Kansas Boy Still Missing

Parents of Kidnaped Boy Wait in Vain for Contacts

The child, son of a millionaire automobile dealer, was abducted two days ago while attending classes at the French Institute of Notre Dame De Sion, a private school.

A spokesman for the family said no contact with the person or persons holding the boy had been made.

The father, Robert C. Greenlease, has said he believes professional criminals are involved, making it more likely Bobby will be released unharmed.

Police reported they had obtained no new information that would lead them to believe they are on the right trail.

Greenlease, through a banker friend, made arrangements to obtain cash at any time of the day or night should the need arise.

Robert Ledterman, a business associate and spokesman for the family, said the whereabouts of the child is a mystery.

"We have received about eight telephone calls during the day from cranks who say they have the child," Ledterman said yesterday.

"I talk to the persons making the calls and ask them questions about the appearance of the boy or what he was wearing.

"That ends the conversations because they don't know the answers. On several occasions the telephone rang and there would be nobody at the other end when we answered."

Say 5 May Be Part of Gang

Detectives Believe Men Belong to Seven-Man Burglary Crew

Oakland County sheriff's detectives said today that five men who appeared in justice court Monday belong to a seven-man Pontiac gang responsible for about 30 breakins in six counties during August and September.

Officers claim the seven have taken $4,000 in cash and merchandise in Oakland County alone in the last two months.

They believe the gang is also responsible for burglaries in Macomb, Lapeer, St. Clair, Huron and Tuscola counties.

Robert Hight, 22, of 494 Whittemore St. and Gerald L. Teachout, 23, of 261 N. Perry St. waived examination Monday when they appeared before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer C. Dieterle.

They were bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Friday. Hight was released on $2,000 bond, but Teachout was unable to post a $2,000 bond and is being held in Oakland County Jail.

The other three appeared before Orion Township Justice Helmar Stanaback, waived examination and were also set for arraignment in Oakland County

Ike Does Not Discount Manufacturer's Excise Tax, However

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said today his administration has no intention of proposing a retail sales tax. He did not rule out, however, the possibility of a manufacturers' excise tax.

In a brief news conference discussion, Eisenhower declined to predict whether it might be necessary for the administration to ask for new taxes of some kind to offset reduction of income taxes and elimination of the excess profits levy scheduled for Jan. 1.

Under present law, individual income taxes are due to come down 10 per cent with the new year. The administration has said this will go through as scheduled.

As for a retail sales tax, Eisenhower said that for many years he personally has been against one.

Now the Treasury has made a detailed study, he said, and has concluded this field of taxation belongs to state and local governments.

On other subjects, the President:

1. Said that barring unforeseen developments the administration does not expect a special session of Congress to be called for action on raising the debt limit.

2. Called Russia's hydrogen bomb progress a matter of the greatest significance calling for prayerful study by the United States, but said he is not ready to assay publicly the effect the Soviet development might have on this country's defense spending program. The President added that when he has evaluated the situation thoroughly he will go to the American people with a frank statement on what must be done.

3. Described Poland's action in relieving Steffan Cardinal Wyszynski of his churchly duties as a development very discouraging to efforts to achieve some kind of understanding with Russia and the satellite countries.

4. Said the imminence of a dock strike in the New York harbor area has been called officially to his attention and the matter has been referred to the labor department for study. This was in response to a question as to whether he would invoke the Taft-Hartley law.

5. Said he had no comment on when he will be ready to name a successor to Martin P. Durkin as Secretary of Labor, but took sharp issue with Durkin's contention

200-Pound Halibut Amazes President

WASHINGTON (AP)— President Eisenhower today received a 200-pound whale halibut and remarked: "Gee whiz, I never have seen such a big fish."

The halibut was presented to the President at the White House by Rep. Tollefson (R-Wash), who represented the National Fisheries Institute.

The President inspected the fish in the White House rose garden, where it was strung up on a block and tackle.

He asked that it be turned over to patients at a Washington hospital, but requested that a supply of halibut steak be returned to the White House for an Eisenhower family meal.

The 7-foot halibut was caught off the coast of Washington state by a crew of commercial fishermen. It has been preserved with a special coating since then.

Chief Justice

GOV. EARL WARREN

GOP Governor to Preside Over Highest Court

Californian Will Be on Bench When Tribunal Convenes Monday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today named Republican Gov. Earl Warren of California to be Chief Justice of the United States.

The President told his news conference the 62-year-old Warren will be on the bench of the high court when it opens its fall session Monday.

The recess appointment of Warren as successor to the late Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson is subject to Senate confirmation when Congress reconvenes in January. Vinson died of a heart attack Sept. 8.

Warren's appointment had been so widely predicted that the President, in announcing it, remarked that he was confirming something that was hardly news.

The President described Warren as a man with a reputation for integrity, honesty and middle-of-the-road politics.

He went on to say the new chief justice is experienced in government and in the law—that he is healthy and strong.

Eisenhower added with a laugh that Warren at 62 is relatively young—if, he said, you can call a man about Eisenhower's own age relatively young.

The self-made lawyer son of Scandinavian immigrants, Warren has combined programs of social gains and a jovial personality to win three terms as governor. He rates himself a progressive Republican.

The governor — 6 feet 1 inch, weighing 215 pounds — has never been a judge. But he made a reputation as a vigorous crime prosecutor during 14 years as district attorney of big Alameda County and four years as state attorney general.

Warren has never lost a state or local election in more than 30 years of public service. He began being talking about for the presidency in the 1940s. He refused to be considered for the vice presidential nomination in 1944, but ran for vice president on the losing ticket with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York in 1948.

At the 1952 GOP convention, Warren received 81 votes for the presidential nomination out of a total of 1,206.

Four years earlier, Truman had said the California governor was "really a Democrat and doesn't know it." Warren replied that he was pleased, but was assuming that Truman was using the word Democrat with a small "d."

Warren announced on Sept. 3 he would not seek a fourth term as governor next year.

In 1946 Warren swept both the Republican and Democratic nom-

City Approves 10 Liquor Licenses

Action Follows LCC Request for Information on Taverns

Pontiac City Commission Tuesday night gave final notice of approval to the Michigan Liquor Control Commission for reclassification of ten local tavern licenses to class C, liquor-by-the-glass licenses.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans reported to the commission that the applicants had been approved by the police, fire, health and building departments.

Those affected are ten of the 12 taverns on which the LCC held a public hearing in June due to local protests against any increase in C licenses.

The Citizens Referendum Committee presently has pending before the Michigan Supreme Court an appeal of an Oakland County Circuit Court decision which dismissed their suit claiming an increase in C licenses violated a city ordinance setting a 24 limit.

The remaining five are the El Chico Bar at 374 Franklin Rd.; I-No-U Inn at 64 E. Kennett Rd.; Barr's Bar at 334 S. East Blvd.; Baldwin Lunch at 879 Baldwin Ave.; and Greg's Restaurant at 505 E. South Blvd.

Lodge Calls It 'Maneuver'

No Korean Peace Meeting Without Neutrals, Say Reds

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Russia told the United Nations today "there was no possibility of hoping" the proposed Korean political conference will take place unless the Allies reconsider their decision banning neutrals from the parley.

Chief U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. immediately denounced the statement as a "mere maneuver" designed to force the U.N. to change its mind.

Lodge said the whole question of inviting India and other neutrals had already been debated and defeated and there was no need to take it up again now.

Lodge declared that the only threat to the conference came from chief Soviet Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky and added: "I assume the Chinese Communists are capable of speaking for themselves on this point without the good offices of the Soviet Union."

The American spokesman said the Korean question could be taken up here if "there are new developments" which he did not define.

Vishinsky heaped scorn on a proposal by Lodge that the conference could decide for itself whether to invite some neutral powers.

It would be impossible to give delegates the proper instructions to do so, he declared, and charged that the countries which opposed an invitation to India and other neutrals here would continue their opposition at the conference.

Film Star Rests From Convent

June Haver to Return to Religious Life After Health Improves

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—June Haver, the movie star who gave up $3,500 a week for life in a convent, is home today for the rest that she prays will give her health to continue her religious vocation.

The 27-year-old petite beauty, her once platinum hair now returned to its natural brownette shade, flew here last night from Kansas City on orders from her doctor and religius superiors.

Severe migraine headaches and a general rundown condition caused what June hopes will only be a temporary break in her studies to become a Roman Catholic Sister of Charity.

"I found the religious life everything I hoped it would be," she said. "I lacked only the physical strength to continue. I want to return as soon as I am able."

She arrived dressed simply but smartly in a brown tailored suit. She wore nylons and brown alligator pumps and carried an alligator handbag. Lipstick was her only makeup.

She disclosed that today was not the first time that she had appeared in street clothes since she entered the convent at Xavier, Kan., 7½ months ago. She said that, as a postulant, she had to dress in street clothes to make an unpublicized visit to a hospital three months ago.

It was then, she said, that she realized that her illness was serious enough to become a barrier toward completion of the two-year novitiate training required before she could take permanent vows. Her ailment, she disclosed, is tied up with a very low metabolism rate.

Patton's Widow Dies After Fall

Thrown From Saddle Horse During Drag Hunt on Brother's Estate

HAMILTON, Mass. (AP) — Mrs. Beatrice Ayer Patton, widow of Gen. George S. Patton, famed World War II Third Army commander, was killed today when thrown from a saddle horse.

Mrs. Patton's death was the third major tragedy in the family in recent years.

Their daughter, Beatrice, wife of Army officer John K. Waters, died about a year ago unexpectedly. Her mother at that time was at sea in the Patton yacht, "When and If," which had been so named by the General because he hoped "when and if he retired" to go on a world cruise.

Piccards Take Diving Box to Record Two-Mile Depth

ABOARD THE CORVETTE FENICE, off Ponza Island, Italy (AP) — Professor Auguste Piccard and his son Jacques rode their 52-foot diving box "Trieste" deeper into the sea today than living man ever has gone — to a depth almost two miles.

The Italian Navy said the Swiss-born scientist, conqueror of the stratosphere, and his son touched the bottom of the Tyrrhenian sea in the record plunge of 3,150 meters, or 10,334 feet.

That plunge a little more than doubled the record of 1,550 meters (5,085 feet) two French naval officers set Aug. 12 off Toulon.

The Italian Navy said the dive took two hours and 12 minutes. Two navy corvettes stood by as the Piccards dropped into the depths, culminating months of trials and frustrations in their stubby diving boat.

The attempt had been scheduled to take place yesterday but heavy seas and strong winds caused a one-day postponement.

It was the second dive made by the pair in the Tyrrhenian. Last month, the diving boat went down to a depth of 3,608 feet and then hit bottom.

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM—The city's traditional merchant-sponsored Halloween party Oct. 31 will reverse its parade route this year, and shift its focal point to the Briggs parking lot.

Chairman Roland Reese explained that the former site for the activities, Hill School, has grown too small, and is now more completely fenced in, increasing the problem of handling a large crowd.

This year the parade will proceed north on Chester street to Maple, and east on Maple to Woodward.

Food tables will be set up on Woodward between Merrill and Maple as the street is closed, and entertainment for the younger children and accompanying adults will center in the Briggs parking lot.

The same schools as last year will house activities for the older students. Plans call for clearing the closed section of Woodward as soon as possible and confining the activities to the parking lot.

"It will mean more police patrolling and effective strength than in the past years," Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley stated, "but we're willing to try it for a year."

Auto Use Tax Starts on Oct. 3

3 Per Cent Levy Must Be Paid by Purchasers of Used Cars

BIRMINGHAM — Charles Mortenson, manager of the local Secretary of State's license bureau, reminded residents today that after Oct. 2 a new law passed by the state legislature will be in effect, that of paying a three per cent use tax in buying a car from anyone who is not a licensed dealer.

The tax is figured at three per cent of the amount paid for the car. As in the past, a three per cent sales tax will be charged when a used car is purchased from a dealer.

Mortensen said both taxes are collected by him at the time transfer of title is applied for. Under the law, he said, transfer of title and license plate cannot be made until the tax is paid.

Only exemptions from the new use tax are: gifts that may be proven as bona fide; gifts to a beneficiary in the administration of an estate; on titles issued to a lineholder upon repossession of an automobile; and sales by a public official in the administration of law.

Automobiles involved in a trade when no actual money is exchanged are sales under the new law and the three per cent use tax must be paid on each car involved in a trade.

The tax in such cases is based on the fair cash value and persons acquiring an automobile in this manner who do not know the fair cash value should ask a licensed automobile dealer.

Ike Names Warren U. S. Chief Justice

inations for governor in the primaries under California's cross filing system. No other candidate for that office had ever done so.

Running for an unprecedented third term in 1950, he outpolled Democrat James Roosevelt by more than a million votes in a state where Democrats outregistered Republicans 3-2.

Some of Warren's critics have contended his policies border on socialism. Neutrals have called him a middle-of-the-roader. He terms himself a progressive Republican trying to keep up with the times. In one of his campaign speeches he said:

"I am convinced the American people are not socialists and will not tolerate socialistic government, but they are definitely committed to social progress."

He is an advocate of social security and of compulsory health insurance. He favors collective bargaining and has spoken out for labor's right to strike.

He insists on "one law for all men," backs the United Nations and world cooperation, and favors a bipartisan foreign policy and aid to "our friends in the free world."

Circuit Court Friday. None posted a $2,000 bond and they are held in Oakland County Jail.

The three are, Thomas D. Miller, 23, of 518 E. Columbia Ave., James Nickerson, 22, of 1371 N. Perry St. and Albert McConnell, 24, of 787 Stirling Ave.

Detectives said the men were implicated with Bernard P. Ladd, 21, of 101 Auburn Ave., and Donald Hester, 20, of 625 Kansas St. who are charged with taking an estimated $3,500 worth of merchandise from Furtney's drug store, 1006 Joslyn Ave., and Baldwin-Walton Cut Rate, 1456 Baldwin Ave. They were arrested Sept. 18.

Ladd and Hester waived examination this morning before Pontiac Judge Charles P. Webster and were bound to Circuit Court for arraignment Oct. 9. They were released on $1,000 bond.

Miller, McConnell and Nickerson are charged specifically with breaking into the King Brothers farm implement store at 2391 Pontiac Rd., from which detectives say they stole a safe containing $120 and valuable papers.

According to detectives, Teachout is charged with stealing money and merchandise from the Beedle drug store, 2510 Hatchery Rd. and Hight with taking cash and sporting goods from the Al Hilde sport shop at 1920 S. Telegraph Rd.

that the President broke an agreement to support proposed changes in the Taft-Hartley law.

Eisenhower said that to his knowledge he has never broken an agreement with associates. He challenged anyone with contrary knowledge to take the floor and make a speech about it. No one did.

6. Said that so far as international conferences with Russia and the other major powers are concerned, he always is willing to take any step which will relieve world tension. He added that the big thing, in considering such conferences, is whether you might do more harm than good.

7. Repeated that he has no plans to go into individual states in support of individual Republican candidates for state offices.

Eisenhower said he is trying to build a record on which people who want to support the administration will want to stand for public office.

8. Declared the U. S. agreement with Spain for American use of Spanish air and naval bases was an arrangement in which the American government obtained certain things it needed in exchange for giving Spain certain things it wanted. The President added he believes the agreement will work to the benefit of the United States.

9. Said he does not know at this time whether the postponed Bermuda Conference of the heads of state from the United States, Britain and France will be rescheduled. The conference, originally scheduled for June, was put off because of Prime Minister Winston Churchill's illness.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Edward L. Baker has been named acting postmaster for Detroit.

Baker, a Westinghouse engineer, was appointed to serve by Postmaster General Summerfield yesterday pending a permanent appointment by President Eisenhower.

Summerfield said Baker was recommended for the post by Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich). He succeeds 61-year-old Frank C. Middel who has asked to retire.

Baker was to be sworn in this morning at Ferguson's Detroit office. He will take over the office tonight.

Some 50 cadets of the Civil Air Patrol, Pontiac Group 6318, heard a talk on the handling of explosives and firearms and a traffic safety lecture at their Tuesday night meeting.

The lectures and demonstration were given by Capt. Frank A. Van Atta of the Oakland County Sheriff's Department at the group's headquarters in the Naval Training Center on East boulevard.

Mayor Quells Commission Tiff

Lawmaker and Citizen Get in Argument After Drain Tax Vote

Tuesday night's Pontiac City Commission meeting was the scene of a raucous, commissioner-citizen exchange quelled only by several hard raps from the mayor's gavel.

It followed a city attorney's report which dashed hopes for a special assessment adjustment sought by residents in a drainage area affecting Michigan, Shirley, Lois and Tasmania avenues.

They charged the city with failing to be consistent in applying the assessment formula.

Both the front-foot basis and the drainage area basis were used to levy the cost of recent drainage work, according to their claim, which sought more equal distribution of the assessment in the area.

City Attorney William A. Ewart's opinion stated no new assessment could be ordered once assessment rolls were confirmed, work completed and taxes paid.

After considerable discussion, the vote to accept the opinion was 4 to 1, with Commissioner J. H. Patrick Glynn voting against it. Glynn is commissioner in the district.

Spokesman for the group, Cornelius L. Oegema of 46 N. Anderson St., then thanked commissioners for considering and working on their claim.

He also apologized to Glynn who had earlier claimed he felt he was being "pressured" into a decision favoring his constituents by one of the group.

Oegema stated there was a "misunderstanding and there was no intent to pressure him."

As an aside, a heated argument then broke out between one of the group and Commissioner Ronald C. Hallenbeck. It was quelled by Mayor Arthur J. Law before it got beyond the verbal stage.

Plunge Diving Box to Two-Mile Depth

a "bathyscafe," this compartment is 6.4 feet in diameter. A searchlight mounted in the hull allowed them to see in the inky blackness of the sea depths.

The start of the descent was witnessed by newsmen aboard the corvette Fenice. A cold rain was falling but the sea was calm as the second corvette towed the Trieste into position, 18 miles off the island of Ponza and 50 miles west of Naples.

Originally, the 66-year-old Piccard, who first gained fame for his balloon flights into the stratosphere, had said he planned to go down only 3,000 meters — 9,842 feet.

His awkward-looking craft was lowered into the water by cable. Two steel weights, attached to the hull by magnets, helped to pull it down. To bring it back to the surface, the magnet field was cut off, dropping the weights.

After he was pulled from the water, the long legged scientist said "all went well on the descent." He added that the diving boat had gone down at the rate of about a meter (39.37 inches) a second.

Hospital Patient Blows Himself, 1 Other to Bits

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A patient in Vienna's big City Hospital exploded a home-made bomb today after a dispute about a bill. He and a hospital official were blown to bits and eight other persons injured.

The patient was Erick Stoeffler, 31. The blast rocked the main administrative building of Vienna's Allgemeine Krankenhaus, causing heavy damage.

Police said Stoeffler told hospital cashier Josef Larzar he would not pay the demanded bill for eye treatment he had received, "I have something here in this parcel which will settle the affair," Stoeffler said.

He walked from the room, and locked it behind him. In the corridor, a hospital official, Otto Schoepf, saw Stoeffler behaving mysteriously. He tried to seize him and at that moment, the bomb exploded. Both were blown to bits.

Postmen Pick Apples for Gifts

Pontiac Mail Carriers to Distribute 35 Bushels to Needy Families

Thirteen Pontiac Post Office mailmen took time off yesterday to pluck enough apples to fill 35 bushels for distribution today to mothers of dependent children in Pontiac.

Harry Randall of 64 Union St., who planned the affair, said:

"Mothers appreciate this little help and the kiddies like apples also."

The mail carriers received permission from R. K. Moore, chairman of the County Board of Auditors, to pick the apples from the former Pontiac State Orchard at Pontiac Lake Road near Telegraph Road, now maintained by the county.

Randall, who is retiring next spring, said the Pheiffer Distributing Co. furnished trucks for transportation of the apples and canvas bags were donated by the Detroit Ice and Fuel Co.

Names of 30 mothers were furnished by the Aid for Mothers of Dependent Children, said Randall.

Auto Leaves Road, 2 Teenagers Injured

Two teenagers were treated at Pontiac General Hospital yesterday for injuries received when a car they were passengers in skidded off Pontiac Lake road east of Williams Lake road, Oakland County sheriff's deputies szid today.

Crig L. Gilchrist, 15, of 7105 Howell St. and Edward C. Humphrey, 16, of 7181 Pontiac Lake Rd. were reported treated for cuts.

The injured were riding with Kenneth A. Collom, 15, of 7335 Pershing Dr. when Collom lost control of the car while rounding a curve, deputies said.

Returned Escapees Get Extra Sentences

MARQUETTE (AP) — An additional two-to-three years have been tacked onto the sentences of six inmates who took part in the May 22 break from Marquette State prison.

Lloyd Russell, a seventh escapee, is still at large. The FBI has placed him on its "ten most wanted" list.

Handed additional sentences by Circuit Judge Glenn W. Jackson of Gladstone yesterday were Charles Morrison, John L. McDowell, Joseph Saunders, Joseph McMackin, John Podolski and Lloyd Burgdurf.

Morrison argued that he had been given the "bread and water" treatment by Warden Emery E. Jacques. McDowell also claimed he had been unduly punished.

FACES IN THE GLASS — Keen-sighted worshipers at the Graz Roman Catholic Church in Vienna, Austria, noticed that the stained glass window had the likenesses of Hitler and Mussolini, center, staring down at the figure of Christ dying on the cross. Painted by a German artist in 1951, the two faces have started a huge controversy, but church authorities say they have no intention of removing them.

The Army said Sgt. Raymond L. Mendell Jr. of Baltimore and Pfc. William H. Rhodes of Cumberland will be sworn in for new six-year hitches tomorrow.

The 2053rd Reception Center here said Rhodes asked an assignment in the Far East. Mendell will be assigned to the recruiting station in Baltimore.

Williams Protests Cut in Seamen Aid

LANSING (UP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams today protested a proposal to reduce federal medical services to merchant seamen.

In letters to Joseph M. Dodge, director of the U. S. Budget Office, and members of the Michigan delegation, Williams urged action to curtail or eliminate the medical care program now provided for seamen.

Williams said reduction of funds provided by the U. S. Public Health Service threatened to impair the medical care program which has been recognized as a federal responsibility since 1789.

Check Fire Hazards During Next Week

LANSING (UP) — Michigan's health department today urged all citizens to check their homes for fire hazards sometime during National Fire Prevention Week Oct. 4-10.

The department said fires killed 231 persons in Michigan last year. Majority of the victims were under five years of age or over 65 years old.

"Fires last year cost Michigan people over $21,000,000 in loss of buildings and furnishings, in addition to costs of hospitalization, loss of time from work," the department said.

"Majority of fires are preventably. Careless deeds and negligence in eliminating known hazards cause most of them. You can prevent fires by learning to recognize the hazards, by checking your premises periodically, eliminating potential danger spots and being careful at all times."

Dad's Loyalty to Be Checked

Character Witnesses to Appear for Father of Imperiled AF Officer

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Character witnesses for Lt. Milo J. [illegible] to the stand Friday when the "security risk" hearing for the Air Force reserve officer is resumed.

It was the activities of the lieutenant's father and a sister that prompted the Air Force to question the advisability of keeping Radulovich in the service. His own personal loyalty was not questioned.

Just what went on at the first day's five-hour hearing yesterday was a well-kept military secret. The session was closed to press and public.

All that was known was that Radulovich and his pretty wife, Nancy, were the only ones to testify.

The hearing then was adjourned until 9 a.m. Friday to permit defense attorneys to call additional witnesses.

These lawyers were certain they could prove that Radulovich's father, a Detroit auto worker, was a loyal American.

The Air Force had said that the father had been seen reading a "radical" Serbian language newspaper. The sister was accused of taking part in Communist-sponsored picket lines.

Radulovich, a 26-year-old meteorological student at the University of Michigan, faces expulsion from the Air Force reserves if found to be a security risk.

The lieutenant told reporters at the Selfridge Air Force Base hearing yesterday that "nine years of training in meteorology will be wasted" if he is forced out.

He said virtually all meteorological work comes within government jurisdiction and involves somesort of security. Therefore, he said, "if I'm discharged under a stigma, this field will be closed to me."

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 30, 1953

Nebraska's Big Question

Nebraska's Republicans and Democrats have united in a campaign aimed at abandonment of the Nation's only nonpartisan one house legislature.

To that end they are circulating petitions calling for a vote in 1954 on their proposal to return to the two house system used until 1934.

Members of both parties have criticized the unicameral system for the length of its legislative sessions and its limited membership. Some of its 43 members represent as many as six counties and only 22 votes are needed to decide issues.

Understandably the politicos argue that the nonpartisan feature weakens party responsibility. Another criticism is that the single house is a paradise for lobbyists. Critics want to return to the old system with a house of 80 to 100 members and a senate of 30 to 40.

They argue that as in Congress and other legislatures, the one chamber would operate as a check on the other.

Dr. James K. Pollock, head of the political science department at the University of Michigan, thinks Nebraska should keep its one house legislature but abandon the nonpartisan system. He discounts the claim that the two house system provides any better curb on lobbyists.

"A legislature fixes a state's policies," he said. "Matters of policy are politics and must be decided on a political basis . . . Legislators should be elected as Republicans or Democrats committed to the program of their party."

The current campaign suggests that the one house system hasn't accomplished all that its advocates had hoped. It will be interesting to watch how the voters of the state react to this attack on this unique experiment in state government.

No Cause For Pessimism

In a recent Detroit address Benjamin F. Fairless, board chairman of U. S. Steel, warned pessimists against the danger of talking the country into a depression.

