President Hands Budget of 71.8 Billion to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today handed Congress his 1957 want-list of legislation, topped by a renewal of high tax rates, higher interest charges on government-sponsored loans, and a natural gas bill like the one he vetoed last year.

The President, in presenting his $71,800,000,000 budget, urged postal rate increase that would boost the cost of a 3-cent stamp to a nickel.

He also called for a full speed ahead on federal aid for "schools, highways and homes."

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey said the rising budget trend "should promptly be stopped." He told reporters he would be "glad" if Congress could find any unnecessary costs it could eliminate.

He emphasized, however, that he was not criticizing the President's budget, commenting, "It's the best we can possibly do right now." But he added that if all hands go to work, it can be whittled down before the fiscal year ends in mid-1958.

Other Budget Stories Page 28

Then Humphrey made some legislative disclosures of his own:

1. The Treasury may ask Congress to boost the interest rate on U.S. Savings Bonds, now paying 3 per cent if held 10 years.
2. The Treasury will fight "any and all" tax-cutting proposals which reduce revenues.
3. If prosperity endures and government costs are cut, the administration can, "a year hence, give consideration" to tax relief along with a further reduction of the national debt.

REPEAT REQUESTS

Many of the President's budget requests were repeats of his programs which Congress didn't pass last year.

High among these was his call for a four-year program of federal matching grants to help build classrooms throughout the nation. He asked 451 million dollars to get the program started.

The budget message suggested an increase to 5 per cent in the 4½ per cent limit now fixed by law on home loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration. The idea would be to make more money available for GI loans, now hard to get in many areas.

Eisenhower called for a new natural gas bill, having the same intent as the one he vetoed last year — to exempt gas producers from the public utility type of price regulation. He called for safeguards to insure that "the price to the public will be fair."

On the atoms-for-peace front, he advised industry to get busy. Unless private capital shows "reasonable" progress in starting atom-fueled electric plants, he said, he will recommend "direct construction by the federal government."

The President asked enactment of these additional major measures, many of which are leftovers from his 1956 legislative program:

A widening of the immigration gates. He supplied no details, but presumably this would admit more Hungarian refugees as well as other.

Singer Charged With Murder

Arraigned in Slaying of Gillespie Girl After Signing Statement

DETROIT (AP) — Philip J. Singer, 38-year-old former Marine, was charged today with first degree murder in the January, 1953, slaying of coed JoAnn Gillespie in Detroit.

Recorder's Judge John A. Ricca declined to accept a plea of guilty from Singer and instead entered a plea of innocence for him. Examination was set for Jan. 24.

Singer's preliminary arraignment came less than an hour after the Wayne County prosecutor's office recommended a murder warrant against him.

Judge Ricca said after a bench conference with representatives of the prosecutor's office that he would not permit Singer to plead guilty. "On recommendation of the prosecutor's office, we will enter the plea of innocence for this man," Ricca said.

The bearded, former Marine signed a formal statement Monday night which Detective Glen Coller said admitted the crime in detail.

Singer said he had no idea what was on his mind that night and "I wouldn't hurt anyone to save my soul."

Wasn't Dead

Singer told newsmen he didn't know what he hit her with, but that she wasn't dead when he turned and ran from the scene.

A 35-year-old Detroit barmaid insisted today that the confessed slayer spent the night with her the night of the killing.

Chicago Officers Turn Midwives for Twin Girls

Consumers Tells Expansion Plans

Consumers Power Co. officials today disclosed plans for a $13,000,000 expansion and improvement program for its Southeast Division during 1957.

David H. Gerhard, division manager, said the program was part of the firm's record 1957 expenditure of $95,000,000 to serve one million customers in 64 Michigan counties.

The division encompasses 790 square miles and includes Pontiac, Birmingham, Royal Oak, Rochester, Ferndale, Mt. Clemens, East Detroit, Livonia, Wayne, Plymouth, and more than 100 other communities.

