Ike Considers Honest Defense Cut Impossible

Beck Didn't List Teamster Loans, Claims Witness

WASHINGTON (AP)—An insurance official testified today Dave Beck did not list loans of $300,000-plus from the Teamsters Union when making a financial statement in 1951.

Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee, commented: "It would therefore appear that the money was stolen rather than borrowed."

Kennedy referred to statements Beck, the Teamsters Union president, has made to the effect that he borrowed several hundred thousands dollars from the union interest free.

The Senate committee contends its evidence indicates Beck misused at least $320,000 of union funds. It has advanced the suggestion that Beck decided to call this money loans after income tax agents began investigating his tax returns.

A. M. Burke, a vice president of the Occidental Life Insurance Co. of California testified that he returned the 1951 financial statement to Beck in 1953 or in 1954.

He said this was before Beck had paid off a $273,000 personal loan from the insurance company on a note signed by Beck and Mrs. Beck.

RETURNS STATEMENT

Burke said the statement was returned at Beck's request.

Burke related that the company had required the financial statement when it made the loan in 1951.

"Had the loan been paid off," asked Chairman McClellan (D-Ar.).

"No, sir," Burke replied. But he said Beck was current in his payments on the loan.

Kennedy said "the financial statement takes on additional significance" because the Internal Revenue Service was investigating Beck's income tax returns in 1953, although it did not get around to talking to Beck about them until the following year.

Burke said he thought he had made a note for the files which would show when the statement was returned, but that while "it seems to me that I did, I do not find that I did. I cannot find it."

Burke's memorandum reported that Beck, in making the financial statement, had declined to list his "salary and benefits" from the union.

It quoted Beck as having said that these were small but that he was "not dissatisfied because this was his life work."

That drew a laugh from the crowd of spectators in the big hearing room.

Kennedy said the Teamster insurance contract involves payments of about 25 million dollars a year in premiums.

In the present phase of the hearings, the committee was turning

Beck to Be Scuttled

(Editor's Note: The Detroit News said in a Washington dispatch that it learned from reliable sources that a "majority of the 13-man Teamsters general executive board has decided to scuttle" Beck.

(The News said the decision that Beck must go was "arrived at eagerly by a few, reluctantly by several but inevitably by a majority."

(The News story said that while a majority of the five-man delegation of Teamsters' vice presidents "agreed to throw in the sponge on Beck, there were indications that James R. Hoffa, Detroit based Teamsters vice President, defended Beck to the end as he has done publicly on numerous occasions.")

House Debates Park Fee Bill

Proposed Admission to State Facilities Faces Stiff Dem Opposition

LANSING (AP) — A bill proposing an admission charge to Michigan's 59 state parks and recreation areas faced its most formidable hurdle today as it neared a final vote in the House.

Approved by a substantial margin in the Senate, the measure ran into stiff opposition in the House yesterday, mostly from Detroit area Democrats, who attacked it as "an unfair consumer's tax."

Under the bill, the State Conservation Department would charge motorists $2 for a sticker which would admit their car to all state parks for a year. One-day admission charges up to 50 cents also would be sold.

Conservation authorities say the plan would bring in between one and two million dollars a year for park upkeep and expansion.

Rep. Lucille McCollough (D-Dearborn) branded the bill as a Republican attempt "to squeeze the last dollar you can out of the people."

'NOTHING SENSIBLE'

"It's a real mess," she declared. "There's nothing sensible or businesslike about it."

Rep. Joseph Kowalsky (D-Detroit) joined in the opposition, contending motorists would be forced to line up for miles waiting to pay their admission fees.

"And since parks can be entered at several points, it would create a condition of lawlessness where people try to sneak in," he added.

Newspaper Ad Aids Housewife in Distress

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — When Mrs. Edythe Lowe finished her washing she took it from the dryer and set it out for pickup by an ironing service.

A Boy Scout spotted it on the front porch. He picked it up and took it downtown by mistake. The scouts were having a clothing salvage drive. He presumed Mrs. Lowe was cooperating.

When her laundry didn't come back she called the ironing service. They said they had called but found no laundry on the porch.

Mrs. Lowe ran an advertisement in the Ventura Star-Free Press. The scoutmaster read it, found the laundry and returned it personally to Mrs. Lowe.

Fund Transfers for Courthouse Aired in Session

Surpluses Were Placed in Building Account, Witness Testifies

Oakland County transferred $1,341,500 to building funds last year, it was testified in Circuit Court today.

As plans for a new courthouse neared completion, the Board of Supervisors ordered two transfers of $612,277 and $378,853 from general funds to building funds, figures in an audit of the county's financial records showed.

Another $250,000 surplus in the direct welfare fund also went into the fund earmarked for the new building, it was testified by an accountant for the Oakland County Taxpayers' League.

The League has brought suit against the board, charging padded budgets and illegal transfer of surpluses to accumulate money for the proposed new courthouse in the county's service center.

The League also contests the board's right to build a new building on a site other than the present downtown location. It claims annexation of the proposed site from Waterford Township to Pontiac was improper.

The board's financing is being attacked on the basis that an annual .1 mill constitutional limitation on funds borrowed or taxed for building purposes has been violated.

The accountant, Marc J. Eshman, of Bloomfield Hills testified the welfare funds had been accumulated during the three-year period from 1951-1953.

Eshman made the statement from figures compiled in an audit of the county's finances, for the past 10 years aimed at disclosing allegedly illegal transactions.

He said the $612,677 had been earmarked for transfer at the end of 1955, as the year-end general fund unappropriated surplus for 1955 and 1954. The $378,853 was the unappropriated general fund surplus at the end of 1956, Smith testified.

High Price of Peace

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower, defending budget requests threatened by congressional cuts: "The plain truth is that the price of peace is high."

No Rooms? Your Vote Monday Can Provide Them

EVEN HALLS CROWDED — Not only have halls been turned into wards at Pontiac General Hospital, but these, too, are crowded. Scenes like these can be removed if a favorable vote on the hospital bond issue Monday provides for furnishing and equipping the hospital addition now being built. Without the additional funds needed the sick, young and old alike, will continue to crowd hospital corridors.

If Voters Reject Bond Issue, Says Doctor

City Hospital Will Lack Vital Facilities

Half the necessary facilities ready to help the community meet its rapidly growing hospital needs.

The other half—including the all-important item of lots more beds—missing.

It is the image that takes shape as Brown discusses the effect a "No" vote at Monday's special election would have on the hospital's new 200-bed wing.

Voters are being asked to pass a $1,850,000 bond issue and supporting tax to finish and equip the addition.

When Brown talks, he himself does not use graphic language. He sticks to facts.

WOULD STAND IDLE

"We would not be able to complete at least one and probably two of the six floors in the new addition," he said. "They would stand idle without the installation even of room partitions.

"This means a very big cut in the number of new beds we planned—a serious cut considering that the present hospital is running at an average 110-120 per cent of capacity daily.

"Crowding in the present building, where we have 28 beds usually occupied in the halls, would not be reduced. The building was built only for 152 patients.

"If the addition were completed this would give us room for 354 beds.

"Actually, with 354 beds we still would be behind the community's needs, because the addition was planned to meet current demands, not future ones."

HOPE TO IMPROVE

"We hope to improve service through purchase of more modern equipment and increasing the space available to such departments as surgery, X-ray, obstetrics, and particularly out-patient and emergency service.

"More space would be available, even if the addition is not completed. But the space still would be less than it could be.

"As for the equipment, what we want is up-to-date replacements of our basic requirements—no frills. Without the money, we wouldn't be able to buy new equipment, although what we have on hand is inadequate and in many cases antiquated."

Because the hospital must make sure it can provide additional services before admitting an increased number of patients, an odd situation would develop if the bond issue were turned down.

"We still would have increased

Fears Trouble if Solons Trifle With Security

Warns That Any Great Reduction in Spending Would Be Gamble

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower resumed the fight for his spending budget today — declaring he does not see how an honest cut of 2½ billion dollars can be made in the 38½ billions earmarked for defense.

Eisenhower told his news conference the country is going to be in trouble if Congress trifles with defense spending.

This followed up a speech in which he told the nation last night that any great spending reduction in the face of Soviet atomic might would amount to "a gamble with the safety of our country."

Eisenhower said today he thinks he has grown more conservative since 1952, when he sharply criticized the level of government spending during his first successful campaign for the presidency.

He made the comment during an exchange in which a reporter asked whether he agrees with some Republicans in Congress who, the reporter said, have been saying that he has swung to the left since entering the White House.

Far from turning to the left, Eisenhower replied, he thinks that if anything he has grown more conservative.

MILITARY CUTBACK

A House appropriations subcommittee was reported today to have agreed tentatively to cut the administrations military budget by about 2½ billion dollars. Committee members have insisted that security will not be sacrificed by their action.

Eisenhower, however, said in response to a question that he didn't see how the committee could have made an honest cut of that size.

Likewise, he characterized as a mistake congressional slashing of funds he said the U. S. Information Agency uses to wage peace.

He was told that the House had voted a 40 million dollar cut in USIA funds and that a Senate committee is proposing to up the reduction to 90 million.

Eisenhower took the case for

Ike Bristles When Newsman Mentions Beck

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Eisenhower bristled today when a newsman observed that Teamsters President Dave Beck had close ties with the White House.

Eisenhower did not reply directly to the news conference question — whether he thought there should be a code of ethics for employers such as was adopted by the AFL-CIO in light of disclosures of tie-ups between the Teamsters boss and some companies.

His eyes snapping, Eisenhower said he didn't know why the question was premised with the statement that he was close to Beck. He noted that he sees a lot of labor leaders at the White House.

The President said he thinks both Congress and the executive branch of government should be interested in finding some way of protecting the rights and interests of the laboring man.

Diem Asks Help From Industry

Viet Nam Chief Seeks 'Counsel' for Republic in Detroit Visit

DETROIT (AP) — Ngo Dhin Diem, president of the Republic of Viet Nam, asked industry leaders at a civic banquet here last night for "help and counsel" in raising the living standards of his country.

The anti-Communist president of the southeast Asia republic is in Detroit on a two-day visit as part of a state visit to this country at the invitation of President Eisenhower.

He is scheduled to tour the Ford Motor Co. plant in Dearborn today before leaving for East Lansing where he will accept an honorary doctor of laws degree from Michigan State University.

Diem is the first head of a foreign state to visit the MSU campus. Michigan State was selected for the visit because of the part teams of MSU researchers and professors played in advisory missions that helped set up the republic of Viet Nam.

Students were to be excused from classes to hear Diem speak at the afternoon convocation. Gov. G. Mennen Williams was scheduled to speak at the banquet in Diem's honor at night.

Widow Takes Body of Racer Back to Spain

There were reports the actress also was en route to Madrid for De Portago's burial, but this could not be confirmed immediately.

Miss Christian, De Portago's frequent companion in the past year, did not attend funeral services for him yesterday in the little Italian village of Vighizzolo because the widow was there. But the actress indicated she would go to Madrid, saying his mother had given her permission to attend the service there.

De Portago's widow, the former Carol McDaniel of Greenville, S.C., arrived yesterday for the service in Vighizzolo, near the accident scene.

Michigan Escapes Major Tornadoes

A long tornado threat in central and southern Lower Michigan ended today and only one funnel appeared to have touched the ground. No one was injured when a twister set down at Grandville near Grand Rapids.

The first tornado forecast said the threat would last from 4 to 10 p.m. It was lifted at 7:10 p.m. but at 10 p.m. another alert was issued and did not end until 2 this morning.

The forecast for tonight and tomorrow is mostly cloudy and cooler. The low temperature tonight will be around 46 - 50° degrees. Tomorrow's high will reach 56 - 60, and the low tomorrow night will be 40 - 44.

The lowest thermometer reading preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 63 degrees. The mercury rose to 66 at 2 p.m.

Lawmaker Predicts It's Coming in 2069

Socialism Creeping Up?

WASHINGTON (INS) — Rep. Otto Kreuger (R-ND) has it figured out that the country will be completely socialistic by the year 2069. We'll all be working for the government.

In 1900, says Kreuger in a note to constituents, one of every 25 American workers was on a federal, state or local government payroll. By 1950, the ratio had jumped to one in every eight.

During the last 25 years alone, he said, the civilian labor force has grown at a rate of 1.3 per cent a year while total government employment has gone up 3.2 per cent a year. Simple projection of this rate, says Kreuger, means that in another 112 years, everyone will be on the government payroll.

Will Cost Pontiac District $160,000

State Aid to Schools to Fall Short

The final quarterly payment of state aid to local school districts will fall $28.5 million under the $190 a pupil promised under state law, it was revealed today.

The state will pay 26 cents on the dollar, which will cost Pontiac School District some $160,000.

Figures computed by the State Dept. of Public Instruction show the schools' share of last quarter sales tax revenue will be $10,054,515 as compared with the $38,494,401 in the 1956 legislative aid formula.

Louis Schimmel, president of the Pontiac Board of Education, however, says he believes the Legislature will approve a supplemental appropriation which will restore part of the lost school income with money taken from the general fund.

He based his belief on talks held Friday with key legislative leaders in Lansing.

Under a constitutional amendment, two-thirds of sales tax revenue is earmarked for the school districts.

The Legislature promised $190 a pupil for the current fiscal year based on a much higher sales tax income than materialized. It will actually pay $170.45 per pupil.

School authorities now say the Legislature has "a moral obligation" to provide the full $190, although there is no legal compulsion.

SCHOOLS IN TROUBLE

Because of the short payment, a number of school districts are in financial difficulty for the balance of the fiscal year which ends June 30. Pontiac, Detroit and other districts plan to issue tax anticipation notes to tide them over the emergency. Pontiac's board has authorized the issuance of $725,000 in such notes.

Schimmel, who is chairman of a joint interim committee of the Michigan Assn. of School Administrators and the Michigan Assn. of School Board Members, is currently working with legislative leaders to secure an additional state appropriation for this fiscal year.

The problem facing the lawmakers is where to get the necessary revenue. A beer and whisky tax and a cigarette tax are two possibilities being considered in Lansing.

British Queen to Attend Opening of Seaway?

BRANTFORD, Ont. (AP) — The royal yacht bearing Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip may be among the first vessels using the St. Lawrence Seaway when it is opened in 1959.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent told a political meeting last night that he knows the queen "will be very happy" to attend the opening. No date has yet been set for the seaway opening, although there have been reports it may take place in May or June 1959.

Police Suspect Girl Slain by Someone She Trusted

BRISTOL, Conn. (INS)—Bristol Police Chief Thomas V. McCarthy said today the slayer of Brenda Jane Doucette, 9, was almost certainly someone she knew and trusted.

"The child was too well trained, too intelligent, to enter the car of a stranger," he said.

A house-to-house canvass over a wide area is in progress, with the aid of 50 state police and bloodhounds, for the killer who kidnaped Brenda while she was on her way to school Monday.

Dr. Irving S. Platt, medical examiner, said:

"The instrument of death was a sharp weapon. Death occurred at about 8:30 a.m. Monday. Perhaps the instrument was an ice pick."

When she was found, her own green cardigan sweater was knotted tightly about her throat. But she was not sexually molested. Her body, found in a clump of bushes off a lonely road, had 22 stab wounds.

Neighbors saw her about 10 minutes later, walking toward the Fall Mountain School, where she was a third-grade pupil.

An honor student, with 'A's in all her subjects, she was an attractive child with sparkling brown eyes and shoulder-length blonde hair. She was secretary of the 4-H club and a member of the Brownies.

It was believed she was killed in a car.

BRENDA JANE DOUCETTE

Missing are her white-gold wrist watch, a dollar intended to pay for milk at school, and her small lunch pail with a sandwich and cake.

Brenda's body was taken today to Brewer, Me., where the family lived until they came to Bristol two years ago. Funeral service will be held tomorrow.

OK Amendment to Drain Code

Governor Approves Bill Seen as Financial Boon to Oakland County

Gov. Williams yesterday signed a drain code amendment seen as a financial boon to Oakland and other fast growing counties.

It allows counties of more than 150,000 to pledge their full faith and credit for repayment of drainage project bonds.

"The law will give Oakland the same chance that Wayne has had for several years to get lower interest rates on money borrowed for drains," said Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, of Drayton Plains, a co-sponsor of the bill.

General obligation bonds are authorized not only for county projects, but also for projects between two or more counties.

This will benefit projected, large, inter-county drains—seen by some experts as the best answer to Oakland's problems, Lodge added.

The bill also authorizes local governing bodies to create special assessment districts for drainage projects. Under existing law, such districts could be created only if requested by affected property owners.

It would let the county build drains on the combined basis of public health and property improvement necessity, a provision that will help large projects, Lodge said.

Sales Spiel Was Super but Prospect Owned Car

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — Mrs. Buna Pfeifer decided to trade her car in on a later model. An overeager salesman showed her several cars. None pleased her. As she was about to leave he said he had just remembered a 1949 auto that had been turned in and was parked on the street.

The salesman got a ring of keys, went to the curb and began to point out the good features of the car. But none of his keys would opened the car door. He excused himself and went to the office.

Mrs. Pfeifer unlocked the car, got in and drove away.

Why not? It was hers.

FOR CHILDREN — The county is turning this large frame home at 52 Franklin Blvd. into living quarters for 15-20 homeless children who otherwise would have to stay at the county children's home. When reconditioned, the new facility will help relieve crowded conditions at the institution, a fact that will be emphasized when Oakland County Children's Home opens its doors for open house from 1 to 5 p. m. Sunday.

Here Are the Highlights of Ike's Budget Speech

WASHINGTON (INS)—Following are the highlights of President Eisenhower's speech to the nation defending his budget demands on Congress:

"The budget now under discussion represents carefully studied estimates of the cost of all the things the government is required by law to do or by what we believe necessary. . .

"No great reductions in it are possible unless Congress eliminates or curtails existing federal programs, or all of us demand less service from the government, or unless we are willing to gamble with the safety of our country. . .

"There is no cut-rate price for security."

CALLS FOR COOPERATION

"While we shall insist on carrying out the federal government's proper role in meeting the needs of our growing economy and population, we shall not start any program that we do not believe necessary. . .

"In all of this, we need the cooperation of the Congress and we need the help and understanding of every one of you."

'DEFENSE IS NOT CHEAP'

"Without counting the Chinese Communists, the Soviets have the world's largest army. They have many times the number of submarines that Germany had when World War II began.

"They have atomic weapons and rockets and missiles. They have a large and growing air strength. They are competent in military technology and research.

"And all of this is directed by a despotism which is fully capable of the supreme folly—that of unleashing these powerful forces if it should ever believe that it could—without destroying itself—succeed in destroying the Free World. . .

". . . I earnestly believe that this defense budget represents in today's world the proper dividing line between national danger on the one hand and excessive expenditures on the other.

"If it is materially cut, I believe the country would be taking a fearful gamble. For myself, I have seen unwise military cuts before, I have seen their terrible consequences. I am determined to do all I can to see that we do not follow that foolhardy road again . . "Good defense is not cheap defense."

PUSH WORLD DISARMAMENT

"It is clear that unless we make some progress in our persistent efforts to secure an effective agreement to limit armaments, defense costs will tend to go up year by year if we are to keep Communist forces from outstripping us . . .

"As we look at the whole range of the budget, there is only one hope of making the really great savings that we all want so much. That is to achieve an effective disarmament agreement with an easing of world tensions so that the enormous sums we have to spend for our defense can be drastically reduced.

"In a world knowing real peace, we could save at least 10 times as much in defense spending."

CAN'T STOP NOW

". . . I must say this to you: I can see no immediate relaxation of international tensions to provide the basis now for substantial reductions in these programs for preserving and waging peace. In fact, the gains we have already made impel us to press forward with no let-up.

"If we do press forward—if we courageously bear these burdens of waging peace — I have every hope, in God's good time, success will crown our efforts."

Holly Mother Gets Probation

Admitted Leaving Baby in Wastepaper Basket at Air Terminal

A 19-year-old Holly mother, accused of throwing her newborn son in a Willow Run Airport wastepaper basket Jan. 9, was placed on five years probation, ordered to continue psychiatric treatment, fined $100 and assessed $100 costs when she was sentenced yesterday by Washtenaw County Circuit Court Judge James R. Breakey Jr.

Mrs. Patricia Terryah of 5350 Groveland Rd., mother of another 2½-year-old son, admitted she gave birth to the baby unaided in the women's restroom of the airport, but left it there after she thought it was dead. The 4-pound, 10-ounce baby survived and now is in the custody of the mother.

The abandonment charge was dropped by prosecutor Edmond F. Devine against her husband, Glenn R. Terryah, 23, who said he was unaware his wife had given birth to a son and left the baby in the washroom.

The woman had pleaded no contest May 2 in circuit court on advice from her lawyer and was freed on bond pending sentencing yesterday.

Youth Confesses Slaying of Father

MINNEAPOLIS (INS) — A teenage boy has admitted the shotgun slaying of his father in the climax to a series of family quarrels.

The youth, Norman Goldberg, 16, told police yesterday that he shot his father, Jerome M. Goldberg, contractor, as the latter slept in the family home late Monday night.

Young Norman said: "It was either him or us."

The boy related that on Mother's Day Sunday, his father backed his mother, Mrs. Belle Goldberg, into a corner of a room and threatened her with a knife.

Norman said that his father drove the mother, an 18-year-old daughter, Myra Beth, and himself from the house Monday night.

He added that he returned home later and fired a blast from the shotgun into his father.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

Where does the weather come from?

In the United States the layer of gas, which is our weather, generally moves west to east. On the west coast masses of moist Pacific air come from the southwest and northwest, and are warm and cool, respectively.

The clear, dry air of the non-coastal states in the Midwest generally comes from the southeast, over Mexico, and, likewise, the clear, cold dry air that invades the eastern half of the country moves down from Canada.

In addition, moist air masses from the Atlantic move into the east from both the southeast and northeast, being warm and cool, respectively. When these masses of air meet, they often create an occluded front and unpredictable, but often rainy, conditions.

