Calls West Plan for Suez a 'War Declaration'

Supervisors Offer '57 Budget Monday

$9,199,561 Earmarked in Coming Fiscal Year; No Opposition Seen

Meeting Monday, Oakland County Supervisors are expected to accept the county's final 1957 budget, totaling $9,199,561.20, without questions.

The tentative budget, totaling $9,035,485, was accepted in April for purposes of tax allocation. Both were prepared by the Ways and Means Committee of the Board of Supervisors.

A floor fight is expected over 1957 salaries recommendations, presented to the Board last week and up for action Monday.

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen, unhappy over a recommended two-year raise of only $250, has asked supervisors to support his request for more. An amendment to the recommendations probably will be hotly debated.

Most elected officials with seniority were granted raises ranging from $500 to $1,000, with one—Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore—receiving a hike of $5,000.

Supervisors also will be asked to approve petitions for an annexation election from a 2¼ square mile area of Troy Township, seeking for the second time to become part of Troy.

Truck Scares Police

ROADBLOCK HITS POLICE — This coal truck blocking a narrow Boston street gave police a few anxious moments yesterday. They thought it was a gangland attempt to get Brinks robbery informer Joseph J. "Specs" O'Keefe, the state's star witness in the million-dollar robbery, who was being convoyed to court. The truck was on legitimate business, and moved to let justice proceed.

UF Workers to Solicit Building Trades Groups

"Help Build a Better Community," will be the plea of Pontiac area United Fund solicitors as they begin calling on construction firm employes Monday.

Volunteers will seek to raise $15,658 from 225 area building trades firms and their employes. The pre-campaign solicitation is held each year in order to avoid the seasonal shutdown in construction projects.

United Fund workers will begin making their calls following training sessions Monday and Tuesday. These solicitor training sessions are a new feature of this year's United Fund campaign, which seeks $612,202.

Elmer Rosenberg of the General Motors Truck & Coach training department will conduct briefings on how to make calls, and supply information on the Pontiac Area United Fund program of services to the community, and the need for contributions.

The Pontiac Area United Fund supports 54 agencies providing health, family counsel, child welfare and assistance services to the people of Pontiac, Pontiac township and Waterford township.

U. N. Probing Latest Flareup in Middle East

Cease-Fire Agreement Between Israel, Jordan in the Balance

JERUSALEM (AP) — U.N. observer teams made an on-the-spot investigation of the latest Jordan-Israeli clash today in effort to stamp out a rash of incidents that threatened to upset cease-fire agreements obtained by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold five months ago.

Reporting the second serious outbreak in three days, a Jordan military spokesman charged that an Israeli force of 1,000 men wiped out the Jordan police post of Gharandal, 12 miles inside Jordan, in a dusk-to-midnight battle Thursday night.

The Israeli armored force was alleged to have used three bombing planes to attack the post with explosive and incendiary bombs.

The Jordan spokesman listed 10 killed, four wounded and four missing. Three of the dead were described as civilians, the rest as police and National Guardsmen. Earlier, Jordan sources had listed 21 of their soldiers as killed, wounded or missing.

A U. N. spokesman said U. N. observers at the scene had viewed the bodies of eight Jordan soldiers, a girl and another civilian killed in the fighting.

Meanwhile, Iraqi Premier Nuri Said in Baghdad held a meeting of his Cabinet to consider "urgent action" to help Jordan. He also summoned the American and British ambassadors for a conference.

The Iraq Premier's action followed his return from a meeting at Habbaniya Air Base with King Feisal of Iraq and King Hussein of Jordan.

Israeli spokesmen declined to confirm or deny the Jordan report. But Israeli broadcasts heard in Amman, the Jordan capital, said Gharandal had been attacked in reprisal for the killing of three Israeli Druze tribesmen Wednesday. Jordan infiltrators were blamed by Israel for the killings.

Survives Being Buried Alive

Victim Faces Her 'Killers'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Wealthy Mrs. Ruth Evelyn Latham, 51, was quoted by police today as saying she was conscious when buried alive and naked by kidnapers.

"I was watching you," they said she told one of two women she has identified as the alleged kidnapers.

"When I was lying there and you were piling those rocks on me, you thought I was out but I wasn't."

She said she also pleaded with one of the women, Mrs. Beatrice Winn, 57, a former business associate: "Bea, why are you doing this to me?"

The other woman, Mrs. Lucille Whisenand, 36, was identified by Mrs. Latham at the El Centro Hospital, where she is recovering.

Mrs. Whisenand, a U.S. Customs Service clerk of Mexican-American parentage, was then brought back to the San Diego city jail, where she and Mrs. Winn are booked on charges of suspicion of kidnaping and attempted murder. Bail of $50,000 was set for each.

Both said they were innocent, and that they themselves had been kidnaped Wednesday by three men and a woman who had talked about getting money from the Lathams.

Police said there was still no clear motive, other than court litigation between Mrs. Latham and Mrs. Winn over their interests in a defunct building supply company.

They said Mrs. Latham, wife of a San Diego investment broker, George Latham, related she was forced by the kidnapers to write several checks against corporations of which she is an official.

She said she was alone in her home here with a 4-months-old grandson when she was kidnaped Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Whisenand forced her at knifepoint and under threat of harm to the baby to accompany her, Mrs. Latham stated. Mrs. Winn joined them later, she said.

The car stopped on the desert, Mrs. Latham related. She said she was stripped, her hair was pulled, she was beaten and her hands and feet tied with a cord.

She was also blindfolded but managed to push the fold aside while she was being buried, she said.

Kocsis Takes Lead at Halfway Mark

The 13th and 14th holes were halved with par fours, but on the 355-yard 15th, Kocsis went 2-up with a birdie three as he sank another 20-footer which he escorted to the cup again.

Both were in the rough on the 345-yard 13th, but nailed standard fours. Each two-putted the 425-yard 14th for their fours. On each the 14th and 15th, Ward left himself with second 6-foot putts.

3 Youths Mute in Murder Count

Examination Set Friday in Fairgrounds Slaying; to Decide on Juvenile

Three Royal Oak Township youths stood mute yesterday at arraignment on first-degree murder charges in the fatal slugging of Gerald Rondeau, 14, of Wayne.

Their companion, 16, also is charged with first-degree murder and is awaiting the decision of Wayne County juvenile authorities whether he should be tried as an adult.

Detroit Recorders Judge Joseph A. Gillis yesterday remanded the three to jail without benefit of bail and set an examination date for next Friday.

Held are Tommy Rollins, 19, of 10582 Foxton Ct.; Horace Collier, 18, of 21405 Parkside St.; and Odell Gray, 18, of 21423 Garden Lane. The juvenile, James Craig, of 21614 Ferner Ave. is held in Wayne County Children's Home.

They are accused in the death of Rondeau, who was slugged with a lug wrench near the Michigan State Fairgrounds last week.

Rondeau was waiting on a street corner for his family to take him home when the four youths drove up and offered him a ride, Detroit police said.

Rondeau refused and Rollins admittedly stepped out of the car and slugged the boy "to teach him some manners," according to Det. Lt. George Bloomfield.

Press Theater Train Chugs Toward Home

By L. JAMES BINDER
Assistant City Editor, Pontiac Press

NEW YORK—Tired, happy and completely enchanted with the ways of Manhattan Island, 100 junketing Oakland County residents packed their suitcases this morning and headed for home.

The adventure was over—five nights, five plays and scores of sightseeing trips after it began. Ahead were hundreds of miles of track and Pontiac.

There were no farewells at the station. Those were combined into one great big one last night at Leone's where The Pontiac Press Theater Special's caboose was readied for travel at a colorful after-theater party.

Jo Sullivan, leading feminine actress in the smash-hit "The Most Happy Fella," starred again as guest-of-honor at a celebration which also saw the appearance of several other top state personalities who came to sit among the local visitors.

VISITS TABLES

The vivacious Miss Sullivan made it a point to stop at each table during her visit, but she paused the longest at those occupied by Miss Pat Tatham of 125 Kemp St., who was celebrating her 21st birthday, and Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Morrow of Rochester, who were observing their 37th wedding anniversary.

The party capped an evening in which Jayne Mansfield proved a body can occupy time as well as space. She did just that, for 2½ hours, in the fifth and last show of The Press special series, "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?"

The Pontiac Press Theater Special is scheduled to return to the Michigan Central Depot in Detroit at 9:30 tonight. Buses will bring the party to the Press building, at 10:30 p. m.

Nasser Charges Britain, France Blocking Canal

Egyptian, Greek Pilots Take Over Full Load of Navigation

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—President Nasser today called the new Western plan for running the Suez Canal "a declaration of war." He charged Britain and France are trying to obstruct navigation in the canal, but said their efforts have failed.

Nasser took his adamant stand in a fiery speech two days after Secretary of State Dulles urged Egypt to reconsider its opposition to the international users proposal of the United States, France and Britain.

At the same time, Nasser proclaimed victory over what he termed a French and British conspiracy to snarl canal operations today, the first day that Egypt shouldered the task of running the canal.

Nasser charged France and Britain put pressure on employes of the old Suez Canal Co. to quit, then sent a larger number of ships than usual through the canal "to complete their conspiracy of obstructing navigation."

But Nasser said 70 Egyptian and Greek pilots were keeping traffic moving smoothly. He said nothing about a token force of Soviet pilots rushed in by Moscow. More than 400 veteran foreign pilots, engineers and technicians quit last midnight.

They said they were unwilling to work for the Egyptian Canal Authority set up after Nasser nationalized the old canal company properties July 26.

In a speech at Bilbeis Air Force College north of Cairo, Nasser said the aim of the West's user plan "is not peace but war and aggression against the small countries."

Nasser declared he found the U.S. attitude puzzling. He said President Eisenhower advocated a peaceful solution but U.S. State Department support of the international plan "means they will help Britain provoke the Egyptian people into a clash with Britain."

Nasser declared England and France had threatened force against Egypt and proclaimed: "An attack on Egypt is an attack on all Arabs.

"We will fight anyone who attacks Egypt. We will wage guerrilla warfare or any kind of defense to defend Egypt against attack."

In the walkout of canal employes were about 100 foreign ship pilots. For the first time in Suez history that left the job of getting ships through the hazardous, 103-mile waterway strictly up to the Egyptians and the few foreign pilots staying on.

School Water Results Ready

Tests of Linda Vista Mains Expected Today From Laboratory

City officials are expected to know today the results of water tests needed before the new Linda Vista School can open.

* * *

Robert A. Stierer, new city administrative assistant, said yesterday City Sanitarian Charles S. Cohen would have the results of the test today instead of Monday.

"All this is being done to speed up the opening of the school," Stierer emphasized.

Board of Education members Thursday night learned the opening had been delayed because the city had not approved water for the subdivision in which the school is located.

* * *

If the laboratory analysis is negative, Stierer said, Joseph W. Gabel, Pontiac water department superintendment, promised to have a crew into the area Monday to install a tie-in main. This is expected to be completed by Monday noon, Stierer said.

"If the tests are bad (positive), that is bad," the city official pointed out. "If they are, Cohen wants to chlorinate the mains and flush them all out again," he said.

He added he did not know how long this work might delay the opening of the school.

* * *

"The city and the Board of Education are shooting for a Tuesday opening if the report is negative," Stierer commented.

* * *

"We don't want to be doing anything in anyway that will be endangering the health of the children," he concluded.

Flippant Rippe Cracks Jokes When Arrested

DETROIT (INS)—A three-count grand jury indictment uncovered a "hidden talent" in Taylor Township's Supervisor Harold Rippe yesterday.

* * *

It seems the man who has sneered at his voters and loudly voiced his rage at reporters who uncovered his irregularities has come up with a flair for comics, in what appears to be his darkest hour.

The jokes poured out spontaneously after his arrest. He called his lawyer and shouted, "Get over here immediately! They've indicted me for everything but skipping school!"

When asked about the extortion charge, Rippe punned, "You mean I twisted the guy's arm? I deny it." He remarked at a photographer, "Send me some of those glossy prints."

* * *

He surmised "the big pressure was on" when he saw State Attorney General Thomas M. Kavanagh in the hall near the grand jury room, but shrugged it off saying, "Well, anyway, I'm going to have dinner with the sheriff."

Fear Boys Made Off With Atomic Powder

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Police today sought 10 stolen glass tubes containing a chemical powder they say could give anyone exposed to it a lethal dose of radioactive poisoning.

* * *

Sheriff's Investigator Tony Morin said yesterday the tubes were taken from the Southwest Products Inc., which makes precision instruments.

* * *

He said there would be no danger if seals on the tubes remain unbroken. He said some young boys were believed to have taken the tubes, which have no commercial value.

Yale Undergrad Who Snubbed $$ Wants It Now

NEW YORK (AP)—A former Yale University student says he'd now like to have the $350,000 inheritance he turned down last year for "moral and political reasons."

* * *

Eugene F. Suter Jr., 24, said in a Surrogate's Court petition yesterday he is "in dire straits and in great and urgent need of medical and psychiatric care and treatment."

Suter said he was suffering from the time he rejected his father's bequest. Suter was a senior at Yale when he refused the money. He said then he had "two hands and a head" of his own and wanted no part of the $350,000.

Then a Socialist, Suter had given part of an earlier trust fund from his father to the Socialist party.

* * *

Chemist Seeks Sanity Hearing

Royal Oak Scientist Faces Murder - Kidnap Charges in Midland

MIDLAND — Facing trial on first degree murder and kidnaping charges, a 30-year-old Royal Oak chemist will ask a sanity hearing within the coming week, his attorney said yesterday.

* * *

Edward Graham has been arraigned on both charges arising from the Sept. 2 slaying of an Oil City grocer and the abduction of the grocer's wife.

Graham, examined on the murder charge yesterday, remained mute. At the same time he was arraigned on the kidnaping charge and stood mute, waiving examination.

Carl Ingraham of Birmingham, Graham's attorney, said he would ask for the sanity hearing before the trial in Midland County Circuit Court, scheduled Sept. 24.

IN GRAHAM'S CAR

Eight witnesses took the stand at the examination, among them Mrs. Emma Duncan, 42, and her son, Robert, 15. She told how she was abducted and then returned to the rural grocery store where her husband, Eugene, 44, was shot.

Police arrested Graham at a roadblock shortly after. They said Mrs. Duncan was in Graham's car. Prosecutor James R. Rood had demanded the examination on the murder charge, although Graham had waived the hearing.

Graham was returned to jail without bond.

Calls West's Terms a 'War Declaration'

up the channel toward Port Said on the Mediterranean today without any apparent hitch.

Timed with the mass walkout of the canal's foreign employes was an announcement by Antoli Chikov, Soviet consul in Port Said, that a group of Russian pilots had arrived here for duty on the canal.

Chikov said he did not know how many Russian pilots had arrived. Unconfirmed reports said there were only six.

* * *

That would not be enough to make a big difference in the overall problem of pilots, but it represented another Soviet mark on the credit side of the Arab ledger.

Word of the arrival of Soviet pilots coincided with the news that the Soviet Union and Communist China headed a list of 20 countries that have accepted Nasser's proposal for a negotiating body to find a peaceful solution to the canal crisis.

Another move today was the announcement in New Delhi that Indian Prime Minister Nehru is sending his trouble-shooting diplomat, V. K. Krishna Menon, to Cairo tomorrow to see Nasser.

* * *

President Eisenhower directed Secretary of State Dulles to fly to London Tuesday for a new parley. He stressed that Dulles' task is to seek by peaceful means to assure the canal "will perform the international service to which it was dedicated." Dulles was expected to press for broad backing for the association plan.

Dixie School Board OKs Ban on Negroes

CLAY, Ky. (AP) — The Webster County School Board said last night it will not permit enrollment at the Clay School of three Negro children who have attended classes under National Guard protection.

Supt. Wilbur Collins, said the three Negroes would be informed of the seven - member unanimous decision Monday morning.

However, he added he could not prevent the guardsmen from escorting the children to school again. But, he said, city and county officials believe Gov. A. B. Chandler will withdraw the troops.

Pets Prepare for 'Pooch Party'

Poodles, and pedigrees, are expected to mark the city's 7th annual "Pooch Party" coming to Oakland Park Saturday, Sept. 29.

* * *

But kids, don't worry if your pet dog is a mongrel (if you will pardon the expression), for "an entry that is just dog will have as much consideration as will the pedigreed dog," Leonard T. Buzz, Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. supervisor promised.

The show is co-sponsored each year by the city department and the Pontiac Kennel Club which provides trophies and ribbons for winners in four classes.

Prizes will be awarded in two divisions, junior for owners (not dogs) 7 to 11 years, and senior for those 11 to 17, for the best groomed, best trick dog, best informed owner, and best pet combination.

Applications will be distributed Monday to all schools in the Pontiac public school system and to parochial schools in the city. Buzz said entries are not restricted to these schools.

This year's show will climax National Dog Week, which is Sept. 23-29.

Children will have the reponsibility of showing their dogs as parents will not be allowed on the field when the exhoibition begins at 2 p.m., Buzz said. Exhibitors are requested to report to the registration clerk at the park at 1.

Theater Special Returning

The answer to that was still pretty much a moot point when Press Special viewers filed out, a condition attributed to the presence of Miss Manfield, who isn't and doesn't pretend to be, a successor to Sarah Bernhardt's bench.

It was possible to make out between the blond beauty's appearances that the show is about a young man (Orson Bean) who effortlessly climbs the ladder of success by percentage points representing portions of his soul.

As the devil (he also manipulated the plot in yesterday's "Damn Yankees") agreeably accepts the portions offered him, his man acquires among other things a million dollars, Jayne Mansfield and the talents of a casanova.

* * *

But, as usual, the devil is thwarted. Everybody goes away happy in the end as did last night's audience. But the play wasn't the "thing" — that was Jayne Mansfield.

With home only a few hours away, many members of the group poked around Manhattan's downtown area yesterday to look for souvenirs and presents for the people who stayed behind.

* * *

Best-selling items were those that were "typically New York City," an outlook which should find brass replicas of the Statue of Liberty and the Empire State Building on more than several Oakland County mantlepieces next week.

* * *

The weatherman got nasty for the first time yesterday by delivering a brief shower. It was the only inclement moment in a week of sunny days and mild temperatures.

A soaking of a different kind was sought during the last few hours by those who had already shopped and couldn't think of another monument they hadn't seen. They wanted atmosphere, and there are many different kinds of it within walking distance of the hotel.

One group headed for Fifth avenue with its luxurious business places and houses. Another went to Chinatown and then out of its way to take in the Bowery on the way back. Others wandered down the streets where shopkeepers display everything from goats' milk cheese to house dresses in cluttered sidewalk bins.

Five women and one of the men in our party spent an hour in the middle of an emotional crowd of Gothamites who collected on a corner two blocks from the hotel to hear a religious dispute.

The practice of orating from a soapbox is widespread in New York and is thoroughly enjoyed by people who would give a sleeping down-and-outer no more than a glance.

The enthusiasm that has keynoted reactions for the past five days was a little more subdued last night as preparations began for The Press Special's last trip. But it's still there. So impressed are four women with the city they decided to delay the trip home until Tuesday.

* * *

Luggage was carried to a chartered bus by bellboys before sunup. Passengers followed for the 15-minute trip to Grand Central Station where they boarded the train.

The group is expected to arrive in Detroit at 9:35 tonight when it will climb aboard buses and head for The Pontiac Press building and home.

The 100-odd suitcases are packed a little tighter than when they started out. Clothing shares space with programs with the titles of "No Time for Sergeants," "The Most Happy Fella," "New Faces of 1956," "Damn Yankees" and "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?"

* * *

Heads are full, too, with memories of a trip through the United Nations Building, a long look at Manhattan's skyline from a boat deck, trips to various scenic and man-made places, two successful parties and the names of scores of new friends from the Pontiac area.

All these things constitute a heavy extra load — but nobody seems to mind.

Stevenson to Speak at Virginia Barbeque

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson takes his campaign into nearby Virginia today in an effort to pull the Old Dominion state back into the Democratic ranks in the Nov. 6 election.

Virginia went for President Eisenhower four years ago—349,037 votes to 268,677 for Stevenson, then as now the Democratic presidential nominee.

Stevenson arranged to attend a barbeque picnic across the Potomac River in Fairfax, Va., late this afternoon and to speak informally early this evening at a rally in behalf of Democrat Warren D. Quenstedt, who is trying to wrest a House seat from Virginia Republican congressman Joel T. Broyhill.

With 12,000 miles of cross-country campaigning already behind him, Stevenson flew into Washington yesterday for the formal opening of his national campaign headquarters.

He plans to remain in the Washington area for the next week in advance of a major farm address at the National Field Days at Newton, Iowa on Sept. 22. Eisenhower will appear there a day earlier.

Clayton Fritchey, Stevenson's press secretary, said that from Newton Stevenson "probably will make quite a sizable swing" into other sections of the country.

After shaking scores of hands in touring the downtown area yesterday, Stevenson told reporters he plans to spend most of the next week here working on campaign speeches and travel plans. He has one other engagement in the area during the next week—a talk at a high school in nearby Silver Spring, Md., next Thursday evening.

GM Tones Down 2-Tones for '57

Designer Says Colors to Show New Softness and Beauty

DETROIT—Two-tone color combinations in General Motors cars will reveal softness and beauty in 1957, Harley J. Earl, GM vice president in charge of styling, said today.