The division's expansion will call for the installation of more than 300 miles of new gas mains to take care of an anticipated 19,000 new customers during the coming year, Gerhard said.

Dut To Area Growth

The program is made necessary, he said, by "the rapidly expanding region where both industrial and residential construction is continuing on a high scale."

Included in the program will be the continued construction of the company's new service center on Coolidge Highway in Royal Oak. It will house the division offices, formerly located in Pontiac, as well as the service center for the South Oakland District.

In Pontiac, the expansion of substation facilities in 1957 to provide for increased capacity and improved power in the west side of the city highlights the year's program locally.

New Gas Station

A new gas regulator station will be installed at East boulevard and Featherstone. Others in the area will go up at Orchard Lake and 12 Mile road in Farmington Township, at 14 Mile road and Custer in Clawson, and at Woodward Heights boulevard and John R in Hazel Park.

Division building improvement projects include work on the yard facilities at the Pontiac and Mt. Clemens service centers, and the completion of the expansion at the South Macomb service center at East Detroit.

County Seeking Probation Officer as Coyle Resigns

Leo F. Coyle, probation officer for county justice courts, resigned yesterday because of his bad driving record, Arthur P. McKenna, chief probation officer, said today.

McKenna said Coyle, hired Jan. 2 mainly to handle traffic offenders, was asked to resign because his operator's license had been suspended 60 days by the Secretary of State for habitual negligence.

The suspension involved three tickets for speeding and one each for driving with one headlight and running a red light.

John L. Witherup, county personnel director, said he will seek applicants to fill the $4,355-a-year job.

Royal Oak Move to Be Suggested to Supervisors

Chamber of Commerce of Area City Eyes Possible Change

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors will be asked tomorrow to consider shifting the county seat from Pontiac to Royal Oak.

A surprise resolution, unanimously passed by the Royal Oak Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors, will be offered today for submission tomorrow at the supervisors' meeting, Chamber manager, Roland Powers, said.

It calls for shifting the county seat, Powers said, because the "majority of the county population lives in the southern half of the county."

It also is being submitted, he said, because of dissatisfaction over delays in constructing a new courthouse in Pontiac.

The resolution, he pointed out, only asks supervisors to "consider the change." It does not ask, he said, for a county-wide election which would be necessary to move the county seat.

"If this plan gets rolling, though," Powers said, "I think all the cities in the southern portion of the county would get solidly behind it.

No specific courthouse site in Royal Oak is suggested by the resolution, Powers said, nor is one officially planned at this time.

Passed Monday

The Chamber passed the resolution Monday, Powers said, and will instruct him today how it will be introduced tomorrow. He did not know whether the Chamber will ask him to have a member of the Board of Supervisors introduce the resolution.

"A county seat in Royal Oak would be more convenient for the largest part of the population. And then we've got to get something done about the new courthouse. If it were to be located in Royal Oak, I think we could get started on it right away," Powers said.

The northern boundry of Royal Oak at Woodward avenue is at 14 Mile road. Nearly two-thirds of the county lives south of this

McFarland Discusses Freedom at Annual Event

500 Hear Lecturer at Chamber Dinner

A well-read, well-versed lecturing humorist left no doubt in the minds of some 500 men and women attending last night's annual Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce dinner that he is one of the 10 most sought-after speakers in the country.

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant and lecturer for eight years with General Motors Corp., hopscotched through an array of introductory anecdotes and jokes to speak of the need of freedom in modern society.

Prior to the speech, Dr. George N. Petroff, retiring 1956 Chamber president, presented the president's gavel to incoming president Howard O. Powers.

Dr. and Mrs. Petroff were presented with a portable television set from members of the Chamber.

Powers introduced to the persons that had gathered at the Elks Temple, his fellow officers for 1957. They were: John A. Riley, first vice president; B. Ralph Eastridge, second vice president; Robert W. Emerick, secretary; and Stuart E. Whitfield, treasurer.

