Beck Fights Going to Prison, Planning to Appeal Sentence

City Wage Formula Will Be Dropped at Pontiac General

By PETE LOCHBILER

In a last-ditch battle to stay out of the red this year, the Pontiac General Hospital administration has resolved to divorce itself from the city pay plan in order to slash union demands for $172,000 in wage increases.

Behind the move to smash the five-year precedent that hospital employes automatically get the same annual benefits as other city employes, appeared the determination to keep hospital room rates from rising.

Hospital trustees last night further postponed their 1958 budget in hopes of persuading the city and county to relieve them of more than $150,000 in other expenses this year.

They looked to the city to pick up $83,000 interest that the hospital otherwise would have to pay on 1952 bonds, and hoped the county would up the flat $26-a-day rate it pays for welfare patients admitted to the hospital.

"The hospital lost $72,000 last year because the county rate is lower than the average per day operating cost of $35 a patient," said hospital director Carl I. Flath. "We stand to lose more this year if the welfare rate is not raised."

Trustees resolved to take a firm stand in their 45-day-old negotiations with Pontiac Local 100 of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, which represents about 240 service workers, or 65 per cent of the non-professional hospital staff.

In making their annual demands, union representatives asked that the hospital grant the same pay raises as the city did last December.

City Manager Walter K. Willman advised trustees last night that it "never was the intent of the City Commission and administration to tie hospital wages to city wages."

ORDINANCE MISINTERPRETED

He agreed that the 1952 hospital ordinance stating that hospital personnel rules should be "similar" to city personnel rules had been misinterpreted.

"Rules are not the same thing as wages," was Flath's position.

Contract negotiators were authorized last night to offer the union "wage increases that fit into 1958 income."

Hospital Board Ducks Petitions for Sullenberger

The Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees last night refused to accept petitions demanding the reinstatement of Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger, ousted staff surgeon who is suing for $250,000 and the right to practice at the hospital again.

"We are named as one of the parties in the suit," said board chairman Willis M. Brewer to a small group describing themselves as patients of the suspended surgeon. "It would be legally impossible for us to take any action now," Brewer explained.

A leader of the group, Mrs. Kenneth Pawley, of Drayton Plains said she would seek today to arrange an appointment to deliver the petitions to Gov. Williams.

"We only came to you first because the City Commission and the Governor's office advised us to," said Mrs. Pawley, of 4725 Oakvista Rd.

Mrs. Pawley said the petition movement is independent of Dr. Sullenberger's suit, scheduled for trial early in April. "They are in behalf of Dr. Sullenberger's patients, who want him readmitted to the hospital so he can treat them there. We have 2,106 signatures so far."

A Cadillac Backfires

AP Facsimile

SMILE GONE — Tight-lipped, serious-faced Dave Beck Sr., wealthy retired president of the Teamsters Union, races out of court at Seattle yesterday afternoon after being sentenced for up to 15 years in prison for stealing $1,900 from his union. His offense was selling a union-owned Cadillac and keeping the money.

He Could Serve Up to 15 Years for Stealing

Pilfered Union Funds; Son Put on Probation, Fined $2,000

SEATTLE (INS) — Ruddy-faced Dave Beck Sr. prepared today to appeal his prison sentence of up to 15 years for stealing $1,900 from the International Teamsters Union he once bossed.

The appeal to the Washington State Supreme Court will be made by Charles Burdell who made impassioned pleas of innocence on behalf of Beck and his son before the court pronounced sentence on both late yesterday.

Beck Jr. was convicted Nov. 23 on two counts of grand larceny. The state accused him of selling two union-owned Cadillacs and pocketing the proceeds.

Superior Judge George H. Revelle fined the son $2,000 and ordered the repayment of the stolen $4,650 union money. He was placed on probation for three years.

The 37-year-old Beck Jr. was also directed to break all his ties with labor organizations — as an officer or employe.

Beck Sr., who has consistently denied his guilt, will remain free on $3,000 bail pending his appeal. The judge recommended that the 63-year-old wealthy and once powerful union leader serve a minimum of three years behind bars.

House Debating Bill for 5th County Judge

Debated on the floor of the House of Representatives today was a bill to put a fifth circuit judge on the Oakland County bench.

As the bill moved toward a vote Monday or Tuesday, questions of whether the county could afford the new judge circulated. Annual cost was placed at "upwards of $30,000" by John C. Austin, vice chairman of the Board of Auditors.

"Attorneys back home are against the short term and supervisors say there's no room or money," said Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township).

"And Gov. Williams will veto it for sure without the short term," he added.

The bill, sponsored by all six Oakland County representatives, calls for the new judgeship with two initial terms, the short one starting July 1, 1959, and another of the normal six years, beginning Jan. 1, 1960.

It moved out of the House Judiciary Committee yesterday.

Because of the joint sponsorship, the Oakland lawmakers hope to hurdle the partisan blockade which killed a similar measure last year.

Confronted with continually-increasing welfare and other costs, county officials have ordered a halt on unnecessary spending.

Leslie H. Hudson, Democratic representative from Pontiac, has quoted Gov. Williams as saying his support of the bill hinges on the provision that the judge be placed on the bench immediately.

An election would be held next April at which candidates for both the long and short terms would be voted on.

More People Reading Daily Newspapers

NEW YORK (AP)—The total circulation of the nation's 1,755 morning and evening daily newspapers is reported as 57,805,445 on last Sept. 30—a gain of 1.23 per cent over the figure for Sept. 30, 1956.

The figure was given yesterday by the trade paper Editor & Publisher.

The circulation gain was made despite the fact that there were six fewer dailies in 1957 than in 1956.

Goff on Trial Today; 'Insanity' Is Defense

Defense attorney will attempt prove that 35-year-old Ray Goff was insane at the time in 1955 when he allegedly shot and killed the woman who had spurned his love.

Goff, slender Flint factory worker and motorcycle racer, went to trial today before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty, charged with first-degree murder.

He is accused of murdering Rita M. Cummings, 27, a Flint divorcee, on Aug. 21, 1955.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor told a jury of six women and six men this morning that the peoople would show that the shooting was "planned, premeditated, and that Goff was sane at the time."

Counsels for the accused, L. Rex Bebout and Edward A. Potere, both of Rochester, said they would introduce as evidence statements by four psychiatrists showing their client not only was insane at a sanitary hearing, but also at the time of the crime.

Goff in December of 1955 was ordered committed to Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane after the four psychiatrists found him insane and not capable of standing trial.

He was reportedly restored to sanity during his two-year confinement, and released last December.

Mrs. Cummings was killed by four shots from a .22-caliber target pistol after Goff allegedly threatened and ordered her companion, Dean Worges, 28, also of Flint, from his car, parked near a farm in Holly.

The accused, Taylor said, then shot himself in the forehead while Worges fled to the nearby farm for help.

City's Fair Weather Changing to Drizzle

Good weather was short lived for Pontiac area residents.

For tonight the U.S. Weather Bureau predicts mostly cloudy, windy and warmer with a low of 25 degrees. Drizzle expected this afternoon, may continue or turn to light snow by this evening.

The outlook for Saturday is occasional light snow and colder with a high around 35.

Sunday will be cloudy with no important temperature change. Light snow is likely.

In the U.S. Weather Bureau's five day forecast, temperatures are expected to average about two degrees below the normal high of 35 and normal low of 21.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 16. The reading at 2 p.m. was 34.

Spot Red Flare in Plane Search

Small Lights Sighted in Hunt for Lost Navy Patrol Ship in Atlantic

HALIFAX (AP)—A red flare and small lights were sighted by planes and ships searching for a missing U. S. Navy patrol plane with 22 men aboard, a Navy spokesman said today.

The spokesman at Argentia, Nfld., said the search now is concentrated in an area about 600 miles southeast of Newfoundland where the plane disappeared on an Atlantic radar patrol early Thursday.

A red flare was sighted by the Coast Guard cutter Yakatat at 9:06 o'clock last night about 400 miles north of the plane's last reported position, he said.

At 3:32 a. m. today, an Air Force search plane saw small lights on the surface about 150 miles north of where the flare was seen.

The carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt, a cruiser and 16 destroyers have been diverted to the search area. A total of 27 planes are also taking part.

The Navy revised its count on the number of men aboard the plane to 22 instead of 23 reported earlier.

Urges Highway Stepup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Griffin (R-Mich) said today Michigan is doing a "less than average job" in utilizing federal road money. He urged a stepup in Michigan highway building to combat unemployment.

Neighbors Rescue Children From Fire

DETROIT (AP)— Neighbors aroused by screams rescued three children from their burning house here last night. One of the children was hospitalized because of smoke inhalation.

Police held the father, Aldis J. McGill, a 32-year-old unemployed accountant, for investigation of neglect. They said he had locked the house and gone to a nearby bar. The children's mother was working.

The children said they were asleep when smoke awakened them.

Two of the children—10-year-old Audrey and 9-year-old Julie—were pulled out through shattered windows. Two policemen, Robert Coutts and Allen Blom, found 3-year-old Dale on the living room floor overcome by smoke. He was hospitalized.

Patrolman Orville McGraw, a neighbor who was off duty, and off-duty fireman Edmund Hodnicki, also a neighbor, entered the house from another side in an effort to rescue Dale.

Arson investigators said the fire originated in a living room sofa, possibly from a smoldering cigarette.

Lenten Meditations

By ROBERT L. DIEFFENBACHER, D.D.

During the last weeks of Christ's teaching, those who wished to learn from Him had to follow Him wherever He went. They were so avid for His words and for His healing power that they gave little thought of eating and sleeping.

Today we can study His word wherever we may go in America.

There is a Bible in almost every home, in every public library and in almost all hotel rooms of America.

We do not have to keep our Bibles hidden, nor are we putting Christ on trial in the courts of the state.

We must take time each Lenten day to study God's word and to pray for Christ to come into more phases of our lives. Until He guides our every act we have not surrendered enough.

'Hatchet Sale' Is Landslide Success

Downtown Pontiac's Hatchet Sale, advertised in yesterday's Pontiac Press, is a landslide success, a spot-check with merchants this morning showed.

"Haven't seen anything like it since Christmas" and "Greatest thing I've seen since I've been in retailing" were typical comments.

The Hatchet Day Sale derived its name from the traditional sales held on George Washington's Birthday — only prices, not cherry trees, were chopped down.

WAITING FOR BARGAINS — A long line stretches from the door of S. C. Rogers Sporting Goods Co., 24 E. Lawrence St., this morning waiting for the Hatchet Days Sale to begin. The first lady was in line at 4 a. m. When the store opened, the rush was so great the salespeople could only stand by the register and ring up the items the customers chose by themselves.

All stores checked reported lineups at the doors before opening, and several said they were sold out of sale merchandise by 10 or 10:30 a.m., but the crowds kept coming.

NO 'RECESSION' HERE

Monroe Osmun, of Osmun's Men's Wear, 51 N. Saginaw St., said, "we had to pull in half our crew from our other store to handle the crowds.

"I waited on one man and we didn't have his hat size. He said 'I'll take three bigger ones and put paper in them'."

Chuck Rogers, of S. C. Rogers Sporting Goods, 24 E. Lawrence St., commented, "I have never seen anything like this. The first person in line showed up at 4 a.m."

"All we can do is stand by the register and take the money. It's too crowded to wait on the customers, but they are waiting on themselves. Some even open the bags for us."

LINE UP AT 5 A.M.

At Eppert's Camera Shop, 57 W. Huron St., Merle Chaboneau reported one boy in line at 5 a.m. to get a $29.95 camera and case being sold for 99 cents.

Offer to Return Some on Plane

But North Koreans Say Rhee Regime Must Talk Directly With Them

TOKYO (AP) — The Communists today offered to give up anyone from the South Korean airliner that flew north Sunday who wants to quit North Korea. But it hedged by demanding that the South Korean government negotiate the release directly with the North Korean regime.

"Among those who were aboard the plane which came over to the North, there are some who desire to return," Pyongyang radio said. "If they desire so, they will be allowed to go where they want to."

The 34 people aboard the Korean National Airlines DC3 included two American pilots, a West German couple and 30 Koreans, two of the latter children.

"Since they came to the northern part of the republic, all of them have been well and in good health and accorded warm kindness and humanitarian treatment," the Communist broadcast said.

U. S. and South Korean officials are certain that Communist agents slipped aboard the plane as passengers and took it over at gunpoint or forced the two American pilots to fly north.

A North Korean newsman told reporters at Panmunjom Tuesday that some of the 34 were wounded and receiving medical treatment. This strengthened the belief in Seoul that the plane had been seized in the air by Red agents after a battle.

Judge Has 1 Answer for Jimmy Hoffa: 'No'

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal judge has ruled five times against James R. Hoffa, embattled president of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters under indictment on wiretap conspiracy charges.

In rapid order, Judge John M. Cashin yesterday denied motions by Hoffa's attorney to dismiss the indictment, postpone the trial of his case another six months, and transfer the case to Michigan.

Cashin also denied motions by Hoffa's lawyer to reject alleged wiretap evidence and to sever Hoffa's case from that of two co-defendants, Owen B. Brennan, president of the Detroit Teamsters Local 337, and Bernard Spindel, a professional wiretapper.

The trial began last December. Hoffa, Brennan and Spindel charged with conspiring to tap the telephones of union subordinates at the Teamsters' Detroit headquarters, between January 1953 and May 1957. This trial ended Dec. 20 in a hung jury.

Set originally for next Monday, the retrial was postponed by Cashin until March 17.

Unruly Patient Churchill Spends Quiet Evening

ROQUEBRUNE - CAP - MARTIN, France (AP) — Sir Winston Churchill spent a "rather quiet night" and his condition is stationary, members of his household said today.

The 83-year-old former Prime Minister is suffering from Pneumonia and pleurisy. He became ill Monday.

An oxygen tent was flown in from London and stored in an airport warehouse at nearby Nice for Churchill if needed. The London firm which supplied it emphasized that it was only a precaution.

Aides said Churchill was proving an unruly patient. "He's a tough man to keep in bed—even in his present condition," a source close to the old warrior reported.

With Churchill are his wife, his daughter Sarah, and his personal physician from London, Lord Moran. His local doctor, David Roberts, calls periodically during the day.

Hospital Will Drop City Wage Formula

amount to was not determined, but it seemed likely that the figure would approximate the hospital's previous offer of increases in varying amounts totaling about $70,000.

Earlier this month the union flatly turned down this offer and repeated its demand that hospital wages again follow city wages.

The Board agreed that any increases would be retroactive to Feb. 1.

PAY ABOVE AVERAGE

Trustees argued that because the hospital had followed the city's lead since 1953, Pontiac General wages are now higher than the average in the Detroit area.

The board will meet next Tuesday with the City Commission to discuss the $83,000 interest on hospital bonds to finance the new addition.

Flath said he is negotiating with the Oakland County Welfare Board on a new "sliding scale" that would tie welfare patient costs in with operating costs.

Meantime, trustees were faced with a bookkeeping matter concerning the new addition, into which the hospital plans to move piecemeal this year.

"As we move in, the new facility will begin depreciating in value through daily usage," pointed out Finance Committee chairman James Clarkson. "The question is, should we put this depreciation down as an operating loss this year?

"I believe that if we do, we're going to have to make up the loss through new revenues and this means only one thing—raising the room rates, a step that I vigorously oppose."

RATE HIKE NOT FAVORED

Although no one favored raising room rates, all board members realized that the depreciation would be a real loss that would have to be made up sometime.

The question was deferred to a special budget meeting March 6. The postponement meant that the budget would be submitted to the City Commission for approval at least four months past the Nov. 15 deadline.

Last year, operating on a $3,500,000 budget, the hospital went $71,000 into the red.

Leopold Granted Parole

Dedicates Self to Serving Fellow Man

JOLIET, Ill (AP)— Nathan Leopold, one of the nation's most widely known convicts, who was granted a parole yesterday, immediately began planning a change in prison jobs to better prepare him for "a life of service to his fellow man."

Now a clerk in the chief engineer's office at Stateville Prison, Leopold told his attorney that he wanted to be shifted to the prison hospital.

Leopold's parole plea focused on the offer of a $10-a-month job as a laboratory technician in a rural hospital operated by the Church of the Brethern in Castaper, Puerto Rico.

Where he'll go will be decided by parole officials. It may take three or four weeks until he actually leaves prison.

"Leopold now wants only this opportunity to serve his fellow man," said his attorney, Elmer Gertz. "He wants to avoid the glare of publicity and continue the rigid routine of hard work to which he dedicated himself in more than 33 years in prison."

Gertz and Ralph Newman, Lincoln scholar and book dealer who is a friend of the Leopold family, were with Leopold before and after he received news of the parole.

Leopold has been in Stateville since Sept. 11, 1924, for his part in the thrill slaying of Bobby Franks, 14, in Chicago. Sent to prison with him for terms of life for murder and 99 years for kidnaping was Richard Loeb, who was slashed to death by another inmate in 1936. Their attorney for the Franks' crime was the late famed attorney, Clarence Darrow, who saved the youths from a death sentence.

Prof. William F. Byron, sociologist and longtime supporter of Leopold, declared at Cincinnati, Ohio: "Justice at long last has been achieved. He will be a great asset to society now that he is to be free. By no stretch of the imagination does he constitute a risk to society."

At Flat Rock, N. C., poet Carl Sandburg, 80, who made an eloquent plea for Leopold's parole at Stateville Prison last Feb. 5, said, "I agree with Lt. Gov. (John W.) Chapman that Leopold is the most completely rehabilitated prisoner that Illinois has at the present time. I have not the slightest fear about the future of Leopold. He now deserves a complete breakaway from publicity."

The balding, paunchy Leopold, 53, will remain in the prison three or four weeks, officials said, as they check and approve his arrangements for a home and job.

Leopold's parole for five years came on a split vote of the five-man Illinois Parole and Pardon Board. The vote was not announced.

NATHAN LEOPOLD

TO RELEASE TOUHY

But the board agreed unanimously to parole Roger Touhy, 60, prohibition-era gang leader serving a long term for a kidnaping and a prison break out. Touhy claimed the kidnaping never occurred, a contention that has won considerable support.

Both Leopold and Touhy were unable to comprehend the news when Stateville warden Joseph Ragen told the men their good fortune. "Then," the warden said, "smiles of utter joy and relief spread across the faces of both. Leopold put his hands to his head, and his voice was shaking as he muttered over and over: 'Oh, it's wonderful — wonderful after all these years!' Touhy was a little more calm, but said, 'Gee, it's great!' "

Warden Joseph Ragen distributed a statement Leopold had typed. In it, Leopold expressed gratefulness to his friends, the parole board, the press and "first of all to God."

TELLS DETERMINATION

"I am determined to do my utmost to justify the faith shown in me," the statement said.

"I am acutely conscious that more than my own future hangs in the balance. Thousands of prisoners, especially long-term prisoners, look to me to vindicate the rehabilitation theory of imprisonment. I will do my best not to fail in that trust," it concluded.

Gertz said Leopold has a $50,000 trust left him by his father and brother and that income from this trust "will assure that Leopold will never become a public liability."

Only Threat to Economy Is Shaking Confidence---Ike

THOMASVILLE, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower says any shaking of confidence in America's economic future could turn the business slump into "a deep and protracted decline."

And that is the only thing that could do it, the President said in a telegram yesterday to 11 Democratic governors.

The telegram, dispatched from Eisenhower's vacation headquarters, was in reply to one from the governors last week. They said that "only federal action can prevent the recession from feeding on itself and deteriorating further into a depression."

They called for a public works program, welfare and educational expansion, further easing of credit, and possibly a tax cut "directed to low income families."

Eisenhower again expressed confidence that "the underlying growth factors in the economy remain vigorous, and every indication is that they will reassert themselves later in the year."

He said the federal government already has taken many steps to combat the recession. He added he will "continue to take, or propose to the Congress, such steps as can contribute effectively to the health of the economy and the welfare of our people."

In substance he told the Democratic governors they should refrain from rocking the economic boat — doing anything to undermine long-term confidence.

The President finally went quail hunting yesterday, eight days after his arrival from Washington. He bagged three birds in a three-hour hunt at the plantation estate of his vacation host, former Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey.

Cold weather, rain and a cough have kept the President indoors most of the time.

The President plans to start back to Washington Sunday. He may fly by way of Phoenix, Ariz., if Mrs. Eisenhower decides to vacation for a few days in that area.

With Nasser as Dictator

Egypt, Syria Join Today

CAIRO (AP)—Under clouds of a dispute with the Sudan, Egyptians and Syrians voted today to join their countries in the United Arab Republic and to name Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt the first president of the U.A.R.

The Arab union with Nasser as its head had already won widespread popular approval in both countries and the yes-no ballots prepared for the 6½ million voters were a formality.

The already certain results of the plebiscite will be announced officially tomorrow. Nasser will immediately take over the U.A.R.

Egyptian officials planned to poll more than 10,000 desert nomads and Nile Valley dwellers in disputed areas along the Sudanese border despite objections from the Sudan government in Khartoum.

Five hours after the end of the vote, the U.N. Security Council was to meet in New York to consider the Sudan's complaint of "impending Egyptian aggression" and possible "armed conflict" in the border areas.

The U.A.R. was proclaimed in Cairo Feb. 1 and four days later the parliaments in Cairo and Damascus approved a provisional constitution giving Nasser virtually absolute power.

Dave Beck to Appeal Prison Sentence

will be set by the State Board of Prison Terms and Paroles.

Beck, who was visibly shaken when the court handed down its verdict yesterday, was convicted Dec. 14 of grand larceny for the sale of one Cadillac owned by the union.

He still awaits the May 5 Tacoma federal trial on charges of evading $184,000 in 1951-53 federal income taxes. Beck Jr. will also stand trial for conspiracy in his father's tax case.

SERVE TIME

Should Beck Sr. lose his appeal, he will have to serve time at the Washington State Penitentiary at Walla Walla.

Explaining why he did not hand down the same sentence to the son as he did to the father, Judge Revelle declared:

"He (Beck Jr.) did not realize that a son should not obey a parent blindly." The judge added that he acted in an effort to compel the younger Beck to "stand on his own two feet."

A twiching muscle was the only movement from the flush-faced elder Beck when Judge Revelle told him: "Though we are dealing with a relatively small amount of money as measured against the good you have done, if I were in such a position of trust and had committed such a violation, I would expect to answer for it with the greatest consequences society permits."

The elder Beck, convicted last Dec. 14, had based his defense on the contention that he turned over the money to a Teamster Union auditor and that it was placed in a strongbox in union headquarters.

Young Beck, convicted last Nov. 23, claimed he turned over the amount he was accused of misappropriating to his father at Beck Sr.'s direction. Beck Jr. was a Teamsters organizer drawing $1,000 a month.

Lucky Traffic Ticket Returns Stolen Auto

A Clarkston man received a lucky traffic ticket early this morning when he was stopped for speeding on U.S. 10 in Independence Township by State Troopers Stanley Doubleday and Louis Girard.

When asked why he was driving his brother's car, Charles H. Lippincott, of 7110 Deer Lake Rd., informed the troopers that his auto and overcoat containing his car registration had been stolen while he was in a Flint Tavern Thursday night.

The stolen car report had been issued only in Flint, rather than statewide, so he gave the troopers a description of his missing auto.

Less than two hours later, the troopers stopped two men driving north on U.S. 10 in Drayton Plains at speeds nearing 100 miles per hour, they reported. The car fitted the description of the stolen one.

The men, Raymond Johnson, 20, and Gary Dowdy, 19, both of Flint, produced Lippincott's overcoat and registration saying they had accidentally picked up the wrong coat upon leaving the Flint tavern.

