which appears to mean that residents should have been represented in the Marion-Villa Sale in Circuit Court.

"Someone should have informed us that our property was being sold right out from under us," said Mrs. Jack E. Barwig, 1383 Red Barn, a 2½-year resident.

According to Robert W. Guiles, vice president of the James T. Barnes Co., Detroit, holders of all Red Barn mortgages, the problem "will be resolved in a week to 10 days."

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow will make the "problem" 8 days old.

Group Gets Funds to Make Community Center Certain

FARMINGTON — The Farmington Community Center became a certainty this week as donations flowed in totaling some $15,000 over the minimum requirement.

John A. Allen, board chairman of the Farmington Community Center Inc., announced that the fund, which was some $4,600 short of the required $50,000 last Monday, reached $65,000 yesterday Donations are still coming in.

★ ★ ★

The Luman Goodenough estate, site of the community center, was offered to the area if the necessary funds could be raised by the end of last month. The homestead includes a large English Manor house and five acres of wooded land.

A meeting of prominent area citizens was held earlier this week to report the shortage of funds needed wihin 48 hours.

"Before the meeting was over we had in excess of $8,000," reported Allen.

The next step is to plan programs and hire a community director to run the center.

Allen indicated that the center committee wanted to open the community center by September.

He said, "The citizens of the city, township and villages have demonstrated their interest in working together for the enrichment for the present and future of our community.

"The immediate prospect of a new community center will add a new dimension to the development of our solidarity."

School Issues OK Would Add Extra Mill in Oxford

OXFORD — If voters approve all three money questions on the June 9 school election ballot here, they will obligate themselves for only one extra mill.

Board members took action recently to cut costs by 2½ mills for debt retirement because of increased tax base. The decision to cut was made at a special meeting earlier this week.

On the ballot will be the following one-year financial proposals: A renewal of 2½ mills operating costs, and additional 2½ mills for operating and an additional one mill for new equipment, supplies and fencing for several new schools.

Also on the ballot will be two 4-year board seats to which the incumbents, Robert McWilliams and Roe Sausser, have said they will not seek reelection.

Additionally, the ballot will ask voters' permission to transfer a $141 surplus from an old debt retirement fund to the building fund.

Troy Bears Down on Junked Cars

TROY—Over 42 property owners have been served notice in the police department's drive to rid the city of junked cars.

Sgt. Richard Hoffman, in charge of the campaign, said many homes have more than one junk car—some as much as seven or eight so over 800 cars are involved.

The drive began late in March. Residents notified of violations are given 60 days to either get the cars in running order and linecsed or have them hauled away.

After that, they face misdemeanor charges in municipal court, Hoffman warned.

Most junk dealers will haul cars away free as long as motors are present, Hoffman said. Otherwise a charge is involved. A car delivered to a junk dealer could even be worth a few dollars, he added.

Hoffman said some families keep old cars for the teen-agers to tinker with. This is not permissible under city laws, however. Hoffman also warned that it's little use trying to hide a junker behind the garage; his men will be looking closely.

2 Women Injured in Shelby Crash

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Two Detroit women were hospitalized as the result of a two-car collision at Van Dyke and 23 Mile Road about 10:50 p.m. last night, police said.

Listed in critical condition at Crittenton Hospital, Rochester, this morning with chest injuries was Harriet Popa, 55, Detroit.

She was a passenger in an auto driven by Amelia Avripas, 50, of Detroit, who is in fair condition with multiple injuries at the same hospital.

Police said the Avripas vehicle, heading north on Van Dyke, was struck broadside by an auto operated by Matthew T. Gores, 29, of 20196 Ridge, Armada. The second auto was heading west on 23 Mile.

Troy, County Units Get Safety Grants

Gov. William G. Milliken has announced the awarding of 13 National Highway Safety grants in the state, including one to the Troy Police Department and one to the Oakland County Traffic Improvement Association (TIA).

Troy will receive $6,150, which already has been put to use to pay for a school safety officer who carries messages into local classrooms. Cpl. Arnold Koss has been assigend as school safety officer.

★ ★ ★

The TIA will receive $46,350 for expansion of the data processing unit which records all traffic accidents in Oakland County for purposes of evaluatign traffic problems.

New Penal Code Just the Ticket for Farmington Twp. Revenue

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — Additional revenue from traffic tickets was made possible through the Township Board's approval of an Omnibus Penal Code at this week's meeting.

The new code makes several state regulations also local ordinances. This allows local officers to write up various charges as infractions of local regulations so the township will get most of the resulting revenue.

★ ★ ★

Previously, the majority of the ticket fees had been passed onto the state, according to Supervisor Curtis Hall.

A public hearing for consideration of a resolution for road improvements in Kendallwood subdivision has been set for 7:30 p.m. May 19 at Dunckel Junior High School.

A request for road improvements on Caryn has been passed on to the Oakland County Road Commission.

The township board has passed a resolution supporting a proposed bill now in Lansing allowing municipalities to sell bonds to build district libraries. The bill is an amendment to the building Act 31, Public Acts of Michigan, 1948.

The board also passed a resolution protesting any plans for a proposed domed stadium in Southfield.

News Briefs

A strong campaign by civic leaders is under way in support of a 6-mill operating renewal in the Avondale School District's June 9 election.

The Auburn Heights Area Jaycees, school board members, administrators, membrs of other service organizations and private citizens are pressing for passage of the millage renewal.

★ ★ ★

The campaign committee is organizing informational activities such as coffee klatches and newsletters. Citizens who wish to join the campaign can contact co-chairmen Tom Lawson or Jim St. Louis.

Tavern Ails, but Beer to Flow

LAKE ORION — The beer will continue to flow at the Verwood Bar and Hotel. Village councilmen rescinded their earlier objections to a tavern license renewal at a recent special meeting.

Heated public discussion of the Verwood Bar situation was held several weeks ago. Bar owners John and Yvonne Hoffman and Raymond Kirkey and their attorney, James Lawson of Farmington, told councilmen that intensive efforts were under way to improve the building and also weed out offensive clientele.

★ ★ ★

Public condemnation of the Verwood Bar followed a March murder in Lake Orion in which the Verwood was indirectly involved.

Petitions from two Lake Orion churches were filed with the council calling for the shutdown of the Verwood, 54 S. Broadway.

BUILDING CODE VIOLATED

Eight building code violations were reported in the bar area alone, including rear area apartments that were declared "unfit for habitation."

Second floor citations included outdated electricity, loose plaster and improper ventilation. Inspections also showed that the basement was in need of complete rewiring.

★ ★ ★

Verwood owners have corrected several of the violations since the original citations, Lawson reported, and have obtained a building permit to correct the rest.

Crash Hurts 1; Driver Arrested

A Pontiac man is hospitalized in serious condition after the car he rode in crashed into a parked car in the city last night. The driver was arrested on three charges.

The passenger, Jesus Rodriguez, 37, of 52 N. Paddock, was rushed to Pontiac General Hospital by ambulance while police arrested Dan Young, 39, of 370 Howard McNeil.

★ ★ ★

Young was charged with being drunk and disorderly, speeding and having no operator's license.

★ ★ ★

Henry Gross, owner of the parked car, told police he was awakened by a crash in front of his house at 269 Rapid. The other vehicle had left the scene, and he followed its trail of water leaking from the radiator to 110 Raeburn, he told police.

Nine Circuit Judges to Air Henry Ouster

Oakland County's nine Circuit judges will meet Wednesday to discuss the ouster earlier this week of attorney Milton R. Henry from the courtroom of a Pontiac District judge.

The meeting was called yesterday by presiding Circuit Judge William J. Beer after receiving a telegram from District Judge James R. Stelt that he had refused to allow Henry to practice before him because the attorney had renounced his citizenship.

★ ★ ★

On Tuesday, Henry, the first vice president of the Republic of New Africa (RNA), a black separatist organization, in reply to a question from Stelt, said that he wasn't a U.S. citizen, "nor have I ever been."

Stelt then ordered him from the courtroom on the basis that attorneys must be citizens to practice law in Michigan.

CLAIMED LYALTY

Though no mention of the RNA was made during the exchange between Stelt and Henry, Henry on past occasions has claimed loyalty to the Republic. The RNA in addition to seeking financial reparation which it alleges is due to blacks, wants the U.S. to turn over five southern states to the republic.

However, the Circuit bench has jurisdiction over District courts and could make a ruling either upholding or reversing Stelt.

Michigan Chief Justice Thomas E. Brennan, in Oakland County last night for a Law Day program, said the incident presented some interesting legal aspects.

He cut his comments short, however, by saying: "It may be best not to go into this too deep unless the proper proceedings are brought before us."

★ ★ ★

To date, neither the high court nor the Circuit Court has received a request to take official action, but only telegrams from Stelt informing them of his actions.

Area Group Pleased With C. of C. Parley

Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce delegates returned from the 57th annual meeting of the United States Chamber of Commerce in Washington, D. C. earlier this week stating that it was one of the best ever presented.

Chamber officials President; E. Eugene Russell, Legislative Chairman; Lewis E. Wint, Director Charles M. Tucker, and Executive Manager Earl Kreps attended forums chaired by high cabinet officials on topics dealing with what the business community can do in alleviating urban problems.

The group hosted a breakfast attended by House Minority Leader Gerald Ford; Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich. Rep. William Broomfield, R-18th district; Rep. Jack McDonald, R-19th District, who presented information on current issues including antiballistic missles and the Vietnam war.

He spoke on the Vietnam war briefly before turning his attention to domestic problems saying that segregation is perpetuated by the "white suburban noose" around cities and advised businessmen to get involved in the solution of urban problems.

Radical college students haven't the remotest concept of what this country is all about, Romney said, adding that this is the fault of faculty members who fail to teach spiritual values, absolute truth, human dignity and the virtues of limited government.

Teen Listed Critical After Avon Crash

A Rochester driver whose car, sheriff's deputies say, crossed the center line and hit another car head-on in Avon Township last night is hospitalized in critical condition.

Douglas E. Barrett, 18, of 211 S. Helen was rushed to Crittenton Hospital in Avon Township after the accident on Rochester Road near Hamlin Road and then transferred to Pontiac's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County sheriff's deputies were unable to find out from Barrett how the accident happened. A passenger in his car was not seriously hurt.

★ ★ ★

Thomas J. Cieslak, 22, of Detroit, driver of the car Barrett struck, said his car went over a hill and he saw a car directly in front of him. Cieslak didn't require hospital treatment.

★ ★ ★

Both cars were traveling about 45 or 50 miles per hour, deputies said.

About $105 Stolen From Firm's Safe

About $105 was reported stolen from a safe at a Pontiac business, it was reported to police yesterday.

David M. Dill, owner of Wholesale Heating and Supply Co., 135 Orchard Lake, told police there was no evidence the safe was forced open. He said it was locked.

The building was broken into between Wednesday afternoon and yesterday morning by prying off a piece of tin covering an open window.

'Court' Clouds Welfare

With familiar unpredictability, the U.S. Supreme Court by a 6-3 decision has further snarled the Nation's welfare program — a program already notable for its inequities, administrative waste and exploitation by beneficiaries.

The decision struck down the residency requirements that some 40 states had established for eligibility for welfare benefits that range from one to five years. Michigan's was one year.

Now, it appears, that the needy and unneedy can cast selective eyes over the relative welfare climate of one state against another and promptly migrate to those offering the most attractive welfare inducements.

Indeed, without benefit of the Court's decision, there has been considerable shopping around, due to the great disparity in welfare support in effect in different states.

Tied in with aid to dependent children, the monthly benefit payment per person ranges from a low of $8 in Mississippi with New York at the top with $80. (New York City has just added its 1,000,000th claimant to its welfare load.) California and Michigan stand about midway, with $48.50 and $36 respectively.

★ ★ ★

With the Federal government paying about 55 per cent of the national welfare total, it is high time that a uniform national system of welfare support be established, the shocking duplication and waste of involved agencies eliminated, and an impartial, common sense approach to one of the Nation's top social problems adopted.

Tornadoes Sinister Visitors

The United States is now well into the tornado season and, so far, the news is better than average. Over half of all tornadoes in this country, normally, make their visitations in April, May and June — with the accent on June. In an average year, tornadoes kill more than 100 people in the United States and cause $180 million in property damage.

The U.S. Weather Bureau states flatly: "The tornado is the most violent of all storms." They strike quickly, leaving total devastation in in a path which, fortunately, is fairly short and narrow. Their winds whirl at speeds up to several hundred miles per hour, twisting and ripping at everything they touch and causing buildings to explode outward.

Set in operation this year by the Weather Bureau is a SKY-WARN program, which links 500 networks of tornado watchers. Cooperating are the Office of Emergency Preparedness, the Office of Civil Defense, the American Red Cross, and thousands of civilian volunteers. Warnings are issued to television and radio stations from the Bureau's National Severe Storms Forecast Center in Kansas City, Mo.

Tornadoes can — and do — hit in every state and at any hour of the day or night. The Bureau reports only 73 tornadoes for the first three weeks of April. Most were minor, but at least one death was recorded.

Safety precautions against tornadoes have been circulated so generally and frequently that most readers are familiar with them. However, for the benefit of those who came in late, here are basic protective measures.

- Since most tornadoes move from a southwest direction, the safest place to be in a building is in that corner of it (preferably in the basement) clear of walls, windows and doors.
- If in an automobile, don't try to outrun an approaching tornado. You can generally escape it by speeding on a crosswise course. If danger is more imminent, leave your car, and lie in a roadside ditch or other surface depression.

Film Festival Features Fun

The Cannes Film Festival always has been a combination of contest, market place and circus. This year's 22nd annual two-week stand, which opens today, has had at least one bad notice in advance. CARL FOREMAN, the expatriate American screen writer and producer, resigned from the jury (he was to have represented Britain) in protest against French censorship of one of his films.

This year's gathering of producers is expected to draw as well a melange of press agents, pornographers, salesmen and buyers, flesh merchants and innocents. Starlets—well, girls—can be expected to put on or take off the most garish of costumes, always making sure the amateur and professional photographers who swarm around La Croisette get a thorough exposure.

A cloud hangs over this year's festival. Last year it was obvious from the start that the film carnival could not go on while the rest of France was riddled by students' and workers' strikes.

Almost before the festival got under way a half dozen top exhibitors called a strike of their own, with practically every filmmaker of consequence joining in. Demonstrations were punctuated by scuffles. Beatle GEORGE HARRISON knocked down a photographer — a form of protest that cost him a $200 fine.

Real Issue

Mexico City News

Out of the Nixon-Trudeau talks, Red China emgerges as the real issue. Talks included a broad gamut of subjects, including the ABM antiballistic missile system and many other topics.

President Nixon is still wary of any diplomatic recognition of Red China. Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau endorses it. Which policy is the more sound?

★ ★ ★

Can Peking's 750 million people any longer prudently be ignored? Before the advent of a nuclear and H-bomb potential, perhaps a diplomatic blockade of the Red giant was feasible. But can it be any longer? Senator Edward M. Kennedy has come out for diplomatic recognition of Peking, and a seating of that country in the United Nations General Assembly.

★ ★ ★

This recommendation isn't just dictated by a fear of its military potential. An only basis for the establishment of future communications with this major nation must stem from negotiation, not mutual distrust. Canada's stance in this thorny issue is more aligned with reality than that of the U.S.

Even as a need for first-hand knowledge of current events in that country would advise diplomatic relations of some kind. Cuba is a UN member. So are Russia and almost all nations of the Communist bloc. Why shouldn't Red China be included? The day it is, perhaps coexistence can become a fact, not merely a fancy.

David Lawrence Says:

Colleges Can't Cope With Strife

WASHINGTON — There are no signs yet that the Nixon administration, through its prosecuting power, is going to have the backbone to stand up against the organizers and perpetrators of a wide-spread pattern of violence in America's universities, colleges and high schools.

LAWRENCE

President Nixon puts the principal responsibility for action on the shoulders of the universities, when actually no university is able by itself to cope with the big conspiracy operating from coast to coast which has upset so many campuses.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo., earlier this week told the Senate that the colleges and universities of the country for nearly three weeks now have been subjected "to an unprecedented and dramatically well-organized assault by the Students for a Democratic Society — SDS — and their auxiliary organizations."

He said that the assault is expected to reach a climax in the next week and that indications are that more than 30 colleges and universities may be struck.

'SIMILAR TO 1905'

The Colorado senator pointed out that officials of the SDS have been quoted as saying that "they view this moment in history as one similar to the 1905 Russian revolution."

He added: "Are we going to allow this militant and tiny minority of anarchists and revolutionaries to turn campus properties into a base for subversive and militant activities against the United States?"

★ ★ ★

The senator cited the goals of SDS in the words of its leaders: "Smash the military in the schools — no Reserve Officers Training Corps — no war or counterinsurgency research — no military or war recruiting — no draft assemblies in high schools — no police training on the campus."

The "Spring Rebellion," as the campus disruption is being called, is related in various ways to the Vietnam war and racial friction. But basically the objective is to bring disorder.

Allott declared: "The pattern is the same everywhere, of course, including in my own state of Colorado. In fact, I have in my possession an SDS document handed out recently at a Denver East High School basketball game instructing students on how to make homemade bombs and other explosive devices."

Almost every campus of any size has been hit with some kind of militant student activity. The presence of rifles and arms has been noted in several instances. Secret workshops have been held to teach students how to use weapons and explosives.

Allott continued: "We are not dealing with just discontented students who feel they have some legitimate complaints. We are dealing with trained and organized revolutionaries. . . .

"The time has come for responsible members of Congress to focus attention on this dangerous menace."

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., announced that his permanent investigations subcommittee was beginning an investigation of the disorders on the campuses, including the "motives and financing" of such groups as the SDS, the Black Panthers and others which have been active in college disturbances.

Allott spoke again to the Senate, declaring: "Documents such as those issued by the SDS clearly indicate, beyond any reasonable doubt, that there is an active, aggressive national conspiracy to destroy by force and violence, including the use of dangerous weapons, the peace and dignity of the academic communities."

Bob Considine Says:

France's Heir-Apparent Backs De Gaulle Stand

NEW YORK — People . . . Places . . . Pompidou . . .

Georges Pompidou, apparently the heir-apparent, won't take the spirit of Charles de Gaulle out of France. But chances are that he'll just be a bit less inscrutable than the Great One.

CONSIDINE

He told the Hearst task force in Paris not long ago that De Gaulle was absolutely right in vetoing Britain's application for membership in the Common Market.

He said De Gaulle was convinced, as was he, that the moment Britain was admitted it would hook up with West Germany to create a great inner-market industrial complex that would militate against France's chances of improving its own industrial might.

REALISTIC FRENCHMAN

"You would take that money and leave it with the British," he said, "since they would then be full partners in the Common Market. You would consider it to be safer in London than in Paris because you speak the same language." He is a realistic Frenchman.

It isn't likely that Pompidou, if placed in the presidency, would lead France back into membership in the military arm of NATO.

Pompidou told the Hearst team that France never really left the NATO 'cause,' no matter how gruffly De Gaulle put his case. He pointed out that French military planners are present at all allied military meetings except those dealing with the employment of nuclear weapons, but could and would be swiftly briefed in an emergency.

Sputnik I, which started it all, is still in orbit. It went up Oct. 4, 1957. Our first satellite, Explorer I, launched Jan. 31 1958, is also in orbit. The little forerunners of the massive Space Age are expected to circle the earth for at least another 10,000 years.

"By which time, they'll be living in a hapless junk yard," writes Harold R. Williams in "Air Force and Space Digest."

★ ★ ★

The North American Air Defense Command monitors every man-made object in earth orbit that is at least 30 inches in diameter.

At the moment, 1,358 orbiting bodies are that large and larger. But that figure takes into account only a fraction of the bits and scraps man has committed to the merry-go-round of matter that now encircles us.

WORST POLLUTER

By far the worst pollution of space is our own doing. On May 10, 1963, we lifted more than 400 million tiny copper needles 2,000 miles above the earth, as a possible back-up ricochet board if Russia found some way of jamming our communications.

The project was a flop. But they are still up there, needling. They reach around the earth, pole to pole.

★ ★ ★

Some rather heavy objects manage to survive their fiery re-entry into the earth's atmosphere. A big hunk falling in Red Square or on the Pentagon could trigger World War III.

Sleep tight.

Mother Tells Difficulty Finding Suitable Housing

I am a young mother of three children trying to be self-supporting and stay off the welfare roles. Housing is impossible to find at a rate we can afford. Low-income housing is great if you have a year or better to wait. Those of us who work can't afford $150 a month or more. I find it hard to understand why people discriminate against women alone, or against children who need a home.