Mr. Fairless was especially impatient with those business men who talk much about the virtue of free enterprise and competition but don't recognize it when they see it. What many of these people call "recession" he declares, is nothing more than "plain old-fashioned competition."

There is nothing alarming, Mr. Fairless says, in minor adjustments at a time when we have all time record high employment of 63,500,000. These workers earning the highest wages in history, make up the world's largest single free market.

Another situation that has been worrying some pessimists is the growing installment debt. In July this stood at $20.3 billion, an increase of 27 per cent over a year ago. But optimists point out that consumer income rose in the same period almost at the same rate.

It can be pointed out also that Federal income taxes are scheduled to drop 10 per cent the first of the year. This would increase take home pay by that much provided no additional taxes are levied.

In July personal income from wages, salaries and investments reached an all time high annual rate of $288 billion. Thus even if the total of consumer incomes should drop to the annual rate of 1952, $270 billion, purchasing power should be enough to keep the economy on an even keel.

As U. S. News & World Report puts it, "the accepted view is that business will not drop more than 10 per cent. That still will make 1954 the second best business year in history, better than 1951, or 1952, but not quite as good as 1953." That certainly is no cause for alarm.

Bankers Back Freer Trade

Seldom does an Administration get as complete endorsement of a single policy as that expressed in a resolution adopted by the American Bankers Association at its Washington convention.

"A nation can sell abroad only as it buys abroad," says the resolution. "We believe that the United States should live up to its international responsibilities as the world's greatest creditor and producing Nation by continuing to open its markets increasingly to foreign goods.

"Such a policy will help to create a larger volume of world trade, the eventual restoration of freely convertible currencies and stronger economies in the United States and other nations of the world.

"We endorse and approve the action of the 83rd Congress in extending the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act and enacting the Customs Simplification Act.

"We urge that all practical steps be taken to demonstrate to the world our determination to lead in the cooperative effort to expand international trade for mutual benefits in prosperity and security."

Here not only is endorsement of President Eisenhower's world trade policy, but praise for the 83rd Congress for the action it has taken so far to implement that policy.

We commend the resolution to the thoughtful consideration of those lawmakers who have fought the President on this issue.

W. A. P. John Says Vinson's Invalid Wills Show Kind of Men Truman Put in Office

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature).

It is a significant commentary on the kind of men Harry Truman picked for office when a dispatch from Washington revealed that both of the wills Chief Justice Vinson left were invalid.

That's the type of legal mind we had making decisions that affect the welfare of everyone and the future of our country.

Reader Asks Why City Assessments Differ

I think the people on Hazel Avenue have a complaint in regard to curbs and gutters which should be answered.

Why should we on this street have to pay $105 when those on Ruth Avenue only pay $75? In other words, no two streets in Pontiac are assessed the same.

As I understand, we were assessed for curbs and gutters, not for raising and lowering the sidewalks.

If Pontiac intends to repair the sidewalks on Hazel Avenue, also, we should be billed after the work is completed and not before.

Reader Says Ike Has Proved a Bigger Man

One cannot help comparing Truman and "Ike" when reading the speeches given by each while touring through the country.

Truman in his smallness of mind, criticized Ike and enlarged on what he wanted others to believe were "Ike's" failure as President of United States, closing his eyes to the awful mess in which he left the country and to the "crosses row on row" marking the graves of our boys who died because of his inadequateness as commander in chief of the army.

Had he consulted Gen. MacArthur instead of firing him, a fatal error on his part, the war would have ended months ago. As it is, peace is still a dream with prospects of a terrible war before us.

In his ignorance of the provisions of the Constitution which give us freedom of the press and of speech he tried to emulate Russia. Truman has placed himself on a pedestal with Washington and Lincoln, who are as far above him as an oak tree is above a toadstool.

"Ike," on the other hand, in his talks, has in no way made disparaging remarks about Truman. Which is the bigger man?

Experienced.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And he shall make amends for the harm that he hath done in the holy thing, and shall add the fifth part thereto, and give it unto the priest: and the priest shall make an atonement for him with the ram of the trespass offering, and it shall be forgiven him. — Leviticus 5:16.

Truman Attitude All-Embracing to Allies; Many Dems Critical of Their Greed

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Is the Democratic Party going to become known as the anti-American party — the party that puts the interests and claims of European and Asian nations above those of the United States?

Former President Truman may not have intended to convey that impression, but the speech he delivered in New York City on Monday — if it can be taken as an official expression of Democratic Party doctrine — certainly contains a good deal of criticism of his fellow Americans and not a word of criticism of the so-called Allies who have deserted the moral principles they once held and who now ask America to yield those principles.

Truman attacked what he calls "isolationists" of today and says they are no different from the "die-hard isolationists of 12 years ago."

But he hasn't a word of criticism against the various governments of the world that left the United States virtually isolated in the Korean War while they pursued their trade with the enemy in such strategic goods as rubber.

"Isolationism" has been rightly condemned again and again in America as an extreme doctrine of indifference to world cooperation, but Truman must know that no considerable group of citizens feels that way about international policies today.

The current criticism is that America isn't getting the cooperation it deserves because of the selfishness of other government.

What he doesn't realize is that there is arising in America — and also inside the Democratic Party — a sentiment that official Washington must not give away its billions in aid to Europe and at the same time find itself isolated when a war like that in Korea breaks out.

If the former President wants to know the name of some real Americans who happen to be members of the Democratic Party and have criticized our Allies severely, he might refer to some recent statements by Sen. Walter George of Georgia about foreign aid and by Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, the leader of the Democratic party in the United States Senate.

* * *

If Truman cares to look it up, he will find that Democrats almost to a man supported the resolution adopted in the last Congress warning the United Nations members that the government of Red China must not be admitted to the Security Council.

* * *

If Truman, who appears to be so bitter against what he calls the "investigating frenzy" on the part of congressional committees, wants to discover the basic cause of it all, he need only examine the record of his own administration toward Alger Hiss and other Communists who held high places inside the government of the United States.

If Truman will send for a copy of a recent report from the Senate internal security subcommittee concerning subversion inside our government, he will find that, on Nov. 28, 1945, the FBI sent a comprehensive memorandum to the White House and to top officials naming certain persons highly placed in the government as Communists and as agents of Soviet Russia.

But Truman did nothing about that FBI report until the House Committee on Un-American Activities three years later caught Alger Hiss in a lie concerning his Communist connections.

Truman will recall that he characterized the work of the House committee then as a "red herring."

Thus the Truman administration by its neglect of the issue brought a spectacular campaign to awaken the American people to the insidious operations of Communists and their henchmen in the government, the press, the clergy, the colleges, and the scientific world.

What is even worse, the failure by a so-called "liberal" administration to act caused many unthinking persons unjustly to associate sincere liberals and Socialists with Soviet conspirators.

To this day the repeated attacks by Trumanites on those who are anti-Communist is rarely accompanied by any such vehement criticism of the Communists who have been infiltrating the institutions of various countries of the world, including the United States.

Case Records of a Psychologist

You Must Save Yourself From Divorce, Insanity

This Lazarus Case Record should teach you to keep a scrapbook of these articles and to insure your marital happiness with the special bulletins offered herein. This newspaper is like the "Moses and the prophets" cited by Abraham.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case J-308: Lazarus, aged possibly 40, was a sick man who begged for a living in Biblical times.

And a certain rich man ignored him, except to let him have some of the crumbs that fell from his table.

Both men died. Then the Bible says that Lazarus was carried by the angels to Abraham's bosom.

But the rich man was in torment amid the flames of hell. So the rich man pleaded that Lazarus be sent to him with some water to cool his tongue.

Abraham replied that this was impossible.

"You have had the good things of life, while Lazarus had the evil," Abraham said. "Now things are reversed and we cannot change them."

Then the rich man begged that Lazarus be sent back to earth to warn his 5 wealthy brothers.

"Your brothers have Moses and the prophets," Abraham objected, "so let your brothers heed them."

"Nay, Father Abraham," pleaded the rich man, "but if one went unto them from the dead, then they will repent."

But Abraham vetoed such private tutoring of the 5 brothers.

"If they hear not Moses and the prophets," he added, "neither will they be persuaded though one rose from the dead."

This desire for special tutoring and personal interviews, is the reason I have cited this challenging episode from the Bible.

Every day in this psychology column I give you tested and sure-fire techniques for avoiding divorce or unhappiness, unpopularity and sexual problems.

In addition, I offer you occasional bulletins on critical problems. Many of you apparently never send for a bulletin or never make scrapbooks of these actual cases from clinical psychology.

"Oh Dr. Crane," you then plead over the long distance telephone, "I simply must see you. My case is so special and unusual that I just must see you in person."

But your case is not special or unusual. In this daily column I have covered every case you might bring to me. But some of you want the same private tutoring that the rich man craved.

This newspaper is like the biblical prophets. It offers you ample warnings. It urges you to insure your homes against unhappiness by heeding the specific examples of men and women who failed to look ahead.

For example this week, I offered teen-agers a bulletin on "Sex Problems of Young People." That bulletin is widely used in schools and churches, as well as our juvenile courts.

But how many of you took advantage of that 10c bulletin? And yesterday I stressed the "Dear Home Pals" formula for being an interesting conversationalist.

But most of you didn't take advantage of it, though it works like a charm and I have tested it repeatedly with hundreds of my college students at Northwestern University.

If you really want to avoid insanity and divorce and unpopularity, then you must do the job. No psychiatrist can solve your problems for you.

And the sooner the American public quits leaning on doctors and Uncle Sam and other symbols of a child's omnipotent "Papa," the sooner our people will become real adults who can enjoy life without sleeping pills and psychiatrists to coddle them along.

Baering Down

Membership of mysterious eastern nations in world conferences has added a polyglot dining car to the Washington-Bagdad express.

The cloakroom is loaded with unwound turbans, dignified plenipotentiaries shed their brogans at the door and delegates are knocking themselves out on reinforced prayer rugs.

Fluted cobras are spiraling out of umbrella stands and three bows to the east are a concensus of bending exercises.

Dr. Brady Says He's Narrow-Minded About Minors Being Allowed to Smoke

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

A quack who loves his pipe and loathes racial and religious discrimination as the fellow who conducts this health service does, should be tolerant himself. But I'm not.

Occasionally some well-meaning soul has presented me with a box of cigars, even good cigars, if cigars can be good.

How to dispose of them has proved a difficult problem. Indeed I could hand them to any of a dozen self-indulgent gents I know, but that would be connivance.

I could send the cigars back to the donor and ask for the value in cash or merchandise one might contribute to the S. A., but that would probably irk the donor.

It's really a problem. After all, cigar tobacco is horrible to smoke in a pipe and anyway it would be far too expensive to consume that way.

My intolerance of cigar smoking is based, I think, entirely upon the high cost of the luxury. I like the aroma of a cigar—but not the morning after.

In the medical literature there are few if any reports of ill effects of cigar smoking, none that I recall of ill effects of pipe smoking.

No good reason why a woman shouldn't smoke cigarettes, cigars or a pipe and/or chew tobacco if it is all right for a man to do so, and here I must put aside bias or prejudice and say that use of tobacco seems to be no more harmful to women than it is to men.

By men and women I mean adults.

There is no doubt in my mind that smoking is harmful to any one who has not attained full growth and development—in other words any one who is not over 21 years of age. Some persons attain full growth and development at the age of 18. Others not until they are 25.

Bear in mind, I'm narrow-minded as a hundred thousand doctors will gladly tell you, but it is my belief that for smoking or possessing the means to smoke the minor merits spanking or the equivalent.

If you are a parent and do not agree with this, I ask what was your parents' attitude about it and were they right or wrong about it?

As explained in earlier talks about smoking the recognized ill effects of smoking seem to be chiefly if not solely those of carbon monoxide anoxia and not the effects of "nicotine."

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

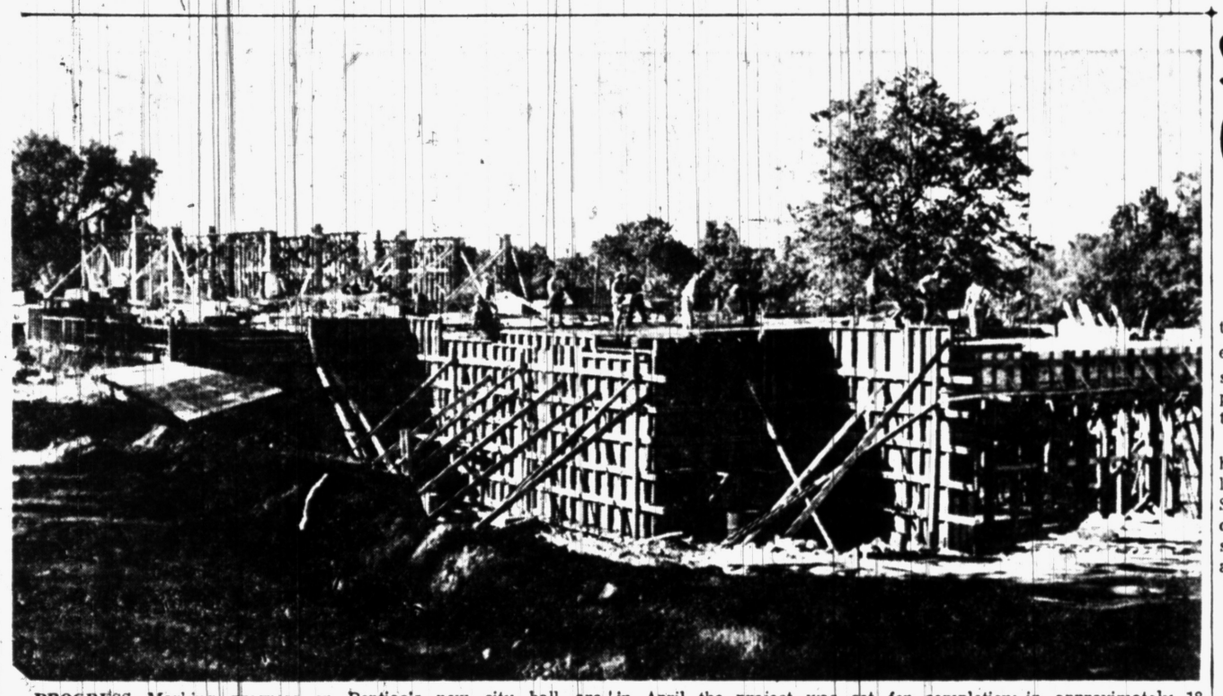
Pentagon Maps Small Military Cuts for Year 1955



PROGRESS—Marking progress the wooden pouring forms being concrete work on the first floor on Pontiac's new city hall are erected to complete the steel and of the three story building. Begun in April the project was set for completion in approximately 18 months. The million dollar building is located between Parke and Hill streets on Pike street.

$2 Billion Slash Only 5 Per Cent

C. E. Wilson Looks at Needs, 'Can't Worry' About Federal Budget

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Pentagon is expected to call for moderate cuts in next year's military spending in recommendations it plans to submit to the administration in about two weeks.

While the Joint Chiefs of Staff have not yet completed their "new look" at military needs, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson indicated Tuesday that he now envisions a fiscal 1955 price tag of about $40,000,000,000.

That would be a 5 per cent, or $2,000,000,000 cut in the fiscal 1954 spending rate — hardly enough to bring joy to the federal budget balances and too much to please those scientists who want billions spent on radical new continental air defense measures.

At a news conference at which he said Russia lags behind America in all weapons developments, Wilson said he would propose the best military budget possible and "let someone else worry" about whether it would permit a balanced national budget.

He thus appeared to some observers to be edging away from an earlier penchant for heavy spending cuts.

Associates said today that Wilson still is bent on getting "more defense for less money" but has no intention of making slashes "just for the sake of balancing some books."

Supporting that view were these news conference comments:

1. The Defense Department probably will propose new military appropriations for fiscal 1955 equal to or slightly less than those it requested for this year.

2. The Air Force now may be able to reach its "interim" goal of 120 wings by next July, 12 months ahead of earlier expectations.

If it is allowed to do so, its spending rate evidently would be stepped up. It now has about 106 wings.

3. Assistant Air Secretary Roger Lewis, sitting in with Wilson, said the Air Force still is building toward 143 wings pending the chiefs of staff studies. Wilson offered no dissent.

4. There have been reports that a balanced national budget would require defense spending to go down to about $35,000,000,000 next year. Wilson said such a figure would "make a very substantial change in our military program," which he would not recommend.

Michigan Map Now Available

1953 Copy Is Ready at Various State Centers; Has 1839 One on Back

LANSING — The second edition of the 1953 Official State Highway map, prepared by the State Highway Department, is now available for distribution to the public, Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler announces.

The new map is available by writing to the Public Information division of the Highway Department at Lansing, or by calling at the Michigan State Ferries office in St. Ignace, or at one of the three State Highway Department Tourist Information centers.

These are located at Menominee on U.S. 41, on U.S. 12 south of New Buffalo and on U.S. 24 near Erie, south of Monroe.

The map also is available by calling at one of the Highway Department district offices, which are located in Crystal Falls, Newberry, Cadillac, Alpena, Grand Rapids, Saginaw, Kalamazoo and Redford.

On the back of the new map will be found a copy of the oldest map of Michigan now in existence. It was prepared by A. Augustus Mitchell, an early map maker who lived in the East.

The map was printed in 1839, just two years after Michigan became a state. The state geological survey had just been started and little technical survey information was then available to map makers.

As a result, the shape of Michigan was distorted considerably, with the result the west coast of the state was straight and angling, being pulled in considerably from the true contour of the present coastline.

The map also contains state ferry schedules and lists showing the location of the state parks, recreational areas, historical sites, state fish hatcheries, trout rearing stations, national and state forests, game project areas, public fishing sites, state land open to hunting and fishing, Conservation Department district headquarters, State Police posts, an index to cities and an index to county seats and counties.

Pitching Horseshoes

Thinks Federal Theater More Blight Than Boon

By BILLY ROSE

I understand that a group of show people are planning to go to Washington this winter to lobby for a federal theater.

BILLY ROSE

Their argument, as I get it, will be that the drama is essentially a public service and should therefore be fed, fanfared and front-official by the U. S. government.

Well, meaning no disrespect to my esteemed colleagues, I hope they get on the wrong train and wind up in Pittsburgh.

Does this two-penny outburst mean I have no confidence in the ability of the men who run our government to supervise a federal theater? It means precisely that.

And, to take it a step further, I'm equally opposed to office holders butting into the opera, the ballet — or, for that matter, any phase of th earts.

I grant you, of course, that the arts can always use a little extra money.

The trouble with government money, however, is that it's usually administered by a political appointee, and in this patronage-happy country the appointee, more often than not, is an ex-poolroom hustler, a mink-coat maneuverer, or a precinct gazooney.

Who do my colleagues think would be put in charge of music if we had a federal arts set-up? Toscanini? Gian Carlo Menotti? Not a chance.

These men might help get out the Italian vote, but their names are too "furren" sounding. Oscar Hammerstein? Heck, no. Texas and Arkansas are sore at him for publicizing Oklahoma. Harrison J. Clod? Ah, there's the man! Safe, sane and contributed $5,000 to the national committee.

Not bright enough to be made ambassador to Paraguay, perhaps, but just the fellow to supervise a national art program.

I'm exaggerating, you say? Well, let me tell you what happened a few years back when the United States got mixed up with show business.

In 1941 when the Army went on a wartime footing, it created a Special Service branch to bolster the morale of our soldiers and provided them with entertainment.

To head this organization, F.D.R. selected his old friend and Hyde Park neighbor, Frederick Osborn.

According to "Who's Who," Osborn's experience was largely in railroads, banking and rubber. His only contact with entertainment had been as a director of New York's Museum of Natural History.

Yet, overnight he was made a brigadier general, and throughout the war the country's top theatrical talent was subject to his directives.

What sort of job did Osborn do? To be generous about it, fair to middlin'.

I sat in on several conferences at the Pentagon shortly after his appointment. He was a pleasant and literate man, but every time he opened his mouth it was obvious that he was no more equipped to bolster the spirits of 11,000,000 scared kids than Mickey Rooney would be to run the Atomic Energy Commission . . .

Let me tell you another story about a political appointee. Recently a friend of mine was involved in some litigation, and the court appointed a Manhattan politician to inventory a collection of paintings in dispute.

I got a bit eery of this gentleman's qualifications when my friend told me the "expert's" name was preceded by the title, "Honorable."

My instinctive reaction when somebody is introduced as "the Honorable So-and So" is to button up my pockets.

This uneasiness goes back to the time I asked Honest Jack Donovan, a well-known gambler, where he got his name, and he snorted, "You soft in the head or sumt'in? I starts the 'Honest' t'ing myself — who else would give a name like dat to a croko like me?"

My misgivings about Mr. Honorable's knowledge of the arts were woppingly confirmed when he went to work "experting."

He poked around my friend's house for several days, then presented the court with an inventory in which Rembrandts were listed as "Rumbrins," Chagalls as "Shackles," and Gaugins as "Gawkins."

I shudder to think what might have happened had my friend owned a Toulouse-Lautrec — it probably would have come out as "Herzegovina" . . .

Make Progress on New City Hall

Steel, Concrete Work on First Floor Over Half Finished

Work on Pontiac's new city hall building is progressing at a normal pace, H. L. Stout, city inspector on the job reported today.

The rough concrete work on the ground floor of the planned three story building has been completed he said, and about 60 per cent of the steel and concrete work is finished on the first floor.

All boilers and most of the underground and basement plumbing have been put in as well as nearly all drainage.

Stout said they were trying to complete the shell of the building, located between Hill and Parke streets at Pike street, before severe cold weather set in to permit inside work to continue through the winter.

County Licenses 1,734 Boats, Collects $867

Some 1,734 boats were inspected and licensed in Oakland County's 101 liveries from June through August under the state law passed last September requiring such action, according to Oakland County Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell.

Sgt. Donald M. Francis, deputy sheriff, conducted the inspection and turned $867 in license fees into the county coffers.

"The sum would have been considerably higher," Hubbell said, "if we had more than one man to assign to the work.

"Sgt. Francis did a fine job, but working alone he wasn't able to get to some of the liveries until after the season slackened off and many boats were put into winter storage."

The law was passed to assure that boats rented by sportsmen and pleasure seekers would be safe, Hubbell explained.

Francis said he spent the summer visiting boat liveries on the 62 county lakes checking boats for maximum passenger capacity, determining seaworthiness, collecting fees, and tagging them if acceptable.

Plan Ox Roast at Alma

ALMA (UP)—An old-fashioned ox roast will be held here Oct. 9. All residents of this trading area have been invited.

Mayor Impellitteri Runs Independent

NEW YORK (UP)—Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri has entered the mayoral race again as an independent candidate.

He now is running for re-election Nov. 3 as the candidate of the Experience Party, the same designation he used when he won as an independent in a special election three years ago.

Impellitteri claims the results of the Sept. 15 primary, in which he was beaten for the Democratic nomination almost 2 to 1 by Manhattan Borough President Robert F. Wagner Jr., did not accurately represent the wishes of the Democratic voters.

The mayor announced his decision to run late yesterday at a city hall news conference and said he is the only "real Democrat" in the race. Impellitteri is a veteran Democratic office holder.

Seek 'Copter Plants in State

Group Meets Today to Discuss Ways of Getting Makers to Michigan

DETROIT (UP) — Possibility of attracting helicopter manufacturing plants to Michigan will be discussed today at a meeting of the State Economic Development Commission.

The meeting will be held in the Detroit Leland Hotel.

A special aircraft manufacturing advisory committee named by commission Chairman Dan Gerber, Fremont, will meet with the commission to discuss methods of expanding aircraft manufacturing activity in Michigan. The advisory committee is headed by Peter Altman, aeronautical engineering consultant and vice president of Continental Motor Corp.

Altman said Tuesday that helicopter manufacturing appears to offer the best possible field in which the state can attract new aircraft industry.

"Helicopter manufacturing has not yet reached the point of heavy production by large manufacturers," Altman said. "Most of those now in the field are relatively small producers and it might be possible to attract some of these plants to Michigan.

"This state has a great deal to offer helicopter manufacturers. The industry uses parts such as transmission, gears, engines, and blades which can be manufactured on machine tools with the kind of know-how for which Michigan is noted."

Enlistees Assured Technical Training

High school graduates can now be sure of technical training before entering the Army, according to Sgt. P. R. Moore, in charge of Pontiac's Army and Air Force recruiting station.

"Men between the ages of 17 and 35 with the proper education can apply for and get permission to take technical training before they enlist," Moore explained.

"They will be sent to a technical school upon completing basic training," he added.

Moore said the increased demand for skilled men stemmed from the large number of draftees currently being released.

Michigan Soldier Dies in Arizona Plane Crash

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP)—A 41-year-old soldier was killed when his faltering plane crashed into a house and burned last night.

Warren Hits Government for Social Security Faults

NEW YORK (UP) — California's Gov. Earl Warren accused the federal government today of "false economy" in budgeting social security administration so that it is "impossible to eliminate fraud."

Warren made the charge in a panel discussion with editors of the Ladies' Home Journal, a report of which appeared in the October issue of the magazine.

Warren said a study of social security administration in California showed that workers had "about two minutes each week to devote to each person to determine whether he or she was entitled to his claim for benefits."

Social security benefits are administered by the state with funds provided by the federal government.

Warren said the administrative budget was unrealistic and that the federal government "every once in a while without regard to actual need says '10 or 12 or even 20 per cent of your budget is cut off.'"

"About 12 per cent has been cut out of our budget right at a time when we are trying desperately to strengthen our program by plugging loopholes," Warren said.

"This is false economy and two weaknesses flow from it. One is that it prevents the states from having enough money to detect fraud. The other is that it prevents them from strengthening that side of the unemployment-compensation program which would help find jobs for the unemployed instead of merely paying claims."

