Williams to Ask Boost in Tax on Intangibles in '58

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams last night urged an immediate 21 million dollar a year boost in the state tax on intangible property to close a widening gap between state spending and income.

As emergency legislation, his proposal would require bi-partisan support of proportions the Democratic governor seldom before has mustered for major programs.

The tax boost was the key part of a plan Williams unfolded to newsmen for meeting a state deficit he says likely will reach 33 million dollars by June 30, the end of the fiscal year.

He handed out copies of a letter explaining the situation and inviting members of both the Senate and House taxation committees to confer with him Tuesday afternoon.

The legislature, with comfortable Republican majorities in both chambers, convenes on Wednesday for its regular 1958 session.

The governor said he will recommend the increase without delay so that the higher rates can be reflected in tax collections due in March.

He proposed putting Michigan's tax on intangibles — like stocks, bonds, mortgages and bank deposits—on a par with Ohio rates, which are nearly double.

"It's the fairest solution I can think of," Williams said.

The governor proposed to close the remainder of the prospective deficit gap by "recapturing" 10 million dollars currently unused in vaious special funds.

If the Legislature goes along, he said, seven million dollars could be freed from the Hospital Bond Redemption Fund, $600,000 from the World War II Bonus Fund, two million dollars from the Korean Bonus Fund and perhaps $400,000 from escheats.

Doubts Expressed on Tax Proposal

LANSING (AP)—Two Michigan legislators expressed reservations today about Gov. Williams' proposed increase in intangible taxes.

Rep. Adrian de Boom (R-Owosso), a member of the House Taxation Committee, told newsmen:

"When times are not so good, who's in a position to pay more taxes? I'd want to go slow on this question.

"It is easy to boost the intangible tax rate, but it's also easy for the owners of stocks and bonds to change his residence to another state. If enough of them did that, we'd lose instead of gain."

Senator Frank D. Beadle (R-St. Clair, Senate Republican caucus chairman, said:

"We (the legislature) made our appropriations on the Governor's estimate of revenues. I'd have to be sold now on the idea we can't get through the fiscal year without another tax. I certainly want to look this thing over pretty carefully."

Birth Certificate Recheck Ends Brief Retirement

DENVER (AP)—It's been six days since Rudolph Bucy celebrated what he thought was his 65th birthday, and retirement had been on his mind for a good many years.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Bucy even bought a house trailer to "travel around a bit."

The shocker came yesterday when he dug out his birth certificate. It said he was born Dec. 29, 1892—not 1891 as he'd thought.

"I just don't know where I slipped up," said Bucy, shaking his head at the thought of another year's work.

2 Auto Divisions Score Top GM Output Gains

Total GM passenger car production in the United States and Canada for the past year was 2,969,863. Some 3,210,605 autos were made during 1956.

Heading into the final month of 1957, Pontiac was only 3,592 units ahead of the previous year. But December production of 25,031 units, compared to 27,593 for the same month of 1956, made the difference.

Truck & Coach division assembled 6,373 units in December, to place the year's production at 72,783, compared to 94,397 in 1956.

Other GM auto divisions and their 1957 and 1956 production were: Chevrolet, 1,522,550 in '57, 1,621,013 in '56; Oldsmobile, 390,091 in '57, 432,903 in '56; and Buick, 407,217 in '57, and 525,364 in '56.

Total GM auto and truck production for the year was 3,422,935 in the U. S. and Canada, during the previous year, 3,699,141 units were produced.

Old Man Winter Staying

Old Man Winter is back in town again and the U.S. Weather Bureau reports that Pontiac area residents can expect cold through next week.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac State Hospital recorded a low of 5 last night. The mercury was still at 5 at 8 a.m. this morning. The lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 8. The reading at 2 p.m. was 18.

Tonight will be mostly clear and colder with an expected low of 5-9 degrees.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and cold with a high of 20-24. The forecast for Sunday is partly cloudy and continued cold.

In a five-day forecast, the weather bureau says temperatures will average 3 or 6 degrees below the normal low of 20. Snow flurries are expected every day through Wednesday.

Urges Citizens to Quit Selling Country Short

Former Defense Chief Says Russian Position Overestimated by Many

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Former Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson proposed yesterday that the American people "quit selling America short" as their New Year's resolution.

The grey-haired former General Motors Corp. president declared before some 700 Pontiac area luncheon club members that he was "troubled over the complex" that the American people feel that they have to "beat the Russians in everything."

"I think many have overestimated Russia's place in the missile race," he said.

The 63-year-old Oakland County resident assured his audience that Americans will "feel a little better as times go on" that this country is not lagging in the missile development program as some critics say.

He prefaced his "off the cuff" talk by reviewing incidents in his four-year cabinet position which earned him the distinction of what his opponents called "foot in the mouth disease."

Preceding his talk, he was greeted with one of the longest standing ovations ever given a speaker in Pontiac.

OMITS SCAPEGOAT TALK

During his 40-minute speech he chose his words closely. He failed to comment on recent reports that he was being made the "scapegoat" by many for alleged delays in the country's missile program.

But he did say tremendous strides have been made in this field in the last two years, as the United States tried to catch up to the Russians who picked up missile development after the Germans relinquished it at the end of World War II.

Wilson further reminded the large gathering in the Elks Temple main ballroom that satellites are not military weapons, and hence not the responsibility of the Defense Dept.

Wilson criticized Americans for being "overly worried about Russian Sputniks . . . troubled about unemployment . . . worried about profits in the business world."

He gave his assurance that a solution, "other than war," would be found for several problems which he said the United States faced. He listed these as how to get along with the Russians, the collapse of colonialism and the rise of nationalism.

Cuts in the defense budget, Wilson said, resulted as President Eisenhower "sensed an economy move" brought on as Congressmen attempted to follow the wishes of the people back home.

Johnson Sees Defense Gains

Says Senate Committee 'Substituting Action for Tranquilizers'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) said today the Senate Preparedness subcommittee is making progress toward "substituting action for tranquilizers" in the national defense field.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, heads the subcommittee which will resume Monday its public inquiry into U.S. missile and satellite developments.

Secretary of Defense McElroy and his deputy Donald A. Quarles are expected to be among the first witnesses.

McElroy testified previously the greatest single stumbling block to getting missiles into production was the limitation on overtime work on development projects. He said he had removed the limitation.

"We got some quick action on this overtime matter," Johnson said in an interview. "We are making progress toward our primary goal, which is to substitute action in the Defense Department for the tranquilizers that have been handed the American people in a time of crisis."

Johnson said he will interrupt the hearings Tuesday to lay before a conference of all Democratic senators a summary of subcommittee testimony. He denied, however, that there would be any political implications in this move.

As the preparedness group got ready to resume its hearings, administration officials were putting the finishing touches on the budget which President Eisenhower will send to Congress Jan. 1.

Ziem, State Probing Sullenberger Case

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and the State Board of Registration in Medicine today were investigating charges against Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, suspended Pontiac General Hospital heart surgeon.

Ziem said he was trying to determine if allegations against Dr. Sullenberger contained charges of a crime, and if there were evidence to back these charges up.

The board of medical registration was investigating whether there was reason to believe Dr. Sullenberger's license to practice medicine in Michigan should be revoked.

These developments occurred four days after Pontiac General Hospital director Carl I. Flath had filed charges that Dr. Sullenberger had committed 25 violations of professional standards at the hospital in the past 18 months.

In six of the cases, Flath listed, the patient died.

Flath's charges were in answer to a $250,000 damage suit brought against the hospital by Dr. Sullenberger, who was suspended last Nov. 13.

CHARGES DENIED

Dr. Sullenberger denied the charges, terming them "lies." He in turn has charged that his suspension was brought by a "ruling clique" of doctors, motivated by "professional jealousy."

Indicating that his investigation was concentrating on the five deaths, Ziem said today that he "was not prepared to say yet" whether he had discovered any evidence on which to base criminal proceedings.

Ziem said he has undertaken the investigation on his own, with no criminal complaint having been lodged by the hospital or any other agency.

"As far as I'm concerned, this controversy is still a civil matter. It's still very questionable whether any criminal laws are involved," he said.

The board of registration investigator, Ray M. Sweet, was in Pontiac yesterday after the case was brought to the attention of the board chairman, Dr. Elmer Schnorr, of Grand Rapids.

Although no official complaint had been made to his agency either, Dr. Schnorr said that the importance of the case required the board "to investigate the facts."

Dr. Schnorr said, "If, on the basis of our investigation, the Attorney General, who acts as our legal counsel, believes there is reason for action, we will call a hear-

Rights Group Sworn In Today

Organizational Meeting to Follow Ceremony at White House

WASHINGTON (INS) — A six-member Civil Rights Commission began operations today following swearing in ceremonies at the White House.

The non-political commission was authorized last August when Congress passed the controversial civil rights legislation.

The President stood solemnly next to commission chairman, Dr. James A. Hannah, president of Michigan State University, as the six members of the group recited the oath. White House Assistant Sherman Adams presided at the ceremony.

The commissioners then adjourned to a nearby office building to conduct their first organizational meeting.

Dr. Hannah flew to the initial meeting despite the fact that his mother died in Michigan yesterday. He planned to return for the funeral after the meeting.

Other commission members are: Former Virginia Gov. John S. Battle, Southern Methodist University Law School Dean Robert G. Storey, former Florida Gov. Doyle Elan Carlton, Assistant Secretary of Labor, J. Ernest Wilkins, a Negro, and the Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, president of Notre Dame University.

★ ★ ★

Battle, Storey and Carlton are Democrats; Hannah and Wilkins are Republicans, while the Rev. Mr. Hesburgh has no political affiliation.

The commission's operations were slated initially to get under way in December, but were postponed when retired Supreme Court Justice Stanley F. Reed withdrew as the appointed chairman.

Eisenhower then elevated Hannah to the chairmanship and selected Carlton to be the sixth commissioner.

Hoffa Advises Unions to Ignore ICC Ruling

Hoffa said he was acting on advice of attorneys.

Autos to Draw Record Crowds in Chicago

$20 Million Show Opening Saturday

By DAVID J. WILKIE

CHICAGO (AP)—The auto makers' biggest public presentation — the 20 million dollar Chicago Auto Show—will open a nine-day run at the International Amphitheatre tomorrow.

A record-smashing half million persons are expected to see the presentation of the industry's newest models, the offeringgs of some 30 foreign car manufacturers, a large array of parts and accessories and a series of old-time models dating back more than 50 years.

A non-automotive presentation expected to attract substantial interest will be Chrysler Corp.'s shell of a Jupiter missile. This is one of the largest of the nation's ballistic units.

Although the show, the golden anniversary presentation by its backers, is a dealer-sponsored affair, it has grown steadily in industry importance and has taken on the stature of a national presentation.

Every American car maker is supporting the show. Several of them will have wholly new models to present.

Among these newest models are American Motors' Rambler American, a 100-inch wheelbase model; Chrysiers' 1491/2-inch wheelbase Imperial Crown limousine; De Soto's 1958 Aventurer, powered with a 345 horsepower engine; Ford's newest and large Thunderbird and several special models, still some years away from the volume production stage.

The special models include Ford's La Galaxie, an experimental unit developed to explore many possibilities of the future. Among them is an electronic proximity warning device that would stop the car automatically if it came dangerously close to another vehicle or object in its path.

Pontiac Division will have a full line in its display, plus models of the British Vauxhall which the division is marketing in this country.

Buick has custom-trimmed one of its Limited series models for the show. It calls the show model the Wells Fargo convertible. The car is painted white with hand-tooled leather upholstery and fittings, built-in rifle and pistol holders contain silver-plated guns with custom stocks.

★ ★ ★

The Chicago Automobile Trade Assn., sponsoring the show, put the 20 million dollar label on it as representing the value of the exhibits and the production cost.

Representatives of the industry, press, radio, television and several thousand special guests will see a preview of the presentation tonight.

Hillary Wins Race for Pole

AUCKLAND (AP) — Sir Edmund Hillary, first man to conquer Mt. Everest, the highest point on earth, today reached the South Pole, at the bottom of the world.

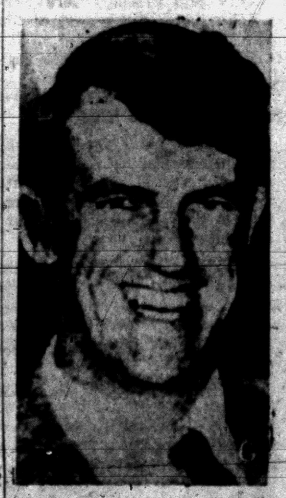
He radioed the dramatic news to Scott base, the Ross Sea point from which he and his party set out Oct. 15.

After more than 1,200 miles across the antarctic continent, Hillary radioed that he and his tractor party of four other New Zealanders had arrived at the pole with only one drum of gasoline to spare.

"We were cutting it rather fine due to the very soft snow," he reported.

Hillary, conqueror of Mt. Everest, and four other New Zealanders are the third group of explorers in history to reach the pole overland and the first in 46 years. Other visitors to the bottom of the world have gone by air.

Hillary's party followed much of the 1,200-mile route of Capt. Robert F. Scott of the British navy, who raced Roald Amundsen of Norway for the pole in the antarctic summer of 1911-12.



SIR EDMUND HILLARY

Amundsen won by a month, becoming the discoverer of the South Pole. Scott's five-man party perished on the way back to the coast at McMurdo Sound.

Hillary set out Oct. 14 from Scott base, his camp near McMurdo Sound. His original destination was a point 700 miles inland in the direction of the pole.

Traveling by snow tractors, Hillary's expedition deposited caches of food and fuel for a British party led by Dr. Vivian Fuchs which is pushing toward the pole from the opposite side of Antarctica south of South America. Fuchs is trying to make the first overland transantarctic trip, hoping to end up at Scott base.

Hillary was to wait for Fuchs at the 700-mile point. But on Christmas Day he radioed that he was "hell-bent for the South Pole, God willing and crevasses permitting."

Fuchs was last reported about 300 miles from the pole.

Radio Station WPON Sold

Bought by Chief Pontiac Broadcasting Company for Undisclosed Sum

Radio Station WPON was sold today for an undisclosed figure, James Gerity Jr., president of Gerity Broadcasting Co., announced.

Gerity, owner of Radio Station WABJ in Adrian and WNEM-TV in Bay City, Flint and Saginaw, said the Pontiac station was sold to the Chief Pontiac Broadcasting Co., a Michigan corporation.

Wilson revealed that the Chief Pontiac Broadcasting Co. also has applied to the FCC for television channel 10 to serve Lansing, Battle Creek and Jackson.

The TV station would share air time with Michigan State University and Wilson said that WPON will also cooperate with the Oakland County branch of MSU in programming and student training.

★ ★ ★

Upon approval of the sale by the Federal Communications Commission, Gerity said, Russell Gohring, general manager of WPON, will transfer his activities to WNEM-TV. His successor has not been chosen.

Dutch Liner Rescues 2 of Crew in Storm

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Two crewmen of the Holland-America liner Nieuw Amsterdam were rescued last night after a landing float broke loose from the ship during a thunderstorm.

Port police, who picked up the crewmen, said they were uninjured.

An earlier report said one of the ship's passengers on the float was missing. Port police did not mention a passenger.

The liner radioed for help when the crewmen disappeared during a storm. Winds of 60 m.p.h. whipped the bay, flooding some areas near the water. Scores of Cubans were evacuated from their homes.

The Nieuw Amsterdam delayed its scheduled dawn sailing for New York with 700 American tourists because the storm was continuing.

AT END OF FIRST ACT — Opera Star Maria Callas leaves stage after singing first act in title role of Bellini's "Norma" at opera house in Rome last night. Final acts of the opera were cancelled with the explanation she had lost her voice.

Callas Walks Out on Show

Rome Opera Season Opens With Fisticuffs

ROME (INS) — The glittering opening of Rome's opera season ended in fist fights last night when fiery soprano Maria Meneghini Callas called off her performance after the first act of Bellini's "Norma."

★ ★ ★

President Giovanni Gronchi, members of the diplomatic corps and the cream of society and government were on hand for the opening.

REFUSES TO CONTINUE

Miss Callas—the world's prime prima donna and almost as famed for her temperament as her coloratura—refused to continue on the grounds she had suffered a "sudden lowering of her voice."

The intermission stretched to 50 minutes as frantic officials of the Rome Opera House passed notes under her locked dressing room door pleading with the New York-born star to come out. Their efforts were fruitless.

There were hints Miss Callas was disturbed by what she may have taken to be unappreciative reactions in a section of the audience.

'I'LL AROUND

While the back-stage drama unfolded, the gala first night audience milled around the lobbies and corridors. In the upper galleries, restless fans started whistling and booing.

The management finally broke the suspense with a brief announcement to the audience that the opera could not continue because of Miss Callas' health.

It took police 20 minutes to restore order.

The distinguished first-nighters including film stars Gina Lollobrigida and Anna Magnani, party-giver Elsa Maxwell and four cabinet ministers swallowed their disappointment and slowly filed out.

Gronchi was informed of the suspension and left the opera house shortly before it was announced to the general audience.

HANDS FULL

Officials still had their hands full even after the crowds left the opera house. Nearly 1,000 persons gathered at the stage door and another 200 collected outside her hotel.

But they never did get to see the 34-year-old prima donna. She went to the hotel through a direct passage from the opera house.

Miss Callas later told newsmen, "I'm hoarse and can hardly speak," adding:

"Many other singers have temporarily lost their voices before. This time it has happened to me. I hope the public will forgive me."

She explained that she had taken "quinine and a stimulant injection" before appearing in the starring role—one of the most difficult in opera.

"As for booing," she said, "it doesn't trouble me for I could have left opera in 1952 when I was booed when singing at La Scala (in Milan)."

Her husband, Giovanni Battista Meneghini said:

"She simply lost her voice, a change of temperature and climate was responsible. No stand-in had been arranged because my wife always proved herself to be a dependable singer."

HONOR TICKETS

Officials of the opera house announced that the opening night tickets would be honored for a repeat performance of "Norma" Saturday. They said Miss Callas would not take part in the performance.

Just five months ago, Miss Callas forced postponement of the opening program of the Athens Festival. She cancelled her appearance 30 minutes before the performance was to start, giving ill health as the reason for her inability to sing.

When she failed to appear as scheduled at New York's Metropolitan Opera House in December, 1956, the management was forced to call in the police to quiet indignant fans who stormed the box office demanding refunds.

Cold Wave Grips All Michigan

Gale-Force Winds, Rain Drench Much of Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Dripping wet weather with gale-force winds prevailed in much of South and Central Florida today. Dreary skies and lower temperatures chilled the North.

★ ★ ★

Showers that began falling Wednesday night at some points were still coming down. Weathermen predicted only slow improvement over the weekend.

Temperatures before daybreak ranged from 33 degrees at Pensacola and Tallahassee to 68 degrees at Daytona Beach.

Northeasterly winds reached gale force or more than 50 miles an hour in squalls along the lower east coast and Keys. Winds 20 to 30 miles an hour swept most other sections. The winds in South Florida were accompanied by almost continuous rain.

The Miami area was hardest hit. Precipitation for 24 hours ended 6 a.m. included Miami 2.57 inches, South Miami 2.58 inches, Homestead 2.37 inches, Fort Lauderdale 2.21 inches, West Palm Beach 1.94 inches, Miami Beach 1.83 inches and Key West 1.12 inches.

Meanwhile, a severe cold wave was gripping all of Michigan today.

Sault Ste. Marie reported a low of 11 degrees below zero this morning—the coldest spot in the state. It was five below at Pellston, four above at Gladwin and Flint and eight above at Houghton.

Below zero readings were forecast for the northern part of the state again tonight. A low of between five and nine above was predicted for the Motor City area.

Temperatures dropped to near zero in Chicago today—the season's lowest mark — and sent more than 100 drifters along Skid Row to a police station for a night's lodging.

Many came voluntarily and others were picked up by police. The lockup normally averages about 30 volunteer prisoners on a winter day — with temperatures around freezing.

Parts of central and western New York faced new storms today after a series of blizzards and squalls dumped up to 12 inches in some areas off Lakes Erie and Ontario.

The heavy snow was mostly confined to the lake shores. Five inches of snow fell in Syracuse.

Wilson Tells Citizens Russia Overplayed

trimmed budgets are unaware of the needs of the country. "They are just talking in the wind," Wilson said. "They give me a pain."

Looking at the road ahead for his successor, Neil H. McElroy, Wilson commented: "I hope McElroy will have easier sledding on (Capitol) Hill this spring than I had last spring."

OPPOSES MILITARY CZAR

He warned against revamping the organization of the defense department, such as placing a military "czar" over all branches of the service to eliminate squabbling among them.

★ ★ ★

"The military people I have talked to subscribe to civilian management," Wilson added.

This management must see to it that United States' military power must be kept strong, even though Wilson declared that the "Russian people don't want war any more than our people do."

He voiced alarm at what he called a big hazard facing the world. "Scientific progress has so outstripped the means of working toward a peaceful situation in the world."

In what was only his second major speech since his retirement from the defense post last year, Wilson said he was "glad to be back home and to be relieved of the responsibilities and pressures."

He took a poke at politicians when he humorously said he didn't believe engineers, such as himself, are trained for politics because "they have too much respect for truth and the facts."

Ike Will Consult Cabinet Today, Return to Farm

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower consults his cabinet today on the budget and his State of the Union message, then returns to Gettysburg to continue his holiday work-vacation.

Chief topic up for discussion was the President's proposed new budget, which is expected to call for spending of about 74 billion dollars — the most ever in a peacetime year.

Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy reported after an an hour's conference with Eisenhower yesterday that they had "almost settled" on a military budget of about 40 billion dollars emphasizing missiles, anti-submarine warfare and an attack warning system.

Also to be considered was Russia's latest bid for East-West peace talks, and Eisenhower's forthcoming reply, which Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said will be "some little time" in preparing.

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower will deliver the State of the Union address to Congress in person Thursday, two days after the legislators meet for the session. In this, the Chief executive will list a series of priority legislative demands he feels must be met to step up U. S. defense, scientific, educational and foreign policy achievements.

★ ★ ★

The President, still under medical supervision after sustaining a mild stroke Nov. 25, was to be accompanied to Gettysburg by Assistant White House Physician Dr. Walter Tkach, News Secretary James C. Hagerty and Eisenhower's personal secretary, Miss Ann Whitman.

Damage to Building Confined to Apartment

Early reports of damage in a fire at 4823 Dixie Highway, Drayton Plains were incorrect, and only an apartment in the rear of the building suffered extensive damage.

Hillary, Party Wins South Pole Race

Already at the pole is a cardboard New Zealand flag dropped there when former Minister of Railways McAlpine flew over last October.

The New Zealanders also took a special caravan Hillary had designed to give them comfortable living quarters in the bitter cold and tearing blizzards on the polar plateau.

The British party under Fuchs, crossing from the other side of the continent, set out from Shackleton base on the Weddell Sea Oct. 10. But the Britons met appalling weather out. At the time of the planned rendezvous, it was still 600 miles from the pole.

In one of his last messages, Hillary reported he had only 45 miles to go. The party had dropped down to a lower altitude. Conditions got easier. In the denser atmosphere the tractors pulled better.

★ ★ ★

But to have reached the pole so soon, Hillary must have pushed on instead of taking the normal daytime rest.

Tips on Buying Fish

BOSTON — When buying whole fish, you should allow one pound per person; if it is dressed, half a pound; and, for steaks, fillets, or sticks, a third of a pound.

To Be Erected by U. of M. at Peach Mountain

Telescope Will Receive Space Signals

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—The University of Michigan announced today it will start construction of a radio telescope that will trace the sun by day and receive signals from outer space by night.

Astronomy Prof. Fred T. Haddock said the instrument will have a solid dish reflector 85 feet in diameter. He said it will be the second largest steerable radio telescope in the world.

The largest is 250 feet wide, located at the University of Manchester in England, Haddock said.

The Peach Mountain telescope, Haddock said, will receive radio waves only a few centimeters long and focus on only three per cent of the sun's surface at a time. "This is fine detail and will put us far ahead in the field," he said.

He said the complete facility will cost $300,000. Most of the money is being supplied by the Office of Naval Research.

Haddock said the telescope will hear the "faint whispers from the moon, planets, galaxies millions of light years away, turbulent gas clouds, radio stars and other sources, some possibly beyond the range of the best optical telescopes."

He said such signals are produced by the interaction of electrons with atomic particles or magnetic fields. They yield data about the regions from which they originate, said Haddock.

The telescope will be guided by two large gears. One, a declination gear, will tilt it north and south. An hour-angle gear will drive it east and west to compensate for the earth's rotation.

The viewer, anchored in a foundation of concrete, will be able to operate in winds of 45 m.p.h. and withstand winds of 120 m.p.h.

Haddock said the telescope will work at wave lengths five to 10 times shorter than the one at Manchester.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, Dr. Schnorr added, the board may wait to see if any action is taken by the prosecutor.

Sweet said that his investigation was "momentarily complete." Yesterday the investigator discussed the case with Ziem, the hospital and Dr. John A. Monroe, president of the Oakland County Medical Society.

Dr. Monroe said that so far, the medical society was not directly involved in the case.

Dr. Schnorr believed that the county medical society should enter the case. "Until it is settled," he said, "the case is a reflection on the entire medical society."

Meanwhile, City Attorney William A. Ewart disclosed that a nationally known surgeon, Dr. Frederick A. Coller, of Ann Arbor will be asked to give a deposition regarding his opinion of the cases described in the hospital charges.

A past president of the American College of Surgeons and a retired professor of surgery at University of Michigan Medical School, Dr. Coller will be questioned Jan. 17 in Ann Arbor in the presence of Dr. Sullenberger's attorney, Ewart explained.

The deposition then will be available as expert evidence in the law suit, which has not yet been scheduled for trial, Ewart added.

Pontiac's State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson today asked that a six-member legislative committee, composed of three representatives and three senators be created, "to investigate the entire question of hospitals and doctors in relation to the protection of the public."

Hudson termed the present state board of registration as "ineffective" due to lack of a sufficient staff and necessary legislation to impower them to act.

He said the committee will be established in Lansing at a Jan. 9 session.

