GM 'Dream Cars' of Future Hold Interest at Motorama

NEW YORK (AP) — Automobiles that cost millions of dollars to build went on public display today at the opening of General Motors 1954 Motorama.

In the ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel as well as in the hotel lobbies the world's biggest motorcar maker put on a showing of its 1954 production models that cost 350 million dollars to engineer and produce. As special "show pieces" it displayed a dozen "dream" cars. These cost an estimated 2½ million.

The latter, although still years from the production line, attracted major interest.

They included a gas turbine engine single-passenger sports model called the "Firebird."

It reportedly has been driven at a speed in excess of 150 miles an hour. GM president Harlow H. Curtice has been emphatic in asserting it is not intended for highway use, but rather as a laboratory on wheels to establish the possibilities of gas turbine engines in the future.

Others among the so-called "dream" cars included a new Buick Wildcat II, an Oldsmobile "Cutlass" hardtop, a Pontiac "Bonneville Special" sports car and a Chevrolet "Corvette Nomad" station wagon.

Higher up in the special model grouping were Cadillac's "La Espada," a sports model, and its "Park Avenue" sedan.

Like the gas turbine model, all the special cars have bodies of plastic reinforced with fiber glass.

Besides the car showing there were displays of numerous General Motors engineering projects, a "Kitchen of Tomorrow," developed by the GM styling staff and its Frigidaire Division, a fashion show and stage entertainment provided by a cast from Broadway shows.

Mercury to Hit Zero to 5 Above

Frigid Air From North to Push Temperatures Down Tonight

A new cold front packing near-zero weather gripped Pontiac today after freezing rain glazed local highways Wednesday night.

The U. S. Weather Bureau says frigid air from Canada will push local thermometers down to zero to 5 above tonight. Friday's expected high is 12 to 16 degrees.

Wednesday's balmy showers drenched the area with three-tenths of an inch of rain as the mercury crept to a high of 49 degrees at 5:30 p. m.

Cold air sent the temperature down to the day's low of 24 degrees just before midnight. The thermometer kept falling to hit 12 above at 8 a. m. today, hovering there until almost noon and creeping back to 16 at 2 p. m.

Icy highways Wednesday evening kept salt trucks of Pontiac Department of Public Works and Oakland County Road Commission on the move all night, but apparently caused no serious traffic tie-ups, severe accidents or power trouble.

But Oakland County Sheriff Clare L. Hubbell asked motorists not to drive unless absolutely necessary.

Hubbell said out-county roads this morning were "about the worst they've been this winter."

But Canadians Not Too Eager to Share Project

Dondero Will Push for Favorable House Vote on Seaway

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate, after slapping down St. Lawrence Seaway legislation for two decades, has finally taken a huge step towards authorizing the United States to join Canada in carrying out the project.

But after an enabling measure sailed through the Senate last night on a 51-33 vote, Canadian government informants raised a serious question as to whether their country was still interested in U. S. participation.

After repeated failure of seaway legislation in Congress, Canada undertook to go it alone. In Ottawa last night, government sources said that country still would push for an all-Canadian seaway on her side of the boundary river. The Canadian government was represented as feeling that the United States, spending 105 million dollars, would be getting too much of a bargain in joint control of navigation and shipping tolls.

They explained Canada already has spent that much on locks and is prepared to put up 300 million dollars for navigation facilities.

The bill approved by the Senate would permit the United States to join with Canada in building a 27-foot-deep St. Lawrence River channel linking the Great Lakes to the Atlantic.

The bill, strongly supported by President Eisenhower and the Joint Chiefs of Staff because of the project's claimed importance to national defense, now goes to the House.

Because the House has never considered the bill, observers were at a loss to predict its chances there.

The bill approved by the Senate would establish a St. Lawrence Development Corp., with authority to issue 105 million dollars in bonds.

Tolls on shipping would be expected to retire these in 50 years or less.

Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Mich) intends to seek prompt House approval of the seaway bill.

Dondero, chairman of the House Public Works Committee, said he was confident he could get the seaway bill reported to the House floor.

He said he was in favor of the bill in its present form. He has fostered a similar bill in the House.

In over 20 years of battling for a seaway, no bill has ever made its way past House committees.

NEW YORK (AP)—Thick fog blanketed the metropolitan area again today, closing airports, disrupting harbor traffic and slowing vehicular travel.

Mamie Christens 1st Atomic Sub at Groton, Conn.

USS Nautilus Begins New Chapter in History of Sea Power

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The world's first atom powered vessel—the submarine Nautilus—was launched today, opening a new era in sea power.

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower, wife of the President, swung a bottle of champagne across the bow to send the sleek craft sliding down the ways into the Thames River at 10:57 a. m. (EST).

A crowd of about 12,000 persons including a number of notables cheered as the Nautilus entered the water under a bright sunlit sky.

Speakers hailed the nuclear driven vessel as not only a powerful new sea weapon but as a harbinger of peaceful use of atomic engines.

As Mrs. Eisenhower moved forward on the gaily decorated launching platform to christen the vessel, a masculine voice called out:

"Hit it hard."

She took a few practice swings and then hit the hull sharply. The bottle crashed and champagne splashed. The crowd roared and whistles blew.

The nation's first lady stood watching silently and bit her lower lip as the Nautilus slid to the river.

Lewis L. Strauss, head of the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC), said this launching transcends all those that have gone before because "the Nautilus is something new under the sun." Then he declared of the submarine:

"It typifies the spirit of America at the time of its founding, and the spirit of America in this 11th year of the atomic age. We are strong with the strength of atomic thunderbolts to resist aggression and to forestall tyranny while at the same time we extend the olive branch of a worthy peace."

Carney said the Nautilus marked the beginning of a new chapter in the history of sea power, and he said.

"Revolutionary thing that she is, the technicians and tacticians will strive to wring the greatest military advantages from this latest product of American genius. The fleet is hungry to put her to work. . . .

"Patently, this sleek ship, with her wonderful new propulsion plant, is symbolic of American understanding of the importance of sea power, and American ingenuity in inventing new tools for the exercise of sea power. . . .

Indians to Leave POWs Friday

Repatriation Refusals by 349 U. N. Troops Cause Mixup

PANMUNJOM (AP)—If the Communists do not take back 349 pro-Red war prisoners—including 21 Americans — Indian guards will open the gates of their neutral zone stockade and walk away at midnight Friday, an Indian general said today.

'First we will have to tell the prisoners that their owners refuse to take them back," said Lt. Gen K. S. Thimayya. "Then we will open the gate and we will tell our men to go back to their line."

The Indian chairman of the Neutral Nations Repatriation Commission conceded that if the prisoners refuse to leave their compound it would create a problem since neither Allied nor Red troops are permitted to enter Korea's demilitarized zone.

Thimayya told a news conference he planned to send another letter to the Communist high command asking the Reds to accept the return of the 21 Americans, 1 Briton and 327 South Koreans who chose to stay with the Communists.

Virtually all of the Chinese sailed for Nationalist Formosa from Inchon today aboard 14 landing ships. One craft carrying 1,000 prisoners was held back and a Navy officer said it resulted from a command decision. He did not elaborate.

The 7,500 Koreans were moved by train to South Korean army centers for processing.

28 Marines Lost as Craft Upsets in Crash With LST

INCHON, Korea (AP)—Twenty-eight U. S. Marines were dead or missing today after a troopship loaded with Chinese war prisoners collided with and capsized a small landing craft.

The toll was surpassed by that of only one other naval disaster in the Korean theater.

Maj. Gen. William S. Lawton, commanding general of the Korean Communication Zone, said 22 survivors—3rd Division Marines and crewmen—were rescued from the chill waters of Inchon harbor minutes after the collision between a big Formosa-bound LST landship, tank and an LCM landing craft, medium.

They were not seriously hurt. The Marines were weighed down with heavy equipment.

Six bodies were recovered and 22 others were presumed dead when the search was called off at dusk. The small ship had carried 50 men, Lawton said.

The Marine helmsman of the LCM, Pfc. John D. Gates Jr., 22, Pensacola, Fla., said he was approaching the LST to put a Marine guard aboard before the ship sailed for Formosa. The LST carried 1,000 Chinese POWs returned to U. N. custody by Indian custodian troops in the Korean neutral zone.

Gates, formerly a commercial fisherman, added:

"The current was against my boat. It forced me against the LST. It was so strong it capsized my boat before I could move."

Gates said he thought the LST was standing at anchor. The log of the nearby Army transport Pope recorded the LST as being under way.

Pfc. Thomas H. Malone of Brooklyn, N. Y., a survivor, said the Leathernecks all were from the 3rd Battalion, 4th Regiment, 3rd Division.

He told of being picked up by a Korean sampan with four other Marines. He said two of the five were dead when they reached the hospital ship Consolation.

Puts Emphasis on Air Power, New Weapons

Cuts 5 Billion Off 1955 Figure Over This Year, Which Is 7½ Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower laid a 65½-billion-dollar budget before Congress today.

He said a "new concept" of reliance upon air power and new weapons justifies a 5¼-billion-dollar spending slash, mostly from national security outlays.

Despite the 7½ per cent spending cut under estimated outlays for this year—also lowered—the chief executive told Congress the government would wind up the next fiscal year nearly three billion dollars in the red.

The President cautioned against further general tax cuts, although he proposed a broad program of tax law changes.

The budget for fiscal 1955, beginning next July 1, was the first prepared by a Republican administration in 21 years.

Throughout the massive document, Eisenhower, who has spent most of his life in the Army, emphasized that his administration has made air power its chosen instrument of free world defense, with other services playing lesser roles.

Eisenhower said his tax program would result in about 600 million dollars tax relief each for individuals and for businesses, in addition to the changes that took effect Jan. 1: A 10 per cent cut in personal tax rates and abolition of the excess profits tax on corporations.

For text of the portion of the President's budget message pertaining to taxes see page 13.

But he added:

"I do not believe the budgetary situation justifies any tax reductions beyond those involved in the proposed tax revision and in the tax changes which occurred on Jan. 1."

In the national security section of the message, Eisenhower declared:

"This budget is based on a new concept for planning and financing our national security program. . . .

"Our military planning in previous years has been based on several successive assumed fixed dates of maximum danger. . . . This budget is aimed instead at providing a strong military position which can be maintained over the extended period of uneasy peace."

In the message of about 40,000 words, Eisenhower also:

1. Recommended a 25-point tax revision program, calling upon Congress to: shift the annual personal income tax deadline from March 15 to April 15; liberalize deductions for family medical costs; allow limited deductions for child care; give farmers a deduction for soil conservation; extend corporation income and excise tax rates rather than permit them to decline April 1 to pre-Korea levels; and enact a series of revisions aimed at lightening and adjusting the tax load on business.

2. Renewed his plea, stymied in the Senate after the House okayed it last year, for a higher legal limit on the national debt. While he used no figure today, his previous request was for a boost from the present 275 billion dollars to 290 billions. The debt is now about 274½ billions.

3. Revised downward budget estimates for the current fiscal year which ends next June 30. Here is the comparison between Eisenhower's estimates for the current year made last August and now:

	Aug. estimate	New estimate
Income	$68,305,000,000	$67,628,000,000
Outgo
Deficit	3,811,000,000	3,274,000,000
Year-end Debt	271,100,000,000	269,750,000,000

Eisenhower thus trimmed nearly 1¼ billion dollars from his previous spending prediction for this year, and, despite a drop of 677 million dollars in expected revenue, came up with a fiscal 1954 deficit 537 million dollars lower than he estimated six months ago.

His new fiscal 1954 estimates

GM Head Says Annual Wage Difficult; Cites Progress Toward Stable Income

By DAVID J. WILKIE

NEW YORK (AP) — The proposed annual wage in the auto industry is going to be extremely difficult to implement, according to Harlow H. Curtice, General Motors president.

Curtice told a news conference that the proposal involves many complex questions. He indicated, without specifically saying so, that GM is not too kindly disposed toward the proposal.

He cited GM's efforts to stabilize employment throughout the years, and said industry generally has paid more than 18 billion dollars into unemployment compensation funds throughout the nation.

General Motors itself, he said, has paid more than 240 million dollars into these funds.

He said steps taken by the auto industry to stabilize employment include: Shifting model change dates and shortening changeover shutdown; overtime during peak production; raising basic pay rates.

The CIO United Auto Workers has indicated the guaranteed annual wage will be its major objective in future labor negotiations with the auto makers. The present UAW-General Motors contract runs until May, 1955, although it is framed to permit reopening for certain adjustments.

Among the questions that have to be answered under any plan for pay while unemployed, Curtice said, are:

How much should be paid for unemployed time?

For how long should unemployment payments be provided?

Should payments be made to employes who voluntarily quit, are discharged for cause, go on strike, fail to seek other work, or decline to accept suitable work?

Curtice said again that General Motors' objective is 48 per cent of the overall car market. Asked where the increase from last year's 46 per cent was to come from, he said:

"It will come from all the other car makers."

Curtice also took notice of assertions by some car retailers that the industry overproduced in 1953.

"General Motors did not overproduce last year," he said. "We underproduced in relation to the market available to our dealers."

Output schedules, he said, "were established in relation to our appraisal of the market. That will continue to be our policy."

He said reports that GM was planning a production war were "figments" of somebody's imagination.

Curtice referred again to the billion dollar expansion fund he announced Tuesday.

The fund, he said, will be divided among the various GM divisions on the basis of their size.

He said also that the cities to benefit from the fund will be those in which GM already has established plants.

Brown's Reward Money to Pay College Expenses

"I'll use the money to help pay my way through college," said James Brown Jr. yesterday when informed of the $2,500 awarded him for his part in the capture of rape-slayer Donald V. O'Brian.

Pontiac City Commission approved a five-way split of the $5,000 reward Tuesday night.

Brown, 18, of 37 Vinewood Ave., is a freshman at Michigan State College where he is studying business administration. He stopped O'Brian, 27, with a flying tackle Sept. 9, after O'Brian attempted to attack Mrs. Mary Forgette outside her home at 20 Oriole Rd.

"The money will certainly come in handy," said Brown, who works in the dining room of a dormitory to pay some school expenses.

Jack Seebald, 48, of 27 Oriole Rd., who helped hold O'Brian until police arrived, will receive $1,000.

"I'm very glad to have had a part in apprehending O'Brian," was his only comment.

Mrs. Forgette said she would donate her $500 check to the St. Benedict School and Convent now under construction at Lynn Ave. and Highland Rd.

Franklin M. Williams, 40, of 58½ E. Cornell St., was awarded $500 for turning O'Brian's name over to police as a possible suspect. A Fisher Body Division employe with three children, Williams said the money would aid him in purchasing a new home.

The teen-aged girl who was attacked by O'Brian Aug. 15, will also receive $500. Seebald and Brown are expected to accept their rewards at the Jan. 26 city commission meeting.

O'Brian was ruled a criminal sexual psychopath and committed to Ionia State Hospital last month.

Public Hearing Planned to Consider Bond Issue for Proposed Fire Station

BIRMINGHAM — A proposed $130,000 fire station for the east side of the city will be the subject of a public hearing by the city commission Monday night.

As pictured here, the building will be a two-story red brick of contemporary design, to be located at the northwest corner of Adams and Bowers on city-owned land.

A $225,000 bond issue question is expected to be placed on the April 5 ballot, approval of which would finance the station and another at Maple and Chesterfield on the west side of the city.

Birmingham High School news appears today on page 39.

To be the main station, the east side structure will house the well-control equipment, training facilities, and the department's heavy equipment of a ladder truck and two pumpers, plus emergency vehicles.

"This new location for fire protection facilities will bring 60 per cent of the east side within a ¾ mile radius of the proposed station, and that includes most of the concentrated business and industry," he added.

Egbert said the proposed Adams and Bowers station would serve as a buffer between existing residences along Adams and business property to the south.

Faulty Building Blamed for Fire

Improper Construction in Southwest Section Forces Inspection

BIRMINGHAM—Faulty chimney construction has been established as the cause of another fire in the city by Fire Chief V. W. Griffith.

A $300 blaze at the 1956 Birmingham Blvd. home of Robert F. Thursdale Sunday disclosed faulty brick lining around the flue, Griffith said.

A recent fire on Pembroke was traced to improper flue liner joints. Since the fire the contractor, who also built several other houses in the northeast area of the city, inspected and repaired chimneys there.

Griffith said the extent of the faulty work is as yet unknown, but that the fire department was working with the sub-contractor checking houses built in the southwest section of the city.

"Fortunately, both fires occurred before the families had retired," Griffith said. He added that the brick lining around the chimney flue apparently had been thrown in, was not mortared at all, and the flue was not the required distance from the wall studding.

Roll Call Drive Seeks $45,000

Birmingham Community House Campaign Opens February 15

BIRMINGHAM — An increase of $5,000 will be sought in this year's Community House Roll Call Drive, with a $45,000 figure set as the goal.

Walter F. Skinner, chairman of the drive, announced that Feb. 15 will mark the kickoff day for the annual two-week drive.

Letters already been sent to business establishments, Skinner said, and will be mailed to former contributors on Monday.

Section captains have been appointed, with the task of directing some 600 house-to-house canvassers in the residential areas. A kickoff luncheon in their honor is scheduled for Feb. 11 at the Community House.

A long-time Birmingham resident, Skinner pointed out how the growth of Birmingham has resulted in increased activities at the Community House, in turn creating a need for help and money to be spent in upkeep.

Those wishing to make contributions to the house prior to the opening date may mail them directly to the Community House, he said.

Set Aug. 3 for Vote on Tract Annexation

BIRMINGHAM—Aug. 3 has been set by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors as the day residents of Birmingham and Troy Township will vote on the city's annexation of a 45-acre Troy tract inside the city's limits.

The W. E. Reid Development Co. of Birmingham, which plans a 240-unit residential and duplex development on the site, petitioned for the matter to be placed on the April 5 election in Birmingham, and have a special election called for the same day in Troy.

The board of supervisors complied with this, and then changed the date to August to coincide with a county-wide election on the new county building.

Troy Township Supervisor Norman Barnard sought the delay to avoid the cost of two special elections.

Man Bound Over

Edwin Haglund, 34, of 3880 Faber, Waterford Township waived examination on a charge of taking indecent liberties and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court when he appeared before Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Wednesday. Haglund, who is scheduled to be arraigned Feb. 1, was freed on a $500 bond.

Two Persons Injured in Crash at Intersection

Two persons were injured this morning at Oakland and Monticello Aves., when a motorist failed to yield the right of way, according to Pontiac police.

Injured were Mrs. Labelva Coppage, 36, who suffered neck and back injuries, and her son Louis, 17, of 2327 Hartford, Waterford Township. John D. Taylor, driver of the other car, was ticketed by Patrolman Howard E. Lenigan.

LONDON (AP)—Soviet astronomers have discovered 33 new stars, Moscow radio reported today.

Claims School Needs Addition

Superintendent Tells Board 16 Rooms Are Vital to High Unit

BIRMINGHAM—Supt. of Schools Dr. Dwight B. Ireland told board of education members this week a 16-room addition is needed to the $2,225,000 high school completed in January 1951.

"With 30 students per classroom, this will give us space for 480 more. This year we'll graduate 290, and have 490 entering," Ireland said.

He predicted that unless the ninth grade was removed to junior high status, split sessions would be necessary, with some students starting classes earlier than others.

Looking to further increases in student population, the school board has called a public meeting for Monday evening to discuss growth in the areas served by the Baldwin, Pierce, Beverly and Bloomfield Village schools.

Supt. Ireland said that the principals of these schools have prepared reports on growth in their areas, and these reports would be presented and discussed.

Low Bid Is Approved

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Low bid on the sale of bonds for the $1,750,000 school building project, approved by the voters last November, was accepted by the school board last night. Blyth and Co. of New York, joining with Watling, Lerchen and Co. and Shannon and Co. of Detroit, presented a bid of 2.26 per cent interest.

Australian Tennis Pro Runs Into McCarran Act

DETROIT (INS) — Australian tennis professional Frank Sedgman was permitted to cross the Detroit River from Windsor, Ont., today after being denied entrance to the U. S. earlier because of a technicality in the McCarran Immigration Act.

Sedgman entered the country on a parole order granted by immigration authorities placing him in custody of Jack Kramer, promoter of Sedgman's current international tour.

"But my husband figured it all out last night," the woman pleasantly objected, "and the way he had it, you owe us $55."

So the agent reworked the form. He still came up with uncle lacking $4. Without further ado, the woman paid, explaining with a smile:

Old Red Barn on Its Way Out

UM Professor Predicts Low Steel-and-Plastic Structure for Future

ANN ARBOR (UP) — The old red barn is on its way out as a type of architecture, according to Prof. C. Theodore Larson of the University of Michigan.

The traditional American general-purpose barn is an architectural fossil that will soon go the way of the covered bridge and the one-hoss shay, the architecture professor said.

Farms are becoming more mechanized and there is less and less use for the huge loft to take care of hay and grain for horses and cattle, he pointed out.

"What we're looking for," the professor explained, "is a low strucure that is more like an umbrella in that it wil protect mechanical equipment from rain and snow.

It also must provide storage for tools and other items necessary for maintenance of farm equipmen."

Larson said that more rapidly changing conditions also make it necessary that the new type of barn be one that can readily be dismantled and reassembled. The university's Engineering Research Institute is working with its architects to achieve such a structure.

Larson said the materials used will be mainly steel and plastic. The plastic would be used for skylights in the umbrella-shaped structure.

Present plans call for a unit that can be assembled or taken apart with a screwdriver and a wrench.

Answer to Phone Query Found at Chief's Elbow

HIBBING, Minn. (AP)—No one answered when Fred Odegard, acting police chief, telephoned a filling station repeatedly to get details about a burglary. The chief got a ringing signal each time, and he was correct in assuming someone was on duty.

Then the chief realized why there was no answer. Burglars had ripped the telephone off the wall. The instrument, taken to police headquarters for fingerprinting, was at his elbow.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Special Census Approved

Oakland's Supervisors have recognized that tax rebate inequities result from rapid growth of communities at the south end of the county — and have done something about it.

That something is approval of a proposal by Harold K. Schone for a special census of the county. Schone is a Supervisor and City Manager of Oak Park, the fastest growing community in the county.

According to utility companies' records it has had a population growth of 178 per cent since the last Federal census in 1950. As a result his city is getting an estimated $60,000 a year less in State tax rebates than it would if the census were kept up to date.

This is because State tax refunds to Oakland County, totaling about $3,000,000 a year, are distributed on the basis of the latest Federal census. Schone's plan for a special county census had the support of other communities, which, like Oak Park, have experienced rapid growth.

Cost of the special census, about $45,000, is to be borne proportionately by communities which gain larger tax returns. First estimates were that Oak Park and Royal Oak would have to pay about $10,000 each. Other communities likely to benefit are Birmingham, Hazel Park and Clawson.

There shouldn't be any quarrel with the Supervisors' action in this matter. In fact the inequities which prompted it have drawn attention at the State level.

The result is introduction of two bills in the Legislature calling for a special State census halfway between each ten year population count made by the Federal Government.

High School Hoodlumism

Fortunately for Pontiac parents and school authorities they haven't had to worry about the hoodlumism which has marred several of Detroit high schools' evening athletic events.

★ ★ ★

But that doesn't mean either group can ignore such violence. In Detroit it has culminated in the ice pick stabbing of a basketball player by a 16-year-old student. The assailant has confessed and will be prosecuted.

Detroit school authorities have decided to cancel all evening high school contests to discourage further hoodlumism. This is a sound decision.

We believe this crime, and it is a serious one, should be a warning to all high school students. If they can't keep their athletic enthusiasms within the bounds of good sportsmanship, school authorities will have no choice but curtail these contests.

No community can tolerate such viciousness.

GM's Expansion Plans

For Pontiac and all General Motors cities the year's best business news is the corporation's plan to spend $1.5 billion in the next three years for plant expansion.

Equally important not only to these cities but to the country as a whole are the reasons which move the world's largest private business to spend so huge a sum.

There are several reasons but they boil down to two — faith in continued prosperity and advance planning to keep GM facilities abreast of an ever expanding market.

The big news came in announcements from President Harlow H. Curtice and Board Chairman Alfred P. Sloan. Mr. Curtice said $1 billion would be devoted in the next two years to expansion of automotive facilities. Later Mr. Sloan revealed that the program would cover a third year and cost an additional $500,000,000.

As an antidote for the gloomy pronouncements of some pessimists, we urge careful study of Mr. Curtice's statement. He sees no depression ahead and expects employment to remain at about the present general level. It also is his belief that this year's gross national product will equal the estimated 1953 total of $365 billion. Mr. Curtice expressed the opinion that GM's 1954 sales would not fall far below the 1953 total of $9 billion.

Pontiac's share of the expansion program is to be the addition of 89,000 square feet of floor space at Fisher Body Division. This not only means added employment for building trades workers but eventually more permanent jobs at the Baldwin Avenue plant.

In general the views of Mr. Curtice and Henry Ford II are similar. Both look forward with confidence. These men speak for the world's two largest automobile companies.

They haven't reached their positions of industrial eminence by being wrong.

Fishing Thru' Ice

County's Lakes Now Scene of Considerable Activity

Daffynition

Worry: What may give you something to do, but won't get you anywhere.

With over a thousand fish houses on the ice, and an even greater number of anglers without the protection of a house, these are busy days on Oakland County's 400 lakes. These fishermen come not only from our own county, but from a large outside area that does not have such opportunities for their sport. The houses are so numerous on some lakes that "squatters' rights" are a problem, and there is talk of organizing ice villages. Pontiac Lake probably has the largest number, but has several healthy competitors. On each lake the houses range from several dozen down to a single house. Good catches are reported, especially on the spring or river fed lakes.

It is interesting to note that the first highway to be officially laid out in Oakland County was the present route of Woodward Ave., Saginaw St. and Oakland Ave. This was done by act of the territorial legislature at Detroit Dec. 7, 1818, the same year Pontiac was settled.

Farmers Deserve Support, Protection of Government, Says Julius F. Harmon

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

A new farm program is before Congress. Like other economic groups, the farmers insist upon government support and protection. They should have it, for agriculture is the most socially vital of pursuits and as our farm population is today, so will America be tomorrow.

However, a good part of this population consists, not of farmers, but of farm laborers and migratory workers and for these hard-working unfortunates, few kind words are said and fewer laws enacted.

It is about time we gave them a little thought when thinking about our rural problems. When we protect farmers we also protect "factories-in-the-field", where conditions are often on a sweat shop level.

From those who desire economic protection we should demand complete cessation of economic oppression.

Says Landlords Do Not Look Down at Children

I have been reading of late about people trying to find a place to live with their children. It seems no one wants them.

I recently bought a home in Lake Orion and decorated and furnished it. I then put my ad in the paper including, "children welcome" and rented it to the first people who came along with a hard luck story and three children.

Landlords don't look down on children for they aren't the ones who take the throw rugs off your floors, the light bulbs out and carry your garbage can away. It isn't the children who move away without telling you, leaving your home all dirty and the key in the door.

I have not lost faith in people because there is good and bad in all. I still think children aren't to blame and I still will rent my home to people with children.

Wants Safer Crossings in Auburn Heights Area

Another bad accident has occurred here on Squirrel Road in Auburn Heights, due to the negligence of the Grand Trunk Railroad in not providing caution lights at Squirrel Road crossing.

There should be a law compelling all railroad crossings to have caution lights. There is another dangerous crossing on M-24, between Auburn Road and South Boulevard.

Let's have some speedy action in correcting these conditions. Due to no signal lights on Auburn and Adams Roads many bad accidents have occurred.

There used to be signal lights at this crossing, but I understand Oakland County had them removed. Please replace those lights and save precious lives by making it safe to drive through Auburn Heights on Auburn Road.