He predicted that two-tone combinations on GM's 1957 models introduced later this fall will "delight two-tone fans and will also win the favor of many motorists who until now have insisted on a single color car."

Many of our new two - tones will feature two shades of the same color," Earl said. "Others will use a thin accent stripe to apply the contrasting color or else imbed it directly in a recessed portion of the trim moulding."

Tracing the skyrocket rise of two-tone bodies, Earl said although contrasting roof and body color combinations have been used since the mid-1940's, the use of a second color on the body itself was only introduced in 1953.

The GM styling chief revealed that all 1957 GM colors will be "softer, richer and more pleasing to the eye." This is due to new developments in paint pigments, a new-type lacquer and plans for wider use of metallic paints.

Emphasizing that car producers strive to appeal to everybody's taste, Earl said GM again will offer from 17 to 20 different paints for each of its five cars.

Schoolgirl Struck by Youth's Car Dies

An eight-year-old girl on her way home from school yesterday afternoon became Ferndale's second traffic fatlity within a month.

Martha Schmidt, less than three blocks from her home at 439 W. Milton, Hazel Park, had darted into West End street at Webster street in Ferndale, playmates said, just before she was hit by a car driven by Robert Jaffray, 18, of 522 W. Robinwood, Detroit, at 3:45 p.m.

Jaffary was to make a statement today to the Oakland County Prosecutor having been held overnight on an open charge.

Reveal Arrears of Area Justice

Royal Oak Official Has Since Settled Shortages of Money Due County

State Auditor General Frank S. Szymanski, in a report to Atty. Gen. Thomas N. Kavanagh, yesterday called attention to a former shortage in the accounts of former Royal Oak Justice Maurice E. Tripp.

At one time, Szymanski said, Tripp was $5,051 in arrears on payments due to the county treasury.

Gerald A. Terrien, Justice Court coordinator for the County Board of Auditors, said the shortage in Tripp's accounts occurred during two months when he was sick and unable to supervise clerical work on reports.

The shortage has since been settled, Terrien said.

Tripp, who resigned as justice of the peace last October, became ill in September, Terrien said. He did not file reports or money received in fines and costs for cases handled in September and October, totalling $5,051.

Terrien said Tripp had "credit" with the auditors for $3,743.45 in uncollected justice's fees. The shortage in his accounts thus totalled $1305.55, Terrien said.

Resigning in October, Tripp traveled to Texas, Terrien said, under the impression that his accounts were straight. Contacted there, he returned to Oakland County and deposited $3,640 with Terrien to cover "any discrepancies."

When a subsequent audit showed the total shortage in Tripp's accounts, Terrien said, $2,334.45 of his deposit was returned to him.

Asked whether criminal prosecution of Tripp would be started, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said today, "I can see no grounds for a warrant at this time. According to the information I have received, Tripp's accounts have been straightened out."

In his report, Szymanski said he found an "unusual practice" in Oakland County of justices assessing more costs than fines.

Fines, he said, are earmarked for the library fund for the use of public schools and other public libraries. Costs go to the county's general fund.

In "most other counties," he said, costs are limited to the justice's fee for handling the case, plus other direct costs involved in the case.

According to Terrien, the Oakland County system also is followed in Wayne and Macomb counties.

Terrien denied that all fines collected under township ordinances must under state law be turned in to the county treasury. In his statement today, Szymanski had asserted this and noted that in Oakland County justices turn some such fines directly to the township treasury.

Falsifying Insurance Report Boomerangs

A plan to collect from his insurance company of $19 backfired yesterday for James Fender, 25, of 184 Florence Ave., who told Pontiac Police Thursday that fenderskirts and two hubcaps were stolen from his car.

Fender pleaded guilty to making a false report and was fined $50 by Pontiac Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Det. John DePauw said Fender reported the parts were taken Wednesday night from his parked car on Orchard Lake avenue.

Police yesterday located the man whom Fender claimed sold the parts and then arrested Fender, who had put in an insurance claim for $19, DePauw said.

Polar Test Set for Inca Plant

Ancient Nutritive Food to Have Experimental Seeding in Greenland

WASHINGTON — Quinoa, hardy nutritive plant eaten since unrecorded times in the high Andes of South America, is being sent north as a possible new crop for Greenland's thin, stony soil.

The experimental seeding, a polar project of the United States Navy, may bring a staple food plant to an island that grows mainly lichens, mosses, and bright summertime flowers, the National Geographic Society says.

* * *

Thousands of miles southwestward, the upland natives of Peru, Bolivia, and Ecuador still use quinoa as a basic food, as familiar to them as corn is to many nationalities. Its seeds are ground as a cereal. The leaves are eaten raw, cooked as a pot herb, made into beer, soup, and poultry feed. Indians chew the stalks along with coca leaves to reduce hunger and fatigue on long journeys.

PIGWEED OF THE ANDES

Providing minerals, carbohydrates, and proteins, the quinoa plant has been consumed since Inca times by hunters and soldiers. A thick-stalked, herbaceous shrub, it grows to a height of three to six feet, resembling lamb's quarters. It is sometimes called the pigweed of the Andes.

* * *

Quinoa helps to sustain life in regions where milk and green vegetables seldom are part of the Indian diet. Raisin-speckled cakes of quinoa keep for lengthy periods without spoiling. It serves as a dessert when made into a pudding with eggs and sugar.

Introduced into the United States experimentally in 1899 by the government, quinoa was tested as a possible substitute for spinach, but without great success. On the high altiplano of southern Peru and Bolivia, however, it is a major crop, growing well at altitudes up to 13,000 feet.

* * *

In rotation, fields are first planted to potatoes, then quinoa, then barley—to be followed by a rest for several years before plantings begin anew. The grain ordinarily is planted from September to November. A loose soil rich in silicates, calcium, potassium and manganese is preferred, though some experts maintain that quinoa will grow in almost any soil.

* * *

The seeds may germinate in about two days, but eight to 10 days are ordinarily required. The plant matures to a height of up to six feet within five or six months. Then it is cut, placed in piles and left for several days to dry in the sun. Reapers beat individual stalks on the ground to release the tiny kernels.

Family to Leave Trolley Home

LANSING (AP)—"Remember those old fashioned street cars? I live in one."

Mrs. Maurice Cole of Lansing, a distraught mother of six children, desperate for a home, told how she lives in an abandoned street car.

"The front part, where the conductor used to stand, is my kitchen. Where the seats used to be is our living room and dining room. The children all sleep in back in one bed. My husband and I sleep on a couch in the middle."

Mrs. Cole's husband has been jobless since early in May. The family moved into the abandoned street car, dug into the bank of muddy Jones Lake on Lansing's northwest city limits, in July.

Because there are only outdoor toilet facilities, the family was ordered to move out last month.

But the family is staying on in the street car—not in defiance—but because they have no place else to go. The children range in age from three to 10 and the parents know they must get them into a home before winter.

New 3rd Party Drafts Platform

States Righters Name T. Coleman Andrews for President

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The National States Rights Conference turned to platform and candidate proposals today after roaring approval last night to their keynoter's call for a new party of the "political and moral right."

Slated for formal endorsement by the 317 delegates from a dozen splinter parties in 25 states were T. Coleman Andrews for president and T. H. Werdel for vice president. The three-day conference closes today.

* * *

Andrews, from Richmond, Va., is a Democrat and former commissioner of internal revenue who thinks the income tax should be abolished. Werdel, of Bakersfield, Calif., is a former GOP representative.

Keynoter Clarence E. Manion of South Bend, Ind., former dean of Notre Dame's Law School, attacked both the Democratic and Republican parties vigorously last night in plumping for a rightwing party.

Manion spoke at a pubic session of the conference held in a downtown auditorium. Police Capt. Fred Woodward estimated the crowd at about 1,500.

Conference leaders say their campaign will be based on the longshot strategy of deadlocking the Electoral College in the November presidential election.

By winning the presidential electors in at least six states, under this theory, the election can be thrown into the House of Representatives, where each state would have but one vote, regardless of population.

Sailor Shoots Self for Unrequited Love

A 19-year-old Navy seaman on leave here reportedly wounded himself with a .22 rifle early this morning because he said his girl-friend, 16, did not love him.

* * *

Kenneth Peterson, who is stationed in San Francisco, was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with a bullet wound in his shoulder. He is listed in good condition.

The girl's mother told Pontiac police detectives Robert Wachal and Thomas Mitchell that the sailor came to her front door shortly after 3 a.m., saying, "Help me, I've shot myself."

The girl told detectives Peterson had been "very disappointed" earlier when she told him that she was not in love with him.

* * *

The youth told detectives the same story, adding he had money troubles. Peterson was staying with his uncle in Pontiac during his 20-day leave. It was the uncle's gun, police said.

DETROIT (INS) — Patrolman Alex Chernenkoff, a 33-year-old member of the Detroit police force, remained in serious condition today in Receiving Hospital after being beaten into unconsciousness last night by a motorist.

The vengeful motorist, Michael J. Sassin, 27, of Detroit, drove away from the fallen patrolman after he slugged and kicked him. Sassin was arrested for felonious assault a short time later in a Detroit bar.

Historic Ferry Runs No More

Shawneetown Service Helped Open the West for Settlement

WASHINGTON — Shawneetown, Ill., said farewell recently to its ferry, a 146-year-old river service that helped to open and people the West.

* * *

A new bridge now spans the Ohio where the ferry long offered the only crossing. Here, where the wide river sweeps downstream below the joining of the Wabash, the path to the frontier came a century and a half ago, the National Geographic Society says.

Shawneetown itself is no longer directly on the river. A century of floods finally compelled the town to move in 1937 to a safer site some four miles inland.

But even during disasters that rolled water across the 60-foot levee, the ferryboats continued to run, panting across half-submerged farms, dodging floating houses, barns, and uprooted trees.

* * *

Facing Kentucky across the river, Shawneetown was settled about 1800 by pioneers from Virginia who paddled down the Ohio to trade with the Shawnee Indians.

SALT FOR FRANCE

A century before them, French buffalo hunters from the north had discovered a group of salt wells nearby and developed them so that the "royal subjects of His Majesty King Louis XIV might have a regular supply."

They were chased out by the Shawnees about 1735, leaving the warriors in mastery of the wells. Then the Virginia pioneers arrived, scanned the possibilities and bought the Indians out.

The name Shawneetown, memorializing the Indian village there, was retained to accommodate flatboat men on the Ohio between Pittsburgh and New Orleans, who knew the site only by that name.

In 1810 the Illinois Territory granted a ferryboat license to one Alexander Wilson. Thus Shawneetown became a focal point for immigrants from Kentucky and Virginia.

* * *

Shawneetown rejoiced in 1812 when Congress chose it for the second land office in Illinois Territory. It distributed finally more than 2,600,000 acres to ex-soldiers and other homesteaders.

* * *

Bankers conferred in 1827 with representatives of a firm seeking a $1,000 loan to help develop Chicago, 300 miles away. The plea was rejected on the ground that Chicago was too far from Shawneetown ever to amount to much.

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — An assistant professor of education at Bowling Green State University has developed a test which he says will help businessmen put a finger on employes with undesirable personality traits. The test contains 150 opinion-type statements and by studying the answers, personnel directors can place potential trouble makers in jobs where they will clash with others, Dr. Mearl R. Guthrie says.

Mideast Belly Dancer Misunderstood in U. S.

By EARL WILSON

Nejla Ates, the Turkish bellyrina, will do some very prim prancing on Louis Armstrong's big TV show Sept. 17—but the network is pretending it never heard about it.

"Why they don't mention me a little?" Nejla—on vacation from "Fanny" and starring here asked me one recent afternoon at her apartment at the Garden of Allah.

"Maybe they do with me like when I am on the Ed Solliwan show," Nejla said.

"They cover up me. I say to Ed Solliwan, 'Why you cover up me so much?' Ed Solliwan say, 'Church is watching.' I don't think they going to let me shake too much. They gonna cover me up the belly, too.

"I think is wrong. On the Ed Solliwan show they have another woman, she has a very long evening gown but is a very short evening gown on the neck!"

You can see the lot of a belly-dancer isn't easy. Nejla, who's 24 now, is only 4-feet-11, weighs a scant 108, and hasn't been back to Istanbul in seven years. Americans find it hard to realize that in the Middle East the belly dance is quite respectable—at least I saw seven belly dancers perform not long ago at a big society benefit in Cairo.

And therefore Americans may misunderstand belly dancers.

"Nej" was supposed to marry Jimmy Dell, the comedian, early this year, but she says, "Now my heart is free." I asked her if she'd given back the engagement ring (a silly question nowadays, incidentally).

"I keep," Nejla said. "I make a collection."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Ann Sheridan, asked about her singing lessons, told Steve Allen modestly, "Well, they tell me I'm very loud."

Barbara Nichols, who's a hit in "Beyond a Reasonable Doubt," explains the difference between N. Y. and H'wood wolves: "In New York they wine and dine you before making a pass. In Hollywood they invite you over to their place for a barbecue—and ask you to pick up the groceries on your way over."

Leigh Snowden says her marriage to Dick Contino may happen at Christmas . . . Paulette Goddard's frequent companion in Europe is Count Jose Dorelis . . . 20th Century-Fox, which has oil wells on its property, is having trouble shooting scenes there—the derricks get in the way.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "The best way to get a woman to exercise is to put a phone where she'll have to stretch for it."—Fred Chiaventone.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: It's Eric Fleming's observation: "There are two kinds of sweater girl—them that knits 'em and them that fits 'em."

"A man's life," sighs Ima Washout, "is 20 years of having his mother ask him where he's going, 40 years of having his wife ask the same question, and, at the end, the mourners wondering, too." That's earl, brother.

Banjo Regains U.S. Popularity

Nation Strums Again for First Time Since the Jazz Age

WASHINGTON—For millions of melody-minded Americans — particularly those with a nostalgic flair—banjos are strumming full tilt again.

* * *

During the "jazz age" of the 1920s the banjo's energetic sound set the pace for popular music. Then, under a change of musical patterns, banjos gave way to the guitar, a quieter member of the same family.

Several influences may account for the banjo's resurgence, among them a growing interest in folk music and square dancing, the National Geographic Society says.

* * *

Moreover, a liking for banjo music was brought home by many American soldiers from service in England, where the instrument's popularity has persisted.

NOT ENOUGH MUSIC

Banjo playing's strong comeback is reflected in the number of skilled performances heard on television, radio and juke boxes. Enthusiasm has outdistanced music scored especially for the banjo.

* * *

The South, where post-World War II New Orleans jazz helped to revive the banjo, remains the largest market for new instruments. Interest, however, is nationwide among both professionals and amateurs.

Banjos vary widely in quality and price. Some designed for the stage flash with gold-plated parts, carved inlays and gleaming stones. But there is the essential sameness of a round body, long neck and drumhead to amplify the sound.

Crude forms of the early banjo were introduced into North America from West Africa, as adaptations of a guitarlike instrument played by the Arabs.

In the mid-19th Century, a native of Banjoemas, Java, produced a new version of the instrument by covering a cheesebox with goatskin and attaching a handle and violin strings. The modern name comes from the first two syllables of his town, some say.

* * *

Regard for the banjo has never dampened in the mountains of Kentucky, Virginia and the Carolinas. Generations of fathers have taught sons to strum away, thus preserving treasured folk songs.

Busy Fall Season

This is the time of year when baseball and football overlap. Even the hockey teams are getting into training for the start of that winter sport.

★ ★ ★

The baseball season is stirring up more interest locally than it has for several years because of the tight race in the National League and the late season improvement displayed by the Detroit Tigers. If one or two of those younger tryouts come through, Detroit may be back up there once more contending for something more important than just keeping out of the cellar.

★ ★ ★

Football is always of interest because of the large number of universities nearby that regularly put out teams of better than average ability. Pontiac High, also, has been showing signs of improvement which might blossom forth this year into a better than average squad.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State expects to have one of the strongest, if not the strongest football team in the country this fall. But even so, the Spartans will not be permitted to go to the Rose Bowl, even though they win the Big Ten title, because they made the same trip so recently. The same thing is true of Ohio State, another possible Big Ten champion in the pre-season ratings.

This might permit the University of Michigan eleven to go west, if it can finish anywhere among the first three during the tough regular season. So there will be interest aplenty as the season moves along, with the University of Detroit also promising more power than it has fielded in several years.

If the Milwaukee Braves can beat out Brooklyn for the National League baseball title, the World Series will gain renewed interest. If Brooklyn wins, it will degenerate into another all-New York squabble, for the Yankees have won the American League race hands down. It hasn't even been close.

But these are only the so-called spectator sports. The hunters are getting their guns and dogs ready for the bird season, while the deer hunters already are planning for November when they will be watching the runways for those first big antlers.

Billion in Arms

The United States is giving Western Germany one billion dollars worth of arms and ammunition for its new army of defense. Shipments already are under way, and they are arriving in Germany as rapidly as they can be used.

★ ★ ★

Free West Germany has been slow to arm. This is understandable in a nation which suffered as much destruction in the last war as did the German Reich. Now, however, a start has been made. Some 58,000 men are under arms. The army is scheduled to number almost one hundred thousand men by the end of the year. Ultimately it is expected to total twelve divisions. The United States has agreed to arm six of the twelve divisions.

Arming of West Germany will enable the United States to bring home most if not all of our own troops from the Rhineland. It will place a new line of defense between Communist East Germany and the Atlantic Ocean.

It will give West Germany a stronger voice in world affairs. It will provide an even greater contrast between East and West Germany, a contrast which already has caused thousands of residents of East Germany to escape to the free West.

Russian propaganda about the glories of life behind the Iron Curtain may fool people who live far away. They do not know the brutal realities. But the German people know the facts. East Germans know the people in West Germany are free. They know they have more to eat and to wear than do the East Germans who live under the heels of Russian overseers.

Ever since East Germany became a satellite of the Communists, many East Germans have dreamed of the time they could over run West Germany and reunite their country once more. Today, they cannot feel quite so certain of this. They know West Germany is growing stronger, not only in a military way, but industrially as well.

So American military aid to Germany may well prove to be a sound investment from the psychological standpoint, as well as from that of tanks and guns.

THROWN from a car in a wreck, a Detroit boy was only slightly injured, as he landed in a sitting position on a pie he was carrying and skidded to a safe stop. Now you know about another safety accessory you may carry in your car and where to place it if you are hurled out.

The People's Business:

State Road Issue

Cobo, Williams Both Try to Seize the Advantage

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—In the developing Williams-Cobo duel for governor, the issue of highways seems destined to play an important, perhaps even a crucial role.

★ ★ ★

With the campaign still in its infancy, it is too early to evaluate where the advantage lies, and certainly which candidate stands to reap votes on Nov. 6.

But already some of the strategems adopted by the campaigners are becoming apparent, and the effort to exploit them undoubtedly will be intensified.

One ground of mutual accusation staked out early is that the other fellow was against providing the revenues to finance an adequate state highway construction program.

ACCUSE EACH OTHER

Clear evidence, Cobo has said repeatedly, that Gov. Williams didn't recognize the magnitude of the road problems and tried to hold up a solution.

On the highway finance, Williams says that Cobo tried to beat a gasoline tax increase bill in 1955.

When Cobo found he couldn't defeat it, Williams alleges, Cobo, through an agent, lobbied to restrict the duration of the increase to a period of less than one year.

Both the 1951 and 1955 bills called for gas tax boosts of 1½ cents a gallon, and both were finally enacted into law.

★ ★ ★

1955 law earmarked all additional revenue for the state trunkline system. The 1951 bill provided for a split between the state, counties and cities.

AREA OF AGREEMENT

The candidates agree on a second aspect of the highway issue, namely that there has been too little progress and that it has been too slow.

★ ★ ★

The difference is that Cobo holds Williams responsible as governor, while Williams lays the blame to the Republican highway commissioner, Charles M. Ziegler, and says the Republican Party is committed to an endorsement of Ziegler's policies.

Cobo cites his expressway building record with pride. Williams says it's nothing to brag about as measured against need and performance elsewhere.

From this lineup of basic arguments will spring a great deal of campaign talk in the weeks ahead, and depending on how the contradictory points are hammered home, a lot of votes—and possibly the election—will swing.

Happiness Depends Upon...

Days of All Faiths

Gayest Jewish Festival Begins

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Sukkoth, the Feast of Tabernacles, is the Jewish harvest festival, the longest, merriest and once the greatest of all Jewish festivals. It begins on the 15th day of the autumn month of Tishri and continues for nine days among Orthodox and Conservative Jews, eight among the Reformed.

* * *

There was a time, centuries ago, when Sukkoth was so much the biggest of Jewish celebrations that if anyone said simply "the festival" you knew this was the one he meant. Those were the days when the Jews were farmers, in a country of their own.

* * *

The Feast of Tabernacles came at the end of the long agricultural season. The crops were in, the backbreaking toil was over. The farmer thanked God for the year's harvest, prayed for a good year to come, and then he was ready to let down, take his ease and do a little celebrating. Other festivals came mostly when he was busy; this one came at the best possible time of year.

* * *

The festivities in those days had a tendency to get a bit out of hand sometimes. There was new wine, and nothing to do but drink it and enjoy life. Prophets, like Hosea and Amos, thundered against the drunkenness they saw. Even the priests in the sanctuary frequently had a drop too much, which scandalized the prophets. But their indignant preachments had little effect.