Generally speaking, if you are east of a strong air mass, it will move over you and bring the weather prevailing under it, to the west. Fronts move at varying speeds, usually up to about 30 miles an hour. So, the weather you have tomorrow may be five hundred miles away today, in a westerly direction.

Ike Questions Cut in Defense Spending

his budget to the people last night. He said the defense portion of it represents a proper dividing line "between national danger on the one hand and excessive expenditures on the other."

VALUE OF DOLLAR

In support of his contention that he has grown more conservative during his years in the White House, he said he believes in protecting the value of the dollar, absolutely opposes trifling with our financial integrity, and believes all programs must be studied to see that we are not taking on more load than is necessary.

Still, he said, he believes that any political philosophy must face the needs of the nation today, not those of 1860.

The federal government, he said, can't shut its eyes to the needs of the people.

Early in the news conference, Eisenhower was told that a check showed he has been getting more Democratic than Republican support in Congress on numerous issues. A reporter asked whether he intends to punish any Republicans who vote against him or reward those who take his side.

Eisenhower replied crisply that he doesn't think that it is the function of any president to punish anybody who votes the way he — the person — believes.

He was asked how he accounts for the disagreement over the size of his budget voiced by Republican leaders in Congress.

NO EXPLANATION

Eisenhower said he had no explanation, but he also said that when such large sums of money are involved there is a chance for both Congress and the executive to do a squeezing operation.

He said he has never kicked about squeezing the budget although some say he is deserting his own budget. He said he is a long way from doing that.

Possibly Republican leaders are calculating on cutting out some big program or abolishing several smaller ones, he said.

Eisenhower left open the possibility of still more direct appeals to the people after a second nationwide TV-radio speech which he will make next Tuesday night on his foreign aid program.

He did that when a reporter asked whether he had any plans to "lobby" in behalf of his legislative program. With a smile, Eisenhower said he does go to the Capitol when invited, and also tries to influence people in a quiet way.

In his speech last night — an avowed attempt to counter a budget-cutting campaign in Congress — Eisenhower put stress on the defense aspects of his spending program.

The general attitude of the budget critics, some within Eisenhower's own party, was voiced by Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California. He said Eisenhower had "ably outlined the magnitude of the budget problem" but "within the next few weeks Congress will constructively demonstrate how at least three billion dollars can be saved without any damage to the essential defense requirements of the nation."

There also was agreement with the President on the GOP side.

SURE OF SUPPORT

Sen. Clifford P. Case (R-NJ) said he is "sure the American people, and the Congress, will support, as I do," Eisenhower's "determination not to gamble with the strength of our nation."

Among the Democrats, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas agreed "as to the need for maintaining a strong national defense."

But he added that if the administration managed to trim prebudget requests by 13 billion dollars, "a further review might disclose further economies that can be made" in the defense and other fields.

House Speaker Rayburn of Texas said he doubts that "the President's speech was helpful to his budget."

Eisenhower hammered hard and at length at what he called "the plain truth" that the price of peace is high.

Five-Year Plans Directly Affect Names in India

NEW DELHI (AP)—"Wash your hands, Progress."

"Don't eat with your fingers, Development."

There are mothers in India giving orders such as these to their children. Some babies are getting unusual names as a result of enthusiasm for India's five-year plans.

"On this plan-conscious bandwagon," a government spokesman said, "it is not uncommon now to find boys and girls named Vikas, Yojana, Pragati and Koyana."

In the Sanskrit language of ancient India vikas means development, Yojana is the plan and pragati progress. "Iyoana," a word of elusive meaning, is the name of a river on which a big development project is under construction.

Similar use of names has been in vogue in Soviet Russia for years. There a child may answer to "Tractor Station."

Detroit Boy Admits Killing Stepfather

DETROIT (UP) — A 16-year-old boy told police he shot and killed his stepfather last night as the man scuffled with his wife.

Detective Sgt. John Morin said Lawrence Negray told him he shot Steven Negray, 42, in the front hall of their home in Detroit.

Morin quoted the boy as saying he had taken a double-barreled shotgun from a first floor closet to hide it from his stepfather. He was mounting the stairs when he saw the scuffle and fired once, Morin said.

Mrs. Negray said she and her second husband were married 12 years ago and had quarreled constantly during their married life.

dietary, laundry and power plant facilities in the addition. But would not have the money to finish the wing so that additional patients could enjoy them," Brown explained.

Brown answered the question of how the hospital would manage without the completed addition in times of sudden disaster.

"If there were a large plant explosion, or a tornado," he began, "the facilities would be completely inadequate."

Then suddenly dropping his matter-of-fact account, the doctor added anxiously, "It would be absolute havoc."

Japanese Journalists Visiting Ford Plants

DETROIT (INS) — Twenty-nine Japanese Journalists on a three-week tour of the United States were to visit Ford Motor Co. plants today.

Berkley Man Awaits Hearing on Check Charge

Judge Elsarelli bound him over to Circuit court for arraignment. He was returned to the Oakland County Jail with unfurnished bond set at $2,000.

Dean of Law School Seeks Old Professors

The Hastings 65 Club, composed of eminent law professors compelled to retire at other schools, has been rated "the strongest law faculty in the country" by Roscoe Pound, former Harvard law dean.

Snodgrass said he will confer with professors scheduled for compulsory retirement soon from various top Eastern law schools.

But Feels He Can Engage in Banquet Diplomacy

New Kremlin Envoy's Russian 'Rusty'

VIENNA (UP) — Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., new U. S. Ambassador to Moscow, says he thinks he can brush up his Russian enough to engage Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev in some tree-wheeling diplomacy over the Kremlin banquet tables.

But how about two-fisted drinking with Khrushchev?

"Well," said Thompson, "I have no cast-iron stomach so I'll take it a little easy."

Thompson has been in Vienna since September 1952, first as high commissioner and then ambassador. A slim, 52-year-old career diplomat, he was nominated to succeed Charles E. Bohlen in Moscow largely because of his previous service in Russia and for his work with the Russians here.

Thompson received the State Department's Medal of Freedom for handling the Moscow office of the U. S. Embassy when the diplomatic corps evacuated the capital and moved to Kuibyshev as the German armies approached in 1941.

He learned to speak and read Russian then, but says "it's a bit rusty now and I've got to pick it up."

Thompson expects to arrive in Moscow by the end of June. He must return to Washington first for consultations.

He and his wife Jane have three girls, aged 14, 7 and 3.

Mrs. Thompson aided in the relief of thousands of anti-Soviet Hungarian refugees who fled to Austria after last October's Budapest revolution. She organized a soup kitchen which fed 5,000 refugees daily and set up a handicraft shop where refugees produced articles for export.

New Book Tells of Englishman's Indian Adventure

ANN ARBOR (AP)—An Englishman's story of his life among the Indians in Michigan in the 18th century is told in a new book by a University of Michigan scholar.

First a captive, then an adopted brother of a Chippewa during Pontiac's uprising in the 1860s, Alexander Henry lived with the Indians more than four months.

Henry was one of four Englishmen who came to Ft. Michilimackinac, where Mackinaw City now stands, to make trade arrangements in 1761. He was captured in a raid on the fort in 1763.

Pension Plan Back to House

Senate Approves Bill Giving State Legislators $2,000 a Year

LANSING (AP) — Only House agreement to minor amendments was needed today to dispatch a $2,000 a year pension plan for legislators to the governor's desk.

The pension bill, overcoming determined opposition from Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), all but completed the legislative route yesterday by passing the Senate, 20 to 14.

Eleven Republicans and nine Democrats joined in support of the measure to put it over the top with two votes to spare. The House previously had approved the bill.

Here is the roll call by which the Senate approved 20 to 14 a $2,000 pension plan:

Democrats — Brown and Swainson (2).

Under it, a lawmaker could draw a pension up to $2,000 a year at age 60 after 16 years' state service. That would represent half of the $4,000 annual salary for legislators, who also get $1,000 a year in expenses.

Contributions would be at the rate of five per cent. For an additional contribution of two per cent, a male legislator could provide for his widow and family. A widow could draw two thirds of her husband's entitlement, or three fourths if she had two minor children.

Gen. LeMay Bears Formidable Air Record

(He's known as a fighting commander, and at 50 Gen. Curtis LeMay is one of the most important figures in America's atomic-age defense. Now a veteran Pentagon reporter provides a searching closeup of airman LeMay. This is the first of three articles.)

By DARRELL GARWOOD

WASHINGTON (INS) — The legend and prestige of Gen. Curtis LeMay have been features of the Air Force for so long that even his associates are sometimes surprised to learn that the four-star chief of the Strategic Air Command is only 50 years old.

When he was 45 years old in 1952, LeMay actually was named Air Force chief of staff — in a Pentagon announcement that was later quietly forgotten. Normally that would be the last assignment even the most successful officer would get before his permanent retirement.

Another surprise is that LeMay did not attend the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. Te earned a bachelor of engineering degree at Ohio State University in 1928 and entered the Army Air Corps as a second lieutenant the same year.

Behind the surface record, however, there is ample justification for LeMay's formidable reputation. It stems from his achievements as a commander of bombing operations over Germany and Japan in World War II, and as the man who built SAC from the ground up.

By common agreement in the military services, his career is almost unmatched for its examples of cool boldness, sure judgment, quiet efficiency, relentless determination and ability to transmit these qualities to his subordinates.

The qualities for which he is noted are those of a fighting commander. The blunt-spoken LeMay is supposed to be lacking in diplomacy, moderation and "breadth." He is no geopolitician, and he is inclined toward a thin contempt for all outfits except his own.

The latter considerations probably caused the withdrawal of his appointment in 1952, and they are currently raising questions about his appointment to be Air Force vice chief of staff beginning next June 30.

DIPLOMATIC EFFECT

But the fast is that, in addition to giving LeMay the advancement he has earned, the new appointment is expected to achieve exactly the diplomatic effect that is sought by the Eisenhower administration and especially by the Pentagon.

The defense leaders currently believe it is highly important to leave no doubt in the world arena that America will use nuclear weapons as necessary in either large or small wars.

Even Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson has adopted this line.

Wilson has sometimes suggested that such a course might have the opposite effect, by "frightening" Russia into starting a war.

There is another aspect of the nuclear weapons argument, however, which Wilson has been obliged to recognize. America's land, sea and air forces are now based on the use of nuclear weapons, and they might be left comparatively impotent if war use of the atom were banned.

As Wilson told Congress in asking a record $38 billion in appropriations for the coming year, "there is very little money in this budget for so-called conventional weapons."

The possibility that U.S. armed forces may be caught in this squeeze is considered real in many quarters. Dr. Edward Teller, inventor of the H-Bomb, has already written that world sentiment would make use of nuclear weapons "difficult or impossible" in many war situations.

There is no question where LeMay stands in the argument — his mere appointment is enough to tell the world that America intends to use nuclear weapons if war breaks out. As vice chief of the Air Force, he will hold one of the half dozen most important jobs in the Pentagon.

Supply of New Homes Now Balances Demand

CHICAGO (AP) — A survey by the United States Savings and Loan League composed of 6,000 savings and loan associations indicates the supply and demand of the home construction market has reached an "approximate balance."

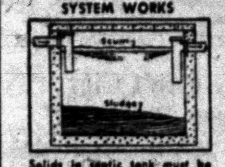
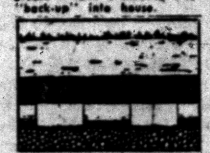
DON'T RISK A CLOGGED SEPTIC TANK—DRAINFIELD!

HOW YOUR SEPTIC SYSTEM WORKS



Solids in septic tank must be liquefied to prevent overflow into drainfields and clogging of drainfield laterals—"fingers". When bacterial action is lacking—killed by detergents, chemicals, or hampered by grease — tank overflows, may "back-up" into house.



Hundreds of gallons of liquid must pass through drainfield daily and be absorbed into surrounding soil. When necessary bacterial action is lacking soil becomes clogged, new field may be necessary.

Septic Aide, used regularly, provides positive bacterial action to liquefy solids in septic tank system or cesspool; helps assure proper absorption in drainfield. Energy Pills Latest Goal of Psychiatric Research

By EDWIN DIAMOND
INS Science Writer

CHICAGO (INS) — Pills to "energize" the mind are the latest goal of some new psychiatric research.

Purpose of these energizer pills is the exact opposite of the widely used and discussed tranquilizer pills.

Tranquilizers, the so - called "peace of mind" pills, are prescribed to calm the tense and jittery person.

Energizers would be used to give a lift to the tired and depressed individual, believed by psychiatrists to be much more numerous than hypertensed persons.

Dr. Nathan Kline, of Rockland State Hospital, Orangeburg, N. Y., and a pioneer in the use of tranquilizing drugs, is now studying the effects of a chemical compound that fills the "basic well of energy."

Presently used stimulants like caffeine and the anphetamine pep pills, Dr. Kline points out, are not true energizers because they actually work to decrease appetite, "gastronomical as well as sexual."

TESTING NEW PILL

Dr. Kline has been testing an experimental energizer called iproniazid on mental patients. Apparently it fills "the basic well of energy," including the appetite for food and sex.

Dr. Kline says that iproniazid, "although far from perfect, may well lead to the development of improved compounds."

Dr. Kline, in an interview yesterday with International News Service at the American Psychiatric Association meeting in Chicago, made these points about energizer pills:

1. The problem of "tired, depressed, seclusive and withdrawn individuals" is numerically far greater than that of the hypertense person both inside and outside mental hospitals.

Of the estimated 700,000 patients in U. S. mental hospitals, Dr. Kline said as many as four out of five are in need of energizing rather than tranquilizing and among so-called normal neurotics Dr. Kline believes "the world in general is much more widely populated by depressed persons."

2. The use of energizers probably will follow the pattern set by tranquilizers. The tranquilizers were first used in mental hospitals and now are widely prescribed by doctors for their tense patients.

Dr. Kline said that among the non-hospital population the older "doddering" person may be aided most by energizers.

3. While work on energizer pills has increased rapidly the last few months, the drug is still experimental.

France Displays Fastest, Slowest Planes in World

MELUN-VILLAROCHE, France (AP)—France showed off Europe's fastest plane yesterday—so far as is known the Russians have nothing comparable—and the slowest plane in the world.

The French also showed a supersonic fighter which can do tricks at faster than 1,000 miles an hour, rocket engines, and the only guaranteed crash-proof helicopter in the world.

It was all part of a French aviation industry demonstration that it is booming and in a position to influence world affairs. The audience was a selected group of foreign correspondents brought to this hitherto secret airfield east of Paris.

The Trident, a jet which makes 1,500 miles an hour officially and considerably more actually, demonstrated over the field at supersonic speed. It is recognized as the fastest non-American plane west of the Iron Curtain. It is not as fast as the U. S. Bell experimental planes, but is considered better than anything the Russians have shown.

The slow plane, the Hurel-Dubois 34, is a photo-reconnaissance craft. It needs only 300 feet to take off and carries a glider-style wing so it cannot stall, its designers say. It can cruise at 50 miles an hour.

Claim Auto Exhaust Contributes to Smog

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Scientists from Philadelphia's Franklin Institute reported to oilmen Tuesday that automobile exhaust is a prime offender in the formation of smog in the high-traffic Los Angeles area.

The report described an on-the-spot study last August, using an apparatus described as a long-path, infra-red absorption cell.

William E. Scott, chief of the institute's chemical kinetics and spectroscopy section, said the cell revealed a direct relationship between the amount of traffic and the amount of smog. He spoke at a meeting of the American petroleum institute's refining division.

At one relatively busy Los Angeles traffic center, he said, air samples were taken every 25 minutes for a full day. Charts showed air pollution buildups during the morning and afternoon traffic peaks. Scott said other tests confirmed the relationship.

The studies also disclosed a new organic nitrogen compound that was serving as an intermediate component in the formation of smog, Scott said. The substance was identified as peroxyacyl nitrite.

Outsiders at Hospital Should Share Costs

Some citizens have been making a great point of the fact the Pontiac General Hospital serves people that do not live within the city limits.

This is part of the job.

The hospital must serve everyone. We can't draw lines.

However, these people from outside should pay an additional amount above the regular charges to make up for the fact that they never contributed towards the erection and care of the institution. The Press would be the last entity in Pontiac to suggest that outsiders get "a free ride."

Let's make this very clear.

We apply the same theory to all other services. Those who don't pay Pontiac City taxes haven't any right to use our water, sewers, schools, fire departments, police or any other public service which the taxpayers build and maintain, unless they pay an extra assessment.

There's no reason why Pontiac should build ANY utilities and then let outsiders use them at our own costs.

Let them pay their rightful share, and by rightful share we mean the regular rates plus enough more to cover the fact they didn't contribute tax money.

Detroit already suggests it may charge Pontiac double if we use Detroit water.

Remember some people move outside cities to "escape taxes." We have no objection. That's their business. But it's our business when they get fine Pontiac services at a bargain rate. Those that seek a "low tax" area are automatically seeking a "low service" area. Obviously, you can't have one without the other.

The hospital should charge outsiders enough more to let them bear their full and fair share of the original costs and maintenance.

Furthermore, we are confident that those beyond the city limits EXPECT this. Certainly, they don't want Pontiac City taxpayers to foot outsiders' costs.

The idea of starting a "popular subscription campaign" outside the city for half of the $1,850,000 costs is almost naive. If anyone thinks he can raise any tiny part of $925,000 by a "popular subscription" among those hospital users, he is urged to start tomorrow and learn his lesson the hard way.

Perhaps it's 15 per cent.
Perhaps it's 30 per cent.
Perhaps it's 100 per cent.

Certainly, it should be fair to the hospital and fair to those that pay.

It takes a definite charge to cover the several million dollars the hospital represents. The taxpayers face their part. Our friendly visitors and neighbors are heartily welcomed, but they will want to pay their way.

Tax Relief Delayed by Fast Amortization

Secretary of the Treasury Humphery has appeared before the Senate Finance Committee in support of Sen. Byrd's bill to limit fast tax writeoffs to the few industries directly connected with defense.

This quick amortization is the device by which some industries have been permitted to write off depreciation of new plants for tax purposes in five years instead of 20 or more. It was instituted as an inducement to expand and build new defense plants in World War II and was revived during the Korean conflict.

But the plan has been expanded to include some plants with little or no connection to national defense. In the last six years Secretary Humphrey estimated this tax writeoff has cost the Government three billion dollars during these years.

Mr. Humphrey says "tax reduction for favored groups only postpones the day when general tax reduction can be enjoyed by all the people."

Book Will Say City Folks Are Going to the Country

Feeding the world: What should cut down on our waist.

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen

reveals some interesting facts. It points out that the city people are moving to the country in many local areas, our county's largest current growth being in the so called rural districts.

It finds that the best barometer as to our future progress is in the untold millions which the public utilities are spending in preparing for it, as they do not guess or play with a crystal ball.

The book will be ready for free distribution in a few weeks, due notice of which will be given in this column.

"My children adopt all kinds of pets," phones

Well, — Something May Sprout — Sometime

David Lawrence Says:

Propaganda Funds Must Be Ok'd

WASHINGTON — It may be interesting academically to debate whether the Battle of Gettysburg was or was not fought efficiently by the generals there more than 90 years ago, but it is far more important now to determine who will win the battle of Washington going on today.

LAWRENCE

For the battle here is a battle that concerns the lives of millions of Americans who haven't yet been made fully aware of the real threat to their safety.

It's a battle that is being carried on insidiously by the enemy—the Soviet Union—with the unwittingly given help of many persons in America who, in demanding cuts in defense in order to get a tax reduction, place politics or selfish interest above country, though they would be the first to deny any such intent.

It's a battle, moreover, that the Eisenhower administration itself isn't winning largely because it is so busily engaged in its multifold operations and so burdened with enormous responsibilities that the need for a vigorous rebutial to offset the political sniping and misrepresentation is not fully appreciated.

There are those who pessimistically say this battle—domestically speaking—is already lost and that the President's speeches on the budget have come too late. There are those who think that on the world stage—in the propaganda field—we are steadily losing ground.

NEVER TOO LATE

But it is never too late for truth to win over distortion and for facts to win over misrepresentation or for common sense to prevail over fallacious doctrines. Among these is the wishful idea, widely propagated inside America, that all overseas propaganda and, indeed, all economic and military aid to foreign countries can readily be abandoned by the United States and, with the savings made, taxes can be substantially reduced—and Soviet Russia will, of course, quietly retreat behind its borders and permit the world situation to become peaceful and happy.

Looked at from the point of view of the men in the Kremlin, the indifference of many Americans to the true facts and the gullibility of many people in this country to the snares of Soviet propaganda are making it easier for Moscow.

The Soviet government is spending billions for progaganda throughout the world, whereas Congress is still arguing about a few millions that the United States Information Agency wants. The Democratic leaders in Congress, for example, ask the officials of the USIA to testify as to why they need money. After they have spoken for hours trying earnestly to describe the intangibles in the situation, the same Democratic leaders profess not to have heard a word.

The sniping goes on daily in the partisan field. Time is given to trivialities. The Democrats act as if, when in power, they themselves appointed only career men in the Foreign Service and never gave an ambassadorship to a campaign contributor. Judging by the pious statements issued by some Democrats recently about the qualifications of the new ambassador to Ireland, Scott McLeod—whom they persecuted because he was a friend of Joe McCarthy—one would be led to believe that Perle Mesta, who is known affectionately as the "hostess with the mostest," was appointed by a Democratic administration to be ambassador to Luxembourg after the widest kind of experience in the Foreign Service of the United States.

Yet the Senate takes time to argue these petty matters and now shows its partisan teeth by threatening to withhold funds from the Post Office Department. This could result in the closing down of the postal service on weekends and put the administration in a hole. The Democrats probably believe this will gain votes for them in the next election, based on discontent and irritation in the electorate.

The Atomic Energy Commission's members, moreover, may be presumed to be as eager to protect the health of their own families and children as anybody else, but they are under constant attack in the "left-wing" press in America through a stream of widely circulated reports from anonymous, or even identifiable but often uninformed, sources that keep emphasizing the alleged dangers of "fall out" despite AEC denials.