Seaway Project Nearly Finished

OTTAWA Ont., (INS) — St. Lawrence Seaway Authority President Charles Gavsie said today that the seaway project is approximately 75 per cent completed.

★ ★ ★

Gavsie said that all signs point toward completion of the seaway in time for the opening of navigation in 1959. Canada is building five of the seven new locks, while the U.S. is constructing two. The seaway official said the question of tolls to be charged on the project has not yet been settled.

Pontiac Fatality Record in 1957 Held to 4; Two Less Than '56

Pontiac completed 1957 with four traffic fatalities, two less than in 1956, Capt. Joseph Koren, head of the police traffic bureau disclosed today.

★ ★ ★

The reduction in fatalities, the captain said, is not as good a sign of traffic safety as might seem.

"While it is true the fatalities are down, we closed the year with a higher number of both injury accidents and property damage accidents than in 1956," he pointed out.

"It is only chance," he continued, "that we did not have more fatalities, because almost any serious accident could result in a fatality."

★ ★ ★

FIRST DEATH IN MAY

The first death occured May 26, at 1:55 p.m. Benny Thomas Powell, 25-months old, of 74 Close St., dashed into the street and was struck down by a passing car near his home.

On Sept. 14, at 2:20 a.m., Anthony Betzing, 34, of 785 First Ave., was killed when he drove into the rear of a parked semi-trailer on Auburn, near Francis.

The third fatal accident occured Oct. 8, at 5:20 p.m. on Kennett road at Stanley.

A motor scooter and a car collided at the intersection. A passenger on the scooter, Arnold S. Hill, 15, of 186 W. Yale St., was killed. The scooter driver, also a juvenile, escaped with minor injuries.

The final traffic death was on Dec. 7, at 8:10 a.m., on Oakland Avenue.

Mrs. Mary M. McCormick, 63, of 652 Going St., lost control of her car on the snowy pavement and spun into the path of a southbound Greyhound bus.

★ ★ ★

"The variety of these accidents," Capt. Koren commented, "shows clearly that almost any kind of accident can produce a fatality."

"The lesson for all of us," he said, "is to drive more carefully ourselves this year and to be constantly on the alert for the other fellow."

The Day in Birmingham

Plan Area Fund Drive for 2 Catholic Schools

BIRMINGHAM—A fund drive for the construction of two Catholic high schools to serve five area parishes probably will be launched in this area next month, according to John P. O'Hara, Holy Name PTA president and fund chairman for his parish.

★ ★ ★

The school site, 35 acres at Lincoln and Lahser Rds., was purchased about a month ago. There will be separate schools for boys and girls. The completed program will cost approximately two million dollars, O'Hara said.

★ ★ ★

Serving with O'Hara on the fund drive will be John Bode, of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs parish; Ralph Conlin, St. Hugo of the Hills; W. Joseph Gallagher, St. Beade; and Robert E. Tamm, St. Columbans.

Guardian Angel parish of Clawson has declined to participate, saying the distance from Clawson to the school is too great.

The five-man committee will head the drive to raise a million dollars over a two-year period.

The girls' school is planned to be ready by the fall of 1959, with completion of the boy's school scheduled for the following year. Each will be equipped to handle about 1,000 students.

First enrollees will be ninth graders only. A new class will be enrolled each fall as others are promoted until a complete four-year high school is in operation.

Catholic educators say the schools will fill a great need in an area where all parochial schools are now forced to turn students away.

Under the sponsorship of the City Recreation Board, a teenage skating party will be held at the Eton Park Rink tomorrow night from 10 to 12 o'clock.

Robert Girardin, recreation director, said that if this party proves successful, others will be scheduled.

A representative of the Merle Norman Studios will demonstrate makeup and its proper application when the North Suburban Alumnae Association of Chi Omega meets Jan. 9.

Mrs. Leonard Pons, of Oak Park, will be hostess to the 12:30 p.m. luncheon.

Mrs. Frank J. Gillespie of Birmingham and Mrs. William B. Sisson, both of Huntington Woods, may be called for reservations.

Amos J. Bertram

The rosary will be recited at 8:30 tonight at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., for Amos J. Bertram, 59, of 2166 Wycliffe Dr., Birmingham, who died Wednesday at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac.

Service will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Holy Name Church. Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Court Rules Against Dual Directorships

LANSING (AP)—A director of a life or accident insurance company cannot also be a director of a company which owns or operates a funeral or undertaking establishment, an attorney general's opinion held today.

★ ★ ★

The opinion, in answer to a query from Rep. Frederick Yates (D-Detroit), cited a 1956 law against the interlocking directorships.

Another opinion clarified state law on instruction ballots for election use and on instruction cards for voters used at polling places.

The opinion held that any other names or printed matter cannot be placed on facsimiles of official ballots.

Instruction cards for voters may carry the name of the incumbent secretary of state, the opinion said.

Williams Asks Hike in Tax on Intangibles

weather the fiscal pinch with the help of purely administrative measures, this no longer appeared possible.

He recently ordered the State Liquor Commission to reduce inventories by two or three million dollars, and state department heads to hold spending below legislative authorizations wherever feasible — "short of making drastic cuts in state services."

The state intangibles tax last year yielded $23,700,000 with about 45 per cent of the total borne by 57,276 individuals, Williams included.

The remainder came from partnerships, corporations, building and loan associations, banks and fiduciaries.

Some tax experts questioned the legality of changing the rates of the intangibles tax after expiration of the period for which it would apply (1957) but before declarations are made (March 31 deadline).

Williams shrugged off this reasoning.

GENERAL FUND DEFICIT

As Williams sees it, the prospective deficit will consist largely of a 20 million shortage in the state general fund, the source of money to meet current state expenditures for general purposes.

★ ★ ★

To this, he said, will be added an eight million dollar shortage in funds to satisfy state school aid obligations and probably five millions more in shortage resulting from supplemental or deficiency appropriations to pay "inescapable obligations," mostly in the welfare field.

Williams blamed the Republican-dominated Legislature for the developing money jam, which he has said threatens to force delay in paying current bills and an impairment of state credit.

He said the Legislature voted 341 million dollars in general fund spending for this fiscal year on the basis of revenues estimated at the time to yield six million dollars less.

★ ★ ★

Actually, Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), House taxation chairman, disputed the governor's revenue estimate of 335 million dollars, contending it was 10 million dollars high.

Williams recalled that the 1957 Legislature also borrowed 24 million dollars in earmarked 1957-58 school revenues to slide past a threatened 1956-57 deficit in that amount.

This greatly tightened the state treasury's cash position, he said.

Williams acknowledged that revenue collections were running behind his budget figures, and a report yesterday from the state revenue department underscored the point.

Islands Joining Commonwealth

West Indies Federation Formed; Planning for Self-Government

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP)—The Federation of the British West Indies comes into being today as a member of the British Commonwealth with the swearing in of Lord Hailes as governor general.

★ ★ ★

The Caribbean islands joining in the federation take a big step toward independence but London will continue to supervise the federation until it approves efforts to establish effective selfgovernment.

A federal legislature will be elected in March and set up a government in the temporary capital here.

The former colonies in the new federation are Trinidad, Jamaica, Barbados and the Windward and Leeward Islands.

Flags waved in tropic breezes as political leaders from throughout the islands awaited the arrival of the Lord and Lady Hailes on a British navy ship from Barbados. The 56-year-old baron, a former Conservative minister of works in the British government, arrived in Barbados yesterday from Britain.

He said the achievement of independence was largely a matter for the West Indies to determine for themselves.

★ ★ ★

Lord Hailes has proposed that the first federal election be held March 25. Princess Margaret is scheduled to open the first legislature April 22.

The federation has approximately three million persons and 8,000 square mies of territory.

Has Twin's Kidney, Becomes Father

SHREWSBURY, Mass. (AP)—Richard Herrick, 26, who is alive because his twin brother gave him one of his kidneys, became the father of a daughter Sunday, it was disclosed last night.

★ ★ ★ ★

The mother is the former Claire Burta of Glace Bay, N.S., a nurse who attended Herrick when he figured in the first successful kidney transplant operation at Peter Bent Hospital on Dec. 23, 1954.

The couple was married in January, 1956.

★ ★ ★

President of Venezuela Battles to Retain Power Gained in Crisis 9 Years Ago

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gen. Marcos Perez Jimenez, fighting to retain the presidency of Venezuela, rose to power nine years ago in a power vacuum created by long-time political chaos in his oil-rich tropical country.

Since then he has worked tirelessly to strengthen his regime and to give it the veneer of legitimacy.

Virtually the only concession to democracy made by the rotund, 43-year-old dictator has been his insistence on going through the motions. Less than three weeks ago Venezuela's voters were given a choice in a national referendum: Perez Jimenez for another five years or no one.

The polls were hardly closed when the government announced that the President had won a resounding victory.

Born in the Andes village of Michelena April 25, 1914, he is the son of a schoolteacher who also farmed and sometimes ran a small business.

As an artillery officer he attended Venezuelan military schools and took a key post with the army general staff in 1944. The next year he had a major part in the revolution which overthrew President Isaias Medina Angarita.

The chaos continued. Acting President Delgado Chalbaud was assassinated two years later. But the junta retained control, and Perez Jimenez, at 38, became president in March 1952.

Uninterested in showmanship and bombast, he did little to stir Venezuelans' imagination. Instead, he concentrated on consolidating his power and increasing his booming country's economic development.

Venezuela's Constituent Assembly approved a new constitution in 1953 and the National Assembly formally elected Perez Jimenez to a five - year presidential term. There was no popular vote.

The government announced last year that a national referendum would be held. Most opposition leaders had left the country, been jailed or become too prosperous to want to be forced out. The principal open protest against a continuation of the regime came from students in Caracas, and security forces quickly moved to quiet them.

The government chose the candidates for offices at all levels. It announced after the balloting that they had been chosen overwhelmingly.

Perez Jimenez has stressed the prosperity of the country and his regime's extensive public works program. With oil money pouring in, railroads, highways, housing projects and schools burgeoned.

Despite the rapidly increasing prosperity at the top, however, large numbers of Venezuela's laborers continued to work for as little as a dollar a day. Shantytowns grew up on the outskirts of prosperous Caracas.

★ ★ ★

The government's neglect for the welfare of the poor has brought repeated criticisms from the Roman Catholic Church. Archbishop Rafael Arias chided the regime for "maldistribution of wealth," lack of concern for unemployment and suppression of labor unions.

Perez Jimenez, who wears black-rimmed glasses and uniforms with high-peaked caps, has ruled with a minimum of self-glorification. Shy and hard-working, he has stuck to business most of the time.

★ ★ ★

Lately, however, he had begun to make frequent pleasure trips to the seashore and to social events. Apparently the smoothness of his re-election, which took place without major incidents, had set him at ease and given him a new sense of confidence.

Argentine Mission to Travel to Russia

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Government sources say the Argentine government will send a mission to Russia and Iron Curtain countries to investigate the possibility of buying oil, other raw materials and industrial equipment.

The group, scheduled to depart within 10 days, is slated to visit and East Germany.

For some time these countries have been buying wool, leather, meat, linseed cake and other products from Argentina. Argentina has not been importing the value of these goods in other products from Russia and her satellites. Therefore, Argentina has a favorable balance of trade of about 30 million dollars with these nations.

Argentina plans to correct this balance by buying heavy industry equipment, oil and minerals.

Rocket Built by Youths Outdistances Vanguard

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—A rocket built by five high school boys sputtered, smoked and then sailed only 30 feet into the air yesterday. The boys called the launching a success despite the short altitude.

"After all, it went higher than the Vanguard," said John Haitt, one of the students.

Plans to Present Cabinet in Week

Ben-Gurion Slate May Include Same Parties as Recent Coalition

TEL AVIV (AP) Premier David Ben-Gurion says he hopes to present a new cabinet for Parliament's approval next week. He added it possibly will include the same five parties in the coalition that resigned Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

Parties in the last Cabinet were Ben-Gurion's Mapai, Misrachi (Religious Orthodox), Liberal Progressive and the left-wing Achduth Avodah (Labor Unity), and Mapam (United Workers). The five hold 80 of the 120 seats in the Knesset (Parliament).

★ ★ ★

A leak by an Achduth Avodah newspaper of secret plans to send an arms mission to West Germany caused the resignation of the old Cabinet. Ben-Gurion was reportedly demanding support in a new cabinet for a platform including:

1. Continuation of the same foreign policy.
2. Agreement of all Cabinet ministers and parties to back all Cabinet decisions.
3. Preparatin of a law to guarantee Cabinet secrecy on security and other classified matters.

★ ★ ★

Ben-Gurion was reported no longer insisting on dismissal of ministers violating cabinet secrecy. Instead, the proposed law would permit legal action against persons or newspapers charged with violating secrecy.

Mr. Mousie Attends Cat Show Preview

NEW YORK (AP)—Mr. Mousie attended a cat convention and nobody laid a paw on him.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Mousie is a white rodent. He showed up at a preview yesterday of the Empire Cat Club's 41st annual championship show at the Hotel New Yorker. The show itself goes on today and tomorrow.

Mr. Mousie disported himself confidently before scads of cats, but with a reason: he has a friend, Prince Mickey, a 15-pound Russian blue, already a double champion.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Evelyn Adams of the Bronx says Mickey and Mousie have been reared together and are inseparable friends.

Faubus Awaiting U.S. Attitude on Mixed Schools

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Gov. is waiting to see if the federal Orval Faubus said yesterday he government changes its attitude on school integration before he decides whether to call a special legislative session to deal with the issue.

★ ★ ★

The governor said there would be no reason for a special session if the government takes a new look at the problem and slows down school integration.

★ ★ ★

The Little Rock school board was ordered by U.S. District Court tostart integration last fall. Faubus said recently that he thought the board ought to consider going back into federal court to seek a delay in integration.

Pipeline Carries Solids

GRAND JUNCTION, Col. — The first pipeline ever built to transport solid materials over mountainous country has gone into operation. It carries a mixture of crushed Gilsonite ore and water 72 miles from mines at Bonanza, Utah, to a refinery near Grand Junction, where it is converted into coke and gasoline.

High Schoolers OK in College Classes

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirteen students are attending both high school and college classes, and are doing very well in both.

★ ★ ★

Starting last fall, nine seniors and four juniors at Manhattan College High School enrolled in courses at Manhattan College. Both schools are located on the same campus.

The juniors, taking college intermediate Spanish, thus far have received two A's and two B's. The seniors, taking college freshman courses in English, Latin, German and mathematics, have racked up eight A's, seven B's and four C's between them.

The 13 students also carry a full load of high school studies.

Sees Office Equipment, Stationery Business Up

CHICAGO (AP) — The trade publication "Office Appliances" estimated yesterday the stationery and office equipment industry will do a gross volume of $4,268,605,000 at both wholesale and retail levels in 1958. It said this would represent a 5 per cent increase over 1957.

★ ★ ★

14-Year-Old Hunter Accidentally Kills Self

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Terry Maliskey, 14, accidentally killed himself while hunting near his home in Chesterfield Township three miles north of here yesterday.

The boy's body was found with a shotgun wound in the head by searchers who were called out when he failed to return home.

Glass Secrets Deadly

VENICE, Italy—During the so-called "Second Golden Age of Glass," which began about the 13th Century in Venice, the making of fine glassware was a precious secret. In fact, the Grand Council of Venice decreed death for any Venetian glassmaker who betrayed the secrets of his art.

Met Star Eleanor Steber Walking on Air

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — On the day after her marriage this week, the Metropolitan Opera's red-haired fireball Eleanor Steber flung into her dressing room. She was la-la-la-ing like nobody's business.

★ ★ ★

But Miss Steber wanted to make it everybody's business, she was that happy; and so she said, as she clutched her hands to her bosom, Tosca style:

"Ah, it is the greatest love story ever written . . . a wonderful, wonderful story. He said he was coming back to marry me, you know. You didn't know? Well, he did. And he did."

Miss Steber, lately Mrs. (Major) Gordon G. Andrews, hummed some more and asked for a cigarette on which she choked lightly before resuming.

"We met in Saigon — the only place we could have met, the most romantic place in the world. He came backstage — this was last March, you know — and I knew, I just knew. I said to myself, 'Brother, this is it!'" (Miss Steber only addresses herself as 'Brother' on very special occasions.

HE RETURNED

"Then, I had to leave, and he had to stay, and he said (Isn't it wonderful?) that he would come for me, and last Nov. 15 he did. Isn't it terrible, though. The day after we were married he had to go to work at 6:30 in the morning, and I had a full day's rehearsing."

★ ★ ★

The famous soprano grinned. "I don't really mind though. What time is it? My watch says 11:20 but it's afternoon. Because I'm learning a new role in a new American opera that I feel was written just for me.

"It's about a woman who waits 20 years for her lover to come to her, isn't that lovely? Just like me, only I didn't wait for 20 years, but for all my life."

La Steber, as her friends address her, was referring to "Vanessa," the first American opera to be done at the Met in years. Written by Samuel Barber, with Libretto by Gian-Carlo Menotti, it will have a gala world premiere Jan. 15, with Eleanor in the title role.

She hesitates to predict its popularity.

"Personally, I think it's a very, beautiful opera," she said. "The American public has always accepted verbatim everything that came from Europe.

"It takes nerve and real courage for the Metropolitan to really go all out and introduce an American opera by an American composer, and say here, we will give this to you. It's not an old standard, but you'll get used to it."

So you can't predict the appeal of an opera as you can predict the outcome of a romance. (She was back on her favorite subject again.)

"I believe in astrology, you know and Gordon and I just couldn't miss. He's a fish and I'm a crab. By the way, is it after 4? My watch still says 11:20."

It was well after 4 and Miss Steber said "Oh my" in round, lyric tones and wiggled into her coat. On the way out, she paused just long enough to give an ecstatic sum-up of her emotions.

"This has been my year, professionally, but I'm interested mainly in just being this man's wife. Saigon, Gordon, world, I love you!"

Montgomery Ward Co. Signs Union Agreement

CHICAGO (AP) — Montgomery Ward & Co., threatened by a strike Jan. 6 of retail clerks in 62 local unions across the country, announced it has signed a wage and working condition agreement with an Iron Mountain, Mich., local.

★ ★ ★

The new agreeement is with local 467 of the Retail Clerks International Assn. Terms were not disclosed. It was signed yesterday.

Painters Seeking to Halt Layoffs by 4-Day Week

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit area union painters will work a four-day week in an effort to halt further layoffs.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the Painters District Council which represents some 4,000 AFL-CIO painters in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb Counties, said about 20 per cent of the membership is unemployed.

"We hope the program will stop further layoffs and perhaps create some jobs for some of our people now out of work," he said.

★ ★ ★

The four-day week goes into effect Monday and will continue at least through January and February.

City Man Pleads Guilty to Charge of Larceny

John N. Goodwin, 25, of 854 Cedar St., pleaded guilty to larceny from a building yesterday in municipal court.

He waived examination and was bound over to circuit court for arraignment there Jan. 6.

Car Registrations Gain

CHICAGO — Motor-vehicle registrations in the United States during 1956 totaled 65,212,510, a gain of 4 per cent over 1955. California had the highest total registration with 6,534,982 vehicles.

Interesting Findings From '57 Auto Figures

A quick glance at automobile figures for 1957 reveals some interesting findings. Both foreign produced cars and U.S. makes increased in sales in this country over 1956.

★ ★ ★

United States auto companies turned out approximately 6,117,000 cars in 1957. That was 5.4 per cent higher than 1956 and just short of the third best total year in history, falling short of 1950, 1953 and the almost eight million passenger unit boom year of 1955.

★ ★ ★

For the first time in the history of the industry, imports of foreign cars in 1957 exceeded exports of U.S. cars and trucks. Some 205,000 units were imported as contrasted to 136,000 exported.

This is not much of a dent in the total U.S. auto industry, but it is interesting to note the popularity engendered by these small foreign cars.

Major importer was West Germany, with its very popular Volkswagen. British passenger cars were in second place last year, and will continue to be so in 1958.

★ ★ ★

In addition to West Germany and Britain, 24 other foreign countries were listed as points of origin for new car imports in the U.S. during 1957.

★ ★ ★

The outlook for the coming year is that the import-export gap will widen even more in the coming year. Tariff duty on imports will drop half a percentage point in July. Along with increased acceptance, this may mean that imports will rise to 300,000 units during 1958.

★ ★ ★

The consensus of most predictions of domestic auto production for 1958 indicates that the year will be slightly under 6,000,000 units.

★ ★ ★

This past year was one of comparative labor peace, without any major work stoppages. During the coming year all major auto companies will be called upon to negotiate new contracts with the United Auto Workers.

Should there be a long, bitter strike, the effects could be serious for the automobile industry. However, this is not anticipated at this time.

Good Will Ambassador

Upon his 1956 election to Congress, the United States Information Service scheduled several overseas broadcasts for DALIP SINGH SAUND.

Born in India 58 years ago, Democrat SAUND was a little known county judge in southern California before his surprise victory over the popular and able JACQUELINE COCHRANE. Fulfilling an election promise he returned to his native land to do what he could to improve U.S.-Indian relations.

In India he and his family were greeted with cheers, garlands and lively attention. Congressman SAUND who came to this country in 1920, took every opportunity to explain and extol America. He lunched with Prime Minister NEHRU, attended a parliamentary conference, talked to groups in the streets and in meeting halls over a large part of India.

Speaking in his native Punjabi tongue and following local traditions, he reached thousands in all walks of life. Reiterating the message that Americans were not prejudiced against India, he offered convincing proof as an elected lawmaker from conservative California.

The most listened to and most welcome unofficial representative of the United States, the former judge probably convinced more Indians than any official ambassador could have done.

Congressman SAUND has done his adopted country a unique service in enlightening the Indian people as to our sincerity and goals.

A 'Free' Vacation

Early Income Tax Returns Have a Promptness Reward

Jan. 3: When that only remaining New Year resolution goes up in smoke or down the sewer.

Do you want a winter vacation in a sunny clime that looks like a gift? Then get your income tax returns in early. The blanks were mailed out this week, and you now should have one.

The returns are processed in the order in which they are received, and rebate vouchers are mailed out at once. I know of a number of Pontiac people who received their last year's rebate in time to finance their winter vacation, and they were back home before the returns had been sent in by those who had waited for the April 15 deadline.

"Please pass our thanks along to those good people, your readers," writes

Mrs. Olive M. Clark,

Too Much to Hope For?

David Lawrence Warns:

Specialization Can Go Too Far

WASHINGTON — All over the free world — particularly in the English-speaking countries — the "Sputnik" episode has induced a re-examination of the trends in education. Science is all the rage now, with a tendency to put more emphasis than ever before on specialization. This can go too far.

LAWRENCE

Listening a few days ago to a short-wave broadcast from Australia, this writer was impressed with the fact that many phases of the educational problem in that country are similar to those in the United States today.

Norman Harper, associate professor of history at the University of Melbourne, was discussing a study just issued by a special committee appointed by the Australian government to look into the general problem of university development.

Through the courtesy of the Australian Broadcasting Commission, the full text of the speech was received by airmail. Professor Harper said in part:

"The Murray report (of the special committee appointed by the Australian government) was being written while the first Russian satellite was circling the earth. Yet while it pointed to the need for the training of more scientists because of their great scarcity, it also pointed out that Australia needs more trained people of all kinds . . .

"On many occasions in the past, society has been threatened by mass movements aimed at strengthening the state and disregarding man himself. Totalitarianism has always been the enemy of freedom and individualism. This was the great curse of Italian Fascism and of German Nazism.

★ ★ ★

"The recent criticisms of Stalin in Russia have made it clear that Communism is as totalitarian as either Fascism or Nazism, that it produces the same results that Hitlerism did in Germany.

"In all these states there has developed a love of power and a ruthless determination to push to one side anything which stands in the way of getting power.

"The love of efficiency, and of power, has come easily to the scientist who is untrained in the social sciences and who knows little of how men behave. Intelligent men often fail to apply the same critical analysis to society as they do to chemistry or medicine, and so are often easily influenced by totalitarian ideas.

"Because of this danger, the Murray Committee has pointed to the need to establish in Victoria a new and full university and not merely an institution for training more scientific specialists. It is essential, of course, to stimulate an interest in science in schools and universities.

"In this way it is possible to keep abreast of world discoveries in science. But it is just as necessary to stimulate the study of the humanities."

It is an open secret that official Washington has always had its troubles with scientists. Some want to run the government and set its international policies just because they understand how atomic bombs are made.

★ ★ ★

Others are inclined to insist that their own government stop nuclear tests, even though the Soviet government keeps on with its testing.

Still others maintain a balanced point of view, keeping out of the headlines and performing a tremendous service as technical advisers to the government in important research projects.

Overspecialization in the future seems to be as big a danger as the neglect of specialization in the past. The problem is going to be how to strike a balance between the two.

★ ★ ★

This writer recalls talking a few years ago to a distinguished professor from a German university who had been in that country throughout the entire period of Hitler's rise and during the war, and asked him the following question:

"How do you explain the fact that, with so many educated men in German universities, such a thing as Nazism was acquiesced in?"

"We were overspecialized," was the reply. "We couldn't see the forest for the trees. Everybody was so busy with his own specialty that he was not paying attention to what was happening to the country."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Trust Nature to Maintain Regular Body Function

For a hundred years, quackery and nostrum interests have thrived on the theme: Keep the bowels open.

Now comes Dr. Brady who teaches on a different theme: Never mind the bowels. He hopes that here and there a reader will find the idea interesting enough to want to learn more about it.

DR. BRADY

That will be easy. All he has to do is shell out 35 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and ask for the booklet The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygeine.

★ ★ ★

In the booklet I tell numerous ways to re-establish the natural autonomic (automatic) regulation of the bowel.

First, you must learn a little lesson in physiology, namely, that the function of the bowel is controlled by the same autonomic nervous mechanism as is the function of the heart, that is, the vagus. This being true, it is no more necessary to "watch" the heart than it is to "watch" the bowel. Both work best if not interfered with.

Then, if you realize that you don't know more about this than I do, or more than the physiologists do, you are perhaps ready for the final step.

This, I gather from the reports of many readers, some of whom succeeded and some failed, takes courage. Especially if you have been indoctrinated since infancy with the "Keep the bowels open" idea.