Too Bad So Many Will Be Disappointed When Big 4 Meeting Comes to Naught

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — These are days of illusion — of making believe things are different from what they are.

Thus, a four-power conference is to be held next week in Berlin. To the whole world the impression has been conveyed that the foreign secretaries of the four major powers — Soviet Russia, Great Britain, France and the United States — will sit down together and attempt to negotiate a settlement of world problems.

But everybody who knows the score is well aware that no such thing will happen.

For one thing, if there were to be any concessions or any trading or bargaining or anything that could remotely resemble negotiation, it would be carried on under klieg lights.

The four-power representatives, to be sure, will hold their meetings with the press excluded, but a conference of foreign secretaries is by no means a cozy little affair with only four persons present.

The interpreters or translators and the secretaries and the deputies and their assistants are always present. It makes quite a gathering. Little can be done by way of negotiation under such semi-public circumstances.

If Soviet Russia had any concession to make, if it had anything to offer by way of a plan that might form the basis for mutual discussion, the facts could have been better transmitted privately through diplomatic channels.

Each of the allied governments has an ambassador at Moscow, and the Soviet regime has an ambassador in each of the three other countries. They can go to the foreign offices and talk in private any time there is an occasion to discuss something important. That was the way diplomacy used to be carried on.

Why then are four-power conferences held? Only as a means of propaganda and counter-propaganda. The governments of the United States, France and Great Britain cannot turn down an offer to talk.

As long as they maintain diplomatic relations, they are compelled to talk — in private or in public whenever one party wants such conversations or conferences.

If America, for example, says — as President Eisenhower did several months ago — that there is no sense in having a conference unless some concrete evidence of a desire to negotiate is forthcoming, the Communists get busy with their propaganda and accuse this country of blocking peace or of being unwilling to remove world tension.

Coincidentally, well-meaning persons — politicians, editors, clergymen and others who haven't the slightest sympathy with the Communist side — begin to say that America cannot afford to be in the position of refusing to talk. Then the administration yields and agrees to send its representative to a conference.

Finally, after weeks of propaganda throughout the world, the time of the meeting is decided upon and arrangements are finally made for a conference.

The Soviets will make proposals that, of course, will become public. There will be a worldwide discussion of the different viewpoints and in the end the Soviets will refuse to give ground but will seek some circumstance around which to build a case to the effect that the Allies want war.

It is unfortunate that so many persons in the free world have been led to believe a real "negotiation" is forthcoming — when actually it is just another chapter in the propaganda battle of the "cold war."

Case Records of a Psychologist

If Tutoring Your Child Make Education a Game

Tommy became a problem child because he was a poor reader. Yet his parents remedied the difficulty inside of 6 weeks by using the "flash card" methods. You parents or grandparents should help keep your child up to par, so send for the vital bulletin named below.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case K-304: Tommy R., aged 9, is a problem child in school.

"I don't like school," he blurted out when I had a talk with him.

"The kids call me dummy and make fun of me because I can't read fast.

"So I get even with them and pick fights. Now they are all afraid of me in my room," he boasted.

Various surveys have shown that poor readers tend to become problem children in school.

These youngsters may finally become so delinquent that they enter our juvenile courts.

Tommy's simple story is duplicated thousands of times in all large cities. For the child who falls too far behind his classmates, then feels humiliated.

That's doubly true if his thoughtless comrades tease him or poke fun at him for being a "dummy".

Since nobody enjoys being inferior, Tommy tries to "compensate", as we term it in psychology, and thus acquires distinction, even if it comes from being a naughty boy.

If a child can't be famous for brilliant marks, then he will often sell out for notoriety. This desire for the social limelight is behind a great deal of criminality.

A child may have a good I.Q. and still do poorly in his school subjects, especially if he has been out of the classroom due to illness.

Other youngsters, whose parents move frequently, don't get settled in any one school long enough to become acquainted with the teacher and her methods.

And if they are shy or timid, they may hesitate to ask questions, so they go along in ignorance about current arithmetic methods, etc.

All parents should tutor their children at home if the youngsters begin to fall behind the average of the class.

But this tutoring should be sugar-coated heavily. Make education a game. Inject fun and rewards into the process.

Construct "flash cards" on which you print nouns and verbs from his current reader or spelling book. Then "flash" these in front of him for an instant, and let him try to identify the word.

Start with two cards, each of which contains a very different word, such as "door" vs. "window". Shuffle them; then hold up one card at a time.

Add a 3rd and a 4th, etc. as fast as he can understand them. Soon you will have several hundred words right out of his reading book which he can identify in a flash.

Let his Daddy compete with him. But always see that the child wins at least 3 out of 4 times to keep his morale high. And don't hold him to such educational games very long.

You can also use multiplication combinations on flash cards, and thus permit him to become speedy in just a couple of weeks with all the arithmetical combinations.

Children learn rapidly when you sugar-coat the process in this manner. Be liberal with praise and stingy with criticism when dealing with youngsters.

For further advice on making flash cards, send for my bulletin "How to Raise Your Child's School Marks," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Dr. Brady Approves Water Fluorination to Aid in the Halting of Cavities in Teeth

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Many cities now add enough sodium fluoride to the municipal water supply to make the fluorine content of the water 1 part in the million.

This quantity of fluorine in drinking water makes the teeth of growing children much less susceptible to caries, decay, cavity formation.

In certain regions the natural drinking water contains far more than 1 part of fluorine per million and growing children in these regions are likely to have opaque white teeth that show brown, yellow or almost black stains—stains that are irremovable.

Dentists call this condition mottled enamel. It rarely appears in the temporary teeth, only in the permanent teeth.

A favorite scream of anti-fluoridation fanatics is that sodium fluoride is "rat poison." That's true. Chlorine will kill animal or man if it is inhaled, but it is fortunate for you and me that our municipal water supplies everywhere are made safe to drink by chlorinating the water.

In the past three or four years anti-fluoridation propaganda has outweighed all the other stereotyped stuff that moves across my desk on its way to the waste paper basket.

The people who have the finest teeth in the world and general health better than most other groups — the inhabitants of Tristan da Cunha — get from 1 part in 5,000,000 to 1 part in 3,000,000 fluorine in their natural drinking water.

For years I have been feasting on Micky's finnan haddie, macarroni and cheese, Johnny cake and fried mush made of whole freshly ground corn meal, thin fried round steak and Hungarian goulash—the latter two being out of this world of restaurant and hotel food—ow, wow, why do I get onto a subject like this when it's still four hours till dinner?

And now they tell me, via stereotyped "Report of R. A. McGuigan for the United States Trade Commission" that "all vegetables cooked in aluminum are made poisonous" and the poisonous vegetables will cause stomach ulcer, colitis, anemia or what have you.

Wherefore, says the mysterious Mr. McGuigan's report, the sale of aluminum for cooking purposes is prohibited in Germany, France, Great Britain, Brazil and other countries.

If that is true, it is silly and is another reason why I'm glad I am an American.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

Plan to Inspect Rail Crossings

Pontiac, MPSC to Meet Following Commission's Request for Action

A Michigan Public Service Commission inspector will meet with city officials and representatives of the Grand Trunk Western Railroad to investigate railway-street crossings in Pontiac.

Notice of the move was contained in a letter received by the Pontiac City Commission Tuesday.

On Jan. 5 the Commission asked the PSC to inspect crossings and compel installation of traffic control devices where it deemed necessary.

High number of accidents at crossings in recent years was cited as reason for the request.

The state commission also was asked to compel the railroad to route freight trains on the Belt Line. Commissioner Benjamin M. Gates said such an agreement was made between the railroad and Pontiac in 1927-28 when the Belt Line was constructed.

In its reply the Public Service Commission said it had no record of the agreement and felt it might have been destroyed in the State Office Building fire of 1951.

It said the agreement might have been handled by the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission and asked the city to forward a copy if one was located.

Commissioners directed City Manager Walter K. Willman to round up any record of agreements Pontiac made with the Grand Trunk regarding the Belt Line.

Federal Savings Makes Big Gain

Resources Up More Than 23 Per Cent in Year; Now $4,632,552

Biggest year's growth in the history of the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Association was reported by President R. C. Cummings at the annual meeting of shareholders Wednesday afternoon.

Total assets are up more than 23 per cent. Total number of individual loans has more than doubled during the year, and total number of savings accounts has increased 50 per cent.

Total assets as of Dec. 31, 1953 were $4,632,552.38, up $893,441.88 from total assets at the close of 1952.

The association now has 3,542 individual savings accounts, a gain of 1,248 from the preceding year.

Dividends totaling $71,207.02 were paid to holders of savings accounts, and $72,128.76 was added to reserves, bringing them to $308,320.74, considerably higher than the legal requirements set by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board.

President Cummings reported that the association has acquired a West Huron St. site, subject to rezoning action, on which it plans to build this year. He said the present quarters at 16 East Lawrence St. will be retained as a downtown office.

Directors Clark J. Adams, Mahlon A. Benson, John Q. Waddell and George K. Zimmerman were reelected, as were officers R. C. Cummings, president; M. A. Benson, vice president, and James Clarkson, secretary-treasurer. Kinney & Adams were names as attorneys.

Marilyn's Studio Extends Vacation

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Marilyn Monroe has failed to meet the deadline for reporting back on the picture "Pink Tights."

She and hubby Joe DiMaggio are still honeymooning somewhere in southern California but they haven't been seen at any of the Hollywood spots.

Marilyn's studio late last night announced that it had extended to Jan. 25 her "vacation" from the movie. Her agent told 20th Century-Fox he doesn't know her whereabouts but expects her and Joe to show up at her apartment over the weekend.

Therapist Finds TV Treatment to Be Effective

Use of "television therapy" to keep mental patients' minds off their troubles and in touch with reality is winning praise by Pontiac State Hospital officials.

According to Miss Marguerite M. Parrish, social service director, highly disturbed patients settle down and become attentive while watching comedies and programs about children.

However, Miss Parrish said, only 28 of the hospital's 66 wards have TV sets. The state doesn't provide them; they must come from private donations.

"If a individual or groups are interested in donating TV sets, we'd be happy to accept them," she said.

Bottle Takes 18 Years From Tennessee to Sea

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I. (AP)—John Phillips found a bottle yesterday which in the past 18 years traveled from the Mississippi River in Tennessee to this island 10 miles off the Rhode Island mainland.

The sealed, airtight bottle contained a note saying Eugene S. Noell of Clayton, Mo., threw it into the Mississippi Jan. 15, 1936.

The note also said Noell would pay the finder $2, so Phillips put the note in the mail last night.

Besides the 17-year cicado, there is a race of periodical cicadas in the southern United States called the 13-year cucada. The life history of this cicada is like that of its more northern brother, except that it emerges every 13 years.

See Price Cuts on Beef, Lamb

Forecast Many Cuts Down 10 Cents a Pound by Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Good buys in beef and legs of lamb will be featured by many of the country's food stores this weekend.

Many cuts of beef—round roast, pot roast, prime ribs, sirloin steak and ground beef—are on the list of specials in numerous stores. Price will be trimmed by as much as 10 cents a pound.

Legs of lamb will be on the featured list in cities as widely separated as Los Angeles, Chicago and Jacksonville. In some cases, 6 cents will be knocked off last week's prices. However, other stores plan to boost lamb prices by 2 to 4 cents a pound.

The men who watch wholesale prices say that beef and lamb should be a little cheaper at retail next week because wholesale prices are declining. However, veal prices are firm and pork quotations "erratic."

Some stores will hike pork chop prices this weekend, sometimes by 10 to 14 cents a pound. Frying chickens will cost about the same as a week ago.

Butter shows a tendency to go lower. Price reductions of a penny or two a pound are reported by a number of markets.

The produce sections of food markets will be featuring cabbage, onions, potatoes, pears and apples. Wholesale men also list these as good buys: Beans, carrots, escarole, endive, kale, collard, sweet potatoes and tangerines.

Michigan hothouse rhubarb began appearing on the wholesale markets this week. In New York, a shipment of watermelons arrived —from Cuba.

Coffee prices climbed again as roasters added another nickel to their wholesale prices. Chain stores also boosted prices of their own brands.

Youthful Auto Thieves Placed in County Home

Two juveniles, who admitted stealing an automobile from downtown Pontiac Tuesday afternoon, were picked up yesterday on Stanley road and turned over to the Oakland County Children's Home.

The boys said they took the car when it was parked near the Riker building. The theft was reported by Harry Tinson, 283 Knowlson, Keego Harbor.

Approximately 3.5 per cent of all children in the U. S. have divorced parents.

U. of M. Students Offer Services as Entertainers

ANN ARBOR — A folk singer from Ceylon, a pianist from Brazil and a dancer from India—these are just a few of the programs offered by the University of Michigan Extension Service to clubs, church groups and other organizations.

Groups may make arrangements for these programs by U-M foreign students, representing 80 countries, by contacting Mrs. Margaret Knapp, 4524 Administration Building, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Knapp points out that a nominal stipend is charged for the student, but transportation costs are paid by the Extension Service. Unless public transportation is easily accessible, she explains, the organizations must take care of travel arrangements. This is because of students' time limitations and the difficulty in reaching faraway towns.

Student speakers are available from Alaska, Russia, Germany, Ireland, Britain and Finland. Others are from Latin-American countries, Arab lands, the Near East, Ethiopia, Liberia and the Philippines.

For an example of the programs offered, she explains that the speaker from Alaska illustrates his talk with slides, some of little-known Alaskan people. Other speakers use slides or films.

Credit Union Here Decides Dividend

Pontiac Motor Federal Credit Union had $1,210,000 in assets in 1953, members were told recently at the union's 13th annual meeting at Roosevelet Temple.

Shareholders were voted a four per cent dividend on savings.

Officers for 1954 elected at the meeting are George A. Wilmot, president; Robert J. Poorman, vice president; Francis H. Schneider, treasurer-manager; and Norman O. Ryden, clerk.

Guest speaker was Oakland County Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland.

No Hunting Loophole for Visiting Dignitary

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Gov. John Lodge and other state officials scanned the statutes for a loophole in one of the state's oldest laws but couldn't find one.

As a result, Lodge had to deny a French consular official permission to hunt in Connecticut.

The state has two laws that prevent non-citizens from hunting. Both laws are based on the principal that firearms should be kept out of the hands of aliens as a security matter.

Voting age is 21 in 47 states. Georgia alone has the age 18 provision.

Two Groups at U. of M. for Meetings Next Week

ANN ARBOR (UP) — City managers and hardware dealers will descend on the University of Michigan for meetings next week. Wednesday, about 75 city managers will confer in connection with the annual mid-winter meeting of the Michigan chapter of the International City Managers Assn.

The fourth annual hardware employes study course will be staged on the campus from Tuesday to Thursday, inclusive. About 60 dealers are expected to attend.

Santa in Hiding

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—A former minor league baseball umpire in business here now refused to let his name be placed in the city telephone director because of bitter Christmas time experiences in other cities. His name: John H. Santa.

Reports Sale of 500 GM Diesel Road Tractors

Riss and Co., Inc. of Kansas City, Mo., has purchased 500 GMC Diesel highway tractors from the GMC Truck and Coach Division, it was announce today by Philip J. Monaghan, GM vice president and general manager of the division. It is one of the largest purchases of such highway equipment on division records.

Marines Boast 'Foreign Legion'

Corps Unit in Hawaii Even Includes Former German, Jap Foes

KANEOHE, Hawaii (UP)—America's "foreign legion" is appropriately stationed at the crossroads of the world, Hawaii, and the members are all Marines.

The roster here at the Kaneohe Marine Air Station reads like the General Assembly of the United Nations.

There are two Filipino Marines, two Japanese who fought the Americans in World War II, a former member of the Wehrmacht and a pole who arrived here via the displaced persons route. A Mexican, Englishman, Scotsman, Samoan, and a Czech known only as "Corporal X" also are in the outfit.

The identity of "Corporal X" is classified by the corps to prevent possible retaliation by the Communists against relatives who are still in Czechoslovakia.

"X" escaped from behind the Iron Curtain five years ago by crawling through minefields and dodging Red patrols.

He spent two years in England, and then came to America where he joined the Marines. He has served 22 months, most of them in Hawaii.

Norway's member is Brynjulv G. Berge, a photographer, who travelled all the way from Scandinavia to join the Marine Corps.

The Samoan member of this unique company is Pfc. Ione Ma'ae. Ma'ae was born in America Samoa and joined the Marines at Pago Pago, got his basic training there, and has never been in the United States.

Seiyu Komesu of Japan was wounded twice by the Marines on Okinawa during the fighting for the island in 1945. He was picked up by Marine corpsmen and hospitalized until the end of the war. He is now a private at Kaneohe.

The second Japanese-born Marine at Kaneohe is Pfc. Haruyuki Shintaku. Shintaku was a student at Hiroshima when the city was atom-bombed, and he was injured in the blast. He later came to the U. S. to school and ended up by joining the Marines.

The former Nazi soldier is Pfc. Fred A. Hannak, 26, who fought the Americans in World War II as a soldier in a German Panzer unit.

China's representative is Pfc. Yen Der who fled his homeland at the beginning of World War II to escape the Japanese, and ended up in San Francisco and a Marine recruiting office.

The combat team's bandmaster, M. Sgt. Bartholomew LaRocca, was born in Sicily and served through several Marine campaigns in the Pacific.

The two Filipino Marines started soldiering at an early age. Pfc. Teodorico Cabalo was only 15 when he became a guerrilla in World War II and fought the Japanese on Mindanao.

His buddy, Pfc. Cesario S. Sabio, was captured by the Japanese when he was 17 and was under sentence of death when he escaped.

The members of this "foreign legion" emphasize one point—that theirs is no legion of lost souls seeking adventure. Those who are not yet U. S. citizens hope to be. As "Corporal X" put it:

"Too many of us have seen other types of government that are aimed at tearing down and destroying our ideals. We are willing to fight to see that the American freedoms continue."

Text of President's Proposals for Tax Law Revision

Broad 25-Point Program Outlined in Budget Address

WASHINGTON (AP)—Following is the complete text of the tax proposals set forth by President Eisenhower in his budget message to Congress today:

Our whole system of taxation needs revision and overhouling. It has grown haphazardly over many years. The tax system should be completely revised.

Revision of the tax system is needed to make tax burdens fairer for millions of individual taxpayers. It is needed to restore normal incentives for sustained production and economic growth.

The country's economy has continued to grow during recent years with artificial support from recurring inflation. This is not a solid foundation for prosperity.

We must restore conditions which will permit traditional American initiative and production genius to push on to ever higher standards of living and employment. Among these conditions, a fair tax system with minimum restraints on small and growing businesses is especially important.

I believe that this proposed tax revision is the next important step we should take in easing our tax burdens. After it is completed, further reductions in expenditures can be applied to our two objectives of balancing the budget and reducing tax rates.

A year ago I asked the secretary of the treasury to undertake a complete review of the tax system and make recommendations for changes.

Tax Law Studies Started by House

The Committee on Ways and Means of the House of Representatives had already started constructive examination of the tax laws with the same objectives. Extensive hearings were held by the committee during the late spring and summer.

The proposed revisions are the result of a year's intensive work. The collaboration between congressional and treasury staffs in the development of a tax revision bill has been very close.

It may, I hope, provide a precedent for similar collaboration in other fields of legislation.

I shall not list here all the detailed points developed for the revision of the tax laws. The following recommendations cover the major points.

They will substantially reduce the more glaring inequities, thereby helping vast numbers of our people in their individual tax burdens. They will reduce the more serious restraints on production and economic growth.

They will promote investment, which provides new and better methods of production and creates additional payrolls and more jobs.

The revisions will also make the law simpler and super, with benefits to both taxpayers and the government. They will in many ways prevent abuses by which some taxpayers now avoid their rightful share of tax burdens by taking unfair advantage of technicalities.

Proposed Taxation Revisions Listed

1. Children earning over 600 dollars—At present, parents cannot claim as a dependent any child who earns over 600 dollars a year. This discourages children in school or college from earning as much as they can to help in their support.

I recommend that a parent should be permitted to continue to claim a child as a dependent regardless of the child's earnings if he is under 18 or away from home at school, as long as he is in fact still supported by the parent.

Such dependents should, of course, continue to pay their own income tax on earnings above 600 dollars.

2. Heads of families—At present, a widow or widower with dependent children is denied the full benefit of income-splitting available to married couples. It seems unfair to tax the income of a surviving parent with dependent children at higher rates than were applied to the family income before the death of one of the partners in a marriage.

I recommend that widows and widowers with dependent children be allowed to split their income as is now done by married couples.

This same tax treatment should be authorized for single people supporting dependent parents. Furthermore, the present requirement that dependent parents must live with their children for the children to qualify for this tax treatment should be removed.

It is often best for elderly people to be able to live in their own homes, and the tax laws should not put a penalty on family arrangements of this sort.

3. Foster children as dependents—At present, foster children and children in process of adoption may not be claimed as dependents. I recommend that such children be allowed as dependents.

4. Expenses of child care—Some tax allowance can properly be given for actual costs of providing care for the small children of widows or widowers who have to work outside the home.

The same tax privilege should be given to working mothers who, because their husbands, are incapacitated, provide the principal support of their families.

5. Medical expenses—The present tax allowances for unusual medical expenses are too limited to cover the many tragic emergencies which occur in too many families.

I recommend that a tax allowance be given for medical expenses in excess of 3 per cent of income instead of 5 per cent as at present.

I recommend further that the present ceiling of $1,250 for a single person with a maximum ceiling of $5,000 for a family should be doubled so that the maximum for a family will be $10,000. However, to avoid abuses in medical deductions, I recommend that the definition of medical expenses be tightened to exclude both ordinary household supplies and certain indirect travel expenses.

Legal Uncertainties Hinder Health Plans

6. Medical insurance and sick benefits for employes—Insurance and other plans adopted by employers to protect their employes against the risks of sickness should be encouraged by removing the present uncertainties in the tax law.

It should be made clear that the employer's share of the costs of providing such protection on a group basis will not be treated as income on which the employe is liable for tax.

This principal should be applied to medical and hospital insurance as well as to full or partial continuation of earnings during a sickness.

There should be no tax discrimination between plans insured with an outside insurance company and those financed directly by the employer.

At present, payments received by a person while sick are entirely nontaxable if made under an insured plan.

This makes it possible for a person subject to high tax rates to have a much larger net income while on sick leave than while at work.

To prevent abuses, I recommend that a limit of $100 a week be placed on tax-free benefits, but this exemption should be extended only to plans meeting certain general standards.

Levy on Pensions Needs Simplifying

7. Pension and profit-sharing plans for employes—The conditions for qualification for special tax treatment of employers' pension plans are too involved. Such plans are desirable.

I recommend that the rules be simplified and that greater discretion be given in establishing plans for different groups of employes, so long as there is no discrimination in favor of key executives or stockholders.

Under present law, the value of a future pension to a surviving widow or child of an employe is included in the husband's taxable estate, even though the survivors may not live to receive the full benefits and there may be no cash available to pay the tax.

I recommend that such value should not be included in an estate but that the survivors continue to pay tax on the pension in the same manner that it was taxed to the person first receiving it.

At the same time, to avoid unfair competition with ordinary taxpaying businesses, I recommend that pension trusts be restricted in the same manner as a tax-exempt foundation. They should also be subject to rules in regard to percentage distribution of their assets comparable to those applying to regulated investment companies.

Urges New Basis for Annuity Tax

8. Taxation of annuities—Under the present tax law, a person buying (SIC) an annuity is taxed on a relatively large part of each payment until his cost is fully covered, at which time the full amount becomes taxable.

The tax rule is so strict that often a person is not likely to get his capital back tax free unless he lives beyond his life expectancy.

I recommend that the tax treatment of annuities be determined on the basis of the life expectancy of the person receiving it.

This will permit the hundreds of thousands of people who buy annuities to recover their capital free of tax over their life expectancies and will avoid any change in the tax status of an annuity during a person's lifetime.

9. Double taxation of dividends—At present, business income is taxed to both the corporation as it is earned and to the millions of stockholders as it is paid out in dividends.

This double taxation is bad from two standpoints. It is unfair and it discourages investment.

I recommend that a start be made in the removal of this double taxation by allowing stockholders a credit against their own income taxes as a partial offset for the corporate tax previously paid. This will promote investment which in turn means business expansion and more production and jobs.

Specifically, I recommend that the credit be allowed on an increasing scale over the next 3 years. For this year, I recommend that a credit of 5 per cent be allowed; for 1955, a credit of 10 per cent; and, in 1956 and later years, 15 per cent.

To avoid shifts in the payment dates of corporation dividends, these credits should apply to dividends received after July 31 of each year.

Shareholders' 1st $50 Would Be Tax-Free

To give the full benefit immediately to small stockholders, I recommend that the first $50 of dividends be completely exempted from tax in 1954 and that the first $100 be exempted in 1955 and later years.

10. Estimated returns—The burden on those required to file estimated tax returns should be reduced by increasing the number of optional ways in which an individual can estimate his tax without being subject to penalty for an underestimate.

I recommend also that the penalties resulting from underestimates be simplified by being stated as a 6 per cent interest charge on deficiencies.

11. Filing date—To reduce the burdens of preparing and filing returns in the early months of the year, I recommend that the March 15 filing date for indivduals be changed to April 15.

In the taxation of business the same objective of fairness, simplicity, and reduction of tax barriers to production and normal economic growth are important. The present tax law should be revised on the basis of these standards.

Particular attention should be given in the revision of the law to the problems of small and growing business concerns. I cannot emphasize too strongly the social and economic importance of an environment which will encourage the formation, growth, and continued independent existence of new companies.

Plan to Promote Small Businesses

12. Depreciation—A liberalization of the tax treatment of depreciation would have far-reaching effects on all business and be especially helpful in the expansion of small business whether conducted as individual proprietorships, partnerships or corporations.

At present, buildings, equipment and machinery are usually written off uniformly over their estimated useful lives. The deductions allowed, especially in the early years, are often below the actual depreciation.

This discourages long-range investment on which the risks cannot be clearly foreseen. It discourages the early replacement of old equipment with new and improved equipment.

And it makes it more difficult to secure financing for capital investment, particularly for small business organizations.

I recommend that the tax treatment of depreciation be substantially changed to reduce these restrictions on new investment, which provides a basis for economic growth, increased production, and improved standards of living.

It will help the manufacturer in buying new machinery and the storekeeper in expanding and modernizing his establishment. It will help the farmer get new equipment. All of this means many more jobs.

Specifically, I recommend that business be allowed more freedom in using straight-line depreciation and in selecting other methods of depreciation. Larger depreciation charges should be allowed in the early years of life of property by use of the declining-balance method of depreciation at rates double those permitted under the straight-line method.

Other methods which give larger depreciation in early years should be accepted, so long as they do not produce deductions which exceed those available under the declining-balance method.

The new methods of depreciation should be allowed for investments in buildings, equipment and machinery made after Jan. 1, 1954. This would include farm buildings and equipment and new construc-

READY FOR PARTY—These youngsters are among the pupils of Emmanuel Christian Day School who are anxiously awaiting an "openhouse" program at the new school. Left to right are Judy Nelson, 1721 Cass Lake Rd.; Larry Proctor, 598 E. Huron St., and Sharon Steiner, 1240 Lennox Rd. The openhouse will be tonight at 7:30.

At Emmanuel Baptist Church

New Christian Day School Is Example of Teamwork

By LULA B. OGDEN

The new Christian Day School at Emmanuel Baptist Church has come into being because "the people had a mind to work," Neh. 4:6.

Shortly before Christmas, students began moving into the new building as rooms were finished. All classes are now housed in the new part, except the sewing room for the girls which still is in the old section of the building.

The new 50x100-foot building, which the congregation estimates would have cost $240,000, is nearing completion. The cost has been reduced to about $60,000 because church members have donated their varied talents in its construction.

Starting with an enrollment of 77, the school has reached 155 at the present time with a capacity of about 250.