Continuing his speech, Dr. McFarland, who has appeared before one million persons in his numerous talks across the country, stressed his philosophy of the "right to be uncommon people."

Pontiac and the eastern half of the nation remained locked in the icy grip of winter today, as thermometers continued to dip to frigid lows.

Hopes of a warm break in the cold snap are dismal, with a five day forecast predicting temperatures 18 degrees below the normal maximum of 33 and minimum of 19.

A possible break from the near-zero weather may arrive around Sunday or Monday, experts said.

Tomorrow will be cloudy with continued cold and light snow in the afternoon; flurries continuing into the evening, the U. S. forecast said.

Heavy snow warnings have been given for New England, and much of New York state is still recovering from the 55-below record set yesterday at Boonville, and getting a 6-inch snowfall.

Royal Oak Executive Henry Mouw Killed

Henry W. Mouw, 50, president of the Royal Oak Tool and Machine Co., Royal Oak Township, was killed instantly early this morning when he crashed his car into a culvert at a Southfield Township intersection.

A resident of 1065 Timberlake Rd., Bloomfield Township, Mouw was pronounced dead at the scene with fractures of the skull and neck and internal injuries.

Investigating Oakland County deputies were unable to explain how the accident at 13 Mile and Bingham roads occurred. They reported Mouw's 1956 Cadillac went off the right side of the highway before striking the culvert headon. Deputies said the road was clear.

Incorporation Petitions to Circulate in Waterford

Members of the Waterford Township Taxpayers Study Committee on Incorporation met last night and decided to circulate petitions throughout the township to begin incorporation proceedings.

After more than a year's study and research, the group feels that incorporation in the near future would give the township more power to solve the imminent problems that are bound to occur in an area of rapid growth such as Waterford Township, a spokesman said.

There are many advantages and disadvantages of incorporation, according to Louis Schimmel, municipal finance expert. However, he has advised the study committee to go ahead and "feel the pulse" of the community by circulating petitions.

President of the incorporation study group, Dave Hertler, 414 Airport Rd. said, "Members of the committee feel that Waterford Township has grown to a size that it is faced with problems which could be solved by a home-rule city form of government.

Twenty-five businessmen and women make up the Taxpayers Study Committee on Incorporation which was sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Waterford Township.

According to Hertler, it would be too late to get the incorporation issue on the primary or spring ballot. It would have to be a special election if placed on the ballot, Hertler said.

FBI Agents Arrest Indian Killer

Editor's Note: The following article is the ninth in a series of daily episodes on the activities and history of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Taken from Don Whitehead's new book, "THE FBI STORY," today's account is one of 30 which will appear each day in the pages of The Pontiac Press.

By DON WHITEHEAD

Banker William K. Hale returned home from the annual Texas Fat Cattle Show to find his home town of Fairfax, Okla., gripped by excitement . . . and fear.

As he walked up Main street from the railway station, his friends stopped to tell him the news.

A few people who happened to be up and about at 3 o'clock that morning had seen a sheet of flame engulf the Bill Smith home—and then heard the blast that ripped the big house apart.

". . . Killed Rita and the maid and Bill's dying . . . blew 'em to hell and gone . . . not much left of the house but a pile of kindlin' wood."

This was Osage County, Oklahoma, a dark and bloody hunting ground it ever there was one. And the craftiest hunter of them all in this oil and Indian kingdom was William K. Hale, banker, cattleman, merchant, politician and killer-by-proxy.

Throughout the Roaring Twenties, there was no stranger case than that of Hale, who became known as "King of the Osage Hills."

Before the turn of the century, Bill Hale had left his family's ranch near Greenville, Tex., and drifted into the "bandit hills" of Osage County.

He lived in a tent for a time, scratching out a living by trading with the Indians.

One day Hale went to collect a small bill from an Indian customer, only to find the man had just died. This wasn't misfortune for Hale—it was opportunity knocking for the first time.

Hale saw a lawyer and arranged to have a lien filed against almost everything the Indian had owned, including land, cattle and household possessions.

