Six Die as Blast Shatters Home Near Milford

Snow Clogs Up Main Arteries at Rush Hour

Storm Drops 3 Inches on Area; One Accident Blamed on Weather

A heavier-than-expected snowstorm dropped 3 inches of clingy white stuff on the Pontiac area between 1:30 a. m. and 8 a. m. today.

Work-bound motorists traveled main roads at a snail's pace. The one county accident blamed on weather conditions injured two men and caused a major traffic tie-up on M24.

A 2-mile string of vehicles was stopped for about 20 minutes after two autos collided 200 feet north of Bald Mountain road.

The weather forecast is for snow flurries and colder temperatures today. Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday.

The Oakland County Road Commission had 70 plows and 25 trucks out last night, according to Road Superintendent Oscar Loomis.

Main roads were generally clear by noon Loomis stated, but warned that some secondary roads remained slippery.

From 3 a.m. to 5 a.m. the road crews reported the heaviest snowfall experienced yet this year, said Loomis.

The Pontiac Department of Public Works had eight plows and 60 men working all night, according to Office Manager Arthur Hilliker.

Utility companies, who are troubled mainly by sleet and high winds, said the snowstorm had caused no service breakdowns.

The Detroit Weather Bureau reports this area's total snowfall so far this month is 8.5 inches. The average for February is 9.4.

Temperatures predicted for tomorrow are a high of 28-33 and a low of 20-24. Tonight's low is expected to be 18-22.

In downtown Pontiac yesterday the thermometer hit a low 16 and high of 33.

The mercury stood at 33 at 8 a.m. today and had climbed to only 34 by 2 p. m.

Rabies Clinics Slated Sunday

Dr. Monroe Lists Six County Centers for Dog Vaccinations

Second date for rabies vaccination clinics was announced today by Dr. John D. Monroe, Oakland County health director.

Dog owners may have their pets vaccinated for $1.50 at any of six centers to be set up Sunday from 1 to 4 p. m. The non-profit program is sponsored jointly by the Oakland County Veterinarians' Assn. and the County Health Department.

At last week's clinics, a total of 1,713 dogs received shots from local veterinarians participating on a volunteer basis at six centers.

Independence Township Fire Hall, Church street, Clarkston, J. W. Eastman, D.V.M.

Walled Lake, J. A. Taylor Garage, 142 E. Walled Lake Dr., Lyle Moffit, D.V.M.

Dr. Monroe reminded county residents that they must have vaccination records before they can obtain licenses for their dogs.

Unit Gives OK on Statehood for Alaska, Hawaii

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interior Committee voted 19-6 today to admit both Alaska and Hawaii as states.

Committee approval cleared the bill for action by the House when and if the Rules Committee gives it clearance.

Approval of the bill, which lacks administration endorsement in its combined form, was voted by 10 Democrats and 9 Republicans and moved the issue toward an uncertain fate. Four Democrats and 2 Republicans voted "no."

President Eisenhower wants immediate statehood for Hawaii but has said action on Alaska should be delayed until that territory's "complex problems" have been solved.

Detroit May Be 4th Largest City in U.S.

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Alfred Cobo said today that Detroit may have recaptured from Los Angeles the distinction of being the fourth largest city in the U. S.

Mayor Cobo told Walter S. Schmidt of Cincinnati, a member of the Urban Land Institute, that city officials believe Detroit's population is now 2,033,928, compared to the 1950 census figure of 1,-850,000.

Three Anti-Red Romanians Surrender Legation Today

Capt. Hermann Alboth of the Swiss Army said there were only three men in the building at the end and the fourth man was "only a bluff."

The three men were between 27 and 35 years of age. They refused to give their names. Police said the leader of the band told them his father had been killed by the Russians in Romania.

The group, which slew the legation chauffeur when he resisted them early Tuesday, had vowed to hold the legation buildings in this capital of neutral Switzerland until their Red homeland freed five resistance leaders.

Surrender of the men in face of a police ultimatum ended an occupation which started at 10 p.m. Monday night. The men forced their way into the legation, held several attaches and their families prisoner for several hours and fatally wounded the chauffeur, Aurel Sedu.

The men will face trial in Switzerland for the killing of the chauffeur. It is understood, however, the Swiss government—as part of the capitulation deal—had indicated that extradition to Romania as demanded by the Communist Romanian government, would not be granted. The surrender came after a Catholic priest visited two of the men.

Police had been prepared to proceed with a planned campaign to eject the band from the building forcibly. Police officials, under pressure from the Swiss government to get the men out of the building quickly, had even called in army tank experts to survey the terrain around the legation. The tank men agreed that a large scale evacuation of the neighboring premises would have been necessary.

What persuaded the band to give up just as the ultimate deadline passed was not immediately learned.

Desert A-Tests Delayed Again

Unfavorable Weather Prevents AEC Blasts in Nevada Today

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS) — The multi-million dollar project "Operation Teapot" was delayed by nature again today while scientists met to determine when the weather will allow them to fire the opening atomic blast in a new series of tests on the Nevada desert.

The Atomic Energy Commission announced shortly before midnight that the initial detonation in the $30,000,000 current series was postponed "for 24 hours" for the second time because of unfavorable weather.

The AEC said wind direction and speed were not considered "acceptable" for the test, which originally was scheduled for Tuesday morning, just before daybreak, but was delayed because of the wind.

The forecast for today was for winds up to 100 knots at higher altitudes, blowing toward Glendale and Maope, two small communities east of the test site, which is 70 miles north of Las Vegas.

The AEC said the test organization would meet again today to determine whether another try will be made to shoot the atomic blast on Thursday morning.

When the blast is fired, 1,100 troops will be huddled in trenches only 4,000 yards from "ground zero," the area immediately below the explosion, and 100 aircraft will participate.

The postponement came because scientists feared that the high winds might blow the 'Mother Colony' of Island Group Sees Princess

BASSETERRE, St. Kitts (AP)—Touring Princess Margaret landed today at this "mother colony" of the British West Indies for a one-day visit.

The British frigate Bigbury Bay fired a 21-gun salute as the royal yacht Britannia, carrying Margaret on her month-long good will cruise through the Caribbean, arrived.

A light rain was falling but the sun broke through as she anchored, and the day was bright and hot for Margaret's busy round of sightseeing and official activities.

St. Kitts, government seaport of the Leeward Islands, reputedly was discovered by Columbus in 1493. The site of the first British settlement in the West Indies, it was colonized in 1623.

Pan Am Giving China Wide Berth on Flights

MANILA (AP) — Pan American World Airways is giving the Communist Chinese coastline a wide berth on its flights between Tokyo, Hong Kong and Bangkok, the company said today.

Pan Am said the closest the Clippers come to the Red mainland is 120 miles. That is while passing Hainan Island, where a Cathay Airways plane was shot down last year by Communist Chinese fighters.

Report Buildup Opposite Islands

Formosa Sources Tell of Reds Massing Near Quemoy, Matsu

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Political quarters here spoke today of a threatening Communist buildup on the mainland opposite Nationalist Chinese Matsu and Quemoy islands. Defense Ministry sources said they couldn't confirm it.

The political sources said the Reds were bringing up big guns to mainland points near Quemoy, and deploying troops opposite Matsu. Quemoy and Matsu block the Red harbors of Amoy and Foochow.

Most quarters here feel it is entirely possible the Reds might unleash a big bombardment of Quemoy before the Manila Pact nations open their conference in Bangkok Feb. 23.

There were no reports of any military action in the offshore islands from Nanchishan in the north to Quemoy.

A ship carrying 700 civilians from Nanchishan arrived in Keelung harbor. Many were dependents of servicemen. The ship also brought about 100 Nationalist soldiers, some requiring medical care and others brought to Formosa on rotation.

Nationalist quarters repeatedly have emphasized that Chiang Kai-shek's forces do not intend to abandon Nanchishan as they did the Tachens.

AEC Tells of Drifting A-Death Clouds From H-Bombs and Suggests Shelters

WASHINGTON (AP)—If a hydrogen bomb of the type the United States tested almost a year ago should explode over your house, the drifting poison cloud would kill all exposed persons up to 140 miles downwind.

Perhaps 5 to 10 persons would die out of every 100 as far as 190 miles away in the direction the wind was blowing. This deadly zone of radiation would be in the shape of a long cigar up to 20 miles wide.

There would be serious danger in an area of 7,000 square miles. By comparison, the state of New Jersey contains 7,836 square miles.

But, the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) said late yesterday in reporting these estimates, any kind of shelter would reduce the peril.

After an intensive study of the radiation effects from the H-bomb detonated at Bikini Atoll in the Pacific last March 1, the AEC reported that:

1. An area about 140 by 20 miles was so contaminated by radioactive particles from the cloud drifting downwind that no one in it would have survived unless he fled to shelter or took protective measures.

2. At a point 10 miles downwind from the detonation, the radiation was estimated at 5,000 roentgens, the scale used to measure radiation, for 36 hours after the poison rain had drifted past.

3. But if a similar explosion occurred where people had warning, took shelter, were careful about food and water and cleaned up as soon as possible, the casualty list could be cut sharply. The intensity of radiation would be cut in half within an ordinary frame house, even more in one of brick or stone. A basement would reduce radiation effect to one-tenth. And an old-fashioned cyclone cellar, covered with three feet of earth, would be completely safe "in even the most heavily contaminated area."

4. At 160 miles away, contamination might bring death to 50 per cent of the people who failed to take protective measures; 5 to 10 per cent might die at distances as far as 190 miles.

Rep. Durham (D-NC), vice chairman of the Senate-House Joint Atomic Committee, told newsmen the AEC statement "shows the H-bomb is not as big a bugaboo as some people have said; it can be very dangerous, but the statement shows that we can keep the problem of protection under control."

Fatal Explosion Blamed Upon Spilled Gasoline

Whole Zeller Family, Two Others Perish as Basement Dwelling Blows Up

By AL LOWMAN

Six persons, three of them children, were killed when an explosion shattered a basement home in Highland Township near Milford last night.

The dead, including one entire family, are:

Robert Zeller, 29, owner of the home; his wife, Anita, 22; a son Robert Jr., 19 months; a daughter, Gloria Jean, 7 months; Samuel Fowler, 29, and his daughter, Jeannie, 3.

The men were attempting to wipe it up with rags when the explosion took place at about 8:30.

Patricia said she had gone to a house trailer next to the home to get additional rags to help clean up the gasoline.

She said she had just reached the door of the trailer, which housed Zeller's mother, Mrs. Alice Zeller, when she heard "a terrific explosion."

"I ran back to the house and tried to open the door but something was holding it shut," she said.

Alice Jean Weaver, 17, a visiting neighbor who accompanied Patricia, said she could hear moans coming from the darkened interior. She said she ran 200 yards to a neighbor's home to call the Highland Fire Department.

Firemen, who said they had to rip a hole in the roof to enter, found the six victims scattered around the floor.

Some were groaning and appeared to be alive, they said. All were dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

Furniture was wrecked throughout the house. A large kitchen table, used by the men as they worked on the auto parts, was tossed on its side. Part of a partition was blasted against the only exit. A studio couch was smoldering.

All three rooms bore signs of the blast as furniture and appliances were covered with soot and charred debris.

Toys and personal effects were scattered in pitiful heaps on the

Hard Luck Dogs Blast-Shattered Zeller Family

Misfortune has dogged the steps of the Zeller family over the years but death dealt a final blow last night.

Mrs. Anita Zeller, one of the victims, had escaped unhurt from three previous fires, the latest of which occurred when she was warming tar to patch a hole in the roof of the family's basement home in Highland Township.

The tar ignited when it boiled over onto the stove, but the blaze was extinguished before it could cause extensive damage.

Relatives quote a recent statement of Mrs. Zeller: "I've been lucky so far—I have a feeling the next fire I'm in will be the last."

Last Nov. 21, Patricia Zeller, 16, and her brother, David, 12, brother and sister of Robert Zeller, one of the blast victims, were in an auto crash that claimed two lives. Patricia is still wearing a cast.

And 11 years ago the father died leaving his widow to rear Patricia, Dick, and David.

Ex-Grave Digger Denies Killing JoAnn

DETROIT (AP) — Former grave digger Richard Niles Ballingall now denies he killed JoAnn Gillespie two years ago, police say, reversing an earlier confession.

Chief of Detectives Marvin G. Lane said Ballingall told him yesterday that he had nothing to do with the rape-slaying of 18-year-old JoAnn, a junior college student.

Psychiatrists continued to examine Ballingall to determine if he had "aggressive criminal tendencies." Ballingall's "confession" was made to police in the course of questioning over the death of a woman, identified as his common law wife.

House Balloting on Higher Pay

OK Predicted on Plan for 66 Per Cent Boost in Lawmakers' Wages

WASHINGTON (AP)—Members of the House, cocking a collective eye toward voter reaction, faced a decision today on whether to vote themselves a 66 per cent pay boost. It seemed certain they would say "yes."

But some apprehensions were voiced as the House prepared to open limited debate on a bill to raise congressional pay from the present $15,000 yearly to $25,000, and to give comparable hikes to federal judges.

Whatever the House does is subject to approval of the Senate, where the Judiciary Committee has approved a bill calling for congressional pay of $22,500.

Some House members complained of the timing, saying Congress should not raise its own pay until it acts on smaller increases proposed for government workers. And there were proposals to reduce the amount of the increase.

President Eisenhower has urged an unspecified pay raise for Congress, and leaders of both parties were backing the pending measure.

The measure calls for these increases among others:

1. Senators and representatives, from $15,000 to $25,000 a year. They now get $12,500 basic pay, plus $2,500 in taxable expense money for which they need not account. This schedule was voted in 1946. Before that, congressmen drew $10,000.

2. Federal judges, $7,500 a year, and Supreme Court justices, $10,000. District judges now get $15,000, appeals court judges $17,500.

Hold Hearing in Girl's Knifing

5th Grader at Baldwin Is Identified by Victim as Assailant

A 10-year-old boy, who police say stabbed a St. Michael High School girl Monday, was given a preliminary hearing in juvenile court yesterday after the victim identified the boy who attends the fifth grade in the Baldwin School.

Authorities said a hearing was set for next Tuesday to determine whether the youngster should be placed in an institution.

Meanwhile, the boy who is described as quick tempered will remain with his parents until the hearing before Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore.

Janice Sears, 16, of 2600 Woodbine Dr., told police she was on her way home from school with her sister Patricia, 17, when the boy threw a snowball at them. The girls said the boy stabbed Janice when they were about to throw a snowball back at the youngster. Janice was taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital where two stitches were required to close the inch-and-a-half deep wound.

Janice's father, Francis C. Sears, quoted medical authorities as saying if the wound had been slightly higher the girl would have bled to death from a cut artery.

Police said the parents of the boy were unaware that the child possessed a knife.

Hazel Park Gets 53-Day Season for Horse Races

DETROIT (AP) — The State Racing Commission today affirmed its assignment of 1955 racing dates and said a reduction in the Hazel Park race track dates from 56 last year to 53 would stand.

Commissioner James H. Inglis gave the Michigan Racing Asso. (MRA) 56 days from May 20 to July 23, with Hazel Park getting 53 days from August 5 to Oct. 5.

In addition, the commission okayed a six day meet for Michigan Racing Charities, Inc., which will hold a meet July 25 to July 30 at the MRA track.

Proceeds from the charity meet will be used for the Children's Hospital of Michigan and other charitable purposes and for the Michigan Thoroughbred Foundation, which seeks to improve the breed of Michigan horses.

Answering arguments of the Hazel Park group, which had asked that it get 56 days — the same as last year, Inglis said:

"I deeply resent your recent tactics and statements regarding myself and brand as completely untrue your slanderous accusation that I have acted from capricious, whimsical, arbitrary or improper motives."

The atomic device to be tested will be fired atop a 500-foot steel tower. When it is fired, tons of dust will be sucked up into the cloud and become radioactive.

If this dust is dropped outside the test site, it could prove harmful. Thus far in the 31 tests held in Nevada, there have been no injuries from radiation.

Some cattle which wandered too close to the test site have been burned by radioactive particles dropped from the characteristic mushroom clouds of atomic blasts, but the burns were very minor.

Det. Sgt. Oramel O'Farrel, head of the State Police arson squad in Detroit, said the gasoline fumes may have been touched off by a coal stove or flames from an oil hot water heater.

He said no fire followed because the blast used up all the oxygen in the three-room dwelling. The victims probably died of suffocation, he said.

Relatives said Fowler, a tool and die apprentice at a Hazel Park firm, had gone to Zeller's home to help clean parts for an English automobile Zeller planned to use for transportation to his job in Pontiac Motor Division here. The men were related by marriage.

Fowler's wife, Betty, 27, reportedly accompanied her husband and daughter to the home but returned earlier to their trailer home located about 300 yards north. She is Zeller's sister. Besides the widow, two other children, Marge, 7, and James, 5, survive.

Zeller, a line inspector at Pontiac Motor, had purchased the five-acre plot at 330 Woodruff Rd. in 1952 and planned to construct a five-room home over the basement this spring.

He and his wife had lived in a tent and house trailer in an effort to save money to build the home, relatives said.

Zeller's brother, Dick, 25, said automobiles were a hobby with Robert. "He bought the car several years ago, intending to fix it up and use it to drive back and forth to work. He bought the parts (a used universal gear) only yesterday and was cleaning them up for installation," Dick said.

Both Zeller and Fowler were World War II veterans. Fowler, holder of a Purple Heart medal, served with the Marine Corps in the Pacific area while Zeller was stationed at Battle Creek with the Army.

The bodies were taken to Richardson-Bird Funeral Home in Milford where arrangements are pending.

Elevator Crushes Detroiter to Death

DETROIT (AP)—A part-time employe of a trucking firm was crushed to death yesterday in the freight elevator shaft of the National Cash Register Co. building.