* * *

In its earliest beginnings Sukkoth was celebrated by groups coming together in convenient neighborhood places. When the Temple was built, however, its observance was restricted to Jerusalem. With Passover, it was one of the two great annual pilgrimages, and the crowds it brought to the Holy City were even larger than those at Passover, probably because everyone could get away at this time of year without neglecting his work.

MEANING OF SUKKOTH

The word Sukkoth means "booths," which is another way of saying "tabernacles." The name comes from the fact that when the pilgrims came to Jerusalem for this feast, they set up temporary shelters for themselves in all available spaces around the city. Weather was sure to be good; there was no need to look for rooms in an inn. No one came to Jerusalem to sleep, anyway. So they took branches of trees, with the leaves still on, and made booths.

* * *

The modern Jew keeps Sukkoth as a home festival. It could be called the Jewish Thanksgiving, although of course American Jews join with their fellow Americans in keeping the national Thanksgiving, too. Booths are still built, but city life has forced the Jew to make miniature symbolic ones, to be placed on the sideboard or as a centerpiece on the dining table.

No longer an agricultural people, the Jews have translated this old festival into modern terms. Even the city man needs to remember that he has a dependence on the soil, that "the earth is the Lord's and the fullness thereof," and that gratitude for the gifts of God is necessary to his soul's health.

TAX COLLECTORS

Friday, Sept. 21—Tax collectors do not ordinarily win popularity contests in any culture, but nobody ever had it in for them more than the Jews did in the days of the Roman occupation. They called them publicans. They shunned them in society and business, they barred them from the religious life of the community, and no good Jew would marry into a family that had a publican even remotely connected with it.

Such an outcast was the Apostle Matthew, writer of the first Gospel, who tells in his 9th Chapter, verse 9, how he sat "at the receipt of custom" when Jesus came by and called him to join His band. His name then was Levi. Later he assumed the name by which we know him now, which means "gift of Jehovah."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Iodin Ration Sparks Up Reader

Having taken thyroid for 25 years, as per Basal Metabolism tests, I switched to the Iodin Ration a year ago, and since then I feel better than ever . . . (Mrs. S. R. W.)

Answer—It would be interesting to know how much the Rube Goldberg monkey-shines cost you per year. Whatever such a "test" costs, in my opinion, it isn't worth a nickel. A real doctor gets more knowledge of your metabolism rate through ordinary examination than a trick specialist or "clinic" racketeer can get by flashing his basal metabolism gadget on you. A good many gullible customers who are unduly awed by the metabolimeter should use the money for some good purpose and go on the Iodin Ration. For directions send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet THE IODIN RATION.

What do you think of the practice of fasting? I mean taking no food at all, only water, and maybe a few liquids. (H. J. S.)

Answer — I think it is unwise, unless under your physician's supervision. It might do many overfed, underworked persons a lot of good to take a walk instead of a midday meal.

Would fumes from a boiler for which kerosene is used as fuel be injurious to the health of employees in a laundry? When the east wind blows we are forced to breathe the reeking air . . (Mr. —)

Answer—Yes. Call the health department. If that doesn't bring relief, complain to your union. The fumes you smell are unpleasant, not necessarily dangerous. The carbon monoxide which you don't smell may be deadly.

Your booklet on constipation has been a godsend to my husband and myself. I passed it along to a sister in Colorado and she, too . . (Mrs. A. F.)

Answer — Is it a stupid habit or is it a stupid habit? For Volumette 25 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, THE CONSTIPATION HABIT AND COLON Hygiene, send 35c and stamped self-addressed envelope.

Do you have any helpful advice for one with bronchiectasis? (M. C.)

Answer — First, practice belly breathing exercise according to directions in pamphlet, available on request if you provide stamped self-addressed envelope. Second, hold the hanging-out-of-bed posture for five minutes every morning, as directed in Volumette 5 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, CALL IT CRI, for which send 35c with stamped, self-addressed envelope. Third, wear an elastic abdominal belt. Fourth, have an occasional course of aerosol or systemic penicillin or other antibiotic by your physician.

Did you ever boil water in an aluminum vessel and then put gold fish in it? Try it sometime. Your fish won't live. (T. C. F.)

Answer — Shake the water up freely or blow fresh air (oxygen) through it, and the fish will live in it. Don't be so credulous. We have thrived on food cooked in aluminum ware, since Topsy was a colt. But then, we don't take every preregrinating pot-peddler at his own word.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to diseases, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Gives Views on Heaven and Hell

Do you believe Heaven is a definite palace? And what about Hell? A Catholic Digest made a recent survey showing that 72 per cent of Americans believe in Heaven while only 58 per cent think there is an eternal Hell, Scrapbook this Case Record for it will make good discussion material for Sunday school tomorrow.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

* * *

"Dr. Crane, do you believe we go to Heaven as a definite geographical place after we die?" he asked seriously.

"And what about the idea of Hell as a place of eternal torture for sinners?"

WHERE IS HEAVEN?

Regarding the eternal searing of human flesh in a perpetual torture chamber called Hell, it is high time we used modern psychological arguments.

* * *

For example, isn't God more humane and forgiving than any of us human parents? Most of you will probably say, "Yes."

Well, would any human parent consign his son or daughter to eternal searing in a perpetual flaming inferno? Certainly not!

In fact, we human adults are so forgiving that we have vetoed capital punishment in many states in favor of life imprisonment.

And even when we still exact the death penalty, we do so as mercifully and quickly as possible. We don't string out the torture even for five minutes, let alone for eternity!

* * *

Now as regards heaven: Jesus said: "In my father's house are many mansions (rooms): If it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you." (John 14:2).

Modern translators say the old term "mansions" should be "rooms," so maybe we could conceive of heaven as a group of classrooms up ahead in God's Cosmic School System.

As such, it might be an actual geographical location. And maybe there are grades of heaven, as we have grades in high school or college.

Some 40 billion stars (suns) are already known to astronomers. Our sun is considered to be average or typical. If it happens to have nine planets of which just one (Earth seems ideally suited for habitation, why shouldn't many other suns have five to 10 planets apiece, of which maybe one would resemble Earth?

Last year an estimate was advanced that there are 100,000,000 other plants of distant solar systems that are either inhabitable or actually inhabited.

* * *

If so, then we already have a vast Cosmic School System, so perhaps Jesus referred to those other "rooms" when he made that famous promise to his Apostles in John 14:2.

NEW VIEW OF HEAVEN

It is well to stretch our imaginations in this manner and utilize modern scientific discoveries to enrich our ancient concepts of the hereafter.

For example, many inhabited planets may still be at the primitive dinosauer stage right now. Others may be at the Stone Age level.

And heaven would undoubtedly be an advanced classroom farther developed than our planet Earth, for newer and more complicated problems should challenge us in the next Cosmic School Room.

The Catholic Church likes the concept of a geographical place for heaven, and I feel that such an idea is more in keeping with late scientific concepts.

"But what is Hell" you may ask, "if it is not eternal flames?"

Perhaps bad people, who fail to take advantage of the high ethics on this classroom we call Earth, are simply demoted.

That's what happens when a child can't carry fourth grade work. He is demoted to third or second.

Thus, sad'st and selfish people who sell their fellowmen down the river, so to speak, may be demoted to a planet elsewhere on which cruelty is commonplace and the jungle philosophy prevails.

They may then be allowed to evolve by slow degrees until they are ultimately able to appreciate a classroom like Earth.

How does this strike you? Let me hear your views and suggestions.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

W. S. Downes Points Out Factors in Road Situation

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

We are going to hear great oratory on roads, schools and what have you. Do not be misled by all this oratory, because it is just plain bunk. Roads take time to build, regardless, and politicians don't build roads. Contractors are in the business to make money and they have strict specifications to do certain things, and politicians aren't pushing these hard boiled road contractors around.

They are not so fortunate in this state as in others. They have an awful time getting help. Why? Because any man unemployed can get 26 weeks unemployment to sit down if he is a factory worker. He does not have to take a job of road work which is hard manual work and lose time when it rains and they cannot work for mud.

If he has five children, say small ones, he can get $50 a week for 26 weeks unless he is called back to work. So why should he go looking for road work? Politicians know this. Michigan has the highest unemployment benefits of any state in the Union.

You don't wave a magic wand and have four lane highways running all over the state. Furthermore, there was no money to build them until this past year and the politician knows that, too. They also know we are shipping cement from Belgium as fast as we can, plus all we can make here at home. And regardless of what the politicians say, we will be very short of cement if all roads are built that they talk about.

Also there is not enough road equipment or extra labor to make all the roads politicians talk about. Roads are built in the country under the toughest conditions of work, and if they are so smart, these politicians and Reuther, and can build roads so fast, why don't they go in the business and show all of us how to do it. I am not sticking up for the highway commission or anybody, just relating hard cold facts.

An Old Trouble Maker

Dems Get Ballot on One Condition

I have always been a Republican. But this year I will vote for Stevenson — provided the Democrats pledge themselves to merge Wilson's, FDR's and Truman's birthdays into one, declare it a day of mourning, and dedicate it to the memory of the boys they had murdered in vain all over the world.

The Pontiac Press is worthy of any future administration of government of the U.S., due to the coverage of the past conventions. May the opposition be as clean in every way. I am not leaving until the fight is over. The Democratic party will win.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

A man to whom God hath given riches, wealth, and honour, so that he wanteth nothing for his soul of all that he desireth, yet God giveth him not power to eat thereof, but a stranger eateth it: this is vanity, and it is an evil disease.—Eccl. 6:2.

Methodists Pick Malaya Bishop

Ohio Missionary Heads Southeastern Asian Conference Diocese

The Rev. Hobart Bauman Amstutz, D. D., of Henrietta, Ohio, missionary of the Methodist Church in Kuala Lumpur, Malaya, was elected a bishop of the Methodist Church recently at the Southeastern Asia Central Conference held in Singapore.

Bishop Amstutz succeeds Bishop Raymond L. Archer of Forest Hills, N.Y., in this episcopal post, the latter retiring at the close of the Central Conference. The territory he will administer includes the work of the Methodist Church in Malaya, Burma, Sarawak (Borneo), and Sumatra.

Bishop Amstutz was born in Henrietta, and was educated at Northwestern University and Garrett Biblical Institute, Evanston, Ill. In 1938, Baldwin-Wallace College conferred upon him the degree of doctor of divinity.

In 1926, Dr. Amstutz and Mrs. Amstutz (the former Celeste Bloxsome, of Nottingham, Ind, first went to Malaya as missionaries. Most of their service has been in Singapore, where Dr. Amstutz was pastor of the noted Wesley Church, teacher in the Anglo-Chinese School, principal of Trinity College, professor in Union Theological Seminary and superintendent of the district.

More recently he has been in charge of all Methodist school and church ministry in Kuala Lumpur, the capital of the Federated Malay States.

* * *

Dr. Amstutz, his wife, son and daughter were in Singapore at the time of the Japanese attack on the Malay peninsula in 1941. While Mrs. Amstutz and the children escaped to India, remaining there until the close of the war, Dr. Amstutz elected to stay in Malaya and take his chances with the people among whom he had done missionary service for many years.

When Singapore fell, he was interned with other Americans and British. He was imprisoned three and a half years. After liberation he toured the churches and schools of the peninsula, helping reorganize them and planning with Methodist leaders for the future of Christian Institutions.

Karens of Burma Strong in Evangelism

The Gospel in Burma made its first rapid progress among the Karens, a people strong in evangelism.

Today the Sgaw Karens have 100,000 baptized members in 760 churches (13 associations). The Pwo group, with 20,000 members, is organized in 100 churches (3 associations).

The total Karen population is some three million spread through southern Burma. In numbers they are exceeded only by the Burmese (13 million) who live mostly in central Burma, and who have given their name to the nation.

Top Methodists Embrace Science and Creative Arts

NEW YORK (AP)—Science and the creative arts, sometimes considered incompatible with religion, were taken into the fold at the World Methodist Conference.

* * *

Representatives of 18 million Methodists in 44 nations, meeting in Lake Junaluska, N.C., this week drew up a 1,500-word document or "message" to members everywhere.

The message pledged the church to strive for a "human society in which discrimination based on race or color will not longer exist."

* * *

And about science and the arts it said:

"The increase of men's knowledge of the universe" and "new expressions of the faith in terms of poetry, drama and the arts" open new, unprecedented religious opportunities.

* * *

"Our growing scientific progress unfolds the splendor of God's creative energy, but lays upon us a solemn obligation to see that it is issued on the widest scale possible to build a satisfying and abundant life for all the peoples of the earth."

Dr. Thomas E. Jessop, philosopher at Hull University in England, said some delegates felt the wording of the section should have been even sharper.

"We are protesting against the contention that a natural world has been so sodden with sin that God has abandoned it, confining himself to the operations of grace."

* * *

Higher learning and the arts, he said, are "expressions of the spiritual life," and not "outside the scope of religion."

Half Million Copies of Bible Published

The Bible Society announced that the total volume of Scriptures distributed was rapidly approaching the half-billion mark. Distribution of Scriptures during 1955 totaled 14,918,353 volumes in the United States and abroad.

* * *

This, when added to 466,231,012 distributed since 1816, brings the 140-year total to more than 480,000,000 volumes. In 1956 the Society's distribution is estimated to reach again nearly 15 million volumes. This means that by the spring of 1957—less than a year away—the half-billionth volume of Scriptures will come off the presses and be placed in someone's hands by the Society.

* * *

In 1816, the first year of the Society's work, 6,310 volumes were distributed. In the last ten years, however, the Society's distribution has never dropped below 10 million.

Methodists Plan Tour of World

42 Ministers, Laymen and Church Executives to Convene in India

Forty-two Methodist ministers, laymen and church executives will leave the United States this fall on three around-the-world tours, the high point of which will be the celebration of the Indian Methodist Centennial in Lucknow Oct. 31 to Nov. 3.

The first group, numbering 16 persons, will leave New York by airplane Sept. 29, the second, numbering 16 will leave Sept. 30 and the third, numbering 10, leaves San Francisco Oct. 20.

The first two tours will be 63 days each and, in addition to time spent in India, will include stops in Rome, Jerusalem, Cairo, Rangoon, Bangkok, Singapore, Hong Kong, Tokyo and Honolulu. The groups will be in India from Oct. 13 to November 11, visiting Delhi, Bombay, Hyderabad and Calcutta in addition to the observance in Lucknow.

The third tour, 34 days in length, will include stops at Manila, Singapore, Calcutta, Delhi, Bombay, Jerusalem and Rome. It will be in India from Oct. 28 to Nov. 14.

The tours were initiated by the Board of Missions of the Methodist Church to enable interested persons to visit India in this one-hundredth year of Methodist work there. The tourists will participate in the centennial activities, worship services, speeches and song festivals, in Lucknow and will visit Methodist churches, schools and hospitals in other cities.

Bible Reading to Be Stressed by Methodists

The Methodist Church will emphasize Bible reading and studying during the 1956-1960 quadrennium, the denomination's General Conference decided in Minneapolis in May.

It approved a program of Bible study in classes and groups, church-school curriculum materials, Bible conferences, personal and family Bible reading, articles in church periodicals and other approaches.

The aim will be "to strengthen our people in knowledge of the Bible and in the application of the truth of the Bible to the problems of the day," a resolution said. "Ignorance concerning the facts and teachings of the Bible characterize many professing Christians and members of the Church," the resolution declared.

"The Bible reveals eternal truths concerning man's relationship with God in a manner which has satisfied the needs of people in every generation."

Witnesses Baptised

Recently 12 new ministers to the Jehovah's Witness were baptized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Johnson on Square Lake. The ceremony was performed by the presiding minister, W. R. Berry.

Confident Living

There Is No Easy Avenue to a Better Place in Life

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Max Morrison, minister of a Presbyterian church in Pasadena, Calif., occasionally sends me his interesting sermons. Particularly impressive was a story he recently told about a nationally famous scientist.

* * *

The man's name was not revealed, but he was making a major speech to a distinguished scientific body. At the end of the academic portion of his address, he paused and said: "Ladies and gentlemen, I would like to tell you about a bit of personal scientfic research that may possibly be more interesting to you than the other material I have been discussing.

PEALE

"You are kind enough to regard me as a competent scientist. I want to tell you that when I was 50 years old — and that was 15 years ago — I was living in a small California town, doing an unimportant scientific job. I had no reputation. I was personally miserable; I had constant headaches, and as a result lived in agony most of that time. While the headaches lasted I could accomplish nothing at all.

"Then," he continued, "I seriously began to read the Bible and became convinced that my trouble was in my definitely unhealthy thought pattern. So, as a man of science, I decided to experiment with myself and explore the possibility of improving my condition by improving my thought habits. I determined to think only of the pleasant and beautiful things of the past. And, when I thought about the present, I would think only about the great opportunities that the present had for me, and not its frustrations. And, when I thought about the future, I would think of it, not with fear and dread, but with eager anticipation and faith.

"I decided I would try this for one day, that I would really try it. That was certainly not easy, since it was so contrary to my usual depressive way of thinking, and it was the hardest thing I ever did to stick to the new thought pattern for that one day. But, at the end of the day, although I was absolutely worn out with it and physically tired, it made me feel so much better that I decided I'd try it a second day. Then I tried it a third, a fourth, a fifth, a sixth, a seventh and, on the eighth day, I experienced the greatest sense of relief I have ever had in my life. Suddenly, it was as though the clouds had parted and I had really lived for the first time.

"Then," he commented, "as I continued with this new plan, presently I noticed that I was not having headaches any more." He went on to say that, amazingly, in the last 15 years he had not had a single headache. It was during that period that he had risen from obscurity to leadership in his field.

This scientist concluded his remarkable statement by saying, "Primarily my improvement came about through two factors: (1) I disciplined my thoughts with the help given me by Almighty God. And (2) I translated these disciplined thoughts into action with His help."

Neither of these things which the scientist did are easy. There is no easy road to self improvement or a better condition in life. But the main fact is that spiritual power works in human experience. With its help the most formidable difficulties may be overcome. The secret is to learn and apply the laws which govern our personalities. No one need put up with an unsatisfactory self.

The Flint District Woman's Society of Christian Service has arranged to have the Methodist women of Pontiac area hear Miss Alta Griffin, missionary from India, Wednesday evening at 7:30 in the Covert Church on Pontiac Lake Rd.

Miss Griffin, a native of Caro, began her teaching career there. She later entered nurses' training at Harper Hospital, and following graduation served as an army nurse for some time.

She also saw service as a Public Health Nurse in Detroit before deciding to become a missionary.

Her work in the foreign field included both nursing and teaching. She is now on pre-retirement furlough, and living at her home in Caro.

Members of Trinity Will View Slides

The Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Dawson who will leave soon as missionaries to India will speak and show colored slides at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Fellowship Hall of Trinity Baptist Church.

London Bells to Ring Again

Ancient Church Almost Restored From Nazi Bombings of WW II

WASHINGTON — The famous Bow Bells of London's church of St. Mary-le-Bow will soon ring again.

The old church, nearly destroyed by Nazi bombs in World War II, is now being rebuilt, the bell tower to be its first restoration.

Most of the 12 bells already have been cast from the melted-down fragments. Before the end of the year, it is hoped they will play once more the tune that brought Dick Whittington back to the city to star in one of the world's best known success stories.

According to the legend, says the National Geographic Society, young Dick Whittington, poor apprentice to a medieval London merchant, decided to run away. On his way out of town he heard the Bow Bells chiming, "Turn back Whittington, Lord Mayor of London." The boy returned to fulfill the prophesy, it is said, with four terms of office.

The history of St. Mary-le-Bow goes back to the time of William the Conqueror. Still part of its foundation is a Norman crypt whose stone "bows," or arches, supported an earlier church. From this architectural form, then new in England for such construction, the name "Bow" is believed to be derived.

At least as early as the 14th century, curfew was rung by Bow church bells. The original set contained only six, the ones that tolled for Dick Whittington. These were destroyed, along with the first house of worship, during London's Great Fire of 1666.

The present church was designed by the architectural genius, Sir Christopher Wren, who built dozens of the British capital's outstanding structures. Completed about 1680, St. Mary-le-Bow was the most expensive of his churches. Its 222-foot steeple has been called his masterpiece.

Wren planned a ring of 12 bells, of which only eight were set up. The tenor cracked and was recast in 1738, and 20 years later the others were condemned and replaced. Eventually the remaining four were added.

During the 1941 blitz, fire consumed the old wooden spiral stairway that led to the steeple. It left little more than the bell tower and church shell. Tragedy had come again to the unlucky church site.

"For divers accidents," wrote the 16th-century historian, John Stow, (this church) "hath been made more famous than any other." In 1090, he continued, a tempest "overturned" the roof, "slaying some persons." in 1271, much of the steeple fell down, killing many others.

Each of the new Bow Bells has been formally christened at a ceremony remindful of ship launchings. "Katharine," one of the latest recast, was named by the master founder of a company that has made Bow and other bells since 1570.

Only one tradition of the Bow Bells seems in danger of passing. An old saying has it that the true Cockneys — meaning residents of the heart of London who speak in accents familiar around the world—are those born within sound of the chimes.