It was sheer robbery, but out of the badlands came Hale's friends to swear the Indian rightfully owed Hale the money. There wasn't a shred of documentary proof to support the claim, but Hale won the case.

Easy After That

After that it was easy. Rarely did an Indian die that there wasn't a claim of some kind against his property, filed either by Hale or by some other white man.

Then came the deluge of wealth for Osage County. Drillers struck oil and almost overnight the Osage Indians became the richest people per capita on earth.

By reason of the "head rights" granted by the federal government to some 2,200 full-blooded Osage Indians, they were eligible to share the royalties paid on each gallon of oil pumped from their reservation.

When an Osage died, his "head right" was passed on to his heirs.

Bill Hale prospered as the Indians prospered. By 1920 the one-time cowpoke had moved from his tent in the badlands into control of a 50,000-acre ranch stocked with cattle and fine horses.

He controlled a bank in Fairfax, and owned part interest in a

Ike Seeks More Drought Aid

To Ask Solons for $75 Million

Extra Money Request Added to U.S. Budget After Western Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower says he is asking Congress today for an additional 76 million dollar for emergency drought relief.

Plans to include the request in the administration budget going to the lawmakers during the day were announced by the President at a conference in Wichita, Kan., late yesterday.

Immediately after the meeting with representatives from 15 drought-hit Great Plains states, Eisenhower flew back to the capital, ending a six-state aerial and ground inspection tour which started Sunday.

Although he called for continuation and expansion of emergency aid, he told his audience of about 700:

"I am convinced that the state and local governments should assume greater responsibility in helping solve the recurring problems of agriculture, including distress.

"I think this would aid materially in a more effective administration of these programs and in better adapting them to local conditions and actual requirements."

In addition to proposing a supplemental 76 million dollars in emergency aid for the drought areas, Eisenhower called for a reappraisal of the credit policies of both federal and private lending agencies to determine whether loans can be extended to farmers and ranchers under more liberal terms.

But in this case too he urged a secondary role for the federal government.

"I want to see private lending institutions continue to be the principal source of credit, with federal programs merely supplementing as needed," he said.

In that pattern, he said he agrees there is need for "cheap credit, good credit." He was called upon to help make it available all along the way on his tour into Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado and Kansas.

Eisenhower also announced at the Wichita conference that Western railroads have agreed to keep in effect through March 31 a 50 per cent reduction in freight rates on hay shipments into drought areas. The reduction had been scduled to expire last midnight.

The short-term emergency aid program Eisenhower said he was asking Congress to approve calls for:

1. Authority to use 25 million dollars from the federal disaster relief loan fund to provide additional livestock feed assistance to drought-plagued farmers and ranchers.

2. Permission to use through June 30, 1958, unobligated money totaling 25 million dollars appropriated for agricultural conservation. Instead of reverting to the Treasury, the money would be paid to farmers by the Agriculture Department for emergency conservation measures, including prevention of wind erosion.

3. Appropriation of 26 million dollars for use primarily in refinancing farm indebtedness by direct loans.

As for long-range aspects of the problem, Eisenhower said federal, state and local governments must join to develop better use of land and water resources; to improve weather forecasting service; to convert salt water for use in irrigation projects; to achieve maximum conservation and storage of water for emergency use; and to expand industrial development in the Great Plains states.

More than 40 per cent of Americans over 10 years old read daily newspapers, which is a higher per capita than in any other country of the world.

in our society, the speaker said: "Freedom is the right to look around—and also to look up."

OPINIONS RESPECTED

"Freedom means we have to have our opinions respected, even though they are not always very good," he added.

"One of the greatest weaknesses of our times is the inability to distinguish from permanent and lasting happiness and just fun," McFarland said.

Relating many conflicts in today's world, "which have taken us back where we were 200 years ago," the speaker urged his audience "to think about the things that unite us, rather than those which divide us."