The school provides classes for pupils from kindergarten through junior high school. A shop and kitchen are being equipped. Each year the church hopes to add another grade until all 12 grades are accommodated.

The Rev. Tom Malone, pastor of the church, is superintendent and Mrs. Theron T. Stickel is principal. Mrs. Stickel has served as a substitute teacher for the Pontiac system and also has held regular teaching positions at LeBaron and Willis Schools. At present she is teaching half-day kindergarten session.

Other teachers on the staff are Cleone Rasmussen, teaching first and second grades; Mrs. Eldon Peterson, third and fourth, and Mrs. John W. Emerson, fifth and sixth grades.

Homeroom teachers for the Junior High Department are Mr. and Mrs. Willard Stallcup, seventh and eighth grades, respectively, and Herbert Noe, ninth grade.

Mr. Stallcup teaches history, shop and gym for boys; Mrs. Stallcup English, home economics and gym for girls; and Mr. Noe, mathematics and science.

The school follows the state course of study, and the teachers, who hold degrees, are certified by the state.

According to Mrs. Stickel, pay is about the same as for workers in other Christian fields.

From 9 to 9:30 a.m. or for the first half hour of school, a Bible study period is held in each room or some form of religious education is given. In the lower grades this mostly includes the learning of Bible verses and Bible stories.

Mrs. Stickel said that the problems that arise are solved through the application of Christian principles.

Recently your reporter visited the first and second grade and listened to the teacher, Miss Rasmussen, tell the story of the Ninety and Nine. She used spot picture cards to illustrate the story of Snowflake, a lost lamb, rescued by the shepherd. She ended with the picture of Jesus Christ, making the application of Christ as the Good Shepherd.

As I entered the door, one of the boys placed a chair for me and, although the grade would indicate that the children were 6 and 7-year-olds, the expressions on their faces showed that they were following the story closely.

At the close the teacher asked who would like to give the morning prayer, and most of the hands flew up. Two girls were chosen, and in quiet, natural voices, they each offered a little prayer from the heart in such a sincere way that many an oldster would wish he might do as well.

Shopping by Air Proves Satisfactory

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—Business is booming at the "jungle fighters' shop"—the Air Despatch Depot of the Royal Army Service Corps here — because more and more army and police units are doing their shopping by air.

Recently live hens were sent floating down to a police unit. The birds suffered no ill-effects and within 48 hours resumed laying. Shortly a number of cats are to be parachuted to another jungle fort to rid it of rats.

About 250 tons of army supplies are delivered to patrols in a month by air.

Farmers Hear Economics Talk

Williams Tells Oxford Cooperative to Study His 9-Point Program

"The American farmer has been low man on the economic totem pole during the past year," Gov. G. Mennen Williams told a predominantly farmer audience in Oxford yesterday.

Speaking at the annual dinner of the Oxford Cooperative Elevator stockholders in Knights of Pythias Hall, the governor pointed out that farm income dropped 13 per cent in the last 12 months.

However, he went on to express confidence in the economic future of the nation if "we all pull together" for "if the low man pulls in his horns, the whole totem pole is going to shake."

Williams cited the General Motors announcement of investing a billion dollars in expansion as "showing their confidence in the future."

"It shows that segments of industry are going to be helped," he said.

"But we all have a big job to do—General Motors, the corner drug store, state and federal governments and individuals. We've all got to pull . . . because our economy is integrated."

To specifically aid the Michigan farmer, and the state economy generally, Williams listed his nine-point program "to improve marketing of agricultural products."

Of course, it's only an answer to our problem," he said, "but others can pick it up to help the national picture."

Included in the budget submitted to the Legislature last week, the half-million dollar program calls for boosts in informational aid to the farmer so he may 1) know the market and prices for his products, and 2) learn ways to cut processing and handling costs.

Other steps would have specialists investigate ways to improve methods of selling Michigan products by grocers and promote the use of Michigan farm products for housewives.

Williams said the plan was formulated over a two-month period at conferences with agriculture group leaders from all over the state.

Ex-Purple Gangster Must Return to Jackson Prison

LANSING (AP) — Philip Keywell, former Detroit Purple gangster, today was ordered to Southern Michigan Prison by the Corrections Commission.

At the same time, the commission clamped the lid on transfers outside of the regular prison system without its specific approval.

Keywell had been assigned by former Corrections Commissioner Earnest C. Brooks to a trusty postion on a farm connected with the Detroit House of Correction.

He was sentenced to life from Detroit in 1930 for killing a boy.

The commission adopted this policy:

1—No state prisoner may be assigned outside the three prisons, Cassidy Lake camp, the conservation camps or Detroit House of Correction without specific approval of the commission.

2—The trusty status of all prisoners will be decided on the basis of security an dnot on favoritism, race, creed or any other considerations.

3—All transfers within the system must be approved by Director Gus Harrison or John J. Spencer, the newly appointed assistant director in charge of prisons.

The policy is designed to prevent the assignment of any prisoners out of the commission's jurisdiction. It was mainly prompted by the discovery that Sanford Anderson who had been sentenced to prison for forgery from Berrien County, had been assigned back to Berrien County by Brooks to work in the sheriff's office.

Anderson has since been returned to the trusty division of Southern Michigan Prison.

Harrison reported that a diligent search had failed to reveal any other similar cases.

In the Keywell case, the commission approved Harrison's proposal that all men state prisoners who had longer than five years to serve would be returned from the Detroit House of Correction.

This automatically means Keywell's return. Harrison, for security reasons, refused to say when the transfer would be made.

Harrison promised also that all 86 male state prisoners at the Detrolt institution would be screened and that if there were any others besides the long-termers who should be returned, they would be.

In an effort to get the benefit of fresh brains on the problem of keeping Michigan prisons in order, the commission appointed three wardens from other states to make a survey and recommendations for improvements in Michigan security precautions.

The three, who will visit the state's three prisons soon, are Wardens Joseph Regan of Illinois, James Curran of Maryland and Parker Hancock of New Hampshire.

At the same time, an independent survey of Michigan's probation and parole supervision practices was launched by the National Probation and Parole Association.

The commission, which requested the survey, conferred with Hugh Reid, association executive secretary, and two assistants who left immediately to start the survey in the Detroit courts.

The association men will meet shortly with the 23-member sponsoring committee which is headed by Circuit Judge Stephen J. Roth of Flint.

Harrelson Trial Delayed Again

Attorney for Defense W. F. Dohany Is Taken Ill in Courtroom

The collapse of defense attorney William F. Dohany in Circuit Court yesterday dramatically interrupted the negligent homicide trial of Leaun Harrelson Jr. for the seventh time since the youth's arraignment, Oct. 13.

Dohany was cross-examining a witness before Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick, presiding at the non-jury trial, when he staggered to his chair and collapsed.

The fire department's inhalator squad rushed to the courtroom in less than two minutes after receiving a call and revived him.

He was sped to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital by ambulance where an examination disclosed Dohany collapsed from an internal hemorrhage. His condition today is reported good.

Judge Hartrick adjourned the trial until Dohany's condition warrants its resumption.

Harrelson, 18, of 26 Delaware Dr., is charged with the death of Mrs. Veda N. Coon, 37, of 49 Dwight Ave., who was struck by the youth's auto on W. Huron street at Dwight avenue last Oct. 9.

Ford Tractor Hosts Dealers, Salesmen

Ford Tractor Division and the Great Lakes Tractor & Equipment Co. of Birmingham, Michigan distributor, were hosts yesterday and this morning to Michigan dealers and salesmen at Masonic Temple in Detroit. This morning dealers met at the State Fairgrounds to inspect the new English-built Fordson Major Diesel tractor which will be introduced next month. The new, more powerful tractor in the Ford line is being built in Dagenham, England, for the American market.

Bingo Petitions to Be Circulated

Waterford Group Will Ask Amendment to OK Charitable Games

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Petitions asking for an amendment to the law banning charitable lotteries in Michigan are ready for circulation, officials of the Waterford Charitable Bingo and Raffle Assn. announced yesterday.

According to R. J. Smith, secretary of the group, at least 60,000 signatures must be secured in Oakland County within the next 45 days.

Issuance of the blank petitions and a complete report on actions by the group will be made at a meeting tonight at 8 in the Waterford Township CAI Building.

Representatives from several Michigan counties have been meeting in Lansing during the past several months in an effort to organize a movement against the ban enforced early last year.

Two Plead Guilty to Nov. 16 Robbery

Herbert G. Marcotte, 3349 Hendrick, Detroit, and Clarence J. McLachter, 914 Mace, Royal Oak, pleaded guilty to a charge of unarmed robbery when they appeared before Oakland County Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick this morning. Both stood mute when arraigned last December.

Marcotte was returned to Oakland County Jail to await sentencing Feb. 1. McLachter was released on $3,000 bond pending sentencing Feb. 15. They pleaded guilty to beating a woman and robbing her of $110 in Royal Oak on Nov. 16.

Harris will spend 30 days in jail if he fails to pay the fine, said Pontiac Judge Maurice E. Finnegan. Police are holding another warrant charging Harris with assault and battery. The warrant is signed by Miss Glory Allen Sing of 642 Bloomfield Ave.

Oakland PTAs Are Urged to Watch New Legislation

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

"It is up to you to watch-dog all proposed school legislation this year and to exert your power if necessary," declared Donald Baldwin, Rochester superintendent, speaking before the Oakland County Parent Teacher Association council Tuesday night.

Legislative chairman for the Oakland County PTA council, Baldwin said that PTA organizations could accomplish anything they wanted to because of the voting power they control.

Previewing legislation which will come before the 1954 session of the Michigan Legislature, Baldwin cited the Conlin Proposal as the number one concern for those interested in public schools.

"Drafted by Representative Rollo Conlin, it calls for the repeal of the sales tax diversion amendment and proposes in its place the earmarking of two cents of the sales tax for schools. This would be distributed on a current membership basis," he said.

The security clause of the Conlin plan is the earmarking of school funds. At present they are guaranteed by constitutional amendment, but come out of the state's general fund and during lean years may run the risk of not receiving disbursements on schedule as in 1953.

Baldwin said PTAs would be alerted in time to exercise their influence when it was decided whether or not the Conlin proposal should be supported or vetoed.

He also reviewed the proposed state equalized valuation, county assessing, state aid bill for this year, children's psychiatric hospital and proposed legislation affecting special education programs.

Representative William Broomfield of Royal Oak has drafted the Oakland County Superintendents' proposal for special education. This was formulated following two years of survey and study by this group of educators.

This proposal, said Baldwin, would provide on a county basis for the cooperation of school districts in the establishment of special facility centers for exceptional children.

'Senior Class Program to Feature Coronation of Queen

ROCHESTER — The annual senior carnival of Rochester High School will be held in the school auditorium Saturday from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m., and in the evening from 7:30 to midnight.

Soupy Sales, TV comedian, will appear from 2:30 to 4:30.

Booths typical of a carnival will be consigned for candy and baked goods. A special Gypsy tea room will be located in the cafeteria where refreshments will be sold.

Highlight of the festivities will be the naming of the carnival queen. She will reign for the day.

Senior Class President Jerry Dahlmann is general chairman of the event.

Thors Offers Ideas to Improve PHS

John Thors Jr., principal of Pontiac High School, briefed Pontiac Board of Education last night on the school's curriculum and offered several suggestions for improving PHS.

He said the school carries the approval of the University of Michigan and the North Central Accreditation Assn. meaning that graduates with good scholastic records can enter the association's member colleges without taking entrance exams.

The school offers college preparatory courses for students planning to continue their schooling and vocational, commercial and general courses for those wishing to find jobs after graduation, he told board members.

Asked what improvements he would like, Thors suggested (1) more counselors to help students with personal troubles and study problems, (2) a "remedial reading" teacher, and (3) a bigger homemaking department to teach cooking, sewing and family living.

Hoedowners to Teach Blind to Square Dance

Members of the Pontiac Hoedowners Club volunteered to help teach square dancing to blind persons last night at the monthly square dance for the blind sponsored by the Lions Club.

Assisting were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mattinson, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Sheffer, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Iriand, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Allen, Mr. and Mrs. George Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Christensen, Lloyd Iriand and Mrs. Rosanne Iriand.

Champ Riders to Take Spills

Top Cowboys Will Try for Prizes; 3 Old-Time Clowns to Make Faces

NEW YORK — Fort Worth's championship rodeo, with its traditional color, spills, thrills, and thundering action, will be televised for the second year on the TV network, next Saturday afternoon.

An annual feature of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, the great Fort Worth rodeo is held in famed Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum.

Each year, top cowboys — many of them world champions — compete for thousands of dollars in prizes. This year some of the champions slated to appear are Casey Tibbs, world champion saddle-bronc rider from Fort Piere, S. D.; Don McLaughlin, world champion calf roper from Smithfield, Tex., and Harry Thompkins, from Dublin, Tex., for several years the world's champion Brahma bull rider.

In addition, many of the 1953 winners at Fort Worth are scheduled to enter again.

But the biggest attraction of this year's Fort Worth rodeo promises to be the farewell appearance of one of the most famous horses of all time.

In response to public demand, Old Buck, known and loved by millions of people for his uncanny memory and amazing performances in the rodeo arena, will come out of retirement for this one show.

For the first time in several seasons, trick riders will return to the Fort Worth rodeo. Dolores Christiensen, Jerry Portwood, Betty Lamb and Don Wilcox will exhibit their tremendous skill and coordination in exciting specialty numbers.

Wanda Lou McCush, well-known rodeo personality, will demonstrate her amazing ability to ride six horses at once.

The funniest — and probably most dangerous — assignment in the whole two-hour show will be handled by old-time rodeo clowns Wilbur Plaugher, Buddy Heaton and Jimmy Schumacher.

These men are bullfighters in the strictest sense of the word — only they have no weapons except funny faces, noise-makers, an open-end barrel, and the ability to run fast and jump high.

Another attraction that's been missing from the Fort Worth rodeo for several seasons will return this year — the wild horse stampede.

The events include grand entry and introduction, bare back bronc riding, a special event while calf roping chutes are being set up, calf roping, Hardy Murphy and Old Buck, saddle bronc riding, trick and fancy riding and Wanda Lou; steer wrestling, wild horse stampede; open cutting horse contest, bull riding, and a mounted quadrille.

Blame Sigler Crash on Poor Judgment

LANSING (INS) — Civil Aeronautics investigators today blamed the Nov. 30 air crash which killed former Gov. Kim Sigler and three other persons on poor judgment.

They said Sigler, pilot of the plane which rammed a 600-foot television antenna near Battle Creek, showed poor judgement in taking off from South Bend for Lansing in heavy rain and poor visibility.

Investigators noted also that the tower into which Sigler crashed was reported in a special bulletin Nov. 12, less than three weeks before the accident.

There are about 800 species of orchid native to the Philippines.

Godfrey May Lose License

CAA Asks Temporary Suspension on Charge of Reckless Flying

NEW YORK (AP) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) has recommended suspension of Arthur Godfrey's pilot's license based on a charge of reckless flying.

Another CAA allegation, that the radio-TV star's medical clearance to fly was not in order, was withdrawn provisionally yesterday in statements here by the federal bureau and its regional administrator, Ora W. Young.

Earlier yesterday in Washington, the CAA said Godfrey lacked a valid medical certificate, good for two years in the case of private pilots.

Later, in New York, the CAA said Godfrey had a medical okay dated last Dec. 15 and another from October 1952.

To which Young added:

"Apparently, there is nothing wrong with his medical qualifications. He had the certificates but had not properly reported them to Washington nor had he requested that a CAA certificate be issued to him."

It was reported that the red-haired celebrity forwarded the latest certificate to Washington yesterday.

The CAA has accused Godfrey of operating his DC3 twin-engine, 21-passenger plane "in a careless manner" while taking off last Jan. 7 from Teterboro, N. J., airport.

Godfrey, who admits he was displeased by takeoff instructions, says his plane was forced close to the control tower by a strong crosswind.

The CAA, which enforces regulations by the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), has asked the board only to suspend Godfrey's license for "as long as necessary."

Maximum penalty for reckless flying is revocation of a pilot's license or a $1,000 fine.

Godfrey is entitled to a CAB hearing if he requests it, but he already has said he will not appeal a suspension ruling because "I have too much respect for the CAA."

No Elevator Service for Ground Observers

READING, Pa. (AP) — This city has several lofty structures suitable for a ground observers post from which to carry out the civil defense program. But the city corps has been inactive since it lost its last post when the building on which it was located was sold.

The city's other tall structures curtail their elevator service at 10 p.m.

Empty Idaho Jail Gets Colorful Decor Job

Colorful is just about the only way to describe properly the American Falls jail.

The walls are leaf-green. The floor is maroon. And the cell bars are silver.

The jail was empty for a few days recently and power county commissioners said it seemed a good time to redecorate.

Wife and Baby Doing Fine; Dad Confused

DALLAS (AP) — William Keller drove his wife to the hospital yesterday but found he had forgotten the baby clothes.

He started back home. A few blocks away he had a minor collision. Police warned him to drive carefully, then sent him on his way when he told of the emergency.

Keller started around a curve. His car shaved the railing from the left side of a wooden bridge, hit a ditch and overturned twice, shaking up Keller.

The wife and baby boy are doing fine.

To do work equal to that of a mole, an average-sized man would have to dig a tunnel wide enough to permit the passage of his body almost 37 miles long in a single night.

Sign of True Devotion

VALPARAISO, Ind. (AP) — A wife went to the hospital just long enough for treatment after an argument with her husband. Then, with one black eye, she appeared and paid the $1 fine Justice of Peace Mitchell Loniewski assessed against her husband.

Pima county in Arizona has one voting precinct that is larger than the entire state of Rhode Island.

20,000 Years Back

New Mexico Offers Clue to Our Ancient Sandia Man

WASHINGTON—New clues are pushing back the calendar of ages in science's long search for the earliest Americans.

Until recently, definite proof of human life on this continent went back 10,000 years at most.

Now this span appears to have been doubled by the dating of a 20,000-year-old mammoth's tusk found amid evidence of man in New Mexico's ancient Sandia cave-dwelling.

If Sandia Man killed that mammoth, he long preceded Folsom Man, whose crudely-chipped spear points and tools once were considered the oldest relics of American habitation, the National Geographic Society says.

Other evidence and explorations of recent years offer further hints that man was in North America immedately after the last Ice Age, an era that waned some 25,000 years ago.

There has even been speculation, based on findings in a California gravel pit, that he was here while it was still in progress, more than 100,000 years ago.

Archeologists agree that the first wandering people must have come from Asia. With ocean levels, slightly lower, Bering Strait between Siberia and Alaska would be dry land.

Along an Arctic grassland belt in the thawing Ice Age could have come Asiatic game animals and then, perhaps, predatory hunting tribes.

There are hints that these first migrants would have followed the Arctic seacoast rather than brave the glacier-locked mountains of Central Alaska. At the valley of the Mackenzie River they could have turned south along an ice-free corridor down the eastern front of the Rocky Mountains into today's Great Plains.

Folsom-type projectile points have been found in northwestern Alaska, as have Stone Age carving tools, called burins, not found farther south.

Similar spearheads were discovered in the desolate Brooks Range fronting the Arctic Ocean.

These earliest peoples, pioneers of America's Paleo-Indians, came long before the first Eskimo tribes. Little has been found to bridge the gap of thousands of years. Yet the oldest Eskimo settlements so far dug up have shown a relatively advanced culture.

Eskimo sites go back only 2,000 to 3,000 years—Ipiutak in Alaska, the Dorset culture of the Canadian Arctic—and indicate a people highly adapted to the bleak regions of the far north.

Their relics can be directly traced to Asian sources. With little change, the Eskimo spread eastward 3,000 miles to Greenland.

But before the Eskimo, who? Hopefully, detectives of the past look to the barren Arctic and sub-Arctic for the hidden track of ancientmen who first wandered across the top of America, and perhaps down into the heart of an uninhabited New World.

Old Boston Tavern Will Be Preserved

BOSTON (UP) — A 278-year-old landmark has been saved from demolition.

Old Richards Tavern, in Boston's West Roxbury district, was bought recently by Jorge Epstein of Boston. It was assumed the ancient structure would be razed to provide a site for a modern building. But Epstein didn't want to see the tavern destroyed.

So he gave it to Old Sturbridge Village, which is a re-creation of a 17th century New England community. The tavern will be dismantled, moved in 10 trucks to Old Sturbridge Village, in central Massachusetts, and re-erected.

Built in 1675, the tavern once was a regular stop for stagecoaches traveling between Boston and New York.

Jaywalking Is Popular, but Police Chief Isn't

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Patrolman John Baldwin started giving out jaywalking tickets as part of a police drive against midblock crossing.

Within minutes a crowd had gathered. Baldwin could see he was not going to win a popularity contest right then — particularly when large groups deliberately jaywalked right in front of him.

He left. Police Chief Marvin Potts hasn't decided whether to resume the campaign.

Omaha Suicides Prove Mostly Single Folks

OMAHA (AP) — Married people in this area are the least likely to commit suicide. Widows, widowers and divorced persons head the list. Single persons are next.

A study by Florence Izenstat, sociology student at the University of Omaha shows more than half the 1,009 suicides in 22 years were recorded during the depression years, 1931 to 1938. Aged persons were the most likely to take their own lives. Most of the self-inflicted deaths were among those in the middle and upper-income brackets.

There are 20 states in the United States of Brazil.

Malayans Use Tin Can Phone

Crude System Provides Workable Inter-Village Communication

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaya (AP)—A tin can telephone system is providing communications for Malay villages in five areas in Kelantan state, north Malaya.

The Telecommunications Department in Malaya disclosed existence of these phones in a warning issued to the villagers to have them dismantled as wires from their phone networks were interfering with regular government lines whenever they fell across them.

The Department said in a statement it "applauds the initiative of the people" and promised to fix up a field telephone system for them.

The tin can phone system consists of two cans. One end of each can is cut out and through the other end a hole is made. The ends of a length of wire, linking two villages, are attached to the cans through the holes. The open end of the can is the mouthpiece as well as the earpiece of the phone. As one speaker talks into the open end, the listener at the other end has the open end to his ear.

Stolen Car Recovered, Stripped by Thieves

A car belonging to Rudy Smith of 495 John R., Avon Township, was stolen and stripped before being abandoned yesterday on South Blvd. near Rochester Rd.

Smith told Oakland County sheriff's deputies that $130 worth of tools, the radio, spare tire and a jack were taken. He said the car was stolen from his home.

CONCERNED ABOUT COFFEE—Congresswoman Mrs. Leoner Kretzer Sullivan of St. Louis, Mo., calls herself the typical "harassed housewife." However, as a Democratic member of Congress, she wants the Eisenhower administration to do something about the price of coffee. Posing with some of the precious brew, she pointed out the 15 cent-a-cup and $1.10 per pound prices. "Why," she said, "It's almost Un-American!"

Named Prison Aide

DALE C. HARRIS

School Band Heads Will Meet Sunday

Michigan charter members of the newly-formed American School Band Directors Association, which has elected Dale C. Harris president, will meet Sunday to name more prospective members.

Names will then be submitted to the association's membership committee.

Harris, instrumental music director of Pontiac Public Schools, played a key role in organizing the national association. He was chosen president at its final organizational session in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Nov. 21-22.

The group's fall meeting drew 59 men from 14 states. Harris' set of bylaws was adopted by the group.

Bob Considine Says:

Michigan Entrepreneur Cleans Up With 'Aircall'

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show—

Sherman Amsden, a man out of Brooklyn, Mich., owns "Aircall." That's a little pocket radio which gives off beeps and boops which summon doctors out of theaters, and call tycoons off golf courses to answer urgent phone calls.

Now he's come up with a refined "Aircall" which summons subscribers who are away from their phones provided they are within a 30-mile radius. A subscriber to old "Aircall" would have to hold his set to his ear and listen for a minute, if he were searching for his own signal.

Wasted a lot of time. So Amsden's wizards have come up with a tiny receiver that can be set to receive only the subscriber's call.

One of these days Amsden is going to drive Mr. Richard Tracy, the detective, out of business. Or force him to hock his 2-way wrist radio.

President Eisenhower doesn't like the McCarran-Walter Act and wants what he calls its discriminatory sections removed.

Among Democrats who will support the President in his efforts is Hubert H. Humphrey Jr., of Minnesota. The senator has fired his first salvo in pamphlet 202 of the Public Affairs Committee, Inc. series. His points:

The McCarran-Walter Act is making more enemies for the U.S. overseas than our benevolent programs are winning friends. There would be no tidal wave of immigration if the bars were dropped. There never have been any quota limitations imposed on Canadians and South Americans, but they stay in Canada and South America. The highest average annual immigration, in ratio to the total U.S. population, between 1840 and 1850, was only 1.28 per cent of population.

In "The Truth About Korea," in Collier's, Gen. Mark Clark condenses the frustration of dickering with Reds. He once said to Marshal Ivan S. Konev, his opposite number in Vienna, "You've made 10 demands at this meeting that we can't meet. But suppose I should say, 'all right, we agree to all ten demands.' Then what would you do?"

"Tomorrow," Marshal Konev replied. "I'd have 10 new ones."

We're making pikers out of Nero, Mrs. O'Leary's cow, and the tremors that set off the San Francisco fire. The National Board of Fire Underwriters has totaled up the cost of fires in the U.S. during 1953, and the bill came to $903,400,000.

Vacationers Go Hawaiian in Florida

Party at Surf Club to Have Romantic Island Theme

By ETHEL TOMBRINK

MIAMI — Hundreds of leis made of tiny vanda orchids will arrive by plane from Hawaii next Saturday. They'll be favors for the women at the Royal Hawaiian gala that evening in the Surf Club.

Royal Hawaiian Party, which will feature gay, bright murals depicting scenes of the romantic islands, will open the series of Saturday night galas at the Surf Club.

Joining in the Hawaiian fun that evening will be several Michigan couples in a party hosted by the George Walkers, winter residents from Bloomfield Hills. Their party will include the George Trumbulls, who arrived Sunday from Bloomfield Hills.

The Walkers met the Trumbulls in Hollywood, Fla., as they were traveling southward. Also in the Walkers' party will be the Ray Whytes and the David Marententts of Grosse Pointe, who are on their way to Jamaica.

Surf Club will be the scene of a party the Trumbulls have planned for Feb. 6 — it will be for General Motors friends who'll be here for the '54 Motorama.

Mr. and Mrs. Trumbull are hoping George Jr. and his wife, Joyce, will join them for a while next month.

Nancy Trumbull will be down next month to join her parents in their Vista Shores apartment.

"All worn out from moving," says Mrs. Nelse Knudsen, former Pontiacer living in Hollywood, Fla.

The Knudsens moved last week into their newly built home on the north side of South Lake in Hollywood.

The house fronts on the lake, an extension of the inland waterway, and there's a dock there — "Some day we hope to have a little boat," Mrs. Knudsen adds.

Living room of the one-story home is done in soft gray-greens and the partially covered patio looks out to the lake.

Girl Will Appear Foolish If She Rises to Boy's Bait

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: Rodge and I have been the best of friends for more than a year. We both belong to a square dance club and I was looking forward to tonight's dance very much until this morning.

"In class he told everyone that he'd seen a girl in assembly and right away had thought 'That's for me!' He spread it all around but wouldn't tell anyone who she is.

"In all the time I've known him he has never teased me or done anything like this. Do you think he means it, or is he just doing it to see if I really care?"

Whoa, Tillie-Liz, not so fast, there. You've taken Rodge's cute little wishful thinking comment very personally indeed. You're quite sure he only said it to disturb you. If you pay any attention to it at all you'll make yourself look like a wide-mouthed bass rising to the bait.

Haven't you ever feasted your eyes on a gorgeous mink coat and muttered to yourself, "That's for me?" Haven't you heard a boy whistle at a passing Alfa Romeo (super special body $25,000) and pronounce firmly, "That's my baby"?