★ ★ ★

Until someone gives us the chance to make it on our own instead of throwing barricades in front of us, the welfare roles will keep increasing.

Four Views on Sex Education Program

The recent letter from L. D. Juengel prompts me to write. I am a high school senior and in the past two years I have seen many of my friends (16-18 years old), who never had the opportunity of proper sex education at home or school, get pregnant and enter into often unhappy, forced marriages. I am not speaking of a few "bad" kids from good families. As statistics show, the number is staggering. The rest of the teenagers are either lucky or have access to the pill.

★ ★ ★

Instead of condemning sex education in our school system, resorting to name-calling—"hogwash," "lewd, and vulgar manner"—and signing it off as a Communist conspiracy, many adults are concerned and are trying to help in every way they know.

CONCERNED TEEN-AGER

As parents of five children in Waterford Township, we urge everyone to consider the sex education program being instituted in our schools. Waterford Township Board of Education has given us no reason to have confidence in the program, as they admit to using materials developed by Sex Information and Education Council of the U.S.

MR. AND MRS. GERALD BOWMAN
3829 HAZELETT

I believe this new sex education program is dangerous to our youth. They are given a step by step description of sexual "encounters" without religious or moral responsibility injected. This sexual talk will only arouse desires in our young people. The parents should take the course first and see the effect it has on them, before they allow educators to experiment with their children's minds and bodies.

R. B.

I feel sorry for the board of education of Holly since they have decided to expand their sex education program. I believe this advanced form of sex education is designed to lower morals and to ruin a whole generation of young people. Let's take the sex education out of the schools and put Bible reading in its place. We must resist this kind of perversion. It is a Communistic tactic.

Gives Views on Handling of Demonstrators

Gen. Richard Kleindienst, why deny suggesting detention camps for the college demonstrators? I think it is an excellent idea since they claim they don't have room in jail for them. Thousands of moral, ambitious students are being cheated out of the education they are paying for by these leftist and militant demonstrations. I am sure if law-abiding citizens got out on the streets with knives, guns or bombs they would find plenty of room in jail for them.

'Disagree With Opinion on Discrimination'

To Mr. Borgquist who declares that "discrimination is a God-given sacred right," anyone is free to be as discriminating as he pleases in choosing his friends, his clothing, his residence. But how would he enjoy trying to take a trip and find no restrooms, restaurants or motels that were decently clean where his family would be served—no matter how well dressed or mannerly they were. These basic rights have partially been restored to the black men by these "civil-minded lawmakers" and the H.E.W. which Mr. Borgquist denounces as taking away his rights.

Another Opinion on France's Religion

Perhaps I can settle the controversy touched off by Janet Odell's reference to Roman Catholicism as "the state religion" of France. I lived in France for over three years as a foreign worker for the Church of Christ and can state categorically that religious freedom in that country is absolute. While the majority of Frenchmen are indeed Catholic, the church is entirely separate from the state and all religious groups enjoy freedom of worship and belief.

REPLY

Not at this time. However, a state proposal has been made that would prohibit this practice. Write your elected representatives in Lansing to voice your opinion on the matter.

Question and Answer

Could you print the Michigan representatives who are co-sponsoring Rep. Jackson Betts' (R-Ohio) bill to make all but seven of the 66 census questions voluntary. I, too, believe all that's necessary is name, address, age, sex, marital status, relationship to head of household and visitors in the house at the time of census taking. I pray all Americans feel the same. This bill should be a must for the 91st Congress.

State Bar Asks More Policing Powers

LANSING (AP) — The State Bar of Michigan has petitioned the State Supreme Court for reforms in licensing and policing powers over the legal profession.

Current rules, said Gilbert H. Davis, bar president, "do not give the bar sufficient flexibility and the specific power to move promptly in disciplining lawyers guilty of professional misconduct and consequently do not protect the public interest adequately."

The petition, submitted Thursday, calls for:

—Creation of a state grievance panel of 20 attorneys and eight laymen appointed by the governor to investigate complains against lawyers and hold hearings.

• The right of onyone to file a request with his local county clerk for an investigation of a lawyer.

• Authority for the bar's 16-member Board of Commissioners to go directly to court in "exceptional cases," bypassing regular disciplinary procedures to protect the public. This change also would eliminate discipline by local bar associations.

• Provisions to suspend a lawyer who failed to appear when requested before a grievance board.

• Requirement that all lawyers report violations of conduct by fellow lawyers.

• An expanded definition of misconduct, including any criminal law conviction plus any knowing misrepresentation of facts surrounding a grievance complaint.

• Tighter eligibility for reinstatement after suspension or disbarment.

A spokesman for the Supreme Court said the justices could act this spring on the petition.

Current court rules on disciplinary procedures were established in 1935 and were amended in 1958.

The new proposals for changes stem from charges of corruption among some Livingston County lawyers. A three-judge panel of the Livingston County Circuit Court is considering an attempt by the bar to suspend the license of Martin Lavan, a Brighton attorney, without a formal grievance hearing.

After 7 Killed in Nepal

U.S. Climbers Still Await Airlift

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — Fliers planned to try again today to reach the American survivors of one of the worst disasters in the history of Himalayan mountaineering.

Five Americans and two of their Sherpa guides were killed earlier this week apparently by an avalanche, while trying to climb the unconquered southeastern ridge of Mt. Dhaulagiri, the world's seventh tallest mountain.

The other five members of the American team were reported well and awaiting an airlift from the mountain 150 miles northwest of Katmandu. But the weather around the mountain was bad Wednesday and Thursday.

Reports of the tragedy said an avalanche struck above the team's base camp, which is at the 16,000-foot level on the 26,810-foot mountain. The team set out two weeks ago and planned to stay at the base camp about 10 days to accustom themselves to the thin air.

Col. W. Stites, the U.S. military attache in Katmandu, left for Jomson, near the foot of the mountain, in a Nepalese army plane soon after receiving word of the accident. But the plane was diverted to Pokhara by bad weather and returned to Katmandu Thursday.

"There is snow above 12,000 feet and heavy winds around 8,000 feet," Stites reported. "It was impossible to enter into the Jomson valley."

★ ★ ★

Two other planes were waiting at Pokhara, about 100 miles west of Katmandu, for the weather to clear.

Maverick's hot! Any questions?

Measure it any way you like. By the crowds. The news stories. The sales. Few cars have caused a sensation like Maverick or broken so many records. Every day more and more people are asking questions about it. Here are the answers.

Q. Why did you build the Maverick?
A. We think of Maverick as another one of Ford Motor Company's answers to the gold drain. Now Americans who want small car economy don't have to send their U.S. dollars overseas.

Q. Why did you call it Maverick?
A. You know what a maverick is. A maverick breaks the rules. A maverick is different. Maverick plugs the big gap between the compacts and the imports. It has a wheelbase eight inches shorter than a '69 Falcon, eight and one-half inches longer than a VW 1500. Nothing else like it.

Q. Why did you make it this size?
A. Maverick pinches pennies, not people. We gave Maverick more leg room. More shoulder room. More luggage room. Good example: the front seat of a Maverick offers you nine inches more shoulder room than the front seat of the leading economy import and its trunk can handle all the luggage for a family of four, including a set of golf clubs.

Q. What do I get for the price?
A. You get your money's worth. A complete, built-for-Americans kind of car. Room. Hot styling. Color-keyed interiors. Even the heater is included. Some economy car interiors are about as luxurious as a park bench. Not Maverick's. You get plush seats. Cloth and vinyl upholstery with unique tartan plaid cloth inserts. You also get safety features like smart pull-out door handles. Strong safety door locks. Two-speed electric wipers. Safety belts. Head restraints. Plus conveniences like armrests, coat hooks, lighted heater controls . . . important little things that add so much to your driving comfort.

Q. What about options?
A. You can get 'em if you want 'em. You can order integral air conditioning. (It's built in, not hung on.) Other options include 3-speed automatic or low-cost semiautomatic transmission, and a hefty 200 CID Six. But lots of people won't put an extra cent into this car. Because it's all there. A complete car all ready to drive home.

Q. What kind of gas mileage can I get?
A. That depends on you as well as the car. You can get as much as 25 or 26 miles per gallon—if you have an educated toe and the right road conditions. If you have a lead foot, or do a lot of city driving, you will get a lot less. In tests by professional drivers at our tracks, where we do our best to duplicate actual driving conditions, Maverick averaged 22.5 mpg.

Q. What kind of power does Maverick have?
A. Maverick's Six lets loose 105 galloping horses. That's 52 more than you get in the 4-cylinder VW 1500. Maverick can cover 417 feet in ten seconds from a standing start. That means you can get up to highway speed in a hurry. When you enter a 70 mph turnpike, you won't feel like a retired bookkeeper thrust into the middle of a pro football game.

Q. If it has an eight inch longer wheelbase than the leading import, does it still handle and park easily?
A. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle (35.6 feet) than the leading economy import (36.0 feet). Maverick can slant through traffic like a halfback. It can turn on a dime and give you nine cents change. If you've been driving any other American car, you'll find Maverick's neat size adds up to 5½ feet to any parking space.

Q. Can Detroit really build a small economy car that's tough and long lasting?
A. It's not easy, but we did it. Maverick's unitized body construction makes it light, strong and durable. It's welded like a battleship. Rustproofing compound goes into deep crevices that never see the light of day. Then all that strength is covered with four coats of paint for lasting beauty. Result: one tough little car that's put together to stay together. (The service schedule in the Maverick owner's manual goes up to 108,000 miles or nine years; that ought to tell you something about its rugged durability.)

Q. How about parts and service?
A. Maverick is designed to be unusually easy to service. You're dealing with made-in-America parts and 6,000 easy-to-find Ford Dealers. Fast repairs and easy replacements mean extra savings in both time and money.

Q. Is Maverick really easier and less expensive to maintain than an economy import?
A. Definitely. Maverick oil changes come only every 6,000 miles and chassis lubrication once every 36,000 miles. The leading economy import recommends oil changes every 3,000 miles (twice as often as Maverick) and chassis lubrication every 6,000 miles (six times as often as Maverick!). Those are just a few examples of the many ways Maverick lessens inconvenience and lowers operating cost.

Q. Can I do my own maintenance work?
A. Yes, if you have an average amount of mechanical ability. The Maverick owner's manual contains 24 pages of detailed diagrams and easy-to-follow instructions for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself, if you wish. You'll find it easy to change spark plugs, replace ignition points . . . plus many other do-it-yourself repairs and replacements.

Q. Can a small car be safe? And how safe is safe?
A. This small car incorporates the latest advances in engineering. Maverick's brakes are as big as a standard compact's—designed to stop cars weighing hundreds of pounds more. Maverick gives you weight . . . power . . . stability. Designed for American driving conditions.

Q. How does Maverick ride?
A. Here's where Maverick's longer, wider stance really pays off. You get a smoother, quieter ride. Maverick's tight, strong, unitized body helps eliminate squeaks and rattles. Special insulation blocks out road noise. The people who brought you a Ford that was quieter than a Rolls-Royce now bring you a small car that doesn't sound like a power mower.

Q. Is there an advantage in the fact that Maverick is really a 1970 car?
A. Slower depreciation is one money-in-the-pocket advantage. Maverick's 1970 model designation means it keeps its trade-in value higher, longer. (Maverick is built to be a good investment from the minute you buy it to the minute you sell it.)

Better come take a look at this one. You'll find it where the action is . . . right in there with other great Ford values like specially equipped Ford Galaxie 500's . . . Fairlanes . . . Mustangs and Falcons.

You'll find them at your Ford Dealer's . . . the place you've got to go to see what's going on.

For an authentic 1/25 scale model of the new Ford Maverick, send $1.00 to Maverick, P.O. Box 5397, Department , Detroit, Michigan 48211. (Offer ends July 31, 1969.)

Fourteen years ago, Bob Kahn, 17, of Beverly Island Drive (center) was in Mrs. Herman Stenbuck's first class at Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School. Marcy Conn, 5, Lone Pine Road, West Bloomfield Township, is a present pupil of the popular teacher. With Mrs. Stenbuck, (left) they are checking the map to see where she plans to live in Israel. Mrs. Stenbuck is being honored at a number of events this week and next.

Bess Stenbuck Leaving

Community's Loss Is Israel's Gain

By JANET ODELL

The outpouring of affection for Bess Stenbuck as she prepares to leave Pontiac for Israel is heartwarming. It is difficult to recall a similar occasion in recent years.

Just this week, the County Board of Supervisors voted to send her a letter of commendation for her work in the many civic activities in the 32 years she has lived here.

Over 450 children have had a good start in school because they were taught by Mrs. Stenbuck in Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School.

For the past 14 years, she has taught five mornings a week at the cooperative nursery on Elizabeth Lake Road. Mothers have taken their turns helping, but it has always been Bess who set the pace.

And she has loved every minute of that. Everyone who has ever heard her talk about her "kids", knows how she loves them. It is a love returned in full measure.

Parents of past and present students will honor Bess Saturday at a 7-9 p.m. reception at the temple.

Born in Illinois, educated in Wisconsin, Bess came to Pontiac in 1937. Herman Stenbuck was distributor for The Detroit Times. He died several years ago. The Stenbucks had two children and five grandchildren.

RETURNED TO TEACHING

Having taught in Milwaukee, Wis. before her marriage, Bess went back to teaching during World War II. She taught fifth grade and was principal at Malkim School in those war years.

She was an active worker in Girl Scouting for many years. She belonged to the League of Women Voters and Zonta Club of Pontiac.

And she devoted many hours to Sisterhood Beth Jacob, holding every office. She was president in 1947-48.

Next Friday, this Sisterhood will have its annual worship service, the service when women take the leading roles. They will dedicate it to Bess Stenbuck. This occasion is open to all of Bess' friends who will greet her at a reception following the 8:30 p.m. worship hour.

★ ★ ★

All in all, it's a momentous time for this gay and forthright woman. In June, one of her grandsons will graduate from high school and his older brother will be married.

Then, later in the summer, having put all her affairs in order here, she will fly to Israel where she intends to help the little country in whatever way it will let her.

She hopes and most of us who know her hope it will be working with children. For that she has always had a special gift.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a member of a small church in a very small community.

We have a young minister, 28 years old with five children. He is a very dedicated man, but his wife is a millstone around his neck.

She attends Sunday worship, but that is all. She has a girl staying with her to help with the children, so she can't use that as an excuse for not being more active in church work.

She's a chain-smoker and plays cards. She even had a card party while we were having our mid-week prayer service and Bible study! The parsonage is right next door to the church, so we know this is a fact.

We have prayed for her and tried to be friendly, but she doesn't cooperate. Must we tell our pastor to leave?

PRAYERFULLY WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Pray harder for her. And pray also for your young, dedicated minister. And while you're praying, pray for a little more compassion for yourself.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon, and want to know why I can't take my fiance with me when I go to pick out my wedding gown? I mentioned this to a few people, and they all acted like I was some kind of nut.

Abby, if there is ONE person I want to approve of my wedding gown, it's the man I marry. So, why is it so crazy to have him go shopping with me when I buy it? I. M. SERIOUS

DEAR I. M.: I see nothing "crazy" about wanting the man you marry to approve of your wedding gown. SOME brides prefer to "surprise" everyone (groom included) until the wedding march is played, but if you have other ideas, it makes sense to me, and more power to you.

Pony Girl Hopes Her Charge Will Be Derby Winner Again

She's a pony girl, or outrider, whose job it is to escort thoroughbreds to the starting gate.

Last year her charge was first-place finisher Dancer's Image. On Saturday's 95th run for the roses she will be riding shotgun for one of the top contenders, Top Knight.

★ ★ ★

Top Knight, like other thoroughbreds, is a highly sensitive animal who could easily be spooked by crowd noise or other distractions.

Therefore, Mrs. Johnson explained, the outrider's main job is to make sure the thoroughbred stays calm from the time he leaves his stall until he reaches the end of the long walk down to the starting gate.

Top Knight won't find himself among strangers either when Mrs. Johnson and her buckskin Dudley, escort him and jockey Manny Ycaza to the post Saturday. Mrs. Johnson exercises the derby candidate every morning as the Churchill Downs spires begin taking shape in the hazy dawn half-light.

PART OF THE JOB

Riding the horses in the morning is just another part of the job for outriders such as Mrs. Johnson.

She gets $3 per ride, she said, the words drifting out in a slow Texas drawl. And then, in the afternoon, she is paid $10 every time she takes a mount to the post, she added.

The day starts early — 4:30 a.m. she said — and ends around 6:30 p.m. There's usually a break of a couple hours around 11 a.m. when everybody takes off to get some lunch or a second breakfast before heading back to the track and the afternoon card.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Johnson started training early for the job.

"I've been on a race track all my life — and my father had horses," she said.

"I promised my mother I'd never marry a horseman," she said. But she did.

The two — she from Houston, Tex., he from Georgetown, Ky. — own a horse farm outside Hot Springs, Ark., "we've got 25 head," she said.

By SHIRLEY GRAY

Bloomfield Hills residents David and Kay Allan will soon be leaving our town — for good, unfortunately.

While it's hard not to shed a tear upon leaving a spot you've lived in for eight years, the couple is looking forward to being closer to their married son, who lives in New Jersey, and to their summer home, on Nantucket, says Mrs. Allan.

The guest list for Saturday night's Carnation Ball is growing by leaps and bounds. The ball is, of course, the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Symphony's big formal pow-wow of the season.

Before leaving for the formal festivities at the Detroit Boat Club, two Birmingham couples are having a few people in for cocktails — the Owen Regans and the George McClellans.

The McClellans, by the way, recently moved back into town after a three and a half-year hiatus in Pittsburgh, and have even managed to find a place very near the one they lived in previously, on Waddington Road.

Their daughters, Susan and Jennie, are now 16 and 10, respectively.

TICKET HOLDERS

From Bloomfield Hills, the following couples are among those planning to attend the Carnation Ball: the Junior Lance C. Minors, the Robert Berrys, the Christopher J. Mazures, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whiting, Jr., the H. G. Bowleses, the Oliver Whites, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Wells, Jr., and David and Sally Lott.

There from Birmingham will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dalgleish, Jr., the Robert Gills, the James Martins, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Doran, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dewar, the John Deacons and the William Westcotts.

BOHers will be able to sweat out their bets at the club Saturday, Kentucky Derby Day, while viewing the race on color TV and sipping mint juleps.

Nixon Kin Shares Fate's Blessing on Writing Career

NEW YORK (AP) — Jessamyn West's new book about the Quaker forefathers she shares with her second cousin, President Nixon, is just off the press; yet being a writer was a childhood dream she never expected to come true.

"I wanted to write all my life," declared the author of "Except for Me and Thee," settling back comfortably in a big chair in her New York hotel room and kicking off one shoe.

"But writers to me were people like Dickens. I didn't know that a writer was just a person who writes," she explained.

"I had never seen anyone who had written; I had never seen anyone who had seen anyone who had written I thought a writer would be someone wearing a big sign saying 'I am a writer.' "

Now Miss West is entitled to wear that sign herself. Since her first book, "The Friendly Persuasion" in 1945, she has produced a dozen others including Book-of-the-Month Club selection "Cress Delahanty."

Her new volume is a companion piece to "The Friendly Persusasion," recounting the earlier life of Jess and Eliza Birdwell and focusing on their activities with the underground railroad of Civil War days.

The characters are modeled after Joshua and Elizabeth Milhous, great-grandparents of both Nixon and Miss West, whose maternal grandfathers were brothers.

Born in Indiana, the author moved at the age of 6 to Yorba Linda, Calif., then a Quaker community that had attracted many branches of the Milhous family. "But we lived right across an irrigation canal from the Nixons and I felt closer to them that to my first cousins. Richard's mother gave me my first birthday party when I was 7 years old."

★ ★ ★

She went to Whittier College, which Nixon also attended, and after graduation married H.M. McPherson, a classmate whom she calls "Max." She did graduate work at the University of California, seeking a Ph.D. in English.

★ ★ ★

The date was set for her doctor's orals when she was told she had an advanced case of tuberculosis and she went to a sanitorium where she didn't put a foot out of bed for two years.

CHANGE LIFE

"Sometimes I think I got TB so I wouldn't have to have a life of scholarship and teaching," she laughed. "For 10 years I spent most of my time lying on a couch almost afraid to move. When I began to get well I started writing stories, but I didn't send them out.