In his acceptance of the presidency, Powers outlined his "recipe" for a successful Chamber of Commerce. They were: (1) constructive program, (2) active committees, (3) adequate budget, (4) responsible board of directors, and (5) good manager.

Powers and Petroff praised the work of Manager John W. Hirlinger, who earlier presented a written progress report on the 1956 achievements of the organization.

"Our Chamber of Commerce will continue to be as strong as you are willing to make it," Hirlinger told those in attendance.

Five new members of the board of directors were presented. They included Rev. Edward D. Auchard, Edward P. Barrett, Frederick J. Poole, Stuart E. Whitfield, and Dana P. Whitmer.

Seven retiring board members and officers were introduced by Dr. Petroff. They were: Irving Steinman, Floyd H. Baker, D. B. Eames, Homer C. Jackson, William H. Knudsen, John P. Niggeman, and 1955 president Ralph T. Norvell.

The remainder of the 15-man Board of Directors will consist of Bernard W. Crandell, B. Ralph Eastridge, Henry E. Gotham, Frank S. Lyndall, Edward A. Maier, Reginald J. Nicholas, Curtis E. Patton, John A. Riley, George E. Wyman and Dr. Petroff.

Howard V. Heldenbrand, manager of the Waldron Hotel, was master of ceremonies, while H. Wayne Gabert was general chairman.

All officers and directors of the Community National Bank were re-elected at the annual shareholders' meeting yesterday, according to President Alfred C. Girard.

Total resources as of Dec. 31, 1956, were $95,793,717.17, according to the bank's year-end statement of condition. Deposits totaled $88,789,163.60.

point, although the present population trend is to North Oakland County.

John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce called the Royal Oak move "a complete surprise."

He believed the real aim behind it is to get action on construction of the proposed new courthouse.

NEEDS CAREFUL STUDY

"But if they are seriously initiating a drive to shift the county seat, we would certainly have to consider it very carefully," Hirlinger said.

Of a possible change in the location of the county seat, Hirlinger commented:

"I suppose there isn't a community in the county that wouldn't like to be the county seat. But I think the people in Royal Oak are more interested in just getting a new courthouse than in getting a new courthouse in their area."

The county seat question will be considered in addition to a 10-part agenda prepared for the supervisors.

Among important questions will be whether the proposed $37 million extension of Northwestern Highway will cost more money than originally planned.

There will be a report from roads committee chairman Don A. McDonald of Sylvan Lake, which will deal with an announcement last month that bonds for the construction went begging at their original 3.5 per cent interest rate.

A State Highway Department official warned then that the bond rate fight have to be increased to 4 per cent to interest bonding companies.

The interest rate would be on county bonds to pay its share of the total cost — $90,000 a year for 20 years. The state and federal governments would pay the rest.

An unscheduled report on stopgap recommendations to relieve congestion at the county children's home also is expected.

Nasser Order Spells Doom for Foreign Firms in Egypt

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser's government has ordered all foreign banks, insurance companies and trading firms in Egypt converted to Egyptian management and ownership.

British and French concerns were "Egyptianized" as of today, being classed as enemy property. Other foreign firms were given five years to convert themselves to Egyptian joint stock companies.

The series of "Egyptianization decrees" stopped just short of the government's taking over ownership. But it insured government control of foreign-owned concerns through a new octopus-like "economic organization" which will be given shares in the firms.

The decrees affect hundreds of foreign concerns, including some owned by Americans. They spell the end of a middle class European community that has prospered in Egypt for a century as importers of Western-produced consumer goods and bankers and insurers for Egyptian economic life.

The net effect probably will be to kill the possibility of any considerable U.S. or Western investment in Egypt so long as the present regime remains in power.

The new laws also threatened prospects of cooperation between the United States and the Nasser regime.

A large share of the foreign enterprises in Cairo were run by British and French citizens. These firms were sequestered by the Egyptians after the Oct. 31 British-French attack. Estimates of the total value of the British-French businesses range from 210 million to 980 million dollars.