Haven't you held your breath at the splendor of the diamonds in the jeweler's window, then calmly assured your companions that you're going to have two of those tiarras, one for every day and the other for Sundays?

Rodge's remark sounds to me like one of those exaggerations that's aimed at causing a slight ripple and getting a laugh. Can't believe it was aimed at you. Nor can I believe he meant it seriously.

Would a boy in his right mind announce to all and sundry that he'd been knocked off his pins by a girl who hasn't paid him the slightest attention? Would he issue a bulletin that he was about to launch a campaign of the most utter kind, and everybody should watch? I doubt it.

Worry not your fair head about this idle chatter of his—until you've proof that he really meant it. Said proof will be his giving all his time to some other girl at those square dances!

"Dear Miss Woodward: Last week my girl friends and I met some boys from a neighboring town and they asked us to a dance held at their school. We had a lot of fun, so we decided to have a party at my house and the boys seemed pleased to be invited.

"The night of the party the girls showed up, one with her boy friend, but the other boys didn't come. The one boy who did told us they had called him and told him to tell us they were sorry they couldn't make it.

"But today a girl told me she had seen them in town with some other girls in their car. Should we ignore them now, or wait until they explain, if they ever do?"

Something better came up, so they ditched your party. (Rude). They called somebody but he didn't get the message to you in time to enlist replacements. (Thoughtless). You girls are bewildered and hurt. (Pride).

The whole thing is an awkward, unpleasant situation that should be forgotten. But take those boys back into your good graces? Not until they've proved themselves worthy!

IF you need slimming—

Side-wrapped princess dress, releasing skirt fullness low around the hip on one side minimizes bosom, waistline and hips.

Mrs. N. S.—The softer-looking middle secion of dresses is important. This line is especially slimming in the diagonal closing coat dress. In fact, that is what is so new about the coat dress since it has thrown off flares for one-sided drapery.

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Pictures needn't hang on plain walls, and there's an especially wide choice now of wallpapers that make excellent picture backgrounds.

"I prefer wallpaper," writes Mrs. L. J., "but I'd like your advice on what kinds go best with pictures."

Smaller rooms and simpler furnishings bring small geometric patterns and textured papers into fashion, Mrs. J., so many of them that your problem is easy to solve.

Actual textures, such as grasscloth and woven effect, background pictures well, and then there are new tweeds and other designs that use simple lines, close together and in one color, that stay put on the wall without competing with pictures.

Lattice patterns are good, both simplified and drawn so they seem to add extra depth to the wall.

Even dots, small medallions and solid patterning can be used if the pattern colors do not contrast too much with background colors

In general, look for overall patterns, simplicity, limited contrast, gentle colors. If there is still doubt about whether or not a pattern might confuse pictures, give the pictures extra wide, plain-colored mats to separate the picture subject from the wall.

* * *

Mrs. F. A. D. — "There seems to be too much yellow and black in my kitchen. It has a red and cream blocked marbleized floor with a gray and black trim, deep yellow walls trimmed in black, white appliances and a white Venetian blind with black tapes.

"What color do you suggest for the counter tops of white cabinets and what color for the top and upholstery of a black breakfast set?"

The elimination of the black wall trim should help. Red, not too bright a shade, might be used for the upholstery to echo the linoleum color, or the upholstery could be white.

And white is probably best for table and counter tops. Pale gray to echo the linoleum might be used instead of white.

Mrs. K. L. — "Are straw placemats suitable for bone china?"

To course straw does not look well with fine china, but some varieties of straw mats are more delicate and handsome enough to be used with it.

The trouble with the "Girl Friday" jobs is that they expect you to be there Monday through Thursday, too.

Simple Problem of Hair Hygiene Explained Here

The only way you can keep hair healthy and shining is to keep it clean. A thorough shampoo means at least two sudsings and two or three rinsings.

And it means a soft brush worked along the hair line to scrub away any cosmetics that may have accumulated.

With the new home drying gadgets on the market, it isn't necessary to set aside a special day for shampooing.

What counts is a regular, at-least-once-a-week shampoo and conscientious brushing. Then you'll see lights spring to life in your hair.

Processed Milk

Fluid milk made from milk powder and water needs to be kept cool, clean and covered just like any other milk. If it isn't used right after mixing, keep it in the refrigerator.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

No New Wrinkles Wanted in Photography Business

"A man can take a wrinkle, but a woman can't," comments Philippe Halsman, portrait photographer. "You see, the exterior is much more important to a woman than to a man."

That is the reason Mr. Halsman has given up photographing women unless commissioned to do so by some client other than the woman herself.

"You're never objective judges of your own photographs," he summed up, eying me with calm resignation, "and therefore my life is much happier since I stopped taking your pictures except in cases where editors or some other impersonal judge will decide about the finished product."

MISS McBRIDE

Well, if it be true that we can't take wrinkles, I say it is the men who are to blame. If we demanded beauty and youth of them as they do of us, I dare say we'd soon find them, too, making scenes about wrinkles.

Even men who can take wrinkles with equanimity are sometimes difficult sitters, though, Philippe Halsman has discovered. For instance, Sir Winston Churchill was having a grouchy day and, after complaining about photographers, grumpily ordered Halsman to count, not "One . . . two . . . three" before clicking his shutter, but "Three . . . two . . . one," as artillerymen do before firing a cannon.

All ended happily, however. While the wrinkles were not left out, the photographer got a pleasant note about the pictures from the old British statesman. It appears that men nearly always let the artist know they are pleased.

"But of all the women I've photographed, only Eva Gabor with a note and Jan Clayton with flowers have expressed gratification," Philippe mused sadly.

Yet his magic often works wonders with thankless females, as when he snapped a mystery writer with an asymetric face peeping over a curtain, her square jaw covered by the curtain and her nice eyes emphasized.

"She's not only looked better than ever before but also mysterious, as a mystery writer should," exults the photographer.

A square jaw, it seems, is bad for photographs. Hollow cheeks, high cheekbones and small noses help. Halsman can't supply these, of course, but what he can do is gentle you until he changes your expression. He did that for the Duke and Duchess of Windsor by reminding them that they are the most romantic couple of our century.

"Suddenly they started to smile," he reports, "and as they turned toward each other I took a picture that made them look 20 years younger than the one I'd done the minute before when they were feeling grim."

Philippe Halsman, I have a square jaw, a big nose and anything but hollow cheeks. All the same, I wish somebody would commission you to photograph me. I'd just like to show you that I can so take wrinkles—I think!

Mementos Tell Story of Seafarer

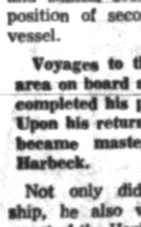
Father's Collection Greatly Cherished by Mrs. Chapman

By DONNA ANDERSON

History of the sea has a special meaning for Mrs. Harry D. Chapman of Oneida road.

The expert seamanship and spirited determination of her father, merchant ship captain Justus L. Stoughton, carried him completely around the world three times without mishap.

Mrs. Chapman knows her father only through the collection of sea relics and yellowed newspaper clippings from long ago, for he died when she was only 14 months old.



DONNA

Because of an early interest in the genealogy and heirlooms of her family and her membership in the Daughters of the American Revolution, she has treasured her father's belongings and information concerning them.

Capt. Stoughton's round-the-world journeys can be relived through the stories behind his historical collection.

Mrs. Chapman pointed out an oil painting of a ship that hangs on a wall in her home. The exact date of the painting is unknown, but it reflects the brilliant history of the ship's captain, for it depicts the Henry Harbeck as it rode at anchor in the harbor at Hong Kong.

The story behind that painting is one of a boy who had a dream, a dream that came true. Justus Stoughton left his home in Alpine, N. Y., when he was only 16 years old. He went to work for a farming and tanning company where he saved his money for a future on the sea.

When he had saved enough, he went to New York City where he boarded a whaler bound for the Arctic. His natural ability and determination to become efficient and skillful soon earned him the position of second officer on the vessel.

Voyages to the Mediterranean area on board a merchant vessel completed his period of training. Upon his return to New York he became master of the Henry Harbeck.

Not only did he captain the ship, he also was made special agent of the Harbeck Company and was put in charge of the purchase of tea which his ship carried as cargo.

The voyages on the Harbeck were around Africa's Cape of Good Hope, across the Indian Ocean to Calcutta and other points on Asia's southern coast and adjacent islands. It was during one of these voyages that the unknown artist painted the picture that is now a precious link with Mrs. Chapman's family.

Another valued possession in the collection is the camphor wood chest which was in the cabin of the Henry Harbeck. There is no way of determining just how old the chest is. Mrs. Chapman only knows that it was made in China, traveled with the captain on all of his voyages and was brought back to Alpine in 1866.

The work of a silversmith graces the buffet in Mrs. Chapman's dining room. A handmade ice pitcher bears the hand engraved initial "S", one more remembrance of the adventuresome Capt. Stoughton.

Field glasses and a "spy glass" show the markings of the French merchants from whom the captain purchased the tools of his trade.

Another picture, a water color painting, tells that Capt. Stoughton found favor in Europe as well as in the Orient. His second ship, the Ticonderoga, presumably owned by the Harbeck Company, was painted by a French artist who showed the ship entering the Gironde River in France in 1863.

Coast traffic occupied the captain's time during the Civil War while Gen. Ben Butler was in command in New Orleans.

In the winter of 1862 he was falsely accused of being a blockade runner and was put into prison. He was released a few weeks later, but didn't go back to the sea because of failing health.

Justus Stoughton lived his whole seafaring career before he was years old. After his illness he tried some sailing on the Great Lakes, but found it no comparison to his former life.

In 1866 he returned to his boyhood home in Alpine, married and settled down to farming.

Although he died in 1888, there are those in New York who remember him. Mrs. Chapman recently received a letter from Frank W. Severne, 92-year-old owner and editor of the Watkins Express in Watkins Glen, N. Y.

In that letter, the editor, who published a story about Justus Stoughton in his historical column, said, "In the light of later experience, I now view him as a typical example of those self-reliant spirits who in the last century carried the American name and American ideas into all parts of the world."

Mrs. Chapman, who is a member of the Gen. Richardson Chapter of DAR and state chairman of nature conservation for DAR, cherishes every bit of information that she can find concerning the colorful past of her father.

Mrs. Harry D. Chapman of Oneida road remembers her father, Justus L. Stoughton, a merchant ship captain in the middle 1800s, through this collection of the implements of his trade, which traveled with him on his ships, the Henry Harbeck and the Ticonderoga.

Shoe-Polishing is Easy First Step in Teaching Grooming to Little Boys

One of the biggest challenges confronting the mother of a 6-year-old boy is training the youngster in good grooming habits. He is fired with energy for constant fun-making and, besides, he wants nothing to do with sissy stuff. This mother (left) is interesting her son in the care of his shoes. She is showing him how to use a new one-step polish that comes with its own applicator.

Then (center) the youngster takes over the job himself. The work goes on easily and the shining results are so pleasing that this task is well suited to children in this age group. Now (right) mother stops to admire her son's achievement before they leave on shopping tour. She has awakened an interest in his grooming and, incidentally, relieved herself of one little chore. Gradually she will encourage him to assume responsibility for other steps, such as nail and hair care.

Mother May Share Meal With Child

All Right to Divide Food if There's No Youngsters' Plate

By EMILY POST

A reader asks my opinion on the following matter: "My husband and I and a 7-year-old son dine out quite oftenl n a restaurant. My son has a very poor appetite and culd not possibly finish a regular portion of food.

"Would it be improper to ask the waiter for an extra plate and share my dinner with him? My husband thinks it would be a very cheap thing to do, but I can't see paying for food and then not eating it."

Answer: There are a great many restaurants that serve special children's portions upon request, in which case you should order one of these for him.

But where this is not possible, I see no objection to giving him a little of your food. To order a whole portion of food and then leave most of it uneaten would be a needless waste.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I have been separated for a year. I'm still calling myself Mrs. John Smith.

My daughter is to be married soon and I'm wondering whether her father's name should be used with mine since we are not divorced. If not, shall I use Mrs. John Bank or Mrs. Mary Blank on the invitations?

Answer. If the separation is generally known, it would be misleading to include his name on the invitations with yours as it would give the impression that there has been a reconciliation, and in this particular case the invitations should go out in your name alone.

Since you still call yourself Mrs. John Smith, that is the name whic should appear on the invitations.

Dear Mrs. Post: When eating with the fork held in the right hand, may pieces of meat be speared with the fork held prongs down, or should the fork held in this hand always be used with prongs upward?

Answer: Eating with prongs down is just as correct as eating with prongs up—depending upon the food to be conveyed. Pieces of meat are speared on down-pointing prongs; soft vegetables (such as peas) are lifted with prongs up.

Pint-Size He-Men Won't Regard This as Sissy Task

Training youngsters in good grooming habits is quite a challenge. You can generally appeal to the vanity of little girls in coaxing care of curls; from there, it is a gradual process. But boys are a bit more difficult to handle.

At about the time they are ready for such training, they also have become aware of things masculine and feminine. And, of course, they want nothing to do with the latter.

Unless fostered with considerable tact, any care in grooming appears as sissy stuff to them. It often seems that the dirtier they are, the happier they are.

The best starting point for these little lads probably is care of their shoes. It offers a bit of challenge and the work itself can be fun; therefore it is least likely to carry the sissy stigma.

Furthermore, the finished job rewards with that all-important sense of accomplishment which youngsters in this age group seek.

The old-fashioned method of shoes polishing was a tiresome chore that nobody liked. It was messy; there were too many steps, and one really had to work to get a good shine.

However, considerable progress has been made in recent years. One firm, for instance, recently brought out a one-step polish that is said to be no trouble at all for children to use.

Your second-grader should find it fun to see the rapid improvement he can make with one stroke.

He can get that sense of accomplishment without too much effort since the dauber which is included in the package does not demand a deft hand. Neither is it messy to handle.

The polish will also condition leather, prolonging the life of the shoe, this firm says. Every application is said to restore damaged leather so that it appears like new.

Once you have your child beaming with pride at his work, encourage further development toward careful grooming.

After congratulating your son on his accomplishment, you might remark that you will take care to prepare his other clothing as well as he has groomed his shoes.

Then, outlining the things you will have to do to keep up with the pace he has set, suggest he might be interested in helping you with some of them.

Your next step might be to introduce him to keeping his closet and bureau drawers orderly.

A little later, you can go on to training him in other good grooming habits, such as care of his hair and nails.

Dust, Dirt Put Devices Out of Order

Check Thermostat, Door Buzzer and Electric Motors

By HUBBARD COBB

There seems to be a good deal of dust and dirt floating around these days. When the dust and dirt are far enough away from the earth they help the sun to produce beautiful sunsets.

When the dust and dirt get close to the earth they produce smog and make various and sundry items about the house stop working.

A fine example of what a little dust will do is the case of the thermostat on the wall that stops working. In many cases this is caused by a small amount of dust-keeping the two contact points from coming together.

It can be corrected by removing the covering from the thermostat and slipping a piece of bond paper between the contact points. You will also find that a small amount of dust and dirt on the contacts of an electric door buzzer will put said buzzer out of whack.

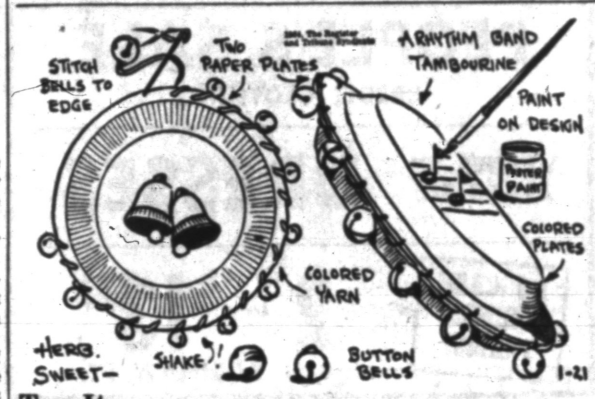
The electric motors that run the oil burner, refrigerator and other appliances in your home are air cooled and to keep them from heating up they must take in a good deal of air through the little vents in the outer shell of the motor.

In time these vents become clogged with dust and lint and the next thing you know the motor has overheated and possibly burned out. Check these items from time to time and make sure they are clean.

Ceiling electric fixtures are great collectors of dust and dirt and it doesn't take very much to reduce the light output of the bulb to a point where you can hardly see your hand in front of your face—wipe these bulbs off from time to time and you'll find a big improvement.

Try It

Make Own Tambourine



Have you noticed that we have rhythm band ideas from time to time in Try It? I do hope that you have been part of a rhythm band at some time, for it is really good fun as well as teaching rhythm.

Perhaps the music teacher in your school might be interested in forming such a band. You might like to cut out this Try It and take it for her to see.

To make this tambourine you will need two paper plates, 12 to 15 little bells, some yarn and some poster paint. Put the two plates together so that the backs face the outside.

You can now stitch the plates together and sew the bells on in one operation. Do this by using an over-and-over stitch, and fasten a bell on with every other stitch. Use a strong, hard type of yarn for the sewing and a darning needle.

Make a sketch on both sides of the tambourine, and color this with show card colors. Bring out the color of the yarn in the picture.

Mrs. N. Steeger of Milwaukee sent this in to us, and an original Try It has been sent to her. How about you? Have you sent your suggestion in to Try It yet? I'll be looking for it.

Potholder Hook Adheres to Wall

One of the handiest new plastic accessorie for kitchens is a three-pronged hook for hanging up potholders and may be attached to the wall above or alongside the range within easy reach, eliminating the necessity of keeping the holders in drawers or atop the range where they clutter up the working surface.

These new three-pronged hooks are ideal for kitchen use because they may be applied to plaster walls without making holes which might crumble the plaster. The secret of their easy application is a patented wood insert, molded into the back of the hook's plastic body and coated with adhesive.

Silk Heads Fabric List for Spring

Dominates Fashion From High-Style to Budget Categories

Silk, which has topped the list of best-dressed fabrics for centuries, has not only outstripped all rivals for spring 1954, but virtually holds the field alone this year.

This pleasant fashion fact was celebrated by the International Silk Association at a luncheon fashion showing for the press attending the National Press Week of the New York Dress Institute at the Waldorf-Astoria.

The luncheon had as guests of honor eight well-known fashionables currently cited in the international poll of best-dressed women, each wearing her favorite silk day costume.

The thread of silk through spring 1954 fashion was drawn in a brief showing which touched the highlights of the many ways in which silk dominates all of fashion from the couture collections to the most modest budget category. Even bathing suits and raincoats march in the parade of spring silks, the showing revealed.

Spring woolens have "drafted" silk for new look, new sheen, new textures. Suits and coats of fine thin silk-and-wool mixtures were represented.

Silk-mixed cotton grows steadily in fashion importance in a fabric with a shiny, crisp, chintz-like finish, but more supple than the cotton weave.

Aptly described as the all-day all-season fabric, there's a version of slubbed and nubbed silks for every woman in price ranges as varied as the weaves. Interest in this group, often called "raw" or "wild" silk, continues unabated in suit and dress weights. Some of the varieties are silk linen, shantung, twill shantung and pongee.

Twill shantung or surah shantung, often eclipsed to "shantwill," refers to a fabric with a criss-crossed heritage woven in a tight rib-weave marked by thick-and-thin slubs.

Pongee, a medium weight silk, is crisped with a taffetized finish. Stain and water-resistant, it fashions a handsome raincoat. Softer and lighter, it is used effectively for dresses and sportswear. Honan hits the surf in a softly shirred swimsuit with a wide wrap-around tie. Its dramatic accessory — a giant straw sun cartwheel.

Oscar B. Boyea to Claim Bride

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. DeWolf of Wollaston, Mass., recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Cynthia, to Oscar B. Boyea of Seminole avenue.

Oscar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Boyea of Ludlow, Mass., is a graduate of American International College and the University of Massachusetts. His bride-elect is a graduate of New England Baptist Hospital School of Nursing and Boston University.

The couple is planning a June wedding.

Coming Activities Planned by Muses

Plans for coming activities were discussed by newly elected officers of the Muses of St. George Greek Orthodox Church when members met recently at the Hellenic Hall on Mariva avenue.

Estella Kiriako is the new president, with Bethania Gregory as vice president. Mary Varon is secretary, Martha Savas is treasurer and her cousin, Martha Savas, sergeant-at-arms.

May 2 is the date selected by the group for the annual Antheon Ball to be held at the hall on Mariva avenue.

New U. S. Budget Runs $65.5 Billion

showed income about one billion dollars less than former President Truman estimated in his budget message to Congress a year ago. Spending was estimated about 7¾ billions less than Truman forecast, the new deficit figure was over 6½ billions less than Truman's, and the debt predicted for next June 30 was four billion dollars under Truman's figure.

Eisenhower whacked appropriation requests as well as spending estimates, and commented that asking for less authority to spend was the highroad to reduced spending.

He requested new appropriations of 56¼ billion dollars for the new fiscal year. That was about 4½ billions less than new money requests in his revised fiscal 1954 budget, 15½ billions less than Truman asked for fiscal 1954, 24 billions less than in fiscal 1953, and 35 billions less than the Korean War appropriations peak of 91½ billion dollars in fiscal 1952.

The new budget Eisenhower said, "marks the beginning of a movement to shift to state and local governments and to private enterprise federal activities which can be more appropriately and more efficiently carried on in that way."

He said the budget is based on assumptions that business conditions in general, personal income and corporation profits would continue "at substantially the present high levels."

Previous year figures for receipts and expenditures were each about 65 million dollars lower than figures heretofore used, due to a bookkeeping change. Receipts and expenditures for the railroad retirement trust were eliminated from the receipt and expenditure totals. Since they are trust collections and expenditures, Eisenhower said, they should be kept apart from the government's own income and spending. This is the practice with social security money.

Eisenhower's fiscal 1955 budget predicted that spending would decline $5,332,000,000 under the current year's level. Of this, $3,860,000,000 or 72 per cent, was from national security programs. These programs include direct military costs, foreign military aid, atomic energy and stockpiling of strategic or shortage materials.

Direct military costs were cut by $3,975,000,000 from the $41,550,000,000 estimated for this year to $37,575,000,000 estimated for fiscal 1955. Other national security programs, meanwhile, were budgeted at $7,285,000,000 for fiscal 1955, compared with $7,170,000,000 for fiscal 1954, a rise of 115 million dollars. This reflected a rise of 225 million for atomic energy and of 75 million for military aid and a decrease of 185 million for stockpiling.

The Army absorbed the brunt of the defense economizing. Its budget sank from $14,200,000,000 for this year to $10,198,000,000 next year—a cut of nearly 30 per cent. The Navy's spending budget shrank from $11,300,000,000 this year to $10,493,000,000 next year—a cut of 7 per cent.

* * *

The Air Force was the gainer. Its spending budget went up from $15,600,000,000 this year to an estimate of $16,209,000,000 for the year starting July 10. This was an increase of about 4 per cent.

Eisenhower predicted that agricultural price supports would cost $1,165,000,000 in fiscal 1955, some $239,000,000 less than estimated for this year, because, he said, his agricultural program would halt excess production.

He proposed that foreign economic aid costs be cut next year to $1,028,000,000, compared with $1,555,000,000 this year, and that the aid be concentrated in the Orient, Africa and Latin America.

Horse, Wagon Hurt Rochester Employe

A 68-year-old employe of the Boots and Saddle Club in Rochester is in critical condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today with severe chest injuries and internal bleeding suffered this morning when he was pinned between a horse-drawn wagon and a cement-steel post.

William E. Scarlett, of 1872 Abbotsford, Rochester, was unhitching a horse from a wagon he had been using to clean a barn when the horse started up, pulling the wagon with him, according to Roy Hyland, barn manager.

The horse crowded Scarlett to the side of a 12-foot alley inside the barn where the wagon was stored, and the wagon pinned him to the post, Hyland said.

Wheat Biscuits Pare Meat Bill

This meat loaf ring recipe makes a bigger and tastier meat loaf for less money. With this recipe, you can stretch a pound and a half of ground meat into eight generous servings.

The meat-stretching secret is the use of bite-size shredded wheat biscuits. Because they're made of whole wheat, they supply protein and other nutrients ordinarily expected of meat alone. Thus they take the place of some of the expensive meat without cutting down on essential food values.

You'll find those bite-size biscuits do something else wonderful for the meat loaf. They add rich whole wheat flavor to lift the meat loaf into the class for compliments.

Turn one of these meat loaf rings out real soon, fill it with whole kernel corn for a meal-in-a-adish . . . and you'll see what we mean when we talk of compliments.

Meat Loaf Ring

2 eggs
¾ cup condensed cream of tomato soup
¼ cup water
1 cup bite-size shredded wheat biscuits
1¼ pounds ground beef
¼ pound pork sausage
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons finely cut onion

Break eggs into 6-cup bowl. Beat slightly with fork. Add tomato soup and water. Mix well. Add bite-size shredded wheat biscuits. Let stand 15 to 20 minutes. Heat oven to slow (300). Grease 8-cup ring mold.

When bite-size shredded wheat biscuit mixture has stood 15 to 20 minutes, add meat, salt and onion. Mix well. Pack into greased ring mold.

Pour 2 tablespoons water over top of wheat mixture. Bake on rack slightly below center one hour and 15 minutes. Serve with a tomato sauce made by heating remainder of can of condensed tomato soup with 2 tablespoons drippings from the meat. Makes eight servings.

Instead of using melted butter on vegetables, sprinkle with some grated cheese just before serving. It's especially good on cabbage, asparagus, and broccoli.

MEAT LOAF RING—Holidays flatten your budget? This meat loaf ring is just the answer. Brake it in a ring mold, fill it with whole kernel corn, serve it with a tangy tomato soup sauce. It's good substantial food for wintry eating.

Bake Succotash in Mexican Way

This unusual main dish combines kidney beans with whole kernel corn. The Mexican flavor comes from the addition of spices.

Mexican Succotash

1 No. 2 can kidney beans
1 12-ounce can whole kernal corn
½ cup catsup
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon sugar
½ teaspoon chili powder
8 link sausages

Combine contents of cans of beans and corn. Blend together and add the catsup and seasonings. Mix lightly and heat thoroughly over moderate heat.

Meanwhile lightly brown sausages in frying pan over moderate heat, cooking until thoroughly done.

Place succotash in four heated individual 8-ounce baking dishes. Arrange 2 sausages on top of each casserole with an egg.

Sprinkle lightly with grated American cheese and paprika. Cover and bake at 350 degrees until egg white is set, about 20 minutes. Makes four servings.

Gravy Provides Half the Appeal of Roast Dinner

Half the enjoyment of a roast for dinner is the rich brown gravy to serve over whipped or oven browned potatoes. To get best results, it's important to know a few basic facts about gravy making:

1. Meats which are cooked to the well-done stage — pork loin roasts, beef pot roasts, veal rump roasts — yield more gravy than roasts cooked rare to medium—rib roast of beef.

2. Most of the fat must be poured from the drippings before you start to make gravy; otherwise the gravy will be greasy.

3. The amount of flour for thickening depends upon the amount of brown drippings in the bottom of the pan. If there are only a few, as in the case of rare rib roast, carefully spoon off all but about two tablespoons of fat, stir in two tablespoons of flour and slowly add one cup of water, stirring constantly.

If gravy is not meaty enough in flavor, add a little meat extract or a bouillon cube or two.

Pork loin roast usually yields at least two cups of gravy.

New Coffee Cake Rich With Butter

ALL BUTTER COFFEE CAKE—New all butter coffee cake makes an attractive and satisfying snack food for all entertainment occasions. Try it for breakfast, lunch boxes and home lunches, too. It's in your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department this week.

Treat All Ready to Warm, Serve

Danish Pastry Dessert Available at Grocer's This Week

There a brand new dessert treat available for your parties— a new all butter coffee cake with real butter flavor.