The troopers booked them at the Oakland County Jail for also picking up the wrong car.

Pontiac Man Injured in Two-Car Collision

A two-car collision at 2949 E. Walton Blvd., Pontiac Township, sent Emery Schwartz, 50, of 354 N. Saginaw St., to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital yesterday according to State Police at the Pontiac Post.

Schwartz is listed in satisfactory condition with a possible fractured hip. He was riding in the car driven by his son, Harry B. Schwartz, 21, of 1064 Cloverlawn St. Driving the other car was William J. Gray, 19, of 309 Parkdale St., Rochester. Both drivers were uninjured, said police.

New Discovery in Medicine

Quickly Erases Blood Clot

BOSTON, Mass. (AP)—Discovery of a mold extract which seeks and destroys fresh blood clots in minutes was announced today by the Massachusetts Heart Assn.

The mold extract, discovered by Dr. Mario Stefanini at St. Elizabeth's Hospital, is described as innocuous and a treatment which can be used safely on the sickest patient.

The substance is credited with furnishing quick relief for sufferers of ailments which involve blood clotting.

The mold is given by injection, enters the blood stream and travels to the clot. If used early enough, the announcement said, it can prevent much long-term damage by clots.

Stefanini said the technique can be used in any good hospital, although not yet ready for home use by family physicians.

The Day in Birmingham

Want All Traffic Halted When School Buses Stop

BIRMINGHAM—School superintendents of Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham are urging the adoption of a state law to require all traffic to stop while school buses are unloading or taking on passengers.

A bill to this effect has been proposed in the State Senate by Sen. L. Harvey Lodge of Drayton Plains. It would force all vehicles to stop regardless of the direction they are traveling. The present law requires only vehicles going in the same direction as the bus to halt.

Two Bloomfield Hills children were killed and a third crippled when struck by cars as they left school buses.

"I can't overemphasize the importance of the adoption of this bill," Eugene L. Johnson, Bloomfield Hills superintendent, said this morning.

Birmingham Schools Superintendent Dr. Dwight B. Ireland said he feels the proposal is a major step in the protection of school children.

"It has been tested in other states and has proven its value," Dr. Ireland said.

"I feel Michigan will be doing a great injustice to our children if this proposal does not become a part of our traffic safety law."

A political contest developed yesterday with the filing of a third petition for Birmingham city commissioner.

John J. O'Gorman, 51, of 147 Abbey Rd., who entered the race yesterday, is no stranger to the City Commission. He was a successful candidate in 1949, but because of illness, resigned after service 20 months.

O'Gorman, who five years ago was chairman of a special committee which recommended the two new fire stations in Birmingham, retired from business a year ago. He was manager of the Johnson Service Co., Detroit, manufacturer of automatic heating controls.

Other candidates for the two three-year posts on the commission are Harry Denyes Jr., incumbent, and William H. Merrill, attorney.

Bloomfield Hills Justice of the Peace Ava J. Richardson yesterday fined J. W. Smith, 26, of 577½ Going St., Pontiac, $50.

Smith had pleaded guilty to stealing 30 quarts of liquor from the Kingsley Inn where he was a night porter.

cold and Bill Wiggins, of 3440 Atlas Dr., Drayton Plains, took his place and got the camera," Charboneau said.

"We were sold out at 10:30 and we are digging up more items for the sale," he added.

At Simms Brothers, Inc., 98 N. Saginaw St., the sale produced crowds "about double the usual Friday turnout," according to Ben Ronan.

"All the items we advertised, we had good stocks on and they should last us through the weekend," he said. "I would say this sale has been highly successful."

Lou Surowitz, a partner at Georges-Newports, 74 N. Saginaw St., said his store numbered the people in line for a first crack at a few fur coats being sold at $9.95.

"We numbered them up to 85 and then quit," he explained. "Considering the bad weather we've had this week which has held business down, this turnout is terrific."

Dave Horwitz, of Arthur's Women's Apparel, 48 N. Saginaw St., said business was the best he had seen since Christmas.

"They all have cash, too," he said. "Many told me they would go to the bank and get the cash to hold their items for them.

Strike Pay Taxable, District Judge Rules

MILWAUKEE (AP) — U. S. District Judge Kenneth Grubb has ruled in a decision that is expected to affect thousands of striking union members, that union strike benefits are taxable.

Judge Grubb yesterday reversed a Federal Court jury which last November ruled that strike benefits are deductible from income as gifts, and tax free.

Meet in Puerto Rico

WASHINGTON (INS)—Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy and a group of high-level advisers flew to Puerto Rico today for a weekend conference to hammer out final recommendations for reorganizing the Pentagon.

Housing Proposed for Mental Patients

Three half - filled tuberculosis sanatoriums in the state would be turned over for housing mentally ill and social welfare cases under a bill co-sponsored by Rep. Leslie H. Hudson (D-Pontiac) and Robert E. Waldron (R-Grosse Pointe).

The bill calls for closing Copper Country Sanatorium at Houghton, Northern Michigan Sanatorium at Gaylord, and Southwest Michigan Sanatorium at Kalamazoo, and appointing a legislative study committee to determine their future uses.

Priority should be placed on using them for the mentally ill and social welfare fields, the bill proposes.

An appropriation of $1,480,413 to run these three could best be used for some 1,880 mentally-disturbed patients waiting proper places of commitment, Hudson said. The bill proposes patients in the three hospitals be moved to others where beds are available.

State of Emergency in New York

Nation's Chills Subsiding

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Sections of New York State still felt the effects of winter's worst storm and cold today, but mostly fair and warmer weather was the outlook in the eastern two-thirds of the nation.

Fairly mild weather, with some precipitation, prevailed in most of the Far Western States.

Gov. Averell Harriman declared a state of emergency in New York State. Blizzards and severe cold have hammered upstate areas. He appealed for federal equipment to help snowbound families and clear the huge snowdrifts from roads.

New York City had its first reading of above freezing yesterday since Feb. 8 when the mercury reached 35 degrees.

It was freezing again in Southern states, with temperatures in the 20s in parts of Alabama, Georgia, the Carolinas, Kentucky and Tennessee. Normal readings are in the mid 30s and low 40s.

Cold also continued in sections of New England and the lower Great Lakes region, while temperatures moderated in most sections from the Appalachians westward.

7 Area Officials to Attend Planning, Zoning Confab

Seven Oakland County officials will have an active part in the 8th annual Planning and Zoning Conference to be staged March 6-7 in Detroit by the Detroit Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission.

Scheduled for participation as either chairmen or members of panels to discuss the conference theme of "Resources for Regional Development" are:

Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman, commissioner on the Regional Planning Commission.

Acting County DPW Director Harold K. Schone, second vice chairman of the RPC.

Herbert Herzberg, planning director for the City of Birmingham.

David S. Geer, planning consultant for Pontiac and other Oakland communities.

George Skrubb, director of the Oakland County Planning Commission.

Eugene Swen, Southfield Township supervisor.

Featured speaker at the two-day conference, to be held at the Veterans Memorial Building, will be Dr. Luther Gulick, president of the Institute of Public Administration.

Police in Detroit Catch Up With New-Type Rat

DETROIT (AP) — Houseowners on Detroit's northwest side can stop worrying about mortar rats.

Police say they have all the mortar rats locked up in an impounded truck. And five men said to be the owners of the rats are held for investigation of obtaining money under false pretenses.

Police said the five men, posing as workmen, would approach a house and ask its occupants if they were bothered by mortar rats, explaining such rats thrived on mortar from walls and chimneys. If homeowners allowed a spot check, the pseudo-workmen would come up with a rat. Its fur was white, the men explained, because it has been eating mortar.

The men offered to exterminate the rats for a fee. After collecting a down payment, police said, the workmen would disappear.

A woman who did not give a down payment became suspicious when she saw the men again last night. She called police.

Police said they found a cage in the back of a truck belonging to one of the men. They found three rats too — under the instrument panel looking for mortar.

Back From Disneyland, Leukemia Victim Dies

HOLLAND (AP) — Donald J. Oosterbaan, a 6-year-old leukemia victim who returned last week from a tour of Disneyland and Hollywood studios as a guest of a television program, died yesterday in Holland hospital.

The boy was granted his wish of touring Disneyland and Hollywood by the "Truth or Consequences" program after a Holland High School student wrote of Donald's desire. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald D. Oosterbaan.

Britain, France Agree to Power System Link

PARIS — France and Great Britain have decided to go ahead with a $11,000,000 project, long discussed, to link the two countries' electric-power systems.

The undertaking was not pronounced feasible until it had been ascertained that the electrical-consumption peaks in the two nations occurred at different times.

Illinois Ex-Governor Dwight Green Dies

CHICAGO (AP)—Dwight H. Green, Republican governor of Illinois for two terms during World War II, died last night of lung cancer.

The 61-year-old lawyer-banker had been ailing for more than a year and had been hospitalized for three months.

Green first gained wide recognition in the early 1930s as the young federal prosecutor who helped send Al Capone and other gangsters to prison for income tax evasion.

He gained further prominence while serving as U.S. attorney in Chicago from 1932 to 1935 and four years later made his first bid for elective office—mayor of Chicago.

He lost to Mayor Edward J. Kelly, Democratic leader in predominately Democratic Chicago. But he polled nearly 44 per cent of the vote and was picked by Republican leaders as their gubernatorial candidate in 1940. He was elected by 250,000 votes.

Four years later he was re-elected by a narrow margin. However, he lost his bid for a third term, in 1948, being defeated by Adlai E. Stevenson by 570,000 votes.

Four Towns School Presenting Minstrel Show

Lifts Restraint in Police Case

Civil Service Demotion of Acting Lieutenant Ruled Valid Here

A restraining order against the Pontiac Civil Service Commission was lifted today by Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick.

The order, issued Dec. 20, blocking the demotion to sergeant of Acting Lt. John DePauw of Pontiac Police Department, was lifted when DePauw's attorney, Howard I. Bond, failed yesterday to file an amendment to his pleadings.

DePauw had contended that since he was not given notice within six months that his services as an acting lieutenant were unsatisfactory, he was in the higher rank automatically under the act.

Judge Hartrick turned down this argument, but had given Bond time for another argument — that the Civil Service Commission had improperly delegated its judgment when it named a panel of police experts to conduct oral interviews with the men taking the tests rather than doing it itself.

Bond told the court today his client felt that this latter issue should be raised by someone else, not a police officer who might have to face the commission another time for promotion.

The judge said he was dismissing the case on the first issue without prejudice to either side on the second one. That question should be settled by the city officials concerned without resort to further legal action, he added.

Heifers Given Alcohol

DES MOINES — Experiments show that beef heifers' appetite can be increased by adding small amounts of ethyl alcohol to their daily rations. The alcohol also tends to increase their rate of weight gain.

BROTHER AND SISTER SINGING ACT—All decked out in their show costumes are Michael Bailey, 5, and his 7-year-old sister, Connie, of 1185 Jay St., Waterford. They'll do a number of old-fashioned minstrel songs in the annual Talent Show of the Four Towns Elementary School.

Curtain Rises Saturday Night

Neither Snow Nor Rain Will Stop Performance in Waterford

FOUR TOWNS — Music, dancing, humor, and a good performance is promised in Waterford Township Saturday evening when Four Towns Elementary School presents its annual Talent Show at Waterford High School, Crescent Lake Rd. at M59.

Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. And even though snow may pile high in Oakland County and a blizzard howls at the door, inside the Waterford auditorium all will be warm, colorful and festive as the school stages its "Four Towns Southern Plantation."

A cast of 250 Four Towns school children will participate in the production — an old-fashioned minstrel show complete with songs, dancing, pantomime and colorful plantation costumes.

PUBLIC INVITED

The public is invited to attend the program, which is sponsored by Four Towns PTA.

At Long Last— a Stop Signal for Speakers!

LOS ANGELES (AP)— The long-winded speaker, as gushing as Niagara Falls, can be turned off.

The National Standard Parts Assn. proved that at its convention here yesterday.

At the rear of a meeting hall a traffic light was installed.

When it flashed green, the speaker took off. An amber light warned him that his time was running out. A red light ordered him to stop.

In case the red light failed its purpose, a bell rang.

3 Area Men Attend Fire Conference

Three local men were among more than 2,200 persons attending the 30th annual meeting of the Fire Department Instructors Conference held Feb. 18 in Memphis, Tenn.

The three men are Fire Chief Kenneth E. Goodell of GMC Truck & Coach Div.; Fire Chief Richard S. Luxon of Pontiac Motor Div.; and Capt. Albert H. Rayner, of the Pontiac Fire Dept.

The conference program included demonstration and discussion of the latest control methods of fires, the use of electronics in department operations and an analysis of the causes of large loss fires of $100,000 or more.

Keego Harbor Group Approves Clean-Up

KEEGO HARBOR—Keego Harbor City Council has approved a request for a clean-up day in the city.

The city agreed to cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in its proposal for a Keego Harbor Clean-Up Day, and asked that a date for the project be worked out.

In other business Fire Marshall John Sellman presented a schedule for the inspection of business places.

The city also reappointed Bernard Schelling to the Board of Review for a three-year period. Approval was given for transfer of tavern SDM license, located at 3064 Orchard Lake Rd., from John G. Bayliss to Edward Maguire.

Clair L. Johnson, of Johnson and Anderson Co., gave a report on the engineering work being done on laterals in Keego Harbor. It was decided to meet at a later date with Willis Brewer of the Oakland County Road Dept. for discussion on traffic and road problems on Cass Lake road.

74 Fire Calls in Avondale

AVONDALE — The Avondale Fire Department was called out 74 times last year, the annual report issued by Fire Chief Harold Miller shows. Nineteen runs were for house fires and three were false alarms. An average of 13 volunteer firemen responded for each call, Chief Miller reported.

Church Paid in Full

To Burn Mortgage

AUBURN HEIGHTS — Elmwood Methodist Church, Grant street, south of Auburn road, will have a mortgage burning ceremony following the 11:15 service Sunday morning.

The mortgage burning comes just five and a half years from the date the $10,000 project was started.

To Mrs. Lulu Hill will go the honor of burning the mortgage at the chancel rail Sunday morning. It was mainly through her efforts that the project was begun.

Calvin Coffman, chairman of the Board of Trustees, will present the deed to the pastor, the Rev. Ralph Dodson who will in turn present it to the church, debt free.

The Rev. Dodson, who succeeded the Rev. Keith Colby in July of 1957, came here from the mission fields of Japan where Mrs. Dodson served with him.

Cottage prayers will start at 10 a.m. Monday in the homes of members and continue through the week.

Sunday will start a series of "Round the Clock" prayers.

The Rev. Dodson will conduct a 15-minute worship service starting at 5:45 p.m. Friday at the church. At 6 p.m. a 24-hour prayer vigil will start at the church.

Report Parnau Hit by Indonesia Bombs

SINGAPORE (AP)—Padang radio said tonight two Indonesian air force planes dropped seven bombs on the town of Parnau, about 45 miles south of Padang this morning.

The broadcast from the rebel regime's stronghold on Sumatra said the bombs fell near a mosque where villagers were going to pray. The bombing was reported an hour after President Sukarno threw his support to the determination of Premier Djuanda's government to crush the rebels.

No casualties were reported. The broadcast also said a bridge at Saledo also was gunned by attacking planes.

Brewer, Dairyman Fred Pabst Dies

OCONOMOWOC, Wis. (AP)—Fred Pabst, who helped build a brewing empire that bears the family name, and then became an internationally known dairy farmer, died at his estate here today. He was 88.

Pabst had been in failing health since last year when he suffered a stroke. He retired as chairman of the Pabst Brewing Co. in 1954 after a long, successful career during which he helped make the firm one of the world's biggest breweries.

Only last year he was honored by leaders of the cattle and dairy inudstry as the "architect of the Holstein-Friesian breed of cattle" at the International Livestock Show in Chicago.

His portrait hangs alongside that of his father, the late Capt. Fred Pabst, in Chicago's exclusive Saddle and Sirloin Club. Livestock's greats are members of the organization, sort of a cattlemen's Hall of Fame.

60-Foot Whale Delays Arrival of Ocean Liner

NAPLES, Italy (AP)—The Cristoforo Colombo, Italy's luxury Atlantic liner, arrived an hour late today because of a 60-foot whale.

Officers reported that the ship shuddered under a terrific blow en route to Naples from Genoa. Speed was cut and crewmen rushed to see what the ship had struck.

Badly injured by the prow, was a big whale, thrashing in the water. The liner had to reverse its engines to pull free.

'I Like Travel . . . I Like Men'

Unwed Actress Prefers to Marry Eight Times

LONDON (AP) —French actress Nadine Tallier says she woud like to marry eight men from eight different nations.

"I mean marry them one at a time," she adds, "not all at once. That woud be silly."

Carrot-haired, bosomy and as French as truffles, Nadine said she arrived at her novel marriage plan because of her wide interest in travel and men.

"I like travel," she said, "and I also like men. I've been around the world and the more I travel, the more men I see. The more men I see, the more I think about marrying them."

She said in terms of future husbands she was thinking of an American, Frenchman, Russian, Italian, Argentinian, Brazilian, German and Spaniard, though not necessarily in that order.

As possible husbands, she added, Americans should never be underrated.

"They are very romantic and fun, but I wish they didn't drink so many cocktails. I don't understand English very well and some very charming American men I can't understand at all after 6 o'clock. They seem to speak some new strange language after that third martini."

As lovers, Frenchmen are overrated, but they have other sterling qualities, she went on.

"Germans work hard, save their money, but will spend it on a girl if they like her.

"Italians are great romantics and good talkers."

Spaniards, she added, intrigue her. They are dark, brooding and "as strong as some of their bulls."

Nadine, 25, gave her interview between scenes of "Girls at Sea," her first British movie. Her custume is a towel with nothing underneath but herself, which in Nadine's case is quite a bit. Returning to her undressing room on the set from a bathroom scene, she continued with her list.

"I like Russian men. I visited Moscow recently. What little I know about them I like.

"Gentlemen from the Argentine are wonderful wine drinkers, conversationalists and they know all about food.

"Brazilians are the world's best dancers and very complimentary.

"I have never been married and I have no boy friend right now. But if you think I joke about marrying eight different men from eight different countries, you just wait. I have plenty of time and the world has plenty of men."

5 Claims Filed Against Estate

$205,800 Total Asked From E. N. Barnard's 3.5 Millions

DETROIT (AP) — Five persons have filed claims for $205,800 against the estate of Detroit attorney Edward N. Barnard. The estate has been estimated at 3½ million dollars.

Barnard died last October. Large sums of cash have been found in various safety deposit boxes and office vaults.

The one-time Republican leader left a will naming a brother and sister as principal beneficiaries with a $10,000 bequest to a daughter, Mrs. Frances McKay of Grand Rapids. Mrs. McKay has indicated she will contest the will.

The claims were filed in five separate petitions by Mrs. Grace Louis Griggs, Barnard's social secretary; Ann A. Dunn, his housekeeper; Mrs. Jane Briggs Windsor; Dr. Joseph R. Applegate, a Detroit dentist, and Mrs. Applegate.

Mrs. Griggs wants $100,000. She says Barnard promised it to her. Miss Dunn asks $30,000, saying Barnard promised to "take care of her" in return for nursing services. Mrs. Windsor claims $36,300 which she says represents property Barnard had while handling the legal affairs of her husband's estate. Dr. Applegate asks $6,500 for professional services. Mrs. Applegate seeks $12,000 she says was deposited with Barnard in connection with a court case.

'The Wizard of Oz' Producer Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Al Lichtman, onetime burlesque house usher who became a movie pioneer and produced some of Hollywood's most successful pictures, is dead at 70 of a heart attack.

The producer of "Boys Town," "The Wizard of Oz," "Green Dolphin Sreet" and other films succumbed yesterday at his home.

Lichtman had been an executive and guiding force in such enterprises as Famous Players, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, United Artists and 20th Century-Fox and a key figure in development of wide-screen CinemaScope.

In 1919 he was associated with Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, William S. Hart and David W. Griffith in the formation of United Artists, distributing firm, of which he became president.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1958

Honor Washington's Birthday

Tomorrow we are celebrating the 226th anniversary of the birth of the man who, more than anybody else, was responsible for our nation being a republic and not a kingdom.

GEORGE WASHINGTON could have been king had he so desired. But he profited by his observation of the European royal families, and even sensed the decline of many of them.

He was not without opposition. While it was difficult for those who were envious of his success in winning the Revolution to find an issue, the ever insidious political issues were trumped up.

They even said he did not want to be king because he had no offspring to succeed him.

That may have been his thoughts, as it would have precipitated the young nation into a bad situation on his death.

It has been said by historians that nature left him childless so that his country could call him father. That appellation grows with the ages.

He would not even take the office of president until a constitution in accord with his business and military experience was adopted.

It was a long seven years after the treaty of peace was signed before the convention, of which WASHINGTON was chairman, agreed upon a constitution that met with his accord.

His unanimous election as our first president followed in 1789, and for a second term without opposition four years later.

He then retired, setting the two-term precedent which was inviolate for 144 years, and now has been made a part of the constitution by amendment.

Favored by wealth and otherwise, Washington never lost the common touch. The only adverse criticism to him was engendered through a misunderstanding of his far-seeing technique, or jealousy of petty politicians.

When he had completed his second term he retired to the Mount Vernon estate which had been in the family for many years. There he died a couple of years later at the age of 67.

In its growth to the greatest nation on earth, the country which Washington founded has not always shown due respect to his memory.

There were many years in the last century when his tomb at Mount Vernon was neglected. It even grew up to weeds.

And it was Michigan that came to the rescue. We reminded the rest of the nation of its lack of respect.

Mount Vernon has been a national shrine through the ages, and the neglect of the tomb made such an impression on a party of Michigan club women that they returned home and raised the funds for its restoration.

Thanks to the women of our state, rules and regulations have been made so this neglect never will occur again.

Of course most of the things that perpetuate Washington's memory, including that magnificent shaft and countless other features, are located in the city named in his honor, our nation's capital.

They should give pause for reflection for those we've sent there to look after our interests.

Self Reform in Labor

The retirement of WILLIAM E. MALONEY as president of the Operating Engineers Union may permit AFL President MEANY to direct a cleanup without ousting the union from the federation.

The McClellan Committee after hearing testimony of goon squad control, disappearance of millions in union funds and high living of officials at the expense of the rank and file, branded this union "a national disgrace." Its business agent, JOSEPH S. (JOEY) FAY was sent to jail away back in 1948 for extortion.

A vigorous reform campaign is under way within the AFL-CIO. At its Executive Council meeting at Miami Beach it was decided to give all affiliates until April 15 to comply with the federation's Ethical Practices Code and also to investigate further two affiliates now under charges.

Corruption cannot be fought with half hearted measures. Because of the findings of the McClellan Committee organized labor, in self interest should give every support to President Meany's honorable course.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

He Knew Adversity Too!

David Lawrence Observes:

Current Probes Top McCarthy's

WASHINGTON — They seem to be intent here on making a martyr out of the late Senator McCarthy.

For never in the heyday of his anti-Communist crusade through Congressional Committee procedures did he indulge in the amount of hearsay stuff, innuendo and "guilt by association" which has characterized the hearings currently being held by the Congressional subcommittee now investigating the affairs of the Federal Communications Commission.

LAWRENCE

Someone writes a letter to someone else saying it might be a good idea to contact a Senator or a presidential assistant or the office staff of the vice president to get some influence brought to bear on the subject of the grant of a TV license.

Someone else says he hears through a friend that another friend heard that maybe some relative of the President by marriage may have been importuned to help to exert influence. Promptly the headlines are filled with the innuendoes, and the public is led to believe there is "guilt by association."