After Nasser nationalized the Suez Canal last June, Britain froze more than 280 million dollars in Egyptian assets in London.

The decrees declare that all agents for foreign firms in Egypt must be Egyptian-born citizens or Egyptian joint stock companies.

All shares of the banks and insurance companies must be owned entirely by Egyptians. All board members and those responsible for bank administration must be native-born Egyptians.

There is one American bank in Egypt, a branch of the First National City Bank of New York.

Pontiac State Picks Officers and Directors

The Pontiac State Bank reelected directors and officers for new terms last night when shareholders gathered at the bank's annual meeting.

President Milo J. Cross reported total resources of $26,356,143.61 as of Dec. 31 1956. Total deposits amounted to $24,772,739.83.

Directors reelected at the meeting include:

John C. Cowe, Cross, Rodger J. Emmert, H. Russel Holland, Frank A. Mercer, Goodloe H. Rodgers and Stuart E. Whitfield.

Grand Jury to Hear McDonald Testify

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Marie McDonald and 15 other witnesses have a date with the Los Angeles County grand jury today.

There is some question as to just when the blonde actress will appear to relate her story of being kidnaped Jan. 3, held for 24 hours and left on the desert near Indio.

She and the others were subpoenaed and almost simultaneously her attorney Jerry Giesler said he will have her and her mother Mrs. Marie Tuboni available for the grand jury.

Giesler said, however, that because of her physical condition he would prefer that she be called tomorrow instead of today. She suffered bruises and was disheveled and hysterical when found on the desert. She has been in seclusion for the past several days.

Wood Panels Replace Glass in State Capitol

LANSING (AP) — Heavy glass panels in the ceiling of the Senate chamber in the State Capitol are being replaced by panels of walnut plywood.

It was decided to replace all 90 glass panels after several of them cracked.

Replacing the panels will cost about $1,170 to bring the total bill for a new Senate lighting system to $32,355.

"But I'll be able to sleep nights, knowing that the glass isn't going to drop down on the head of some senator," said C. G. Calkins, legislative technician supervising the replacement job.

OK 10-Acre Site Purchase for School on Inkster Rd.

BIRMINGHAM — Another facet comes into view on the ever-changing scene for the Birmingham School District.

Educators last night approved the purchase of a 10-acre site on Inkster road for a new elementary school. Final purchase agreement will be made, subject to the approval of the school attorney and architect.

Board of Education spokesmen said that, with the rapid dwelling-expansion program of the area, the need for a new school has been evident for some time.

Other Board of Education activities included granting permission for Christ Church Cranbrook of Bloomfield Hills the temporary use of Beverly School while its (Cranbrook) mission in that area is being built.

The board also appointed eight teachers, four custodians and accepted the resignation of six teachers.

The question of open parking stations in the city of Birmingham was discussed at Monday night's commission meeting. It revealed that twenty stations now meet parking lot ordinance requirements and are being licensed at the present time.

There are thirty-six open stations which can not be licensed at present. Ten of the lot owners are negotiating contracts for the improvement of their lots. Commissioners voted to allow an extension until August 31 when another study of the lot situation will be made.

A public hearing on the city vacation of an easement between Cole street and Lincoln avenue has been set for Feb. 11. The request has been made by the R. E. Dailey Co., which wishes to expand the building now occupied by the Birmingham Plastics Co.

A spokesman of Birmingham High School student body appeared before City Commissioners Monday, offering the service of students in exchange for courtesies shown them on their annual Civic Control Day. Students in the past have performed such civic services as placement of tickets on cars to remind voters of their obligation at the polls.

F. William Hutchinson, representing the owner of property at Woodward and Redding road has asked commissioners to consider rezoning from business to multiple dwellings of the property. He asked that the matter be referred to the plan board as quickly as possible so their decision may be returned to him.

Commissioner William Roberts congratulated the Department of Public Works on the excellent work done during the recent snow storm. "Municipal parking lots and streets were cleaned promptly and an excellent job was done in hauling away obstructing snow piles," he said.