Warren said he did not believe the nation, now largely urban and wage-earning in population, could survive a bad depression without the social security system. He said he favored its extension to workers not now covered by it and strongly favored an increase in old-age and survivors payments.

He said he also favored an amendment to permit aged persons to earn at least "a fair level of living" while receiving old-age benefits.

U. S. Woman Departs for 'Death Island'

The tiny island is one of the least known in this part of the world even though it lies but 50 miles off the southeast coast of densely populated Formosa.

Formosans rarely go there because of its high disease rate. Only a few small ships visit yearly.

While every one of the island's 1,429 inhabitants are reported to have malaria, a small bug whose bite causes death within hours is the chief killer. Thus the name "Death Island."

Its real name is Botel Tobago, 16 square miles inhabited by aborigines known as Yamis Yuamis believed to have originated in Malaya.

Smoke a 'Dukat'—It's Milder

Russia Finds It Pays to Advertise as Ivan Q. Public Gets Choosy

Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles by Tom Whitney, AP correspondent who lived nine years in Moscow.

By TOM WHITNEY

LONDON (UP)—It pays to advertise—even in Communist Russia.

Ever since the end of the war I have been watching neon signs go up in Moscow. At night their bright colors urge Ivan Ivanovich - Russian equivalent of Joe Doakes—to buy whatever the Soviet government wants to sell him. They say:

"Travel by plane."

"Smoke 'Dukat' cigarettes".

"Buy Soviet champagne."

"Invest your money in the 3 per cent state lottery loan".

"Collect Soviet postage stamps."

Wine, automobies, soap, tooth powder, cigars, perfume, sausages, insurance—these are a few of the products pushed.

The advertising is mostly poor quality—a fourth grade boy in the United States could do better—but the odd thing is that the advertising exists at all. Indeed, articles in the press demand better ads and displays. So does the minister of trade, Anastase Mikoyan. Evidently economic needs are forcing the Soviet government to advertise in order to sell some of its products.

In the West, advertising changes habits, promotes new products, introduces improvements in old ones. It stimulates people to want things, and work harder and more efficiently to obtain them. In Russia, where the advertising is poorly done, this stimulus is in large degree lacking.

To see the effect of real advertising on a Russian all one has to do is to hand him a copy of an American publication. He turns directly to the advertisements and starts looking at the pictures of things for sale. He begins to wonder whether life in America is as bad as his government says—and he wants to buy similar goods. Once that desire to buy arises, one starts to think about finding the money—of working harder, if necessary, and producing more.

The Soviet government is on to this idea too, even though it apparently does not realize how important it can be for Soviet economic development.

* * *

A year ago the Soviet press took up the question of window displays. One paper said most stores' show windows were being made up by oafs and hacks. Since then there has been an improvement. Many windows carry fairly attractive displays which get buyers into the stores and sell goods.

Autos and television sets are selling well with little advertising. But other goods are not being sold as rapidly as they could be with a good advertising campaign.

Aside from ideology, one of the reasons the Russians have not until recently gone in much for advertising is that there has always been such a shortage of goods that almost anything would sell without advertising.

There are still plenty of shortages of important kinds of consumer goods. But certain things have to be sold to consumers now if they are not to accumulate on store shelves and clutter up warehouses.

* * *

There has been some talk of using radio and television for advertising, but little has come of this so far.

Russian television is of course on a small scale compared to American. Stations in Kiev, Leningrad and Moscow present programs every night but Thursday. Most receivers are in Moscow; antennas are a common sight there. The sale of sets may be running around 50,000 a year—no official figures are announced.

Some of the programs are good. One can see late motion pictures, all the best operas, ballets and theatrical presentations, and many sports events. But the Russians have not developed any special technique. The broadcasts are "straight," often direct from theaters. There are no specific television programs as such, and of course no half-hour variety programs.

Despite All the Lakes

Michigan Has Problem of Water Shortage, Too

In spite of its huge surface deposits of water, Michigan shares with the rest of the nation a growing concern at the problem of water shortages.

Water generally does not change in quantity as it falls in the form of rain, pours into lakes and seas, and returns as vapor to the clouds. In this manner, estimates indicate, four billion gallons, or over ten times the average flow of the Mississippi River, circulate daily in the United States.

The problem, therefore, is less one of quantity than more effective control of the constant water volume in natural circulation, according to a report from Cranbrook Institut of Science in Bloomfield Hills.

About one-fourth of this four billion gallons represents the average daily run-off, as vapor. It is possible, through sound management, to use this water efficiently and at the same time partially control its eroding and weathering action.

The Great Lakes store water equivalent to the average rainfall over the whole nation for two and one-half years. But compared with the water storage capacity of underground areas, the lakes are a minor source.

Layers of porous materials left in Michigan by the glaciers are a tremendous storehouse for water, and will remain a permanent supply source as long as too much or poorly planned drainage is avoided.

Overflow reservoirs would, in periods of plentiful rain, help both to relieve temporary flood conditions and save water for periods of drouth. Such a program requires joint management of land and water, and goes to the very heart of the general conservation problem.

College Students Enjoy Unexpected Vacation

Dr. Virgil H. Stewart, president of the college, said all classes have been postponed "until further notice" because of a "critical municipal water shortage."

Mayor Rouse B. Cook said the college consumes more than half the town's water supply, with 300 of the students commuting from nearby areas.

Hot Job, Cold Thought

MIAMI, Okla. (AP)—A truck driver went about unloading his cargo in 100-degree-plus heat, sweating and grinning sheepishly at the jibes of passers-by. He was unloading snow sleds for a department store.

MIG Pilot Aids Okinawa Fliers

Claim Airman Who Fled Reds Secretly Making Tests on Jets

TOKYO (AP)—A young North Korean pilot who flew a Russian-built MIG15 to South Korea Sept. 21 is in Okinawa helping American fliers test the jet fighter, an authoritative source said today.

Whereabouts of both the MIG and its pilot had been secret.

Gen. Mark Clark, commander of U. N. forces, has offered to return the MIG to its "rightful owner" once ownership has been established. But he said the North Korean pilot who landed it at Kimpo Airfield would still get a $100,000 reward offered for the first MIG delivered to the U. N.

* * *

The pilot disappeared from public view Sept. 22. The plane was dismantled, loaded aboard a giant C124 Globemaster and taken to an undisclosed destination.

A reliable source, who asked not to be named, said the MIG was taken to Okinawa and reassembled.

The pilot arrived in Okinawa shortly afterward.

The source said American Air Force test pilots have made flights from Okinawa in the MIG.

He said the North Korean officer has also flown the MIG from Okinawa.

The MIG was originally scheduled to be taken to Wright-Patterson Field, Dayton, Ohio, for study by U. S. Air Force experts.

Good Brushing Worst Enemy of Tooth Decay

CLEVELAND, O. (UP)—Proper use of the tooth brush is more effective than any particular substance in a toothpaste for preventing tooth decay, the 94th annual session of the American Dental Association was told.

Six dental scientists agreed that there is no dentifrice yet developed that has been proved to prevent tooth decay.

Dr. Thomas J. Hill, Cleveland, professor of oral pathology at Western Reserve University medical school, summed up the report, stating that "It is not definitely established that the dentrifices as used by the public materially decrease the dental caries (tooth decay) rate because of any specific therapeutic substance incorporated in them."

Dr. Hill said "proper use of the tooth brush as a cleansing instrument was more effective for dental health than any particular substance in a dentrifice."

He added that "it would appear that the present advertising claims of dentrifices are inclined to lead the public to put too much faith in some incorporated ingredient rather than on the cleansing value of the dentrifice."

Red Farm Troubles Blamed on Peasants

HONG KONG (AP) — China's troublesome farm situation in Honan Province has erupted again. First it was flood and drought. Then it was insect plague. Now it's the peasant.

"The peasants' production morale still remains unstable," complains the Red party's mouth piece, the Peiping People's Daily. Forceful borrowing from the better off farmers is common practice. Often the money never is repaid.

"In some cases, even barbarous and unreasonable means are resorted to in borrowing grain from the well-to-do peasants," the paper said. The paper chided the attitude of the middle class peasants, saying they "should be more open-minded and hand out their money."

Madge Meredith Weds; Served Prison Term

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Actress Madge Meredith, whose 5-year-to-life sentence to Tehachapi Women's Prison was commuted in 1951, was married yesterday to Dr. Charles L. Corley.

She served two years and two months on a charge of conspiring to kidnap and beat Nicholas Gianaclis, restaurant supply operator. But Gov. Earl Warren, in commuting her sentence, called her case "one of the most bizarre I've ever seen . . . and more fantastic than any motion picture in which she ever acted."

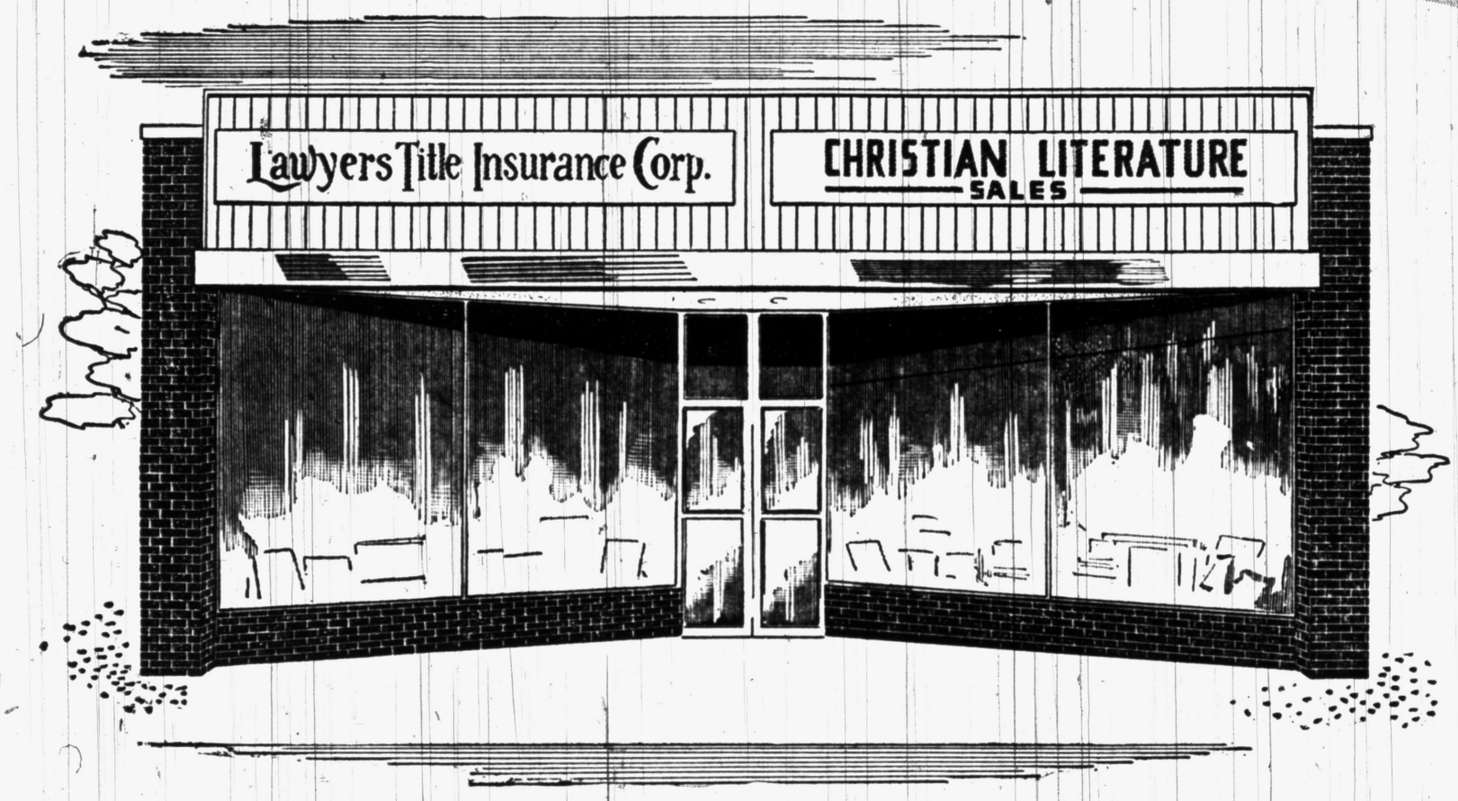
Announcing

A Dream That Came True

Some years ago I became interested in the Northward trend of Pontiac's downtown section, and purchased business frontage at 31-33-35-37 and 39 Oakland Ave. for future development.

Since the date of purchase I have constantly and carefully sought persons and firms to occupy this space with me. The outgrowth of my faith and effort is represented in the construction at 37-39 Oakland Ave. of the brick, aluminum, concrete and steel commercial building by A. N. Hickson, Inc., and designed by Leo J. Heenan, one of Pontiac's leading architects.



To Occupy This Enduring Building I Have Personally Selected:

Lawyer's Title Insurance Corp.
37 OAKLAND AVE.

Christian Literature Sales
39 OAKLAND AVE.

These firms represent the highest in business ethics and responsibility in their respective fields of service. The character of their operations is a high compliment and a fitting tribute to this newly developed area. Each is a service institution, dedicated to the best principles and motives, and fits well into this new building built exclusively for them.

Another

Dream that will come true when I find other firms, institutions and persons with the basic characteristics of true service and sound business enterprise. For then I pledge to build further to complete the planned project to be known as the

OAKLAND CENTER BUILDING

Top quality workmanship, design and first grade materials, plus wonderful co-operation by the individual firms connected with this project should also be noted as truly outstanding.

William R. McCulley, president, said that in the history of the publishing industry no other book, fiction or non-fiction, has ever made such a sales record.

Brothers Build Unique Business

Service, Hard Work, With $175 Investment Brings Success

With $100 worth of merchandise and $75 borrowed capital two Pontiac brothers began a sales venture 15 years ago that today has them well-established in the city's business world.

Floyd P., 44, and William T. Miles, 42, opened the Christian Literature Sales in two small upstairs rooms at 103 N. Saginaw St.

Today they are doing business from a new building at 39 Oakland Ave. which is eight times larger than their original quarters.

FLOYD MILES

The story of their business venture is one of hard work and long hours — plus giving the buying public merchandise not available for a radius of several miles.

BILL MILES

Floyd and Bill began selling religious books and articles in 1936 from a small table in the First Baptist Church, as a service to the congregation.

Two years later, they explained, they moved to their first quarters and set themselves up in business.

Today they are selling every article of a religious nature demanded by Pontiac residents.

Included in their present stock are complete lines of church and Sunday school needs such as religious records, gift items, choir robes, religious greeting cards and folding chairs for church meetings.

In 1940, the brothers moved from their first location to new quarters at 7 W. Lawrence St. After eight years they moved again to larger quarters at 67 Oakland Ave. with a subsequent increase in stock.

They describe their growth as a gradual one and say that the demands of the buying public were responsible for their success.

From such a meager beginning the brothers have built a successful business which is best reflected by the wide variety of merchandise now displayed in their new store.

Church groups may secure 16mm sound films from Christian Literature Sales as well as stereoptic slides, picture stories, and flannel-graphs.

Another healthy sign in the growth of Christian Literature Sales from a tiny business to a successful enterprise is the necessity for additional help.

Floyd and Bill said they will handle this problem by employing their wives as sales personnel.

Mobile Army Test Device Stirs Up Dust

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army Engineers have developed a new test gadget called a dust generator.

The Engineers say that nature, while producing a lot of dust, is not sufficiently cooperative in producing it when and where needed for experiments.

The army puts such items as tractors, engine generators, and prefabricated buildings, as well as methods of packaging, through rigorous tests for penetration by and deterioration from dust.

The Yuma, Ariz., desert, where the tests are conducted by the climatic test team of the Engineer Corps, is well endowed with dust, but it does not occur when and where desired.

It springs up only in response to a wind or sand storm or when agitated by the movement of troops or vehicles.

Consequently the test unit devised a giant blower that will stir up any desired amount of dust needed for an experiment. Test conditions require that the dust factor be maintained as a constant, something the machine does and nature doesn't.

The dust generator itself is a rather simple machine. Its main working part is a 42-inch axial flow fan which blasts into activity 40,000 cubic feet of air (and dust) a minute.

Trailer-mounted, the dust gadget can be towed or operated while stationary, depending upon the speed of dust flow desired.

Understand God for Happy Home

Chicago Man Advises Christian Scientists on Marriage Harmony

The most powerful means of maintaining a harmonious marriage and a happy home is understanding of God faithfully lived, Arnold H. Exo of Chicago told an audience here recently.

"Matrimony is much more likely to be a lasting manifestation of love when one or both of the contracting parties recognize that God is mind," Exo said.

Sickly thoughts, morbid thoughts, limited and hateful thoughts can be overcome by turning to God as the only mind and making use of this mind's stabilizing ideas, he stated.

On nationwide tour as a member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, Exo spoke under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, in the church auditorium.

He spoke on the application of pure Christianity to problems of everyday living. His subject was "How Christian Science Blesses the Individual and the Family," and he was introduced by Mrs. Pauline Holtom.

The lecturer said all mankind's problems have their roots in misunderstanding of the nature of God and man's relation to Him.

He emphasized that home "consists primarily of qualities such as order, joy, purity, harmony and an understanding love." He added: "These qualities do not and cannot have their origin in material things, such as building materials, furnishings, and broad lawns.

"The order, joy, purity, harmony and understanding love, which make your home and my home 'the dearest spot on earth,' are reflections of God, who is Spirit," Exo declared, adding that "these qualities are spiritual, and like all things real, they are limitlessly available, useful and practical, enriching our whole human experience."

He set forth the standpoint of Christian Science in coping with daily problems by explaining that Christian Scientists recognize God as infinite Spirit, as the Bible declares Him to be.

"This fact that God, Spirit, is the only real mind, hence your only real mind, my only real mind, the only real mind of anybody, is one of the basic teachings of Christian Science," he said.

"It is from this absolute standpoint — that God is man's only real mind — that the tragic and afflictive falsity of minds many can be uncovered and destroyed," Exo said.

The heart-gripping story of Roy Rogers' daughter, Robin, as told by DALE EVANS ROGERS in Angel Unaware

Introduction by Norman Vincent Peale

Born with a tragic handicap, little Robin Elizabeth Rogers was taken from her world-famous parents last August, when she was two years old. In brilliant, tender words, her mother—the wife of Roy Rogers—tells the story of Robin's brief sojourn on earth just as Robin herself must have told it to her Heavenly Father. It is a story of faith and courage, revealing Dale Evans' and Roy Rogers' triumph over one of life's most challenging experiences. This is a book to be read—and cherished—by every man, woman and child in America. $1.00

Groom Finally Pays-Off Minister for Wedding

GOLDSBORO, N.C. (AP)—A nervous bridegroom has squared things with the minister who married him. Russell Edwards of Princeton, N. C., explained that just before the ceremony he slipped a bill into his pocket in order to pay the preacher. The ceremony done, Edwards fumbled in his pocket, pulled out something and slipped it to the preacher.

He later discovered that the money was still in his pocket. He had given the parson a receipt he was carrying for his wedding suit. The money has been mailed to the minister.

New Safety Jackets Designed for Babies

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UP)—A local pediatrician has developed a "Dinner jacket" which he believes will reduce incidence of accidental injury and death among small children.

The doctor, who prefers to remain unidentified for professional reasons, designed the simple jacket to prevent his own children from falling. It is now being sold nationally.

The safety jacket is modeled after hospital restraining jackets, but it is more comfortable. It is sleeveless and buttons down the front. Attached at both sides of the waist of the jacket are two strings long enough for tying to crib sides, the back legs of a high chair, or the metal frame of a baby carriage.

The jacket can be made at home of three-fourths of a yard of almost any heavy material and five large buttons.

Lawyers Title in New Location

Combines Two Offices to Occupy Quarters at 37 Oakland Ave.

The Pontiac branch of Lawyers Title Insurance Corporation is consolidating with the abstract company of Crawford & Crawford, which it purchased three years ago, before moving into its new quarters at 37 Oakland Ave.

Russell H. Doolittle is manager of the local office and Frederick A. Thomson is state manager for the corporation which has branches throughout the country.

The company's two offices at 75 W. Huron St. and 78 N. Saginaw St. will be combined in the new quarters, Doolittle said.

Doolittle said the company has branch offices in 27 cities, representation by local title companies in more than 150 cities, and more than 10,000 approved attorneys in its operating territory.

Taxes on profits from Brazilian real estate sales are now 10 per cent instead of 8 per cent. The proceeds are to be used for the construction of low-cost housing facilities.

THREE-IN-ONE — This baby carriage now on the market in many German cities, is adaptable for many uses. It can be used as a conventional baby buggy or as a market basket, while the chassis can be used to carry heavy parcels.

Payment Scheduled But by Whom?

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — Part of the fine print in a new North Carolina law setting up a parole board states:

"Upon release of any prisoner upon parole, the . . . warden of the institution shall provide the prisoner with suitable clothing and, if needed, an amount of money sufficient to purchase transportation to the place within the state where the prisoner is to reside."

The law adds: "The board of paroles may, in its discretion, provide that the prisoner shall . . . receive a sum of money not to exceed $25." The joker, apparently overlooked by the general assembly, is that nobody knows who is supposed to provide the pocket change for the parolees.

Prosperous U. S. Refutes Best Socialist Arguments

By INEZ ROBB

NEW YORK (INS)—We Americans are certainly a hair shirt to the Socialists of the world, especially those of the British Labor Party.

If we would just go off quietly with our free enterprise system and drop dead, it would be so much easier for the Socialists to remake the world nearer to their hearts' desire.

They have such a lovely blueprint of a world machine under state socialism and government ownership. And every time they get the boys in the back room sold on the model, someone looks out the window and there is the U.S.A., high-balling along at 10 miles an hour in a shiny machine clearly marked free enterprise.

Then the boys take a second look at the old heap marked "state socialism" and the deal is off.

We unreconstructed capitalists probably ought to be ashamed to cause so much real agony and terror to Clement Attlee, Aneurin Bevan and the rank and file of the British Labor Party now assembled in annual congress at Margate.

If the denunciations of us and our unabashed capitalist ways by Labor Party speakers at the congress are causing a wave of high blood pressure in the United States, think of the ulcers we have inflicted not only on British but all the world's Socialists.

No matter how roundly the Socialists damn capitalism and all its works, America arises as a solid bulwark to contradict and confound them.

The neighbors whom the Socialists are trying to convert have only to look over the fence and see that we are prospering as no other nation in history, on the very system our detractors are condemning.

America and its standard of living stick up like a rock candy mountain, like pie in the sky, let the Socialists fulminate as they will—and they will! No wonder the Socialists get short of temper, if not of wind.

You would think American prosperity might even embarrass the Socialist politicians except for the universal fact that politicians aren't easily embarrassed.

It must infuriate Nye Bevan, a man of notoriously low boiling point, to realize that the more he preaches socialism, the more America practices capitalism and succeeds.

For so long as free enterprise succeeds in this country, we have cut the ground out from under all Socialist arguments and arguers, be they Bevan or Pandit Nehru.

This is the one thing they can not forgive America, any more than the Communists can forgive us for being a living contradiction of everything they claim. No wonder both are sometimes so shrill.

It must have been doubly humiliating for both the Messrs. Attlee and Bevan, in the postwar years when their Labor Party ran the government of England, to be so dependent upon American money and goods to keep their Socialist experiment in Britain oiled and running. But then, politicians do not humiliate easily, either.

Both Attlee and Bevan now find the U.S.S.R. much more tractable, sensible and easy to deal with on the international political scene than the U. S., even if we are notoriously loose with the purse strings.

But we must always be conscious of the fact that we have given them and their Socialist cohorts great provocation: We have made free enterprise work maddeningly well and thus negated the validity of their whole political pitch.

Moody Bible Institute Gives Films to Chiang

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Four motion pictures produced by the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago were presented to Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek today by Robert Constable, an institute official.

Touching Picture Oily and Smelly

PERTH (AP) — The secret behind that touching Coronation picture of the Queen Mother and Prince Charles has come out in Australia. You will remember the picture — the Queen Mother bending down and looking at the upturned face of her grandchild.

The Western Australian president of the Returned Servicemen's Association, F. C. Chaney, told about the picture when he returned to Perth from the Coronation. He said the Queen Mother told him the story.

Prince Charles had perfumed oil on his hair for the first time Coronation Day. In the middle of the service he patted his hair and broke the hush in Westminster Abbey with "Nanna, doesn't it smell nice."

Weather Bureau Balloon Like a Homing Pigeon

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An observation balloon released by the weather bureau here recently acted like a homing pigeon — it floated eight miles away, then returned home.

G. P. Crawford, meteorologist in charge of the airport station, said it was extremely unusual for a balloon to land near where it was released. Instruments showed the balloon went eight miles east after climbing to 85,000 feet.

Dedicated to the Distribution of the Word of God

Christian Literature Sales is more than just another business concern. From its inception Christian Literature Sales and its entire staff has had as their main objective making available to the people of all denominations God's word—the Bible.

Beyond this, Christian Literature Sales has made available supplies and equipment in the form of plaques, scripture verse greeting cards, religious records, tracts and countless other items. This material is all available locally to help pastors and laymen do a more effective work for our Lord.

This was our objective when in April 1938 we began our business in two rooms in an office building on Saginaw Street and today we rededicate ourselves to this same objective and trust that in the months and years to come we may serve you better.

Twenty-Year-Old Shirt Needs Separate Collar

ANDARKO, Oka. (AP)—J. I. Stowe is looking for a collar to match a shirt he found behind his bureau drawer.