The victim, Patrick O'Brien, 40, had gone to the building with another worker to pick up a 600-pound payroll machine. They had loaded the machine on the elevator in the basement and were pushing it off at the first floor level when the elevator suddenly dropped. The roof of the cage caught O'Brien, crushing him between the shaft and the elevator.

Willman Reports City Hall Is 95 Per Cent Finished

City Manager Walter K. Willman last night told the City Commission the new City Hall is 95 per cent complete.

Armed with this knowledge, the Commission passed a resolution reducing the "good faith" deposit left by the contractor with the city from 10 to 5 per cent.

The Commission also authorized purchase of additional new equipment for the $1,000,000 building, slated to be ready for occupancy in late April or early May. The resolution provides for equipment and furniture not previously ordered.

In other action, the Commission ordered the city attorney to draw up a new weed control ordinance based on the Detroit regulation.

Russia Agrees to Jap Request

Peace Negotiations to Be Held in New York in Next Few Weeks

TOKYO (AP)—A Russian concession today paved the way for peace negotiations between Japan and the Soviet Union in New York — probably in the next few weeks.

In a note delivered directly to Prime Minister Ichiro Hatoyama, the Soviets waived their preference for Moscow or Tokyo as a meeting site and said they would agree to the place "the Japanese government considers most adequate."

Japan told Russia officially Feb. 15 it felt New York was the best place.

"The Japanese government thinks New York, which is the site of the United Nations headquarters—the center of world peace projects—where official representatives of both governments are stationed, is a proper and convenient place for achievement of the purpose of the negotiations at issue," Japan said.

Russia made its reply today, going outside orthodox diplomatic channels.

How soon actual talks will begin in New York is still an open question. Diplomatic processes move slowly, but the way now seems clear for at least preliminary meetings in the next few days or weeks.

In any talks with Russia, Japan will seek as much of the following as she can get:

1. Return of at least part of the Kuriles and the smaller Habomai chain in northern Japanese waters.
2. Fishing rights in the northern waters.
3. Trade benefits.
4. Relaxation of cold war tensions.
5. Soviet support for Japan's full entry into the United Nations.

Ike's Tariff Plan Gets Committee Okay in House

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower's controversial program to liberalize foreign trade policy has been cleared for House debate tomorrow or Friday by an 8-3 vote of the House Rules Committee.

Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY) argued that the program would bring a "horrifying depression" by encouraging foreign competition with American industries.

Chairman Cooper (D-Tenn) of the Ways and Means Committee contended mutual lowering of tariff walls would aid all nations concerned and contribute to "our own peace and security."

Pontiac area residents subject to the intangible property tax can get help in making out their returns to the state, it was announced today by the local office of the Michigan Department of Revenue.

Income from intangibles such as corporate stocks and bonds, postal savings accounts, land contracts, mortgages and accounts receivable is taxed.

Earnings on intangible holdings is subject to a 3½ per cent levy, while the rate on non-income — producing holdings is only one-tenth of 1 per cent.

Merle Hanel, a representative of the Department of Revenue at Lansing, will be in the local office, 212 Riker Bldg., every Thursday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. to assist taxpayers in making out their returns.

Persons who wish to find out if they are subject to the tax may call the local office, officials said. They added that tax due on bank accounts, as well as on stock in banks and savings and loan associations, is paid by the financial institution directly to the state.

Final date to pay the tax is March 31.

Expect Decision in Murder Trial

Jury Now Deliberating Fate of Ferndale Man in Shotgun Slaying

An Oakland County Circuit Court jury today is expected to decide the fate of a 34-year-old Ferndale man charged with second-degree murder.

Charles M. Himes of 2861 Grayson is accused of shooting Benjamin Graham, 45, of 2832 Goodrich, Ferndale, last Nov. 20.

The shooting took place, police said, during a drinking bout at Himes' home with James Cheek, 38, of Ferndale also present.

On the stand yesterday, Himes claimed Graham and Cheek began arguing and he stepped in to protect Cheek.

Graham pulled a knife, said Himes, and advanced on the accused not heeding a warning to stop. Himes then fired his 16-gauge shotgun, he stated.

Under cross examination by Assistant Prosecutor Donald A. Brown, Himes said he was acquitted of a manslaughter charge by a Circuit Court jury Oct. 16, 1952, after police said he fatally shot his brother-in-law, John O. Kilgoar, of Riverside.

The accused also claimed self-defense in the first shooting.

He said Kilgoar attacked him with a knife in a fit of anger and he shot twice with the same gun that killed Graham two years later.

The jury was expected to retire and attempt to reach a decision today after being instructed by Judge George B. Hartrick.

Nixon Soothes Coffee Nations

Gives Them Assurance That U.S. Is Concerned Over Economic Woes

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) —The Western Hemishpere's coffee-producing countries had Vice President Richard M. Nixon's assurance today that the U.S. government is "vitally concerned" over any economic difficulties the recent drop in coffee prices might bring them.

Nixon told members of El Salvador's coffee association last night that the United States is "entering with an open mind" into a study of the world coffee situation agreed on at the Inter-American Economic Conference in Brazil last November.

• • •

Nixon spoke at a reception the association gave for him shortly after he arrived in El Salvador on his Caribbean good will tour. The party flew in from Guatemala in a U.S. Air Force Constellation.

With Henry Holland, assistant U.S. secretary of state for Latin-American affairs, Nixon called on President Oscar Osorio. He later met legislative and labor leaders.

• • •

The vice president planned to lunch with Osorio today after visiting housing projects, schools and agricultural centers near the capital.

The recent drop in U.S. coffee prices has worried El Salvador. The bean represents 86 per cent of the little nation's production.

Russians Close Tract for Testing A-Cannon

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The bulletin of the Free Europe Committee said today 124,000 acres of land in the Tatra mountains of northeast Slovakia have been closed for Soviet atomic experiments.

It said the area has been designated a national park, but actually will be used for testing Russian atomic cannon.

The Day in Birmingham

Construction Bids Taken for High School Addition

BIRMINGHAM — Construction bids for Birmingham High School's second classroom addition were received by the Board of Education last night and contracts are expected to be awarded next Monday.

Three low bids for general construction, mechanical and electrical contracts totalled $475,719 were submitted respectively by R. Stewart Co., W. Wilbur White and Willis Electric Co. The general construction bid was in the amount of $357,900.

Total construction costs have previously been estimated at from $475,000 to $500,000.

This newest addition includes 11 classrooms and a music department. An east-west extension, the addition will be built to run to the west of the present building facing Cranbrook road.

Board members also set a March 30 date to receive construction contracts on the yet unnamed 24-classroom junior high school. It will stand on property southeast of the Adams-Derby roads intersection.

Supt. of Schools Dwight B. Ireland told the board he will appear in Oakland County Circuit Court next Monday morning in the condemnation suit involving acreage at 14 Mile and Lahser roads.

Special Meeting Likely to Name Consultant to Architect Heenan

A special meeting of the Pontiac General Hospital Board of Trustees may be called this week to speed hiring an architect's consultant, Board Chairman William F. Maybury said today.

The City Commission last night approved a resolution authorizing engagement of a hospital expert to work with architect Leo J. Heenan in drawing up plans for the $3,000,000 addition approved by voters in November.

Maybury said no work on new plans for the wing has been done, pending employment of a consultant.

"We've interviewed several consultants," Maybury said. "I think we've made up our minds who we want. Now it's just a matter of getting together and appointing him."

The next regular hospital board meeting is scheduled for a week from tomorrow. Maybury said a special meeting probably will be called if the board members can be reached.

In its resolution, the Commission authorized hiring a consultant on recommendation of the board at a fee of not more than $20,000, of which not more than $6,200 will be subtracted from Heenan's architectural fee.

Another section of the resolution calls for the hospital trustees to accept as an operating expense the interest cost to the city on the bond issue.

Governor Sees State A-Reactor

Asks U. of M. Dean to Advise Agencies About Nuclear Problems

LANSING (UP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams said today it was likely that plans for building an atomic reactor in the state will be under way "in the very near future."

At the same time, he requested Dean Blythe Stason, University of Michigan Law School, to serve as advisor to Michigan agencies on problems of the use of atomic energy for public power.

Stason now is consultant and legal advisor to the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, and has a broad knowledge of problems in the field, Williams said.

"The state should be prepared to deal with the new problems that could affect the safety, health and welfare of our people," Williams said.

A committee of State Department directors, headed by John McCarthy, Public Service Commission chairman, will meet, with Stason soon, the governor said.

Women's Driving Record Brings Liability Rate Cut

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Automobile liability insurance rates are coming down today in 39 states—and it's young women drivers, not the men, who are primarily responsible.

Firms that are members of the National Bureau of Casualty Underwriters are reducing the rates, in certain classifications, from 9 to 32 per cent. The reduction is expected to apply to about 25 per cent of private passenger cars insured by the companies.

John M. Nuchols, executive secretary of the Insurance Agents Assn. here, said recognition of their record plus a 10 per cent rate credit given to graduates of high school or college driver training courses are primarily responsible for the change.

"The classification plan has been revised to recognize that the family car is a less hazardous risk when the youthful drivers are young women rather than young men of the family," Nuckols said.

But don't feel too unhappy, fellows.

Nuckols went on to explain that it mainly "is a matter of reduced exposure.

"Young women usually have the use of the cars less frequently than the young men, particularly during the very hazardous evening hours, and, generally speaking, the young women are more frequently accompanied by responsible older people."

1. Nonbusiness family cars with women operators under 25 but no men drivers under 25—reduced 23 per cent. The reduction is 9 per cent if the cars are used for business purposes.

2. Nonbusiness cars of married couples with children where the husband is over 25 and the wife under 25—reduced 23 per cent and 9 per cent if used for business purposes.

• • •

3. Nonbusiness cars of married couples without children where the husband is over 25 but the wife under 25—reduced 32 per cent and 20 per cent if used in business.

4. Cars of married couples without children where the husband is under 25—reduced 12 per cent.

The District of Columbia also is included in the new rates. The full list of 39 states involved was not available here.

OPTIMIST GIFT — Everett K. Garrison (left), president of the Pontiac Optimist Club, presents a check for $500 to David R. Ewalt, City Parks and Recreation Dept. director. The check brings to around $5,000 the amount presented to the city department by the club during the last 10 years.

$5,000 Donated in 10 Years

Optimist Club Gives $500 for City Parks, Recreation

Continuing its program of aid to the City Parks and Recreation Dept., the Pontiac Optimist Club yesterday presented a check for $500 to department director David R. Ewalt.

The latest contribution, which brings the 10-year total to around $5,000, is earmarked for parks improvement. Other gifts went mainly for recreational use.

As listed by Ewalt, the club's donations started in 1945, when it financed the cost of recreation leaders at the old Whittier Elementary School. Club members volunteered their services, too, and served as non-paid supervisors.

In 1946, the club underwrote the $1,000 cost of community center activities at Whittier two nights a week. And, again, members served as voluntary supervisors to help paid leaders.

The 1946 program proved so successful, Ewalt recalls, that a year later the Optimists expanded. With the recreation department budget increased enough to pay for the Whittier program, the club began one at the Wilson School.

In 1948, the department expanded again and supported the Wilson program as well. The Optimists set up a two-night-a-week program at Wever School.

A year later, the McConnell School program was begun the same way, with the city department taking over the Wever program.

A minor financial crisis in 1950 didn't permit any club aid, but the Optimists bounded back in 1951 with a program at LeBaron School.

In 1952 the Optimists presented the department a token amount for leadership.

They helped finance "live" music for teen-age dances in junior high schools in 1953-54.

Ewalt became so enthused with the Optimists' work in 1950 that he joined the club. He is now vice president.

Amateur Weatherman, 86, Often Outguesses Experts

ALLEGAN (UP) — Eighty-six-year-old Frank Forester has made a hobby of keeping weather data and his friends and neighbors say he usually "outguesses the experts."

Forester, however, denies he does any "guessing" on the weather but says he bases his predictions on the basis of detailed day-by-day weather records he has kept for the last 65 years and by checking signs of nature.

Forester, who lives in the community of Merson six miles south of here, doesn't just predict today's or tomorrow's weather but he'll make a prediction for a year from today and his neighbors say his prediction probably will come true.

A week ago, Forester predicted the weather would be "blustery and unsettled with more zero temperatures" until Tuesday (it was) and that the last half of February will be "quite decent."

March, he said, will be "blustery and windy as is customary but it will be nicer than March usually is."

The weather sage said Allegan County will have an early spring which will be followed by better than average summer with normal "or better" rainfall.

Forester said he makes his long - range predictions after checking many signs of nature and a careful study of the detailed records he has kept since 1895.

Forester said Michigan's weather goes in 12 or 13-year cycles and his friends point out that the winter of 1943-44 was quite similar to the weather western Michigan has had so far this winter.

But "several red skies at night in a row can mean a long dry spell ahead," he said.

Outlook Brighter in Iran

Latest information indicates that conditions are improving in oil rich but still poverty stricken Iran.

Improvement began in this ancient land next door to Soviet Russia with the removal from the political stage of former Premier Mossadegh. It was given additional impetus by the favorable settlement of the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

★ ★ ★

Iran's youthful Shah who, with his Queen Soraya, has been in the United States since December, has pointed to two vital needs of his country. Speaking in New York he said one was the additional help that would come from American investments in Iran. The other is the need to provide both incentive and security for such investment.

★ ★ ★

What is too little understood in this country is the important part Shah Reza Pahlevi has played in giving Iran a brighter future. For example, he made invaluable contributions to the settlement of the long drawn out oil dispute.

He also has done much to implement his country's goal of "social justice, economic expansion, financial equilibrium and the strengthening of security forces."

Outstanding is his personal contribution to land reform made possible by his inheritance of some 2,000,000 acres. In the last year alone he has been able to establish 5,000 peasants on land holdings of their own.

No wonder he is regarded as protector of the peasant against the small, powerful ruling class and that he has the ardent support of the middle classes and the army.

Leave It to the Colleges

Few are the sessions in which our Legislature isn't asked to meddle with collegiate athletics, and this year is no exception.

Latest proof that some lawmakers are willing to forget more important business long enough to try bossing the college athletic departments came to light recently.

It took the form of a proposal that Michigan State's Spartans be directed to schedule a football game with the University of Detroit team. A short time before that the Legislature was asked to pass a resolution requiring that all the University of Michigan and Michigan State football games be televised.

Both proposals are out of order.

Steel's Faith in U. S.

One of the heartening economic signs of the times is that steel not only remains our basic industry but that the steel industry has undiminished faith in the future of the United States.

This is the fact despite increasing prominence in industry of light metals like aluminum and magnesium. It is worth noting, therefore, that in the last year the American steel industry spent $680,000,000 on plant expansion.

The amount scheduled for that purpose this year now stands at the even greater sum of $695,000,000. This means that by the end of 1955 the industry in the past 10 years will have spent $7 billion to increase its production facilities.

★ ★ ★

It is significant even in a country like ours with its free economy, that this expansion for the most part was financed out of net earnings. In a less favorable economic climate such expansion would have to be financed by the Government.

Correcting a Tax Mistake

Awaiting action in the House at Lansing is a bill to repeal the State tax on chain stores.

Behind the Senate approved measure is a desire to correct the mistake made 22 years ago when this levy was enacted. Its original purpose was to protect independent merchants by discouraging retail chains.

Not only was the tax undeniably punitive and discriminatory, but it failed to achieve its purpose. Moreover, as a revenue measure its yield has been disappointing, only $400,000 a year out of the several hundred million collected in taxes each year.

Inasmuch as State income won't be affected materially, the House should follow the Senate's example and approve the bill to repeal a tax that never should have been on the books.

Proposition to Give City Hall Name of Mack Square

Mack Square

meets with much commendation and received favorable reaction when recently brought before the City Commission. This is honoring who founded Pontiac in 1818, and laid well the foundation for the city we now have. A Revolutionary War veteran, little has been done to honor his memory. In his original plat of Pontiac he provided for a public square near the site of the present new city hall. A definite action on the proposal to designate the site with his name has been taken by the commission and before the dedication of the new building is to be suitably supplemented.

Colonel Stephen Mack

"Oh, the Usual . . . Remove the Stains"

David Lawrence Says:

Needling of Eisenhower Could Lead U. S. to War

WASHINGTON — Conducting the immediate military strategy of the United States in the Far East is increasingly difficult for President Eisenhower because of the needling tactics being adopted by certain left wing senators.

Despite the overwhelming vote in the Senate and House two weeks ago which plainly reflected the wish of the country that the handling of such a delicate question as the defense of islands off the shores of China be left entirely to the discretion of President Eisenhower, some of the senators who fought the Formosa resolution are keeping up their guerrilla fight in the press.

The President and his military advisers are anxious not to give the Communist high command details of American military planning in the Far East. But, if some of the senators have their way, military information will be transmitted to the Communists through the press indicating exactly what the United States armed forces will or will not do in the Far East.

Nothing could make the situation more dangerous than to let the Communists believe that Eisenhower is being effectively checkmated by a group of senators and that eventually he will acquiesce in the capture by the Reds of the offshore islands through a failure to assist in their defense.

What the President has been trying to do is to stabilize the Formosa situation so that a cease-fire could be seriously considered. But the surest way to start a war in the Far East is to let the Communists believe they can grab the offshore islands without any resistance.

Such a miscalculation can only result in a vigorous defense by the Nationalists and then, if the Communists start using airpower to bomb the Formosa bases used by the Nationalist planes as they go out to defend Quemoy and the Matsu islands against attacks from the air, a war would break out and American forces would surely become involved. A considerable body of Nationalist troops is on the offshore islands now.

There is no mystery about the position in which the United States finds itself in seeking primarily to protect Formosa against air attack. The Communists would never invade Quemoy or the Matsu islands without using airpower, and they would not confine their air attacks to those islands either but would have to go after the bases on Formosa.