THE BIG SCARE

The medical fictionists of the nineteenth century, such as the prolific Dr. John Harvey Kellogg in Yankeeland and the daring Sir Arbuthnot abroad, cooked up some weird pictures of what happens to the wretch who fails to keep his bowels open. Autointoxication, intestinal toxemia, toxicosis — pretty serious troubles, even though they never occur!

On two or three occasions, for some reason or other beyond my ken, I began to think I'd have to take salts or something, after all, but I didn't.

See here, Brady, I said to myself, if you weaken now and take physic, how are you going to assure people that nature will resume control if not interfered with? So I stuck it out and, like hundreds of victims of the constipation habit who have mustered the courage to do so, found that nature DID resume control.

Yes, constipation is a bad habit which you can break at any time, provided you have sufficient intelligence and character.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Teenagers Must Learn Obligations

Hector's true case shows the need for teenagers to sleep on every serious decision and also seek the advice of older, more mature heads. Don't try to grow melodramatic if you lose a ball game or a sweetheart. And don't welch from your obligations in life. Suicides are often egotists, like the little boy who said, "I'll take my football and go home if I can't be captain."

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-389: Hector A., aged 16, was a very promising high schooler.

DR. CRANE

But he and his best girl friend broke up, after going together for the past semester.

So Hector had one farewell date with her. Then he threatened that if she didn't resume dating him steadily, he'd play "Russian roulette."

His girl friend didn't relent, so he pulled the trigger.

TEEN-AGE PROBLEMS

Life seems like wormwood and gall. You may feel no desire to go onward. But go on, anyway.

Most adults have experienced that same low point in their morale, but they have recovered in a few months by resolutely going through the motions of continuing in class or on the job and performing their routine duties.

Hector failed to look ahead, as well as backward. For example, he owed his parents $12,000 in cold cash which they had invested in his food, clothing and other expenses from the time he was born.

And by the time you teen-agers graduate from high school, your parents have averaged an outlay of at least $15,000 upon you.

Now your mother and dad don't ask you to pay them back in cold cash. But they have a right to expect you to repay them in gratification for the useful career that you will follow.

So you kids have a heavy financial obligation to the preceding generation. This includes your debt to your teachers at school, as well as Scout leaders, YMCA secretaries and others who have invested many hours of time on your education.

So learn that life demands that you pay your obligations to the past.

TEEN-AGE TEST

If you are stumbling around, thinking you haven't had a fair chance in life, or if you believe you are abused and misunderstood at home, then send for my "Behavior Test for Teen-Agers," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20c (non-profit).

It may jolt you severely and prove that you are welching on your normal duties and obligations in life.

"He who grumbles has too much," runs an old adage that is doubly true of Americans of all ages.

So develop the wise habit of deferring any rash action till you sleep on the measure.

And also get the counsel of some other person, preferably your clergyman or physician or Scout leader or parents.

For they have probably gone through the very same difficulty which you now encounter, though they don't advertise that fact.

★ ★ ★

For most of us keep our "skeletons" in the closet and don't flaunt our unhappy experiences or mistakes before the public.

But don't think your parents are old fogies or unsympathetic. Maybe if you knew half their problems right now, you'd realize you are the one who is unsympathetic in your family group.

So send for that "Teen-Age Test" mentioned above and be honest as you rate yourself. If you have real courage, let your brothers and sisters rate you, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Engineer Would Complete Proposed Extension Plan

I recently read a letter from Representative Broomfield concerning Northwestern Highway and was happy to know he also questions the validity of Mr. Mackie's action in refusing to complete the extension and to spend bond revenue in accordance with the proposed program.

★ ★ ★

In 12 years of commuting from Detroit to Walled Lake and then Orchard Lake, I've seen the Northwestern load build from a negligible amount to what it is now, especially since the John Lodge spills onto it. The main load is the commuters to rapidly growing suburban developments to the northwest, that is the Birmingham, Walled Lake, Pontiac triangle with all the homes between 15 Mile and 8 Mile.

★ ★ ★

I don't think Mackie's proposal to shunt the load over 11 Mile to Grand River is a suitable substitute for through traffic, let alone suburban traffic. The statement that this is not a federally designated interstate route strengthens reasons for spending the $25 million on the extension as planned. Otherwise it may never get finished. I hope Mr. Broomfield continues to assist the people of Oakland County in this matter.

Offer Suggestions for Old Cards

Moms of America made 188 menu folders for the TB San and I made 204 for the Oakland County Convalescent Home from old Christmas cards. We bought art paper from book or dime store, selected pretty pictures and cut them to fit the paper. We made them book size, with one sheet of paper folded the long way, cut in two to make two folders.

Many hospitals or private rest homes would be pleased to receive them. Even your old birthday or get well cards can be mounted on colored art paper and given to a shut-in. They appreciate little favors. Some people get samples of wall paper cut with pinking shears to tray size and give them to hospitals to decorate trays. Anyone wanting to learn more about these things may call me.

Praises Father Who Limits TV

Hurray for the British father who directs a television station and yet will allow his children to watch only two programs a week. He says he isn't a Victorian father, but he doesn't want his children "to grow into square eyed maniacs." It's too bad more parents don't realize the harmful effect to a child of a constant diet of television. It takes courage these days to deny your children constant TV viewing, but it's worth it when you realize all the other things they're missing.

Talks Seek to Avert Telephone Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Contract negotiations between the Communications Workers of America (CWA) and the Long Lines Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. continue today.

The negotiators are seeking to reach agreement to avert a strike that could occur at midnight tomorrow, when the present contract expires.

Involved in contract talks are about 25,500 Bell system employes. They are mostly traffic operators and plant craftsmen who maintain long-distance equipment.

A company spokesman reported some progress after yesterday's four-hour session. Union representatives would not comment on progress of the talks.

★ ★ ★

He temporarily succeeds Hugel Leonard, who resigned the director's post to become chief sanitarian with the Midland County Health Department.

THE BERRYS By Carl Grubert

He'll Take Oath of Office Tomorrow

Meet New State Atty. Gen. Adams

By JACK SHANAHAN

SAULT STE. MARIE (INS) — Paul L. Adams, who will be sworn in tomorrow as Michigan's new attorney general, has had nearly a quarter-century of legal experience yet never prosecuted anybody.

He has never been reported to have taken part in a grand jury investigation and only appeared in criminal cases for the defense.

One of his latest court victories was as a defense lawyer in a local triumph at his native town of Sault Ste. Marie in which he won an acquittal for a man accused of filching cigarets.

But the Upper Peninsula Democrat, named to replace Thomas M. Kavanagh who will don the robes of a Supreme Court justice, says he is keeping a few maneuvers under his hat to be divulged only when he takes office. He declares:

"As with all lawyers, I have accumulated a lot of ideas about the job of attorney general, but it would not be proper for me to discuss them before I take office."

★ ★ ★

Adam's work as a counselor has been typical of small city practice involving civil lawsuits, corporation work, wills and legal testaments with an occasional criminal case.

ACTIVE IN BANK CASE

His longest case as a private attorney is expected to end shortly after he starts drawing a state paycheck. Since 1951 he and receiver Harold McGauley have been contending to recover losses for depositors of the defunct Bank of Pickford.

Only this month $35,000 more was added to 62 per cent of the funds already returned to depositors.

The bank upheaval was occasioned when cashier Ford Beacom committed suicide Oct. 30, 1951, and an examination showed $686,017 of the bank's funds had been passed out in uninsured loans some of which went into dry oil wells.

Adams passes credit for progress in the case to the receiver, but observers said the Sault Ste. Marie attorney's persistence played a large role.

★ ★ ★

Some of his other legal experience includes being counsel for the Cloverland Electric Co-op Association, a rural electrical project since it started nearly 20 years ago.

He also is counsel for the executor and executrix of former Gov. Chase S. Osborn's estate.

MANY PUBLIC POSTS

Adam has long been in public life. He was mayor of Sault Ste. Marie from 1939 to 1942. During World War II he was a member of the Board of Economic Warfare in Washington from 1943 to 1944. He became a member of the State Social Welfare Commission in 1949 and chairman of the City Charter Commission in 1950.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for prosecuting attorney in 1936 and 1950 and for Congress in 1942. His party work includes being secretary of the Chippewa County Committee for 14 years.

Political observers say Adams' appointment by Gov. G. Mennen Williams is an attempt to minimize feelings in Michigan that Detroiters were hogging state elective offices.

Party leaders considered Adams a prime choice to give the Upper Peninsula a place on the state ticket in 1958. He will have to run for election in November to remain in office.

SELF-TERMED LIBERAL

As for his personal politics, Adams describes himself as a responsible Liberal with no preconceived notions and wanting to follow the directives of the law.

Others have called him a Jeffersonian-Democrat with progressive impulses.

Adams, who will be 50 next April 9, is the grandson of Robert Newton Adams whose family settled in Michigan in 1879. Sault Ste. Marie's tallest business structure, the seven-story Adams Building, is owned by the family.

The new attorney general will have to give up his job as regent of the University of Michigan which he took in 1955. The quiet-speaking, studious, six-footer says it was a "hard decision" to leave the regent post.

"My life has been wrapped around the University. My father was a Michigan graduate, and my grandfather was chairn an of the University Committee in the Legislature when he was a state representative more than 50 years ago.

"My father-in-law was the late Prof. Louis Karpinski, dean of the mathematical department.

"It is with deepest reluctance that I must resign as a regent so soon after being elected to the job I coveted most."

Adams was graduated from the U. of M. with a Bachelor or Arts degree in 1930 and as a Master of Arts in 1931. He received his law degree there in 1936.

Adams and his wife, Ruth, have four daughters, Mary Louise, 19; Susan, 17; Katherine, 16, and Barbara, 13. The family might have to pull up roots when school closes in June and move to Lansing.

Talks Seek to Avert Telephone Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Contract negotiations between the Communications Workers of America (CWA) and the Long Lines Department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. continue today.

The negotiators are seeking to reach agreement to avert a strike that could occur at midnight tomorrow, when the present contract expires.

Involved in contract talks are about 25,500 Bell system employes. They are mostly traffic operators and plant craftsmen who maintain long-distance equipment.

A company spokesman reported some progress after yesterday's four-hour session. Union representatives would not comment on progress of the talks.

Heads Health Unit

LAKE CITY (AP)—Arthur J. Harvey of Cadillac has been appointed acting district health director of the five-county unit No. 1, which embraces Missaukee, Wexford, Kalkaska, Crawford and Roscommon Counties. He temporarily succeeds Hugel Leonard, who resigned the director's post to become chief sanitarian with the Midland County Health Department.

He'll Take Oath of Office Tomorrow

By JACK SHANAHAN

SAULT STE. MARIE (INS) — Paul L. Adams, who will be sworn in tomorrow as Michigan's new attorney general, has had nearly a quarter-century of legal experience yet never prosecuted anybody.

He has never been reported to have taken part in a grand jury investigation and only appeared in criminal cases for the defense.

One of his latest court victories was as a defense lawyer in a local triumph at his native town of Sault Ste. Marie in which he won an acquittal for a man accused of filching cigarets.

But the Upper Peninsula Democrat, named to replace Thomas M. Kavanagh who will don the robes of a Supreme Court justice, says he is keeping a few maneuvers under his hat to be divulged only when he takes office. He declares:

"As with all lawyers, I have accumulated a lot of ideas about the job of attorney general, but it would not be proper for me to discuss them before I take office."

★ ★ ★

Adam's work as a counselor has been typical of small city practice involving civil lawsuits, corporation work, wills and legal testaments with an occasional criminal case.

ACTIVE IN BANK CASE

His longest case as a private attorney is expected to end shortly after he starts drawing a state paycheck. Since 1951 he and receiver Harold McGauley have been contending to recover losses for depositors of the defunct Bank of Pickford.

Only this month $35,000 more was added to 62 per cent of the funds already returned to depositors.

The bank upheaval was occasioned when cashier Ford Beacom committed suicide Oct. 30, 1951, and an examination showed $686,017 of the bank's funds had been passed out in uninsured loans some of which went into dry oil wells.

Adams passes credit for progress in the case to the receiver, but observers said the Sault Ste. Marie attorney's persistence played a large role.

★ ★ ★

Some of his other legal experience includes being counsel for the Cloverland Electric Co-op Association, a rural electrical project since it started nearly 20 years ago.

He also is counsel for the executor and executrix of former Gov. Chase S. Osborn's estate.

MANY PUBLIC POSTS

Adam has long been in public life. He was mayor of Sault Ste. Marie from 1939 to 1942. During World War II he was a member of the Board of Economic Warfare in Washington from 1943 to 1944. He became a member of the State Social Welfare Commission in 1949 and chairman of the City Charter Commission in 1950.

He was an unsuccessful candidate for prosecuting attorney in 1936 and 1950 and for Congress in 1942. His party work includes being secretary of the Chippewa County Committee for 14 years.

Political observers say Adams' appointment by Gov. G. Mennen Williams is an attempt to minimize feelings in Michigan that Detroiters were hogging state elective offices.

Party leaders considered Adams a prime choice to give the Upper Peninsula a place on the state ticket in 1958. He will have to run for election in November to remain in office.

SELF-TERMED LIBERAL

As for his personal politics, Adams describes himself as a responsible Liberal with no preconceived notions and wanting to follow the directives of the law.

Others have called him a Jeffersonian-Democrat with progressive impulses.

Adams, who will be 50 next April 9, is the grandson of Robert Newton Adams whose family settled in Michigan in 1879. Sault Ste. Marie's tallest business structure, the seven-story Adams Building, is owned by the family.

The new attorney general will have to give up his job as regent of the University of Michigan which he took in 1955. The quiet-speaking, studious, six-footer says it was a "hard decision" to leave the regent post.

"My life has been wrapped around the University. My father was a Michigan graduate, and my grandfather was chairn an of the University Committee in the Legislature when he was a state representative more than 50 years ago.

"My father-in-law was the late Prof. Louis Karpinski, dean of the mathematical department.

"It is with deepest reluctance that I must resign as a regent so soon after being elected to the job I coveted most."

Adams was graduated from the U. of M. with a Bachelor or Arts degree in 1930 and as a Master of Arts in 1931. He received his law degree there in 1936.

Adams and his wife, Ruth, have four daughters, Mary Louise, 19; Susan, 17; Katherine, 16, and Barbara, 13. The family might have to pull up roots when school closes in June and move to Lansing.

Hal Boyle Says:

Take Heart: '58 Halo Epidemic Will Subside

★ ★ ★

The children, having beaten their Christmas toys into plowshares, are already back to acting their usual wily abnormal little selves. Their pious behavior forgotten, they are cheerfully engaged in trying to outwit the best-laid plans of parent and teacher.

★ ★ ★

The adults, after the first fever of seasonal reform abates, will go back to being normally abnormal, too. Some of the gilt is already wearing off a few halos, and the sooner all the gilt wears off most of them the better it will be for everybody. Then we will all know how to deal with each other again.

The idea of a national Do Right and Live Better Club is praiseworthy in principle. It might even make for a better world if it started small and grew gradually.

But it doesn't happen that way. Everybody — or nearly everybody — signs a membership card the same day.

By nightfall of New Year's Day, many individuals have abandoned their good resolutions. Every day after that there are more desertions from the banner of the impossibly perfect life. The few who do adhere to their resolutions throughout the year improve their character, and are better for it, but as long as everybody doesn't follow their example the nation is safe.

★ ★ ★

But what if everybody resolved at the same time to go on the water wagon, save his money, buy nothing except for cash, and then only what he actually really needed? The American economy would crash in three months, and by 1959 we'd all have to take in each other's washing to earn a living.

★ ★ ★

What if every office Milquetoast in the land decided at the same time to be firm and decisive? There'd be so many wrong decisions made no business could endure.

What if everyone in America decided on the same day never to say another unkind word to anybody, no matter what the provocation? With nobody having any hurt feelings none of us would have any reason for self-pity. In three weeks we'd all run shrieking into the woods out of sheer boredom.

The best thing to do if you have a friend in the grip of an impossible self-improvement crusade is to send him a get-well card, and wait for nature to take its course. When it's all over, everybody will feel better.

Oldest Banker Dies

PETOSKEY (AP)—Chalmers Curtis, believed the oldest active banker in Michigan, died Wednesday night in Little Traverse Hospital at Petoskey. He was 90. Curtis was chairman of the board of the First National Bank of Petoskey and had been affiliated with the institution 74 years.

The first electric headlights for automobiles came into use about 1910. The electric starter came in about 1911.

Voter Shows Contempt for All 'Evil' Candidates

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP) — When tabulators were recording ballots cast in the primary election, they came across one with this inscription:

Friends Start Murder Investigation

THE STORY SO FAR: A blind in a train passing hers snaps up and respectable Mrs. McGillicuddy, on a prosaic trip to visit her friend Miss Marple, fluttery old lady with a shrewd brain and a gift for solving crimes, sees a man strangling a woman. When she tells the conductor he puts it down to her imagination. Only Miss Marple believes her. They report to the police.

INSTALLMENT II

"You read about bodies being put in trunks," said Mrs. McGillicuddy, "but no one travels with trunks nowadays, only suitcases, and you couldn't get a body into a suitcase."

"Yes," said Cornish. "I agree with you both. The body, if there is a body, ought to have been discovered by now, or will be very soon. I'll let you know any developments there are — though I daresay you'll read about them in the papers. There's the possibility, of course, that the woman, though savagely attacked, was not actually dead. She may have been able to leave the train on her own feet."

★ ★ ★

"Hardly without assistance," said Miss Marple. "And if so, it will have been noticed. A man, supporting a woman whom he says is ill."

"Yes, it will have been noticed," said Cornish. "Or if a woman was found unconscious or ill in a carriage and was removed to hospital, that too, will be on record. I think you may rest assured that you'll hear about it all in a very short time."

But that day passed and the next day. On that evening Miss Marple received a note from Sergeant Cornish.

"In regard to the matter on which you consulted me, full inquiries have been made, with no result. No woman's body has been found. No hospital has administered treatment to a woman such as you describe, and no case of a woman suffering from shock or taken ill, or leaving a station supported by a man has been observed. You may take it that the fullest inquiries have been made. I suggest that your friend may have witnessed a scene such as she described but that it was much less serious than she supposed."

"Less serious? Fiddlesticks!" said Mrs. McGillicuddy. "It was murder!"

She looked defiantly at Miss Marple and Miss Marple looked back at her.

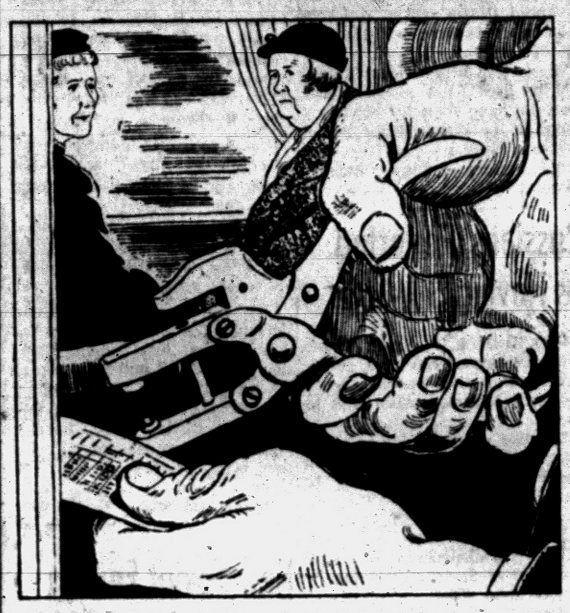
IMAGINE DEATH

"Go on, Jane," said Mrs. McGillicuddy. "Say it was all a mistake! Say I imagined the whole thing! That's what you think now, isn't it?"

"Anyone can be mistaken," Miss Marple pointed out gently. "Anybody, Elspeth — even you. I think we must bear that in mind. But I still think, you know, that you were most probably not mistaken . . . . You use glasses for reading, but you've got very good far sight — and what you saw impressed you very powerfully. You were definitely suffering from shock when you arrived here."

"It's a thing I shall never forget," said Mrs. McGillicuddy with a shudder. "The trouble is I don't see what I can do about it!"

"I don't think," said Miss Marple thoughtfully, "that there's anything more you can do about it." (If Mrs. McGillicuddy had been alert to the tones of her friend's voice, she might have noticed a very faint stress laid on the you.) "You've reported what you saw — to the railway people and to the police. No, there's nothing more you can do."



It was not the same ticket collector.

"That's a relief, in a way," said Mrs. McGillicuddy, "because as you know, I'm going out to Ceylon immediately after Christmas — to stay with Roderick, and I certainly do not want to put that visit off — I've been looking forward to it so much. Though of course I would put it off if I thought it was my duty," she added conscientiously.

"I'm sure you would, Elspeth, but as I say, I consider you've done everything you possibly could do."

"It's up to the police," said Mrs. McGillicuddy. "And if the police choose to be stupid—"

Miss Marple shook her head decisively.

"Oh no," she said, "the police aren't stupid. And that makes it interesting, doesn't it?"

Mrs. McGillicuddy looked at her without comprehension and Miss Marple reaffirmed her judgment of her friend as a woman of excellent principles and no imagination.

WANT TO KNOW

"One wants to know," said Miss Marple, "what really happened."

"She was killed."

"Yes, but who killed her, and why, and what happened to her body? Where is it now?"

"That's the business of the police to find out."

"Exactly — and they haven't found out. That means, doesn't it, that the man was clever — very clever. I can't imagine, you know," said Miss Marple knitting her brows, "how he disposed of it. . . . You kill a woman in a fit of passion — it must have been unpremeditated, you'd never choose to kill a woman in such circumstances just a few minutes before running into a big station. No, it must have been a quarrel—jealousy — something of that kind. You strangle her — and there you are, as I say, with a dead body on your hands and on the point of running into a station. What could you do except as I said at first, prop the body up in a corner as though asleep, hiding the face, and then yourself leave the train as quickly as possible. I don't see any other possibility—and yet there must have been one . . ."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. McGillicuddy spoke to her twice before Miss Marple answered.

"You're getting deaf, Jane."

"Just a little, perhaps. People do not seem to me to enunciate their words as clearly as they used to do. But it wasn't that I didn't hear you. I'm afraid I wasn't paying attention."

"I just asked about the trains to London tomorrow. Would the afternoon be all right? I'm going to Margaret's and she isn't expecting me before teatime."

"I wonder, Elspeth, if you would mind going up by the 12:15? We could have an early lunch."

DROWNS WORDS

"Of course and —" Miss Marple went on, drowning her friend's words:

"And I wonder, too, if Margaret would mind if you didn't arrive for tea — if you arrived about seven, perhaps?"

Mrs. McGillicuddy looked at her friend curiously.

"What's on your mind, Jane?"

"I suggest, Elspeth, that I should travel up to London with you, and that we should travel down again as far as Brackhampton in the train you traveled by the other day. You would then return to London from Brackhampton and I would come on here as you did. I, of course, would pay the fares," Miss Marple stressed this point firmly.

Mrs. McGillicuddy ignored the financial aspect.

"What on earth do you expect, Jane?" she asked. "Another murder?"

"Certainly not," said Miss Marple shocked. "But I confess I should like to see for myself, under your guidance, the — the — really it is most difficult to find the correct term — the terrain of the crime."

So accordingly on the following day Miss Marple and Mrs. McGillicuddy found themselves in two opposite corners of a first class carriage speeding out of London by the 4:54 from Paddington. Paddington had been even more crowded than on the preceding Friday — as there were now only two days to go before Christmas, but the 4:54 was comparatively peaceful — at any rate in the rear portion.

On this occasion no train drew level with them, or they with another train. At intervals trains flashed past them towards London. On two occasions trains flanhed past them the other way going at high speed. At intervals Mrs. McGillicuddy consulted her watch doubtfully.

"It's hard to tell just when — we'd passed through a station I know . . ." But they were continually passing through stations.

"We're due in Brackhampton in five minutes," said Miss Marple.

A ticket collector appeared in the doorway. Miss Marple raised her eyes interrogatively. Mrs. McGillicuddy shook her head. It was not the same ticket collector. He clipped their tickets, and passed on staggering just a little as the train swung round a long curve. It slackened speed as it did so.

"I expect we're coming into Brackhampton," said Mrs. McGillicuddy.

"We're getting into the outskirts, I think," said Miss Marple.

Announce Plans for Ferry Docks

State May Use Portion of St. Ignace Property for Highway Garage

LANSING (AP) — Tentative plans for disposal of dock facilities formerly used for the Straits of Mackinac ferries were announced today by the State Highway Department.

★ ★ ★

John C. Mackie, State Highway Commissioner, said a portion of the ferry dock property at St. Ignace probably will be used for location of a new Mackinac County maintenance garage.

More than $4,500,000 in state highway funds have been invested in four separate docking facilities at the Straits. One is located at Mackinaw City and three at St. Ignace.

A recent attorney general's opinion indicated the Legislature is to dispose of any surplus docks no longer needed since the ferry service was discontinued Nov. 1 with the opening of the Straits Bridge.

Mackie said the No. 1 facility at St. Ignace will be ready for disposal as soon as highway administrative functions there are transferred from the department office.

The No. 2 facility at St. Ignace can be disposed of when the highway department sells the steam ferries presently docked there.

The No. 2 dock represents an investment of $3,500,000 and was built especially to handle the big ferry, Vacationland. Some of the property, exclusive of the actual docks, may be used to locate a highway department maintenance garage.

"The property has water, sewage and other facilities," Mackie said, "and it may be less costly to locate our new garage at this site than on a new one."

Mackie said the Mackinac City dock is no longer needed by the department for any purpose.

Any money received for the dock facilities would go into the state highway fund for road - building purposes.

Sunday Selling Ban to Be Reconsidered

DETROIT (AP) — A motion to reconsider a proposed ordinance banning Sunday real estate sales is before Detroit's Common Council.

Councilman Charles N. Youngblood, who voted for the controversial proposal, yesterday filed for reconsideration by council and said he may make a motion to table the ordinance.

The proposed law would ban the Sunday sale or showing of real estate in Detroit. It was passed by the council 4-3 last Monday.

Mayor Louis Miriani said he was undecided whether or not to veto the proposal.