William F. Mulcahy of Birmingham has been named to the Board of Directors of the Michigan Chapter of the American Society of Cemetery Engineering.

David Spalding of 812 Ridgedale Rd., member of the architectural firm of Shreve, Walker and Associates of Detroit, has been named to prepare preliminary drawings for the new Birmingham Unitarian Church at Lone Pine road and Woodward avenue in Bloomfield Hills.

Both Spalding and his wife are active members in the church which currently serve Bloomfield Hills, Birmingham and a number of Pontiac residents. The church now meets at Upton School in Royal Oak and plans are being pushed as rapidly as possible to start construction of the new building.

$3,228,000 in New Projects Slated for 1957

City to Act on Improvement Fund

The 1957 capital improvement program for Pontiac calling for an expenditure of $3,228,000 in new projects, is slated for possible City Commission acceptance tonight.

"I will recommend the acceptance of the revised program as it is within the limits of the budget and tax rate," Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman said yesterday.

Willman added that he would stress to commissioners that they have through Jan. 22 to bring in any adjustments they believe necessary in a record $5,381,779 budget for the coming year. A public hearing will be held that night at the City Hall.

The acceptance of the capital improvement program would give the green light to City Engineer Lewis Wrenn on what street improvement projects to undertake in 1957.

TOTAL TOPS $9 MILLION

Including the projects begun during the past year, this year's project amounts to $9,763,000 in civic improvements—the largest in the city's history, Willman said.

Out of the budget, which must be approved by Jan. 31, $875,000 as tax money plus special assessment and state gas and weight tax receipts, would go toward making up the $3,228,000 program.

Also holding a place, on tonight's weekly commission agenda is a report from Willman on a request from the Emmanuel Baptist Church, for the city to annex a 32-acre plot in Bloomfield Township. The church plans to construct a $12 million project including schools and a new church on the site.

"The report will show the costs to the city for utilities if the land is annexed," Willman explained.

Another item on the 25-point slate will be a report from the city attorney regarding condemnation of property needed for the extension of East Huron. This is a step in a project to link Huron with Paddock at Michigan.

A second report from the attorney will outline the amendment to the personnel rules allowing for the partial payment of accrued sick time for city employes.

Public improvements hold a big share of the agenda with 11 public hearings and four confirmations of projects scheduled.

HEARINGS SLATED

Hearings will be held on the following proposed two-inch blacktop paving projects in Pontiac:

Alton street from Franklin to Motor; Astor street from Maines to Michigan and from Auburn to Pike; Beverly avenue from Laurel to Highwood; Bondale and Cedardale avenues from Earlmoor to Howland; Clinton River drive from the easterly line of Robert Herndon's Pontiac Apartment Subdivision to the westerly line of lot 65 of the subdivision; First street from Joslyn to Highwood; Grandje avenue from Baldwin to Kimball; Hazel avenue from Telegraph to Starr; and Herndon avenue from Clinton River drive to Orchard Lake avenue.

A resolution of public necessity for a water main in Mt. Clemens street from Emerson to Bay, and in Bay street from Mt. Clemens south to existing main, will be presented tonight for consideration.

Commissioners will study a proposed city formula for assessments of irregular shaped lots.

Mrs. Carl F. Rose, 363 East Boulevard, has submitted a letter thanking the commission for its action taken recently restoring parking to East Boulevard.

Tallulah to Resume Lead Role Thursday

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Tallulah Bankhead, recuperating at Doctor's Hospital after an operation on her broken right hand, will not appear today and tonight in the play "Eugenia."

Both matinee and evening performances of the show were canceled. A theater spokesman said Miss Bankhead was expected to be back in her starring role tomorrow night.

The actress injured her hand when she struck some scenery while gesturing during last Saturday night's performance. When Miss Bankhead refused to have a cast put on, doctors recommended an operation to secure the break—described as a fracture of a small bone—with a metal pin. The surgery was performed after Monday night's performance.