Few on the so-called "liberal" side — not even the various civil liberties organizations which are zealous defenders of individual rights when persons are seemingly accused unjustly of association with Communist "fronts" — are clamoring for a fair and orderly way of conducting the Congressional hearing in question.

It's just too bad that the persons involved in the TV-license controversy were not accused of some sort of Communist connection. They would have had lots of defenders. The speechmaking would have been loud and long on the subject of the violation of personal liberties and the bill of rights.

To take refuge in an aphorism of the days of the McCarthy controversy, it isn't the "objective" of the House Committee's curent investigation which is to be criticized but only the "methods" used.

Certainly every corrupt influence should be exposed. Certainly this is the job of a Congressional committee in the public interest. Certainly the members of the Federal Communications Commission should not be subjected to pressure by anyone — either inside or outside of Congress. But there is a right way and a wrong way to expose the improprieties whereby such pressure is exerted.

The right way, when stumbling on a name mentioned in a letter or in an executive session hearing, is to get hold of the person involved and get his side so it can be simultaneously presented to the public for what it's worth. Instead, there has been a lapse of several days between the time of the disclosure of some alleged connection or improper pressure and the establishment of the exact facts.

The "leaking" to the press of staff memoranda prepared for a Congressional committee has become a favorite device by which innocent persons are crucified.

If officials are to be held up to the public as charged with some wrongdoing, they should have an opportunity to confront those who make the charges and even to cross-examine them through counsel. This is supposed to have been the net result of the debate which arose in connection with the hearings conducted by the late Senator from Wisconsin.

But somehow, although there has been on the part of the general public an acceptance of the wisdom of such reforms, there is little sign that Congress itself has paid much attention to them.

Every wrong allegedly committed in the McCarthy hearings has been committed over again in recent hearings, but with even less basis for the charges than in the controversy over Communist activities and associations.

To allow names to be bandied about in the press, as has been done now, without any more basis than has been uncovered thus far, is to put innocent persons unjustly on the defensive in the court of public opinion.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Farmer Defends Practice of Feeding Milk to Pigs

An Illinois farmer teaches me a Little Lesson in Economy which I hope I'll never forget:

DR. BRADY

"WHEN YOU made that crack about the meager knowledge of the farmer who feeds skim milk to the pigs, you slipped," he writes.

"What you didn't know is that he does this in full realization of the part it plays in the ration he is taught by the Farm Bureau. His own wide reading tells him what's best and most economical for the production of bacon, the price of which you and millions of other consumers growl about, as too high.

"Bacon is too high priced most of the time. But if you as consumer and the farmer as producer could cooperate, bacon would not be too high-priced and you both would be satisfied.

"We began to pay for a farm by raising forty hogs a year. Prices kept dropping until finally it took 500 hogs a year to pay for the overhead, and we could no longer afford the pleasure of their company. Little was left after freight charges to packing houses.

PACKERS REAPED PROFIT

"The packing plants put some of the porkers into fertilizer and the rest into cold storage—and finally made you and millions of other consumers pay through the nose for them.

"I am astonished that your knowledge of modern farming is so meager. Meager—That's a good word. (Signed) ——————"

First, I thank you, sir, for your mild and most effective reproach. I apologize to you and millions of other farmers for my meager knowledge. Incidentally, yours is the only protest I have received from a farmer or any other reader—this may be because farmers do not read my column or because editors carefully delete my comments on skim milk.

If the Farm Bureau advises the farmer to feed skim milk to the pigs, I made more than a slip—a real boo-boo.

While I may never again question the wisdom of feeding skim milk to the pigs, I must repeat, for the benefit of millions—oh, well hundreds—of readers that skim milk is fine food for any one who likes it.

It given half the calories of whole milk, about the same amount of thiamin (B-1) and riboflavin (B-2) as whole milk, but little or no vitamin A or vitamin D, which are both supplied by whole milk.

As a source of calcium skim milk is a fine supplement to the ordinary diet of most Americans—which is deficient in calcium.

The Man About Town

Oldest in County

Only Washington Club to Carry on for Such a Time

Hatchet: What too many remember its burial place.

The Holly Washington Club,

this being its sixty-fifth annual banquet. Organized in 1893 by the efforts of the late

R. K. Divine,

it has since carried on. His great-granddaughter,

Mrs. Irvin L. Burgess

now is its secretary. The account of that first meeting on Feb. 22, 1893, was the first article I ever wrote for a newspaper.

Since the sport of skiing has taken the Pontiac area by storm, still further encouragement may be given our fair sex by a repetition of the words of international authority on glamour in the snow. He calls it

Frank Picard,

"Husband Bait,"

and asserts that a gal looks sexier in ski togs than in a bathing suit, as man wants and that feminine ski attire does that in a convincing manner.

A reporter walked into the office of yesterday and found himself staring down the barrel of a large machine gun set up on the floor. Asked what it was for, the sheriff replied,

"Civil Defense,

we use it on callers who aren't civil." Actually the old gun dates back to World War I and will be used at displays around the county.

Voice of the People

'Not All White Collar People Are Indifferent to Jobless'

I realize many wait to cash in on unfortunate people who have lost their jobs, but at the same time, please don't put all employed white collar men in the same group.

My husband has a good job and makes a good wage. We also have a good many debts. We have three children to support, and this winter there has been much sickness which means doctor bills.

There's nothing in our home that's very grand or very new. I'm not being funny when I say our electric range is older than I am. We aren't complaining but we aren't gloating either.

We're capable of feeling heartache when people lose their jobs or possessions which they've worked long and hard to get. We are just as worried as anyone else. Don't put us in a cage to point at and say, "These are the employed, without feelings, without hearts."

Also Worried

'God Performs Miracles Today'

Many believe God doesn't perform miracles in this age. Those people should go to California to a little town of Capistrano where, on March 19 at a little church mission, the swallows fly in at almost the same hour they did the year before. It you can't make it in 1958, go there on the same day in 1959, and they'll be back.

Some may pass this off as instinct of the swallows. It's very strange indeed that these are the only swallows in the world that have these peculiar instincts.

The only answer is that God directs their minds as He directed man's mind when he was directed to write the Bible. God directs man's mind as he does the swallows. Man is just another of God's creations.

'Bugs' Baer Says:

Fellow with too much agenda on his file-index figured the government owed nobody during Jackson's administration. Like the man said about ox-tail soup it's going a long way back for something good to eat.

If they gave Jackson as many dinners then as now it could be the reason.

But the real reason is nobody trusted us.

The more moola you owe the more people are praying for you. We started right in when George Washington fought the Revolution on votes of confidence and pre-fabricated snowballs.

That one clipped George The Third for $100,000,000 and he failed to get the referee's nod.

Since then our wars have tapped the till. When you're in hock to your ears you can't get even by standing on your head.

We owed around $83,000,000 during Jefferson's administration. That included the groceries in the wire basket and the baby too.

We don't know how Jackson got even. We'd like another look at the house dice.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Girl's Moral Decision Wins Boy

Read Nora's case today. Use it to reassure yourself when under similar emotional pressure. For true happiness demands that you use your head to rule your heart. Infatuation is selfish and demanding, but true love is unselfish. So employ this distinction to guide you through every case of romantic intoxication.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-335: Nora N., aged 17, is the attractive coed mentioned yesterday whose steady boy friend was trying to coerce her into illicit sexual relations.

"Oh, Dr. Crane," she wept, "I know you are right when you say I should not submit to my boy friends' unfair demands.

"But it will nearly kill me to give him up. And what will the rest of our crowd think when he starts dating somebody else?"

DR. CRANE

Well, I let her cry for a few minutes. Then I asked her if she had ever been fond of any boy in grade school.

She said she had felt madly infatuated with a classmate when she was in the eighth grade.

"Is he the same one who has been dating you in high school?" I asked.

"Oh, no," she answered. "He moved away and I have never seen him since we graduated from grade school."

"Do you still love him madly?" I continued.

"Certainly not," she replied. "I never think of him."

Then I explained that if she had been so infatuated four years earlier but now could dismiss the romance as a childish episode, she could realize that in another year she might not even feel romantic about her present high-pressure sweetheart.

"So wouldn't it be stupid to jeopardize your future, plus the happiness of your devoted parents, and even that of the baby you might be forced to bear out of wedlock, just to buy 25 dates with this popular leader of your senior class?"

Nora nodded assent, though somewhat sadly.

"Esau sold out because of his momentary hunger for lentils," I went on. "And his children thus lost the preferred position among the Hebrews for that very reason. So look ahead and be fair to your future unborn babies, as well as to your beloved parents."

BE BRAVE

Bravery demands that we do the right thing even though we are trembling with fear or sadness.

Cowards are neither courageous nor moral, for they surrender to mob psychology or their immediate appetites.

Nora had come from a good church home. She knew what was right, even though I had to chart it in mathematical terms.

"You must make your own moral decision," I added. "Nobody else can do that for you. Oh, we advisors may help clarify the issues, but only you yourself can decide what to do."

"Dr. Crane, I have decided," she said, as she drew a deep breath.

Later she told her demanding lover that they would have to break up, for she couldn't continue dating him under his terms.

He stormed and argued and even taunted her with being a fibber for ever having said she loved him.

"For if you really loved me, you'd prove it," he railed.

But Nora shook her head, although there were tears in her eyes.

For a few days she felt desolate. Then one of the other boys in her class invited her to go on a class picnic.

And after a month she was back in circulation again, for she was a very charming personality and many of the other boys had wanted to ask her for a date but had refrained since she had been going steady.

Six weeks later her ex-boy friend sheepishly asked to drive her home from school. He apologized and admitted that she had been right. He said he admired her more than ever before.

She accepted a few dates with him thereafter but remained a free lance the rest of the year, dating various boys.

3-Sign Limit Set for State Roads

Gas, Food and Lodging to Be Indicated on New Superhighways

LANSING (AP)—Gas . . . food . . . lodging.

From 7 by 4 foot signs, those three words will confront motorists speeding along Michigan's growing network of four-lane, limited-access highways.

Installed 3,000 feet from outlets, they will inform the driver that a service station is located within a mile of the off-ramp and food and lodging are available less than three miles away.

The system will be in operation by the start of the summer tourist season, the State Highway Department said today. Department employes currently are surveying expressway areas to determine what facilities are available.

As a further help to motorists, Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie is urging local Chambers of Commerce or similar groups to erect signs at the foot of the exit ramps listing services available within easy driving distance of the expressway.

"The Highway Department cannot authorize erection of commercial signs on our expressways or on the state right-of-way, which averages 300 feet in width," Mackie said.

"The ultimate responsibility for the effectiveness of this system rests not with the department, but with local trade associations and tourist groups."

Hires Small Girls to Save Space in Welfare Office

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)— This may be the age of space, but there's not enough of it to suit Imperial County Welfare Director E. P. Boyden.

He says his office is so cramped he started hiring small girls to conserve room.

"Just as I thought I was beginning to save some," he said in a letter to the county administrator, "one of my clerks became pregnant and took up all the space I had saved.

"It is so crowded . . . we can't change our minds without stepping outside . . . We can't be on the level because all we've got left is vertical . . . We have to add figures UP, use short words and be narrow minded. We can raise our eyes but we can't shake our heads without bumping. We can have deep thoughts but we can't take a broad view. . .

"Please find us some more space. . . I don't even have room enough to ask for a big favor. That is why this is a small one."

The note was read yesterday to the county supervisors, who said they'd see if they could give an inch to a man in a pinch.

Characterization Artist Thurston Hall Dead

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Actor Thurston Hall, noted for his suave characterizations of bankers, tycoons and politicians, is dead at 75.

The actor was found slumped in a chair at his home yesterday, apparently the victim of a heart attack.

He appeared in many motion pictures from 1915 until the present and portrayed Cosmo Topper's boss in the "Topper" television series.

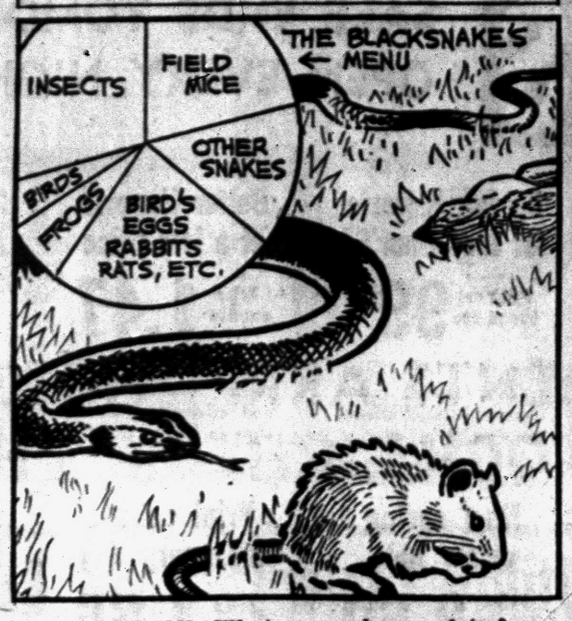
Junior Editors Quiz on SNAKES



QUESTION: What are snakes good for?

ANSWER: Actually, snakes are the most useful to man of all the reptiles, because they consume great quantities of insects, rats and mice, which creatures destroy the crops grown on our farms. Of course, the poisonous snakes are very dangerous, you might even die if bitten by a copperhead or rattlesnake. Because of this, many people kill all snakes on sight. This is something like condemning all people because some are criminals. The food of the blacksnake, shown above, should prove how useful such a harmless snake can be. Other valuable serpents are the milk snake, often found around farms looking for rats and mice (it does NOT drink milk), the bull snake, king snake and many others. Even the deadly rattlesnake consumes many small animals harmful to man.

Because most snakes are useful, however, does not mean that you should rush out and make friends with them. There are many poisonous snakes in this country and some of the deadly ones resemble some of the harmless ones very closely. The only safe rule is to give all snakes a wide berth, unless you are an expert.

FOR YOU TO DO: Find a book in your public library which will enable you to make a list of the snakes in your locality. Study about them and what to do if a person is bitten. And always remember, unless you really know them, keep away from snakes!

Hero's Medal Awarded Fired Soviet Admiral

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet press today announced the belated award of Hero of the Soviet Union with the Order of Lenin and Gold Star to Adm. F. S. Oktyabrsky for his personal courage in leading the Soviet naval units against German forces in World War II.

He was one of the main organizers of the Russians' Black Sea defenses at Sevastapol in 1942

In 1952 he reportedly was dismissed because of failures in the Soviet battleship construction program.

AT DAYTONA BEACH—NASCAR* made 176 brake-torturing stops in a row—at 60 mph—never gave the Buick CENTURY's air-cooled aluminum brakes a chance to cool off. Yet these aluminum brakes never smoked, faded, grabbed or pulled.

AT LOS ANGELES—SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED Magazine made stop after stop—at 60 mph—but they couldn't burn up these aluminum brakes—couldn't make them quit braking!

Aluminum puts new safety in Buick brakes

That's why Buick brakes proved "100% better than industry standard"

In both of these grueling, grinding tests of American cars, no other car's brakes even came close to Buick's air-cooled aluminum brakes.

The secret? Aluminum gets rid of braking heat fast—prevents heat build-up which causes ordinary brakes to lose gripping power in hard use!

Buick is the only car with aluminum front brake drums—standard on CENTURY, SUPER, ROADMASTER 75 and LIMITED Series, optional at extra cost on SPECIAL Series.

You'd better try these award-winning, safer-stopping aluminum brakes—at your Buick dealer's today!

Pontiac Central High School cafeteria was the setting Thursday evening for 20th anniversary celebration of Janice Antona's Citizenship Class. Mrs. W. M. McGuire (right) pins a corsage on Mrs. Theodora Gianopoulos as Peter Tysick and Mrs. Stella Bank look on.

'U.S. Must Spend $30 Billion,' Cohen Tells Social Workers

Discussing current controversial issues of health, education and welfare, Wilbur J. Cohen, professor of public welfare administration in the University of Michigan School of Social Work, said this country must spend 30 billion more if it is to meet the needs of the people.

"America," he told members of the Oakland County Branch of the National Association of Social Workers gathering Thursday at Elks Temple, must be prepared to meet problems arising from the ever increasing population and the fact that families are moving from the south to the north and from east to west.

Health needs are rising rapidly, he pointed out, and cost of living and medical expenses are on a sharp increase.

POINTS UP ISSUES

Controversial issue regarding social work policies were pointed out when Prof. Cohen said President Eisenhower recommended federal grants for education be eliminated, along with the elimination of a four-million-dollar grant for juvenile delinquency, another two-million for training social workers in public welfare, and a two-million-dollar grant toward research for independent children.

"We must," he declared, "adopt an affirmitive program of social action, as we can not assume these moneys will come from voluntary contributions."

The economic problem of the aged is increasing, and by 1975, Prof. Cohen said, there probably will be about 22 million people over 65. Hospital costs for aged are two to three times greater than for those under 65.

To help offset this Prof. Cohen earlier had recommended an immediate increase of 10 per cent in Old Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance benefits.

This, he points out, will not meet continuing price inflation and the lack of opportunity for senior citizens to obtain gainful employment.

WOULD INCREASE BENEFITS

He now proposes in addition to the 10 per cent, an increase of income of the aged from all sources, 25 per cent by 1960 and 50 per cent by 1965, over the present income. This he explains will result in increased retirement benefits and income from savings.

He further stated that the principle of insurance and hospitalization should be used in the problem of the aged, where the burden will then be taken off relatives. Last year $165 million was paid out for the aged, and Prof. Cohen estimates that such payments will reach $500 million by 1960, with $275 million going for doctor and hospital bills.

He said the hospitalization insurance proposal for the aged has been well accepted by the American people.

Pontiac Press Photo

Wilbur J. Cohen (right) professor of public welfare administration at University of Michigan, was photographed with Mrs. Dolly W. Brenner, director of case work of The Family Service of Oakland County and Robert Langer, assistant director of the Pontiac Area United Fund, Thursday at the meeting of Oakland County Chapter of National Association of Social Workers.

Wisner PTA Hears Talks

"Putting Purpose in PTA" was discussed by Mrs. LeRoy Koch and A. A. Carter Thursday afternoon at Wisner School PTA meeting.

It was pointed out at the Founders Day gathering that in 1921 Wisner was the first Pontiac school to become a member of the state PTA organization. Previously the group had been known as Mother and Teacher Club.

YMCA Class Begins

Arrangements have been completed for speechcraft class to be presented Tuesday evenings in the YMCA at 7 p.m., from March 4 to April 8. Charles Dugas or Don Rath may be contacted for further information.

Mark Anniversary of Citizens League

Thursday evening marked the 20th anniversary celebration of Janice Antona's New Citizens League. Some 300 guests gathered at Pontiac Central High School's cafeteria for the dinner.

The Rev. William H. Marbach opened the program. Mrs. Joseph Bennett accompanied the group in singing the National Anthem, which Mrs. T. E. Wiersema led.

STUDENTS PERFORM

Jose Vega gave the poem to the flag. Pontiac Central High School's clarinet quartet, including Joan Dembinski, Ann Barnett, Georgiana Kieffer and Margaret Begovich, performed "Quartette No. 2" by Endiesen.

Also performing was a male quartet from Pontiac Central High School, consisting of Sam Hartmann, Donald Mann, Tom O'Brien and Robert Everett.

Participating in the program were Jose Martinez, Josephine Poulard, Giovanni Morrone, Beja Hoogenstryd, Takako Reich, Bernice Lattimer, Louis Leiveretos, Margaret Southard, Tatiana Likoff, Ilse Hrushka, Ann Nesbitt, Inga Gutkewitsch, Paz Vega, Leman Kiyak, George Kuzniarski, Misa Johnson and Wasily Skriabin.

Also taking part were Flora Grimaldi, Arrigo Neri, Alice Hadden and Mrs. William McGuire.

TALK BY DONDERO

Former congressman, George A. Dondero, spoke. He compared Lincoln and Washington as fathers of our country and as preservers of our nation.

The great forces that molded the lines of these men, said Dondero, were the influences of their mothers, the impact of their religion and the lasting effects of the lives of those great persons in history with whom they were associated.

The program was concluded with a social hour under the chairmanship of Mrs. Herbert Langton.

Addresses PTA

Probate Judge Arthur Moore spoke for the Thursday evening meeting of Crofoot School PTA. Judge Moore urged parents' support of youth activities as a preventive measure against juvenile delinquency.

DOLORES COOK

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cook of North Perry street announce the engagement of their daughter, Dolores, to Gary C. Wyllie, son of Mr. and Mrs. James B. Wyllie of Lowel street. The prospective bridegroom attends General Motors Institute of Technology. An Aug. 16 wedding is being planned.

Find New Uses for Hair Dryer

AUSTIN, Tex. (INS)—Coeds' hair has been getting shorter of recent years, but the uses for the old-fashioned hair dryer are getting longer.

Girls attending the University of Texas at Austin are putting the inexpensive dryer to ingenious uses since the long drought was broken by king-size rains.

Most common use is for fast drying of sheer stockings—especially if the budget pinched gal has only one pair. The dryer also solves the problem of drippy raincoats and wet umbrellas that seem to clutter a dormitory room.

There is no end of other uses—it just depends on the ingenuity of the woman around the house.

Wife Deserves Nice Wardrobe

A wardrobe for a housewife will differ necessarily from that of a career girl. But that doesn't mean that a housewife should resign herself to tacky odds and ends of clothing.

Her wardrobe may have to be small but it should be spruce and adapted to her way of life.

Founder's Day Play Presented at Wever School

Mrs. Irwin Mills directed a presentation at Wever School PTA Founders Day meeting Thursday.

Participating in the "PTA Birthday" were Cathy Hagan, Jean Dodd, Patricia Brown, Delores Whitehead, Andrea Golob, Joe Stragea, Gary Noel and Carolyn Gidcumb.

Wever Glee Club directed by Mrs. Melvin Boersma performed as did the Lincoln Junior High Ninth Grade Chorus under the direction of Jerry Smith.

ELIZABETH MARKHAM

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Markham of Wallaceburg, Ont., announce the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Joan Markham of East Brooklyn avenue, to George William Tiedeman of West Huron street. The prospective bridegroom is the son of the George Tiedemans of Clare. A May 31 wedding is being planned.

News From Bloomfield Hills

Children's Play Will Open Feb. 28

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—After many weeks of rehearsing, the Children's Theater Group of the Junior League of Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills will give its first performance Feb. 28 at Whittier School in Pontiac.

The following day the cast will be seen in "Box of Smiles" at three paid performances at Cranbrook Institute of Science. Three more paid performances will be presented March 8 in the same auditorium.

These paid performances defray expenses of the many others at Oakland County schools and children's hospitals where no charge is made.

Mrs. Garvin Bawden Jr. is chairman of this part of the league's activities, besides being a member of the cast, and Mrs. Wendell S. Clough doubles her activities by directing the children's play and also being a member of the cast.

Others are Mrs. Nelson B. Noland, who has taken part in nearly all of the 11 annual performances; Mrs. Franklin Butler, Mrs. Everell E. Fisher, Mrs. Francis T. Loud and Mrs. Robert Scripps.

Trouping will continue well into March, and the diligent workers will be entertained at a cast party in that month.

CARD LUNCHEON

Next Thursday, the home of Mrs. Earl Thompson on Dunston road will be the setting for a dessert bridge and canasta luncheon given by and for junior members of the Village Woman's Club.

Mrs. Charles D. Gilbert is chairman of the affair. Her assistants are Mrs. H. N. Wieting III, Mrs. Herbert Graebner, Mrs. William H. Pierce, Mrs. Vincent Secontine, Mrs. H. L. Winston Jr., Mrs. James Holmes, Mrs. R. G. Campbell and Mrs. James Nordlie.