This new all butter coffee cake is wonderful to serve with a hot beverage for an evening snack and for Sunday evening supper. It's extra good when heated, and can be warmed and served from its aluminum container.

You'll know this new all butter coffee cake, which is in your grocer's ready-to-eat cake department this week, by its brown and buff colors and its heat-and-serve type aluminum container.

The coffee cake is made in Detroit, and the bakers are so proud of it that they've put a recipe for making one cake right in the package so that you can see what goes into it, and make one yourself, if you wish.

The coffee cake is Danish pastry, adapted from a cookbook recipe. Danish pastry is, as you know, a flaky yeast dough with butter rolled into it. Each finished all butter coffee cake, as you'll buy it, is over 20 per cent butter, and you get a real butter flavor when you taste it.

The manager of the Detroit bakery, home of the new all butter coffee cake, suggests that if you attempt to make the coffee cake by the recipe enclosed in the carton, please do remember that Danish pastry is hard to handle.

It must be folded and rolled, and folded and rolled, and refrigerated between foldings. And it really must be refrigerated because it won't roll at room temperature.

The bakery has built a new refrigerated room where the all butter coffee cake dough rests between rollings and foldings. Since it takes so many hours to make the coffee cakes, as you'll see when you look at the recipe, dough started one day will be finished the next.

The new all butter coffee cake is one you'll use round the clock—for breakfast, luncheon dessert, lunch boxes, and entertainment—for its rich, honey-drenched filling and fondant icing make it a real treat to eat.

Tiny star-shaped cutters are available and are useful at holiday time. Make pimiento stars with them for topping green vegetables or casseroles.

Sundae Glorified by Wine Sauce

Best Ever Sundae Sauce is surely aptly named, for it is the best ice cream topping you've ever had.

It's especially fitting for cold weather months for it contains luscious dates, nuts and port wine.

You're probably familiar with the two kinds of port—one is deep purple-red, the other tawny. It makes no difference which kind you use, the fruity grape flavor asserts itself to everyone's eating pleasure.

A gracious way to serve the sauce, which should be hot or at least warm, is in your best silver pitcher, so that each one may help himself.

A word to the wise might be appreciated here — be prepared to part with quite a bit of the sauce at one sitting. It's so good, even calorie-conscious guests come back for more.

Best Ever Sundae Sauce

1 cup honey
⅓ cup water
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 cup sliced, pitted dates
½ cup port, muscatel or other dessert wine
½ cup coarsely chopped walnuts

Bring honey and water to boil. Boil rapidly 12 minutes. Remove "foam" as mixture boils. Remove from heat.

Add butter and dates. Cool. Add wine. Just before serving, add nuts. Serve sauce hot. Makes about 2½ cups.

Garnish With Cherry

Start off one of your company dinners with this delicious cocktail. To serve four, combine 2 cups pineapple chunks with 1 cup of membrane-free orange segments, ½ cup of grapes, 6 tablespoons of maraschino cherry juice. Place fruits in cocktail glasses, spooning the juice over the top. Garnish each cocktail with a maraschino cherry.

Add This or That Flavor to Never-Fail Mayonnaise

Don't ever believe anyone who tells you mayonnaise is hard to make. Use the following recipe for Never-Fail Mayonnaise and you'll come up with a batch of melt-in-your-mouth dressing.

If you like garlic, you might enjoy the famous Aioli Sauce served so often in France with hot or cold fish. To make a quick version of Aioli, just add lots of crushed garlic to some of our foolproof mayonnaise. Offer the Aioli with cold boiled shrimp as a first course.

Then there's the French Green Sauce. To concoct it, you mince watercress leaves and parsley very fine and add it to the mayonnaise.

Or you may wilt the greens in boiling water, drain, then rub through a fine sieve before you add them to the dressing. Try this on cold salmon.

Another wonderful sauce is achieved by adding tomato puree, finely chopped green pepper, chopped chives (or onion) and a bit of tarragon to Never-Fail Mayonnaise.

Remember that this Never-Fail Mayonnaise is a basic dressing. You can tone it up as you will.

Add a little chili sauce, grated onion, minced pimiento - stuffed olives to it—and you have Russian Dressing for hearts of lettuce.

For Tartare Sauce add minced pickles, capers, onion and green olives to the mayonnaise and serve with golden-brown fried scallops of fillets of sole.

One of our favorite Sunday night supper menus is a first course of a hearty soup, then toasted finger rolls that have been split and mixed with a combination of lobster, celery and mayonnaise. A fruit dessert and lots of hot strong coffee make a perfect ending.

If you have one of those wonderfully useful little portable mixers you can make this mayonnaise in no time at all. Here's the method.

Never-Fail Mayonnaise

¾ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 egg
2 cups salad oil

Put salt, sugar and mustard in mixing bowl; mix thoroughly. Add 1 tablespoon vinegar and stir well. Add egg; beat until blended. Continue beating and add oil, a quarter teaspoon at a time, until mixture thickens.

Then add about half of remaining oil, a teaspoon at a time; add last of oil, a tablespoon at a time. Make absolutely sure that each addition of oil is thoroughly blended before next is added. Beat in gradually 2 remaining tablespoons vinegar.

Makes about 2¼ cups. Store in covered glass jar. Refrigerate but do not allow to get near freezing temperature or mayonnaise will separate.

Citron Chunks Cake Surprise

As sumptuous a dessert as we can think of is this Applesauce Cake. With its Browned Butter Frosting it will make a real event of a regular family meal.

You'll like the nice, spicy flavor of this moist cake. For an extra flavor surprise, stir chopped citron into the batter. It's an unexpected pleasure to bite into the cake and find a chewy piece of citron.

To be sure that you get the most for your money when you bake, use enriched flour. At no extra cost to you, enrichment has added niacin, thiamine, riboflavin and food iron to the flour. That's a big nutrition dividend for you.

Applesauce Cake

2 cups sifted enriched flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon allspice
1 cup shortening
1¾ cups brown sugar
4 eggs
1 cup thick unsweetened applesauce
¾ cup milk
½ cup chopped citron (if desired)
1 cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Cream together shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs and beat thoroughly. Stir in applesauce.

Add flour mixture to creamed mixture alternately with milk, mixing well after each addition. Fold in citron and nuts. Pour into 2 greased, paper-lined 9-inch round pans. Bake in 350 oven about 45 minutes. When cool, frost with Browned Butter Frosting. Makes two 9-inch layers.

Browned Butter Frosting

¼ cup butter or margarine
4 cups sifted confectioner's sugar (about)
1 egg
3 tablespoons cream
Dash salt

Brown butter or margarine in heavy saucepan. Stir in 2 cups confectioners' sugar. Add egg, cream and salt and mix thoroughly. Add enough more sugar to make spreading consistency. Beat until light. Spread on cake. Makes enough frosting for 9-inch layer cake.

Pickles Climb in Popularity

The piquant pickle has loosed those chains that bound it to the picnic basket and is now a pickle of the world.

No longer is the pickle confined to an occasional trip to the beach or country as a morsel in the picnic lunch.

Pickles are number three on the best seller list, according to Alex Rogers of the National Pickle Packers Assn.

This rapid rise of the pickle to a point of prominence in the food world has been phenomenal. Among canned fruits and vegetables on the basis of national consumption, pickles are just behind the leaders, peas and corn.

Last year, Americans consumed more than 672,000,000 jars of pickles as compared to the total just 10 years ago of 456,000,000 jars, he said.

The rocketing climb of pickles is reflected in the fact that, while pickles still make countless appearances at picnics, they are more often a popular favorite on the dining tables of the nation.

Right now the pickle appears in numerous forms, as an ingredient for a main dish, in salads, canapes, relish trays, sandwiches and as a colorful and appetizing garnish or decoration.

"The pickle has assumed its place as a major food item because the homemaker is more aware than ever before of the versatility of the pickle as a tasteful and nourishing addition to her daily menu planning," Rogers said.

Corned Beef, Brisket Should Stand in Stock

Cooked beef and fresh beef brisket are two popular beef cuts which are cooked in liquid. Fresh beef brisket may be browned, if you like, however, corned beef need not be browned.

Completely cover the meat with liquid for uniform cooking and season with herbs, spices and vegetables, as desired.

Cover the kettle and simmer slowly until tender, never boil, since this will shrink the meat and make it dry, less flavorful, and difficult to carve.

If the meat is to be served cold, let it cool and then chill in the stock in which it was cooked. This will add to its flavor and juiciness.

Cook the first four ingredients together until thickened and smooth, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and add butter and lemon juice. Pour into pastry-lined pan and cover with criss-cross strips of pastry. Bake in a preheated hot oven, 425°, for 25 to 30 min.

Freezing Won't Keep Meat Free From Bacteria

WASHINGTON (INS) — If you think putting meat in the freezer guarantees it will be iced clean of bacteria, prepare for a shock.

A Department of Agriculture expert says some bacteria thrive cheerfully on zero temperatures.

The expert, William Sulzbacher, tested samples of pork in frozen storage for 12 weeks.

The result proved that many bacteria which cause deterioration or spoilage of meat not only survive, but increase under freezing temperatures.

Sulzbacher found that some bacteria died, some slept through the zero cold and increased as the meat thawed, and others kept right on causing meat spoilage.

The food expert said the results show two things:

1. The old idea that freezing kills bacteria just isn't true.

2. The only way to keep meat from spoiling during frozen storage is to get it clean before it's frozen.

Sulzbacher said fresh meat to be frozen must be kept cold before freezing to keep bacteria down, must be wrapped in clean paper by clean hands using clean tools, and should be kept cold even after it's taken out of the freezer.

Squash and Pineapple Melts in Your Mouth

A new combination for a delightful vegetable dish — frozen cooked squash and frozen pineapple — light, and very flavorful. Defrost 1 package frozen cooked squash and a can of frozen pineapple chunks. Drain the pineapple and add the chunks to the squash. Next mix in a little salt and ¼ cup brown sugar.

Put in 1 quart casserole, dot with a little butter or margarine and sprinkle another 2 tablespoons brown sugar over top. Bake uncovered at 350 for about 25 to 30 minutes. Mm-m-m, it melts in your mouth!

Ah, the Aroma! Peaches in Wine

It's colorful and it's tangy and — ah, the aroma! Use canned, frozen, or fresh eaches (or other fruits). The sauce or syrup is the wine connoisseur's delight — rose wine, mixed with an equal amount of frozen lemonade.

The fresh flavor and even the juice sacs of the pure lemon juice (already sweetened) are preserved when the lemon juice product is frozen.

Fruit Lemon Rose

2 (6-ounce) cans frozen concentrate for lemonade (or 1 12-ounce can)
1½ cups rose wine
12 cling peach halves, drained

Combine concentrate for lemonade and rose wine. Arrange peach halves in compote or stemmed sherbet glasses and pour lemonade-wine sauce over them. Chill before serving. Yields 6 servings.

FRUIT LEMON ROSE—For the simplest, lightest and prettiest dessert after a rich dinner, we suggest Fruit Lemon Rose. Bright yellow cling peach halves float in a rich syrup of frozen lemonade and rose (rosay) wine.

Green, Yellow Vegetables So Important to Health

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

How's that New Year's resolution about serving your family meals based on the basic 7 foods? Are you trying to include some foods from each group in your daily menus?

Today we're going to discuss the first 3 groups together; they are the ones dealing with fruits and vegetables.

We have already talked about citrus fruits and the importance they play in our daily diet. Let's discuss the other foods in these classifications.

Nutrition experts suggest serving, besides potatoes, 2 vegetables and one or more fruits every day.

One of the vegetables should be raw; and citrus fruits, tomatoes or raw cabbage should be included. These foods give us valuable vitamins and minerals necessary to good health.

Vitamin A, found in these fruits and vegetables, is important for the building and repair of your body. It helps build resistance to infection. It helps keep your skin soft and smooth. It is of immense value in aiding your night vision.

Green and yellow vegetables provide a substance called carotene which is changed into Vitamin A by the body. Be sure to pick out vegetables that are deeply colored as they contain more of the carotene.

For example, the outer green leaves of lettuce have been found to contain 30 or more times as high vitamin A value as the white inner leaves from the same heads.

All vegetables are valuable and contain certain amounts of vitamin and minerals. Try, though, to have a variety in both color and texture.

It is wiser to serve sliced tomatoes, buttered broccoli and scalloped potatoes together than it would be to serve dry lima beans, corn and turnips on the same plate.

Good nutrition is both an economic and an educational problem. The amount of money you have to spend does determine your diet and whether it is adequate or not.

But many people with plenty of money to spend on food have diets that are very poor, nutritionally speaking.

The newer science of nutrition says that for the best results as much as half of the needed food calories should be taken in the form of fruit, vegetable and milk of some kind.

Translate this into food dollars and it says: Spend half of your food allowance for fruit, vegetables and milk. Choose the kinds you like and the ones that fit your budget. But eat lots of them.

Prepare Bread Casserole-Style

If you have wished for a new quick way to make old-fashioned bread, your wish has come true. Casserole bread is yeasty and fragrantly flavored — just like Mother used to make.

But there's nothing else old-fashioned about casserole bread. It's made with a batter instead of a dough, which means there's no kneading and only one rising.

To make Casserole Bread you can use either active dry or compressed yeast. Although compressed cake yeast is available in most markets, active dry yeast now accounts for over 60 per cent of all yeast sold in grocery stores.

Its popularity is due to the fact that active dry yeast is preferred by homemakers because a supply of it can be kept fresh for several months on any cool shelf.

When dissolved in water according to directions, this handy dry yeast always can be used in place of cake yeast in any recipe.

Casserole Bread

1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon salt
1½ tablespoons shortening
1 cup warm (not hot) water (cool to lukewarm for compressed yeast)
2 packages or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
6½ cups sifted enriched flour

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure water into bowl; sprinkle or crumble yeast into the water. Stir until dissolved.

Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Add flour; stir until well blended, about two minutes. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, about 40 minutes or until more than doubled in bulk.

Stir batter down. Beat vigorously, about one-half minute. Turn into greased 1½-quart casserole.

Bake uncovered in moderate oven at 375 about one hour. Makes one loaf.

Presto, Cold Wienie Becomes Hot Dog

Put a string around that lonely wiener in your freezer and send it along to school with Junior for his lunch. The string is the means of converting a cold, cold wiener into a hot dog, no kidding!

First you fix up a hot dog bun with mustard and relish. Then you pour some heated soup into a pint thermos bottle. Now comes the hocus-pocus magic that will make Junior happy at lunchtime.

Lower the frozen wiener into the bubbling hot soup by the string. Put the cork in, leaving the loose end of string hanging out.

Hungry Junior can fish out the hot dog, place it in the waiting bun, and enjoy his hot lunch while his companions marvel at his mother's ingenuity.

The idea comes from a home economics institute where a freezer, one day, yielded a lone, cold, cold wiener as a challenge to the institute's director.

Graded and Cartoned Eggs Reliable Guide for Buying

Because eggs always fit in so beautifully, whatever the meal, it's a smart homemaker who gets to know the best egg buys, the shell color, quality, and size of eggs.

In fact, you should be a choosy buyer when it comes to eggs. If possible, buy from a dealer who keeps his eggs in refrigerated display cases.

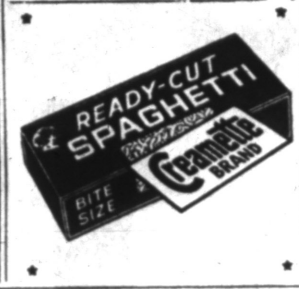
A current magazine article recommends that you buy only graded, cartoned eggs, labeled with a well-known brand name or trade-mark, or the letters "U. S." Such eggs have been carefully graded for quality and size, so their label is a reliable buying guide for you.

Check the shell color. The color of an egg shell does not indicate the food value or quality of the contents, yet it influences the price of eggs in some localities. There is absolutely no reason for paying a higher price for a particular shell color, and often you can save money by buying brown eggs where white eggs bring a higher price, or white eggs where brown eggs are in greater demand.

Eggs labeled Grade AA or Grade A are top quality. They have a large amount of firm white and a well-rounded, upstanding yolk. Grade B and C eggs have thinner whites and somewhat flatter yolks, which break easily.

But many families find it pays to buy these lower graded, less expensive eggs for scrambling, baking, omelets and combining with other foods. Of course they offer the same food values as top-grade eggs.

One of the most versatile foods, eggs lend themselves to numberless combinations. And, like other foods, rich in high-quality protein, they even enhance the value of supplementary proteins in cereals and vegetables used with them in so many delicious dishes. Eggs supply the body with vitamins A., B and D.



Broiler-Fryer Output Brings Lower Price

CHICAGO — Record production of broiler-fryer chickens last fall has given homemakers a real opportunity to prepare economical, nutritious meals and load their freezer compartments and deep freezers now with chicken at low prices, Don W. Lyon, general manager of Poultry and Egg National Board stated today.

Lyon pointed out that October and November 1953 placements of chicks in 11 commercial broiler areas were 10 and 18 per cent greater, respectively, than in the same months of 1952. Placements totaled 50 million in October and 57 million in November.

Much of the October-November production is now coming to market across the nation. Producer prices have been below costs of production for several weeks and continue at unprofitable levels, he said.

Retail prices have been low and remain unusually attractive, he added.

Broiler-fryer chickens are a "miracle of production," he said, being ready for market at the tender age of 9 to 12 weeks. Plump and meaty, they are ready for the pan or oven in weights usually ranging from 1½ to 3 pounds.

CINNAMON KRISPS — This new kind of cinnamon toast will add variety to your breakfast. Made with ready-toasted rye wafers, they need only a few minutes in the oven to blend the butter or margarine and cinnamon-and-sugar mixture.

Crunchy Cinnamon Krisps Add Variety to Breakfast

If you are looking for easy ways to add variety to breakfast, try this new kind of cinnamon toast. Although the official name is Cinnamon Krisps, we suspect you'll call the new toast wonderful.

In the first place, Cinnamon Krisps are wonderfully quick to make ... quicker than ordinary cinnamon toast because they're made from crisp rye wafers that are already toasted. This cuts down on oven time.

All you have to do is spread each wafer lightly with softened butter. Sprinkle with a sugar-cinnamon mixture and pop into the oven a few minutes.

The cinnamon and sugar mixture blends with the rich rye goodness of the wafers to sing a song of delicious flavor. And while you're enjoying something as good to eat as these Cinnamon Krisps, you'll be getting something that's good for you and an essential part of a well-balanced breakfast ... whole-grain nutrients supplied by the crisp rye wafers.

Cinnamon Krisps

2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
12 crisp rye wafers

Heat oven to 400. Mix sugar and cinnamon and set aside for later use. Soften butter and spread on wafers.

Place wafers on a shallow pan. Sprinkle with sugar mixture. Bake on rack slightly above center 5 minutes.

Yam Desserts Served All Year by Dixie Cooks

Southern hostesses serve yam desserts the year 'round. Try two of the treats in your kitchen.

¼ teaspoon baking soda
2½ teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
1½ teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon cinnamon

1¼ cups mashed cooked yams (or 1 No. 2 can yams, mashed)
⅔ cup melted shortening

Sift dry ingredients together. Combine remaining ingredients; add to sifted mixture.

Beat well; turn into greased 8x8 pan. Bake in moderate oven (350) 1¼ hours.

Yam and Apple Dessert

3 cups sliced cooked yams
3 cups sliced apples
2 tablespoons lemon juice
⅓ cup raspberry jam
1 cup light cream
½ cup sugar
3 eggs, well beaten
Dash nutmeg

Arrange layers of yams and apples in greased 2-quart casserole; add lemon juice. Cover; bake in moderate oven (350) 30 minutes.

Spread with jam. Combine remaining ingredients; pour over jam. Bake 50 minutes.

Frothy, Spicy Drink Well Liked by Gang

Treat the gang to this when they come in from skating. A frothy, spicy drink, Mulled Marshmallow Grape Juice is sure to make an instant hit with young and old.

Mulled Marshmallow Grape Juice

¼ pound marshmallows (about 16 marshmallows)
2 cups water
2 sticks cinnamon
12 whole cloves
3 cups grape juice
⅓ cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
Rind of ½ lemon, sliced

Combine marshmallows, water, cinnamon and cloves in a saucepan. Bring to boiling point over low heat and cook 10 minutes. Add grape juice, lemon juice and lemon rind, grated and sliced; bring to boiling point and strain. Serve hot in small cups; garnish with additional marshmallows, if desired. Makes one quart.

Cab Driver Believes in Coffee Hospitality

If you habitually oversleep and miss your morning coffee, it pays to live in Chicago. There's always the chance, as you struggle into your jacket and stumble out, that the cab you hail will be Ed Hamilton's.

Ed has been dealing with situations just like yours for the entire 15 years he has been a cabbie.

Opposite the back seat in his cab, you'll find pockets stuffed with every conceivable object you might need in an emergency — sewing materials, the morning papers, shoelaces, combs, lighter fluid and flints, pencils and paper and, most important of all, vacuum flasks full of fresh hot coffee.

The single most popular item? You guessed it. Coffee, of course. "Missed your breakfast?" sympathizes Ed. "Have coffee on me."

This unusual cabbiee says his extra services cost a lot of money — more than $15 a week — but since he likes people more than money, he thinks it's worth it.

Besides, he says, he feels he should treat people who enter his cab the same way he would treat them if they entered his home. "It's just hospitality," says Ed, as he proffers his flasks of coffee, "just hospitality."

Try Sardines Mashed in Lemon Juice, Onion

For a late evening snack, sardine sandwiches are wonderfully tasty if you mash them with lemon juice, finely grated onion, a dash of mayonnaise and freshly ground pepper.

Use fresh white bread for the sandwiches, cutting off the crusts; then cut each sandwich into 4 small trianges or 3 long strips. Serve the sandwiches on a good-looking plate garnished with short sprays of water cress threaded through rings of raw carrot.

Spark Popcorn With Variations

Popcorn goes on forever as the perfect snack to serve for a happy-time evening at home.

It's a wonderful munch-and-crunch item and it seems there is always room for more of those snowy, light-heated salted kernels! Popcorn adds to the enjoyment of a television show, of a "listen to our new records" party, or just a lazy evening. And we've seen children cheerfully do their homework with a bowl of popcorn as an incentive.

Popcorn is easy to make, and easier than ever using salad oil and an electric popcorn popper. The oil can be measured quickly and heats to the right temperature in about three minutes. One brand is currently being sold with free popcorn attached. If you do not have an electric popper, a heavy skillet will do the trick.

Perhaps you are satisfied with popcorn just as it is, but it really does lend itself to some delightful variations. Use a sprinkling of garlic or celery salt to give it a subtle new flavor.

When popcorn is flavored with grated Parmesan, we say it's elegant enough to be in the appetizer category. Those who like hot foods will enjoy popcorn with an accent of curry or chili powder.

You'll notice that today's recipe does not call for that extra buttering. It isn't necessary when corn is popped in a light-bodied, fragrant oil.

Popcorn

¼ cup salad oil
Salt
⅓ cup popcorn

Heat the oil in a popper for about three minutes or until a kernel of corn starts to spin when dropped into the oil. Add the popcorn. Cover and allow to cook until only an occasional popping is heard.

Remove the popper from the heat and pour the popped corn into a serving bowl; salt to taste.

Variations

Omit the salt and add one of the following to the hot popcorn:

½ tablespoon garlic salt
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan
1 tablespoon celery salt
½ teaspoon curry powder
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 tablespoon sugar and ½ teaspoon cinnamon, mixed
1 teaspoon seasoning salt

Cooking Guide Tells How to Fix Variety Meats

Do you often overlook nutritious variety meats because you don't know how to cook them? If so, clip this handy guide to use as a quick reference.

LIVER: Broil or pan-fry beef, veal and lamb liver. Braise pork liver. Or scald, grind and use beef or pork liver in loaves or patties.

TONGUE: Simmer in salted water to cover until tender (omit salt for smoked tongue). Remove skin and root ends before serving.

KIDNEYS: Wash and remove membrane; halve and remove fat and tubes. Braise beef and pork kidneys; good, too, in stews and meat pies. Broil or pan-fry veal and lamb kidney.

HEART: Wash and trim top roots. Simmer in salted water until tender. Or stuff and braise.

CHOCOLATE LADY CAKE—This beautiful picture cake presents a good reason why chocolate cake has been a winner in popularity contests for many years. Under the fancy top you will find a rich, dark cake full of mouth-melting goodness.

Chocolate Lady Tops Off Melt-in-the-Mouth Cake

As a lover of good food, what better way to begin a new year than to add a wonderful new recipe to your collection? This one, Chocolate Lady Cake, is today's version of an old-fashioned charmer, one that has the flavor and goodness captured in the same squares of unsweetened chocolate used in grandma's day.

Ever since sea captains carried their precious cocoa beans home from long sea voyages, chocolate cake has been a top-ranking favorite in this country.

Another new idea you'll like is the attractive way of creating the graceful silhouette and scallops that accent the fluffy white frosting.

Just follow the directions and you can easily top this light and fine cake with any motif you like.

Chocolate Lady Cake

1¾ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
¾ teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup shortening
1½ cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
* Milk (see below for amount)
3 squares unsweetened chocolate, melted
1 teaspoon vanilla

Seven-Minute Frosting

1½ squares unsweetened chocolate
1½ teaspoons butter

*With butter, margarine, or lard, use 1 cup milk. With vegetable or other shortening, use 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons milk.

Sift flour once, measure, add cream of tartar, soda and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream together until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each.

Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add three squares chocolate and vanilla; blend.

Pour batter into two round 9-inch layer pans, 1½ inches deep, which have been lined on bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350) 30 to 35 minutes, or until done. Cool; then frost with seven-minute frosting.

Melt 1½ squares unsweetened chocolate and 1½ teaspoons butter over hot water. Draw a 6-inch outline of "La Belle Chocolatiere," following picture on unsweetened chocolate package.

Place drawing on a baking sheet; cover with waxed paper. Fill in the figure with chocolate mixture dribbled from teaspoon. Chill in refrigerator until chocolate is set (about one-half hour).

Meanwhile, mark scallops around edge of cake, using biscuit cutter or tablespoon. Fill indentations with remaining chocolate mixture, letting some chocolate drip down sides.

Sandwiches Are Super

Want to prepare some supertasting sandwiches for a company snack? Mix ground cooked ham with shredded cheddar cheese, mayonnaise and pickle relish. Make sandwiches with the mixture, using white bread.

Now slowly brown the sandwiches, on both sides, in melted butter or margarine in a heavy skillet. Cut each sandwich into two triangles and serve at once to delighted guests.

Freezer Cleanup Brings Hoarded Treats to Light

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Just recently we defrosted and cleaned the freezer. We chose a very cold day so that we could put all the frozen food outdoors with no danger of its thawing; newspapers helped insulate the food in bushel baskets.

Although we would vow we know exactly what is in our freezer — after all, we put the food in, didn't we? — we are always surprised when we empty it for cleaning.

Two frozen soup bones turned up. We try to remember to have the butcher send all the soup bones home unfrozen. They are so bulky and take up room needed for other food.

It's easy to make beef stock from the bones and to freeze that, ready for instant use. If it is frozen in ice cube trays and stored in plastic bags, one or two cubes may be used at any time to add flavor to soups, stews or gravy.

The large jars of pecan meats go to the bottom of the freezer. We used lots of them for Christmas cookies, but will use them less frequently now. When kept in the freezer, they never get rancid. They thaw almost immediately after removing, so are easy to use.

We have a new idea for frozen vegetables. Our gardening Better Half dug up the oyster plant in the garden late in the fall. He cleaned it and put it in the freezer. Instead of having to freeze all winter in the ground, it is now ready to use and is delicious.

