Authority Now Moves Ahead With Turnpike

Curtice Credits GM Prosperity to Good Values

Tells Senate Probers That Firm Has Highest of Business Ethics

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Harlow H. Curtice said today General Motors Corp. has prospered because it "has been able to offer greater dollar value in its products."

In a general reply to testimony of competitors, former dealers and others who have complained of some of its practices before the Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee, Curtice said:

"I know of no management organization that has a higher standard of business ethics, a greater sense of public responsibility or a more genuine regard for the equities of the various groups with which we have contact — customers, employes, suppliers, dealers and shareholders."

Curtice said in his prepared statement that GM had grown into the world's largest manufacturer because it approached problems with "the inquiring mind" and had "co-ordinated policy and decentralized administration" through its executive management.

He said GM had been "in serious financial difficulty" twice — in 1910 and again in 1920.

GM has been successful "in winning the votes of customers because we not only have priced competitively but also have constantly striven to build greater values into our products," he said.

GM has competed successfully, he said, for these reasons:

"First, the dynamic growth of our country; second, the even more rapid growth of the automobile industry; third, our management structure; and fourth, our approach to problems."

He said GM did more than 12 billion dollars worth of defense production in the 1940-45 war period at "one half its normal profit margin on civilian goods."

GM defense contracts on Sept. 30 amounted to 635 million dollars

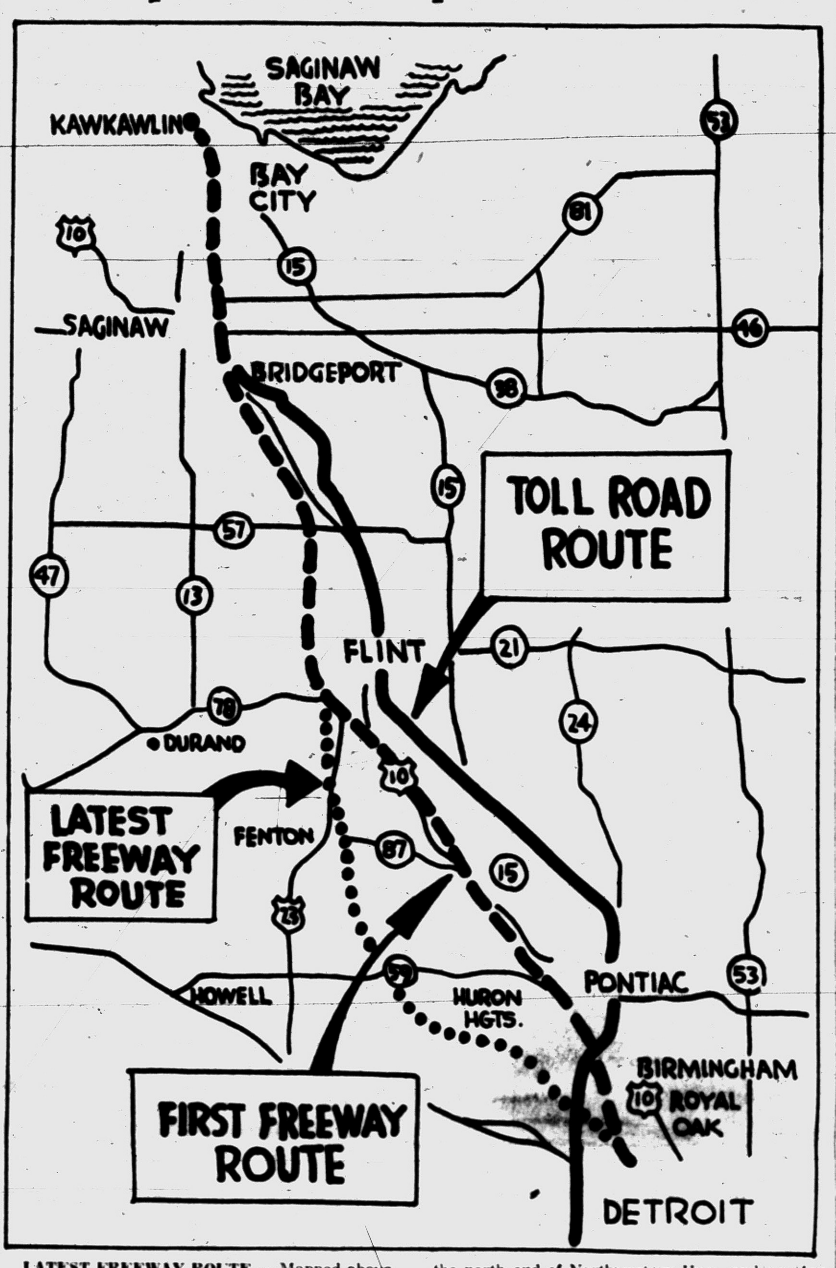
Turnpike, Freeway Routes Shown



LATEST FREEWAY ROUTE — Mapped above are the approximate routings of the proposed 113-mile, Rockwood to Saginaw toll road and a north-south freeway planned by the State Highway Commission. The dotted line marked "Latest Freeway Route" was described to the Pontiac Press last week by Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. It follows a line beginning at the north end of Northwestern Hwy. and running about 13 miles west of Pontiac. The line marked "First Freeway Route" was the routing announced by Ziegler. It would constitute a relocation of U. S. 10 (Woodward). But Ziegler now says he will follow the westerly route. The new location is farther from the turnpike route and would give it less competition for traffic, authorities say.

Santa Almost Here

70,000 Expected to View Parade During Morning

Floats Begin to Roll at 9:30; Eight Bands to Participate

Preceded by one of the largest and most colorful processions in the city's history, Santa Claus will officially open the 1955 Yuletide season tomorrow morning when an estimated 70,000 area residents will line downtown streets to watch the annual Christmas Parade.

The traditional observance will get under way at 9:30 a.m. when the first of 61 units will leave the assembly area near the corner of Saginaw and Turk streets. The line of march will move north on Saginaw to Oakland avenue and along Oakland to Sanderson avenue where it will disband.

The parade will be made up of three main sections in which 34 school and church floats will devote scenes to portraying "The True Story of Christmas," theme of the 1955 event.

First of the sections will display Thanksgiving scenes and will be made up of five units. The "Christmas Story" portion will include 17

WHILE 70,000 CHEER — Perched on a sleigh laden with gifts and toys, a familiar Yuletide figure prepares to leave the North Pole for a visit to Pontiac where he will wave to local children from the position-of-honor in tomorrow morning's Christmas Parade. His float, prepared by pupils at Hawthorne School, will be preceded by more than 60 colorful floats, bands and marching units.

Sale of Bonds, Land Purchases to Start at Once

Chairman Higgins Says Toll Road a Reality After Decision

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

The Michigan Turnpike Authority cleared a legal hurdle yesterday and began preparing for a swift stretch run toward completion of a Rockwood to Saginaw toll road within four years.

Constitutionality of the law which authorized the construction of toll roads in Michigan was unanimously upheld by the State Supreme Court.

MTA Chairman George N. Higgins said, "As far as I'm concerned the turnpike is now a reality and we will proceed immediately to finance a revenue bond issue."

He said purchase of right-of-way and sale of bonds will take about 10 months and road construction not more than 39 months.

The aggressive former state senator, who had made more than 40 speeches in communities along the 113-mile route in the last six weeks, said the only significant remaining obstacle would be immediate construction of a parallel freeway which would take traffic from the toll road.

Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler says he plans to build such a freeway, "but I think it will take him more than ten years to get anything completed and by then our operation should be well under way," Higgins asserted.

He appealed for support to help operate in forwarding the project.

The Supreme Court said it intreprets the turnpike law to mean that the authority must obtain the consent of municipalities to change their streets and alleys now in existence to make way for the toll road.

"We do have some necessary street and alley changes," Higgins stated, "but I don't look for too much difficulty in reaching agreement on them."

Machinery will be put in gear immediately to ready a revenue bond issue to finance the project, he declared, and outlined several planned steps.

The authority will order the J. E. Griner Co. of Baltimore, its civil engineering consultants, to bring construction cost estimates up to date.

The firm's figure on April 15 this year was $164,000,000. Interest on the bonds was estimated at running total cost to $191,000,000.

The MTA will also ask their traffic consultants, Coverdale and Colpitts, of New York, to bring their April 15 traffic-volume report up to date.

"When these figures are available, a bond prospectus will be drawn and a canvass of large institutional bond buyers will take place," said Higgins.

He added that a conference will

Education Leader Favors Fewer School Districts

As result of discussions at the White House Conference on Education which ended yesterday in Washington, Pontiac School Board President Louis H. Schimmel said, "I can conclude that Pontiac's school system measures up as an excellent one."

Schimmel, who will return tomorrow, made the statement in a telephone interview with the Pontiac Press today.

"My general observation is that Michigan has done a better job than most states as far as financing of new school buildings," he stated.

"But we are far behind in the organization of school districts. "I feel we must reduce our 3,800 districts to something less than 1,000."

This, he declared, would give opportunity to "get rid of substandard educational practices, improve the financial base and provide finer education for all our youth."

Small school districts are more expensive to operate than large ones, he added.

He repeated a statement made at a roundtable discussion during the conference that federal aid is necessary for states that can't provide adequate schooling otherwise, but that wealthy states, like Michigan, can finance schools without it.

"If aid is forthcoming, it should be on an equalization basis and not as a flat grant," he asserted.

Schimmel said he will attend a meeting of Michigan's delegates to the Washington conference in Lansing Dec. 20 called by State Superintendent of Public Instruction Clair L. Taylor.

Of All the People!

FAIRBORN, Ohio (AP)—This city, like others throughout the nation, observed Safe Driving Day yesterday. And it had a special significance for the police chief. Chief J. M. McCalla was involved in the first accident of the day—a minor one, however.

Woman Arraigned on Forgery Charge

The 35-year-old former bookkeeper-secretary for a Birmingham contractor who confessed to cashing forged checks totaling more than $23,000, demanded examination today when arraigned in Birmingham Municipal Court before Judge John J. Gafill.

Examination has been set for Dec. 16 for Mamie June Smith who told Chief Assistant Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor yesterday that she spent all but about $500 of the money on a former boy friend.

Gafill set a bond of $1,000 which was not furnished and Miss Smith was returned to Oakland County Jail pending examination

City Records 2 Accidents S-D Day; 65 Die in U. S.

Pontiac saw only two minor accidents in Safe-Driving Day yesterday, but at least 65 persons were killed on highways throughout the nation.

Three of the deaths occurred in Michigan. The third victim was Delilah Thompson, 59, of Flint.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department said there were no injuries in the five accidents reported yesterday.

State Police recorded one accident with no one injured, and Waterford Township Police said that one person, Hunter K. Bazzell, of 2286 Briggs, was injured in the five accidents which occurred yesterday.

He was released after emergency treatment at Pontiac General Hospital.

Walter A. Messer, 45, of 91 Pinegrove Ave. and Forest D. Bouck, 52, 1448 Murray St., were involved in a three-car pile-up on Elizabeth Lake Rd. yesterday afternoon.

The third driver, Clinton D. Collins, 20, 50 Orchard Lake Ave., was uninjured, police said.

Bouck was halted for a red light behind Collins when struck in the rear by Messer's car, according to police.

Glenn Ernest Linscott, 23, of 329 Auburn Ave., reported that a car sideswiped him on Pike street yesterday afternoon.

Paper Walkout Enters 2nd Day

Union and Management Agree to Meet Today, State Mediator Says

By International News Service

A state mediator says the union and management have tentatively agreed to meet sometime this afternoon or evening in an effort to end a strike that has closed all three of Detroit's three major newspapers.

Mediator Walter Quillico says a meeting between the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association and the striking AFL-Stereotypers Union may be held at 4:30 p.m.

Meanwhile, an estimated more than three million Detroit readers are without newspapers because of the shutdown caused by a walkout yesterday of 120 stereotypers.

However, the Polish Daily News, in an effort to get news to the public, is running the majority of its copy in English and was prepared to distribute throughout the city today.

The walkout of stereotypers has idled some 46 hundred other workers at the Times, News and Free Press.

Both the Times and Free Press have laid off all but essential employes for the duration of the strike. Some layoffs have occurred at the News and others are expected.

Lee Anderson Criticizes GM

Former Orion Dealer Says Speech Cost Him His 3 Franchises

WASHINGTON (AP) — A former Michigan automobile dealer said yesterday his three General Motors dealerships were canceled because he made a public speech criticizing cut-rate sales of cars to factory employes and executives.

Lee C. Anderson, former Pontiac, Chevrolet and Buick dealer at Lake Orion, Mich., told the Senate Antimonopoly subcommittee that GM President Harlow Curtice canceled the franchises.

Anderson said he made the speech at the Rotary Club at Oxford, Mich., June 7 of this year. Twenty days later, he said, he got notices his dealerships would end Oct. 31.

Anderson was another in a series of former GM dealers who have complained of GM practices in their testimony before the subcommittee, which is making a study of GM operations.

Anderson said Curtice told him face to face: "You are a Red."

In answer to questions later, Anderson said "I don't know why Curtice called me a Red."

He also quoted Curtice as asking him with contempt:

"What is Art Summerfield going to do for you now? You went to him for help."

Anderson said that Curtice was referring to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield, formerly a Chevrolet dealer at Flint, Mich. Anderson added that "Summerfield came to me for help. I didn't go to him."

Anderson said Curtice's comments came when he appealed Aug. 19 of this year to top GM executives to restore his dealerships.

He said Curtice ended this session after Anderson promised he would not make "more trouble for GM."

But three days later, Anderson said, he received a letter saying the earlier order terminating his dealerships was upheld.

But, Oh What a View!

PONTIAC'S OUTLOOK TODAY — Forward-looking city drivers, uniformly hunched over their steering wheels, peered through narrow arcs in their panoramic wide-sweep cinemascopic windshields this morning. Their predicament was shared by drivers throughout the state, who battled a three-inch snowfall, sleet and freezing rain. The view, however slippery, was pleasant.

Navy Diver Prays Plenty

SOLOMONS, Md. (AP) — Amazing Joe Tallarico, apparently unharmed after being trapped nearly nine hours in the chilly depths of the Patuxent River, said today, "I'm ready to go down again right away."

The 35-year-old Navy diver walked unassisted last night from a decompression chamber where he had spent four hours after being lifted from the floor of the river, 120 feet down.

Tallarico, a former Chicagoan with 10 years' experience as a diver, was caught below when his lines became fouled on an anchor attached to a test mine he had gone down to recover.

Fifteen other Navy divers worked in relays to free him from waters off the naval ordnance laboratory test facility about 70 miles southeast of Washington.

Afterwards, Tallarico told newsmen:

"The toughest part was the cold. After I had been down four hours I got disgusted—I thought I never would come up again.

"Did I say any prayers? Plenty of them."

Tallarico's slender, dark-eyed wife Carmela pressed through the circle of newsmen and rushed into her husband's arms. Joe kissed her fervently. Then at the request of cameramen he kissed her again, patted her shoulder as she fought back tears.

GREETING FOR THE RESCUED — Carmela Tallarico gets a kiss from her Navy diver husband, Joseph, after he was lifted from the Patuxent River. He was trapped in the icy depths nearly nine hours last night.

'True Story of Christmas' Theme of Parade at 9:30 Tomorrow

34 Groups, 3 Sections to Tell Christmas Story

"The True Story of Christmas," as it will be presented in tomorrow's annual Christmas Parade, will have as its "cast" 34 Pontiac church and school groups, each of which will portray a Biblical or literary incident from mobile floats.

The numbers of the participating units and the scenes they will enact are as follows:

THANKSGIVING SECTION

1. "Landing of the Pilgrims": Pontiac Boys' Club. In 1620, the Pilgrims landed in what is now known as Massachusetts. Upon leaving the Mayflower, they knelt reverently around Plymouth Rock.

2. "Chief Squanto": Pontiac State Hospital. Chief Squanto was an American Indian who was kidnaped by an English captain and sold as a slave. He escaped and returned to America. In 1621 he met the Pilgrims, acted as interpreter and taught them how to plant corn.

3. "Pilgrims Going to Church": Baldwin Avenue Methodist Church. The religious experience of the Pilgrims was of prime importance in establishing a new way of life in the New World. The picture of Pilgrims on their way to church is emblematic of their zeal.

4. "The First Thanksgiving": First Church of God. After several winters of near-starvation, the Pilgrims gathered, with their new-found Indian friends, at the first Thanksgiving table.

5. "Prayer of Thanksgiving": St. John Lutheran Church. Thanksgiving to God for His bountiful blessings to the people of this land has become a rich part of the American way of life.

CHRISTMAS SECTION

1. "The Prophecy": First Free Methodist Church. The prophet Isaiah, many centuries before the birth of Christ, said: "Unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given." From that moment on, each mother hoped that her baby might be the promised Messiah.

2. "The Annunciation": Trinity Baptist Church. As the time for the birth of Christ drew near, the Angel of the Lord announced the approaching event.

3. "The Manger Scene": The Catholic Parishes. Surrounded by angels in the humble barn in Bethlehem, the Christ child was born.

4. "The Star of Bethlehem": New Bethel Baptist Church. In token of the wonderful event, a bright star shone over the manger. It told the world that Christ was here.

5. "The Angels and Shepherds": Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. As the shepherds watched their flocks, angels from Heaven appeared and sang praises of the new-born King. The shepherds followed the star to the manger.

6. "The Three Wise Men": First Presbyterian Church. Three rich, wise men came from the east bearing gifts. They too followed the star and worshipped the Babe.

7. "Christmas Through the Ages": Baldwin Avenue Evangelical United Brethren Church. From the birth of Christ to the present time, people in many lands have remembered that event and have worshipped Him, each in his own way.

8. "Christmas Carol": United Missionary Church. The birth of Christ has been adored in many songs. Each song is, in itself, a prayer of thankfulness and hope.

9. "Christmas in Other Lands": Emmanuel Baptist Church and School. The Christ is worshipped today in every land. "Red and yellow, black and white, all are precious in His sight."

10. "Come All Ye Faithful": Central Methodist Church. As the Pilgrims wended their ways to the House of Worship, so all who follow Christ should, as depicted in this scene, go to their churches to praise Christ on His birthday.

11. "Christ, the Key to Peace": First Church of the Nazarene. The central theme of the Christmas season is Christ, the Key to Peace, Hope and Salvation.

12. "Christmas Morn": All Saints Episcopal Church. The two phases of Christmas celebration — gift-giving in the home and attendance at church — are brought together in one scene.

13. "The Real Meaning of Christmas": First Baptist Church. "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son." Within these simple words are contained the meaning of Christmas.

14. "A Changeless Christ for a Changing World": St. Trinity Lutheran. Regardless of ever-changing conditions in the world, the story of Christmas is as bright and meaningful as it was two thousand years ago.

15. "Worship the King": Bethany Baptist Church. The Christmas spirit is nowhere more beautifully portrayed than in the church. The inspiration of the heart is expressed in the Church Scene.

16. "Christmas in the Home": First Methodist Church. Each family is, in a large sense, a re-living of the Christmas story. The affection, hope and unity of the Family in Bethlehem may be rekindled in each home at Christmas time.

17. "Prayer of Peace": Young Men's Christian Association. "Peace I give unto you" is the 1955 Christmas message to a troubled world.

be called with officials of Blythe and Co., of New York, and the First Michigan Corp., of Detroit, turnpike financial advisers, to discuss bond-issue plans. Higgins will leave for New York Sunday to meet with the money experts.

Once the bonds are sold, the chairman explained, the authority will set up a "right-of-way department" and proceed to buy land at "fair market prices."

Some communities "have been dragging their feet in negotiations with us waiting to see what the court would do. There is no question of our right to acquire property or legal status now. I hope that from now on we'll get cooperation.

"The authority will meet any reasonable request, but will not stand for unreasonable delays."

Higgins pointed out that the Ohio and Indian turnpike commissions acquired more than 95 per cent of needed right-of-way for their projects without a court verdict.

"We hope to better that record, but it's only fair to make it clear to all that attempts to block our progress will be matched with firm determination on the authority's part.

"Our schedule calls for immediate purchase of right-of-way and sale of bonds. This stage will take about ten months.

"Meanwhile, final highway design will be completed. Construction contracts will then be let and the turnpike completed and in operation within 39 months."

Referring to Ziegler's stand against the toll road, Higgins said, "I'm asking him to join with us now that the court has ruled. I think he is interested enough in new roads for Michigan to cooperate and help us make this project a success."