★ ★ ★

"My husband was so insistent that I try to place them," she continued, "that I finally said "I will write 12 stories and send each story to 12 magazines and when they're all turned down, will you say no more?'

"Well, a story was taken and I slept with the letter under my pillow," she smiled, her expressive face, framed by short gray-brown hair, aglow with the recollection.

NOT FLYING

Miss West already has plans for two more books. "You feel like hell if things don't go right, every sentence is clumsy and everything written by everyone else is shining, but despite this misery you're not flying if you're a writer and not writing," she said, throwing out her arms in a gesture which seemed to embrace her whole love of the craft.

Not only does she love writing, but she loves actually putting down words. "As some women like to crochet or knit," she said, "I love the physical act of forming words with a pen."

She uses an old-fashioned fountain pen and writes in bed, often from 9 to 10 in the morning until 2 p.m. In sunny weather she writes outside reclining on a cot. "I write lying down, maybe because I'm lazy," she offered in explanation, "but possibly because I started writing lying flat on my back."

She and her husband, who has a doctor's degree in education and is a professor at the University of California, Berkeley, have a big, rambling house in Napa, complete with two streams, a view of the hills, Tennessee walking horses, a swimming pool, lots of dogs and two cats.

★ ★ ★

But her favorite pursuits are reading and writing. "If I had to give up one," she said thoughfully, "I'd give up reading, but then I might be so desolate I couldn't write."

Outsize Broom to Sweep Outside

When it is time to scrub the patio or garage, it is a good investment to get a supersized, commercial-type broom. It is necessary to buy this from a janitorial supply house but it is worth the trouble because it is wide enough to cover a considerable surface with each stroke.

★ ★ ★

Like all brushes it should be swished through hot soap suds to keep the bristles clean.

Sews Buttons Minus Thread

Make way for a five-second button attacher that eliminates the need for needle and thread.

The gadget, the size of a fountain pen is equipped with a needle for piercing fabric and attaching buttons with synthetic-filament fasteners, rather than thread.

The manufacturer says the operator inserts the needle through the button and fabric and bushes the handle, inserting a fastener and attaching button. The maker also said buttons or trim will remain securely affixed indefinitely.

Fasteners are not affected by soaps, detergents or dry-cleaning solvents.

Club Closes Year With Installation

Birmingham Woman's Club has a number of activities planned for the wind-up of its 78th year.

First of these is a dessert-tea at the Community House Tuesday at 12:30 p.m. Installation of officers for the new season will be made by Mrs. Bernard Segner, first vice president of the Federation of Women's Clubs of Metropolitan Detroit.

Mrs. Seymour Marshak will take over the presidency. She will be assisted by Mesdames: Gerard H. Horton and Richard Gray, vice presidents; Mrs. Forbes Hascall, recording secretary and Mrs. Theodore A. Dauer, treasurer.

The annual spring luncheon is scheduled at Oakland Hills Country Club on May 14. The fashion review will be by the Jacqueline shops with commentary by Jackie Crampton.

Mrs. Gayer W. Moynes won a first place for oil painting; Mrs. Olaff Runge, 2nd place. Mrs. Thomas Canniff won both first and second places in watercolors. Mrs. Daniel Watts took first place for needlework and Mrs. Melbourne Apple won second place in dressmaking.

Ease Hand Strain

The correct way to hold a paint brush: grasp the brush comfortably, near the base of the handle. Hold it rather loosely. Don't bear down hard, but exert only enough pressure to make bristles flex slightly toward the tip.

Girl Scouts Announce Upcoming Summer Camp Events

The Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council announces two important summer happenings.

In connection with five other councils in the Detroit metropolitan area, the local council is sponsoring a two-week encampment, "Reach Out," June 29-July 12.

500 girls from all over the United States and Canada will attend the camp at Camp Innisfree, a Detroit Girl Scout camp near Pinckney.

Readers will remember that the first Girl Scout Roundup ever held in the United States was at Highland Recreation area in 1956. At that time, 5000 Scouts from the United States, Canada and other foreign countries lived together for 10 days.

Similar Roundups were held every htree years thrugh 1965, but were not possible last year. Instead, this type of regional camping is taking the place of roundups.

Reach Out was conceived and planned by senior Girl Scouts, some of whom will serve as hostesses for the event. At the request of these seniors, concentrated training in leadership skills is part of the program.

PARTICIPATING

Other councils participating are Otsikita of Mt. Clemens, Metropolitan Detroit; Fair Winds, Flint; Huron Valley, Ypsilanti and Southern Oakland County, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Dale E. Folsom of North Cass Lake Road was recently graduated from Western Michigan University with a BA degree in elementary education. She is the daughter of Olaf B. Rose of Eldridge Street.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The other summer activity just announced is the sixth annual camp for exceptional children. Camp Courage is a day camp at Proud Lake Recreation Area, sponsored by the scouts and SPUR (Special Education Parents' Unit for Retarded Children). Dates are Aug. 18-21 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

Registrations for any child in special education between the ages of seven and 16 will be accepted through June 1.

★ ★ ★

The program includes campcraft skills and nature crafts. Some of the children take part in an overnight session, sleeping in tents and cooking three meals.

NEED COUNSELORS

Interested parents are needed to serve as counselors. A unit for counselors' children will be set up. Senior Girl Scouts who get special precamp training, assist the adult leaders.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Schieferstein, Camp Courage director, may be contacted at the Girl Scout office at Tel-Huron for further information.

Application forms for both campers and counselors are also available at the local office.

German Summer Beckons Holly Girl

By MARCIA CLARK

"I'm thrilled and very proud to be representing Holly and Holly High School abroad," commented Jinx Kincaid, Holly High School's Youth for Understanding exchange student to Germany.

Jinx, a junior at HHS, applied to the program after seeing a film from the Youth for Understanding Commission in Ann Arbor.

She was selected by the local reviewing commission made up of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. William Addis, Mrs. Charles Hansard, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Montgomery, and David Smith, and by the final reviewing panel in Ann Arbor.

STEMS FROM WORLD WAR II

The Youth for Understanding program was originally formed after World War II to promote better understanding between Germany and the United States by giving German students an opportunity to view life in the U.S. firsthand.

It has expanded to give students in countries all over the world a chance to live in another country for 10 weeks during the summer.

★ ★ ★

Jinx was given a choice of countries she would like to visit, her choice was Germany.

Jinx will live in a family similar to her own and share in all the family activities.

Jinx, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prose, of East Holly Road, has one older brother, Rick, an older sister, Margaret, and two younger sisters, Nancy and Julie.

The aim of the Youth for Understanding exchange program is not to give the students a guided tour of the country but to give them a chance to observe firsthand family life in that country.

★ ★ ★

Jinx will travel by plane from Detroit to New York City and then on to Germany. From the German airport Jinx will then travel to a town nearer her host family.

BIGGEST WORRY

"My biggest worry is that I'll miss my connections after I get to Germany. And that if I do I might not be able to find anyone who can speak English to direct me," remarked Jinx.

Jinx will leave the States in late June and return in late summer.

★ ★ ★

"The main reason for my wishing to go overseas is to meet kids my own age in different countries and talk to them, exchange ideas about what is going on in the world," Jinx continued.

★ ★ ★

Jinx has always taken an active interest in school activities. She is the chairman of the planning committee for the Junior-Senior Banquet.

Out of the total cost of more than $750 for the trip, the Student Council of HHS donated $300.

By CHRIS GINGRAS

Attention, all students of Waterford Kettering, Waterford Township, Waterford Mott, Clarkston and Pontiac Catholic high schools: You are hereby issued a challenge by the senior class of Our Lady of the Lakes to find your way over a purposely confusing course in a given amount of time in the first of an annual series of car rallies at Lakes — "Mother Goose on Wheels."

What is a car rally? Precisely this — the rally master sets up a course over roads and clocks the course as to number of miles and the time taken to drive it at the legal speed limit.

The contestants leave the starting point at a given time and follow the prescribed course according to the clues given on the direction sheet.

There is a specified average speed to be maintained, and contestants are penalized points at each of several checkpoints based on their inability to maintain that speed, whether over or under.

NOT SPEED CONTEST

The car with the fewest points upon completion of the course is then declared champion.

It is not a speed race of any kind, but rather a test of your skill to decipher the clues given and complete the course in the same amount of time as the rally master, or as near that ideal time as possible.

The rally will take place at Lakes May 10, beginning at 3 p.m. with cars starting the course at intervals of one to two minutes. The course driven will take slightly under three hours to complete.

Admission will be $2.50 per car and driver plus 50 cents for each additional passenger. This price includes free entrance to the victory party afterward, at which prizes will be awarded.

TROPHIES TO BE AWARDED

Trophies will be awarded in each of the following classes: Over-all winner, 2nd and 3rd places, top all-girl team, and top school (the school with the most contestants placing in the top ten.)

At the beginning of the rally all participants must pass a technical auto safety inspection in these four areas: front and rear lights and turn signals must be in good operating condition; tires must have no bald spots; steering must be good without too much play in the wheel; and brakes MUST be in good condition.

★ ★ ★

All drivers must also present a waiver of liability signed by parent or legal guardian. All of this is to insure the safety of the participants.

After the inspection, each car will receive a list of instructions and clues, a registration number, a starting time and free entrance to the victory party.

It is recommended that each driver bring along at least one navigator to read the clues aloud and assist in figuring out the directions — and the more navigators, the better.

Other recommended accessories are: dictionary, thesaurus (book of synonyms); a book of Mother Goose (as clues will be taken from there); a stopwatch; a slide rule, rally tables or rally computer, to compute your average speed; a powerful flashlight; a compass and county maps; and a full tank of gas.

There is a special admission price for the party only of $1 per person, or $1.50 per couple, so those who are not in the rally proper may still attend the party. There will be live entertainment.

Groves Readies Its Water Show

BENITA ROSEN

With a little imagination and scenery the Wylie E. Groves High School swimming pool will serve as the setting for "Lost Safari," the 1969 water ballet show, to be presented at 8 p.m. on Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

"Lost Safari" is based on the experiences of the survivors of a 15-century shipwreck off the coast of Africa.

★ ★ ★

Grass huts and papier-mache big-game animals adding to the jungle atmosphere were created by scenery chairmen Brooke Greeson and Sharon Lapp.

'THE SACRIFICE'

Then Robin Greeson and Doug Tull perform a duet as lovers, after which Robin is sacrificed to the goddess of fire, portrayed by Sue Lapp.

★ ★ ★

Sue, who is president of the Nereids (the water ballet club), will follow with the show's solo.

"The Hunt," the following act, is performed by Steve Driver, Rick Horner, Laura Jerue and Michelle Qualtiere.

WASHERWOMEN

Joan Mattice and Sue VanLopik play washerwomen in the senior duet. Joan also teams up with Peggy Maass and Jann Rosen for a monkey trio.

Connie Aiken, Cathy Bristor and Robin Knight begin their act as coal, then whip off their black cloaks to reveal sparkling African diamond costumes.

Tickets for "Lost Safari" are $1 for students $1.25 for adults and will be available at the door.

★ ★ ★

The melodies of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Trial By Jury" will fill the gym on Thursday, at 8 p.m., as the Groves choir presents its spring concert in operetta form.

West Bloomfield

By SHARON CARR

West Bloomfield High School has had many National Merit Scholar semi-finalists, and some finalists, but Harold Cowan is the first National Merit Scholar that has attended West Bloomfield.

It all began in February, 1968 when 793,114 students from 17,572 schools took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. This test covered five areas; English usage, mathematics usage, social studies reading, natural science reading, and word usage.

From that, less than one per cent of the students qualified as semifinalists, and 97 per cent of these finalists. At that point Hal and the others were tested again, and he became a National Merit Scholar. His score was 146 out of possible 160.

It was emphasised that "while the school deserves the credit for its role in developing the students' ability, Merit Scholarship winners are usually products of a combination of able parents, wholesome home influence, effective schooling and other background experiences within and outside formal schooling." Hal and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cowan live on Bantry Lane in Orchard Lake.

Graduating with a 3.73 average, he will attend Michigan State University as an honor freshman. He plans to be a humanities major with studies in Russian, history, and political science. After graduation he will either go into the law department or teach at the university level.

Hal has been active all through his high school years, especially in his senior year. He belongs to the National Honor Society, and Chess Club, is coeditor of the literary magazine he organized and heads the Human Relations Club.

Do your thing at the Spring Thing! Sponsored by the National Honor Society, the carnival will be held at the high school tomorrow from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

HOPEFUL JUNIOR MISSES—Michigan's Junior Miss Lynn Barry (right) of Portage and Alabama's Junior Miss, Carol Ann Crowgey of Montgomery, recently arrived in Mobile, Ala., for the 12th annual America Junior Miss Pageant which started yesterday. Deadly Name for New Shop

SEATTLE (AP) — While Arthur Montgomery was searching for a name for his tobacco, magazine and novelty shop, he spied a dictionary definition that seemed appropriate.

He named the shop Carcinogen.

"I thought it would have the reverse twist effect on customers—and it has," Montgomery said. "I smoke two packs a day myself, and customers are smoking as much as ever."

Churches Get Black Threat

'Make Reparations or Face Disruptions'

NEW YORK (AP) — The timing of any efforts to carry out a "black manifesto" calling for disruption of church agencies until they meet demands for $500 million in reparations to black people today appeared uncertain—as did the status of the plan itself.

Strategies have yet to be announced, said the Rev. Lucius Walker Jr., chairman of the first National Black Economic Development Conference. The conference issued the manifesto in its closing hours last weekend in Detroit.

It demanded the multimillion-dollar reparations from churches and synagogues for injustices to Negroes over the years, the money to be used to finance various projects to enhance black economic progress.

"Fifteen dollars for every black brother and sister in the United States is only a beginning of the reparations due a people who have been exploited and degraded, brutalized, killed and persecuted," it said.

187-62 VOTE

The manifesto, adopted by a vote of 187 to 62 at the meeting of Negro community and organizational leaders, bankers, economists and others, called for nationwide disruption of religious agencies until the demands were met.

No record was made of what proportion of the rest of the approximately 550 delegates abstained from the voting, or had left.

News reports at the time said the plan was to start disruptions today, but the Rev. Mr. Walker said this was erroneous, and that specific plans still were pending. He noted the manifesto itself asks that disruptions begin Sunday "or a date thereafter," which leaves the matter open-ended.

James Forman, leader of a radical faction which had seized control of the Detroit conference near its end and engineered passage of the manifesto, said action on it will vary by localities, without prior notice.

500 MILLION

Confronting two bishops of the Episcopal Church at its headquarters here Thursday, he read the manifesto aloud to them, and said, "The Episcopal Church alone could pay $500 million. There's no question about it."

Bishop J. Brooke Mosley, the church's deputy for overseas relations, said he doubted it. He said that the church already spends large sums on black-progress projects.

Bent Responds to Fertilization

A light feeding every few weeks would be ideal, but avoid heavy fertilization in muggy weather when temperatures get above 80 degrees.

'Green Trees' Open House on Sunday

Sunday at 3 p.m., the Parent-Teacher Guild of Pontiac Catholic High School will hold an open house at the high school to mark the project "Green Trees."

A Vegetable That Tries to Please All

Thus, it's news when a variety of vegetable is found which is so mild and bland that even tender tummies can tolerate it and their owners enjoy it.

★ ★ ★

It may be grown in many climates, even hot ones.

The vines may be trained upward on fense or trellis as well as allowed to spread outward on the ground.

SIZE

Burpless grows a good-sized cuc — is best harvested at 10-inch length.

It may be used sliced, in salads, or cut into sticks and eaten as a finger food.

Should tomatoes, instead of cucumbers, be the vegetable that your tummy can't take, try growing White Beauty which has ivory skin, white flesh.

It is so low in acid that people unable to eat any other kind of tomato can enjoy White Beauty.

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

For accent on your lawn, we recommend a birch tree. The accent is in the bark, the color of which may range from chalk white through orange to black. One of our favorite lawn trees when we lived in Maine was a coppery birch. We saw it every time we looked through the picture window, the snow or sunshine, toward the bay.

★ ★ ★

There are 10 native species of the beautiful birch, including a variety that may be used effectively in almost any landscape plant.

Most popular, it seems, are the birches with the lighter bark. The canoe, or paper birch, has chalky white bark and dark green leaves.

The European white birch has drooping branches and white bark that peels easily. The yellow birch has a frayed bark, silver on the outside and in orange shades when it peels.

BACKGROUND

The birch may be used as a background for flowers and shrubs. You may get a birch with a single trunk or several planted as a group to appear as one with several trunks.

Plant a birch that will not blend into obscurity in the background of your yard.

The leaf miner is a major pest of the birch. The larval (worm) stage of this insect lives inside the leaf where it feeds.

It tunnels inside the leaf, causing blotches and blisters to appear on the outside. Infested leaves turn brown in late spring or early summer and will drop off.

Recommended for control are lindane spray applied when punctures and small mines become visible. For best results repeat spray twice at 10-day intervals. This spray also will control gray aphids.

There are prepared sprays, such as Spectracide, for the control of leaf miner, applied at 10-day intervals.

★ ★ ★

Sprays will control the adult sawflies as they emerge from the leaf and prevent them from laying eggs for another hatch.

If you use push-button, pressurized cans of insecticides in your garden or indoors, keep the can 18 inches from the foliage to prevent the foliage from injuring the leaves.

Straight Hole Best for Planting All Trees, Shrubs

When transplanting trees and shrubs make the planting hole straight-sided or even undercut instead of bowl-shaped. This gives the roots much more room where they need it.

The soil with which you backfill should be enriched with an organic or other slow-acting fertilizer. (Fast-acting fertilizers may burn the tender, young roots.)

Also from 20 to 25 per cent, by volume, of the soil should be peatmoss, leafmold, perlite, vermiculite, shredded bark or other soil-loosening material, especially if the original soil is heavy.

If the surrounding soil is particularly heavy and surface water is likely to drain into the area, as in a sink-hole, it is necessary to improve the drainage to prevent drowning the tree.

In such cases, try to dig down another 2-to-3 feet, if possible, and put in the bottom a foot of stones or other drainage material with at least an inch of non-matting leaves or marsh hay over it to prevent the soil from sifting down between. This gives the excess water some place to go.

Of course, after planting you should firm the soil well around the roots and water generously, stake trees to prevent wind-whipping.

Spring's 'Food Time' for Trees and Shrubs

While you're raking, reseeding and fertilizing your lawn, it's good to remember that spring is feeding time for your trees, shrubs and perennial flowers, too.

Expecting them to flourish with lush foliage and beautiful blossoms without spring care is like sending a man out to do a day's work without a good breakfast under his belt. You may be disappointed.

A growing number of homeowners and gardners have adopted the root-feeding method of fetilizing. The procedure is to place the plant food right at the roots of the plants, bypassing grass and micro-organisms which live just beneath the surface of the soil and feed on fertilizer since all the food reaches the plant for which it is inteded, and it can be absorbed and utilized quickly.

There are two methods of root feeding. One is to bore holes in the ground around the plant, partially fill them with fertilizer, and replace a protion of the plug. The ground is then watered to dissolve the fertilizer, or the gardener waits for rain to complete the job.

EASIER WAY

An easier, more effective way is to use a root feeder and plant food cartridges. The feeder connects to the garden hose. It has a transparent chamber for plant food, a water shut-off handle, and a 27-inch pointed tube.

★ ★ ★

Plant food cartridges are loaded into the chamber and the tube is pushed into the ground under the drip branches of the plant. When the handle is turned water flows through the chamber, dissolving the cartridges and carrying the plant food in solution to the feeder roots of the plant.

★ ★ ★

There are a number of advantages to using the feeder. It leaves only a tiny hole which qucikly disappears. It feeds and waters at the same time, and plant food in solution can be absorbed and utilized quicker by the plant. It provides a more even dispersal of plant food through the sub-surface soil.

It takes little time (you can root feed while you work on the lawn or perform other chores). And it aerates the soil. This is particularly important for deep-rooted plants such as trees and shrubs.

AVAILABLE

The feeder is avilable at most lawn, garden and hardware stores. It can be used at any time of the day or night without danger of burning the lawn. Over-feeding is virtually impossible.

A feeding chart packed with the feeder gives schedules for feeding trees, shrubs and flowers throughout the gardening season.

The plant food cartridges are sold in prepared formulas for trees, evergreens, roses, and general purpose. Special formulations are also available for transplanting and for correcting iron deficiency.