Leader Dogs Coming

ROCHESTER — Any day now, Leader Dogs for the Blind, Inc., a training school in Rochester for leader dogs and their blind masters, will receive its second group of six German Shepherds from Germany.

They arrived in Brooklyn the day before New Year's aboard the German-American line freighter, M. V. Erlangen, and should be here within a few days, said Harold L. Pocklington, executive director of the organization.

The dogs were purchased from Baroness Fannie von Gumppenberg, of Diening, Bavaria, by Walter Harnischfeger, of Milwaukee.

This makes 12 German Shepherds donated to Leader Dogs by Harnischfeger, who is a member of the organization's advisory committee.

Since its origination in 1939, Leader Dogs for the Blind has grown to where this past year it graduated 115 dogs and their masters. This is the greatest number in the school's history, Pocklington said.

★ ★ ★

The school, located at 1039 S. Rochester Rd., is the second largest of its type in the world. Only the original school, Seeing Eye Dogs, Inc., of New Jersey, provides more dogs for the blind.

Pocklington stresses that his school's dogs be referred to as "leader," not "seeing eye" dogs, the name used by the New Jersey School.

The blind, who come here from all parts of the world, pay only a token fee for their dogs and the course, which lasts a month. They are housed in a dormitory with facilities to accommodate 12 persons.

Two classes of six persons each usually are in session at a time, Pocklington said. They work with eight full-time trainers, under the direction of Fred Maynard, who has been at the school since it was begun.

Altogether, the school is staffed by 16 people, including clerical and kitchen help.

When the six German Shepherds arrive they will bring the school's total to 76. Besides Shepherds, the school trains Collies and Retrievers to lead the blind.

Walled Lake Calls Special School Vote

WALLED LAKE—A special election has been called by the Walled Lake Board of Education for Feb. 17 to seek approval by the electorate of a two million dollar bond issue for school construction.

★ ★ ★

The board authorized the election at a special meeting. The money would be used mainly for construction of buildings to house expanding elementary and junior high school enrollment.

★ ★ ★

Superintendent of Schools Clifford H. Smart said the funds would be earmarked over a three-year period to:

1. Build a new junior high school on the 30-acre Commerce road site owned by the Walled Lake School District.

2. Construct a 20-room elementary school building.

3. Make additions and remodel existing school buildings.

4. Provide for architects and attorneys fees.

5. Provide equipment for new buildings.

The bond issue would not increase the school tax rate, Smart said. The present rate of $8.50 per $1,000 of state qualized valuation will carry the proposed issue because of the increased valuation of property in the district, and because a considerably higher debt has been paid sooner than anticipated, he said.

★ ★ ★

The bonds would be sold by the Board of Education only as needed to pay construction costs, according to Smart.

JUNIOR HIGH 1ST

The first project will be the junior high school building, which will be needed by September 1959. Some elementary pupils will be housed in both junior high buildings for a two-year period.

A citizens' committee has been working on the junior high school plans for several months.

Only property holders of the school district may vote on the bond issue. To qualify, a voter must be registered in the town or city in which he resides; a citizen of the United States; 21 years of age; a resident of Michigan for six months and of the school district for 30 days, and the owner of property assessed for school taxes.

End 2 Years of Half-Day Schedules

Milford Students Will Use New High School Monday

MILFORD—On Monday 710 Milford High School pupils will begin classes in their new two million dollar high school on a full day schedule for the first time in two years.

The usual opening school date immediately after New Year's day was postponed because workmen were putting the finishing touches to the ultra-modern school building located on N. Milford road.

For the past few weeks, the teenagers have been making scheduled tours of the new building, and in contrast to the usual antipathy towards returning to school after the Christmas vacation, the pupils now are looking forward to the event.

Covering more than five of the 66 acres of school grounds, the building has one of the best equipped science lab units in the nation, along with 34 other modern classrooms.

Designed to be a community center as well as a school, residents in the area will soon be able to take advantage of the school's facilities. Adult education evening classes will be scheduled, according to Supt. Harold Hansen.

The auditorium has a seating capacity of more than 300 persons and the portable bleachers in the gymnasium will seat some 1,700 spectators.

Every unit in the school, including shop, homemaking, music and athletic facilities, is of the most advanced design. Seven different color schemes were used throughout the building.

The old high school in Milford will be used as a second junior high for more than 200 pupils enrolled in the Huron Valley School System, Hansen said. They also begin classes full-time Monday morning.

Russians Reported as Having 3 A-Subs

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Soviet Russia probably already has three atomic submarines, the Swedish naval yearbook Marinkalendern said today.

The 1958 yearbook, issued today, suggested two may be in the Baltic Sea and the other in the Far East.

★ ★ ★

Because of their geographical proximity to Soviet navy bases in the Baltic, Swedish naval experts are often ahead of others with information on Soviet naval power.

Britain's leading publication on naval power, Jane's Fighting Ships, said in its recently published 1957-1958 edition, that the Soviet Union "is pressing the development of the atomic-powered submarine." But Jane's pictured the United States as the only naval power with atomic submarines in commission.

Clarkston Methodists Honor Students

Set Annual Youth Banquet

CLARKSTON — Clarkston Methodist Church will celebrate its annual youth weekend by entertaining area college students and servicemen at the second annual youth banquet to be held tonight at the church on Buffalo street.

Coach Fraser was voted "Coach of the Year," in the Upper Peninsula when he coached at Newberry High School. His football team had a 24-0 record and was picked state class B champion in 1951.

Fraser is now in his fourth year as coach at Albion, where his teams always have finished near top of their leagues.

Several Clarkston High School students and former students of the school now attending college are handling the program.

Cheri Littleson, a Michigan State University student, will act as toastmistress. Judy Inman, Clarkston High School student, will give the invocation. Sue Ellen Odell, a student at Central Michigan College, and Clyde Kaiser, Eastern Michigan College student, will present brief sketches of their colleges.

Diane and Kathy Taylor will present several novelty vocal duets. Beverly Bell, youth sponsor, will direct singing.

The youth group also will conduct Sunday morning worship services at the church.

Sheldon Smith, University of Michigan student, will speak Sunday on New Year's resolutions. He will be assisted by Miss Inman and Judy Weaver, also a Clarkston High School student.

Kaiser and Ira Pence, a student at the University of Michigan, will assist Smith.

Miss Odell will be soloist and Joseph Jennings, Clarkston High School student, will accompany her on the organ and play for the morning service.

Orion Tree Burning Scheduled Jan. 11

LAKE ORION — The annual Christmas tree burning ceremony will be held in Atwater Park Jan. 11.

The 120-plus Cub Scouts of Orion, under the direction of Cubmaster Gordon Brown, will pick up the trees. They have requested residents to leave them near the road by morning of that date.

A part of the park, not seeded by the Little Leaguers' project, has been set aside for the event.

Firemen have pledged a standby in case the fire gets out of bounds. If the night chosen is windy, or the firemen feel weather makes burning unsafe, a later Saturday will be announced for the event. In 1955 the ceremony was postponed a week.

Marlette Parents Tell of Daughter's Engagement

MARLETTE — Mr. and Mrs. Emory Montgomery of Marlette have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lina, to Emerson J. Stilwell, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Stilwell, of Beaverton.

Miss Montgomery is a graduate of Marlette Community High School and will graduate from Michigan State University this spring.

★ ★ ★

Her fiance is a graduate of Grand Blanc High School and is now attending Michigan State University.

Mouse Attacks Cat

WARRENTON, Va. (AP)—A mouse charged a small girl in her yard here and bit both the girl and a cat she was holding.

Chief of Gypsies Denies Holding Captive Bride

A Washington private detective who had been hired by the girl's family said all efforts to return her from Detroit had been in vain. He criticized the Detroit Police Department for not cooperating with him.

Joseph Stanley, who is considered as king of the state's gypsies, said Probate Judge William Cody had married his son, Tony and the girl, Rosie Demetro. He stated there had also been a typical gypsy wedding in Washington.

He declared the girl was 21-years-old and not 14, thus free to marry. Rosie's father, Tom, a retired Washington metal plater, claimed she was 14 and an agreement had been made not to consumate the marriage until she was 17.

Stanley added he had paid a $2,500 dowry to the girl's father who had "boasted he could collect dowrys at least six times on his daughter." Stanley added:

"I guess he wanted to die a rich man."

New Soviet Envoy Accepted by U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top-ranking economic negotiator, Mikhail A. Menshikov, has been accepted as the new Russian ambassador to the United States.

Diplomatic officials said the State Department formally notified the Soviet government that Menshikov was acceptable after considering the nomination for two weeks.

Menshikov, a former envoy to India, was credited with being the driving force behind major economic deals with that nation. His new appointment was seen as a sign that Moscow plans to intensify the Russian campaign to increase trade with the United States, particularly in strategic materials.

★ ★ ★

The suave, well-tailored diplomat will replace Georgi N. Zarubin, who is to become deputy foreign minister in charge of personnel. Zarubin is expected to leave in about two weeks.

Sylvan Manor Group to Meet Monday Night

WEST BLOOMFIELD—The Sylvan Manor Civic Association will meet in the West Bloomfield town hall at 8 p.m. Monday.

A nominating committee will be appointed by the President Edwin Ambrose to select candidates for the election of officers in February.

Refreshments will be served following the business meeting.

Plane Opens His Door

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Keith Nelson of nearby Speedway has a garage door opened by an electronic device. He couldn't figure out why the door opened at odd times day and night until he noticed that when a plane comes in on a certain runway at nearby Weir Cook Airport the door moved.

Student Support Hike Proposed

Education Study Group Advises State to Boost Its Aid $20 Per Pupil

LANSING (AP) — A state level of support of $210 per pupil in the next fiscal year compared to the present $190 has been proposed by the Michigan Educational Finance Study Commission.

Dr. Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, said yesterday he generally approves of the recommendations of the 36-man commission, appointed last September.

The commission estimated that the proposed new per-pupil level of aid for local school districts would add around 26 million dollars to the state's education bill.

The state support for education will total around 287 million dollars for the current fiscal year ending June 30.

The commission said approximately half of the 26 million dollars would be used to take care of an anticipated 70,000 increase in enrollment and the other half would off-set increased education needs and operating costs.

The commission also proposed a local deduction of 3.5 mills for the state as a whole and 2.7 mills for Detroit to take care of the added expense of Wayne State University.

Deductable millage is an equalizing factor for determining the amount of aid to go to the various school districts.

Traffic Slowed Down by Obvious Warning

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Tucson police noticed that traffic suddenly began proceeding at a sedate and orderly pace after they set up their radar on East Broadway.

★ ★ ★

Business stepped up, however, when a sign on the next block was discovered and removed. The sign said:

"Look out! Cops using radar."

County 'B' League Sets Student Council Session

VAN DYKE—The Oakland County "B" League Student Council will meet at Firtzgerald High School at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

Exchange assemblies among the Avondale, Clawson, Fitzgerald, Troy High Schools will be discussed. Also on the agenda is a discussion concerning the forming of a state student council organization.

Farming Community Struck by Tragedy

9 Persons Die in Head-On Auto Crash

EUREKA, S.D. (AP) — This farming community of 1,875 today arranged funeral services for nine persons killed in a head-on auto crash.

The entire town was struck by the tragedy.

People talked in hushed tones. They gathered in somber groups at the north end of Main Street to look at two battered hunks of metal that had been automobiles.

The cars collided about midnight Wednesday.

Six of the victims were members of the Walter Beck family, including Beck, his wife and four of their seven children. The other three were teen-agers, two of them high school students.

Mrs. Beck, 42, was five mnoths pregnant.

At the local hospital, two of the surviving Beck children slept, unaware that their parents and brothers and sisters were dead.

Wilbert, 16, had a compound leg fracture and lacerations of the head. His sister Mary, 6, had a fractured leg and bruises.

Authorities said Wilbert and Mary apparently were asleep in the back seat of the car when the crash occurred 3½ miles west of here.

To the Rev. T. R. Baudler of the Zion Lutheran Church fell the duty of arranging the burial of seven of the victims. The Becks were members of his congregation as was Larry Wiedmeier, 15, a passenger in one of the cars.

★ ★ ★

"The Wiedmeier boy was just confirmed a few months ago," Mr. Baulder said. "His mother was hysterical when I talked with her this morning."

A mass funeral for the Becks and the Wiedmeier boy was planned for 2 p.m. Monday in the local auditorium. "We couldn't get seven caskets into the church," Mr. Baulder said.

Services for Clyde Krein, 16, were set for tomorrow afternoon in the Congregation church. Marvin Neuharth, 18, driver of the car in which Krein and Wiedmeir were riding, will be buried Sunday after services in the Reformed church.

Man Learns Bride Was Bank Robber

Marriage Lasts Half Day

DETROIT (AP) — James E. Christy's marriage to Opal Dixon lasted only a half day. In getting it annulled yesterday he testified his 45-year-old bride had failed to tell him she had served a prison term for bank robbery.

Christy, 55-year-old Somerset printer, said he courted the "charming, witty, white-haired woman" for a week before they were married Oct. 25 at Saline. The same day, he said, he learned from newspaper clippings that "she had attempted to rob an Iowa bank in 1947."

Circuit Judge Horace W. Gilmore granted the annulment.

Des Moines, Iowa, police said Opal Dixon was sentenced to life in prison in February, 1947, in the "syringe" robbery of the Des Moines Bank and Trust Co. a month earlier.

Police said she had entered the bank, brandished a syringe she said contained nitroglycerin and threatened to blow up the bank. They said she fled with $2,950 and was captured an hour later.

★ ★ ★

Records show she was released on parole Aug. 21, 1957. The parole was revoked last November at the request of Michigan authorities and she was returned to the Iowa Women's Reformatory last Nov. 24. She had been in Michigan visiting a daughter in suburban Highland Park, Christy said.

Rejects Try to Get Gas Through Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Power Commission (FPC) has rejected the latest efforts of Michigan's Upper Peninsula to obtain natural gas through a current FPC case.

The FPC ruled yesterday against a request by the Upper Peninsula interests to present direct testimony before an FPC examiner in behalf of gas for that area.

Some observers considered the FPC action as a virtual deathblow to the Upper Peninsula's hopes to have its application made part of the present case dealing with proposed gas service in the Midwest area. But Reuben Goldberg, counsel for the northern Michigan interests, refused to concede defeat.

He admitted, however, that "it may be more difficult" as a result of today's decision for the Upper Peninsula group to enter the case. He did not indicate what his next move, if any, might be.

Hydraulics Help AF Set Record

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Four hydraulic pump each the size of a grapefruit helped an Air Force fighter-bomber to go 1,207 miles an hour the other day to smash a closed course speed record.

The small units can send as much as 120 horsepower of energy to the ends of the plane, supplying the power needed to move ailerons, wing flaps and other control surfaces against strong air resistance.

Farmers use such devices when plowing. Motorists use them for power steering, for hydraulic jacks and transmissions. Massive bulldozers toss boulders around and steer their tracks by hydraulics. A power shovel scoops up earth and stones, a hundred tons at a time, with hydraulic pressure. Your barber or dentist may lift or lower you in their chairs by the touch of a hydraulic device.

★ ★ ★

The record-cracking plane is McDonnell Aircraft's F101A Voodoo and the pumps are Denison HydrOilics made by the Kellogg Division of American Brake Shoe. The pumps give the plane's pilot the equivalent of muscles with a force of 3,000 pounds per square inch.

★ ★ ★

Oil is used in the tubes running from the cockpit to the wing controls since oil is almost incompressible, and a little pressure by the pump can deliver tremendous force. It can also deliver extreme degrees of delicacy in handling force. For example, a hydraulic multipress is controlled so precisely it can print color samples on paint advertising folders with little more than a bare brush stroke impact on the paper.

★ ★ ★

Among other makers of hydraulic systems are Worthington, Harrison, N.J.; Vickers, Detroit; Oil Gear, Milwaukee; and New York Air Brake, which services the auto industry.

Changing Patronage

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Five persons suffered minor burns and cuts when an explosion caused by a leaking gas pipe demolished a small bar here. "Are you hurt?" Det. T. J. Despain asked one of the patrons who staggered out of the wreckage. "No, but I'll never drink beer in there again," he answered.

NEWEST ENTRY — The Rambler American is newest entry in the U. S. automobile market. Built on a 100-inch wheelbase, the five-passenger, two-door American is offered in a deluxe or super sedan, and will have the lowest advertised-delivered price of any U. S.-built car. The new car is powered by a six-cylinder L-head engine developing 90 horsepower.

Marriages Decrease, Divorce Up in Wayne

DETROIT (INS) — Marriages decreased and divorces increased in Wayne County last year, but only slightly.

County Clerk Edgar M. Branigin said 21,231 marriage licenses were issued in 1957 as compared with 22,085 the previous year.

He said 11,445 divorce cases were filed last year as against 11,433 in 1956. Some 5,329 divorces were granted in '57 as compared with 7,937 granted in '56.

Channel Saves Time

RIO DE JANEIRO—The Government of Brazil is opening a new, more northerly channel into the manganese-loading port of Santana in the mouth of the Amazon River. The channel will save ore ships about 600 miles per trip compared with the long-used southern channel around the large island of Marejo.

The U. S. normally uses 40 per cent of the world's supply of nickel and tin and 45 per cent of its chromium.

New Rambler American Ready for Chicago Show

DETROIT — A new entry in the U. S. automobile market, the Rambler American, designed to combine the economy and handling ease of the small European cars, was announced today by American Motors Corporation.

The five-passenger, two-door sedan, will go on sale at Rambler dealerships across the nation on Jan. 30.

Nearly three-feet shorter than the average American car, the American will get its first public showing at the Chicago Auto Show, which opens tomorrow.

"The Rambler American actually is a car in answer to a demand," according to Roy Abernethy, vice president of automotive distribution and marketing of American Motors.

"Both the motoring public, fleet operators and our dealers urged us to again offer a car with a wheelbase of 100 inches, as we did until 1955. The market for this size of car now has reached a point where the American 'had' to be brought out."

The new model is powered by a six-cylinder L-head engine developing 90 horsepower. With overdrive and favorable driving conditions, it can obtain up to 35 miles per gallon with regular grade gasoline, Abernethy said. A three-speed manual transmission is standard and automatic transmission is optional.

The new model is 57 and a third inches high, 73 inches wide and less than 15 feet long. Shipping weight is about 2,500 pounds.

One Unused Lighthouse Sought Via Want Ads

LONDON (INS) — Wanted: one unused lighthouse, "Immediately."

"Dealers" can contact an unidentified woman who advertised for a lighthouse today in the staid London Times. She explained that she preferred a lighthouse perched on an ocean rock — but not too far out.

★ ★ ★

The lighthouse seeker said she intends to "get away from it all," adding: "I like the sea and I like lighthouses. Is that unusual?"

Last Detroit December Wettest Since 1929

DETROIT (INS) — The Detroit weather bureau reported last month was the wettest December in the city since 1929.

The bureau also said it was the third-wettest December since the turn of the century.

Total precipitation was 4.6 inches as compared with 4.79 in 1929 and 4.62 in 1907. Snowfall totaled 5.1 inches — about a half-inch of precipitation.

The bureau said temperatures last month averaged 34.1 degrees, or 4.6 degrees above normal.

Space Conquest, Politics Share 1957's Headlines

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
Foreign News Analyst

Science vied with politics in sponsoring the most important events of the year 1957.

Overshadowing everything else during the year both in immediate and long-range significance, was the beginning of man's conquest of cosmic space through the launching of the first artificial earth satellites by the Soviet Union.

From a Soviet rocket launching site—quite probably at the village of Krasny Yar located near Astrakhan at the mouth of the Volga—early on the morning of Oct. 4, a big ballistic missile whooshed upwards with a rush of flame. And a few seconds later a small but weighty silvery ball was circling the earth outside the atmosphere at a speed of 18,000 m.p.h.

Thus science — as it happened Soviet science — began the process of liberation of humanity from the confines of this small planet called earth. The process will go on for decades and centuries but Oct. 4, 1957 will remain a red-letter date in histories.

But Sputnik's rocket at the same time that it symbolized a triumph of man's creative genius also just as vividly symbolized man's dismal ineptitude in the management of human affairs.

For the rocket, the instrument which shot Sputnik nto space, was also a weapon, a superweapon which shot Sputnik into space, was which in the form of an intercontinental ballistic missile was designed by men to kill men. And while some of the world's most brilliant scientists worked hard to extend man's knowledge and control over his environment, many others labored just as hard to create new instruments of destruction and war.

Sputnik made most of the other events of 1957 — the political events — seem unimportant. Yet they were extremely important because in many of them there lurked the danger of a new world war.

MIDEAST CRISES

This was particularly true in the troubled Middle East where rampant Arab nationalism kept creating new crises almost faster than they could be quelled.

This year 1956 left the world with the problem in 1957 of attempting to liquidate the dire consequences of the British-French-Israeli attack on Egypt of November 1956. The Suez Canal was finally reopened to traffic at the end of March. But the political debris was not so easily cleared away.

Arab extremists, encouraged by the outcome of the Suez crisis, tried to secure control over the government of Jordan but young King Hussein with his throne at stake struck in mid-April at his pro-Egyptian enemies and defeated them.

In Syria, however, after extremists and pro-Soviet elements had established themselves more firmly in the saddle than ever, a new crisis arose in October. American moves aimed apparently at getting a less anti-Western government in Syria aroused a violent Soviet reaction in which the Kremlin threatened Turkey and the United States and charged them with preparing invasion of Syria.

It was a paper crisis in the sense that it was mostly a creation of the Soviet propaganda machine. But it was real enough in the sense that it was the kind of crisis which could give rise to World War III.

The Soviet moves in the Syrian question may well have been designed in part to set the scene in Soviet internal politics for Nikita Khrushchev's key move in his drive to absolute power in the U.S.S.R. — the removal at the end of October of Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov from his post as minister of defense.

Earlier in the year Khrushchev had used Zhukov's support to oust other key rivals — Georgi Malenkoz, V. M. Molotov, Lazar Kaganovich and Dmitri Shepilov. All four were expelled from the Kremlin leadership after a showdown on June 29.

If the Soviet Union and the Middle East were the biggest sources of 1957 world news, there were other places as well which also saw important events.

NATO CONFERENCE

Lat in the year President Eisenhower and other leaders of North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations sat down in Paris to discuss means of meeting the Soviet military threat. The NATO members accepted in principle the stationing U.S. nuclear missiles in Western Europe and agreed on a new approach to the Soviet Union on disarmament.

In Algeria the rebellion against France continued to boil all year long. It gave rise to political crises in France which for weeks at one point left that country without a government.

In Indonesia deterioration of the young nation's economy and political stability seemed by December to be setting the scene for a possible Communist seizure of power.

In the United States the events in Little Rock, Ark., in September, when the President of the United States intervened with federal troops to enforce an integration order, and to prevent recurrence of mob violence got world attention.

FRICTION WITH JAPAN

In Japan, William Girard, a young American soldier, killed a Japanese woman on a target range and spectacularly, but briefly, strained U.S.-Japanese relations. America won good will by turning him over to a Japanese court which convicted him of manslaughter and gave him a suspended sentence.

★ ★ ★

The continuing British-Greek-Turkish dispute over the future of Cyprus, the worldwide epidemic of Asian flu and President Eisenhower's slight stroke in November also made world headlines.

Two Sputniks in the heavens above — and a good deal of trouble on the ground below. That was the year 1957 whose demise few Americans and other Westerners will regret.

Divorce Business Up

RENO (AP)—Reno had more divorce business last year than in 1956, but fewer marriages. Divorce decrees were granted to 4,468 people last year, 48 more than in 1956. Marriage licenses numbeed 19,700 in 1957 compared with 20,196 the previous year.

Carbon Monoxide Fatal

ALAMEDA, Calif. (AP)—Raymond Peutz, 40-year-old auto mechanic, crawled under his own car to repair the muffler. Police officers found him dead of carbon monoxide poisoning. They said he apparently had been overcome by fumes from the motor, which was left running, although the garage doors were open.

Judy Garland's Contract Dropped After Walkout

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Judy Garland's songs are ended for a night club where she walked offstage during a New Year's Eve show because she thought the crowd too noisy.

★ ★ ★

The singer ended yesterday her four-week Flamingo Hotel contract calling for a reported $30,000 a week. The deal was canceled after one week by mutual consent.

★ ★ ★

One hotel source said Judy was annoyed at the noise of celebrating customers and stormed off in midnumber with the angry crack, "apparently you're doing fine without me."

Another source said she started her engagement last Thursday with a touch of laryngitis and never entirely recovered.

Queen Elizabeth Appears on List for First Time

Mrs. Paley Named Best-Dressed

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS)—A New York society matron who dresses "on nothing a year," Mrs. William Paley, today won fashion's "best-dressed" title for the fifth year in a row.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Paley, tall, brunette and the mother of four children, topped Queen Elizabeth, the Duchess of Windsor and three countesses on the 1958 list of the world's best-dressed women.

FIRST APPEARANCE

For Queen Elizabeth, it was her first appearance on the annual list. She placed fourth, two notches below her relative by marriage, the Duchess of Windsor.

But the Queen's sister, Princess Margaret Rose, failed to make the list although she was a previous "best-dressed" nominee.

Princess Grace of Monaco, the former Grace Kelly of Hollywood, also failed to appear on this year's list. The Hollywood honors were upheld by Audrey Hepburn and Claudette Colbert.

Altogether, 14 women—six of them under age 30—were chosen for the list compiled by the New York Dress Institute from the votes of 2,000 fashion experts and writers. They were, in order:

Mrs. William Paley; the Duchess of Windsor and New York socialite Mrs. Winston Guest, tied for second place; Countess Consuelo Crespi of Rome; Queen Elizabeth; Audrey Hepburn; Mrs. Henry Ford II; Vicomtesse Jacqueline de Ribes of Paris; Claudette Colbert and Mrs. William R. Hearst Jr., tied for eighth place; the Countess of Quintanilla of Madrid; Countess Mona von Bismarck, former "best-dressed" leader Mrs. Harrison Williams; Mrs. Norman K. Winston of New York, and Mrs. Thomas Bancroft Jr., Connecticut socialite.

A FAMED SISTER

Five-time winner Mrs. Paley, wife of the head of CBS, is one of the three famed Cushing sisters of Boston. The other two are Mrs. Vincent Astor and Mrs. John Hay Whitney, but only Mrs. Paley made the list.