Sylvan Water Plan Okayed by County

Sylvan Lake City Manager Ernest Ethier announced today that the city's new $275,000 water system will go into operation next week.

Approval of the system has been obtained from Oakland County Sanitation Engineer Russell Coltson, acting for the state Health Department, Ethier said, and a contractor has started connecting the system with city homes.

About 60 homes, Ethier said, have been listed as "distressed" for lack of water. Connection of these will be finished by Dec. 16, and water will start to flow sometime next week, he stated.

Royal Oak Man Dies in Auto-Train Crash

ROYAL OAK (AP) — Martin E. Jozwiak, 39, of suburban Royal Oak, was killed today in a train-auto collision on Farmington Rd. in Livonia.

Jozwiak was identified by papers found in his pockets. He was a landscaper.

Police said Jozwiak waited for a westbound freight train to cross the intersection, then started across in the path of an eastbound train. Warning bells and lights were operating, police said.

The Day in Birmingham

Officials Back Completion of Evergreen Proposal

BIRMINGHAM — State officials attending a special meeting last night wasted no time in stressing their dissatisfaction in lack of progress concerning the proposed Evergreen interceptor sewer, a $2,740,000 project of long standing.

Donald Pierce, of the Michigan Department of Health, told the large group of representatives assembled in the City Commission room that there are problems, but these problems should be solved.

Others from the state attorney general's office and Water Resources Commission agreed unanimously that the Evergreen is the best solution, from an engineering standpoint, for the six surrounding communities involved.

Whether construction of this sewer, which would funnel area sewage into Detroit's system for treatment, is possible to accomplish, remains to be seen.

Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills and Township, the City of Lathrup Village and Southfield Township were ordered by the Water Resources Commission to end Rouge River pollution almost two years ago. These communities, plus Troy Township, compose the Evergreen district.

Failure to comply with the order has resulted in Oakland County Circuit Court cases against several of the areas.

Britain's concert comedienne, Anna Russell, ran tirelessly through original sketches yesterday to "teach" her Birmingham Town Hall audience various aspects of singing or playing the piano.

Through animated skits, Miss Russell traveled her listeners through French, English, German and Spanish repertoires, singing her own brand of each language. Words of one German song, if listened to closely, turned out to be gutteral English.

With tongue-in-cheek French, she sang a melody that rang of classroom French No. 1, where an entire sentence when translated turned out to be, "open the door, close the window, look for the proprietor."

Miss Russell first pursued a serious operatic career, but her strapping frame and obvious zeal drew such constant audience laughter that she switched to writing and performing her own comedy recitals, which have since brought her international fame.

floats, while the "Toyland" section will comprise pupils from 12 area schools.

A special float carrying Santa Claus will bring up the rear of the procession.

Christmas and marching music will be furnished by eight school bands, including groups from Pontiac High School, Walled Lake High School, Lake Orion High School, Waterford High School, Oxford High School, Avondale High School, Crary Junior High School, and Pontiac's junior high schools.

Marching and riding units will include the Girl Scouts, Campfire Girls, Boots and Saddles Club and the Pontiac Motorcycle Club.

Viewing preparations today, Parade Marshal John A. Riley predicted that the parade will surpass last year's spectacle in color and in animation.

"All of the organizations have worked hard on their floats and displays," he said, "We expect the results of their labors to provide one of the finest parades ever staged in Pontiac or in this area."

The yearly celebration is sponsored by the Retail Merchants Association. Executive director is John Hirlinger, assistant manager of Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Hirlinger said today that special arrangements have been made to accommodate as many viewers as possible along the parade route.

compared with three billion of unfilled contracts at the end of 1952, he said, and the total of new projects assigned by the Defense Department to GM from Jan. 1, 1953, to Sept. 30, 1955, "had a value of only $26,383,000 dollars, or less than 1 per cent of total orders received in this period." An additional $1,877,475,000 of what Curtice called "repeat business" on earlier projects also was awarded to the corporation during that period.

Although Curtice did not specifically mention it, the 1953-1955 period covers the Eisenhower administration in which Charles E. Wilson, who preceded Curtice as GM president, is secretary of defense.

Peanuts Won't Clear Smog, Educator Says

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The president of California Institute of Technology says Los Angeles is trying to solve a "billion dollar problem, smog, with peanuts."

Dr. Lee A. Dubridge told the Pasadena Kiwanis Club yesterday that it cost $750,000,000 to get pure water in Los Angeles and "don't be surprised if it costs that much to get pure air."

"You and I are the smog producers and you and I are going to have to pay for the gadgets which somebody will invent some day to put on our cars to reduce their polluting effect," said Dr. Dubridge.

A maritime terminal is planned on Cuba's Cayo Cruz peninsula in Havana Harbor.

Bomb Blast in Depot

NEW YORK (AP)—A homemade bomb exploded last night in an upper level men's room at Grand Central terminal, but no one was injured. The bomb is believed by police to be the work of a single individual who has been planting similar devices about the city for 15 years.

Bob Considine Says:

Rogers, Hammerstein Have Done It Again

NEW YORK (INS) — Cannery Row, Monterey County, Calif., was never as fragrant as in "Pipe Dream," the new Rodgers and Hammerstein musical which opened the other night at the Shubert. It proposes to stay there forever, and I, for one, would not bet that it does not.

It is hard to believe that these two men can go on year after year turning out music that makes you glad you're alive and words that never never blur.

As we said in an INS review of the show, the law of averages is hostile to such succession. Yet there it was the other night. There was the continued magic of these two men being displayed in such settings as a bums' roost and a West Coast Belle Watling's.

At first blush it seemed a far cry from the Pablum-like purity of "Oklahoma!" and "The King and I." This was more like variations of the theme of "There Is Nothing Like a Dame," from "South Pacific."

But there is something special about these men, and not the least of that gift is their ability to find the right people to translate what is in their hearts and minds. John Steinbeck, whose "Sweet Thursday" ignited this one, could hardly have dreamed of a bordello madam quite like Helen Traubel's Fauna.

Kind words must be said also of William Johnson's virile "Doc," and Judy Tyler's touching "Suzy," and all the other great people in a cast that reminds you how verdant is our theater and how abundant the R. and H. payroll.

TRAUBEL SHINES

Traubel is a standout, however. What she does in "Pipe Dream" may not meet with the unqualified approval of her old Metropolitan Opera set, which remembers her Isolde and her three Bruennhildes, her Elsa in "Lohengrin," her Elisabeth in "Tannhaeuser" and Kundry in "Parsifal."

There is a bitter kernel in this group that will frown foreover on artists who wander out of view of the golden horseshoe. Rudolph Bing, who runs it now, can never find it possible, for example, to forgive Ezio Pinza for taking on "South Pacific," and I suppose he has limited company.

But when Traubel sings "Suzy Is a Good Thing" in "Pipe Dream" it seems to me that she does a great deal more good to the average human being, and the species in general, than she ever did in the clanking armor of her Wagnerian roles.

She has a voice that many experienced hands on the inside pages of the papers have dealt with for a long time. Let it be added in blissful ignorance that it is a voice which will embrace the last soul in the last row of the balcony and make him know that this, all this, was put on at fabulous expense for him only.

Juvenile delinquency has replaced weather as the thing most talked about and the least done about. One has only to pay a visit to a newspaper "morgue" to comprehend how much has been written and spoken and how little done about the problem.

MENACE TO U.S.

Billy Graham said upon his return to the U.S. the other day that youthful crime must be considered as much of a menace as communism. New York's Attorney General Jacob Javits estimates that out of 2,000,000 New Yorkers under 21, some 50,000 will face our courts this year — an appalling statistic.

There is no ready answer, of course. Kids who suffer at the hands of tough delinquents have what they feel is an answer (shared by many adults, too) and that is "beat 'em over the head until they're good." Others strongly suspect that this is the very worst way to deal with the disease.

Rocky Graziano, who used to be a delinquent himself, suggests locking up the parents of youthful criminals. Police in Hammond, Ind., pick up a kid if he's on the street after 10 at night.

Many thoughtful souls think the cops are understaffed, cowardly in the face of kid mobs, or unconcerned. The federal government, which simply has no comprehension of the seriousness of the situation, proposed to appropriate $12,000,000 to stamp it out.

New York City alone spends $23,000,000 a year and doesn't come close. Central Park at night, above 86th, is more dangerous than Korea was during the police action.

About 96 per cent of the 1951 natural rubber output came from southeast Asia, and more than one-third of the total came from the Malaya district.

State Supreme Court Upholds Turnpike Law

The State Supreme Court has handed down a unanimous decision upholding the constitutionality of Michigan's Turnpike law.

This area needs the proposed road desperately. This is an automotive community and we favor hearty support of things that make automobiles a better part of life.

The effect of the opinion, written by Mr. Justice Harry F. Kelly, is to remove the last legal obstacles from the path of the proposed toll road from Saginaw to Flat Rock.

In its decision the court ruled against the City of Dearborn which had contended that the Turnpike law violated municipalities' constitutional control over their streets and alleys. The court said that the Turnpike Authority had not been authorized by the law to vacate or alter existing streets and alleys.

Continuing, it interpreted the law to mean that the Authority must get the municipalities' consent to any change in streets and alleys. But the court also upheld the Authority's right to condemn property.

On another challenge the court was clear in its ruling. It held that the Legislature had made the Authority autonomous and separate from State government and also that it was not controlled by Civil Service or State fiscal regulations.

Finally, the court ruled that revenue bonds issued by the Authority to finance the turnpike would not be general obligation bonds and therefore would not violate the Constitution.

This is important news for all of Michigan. Let the construction start as soon as possible.

Passport Decision Wise

U. S. District Court Judge Luther Youngdahl has handed down an important decision affecting State Department practice in the matter of denying passports.

The decision arose out of a case brought by Louis B. Boudin, a New York attorney. He went to court after the State Department told him he was ineligible for further permits to travel abroad.

In his decision Judge Youngdahl directed that the State Department give Boudin a hearing within 20 days. At the same time he spelled out the meaning of the phrase "due process" as it applies to passport cases.

The court held that it isn't enough to tell an applicant that there is evidence in the files that's he's a Communist sympathizer. The Department must tell the applicant what the evidence is so that he can meet it and the court can review it.

Recognizing the unquestionable importance of confidential information, the court said that factual information acquired as a result of it must be placed on the record. The applicant then would have a chance to analyze and refute it.

Whether or not higher courts uphold this decision, Judge Youngdahl has struck an overdue blow at what he calls faceless informers. He also sounded a timely warning when he said:

"When the basis of action by any branch of the Government remains hidden from scrutiny and beyond practical review, the seeds of arbitrary and irresponsible government are sown."

New York's Trade Fair

An idea that should interest not only New Yorkers but people all over the country has come from the Nation's largest city.

It is a proposal that a world trade fair, virtually the first in American commercial history, be held in New York's new Coliseum in 1957.

For years our people have read about such fairs in the leading cities of Europe. Our Government in recent years wisely has sent representative exhibits to trade fairs in several parts of the world.

It should be understood that a trade fair differs markedly from such exhibitions as the Chicago and New York World Fairs of 1932-1933 and 1939-1940. Primarily it is aimed at trade representatives rather than the general public. The principal objective is to display the latest wares and achievements of the world's great producing nations.

As one New York newspaper emphasizes, it probably will be impossible to confine the trade fair to business people only. Public interest already is so great that sponsors now are considering admission of the public on weekends and certain week nights.

The trade fair idea makes sense for the world's greatest and most efficient manufacturing nation. One wonders why it has been so long reaching the action stage.

Deer Are Wise

Now Come Out of Hiding During the Open Season

Safe driving day: An event we now should stretch over the other 364.

These deer surely are wise. Now that the season is closed, we are receiving a number of reports that those around the Pontiac area are coming out of hiding. Several times during the summer and fall, MAT himself has seen a beautiful fawn beside the M87 highway between the Dixie and Holly. She kept out of sight after Nov. 15, when the season opened, until Thursday morning, only a few hours after it closed. Then she was quietly standing beside the pavement and on the approach of the car walked leisurely down the road, with absolutely no evidence of fear. She evidently has been taking no chances on some trigger happy hunter not waiting until he saw the horns. Later in the forenoon, of Clarkston phoned that a buck and doe who have been feeding on his land for several months, but who disappeared Nov. 15, are again back with him. A quartet of deer that long have been frequenting the premises of

Bertrand Foxton

out Baldwin Road, but have been missing since Nov. 15, are again out in the open, and he says have fattened up during that time. At the home of in Bloomfield Hills, a young spikehorn that frequently came up for food, but has been missing since Nov. 15, was on hand for his rations Thursday.

"The early arrivals will be able to find parking space," says in charge of Saturday's Christmas parade. He urges Pontiac people to walk downtown if the distance is not too far, and thus give our guests from other communities a better chance.

John Hirlinger,

Bedridden with rheumatic fever,

Vivian Aldrich,

a senior in Holly High School, is to participate in her class work through the installation of a microphone and private wire to her home several miles away.

Something in the Old Sock Just in Case

David Lawrence Says:

Hot Foreign Policy Campaign Debate Will Wind Up as Beneficial to the Voter

WASHINGTON—If Secretary of State Dulles, Republican, and Senator Walter George, Democrat, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, had connived to make sure that foreign policy would be debated in the next presidential campaign, they couldn't have done a better job toward achieving it than by both suggesting that certain restraints on campaign talk be applied.

In America the surest way to bring about unlimited discussion is to argue that discussion must be limited. The customary reaction toward suppression of any kind of thought is to argue for its widespread expression.

But the Republicans are going to be benefited even by the academic argument. For it can only result in advertising widely the fact that America is at peace under a Republican administration, whereas the Korean War and two world wars were entered by the United States under Democratic administrations.

Senator George and Secretary Dulles both say they would not ban "constructive criticism." Nobody, however, has yet discovered how to convince the most destructive critic that his criticism isn't constructive. That's the essence of free speech.

The reason why it is indeed "impractical," as the politicians use the word, to censor what is said on foreign policy or to keep it out of a political campaign is that neither political party really wants it that way.

The Republicans are proud of their "peace" slogan, and the Democrats, like Governor Harriman, want to talk about the "Communist victory at Geneva." The partisans on each side think they see advantage in the discussion of foreign policy, and they are absolutely right about it.

Thus, what is more important to the voters than a policy which will keep the peace? Which party, for instance, wants the draft calls to be drastically augmented? Which party wants to send American boys 8,000 miles away again to the battlefields of Asia? Which party wants to increase taxes so as to "give away" more billions to buy the friendship of uncivilized, illiterate millions of tribesmen in Africa and Asia?

VOTERS TO JUDGE ISSUE

The American people are mature enough to evaluate what is said on the stump about foreign policy. They can distinguish between "moderate" and "immoderate" speechmaking.

They can recognize an intemperate attack when they hear it, and they can evaluate constructive criticism, too. But it is the voter who must be permitted to judge as between constructive and destructive criticism.

The proposal, for example, by chairman Butler of the Democratic National Committee that some kind of treaty be entered into between the two major parties, whereby the Republicans during the presidential campaign would abandon their peace slogan in exchange for some restraint on the part of the Democratic party's stump speakers, must have been made with tongue in cheek. It's political nonsense.

What the country needs is more, instead of less, debate on foreign policy. Partisanship has always been supposed to "end at the water's edge," but it never does. All the pious talk about "bipartisanship" under the Truman-Acheson administration can be dismissed as specious, because the truth is here were no inter-party consultations about Far Eastern policy.

The Nationalist government of China was undermined in the State Department without asking the Republicans to participate. If the Republicans had been "consulted," they would have been "parties to the crime." The Republicans, moreover, should rejoice that they weren't asked. For it gave them a powerful issue in the 1952 campaign.

The American people should be given a thorough explanation of foreign policy—what the Democrats would do if entrusted with power, and the facts about the Republican record. The only thing on which self-restraint is needed is in the tendency to blame an administration for acts committed by other governments, particularly Russia.

There's plenty of room for an argument confined solely to what was done by the department of state under Hull, Stettinius, Marshall, Acheson and Dulles.

Why can't a dentist ask his questions before he puts a prop between our teeth?

Brady Thinks Allergies Are Due to Malnutrition

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Since the last report (1945,) medicine has made vast strides in solving such vexing problems as (1) arthritis and rheumatism, (2) hypertension, (3) decay of the teeth in Yankeeland, (4) the common cold and (5) the steadily increasing use of cigarettes, alcohol, and drugs by children.

Please don't ask me to cite the source of my information—ask any medical authority who spends his vacation in Miami, Atlantic City, La Jolla, Buenos Aires, or Rome and reads a paper about it.

In our investigation of the mystery of allergy, we have come a long way in ten years, in a circle, perhaps, but always advancing.

For instance this season's remedies, according to the voluminous literature, are always dramatic in action and remarkably free from the untoward by-effects of last season's—by-effects which were not described in last season's literature.

If anyone has conceived a better theory or found a better remedy for allergy than we had ten years ago, medical authorities have singularly ignored it.

HE BELIEVES

Now I believe that the state of allergy is primarily a manifestation of malnutrition—"The National Malnutrition," as Dr. D. T. Quigley so aptly called it in his book.

If my propensity to attribute many common complaints to nutritional deficiency reminds you of a fruitcake, let me tell you what I think of you poor geeks and your doctors who have no particular notion of the cause of the trouble or what remedy it requires.

I did not say all common complaints are due to nutritional deficiency.

I was going to say most such complaints are, but I decided that I am sure only that many complaints are the manifestations of malnutrition, for it is difficult to estimate the amount of indisposition, illness, absence from work, surgery and disability is due to the CRI.

If you don't understand CRI, never mind, we'll explain it another day.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Patients at State Hospital Ask Yule Card Donations

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature

I am a patient at the Pontiac State Hospital and I have a request to make. I've been at this hospital for a couple of years and, like many of my friends here, I have few, if any, funds.

When Christmas comes, like everyone else, we want to send greeting cards to our friends and family. Sometimes people in town give boxes of cards for us to send to our loved ones.

As there are hundreds of us in this position of being unable to buy cards, we are writing so that people can know how much we want to be like everyone else and send Christmas cards at Christmas.

Accident Victim's Mother Wants Officers' Apology

I'm the mother of Allen Lacey. I thank the Pontiac Police Force for what they do that's good, but there are two of you policemen I expect to receive an apology from.

You see, it is this way. Two months ago you picked up our son and falsely accused him of some serious charges and it caused him to feel he couldn't go out in his car. So you two made his last days here on earth very unpleasant for him.

He has many young friends here in Pontiac that you owe a lot to . . . to protect and help them. So I do pray that you policemen who are not prepared to meet God will get ready, for in the hour you think not, Jesus will come for you.

Allen went home to be with his sister and loved ones on Nov. 24, Thanksgiving Day. We appreciate the two boys' reporting his accident and I hope they will call on us soon at our home.

Madison Avenue Ad Men Know Customer Is Boss

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

A contemporary technique for slurring the American business system is to snipe at Madison avenue.

But whatever the sins of commission and omission of the advertising fraternity, which is housed on Madison avenue, New York, may be, it has one overwhelming virtue.

It operates on the basis of sympathetic understanding of our free-choice economic society, in which decision-making as to goods and services, jobs and ideas, rests with individual citizens, not, as in totalitarian setups, with little commissars in big jobs.

Depending on the art of persuasion, rather than on brute force, Madison avenue relies on a continuous customers' plebiscite, and it seeks no appeal from the inexorable law that the customer is the boss.

Unlike some of the theorists of politics, Madison avenue respects results. Doubtless as this year enters its final month, Madison avenue takes some satisfaction in whatever role it may have played in making this a year in which statistically more and better goods were distributed more widely throughout the population than ever before in history.

NEVER SATISFIED

But the sales and promotional executives of industry are never satisfied. Their poet laureate appears to be Louis Untermeyer, who once sang "From sleek contentment, keep me free."

This, writing in the organ of the Institute of Economic Affairs of New York University, an adman, Arno H. Johnson, vice president and director of research of J. Walter Thompson, attempts to explore the useful area for advertising and promotion in the coming decade.

Johnson concludes that the great economic need is to encourage average people to lift their sights as to what makes a desirable standard of living.

He states: "Unless we change some of our concepts of what a high standard of living should be, our ability to produce will outrun our ability to consume."