According to a recent manual for London speech teachers, Cockneys are growing steadily fewer. Extreme Cockney expressions are seldom heard today, and even children of the Bow church neighborhood no longer drop or add their "h-aitches."

7th Rector Appointed at Seminary, College

Rev. Wallace J. Filipowicz becomes the seventh rector of SS. Cyril & Methodius Seminary and president of St. Mary's College at Orchard Lake.

He was appointed Dean of St. Mary's College in 1945, the position he held to this day.

For four years he served as National Secretary of the Alumni Association and was the editor of its quarterly, "Alumnus."

Both parents of Father Filipowicz are deceased. His sister, Mrs. Marie Slatinsky, resides in Southfield Township.

The Bethlehem Methodist Church of Flint will be host to the 27th annual convention of the Michigan Prayer Band Auxiliary of the World Gospel Mission, an interdenominational missionary society with headquarters in Marion, Ind.

The convention will be held Wednesday and Thursday, with sessions at 10 a.m. and 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Rosa Gallagher, state president, will preside. Miss Charlotte V. Barnum, superintendent of the Prayer Band Department also will attend.

Michigan has 70 prayer bands whose prayers and gifts help support missionaries in 10 countries under the World Gospel Mission. These bands will be represented at the convention, bringing reports of their activities of the past year.

A pre-convention conference for junior prayer band sponsors will be held Tuesday afternoon and evening under the direction of Miss Leona Taves, of the Prayer Band Department.

Bible Translators Working in Otomi

Recent reports from Dr. Wonderly, A. B. S. translations consultant in Mexico, and from Don Sinclair, a Wycliffe Bible translator working among the Otomi, have told of the dedication of the Otomi Gospel of Luke and of its use among the people.

* * *

There are 90,000 Otomi-speaking Indians in Mexico. At the dedication service portions of the new Gospel were read in Otomi, and prayers of dedication followed in Spanish and Otomi.

At that time reading classes were promised to the people. Since then part of the regular service-time twice weekly has been devoted to literacy classes based on the Gospel of Luke, with a large number of Indians studying and progressing in the reading of Otomi.

* * *

Sinclair concludes: "So it is that the light of the Gospel is shining with greater intensity in this community, which was once the home of some of the killers hired by the politicians of the nearby town of Afajayucan."

Bishop Hits Atheism

LOURDES, France—The "practical atheism of so-called Christians" was hit by Bishop Pierre Theas of Tarbes and Lourdes speaking to the 83rd French national pilgrimage to the shrine of Our Lady here.

He said that, while the problems of Suez and Algeria are of national concern, their solutions must be sought in prayer and concern about each individual's faults.

Church Leaders of State to Hold Conferences in UP

A team of outstanding Michigan church leaders headed by Dr. Kenneth G. Neigh, Executive Director of the Presbyterian Synod of Michigan and president of the Michigan Council of Churches, will visit the northern part of the Lower Peninsula the week of October 1-4. A series of four one-day conferences on "Protestant Needs and Resources" will be held.

These conferences will include an ecumenical on-the-spot survey of church needs and resources in the northern area of the state. This follows the pattern of a similar series of conferences held in the Upper Peninsula last fall. Other parts of the state will be covered later on.

* * *

The program will include a unique illustrated analysis of the church situation in the various communities visited, an opportunity for those who attend to share in statewide planning; a chance to hear some of Michigan's children; and a presentation of the programs and projects of the Michigan Council of Churches and United Church Women of Michigan.

* * *

Other team members will be Dr. G. Merrill Lenox, Executive Director of the Michigan and Detroit Councils of Churches; Bishop Marshall R. Reed, bishop of the Detroit Area of the Methodist Church; Dr. Norman A. Menter, president of the Michigan District of the American Lutheran Church;

* * *

Radio Is Big Help in Foreign Missions

The Korean Bible Society is making large use of Radio Station HKLY in Seoul. Secretary Young Bin Im has spoken several times on his tour of Britain.

The story of Mary Jones has been dramatized, and the work of the Bible Society has been presented in a dialogue between a father and his daughter which reviewed the history of the Society in Korea from the days of Scottish missionaries in Mukden to the present.

During one month over 2,000 letters were received from listeners everywhere. They are now broadcasting in about forty languages, mostly African, each week."

Bible Words for Today

PSALM 8:4,5 — "What is Man? . . . thou hast made him a little lower than the angels, and has crowned him with glory and honor." (AV)

* * *

Man, and that means all men, is a creature of God. He was made in the image of God and therefore is a person. As creatures of God, made in the divine image, all men are to be accorded the dignity of their manhood.

To properly honor my own dignity and revere the divine image within myself, I must respect the dignity of all other human beings. I must avoid doing anything that will embarrass or hurt another or that will injure his reputation. I must even respect the dignity of a wicked man, for every power exercised by a person is a divine endowment, even though that power may be used for evil ends. Who knows — children of the wicked man may arise in whom that power lives on, and who purify it and dedicate it to good ends.

It is right, as we do, to talk of justice, but beyond and above justice is "loving kindness," the highest attribute of God himself. God give me compassion for all men!

* * *

Significant in his report is the fact that for the second year in a row circulation exceeded 400,000 volumes. New circulation records were established in Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador.

Church World Service Aids West, East Pakistan

Both flood-stricken West Pakistan and drought-suffering East Pakistan are being aided by Church World Service on an emergency basis.

It also sent an emergency cash grant of $5,000 to enable relief workers to provide on-the-spot help to the flood suffers.

The Rev. R. Norris Wilson, executive director of Church World Service, who announced the shipments, reported that in answer to cabled requests CWS is shipping eight million pounds of U.S. surplus wheat to the stricken area.

* * *

This will supplement supplies already on hand for the emergency, while the cash grant will provide clothing and housing.

Last year West Pakistan suffered the most disastrous floods in history, and CWS officials fear this year's may be equally serious.

As for East Pakistan, Wilson declared that it, too, faces a dangerous situation, in that famine has developed due to the drought. To meet famine conditions, CWS is shipping two million pounds of rice.

The agency has shipped in the past four months more than $2,000,000 worth of food, clothing and vitamins for emergency help to famine victims.

The CWS agency had also announced that en route to Pakistan, India, Hong Kong and Japan at the moment is a new recruit to the ranks of Church World Service. He is Robert Edwards Thompson, 39-year-old management-engineering expert and home-builder from Des Plaines.

Planning to contribute two years of his life to aid those in distress, Thompson will become assistant director in charge of business administration of Korea Church World Service. The latter is a two million and a half dollar aid operation.

The new CWS official became interested in the agency's work while on a nine-months' around-the-world trip which revealed to him the urgent need for American aid.

Delegates Participate

One hundred and twenty-five delegates took part indramatic productions and in drama interpretation during the Religious Drama Workshop at Green Lake, Wis., from August 18 to 25 sponsored by the National Council of Churches' Division of Christian Education.

* * *

According to A. Argle Knight of the Methodist Church Board of Education, director of the workshop, its aim was to develop skills in drama as a means of expressing Christian faith and belief.

Catholic Becomes Equador President

Quito, Ecuador — Congressional confirmation of the election of Dr. Camillo Ponce Henriques as president of Ecuador was seen here as elevating the first "militant Catholic" to the presidency in 61 years.

* * *

The confirmation was given after the supreme electoral court handed down a decision that gave Dr. Ponce 178,424 votes against 175,378 for his principal opponent, Dr. Raul C. Huerta, Cardios Guevara Moreno, w hose radical CFP (Concentration of Popular Forces) is strong on the coast, received 149,935 votes.

* * *

Dr. Ponce's candidacy on a Popular Alliance ticket met violent opposition from the Socialists, anticlerical Liberals and Marxists.

WHO WROTE THE BIBLE ANYWAY?

For 1800 years the Bible has been the subject of much controversy. Is it an authentic book? Is it to be trusted? Where did the Bible come from?

Many people are under the false impression that the Bible was given to the world in the third century A. D.—this is not true. All the authors of the New Testament were firsthand witnesses of the establishment of the Christian Church. The Bible itself tells us that these "holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." (II Peter 1: 21)

These men made it their business to set down an accurate and reliable account of the events which figured in the founding of the Christian Church. Bible-believing Protestants have found that God so directed in the writing of the Scriptures that the result is an accurate record of God's message to mankind.

The Bible itself claims to be from God. In Paul's second letter to Timothy we read that "All scripture is given by inspiration of God." Either we must believe such a claim, or we must take the Bible to be a completely false record.

Bible-believing Protestants, down through the ages, have put their complete trust in the Scriptures as God's message.

The entire Bible message is centered in Jesus Christ as the Son of God, and in the salvation which God has made possible through the death and resurrection of Christ. The Bible says: "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4: 12)

A true understanding of the Bible message is the doorway to salvation. You may be interested in knowing more about the Bible and what it can mean to you. Many of your questions will be answered in a pamphlet which you may have FREE of charge by simply filling in and mailing the following:

Dress Styled for Women Who Lead Double Lives

Famous American designer Ceil Chapman created this dress for women whose lives require them to play a dual role . . . they work and they keep house.

Sometimes they must also go direct from office to parties with no time for a changeover at home. For such occasions a scarf could be worn with the dress during office hours.

You'll be pleased with the way this design hugs you in the right places. The original was made in wool crepe but it is excellent in wool or silk jersey, printed silks, shantung or soft novelty cottons. From this chart select the one size best for you.

Beauty Column Interests Men, Too

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Although this is essentially a column for women, many of the subjects discussed are just as interesting to men as to women. That is why I receive quite a bit of mail from men.

* * *

For instance, men are interested in health and longevity and even in keeping their hair on their heads and in remaining youthful. They also are interested in complexion in that they do not like to have a pimpled face any more than a woman does.

One letter from a masculine reader says, "After following your exercises for a while I managed to reduce my waist and bay window in an unexpectedly short time."

A friend of my husband's and mine gave me his belt as a sort of a trophy to show how many notches he had taken it up—five! Maybe your hubby can do the same.

A friend of the Lowmans gave Josephine Lowman his belt as a sort of trophy to show how many notches he had taken it up—five! Maybe your hubby can do the same.

* * *

Good nutrition, diets when overweight, skin and hair care and exercises are just as important to a man as to a woman, although he may not admit it to you!

USE KNOWLEDGE

In the light of new knowledge about prolonging the youthful portion of life, it seems quite sad that every man and woman does not take advantage of it.

* * *

1. The punching bag exercise. If you do not have a punching bag just pretend that you do, and go through the motions, jabbing out vigorously through the air.

2. Lie on your back with your legs straight and your arms resting overhead on the floor. Raise your trunk and your arms simultaneously. Try to touch your fingertips to your toes.

If you cannot do that (and you will not be able to if you are out of condition) touch your fingers to your ankles or as far down on your legs as possible. Return the arms and legs and trunk to the floor. Rest. Continue.

If you would like to have my short exercise routine planned especially for men send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 20. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Button-On Curtains Are New

NEW YORK (INS)—If you want a new way to hang your curtains, try buttoning them on.

* * *

The button-on curtains, attached with buttonhole loops placed over the pole, attracted much attention at the National Home Furnishings Show in New York. They can be used anywhere in the home, but they're particularly effective in a man's study or in a tailored living room.

If your tastes run to more frivolous fripperies why not try a dramatic swag that rises to a peak in the center of the window and drops to a graceful drape on either side?

Or you could effect a classical cornice from a heavy material drape edged in a printed border. This type of curtain gives a room a Grecian interest.

* * *

One such cloth cornice was shown in dramatic gold and black over beige draperies held in place by gilt tie-backs.

Dinner Enjoyed by Newcomers

Women Can Thus Display Courage in Face of Sorrow and Adversity

By RUTH MILLETT

When told she still walked like a girl a woman in her 70s confessed with a rueful chuckle: "I have to walk proud to keep from limping."

* * *

In that one sentence that tired, elderly woman summed up her own courageous attitude toward life.

There are so many times in life when a woman may have to "walk proud to keep from limping."

When a son or daughter she loves and tried hard to teach right from wrong does something that shames her.

When she is disappointed in the husband she once thought was the most wonderful man in the world.

When she fails at a job she knows is important.

TIMES FOR COURAGE

When she realizes that the dreams she dreamed and the plans she made will have to be discarded because her life turned out to be far harder than she thought it would.

When she is shouldering more responsibility than seems a fair share.

When she realizes with certainty that youth is behind her and that it went all too quickly.

When a friend proves not to be a friend after all.

When sorrow strikes and yet for the sake of those around her she can't give in to grief.

When she doesn't want the world to know what a hard time her family is going through financially.

In times like these the woman who "walks proud to keep from limping" shows the kind of courage all women at times have an opportunity to show.

The Dean Story Starts Monday

Not since Rudolph Valentino have so many myths and legends sprung up around a movie star after his death. New James Dean fan clubs are springing up almost daily. One year after his violent death in a head-on auto crash, he is today a teen-age idol. What are the facts of his life?

Don't miss the brilliant new series — "Life and Legend of James Dean" — starting exclusively Monday in The Pontiac Press.

Don't Judge by Shape

Don't refuse tomatoes just because they are not round, says foods specialists. Some kinds of tomatoes are oblong, some are dish-shaped, some have irregular outlines. If the tomatoes are ripe and free from soft spots or blemishes, they'll make good eating.

Fit Dress Carefully

Every new dress should be fitted over the proper foundation and the hem adjusted correctly. Old dresses beginning to sag should be corrected.

Dishes No Chore

No matter what new innovations may come in the future, suds and hot water will always play the biggest part in "getting the dishes done." Dishwashing is no longer drudgery, thanks to today's wide choice of tailor-made soaps and detergents, hot water at the turn of a spigot, efficient drainge system, and modern utensils.

Terrifically, not meekly, smart the reversible cape in solid brown, lined with brown and blue plaid wool! While capes in varying lengths are featured, never wear a cape if it embarrasses you, for the meaning of casual ease would be lost.

Cagney - Chaney Makeup Is Challenge to Westmore

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lon Chaney Sr. is returning to his old scaring grounds—Universal Pictures.

The life of the screen's great horror artist is being done as "The Man of 1,000 Faces" at the lot where he first found fame. It was at the Universal City studio where he made such thrillers as "Phantom of the Opera" and "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" in the early '20s.

* * *

James Cagney is going to play the elder Chaney, and he is having somewhat less than 1,000 faces whipped up for him by Buddy Westmore, the wizard of the makeup department. Buddy's eyes light up when he talks about the chore.

* * *

"This is a makeup artist's dream of an assignment," he glowed. "The subject matter presents all kinds of challenges."

* * *

"We've got certain problems with Jimmy's face. You see, Chaney had no unusual features; his was just a face. That made it easy for him to adopt his many disguises.

"His face was along and narrow while Jimmy's is short and round. So we can't just copy the Chaney makeups; we have to adapt them to Jimmy's face. We have to retain some of his features, too. Otherwise, the audience might think we had someone else do it."

* * *

Buddy is a member of the pioneering Westmore family of makeup fame, but he is too young to have worked with Chaney, who died in 1930. But his father, George Westmore, was with Chaney at MGM and gifted Buddy with the actor's makeup kit.

"The makeups were sensational in those days, but they look pretty crude by today's standards," said buddy.

* * *

"Nowadays with foam rubber and other synthetics, we can make faces that are more realistic.

The new methods are easier on the actors, too. I have no doubt that Chaney hastened his death with the way he tortured his body with his makeups."

CROMWELL, Okla. (AP)—A mud-loving pig just couldn't stand being all spick and span after winning a blue ribbon at the county fair.

Riding in the back seat of his owner's car, the porker started wriggling out of a window. Rayford C. Wakefield, the driver and owner, and a friend tried to corral the pig.

The car suddenly careened out of control into a ditch. The rear door of the heavily-damaged car flew open and out scrambled the pig—right into a mudhole.

Driver's Confidence Shattered by Lie Test

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—A Hagerstown motorist said he was innocent of hitting another car and driving off, and to prove it he offered to take a lie detector test.

So Joseph Bitner, 20, took the test.

Magistrate Paul Ottinger gave him the bad news. The evidence was overwhelmingly against him, Ottinger said.

Bitner was fined $50 and ordered to pay the driver of the other car $151 damages or serve 60 days in jail.

Plan Nightmare World Trip

Trio Not Horsing Aroun'

PRYOR, Okla. (AP)—Around the world on horseback. Sounds impossible? Crazy? Maybe, but not to three members of a Pryor, Okla., family who plan just such a trip starting Thursday.

The venturesome trio are Jesse Moore, 41, and two of his children, 21-year-old Lloyd and 15-year-old Dorothy. With two pack horses and their own mounts and traveling light, they will start for Mexico on a trek they figure will keep them away from home at least four years.

To Moore, who owns a 210-acre farm just north of here in northeastern Oklahoma, the trip is neither impossible nor crazy. He has his reasons for the unusual journey.

"I have wanted to do this for years," he explained. "It's one of those things you keep putting off and finally I decided to pick a date and go. I want to meet people and study their customs and the way they live.

"It's sort of a private good will tour."

What does Mrs. Moore, who will stay at home, think of the idea?

"I saw Jesse almost skinned to death by a bear in Alaska. But the old boy came through, and he will this time."

Ellis Island, Noted Immigrant Haven, For Sale

NEW YORK (AP)—Ellis Island will be put up for sale to the highest bidder for commercial use.

The 27½-acre island, gateway to America for millions of immigrants for a half century, was given up by the Immigration Service Nov. 12, 1954.

Advertisements for bids will appear in newspapers next Tuesday. Nov. 19 will be the deadline for submission of bids.

The announcement ended hopes that the historic spot — once a picnic ground for dutch settlers, a gallows site for the pirate gibbets, and the site of a harbor defense fort — might be preserved as a public area.

New York City has made overtures for use of the island as a shelter for delinquent boys. New Jersey had proposed establishment of an ethnic museum and a recreation center. There also were other suggestions for public use.

There are 35 buildings on the island along with other facilities.

Canal Is Tricky, Ex-Pilots Warn

Big Ships Scrape Hulls Inching Through Ditch; There's Fog Too

PORT SAID (AP)—Veteran foreign pilots quitting the Suez Canal had this advice for newcomers here to learn the job: "Don't let the big ditch fool you. It's not as easy as it may look."

The canal is 380 feet wide at the waterline, but its rocklined sides slope in so it is only 180 feet wide at the bottom. The depth is 34 feet 3 inches.

That means that a lot of the bigger ships scrape through with their keels only a few inches off the sand bottom, even in dead-center.

The giant Sinclair Petrolore, 35,131-ton supertanker under the Liberian flag, squeezes through empty on her southbound run to the Middle East oilfields, but has to go home around the tip of Africa. Her 789-foot length will barely make the turns, and her 40-foot draft loaded would need more water than there is in the canal. The same is true of several other new supertankers.

Warships get through, but it is not easy. Pilots say the old British Royal Oak probably set a record going through in World War II—"she bumped the banks 28 times."

The toughest part is in coming out of the widened curves and hitting dead center of the channel in the narrow straightaway.

When a ship is off center, as in the turns, there will be highly differing pressures against her bow and stern, and from different directions. These are water pressures exerted from the nearer or farther sides of the canal.

"Then remember," one pilot said, "every time through we are on a different ship. And they all handle differently.

"But that's not all. Anyone starting now is up against the year's worst season. Suez fogs start setting in next month—and they're terrors.

Kocsis Meets Ward for Amateur Title

LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — The story of two golf clubs and the men who wield them with telling effect was the core of today's final match for the 56th National Amateur Golf Championship.

* * *

The clubs are a beat-up old putter which Harvie Ward found in a locker at Tarboro, N. C., 18 years ago, and a No. 5 wood which Chuck Kocsis bought for one tournament five years ago and hadn't used at all since then until this week.

Ward, a keen-eyed 30-year-old California automobile salesman, is seeking to become the first player to win two national amateur titles in a row since Lawson Little's triumphs in 1934-35. Kocsis, a links veteran from Royal Oak, Mich., at 43, is having his best and what may be his last good fling at a major title.

Kocsis, a tool distributor, who comes from a big family of golfers, never trailed Magee after the ninth hole. He has been in the quarter finals of the amateur twice, low amateur in the U. S. Open twice and a member of two Walker Cup teams.

"There have been a lot of tournaments where I felt more confident than I did here," he said. "I came here expecting to have some fun and go home after one round."

But for the old clubs, the two might not be in today's 36-hole final over the long, windswept Knollwood course.

Ward's hickory shafted putter probably is a good many years older than 18, but its the only putter he has used since taking up the game as a boy. Naturally his feeling toward the club is more than affectionate.

"I bought that five wood for the National Open at Oakland Hills in 1951, where you had to get long shots up high and still hold the greens. I didn't use it again until this year, but I've been using it a lot here," Kocsis remarked rather grimly after his 4 and 2 victory over Canada's tall Gerry Magee in the semi-finals.

"That wind out there was something awful. On the ninth hole yesterday I got home with a seven iron. Today I used the five wood twice. Once I got there and once I didn't."

Ward outlasted tow-headed Joe Campbell, the brash 20-year-old Anderson, Ind. man who plays golf and basketball for Purdue, to gain a 2 and 1 decision.

Two great shots by Campbell made the finish exciting. Harvie, a calm competitor who has won the British as well as the American title, wouldn't weaken when his opponent tossed a hole-in-one and then an eagle at him in the closing holes.