Start Marigolds in Clay Pots

This spring, many growers, florists and garden centers will be featuring marigolds in six-inch clay pots.

These vivid yellow early bloomers can be sunk in garden soil, in sunny spots, to flower all summer outdoors after they have furnished early spring color indoors.

Four o'Clocks for Low Hedge

Old-fashioned four o'clocks are excellent for use as a low hedge. So is kochia, more commonly called "burning bush" for its fall foliage color.

Man Betters Turf Grasses

None of the plants upon which man depends has had to adapt more suddently to a whole new way of life than today's prestigeous lawngrasses. Only a generation ago Kentucky bluegrasses and fine fescues were rude pasture species, accommodating to nothing more upsetting than seasonal grazing by livestock.

★ ★ ★

Came America's migration to the suburbs, and all of this changed within a few years. Suddenly the hardy pasture grasses were asked to become eternally green, exquistely low and fine-textured, able to withstand constant mowing. All of this while continuing to be hardy and resisting disasters which would show so conspicuously under constant scrutiny.

RESEARCHERS

The researchers really had to get busy. The earlier of this new breed of lawngrasses were simply picked up where discovered, usually from patches of outstanding turf.

Merion Kentucky bluegrass was one such; it was the first elite bluegrass heralded for fine turf only. Classical examples among other species are Chewings fine fescue from New Zealand, and Highland bentgrass from the Silverton hills of Oregon.

Today a host of attractive grasses are peing chosen solely for their performance in the lawn. Some are developed through crossing, and the hybrid propagated vegetatively (since it will not come true from seed), as with elite Bermuda grasses.

Fortunately, Kentucky bluegrasses reproduce by seed that is mostly identical with the mother plant. Thus when a breeder comes up with an exciting cross he can perpetuate it through seed. Seed, unlike vegetative plantings, is not likely to carry disease or parasitic pests that might wreak havoc in the lawn.

Give Plants Preparation

If you plan to make efficient use of your house plants outdoors, don't make the transfer too abruptly.

While they await the move, plants can be kept for awhile on an indoor sheltered porch to get used to cooler temperature.

★ ★ ★

Then, when threat of frost is past, you can bury them in garden soil, or in window boxes up to the rims of their clay pots, which keep plants healthier in all seasons.

Pick Correct Setting for Dianthus Bravo

Even a single plant of Dianthus Bravo is an eyecatcher, especially when it's planted in a suitable setting, for instance alongside a grayish rock.

VERSATILE

This little pink has several uses — the single plant landscape described above or massed in beds or even window boxes.

★ ★ ★

It also is pretty as an edging, if only it is by itself or next to other plants blooming in compatible colors.

Eyecatcher Dianthus Bravo Is A Scarlet-Red

Check Bloom Plan for Fall

Everyone knows crocus but there are also other early bulbs you should get acquainted with.

For instance, do you know Siberian scillas? The flowers are smaller, like bells, and of the brightest blue.

★ ★ ★

Happily situated, they multiply fast and a clump of two dozen bulbs soon make a bold splash of color while the crocus are just making up their minds to flower.

Blooming with the scillas are the paler blue, upright bells of Chionodoxas and still earlier the white snowdrops.

★ ★ ★

Did you ever think of interplanting daffodils with a background of soft blue hyacinths? Or mixing them with the staid forms of hyacinths in pink, blue, white or red?

GIANT TULIPS

Then, far ahead of the giant tulips bloom single and double early tulips, about the same time as daffodils and hyacinths. They stretch out your season of bloom.

Then, of course, everyone knows the late, large-flowered tulips (Darwins and Breeders) but how many plant the graceful lily-flowered type, the wood hyacinths or the other bulbs?

★ ★ ★

With all of these figure out your color schemes now and get the variety names, if you can, so you will get the exact colors for a blooming spring next year. Plan now and your garden will be the envy of your neighbors next year.

Strawberries for Your Garden Grown Easily, Taste Delicious

Of all the small fruits—and, perhaps, of all the fruits—the strawberry is clearly the most productive and one of the most delicious. Also, it can be grown anywhere in the United States.

For example, a mere dozen plants allowed to grow into a matted row 25 feet long and only 3 feet wide can average 12 to 18 quarts or 4 to 6 dozen servings of luscious fruit in a season.

Any soil that will grow vegetables or flowers—or even good weeds—will grow strawberries. However, if you must start with new land, prepare it well, as you would for any garden.

In either case, prepare your soil early, loosening it and turning it over a full spade or fork in depth. Mix into it a layer of humus (peat, leafmold, age manure, etc.) at least 1 inch deep and rake in thoroughly 5 pounds of any good vegetable fertilizer sold in your area for every 3 by 25 feet.

PLANT IN SPRING

While plants can be set out at other times, early spring is best in most parts of the country. Then the plants have plenty of time to get well established by fruiting time the following spring.

★ ★ ★

About 2 feet apart in a single row is a good distance for home gardens. Once the area (a 3-foot wide strip) has become comfortably filled with plants hoe out any additional ones which grow and mulch with wood chips, ground corn cobs, old straw or any similar material to retain moisture and prevent wide fluctuations in soil temperature as well as help keep down weeds.

★ ★ ★

For the biggest and best berries, however, the hill system is preferred in home gardens. Under this method the plants are set out 12 to 18 inches apart, both ways, and all runners hoed off. Obviously, about three times as many plants are needed.

What varieties to use? Today strawberry varieties are tailored closely to the areas in which they are grown. So, purchase what is recommended by your dealer as best for your locale, whether you buy by mail order or locally. Only one variety is necessary.

Unlike some fruits, practically all varieties are self-fruitful when set out by themselves but, in no case, permit fruiting (pick off the flowers) the year they are set out—unless you planted "everbearers." Then allow a few the first fall.

How long will the plants bear? From 2 to 4 years, if good, virus-free plants are purchased. Watch your crop.

When production begins to decline noticeably in spite of a reasonable feeding (3 pounds of fertilizer per 75 square feet) each spring, discard the plants and either dig up and prepare the beds well as before or better, move it to a new location, if you have the space, and use new plants.

Container Plants Ready for Spring

This year's early spring means container plants will supply the flowers that symbolize spring and rebirth.

★ ★ ★

Geraniums Like Sun

Vividly colored geraniums will thrive in a bay window that gets bright sunlight, or they can be planted right in their clay pots in an outdoor window box or patio planter for the summer.

They make a welcome lane on front porch steps, or an attractive border for terraces or walks.

Garden Fair Opens Today

Visitors at the Lawn and Garden Fair at Michigan State Fairgrounds today and tomorrow will be able to find out all about the proper methods of caring for the fruit trees in their backyards. Several ongoing demonstrations, presented by expert horticulturists will be of interest.

★ ★ ★

James Lincoln, district horticulturist for Southeastern Michigan, will show how to prune and train fruit trees with actual trees. Jack Prescott, county etxension director from Mt. Clemens, will show the same procedures in grape culture.

One of the local men's garden clubs will show all of the processes and techniques used in grafting and budding of fruit trees. Other experts will deal with strawberry culture, and with raspberries and other bramble fruits.

Still another show-how presentation will deal with the proper and safe use of pesticides in the home fruit graden.

The Lawn and Garden Fair is presented today from 4-9:30 p.m. and tomorrow from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. at the Michigan State Fairgrounds Woodward Avenue, south of Eight Mile Road. Admission is free except for a small parking fee.

The fair is developed to bring together a number of resource people, to present demonstrations dealing with almost all phases of non-commercial horticulture.

Subjects covered will include lawns, vegetable gardens, shade trees, shrubs, flowers, insect and other pest control, fertilization, landscaping and many other subjects.

Resource persons assisting come from many sources; Michigan State University, local Extension Service offices, City and County Parks and Recreation staffs, local landscape firms, local flower and ornamental growers, and from organizations and garden clubs. Attending the fair in 1968, were 30,000 garden-oriented persons. A larger attendance is expected this year.

★ ★ ★

The trade show, which provides exposure to the latest development in lawn and garden equipment and supplies, will be greatly expanded this year. The emphasis for the event, however, continues to stress the "how-to-do-it" demonstration of gardening techniques presented by gardening experts, and a massive one-day educational even for homeowners.

Check for Salts in American Violets

Best way to avoid such salt buildups is to keep African violets in porous red clay pots, which leach out excess salts through pot walls with each watering.

To do this, simply set pots in a saucer of luke warm water for an hour or so.

Use Petunias In Floral Bouquets

Use Arrangements for Summer Beauty

Every homemaker delights in arranging flowers for the table or to brighten some other place in the house. And fortunate indeed is the woman who has a garden full of annuals to fulfill her decorative whims, because these flowers are among the most colorful and easiest to fashion into showy indoor displays.

Some value annuals so highly for this purpose that they insist on having an array of annuals planted in separate beds where they can draw on them freely — a sort of "cutting garden."

But you don't need a cutting garden to fully enjoy their indoor charm. Cut them from the regular beds and borders. One thing about annuals is that they like to be cut. Snipping their blooms actually encourages them to produce new ones.

Moreover, the busy homemaker soon discovers that she can whip up dramatic "quickie" arrangements in no time with annuals because their varied size, form, and brilliant colors are so readily adaptable to this purpose.

ZINNIAS

Take zinnias, for example. A few or a dozen big blooms of Wild Cherry, Red Man or State Fair can be spectacular in a plain vase, wicker basket, or any other handy container. If you favor the smaller blooms, pick yourself some of the Lilliput or Button zinnias or the tiny Thumbelinas for truly dainty arrangements.

The same holds true with the ever-popular marigolds, which range in size from the big, bold Jubilee and Climax varieties down to the charming little petites.

And did you know that petunias you enjoy so much in the garden can also be enjoyed in indoor bouquets? You'll be surprised at their lasting qualities in water.

A one-color bouquet of single flowered types, such as Flame, Maytime, Appleblossom, and Sugar Daddy, or the doubles such as Cherry Tart, rosy-lavender Plum Double, and white Sonata, can't help but win praise.

ELEGANT

With just a bit more doing, the petunia arrangements can become really elegant. Simply work in some contrasting colors of flowers with upright forms. For this we can't think of anything more approriate than the showy Rocket and KneeHigh snapdragons, which offer colors that include pink, yellow, orchid, bronze, white, red, and lavender.

When you cut your annuals for arrangements, do so in the early morning or early evening, selecting freshly opened or nearly opened blooms. Place them in water immediately after cutting and keep them there while fashioning your arrangement.

Commercial preservatives avilable from your florist or garden center will help extend the life of your blooms, as will a cool location for their display. Use containers deep enough to provide an adequate supply of water to the flower stems.

Expose Child to Gardening

A compact garden of three or four tiny spring flowering plants in red clay pots or on pebbles in a small tray, will give your youngsters a happy start in the satisfying hobby of container gardening.

Young gardeners will learn good house plant care habits by watering their clay-potted plants in these small planters.

Mail-Order Course Covers Vegetables

Do you know what a college course costs these days? Well, first, there's tuition, which isn't cheap by any means. Room and board, though, make tuition seem cheap. You really shell out for food and shelter.

Then you have to count on at least $50 for books every term. Depending on the course, it could be much more. Like $32 for one tevtbook on landscape architecture. Also there are expensive incidentals such as fraternity or sorority fees and coke and hotdog money.

★ ★ ★

It adds up to the cash price of a luxury car or the down payment on a new home in an exclusive neighborhood in just a year or two.

But you, yourself, can take a college course and probably pass it with flying colors for the tiniest fraction of the amount it costs the kids.

If you're a vegetable gardener, you'll be interested in Penn State's correspondence course on Home Vegetable Gardening. It will cost only $3 and will present in detail the cultural needs of 35 vegetables common to district gardens.

The course will teach you about planting dates, kinds of fertilizer to use and rates of application, how many plants to set in a row and how far apart to dig the rows—even when to harvest.

The course is easy to understand and you can be a straight-A student if you send in the exams. However, it isn't necessary to take the tests. To become a collegiate vegetable grower, just send your name and address—along with the three bucks, of course—to Home Vegetable Gardening, Box 5000, University Park, Pa. 16802.

HOW-TO-HINTS — In these days of nationwide beautification "how to plant" a tree becomes doubly important. Planting trees can be wasteful if the trees die because of improper planting, or lack of care, such as insufficient watering until they become established. Conservation of a tree begins with planting it. The drawings show the care taken by nurserymen in digging and planting trees.

Shrub Planting Tips Available by Mail

Loosen up those shovel muscles — shrub planting time is here. Get bare-rooted plants in the ground before they come out in leaf.

Many other planting hints are given in The Pennsylvania State University's correspondence course on shrubs for the home grounds.

If plants arrive and you're not ready to get the plants into the ground, heel (cover) the roots in moist soil in shade.

To plant, dig holes with straight sides and flat bottoms large enough to accommodate the roots with three to six inches to spare.

MIX SOIL-PEAT

Mix topsoil with one-fourth peatmoss. Shovel three to six inches of the mixture into the hole.

Next, check plant roots and prune away damaged and broken parts. Then place the plant in the hole at the same depth it stood in the nursery where it grew. Spread the roots — untangled and outward. Fill the hole two-thirds and level the soil over the roots.

★ ★ ★

Then fill the hole with water. Let it settle and fill a second time.

Finally, fill the hole with soil, but provide a basin-like area around the plant to catch rainwater.

Thin the top growth. Prune out long stems. Apply mulch around the plant to reduce loss of soil moisture.

Descriptions of foliage, flowers and growth habit of 200 kinds of plants are given in the correspondence course. Send your name and address with $2.25 to Shrubs, Box 5000, University Park, Pa. 16802. There are no other charges and a complete course copy comes to you by mail.

Heavy Air Losses Suffered by U. S.

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. command announced today that 23 helicopters and 10 fixed-wing planes were lost in the Vietnam war during the past week. It was one of the more expensive weeks for America's aerial forces.

Most of the helicopters were shot down, and the others were lost in collisions or enemy attacks on U.S. bases, headquarters said.

At least two of the planes were fighter-bombers reported shot down earlier. The command gave no details about the other losses.

The report said a total of 2,585 U.S. helicopters and 2,681 planes now have been lost in the war.

A U.S. spokesman also announced that 38,000 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese have been killed since the Viet Cong spring offensive started Feb. 23, and American and South Vietnamese forces since the first of the year have captured:

- 2,500 rockets and 110,000 mortar rounds, "more than the enemy has fired countrywide in the same period."
- 2,500 tons of rice, enough to feed 50 battalions of 500 men each for four months.
- 20,000 individual weapons and 3,000 crew-served weapons.

Although the U.S. Command did not say the enemy offensive was over, the spokesman said the heavy losses had forced the enemy to reduce his offensive operations.

"We estimate that the enemy's activities have decreased because he did not have any other choice," the spokesman said. "The primary reason for this, as you may have noted in the weekly statistical summaries, is that the enemy has suffered about 38,000 killed since Feb. 23.

"These are serious losses which exceed his losses during the same time frame following initiation of his offensives in both May and August of 1968.

Roughly one-third of the total American and enemy casualties in eight years and four months of fighting in Vietnam have occurred in the year since the United States and North Veitnam agreed to talk peace.

Saturday is the first anniversary of President Lyndon B. Johnson's announcement that Washington and Hanoi had agreed to send negotiators to Paris. Ten days later, on May 13, 1968, preliminary peace talks opened.

In the 52 weeks of fighting from April 27, 1968 through last Saturday, April 26, a total of 12,440 Americans and 153,779 of the enemy were killed in action and 79,793 U.S. troops were wounded, according to U.S. Command figures. South Vietnamese headquarters reports 14,367 of its troops killed and 52,526 wounded in that year.

The U.S. Command says that since the United States entered the war in force on Jan. 1, 1961, a total of 34,446 Aericans and 488,231 North Vietnamese and Vietcong have died in battle and another 221,012 Americans have been wounded.

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — Stevie Wonder, blind singer from Detroit, and Sharon Ann Smith of Saginaw, were honored in Washington, D.C., Thursday at the 21st annual meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. Miss Smith was the winner of a Michigan essay contest on employment of the handicapped. Wonder, a graduate of the Michigan School for the Blind, has been active in work with the handicapped.

Hickel Retains Ex-Foe of Conservation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former lobbyist who opposed two conservation measures and later was hired by the Interior Department for two months as a high-level consultant has now been retained by Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel for "an indefinite period."

The Associated Press revealed last February that Hickel had retained the former lobbyist for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, James G. Watt, after Watt testified against measures dealing with industrial water pollution and reclamation of strip-mined lands.

At that time, the Interior Department said Watt had been hired for two months as a $98-a-day consultant in organizing the department under the new administration.

Watt's two-month term ended March 26. Today he is still at the department and holds the title of special consultant to the secretary.

A spokesman said Watt is not in a policy-making position and his job continues to be one of advising on departmental organization.

"His initial two-month contract expired some time ago," a spokesman said Thursday. "He is now working on a day-to-day basis for an indefinite period."

As a lobbyist for business and industry interests last year, Watt opposed two pieces of conservation legislation supported by the Interior Department, then headed by Democrat Stewart L. Udall.

One bill, written by Udall, would have implemented new standards on industrial water pollution, requiring a minimum of two stages of treatment for municipal wastes and a "comparable degree of treatment" for industrial wastes.

Watt told the House Public Works Committee, which was considering the legislation, that if the federal government insisted on such standards, the federal government should have to pay for their implementation.

One congressional source responded: "He is willing to accept whatever industry has to do if the public will pay for it."

Watt also opposed legislation before the Senate Interior Committee which would have provided for federal-state cooperation in reclamation of strip-mined lands.

Event Issues Miss Oakland County Call

Officials of the Miss Oakland County Pageant sent out their first call for contestants today, and any single girl 18 through 26 in the county is eligible.

In its second year, the pageant again will be held in conjunction with the Oakland County Fair, June 19-22 at the Waterford Township CAI Building, 5640 Williams Lake.

The winner will be entered in the 1970 Miss Michigan contest and last year's Miss Oakland County, Linda Sue Howe, 21, is competing in the 1969 Miss Michigan pageant.

Potential contestants' inquiries may be made with Donald Arsen, 6675 Wellesley, Independence Township, pageant chairman, and Mrs. Robert Fredericksen, 4195 Westridge, Waterford Township, contestant chairman.

Girls who will reach their 18th birthday by Aug. 1 are considered as 18-year-olds for contest purposes, according to Arsen.

Postal Clerks Lobby for Pay

Local 1766 of the United Federation of Postal Clerks in Pontiac will send a representative to Washington next month to press for legislation guaranteeing clerks and carriers a minimumum 17 per cent wage increase in July.

For the first time, major postal unions representing 700,0000 rank-and-file employes have organized a "United Pay Front" in answer to an allegedly inadequate 4.1 per cent pay adjustment proposed under the 1967 Salary Reform Law.

Local 1766 President Robert Hukka explained that between now and mid-June, each of the major postal unions will send delegates to Washington in a planned sequence of legislative conferences designed to impress the 91st Congress with the need for increased wages.

He added the focus of union support is a bill sponsored in the House of Representatives by Rep. Arnold Olsen, D-Mont., a senior member of the House Post Office and Civil Service Committee.

In addition to establishing a 17 per cent pay raise, the Olsen bill would reduce the number of steps within the six pay levels from the present 12 to six; automatically elevate all postal field service employes by one salary level; increase the night pay differential from 10 to 20 per cent and make other wage adjustments consistent with salary practices in private industry, Hukka said.

VENGEANCE STRIKES — Don Wilson of the Houston Astros unleaches another pitch Thursday night at Crosley Field in Cincinnati as he mows down the host Redlegs, 4-0, with a no-hitter. Vowing to avenge an earlier 14-0 loss to Cinci and also atone for the Astro's no-hit defeat by Jim Maloney Wednesday, Wilson hurled the second hitless gem of his career. It is also the second time in the major leagues that consecutive no-hitters have been pitched in the same ball park in two days.

Tosses No-Hitter Against Reds

Astros' Wilson Reaps Revenge

CINCINNATI (AP) — Don Wilson the Avenger—and an expectant father—unleashed the furies of a no-hitter against Cincinnati Thursday night and then scalded the Reds with a few choice remarks.

It was his way, he said, of getting even with Jim Maloney and his no-hit, 10-0 performance over Houston the previous night and of the Reds, in general.

For Wilson, it marked his second major league no-hitter and, coupled with Maloney's hitless game, marked the second time in the history of the majors that two no-hit games were pitched on successive days in the same park.