ANALYZE ATTACK

In view of this need for the future and in light of the current 1955 statistics showing record-breaking volume of making and exchanging goods and services, the recent attack by some personalities in the Democratic Party, including Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, on Adlai E. Stevenson for his plea for "moderation" should be analyzed.

The Michigan governor said:

"In candor I must say that I was acutely disappointed by the spirit of Chicago, the spirit of temporizing with present problems. . . .

"I am made heartsick by those in my own party who do not militantly resist the spurious doctrine that, so long as our aged have some security, so long as the most uninhabitable of our tenements are torn down, so long as our unemployment is below the critical level of the time, our job is done, we can rest . . ."

Apparently former Gov. Stevenson of Illinois is to be pilloried for his "offense" in recognizing the economic facts of life.

Yet a recent Gallup poll indicated that the Eisenhower "middle-of-the-road" policy not only produces economic results but also political rewards. The poll showed that 59 per cent of those contacted like a "man who usually follows the middle-of-the-road policy," for which Gov. Stevenson has suggested a Democratic equivalent in the word "moderation."

Only 7 per cent favored a "man who usually sides with business," and barely a third as many liked a "man who usually sides with labor" as one who takes a "middle-of-the-road" position.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Second Grade Complex Makes Girl Shun Feminine Appearance for Years

Beth has been playing hide-n-seek ever since the second grade. She has been unhappy. And she almost lost her devoted boy friend, for she has been running away from something that didn't exist. Let her case be a lesson to thousands of you other girls who are in the same boat. Discuss this case in high school psychology class.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Q-311: Beth G., aged 20, is a brilliant college coed.

"Dr. Crane, I've been dating Beth for over a year," her boy friend informed me, "but I can't understand her.

"To be specific, she is potentially a very good looking girl, but she seems to have no interest in her personal appearance. In fact, I am often ashamed to be seen with her when I meet my friends.

"And it isn't because she hasn't the money to primp and doll up. And she doesn't belong to any religious sect that places a taboo on rouge or lipstick, as I understand some still do.

"I have even given her cosmetics and scarfs and perfumes for presents, and have tried to hint tactfully that she should take full advantage of her natural charm, but it is no go, Dr. Crane.

"Sometimes I wonder if she doesn't deliberately try to appear coarse and unfeminine. I am no snob about such matters, but why should a smart girl sell herself short, so to speak?"

FEAR COMPLEXES

In a later talk with Beth, I found her basic trouble. She was afraid of women.

So she affected male attire and coarse speech and masculine habits in order to flee from her own sex and try to escape any odious comparisons.

For she had been a victim of a complex ever since the second grade. At that time she wasn't very pretty and was worried about freckles, pigtails, etc.

Her mother was dead, so she was living with her paternal grandmother, who apparently had little love for Beth's mother, anyway.

This grandmother rudely shocked Beth one day, for as Beth was trying to primp and improve her looks, the tactless grandmother exclaimed:

"It's no use trying to be pretty. You take after your mother and will never be much to look at."

Well, that cruel barb made an indelible impression on youthful Beth. She believed her grandmother 100 per cent. So she decided she was destined to be an ugly duckling forever.

In desperation, she then decided to gain some limelight by being an honor student, so she graduated as the valedictorian of her high school class.

In college she is making top grades so should win a Phi Beta Kappa pin by her senior year.

But this stellar scholarship is partly an attempt to compensate for her inferiority complex in the realm of feminine beauty.

MENTAL HIDE-N-SEEK

And in order to be sure that boys will not compare her with pretty coeds, she deliberately tries to affect mannish garb and speech.

For if she hobnobs with men on their level, and looks like a half-man, she subconsciously believes men will not think of her when they talk about pretty women, so she will not suffer from such disastrous comparison.

Yet Beth was really a good looking girl, as regards her natural endowment. So I explained the facts to her and showed her why she was being unfair to her boy friend, as well as to herself, by her attempt to play hide-n-seek with reality.

As soon as I had dug out of her memory the statement by her grandmother and had shown her its importance, she readily saw the light.

She even cried to think she had been so misguided and also so unhappy through the years since her second grade.

Now she has re-joined her own sex and has adopted the various useful beauty aids of modern life.

She is charming. Her boy friend is delighted. And she no longer fears women or subconsciously tries to flee from being labeled as a female.

Glue, Scissors and Paper Used to Make Ornaments

Why not make your own Yuletide decorations for the home?

Two do-it-yourself projects, a Christmas bell and basket utilize cardboard and gift wrap paper making simple projects. The decorations may be made just by following patterns employing 1-inch squares as a guage. Either decoration can be made in a size that best suits it for use on tree, window, doorway or mantel.

The basket may be made by cutting out the pattern on a lightweight cardboard such as posterboard. Cut out the basket with a razor blade or sharp knife. Score the basket along the two dotted lines by cutting partially through the cardboard.

Now you're ready to decorate. Cover the unscored side in red or other solid color gift wrap, using paste or glue to attach the paper. Cover the other side in a colorful designed gift wrap that is in keeping with the season.

Allow the paper to buckle slightly in a fold over the scores. This will prevent it from tearing when the sides are brought up to form the basket. Sprigs from the Christmas tree or other greenery can be added as garnishment.

For a final touch, tie center tabs firmly with a length of heavy gold tinsel cord available in gift wrapping departments. Attach a colorful tree ornament to one end of the cord, allowing the bauble to hang suspended in the center of the basket.

Use the other end of the gold cord to suspend the decoration itself from the Christmas tree or other point of interest in the home.

CHRISTMAS BELL

Lay the pattern out on corrugated cardboard. The side of a grocery carton is good. After the two pieces of the bell have been cut out, cover each of the four sides with a different design of Christmas gift paper, using paste or glue to attach it.

Fold the paper over to conceal the raw corrugated edges and glue it in place.

Now the bell can be assembled by fitting the slots together. A small Christmas tree ornament is pushed in place as the bell's clappjer. Gold-colored pipe cleaners can be added for a further touch of color and glamor.

A length of ribbon is placed through the eye at the top, and the bell is ready to be hung.

HOW TO MAKE 'EM — Use squared paper of a dimension to suit and draw your patterns to this diagram.

Sandman KOs Father; Fails With Little Son

WALHALLA, S. C. (AP)—The Rev. Eugene Mason, baby sitting with his 1½-year-old son, lay down by the youngster in an effort to coax him to sleep.

But it was the minister who fell asleep. He was awakened sometime later by the sharp ringing of the telephone.

It was a neighbor calling to report that the boy had wandered to his house seeking excitement.

No Soviet Deal, Adenauer Says

West Germany Stands With Allies on Nation's Reunification Dealings

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government is standing solidly with the Western Allies on German reunification policy, ruling out any bilateral German-Russian negotiations on the subject.

Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano made the government's first declaration in Parliament on foreign policy since the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting in Geneva failed to resolve the problem of German unity.

He told cheering members of the Bundestag, lower House of Parliament, that the "German people are not prepared to strike any deal (with the Russians) jeopardizing their freedom."

He acknowledged the Moscow agreement for West Germany and Russia to exchange diplomatic relations. But he added it was up to the Kremlin to make relations between the two peoples anything more than a technicality.

"As long as the Soviet Union proceeds on the assumption of the partition of Germany and the existence of two German states," he declared, "there can be no normal relations between our two countries."

Von Brentano declared "the fate of the German people would be sealed if it tried to exchange the confidence and friendship of its Allies for the sympathy of the Soviet Union. Nor will the German people be induced by any threat or temptation to veer from this straight course."

He insisted that Germany can fulfill its tasks only if it is free to make its own decisions. He added that any "compulsory neutralization or isolation from any alliances" such as the Russians demand "would be the worst road for us to choose or into which to force us."

Hooked Duck Is Hooked Out of His Regular Meal

PARKERSBURG, W. Va. (AP)—City Supt. S. B. Batten, feeding the nine ducks which inhabit the park's lake, was puzzled because one of them was out in the middle and wouldn't come in for his food.

Batten rowed out to investigate. He found the duck had swallowed a fish hook and the attached leader was fouled around a water lily.

A new-type chain letter is circulating in Johannesburg, South Africa "guaranteeing" (instead of money) stockings, groceries and tires at less than 25 per cent of the normal retail prices.

Survey Shows Office Workers Favor Yule Party

NEW YORK (AP) — That ancient seasonal hazard, the office Christmas party, remains highly popular despite recent criticisms, a survey showed.

The National Office Mangement Assn., said it queried 6,500 workers and found 63 per cent of the women and 59 per cent of the men favor intramural holiday relaxation.

Those favoring the Yule party cited social contact with other employes and supervisors as their main reason. The antis referred to "unpleasant situations in the office and at home" afterwards.

Mother and Son Beaten to Death

Detroit Police Report Pair Was Bludgeoned With Iron Pipe

DETROIT (AP)—An elderly woman and her bachelor son were found beaten to death Thursday in their home on Detroit's Northwest Side.

Police said Mrs. Ada K. Williams, 87, and her son Alfred, 67, had been bludgeoned with a length of iron pipe found under the son's body. Both suffered multiple skull fractures.

At first police believed it was a murder-suicide because the son's body lay near a gun collection and his hands showed grains of powder from cartridges he had been loading.

However, evidence of the beatings were found after the bodies were moved. Mrs. Williams was in her nightdress and was found in her bedroom. Her son's body was found in a basement storeroom.

The woman and her son were joint owners of a substantial share of the Fox Theater Building in downtown Detroit. Police said there had been no attempt to ransack the home and several dollars were found on a dining room table.

THE WONDERLAND OF BOOKS—5.
Strange Voyages—Gulliver's Travels

A man named Jonathan Swift wrote a book about an English ship's doctor named Gulliver who was shipwrecked on a lonely foreign shore.

He was a prisoner of little men not over six inches high. They were friendly and took him to show to their king. This strange country was Lilliput and the people were called Lilliputians.

Gulliver had many strange adventures. Once, at the king's request, he stood with his legs spread apart while the whole army marched between his feet.

In time, with the help of the Lilliputians, he refloated a half-sunken boat and returned to England.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color with crayons.

Cut out the parts carefully. Fold back the end panels of the big picture on the dotted lines and it will stand. Cut the dotted strips on sides of Gulliver's leg.

Paste the two strips of marching troops together, putting end A over B so it will make one long strip. Pull this strip through the slits behind the leg and across the picture. Now the troop will march in review between Gulliver's legs.

Crawford Hits Gals but Doesn't Hurt 'em

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Broderick Crawford, a brute by profession is the man to talk to when your woman gets out of line.

He can show you how to slap her, punch her or walk out and leave her desolate — without alienating her affections.

He will not, however, give instruction on the art of throwing a woman against a wall and watching sardonically as she slumps senseless to the floor.

"That," says Crawford, "ain't nice.

"The dame might get hurt."

Matter of fact, the burly actor who looks like a giant even when he's sitting down in stocking feet, has a lot of principles about the manhandling of women.

"Ever since I beat Marlene Dietrich up (in the film 'Seven Sinners'), everybody thinks I'm very good at it, and I have spent a lot of my professional life punching pretty dolls like Frances Farmer, Judy Holliday, Binnie Barnes and sundry others.

"However," and Crawford pinkens appropriately, "even when the director tells me to really let her have it, I never hurt these women. I just give the arm a wide motion, but barely let the hand brush the face . . .

GENTLE PUNCHES

"I do not approve of striking women, if you want to know the truth. Scare 'em, walk out and leave 'em, okay. But if you punch —make it gentle."

In spite of the tenderness with which he strikes females, the veteran actor has never won the girl in film, TV or Broadway stage production. That suits him fine.

"I've seen them come and go," he says, "the romantic boys. I'm not an I-love-you-darling or tennis-anyone? type, and glad of it.

"If you can be a half-wit one day (as Crawford was in his first stage hit, 'Of Mice and Men') and a killer the next (as Crawford frequently is in movies), you've got it made. The money's good and you don't have to shave as often."

Born in Philadelphia, little Broderick made his stage debut at the age of 7 months in the arms of his mother, actress Helen Broderick, who was half of a vaudeville team with his father, Lester Crawford.

BACK TO CRADLE

"I milked the audience for all the applause I could get and returned to the cradle," he says.

In the growing-up period, Brod worked at small theaters, did some pro fighting, shipped out as a seaman and finally . . . urged by his parents — entered Harvard. He maintains he stayed on campus 20 minutes.

"They didn't know anything about acting there," he explains.

His latest of a long line of ventures is a filmed TV series called "Highway Patrol," which he describes as a cops and robbers melodrama on wheels.

In it, he plays a sort of roving commissioner, a good law-respecting citizen. He took on the assignment for three reasons:

(1) "I have a large group of kid fans, who were beginning to think that crime paid.

(2) "I was tired of striking women.

(3) "The money's good."

Students Revive Old Custom of Family Advent Wreath

An old Christmas custom seems to have caught new life this year from high school and junior high students, many of whom have been reported as carrying the "new" idea into their homes to add a richer spiritual background to the tradition of Christmas.

This is the custom of the Advent Wreath, a simple yet dramatic ritual of Christian symbolism carried out during the four weeks preceding Christmas. Both Protestant and Catholic students are taking up the ceremony with enthusiasm, and some schools have made a point of fashioning their own school wreaths and carrying on the tradition.

Students and parents who have introduced the ceremony into their homes say the few moments spent pay rich dividends. During the pre-holiday shopping rush, the advent wreath ritual can bring home the timeless beauty of the coming of Christ and create an oasis of spiritual strength. It can emphasize to young children that Christmas is more than Santa Claus, and unite the family in a bond of love.

The family ceremony involves an evergreen wreath with four candles, and the lighting of a new candle for each of the four weeks before Christmas, with an accompanying prayer by the parent and a response from the family.

Although the first week of Advent is almost over, it is not too late to begin the custom, designed to make home the center of a rich tradition. Young people will carry the ritual in their hearts always, along with such cherished memories as gifts under the Christmas tree, candles on a birthday cake, Thanksgiving feasts and the family together at prayer, and introduce it to their own children as they marry and leave home.

Here's how it's done:

The wreath, easily fashioned of a circle of evergreen twined around a wire hoop made from a clotheshanger, represents the cycle of time from Adam until the coming of the Redeemer as well as the time in which Christians await the second coming of Christ.

Within the evergreen circle are placed four candles, three purple and one pink. They represent the four weeks of Advent, the time of spiritual preparation before the birthday of Christ.

LIGHT OF WORLD

The candles also represent, as they are lit, Christ as the "light of the world," and the Christians who carry on that light by truly pacticing their faith.

The wreath may be placed as a centerpiece at the dinner table and the ritual of prayer and lighting the candles said daily as a grace before dinner, though some prefer the ceremony as an evening prayer, or even as a morning one.

Each week a new candle is lit and allowed to burn during the family meal and during the prayer ritual. The first Sunday the youngest child lights the candle and the last Sunday the oldest has this honor. Lighting of candles in the interim may be divided according to the number of children.

ONE CANDLE TO START

One candle is lit each day of the first week. On the second week the same candle plus a new one is lit, making two burning. Three burn the third week, and four the last period. Burned out candles may be replaced. Christmas Day, four new candles are placed in the wreath, and all are lit.

The following prayer ritual can be used, or the family can create its own prayers. On the first day the father asks a blessing on the wreath:

O God, by whose word all things are sanctified, pour forth thy blessing upon this wreath and grant that we who use it may prepare our hearts for the coming of Christ and may receive from thee abundant graces. Through Christ our Lord.

FATHER LEADS

All answer, "Amen," and the youngest child lights the first candle. Then the prayer for the first week is said:

Father: "Stir up Thy might, we beg The, O Lord, and come, so that we may escape through Thy protection and be saved by Thy help from dangers that threaten us because of our sins . . ."

All answer, "Amen."

Prayer for the second week is: "O Lord, stir up our hearts that we may prepare for Thy only begotten Son, that through His coming we may be made worthy to serve Thee with pure souls. Through Christ our Lord."

Third week's prayer is: "We humbly beg Thee, O Lord, to listen to our prayers and by the grace of Thy coming bring light into our darkened minds . . ."

Final prayer: "Stir up Thy might, O Lord, and come; rescue us through Thy great strength so that salvation, which has been hindered by our trespasses, may be hastened by the grace of Thy gentle mercy. Who livest and reignest forever."

At Christmas the wreath may be decorated with white candles, ribbons and Christmas balls. It is usually kept until Epiphany, Jan. 6.

. STUDENTS LIGHT ADVENT WREATH — St. Michael High School students display the school's evergreen Advent Wreath with its four candles, symbolical of the four-week preparation for Christmas. Holding the wreath is Scott Schneider. Others are, l-r, Jerry Steinhelper, Hugh Walker, Rosie Haak and Pat Hayden. Protestant and Catholic students are reviving the custom of a daily Advent Wreath ritual in the home, with a new candle lit each week before Christmas. In the St. Michael wreath, three candles are purple, symbolical of penitence when the individuals consider their failings in comparison to the compassion and perfect love of Christ. The pink candle is lit on the "joyful" third Sunday, Dec. 11, at the halfway mark of Advent.

Basketball Game, Play Slated Tonight

Pontiac High School in Buzz of Activity After Holiday

By VICKY MICU

Pontiac High School students returned to a busy schedule this week, following the Thanksgiving holidays. Tonight the basketball season opens with a game at Detroit with Detroit Catholic Central. Students hope for a PHS victory.

"Our Town" will finish its performances tonight. Curtain time for the play, directed by Mary Parrish, is at 8:15 p.m.

Tomorrow the juniors will don dancing dresses and dark suits for the J-hop, the big dance of the semester for juniors. "Fantasy In Frost," title of the hop, will be held from 9-12 p.m. in the high school gym. Sam Cosmos will provide music for the gala affair.

Next week report cards will go out to students, marking the end of the second marking period. Seniors will be brushing up on studies as senior preliminary exams are fast approaching, and sophomores will take maturity and reading tests most of the week.

FACULTY VS. STUDENTS

Students today viewed a combination basketball game and fun free-for-all as the faculty took on the student varsity. This annual game is held to raise money for the Varsity Club, which in the past has purchased the electric scoreboard and a motion picture projector. The faculty was out to avenge last year's loss by one point.

Girls are soon to try out for the Betty Crocker "Search for the Homemaker of Tomorrow" contest, while PHS boys are able to vie for the Thom McAn Success Awards contest. Seniors were told of other available scholarships this week, also.

Clubs this week have been very busy. The Radio Workshoppers are preparing for broadcasts and an assembly next week, all in the holiday mood. Thursday the group will present a program for Eastern Junior High School entitled "A Star in the Window," a story of the spirit of Christmas. The Future Teachers Club Sunday will give a radio panel discussion on the club's problems and purposes.

DEBATE AT SAGINAW

Thursday the PHS debaters will travel to Saginaw Arthur Hill for their third debate tournament. Pontiac is first place with 17 wins and 24 losses.

Pictures were again uppermost in the minds of students this week as PHS students viewed and bought school pictures.

Latin students rushed to complete work on Epistolae Scholae, biannual Latin publication which goes on sale Monday. The paper will be sold not only at Pontiac High, but in all junior highs throughout the city. Proceeds from the sale will go to a number of charitable organizations.

Heading work on this paper are co-chairmen Lynn Colwell and Sharon Holland, along with adviser Iama Hook. The paper has a long history—its first issue came out in 1923.

Staff for Epistolae Scholae is made up of Pat Poyce, who will direct sales at Eastern Junior High School; Janet Thomas who will head the selling at Washington Junior High; Florence Nyman working at Lincoln Junior High; and Martha Hodge at Wever. Publicity is being handled by Frank Lawrence, with Pat Walsho taking position of business manager.

All printing will be done in the high school print shop, and the staff of typists include Lynne Benter, Paul Tremper, Darlene Humphry, Juanita Dovonno, and Dorothy Giroux.

The paper will contain articles, editorials, features, jokes, poems, all submitted by former and present Latin students.

Seniors Await Glance at Rings

Will Have First Look in Ceremony Tuesday in Church

By ANN SCHACHERN

St. Frederick High School seniors are perishing of curiosity this week. Reason?—class rings have arrived and Sister Ann Francis won't let them have a peek until the ring ceremony in the church next Tuesday night. Seniors will wear caps and gowns for the occasion.