The battle of Washington has its discouraging aspects, because even many persons in public life who should be giving the American people the real picture aren't aware of how the enemy propaganda is taking hold in supposedly well-informed America with its supposedly alert press that supposedly is telling the people the difference between truth and untruth as it comes out of Moscow.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Many Report Iodin Ration Protects Against Colds

Ration: The amount of food required daily by man or animal.

Iodin Ration: The amount of iodin (older spelling iodine) required daily to maintain good metabolism, good nutrition, good health in child or adult.

DR. BRADY

Cri (rhymes with ski): Word coined from the initial letters of the cumbersome phrase "common respiratory infection." In the early hours or first day or two of any such infection—the period when it is most communicable—before any one can tell whether it is measles, infantile paralysis, epidemic meningitis, scarlet fever, diphtheria, flu or whatnot, call it cri.

A few years ago I would not have associated an iodin ration with the cri. I knew no reason to believe the everyday intake of iodin was more important in that respect than the everyday intake of calcium or iron or protein is.

I can't say I know better now. Actually I "know" little or nothing about it. But I must say I have been impressed by the steadily increasing number of reports from readers who say, as does this Wisconsin lady:

"Read your column every day and find it helpful in many ways. Have had no colds since we have been on an iodin ration."

If it were at all likely that the iodin ration could do any harm in any circumstance I'd hesitate to mention these reports here.

WHAT'S YOUR REACTION

Happily I am sure, cocksure if you like, the iodin ration can't do any harm, and so I bring it to your attention and ask whether you have noticed any such apparent increase in your immunity to cri, and if so, how do you account for it?

Please don't construe my recommendation of a suitable daily ration of iodin for everybody as approval of the use of medicinal iodin or iodides as a remedy for the cri. That's a medical question best left to the judgment of your physician.

For a clearer understanding of iodin deficiency, from which a great many adolescents and adults suffer, particularly in the Great Lakes basin, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Praises Citizens' Turnout at Pontiac State Hospital

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I want to commend the people of Pontiac for their enthusiastic and interested response to the Pontiac State Hospital open house. Thousands toured the wards, kitchens and therapy rooms, and hundreds were eager listeners at lecture workshops conducted by doctors, social workers, press representatives, TV station managers and legislators, bringing advanced knowledge and techniques and the need to us, the taxpayers in Michigan.

The program was well handled and very informative.

I would like to point out the need for, and the part played by the general public in promoting mental health at the hospital. There are many volunteer groups to join, such as church organizations, citizens committees and girls' clubs. Patients are very responsive to outsiders who come in and spend time with them. It's a rehabilitation therapy in contact with outside living, and they know that we care.

Join a group, and your helping therapy will be as beneficial to your own personality as to those you're trying to help.

'Unions Not Alone in Racketeering'

Of course, no one can condone a system that forces a man to pay tribute to a union in order to earn his living and then permits that tribute to be stolen by union racketeers.

But is this really any worse than some of the current practices of big business? Unconscionable salaries (some approaching $1 million a year), incentive compensation, deferred compensation, bonuses, pensions, stock options and many other hidden prerequisites are common.

Racketeering is still racketeering, whether practiced by unions or management.

Disgusted Worker Receives Replies

If a man has worked on production for 28 years and thinks maintenance is a snap, why hasn't he tried for the job? If he works in Pontiac, he no doubt works for General Motors. They offer production men a chance at maintenance if they're qualified.

I've worked on production over 15 years and if he thinks he isn't getting enough work, he should tell his supervisor and I'm sure he'll get 50 per cent more work.

GM made such a large profit in 1956 someone must have been working. Maybe he's a slacker.

Wife of Maintenance Worker

I have always worked hard on any production line I was on. Why doesn't the disgusted auto worker use that strength for more work instead of for talk? If he can do 50 per cent more work, then he's being overpaid 50 per cent, don't you think?

'Why Can't City Refuse Patients?'

When our schools were crowded and taxpayers had to pay the difference received from out-of-city students and what it cost to school them, the school board refused to take any from outside the district. Towns around us then had to build their own schools and a big yell went up about their taxes.

Why then can't the city refuse out-of-city patients and let the towns and townships build their own hospitals? That would relieve us city taxpayers of making up a deficit each year. Last November it cost me, a city taxpayer, $77 to sleep in a hall two nights and I ate only two meals there.

'No Money Tree Found in Lapeer'

The money tree can't be found in Lapeer. Taxpayers there rejected a 2½ million dollar bond issue. For that amount Lapeer was to receive a new high school, grade school, new school site and school additions.

Here in Pontiac it will take "maybe" 4½ million for the new high school. Of course, that's only a little to spend. Why do schools cost more in Pontiac? They're millions more.

Taxpayers, wake up. Reject your next new taxation. Vote NO May 20.

'Bird Lover' Gets Several Answers

Answering "Bird Lover," who observed a white throated sparrow, at least a dozen varieties of sparrows are seen in this area. I have observed the white throat, and also the white crown for years. White crown is more striking. Its head markings suggest the U of M football helmet. White throat nests in northern areas, including Michigan, Canada and Minnesota.

This year no white crowns have been seen. Their winter quarters are the cotton belt. White throats have a yellow streak from the base of the bill to eye and has a white streak to back of neck. The prominent white patch is readily seen on the throat which gives the bird its name.

Another Bird Lover

Those nice, white-throated sparrows migrated through this area about May 1. They visited our feeding station on their way to their northern nesting grounds.

Wonder if you or any other bird watcher has seen a bluebird. These beautiful birds are facing certain extinction if we don't arouse the public to their awful plight. The exotic starling is their mortal enemy. How can we eliminate this yellow-billed foreigner?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Force Objectivity With This Plan

Sally and Paul finally rated each other on the "Test for Sweethearts" described below. This very act of rating, thus forced them to focus consciously on things which they had but subconsciously noticed before. It increased their "objectivity" and thus helped shatter the halo of sexual infatuation.

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-381: Paul P., aged 20, is the boy with whom Sally was infatuated, as I decribed yesterday.

He had served two years in the Army, but had been out for three months, during which time he neither got a job nor registered for any future training.

CRANE

And he had not gone beyond the second year of high school, so he did not sound like a very reliable type of male for a girl to marry, especially if she wanted her future children to enjoy the normal advantages of American life.

But Paul struck many discordant notes that jarred on Sally. For he came from an entirely different family environment.

For example, he was loud and boastful. That wouldn't have been so bad, if he had been accurate with his facts.

But he must have been a headline reader, for when he got to arguing about athletics, he would employ incorrect figures.

Besides, he was too familiar with Sally. He'd stand with his arm around her or pinch her ear or slap her on the back.

Now those actions didn't seem too out of place while on the beach at a swimming party or even at a picnic or while they were parked at a Drive-In movie.

But Sally's cultured family were somewhat reserved about showing such intimacy in public.

And Sally had absorbed this family attitude subconsciously. So she suddenly felt conspicuous and thus rather self-conscious at Paul's actions.

SOCIAL STRATEGY

She was embarrassed. And when we are embarrassed, that means we feel deflated in our ego.

"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT," is the motto figuratively tattooed on everybody's chest at birth.

So Sally felt belittled. But it wasn't because of anything her parents had said or done, so she couldn't project her resentment against them.

Remember, it is typical of us human beings to want a "whipping boy" on whom to project our ire.

When we are deflated in our ego, we thus like to pass the buck and blame somebody else.

Since Paul had been solely responsible for making her feel ill at ease, she grew irritated with him.

Her parents told me later they saw her brush his hands away several times.

Well, this sort of result often occurs when the parents are friendly and invite the stranger into their home.

The infatuated daughter begins to absorb all these little evidences that show lack of compatibility.

And she may soon shatter the emotional "halo" which she has placed around her romeo's head.

for Sweethearts" on the living room table.

So Sally and Paul rated each other. Their attention was thus forcibly focussed on faults and virtues which they had only subconsciously noted before.

This conscious focussing upon personality traits also helps shatter an unwise sexual halo which infatuated couples develop. So send for those tests, enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

U. of M. Labor Economist Says:

Automation Key to Short Work Week

FLINT (AP) — Automation was termed a key factor in any future rise in the U. S. standard of living yesterday by a University of Michigan labor economist.

Prof. William Haber, speaking at the University of Michigan Flint Center, said automation combined with a continuation of the 40-hour work week would double this nation's standard of living in the next 25 years.

Prof. Haber said automation's role depends on whether it is used to increase production or provide greater leisure.

"Many, including most of our labor organizations, will argue for more leisure as a reasonable way to absorb increased productivity," he said. "Our experience in the past 50 years provides strong support for their case."

But, he said:

"Our standard of living measured in physical goods and services would have been much higher than it is now, had we not chosen leisure rather than more real wages."

Air-to-Air A-Rocket Planned

3 Innovations to Mark A-Test Pattern in Nevada

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nevada, (AP)—Three important new steps in atomic testing will be taken in the series scheduled to open tomorrow.

But the possibility of rain or a cloud ceiling today posed a threat of postponement for the planned predawn blast.

A comparatively small atomic device, described as one half of normal, will launch "the most extensive series of tests ever held in Nevada." It will be exploded from a tower.

Preblast briefing of newsmen by nuclear scientists and military experts disclosed these test plans:

1. The first air-to-air rocket with an atomic warhead will be fired.

2. The proposed infantry of the atomic age will be tested for the first time.

2. Pigs, the largest animals ever placed under an atomic test here, will be used.

The rocket will be fired late in the series, which is to end Sept. 1. It will be loosed from a manned aircraft, but there was no announcement of what, if any, target there will be.

The infantry maneuver, scheduled for Aug. 19, will involve three new concepts of ground warfare, based on a proposed new unit—the "battle group."

These concepts are: establishment of a defense against nuclear attaeks, mobility by air and supply by air.

The battle group will build with its own forces and equipment, within 24 hours, a protection against an atomic weapon or missile of artillery size. Some 1,400 men from Ft. Lewis, Wash., will be used.

The supposed enemy weapon will be dropped in the middle of the fortifications with the test troops withdrawn to a distance of about 4,500 yards. The purpose will be to determine how their protective efforts stand up.

In the second phase, the battle group will take the offensive and will be moved by helicopters to occupy a strategic site.

The third phase will utilize helicopters to supply the entrenched force and to evacuate casualites.

10 Area Men Enlist in U.S. Marines

The U.S. Marine Recruiting Substation in Pontiac has announced the enlistment of 10 men in the Pontiac area during the month of April. They were flown immediately to San Diego, Calif., for 12 weeks of recruit training.

Among the 10 were two Pontiac men: Robert Henry Kittman, of 6948 Desmond St.; and James Edward Hoisington 2254 Rosemary St.

Others from this area were: Bernard H. Dimke and Theodore H. Rahm, both of Washington; Robert W. Coffron, of Ortonville; and Charles E. Moore and William M. Strobel, both of Auburn Heights.

Rounding out the list are Anthony J. Sinauskas and Dale Lanny Staub, both from Utica; and Milton M. Townsend, of Fenton.

Upon completion of recruit training they will be transferred to Camp Pendleton, at Oceanside, Calif., for five weeks' combat training.

'Boss' Kenny Loses Jersey City Contest

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—The political organization of John V. Kenny crumbled yesterday as a group of rebels within the Democratic party with personal grievances against "the boss" won control of city hall in a stunning election upset.

The defeat of the 65-year-old contractor was somewhat analogous to the licking he administered only eight years ago to the then entrenched organization of the late Frank Hague.

And the man who will probably be named mayor when the newly elected commissioners meet Tuesday to organize is State Sen. James F. Murray Jr., a 37-year-old lawyer to whom Kenny denied renomination to the Legislature because they disagreed over appointments.

Ashking for Trouble!

SOUTH HAVEN (AP)—Things just didn't work out the way Fred Mosley, 41, had planned. He drove up in front of the police post, went into the office and asked about obtaining a driver's license. Police booked him on a drunk driving charge and jailed him.

Mental Health to Get Boost

County to Benefit From Hike Asked by Group on Appropriations

Mental health programs in Oakland County were given a boost last night when House Republicans agreed to recommend a $1,095,000 increase in the spending program for the State Mental Health Dept.

The increase means six new employes and $45,000 for the Pontiac State Hospital and $71,815 more for the state's 17 Child Guidance Clinics, one of which is in Pontiac, than the Senate had voted.

The higher figures, reported out by the House Appropriations Committee still faces full House approval and Senate concurrence.

Easy House passage was predicted by the committee chairman Rep. Arnell Engstrom.

The committee also boosted operating budgets for Michigan's colleges and universities by $2,033,466 to a total of $86.3 million.

The additional funds for the Child Guidance Clinic still leaves that group far short of the $790,000 recommended by the governor in his budget requests.

According to Mrs. Lawrence Martz, of Bloomfield Township, chairman of the Oakland's clinic board, the added money does not bring any closer the establishment of additional clinics, one of them proposed for southern Oakland County.

She welcomed, however, features of the bill which would sharply increase the Senate approved budgets for Hawthorn Center at Northville and Lafayette Clinic in Detroit.

The House bill would give $900,000 to Hawthorne, compared with $650,000 under the Senate bill, and $1,578,000 to Lafayette, compared with $1,250,000 by the Senate.

The bill also increase state grants to county libraries by $58,000 over the Senate figure, or a total of $420,000.

Brandon Defeats Issue 2nd Time

Operational Tax Turned Down

District Entirely Void of Funds for Operation, Says Superintendent

ORTONVILLE — For the second time this year, the voters of Brandon Township School district have defeated the tax of an additional six mills. The added tax had been recommended by the Brandon Board of Education as necessary to carry on the current program.

The issue was defeated by a vote of 279 to 146, yesterday.

The six mill tax, if passed, would have been in effect for one year, and according to Supt. E. J. Hungerford, was needed to buy furniture, equipment and operational expenses for the $487,582.74 high school now under construction.

"Had it passed," he said, "the tax would enable the district to receive approximately $24,000 in aid for distressed state school districts next year.

"Now," said Hungerford, "the district aid will be approximately $9,000." He added, "the amount is questionable and depends on whether the district gets full amount."

As Brandon has a 15 mill limitation, the state aid is divided between the county, township and district, with the school receiving the greater portion.

The additional tax would have raised the millage here to $26.85 per $1,000 of state equalization valuation, using 13.85 mills for operating and 13 mills for debt retirement.

Supt. Hungerford said today "There are no funds available at the present time for operational expenses and plans will have to be made as to the future program."

Commission Steps Up Hearing

Battle Proposed Zoning

ROYAL OAK — The proposed new zoning law here is meeting with stiff opposition in some quarters. The May 6 ordinance passed by City Commission bans all construction under the old zoning law.

While permits are being sought for at least 26 apartments in areas where the planners have recommended zone change from multiple to single, the hearing on the new law has been stepped up from June 6 to May 29.

Building permits to build multiple dwellings on three lots sought by Gerald G. Bailey, Royal Oak real estate agent and Robert J. Chapman of Detroit were turned down by Royal Oak's inspection department last Friday.

Their attorney, Stanton G. Dondero, in letters to the city commission said the ordinance is in violation of the civil rights of his clients and said that the city commission and department heads will be held personally liable for damages if there is any interference in construction.

Dondero said this morning that he had advised his clients to proceed to build without a permit. Construction was started this morning, he said.

The no-building ban was imposed to stop builders from taking out permits, principally for multiple dwellings to beat the passage of the new ordinance.

Principal disputes are the outcome of the planners recommendation centered around zoning for multiple use. Under the old zoning law about 15 per cent of the land area of Royal Oak was in multiple category. The new proposal would reduce the total amount of land in the multiple category to between 3 and 5 per cent, which is about average for cities, consultant Dr. Charles W. Barr said.

Burglar System Barks Warning

Brothers Leap From Bed, Bash Intruder as He Flees

ANCHORVILLE (AP) — The brothers Henry and Joseph Claey bounded out of bed early yesterday and raced to Claeys Marine Sales store near their home.

Their burglar system had worked all right. A loudspeaker system in their store, wired to their bedroom, carried sounds of breaking glass and a dog barking.

From then on the action was lively. It ended with Carol C. Borka, 311 of New Baltimore, going to a Port Huron Hospital for treatment of shotgun pellet wounds, bruises and scratches.

State Police trooper David Gillett of the St. Clair post said that Borka upon his release from the hospital will be charged with breaking and entering in the nighttime.

GIVE ACCOUNT

Trooper Gillett quoted the Claey brothers as giving this account of Borka's capture:

Henry went to the rear of the store, carrying a shotgun. Joeph went to the front. They could hear their large doberman pinscher watchdog bark loudly and quick footsteps inside.

Aman ran out the back door. Henry ordered him to halt but he kept on running. Henry fired a warning shot. The man still ran.

The brothers gave chase across a ditch to the edge of a woods. The man ran into a barbed wire fence. Then a fierce fight ensued. One of the brothers bashed the man on the head with a shovel, knocking him cold.

After their quarry had been taken to the hospital, the brothers went back to the store. They found a broken window. A check of the cash register showed between $3 and $5 missing.

Irked by Mobile Sign

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—A "no parking" sign that is constantly on the move irked patrolman James M. Mahoney. He wrote in his daily report: "I suggest that the sign in front of the Imperial Hotel on 2nd Street reading 'No Parking' be bolted or set into the sidewalk to prevent people from moving it to please themselves."

Vivian Della Chiesa Gets in Step With the Times

Classical Singer Joins Pop Parade

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — In the quiet days of radio, when living rooms were livable and children turned somersaults instead of selector knobs, Vivian Della Chiesa was a name to be reckoned with.

People reckoned she had about the sweetest larynx since Grace Moore, and she did more for Alexander Graham Bell (remember the old Telephone Hour?) than Don Ameche, even.

Then television came along, and Vivian didn't. Odd, too, because she was nice to look at, even when grappling a high C which is a feat. Any artist who can make C without making a gargoyle of herself is to be snapped up and cherished.

At any rate, Miss Della Chiesa (not "Cheesa," please — "Key-ay-za") was allowed to sit home by the fire for awhile and play records, like many of the radio greats who somehow couldn't look dopey like Lucy or sing silly like Minnie Pearl.

"I realized, in the interim," she said today, "that television is changing the whole picture for the classical singers. They don't have much of a chance anymore.

"For some reason I can't figure out, people don't want to have anything fancier than baked beans in their living rooms anymore. Except for rare instances, they want music that's easy to listen to. Maybe it's because popular music will keep the kids quiet. . ."

TAILOR THE TALENT

Figuring she "will have to tailor the talent to the times," Vivian has followed the lead of such former classicists as Helen Traubel, Lauritz Melchior, the late Ezio Pinza, et al, and is singing pop music.

"When I decided to change my style, I felt I ought to change my name too," she says. "Rock and roll, and Della Chiesa — well, gee — they just don't go together, like Toscanini and bop.

"So I'm making records under the name 'Vivienne' — period. Maybe even that's a little fancy, but I didn't want to get schizophrenic all of a sudden by calling myself 'Mary Jane' or something.

"It's hard enough to remember not to make your voice sound educated — without having to remember to answer to an all-new name too."

Vivienne, as she is listed on her new records of bop and ballads, insists she isn't "singing down" to listeners. She's just "unbending a little, and tuning out the vibrato."

"I have let down my hair, and my range," she says. "The toughest part of it all is trying to sound like I never had an education in music.

"The way you do it is to make little 'dead sounds' every now and then — not exactly flat, mind you, but a little dull — and take all the vibrato out of the voice.

"It took a lot of doing, but now I'm getting to like it. And I don't really feel that I'm 'prostituting my art' either. After all, if this is what most of the people want to hear, it's the right music for the age."

Miss Della Chiesa realizes that the classical singers who attempt to impress the TV public these days are beating their vocal chords against a tin ear. She began singing in concert, opera and radio at age 16, and knows a trend when she hears one.

"Art, in capital letters, isn't actually dying. It's just sort of resting while teenagers and television get their bearings. But in the meantime, if an artist is to live she's got to get with it. It's a fact of life, and I should have realized it long before.

"Even back in the early '30s, when I'd sing concerts full of weighty numbers, I'd do a light opera selection or a popular ballad as an encore. Most of the audiences ate it up like candy. So it's my own fault I don't have to pay the government more income tax.

"Should have sharpened my sweet tooth long before this!"

Police Arrest Three Members of Terror Gang

EAST DETROIT (INS) — East Detroit police said Tuesday they had uncovered a teenage terror organization that cut a girl's long blonde hair close to the scalp and stripped off most of her clothes.

Police said four girls were arrested. Still sought are three boys who allegedly held the 17-year-old victim.

Detectives said the boys belong to a gang that has this motto:

"Hell's our home — we're here on a visit club."

The girls under arrest admitted planning the attack, according to authorities, but refused to state reasons.

The victim said one girl told her:

"This will teach you not to talk about us."

Bob Considine Says:

Supermercato Wows Eternal City

NEW YORK (INS) — The latest packets from abroad bring startling information from Rome. The biggest thing that has hit the Eternal City since the invention of the pizza is the Supermercato.

The Italian, end product of centuries of shoppers who demanded that the meat and the cheese be cut in their presence, is undergoing the revolutionary change of accepted "pre-impacco" goods.

There is muttering among the elders. The world is plainly going to hell, they swear.

But a new generation saw the whole, digestible thing work last year, when the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the National Association of Food Chains presented a live supermarket at a Rome exhibit.

Rome's Supermercato opened February 27 and it has been such a smash hit ever since that the firm plans half a dozen more.

It carries about 900 items, a list which doesn't include milk. The firm hasn't yet been able to get a milk license, but has a fine line of wines and whiskies. The English and the Danes beat us to the Roman help-yourself counters with their packaged goods.

MINOR BEACHHEADS

But a recent American shopper there noted minor beachheads held by the forces of Jello, Post cornflakes, Minute Man instant frosting and Cypress Gardens pineapple juice. He anticipated enormous future landings by other established U.S. market legions.