Mrs. Paley, who likes pink and gray, casual day clothes and dramatic evening dresses, buys very few clothes each year but takes tremendous care in selection and fitting. She seldom wears a hat.

The Duchess of Windsor, who's made the "best-dressed" 18 times, buys custom clothes from Balenciaga in Paris or Mainbocher in New York. Mainbocher is also the designer favored by Mrs. Paley.

★ ★ ★

The six younger women on the list all prefer simple youthful clothes with an occasional touch of drama. Mrs. Winston Guest, the former Lucy Cochrane of Boston, prefers light colors; Countess Rodolfo Crespi, the former Consuelo O'Connor of New York, likes black for day and bright colors for evening.

Audrey Hepburn and youthful Vicomtesse de Ribes both like the work of Paris designer Hubert de Givenchy. Mrs. Ford, the former Anne McDonnell, shops at Mainbocher, while Mrs. Bancroft, the former Margaret Bedford of Greenwich, Conn., prefers Paris designers.

LIKES BLACK, RED

Mrs. Norman K. Winston, the former Rosita Halfpenny of Oklahoma, is the wife of the newly appointed commissioner of U. S. trade fairs abroad. She likes black and red for day, black or white for evening, and shops at Dior and Balenciaga.

★ ★ ★

The Countess von Bismarck, who as Mrs. Williams has been on "best-dressed" lists since the 1920s, still prefers black silk dresses for daytime, and floating gowns of chiffon or lace for evening.

MARILYN M. GOODE

Mr. and Mrs. Isadore L. Goode of Cherokee road announce the engagement of their daughter, Marilyn Mae, to Louis Donald Soverinsky, son of the Aaron Soverinskys of Detroit. The bride-elect attends Wayne State University. Her fiance is a student in the school of Dentistry at the University of Detroit and is a member of Phi Sigma Delta fraternity.

Queen Elizabeth Rated Among 12 Best-Dressed

LONDON (INS — The British press today hailed the listing of Queen Elizabeth II among the world's 12 best dressed women.

"A triumph for British dress designing — so long in the doldrums," said the News Chronicle.

Papers gave special credit to the Queen's designers, Norman Hartnell and Hardy Amies. The monarch made the No. 4 spot.

Several papers expressed surprise that Princess Margaret had been dropped from the top 12 selected by the New York Dress Institute poll. Style expert Irish Ashley said the only reason must be that Margaret appeared at fewer "dressy occasions" during 1957.

CHIDES PRINCESS

A Daily Herald columnist, June Hulbert, accused the princess of not even trying to dress smartly. "For shame, you can do better than this," her column admonished.

★ ★ ★

The laborite Herald — which rarely misses a chance to snipe at the royal family — published a picture of the Queen's sister at a ballet performance last night and then proceeded to tear her outfit to shreds, criticizing everything from her diamond hair ornaments to open shoes.

★ ★ ★

"Look at that jacket," the paper said. "Could it be — surely not? — a cut-down from one of her mother's. If so, Margaret needs a better cutter. The sleeves are much too short."

'Whodunits' Aid Dulles in Relaxing

But Mrs. Dulles Prefers to Work Crosswords

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON—When Secretary of State John Foster Dulles prepares to take off for a conference abroad, Mrs. Dulles shops for the latest "whodunits" to tuck in his luggage for any moments of relaxation he may have. When she accompanies him she totes crossword puzzle books.

Brig. Gen. Charles H. Royce (ret.) began collecting recipes in the early '30's when he was in China. They've grown to take on an international flavor and include many from Germany, where he was stationed from 1950-1953.

He says he cooks "just for fun and relaxation" and measures ingredients "with military precision."

OUT OF THIS WORLD

Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, director of research and development of the Army, who has been given the go-ahead to get a satellite into space, as well as producing anti-missile missiles, has his own way of getting "out of this world."

★ ★ ★

It's painting. With four children around in his Ft. Myer, Va., quarters, he keeps his paints out-of-reach in a dresser drawer.

"Painting is therapy," he says. "A good thing for someone with a job like mine when you bring your thinking about technical problems home with you. It's a complete escape."

★ ★ ★

Gen. Gavin says Wernher von Braun, the Army's missile expert and former German V-2 rocket designer, is also interested in painting and has borrowed some of his art books.

HONORS OLD GRADS

The affair attended by some 600 of the country's top personalities was in honor of the new Attorney General and Mrs. William P. Rogers, both of whom attended the university. Their daughter, Dale, a junior, was also toasted.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Mabel Wolfe Wheaton, sister of author Thomas Wolfe, on a recent visit here said that "when the scene opens with hatchets chopping down the old house" in the Broadway play made from Wolfe's book "Look Homeward Angel" it was like "chopping out my heart."

★ ★ ★

Before her brother died 20 years ago at 37, she said he told her:

"Some day I'll be famous and you will be known as my sister."

Glen Carlson, Mariel Hulbert to Wed Jan. 25

Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Hulbert of Aberdeen, Washington, announce the engagement of their daughter, Mariel Evelyn, to Glen A. Carlson Jr., son of the Glen A. Carlsons of Bloomfield Hills.

The bride-elect attended the University of Washington, and will graduate from University of Michigan in January. She is affiliated with Delta Gamma Sorority.

Her fiance was graduated from the University of Michigan and is now attending graduate school at Ann Arbor. He is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity.

The couple will be married Jan. 25 in Christ Church Cranbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Coedy of Dearborn announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary, to James W. Lyle, son of the Irvin C. Lyles of Cooley Lake road. The two, both University of Michigan students, plan a summer wedding.

Birminghamites Take to the Ice

BIRMINGHAM — Glittering tinsel, baubles and beads—even milady's most glamorous gowns — have been replaced this week by the flash of steel on ice, shiny waxed skis and sturdy, eye-catching sports clothes.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham has taken to the outdoors, and sartorially, thermal "undies," chill breakers and Alpine helmets are the rule, although Mrs. William Vasu is an exception.

She glides over the ice at Cranbrook in black velvet skating skirt, matching jacket cuffed and collared in white mink, and hood trimmed in the same fur. Perky audience on the sidelines are her two French poodles, each sporting a scarlet sweater.

OTHER DEVOTEES

Mrs. Robert Wardrop, in more tailored navy and red gabardine slacks and windbreaker, is among other Cranbrook devotees, and so are Mrs. Thomas J. Bolton, Mrs. William F. Gray, Mrs. John Adamson, Mrs. Edward H. Lerchen and Mrs. John L. Wiant.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Morris C. Purdy of Glengary road forsook local rinks and slopes this week for Otsego, taking with them Lis, Gerry and Bill. Gerry celebrated his 13th birthday at the ski resort, with numerous pals to help him blow out the candles.

Among them were his cousins, Jackie, Teddy and Bing Miller, who had driven North with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Miller of Bristol lane.

The Purdys were joined during part of their stay by Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Devereaux, who drove up for dinner one night from the Oxbow, their camp on the Au Sable. Gordon and Leslie Devereaux were vacationing with their parents, Leslie having as her guest Kathy Wiggins, also of Birmingham.

Incidentally, there was a return dinner engagement at the Oxbow before the Purdys arrived home the last of this week.

ASSIST AT TEA

Mrs. Robert Cavanaugh of Rochester and her sister, Mrs. Thomas C. Richey of Birmingham, assisted at the tea given Friday afternoon by their mother, Mrs. Paul B. Bell of Redding road.

Others pouring during the hours between 3 and 5 were Mrs. Wallace Dodds, Mrs. Bruce Dodds, Mrs. Howard Barker, Mrs. Syver Thingstad, Mrs. Ari Begole, Mrs. Wilmer Hoge and Mrs. Harold Holmes.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Egan and daughter, Margaret Ann, are back in Bronxville, N. Y., after spending 10 days with her parents, the Harry F. Menards of Bedford road.

Prof. Iselin Slated

Columbus O'Donnell Iselin will discuss "Secrets of the Ocean" at a Cranbrook Institute of Science public lecture to be given Jan. 8. The lecturer, an associate professor of physical oceanography at Harvard University, will explain the oceanographic program being conducted during the International Geophysical Year.

Sorority Initiates 2

Mrs. Harold A. Mitchell and Mrs. Cornelius Crowley were initiated into Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority, Epsilon chapter, when that group met Thursday in the Newberry street home of Bonnie and Lois Coan. A surprise baby shower was held at the same meeting for Mrs. William vanderZee.

Personal News of Interest

Francesco Di Biasi, director of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, will be guest conductor with the Grand Rapids Symphony Orchestra in that city's civic auditorium today.

Mr. Di Biasi is a member of the Detroit Symphony and for the past three years has been musical director of the Michigan Opera Company.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. William F. Maybury of East Iroquois road has returned from Omaha, Neb. where she spent the holidays with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Colvin and their three children.

★ ★ ★

Returned to Chicago after spending the holidays with Mrs. Astolf Levin of Evelyn court are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vantine.

★ ★ ★

Duncan E. McVean will return Sunday to Ann Arbor and his studies at the University of Michigan after spending the holidays with his parents, the Duncan McVeans of State Hospital Grounds. While home Mr. McVean, who is president of the Ann Arbor Chapter of Phi Delta Chi, professional pharmaceutical fraternity, attended a fraternity conference in Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Karkau of Oneida road spent the holidays at Mexico City.

Mr. and Mrs. James E. Zuehlke (nee Beverly Borst) of Williams Lake road are receiving congratulations on the birth of a son, Robert Allen, Dec. 26 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Marjorie Borst of Rosshire court and Louis Borst of Murphy street. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Erving W. Zuehlke of Dakota drive.

Alpha Alpha Unit Plans Feb. 13 Event

Mrs. James George was named chairman of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority's Valentine bridge, to be held Feb. 13 in Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Mrs. Winston Hopp gave a report Thursday evening on the group's Christmas dance. Mrs. Edmund Smith was appointed chairman of secret pals when the group met at the YMCA.

Halos Are Headlined by Paris Partygoers

By NORA W. MARTIN

PARIS (INS) — Halos are making headlines this January in Paris.

★ ★ ★

PUFFS OF VEILING

Instead she takes two yards of net, starchy stiff "point d'esprit" veiling or sheerest chiffon and wears it puffed out around the head in romantic halo fashion.

★ ★ ★

For example a couple of yards of fine net veiling in any shade — except white — can be placed over the head and gathered around the neck with a glittering diamond choker.

Pull the hat into a puffy halo shape around the head and drape the two long ends cape-like around the shoulders.

★ ★ ★

PARTY ORNAMENT

Wide head bandeaux also make a stylish new ornament for parties. These bandeaux are either a wide velvet ribbon fastened by a jewel pin at the nape of the neck, or a simply knotted chiffon scarf, draped to a band, around the head.

★ ★ ★

Tea-Table Talk

Sheath? Chemise? That Is Question

By JUDITH L. CLEMENCE
Women's Editor, Pontiac Press

We don't have a crystal ball, but it's quite clear that the Women's Association to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra is going all-out for a big season this year. An important meeting is slated Monday at the home of Mrs. C. H. Purdy, to further plans.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ruth Dickinson of Mohawk road has a chemise—and she doesn't apologize for it—she likes it!

★ ★ ★

By the way, gals, it's time to think about what you're going to wear next spring. And it's an important time in fashion history. Will it be sheath or chemise? The Couture Group of the New York Dress Institute will show styles to the nation's fashion press beginning Jan. 6 in New York. Then we should know which way we go from here.

★ ★ ★

The Niblick Club owns an amazing tie, all sequined and such on bright green. At the end of each year the tie, which was purchased by Mrs. Arthur Barnes of Motorway drive, is willed to some member of the club. Mrs. Grant Helwig inherited the tie this year, and she promises to wear it in the "best" of places.

Mayor William Donaldson has proclaimed the week of Jan. 6 through Jan. 11 as Amelia Earhart Week, in recognition of the educational program now sponsored by Zonta Clubs throughout the world, and in honor of "a great American aviatrix and lady, Amelia Earhart."

Your Favorite Pet May Offend Visitors

No matter how much you think of your cat, if your visitor seems to draw away whenever the cat comes near, put the cat out of the room. Some persons have a dislike or fear of cats that makes them miserable if a cat happens to brush up against them.

Meet for Luncheon

The Central Methodist Church Woman's Society of Christian Service met with Beverly Root Circle Thursday afternoon in the church parlors for a luncheon. Mrs. Percy Jones, Mrs. George Alexander and Mrs. Everett Gleason of Detroit participated in the program.

Pinch Yourself to Test Need for Dieting

DETROIT (INS) — Pinch yourself in two tell-tale places to see if it's time for you to go on a weight-losing diet.

Dr. Norman Jolliffe, of New York City, a nationwide authority on nutrition, described the pinch test recently at the annual meeting of the Michigan Academy of General Practice in Detroit. He said:

"Pinch a fold of skin on the upper arm or at the waist between two fingers. Any thickness greater than half an inch between the fingers in either place is fat adhering to the underside of the skin."

If you flunk the pinch test, said Dr. Jolliffe, "it's time to start counting calories."

Many Teenagers Favor U.S. Censorship

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Company

If you are concerned about such grave matters as censorship and wiretapping, you will be worried even more by the answers we received on the subjects from hundreds of young people across the country.

It almost makes one think that a large share of them have never heard of the First and Fourth Amendments to the Constitution, guaranteeing freedom of speech and press and the right of privacy.

Here are the two salient, startling points of the survey

1. More than one out of three young people approve of a central government agency to act as censor on movies, comic books, radio, television and newspapers.

★ ★ ★

2. Nearly half of them, with scarcely any differentiation, believe that police should be allowed to tap telephone wires to get evidence against suspected criminals and radical groups.

CONCERN FOR MORALS

Most of the comments in favor of censorship reflected concern for moral standards and a dependence upon the government to enforce a higher morality.

★ ★ ★

"Censorship of dress and language would raise the standards of all movies, radio, television and newspapers," said Paula Anne Slanicka of Creighton, Pa.

If there were censorship, said 16-year-old Faye Marie Moser of Pittsburg, Kan., "then they won't let terrible things that aren't good be seen or heard."

★ ★ ★

MAJORITY SAYS NO

Let it be repeated that these are minority opinions, however startling and however large the minority. For the majority, 17-year-old Muriel Schrooten of Sac City, Ia., pretty well summed up the argument:

"The truth should be told to the people."

★ ★ ★

Of the 600 young people questioned, 36 per cent favoured censorship of movies, radio, television and newspapers.

In the field of comic books, however, 37 per cent of the young people said they favoured censorship—40 per cent of the boys and 34 per cent of the girls.

Strangely, on each question, the girls lined up more decidedly against censorship and wire-tapping than did the boys. The difference ranged from 4 to 7 per cent.

SELF-CENSORSHIP

On the question of whether it is possible for the industries themselves to form successful self-censoring bodies, three out of four of the teenagers said yes.

★ ★ ★

Comments on the wire-tapping issue also expressed a wide range of opinion.

"I think it is unconstitutional and its measures are criminal no matter what the circumstances may be," said Kay White of Little Rock, Ark.

"It is a rather sneaky approach," opined Georgiana Costin, 17, of Milwaukee, "but the results are often times rewardable."

"Anyone who is plotting against the government in the first place wouldn't use the telephone, so I think it is unnecessary," said Mary Pinch of Norfolk, Va.

QUALIFIED FEELINGS

★ ★ ★

"If granted permission by the court, it is okay," she said, "otherwise, hands off."

Broken down into categories, our poll showed 41 per cent of the young people think wire-tapping by police is all right against radical groups and "crooked" politicians and 45 per cent against government employes.

The percentage of those in favor of wire-tapping jumped to 56 when we asked if FBI agents should be allowed to eavesdrop on telephone conversations.

★ ★ ★

And when we qualified the question by asking the youngsters if they believe wire-tapping is all right on court order, the approval ration rose to 60 per cent.

One comment on our wire-tapping poll frankly baffled us.

It was difficult to classify—but impossible to contradict—Carolyn Resnick of Baltimore. Said she: "I wouldn't like it if I were a criminal."

Partygiver Elsa Maxwell Offers Some Good Advice

Guest Who Wants to Be Really Helpful Should Rescue the Lost Souls

By RUTH MILLETT

Elsa Maxwell, who has made a career of planning parties for people who can't plan their own, some of whom have more money than sense, has written a book on the art of entertaining.

Scattered among the name-dropping passages are some bits of sound advice for both partygivers and partygoers.

Here, for example, are a few of Elsa's sensible tips for making yourself the kind of guest it is a pleasure for a hostess to entertain:

"On arrival, confine your greetings to your hostess to the customary salutations and let her take the lead from there, either—once coats and hats are disposed of — by introducing you around herself if her party is small, or by passing you on to another guest or group of guests if it is large. Don't try at once to claim her whole attention with a spate of irrelevant chatter.

"Unless your hostess has expressly asked you to help her in her duties, don't. About the only valid, active assistance you can give your hostess is the simple humanitarian act of rescuing lost souls.

"When you see such—and they are easily identifiable by their expressions of determined affability and their habit of loitering just near enough to a conversation group to seem part of it, and just far enough away not to seem to intrude—take him in charge. If you find you've picked a dud, bear with it. Your hostess will rescue you in due course and she will love you forever.

"At a large informal party of reasonably short duration, such as a cocktail party, the good guest not only keeps on his feet—he uses them. Parties of this kind are meant to move. Guests are expected to mingle, meeting and talking with as many others as possible.

"Know when to leave a party. To a hostess there is no more trying guest than the one who behaves as if each party may be his last and he means to make the most of it. Keep an eye on the clock and go when it tells you to."

Carol Leightley Wed to William L. Sigler

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Leightley of North Perry street announce the marriage, Saturday, in Oakland Park Methodist Church, of their daughter, Carol Ann, to William L. Sigler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson L. Sigler of East Longfellow street.

Attending as maid of honor was Sylvia Jean Wallis, and Richard Joan was the best man.

SHIRLEY A. LOWE

Mrs. Mary Lowe of Chandler avenue and Farrell Lowe of Cascade street announce the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Ann, to Clell Laney, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Laney of Marion, N.C. A spring wedding is planned.

Difference in Dinners Irks Woman

One Friend Takes Costly Extras, but All Pay the Same

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Occasionally a few of us from college years keep in touch by meeting and having dinner together. The check has been paid by one of us acting as banker and then the bill equally divided, including the tip. The diners themselves have been approximately the same price.

"But there is one in the group who has everytime so far ordered something extra that is expensive, and it is beginning to rankle me. It is not that I am cheap, Mrs. Post, but it is the principle of the thing that annoys me. Without seeming 'small,' is there any way I could suggest a change in the method of dividing the check?"

Answer: If it is the principle that rankles rather than the actual amount the extra adds to your share of the check, it does seem "small" not to let it go. Besides, equal division does simplify the arithmetic.

If it happens often and the amount is considerable and she doesn't offer at least to take care of the extra, then you might offer the suggestion that each pay what she owes because of the difference in the amount each ordered.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We (my sister and I) are giving a luncheon in honor of our brother's fiancee who comes from another city. We are inviting our own friends plus family friends and relatives. Shall we also ask his fiancee for a list of her personal friends and relatives whom she might like to have at the luncheon?"

Answer: Yes, it would be well to ask her if she would like you to invite any of her friends or relatives who live in your city.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please explain in your column the meaning of the letters R.s.v.p.? We had a discussion about this at our club meeting."

Answer: R.s.v.p. is the abbreviation of the French phrase "repondez s'il vous plait," which means "Reply if you please."

Dear Abby . . .

She's Tired of the Marrying Kind

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

Some days ago you mentioned a woman who had a man call on her for three years and he never mentioned marriage. Where is he?

Here I am, a widow, with a nice apartment, a good car and enough money to live on and all I want is some interesting fellow about 50 to come over here about three times a week, have a martini with me, eat a good steak dinner, argue religion or politics, watch TV, play gin rummy and go home at midnight.

My problem is that all the men I know want to get married. I don't want to marry anybody. So tell your little lady I will trade her three of the marrying kind for one who isn't.

MARGE

DEAR MARGE: With an ad like that you are going to need police protection. What's your address? You sound out of this world?

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a man who becomes engaged to a girl and asks HER to be sure to have the ring insured?

JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: This fellow thinks of everything. Grab him!

DEAR ABBY: I know I did wrong but must I pay for it the rest of my life? I had an affair with a man shortly after I was married. It was just one mistake that happened 12 years ago, but it follows me wherever I go.

A woman can keep her mouth shut about things like that, but not a man. He has probably told everybody in town by now.

No one says anything, but I can tell the way they look at me that they know. I feel so guilty I walk the floor nights. If only that man would keep his mouth shut! Please tell me how to get over it?

GUILTY ONE

DEAR GUILTY: Your guilty conscience is telling you that everybody knows, when probably nobody knows. Speak to your clergyman—and pray. The Lord forgives, but you have to forgive yourself, too.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Who should answer the telephone? Husband or wife? We have no children. My husband works during the day and I am active in community affairs.

Neither one of us is expecting a call and we both are usually reading the paper in the evening. The phone is in the kitchen and neither of us likes to answer it thinking it is for the other. So who in your opinion should answer it?

DEAR S. P. W.: The person nearer to the phone should answer it. If this is creating a real problem, why don't you take turns?

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO CHRIS: He was only a sap with an old homo-sapien weakness. Give him another chance, but keep his address book.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "A BEGGAR": Your letter was a treasure. Please send me your name and address. I would like to thank you more personally.

ABBY

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Married Saturday were Nancy L. Coggins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Coggins, and Glenn D. Brancheau, son of Mr. and Mrs. DeLois Brancheau.

MR. and MRS. GLENN BRANCHEAU

Nancy Lee Coggins Wed to Glenn D. Brancheau

Nancy Lee Coggins and Glenn D. Brancheau exchanged wedding vows Saturday before the carnation-banked altar of Emmanuel Baptist Church. The Rev. Charles Whitfield of Grace Baptist Church, Birmingham, performed the double-ring ceremony before 150 guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Coggins of Voorheis road are the bride's parents, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. DeLois Brancheau of West Acres.

The bride was gowned in a dress of imported Italian silk, fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and long sleeves. The bodice and skirt were trimmed with seed pearls and sequins. Back interest was found in the rows of miniature bustles which fell into a chapel-sweep train.

The bride's chapel-length veil fell from a coronet of taffeta enhanced by seed pearls. White orchids surrounded by lilies of the valley formed the bridal bouquet.

ASSIST BRIDE

Marcella Coggins was her sister's maid of honor. Loretta Young, Mrs. Ronald Squire, Mrs. Ronald Cutler and Dotty Katchka were bridesmaids.

All wore full-length gowns of mint green taffeta trimmed in emerald green. Floor length streamers fell from back bustles. Each wore an ivy headpiece and carried modified cascade bouquets of yellow and orange carnations with matching ribbons.

The flower maid, Jane Marsh of Farmington, was gowned in a dress of white taffeta over net, and her headpiece was a miniature tiara of ivy and roses. She carried a basket of rose petals.

For a reception in the church parlors Mrs. Coggins wore an emerald green silk taffeta gown with white feather hat and white accessories, and a rubrum lily corsage. The bridegroom's mother chose a beige lace dress with pink accessories and a corsage of lilies of the valley surrounding white orchids. A later reception was held in the bride's home.

* * *

The bridegroom is a graduate of Michigan State University.

Waistline Responds Most Readily

Month's Exercise Improves Shape

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "If I take figure-molding exercises, how long will it be before I get results? If I do exercises every day for 20 to 30 minutes, is that long enough—and how long will it take to notice a difference?"

A. This depends partly on the individual. It also depends on the measurement you are attempting to slim. For instance the waistline responds most readily to exercise reducing. The abdomen is also most susceptible. It takes longer for the hips and thighs.

However, I can assure you, from much experience with my classes, that you will notice a satisfactory difference after four weeks of regular exercises. Even after two weeks, many women find themselves a couple of inches slimmer through the waist and abdomen and have lost perhaps an inch from the hipline.

* * *

Q. "My friends and family tell me that it is silly to try to begin exercise at my age. I am 40 years old and in good health. I am only 10 pounds overweight but my weight is unattractively distributed, mostly on my abdomen and waistline."

A. Please believe me, your family and friends are your worst enemies in this instance. In the first place, 40 is not too old for anything within reason. Of course we should avoid strenuous exercises like basketball and tennis and such.

It is true that anyone, and especially one who is past 30, should have a physical checkup before beginning exercises. Unless there is some medical reason for not exercising, by all means begin.

You can make startling improvement in your figure and also in your health. Just begin slowly and work up gradually.

Q. "I never had eyebrows, that is unless you can call this very fine and sparse hair over my eyes, brows. I am only 22 and have just tried to forget it until now. I am very interested in a young man and want to look as attractive as possible. What can I do to have thicker brows?"

A. There is nothing you can do. This is just an inherited characteristic. However, you can make your brows look thicker by using an eyebrow pencil.

No matter what your coloring, use a brown pencil. Even when your brows are dark, a dark brown pencil looks much more natural than black. Apply this with light, short strokes and then blend with an eyebrow brush or your finger.

* * *

Tomorrow: "A Person Without Pretense is Most Appealing to Others."

You will notice a satisfactory difference in your figure after only four weeks of exercise. Even after two weeks, many women notice an improvement.

Encourage Child to Voice Ignoble Wants

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

* * *

Unlike hers, the borrowed carriage had a hinged hood like the one on her baby sister's. So she was exceedingly pleased with the transfer. Experimenting with it, she was snapping and re-snapping the hood into place over her doll's head when her mother opened the front door.

"Patty!" she called. "Stop what you're doing — and run down to the corner for me. I've forgotten the baby's prune juice. Mr. Miller has it waiting to give you."

Patty dawdled. Fifteen minutes later her mother found her still on the porch carefully tucking covers around her doll. She cried, "Haven't you even left for the store yet? Are you deaf? Don't you ever hear what you're told?"

* * *

Did you see a recent TV play called "The Deaf Heart?" It was about a girl who lost her hearing, not to any physical injury but to her own unfaced resistance to her deaf family's demands on her ears. Her conscience wouldn't let her know that she wanted to protest to them. "I want to use my hearing for myself once in a while!"