The entire student body is making the nine-day novena in honor of Our Blessed Mother, which will be climaxed on Dec. 8, the Feast of the Immaculate Conception. Seniors will wear their caps and gowns again on this day at the 8:45 Mass.

Vocation month was climaxed by an ordination ceremony Wednesday during the 8:45 Mass. Two seminarians received the tonsure and sub-deaconite. This can only happen in the parish of a bishop.

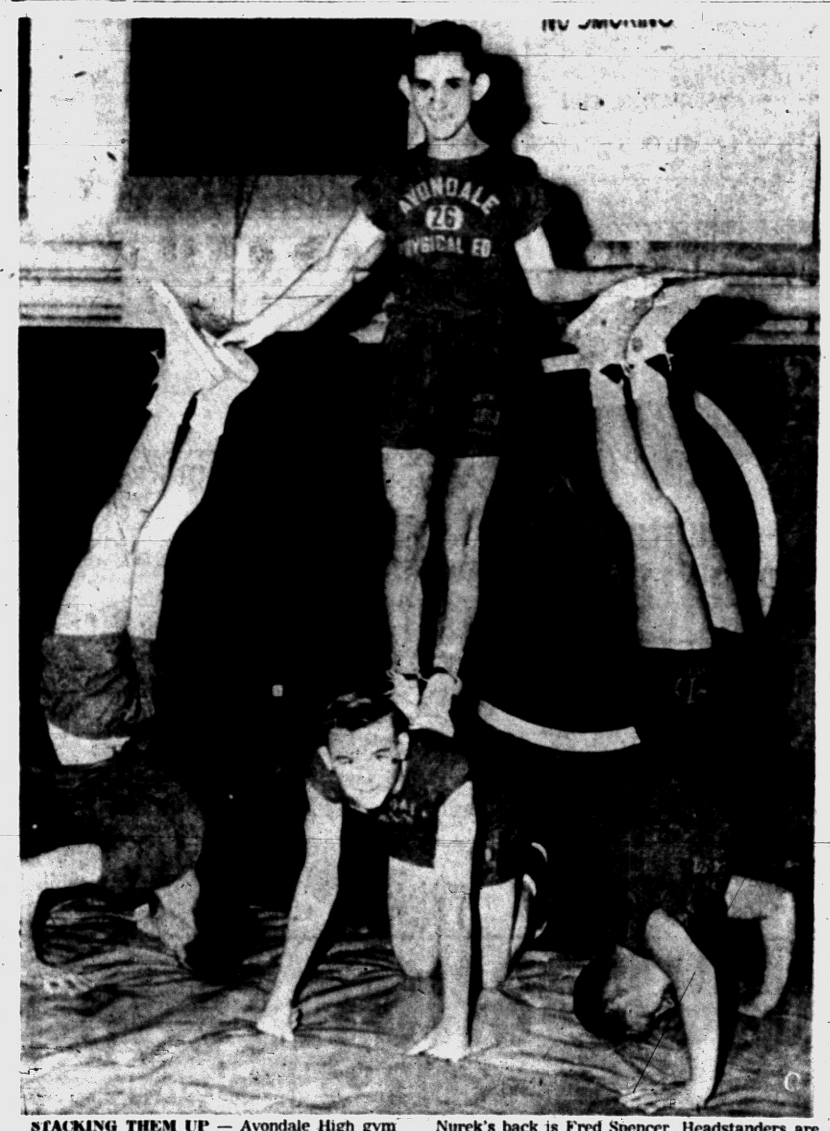
The second Student Council assembly was held Monday and many constructive ideas and aims for SFHS students were pointed out by the council.

The school is proud of its football co-captains Dick Doyon and Jim Duren, who received honorable mention for their gridiron ability by the Michigan Catholic.

Last week, two freshmen from Marygrove College, Elizabeth Powe and Honor Duross, visited St. Freds and during English class gave the senior girls a picture of what college life is like.

Editor to Talk at UM

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Douglas Cater, Washington editor of "The Reporter" magazine, will speak on "A New Look at the Power of the Press" Tuesday at the University of Michigan. It is part of a university journalism lecture series.



STACKING THEM UP — Avondale High gym students stack up in practice routines as they rehearse for their part in a PTSA Christmas program to be given Thursday. Standing on Chuck Nurek's back is Fred Spencer. Headstanders are, left, Don Carpenter and, right, Dan Butler. Classes will compete with skits, dances and musical numbers in the variety show.

Meetings Held at St. Michael's

CSMS Officers Begin New Duties as Year's First Sessions Start

By JANET ENGLISH

The long weekend of freedom gave St. Michael High School students a chance to prepare adequately for the coming weeks of activity.

With John Keller, Janice Sears, and Joyce Dropps taking over as president, vice president and secretary-treasurer respectively, the first of this year's Catholic Students Mission Crusade meetings was held Wednesday.

Homeroom CSMC representatives are Mike Lyons, spokesman for Room 2; Tom Harding, Room 13; Joe Tatham, Room 11; Jacquelyn Hoover, Room 16, and Gloria Barnowski and Art Rofe who promote the projects in Rooms 2 and 3.

Yesterday found Jerry Steinhelper, Fred West, Elaine Neussendorfer, Larry Maison, John Keller, Janet English, and Pat Hayden taking part in a discussion on teenage problems at the Michigan Catholic newspaper office in Detroit. They represented the senior class during this delineation of teenagers and their various life situations.

Michaelites have begun selling patrons tickets for the annual Christmas play, to be held Dec. 11 and 12.

The second-year typing class has completed the task of addressing 2,500 March of Dimes envelopes. The students say they have been "seeing pink envelopes" in their sleep for the past few weeks.

Class Officers Picked at Imlay City School

Class officers at Imlay City Community School have been elected as follows:

Seniors — President, Jim Kirkbride; vice president, Marion Strump; secretary, Marlene Stern, and treasurer, Ilen Rathka.

Juniors — President, Julie Knight; vice president, Jerry Watz; secretary, Kathleen Zuhlke; treasurer, Jerry Greenman.

Junior Highs Get Into Mood of Christmas

The city's junior high schools were filled with the yuletide spirit this week, as students finished floats for tomorrow's Christmas parade and worked to prepare Christmas programs.

Eastern Junior High is proud of its Cinderella float, with its prancing papier mache horses. Woodshop, metalshop and art students all worked on the float. In the parade, Carol Rosmus will ride as Cinderella in the golden coach with Victoria Seibert as her attendant and David Forslund as coachman.

Plans ae unde way, too, for a Christmas decorating contest, sponsored by the school paper, The Arrow.

Lincoln Junior High students are preparing for the fatal day when report cards will be issued. Marking period ends this wek.

A trip to a school concert by the Detroit Symphony was enjoyed by 26 members of Lincoln's band last week. Seventh and eighth graders also reported "good skating and good fun" at a roller ing periods ends this week.

Washington Junior High ninth graders and their homeroom teacher Louise Norton also held a skating party Wednesday, with invited guests from other homerooms.

Professor I. Q., an assembly given today for the student body, was pronounced a "hit" by one and all.

Wever Junior High will bring music to the Christmas parade, with a chorus of 30 singing from the opera "Hansel and Gretel" in the gingerbread house on the float. Costumes are as nearly like those of old Germany as the students could make them.

FRANCES KAMACHOS

An active Pontiac High junior is Frances Kamachos who recently was elected state vice president of the Michigan Future Nurses Clubs. Frances is secretary of the Tri-County Area Future Nurses Clubs and has served as head of the Tri-County group's program and constitution revision committees, as well as working on various committees of the school club. She is also a PHS gym leadleader and a member of the Latin Club.

Area Schools Ready for Games, Parade

Basketball, Christmas parade and programs, a play and a panel talk occupies area high school students this week as the pre-Yule rush began.

Avondale High was getting ready for the PTSA sponsored Christmas program to be held next Thursday. Secrecy is the keyword here, since the event will include competition between the different classes. Pantomines, skits, singing, dancing, gymnastics and musical numbers are all being rehearsed strictly on the hush-hush. Announcer will be senior Sam Sheehy.

Rochester High will launch the basketball season at a game with Fitzgerald High tonight on the Fitzgerald field.

Six of Eloise Tallant's dramatics students are preparing for a panel discussion on the Junior Town Meting program to be given at 9:30 a.m. Saturday over radio station WEXL, Royal Oak. They will be accompanied by Mrs. William Potere, school PTA president.

Students witnessed presentation of awards to football players Wednesday in the gym.

At Waterford High, reporter Jean Llimatta says a pep assembly this afternoon sparked tonight's basketball title with Milford, on the home court. A record dance will follow the game.

There's a last minute rush to complete WTHS's first float—The Old Woman in the Shoe — for the Pontiac parade tomorrow. The school band will also be in the parade.

Hi-Y boys are planning a roller skating party Monday at the Rolladium. Jim Williams is committee chairman.

Next Thursday and Saturday, at 8 p.m. the play "The Night of January 16" will be staged. Over 10 are in the cast, and a successful presentation is a "sure thing," say the directors.

Walled Lake's senior high band will participate in Pontiac's Christmas parade tomorrow, under the direction of Helmut Holland-Moritz.

The seniors heard Merrill Walls and Al Covert of the Michigan Employment Security Commission discuss vocation opportunities this week. Covert has been at the school all week giving aptitude tests and interviews to those who wish them.

Walled Lake will be host to the first Inter-Lakes Debate League tournament Monday. Waterford Farmington, Southfield, and Van Dyke are the other schools taking part.

Debating for Walled Lake on the question, Resolved: That the federal government should guarantee higher education to qualified high school students through grants to colleges and universities, will be Mary Princko and Mary Roach on the affirmative, and Tom Westerdale and Becky Odell on the negative. Judges will be from the University of Michigan.

The first round of debates will be held at 2 p.m. after which there will be a short intermission. The second session will then commence.

Wealthier States Will Have to Help Less Fortunate

A high school senior from Lansing is the youngest of 1,800 delegates to the White House Conference on Education. Jack Davis, 17 this week, attends Eastern High School and is a member of the state's Youth Advisory Council. In the dual role of a delegate and a student, Jack gives his views on the Washington meeting.

By JACK DAVIS
(Written for INS)

WASHINGTON — Few new ideas have come out of the White House Conference on Education, but it is the first time the states have gotten together on a national level to produce a joint report on the problem.

* * *

This, at least, is an accomplishment. The report will be something that can be referred to as what the people want. The lawmakers will have at their fingertips a real expression of public opinion on the subject of schools.

President Eisenhower will certainly do something as a result of the conference. After all, it is his baby.

The question of federal aid will be settled one way or another.

I think, and I hope, that the people who don't agree with the report will sort of forget their own selfish interests and realize that education is now a national problem as it never was before. If it is not a national problem, then why have a national conference on it?

As one of the few youth delegates, it has been a great experience for me to meet people from all over the United States and to express my opinions in this way. At my discussion table, the other members like to get my viewpoint on most questions as representative of what the students of America think.

THE RICH SHOULD HELP

We are very appreciative that the adults accepted us as they have, and I think there should have been a youth delegate at every table.

In our talks, we called for more teachers, pointed out ways in which they could be obtained, and detailed our school building needs.

Now, all of this is going to cost billions of dollars, and some states just don't have the money. There's only one solution as I see it—the wealthier states will have to help the less fortunate ones, with the federal government as the distributing agent.

A great deal of consideration must be given to the plan for distribution. Administration should not be entrusted to one man, for example, but to a committee that would be representative of the states and educational groups.

NO INTERFERENCE

After an investigation to determine that the needs cannot be met locally, the money should be given to the states for handling from there on. There would be no possibility of federal interference in local affairs.

We had a fellow from Mississippi at our table who put a different light on the subject. His state is states' rights conscious and afraid of what the federal government might do about segregation.

Frankly, I don't see how the federal government could give Mississippi money to build separate schools for colored and white when the Supreme Court says segregation is wrong. That would be a mixed-up mess; you've got to be consistent.

MUST MAKE CONCESSIONS

Federal aid to education may mean forfeiting some of our states rights, but it is necessary in the national interest.

The people of Mississippi don't want any federal aid of it means less states rights, and the people of Michigan are not going to like it if their taxes are increased to provide money for schools in other states.

But concessions have to be made on both sides, and they would understand it better if they realized the high rate of armed forces rejection for illiteracy and how many children in the United States are being denied a proper education because there just are not enough teachers and classrooms to go around.

Unless we have a better educated citizenry, democracy will fall. That's the point of it all.

Teenager Forgets Grief to Avenge Dog's Death

STANTON, Ky. (UP)—A boy dismissed his grief over loss of his dog yesterday and volunteered to kill any other dogs his pet might have bitten.

Tests at Lexington showed the boys hound was rabid.

The dog owned by Eugene Patrick, 17, reportedly bit four people, about 30 dogs and cats and an unknown number of livestock before it was killed by the boy's father.

Yesterday, Eugene killed five dogs and a cat his hound bit.

For inserting a false death notice in a newspaper, Charles McAteer got a month in jail in Belfast, Northern Ireland. A "cruel and heartless perpetration", the judge called it.

Westinghouse Slashes Pay of Bosses in Strike's Wake

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Westinghouse Electric Corp., struck by the CIO International Union of Electrical Workers since Oct. 16, today slashed the salaries of executive and technical personnel and said "we are settling down for a long strike."

Gwilym A. Price, president of Wesinghouse, said salaries of all elected officers of the firm will be cut 50 per cent. Salaries of certain other higher management personnel will be cut 40 per cent, and at least two-fifths of the administrative and technical employees will be furloughed weekly on a rotation basis.

"With absolutely no progress in negotiations, we can only conclude we are settling down for a long strike," the company said.

In addition, the company said, all expenditures for outside services and materials will be curtailed to the absolute minimum.

The CIO-IUE and the company broke off negotiations Tuesday in New York.

The union called out its 44,000 members at 29 company plants to back up demands for a 15-cent hourly raise under a one-year contract and settlement of a dispute over company efficiency studies. The workers had averaged $2.10 an hour.

The company had offered a five-year contract which it said would raise wages 16 per cent over that period. That proposal was accepted by several other unions bargaining for company employes, but was turned down by the CIO-IUE and the United Electrical Workers (independent) whose 10,500 members are also striking against the firm.

Union officials were not immediately available for comment on the company salary move.

Ferris Building Flats

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—Work has started on three new married student apartment buildings at Ferris Institute. The project, estimated at $340,000, will provide 36 apartments for married students and is scheduled for completion by next fall. More than 225 married students now attend Ferris Institute.

Armed guards stood by when a Michelangelo painting from Malta was brought ashore at Naples en route to Rome for restoration work.

MUCC Session Set for Detroit

Conservationists Meet to Study Land Grabbing by U.S. Army

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Michigan United Conservation Clubs' board of directors will meet at Detroit Dec. 10-11, immediately following the two-day monthly meeting of the Michigan Conservation Commission.

Chief topic to be discussed is what Harry R. Gaines, MUCC secretary-treasurer, termed the Army's "land grabbing tactics."

Gaines also announced March 25 as the date for the second annual MUCC Upper Peninsula meeting at Marquette.

Upper Peninsula clubs were urged to submit proposals and questions for consideration at the meeting by Feb. 1.

S. J. Gilman, director of the state corrections - conservation camps, will speak at the Detroit meeting, Gaines said.

The board will adopt a budget and hear committee reports on property purchase, legislation to stop road hunting, proposed laws for control and regulation of motor boats on inland lakes, the Kalkaska Air Force jet base, proposed Sherman Hills recreation area and Forestry Department planting.

U.S. Demands Safety of Red Sector Visitors

WASHINGTON (INS)—The U.S. is demanding that the Soviet Union continue to guarantee the safety of Americans in East Berlin and East Germany.

The demand is being made in a stern diplomatic protest to the Russians against the maltreatment of a group of Americans by East German police in East Berlin earlier this week.

The U.S. does not recognize the East German Communist regime and argues that Russia must abide by the 1945 agreements in which the World War II allies divided Germany into four zones.

Britain and France are delivering similar demands.

U.S. Ambassador James B. Conant is to deliver the U.S. protest to Soviet Ambassador Georgi Pushkin in Berlin.

Conant will release the text of the protest to newsmen in Berlin after it is delivered.

Christmas Star Still Confounds Scientific Gazers

Hazel M. Losh, associate professor of astronomy at the university of Michigan, says it's a mystery that astronomers haven't been able to solve through the centuries.

"The narrative about the star is too incomplete, the date of appearance of the star too uncertain, the early calendar too unreliable to give us any definite conclusions," Prof. Losh says.

The possibility has been suggested, she says, that the shepherds may have been guided by a cluster of bright planets but even this is guesswork.

The sun will hit the southernmost point this month, giving us our shortest day and longest night Dec. 22. The day will be about nine hours long and the night 15 hours long.

Prof. Losh says December skies are punctuated by some of the most beautiful and colorful stars in the universe. Orion, the giant huntsman, moves across the southern sky. The northern cross lights the northern heavens.

Mars can be see bright orange in the southwest. Venus, up at evening all summer and fall, is now the morning star.

Judge Offers Choice of Sentence to Motorist

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Randolph F. Bookers' car smacked into a telephone pole yesterday and caught fire.

Booker, 27, was charged with reckless driving. He pleaded guilty and Municipal Judge A. R. Imes imposed a $100 fine but agreed to suspend it if Booker would give up his license for 30 days.

Sure, Booker agreed.

Collegiate Raid Goes Haywire

Invasion Attempt Foiled as Law Traps Students on Wrong 'Campus'

GALESBURG, Ill. (INS) — A group of embarrassed college students wound up playing their own "comedy of errors" recently when they went on a pre-football game raid in Galesburg.

The band of stalwarts from Monmouth College, Monmouth, Ill., decided to invade the campus of Knox College in Galesburg to "fire up" interest in the annual game between the two institutions.

But someone goofed in drawing up plans for the raid. Unfortunately, the students set up their beachhead on the Knox County court house square which is located a block away from Knox College.

No one noticed the error, however, and the raiders went to work on a historic bronze statue that is the pride of the county. First they painted it and then they poured machine oil all over the statue.

After firing off guns and firecrackers to celebrate their achievement, the raiders set fire to the statue.

That was their second mistake. The noise work up county sheriff Max Jones who lives in the county jail which also is only a block away.

The sheriff called the Monmouth police who set up a roadblock that snared two of the cars. The rest of the shamefaced conspirators were rounded up the next day.

Each of the students paid a fine and costs totaling $29.30. Monmouth College also agreed to pay the costs for any damage to the statue.

While they were out botching up their raid on Knox College, students of that institution were painting Knox signs on the Monmouth College buildings.

Steady Dating Is Difficult for Non-Drivers

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 15, and I have a girl friend that I take to the school dances, and on dates whenever I can get a ride with some other boy.

"I'm looking forward to the time when I can have my driver's license and take my girl out on a date all by myself! I feel sure she loves me now, but I'm afraid she might go with someone else if she had the chance and they knew she wasn't going steady.

"How am I to go about going steady with her? Should I bring up the subject or should she? should I say what we will exchange or should she?

"And if I should find another girl in the meantime and start going with her, how long should I go with her before I start going steady?"

Answer: It seems to me that going steady is a luxury that youngsters can't afford. During those seemingly endless days b.d.l. (before driver's license) a boy's dates are at the mercy of older boys with cars and parents with cheerful dispositions. He's not exactly a free agent—he can't quite come and go as he pleases.

Until he is in a position to do a really steady job of seeing his girl regularly and consistently, there's not much point in bringing up the subject with her. No matter how much he wishes she wouldn't yield to the temptation to go out with other boys.

After dating your girl quite a bit you may both discover simultaneously that you infinitely prefer to be together. Dates with other people hold no interest at all. That's the time to talk over your discovery.

You will have drifted into going steady without any agreement to do so. Then you could ask her if she would wear your ring or your bracelet or whatever, and she could counter with a similar offer of her own.

Taking it slow and easy applies just as much to any new girls you might find as to the one you enjoy dating now. Avoid tying yourself up irrevocably until you're sure of your mind and your heart.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm away in college but I'd like to go steady with a girl in my home town. She's a senior in high school, and we dated quite often during last summer. Since I don't get home very often would going steady be fair to her?"

Answer: It would put her social life entirely in your hands. Of course, that's what would happen anyway even if you were home. But absentee "ownership" would make it tough for her.

There are big doings during the last semester of her senior year. Would you want her to miss them because you couldn't be there with her?