Phoebe Otter of "Apple Tower" is spending 10 days at the Savoy Plaza in New York.

PLANS LUNCHEON

Mrs. S. Truman Hart has invited a group of friends for luncheon next Wednesday in her home on Guildford road.

Her guests will include Mrs. Dean Draper, Mrs. Jeanne Bice, Mrs. John R. MacManus, Mrs. Ray Cragin, Mrs. N. E. Brown Jr., Mrs. Douglas L. Jocelyn, Mrs. Harry N. Dumville, Mrs. Carl Theobald, Mrs. Carleton A. Smith, Mrs. Warren Oakley, Mrs. Charles DeVleig and Mrs. Charles Bay.

Dr. and Mrs. Howard B. Barker entertained a group of friends at dinner Sunday in their home on Martell drive.

Republican Club to Hear Speaker

Donald E. Barber will address members of the Republican Women's Club of Waterford Township Monday at 1 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Charles Campbell on South Shore drive.

Mr. Barber has just returned from the Young Republican Leadership Training School in Washington, D. C. Program chairman is Mrs. William B. Hartman.

MRS. EDWARD SHARROW

Mr. and Mrs. Harold B. Mills of Going street announce the Feb. 14 wedding of their daughter, Pfc. Judith Mills, to S. Sgt. Edward Sharrow. The couple is stationed in El Toro, Calif.

Program Includes Talk, Stories, Songs

Garden Club Holds 24th Birthday Tea

A discussion and exhibit of the Talisman rose, official flower of the Better Home and Garden Club, was given by Mrs. Clara Bolton when members of the group met Thursday at Adah Shelly Library for their 24th birthday tea.

A guest of the day, Mrs. Robert Bogg of the Pontiac Story Tellers' League, also participated in the program. She told the three stories, "Life's Garden," "God's Trees" and "The Spring by the Side of the Road."

Three solos, "Do You Know My Garden," "I Heard a Forest Praying" and "Ne'er Shade So Dear," were sung by Mrs. Rebecca Gould.

The Better Home and Garden Club participates in civic activities by planting such trees as the maple, elm and evergreens as well as rose bushes throughout the city. Plantings have been made at the YWCA, YMCA, Pontiac Boys Club, the Wisner Home, and the Woodward Avenue island near St. Joseph Hospital.

The club also annually sends a teacher to the Higgins Lake Conservation School, makes donations to special funds, and assists with State Federation projects.

Chairman of the day was Mrs. J. L. Slaybaugh, assisted by Mrs. Walter Seaks, Mrs. John Lyons, Mrs. Howard Luther, Mrs. Joseph Phillips and Mrs. George Alexander. All are past presidents of the group.

Few Would Like Career in Law Enforcement

Teens Respect Police but Don't Envy Them

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of
Gilbert Youth Research Co.

The nation's teenagers have great respect for the cop on the beat, but few want to follow in his footsteps.

In our latest nationwide survey, 92 per cent of those queried said they respect the policeman on their block; 84 per cent think policemen are honest, and 75 per cent believe they are fair.

Yet, only 7 per cent said they would like to become a policeman or policewoman. On all questions, the results were about the same for boys and girls.

"The policeman represents the law of our government and country and he should be respected," said Carolyn Messina, 16, of Flushing, N. Y.

'TOO IMPRESSED'

Among the few who said they don't respect policemen came the comments:

"A policeman is too impressed by his own authority."—Douglas Merchant, 17, of Ilion, N. Y.

"I consider him an occupational hazard." — a 16-year-old Massachusetts boy who declined to give his occupation.

"They give me traffic tickets," was the reason a 17-year-old from Kansas City gave for not thinking policemen are fair. He obviously was speaking from experience.

A 16-year-old Iowa youth summed up the main reasons the teenagers overwhelmingly rejected police work as a career when he said:

"Police are underpaid, have bad hours and the job is dangerous."

A 17-year-old Kansas City lad who wants to be a policeman, had an entirely different view. "It's a soft job that pays off and is easy going," he said.

However, 79 per cent of the teens agreed that most policemen in the country are underpaid.

Our survey also explored other feelings the young people had about policemen, with some enlightening results. For example, 83 per cent of them felt that policemen are interested in teenagers.

"I think policemen give special attention and interest toward trying to help teenagers do the right thing," said a 15-year-old New York City girl.

"He is always courteous and careful. Also he is quite patient," said Louise Sherman, 15, of the policeman on her block in Yonkers, N. Y.

Asked if they thought police sometimes use brutal methods, only 19 per cent of the teenagers answered yes. In fact, 39 per cent said they thought police generally were too soft.

NEVER PROVED

"It has never been proved that police use brutal methods," said a 16-year-old Denver girl.

Gloria Schate, 17, of Forrest Hills, N. Y., said: "I don't think many things are handled correctly, but not brutality."

Dear Abby....

Those 3 Sweet Words Are All That's Needed

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: A while back you told a girl to forget the guy in the service because he didn't write to her. I've been stationed overseas in war and peacetime and many times I'd start writing a letter to the folks back home (or my girl) and I wouldn't be able to finish it.

I just couldn't think of anything to say. Don't take my word for it, Abby. Ask the mothers, wives and sweethearts who read your column.

I'm sure they'd tell you by the thousands that they didn't get mail from men in service, only because the men had nothing to say and not because they didn't care about them.

EX-GI

DEAR EX: And for every serviceman who didn't finish a letter there was a mother or a wife or a sweetheart who lived for the mailman's footsteps.

They'd have been thrilled to see a postcard with three little words (I love you) every few days. Does that take so much time and effort? Sorry, Bud—I do not buy your sad story.

DEAR ABBY: I am an average-looking 19-year-old boy who can't say "no" to his family. Whenever a big affair comes up (holiday dances especially) my aunts and my mother get together and decide which one of my cousins I should take.

I have three fat cousins who never get to go any place unless I take them. I have tried to get some of my friends to take them out but they won't even do it as a favor to me so you can imagine what these girls look like. Do you think it is fair to me?

BURTON

DEAR BURTON: This is definitely unfair to you. Assert yourself right now and ask your mother to please excuse you from these "duty dates" in the future.

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 17 who just had a baby six weeks ago. My problem is that my mother is 33 years old and is very mad at me for calling her "Grandma" in public. She is my real mother and she is a grandmother whether she likes it or not.

She is married to a fellow who is 29 (not my father) and she doesn't want anyone to know how old she is. She says I should call her Rita and the baby (when he talks) can call her Rita, also. What do you think she should be called?

A PROUD NEW MOTHER

DEAR PROUD: Never mind what I THINK she should be called—just keep the peace and call her "Rita."

CONFIDENTIAL TO TUFFY: You're right . . . there IS safety in numbers. But don't overdo it. You might get your numbers mixed.

If you have a problem, write to Abigail Van Buren in care of The Pontiac Press. She will be glad to answer your letter. For a personal reply, please enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Why Men Leave Home

Other Woman Seldom Real Culprit

(This is the fifth of six articles telling through case histories why thousands of American men each year leave their wives and children to seek new lives under new identities. The articles are based on the files of the Tracers Company of America. Only the names have been changed.)

By JOSEPH R. MARSHALL
INS Staff Writer

Many an American woman like Alice H. has given a clue to the real reason why her husband left home by insisting to friends and relatives, "It was that other woman."

According to the experts it almost never is.

And by insisting it must have been another woman, the deserted wife shows her failure to understand what makes her husband tick.

That failure, rather than the other woman, usually is what makes him flee.

Alice H. said there was only one reason why her husband William had deserted her 19 years after their marriage and a year after both children had established independent lives.

"That woman at his plant," was the way she put it.

She explained to Tracers Company of America, the agency she hired to find him, "Otherwise it doesn't make any sense. He never went out much except with people at the plant or when he was traveling.

SILLY LABORATORY

"At home he spent most of his time down in the cellar at his silly laboratory. He was always working at some crazy invention.

"And that woman at his plant, she was a mathematician, and they have been working together on some kind of computer or something.

"He had all kinds of crazy ideas for things, but they were never practical. You know he was an engineer, and worked his way up to be engineering chief of production, but I guess his heart was never in it.

"We used to argue about it because he kept talking about getting some job in a laboratory where he could fiddle with things he liked, inventions. But those laboratories don't pay enough to live on.

"He agreed with me. He never would have left if it hadn't been for that women talking him into it. He went out for a walk 16 months ago, and I haven't seen him since."

Alice appeared 10 years younger than her 41. On the surface, it was hard to see why any man would leave her.

But William felt he had his reasons. Like many other American men, he had developed new interests and associations far beyond those of his wife.

He had other frustrations typical of men moving into their 40s. He was not doing the work he wanted, and he was tired of "keeping up with the Joneses."

And, he had a wife who didn't understand what made her husband tick.

In talks with an agent of the Tracers Company she revealed her husband's parents had lived in Toronto, Canada. When he was a young man the family moved to Boston.

The name of the "other woman" was Ann M—, and she had quit her statistician's job the week before William disappeared.

An operative checked engineering societies and found William's only address was his old one. Boston proved unrewarding. The search moved to Toronto.

ONE LUCKY BREAK

There the operative had one lucky break and a series of unlucky ones. The lucky break was a report from the local engineering society that it had registered a new member, William H., who had worked at a local firm for five months on a routine design task, and then quit.

The operative went to the apartment where William had told the engineering group he was living.

The building superintendent said no William H. had lived there. Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin Williamson, however, had moved out one week before. Williamson had an account at one of the larger banks, but by the time the agent got the changed address, listed at the bank, he had moved again.

The agent tried employment agencies for a statistician named Mrs. Hamlin Williamson or Ann M. He found the new address.

One week later, he posed as a directory reporter and questioned the owner-resident of the two-family house in a suburb.

The agent got the information he needed: Inventor, wife employed as statistician, born in Toronto, answered the description of William H.

When she heard the news, Alice H.'s lips trembled, but she kept control of herself. "It's that woman," she murmured. She determined to go and confront her husband. But when she got there, Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin Williamson had disappeared again.

CAN'T FORGIVE

Alice must have been deeply hurt. She paid her fee, and she talked for a few minutes with the agent who had handled her case.

"I can't forgive him," she said quietly. "And I want you to find him again, but this time all I expect is support. I can't forgive him, but I'm trying to understand, and that is pretty tough for a woman of my age.

"I guess he never had the things he wanted out of life, his inventing and that kind of thing. He never cared about making a lot of money, or living the way we did. In a way, I suppose it is all partially my fault, too."

Boy on Leave From State Hospital

2 Deputies Critically Shot, Hold Saginaw Youth, 15

SAGINAW (AP)—A 15-year-old boy on leave from a state hospital was held today after a gun battle left two deputy sheriffs critically wounded.

Police identified the boy as Gordon Goulding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Goulding of Saginaw. He was charged with assault with a deadly weapon.

The Goulding boy was captured at his home yesterday after 20 police officers and deputies had surrounded the house. Rush-hour traffic swirled through the area while shots were exchanged.

Deputies Martin May, 34, and James Kelly, 26, were wounded. May was hit in the head by a .22 caliber rifle slug. Kelly was shot in the chest. Both were in critical condition in St. Lukes Hospital.

The gunfire exchange followed the holdup of a neearby grocery store owned by Edward M. Perrot.

'COME AND GET ME'

Police said Mrs. Perrot told them a youth entered the store carrying a rifle.

She said the boy announced a stickup and she gave him the contents of a cash drawer. Police quoted the woman as saying the boy gave her his name and said, "Tell 'em to come and get me," as he left the store.

Mrs. Perrot sent police to the boy's home. Sgt. Henry Pawlik said the youth fired two shots at him from the doorway of his house. Pawlik said he radioed for help.

May and Kelly were among the reinforcements. They were shot before the boy tossed his gun outside into a snowbank and surrendered.

In addition to the police and deputies surrounding the Goulding home, others were used to keep rush hour traffic moving around the gun battle and to prevent passersby from getting into the line of fire.

Probate Judge Fred J. Borchard said he had committed the Goulding boy to the Traverse City State Hospital about five months ago. He said the boy was home on a convalescent leave from the hospital.

Police said the youth also faces an armed robbery charge.

Red Envoy Denies Nikita All-Powerful

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Herald Tribune today quoted Soviet Ambassador Mikhail A. Menshikov as saying that Soviet Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev must consult his colleagues and win their consent.

A Washington dispatch to the newspaper reported that the ambassador contended that Khrushchev's role is much misunderstood in this country and that the party boss, far from being an absolute power, is still one in a collective leadership.

The copyrighted dispatch was by Marguerite Higgins, who said the new ambassador yesterday became the first Russian representative in Washington to grant a press interview.

Miss Higgins reported "a remarkable free-wheeling question-and-answer session . . . conducted without interpreter or the customary official witness — another break in precedent."

May Ask Funds for Both Parties

Democratic Group Told of Plan to Urge Small Sums by Advertising

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee was told today of a plan to use several million dollars in public service advertising to promote small contributions to both political parties on a mass scale.

Democratic Chairman Paul M. Butler said the plan is being formulated by the American Heritage Foundation and Advertising Council, Inc., both of New York. He gave no details in remarks prepared for a meeting of the national committee.

Such a nonpartisan fund-raising plan was considered in 1956 but was put on ice when the Democratic and Republican party chairmen got in a hassle about it.

While Butler discussed the revived plan, Republican National Chairman Meade Alcorn said representatives of both major party headquarters met with officials of the sponsoring organizations in New York last Wednesday "to discuss the public service advertising campaign that will be undertaken this fall."

Robber Stores Victims in Vacant Animal Cages

CHICAGO (AP) — Martin Sweeney was like a caged lion for a time yesterday, and no wonder.

Sweeney, a veterinarian, and his assistant, Mrs. Emma Cody, 33, were locked in animal cages at Sweeney's pet hospital by a robber.

The gunman took $150. After the robber fled, Sweeney kicked his way out of his cage and freed Mrs. Cody.

HOSPITAL GIFT — Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Women's Guild gave $1,000 to pay for equipment that will make things easier for patients, visitors, doctors and administration. The guild bought two call boards with electric lights showing when staff doctors are present at the hospital and when they are out. One of the boards is next to the telephone switchboard. The other, above, is in the lobby. Next to it with the $1,000 check is Mrs. M. C. Worster, guild president, and Harry M. Whitlow, hospital director.

Southern Belle Wins

Bakes Best Cherry Pie

CHICAGO (AP) — A comely southern high school girl has been named the nation's best cherry pie maker, selected from an original field of nearly 200,000 contestants.

Judges in the 1958 National Cherry Pie Baking Contest yesterday awarded the title to Barbara Chisholm, 16-year-old junior at the S. R. Butler High School in Huntsville, Ala.

Barbara appeared astonished at the decision, crying out, "Oh, no!" Tears of joy filled her eyes as she said: "I thought my pie was good but not that good."

The hazel-eyed, chestnut-haired champion won a $500 college scholarship, an electric range, and an all-expense paid trip to New York and Washington.

Within hours, she was en route to the East where she was scheduled to appear on Dave Garroway's NBC television show.

Next week, she will present one of her two winning pies at the White House.

The contest was sponsored by the National Red Cherry Institute, a trade promotional organization, and drew 195,000 entrants from all states, Hawaii, Canada and Alaska.

Demanding Ouster of Selwyn Lloyd

LONDON (AP)—Pressure for the ouster of Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd was reported rising today following what the London Times called "one of his more inept performances" in the House of Commons.

Prime Minister Macmillan had to intervene in a House foreign affairs debate last night after the Laborite opposition attacked Lloyd bitterly for refusing to outline proposals the government has made to Britain's allies to pave the way for an East-West summit conference.

"Lloyd's future as foreign secretary is now in doubt," declared the Daily Mail, an all-out Conservative supporters. "His reputation has reached rock bottom."

The pro-Conservative Daily Express asserted Lloyd had further damaged his parliamentary reputation and declared many Conservatives "feel Macmillan cannot with the best will in the world keep him for long."

Great Smoky Park First

WASHINGTON — The country's most-visited national park during the first nine months of 1957 was Great Smoky Mountains in North Carolina and Tennessee, with 2,586,000 visitors counted, a gain of 92,000 over the like period of 1956. Yellowstone, the oldest and largest national park, had 1,570,000 visitors, a 10 per cent gain.

Fisherman Pulled Under by Giant Fish, Drowns

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 22-year-old fisherman who went to the aid of a woman who hooked a large fish, possibly a leopard shark, was pulled into San Francisco Bay and drowned yesterday.

Mrs. Dorether Antoine, 55, said Carl D. Sigler played out her line and was dragged into the bay from a pier.

Tax Timber on Maturity

ATLANTA—Thirteen states provide for deferred or nominal taxation of classified forest lands, combining this with a tax on the value of the timber cut or upon the timber's attaining maturity.

Laughter Means Anger, Psychiatrist Declares

Life of the Party Actually a Sick Person?

By JACK LEFLER

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Want to be the life of the party?

Dream of tossing off uproarious quips?

If you do, man, you're sick.

That diagnosis comes from a psychiatrist, Dr. Martin Grotjahn of the University of Southern California.

"A wit," says Dr. Grotjahn, "is an angry man in search of a victim. A witticism is his way of releasing repressed hostility. If he doesn't find a victim, he will probably suffer from a migraine headache attack."

German-born and educated Dr. Grotjahn has made a search of the cause and meaning of laughter and its relationship to the unconscious. He wrote a book about it entitled "Beyond Laughter."

"A witticism," he said yesterday in an interview, "starts with an aggressive tendency or intent —an insultlike, shocking thought. By clothing the insult with the veneer of laughter and the convention of a joke, the wit brings his bottled up hostilities to the surface in a manner acceptable to society.

"If the wit didn't have this outlet, a headache might occur. Thus, a thought murder (the witticism) a day keeps the doctor away."

Dr. Grotjahn has examined the gamut of comedians, amateur and professional. Some of his conclusions:

THE KIDDER — One who expresses his own conflict with authority, usually his parents; he imitates his father torturing his "kid."

THE CARICATURIST — He insults people, reduces them to the stroke of a brush or pen in a manner acceptable to society.

THE CLOWN — He represents the depreciated father figure; once big and powerful, the father is reduced to a ridiculous, impotent figure.

Do you blame a poor memory for forgetting jokes?

That isn't it at all, Dr. Grotjahn said. It's due to an unconscious desire to avoid the guilt of participating in an aggression.

"Laughter, as it provides a permissible release of unconscious aggressions, is one of the best safeguards of mental health," he said.

"In fact," he added, "the entertainer is a friend of psychiatry even though he is sick and doesn't know it."

U.S., Soviet Exchange of Student to Start

NEW YORK (AP) — The first reciprocal exchange of students between the United States and the Soviet Union takes place this summer.

Dr. John A. Wallace, board chairman of the Council on Student Travel, said an agreement was signed with the Soviet Youth Committee, a central U.S.S.R. organization.

Forty American students to the U.S.S.R. and 20 Soviet students will come to America for five to six weeks.

When a man boasts that he runs things in his home, he probably means things like the vacuum cleaner, lawn mower and errands . . . Marriage is a slow process by which a husband learns what sort of a guy his wife would have preferred. — Earl Wilson.

Retired Dean of Atlanta Cathedral Says:

When Aged People Meet Their Obligations to Youth They Really Never Grow 'Old'--Even to Youngsters

By THE VERY REV. RAIMUNDO DE OVIES

Third in Series

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Eleven years ago I retired, voluntarily, as dean of the Cathedral of St. Philip in Atlanta, Ga. I was in good health, acceptable to my parish, and loving my work most heartily.

However, the work had grown too much for a man of 70.

I had published three successful books and had done a column daily on the editorial page of the Atlanta Journal for a number of years and a few magazine articles. My association with the Atlanta Journal was terminated shortly after my retirement.

What to do now? Literary work? That was not enough after a very active career in the church.

I concentrated on what had been a hobby, that of assisting in sociological projects. This assuaged a restless energy for a while; but it was sporadic, without official relationship with any of the organizations involved; so I undertook a column on the editorial page of the Metropolitan Herald of Atlanta, a weekly. This paper has been publishing my series "Dear Drunks" and will put it into book form when competed.

I was still restless, wanting a closer relationship with people, personally, to which I had been accustomed for 50 years; my particular, and best-loved, labors being in the field of pastoral counseling. I had always had a tremendous interest in people, but as individuals. To this I owe my being named the first member of the staff of the Georgian Clinic, for alcoholics, set up by the State of Georgia, which had acquired the beautiful 41-acre Candler estate and the huge mansion on the property.

Jan. 8, 1957, was my 80th birthday, and while counseling with the last of a group of alcoholics, I suffered a coronary occlusion and was rushed to a hospital where I remained only two weeks and returned to work. The most annoying aspect of this recovery is that other members of the staff now constantly caution me to "take it easy," as though I were an old man!

I do not feel old, at any time. "Experienced" would be the more accurate word; because one must live to learn; or to be able to modify one's "beliefs" appropriately to new evidence and knowledge. If we aged folk cannot do so, it is not surprising when youth takes over in our stead.

Besides, accurate knowledge and skills are always at a premium whatever our age. It is my conviction that "age" has no other legitimate authority than knowledge, ability and good judgment and that age in itself is not worthy of veneration. It should, however, have filial devotion.

The aged owe something to youth, also: selfless interest, sharing wisdom, faith in them, encouragement, ambition for them, absence of any feeling of competition but rather the spirit of cooperation.

When the aged meet their obligations to youth they never grow "old," even to young people. They remain "young," since "old" is a comparative term, after all.

In my own case, the greatest compensation for and comfort about growing old is being made to feel that I am needed, as much now as at any other period of life; for this is a greater satisfaction than awards, recognition, reputation or power. It keeps one "current" instead of being regarded as a "has been." However, my own retirement was voluntary and not forced.

* * *

Success—in family life, in society, in business and industry, in professions and callings — means that in a real sense we have been made to feel that we—BELONG.

Board Refuses Use of School

Request Turned Down in Waterford Because of Population Rise

A request from the Association of Handicapped Children for use of the Newberry School Building on Clintonville Rd., was turned down by Waterford Township Board members last night due to the rapid growth in population in the Adams School area.

Superintendent William Shunck said, "It is a certainty that we will need that school next year and in all probability will schedule classes there this year."

The board approved three additional crossing guards for the Stringham School; the Hudson Covert School at Scott Lake and Watkins Lake roads; and the Four Towns School on Cooley Lake Rd.

A name - plaque was approved for the new $2 million John D. Pierce Junior High School now under construction on Hatchery Rd.

Hospital Board Bars Audit of Records

A bid for a full audit of Pontiac General Hospital financial records failed at last night's Board of Trustees meeting for lack of support.

Trustee Cecil J. Cosgrove believed the audit should be a matter of routine following the change in administrators last year.

Other board members, disagreed, on grounds that a full audit might cost in the neighborhood of $10,000 and take five or six months to complete.

The annual spot audit, conducted by the city's auditors, is now underway, the new hospital director, Carl I. Flath, said.

Factors in Auto Design Told in Lecture Here

Dr. Paul L. Connolly of Royal Oak was lecturer at the monthly meeting of the Oakland County Optometric Society held last night at the Waldron Hotel.

In his lecture on "Visual Factors in Automotive Design and Engineering," Dr. Connolly discussed such visual factors as the height of a driver's eyes while driving, the effects of tinted windshields, and night vision.