There is very little stealing, reports Signor Benedetto Nepsi, a Swiss-trained supermarket buff. But just to be on the safe side, he has a spy room with one-way window glass — mirror on the outside, translucent to the guard within. So watch it, fellows.

It had to happen, had to be dreamed, tooled, fabricated and tested. I mean the anti-missile missile.

Nobody came close to shooting down the No. 1 missile of World War II, the German V2. It hit London faster than radar could track it and struck the ground well ahead of the sound it was making as it decended.

They're building them bigger and better today, so a defense must be found — a search that has bemused man since the first stone ax was fashioned. The speeds being what they are, only a missile can catch a missile. Hence the anti-missile missile.

The bravos are muted, however, by the thought of what has now been set in motion.

The Russians are sure to produce an anti-missile-missile missile, a missile designed to shoot down the missile launched to shoot down the original missile.

This will necessitate a crash program on our part to build an anti - missile - missile - missile missile, to shoot down the dirty Russian missile which is trying to shoot down the plucky American missile which is defending us against the dastardly original Russky missile.

And so on.

Pulitzer Prize winner Rube Goldberg writes:

"The other day I walked past the temporary recruiting office at Times Square. On the outside wall was a striking reproduction of James Montgomery Flagg's famous World War I poster of Uncle Sam pointing directly at the onlooker, captioned 'I Want You.'

"This is the greatest poster ever printed in America and ranks with George M. Cohan's song 'Over There' in its emotional and patriotic appeal.

"Flagg used himself as the model for Uncle Sam. His fellow artists still marvel at his masterful feat of drawing in getting that index finger to point at you right out of the picture.

"But what struck most forcibly, indeed shocked me, was the fact that Flagg's signature was nowhere to be seen. It had been completely blocked out.

"The original of the poster is preserved in the Smithsonian Institution. Flagg's signature should be preserved in the public mind."

Great Leaping Bullfrogs Set for Four-Day Jumping Spree

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP) — Mark Twain would tilt a shaggy eyebrow if he knew all the commotion his frog story still causes in this mother lode country on the rolling green shoulders of the Sierras.

A bullfrog's throaty croak is music to Angels Camp ears. And for four days starting tomorrow more than 20,000 folks from all over will be watching with hushed expectancy while the frogs do their stuff.

More than 500 frogs are entered, including 15 from foreign lands, in the 30th annual Jumping Frog Jubilee which commemorates Twain's famous fable — "Jumping Frog of Calaveras County." The jubilee is sponsored by California's 39th District Agricultural Assn.

"It's going to be a dandy this year," said Carl T. Mills, secretary-manager of the jubilee. "Madera County, which has been trying for a coon's age to win the championship, has come up with a six-legged frog.

"Youngster name of Ernest Topping found him. Four hind legs and two up front. Reckon we'll have to impose a handicap on him. A regular frog gets three jumps. Multiply that by four legs and you get 12. All right, so we'll divide 12 by this frog's six legs and allow him just two jumps."

What the Jubilee claims is a world record—16 feet 10 inches, in a hop, skip and jump—was set in 1954 by an amphibian named Lucky, owned and trained by Ray Weimer of Angels Camp. There's a prize of 1,000 frogskins for any entry breaking that mark.

No foreign frog has yet even placed, but there's a great deal of tub thumping about two entries this year—a South African species from Margate, Natal, and Won Long Hop, the Free China champ from Taipei, Formosa.

Won Long Jump won the Chinese title in an elimination jump held recently at Taiwan. An entry of Gen. Claire Chennault's Civil Air Transport, the frog is being flown to the United States accompanied by a pretty Chinese stewardess.

The South African frog, a little fellow not more than three inches long, has been entered by Mrs. Blanche Van Den Bergh, secretary of the Town Office at Margate.

"That species has been known to jump nearly 40 feet," said Mills. "But we had one in last year's jump and he barely got off the ground. Kinda think the long air trip dehydrated him, or something."

Angels Camp's big annual event started in 1927 on Main Street and was held there until 1938. So big were the crowds that they had to move it to the fairgrounds. Even now there are bleacher seats for only 1,000. The rest of the big crowd watches from a grassy slope facing the 30 by 50 foot platform. The platform is covered with yellow canvas on which are concentric rings of 5, 10, 15 and 20 feet.

Qualifying jumps begin tomorrow. The 15 top jumpers will compete in the finals on Sunday. A frog's handler is called a jockey. He cannot touch the frog, but can shout, sing, stand on his head or anything else to encourage the frog. If the frog doesn't jump within 15 seconds, he's disqualified.

Massachusetts Denied Emergency Federal Aid

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower has refused to declare areas of Massachusetts, devastated by forest fires, a major disaster area that would be eligible for emergency federal assistance.

The decision was communicated to Gov. Foster Furcolo by White House Assistant Sherman Adams.

Adams told Furcolo that the extent of the forest fire damage did not warrant declaration of a major disaster area. The governor was informed that federal assistance was available through other means.

It is estimated that sportsmen take more than 12 million pounds of "wild food" (fish and game) from Michigan's woods and waters yearly, according to the Michigan Tourist Council. And the state ranks first in the nation in the combined sale of hunting and fishing licenses.

Vacationers in Southeastern Michigan may actually see their next car being built. More than a million visitors a year tour Michigan's several automobile factories, and more and more Americans are combining a Michigan vacation with factory pick-up of their new car purchases, the Michigan Tourist Council says.

Montgomery Sticks by His Guns

Gruff British Hero Scorns Gentle Art of Politicking

By International News Service

Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery scorns politicians, and he has cheerfully demonstrated over the years that politics is an art of which he is innocent.

The British hero of Alamein, in the U. S. to visit President Eisenhower and talk to American military leaders, drew the fire of southern historians and Civil War buffs when he said he would have "sacked" Gen. Robert E. Lee for his conduct of the battle of Gettysburg.

Montgomery wasn't fazed. He stuck to his guns, as he often has in the past when he fired from the hip or launched a verbal barrage that disregarded grand political strategy.

Five years ago, when British political leaders were carefully explaining why they couldn't join the proposed European Defense Community, Montgomery announced that he would like to see Britain in EDC. The British foreign office frostily "disclaimed responsibility" for Montgomery's statement.

RAF BRISTLES

Recently, Montgomery said in a speech, delivered only a few blocks from the Royal Air Force Club in London, that the western air forces should be welded into "one single mighty weapon"—commanded by an American. The RAF bristled.

HAS SOLDIERED

Montgomery has been a soldier for most of his 69 years. After graduation from Sandhurst, Britain's West Point, he served in Belgium and France for three years during World War I, was wounded twice and heavily decorated. In World War II, after aiding in the Dunkerque evacuation, he was given the command that was to win him a permanent place in military history—head of the British Eighth Army, "the army of the Nile."

He took over an army that had been driven from Libya back to Egypt by German Field Marshal Erwin Rommel. After two months of preparation he launched an attack on the Germans and Italians at El Alamein, broke their lines and pushed them back into Libya. Within a few weeks, Rommel had lost more than half his forces.

In Tunisia, Montgomery combined with Gen. Eisenhower's forces to end the North African campaign, in May, 1943.

Montgomery held top command posts in Europe under Eisenhower from D-Day until the end of the war: became chief of the British imperial general staff after the war and has been NATO deputy supreme Allied commander since 1951. A widower, he has one son, David, 28.

Grandmother, 46, Wins Top Honors at Graduation

Now she's going to college on a scholarship hoping to become a teacher.

Mrs. Lucas, three times a grandmother, won her cap and gown as covaledictorian. She had a grade average of 7.3 out of a possible 8.

The wife of a miner, Mrs. Lucas said she always wanted to complete her high school education.

"So, I decided to go back to school," she explained. She had quit school after the seventh grade.

"Everyone seems to like Mrs. Lucas and she fits in well here," said the Wilburton High School principal.

Mrs. Lucas said she wants to become a schoolteacher. She will attend Eastern A&M College here.

Her husband said he had no objections.

Negro to Graduate From Clinton High

He is 17-year-old Bobby Cain, one of 12 Negroes admitted to the school Aug. 27.

Coincidentally, Friday will be the third anniversary of the U. S. Supreme Court decision banning segregated public schools. This ban resulted in a federal court order admitting Negroes to the previously all-white Clinton school.

The order climaxed five years of litigation, and made Clinton High the first state-supported school in Tennessee to mix the races.

'Confidential' Probed Further

Two Witnesses Label Stories About Them 'Outright Lies'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Confidential magazine comes under further scrutiny today by a county grand jury conducting a criminel libel investigation.

The jurors, who went into the subject matter of the magazine yesterday with a dozen witnesses, including actress Maureen O'Hara and pianist Liberace, will explore its financial dealings today.

Miss O'Hara and Liberace, both subjects of Confidential articles, appeared voluntarily.

The red-haired actress branded the story about her "an outright lie" and said she felt it was her civic duty to testify. "I would like to see Confidential put out of business," she said.

Liberace similarly denounced the magazine and the article about him, and followed up his grand jury appearance by filing a 25-million-dollar libel suit.

The suit asked 20 million dollars actual damages and five million exemplary damages. Publisher Robert Harrison, writer Horton Streete, the Kable Printing Co., Hollywood Research, Inc., and Confidential, Inc., were named defendants.

The jury also heard from private detectives, newsmen and Hollywood "party girls" in an apparent effort to learn where Confidential gets its story material.

The grand jury hearing is the result of a long investigation by the state attorney general and the Los Angeles district attorney. Officials conducting the investigation said they will seek criminal libel indictments.

TOO CLOSE FOR COMFORT — This Waterloo, Ind., boy must be thankful that these derailed boxcars came to rest when they did — about 50 feet from his front porch. Thirty derailed cars of the New York Central line tore up a quarter-mile of track. There were no fatalities in the wreck.

'The Body' Prohibits Use of That Label

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Marie McDonald signed a $60,000 Las Vegas contract last night that prohibits the use of her famous label — "The Body."

The contract — marking her debut in the Nevada resort—calls for four weeks at Las Vegas' Desert Inn, beginning May 28.

Wilbur Clark, operator of the spa, told a reporter: "She absolutely refuses to be billed as 'The Body,' even though she's got such a beautiful one."

Marie explained: "That title haunts me. I hate it. It practically ruined my movie career."

She said the title was dreamed up years ago by a press agent who "wanted to sell a stinker of a movie I was in."

3 Big College Problems

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Religion, love and marriage, in that order, are the problems college students most often take up with their chaplains, Robert Bonthius of Vassar College reported to the National Association of College and University Chaplains at the University of Michigan this week.

Chinese Suffer Setback in Communizing of Tibet

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The Soviet Union has its Hungarian revolt to try to live down. And now the Chinese Communists have suffered a setback on their rocky road to empire high on the plateau of Tibet.

The Peiping regime sent Red troops into autonomous Tibet, an area about three times the size of California, 6½ years ago.

Now Peiping has announced that for the next six years no "democratic reforms" will be carried out in Tibet, which had been a little accessible but peaceful theocratic state before the Red invasion.

Reports leaking out from Tibet through India last month said that the Chinese Communists were in the midst of reappraising both military and political policy in the high mountain land.

The revolt in eastern Tibet last year and the strong resistance of monasteries to Communist reforms, plus the physical difficulties of effective controlling the rugged Buddhist land, dictated the new approach by Peiping.

TROOPS SENT HOME

Many Chinese political shock troops sent in to push through a social revolution are being sent home with their work undone.

The Red withdrawal is not to be a permanent one. Tibetans are warned they, "like all fraternal nationalities, must take the road to socialism," according to Gen. Chang Kuo-hua, the Chinese commander in Tibet.

But the general in a published article virtually admits that the so-called "Preparatory Committee for the Autonomous Region of Tibet" is now trying to efface itself from the Tibetan scene.

The general says the reforms can be postponed until the "objective conditions of the Tibetan area" are better understood. So there will be no reform in Tibet during the second five-year plan (1958-62).

When the third five-year plan comes around Peiping will reconsider the problem — provided the Tibetans by then have acquired a taste for the Red type of reform.

SET OFF REVOLT

It was "reform" in the Kham region of eastern Tibet that set off the revolt last year when several hundred Chinese in garrisons in monastery towns were massacred in an explosion led by monks of an anti-Chinese movement called Mimang.

Chinese Reds must send in huge forces to try to control the population in the land well suited for guerrilla warfare.

So Chinese policy probably will be to build roads and airfields, concentrate its troops in easily defended central points, and hope that the influences of modern gadgets will sap the Tibetan theocracy, that automobiles and aircraft will do more to promote the Communist revolution than young Communist students and Marxist doctrine.

Fine Forests in Jeopardy, Says Expert

Warns Michigan to Beware of Fire Threat

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A warning that Michigan faces the possibilities of big forest fires like those in the old days comes from a forestry expert.

Prof. Kenneth P. Davis of the University of Michigan cited as a danger signal the big fire that destroyed at least 750 acres of timber in the Huron National Forest near Lake Huron last week.

"Paradoxically, this increasingly serious situation is one result of progress in forestry," said Davis, who is chairman of the Department of Forestry in the U. of M. School of Natural Resources.

"As more areas are planted or are naturally seeded, forest stocking is improved and protection becomes more successful, there is also more to burn."

Because there are now more forests to burn, Davis said, "We're getting closer to forest fuel conditions that 50 or 75 years ago fed some real whingdingers."

Davis cited one whingdinger in Michigan in 1871, the year of the great Chicago fire. It started at Holland on Lake Michigan and swept across Lower Michigan to Lake Huron. Ten years later, he said, a forest fire swept the Thumb, killing more than 160 people.

Sailors at Pole Get Analyzed

Men Study One Another to Help Navy Plan Long Antarctic Tours

CHICAGO (INS)—Every man is a psychiatrist at the South Pole.

Each of the 329 U. S. Navy men and civilian scientists wintering over in Operation Deep Freeze has been enlisted in a giant personality and emotional evaluation of every other man.

Object of the observations, according to Dr. George Raines, head of the neuro-psychiatric branch of the Navy bureau of medicine, is to find out "what personality type adapts best to the months of womanless, isolated and dangerous duty in Antarctica."

Officers spend long Antarctica nights writing evaluations of their men. Buddies analyze buddies, and a medical officer keeps monthly records on both officers and men.

LONGER STAYS

Dr. Raines indicated that the Navy is looking ahead to the not too distant time when it will send men for "prolonged" stays in Antarctica, a sub-continent larger than the United States.

The exact status of Antarctica is in doubt; at least five nations have laid claim to various parts of the area including the U. S. and the U.S.S.R.

In its search for the ideal Antarctic personality type, the Navy has found that the sports-minded man apparently fares better in the Antarctic.

In the initial screening of men for duty in operation deep freeze a sports questionaire was included. The Seabees, aviators, radio men and other Navy personnel were also closely examined on family history, whether they lived in the city or country and other such information.

A stack of psychological forms has been supplied to each of the Antarctic bases. One typical form, given to each enlisted man periodically asks him to select the three best and the three worst men he knows in the outfit.

There also are confidential forms for individual analysis of a given man's personality, workability and general emotional adjustment.

Envoy Rejects Idea to Change Panama Canal

KANSAS CITY (INS) — Panama's ambassador to the U. S. says his country "wants no part" of any plan to internationalize the Panama Canal.

Ricardo Manuel Arias, former president of the republic, received an honorary degree Tuesday from Rockhurst College in Kansas City.

Commenting on the proposal former President Harry S. Truman made at Potsdam to internationalize Suez, Panama and similar waterways, Arias said:

"We would rather negotiate with the United States than with any international body that might be set up. We are not attempting to follow Nasser of Egypt or make any efforts in the direction he has taken."

However, the ambassador from Panama pointed out his country wants the return of land not needed in operation of the Canal Zone, and also seeks the same rate of pay for its people as enjoyed by workers from the U. S. on the canal.

Truman disclosed recently that Premier Stalin rejected his proposal to internationalize the waterways and that Great Britain was "lukewarm."

Five Greek Cypriots Get Life Sentences

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Five Greek Cypriots sentenced to death April 5 for firing at a security patrol were retried today on a new charge of possessing firearms. Each was sentenced to 10 years in jail.

The Cyprus Supreme Court quashed the death sentences May 2 and ordered a retrial, because evidence in English had not been interpreted into Greek.

The defendants pleaded guilty today to the weapons charge.

Stratford Festival Also Film Showplace

STRATFORD, Ont. (AP) — The hometown of Canada's annual Shakespearean Festival may soon become a world film showplace.

As the eight-week Shakespearean Festival approaches its fifth season, preparations are afoot to include a showing of top films from 13 nations. Some will be world premieres.

The films from both sides of the Iron Curtain will be shown at Stratford's Vogue movie house July 8-20.

City's Projects Run Into Snags

Residents Get 2 Weeks to Submit Protests on Special Assessment

The city's 1957 public improvement program ran into some snags last night.

Residents involved in two special assessment projects raised objections and were given two weeks to submit petitions of protest.

A protest petition on a third project was overruled and the go-ahead signal given for construction.

City Manager Walter K. Willman pointed out the protests all were registered after the projects had been approved without objection at public hearings.

PAY ATTENTION

"Residents of the city should pay attention to when hearings are scheduled. They are the proper time to object to proposed projects," he commented.

Two-week delays were obtained in street improvement projects on East Colgate avenue from Baldwin avenue to University avenue and on Lookout drive from East boulevard to Astor street.

Public hearings on special assessment rolls for the two projects were heard last night.

TO GO AHEAD

Although a protest petition had been signed by 60 per cent of the home owners, commissioners pointed out public hearings had been concluded and the work was included in contracts already let.

Progress was made on seven other projects and three special assessment hearings set for May 21.

The commission also approved a low bid of $143,541 for combined sewer construction on Kennett road and Ivy street.

Man Who Posed for Stone Statues Isn't Impressed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Helmus W. Andrews looked at the 42 stone statues of himself and commented:

"They look pretty crummy to me."

"I posed for those statues 47 years ago when I was a freshman at Pomona College in Claremont, Calif.," the San Diego businessman said. Yesterday was the first time he had seen the finished products.

"It was interesting looking at them," he said, "but I don't care if I never see those statues again."

Mrs. Asakai Hep on Americanisms

Wife Will Coach Envoy

TOKYO (AP)—At last, Koichiro Asakai said with a smile, his wife is going to get a chance to correct his flawless English.

Asakai is leaving in a week to become Japan's ambassador in Washington. He speaks what he calls the Queen's English, having studied at Edinburgh University and served as Japanese minister to Britain. His wife Takako, went to college in the United States and speaks the American brand.

"I say sheye-dule instead of ske-dule and tramcar instead of streetcar," Asakai continued during an interview. "My wife at last will have a right to correct my pronunciation."

Asakai, 51, is the first of Japan's younger crop of postwar diplomats to reach the highest level in the Foreign Ministry. He dealt with the U. S. occupation forces as a liaison officer during the occupation of Japan.

He was Japan's first postwar minister in London before this country regained its independence and served seven months as ambassador in Manila getting the coveted Washington post.

Asakai has made only two brief visits to the United States, both since the war.

"I'm a sportsman, and not on the brainy side," Asakai said. "I was a rowing champion in school and fairly good in tennis—No. 1 at the Manila Embassy. Fairly good in swimming and a good bridge player—welin medium."

Asakai shoots golf in the 90s. He hopes to play at the Burning Tree Country Club in Maryland, where President Eisenhower golfs.

Mrs. Asakai attended Trinity College in Washington from 1930-33 and is looking forward to seeing her college friends and teachers.

Mrs. Asakai, who prefers kimono to Western dress, and their three teen-age children are Roman Catholics. Asakai is a Buddhist.

The ambassador is regarded as one of Japan's top economic experts. He said he will try to impress on Washington officials that Japan needs trade much more than aid from the United States."

Choosing as his topic "The New Look in Broadway Musicals," Mr. Buell discussed the types of musical comedy which were popular prior to the smash hit "Oklahoma."

"Since 'Oaklahoma,' which started the new look, the trend has been toward an integrated musical play in which all the elements and settings grow out of the heart of the story," the speaker remarked.

Serving on the reception committee for the day were Mrs. D. E. Redman and Mrs. William Shunck Mrs. A. A. Dodd and Mrs. J. C. Walker were in charge of luncheon arrangements and Mrs. W. C. Miller and Mrs. Earl McHugh handled decorations.

Woman Wondering How to Discourage Visit by Relatives

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "Last week I received a letter from a relative living in a distant city, saying that she and her husband were coming to this city to spend their vacation. She has hinted very broadly that they would like to stay at our house. (They know we have plenty of room.)

"However, I don't wish to have them stay here and would prefer that they go to a hotel. I don't feel up to having people stay here. It means so much extra work for me. Will you please tell me how I can handle this situation tactfully?"

Answer: Tell them that you are so glad that they are coming to town and that you hope to see something of them while they are here. They certainly can't expect to stay with you unless you invite them.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary recently and our daughter gave a surprise party in our honor. We received many presents and my husband and I opened them together at the reception.

"My sister-in-law criticized me later for doing this and said it was in bad taste to open the gifts in front of everyone and that it placed those who gave presents of smaller value in an embarrassing position. Will you please tell me if we were wrong?"

Answer: You were entirely correct. Not to have opened the presents would have been very rude.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When ordering a dish that is different from what the others at the table are having, is it proper to ask them if they would like to taste it?"

Answer: To hand out little portions of the dish that you alone have ordered would be unthinkable. If it is a very unusual dish and some one persons shows great curiosity about it, it might be a natural impulse to offer him (or her) a taste.

How to Follow Diet in Restaurant

Some of Josephine Lowman's advice to career girls who find it difficult to follow a slimming diet when they eat in restaurants is—"It's fresh fruit for you at dessert time!"

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Career women find it difficult to follow a slimming diet when they eat in restaurants. Many write to ask for helpful suggestions.

In the first place, order meat that is baked, boiled or broiled, not fried. Ask your waiter or waitress to leave the gravy off. Do not eat the fat part of the meat. This may sound rugged but it will be good for your blood vessels as well as your figure.