Why not settle for being The Big Thing in each other's lives, and skip (for the time being) thoughts of being the only thing?

See her as often as you can, and let her make her own arrangements for those times when you are inaccessible, unavailable, out of reach.

Ginger Men Bound to Be Fine Treat

Pontiac Cook Adds Fruit for Features, and Icing Mouth

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Yesterday, a pleasant voice on the telephone said its owner had a very good recipe for Gingerbread Men, and would we be interested? We told Mrs. Rick Thompson that we would be delighted to have her recipe to pass on to all you reader-cooks.

Mrs. Thompson loves to cook. She likes to collect and exchange recipes. She passes out her gingerbread men to all the neighborhood children. Once she used them as place cards for her daughter's birthday party. Mrs. Thompson is a member of the Wilson PTA.

GINGERBREAD MEN
By Mrs. Rick Thompson

2½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon ginger
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup shortening
½ cup dark molasses
3 tablespoons milk

Sift dry ingredients together twice. Cream sugar and shortening until fluffy. Add molasses and milk. Stir in dry ingredients. Chill for 1 hour. Roll out ⅛-inch thick on a floured board. Cut with a gingerbread man cutter and carefully transfer to greased baking sheet.

Make features and buttons out of raisins or dried prunes. Bake 10 minutes in a 375-degree oven. Add a dab of pink icing for a mouth.

Mrs. Thompson keeps the finished cookies in the refrigerator to keep the icing firm. Makes 2 dozen cookies or 1½ dozen gingerbread men.

Mrs. J. L. Bennett Entertains Sorority

During the business meeting conducted by Mrs. Harold Newstead, announcement was made that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Boyce on Dwight avenue.

Coming Events

The 1939-40 Proficiency Group, OES 228 will meet with Mrs. Clyde Marshbanks, 90 W. Square Lake Rd., Monday at 7:30 p.m. for a Christmas party.

Mrs. Jess D. Chamberlin of Lakeside drive will be hostess at a large luncheon Wednesday at the Detroit Athletic Club. The affair will be given for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donald C. Graves, who with Mr. Graves has recently moved to Cambridge Village, Birmingham, from Las Vegas, Nev.

TO FETE BRIDE-ELECT

Mrs. Glen M. Davis, Mrs. Norris Perkin and Mrs. H. Perry Holmes entertained at a recent luncheon for bride-elect Jane Mehrer. Jane and William S. James Jr. will be married Dec. 29.

At the bazaar given Wednesday afternoon by the Women's Auxiliary of Christ Church Cranbrook, the flower arrangements were all done by Mrs. Leslie H. Green of Turtle Lake Farms.

Mrs. Green brought the many kinds of orchids, which adorned the Japanese tea tables, from her own greenhouses and also the white and yellow chrysanthemums.

Auxiliary members who had been abroad in the past year contributed to the foreign lands atmosphere. Mrs. Vernon C. Genn showed her model of a Shinto shrine, brought back with her after a long residence in the Orient.

Japanese costumes were loaned by Mrs. Maxwell Fead who, with her husband and four daughters, spent two months in Japan last year.

Mrs. Fead also superintended the tea, ordering cakes from overseas and showing a model of an Oriental doll festival, held at Christmastime in the Far East.

Musicale Clubs to Meet Sunday

The Junior League will convene at Frances Spencer's home on Roslyn road and the Senior League will meet at Sharon Holland's home on East Iroquois road.

Gift Wallet Has Defect in Zipper

Recipient Wonders if Giver Should Be Told About This

By EMILY POST

"A friend of mine gave me a very good-looking wallet for my birthday last week. Several days later when I went to transfer my things from my old wallet to the new one, I discovered that the zipper was broken.

"I would like to know if it would be proper to tell my friend about this and ask her to exchange it for another, or must I keep it and say nothing. I could use a new wallet and it seems a shame to let this one go to waste."

Answer: If you know where your friend bought it, you could go to the store immediately and explain that it was broken. Otherwise, the only thing to do is to tell your friend frankly what happened.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a woman guest is leaving a party and the men nearby are standing waiting for her to make her exit and she becomes involved in last-minute conversation with some of the guests, is it permissible for the men to be seated, or must they remain standing until she leaves the room?"

Answer: They should remain standing for so long as they are nearby. They could go to another part of the room and sit down.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother passed away two weeks ago. With the Christmas season only a few weeks off, I would like to know just how far we can go in observing this season in the traditional fashion without being criticized.

"As far as I am concerned the day will be a sad one, but I have two teenaged children who have been looking forward eagerly to the Christmas holiday.

"We always have gone to great lengths in decorating our house both inside and out, and the children always had one big party during the holiday season to which they invited all their friends. Is any of this possible under the circumstances?"

Answer: Spoiling Christmas for the children would surely be something that their grandmother would never have wanted, and I think a party for their young friends would not be criticized. Naturally, you would not give a party yourself. Decorations both indoors and out should be simple.

French Spotlighting Sculptured Pieces

Instead of simply displaying a beautiful piece of sculpture in a home, the French now make it useful and put it in the spotlight as a lamp-stand topped b ya shade.

In the latest exhibition of home decorations many table or desk lamps had sculptured figures as stands.

Guest Contrasts American, Swiss Life

Elizabeth Hitz of Chur, Switzerland, told of the life, customs, education and government of her native land when she spoke before members of the Zonta Club Thursday at Hotel Waldron.

Here for a two-year stay, she has found many contrasts between living in her country and in the United States. She has seen most of the Eastern part of the U. S. and has based her impressions on observations of our cities in comparison with Switzerland, which in its entirety has only 4½ million population.

Although most raw materials must be brought in from the United States, Switzerland's industries employ 52 per cent of the population.

Watchmaking, chemical and food production are the leading industries, with branches of Switzerland's large corporations located all over the world.

Our everyday use of mechanical equipment in the home, automobiles and appliances are luxuries in Switzerland, but still the Swiss have the highest standard of living in Europe, the speaker said.

SCHOOL SYSTEM

Pupils, she said, enter play school at 2½ years, progressing to primary and secondary schools. After high school they are trained as skilled workers or for professions from four to eight years.

* * *

A knowledge of French, German and Italian are required before graduation. Hotel-keeping is the business of 20 per cent of population.

The varied climate and scenery of Switzerland, with its mountains snowcapped all year, and with balmy weather in the south, make it a mecca for travelers, Miss Hitz noted.

As a nation, Switzerland pioneers in the tourist trade, is famed for hospitality and well-kept hostelries.

Zonta Club's December dinner and business meeting will be a Christmas party Dec. 8 at Kingsley Inn.

Plaid cotton overblouses and wool sheath dresses are in the fashion focus. Teamed with a slim skirt the overblouse can go to work or on informal dates. The sheath dress is featured with the button detail on the sleeves and halfway down the front of the dress. Patch pockets on the hips accentuate the slim look.

'Fabulous Chicago' Reviewed for Club

Mrs. John Thors Jr. reviewed the book, "Fabulous Chicago" by Dedmon, at the last meeting of chapter CL, PEO Sisterhood. Mrs. Max K. Fell of Drayton Woods was hostess when the group met recently.

During the business meeting plans were made for the Christmas party to be held Dec. 29 at the home of Mrs. L. G. Rowley. The next meeting will be Inspection by state officers on Dec. 12. Mrs. Harry Chapman of Maybee road will be hostess to the group at that time.

Lamps to match period furniture in France are still made of beautiful porcelain vases and topped by silk lampshades with velvet ribbon trimmings.

Yule Card Record

Just as sure as there will always be a Christmas, there will always be a greater variety of these colorful messengers of good will and good cheer that are so eagerly sought by millions of Americans.

The 1955 holiday season will undoubtedly mark an all-time high in Christmas Card sending. It is estimated that upwards of two billion Christmas Cards will have arrived before Christmas Eve in 1955.

Guild Marks Yule

Members of St. Mary Guild of St. Benedict Church held their Christmas luncheon and party Thursday at Aunt Fanny's in Royal Oak. Following the luncheon, the group exchanged gifts and played cards.

'Duchess' Attitude Hurts Applicant

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I have been trying to get a part-time sales job for the holidays," an irate woman writes, "but in spite of the fact that the stores in our city are advertising like mad, they always tell me there are no openings.

"I am only 38 and the ads specify 'up to 40 years old,' so it certainly isn't age. And the ads state that experience is not necessary.

"I've been a wife and mother all my life. I've decided to ease into the business world because it would be such an interesting experience and, of course, one can always use the extra money.

"But I wonder if I'm doing anything wrong—although I think not. I think it's those impossible young people they have in personnel departments. They push a card at you and want you to fill it out before they'll even talk with you.

"Have you any ideas as to how I can handle them?"

NO MYSTERY

There's no mystery here. It sounds to me as if this woman is making her own trouble and then some.

In the first place, she probably gives the impression of a well-to-do housewife who thinks it might be a lark to dally in the commercial world.

She probably makes it clear—in actions, if not in words—that she doesn't need the money, that she won't work conscientiously and that she'll be difficult to get along with.

By treating the personnel people like young whippersnappers, and refusing to follow the procedure they have set up with application blanks, she probably makes them want to get rid of her, but fast.

POLITE AND PLEASANT

I know many women who have had Christmas sales jobs, even though they had had no experience and were 10 or 15 years older than this woman. But they did it by really wanting to work, not by turning "duchess."

They were polite and pleasant at the personnel office, did as they were told—and were hired.

If you are having trouble getting a job, don't automatically blame it on the stupidity of the people in personnel. Maybe it's your own bad manners!

Board Meeting of Auxiliary Held at Dean Home

The board of the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital was entertained at the home of Mrs. William J. Dean on Ottawa drive Wednesday.

Presiding at the Christmas luncheon was Mrs. P. Eugene Miller, who appointed a committee to work with Mrs. William R. McClure to form a new group of young mothers to aid with auxiliary work.

Committee members organizing the group are Mrs. Charles Allen, Mrs. Ivan Wilcox, Mrs. Leo Heenan, Mrs. Edward Mann and Lauretta Paul.

State Jet Base Plans Standing

Air Force Chief Quarles Hears 3 Talk Against Kalkaska County Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Air Force Secretary Quarles has been listening to protests against establishment of a jet air base in Kalkaska County, Mich., but the conference produced no indication Air Force plans would be changed.

Quarles' office said after the conference Thursday that the secretary had heard views of the objectors and had "assured them that their views would be taken into proper consideration" in Air Force planning.

The objecting group was made up of three St. Louis, Mo., businessmen who have summer homes or interests in the Michigan area. They were Hartley Comfort, James Barick and Robert Hensley.

Air Force plans to build a base in the northwestern sector of Michigan's Lower Peninsula have been stalled for nearly two years because of local pressures both for and against various proposed sites.

Before yesterday's conference, a Quarles aide reiterated that although the Air Force was willing to listen to opposing views about the location of the base, present plans call for going ahead at the Kalkaska site.

The St. Louis businessmen declined to tell a reporter anything about their objections or what they told Quarles.

COTTONWOOD, Ariz. (AP)—Terry Finnegan of Phoenix was brought before a justice of the peace on a charge of catching over the limit of fish. Asked to count the fish, he didn't get the right answer, but did get a very red face. He had miscounted by one. Finnegan is a mathematics teacher.

In a single second the U.S. light and power industry can generate enough electricity to supply an average American family about five years.

Moorish Teetotalers

MADRID — When the Moors captured southern Spain in 711 A.D. they also won the vineyards and the secret of making sherry wine.

Although according to their religion they are strict teetotalers, the Moors tended the vineyards and preserved the sherry processes for 553 years before turning them back to the Spaniards in 1264.

Nickel is distributed widely but in only a few places is mineralization sufficiently concentrated to form ore deposits.

5 Days of Supervised Fun Ends Today

Baker Students Camp at Proud Lake

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Milford Correspondent

MILFORD — The first school group in the area to take advantage of the Proud Lake State Group Camp near Milford, is there this week.

Sixty-three children from the two sixth grades at Baker school are attending the outdoor day camp, under the supervision of Arthur Burklund, Theresa Kurtz and Robert Coe, teachers at Baker school.

Labeled an "architect's dream" by top-ranking educators, the camp consists of a dormitory which will accomodate 66 residents, separated by an intersecting lounge with a large open fireplace. Bunkbeds and plastic-covered mattresses provide sleeping facilities.

In the main dining hall, formica-top tables fold up so that the space may be cleared for recreational use. Every possible convenience for preparing and serving food has been incorporated in the kitchen. There is a 10-foot walk-in refrigerator and living quarters for two cooks adjoins the kitchen.

Every minute of each day has been scheduled for the local students.

FIELD TRIP

On Monday, Al Masini, Director of the camp, gave the children in opportunity to explore the 3,000 acres comprising the camp. Some of the rangers were assigned to direct tree-trimming activities.

George Thompson of the Oakland County Soil Conservation department took the group on a field trip Tuesday, explaining various types of soil to be found in this area. Lee Osborn, a Milford businessman took colored movies of all activities, which will be donated to the school picture library.

Wildlife in its native form was explained Wednesday by Tom Brookes, Field Administration Predatory Animal Control officer of the State Conservation department. Clarence Travis, an authority on rocks and minerals also spent Wednesday with the group.

On Thursday, there were planned hikes and cook-outs for the children and Eagle Scouts, Paul Heil and Jack See assisted the supervisors in this project. In the evening, Mrs. Elda Lavoy, science teacher at Highland conducted a discussion in star study.

Two expert cooks from the local cafeteria, Helen McGee and Christine Smith kept the ravenous appetites of the children satisfied with wholesome, well-balanced meals.

Each child paid $7 for the five-day interlude at the camp, which covered the cost of food. The Multi-Lakes Sportsmen's club assisted the schools in helping pay for the use o fthe camp facilities. Professional cleaning help is employed after each group leaves, according to Masini.

This afternoon, the children were to return to the Baker school in time to ride their regular school bus to their homes.

State Senator Suggests Revision of Constitution

Oakland County's State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) last night discussed possibility of a state constitutional revision at a meeting sponsored by the League of Women Voters at the Consumers Power building in Royal Oak.

A proposal to call a convention to revise Michigan's existing constitution, adopted in 1908, will automatically be on the ballot in 1958. If passed, convention delegates will be elected, a new constitution drawn, and another statewide vote taken on approving it.

"The present constitution in many respects does not differ from the one adopted in 1850," said Broomfield. "The state has had no actually new basic law for 100 years. But in that time its population has grown from 400,000 to 7,000,000 and state government has become cumbersome and complex.

"A changing society creates new problems and governmental organization must be improved, but our constitution has remained almost static."

Many persons favor a revision, said Broomfield, but fear the results. In prosperous times they "stand against changing the status quo and when times are bad they feel minds are disturbed and a too drastic change might result.

"If we are guided by this kind of thinking, the task of revision will never be done.

"The subject requires serious and lengthy study. An education program is needed to reveal defects and what is needed to correct them."

The lawmaker warned that a new constitution would not be a panacea for all governmental ills, but if properly arrived at would correct many inadequacies.

Four Relocations Designed to Cut Traffic Congestion

Re-location of two newsstands, one cab and one jitney stand by the police was aimed at cutting traffic congestion at four points in the city.

City Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel said the newsstand at the northwest corner of Saginaw and Huron Streets was moved 50 feet west on Huron to facilitate easier right turns for south bound traffic desiring to turn on to Huron.

In the past customers using the newsstand often blocked right turns while stopped to purchase from the stand.

The stand at the southeast corner will be moved in the future to ease turns on to Huron for north bound Saginaw vehicles.

The jitney stand located at Lawrence and Saginaw was ordered set back west of the west alley to permit one lane of traffic for Lawrence east bound traffic and a second for cars making right turns on to Saginaw.

The Oakland Cab Company stand at Pike and Saginaw Streets was relocated westward on Pike to facilitate easier right turns on to Saginaw.

Thought She Killed, Woman Hangs Self

CARDIFF, Calif. (AP)—Authorities said Mrs. Grace Van Ness, 65, hanged herself yesterday, apparently in the belief she had accidentally caused the death of her paralyzed husband, Jay, 70.

Her body was found hanging by a window sash cord from a tree limb, with a kitchen chair overturned beneath her.

Deputy coroner E. O. McFadden said investigation indicated that she thought her husband dead when she removed an oxygen mask, after forgetting to turn on the oxygen. Jay was still alive, however. He was transferred to a hospital.

Hollywood Headlines:

New Talent Ray Danton to Star in 'Johny Salvo'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — In the buildup of new talent, Al Daff told me when I was at U-I that Ray Danton figures strongly. Ray had to go to MGM to play Susan Hayward's first husband in "I'll Cry Tomorrow" to get this recognition at his own studio.

Now he'll be starred, if you please, in "Johnny Salvo," an original story of the Treasury Department hunting down a group of counterfeiters.

The deep-dyed villian in "On the Waterfront" and "Oklahoma!", Rod Steiger, dosen't like to talk about the mean characters he plays. But if you mention poetry it's a different matter.

He not only writes it, but at the drop of an iambic pentameter will read you his verse. I has just finished a short prose fantasy titled "Conversation With a Friend of Mine Who Also Happens to be a Cat."

The perennially young Marlene Dietrich is yearning to return to motion pictures. She wants to get a little of the gravy in an independent setup, so she and writer Sid Kuller and Peter Shaw, of the William Morris Agency, have agreed on a package deal.

GOLFER CROSBY

Bing Crosby came in from Palm Springs long enough to confer with his brother Larry about the annual Monterey Golf Tournament Jan. 12 to 15.

Up to date, Big has raised $254,770 for youth centers, old people's homes, Community Chest and other worthy causes.

Larry, who is in charge of this year's golf games, tells me they have so many players they have to have three courses. To give you an idea, here are a few movie names who will compete with the golf pros:

Dean Martin, Vic Damone, Dennis O'Keefe, Johnny Weismuller, Frank Borzage, Buddy Rogers and Leo Durocher, as well as Gen. Omar Bradley and President Eisenhower's brother, Edgar Eisenhower, Jackie Jensen and scores of top names in many fields. Bing's youngest son, Lindsay, will play this year.

Bing is feeling so fit that while he was here he signed that MGM contract to do "High Society" ("Philadelphia Story") with Frank Sinatra and Grace Kelly.

A very nice compliment is paid to Freddie de Cordova, director of the Gracie Allen and George Burns television show. One of the directorial TV plums of the year, the spectacular show "Blithe Spirit," which stars Noel Coward, Lauren Bacall and Claudette Colbert, has been given him.

Freddie, who left motion pictures three years ago to take over the Burns and Allen program, was very pleased and said its the nicest thing that's happened to him in many a year. I'd say it's one of the nicest things that's happened to CBS, because Freddie will give them a good show.

YASMIN CAN-CANS

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Life magazine caught a picture of Princess Yasmin dancing the can-can as a surprise for her grandfather, the Aga Khan's 78th birthday at his Riviera villa. The photographer cables from Europe that Yasmin bears a striking resemblance to her mother, Rita Hayworth.

Dick Zanuck, only son of the Darryl Zanucks, is a new regimental commander with the rank of colonel in the ROTC at Stanford—a nice honor.

Dana Wynter's wish to have a dog was granted when she received a 4-week-old miniature Yorkshire terrier, "English Harry the Toff," by name, in a basket of flowers with a bouquet of meat. The donor was Greg Bautzer.

Ruth Roman's first date since her separation from Mortimer Hall was with Brad Dexter at the Luau.

Winchell's Walda Sues Her Spouse on Divorce Filing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former New York actress Walda Winchell sued hotel chain owner Hyatt R. Von Dehn for separate maintenance yesterday and shortly afterward he filed a divorce suit against her. They were wed July 29.

Miss Winchell, daughter of New York columnist Walter Winchell, charged Von Dehn with cruelty, asked for reasonable support, division of community property and an order restraining him from disposing of assets.

Von Dehn also charged cruelty. He said they separated Oct. 7, while she fixed the date as Nov. 27. Von Dehn is 40, Miss Winchell 28. Von Dehn was divorced by singer Ginny Simms in 1952 and Miss Winchells marriage to an art student, William F. Lawless, was annulled in 1948.

Linda Darnell Seeks Divorce in Mexico

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Mexican attorneys for movie actess Linda Darnell have announced she would file divorce proceedings against her husband, Phillip Liebmann, in the first civil court of Juarez, Mexico, today.