Holly Woman Injured in Head-On Collision

A Holly woman, Lottie Nicholson, 56, of 9690 Kier Rd., was admitted to Pontiac General Hospital with head cuts, Thursday, after being involved in a two-car headon collision on Buckell Lake Rd. at Warden Rd., in Groveland Township, according to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies.

She was riding in a car driven by her son, Tommy, 24, of 9540 Kier Rd. The hospital reported her condition as satisfactory today. The driver of the other car was William A. Angus, 20, of Fenton.

Wise Hunter Will Wear Gold-Yellow, Not Red

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Golden yellow is the smart color for hunters, and not just fashionwide. It's safer than red.

So says Dr. Arthur C. Heinsen, of San Jose, president of the California Optometric Assn.

He told a news conference yesterday that a three-yar study of color blindness, during which 14,000 individual tests were made, showed conclusively that golden yellow is more readily identified than red.

Henry J. Kaiser, who is one of the 76 richest industrialists in the U.S., once was a photographer's assistant at $3 a week.

State Budget Left Up in Air

House GOP Undecided Which Way to Hack at Governor's Proposal

LANSING (AP)—Majority Republican legislators were split today on whether to hack up to 32 million dollars from Gov. Williams' 1958-59 state budget or risk higher taxes.

Taking their closest look yet at the dilemma ahead, most GOP senators backed an adamant "no new taxes" stand. For the time being, anyway, they set a course of whacking payrolls and state services—and deep.

Their house colleagues, after a separate caucus yesterday, put off a decision until after another weekend of assaying sentiment back home.

Summarizing the House GOP huddle, speaker George M. Van Peursem said:

"It was presented that there are two choices—if there are no new taxes, then services must be reduced, or if services are to be maintained additional revenues will have to be found.

"It's as simple as that."

Back in their districts, Van Puersem said, "they've got to decide whether we're going to hurt more people by cutting back to revenues now available or by putting on more tax."

Gov. Williams asked a 20 million dollar increase in the state intangibles tax to keep state income virtually on a par with his program for 361 million dollars in general fund spending.

After the senate session, Sen. Frank D. Beadle, GOP caucus chairman, talked to newsmen of cutting current expenditure authorizations by an average of up to 10 per cent to make budget ends meet.

Beadle said that while there were some differences on basic policy the consensus favored sparing only school aid, Wayne State University and social welfare appropriations from the pruning knife.

More Engineers Urged to Enter Political Arena

Engineers could add a lot to this nation's political scene, a representative of the Michigan Society of Professional Engineers told a gathering of Oakland Chapter members of the MSPE last night.

"What this country needs is more engineers in politics who can think straight and think more of their community and less of their job and pocketbook," said Lawrence S. Le Gros, of 6200 Thurber St., Bloomfield Township.

Some 30 Oakland society members celebrated "National Engineers Week" with a round-table discussion following a dinner at the Fox & Hounds Inn, Bloomfield Hills.

Leading the panel discussion were Le Gros, the Oakland representative on the MSPE Board of Directors, Theodore M. Vanderstempel, Pontiac city traffic engineer, Andries C. DeWilde, professor of engineering at the Detroit Institute of Technology, and Edwin F. Lau, Parke, Davis & Co. official.

Cold Weather Spurs Natural Gas Usage

JACKSON (AP) — Extremely cold weather and high winds in Michigan this week set records in consumption of natural gas, Consumers Power Co. said.

John B. Simpson, Consumers vice president, said that in the 24 hours ending at 9 a.m. Tuesday, a total of 573 million cubic feet of natural gas was sent to 463,000 Consumers' customers in 30 Southern Michigan Counties. He said the cubic footage was 68 million or 13 per cent above the pre-1958 record.

Simpson said about 80 per cent of the gas to meet the 24-hour demand was taken from Northern Michigan storage fields while the remainder came from Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line Co.

He said Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. gave consumers an assist by authorizing its supplier, Panhandle, to divert an additional 24 million cubic feet to consumers.

OKLAHOMA STARS — Practicing for their leading roles for Rodgers and Hammerstein's production of "Oklahoma" is a chore in itself but props are also important to produce a musical. Tom O'Brien, of 75 Hamilton St., who will portray Curley and Diane Beach, 239 Victory Dr., as Laurey, tell us the school would like to borrow at least 12 pair of cowboy boots and a dozen hats for costuming.

'Oklahoma' Cast at PCH Needs Cowboy Clothes

By WILLIAM BANK

Rehearsals for the Rodgers and Hammerstein musical "Oklahoma" have been going on smoothly at Pontiac Central High School for two weeks, but the properties committee is having difficulty.

Committee members need to round up at least 12 more cowboy hats and pairs of boots for the western production to be presented March 25-29 by the dramatics and vocal music departments. Anyone willing to loan the school this clothing should contact Garth Errington, director.

Leading members of the cast are Diane Beach, as Laurey; Tom O'Brien, Curley; Leah Berg and Dimmie Govenis, Aunt Eller; Sam Hartman, Will Parker; Bob Thompson, Andrew Carnes; and Bill Kath, Ike Skidmore.

Chairmen of the committees that will take care of the behind-the-scenes work are Sandra Sommerville, properties; Santhy Annas and Barbara Wolfe, tickets; Sophia Skinner, publicity; William Bank, lighting; Loraine Butler, costume and make-up; Alvin Lambert, stage manager and Terri Fortino, student director.

Tryouts for the new cheer-leaders and yell leaders were held this week. There were more than 35 girls and 10 boys trying out. This was the first time that not only the novices but also the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders had to tryout.

SELECT ROOTERS

The varsity cheerleaders chosen were Karen Metz, Jeanne Johnson, Joanne Wood, Sandy Erwin, Isabel Hawn, Virginia Reed, Diane Pickford, Karen Oxley, and Sue Clark.

The Yell leaders are Bob Thompson, Garlan Shearer, Raymond Lanham, and Sam Hartman.

Wednesday the A Capella Choir will give a concert at Lansing Sexton High School.

The choir, directed by George Putnam, will sing "Ave Maria," "Yonder, Yonder," "I Am An "American," "To Thee We Sing," "Make a Joyful Noise," "And This Is My Beloved," and "Michigan Morn."

TRAVEL TO LANSING

Another number, "The Nation's Creed," will be sung with the Sexton Choir. Besides the choir, both the Senior Boys' and Senior Girls' Ensemble will attend.

Approximatey 15 students attended a meeting of the French Club Wednesday to hear Marcel Dedier, a PCH student, speak about his life in Luxemburg. He has been living in America one year. At the end of his speech a question and answer period was held.

ROCHESTER FORMS COURT — A new division of the Rochester High School Student Council is the student court committee. The court plans to work with the school administration to decide corrective and punitive measures to be taken concerning discipline problems. Left to right are members of the committee: Donna Kay Brannock, 16, of 127 Taylor St.; Fritz Lutz, 17, of 53900 Dequindre Rd.; and Carolyn Adler, 16, of 92 Texas St.

Plan to Assist Keego Teachers

W. Bloomfield Singers Receive Top Rating in Vocal Festival

The members of the West Bloomfield High School Future Teachers Club are now making plans to assist teachers at the Roosevelt Elementary School in Keego Harbor.

One quartet and three soloists of the WBHS vocal department received top ratings in the Michigan State Vocal and Ensemble Festival held at Pontiac Central High School Saturday of the school's seven entries.

Members of the Boy's Quartet include: Clark Wareham, Henry Weber, Don Cole and Don Henrikson.

The soloists, all sopranos, who won first place ratings were: Janice Peterson, Mary Rose Donigan and Kathy Olmstead.

More than 25 high school vocal departments from southeastern Michigan participated in the festival. Merlin Asplin is the vocal music director at West Bloomfield.

The annual talent show sponsored by the student council was held this week. The theme was a French cafe and the show was called "Nuit Dans Paris," a night in Paris.

RAISE $550

The American Field Service in co-operation with the West Bloomfield Kiwanis Club sponsored a fund raising campaign Saturday.

Approximately $550 was collected by the students at West Bloomfield High. The donations received from this drive will help finance the student exchange program at West Bloomfield to some other country and also receiving a student.

Those students who have already participated in the exchange program are Sybil Simmons from West Bloomfield who spent three months in Germany last summer, and Sevil Kolankaya from Turkey who spent last year at West Bloomfield residing at the home of the Don S. Connors of Orchard Lake.

Lake Orion Holds Bermuda Bounce Dance Tonight

The weather outside may be frightful but tonight it will be delightful inside the hall of the Lake Orion Community High School where the Bermuda Bounce is being sponsored by the Y-Teens.

Committees for the dance are headed by Jean Hiatt, tropical decorations; Mary Fisher and Leonora Sutton, publicity; and Bobbie Schumaker, music.

SCIENCE CLUB OFFICERS

The Science Club elected the officers recently.

They are: Jack Reed, president; Charles Stephens, vice-president; Elaine Urban, secretary; and David Carlson, treasurer.

Two meetings are held per month with Fred Baker, sponsor. Their 25 members have formed their club to increase their knowledge and skills of science, to develop the practice of cooperation and to understand the importance of science in their lives.

These serious students are at present studying specialized material for a presentation of an exhibit for the Science Fair, and the regional meet in Flint May 1-4. Plans now include an exhibit on electronics and medicine by David Carlson; a rocket motor by Ken Robinson and a bacteriology exhibit by Otto Knibbe.

St. Fred's Readies Display for Catholic Press Week

By PATRICIA FOSTER

Catholic Press Week is being observed this week, February 16-23rd, throughout the nation including St. Fredrick High School.

The week is devoted to the propagation of Catholic literature in the form of books, magazines, and pamphlets. The school library received several new books this week and the event is being observed in a special way this year with a book display at St. Vincent's Hall after each Mass Sunday.

Wednesday marked the arrival of the Lenten seanon with the observance of Ash Wednesday. Lent is a time when all public entertainment and social events are forfeited as a means of penance in commemoration of the coming Easter season.

The Stations of the Holy Cross will be said for the benefit of the student body each Friday afternoon.

WIN LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

Congratulations are in order to the girl's basketball team which won their league championship by winning a last second thriller, Sunday, in competition against St. Mary's, Mt. Clemens. The score was 24-23.

The girls now will travel to the Catholic Youth Organization center in Detroit for playoffs to determine the championship.

A special meeting of all high school girls interested in a nursing career will be held in school Wednesday afternoon. Scholarships, schools of studies, agencies and a question box will be among the features. Yesterday, Mrs. J. A. Varion, R. N., addressed the Future Nurses Club on the "The Visiting Nurse."

TALENT SHOW WINNERS

Guitarist Bob Morrow and Judy Moslak, pianist, tied for first place in the annual St. Frederick High School talent show held Friday.

Marianne Englehart, another pianist and Mary Sue Ritter, vocalist, each won second place.

Rochester Council Forms Student Court

A new standing committee of the Rochester High School Students Council is the Student Court.

The committee, headed by Fritz Lutz, a senior, meets two days a week and is designed to organize a student court which will assist the administration in deciding offenses and punitive measures to be taken against student body violators.

Three sophomores, Donna Kay Brannack, Carolyn Adler and Toni Bonkowski, are also members of the committee.

The administration and council already have policies governing smoking, improper dress, destruction of school property and misbehavior at assemblies and athletic games but it will be up to the court to review these, hear cases, set up penalties and enforce them.

The court has also been busy preparing a parliamentary procedure program for all of the club and class officers.

They are now writing to other high schools to obtain information on the function and operation of similar courts.

The committee aims to have court in session this spring.

Vocal Groups Win Honors

Select Cast at Waterford

By SANDY CLEMENCE

Cast for the next play to be presented at Waterford Township High School by the dramatics club has been selected.

The actors in the play "Shall We Join The Ladies?" by James M. Barrie, are to be: Don North, Dayton Thomason, Brenda Lewis, Sandy Clemence, Dick Heitsley, Grace Williamson and Nancy Richards.

Other are Dustan Smith, Carole Tynan, Don Tate, Ruth Ann DeGrow, John Teeuwissen, Sandy Seconder and Mary Beechum.

WIN TOP VOCAL HONORS

Five vocal groups and 10 soloists representing WTHS received first place ratings at the District Four Vocal Festival sponsored by the Michigan State Vocal Association and held at the Pontiac Central High School Saturday.

According to Richard J. Meier, vocal music director, Waterford students received more first place rating than any other school participating in the festival.

Those vocal soloists who took top honors include: Janet Barnard, Dick Heltsley, Connie Barron, Gene Peter, Carol Tynan, Sharon Smith, Terry Walker and Diane Elliott.

Members of the groups who acheived the highest rating include: Arlene Butler, Beverly Wells, and Connie Barron an Janet Barnard, Joyce Coffel and Sharon Smith, both girls' trios; Dick Heltsley, Jim Fish, Gene Peter and Terry Walker, boys' ensemble; Diane Elliott, Beverly Wells, Dick Heltsley and Gene Peter, mixed ensemble and a girls ensemble of nine girls.

Beverly Wells and David Wilson also received number one positions for their piano solos.

Waterford also took 10 second and one third place ratings.

DANCE TONIGHT

A dance will be held at WTHS tonight following the basketball game against Walled Lake High School.

Tryouts for next year's A Capella choir are now being held by Richard Meier, choral music director.

Waterford Township High School journalism students working on committees for the recent Inter-Lakes Press Conference were John Herrington, Diane McIntosh, Tom Blezinski, Jean Rexford, Jerry Nelson, Darlene Dahl, Don North, Cecilia Roberts, Paris Smith, Cydney Williams and Tom Moore.

To Name 4 Avondale Teens for TV Quiz

Four Avondale High School students will be seected this week to represent their school against Utica High School in a television quiz program March 15.

Leonard Passint, forensic leader and Roberta Rains, a senior, will also act as judges of the quiz on March 1 when Holly and Miford High Schools battle verbally against each other.

"Kissin' Kin" is the play the junior class has selected to present April 10. Tryouts for the cast are being held this week by Joseph Margola, director.

Dr. Paul Toms, special education director of Oakland County public schools, will be the guest speaker at the Parent - Teacher Association's Founder's Day program, Thursday at 8 p.m.

Walled Lakers to Enter Contest Tomorrow

Members of the Walled Lake High School Band are preparing today to enter the district instrumental contest held in Royal Oak tomorrow.

Tuesday, Rubinoff, a violinist, will present an assembly sponsored by the Walled Lake Optimist Club.

The double duets, under the direction of Mrs. Frank Balaam, local music director, represented Walled Lake Senior High in the Vocal Solo and Ensemble Festival on Saturday at Pontiac High School.

Superior rating was given to Jo Ann Fagerlie, Barbara Lea, Barbara Parent and Marie Sanderson.

St. Michael Chemists Manufacture Soap

By MICHAEL BUCHANAN

Soap-making was an activity of the chemistry students in Sister Dennis' class at St. Michael High School this week.

Biology class students, also instructed by Sister Dennis, are now learning to dissect frogs, crayfish and starfish.

During Lent, the seniors hope to get most of their practicing in for the play they will present.

Easterners Learn Printing

Twist Tongues at Lincoln

A recent contest in Esther R. Mountain's speech classes at Lincoln Junior High School was to write original tongue twisters.

Some of the more skillful twisters included: Careless crossing at corners causes crazy crashes and crack-ups; Seven silly spinsters sat sucking several sticky suckers; and Bashful Billie Baker burped and bounced baby brother Bobbie.

Lincoln Junior High School Band members won honors in State Solo and Ensemble Festival held at Eastern Michigan College at Ypsilanti recently.

The following members who won first ratings include: Marvyl Simson and Pamela Morris, flute solos; Bruce Linebaugh and David Powell, French horn duet and Nancy Bain, Patricia Wilkinson, Patricia Hogan and Priscilla Wilkinson, clarinet quartet.

AT MADISON

Eighteen Madison Junior High School students received a bronze certificate for their outstanding service to the school at a recent honors and awards assembly.

They were: Sharon Anglim, Donald Vance, Marcy Kioka, Karen Randolph, William Sweeney, Pamela Goode, Flora McCartney, Diana Haines, Gerald Pirochta, Linda Jorden, Ruth Ann Kramp, Don Maxim, Richard Martins, Susan Jones, Gary Young, Kathy Murphy, Audrey Ladd, and JoAnn Voynar.

Those receiving the Silver M's were: Thomas Kwiatkowski, April Krupa, David Everett, Linda McCollum, Philip Williams, Sharon Bratt, Karen Wiscombe, Berna Koenig, Judy LaBarge, Carla Pierce, Judith Runyan, Janet Sapelak, Linda Larson, Ginger Dodge, Jack Henderson, and Ted Lorenzen.

AT WASHINGTON

The Washington Junior High School Band directed by Fred Weist appeared at a recent assembly. This is an elective group in which 33 boys and 17 girls are members.

Members of the Student Council have been appointed to serve as chairman on standing committees are:

Vickie Corpron, cafeteria; Peggy Tracey, savings stamps; Joe McCauley, school traffic; Darlene Woodhull, finance; Sue Newhouse, social; David Blank, publicity; and Penny Batts, elections.

AT EASTERN

Members of Eastern Junior High School Guidance Department are in the process of revising and publishing a student handbook which was issued for the first time last fall and has proved very effective as an orientation tool.

The Arrow Club, which edits and publishes the Arrow, Eastern's student newspaper, has selected Tommy Braun as boy-of-the month and Colleen Oxley girl-of-the-month for March.

Students at Eastern have an opportunity to learn the printing trade. Printing is one of four shop courses offered. It is planned as a one semester course for seventh grade boys and as a two semester course for those boys who elect it in the ninth grade.

Seventh grade boys are required to take one semester of printing. It is designed to show a preview of tools, methods, and materials of the printing trades. Boys also have an opportunity to test their aptitude for this type of work.

Ninth grade boys do hand composition and job proofing. They learn to make corrections, proper division of words and how to use numbers and punctuation marks. They also do some reading of correlated information about printing and see some educational films on the printing trades. They study one unit on the history of printing.

Fire Destroys Building

MONTAGUE (AP) — A fire of undetermined origin destroyed the 60-year-old building housing Arrow Foundry Co. Thursday night. No one was injured. Firemen estimated damages at $100,000.

Maria Schell Doubts She'll Get Oscar in '59

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Besides having the curiously brisk yet serene look of an alp at dawn, Swiss actress Maria Schell is a girl of gentle forthrightness.

They're saying she will win the Academy Award next year for her first U.S. movie, "The Brothers Karamazov."

PART NOT MEATY

"No," she says firmly, "I don't think so. I don't think it is 'that' kind of part. I cannot tell you why but I sense it is not . . ." She hoops her arms comically, as if embracing a carcass of a cow . . . "That how do you say (meaty) kind of part.

"Isn't it funny how you can predict almost what an Oscar judgment is going to be?" she frowned thoughtfully. "Why do you suppose they don't give Oscars for laughter sometimes, instead of for tears. Just because something is not dark and dreary, you cannot say it isn't art, now can you, really?"

Miss Schell has won dozens of top acting awards in Europe, has been voted "Best Liked German Actress" for five years since 1951, and yet she is known chiefly here, at the moment, as "The Girl Who Won the Role Marilyn Monroe Wanted."

DREAM ROLE

That would be, of course, the girl Grushenka in "Brothers Karamazov," a part Marilyn mentioned as her dream role a few years ago when she formed her own producing company.

"Most Americans, in and out of the movies, tittered at the idea. Not the kindly Miss Schell.

"I have never met Marilyn, but I would love to," she says with genuine animation. "To me, I love her very much. She is such a terribly honest actress. She doesn't pretend to be any other person from what she is." (This statement tends to negate the term "actress," but Miss Schell says you know what she means.)

"I think she would have played Grushenka very well. Different from me, probably, but very, very well. She wasn't really disappointed not to play the part, was she? I would have been very unhappy if she would have done so."

Ash-blonde, delicately wholesome Maria Schell, whose foreign films, "Gervaise" and "The Last Bridge" have made her somewhat of a sight-unseen sensation across the land, still is not recognized on the streets of New York. She finds that delightful, having been sought out ardently by fans all over Europe for several years. But only in this sense:

"It would be false humility to say I want not to be recognized. But it is a wonderful feeling of privacy being in a country which does not know you — knowing that one day it will."

FAMILY ARTISTIC

Maria comes from an artistic family. Her father is a fiction and poetry writer, her mother an actress.

Seeking Suggestions on Seaway Pollution

DETROIT (AP) — The Joint International Commission wants ship owners to suggest ways to meet water pollution dangers that will come with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The request for suggestions came out of a meeting of the commission here last night with representatives of government health, conservation and enforcement agencies and Great Lakes ship operators.

Gen. Andrew G. L. McNaughton, chairman of the commission's Canadian section, told the group that the commission apparently has no powers to regulate ships of foreign registry.

L. F. Oeming, of Michigan's water resources commission, said he hoped existing laws and regulations could be revised to help block the pollution problem.

Stork Due in September for Actress Leslie Caron

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Leslie Caron and her husband, director Peter Hall, are expecting their second child in September, her studio says.

The couple, married Aug. 7, 1956, has a nine-month-old son, Chistopher.

High School Integration Ordered in Kentucky

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Integration of Owen County high schools by next fall was ordered in U.S. District Court yesterday.

Judge H. ChurchsFord aso directed the county school board to start promptly toward integrating elementary schools.

The board said adequate facilities exist for integrating the high school, but buildings and teachers were short for elementary schools.

Bob Considine Says:

Gouzenko Still 'Hiding' From Red Reprisal

NEW YORK (INS) — Few men have given the question of deflection from Communism, or the rule of Communism, as much attention as Igor Gouzenko. Or made as much money out of the move.

Making his first "live" appearance on the Canadian Broadcasting Company's show "Front Page Challenge," the former code clerk of the Soviet Union's embassy in Ottawa still felt it necessary to wear the black sack over his head.

He said from beneath its folds that his life is still in danger from Communist agents, or assassins, now residing in Canada and the U. S. But it is said that for $10,000 he would unmask himself on the air.

When he made his break for freedom, Gouzenko first tried to sell his information. Rebuffed, then, he sought and found asylum with the Canadian police, and the story he had to tell soon had the FBI flying to his side.

Briefly, he told of an atomic espionage ring whose ramifications he himself could not envision. But the information he provided nailed down Dr. Alan Nunn May and led, in time and after much excellent work by the FBI and Scotland Yard, to the round-up of Klaus Fuchs, Harry Gold, Sgt. Greenglass, the Rosenbergs and Morton Sobell.

May finished serving out a prescribed portion of his 10-year prison term more than a year ago. He said, on regaining his liberty, that he would do the same thing all over again. Specifically, he was convicted of giving information and a sample of uranium to the Soviets, in exchange for which he received some pay and two bottles of scotch.

The Rosenbergs met death in the electric chair for their participation. Gold and Greenglass are serving out 30-year and 15-year terms. Fuchs is well along with the years he must serve of his 14-year term.

Sobell is in Alcatraz and is the only person in the case who is subject of an organized effort toward clemency. He was given 30 years after being returned from Mexico.

Gouzenko, the prime source of destruction of this particular apparatus, has been the subject of several books, one motion picture, and is a prolific writer. His novel, "Titan," was a great success. The Canadian government assigned guards to him and his family for years. But not long ago concluded that it was a waste of time and manpower.

There apparently is no great love between Gouzenko and the government that gave him shelter and opportunities for reward. Each can quote chapter and verse as to why the grudge exists.

Canadians say Gouzenko was demanding, treated his police guards like servants, was more interested in turning a fast buck than in becoming a part of the Canadian community.

Little Rock Asks Integration Halt

Court Petition Seeks to Slow Down Process by Legal Loophole

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The City School Board yesterday asked a federal court to suspend racial integration at Central High School.