"This kind of stuff will have to cease," Ward told his opponent after Joe holed a six iron shot on Knollwood's 150-yard 12th hole.

CHAMP AND CONTENDER — Defending amateur champion Harvie Ward (left) of San Francisco and Chuck Kocsis of Royal Oak, meet today in the 36-hole final of the National Tourney at Lake Forest, Ill. Kocsis, 43, turned back 20-year-old Gerry Magee of Toronto, 4, and 2 yesterday, while Ward was eliminating Joe Campbell, 2 and 1, in the semi-finals.

SCORES ACE—Joe Campbell leaves the 18th green in dismay after scoring an ace on the 12th and an eagle-3 on the 16th, and still lost out to Harvie Ward in the semifinals of the National Amateur. He was beaten, 2 and 1.

Birminghamite Denies Charge in Racing Fix

Harness Race Owner Suspended by State Commissioner

DETROIT (AP) — Claiming he threw a race at Northville Downs, harness race driver Duane Hoose said he did it on orders from his employer.

* * *

Samuel J. Reeve, a Birmingham gas station operator and Hoose's employer, was suspended immediately by state racing commissioner James H. Inglis. Reeve denied the charges at yesterday's commission meeting.

Reeve said that he had bet $100 across the board on his horse, Aug. 2, at the suburban Detroit track. It finished second.

* * *

Hoose took back earlier statements that other drivers also had "fixed" races. He said he was drunk when he made the accusations in a tape recorded statement to track investigator Jack Flannery.

Reeve, Hoose said, had ordered him "to hold the field back" to make sure Cherry Adam, driven by Foy Funderburk, won. Cherry Adam was first.

Closed Session for Wolverines

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's best 1956 single wing combination showed its first crack today as the Wolverines entered their second game-length scrimmage—just two weeks from the opening game.

* * *

The 208-pound Cleveland powerhouse stumbled on a street curbing on his way to practice yesterday and reported to the training room with a sprained finger and swollen hand. He also complained of a swollen ankle.

Oosterbaan said the starting left half for the game will be Jim Pace, a junior speedster from Little Rock, Ark. Oosterbaan said it was not yet known when Ptacek would be able to play.

Although Pace is rated as the fastest man on the squad, Ptacek has proved a powerful runner and reportedly has the best throwing arm on the team.

Tiger Streak Ends at 7

Lary Against Yanks Today

DETROIT (AP)—Three members of the Milwaukee Braves' organization are in town scouting the New York Yankees for a possible world series date, and Yankee manager Casey Stengel concedes "they just might be scouting the right team."

The veteran Bomber pilot, well on the way to his 7th pennant in eight seasons with the Yankees, could afford a joke or two, especially after the American League champions had downed the Detroit Tigers, 5-1.

The Yankee victory, which broke a seven-game Tiger winning streak, went to tall Don Larsen and was his 9th of the season. The loser was southpaw Hal Woodeshick, making his first major league start after being purchased from Charleston.

The American League's chief Yankee-killer, Frank Lary, was to pitch for Detroit today as the two clubs concluded their Briggs Stadium action for 1956. Lary (17-13) holds four decisions over New York and the Yanks have beaten him just once. Bob Turley will go for New York.

Turley has eight wins against three losses but has completed only five of 19 starts.

A victory for Detroit today would give the Bengals the edge on the Yanks for the year. Detroit has 11 wins in 21 thus far.

Record Speedboat Fleet in President's Cup Event

WASHINGTON (AP)—A record regatta fleet of 14 of North America's fastest speedboats poised on the Potomac River today for the 25th running of the President's Cup races.

Several hundred inboards and outboards converged on the nation's capital for the 2-day event, highlighted by the series for unlimited hydroplanes seeking a year's possession of the $30,000 gold President's Cup.

* * *

Intense every year, trophy competition for this anniversary regatta was heated in advance by a bitter Seattle-Detroit rivalry which burst anew at the Gold Cup races in Detroit two weeks ago. Gold Cup officials there dsiqualified Miss Thrifway, the apparent winner, for allegedly smashing a buoy.

Judge awarded the trophy to Miss Pepsi, owned by Roy Dossin of Detroit. Willard Rhodes, Seattle grocery chain operator and owner of Miss Thriftway, appealed. A special committee of the American Power Boat Assn. plans a closed hearing for the adversaries Sunday, after they've finished battling for the President's Cup.

Miss Pepsi has won this cup three times, the last time in 1952, and Miss Thriftway set a race record a year ago by averaging 92.676 m.p.h. through the three 15-mile heats.

They're rated the boats to beat this weekend, along with Shanty I, another Seattle boat owned by William T. Waggoner Jr. From Canada, J. Gordon Thomson of London, Ontario, has entered Miss Supertest.

Regatta officials anticipate more than 100,000 spectators will watch the races. There will be two qualifying heats for each of the cup contenders today and a final race tomorrow.

The big boats will vie again late Sunday afternoon for the American speedboat championship, an annual special at the Washington regatta.

All-Out Work for Spartans

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State football coaches scheduled an all-out scrimmage today with fingers crossed in hopes no top players would be hurt.

A Saturday ago, when a similar workout was staged, halfback Walt Kowalczyk was knocked out by an ankle injury.

2-Day Retriever Field Trial Set for Sept. 22-23

Wolverine Retriever Club of Michigan has arranged for a two-day licensed field trial for retrieving dogs at Harsen's Island in the St. Clair Flats game area. Event is set for Sept. 22-23 with qualifying and derby stakes starting at 8 a.m. Sept. 22, and open all-age trial the same time on the following day. This is the club's third annual trial.

Some of the finest retrievers from the midwest are expected to take part, with the best of amateur and professional handlers caring for the competitors.

Both land and water work will be had under simulated hunting conditions, using both pheasants and ducks.

Club invites interested retriever owners and sportsmen to attend.

More Power for Lions

Bowman Back in Action

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The Detroit Lions face the Cleveland Browns for the 2nd time in pre-season play tonight, determined to make it two victories in a row over the world champions.

Some 30,000 fans are expected to jam the Rubber Bowl to get a close look at the Detroit defense that held Cleveland scoreless Sept. 7 in Detroit. The Lions took that exhibition 17-0.

Two years ago when the Lions met the Browns on two successive weekends, the Lions won a 14-10 victory in the snow, only to lose the world championship game a week later to the Browns, 56-10.

Coach Buddy Parker hopes the return to action of fullback Bill Bowman will put added power into the Lions' running attack. Bowman, a 6-foot-2 212-pounder, returned from the army last week.

* * *

In 1954, as a rookie, Bowman was the club's 2nd leading ground gainer, piling up 397 yards for a 4.1 average. Bowman, who didn't play ball in the service, will alternate with 248-pound Leon Hart.

For Lion defensive end Sherwin Gandee, it will be an opportunity to show hometown fans what he can do. Gandee scored a touchdown in the earlier Lions' victory over the Browns on a pass interception.

It's still indefinite whether Lions' quarterback Bobby Layne will be available. He has a slight knee sprain.

French Player Dumps Top Aussie Star Hoad

DENVER (AP) — The Colorado Open Tennis Tournament moved into the semifinals today after the surprise elimination of Australian star Lew Hoad by Pierre Darmon, French Davis Cup player.

Dodgers Gain by Beating Cubs, 4-2

Braves Routed by Phillies, 13-1

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Milwaukee Braves, reduced to a one-game lead once again in the hectic National League pennant race, had themselves a real worry today—is this sudden slump by righthanders Bob Buhl and Lew Burdette really serious?

They can't hope to win the pennant without the help of that pair, yet Buhl, a 17-game winner, has failed to finish his last three starts and has lost 'em all. And Burdette, a guy with 18 victories and seven shutouts, was battered out for the second consecutive time last night as the Philadelphia Phillies maltreated the leaders 13-1.

The Milwaukee loss, coupled with Brooklyn's 4-2 victory over last-place Chicago, left the one-two clubs even in games lost. Idle Cincinnati has lost two more games than either Milwaukee and Brooklyn, and is three games back.

The fourth-place St. Louis Cardinals, who had won six in a row, lost to New York's Giants 3-0 in the other NL game.

In the American League, the New York Yankees, with Yogi Berra setting a record for career home runs by a catcher, snapped Detroit's winning streak at seven 3-1. That reduced the Yankees' "magic number" for clinching the pennant to three as second-place Cleveland lost to Boston 4-3 after winning the first game of their twi-night doubleheader 10-2.

* * *

Burdette, recent target for spitball charges, last worked a complete game a week ago today, but lost to the Cubs 2-1. His last complete game victory was September 3 against Cincinnati.

He was shelled in two-thirds of an inning Wednesday at Brooklyn (although Buhl won it in relief) and last night lasted just 3 2-3 frames as the Phils scored four in the fourth for a 7-0 lead.

Del Ennis tagged a three-run homer in the frame, off reliefer Lou Sleater, and little Solly Hemus then walloped a grand-slam homer off Dave Jolly in the sixth. The Phils had 17 hits, plus eight walks.

Dogoon Heads Field of 16 in Michigan Mile

DETROIT (AP) — Dogoon, winner of the Chicago Handicap at Hawthorne Park last week, heads a field of 16 today in Michigan's richest horse race, the $50,000 added Michigan Mile at Detroit Race course.

One of the most serious challengers to the E. Gay Drake colt will be Darby Dan Farm's Skipper Bill, winner of $91,100 so far this year.

High-weighted in the field is Walmac Farm's Hasseyampa at 126 pounds. Hasseyampa won the $50,000 Hawthorne Gold Cup last fall but finished last in the Chicago Handicap last week. Dogoon and Skipper Bill will carry 118 pounds each.

Mintz Jumps Into Ring As Jones Gets Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—To the folks back in Pittsburgh: Jake Mintz and his "new sensation," middleweight Willie Greaves, are not having a wonderful time on their visit to the capital.

Greaves, a good-looking youngster from Canada, lost a split decision last night to Ralph (Tiger) Jones in a nationally televised 10-rounder.

* * *

The bout is still going on for Mintz, the veteran pilot from Pittsburgh who took charge of Greaves' fistic future last year. Irrepressible Jake is under orders to appear before the District of Columbia Boxing Commission next Monday afternoon.

* * *

Mintz climbed through the ropes last night and insisted on examining the scorecards before announcer Jimmy Lake could make the decision known. Jocko Miller, chairman of the commission, said Washington wasn't going to tolerate such behavior and summoned Mintz to "explain why he grabbed the slips" from Lake's hands.

* * *

Jake expressed his regrets, said he just couldn't restrain himself and tried to beg off attending the hearing because of a charity affair in Pittsburgh.

* * *

Miller said Mintz was subject to a $100 fine and possible suspension. And the hearing apparently was still on, with or without Mintz.

Holy Cross 11 Looming Rough

The St. Frederick Rams open their 1956 football season Sunday when they invade Marine City to tangle with Holy Cross and all indications point to a busy afternoon.

* * *

Five returning regulars, four of them in the forward wall, will be in the starting lineup for coach Norman Welser's Crusaders as they prepare to meet St. Fred on opening day for the 6th straight year.

Handicapped by injuries to key players, the Rams will be making their 26th consecutive attempt to snap a winless slump. Kickoff time is 2 o'clock.

BATTLE CREEK, Mich. (AP) — Battle Creek won the Eastern Division championship of the American Amateur Baseball Congress Friday night, defeating East Chicago, Ind., 8-6, in the double-elimination playoffs.

Closed Session for Wolverines

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's best 1956 single wing combination showed its first crack today as the Wolverines entered their second game-length scrimmage—just two weeks from the opening game.

* * *

The 208-pound Cleveland powerhouse stumbled on a street curbing on his way to practice yesterday and reported to the training room with a sprained finger and swollen hand. He also complained of a swollen ankle.

Oosterbaan said the starting left half for the game will be Jim Pace, a junior speedster from Little Rock, Ark. Oosterbaan said it was not yet known when Ptacek would be able to play.

Although Pace is rated as the fastest man on the squad, Ptacek has proved a powerful runner and reportedly has the best throwing arm on the team.

LA Rams Outlast 49ers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bitter warfare between the Los Angeles Rams and the San Francisco 49ers was at a midseason pitch today with the Rams the winner of the first of their 1956 duels on the gridiron, 33-24.

The National Football League exhibition season offers more ferocious competition tonight with the Cleveland Browns and the Detroit Lions clashing at Akron; the Chicago Bears and the New York Giants meeting at Dallas, Tex., Philadelphia playing Pittsburgh at Minneapolis and the Chicago Cardinals and Green Bay Packers meeting in St. Louis. Baltimore and Washington will play a nationally televised game tomorrow.

Capping a display of touchdown fireworks, three apiece at one dramatic stage in the fourth period, it was a prosaic field goal booted by the Rams' Les Richter from a mere 10 yards out which won the exhibition game with a minute and 58 seconds to go.

Earlier in the final period, the 49ers' Gordy Soltau had kicked his team into a 24-23 lead with a 25-yard field goal, and at the moment this loomed large on the scoreboard.

But in the closing seconds, the Rams intercepted a 49er pass and the 49ers' valiant efforts were buried when elusive Ron Waller cut loose with a 63-yard touchdown run from scrimmage.

Chiefs Rip Dots, 39-7; Maples Crushed

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Opportunities rested on a golden platter, but when Birmingham failed to take advantage of three early Southfield errors, the Bluejays confidently collected their forces and went on to tromp the Maples, 21-0, on the Jay gridiron yesterday afternoon.

Showing surprising strength on the ground, Southfield amassed a total of 336 yards rushing in scoring its first victory over Birmingham in three years.

Ron Brewer, a shifty 185 pound senior halfback, ripped through the Maple line continually for long gains as he picked up 164 yards himself.

On two plays Birmingham moved to the 10. Dale Burrows went to the 9 and on the next play Burrows passed to Mike Nordstrom who dropped the ball standing all alone in the end zone.

Southfield held and took over, but the Jays again fumbled and the Maples had another chance on the 10. After a 15 yard penalty, two running plays failed and Burrows again elected to pass. This time it was George Miller who dropped the aerial on the six yard line.

Another fumble by Southfield gave the Maples the ball on the 40 for the third time in six minutes, but this time Birmingham fumbled it away.

After a scoreless 1st half, Southfield came back fired up to dominate the final two quarters of play.

Quarterback Ed Foster, who ran for a total of 111 yards, went 11 yards for the first TD after four minutes were gone in the 3rd period.

A few minutes later, Foster again carried on an option and went 33 yards to score for the Jays.

Fred Rankin went 10 yards late in the 4th quarter for the final Jay tally, with Foster adding all three points.

Inexperience in the defensive backfield was evident as only Nordstrom, transfer from Royal Oak, was able to stop the continual breaks through the line. He was also the most effective runner for Birmingham.

Shorter Calls Signals In Absence of Whitmer

By H. GUY MOATS

WYANDOTTE — Fast-moving, hard-hitting, Pontiac High School gridiron Chiefs Friday night trampled a big and tough Wyandotte eleven here 39-7.

A big audience that included several hundred Pontiac supporters saw Coach Ed Graybiel's charges make the most of a number of breaks to score in every period.

'Dots' were never even close until the final five minutes when a long pass clicked for their only counter. Chiefs crossed the Wyandotte goal six times, twice in the opening and final periods and once each in the 2nd and 3rd frames.

Wyandotte fumbles set up the Chiefs' 1st two touchdowns. Freeman Watkins drove from the 6-stripe after an interchange of fumbles gave PHS the ball deep in 'Dot territory. Two miuntes later another fumble was recovered by Art Poe on the Wyandotte 35. Jimmy Shorter, who played a great game at quarterback in place of Dick Whitmer fired a rifle pass to big Bob Baxter in the end zone. The play was beautifully executed, a perfect peg to a reciever all alone in pay territory.

* * *

Near the end of the 2nd period Bob Holloway grabbed another 'Dot bobble, on the 27. A half dozen plays later Charley Robinson barrelled over for the 3rd marker. Bob McDonald fell on a 'Dot bobble to set off the 4th score, that came on the 4th play of the 3rd period. Dick Smith dropped the kickoff to open the period, and after Freeman and Lessie Watkins and Robinson ran the ball to the 3-marker Shorter sneaked across.

In the finale, after Graybiel sent in his reserves 'Dots began to move. Less than two minutes passed when Larry Noble shot a 30-yard pass to Frank Jaciuk in a corner of the end zone. Shorter got his 2nd tally a few minutes later, going six yards on a rollout.

Chiefs last TD was a magnificent 40-yard pass by Art Poe to end Larry Beamer, who snatched the spiralling leather over his shoulder on the dead run, dashed 20 yards to score. Some of the best blocking of the game was noted on the play, with end George Palian throwing the key block.

PHS Coaches were pleased with the defensive play of the line, where Bob Holloway, Joe Hill, Dick Kofs, Johnny Massingale, Bob Kelly—in fact all the starters—turned in grand jobs. Only apparent weaknesses were a tendency to fumble and a slack defense on aerials. Game also showed that Chiefs lack sufficient capable reserves. With first stringers out Wyandotte moved to its only TD. In the 1st half, by contrast, 'Dots gained only 35 yards.

Chiefs gained 244 yards to 140 for 'Dots. Marv Cagle booted three extra points.

Both clubs were plagued by fumbles, each making 7. 'Dots fumbles, however, were the most serious. Chiefs regained all but two while 'Dots regained only two of their miscues.

Chiefs made 14 1st downs, Wyandotte 9.

Scoring:

WYANDOTTE	0	0	0	7	—7
PONTIAC	13	7	7	12	—39

Prep Action Gets Under Way

Some Sigh, Some Cry

Even the weatherman cooperated with typical chilly football weather as Michigan High Schools opened the 1956 campaigns amid the various bellows of coaches who either shrugged off opening losses or sighed relief in winning the first ones.

Very few tie games were reported as most teams seemed to show concentration on offense.

* * *

A 45-yard pass play to the eight yard line from George Green to Tom Williams set up the first score. In two plays Ben Meyer went over from the 1 foot line in the first period.

Both teams exchanged fumbles on Richmond's 1 yard line with Butch Dallwitz sneaking over to make it 12-0, midway in 3rd quarter.

Del Munson's 10-yard touchdown dash in the final minute of action enabled Milford to trip the Oxford Wildcats, 13-7. Oxford had clung to a 7-6 lead since the 1st quarter.

Pat Kelley snared a pass for the Redskins' 1st tally Oxford's touchdown was scored by quarterback Bob Harrison, who plunged over from the 1-foot line to climax a 50-yard drive. Harrison also booted the extra point.

* * *

Troy came from behind to defeat Detroit Lutheran in a free-scoring battle, 26-20, for its 1st victory since the 1953 season.

Halfback Sim Acton reeled off touchdown runs of 13 and 8 yards and had a vital hand in another. Facing a 20-19 deficit with one minute remaining, the Colts pulled the game out of the fire on a 47-yard pass from Acton to Wayne Figley. Dick Kelly scooted 52 yards for Troy's 1st TD. 52 yards for Troy's 1st TD.

* * *

Oakland B champion Madison vanquished rival Royal Oak St. Mary 12-0 with Larry Skinner going 60 yards in the 3rd quarter and Doug Fisher grabbing a fumbled pass in mid-air and racing 35 yards for the final tally in the same stanza.

Walled Lake showed passing power with quarterback Larry Dion, as the Vikings ripped through Redford Union's veteran outfit, 32-7.

Three touchdown passes covering 65, 20 and 50 yards from Dion to Hughes twice, and to Frank Finks accounted for three Viking scores.

Walled Lake scored its points all in the first half with Finks running for another and John Walker also hitting pay dirt.

Rochester started its winning move on the very 1st play of the Falcon's opener at Davison, last night. Dave Peters slanted off tackle, rambled 75 yards for a TD. That began a 4-touchdown drive for a 24-6 victory. Peters fired a pass to Doug Falls for a TD in the 2nd, halfback Dave Eldred bagged one in the 3rd and another in the final on the same play, each from 25 yards out.

Ken Schultz went 18 yards for the Dales' final tally.

* * *

All-Stater Tom Wilson was the big gun in Lapeer's 26-6 victory over Caro. Wilson went 23 and 63 yards in the first period to score and he passed and ran for both extra points.

Dick DeBeaublan went 18 yards in the 2nd period and Mike Carter went through for two yards for the other Lapeer scores.

* * *

Larry Otrander and Frank Hartway supplied the 1-2 punch as Almont trounced North Branch 33-0. Ostrander went 47 yards in the first period and 5 yards in the second quarter, with Hartway scoring from 2 yards out in the first and third quarters.

* * *

Orill Frantz ran wild as Imlay City walloped Marine City, 33-6. The speedy Spartan halfback chalked up three touchdowns on dashes of 61, 40 and 35 yards. Bob Lindsey tallied with a 41-yard run and Roger McKee rolled 15 yards for another TD. Larry Downer went 51 yards for the loser's only score.

Dryden whitewashed Flint Hoover easily, 34-0, at home with Bill Avery scoring on 15 and 50 yard dashes, Dave Baley on a 60-yard reverse; Dick Wrench 3 yards, and Fred Miller on a 5-yard pass from Herb Sawgle.