Reached at the San Antonio hotel in Juarez, across the Rio Crande from this border city, Miss Darnell told the El Paso Times she was there for "business purposes" "which I prefer not to discuss."

The Mexican attorneys told the Times Miss Darnell will ask the divorce on grounds of incompatability.

Miss Darnell, 32, and Liebmann, 40, president of Liebmann Brewery, Inc., of New York City, were married in February, 1954.

Tracks Aren't Bumpy?

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Cluster Delawder, 48, of Ironton, had one complaint after he was arrested by Circleville police while driving on railroad tracks. The streets in Circleville are "lousy and bumpy", said Delawder. Municipal Judge Serling Lamb fined Delawder $100 and costs and sentenced him to three days in jail for drunken driving.

Caterpillars crossing a railway track at Callington, England, stopped a train.

All Working Toward Degrees; Can Be Record Says Michigan Group

EAST LANSING (AP)—There were 123,943 students enrolled in Michigan's 56 colleges and universities this fall.

The Michigan Association of Collegiate Registrars and Admission Officers said a survey showed 112,746 enrolled in regular campus courses and 11,197 in off-campus courses—but all working toward degrees.

The association did not report previous years' totals, but said it believed the 1955 figure was a record.

The registrars counted 75,742 men and 37,004 women on their campuses. With the exception of the University of Michigan, which did not report veterans enrolled, there were 13,669 war veterans enrolled under the Korean War GI Bill and 1,295 under World War II laws.

The total undergraduate enrollment was reported to be 82,106, of whom 54,883 were men and 27,223 were women. The number attending college for the first time totaled 25,788 — 15,791 men and 9,997 women.

The registrars reported 4,352 men and 284 women seeking graduate professional degrees and 7,660 men and 3,616 women seeking other graduate degrees.

Bing Crosby to Start Letter Writing Contes

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Crooner Bing Crosby has invited the boys and girls of America to join in a letter-writing contest on the subject, "What Christmas Means to Me."

The singer will select and read the winning letter over the air as a feature of the "Christmas-Eve Sing with Bing" show on Saturday, Dec. 24.

Boys and girls up to the age of 12 years are eligible to enter the contest. Letters must be postmarked not later than Dec. 15 and should be addressed to Bing Crosby, CBS-Radio, Hollywood 28, Calif.

During Crosby's Christmas Eve broadcast, a pick-up will be made in the hometown of the winner, with the successful letter writer reading his holiday sentiments to a nationwide audience.

House Group Probes Dollar-a-Year Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Judiciary subcommittee will hold a public hearing next week on what its chairman calls President Eisenhower's "inadequate" order governing the activities of dollar-a-year men.

Rep. Celler (D-NY), head of the subcommittee probing activities of businessmen called into federal service without compensation (WOCs), said three days of hearings will be set aside for exploration of the executive order.

Eisenhower's order, issued Monday, prohibits WOCs and others affected from negotiating or executing defense contracts involving their private employers or concerns in which they have any interest. They also are forbidden to make any recommendations which would benefit those concerns, or to participate in prosecuting claims of those concerns against the government. They must list business connections within 60 days of appointment.

Santa's Little Helper Wishes Happy Holidaze

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"Christmas," some wit said, "came before Thanksgiving this year . . ."

If the trend to do your Christmas shopping early continues, by next year jolly old Santa Claus will be waddling around the stores about Labor Day. Eleanor Roosevelt and Tallulah Bankhead, who now Christmas-shop in the summer, will be starting about Decoration Day.

★ ★ ★ ★

Hypnotized by all the exploitation to "be Santa's little helper and mail your presents early," I went on a gift-buying binge yesterday—3 weeks earlier than usual.

THE JACKET

Walking down 5th, I saw Cartier's and tried to get to the other side. But my womenfolk boxed me in.

"That's a nice little bracelet," the wife said.

"It's so cold-looking," I pointed out. "And it's too wide for your beautiful, slender, delicate little wrist."

"Never be dainty with diamonds," she retorted.

Popping into a luxury shop, I found for myself a velvet dinner jacket "host coat." Do you have friends dropping in all the time in dinner jackets? Then you need this, and only $150, too.

Anyway, Santa's little helper here feels very relieved about having picked out his present, and also kind of martyr-like in making it easier for the salespeople during those rush days.

Santa's little helper will also have more time to go to Christmas parties, and he wishes to be the first to wish you all "Happy Holidaze."

'Republican Advance' Not Party - Endorsed, Say Officials

A warning to its members to resist appeals for funds from persons representing themselves as employes of the "Republican Advance" was issued this week by Pontiac Chamber of Commerce officials.

Publishers of the periodical, according to Assistant Manager John Hirlinger, reportedly have contacted prominent local businessmen by telephone, asking for money to finance distribution.

Hirlinger reports that area Republican leaders, as well as the party's State Central Committee, have refuted the owner's implication that the publication is Republican - endorsed.

The Chamber official adds that the "Advance" apparently has no subscription list and no system for handling contributed funds. The publication is reportedly printed in the basement of the publisher's home in Detroit.

Yellow predominates as the favorite pencil color by a four-to-one margin.

Paul Muni Returns to Broadway Role

NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Muni returned last night to his starring role in the Broadway play "Inherit the Wind," which he had to leave three months ago for an eye operation.

He received a thunderous ovation when he first appeared on stage in his portrayal of lawyer Clarence Darrow in the drama based on the Scopes "monkey" trial 30 years ago in Dayton, Tenn.

It was announced last night that Melvyn Douglas, who pinch-hit for Muni, will star in a Chicago production of the same play.

Jackson Opens Slate Against Edsel Ford '5'

Don Ogden's Vikings, Defending 'A' Champs, List Two Holdovers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jackson High School, state Class A basketball champion, opens its 1955-56 campaign tonight with only two of 12 lettermen returning from last season's surprising title team.

The Vikings meet Dearborn Edsel Ford, the newest Class A school in the state which will be playing its 1st game of basketball.

Coach Don Ogden has guard Bob Zimmerman and Jack Schomer back from last season's championship crew, plus a host of lanky newcomers who should make the Vikings a formidable outfit.

Despite severe graduation losses, Jackson will floor one of its tallest teams in history.

Among the new faces are 6-6 Jack Grimes, 6-5 Terry Reynolds, 6-3 Bruce Campbell and 6-2 Phil Bromley. Schomer, who has been switched to center, stands 6-4.

Gone from last season's team are Larry Bicy, highest scorer in Jackson history, and Dick Hinkle, a demon rebounder.

Ed Kotlarczyk, head coach of Dearborn Edsel Ford, said:

"I don't know how our boys will do against Jackson. I just hope we make a good showing."

Only two of Edsel Ford's players—both transfers from nearby Dearborn High School—have had varsity experience.

Meanwhile, the reigning Class B champion, River Rouge, takes on an old rival, Highland Park, always a Class A power.

River Rouge has three regulars back from last year—Jim Childs, a 6-5 center; Walter Ector, a 6-1 forward, and Herb Wood, a 5-6 guard. Gone is high-scoring Blanche H. Martin.

Conference coaches, players and publicity men selected the teams.

SECOND TEAM: Ends—Tom Mason, Central Michigan, and Tom Owens, Western; tackles—Ed Hayes, Southern, and Olivar Porter, Central Michigan; guards—Bill Becker, Illinois Normal, and Marion Rushing, Southern; center—Bob McCullough, Michigan Normal; quarterback — Bill Vanderarkt, Western; backs—Jim Podoley, Central Michigan; Bob Snider, Northern Illinois; Jack Schneider, Southern.

Soccer Games Early in Day to Beat Heat

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Convinced it's the heat that's driving the fans wacky, Argentine soccer officials have gone night baseball one better.

From now on, Argentina will have morning soccer.

It's spring in the Argentine, with afternoon temperatures near the 100-degree mark. The partisan blood of the fans has really been boiling. Out-and-out riots have broken up several games in the past three weeks.

In the United States, baseball fans occasional yell "kill the ump!" But here, they sometimes try to.

So, game time now is 9:45 a.m.—in the cool of the morning.

Ex-Acrobat Rides Record Daily Double

Sorenson's 1st Two Pimlico Wins Provide Juicy $5,932 Plum

BALTIMORE (AP)—An ex-acrobat was something of a two-ring circus at Pimlico yesterday, providing 14 two-dollar bettors with the thrill of a wagering lifetime.

Jockey Bernie Sorenson, an apprentice, rode Joymaker to victory in the first race and Advice in the second for a $5,932.20 daily double—largest in Pimlico history.

Joymaker, winner by a neck, was a $164 to $2 bet, and Advice, which came home ahead by a length, paid $100.80 for a $2 ticket.

The daily double payoff, third largest in Maryland pari-mutuel history, was probably a record for one rider.

Sorenson, a Dane, came to this country four years ago with an acrobatic troupe. The late Al Jensen, a fellow Dane who trained for Rapahannock Stable, offered him a job breaking yearlings at winter quarters in Aiken, S. C. He took it.

He rode his first race in this country June 14, 1954, and his first winner last fall.

Beliveau and Richard Turn Back Bruins in Lone NHL Game

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jean Beliveau, the youngster who performs like an old smoothie, and Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, the veteran who seems to improve with age, continue to provide the Montreal Canadiens with a sharp-shooting one-two scoring punch.

With the 24-year-old Beliveau and the 34-year-old Richard producing the goals, the sizzling Canadiens turned back the hapless Boston Bruins 2-1 in the lone National Hockey League game last night.

Pace-setting Montreal, which has lost but once in its last 15 games, boosted its lead to 6 points over the runner-up New York Rangers. New York plays at Chicago in tonight's only contest.

Beliveau, the league's leading scorer this season, and Richard, the highest point-getter in NHL history, found the range within a span of 26 seconds in the first period. Beliveau's goal was his 15th of the season—most in the league—and 10th against the Bruins. All told he has accumulated 28 points.

Boston's goal came in the first stanza with Lorne Ferguson caging the disc. The Bruins, winless in their last nine starts, missed gaining the equalizer in the third period when Murray Costello's apparent goal was nullified because of an offside infraction.

Zaharias May Leave Hospital Next Week

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Robert Moore said here yesterday that Babe Zaharias may be able to leave the hospital and go on an outpatient basis next week.

The physician said that the famous woman golfer's pain in her hip and leg had disappeared.

Dr. Moore said there is no apparent change in her condition since she was discharged from the hospital here last September after her second series of treatment for cancer. He said he will not know for certain until this weekend when results of exhaustive tests will be available.

AP Announces 1955 All-America Dream Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio State's Howard (Hopalong) Cassady heads one of the most versatile backfields ever selected on The Associated Press 1955 All-America football team announced today.

Cassady, a holdover choice along with Navy end Ron Beagle, is joined by Earl Morrall of Michigan State, Jim Swink of Texas Christian and Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma in the backfield.

The Buckeyes owe their second straight Big 10 championship to Cassady, the winner of the Heisman Memorial Trophy who was the clutch runner of the year despite the special defenses set for him each week. He also can pass.

Morrall, the nation's leading punter, ran the Spartans' intricate multiple offense with rare genius. He was equally proficient as a runner, passer, blocker and was terrific on defense.

McDonald, who with Swink gives the team two junior backs, is the breakaway runner who made the national champion Sooners an awesome ground power. In addition, his passing kept the defenses "honest."

Swink was the most exciting runner of the campaign, springing from virtual obscurity into the role of the top scorer (125 points) and most dramatic distance gainer.

The team, selected on the recommendations of AP regional boards on the basis of the full season, avoids pre-season ballyhoo and high pressure publicity campaigns.

Veteran football observers tabbed Brown, a tremendous lineman, the key to Rose Bowl-bound UCLA's fine season. Red Sanders' single wing depends on power blocking and it was Brown in front of the ball carrier for the crucial gains. On defense, he had no peers.

Bisceglia got the nod over Iowa's great Calvin Jones for the other guard position because of the amazing contribution the 25-year-old Navy veteran made to Irish success. Notre Dame began the season with only one regular returning in the line. It took a major effort to fashion a new forward wall and the foundation was built on Bisceglia—defensive quarterback, right side linebacker and running guard on offense.

At center, Pellegrini was honored in his first try at the position. He had been a guard in previous seasons but was moved prior to the '55 campaign in what proved to be Coach Jim Tatum's prize act.

Wiggin's No. 79 was the most conspicuous numeral on the field in his nine Saturdays of ruining Stanford opponents. Unnoticed in preseason rundowns, Wiggin was the one man who really held Cassady in check as a runner this year. When the Indians upset Southern California later in the campaign, Trojan Coach Jess Hill commented: "No. 79 was too tough to handle."

Schnellenberger was an outstanding pass receiver and fine defender who always gave his best. He caught 20 passes for 287 yards and six touchdowns during the season.

Beagle picked up where he had left off a year ago but turned in his job this time when a hand injury which kept him taped throughout the season. An exceptional blocker and crashing defender, Beagle grabbed 30 passes for an academy mark to account for 451 yards and 4 touchdowns.

Army's Ralph Chesnauskas, All-America a year ago as a guard, placed his team above personal achievement as he filled in at both tackle and end for the Cadets this season. In so doing, he lost his chance to repeat.

ALL-AMERICA — The 1955 Associated Press All-America football team, selected on the basis of recommendations from the AP regional All-America boards and from member newspapers and radio stations, brings together in the backfield Earl Morrall of Michigan State, Howard Cassady of Ohio State, Tommy McDonald of Oklahoma, and James Swink of Texas Christian. The line is composed of ends — Howard Schnellenberger of Kentucky, and Ron Beagle of Navy; tackles — Paul Wiggin of Stanford, and Frank D'Agostin of Auburn; guards — Pasquale Bisceglia of Notre Dame, and James Brown of UCLA; and center — Robert Pellegrini of Maryland.

Cagers in 1st Friday Action

Friday night means basketball on the prep calender, and tonight is the start of another campaign.

Fifteen games in the area with several top flight inter-league skirmishes highlight the openers.

On the Waterford court, the Skippers of coach Don Beedle play host to Milford, defending champions of the Wayne-Oakland league.

Last year the two teams split the two games series with Milford winning 78-50 on the Skipper court and Waterford upsetting the Redskins in the rematch.

An all-senior team may start for Milford headed by forwards Jim Davidson and Lee Averill, center Jim Green and guards Fred Baker and Al McFarlane.

Chuck Gillis at 6'4" and Jerry Kruskie along with five other lettermen will be waiting for the quintet of Jack Minzey.

Southfield's Inter-Lake title ambitions will get tested by Ferndale of the Eastern Michigan League on the home court.

This is the first meeting between the two schools and coach Bob Watts' rangy team will have Eric Leighton, Ray Filar and Len Lamb all 6'3" in the front line.

At Walled Lake, coach Niles Freeland's quintet will play host to Cranbrook. Top returnee among the three lettermen for the Cranes is Pete Bedford 6'3" center who will team with Chuck Grube and John Kirk at guards and Jerry Dobson and Herb Stanton at forwards.

The Vikings, who took a hairline 44-43 game in the opener last season, have five lettermen back from that team.

Rochester will find more trouble when it visits Fitzgerald tonight than it did last year in beating the Spartans 64-48. Fitzgerald has title ambitions in the Oakland "B" circuit and will be ready to prove its intentions against the non-league Falcons.

West Bloomfield will get an early test when it visits Orchard Lake St. Marys, and Clarkston gets into trouble at Orfonville for its opener.

Other games have Clawson at Romeo, Grosse Pointe University School helps cut the ribbon on Bloomfield Hills new gym, Dryden at North Branch, Capac at Almont, Pickney at Brighton, Port Huron at Flint Northern, St. Michael at Avondale and Pontiac at Detroit Catholic Central.

Steelers' Surprise Bonus Pick Solves Difficulties

A lot of people expressed astonishment when the Pittsburgh Steelers put the finger on Gary Glick as the bonus selection preceding the annual draft of college seniors by the National Football League.

"Did you ever hear of him?" they asked.

"A 'small' college quarterback captured major league headlines," it was written.

The boys were wrong on three counts.

(1) Every close follower of football, especially the professional scouts, knew all about the 25-year-six foot one inch, 195-pound Glick.

(2) Colorado A. and M. is a "major" college and so were all 10 of its opponents. Football-wise, you see, the schedule make a school "major" or "small."

(3) The versatile Glick is considerably more than a quarterback, which he will not play as a Steeler.

Walter Kiesling of the Pittsburgs club quickly gobbled up Glick because he was afraid someone else would grab him. Among other things, the young man's military service is behind him, for he spent four years in the Navy starring at the San Diego Training Station before matriculating at Fort Collins.

A collegian plucked by the pro club with the first crack doesn't necessarily have to be the finest player in the ranks, although Coach Kiesling insists that Glick meets all those requirements.

More often than not, the bonus pick is the answer to what the club requires at the moment.

Glick ends Pittsburgh problems in three or four different ways. He has the strength and stamina to stay in the thick of things. He's a fine defensive back, leading college men in pass interceptions last season. He'll play halfback, but is a skillful enough ballhandler and passer to spot the quarterback. This fall, he switched between left halfback and quarterback. The Steelers suffered for the lack of a place-kicker, have one now.

A Pontiac boy and six other Oakland County area cagers are members of Alma College's 1955-56 basketball team, coached by Gary Stauffer, ex-Central Michigan ace.

Dick Ayling of Pontiac, who starred at quarterback during the football season, is listed at guard on the Scots' roster.

Martinez Puts Foe Out Early

Welter Hope Flattens Ernie Greer in Third Round at Spokane

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) — Classy Vince Martinez, the No. 4 contender for Carmen Basilio's welterweight title, knocked out Ernie Greer of Oakland, Calif., in 2:14 of the third round last night.

Martinez, the Paterson, N. J., puncher who was fighting for the second time in eight days, weighed 149½ in scoring his 19th straight victory. Greer weighed 146.

Greer wasn't expected to provide Martinez much of a test, but he went out much faster than the estimated 3,500 fans anticipated. Martinez danced easily away from every punch except for a light right cross in the second round.

Martinez picked his spots and started Greer on the way out with a ripping left hook. He followed with a right hand and Greer went down flat on his back. Greer rolled over on his side at eight, but couldn't make it and they worked on him for several minutes to bring him around.

Martinez was shown an Associated Press story before the fight which quoted Basilio as saying "Martinez talks too much, let him fight someone good and prove himself. He's been fighting stiffs. I can't stand him the way he talks."

Martinez grinned at the comment and said he expects to be fighting Basilio soon.

The Bears' George Blanda starred for Kentucky while he attended college.

Major Problem Faced by AAU at Convention

Armed Forces Request Rules Making Boxing Headgears Mandatory

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The question of head gear for boxers, an innocent bystander through years of amateur athletic competition, bobbed up today as a major problem of the National Amateur Athletic Union.

The armed forces, arguing that the gear saves permanent injuries and even lives, went before the 68th annual convention of the AAU to suggest mandatory regulations requiring such protection.

Other interests insisted that head gear added to the dangers of boxing.

Major A. W. Latta, head of the athletic section of the Marine Corps in Washington and a member of the AAU boxing committee, was prepared to relate experiences of the unified armed forces since they adopted mandatory head gear.

The services favor gear, he said, because, first of all, it protects the boxer who is hit a knockout blow. When the KO'd boxer falls backward, he said, his head hits the canvas. If he hits an unpadded spot, the consequences might be death or an incurable injury.

Doleful Dudey Gives Reason for Optimism

PITTSBURGH (INS) — Coach Dudey Moore had some good news for the supporters of Duquesne's basketball team — the defending champs of the holiday and national invitation tournaments.

The perennially doleful Dudey predicted that the Dukes will win "maybe" five games this season. But he told Pittsburgh sportswriters that this "sweep" depends upon everything falling Duquesne's way.

"If we avoid injuries and don't lose too many players on personals," he said with his usual poker face, "I feel hopeful that we can do it."

His supporters were encouraged because Moore, who is one of the nation's most successful coaches, has an appallingly inaccurate record in predicting how his club will fare.

Ferris Fields Young Team

Ferris Institute will field a basketball team comprised of two sophomores and three freshmen this season and will average 6-1 in height. Ferris' top scorer from last year, Roger Vanderlaan, will start at center for the Bulldogs this year. His scoring record for last year was 281 points for 18 games.

Bielat's Arm Deadly

Alpena Back State's Top Prep Scorer; Center Line Had Best One-Two Punch

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Dick Hamilton of Alpena Catholic Central was Michigan's No. 1 high school football scorer in 1955, piling up 159 points on 22 touchdowns and 27 extra points.