Another bonus our freezer gives us is rhubarb the year around. We pick it in the spring when it is at the peak of goodness, cut it in box-length strips and freeze it. It provides rosy rhubarb "sass" all year.

There are times when the freezer has a variety of frozen homemade breads and rolls. All we could find the other day was one lone package of baking powder biscuits. They will be good for a winter shortcake or plain for breakfast. But we must have a baking day soon and get a new supply frozen.

Good to see again is the large box of frozen shrimp. A few months ago they were prohibitively high in price and we had no shrimp on our menu. Now they're back in season and lower in price, so the 5-pound box is occupying its regular spot.

Do you have trouble breaking apart such frozen food as shrimp or hamburger patties? We did until a friend told us to drop the wrapped package on a cement floor. That does the trick all right.

Directions for defrosting freezers vary, of course. You must follow the ones given by the manufacturer of your freezer.

But we have learned one good idea that you might use. A bath towel in the bottom of the freezer catches the water as the ice melts and makes wiping up a simple matter.

To melt the ice quickly ye used a heat bulb and the blower on the vacuum cleaner. An electric fan is excellent. Holding the infra-red bulb on one side and the blower on the other melted the ice faster than we have ever done it before.

We beam proudly now when we see how clean and tidy the freezer is. We couldn't keep house without it. Even cleaning it is sort of fun.

Hold Interviews to Fill Overseas Teaching Posts

ANN ARBOR — Interviews to fill teaching positions in U. S. schools for American children in Japan, Okinawa, France, Germany and Austria for the 1954-55 school year will be conducted at the University of Michigan February 22 through 25.

T. Luther Purdom, director of the U-M Bureau of Appointments and Occupational Information, said that representatives of the Army's Overseas Affairs Division, Office of Civilian Personnel, will conduct the interviews.

Elementary teachers experienced in teaching several grades are in greatest demand, Purdom said. They will be required to teach several grades, as well as music, art and physical education. Secondary teachers will teach all courses in at least one subject field and often in two major fields.

Qualifications include a bachelor's degree, 18 semester hours credit in education courses, possession of a valid state teacher's certificate, and at least two years of recent public school teaching experience at the grade levels or in the subject fields for which application is being made.

Minimum age is 25, and maximum age for women is 45, and for men, 55. Single teachers will be employed insofar as possible because of the scarcity of family-type housing in all overseas areas.

The salary is $350 monthly, and transportation to and from the overseas job is furnished by the government. In most countries, rent-free living quarters are available.

Interested teachers should make application for these positions at the Bureau of Appointments and Occupational Information, University of Michigan, 3528 Administration Building, Ann Arbor, in order to obtain necessary application forms and make appointments for an interview.

Truck Kills Official Due for Retirement

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—Percy New, 65, a Canadian customs officer, was killed accidentally yesterday when a truck being examined at customs backed up and struck him.

It was New's last day on the job. In a few hours he would have retired after completing 25 years of service.

Fellow workers found a farewell note which New had prepared for a going-away party. It concluded: "So with the parting of the ways may I wish you all long life and happiness. Thanks for everything."

Casserole Mixes Flavors of Ham, Apples, Cheese

Hm, tart apples and a lucious cheese crumb topping are combined in this casserole to make a perfect main dish for dinner or an easy hot lunch. It's easy to put together, and you'll love the fascinating combination of flavors.

The tart sweetness of the apples is a perfect contrast to the flavor of the ham. The big surprise is the sweet crumb cheese topping.

Try this Harvest Apple Crisp and see if the family doesn't come back for more.

Harvest Apple Crisp

2 cups cooked ham, cut in ½" cubes
6 cups pared, cored, thin apple slices
3 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons lemon juice
¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon salt
⅔ cup sugar
1 bar (½ cup) margarine
1 cup grated sharp or American cheese

Arrange ham in bottom of greased oblong 10x6x2 inch baking dish. Cover with sliced apples. Mix sugar and lemon juice and spoon over apples.

Mix flour, salt, and sugar in mixing bowl. Cut in margarine with fork until mixture is crumbly. Add grated cheese and stir lightly. Sprinkle over apples.

Bake in moderate oven (350) 40-45 minutes, or until apples are tender and crust is crisp. Makes six servings. Or bake in four to six individual casseroles (same time and temperature).

Vega-Beef Soup Is Hearty Entree

Check your grocery bills and see what a reasonable price tag is on soup. This is a good time to take stock . . . and stock up on it for many winter meals.

When the family comes home to lunch, sit them down to steaming bowls of clam chowder with grilled cheese sandwiches. Cold night? Give everyone a warm welcome home with fragrant tomato soup, franks on buns and orange-grapefruit salad.

Fit for your best guests too are pleasant, informal soup suppers. Hand around brimming bowls of vegetable soup to eat with juicy burgers on buns.

Sometimes you can give a new twist to the vegetable soup. Mix it with browned ground beef plus bean with bacon soup. Then the meal is complete with toasted cheese bread and relishes.

Here are exact instructions for this vega-beef soup.

Vega-Beef Soup

½ pound ground beef
Dash salt
1 tablespoon shortening
1 medium onion, chopped
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed vegetable soup
1 can (1¼ cups) condensed bean with bacon soup
1 soup can water

Season beef with salt and brown it in shortening in a saucepan. Remove beef; brown onion in pan. Pour in soups; blend well; stir in the water.

Simmer a few minutes to blend flavors. Add beef to the soup mixture just before serving and heat all together. Makes four servings.

Crisp Chinese noodles are delicious served atop creamed salmon and peas, creamed hard-cooked sliced eggs, and cramed dried beef.

Pour Special Sauce Over Leftover Cake

Make the most of leftover holiday fruitcake by serving it with a special sauce.

Coconut Hard Sauce

⅓ cup butter or margarine (soft)
1 cup sifted confectioners sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 tablespoon cream or undiluted evaporated milk
⅓ cup lightly packed moist shredded coconut (cut in short lengths)

Cream butter, gradually adding sugar until fluffy. Gradually beat in vanilla and cream with spoon. Stir in coconut.

Chill. Makes six servings. Serve with slices of fruitcake steamed in top of double boiler over hot water.

If Recipe Says 'Cream' Be Sure to Follow Rule

When you are making a butter cake and the recipe directs that the fat and the sugar be "creamed" well, be sure to do so. This creaming incorporates air into the batter and helps to make a light fluffy cake. The creaming may be done with the electric mixer.

To cream by hand, tilt the mixing bowl and work the shortening and sugar together with the back of a wooden spoon against the sides of the bowl until smooth and light in texture.

Upholds Will Written on an Old Envelope

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A one-sentence will, written on the back of an old envelope nearly 34 years ago, has been ruled valid by Probate Court here.

The will states: "All of my property, both personal and real estate, I bequeath to my wife, Myrtle E. Saxe, who shall act as executrix."

The will was penned by Carl J. Saxe Feb. 14, 1920, at Monett, Mo.

Last Jan. 12 Saxe died at the age of 61. He had been a St. Louis resident for 21 years.

Mrs. Saxe said the estate amounted to about $8,000 personal property.

Dying Priest's View of Death Inspires Many

PARSONS, Kan. (AP) — The Rev. Julius Busse, the Catholic priest who said he considers it "a privilege to die of cancer," has received about 2,000 telegrams and letters from 47 states in the last week.

The flood of messages began after he made the remark about his illness in a hospital interview 10 days ago.

The 46-year-old priest says he is grateful his death will not come unexpectedly.

"When we go on a trip we like to have time to prepare for it," he explained. "I am getting ready for my most important journey."

* * *

The messages he has received are highly varied. Some ask for advice but he is unable to answer them because of his condition.

Mercy Hospital attendants say Father Busse seems to enjoy most hearing from men with whom he served as a chaplain. He was wounded twice in the Pacific fighting while serving with the "wonderful 7th Infantry Division" in World War II.

Mother Baptista, hospital superintendent, said persons who visit his room seem to find inspiration there.

His doctor says he "has the most remarkable outlook on death I have ever seen."

Slippery Bridge Throws Mother Carrying Tots

COLUMBIA, Tenn. (AP)—A young mother, carrying two tiny sons, slipped on a rain-soaked foot bridge and toppled into a swollen creek near here yesterday. All three drowned.

Victims were Mrs. James Sims, 21; Larry, 2; and David, 2 months.

A third son, James jr., who also fell in, was rescued by his father.

Monkey Work Does Not Fool LA Art Judge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — It was a hard test, but Edward J. Currier passed with flying colors an examination to determine his fitness as municipal art commissioner.

City Councilman Harold Harby, a foe of modernistic and impressionistic art, says he showed Currier two pictures from a magazine and asked his opinion.

Currier said he considered them poor examples of art. That satisfied Harby.

The pictures, Harby admitted, were drawn by two monkeys.

Big 3 May Seek Peaceful Co-Existence Plan at Talks

By KINGSBURY SMITH

BERLIN (INS) — A policy of peaceful co-existence between Russia and the West but no deal to perpetuate Soviet domination of captive countries. That will be the basic position of the Big Three Western powers at the historic conference with the Soviets scheduled to start in Berlin next Monday.

There were strong indications in Allied diplomatic circles today that the Western foreign ministers are going to Berlin with two major objectives; one psychological, the other realistic.

The psychological objective will be to convince European public opinion that the West stands for the unification of a truly democratic Germany which would be free to determine its own future, and for the eventual, peaceful liberation of the Eastern satellite states from Soviet domination.

All this would depend, however on whether Russia acquiesced to Western Germany's participation in the Allied defense scheme, either through the European Defense Community treaty or directly through the North Atlantic Treaty organization.

A limited agreement within the framework of the status quo might also include more reasonable arrangements for the conduct of German affairs, including greater freedom of movement for Germans and for trade between the Soviet-controlled Eastern zone and the Western zones.

There is also reason to believe that the Western powers are prepared to make certain concessions concerning the procedure for free elections in Germany, if Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov shows any serious intent to consider German unification on terms that could be accepfable to the West.

For example, the Russians have insisted that representatives of the East German Communist government should participate in any German commission that is established to formulate electoral laws.

The Western powers are now reliably reported to be prepared to concede this point, providing the Communist representation is on a proportionate rather than equal basis. German inhabitants of the Soviet zone total approximately 17,000,000 as compared with 47,000,000 in the Western zones.

Russia's anticipated demand for the establishment of a provisional German central government composed of "nominated" representatives of the East and West German regimes before free elections are held will be adamantly opposed by the Western powers.

While the Western foreign ministers are going to Berlin prepared to discuss the details of German unification, none of them privately holds any real hope that an agreement will be reached with the Soviets on this basic issue of the German problem.

Thus, while all four foreign ministers will be doing a lot of talking at Berlin about the urgent desirability of German unification, they all will be thinking about some modus vivendi based on the continued division of the country.

The realistic objective will be to secure a limited agreement with Russia within the framework of the status quo, which means on the basis of the continued division of Germany between East and West.

If Russia will acquiesce to the inclusion of a re-armed Western Germany in the Allied security system, the Big Three Western powers will be prepared to give the Soviet government certain "positive and constructive" security assurances in Europe.

Molasses Helps Fruit to Glaze

Set sweet, unsulphured molasses and butter to bubbling in a skillet. Then add pear halves, apple or pineapple slices and turn them out in a jiffy with a spicy, golden cast. This fruit garnish for a meat course is ready practically while you're getting the meat from oven to table.

Unsulphured molasses is the sweet kind with an aromatic fragrance. It gives rich color and flavor to a fruit garnish that is as much a course of the meal as would be a vegetable or salad.

Molasses Glazed Fruit

¼ cup unsulphured molasses
¼ cup butter or margarine
2 apples
2 pears
2 peaches
4 canned pineapple slices

Heat unsulphured molasses and butter in skillet. Peel apples, pears and peaches. Core apples; cut into 2-3 inch slices. Halve pears and peaches; remove seeds.

Place fruit in skillet; turn to cover with molasses-butter mixture. Cover; simmer gently 15 to 20 minutes, or until tender. Serve with meat loaf, pork, lamb, duck or chicken. (Drained, canned apple slices, pear or peach halves can be used in place of fresh fruits.)

Yields 6 servings.

'LASSES MILK AND FRUITS—For all the lads and lassies here's simple magic for after-school appetites—magically simple for mothers to prepare. Serve a bowlful of fruits or raw vegetables and a smooth milk drink made with molasses.

Give Famished Small Fry Healthful, Munchy Snacks

What are little boys made of?

Two hollow legs—and a bottomless cavern for a stomach, many a mother will declare. Little girls too!

Besieged by demands for food as soon as school's out, and sympathetic toward those remembered pangs of childhood hunger—very real pangs they are—mothers are apt to uncork the cookie jar, cast an indulgent eye on handfuls of sweets, turn their backs on pilfered doughnuts.

But there is a way to satisfy their hunger—and leave room for the meal to come. Have a different sort of after-school buffet at your house, with no fuss or bother. Star milk and a big bowlful of attractive, munchable items — raisins, dried apricots, peaches and prunes, for instance.

Or make it a new and different raw vegetable bowl—with carrot curls, raw cauliflowerets, even slices of raw turnip, with the rosiest of the season's apples.

Such crispy, chewy foods fill the bill to perfection. Milk, cool and inviting, is food as well as drink. This is a fine way to add extra nutrients to the children's diet—and gives them special inducement to hurry home. And if there's a weight problem, use skim milk, high in food value but low in calories.

Vary this everyday party simply by serving any one of a number of luscious milk drinks alluringly flavored.

Serve it in varied ways too, in litle Toby mugs, or gay glasses. Let the children pour their own milk or milk drink from a favorite pitcher.

Here are some suggestions for wonderful after-school drinks.

Molasses Smoothie

Pour three-fourths cup milk into a glass. Stir in 1 tablespoon molasses.

Prune Cooler

Combine 1 cup milk with one-half cup bottled prune juice. Beat until frothy.

Sparkling Ginger Milk

Fill glass generously three-fourths full with milk. Slowly fill with chilled gingerale.

Technique to Remove Skin From Boiled Tongue

It's easy to remove the skin from a boiled smoked tongue if you use this technique. Remove the tongue from its cooking liquid when it is tender. Cut off the root end with its bone and gristle.

Using a small sharp knife, slit the underside of the skin from the root end to the tip of the tongue; with the blade of the knife, loosen the skin around the thick root end. Now pull the skin away from the tongue.

Orleans Chops Less Expensive

Broiled lamb chops are on many persons' favorite food list. However, broiling is only one method for preparing lamb chops. Use chops for a braised dish, Lamb Chops New Orleans.

Less demanded shoulder cut arm and blade chops are ideal for this dish.

Blade chops may be identified by the long thin blade bone they contain; arm chops by their round arm bone. You often find both will retail for several cents per pound under the loin and rib chops.

To prepare this dish, brown the chops, cut one inch thick, in lard or drippings. Then season with salt and pepper.

To the meat add 1½ cups tomato juice, ¼ cup chopped green pepper, ½ cup of chopped onion.

Cover and simmer the chops for 30 minutes. Then remove to a warmed platter and thicken the liquid to serve over the chops.

For a new, sprightly flavor, add a dash of chili powder to condensed vegetable beef soup while it heats.

Parfait Glasses Fine for Dessert

Concoct a Cranberry Snowman for a delectable dessert. This Snowman is elegant and fun to serve. He's made of snowy whipped cream with a chocolate flavor for distinction and ruby red cranberries form eyes, nose and mouth.

Now that scientific growing gives us plenty of fresh cranberries for a longer season, make use of their gay color and tart, fresh taste in your favorite cake, muffin or cookie mix for other different, delicious dishes.

Cranberry Snowman

1 cup cranberries
½ cup water
½ cup sugar
1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
12 plain chocolate cookies

Boil ½ cup sugar and ½ cup water for 5 minutes. Add fresh cranberries and boil until all the skins pop open, about 5 minutes. Set aside to cool in saucepan. Whip cream, adding sugar at end of whipping. Fold in vanilla. Crumble chocolate cookies and fold into whipped cream. Remove enough cranberries from the sauce to save for a garnish, about 24 cranberries.

Arrange alternate layers of cranberry sauce and whipped cream mixture in parfait glasses. (Or use your husband's tall pilsner glasses for real beauty.) Top with large round of whipped cream mixture.

Garnish with cranberries to make a snowman face on the top, using one cranberry each for eyes and nose and three cranberries for the mouth. Serves 4.

Meat Means Long Life

Meat consumption and longevity go hand in hand. In countries where per capita meat consumption is high, the life span is considerably longer. In Australia, where per capita meat consumption is 219 pounds, the life span is 65 years. In the United States 144 pounds and 65 years; China 22.5 pounds and 30 years; India 5.1 pounds and 27 years.

Students Go to Dump to Do Exam Digging

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — In this week of final examinations at the University of Oklahoma, it's fashionable for grade-minded students to do their last-minute digging at the city dump.

Someone found discarded stencils from which exams are mimeographed—and the rush was on.

Woman Cleared in Murder Case

Parole Board Learns Alleged Victim Died of Brain Tumor

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—Dark-haired Emma Jo Johnson is 'not angry at anyone" for sending her to prison for murder — a murder which the Nevada Board of Pardons now says never was committed.

Emma Jo, 35, was ordered freed yesterday after 2 years, 8 months and 28 days behind bars as a result of a year-long, $15,000 investigation by mystery story author Erle Stanley Gardner and others.

The board accepted doctors' findings that Mrs. Jane Jones, 72, of Las Vegas died of a brain tumor — not as a result of an asserted attack by Emma Jo.

Emma Jo's troubles started in early May 1951 when she called at the home of her former landlady, Mrs. Jones, for mail.

At the trial, the state said the two women got into a fight and Emma Jo beat Mrs. Jones so severely that a resulting blood clot caused the older woman's death two weeks later.

Emma Jo testified she only grabbed Mrs. Jones by her braids in self-defense and Mrs. Jones slumped to the floor unconscious.

The jury convicted Emma Jo of second degree murder; sentence, 10 to 12 years.

* * *

Author Gardner, who also is a successful attorney, went to work on the case about a year ago as a result of a letter from Jack Wengert, 44, Emma Jo's fiancee.

Gardner, pathologist Le Moyne Snyder of Michigan and Dr. R. B. H. Gradwohl of St. Louis became convinced that Mrs. Jones was not murdered, but died of a brain tumor.

In the long, expensive investigation, they found Dr. T. V. Nendick, Las Vegas physiotherapist, to whom Mrs. Jones had gone the day before the altercation.

Dr. Nendick said Mrs. Jones was dying of the brain tumor and needed immediate surgery. He was not called to testify at Emma Jo's trial, although he said he sent the defense attorney an anonymous letter. The lawyer said the letter came on the final day of the trial and he was unable to substantiate it. The case was not appealed.

In ordering Mrs. Johnson's sentence commuted to time served, the pardons board made no observation on whether she should have been charged with a lesser crime.

Screen Star Wants to Forget Marilyn Monroe

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mamie Van Doren, a blonde bundle of sex, wants to resign as her studio's answer to Marilyn Monroe.

"The comparison to Marilyn was okay at the beginning of my career," says Mamie. "The publicity helped draw attention to me. But now I don't want to be the answer to anybody. I want to stand on my own two feet."

I'm afraid she won't find it easy to shed the reference to Monroe. The resemblance between the two girls is considerable. Both are blondes with Petty-girl faces and curvaceous figures. Both exude a sexiness in appearance and conversation. They can drop quotes that send interviewers scurrying to their typewriters.

* * *

"But we're not really alike," Mamie protests. "My hair is silver blonde, almost platinum; Marilyn's is more a golden blonde. She is a much bigger girl too."

She did admit that their tastes in men are similar. Marilyn's heart belongs to Joe DiMaggio. Mamie used to go with another sports figure with the initials J.D. —Jack Dempsey.

"We broke up," Mamie explained. "He was a little bit too old for me. Or maybe I was too young for him.' Her current boy friend is another sportsman. He is Bill Stead, Reno rancher and speedboat racer.

* * *

Other similarities between the two girls: both were discovered for the movies from the Bliss-Hayden Little Theater here; both bear adopted names. Marilyn's is really Norma Jean Baker. Mamie's is Joan Lucile Olander. She got the Mamie shortly after the presidential election of 1952.

* * *

Aside from these factors, the girls are dissimilar. Marilyn is a native Californian; Mamie was born in Rowena, S. D. Her parents brought her here during the war and she attended Los Angeles High School. After a brief stint as a lawyer's secretary, she decided that she had the assets for a show business career.

Cartrette Murder Trial Is Under Way

The second degree murder trial of Mrs. Lucy Mae Cartrette, 33, in the shooting of her husband, Scarborough, 32, last Aug. 29, began today before Oakland County Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Originally scheduled for Tuesday, the trial was postponed when Judge Holland became ill with grippe. A jury was selected Tuesday before Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty and dismissed until today.

Mrs. Cartrette, of 259 S. Jessie St., is accused of shooting her husband in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Death White, 105 Judson St.

Hughes Likes Flying High, Prefers Necklines Low

Editor's note: Howard Hughes likes his flying high and his necklines low—a combination which first paid off with Jean Harlow in Hell's Angels. Here's the story of his latest trouble with the censors.)

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—For a shy guy who likes the background—or so say his friends—Howard Hughes has an unfailing knack for landing on the front pages.

Hughes' flying and Jean Harlow's negligees made history in "Hell's Angels," and gave a helping hand to those who cried for more movie censorship.

* * *

Two decades later, his current "The French Line" is stirring up trouble with censors and church groups.

* * *

The pattern is the same. The picture is released in one region, the hassle begins, all duly reported on the front pages. The picture is brought back, the censorable shears applied and then the picture released again to business out of all proportion to the worth of the movie.

Jane Russell tells why she lined up with the censors against the boss in "The French Line" case.

"I knew I had to fight back this time. I have spent 13 years trying to lift myself out of the mudhole." She was referring to the publicity resulting from "The Outlaw."

* * *

Jane once said that "The Outlaw" publicity was more the idea of press agent Russell Birdwell than Hughes.

* * *

Birdwell had thousands of pictures made of Jane, usually with a low neckline dress revealing her famous figure. Along with the eye-popping photos and billboards, Birdwell planted off color stories about Jane in the gossip columns.

Before long the country was Jane Russell conscious—five years before her face would be seen on the screen.

When the picture finally was released, a Baltimore judge unintentionally became the best press agent of all. In upholding a censor's ban, he commented from the bench:

* * *

"Miss Russell's breasts hung over the picture like a summer thunderstorm spread out over a landscape. They were everywhere. They were there "when she first came into the picture. They were there when she went out." Some experts estimate that legal opinion may have added two million dollars to the gross.

The publicity was entirely foreign to the off screen life of Jane, one of the cleanest living of all stars. She tells why she posed for the famous cheesecake:

"Of course, I realized what the photographers were up to when the first batch of pictures were made. Dumb me. I just didn't know how to say no."

Things were different on "French Line."

* * *

"That controversial costume I wore in the picture actually was a moral victory on my part. You should have seen the 10 others I refused to wear."

* * *

As for the dance which was labeled suggestive, Jane reports:

"It wasn't the dance as much as the camera angles. Anyone who knows the picture business knows that you never know how anything will look until you see the film. Actors depend on the director, cutters and other executives to keep things in good taste."

* * *

Jane said she did not see the final film and didn't even know the picture was refused a seal—the production code's approval of good taste—until told by a reporter.

* * *

"I talked to Robert (husband Bob Waterfield, the ex-footballer) who was ready to hit the ceiling. We decided it was high time to fight back. And we did."

One reporter called her angry statements part of the planned publicity. Of him, Jane says:

"He knows better and the next time I see him I'll punch him right in the nose." That could well be the next headline on "French Line."

Dems Opposed to Bricker Plan

Sen. Humphrey Says 15 to 20 Will Be Behind Ike During Vote

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) said today 15 to 20 Democrats are ready to "stand behind President Eisenhower" by voting against any constitutional change in treaty-making powers.

Humphrey said in an interview he believes the country's interest would be best served by defeating efforts of Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) to change the Constitution.

Eisenhower has said adoption of Bricker's proposed amendment would make it almost impossible for him to deal with foreign nations in many fields. Bricker says his proposal is aimed at shielding state and individual citizens' rights from treaty invasion. Lawyers do not agree on how real the threat of such invasion is.

Republican leaders have been attempting to compromise with Bricker to eliminate provisions objectionable to the President, but Humphrey said that even if a compromise is reached a Democratic bloc will vote against it and against the Bricker proposal.

"Paradoxically, it may come down to the point where we Democrats who are against this tampering with the Constitution make up the largest number of those in the Senate who are willing to stand behind the President on this issue," Humphrey said.

Senate leaders figure that about 90 of the 96 senators are likely to be present on a showdown vote on the proposal, which must have approval of two thirds of those voting for passage. If these estimates are correct, 31 senators could shelve the measure. Revision of it, however, requires only a majority of those voting. Humphrey said he doesn't believe his group could muster enough votes to stop such action, if a compromise is reached.

Bricker conceded in an interview that some of his backers are becoming "shaky," but he said he feels proponents of his measure can also apply pressure.

Garden of Tuileries, world-famous park in the heart of Paris, gets its name from the tile-making plants located there in the 13th century.

Burglars Frustrated by Own Poor Tactics

CHAMBERSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The intruders who broke into Shively's Dairy here one night might have done better had they gone through a window.

After smashing in the panel of the office door, the intruders turned the office upside down but left without finding any money.

An envelope containing $100 had been shoved through a slot in the door but went unnoticed by the burglars because it was hidden under a piece of the paneling they knocked from the door.

Government Pay Boosts Get Columnist's Approval

By LAURA Z. HOBSON

WASHINGTON (INS)—Anybody who's ever hit the boss for a raise knows that a shrinking, scared approach is the surest way not to get it.

But it says in the paper that being an election year and all, our congressmen and senators are "waiting to learn public opinion back home" before acting on proposals to hike their pay.

Since the only true bosses our national legislators have are the people back home, I can't for the life of me see why they're taking this timid little wait-and-see stance, instead of saying, in effect, "I haven't had a raise in eight years—so let's quit horsing around.

Though a $12,500 raise is suggested the word is that $5,000 is the most anybody dares hope for, bringing the annual pay up from $15,000 ($12,500 salary and $2,500 expense money) to a flat $20,000.

That sounds big but compared to salaries for other big jobs, it's not out of line at all. In private industry and the professions, the top men make far more than $20,000 a year.

The American Red Cross recently decided on $30,000 as the proper salary for its new president. Nobody who contributes to the Red Cross raised hob about it.

New York pays its Governor $40,000 per annum, California pays $25,000 and so does Illinois; Michigan pays $22,500. Governing states and making laws for a nation are huge jobs. Putting the squeeze on the people who do either just doesn't make sense.

Not in a nation whose citizens drop enough cash in movie boxoffices to let a Rita Hayworth make a cool million on "Salome" and let Danny Kaye, Humphrey Bogart and Cary Grant wind up with about $250,000 for one picture.

But don't let's turn around and save on the men and women who make our laws for us, who decide on the draft age of our sons, and on our labor laws and farm income and taxes and defense, and even on the momentous questions of war and peace.

We'd feel real sad if such dollar-pinching kept our ablest people off the ballots just because they had to earn the big dough they could get in business and law offices. It's done too much of that already.

So I wish I had the nerve to speak right up to the senators and congressmen themselves and say: "Go on. Hit the boss for that raise right now, election year or no election year!"

Protect Parking Meters

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Like everything else, the cost of parking meters is up. So Lancaster's city fathers have decided to install — experimentally — a steel beam at the curb on a downtown street to protect them. Too many meter standards have been knocked down by careless parkers.

Hoover Dam Region Trifle Underestimated

HELENA, Mont. (AP) — Montana members of the American Society of Civil Engineers got a chuckle out of a 100-year-old report given the War Department by an Army officer.