So, for all practical purposes, the use of American airpower in retaliation or defense is related solely to how the Communists use their airpower and whether or not they limit it to attacks on the off shore islands.

The situation is full of complexities and the delicate problems involved should be left to the commander-in-chief in the White House. It is incredible that any members of Congress should be publicly demanding that the President reveal the defense plans of the United States in the middle of a critical situation that could bring about fighting at any moment.

The Senate took cognizance of all the contingencies and voted the President ample power to deal with them. Some senators who now are asking for more details and "clarification" opposed the recently passed resolution on the ground that the President already had sufficient authority to do what seemed best. Now they question that authority.

Many of them, like Senator George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, are cooperating with the administration, but the needling tactics of a left wing group of Democrats is a sample of what a divided government can mean in a crisis.

If the object is to save American lives—and that's the highest purpose for either political party to serve—then such an objective can better be realized by keeping as much military information as possible away from the potential enemy.

Basically the United States is not concerned with any faction in China as such—either the Reds or the Nationalists—but is concerned over the fact that the Chinese Communists are in a state of war with the United Nations, and if they take Formosa they can turn their entire armed force against American troops stationed in Korea.

It's important, therefore, to keep as much of the Communist Chinese armies as possible pinned down on the mainland opposite Formosa and to keep them guessing as to what will happen if they attack Quemoy and the Matsu islands. But there are some senators who don't believe in this strategy and, in effect, want to interfere in military operations. This is a peculiar way to act in the midst of a military crisis involving decisions by a man in the White House with General Eisenhower's military experience.

'Milfordite' Praises School Building Plan Proposed Recently by Louis Schimmel

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I am deeply grateful to the Pontiac Press for so ably presenting the plan for school building by Louis Schimmel of the Pontiac Board of Education. I certainly wish we had someone here with his ideas.

I think this paying in 12 years is not fair. Why should old people be taxed out of their homes to build schools for years ahead? As our uncertainty stands, what we have may be leveled.

In Milford we already have good athletic facilities so why take 43 acres off the tax rolls—that also means upkeep.

Bishop Sheen's topic on TV recently was "Juvenile Delinquency" and he stated that where delinquency used to chiefly come from poor homes and neglected youngsters, it is now coming and more brutally from good homes where both parents don't have to work.

This paper goes into many Milford homes. Let's hear from you folks and investigate Mr. Shimmel's very good plan endorsed by the Governor.

D. H. Coffey Works Out 'Flexible Retirement Plan'

I believe that a flexible retirement plan is the only way to guarantee work to all who are able to work. This plan would give employment to all persons between the ages of 20 and 50, and it would retire all persons who are disabled and those who are between the ages of 50 and 65.

The young people are the future fathers and mothers of America. They are ambitious and are anxious to do something to get a start in life. They need jobs so they can get married, build homes, buy furniture, etc.

People between the ages of 35 and 50 are the fathers and mothers of today. They have a great responsibility in sending their children to high school and college, and they should be considered above anyone else as far as jobs are concerned.

People between the ages of 50 and 60 have been employed between 35 and 50 years and they, as a rule, are unable to hold a job in the modern plant without working a hardship upon themselves. They should be retired and let the younger people have the jobs.

This flexible retirement plan will not materially reduce the present retirement plan whereby a worker has to be 65 years old because the things the younger person will buy will add many jobs for everybody.

Anyone who believes in this flexible retirement plan should write to his Congressman or Senator and ask that this plan be considered.

Says Recent Criticism of City Employes Unfair

Mr. Farm Worker and Mr. Welder, I've read your letters about the firemen and policemen. Don't you think you're being unfair? Apparently you're not good enough in your own fields to make the grade as they are well-paid fields, so please lay off the people who may be called on to save your life someday.

Oh, yes, if you care to investigate I believe you'll find that the greatest part of the retirement fund is paid for by the city employes not the taxpayers.

One Who Likes Protection

Intellect and Intelligence Different, Says 'Andy'

It is my belief that more people should apply the theme of stop, look and listen to talking as well as walking. The following are excerpts from an essay on intelligence:

"We must understand the difference between intelligence and intellect. A man may be intelligent and still not be intellectual. Intelligence is the ability to comprehend and to deal properly with new problems, new conditions, as they arise. It is an inherent characteristic.

"Intellect, however, is the developing of the brain, such as by the process of education. A man may become highly intellectual in a specialized line of science after years of training. His native intelligence, though, in being able to solve problems that deal with the common affairs of life and to cope with situations as they arise other than in his specialized field, may be exceedingly limited. Intelligence emanates from God.

"When one tries to scan God with his intellect, one always finds God much beyond the intellect. Therefore, we can never know God with the outer knowledge of the brain. We can know Him, however, through the infinite intelligence, through these functions we call inspiration, intuition, and the voice of conscience."

'Recent Union Merger Dangerous to Country'

The merger of the AFL - CIO unions signifies to me the greatest danger, not only for our industries but also for the welfare of our country.

It means to me that there will be no more government, "by the people, for the people and of the people," but the same as that of the English Labor Party.

You, who are members of this un-American setup, but claim to be Christians, stop and think this over. You cannot serve God and the Devil.

The Commodity Credit Corporation bulletins the delayed marginal notation that there were no mules on the ark.

But postscripts that Noah was the first desk clerk to accept people with pets.

It also bulletins that it found a way to peddle the 260,000,000 pounds of fresh suburban butter it put away for a rainy day.

The CCC discovered it rains more in India, Pakastani and Arabastoon than any other places. You cannot get rough with butter. You have to pat it.

The Hindus have a lot of turbaned notions about butter. They will buy our 260,000,000 pounds of surplus toast spread provided we process it to oriental taste.

The six hundred million Hindus like their butter neat. Their prescription for it is first catch your yak.

They whip their yak milk to a churned blister. Then they boil it to a fissioned soupstock and pour off what's possible. Which leaves what's impossible. That's their dish.

They call the residue ghee. Tibet is the highest place in the world. Except for the smell of ghee.

We are going to keep our fresh aboreal cow grease until it turns rancid on the storage plant's stomach. When it has an odor like a polite garbage can tipping its hat we sell it to the Hindus, the Pakastanis and the early to Bedouins.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Casual Contact Can Be Turned Into Love According to Precise Scientific Plan

Howard hated women and was a confirmed cynic who vowed he would never marry. But notice what happened when he diligently followed my psychological prescription. For love can be developed out of original casual contacts. It follows a precise scientific Pattern, despite poets to the contrary.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-351: Howard G., aged 23, was a sophisticated student of mine at Northwestern University.

"Dr. Crane, I have absolutely no use for women," he spoke cynically. "They are gold diggers and will give you the double cross at the slightest opportunity. So I shall never trust a girl again. And I am never going to marry."

Cynics are illogical. They are guilty of the fallacy in logic which we call the "hasty generalization."

For they grow sour on the basis of maybe just one single romance. Then they condemn all women (or men) because they were jilted by that one person.

This was Howard's trouble. He had come to college, leaving an engagement ring on the finger of his home town sweetheart.

But she wired him of her elopement with another man before Howard had time to return home for the Christmas holidays. Hence, his cynicism!

I told him that love can occur more than once, so he should pick out a coed who held all the charms and virtues that he would want in a wife. Then he should resolutely date her until love developed. But he vowed he could not and would not fall in love again.

So I challenged him to a test case. I let him select a few coeds from one of my large classes, and then I picked the one which I knew was best suited to him by background, religion, hobbies, etc.

He agreed to date her regularly and to be very liberal with sincere compliments. But he warned me it was a waste of time, for he had no use for women and would never love another one of them.

This coed's name was Agnes. She and Howard attended ball games and other athletic contests.

They attended the movies and concerts. They went to church together. Sometimes they just strolled across the campus or sat on the pier watching the waves of Lake Michigan roll inward, while they discussed everything from religion to politics.

From time to time I saw Howard and asked him for a report of the progress of our experiment.

He admitted that Agnes was a talented girl and that she was a lot of fun. But he vowed he didn't love her and never would.

But when the school year ended and he thought he would casually say farewell, he found that he was completely smitten with her charms.

"All of a sudden," he confessed, "something hit me like a bolt of lightning and I realized I couldn't live without her. So I proposed and we plan to get married during vacation."

Love is an emotion that proceeds according to definite psychological laws.

"Act the way you'd like to be and soon you'll be the way you act," is a familiar axiom of psychology.

I have matched scores of men and women who had no fondness for each other at the start but who vowed they'd follow my psychological prescription for three or four months.

And they invariably fall in love. You can't avoid it. For if you go through the proper motions you'll soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions.

Feuding married couples can also re-build their original romance by following that basic rule of love, for love is subject to scientific rules.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Milk of Magnesia Might Be Cause of Face Rash

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A correspondent asks whether use of milk of magnesia for many years would account for face swelling and a rash, and whether I would suggest a laxative diet.

Without examination even a good doctor could only guess what the face swelling and rash may be, and as you should know, if you heed what the A M A boys say, I'm not a good doctor.

But I can read and write. In several books by recognized medical and nutrition authorities I read that frequent or habitual intake of milk of magnesia, magnesium sulfate (Epsom salts), effervescent solution of magnesium citrate, magnesium oxide (light calcined magnesia) or magnesium carbonate interferes with assimilation of calcium, and one of the manifestations of calcium deficiency is hives or giant hives (angioneurotic edema), which might explain swellings of the face.

Aside from the harmful effect of the milk of magnesia or salts habit on nutrition, the frequent or habitual use of any such laxative or physic keeps digestion deranged, contributes to development of pelvic troubles in men and women, and is as senseless as the aspirin or acetanilid habit.

After all, stupid, the function of the bowel is regulated, or controlled by the same automatic (autonomic) mechanism as that which regulates or controls the function of the heart and the function of the lungs. I imagine even you would not take a daily dose of medicine to keep your heart working.

Just as silly as taking physic is the notion of following a "laxative diet." Any food you like is more or less laxative. No food is "binding" or "constipating"—and don't try to tell me that you are different from ordinary bipeds in this respect.

Now it may well be that you have been so steeped in almanac lore and so thoroughly exploited by the n o s t r u m makers and physicians that you will brush aside what I am trying to tell you, as just another of my strange notions, as the A M A would say. This is a free country and no one will stop you if you want to worry along enslaved to physic. But before we part I'd like to make one last attempt to bring you back to health. If you are too far gone, at any rate it won't do you any harm.

Brother, can you spare a quarter, a negotiable one, that is — one not messed up with stickum? If you can, send it to me, with a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and ask for Little Lesson 25 "The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene."

After the first reading you may be mad at me. If you are, just send the booklet back and I'll repay you for it. After the second reading you will, I hope, begin to wonder if there can be anything in my teaching. After the third reading you will either do as I say, or the heck with you.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

$100,000 Fire Hits Ionia Store

Firemen Called to Blaze While Fighting Flames at 5-Room Home

IONIA, Mich. (UP)—A $100,000 fire hit a main business block in Ionia early today before firemen had finished battling a house blaze that claimed the life of a 3-year-old boy.

The later of the two fires destroyed the W. W. Mac variety store and for a time threatened the entire business block.

Firemen were summoned to this scene while they were fighting a fire at the five-room Richard Longdyke home. Longdyke's son Raymond was trapped and died in his bedroom.

Another child, Portia Ann, 1, was burned critically before she was rescued by firemen. The mother, Mrs. Esther Longdyke, 24, also was burned in fleeing down a stairway. Longdyke, 28, suffered a sprained ankle when he jumped from a second - story window.

The father said he heard the boy screaming but a solid wall of flames barred a rescue.

The cause of neither fire could be determined immediately.

Ended by Drunk Juror

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UP) — The drunken driving trial of Charles Daniles, 51, ended in a mistrial when it became apparent that one of the jurors had had a few too many when he showed up in court.

The judge said it "would be a travesty of justice" to proceed with the juror in the box and ordered a new trial.

Bob Considine Says:

Luchow's Is Revitalized by Ambitious New Owner

NEW YORK (INS)—Five years ago today a young man named Jan Mitchell arrived in New York knowing, at most, five inmates of the town. All sympathized with him. Mitchell had just bought Luchow's faded brauhaus of another era in the city's eating and drinking habits.

The parade had long since left the old German restaurant. The area in which it was anchored, in a pleasant aroma of beer kegs and sauerbraten, had become run-down and sordid.

The city had moved uptown, leaving 14th Street with little more than memories of the days when it was a bustling center of the theatrical, art and political worlds. Luchow's was almost as forgotten as the Biograph Studios a few doors away, where a girl named Mary Pickford once worked for $5 a day.

Well, this is by way of saying that this is still a land and a city of opportunity. In the ensuing five years the obscure young Mitchell has revitalized Luchow's to a point of many impressive statistics. The old place, whose North German Lloyd decor (circa 1870) has been carefully retained, has served more than 3,000,000 diners.

Mitchell, who once knew five New Yorkers, has personally greeted about 1,000,000 of those diners, estimates he can recognize 100,000 of his customers and knows perhaps 10,000 by name.

If all the food served at Luchow's since 1950 were piled along the Iron Curtain, and the wind was in the right direction the slave peoples would tear down the Curtain (and their masters) and with one concerted motion rush for it.

Mitchell has served in that time 620,000 orders of sauerbraten and an equal number of preisenberren pancakes, 542,000 schnitzels, 310,000 pigs' knuckles and a sea of 3,100,000 seidels of beer. He has produced a cookbook that is a best seller, restored the glories of ancient festivals hailing the time of the venison, goose, may wine and bock, taken an executive business course at Harvard, and is still up with the birds each morning and off to market.

Annual gross business: Just under $3,000,000.

Final figures in from the National Safety Council show again that we kill ourselves more enthusiastically over the Christmas, New Year's, Memorial Day, July 4th and Labor Day holidays than we get killed during most wars.

Maybe we should change their names to Lethal Holidays.

The Atomic Energy Commission and Civil Defense Adminstration have just about completed plans to destroy a host of civilian-type buildings and goods at the AEC's Nevada testing grounds in mid-April. In the meanwhile the AEC and the Defense Department will familiarize thousands of troops with the strange ins and outs of atomic warfare.

The April test will be the first involving civilian training and will be extensively reported by newspapers, newsreels, radio and TV. Some 350 CD volunteers will take part in field exercises after a ghost town now nearing completion is battered by the bombs' violent forces.

The Civil Air Patrol's Nevada wing will take part in the show, just as CAP hedge-hopping planes would be pressed into service in the event of a real atomic attack on this country.

Several completely equipped houses will be bombarded along with steel and aluminum industrial buildings, to see how they stand up under atomic punishment. Radio, TV and electronic manufacturers are sending their products to "Doom Town," which will be equipped with gas mains, electrical conduits, and other utility installations on the day the great light shines forth and the heavens shake.

Four trailer homes will be parked about the blast area. Houses will contain food, water, glassware, furniture, clothing, department store dummies — everything but mortgages. In the days, weeks and months that follow the detonation we'll learn the life expectancy of an American village in this age of the aggravated atom.

WASHINGTON (UP) — The U.S. Weather Bureau says it will continue to use girls' names to identify East Coast hurricanes despite occasional public protests. They're "short, easily pronounced and readily recognized," the bureau said.

Varied Opinions on Value of Industries Make Wall Street Active or Stagnant

(Editor's Note: This is the first of three articles by a nationally-known economist on the saving and investment problems of typical American families, with special emphasis on the upward climb of the stock market and what it may mean to you. Merryle Stanley Rukeyser is the author of "Financial Security In a Changing World," a former faculty member of Columbia University and business consultant and lecturer. He introduces you to the stock market as it is today and gives valuable down-to-earth suggestions on how to approach the problem of buying stocks.)

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER

NEW YORK (INS) — The long time upward climb of stock prices, starting in September 1953, frequently puts Wall Street on the front page these days.

As a biproduct, more and more people with no previous experience in the market are for the first time becoming interested in stocks. Hearing a friend boast about quick windfall speculative profits, the naive are again asking: How long has this been going on?

Well, the answer is that buying and selling of shares started in New York under the old buttonwood tree in 1792. Also, the entrance to the Stock Exchange is not a gate, but in a figurative sense a revolving door through which some are continuously leaving while others are entering.

Believe it or not, the essence of active markets lies in perpetual differences of opinion. If everyone agreed on exactly what the future would bring there would be stagnation — a perennial deadlock between those who hold shares and those who would like to buy them.

At each stage as prices rise or fall, some are selling shares while others are buying them. Differences of opinion make stock markets as well as horse races.

Sometimes the newcomers overlook the significance of these obvious realities. Thus, at the end of a talk by this writer at a club in San Francisco about four years ago, a listener asked during the question period whether I would alert the public through my column when everybody should get out of the market.

Let's waive the question of whether it would be proper to serve as "tipster general of the United States," and let's skip over the ability of any one individual to announce pontifically, "This is the top."

My questioner overlooked the simple truth that it is impossible for a share owner to sell unless there is a willing buyer.

If, instead of using individual judgment and free choice at the security market place, every one responded simultaneously to the dictates of the "tipster general of the United States," there would be no transactions.

For when this authoritarian "tipster general" would say "sell," everyone — in this make-believe situation — would be disposed, like totalitarian robots, to follow him and there would be no one to buy.

But, in the real world in which we live, there are as many opinions concerning what and when to buy and sell as there are people. In the democracy of finance no one can be counted out until his views have been tested by time. But finance is a stern disciplinarian.

The punishment is swift and severe for those who reason incorrectly, are motivated by sheer emotionalism or act on hearsay or unverified tips.

"Bull," or rising markets, are those when the public is more inclined to believe optimistic than pessimistic reports. And "bear," or falling markets, occur when gloom prevails. As John M. Hancock, eminent investment banker and adviser to statesmen, once put it to me:

"There are times when Wall Street is disposed to throw all bad news into the wastebasket and there are other times when it is disposed to toss away all good news.