SUCCESSIVE NO-HITTERS

Last Aug. 17, Gaylord Perry of the Giants pitched a 1-0 hitless game over the St. Louis Cardinals at San Francisco. The next night, St. Louis' Ray Washburn no-hit San Francisco, 2-0.

After the 4-0 performance at Crosley Field, Wilson said:

"They don't like me and I don't like them."

On the mound, his curve ball broke beautifully and his fast ball was very fast. He struck out 13, walked six and hit one batter—Johnny Bench in the fifth inning.

Denis Menke hit a two-run double off Cincinnati starter Jim Merritt, now 1-2, in the fifth to push the score 3-0.

Wilson, picking up his second victory in five decisions, then strode off the field to the Houston dugout, his face a mask of anger. He pitched his first no-hitter against Atlanta on June 18, 1967, as a rookie.

"I was trying to prove something tonight . . . trying to pay them back for what they did to us when they beat me 14-0," he said in a broadcast interview —in reference to the Reds—Astros encounter April 22 in the Astrodome.

"They've got some good guys on the club — friends of mine off the field — but then they've got some others."

The scowl gradually disappeared and he asked the broadcaster if he could say a few words to his wife in Houston.

Later, wife Bernice said, "I thought I was going to have it when catcher Don Bryant (a former Detroit Tiger farmhand) dropped the pop foul in the eighth."

FAST BALL STRONG

Bryant said, "His fast ball was really sailing. He showed that he had a good fast ball in the first inning . . . He had a great curve ball, probably the best I've ever seen him throw . . ."

★ ★ ★

Dave Bristol, Cincinnati manager, said later, "You can believe Don Wilson if you want to. I'm not a Don Wilson fan."

Pointing to the Reds dressing room, he added: "I don't think many of the guys there think much of Wilson either."

Shoemaker on Sidelines Indefinitely

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Doctors say it will be six months at least before Bill Shoemaker can ride again—and possibly never again.

The 37-year-old jockey was injured in an accident Wednesday.

After a one-hour operation in a hospital, Shoemaker was listed Thursday in improved condition and was visited by his wife.

★ ★ ★

He suffered a broken pelvis and bladder injuries when his mount, Poona's Day, unseated him in the saddling paddock of Hollywood Park and fell on top of him.

His doctors said it will be weeks before they know exactly how extensive his injuries are.

McLain Stops Baltimore Surge, 2-0

Freehan's Two-Run Homer Helps Denny to 4th Win

THE PONTIAC PRESS
SPORTS
FRIDAY, MAY 2, 1969 C—1

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

McLain also had one of his active nights on the field as he was called for the "spit ball," argued with the umpire, was hit by a line drive, and had the fans laughing when he made first baseman John Powell try to run him down on a bunt play between first and home.

In the past neither McLain nor Freehan could claim too much success against the Orioles, but it was a different story for the ace righthander who pitched the Bengals to a 2-0 triumph.

McLain won his fourth game of the season with a sparkling three hitter and Freehan gave him all the batting support he needed with a 2-run homer off starter Jim Palmer in the 5th inning.

The victory was the first over the Orioles this season and it kept the Tigers above the .500 mark with a 11-10 mark.

WILSON TONIGHT

Tonight, at Boston, Earl Wilson will by trying to keep the Tigers in their winning ways when he faces Sonny Siebert.

Last night's game before 15,700 fans was short and snappy.

In fact, the time of 1:49 was the fastest game for the Tigers since September 26, 1965 when the time of game was listed as 1:48 against Cleveland.

Earlier this season, McLain was also the pitcher in the game in Baltimore which went 10 innings in two hours and three minutes.

McLain not only stopped the Orioles from making a two-game sweep of the series but he also stopped the red hot bat of Frank Robinson whose 10 home runs in April was the best since 1922 when Ken Williams of the St. Louis Browns did it.

It was also a good start for the month of May for McLain who last year defeated Minnesota, 3-2 on this date and had three victories against no losses.

Today he has four wins and three setbacks.

Jim Palmer allowed the Tigers only two hits in his six innings and the Tigers added another of reliefer Dave Leonhard, but Freehan's 2-run blast in the fifth inning after Tom Matchick walked was enough for McLain.

★ ★ ★

The Bengal hurler, himself didn't think he "was too sharp," but Oriole manager Earl Weaver disagreed.

"He pitched well against us the last time and we beat him, and he was sharp tonight and won. He'll have to look that good every time if he expects to beat us," said Weaver.

In first inning, McLain was called for putting his hand to his mouth by first base umpire Ed Runge.

"It was chilly and I was keeping my hand warm between pitches," said McLain.

When he decided to put his hand in his back pocket to warm his hand, Oriole manager Weaver complained.

Later on a bunt play, McLain ran halfway down the line, then stopped. Powell started to chase him back to the plate and then gave up and touched first base.

In the fourth inning, Powell again was involved with McLain. The big Oriole first sacker lined toward second base and the ball glanced off McLain's forehead for a single.

"It just stunned me," he said, after manager Mayo Smith and trainer Bill Behm raced to the mound.

Baltimore has always been troublesome for McLain, being the only team last season to hold an edge on him. The Orioles defeated him three times and prior to last night held a 11-9 advantage on him.

Freehan has also had trouble against the Orioles. The big catcher batted only .156 in Detroit and failed to get a homer off Baltimore last year.

The home run last night was the 99th in his six years with Detroit and his 5th of the season.

BLASTED—Tiger pitcher Denny McLain is knocked to the ground after a line drive single by Baltimore's John Powell glanced off his forehead stunning him in the 4th inning of the game last night. McLain proceeded to finish the game, pitching a three hitter as the Tigers won, 2-0.

Kuharich Fired by New Owners of Pro Eagles

★ ★ ★

Shortly after completing the purchase of the club Thursday night for $16,155,000 from financially harried Jerry Wolman, Tose made his first move as owner. He told a midnight news conference that he has fired Joe Kuharich as general manager coach.

★ ★ ★

Tose is expected to name Pete Retzlaff, former All-League end with the Eagles and now a television sportscaster, the general manager.

Pro Grid Confab Discusses Shifts of 3 Franchises

NEW YORK (AP) — Evidence has surfaced at the pro football meetings to indicate that the shifting of three National Football League teams into the American League may revolve around taking one club from each of three categories:

Midwest franchise—Either Minnesota or St. Louis.

Warm weather franchise—Either New Orleans or Atlanta.

Prestige franchise—Either Philadelphia or Baltimore.

The facts at hand also lend themselves to a further pairing down so that Minnesota and Philadelphia appear for various reasons to be the leading candidates in their categories to join either New Orleans or Atlanta in the AFL.

Tab Majestic Prince as Derby Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Four thoroughbred champions and four pretenders to glory got their final grooming today for the 95th running of the Kentucky Derby.

The field of eight, one of them a potential scratch, is the smallest in 21 years and, most fans believe, the strongest in a far longer time.

Majestic Prince, the unbeaten and untried king of the West Coast, has been tabbed as the probable betting favorite in the 1¼-mile Run for the Roses that goes to the post at 5:30 p.m. EDT, Saturday.

CANADIAN COLORS

Flying the colors of Canadian oil millionaire Frank McMahon, the $250,000 yearling purchase has mowed down 47 opponents in seven races, all of them except his first and last at Santa Anita.

Majestic Prince would be the odds-on choice to cop the $125,000-added Derby except for three things. Their names are Top Knight, Dike and Arts and Letters.

Top Knight has finished first in three of four races this year, although he was disqualified to third in the Bahamas stakes. His only drawback is a fiveweek layoff since his Florida Derby victory.

Claiborne Farm's Dike, a late-charging son of French Derby champion Herbager, ran poorly in Florida when he was asked for too much too soon, but prompted new hope in victories in New York's Gotham and Wood Memorial.

Arts and Letters, the Virginia-bred property Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable, was a bridesmaid in the Flamingo, Fountain of Youth and Florida Derby, but took center stage with a 15-length victory in the Blue Grass Stakes last week at Keeneland.

★ ★ ★

So evenly matched are the Big Four that track handicapper John Battaglia made Majestic Prince the probable 6-5 betting favorite, then turned around and picked Dike as the program choice.

Challenging the four before an estimated crown of 100,000 are Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harris, Rae Jet, Leo Miller's Ocean Roar, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Roberts' Traffic Mark and the Kanowsky syndicate's Fleet Allied.

Rae Jet also was entered in a pair of lesser races Saturday, giving his owners chance to change their minds and save the $1,000 due Saturday for each Derby starter.

1. Top Knight, Ycaza 9-5
2. Traffic Mark, Grimm 30-1
3. Arts And Letter, Baeza 5-1
4. Rae Jet, Howard 50-1
5. Fleet Allied, Hall 20-1

L.A. Lakers Take Lead Against Celtics, 117-104

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers head to Boston leading the National Basketball Association championship playoffs 3-2 but with their sharpest shooter, Jerry West, injured.

After scoring 39 points in the Lakers' 117-104 triumph at The Forum on Thursday night, West limped from the floor with a pulled left hamstring muscle.

"I'm sure when I wake up Saturday morning, I'll know if I can play or not," said Jerry after undergoing initial treatment.

The sixth game of the best-of-seven series goes at the Boston Garden at 5 p.m. EDT, Saturday afternoon. Without West, who has been averaging 39.6 against the Celtics, the Laker offense loses its zing, and Los Angeles must win once more to take the title.

"I was stretching and Emmette Bryant bumped me," was the way West described the injury. "You only pull a muscle by stretching it, not by getting hit by somebody."

★ ★ ★

Also injured, but not so seriously, was 7-foot-2 Wilt Chamberlain who suffered a bruised eye when he was hit, also by Bryant.

Boston led 24-23 at the end of the first quarter before the 17,553 fans, but the Lakers rallied in the second and pulled ahead at 49-45.

Perhaps the most important play came midway in the third when West drove in to score on a reverse layup and draw a foul from Russell, the fourth for the player-coach, who had to go cautiously from then on.

BLUES ABOUT TO LOSE—St. Louis Blues' forward Frank St. Marseille (9) slips the puck behind Montreal goalie Rogatien Vachon (30) during the first period of their Stanley Cup finals third game, but the referee ruled that St. Marseille kicked the puck into the net and disallowed the score. Jacques Laperriere (2) of the Canadiens and the Blues' Gary Sabourin follow the action at St. Louis last night.

Canadiens Waste No Time

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens didn't waste any time Thursday night in moving closer to their 14th Stanley Cup by whipping the St. Louis Blues 4-0.

★ ★ ★

The victory gave Montreal a 3-0 lead in the National Hockey League's best-of-7 series.

Dick Duff is one of the most impatient of the Canadiens. He doesn't see patience as a virtue on the ice.

"Especially when you're a couple of games up, it's easy to relax and then twice as hard to get back in stride," Duff said after scoring two goals and adding an assist against the outclassed Blues.

"We knew we'd have to start strong tonight and then when they had that goal by Frank St. Marseille called back in the first period, I think it took some of the steam out of them," he added.

St. Marseille's goal was disallowed because referee John Asheley said he kicked it in past Montreal goalie Rogatien Vachon. Vachon went on to forge the first playoff shutout of his career.

But the loss of the goal wasn't what bothered St. Louis Coach Scotty Bowman most. The goal would have helped, Bowman agreed, but not enough considering the way the Blues played.

"I think they (the Canadiens) are having too easy a time. Our passing is real bad. We passed better than that all year," Bowman complained.

"Anytime we carried puck we were a lot better. Everything was a split second off, the passing, the shooting. I don't know why."

blasted a low line drive past the Blues' goalie, Jacques Plante, midway through the first period. Duff set him up on that one.

Then after Jacques Lemaire made it 2-0 early in the second period, Duff added a goal in each of the final two periods.

Montreal's big Jean Beliveau summed it up for the Canadiens:

"We didn't give them much chance tonight. We were skating on top of them and didn't let them get organized."

MSU Nine Has Two Twinbills

CHICAGO (AP) — Hard-hitting Minnesota and pitching-strong Michigan State risk their perfect Big Ten baseball records against second division contenders in four-game road tests this weekend.

Minnesota, after winning two each at home from Indiana and Ohio State, invades Northwestern 0-4 for a Friday twin bill and visits Wisconsin 2-2 for a pair Saturday.

Michigan State, 2-0 on a home and home sweep against Michigan, plays doubleheaders at Indiana 0-4 Friday and at Ohio State 2-2 Saturday.

Weekend action also includes an important set of single games between Illinois and Purdue, currently sharing third place each with a 3-1 record. Purdue is host each day.

Other Friday action: Iowa 2-2 at Wisconsin and Michigan (0-2) at Ohio State, both doubleheaders. Saturday's round also includes: Iowa at Northwestern and Michigan at Indiana for twin bills.

Minnesota's fast-starting Gophers, now owning an overall 24-7 record including a 20-game winning skein, lead the Big Ten in batting with .294 average and team slugging with .490. In 31 games, the Gophers have belted 45 homers, including four in league play.

Top Gopher hitters are football star Noel Jenke, Bruce Schneitz, Bob Nielsen and Mike Walseth, all batting over .400.

Michigan State, 17-6 overall, uniquely leads in conference pitching with a 1.93 ERA, even though a complete game was not recorded by the top Spartan pitchers, Mickey Knight and Dan Bielski, in the two victories over Michigan.

The Spartans have an extremely effective leadoff man in third baseman-outfielder Joe Gavel, who hails from Nanty Glo, Pa. Go-Go Joe from Nanty Glo has reached first 41 times in his 83 trips on 15 hits and 22 walks.

Purdue confronts Illinois with a revived Boilermaker club which has won five of its last six games after dropping its first six starts.

Lake Goes Wrong—Becomes Hot Spot

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

Lower Trout Lake . . . this is an improper name considering what happened . . . in the Bald Mountain recreation area has gained a reputation the last couple of years as a good place to catch a mess of perch.

★ ★ ★

The Department of Natural Resources has come up with another discovery this spring.

Test-net samplings made recently showed a good number of largemouth black bass over the 10-inch size limit. Big perch made up the remainder of the catch.

Upper and Lower Trout lakes were formed about four years ago by two impoundments on Trout Creek. The smaller, upper lake was stocked with brook trout and rainbows went into Lower Trout.

OCCASIONAL LUNKER

Few of the rainbows ever turned up in angler's creels. Two years ago fishermen started taking good catches of perch. This continued last spring with an occasional lunker rainbow from the original plant being caught. Now there appears to be a fishable population of black bass.

Although trout continue to be stocked in Upper Trout where a good recovery by anglers has been experienced, no additional trout have been planted in the lower lake.

★ ★ ★

No perch or bass were stocked in the lake. They are believed to be carryovers from the old picnic pond which was drained before construction started on the two lakes.

Mrs. James Talley, 660 W. Walton, was fishing for bullheads Wednesday on Upper Silver Lake when she caught the 21-inch brown pictured on this page.

"I was having a good time with bullheads and carp," she said, "and decided to stay a little longer." The four-pounder hit a worm in shallow water.

Catching big fish isn't anything new for Mrs. Talley. She spends three to four days a week fishing the Silver Lake chain across from her house and has taken large pike, bass and rainbows.

She also fishes northern trout streams. She and her family had good success last weekend on the Manistee and Au Sable rivers. A considerable amount of time last winter was spent ice fishing on Lake St. Clair.

"My biggest problem is a monster of a lawn," she said. "It cuts into my fishing time."

'BULLHEADED' BROWN—Mrs. James (Marian) Talley, 660 W. Walton, was having a good time catching bullheads at Upper (Middle) Silver Lake Wednesday afternoon when this four-pound brown trout decided to join the action. The trout measured 21 inches.

Steelhead fishing is beginning to taper off along Lake Michigan. However, the DNR reports some spawners are still on the beds, particularly in feeder streams.

Best catches last weekend were on the Betsie, north branch of the White, Stoney Creek and Pentwater.

RUN DELAYED

There is considerable snow in the woods and the runoff has kept streams too cold. DNR fish experts say that the run should peak about May 15. The run into Lake Michigan streams should be at its best about five days earlier.

Briles Wins First Game for Cards

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jim Hicks smacked a two-run triple for his first hit of the season and Nelson Briles held Pittsburgh to six hits, leading the St. Louis Cardinals to a 9-3 victory over the Pirates Thursday night.

Hicks' triple to the left center field wall in the fourth came after loser Bob Veale walked Joe Torre and Mike Shannon, giving St. Louis a 2-0 lead.

★ ★ ★

The Cardinals added another run in the fifth on an error, a single by Julian Javier and a sacrifice fly by Curt Flood.

The Pirates made it 3-2 in their half of the sixth with two unearned runs. Errors by Javier and Shannon opened the gates.

Seattle Boxer Retires

Glossy Field Set to Clash at Quantico

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — More than 1,700 athletes began their bids for the record book today in the 13th annual Quantico Relays, for which the entry list included three U.S. Olympic gold medal winners and the defending individual champions in 14 events.

Given the slimmest chance to repeat was Charlie Mays, the Grand Street Boys veteran who has won the long jump six of the last seven years and holds the relays record of 25 feet, 11¾ inches.

Among those scheduled to oppose him today was Bob Beamon of New York, Olympic champion and world recordholder.

Rochester, Madison Share Oakland-A Lead

Rochester and Madison have jumped in front of the Oakland A baseball race after Lake Orion and Clawson were surprised for the second straight time Thursday.

★ ★ ★

Rochester reached 3-1 in the league with an 11-1 romp over Avondale as Stan Babiuk limited the Yellow Jackets to two hits. Madison broke loose for six runs in the last inning to down Romeo (2-3) and tie the Falcons for first, 6-2.

Troy (2-2) scored in the first inning to beat Dave Frezza and Clawson, 1-0; while Utica's Carlo Arnini stopped Lake Orion on three safeties, 5-0.

Birmingham Seaholm handed Birmingham Groves its first defeat, 11-8, scoring seven times in the fifth inning to give Barry Tetrault the decision. Seaholm is 3-2 and Groves 3-1.

Waterford Mott dumped Utica Stevenson, 4-1, to climb above .500 at 4-3. The Titans are 7-3. Bill Ziem and Terry Ruffatto plated first-inning runs for Mott with singles to give Doug Gaines all the runs he needed.

SURPRISES

Novi surprised Bloomfield Hills Lahser, 5-4, in eight innings. Paul Faulkner's double in the seventh tied the score for the Wildcats (4-1) and an error let in the winning run in the eighth.

★ ★ ★

South Lyon romped over Milan in a big-hitting game, 14-8. The Lions' fifth straight league win saw Tom Cash clout two singles and a home run, and Dave Brandon drill a grand slam homer.

Milford, PCH Triumph

Top County 9's Gain Victories

The county's two topranked baseball powers, Milford and Pontiac Central, gained victories Thursday and No. 4-ranked Lamphere also remained unbeaten.

Milford trimmed Brighton, 6-2, to stay perfect in six Wayne-Oakland League starts and 9-0 over-all. PCH downed Saginaw twice, 2-0 and 6-3, to boost its mark to 8-3.

Madison Heights Lamphere won its seventh in a row, 12-0, over Harper Woods in a Central Suburban contest that saw Dub Brady toss a one-hitter for his third shutout triumph.

Around the Wayne - Oakland loop, Kettering took over second place with a 3-2 victory over Clarkston; Northville moved into the third spot by topping Clarenceville, 4-2; and B. H. Andover nipped West Bloomfield, 2-1, in eight innings.

STILL SHARE LEAD

Orchard Lake St. Mary and Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows each won their third without a loss in the Northwest Catholic section. OL St. Mary trimmed Waterford Our Lady, 3-0; and FOLS shut out previously unbeaten St. Francis de Sales, 2-0.

Doug Powers hurled his third straight win for Milford and Mark Giegler cracked two doubles and a homer for a pair of runs.

Victor Quince (5-2) and Steve Bass (3-1) stopped Saginaw's Trojans without a run for 12 innings en route to the Chiefs' first double victory in the Saginaw Valley Conference this year.

Rick Hurst and Phil Crawford drove in the runs in the opener, and Phil Shaw and Rick Wilson each had two RBI's in the nightcap.

GOOD DUELS

Dennis Wooster of Kettering outdueled Clarkston's Tom Grace; and Larry Applegy of BHA bested West Bloomfield's Mickey Elwood and also drove in the winning run with a single in the eighth.

Freshman Walt Sakowski of OLSM limited Waterford OLL to three hits and Tad Cyman backed him with three hits and a pair of RBI's. Sakowski's mound debut was highlighted by 19 strikeouts.