The same goes for fish and fowl. Cream sauces with fish are wonderful to the taste but they pile on the pounds. Chicken gravy is luscious but not for the woman who is reducing. Do not order fried fish or chicken.

When you have a green salad ask to have your dressing on the side. In this way you can measure it yourself, using only a minimum amount.

Order your potatoes baked or broiled, not mashed or fried. Ask that no butter be put on the potato. You can then measure the small dab allowed you.

NO LITTLE EXTRAS

Naturally you will avoid cream dishes and sauces, oil or mayonnaise-dunked salads. Do not eat the little extras such as nuts and saltines, mints and so forth.

It's fresh fruit for you at dessert time! From this time of year on, for quite a while, you will have a great variety of these to choose from. Soon you will not miss the heavy calorie desserts you now think you cannot do without.

You will not be able to control the seasoning on vegetables but you can eat lots of them raw in vegetable salads and as tidbits such as carrot sticks.

Naturally if you eat the basket or dish full of hot bread just because it is before you, you cannot expect happy reducing results.

Even a few of these rules for yourself will help a lot in remaining slim though eating out.

I have a leaflet you might like if you are a career gal. It gives you a week's menus for career women (easily prepared) and suggests organization of your housework to fit in with your job. If you would like to have it, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 46 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Gold Cake Flavored With Orange

Mrs. Schultz Adds Coconut to Top of Fluffy Yellow Icing

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

A flavor often neglected in cake-making is orange. This recipe from Mrs. Karl Schultz makes a cake that is either orange or lemon flavored, with a frosting of the same kind. Try it for your next party.

Recently retired from helping in her husband's business, Mrs. Schultz is finding great pleasure in her new home and in a new granddaughter. She is a Past Matron of the Eastern Star, also a past president of Soroptimist club of Pontiac.

ORANGE OR LEMON CAKE
By Mrs. Karl Schultz

1 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
1 whole egg and the yolks of 3 eggs
½ teaspoon salt
1½ cups milk
4 teaspoons baking powder
3 cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon orange or lemon flavoring

Cream shortening and sugar, add egg and beaten egg yolks. Beat well. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk. Add flavoring. Bake in three 9-inch greased layer tins in 350-degree oven for about 25 minutes.

Filling

⅓ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup water
Grated rind 1 orange
3 tablespoons sugar
1 egg
2 tablespoons water
1½ tablespoons cornstarch

Boil first five ingredients together. Beat egg and gradually add boiled mixture. Heat again and add cornstarch and water mixed together. Cook until clear. Let cool before spreading between layers.

Frosting

Boil 1¼ cups sugar with ⅓ cup water until it forms a firm ball in cold water. Beat egg whites stiff. Add boiled syrup and beat until frosting stands in peaks. Flavor with one teaspoon orange or lemon. Tint pale yellow if desired. Sprinkle frosted cake thickly with coconut.

If your china has a decorated pattern, try a plain crystal to offset it. And similarly, for a plain white china, use a decorated crystal.

Tapering Toes Give Look of Elegance

The shape drops to your feet! Toes go in one direction — to a point. This all important shoe-shape is a definite visual change.

Slim tapering toe gives the long lean look of elegance. The back of the shoe, hugs the foot. High-heels are thin and narrow, mid-heels taper or sweep into modern Louis heel curves, flat heels are wafer thin and shaped like cookies.

Give Them Details of Diet, Operation

2 Ways to Bore Friends

A diet, as a topic of conversation, is about as interesting to your listeners as an account of your operation.

They are both topics that are endlessly fascinating to you and to no one else.

When you are on a diet, stick to it but don't discuss it, not even with your best friend.

And when you go out to a dinner party, don't refuse food or ask your hostess to prepare something special for you because you're dieting.

You can eat what appears to be a normal dinner by taking smaller portions and leaving a bit of each. The fact that you don't help yourself to a roll or finish all of your dessert won't cause comment.

The next day return to your diet schedule with a clear conscience.

When your friends do notice your weight loss, don't retaliate with a complete description of diet and its astounding success. Accept their comments and let the whole matter go at that.

Prejudice Hides Their Resentment

BY MURIEL LAWRENCE

The W.'s 24-year-old daughter plans to marry a divorced man who retains custody of his two children.

Mrs. W. writes, "The children are so antagonistic to her that you can feel it when you see them together. We are heartsick. What happiness can our child find in such a marriage? How can we convince her that a stepmother's job is the most thankless one in the world?"

How many stepmothers do the W.'s know? Enough to justify such a big conclusion?

I think not. Then could these two harassed parents accept the possibility that their opinion of a stepmother's job is the prejudice of old fairy tales and hearsay?

GRAND DISGUISE

By the W.'s prejudice against daughter's future with "thanklessness" in their own child. They have invested hope, work and money in the daughter who now refuses to allow them to control her feelings in return.

Let's be truthful with each other — and confess that the feeling that children are "thankless" is not the monopoly of stepparents but is one that all parents, natural ones included, have to work out.

With this truth conceded, the W.'s can discard the inflexible opinion which their prejudice has been justifying and which keeps them so unhappy.

Prejudice always keeps us in emotional uproar by keeping us inflexible.

It shackles us to rigid views. Because we can't change them, we can't develop the humility that sees all human views as liable to mistake.

So we can't say to this daughter who's made the marriage choice we don't approve, "Trust yourself. We don't like your intention but our previous judgments have often been mistaken. So it is quite possible that our judgment of this choice of yours is mistaken, too."

MR. and MRS. VERN CARMEAN

Donna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Brown of Voorheis road, chose a floor - length gown of Schiefflı lace. The fitted basque bodice was accented by the scalloped neckline. The very full multi-tier skirt extended into a chapel sweep.

A half-crown style headpiece secured her fingertip veil of silk illusion, and she carried a cascade arrangement of roses, carnations and lilacs.

Carolyn Campbell served as maid of honor. Mrs. Louis Warrington and Sharon Kelley were the bride's other attendants. Cindy Lee performed the duties of flower girl.

The attendants were gowned alike in ballerina - length gowns of pastel lilac chiffon fashioned with floating back panels. Each carried a cascade bouquet of lilacs and carnations.

Writing Takes More Than Time

By ANNE HEYWOOD

If you heard a friend who had never studied painting say, "My, that's a beautiful sunset! If I had the time, I'd do a painting of it," you'd think she had lost her mind.

Yet every day we hear people say, "I've had the most interesting experience. If I had the time, I'd write a book."

We take it for granted that it takes skill, training and work to paint, but we assume that all it takes to write is time!

I thought of that the other day, when I was reading a fascinating novel called Remembrance Way, by Jessie Rehder. Jessie is in her 40s, and has been working at writing since her college days. This is her first novel.

I met Jessie back in 1944, when I took my son, then a tiny baby, to Chapel Hill, N. C., for his first winter.

We got an apartment in a converted house, and the first day we were there, I set up my typewriter while Johnny took his nap, and began tapping away. I thought maybe some day I'd write something and I was in there trying.

ANOTHER TYPIST

I soon became aware of the fact that another typewriter, directly above me, was also going a mile a minute. It belonged to a gal named Jessie Rehder, who was in there pitching, too.

Jessie did a newspaper column in those days. She had sold short stories and edited an anthology of verse and was beginning to teach in the English Department of the University of North Carolina. She is now a regular lecturer in the department.

But the point is that, all her life, Jessie Rehder has been working at writing, one way or another. And her novel, Remembrance Way, shows it.

If you keep telling yourself that some day you'll write a novel, when you "get the time," better stop kidding yourself.

Writing takes a great deal more than time. It takes a certain amount of native aptitude, plus hours and months and years of application. It also takes a real burning desire, the type that goes on persistently, not the kind that spurts up on occasion.

DROP THE IDEA

If you only think about writing at times when you need money or want a little prestige, then drop the idea. It'll save you a great deal of trouble.

But if you really mean business about writing, get to work at it now.

Plan your life so you'll have a certain amount of time every day for writing. And remember, you'll have to work hard for years and years if you really want to write!

Unhappy With Your Lot? You Made Wrong Choice

Face the Fact That All Through Life You Select One Road or Another

By RUTH MILLETT

"It wasn't so difficult," said the fortyish woman who, by sticking to a rigid diet for many months, had managed to drop 40 pounds and at least 10 years.

"Every time I was tempted to break my diet I just asked myself a question: 'Which would I rather have, that piece of apple pie or a nice trim figure?'

"It was funny how quickly the pie or cake lost its appeal when I made myself mentally choose between it and a size 12 figure."

It's that way all through life. Making a sensible choice isn't too difficult if we force ourselves to see that we are making a choice.

Most of our mistakes are made because we don't face up to the fact that we're confronted by a choice. We just drift into the wrong course without quite realizing we could have taken a different turn.

Any time you are dissatisfied with yourself or your life, take a good clear look and see if you haven't made a wrong choice.

People who are careless and slipshod are choosing disorder and confusion over order and sense.

People who don't develop their potentialities are choosing failure over success.

Once you learn to see the choices that are yours it's fairly simple to make a wise choice. It's not recognizing that you have a choice that gets you into trouble.

Full-fashioned sweaters are knitted, rather than sewed at the underarms, shoulders and neck. These usually cost a bit more but fit better than the usual "cut-and-sewed" sweaters.

Spring Brings Lighter Lotions for Face, Hands

Winter requires richer facial creams and hand creams. With spring, you can change to the lighter lotions for both hands and face. The notion of one type of skin care the year around is an old-fashioned one.

The kind of skin lotion you pick for daily use in spring depends to a great extent on your skin type, just as it does in winter. But so many lotions are available now that you will have no trouble finding one that's right for your skin.

The trick lies in making sure that you use it daily, never skipping.

Beauty Hint

If you've acquired the habit of sitting with your feet apart, look at yourself in a mirror. It is an ugly pose. Try sitting with your ankles slightly touching. It's comfortable and looks a lot more attractive.

Berean Class Meets at Tanner Home

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tanner were hosts in their home on South Francis street Friday evening to members of the Berean Class of Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

During the business meeting committees were named for the class homecoming to be held July 20. Members of the McCormick Group were in charge of the social hour.

Potatoes Are Waxed

Red potatoes are being waxed to hold the natural appearance and the customer's eye. It is said that the waxing reduces shrinkage through control of moisture loss. It prevents color of the potato from fading when exposed to light, and retards light greening.

If you want to get a group of friends together for an evening of dining and dancing and expect each couple to pay their own way, that is quite all right. But do make sure that when you invite each couple you mention that it is a "Dutch treat" affair.

Hollywood's Greatest Moments

Clara Bow Symbolizes Giddy, Tragic Era

(This is the third of five articles in which the "first lady of Hollywood" recaptures the golden era of the movie capital—the triumphs and tragedies, glitter and glamor—and describes how it has changed in the more than three decades she has observed it at intimate, close range.)

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Motion Picture Editor

At Christmastime my secretary handed me a holiday card she particularly wanted to call to my attention. It was a simple, cheery little scene of snow and sleighbells, the kind you buy in a stationery or drug store. Inside was written in an almost childlike hand:

"Do you remember me? Clara Bow."

Do I remember her? It's as though, 20 years from now, a similar card should come with the message, "Do you remember me? (signed) Ingrid Bergman."

You may think that Bergman created a sensation when I broke my scoop that the Swedish actress had left her husband, Dr. Peter Lindstrom, and was expecting a baby by her lover, Roberto Rossellini—and I'll admit it was a shocker around the world.

But when I think back on little flaming-haired Clara, the most popular girl box office star in the world when she was at the height of her stardom (1927 to 1930)—this girl continually furnished headlines to the press month after month, year after year.

Clara, the little girl from Brooklyn, was a good actress—but she achieved her greatest fame as one of the first sex queens after being tabbed the "It" girl by novelist Elinor Glyn.

Elinor, whose book "Three Weeks" was the sensation of the day, at the same time proclaimed that the only male on the screen with "It" was Rex, king of wild horses!

Paramount paid Clara $7,500 per week salary but if they had been paying her $7.50 she couldn't have lived a lonelier, stranger life.

This girl who had the world at her feet in her public life had nothing better to do in her private life than to spend her evenings playing poker with her chauffeur, hairdresser and cook when she wasn't getting in terrible trouble in her love life. She most certainly was one of the original "mixed-up kids."

The best that can be said for her love life is that it was a mess. She fell for the wrong men with consistent regularity. One was a young married doctor whose influence over Clara landed her in a sanatorium—to the tune of world headlines.

A scandal magazine (they had them even then) wrote such a vile, disgusting story about the "It" girl that all Hollywood was up in arms.

My boss, William Randolph Hearst, who was one of the fairest men in the world and always took the part of the underdog, felt sorry for Clara. He telephoned me when the scandal was at its height and instructed me to write Clara's life story.

In order to do this, I had Clara's father come to see me. No wonder the poor little Bow was a strange girl! Papa was a "character" in every sense of that word.

Arriving at my house, he took off his shoes, took off his coat, loosened his tie and unbuttoned his shirt and then sat down to talk to me!

I remember it was a beautiful summer day and I was eager to keep a luncheon date with Bebe Daniels at her beach house.

Cornerstone of a sports wardrobe is the classic corduroy jacket, this one double-pocketed and trimmed with the flash of a gold emblem. The jacket is shown here as part of an ensemble, with matching corduroy trousers in clam-digger length, and a cotton knit shirt trimmed with the same pinwale.

I didn't get to lunch. I didn't get to dinner. Papa sat right through both hours—but he did give me good material which was very helpful for my articles.

Later, the man who had written the horrible article about Clara was sent to prison.

Even after real love came to Clara in the person of handsome and popular Rex Bell, now the lieutenant governor of Nevada and one of the best-liked men in the state (many think he will be governor in the not too distant future), Hollywood had left scars too deep to heal in Clara.

Nowadays she is frequently ill and has to leave the big Nevada ranch where she and Rex and their two sons live for hospitalization and treatment.

MOVIE SCANDALS

The years of the '20s—and before that—had been fraught with scandals from Hollywood that had electrified the world. One had been the Roscoe "Fatty" Arbuckle case.

The popular and rotund comedian was tried in San Francisco for manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, a party girl, who had died in mysterious circumstances following a wild party in Arbuckle's suite. It ruined his screen career.

Another startling mystery was the puzzling death of blonde comedienne Thelma Todd, found dead from monoxide poisoning in a car in the garage of her sweetheart.

The man in the case was director Roland West, well known for his popular pictures and also for the excellence of the food served at his coast-road cafe in Santa Monica. Roland was accused of Thelma's murder and tried—but he was acquitted.

Years later, after the murder, suicide or whatever it was — was all but forgotten, Evalyn Walsh McLean asked my husband, Dr. Harry Martin, Joseph Schenck and myself to take her to dinner at Chez Roland, West's cafe.

ADORED MYSTERIES

Evalyn, a startling woman who owned newspapers and the Hope diamond among other things, adored a good murder mystery. During the course of dinner she said to Roland, "Now come on, did you or did you not murder Thelma Todd? Everybody says you did!"

We all sat there aghast. West made no comment, merely turned on his heel and walked away. But the next week when Evalyn took a party of friends to the restaurant (I think there were six in the party) her bill was $890!

The William Desmond Taylor murder case involving such famed actresses as big-eyed Mabel Normand and blonde "angelic" Mary Miles Minter has been told and rehashed so many times it is almost a classic detective thriller even today.

Yet I find that when I think of Mary Miles Minter it is not as the "perfect little lady" who was called for questioning in the Taylor case by the district attorney of Los Angeles after it had been brought out that she had been deeply involved with the older man and very much in love with him.

No, I remember Mary as a child actress I had taken my daughter Harriet to visit when Harriet, too, was just a little girl.

LITTLE DARLING

I remember that Mary lived up to her reputation as a little "darling" with a vengeance under the smiling eyes of her ever present mother, Mrs. Charlote Selby. Mary trotted out her dolls and talked all but baby talk to my daughter who reacted with all the animation of a clam throughout the entire awful visit.

When we were safely out of the hearing of the Minters, Mary and Mere, Harriet said scornfully to me, "Mother, she isn't a child at all. She's just pretending to be one."

Some stories — like this one — stay more vividly imprinted in my mind than others because of personal reasons. Such a one was the tragic suicide of my good friend, one of the most loved producers in Hollywood, Paul Bern, soon after his marriage (two months to be exact) to bombshell platinum blonde Jean Harlow.

It is always difficult for me ever to get away from Hollywood and its happenings for a vacation. There's never really the right time — something is always coming up. But in the year 1932 it was particularly inconvenient with so many marked changes popping up in the industry every week, or so it seemed to me.

But my husband was taking no more nonsense. After canceling and renewing reservations a half dozen times for me he said to me, "We're going to Europe. I don't care what pops up next in Hollywood. You are tired and need a rest and you're going to have it if the whole town blows up."

SHOCKING NEWS

So we started for New York. We had no more than stepped off the plane than I heard myself being paged at the airport. My International News Service was calling to tell me the shocking news that Paul had killed himself this Labor Day and I was to do a story immediately on what I knew about his life with bride Jean.

A reporter from the Journal-American joined me to take my copy as I wrote it and dictate it to the paper. And there I sat — completely surrounded by luggage in the airport writing a story that broke my heart.

I guess that all that anyone needs to know about the mystery of Paul's nude body, sprawled on the floor of his home, being found with a bullet through his brain is contained in the pitiful note he wrote to Jean:

"Dearest dear:

"Unfortunately this is the only way to make good the frightful wrong I have done you and to wipe out my abject humiliation. You understand that last night was only a comedy. Paul."

SUMMER MAKE UP

To obtain the cool, fresh look is not easy in summer's heat and we don't promise to make you FEEL cool, but to look it is an accomplishment that collects many compliments.

First of all, keep your makeup light, (darken the color to match your tan, if you must, but keep the touch light.) Rouge should create a shadow of color, most of us do need it but, it is never to be worn in great quantity or in small patches.

Lipstick will be easier to apply if you chill it in the refrigertaor first. Keep a purse size stick cologne handy and use it often . . . both for fragrance and a cooling effect on the skin.

We don't need to tell you all the things you can do with $800, but we will remind you that you may be the recipient of that amount if you can successfully pick the numbers for this week's Pot-O-Gold puzzle. Remember to write the numbers in the squares, not the word answers. Entries are disqualified if puzzle blanks contain words.

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

Hollywood Headlines

Hammerstein OKs Kerr for Role in 'South Pacific'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The very first thing Oscar Hammerstein II did when he arrived in Hollywood Monday was to okay Buddy Adler's choice of John Kerr to play Lt. Cable in "South Pacific."

John was so good in "Tea and Sympathy" and "Gaby" that Oscar was as enthusiastic as Buddy and Josh Logan, the director.

I must say I don't envy Rossano Brazzi following Ezio Pinza in the role of "the wonderful guy." No one will ever forget Ezio singing "Some Enchanted Evening."

The starting date is in August, with Hawaii and Hollywood as the locations. The Brazzis, with their dogs, are now driving cross country. Rossano has a deadly fear of airplanes. Mitzi Gaynor, who will play the Mary Martin role, is already working every day, studying the score.

Pilot, pilot, who's got the pilot, is Hollywood's newest game but I must say that Hal Roach Jr. and his partner, Jerry Stagg, seem to have three promising TV properties.

The first is the Bette Davis show in which bounding Bette will do just about everything—commentating, acting and sometimes directing while portraying what happens to a schoolteacher.

The next Roach-Stagg enterprise stars Joe DiMaggio in a show of the same name, but Miss M. Monroe's ex-husband won't act, contenting himself with acting as emcee on a sports anthology which will be told in terms of drama behind the sports scenes.

Add to this a show called Ben Blue's Brother and you can see the boys have quite a lineup. Ben Blue's Brother is actually about four brothers, all Ben and all Blue, I presume.

'A LITTLE ANNOYED'

In a chatty letter Kirk Douglas writes me, "I am a little annoyed in talking with foreign journalists. I tell them my next picture will be 'The Vikings' and they seem surprised that the Americans know anything about them. Maybe some of them feel that our studies in school history are confined solely to the battles between the cowboys and Indians.

"Aside from eating too many potato pancakes and drinking too much beer in Munich, all is going well. In about two weeks my menu will change drastically when we go to Norway for 'The Vikings'," says Kirk.

On the subject of "The Vikings," Germany's leading fan magazine, Bella, has just completed its first poll and Tony Curtis, who is in Kirk's picture, won it.

You might moralize over the tragic death of the playboy, Marquis Alfonso de Portago, whom Linda Christian wanted so much to marry. Linda rushed from Rome to Brescia, Italy, where young de Portago died as a result of a racing accident.

In her short and glamorous life Linda has left a long trail of broken hearts behind her from Turhan Bey to Tyrone Power and Edmund Purdom.

Now Linda knows what it means to be deeply hurt. She gave up all her other attachments to be in Italy near de Portago.

The Marquis seemed equally entranced with her, but it isn't so easy to get a divorce in Italy as it is in the U.S.A., and Alfonso was still married to Carol McDaniel, an American, when he died.

TROUBLE BREWING

Shelley Winters has, at long last, bought a house for herself and her bridegroom, Anthony Franciosa. It's on Crescent drive in Beverly Hills.

John Barrymore Jr. is refusing to do "Good Night, Sweet Prince" unless the ending is changed. He wants his father, John Barrymore, (and so do all of us who loved him) glorified.

Higher Taxes Loom in France

Mollet Calls for Boosts to Help Pay for War in Algeria

PARIS (AP) — Premier Guy Mollet's Cabinet decided today to increase telephone and postal rates to help pay for the war against Arab nationalism in Algeria.

Under a series of newly charted tax measures, the basic stamp for domestic mail would rise from 15 to 20 francs—roughly from 4½ to 7 cents. A similar hike is planned for calls over the government-run telephone system, now based at 15 francs each.

The government also called for an increase of 15 francs a gallon in the gasoline tax, already one of the highest in the world. The price of gasoline in Paris today is about 85 cents a gallon.