"People buy securities sometimes for good reason, sometimes for bad reason, and sometimes for no reason. Their act is the important thing, whether they buy or sell. There isn't any use trying to tie their acts to thoroughly logical bases, for the results are the same regardless of the reasoning back of them."

In the prolonged stock price rise since September 1953, one factor has been that those with profits are discouraged from selling to realize them, because a quarter to a half of the gain would be shared with Uncle Sam through the capital gains tax.

Glib wise guys, in appraising markets, make generous use of hindsight. But it's foresight which pays off in Wall Street. The boasters are stopped short when they read the familiar legend: "If you're so smart, why ain't you rich?"

One reason why so many do not become rich despite good earnings by corporations and the long-term growth of the country is that they are victims of their own emotions.

Instead of buying shares in quiet periods when stocks are undervalued, they wait for rising prices. They become suckers for the cockeyed doctrine that whatever is happening will continue and assume that the trees of prosperity will grow right up to the sky.

In 1932, at the lowest point of the depression, I asked Dr. W. Randolph Burgess, then an officer of the Federal Reserve Bank and now monetary assistant to Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey, what people were buying shares at prevailing low panic prices. He replied prophetically, "The rich men of 1935."

Right after the panic of October 1929, I asked Andrew W. Mellon, then secretary of the treasury, for his interpretation of the crash. He remarked, "People risk what they have and need for what they don't have and don't need."

But Mellon was referring to shoestring margin speculation — buying stocks with a small down payment — in which the public gambled in price differences. There is much less buying of listed securities on credit today, and now the customer must put up at least 60 per cent of the total cost.

Even when prices are dropping — the interludes when in a growing country the national economy takes a step backwards before taking two steps forward — the person who buys well tested shares of strong companies for cash can't be wiped out.

No matter how prices may change from day to day, the individual's fractional share in a corporation remains unchanged and unshaken. If the company is strong enough to withstand a temporary financial squall, the investor's proportionate stake is undiminished, even though the proceeds which could be realized on a forced sale at the wrong time would be reduced.

(Tomorrow: Should amateurs enter the stock market now or wait?)

Ava Gardner Not Qualified to Talk About Sex Appeal

By MARGARET LATROBE

What is sex appeal?

It's a good thing to consult the experts, when seeking answers to questions of any kind, but in the case at hand I'm wondering if Ava is really qualified to speak. Seems to me, and current history of her research on sex is my only source, that Miss Gardner is about the least informed lady aboard.

While it would be foolish to deny that her heart is in the right place and her interest in the field of discussion is unlimited, it would still appear that she has arrived at no really definite conclusion as to what sex appeal is.

How many ex-husbands—? Large numbers always confuse me, but let's take a guess at three. The hour is late, and the library is closed, so we won't quibble. And how many gentleman friends—? The library wouldn't know this one, for sure.

And still no deal! Believe me, Miss Gardner knows as little about sex appeal as anyone you could name. She's still in grade school. The diploma is hidden in the mists of her future. Of course, some people like college so well they never graduate — research being more appealing than working.

One doesn't consult a four-time bankrupt when seeking advice on business. Nor is it wise to enlist the opinions of a failure at merchandising on how to sell coats and suits. You don't get anywhere talking to a fellow who failed at farming when you want to know whether to plant corn or beans.

Why then expect to elicit information on sex appeal from Miss Ava, who, though she has doubtless encountered it here and there, hasn't been able to isolate the virus?

All kidding aside, it seems to me there is entirely too much preoccupation with sex these days. We teach the facts of life from the cradle up, and the facts are fine for the kiddies to know. But then what?

Do we not have the responsibility of teaching these kids that sex appeal is a normal, healthy part of life—but a part, not life itself? That there are such things as maturity, honor and the ability to love which must exist before sex can be anything but just plain ridiculous?

Sex appeal is just like salt or nutmeg. It helps, but you can't live on either one. Meanwhile, let's ask somebody who isn't still involved in the pursuit of happiness —let's ask somebody who has already found it.

For it's happiness we were interested in, wasn't it?

Jury Selected for Phenix Trial

Alabama to Open Case Against Former Deputy Fuller Today

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—With a jury chosen the first day, state's attorneys called their witnesses into court today for the start of testimony in Albert Fuller's trial for the murder of A. L. Patterson.

Selection of the 12-man jury was completed too late to start hearing evidence last night. Judge J. Russell McElroy ordered the jurors locked up for the night and recessed the trial until 11 a.m. today.

• • •

Defense attorneys have expected the prosecution to start with a second defendant, Arch Ferrell, the 37-year-old onetime circuit solicitor in Phenix City.

Both Ferrell and Fuller are charged with murdering Patterson June 18, a few days after he had won the Democratic nomination for attorney general on a vice cleanup campaign. The maximum penalty is death.

• • •

Former Atty. Gen. Si Garrett, the man Patterson would have succeeded in office, also is under indictment for murder but hasn't been called for trial. He is undergoing treatment for a mental disorder at a hospital at Galveston, Tex.

Four steel mill workers are on the Fuller jury. A grocery manager, a paper company salesman, an auto body shop owner, a hardware company department manager, a chemist, an aircraft plant supervisor, a dairy superintendent and an air products company worker complete the 12-man venire.

Legless Father Sees Son Bleed to Death

HEBER, Utah (AP) — A legless father watched helplessly from his wheel chair yesterday as his son lay bleeding to death on the kitchen floor.

The boy, 15-year-old Gary N. Hiatt, had crawled upstairs to the kitchen after an explosion in his basement chemistry lab ripped off one of his arms and sent fragments into his stomach and legs. He died from loss of blood less than 30 minutes later.

Gary was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernell R. Hiatt. The father had both legs amputated after an illness.

Phantom Strikes Again

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A thief who stole the kitchen sink came back to finish the job. He took the bathtub too, the Rev. Coy Brown complained to police yesterday. The house is vacant.

Know Your Field, Really Like It, Train for It, and Start at Bottom

How Can Older Women Enter Decorating Field?

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Many people have the feeling that all private employment agencies are dreary, uncomfortable and ugly offices, staffed by impatient harsh and demoralizing interviewers who are so busy applepolishing the employer that they haven't time to be decently civil to the applicant.

The longer I live, the more I realize that, in this field, as in all others, there are many, many, wonderful people.

Take, for example, Helen Hutchins.

Miss Hutchins specializes in interior decorating, design and allied artistic fields, fields, in short, which are full of complicated geniuses and highly temperamental types. But Miss Hutchins is as calm and pleasant as a matron pouring tea.

Her office is one large room, beautifully decorated (by her, incidentally) and with the most elegant-looking and comfortable chairs you ever saw. And everything is by appointment—no confusion, no telling your intimate job history in front of impatiently waiting crowds.

I was fascinated by the success of a woman who was so unlike the classic prototype of the "successful operator."

How did she account for it? Miss Hutchins smiled.

"I know my field, ad I love it all," she said, "from the little girls with their degrees in fine arts, looking for their first job, to the top designers in the world. I like them and I like to see them get ahead."

"They must take a basic course in decorating, first of all," she declared, "because there's a lot more to the field than just having good taste and knowing how to make over your own drawing room. A whole lot more!

"And they must learn how to type and well, really well. There are some interesting jobs around the edge of decorating, in the office and contact ends, but they require good business skills, not just wishful thinking and a love of beauty.

"And of course selling in a good department or furniture store is one of the easiest ways into the decorating field."

Miss Hutchins' advice holds good for the woman interested in the decorating field, and for any woman interested in success in any field. Know your field, like it, take training in it, learn to type, and don't be afraid to start at the bottom.

Powderpuff "Dior" dots thickly sprinkled on surah woven of acetate yarn add dash to a soft and becoming dress specially designed for the tall girl. The bodice is tautly fitted through the ribs with a curved, pleated section over the bustline and is fastened with little covered buttons and loops.

Talk of 3rd Party 'Nonsense,' Says Senator Dirksen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill) termed "nonsense" today speculation that a third party movement may grow out of Republican criticism of Eisenhower administration policies.

Dirksen said he believes a Chicago seminar of Midwestern Republicans who style themselves "conservatives" served as "a good session to ventilate some irritations."

Gov. J. Bracken Lee of Utah told that meeting the government had moved rapidly to the left in the past two years, and he spoke of the possibility of a third party. Later, however, Lee said, "I merely threw this in as a suggestion. I believe the American people have a right to vote on the present trend."

Dirksen, another speaker at the Chicago gathering, held Saturday, said in an interview today that any third party talk is "just nonsense" and not supported by others who were critical of some administration policies.

Baltimore Judge Gives Sympathy to Ill-Paid Thief

BALTIMORE (AP)—After Mrs. Augustine Bright pleaded guilty yesterday to the theft of $189.13 from her employer, Judge Joseph R. Byrnes gave her a 30-day suspended sentence, placed her on probation and said there should be no restitution.

"If it weren't for my oath of office, I would find this woman not guilty," Byrnes said. "Any time a man works a woman like that for $20 a week. . ."

The 32-year-old Negro mother of one child admitted she took the money from her employer in small amounts over a six-week period. It was testified she earned $20.53 for working a 54-hour week in a laundry and dry cleaning store. Her husband is in the Navy.

Try It

Puppy Puppets Are Fun

Do you have any of your puppets left that we have made from time to time? It is fun to have puppets of all kinds.

Do you have a dog? I have two dogs and they are Basset Hounds. There is a Basset's picture in the bottom right hand corner of the picture. Mary Kanusky of Allentown tells us about these finger puppets. A TRY IT book and surprise is hers for sharing this with us.

Cut out small pictures of dogs or draw your own and paste them to a strip of paper which will be pasted together and go around the top of your finger. See if you can make your dog do tricks. See how many different dogs you can draw. Color them and you can have your own dog show!

You will want to make a puppet of your own dog, or if you do not have one, make a picture of the dog you wish you had.

You can "stretch" whipped cream by adding the white of an egg and beating with the cream.

Relationship Not Strong From Start

Should Convince Girl She Put Him Into Circulation

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've gone through school with him and I never thought of him as being more than a friend until recently. He doesn't seem to like girls very much, but lately he has been dancing and even talking with me.

"I thought he'd begun to like me. But a new girl has come to our school who likes him and he has now made it very clear that he likes her, and he won't talk to me. But what's worse, the girls keep rubbing it in that I lost him! I still like him, so what can I do without appearing to chase him?"

This whole operation has become serious to you quite recently. For all these years you've known the boy and thought little of it. He meant nothing special to you.

Until suddenly he came out of his shell and began to take notice of you. A little dancing, a little chatting. More attention came your way than any of the other girls ever got. And it knocked you in a heap.

Actually your relationship didn't progress very far. You mention no dates, no going places together, no cementing any bonds of special friendship. His interest, though very casual, stirred your imagination into hoping it was the beginning of something big. Your sudden interest in him made you feel that he belonged to you.

But, whatever he felt about you was just a tentative, cautious, feeling-his-way (out of his shell) experiment with a girl. It didn't amount to anything serious. If you can persuade yourself that it wasn't anything big and permanent, that it blazed feebly because it was his debut, you'll have no trouble with the girls.

You can brag jokingly that you put him into circulation for their benefit—and they ought to be grateful to you. Add that he never was yours, so how can you lose something you never had in the first place?

"Dear Miss Woodward: I've been going steady with him for nearly two weeks now and I like him very much. But this past week he seemed very cold toward me—he never speaks when I see him at school or on the street.

"If he doesn't like me any more why doesn't he break up with me? I like him so much I'd hate to lose him. So can you help me?"

Your relationship is new, and the routine of going steady is strange for him. Perhaps he's not used to his responsibilities yet and is a bit shy about showing his awareness of you in public.

If, as time goes on, going steady with him is an empty operation, chalk it up to the fact that he doesn't know how to play that game correctly. Since he doesn't play, assume the deal doesn't exist and start flirting with him all over again.

Refinement, Grace Makes Today's Rattan Different

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

What happened to the tropical type rattan room with its heavy furniture and enormous leaf and tropical flower print fabrics? Rattan has become refined since then, and the rooms it graces have a certain elegance.

In this room, the rattan is jade green, its newest color, but this is only one of the unusual points of the furniture. Tommi Parzinger uses lighter, smaller rattan with the heavier to create the special effect of his design, and tapered legs, which are unusual indeed in rattan.

A notable room point is the lighting, from a tall torchiere lamp and two other lamps that are similar in design but attached to tables. The lamp outlines are rattan, also designed by Mr. Parzinger. And another is the use of a narrow, almost wall-wide picture, a panorama of oriental houses, over the sofa instead of a single large picture or grouping of several pictures.

Laziness Makes Fashion Cliche Trap Spring

If pointed hats are in style, there is always a Gothic-looking woman who wears one and ends up looking like a cathedral spire. If flat hats are in style, the chunky woman dons one to look like a flying saucer.

Fortunately, styles are not this rigid. In the year of the high hat, there is generally a low hat to be found if you search. In the year of "no hat," there are still hats on the market.

It is only laziness that makes one capitulate to the cliche. True, there are years women practically have to sit out because they can't find much of anything that suits them. But diligent searchings of ads from nearby towns will sometimes turn up an acceptable item in a year when such an item is not a la mode.

Beauty Clinic

SKIN CARE

Our best advice to you is "be soap and water clean." Never, never leave stale cosmetics to cake and clog the sensitive pores of your skin. Thinking "just this once won't matter" can become a habit.

We recommend "Botany" Brand Lanolin Soap for pleasing results.

Dryness strikes the hardest during the first three hours after soaping, so do use a lubricating cream as a follow up.

A symposium of special teachers from the vocational department discussed courses offered to the students when the Lincoln Junior High School PTA met Tuesday evening.

"My aim," said Miss Schymik, "is to teach students to become better acquainted with foods so that they will have successful experience for later life."

Answers Reveal McBride's Nature

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Couch questions, the fabulously successful Tex and Jinx McCrary call the 101 powers that they have evolved to shoot at guests on their popular radio and television programs. The name refers, of course, to a practice among psychiatrists of putting a patient on a couch while his soul is being bared.

From among the questions that have been put to people like Bob Hope, Mary Martin, Eddie Fisher, Esther Williams and Johnny Ray, I have chosen ten that I shall answer so that you may know me better.

I am not sure that you want to, but a Washington diplomat declared at dinner the other night that readers, including himself, would like to find out what I'm really like. I'm game, if you are.

First question: Do you remember the first dollar you ever earned and what you did with it? Answer: I burned it. It was a money order from a farm paper for a little poem I wrote when I was 7.

My proud father had asked me to show it to a visitor and in an agony of shyness I threw it, and it landed in the fire. (This tells you something important about me.)

Q. Were you ever fired? And what did you do immediately afterward? A. I was fired from my first job in New York and I cried. Then with fear in my heart I started to hunt another job. (I haven't changed — I'd do the same today.)

Q. What was the hardest decision you ever had to make about your career — and did you make the right one? A. When the newspaper I was working on was sold, I decided to become a free-lance magazine writer. I think now it was a wise decision, but I was scared to death then that I'd starve.

Q. Can you suggest a motto that has helped you in your career? A. "Whatsoever you want, O discontented man, pay the price and take it," a quotation drummed into me by my old school principal at William Woods College in Fulton, Mo. Sometimes I've paid too high.

Q. If you could start all over again and choose a completely new career, what would it be? A. One part of me would like to be a research scientist working away in the obscurity of a laboratory, but I'd have to change my entire temperament before I could do it, for I'm a glory-seeker.

Q. Do you remember the first time you fell in love — and do you know where that boy is today? A. It was at Sunday school when he looked at me and smiled as I said the Golden Text. I didn't get over that crush until he missed a word one day and I spelled it and turned him down. He's a Missouri editor now.

Q. In case of fire in your home, what material thing would you save first? A. My tried and true mattress that I often take with me when I travel.

Q. What song or piece of music means the most to you? A. "Just A-Wearyin' For You," which I used to play over and over on the phonograph during my most serious love affair.

Q. What do you predict you will be doing five years from now? A. If I'm alive, I think I'll be doing pretty much what I am doing now.

Tex and Jinx believe that the most revealing of their questions is "What five words do you think describe you?" (Two of Mary Martin's words, I remember, were Texas and love.) My five words are temper, timidity, ambition, Missouri and nostalgia.

Well, Mr. Diplomat, how about it? Sorry you urged me to tell more about myself?

Mrs. Alex Morris Likes Party Food Prepared Early

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

When you are giving a party it is nice to have the refreshments off your mind early — the day before, if possible. Mrs. Alex Morris has a fruit salad recipe that fills these qualifications. To accompany it you need serve only hot rolls or nut bread.

Mrs. Morris would be a sports widow if she didn't take her two small children and attend the numerous ball games her husband coaches for St. Michael's school. In addition, she is the corresponding secretary of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority, a position which demands a good many of her spare hours.

HEAVENLY HASH SALAD
By Mrs. Alex Morris

1 large can crushed pineapple
3 (3 ounce) packages cream cheese
12 marshmallows cut into squares
½ cup chopped pecans (save a few halves for garnish)
Bananas, if desired

Soften cream cheese and add pineapple. Add nuts and marshmallows and let set overnight, or at least 8 hours. Bananas may be added just before serving. Serve on lettuce leaves. Serves 8-12 people.

Miss F. F.—New versions of the long torso are subtly handled in spring wedding gowns with dropped waistlines that give an elongated and slimming effect. A light and airy look in silk taffeta princess gown disguises overweight.

The lowboy cedar chest makes a handsome piece of living room furniture. The piece illustrates how to achieve a maximum sense of space in a very small room setting.