Lean Days Are Over

Barons Romp to 45-6 Win

Bloomfield Hills High School hinted strongly that its lean football days are over when the Barons crushed visiting Oak Park yesterday afternoon, 45-6, in the 1956 season opener for both teams.

Jim Kearney, 178-pound junior halfback, personally collected four of his team's seven touchdowns. The hard-running Kearney, who had two touchdown runs cancelled by penalties, crossed into pay-dirt on dashes of one, 10 and 45 yards and also galloped 57 yards with an intercepted pass.

Oak Park scored 1st on a 50-yard sprint by halfback Mike Mazia early in the opening quarter. But from then on it was all Bloomfield as the Barons broke loose after a scoreless 1st period.

Two of Bloomfield's touchdowns were scored by Al Bowland, one a 44-yard aerial from Dave Drury and the other a quarterback sneak from the one-foot line. The remaining counter came on a 39-yard pass from Jim Jones to Drury.

Alertness Pays Off, 20-6

Avondale Trims Mikes

By BILL CORNWELL

Outmanned St. Michael gamely fought a veteran Avondale team for three quarters before a combination of bad breaks and Jacket alertness pinned a 20-6 setback on the Shamrocks in last night's season inaugural at Avondale.

Ron Elmy, ex-Shamrock gridder now playing fullback for Avondale, was completely throttled, but the Mikes couldn't contain the rest of the hard-charging Jackets in a bitterly-contested battle.

Fumbles were frequent by both teams as opening game jitters and lack of polish asserted themselves. But it was the Shamrocks who suffered the most from ragged play.

St. Mike's cause was seriously damaged very early in the contest when Dan Dropps was sidelined with a facial injury. The star halfback's departure virtually crippled the Shamrock offense.

The game was only two minutes old when Avondale exploded its 1st touchdown. Following a Shamrock punt, Fred Hyten raced 35 yards into pay-dirt on the 2nd play from scrimmage. Steve Saunders converted from placement and the 7-0 lead stood up at halftime.

St. Mike's lone touchdown was even more explosive. On the 1st play of the 3rd quarter, Joe Schultz, subbing for Dropps, galloped 35 yeards to score with the aid of a key block by Ken Rogers. Bob Mineweaser's attempted sneak for the extra point failed and the Mikes trailed, 7-6.

With five minutes remaining, Jim Greenlees blocked Mineweaser's kick. Duane Lau grabbed the pigskin and romped 40 yards for the TD.

The final touchdown came in the last 10 seconds when Sven Blomberg intercepted a St. Mike aerial and ran 20 yards without opposition. Saunders converted.

Dragons Spank Clarkston, 20-0

BY CHUCK ABAIR

A steady running attack and some strong defensive play sparked the Lake Orion Dragons to a 20-0 triumph over Clarkston in the opener for both schools at Lake Orion last night.

The early loss of key backs George Lang and Dave Swayne due to leg injuries wrecked the visitors' offensive, as neither saw action in the last half.

The pair had given Clarkston followers plenty to cheer about in the opening session as Coach Ed Hintz' Wolves threatened three times but never could reach paydirt. The small Lake Orion line rose up to halt the marches at the five, eight and three-yard lines.

From then on, the Dragons dominated play with fullback Ralph McLachlan and reserve John Schoff running wild and quarterback Nick Neira clicking through the air.

By PAUL RIPLEY

Long scoring runs of 70, 42, 35 and 18 yards gave Waterford a 35-18 decision over West Bloomfield last night in Keego Harbor.

* * *

The surprising Lakers led at the end of the first half 18-14 on the strength of a strong ground game which ran up nine first downs and 107 yards rushing.

* * *

* * *

When the Lakers rebounded with a second drive to score, Ed Clarke put the Skippers back in the lead with a 42 yard slant on the second play from scrimmage.

Shortly after half time Salathiel skirted left end for 35 yards, putting the Skippers ahead to stay. A 56-yard Salathiel-punt kept the Keego eleven in trouble during most of the third quarter.

Quarterback Dave Struble passed 28 yards to Clark for the fifth Skipper score early in the fourth quarter. Leroy Vogle added the last marker on an 18 yard jaunt after a Salathiel interception.

Laud Wolverine Lake President for Wildlife Contribution

Invents Device to Trap Lamprey

Pulsation Electronic Oscillator Passes Rigid U. S. Tests

By STANLEY BOK
Commerce Correspondent

WOLVERINE LAKE—The enterprising and resourceful president of Wolverine Lake village has made a noteworthy contribution toward the solution of a critical problem—that of ridding the Great Lakes of the lamprey.

BELPREZ

Although he's best known as a caller for square dances, George Belprez became interested in the fight against the eel-lik parasite when he served as mayor for a day in Marquette last May during Michigan's Mayor Exchange week.

While attending a banquet in his honor, Belprez met and conversed with Leo Erkella, head of the lamprey control for the Great Lakes, who explained the lamprey situation in detail.

Belprez learned how the lamprey had killed off most of the lake trout and white fish adult population in Lake Huron and Lake Michigan before invading Lake Superior where commercial fishing has now been forced to a halt.

He also learned that the battle against the lamprey was not very successful at the Chocolay River in Marquette because of frequent breakdowns of an electrical weir which leads both fish and lamprey into a mechanical trap.

* * *

An inspection tour of the Chocolay River apparatus and a talk with Allerton McLain, biologist in charge of the Chocolay installation, built up Belprez' interest to a point where he decided to "figure out" and produce an electronic outfit that would not break down.

DEVELOPS NEW DEVICE

Soon after returning to Wolverine Lake, he tackled the problem long before he developed an electronic device, best identified as a pulsation electronic oscillator. It had no moving parts.

The village president submitted his invention to authorities who put it to test immediately. Now, about 80 days later, the device is still functioning without a single breakdown.

He recently received a letter of commendation from officials of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the United States Department of Interior. Belprez was also informed that Canadian officials are considering the use of his equipment in their fight against the lamprey.

* * *

Briefly, the electronic device consists of a pulse generator with a variable repetition rate from one pulse per second to fifteen and a duty cycle of 60 per cent duration.

The pulse network controls a thyraton tube which develops pulses consisting of half-wave peaks at a frequency of 60 peaks per second. The only part that should wear out is the tube which has a life of about 5,000 hours.

TRAPS ALL LAMPREY

Now that electrical breakdowns have been eliminated, the bloodthirsty lamprey has no chance of getting past the weir and trap installation in the Chocolay River and into Lake Superior.

The lamprey is such a menace to the Great Lakes that President Eisenhower signed a bill in the early part of 1956 which authorized the formation of a joint American - Canadian Commission to eliminate the pest.

A native of salt water, the lamprey feeds on other marine life but has no known natural enemy. Having a circular mouth with seven rows of tiny conical teeth, the adult lamprey easily fastens itself to a victim. Its boney tongue then penetrates through the scales of a fish and sucks out the life blood.

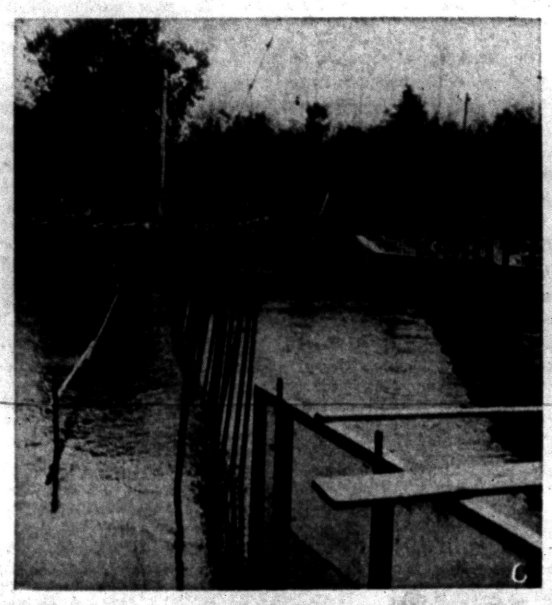
The female lamprey deposits between 80,000 and 90,000 eggs which are fertilized by the male. Life cycle of the parasite is about seven years.

* * *

In describing the operation of the electrical weir and mechanical trap setup, Belprez explained that there are two sets of electrodes, a row of metal pipes across the river and another along the river bank. Electrical pluses are applied with the negative potential to the electrodes in the stream and the positive potential to the electrodes on the bank. This electrical field leads fish and lamprey to the bank and into a trap.

The trap is emptied twice each day; the fish are placed upstream and the lamprey is destroyed.

Being a trout fisherman himself, Belprez looks forward to the day when the Great Lakes and their inlet streams are once again teeming with big ones.



LAMPREY TRAP — Metal pipes strung across the Chocolay River near Marquette radiate electrical impulses with a negative potential which steer fish away. Another row of pipes, known as positive electrodes, are set up along the bank which attract fish and lampreys into a mechanical trap. When the trap is emptied, fish are placed upstream beyond the trap and the lampreys (parasites which have been killing off white fish and trout) are destroyed. George Belprez, Wolverine Lake village president, developed electronic equipment which now keeps the weir in operation 24 hours a day without any breakdowns. Heretofore, the weir was frequently inactive because of electrical failures.

Wolverine and Commerce Units Agree on Fire Aid

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP —Wolverine Lake Village and Commerce Township have entered into a tentative agreement whereby the village will receive fire protection from the township fire department for a period of one year at a specified amount.

Under the agreement, the township will provide fire protection for the period from July 1, 1956 until June 30, 1957, the village fiscal year.

Heretofore, the township fire department has been serving Wolverine Lake village without a financial agreement.

At present, the township has two fire trucks, one at the main hall, 605 West Commerce Road, and the other at the Walled Lake city fire hall. Both trucks are manned by Commerce fire department personnel.

Now that Walled Lake City is forming its own fire department, Commerce Township will move its truck from that city to the Oakley Park fire hall. Walled Lake expects delivery of a new fire truck by this weekend.

The township board has made financial arrangements to house the second truck in Oakley Park which is considerably closer to Wolverine Lake Village than the main Commerce fire hall.

The board has announced its intention of buying the Oakley Park fire hall for permanent use, the sale of which hinges upon approval of stockholders who own that hall. Votes already received from stockholders indicate approval of the proposed sale.

In other action, the board discussed various aspects of community water systems in new subdivisions being developed within the township. The township will assume control of the water systems after a certain specified time.

The board also decided to purchase a hoist for raising and lowering voting machines.

West Bloomfield School Addition Plans Presented

WEST BLOOMFIELD—Architect from the George D. Mason Co. presented plans for the addition to West Bloomfield High School to the Board of Education this week at the Board's regular meeting.

* * *

Plans will be open for bids within the next three weeks, according to Dr. Leif Hougen, superintendent of schools. Construction will begin sometime in November and it is hoped the rooms will be ready for classes by next September.

The plans call for eight class rooms, a drafting room, an art room equivalent to the size of two class rooms and a study hall half the size of three class rooms. Offices and storage space are also planned in the new wing.

A special meeting of the Board has been set for Monday to select an architect to design an addition to the Scotch School and a seven room unit at the south end of the school district.

John Hall, president of the Board of Education, made a report on closing Superior drive. The road runs in back of the high school and through school property.

Hall, also a member of the Orchard Lake Village Council, stated the village will cooperate in this project as soon as a new road is black-topped. This will be done before cold weather sets in.

Contracts were signed for five new teachers. They are: James Mayer, teaching physics and math at the high school and Willard Jones for chemistry and biology at the high school. The others are Mrs. Eloise Clay, elementary physical education, Mrs. Evelyn Jones, fifth grade and Herbert Nelson, sixth grade at Roosevelt School.

Urge Rigid Law for TB Carriers

Judge Advocates Move as Many Leave Beds Against Medical Advice

LANSING (AP)—Judge Joseph A. Murphy of the Wayne County Probate Court says "an Alcatraz" is needed to confine active tuberculosis carriers who leave sanatoriums against medical advice.

* * *

Murphy expressed his opinion at a Thursday meeting of a joint committe working to strengthen state legal controls over TB carriers.

Along with other committee members, Murphy advocated a change in the 1954 law for compulsory hospitalization of TB carriers that would make a patient stay until he was no longer a health hazard.

In 1955, 1,713 of 4,214 Michigan TB patients who left sanatoriums —more than 40 per cent—did so against medical advice. The vast majority of these left with the disease uncontrolled.

The Michigan Tuberculosis Assn. reported recently that a TB outbreak in which one child died, 11 children and two mothers more children and two parents were infected was traced to two carriers who left a sanatorium against medical advice.

The committee, consisting of probate judges, sanatorium doctors and state and county health officers, discussed weakness in the present statute.

* * *

One section provides that a person can be committed to a sanatorium if he is proved a "source of danger to others."

Many probate courts, it was said, consider positive sputum as the only evidence that a patient is such a source of danger.

Since modern drugs quickly convert positive sputum to negative even though other radiological and clinical signs indicate the disease is still active, health officials have difficulty in getting commitments.

As the law now stands, the only penalty for the patient who leaves an institution against medical advice is re-commitment to a sanatorium.

As one answer to the problem of keeping carriers confined, the committee suggested concentrating recalcitrants at one heavily staffed and especially equipped place, perhaps the Northern Michigan Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Gaylord.

Another meeting to consider the problem further was set for Oct. 24.

Ends on Sour Note

EMMETT, Idaho (AP) — Gem County sheriff's officers got set for small flood when they heard that a two-ton milk truck had overturned at the top of a hill near here. But they relaxed when the driver climbed out of the wreckage. He said the truck contained only one can of sour milk.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

BACK TO SCHOOL — 6
A Junior Safety Patrol

Trusted older pupils are often chosen to act as Junior Safety Patrols in districts where busy streets must be crossed going to or from school.

The patrols direct lines up and down stairs and out of the front door, and they see that traffic rules are not forgotten when the pupils cross the road.

Use your crayons to color this picture, and paste it down on cardboard. Make the "Stop" panel red and the "Go" panel green. Cut out the picture along the heavy outline and fold forward on the dotted line down the middle, so the picture will stand. Cut out the "Go" panel, and cut the slits marked in the traffic sign, and then you can practice traffic control by changing the signs.

This is the last of six pictures centered on school life past and present.

(Clara R. Sherren first sent in this idea. Perhaps you have an idea for a panel, if so send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Next Week: Fun With Shadows

Pacific to Be Pacified With Odd-Looking Specs

CRESCENT CITY, Calif. (INS)— Queer contraptions which originated in the brain of a Frenchman are being dumped in the ocean off Crescent City to make the Pacific more pacific along this section of the Redwood Empire coast.

Constructed of concrete and resembling jacks which might have been used by the young Paul Bunyan, these odd-appearing objects are called tetrapods. Each of them weighs 25 tons, contains more than 12 cubic yards of concrete and is more than 10 feet high.

* * *

Some 1,630 of these structural oddities will be placed on the seaward slope to protect the breakwater at Crescent City.

Hundreds of tourists visit the beach daily to watch the giant machinery used to fabricate the tetrapods, the over - sized trucks which carry them to the breakwater and the towering crane which swings them over the ocean for placement.

The tetrapods, with four bell-shaped protrusions extending from the center core, are being built under the supervision of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers.

Engineers say they will withstand the action of waves 23 feet high. The rough surface of the bizarre objects absorbs the maximum amount of wave energy.

* * *

Tetrapods were perfected at a hydraulic laboratory at Grenoble, France, and are now being used effectively in Algeria, Tunisia and Morocco to counter the battering by the sea. They are being used for the first time in the Americas on the Crescent City project.

These products of Gallic ingenuity will give added protection to the Crsescent City harbor, one of the oldest in California and one of the most picturesque in the Redwood Empire.

A Bargain Day!

OTTAWA, Ill. (AP) — Bargain day proved to be no bargain for Miss Vietta Gardner when she was pushed by jostling bargain hunters in a local department store. She claims in a $40,000 damage suit that the store placed a sales counter at the head of the basement stair and that the stairs had no adequate railing on which to support herself when she fell.

Circus Destined to Remain Alive

History Proves That Obstacles Cannot Kill the 'Canvas Opera'

WASHINGTON—The big "canvas opera," as circus folk call their tent show, seems finished. But there will be no end to circuses.

* * *

For more than 2,000 years the circus idea and spirit have triumphed over obstacles without number, changing with the times, but always emerging to delight a new generation.

Neither fire, nor puritanism, nor trickery, nor financial problems have been able to conquer the troubadours of laughter and awe, the National Geographic Society says.

The word circus comes from the circular arenas built by the Romans to house chariot races, battles between mean and beasts, and other entertainments. The oldest known circus was the Circus Maximux, built in 329 B.C.

* * *

ACROBATS AND CLOWNS

Retaining its intimate connection with horses, the circus grew closer to its present form in 18th Century London, when "equestrian exhibitions" were enlivened by acrobats and clowns.

* * *

George Washington in 1793 was a guest at the first circus in the United States—that of John Bill Ricketts in Philadelphia. The show included fancy riding, a tightrope walker and a clown.

The menagerie was added to the circus in the 1850s to avoid puritan censure. Churches had proclaimed the circus immoral. By including a traveling zoo, the owners hoped to add an educational tone.

Spectacles were introduced, also of an "educational" nature, such as "Solomon and the Queen of Sheba." Sides of circus wagons were painted with Biblical scenes.

* * *

Now the big-tent show, its owner says, is "a thing of the past," and the "Greatest Show on Earth" has cut short its tour to reorganize.

* * *

But if history is a guide, there will be other circuses in the future.

Judo Worked 2 Ways

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Police officer E. J. Fivel used a "judo chop"—a sharp blow in the back of the neck with the hand — to subdue a man who resisted arrest. It worked. The man was jailed for creating a disturbance. Fivel went to a hospital with a little finger broken in three places.

A Policy in Time

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — When University of Nebraska Football Coach Pete Elliott purchased auto insurance recently from former All-America football player Bob Reynolds, it proved a timely transaction. The same day, Elliott's car was struck by a passing vehicle as it stood parked in front of Elliott's home.

Oklahoma City Reports Cheapest Trick of Week

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Some people have been going to great lengths to save a few pennies, the Daily Oklahoman observes.

The newspaper, which is publishing a contest with crossword puzzles, said several instances have been reported of people taking the paper from news racks, cutting out the puzzles and then replacing the paper.

Pagoda Worth Fortune

SAN FRANCISCO — San Francisco's Chinatown contains an art-goods store that houses the famous Chinese Silver Pagoda spirited out of Shanghai before World War II. It weighs 1,300 pounds and is valued at $500,000.

Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd has made five visits to Antarctica between 1928 and 1956. Even today, however, scarcely more than half of the continent's 6,000,000 square miles has yet been seen by man, the National Geographic Society says.

CITIZENSHIP

J. L. VOORHEES

Few documents preserved from ancient times have the significance and bearing on our individual lives that we enjoy in our Constitution. This document spells out what we can and cannot do. The Bill of Rights alone, has given us a type of freedom unheard of anywhere else on earth. It is this document that should be as familiar to us as our home address and our name. We would have neither were it not for the Constitution.

M. E. SIPLE

In these six days we shall hear speeches on our TV and on our radios. We will read editorials in our newspapers and listen to sermons in our churches; the more we hear, the more we read of this document the more we will appreciate it. Public schools, everywhere, should be a vast screen upon which the vital elements of social and economic existence in the United States of America are made plain and understandable.

September 17-23 is Constitution Week. Make it your week.

Lee Weds Grant in Rush Before Hunting Season

EUGENE, Ore. (AP)—Hiram Emer Lee, 88, and Mrs. Gracen LaGrant, 82, of Lewiston, Idaho, were married here last night.

So they came here and were married by Lee's son, the Rev. Ernest Lee.

Lee met his bride 68 years ago when he was director of a Sunday School in Lewiston and she was a 14-year-old secretary. They went together for four years but Lee married her younger sister and she married Lee LaGrant.

The romance was revived several years ago after the mates of both died.

Lee said one reason for not wasting time waiting for blood tests was that he wanted to get his wife settled before the Oregon hunting season opens Sept. 29.

Your Neighbor's House

September 15-23 to Be National Home Week

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Take a look at a letter you have received recently. Stamped across the top of the envelope may be the words, "National Home Week." For the past nine years one week in September has been set aside to promote all phases of better homes. This year the dates are September 15-23.

All over the country cities observe National Home Week. Residents flock to see new subdivisions, parades of homes and home shows.

In Washington D. C. one of the features of that city's model houses will be the incorporation of the ideas of more than 100 of the nation's housewives into new homes. Last spring the housewives were invited to Washington by the Housing and Home Finance Agency to plan their ideal moderate price home. A Waterford woman was one of the housewives selected to go to Washington.

Building has not stood still in the Pontiac area. Although no actual Parade of Homes is arranged for the next seven days, one need only read the advertisements in the real estate section today to make one's own home parade. In the past ten years over 90,000 houses have been built in Oakland County.

In planning our page for this week we tried to find a variety of building situations, just to give you a quick glimpse of what is going on in the surrounding area.

We have our eye on one young couple who are building their dream home. Once before we tried to get pictures of them and their house. It wasn't ready for photographers then, they said, and still isn't. We'll publish a picture as soon as we get their go-ahead.

Other Pontiac residents are out of the dreaming stage and into the building process. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Emery belong in this category. After several years of looking at houses to buy, they drew up plans and decided to build.