The shirt was neatly wrapped, just as it came from the laundry, and he figures it had been back of the drawer for at least 20 years. The shirt requires a detachable collar, and he doesn't have one now to match it.

An elephant's trunk contains more than 4,000 muscles, a greater number than is to be found in the entire human body.

Barber and Customer Just Didn't Get Along

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—There was Adam Zimmerman, a barber, giving a haircut.

Then his customer suddenly bolted from the shop, leaving the money for the unfinished trim. Minutes later, he was back but stayed only long enough to inquire who had cut his hair.

Another half hour passed before he returned.

Quickly, he strode up to Zimmerman, slapped him on the face and walked back out the door.

Mule May Have Foal; Only Ninth in History

SYDNEY (AP) — An Australian mule is expected to give birth to a foal soon. The mule is a six-year-old named Jenny, and is owned by Fred Johnson of Warren, New South Wales.

A mule had a foal in the Northern Territory of Australia last May, and, as far as is known here, that was only the eighth such foal recorded in the world.

Couple Are Converted to Believing in Signs

HERINGTON, Kan. (UP)—Next time they'll believe it.

Two Kansas fishermen were determined to take a closer look despite a "closed" sign at the entrance of a road here. They noticed fresh tire tracks along the closed road at Lake Herington, and on they went.

Two miles farther they found the bridge out, turned around and returned. On the back side of the sign was printed in big black letters:

"Sa there, smartie, it was closed wasn't it?"

Cambodians Enter Stogie Competition

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP)—There's a new industry under way in Cambodia — the growing of tobacco.

The first growing tests were made in 1948 by the Agricultural Research Institute, which reported "favorable results."

Since then, despite the war in Indochina against the Communist-led Viet Minh, more and more tobacco has been planted. This year, the dry leaf crop of tobacco is expected to reach 250 tons.

Mailman, 70, Can't Seem to Get Enough Exercise

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla. (AP) — Thirty-five years a mailman, Charles E. Renfroe, 70, frequently plays 36 holes of golf before making his daily 15-mile round.

"That's to keep in trim," he explains.

He uses a bicycle to cover his mail delivery route and believes he was the first bicycle mailman in the United States.

He is to retire soon because of age. That's when he plans to play a lot of golf because he will miss his postal activity.

Doctors Eyeing Use of Vacuum

STOCKHOLM (INS)—A vacuum apparatus may soon replace the widely-used forceps in difficult cases of child-bearing.

Agence France Presse said the invention was presented at a recent surgical congress at Gothemburg by Dr. Tage Halmstroem of Sweden.

The apparatus is relatively simple. A rubber vacuum-bell is fitted to the head of the infant. A chain links it to a weight which exerts a steady pull until the child is delivered.

Travels Yet to Come

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Dr. Roscoe H. Snyder is in no hurry. It was back in 1941 that he began building a 36-foot yawl as a hobby. Some time around 1954 or 1955 he may get the vessel finished, and start thinking about a sailing trip.

Free China Has Plan to Slow Red Influence

TAIPEH (AP)—The Chinese Nationalist cabinet has decreed a chain guarantee system aimed at nipping Communist influences in the bud.

The order applies to all government agencies, the armed forces, schools, factories, mines and other establishments. Under the new plan, groups of three or more persons have to guarantee other groups of the same size within the same organization.

Should Communist or other subversive elements be discovered within any group, the guarantors will be liable to punishment. The system was devised as part of the continuing war in Free China against activities of Communist agents.

Plan Band Day at UM Saturday

108 Groups With 6,000 Total High Schoolers to Jam Field

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Band Day, which has become a colorful fixture of the University of Michigan football season, will be held here Saturday — bigger than ever.

A record 108 bands will jam the field in huge Michigan Stadium between the halves of the Michigan-Tulane football game. That means more than 6,000 high school musicians from all parts of the state plus more than 400 twirlers, color guards, and drum majors.

The giant spectacle, originated here by conductor William Revelli five years ago with a mere 29 bands, proved so successful that it has become an institution.

This year the stirring performance will be played on more than $1,000,000 worth of instruments, including 1,700 clarinets, 1,000 cornets, 600 saxaphones, 600 percussion instruments and 550 trombones.

The young musicians, hailing from as far away as 300 miles, leave for here by bus as early as midnight Friday, in order to make the Saturday morning rehearsal. It's a huge migration with most of the musicians packing lunches and many getting part of the night's sleep on the bouncing buses.

It's one time the famed Michigan Marching Band has to take a back seat. The Michigan musicians will be confined to a 10-minute pre-game performance.

One set is tortoise shell, another long-haired gray and white, the third a sort of calico mixture.

Jaguar Locale Shrinking Fast

Farming Keeps Animal Deep in Mexico; Used to Venture Over Border

WASHINGTON — In mesquite thickets along the Rio Grande and in the lonely mountains of southern New Mexico and Arizona, the jaguar, ocelot and jaguarundi still roam. But their last hunting grounds are shrinking.

Mountain lions have vanished east of the Mississippi, except in Florida's Everglades.

The lynx has been retreating steadily northward, until now it prowls only the remotest wilderness regions of upper New England and the Adirondacks.

Of the six cats native to the United States, the National Geographic Society says, only the wild and ferocious bobcat still inhabits the mid-continent from coast to coast.

Naturalists report its numbers have increased markedly in recent years.

Largest and rarest of all within this country's borders is the brawny, leopard-spotted jaguar. Though once it ventured as far north as the Grand Canyon, and west to southern California, today only an occasional hungry wanderer crosses from Mexico to the mesas and forested hillsides of the border country.

A jaguar skin at the University of Arizona measures seven feet four inches from nose to tip of tail. Such a cat has strength enough to break the neck of a horse or ox at one leap, then drag it away to devour.

Fortunately, jaguars so far north have never been known to attack a man unless attacked first. But caged jaguars are rated by circus trainers as extremely dangerous and unreliable.

Ocelots, by contrast, are almost friendly. They tame easily, even to pets, despite their wild jungle markings and nicknames of "tiger cat" or "leopard cat."

A creature of the tropics, the ocelot penetrates this country only in the broiling brush-choked lower valley of the Rio Grande in Texas. Once fairly numerous, they have almost disappeared as their cover is cut back for new farmland.

In the remaining Texas wilderness of tangled thorn-wood and mesquite lives the mysterious jaguarundi, more like an otter than a big cat and by far the least-known American feline.

Sleek, unspotted, seldom over four feet long, jaguarundis are either rusty red or a smoky gray, being a two-color or dichromatic creature.

Whatever the color, they are rarely seen at all. Twisting and climbing through thickets impenetrable to less lithe animals, they live on birds, rabbits, mice and rats, monarchs of their thorny kingdom. In this one region, they may be more numerous than sightings seem to indicate.

Collector Trades House for 5 Mugs

WILKINSBURG, Pa. (UP) — Louis Miller, an auto dealer, is a man who will trade a house to perpetuate his hoby of collecting old shaving mugs. Miller recently ended months of negotiating with an old German barber, near Manor, Pa. The barber got a house and Miller five mugs.

The auto dealer said at first the barber wouldn't have anything to do with him because he thought he was an antique dealer and he didn't like antique dealers. Then, Miller learned from the barber's son that the elderly man wanted to build a small house and didn't have much money.

So, he told the barber's son to come and get the vacant house on a lot near his garage. The house was trucked to Manor and Miller had the pick of the barber's collection.

Lowest Get First Crack at Free Parking Space

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (UP)—The Missouri Farm Bureau Federation here, alarmed at the lack of parking facilities in this small but busy state capital, leased a downtown parking area for the free use of its employes.

Lots of outfits have done things like that. But the MFBF put in a new twist. The federation figured the lowest paid employe would have the least money to spend for commercial parking. So it gave the folks at the bottom of the payroll first crack at the free parking.

L'ANSE (UP)—Pvt. Henry J. Arsenault, 19, home on leave from Ft. Lewis, Wash., was held for circuit court trial Tuesday on a charge of statutory rape of a 13-year-old girl. He was held in default of $2,500 bond after preliminary examination in justice court.

New Board Meets Friday

Corrections Commission Will Hold First Official Meet on MSC Campus

LANSING (UP) — Michigan's newly-appointed corrections commission will hold its first official meeting Friday to assume control of the state prison system.

One of the commission's first tasks after its members are sworn in will be to name an acting director of the department of corrections.

The acting director will take over many of the duties now held by Earnest C. Brooks, of Holland, the present corrections commissioner. Brooks also will be a member of the six-man commission.

The acting director would serve until a permanent director is selected.

The commission met for the first time, but unofficially, with Gov. G. Mennen Williams Tuesday and set 10:30 a.m. Friday as time for its first meeting. The meeting will be held at Michigan State's Kellogg Center.

In addition to naming an acting director, the commission is expected to select one of its members as chairman for one year.

Williams told the commission the changeover from commissioner to commission-type control "could create a lot of problems unless we are prepared to meet them."

Husband Pays Her Fine to Get His Wife Home

MILWAUKEE (UP)—When a woman was hailed into court on a vicious dog charge by neighbors who said her canine, Lady, doesn't act like one, she declared she'd go to jail for 30 days rather than pay a $25 fine.

But after a few hours, her principles had to be compromised. Her husband bailed her out because, he said, he needed her at home.

Landing Ship Rescues 9 Off Japanese Coast

Jail Al Capone's Brother in Beverly Hills Robbery

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UP) — A man identified by Police Chief C. H. Anderson as John Capone, 49, brother of the onetime Chicago underworld baron, Al Capone, was arrested last night and booked on suspicion of robbery.

Seized and booked with him was Joseph Laino, 42, who told officers he had been a Chicago street inspector for 20 years.

Starts Campaign for Less Noise

Traffic Patterns, Flights Adjusted to Cut Sound From Aircraft

WASHINGTON (UP)—U. S. aviation has launched an all-inclusive community service campaign in an effort to reduce the sound of aircraft in airport communities.

Planes, official organ of the Aircraft Industries Association, said the program — underway on the broadest scale of any such project in U. S. history—is sponsored by every segment of the industry, including manufacturers, airlines, airport operators, pilots, government agencies, and the military.

Important advances already have been made by adjusting traffic patterns, relocating training flights, revising operational procedures, changing ground run-up locations, and muffling ground tests of new engines.

The national campaign, undertaken slightly more than a year ago, has—according to Civil Aeronautics Administration — brought together "all elements of the industry that can make some contribution" toward sound abatement.

In the New York area—a hub of world-wide air activity, where sound abatement measures have a high priority because of the unequaled volume of air traffic and the high-density populations surrounding its airports — a special group, the National Air Transport Coordinating Committee, has been established to coordinate the wide-scale sound reduction program.

The NATCC activity in New York is expected to set a pattern for other such programs throughout the nation.

It has involved, according to its executive director, Vice Adm. C. E. Rosendahl, "the most far-reaching adjustments of air operational procedures ever undertaken by the air industry."

Already, as a result of voluntary co-operation by aviation groups, more than 25,000 transport training flights have been transferred from major terminals in the New York area to outlying airports. Vigorous day-by-day action is emphasized by NATCC in readjusting flight procedures and operations.

By telephone, staff personnel maintain constant touch with chief controllers, chief pilots, airport managers, airline executives and others concerned with the project. A special technical committee, part of NATCC, meets at least once a week to discuss new proposals and review measures already adopted.

Policeman Does His Duty Against 1924 Vintage Car

Duty, he said, compelled him to impound for "improper registration" a shiny automobile that "purred like a kitten."

Butterfield spied the car, driven by Don Horton, and investigated because, he said, "I could tell the license plates just didn't belong on the car."

He found that the license plates were registered to late model auto owned by Dean A. Clark.

'Skold' Not S' Hot as a Drinking Toast

TOLEDO, Ohio (UP)—Are you one of those uninformed persons who raises a glass and says "Skold?" Well, Capt. K. Vadum of Norway, skipper of a freighter Grindesjell which is touring the Great Lakes, says you might as well say "glass." It'd be the same thing.

"Skold" is the Norwegian word for a big wooden bowl from which ancient Vikings once drank, saying "Skold" as they lifted it. So, the next time you drink from a crock, for instance, be accurate, say "crock."

DETROIT (UP)—A walkout in one department idled more than 2,000 Tuesday. The Mechanics Educational Society of America (Ind) called the walkout to protest one-week disiplinary layoff given two stewards. The company said the stewards were "loafing."

Miserable Secretary Finds Happiness in Taking Care of Youngsters

Leaves Job She Detests to Substitute for Mother Who Works Outside Home

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Several times in the past I have mentioned the fact that the whole field of domestic employment is undergoing many changes.

We are no longer a nation with thousands of immigrants to call upon who want domestic work.

Moreover, the factories, with their better hours, better working conditions and higher social status, are draining off a great many of the workers who used to be cooks, housekeepers and nursemaids.

In addition to this, the enormously growing ranks of mothers who seek employment outside the home have created a demand for a very different kind of domestic help.

For example, one day last week a young woman came into my office. You could see she was very tense and unhappy.

She was a private secretary with a rather responsible position which she had held for five years.

"I have been knocking myself out," she told me, "and I hate every minute of it.

"All I have ever loved is children, but don't suggest teaching or nursery school work. I was never the scholarly type and I couldn't even finish high school.

"My family and all my friends think I have a very impressive job, and that I ought to be very happy being an executive secretary without any college degree. But I hate it!"

She paused for a minute and it was obvious that she was trying to keep from crying.

"This morning," she then went on, "I was walking to work with that terrible dread that I feel every morning.

"I live in a suburb, and down at the end of my street is Mrs. Brown's house. Mrs. Brown is looked down on a little by the neighbors because she boards children by the day while their mother work.

"As I passed, two young mothers were there by her gate, leaving their children for the day.

"Mrs. Brown was all smiles, and was hugging each child as it came, and I had a perfectly wild desire to run in and ask her if she would change places with me."

Needless to say, my suggestion was that this young woman advertise in her paper for a job from 8:30 to 5:30, taking care of the child of a working mother.

She received several replies, and got a very nice job. She is not treated as an inferior at all. Her employer, as a working woman herself, does not look down on the working woman who replaces her in the home.

It is a responsible and dignified position. Moreover, because she gets breakfast and lunch, her pay comes out just about the same as it did when she was an unhappy secretary.

"And," she told me, "there's not a single job in the world I'd rather have. I'm having the time of my life!"

Mmm Good--Nut-Flavored Orange Cake

Mrs. Anderson Got Prized Recipe From Her Grandmother

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Mrs. Robert C. Anderson shares with us a recipe given to her by her grandmother. This orange cake has orange juice poured over it after it has been baked.

Music is Mrs. Anderson's profession and hobby. Before her marriage she was a music therapist. At present her interest in music in confined to singing in a church choir, since a small son takes up most of her daytime hours.

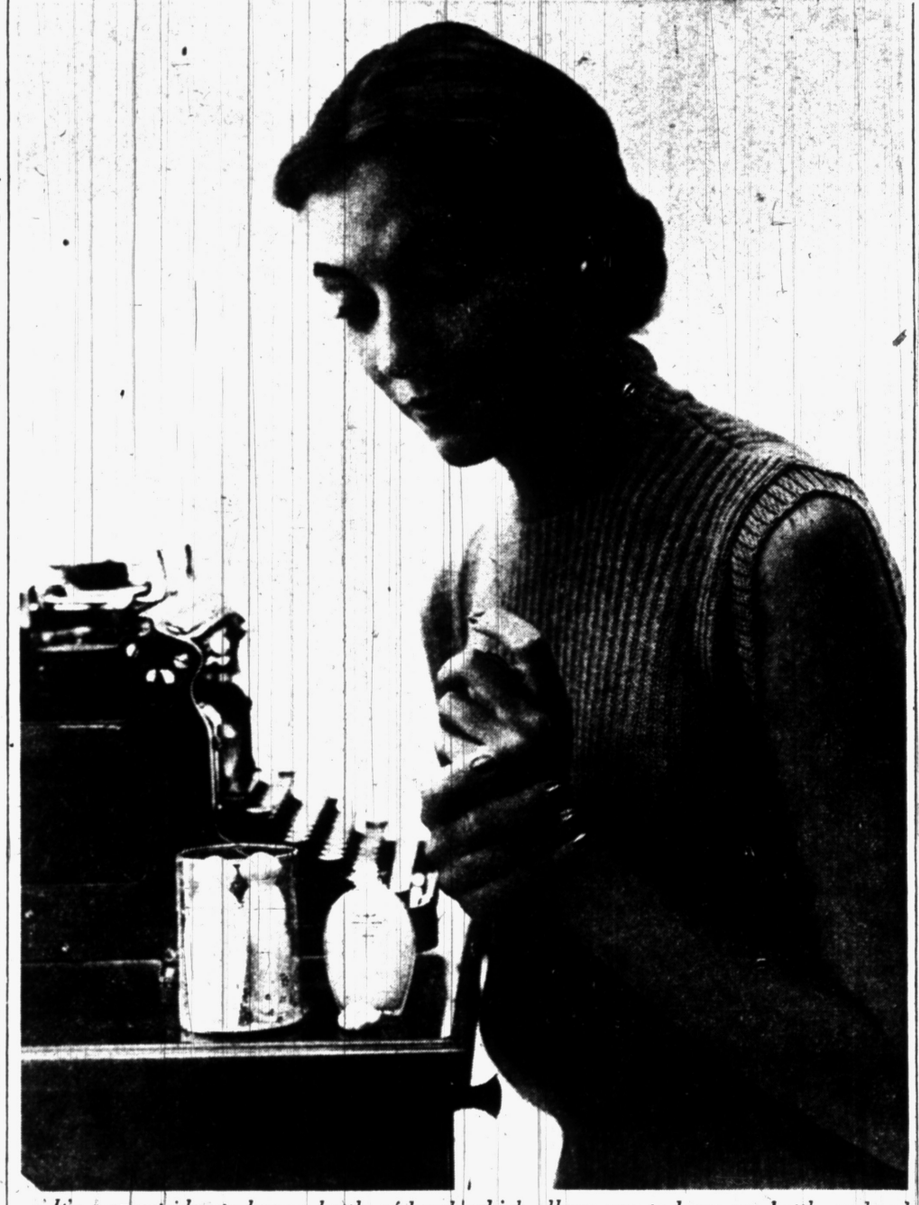
She is also a member of the woman's association of her church and of the American Association of University Women.

ORANGE CAKE
By Mrs. Robert C. Anderson

½ cup butter or shortening
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 orange, juice and rind
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup chopped raisins
1 cup sour milk
1¾ cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt

Cream shortening and sugar, add raisins, grated orange rind and nuts. Add beaten eggs. Sift dry ingredients together and add alternately with milk. Bake in a loaf pan 45 minutes in a 350 degree oven.

When cake is done, add ¾ cup sugar to orange juice and mix well. Pour over hot cake as soon as it comes from the oven.



It's a smart idea to keep a bottle of hand lotion in your desk drawer at the office. This way your hand care continues through the day. Pictured is a trio of hand lotions which allows you to have one bottle on hand in the office and two to keep at home in the bathroom and kitchen.

Girl Right in Paying Hotel Bill

Should Not Allow Friend to Assume Her Expense

By EMILY POST

A girl writes: "My fiance is in the Army, stationed 1,000 miles away from here. Several weeks ago I took my vacation and went down to visit him.

"My mother and several of my friends seemed quite taken aback when I told them that I paid my own hotel bill while there. They feel that my fiance should have assumed this expense and are criticizing him for not doing so.

"Are they justified in their criticism? I would very much like to hear what you have to say about this."

Answer: I agree with you that according to the proprieties, you were right in paying your own bill even though you are engaged.

Dear Mrs. Post: On several occasions it has been necessary for me to write letters for my employer to a country club, proposing someone for membership.

Heretofore, I have always used his business stationery but somehow this does not seem quite right. Will you please advise me as to what is correct?

Answer: It depends on the club: If it is a social club, you should use his personal stationery, but if it is a business club, you should use his business stationery.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are divorced, but I have remained friendly with my parents-in-law whom I see quite often because of the children.

Before my divorce I called them Mother and Dad. However, it does not seem quite right to me to call them this now that I am divorced, and yet to start calling them Mr. and Mrs. also would seem very strange.

Will you please tell me what is proper in a situation of this kind?

Answer: Ask them what they would like to have you call them. As a suggestion I might offer "Grandma" and "Grandpa"—or whatever the children call them.

Dear Mrs. Post: A very dear friend of mine has just announced her engagement. However, she will not be married until next summer.

Will you please tell me the proper time to give her a shower. Should it be given now or just before the wedding?

Keep Flowers Fresh Longer

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (INS) — Cut flowers will last more than a day or two if you give them a chance to drink right after they're cut.

Set the flowers aside in water in a cool, non-drafty place. Let them stay overnight, or at least for several hours so the flowers can absorb as much water as possible.

Floriculturist Conrad Link of the University of Maryland Extension Service also urges using clean flower containers and holders. Unless you wash a container well after using, there's likely to be enough bacteria left on the container to decompose the stems of the flowers when used the next time.

Other offenders to cut flowers are winds, drafts, and hot, dry air.

How to Fix Messed-Up Wall, Ceiling

Overflowing Water Makes Paint Peel or Blister

By HUBBARD COBB

One of the minor hazards involved in living under someone else is that if that someone lets his or her bathtub overflow it's you and not he or she who has the job of fixing up the mess.

The first thing to di is go upstairs and tell your neighbor that the next time he or she pulls a trick like that you'll stop lending sugar and babysitting. After you've taken care of the future, go after the past.

Take a scraper and remove all the loose paint around the damaged area. Use a broad putty knife for this job and try not to damage the softened plaster.

If the plaster surface has become rough it should be smoothed out. Spackle is good for this job and so is patching plaster. Put it on lightly and smooth it out as best you can.

When the spackle or patching plaster is dry it can be sanded to remove any minor rough spots. The next step is to coat the area with aluminum paint to act as a seal and also to prevent the lime in the plaster from damaging your fresh paint.

As soon as the aluminum paint is dry, the finish coat can go on. Unless you are very lucky, trying to get a patch that exactly matches the existing paint is almost impossible.

The best you can hope for is something pretty close. What you can do, of course, after the area has been patched with paint, is to give the entire ceiling or wall an extra coat of paint.

Elva Kortmann Repeats Vows in Rochester Rite

Honeymooning in Niagara Falls, New York, Washington and the Smoky Mountains are Mr. and Mrs. Arnold W. Schilke, who were married Saturday in St. John Lutheran Church of Rochester.

The bride, the former Elva Hulda Kortmann, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kortmann of West Sheffield avenue, and the Reinhold Schilkes of Rochester are the bridegroom's parents.

The Rev. George Madher of St. Paul Lutheran Church performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Walter C. Gerken of St. John Lutheran Church.

For the 7:30 ceremony the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over nylon tulle and satin, styled with a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves coming to points at the wrists. The full skirt ended in a medium train.

A tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones held her fingertip veil, and she carried a cascade of white gladioli with ivy streamers on a white prayerbook. Her pearls were a gift of the bridegroom.

In similar gowns of raspberry were the senior bridesmaids, Darleen Ohngren of Rochester and Lois Lanpher. They carried bouquests of yellow and fuchsia carnations.

Carrying crocheted baskets were Carol L. Schilke of Rochester, the bridegroom's niece, and Margret Batchelor, the bride's cousin, who were flower girls.

Gerald Schilke was his brother's best man. Seating the guests were the bridegroom's brother, Robert, Dale Evanson, Richard Flemming of St. Clair Shores and Alfred Eschmann of East Detroit.

Wise Treatment Can Reduce Skin's Oiliness

If you have oily skin, your problem is more difficult than that of the girl with dry skin, but it can be just as effectively treated.

Before you start putting things on your face, you must help your skin from within. That means, as you probably know, eliminating rich, highly seasoned and greasy foods and pastries from your diet.

Oily skin is also due to poor circulation of the blood. Splashing ice-cold water on the face is the the best way to stimulate the flow of blood. Astringents are also an aid but should not be relied upon entirely to counteract the oiliness.

Of course, it is essential to keep the face scrupulously clean, that will require washing with lots of soapy water at least four times a day.

If you care to, during the day you can substitute a special cleansing lotion for the soap and water routine.

One lotion effective and safe for oily skin is made from 2½ ounces of glycerine, 1 ounce spirits of camphor, 4 ounces spiritus odoratus and 2 ounces distilled water. The druggist can make it up for you for a good bit less than two dollars.

HOW DO YOU COMB YOUR HAIR?

A recent survey has convinced me the daily combing and brushing of a hairdo presents a real problem to many women. Lack of knowledge of how the hairdo is set and should be combed, is part of the reason for this. Also women find that pulling a comb or brush through the hair causes it to spring away from the head. This often makes it look more unruly than it did in the first place.

The place to begin solving this is at the beauty shop when your operator is arranging your hair. Watch her and if you do not understand what she is doing, ask her. She will be glad to give you suggestions for combing the hairstyle she has just created for you.

To keep the hair close to the head and in the line you wish it to follow, use both hands. While pulling the comb or brush through your hair follow with the other hand. This you will find is very helpful in keeping the hair within bounds. When combing curls do not make them all the same size or in the same direction. It is easier and more natural looking to have the hair styled so that the ends do not have to be arranged, but just combed through.

One of the most talked-about styles in handbags is the "Diplomat," a sturdy rectangular piece in calfskin or alligator. The top opens flat like a book and has many pockets for separating contents. Large papers may be carried flat. It's a beautiful accessory as well as an aid to conducting "big business."