Mary's Unkind Criticism Hides Her Real Problem

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Mary P. is 22 and a secretary. Recently when her salary was raised to $60 a week, her parents asked her to begin to pay them for her room and board. She agreed.

But since that time, she has grown so critical of her home and the way her parents run it that her mother writes: "Now that she's paying her own way, nothing we have or do suits her. Was it wrong to ask Mary for ths money?"

Not in my opinion. I should say that it's time Mary learned to live on realistic income, not on an inflated one that discounts the costs of shelter and food.

However, sharing in the support of her parents' home is not so simple for Mary as we might think.

All her life this home has provided her with free food and shelter. Because they have been given, Mary has not questioned how the food was cooked and the shelter decorated.

Now the momentum of years is suddenly changed. Mary pays for what she receives. It is no longer a gift, but a purchase.

Like other purchasers, she's begun to question the worth of what she's buying. Asked to give adult responsibility, she's feeling a need for more authorty.

I expect that this young woman may really want a home of her own. And dares not say so to her parents.

When a firm of construction engineers wants to build a new apartment building, what is the first thing they do? They begin to attack an old one, don't they? We don't get angry; we know that they have a new one in mind.

When they start smashing at our homes by unkind criticism, it is apt to be because they dare not say: "Dear parents, though I love you and your home, my biological impulses now require me to be more interested in loving someone else and the home I shall have with him."

If we understand this, we can find the way to persuade Mary to put this want of hers into words instead of acting it out in hurtful behavior.

Once she knows that we accept this want of her own home, she will find it easier to accept ours until she gets it. Once she's sure that we acknowledge her right to more authority in ours, she may lose much of her resentment at her new financial responsibility.

But if sentimental hurt at her criticism keeps us blind to Mary's point of view, we may find it hard to work out our altered relationship to the self-supporting child who lives with us.

Too many people have tried to get up in the world by means of down payments.

Hand Wind Pull Shade if It Sticks

By HUBBARD COBB

There are any number of things in this world that make people mad and one of them is a window shade that won't go up when you want it to go up.

The usual procedure in this case is to pull on the shade until you have pulled the shade, brackets and all off the window. This gets the shade out of the way and relieves you of a good deal of tension but it isn't the best way to do things.

The best way to deal with a shade of this type is to keep calm and gently pull the shade down as far as it will go. Now while you continue to keep calm, remove the roller from the bracket. The next step is to roll the shade back on the roller by hand.

Replace the roller in the brackets and see how well the shade works. If it still doesn't seem in a great hurry to go up when you want it to go up, pull it all the way down and repeat the hand winding process.

What you do when you do this is to wind the spring tighter and eventually you'll get it tight enough to get the shade up the way it should be.

If you are troubled with just the opposite condition—a shade that snaps up the minute you give it a second look, simply let the shade go up, remove the roller from the bracket and unwind the shade a little by hand. This will unwind the spring a little, which is what you want to happen.

Charm Rule Main Theme Is Interest

Allow Other People to Express Their Views, Opinions

By EMILY POST

A letter from a college student tells me: "I have been asked to write you on behalf of our speech class, on how to acquire charm in conversation. Can you give us a general rule to follow?"

The one long-tested rule for charm in conversation is to be interested in the people you are talking with and to persuade them to tell you about themselves and what they think.

If you want to bore people to tears talk unceasingly about yourself and your opinions. When you can make others want to tell you about themselves, you can award yourself an order of merit and be fairly sure that you have been found interesting and attractive.

Dear Mrs. Post: My son is named for his father and has always been called James Henry Smith, Jr. Now he is about to become a full-fledged doctor and will come home here to practice medicine.

In one of his recent letters he asked me to find out from you, if possible, whether he should retain the junior even though he is to use M.D. after his name, which of course, would distinguish him from his father. He wants to have letterheads and personal cards engraved and would like to know what is ordinarily done under such circumstances.

He keeps the junior and puts M.D. after that on his letterheads and billheads. In other words, "junior" is part of his name and has nothing to do with titles or degrees. His personal cards would be engraved Dr. James Henry Smith, Jr.

Dear Mrs. Post: I am giving a party for a young bride and groom, and am sending the girl a corsage to wear at the party. Do men wear boutonnieres on such occasions and do you think it would be nice for me to send the groom something too, for his lapel?

It would be very nice to send him a flower to match hers, or else a white carnation.

Teach your child or teen-ager not to say "No thank you, I'll call back later," when he calls a friend and the friend's mother says, "He isn't here. May I have him call you?"

The reason the mother wants to have her child call back is probably because she doesn't want to be interrupted by any more telephone calls.

Beauties Going 'Under Cover'

1955 bathing suits, presented by the house Jacques Fath, have a distinct 1900 look. And if this style goes through, bikinis will be as outmoded as Model T's. Instead women will cover their shoulders, part of the arms and part of the thighs in the fashion of Mack Sennett girls.

The latest swimsuits with the Fath label are made of jersey. They have boat-necks, short sleeves and pants reaching to the middle of the thighs.

One in turquoise jersey has fine white horizontal stripes. Another in the same style is made of black jersey with a yellow fabric belt threaded through at the height of the hips.

Golden Touch on White Sheer Curtains Seen

NEW YORK (INS) — Just a trace of the King Midas touch is part of the spring white curtain trend.

Metallics have been used in almost every type of curtain design and color scheme except one — and this seasoon a manufacturer hit upon the simplest use of all — just plain gold on white sheers.

The very simplicity of the gilded sheers gives them an elegant air, as well as the customary light and delicate sheer look.

One of the advantages from the home decorator's point of view is that these sheers with the golden glow can be used with just about any period of furniture from early American to extreme modern. The harlequin model is both masculine and modern, while a more delicate butterfly curtain is both feminine and a good blend with French provincial.

Since the designs are those highlighted in spring drapes they can blend in with the motif (and of course the color scheme) of any room. And one way to cheer up a plain set of solid - color drapes is to hang these sheers directly over the monotone so that the pink or aqua or other color shows through.

Old Spray Bottle Sprinkles Clothes

Old atomizer and bottle once containing window spray make a good clothes dampener when you've only a few pieces to prepare.

Be sure bottle and atomizer have been thoroughly cleaned with warm, soapy water, and rinsed well.

To clean painted or tile bathroom walls easily, fill the bathtub with hot water and let stand a few minutes. Then wipe the walls clean with a dry cloth.

HOTTEST BUICK IN HISTORY
No wonder you see so many 1955 Buicks on the highways—they're rolling up bigger sales than ever before in history—topping the popularity that has already made Buick one of the "Big Three" in total sales.

This is for sure . . .

There's never been anything in your car-driving experience like the feel of Buick's new Variable Pitch Dynaflow* — because there's never been anything like it in a car before.

In a modern plane, yes. For this is the principle of variable pitch propellers used on airplanes. Their propeller blades change "pitch" for quick take-off—then change to another "pitch" for better gas mileage in cruising aloft.

Now you can do the same thing on the ground—in a 1955 Buick.

Twenty propeller blades have been ingeniously engineered into the Dynaflow unit. They pivot—one way for a big boost in gas mileage while cruising—another way for brilliant new performance.

You switch the pitch for instantaneous acceleration just by pressing the pedal way down. Then it happens . . .

A build-up of momentum as smooth as oil—and as quick as a split second. Dazzling new response on getaway—or a spectacular burst of instant safety-surge power when you need it out on a highway.

It's pure thrill—and a happy surprise in its far better gas mileage in cruising. Yet Variable Pitch Dynaflow costs not a penny more than earlier versions of this wonder drive.

How about you trying it?

That way you can also look into the sizzling new horsepowers, the fresh new styling, the envied ever-level ride, the eye-opening low prices—all of which are making the 1955 Buick the hottest seller in all history. Come in this week, won't you?

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Senate Maps New Road Plan

House Scuttles Two Proposals

Mull Half-Cent-a-Gallon Gas Tax Hike, Higher Commercial Plate Fee

LANSING (AP)—The Legislature's highway tangle developed more twists today as the Senate offered a new plan and the House scuttled proposals of both parties.

The House Roads and Bridges Committee rejected Gov. Williams' plan for a referendum on a half-cent gas tax increase and a 25 per cent increase in truck license fee, the money to finance a $500,000,000 highway construction bond issue.

"We agreed unanimously that the bill was a phony," said Rep. Emil A. Peltz (R-Rogers City), chairman of the Roads and Bridges Committee and author of the Republican plan in the House.

"We also agreed that my bill can't possibly pass in the House so we scuttled that too," Peltz said.

"We've abandoned the idea of getting anything on the April 4 ballot," he said. "There is still time in the rest of the session to work out another program."

Peltz said leaders of both parties would try now to work out a bipartisan plan, "perhaps an interim program."

"We may let everything rest until we get the details of the federal highway program," he said.

Peltz' bill called for a referendum on a two-cent gas tax increase, part of the money to be used to finance local revenue bonds for highway construction.

Peltz said his plan would be sent back to committee from the floor of the House, where it has languished for more than a week while Republicans tried to muster enough votes to pass it.

Meanwhile, the Senate developed a new plan in a closed caucus.

The Senate plan calls for a one-and-a-half-cents a gallon increase in the gasoline tax and a 25 per cent increase in the commercial vehicle license plate fee.

Sen. Creighton R. Coleman (R-Battle Creek), the majority floor leader, said the caucus saw no necessity for submitting such a program to the voters, as would have been required by the Peltz bill and by Gov. Williams' proposal.

The Senate plan, Coleman said, would give 75 per cent of the expected 40 million dollars in new money to the state trunklines and 25 per cent to cities and counties.

When Peltz heard that he hit the ceiling.

"Anyone who monkeys with the distribution formula is playing with dynamite," he said.

The House sent to the Senate today a joint resolution which would allow counties to band together into one probate judge district.

The resolution, passed by a 92-11 vote, is a constitutional amendment requiring the approval of voters before it would take effect.

Speaker Wade Van Valkenburg (R-Kalamazoo) said the measure will save money in sparsely populated counties and also improve the probate courts.

Ski Resort Honeymoons Broken Up by Fractures

Mrs. Walter Kern, of Elmer, N.J., suffered a fractured right leg and, a few minutes later, R.J. Quigley, of Atlantic City, a member of the same party, suffered a broken left leg.

Amateur Radio Operators Vital Link in CD Network

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles about civil defense activities in Pontiac.

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

On 24-hour alert, ready to fill bomb-torn gaps in the vital communications web linking area police and fire agencies are 100 amateur radio operators.

The 100, all members of the Oakland County Radio Club and solid defense workers, would have their hands full in time of emergency.

At least 10 would take to their autos to become mobile unit operators. Others would hurry to wherever the main CD transmitting point would be established.

Still others would remain at home beside their sets, ready to relay information to and from worrying relatives in other cities.

For example, imagine that the Pontiac Police and Oakland County Sheriff's Department radio transmitters—both located in downtown Pontiac—were bombed out.

"Hams" (the amateur's nickname) operators would be parked at the temporary headquarters of the two departments. A third would be sent to an outlying community which wasn't affected by the blast.

Since all Oakland County police and fire departments operate on the same radio frequency, the Orchard Lake transmitter (that's the one we picked) could be used to send messages to the Pontiac and sheriff's department cars.

Under CD plans, the mobiles would also be used to transport doctors. Radio-equipped taxicabs would be used to deliver nurses and first aid teams where needed rapidly.

Wrecking trucks would also be dispatched by the "hams" to help clear wreckage, according to Harold C. Bird, Oakland County CD communications officer.

The main amateur transmitting point could be any one of several places, says Bird, 60, who is senior operator for Western Union in Pontiac.

Headquarters now is in the Red Cross chapter house on Franklin boulevard. A second, larger transmitter is located at the Pontiac Municipal Airport.

A five-kilowatt power unit, mounted on a trailer, is stored at the sheriff's department garage. Bird says it can be hooked up to supply electricity for a transmitter anywhere. (It can also light up a building, if necessary.)

The "ham" force, which worked with the sheriff's department and Red Cross first aid teams in patrolling county roads on the Fourth of July, found Bald Mountain a good sending point.

Sgt. Harry Nye, Pontiac Police communications engineer and an ardent amateur, has a transmitter set up in his jeep. By hauling the trailer atop the mountain, he says the entire county can be reached by radio.

In addition to the 100 licensed members of the organization, a class of 36 now meets bi-weekly to learn radio theory and code, preparatory to winning licenses.

Bird says the class is still open to anyone interested in amateur radio, adding that there is no age limit—either way.

"We once trained an eight-year-old girl who got her license," he says.

"We are willing to train anybody who wants to be an amateur so they can take part in civil defense work," he declares.

Deny Absentee Votes for Buddhist Monks

TOKYO (AP)—Buddhist monks who go on a 1,200-year-old retreat Feb. 27—election day—want absentee voting privileges because "our souls will be in Nirvana, although our bodies will be here."

The request from 11 monks at Nara's ancient Todaiji temple received a flat no.

Local election officials could find no mention of Nirvana in the voting regulations, which provide absentee voting only when one is away on a trip or far from his polling district.

One-Time Pontiac Newsboy, 45, Quits Business to Join Son as UM Student

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A 45-year-old man with an ambition to become a professional youth counselor has given up a flourishing monument and building stone business to go to college along with his son.

"It's something I've always wanted to do," said Edward Jones, of Port Huron, Mich.

Jones is majoring in psychology at the University of Michigan so he can qualify as a boys' counselor. He has been a Boy Scout leader for 28 years.

* * *

Jones said he never had expected to realize his dream of obtaining a college degree because "almost as far back as I can remember I've worked almost seven days a week year in and year out."

At the age of 9 he had a 200-customer newspaper route in Pontiac. From 1930 to 1934 he worked 85 hours a wek in a drugstore in Lapeer.

When the Japs bombed Pearl Harbor, Jones enlisted in the army. Returning to civilian life, he purchased the Truedell Mallon Co., a monument and building stone firm in Port Huron. He sold out before enrolling at Michigan.

* * *

His son Zan, 23, helped him make up his mind to attend college.

"Zan decided to come to the university after spending four years in the Navy," he said. "Since he had had his fill of dormitory life in service he asked us to move to Ann Arbor so he could live at home.

"Then he suggested that I might as well enroll too as I had always been talking about college. So when Zan signed up as a freshman in literary college, I enrolled as a sophomore."

* * *

Jones is a year ahead of his son because of credits he has picked up over the years.

Mrs. Jones also plans to take one or two courses, even though housework takes up most of her time.

Jumped From Window to Avoid Arrest—in Vain

WASHINGTON (AP) — John Alvin Payne, 42, got excited yesterday as police, seeking a parole violator, surrounded the house in which he was staying. He jumped from a second-story window.

Payne explained he thought police had come to arrest him on traffic warrants charging him with passing red signal lights. Police obliged and Payne was jailed in lieu of $24 collateral.

Fluoride Needed by Teeth Says Research Scientist

DETROIT (AP) — A University of Pittsburgh professor said last night that he would challenge anyone to prove that a tooth can be formed without some sort of fluoride.

Dr. Gerald Cox, professor of dental research at Pittsburgh told the Detroit Chapter of the American Chemical Society, "it is the structure and not the chemical composition of teeth that determines where decay starts."

Dr. Cox explained that "fluoride builds a smooth surface that makes the tooth resistant to cavities."

"No tooth or bone has ever been formed without the presence of some fluoride," Dr. Cox said. "I challenge anyone to prove that a tooth can be formed without that substance."

He said that analytical chemists have not been able to discover any chemical difference in healthy teeth or decay-prone teeth, except that healthy teeth have more fluoride.

Dr. Cox said, "we know that one part per million of fluoride in the public water supply will reduce tooth decay 65 per cent, but the optimum amount has not been determined," he added:

"Analysis shows 69 parts per million of fluoride in the remaining parts of decayed teeth and 111 parts per million in sound teeth."

Dr. Cox suggested that the amount of fluoride in the water might be reduced in the summer when children drink large amounts of water. He said that he was conducting research to determine how much fluoride was necessary to prevent the most decay. The facts, he said, might reduce tooth decay another five per cent.

Ike Signs Extension of GI School Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation continuing GI education benefits for those who entered the armed forces before Feb. 1 was signed yesterday by President Eisenhower.

The new law, enacted with administration encouragement, nullifies part of a presidential proclamation ending Korean War emergency benefits as of Jan. 31.

Those in service before Feb. 1 will be eligible for up to 36 months of schooling, figured at the rate of 1½ days of schooling for each day in service.

Says Changes in Security Plan to Be Suggested

GLEN RIDGE, N.J. (AP)—A "number of improvements" in the federal employe security program are about to be recommended to President Eisenhower, says Asst. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins.

In a speech here last night, Tompkins, head of the Justice Department's Internal Security Division, told of the operation of the Eisenhower administration's security check system.

He said he directed a staff which "made a careful analysis" of the program.

". . . We are about to make certain proposals aimed to improve its administration, each of which further protects the rights of the individual and is designed to avoid any hardships to individual employes," Tompkins told the Glen Ridge Battalion Forum, a civic group.

Hawaii Leaves Nothing to Be Desired

By JOE HAAS

KONA, Hawaii — "Nothing else in the whole world to wish for." That's the Hawaiian motto.

After a week on Oahu, the most populous and third largest of the archipaelgo, with headquarters at Honolulu, we flew to Maui for a day and then made the flight to Hawaii, the big island of the group, with two-thirds of its area, but with less than one-tenth of its population.

HAAS

Maui has an extinct volcano with a crater half the size of our own Oakland County. We looked into it from a height of over two miles after our limousine had made the climb over a good paved road with more curves (and less guard rails) than the Clinton River.

Three days on the "big island" crowds into the background anything we have before seen. For it is here that Mauno Loa, the largest volcano in the world, is located. After countless eruptions, many in recent years, it still is active.