Just a week ago the ground was broken and the basement dug for their six-room brick home on Scott Lake road, just north of Elizabeth Lake road. When we took a picture on Saturday, the wooden forms for the poured basement were in place. By Wednesday of this week the basement walls were up and lumber for flooring and framnig were on the lot.

The Emerys have a son in service who will be home in January. They are looking forward to showing him his new home.

One of the newer subdivisions in Waterford Township is the Lotus Lake subdivision on Williams Lake road. Last Sunday the models were open for inspection and families like the John McBrides of Pontiac were among the visitors.

While some families moved into homes that were already built, others bought custom-built homes and had some say in the planning and decorating.

The James C. Clarkes of Holly sold a four bedroom, three bathroom home and bought a smaller house in Westridge. They had a few apprehensions about their furniture fitting in the smaller space (their "old" living room was 20 x 30 feet, for instance). But now, two months after moving, they are delighted with their choice. Mrs. Clarke is in love with her pretty pink kitchen. The couple practically lives in the family room.

Another story in the local building field is one of pre-fab housing. Prefabs are not new. Charles F. Jaeger of Detroit was building them in 1934. An inventor, he designed several automobile parts that are now standard equipment on cars. In 1941 at Michigan State Fair he had a factory set up that turned out six houses a day.

The war stopped his work. It wasn't until earlier this summer that he began again, this time in Walled Lake, under the name of Sectional Housing Manufacturers. Joining forces with him was a local real-estate man, Bob Mahan. Together they are manufacturing and assembling starter houses in the Pontiac area. Models can be seen in Meadowood Subdivision, out Andersonville road.

The house comes completely assembled in panels. Four men can frame in a house in one day. Any one-story plan and elevation can be used. Local building inspectors agree that the diagonal placing of the sheathing makes for a stronger house than one built in the conventional manner.

Home owning has become more popular in America than at any time in our history. As a nation we have not settled down because we own our homes. Some families change their address as easily as they do their hats.

But more people actually own a small part of their country than ever before. For them and for all future home owners it is fitting to celebrate National Home Week.

Home Owners Are Fussy —and Just Over Fences

The flight to suburbia has made home owners more discriminating about how they enclose their property. Big picture windows, outdoor living and the other trademarks of suburban life have created an unprecedented demand for fences that are versatile—functional as well as attractive, stalwart but not forbidding.

Today's enclosures must be geared to the family's leisure-time activities and in step with the latest trends in home design.

Because of their economy and versatility, wood fences have become the first choice among suburbanites, reports the National Lumber Manufacturers Assn.

An important factor in this choice, according to the lumberman, is that wood fences meet more of the requirements of modern living and offer a wider choice of styles than other fences.

* * *

All of the fence styles covered by the manual qualify as do-it-yourself projects for the amateur home handyman. Or the home owner may select one of the styles for his fencing contractor to follow.

Perhaps the fence you have in mind must serve as a shield against traffic noises and seclude your patio or yard from the view of outsiders. For these jobs, the booklet suggests several different styles.

Among the most popular screen-type fences are the basketweave, stockade, vertical board-and-board, and louver designs. All promote privacy and serve as a natural backdrop for shrubs and flowers. The louver and vertical board-and-board designs also provide maximum ventilation.

White picket, post-and-rail, and horizontal board fences are among the leaders in decorative fencing. These styles provide a handsome frame for home and garden while curbing undesirable cross-traffic.

Many styles of wood fencing need no alteration of basic design in order to keep pets and children in, intruders out. In other cases, only minor variations are required.

* * *

Another advantage of the wood fence is that it uses standard lumber sizes available at any lumber yard. Many lumber dealers also stock prefabricated wood-fence sections—so that all the home owner has to do is set his posts.

Step-by-step instructions on the installation of a wood fence are a special feature of the lumbermen's fence manual. Included are these tips:

1. Use an auger for digging post holes in rock-free soil. A clam-shell digger is more suitable for rocky soil.

* * *

2. In soft or yielding ground, place posts in a subsurface concrete base.

* * *

3. For drainage, put a two-inch layer of gravel in all post holes.

* * *

4. Use a carpenter's level to make sure that posts are vertical and stringers are level.

* * *

5. Whenever possible, drive nails at least one inch from the ends of your boards to minimize the chances of splitting.

Pontiac Press Photo

ONLY A HOLE IN THE GROUND — To build a house you have to make a frightful looking mess of your lot, it seems. One day the Guy Emerys of East Tennyson bought a pleasant, tree-shaded lot on Scott Lake road; two days later they had a big hole in the ground and huge piles of dirt around it. Mr. and Mrs. Emery look over the work already done on the basement. Bateman and Kampsen are building them a six-room brick home. The Emerys hope to move in around November first.

PLEASED HOME OWNER — Mrs. James C. Clarke, formerly of Holly, and now a resident of Westridge, greets the Press photographer at the door of her new home. The Clarkes purchased their house while it was still in the building stage. Thus they were able to choose the colors they wanted for paint and wallpaper. Note the delicate tracery of the wrought iron pillars.

WE LIKE THIS ONE BETTER — The John McBride family of 254 Dick Avenue are currently house hunting. They are interested in moving farther out into the country than their present location. With their nine-year-old daughter, Catherine Jane, they inspected the model homes in the new Lotus Lake Subdivision on Sunday. In the above picture they are discussing exterior styling with H. W. Moulton (left) representing Rose Hill Realty Company. The Lotus Lake homes are three and four bedroom models and are located on Williams Lake road, one block west of Airport Road.

CUSTOM BUILT BRICK — This is the house the Clarkes bought. It is gray brick with yellow and white trim. Wrought iron "pillars" on the front porch are a delicate touch. The house has seven rooms, including a large family room in the rear. The two-car garage has compartmented space for the furnace, heater and water softener. It also has an entire wall of storage closets.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

A Small Workbench

Even a simple table can be made into a workbench. If there's limited space, a small table, of the right height, will serve, or build a table just the size you want. It isn't difficult with framing lumber, shiplap boards for a top and a working surface of Masonite ¼" Tempered Presdwood.

Any way you look at it, the bulky workbenches of yesteryear have given way to a more compact variety. Many are less than two feet wide, for example, and some aren't over three feet long. Lots of good home workshop projects can be carried out just as successfully on a small workbench, or table fixed up like one.

One ingredient most of them have in common — a tough, durable working surface, usually Masonite Tempered Presdwood, which is popular for this use because it's been found so satisfactory in industrial work-benches. If and when it wears out, just remove it and attach another sheet of the material, available at most lumber yards.

Even an apartment can have a workbench of the type illustrated. A portable one, which fits over a kitchen table when needed, is made by framing a panel of Tempered Presdwood with 1 by 2-inch lumber (on edge), so it will slip over the table. For padding, use an old blanket. Store the portable workbench top in a closet or utility room when it's not being used.

On the Way Back

Two-story houses are showing signs of making a strong comeback, according to some observers, primarily because of rising land costs. Lot prices have jumped 17 per cent in a year in some localities.

Use the Press

Wash the storm windows now, and cover with newspapers. Store in a corner of the garage or basement against the day when you'll just have to put them up.

Easy to Make

Sliding doors for cabinets are easy to make with pressed wood hardboard. You can get it smooth on both sides and it takes an enamel finish like metal.

Women Agree: Ventilation-Type Windows Tops

Most of the housewife delegates to the Women's Congress on Housing in Washington, D. C. agreed that among the more important features they want in their future homes are windows which can be opened for ventilation.

* * *

Picture windows overlooking the garden or an attractive landscape are fine, the women said, if sections of the big windows can be opened to let air in.

Architects and builders will have no trouble meeting this demand if they use windows of ponderosa pine, which are available in all sizes and open easily at a touch or the turn of a handle.

* * *

Among the most popular styles are awning and hopper windows. These can be arranged in banks, from a single row at eye level for privacy and easier furniture arrangement, to an entire wall of windows. A large fixed-sash picture window can be flanked by double-hung windows, which open to let air in.

The clear ponderosa pine can be painted or stained to match the decor inside and out. Wood also is a natural insulator and the frames and sash won't sweat.

NEW GI HOMES — This model home, located in the Chambers-Bowen subdivision on East Boulevard, north of Pike street, was designed and built by GIs for GIs. It is one of 80 homes. Special features include select oak floors, large kitchens with ventilating fans, automatic heat, gas incinerators and recreation space in the basement. Buyers will have a choice of five elevations, featuring both hip and gable roofs. Price range is from $14,850 to $15,000, with 5 per cent down for veterans. James A. Taylor agency is handling all details.

East Boulevard Homes for GIs Open Today

Designed, built and sold by GI's —that's the slogan for the Chambers-Bowen subdivision located on East Boulevard north of Pike street. The James A. Taylor Agency is opening its first models today.

* * *

Thirty-seven brick homes with wood trim are already under construction. Forty-three more are planned. They are three bedroom ranch type homes planned for future expansion. Lot sizes vary from 65-80 feet in width and are about 100 feet deep. Buyers will have a choice of five different elevations.

Other features of these new city homes are full basements with 14x36 recreation space; plastered walls; ceramic tile baths. All the wardrobe closets have sliding doors. There are two linen closets. Storm windows and screen combinations are included in the purchase price.

Mr. Taylor says that paved streets and sidewalks, as well as water and sewer service will be put in before the subdivision is completed.

* * *

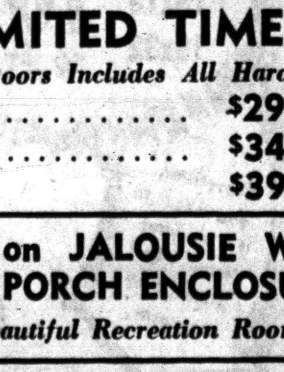
Starting today the models will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. Purchase price is from $14,850 to $15,000 with 5 per cent down for veterans and 30 year mortgages. FHA applications are also available.

Landscaping Does It

When confronted with a pattern home, uniform lot and a grid street pattern, there's only one way to save your castle from monotony — landscaping. Arrange your planting first from the point of view of variety. Try also to screen those visually vulnerable parts of the home with high hedges, especially if the house is exposed to the street.

Avoid a Dirty Job

It's about that time again! The time for cleaning the furnace coal bin. Remove all the dust with the vacuum cleaner and then spray with paint or whitewash, using the "vac" for this, too. The cleaner can get all the cobwebs, dust and grit, and can paint, too, all in a short time.



HANDY LIBRARY: Handiest place we know for a casual reading library is the waste space on the stairway wall going to upstairs bedrooms. These bookcases with a planter above can be built of smooth appearing Douglas fir that will look like a piece of finest furniture. They can be set back into the wall or built to project the depth of the bookcase, about eight inches.

Always Something New

A new smokeless, odorless home incinerator, designed as kitchen appliance has been developed by Waste King Corp., Los Angeles, Calif. Encased in a modern cabinet to match modern kitchen and service porch interiors, it will dehydrate and consume all ordinary kitchen combustible waste, such as garbage, paper, wood and small animals and vermin.

Now's the time to check your supply of fuses, before winter's storms set in.

The Most Important

The least costly part of a home is the most important part, the roof, walls, doors, windows and floor, all built of wood, cost about ten per cent of the total contract price. The frame of the home, seldom seen, may last for a century or more when built of such durable woods as Douglas fir or west coast hemlock, yet the costly plumbing, heating, ventilating and kitchen fixtures need replacing more than once during the lifetime of the average family.

Hardened paint brushes will soften readily if you place them in hot vinegar and then wash them in warm suds.

Indianwoods Models Open

A community of homes in a wooded country atmosphere, with recreation and bathing facilities within easy reach of all residents, is the goal of the developers of Indianwoods. This new lake subdivision lies near both Loon and Schoolhouse Lakes. It is entered from Walton boulevard, east of Sashabaw road.

* * *

Residents will have the use of a five acre private park with complete recreation facilities, as well as 1000 feet of sandy beach. Blacktop roads, a central water system and street lighting are also planned.

The homes already built as models are air conditioned, dual level ranch homes. They have three and four bedrooms with from 1½ to 3 bathrooms. Sliding glass doors lead to an outdoor patio. Fireplaces are two-way. Bedrooms have eight foot closets with folding doors. Recreation rooms are finished.

Buyers may also purchase lots and have their homes custom built. Indianwoods Homes, Inc. is in charge of designing and building. Clarkston Real Estate is handling the sales.

* * *

After today models will be open weekdays from 1 to 8 p.m. and weekends from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m.

INDIANWOODS — Located northwest of Pontiac, Indianwoods subdivision is an area of dual level ranch homes. Buyers may have their choice of finished models like the one above or have a home built to their specifications on one of 60 lots. Prices start at $21,000. The homes are designed and built by Indianwood Homes, Inc., with Clarkston Real Estate handling the sales.

Toddler Has Answer for Inquiring Officer

HOHOKUS, N. J. (AP) — A little shaver toddling down the street was stopped by Patrolman William Menduno who asked, "What's your father's name?"

"Daddy," replied the 2½-year-old kid.

* * *

Actually, the boy's father is named Shaver. His mother, Mrs. Carl Shaver, drove up just then and claimed her son, David. He had wandered five blocks from home.

Tweeds Head Up Upholstery Parade

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—Tweed and the newest fabrics are becoming popularity leaders in upholstery.

company sales manager, said the trend in upholstery is strongly away from the mohair and tapestry designs popular for so many years.

Cohn also pointed out another recent trend. Cherry, blue mink and other light colors are popular for bedroom and dining room furniture. He explained it this way:

"People are getting away from walnut and mahogany finishes. The trend is toward newer finishes —cherry wood in satin finish, blue mink finish and fruit wood in provincial types.

SEAMSTRESS' DREAM — Every woman who sews dreams about a special place for sewing. Here is a compact sewing corner in a utility room made of lovely west coast hemlock. Cabinets close out of sight when not in use and so does sewing machine and dress forms. Cabinets reach from floor to ceiling, are finished to make elegant installations. Building Record Set in August

House Volume Down, but Industry Makes Up the Difference

WASHINGTON (INS)—The government says construction valued at $4,261,000,000 was completed in August—an all-time high for one month.

* * *

The Commerce and Labor Departments said August volume was two per cent above July. They added it was at an annual rate of $44,300,000,000, a record.

Although house building has been below 1955, it has been more than offset by increases in industrial, utility and commercial construction.

The government said construction completed in the first eight months of 1956 was valued at $28,397,000,000, two per cent above the same period last year and a record for the first three-quarters of a year.

* * *

Outlays for office and warehouse buildings, private industrial plants, public utilities, schools, highways, sewer and water works, and public service projects reportedly were at an all-time high in August.

Nows the time to buy that shovel or snow scoop you needed all last winter.

Spray Paint Accessories

Looking for ways to add new (and inexpensive) sparkle to the summer-worn home decor?

* * *

With the little ones safely back in the classrooms and more leisure to indulge in decorating, attention focuses not only on new furnishings but ways to rejuvenate old household accessories.

This year, working hand in hand with the amateur painter, are the new spray paints which can perform speedy miracles, especially with articles once considered tricky and tedious to brush-paint.

Some are color-matched to standard lines of enamels. This means that kitchen or bathroom accessories can be sprayed to match freshly painted walls or woodwork.

TRY WHITE

If you're tired of the black wrought-iron planter, try it sprayed white with clay pots sprayed in blue or lemon yellow. If old wicker furniture looks seedy, spray it white or a light color and reclaim it for sun porch or den. Metal mesh sconces, picture or mirror frames, children's toy boxes, bassinets (protected by liners from direct ocntact with the baby) are some of the paintable possibilities.

Warm autumn days permit outdoor spray painting. Although the method is clean and you're not so apt to paint yourself along with the article at hand, the mist of paint tints everything it touches. If you paint indoors be sure to plaster walls behind the object and the floor beneath with newspapers.

As for tiny objects—I'm gilding seed pods, pine cones, acorns and nut shells for decorative holiday use—I find one of the most effective ways to handle them is to put them in a deep cardboard carton which is turned on its side with the opening facing you. That way the paint residue lands on the cardboard.

* * *

Spray paints dry rapidly and, in most cases, it's advisable to spray successive thin coats rather than try for one heavy coat.

Another pointer is to keep the spray can moving all the time your finger is pushing the button to avoid drips or runs.

Moderate Priced House Becoming Thing of Past

WASHINGTON (INS) — The low to moderate priced new home is going the way of the old gray mare.

* * *

This relatively new trend has become increasingly clear in the past 12 months although the tight mortgage market which forced a drop in the number of housing starts has been only a contributing factor.

Other major reasons are in the increasing costs of land and construction and the generally higher standard of living.

Like all changes in social patterns, the shift is expected to be gradual and, at times, inconsistent. Its beginning apparently dates from the revival of the national economy in the autumn of 1954.

The passing of massive projects with monotonous crackerbarrel-constructed houses will not be mourned in many circles.

As envisioned by some economists, families in the market for low to moderate priced new houses will put their money into good second-hand homes traded-in by others moving up to better residences.

LITTLE MAN PINCHED

But the National Association of Real Estate Boards points out that the "little man" is in a pinch right now with old-home prices holding steady and mortgage money unavailable on new ones he can afford.

A recent NAHB survey of its members pointed up the new trend. It showed a 30 per cent decline since the previous year in construction of new houses valued at $10,000 or less and a 60 per cent jump in the number of those worth $15,000 or more.

The builders gave as their reasons the higher costs and the difficulty in finding buyers who could qualify as good credit risks for the limited amount of money going into new home construction.

He said the scarcity of money "can and will remedy itself," but other factors will hold prices up. He referred in particular to a 20 per cent increase in one year in land and development costs and to new zoning ordinances which are boosting minimum lot sizes.

People in the market for homes now, explained the economist, have more money than they did 10 years ago. In 1947-48 many of them bought "anything with four walls and a roof" but now they are shopping around with a discriminating eye to location, size, appearance and space.

Most Is Soft Wood

About 75 per cent of all North American lumber production is from softwoods, says the National Lumber Manufacturers Assn. Softwoods are the needle-bearing trees. Hardwoods are broad-leaved trees. Most softwood goes into general purpose building, while most hardwood is used for furniture, paneling and flooring.

Did You Know . . .

Ideal material for cooking utensils is metal for it is unequalled for a conductor of heat and cold. Ideal material for home construction, for siding, and window frames, sheathing and studding is wood for it is a very poor conductor of heat and cold, has its own naturally built-in insulating system.

Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

Take a Hint

Hobbyists who work with sheet metal will be interested in a safety tip given by Popular Mechanics. Craftsmen are aware that large metal sheets are difficult to pick up and move around on a workbench or squaring shears. They often inflict cuts and bruises.

As a time saver and injury preventative, the magzine suggests that a mallet handle be fitted with a rubber crutch or cane tip and used to slide the sheet to the desired position. Little effort is required to move the sheet, as sufficient friction is created by the soft rubber.

Another idea from this source: For a too-wide door, it's better to plane the hinge side, as it is much simpler to relocate the hinge screw holes than it is to reset the latch.

Dining Room Usefulness Enhanced by Right Color

WASHINGTON, D. C.—With the arrival of fall the dining room again comes into its own, resuming its place as the center of family life. No more outdoor barbeques, picnics, porch suppers; so the dining room takes on new importance as it becomes the daily meeting place, perhaps the only one, for all the members of the family. An attractively decorated dining room can give a quality of distinction to even the plainest meals, calling for good manners and good conversation to contribute to the enjoyment of food.

* * *

But too often the dining room is a dreary place, a step-child between the elegant comfort of the living room and the streamlined efficiency of the kitchen. Sometimes it wears the living room hand-me-downs — a rug of the wrong shape or color; or worse, one that bears the reminder of Junior's cereal-throwing days and the time Dad spilled his coffee.

A bare floor, attractively finished, is easy to keep clean and is in step with either traditional or contemporary furnishings and decoration.. Either light or dark wood floors, given depth and lustre with wax, will form a successful background for dining room furniture. Or use a floor enamel or porch and deck paint on the floor to correlate with your wall colors.

The dining table may need a complete refinishing job — there's time to send it out or do it yourself before chill days put it into daily use.

With all of the colors in the rainbow to choose from, it's strange that dining room walls are so often given an uninspired color treatment. So much has been said about the psychological effect of color and the importance of harmony at mealtime, it seems the dining room, of all rooms, should be the place for a therapeutic use of color.

The size of the room, the way it is proportioned and lighted should influence your choice of color, as well as the view from the adjoining room or hall, for it must be a harmonious part of the whole. Dining rooms, usually small, must contain so many pieces of furniture that a "busy" effect can be the result of a too elaborate wall treatment.

If your house is in the planning stage and you're considering the use of a mural or large-figured decoration, better think over your furniture arrangement before you decide, to avoid an appearance of over crowding. Plain painted walls in a soft finish may turn out better as a background for your silver and china treasures.

Take down those old-fashioned wall light brackets, of course. A handsome new chandelier is not expensive. A shaded floor lamp, too, will help to overcome Dad's objection to candlelight dining, and will be handy when the dining table is used for paper work.

* * *

Try to have a small serving serving table that can be set in front of a window for two-some meals. Thoughtful attention to your dining room now may work wonders later in the season, not only in its appearance, but in the family's welfare and companionship as well.

Condensation Is Not Caused by Insulation

Contrary to belief, insulation does not cause condensation. Insulation does not cause the paint on your house to peel, either.