Some of the measures were taken by decree under the government's special fiscal powers. In theory, they do not require parliamentary approval. In practice, they will require it, since these taxes are being presented in a package along with taxes which do require parliamentary approval.

One of the taxes in this last category is a 30 per cent levy on corporate dividends in excess of last year's payments. Another, in the first category, raises the tax on luxury products such as refrigerators and television sets from 19½ per cent to 25 per cent.

Parliament reconvened this afternoon after the Easter recess. The billion-dollar-a-year drain of the Algerian war remains one of the country's biggest problems.

Local All-Girl Team to Appear at Holland

Jackie Rae Voorhees, of 255 Dick St., who operates a dancing school at 214216 S. Telegraph Rd., will be featured with her all-girl drill team as the annual Holland Tulip Festival this Saturday.

The group of 17, known as the "Rae-Vens," plus a 6-year-old girl mascot, will present at 10-minute exhibition of precision marching in a show which will include 35 high school marching bands. The girls age 15 to 19 are all from Oakland county and have traveled thousands of miles in the past two years to put on demonstrations.

They also will give their show, which operates at a cadence of 320 steps per minute, during the scheduled evening parade, in addition, they will appear here in the forthcoming Memorial Day parade.

Ford Line to Include New Tractor Equipment

E. H. Woods, general sales manager of the Ford Motor Company's Tractor and Implement Division, Birmingham, has announced the expansion of the Ford line of rear-mounted planting equipment.

The equipment is to be expanded to include a four-row drill planter designed for large-field planting of corn, beans, and many other row crops at a saving of time and tractor travel.

The new planter can be easily adjusted to space planted rows from 28 to 42 inches apart.

Senator Decides It's About Time He Could Hear

He arrived in the Senate on Jan. 3, 1939. Now, 18 years later, he thinks it's time he heard what's going on there.

His proposal seems hardly revolutionary—for any place except the Senate. Why not put in microphones and loudspeakers, he asked his colleagues, so that senators can hear what they're saying to each other? And why not do it now, in this session of Congress?

Working conditions in the Senate, as Wiley describes them, are rough.

Consider the plight of a senator who wants to keep up with the game and hence listens closely to the Democratic signal caller, Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Johnson City, Tex.

Claim Rebellion Stopped in Haiti

Council Ruling Republic Warns That Uprisings Doomed to Failure

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—Police and troops claimed control over all rebellious areas of volatile Haiti last night and said widespread "down with the government" demonstrations had ceased.

The seven-man Executive Council ruling the Negro republic warned that all attempts to overthrow it would fail and promised that "free elections" would be carried out June 26.

An outburst of antigovernment demonstrations and strikes surged over the nation Monday and Tuesday. Presidential candidates who have broken with the council charged that the elections were being rigged against them. The strife brought the registration of voters virtually to a standstill.

Thousands of persons were reported arming themselves for possible clashes with police and flared in Port Au Prince and other towns. Police raided radio stations in the capital that had broadcast rebellion appeals.

By nightfall, gun-carrying partisans of the 10 presidential candidates still appeared on the streets, but Port au Prince—and apparently the rest of the nation—was at least temporarily calm.

Helping to cool the political passions for the moment was an onslaught of torrential rainstorms that turned attention to the immediate problem of battling flash floods.

Oregon Voters to Decide Fate of Death Penalties

Present state law permits execution in the prison gas chamber for first-degree murder.

The measure, a proposed constitutional amendment, was approved by both houses of the Oregon Legislature earlier.

JUNIOR EDITORS

CIRCUS TIME — 2. Handsome Hobo the Clown

Clowns are funny people. And a funny thing about clowns is that the sadder they are the funnier they are. Handsome Hobo, the sad faced clown with the canal-boat-sized shoes, has never been known to smile. But that doesn't stop people from smiling at him — or even laughing out loud. But maybe you'd be sad too and make people laugh if you had feet Hobo's size, wore a silly little hat with a hole in the top and had two pet pigs for travelling companions wherever you went.

Packy, one of his pet pigs, is so lazy Hobo has to carry him around in his arms. The other, named Porky, waddles along in front trying to keep from tripping over Hobo's enormous shoes.

Paste this picture on cardboard, color it and follow the cutting instructions carefully, then Hobo the Clown will be ready to perform in your Junior Editors circus — unless of course he trips over Porky on the way into the arena. Make the big shoes a bright yellow and his socks a shocking red so they will show through the holes in the toes. The ragged brown pants have bright colored patches all over them. The pigs have pink noses, ears and stomachs. The pig standing between Hobo's shoes has a green background.

(This Junior Editors suggestion won $10 for Jean Miller, Midland, Mich. If you have an idea send it to this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

Peronist Gang Smashed With Roundup of 12

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Police say a Peronist ring which has been setting off bombs in Buenos Aires has been smashed with the roundup of 12 men.

Chief Desiderio Fernandez Saurez told newsmen the gang hoped to stir up the population by planting bombs, distributing pamphlets and intimidating former Peronists who informed on followers of deposed President Juan D. Peron.

Bests Police Radar

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A police radar report lost out to a trucker's tacograph in Traffic Court.

Judge James Demopolis favored the tacograph record that showed truck driver Charles Ray Dyer, 20, was not speeding. A tacograph is a gadget attached to vehicles that records speed and time.

Demopolis said the radar check showed that Dyer was traveling 45 m.p.h. in a 30 m.p.h. zone could have been wrong and dismissed the speeding charge.

2 Traffic Changes Slated on the Dixie

Two revisions will be made in traffic signals on Dixie Highway in Waterford Township this summer, according to Sam Levine, district engineer for the Michigan State Highway Department.

Redesigned traffic plans will prohibit left turns from Dixie Highway onto Williams Lake road, and a three-way signal will be installed at the intersection of Scott Lake Rd. and Dixie Hwy., Levine said.

An extensive study has been made by state field survey crews, and it was discovered that the Dixie Hwy.-Williams Lake Rd. intersection has a very high accident record, caused by left turns from Dixie Highway.

Messenger Boy Admits Embezzling $17,200

DETROIT (AP) — A 19-year-old messenger boy told police yesterday he stole $17,200 in negotiable bonds from a brokerage firm where he was employed and sent them to his account in a Swiss bank.

Detective Lt. Raymond Forrestal said Michael C. Casey told them he steamed open envelopes being mailed from the Detroit office of Merrill, Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Beane to the parent office in New York.

Forrestal said a warrant charging Casey with embezzlement would be sought today. The youth was held for investigation.

Utica Pitcher Gains 5th Win Against Bosox

BOSTON (AP) — Duane "Duke" Maas, 26, Detroit's slender righthander farmed out during his last trip to Boston, reigned today as one of the top hurlers in the American League.

"It feels much better coming to Boston this time," Maas said yesterday after posting his fifth triumph by blanking the Red Sox 2-0 on five hits.

"I just didn't have control and the Tigers sent me to Charleston in the American Assn. on my last trip here last July," Maas said. "I guess they couldn't do much else with my 0-7 mark."

Maas, Manager Jack Tighe and pitching coach Willis Hudlin all have the same answer for the former Utica, Mich., dairyman's success this season — control.

"I think I've finally mastered control of my pitches," the righthander said. "I needed that more than anything else."

"Hudlin perfected his slider and taught him control," Tighe said. "I tried for two years, but Hudlin finally taught him. Control was all Duke needed."

Maas dazzled the Red Sox in hurling his fifth victory since losing in relief to Kansas City early this season. All the hits off him were singles and he allowed only one runner to advance as far as second base.

The 5-10, 170-pounder said he threw only three curves while striking out six Boston batters, including Ted Williams, and giving up just one walk.

"I went with sliders and fast balls and everything worked out just fine, Maas said after the masterpiece which lowered his earned run average to 1.87.

Maas has allowed 39 hits, struck out 30 and walked nine in 48 innings in becoming an ace of the Detroit pitching staff. Righthander Frank Lary, a 20-game winner last year, has won only two games while Billy Hoeft has been sidelined with a sore arm.

Maas started off well with the Tigers in 1955, but then slumped and was sent to Buffalo in the International League after three straight losses. He lost seven straight last year and was shipped to Charleston.

Tie for Low Score

Second week of play in the Silver Lake Golf club women's league wound up in a tie for low gross, between Mrs. Elbert Looney and Mrs. Loren Aris. Mrs. Looney also captured the day's low putt mark with 15. The league plays each Tuesday morning.

Reno Scores Twice, Tigers Beat Boston, 2-0

Trade Is Flop, Bertoia Isn't

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

The 22-year-old Italian-born infielder has blossomed into a sensation at third base this season. And a large part of his success can be traced to the fight he has had to put up to beat out Jim Finigan—the key figure in the eight-player swap that was to bring in a replacement for Ray Boone.

Bertoia, spurred by the challenge, improved steadily during the spring season while Finigan went into a decline that resulted in his being benched early in the regular season.

Bertoia, who was signed by McHale as a bonus player in 1953, has hit safely in all but two games he has appeared in this season. His .383 average is second best in the American League.

AP Wirephoto

LONG STRETCH TOO LATE — Reno Bertoia is safe at the plate in the second inning against the Boston Red Sox yesterday after he tagged up following a short fly by Bill Tuttle. The long stretch by catcher Sammy White of Boston is too late. Detroit won, 2-0.

Last year, the young Windsor (Ont) College student batted .182 in 22 games before he was farmed out to Charleston in the American Assn.

Finigan, with one hit in 12 at-bats, is all that remains of McHale's winter follies. Eddie Robinson has been released on waivers. Jack Crimian was shipped to Toronto and pitcher Bill Harrington is elsewhere in the minors.

For this—and what it did for Bertoia—Detroit gave up Ned Garver who has a 3-1 record this season, Virgil Trucks, who with 5-0 is the Major League's leading pitcher. Wayne Belardi and Gene Host, who were tossed into the deal, are in the Minors.

Bertoia celebrated his elevation to fifth place in the Tiger batting order yesterday by blasting his first home run of the season, singling, and scoring Detroit's other run in a 2-0 shutout over the Boston Red Sox.

Bertoia's home run was a seventh-inning bases-empty drive that skimmed over the nets on Fenway Park's leftfield wall. He scored in the second inning when Frank House matched his single and Bill Tuttle brought him home with a short sacrifice fly to center.

MIAA Holds 65th Field Day Since 1888

KALAMAZOO (AP) — The MIAA field day, first held in 1888 and interrupted only by two world wars, will have its 65th setting here Friday and Saturday.

Track, the sport for which the league was first organized back in 1888, finds Albion's defending champions overwhelming favorites to repeat. Several individual champions from the Albion squad will be competing again this year.

Rated about even for the second spot are Kalamazoo, Hope and Hillsdale.

The field event finals and running preliminaries will be held on Kalamazoo College's Angell Field Saturday afternoon, with the running event finals scheduled on the same field Saturday night.

Kalamazoo probably will have no trouble taking the tennis title again. The Hornets haven't been beaten in any kind of league competition in 22 years. This will be the 64th tennis meet.

Kalamazoo also is favored in the 21st annual golf competition. Albion has been golf champion for seven years in a row but Kalamazoo has outclassed every other golf team in the league this season. The 36-hole competition will be held at the Kalamazoo Country Club Friday morning and afternoon.

Kalamazoo College has defending medalist Don Winterhalter of Grand Haven on hand again this year.

There also is great interest in the league's all-sports trophy race. The award is for high standing in all sports during the school year. Kalamazoo and Albion are the top contenders. Albion won the trophy a year ago.

Golf, Track Meets Set

Preps to Vie for Titles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

State scholastic stars will compete this weekend for champions in golf and in track and field at four different sites.

The golfers will vie for titles in three classes at Midland. The lower peninsula track and field meets will be held at Lansing and at Ann Arbor, with classes A and C going at the state capital and classes B and D competing at Ann Arbor.

The defending golf champions are Dearborn in class A, Kalamazoo State in B, Jackson St. Mary in C-D. Each won by at least eight strokes.

Pontiac was an overwhelming winner in the class A track meet, more than doubling the point total of its nearest competitor, Flint Northern. Inkster edged St. Louis by a single point for the class B laurels.

Gromek Nips Braves in '48

Series Win Tops for Steve

(One in a series of articles written by Detroit Tiger players especially for The Associated Press and the Press.)

By STEVE GROMEK

DETROIT (AP) — My biggest thrill in baseball came about almost by accident.

I was with Cleveland during the 1948 world series and the Indians never planned to use me as a starter. But after Bob Feller lost the first game to the Boston Braves, I guess they figured to bring him back in the fourth game.

On short notice, I was sent in to face Johnny Sain in the third game. Our manager, Lou Boudreau, tripled home a run in the first inning and Larry Doby homered for another. Marv Rickett got a homer for the Braves and we won the game 2-1.

I remember the final inning best of all. I struck out the first two batters and the last one filed to Bob Kennedy for the final out.

It was an accident that I got to pitch at all but it's a day I'll never forget.

DUKE OF AL — The current Duke of the American League is Utica's Duke Maas who yesterday won his 5th game. He is tied with ex-Tiger Virgil Trucks now at Kansas City with most league wins, five, against no defeats.

Smallest Field in Years Seen for Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — One of the smallest fields in years shaped up today for Saturday's $100,000-added Preakness with Calumet Farm's Iron Liege expected to have only five challengers in a bid for his second big victory of the spring.

The Kentucky Derby winner, who dramatically assumed No. 1 status in his stable with the untimely injury to highly heralded Gen. Duke, would strengthen his claim to the 3-year-old championship with a repeat in the 81st running of the mile and three-sixteenths event.

Pimlico officials had hoped until late yesterday at least seven might go, but they acknowledged the field would probably total no more than a half dozen after failure to hear from Cain Hoy Stable, owner of One-Eyed King.

This reduced the list of probables to Iron Liege; Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, the 6 to 5 favorite who finished fourth in the derby; Clifford Lussky's Federal Hill; Roslyn Farm's Inswept; Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Promised Land and Mrs. Jules Schwartz' Nah Hiss.

New 'Whiz Kids' Make Phils Flag Contenders

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new generation of "Whiz Kids" appears to have emerged upon the Philadelphia horizon which promises to thrust the Phillies back into the National League spotlight after six years of frustration and disappointment.

Some of the original "Whiz Kids", like Richie Ashburn, Granny Hamner, Aillie Jones, Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons are still on the scene but they've been forced into the background by such youngsters as Ed Bouchee, Harry Anderson, Bob Bowman, Jack Sanford, Don Cardwell and Dick Farrell. This sextet has been largely responsible for the Phils' current streak which has produced seven victories in the last 10 games. Another time when six rookies ever made good simultaneously on one club. It may be too early to pass judgment on the Phillies' newest "Whiz Kids" but up to now they deserve "A" for effort and "c" for efficiency. Their spectacular early showing has surprised everyone, including their manager, Mayo Smith.

Three of the six were instrumental in Philadelphia's 10-8 victory over Cincinnati last night. The win not only snapped the Redlegs' 12-game winning streak and knocked them out of a first place tie with Milwaukee, but boosted the Phillies past Brooklyn into third place in the tight National League race.

The Braves took undisputed possession of first place, with a 3-2 victory over the Dodgers, who dropped into fourth place, three and a half games off the pace.

In other National League games, the New York Giants defeated St. Louis 5-3 and Pittsburgh outslugged the Chicago Cubs 8-6.

Consuegra Goes to Giant Outfit

Oriole Hurler to Be Used in Relief Role by NL Club

ST. LOUIS (INS)—The New York Giants announced last night the purchase of pitcher Sandy Consuegra from the Baltimore Orioles for use as a relief hurler.

Consuegra, 35, had a 0-0 record with the Orioles this season. He appeared on the mound in only five innings, allowing one run and four hits. Previously he had been with the Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

Paddy DeMarco and Allie Stoltz have teamed up and are preparing a night club act . . . Cubs' Bob Scheffing believes in getting the wolves off his back early. His ultimatum: "Expect no miracles from me!" . . . Mike Roscoe of WKRT, Cortland, N.Y., reports amputee Bob Murray is rated one of the better golfers of the area . . . The booklet, "Baseball Made Plain," can be secured by writing Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick's office in Radio City and enclosing a dime to cover handling and mailing costs . . .

Bone chips were taken out of Cisco Andrade's elbow . . . Manager Mike Scanlan bought a home in San Francisco and moved his stable, headlined by Joey Giambra, out to the Golden Gate . . . Tony DiBiase taking geology at NYU . . .

The accusation the Braves are playboys is still a sore spot with the players, not because they took it seriously but because so many other persons did. All along the exhibition trail Fred Haney had to discipline himself and not flip when pestered with the old question about his night-lifers . . . "I don't have any," he says, "but if I had I'd handle them the way any other manager does. I'd make night life too expensive for them. I'd take their money until it hurt."

Red Auerbach, one of the most colorful of NBA coaches, has only a verbal contract with the Celtics. It calls for $15,000 plus bonuses. Bossman Walter Brown snaps: "I'm tired of this business of the players getting all the credit for the victories and the coach all the blame for the losses."

Hurricane Jackson Probable Opponent

Patterson to Defend Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Floyd Patterson—he's the heavyweight champion in case the name sounds unfamiliar — finally is being taken off the shelf and will defend his title.

The details won't be known until later today because Cus D'Amato, his manager, is a mysterious fellow except when he is blasting the International Boxing Club. In fact, the only thing certain is that the IBC won't promote the bout.

The opponent?

Probably Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson. If it isn't Jackson, the collective eyebrows of the boxing crowd will be raised, mostly because there is no one else around who appears ready to tackle the champion.

Jackson has been pledged to the IBC, but it is believed that he'll fight Patterson for the right price. Besides, with the IBC in trouble with the government on monopoly charges, Jackson may figure this is a good opportunity to get out.

A television network — CBS-TV is reported to be offering $200,000 for the fight. CBS-TV executives confirmed that they had been approached by representatives for D'Amato, but that negotiations still be incomplete.

"But," said one high IBC executive, "who would they want on TV except Patterson-Jackson? It's the only match they could sell."

Best guess is that the match would be held in the Yankee Stadium here sometime in July. The ball park is available for three weeks starting July 7, and D'Amato has been eager to show his shelved champion in New York.

With the IBC out of the picture, Emil Lence, who handled many of Patterson's early fights at Eastern Parkway Arena when the ex-Olympian was climbing the ladder, probably would be installed as promoter.

D'Amato has been feuding with the IBC for a long time, claiming that he hasn't been offered the proper terms for his champion and other fighters in his stable were not getting enough work. On numerous occasions, he has threatened to take his business to other promoters but each time the IBC merely has sat back and waited. All the deals fell through.

The result has been that Patterson, who won the title when he knocked out the aging Archie Moore in the fifth round last Nov. 30, has had to sit and watch the verbal manipulations instead of fighting.

Rain Halts Softball Play; City Loop Setup Complete

Wet grounds forced postponement of Tuesday night's four-game City League softball program at Beaudette and North Side parks.

Two of the delayed games have been re-scheduled for Sunday at North Side. State Hospital will play Pontiac Police at 7 p.m. and Oxbow Pavilion will face Louie's Tavern at 8:30.

The other two postponed tilts—Pontiac Select-a-Drink vs. UAW-CIO Local 653 and Deni's Corner vs. Dostal Foundry—have not been rescheduled. They may be arranged for Sunday night at Beaudette by managerial agreement.

A heavy registration of men's teams this season has made the formation of three leagues necessary.

Shaw's Jewelers, Birmingham, Elks No. 810, Stadium Inn and Bicmar Inn make up the American League.

The National division is comprised of Richard's Tavern, Eddie's Bar, Drive-In Cleaners, CIO, Louie's, Oxbow and PSAD. In the International circuit are Franklin Products, Lane's Drive-In, Deni's, Dostal, Police and State Hospital.

Only four teams are entered in the women's league — Commerce Theater, North Side Auto Sales, GMC and Gingellville. Women's action begins May 21.

Shaw's meets Stadium at 7 o'clock and the Elks play Bicmar at 8:30 in tonight's games at Beaudette. Franklin tackles Lane's at 7 and Richard's faces Drive-In Cleaners at 8:30 tonight on the North Side diamond.

Commerce Lake Yields Big Pike to Milford Man

'Mothers Day' Trip Produces 8-Pound 9-Ounce Specimen

Wilfred LaQue, 2216 Glen Iris, Milford cement contractor took an early Mothers Day fishing jaunt to Commerce lake, off his dad's (Louis LaQue) boat livery. Trolling along the shore line LaQue hooked into a battling northern. Fifteen minutes later he dragged an exhausted 8-pound, 9-ounce pike into his boat.

"That was Wilfred's biggest pike," his wife reported. "They say around here that the previous largest pike taken from Commerce Lake was a 7-pounder," she added.

LaQue was minus a landing net, and had to play the fish out after getting a good look at it as it neared the boat.

Find Lampreys on Many Trout

Trouters working the Manistee river have again encountered a situation pointed up on this page a year ago. The river continues to be infested with the predatory lamprey eel. And from what several area fishermen report, the tough trout-killer is just as numerous as before.

"We took some good trout," says Fred Baucom of Lapeer. "And we found 90 per cent of them were carrying lampreys of from 6 to 8 inches in length. Some even had several of the eels attached to them," he added. Baucom killed more than a dozen, he said, and his partner, Clay Martin, also of Lapeer disposed of as many more. Trout were all rainbows.

OCKC Entries Near 700; 'Hero Dog' Marks Show

By H. GUY MOATS

High hopes for a very successful all-breed dog show on Sunday, are indicated for Oakland County Kennel Club. Club secretary reports the list of entries, headed by the 58 or 60 German shepherds, is nearing the 700 mark, a fine total considering a number of divergent factors.

Show takes place in the Detroit Artillery Armory at 15000 W. 8-Mile road, Oak Park. Show begins at 9 a.m. continues until 8 p.m.

Entries include scores of breeds, many of them rare, or unusual. Among the largest breeds were 51 collies, 40 boxers, 45 Brittany spaniels. There will be dobermans, schipperkes, terriers of many kinds, beagles, setters, spaniels, fox hounds, dachshunds, deer hounds, toy breeds, wirehaires and smooth coated breeds, working and sporting breeds.