Steam and sulphuric smoke issues from the ground, even in the automobile road. So close is the interior activity that the mere speeding up of the motor of a standing auto will increase the fumes over tenfold, and envelop the car in a dense cloud.

Geologists tell us that it is these vents that postpone another eruption. They predict that another soon is due. Their seismographs now are more "fussy" than at any time since last year's eruption.

Lava flows in the eruptions of the last five years baffle all description. In one of them the molten mass coursed down three valleys to the sea, about 20 miles. In all three it was a quarter mile wide, 200 to 1,000 feet deep, and took the mammoth trees of a virgin forest with it. It reached a distance of 350 miles on the bottom of the Pacific.

As the instruments had given ample warning, there was little loss of life, and being in a sparsely settled district, the property loss did not reach any gigantic sum. But it furnishes conclusive evidence of the vengeance that nature commands.

The conviction that Hawaii is entitled to statehood grows with us every day. In some ways it is not as foreign as some areas of our mainland. Honolulu has a better traffic record than any other city of comparable size.

In that city there were 85 traffic deaths in 1945. Last year, with an increase in population to over the 250,000 mark, there were only 31.

English is the only language taught in the lower grades in the schools. The native language is spoken very little even by the natives. Hawaiian blood has become so mixed with that of other nationalities that the natives look upon most of the old customs as jokes.

For instance, private schools once were established by wealthy natives for the exclusive use of students of pure Hawaiian ancestry. After the melting pot process got under way, this has been reduced to half, quarter and finally one-eighth blood, until now, as put by our guide, a "small transfusion will do."

Commodities required in every day life run about the same in price as in the states. Gasoline is only five cents more per gallon, although it all is imported from the mainland — and on account of climatic conditions gives an excess mileage to make up the difference.

Here at Kona Inn, as in many other night spots in the islands, we have floor shows every night that would do credit to any mainland city, although they always accentuate the Hawaiian theme.

Last night they had a fine orchestra and many native hula dancers, but the only grass skirt on the program was worn by a man, much to the disappointment of the front row where bald heads predominated. The girls wore street length dresses.

The native dancing and singing girls all try to imitate Halliloki, whom her home folks claim has done more to make Arthur Godfrey famous than Godfrey himself. He found her on a local program in Honolulu, and that city now is preparing a celebration in her honor when she comes home for a short visit soon.

At Hilo we were hunted up by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Firnschild of Rochester, who have been with us the last couple of days. Also met Chet Sampson, formerly of Pontiac, who is here in charge of a bunch of 16 Grosse Pointe people making a tour of the islands.

Quite in accord with the spirit of the area, the native name of our driver and guide today is Louis Hoomanawanui, which in Hawaiian means, "Take It Easy."

Urges Increase in Technical Aid

Dem. Sen. Mansfield Calls for $200 Million Point 4 Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mansfield (D-Mont) urged today a "considerable expansion" of technical assistance to foreign nations in the coming year.

Mansfield said in an interview the Eisenhower administration is losing sight of the "fine and altruistic purpose" behind former President Truman's Point Four program of technical aid.

* * *

Mansfield is chairman of a Foreign Relations subcommittee on technical assistance for underdeveloped nations of the world. That panel starts hearings tomorrow on the present scope and direction of U.S. technical aid.

Mansfield proposed today an increase to 200 million dollars or more in the present 116-million-dollar annual spending rate for all technical assistance in such fields as agriculture, sanitation and civil administration. No recommendations have yet been made by the administration.

* * *

Terming the technical aid program "the cheapest and most effective aspect of our foreign policy," the senator declared that the Foreign Operations Administration is allowing it to become "a crutch for other aid programs," such as military and industrial or developmental aid.

California boasts some of the world's largest vineyards. This state accounts for 85 to 90 per cent of all American-made wines.

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—If all goes well Betty Hutton expects to be married Feb. 25 in Mexico. Alan Livingston gets his divorce Feb. 24. They'll honeymoon in Florida where Betty is booked at the Beachcomber's for March 17.

"The thing that delights me," Betty told me, "is that after I said I was returning to show business I had four scripts sent to me.

"The one I'd like to do very much is 'The Darkest Hour'," Betty said. "Sydney Boehm's screen play is wonderful, but the woman's role is just that of a wife and I want to play a character part. They offered to change it for me, but I don't see how it could be done."

* * *

News, like murder, has a way of getting out. When I talked with Josh Logan before he took off for Japan he told me he is interested in making a Japanese picture, but I couldn't get a word out of him what Japanese story he had in mind.

Now I know. He has bought the rights to James Michener's novel, "Sayonara," which is a "Madame Butterfly" in reverse.

At the sceen directors dinners Nicole Maury, who came here with two other actresses to test for "Mary Magdalene," told me that the picture has been indefinitely postponed at U-I, but that she has been testing at MGM.

She was with Benny Thau at the dinner. She said, "I have to improve my English first and I am hoping to get the role of Catherine de Medici in 'Dianne,' Lana Turner's picture."

* * *

Good to hear Bing's voice strong, firm and happy. I telephoned him after he was nominated as best actor for "Country Girl."

"One person knew you'd be nominated," I told Bing, "and that was Bill Perlberg, your producer. He told me months ago he was sure you'd be nominated."

Bing said he is feeling much better, but he is going to take it easy until next month when he starts "Anything Goes" at Paramount.

"You know, I think I'll feel better than I have in a long time," he told me.

And don't ever think for one minute that Bing is indifferent about these honors he gets. He was thrilled to pieces over his Oscar nomination.

* * *

Having seen "A Man Called Peter," I'm beginning to think that Jean Peters is among our least appreciated actresses. Jean plays Katherine Marshall, the minister's wife, in this inspiring story of a man of God's influence over our political capital. She gives a warm, lovely performance.

When I think of Jean's wild Indian girl in "Apache" and her glossy stenographer in "Three Coins in a Fountain," I salute her versatility.

* * *

The asking price of film rights of Gertrudae Lawrence's biography "Gertrude Lawrence as Mrs. A," written by her husband, Richard Aldrich, is one million dollars. Aldrich set this high sum because he is giving the proceeds to the cancer fund.

The argument Cy Howard and Gloria Grahame had at Naples restaurant was so bad that they walked out. Five minutes later Gloria was back alone.

Ike's Economics Winning Praise

Both Business and Farm Interests Call Policies 'Admirable'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for American business and farm interests today lauded President Eisenhower's economic philosophy as "admirable," but took issue with him on such specific issues as corporate tax reduction and minimum wage increase.

Henry G. Riter III, president of the National Assn. of Manufacturers, told the Senate-House Economic Committee N A M "can heartily endorse" the basic philosophy outlined in the President's economic message to Congress last Jan. 20.

Riter said Eisenhower's expressed intention to concentrate on policies looking to long-term economic growth was "economic statesmanship and vision of the highest order."

But the NAM president spoke in the same prepared text of the "pressing necessity" for corporate tax reduction to overcome what he termed "stagnation" of business profits. Eisenhower has asked Congress to cancel a 5 per cent drop in corporation income taxes scheduled for April 1.

* * *

Dr. Emerson P. Schmidt, economic research director of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, said in his prepared statement the President's economic philosophy and policy "on the whole are admirable."

But he was critical of Eisenhower's public housing, minimum wage and certain other recommendations.

Charles B. Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, told the committee, "We are in agreement with the general philosophy expressed in the (President's) report."

* * *

But in his prepared statement, Shuman opposed Eisenhower's request to raise the minimum wage from 75 to 90 cents an hour and to bring more workers under the wage floor law. He also came out against any increase in federal spending for highway improvement.

Tough Old Dog Without a Name Victim of Shooter

Just another big, shaggy, black-and-brown stray, he got to be a familiar sight to miners driving to and from work at this huge open-pit copper mine.

* * *

He wouldn't let anyone within 25 feet of him, but he always stationed himself beside the highway leading to this canyon town. Many miners saved scraps from their lunch boxes to place in a box at the roadside for him.

Dairymen's Breakfast Features Ice Cream

Ban Crime Comics

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors yesterday banned sale of comic books depicting crime and violence. Violations will be punishable by $500 fines, six months in jail or both.

O-JIB-WA BITTERS IS TOPS FOR RHEUMATISM-ARTHRITIS

"My legs were swollen and pained so much that I couldn't stand on my feet," says Mrs. Effie Nations, 3102 Fielding St., Flint, Michigan.

"I had Rheumatism and Arthritis in my ankles, legs, shoulders, back and arms. At times, my legs were swollen and pained so much that I couldn't stand on my feet. I couldn't go up or down stairs or do many of the other little everyday things that one never thinks about. It would bother me all day and then the pains would keep me awake most of the night. I suffered these pains and miseries for over six years without finding much relief until trying O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I read in the newspaper where someone else had found relief by using O-JIB-WA BITTERS and decided to try it myself. I wasn't disappointed with it because in a few days, I could tell it was helping me and in about a month, the swelling went down in my legs and ankles, all of the pains were gone, and I could walk around fine. I get a good nights sleep now and feel better than I have in many years. O-JIB-WA gives me more pep and I feel like getting around and doing things. I think O-JIB-WA BITTERS is tops. There is nothing better for Rheumatism and Arthritis."

State Launches Tourist Drive

Peak Season Predicted as Big Ad Compaign Gets Under Way

LANSING (UP) — State tourist officials said today they have embarked on a big newspaper and magazine advertising campaign aimed at inducing a record number of persons to take "Water Wonderland vacations" this year.

"We'll be appealing to some 29,000,000 people through magazines and 30,000,000 through newspapers," Furlong said.

The advertisements will include questionaires that can be clipped and sent to the council to get reservations or further information.

"When the reservations begin coming in we'll have an indication of what kind of season to expect," Furlong said.

The advance reservations also will indicate what kind of resorts and vacation activities should prove the most popular, he said.

"The estimated total revenue of Michigan tourist industry in 1953 was more than $500,000,000 and it was the No. 1 industry in two-thirds of the state," he said.

Delays Ruling on Case of Mt. Clemens Agent

LANSING (UP) — State Insurance Commissioner Joseph Navarre has postponed a ruling on the case of Walter F. Fiehler, Mount Clemens insurance agent accused of placing insurance in unauthorized agenices without a license.

A decision was due Monday but Navarre said he granted Fiehler a 10-day extension.

LIFE OF GEORGE WASHINGTON

The Early War Years—3

He was chosen to lead expeditions into the unknown western wilderness, then for service as an officer with the British in the French and Indian War in 1755. He fought so well that he became well known.

Afterwards, Washington went back to Mount Vernon and married a wealthy widow, Mrs. Martha Custis. Also he served in the colonial legislature or House of Burgesses with such famous men as Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson.

The British chased his army across New Jersey. But on a cold Christmas night, he crossed the icy Delaware River with his soldiers in boats, surprising and defeating his enemies at Trenton. It was an important victory for America.

Color George's cloak grey, his coat and hat blue, his pants tan. The flag should be colored like ours today, although actually it had not yet been made up at that time. Color others parts of the pciture as you like.

Final Non-League Tilt Easy for Chiefs

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High wound up the non-conference portion of its 1954-55 basketball season last night with an easy 56-34 triumph over Ferndale on the Railsplitters' home court.

Chiefs enjoyed their 2nd-best shooting night of the year, sinking 24 of 68 shots for a respectable .353 percentage. Ferndale, which collected only five field goals in each half, had a drab .208 mark.

Pontiac led all the way, but the game was fairly close until Ferndale coach Roy Burkhart pulled his starting five for the final 3½ minutes of the 2nd period. Chiefs outscored the Railsplitter reserves 9-3 in that brief span, and the Eastern Michigan League team never again was within striking distance.

Rod Treais dunked his 1st two shots as Pontiac jumped into a 4-0 lead in the opening minute. Action see-sawed for the rest of the period, which ended with the Chiefs in front, 13-10.

PHS squad pulled ahead 21-14 midway through the following quarter and Burkhart yanked his regulars, who had hit on only one of nine shots. Treais then pumped in five points to lead Pontiac to a 30-17 halftime advantage. Ferndale's starters returned for the 3rd quarter, but could collect only three points while all five of coach Art Van Ryzin's regulars were contributing to a 12-point spree.

Margin reached 50-20 early in the finale as center Dick Blacklaw threw in three straight buckets. Van Ryzin alternated seven reserves rest of the way and Ferndale managed to close the final gap to 22 points.

Blacklaw hit on nine of his 16 shots to take game scoring honors with 18 points. Treais backed him up with 13, while Larry Shelton was high for the losers with nine.

Chiefs renew their bid for a runnerup finish in the Saginaw Valley Conference Friday, when they travel to Saginaw to meet the 4th-place Trojans.

Wolves Tie for Lead, Avon, Rochester Win

Clarkston High School's basketball team was tied for the Wayne-Oakland League lead, at least until tonight, but not before the Wolves had survived a real tussle with a "new" Northville team, 45-41, last night.

Darwin Teshka, Bud Bell and freshman Clayton Pethers joined the Mustang quintet and accounted for 33 of its 41 points. Northville held a 34-32 3rd quarter lead and the count was tied with 3 minutes left.

Then Bob Yahnke bagged a pair of free throws and the clincher was applied as George Lang scored on a steal, was fouled and completed the 3-point play. Clarkston's Lanny Leak was high with 14 points.

* * *

Clarkston and Milford share the W-O lead with 9-1 records, but Milford plays tonight against Clarenceville.

In other games Avondale avenged an earlier defeat by thumping Waterford, 74-59; Rochester won its 7th straight game, 61-48, over Fitzgerald; Holly dumped Brighton, 62-55; and Utica nosed out Lakeview, 36-33, for its 12th win without a loss.

A second-half explosion brought Avon's Yellowjackets their victory. Waterford held a 31-27 edge in the final minute of the 1st half, but 3 quick buckets put the 'Jackets ahead, 33-31.

Then Jerry Paul sparked a 3rd period assault with 11 points as Avon pulled away. Four Jackets hit in double figures with Toby Aldrich getting 18 and Paul 16. Joe Umphrey had 15 for the Skippers.

Rochester built up an 8-point halftime lead and continued the surge after intermission to win with ease. Pat Munn collected 22 points for the Falcons and Bill Dean added 17.

Two baskets apiece by Roger Vorheis, Skip Conklin and Jack Felch in the last 3 minutes, broke open a close game and gave Holly its 4th win of the season. Conklin's 14 points led the Broncos.

Elsewhere, Jim Hock tallied 21 points and Perry Root, 20, in South Lyon's 77-48 triumph over Boysville, and Ortonville gave highly-regarded Flint Dye a struggle before falling, 66-54.

Failure at Foul Line Ousts Shamrocks From Playoffs

St. Michael's Suburban Catholic League champions bowed out of the parochial circuit's Second Division playoffs last night in Detroit, losing to West Side titlist St. Andrews, 59-48.

Mikes, down 14-7 at the end of the opening quarter, bounced back to tie the score at 25-all at halftime. John Keller collected eight points in the 2nd period as the Shamrocks outscored St. Andrew 18-11.

Third quarter proved to be the turning point as the Flyers piled up 19 points to St. Michael's eight to forge ahead 44-33. Pontiac parochials missed five consecutive chances at the free throw line during the one-sided stanza.

Skora paced the winners with 19 points, while John Keller had 15 and brother Marty 14 for St. Michael. Victory gave St. Andrew a finals berth against East Side champ St. Florian Sunday night in the University of Detroit Fieldhouse.

3 Ring Group Members Fired

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) —Gov. George M. Leader, Pennsylvania's new Democratic chief executive, has fired all three members of the state athletic commission. He will pick new members of his own choice.

"These dismissals are not intended to reflect on any individuals," Leader said Tuesday in a statement accompanying the ouster announcement.

The firings of Chairman Frank Wiener, Philadelphia; George Jones, Williamsport and John D. Holahan, Pittsburgh, came on the heels of a promise by the governor to bring about a "cleanup" of boxing in Pennsylvania.

Leader has not indicated who the replacements will be.

English Bulldog Winner of Dogdom's Big Tourney

NEW YORK (AP) — Just 14 months ago, Dr. John A. Saylor of Long Beach, Calif., looked long and hard at a picture of a dog taken in Great Britain.

The photo was of a lumbering bulldog, far from pretty to the average man on the street, but a real beauty to Dr. Saylor, who has been interested in the breed for the past seven years.

Less than 24 hours later, he was the owner of Ch. Kippax Fearnaught, who today rules the dog world as king of the Westminster Kennel Club Show—the one that counts in the canine set.

The picture was sent to a bulldog expert in Dr. Saylor's home state by Mrs. Mary Ellis, editor of the British Bulldog Magazine. Dr. Saylor was told he could have the dog if he made his decision within a day. It didn't take him that long and he's never regretted it.

Fearnaught, a big favorite with the Madison Square Garden crowd of 10,000, was sent to the top Tuesday night over a strong field of five other group winners by Albert E. Van Court of Los Angeles, who judged the final.

The field Fearnaught defeated included an Oakland County dog. Ch. King Peter of Salilyn, an English Springer owned by Mrs. F. H. Gasow of Birmingham, went best in breed and best in sporting group, at Westminster, and was rated one of the top favorites for the "big award." Fearnaught was beaten in last year's final by the 1954 champion, Ch. Rise and Shine, which did not compete this year.

Massachusetts Would Block Vejar's Bout

BOSTON (AP) — The Massachusetts Boxing Commission awaited word from New York today on a move to block a scheduled Chico Vejar-Billy Graham bout until Vejar fulfills a contract to meet welterweight contender Tony DeMarco in Boston.

Henry Lamar, Massachusetts commissioner, said Tuesday night that the New York commission has been asked not to approve a Vejar-Graham bout scheduled for March 4 in New York.

Wings Return to NHL Lead With 3-2 Win

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings stormed back into 1st place in the National Hockey League last night on Dutch Reibel's goal in the last 58 seconds, but the victory was tempered by the benching of the great Gordie Howe.