Hubby May Resent Wife's Efforts to 'Build' His Ego

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some weeks ago I wrote a daring column. It challenged the idea that we're our brother's "keeper." Not surprisingly, it startled some readers. So I'm glad to illustrate my point in a letter from a Mrs. W.

Her husband is very angry with her. He's so rude to her before the children that they have become rude, too.

The other day when Mrs. W. reproved her daughter for impudence, her child retorted, "Father is always telling you to mind your own business. Why shouldn't it?"

"All my married life," writes Mrs. W. despairingly, "I have tried to build up my husband's ego. But the thanks I get is just humiliation before the children."

Perhaps Mr. W. believes that his ego is in such good condition that it requires no "building up." Has this possibility ever occurred to his wife?

If it hasn't, maybe it might. To love, we have to endow another person with his own integrity. This includes the ability to trust his own strength, goodness and intelligence.

Just as our neighbor may resent our insistence that we can "keep" him better than he can "keep" himself, so a husband may find our persistent support offensive.

Both the neighbor and the husband may sense domination in our efforts to reassure them. They may come to regard us as officious, rather than truly helpful people who can give the human brother credit for strength, goodness and intelligence of his own.

So it is quite possible to enrage a husband by "building up" his ego the wrong way.

For example if we felt that we were not worth much ourselves, we might find ourselves supervising his ego most irritatingly.

By deflating him into a person who needs our "keeping," we would imply that we were stronger, better and wiser than he. As he came to suspect that our reassurance was nothing but inflation of ourselves, he could become quite resentful. Hemight indeed tell us to mind our own business.

Under such circumstances, he'd be giving us good advice. We do have pressing business of our own to think about. If we're really doubtful of our value to him, it is wise to realize it and stop handing out charity we need ourselves.

It is just possible that a truthful admission that we don't really think we're so wonderful might bring us closer to him than all our attempts to build up his self-respect.

Child Needs Desk

A child needs a desk at which to work, and chests and cabinets in which to store his things. Habits of orderliness are easily established with a place for everything. Covers for the bed and chairs should be fabrics that can withstand rough treatment.

Girl Must Keep in Touch With Friends and Not Expect Them to Seek Her Out

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

They forget that in order to have friends, they have to work at keeping them. That's what this girl forgets.

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 14, and it seems as though I'm always left out of parties my girl friends have. I've always thought having one best girl friend would be best, because we could do everything together, but lately I'm not sure.

"Every time we are together and somebody else talks to us, she always makes sure I'm left out. I'm bashful and haven't enough nerve to call up girl friends I haven't seen for a while.

"I'd be so happy if you could give me some suggestions for snapping out of this."

Nobod's purposely leaving you out of anything! You're leaving your girl friends out of the fun of being with you just because you aren't making any effort to put yourself into their picture.

You're hiding behind what you cal your bashfulness — when I suspect it's largely laziness.

You haven't made a move to call up your friends to find out how they are, how went the vacation, what are the plans for this fall.

You haven't exerted the slight effort required for making dates with girls you'd like to see. I hear no mention of mailing out invitations to a party of your own.

It sounds as though you've been sitting back quietly waiting for all the other girls to call you. But that they're likely to do only when you make some sign to them that you'd like to be with them.

Some sign from you is indicated, too, when a third person interrupts your duet with your best girl friend. Nobody can leave you out of a conversation, not if you want to be in it.

Of course, if you stand mum while they chatter away, you're not contributing much. But the things those two talk about can prompt interested comments from you. You can slide in some remarks of your own when they stop for breath.

My free booklet, "Why Be Shy?," will help you to speak up for yourself, and make the friendly gestures that will convince your friends you want to be included.

Write to me for your free copy, c-o the Pontiac Press, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

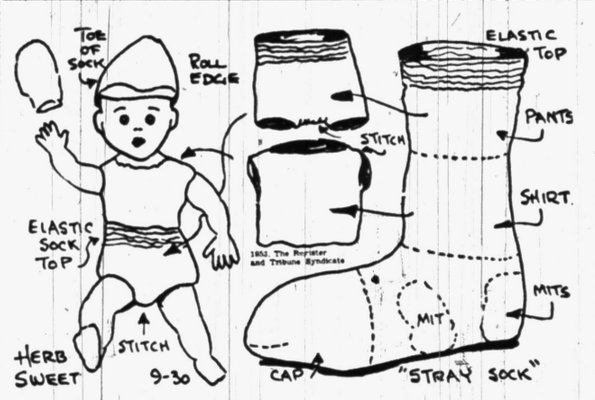
Miss B. G. — Daytime dresses keep bloused backs with moderation and with a contoured belt at the natural waistline. Your hemline must be in proportion to your waistline and proportionately in accordance with the silhouette and a beautiful leg.



Try It

Dress Dolly in Old Sock

Here is an idea which is new to me and, I hope, is new to you. This winner of the week idea was sent in by Allan Donner of West Kildonan, Man.

He says that his mother makes these little outfits for his sister's doll, and that he wanted to share this with you Try-Iteers. Your Try It book is on its way to you. Thanks for the fine suggestion.

Men's or boy's socks work best for this. You can use the ones in plain colors or use others with stripes. This is a good idea, too, for you can use the good sock from a worn out pair.

You will notice that I have made the sock in the drawing into four different parts. The top of the sock is for the pants of the doll's suit. Stitch about four or five stitches to form the crotch.

The bottom part of the leg makes the shirt. Make a few stitches over the shoulder for the neck and arm holes.

Mitts or booties can be cut from the back part of the foot. Cut and stitch booty and mitten-shaped pieces or cut round sections and tie onto the feet and hands.

Cut the toe off and roll the raw edges, then put on the doll for a stocking cap. Your doll will be dressed up!

Manners MAKE FRIENDS

A few do's and don'ts about the dinner napkin. When you take it from the table, don't shake it out. Simply open it lengthwise as you lay the double fold across your knees. Another thing, don't try to fold it carefully at the of the meal. Just lay it without any fuss and bother to the left of your plate. Your hostess, of course, will hope it isn't smeared with lipstick!

Correct use of your dinner napkin is as important as your handling of silverware.

Alert Woman Remembers Back Interest

The woman past 40 has many angles to consider to keep herself well-groomed and young looking. One angle that some are inclined to neglect is the backview.

Such neglect not only indicates careless grooming, but also that the years are making inroads. Absent-mindedness, you know, is supposed to be a sure sign of oncoming age. And no woman has a right to feel old in middle-age.

If you haven't been in the habit of constantly checking your backview, it might be a good idea to make a check list and tack it alongside your floor-length mirror.

You want to be certain that your hem is even, that stocking seams are straight, that your slip is hidden and that heels are not rundown.

And how about your neck and hair lines? Does powder or dandruff ever cling to your shoulders? Is your hair always as smooth looking in the back as it is around your face?

It is also important to check the back-view when buying clothes. A dress that is becoming in the front may not be behind.

It may fit too tightly over the derriere, causing a ripple above the waistline. Or, the trimming that is fine in front may be too much in the back.

Hills Awaits Christmas Debut Fetes

Dates Set for Five Bows of Interest in Bloomfield

By RUTH SAUNDERS

Virginia Beresford and Elizabeth and Margaret Carter will be presented to society in December and will attend a whirl of parties before returning to their studies in January.

Terry Phelan and Carolyn Clark also have set their debut dates, and these are of interest in the Hills because of the girls' family connections and summer homes at Metamora.

She is a student at Wellesley and will be the first debutante of the Christmas season. Her party will be a tea given by her parents in their home Dec. 21.

The Carter twins are daughters of Mrs. Harland G. Walter of Puritan road, Birmingham, and granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. William T. Barbour who lived in the Hills at Briarbank for many years. They will be presented at a dinner which Mrs. Walter will give on Dec. 22.

Miss Phelan is the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Askin Skae of Westwind Farms and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James J. Phelan of Grosse Pointe and Metamora. She will have a ball on Dec. 22 when she returns from Briarcliff Junior College.

Carolyn Clark, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Reeves Clark of Grosse Pointe and Metamora, has spent much time at her grandfather's home on Lahser road. She is a freshman at Smith College and will be honored at a dance at the Country Club Dec. 21.

Constitution Discussed by Lawyer

Republican Women Hold Gathering in Clarkston Home

Donald Brown, assistant prosecutor of the city of Ferndale, presented a talk on the Constitution of the United States when he spoke before members of the Pontiac Women's Republican Club Monday afternoon in the Clarkston home of Mrs. Edgar Carvey.

He expressed the hope that the citizens of this country will try to understand why some of the war prisoners have refused to return to the United States. They need help, he said, to overcome the pressures inflicted upon them in prison camps and to be made to understand that they are still wanted here.

In the absence of Mrs. George Brown, president, the meeting was conducted by Mrs. Duncan McVean. Reports were given by various committees and Mrs. Albert Kohn introduced the speaker.

Mrs. W. E. C. Huthwaite offered a prayer for the men in the service and for a better understanding among nations.

Guests include Harriett E. Ratliff, Mrs. Fred Sauer, Mrs. I. J. Mint, Mrs. Charles O. Lanning of Clarkston, Mrs. Sadie Williams presided at the silver tea which followed the meeting.

4th Annual Fall Dance Scheduled

Mrs. Cle West is chairman of Fall Frolic, the fourth annual autumn dance of the Italian-American Club, which will take pace Saturday evening at Chieftain Hall. Robert Ranzilla is co-chairman.

The decorations which will carry out the autumn theme are under the supervision of Mrs Carmen Tosto, and JoAnn Mazza has charge of entertainment, which will include a floor show by a local dancing school.

Submit Stories Early

Brides Advised by Press

Several suggestions have been prepared by the Women's Department of the Pontiac Press to assure prospective brides of a complete and timely wedding story.

As an aid to prompt, accurate and complete information, wedding forms will be mailed upon request, as well as to those who have announced their engagements in the Pontiac Press.

The wedding blank should be returned at least two days before the wedding as this amount of time is needed for handling such detailed stories.

Those received more than three days after a wedding will not carry details of reception, bridal costumes, etc.

Because of limited space, brides-to-be may submit only one picture (either engagement or wedding) if they are to be married within two months of the engagement announcement.

Separate pictures for each event may be submitted if the engagement is announced more than two months before the wedding.

While it is not always possible to provide the picture with the wedding information, brides are asked to note that the picture cannot be used unless it is ready for publication by the third day after the wedding.

Pictures should be black and white glossy prints, as colored or sepia pictures will not reproduce well.

Donna J. McKinstry Wed

Trinity Lutheran Church was the setting Saturday evening when Donna Jean McKinstry became the bride of Roy T. Robbins.

Donna is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Callender of Cameron avenue, and the Joe Robbinses of Pineville, Ky., are the bridegroom's parents.

A gown of white satin and tulle was worn by the bride for the 7 o'clock ceremony. A lace panel and chapel train were highlights of the dress.

Similarly dressed were bridesmaids Mrs. Neil D. McKinstry, Mrs. William Dowling and Jeanie Demo. Betty Lou Perry and Jeanne Kamerod were flower girls dressed in yellow, and Paul Helger carried the ring.

Mr. Tipick Jr. was best man. Groomsmen included Mr. McKinstry, Jake Ramin Jr. and Steve Kamrad Jr. Seating the guests were Steve Kamrad and Elmer Perry.

Rug Beater Dead Dodo These Days

If you want your rugs to last longer, don't beat them. If you have a beater, throw it in the trash can.

Many a housewife—and drafted husband—has hung a carpet on a clothesline and pounded it with a rug beater or a broom. But don't do it.

Beating may break the backing in a rug. Although rugs and carpets are built to take wear and tear they can still be abused. Beating is an abuse.

If fibers in your rugs have broken through beating or through normal wear, your professional rug cleaner can repair them. He can replace missing tufts. If your rugs begin to unravel, the professional rug cleaner can also rebind worn edges.

Rugs and carpets that are given proper care last longer and look better.

Sylvan Club Hears Talk on Haven Hill

Mrs. George Egglesfield gave a talk on the history of Haven Hill when 35 members of the Sylvan Lake Garden Club met at Haven Hill Lodge Tuesday afternoon for their fall luncheon.

Flowers from the garden of Mrs. Edward Williams were arranged by Mrs. Leon Zielinski. Mrs. R. L. Dailey announced that there will be a card party Feb. 19. The next meeting will be Oct. 15 at the home of Mrs. J. King Graham.

Children's Tales Based on Fact

CHICAGO (INS) — Children can be just as interested in reading about the wonders of real life as they are in the "swoosh" of space pirates or the "bang-bang" of rustlers.

To back up that theory, a children's book publishing firm in Chicago has issued a series of "True Books" based on real-life wonders. And the firm says enthusiastic buying response is proof that kids are as interested in beavers as bombs.

The series is prepared specially for first, second and third graders, and 98 per cent of the words used in each book come from an approved vocabulary list for children of this age group.

There are six titles in the series so far, covering Eskimo life, toys, pond animals, plants, honeybees and the "air around us."

Steak contains about 17.3 per cent protein and milk 3.5 per cent protein.

Urban League Man Says 'Do,' Not Talk

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)— Paul I. Phillips, executive secretary of the Grand Rapids Urban league, told the annual meeting of the league yesterday Americans must narrow the gap between what "we preach and what we do."

Phillips toured Europe last summer under auspices of the State Department. He reported he was continually being confronted while abroad with examples of racial discrimination in this country. He added, "we could offer facts when the truth was distorted but only suffer in silence when the facts were correct."

Man Who Beat Mother Is Convicted in Detroit

DETROIT (UP)—Mike Szczepanik, 46, will be sentenced Oct. Oct. 8 on charges of beating his 82-year-old mother, Mrs. Sophie Szczepanik.

Virus Hits Reuther

DETROIT (UP)—A virus infection confined CIO President Walter P. Reuther to his home today. The ailment was described as not serious, but it kept him from filling a speaking engagement at the CIO Oil Workers convention in Montreal Tuesday.

HOBBY PAYS OFF—Donald Eslin, of Schenectady, N. Y., puts the finishing touches on one of the miniature locomotives which he makes for the American Locomotive Company. He worked in the company accounting department and during his lunch hour roamed the railroad yard making sketches of engine parts. The result is that when company officials saw his authentic-looking engines, they gave him a full-time job making the locomotives.

Refuses to Block Parcel Post Hike

District Judge David A. Pine yesterday denied a request by 14 greeting card companies for a temporary restraining order.

However, he set a hearing for Oct. 8 on their suit, which contends higher rates would result in hardships for companies which deliver their merchandise by mail.

Falls, Sues Race Firm, Wins $4,000, Saves $2

DETROIT (UP) — If Joseph Jones has made it to the mutuels window at the Detroit race course to bet the fourth race a couple of years ago, he probably would have lost $2.

But he didn't, and won $4,000.

A jury awarded him that amount yesterday for injuries suffered in a fall at the track June 28, 1951. Jones sued for $20,000, claiming he slipped on a stack of rain-soaked mutuel tickets. His wrist was broken and the bones had to be pegged together.

Only Plans Needed for Truman Library

Trustees for the $1,750,000 project so reported yesterday, saying more than $500,000 in contributions already had been received. The trustees, meeting here, authorized a start of construction as soon as possible after detailed plans are drawn.

The library, to be turned over to the government, will house Truman's official papers, and be open to scholars.

Seek Lost Bottle Holding Powerful 'Medicine'

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A Texas couple has offered a $2,500 reward to the person who finds a small green bottle which the wife left in the purse she mislaid at a service station here yesterday.

Jaycees Open Drive to Help Runyon Fund

Study Trimming of Government

2nd Hoover Commission and 25-Man Unit Look for Ways to Cut Down

A 25-member commission on intergovernmental relations assembled to take the oath of office at the White House while the new 12-member Hoover Commission set up near Capitol Hill.

The larger body was charged by President Eisenhower with studying how to eliminate "frictions, duplication and waste" between the federal government, on one hand, and the state and local governments on the other.

* * *

Revenue-hungry states and cities primarily would like the federal government to move out of some tax fields—like gasoline, tobacco and admissions — so they can move in.

And officials point out that the government would like to turn over to the local units some of its acquired burden of matters like airport and road construction.

The Hoover Commission, headed by 79-year-old former President Herbert Hoover, is moving into a broader and more controversial field than did the bipartisan Hoover Commission of 1947-49.

* * *

Its seven Republican and five Democratic members, aided by nine "task forces" of experts in as many fields, will take on questions of policy as well as government organization. It can recommend not only streamlining, but also elimination of federal activities as it sees fit.

Hoover gave notice, at a news conference yesterday, that he will inquire into "government competition with private enterprise." Questions of public power development and transmission, as well as of government lending and federal housing aids, will be explored.

Hoover said a major task now will be to eliminate by merger or otherwise some of the "appalling" number—some 75 or 80—of agencies which report to the President.

* * *

Other task forces, which Hoover is authorized to appoint, will be assigned to civil service, budgeting, accounting, water and power resources, medical services, subsistence services (such as feeding the armed forces), the lending agencies, and surplus property use and disposal.

Traffic Club President Outlines 1953-54 Plans

President Kenneth Miller of the Pontiac Traffic Club presented plans for 1953 and 1954 at a dinner meeting Monday in Hotel Waldron at 6:30 p.m.

The monthly meeting attracted 63 club members who participated in an open forum on transportation problems moderated by Basil Meidlein, director of traffic at Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corporation.

City Accidentally Invents Enforced Savings Plan

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Here's a new wrinkle in savings plans:

When 157 of the city's 18,000 employes opened their pay checks last week, they found their checks dated 10-29-63—which would have made them valueless until Oct. 29, 1963.

U. S.-ROK Defense Pact Set for Signing

SEOUL, Korea (UP) — The United States-South Korean Mutual Defense Treaty will be signed Thursday in New York City.

Home Minister Cho Chungihwan said the two nations would be represented at the signing ceremonies by U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai. Pyun presently is in New York as head of the ROK observers at the United Nations.

The defense pact, initialed in Seoul last Aug. 1 by Dulles and Pyun, was a major condition for South Korean acceptane of the armistice.

It provides for the United States to come to the aid of South Korea in the event of future invasion, after due constitutional processes. It calls for U. S. military assistances to the republic and gives the U. S. the right to station troops in South Korea.

Gale Storm Busy Actress, Wife, Mom

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—How can a TV and radio star maintain a normal family life and stick to a schedule that would tire a lumberjack?

That's the problem that faced Gale Storm when "My Little Margie" happened along and changed her life a year ago. The show, which appears on radio Sundays and TV tonight, came up when she was a fulltime wife and mother and parttime actress. Now the situation is reversed.

When she's making the TV films, she's up at 5:30 in the morning six days a week. Between the spurts of film production, she records the air show with her co-star, Charles Farrell.

Any spare time she has left over is taken up with her official duties as honorary mayor of Sherman Oaks, publicity, etc. Last summer she also scored a smash as a night club singer in Las Vegas, Nev.

"I'm busy, all right," sighs Gale, who is just as pert and pretty in person as she is on TV. "I may be rationalizing—I'm an expert at that—but I think all this activity is good for my family.

"When I do have time to devote to my boys, I can give my full attention to it. A lot of fulltime mothers see their kids so much that they never really appreciate them.

"And because I am so busy, the boys get more companionship from their father than other boys generally do. That's all to the good."

The boys are Philip, 10, Peter, 7, and Paul, 6. Their father is Lee Bonnell, who gave up a limping film career to become a crack insurance salesman.

"I'm really lucky in having a husband who has been in the business and understands the demands it makes," said Gale. "He gets just as much satisfaction from the show's success as I do. There aren't many husbands who would be as thoughtful and considerate in such a situation."

When "My Little Margie" made such demands on her time, Gale had to hire a housekeeper. (Gale said she is a "medium lousy" cook herself and now has almost forgotten how). To make up for her absence, dinnertime is devoted to the boys.

"Each one in turn gets to tell what happened during his day," she explained. "Believe me, that can get pretty detailed, especially with Philip, who is quite a ham.

"On Saturday I take one of the boys to the studio with me, and they seem to get a kick out of that. I tried taking all three to work, but that turned out to be pretty chaotic.

"Sunday is the family's day. We all get up early and go into Hollywood at 9:30, the boys to Sunday School and Lee and I to church.

"Then we spend the day at home or go to some friend's house for swimming. Whatever we do, we do together. It's the same way with trips. Whenever I have to go out of town, I fix it so the family can go with me."

She added that the boys understood and appreciated her work more than before.

"When I was working in pictures, the boys couldn't understand why I had to be away," she explained. "I'd make a movie that wouldn't be out for six months or more. But now they understand why I'm gone. They can hear the radio show on Sundays and watch the TV show on Wednesdays. They take a pride in 'My Little Margie' themselves."

Shoes for American soldiers range in size from 4 to 15.

U. N. to Protest Rule Made by Repatriation Group

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The Korean Repatriation Commission today laid down the ground rules for explanations to war prisoners who refuse to go home and Allied officers accused the commission of buying "everything the Communists wanted."

Allied spokesmen said the U.N. Command will protest the rules under which Allied and Communist officers will seek to convince some 23,000 reluctant prisoners to return home.

The explanations were to start tomorrow, but a dispute over facilities for the meetings forced postponement. A commission spokesman said he did not know when they would begin.

* * *

The U. N. Command was reported deeply concerned over the rules, which provide that prisoners may be interviewed individually, even against their will. POWs also may be forced to attend more than one meeting with agents.

The Allies had insisted that prisoners be interviewed in groups and that no prisoner be forced to attend the meetings.

Allied spokesmen expressed fear the individual explanations would weaken the resistance of 22,600 anti-Communist North Koreans and Chinese POWs who have said they don't want to return home. A total of 359 Allied prisoners, including 23 Americans, have refused repatriation.

One Allied spokesman commented:

"The Communists got everything but the lists of names of prisoners.

He said the commission had favored the Reds in every major dispute since the armistice.

The rules provide no time limit for the interviews, other than in event of disturbances or objections the meetings shall be stopped immediately. Commission representatives then decide whether to continue.

"No prisoner shall impede" the interviews, the commission ruled, and in the event of force or a threat of force by explainers the meeting will be suspended if either side protests. Again the commission would rule whether to continue the interview.

Lilt-Voiced Day Dumb Like Fox

Played Naive Part at First, but Grows Up in Later Programs

NEW YORK—Dennis Day comes by his lilting Irish tenor voice honestly, being named in real life, Owen Patrick Dennis McNulty.

But the characterization of the romantic with the naive approach to life which marks his television personality on the weekly show starring him, is come by differently. Dennis is, as the saying goes, "dumb like a fox."

Dennis was born in New York City on May 31, 1917, the son of Patrick and Mary McNulty. His parents, though far from wealthy, managed to send all six of their children through college.

Dennis finished a pre-law course at Manhattan College but delayed entering Fordham's Law School to recuperate from an operation. To pass the time while waiting for a new semester, he recorded a few songs.

An executive of a Canadian firm heard him sing "Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair" and gave him $75 to record it.

That was his ticket to stardom, for it was this disc that Dennis sent to Jack Benny when the comedian was holding auditions to replace Kenny Baker, who was leaving the Benny show. He got the job.

Singing had always been an important part of Dennis' life, even as a child. Later Dennis sang at Sunday School and in the St. Patrick's Cathedral Choir. His natural shyness evolved into real poise as he gained experience.

After being signed as a featured singer on the Benny radio show in 1939, Dennis, during rehearsals, pulled his now famous impersonations of Benny. They were put on the show and immediately were a hit with the fans.

In World War II, Dennis joined the Navy, which decided his greatest value would be as an entertainer. During a two-month tour of the South Pacific, Dennis and his troupe gave 275 shows before servicemen. Two years later he was discharged as a lieutenant, j. g.

"A Day in the Life of Dennis Day," a radio series, identified Dennis as a "mother's boy" and for five years had him tied to apron strings in hilarious comedy situations.

In his TV personality the singing comedian has come of age and faces the everyday trials of a man standing on his own two feet.

Dennis is married to the former Peggy Almquist and is the father of four children: Patrick James, five; Dennis Eugene, four; Michael, three; and Margaret, who will be a year old on Oct. 28.

'Moldy' Belts of Green Gold Are High Style

NEW YORK (INS)—At least one hot-shot accessory of the coming season will be modishly mildewed.

It's a specially-treated gold kid belt which could be aptly nicknamed the 'moldy mold.'

On the gold kid is a sheer covering of green muslin which creates an illusion of antiquity. Sounds unappetizing, but the designers have done such a clever job that it manages to look good, though ancient.

Also in their collection are kid belts with floral appliques tucked away in little frames; antelope belts with sequin embroideries; belts with scalloped outlines and with elongated diamond-shaped front panels that poke down toward the hips like sculptured leather peplums.

In another belt collection, the "cocktail casual" is the waist-cincher of distinction. This is the belt made of cowhide, sparkling with seemingly incongruous blocks of rhinestones.

Petoskey Man's Death Requires an Autopsy

PETOSKEY (UP)—Coroner J. B. Conti was to perform an autopsy today to determine whether Jack Stanley, 26-year-old Korean War Veteran, died of electrocution or of other causes.

Stanley died Monday when he attempted to plug in a radio at a local plant where he was employed.

Over 90 Pct. of U. S. Farms Are Electrified

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 147,600 farms in the United States received their first electricity during the fiscal year ended June 30, the Rural Electrification Administration (REA) announced today. The agency said 90.8 per cent of the nation's farms now are electrified.

On June 30, REA reported, 4,888,460 farms were connected to power suppliers. That left 493,674 American farms unelectrified. Over half of those with power get it from REA-financed systems, the agency said.

In addition to the farms without power, REA said about 246,000 other rural establishments are without electricity. These include non-farm rural homes, schools and churches.