Highlighted extra feature will be the appearance of the OCKC 1917 "hero dog" and its owner, Mrs. Mary Ross, 30083 Brentwood, Southfield.

The award goes to a fine doberman female, Roeba von Matildeman which is credited with saving her mistress' life. The dog was selected by a panel of metropolitan area writers over a number of other entries.

A faulty gas heater filled the Ross home with fumes, at night. Roeba's whining awakened Mrs. Ross who called firemen. She was told that her awakening was just in time, as there was immediate danger of an explosion.

The "hero" award will be made at 5:30 p.m.

State Tops for Hunting

Another record has been set in the number of license holders for sport fishing and wild game hunting in the United States. California replaced Minnesota as top state in fishing licenses but Michigan, only state to record more than a million hunting license sales, retained its lead in hunting.

Compilation by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service show that during the year ending June 30, 1956, there were 33,163,831 hunting and fishing license holders in this country, an increase of 117,470 over the record set in the previous fiscal year.

An increase of 270,296 hunting license holders was responsible for the new record. Fishing licenses decreased by 152,826. In spite of the drop in fishing and the gain in hunting licenses, fishing is still the more popular sport. A total of 18,701,963 licenses were sold for angling compared to 14,461,848 for hunting. Conversely, the hunters paid the greater amount for their licenses, tags, permits and stamps — $46,838,220 compared with $42,149,674 for fishing permits. During the year previous, the total cost to hunters for all licenses was $42,790,687 and to fishermen $39,501,838.

Senior events include two warm-up events, open hunters, hunters under saddle, lightweight hunters, middle and heavyweight hunters, and hunters (inside course).

Weekend Trout Angling Hit or Miss Proposition

By JACK PATTERSON

Surely one of the great injustices of the fisherman's lot is that he must go fishing when he can rather than when stream conditions indicate he should. Unless he's regularly domiciled beside a trout stream and can make frequent personal observations his fishing is, of necessity, a hit or miss proposition.

PATTERSON

Take the average weekend fisherman for example. Burdened with the belief that weekday fishing is always better than weekend fishing (a belief that seems, sadly enough, to be true) and in fearful anticipation of throngs of competing anglers beating the stream to shreds, he's half licked before he starts.

To make things tougher let's assume he's fishing new water. Arriving at the stream he is going to find one of two conditions. Fish are rising or they aren't. If they are he knows what to do. If nothing is in evidence he can do one of two things. He can lallygag around on the bank until the fish begin to show or he can go hunting for them. Knowing that his fishing time is limited we imagine he'll do the latter.

His first decision will be whether to fish dry or wet. Faced with this situation we always start out dry. In the first place an unfamiliar piece of water is easier to read fishing upstream. Second, on an average late spring or early summer day the minute the angler rigs for sub-surface work fish begin rising all around. Third, we like to fish dry.

First thing our fisherman will notice as he enters the water is that this stream has one thing in common with all other streams he's fished. It will be composed more or less alternately of good holding water and relatively barren stretches. Heads and tails of pools, deep runs, fast riffles, bank undercuts and other tell-tale trouty signs will be quickly apparent. Trouble is these natural spots will be equally apparent to the rest of the weekend crowd fishing the stream.

We'd doubt if fishing activity puts average fish down for long and if our boy is a reasonably able caster he should be able to do some business in the "fishy" spots regardless of who or what has gone before.

If he's going to make good he'll have to bypass the likely spots and concentrate on the really tough ones — places that look good but are so hard to cast to and get a natural float over that most fishermen pass 'em by. That's where the good ones are apt to be.

Some such places look hardly worth the effort of casting to. A log lying in a few inches of water couldn't shelter much, or could it? We know of such a spot—the log is almost dry on a sandbar, but the current has undercut it on the shore side and the shocker turns up a five pound brown there twice a year. Tough spot to get at? You bet it is but one of these days . . .

200 Angle for Prizes

The fishing was fair and the enthusiasm was good at the "Carp Carnival," sponsored by the Birmingham Recreation Department during the last weekend. It was held at Quarton Lake, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday.

There were more than 200 slightly drenched, hopeful fishermen from 2½ years of age to 17 years of age, competing for the many prizes the merchants of Birmingham had provided for the fishermen who had a way with the fish.

The largest fish was a carp, 26½ inches long, caught by Bruce Cameron, age 13, of 710 Suffield, Birmingham, with his brother Scott, age 9 catching the most fish, a pair of the tough-scaled swimmers.

Steve Keyser, age 2½, of 646 Puritan, Birmingham was the youngest boy fisherman, and Pamela Price, age 3½, of 1694 Graefield, Birmingham was the youngest girl.

Other winners, as a result of a drawing were: Doug Bacon, age 8, 540 Ebbey; David Dobson, age 13, 738 Colonial Court; Jim Steiner, age 12, 645 Suffield; Don Alcorn, age 11, 1691 Oak; and Jim Alexander, age 11, 878 Fairfax, all of Birmingham.

The capable judging of the angling contest was done by Mayor Bill Roberts; Bill Averill, editor of the Birmingham Eccentric; Bill Spence, recreation board; Rollie Reese, recreation board; and Warren Kendall, of Rochester, conservation officer for this area.

Robert E. Girardin, director of recreation, stated "response to this event was sufficient to make it an annual activity."

Poor Weather Slows Angling

By H. GUY MOATS

Rains and storms have slowed fishing in most eastern and southern Michigan areas, conservation men reported today. In Oakland county and adjoining areas, fish on inland lakes have moved off the spawning beds and into deep water. Similar conditions have hit perch fishing in Saginaw Bay, but some fair catches have been taken at Port Austin, at Wildfowl Bay, and Harbor Beach.

County lakes giving fair panfish results include Wildwood, Lake Orion, Pontiac lake, and Commerce lake (for big pike). Lapeer county lakes Pleasant, Elk, Nepessing and Seven Ponds.

Some trout are being taken in Oxbow, Orchard, Commerce, Cass and other county lakes, and the Bald Mountain pond has been giving fair results for the dry fly addicts.

Game Habitat Work Covers 1,200 Acres

LANSING — Game habitat improvement work in southern Michigan resulted in food and cover plantings on small plots totaling 1200 acres of state land during the last six months of 1956, according to a recent progress report from the Conservation Department's game division.

The plantings for wildlife were made on 29 state game areas and 10 state parks and recreation areas. The work included establishment of 552 acres of cover crops, mostly in standing corn.

Other types of development included construction of 600 brush piles, herbicide treatment of 594 acres of foliage and construction of 48 water impoundments — flooding 158 acres.

Rifle River Area Opened to Anglers

Popular Rifle River area in Ogemaw County is now open to fishermen and can be entered on roads from both Rose City and Lupton, according to Mercer Patriarche, fisheries biologist at the area.

The area has been closed because of road repair work east of Rose City.

Lions Trade 2, Get Johnson

Detroit Sends Bowman, Stits to San Francisco

Deal for Big Fullback Is Second in Week by Motor City Pros

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Detroit Lions made their second deal within a week yesterday by trading fullback Bill Bowman and halfback Bill Stits to the San Francisco 49ERs for fullback John Henry Johnson.

Last week the Lions sold Earl (Jug) Girard to Baltimore, and the roster is now down to 32.

At San Francisco, Johnson was used at halfback due to the fact that Joe Perry held down the fullback's post.

Johnson, who attended Arizona State and St. Mary's College, later playing Canadian football, was used offensively and defensively by the 49ERs.

Bowman who was understudy to big Leon Hart for the Lions was hampered most of the campaign with injuries, but he was still unable to push Hart out of the fullback's job when in his healthy days.

Coach Frankie Albert of the 49ERs said he wanted Stits primarily for defense, and Bowman will give Frisco reserve strength behind Perry at fullback.

Around the Prep Front

A no-hitter by a Lapeer boy in his 1st start on the mound, a golf title for St. Frederick and the dubious feat of taking 16 strokes on a single hole were the highlights of Tuesday's weather-shortened prep sports action in the Oakland County area.

Tom Hubbell, usually a shortstop, took the mound for the 1st time yesterday and tossed a no-hitter at Imlay City as Lapeer blanked the Spartans, 1-0. Hubbell walked five and was frequently in trouble, but he always pitched his way out.

Ed Kast fired a 36 and brother Dick posted a 37 as St. Fred defeated Highland Park St. Benedict in a dual golf meet at Palmer Park to win the West Side championship of the Suburban Catholic League. Joe Keller shot 41 and Bill Haps carded 44 for the Rams, who triumphed by 63 strokes.

Pontiac's Dick Whitmer was the unfortunate golfer amassing 16 strokes as the Chiefs downed Bay City, 9½-4½, in a Saginaw Valley Conference dual meet at City Municipal Course.

Whitmer hit four out of bounds from the tee and another from the fairway and wound up with 10 penalty strokes during his disastrous tour of the south nine's 5th hole. Ironically, he still beat his man, Bay City's Fred Barnar, 2½-½.

Shelby Houston of Bay City was medalist with 81. Dick McLaughlin shot 86, Bob Clapp 87, Mike Samardzija 90 and John Taylor 91 for Pontiac. Whitmer finished with 87.

Prep sports under the lights are on tap at Fitzgerald and Ortonville tonight with both events expected to be interesting events.

In track, the Oakland B teams will stage their annual conference meet at Fitzgerald.

An old rivalry will be renewed in baseball at Ortonville with the well balanced Clarkston aggregation in the guest role in a non-league contest.

Orchard Lake St. Mary's golf team conquered Royal Oak St. Mary, 3-2, carding 195 strokes to 199 for the Irish. Martin Fryt of Orchard Lake was medalist with 43.

Giambra Beats Vejar; Fight Stopped in 7th

He referred to the announced plans of matching welterweight king Carmen Basilio with Sugar Ray Robinson for the latter's middleweight crown in a big-money event.

Boyd vs. Vaughn on TV

The 10-round nationally televised and broadcast bout—9 p.m., EST—ABC—marks Boyd's third start since Giardello broke his jaw on a five-round TKO at Cleveland last September.

Net Regionals Begin Thursday

Opening matches pit (for Class A) Birmingham vs. Berkley; East Detroit vs. Mt. Clemens; Pontiac vs. Port Huron; Royal Oak vs. Southfield. Class A matches start at 4:15, Class B at 3 p.m. The Class B matches — Cranbrook vs. Fitzgerald; Lakeview vs. Marysville; Northville vs. Oak Park, and St. Clair vs. St. Stephens.

Qualifiers from this meet move into the state finals a week hence.

Headley Fillies Top Field of 15 in Pimlico Race

BALTIMORE (AP) — Hal Price Headley's Pillow Talk and Cousin Con headed the field of 15 top fillies lined up today for the $20,000-added Black-Eyed Susan Stakes at Pimlico.

The mile and a sixteenth test, female counterpart of Saturday's $100,000-added Preakness for 3-year-olds, also marked the 1957 Pimlico debut of Jockey Willie Hartack, who guided Iron Liege in his Kentucky Derby victory and will be aboard h/m again in the Preakness.

Track Coaching Chore to Woman English Teacher

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Miss Mary Mount, whose regular job is teaching English at Nathan Hale elementary school, gets her first test as a boys' track coach next Tuesday when the squad meets De Vilbiss.

Miss Mount got her coaching job this spring because, for the first time in years, there were no men teachers at the school. Her previous sports experience was confined to tennis and swimming. She is a native of Erie, Mich.

Marciano Protege Beats Foe Quickly

Ryan, with Marciano serving as co-manager for the first time, knocked out Joe Green of Brooklyn in 1:43 of the opening round last night in a scheduled eight-rounder before a capacity crowd of 1,500 hometown fans.

Baptist Defeats Druggists, 4-1

A sparkling one-hit pitching performance by Harlan (Fat) Keith and some timely stick-work by his teammates handed Emmanuel Baptist a 4-1 victory over Drayton Drug last night in a Waterford League softball game at Drayton Plains.

Stu Hutchinson's 3rd-inning double was the only safety the state Class C champs could muster against the offerings of Keith and Drug's lone run in the 1st inning was unearned.

Catcher Chuck Morgan singled home Emmanuel's 1st two runs in the 3rd frame and Tom Malone drove in the remaining two tallies with a single in the 4th.

GOODYEAR TIRES
LIFETIME GUARANTEE
Ask us about it!

CAPTIVE-AIR SAFETY TIRE
by GOODYEAR

Proved by dramatic Boston to New York test!
231 miles on four blown-out tires without a mishap or tire change!

Now you don't have to change a tire along the road. Not you, your wife nor your children!

Only Goodyear has the Captive-Air because only Goodyear has a tire body made with triple-tempered 3-T Nylon Cord. The brawny nylon built-in "spare" carries you safely and comfortably until you can stop and have the tire repaired after a blowout or puncture. This means that the hazards of tire failure in heavy traffic, on super highways, on crowded bridges and in narrow tunnels as well as costly towing and road repairs have all but been eliminated by Goodyear's all Nylon Cord Captive-Air Safety Tire.

A few moments ago, we blew out all four tires with a knife. Now we're moving through Boston's busy Copley Square. This sudden stop-and-start city driving is no tea party for tires . . . and remember, all four of ours have been blown out! But the tough multi-ply nylon "inner tires" take the punishment in stride . . . make us feel certain we'll reach New York without a tire change.

Here's how Captive-Air works to save you time and trouble!

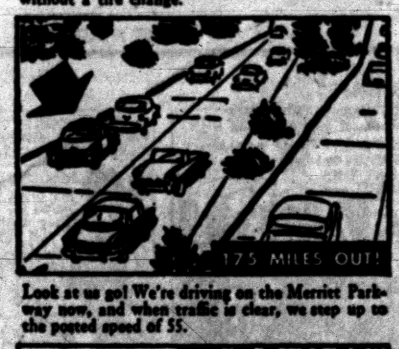
Reserve air in the built-in "spare" lets you drive on for 100 miles or more!



Look at us go! We're driving on the Merrict Parkway now, and when traffic is clear, we step up to the posted speed of 55.

231 Miles Later! In New York's heavy traffic after five hours' driving—with no tire damage other than the knife cuts we made before we started!

Double trade-in allowances for 7 days only!

MORE PEOPLE RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES THAN ON ANY OTHER KIND!

Occupation Paroled Along With Prisoner

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP) — One parolee from the Iowa State Penitentiary managed to parlay his prison occupation into a business when he was released.

Warden Percy Lainson said the man, O. S. Swigert, operated a broom making machine for most of the 35-year term. About the time he was released, the prison got a new machine. Swigert bought the old one for $1.

Now he earns his living — making brooms.

Wheat Futures Start Out Firm

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat futures started out firm on the board of trade today and then slumped because of pressure on the May delivery. Other grains also were lower, with soybeans down around a cent at times.

Trading in the May contracts will end next Tuesday, and there is considerable uncertainty over what will happen in this delivery before then. There has been considerable selling in it the last few days.

Weakness in soybeans reflected lower soybean oil and meal prices and also indications that farmers are marketing their beans more freely.

Near the end of the first hour old style wheat was ⅛ to ⅝ lower, May $2.15½, new style wheat was ¼ to ⅝ lower, July $2.09¼, corn was ¼ to ⅝ lower, May $1.29¾, oats were unchanged to ⅝ lower, May 69⅝, rye was unchanged to ¼ lower, May $1.16¾, soybeans were ⅛ to 1¼ lower, May $2.38⅝, and lard was 5 to 15 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $12.27.

Beck Failed to List Loans, Says Witness

In Ellensburg, Wash., Norman Gessert, business associate and relative of Teamster chief Dave Beck, was served today with a subpoena to testify before the U. S. Senate Rackets Committee.

He also was cited by Ellensburg, Wash., police for speeding and driving a car without an operator's license.

Gessert, a cousin of Beck's wife, first denied his identity and gave the name of Jack Stackpool, saying he was a rancher.

Police said he was alternately belligerent and pleasant when picked up for speeding but finally accepted service of the subpoena from U. S. Deputy Marshal James M. Clark.

Clark had located Gessert in an Ellensburg coffee shop Monday night and served him with a subpoena which, it developed, was outdated and therefore illegal.

DROPPED OUT OF SIGHT

Gessert, meantime, dropped out of sight but Clark located him again last night at an Ellensburg motel.

DETROIT (AP)—City Budget Director Robert S. Reason says he expects a business upsurge to boost the city's share of sales tax revenues about one million dollars over last year. The budget estimates the city will receive $15,950,000. This is the same estimate as last year, when revenues came to about one million dollars less than expected.

President Gets Plan for Aviation Agency

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special aide to President Eisenhower proposed Tuesday the creation of the Federal Aviation Agency with broad powers to control traffic on the nation's airways.

In a report to the President, special assistant Edward P. Curtis recommended that such a board be set up by Congress to absorb the present Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Airways Modernization Board.

Curtis, an Eastman Kodak Co. executive and former Air Force general, also proposed that expanded aviation facilities be financed increasingly by the airlines.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, releasing the report, said Curtis hopes for congressional action on it at the next session.

Curtis also submitted a plan for allocating air space to aircraft of similar performance capability while flying between points and in the region of airports.

Prices Recover on Wall Street

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market recovered and moved a bit higher early this afternoon after initial irregularity.

The rebound in values was accompanied by increased trading, always a bullish sign in Wall Street. The early part of the session was quiet as brokers said the market was consolidating after its drop of yesterday which followed the upsurge to a new 1957 high on Monday.

The market's rise was accompanied by President Eisenhower's statement that if Congress trifles with defense spending the country is going to be in trouble. But the improvement had actually begun before this news was out. A big gain by allied Chemical helped boost the industrial average.

House Unit Decides Defense Funds Cut

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Appropriations subcommittee was reported today to have tentatively decided to cut about 2½ billion dollars from new appropriations requested by the Defense Department.

That reduction, if approved by the entire committee, would amount to about 7 per cent of President Eisenhower's request for 36¼ billion dollars.

The tentative reduction would boost to slightly more than four billion dollars the total cut by the House or its committee this year on 14 appropriation bills involving requests for $55,700,000,000.

The cut in Defense Department appropriations reportedly was aimed mainly at maintenance, procurement and operation programs.

Boy Scout Killer Faces Morals Count

MUSKEGON (AP) — Herman Barmore, 44-year-old New York ex-convict who says he accidentally killed Boy Scout Peter Gorham in a target shooting accident, faced municipal court examination today on a morals charge involving another youth.

Barmore, alias Charles W. Fischer, has been held under $7,500 bond since May 8 when he demanded examination on a charge of sodomy involving a Muskegon juvenile in 1955.

He was returned to Muskegon May 5 after waiving extradition on the morals charge upon his arrest in Dateland, Ariz.

The Gorham youth was shot to death after he vanished July 5, 1955, while on a hike from Camp Wabaningo at nearby Duck Lake. His body was found Aug. 14, 1955, in a woods about four miles south of the camp.

Autos Roll Out of Plants at Six-Million Unit Pace

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Editor

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's automobile assembly lines will roll out an estimated 542,000 passenger cars this month—if labor troubles or other unforeseen problems do not upset their planning.

That volume would compare with an April total of 549,239 cars. But it would be better than previously expected.

The auto makers built 1,793,042 passenger cars in the first quarter of this year. They expect the second quarter total to come close to 1,600,000 units. Achievement of that volume will keep the auto makers right on schedule for a six-million car year.

The July - September assembly plant activities will show a sharp decline from those of the earlier months. But this will be in line with the manufacturers' planning.

SHIFT TO '58 MODEL

Most of the auto plants will be shifting over to 1958 model work during the latter weeks of the July - September quarter. Because Chevrolet and some other General Motors divisions will be making major changes the new model changeover shutdowns may be a little more prolonged than usual.

Figuring in a currently brighter picture for the car industry are the latest new car inventory figures. Automotive News' most recent count of dealer stocks showed that on May 1 this year there were 735,197 unsold new cars in the field. The total compared with an April 1 figure of 745,915 units awaiting buyers.

The May 1 figures gain even greater significance from a comparison with the same date last year when dealers had 902,585 cars on hand or en route from the factories.

SOME DIFFERENCE

There still is some difference of opinion as to just what volume of dealer-held cars constitutes a normal inventory. On the basis of current daily sales totals some experts say a half-million unit car inventory is about normal.

Certainly both manufacturers and retailers want a further reduction in the present new car stocks. At the same time they are not complaining about retail sales volume right now. Some industry experts a month ago were predicting the inventory might push up to around 800,000 units at this time.

The industry's chances of producing and selling six million cars this year apparently will rest to a large degree upon its ability to sell approximately 1½ million units in the October-December quarter.

This appears wholly likely because all the 1958 models will be on the market by early November; many will have major styling advances; all will have engineering improvements. Among the makes boasting engineering advances will be several that featured appealing changes in this year's cars.

The industry sold 1,343,000 cars in the final three months of 1956 and fell slightly short of the six-million unit total for the year. Some of the experts attribute the final quarter decline to the heavy sales pressure applied in the earlier months in an inventory-reduction drive.

In any event the chances for a six-million car year in 1957 appear as good today as they have been at any time in recent months. Probably it should be noted that at the start of the present model year most company heads were predicting a 1957 total of 6½ million retail deliveries. That figure is beginning to look a little less realistic than it did six and seven months ago.

Accident Could Cost Billions

Block to A-Plant Plans

BROOKHAVEN, N.Y. (AP) — An accidental atomic blast in the United States might cost "billions of dollars for property damage alone," Arthur W. Murphy, New York insurance specialist, said today.

Personal damages would be even more difficult to calculate, he said.

These facts, Murphy said, constitute a major roadblock to the development of atomic energy by American private industry.

He outlined the problem of providing insurance for atomic installations in a prepared speech for the Inter-American Symposium on Nuclear Energy at Brookhaven National Laboratory.

Murphy said the probability of a "catastrophic accident" is low, but reported that insurance analysts have made estimates of the possible cost.