Greg Main of Sorrows (4-1) whiffed 12 de Sales (3-1) batters in stretching his scoreless streak to 18 innings and outpitching Gene LaFave. Ross Patton drove in the game's only two runs with a single in the fourth.

Milford, Hills W-O Winners on Cinders

Milford outran West Bloomfield, 71-47, and Bloomfield Hills Andover had too much power for Northville, 67-51, in Wayne-Oakland League track meets yesterday.

Livonia Stevenson edged Walled Lake Central, 64½-53½, and Waterford Township outclassed Southfield Lathrup, 96-22, in Inter-Lakes League meets. Farmington and Pontiac Northern were postponed.

FOUR FIRSTS

Randy Bevier won the two hurdles in :15.6 and :21.2 for WBHS but Milford's Dan Smith won the 100 (:10.7) and the 220 (:23.8) plus anchored the Redskins' winning 880 relay which was timed in 1:34.6. He also won the long jump in 19-11¾.

Northville dominated the field events but couldn't keep pace with Andover in the running duels. The Barons won seven races and swept the mile.

Stevenson and Walled Lake divided the firsts. Dave Danver of LS won the shot put with a 54-5 effort and Tom Sacharski took the low hurdles in :21.5. But Larry Siersma of WLC upset Sacharski in :15.9 for the highs.

Bob Zaebst took the 100 in :10.4 for the Vikings and lost the 220 to Dan Loewe (:22.8).

Chiefs in Golf Triumph

Rocket-Powered Car Is Planned

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A rocket-powered car fueled by liquefied natural gas, aiming at a land speed of 1,000 miles per hour by 1971 and an assault on the world record this fall, was described Thursday.

The $250,000 project sponsored by the American Gas Association is a 37-foot long car, named the Blue Flame, with a rocket engine capable of a 13,000-pound thrust. This, said a spokesman at a press conference, is enough power to break the land record of 600.601 m.p.h. set by Craig Breedlove in 1965.

The new vehicle will be driven between Sept. 7 and 13 across Utah's Bonneville Salt Flats, with Breedlove's record the target.

Kermit Zarley Shares Lead in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Weightlifting may be just dandy for Gary Player but Kermit Zarley isn't so sure if it's "my thing."

Zarley, coming out of a four-month long slump he thinks may have been caused by a strenuous weight-lifting program he went through during the winter, fired a six-under par 66 Thursday. He shared the first-round lead in the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf Tournament with Lee Elder.

It was a shaky lead, however, with a traffic jam right behind Zarley and Elder.

"I've been having a pretty rough year so far and this is encouraging to play a good round," said Zarley, who won the Kaiser International—his only tour victory—and $65,000 in 1968.

So far this year he's earned a mere $3,000.

Pinch Hit Double Helps 'Mug' Nine

Sponsor Al Karner pinchhit a double in the top of the seventh inning Thursday evening to produce the tying and winning runs as Copper Mug overcame Haggerty Lumber, 10-6, in a Walled Lake Industrial Slowpitch Softball League "A" division game.

Haggerty (0-1) took a 6-3 lead with three runs in the last of the sixth, but Copper Mug gained its second straight win by erupting in the final inning for seven tallies.

A 12-run first inning carried Imperial Molded Products to a 30-2 victory over Kar Kraft in the opener for both teams. Joey Tobias' three-run round-tripper featured the outburst.

Clarkston Net Winner Again

Clarkston's unbeaten string now is nine following a 4-1 tennis triumph Thursday over Clarenceville, the Wolves' seventh Wayne-Oakland League victim.

Royal Oak Dondero dropped its second in a row after three wins when Monroe posted a 6-1 victory in Border Cities League play.

2 MSU Aides Defended

LANSING (AP) — A Lansing attorney said Thursday he is considering taking legal action and appealing to the State Civil Rights Commission on behalf of two Wilson Dormitory supervisors transferred and demoted as part of a settlement of a Negro sit-in at Michigan State University.

Duane Hildebrandt said charges of discrimination against his clients, Joseph Trantham and Elaine Michler, were "absolutely groundless." He said the hearing used to air the dispute violated legal rules of the state and the civil rights of the two supervisors.

Hildebrandt said he felt the two supervisors became "pawns" in a policy dispute between Negro students and the university.

He further said that during a hearing there was no formal legal procedure, no formal charges were filed against the pair, there was no swearing of witnesses and no cross-examination of witnesses.

House Panel on Crime to Query Citizens

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the new House committee on crime says the panel is going to look for solutions from the one source he feels has not been tapped—the ordinary citizen.

"Everybody else except the people involved have been heard by crime commissions," said Rep. Claude Pepper, D-Fla. "I want us to go to a number of big cities and hear from ordinary citizens on what can be done about crime."

* * *

"The one thing we can do that hasn't been done before is go to the people," he said in an interview. "Perhaps they have suggestions the experts have missed."

The House, in authorizing the committee Thursday, gave it sweeping authority to look into the causes of crime and what can be done to combat it. The panel, however, has no power to initiate legislation.

NO RIGID GOAL

What will the committee accomplish?

"I don't know whether we can do anything," Pepper answered. "But I intend to try."

* * *

"We'll deal with everything from illegal drug traffic to organized crime and juvenile delinquency to homicide," Pepper said. "This will include student episodes when they involve crimes like trespass, assault and weapons."

Pepper said the House created the committee because of rising public criticism and concern. It is time, he indicated, for the government to let the people know what is being done and what they can do to help.

RIGHT TO KNOW

"The popele have a right to know what Congress itself will do about this problem. They're asking whether we can do anything at all on our own."

Pepper wants to open hearings with Washington residents, then move on to other cities. The cities have not been chosen and no schedule is set.

Parents Take Sides on Sex Classes

By The Associated Press

Sex education classes have been launched in a small number of Michigan schools for youngsters ranging from kindergarten pupils to fifth-graders.

In the wake of the new programs, many parents have clustered into groups of irate opponents or enthusiastic supporters of the sex education.

Opponents have blasted some instructional materials as "filthy" and complained the programs lack accompanying teachings on morality. Some have said the explicitness of the instruction informs the children of "too much, too soon."

★ ★ ★

Advocates have asserted the programs answer children's questions about sex which are "bound to come up anyway" and educate youngsters factually instead of by hearsay.

BIRTH CONTROL

Any mention of birth control in sex education classes is forbidden by an old state law. However, a bill has been introduced in the Senate this year attempting to eliminate this provision from the statutes.

In 1968, the Legislature passed a law saying, "Any school may engage in the competent instruction and provide facilities and equipment for instruction in sex education, including the emotional, physical, psychological, physiological, hygenic, economic and social aspects of family life and sexual relations, as well as socially deviant sex behavior."

Former Gov. George Romney allowed this bill to become law without his signature but he vetoed a measure attempting to repeal the prohibition against mention of birth control.

At the time, Romney asserted, "If the teaching of birth control were to result primarily in emphasis on methods and means alone, without imparting sound guidelines for morality and responsibility, there is real danger that it would simply increase the tendency to sexual permissiveness which is already growing at an alarming rate."

EARLY GRADES

The newness of the current sex education classes is in the fact that they are aimed at youngsters of the very earliest school ages.

"Some Michigan schools have been teaching sex education since at least World War I days, but the effort has been spotty," says Leon S. Waskin, an associate superintedent in the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

★ ★ ★

High schools commonly have some form of sex education, often in sociology departments.

"Each school district has the right of decision on whether or not to teach the subject," says Waskin.

But it appears a safe bet an increasing number of Michigan school districts will adopt—or at least seriously consider adopting—sex education classes before long.

GUIDELINES PLANNED

An advisory committee of educators, doctors, nurses and laymen currently is drawing up guidelines to be presented to the State Board of Education for use in establishing model sex education programs.

Perhaps the largest-scale new sex education programs in the state are in the Ann Arbor School District where the programs are being taught in 11 elementary schools from kindergarten through fifth grade.

★ ★ ★

But its future is in doubt after protests raised at recent board of education meetings. At one protests raised at recent board of education meetings. At one unusually wild board session, parents shouted "Amen" and "Hallelujah", after speakers made remarks they particularly liked.

W. Scott Westerman Jr., Ann Arbor schools superintendent, has planned a half-day or day-long board session to review the program.

PERSONAL TAKE-OVER

One father, David Sponseller, said at an Ann Arbor meeting that he opposed the state or school board "taking over" personal lives of his children.

"I won't let my kids hear about it from any miniskirted teacher just out of college," another parent asserted.

★ ★ ★

Paul Cloke, a father who has a first-grader taking the classes, said sex education in public schools is necessary to "correct misinformation."

Another father called instructional films "filthy" and "disgusting" and said he wouldn't show them at a stag party.

EXPERIMENTATION?

Several parents questioned whether the instruction would lead to sexual experimentation among youngsters.

Parents who object to the Ann Arbor programs can have their children enrolled in substitute classes.

The same is true in the Livonia School District where controversy surrounds sex education programs for first-graders at one school and second graders at another. Plans are underway for classes in a third elementary school.

★ ★ ★

All but eight of the 104 Livonia second-graders were taking the course this spring, after their parents gave written permission. The eight were enrolled in a class in the study of mamals, which included no details of reproductivity.

PETITION DRIVE

Mothers of two children taking the alternate course led a petition drive against the instruction. Mrs. Joanne M. Callear, one of the mothers, said that when sufficient signatures are obtained on 100 petitions, the school board will be asked to reexamine the course.

She called the instruction a "crash program," saying she advocates sex instruction beginning with reproduction of plants and flowers in the early grades, moving on to animal life in later grades and teaching human reproduction in grade six.

★ ★ ★

Her petition reads: "We believe that such forthright teaching of the basic facts of reproduction (i. e. describing the sex act) at this tender age can create more problems than it solves."

Some opponents of the Livonia sex education courses have been distributing a 36 - page pamphlet called "Sex Education in the Schools," which reportedly is connected with the conservative John Birch Society.

PARENTS INFORMED

Jack E. Kirksey, principal of Grant Elementary School where second - graders receive sex education, said unusual steps were taken to inform parents of the course.

Each parent was given an outline of the instruction and viewed a film, "Human and Animal Beginnings," which the children are shown in the class. Flyers are mailed periodically to parents informing them of current topics in the course.

Larry Johnson, whose daughter is in a Livonia sex education class, said, "After viewing the program, my wife and I both said we wished there had been such instruction when we were young."

Mrs. George Houde, whose son, Richard, is taking a course, said, "The questions are bound to come anyway, and its helpful for me in answering them. We're broadminded and believe in answering his questions straight and to the point."

Kirksey said the teachers are specially trained.

★ ★ ★

Intensive training also is given the Ann Arbor teachers.

The Holly Area School District currently is planning a sex education program, and a number of other school boards are considering similar steps.

The increasing interest in sex education has expanded onto college campuses, too. Michigan State University sponsored a six-week series of 22 lectures in January and February, The series was titled, "Sexuality: A Search for Perspective."

Among the speakers at the heavily attended series were Albert Ellis, an avowed atheist and psychotherapist; Calvin C. Hernton, a Negro sociologist who is author of "Sex and Racism in America;" Gerhard Neubeck, acting director of the University of Minnesota Family Studies Center and president of the American Association of Marriage Counselors, and Dr. Tom F. Driver, professor of literature and theology at Union Theological Seminary.

Egg Splatters Office Windows in NY Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — Many glass-encased office buildings in Manhattan have egg on their face this week as negotiations remain stalemated in a nine-week-old strike by window washers.

★ ★ ★

A Commerce and Industry Association spokesman attributed the splattering to disgruntled workers, saying, "The strikers are apparently reacting this way because the strike has had no real impact."

★ ★ ★

The washers did, however, made one concession to show business. They allowed the windows of the new General Motors building on Fifth Avenue to be washed for the filming of a scene for the movie "Cactus Flower."

★ ★ ★

But the deal stipulated that the panes be redirtied afterward. So strikers and cast joined together for a giant egg tossing contest when the scene was complete.

Campaign Success . . . and Clean, Too

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A campaign to raise $5,000 to keep open a church-sponsored coffee house for hippies has been successful.

But one individual didn't send money.

Opening lead—♣A

By OSWALD & JAMES JACOBY

A teen-ager looking at an automobile with running boards and a crank might say, "What will they think of next?" Of course, well-informed teen-agers know more about all sorts of cars than their parents.

Similarly, a well-informed young bridge player would know that the modern trend to limit jump raises just takes us back to 1930 when forcing jump raises were just being invented.

★ ★ ★

North's jump to three hearts is one of those limit raises. He is not strong enough to force to game, yet his hand clearly calls for some sort of heart raise and a mere two-heart call is inadequate.

The limit jump raise gets South to game quickly. He has full values for his opening bid, plus one extra queen.

★ ★ ★

Against any defense, except the ace of clubs lead followed by a club continuation, South will wrap up his contract since he only loses two aces and the king of diamonds. The actual defense forces South to show his mettle.

If he wins the second club and goes right after trumps, East will hop up with his ace and give his partner a club ruff, whereupon West will get out with a spade and wait for his diamond trick.

An alert South will make the contract in spite of all East and West have done.

He will see the danger of an immediate trump play and will try to strip the West hand of any out cards first. Thus, he will cash the ace of spades at trick three, lead a spade to dummy's king at trick four, ruff a spade at trick five and then lead a trump.

East will take his ace and give his partner that club ruff but that will end proceedings for the defense. West will have to lead a diamond up to South's ace-queen combination and South won't have to lose a diamond trick.

'Investors Encouraged'

Mart Holds Onto Early Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was holding onto its early gains in fairly active trading early this afternoon, with brokers reporting investors somewhat encouraged by its ability to stand firm Thursday.

Gains led losses by a bit less than 200 issues.

Brokers said the market's early advance apparently was an attempt to continue its interrupted rally as well as an effort to work its way out of its consolidation phase.

After scoring big gains Wednesday, and to a lesser degree Tuesday, the market paused Thursday, they said, in the face of profit-taking and to consolidate its advance.

"A lot of investors were pleased with the market's show of power Wednesday (when the Dow industrial jumped more than 16 points)," an analyst said, "and they were further encouraged by the way it stood firm Thursday and didn't buckle."

Supervisors Go Ahead on Mental Retardation Center

By JEAN SAILE

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors moved ahead yesterday with plans to construct a mental retardation center on Service Center grounds. Supervisors failed, however, to take action which would have permitted the Oakland County Road Commission to begin operation of land-fills in Commerce and Pontiac townships.

A floor fight reportedly was averted by the decision to table a resolution which would have designated the road commission as the county's land-fill agent.

★ ★ ★

Lee Walker, D-Madison Heights, a member of the public works committee, who had voted against agent designation for the commission in committee, had apparently garnered enough support to make the vote outcome questionable.

Harry Horton, R-Royal Oak, chairman of the public works committee, in asking for the delay until May 15, said: "Two weeks won't make that much difference to the county's refuse problems."

Feelings regarding the road commission also were evinced in the board's decision to refer to committee a state House bill which would abolish county road commissions.

Brought into discussion by Paul Kasper, R-Bloomfield Township, the bill had previously been discussed in legislative committee. Kasper said he felt public hearings should be conducted and the bill thoroughly discussed. It was referred to the local affairs committee for action.

★ ★ ★

Other legislation gaining the attention of supervisors was a bill introduced by Sen. George Kuhn, R-West Bloomfield, which would permit boards of county auditors to rescind action taken by boards of supervisors regarding the spending of county money.

The bill was referred to legislative committee with little discussion. However, William L. Mainland, D-Milford Township, noted it might be wise to keep an eye on any legislation introduced in the future by Sen. Kuhn.

Approval of county agents to proceed with the proposed mental health center and the designation of Tarapata, MacMahon and Paulsen Associates Inc. of Bloomfield Hills as architects to prepare schematic drawings were not without discussion.

Some supervisors objected to the haste necessary to obtain federal funding on the project. The county reportedly has only a month to qualify itself for some $400,000 in federal funds to assist in building the facility. The sum of $1 million for the center was set aside by the previous board of supervisors.

Christian Powell, R-West Bloomfield Township, objected. He said that once again the board is being asked to approve large sums of money for a project when as yet no building priorities have been determined.

County departments which send their own lobbyists to Lansing to push programs, "sometimes in opposition to county policy," may have to stop. A resolution offered by the legislative committee requires all departments to obtain approval from the Corporation Counsel's office before they undertake such action.

Carl O'Brien, D-Pontiac, legislative committee chairman, said proper disciplinary action could be determined later by the board should unauthorized lobbying continue.

The board approved a special assessment project in Oxford Township which will permit construction of a new dam to maintain water levels in Clear, Long, Cedar, Squaw, Tan and Mickelson Lakes there. Circuit Court action will be needed to establish the levels.

2 Ousted Dems Invited Back?

County Supervisors Carl O'Brien and George Grba, both of Pontiac, expelled from their Democratic caucus earlier this year, say they have been invited back.

Mastin, who is also county Democratic deputy chairman, does admit that relations between his group and the two dissidents are more relaxed. "We exchange ideas," he said.

Nevertheless, the fact that an invitation had been extended has been supported by other members of the Democratic caucus.

O'Brien, when quizzed about the reported softening in attitude, said, "I've told them I'll come back in if they'll give me Mastin's job over at Democratic headquarters." Grba did not comment other than to substantiate the fact that an invitation had been offered.

The two Pontiac supervisors have been conspicuously absent from Democratic caucuses since Jan. 16, when they were asked to leave.

They were censured at a county Democratic convention Jan. 17, following expulsion from the caucus.

Action by the party followed the board of supervisors' organizational meeting Jan. 16 when Grba and O'Brien voted with Republicans through 17 roll call votes.

The meeting wound up with Grba as finance committee chairman and with O'Brien a member of that committee as well as chairman of the legislative committee.

Since that time the two have acted as independents, voting with the Republicans when they chose and with the Democrats at other times.

Their defection Jan. 16 gave Republicans the majority vote in organization of the 27-man board. Democrats hold an elected 15-12 majority on the board.

A Junior Editors Quiz About HORSES

QUESTION: How can a horse sleep standing up?

ANSWER: The point of our impossible main picture is that horses are constructed differently from human beings and can't be forced into a sleeping position a human would use.

Horses, however, can and often do sleep lying down. They kneel down first, and tuck their legs under. They are fond of lying down in the fresh green grass of spring. But horses spend most of their sleeping time standing up.

It is hard for us humans to think of sleeping while standing. That's because we would be balanced on only two feet, and might easily topple over. The horse's body is strongly balanced on four feet.

Watch some horses while resting and you may notice some with one leg relaxed with the hoof cocked, or pointed down. This rests the muscles and so a horse will usually have one leg cocked while sleeping.

A special arrangement of the bones helps while sleeping upright. The knee cap bone or patella, usually free from the knee joint or stifle (1), locks into the stifle when the horse goes to sleep standing up. This stiffens the legs so the weight is taken off the muscles, allowing them to rest during sleep.

Inflation is Different things to different people.

To us it's paying 50 cents for parking to avoid paying $1 fine for over parking, while going in to pay 10 cents for a 5 cent cup of coffee. Quoted from T. C. News, Winter Garden, Florida.

BUT
The price of this farm is not inflationary — at $1750 per acre — in an area where land is selling for $3,000 per acre.

Approximately ½ mile road frontage, approximately 1 mile lake frontage. By surveyors report: 87 workable acres out of 113. Some of the 113 acres extend into the lake. Earl 'Collects' Hippie Actor Who Collected in 'Market'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I collect weird Broadway characters—and actor Joseph R. Sicari, 33, from Boston, who worked his way throught Catholic University in Washington selling doughnuts, is weird enough for my collection.

WILSON

The neighbors probably think the young man in dungarees who lives in a $61-a-month rent-controlled apartment on W. 16th St. is a hippie but he's made $50,000 on the stock market while working for very little in the off-Broadway show, "Dames at Sea."

"I do not advise getting stock tips on a bus," Sicari said the other day in Lindy's.

"But I heard this guy, a school teacher, saying he bought a stock for 4 and it went to 6.

"I had $1,000 in the bank, an all-time high for me. I bought a stock for 4 and it went to 10. Then a broker said to me, 'You can buy on margin.' I said, 'What's margin?'

"Oh, I love it, when I get on the subway and they see this hippie open up the paper to the markets. I was never one of the elite," he admits.

★ ★ ★

"When I heard they were going to sell my building, I went to the manager, and I said, 'Mr. N——, I would like to consider buying the building.'