The report concerned the Colorado River area now covered by Hoover Dam. It said:

"The region last explored is, of course, altogether valueless. It can be approached only from the south, and after entering it there is nothing to do but leave. Ours was the first, and doubtless will be the last, party of whites to visit the profitless locality."

Xavier Cugats Report Holdup

Claim $20,000 in Gems and Money Stolen by Masked Bandit

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bandleader Xavier Cugat and his voluptuous wife, vocalist Abbe Lane, told police they were kidnaped and robbed of nearly $20,000 in jewelry and cash last night by a masked gunman who lay in wait for them in Cugat's car.

The couple had just finished a performance at an auto show in Pan Pacific Auditorium and were on their way to a movie. As they rolled slowly out of the parking lot in Cugat's expensive white convertible, the bandit rose up from the back seat. He wore a white handkerchief over his face and held a .45 caliber automatic, Cugat said.

Cugat reported the gunman made them drive to a parking area and there took a $9,000 10-karat solitaire and a $2,500 diamond wedding ring from Miss Lane, and a $2,600 wristwatch, $5,000 diamond ring and $150 in cash from the bandleader.

The gunman then ordered them out of the car and cautioned them: "Keep walking. Don't look back or I'll drill you."

The car was still on the parking lot when Cugat returned there with police.

Chiefs Rate Slight Edge in Friday Test

'Muzz' Has Winning Habit

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—A big guy has just come to town who never—or hardly ever — stuck his head into any sports activity without coming out with a championship of some sort.

* * *

And he has been handed one of the toughest jobs you could imagine—trying to make a championship contender out of the Rangers.

The big guy's name is Murray Patrick, but everyone calls him "Muzz." The Rangers, if you don't remember, are a local hockey team which used to win titles with reasonable frequency but haven't even threatened lately.

* * *

In fact, they slipped so far after the war that Muzz's dad, Lester, lost his job after leading the club for 20 years. And brother Lynn, Frank Boucher and Bill Cook all failed to bring the club and its fans back.

And, to make it tougher, Muzz, after only a week to get acquainted with his team, ran into three straight games against the Boston Bruins. That's the team the Rangers have to beat to get into the National Hockey League playoffs and their coach is Muzz's older, slightly smaller and equally rugged brother Lynn.

* * *

Still we wouldn't want to bet that Muzz can't do it. He's quite a guy. His Rangers won the first of the three last night, defeating the Bruins 8-3.

Just to show you how the younger Patrick operates, he didn't take up hockey seriously until he was 18 years old. Five years later he was a big leaguer.

* * *

Before that time, he had won the amateur heavyweight boxing championship of Canada. He had played on a Canadian championship basketball team, was an outstanding backfield man in the "Big Four" Football League in his native British Columbia and took an occasional fling at baseball, track and bicycle racing.

Pontiac Height, Playing at Home May Be Factors

But Van Ryzin Club Will Have to Check Valley Ace Giffen

By H. GUY MOATS

When Bay City's basketball Wolves invade Pontiac Friday night for the 4th Saginaw Valley conference test for the Chiefs, several factors rate the PHS squad favorites.

1st — Pontiac's overall team height is considered better than the less - than - 6 - foot average for Bay City Central.

3rd — Pontiac holds a one-win margin in Valley games played this season (1-2 to 1-3).

But Coach Art Van Ryzin's club must stop the Valley's leading point-getter, if the above factors work out to their advantage. He is 6 foot 6 inch Gary Giffen whose point production totals 82 in SVC play and 104 overall. That's an average of 20.5 points for Valley play and slightly better for overall performance.

While the scoring of Art Paddy's big boy is the better, Chiefs' Dick Ayling could run into a hot night and make an interesting battle of it. Dick dunked 16 points against Saginaw last week end, and 29 against Sexton. He's been improving all the time.

Neither Chiefs, nor the Wolves, were in action Tuesday when Flint Central tripped Midland and Sexton beat Northern in overtime. A full slate (except for Northern which is idle) will find Valley clubs playing as follows:

Pontiac at home with Bay City; Arthur Hill at Midland; Saginaw at Flint Central.

Paddy said today he would start his senior team; Giffen at center; Paul Grien and Pete Carras at forwards and Bill Cabage and Jerry Swaton at the guards. All but Carras are seniors, Pete is a junior.

Behind this list Paddy will use Jim Chesney at guard; George Stevenson at forward and Louie Chialis at center. All are up this year from the junior varsity.

Van Ryzin wasn't certain today of his starters, but they would probably be much the same as at Saginaw.

Asked about his chances here Friday, Coach Paddy said the game "figures to be very close. In this kind of game the breaks may go either way and they may be the real factors in determing the winner."

Police Department took a half-game lead in the Class D City basketball league standings Wednesday night at Lincoln Junior High School by downing the Hi-Knights, 37-20, and the Panthers routed Senior Hi-Y, 40-15, to take 3rd place by a half-game.

Only a game and a half now separates the top four teams in the close race, as the season approaches the half-way point.

Police led all the way in beating the Knights. Ted Wharry's 11 points were high, but Terry Warren with 9 and Dick Neaves with 8 aided. Paul Emerson and Steve Sekulich paced the Panthers to their one-sided triumph with 13 and 10 points, respectively.

Panthers led by only 15-9 at the half, but scored 12 points in the 3rd quarter, while the Hi-Y drew a blank.

Faulty Papers Stop Sedgman at U. S. Border

DETROIT (AP) — Frank Sedgman, Australian tennis player, was stopped and turned back at the Canadian border last night.

However, if everything went as expected, he might be able to resume his trip to Chicago today unimpeded.

A U. S. immigration man said Sedgman's papers were lacking a statement from his Canadian-American tour manager. The official said this was only a technicality and could be quickly disposed of.

Sedgman and other tennis professionals are on tour in the Jack Kramer troupe.

While he awaited an O. K., Sedgman put up at a motel in Windsor, Ont., across the Detroit river from Detroit. He was stopped in the Windsor-Detroit tunnel.

Boys Club Wonders, representing Pontiac in the Intermediate Division of the Boys' Clubs of Michigan and Ohio Basketball Conference will travel to Toledo Friday evening to engage the Toledo Boys' Club.

Pontiac and Toledo are currently leading the conference with identical 2-0 records. Toledo, annually a powerhouse in the league is expected to furnish Pontiac with plenty of competition.

Starting line-up for Pontiac will be "Bucky" Pointer and Jim Blackshear in the back court, Joe Barron and Dick Green at forwards and George Thrasher is slated to hold down the center position. Bob Dewey, Jim Cartier and Bob Bowers will see plenty of action.

Mighty Mites, Pontiac's entry in the Junior Division of the same league is risking its unbeaten slate against the once beaten Toledo Junior quintet. Starting lineup for Pontiac will have "Chuck" McIlrath and Len Sharp at guards, Gene Gidcumb and Ken McClintock at forwards and "Chuck" Barge at center. Willie Pearson and Dave McClintock will also get in.

Louise Suggs Favored to Win Tampa Tourney

Georgian Seeks Third Triumph in $5,000 Test at Palma Ceia

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Of all the present and former champs of ladies golf playing the annual Tampa Women's Open golf tournament today, the name of Louise Suggs seemed to shine a little brighter.

The tiny Georgian is out for her 3rd victory in the $5,000 72-hole open. She'll have to do some remarkable shooting if she tops her last year's winning score of 288 on the par 72 Palma Ceia course.

Miss Suggs, the 1953 top money winner among the touring golf pros, started out this year by winning the recent Sea Island Open, with three days of identical 77s.

The Tampa Open is medal play and will end Sunday.

It has drawn a record field of 214 entries, including all the former winners in the eight years of the Tampa Open and the top golfers in just about every major 1953 tournament.

Miss Suggs was set for an afternoon threesome with Babe Zaharias, home town sports idol, and Beverly Hanson of Pasadena, Calif.

Likely to figure when the winning scores are posted is Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C., winner of the 1953 National Open, but she has to overcome the jinx of never finishing higher than 6th in the Tampa.

Top amateur on hand is Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., who won the National Amateur last year and was runnerup in the 1953 Tampa Open.

Included in the field also are Patty Berg of Fort Myers, Fla., who won the Tam O'Shanter last summer; Barabara Romack of Sacramento, Calif., the Canadian Amateur titlist; Marlene Stewart of Ontario, Canada, who holds the British Amateur title; pro Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, former South American Amateur champion, and Jackie Pung, the 1952 National Amateur winner and medalist in the Sea Island meet.

Babe Zaharias Quits as Prexy of Ladies' PGA

Follows Lead of Fred Corcoran, Says She Is Tired of Quibbling

TAMPA, Fla. (UP) — Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias said today she is quitting as president of the ladies Professional Golfers Association because she is "tired of the quibbling going on."

The famed "comeback" lady of the links thus followed in the footsteps of Fred Corcoran, tournament director of the Ladies PGA, and tournament supervisor Glen Harvey. Both men announced Wednesday that they were resigning because the National Golf Foundation had withdrawn its financial support from the group.

But Mrs. Zaharias said, "I wrote a letter of resignation the day before yesterday. It was turned down. But I'm tired of the quibbling going on.

"I guess the girls think they can run it without our help," said Mrs. Zaharias. "I don't want anything more to do with it. I'll go along with Fred. I guess I'll just have to start playing golf again."

The famed "Babe" said she listed poor health as her reason when she submitted her resignation.

Eastern Pros Rated Favorite

Taller Lapchick Group Picked Over Mikan-Led West All-Stars

NEW YORK (UP) — An East team with a slight edge in height and a decided edge in scoring power will be favored over a West team built around George Mikan tonight in the National Basketball Association's annual All-Star game at Madison Square Garden.

The clash, before an expected crowd of about 15,000, is the 4th in the annual series. The East won 1st two games and the West won last year's game, 79-75.

Joe Lapchick, New York Knickerbocker coach who will guide the eastern team, has decided to start this lineup: Ed Macauley of the Boston Celtics and Adolph Schayes of the Syracuse Nats at forward, rookie Ray Felix of the Baltimore Bullets at center, and Bob Cousy of the Celtics and Dick McGuire of the Knicks at guard.

Against this array, John Kundla, Minneapolis Lakers' coach who heads the West team, will start: Jim Pollard of the Lakers and Mel Hutchins of the Pistons at forward, Mikan of the Lakers at center, and Bob Davies and Bobby Wanzer, both of the Rochester Royals, at guard.

General Motors and Oliver Buick advanced in City Basketball League standings by winning games Wednesday night.

In Class A, GMC tripped Chuck's Shack, 50-41, to tie the Shack quintet for 2nd place behind the pace-setting Shaw's Jewelers. Oliver's moved to within a half-game of 1st place in Class B by edging Stadium Inn, 49-45.

GMC built up a 10-point lead during the 1st three quarters, then a pair of baskets each by Don Quayle and Latozas in the final period offset a barrage of free throws by Chuck's.

Quayle connected on 10 fielders and one free toss for game honors with 21 points. Tom Spencer had 16 for the Shack. Chuck's chances were severely hurt by a slow 2nd period in which they scored only four points.

Oliver's took an early lead, lost it at the end of the 3rd quarter, but pulled ahead in the final stanza on an 8-point flurry by Guyette. He and Stadium's Lee tied for high with 14 points apiece.

Bruins' Patrick Blue

Rangers' Patrick Now Eyes Berth in Playoffs

NEW YORK (AP) — Muzz Patrick, coach of the newly inspired New York Rangers, was mapping playoff plans in the National Hockey League today and beaming with joy over the spectacular return of veteran Doug Bentley.

For the 1st time this season the Rangers are in real contention for a playoff spot. They overwhelmed Boston 8-3 last night and climbed into a 4th place tie with the Bruins, who are coached by Muzz' brother Lynn.

"We can beat Boston anytime," Muzz declared. "We've got the better players. I don't know what's been holding them in 4th place this long."

Doug Bentley, 37 years old and three years away from his last NHL game, teamed with brother Max for a triumphant return. He scored the Rangers' 1st goal and set up three others. Max scored twice and assisted twice.

Patrick said he wasn't a bit surprised at Doug's brilliant display.

"He's been doing that against me in the Western Hockey League for two years," said Patrick, who handled Tacoma and Seattle in the Western while Doug acted as playing coach for Saskatoon.

Doug is up for a three game trial and he said it's up to Frank Boucher of the Rangers, and general manager Norm Couch of Saskatoon to decide what happens next.

Boucher had no doubts.

"Doug is going back to clean up personal business," Boucher said. "He'll join us again as soon as possible."

After last night's game Muzz Patrick was asked if he had heard from his brother Lynn.

"Well, we had our picture taken together right after the game," Muzz said. "He wasn't smiling."

Disqualification Hurts as PHS Tankers Bow to HP

Highland Park High School's swimming team capitalized on one break and a fleet of good free stylers Wednesday to hand Pontiac High its 4th straight loss, 50-34, in the Parkers' pool.

Break came in the meet's sixth event, the individual medley. At the moment, PHS trailed by only three points. Duane Butler won this event for the Chiefs, but Bob Lamson was disqualified for a questionable turn in his breast stroke leg.

Parkers took 2nd and 3rd then proceeded to finish 1-2 in diving and sweep both relays.

Superior free styling depth provided the victory margin as Highland Park ran up 6 firsts, 4 seconds and 4 thirds to 3-6-3 for Pontiac. Loss made Pontiac's record 2-4 for the season. Bay City comes to Pontiac Friday for varsity and jayvee meets.

PHS firsts were scored by Bob Keavey in the 100-yard breast stroke, Lamson in the 200-yard free style, and Butler in the individual medley.

Chief Coach Des Boyce was ill and the team was handled by former PHS swimming coach Neil Gray.

The summary:

40-yard free style—Won by Lynch (HP); Scheilenberg (P) second; Butler (HP) third. Time: 20.9 seconds.

100-yard breast stroke—Won by Keavey (P); Jackson (HP) second; McLarty (P) third. Time: 1 minute, 10.2 seconds.

220-yard free style—Won by Lamson (P); Rajaniemi (HP) second; Butler (P) third. Time: 2 minute, 15.5 seconds.

100-yard back stroke—Won by Risher (HP); Cross (P) second; Cole (HP) third. Time: 1 minute, 3.9 seconds.

100-yard free style—Won by McKeown (HP); Hoban (P) second, Rojyzeki (HP) third. Time: 58.4 seconds.

150-yard individual medley—Won by Butler (P); Palmer (HP) second; Hanelly (HP) third. (Lamboon (P) disqualified). Time: 1 minute, 28.4 seconds.

Diving—Won by Courtney (HP); Gunderson (HP) second; McLarty (P) third.

180-yard medley relay—Won by Highland Park (Risher, Jackson, McKeown); Pontiac (Cross, Keavey, Hoban) second. Time: 1 minute, 44.9 seconds.

160-yard free style relay—Won by Highland Park (Rozycki, Butler, Lynch, Rajaniemi); Pontiac (Munberetti, P. Wargelin, J. Wargelin, Walker) second. Time: 1 minute, 26.9 seconds.

Albion Joins Calvin Atop MIAA Standings

ALBION (AP)—Albion moved into a 1st place deadlock with Calvin in the MIAA basketball standings last night by beating Kalamazoo 71-64.

Albion jumped off to a quick lead, holding a 30-10 margin at the end of the 1st quarter and a 43-25 edge at the half.

Kalamazoo was completely outgunned until the final three minutes when the losers scored 15 points against Albion reserves.

Forward Don Roe of Albion walked off with scoring honors with 29 points. Kalamazoo guard John Sweet tossed in 16.

Albion and Calvin now sport identical 6-1 records to lead the league. However, Hope is only a single game away from making it a three-way tie.

Anglers Rewarded for Fishing in Colorado

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — It pays to fish in the Colorado River. One Chamber of Commerce has offered a reward for the return of a trout with tag MO-1000.

It's all part of a scheme devised by Arizona Fisheries biologist Dick Wagner. He has planted 2,500 trout in various parts of the river. Most of the fish have tags.

The purpose of the plants is to gain information on growth rate, migration distance and direction plus the ability of these hatchery-raised fish to assimilate natural foods.

The one with tag MO-1000 weighs 3¼ pounds and is 17 inches long. It was released below Davis Dam.

Rookie Battery for Cubs

CHICAGO (AP)—A rookie battery which led Des Moines to the 1953 Western League playoff title, pitcher Bob Zick and catcher Elvin Tappe, today joined the 1954 ranks of the Chicago Cubs.

Zick, 26, of Chicago, had a 14-12 record at Des Moines, winning 11 of his last 15 games. Tappe, 23, Quincy, Ill., started last season with Los Angeles, but shifted to Des Moines after 38 games. He was named to the "all major league prospect" team by Western Loop sports writers.

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — Trenton, N. J., Junior College set a new National Junior College Athletic Association basketball record last weekend when the team defeated Bergen, N. J., JC, 129-76.

The mark erased the old figure of 127 scored by Wingate, N. C., over Spartanburgh, S. C., in 1952, NJCAA statisicians said here today.

Craig Wood Names Fred Wampler, Bud Holscher as Leading Newcomers to Pro Golf This Season

By GRANTLAND RICE

LOS ANGELES, Calif.—A short while ago I ran into Craig Wood, the noted citizen and golfer. I asked him to start me off right in 1954 by naming the young golfer more likely to emerge from the mass and reach the top.

* * *

Without wasting too much time Craig said two words. They were "Fred Wampler. He is about as good a shot maker as any of the others and he is now experienced enough," explained Craig. "He is a very good golfer and, at the age of 30, he has been around long enough."

* * *

So Fred Wampler backed up Craig Wood by winning the $20,000 Los Angeles Open, where the first prize was $4,000. Wampler played like a real champion for the first three rounds, then skidded badly. But he won.

* * *

Craig tossed in another prophecy. "There is also a kid of 22 or 23 that you'll hear more about. He has only been a pro for six months. He's coming to New York with Harry Cooper this summer. Slender, almost slight, he's about six feet tall and has plenty of leverage. I think you'll hear from him on the winter trail. His name is Bud Holscher."

Wood made another perfect pick. In the Los Angeles Open, young Holscher had rounds of 72-71-69-71—only two shots away from the top. He played the most consistent golf in the field.

Bud has a fine swing and a first-class golfing temperament. Which means he is cool, calm and is rarely upset.

* * *

He concentrates well and is quite a determined competitor. Concentration and determination are the two main factors for winning golf. Ask Ben Hogan.

Fred Wampler, the Purdue-Indianapolis entry, is 30 and Holscher is 22, so Bud has the edge in years. Yet Hogan was over 30 before he began leading all fields. Wampler has Ben's build and looks quite a bit like the U. S. and British champion. Whether he will play like him is a future story.

It is difficult to pick out many of the younger players as potential champions this early in the game. Doug Ford, Al Mengert and Bob Toski have started slowly.

* * *

Walter Burkemo, PGA champ, still has a few medal-play kinks to iron from his system, but may break loose at any moment. He can be dangerous.

Selvy Hits 38.1 to Top Scorers

Furman Ace Good as Entire Teams in 1938, Statistics Reveal

NEW YORK (AP)—Frank Selvy of Furman, top scorer in major college basketball, is scoring almost exactly as much as the average major college team of 1938—the first year the center jump disappeared from all sections of the country.

Selvy, who didn't play last week, has an average of 38.1 points a game in NCAA Service Bureau statistics covering games played through Tuesday. Sixteen years ago, average output for entire teams in major competition was 38.2.

Other statistical leaders are Bob Mattick of Oklahoma A. & M. in field goal accuracy (58.2 per cent), George Washington's Walt Devlin in foul-line marksmanship (90.2 per cent), and Marshall's Charlie Slack in rebounding, with 24.8 a game.

Spartan Boxers Face Tough Foe in Marine Team

EAST LANSING (AP)—Michigan State boxers go against some rough opponents in their first dual meet of the season here Friday night with the Quantico Marines.

Flint's Herb Odom, in the 147 pound class, will meet Marine Willy Price, who has won seven straight fights, including six by knockouts.

Bill Greenway of Kalamazoo, at 178 pounds this year, will open his season against Donald Franks of the Marines.

In the 155 pound weight, George Sisinni of Milwaukee, probably draws the toughest assignment. He'll meet Bill Elvidge, a Marine who has been fighting for 14 years with 71 wins and only four losses.

Tom Hickey of Chicago, NCAA 165-pound title-holder, will fight Ernie Stephens, who has won five and lost two in the service.

'Good' Right Half Needed to Qualify for Number 14

EAST LANSING — When Lynn Chandnois, Michigan State's 1949 All-America right halfback, peeled off his Spartan jersey for the last time, he said to Trainer Jack Heppinstall and Equipment Manager Erwin Kapp: "When you give old No. 14 to someone else, make sure he's a good one, will you?"

No one had the number on the 1950 team, but in 1951 it appeared on a promising sophomore. It figured in headlines for three brilliant seasons, the climax coming on Jan. 1, 1954, in the Rose Bowl game. In that classic the wearer of No. 14 scored two touchdowns, led all backs in rushing and was acclaimed "player of the game" by the Helms Athletic Foundation. That, course, was Billy Wells.

The Rose Bowl was the last college game for Wells, and the jersey goes again into temporary retirement. Who will be the next in the dynasty of No. 14? You can be sure that Heppinstall and Kapp well be very, very careful to "make sure he's a good one."

Kentucky Follower Likes to Hear Football Score

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — John Fox, working on the sports desk of the Raleigh News and Observer, thought he detected a familiar voice when a telephone caller asked "Can you please tell me the score of the Kentucky-Tennessee game?"

After Fox replied that Kentucky had won 27 to 21, the voice said gleefully, "I know, I know. This is the fourth time I've called you. I just love to hear that score."

Simmons Signs His Contract With Phillies

Indians Swap Tipton to Washington Nats for Mickey Grasso

NEW YORK (AP)—Baseball clubs for the first time found contract signing on the brighter side today.

Twenty-four hours had gone by without a single new holdout developing. Meanwhile, 13 players, including pitcher Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies and catcher Sherman Lollar of the Chicago White Sox, signed for the 1954 season.

Simmons, the 1st of a long list of dissatisfied Phils to come to terms, reached an agreement after a short huddle with club secretary George Fletcher.

Simmons won 16 games and dropped 13 for the 3rd place Phillies last year. He lost a month of the season when he caught his left foot in a lawnmower, necessitating amputation of part of his big toe.

Lollar became the 19th of 41 White Sox players to sign. The American League's top defensive catcher last season, Lollar batted .287.

Others to come to terms included pitchers Bubba Church, Howie Pollet, rookie Bob Hartig and catcher Hal Meek of the Chicago Cubs; outfielders Bob Borkowski and Wally Post, Cincinnati Redlegs; infielder Bob Micelotta, Phils; utility outfielder Pat Mullin, Detroit Tigers; Jose G. Santiago, rookie pitcher of the Cleveland Indians and catcher Wilmer Shantz, brother of Bobby with the Philadelphia Athletics.

Boston Red Sox received signed contracts from catcher Del Wilber and coaches Del Baker, George Susce and Paul Schreiber.

Cleveland Indians traded catcher Joe Tipton to the Washington Senators for Mickey Grasso, another catcher, the trade was strictly an exchange of weak-hitting receivers. Grasso batted .209 last season and Tipton .229.

Chicago White Sox hired Rogers Hornsby as a batting instructor for the pre-season farm club school at Hollywood, Fla.

Emil Zatopek, Czechoslovakian track ace, holds eight world records: six, 10 and 15 miles; 10,000, 20,000, 25,000 and 30,000 meters and the one hour run.

3 More Ball Players Make Hall of Fame

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Rabbit Maranville, Bill Dickey and Bill Terry are in baseball's Hall of Fame today but Joe DiMaggio still is on the outside—for at least one more year.

* * *

Maranville, the sprightly little shortstop of the 1914 "miracle" Boston Braves who died Jan. 5, led the ticket in the latest elections by the Baseball Writers Assn. Dickey, all-time Yankee catching great, and Terry, last .400 hitter in the National League, were close behind.

DiMaggio, who retired in 1951, missed by 14 votes. Totals of 252 ballots were cast by 10-year members with 75 per cent or 189 necessary for election.

* * *

The rules were changed this year restricting the field to players active within the last 25 years but out of baseball in any "field" capacity for at least five years. That eliminated managers, coaches and umpires who still are active or have been since 1948. The only exceptions were Dickey, DiMaggio and Ted Lyons, who had received 100 or more votes in the 1953 election.

Plaques will be dedicated to Maranville, Dickey and Terry at the Cooperstown, N. Y., Hall of Fame Museum in August when the Yankees play Cincinnati in the annual exhibition game at Doubleday Field. Six others, including Chief Bender, who were named by a special committee last September, also will be officially accepted at that time, when the membership will be increased to 73 men.

* * *

Except for a surge of votes for Maranville, inventor of the "basket" catch, the 1954 results closely followed last year's pattern. Those who finished well up the ladder behind Dizzy Dean and Al Simmons, the '53 selections, moved up.

Carter Brothers Lead Five State Keglers at Chicago

CHICAGO (UP) — Five Michigan keglers were among the field of 16 men survivors today at the end of the first semi-final round of the National Match Game bowling championships.

The 16 began competition for the crown along with defending champion Don Carter of Detroit and Junie McMahon, the 1951 winner.

Pete Carter, a brother of Don Carter, and Joe Wilman of Berwyn, Ill., tied for the top spot in the surviving field with totals of 6,092. Joe Joseph of Lansing, Mich., was 3rd with 6,087.

Three Detroit rollers rounded out the Michigan delegation in the surviving field. Tom Hennessey was 6th with 6,024, John Crimmins 7th with 5,975 and Ed Lubanski 8th with 5,953.

In the women's division, three Detroiters were among the 14 finalists who squared off for the title against defending champion Marion Ladewig of Grand Rapids, Mich., and Shirley Garms of Palatine, Ill.

Doris Knechtges held down the No. 4 spot with 3,857. Elvira Toepfer was 6th with 3,845 and Laverne Carter 10th with 3,788. Tess Johns, Cleveland, O., was tops among women survivors with a 3,959 total.

Has Scottish Heritage

WEST POINT, N. Y. (AP)—Frank (Scotty) Adams, captain of the Army soccer team for 1954, comes from Scotland where he was an outstanding player in high school competition. Soccer is the favorite sport in the Adams family. Frank's grandfather, father and uncle played the game professionally.

'Porkies' Halt Hounds

SYRACUSE, Kas. (AP) — So much howling developed — and they had to pull so many porcupine quills out of their hounds — that F. N. Cheatum and Rex Swisher gave up their raccoon hunt. The noise frightened the 'coons away, when their young dogs tackled the wrong kind of animal.

3 Michigan Preps Named to All-America Grid Team

NEW YORK (UP) — Michigan placed three players on the 77-man 1953 All-America high school football team chosen by Scholastic Magazine.

They were Ernie Delco, Ann Arbor tackle; Jim Ninowski, Detroit Pershing quarterback, and Pat Cvengros, Ironwood halfback.

Delco, a member of the United Press All-State team the past two seasons, was a key figure in a 22-game winning streak still intact at Ann Arbor.

Ninowski ran and passed Pershing to nine straight victories and its 1st Detroit city championship.

Cvengros, hailed as one of the best athletes ever produced in the Upper Peninsula, led Ironwood to eight wins in a row. An outstanding pitching prospect, Cvengros is expected to sign a lucrative baseball contract this summer.

Only California, Illinois, Texas and Oregon placed more players on the prep All-America than Michigan. California led with six players. Illinois had five and Texas and Oregon four each.

Texas School Finds Another Doak Walker

HOUSTON, Tex (AP) — There's another Doak Walker coming up. He's Walter Fondren, Houston's great high school player.