Ask Tax Views of GM Chief

Williams Seeks Opinion of Curtice on Alternative to Corporation Levy

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams has asked Harlow H. Curtice what state tax alternative he would propose to a new levy on corporation profits, or if he favors no new taxes and a cutback in state services.

In a letter to the General Motors Corp. president, the governor said Curtice's April 28 statement on state tax policies had caused the legislature to "bog down" in its attempt to solve state tax and budget problems.

Curtice said that if the Williams plan for a six per cent tax on corporation profits were enacted it would tend to influence GM to locate new plants outside the state.

Williams wrote Curtice yesterday that his assertion had a "widespread impact" over the nation and "helped to create an impasse in the legislature."

"The Republican leaders of the legislature are naturally reluctant, for political as well as economic reasons, to act in the face of what seems to be a threat from General Motors," Williams said.

The governor recalled that GM representatives played a conspicuous role in events a few years ago that led to adoption of the business activities levy, an important part of the state's tax structure.

"Having injected itself into the formation of state tax policies," he continued, "I believe General Motors has an obligation to do more than declare its reluctance to pay any additional taxes."

Williams followed with six specific questions, including whether Curtice favored an increase in the state's three per cent sales tax, some sort of a tax on individual or corporate incomes, or additional taxes on beer, whisky or cigarettes.

And if the GM chief was against any new or increased taxes, Williams asked, would Curtice approve of a "sharp reduction" of state aid to local schools, "severe curtailment" of the state's higher education system and a number of other things the governor said would be the consequence of such a stand.

Camp Boasts Perfect Record for Probationers

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A corrections department official says Michigan's first probationary corrections camp—first of its type in the nation—has proved a successful experiment.

Fred C. Bates, assistant director of probation for the department, commented yesterday on Camp Pugsley at Fife Lake in Grand Traverse county.

He said it provides no restraint, but still has no record of offenders running away.

The camp was opened last Oct. 1 for youths from 15 to 22, capable of rehabilitation, who lack job training or who may not safely return to their home environment.

Named for Circuit Judge Earl C. Pugsley of Hart, who long advocated such an institution, it was built to accommodate a capacity of 104 probationers.

Bates said a two-year, $20,000 grant from the McGregor Foundation of Detroit has been marked for a vocational training program to be started at the camp next July.

6 Held at Mt. Clemens in Assault on Girl, 17

MT. CLEMENS (INS) — Three young men and three teenage girls were held in the Macomb County Jail today for terrorizing a 17-year-old blonde by cutting her hair close to the scalp and ripping off most of her clothes.

Police said the boys held the victim while the girls cut her hair. The charge against the group is assault with a deadly weapon, the shears used to cut the girl's hair.

Courthouse Suit Continues Today

produce in court later today copies of the Ways and Means Committee resolutions authorizing the transfers.

Under examination by Ramsey, Smith said his records showed that no non-tax revenues had ever been transferred to the building fund before surpluses existed. Ramsey represents the Attorney General, who has intervened in the dispute.

The 52-page audit occupied the court's attention yesterday afternoon. From it, these conclusions were drawn by Taxpayers League attorneys.

Over the past 10 years $2,651,741 in excess of a constitutional limitation had been earmarked or spent from tax money for building purposes.

From 1946 through 1955, the building fund had been enriched by $1,337,237 transferred from other funds.

Over the 10-year period, about $2,196,000 has been spent for building purposes, $1,668,000 illegally, Gillespie alleged.

Building funds on hand and what has been spent since 1946 from total monies received by the county amounts to $3,056,840 in excess of the .1 mill limitation.

At the end of last year, $1,392,000 was in the building fund for the new courthouse.

Gillespie also argued that over the years the county has consistently underestimated its revenues, with the result that surpluses were available for building funds.

"Wouldn't this mean that taxes were pushed up?" he asked Smith.

"That is correct," Smith said.

The difference between estimated and actual revenues during the 10-year period was $2,238,363 to the county's favor, the figures showed. Actual revenues were 39 per cent over the estimated revenues.

In a brief opening statement yesterday, Merritt agreed that most of the facts in the case were correct, but added that the League's conclusions were false.

"The League is working on false suppositions," he said, arguing that the .1 mill limitation affects only annual tax levies expressly for building purposes.

"There's no law that says differently," Merritt said.

As a prelude to the bookkeeping battle, Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman and City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn took the stand to produce city records in the annexation proceedings.

Wrenn agreed since the annexation, Pontiac has issued building permits for county buildings erected in the disputed area.

But a Waterford Township official produced the voting records of seven county employes who live on their jobs in the service center.

All seven, according to Deputy Clerk Clara A. Allen, have voted in Waterford Township before and after the annexation.

Merritt claimed the employes have no legal residency in the area and never had the right to vote.

Merritt put pressure on Pontiac realtor Bruce J. Annett, secretary of the league, to admit the real motive behind the suit is to keep the courthouse downtown.

Annett, however, steadily maintained the League's purpose was not to block the courthouse but "to determine various legal questions" in connection with the proposed new building.

2,896 Vehicles Checked in City

Weather Slows Down Inspection Program During 2nd Day

Although workers in the May Vehicle Inspection program were rained out and forced to leave their posts several times yesterday they dried out and then returned to chalk up a two-day total of 2,896 vehicles inspected so far in the week's safety check.

Monday was considered a normal or average day when 1,892 autos passed through one of the five check lanes throughout the city according to Capt. Joseph Koren, Pontiac Police.

The inspection, which will continue through Friday, is sponsored by the Traffic and Safety Committee of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, the Pontiac police and the Pontiac Automobile Dealers' Assn.

The safety check lanes will be open from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 5:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. through Friday.

They are located at Saginaw at Huron streets; Auburn Ave. near E. Boulevard; Montcalm St. in front of Lincoln Junior High School; Johnson St. between State St. and the railroad and Orchard Lake Ave. near Sylvan Court.

Studebaker Unveils New 6-Cylinder Car

NEW YORK (AP) — Studebaker-Packard Corp. unveiled its new six-cylinder "Scotsman" model yesterday.

The six - passenger, two - door model carried a price tag of $1,776, including heating, defroster and directional signals.

The company claims a gasoline consumption rate of "up to 29 miles per gallon" for the model which looks like a severely stripped-down 1957 Studebaker Champion.

There is no chrome or other ornamentation except on the grille. The car will be available only in solid colors of dark green, gray or blue.

Technical details were not disclosed.

A four-door sedan will cost $1,826 and a six-passenger station wagon, $1,995. A third seat for the station wagon with seating space for three additional passengers will cost $67 extra.

Confederate Celebrates 111th Birthday

Honor Civil War Veteran

SLANT, Va. (AP) — A clear-eyed old man, resplendent in a uniform he received many years too late, receives today the homage due a survivor of this nation's greatest conflict.

Gen. John B. Salling, one of three living Civil War veterans, was set to receive dignitaries and friends as he celebrated his 111th birthday.

The general title is purely honorary.

A motorcade from Gate City, about 12 miles south of here, was to bring the main body of visitors. There were to be speeches, band music and a huge birthday cake, decorated with four Confederate flags.

Salling, who claims his shock of black hair has never been washed, was presented greetings from Congress yesterday. The communication came from Rep. Jennings (D-Va), Salling's congressman.

Salling's uniform, which he wears on festive occasions now, was given to him several years ago. On his birthday last year Gov. Stanley presented him a Confederate shirt and the Texas Rangers sent a 10-gallon hat.

When the child is registered, the parent will receive a health sheet to be taken to the family doctor and dentist for check-ups. The sheet must be returned on the first day of school next fall and will become a permanent part of each child's record.

Williams Hits GOP on Mental Health

LANSING (AP) — The legislative budget for mental health purposes was termed "madness itself" by Gov. Williams yesterday at a citizens' conference on state mental health problems.

More than 300 persons employed in the field of mental health and interested citizens are attending the conference at the Lansing Civic Center.

"They do not seek to help us rise to the higher goals of humanitarianism," said Williams of Republican budget leaders. "They seem bent on carrying us back down into the snake pits, the horrors of which are still fresh in our memories.

The governor said Michigan is reaching the point "where with a little extra effort for personnel and training we would not have to add new buildings for additional patients."

LISTENING IN — These odd-looking contraptions are in reality specially designed radio antennas. Dubbed "rocket ears," they are used to pick up data telemetered from research models in flight at the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics' Pilotless Aircraft Research Station at Wallops Island, Va. The antenna in foreground is remotely controlled to follow a rocket in flight. Both models receive flight performance figures transmitted by telemeter radio, which operates on a high frequency.

Army Stops Enlisting Pre-Draft Age Boys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army says it has temporarily stopped —until July 1—enlisting pre-draft age youths for six months' training.

Asst. Secretary of the Army Hugh Milton, who announced the suspension yesterday, said it would not apply to the National Guard, which also is accepting recruits for six months of training.

Milton said the move was necessary because of a recent rush of youths into the program. Some Army officials said the increase was due to an April 1 order reducing the ready reserve obligation of participants from 7½ to 3 years. Service in the reserve follows the six-month active duty training.

Milton said last December, only 1,893 men signed up under the six-month program. This month, he added, the total is 12,000.

Man's Hiccups Won't Show Up in Hour of Need

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — David Gantt, 42, up before a federal Judge on a bootleg booze-running charge, pleaded: "I just can't hold a job on account of the hiccups. I go all to pieces."

It has been like that for years, Gantt said, adding that that anything he tackled — say helping out in a garage, the closest to a steady job he could remember — would be interrupted so much he just had to quit.

Gantt was arrested here some time ago by agents of the federal alcohol tax unit, who testified he had driven in from Greensboro, N. C., with 120 gallons of raw alcohol aboard.

The judge fined Gantt $100 and sentenced him to a year in jail. Not a single hiccup was heard at the hearing.

Fall Will Bring Many Changes to Television Screens

All 3 Networks Shuffle Shows

Some Programs Due to Vanish; the Fate of Others Is Clouded

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) — All three major networks are still working overtime shuffling and reshuffling their autumn schedules, trying this show and that for future size, and the fall fate of many a program still hangs in the balance. But, as matters stand this moment, there will be a lot of changes made.

As of this writing, the decision of Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz to stop grinding out new weekly adventures of I Love Lucy still stands, but CBS will rerun some of the popular shows in a new spot, Wednesdays.

Desi and Lucille would like to do a once-a-month, hour-long I Love Lucy but CBS hasn't yet found a sponsor willing to pick up the check for the film, price-tagged at $300,000 a shot.

There is still no solution concerning the television future of Jackie Gleason or his show, and the time has been filled with an hour film, Perry Mason, based on the Erle Stanley Gardner books. No one knows, either, what happens to Robert Montgomery or Sid Caesar, and now it looks as if Ray Bolger's Washington Square series may get the ax.

After years and years, Roy Rogers will no longer be ridin' and fightin' on Sunday evening. Private Secretary will make way for a new series called Slezak and Sons. Both Bengal Lancers and Sir Lancelot will permamently fold their tents.

Two for the Money will disappear in favor of New York Confidential, starring Lee Tracy. Patti Page will come into the old Wednesday night Arthur Godfrey spot.

NBC's early evening 15 minutes now holding Jonathan Winters, Xavier Cugat, Nat King Cole and Dinah Shore will be dispersed. Only Dinah, with a big variety show modeled on her last season's hour-long variety shows, knows what the future holds. George Gobel is another involved in a shuffle: his old show dies, but he will do a 60-minute show, alternating with Eddie Fisher.

At ABC, Treasure Hunt will be replaced by adventure films, while Dean Pike's talks and the Johns Hopkins Files both have been canceled.

Denies Cigarettes Cause Lung Cancer

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese scientist took sharp issue today with an American doctor's contention that heavy cigarette smoking is a prime cause of lung cancer.

Dr. Alton Ochsner of the Tulane School of Medicine in New Orleans told a forum of 300 U.S. military and Japanese doctors he had never seen a lung cancer patient who was not a heavy smoker.

"Most Japanese I know smoke their heads off," retorted Dr. Komei Nakayama of Japan's Chiba University. "Do the get lung cancer? No.

"The cause of lung cancer is definitely a hereditary factor. The individual must first suffer from chronic inflammation of the lung. If he is hereditarily predisposed, he develops cancer. If not he doesn't."

Nakayama, who pioneered the use of radioactive phosphorous to detect cancer cells, puffed vigorously on a cigarette and queried: "If it was harmful, would I be smoking now?"

Group Delays Making Choice

Commissioners to Talk Over Their Pick to Civil Service Board

City Commissioners last night delayed their appointment of a representative to the new civil service commission until they have talked the matter over at an informal session.

"That's been our policy in the past," said Floyd W. Miles in answer to a motion by Mayor William W. Donaldson.

The mayor favored Gerald Guinan, who has served as the commission's representative on the former civil service board.

Donaldson withdrew his motion after commissioners asked for more time. The appointee will serve six years on the joint police and fire department commission approved by voters April 1.

WILLING TO SERVE

City Manager Walter K. Willman said both Guinan and James Flannery have indicated their willingness to serve.

Flannery was a member of the former trial board, abolished by voters as the police department's governing body.

The commission recognized the appointment Monday of Theodore Carlson as the police and firemen's representative on the three-man board. Carlson formerly was on the old civil service commission which governed only firemen.

ATTORNEY'S OPINION

City Attorney William Ewart believes the commission should reappoint Guinan, as Carlson the firemen's former representative, has been re-appointed.

"Actually, the appointing of a new board is only a formality to avoid certain legal technicalities," Ewart said. "Otherwise, we would have to waste time getting a court decision to see whether the old comission is still legal."

Carlson will serve four years. He and the city's appointee will choose the third member, who will serve two years. When the initial terms expire, all members will serve six years.

Conceals Gun in Diaper

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police took 8-month-old Debra Harris to the Juvenile Hall after booking her mother Mrs. Lorraine Boll, 19, and two men on suspicion of robbery. Officers said a pistol holster was tucked into the baby's diaper. They said the mother told them a gun had been hidden there.

Earl Offers Some Tips for Would-Be Dieters

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I happened to see Orson Wells, Jackie Gleason, Paul Whiteman and Toots Shor—about 1,000 tons of beef—together recently.

The floor groaned, shivered and shook under "the Big Four." I decided that there, but for the grace of diet, go I—so I must reduce.'

Fortunately, I spotted a diet digest—just what this country needs. "Diet Treasury" tells you for example, that you should begin your steak dinner by eating an apple. Next the salad. Then two green vegetables. Now you'll only eat about $2 worth of the $8 steak. You'll be so filled you won't eat any bread. So go ahead and try this, what're you waiting for? Don't you like apples?

DEAMOF!
Translated: "Don't eat anything made of flour."

This handy little rule shuts you out of cookies, cornbread, gravies, sauces, pancakes, puddings, popovers, spaghetti, ravioli and noodles. Oh well, you probably didn't like any of these items, anyway.

Tricks — that's what we got to have, buddy. Here's a peacherino:

"The dieter who is limited to one slice of bread per meal should divide it into four quarters. This gives him the feeling that he has had access to four slices of bread."

Drink? Why, of course! But only a couple or three snorts a day. People who drink a fifth of scotch or a case of beer a day hardly ever lose weight.

"DEAMOF!" as we dieters say. Any questions?

Ike Faces Fight in Supplying Tito

Issue to Find Opponents When Foreign Aid Bill Reaches Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today faced a fight in Congress over his decision to resume delivery of jet fighters and other military equipment to Yugoslavia.

The decision was announced yesterday by the State Department.

Officials said some older type jets have been reconditioned in Europe and are ready for prompt delivery to President Tito's air force. Yugoslavia will get about 200 jets, F86Es and F86Gs. Other equipment now authorized for Yugoslavia includes tanks and howitzers.

The issue now is expected to take shape in both the Senate and the House when the lawmakers consider the President's proposed new $3,830,000,000 foreign aid program. Presumably efforts will be made to write into the new bill a provision barring assistance to Yugoslavia.

The State Department announcement said failure of the United States to deliver arms since last summer has produced "serious disadvantages" in Yugoslavia's defensive position. Neighboring countries allied with Russia have been—and are still being—"re-equipped with modern Soviet military supplies," it said.

The State Department linked the new decision to Yugoslavia's sympathy for the independence uprising in Hungary last fall.

Young Attorneys Eye Special Organization

The meeting was called by Pontiac attorney Sherwin M. Birnkrant at the request of the State Junior Bar. Birnkrant said the group will be open to lawyers under the age of 37.

Circuit Judges Frank L. doty and Clark J. Adams and Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore are scheduled to attend the meeting, Birnkrant said, along with representatives of the State Bar and the Macomb County Junior Bar Section.

Children of Actress Change Their Names

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The three children of actress Eleanor Parker have been converted from Friedlobs into Clemenses.

Susan, 9, Sharon, 7, and Richard, 4, appeared in Superior Court yesterday, where Judge Bayard Rhone granted a change of name.

Saud, Faisal Wind Up Talks

Arab Monarchs Pledge to Continue Resistance to Communism

BAGHDAD (AP)—King Faisal of Iraq and King Saud of Saudi Arabia reportedly are winding up their talks here with a pledge to coordinate their resistance to communism and a warning that no Arab state should meddle in the affairs of its Arab neighbors.

Observers saw this as a pointed hint to Syria and Egypt, who have both been accused of fomenting trouble in Iraq and Jordan.

They considered it a triumph for pro-Western Premier Nuri Said of Iraq and another setback for Egyptian President Nasser's desire to lead the Arab world.

Iraq has been a major target of Egyptian and Syrian propaganda because of its adherence to the Western-sponsored Baghdad Pact and its refusal to follow Nasser's lead.

The groundwork for the hatchet-burying was laid in February when Saud and Crown Prince Abdul Ilah of Iraq visited Washington at the same time and met there.

Jordan's King Hussein reportedly had the backing of Saud when he rished his throne last month by throwing out the leftist, pro-Egyptian government of Suleiman Nabulsi. Hussein accused Egypt and Syria of aiding his enemies in the crisis.

Sumac Gets Divorce, Hubby Keeps Contract

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Peruvian singer Yma Sumac, 35, won a divorce by default from composer Moises Vivanco yesterday after testifying he subjected her to repeated verbal abuse.

A property settlement provides that the 38-year-old Vivanco will continue as Miss Sumac's manager and will receive 50 per cent of her earnings for his services. He will pay $200 a month for support of the couple's 8-year-old son Charles, who will be in his mother's care.

Hal Boyle Says:

Executive Advocates 14-Hour Day

NEW YORK (AP)—John Bentia, a 39-year-old bachelor who runs a 20-million-dollar-a-year business, has figured out a simple formula by which practically anyone can become successful in only 14 hours a day.

There's only one catch in it. You have to spend the 14 hours working.

"I feel strongly that a person of mediocre talent can, by determination and hard work, be more successful than a brilliant man with less drive," said Bentia.

"I've seen it happen time after time, and it's a simple matter of mathematics.

"If you work 12 hours a day and the other fellow works eight, every two days you gain a full day on him. The chances are that, even if he is a little smarter than you, he isn't smart enough to overcome the difference that your added hours on the job makes."

The son of Romanian immigrants, he worked his way through college and then, in 1938, took a $135 a month job as stockboy with the Alliance Manufacturing Co., a subsidiary of Consolidated Electronics Corp., in Alliance, Ohio, his home town.

Four years ago he became president of the firm. Last week his steady climb up the ladder of success was recognized by the American Schools and Colleges Assn., which voted him an Horatio Alger award. He is the youngest executive ever to receive the honor.

A pleasant-faced man with an easy manner that cloaks his own Spartan sense of self-discipline, Bentia says there never in history has been a time when it was easier for a man to get ahead — if he faces up to the price.

"There have never been more opportunities — and fewer people really looking for them," he observed dryly.

"But most people today seem afraid to stick their necks out. They are afraid to take a hammering, but it is only by taking the hammering that you can learn what you have to know.

"They lack confidence in themselves, yet this you must develop and hold on to. They prefer to look for a pleasant job with minimum risks and a safe pension."

The truth, as Bentia sees it, is that most people who say they want to be a success actually are afraid of success and the penalties it imposes. He makes no bones of the fact success does exact a penalty.

"You sometimes are lonely when you're not working," he admitted frankly. "You miss some of the pleasure of family life, and the enjoyment of hobbies. You don't play as good a game of golf.

"Socially, you find it difficult to engage in small talk because you don't have the time to learn the things that make small talk."

"Obviously, most men in their hearts don't think so," he said. "I do, even though I know I have missed—so far—the happiness of family life."

What attribute does he value most in a wife?

"Primarily understanding," he said, smiling. "From what the older boys tell me, it can cause a lot of trouble if you like to work long hours and your wife isn't sympathetic."

Robert Young, star of "Father Knows Best" and many movies, once resigned as a building and loan collector to become a newspaper reporter.

ARTHRITIS
I KNOW WHAT'S BEST FOR IT!

"I believe that people are put on earth to help others, and that is the reason I offer this true testimonial," says Mrs. Anna Knack, Flint, Michigan.

"I am glad to tell others of my experience with O-JIB-WA BITTERS, as I have suffered so much for over 30 years, and have found the medicine that brings the relief that you want. I had rheumatism and arthritis in both knees, but especially the right one, and was often forced to sit down because of the severe pain; but I just wouldn't stay in bed. I also had it in the back of my neck, and the pain was so fierce that I couldn't sleep nights. I discovered years ago that O-JIB-WA BITTERS brought results where other medicines failed, and besides, it seems to build me up and gives me lots of pep too. I sew for others, baby sit and keep up my house, and I am strong and healthy for a lady of 76. I also find that by using your tea with the medicine, that it's good for indigestion, as before, I couldn't eat cabbage, beans, onions, etc., as these foods would upset me but now I can eat anything and enjoy it. I have read in the Bible how God created herbs for the service of man, and after trying other medicines, know that nothing compares with O-JIB-WA BITTERS. That is why I offer this true testimonial, so that others who have rheumatism or arthritis may know of the wonderful results obtainable from this herb medicine."