A strongly worded petition requested U.S. District Court to stay an order which allowed nine Negro students to enter the previously all-white school last fall.

The petition virtually said that opposition to integration had made normal school conditions at Central High impossible. It said the school district, in its respect for the law of the land, was "left standing alone, the victim of extraordinary opposition on the part of the state government and apathy on the part of the federal government."

Suspension of the board's integration plan, which was put into effect under the protection of federal troops last September, was asked until:

1. There is a clear definition of the concept "all deliberate speed" in the U.S. Supreme Court's 1954 ruling on school desegregation.

2. There are effective legal procedures by which the schools can be integrated without impairment of the quality of the educational program.

Democratic Win on Capital Hill, Predicts Truman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Truman, apparently in a "Give 'em hell" mood, has been talking politics around town. But he said he's holding his ammunition for a fund-raising dinner Saturday night.

A Democratic victory "is in the air, and I'll tell you why Saturday night," he told newsmen.

In an interview yesterday, Truman said the United States was in "enough trouble" to need "a Democratic president back in the White House." He predicted the Democrats would score an overwhelming victory in the November congressional elections and sweep on to take the presidency in 1960.

Whenever the country is in trouble, he said, it always "puts the Democratic party back."

He and Mrs. Truman invited some 60 former White House friends and associates to a luncheon. Truman said it was a "sentimental" affair. Some of the guests reported it was "like old home week."

You Can Forget Some of Your Income but First Make Sure It's Non-Taxable

This is the fifth in a series of eight stories on your income tax. It lists the income you do not have to report. Be sure to save it for reference when you fill out your return.

By G. K. HODENFIELD
Associated Press Writer

There are certain types of income which are tax-free, and which you don't even have to report in making out your income tax return. By taking advantage of these exclusions you may be able to whittle down your tax bill considerably.

On the other hand, you may have had certain income which you hadn't thought of as being taxable. The government wants you to exclude everything possible under the law, but the tax collectors also insist that every bit of taxable income be listed.

This article deals with both types of income.

First, because it's more pleasant to think about, let's look at the income which you don't have to declare:

1. State and federal social security payments, benefits from the Railroad Retirement Act, and Workmen's Compensation benefits. This includes state and federal unemployment compensation.

2. Inheritances (up to $60,000) and death benefits from life insurance policies.

3. All government payments and benefits to veterans and their families, except interest on terminal leave bonds and retirement pay not connected with a disability.

4. Gifts. This includes money or anything of value for which you performed no service whatever.

5. Interest on state and municipal bonds.

6. Subsistence and rental allowances to members of the armed forces.

7. Dividends on GI life insurance programs.

Any 1957 income you had which falls into one of these categories is beyond the reach of the tax collector. Just forget about it while making out your return.

There are several other categories which have strings attached.

Your Income Tax-No. 5

Prizes and awards (as distinct from gifts) are exempt from taxes only if they are given in recognition of civic, literary, artistic, educational, scientific, charitable or religious achievement.

But these prizes and awards can't be excluded if you had to enter a contest as a condition of winning, and they can't carry with them the requirement of performing any substantial future service for the donor.

This means that most prizes given on radio and television giveaway programs or quiz programs are not exempt and Uncle Sam awaits his share.

Generally speaking, payments made in the form of scholarships or fellowships are tax exempt.

Income earned outside the scholarship, however, is taxable. For instance, a football player attending college on an athletic scholarship wouldn't have to report that he was given room, board, books, tuition, laundry and expense money. But he would have to report any income he might get for winning the eight-day clocks in the coach's office.

With some restrictions, each taxpayer may deduct from his income up to $50 received as dividends during the tax year from qualifying domestic corporations.

All dividend income must be reported on Schedule A on page 3 of the form 1040.

Remember, so-called dividends from savings and loan or building and loan associations and from credit unions are not considered true dividends by the tax collector. They're considered interest, and must be listed with your other income.

The tax laws also let you exclude from your taxable income part or all of your income received in the form of annuity or retirement pay.

There are two general rules which apply:

1. Uncle Sam feels you have a right to recover, tax - free, as much as you have paid into your annuity or pension plan. For instance, if over the years you paid $3,500 into your company's pension fund, $3,500 of what you get back is tax-free.

2. You can't exclude any part of the payments if you did not bear part of the cost.

Page 13 of the instruction book with the Form 1040 tells you how to figure that part of your annuity or pension which may be excluded from your taxable income.

There's a chance for real savings by excluding your "sick pay" — pay received from your employer while you were off work because of illness or injury.

Here, too, there are certain conditions to be met, and certain limits on how much can be excluded.

The amount of sick pay you can exclude from your taxable income cannot exceed $100 per week and the plan must be financed by your employer.

If your absence from work is due to an injury, your sick pay exclusion begins with the first day you miss.

If your absence is due to illness, it generally begins only with your second week's sick pay. However, if you are hospitalized for even one day because of illness, the exclusion begins with the first day you missed, just as for an injury.

Remember that $100 - per - week ceiling. If your pay is over $100 per week, here's how to figure how much you can exclude: divide $100 by the number of working days in your normal work week. That gives you your maximum daily exclusion. Then multiply that amount by the number of days you were off work. That gives you your total excludable sick pay.

When your pay for the period while you are out with illness or injury comes entirely from your own contributions to a plan or policy, the $100 limit does not apply. The entire amount may be excluded.

If you use Form 1040A, or punch card type return, you cannot claim sick pay exclusion.

On the form 1040, it should be entered on line 6 (b) and you should attach a statement to your return showing the dates you were absent, the nature of your illness or injury, whether or not you were hospitalized, and when, and how you figured the amount excluded.

That about covers the exclusions. Now there's the matter of income which the government wants to see you list.

With the exceptions noted above, Uncle Sam wants his full share of all wages, salaries, bonuses, commissions, fees and tips. Interest on bank deposits, savings bonds and securities are taxable. So are any profits you make from the sale or exchange of real estate, securities, automobiles or other property.

You must list income from rents and royalties, business or professional profits, income from estates or trusts and even alimony and separate maintenance or support payments recieved from your husband or wife and deducted by him or her.

(The next article will deal with business-connected expenses and expense accounts.)

Nebraska Town Irked by Constant Misspelling

HOLDREGE, Neb. (AP) — Over the years residents of Holdrege become accustmed to having the town's name misspelled "Holdredge" — adding an extra "D".

They didn't pay much attention to mail that some times came addressed that way.

Recently, though, patience began to wear thin when people discovered the Post Office Department had it wrong, too, and was using a cancellation stamp with that darned extra "D".

CONCLUSION

Miss Marple turned triumphantly round to Dr. Quimper. "You didn't know, did you, Doctor, when you strangled that woman in the train, that somebody actually saw you do it? It was my friend here. Mrs. McGillicuddy. She saw you. Do you understand? Saw you with her own eyes. She was in another train that was running parallel with yours."

"What the hell—" Dr. Quimper made a quick step towards Mrs. McGillicuddy but again, swiftly, Miss Marple was between him and her.

"Yes," said Miss Marple, "she saw you, and she recognized you, and she'll swear to it in Court. It's not often, I believe," went on Miss Marple in her gentle plaintive voice, "that anyone actually sees a murder committed. It's usually circumstantial evidence of course. But in this case the conditions were very unusual. There was actually an eyewitness to murder."

"You devilish old hag," said Dr. Quimper. He lunged forward at Miss Marple but this time it was Cedric who caught him by the shoulder.

"So you're the murdering devil, are you?" said Cedric as he swung him round. "I never liked you and I always thought you were a wrong 'un, but Lord knows, I never suspected you."

Bryan Eastley came quickly to Cedric's assistance., Inspector Craddock and Inspector Bacon entered the room from the furthur door.

"Dr. Quimper," said Bacon, "I must caution you that . . ."

"You can take your caution to hell," said Dr. Quimper. "Do you think anyone's going to believe what a couple of batty old women say? Who's ever heard of all this rigmarole about a train!"

Miss Marple said, "Elspeth McGillicuddy reported the murder to the police at once on the 20th of December and gave a description of the man."

Dr. Quimper gave a sudden heave of the shoulders. "If ever a man had the devil's own luck," said Doctor Quimper.

"But—" said Mrs. McGillicuddy.

"Be quiet, Elspeth," said Miss Marple.

"Why should I want to murder a perfectly strange woman?" said Dr. Quimper.

"She wasn't a strange woman," said Inspector Craddock. "She was your wife."

"So you see," said Miss Marple, "it really turned out to be, as I began to suspect, very, very simple. The simplest kind of crime So many men seem to murder their wives."

Mrs. McGillicuddy looked at Miss Marple and Inspector Craddock. "I'd be obliged," she said, "if you'd put me a little more up to date."

"He saw a chance, you see," said Miss Marple, "of marrying a rich wife, Emma Crackenthorpe. Only he couldn't marry her because he had a wife already. They'd been separated for years but she wouldn't divorce him. That fitted in very well with what Inspector Craddock told me of this girl who called herself Anna Stravinska. She had an English husband, so she told one of her friends, and it was also said she was a devout Catholic.

"Dr Quimper couldn't risk marrying Emma bigamously, so he decided, being a very ruthless and cold-blooded man, that he would get rid of his wife. The idea of murdering her in the train and later putting her body in the sarcophagus in the barn was really rather a clever one.

"He meant it to tie up, you see, with the Crackenthorpe family. Before that he'd written a letter to Emma which purported to be from the girl Martine whom Edmund Crackenthorpe had talked of marrying. Emma had told Dr. Quimper all about her brother, you see. Then, when the moment arose he encouraged her to go to the police with the story. He wanted the dead woman identified as Martine. I think he may have heard that inquiries were being made by the Paris police about Anna Stravinska and so he arranged to have a postcard come from her from Jamaica.

"It was easy for him to arrange to meet his wife in London, to tell her that he hoped to be reconciled with her and that he would like her to come down and 'meet his family.' We won't talk about the next part of it, which is very unpleasant to think about. Of course he was a greedy man. When he thought about taxation, and how much it cuts into income, he began thinking that it would be nice to have a good deal more capital. Perhaps he'd already thought of that before he decided to murder his wife. Anyway he started spreading rumors that someone was trying to poison old Mr. Crackenthorpe so as to get the ground prepared, and then he ended by administering arsenic to the family. Not too much, of course, for he didn't want old Mr. Crackenthorpe to die."

"But I still don't see how he managed," said Craddock. "He wasn't in the house when the curry was being prepared."

"Oh, but there wasn't any arsenic in the curry then," said Miss Marple. "He added it to the curry afterwards when he took it away to be tested. He probably put the arsenic in the cocktail jug earlier. Then of course it was quite easy for him in his role of medical attendant, to poison off Alfred Crackenthorpe and also to send the tablets to Harold in London, having safeguarded himself by telling Harold that he wouldn't need any more tablets. Everything he did was bold and audacious and cruel and greedy, and I am really very, very glad," finished Miss Marple, looking as fierce as a fluffy old lady can look, "that they haven't abolished capital punishment yet because I do feel that if there is anyone who ought to hang, it's Dr. Quimper."

"Hear, hear," said Inspector Craddock.

"It occurred to me, you know," continued Miss Marple, "that even if you only see anybody from the back view, so to speak, nevertheless a back view is characteristic. I thought that if Elspeth were to see Dr. Quimper in exactly the same position as she'd seen the man in the train, that is, with his back to her bent over a woman whom he was holding by the throat then I was almost sure she would recognize him, or would make some kind of startled exclamation. That is why I had to lay my little plan with Lucy's kind assistance."

"I must say," said Mrs. McGillicuddy, "it gave me quite a turn. I said 'That's him' before I could stop myself. And yet, you know, I hadn't actually seen the man's face and . . ."

"I was terribly afraid that you were going to say so, Elspeth," said Miss Marple.

"I was," said Mrs. McGillicuddy. "I was going to say that of course I hadn't seen his face."

"That," said Miss Marple, "would have been quite fatal! You see, dear, he thought you really did recognize him. I mean, he couldn't know that you hadn't seen his face."

"A good thing I held my tongue then," said Mrs. McGillicuddy.

"I wasn't going to let you say another word," said Miss Marple.

Craddock laughed suddenly. "You two!" he said. "You're a marvelous pair. What next, Miss Marple? What's the happy ending? What happens to poor Emma Crackenthorpe, for instance?"

She'll get over the doctor, of course," said Miss Marple, "and I daresay if her father were to die — and I don't think he's quite so robust as he thinks he is — that she'd go on a cruise or perhaps to stay abroad like Geraldine Webb, and I daresay something might come of it. A nicer man than Dr. Quimper, I hope."

"What about Lucy Eyelesbarrow? Wedding bells there too?"

"Perhaps," said Miss Marple, "I shouldn't wonder."

"Which of 'em is she going to choose?" said Dermot Craddock.

"Don't you know?" said Miss Marple.

"No, I don't," said Craddock. "Do you?"

"Oh yes, I think so," said Miss Marple.

And she twinkled at him.

Hollywood Headlines

First of Western Stars Now Lives in Obscurity

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Broncho Billy Anderson, the first Western star and indeed the first star of movie history, lives in obscurity in a faded district between Hollywood and Los Angeles.

A cluttered red bungalow is the home of the man who starred in the first story film, "The Great Train Robbery," and established the pattern for the Western. In five years, he made 385 Western films with himself as writer, director and star.

Now 76, Broncho Billy is still as trim and trigger-minded as when he was riding the range.

He can also be gruff and suspicious of strangers—"I've always been something of a lone ranger," he explains. Once you have won his confidence (it took me a dozen phone calls and three visits), he talks freely about the old days.

He was born Max Aronson in Little Rock, Ark., and grew up in St. Louis, adoping the name of Gilbert M. Anderson in vaudeville. He drifted into movies, working with the pioneer director Edwin S. Porter.

SUGGEST ACTION

"I told Porter if people would sit still for pictures that were 50 and 60 feet, they'd sit still for 1,000 feet," he recalled. "So we decided to make a long picture. But what about? I suggested something that had a lot of riding and shooting — plenty of excitement. Why not about a train robbery? Another fellow remembered there was a play called 'The Great Train Robbery,' so we stole the title."

The film, made in Fort Lee, N.J., in 1903, took the movies out of the novelty class and was a sensation.

Starting in 1908, a new two-reel Broncho Billy film appeared in theaters every week. His name became known around the world as the first and most famous of American film stars.

Did he save his money?

"You can see the answer," he said, gesturing at the ram-shackle house. "I spent a lot. If I had saved a tenth of what I spent, I'd be well off today. But I had a lot of fun.

SPENDS TIME NOW

"Now I don't have any money to spend, so I spend time. That can be fun too."

He visits with old friends and spends his nights watching television. Yes, he sees the adult Westernn and can reel them all off by name.

"They're a lot better than the Westerns we used to make," he admitted. "They've got good actors too—men like Jim Arness and Richard Boone and Jim Garner.

Extra Blanket Comes Naturally in Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Florida has had 55 cold nights this season, only 11 short of the record.

The Federal-State Frost Warning Service says a cold night is one during which the temperature drops as low as 36 degrees anywhere in peninsular Florida.

Last night was the 55th cold one of 1958 for the state.

The record for the season—Nov. 1 through March 31—is 66, set in 1939-40.

Black or White Blood Bill Killed in Georgia

ATLANTA (AP)— The Georgia House killed a bill yesterday requiring that whole blood for transfusions be labeled by race.

The bill passed the Senate 35-0. When it came up in the House, a shout of approval answered a move to table it indefinitely.

Critics of the bill said medical authorities opposed the measure.

80 to 'See' Circus Acts Despite Their Blindness

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Eighty persons will "see" the Kosair Shrine-Polack Bros. Circus here—despite the fact they're blind.

Blind adults and children will sit in ringside seats installed with headsets. Announcers from two radio stations will broadcast an act-by-act commentary to the blind persons tomorrow and Sunday.

Hal Boyle Says:

She Bosses Cosmetics Empire in Her 80s

NEW YORK (AP)—All her life Heleana Rubinstein has puzzled people by her ability to get so many things done.

Now in her 80s, this jet-haired, tiny lady business dynamo still travels incessantly and actively bosses a $25,000,000-a-year worldwide cosmetics empire.

She has financial interests in 100 countries. She maintains three homes, and at one time had eight. She stil leads an active social life, regularly prowls through galleries and antique stores to expand her internationally famous art collection.

How does she keep up a schedule that would crack the nerves of most junior executives?

"Keep healthy. And always do first the things you most dislike to do. With them out of the way, you then will find you have plenty of time left to do what you want," are her secrets.

Madame Rubinstein is the epitome of the self-made woman. One of eight daughters of a Polish importer, she emigrated to Australia as a young girl.

In her baggage were a dozen jars of home-made face cream given to her by her mother. That proved to be the basis of her fortune. After studying chemistry, she opened a beauty parlor, took in $100,000 the first year.

"I still use that original cream formula given me by mother," she said. "Its main ingredient is the juice of water lily leaves." But today her beauty preparations also include such exotic additions as hormones, orchid pollen and powered silk.

Although surrounded by the trappings of vast wealth, she has a down-to-earth attitude toward life and people. She never fidgets in making up her mind.

Recently, on one day's notice, she invested more than a million dollars in signing as a sponsor for the new ABC-TV network show starring Sid Caesar and Imogene Coca — although she had never seen either perform.

Gifted with an ageless intellectual vigor, Madame Rubinstein refuses to heed the pleas of her two sons to slow down. She has always ejoyed hard work, and feels many pople today are spoiled because they don't know the real pleasure that lies in working.

Asked what she regarded as the greatest enemy of womanly beauty, Madame Rubinstein said crisply:

"Not time—laziness."

Civilian Sells Rides on Military Planes

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senate subcommittee has summoned a Los Angeles man for questioning on reports he has been making a living selling information as to how to secure free rides on military aircraft.

Announcing this yesterday, Chairman Monroney (D-Okla) said an investigator for his Aviation subcommittee paid Harold J. O'Brien $18 and was flown free from Los Angeles to Washington on a plane of the Military Transport Service.

"O'Brien not only dispensed the information for a fee but actually advertised the fact that his services were available," Monroney said in announcing he has subpoenaed O'Brien to appear here for questioning March 10.

Monroney said the subpoena was served on O'Brien in the Los Angeles City Jail where the senator said O'Brien is being detained on charges of petty theft and false advertising.

A traffic death occurs in the U. S. about every 16 minutes around the clock.

J. C. Pickering, farmer, Rochester, Michigan

Here's what J. C. Pickering says about Ford Dealer A-1 Used Cars . . .

"I HAVE FOUND THAT FORD DEALERS HONESTLY REPRESENT THE CONDITION OF USED CARS WHEN THEY SELL THEM"

But Mr. Pickering isn't the only one who has found that it pays to buy Ford Dealer A-1 Used Cars . . .

Joseph Vesce, miner, says, "I buy my used cars from my Ford Dealer because his prices are always right and I can always rely on what he tells me."

"The money I've saved on Ford Dealer Used Cars has helped me buy many things a man needs to raise a family," says Robert E. Hill, chemical company employee.

Maurice K. Brown, foreman, has bought several used cars from his local Ford Dealer because "I'm firmly convinced that the very best buy is an A-1 Used Car."

"I buy used cars from my Ford Dealer because he has always stood behind every used car he sells me," says Charles Simmons, truck driver.

Letter of Hope....

The following was written for The Associated Press by Junius Kellogg, the Manhattan College star player who foiled the famous New York College basketball gambling fix and went on to be an outstanding star in professional basketball, only to suffer paralysis in an automobile accident in 1954. He fought his way back to usefulness. Here he offers advice and encouragement to Roy Campanella, the baseball star who faces a similar problem.

"Dear Roy,

"I don't know if you remember me. One spring when I was with the Globetrotters we were in Hot Springs for four days when you and Larry Doby and some of the other fellows were taking the baths. We stayed at the same hotel and used to play pepper together.

"Not long after that, I was in an accident near Pine Bluff. Five of us were riding down a small road when a tire blew out. When I came out of it 10 days later, I was completely paralyzed from my neck down.

"They told me I'd never play basketball again. That I'd never move anything but my head. I didn't believe it. Maybe it was ignorance because I didn't realize how seriously I had been injured, but I refused to believe.

"I don't know what they told you. But I do know that the most important thing is frame of mind — to believe in one's self.

"After a point there is nothing the doctors can do. You get out of it only as much as you put into it. And it is hard work. Fellows like you and me are used to hard work.

"All my life I had been training or working for basketball, swimming, football or some sport. When I was hurt they told me I'd have to work. I got a kick out of it. It was like another training period for me.

"Build what you have. That is the best thing you can do. No one knows how much you have except yourself.

"I never did have any hopes of playing basketball again. They told me so right from the start. Just living itself is wonderful. They told me I'd have to accept it. At least I can enjoy watching others play and now I'm back in the game, coaching a wheel chair team. I even swam in the Wheel Chair Olympics last year in London.

"If it turns out you can't play baseball, there are so many other capacities in addition to player. You could still work with kids, passing on your knowledge.

"The darkest time is right now. It is normal to wonder about yourself and worry.

"But you'll make it. It is up to you. Work, work and more hard work. You've had quite a few 3-2 counts before. All of us here at Kingsbridge Veterans Hospital are confident you'll swing away and come through.

Sincerely,
JUNIUS KELLOGG

Hits 32 Against St. Rita

Mineweaser Sets Pace in 67-46 Win

Confines of the small St. Michael gymnasium certainly agreed with the home-club Shamrocks, last night, as Coach Bob Mineweaser's cagers crushed Detroit St. Rita, 67-46, in the only game of the season to be played on the North Side floor. The total was the highest of the season for the Shamrocks, and victory gave them a 7-7 record.

A big home crowd received a real "bonus" in the performance of Bob Mineweaser, the coach's son, who finally blossomed out after a period of low-scoring. Bob led the Shamrocks with a 32-point total, his best of the season, and one of his top all-time efforts. It was the best individual performance of the year for the north siders. Art Robak's 13 total also helped materially.

Three Rita players hit in double figures, but not enough. Mike Young had 13, Pat Press 14 (10 free throws), and Johnny Dion 12.

BIG NIGHT — Thursday night was a big one for lanky Bob Mineweaser, son of the St. Michael coach. Bob appears back on the scoring beam again after a slump and last night turned in his season's best effort, a 32-point total to lead Shamrocks to a 67-46 win over Detroit St. Rita.

Mineweaser hit 10 baskets and a sparkling 12-17 total from the foul line. He collected 10 points alone, in the 2nd period. Incidentally the game produced the largest personal foul total of the year for the Shamrocks, 23 against them and 25 against St. Rita.

Shamrocks were a single point in front at end of the 1st period, but swung into high gear in the 2nd to hold a 33-22 halftime edge.

"The club looked really good," said Mineweaser, who was looking ahead to Sunday's encounter with St. Frederick, in PCH gymnasium. "We'll be ready," he added.

Last night's game was the only parochial tilt in the Pontiac area, which will have two tonight.

Rams Seeking Ninth Victory

Oppose St. Cecilia on Home Floor in 1st Tilt Between Schools

Two tilts mark the Pontiac area parochial school cage card tonght. Both should produce victories for the home clubs, if season records mean anything.

St. Fredrick entertains Detroit St. Cecilia at the Rams St. Thomas hall, while Orchard Lake St. Mary is host to the St. Hedwig club.

Rams seek their 9th victory of the season, against four losses. Their opponent, a West Side 2nd Division quintet, has had rather a rough year. Rev. John Hastings, athletic director, said this morning the club has won only once against 11 defeats.