Walker, former All-America halfback at Southern Methodist and now an All-Pro for the champion Detroit Lions, wore No. 37 on his jersey. Fondren wears the same number. Fondren, say the critics, has the same stop-and-go style of action and gets the most out of a threat to pass.

Joel Hunt, former Texas A&M football star who coached at Louisiana State and Georgia, remarked about Fondren's ability to run until a tackler thinks he has a dead shot at him then cut back into the tackler and either bounce off or run right through the tackler's arms.

The 155-pound Fondren gained 1,754 yards — 1,341 rushing and 411 passing — in 11 games, while scoring 112 points.

He's the son of a Houston millionaire and won't be looking around for the highest bidder for next fall. He may decide to attend a Texas school.

Landy Misses Mark; Runs 4:02.3 Mile

MELBOURNE (AP) — John Landy, Australia's great miler, failed again in his bid for a 4-minute mile tonight. Running in a special twilight meeting at Olympic Park he was timed in 4:02.3.

Landy, who has failed on several occasions to shatter Gunder Haegg's world mile record of 4:01.4, nevertheless did turn in one of the fastest miles on record.

Back on Dec. 12 he was timed in 4:02, 3rd fastest winning mile on record. Arne Anderson's 4:01.6 is the 2nd fastest.

Landy competed before a crowd of 25,000, largest ever at Olympic Park. He ran the 1st quarter in 59 seconds, the half in 2:00.3 and the three quarters in 3:02.1. He won by 95 yards over Geoff Warren.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

CASE—Chest High Start.

Produces Wide Arc—Ray Bock, a top teacher, points with pride to Carl Ray as his prize form pupil. Bock is strictly a pendulum-swing tutor. As the old song went: "You don't have a thing, if you ain't got that swing."

Seven years ago Ray began by holding the ball waist high. A slim kid, a little over 100 pounds, he lacked speed with the short swing.

Bock got hold of him then; gradually raised the ball until it reached just below chin level, as sketch shows. In the position both hands share the weight of the ball and also the push-away first move that puts the ball into a wide swinging arc.

The push-away is done smoothly, no rush. It is timed with the first step (right foot). "Timing may be a little harder to acquire," says Bock, "but once you get it, as Ray did, you'll be a good bowler for life." That's what makes the Bock style worth trying, at least by slimly-built men, and by all women.

Fullback Neil Worden gained more than 2,000 yards rushing in his three seasons at Notre Dame.

SUPERIOR, Neb. (AP) — John Meier had just returned from a deer hunt in Wyoming, happy at having bagged his one-deer limit. When he looked out the window of his home he saw a 200-pound deer walking across his yard. The animal sauntered through two neighboring yards, jumped a fence and disappeared toward the east city limits.

Diddle Chalks Up 600th Cage Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Diddle, Western Kentucky's 58-year-old, silver-thatched basketball coach, reached another milestone today and began looking ahead in terms of becoming the winningest mentor of all time.

Diddle's Hilltoppers polished off Tennessee Tech last night 62-51 to remain one of the seven undefeated teams in the country. More important, the triumph was the 600th victory of Ed's career all spent at Western Kentucky.

Diddle now has only one more mark to shoot at and if he sticks around long enough, he might make it despite a bad heart. Phog Allen, Kansas coach, has a record of 737 victories and 212 defeats, but his record includes duty at four different schools. So Diddle actually has won more games than any coach who has stayed with the same team.

Hilltoppers are No. 4 in the weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and now own a winning streak of 17 games, longest of any major college in the country. Duquesne, idle last night, has won 15 without defeat.

Western Kenutcky had no trouble winning as it pleased once it ran up a 20-10 margin in the 1st period. It left the floor with a 35-24 bulge at the half and was content to match Tech point-for-point in the 2nd half. Tom Marshall was high man with 21 points.

Most of the major schools had the night off, but Norwich and Erskine, two of their small brothers who have yet to taste defeat emerged triumphant again. Norwich won No. 12 by stopping Middlebury 75-70 in a Vermont Conference game, and Erskine ran its skein to 11 by thumping Newberry 81-67.

Newberry, incidentally, has a record in reverse. The school has been beaten in every one of its 13 starts. But that still doesn't match Georgia Tech, which went down to defeat No. 16 without a victory at the hands of Auburn 80-56.

Dayton won its 12th game in 16 starts, defeating Seton Hall for the 2nd time this season 76-61. Seaton Hall, usually a threat for national honors, has been having its troubles this year and shows a mediocre record of 8-7.

Army rounted Penn 71-64 and Siena snapped out of a six-game losing streak to upset Villanova 68-58.

Siena toppled Villanova with a 28-point onslaught in the 4th period. Going into the final chapter Wildcats were in the van, 44-40, but they managed to make good on only one field goal in the final 10 minutes.

NORKUS DOWN—Charley Norkus of Bayonne, N. J., starts climbing to his feet after taking a count of 9 in the 7th round of his scheduled 10-round bout at Miami Beach, Fla., Wednesday night, against Danny Nardico of Tampa. Nardico was knocked down 6 times and Norkus twice in what is described as one of Greater Miami's wildest brawls. Norkus finally won in the 9th round when referee Jimmy Peerles stopped the fight.

Norkus Whips Danny Nardico in Wild Scrap

MIAMI BEACH (AP)—Charley Norkus, unranked and underrated, whipped Danny Nardico, top contender for the light heavyweight title, last night in a bloody bout of eight knockdowns.

The Bayonne, N. J., heavyweight battered Nardico with smashing rights and slammed him to the canvas six times before Referee Jimmy Peerless stopped the fight at 2:15 of the 9th, giving Norkus a tehcnical knockout. The fight was scheduled for 10 rounds. Norkus went down twice under Nardico's powerful punches.

Norkus weighed 197 pounds, 15½ more than Nardico, who had been clamoring for a title fight with Heavyweight Champion Rocky Marciano.

Ringsiders were splattered with blood pouring from Norkus' nose and left eye and Nardico's mouth. In the 7th, after both men had absorbed some terrific blows, Nardico connected with a one-two series and Norkus was lying on his back at the bell. After going down twice in the 9th, Nardico was on his feet but defenseless.

Bob Boyd played 29 games at first base for the White Sox in 1953 without committing an error.

Bolt Favorite in Coast Event

Defends Title in San Diego Open; Home Fans Look to Littler

RANCHO SANTE FE, Calif. (AP)—The $15,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament gets under way today and Tommy Bolt, as the 1953 winner, would seem to be the leading contender in the field of 137 professionals and amateurs.

But the home folks established a noted local attraction, National Amateur Champion Gene Littler, as the favorite. Young Littler has demonstrated he can play right along with the pros and further, he knows the tournament course like a book.

Other tournament regulars such as Lloyd Mangrum; Dutch Harrison, winner of Crosby's top $2,000 prize last weekend and Cary Middlecoff, are in the field.

CLEVELAND (AP)—General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Cleveland Indians says "I'm more convinced than ever that you need a good farm system to win pennants. Maybe we're on the right track. Six of ur farm clubs won 1953 pennants."

Ellis Kinder of the Boston Red Sox set an American League record in 1953 for most games by a pitcher in one season, 69.

When the New York Athletic Club was first organized in 1868 it had 14 members. At the end of 1953 it had 8,191.

Marvin Grisson and Don Mueller of the New York Giants have identical off-season hobbies—hunting and fishing.

It Takes A HEAP OF HAULING ...to make a Home!

IF YOU'VE BUILT a new home recently—or are in the midst of doing so now—you know how dependent building is on motor transport.

From the moment the big excavating shovel arrives at the vacant lot astride a low-bed truck-trailer to dig the hole for your basement, it's a steady procession of trucks of one kind or another until the house is ready for occupancy.

Cement blocks, sand, steel, lumber, roofing, brick, plumbing, hardware, paint — everything that goes into the building of your home has to get to the site in motor trucks.

Then, when you arrive at the point where you're ready to move in, you call on motor transport again to transport your household furnishings for you.

If you've got it, a truck brought it!

Prep 'Darkhorses' Spice Area Cage Title Races

By JACK SAYLOR

With Oakland County prep cagers at or rapidly approaching the halfway mark in the 1953-54 season, it's time to see how pre-season favorites are faring in their respective leagues.

In general, "pennant" races are progressing much as expected, but a number of darkhorses are making the leaders hustle to hold their positions. Defending champions, in particular, are finding the going rough.

Here's a rundown on the leagues in Oakland County and vicinity:

SUBURBAN CATHOLIC —OL St. Mary, defending titlist and well-rated pre-season, was bounced just Tuesday by St. Benedict's, but remains in the running. It appears these two will battle it out for the crown. They are scheduled again in the season finale.

INTER - LAKES — Pre - season pick, Van Dyke, has faltered badly and the future looks no brighter for the Abes with John Malone graduating shortly. Farmington holds the lead, precarious as it may be, and a real dogfight looms after last Friday's action in which the loop's three "2nd division" teams all rose up to beat the leaders.

Berkley, last year's winner, doesn't appear in a position to repeat.

WAYNE - OAKLAND — Darkhorse Milford has stolen the spotlight thus far in this circuit, leading the league and winning seven straight games. Co-favorites, Northville and Keego Harbor, both have gotten their lumps, but Northville is only a half-game away from the lead. Defending champion Brighton currently is in 3rd place.

TRI - COUNTY — Rochester and Romeo were expected to run 1-2 in the Tri-C and so far are doing just that. Gene Conley's Falcons have won 6 out of 7 games, including three in the league as they seek their 3rd straight title.

Romeo has been coming fast and catches Rochester on the Romeo floor Jan. 29. Bob Hutton's crew has won its last five games and has a season record of 6-2.

OAKLAND B — Again a darkhorse has unseated the defending champion at this stage of the race. Troy pinned an upset on Roseville on its own court and leads the loop with a 3-0 record.

Roseville dropped three straight games in December, but has rebounded to win its last three. In league play, Wildcats trail the Colts by a half-game. It shapes up as a 2-team race with the leaders clashing again at Troy, Feb. 5.

EASTERN MICHIGAN —Midyear graduation plays a role here, Ferndale and Birmingham figured to have the edge for they suffer no losses. Roy Burkart's Dales are undefeated and rate the nod. They play at Birmingham, Feb. 5.

SOUTH CENTRAL — This was and still is a toss-up. Mayville (3-0) leads, but has three games to play on the road. Millington has the edge, schedulewise, but defending king Imlay City can't be counted out yet.

BI-COUNTY — Running true to form with Warren and Lake Shore in the lead, both without a loss. They meet Jan. 26. Another contender, Utica, has lost four of six games, but both wins and only one loss were in the league.

SOUTHERN THUMB — Brown City is rolling along towards its 3rd straight championship. Green Devils play their nearest rivals, New Haven, Friday and a win would just about sew up the crown. Brown City is 8-0 for the season.

Twenty-nine games are listed Friday night, with the accent on league play. Top games are Walled Lake at Southfield, Rochester at Lake Orion, Brighton at Keego, Troy at Avondale, Mt. Clemens at Ferndale, and New Haven at Brown City.

SKIPPERS SET COURSE—Having won their 1st game of the season, Waterford High School basketball coach Walt Ashley and his Skippers have their sights set making it two straight Friday when they entertain Berkley in the Waterford gym. Ashley is shown with five of the six seniors on his club. From the left are Dick Tims, Bob Beedle, Bill Gard, Lou Fitzgerald and Larry Rickard. Rex Egres was missing.

Felton, Manager Are Suspended

DETROIT (AP) — Floyd Stevens, Michigan Boxing Commission chairman said Wednesday he had suspended Lester Felton, Detroit middleweight, and his manager, Eugene Maday, both involved in a contract squabble.

Stevens said he was recommending that the suspension be honored by the National Boxing Assn.

Contract battle between Felton and Maday began when Felton tried to break the pact which still has 14 months to run. He said he had been forced to sign to a 50-50 split with Maday.

That would be an illegal division of a boxer's income under Michigan regulations. Commission secretary Bill Matney said the indefinite suspensions were ordered when neither of the two men could tell the commission the exact terms of the contract.

Sexton Pressing Highland Park for Top Cage Spot

DETROIT (UP) — Lansing Sexton, runner-up in the 1953 state high school basketball tournament, pressed Highland Park today for the Class A lead in the weekly United Press court ratings.

Ludington, Marlette and Remus retained the top spots in the lower classes.

Led by Art Gowans, Sexton has marched to nine straight victories for the best record among the large schools. Three of those triumphs were recorded during the past week to move the Lansing school into second place behind Highland Park.

Saginaw, which won its lone start since last week's ratings, was pushed down to 3rd place by the Sexton surge.

Sexton, Class A champion in 1945, carried a perfect record into the 1953 finals only to lose to Dearborn Fordson. The school was overlooked as a title threat this season because high-scoring Tom Klewicki was lost through graduation.

However, Gowans has taken over where Klewicki left off. He's the leading scorer in the Six-A League with 154 points in five games.

Others in the top 10 Class A list are: Muskegon Heights, 4th; G. R. Central 5th; Ferndale 6th; Flint Northern 7th; Kalamazoo, GR Christian and Hamtramck 8th, 9th and 10th.

Chip Tankers Drop First Dual Contest

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — Central Michigan entered its 1st dual swimming meet at the intercollegiate level last night and lost to Dearborn Junior College 65-19.

Central was held to but two victories in the 10-event meet.

Art Engle won the diving event for Central and his teammate Ben Wells took the 200-yard backstroke.

Bob Dyer of Dearborn won the 220-yard freestyle and placed in the 440-yard freestyle. Jim Temple won the 100-yard freestyle and came in 2nd in the 50-yard freestyle sprint.

Frank (Chick) Genovese, Minneapolis Millers' manager last season, is now a scout for the New York Giants.

Labeled 'Can't Miss'

Gene Conley, Henry Aaron Top Players Moving Up to Milwaukee Varsity in '54

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Unless minor league records aren't worth the paper they're printed on, pitcher Gene Conley and second baseman Henry Aaron can't miss making the grade with the Milwaukee Braves next season.

Conley, voted the minor league player of the year for the second time in three years, was the scourge of the batters in the Triple-A American Association. Aaron ripped the Class-A South Atlantic League apart with his bat last year.

Conley, 6-8, 23-year-old righthander, walked off with all pitching honors with Toledo. He won 23 and lost nine, topped the circuit with a 2.90 earned run average, completed 24 of his 32 starts, fanned 211 and walked only 57 in 261 innings.

Aaron is not on Milwaukee's roster but he is near the top of the list of manager Charlie Grimm's prospects for 1954. The 19-year-old Negro, only in his second year in organized baseball, led his league in practically every department.

The Jacksonville infielder was 1st with his .362 batting mark, 125 runs batted in, 115 runs, 208 hits, 338 total bases and 36 doubles. His 22 homers and 14 triples were second best.

Only rap against Aaron is that he is not a good double play man.

Joey Jay, the big, strapping 18-year-old righthander from Rockfall, Conn., will attempt to prove that his 3-hit shutout against Cincinnati in his major league debut last Sept. 20 was no fluke.

Ray Crone, a 22-year-old righthander comes up from Jacksonville with a 19-11 record. Glenn Thompson had 8-6 at Toledo and Bill Denney 8-8 at Lincoln, Neb. Phil Paine, who won two games without a defeat for the Braves in 1951, is back after two years in the service.

Text of President's Tax Address

tion of commercial and industrial buildings and rental housing.

Rapid Depreciation Plan Explained

Faster depreciation, it should be noted, will merely shift the tax deductions from later to earlier years. It will not increase total deductions.

The change should, in fact, increase government revenues over the years because of the stimulation which it will give to enterprise and expansion.

In addition to the tax treatment of depreciation, which is important for all business, there are other features of the tax law which are of special importance to small business.

13. Research and development expenses — At present, companies are often not permitted to deduct currently for research or development expenses. This rule is especially burdensome to small concerns because large companies with established research laboratories can usually get immediate deductions.

I recommended that all companies be given an option to capitalize or to write off currently their expenses arising from research and development work.

Our tradition of initiative and rapid technical improvements must not be hampered by adverse tax rules.

14. Accumulation of earnings—At present, the penalty tax on excessive accumulations of corporate earnings operates to discourage the growth of small companies which are peculiarly dependent on retained earnings for expansion.

The tax in some form is necessary to prevent avoidance of individual taxes by stockholders, but I recommend that the law be changed to make the government assume the burden of proof that a retention of earnings is unreasonable.

15. Taxation of partnership—The tax law applicable to partnership is complex and uncertain. I recommend that it be simplified and made definite. It should be possible to form partnerships and make changes in them without undue tax complications.

Optional Treatment Called Desirable

16. Optional tax treatment for certain corporations and partnerships—Small businesses should be able to operate under whatever form of organization is desirable for their particular circumstances, without incurring unnecessary tax penalties.

To secure this result, I recommend that corporations with a small number of active stockholders be given the option to be taxed as partnerships and that certain partnerships be given the option to be taxed as corporations.

17. Corporate reorganizations—The tax law applicable to reorganizations and recapitalizations of corporations is also complex and uncertain.

This part of the law should be simplified and made sufficiently definite to permit people to know in advance the tax consequences of their actions.

The owners of small corporations frequently find it necessary to rearrange their interests in a corporation in anticipation of estate taxes, to secure new capital, or to make stock available for a new management group.

I recommend that the tax law permit tax-free rearrangements of stockholders' interests in corporations, so long as no corporate earnings are withdrawn. Such changes will remove some of the tax pressures which force the sale of independent companies to larger corporations.

At the same time, the law should be tightened to prevent abuses by which corporate earnings are withdrawn through the issuance and redemption of corporate securities.

It should also be amended to avoid abuses through the purchase of corporations to acquire their rights to loss carryovers.

Recommends Change in Carry-Back Plan

18. Loss carryback — At present, losses may be carried back and offset against prior earnings for 1 year and carried forward to be offset against future earnings for 5 years.

I recommend that the carry-back be extended to 2 years. This will benefit established companies which become distressed.

The 5-year carry-forward should be continued to permit new businesses to offset their early losses against later profits.

19. Soil conservation expenses —At present, only limited and uncertain tax deductions are allowed for soil conservation expenses on farms. I recommend that such deductions be allowed up to 25 per cent of the farmer's gross income.

20. Accounting definitions — Tax accounting should be brought more nearly in line with accepted business accounting by allowing prepaid income to be taxed as it is earned rather than as it is received, and by allowing reserves to be established for known future expenses.

21. Multiple surtax exemptions, consolidated returns, and intercorporate dividends — I recommend that the law be tightened to remove abuses from the use of multiple corporations in a single enterprise. I also recommended that the penalty tax on consolidated returns and intercorporate dividends be removed over a 3-year period.

22. Business income from foreign sources—I recommend that the taxation of income from foreing business investments be modified in several respects.

The investment climate and business environment abroad are much more important than our own tax laws in influencing the international flow of capital and business. Nonetheless, our capital and management know-how can be helpful in furthering economic development in other countries, and is desired by many of them.

Would Encourage Foreign Investment

Our tax laws should contain no penalties against United States investment abroad, and with reasonable limits should encourage private investment which should supplaint government economic aid.

Specifically, I recommend the following new provisions in our taxation of business income from foreign sources:

(A) Business income from foreign subsidiaries or from segregated foreign branches which operate and elect to be taxed as subsidiaries should be taxed at a rate 14 percentage points lower than the regular corporate rate. This lower rate of tax should apply only to earnings after Jan. 1, 1954.

(B) The present definition of foreign taxes which may be credited against the United States income tax should be broadened to include any tax other than an income tax which is the principal form of taxation on business in a country, except turnover, general sales or excise taxes, and social security taxes. This country, but its tax laws, should not bring indirect pressure on other countries to adapt their tax systems and rates to ours.

(C) The overall limitation on foreign tax credits should be removed. This limitation discourages companies operating profitably in one foreign country from starting business in another foreign county where operations at a loss may be expected in the first few years.

(D) Regulated investment companies concentrating on foreign investments should be permitted to pass on to their stockholders the credit for foreign taxes which would be available on direct individual investments.

23. Payment dates of corporation income tax — over the past several years, corporation income tax payments have been gradually shifted forward into the first two of the regular quarterly dates.

Proposes Splitting Tax Payments

By 1955, the entire tax will be due in two equal installments in March and June.

The irregularity of tax receipts increases the problems in managing the public debt and is an unsettling influence in the money markets. The irregularity of tax payments also may make it harder for corporations to manage their own financing.

I recommend that, beginning in the fall of 1955, a start be made in smoothing out corporation income tax payments by requiring advance payments in September and December before the end of the taxable year.

Each of these payments should be made at 5 per cent of the amount due for the entire year in 1955, rising to 25 per cent each in 1959 and later years.

These advance payments will require estimates of income for the year somewhat comparable to those now required of individuals. Though estimates of profits are difficult to make accurately, no payments will be required before the middle of the ninth month of a business year.

24. Administrative provisions —The administrative features of the tax laws are unnecessarily complex. Different provisions have been adopted over the years to deal with particular problems, with little regard to consistency.

Specifically, I recommend that the parts of the law covering asfion for senate investigation of this sessments, collections, interest and penalties, the statute of limitations, and other administrative provisions be simplified and brought together in one place. This will result in savings to both taxpayers and the government.

An effective and fair administration of the tax laws is vital to every individual in the country.

The Internal Revenue service has been revitalized during the past year and being organized amd managed on a basis that will assure fair and equal treatment to all taxpayers, maximum realization of taxes from revenue laws, and the contribution by each taxpayer of the share of the cost of government that Congress intends that he should make.

The regulations and administration of the tax laws are being tightened to prevent abuses by which a small minority of taxpayers avoid their fair share of taxes by misuse of expense accounts and other improper practices.

25. General simplification of tax laws and other revisions — The revision of the tax laws should be comprehensive. Many unnecessary complications have developed over the years. The entire Internal Revenue Code needs rewriting and reorganization.

Jointly, the Treasury Department and the staff of the congressional committees have developed many recommendations for changes other than those which I have described here.

Soe of these relate to the estate and gift tax, and the administrative provisions of the excise taxes.

The review of the present tax system in the Treasury Department has not yet led to final conclusions in many other situations that require further study before any recommendations for change can be properly made.

These subjects include the tax treatment of capital gains and losses, the special problems of the oil and mining industries, the tax treatment of cooperatives and organizations which are wholly or partially tax exempt, as well as the provision of retirement income for people not covered by pension plans.

Proposals Would Equalize Burden

The tax reforms and revisions covered by the foregoing 25 recommendations make the income tax system fairer to individuals and less burdensome on production and continued economic growth.

After their adoption, further reductions in government expenditures will make possible additional reductions in the deficit and tax rates.

I do not believe that the budgetary situation justifies any tax reductions beyond those involved in the proposed tax revision and in the tax changes which occurred Jan. 1.

Accordingly, I repeat my recommendation of last May that the reduction in the general corporate income tax rate be deferred for another year.

Excise taxes provide a relatively small proportion of our total tax revenues. In the fiscal year 1955, they are estimated to produce 10 billion dollars at existing rates as compared with 20 billion dollars from corporation income taxation and 30 billion dollars from individual income taxes.

Of this 10 billion dollars, more than half comes from the excise taxes on liquor, tobacco and gasoline.

Because of the present need for revenue, I recommend that the excise taxes scheduled to be reduced on April 1, including those on liquor, tobacco, automobiles and gasoline, be continued at present rates; and that any adjustments in the other excise taxes be such as to maintain the total yield which we are now receiving from this source.

Happy Is The Day When Backache Goes Away . . . .

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slowdown of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Human ears seldom hear the bat because its voice lies in the wave band of about 50,000 vibrations per second. Human ears detect sound only in the band from 20 to 20,000 cycles.

Allies Build Up Red Trade and U.S. Getting Restless

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Editor

Whether the United States likes it or not, its Allies steadily are building up their trade with Russia and Red China.

American businessmen, too, are getting restless over the fact that a market of more than 700,000,000 people is lying fallow. Which, no doubt, was at lest partially responsible for President Eisenhower's assertion last week that his administration is reviewing the whole question of trade with Communist countries.

A Minnesota businesman's proposal to barter surplus United States butter and cottonseed oil for Russian goods was one example of attempts to find legitimate avenues of trade with the Reds.

Also interested is the American automobile industry. The British Board of Trade already has okayed sales of light cars to Red China.

In no case has there been a suggestion that the ban on the sale of strategic, ie., War%making goods to the Reds be lifted, but rather that the list of strategic goods might be revised in the light of events.

Two and perhaps three etlements are immediately obvious in the gradual shift of opinion toward trade with the Reds.

One is the easing of world tensions generally. Another is the change in the Soviet approach which no longer demands strategic goods such as oil tankers and machine tools but instead is willing to take consumer goods.

And a third is a build-up in the world competitive situation as West Germany and Japan battle to regain their positions in world trade and nations generally produce more than at any time in their history.

London's Financial Times recently compiled official figures illustrating the scope of the race for trade with Red China.

The figures showed that exports to Red China from 13 countries jumped by more than 50 per cent during the first eight to 10 months of 1953 over the year before. Imports from Red China increased by more than one-third.

Ceylon topped the list, with Switzerland, Germany, France and Britain next.

Ceylon's exports were more than $35,000,000 and her imports just over $32,000,000. Switzealand exported $20,000,000 in goods, mostly precision instruments, drugs and antibiotics, and imported $12,600,000 worth.

The United States showed no exports but in the first eight months imported $4,600,000 from Red China and $9,000,000 through Hong Kong.

Meanwhile, Russia has entered the fiercely competitive market, aparently in an attempt to build up her depleted foreign currency funds abroad.

At least one reason for the serious depletion of these funds is supposed to be the Allied ban on business with the Reds.

In any event, the Reds have been offering cast iron on the West European market at rates 20 per cent below those of the West European coal and steel pool.

Russia also is supposed to be selling strategic manganese below world market prices, as well as oil and grain. Only on machinery is she supposed to be outpriced by the West.

Short of feeding the Communist war machine, the Western nations don't want to miss out on a world market, particularly a rich one. The Communist reasons are more obscure.

University to Foster Canada Knowledge

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (UP)—A Canadian studies program has been announced by the University of Rochester to help develop better knowledge and understanding of Canada throughout the United States and a wider comprehension of international relations problems.

Major objectives include assembling a collection of books to which students, researchers and others from the United States and Canada can refer; obtaining necessary financial resources and encouraging visits to Canada in an exchange plan for faculty members; conducting an annual conference on Canadian affairs here.

Drops Boulders on Car

MANCHESTER, N. H. (UP)—'All they would offer me was $10. I thought it would be more fun to wreck it," Philip St. Germain told puzzled police. He and a friend drove his 1938 model auto outside the city, dropped boulders on it.

Catches Rain in May to Sooth His Aches

PITTSBUORO, N. C. (UP)—Sheriff John W. Emerson Jr., recentlifIf John W. Emerson Jr., recently got a hot tip about where he could find some illicit moonshine whisky in Chatham County. .

He made a thorough search of the house to which he was directed but found nothing. Just before leaving, however, his flashlight caught a half-gallon jar hidden in the attic.

"That's my May water," the owner said. "Every May I catch me a jar full of rainwater. It cures anything. Best stuff you ever saw."

Forecaster Can Pass Buck to Cloud Seeders

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UP)—In an appearance before the city council, A. W. Anderson, United States weather bureau head here, declined to evaluafe artificial rain making methods.

"But," he added, "they benefit us one way. When we miss our forecast of rain, I can always blame the cloud seeders."

Expert Says Car Knocks Less in Rainy Weather

CHICAGO (UP) — If your car seems to run most quietly on rainy days it's not your imagination, according to a fuel expert.

E. H. Scott, of the Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, told the National Fuels and Lubricants meeting of the Society of Automotive Engineers that tests showed a car is most liable to knock in dry, hot weather with a high barometer reading. In wet, cool weather with low barometer readings, cars exhibit the least tendency to knock.