SAME DEAFNESS

Dawdling in children is the same kind of deafness. They need to cry out to us, "I want to use my time for myself, not for you!"

If we can get them to put this protest into words, the answer to their protesting action at once presents itself. As soon as Patty feels free to yell, "I don't want to go to the store for you! I want to go on playing with Joan's carriage!" we know what she wants — and can compromise it with what we want.

We can say, "Oh, I see. Well, maybe Joan will let you wheel her carriage down to the store. Let's phone her and see."

But so long as Patty fears to yell her ignoble wants, her dawdling remains a maddening mystery. We have to read articles like this to try to "understand" it.

We may even have to ask a child psychiatrist to explode the protesting feelings in Patty that she should have long since learned to explode for herself.

* * *

Dawdling is a problem of parents' discomfort with children's openly resisting words. Denied the words, Patty takes refuge in dawdling's secretly resisting action.

Children who are nervous or complain of nausea, dizziness or headaches after close eye work should have a thorough, competent eye examination, according to the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

Fruit Cans Used to Bake Quick Loaf

Mrs. Daniel Likes to Keep Bran Bread on Hand Regularly

Start saving number 2½ fruit cans. When you have 4 of them, make up a batch of bran bread with dates or raisins. This will be just right for school lunch boxes.

BRAN BREAD
By Mrs. Louie Daniel

3 cups all-bran
1½ cups sugar
1½ cups raisins or cut dates
3 cups buttermilk
3 tablespoons dark corn syrup
3 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons soda
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup nuts

Mix bran, sugar, raisins or dates, buttermilk and corn syrup. Let stand 5 minutes. Add rest of ingredients and mix lightly, only until flour is dampened.

Fill greased cans half full. Place in COLD oven. Set temperature at 325 degrees and bake 1 hour and 15 minutes. Makes 4 loaves.

Counters Criticism of County Road Plans

Mackie Raps Broomfield

State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has rapped U. S. Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) for criticizing state highway plans for Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Reiterating his intention to build a new north - south expressway through Pontiac before extending Northwestern highway as an expressway, Mackie noted what he described as "a partisan flavor" in Broomfield's recent criticisms.

"I propose to spend more than three tims as much money on highways in Oakland County in the next five years as was spent in the last five by my Republican predecessor," the highway commissioner said in a letter to Broomfield.

"Oakland County's highway deficiencies are greater than most of the other Michigan counties, and they got that way during the 14 years of Republican control of the Highway Department.

★ ★ ★

"Part of that time you (Broomfield) were representing Oakland County in the Michigan House of Representatives and the State Senate.

AGAINST TURNPIKE

"The record shows that when you were a candidate for Congress in 1956, you campaigned not only against the proposed Rockwood-Saginaw turnpike, which would have served your county, but also against the proposed Southfield expressway, which would also have served the same area."

Mackie said that because of the congressional campaign this year, Broomfield might find it "convenient" to favor the Northwestern project.

But the highway commissioner said he continues to favor the north-south expressway which he says would serve three times the traffic and would be eligible for 90 per cent federal aid, which the Northwestern project would not get.

Mackie said that his plans to extend Northwestern as an expressway from Detroit to the vicinity of 11-Mile road were based on recommendations in the recent Origin and Destination traffic study of the metropolitan area.

Broomfield had charged that Mackie was ignoring this study.

★ ★ ★

"We plan a major east-west beltline expressway in the 11-Mile area, with which the Northwestern expressway would connect. This is what the study proposed. It never contemplated the full extension of Northwestern as an expressway all the way across Oakland County," Mackie concluded.

Accuse Sergeant of Spying for Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — M. Sgt. Roy A. Rhodes, who had admitted selling military information to the Russians while stationed in Moscow, will face a general court-martial on spying charges.

An Army announcement said Rhodes will be tried at Ft. Lesley J. McNair here. No trial date was set.

Rhodes, 40, testified during the espionage trial of Soviet Col. Rudolph Abel in New York last October that he was paid the equivalent of $2,500 to $3,000 in rubles for giving information to the Russians while stationed at the U.S. Embassy in Moscow.

charge and loss of all pay and

The Eatontown, N.J., soldier's name was found in some of the Russian colonel's documents. Abel, convicted of espionage and given a 30-year sentence, is appealing.

If convicted, Rhodes would face a maximum penalty of life imprisonment dishonorable discharge and loss of all pay and allowances.

11,300 Killed by Fires in '57

Safety Group Reports Blazes Caused Record High Loss in U.S.

BOSTON (AP)—The National Fire Protection Assn. reports that approximately 11,300 persons were killed in fires throughout the United States in 1957.

The nonprofit fire-safety organization also reported last night that fires cost the United States a record high loss of more than 1¼ billion dollars last year.

In 1956, the United States had 10,600 fire deaths and $1,231,376,000 property loss.

Canadian fire losses in 1957 were reported at about 135 million dollars with approximately 600 fire deaths, compared with 1956 figures of 129¾ million in losses and 601 deaths.

The NFPA said approximately 6,800 U.S. fire deaths in 1957 occurred in buildings, and 4,500 in automobiles, airplanes, boats, field fires and other nonbuilding fires.

The worst fire loss of life in 1957 was in the destruction of a Warrenton, Mo., nursing home on Feb. 17, 1957, in which 72 persons perished.

The biggest single property damage by fire was in a rubber reclaiming factory in Butler, N.J., destroyed Feb. 26, 1957, with a loss of 12 million dollars.

Elvis' Deferment Causes Draft Official to Quit

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — A draft board official in this southeastern Kentucky coal mining town resigned today because he wants mountain boys to get the same treatment accorded Elvis Presley.

★ ★ ★

State Rep. H. Nick Johnson, 37-year-old wounded veteran of World War II, said a recent induction deferment granted the Memphis, Tenn., teen-age idol made it impossible for him to serve as a member of Local Board 35.

Johnson said if the deferment given Presley, so he could produce another movie, "is a criterion then the Sputnik and Muttnik age isn't as serious as represented."

★ ★ ★

"I cannot conscientiously ask any mountain boy to serve the same country unless afforded the same treatment" as Presley, Johnson said in his written resignation.

Cards Overprinted

WASHINGTON — During World War I a one-cent tax was applied to penny postal cards and many millions of the 2-cent cards were printed. When the tax was abolished July 1, 1919, Uncle Sam had 200,000,000 of the 2-centers on his hands, each worth a penny. To avoid waste, they were sold with a "one-cent" overprint.

Face Operation Reported Needed for Ava Gardner

LONDON (AP) — A Daily Express columnist said today Ava Gardner damaged her beautiful face in an accident in a private Spanish bull ring last autumn and now needs an operation before she can make another movie.

★ ★ ★

William Hickey, the columnist, gave no source for his story but said: "Ava has been told she must have an operation, possibly followed by minor plastic surgery. But she is terrified of undergoing the operation and has so far refused to do so."

★ ★ ★

The accident was said to have occurred when the screen star fell from a horse during a visit to the private bull ring of Angel Peralta, a leading Spanish horseback bullfighter.

★ ★ ★

The actress went at once to a hotel and stayed there, not visiting any of London's night spots. A friend insisted at the time she had "just a touch of Asian flu."

★ ★ ★

Hickey claimed the wound has never healed and that in December she flew to New York to see a prominent American surgeon.

★ ★ ★

Frank Sinatra, her divorced husband, also came to New York to urge her to have the operation, Hickey went on. He said she first agreed to surgery, then backed out and fled back to Spain.

"Now with her face still numb and bruised, she is hoping time alone will effect a cure," Hickey said.

Say Navy Asks Nuclear Plane

Reportedly Proposing Seaplane as 1st U.S. A-Powered Aircraft

NEW YORK (AP) — The Navy is proposing that the United States' first nuclear-powered airplane be a seaplane, the New York Times said today.

In a Washington dispatch, the Times said the Navy outlined its proposal yesterday at a high-level meeting in the office of Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles.

The meeting was called to discuss plans for nuclear-powered planes and whether to speed the development schedule by placing an atomic power plant in an existing airplane.

High officials of the Navy, Air Force and the Atomic Energy Commission attended. No final decision was reached, it was understood.

A note of interservice competition was thus added to the Defense Department's forthcoming decision establishing a firm plan for flying the first nuclear-powered plane.

★ ★ ★

The Navy proposes adapting existing seaplanes for nuclear power in a joint project with the Air Force. The plane, the Navy says, would be valuable for antisubmarine warfare, for patrol work and for early radar warning of an enemy attack.

The Air Force has favored a supersonic nuclear bomber that would fly faster than 700 miles an hour.

Coed 1st to Serve in WACs' New Medical Program

BOSTON (AP)—Miss Frances Ann Iacoboni, 20, Leominster, today could claim she was the first woman sworn into the Army reserve under a new program of obtaining Army medical specialists.

★ ★ ★

The dark-eyed junior at Framingham State Teachers College was sworn into the Women's Army Corp as a private yesterday.

She will draw pay and allowances of $232 a month on active duty but will not be required to stand formations.

★ ★ ★

Upon graduation she will be commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army specialist corps as a dietitian and will serve a minimum of three years.

Duck Hunter Saved by Air Force Copter

FLORENCE, Ariz. (AP)—A duck hunter, trapped in the deep mud of a marsh for 20 hour, was rescued yesterday by a helicopter from Davis-Monthan Air Force Base near Tucson.

Kenneth Turner, 34, a Tucson insurance executive, was mired to his armpits when he tried to wade after some ducks he had shot.

Three youngsters heard his cries for help. They notified the sheriff's office, which in turn summoned help from the air base.

Turner said he had yelled to some earlier passers-by in a boat, but they advised him to "get out the same way you got in."

Dr. Salk Says Other Diseases May Be Covered

Hints Broadening of Polio Foundation

WARM SPRINGS, Ga. (AP)—Broad hints have been made that the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis may take under its wing other diseases — possibly under the heading of virus research.

One of these hints came from Dr. Jonas Salk of the University of Pittsburgh. In a speech prepared for delivery today, the vaccine discover said: "The significance for the future is that the National Foundation will go on being a foundation for whatever it will do.

"To this name something may be added in place of 'infantile paralysis'; but this will not change the fundamental character of the institution that has become the instrument whereby people can do for themselves, and their fellow man, what might not otherwise be done."

His voice is not an official one, but his name is bound to be closely identified in the public mind with the Salk vaccine and the fight against polio.

"We await eagerly to learn of the direction of the National Foundation of the future, but we do this without concern because we are sure that the people will continue to support the search for truth in answer to the questions for the present and of the future," he said.

★ ★ ★

There is no official confirmation that the National Foundation will indeed focus its attention on other medical problems.

But supporters are playing on that theme, among them Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, who founded the organization.

Mrs. Roosevelt told the National Foundation's 20th anniversary celebration that in addition to rehabilitation efforts, the polio foundation would broaden its research.

★ ★ ★

"It plans to open wider the doors to new knowledge that will prevent suffering, alleviate pain, improve health," she said.

"For in the realm of virology and biology, the glorious work already done is only the beginning of greater things to come."

Indeed, she added, this work may be even more important than the development of the Salk vaccine.

In a speech yesterday, Basil O'Connor, National Foundation president, said general studies of viruses are necessary for basic research into the nature of the polio virus.

"Now as I tell you about some of the unanticipated leads that have come out of our research studies, you will, I feel sure, begin to understand why there are much hopes for new medical victories," he said.

Fly's Wings Speedy

BOSTON—Scientists are able to compute the speed of movment of an insect's wings by comparing the pitch of its wings' hum with tuning forks that vibrate at a known rate. They have found that a dragonfly's wings move 1,600 times a minute while in flight, a wasp's move more than 6,000 times a minute, and a housefly's almost 20,000 times a minute.

This May Be Last Chance to Win Prize

We're entering the second week of "sudden death" competition with Pot-O-Gold, and this week two errors are allowed. Sixteen hundred dollars is waiting for someone to claim the pot, but don't expect it to be there much longer with the new relaxed rules. This may be your last chance, so get busy right now. This week's puzzle is due January 7.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. Entries must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his numbers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent post card. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 82 must bear a Tuesday, Jan. 7 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest canot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Committee to Report on Foreign Currency Use

Will Summarize Congressional Travel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman Burleson (D-Tex) said today the House Administration Committee soon will make public summaries of amounts which touring congressmen spent from U.S.-held foreign currencies in 1957.

But Burleson indicated the figures given out would not show how much any individual House or Senate member used out of the counterpart funds. These funds are in foreign currencies put up to match American foreign aid programs.

The spending data—probably by committee totals without any names—would parallel the limited information made public in the aftermath of the 1955 row over reported high spending in what was then a record year for congressional travels abroad.

Burleston spoke in an interview after an informal survey showed 1957 was another banner year for what the congressmen themselves commonly call junkets.

The incomplete count, gathered from committee and other sources indicated that more than 180 House and Senate members journeyed outside the continental United States in 1957. The 1955 count was more than 200.

Some committees declined to give any information on the politically touchy subject, and it could not be determined whether last year's total exceeded the 1955 record.

The 180 total of announced travelers was fairly evenly divided, 97 Democrats and 83 Republicans. The House supplied 139 of the tourists and the Senate 41.

Many congressmen say their foreign travels are valuable and necessary to their task of helping direct the U.S. government with its far-flung activities, and that they do a lot of work on their trips. Others call the tours joyrides at the expense of the U.S. government. Some go alone, others in groups.

★ ★ ★

The counterpart fund arrangement for congressmen was described as working like this: Legislators overseas can sign for counterpart funds but do not have to report how they spend it, as executive branch officers do. Their nonitemized receipts go to the State Department. They are accountable only to their committees for how they spend the money, and practices vary from committee to committee.

★ ★ ★

In addition to counterpart funds, regular committee funds may also be used. Another aid is free rides on government craft.

Propagandists See Aid From U.S Help Ceylon as Russia Talks

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

States is moving quietly to take some of the sting out of the anti-American propaganda unleashed by Russia at the Asian-African conference in Cairo.

This country may have gotten its biggest boost from an event not related to the Cairo conference—a U.S. mercy mission and emergency aid to flood-stricken Ceylon.

★ ★ ★

U.S. officials are anxious that the help to Ceylon be considered no more than what that country's grateful Prime Minister Solomon Bandaranaike called it: a "generous gift."

But it showed the peoples of Asia and Africa that the United States acted while the Soviet Union did no more than hold out promises.

Voice officials said they made no attempt to play it up or down, or to try to counter the obvious Soviet propaganda. Even the conference's Soviet-inspired actions were reported, including condemnation of President Eisenhower's Mideast plan, the North Atlantic Treaty and the Baghdad Pact.

Boat Owner Considers Seals A-1 Nuisance

MALIBU, Calif. (AP) — Seals may be known as the frolicking clowns of the briny, but to William Asher of Malibu they are a maritime nuisance.

★ ★ ★

The crew of a live bait boat first noticed something was afoot—or a-fin—aboard Asher's new 17-foot outboard cabin cruiser anchored off Malibu Pier.

Presidential Library Given 200 Books

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of the nation's booksellers came to the White House today bearing gifts—200 new books for the presidential library.

★ ★ ★

The titles ranged over a wide list of subjects from science to children's books. There were no real Westerns, for which President Eisenhower has a liking. But there was a volume by Tommy Armour: "How to play your best golf all the time."

In the collection, too, were the memoirs of former President Harry Truman and a three-volume biography of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Every four years since 1929, the booksellers have been adding to th White House library. The presentation was made today by H. Joseph Houlihan of Lexington, Ky., president of the Assn. of Booksellers. He was accompanied by his young son, Thomas.

The books were reeeived on behalf of the President by Eisenhower's scientific adviser, Dr. James R. Killian.

Judge Had Honeymoon 38 Years Ago—in Jail

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Chief Justice O. Otto Moore of the Colorado Supreme Court celebrated his 38th wedding anniversary with a recollection of his honeymoon. He spent it in the hoosegow.

Moore, a soldier in World War I 38 years ago, recalled he was denied an Army leave to get married after his return from combat duty.

He took his own leave, got married. Moore returned to camp seven hours after the ceremony and faced a court-martial. "A captain said he was being lenient," Moore recalled. "He gave me 60 days.

GM Publication Views Advances in Firm's History

Heralding its golden anniversary year, General Motors today began distribution of "Adventures of the Inquiring Mind," a 62-page booklet about GM men of science and engineering who dared the untried and unknown.

It is the story of men who recognized a need in our rapidly expanding America and set about to find a means. Failure to them was a challenge; success the result of countless failures.

★ ★ ★

In a foreword, GM President Harlow H. Curtice, declares:

". . . The price of progress is always trouble. But there were men who were obstinate, men who failed thousands of times to succeed once."

This booklet, he said, deals with such men of General Motors—"men of science and engineering who possess what I have called the inquiring mind. This type of mind is never satisfied with things as they are. It is always seeking ways to make things better and do things better. It assumes that everything and anything can be improved."

Ticket Is Too Much for Woman Motorist

NORTH LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The woman telephone caller told Policeman Jack Hunter she wanted to speak to "Detective Muffler," whose name was on a traffic ticket she had received.

There was no such person, Hunter told her, but explained that the violation listed on her ticket was "defective muffler."

Director Sued for Separation by Second Wife

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (UP) — Movie director Vincente Minnelli, 55, divorced in 1951 by singer Judy Garland, has been sued for separate maintenance by his second wife, Georgette, 27.

★ ★ ★

The former Georgette Magnani charged mental cruelty in the suit filed yesterday. She is a sister of Christiane Martel, who as Miss France won the Miss Universe contest in 1953.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Minnelli asked custody of the couple's daughter, Christiane Nina, 2½, substantial alimony for herself and support for the child. She said Minnelli's M-G-M contract pays him $4,250 weekly.

The couple married Feb. 16, 1954, and separated last Oct. 13.

The first British settlement in Australia was a penal colony made in 1788 near the present city of Sydney.

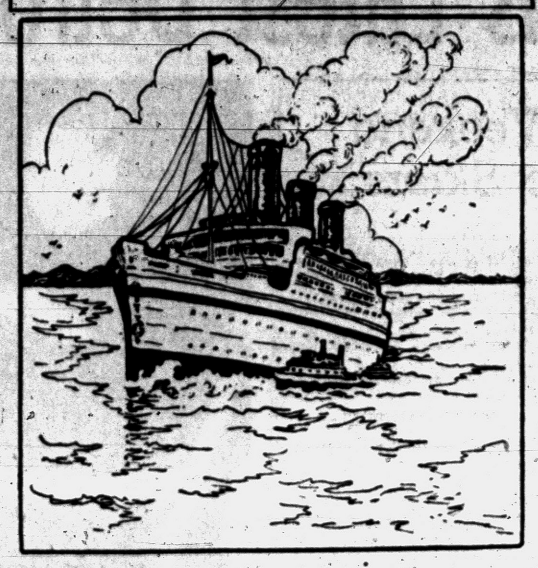
Junior Editors Quiz on SHIPS



QUESTION: Why doesn't a steel ship sink?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: It is a little hard to understand, but a steel ship floats more lightly on the water than does one made out of wood. The reason is that while a piece of solid metal won't float, a container made of metal will float readily if the total weight of the space it encloses is less than that of water that might occupy the same space. Because metal is so strong, much less of it than wood is needed to enclose a given space. Thus a metal ship is lighter than one made out of wood, even though a steel plate is heavier than a board. Seaworthy ships have even been made out of cement.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Have you ever made a model ship? Try fashioning one out of a block of wood, whittling it to shape with your knife. By inserting a mast to carry a home-made sail, and fixing a rudder at the stern, you will obtain a ship that really sails. Float it in the bathtub and make it go by blowing on the sail.

(Mail your question on a postcard to Violet Moore Higgins in care of this paper. Robert Miller of Oahu, Hawaii, won $10 for this one. Tomorrow: What are worms good for?)

Rock's Exclusive Contract May Rule Out 'Ben Hur'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The latest word on whether or not Rock Hudson will star in "Ben Hur" at MGM is this:

Rock is under exclusive contract to U-I and will be for four more years. Many people think that he is free to choose an outside picture to make for his (supposed) independent set-up with Henry Ginsberg. But it turns out that Rock never signed that deal because he left for Italy in such a hurry to make "A Farewell to Arms."

I happen to know that Rock is dying to do "Ben Hur" for more than one reason. He would be paid $750,000 by MGM—the highest sum ever paid a star who hasn't a "cut" in the picture.

On the other hand, Universal-International can't be accused of being contrary if it doesn't grant permission to Rock. His studio has two big pictures planned for him in 1958 and he's the biggest money maker at the boxoffice, he's needed at home.

Kay Kendall, who spent a few days in a Switzerland Hospital, will be well in time to start "The Reluctant Debutante," MGM is relieved to know. It was a flare-up of an old liver condition, and she is now out of the hospital.

Sandra Dee will leave on schedule I am glad to say. I think if she hadn't been able to take that trip to Europe she would have been the most heart-broken girl in Hollywood.

Just as excited is John Saxon, who has been borrowed by MGM from U-I to play opposite Sandra. They are a great team in "The Wonderful Years."

One of the first happy new year greetings came from Greer Garson, who is in New York rehearsing for "Auntie Mame." She said she flew in the day after Christmas, and didn't even have time to tell me before she left here what Buddy had given her for Christmas.

"It's a very beautiful necklace called 'Flame of Gold' with huge diamonds," she said. "The diamonds belonged to a famous collection, and it was designed by Julius Cohen."

Greer said that Rosalind Russell is looking forward as much to coming home as she is to going into the play. She said everyone has been so nice, and all the original cast (except Roz) remains.

Every time Tyrone Power's name is linked with a girl, and a marriage whisper comes up, he vehemently denies he'll ever marry again or that the romance is serious. But Tyrone does appear very serious about Debbie Minotas, attractive non-professional from New Orleans.

★ ★ ★

She's been in New York with him for the holidays, and when Ty telephoned friends here to wish them a happy new year, he also put Debbie on the telephone.

Ty and Faye Emerson go to Orlando, Fla., Monday to open in "Back to Methuselah," a play they will do in one-night stands throughout the country.

Closing of Suez Boosts Panama

Increase in Revenue Will Be Used Toward Enlarging Canal

BALBOA, C.Z. (UP)—The Panama Canal Co. reported today that the closing of the Suez Canal last year boosted its revenue by three million dollars.

Summarizing operations in the year ended last June 30, the company said about 1,600,000 long tons of cargo that would have gone through the Suez came here instead. The Egyptians blocked the Suez Canal after the November 1956 attack by Britain and France, and it was not cleared until April 1957.

★ ★ ★

The company said that improvements were needed to increase the Panama Canal's capacity to handle new tankers and warships that are too large to go through the present locks.

It also reported a net income of $3,821,456 during the biggest year in its history.

★ ★ ★

A large part of the increased business picked up from the Suez apparently will be retained, the company predicted. "Even more significant than the rerouting of ships has been the modification of world trade patterns which has been advantageous to the Panama Canal," the report said.

★ ★ ★

For the first time in the canal's 42-year history, the report said, more cargo moved from the Atlantic to the Pacific than vice versa. This was attribed to Japan's increased demand for raw materials as well as to the Suez closing.

Red Feeling Better, Jokes With Nurses

Seeing Eye Dog, Lost for Week, Returned to Man

★ ★ ★

Sanders, 34, held up his trip, waiting in a trailer park here with his wife and two children all week long in hopes the dog, Judy, would turn up.

★ ★ ★

She was reunited with Sanders, who lives in Revere, Mass.

NEXT: MR. ROCK & ROLL

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Major League baseball has been in existence much longer and has been far more popular than pro football which has earned the title of Major League football.

It has often been said that a realistic television policy and a good public relations campaign to sell its product has been pro football's life-line.

When the World Series ended last October, however, the Associated Press pointed out from a newspaper survey that when the seasons overlap, football has started to take the ink away from baseball.

Long drawn out games and long seasons have been just a couple factors attributed to some loss of ground for baseball, but right now the Majors are confronted with a problem which could make or break the sport's claim as the "national pastime."

★ ★ ★

The feeling is that if the Majors don't start taking better care of the Minors they may be in trouble.

Minor league baseball has been the bread and butter for the Majors, but in recent years, teams and leagues have been folding by the dozens across the country.

The Minors put most of the blame on television and the failure of the Majors to set up adequate TV policies.

★ ★ ★

The latest decision of the Majors to telecast the "game-of-the-week" each Sunday is considered as the newest hatchet for the Minors.

Minor league officials claim that their best days at the gate are on Sundays and if their crowds sit in their living rooms it will prove to be the downfall for baseball.

Even Dizzy Dean, who now makes his living doing Major League TV broadcasts, has taken a poke at the Majors.

"The Majors are where they are because of the Minors," he said, "and I may be talking against my job, but when the Majors overdo it on TV they're gonna hurt the Minors, and when they do this they will find themselves on a dead limb."

DITTOS FROM THE PRESS BOX

We will reiterate that Ed "Big Mo" Modzelewski will not return to pro football with the Cleveland Browns next year. The five-year pro veteran will take an assistant's coaching job with his old coach Jim Tatum, formerly of Maryland, now at North Carolina.

★ ★ ★

Athletic coaches for all teams at Pontiac Northern High, except football, will be chosen this spring. Several have already applied for the basketball position.

HOPEFUL—Rudy Pilous, new coach of the tailend Chicago Black Hawks, said he has hopes of putting the team in the NHL playoff berth. The former manager in a Canadian hockey league will direct the Hawks Saturday against Toronto on Toronto ice.

3 Pro Mentors Leave Scene in Last 6 Months

By JAMES DEWEY

DETROIT (AP) — If the pace continues, pro sports fans in Detroit won't be able to "tell the coaches without a program."

Within six months three of the four major sports activities in the city have seen shifts in field bosses.

Buddy Parker left the Lions in August, Charley Eckman was eased out as Piston coach a month ago, and yesterday Jimmy Skinner turned over the Red Wing coaching job to former National Hockey League star Sid Abel.

That means that only Jack Tighe of the Tigers holds the same job he had a year ago, and Tighe has put in only one full season as manager of the Detroit baseball team.