"He said 'You're crazy,' I said, 'Mr. N——, don't scoff at me. You may be coming to me for a job some day.'

"The building manager says 'How could you buy the building?' I said, 'Easy. I got an "everything" card.'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

British actor Nicol Williamson, opening on Broadway in "Hamlet," said jokingly, "We gave some thought to playing the final scene naked—that sort of thing is doing so well here" . . . The Stage Deli owners will take over the famed Spindletop Steak House, a $1,000,000 deal Van Rapoport will stay on as manager.

★ ★ ★

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A father said he's comforted by the thought that some day everything he owns will belong to his children: "I just hope they can keep up the payments."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "A friendship founded on business is better than a business founded on friendship." —John D. Rockefeller.

EARL'S PEARLS: Comedienne Thelma Lee's back from a short vacation in Las Vegas: "When I left N.Y. three days ago, it was supposed to be a long vacation in Las Vegas."

Scientists worked for years and years to perfect television, so that somebody in N.Y. can see somebody in Los Angeles suffering from acid indigestion . . . That's earl, brother.

South Dakota Cuts Welfare

PIERRE, S.D. (AP) — The South Dakota Welfare Commission has decided to cut public assistance payments 5 per cent across the board for fiscal 1970.

★ ★ ★

The Welfare Department staff also was instructed to reduce medical expenditures by 5 per cent for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

★ ★ ★

Welfare director Peter B. Grossman said the action was taken so that the department may stay with the appropriation limit set by the 1969 Legislature.

Top Nixon Aide, State Chief Justice Speak in County

THOMAS E. BRENNAN

By JIM LONG

The voices of law and order at the top level were heard in Oakland County last night, calling for justice and equality for all and an end to college uprisings.

Speaking in Southfield before the Detroit Bar Associaton, U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said that all forces necessary should be used to stop "minority tyranny on the nations campus."

Meanwhile in Pontiac, appearing at the County Courthouse, Michigan Chief Justice Thomas E. Brennan told a Law Day audience, "All around us, men cry for justice. And they shall have it, for it is their birthright.

But perfect justice will not come in this life, Brennan said. "The justice that we do to each other in the meantime will only be as good as we want it to be — as fair to all of us as it is fair to each of us."

NATIONAL OBSERVANCE

Both men were featured speakers at ceremonies in conjunction with the national observance of Lay Day, originated by a presidential proclamation in 1958 and carried on May 1 each year.

A highlight of the program at the courthouse was the presentation of awards to outstanding Oakland County citizens who have contributed to the principles of law.

Dr. Delevie, chairman of the legislative committee of the Oakland County Medical Society was recognized for his many activities with civic groups. Mrs. Rambie was honored for her work with Girl Scout Cadet Troop 292.

MAJOR PRONOUNCEMENT

Mitchell's speech was considered a major policy pronouncement that closely followed the Lines of President Nixon's statement earlier this week that campus officials must crackdown on disrupters.

The attorney general said that university officials are not law enforcement experts or judges.

"They should not take it upon themselves to decide how long violence should endure and what rights should be trampled upon before local government is called in.

"The time has come," said Mitchell, "for an end to patience. The time has come for us to demand, in the strongest possible terms, that university officials, local law enforcement agencies and local courts apply the law.

'MUST BE PROSECUTED'

"If arrests must be made, then arrests there should be. If violators must be prosecuted, then prosecutions there should be."

Mitchell said that in view of what has been happening on campuses — and that campus police apparently cannot cope with the problem — there are times when local police should move in without being called.

He rejected the notion that the university is an "extraterritorial enclave" further from the reach of law enforcement than other institutions.

Mitchell suggested that university of-

WASHINGTON (AP) — Clark M. Clifford, a strong supporter of U.S. Vietnam policy when he became the Johnson administration's defense chief in 1968, has said he left office convinced the nation's military effort in the war was hopeless, sources say.

Fulbright, one of the strongest critics of the nation's Vietnam involvement, called the meeting April 22, the sources said, after learning of Clifford's change of heart.

Clifford, one of President Johnson's closest associates, entered the Defense Department publicly committed to the idea that the American intervention was necessary, not only to save South Vietnam, but to prevent the take-over of other non-Communist nations in Southeast Asia.

CLARIFIED VIEWS

"To me it is not a question of years, it is a question of weeks and months, if we weren't there, until Southeast Asia, nation by nation, succumbed and that is not happening now, because it is not happening, in my opinion, because we are there and because we have extended this shield and I believe we must continue to do it."

But at the meeting last month, the sources said, he told the senators he left office in disagreement with many of former President Johnson's Vietnam policies and convinced the domino theory that the fall of Vietnam would lead to the takeover of other nations was fallacious.

In addition, Clifford told the senators he didn't feel President Nixon had tried hard enough to extricate the United States from Vietnam.

The sources also said Clifford's statements were one of the reasons behind a call yesterday by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., for the United States to start an immediate withdrawal of troops from the war zone.

Dr. William B. Pollard Talks To Urban League

Urban League Puts Its Focus on Ghetto

By ED BLUNDEN

Vows for deeper involvement with the ghetto community were given by principal speakers at the Pontiac Area Urban League annual dinner last night at Oakland University.

More than 450 persons attending were urged to take part in a renewed membership drive.

★ ★ ★

Guest speaker was Dr. William B. Pollard, coordinator for school decentralization for Milwaukee Public Schools. His theme was "Building Ghetto Power."

Dr. Pollard said: "It's impossible to make me believe that a nation that can send a white man to orbit the moon can't help a black man on his feet."

'LIKE LABOR STRUGGLE'

He compared the struggle of labor unions in the 1930s with the present efforts of the black community for recognition. "What began more than 30 years ago as a white workingman's revolution for economic rights has since evolved into a black revolution for human rights."

Pointing out the rapid technological advances of recent years, Dr. Pollard observed, "Scientific knowledge has advanced by leaps and bounds while social progress has moved forward at a snail's pace."

Dr. Pollard posed a question: Is white America ready to take appropriate actions to end centuries of discrimination?

"If white America turns her back on 25 million black Americans, if white America does not come to grips with herself, if white America does not use her resources to 'let my people go,' then the United States Constitution might as well be just a piece of paper."

'PROGRESS CAN BE MADE'

Dr. Pollard touched on his experiences in Liberia where he served as a consultant and counselor from 1960 to 1963. Though educational processes there were undeveloped, Dr. Pollard said he found the people quick to learn and adaptable to new techniques. He said the success there indicated the progress that can be made with limited facilities.

Regarding his duties as coordinator for decentralization of Milwaukee schools, he explained the effort there has established neighborhood councils centered around each high school.

The councils have brought about more involvement with school programs and problems. Speaking at an afternoon press conference, Dr. Pollard said he felt each community's problems involving integration were different and no blanket procedure should be recommended.

He said that, in general, he felt busing of students was undesiraeable and where possible the neighborhood concept, especially at the elementary school level, should be maintained.

Taking office for the first time at the dinner was Dr. Joseph Grayson, Pontiac pediatrician, new Urban League presi-

Senators to Mull Nixon Stand on War on Hunger

WASHINGTON (AP)— Top Nixon administration officials have been asked by a special Senate committee to explain an alleged White House decision against an immediate broad attacks on hunger in the nation.

Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., chairman of the hunger committee, said yesterday invitations to appear before the panel next week went to Clifford M. Hardin, secretary of agriculture; Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare; and Budget Director Robert P. Mayo.

★ ★ ★

Announcement of the action came shortly after the committee's ranking Republican, Sen. Jacob K. Javits, urged the GOP administration to increase the fight against hunger this year.

★ ★ ★

The New York senator cited "authoritative reports that the administration does not propose to increase materially the federal food assistance program to the nation's poor beyond the present level of slightly more than $1.5 billion.

ment. I would hope very much that it has not yet been taken and that the subject will be most carefully reviewed in terms of what should be our national priorities," Javits said.

★ ★ ★

The senator has been making behind-the-scene efforts to convince the administration of the need for a vigorous hunger program.

★ ★ ★

An aide indicated Javits decided to speak out publicly only after being advised on the highest possible levels that such a program could not be undertaken at this time.

★ ★ ★

Javits, referring to reports that some administration officials are not convinced hunger is a critical problem, said:

★ ★ ★

"I would hope that they will go out into the field, as I've done, to see the widespread, appalling conditions of hunger that demand much more comprehensive measures involving much greater expenditures than they now seem to have in mind."

★ ★ ★

50,000 GM Workers Idled

UAW Sees a Long Strike

From Our News Wires

DETROIT — Union officials said today a series of strikes which have idled more than 50,000 General Motors employes could be long and costly.

The strike at facilities in Van Nuys, Calif., Kansas City, Baltimore, Atlanta, North Tarrytown, N.Y., and Janesville, Wis., began Monday.

That was the deadline set by the United Auto Workers for completion of new local contracts in the wake of the merger last November of Chevrolet and Fisher Body assembly operations in the six cities.

The union maintained that the merger eliminated jobs in some locations and forced remaining personnel to work faster to meet quotas.

36,100 ON STRIKE

In all 28,000 men struck at the six plants. They joined 8,100 UAW members who struck Fisher Body and Chevrolet plants in St. Louis April 10 over work standards.

Charles Tyer, president of UAW Local 93 at Kansas City, said he wouldn't be surprised to see a shutdown lasting six to eight weeks.

★ ★ ★

Yesterday's layoffs hit seven Chevrolet plants in New York, Michigan and Indiana. Michigan plants previously affected are Fisher Body plants in Grand Rapids and Detroit and the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper plant in Livonia.

L. L. Coats, an official at Local 34 at Atlanta, said the union spent "six weeks last year negotiating this contract, and now the management is trying to take some of it away from us. They can't justify this to the people — workers, the public or anyone else."

Gun HQ Butt of Vandals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police have ordered all city precincts to be on the lookout for the weapons and ammunition used to break three windows in the headquarters of the National Rifle Association, lobby for gun interests.

The message described the items as "slingshots and different size glass marbles."

Malpractice Suits Hike Medical Care Costs

By CHARLES G. McDANIEL
AP Science Writer

Malpractice suits filed by patients against doctors are contributing to the increased cost of medical care in the United States.

Rates on malpractice insurance for doctors have soared across the country and the increased costs are borne, at least in part, by the patient.

Statistics show that one doctor out of every six of the 300,000 in the United States has been, or is being, sued for malpractice. Last year, doctors paid $75 million in malpractice insurance premiums.

Some $18 million was paid in awards to patients in 1968, according to Bernard D. Hirsh, general counsel of the American Medical Association. Legal fees added to the costs.

William F. Martin, a New York lawyer, said in a paper recently before the National Medicolegal Symposium in Las Vegas: "Spokesmen both for the medical profession and the insurance industry agree that the higher rates are caused by the increased number of malpractice suits being filed by disgruntled patients and the larger settlements being made both in and out of court."

★ ★ ★

Doctors and lawyers say that today's society is more permissive and citizens are more prone to sue, so the problem is not limited to the medical profession.

The Insurance Information Institute in New York says premiums on malpractice insurance are up 47 per cent over a year ago.

An AMA survey also found instances in 14 states in which physicians were unable to obtain malpractice insurance.

RATE REVISIONS

The institute, in a recent announcement of rate revisions, stated that from 1959 through 1963, insurance companies paid $140 for every $100 received in premiums from physicians. For surgeons it was $151 for every $100.

The increases ranged from 10 per cent in four states to 75 per cent in Montana and Ohio and 100 per cent in Vermont. Rates in six states went up 50 to 60 per cent.

Rates were reduced 10 per cent in New Hampshire and 15 per cent in Oregon.

HOSPITAL RATES RISING

Rates for hospitals maintaining liability insurance likewise are rising.

There are other patient costs, too, engendered by extra-cautious—and perhaps unnecessary — tests, a committee of the AMA trustees reported.

House to Air Osteopath School Ties

The final reading of a bill to create a state-supported osteopathic medical school was expected today in the House of Representatives.

Three supporters of the bill, Reps. Arthur Law, D-Pontiac, Josephine Hunsinger, D-Detroit, and Dale Kildee, D-Flint, seek to authorize the college to be affiliated with Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan College of Osteopathic Medicine (MCOM), now under construction in Pontiac, is the likely choice to receive the state funds in affiliation with Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Opponents of the bill have proposed the college be affiliated with Oakland University and established there.

POINT UNCLEAR

But it is unclear, some said, whether Oakland University, an affiliate of Michigan State University, could accept operation of the college without approval from MSU.

Arguing for a separate college, Kildee said the school should be independent because the American Medical Association (AMA) likely would not grant accreditation for osteopathic courses.

★ ★ ★

MSU's fledgling medical school is linked with the AMA.

It is expected that the measure will be voted on in four or five weeks.

LICENSING CHANGE

Another bill in the House concerning osteopathy seeks to combine the licensing of osteopaths and medical doctors under a single board.

Under provisions of the bill, one board would administer the same qualifying test to all candidates for the practice of medicine in Michigan. The designations of "Doctor of Medicine" and "Doctor of Osteopathy" would remain.

Dr. Irvin J. Kurtz, president of the Michigan Board of Registration in Medicine, said both the MD and DO profressions have developed to the point where "there is no significant, practical difference at this time. One law should apply to all."

dent. He urged an expanded membership drive and warned, "racism is disguised and subtle forms still exists in our community." Dr. Grayson explained the "new thrust" movement of the Urban League which will in the next year be conentrating its efforts in the ghettos to seek organization for change.

★ ★ ★

Introduced to many for the first time was the new league director, William H. Clark, who began his duties in February. He said the league will be "turning symbols into substance . . . protest into programs.

★ ★ ★

The Urban League also gave its annual awards, the top one going to radio station WPON for "outstanding community service."

★ ★ ★

Other awards went to: John Perdue, Pontiac School administrator for community relations; Ken Morris, UAW regional director; Richard Saunders, assistant to the managing editor of The Pontiac Press; Willis Seay, director of Local 100, AFSCME; Oakland University Chancellor Durward B. Varner; and Sylvia Simon, president of the Pontiac Urban League youth group.

GOP Governors Wrestle With Campus Strife, ABMs

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Republican governors debate at their annual conference today what stand to take on campus violence and deployment of the Safeguard missile defense system. They also faced a student demonstration at their gala black tie dinner tonight.

Most of the governors, including their host, Kentucky's Louie B. Nunn, appeared ready to accept local responsibility for controlling student disorders.

Some governors suggested cutting off federal aid to institutions which condone rioting and students who participate.

But GOP National Chairman Rogers C. B. Morton told a news conference it might be dangerous business for Congress to try to pass any punitive legislation of this sort.

FORD HAILS 'VICTORY'

House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan told the governors today the GOP has blocked a Democratic effort to "strip President Nixon of all but his constitutional functions in foreign and defense matters and stop cold the needed domestic reforms and new direction the new administration is studying and shaping up."

He said the attempt was launched in the defeated Democratic bid to extend the federal aid to education program for five years—putting it out of Nixon's reach during his first term of office.

Police were alerted to cope with a group of students who planned an afternoon rally at the University of Kentucky, followed by a march on a downtown hotel where the conference's formal state dinner is scheduled.

★ ★ ★

California's Ronald Reagan, who took a tough line on campus demonstrators, also sought to put the Republican governors on the line for Nixon's decision to deploy the Safeguard system.

He, Nunn and about a dozen other governors indicated their support for Safeguard. But there was some dissent, and a considerable group of governors wanted to avoid taking a position on the issue now.

Wilson Ouster Eyed by Rebels

LONDON (AP) — Political sources say an attempt from within his own Labor party to replace Prime Minister Harold Wilson may be imminent.

Reports of a plot against Wilson by some of his former cabinet ministers and other backbench MPs are circulating in the lobbies of the House of Commons and appeared today on front pages of most major newspapers.

One report said the rebels were discussing whether to bring a vote of no confidence against the prime minister at an early meeting of the Labor party members in Commons.

The immediate sore point is Wilson's insistence on pushing through Parliament this summer laws to curb the wildcat strikes crippling British exports. The party's traditional cornerstone of political support, the trade union movement, is fighting the legislation tooth and nail.

News in Brief

SAIGON (AP) — Pham Dang Lam, South Vietnam's chief delegate to the Paris peace talks, said today more details are needed to determine whether a statement by a National Liberation Front representative in Paris means the Vietcong is prepared for private talks with Saigon.

Tran Buu Kiem of the NLF said Wednesday at peace talks that "on the basis of its position," the NLF is "ready to enter into discussion with the other parties so as to make the conference move forward."

U. S. Moves to Block Hoffa

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — The U. S. Justice Department yesterday filed a motion in U.S. District Court opposing any move to grant jailed Teamsters President James R. Hoffa freedom on bond pending a hearing on alleged wiretapping in his case.

The U. S. Supreme Court has ordered U. S. District Court Judge Frank Wilson to reopen the 1964 jury-tampering case which sent Hoffa to prison for eight years to see if any alleged wiretapping or eavesdropping by federal agents violated Hoffa's rights.

Carole Tregoff Walks Free

FRONTERA, Calif. (UPI) — Carole Tregoff sentenced to life in prison at age 24 for murder, walked to freedom yesterday at age 32.

Miss Tregoff and Dr. R. Bernard Finch were convicted in 1961 of murder and conspiracy in the death of his wife.

Teacher Denies Assault Charge

Free on $50 bond awaiting preliminary examination next Thursday is Charles O. Hunt, 32, of 1111 Grace, Avon Township.

He is charged with striking Alvin Emery, son of Mrs. Betty Emery of 540 Judson, as the result of an argument in an English class.

Hunt, who was suspended without pay Tuesday pending an investigation by school authorities, resigned from the school system prior to the incident. His resignation is effective at the end of the school year.

'SLAMMED INTO WALL'

The youth told police that Hunt knocked him to the floor and pushed a chair into him, then slammed him against a wall, causing his head to bleed.

Emery was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for X rays and was treated for bruises on the arms and head, then released.

Mrs. Emery made an assault complaint to police Wednesday, and a warrant was issued against Hunt yesterday.

'Quit-Smoking' Clinic Set

A Smoking Withdrawal Clinic, sponsored by the Michigan Cancer Foundation and Pontiac Seventh-day Adventist Church, will be held from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Sunday through Thursday at the Oakland County Courthouse Auditorium.

The clinic will be conducted by Dr. Raymond L. Mayor, M.D., and Dr. Robert A. Williams, director of guidance and measurements for Oakland Schools.

Movies showing the physical effects of smoking will be shown each night of the clinic and pamphlets and personal guides with suggestions to overcome the smoking habit will be distributed followed by discussion periods.

Dr. Williams will discuss the psychological side of smoking and suggest ways to stop while Dr. Mayor deals with the physical side of the topic.

★ ★ ★

The men agree that they are trying to establish the idea of not smoking for people with a desire to give up the habit.

Protest Limits Lifted

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time in nearly two years, there is no limit today on the size of crowds that may demonstrate in front of the White House.

Court action has upset the restriction of 100 persons on the sidewalk and 500 in nearby Lafayette Square, at least until May 9 when the U.S. Court of Appeals will again consider the case.

U.S. District Judge William B. Bryant ordered the government to drop the restrictions, and the Court of Appeals in a 2-1 decision last night refused to stay that order.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a member of a small church in a very small community.

We have a young minister, 28 years old with five children. He is a very dedicated man, but his wife is a millstone around his neck.

She attends Sunday worship, but that is all. She has a girl staying with her to help with the children, so she can't use that as an excuse for not being more active in church work.

She's a chain-smoker and plays cards. She even had a card party while we were having our mid-week prayer service and Bible study! The parsonage is right next door to the church, so we know this is a fact.

We have prayed for her and tried to be friendly, but she doesn't cooperate. Must we tell our pastor to leave?

PRAYERFULLY WAITING

DEAR WAITING: Pray harder for her. And pray also for your young, dedicated minister. And while you're praying, pray for a little more compassion for yourself.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am being married soon, and want to know why I can't take my fiance with me when I go to pick out my wedding gown? I mentioned this to a few people, and they all acted like I was some kind of nut.

Abby, if there is ONE person I want to approve of my wedding gown, It's the man I marry. So, why is it so crazy to have him go shopping with me when I buy it? I. M. SERIOUS

DEAR I. M.: I see nothing "crazy" about wanting the man you marry to approve of your wedding gown. SOME brides prefer to "surprise" everyone (groom included) until the wedding march is played, but if you have other ideas, it makes sense to me, and more power to you.