In percentages of farms electrified, three states passed the 99 per cent mark during the last fiscal year — Michigan 99.9, Indiana 99.3 and Washington 99.1. Twenty-seven states are above the national average of 90.8 and 20 are below, with Arizona right on the average.

China Rejects Protest on Sinking British Boat

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China's rejection of a British protest over the attack on a Royal Navy launch Sept. 9 surprised officials here—but only because they had expected Peiping to ignore the protest.

Seven men were killed and five were wounded when a Communist gunboat opened fire on the launch in the Pearl River Estuary a few miles from this crown colony.

In rejecting the British protest, Peiping accused the British "gunboat" of firing first and said the Communist vessel returned the fire in self defense.

Mother Fights Rare Disease

Condition of Mrs. Baker Improves, but Still Is Critical

DETROIT, (AP)—A slight turn for the better was reported today in the condition of critically ill Mrs. Eugene Baker.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital said the pretty young mother's temperature had fallen although her condition remained perilous.

Mrs. Baker, 22, mother of two babies, is a victim of the rare blood disease, "staphylococcus albus bacteremia." She is threatened with death.

Mrs. Baker's plight brought an outpouting of offers from the public to aid her. She needs blood from a person who has recently survived the same ailment

Through all yesterday and last night, however, no acceptable donor was found. The donor must have RH negative type O blood.

Mrs. Baker's husband, Eugene, 23, World War II Air Force veteran, has been waiting out a weeks long vigil with the two infants, Susan 27 months, and Michael, 11 months.

A deaf woman, with a newspaper folded under her arm, came to give blood. However, she walked away regretfully shaking her head. An exchange of notes showed her blood not acceptable.

Mio Soldier Identified as Held by Communists

WASHINGTON (UP) — The Defense Department has identified Cpl. Russell D. Schanck, Mio, Mich., as one of nine more Americans believed to have been captured but never accounted for by the Communists in Korea.

Schanck's name appeared on a list released Tuesday by the Defense Department. He is the son of Clifford D. Schanck, Mio.

Commission Sees No More Cutbacks

DETROIT (UP) — The Michigan Employment Security Commission predicted today there will be further cutbacks in Detroit's labor force during the rest of 1953 but said "no critical unemployment situation" is likely.

"A moderate decline is replacing the record employment plateau of the past 10 months," the commission said in its Labor Market Letter.

The commission said 39,000 persons were laid off between mid-July and mid-August. However, the employment level was still 8.7 per cent above that of August, 1952.

Detroit industries were employing 471,000 persons in August, compared with 778,000 in June and 636,360 a year ago, the commission said.

Pair Found Dead in Parked Car

MONROE (AP) — A young mother of two and a youth were found asphyxiated in a parked car near the Monroe City dump yesterday.

The victims were identified as Mrs. Dorothy W. Teague, a Monroe waitress, and Odell Harris, of nearby Carleton. Both were 20.

Harris' body was found on the front seat and Mrs. Teague's on the rear seat, the coroner reported. The car windows were closed, the ignition was on and the gasoline tank was empty.

Two Monroe men made the gruesome discovery while searching for a place to launch their boat on Lake Erie.

Police said Mrs. Teague's husband, Marshall, and their two children were in Tennessee. Harris' parents said he had been missing since Sunday but Monroe police had no missing report on him.

Young Turkish Youths Copy 'Arizona Gang'

ISTANBUL (AP) — Newspapers raised a hue and cry over American cowboy and gangster films after Turkish police uncovered a group of teenage thieves banded together as the "Arizona Gang."

Three of the 'Arizona Gang," ages ranging from 8 to 11, were caught after an armed raid on a home in the center of Istanbul.

Coming! A great new column for our readers

Watch for:

'MARY MARGARET McBRIDE SAYS'

STARTS NEXT MONDAY

You should watch for "MARY MARGARET McBRIDE SAYS—," the new daily column to appear in this paper starting Monday.

Mary Margaret McBride is a country girl who found fame and fortune in the big city because she treats people like cherished neighbors.

One of the best-loved, widely-heard and read women in America, she was a newspaper woman and magazine writer before she detoured—for 20 years—into radio. Now this warm-hearted, friendly woman, with her remarkable way with people, is achieving a life-long ambition: a newspaper column of her own, a place to set down impressions, reactions, second thoughts and memorable stories.

Currently heard over a 200-station network, Mary Margaret never has allowed her typewriter to grow rusty. She has been a frequent contributor to magazines and somehow has found time to write a total of 17 books.

Korea Dreams of Peace; 8th Army Plans for War

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign News Editor

Back in the death-laden winter of 1950-51, Korean children skated on the frozen paddies while shells from the big guns whistled overhead.

It was a demonstration how these tough people—and to some extent, all humanity—could adopt themselves in time to almost any situation.

Now the Koreans live in a nightmarish half-world of neither peace nor war.

In the United Nations, world diplomats labor through a snarl of parliamentary red tape which may or may not lead to a political conference on Korea's future and may or may not result in a united, independent Korea.

United Press correspondent Victor Kendrick reports from Seoul: "Among the blackened ruins of bombed-out buildings and along the cratered streets are appearing sure signs of peace—night clubs and civilian automobiles."

The job of rebuilding Korea will take years, Kendrick says, "but the first shoots of the new life already are sprouting like the rice that covers the fertile valley and is the backbone of the country's economy."

Korean men in Western civilian clothes are appearing on the streets, now that the army is releasing soldiers over 35.

Shops overflow with goods, including blackmarket items which somehow find their way out of well-stocked army warehouses.

Visitors to government offices are greeted with a cup of coffee, once a priceless item on the black market.

In other words, the average Korean welcomes even a half peace and he hopes it is just the beginning of better times.

But the way will not be easy. The war made more than 6,000,000 South Koreans homeless. Whole villages were flattened. It has been estimated that before South Korea can become self-supporting, it will need nearly $2,000,000,000 in aid. Some $400,000,000 is needed at once.

The situation as it affects the South Korean civilian population is far different for the United Nations Eighth Army which still must face the possibility that the war will resume with redoubled fury.

To that end, anti-aircraft and radar warning crews are getting intensified training. Foot soldiers are working through problems of amphibious landings, patrol actions and every phase of warfare, particularly as it relates to Korea.

Fighter pilots are putting in even more hours in the air than they did during combat.

The Koreans, as with civilians everywhere, dream of peace. But the Eighth Army must be prepared for war.

EVERY WASHDAY

TAKE IT EASY with an ELECTRIC DRYER!

Ever stop to count the steps you take to do the wash? The average woman takes 625 steps from the washer, up the stairs, into the yard, and back again—that's 2500 steps for four loads! An electric clothes dryer eliminates all those extra steps. It also eliminates lugging baskets of heavy, wet clothes . . . bending, stretching . . . pulling, tugging, tightening lines. Too, a dryer's gentle action fluffs and softens clothes . . . tosses wrinkles out so that ironing's easier. But find out for yourself. Buy an electric clothes dryer now, during "Dryer Days."

A FLIP OF A SWITCH DOES THE WORK

DRY BLANKETS, PILLOWS, STUFFED TOYS—MOST ANYTHING

FLUFFY, SOFT, SWEET-SMELLING CLOTHES

You'll notice a wonderful difference in your first dryer load. Blankets, towels, chenilles, diapers—all your laundry feels softer, fluffier, smells fresher.

Expect Boost in French Aid

New Agreement Would Send More Dollars to Help in Indochina

WASHINGTON (AP)— The United States is nearly ready to sign a new agreement with France pledging 385 million dollars in added American military contributions to help crush the Communist threat in Indochina.

A formal announcement is expected sometime today, climaxing weeks of intensive French-American strategy discussions.

The deal would back up a 400 million dollar sum voted by Congress earlier this year to finance guns, ammunition, planes and equipment needed to continue the seven-year-old Indochina struggle.

* * *

President Eisenhower has personally approved it despite his administration's economy program.

The National Security Council secretly approved the arrangement in a meeting two weeks ago as part of a Western drive to keep the rich Indochina area out of Communist hands.

The French government reportedly has promised in return:

* * *

1. To move nine battalions of regular French army troops from Europe to Indochina to reinforce some 200,000 French soldiers already battling the Communist-led guerrillas.

2. To grant complete, visible independence to the three Indochina states of Laos, Cambodia and Viet-Nam in order to build up anti-Communist support among the Indochinese people.

3. To step up the training of loyal Indochinese armies by borrowing some of the techniques used by American forces in training and equipping the South Korean army.

* * *

The new weapons purchased with American aid will enable the French and loyal Indochinese, it is hoped, later to mount their own end-the-war offensive and wipe out the Communist forces within a two-year period.

SERVICE GLASS COMPANY—A modern automobile glass installation building at 120 West Pike will be opened by the Service Glass Company Thursday. Measuring 34 by 110 feet, this building of cinder block and brick will house office space, a waiting room, and a complete service center which can handle four cars at one time. Adjacent parking area is also provided.

About 100 persons who claim they are 100 or more years old, die each month in the United States from a variety of causes.

Auto Glass Replacement Service Opens Thursday

Known as the Service Glass Company, co-owners are Matt Shelton, his son, Larry Shelton, and son-in-law, Bill Whitlow.

Constructed of brick, cinder block, steel and covered with a complete gypsum roof, this 34 by 110 foot building has a large front office and in the rear a spacious service center.

"With our slogan, 'new automobile glass while you wait,' we wanted nice, comfortable surroundings for our waiting customers," pointed out Shelton.

The service center has room for four cars at one time and a staff of five to ma'e the installations.

Shelton established his business in Pontiac in 1933 at corner of Saginaw and Elm streets. He lives at 18 Charlotte.

Contractor for the building was George Byers of Pontiac and the architect, William C. Zimmerman, also of Pontiac.

Agriculture Department to Get New No. 1 Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—A super marketing bureau, intended to regain world outlets that have been slipping away, will become the No. 1 agency in the Agriculture Department under a reorganization plan Secretary Benson is completing.

This new agency will replace the Production and Marketing Administration (PMA), the present day successor to the politically controversial Agricultural Adjustment Administration (AAA) set up in the early days of the Roosevelt New Deal.

The first public step in creating a big marketing bureau was taken yesterday with the transfer of Benson's top adviser from a post involving crop control and price support operations to one concerned with foreign marketing activities.

He is Ass.t Secretary John H. Davis, former executive secretary of the National Council of Farmer Cooperatives, and outstanding among Benson aides for popularity with members of Congress and most far organizations.

Details of the reorganization can plan have not yet been completed and it may be two or three months before it is put into effect.

Benson is known to feel that a sound solution to the farm problems of declining prices and accumulating surpluses is to be found in developing new markets, rather than in price supports and production controls.

At present, the department's marketing activities are divided among four agencies—the Production and Marketing Administration, the Foreign Agricultural Service, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics and the Research Administration.

Benson plans to place them in one unit, with Davis the boss.

A remnant of the Production and Marketing Administration, heretofore the big department agency, would be limited to activities concerning price supports and production adjustments when the latter were deemed necessary.

In making the marketing agency the top unit, Benson is acting on his expressed belief that when supports and crop control measures are needed it is because marketing has fallen down.

The present uneasy farm situation, with its below parity prices and big surpluses, has developed at the same time that foreign markets for farm products have dropped nearly a third from postwar levels.

Davis was general manager of the National Wool Marketing Corp. in Boston before he was called in by Benson last January to take a top department post. He had been highly thought of by some of the major farm organizations for the agricultural post in the Eisenhower cabinet.

Ottawa Paper Stops Publishing in Morning

OTTAWA, (AP)—Canada's capital will be without a morning paper, beginning tomorrow, for the first time in 102 years.

The Ottawa Citizen announced today that it is merging its morning and afternoon editions, publishing henceforth only in the afternoon. Today's morning paper is the last after 102 years of publication, the announcement said.

The Citizen said it believed the merger would "improve materially" the paper's service. Recent figures put the Citizen's morning circulation at 12,499, its evening at 48,582.

Governor's Order Saves Pet Doe for Virginia Boys

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Two little boys, slicked up in their Sunday best, changed the "established policies of the state" yesterday and got a deer in return.

It started when Buddy Barrack III, 14, and his brother, Lawrence, 9, called on Gov. John S. Battle to discuss a problem dear to their hearts.

* * *

The governor listened to how the youngsters had saved a deer from a pack of dogs last summer. They nursed it, cared for it and named it Bambi.

Then they got the word. State law said the doe had to be turned over to a state game preserve.

That was what the boys went to see Gov. Battle about. Couldn't he use his power and prestige to let them keep the deer?

The governor calld State Game Commissioner I. T. Quinn. To let the boys keep the deer would be against the law, but . . .

Late yesterday, the governor called his secretary and dictated a letter.

"Dear Buddy," it began.

"It is seldom that one or two individuals within the space of a few hours can reverse the trend of established policies of the state. But, after considering . . ."

Yes, the governor said, the boys could keep their pet.

Youngster, 4, Learns Crime Does Not Pay

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—A 4-year-old boy is standing up for meals today after a brief, but spectacular, try at crime.

Patrolman John J. Barry saw the tot running away from a small variety store which had a hole in a window. Barry caught the youngster, who readily turned over the loot—59 cents.

The boy had tossed a stone through the window, unlocked the door, and snatched the money.

Internal Spies Watch Workers in Red China

By FRED HAMPSON

HONG KONG (AP)—Red China's newest internal organization hints the Communists are having more difficulty maintaining discipline in their ranks.

In announcing the creation of a set of "supervisory correspondents," Peiping described them as selected from "activists in production, upright and responsible, loyal and courageous and able to maintain contact with the masses."

Translated from Communist gobbledegook, this describes a new set of domestic spies. They spell trouble for for dissidents in the party ranks. Their job is to watch fellow workers, making sure they refrain from "damage to the state and the peoples' interest."

* * *

The new gumshoes will not get salaries, but will be paid "expenses" for their reports.

Why is Peiping starting this new system of internal spies? It's not easy to say, but there are some hints here and there in Red propaganda.

One is that too many party big wigs have been resisting "criticism." That is, they have fought back when people have accused them, usually anonymously, of misdeeds in the party lexicon.

They have tried to find out who accused them and, frequently successful, have used their power to protect themselves and take revenge.

* * *

To the Communist bosses—the men at the top—that sort of thing imperils the whole party structure. That's because it is upon the willingness of the party commissars and cadres to accept criticism, to criticize themselves (and, of course repent their misdeeds) that party safety lies and party power is made solid.

To defend their actions and to answer criticism with logical defense is to adopt bourgeois logic which denies the basic theory that the party is infallible.

The new spy system inevitably will increase the already taut atmosphere of suspicion and fear in Red China. It also seems to carry the danger of more internal conflict. For now no Red worker will be able to trust any other.

Arabs to Aid Egypt in El Ouga Trouble

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Ahmed Shukairy, assistant secretary general of the Arab League, told newsmen today that the Arab states will give Egypt full support in whatever action she takes against Israel's alleged occupation of El Ouga, in the demilitarized zone of Southern Palestine.

Egypt claimed yesterday that Israel had violated the armistice agreements by attacking and occupying the village of Ouga, between the Egyptian and Israeli frontiers. Egypt said she was prepared to take "all necessary measures."

Israel denied the reports and said the only troops in the area were the military guards allowed under the armistice agreement.

U.S. Ambassador Jefferson Caffery conferred with Foreign Minister Mahmoud Fawzi today and later told reporters they had discussed the El Ouga incident. He declined to comment when asked if the U.S. government intended to take some action on the incident.

Critic Assigns Sports Writer to Outdoor Beat

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (UP) — A reader recently complained to Chamblis Pierce, a sportswriter for the Knoxville News-Sentinel that Pierce should be called a "fishing and shooting editor."

"By that," said Pierce, "the man told me he meant I was always fishing around for secrets to shoot my mouth off about.

"Then he asked me where the fish were biting."

Boyd Will Gives Stock to Church

First Presbyterians Will Get 2,000 Shares GMC Common

A bequest of 2,000 shares of General Motors Corporation common stock was made to Pontiac's First Presbyterian Church in the will of the late Frank R. Boyd, 86, former treasurer of the Oakland Motor Car Co., who died Sept. 24.

The will, filed recently in Oakland County Probate Court, also specified that the proceeds from dividends be used for general church purposes as a memorial to Mr. Boyd's late sister, Annie E. Boyd.

Under terms of the will the stock is not to be sold or disposed of unless such action is approved by a unanimous vote of the church board.

Boyd, who died Sept. 24, also made additional stock and cash bequeaths to several relatives and friends. Value of the estate has not been determined.

GM Institute at Flint Enrolls 900 Students

General Motors Institute at Flint today announced a record first-year enrollment of approximately 900 cooperative engineering, business administration and dealer cooperative students for the fall semester.

Guy R. Cowing, president and director of GMI, said this largest first-year class in the 34-year history of the institute brings the fall enrollment to approximately 2,300 in the cooperative programs. Of the total, 1,700 students will be enrolled in engineering, 200 in business administration and 400 in the dealer program.

The 1953 enrollment presages an anticipated enrollment of more than 2,500 in 1954 when the current expansion program at GMI will increase floor space by 40 per cent and provide facilities for the highest quality in engineering education.

Lee J. Cobb Admits Being a Communist

WASHINGTON (AP) — Actor Lee J. Cobb described himself as a former Communist in testimony made public by the House Un-American Activities Committee.

Cobb, a stage, screen and television performer, is quoted in the hearing record as saying he joined the Communist Party in 1940 or 1941 in New York City and kept up his Communist connections for about two years after moving to Hollywood in August, 1942.

He gave the committee names of persons he said he knew as Communists, a number of whom refused to answer questions on constitutional grounds that their answers might be incriminating.

Pride, Power Collide as 50th World Series Opens

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel's proud New York Yankees and Charlie Dressen's powerful Brooklyn Dodgers sought to reach previously unscaled heights today as the two championship clubs opened the 50th World Series before some 70,000 spectators at Yankee Stadium.

The Yankees, winners of five straight American League pennants, are after an unprecedented fifth successive world's championship. The Dodgers, hailed as "the greatest team in Brooklyn history," went into their seventh October classic with a record of never having won a series.

Probably because they feel they've got to ride with a winner, the odds-makers have established the Yankees a 13-10 favorite to polish off the Brooks for the fifth time in as many clashes. The Bronx Bombers whipped the Dodgers in series competition in 1941, 1947, 1949 and 1952. The series went the full seven games last year.

The game was slated to get under way at 1:05 p. m., EST, and close to 80-degree weather was promised. A sellout was assured long ago with thousands frantically seeking precious tickets with little or no success. The series will be telecast by NBC and broadcast by MBS.

* * *

Allie Reynolds, 35-year-old veteran mound campaigner, was Stengel's choice to get the Yankees off winging. He was to be opposed by Carl Erskine, slim 25-year-old right-hander, who developed into the Dodgers' ace the past season, winning 20 games.

* * *

Reynolds won only 13 games against 7 losses but the strong-armed right-hander is known as a great money pitcher. He already record, the Dodgers felt confident has won six World Series games, four over the Dodgers, and needs one more to equal a World Series record held by Charlie (Red) Ruffing, a Yankee stalwart of Joe McCarthy's pennant-winning machines.

Both teams, after engaging in final tune-ups yesterday, went into battle at top strength. Carl Furillo, the National League's batting champion, who has been sidelined since Sept. 6 with a broken finger suffered in a brawl with Leo Durocher, was in right field for the Dodgers. Gene Woodling, also nursing an injured left hand, was at his old post in left field for the Yankees. Each has received permission to use sponge-rubber padding on their bats.

Also back in the lineup for Brooklyn was Gil Hodges, the slugging first baseman, who cracked a couple of ribs two weeks ago while substituting for Furillo in right field.

Despite their inglorious series record, the Dodgers felt confident that this would be their year. And they had plenty of supporters, who pointed to their power-packed lineup that embraces five .300 hitters and the circuit's leading batter and run-producer.

* * *

The Yankees' lineup is not nearly so awesome but it is a well-knit machine that accentuates defense, coordination, spirit and the confidence of long-time champions.

So the series figure to come to this: Can the Yankee pitchers check the Dodger hitters? The real key may be Reynolds, whose effective mound work both as a starter and relief artist was the biggest single factor in last year's Yankee triumph.

'Birdie' Goes Shopping

New Cincinnati Pilot Looks for Right-Handers

* * *

Tebbetts, who piloted Indianapolis to fourth place in the American Assn. this season after 16½ years of major league catching, was signed to a two-year contract late yesterday as the successor to the recently fired Rogers Hornsby.

"I don't know much about the Cincinnati players," said Tebbetts. "After all, I spent my days playing in the American League."

But General Manager Gabe Paul quickly advised his new field boss of the club's need for pitchers—particularly those that throw right handed. So Birdie joined Paul in sounding out several club owners here for the World Series.

* * *

Paul said he already had talked to several clubs but that nothing was definite. He also declined to say whether he was willing to trade off some of the Redlegs or pay cash.

Tebbetts' salary for his first major league managerial job was not announced. But Paul said he was the only one the Redlegs talked to about the position although there were many applicants.

* * *

Tebbetts broke into major league baseball with the Detroit Tigers in 1936. He was traded to the Boston Red Sox for catcher Harold Wagner May 20, 1947. The Red Sox sold him to Cleveland Dec. 13, 1950. he was used chiefly as a reserve catcher by the Indians.

REDLEG BOSS — Named as the new manager of the Cincinnati Redlegs Tuesday was fiery George (Birdie) Tebbetts, former catcher for the Detroit Tigers, Boston Red Sox and Cleveland Indians. Tebbetts, who replaced Rogers Hornsby, has been managing the Indianapolis Indians of the American Association.

Pontiac's Kline Has Top Aerial Record in MVC

Davey Has Completed 8 of 17 for 143 Yards, Two Touchdowns

DETROIT (AP)—Gleaned from college campuses:

Davey Kline, former Pontiac St. Freds player), University of Detroit quarterback, has been far from brilliant in his passing this season, but his record is better than any other player in the Missouri Valley Conference. Kline has tried 17 passes, completing eight for 143 yards. Two went for touchdowns.

Central Michigan opens defense of its IIAC football championship Friday night against Eastern Illinois—and the Illinois visitors hope history doesn't repeat. In the last two years, Illinois was crushed by Central Michigan, 59-27 and 41-0.

Friday night, incidentally, is "Lloyd Brazel" night. Before the Detroit-Fordham game, the former U of D All-America will be honored. It marks the 25th anniversary since he was selected as an All-America. Seven of his records are still school standards.

Poor Wayne University, out of the frying pan and smack into the fire. The Tartars, who scored only six points to the opposition's 81 while losing their first two games, meets Michigan State Normal Saturday night. Normal is the team which has impressed with victories over Hope and Hillsdale.

Sunny Weather Promised

NEW YORK (AP) — "Mostly sunny" weather was forecast today for the opening game of the 1953 World Series. The afternoon temperature was expected to range between 75 and 80 degrees.

Fesler Offers Theory on Why Minnesota Fell

Switch of Accent From Power to Speed Hurt Men From North

For Michigan State the game has many-sided significance. Minnesota is a roadblock on the way to a possible Big Ten championship, a Rose Bowl bid and repeat national championship which the Spartans won last year.

National and conference championships were almost routine at Minnesota in the 1930s and early '40s. But they stopped abruptly after 1941 and the Gophers now are bidding, against odds, for a return to national status.

On form, they don't figure to win any titles this year, but a victory over Michigan State might be the urge they need.

Gopher coach Wes Fesler, who says "Minnesota has no change on paper" against the Spartans, has a theory about Minnesota's fall from the elite. Fesler says Minnesota started losing when its beefy but slow teams ran into new offenses which put a premium on speed and the forward pass.

"Players up here," he says, "by nature are slower afoot. When the new offenses cut down the effectiveness of power football, Minnesota teams started to slip."

They've slipped, but not to the point where they're anybody's pushover. The Gophers Saturday will have enough equipment to press Michigan State's current powerhouse, ranked second behind Notre Dame in this week's Associated Press poll.

The big Gopher threat remains artistic Paul Giel, called by Southern California coach Jess Hill the finest open field runner he's ever seen after Minnesota's 17-7 loss at Los Angeles last Saturday. Giel is especially dangerous operating off a spread formation, and Minnesota may shoot the works with it Saturday.

Holly Question Is Answered

By JACK SAYLOR

Protz had a number of fine first line players back this fall to defend the Broncos' undefeated record and Wayne-Oakland championship of 1952, but he was unsure of his "bench."

He found out Friday in a 40-6 victory over Hartland. Regulars saw limited action, but the Broncos' efficiency was not hampered by the appearance of reserves.

Tops among the sophomore group were back Dave Huber and end Norm Valek. Latter is a nephew of Vince Valek, a University of Michigan end some years back. Dick Smith and Jerry Hunter each had two touchdowns for Holly.

Were a back and lineman-of-the-week to to chosen, honors likely would go to Jerry O'Shaunghnessy of Keego Harbor and Larry Spencer of Oxford.

O'Shaunghnessy turned in a fine game as Keego whipped Walled Lake, 20-0. He scored three touchdowns, two on short runs and one on a 35-yard pass from his brother Lester.

Spencer was a bulwark in the Oxford line, doing an outstanding job on defense as the Wildcats beat Clawson, 7-0. He also contributed the game-winning TD by blocking a kick and falling on the ball in the end zone.

Bill Long was Southfield's standout in a 6-0 win over Waterford. His 96-yard punt return for a touchdown was nullified by a penalty, but he came back to score the game's only touchdown in the last quarter.