Parker's explanation for his unexpected resignation was that he couldn't do anything with the squad. He was replaced by his assistant George Wilson who a week ago led the Lions to the world championship.

Next on the list of expendables was fast-talking, cigar-chewing Eckman. He was forced to resign because of the poor showing of his National Basketball Assn. team. Piston owner Fred Zollner, who brought the club up from Fort Wayne, Ind., last season, picked one-time Piston Red Rocha as the new coach.

Now the latest substitute is Abel-for-Skinner. Skinner took over the Red Wings in 1954 after Tommy Ivan went with the Chicago Black Hawks.

In two of his three full seasons as coach Skinner led the Wings to National Hockey League titles and saw them win one Stanley Cup championship.

But this season the Wings are floundering. A flurry of trades has backfired. Many rookie hopefuls haven't turned out as expected.

The 38-year-old Abel who centered the famous production line with Ted Lindsay and Gordie Howe in the late '40s and early '50s is sure to inherit some of them.

Navy Fares Financially Best Among Bowl Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Navy, with no conference tie-up, fared better financially than any other school competing in the post season football bowl games.

★ ★ ★

With final figures for all the bowl games far from complete, a check today showed that the Middies took home approximately $160,000 after defeating Rice 20-7 in the Cotton Bowl. The money, minus expenses, will be applied to the new three million dollar stadium being constructed at Annapolis.

★ ★ ★

The other schools in the four major bowls split their share of the gate and television and radio receipts with members of their conferences.

★ ★ ★

Rice ended up with about $74,000 plus $2,000 expenses, with the remaining six Southwest Conference schools splitting $84,000.

★ ★ ★

All members of the Southwest Conference also share in receipts of the Sugar Bowl, in which Texas dropped a 39-7 decision to Mississippi, and in the Gator Bowl, where Texas A & M lost to Tennessee 3-0.

★ ★ ★

Sugar Bowl officials said their figures will not be complete for another three weeks, but out of the Gator Bowl receipts of $258,333, including radio and TV, Tennessee received $64,000 and the Texas Aggies $60,000. Another $20,000 went to the Southwest Conference and $21,000 to the Southeastern Conference. SEC schools also share in Mississippi's half of the Sugar Bowl gate.

★ ★ ★

Next to Navy, Duke probably fared better than any other bowl competitor, The Blue Devils, who lost to Oklahoma 48-21 in the Orange Bowl, will receive about $225,000 of the total receipts of $713,000, including $275,000 from radio-TV.

★ ★ ★

Duke gets to keep half of its share with the remainder divided among other members of the Atlantic Coast Conference. After deducting expenses, Oklahoma's share of approximately $225,000 will be split equally among the members of the Big Eight Conference.

The Rose Bowl audit also will not be completed for weeks. But on the basis of 1957 figures, when the crowd again was close to 100,000, the Big Ten and the Pacific Coast Conference will receive approximately $365,000 each.

Oregon will get the biggest share of around $60,000 with the remainder divided among the Pacific Coast Conference treasury and the member schools. The Big Ten, of which Ohio State is a member, splits its share 12 ways with two shares going to the Buckeyes, one to the commissioner's office and one each to the other members of the conference after expenses are deducted.

Detroit Adopts 'Two-Fisted' Policy

Salary Cuts Facing Bengals

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers are adopting a tough, two-fisted policy on player salaries and some of the higher-priced talent can expect cuts in 1958.

General manager John McHale says the Tigers in the past have been "extremely generous to mediocre ball players."

"I'd call it a realistic policy," said McHale when he met with newsmen yesterday at Briggs Stadium. "We're going to take a long, hard look at performances. Players who do good jobs will be rewarded. Players who don't do as well as expected can expect adjustments."

It is likely that shortstop Harvey Kuenn and infielder Ray Boone, two of the club's three top-salaried players, will have to accept pay cuts. Contracts will be in the mail by the first of the week.

Outfielder Al Kaline, like Boone and Kuenn in the $30,000 bracket, will talk contract with McHale in the next few days.

Over the years the Tigers have had one of baseball's highest payrolls, despite the fact that the club has not won a pennant since 1945 and has finished higher than fourth only once in the last decade.

"I think," said McHale, "that the Detroit club has more mediocre players in the $15,000 to $25,000 pay bracket than any other baseball club. That's a pretty healthy salary, you know."

He said the club will not ask any player to take the 25 per cent (maximum) cut this season but said "we might go to that in the future if the situation warrants such a move."

★ ★ ★

The general manager said the Tigers, who finished fourth last season, still are "willing and anxious" to make more players deals. McHale has had dozens of telephone conversations with Frank Lane, the Cleveland general manager, and is talking over possible trades with three or four other American League clubs.

Hawks Lose, but Pettit's Back

Warriors, Knicks Winners

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There are some St. Louis Hawks fans seeing a ray of sunshine through the gloom of a 95-93 loss to the Philadelphia Warriors last night in the nightcap of a National Basketball Assn. doubleheader.

Bob Pettit is the origin of the ray, as he made his first appearance since breaking his finger last week. Though on a limited-service basis, Pettit scored two field goals and three fouls for seven points.

Ed Macauley led the Hawks with 26 points, but the Warriors' Paul Arizin and Neil Johnston each scored 22 and therein lays the story of the game.

★ ★ ★

Both kept the Warriors in a nip and tuck affair until Tom Gola canned a field goal that put Philly ahead for good, 86-65. Chuck Share brought the Hawks to within two points with 22 seconds left, but Woody Sauldsberry of the Warriors stole the ball with 11 seconds to go and held it till the end.

★ ★ ★

New York, with Carl Braun's 27 points and Willie Naulls 25, put on second and third period spurges to sink the Nats. A 91-65 rebounding edge for the Knicks didn't hurt matters, with Naulls getting 29.

★ ★ ★

Ed Conlin had 23 points, 19 in the first half, to lead the Nats. Dolph Schayes had 5-for-5 at the foul line to run his string to 50-for-50, five short of Boston's Bill Sharman's record for successive foul shots made.

Will New York Be Open City?

Frick, Four-Man Body Discuss Chance of NL Team in Big Town

NEW YORK (AP)—Is New York an "open city" for any National League team that might want to move in? Or do the Yankees have exclusive rights to the only baseball show in town?

Commissioner Ford Frick and a four-man committee will wrestle with questions like that today when they start to explore the territorial problems of baseball. The shifts of the Giants and Dodgers to California put the spotlight on the muddled situation.

A committee appointed by Mayor Wagner to try to bring a National League team to New York has been assured by Frick that it will find the city "open."

There were broad hints from Cincinnati last weekend that owner Powell Crosley Jr. was thinking of moving his Redlegs. Crosley said the opinion among National League owners seemed to be unanimous that it should maintain a team in New York.

Under so-called baseball law, the circuit of either major league cannot be changed to include any city in the other circuit except by the unanimous consent of the clubs in both leagues.

The committee is expected to approve an amendment that will be submitted to the next joint meeting of the majors, Jan. 25 in New York.

More Football for Stars

Optimist Bowl Game Next

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—A half dozen players will get a second taste of bowl play in less than two weeks when they line up with the college all stars in the first annual Optimist Bowl football game Saturday afternoon in Tucson.

★ ★ ★

A capacity crowd of 8,500 is expected in Tucson High School stadium to watch the all-stars play the Tucson Cowboys, unbeaten champs of the newly-organized Western Professional Football League. Proceeds will help the Tucson Optimist clubs with their boys' work program.

The game will be broadcast locally but not televised.

Ken Ford of Hardin-Simmons University, the nation's No. 1 passer in 1957, will share the quarterback assignment with Carl Dodd of Oklahoma.

The all-stars also will have back Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State, Bob Mulgado of Arizona State at Tempe, end Dave Kaiser of Michigan State and Notre Dame's halfback Dick Lynch.

★ ★ ★

NYU Basketball Coach Quits After 30 Years

NEW YORK (AP)—New York University Athletic Director Vic Obeck will be on the lookout for a basketball coach when he attends the NCAA Convention in Philadelphia.

The Violet's current mentor Howard Cann announced yesterday that this would be his last season as head coach, after holding the post for over 30 years.

NYU, touted as the city's best in pre-season estimates, has a 2-5 record so far this year and rumors of dissension on the club have prevailed since a last place finish in the Holiday Festival.

MACOMB, Ill. (AP) — Tennessee State is heavily favored to defeat host Western Illinois University tonight and win the NAIA Midwest Tip-Off basketball tournament.

Montreal Adds to NHL Lead

Dumps Leafs 5-2 to Go 12 Points Ahead of League Field

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Entering the last half of the 70-game season, the Canadiens hold a 12-point margin over the second place New York Rangers after downing the Toronto Maple Leafs 5-2 in the circuit's lone game last night.

Dickie Moore opened and closed the Canadiens' scoring as he sparked the league leaders' attack with two goals. The others came off the sticks of Henri Richard, Claude Provost and Jean-Guy Talbot. For Richard it was No. 18 of the season.

★ ★ ★

With both teams playing wide-open hockey, there was a flare-up in the third period when Bob Baun of the Leafs and Andre Pronovost of Montreal squared off. Each drew a major penalty for fighting.

LA Open Gets Started Today

152 Golfers Lift Lid on '58 Winter Season at Rancho Municipal

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The 1958 winter golf trail opens for traffic today with a field of 152 set to tee off in the 32nd Los Angeles Open and a purse of $35,000.

★ ★ ★

Playing the Rancho Municipal Course for the third straight year, the Los Angeles event as usual attracted most of the nation's big name professionals and a young army of lesser-lights, anxious to hit into the purse-money and the headlines.

Rancho measures 7,170 yards when stretched out to its full length and par is 36-35—71.

Doug Ford won the 1957 attraction and as usual is a strong threat to win the $7,000 winner's prize. A year ago he had rounds of 69-71-71-69—280, four under par for the 72 holes.

His immediate runners-up were Jay Hebert, 281; Art Wall Jr., and Jack Burke Jr., with 283. They are on deck for this year's show.

Only three of the top 25 money winners of 1957 are missing. They are Jimmy Demaret and Sam Snead, past winners here, and Cary Middlecoff, who never has been able to add this one to his huge collection of trophies.

Two featured players competing are Dick Mayer, the National Open and "world" champion, and Lionel Hebert, the National PGA titleholder.

Weekend Skiing Outlook Bright, Operators Say

With from three to five inches base, covered with about three inches of powder (natural) snow, all ski resorts in the Pontiac area today report excellent prospects for weekend sport.

Return to freezing temperatures has permitted those resorts having snow machines to spread additional coverings on top of the several inches of snowfall earlier in the week. There was some good skiing over New Year's day and conditions have improved since, say the operators.

Mt. Holly, north of Pontiac, and Grampian Mt. east of Oxford, along with Teeple Hill and the Summit Club, at Fenton, all are operating their full complement of slopes and tows. Mt. Holly's report is typical of the others:

★ ★ ★

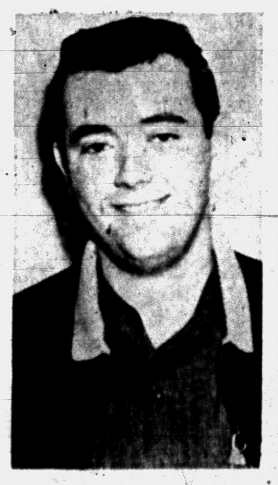
"Skiing conditions are excellent. All facilities are operating. There is a four inch base of machine-made snow, with three inches of powder. Weekend prospects are very good."

Teeple Hill, Kensington Park and Bald Mt. Recreation area do not have snow machines, but all their slopes are in operation, over several inches of natural snow.

Rosi, Busso Meet on TV

NEW YORK (INS) — Unless the "unexpected" happens as it has four previous times, Paoli Rosi and Johnny Busso will meet tonight at Madison Square Garden in a battle of ranking lightweight contenders.

This is the fifth time the two New York battlers have been scheduled to meet in a ten rounder. Illness or injury of one or the other postponed the earlier bouts.



IN AUTORAMA — Michigan Hot Rod and Michigan Sports Car Clubs are co-sponsoring a show in the 6th annual Autorama at the State Fair Grounds in Detroit, Jan. 10-12 and Ron Carson, representing 24 members of the Pontiac Shifters will take part in the program.

'No Sievers' Label Foils Trade Effort

BOSTON (AP) — Washington's refusal to include Roy Sievers in conversations has foiled a Red Sox-Senators trade, according to Boston General Manager Joe Cronin.

Cronin and Washington's Calvin Griffith have held trade talks.

"He wants some of our good young stuff," Cronin said. "But he keeps his star hitter out of reach."

Sievers led the American League in home runs and runs batted in for 1957.

Cronin said that without Sievers, Washington hasn't enough to offer for a trade.

Title Goes to Citadel

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The Citadel Bulldogs are Senior Bowl basketball champions—due in large part to two sophomores who scored more than half of their team's points in the fifth annual tournament.

The South Carolina military school won the title last night by turning back defending champion and host Spring Hill 67-55. Florida State took third place with a 92-80 victory over Georgia.

Clarkston Tops With 5-0

6 County Fives Unbeaten

Only six Oakland County teams remain unbeaten as the 1957-58 prep basketball schedule heads into two big months of action before the March tourney games.

Clarkston tops the list of perfect record quintets with five straight victories. Holly and Troy are close behind with four straight.

Ferndale and Royal Oak St. Mary each won their only two games during December and Madison Lamphere was successful in its one outing.

Holly appears in the greatest danger of dropping out of the group as the heavy schedules resume Tuesday. The Broncos go on the road to meet a strong Brighton team which has already upset Northville and gave Clarkston a busy evening.

★ ★ ★

St. Mary will also have its work cut out meeting St. Frederick here Tuesday.

Three schools around the county area have yet to lose. Southern Thumb power Almont leads the trio with 5-0. Imlay City has taken four in a row and St. Benedict three.

I-L Quintets Play Tonight

The Class A Inter-Lakes Conference initiates post-holiday high school basketball action in the Oakland County area with a full schedule of three league games tonight.

★ ★ ★

Three May Quit Hockey League

Eligibility Standards Could Force Big Ten Schools to Leave

DENVER (AP) — A conflict over eligibility standards may force three Big Ten schools out of the Western Intercollegiate Hockey League.

★ ★ ★

University of Minnesota hockey coach John Mariucci said yesterday Minnesota, Michigan and Michigan State may drop out of the WIHL because of eligibility standards.

Mariucci's Gophers defeated league-leading Denver University 2-1 Wednesday night and play the Pioneers again tonight. They lost to Colorado College 7-2 Monday.

He said both Denver and CC are using players who are older than the age limits set by Big Ten rules.

"What are they trying to do?" Mariucci said. "The Big Ten schools can't use players like that. Is it fair for us to go by one set of rules and they another?"

Pontiac Central to Play Without Ray

Chiefs' All-SVC Pivot Had Five Games to Play

PCH Plays 1st Contest of New Year Tuesday Against Edsel Ford

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Pontiac Central High School will get back into the basketball scene next Tuesday against Dearborn Edsel Ford, but the Chiefs will kick-off the New Year campaign minus big Hudson Ray, 6-foot-6 senior center and one of the Saginaw Valley's top scorer.

Ray, who had only five games of eligibility remaining before his graduation at the end of this month failed to return to the squad after being disciplined by coach Art Van Ryzin.

"It is unfortunate," said Van Ryzin, "he has the potential of being the best center in the state."

"Every player must consider himself part of a team, and every player on the team must be treated the same way if he fails to abide by the rules," said Van Ryzin.

Ray failed to report to practice after he was reprimanded earlier this week. An All-Saginaw Valley choice last year when the Chiefs walked off with the title with an unbeaten record.

The big pivot man had only until January 24th in the game at Saginaw as his last prep appearance before mid-term graduation. As result of recent action, Ray will not play in five games, against Edsel Ford, Bay City Central, Flint Northern, Waterford and Saginaw.

Neither has seen too much action this year in the three games played. Ray has collected 52 points in three games for a 17 point average. The Chiefs first setback came prior to Christmas at Flint Central which has an unbeaten 5-0 slate.

Edsel Ford has a 2-2 record this year. The Dearborn team will present a tall but inexperienced team led by center Mike Halstead (6-4), Gary Joachim and Neil Hadley a pair of 6-2 forwards.

With either Munson or Alexander in the pivot, Dick Whitmer and Jim Skinner at forwards, Jerry Williams and Charles Barge at guards make up the rest of the starting lineup.

Ray's loss for three SVC games could be a hurting blow for the Chiefs especially for the January 24th game at Saginaw which has been figured co-favorites with Pontiac for the title.

This would have been Ray's last game. Then the Chiefs would have to meet Saginaw again three days later at home, January 27th, but this is the first game of the second semester in which Ray would have been ineligible.

Leahy Leaves Hospital

DROPPED — Big Hudson Ray, Pontiac Central's big 6-foot-6 center will not be with the basketball team for the remainder of the first semester. Ray, who still had five games of eligibility before his graduation at mid-term, was dropped from the squad for disciplinary reasons.

Shade for Dodger Eyes?

Home-Base Site Big Problem in Coliseum

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It may sound like a devious scheme, but one man has suggested that the only thing needed to get the Los Angeles Dodgers into Memorial Coliseum next season is a balloon. A big balloon, 50 feet in diameter.

The plot would not be to ferry the players over the gatekeeper's head. It would be to keep the sun out of their eyes by providing them with the world's biggest eyeshade.

One of the chief obstacles to an agreement that would let the Dodgers play in the 100,000-seat coliseum has been a lack of accord over where home plate should be.

The idea, he explained to his baffled audience, would be to adjust the position of the balloon so it would cast a shadow over home plate, thereby relieving the batter of the burden of squinting at a curveball through blinding sunlight.

As the game and the sun moved along, Harris explained, the position of the balloon could be changed by cranking winches on the ends of the cables.

It might cost $100,000 or so, Harris admitted, but you could get back several times that amount by selling advertising space on the side of the balloon.

The commission lat night deadlocked 4-4 on a proposal that would have amended the conditions under which the team could use the big bowl.

One of the amendments would put home plate at the west end, and the other would require that the Dodgers replace any sod dug up during baseball season.

Both amendments were contingent on a breakdown in the Dodgers' negotiations with Pasadena for use of the Rose Bowl. But they failed to get the needed six votes.

Army Hockey Coach Wants 2 Divisions

BOSTON (AP)—A proposal that Eastern college hockey by divided into two divisions has been offered by Army Coach Jack Riley.

"The plan of the league I am putting forth would have two divisions, upper and lower," Riley told a hockey writers meeting here yesterday.

"In the upper we would have Boston University, Boston College, Harvard, St. Lawrence, Clarkson and RIP. In the lower, Dartmouth, Northeastern, Colby, Middlebury, Brown, Providence, Princeton, American International, Tufts, Bowdoin, MIT and Army.

"It would have strong teams playing strong and vice-versa with a yearly Christmas tournament deciding the champions of each division," he said.

Rams' Great QB Hangs Up Spikes

Van Brocklin Retires

LOS ANGELES (AP)— The high pressure of quarterbacking a million - dollar professional football team may be the reason for the retirement of Norman Van Brocklin of the Los Angeles Rams.

The announcement by one of the great quarterbacks of the National Football League probably brought joy to the 11 other clubs of the league because the ever-threatening Rams must rely on Van Brocklin's immediate alternate, Billy Wade, and two rookies, Frank Ryan of Rice and Bobby Cox of Minnesota.

Locally it appeared that Van's retirement was a mystery and the former University of Oregon star would give no further explanation of his retirement aside from saying he had contemplated the move since the middle of the 1957 season.

★ ★ ★

Rozelle said that Van Brocklin at the age of 31 was feeling the brunt of the responsibility of a field general. And that with three youngsters of his own, daughters aged from 7 to 5, Van believes he should begin a business of a permanent nature.

He has a successful connection to represent a pipeline coating company in Portland and will continue that job as an immediate venture.

Van Brocklin was the NFL's leading passer three times, in 1950, 1952 and 1954. He ran second in 1951 and 1953.

Land-O-Lakes Keglers Ended '57 in Style

Three leagues at the Land-O-Lakes alleys in Waterford Township came up with some of the outstanding individual bowling efforts of the season during the final weeks of December.

Co-proprietor Lee Miller had a hand in the keg feats. He had a 680 actual series with games of 199, 258 and 223 and made 707 with handicap in the Wednesday Night Men's League. J. Nicholson rolled a 270 game in the same loop.

The Eagles No. 2887 league had a 271 game bowled by A. Caswell. L. Karr turned in a 267 and C. Shotwell's 695 series were highlights in the Westside Merchants loop.

Brown Is Picked Top Pro Rookie

Cleveland Back Named by NFL Yesterday at Syracuse Dinner

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (INS) — For a fellow whose best sport is supposed to be Lacrosse, Jimmy Brown is doing pretty well in football.

The piledriving fullback of the Cleveland Browns was named last night as the official "rookie of the year" and "player of the year" of the National Football League.

The 21-year-old former Syracuse University star from Manhasset, N.Y., had a tremendous rookie season, leading the league in rushing with 942 yards as he carried Cleveland to the Eastern Conference Championship.

The "rookie" and the "player" awards are the first to receive official league approval since 1946. Both awards will be presented to Brown at an official ceremony in Los Angeles Jan. 9.

30 Days Left for Bowlerama Entries

County Bowlers Entering Meet at Faster Pace

Qualifying Rounds Get Started Feb. 8-9 at 3 Local Alleys

Area alleys report that entries are being returned at a faster pace as the deadline draws closer.

All men will get their qualifying rounds out of the way on the weekend of February 8-9 at Montcalm Centre and Howes Lanes. The women will qualify at Motor Inn on Saturday, February 15th.

Depending on the number of entries, if there are more bowlers than can be handled on the given weekend, Sunday February 16th will be used to complete the qualifying.

The finals will get started as early as possible Saturday morning February 22nd at the Huron Bowl and presentations of awards and prizes will be made that afternoon at the "300 Lounge."

With $1,200 guaranteed for the first three places in each the men's and women's divisions, the prize list may reach a total for at least 75 bowlers to share.

Every bowler who qualifies is certain of sharing in the prize fund, and all qualifiers will shoot for numerous trophies and gift prizes along with the big prize fund.

High qualifiers will be presented with trophy awards by alleys. The top overall man and woman qualifier will also receive a Press award.

Beautiful awards will be presented to the men's and women's champions and the runnerups in each division.

As a feature gift of the Press Box column of the Press, the oldest man and woman bowlers to participate in the tournament will each receive gift awards.

Entry blanks can be clipped from the Press and mailed or returned to the sports department or turned in to their area alleys.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman

What's your bowling average? What was it a year ago? And two years ago? If it hasn't improved measureably in the past few years, you may not be bowling enough. If you bowl just once a week, it's difficult to raise your average. You'd be surprised how much help a weekend practice session can be. That's the only time you can safely experiment to improve your game. And if you bowl in two leagues a week, the difference will soon become apparent.

If weakness on spares is causing you trouble, remember to reach out for your target in releasing the ball and follow through correctly. Get your right hand finishing up in front of your face, as we illustrate today.

Perhaps it's tension in the stance that's keeping your scores low. Try flexing your knees. You might lean forward from the waist, too. Or try them both. I find these two habits very helpful when I'm tense or tight on the approach.

If you have occasional trouble reaching the foul line with good balance, try checking the ball's position on your first two steps.

Baseball School for Young Hopefuls

Tigertown Opens Jan. 27

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers will open their first spring baseball school at Tigertown in Lakeland, Fla., on Jan. 27. The school will run through Feb. 10.

More than 100 boys from the ages of 18 to 24 already are paid and registered for the school. Ed Katalinas, supervisor of scouts for the Detroit club, said 135 are expected.

Purpose of the school is twofold. First, it gives an opportunity to be seen to boys who might have been overlooked by big league scouts. Too, it gives the Tiger officials a chance to get a closer look at some young players.

Any boys signed — and Katalinas says he is "Sure we'll sign several" — will be reimbursed for their room, board and travel expenses.

The brochure that went out to young prospects says:

"What do we have at Tigertown? Well, its setting is on a former air force base which was leased by the Tigers for training all of the Minor League personnel. It ranks as the leading training base of its kind and is located in Lakeland, the heart of Florida.

★ ★ ★

"Each young man who comes to school at Tigertown will find himself in surroundings that include spacious dormitories with plenty of clean linen and blankets, a good service that is second to none and provides all anyone can eat; recreation facilities, television lounges and a snack bar that will interest everyone . . ."

The Tiger staff will listen to questions from the young players and drill them on baseball fundamentals — offensive and defensive tactics, hitting, fielding, pitching and base running.

★ ★ ★

The staff has Jim Campbell, business manager of the Tigers, as administrative director. Also on hand will be Katalinas, coaches Bill Hitchcock, Don Lund and Willis Hudlin; Rick Ferrell, Pat Mullin, Bernie Deviveiros, Wayne Blackburn, and trainers Jack Homel and Bill Harbour.

Okla. State Snaps Jayhawk String

Stilt Out, Kansas Bows in Overtime

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

★ ★ ★

That's what some folks have been saying all along and the Cowboys of Oklahoma State proved them right last night as they knocked the second ranked Jayhawks from the ranks of basketball's unbeaten with 52-50 overtime decision. Kansas had rolled up 10 straight victories, including a 63-56 triumph over the Cowboys in the season's opener.

★ ★ ★

Chamberlain, the nation's leading scorer with a 32.2-point average, was sidelined by a groin injury. He is expected to be ready for Kansas's Big Eight Conference opener next Tuesday against Oklahoma.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, top ranked West Virginia's Mountaineers got a measure of revenge as they whipped Canisius 86-66 for their ninth straight. Canisius was the last team to defeat West Virginia. That was in the regional final of NCAA play last spring in New York's Madison Square Garden.

★ ★ ★

The books were closed on the major holiday tournaments as the Citadel defeated Spring Hill 67-55 in the final of the Senior Bowl at Mobile, Ala., and Harvard employed a zone defense to good advantage for a 55-49 defeat of defending titlist Amherst in championship game of the University of New Hampshire invitational.

★ ★ ★

The four-team NAIA Midwest tipoff tournament got under way at Macomb, Ill., with Tennessee State routing Hamline 106-57 on a field goal shooting average of 58 per cent, and Western Illinois turning back William Jewel 72-58. Tennessee State, 1957 NAIA champion, and Western Illinois meet for the title tonight.