Rams will go with the usual starters, coach Gene Wright said today. Tom Derocher, Dick Nichols, Joe Keller, Steve Posc and Phil Bieri. The Irish, Rev. Hastings said, were uncertain about starters, who will include, however, a 20-24 point average scorer in Larry David, 6-1 center and John Ryan, with a 12-14 point a game average.

Mantle, Yankees Near Agreement on $75,000 Pact

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Outfielder Mickey Mantle and the New York Yankees appear close to agreement on a salary for the 1958 baseball season. The price is estimated at $75,000.

An announcement is expected early next week from Lee MacPhail, assistant to Yankees General Manager George Weiss. If Mantle signs for $75,000 he will receive more money than any other player in Yankee history except Joe DiMaggio ($100,000) and the late Babe Ruth ($80,000).

Mantle's 1957 salary was estimated at $60,000.

MacPhail and Mantle talked for 30 minutes yesterday. Neither revealed the terms discussed, but both acknowledged they were not far apart.

Tiger Early Birds 'In Shape'

Tighe Pleased With Condition of First Arrivals

Lary Signs Contract With $4,000 Cut; 3 Still Out of Fold

LAKELAND, Fla., (AP) — Detroit Tiger manager Jack Tighe says he is pleased with the physical condition of his players on hand for the early part of spring training at Tigertown.

With the exception of pitcher Billy Hoeft, who is some eight pounds above his playing weight, Tighe thinks the Detroit club is off to a fast start on conditioning.

Yesterday Detroit rookies played a wind-blown exhibition game with the St. Louis Cardinals rookies squad.

Redbird manager Fred Hutchinson, a former Tiger manager, nodded approval on the condition of the Bengal squad after watching the rookies and such regular players as Billy Martin, Hoeft, Harvey Kuenn, Ray Boone, Al Kaline and Paul Foytack work out.

"You've really strengthened your hand this year," Hutchinson told Tighe.

"Martin will help you and I think you scored big when you traded for Jim. Hegan. Those two fellows plus the new ones you'll have on your bench, should make things a lot easier for you."

Martin, expected to give the Detroit infield a shot in the arm this season, got an early start on spring drills yesterday.

Not scheduled to start training until next week, Martin joined Boone, Kuenn, Hoeft, Kaline and Foytack in workouts yesterday.

Detroit Gen. Mgr. John McHale also announced the signing of veteran outfielder Jim Greengrass. Greengrass was obtained Oct. 14 from Sacramento of the Pacific Coast League.

Lary, who led the American League in 1956 with 21 victories, had a disappointing 11-16 record last year.

The two signings left only three Tiger players out of the fold. They are Charley Maxwell, Mickey McDermott and Lou Skizas.

Michigan Golfers Lag at Houston

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The tightest field in the history of the 11-year-old tournament began the second round of the $30,000 Houston Classic Golf invitational today.

Six veteran pros shared the lead after the first 18 holes with a four-under 68. Thirty-nine other pros were no more than four strokes behind, all with par or better scores.

Tied for the lead were Pete Mazur, Buffalo, N.Y., Ed (Porky) Oliver, Canton, Mass., Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., Ted Kroll, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Marty Furgol, Lemont, Ill., and Milton Marusic, Webster Groves, Mo.

Furgol in 1951 and Kroll in 1956 have won here before over the 7,200-yard, par 72 Memorial Park course.

One stroke off the pace with 69s were Bill Webb, a former amateur star from Kansas City; E.J. (Dutch) Harrison, the St. Louis veteran who won the 1958 Tijuana Open; Bob Goalby, a former Illinois collegiate athlete now playing out of Darien, Conn., and Jay Hebert, of Sanford, Fla.

Ten Michigan golfers however lagged behind with Bob Gajda of Forest Lake firing a 72 to lead the state pack.

Gene Bone of Pontiac was way down with 82 with Mike Dietz of Lake Orion and Jack Fleck of Rochester shooting 77 and 78 respectively.

Mt. Clemens Boy Signed by Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — Three players, one from Mount Clemens, today signed minor league baseball contracts with the Detroit Tigers.

Bonner Upshaw, 22, a right-handed catcher who batted .392 at a Mount Clemens high school, was signed following service in the Navy where he played ball with Great Lakes and Newport, R.I.

William Bennett, a 21-year-old second baseman from Newark, N.J., and Robert Stechmann, 21, a shortstop from New Orleans, were the other two signed.

Carol Ryan Defends State Table Net Championship

Carol Ryan of Bloomfield Hills will defend her state singles crown this Saturday and Sunday in the Michigan Table Tennis Championships at the G.A.R. building in downtown Detroit.

Miss Ryan, a senior physical education major at Mt. Pleasant's Central Michigan College, has won the state singles title the last two years and now makes her bid for a 3rd straight championship.

Jerry Kruskie, ex-Waterford High athletic star, will also return to the state tourney. Kruskie won the junior crown last year, but is ineligible to defend it this time because of his age.

Five other Pontiac area players are entered in the weekend tournament. They include Carl Knaack, Bill Wettlaufer, Dave Barnhart, Ronald Beckman and Perc Secord.

Secord and Richard Heymen will square off tonight at 9 o'clock in the Pontiac Central High girls' gymnasium for the city handicap singles title.

The tourney is sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department and is the first of its kind in this city. The doubles event will be held in two weeks.

Porter's Mother Dies

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Mrs. William Porter, 58, died today and relatives are trying to locate her son, catcher J. W. Porter, who has just been traded by Detroit to the Cleveland Indians. J. W. presumably is en route from Florida to Tucson, Ariz., to join the Indians.

Boston and Warriors Win

Yardley Plugging for 2,000

CINCINNATI (AP) — George Yardley takes another step towards becoming the first National Basketball Assn. player to score 2,000 points in one season when the Detroit Pistons meet the Cincinnati Royals tonight.

Yardley, just 284 points shy of the 2,000 mark, has averaged 33.4 points per game in his last five starts. He needs 31.5 in each of the Pistons' nine remaining games to hit the mark.

A victory for coach Red Rocha's club would put Detroit one-half game back of Cincinnati in the NBA's Western Division battle for second place. Cincinnati lost to Boston 94-92 yesterday.

With playoff time fast approaching, a second place finish for the Pistons would give Detroit the host team role for the first post season contest.

If Detroit finishes second, the Pistons will play the Royals at University of Detroit Memorial Building March 15 and Tuesday, March 18 in the best-of-three playoffs. If Cincinnati finishes second, the Pistons will play their single home playoff game at Olympia Stadium, Monday, March 17.

Olympia will be unavailable to the Pistons before March 17 because of an ice show.

The Pistons return to Detroit Saturday night for their next-to-last regular season home game against St. Louis.

Woody Sauldsberry hit his high with 34 points to lead the Warriors to a 110-97 victory over Syracuse yesterday and pushed Philadelphia 2½ games ahead of idle New York in their scrap for the final playoff berth.

Eastern leader Boston slipped past Cincinnati on Bill Russell's layup with 20 seconds left in the other half of the afternoon twinbill at Boston. The victory reduced the Celts' magic number to three—with any combination of Boston victories and Syracuse defeats totaling three giving the Celtics their second successive division title.

Sauldsberry, who had been averaging only 12.6 points a game, now has scored 58 in his last two in his bid for NBA rookie honors.

Their Vote Unofficial

Boxing Fans Will Score

DETROIT (AP)—A new scoring gimmick for boxing fans will be tried here tomorrow night.

Ringside fans in one row (48 customers if promoter is lucky) will be given official style score cards for one of the preliminary bouts on the Johnny Summerlin-Jack Jacobs heavyweight card.

The fans' votes will be tabulated and announced from the ring. Then the regular officials' decisions will be announced.

The customers' ballots won't count, but Promoter C. W. Smith says "maybe it will keep them happy."

From The PRESS BOX

The continuous high scoring of Jim Drake and Nick Neira has boosted Lake Orion's team point-getting average to 69.7 per game out Clarkston still leads Oakland County with 70.3. Both marks cover 13 contests.

Winnie Stader of Pontiac, who bowled an actual game of 212 at Huron Bowl recently, is said to be "well over 70 years old." She competes in two leagues at the site of the Pontiac Press Bowlerama finals with averages of 129 and 124. Sounds like she missed the boat by not entering the tournament.

Walled Lake heavyweight Jim Teddy almost upset Southfield's applecart in the Inter-Lakes meet yesterday. He spotted eventual champion Dave Marsh 100 pounds in the semifinals and led 2-0 before bowing to finish 3rd. Mob Downie, Berkley 156-pounder, was the only champion to completely dominate his division.

Country Day School will play two games for certain in the Maumee, Ohio Invitational. The Yellow Jackets play Park School of Indianapolis tonight with Grosse Pointe University School meeting host Maumee in the other tilt. The winners and losers tangle tomorrow.

A company that certainly is bowling conscious is the Falls City Brewing Co. of Louisville. That firm sponsors 98 keg teams.

Howard (Hopalong) Cassady, former All-American halfback at Ohio State and now a professional star with the Detroit Lions, is joining the general agency of a Detroit life insurance company as brokerage manager. "Hoppy" will live in Birmingham and have offices in Detroit.

Tom Ridley, Southfield High's All-County Class A halfback and basketball scoring ace, is probably lost to the Jays for the rest of the season with a badly injured leg. Ridley, a junior, hurt his leg in the Farmington holiday tournament, then aggravated the injury last Friday on the same court.

Matmen Return Here March 5

Pro Wrestlers Coming Back for 3rd Program at City Armory

There's more good news today for Pontiac's professional wrestling fans. The grunt 'n' groan boys are coming here again, with the next show scheduled Wednesday, March 5, at the city Armory.

It will be the 3rd mat card of the year in the Armory ring. The bouts are sponsored by the 107th Ordnance Company of the Pontiac National Guard.

The feature match on the next program will be a "grudge" affair between Jim Hady and Red Donovan in a best-of-three falls outing with a one hour time limit.

Bob Marion will grapple with Dynamite Johnny Gates in the 1st bout and barefoot Al Warshawski meets The Crusher, the masked mystery man, to round out the show.

In last Wednesday's matches at the Armory, the Donovan Brothers, Red and Doug, defeated Hady and Joe Smith in an Australian tag-team brawl; Ted Marshall whipped Martino Angelo in the semi-windup and Dino Bravo and Irish Sampson battled to a draw.

West Side Classic Keglers Keep Rolling

Bowlers in the West Side Classic league exploded for some more big games this week with an outstanding team performance by 4th place 300 Lounge stealing the show.

Les Rothbarth's 725 series paced the Lounge and all competitors for the night. There were 11 other series of 600 or better and a total of 55 games over 200.

Bud Marohn hit 694, Al Pietz 669 and Max Bottom 651 to follow Rothbarth. The 300 team's scoring went as follows:

Jay Lovett	210	213	181	595
Bob Smith	204	224	199	627
Max Bottom	234	194	223	651
Les Rothbarth	224	258	243	725

Waterford-Walled Lake Renew Rivalry

Clarkston Has 'Knitting' Task

Most basketball championships in Oakland County area prep leagues have already been sewed up, but Clarkston still has some "knitting" to do in the Wayne - Oakland Conference.

The Wolves, beaten only once in 13 games and leading the W-O pack by a game and a half, hope to take a giant stride toward the same goal tonight by toppling troublesome Holly

Holly will be trying to pull its 2nd upset in a row and will have the friendly home floor for support. The Broncos dealt runnerup Northville a crippling defeat last week on their own court and now seek revenge for an earlier loss to Clarkston.

Defending co-champ with Northville, Clarkston needs one more win to clinch a tie for the title and two will take it all.

Waterford and Walled Lake renew their sizzling rivalry tonight on the Waterford court in one of the county's better attractions.

Nothing will be at stake except the glory of winning. Neither team has made any headway in the Inter-Lakes race, with Walled Lake attempting to evacuate the cellar and the Skippers fighting to stay out of it.

The Skippers won the 1st outing, a one - point decision in a wild thriller at Walled Lake.

Berkley, boasting a 10-game winning streak and its 3rd straight Inter-Lakes crown, plays host to Farmington and Southfield entertains Van Dyke.

It's all over in the Oakand B League where unbeaten Troy grabbed the honors for the 2nd successive time. Fitzgerald's 2nd place battle with Lake Orion at Orion is the feature match with Avondale at Madison and Troy at Clawson.

Two other area league races remain unsettled, the Eastern Michigan and South Central, but undefeated Imlay City is only one step away from an outright title in the Central circuit.

Ferndale, unbeaten in 11 starts could be headed for trouble. The Dales meet East Detroit in an Eastern Michigan struggle at East Detroit which will probably decide the whole affair.

The Dales lead the EML with a 7-0 record while the 2nd place Shamrocks are 6-1, Ferndale inflicting their lone setback. East Detroit is the defending titleholder.

South Central games this evening are North Branch at Oxford and Millington at Ortonville while the Southern Thumb schedule lists Capac at Dryden, Memphis at Brown City and Armada at New Haven.

Almont, which has won all the marbles in the Thumb loop, invades Imlay City tonight for a headline game. Other offerings of interest are Rochester at Centerline, Romeo at Lapeer and Lake Shore at Utica.

Bay City Quint Seeks First Win Against Chiefs

Flint Schools Battle in Key Game of SVC Title Chase

By BILL CORNWELL

What was supposed to be a push-over opponent for Pontiac Central High may turn out to be otherwise tonight when the Chiefs invade Bay City for a Saginaw Valley Conference basketball game.

Bay City, the Valley king in football but the doormat on the hardwoods, gave its most impressive performance of the season last Tuesday in a 63-60 loss to strong Flint Northern at Flint.

Northern, which has a Valley championship showdown with the Central Indians tonight at the Flint IMA, had tough going before the cellar-dwelling Wolves finally surrendered.

Head coach Bill Ullenbruch, who guided Walled Lake to the state semifinals last year before deciding to cast his lot with Bay City, called his team's showing "our best of the year."

The Chiefs conquered Bay City by a 66-46 margin in their 1st meeting on the Pontiac court, but they needed a 2nd half rush to do it. Bay City has a reputation as a rough home club and this time the Wolves are playing in friendly territory.

Pontiac has now lost all hope of successfully defending its SVC title. The best the Chiefs can do is finish 3rd and that will require a little cooperation from Saginaw High, the current occupant of that position.

Fourth place Pontiac is even at 4-4 while Saginaw stands 5-3 with each team having two league games left.

Pontiac wins over Bay City tonight and Northern here next Friday in combination with Saginaw losses to Arthur Hill and Flint Central would slip the Chiefs into 3rd place. Saginaw is at home this evening against city rival Arthur Hill.

The Chiefs must guard against complacency today, especially after last Tuesday's "breather." They didn't even work up a sweat in a 74-46 tuneup at the expense of Royal Oak Dondero for their 9th win in 14 games.

Tonight's Central-Northern collision could just about settle things in the Valley race. The two city foes are tied for the lead with 7-1 records as they tangle for the 2nd time this season.

Northern won the 1st match, a last-second 46-45 triumph for Central's only setback in 13 games. Northern's overall record is 10-2.

Chief Wrestlers at Home Tonight

Pontiac Central's wrestlers go after their 5th straight victory and eighth of the season tonight meeting Melvindale in the boys' gymnasium tonight at 7:30.

The match had originally been scheduled for Thursday at Melvindale but was changed due to an error in dates. Royal Oak Dondero meets Fitzgerald in the only other county action today.

Cranbrook chalked up its 5th triumph in seven starts yesterday by downing Flint Central 27-19 featuring pins by Gary Grikscheit, Jim Ludwig and Butch Heavenrich. The Cranes have one more match remaining.

5 Players Turn In Double-Figure Jobs

Only one game was played in Waterford Recreation Basketball League last night, but the 70-49 victory for Drayton Drugs was marked by double-figure scoring. Drugs solidified its 2nd place status with a 5-2 mark while loser Jaycees now stand 1-7. Winers led all the way.

Marshall O'Shaughnessy, Bob Pickett, John Collins each contributed 14 points. Ed Norris and Bob Thatcher had 12 each. For Jaycees the top count was Glen Haggard's 15.

Ryeson's and White Swan continue as co-leaders with 6-2 records.

Hunters Down Husky Coyote in Holly Area

First coyote to be taken in the Oakland county area in several years, according to conservation officers, was the husky, 40-pound (estimated) female downed in last weekend's fox hunt near Holly. Cliff Dreyer, Holly merchant who organized the hunt, and holds another, this weekend, says Officer Harold Stoll and others fully identified the animal as a coyote despite its reddish-tinged coat.

Don Osanpowski, 26151 Osmun, Madison Heights, shot the coyote, and will collect a $20 bounty. Stoll reported he had approved a bounty on a coyote from the same area, two years ago. Several of the animals have been seen in the section this winter, farmer George Bowren told Stoll.

Hunters didn't get any foxes. "They're too well fed to be out in the daytime," Dreyer said. "They are said to be going from two to five pounds heavier than usual."

Big 10 Leaders Home Saturday

Spartans to Host Wisconsin, 'M' in TV Feature

Wolverines vs. Wildcats at Ann Arbor; Indiana Battles Ohio State

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Big Ten's first three basketball teams have the home court advantage in tomorrow's games, and they pobably will need it.

First-place Michigan State (7-3) will try to repel Wisconsin (3-7). Purdue (6-4) is host to Minnesota (4-7) and Ohio State (7-5) entertains Indiana (5-4).

The afternoon regionally televised game sends Northwestern (5-5) to Michigan (4-5). Illinois (4-6) is at Iowa (5-4) for a night engagement rounding out the full slate.

Wisconsin normally would not be considered much of a threat to the Big Ten leaders. But the Badgers knocked off MSU 66-52 earlier this season and also hold a victory over Ohio State, 67-64.

The TV game (3:30 p.m. CST) brings together two of the conference's statistical leaders. Northwestern is the top scoring team with a 78.7 average and Michigan is the best rebounding unit, retrieving 54 a game.

Each has two scorers in the top 10. Northwestern's Phil Warren is seventh with 17.4 and Joe Ruklick 10th with 16.8. Michigan's Pete Tillotson is fifth with 20.4 and M. C. Burton ninth with 17.1. Burton is the league's second best rebounder, picking off 15.8 a game. In their first meeting, Northwestern won 93-72.

Purdue is undefeated in four home conference starts but Minnesota is determined to end this string. The Gophers upset Purdue 83-76 in the conference opener and have the loop's No. 2 scorer, George Kline, with a 23.2 average.

Westerman Bucks 'Any Trout' Plan

Wales Pushes Bill

LANSING (AP) — Armed with letters and telegrams from fish authorities across the nation, Rep. Gilbert L. Wales (D-Stambaugh) said he would not abandon his proposal to remove the size limit on trout without a fight.

Wales' controversial measure was sent to the House floor by the fish and fisheries committee yesterday without recommendation for passage or rejection.

Fred A. Westerman, fisheries chief of the state conservation department, testified against the bill, branding it as a potential threat to brook trout in some of Michigan's choice streams. To abandon the seven - inch minimum, he said, would allow anglers to keep many fish not yet of spawning age.

Wales produced letters and telegrams from the 20 states having no size restrictions. One from Hjalmar O. Swenson, Minnesota fisheries supervisor, said size restrictions in his state were abandoned in 1928.

"We find that the majority of trout fishermen use fairly good judgment in returning small trout which are not damaged and that there would be very little difference in the take if we had a six-inch limit in effect," Swenson said.

"Advantages in not having a minimum size limit on any species of fish are that the regulations are simpler for the angler and many fish which would otherwise be wasted are kept and used."

Seth Gordon, fish and game director in California, reported that fish experts there favor no restriction "because a large percentage of small trout taken, especially with bait, are killed when unhooked."

Authorities in other states having no limits, such as Massachusetts and Delaware, declined to take a stand on the issue, saying trout stocking in their states is strictly on a "put and take basis." Those relying also on biological reproduction, such as Michigan, might find a size restriction worthwhile, they said.

OCSC Nominations Go Before Members

At the Feb. 26 membership meeting for OCSC, nominating committee recommendations for the list of candidates for the 1958 club officers will be presented for approval.

Entertainment will include a fine color film on the northern trails, across Upper Michigan to Canada's Lake of the Woods. It was made by General Motors Walter Frederiksen, and took two years in the filming. It covers much territory, from Mackinac, Lake Superior, Bond Falls, Munising, on to Duluth and to Lake Itaska, source of the Mississippi, and on to Lake of the Woods.

Members may take guests.

Globetrotters Are Coming

Those zany Harlem Globetrotters are coming to Pontiac again, folks.

Yes, the fabulous basketball magicians are on their way back, bringing along their usual bag of tricks, comedy and other assorted nonsense, plus a halftime vaudeville act for variety's sake.

The date is Sunday, March 2, the time is 7:30 p.m. and the place is the Pontiac Central High School gymnasium.

This will mark the 3rd straight visit here for the traveling court wizards and once again their appearance will be made under the auspices of the Pontiac Lions Club.

Headlining the Trotters' talented personnel this trip will be "Meadow" Lemon, the madcap clown who gets the laughs formerly reserved for Reese (Goose) Tatum. The Trotters are also introducing

"Tarzan" Spencer, their 6-foot-7 rookie.

Proceeds from the show are earmarked for the Lions Club sight-saving program and other benefits for the blind.

The last two Trotter shows were sellouts and everyone is urged to buy a ticket as soon as possible. Tickets are available at Calbi Music Co., 119 N. Saginaw, and Grinnell Bros., 27 S. Saginaw.

Walled Lake's Van Sicklen Wins

Southfield I-L Mat King

Southfield had only two individual winners as against seven for Berkley but added six 2nd places to pull out a narrow victory in the hard-fought Inter-Lakes Conference wrestling meet yesterday at Berkley.

The Bluejays compiled 106 points to 104 for the Bears to win the handsome team trophy in the 1st such event ever held. Farmington was not far behind in 3rd place with 91 points, Walled Lake had 41, Waterford 30 and Van Dyke 15.

Giant Dave Marsh's victory in the heavyweight class clinched the prize for Southfield. Dave Butler, 95 pounds, was the other winner for the champs. Walled Lake's Dennis Van Sicklen, 175, was the only individual victor not on the top three teams. Jim Marsh and Amos Deaven paced Farmington.

The summary:

Grill Team Handed 1st Defeat, 52-46

Griff's Grill suffered its first loss of the season last night, a 52-46 setback at the hands of Booth Homes in a Class B City League basketball game on the Pontiac Central Court.

Gary Shore sparked Booth's offensive efforts with 18 points. Gerland Spankler scored 11 for Griff's, which entered the game with 11 straight wins.

In Class A action yesterday at PCH, Harvey Rowe tallied 17 points as the league-leading Lakeside Royals dumped the CIO, 79 71, for their 10th win in 12 games. Scoring honors went to CIO's Hudson Ray who netted 21.

Chiefs Prep for First Test

Champions Eye '58 Season

By H. GUY MOATS

In just a little more than a month from now, PCH track coach Dean Wilson will have some answers to hopes for a successful 1958 season for his state championship squad.

Conditioning has just begun in the halls and gymnasium at Pontiac Central High, for some 50 candidates, led by two 1957 Michigan high school champions. This number will be swelled at the close of basketball by thin-clads now members of the varsity and jayvee squads.

At this point, Wilson says, "we can have a very good team. But we can't tell too much until after the Huron Relays on March 29, at Ypsilanti."

Eight lettermen and two transfers may provide the top area of performance for the coming season.

Larry Beamer, who climaxed a fine year in 1957 with the MHSAA half-mile championship, and the 1957 state king, Rog Coats, head the list. They are co-captains.