Hamilton finished 15 points ahead of Jerry Mauren of Wyandotte St. Patrick, who tallied 144 points on 24 touchdowns.

Next came Jim Post of Coldwater St. Charles, Playing only a six-game schedule, he scored 138 points on 22 touchdowns and six extra points.

John Skirchak of Center Line was 4th with 128 points. He tallied 20 touchdowns and eight extra points.

While Hamilton's 159 points were highly impressive, they fell far short of the modern Michigan record of 183 points, made by Bob Packard of Morenci in 1949.

These exclusive figures were compiled for the Associated Press by Dick Kishpaugh, veteran statistician from Kalamazoo.

Kishpaugh reported Center Line had the greatest one-two scoring punch in many seasons in Skirchak and Gary Vettraino Combined they tallied 236 points, with Vettraino getting 108.

Corunna, which owns the state's longest winning streak — 23 straight — captured team scoring honors. Corunna averaged just over 40 points per game its 362-point total in a nine-game schedule.

Modern state record is 514, by Morenci, in 1949.

Only two other teams went over the 300-point mark — Wyandotte St. Patrick (311) and Center Line (303).

Much of Center Line's scoring came from the passing arm of all-stater Larry Bielat, who completed 21 touchdown tosses.

Of teams playing a full schedule, Berkely scored the fewest points — six — while Fennville scored just seven.

The highest single-game score was 72-0, compiled by Battle Creek in its victory over Roseville and matched by Flint Dye against Goodrich.

Home Park in 1958?

Dodgers Lean Toward Jersey City's Stadium

JERSEY CITY, N. J. (AP)—Is it Joisy City fer dem Bums in 1958?

That's the way it looks now that the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers officially have arranged to play seven games in Jersey City's Roosevelt Stadium next season.

The club signed a three-year contract for the arena with city officials yesterday, indicating the Dodgers will play some "at home" games in Jersey City in '57 too and may well end up "rooming out" in Roosevelt Stadium in '58 until their own new stadium is constructed.

Club President Walter O'Malley put it this way after the contract signing yesterday:

"I have previously stated it is our intention to occupy Ebbets Field only two more years, that is, 1956 and 1957. It is unlikely that the progress of constructing a new stadium would be sufficiently rapid for it to be available in 1958, in which event our arrangement with Jersey City would guarantee the continuance of the franchise at the nearest available point to Brooklyn."

The Dodgers will pay Jersey City an annual rental of $10,000 for Roosevelt Stadium and have an option of a three-year extension on the contract. The Brooks will put the playing field in condition after the city tears up an auto racing track around the field.

Titans Beat Irish, 77 - 71

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The University of Detroit had something today it had been looking for since 1911 — a basketball victory over Notre Dame.

With forward Bill Ebben pouring in 32 points, the Titans whipped the Irish, 77-71, last night as 7,850 partisan howled them on.

"We're certainly not a great team, but this was one of our greatest victories," U. of D. coach Bob Calihan said of his until now lightly regarded Titans, picked to finish last in the Missouri Valley Conference this season.

"I didn't have to get my boys up for this game," Calihan added. "They pointed for Notre Dame from the very first day of practice."

Detroit hit on 56 per cent of its shots in the first half and led 48-33 at intermission.

It was one of the season's first upsets and was Detroit's first triumph in a 25-game string stretching back 44 years. The game was the first of the season for both teams.

Ebben, a 6-foot-4 junior from Chicago, rolled in 22 points in the first 20 minutes and racked up his 32 for the night on 13 field goals and 6 free throws.

Calvin opened its MIAA competition with a 70-53 league victory over Albion at Albion, although John Hannett of the Britons took scoring honors with 24 points. Don Vroom and Paul Newhof got 17 apiece for Calvin.

Lawrence Tech of Detroit, a onetime midwestern basketball power, got its 1955 season off on a winning note. The Blue Devils took Hanover College of Indiana, 69-61, on the latter's home court. Forward John Basilico got 19 points for Lawrence.

Central Michigan swamped Alma, 102-83, in its opener at Mt. Pleasant, with guard Stan Gooch caging 21 Central points, 15 of them on 17 tries from the free throw line. Bud Miller of Alma got 20.

Western Michigan overcame a quick 6-point lead run up by Detroit Tech and wound up with an 87-62 victory at Kalamazoo in its season-opener. Jerry Mitchell, a Western junior from three rivers, got 21 points, while his teammate, Bob Diment, a Saginaw junior, was running up 18.

Ferris Institute made its new coach's debut a winning one, presenting Charles (Chuck) Smith a 79-73, come-from-behind triumph over Aquinas of Grand Rapids.

Wildcats Scan Familiar Names

Lonborg, Waldorf Get Consideration for New Post at Northwestern

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Familiar names in past Northwestern athletics have popped up in rumors of candidates for the university's new athletic director.

Among them are Arthur C. "Dutch" Lonborg, former Northwestern basketball coach and now athletic director at the University of Kansas, and Lynn O. (Pappy) Waldorf. Waldorf was the Wildcats football coach from 1935 through 1946 when he quit to go to the University of California.

Indicated as the No. 1 candidate is Waldo Fisher, current Northwestern cage coach.

Ferris Back 16th in NAIA Rushing

BIG RAPIDS — Statistics released by the national office of the National Athletic Intercollegiate Association, reveal that Russell McLean, stellar freshman halfback at Ferris Institute, was 16th in the nation for small colleges for individual rushing. He had 688 yards gained in 64 times carrying the ball for a game average of 98.2 and also was 11th in scoring with a total of 11 touchdowns for 66 points. The National Intercollegiate Athletic Association is comprised of all the small colleges in the nation.

Wayne's Leading Rusher

Halfback Jack Goggins of Flint ended the season as Wayne University's leading ground gainer. The 175 pound junior picked up 223 yards in 63 carries for an average gain of 3.4 yards per try.

Pitt Named for Lambert Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Pittsburgh, headed for the Sugar Bowl on Jan. 2, was chosen yesterday as the 1955 Lambert Trophy winner. The award annually is given to the college football team designated as the Eastern champion.

The Panthers, who compiled a 7-3 record under Coach Johnny Michelosen, received 11 first-place votes from a 24-man selection panel. Navy, which led all season until losing to Army in its finale, was runner-up with 8 first-place votes.

4 reasons for Four Roses

(Because you want whiskey facts, not whiskey claims, we offer four sound and solid reasons for making your next drink "Four Roses.")

2 You can depend on FOUR ROSES' distinctive flavor and unvarying quality—bottle after bottle. Every drop has the same mellow perfection.

3 FOUR ROSES is America's favorite gift whiskey. Proudly given, warmly received. Why not treat yourself to the finest every time.

4 Many are surprised to discover it costs only pennies more to enjoy the best. So make it Four Roses tonight—at home or at your favorite bar.

IN THE HIP POCKET—The late Charley Daw, former match champion, a fine instructor, used to tell pupils to "stick the ball into the right hip pocket at the end of the backswing." That was his descriptive and effective way of getting beginners to swing the ball back close to the body. He called it "swinging inside the arc," which is akin to swinging a golf club. The sketch shows the action.

You swing inside the arc naturally and smoothly if you make certain to step slightly inward—to the left—with your first step in 4-step footwork. Try it. The right side then clears out of the way to let the swinging ball pass "inside," or at least on a straight swinging line, rather than away from the body. From the inside you'll swing your arm straight out to hit the spot or line-board target.

If your ball is driving high on the head pin, check your swing. Sure as shootin' it's on the wrong plane—out of the groove. Use the Daw method and I'm sure you'll improve a lot

LA Rams Could Clinch Crown

Victory Over Colts; Bear Loss Needed

Injuries Plague Two of Rams' Leading Pass Receivers

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Rams, a team few out here expected to make much of a showing in the professional football wars this year, are mentally, if not physically, ready for a most important game here Sunday with the challenging Baltimore Colts.

Such was the view today of Coach Sid Gillman, who in his first year out of college football has taken a squad of somewhat aging stars and untested rookies and guided it into the current Western Conference lead in the National Football League.

The Rams, with a 6-3-1 record for the regular season, could take the division title this week if they defeat the Colts and if the Chicago Bears (6-4-0) lose to the Detroit Lions.

Los Angeles hasn't won from the Colts since the opening game of the 1954 season. Baltimore won later in the '54 season and two Sundays ago the best the Rams could get was a 17-17 tie.

A pair of rookies, quarterback George Shaw and fullback Alan Ameche, and the other Colts had that one won until late in the final quarter.

Hurt badly all season with a succession of injuries—no less than seven regulars have missed at least four games—Los Angeles is still hampered by banged-up personnel.

Two of their finest pass receivers, Elroy (Crazylegs) Hirsch and "Seabiscuit" Bob Boyd, are question marks.

Sugar Ray Begins Training for Olson

CHICAGO (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson arrives today from Greenwood Lake, N.Y., to open the Chicago phase of his training for the 15-round middleweight title fight with champion Bobo Olson in Chicago Stadium, Dec. 9.

Kentucky Again Selected as Conference Favorite

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The Dixie basketball forecasters, who customarily pick Kentucky to finish at the top of the Southeastern Conference, have done it again.

It appears these seers weighed the evidence carefully.

Kentucky's 14-member varsity may be as strong as any in the country but Coach Adolph Rupp asserted today his immediate concern is whether the first seven or eight performers can outdo the opposition.

Starting his 26th season at Kentucky, the country's winningest basketball coach appraises his club as perhaps better than the 1954-55 combine that captured 23 and lost only 3 in a rebuilding season.

The record may not be better, he added, because the opposition is stronger.

Kentucky opens its season Saturday night at Louisiana State, a game which won't count in the Southeastern Conference standings.

Winter Games Official Entry List Hits 35

CORTINA D'AMEPZZO, Italy (INS) — Thirty-two nations were officially entered in the 1956 winter Olympics last night as the deadline for applications expired.

Portugal, Luxembourg and Monaco filed last minute applications to bring the official total to 35.

Norway is the only country with representatives in all events although Italy has the biggest team. Argentina, Communist China, Israel, the Saar and Denmark were among the nations not sending teams.

Snow fell for the 1st time this winter on the Italian site of the winter games, scheduled for Jan. 26 to Feb. 5.

Indians Set Date for Spring Drills

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians will hold their first spring practice session Feb. 27 at their Tucson, Ariz., training camp, club officials announced yesterday.

Players will be "invited" to report to camp Feb. 26. Baseball law prohibits a club from ordering a player to attend a practice session before March 1, but he may be invited to do so.

Saxton-Basilio Match Is Urged

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A welterweight title match between champion Carmen Basilio and former ruler Johnny Saxton is urged by Los Angeles Olympic Matchmaker Babe McCoy.

Saxton's handlers are in favor of such a meeting, McCoy said yesterday, but he indicated Basilio's okay might be harder to get.

McCoy said he would like to put the bout on either indoors this winter or outdoors, perhaps at Wrigley Field, next spring. It depends on what TV arrangements can be made, he added.

Wallace Denies Alleged Doping

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — All three principals, including Coley Wallace New York heavyweight, have denied before the Pennsylvania Athletic Commission that they were involved in an alleged fight doping incident.

The three—Wallace, his manager, Frank (Blinky) Palermo, and Jimmy Wilson, the fighter's trainer — appeared yesterday before what the commission termed "an investigatory hearing" into Wallace's fight Oct. 1, 1954, with Bob Baker, Pittsburgh heavyweight, in Cleveland.

Wallace told the commissioners that he never said he was doped by a pill that dulled his reflexes during the Baker bout, which he lost.

Souchak Shoots 7-Under in Havana Invitational

HAVANA (AP)—Sharp-shooting Mike Souchak of Grossinger, N.Y. led the way into the second round of the $15,000 Havana Invitational pro-amateur golf tournament today.

The former Duke University football player posted a 7-under-par 65 yesterday to take a three-stroke lead after the first round.

Despite a gusty wind, Souchak carded an eagle and six birdies as he completed the opening 18 holes in 34-31 over the 6,352-yard narrow palm tree lined course.

Two other pros, Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga and Billy Maxwell of Odessa, Tex., were tied for second with 68s. Eight others bettered par with Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City and Art Wall of Pocono Manor, Pa., tied for fourth at 69.

Shelley Mayfield, Westbury, N.Y. ranked sixth with a 70, followed by Doug Ford, Kiamesha Lake, N.Y.; Dutch Harrison, St. Louis; George Bayer, Cincinnati; Wally Ulrich, Rochester, Minn., and Al Besselink, Grossinger, all with 71s.

Defending champion Ed Furgol of St. Louis had a 73, one stroke behind Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., who teamed with Johnny Arellano of Havana for the low-pro amateur net score with 60.

The pros compete in a full 72-hole tourney with the winner getting $2,000 first-place money. They're paired with amateurs for a chance at a $1,500 prize on a net score basis over 54 holes.

Fifty-six birddogs are entered in the three-day event, sponsored by the Chattanooga Field Trials Assn.

Phillies Purchase Sacramento Hurler

The Phillies announced the purchase yesterday. Pieretti won 19 and lost 15 for Sacramento last year. He allowed 293 hits, 110 runs, walked 73 and struck out 110. He's been up in the major league's before, with the Chicago White Sox and the Washington Senators.

In the hustle and bustle of preparations for the opening of Pontiac High School's basketball season, tonight, there runs a note of determination.

Tone of that note is the hope and aim of the Chiefs to wipe out the sting of last year's 63-58 victory for Catholic Central, tonight's foes, on the Detroit school's own floor.

Going over the last year's game records, two stalwarts stand out above all others. Both are back this year, and provide the Pontiac club with its toughest problems.

First of the two is 6-footer Brian Hussey. Brian collected 28 points against the Chiefs, including 11 goals. Second is 6-4 Bob Skrzyski, center, who accounted for 22 points, including 12 free tosses. It was the throws from the foul line that beat the Chiefs.

Pontiac, led by the only current letterman, Rod Treasis, dunked 23 field goals to 19 for Catholic Central. But they had only 12 free throws to 25 for the Detroiters. Treais hit 8 buckets and 3 free throws for a 19 total. Dick Blacklaw (graduated) had 17 points.

Catholic Central has seven of last year's team that met PHS back, including the aces, Skrzyski and Hussey. Others returning are Andy Bonnior, Ed Sheridan, Johnny Rogers and Tony Dietz.

Dave Diehm, starting guard tonight is the only other PHS player who got in last year's game, to return. He was not a letterman, however.

If Chiefs can stop the two aces, their chances of avenging that 63-58 loss are good.

Identical 1954-55 records go on the block. Each club won 10, lost 7.

Pontiac's mark was set with a 9-6 mark in regular season plus a win and loss in regional and quarter-final MHSAA action. The finale was a wild, overtime loss to Mt. Clemens, 60-53.

Chiefs' 2nd contest lifts the lid off the Saginaw Valley Conference season, Dec. 9, against a reputedly good Arthur Hill team, on the West Huron street floor.

Hillites will be in action tonight against Ann Arbor, hopiig to avenge last year's 57-40 defeat. Lumberjacks are the Valley's defending champions.

On another Valley game, tonight, Flint Northern, tabbed by many SVC observers as the club to watch this winter, meets Port Huron at Flint.

Holman Finds Diversity if Nothing Else

NEW YORK—Nat Holman starts his 35th year as City College of New York basketball coach with an "extremely" interesting squad.

Holman, whose teams once were a national power, has the tallest centers he's ever had in Sid Levy and Pete Marsh, 6-8. He has the smallest backcourt men ever to wear the Lavender and Black. Lou Berson is 5-8 and four others range from 5-6 to 5-10.

He also has the least experienced squad in CCNY annals.

Ketchman Boasts Much Experience

Coach Sam Ketchman, who has finished his 18th year of coaching, has all kinds of experience to his credit in the coaching profession. Since his graduation from MSU in 1937, he has coached in a Class C school for four years (Sparta, Mich.), Class B school for three years (East Lansing, Mich.), large college level (Wayne University) for two years, service football for two years (Bolling Air Force Base), and presently the small college level. Ketchman's coaching record to date is 59 wins, 15 losses, and 4 ties.

Overlook TCU Quarterback

Mississippi Thinking of Ways to Stop Swink for Cotton Bowl Game

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Mississippi is already thinking up ways of stopping Jim Swink when the Rebels meet Texas Christian in the Cotton Bowl Jan. 2. But here's a warning: There's no use going after Swink until you first know he has the ball.

That's where Charles (Chuck) Curtis comes in. He can hide the pigskin and fake so well the Rebels may start looking under the bench for it. There's a play in which Curtis fakes to the fullback and gives to Swink that's so slick that frequently officials, TV cameras and fans are sure the play is over until Swink pops into the clear going away.

* * *

Curtis, who quarterbacks the Horned Frogs, can do other devastating things with the ball. The young man from Gainesville, Tex., broke up at least three games by throwing. The latest was Saturday when his rifle shots were almost as important in the two great touchdown drives TCU made in the last 4 minutes to beat Southern Methodist and win the Southwest Conference championship as Swink's mighty running.

* * *

They say at TCU that Chuck rediscovered the forward pass on an October evening in the depths of the Orange Bowl at Miami, Fla. Curtis was a great high school passer but he was far from the sensational as a freshman and sophomore at TCU. In 1954 he had six passes intercepted and it dimmed his faith in the overhead game.

Always a fine ball-handler and play selector, he started 1955 as the Frogs' top quarterback. But with the ground attack, led by the great Swink, eating up huge yardage each game, he rarely elected to throw. He tried only 33 passes in the first 5 games and had 3 intercepted while hitting on only 15.

* * *

But that night in Miami changed things. TCU was trailing tough Miami 0-6 early when Chuck shot a bullet to Swink on the goal line to put the Frogs ahead 7-6. Soon after, behind 7-12, Chuck fired again and this put the Frogs ahead to stay. They won 21-19.

County Hunters Try Their Luck in Deer 'Derby'

Another pair of hopeful Oakland County hunters decided to try their hand in The Pontiac Press' annual deer competition Thursday afternoon. The two "rack" entries raised the contest total to 26.

Leo Boncher, 7735 Fish Lake Road, Holly, entered a 148-point buck which he bagged near Fibre in the Upper Peninsula's Chippewa County. Boncher nailed the deer with one shot from a .300 Savage. He was hunting with Fay Thomas of Rudyard, a high school friend of Boncher's when he lived in the UP.

Yesterday's 2nd buck was entered by Floyd Blanzy of 4024 Ledgestone in Waterford. Blanzy's deer, a 10-pointer, scaled 180 pounds. The Waterford nimrod shot the animal near Wildwood Lake in Oakland County, the 4th buck he has bagged in home surroundings. Hunting alone, Blanzy needed only one shot from a 12-gauge shotgun.

Deadline for entries in the 1955 contest is Saturday at 12 noon.

Faurot Wants Full Details

Missouri Mentor Says NCAA Should List All Reasons for Probation

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Don Faurot, veteran University of Missouri football coach, wants the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. to announce full reasons when placing member schools on probation.

He told Kiwanis Club members at a luncheon yesterday that the NCAA functions generally were excellent, but added the colleges' self-governing body should make public the reasons for probationary action.

"The NCAA lets the school affected disclose any or all of the reasons for the action and anybody can make their own school look pretty good that way," Faurot said.

CHICAGO (AP)—Loyola University's basketball captain, Jerry Lyne, is lost to the team for a month and possibly for the season.

The 5-10 guard who averaged 14.5 points per game last season suffered a torn cartilage in his right knee during practice.

Watson Tough on Waistline

NEW YORK—A heavy-set visitor to the New York Rangers' office met hockey Coach Phil Watson for the first time.

"I hear you're tough on players—don't let 'em drink water and things like that," the large guy said.

Watson looked up and then scowled at the visitor's waistline.

"I'd like to have you on my team," he snapped. "You and that midsection would find out how tough I am."

Hartack Needs 3

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jockey Willie Hartack needs only three more winners to reach his goal of 400 in 1955. He rode a triple at Tropical Park yesterday with Brazen Step $3.80, Marline's Boy $13.70 and Bold Man $4.20.

Lions Aiming to Knock Bears Out

CHICAGO (AP) — Coach Buddy Parker of the Detroit Lions invades Chicago Sunday with the avowed purpose of "knocking the Bears out of the race."