★ ★ ★

In posting their seventh straight victory since the opening loss to Kansas, Oklahoma State took a 28-23 halftime lead. State trailed briefly at the start of the overtime when Monte Johnson's free throw gave the Jayhawks a 50-49 edge. Roy Carberry, who scored all of Oklahoma State's points in the overtime, put the Cowboys back in front with a field goal and then added a free throw.

A string of 16 straight points within a space of one minute and 38 seconds midway through the second half broke the West Virginia-Canisius game wide open. At the time the Mountaineers spurted, the Griffins had pulled within three points, 50-47.

Wichita opened its Missouri Valley Conference campaign with a 74-69 decision over Drake. Unbeaten Boston College capitalized on an amazing 56 per cent field goal accuracy for an 88-78 victory over Brown and its seventh triumph.

Morehead of Kentucky picked off a fantastic total of 93 rebounds in downing Washington and Lee 103-59. Touring Brigham Young lost to Vanderbilt 89-56; Georgia Tech beat Furman 74-64 and Fresno State defeated Butler 85-75.

Michigan Coach Predicts 3-Team Race in Big Ten

★ ★ ★

"I think the winner will lose nearly as many as last year," Perigo said before taking his Wolverines to Iowa for their conference opener tomorrow.

Michigan State and Indiana, sharers of the crown last year, each lost four times while winning 10. It was the first time in 31 years the title holders dropped more than three contests.

★ ★ ★

"They look strong from non-conference play," Perigo said.

No Big Ten team went through the pre-league grind unbeaten. But Michigan State became the early favorite when Ohio State and Indiana faltered.

★ ★ ★

Michigan finished in a deadlock for fifth last season. Perigo said his team may be weaker this time.

The Wolverines have a 5-3 record but they won their last two games against New Mexico and Arizona on the road.

★ ★ ★

"We'll have to start playing better to do as well as last year," Perigo said.

"We're not as steady. We get ahead and fall back and we haven't been a good road team at all."

He inserted hot shot sophomore Terry Miller and Jack Lewis in the back court on the southwestern trip and said they seemed to boost the team's punch.

★ ★ ★

M. C. Burton, George Lee and captain Pete Tillotson are the other starters for the Iowa game.

The Hawkeyes, almost invincible on their home court, were stunned late last year by the invading Wolverines. Michigan wound up the campaign with successive triumphs over the co-champions and the Hawkeyes.

Iowa was the winner of the Queen City tournament at Buffalo last week. But assistant coach Dave Strack, who scouted the Hawkeyes, said they are still "green."

★ ★ ★

"But they're comers," Strack said. "They have good bench strength." Lack of depth is one of Michigan's weaknesses.

Waterford League Cage Play Resumes

Men's basketball action in the Waterford League resumed after the holidays last night at Isaac Crary Junior High with Hutchinson's Mobile downing Ryeson's Super Market, 63-57; White Swan defeating M59 Sunoco, 60-43 and the Junior Chamber of Commerce lacing Drayton Drug, 67-46.

★ ★ ★

Joe Umphrey paced Hutchinson's victory with 22 points while Ron Seets made 19 for Ryeson's. Mal Kerrigan netted 21 points for White Swan and Chuck Young had 10 for Sunoco. Drug's Pickett tallied 21 in a losing cause.

Next Tuesday night's games: Johnson & Anderson vs. Jaycees, 7:15; Ryeson's vs. Drayton Drug, 8:30.

Argentina is said to have more miles of railroad than any other country in South America.

Frozen Whale Meat Finds New Markets

AUCKLAND, New Zealand — Whale meat has not thus far been widely accepted as food for humans but the growing market for animal food and modern quick freezing methods have made it a profitable item for New Zealand.

★ ★ ★

Frozen in 80-pound blocks, the meat now is shipped by a whaling company, Whekenui By-Products Ltd., to America, Britain and the Continent for the first time, Auckland reports. In Australia a whaling station either freezes or dries the meat for overseas sale.

★ ★ ★

A few years ago, most whale meat was jettisoned after its small oil content was extracted. Now it is believed that the meat may within a few years be largely sold on the Far Eastern market for human consumption.

Chevrolet Counts 1957 as Third-Best Year

DETROIT (AP)—Record production in December pushed Chevrolet's 1957 U.S. production to 1,522,538 passenger cars, the third best year in the division's history.

★ ★ ★

E. N. Cole, Chevrolet general manager, said the December run of 161,862 units topped by 4,000 the previous peak for the month set in 1955.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-seven of the original signers of the Declaration of Independence were college or university graduates.

Stocks Continue to Push Forward

Key issues made fractional gains. Many were unchanged and there were a few losers.

★ ★ ★

The opening was fairly brisk, but volume was cut shortly thereafter. Rails continued to nudge ahead following their fine recovery of yesterday. Major steels showed scant change.

Slight gains peppered the motors, aircrafts and chemicals. Non-ferrous metals and televisions were mixed.

Improved sentiment in the steel and rail industries carried over and the news led to expectations of increased defense spending and easing of credit for housing. Hopeful caution was the mood in Wall Street and there was no rush to buy.

★ ★ ★

General Motors and Chrysler were ahead fractionally. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem and Republic Steel were about unchanged. Ford was firm. American Telephone eased after its 2½-point stride yesterday.

Other fractional gainers were Boeing, Radio Corp., Anaconda, Kennecott, Union Carbide, Du-Pont, Santa Fe, Illinois Central, Pennsylvania Railroad and United Aircraft.

General Electric, Zenith, Phelps Dodge and International Nickel took small losses. Standard Oil (New Jersey) and Eastern Air Lines were easy.

Among opening blocks were: Servel unchanged at 4½ on 4,800 shares; Westinghouse Electric off ½ at 62½ on 1,000; and Ford up ⅛ at 38⅝ on 1,400.

At $3.632 the index compared with $6.31 the previous week and was 3.1 per cent ahead of the $6.13 figure in the similar week a year earlier.

The index wound up 1957 closer to the year's high of $6.45, reached Dec. 10, than to the low of $6.08 set May 14. This was a higher range than the 1956 spread of $5.86 to $6.18.

VERGIL J. MYERS

High Twelve Club to Install Officers

The Pontiac High Twelve Club will install Vergil J. Myers, 3690 Lincolnshire Rd., Waterford Township, as president at ceremonies immediately following a dinner Monday evening in the banquet room of the Pontiac Federal Savings Building, 761 W. Huron St.

Other officers to be installed will be Clyde Townsend, Paul Snover and William Ewart, vice presidents; Marvin Alward, secretary; Sam Hale, treasurer, and Bryan French, international representative.

Dr. L. Lamont Okey, assistant professor of speech at University of Michigan, will be the featured speaker. The dinner is scheduled to begin at 6:30 p.m.

Car Production Beats '56 Total

But Truck Output Dips as Makers Chalk Up Fourth Highest Year

Estimated output of cars for 1957 was 6,110,745 units, the trade paper said, or 5.3 per cent higher than 1956, when the makers rolled 5,801,865 cars from the lines.

Truck output for the year was estimated 1,075,619 units, or a 2.5 per cent decline from 1956, when 1,103,593 commercial cars were built.

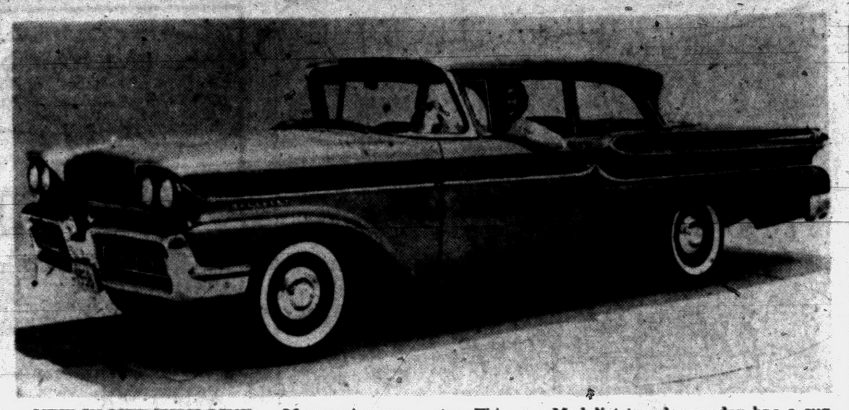
Canadian vehicle manufacturers produced an estimated 412,010 cars and trucks during the year, down 12.9 per cent from the 472,766 vehicles turned out in Canadian plants the previous year.

Car output in the United States during December totaled an estimated 530,565 units, down 8.3 per cent from November's output of 578,601 units and 11.2 per cent below the 597,226 cars built during December a year ago.

The estimated 86,070 trucks built during December was 5.5 per cent off November's 90,026 assemblies, but .8 per cent above the 84,405 trucks built in December, 1956.

Families Purchase Ink

DES MOINES — The average family buys 60 cents' worth of ink a year. Blue is by far the most popular color.



NEW IN MERCURY LINE — Mercury's new, low-price Medalist, powered by an engine designed for extra gasoline economy, will go on sale this month in dealerships across the country. This new Medalist two-door sedan has a suggested list price of $2,324 — $98 below the lowest priced Mercury Monterey model. The four-door Medalist lists at $2,390.

Cheaper Mercury Arriving on Market

DETROIT (AP)—A new low-priced model Mercury will go on sale this Ford's Lincoln and Mercury Division said the new unit, the Medalist, will have a suggested list price of $2,324 for the two-door sedan and $3,390 for the four-door sedan.

★ ★ ★

The Medalist will have a 122-inch wheelbase and will be powered with a V-8 engine designed to provide extra gasoline economy.

★ ★ ★

It will have the same frame, front and rear suspension as the Monterey and Montclair series. Its engine has a two-barrel carburetor with automatic choke and is rated at 235 horsepower. Its compression ratio is 9.7 to 11.

Movie Industry Production Low, Pickup Seen

By BOB THOMAS

But the outlook is not as grim as it seems. The studios are full of plans to speed up production after the seasonal letdown. And reports from the nation's theaters have buoyed up hopes that audiences can be lured back to movies. The blue-ribbon holiday attractions are doing fine business.

★ ★ ★

Nor is the economic outlook bad for movie workers. Although the major studios are slowed down to a crawl, no less than 79 TV series are being filmed in Hollywood. . . .

★ ★ ★

"He must be nuts to turn down a role like this," Cooper remarked. "You hardly can find scripts like this any more". . . .

The screen is getting franker and franker. "In "A Farewell to Arms," Jennifer Jones refers to herself as a lady of the evening, using the common word. Old-timers don't recall ever hearing the word in a movie before. . . .

It's a sad sight to see Paramount requesting a postponement of Elvis Presley's draft. Not because there's anything wrong in the delay. But because it's sorrowful to see a once-proud studio seeking salvation with the Presley brand of entertainment. . . .

Sign of the times: Variety has added a new section to its entertainment pages—"tollvision."

Mexicans Purchase GM Bus Chassis

The sale of 1,000 GMC forward control bus chassis to the Banco Nacional de Transportes, S. A. for public transportation in Mexico City has been announced by Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors Corporation and general manager of the GMC Truck and Coach Division.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

These 1,000 units are a part of the modernization program initiated by the municipal authorities of Mexico City to improve its public transportation system. The chassis will be sold and financed by the Banco Nacional de Transportes to members of the Alianza de Camioneros de Mexico, Mexico's most important association of bus operators.

★ ★ ★

The unit involved is a GMC model SFM 466A equipped with hydramatic transmission, power steering, 302 cubic inch engine and forward controls. The bodies will be built in Mexico.

Mental Problems Eased at 'Home' in Hospital

BALTIMORE (AP) — The spacious room is warmly decorated. There is a homelike fireplace at one end. Couches, chairs and tables are tastefully arranged.

This is a medical ward at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The room and the sun porch beyond it serve as the daytime "home" for a small group of persons being treated for various psychiatric disorders. They come at 9 a.m. and go home at 4:30.

There is reading or table tennis for diversion. The patients have lunch, serving themselves from a buffet.

★ ★ ★

Dr. William D. Wheat, who set up and is in charge of the ward, says it is the only one of its kind on the Eastern Seaboard. Results have been gratifying, he said, at the first — in Montreal, Canada.

The ward accommodates a maximum of 15 persons. The number is kept small to maintain a closely knit, family-like atmosphere, important for this type of treatment. The average patient spends about six weeks in the ward.

★ ★ ★

The entire group meets each day for discussions under the leadership of a nurse with psychiatric training. In addition, a psychiatrist from the staff of Hopkins' Phipps Psychiatric Clinic conducts two group-therapy sessions each week.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

But Dr. Wheat said patients often find they can "thaw out" and express their feelings more easily when other persons around them are voicing personal difficulties. In addition, their reactions to others in the group may help the patients see more clearly how they react to family members and others.

Besides the group meetings, each person in Dr. Wheat's day-care ward has one or two sessions of individual psychotherapy each week.

★ ★ ★

Since the patient is home at night and in the early morning, he never loses touch with the community. There also is no sharp adjustment when hospital treatment ends.

The cost is less for the patient than it would be if he were admitted to the hospital on a full-time basis. For the hospital, beds are freed for patients who require day-and-night attention.

Tax Collections Seen Taking Slight Drop

LANSING (AP) — A slight drop, of less than one per cent, was reported in sales and use tax collections in December on November business by the State Revenue Department.

December collections this year totaled $27,755,427, a drop of $247,607 or nine tenths of one per cent, from the $28,004,034 collected during the same month a year ago.

Louis M. Nims, state revenue commissioner, said the loss was mostly due to a slump in automobile sales.

Cigarette taxes in December brought in $3,505,239 compared to $2,241,943 for the same month a year ago.

A jump in the cigarette tax from three to five cents accounted for the increase, however, Nims said.

News in Brief

J. C. Taylor, 27, of 7900 Sashabaw Rd., Clarkston, pleaded guilty to reckless driving before Pontiac Township Justice Robert W. Hodge, Thursday, and paid a fine of $55.10 plus $4.90 costs.

Vote Phone Strike to Start Tonight

NEW YORK (AP) — Long distance telephone workers in 42 states and the District of Columbia have voted to strike at midnight today, a union spokesman said today.

"The vote is definitely for a strike," said Miss Elaine T. Gleason, national director of the Long Lines District, Communications Workers of America (CWA).

Final results of the nationwide vote will be announced later today (4 p.m. EST), she said.

★ ★ ★

The contract between the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and the union ends at midnight. A strike would involve about 25,500 Bell System employes. They are mostly traffic operators and plant craftsmen who maintain long-distance equipment.

Rochester Resident Injured in Accident

TROY — A Rochester businessman, Conrad Krehling, 50, of 2985 Rochester Rd., was injured seriously last night when his car left South Boulevard and struck a tree.

Troy Police said Krehling was unable to make a statement on how the accident happened and that there were no wtinesses.

Krehling, owner of Connie's Bar in Avon Township, was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac. He suffered fractured ribs, pelvis and cuts on the forehead.

Muncie Salesman Dies as Car Skids Into Train

LIMA, Ohio (AP) — Lewis C. Capener, 52, salesman from Muncie, Ind., was killed yesterday as his automobile skidded against the locomotive of a train near Lima.

A native of Baraboo, Wis., Capener moved to Muncie a year ago from Battle Creek, Mich. The widow, two daughters and his parents survive.

HAVE YOU MET THE PUBLIC

IF YOU ARE

Between 20 and 32 and have had sales or similar experience, we may have just the kind of job you've been looking for . . . as a customer representative in our Pontiac office at 54 East Huron St.

ON THIS JOB

You'll be assigned your own group of customers. You'll enjoy helping them with orders for service, listing, bills, special requests. And you'll find it stimulating challenge in recommending the right type of telephone service to fit each of your customers' needs.

THE JOB

Requires the combination of a good high school record and some business experience in the public contact field . . . or some college training.

YOU'LL WORK

With friendly, helpful people in attractive offices. A 5-day week, with no evening night or Saturday work.

YOUR SALARY

Will range from $64 to $70 to start, depending on your educational background and business experience, and you'll get regular salary increases.

IF YOU QUALIFY

We will provide a 4-week training course in customer contact work at full pay.

FOR MORE DETAILS

Or to arrange a personal interview stop in and see Mrs. Terry at our employment office at 54 E. Huron St., between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

Send Scientists to Embassies

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading American scientist said today keeping the country informed on foreign scientific advances is only one of the benefits of having scientists attached to U. S. embassies around the world.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Lloyd V. Berkner, president said even greater values stem from scientists' ability to promote scientific exchange and to advise ambassadors on policy matters where science plays a role.

Berkner added in an interview that he was certainly delighted by yesterday's disclosure that the State Department plans to revive a practice of placing science attaches in important overseas posts.

Officials outlined a $200,000-program for appointment of perhaps a dozen of the science diplomats to places like London, Bonn, Paris, Stockholm, Tokyo, New Delhi, Beirut, a couple of Latin-American capitals and maybe Moscow. These officials said money for the revived program would be included in new budget requests.

The plans came to light after the House Government Information subcommittee released a letter by Chairman Moss (D-Calif) asking Secretary of State Dulles what the State Department had done about the committee's 1956 recommendation that the science attache system be revived.

A subcommittee spokesman said today that after the program gets going again, the House group will ask various scientists, including Berkner, to assess its effectiveness.

Berkner, as a State Department consultant in 1950, headed a committee whose report paved the way for appointment of science attaches in following years up through 1955. The program then died out for want of funds and personnel.

Syria-Turkey Crisis Over for Russians

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky has returned from his special assignment as commander of the Soviet military district bordering Turkey. This presumably writes a finish to last fall's Syrian-Turkish crisis as far as the Russians are concerned.

★ ★ ★

Rokossovsky was put in command of the forces near Turkey and Syria Oct. 23, when the Soviet government was warning the world that Turkey planned to attack Syria and the Russians would come to Syria's aid.

★ ★ ★

The Russians brought up the so-called threats to peace at the United Nations, where Western diplomats accused them of creating an "artifical war scare." The debate petered out after Nikita Khrushchev said the tension had eased.

Chinese Imprison Aged Bishop Again

HONG KONG (AP) — Red China has re-arrested Bishop Joseph Hu of Taichow and sentenced him and two other clerics to long prison terms, the Catholic Sunday Examiner reported today.

★ ★ ★

The 75-year-old bishop, who was imprisoned in 1955 and later released, was seized again recently on a charge of being a counter-revolutionary, the weekly church paper said.

It quoted a Communist broadcast from Hangchow.

The priests were Father Paul Su, apostolic administer of the diocese of Yungkia, and Father Joseph Wang, acting bishop of Ningpo diocese.

The three clergymen were given sentences ranging from 10 to 20 years, the broadcast said. It did not specify the individual penalties.

The Catholic paper said that of 30 Chinese bishops still in China, about half are now in jail.

Nab Stolen Police Car Ticketed for Parking

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—A black, unmarked Ford with two-way radio that was stolen from Norristown, Pa., state police Wednesday night has been found.

Camden Police Sgt. Earl Quinton spotted it last night, but some alert patrolman already had ticketed it for illegal parking.

Train Hits Fire Truck

TURIN, Italy (AP)—The gates at a train crossing were lifted last night for a fire truck speeding to a fire. A train crashed into the truck, killing four firemen and injuring two more seriously. No one on the one-coach train was hurt.

A MODEL FATHER — John Forsythe finds it much easier to play the "Bachelor Father" of a teenage niece on television than to be the real-life dad of three normally bewildering children. The actor says it's impossible to treat his own offspring with the aplomb he displays on TV. "Bachelor Father" is telecast by CBS on alternate Sundays at 7:30 p. m.

April Olrich's Telling Strange New Riddles

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — A strange kind of riddle going around America was brought to New York by actress April Olrich who asked me, "What is it that flies, smells like lox, and is shaped like a box?"

WILSON

"I'm stumped," I admitted. She said: "A flying lox-box!" Becoming very grave, she said, "Seriously, what is green, has five legs and eats rocks?" Again I was stumped. "A five-legged rock-eater!" she exclaimed.

April discovered these in Tennessee while touring the U. S. for the "Pursuit of the Graf Spee" picture and "improved" them in Texas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Hollywood. When she told them to some Harvard boys, April (who's lived in England recently) says, "They all fell down loffing."

APRIL

Johnnie Ray—now at his best — undergoes another ear operation next week . . . Mickey Rooney caused gasps when he plugged CBS on the NBC Perry Como Look Awards program. "He's sick!" Perry said. But Mickey's friends'll bet you he did it on purpose.

Eydie Gorme and Steve Lawrence—who got married in Las Vegas—will do a duet on their old boss Steve Allen's show from L.A. in February. (They wired acquaintances: "This is the end of a beautiful friendship—we got married Sunday").

Joe E. Lewis, who got up at an early hour (noon) for their wedding, later was quite puzzled at a party at El Rancho Vegas. "What's the matter with me?" he said, "I'm forgetting to drink. I must be drunk!"

TODAY'S BEEF: "Why don't the TV networks get some sense and schedule the shows so everybody can see BOTH Steve Allen and Ed Sullivan and also Maverick . . . by having them at different times? Why try to kill each other off and cost themselves all those millions getting new shows? Now Sid Caesar's going to be on the air Sunday nights, too! It's murder for us and suicide for the sponsors!" — Mrs. Mary Harris, Phoenix.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Real-Life Dad Can't Be Suave

Methods Employed by 'Bachelor Father' Fail in Actor's Home

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — On television, John Forsythe plays the "Bachelor Father" of a teenage girl with all the suavity and sophistication of a matinee idol.

But as the real-life father of three normally bewildering children, he is the first to admit that his approach to parenthood is neither practical nor possible.

Television fatherhood, he explains with a wistful sigh, is for him only a twice-a-month arrangement almost totally lacking in the ramifications of living in a working family, where one's brood can peer through the theatrical veneer of polished infallibility and see the often weary, entirely fallible guy who brings home the bacon.

For the peace of mind of parents whose youngsters appear, according to the ratings, to be watching his CBS-TV show in increasing droves, Forsythe sincerely hopes his audience understands this.

★ ★ ★

"I get a fantastic amount of mail from teenagers," he says, "which I believe is phenomenal because teenagers are notoriously bad TV watchers. Some of the notes are really very sad because they say things like, 'I wish my dad was like you.'

LIGHT APPROACH

"I suppose this is because we try to treat teenage problems in a light, humorous way, but when they crop up for real in a family, no father can be that deft and suave in handling them. I know.

★ ★ ★

"I'd like to think I have all the aplomb with my own kids that I have on television. I try, too, but there's no use kidding myself. I haven't got it."

The darkly handsome converted stage star's crop of progeny includes a 14-year-old son, Dall, who attends school in the East, and two daughters, Page, 7, and Brooke, 4.

What disturbs Forsythe most is having the girls see his show. Page already is tuning him in, and he is never quite certain that she realizes what is play-acting and what isn't.

"I don't like having her watch it," he says frankly, "but I honestly don't know how to stop her. The trouble is that it becomes very real to her.

"For example, she doesn't like seeing me with other women. I keep telling her that it's all pretend, but you don't know how well you're getting across.

TELEVISION RIVAL

"The other day she asked me if I loved Kelly—my 'daughter' on the show. I told her Kelly and I were just good friends.

"She didn't ask the obvious question, which was 'Do you love Kelly more than me?' But you know that's what she was thinking because she's at a touchy age where a child can't always differentiate between the real and the phoney."

"For instance," he says, "they take seeing my pictures in the papers very casually. I'm certainly not a great star at home. I still have to take the deposit bottles back to the market and take the garbage out. No one in the house will take out the garbage but me.

★ ★ ★

"Not long ago I was trying to study what had to be the longest script in the world for a TV show in the East. I was reading away when Page came in.

WHY NOT WORK?

"She said, 'Daddy, why don't you work?' I said, 'Hmm?' She said, 'Why don't you ever work?' I said, 'I do work, dear.'

"She came back with, 'Why don't you work like Beany's father. He goes to work every morning and comes home every night. Why are you always home?' "

Story of Automobile on Wide Wide World

The story of the automobile and the role it has played in the growth and development of this country in the past five decades will be explored Sunday on television's Wide Wide World.

Stars of the 90-minute telecast (Channel 4—5:30) will be the men who have steered the automotive industry along its successful path and the Firebird II, General Motors' experimental gas-turbine passenger car.

In telling the story, called "World on Wheels," Wide Wide World camera crews will set up their equipment in Hannibal, Mo., Flint, Mich., Phoenix, Ariz., and Los Angeles, Calif.

"We hope to show viewers across the nation how the horseless carriage we knew at the turn of the century has changed our lives today," a General Motors spokesman said.

Their Home Becoming Dormatory

Old Couple Takes in 16 Children

TRI CITY, Ky. (AP)—The "second family" of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Murdock, started when they took in three dependent children, has grown to dormitory proportions.

In just three years, the number has jumped to 16—12 boys and 4 girls. And as soon as the family moves to its new home, there'll be room for 24 more.

The new home—a 14-bedroom dormitory-like structure two miles from this southwestern Kentucky community—is now under construction and due to be ready for occupancy next summer. It will have facilities for 40 children.

The Murdocks, who always wanted to care for unfortunate or homeless children, decided to carry out their plans after their own son and daughter had grown up, married and established homes of their own.

But they never dreamed their idea would blossom to such proportions. It also has a name—the Paradise Friendly Home—and a sponsor—the Bell City Church of Christ, of which Murdock is superintendent.

The children, who range in age from 3 to 16, attend school at Sedalia, where Mrs. Murdock teaches, and Murdock, a farmer, teaches the older boys farming.

Although the home is now under supervision of the State Welfare Department, no effort is made to place the children for adoption. The Murdocks do all they can to provide as normal a home and family life as possible.

Little Rock Reports Big Accessory Thefts

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — If records of the Little Rock Police Department offer any clues, someone must really be souping up his hot rod — with other people's automobile accessories.

Statistics show that during a 30-day period, 72 sets of fancy hubcaps, 28 spare tires and wheels, 24 fender skirts, 22 rear view mirrors and scores of other parts were stolen and reported to police.