Bobby Manning, Detroit Western sprint star, and hurdler Dan Sowell, another Detroit transfer, are expected to lend strength in events where help is needed. Manning has been under 10 seconds in the hundred. Sowell, former Pontiac resident, is rated a fast performer in both high and low sticks.

While Chiefs will not have another high-jump combination like Hud Ray and Alex Barge, Michigan's No. 1 and No. 2 in 1957, the next best jumper in the state will be back. Fred Brooks, who has shown promise of getting into the 6-3, and 6-4 bracket will have Charley Barge, younger brother of the sensational little Alex and Arzo Carson, up from the jayvees, to help out. Both are rated at six feet or better.

Pete Cox, steady half-miler; hard-working Joe Hill, in the dashes, are others on whom Wilson will lean heavily.

Middle-distance strength is one big need. "Guess we'll have to come up with some good sophomores, to round out this department," Wilson says.

Better depth is looked for in the pole vault where PCH lacked strength last spring, with Bob Finley back, and Columbus White, ineligible in 1957 available, along with Mike McClusky.

Important on the Chiefs' schedule, beside state and Valley meets, are the indoor championships at Central Michigan college on April 11; the nationally-rated Mansfield Ohio Relays on April 19-20; Monroe Relays (new event for PCH) May 10, and the University of Detroit Relays (new for PCH) on May 31.

Others meets include:

April 15 — at Flint Central
April 22 — at Grosse Pointe
April 25 — Flint Northern here
April 29 — Waterford here
May 9 — Valley meet at Arthur Hill
May 17 — State regionals
May 24 — State finals at Ann Arbor

Canadien 'Rocket' No Dud

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If there's an anti-Rocket rocket missing from the Cape Canaveral testing grounds today, blame it—with a grin, of course—on the National Hockey League.

Maurice "The Rocket" Richard is back, and it's again obvious that no human defense is going to stop him.

Sidelined for three months with an almost-severed Achilles' tendon, the greatest goal scorer in pro hockey history returned to the Montreal Canadiens and there wasn't a bit of rust. The 36-year-old Rocket fired in two goals in leading the Canadiens to a 4-0 victory over the Boston Bruins.

Montreal's runaway leaders, who held up very well in Richard's absence, are now 24 points in front of the second place New York Rangers.

The best crowd of the Montreal season, 14,528, turned out at the Forum to greet Richard and he needed only a bit more than 12 minutes to give them what they had come to see. At 12:21, he scored his first goal, and 12th of the season, on assists from brother Henri "Pocket Rocket" Richard and Dickie Moore, the NHL's leading scorer. Richard's second goal came at 5:32 of the second period, again with Henri and Moore assisting.

* * *

The shutout, almost overlooked by Richard's return, was the ninth of the season for goalie Jacques Plante, who made 24 saves. Jean Beliveau and Claude Provost scored Montreal's other goals.

Pontiac Dog in Nationals

GRAND JUNCTION, Tenn. (AP) — Three pointers and a setter make their bids today in the national championship field trials.

The braces:

Farmers' Flak, owned by J.S. Farmer of Pontiac, Mich., and Turnto, The Setter, owned by George Feltman of Union City, Ind.

Former champion Palamonium, owned by Jimmy Hinton of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and Tyrolean, owned by W.S. Gabhard, Harrodsburg, Ky.

Only two dogs were put down yesterday as the annual trial — blue ribbon stake of the bird dog circuit — got under way after a three-day postponement due to ice and snow.

Defending champion is Wayriel Allegheny Sport, owned by R. D. Riggins and Dr. J. A. Bays of Knoxville.

Yankee hurlers gave only 19 intentional bases on balls in 1957. Cleveland pitchers paced the American League with 59 walks on purpose.

Party Plans to Cross Africa by Water

JOHANNESBURG, S. A.—In an attempt to be the first ever to cross Africa by water, Dr. Dan Marais will head a 14-man expedition leaving in early 1958, Johannesburg reports. The 3,350-mile trip will take three months, he estimates.

The "voyage," 90 per cent of which will be by water, will start at the mouth of the Zambesi River at Chinde on the Indian Ocean coast of Mozambique. It will soon branch off to the Shire River which leads to Lake Nyasa. Thence the party will travel to Lake Tanganyika branching westward to the Lukugar River and the Belgian Congo. The Lukugar flows into the Lualaba, a tributary of the Congo River which reaches the Atlantic at Banana.

Three members chosen for the expedition are Americans.

Stocks Display Downslide Tone

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market drifted lower in quiet dealings early today.

Key issues were down fractions to a point.

No particular selling pressure existed in any sector of the market. A few stocks posted gains.

Steels, rubbers, farm implements, rails, base metals, oils and utilities were generally lower. Motors and mail orders showed little change.

The news background included a drop in department store sales during the latest week and a decline in new orders for freight cars in January to the lowest monthly level since March 1954.

Youngstown Sheet dropped more than a point. Caterpillar fell about a point. Fractional losses were taken by U.S. Steel, General Motors, American Telephone, Baltimore & Ohio, American Smelting and Union Carbide.

Grumman paid a higher dividend than in December and rose a point. Lorillard and American Tobacco rose fractions. R. J. Reynolds, although its 1957 sales passed the billion dollar mark, was off a bit.

Opening blocks included Shell Transport & Trading off ⅛ at 17⅝ on 2,700 shares; General Dynamics off ⅜ at 60⅜ on 2,000; United Dye & Chemical off ⅛ at 17⅛ on 3,100; and General Electric up ¼ at 60½ on 1,100.

American stock exchange prices were generally lower. Creole Petroleum, Humble Oil, General Plywood, Firth Sterling and Bailey Selburn declined.

Corporate bonds were mixed.

Burroughs' Sales Soar but Earnings Drop

DETROIT (AP) — Burroughs Corp reports total sales in 1957 reached a record high of $282,773,950 but net earnings dropped from $14,197,021 in 1956 to $10,074,594 last year.

The company said higher material costs and wages cut down earnings in 1957.

It said a "substantial part" of 1957 sales were in "the more automatic and complex line of products" developed by the company.

Wheat Makes Sudden Spurt

CHICAGO (AP)—A sudden burst of buying sent prices of the new crop wheat contracts sharply higher on the Board of Trade today after a weak opening.

Within a few minutes after buying began, first pinpointed on the July delivery, all the new crop deliveries were around a cent a bushel higher.

Trading was at a fast clip in the wheat pit, but about moderate in soybeans and other grains which also firmed up after a weak opening.

Near the end of the first hour, however, the strong demand for wheat appeared to be burning out. At that time wheat was ⅛ lower to ⅝ higher, March $2.18⅝; corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, March $1.11¼, oats ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, March 65¼; rye 1 cent higher to ¼ lower March $1.30½; soybeans unchanged to ⅛ higher, March $2.22¼; lard 10 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $12.85.

Ionia State Hospital Frees Mrs. Hermiz

IONIA (AP) — Mrs. Victoria Hermiz of Detroit was declared legally sane today and ordered released from Ionia State Hospital. Eighteen months ago she was cleared of a charge of murdering her husband on the grounds of insanity.

Circuit Judge Morris K. Davis ruled after testimony by three psychiatrists.

Mrs. Hermiz, 30, and a friend 20-year-old Maurice Hamilton were tried in July, 1956, for the murder of her husband Aziz Hermiz Haisha.

FOUR TOWNS TALENT SHOW — Curtain time is nearing for some 250 Four Towns Elementary School children. They'll be in the school's annual Talent Show to be presented Saturday evening at Waterford High School. This year's production, entitled "Four Towns Southern Plantation," will be an old-fashioned minstrel show. Here, Emcee Robert Lamb of 1536 Wilmot St., West Bloomfield Township, and dancer Mary Ann Williams of 1280 Sanatorium Dr., Waterford, go over routine and program cues.

Gets Big Kiss From His Gal

'Moon Man' Farrell Given Eventful Welcome Home

NEW YORK (AP)—"Moon Man" Donald Farrell, the airman who just spent a week on a simulated trip to the earth's lunar companion, came back to his home town today to a welcome just about as great as if he's made the trip for real.

The 23-year-old Farrell found a number of surprises in store for him—not the least of which was a kissful reunion with his girl friend, Joann Burden of Niagara Falls, N. Y.

This romantic reunion took place in front of the television cameras of NBC's "Today" program a few hours after Farrell arrived by plane from Texas.

After an interview concerning his experiences during the make-believe moon trip at the Air Force school of medicine at San Antonio, Tex., TV master of ceremonies Dave Garroway told Farrell: "There's a young lady here who's been following your activities with a good deal of interest. Have you seen her lately?"

"Look right over there, then," said Garroway. Farrell bounced up and strode across the studio to greet Miss Burden with a hug and a kiss.

Garroway, resuming the interview a bit later, asked Farrell what he planned to do now. The airman said he hoped to return to college this fall. His Air Force tour of duty ends then.

"Will you get married some day?" Garroway inquired.

"I hope so," said Farrell, but replied "No" when asked if the date had been set.

Farrell's next two weeks are going to be just the opposite of the seven days he spent alone in the close confinement of a small chamber designed to represent the control chamber of a space ship on a moon trip.

He'll be flying high, wide and handsome—and maybe just about as far, when it's all said and done.

The 6-foot airman, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Farrell of the Bronx, will appear on a number of radio and TV shows, tour the stock exchange, be the guest of honor at a luncheon given by the investment firm for which his father works, and appear at numerous other functions.

Saturday has been proclaimed as Airman Donald C. Farrell Day in the Bronx by the borough president, James J. Lyons, who was on hand at the airport to greet Farrell along with the airman's parents.

Later Farrell will to to Washington to meet with Air Force scientists, and be the guest of honor at an Air Force Assn. dinner.

Asking Approval of School Levy

Waterford Vote in June to Decide Fate of Tax for Operation

Waterford Township residents will be asked to approve the continuance for five years of five-mills for school operation, at the annual school election in June.

This recommendation was approved at Thursday night's regular Board of Education meeting, and is a continuance of millage approved by voters in 1954 to run until 1958.

Superintendent of Schools William Shurick explained that the township school system was now meeting all expenses for operation in spite of cost increases.

If the five mills were not continued, he said, it would mean a decrease of $387,446 in the school budget.

The five mills represent $5 on every $1,000 of assessed valuation. This is figured on state equalized values, not those of the county on which township taxes are paid.

The school system was allocated 8.2 mills last year under the 15-mill consitutional limitation. With the additional 5 mill voted increase, the total school millage for operation costs this year was 13.2 mills.

An additional 12.4 mills was levied last year for retirement of school construction bonds.

Willys Motors Given Jeep Order for India

TOLEDO, O. — Receipt of the largest single order for "Jeep" vehicles from the United States government since World War II has announced here today by S. W. Connelly, director of government sales for Willys Motors, Inc.

The government, he said, has contracted to purchase 1,763 units and parts at a cost of $3,108,227. The units were purchased by the International Cooperation Administration for delivery to the government of India under the U.S. mutual security program.

A total of 948 Universal "Jeep" vehicles will be assembled by Mahindra and Mahindra, Willys licensee in Bombay.

Six hundred forty "Forward Control 'Jeep' FC-150" trucks and 175 "Jeep" vehicles will be assembled in Toledo and delivered to Bombay, Calcutta and Madras.

Adjourns Examination of Ecorse Policeman

DETROIT (INS)—Common Pleas Judge L. Eugene Sharp today adjourned the examination of an Ecorse police lieutenant and two other men, accused of conspiracy to fraudulently issue driver's licenses, and agreed to hear motions to dismiss the charges.

The defendants were Dt. Lt. and Edgar Boyd, 46, who were arand Edgar Boyd, 45, who were arrested following disclosure auto driver's licenses were being sold to unqualified applicants in Ecorse for $25 to $45.

Motor Vehicle Output Dropping to '58 Low

DETROIT (AP)—Ward's Automotive Reports said today motor vehicle output will drop this week to the lowest level of the year so far.

The agency said U. S. output will consist of 94,573 cars and 17,476 trucks, against 101,656 cars and 18,709 trucks last week. In the like 1957 week 138,938 cars and 23,342 trucks were built.

Every company except American Motors, which worked five days, reported closedowns this week. The sharpest reductions in output, Ward's said, were felt by Chevrolet and Ford divisions.

The agency said, however, that all the closedowns were not the result of production cutbacks. Some were due to worker absenteeism caused by severe weather. Chrysler Corp. operations in Detroit were affected by labor troubles.

Canadian output this week will consist of 6,500 cars and 1,155 trucks compared with 7,185 cars and 1,201 trucks last week.

Science Applicants Should Be Screened

LAS VEGAS, N. M., (INS) — The president of a small New Mexico college warns that pushing students indiscriminately into science courses may hinder rather than help the nation's progress.

Dr. Thomas C. Donnelly, president of Highlands University in Las Vegas, N. M., termed a mass crash program for science and engineering education "sheer nonsense."

He said such a program would slow development of the able and gifted students to the pace of the mediocre and incompetent pupils.

Dr. Donnelly, noting the Russians carefully screen science and engineering students, calls for improved selection of students in the U. S. who show aptitudes for scientific training.

Special Railroad Cars Move Transformers

SHARON, Pa. — Since utilities are ordering such large electric transformers, the railroads are having trouble delivering them. One manufacturer has designed a railroad car in three parts to help solve the problem.

The design calls for the center part to be the actual load the car is carrying. The technique is said to give a lower clearance for underpasses and to permit shipment of units weighing up to 500,000 pounds.

ENCHANTED EVENING — Cyril Ritchard, Anna Maria Alberghetti and Sal Mineo head the glittering cast of CBS-TV's 90-minute color musical, "Aladdin," to be presented tonight from 7:30 to 9. The Show of the Month, which features Cole Porter's first television score, also stars Dennis King, Basil Rathbone, Howard Morris and Una Merkel.

Country's Being Run by Wife's Beauticians

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Do you know that this country is run by dictators? Called beauticians?

I'm confident that when Ike tells Mamie he's going to Moscow some Thursday to have a summit conference with Khrushchev and punch the bum in the nose, Mamie's going to say, "Now, Duhhhhhwightttt Dee Eisenhower — you KNOW I ALWAYS get my hair set on Thursday—we'll have to go on Friday!"

WILSON

And so Khrushchev, the last great dictator, will yield to the dictator greater than he is — a hairdresser.

Since my beautiful wife's become a redhead, I've noticed this more than before. Beauty parlor dates with "Franklin," the man who runs my life, seems to have been made when my B. W. was a little girl and are sacred.

Rita Hayworth, if the truth were known, postponed her honeymoon with Jim Hill because she had a date with a hair stylist which seemed awfully, awfully important to her.

Perry Como's writing genius, Goodman Ace, is afflicted with this. His wife, Jane, stayed over two weeks in Florida — at a cost of around $1,000 — to get an appointment with her favorite beautician there.

Evidently our womenfolk are so beauty-mad that the beauticians are booked for weeks ahead. My barefoot Wife has been known to cable from Istanbul or Rio de Janeiro to apologize to Franklin, and to beg him to give her a two week from Tuesday instead of next Tuesday.

And then there are the Ava Gardners and the Grace Kellys who own a beautician outright. The TV dolls like Patti Page and Polly Bergen don't care about how much money they get from the networks—as long as they get Ernie Adler to do their hair.

Husbands whose wives haven't dyed their crowning glory may not have noticed this so much. But when the wife turns blond or redhead, then, men, she'll start getting "to the roots of the matter."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Nona Van Tosh, today's Wilson Girl Nominee, a descendant of Nathan Hale (who lives on Beekman Hill as he did) says: "Way down deep, most men are shallow."

Harry Belafonte underwent surgery on his right eye; this time it was for "cosmetic purposes" . . . A N. Y. cafe sent customers home in a horse-drawn sleigh. (The snow clobbered business — one famous place took in 75 cents at the bar) . . . Polly Bergen's TV'er was renewed.

MONA

Sabrina, Britain's Jayne Mansfield (who'll be on the Steve Allen show), signs her letters, "With bust wishes" . . .

EARL'S PEARLS: The first thing a man makes in his home workshop is a mess.

'Miss America' Has Drawbacks

Beauty Must Struggle to Win Recognition in Serious Roles

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Presumably it is the dream of many an American girl to be chosen Miss America at 19.

Well, in 1955 a beautiful and talented girl named Lee Ann Meriwether of San Francisco, Calif., was chosen the Miss America of that year with much fanfare at Atlantic City, N.J.

She was delighted because the money she received would help her realize her life-long ambition of becoming an actress.

Today she still hopes to achieve recognition as a first-rate actress.

"But," she says, "I think it's a real disadvantage to me as an actress ever to have been chosen a Miss America."

Recently, in her most important television dramatic role to date, she played the feminine lead on "The Millionaire."

NO BATHING SUIT

Although the story is part had a tropical beach setting—seemingly an opportunity to put Miss Meriwether in a bathing suit—she appears, instead, in a tweedy riding costume. And that is precisely the way she demands it.

For the Meriwether pledge runs something like this: "Although I love to swim, I will not appear in a bathing suit. Although I love to work, I will not pose for any 'cheesecake' pictures.

"Although I'm aware of the advantages of publicity, I think there are real disadvantages to publicity that in any way tries to be 'sensational.'"

Miss Meriwether, who is studying acting with Lee Strasberg, cannot understand why so many people in show business fail to realize that the Miss America contests these years involve girls with talent as well as pulchritude.

"I want to be a good actress," she says, "and if I can't be one, I don't want to be an actress at all. I also want a home and husband and family, and I don't see why one goal excludes the other."

Lee Ann is engaged to actor Frank Aletter and is planning a July wedding in San Francisco.

India Strives to Solve Naga Hills Problem

NEW DELHI, India—India's Lok Sabha (Congress) has moved toward creating a separate government unit including the Naga Hills of Assam, where the native tribemen have been in rebellion against the Government of India ever since it was formed. The Naga Hills will not be made a separate state, however.

The area has a population of about 350,000 and very little income, as the tribes are largely nomadic and their chiefs prey on each other as well as on communities which live within the laws. Indian leaders emphasize the need of keeping the door open for discussions with hostile leaders in the hope that eventually the area may be stabilized.

There are other hill areas in Assam whose leaders also are making demands for self-government, New Delhi pointed out.

Ann Arbor to Aid NBC in Educational Series

NEW YORK (AP)—NBC will initiate another group of educational television programs for noncommercial stations.

The programs, to be presented in cooperation with the Educational Television and Radio Center at Ann Arbor, Mich., will be transmitted live to interconnected ed- March 24.

Sheba's Day Curse Shut Copper Mine?

RHODESIA — A curse said to have existed since the Queen of Sheba's days is credited with closing a copper mine in Rhodesia, Salisbury reports.

Officially, the shutdown was due to underground streams which burst in and flooded workings below 500 feet, and to the low price of copper. But even mining officials say that a powerful mining group has been unable, with modern science, to beat the hoodoo of the Kanshanshi mine.

Slaves dug into the side of this rich hill to make copper bracelets for the Queen of Sheba's Court. Legend says the Queen put a curse on anyone who took copper for any one but her. For centuries no African would go near the hill. Now millions have been poured into the project, with nothing but hard luck.

Goat Sits on Haunches

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

It couldn't be more decisive. Pontiac area record shops are unanimous in their choice of Chuck Berry's "Sweet Little Sixteen" as the number one seller around these parts this week . . . and by a larger margin than they picked it by last week.

A good lap behind is "It's Too Soon to Know" by Pat Boone in second place. Then it gets close.

"Twenty-Six Miles" by the Four Preps is a step behind in third, just nosing out "Are You Sincere" by Andy Williams in fourth.

The fifth slot is a deadlock between a new one "The Walk" by Jimmy McCracklin and "Short Shorts" by the Royal Teens which is finally dropping back into oblivion.

ALBUMS: Who said Frank Sinatra was a "jazz singer?" Not me!! Sorry, cats, but the term "jazz" has been used far too loosely by too many jokers who secretly suppose themselves hip. Jazz has come a long way and widened its scope, but when it begins to include basically commercial pop singers in its bloodstream, all dignity is lost!

Sinatra, who occasionally slips over into the jazz field, stays commercial enough to assure his pockets will remain jingling with gold.

He does this, with a good deal of success in his "Come Fly With Me" LP (Capitol W-920). The album is excellently done technically, instrumentally, and vocally.

Johnny Mathis, who looks like possibly the next big find of this decade, does well on his new LP, "Warm" (Columbia CL-1078). This boy can stand squarely on his pegs and sing loud or soft without clapping his hands or subjecting his audience to an amateur tumbling act. His LP is selling well in Pontiac.

THE JAZZ NEST: Several LP's recently hatched are doing well in the Pontiac area. All fall into the progressive/modern field and are well executed.

Heading the list is "Music From Pal Joey" (Contemporary 3543) by Andre Previn and his Pals. Smooth and swingin' all the way, the group gives new life to the music under consideration.

"Zoot Sims Plays Four Altos" (ABC-Paramount 198) isn't to be left unheard. There's a lot of good work here and fans are throwing their dollars in this direction. The other best seller locally is "The Chico Hamilton Quintet in Hi-Fi" (Pacific Jazz PJ-1216). All are good to the ears and deserving of attention.

Buying a car?

MY BANK PLAN MAY SAVE YOU $100 ON FINANCING AND AUTO INSURANCE

Before you buy that car, just tell me on the phone the total costs of the car, the financing and the insurance. Within five minutes I'll call you back and tell you what it will cost you to buy, finance, and insure the same car through my Bank Plan. Chances are, for exactly the same deal, it'll be $100 less! I know it's hard to believe — but it's worth a phone call, isn't it? There is no obligation.

Big Road Trains to Haul Cattle on Long Drives

CANBERRA—"Road trains" for use in transporting beef cattle over long distances in central and northern Australia have been developed by an Australian meat-packing firm.

Two of the "trains," each 140 feet long and fitted with supercharged diesel engines, are at the Helen Springs cattle ranch, 410 miles from Adelaide, where they will operate from a self-contained base.

The trains, said to be the longest in the world and the only type for carriage of livestock only, will travel thousands of miles transporting nearly 20,000 cattle this year. They are expected to cut stock losses on long cattle drives by 100 per cent and to virtually eliminate weight loss in transported cattle.

Do FALSE TEETH Rock, Slide or Slip?

FASTEETH, an improved powder to be sprinkled on upper or lower plates, holds false teeth more firmly in place. Do not slide, slip or rock. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. FASTEETH is alkaline (non-acid). Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Seeks Solution to Tunisia Crisis

Robert Murphy Leaves for Europe in Attempt to Relieve Tension

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deputy Undersecretary of State Robert Murphy leaves for London, Paris and Tunis today to help seek a solution for the French-Tunisian crisis.

U.S. officials hope—but without very much optimism—that some way to relieve the situation may be found fairly quickly. They fear that prolonged tension may create a new political crisis in the French government.

There is increasing behind-the-scenes talk here that the French government at Paris and French military authorities in North Africa are pulling in different directions. This could make it difficult to prevent new, inflammatory incidents. Some authorities are convinced such a conflict of views has already figured in past incidents.

France and Tunisia earlier this week agreed to use the "good offices" of the United States and Britain in an attempt to find some way out of their bitter dispute. The trouble between them began a week ago when French aircraft from Algeria bombed a Tunisian border village because, the French claim, it harbored Algerian rebels in military installations. A number of lesser incidents since then have kept tension high.

Secretary of State Dulles discussed the situation for more than an hour with senior members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee headed by Chairman Green (D-RI).

It was understood that Dulles did not hold out any hope of a quick solution.