Reibel, who is becoming a big money player, whipped in a 10-foot screen shot at 19:02 of the last period to give the Red Wings a 3-2 victory over the lowly Chicago Blackhawks.

It gave Detroit 72 points in the standings, moving the Wings one point ahead of the Montreal Canadiens, who were idle.

Under normal circumstances, Reibel's goal would have been the big news, but the sophomore center was forced to share billing with Howe, who was told to sit on the bench for virtually the entire 3rd period — at a time when the Red Wings were trying desperately to pull out a victory.

It was the 1st time anyone in the press box could recall that Howe was benched even for a few turns on the ice.

It was at 1st thought the big right winger had suffered some sort of injury, but general manager Jack Adams scotched that theory after the game by saying that Howe was removed for the simple reason that he was playing an awful-awful game, or words to that effect.

In the meantime, Reibel has picked up Howe's scoring slack. His winning goal last night was his 17th of the season and 3rd in three games. He also drilled the 3rd period goal Saturday for a 2-1 win over Toronto.

Before Reibel's goal, Wings and Hawks played dull and disorganized hockey for the most part. Red Sullivan and Jack MacIntyre had scored for Chicago while Glen Skov and Red Kelly clicked for Detroit. Kelly's goal was his 1st since Jan. 2 — a stretch of 20 games.

Prep Game Total . . Hits 256 Points

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — Undefeated Wheeling High School won its 16th consecutive game here Tuesday night as it defeated Weirton 146-110.

The combined total of 256 points very probably is a national high school scoring record. The encyclopedia of Sport lists the previous high between high schools at a mere 202 points as St. Marys of Shamokin, Pa., drubbed Locust Gap, 157-45, in 1937.

TORONTO (AP)—The Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football Union said Tuesday night they have had contract talks with Bill Swiacki, end coach with the New York Giants of the National Football League, in an effort to replace Head Coach Frank Clair.

Argo Team Manager Harry Sonshine said he talked to Swiacki this week about the head coaching job. No contact has been signed, however.

Stanky Sees Cardinals Battling for 1955 Title

Eleventh of a Series

ST. LOUIS CARDINALS

By EDDIE STANKY

FAIRHOPE, Ala. (AP)—I am looking forward to the 1955 season with a great deal of hope and enthusiasm. I am not in the habit of making predictions but I am willing to go on record as saying that not only will the Cardinals be a much better team than they were in 1954 but they will prove to be a strong flag contender.

* * *

One of our big weaknesses last year was in the bull pen. Time and again we lost games in the eighth and ninth innings that appeared won. This year we hope to be much better off in the bullpen because of the acquisition of Frank Smith from Cincinnati and the promotion of several fine young prospects from the minors.

* * *

The addition of Smith alone makes us stronger but don't forget that we will have Brooks Lawrence and Gordon Jones right from the start. They proved a lifesaver to us last year.

* * *

I'm not worried about the team's hitting. We were the best-hitting club in the league last year but we finished sixth. I'm more concerned about our pitching. We had good hitting and went no place because we lacked the pitching in 1954. I know we'll be better on the mound in '55. For a big four we have Harvey Haddix, Tom Poholsky, Larence and Jones. I think they'll be all right. There are some other pitchers I'd like to look over.

* * *

I also expect Vic Raschi to help the club a great deal. We may alter his schedule a bit this year, pitching him once a week. He gave it a battle with four or five days' rest last year. But I believe he needs a week, so he'll be a spot pitcher. Where most pitchers can get by with 100 to 110 pitches, Vic needs that many in six or seven innings, and it takes a lot out of him.

Detroit May Try Plan for Night Golfing

DETROIT (AP)—The city of Detroit may soon have the 1st standard size illuminated golf course in the nation.

City parks and recreation commission has ordered a study of cost and other factors to light the 9-hole course on Belle Isle, recreation area in the Detroit river. One estimate of cost was $250,000.

John J. Considine, general superintendent of the parks and recreation department, said "thousands of Detroit men and women would enjoy getting out on a golf course in the evening after working all day long."

City officials said the only other lighted course in the country is a "pitch-and-putt" layout at Southern Pines, N.C.

Phoenix Seeks Kid for Spring Battle

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Kid Gavilan, former world's welterweight boxing champion, Tuesday night was guaranteed $5,000 plus expenses to meet the winner of the Jimmy Martinez-Charlie Salas fight here Thursday night.

If Gavilan accepts, the bout will be staged outdoors, perhaps in early April.

Demaret May Miss $12,500 Texas Tourney

Attack of Indigestion Puts Colorful Star on Doubtful List

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Final practice rounds and a golf clinic take up the time of the hotshots of the tournament trail today as they square away for the $12,500 Texas Open with one of the stars — colorful Jimmie Demaret — on the doubtful list.

* * *

Demaret, usually a high finisher in the tournament here, was taken to a hospital Tuesday night when he had an attack while playing in a pro-amateur. It apparently was indigestion and Demaret was confident he would be all right and able to play in the open.

The big tournament opens Thursday with virtually all of the stars of the winter tour seeking the $2,500 first money.

That par 36-35—71 over the 6,400-yard Brackenridge Park course will take its usual hammering was indicated Tuesday when 249 players fought for 50 places in the open in 18-hole qualifying rounds. Willie Polumbo of Kennett Square, Pa., and Ivan Gantz of Indianapolis each shot a 66 to lead the way. John Serafin of Fox Hill, Pa., and J. W. Stamps of Atlanta posted 67's and six others did 68.

Thirty-three places were determined from those shooting 71 or better. The other 71 will come from the 72 shooters, some of whom didn't finish their rounds until Wednesday.

Chandler Harper of Chattanooga, who won the tournament last year with a record 259 for 72 holes; Gene Littler of Palm Springs, Calif., the year's leading money-winner; Tommy Bolt of Houston, who won last weekend's tournament at Tucson, and Shelley Mayfield of Chicopee, Mass., were among the favorites as the field got ready.

The pro-amateur Tuesday where Demaret ran into trouble was at Oak Hills Country Club. Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., one of the bright young stars along the tournament trail, had a 6-under-par 65 to lead the scorers and teamed with Stan Mosel, San Antonio amateur, to win the pro-amateur with a best ball 57. Maxwell won $800. Bill Trombley of Dallas and Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kans., were second with 66's.

Toledo Yacht in Slim Lead in P-A Event

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Walter Swindeman's Yankee Doodle of the Toledo Yacht Club took a slim lead into today's closing event in the competition for the Lightning class Pan American Cup.

Yankee Doodle edged ahead in its fight with Gene Walet's Spirit II Tuesday, sneaking across the finish line 40 seconds ahead of the Pontchartrain (La.) Fleet craft in the 6-mile event. They had entered the day in a tie for first place.

The over-all winner will be determined by the best four results in five events.

Former Victors in Quarterfinals

Palm Beach Feature Matches Riley - Brown, Smith - McHale

PALM BEACH, Fla (AP) — Three former winners play quarter-finals matches Wednesday in the 20th annual Mixed Foursomes Two-Ball Amateur Golf tournament, with one team certain to be eliminated.

Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., and J. Walcott Brown of Manasquan, N. J., winners of this event in 1952, are matched with Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of LaCanada, Calif., and James B. McHale Jr. of Philadelphia, defending champions.

Marlene Stewart of Fonthills, Ont., and Hobart Manley Jr. of Savannah, Ga., the 1953 winning duo, play Marjorie Burns of Greensboro, N. C., and Les Handt of Tampa.

'Tiger' Meets Olson Tonight in Chicago Go

Upsetter of Robinson Rated 4-1 Underdog Against Bobo

CHICAGO (AP) — Ralph (Tiger) Jones, upsetter of Sugar Ray Robinson a month ago, unflinchingly challenges middleweight champion Bobo Olson in a nontitle 10-rounder tonight at Chicago Stadium.

The confident Yonkers, N. Y., Negro has been installed a 4-1 underdog against the finely conditioned San Francisco titleholder, who is unbeaten in his last 18 starts and has lost only six times in 66 bouts.

* * *

If it's any consolation to Jones he is only half the underdog he was a month ago. The odds against him were 8-1 when he stunned ringsiders with his mastery over the once-great Sugar Ray, rustily trying a comeback.

The fight will be televised by CBS at 10 p.m., EST.

It should be an interesting affair, with Jones, once the third-ranked middleweight contender, trying to swarm over Olson for a victory—or at least an exceptional showing—that could set him up for a shot at Bobo's crown later.

* * *

"I see a shortcut to the title," said the 26-year-old Jones, who comes from a family of 10 children. "They are saying I am made to order for Olson because I have short arms and have to come in on the inside to be at my best. But he's only human and he also is at his best as an infighter. I know he'll trade blows with me on the inside and that's what I like. There won't be any chasing around the ring like I had to do to catch Robinson."

Chicago Boat Winner of 1st Cuban Test

Coloradoan Hopes to Nail Third Figures Title Today

VIENNA (AP)—Hayes Alan Jenkins of Colorado Springs, Colo., figures to win his third straight world figure skating title today in the free skating event — his specialty.

Jenkins overcame a tipping wind Tuesday to build up a good lead toward the title in the compulsory figures. He ran up a total of 1,055.5 points in the six required figures and had the low-place mark of 10.

While Jenkins had little to say about the weather, other than "the wind was terrific," some of Vienna's skating experts said the performances in the compulsory event were "appalling." They complained that none of the 14 contestants had mastered the loop-change-loop figure.

Karl Schaefer, seven times world champion, was less critical, but while admitting the freezing weather was far from ideal said it was a real test for good skaters. "Skating is, after all, a winter sport," he said.

George Washington, N. C. State Add to Fine Basketball Records With Tuesday Night Wins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

George Washington and North Carolina State, two of the nation's top 10 teams, seem to be gathering momentum as the collegiate basketball season progresses.

GW's Colonials, ranked fifth in this week's Associated Press poll, posted their 11th straight victory last night as they staged a second-half comeback to subdue Washington and Lee 69-62. George Washington boasts a 20-3 over-all mark.

The Wolfpack, No. 7, dowped Duke 84-78. The Wolfpack has won six out of its last seven games, extending its season record to 22-4.

Only two other ranked teams, Maryland and Oregon State, saw action last night. The Terrapins, No. 11, received a scare from stubborn Clemson and had to rally to pull out a 68-66 verdict. Oregon State, No. 16, wrapped up the Northern Division championship of the Pacific Coast Conference with a 67-56 triumph over Idaho.

Sophomore Dick O'Neal broke the Southwest Conference record for free throws for one season as he led first-place Texas Christian to a 75-56 conquest over Texas.

* * *

George Washington, runner-up to West Virginia in the Southern Conference race, overcame a 40-33 halftime deficit against Washington and Lee. The Colonials collected 20 points at the outset of the second half while holding the Generals scoreless for eight straight minutes and building up an insurmountable 53-40 advantage. Corky Devlin's 28 points topped GW.

Bob Seitz, a 260-pound reserve, provided the scoring impetus in the closing minutes as North Carolina State upended Duke in an Atlantic Coast Conference game. Seitz's shooting kept the Wolfpack in contention during the final minutes and it was his field goal that put State ahead for good.

Maryland, in squeezing past Clemson, remained tied for first place in the ACC with N. C. State. The Terrapins surged back in the last five minutes after trailing at one time by 14 points.

Southern Methodist kept its title hopes alive with an 81-56 conquest of Texas A&M as Jim Kreba hit for 27 points. Rice, led by Joe Durrenberger's 32-point output, whipped Baylor 80-68 in another Southwest Conference game.

Rocky Gets Cockell as Foe for Title

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (AP)—England's pudgy Don Cockell will get the first chance to put heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano's battered and valuable nose to supreme test in a title fight in May. The site will probably be San Francisco's Kezar Stadium.

After watching his heavily protected meal ticket box another three rounds with sparmate Keene Simmons Tuesday, Manager Al Weill said he was satisfied with the condition of the champ's schnozzola. No blood was shed. Al immediately pronounced Rocky fit for duty and surprised no one by announcing that Cockell, the 26-year-old British Empire king, would be the opponent.

"Sure we'll fight in England—New England."

Weill has favored San Francisco all along. He said he had been assured by San Francisco Jimmy Murray, who would co-promote with Jim Norris of the International Boxing Club, the international fight could draw $1,000,000 in the Golden Gate area.

* * *

Cockell, a stocky, thick-necked blacksmith, has been undefeated since he was flattened in 11 rounds by Randy Turpin for the British Empire 175-pound title 2½ years ago. Grown to 200-plus proportions the Briton numbers Harry (Kid) Matthews and Roland LaStarza among his recent victims.

Asked about Valdes and lightheavyweight Archie Moore, who have been clamoring for a crack at the title, Weill snapped "they'll get their turn when we're ready. Rocky never ducked no one and he'll flattened all in time."

Rocky undefeated in 47 pro bouts, said it made no difference to him whom he fought.

"I'll get around to them all," said the 30-year-old champion. "Al does the managing and makes the matches."

"Nothing will be done definitely until Feb. 24," said Weill. "Then Jack Solomons (British promoter), Cockell and his manager will be in New York to meet with us and Jim Norris. Then it will be up to Norris to decide what to do. After all we have a contract with Norris."

Ninth Victory Chalked Up for Grill Quintet

With 'B' Title Nailed Down Now, Only 1 Tilt Off Perfect Year

Griff's Grill ran its undefeated string to nine games in City Basketball League Class B play last night, dumping Stadium Inn, 60-44.

Grill which already has clinched the "B" regular season championship, is now within a single game of a perfect season.

Two ex-PHS athletes paced the victory. Maurice Stack was high with 14 points, while Marv Caswell added 10. Jim Lee had 18 for the losers.

Chuck's Shack handed the Nomads their 7th straight Class A setback, 51-45. Randy Hancock's 13 points were high for the Shack team.

In Class D, '41' appeared to be the magic number as three of four winners hit that figure. Meteors downed Wolverines 41-17, Lakers defeated Irwin-Rosa 41-24, and Keego Kiwanis bounced Bad Cats 41-34. Blue Devils fell one point short, but won over Slaybaugh's, 40-34, in the other "D" contest.

Success Attends Start of Linscott Comeback Try

The 22-year-old Pontiac middleweight started his professional ring comeback with an impressive unanimous decision over rugged Tony Hendrix of London, Ont., at Detroit's Motor City Arena.

Linscott definitely showed that he still retains much of the punching power and boxing skill that carried him to the National AAU welterweight crown as an amateur.

He floored Hendrix in the 1st 30 seconds of the fight and had him in trouble in each of the following three rounds, but couldn't put him away. Gene was awarded 38 of a possible 40 points in Michigan's "must-10" scoring system.

The 4-round prelim was Linscott's 1st appearance in a professional ring since losing to Allie Gronik in November of 1950. He now has a 9-1 pro record.

Linscott's managers, Don Frayer and Chuck Richards, announced today that he has signed to fight in Saginaw on March 4. No opponent has yet been named.

In Tuesday night's feature bouts, Dick Ramozetti decisioned Izzy Leyton in a lightweight go and Eli Leggett and John Barnes fought to a draw in another lightweight match. Henry Hank of Detroit knocked out Chuck Coleman of Detroit in 2:13 of the 2nd round in the 3rd scheduled 6-rounder.

Corum Backs Moore's Attempts to Get Rocky in Ring for Championship Try

By BILL CORUM

NEW YORK (INS)—The opinion here is that there is no heavyweight fighter in the world today who belongs in the same ring with Rocky Marciano.

Archie Moore tells me that he can whip the Rock, and will if he ever gets the chance. Which is as it may be.

And there are folks around, such as Mike DiSalle, who is a pleasant fellow although possibly not quite sure with which hand a fighter starts a jab, who are confident that truer words never were spoken than these confident ones of Archie's.

I, too, think that Moore can fight all right. I just don't think that he can fight Rocky successfully. I do, however, believe that he should get the chance. Because, with me, that's the name of the game.

No heavyweight champion of the world can be quite as great a fighter as he should be, unless he meets all comers and proves it. And that goes for Rocky, Tunney, Dempsey, Louis and all the way back to John L. Sullivan, the other Massachusetts strong boy, whose boast it was that he could lick any son-of-a-sea-cook in the house.

And who tried to prove it, even though when he met up with a San Francisco bank clerk in New Orleans named Jim Corbett, John Lawrence S. no longer could prove it. But they all go that way. As will Rocky, when the time comes, of course.

I believe Moore should get a shot at the big title, because he knows how to fight, has been around a long time, and, therefore, has earned it. The chances, also, are that he would have the best chance with the thunder-hitter from Brockton.

The 26-year-old shortstop reportedly received about $7,000 for his first season in the major leagues last year after the Cards paid about $100,000 to get him. Alex will receive about $10,000 this season.

Good Wing Shots Potentially Capable of Fine Skeet Work

By JACK PATTERSON

August and the National Skeet Shoot seem almost impossibly far in the future, what with the snow, near-zero temperatures and other "corruption" we are called upon to put up with at the moment. So far, in fact, we'd shy away from mentioning it at all but for one compelling reason. Suspicion might be a better word than reason, but at any rate we've a hunch that there are several shooters wandering around local boondocks who are quite capable of snatching major honors in next summer's shoot at Waterford, and they probably don't even realize it.

PATTERSON

We're not talking about confirmed skeet shooters with which local woods abound, either. We'll stick our neck out to the extent of stating flatly that any reasonably accomplished wing shot who practices regularly between now and August can whip himself into good enough shape to give the experts a run for their money, whether or not, he has, up to his moment, ever seen a clay pigeon.

Fear of facing name contenders probably is the biggest factor in keeping a lot of good local talent out of national competition. For example, at least 25 Detroit shooters, whose past performance indicated that they stood an excellent chance of taking some top honors, failed to enter for that very reason, last year.