"Moisture gets into your home through leaky chimneys, flashing, crumbling mortar joints, leaky gutters, damaged siding, torn and broken shingles and so on. But condensation of excessive moisture produced within your home is usually the real problem.

"To correct both problems, first mend the openings in your home where water from the outside enters. Then vent out the moisture vapor produced in the kitchen, bathroom, laundry and so on. One good way to do this is to simply open a window. Or, where extreme conditions exist, install exhaust fans in these rooms.

"Vents in the gables of your home also let moist air out. Ready-made louvres of metal and wood are available and easy to install yourself. Be sure they are large enough to meet your requirements. To figure the size vents you need in the attic figure one square foot for each 100 square feet of floor area."

Another method of controlling condensation is to prevent water vapor penetration into areas where it can cause trouble. This can be done by insulating walls and ceilings with mineral wool batts or blankets. The batts or blankets should be installed with the vapor barrier next to the heated side of the wall or ceiling.

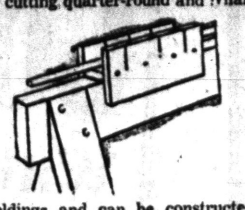
Handy Jim's FIXIN-UP TIPS For the Home

Wooden Miter Box

Popular Mechanics suggests a handy wooden miter box for use on a sawhorse. This is excellent for cutting quarter-round and small moldings and can be constructed from three pieces of scrap lumber in a few minutes.



As illustrated, the box is constructed to fit snugly over a sawhorse. Thus there is support at a comfortable height and the location of the unit can be changed to meet convenience.

* * *

Another worthwhile suggestion from this magazine is to use sheet-metal screws to seal holes that were punched into a can so that part of the contents could be poured out. The screws prevent evaporation, eliminate pollution and look neat.

Check Radiators Before Winter

Keeping Them Clean Cuts Fuel Bills, Vapors When Winter Comes

* * *

A defective radiator, or one not properly maintained, will increase fuel bills and still not keep a room comfortably warm. Some pointers on radiator efficiency:

Be sure radiators are clean, especially in hard - to - reach areas. Dust on a radiator acts as insulation and gives off vapors when the heating plant is started.

Long low radiators look better and are more effective than narrow, high ones. They have greater surface exposed to the cool air at floor level. Therefore, they warm a greater volume of air than narrow radiators do.

USE REFLECTORS

Good practice calls for placing radiators under windows, but you waste much heat if you don't have a reflector between them and the wall. With no reflector, the wall temperature may go as high as 125 degrees. A reflector throws the heat back into the room.

Tops of radiator covers under windows should be finished with waterproof materials which will not be damaged when windows are left open and rain comes in.

Badly constructed enclosures can cut radiator efficiency in half. In building an enclosure, leave plenty of space between it and the top of the radiator. This space should be at least as high as the radiator's front-to-back width.

* * *

Enclose the bathroom radiator, to prevent burns to members of the family. Finish the enclosure so it may serve as a shelf for perfumes and bath salts.

* * *

Finally, if radiators need refinishing, use an oil rather than a metallic paint. Metallic paints cut heating efficiency about 15 per cent.

Basements Popular Because of Low Cost

It costs about $14 to $16 per square foot of floor space built above the ground, but only about $1.25 per square foot of equivalent floor space below ground. Modern planning and materials can make this "bargain basement" area as light, dry and livable as rooms above ground.

Expense of New Homes to Rise, Says NAHB Chief

WASHINGTON—John M. Dickerman, executive director of the National Assn. of Home Builders, said today there is "every indication" that the cost of new homes will continue to rise in the months ahead. He called the situation "highly regrettable."

"Although higher steel prices resulting from the recent negotiations will have little direct impact on the home building industry, which uses comparatively little steel, the indirect effects certainly will be felt throughout the entire economy," Dickerman said. "These cannot help but adversely influence the prices of building materials and home builders must take this into consideration in the planning of future construction programs."

Furthermore, the NAHB official said, the tremendously high level of overall construction — now at an annual rate of $44.4 billion—is exerting strong upward pressures on prices. And these, he pointed out, will be increased sharply when the new highway program, which will make heavy demands on cement and steel capacity, gets fully underway.

"It is highly regrettable that our industry has to be confronted with a new round of increases at a time when it already is plagued with the high costs of land, labor, money and material," Dickerman continued. "Every increase in building costs acts to eliminate some potential home buyers on the lower end of the income scale and aggravates an already unsettled market. The more efficient use of labor and materials which home builders are constantly searching out can offset only part of the increases."

Information reaching NAHB indicates that ready-mixed concrete prices are up 6.6 per cent from a year ago; brick prices have shown a comparable rise and yellow pine lumber has shown a 4 per cent increase.

Other increases over the year include plumbing equipment, up 9 per cent; hardware, up 5 per cent; plate glass and paint, up 4 per cent.

Some Write Books, Others 'Make' Them

BOSTON (AP)—Michael Mascarri, 60, objected to being called a bookie when he was fined $500 in municipal court on a charge of being present where gaming implements were found.

* * *

"I'm not a bookie, I'm a writer," he told the court.

He didn't say what type of writing he pursued. The police said he "wrote book" on the speed of horses.

Survey Shows Air Conditioning Saves Money, Adds Mental, Physical Comfort

WASHINGTON, D.C. — One of the nation's first completely air conditioned house developments is rounding out its fourth summer with proof positive people with air conditioning are better off physically, financially—even mentally.

* * *

Builders and owners alike are focusing attention on results of a survey of these houses at Valley Brook, Va., a suburb of Washington. The area was chosen for tests of year-round air conditioning because it offers wide extremes in weather.

When the development opened at Valley Brook in 1952, it was hailed as one of the two first developments to boast air conditioning in all its houses. And at a price tag of under $30,000.

The survey shows more than two-thirds of the families queried have noticed improvement in the general health of all members including pets! In two of the houses where members suffer from pollen allergies or hay fever, there was decided improvement. In fact, medical savings in this household were estimated at from $25 to more than $300 a year.

LESS HOUSEWORK

"Is there any difference in the household cleaning work required in your home?" Valley Brook housewives were asked. All reported important labor-saving advantages on the air conditioning systems, especially while other houses in the development were still under construction or roads were being built. Less time was needed for dusting, cleaning drapes and upholstery, and less redecorating was required. This saved money, too.

The effect of air conditioning on summer appetites was noted by all interviewed, particularly where there were children in the family. Frying food while temperatures outside hovered in the 90s was no problem. Uninteresting cold foods were out.

One Valley Brook housewife reports air conditioning not only relieves her husband's hay fever, but seems to add to the comfort of her father-in-law, who suffers from a heart ailment. All five children in this family eat heartily in summertime when the air conditioner is on, she reported.

* * *

"The other day I forgot to turn it on and I wondered why nobody would eat the dinner I had prepared," she told the interviewer.

Next door, where there are four children, appetites are good, too. And this houseowner says insects and dust are at a minimum in summer.

At a nearby house the air conditioner is a treat not only for family, but friends of their teenagers. The gang prefers to gather at this house than to go elsewhere

This family also believes their house will be easier to sell if they decide to do so.

A neighbor reported her family spends more time at home, where it is air conditioned, rather than going to movies and other recreation spots. Thus, entertainment expenses are lowered. The family rests better, doctor bills are lower and colds are at a minimum.

And so, what started out as a building experiment four years ago has become a success and highlighted a trend. The residents of Valley Brook say air conditioning is here to stay.

Cirrhosis Rated 10th Among State's Killers

LANSING (AP) — Cirrhosis of the liver has risen to 10th place among killers in Michigan.

The State Health Department said there is no known reason for the relative increase in cirrhosis deaths.

In 1955, 805 of the state's 52,652 deaths from disease, accidents and other causes were attributed to cirrhosis of the liver. This figures 1.5 per cent.

It represents the first time since the department started compiling record in 1900 that the liver disease was among the top 10 causes of death.

In 1954, it was 13th, accounting for 577 deaths. Last year, however, it passed nephritis, or kidney inflammation, and nephrosis, which is kidney degeneration.

Models Replace Jets — Navy Aids Fliers-to-Be

DALLAS, Tex. (INS)—Pilots and the men who design airplanes are made, not born, and the Navy believes some of the making starts with model aircraft.

So, once a year, one of the country's major naval air stations is turned over to the boys, men and an occasional female who make and fly model airplanes.

The modelers, members of the Academy of Model Aeronautics, come from all parts of the United States and sometimes a foreign country to fly their hand-made planes in competition.

Runways which normally accommodate the Navy's jet aircraft are shut down during daylight hours so the tiny models can be flown unhampered; hangars are turned into workshops where damaged toy planes can be repaired, and modelers invade and are welcome at almost every nook and cranny on the base.

"It is disrupting to normal base operations," admits Lt. Comdr. Paul E. Wanous, liaison officer at the Dallas Naval Air Base, "but the Navy feels it is worth it because it believes the future of aviation lies in having a backlog of persons devoted to flying."

Wanous pointed out that many of the Navy's crack pilots as well as some of the country's top airplane designers were and still are model plane enthusiasts.

"A person just can't make and fly even the simplest type of model plane without learning a little something about aerodynamics," Wanous pointed out, "and once a boy wins in competition he usually has flying in his blood for life."

Modelers competing at Dallas this year range in age from six to 75—from groups like the six youthful members of the Prop Busters Model Club who did odd jobs all year to earn their way from Seneca Park, N. Y., to Dr. Walter A. Goode, a physicist at Johns Hopkins University.

Models, made with painstaking care sometimes requiring almost a year to perfect into flying form, range from the little hand-launched glider types to radio-controlled — and in size from as small as a six-inch to as large as a six-foot wing span.

Honor Among Thieves

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Three bandits grabbed $74 in the holdup of a service station and then took $5 from an attendant—but one of them had a heart. The station attendant told the intruding trio that he had a big family to support and needed the $5. Before the bandits drove off, one of them peeled off a $5 bill and slipped it to the attendant.

Offers Deluge Destitute Kelly

Admirers Rush to Help Broke, Sick War Hero Get Back on Feet

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Charles (Commando) Kelly, winner of the nation's highest military honor for his heroism in World War II, today is looking for a job and a way out of his financial troubles.

* * *

And the 35-year-old Medal of Honor holder said he is "overwhelmed" by offers of help that have come from friends and others who have heard of his difficulties.

* * *

Kelly's bills began mounting after an operation for appendicitis last Aug. 5. Peritonitis set in and doctors told Kelly he would have to take it easy, at least until October.

A Louisville radio station, WKLO, announced yesterday it will hold a benefit program in Kelly's behalf next Thursday night.

* * *

Kelly, seated in the modest government project where he lives with his wife and six children, said he was not seeking "charity" but only a way to earn a living.

* * *

A slim, dark-haired man with a perpetual grin, Kelly won the Medal of Honor for single-handedly holding off a German advance in Italy in 1943, killing 40 of the enemy.

At Pittsburgh, Pa., Kelly's home town, Allegheny County Commissioner John M. Walker proposed that Kelly be put on the county payroll. Walker said the proposal was discussed with the two other commissioners and it was decided to ask the Federation of War Veterans for advice.

* * *

However, Kelly, who has worked at construction projects here and at nearby Frankfort, Ky., said he "probably" would stay in Louisville.

Leader Dog School Needs More Animals

* * *

"We always need good dogs. We never have had enough but now the demand is greater than ever before," Pocklington said. He pointed out the school is planning to expand and build more kennels.

Anyone with a dog that can qualify as a leader can help by bringing it directly to the Rochester School for examination by a veteran trainer, he said.

Dogs eligible to be trained as leaders include German Shepherds, purebred Collies, Labradors, Chestnuts, and Golden retrievers between the ages of one and two years.

AN EXAMPLE

An example of the type of dog welcomed by the Leader Dog School is a German Shepherd named Rinnie donated by Donald LaBarge of Waterford Township last March.

Rinnie recently graduated with honors along with a blind student named Joseph Pardo. The two now are practicing what they learned back in Pardo's native Detroit.

They haven't been separated since they met Aug. 8 at the school. They took advanced training in heavy traffic and hurrying crowds around Pontiac streets.

* * *

Pocklington urges local citizens to follow LaBarge's lead in contributing dogs to an outstanding cause.

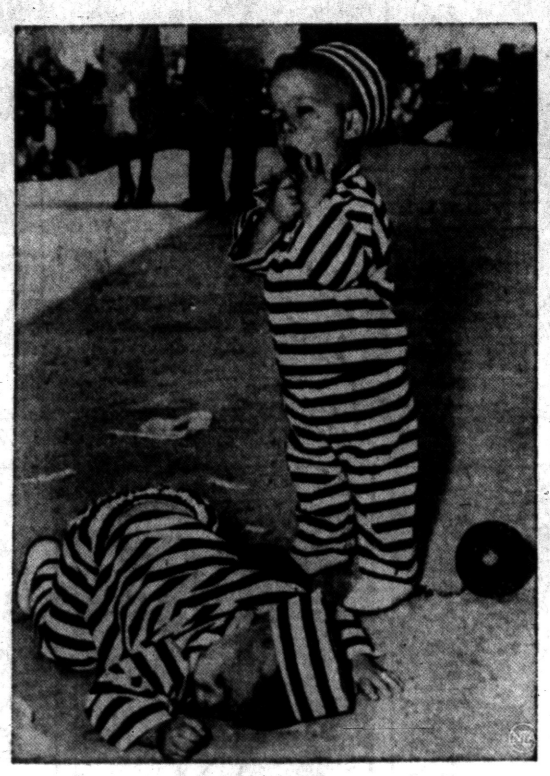
Dogs are taught obedience and basic guide work, and to recognize such hazardous conditions as moving traffic, pedestrians, curbs, low-hanging branches, awnings, puddles and everything that might be dangerous to their master.

DOGS CAUTIOUS

The Leader Dog and his blind master cooperate in observing the same safety rules followed by persons who can see. The dogs will not proceed until it is safe and the master has issued the command.

Although training a dog and student costs the Leader Dog School about $1,250, the student's obligation is only $150. It's payable over an eight-year period.

The balance is contributed by the United Fund, Lions Clubs and charitable people interested in the school. A total of 108 Leader Dogs was graduated last year.



NO BARS TO ACHIEVEMENT — "Prisoners" John and Ronald White of Norwalk, Calif., go through some of the antics which captured the hearts of the audience at the 19th annual Twinorama competition in Huntington Beach, Calif. The boys' reward is title of "most handsome" twins to appear in the show.

87 Building Permits OK'd by City Totaling $553,615

Building permits for 50 new homes in four city subdivisions, a Pontiac State Bank branch office, and a new drug store on Baldwin avenue all highlight a total of $553,615 in permits approved recently by the city building inspector.

Carl F. Alt said the 87 permits issued from last Friday through Sept. 13 did not represent an "unusual amount of permits issued." "This is the time most builders will be applying for permits," he said.

Included in the grand total was a permit for construction of a 50 by 120 foot building at 37 W. Yale being constructed by the Metropolitan Club Spirit No. 6. The estimated cost of construction was $25,000.

Fifteen new 36 by 24 frame single family dwellings with full basements at $8,000 each construction cost will soon be built in the Perry Park Subdivision. One will go on Stirling, one on Kenilworth, two on Emerson, and 11 on Scottwood. They are being built by the Detroit firm of Lerner Langer Building Co.

The Practical Home Builders, Inc. of Detroit was granted three permits for homes in Pontiac Knolls Subdivision. Two will be 36 by 28 foot brick veneer one-family with full basements ($8,000), while the third will be the same construction but 34 by 26 foot in size. The latter cost was estimated at $10,000.

Seventeen $6,000 homes will soon go up in the Woodward Estates Subdivision. They will be 26 by 36 frame single family dwellings without basements. They are being constructed by the Pontiac Home Builders of Detroit.

The Sallee Woods Subdivision will be the construction site of 13 new brick veneer 36 by 24 single-family homes being built by Herbert Chernick of Detroit. Seven homes will be built on West Hopkins and six on West Princeton. Estimated cost for each is $8,000.

The city bank will build its addition at 1261 Baldwin Ave. at an estimated cost of $80,000. It will be a 91 by 40 by 12 foot masonry building.

Jersey City Puzzled by Honest Citizen

Charles H. Lewis of Feesterville Pa., sent the check yesterday to the director of revenue after first asking for a bill three weeks ago.

He said he felt he had a moral obligation to pay the tax on the car he bought here in 1921.

City officials were both pleased and puzzled. It seems the particular tax Lewis wanted to pay went out of existence in 1927 and they don't know to what account they should credit the payment.

City to Put Meters in First of 3 Lots

Parking meters will be installed Monday in one of the three new municipal parking lots, Robert A. Stierer, Pontiac administrative assistant announced yesterday.

He said the meters will be put into the 148-stall lot on West Lawrence just west of the railroad viaduct.

Parking will be allowed there by "the middle of the week," he said. He said the lot is only graveled and graded and is not expected to be blacktopped until October.

Meters are expected to be installed in the East Lawrence 81-car lot at the foot of Wayne after installation is complete in the first lot. Work is still continuing on the Lafayette-Wayne-Pine-Jacokes lot.

* * *

The United States exported 562,000,000 pounds of lard during 1955, an increase of nearly 100,000,000 pounds from 1954 shipments and more than three times the prewar export figure.

Havana Students Riot

HAVANA (AP)—Police and troops were called in to quell an outbreak of violence by college students at Santiago last night. Order was restored after the students were reported to have smashed and set fire to school furniture. No one was injured. The reports gave no reason for the outbreak.

Dogtown Has One Dog

DOGTOWN, Ohio (AP) — There are 11 people, 4 houses and 4 cats but only one dog in Dogtown. The dog is Pepper, an 11-year-old cocker spaniel. He lives in one of the houses with five of the people, the Robert Parker family.

Comedian Oliver Hardy Suffers Serious Stroke

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—Comedian Oliver Hardy, 64, member of the famed slapstick team, Laurel and Hardy, is in serious condition today after suffering a stroke. He was stricken at his home yesterday morning and was taken to a hospital in a semiconscious state.

Hardy, round-faced and with a body to match, teamed up with frail Stan Laurel in Hollywood to turn out more than 200 comedies. They made their last movie together in 1945 but the films have been shown steadily on television in the years since then.

Jackrabbit Capital

JORDAN, Mont. (AP) — This small Montana town once called "the most lonesome town in the United States," has so many rabbits that it claims to be the jackrabbit capital of the world. One shipper sent 17,000 rabbits to market, but old timers claim as many jackrabbits are on hand now as there ever were.

Univac to Match Couple on Art Linkletter's Show

By JOAN HANAUER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The 1956 version of cupid is a giant computer brain unromantically called Univac.

* * *

This tender-hearted mechanical monster works things out with flashing lights and electronic relays, rather than the old-fashioned, hit-or-miss bow and arrow method. And the latest in cupids has an assistant — genial Art Linkletter, emcee of "People Are Funny."

The first "People Are Funny" show for fall has a new twist—it is going to find some suitable spouses for a blonde but single gal named Nancy Martin. Miss Martin answered a "People Are Funny" newspaper advertisement, filled out the proper questionnaire and settled back.

Univc took over from there, comparing her likes and dislikes, looks and opinions with those of eligible males. And tonight at 6:30 she'll see the mate the machine picked for her. So will the NBC television audience.

* * *

Linkletter and his partner, John Guedel, hit one this mechanical mating gimmick after debating what to do to compete with the giveaway shows that offer $64,000, $100,000 and, perhaps in the near future, $250,000.

LOVE PREFERRED

* * *

"Everybody wants love, companionship and to be wanted," explained Linkletter, who has been happily married for 20 years and is the proud pop of five youngsters.

Examining the questions that Univac wants answered before selecting a spouse, one comes to the conclusion that mechanical brains may be smart, but they aren't interested in smoochy nonsense.

There are 28 questions to be read into the electronic wonder, but none of them pretains to the electricity between two lovers.

* * *

"That's where 'People Are Funny' takes over," said Linkletter. "We just speed things up, shortening the 'getting to know you' period. Machines still can't do everything."

Robber Tells of Brink's Job

O'Keefe Testifies Gang Broke Into Plant Often Before Holdup

BOSTON (AP) — Joseph "Specs" O'Keefe bluntly told a Superior Court jury he robbed the Brink's headquarters of $1,219,000 and the eight men on trial were with him.

He testified as a state witness yesterday that the robbery was in the planning stage for more than two years.

He said members of the gang broke into Brink's at least 15 times to study the physical layout of the place before the robbery was carried out on the night of Jan. 17, 1950.

O'Keefe said various methods of getting their hands on the big loot were discussed before it finally was decided to invade the vault room with guns.

Members of the gang made frequent night-time exploration, the witness said, opening locked doors with an icepick and a piece of celluloid. O'Keefe said that between the first entry in October, 1948, and the robbery date he "went in with all of them," meaning the eight men on trial:

Anthony Pino, 49; Joseph McGinnis, 53; Thomas F. Richardson, 49; James I. Faherty, 45; Henry Baker, 50; Adolph Maffie, 45; Vincent J. Costa, 42, and Michael V. Geagan, 47.

O'Keefe also implicated Stanley Gusciora, 36, and Joseph S. Banfield, who died before the trial began six weeks ago.