Allans to Leave Cranbrook for Pebble Hill Post

By SHIRLEY GRAY

Bloomfield Hills residents David and Kay Allan will soon be leaving our town — for good, unfortunately.

While it's hard not to shed a tear upon leaving a spot you've lived in for eight years, the couple is looking forward to being closer to their married son, who lives in New Jersey, and to their summer home, on Nantucket, says Mrs. Allan.

The guest list for Saturday night's Carnation Ball is growing by leaps and bounds. The ball is, of course, the Junior Women's Association for the Detroit Syphony's big formal pow-wow of the season.

Before leaving for the formal festivities at the Detroit Boat Club, two Birmingham couples are having a few people in for cocktails — the Owen Regans and the George McClellans.

The McClellans, by the way, recently moved back into town after a three and a half-year hiatus in Pittsburgh, and have even managed to find a place very near the one they lived in previously, on Waddington Road.

Their daughters, Susan and Jennie, are now 16 and 10, respectively.

TICKET HOLDERS

From Bloomfield Hills, the following couples are among those planning to attend the Carnation Ball: the Junior Lance C. Minors, the Robert Berrys, the Christopher J. Mazures, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Whiting, Jr., the H. G. Bowleses, the Oliver Whites, Mr. and Mrs. John S. Wells, Jr., and David and Sally Lott.

There from Birmingham will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dalgleish, Jr., the Robert Gills, the James Martins, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Doran, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dewar, the John Deacons and the William Westcotts.

BOHers will be able to sweat out their bets at the club Saturday, Kentucky Derby Day, while viewing the race on color TV and sipping mint juleps.

Pony Girl Hopes Her Charge Will Be Derby Winner Again

She's a pony girl, or outrider, whose job it is to escort thoroughbreds to the starting gate.

Last year her charge was first-place finisher Dancer's Image. On Saturday's 95th run for the roses she will be riding shotgun for one of the top contenders, Top Knight.

★ ★ ★

Top Knight, like other thoroughbreds, is a highly sensitive animal who could easily be spooked by crowd noise or other distractions.

Therefore, Mrs. Johnson explained, the outrider's main job is to make sure the thoroughbred stays calm from the time he leaves his stall until he reaches the end of the long walk down to the starting gate.

Top Knight won't find himself among strangers either when Mrs. Johnson and her buckskin Dudley, escort him and jockey Manny Ycaza to the post Saturday. Mrs. Johnson exercises the derby candidate every morning as the Churchill Downs spires begin taking shape in the hazy dawn half-light.

PART OF THE JOB

Riding the horses in the morning is just another part of the job for outriders such as Mrs. Johnson.

She gets $3 per ride, she said, the words drifting out in a slow Texas drawl. And then, in the afternoon, she is paid $10 every time she takes a mount to the post, she added.

The day starts early — 4:30 a.m. she said — and ends around 6:30 p.m. There's usually a break of a couple hours around 11 a.m. when everybody takes off to get some lunch or a second breakfast before heading back to the track and the afternoon card.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Johnson started training early for the job.

"I've been on a race track all my life — and my father had horses," she said.

"I promised my mother I'd never marry a horseman," she said. But she did.

Bess Stenbuck Leaving

Community's Loss Is Israel's Gain

JANET ODELL

The outpouring of affection for Bess Stenbuck as she prepares to leave Pontiac for Israel is heartwarming. It is difficult to recall a similar occasion in recent years.

Just this week, the County Board of Supervisors voted to send her a letter of commendation for her work in the many civic activities in the 32 years she has lived here.

Over 450 children have had a good start in school because they were taught by Mrs. Stenbuck in Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School.

For the past 14 years, she has taught five mornings a week at the cooperative nursery on Elizabeth Lake Road. Mothers have taken their turns helping, but it has always been Bess who set the pace.

And she has loved every minute of that. Everyone who has ever heard her talk about her "kids" knows how she loves them. It is a love returned in full measure.

Parents of past and present students will honor Bess Saturday at a 7-9 p.m. reception at the temple.

Born in Illinois, educated in Wisconsin, Bess came to Pontiac in 1937. Herman Stenbuck was distributor for The Detroit Times. He died several years ago. The Stenbucks had two children and five grandchildren.

RETURNED TO TEACHING

Having taught in Milwaukee, Wis. before her marriage, Bess went back to teaching during World War II. She taught fifth grade and was principal at Malkim School in those war years.

She was an active worker in Girl Scouting for many years. She belonged to the League of Women Voters and Zonta Club of Pontiac.

And she devoted many hours to Sisterhood Beth Jacob, holding every office. She was president in 1947-48.

Next Friday, this Sisterhood will have its annual worship service, the service when women take the leading roles. They will dedicate it to Bess Stenbuck. This occasion is open to all of Bess' friends who will greet her at a reception following the 8:30 p.m. worship hour.

★ ★ ★

All in all, it's a momentous time for this gay and forthright woman. In June, one of her grandsons will graduate from high school and his older brother will be married.

Then, later in the summer, having put all her affairs in order here, she will fly to Israel where she inteds to help the little country in whatever way it will let her.

She hopes and most of us who know her hope it will be working with children. For that she has always had a special gift.

Nixon Kin Shares Fate's Blessing on Writing Career

NEW YORK (AP) — Jessamyn West's new book about the Quaker forefathers she shares with her second cousin, President Nixon, is just off the press yet being a writer was a childhood dream she never expected to come true.

"I wanted to write all my life," declared the author of "Except for Me and Thee," settling back comfortably in a big chair in her New York hotel room and kicking off one shoe.

"But writers to me were people like Dickens. I didn't know that a writer was just a person who writes," she explained.

"I had never seen anyone who had written; I had never seen anyone who had seen anyone who had written I thought a writer would be someone wearing a big sign saying 'I am a writer.' "

Now Miss West is entitled to wear that sign herself. Since her first book, "The Friendly Persuasion" in 1945, she has produced a dozen others including Book-of-the-Month Club selection "Cress Delahanty."

Her new volume is a companion piece to "The Friendly Persusasion," recounting the earlier life of Jess and Eliza Birdwell and focusing on their activities with the underground railroad of Civil War days.

The characters are modeled after Joshua and Elizabeth Milhous, great-grandparents of both Nixon and Miss West, whose maternal grandfathers were brothers.

Born in Indiana, the author moved at the age of 6 to Yorba Linda, Calif., then a Quaker community that had attracted many branches of the Milhous family. "But we lived right across an irrigation canal from the Nixons and I felt closer to them that to my first cousins. Richard's mother gave me my first birthday party when I was 7 years old."

★ ★ ★

She went to Whittier College, which Nixon also attended, and after graduation married H.M. McPherson, a classmate whom she calls "Max." She did graduate work at the University of California, seeking a Ph.D. in English.

★ ★ ★

The date was set for her doctor's orals when she was told she had an advanced case of tuberculosis and she went to a sanitorium where she didn't put a foot out of bed for two years.

CHANGE LIFE

"Sometimes I think I got TB so I wouldn't have to have a life of scholarship and teaching," she laughed. "For 10 years I spent most of my time lying on a couch almost afraid to move. When I began to get well I started writing stories, but I didn't send them out.

★ ★ ★

"My husband was so insistent that I try to place them," she continued, "that I finally said "I will write 12 stories and send each story to 12 magazines and when they're all turned down will you say no more?'

"Well, a story was taken and I slept with the letter under my pillow," she smiled, her expressive face framed by short gray-brown hair aglow with the recollection.

NOT FLYING

Miss West already has plans for two more books. "You feel like hell if things don't go right, every sentence is clumsy and everything written by everyone else is shining, but despite this misery you're not flying if you're a writer and not writing," she said, throwing out her arms in a gesture which seemed to embrace her whole love of the craft.

Not only does she love writing, but she loves actually putting down words. "As some women like to crochet or knit," she said, "I love the physical act of forming words with a pen."

She uses an old-fashioned fountain pen and writes in bed, often from 9 to 10 in the morning until 2 p.m. In sunny weather she writes outside reclining on a cot. "I write lying down, maybe because I'm lazy," she offered in explanation, "but possibly because I started writing lying flat on my back."

She and her husband, who has a doctor's degree in education and is a professor at the University of California, Berkeley, have a big, rambling house in Napa, complete with two streams, a view of the hills, Tennessee walking horses, a swimming pool, lots of dogs and two cats.

★ ★ ★

But her favorite pursuits are reading and writing. "If I had to give up one," she said thoughfully, "I'd give up reading, but then I might be so desolate I couldn't write."

Strawberries for Your Garden Grown Easily, Taste Delicious

Of all the small fruits—and, perhaps, of all the fruits—the strawberry is clearly the most productive and one of the most delicious. Also, it can be grown anywhere in the United States.

For example, a mere dozen plants allowed to grow into a matted row 25 feet long and only 3 feet wide can average 12 to 18 quarts or 4 to 6 dozen servings of luscious fruit in a season.

Any soil that will grow vegetables or flowers—or even good weeds—will grow strawberries. However, if you must start with new land, prepare it well, as you would for any garden.

In either case, prepare your soil early, loosening it and turning it over a full spade or fork in depth. Mix into it a layer of humus (peat, leafmold, age manure, etc.) at least 1 inch deep and rake in thoroughly 5 pounds of any good vegetable fertilizer sold in your area for every 3 by 25 feet.

PLANT IN SPRING

While plants can be set out at other times, early spring is best in most parts of the country. Then the plants have plenty of time to get well established by fruiting time the following spring.

★ ★ ★

About 2 feet apart in a single row is a good distance for home gardens. Once the area (a 3-foot wide strip) has become comfortably filled with plants hoe out any additional ones which grow and mulch with wood chips, ground corn cobs, old straw or any similar material to retain moisture and prevent wide fluctuations in soil temperature as well as help keep down weeds.

★ ★ ★

For the biggest and best berries, however, the hill system is preferred in home gardens. Under this method the plants are set out 12 to 18 inches apart, both ways, and all runners hoed off. Obviously, about three times as many plants are needed.

What varieties to use? Today strawberry varieties are tailored closely to the areas in which they are grown. So, purchase what is recommended by your dealer as best for your locale, whether you buy by mail order or locally. Only one variety is necessary.

Unlike some fruits, practically all varieties are self-fruitful when set out by themselves but, in no case, permit fruiting (pick off the flowers) the year they are set out—unless you planted "everbearers." Then allow a few the first fall.

How long will the plants bear? From 2 to 4 years, if good, virus-free plants are purchased. Watch your crop.

When production begins to decline noticeably in spite of a reasonable feeding (3 pounds of fertilizer per 75 square feet) each spring, discard the plants, and either dig up and prepare the beds well as before or better, move it to a new location, if you have the space, and use new plants.

Container Plants Ready for Spring

This year's early spring means container plants will supply the flowers that symbolize spring and rebirth.

★ ★ ★

Geraniums Like Sun

Vividly colored geraniums will thrive in a bay window that gets bright sunlight, or they can be planted right in their clay pots in an outdoor window box or patio planter for the summer.

They make a welcome lane on front porch steps, or an attractive border for terraces or walks.

Garden Fair Opens Today

Visitors at the Lawn and Garden Fair at Michigan State Fairgrounds today and tomorrow will be able to find out all about the proper methods of caring for the fruit trees in their backyards. Several ongoing demonstrations, presented by expert horticulturists will be of interest.

★ ★ ★

James Lincoln, district horticulturist for Southeastern Michigan, will show how to prune and train fruit trees with actual trees. Jack Prescott, county etxension director from Mt. Clemens, will show the same procedures in grape culture.

One of the local men's garden clubs will show all of the processes and techniques used in grafting and budding of fruit trees. Other experts will deal with strawberry culture, and with raspberries and other bramble fruits.

Still another show-how presentation will deal with the proper and safe use of pesticides in the home fruit graden.

The Lawn and Garden Fair is presented today from 4-9:30 p.m. and tomorrow from 9 a.m.-6 p.m. at the Michigan State Fairgrounds Woodward Avenue, south of Eight Mile Road. Admission is free except for a small parking fee.

The fair is developed to bring together a number of resource people, to present demonstrations dealing with almost all phases of non-commercial horticulture.

Subjects covered will include lawns, vegetable gardens, shade trees, shrubs, flowers, insect and other pest control, fertilization, landscaping and many other subjects.

Resource persons assisting come from many sources; Michigan State University, local Extension Service offices, City and County Parks and Recreation staffs, local landscape firms, local flower and ornamental growers, and from organizations and garden clubs. Attending the fair in 1968, were 30,000 garden-oriented persons. A larger attendance is expected this year.

★ ★ ★

The trade show, which provides exposure to the latest development in lawn and garden equipment and supplies, will be greatly expanded this year. The emphasis for the event, however, continues to stress the "how-to-do-it" demonstration of gardening techniques presented by gardening experts, and a massive one-day educational even for homeowners.

Check for Salts in American Violets

Best way to avoid such salt buildups is to keep African violets in porous red clay pots, which leach out excess salts through pot walls with each watering.

Clay pots, with their capillary action, permit the effective technique of watering African violets from below.

To do this, simply set pots in a saucer of luke warm water for an hour or so.

Vietnamese Must Cure Own Ills, Harriman Says

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vietnamese problems must be solved basically by the Vietnamese themselves, says W. Averell Harriman, who was chief negotiator for President Johnson at the Paris peace talks.

"There never will be a settlement until the Vietnamese sit down together and work it out," he told a news conference Thursday.

Harriman said he believes the National Liberation Front would have agreed to talk with Saigon's representatives last November if the South Vietnamese had cooperated rather than haggle over the issue of the conference table's shape.

Two Are Honored

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — Stevie Wonder, blind singer from Detroit, and Sharon Ann Smith of Saginaw, were honored in Washington, D.C., Thursday at the 21st annual meeting of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped. Miss Smith was the winner of a Michigan essay contest on employment of the handicapped. Wonder, a graduate of the Michigan School for the Blind, has been active in work with the handicapped.

THE CIRCUS IS COMING — Lou Jacobs, one of the world's most famous clowns, who shows how he transforms himself from a genial, bespectacled man into the familiar clown seen on posters for the Greatest Show on Earth. Jacobs, who joined the show in 1925, also invents assorted mechanical contraptions to enhance his act. Two of his inventions have been the motorized bathtub and a minicar.

Lake Goes Wrong—Becomes Hot Spot

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

Lower Trout Lake . . . this is an improper name considering what happened . . . in the Bald Mountain recreation area has gained a reputation the last couple of years as a good place to catch a mess of perch.

★ ★ ★

The Department of Natural Resources has come up with another discovery this spring.

Test-net samplings made recently showed a good number of largemouth black bass over the 10-inch size limit. Big perch made up the remainder of the catch.

Upper and Lower Trout lakes were formed about four years ago by two impoundments on Trout Creek. The smaller, upper lake was stocked with brook trout and rainbows went into Lower Trout.

OCCASIONAL LUNKER

Few of the rainbows ever turned up in angler's creels. Two years ago fishermen started taking good catches of perch. This continued last spring with an occasional lunker rainbow from the original plant being caught. Now there appears to be a fishable population of black bass.

Although trout continue to be stocked in Upper Trout where a good recovery by anglers has been experienced, no additional trout have been planted in the lower lake.

★ ★ ★

No perch or bass were stocked in the lake. They are believed to be carryovers from the old picnic pond which was drained before construction started on the two lakes.

Mrs. James Talley, 660 W. Walton, was fishing for bullheads Wednesday on Upper Silver Lake when she caught the 21-inch brown pictured on this page.

"I was having a good time with bullheads and carp," she said, "and decided to stay a little longer." The four-pounder hit a worm in shallow water.

Catching big fish isn't anything new for Mrs. Talley. She spends three to four days a week fishing the Silver Lake chain across from her house and has taken large pike, bass and rainbows.

She also fishes northern trout streams. She and her family had good success last weekend on the Manistee and Au Sable rivers. A considerable amount of time last winter was spent ice fishing on Lake St. Clair.

"My biggest problem is a monster of a lawn," she said. "It cuts into my fishing time."

'BULLHEADED' BROWN—Mrs. James (Marian) Talley, 660 W. Walton, was having a good time catching bullheads at Upper (Middle) Silver Lake Wednesday afternoon when this four-pound brown trout decided to join the action. The trout measured 21 inches.

Steelhead fishing is beginning to taper off along Lake Michigan. However, the DNR reports some spawners are still on the beds, particularly in feeder streams.

Best catches last weekend were on the Betsie, north branch of the White, Stoney Creek and Pentwater.

RUN DELAYED

There is considerable snow in the woods and the runoff has kept streams too cold. DNR fish experts say that the run should peak about May 15. The run into Lake Michigan streams should be at its best about five days earlier.

Glossy Field Set to Clash at Quantico

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — More than 1,700 athletes began their bids for the record book today in the 13th annual Quantico Relays, for which the entry list included three U.S. Olympic gold medal winners and the defending individual champions in 14 events.

Given the slimmest chance to repeat was Charlie Mays, the Grand Street Boys veteran who has won the long jump six of the last seven years and holds the relays record of 25 feet, 11¾ inches.

Among those scheduled to oppose him today was Bob Beamon of New York, Olympic champion and world recordholder.

Pacer Favored

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — Laverne Hanover, the 2-year-old pacing champion of 1968, topped a field of 13 entered Thursday for the $203,476 Messenger Stakes at Roosevelt Raceway May 10.

Seattle Boxer Retires

Briles Wins First Game for Cards

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Jim Hicks smacked a two-run triple for his first hit of the season and Nelson Briles held Pittsburgh to six hits, leading the St. Louis Cardinals to a 9-3 victory over the Pirates Thursday night.

Hicks' triple to the left center field wall in the fourth came after loser Bob Veale walked Joe Torre and Mike Shannon, giving St. Louis a 2-0 lead.

★ ★ ★

The Cardinals added another run in the fifth on an error, a single by Julian Javier and a sacrifice fly by Curt Flood.

The Pirates made it 3-2 in their half of the sixth with two unearned runs. Errors by Javier and Shannon opened the gates.

Earl 'Collects' Hippie Actor Who Collected in 'Market'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I collect weird Broadway characters—and actor Joseph R. Sicari, 33, from Boston, who worked his way throught Catholic University in Washington selling doughnuts, is weird enough for my collection.

WILSON

The neighbors probably think the young man in dungarees who lives in a $61-a-month rent-controlled apartment on W. 16th St. is a hippie but he's made $50,000 on the stock market while working for very little in the off-Broadway show, "Dames at Sea."

"I do not advise getting stock tips on a bus," Sicari said the other day in Lindy's.

"But I heard this guy, a school teacher, saying he bought a stock for 4 and it went to 6.

"I had $1,000 in the bank, an all-time high for me. I bought a stock for 4 and it went to 10. Then a broker said to me, 'You can buy on margin.' I said, 'What's margin?'

"Oh, I love it, when I get on the subway and they see this hippie open up the paper to the markets. I was never one of the elite," he admits.

"When I heard they were going to sell my building, I went to the manager, and I said, 'Mr. N——, I would like to consider buying the building.'

"He said 'You're crazy,' I said, 'Mr. N——, don't scoff at me. You may be coming to me for a job some day.'

"The building manager says 'How could you buy the building?' I said, 'Easy. I got an "everything" card.'"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

British actor Nicol Williamson, opening on Broadway in "Hamlet," said jokingly, "We gave some thought to playing the final scene naked—that sort of thing is doing so well here" . . . The Stage Deli owners will take over the famed Spindletop Steak House, a $1,000,000 deal Van Rapoport will stay on as manager.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A father said he's comforted by the thought that some day everything he owns will belong to his children: "I just hope they can keep up the payments."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "A friendship founded on business is better than a business founded on friendship." —John D. Rockefeller.

EARL'S PEARLS: Comedienne Thelma Lee's back from a short vacation in Las Vegas: "When I left N.Y. three days ago, it was supposed to be a long vacation in Las Vegas."

Scientists worked for years and years to perfect television, so that somebody in N.Y. can see somebody in Los Angeles suffering from acid indigestion . . . That's earl, brother.

South Dakota Cuts Welfare

PIERRE, S.D. (AP) — The South Dakota Welfare Commission has decided to cut public assistance payments 5 per cent across the board for fiscal 1970.

★ ★ ★

The Welfare Department staff also was instructed to reduce medical expenditures by 5 per cent for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Welfare director Peter B. Grossman said the action was taken so that the department may stay with the appropriation limit set by the 1969 Legislature.