This attitude is bugwash of course. Current champions would not have ever started, let alone get to the top, if they had been squiggly about facing tough competition.

* * *

Now then, if any reader wishes to prime himself for next summer's activities, here's how to go about it. First, he should write to George White, secretary-manager of the National Skeet Shooting Association, 3409 Oak Lawn Ave., Suite 105, Dallas 19, Texas, for a membership application to the association. Annual fee is five bucks, and in addition to the membership, a requisite for participation in the national shoot, it entities the new member to 12 monthly issues of the Association magazine.

* * *

Once he has joined the national group, the shooter can do nothing and enter the big shoot, but in a limited classification. If he wishes to try for the works he must qualify by shooting at 500 registered targets prior to the shoot. A registered target is one shot at during a registered meet, of which there will be many about the state in the spring.

It should be pointed out that even an abysmal score in the qualifying shooting will by no means bar the shooter from participation in the national meet.

This is one national competition which is built to order for the average man. It doesn't require tremendous physical fitness. It doesn't require a huge outlay for equipment. It was designed to be, and is, every sportsman's game.

So, if you can hold onto a shotgun, can see 20 yards or so, and can spare a few hours a week on practice, give it a try. You might fool yourself (and friends) by winding up a champ. Even if you don't you'll have lots of fun trying.

Proposed Sewer Could Cut Taxes in Waterford

Supervisor Hopes Drains Will Attract New Industry

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A proposed interceptor drain eliminating the township's sewage disposal problems could lift the tax burden from the shoulders of the homeowner, according to township supervisor Lloyd L. Anderson.

"It is my sincere hope that a sewer system within the township will encourage more industry and business to settle here," he explained, adding that it would boost the tax base, and relieve the residents of some of the load.

Most industries find a sewer system a necessity, and so far it's something we haven't been able to offer, Anderson said.

Waterford is participating with West Bloomfield, Southfield, Farmington townships and the city of Farmington in studying the feasibility of an interceptor sewer through the areas, and south into Detroit treatment plants.

The township boards have approved $1,000 each to finance early studies of the project.

"We have only a slight margin of our taxes paid by business and industry, consequently the individual home - owner must shoulder the taxes of the township," Anderson asserted.

Approximately 92 per cent of the tax bill-footing is done by residents, he pointed out.

Slightly more than 13 per cent of the township taxes go for operating the county government, and the remainder is for school usage, both in operation and construction.

As originally outlined, the proposed interceptor would go east from Waterford Township, collecting sewage from other townships, and end at a sewage disposal plant in Avon Township.

Avon officials opposed this move, and for a time the thinking was to pump the sewage south from Avon Township into the Detroit system near Royal Oak.

'Queen of the Whingding' Leads Washington Society

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

WASHINGTON (INS) — Gwen Cafritz, Washington's foremost flinger of soirees for "people who count," lives in a big house on a high hill and serves big martinis followed by big dinners.

"I love to give big beautiful dinners," she says, "but I don't really give as many as people say. How could I? This is such a fabulous city, you know, there are at least three parties to go to every night. . .

"To be a good hostess, you have to be a good guest, too, and visit other people."

It is simply too exciting for words, Mrs. Cafritz says, yawning slightly at her martini. But one must be very selective about which parties one goes to. And one must also follow a policy of sleeping till noon, or some of one's vigor may fade.

Gregarious Gwen took control of the capital's party - going set (sometimes referred to by puritans as free-loaders) after Perle Mesta was diverted to Luxembourg. And Mrs. Cafritz, what's more, has managed to keep hold of her unofficial title, Queen of the Whingding, despite Mrs. Mesta's return.

Assisted by the presence and pocketbook of her builder husband, Morris, she gives not only dinners but a great many "cocktails" (the word "party" is eliminated as not only superfluous but frivolous in diplomatic circles), to which she invites up to 450 persons. Though the "cocktails" are not as important as the dinners, they are essential if one is to stay out ahead in the home entertaining field.

"You see," explains Mrs. Cafritz patriotically, "Washington has the most interesting people, with the greatest amount of character, that you can find in the world. All the countries send their best men here. To entertain them all, you must have large cocktails."

Also, she adds fastidiously, the occasional bore can be easily evaded at a large affair of this type.

Tall, striking, black - haired Gwen Cafritz has no trouble at all deciding in whose honor to give a party. "I simply do it chronologically, according to protocol. The first thing in the fall, I give a dinner for the vice president, and the next is for the chief justice, and then the dean of the diplomatic corps, and so on."

By the time Easter rolls around, the parties are often given for more whimsical purposes—like the coming of spring or summer.

"I always give a very large affair on Easter," she says, sipping enthusiastically on a martini, "because the tulips are up and the hyacinths look so lovely. It's a pity not to celebrate their coming."

Since she reached her height as a hostess four years ago, Gwen Cafritz has entertained virtually every diplomatic dignitary of note except the President and first lady. "It would be divine if they would come," she says, pouting ever so daintily, "but of course one doesn't even ask them. They're so busy."

In the event that presidents do begin attending such prominent shindigs, Mrs. Cafritz should have no trouble regardless of the administration. She is always non - partisan, and loves Democrats and Republicans alike. "It always appealed to me to collect attractive people," she explains. And of course, there are attractive people on both sides of the political fence, so why risk offending anyone?

"People in Washington are smart," she sums up. "They know what social events are important, and what are not. At some homes, they know they will be seen with certain people, and at others they are not so sure."

As for Mrs. Mesta—who was always, flatly, a Democrat—Mrs. Cafritz merely smiles complacently. She finds the subject of her reported feud with Perle to be most tiresome, and has only this to say about it:

Early Dealings Boost Market

General Dynamics opened unchanged at 119 on a block of 2,000 shares, and within a short time it started marching ahead with a top gain of 7½ points. Chance Vought kept pace up 7½ points at the most.

Dynamics was a big feature yesterday when it ran its gain to 12½ and then lost all but ⅛ of that when the company denied it planned a rumored merger. Chance Vought was up 2¾ yesterday.

General Electric, yesterday's most active issue up 3⅛ on the announcement that the company was making diamonds, opened today at 55 up ⅞ on 8,000 shares and then added a little more.

Among higher stocks were Republic Steel (which plans a two-for-one split), Bell Aircraft, Radio Corp., American Telephone (which opened on 3,000 shares up ⅛ at 179), Kennecott Copper, Allied Chemical, Baltimore & Ohio, Loew's, and Celotex (which reported excellent earnings).

Business Notes:

Sales Reported Higher in Area

Department Stores See Increase of 7 Per Cent for 1st 5 Weeks of Year

For the first five weeks in 1955 department store sales ran seven per cent ahead of the same period last year, says a report from the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago in a roundup on sales in the 7th Federal Reserve District. Detroit stores turned in the most favorable major city comparison, up 12 per cent. Chicago matched the district increase. Sales in both Indianapolis and Milwaukee about equaled year-ago levels.

District hard goods lines set a torrid pace during the early weeks of 1955. Combined sales of major household appliances, domestic floor coverings, furniture and bedding, and radio-TV through Feb. 5 ran more than one-fifth ahead of a year ago.

Despite a mild slide-off in total sales at Midwest department stores in 1954 from 1953 levels, there were some notable exceptions to the general decline. Luxury items, major household appliances, radio-TV and men's and boys' wear all helped buoy up 7th District department store sales.

Luxury items, which received a boost from the cutback in excise taxes during the year, registered some significant gains. Seventh District fur sales increased 5 per cent over 1953. Sales of silverware and jewelry picked up 3 per cent and toilet articles gained slightly. Of the luxury grouping, only luggage failed to top 1953.

Other exceptions to the downtrend were department store sales of major household appliances which gained 8 per cent over 1953 and radio and television sales, up 4 per cent.

Thieves forced the doors of the apartments to gain entry, police said.

Driver Fined $35

Glenwood Rezoning Sent to Plan Board; Hearing Set

By a 6-1 vote, the City Commission last night sent the Glenwood Estates Subdivision rezoning ordinance to the City Planning Commission and set a public hearing for March 8.

The plan commission had recommended changing only 17 acres of the 40-acre site now. They urged tabling action on the remaining 23 acres for 60 days.

However, the two principal owners of the land last week told the Commission the land would be sold for back taxes at the May tax sale unless they could sell it to a building firm, which proposes to build 170 homes on it.

In order to keep the legal wheels turning, the Commission voted to send the proposed ordinance on to the plan commission, the next step in the procedure.

"If we stall, the whole thig is liable to blow up," said Commissioner Floyd P. Miles.

"Tonight's action is no indication what our final action will be," said Commissioner Roy V. Cooley. "If there wasn't a time limit, I would vote to defer, but there is a time limit because of the tax sale."

Single vote against moving the proposal on its way was cast by Commissioner John E. Carry, who commented:

"The call we have heard for more residential land in the city is certainly commendable. But unless we have land for manufacturing expansion we won't have any need for more residential property."

The owner of a six-acre plot in the subdivision, Roy Courtney, appeared to ask the Commission to let the present manufacturing zoning remain for his property.

A small experimental engineering shop is established on two of the six acres and Courtney said the company plans to expand over all six acres.

If the land is rezoned to residential, the company could remain in operation and could expand 100 per cent, under the city charter. But the company could not use all six acres.

Also referred to the planning commission was a rezoning request from Manley Young to rezone to manufacturing lots 216 to 225 of assessor's plat 140, located at 61 Short St. The Commission took no action on the request.

Circuit Court action is pending in a suit by the city against Young for operating a plating company at the address in violation of the city zoning ordinance.

Commissioner Miles submitted reports from the City Building Dept. and Fire Dept. indicating the plating company is also operating in violation of health, safety and fire regulations.

In other zoning action, the Commission set public hearings for March 8 on the following proposed ordinances sent to the plan board for approval:

Rezone to commercial 1 lots 56 and 65, Buena Vista Heights Subdivision, near Kennett and Dearborn roads.

Rezone to commercial 2 lots 264 to 289, Marquette Subdivision, with certain provisions. The area is on the north shore of Harris Lake between Baldwin avenue and the Pontiac, Orion & Northern Railroad.

Rezone to commercial 1 lots 19 to 24, Mt. Clemens Hills Subdivision, with certain provisions. The land is on the south side of Mt. Clemens street between Maxwell and Jordan streets.

Also sent to the planners was a request from the Gee Coal Co. to rezone lot 128 of assessor's plat 128 from residential to manufacturing 1. The lot is bounded by Lake street and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad.

Clerk Checking Petition Names

2,900 Signatures Are Listed Asking for Vote on Fluoridation April 4

The city clerk's staff today began verifying the 2,900 signatures turned in on petitions seeking to put the fluoridation issue on the spring ballot.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said it will take several days to check the names against the voting registrations filed in her office.

If approximately 2,100 of the signatures are valid, a proposal will be put on the April 4 ballot calling for a ban on fluoridation of the city's water.

Should the proposal win a place on the ballot, those voters favoring fluoridation would have to cast a "no" vote. Those opposing the addition of fluorides to the water would case a "yes" vote.

Pedestrian, 13, Injured

Eddie Swartz, 13, of 26½ Cherry Ct., was reported in good condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering hip injuries yesterday when struck by an auto at Saginaw and Whittemore Sts.

Pontiac Police quoted witnesses and the driver, George W. Greer, 21, of 116 Earlemoor Blvd., as saying the youth ran in front of the auto while attempting to cross the street.

Drug Earnings Rise

DETROIT (AP)—Parke, Davis and Co., pharmaceutical firm, says its net earnings in 1954 rose 12.3 per cent over the previous year.

The company said net profit totaled $10,493,502 in 1954 compared with $9,344,017 for 1953. Earnings per share were $2.14 as against $1.91 the year before.

New Cinerama Show Has Thrilling Scenes, Music

"Cinerama Holiday" is the title of the second Cinerama production which opened to the public at the Detroit Music Hall Tuesday night. The first production ran for 100 consecutive weeks.

Present in person for the opening were John and Betty Marsh of Kansas City and Fred and Beatrice Troller from Switzerland. These are the two couples that are the central figures in this second big production.

The Swiss couple tour the United States while the Americans go to Europe. Then they join to review their tours in New York and wind up together in a thrilling finale coming in on a Navy jet plane to land on the carrier "Lake Champlain."

In Europe the audience is "present in person" to see an ice show and beautiful ski and bob-sled scenes in the Alps, Notre Dame Cathedral, a ballet and a night club show in Paris, a midnight fashion show at Jacques Fath's and a puppet show.

In this country the Swiss couple tour the Western cattle country, visit the gambling dens of Las Vegas, the Top of the Mark and Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco, take in New Orleans where they enjoy a jam session led by the late Oscar Celestin.

The new production, like the first, provides a thrilling holiday tour in which the audience is given the distinct impression that it is right there with the Trollers and the Marshes, seeing everything with its own eyes.

Viewers Notice Slight Mistakes

Ex-College Professor, Dr. Francis Ronalds, Is History Consultant

NEW YORK (AP)—It's the little things that can trip you up in historical shows on television, says Dr. Francis Ronalds of Cavalcade of America.

Dr. Ronalds, historical consultant for the weekly ABC show, says that if a show concerning the War of 1812 had a United States flag with only 13 stripes there would be a lot of protests.

"There were 17 stripes as well as 17 stars in the flag in the War of 1812," he says.

* * *

The onetime University of Illinois history professor, points out that the original plan for the flag was to add a stripe as well as a star for each new state. When the number began to get too large, the flag reverted to the original 13 stripes and added only stars for new states.

A show such as Cavalcade may present a historical fact that's unknown to many or even most people, he says. But there are a lot of people who do know all about it. They will spot even minor slipups.

* * *

On one show involving the Charter Oak, he recalls, one of the characters went to a window and raised a sash to look out. There was a flood of letters from viewers pointing out that sash weights and cords weren't in use in that period.

Chauffeur Quizzed in Rubinstein Death

NEW YORK (AP)—Police were hopeful today that a limousine chauffeur might help them solve the Serge Rubinstein murder mystery.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Alexander Herman announced last night:

"If I wanted to at this time I could not identify anyone, but I am hopeful through Scholz of obtaining information leading to the identity of the perpetrator or perpetrators."

Rubinstein, millionaire financier, playboy and draft dodger was slain in his 5th Avenue mansion Jan. 27.

The slender, nervous chauffeur, who police said had once plotted to kidnap Rubinstein, was described as possibly a "very important witness" but not a suspect.

Burglar Who Left $57 Needs Eyes Examined

OMAHA, Neb. (UP)The burglar who broke into the Harding creamery Co. recently might do well to spend the stoen money for an eye examination.

Six dollars in change were missing, but $57 in bills were found lying on the floor.

Big Cheese Arrives

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—One ton of Wisconsin cheddar cheese—all in one hunk—rolled into Salt Lake City yesterday. It stands 4 feet 4 inches high and measures 4 feet across. The grocer who ordered it plans to cut it up and sell it in more manageable sizes.

'Shtiggy Boom' Keeps Spinning in New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The one-record marathon of two disc jockeys spun into its third day today.

Bill Elliott and Bill Stanley, announcers at radio station WNOE, started their marathon with the record "Shtiggy Boom" as a gag at 6 a.m. Monday to publicize the station's new all-night broadcasting schedule.

They wore out two records and had to record the tune on tape to spare their third and last copy. The blues-rhythm tune was recently recorded and tells of a lover pleading for the return of his affections.

* * *

Station manager James Gordon said phone calls flooded the station's switchboard, some approving and a few complaining. He said one person said there must be something wrong with the station because "they keep hearing the same record."

Money wages received by the average Russian collective farm worker in a year are enough to buy about six pairs of men's shoes says the U.S. Information Agency.

Hal Boyle Says:

40 Million Stray Dogs, Cats Plague Humane Societies

NEW YORK (AP)—A new humane movement in America has as its goal planned parenthood for animal pets.

We are a cat-and-dog-loving people. No country spends more money in the care and feeding of its pets. Probably no other country has as many animal hospitals—or cemeteries for pets.

Yet still more than two million unwanted, homeless animals must be put to death each year in dog pounds and animal shelters.

• • •

"There are some 49 million dogs and cats in American homes, and the number increases about 5 per cent each year. But there are also at least 15 million homeless dogs and 25 million homeless cats, and they are increasing even more rapidly.

"These stray unloved animals are smothering and bankrupting the nation's humane societies and municipal pounds.

"At present they must be put to death. The tragic killing must continue while the surplus continues. But the humane movement must begin to prevent the breeding of unwanted animals instead of merely killing, killing, endlessly killing."

• • •

Miss Jones believes few people realize the scope of the problem because they so seldom see the suffering endured by abandoned animals. She spoke bitterly of pet owners who drive out on the highway to dump unwanted puppies or kittens.

"They don't realize that animals which have been domesticated by mankind cannot revert to the wild state and live off the land," she said.

"Some do, of course. Frequently humane societies receive reports of socalled 'wild' animals seen at the outskirts of woods. These animals often turn out to be full grown dogs, choking to death from collars placed on them when they were puppies.

"Today there are fewer than 700 humane organizations in the entire United States," she said. "They operate largely on a local basis, and most of them are concentrated on the East and West Coast.

"At least 2,970 communities need organized humane work. It has become a national problem."

• • •

The new NHS will cooperate with the SPCA and other groups in the field, she said, but will operate its own separate animal shelters. The society doesn't oppose vivisection, but will refuse to turn over animals from its own shelters to scientific laboratories.

"We feel that anyone who turns an unwanted animal over to us has the right to know that it either will be placed in a new home or given a painless death," said Miss Jones.

• • •

Other NHS goals:

To see that laboratory animals are properly cared for and subjected to no unnecessary cruelty.

To improve the slaughtering methods of the half billion meat animals and fowl butchered in America each year.