Skippers continued to have offensive trouble, but the defense is doing nicely. End Dick Tims, tackle, Dick Clautier and sophomores Jerry Kruskie at end and Al Nestor at guard were top performers Friday.

Don Robertson and Max Powell set the pace in Rochester's 26-6 win over Farmington. On defense, linebacker Jerry LeBarre and tackle Buzz DeBaene were prominent.

End Don Perkuchih again was a standout both ways, although Milford was tied by Clarenceville. Jerry Winterhalter scored the Redskins' touchdown on a 45-yard run and guard Tom Higgins was a defensive stalwart.

Pete Thompson was a steady gainer for Clarkston in the Wolves' scoreless deadlock with Brighton. Troy also played a tie game on a soggy field at Romeo. Center Tom Langston of Troy did a good job on offense, handling the wet football in fine manner.

Lake Orion marked up its second straight win by beating Avondale, 13-6, Ed Leach sparked the offense, while tackle Jim Arnold blocked a punt and did well defensively, as did guard-linebacker Floyd Behl.

Small Lineup for Tickets Contrast to Past Years

NEW YORK (AP)—A mere 50 persons stood in line outside mammoth Yankee Stadium early today waiting to buy $2 bleacher seats for the first game of the 1953 World Series.

The small number was in marked contrast to recent years when, at the same hour approximately 12 hours before game time, as many as 300 fans settled down for the all-night vigil.

Veterans of series bleacher lines were unanimous in ascribing the paucity of bleacherites to the rise in prices. In previous years, the unreserved seats sold for $1.

Asked if television were a factor, they generally agreed:

"No, it ain't TV. You don't get the excitement, the thrills that way. The kids ain't got the price."

Absence of teenagers was apparent. In past years, there were many youngsters in line. This morning, there were only a few.

The five policemen on duty near the block-long wooden barricades on River avenue had little to do.

Again in contrast to earlier years, the fans were quiet. And there were no souvenir salesmen present. Often in the past, there were as many peddlers as ticket-seekers.

Scalpers Find Going Rugged

New York Police Are Checking Illegal Sale of Series Ducats

NEW YORK (AP) — Six alleged scalpers, including three employes of a midtown ticket agency, were arrested yesterday as police cracked down on the illegal sale of World Series tickets.

Among those arrested were two midtown hotel bellhops and a 33-year-old Pittsburgh, Pa., meat dealer. The bellhops were identified by police as Paul Dean and Victor La Ranger, both 36.

They were picked up in the lobby of a hotel.

Patrolman Patrick Plunchino accused Dean of selling him four $7 reserved seats for $90.

Brokers reselling tickets are permitted to charge $1 more than the face value of each ticket.

235 Pounder Joins Detroit Lions Club

Mains is a former football star at Murray State Teachers college, Murray, Ky. He brings to 34 the number of players on the Lions' roster.

Under National League rules, the club will have three weeks to decide whether to retain Mains or place him on waiver.

Pitching Will Determine Series Winner; Yankees Experienced Mound Staff Appears to Have Edge

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—If you will be kind enough to tell me how the pitching in this next Series will go, the rest of it is easy. There isn't enough difference between the rest of the two ball clubs to matter, as long as Carl Furillo and Gil Hodges are doubtful factors.

* * *

From this somewhat hazy lookout it strikes me the Yankees have the better of the pitching argument with a stronger staff. They have more experience under fire, but the margin isn't thick enough to count heavily.

* * *

Allie Reynolds, the able veteran, has worked two fine games in succession and he certainly is in shape. The entire Yankee and Dodger staffs should be ready with two weeks dedicated for this purpose. If they are not ready now, they will never be.

As the situation looks today this Series should rival the 1952 session in continued thrills. The material is there for a Series of brilliant games, fought to a seven-game finish.

Both clubs have completely dominated the two leagues. I can't recall another year where the two winning teams so completely outclassed the pulverized opposition. This leaves these two teams alone in their glory.

* * *

The 1953 Brooklyn Club, with Furillo and Hodges in normal form has been the best National League club, minus the pitching, the league has offered in over 50 years.

Pitching is uncertain. Outside of Carl Erskine it is at least erratic. Dodger bats and Dodger defense carried many a tottering moundsman safely through this last season. Yet the staff stands high in strikeouts and at times can be able enough.

* * *

Dangerous Big Reds Come Here Friday

Conversion Attempts on Points After Touchdown, Punting Are Very Poor

By JOHN F. MAYHEW

This truth hit home at Michigan today in the midst of its preparation for Saturday's meeting with Tulane. Coach Bennie Oosterbaan was trying to do something about it.

Plenty of kicking practice was on the agenda Tuesday in the Michigan football camp. There's plenty more to come.

It all stemmed from the kicking in Michigan's 50-0 rout of Washington last Saturday. Conversion tries were as bad as the team's general play was good.

Oosterbaan used four kickers in the tries for extra points. Halfback Tony Branoff and quarterback Duncan McDonald each made one. Misses were made by Branoff (two), quarterback Lou Baldacci (three) and fullback Dave Hill (one).

Punting was not much better. Three men tried their luck. Branoff's lone try flopped 13 yards. McDonald tried two and averaged 29 yards. Halfback Ted Kress averaged 33.5 on his two tries.

It must be pointed out, however, that the Michigan team has concentrated on team play since the opening of fall drills and that emphasis showed up in a precise and effective performance against Washington. Poor kicking actually didn't matter.

With more emphasis now placed on the kicking, it is likely that the improvement will soon be evident. Branoff, Baldacci and Kress are all competent kickers and it is probable that they got a lot of the bad boots out of their system.

Pass defense and downfield blocking are being stressed in drills this week as Pontiac High's football team prepares to put its 2-game winning streak on the line against a reportedly dangerous Lansing Sexton eleven here Friday night.

Scouting reports emphasize that Sexton, while comparatively small, is the hardest hitting team yet to face Pontiac. Big Reds dropped their opener to Muskegon, 7-0, and won over Ypsilanti by an identical score.

Big gun in the Lansing attack is Dick Frazier, a 5-foot 9-inch 142-pound speedster. Frazier, who runs from both halfback positions in Coach Clayton Kowalk's T-formation, was the team's leading ground gainer against Ypsi last week.

Chiefs came out of their battle with Hamtramck in good physical shape. Only man on the injury list is defensive halfback Lee Quince, who suffered a pulled back muscle. Coach Ed Graybiel plans no changes in his usual starting offensive lineup, but may make a few switches in his defensive backfield.

Game is set for 8 p.m. at Wisner Memorial Stadium.

Lowry Scores Knockout

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Pat Lowry, fighting Marine from Toledo, O., knocked out Tommy Maddox of Chicago in the featured bout Tuesday night as boxing returned to Grand Rapids' Civic Auditorium.

The 142-pound Lowry floored Maddox in the fifth round of the scheduled eight-round match. It was Maddox's first loss in professional boxing. He weighed in at 140 pounds.

Big 7 Eyeing Orange Bowl

Possibilities of a Pact With Atlantic Loop Is Investigated

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UP) —A three-man Big Seven conference committee today was studying the "Orange Bowl situation" and will report findings back to the conference.

Orange Bowl officials have tried to establish an agreement with both the Big Seven and the newly-formed Atlantic Coast Conference for the champions of those circuits to meet in the Orange Bowl at Miami.

Big Seven faculty representatives met here Tuesday and Reaves Peters, secretary to the conference, said about 95 per cent of the time was spent discussing the Orange Bowl plan.

The conference, made up of Oklahoma, Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Iowa State, Colorado and Kansas State, has a ban against members playing in post-season games.

Peters, named a member of the committee along with Earl Fullbrook of Nebraska and R. I. Throckmorton of Kansas State, said the bowl situation was "very fluid."

Mound City Sorry Browns Had to Go

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis baseball fans were busy today trying to get used to the idea of being a one-club major league town.

The Browns, after three-quarters of a century here, were shifted to Baltimore yesterday. President Bill Veek sold his interest in the club to a Baltimore syndicate.

Now only the National League Cardinals remain.

Fans generally are sorry to see the club go but there didn't seem to be any alternative. From the time of Chris Von Der Ahe to Veek, financial troubles plagued the Browns.

Businessmen concerned with the baseball operation figure the shift will cost the city about half a million dollars a year.

Tulane Hopes Against UM Ride With Good Backfield

By JAMES SAGGUS

It will carry the football hopes of the Southeastern Conference Saturday against the University of Michigan with questionable support up front.

Even coach Raymond (Bear) Wolf isn't sure how much help the line will provide. Tulane's line, reshuffled to cover gaping holes, looks good at times, but has made blunders.

"After the way Michigan rolled (50-0)," Wolf said, "We will have to play our best ball to stay on the field with them."

Wolf used only 22 players in losing to Georgia 16-14 last Saturday, when the 60-minute player returned to the squad for the first time since two platoon football appeared.

Quarterback Pete Clement will guide the T attacks, while halfback Lester Kennedy will drop back to tailback in the double wing.

Wings Play Exhibition With Edmonton Farm

Chicks' Prexy Says Won't Play in 1954

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Roy G. Taylor, president of the Grand Rapids Chicks, local entry in the American Girls Baseball League, Tuesday announced that the club would not operate next year.

Taylor notified Harold Van Orman of Fort Wayne, Ind., league president, that the board of directors was surrendering its franchise and offering players and assets for sale.

Decision to discontinue the Chicks was made after the local board of directors suffered more than a $15,000 loss last season.

Saturday Game Homecoming for 'Biggie' Munn

EAST LANSING (AP) — The return of a native will be celebrated when Michigan state coach Biggie Munn goes to Minneapolis for the Minnesota football game Saturday.

Those accustomed to the nickname "Biggie" will be struck by the fact that in Minneapolis he's still known as "Clarence."

Munn was born in Minneapolis, was an Associated Press All-America while a guard at Minnesota and was an assistant to Bernie Bierman there from 1932 through 1934.

Wind Sprints for Loafers

Munn Sends Spartans Through Stiff Workout in Preparation for Gophers

By ROBERT E. VOGES

Any sign of loafing or a poor performance was punished by wind sprints despite the unseasonable heat.

With the start of the school year, the practice didn't get under way until 4 p.m. and lasted until 6 p.m. —nearly sundown.

Two of the regulars were missing when the first team lined up for the offense. Quarterback Tommy Yewcic, nursing a twisted knee, and fullback Evan Slonac, sore from a bruised kidney, went through the dummy drill but were excused from scrimmage.

"They're coming along—showed some improvement," Munn admitted after the stiff workout. "Maybe we'll make three yards a crack instead of two," he quipped after the workout.

Skipper Jayvees Score Win Over Southfield

It took the junior varsity to mark up the first football victory of the season for Waterford High School. Skipper reserves downed Southfield, 19-6, Tuesday at Waterford as Norman Probert capped two sustained drives with touchdown runs of three and two yards.

Sidelights on World Series

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Before entering the first battle, Manager Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees fell over himself being polite. His final pregame statement: "We've got a nice team and they have a splendid team over there so it should be a splendid World Series. What!

* * *

Both Stengel and Manager Chuck Dressen of the Brooklyn Dodgers have been warned by Commissioner Ford Frick that beanballs will not be tolerated. He also instructed them not to blast the umpires after the games for what they considered adverse decisions.

* * *

Dressen is keeping a secret "book" on the Yank batters, but he is willing to discuss reserve infielder Willie Miranda, who isn't much of a hitter. "His weakness is pitched balls," quipped Cholly.

* * *

Television officials say this series will be telecast by the largest network in history—119 stations in 113 cities . . . And no fewer than 750 radio stations will carry the broadcast.

* * *

The Brooks allotted six tickets to each Yankee player for the Ebbets Field games but received only five for the stadium games themselves.

* * *

Three scalpers have been tossed in jail for trying to sell six tickets to Ebbets Field games for $170. The tickets had a face value of $42.

* * *

If any game isn't finished by darkness—which is unlikely in view of the early starting time — the lights in either park will be turned on.

Foul Weather Not Necessity in Duck Hunting

Nimrods Must Report Kills

Cards Are No Longer Attached to Licenses, but Are Available

LANSING (UP) — Michigan's conservation department Tuesday warned hunters they must obtain a game report card when they purchase a hunting license and mail the report card to the department at end of the season.

The department said the report cards, formerly attached to the license, are no longer affixed to the hunting permit and that many sportsmen apparently are not obtaining a report card when they buy their small game license.

"It's the hunter's responsibility to see that he gets a report card when he buys a license," the department said. "Failure to report hunting activities (to the department by mail) constitutes a misdemeanor punishable by fines and imprisonment."

Take Bids on Guns

LANSING (UP) — Low bidder for 39 hunting weapons confiscated by the conservation department will be determined at Gaylord Oct. 9, it was announced Tuesday.

The year TY Cobb set the American league afire by stealing 96 bases, he was also thrown out 38 times, a record.

Turkey Won by Brusha in Top Match at OCSC

More than 100 spectators and competitors watched Frank Brusha and Mike Kenjalo battle it out at 100 yards iron sights for a turkey in one highly contested match Sunday at OCSC's range. They tied for high, 28x30, tied again 28x30, again 21x30, then both blew up under the pressure to give Brusha the turkey for an 18x30, his poorest score for the day.

Kenjalo kept on trying until he also won. The event was the 3rd annual OCSC turkey shoot.

Lefty Tyler Succumbs

LOWELL, Mass. (AP) — George A. (Lefty) Tyler, 63, a pitching star of Boston's 1914 "miracle" Braves, died unexpectedly Tuesday virtually on the 39th anniversary of one of baseball's greatest events.

Tyler, a shoe cutter in recent years, won 16 games for those 1914 Braves who startled baseball by rocketing from last place on July 4 to win the National League pennant and then tumble the proud Philadelphia Athletics in four straight games in the World Series.

State Trapping, Hunting 'Crop' Harvest Nears

Season's Yield Should Equal 1952 Figure for Meat, Hides

LANSING (AP)— On Oct. 1 Michigan will start to harvest a $15,800,000 crop — one which sedom is thought of as a crop.

The state conservation department said that the hunting and trapping seasons opening then should equal $15,800,000 worth of meat and hides taken last year. This, it said, was worth almost as much as the state's entire sugar beet, rye, barley and soybean crops.

The department estimated that 10,000 tons of meat were taken by hunters last year, enough food for one year for 28,500 average-sized families.

The fur crop alone was worth almost $2,000,000.

The department estimated meat from the deer herd was worth $8,500,000 with rabbits and pheasant contributing another $1,000,000.

Muskrat pelts brought in $800,000, mink pelts $430,000 and beaver hides $280,000, the department said.

Sportsmen Can Use Two Methods in Bagging Game on Summery Afternoons

BY JACK PATTERSON

Writing this week's column is sort of like playing a solo in an empty concert hall. Just about every able bodied hunter in the area will be "on location" or at least underway toward a favored northern area by the time this reaches print.

PATTERSON

There are always some eager nimrods, though, who through pressure of business or other specious reason can't get away 'til later. It is to those victims of outrageous fortune that the following is addressed.

There has been much gnashing of teeth among early season duck hunters about the "bluebird" weather that is anticipated for the first few days. Stuff and nonsense. It has long been the observation that foul weather is more important to the duck hunts in sporting journals than to such hunts in the round, so to speak.

Some of the best duck shooting we've experienced has been on days palpably more suited to the propogation of butterflies than to downing fowl.

That ducks move around more in windy weather and decoy better under lowering skies is beyond dispute. But these same ducks don't just disappear from the face of the earth when the wind drops and the sun comes out.

* * *

There is no such thing as a "good" duck day or a "poor" duck day except as applied to a certain precise location.

So on those summery afternoons when ducks are rafted and won't come into marsh or inshore blinds, the successful hunter goes where they are. And that's apt to be way out in blue water.

These open water divers can be had, for those who wish to go to the rather considerable effort, by two methods. The hunter can "lie out" in a low silhouette duck boat among a good spread of decoys and take 'em as they come in. Or he can lie up-wind from a large stool and sneak down on the spread when ducks have decoyed to it. The rather specialized craft known as a sneak boat is just about indispensible for the latter type of shooting and serves about as well as anything else for lying-out, now that the battery is prohibited.

Best bets for the first few days are Houghton Lake's North Bay and Middle Grounds, Wildfowl Bay's Fish Point and Rose Island areas, some favored spots in the Flats — depending on the weather (if you'll excuse the expression) and the state-owned Mouille marshes down near Monroe.

Inland duck shooters will find many pot holes dried up and that should increase concentrations on larger permanent sloughs and inland lakes.

Jump shooting on rivers for Mallards and Blacks should be better than usual this season, for the same reason.

Early "pat" shooters will have a perfect excuse for missing. The foliage is about like it was on the 4th of July. Woodcock hunters will find conditions just the same only worse.

Bow hunters won't have to be overly concerned about getting in range of deer. By the time they can see 'em they'll be able to touch 'em.

Yes sir, upland hunters might as well save their ammunition for the first leaf fall. What are we going to do? Why go up and shoot some pats and woodcock, whaddya think?

HUNTING SEASON IS HERE — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wicksall of Roscommon, return from a Michigan bird hunt with a brace of ruffed grouse they bagged with the aid of their Irish setter. Hundreds of thousands of bird hunters will try to duplicate the scene starting Oct. 1 when the small game season opens in northern Michigan.

La Starza Still Is Ranked Leading Heavy Contender

17 — LA STARZEA STILL

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite his knockout loss to heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, Roland LaStarza still is ranked as the No. 1 heavyweight contender in the latest Ring Magazine ratings.

New Yorker was continued in his runner-up position today by Ring editor Nat Faleischer for the fine showing he put up through the first six rounds of the Marciano battle and because of the two defeats suffered by former champion Ezzard Charles.

Charles was kept in the No. 2 post by Fleischer because he has a better overall record than his two conquerors, Nino Valdes, and Harold Johnson. Latter is the top-ranking light heavyweight contender.

Valdes, of Cuba, was moved up from No. 4 to 3, reversing positions with Philadelphia's Dan Bucceroni.

In other changes among the dreadnoughts Germany's Heniz Neuhas advanced from 7th to 5th; Britain's Don Cockell jumped from 8th to 6th; Canadian champion Earl Walls stepped up from 9th to 7, and New York's Coley Wallace moved into the first ten with a No. 9 rating.

There was almost a complete overhaul in the lightweight ranks where Wallace (Bud) Smith of Cincinnati took over the No. 1 contenders' post and Ralph Dupas, 17-year old New Orleans schoolboy, vaulted from 10th to 3rd.

Hancock Fires 25's to Lead 'Skeeters'

Fred Hancock, of Clarkston, fired perfect 25's with both a 12 and 28 guage gun to lead skeet shooters at the Oakland County sportsmen's Club over the week end. Other 25 scores were turned in by Lynn Allen, Bill Bosserman and Keith Van Kirk.

Vi Vandewater had 24x25, along with John Smith, Brown Ball and Bob Theifels. Lloyd Sibley, Frank Sambrook and Jim Ashmore had 23's, while 22's were turned in by Mike Kenjalo, Dave Gerarduzzi, Scott Zimmerman, Bob Sambrook, Gene Soper, Lloyd Goyette and Henry Tiedeman.

The year Ty Cobb set the American league afire by stealing 96 bases, he was also thrown out 38 times, a record.

There is no official evidence that Abner Doubleday invented baseball in 1839 as is often claimed.

Spare Cranes, Hunters Told

Rare Birds Migrating South Along Wildfowl Fly-Ways

It might be a whooping crane, the department said. There are believed to be only 21 members of the species left alive in the world.

These tall white birds soon will be migrating south along the wildfowl fly-ways. Last fall at least two were killed by hunters.

The department said a second look will pay off because the bird has a seven-foot wingspan, white plumage and black wing tips.

Jackson Raceway Meet Crowds Ahead of '52

JACKSON (UP)—Leon A. Slavin of Kalamazoo, president of the Jackson Trinity Association, said today attendance at the Jackson Raceway's current meet is still running ahead of last year's turnout.

The attendance Monday night was the second highest of any Monday in the association's history, he said. Wagering also was running ahead of last year.

Great Lakes Shore Perch Fishing Is Pleasant Sport

LANSING — With a minimum of angling equipment, thousands of fishermen each year take advantage of the pleasant sport of perch fishing along Michigan's Great Lakes shores.

Within easy access of a large portion of Michigan's population, the shores are used for this sport wherever a wharf or breakwater, channel wall or pier affords the fisherman space to drop his line.

Practically speaking, an entire industry has grown up around the prolific little perch, claimed by many to be one of the tastiest of game fishes. Bait and equipment vendors, boat liveries and ferry services help the individual angler, while commercial fishermen count the perch an important standby in their operations.

Perch are native to the Great Lakes and have no trouble keeping their populations high despite heavy annual fishing pressure.

Bookie Loses Race With Police, by Gum

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—A stick of gum was evidence in a charge of registering bets on the speed of a horse.

Police testified in introducing the piece of gum as evidence that the bookie wrote customers' plays on gum and if approached by police put it in his month and began chewing.

He wasn't fast enough, police said, and Inspector Duncan MacNeil grabbed the gum before the bookie could do away with the damaging evidence.

Van Brocklin's Daughter Dislikes Attention to Dad

LOS ANGELES (AP)—It was Norman Van Brocklin's passing that sparked the Los Angeles Rams to a 21-7 victory over the New York Giants, but his little daughter, sitting in the stands got a different picture of the game.

Scribe Reviews Various Forms of Duck Hunting

By MORT NEFF

Getting started in almost any sport is a trying time, in many cases, generally because the participant is a little reluctant to ask questions from those who have acquired the know-how. Learning to hunt is like that—except that some forms of the sport are less complicated than others and therefore attract many more sportsmen. With the advent of the 1953 duck season thousands of would be duck hunters are shying away from this rugged sport mainly because they don't know how to get started.

NEFF

Duck-hunting can get to be a pretty involved business. There is pass-shooting, shooting from blinds, marsh shooting, sneak and layout shooting and a few variations!

Pass shooting calls for the hunter to be in a spot from which he has an open shot at wildfowl as they fly to and from their feeding grounds.

Marsh shooting is done from a duck boat, which is a craft with very little freeboard. The duck boat is punted with a pole thru the marsh until a "pot hole" is found, or a spot where ducks gather to feed or rest. The duck boat is then pulled into the rushes, the rushes are broken over the boat and the gunner crouches in concealment awaiting a flight.

Sneak and layout shooting require the largest number of decoys—almost 100 in some cases. When the decoys are set, the two man sneak boat waits up-wind until the ducks settle, then cast loose to drift down within shooting range. The layout hunter lies flat on his back in a pumpkin seed boat, with decoys only a few feet away from him, downwind. As they flare in to land he rises to a sitting position to shoot. Pick-ups are generally made by another boat.

'Pats' Decline Is Population Cycle Result

Grouse Are Expected to Return to Peak by 1960, However

LANSING — A wildlife mystery sufficient in scope to baffle even a latter-day Sherlock Holmes will, no doubt, bring comment from some grouse hunters this fall.

"There were more 'pats' last fall," they will grumble, and it's a comment to which there now seems no good answers.

They say this is something that was expected and that we can look for even fewer birds in the next few years. Don't worry, though; grouse will build back to a population peak by about 1960.

Talk on Baseball Wins 'Oscar' for Wetterhaun

A talk on the World Series and a prediction that the Yankees will win it won George Wetterhaun the table topic "Oscar" at the YMCA Toastmasters' meeting last night.

Other speakers were George Crabtree, Leonard F. Day, William Carroll and Robert Pote.

Toastmasters will instal officers at their next meeting Oct. 6. Wives are invited. Gerry Libby o the Pontiac Boys Club will give a short piano recital.

Coach Frank Leahy is hoping that Johnny Lattner, his All-America halfback, will have an enjoyable 21st birthday on Oct. 24. That's the day when the Irish play Georgia Tech in Notre Dame Stadium.

Veeck Sells Browns to Baltimore Group

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles today set up in business as a major league club for the first time in 50 years, pouring thousands of dollars in fresh money into the American League's weakest franchise.

* * *

In 62 swift minutes last evening a syndicate of wealthy Baltimore industrialists headed by Clarence W. Miles bought control of the impoverished St. Louis Browns for $2,475,000, agreed to pay outstanding debts of about $600,000 and announced they would spend "all the money we can" to transform the seventh-place team into a winner.

* * *

Miles' associates, who include brewery, munitions and airplane executives, obtained control of the Browns from Bill Veeck at the end of three days wrangling in the most convincing fashion—by producing cold cash when other interested parties were having trouble getting up the ante.

Between Sunday night, when the American League turned them down, and last evening the Baltimoreans increased their immediate bid by more than 1½ million dollars.

* * *

Money made the difference. Although Baltimore alone among the seven cities under consideration offered a suitable major league ball park and a concrete proposal when the civic delegations were received by the American League on Sunday, only four clubs voted in favor of the move on the first ballot.

* * *

A three-hour league session Monday brought a proposal by Del Webb, co-owner of the New York Yankees, to negotiate for Veeck's stock on behalf of unnamed West Coast interests. Miles' group immediately announced plans to match the bid. Originally they had been dickering for only half of Veeck's stock.

Yesterday Webb ruefully reported failure and acknowledged that the Baltimore deal was the best available. He made the motion to approve it.

He did win one concession for the West—a change in the league constitution providing for a 10-team circuit at a time when it would be feasible to include such Pacific Coast cities as Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The Baltimore syndicate, admittedly feeling its way as far as actual baseball operations go, sidestepped neatly most of the queries on immediate plans.