That doesn't especially frighten owner-coach George Halas, whose Bears won six straight in the hot western division scrap of the National Football League before being smashed 53-14 by the Chicago Cardinals last Sunday.

"Certainly, Parker would like to knock us out," said Halas. "Four years ago we beat the Lions 28-21 in an upset to knock them out of a world title playoff. They haven't had a similar chance to do the same to us until now."

The Lions, beaten at Detroit by the Bears two weeks ago, will have 33 men available at the kickoff for the first time thi sseason.

Dornie Dibble, their fine left end who has been on the injured reserve list for a month, and all other cripples have been nursed back to health.

Also, the Lions will have had 10 days to point for the game, having made thei rlast start a 24-10 triumph over Green Bay on Thanksgiving Day. They now have won three of their last four games.

The Bears look for Detroit to do a lot of passing, augmented by 255-pound Leon Hart's bull-like rushes from the fullback spot.

Hart, Doak Walker, Dibble and Dave Middleton have caught a total of 77 passes for 1,168 yards and 10 touchdowns. Another combination of Jug Girard, Lew Carpenter and Jim Doran has added another 70 passes and 911 yards and three touchdowns.

Halas doesn't plan any lineup juggling despite last Sunday's debacle.

"I can't see any sound reason for a shakeup," he says. "We were bound to have a letdown, although when it came it was a honey. But one game doesn't make a season. These things have happened before.

"I've been asked if I gave the boys a tongue-lashing after the Cards game. The answer is definitely 'no.' I figured the less said about it the better."

The Bears also are without serious injury and all hands will be ready for the Lions.

Chicago fans are going to honor Ed Sprinkle with a "day" prior to the kickoff. He has been with the club 12 seasons, the oldest Bear in length of service, and still one of the most feared defensive ends in the business.

"I still think we'll win the championship," says Sprinkle, only member of the squad who has played on a title-winning Bear team.

All-America guard Calvin Jones of Iowa started his football career in high school playing an end position.

Willie Mays hit 51 home runs for the Giants in 1955 and connected for 29 of them in games on the road.

Pacific Coast conference schools last year had a total enrollment of 78,000 to 139,000 for Big 10 schools.

Bad Weather Slows Retriever Trials

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Clearing skies promised a faster pace today in field trials to choose the national champion retriever.

Rain and morning fog slowed movement yesterday, when only two dogs were eliminated from a starting field of 36.

The test turns from pheasants to ducks today. The dogs will retrieve birds shot over water.

The meet ends Sunday.

Williams Raps at Immigration

Governor Hits Present Law for Displaying Partial Treatment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan said today the present immigration laws of the United States set up a second class citizenship.

Such a situation, Williams told a Senate immigration subcommittee, is "repugnant, in my mind, to the very essence and spirit of our national traditions and national institutions."

He also said present laws "affront many of our citizens and many foreign countries, including some of the best of our friends and allies."

This affront, he said, is created by distinguishing between immigrants by country of origin, "indicating that we are more anxious to welcome nationals from one country than another. This in effect sets second-class origins."

The immigration policy of the United States, Williams said, may well be one of the most potent elements of the nation's foreign policy.

"More good will and more ill will can be created, not only among the heads of governments, but among the ranks and file of people by the operation of our immigration laws than all the other operations of our diplomacy," he said.

Williams urged adoption of the Lehman-McNamara bill now before Congress to replace the McCarran-Walter Immigration Act. The subcommittee is considering proposed changes in the McCarran-Walter law.

The bill by Sens. Lehman (D-NY) and McNamara (D-Mich) would abolish the present controversial national origins quota used in admitting immigrants and also would raise the yearly quota by 97,000 a year.

Churches OK Budget

Cancer Treatment Shows Good Result

TORONTO (AP) — The Canadian Medical Association Journal has reported encouraging results in cobalt radiation treatment of bladder cancer at the London clinic of the Ontario Cancer Foundation.

A preliminary report in the current issue of the Journal by Dr. S. M. Busby, London, Ont., discussed 58 cases of bladder cancer treated with the cobalt 60 beam thereapy unit.

The report pointed out that the majority of patients were poor cases for radiation treatment—"or any other type of treatment for that matter"—because of the size of the tumor.

Thirty-four of the 58 patients discussed by Dr. Busby received palliative therapy to relieve symptoms. Fourteen obtained relief, seven are still alive and three are free of tumor, the report said.

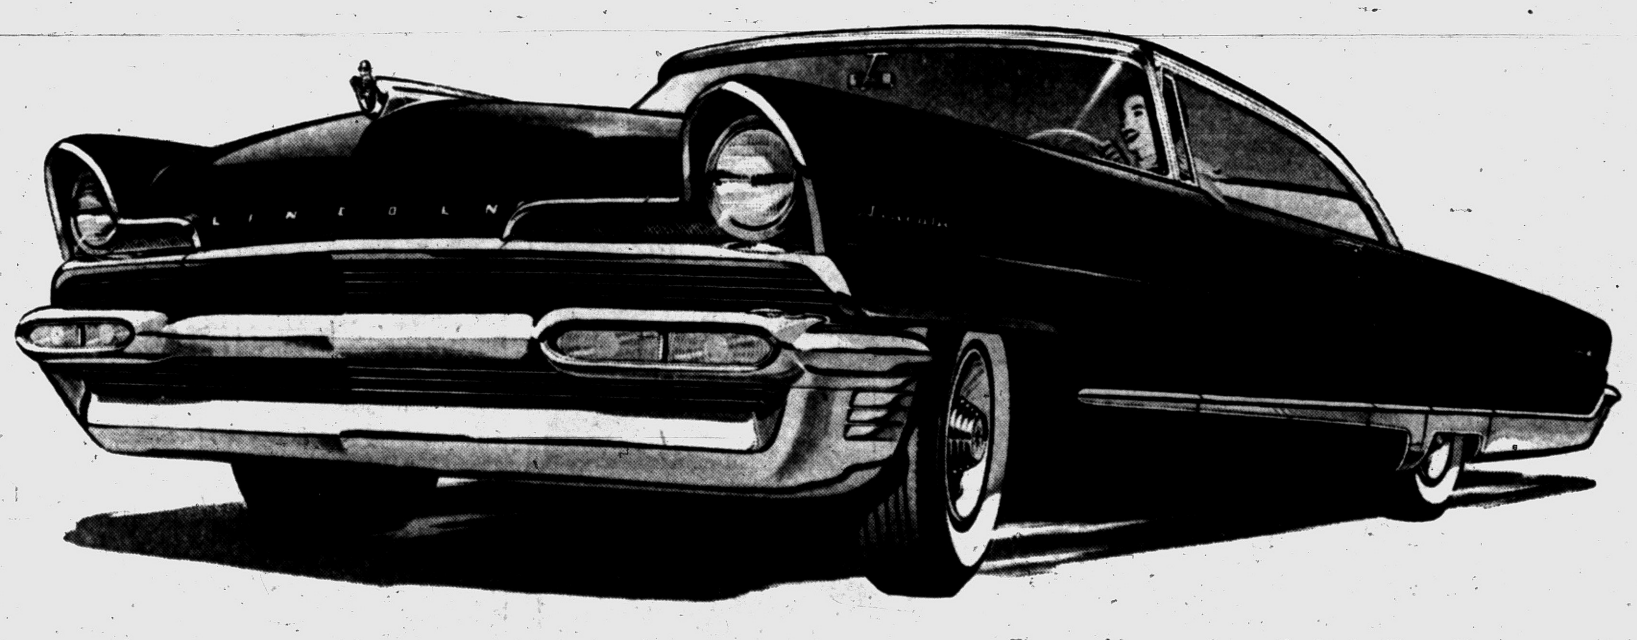
The experts acclaim LINCOLN

NEWSWEEK . . . "The 1956 Lincoln is a completely revamped car . . . longer, lower, and wider . . . with 285 horsepower and styling patterned after the experimental 'Lincoln Futura.' Biggest innovations are safety features, developed after years of crash-testing . . . a safety-flex steering wheel, spring-resistant door locks, optional safety belts."

WALL STREET JOURNAL . . . "The new 1956 Lincolns meet a smash response . . . Completely restyled, longer and more powerful . . . one of the few makes to feature a major re-do in looks for 1956. Head lamps are hooded. Larger taillights slash forward . . . 'Jet-pod' bumper guards house oval-shaped exhausts on both sides."

COLLIER'S . . . "Lincoln's attempt to penetrate the big-car market more deeply is based on more than prestige. Lincoln is a big car, yet . . . it conveys an impression of small-car maneuverability . . . barely five feet high, it has a ground-hugging appearance. Horsepower boosted to 285, and there are new safety devices."

VOGUE . . . "Fashion news arriving by car: the Lincoln's body is new, its engine is new, its safety wheel is new, and so are the airplane-type toggle switches. With the exception of airport limousines and the like, this is one of the longest cars in America. Handsome accessory to fashion, too, as it happens."



. . . and the public agrees!

LINCOLN FOR 1956

Search for Fish Nets in Icy Saginaw Bay

BAD AXE (AP) — Representatives of three commercial fishing companies set out Thursday in 16-foot boats in an attempt to retrieve some of the $32,000 worth of fishing nets caught in the ice of Saginaw Bay.

The boats were sent out by Herman Brothers, Gillingham Fish Co., and the Saginaw Bay Fish Co.

Fishermen reported the wind had shifted and the ice had started to move.

The nets were caught in a sudden freezeup in the Bay Sunday night.

Grains Steady in Routine Deals

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains held steady in routine dealings on the Board of Trade today. Most contracts eased a little early but the losses were recovered.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/8 lower to 3/4 higher, December $2.04; corn unchanged to 3/8 higher, December $1.24⅜; oats 1/4 to 3/8 lower, December 62¼; rye 1/4 to 3/4 higher, December 1.10¼; soybeans ½ to 1¼ higher, January $2.36¼, and lard 2 cents lower to 8 cents a hundred pounds higher, December $10.55.

Old crop wheat futures had the firmest tone. They attracted demand in view of firming prices for cash wheat, plus the expectation of quite sizable exports within the near future.

Year's Auto Output May Miss Target

The auto industry's goal of 8,000,000 units in 1955 may not be reached until the first work day following Jan. 1, 1956, Ward's Automotive Reports speculated this week.

Predicting that "any minor setback could cause the industry to fall short of its mark," Ward's pointed out that the 751,300-unit goal set at the beginning of November will be missed by a slight margin, although some producers are expected to raise December planning to make up the deficit.

Carmakers are programing some 739,700 units for December, just 1.2 per cent below November's estimated turnout. The final car in 1955, the publication said, will be the 8 millionth—no more, no less.

Pledges Support of Hospital Bill

Senator Says First Goal Will Be Care for Retarded

"My prime objective during the regular legislative session beginning in January will be getting a bill through calling for construction of a 2,500-bed hospital for mentally-retarded children in Oakland County."

This statement was made yesterday by State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak).

"I fervently hope a program providing emergency beds will be passed immediately, but a permanent program is also needed and a part of it should be construction of a large hospital in our country."

The lawmaker said he plans to introduce legislation again which would authorize the State Water Resources Commission to study the water problem in Southeastern Michigan and assist local communities in providing a long-range supply.

Broomfield also stated he will sponsor a bill to have the jurisdiction of municipal courts raised in civil cases.

Cases involving more than $500 now must be filed in circuit courts. Broomfield said he hopes to have the limit hiked to $1,000 or $1,500.

"This would take a large amount of work away from our seriously overloaded circuit courts," he explained.

Ground Broken for Construction of Lincoln Plant

Construction of the Lincoln Division's future national headquarters near Novi was formally launched this morning when Ford Motor Company and local government officials gathered at ground-breaking ceremonies at the 325-acre Wixom Rd. site.

Located a half-mile north of Grand River Ave., the installation will have a production capacity of 90,000 cars a year when completed, and will employ 5,000 workers. Actual construction is expected to start Jan. 1.

The first spadeful of earth was turned by Ben D. Mills, general manager and Ford vice president. A witnessing delegation of Novi Township officials was headed by Supervisor Frazer Stamen.

Mills told the ceremony guests that the installation will be completed within 18 months after start of construction.

Urge Formation of Plan Group

Committee Asks Study of Regional Highway System Program

The Roads Committee of the Supervisors Inter-County Committee yesterday voted to recommend to its parent body the formation of a six-county highway authority to plan a regional system of expressways and superhighways.

Success Fails to Spoil Como

Favorite TV Vocalist Still Pays His Dues in Barbers' Union

By DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK (NEA) — "Perry Como," said Rosemary Clooney firmly, "is an angel."

"Perry," said producer Lee Cooley, "is the easiest guy in the world to work with."

The hardest thing to find around Broadway is anyone who'll say anything bad about Perry Como. This is one star everyone seems to like.

There's nothing stand-offish about him. Get introduced and the first thing he's put his hand on your shoulder, casually, like he's one of your oldest pals. He'll talk simply, seriously, as long as he can.

He's one of the few stars who likes to go home. He's never been inside most of the famous New York night-spots. He high-tails it for his comfortable home in suburban Sands Point whenever he has a chance.

And he's honest about himself, his past, his talent. He admits his age (41) and doesn't attempt to hide the gray threads that more and more are creeping into his hair.

He's proud that he started out as a barber. He's acknowledged publicly that he learned to sing by copying Bing Crosby's records.

WHAT YOU EXPECT

This may be unusual for most stars but it's what you expect once you get to know Como.

Cannonsburg, Pa., where he started at 11 buliding the fire and sweeping floors in a barbershop is understandably proud of him. They've renamed Franklin avenue, the street where he was born and grew up, "Perry Como avenue."

At 14, he had his own barbershop with two helpers and worked after school until midnight. More or less on a dare, Pierino Como the barber auditioned for a band and became Perry Como the singer.

The hallmark of Como is his casual air but Perry admits:

"Sure, the butterflies are there. I just have ways of not noticing them. My formula is simple—I know what I'm doing. I know the songs I'm supposed to sing. I know the chalk marks I'm supposed to go to. I know my lines. That way, I'm not nervous."

If you study the Como Show on NBC-TV, you'll notice tricks he uses to avoid nervousness.

He seldom sings duets. This season, in fact, is the first time he's ever done it.

SOMETHING SOLID

He won't sing a solo just standing in front of a curtain. He says he feels the need of something to hold on to—a bench, for example, or a table—or for something to be going on in the background. If he is out by himself, he'll invariably put his hands in his pockets.

As this season started Como's head writer, Goodman Ace, was plotting a show with lots of comedy but not too many songs. The first few shows followed that pattern.

"Ace thinks I'm a comedian," Como says. "He thinks I'm the funniest guy in the world. But I'm not. I'm a singer. So we made some changes and now I'm back doing more songs and less comedy."

And he's insisted that the comedy be material that he feels "right" doing. He'll kid one star about records, another about children, get off a few mild gags about golf or swimming or similar subjects he knows about. Mostly these pleasant little bits of repartee seem spontaneous.

He's tailored his rehearsal schedule to fit his needs. Monday, he confers with the writers and production staff. Tuesday is his day off. Wednesday and Thursday the individual elements rehearse separately—the dancers, singers, Perry and the orchestra.

Friday everything is brought together for the first time. Saturday all day they work with cameras.

THE FAMILY DAY

And Sundays? Well, Sunday is Como family day. It starts with church—Perry, Roselle, the three kids and the maid all go together. He's a very religious person; he wears a religious medal on a chain around his neck and every meal in the Como house is preceded by grace.

Meals on Sunday in nice weather are outdoor affairs with Perry presiding at the barbecue pit. There's a swimming pool which gets steady patronage. And Perry is an ardent golfer.

It's a good life and Perry is grateful. He also has one hedge against a possible change in fortunes — he's still a dues-paying member of the barbers union.

FRIENDLY COMPETITORS — Perry Como enjoys working with such popular fellow vocalists as Julius La Rosa and Rosemary Clooney.

Adlai Bolstered by First Tour

Florida Campaign Trek Sees Many Supporters; He May Return Again

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Adlai Stevenson wound up his first tour of the 1956 presidential campaign today with an aching right hand but with hopes buoyed by a reception his supporters said far exceeded expectations.

His handshaking campaign swing down the Florida peninsula gave him a jump on the field in a bid for the state's delegation to the Democratic National Convention.

A Stevenson slate is expected to be entered in Florida's presi-29, but the former Illinois governor said he wasn't sure at this time whether he would get a chance to return to do some more active campaigning.

A complication is that the California primary comes up only a few days after the Florida primary and the long jump may present a problem.

"But there is no reason I know of at this time why I couldn't enter both primaries," Stevenson said.

The only primary Stevenson said he had made definite arrangements to enter is the Minnesota primary in early March.

Stevenson's principal competition in Florida is expected to come from Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Stevenson and his party left by plane this morning for Oklahoma City to address the National League of Young Democrats.

Concentrated food in tubes like those used for toothpaste will be supplied to members of the Trans-Arctic Expedition for which plans now are under way in Australia, New Zealand and Berlin.

Uninsured Drivers Might Be Taxed

NEW YORK (INS)—A compulsory tax on uninsured motorists was suggested as a possible means of protection for victims of irresponsible uninsured drivers.

The recommendation, by Leffert Holz, state superintendent of insurance, was made to a joint legislative committee on unsatisfied judgments as a substitute for compulsory automobile insurance, which was claimed to have "weaknesses."

The committee, which is meeting in New York City, was told that the assessments of such a tax would be used solely for the person injured by an uninsured or financially irresponsible motorist.

The federal district of Rio de Janeiro city contains 270 square miles of forests and 45 of farm land.

Santa Will Set Up Shop After Evicting U.S. Judge

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP)—Santa Claus has shoved a federal judge right out of his courtroom in the post office building here.

Judge Frederick V. Follmer said that when the first of December rolled around the post office asked him to vamoose to make room for the flood of Christmas mail.

The judge made it clear that he was all for the holiday spirit, and that he understood what the post office was up against, but thought it would be nice to have his courtroom all the year 'round. As it is, he must call a December recess.

Hal Boyle Says:

Ben Franklin Just Escaped Sizzling Fate

NEW YORK (AP) — If a columnist didn't read his morning mail, he might never know—

That more than 28 million Americans can play some kind of musical instrument (and most of them live in my block!)

That no responsible scientist today would fly a kite in a thunderstorm as Benjamin Franklin did in 1752 to prove the presence of electricity in clouds. Franklin was lucky to escape with his life. If a real lightning bolt had hit the kite, Ben would be remembered merely as a dead fool.

That 45 per cent of the women under 25 years of age usually eat little or no breakfast before going to work. (No wonder it costs so much to take one of them to lunch!)

That one middle-class American couple out of every seven supports, or helps support, one or more elderly relatives.

That Americans now pay about $90 million a day in taxes. This includes holidays, too.

That Teutonic knights, to prove their drinking capacity in olden times, would toss down a gallon of beer, then thread a needle while standing on one foot like a stork. (Can any effete martini quaffer today match this feat?)

LONG DRINKS

That in ancient Mesopotamia the nobles sipped their beer through gold tubes 4 feet long.

That men with asthma have a 27.4 per cent higher mortality rate than those unafflicted.

That 1 in every 16 Americans is suffering from some form of mental disorder, and there are 100 different kinds of mental ailments.

That Lou Nova, the former heavyweight boxer and yoga scholar, now gives poetry recitals.

That the potato chip industry uses 12 per cent of the nation's spud crop.

That 50 per cent of Americans like their hamburgers cooked medium, 32 per cent prefer them well done, 13 per cent want 'em rare. The remaining 5 per cent apparently are gamblers — they leave the problem up to the cook.

That economists say debt is the major cause of inflation.

That there is a drive under way to erect a cross over 50 stories tall atop Bald Knob in southern Illionois.

VALUABLE IDEA

That a fortune awaits any inventor who will develop a burglar alarm small enough to be attached to your fountain pen, thus safeguarding it from "borrowers."

That of nearly 20 million babies born in the last five years about 80 thousand will live to be 100 years old. A child born today has roughly twice the chance of reaching that age as his grandfather does.

That you'll get a cooler smoke if you keep a half inch of ash on your cigar.

That 30 million Americans now are taking courses in adult education.

That 64 per cent of all new and used automobiles are bought on the installment plan.

That, judging from the squawks sent in by readers, my campaign to name the dandelion America's national flower has flopped dismally. The rose seems to have the most friends.