* * *

60-Minute Man Makes Good in College Ranks

Outstanding Jobs Done in Last Weekend Tilts by Many 2-Way Stars

By BOB HOOBING

NEW YOR K(AP) — College football's 60-minute man is making a comeback on the heels of the new limited substitution rule. And first returns indicate he's doing a whale of a job converting from a platoon specialist.

When Notre Dame center Jim Schrader fought off 94-degree heat and eager Sooner linemen to go the distance in the 28-21 Irish conquest of Oklahoma last Saturday he heralded the return of the all-around gridder.

As a matter of fact the entire Notre Dame first team played some 55 minutes without relief — making its own breaks with alert defensive play and capitalizing on them with a well-drilled offense.

Other 60-minute individuals include Colorado A & M's quarterback Bob Collins who passed for a touchdown and booted both extra points as his team upset Kansas State 14-13. And center Ron Summers played a solid game both ways in helping Wichita surprise Tulsa 19-10.

Baylor quarterback Cotton Davidson put on what will surely be considered one of the memorable performances of the year for 59½ minutes in sparking Baylor to a near-flawless 25-0 effort over California.

When Davidson got through scoring two touchdowns completing 8 of 15 passes for 236 yards without an interception and turning in an outstanding defensive game he received a thunderous ovation from the partial Berkeley crowd. It was a tribute to a boy who proved how effective a two-way footballer could be.

Baltimoreans to Celebrate Return to Major Leagues

BALTIMORE (AP)—Baltimoreans, still finding it hard to believe the city's back in major league baseball after 51 years, prepared today to do some real celebrating.

A big civic reception was being readied for Mayor Thomas D'Alesaudro, attorney Clarence W. Miles and others of the Baltimore delegation who kept swinging at a New York American League meeting until they got the St. Louis Browns transferred here.

Few Baltimoreans held little hope that yesterday afternoon's meeting of league officials, at which Miles would make a last-ditch financial bid to get the franchise shifted, would be met

Then the word came . . . flashed across news wires at the supper hour and when comparatively few people were on the streets.

Motorists, hearing the announcement on their car radios as they drove home, ignored traffic signals, stopped in the street and ran over to corners to spread the news to cops and people in businesses.

A man being shaved by barber Joe Pecora on East Gay St., leaped from the chair with his face lathered and a cloth still draped around his neck, and dashed out to collect a 15-1 bet he had made on the Browns coming here.

"He hasn't come back yet," Pecora said a couple of hours later.

It has been a general feeling here that if the city ever got another major league franchise whopping attendance could be looked for.

Baltimore has been a baseball city ever since 1871. Its Orioles—the same name the Browns will adopt—have played in major or minor leagues with marked success and have opened the door for such famous names in the sport as George Herman (Babe) Ruth, Wee Willie Keeler, John McGraw and Wilbert Robinson, Hughey Jennings and Fred Clarke, Jack Ogden, Lefty Grove, Fritz Maisel, Max Bishop and Joe Boley.

Aussie Star Sees Win in Cup Series

SYDNEY, Australia (UP) — Tennis star Mervyn Rose said today Australia should win the Davis Cup challenge round at Melbourne in December.

The young Australian was confident his team was superior, even though he admitted U. S. singles champion Tony Trabert was improving his game steadily and would be a formidable enemy.

Ronzani Given Confidence Vote by Green Bay

By CHRIS EDMONDS

At least, that's word out of Green Bay where the Packer front office Tuesday gave the stocky ex-quarterback a "vote of confidence" in one of the most surprising moves made in years.

"The executive committee," Russell W. Bogda, club president, told Ronzani at the special meeting, "has confidence in its coaching staff and its players, all rumors to the contrary not withstanding."

Bogda's action was unusual in that until Tuesday's meeting there never had been the slightest official displeasure voiced with Ronzani's coaching methods, despite a decidedly inferior exhibition season.

In fact, earlier this month, the word was that the Packers, after many years in the doldrums, had a powerhouse and finally were coming into their own in the National Football League.

Howling started when, after a sensational debut against the New York Giants, the club seemed to fall apart. It lost four straight exhibition games, failing to score in the second half of each. Then, to cap the dismal showings, came Sunday's 27-0 loss to Cleveland in the league opener.

Even before Sunday's game in Milwaukee's County Stadium, the pressbox was flooded with rumors that Ronzani was on his way out. Fans started walking out in the third quarter.

Despite a wealth of rookie talent, outstanding collegiate players of a year ago whom Packer spokesmen less than a month ago declared were sure to stick, only a few remain.

Quarterback Bill Brigman established a Georgia Tech record for passes thrown in a single game when he tossed 30 times against the Florida Gators in 1952.

Rangers Claim Guyle Fielder

Ex-Red Wing Rookie Will Lend Relief for Bentley, Raleigh

VANCOUVER, B. C. (AP)—Center Guyle Fielder, rookie-of-the year in successive seasons in the Western and American Hockey Leagues, has been claimed by New York Rangers on waivers from Detroit Red Wings.

Frank Boucher, Ranger general manager, said here yesterday that he had received confirmation of his waiver claim from hockey's central registry in Montreal.

"Guyle will be our reserve center iceman," Boucher said.

"Both Max Bentley and Don Raleigh injure easily, and if they should be put out of action at any time during this NHL season, Fielder would be the replacement.

"He will go to the Canucks (Vancouver of the Western Hockey League) subject to immediate recall," Boucher said.

The Red Wings a week ago asked waivers "without recall" on Fielder so he could be sold to the Seattle Bombers of the WHL.

Saxton Takes 41st Victory by Decisioning Giardello

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Johnny Saxton beat Joey Giardello who beat Gil Turner who beat Johnny Saxton. It reminds you of comparative football scores. They add up to nothing.

Latest in the series of "pay day" fights was presented last night for the entertainment of 4,995 fans who paid $23,810 to get into the hot, stuffy Philadelphia arena to see smallish Saxton, 151, of New York, push around husky Giardello, 155, in 10 rounds.

Giardello, who aspires to be middleweight champion, aspired to rest last night. Saxton, who thinks Kid Gavilan is an imposter as welterweight champion, took advantage of Pal Joe's rest to gain his 41st victory in 43 fights.

The defeat was number seven for Giardello in 52 fights — he's won 43 and come out even nine times.

Saxton, slow in starting, had everything his own way after the third round. He pounded the Philadelphian with both hands, cutting him under both eyes. He consistently beat the bigger man to the punch.

Orioles' Home Will Seat Nearly 52,000

BALTIMORE, Md. (UP) —Here's what the home of the new Baltimore Orioles will be like:

The big field, dubbed Babe Ruth Stadium but also called Memorial Stadium, will have about 51,750 seats on opening day when present construction of a second deck is complete. The rectangular park will be double-decked except at the far end. While construction is going on, only about 27,000 seats are available for football.

Distance from home plate to the stands will measure 300 feet at each foul line. However, center field will be very deep, somewhat like the Polo Grounds in New York.

Seattle was the first U. S. hockey team to win the Stanley cup, taking it in 1917.

Feature to Flint Horse

Out of state trotters and pacers captured five of the eight races on the card.

Cards Ask Waivers on Ex-Purdue Star

CHICAGO (AP) — Dale Samuels, Purdue's great 1952 quarterback, was looking for another professional football job today. The Chicago Cardinals, saying he couldn't make the grade, asked waivers on him.

Samuels was a big star at Purdue during his collegiate career, completing 259 of 516 passes for 3,154 yards. With the Cards, he saw little action during the exhibition season and none at all during Sunday's opening regular-season game with Washington.

But It Doesn't Hurt

Records Show Winning of First Game Not Necessary to Take World Series

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—They are playing another World Series opener today, and we have been hearing and reading a great deal about the vital character of the contest—how the Yankees will be stricken virtually defenseless if they should lose it to the Brooklyn Dodgers and, of course, vice versa.

* * *

It got us to wondering why they even bother to play more than the one game if that's the case—barring the sordid financial aspects—and the next step was to grab for a record book. Before you give up on your beaten heroes tonight, join us in a look.

Their chances of coming back to win the championship are, so far as we can make out, exactly even if you can believe what has happened in the past 20 World Series. If that's a fair enough sample, then it doesn't matter at all whether a club wins or loses the first game.

* * *

Beginning with the 1933 playoff in which Carl Hubbell starred in the New York Giants' 4-1 series victory over Washington, 10 teams which were destined to emerge as proud champions got their ears beaten off in the opener. The same number won the first one.

A year ago, lacking a day, Joe Black came out of the Brooklyn bullpen to hammer the Yankees and Allie Reynolds, 4-2, and set off a great rejoicing in Flatbush. If a relief pitcher could start and beat the mighty world champions, then the rest of it should be a breeze. But when they got around to the seventh game it was Reynolds licking Black and the Yanks picking up the agates.

If our bifocals are not doing tricks, no club has lost the first two games and still wound up with the championship since the seven-game playoff was adopted in 1922. The nearest thing to it seems to have been Pittsburgh's rally to defeat Washington in the '25 classic after having trailed 1-3.

Electronic Bubble Gum Latest in Atomic Age

Technologists at the Fleer Corporation's gum manufacturing plant in Philadelphia say a new process of theirs, using three robot-like electronic instruments, is expected to outmode the old-fashioned method of hand-blending the "double bubble" gum.

The devices — known as "electronic potentiometers" — constantly monitor the consistency of the gum mix. Electronic engineers who developed the devices, say they are similar to the instruments used to control atomic pile operations.

Bottle Starts Forest Fire

TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—The glare of the sun through a bottle tossed in a bed of pine cones was believed responsible for starting a forest fire blazing through 3,000 acres of brush and timber recently near the Colorado-New Mexico border. Damage was estimated at $25,000.

Soviet Answer Called Evasive

West Believes Russia May Be Trying to Ruin German Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—Western diplomats said today Russia may be trying to torpedo proposals for a big power meeting on German unification now because her position in Germany is weak.

This idea was advanced as one possible, even probable, explanation for the note which Russia delivered to the Western Powers earlier this week. The note made various demands and accusations in connection with the Western proposal for a foreign ministers' conference on Germany on Oct. 15 at Lugano, Switzerland.

The State Department labeled the Soviet note "evasive," and said the Russians were using "dilatory tactics."

The Soviets made acceptance of "the legal rights" of Red China to a position in the United Nations a first consideration in solution of Asian problems and in lessening of world tensions generally. They said there should be "continual participation' by Red China in such efforts.

It was learned that careful high-level consideration was given to the idea that the Kremlin may now find itself in such a weak position in East Germany—symptoms include the popular uprisings two months ago—that it is simply unwilling to go into East-West talks on the subject.

Yet, according to this theory, the Soviets are unwilling to take a negative position and so have thrown up a series of conditions unacceptable in the American viewpoint in order to block the project and blame this country.

* * *

U. S. officials and other diplomats agreed this was by no means the only possible explanation to fit the major facts. Three others were suggested:

1. The Reds may be trying to marshal world opinion anxious for real peace to force the United States to recognize the Chinese Communist government and deal with it as a big power.

2. The Kremlin may be seeking to create a situation in which it can bargain simultaneously on a number of East-West issues, hoping thereby to wring new concessions from the West.

3. The Kremlin may be trying to exploit to the fullest the differences which exist among the Western Powers on such major problems as recognition of Red China, the war in Indochina and proposed arming of West Germany.

The Soviet note, given to the U. S., British and French embassies in Moscow Monday, was made public last night in an unofficial translation by the State Department.

Soybeans Ahead but Rest Weak

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans pushed ahead for the third straight session on the Board of Trade today but they were alone in the advance.

Elsewhere the market had a weak tone, and this was particularly true of corn. Grain men apparently felt there would be a pretty big harvest movement of cash corn to market. Drying out of corn has been speeded up by the record-breaking heat in the main corn belt.

Antibiotic News Hikes Chemical

NEW YORK (AP)—Heyden Chemical enlivened a dull stock market today with a three-point spurt on news of a new antibiotic.

As a general rule the market moved within a point range either way.

Heyden started higher with a rush and continued very active with an extreme gain of 3 points. Yesterday it was up 1¼ in light trading.

Considerable mystery surrounded the early rush ahead by the stock. It wasn't dispelled until the president of Heyden issued a statement saying a new broad spectrum antibiotic had been developed.

Details were meager. Within a short time the stock subsided to a gain of between 1 and 2 points.

Defends State Buying Policies

Steadman Challenges Senate to Have Experts Check Methods

LANSING (AP) — Dr. Robert F. Steadman, state controller, today challenged a senate investigating committee to bring in outside authorities from business and industry to make a "fair" survey of state purchasing policies.

Dr. Steadman, who is resigning tomorrow as head of the department of administration, replied sarcastically to the committee's criticism of state purchasing methods, including a complaint that the state bought too much canned food outside of Michigan.

The committee is investigating purchasing, which is one of the state functions Dr. Steadman supervises.

"There always are people in a state the size of Michigan," he said, "including members of the legislature, who would like to return to the purchasing methods used a decade ago, methods which brought fraud, shame and disgrace on the state."

"If the committee wants an objective evaluation of our purchasing," Dr. Steadman said, "why don't they call in outside authorities. We have some outstanding men in Michigan industry whose judgment I would welcome."

On the issue of out-state food purchases, Dr. Steadman said the state buys from the lowest bidder who meets specifications. Any other policy would cost the state millions of dollars more a year."

Dr. Steadman denied that Michigan canneries were not given a chance to bid on state food supplies.

Wall Street's Speculation Hints Return of Normalcy

By MERRYLE RUKEYSER

NEW YORK (INS)—The speculative effort in Wall Street to revalue securities is a phase of the return to normalcy.

There is growing, if belated, recognition of the disappearance of abnormal boom factors, such as a backlog of unfilled orders, the stimulus of continuing inflation, and the prospect of governmental spending on an ever increasing scale.

But the very process of transition which is under way is putting sounder underpinnings beneath the national economy, which is getting off the artificial stilts.

Until change on a political level was voted on Nov. 4 last, there was an anomaly of tremendous prosperity without confidence.

Investors and speculators, by way of illustration, refused to capitalize in stock prices the full measure of contemporary corporate earning power.

Another reason for discounting current peak earnings was the dilution of profits through duplicated corporate and personal income taxes. Thus, it will be recalled that Robert S. Tyson, vice president and controller of the United States Steel Corporation, computed that his corporation had to earn between $10 and $50 in order to pass along a single dollar to a stockholder in the form of spendable income.

With the businessman no longer in the position of passive order taker allocating insufficient supply, there is a new accent on selling.

Hal Boyle Says:

Conversationalists Lack Courage to Start Things

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody knows the art of conversation is dying in America, but nobody does anything about it except talk . . . talk . . . talk.

That's no help. Mere talking doesn't make a conversation, as every wife knows.

People turn in desperation to the TV screen to escape the boredom of meaningless geese gabble that starts from nothing and gets nowhere.

What is really destroying conversation is the fact everybody is trying hard to become a brilliant conversationist — and going about it in exactly the wrong way.

The slogan of America's period of rugged individualism was, "Be yourself." And most everybody was himself — and a real individual who prided himself on his individuality. He meant what he said, and said what he meant.

Today too many people would rather be popular than right. They have the idea that they can be popular and successful only if they don't act like themselves.

They are caught in a great herd self-improvement campaign. They all try to be like somebody else.

But they merely end up looking and acting like each other—like movie starlets, who wear the same mask of glamour and only their own mothers could tell them apart, or would want to.

When it comes to improving their conversation, they buy a $3.50 book (marked down to 98 cents) entitled, "You can hold them spellbound, or how to gab your way from the gutter to the stars."

They all study the three great secrets: (1) The best listener is the best conversationalist; (2) Get the other fellow to talking about himself; and (3) Don't say anything that might hurt anybody's feelings.

When you get caught in a roomful of people all trying at the same time to use these three keys to conversational success on each other — well, mister, the cobwebs gather early. It goes like this:

"What did you say?" "Oh, I didn't say anything, I thought you were going to say something." "Well, sure been a nice day — now tell me something about yourself." "Oh, no, you tell me about yourself. You look so interesting."

And nobody in the crowd would dare even to criticize cancer, because, after all, it hits a lot of nice people. Maybe somebody in the room secretly likes cancer, and you wouldn't want to make him feel bad, would you?

Everybody feels it's safer and makes him more popular to converse in platitudes in these latitudes. But each just finds the other less worth ever wanting to see again.

I haven't met him, but I hear the most popular man in town — hostesses fight for him — is a crotchety, uncouth fellow who boasts he never read a book, scratches himself in public, uses a toothpick at the table, and opens a conversation by booming out some such remark as:

"The only sensible way to solve poverty is to start hanging poor people again. That's what makes poverty, isn't it — poor people?"

Well, in five minutes the party is in an uproar. Everybody is forgetting his book, and saying "Shut up. Now you listen to me."

They go from argument to argument, and everybody enjoys a wonderful conversation. Those who agree end up buddies, and hate everybody else — and that's the way it should be.

"I can't see why you invited a man who says such stupid things," a guest says when the cause of the hubbub bows out after hurling a final insult. And the hostess replies:

* * *

But fellows like this are rare. Most conversations languish because one gent is afraid to give his own opinions because he is politely cocking both ears to be sure and impress another gent who never had anything in his life worth saying, and wouldn't have the courage to say it if he did.

* * *

Of course, there are all sorts of angles to this question, and I could be wrong, and anyway I was just thinking out loud. Let's talk about you. What do you think of—

Oops! See what I mean? I read that book, too.

The polar bear is virtually an animal of the sea. It is at home on Arctic ice floes. For food it depends upon seals and fish, with an occasional bird or carcass of a whale.

Postpone Trial of Accused Reds

Federal Judge Picard Sets Oct. 27 Court Date for 6 Defendants

DETROIT (AP) — The trial of six alleged top Michigan Communists accused of conspiring to overthrow the United States Government has been postponed two weeks.

The trial now is set for Oct. 27.

Federal Judge Frank A. Picard agreed to the delay yesterday at the request of attorneys for the accused. He also agreed to rule Thursday on a defense motion for dismissal of the charges.

The six are accused of violating the Smith Act. They were indicted by a grand jury in September, 1952.

In the group are Saul Wellman, Mrs. Helen Winter, Nat Ganley, William Allan, Philip Schatz and Thomas DeWitt Dennis Jr. Mrs. Winter currently is in an Ann Arbor hospital.

The FBI identified Wellman as top Communist leader in Michigan; Mrs. Winter as the wife of the former state party chairman; Ganley as former editor of the Communist Daily Worker's Michigan edition; Allan as the current correspondent for the paper and Schatz and Dennis as Communist party organizing directors.

In seeking dismissal of the charges, Defense Attorney Ernest Goodman said the Smith Act does not apply to this case. He said that law applies only when the element of "clear and present danger" is present. The United States Supreme Court made that clear in upholding the law, he said.

Form Club to Boost Kelly as Candidate

DETROIT (AP) — A group of self-styled "old guard Democrats" announced formation today of an "Advancers of Kelly" club.

Their intention is to boost Richard T. Kelly of Wyandotte for the governor or U.S. senator in 1954. Democratic nomination for either Kelly was an unsuccessful candidate for the Democratic nomination for Michigan secretary of state last year.

Walter McNally, a Wyandotte businessman who led the "Democrats for Eisenhower" movement last year, announced the move. He said the group may oppose Gov. G. Mennen Williams if he runs either for re-election or for the U.S. Senate or may push Kelly for the post Williams does not choose to seek.

APPEAL TO MADONNA—A terra cotta statuette on the Via Degli Orti in Siracuse, Sicily has become the objective of pilgrimages made daily by thousands of religious, seeking comfort or cure for their ills. Known as the "weeping Madonna," the figure had been purchased by Rosaria Pino, who set off a surge of hope by claiming that tears fell from the Madonna's face as the woman prayed. At left, above, a girl, deaf and mute since birth, strives to shout her adoration as she leans on a wall separating crowds from the statuette. Right, a father prepares to touch the leg of his crippled daughter with a kerchief which had previously touched the Madonna.

The construction of sidewalk on the north and south sides of Auburn from East boulevard to the viaduct was approved, and public necessity was declared for curb, gutter and two inch blacktop on Hazel Bend from Jessie to Belmont, and on Fiddis from the west to east end.

The commission turned over to the traffic department requests from parents of district 17 of Whittier School, who appeared at the commission, for traffic lights and speed control signs on Franklin road at either Ditmar or California avenue.

Commissioner Ronald C. Hallenbeck told the commission that in the future he would vote against plumbing bond renewals whenever it was established an applicant was guilty of "price gouging" practices. He reported receiving several such complaints from residents in Perry Park Subdivision who were hooking into the recently completed sewer system in the area.

Loss of Life Too High

Families Urged to Check Homes for Fire Hazards

Four times as many lost their lives from fires in their own homes as from fires in public buildings or other outside fires.

Greatest toll of lives from fires in the home was among the very young and the aging — children under five and people over 65.

These facts were pointed out by the Michigan Department of Health in urging every family to use National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 4-10, to check their own homes to eliminate fire hazards.

Fires last year cost Michigan people over $21,000,000 in loss of buildings and furnishings, in addition to costs of hospitalization, doctor bills, rehabilitation, and loss of time from work, the department said.

* * *

Among the common causes of fires in the home are defective, sooty and poorly constructed chimneys; sparks from chimneys and bonfires falling on flammable roofs; defective stoves and furnaces; careless smoking habits; improper storage and use of kerosene, gasoline and other flammable liquids and explosives; spontaneous ignition of hay; broken and damaged lightning rods; unsafe wiring, overloaded electric circuits, worn cords and defective electrical appliance sand burning debris outdoors on dry and windy days.

* * *

The department advised that you post the fire department number near the phone, keep fire extinguishers in readily accessible places and never leave young children or old folks at home alone.

Also, be sure every member of the family knows more than one escape route from the house, particularly from the upper floors.

Majority of fires are preventable. Careless deeds and negligence in eliminating known hazards cause most of them.

You can prevent fires by learning to recognize the hazards, by checking your premises periodically and eliminating potential danger spots and by being careful at all times.

Car Insurance Social Problem

Agent Sees Parents at Fault in Bad Training of Youthful Drivers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A plea for lower rates and greater competition in the field of automobile insurance was laid before the National Association of Insurance Agents (NAIA) today.

Barney W. Phelan of Versailles, Ohio, told the NAIA's 57th annual convention that high auto insurance rates threaten to drive the individual insurance agent out of business.

And, Phelan said, "It is the opinion of leading economists that the United States is at the brink of a marked recession."

Unless insurance rates come down, he continued, there is a good chance that the states will set up a system of compulsory insurance.

Phelan contended that "the terrific toll of death mounting daily on our highways and streets and the unrecoverable losses by reason of property damage and bodily injuries caused by uninsured drivers has taken the automobile insurance situation from the realm of pure economics and into the status of a social problem."

Phelan called attention to a survey reporting that 70 per cent of drivers involved in accidents were 20 years old or younger.

He added: "We, as a class of parents and as members of the insurance industry, have fallen down badly in youthful driver training."

Truman Picks Dodgers

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today that if he were a betting man he would pick the Brooklyn Dodgers to defeat the New York Yankees in the World Series.

New York Set for Dock Strike

Deadline Hours Away; Violence Between Rival ILS Unions Foreseen

NEW YORK (AP) — The world's largest port girded today for a longshoremen's strike, which appeared inevitable with the deadline only hours away.

The walkout threat cast a shadow of possibly serious economic consequences for New York and other ports from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va.

New York's mammoth port also was concerned with the possibility of violence between two rival dock unions during a strike. Police reinforced details along wharves.

* * *

The union rivalry—pitting the International Longshoremen's Association (ILA), recently ousted by the AFL, against the new International Longshoremen's Association, AFL (ILA-AFL)—could turn the strike into one of the bloodiest waterfront struggles in years.

A wage contract dispute between the now-independent ILA and the New York Shipping Association, representing 170 companies, is at the root of the strike threat. The deadline is midnight tonight.

* * *

The ILA-AFL is not involved in this contract fight, but the new union is making a determined bid to win over the ILA rank-and-file and may try to keep its adherents here at work. A strike would be a test of strength between the two groups. The AFL chartered the new union after ousting the ILA last week for failure to purge itself of racketeering elements.

ILA demands for a 13-cent-an-hour package wage-welfare boost were rejected last night by the employers' association, which promptly appealed to President Eisenhower to invoke the national emergency provisions of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act to block the strike. However, it probably would take about a week to obtain any action, in the form of an 80-day injunction, under the law. Shippers have made an 8½-cent package offer to the longshoremen, whose present basic wage is $2.27 an hour.

Federal mediators in Washington reportedly have advised the Defense Department, postoffice and other government agencies to be ready to divert their shipping in the event of a North Atlantic Seaboard tieup.

Ex-Tire Manager Accused of Fraud

Walters was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Oct. 2. He was unable to post a $5,000 bond and is being held in Oakland county Jail.

Oakland County sheriff's detectives Mahlon France and David Brann, who arrested Walters, said he sold merchandise without recording the sales and pocketed the money.

Alligator Wanders Far From Backyard Pen

Tells How Bibles Got Over Curtain

By Religious News Service

DALLAS, Tex.—How 20,000 gospel tracts were dropped behind the Iron Curtain by balloon this summer was described here by the man who supervised the project.

He is Rev. Marvin Sheffield, president of the General Conference of the Congregational Methodist Church, an all-Southern denomination with headquarters in Dallas.

The plan originally called for small Bibles or testaments to be floated into Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia from West Germany by miniature hydrogen-filled balloons.

This idea was abandoned, the Rev. Mr. Sheffield said, when European propaganda experts advised against it. They said that a wavering citizen of a Communist country might not be filled with Christian sentiments if a heavy Bible tumbling from several thousand feet up thumped him on the head.