Dispute Brings Threat to Close 'My Fair Lady'

NEW YORK (AP) — An arbitrator meets today with both sides in a dispute that threatens to close the Broadway hit musical "My Fair Lady."

The dispute centers over the producers' plans to replace Rex Harrison in the male lead with Irish actor Edward Mulhare. Harrison leaves for a four-week vacation Feb. 4.

Actors Equity Assn. is opposed to the plan. It contends there is no need to import a foreign actor for the temporary role when an American actor could handle the part just as well.

The producers said they planned to close the show if Mulhare was prevented from taking the assignment.

Kashmir Dispute Sizzles

KARACHI (AP) — Thousands of demonstrators paraded in Karachi today in support of Pakistan's demand for U. N. Security Council action on the Pakistani-Indian dispute over Kashmir. The mob burned effigies of Indian Prime Minister Nehru and pro-Indian Premier Bakshi Ghulam Mohammad.

Peak Season Brings High Rates

Florida Sunshine Costs Dearly

MIAMI BEACH (CS)—The price of sunshine took another jump today along the Florida gold coast as hotels put their peak season rates into effect.

The tourist who winds up with a sunburn between now and March 16, when prices start going down again, very likely will have paid enough for his misery to cherish it, blisters and all.

The rate hikes precede by two days the opening Thursday of Hialeah race track, an oval famous for its flamingoes and the lure it holds for the East Coast social set.

Hialeah opens its doors the day after tropical park closes out a 43-day racing meet, which was somewhat less successful attendance-wise this year than in the previous year.

BLAME WEATHER

Tropical officials blamed the attendance drop partly on the weatherman, who has provided near-perfect swimming and fishing weather in recent weeks.

Horse racing, swimming and fishing are but a few of the diversions a tourist can find in Miami this time of year. Also going full tilt are the dog tracks, jai lai (glorified handball with pari mutuel betting) and the night club circuit.

But the cost of even living in the same neighborhood with this activity can be steep from the workingman's point of view.

NEARLY $100

As an example, rooms at one plush hostelry (the Americana) start at $36 a day for a single or double and run up near the $100 mark. This is a competitive price among the better hotels and rooms so priced are going like hot cakes.

The motels provide somewhat of a compromise for those less laden with loot, but even an ocean front motel will run $15 to $20 a day.

If you're bent on visiting the gold coast, and would like to do it without selling the family jewels, it can be done, if you're patient.

The same hotel that is now asking a minimum of $36 per day a room offers a one-week, mid-summer vacation for $138.

This includes air transportation from cities as far distant as New York, twin bedroom with bath, private terrace, entertainment and dancing and pool and beach privileges.

Fire Ruins Church in East

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Fire last night wrecked the headquarters church of the Central New York Methodist Conference and a nearby publishing plant.

A second church and two other buildings were damaged. The fire raged out of control in a downtown block for four hours.

Fire Chief Francis R. Ferren said, "There have been too many of these church fires for us to chalk them off as accidental." He ordered an investigation.

Fire officials said they thought the fire started in the boiler room of the First Methodist Church which was gutted. One wall collapsed.

Also wrecked was a building that housed the international headquarters and the publishing association of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of America, which is separate from the main Methodist denomination.

B. Churchill Loveland, president of the board of trustees of the First Methodist Church, estimated loss of that structure at $700,000. It was built in 1904.

Damage to other structures was not known.

The Wesleyan Methodist Church was damaged slightly by fire and more extensively by water. The two-story, brick publishing house was between the two churches.

Also contained in the triangular block were the two office buildings that were damaged. Both were two-story, brick structures. One houses Onondaga County Public Works Department offices.

Three firmen were hurt, none seriously, fighting the fires in subzero temperatures.

Rep. McIntosh Named for Probe Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only one change involving a Michigan representative was made yesterday when House Republicans ratified committee assignments recommended by a party committee.

The action, subject to House approval today, recommended that Rep. McIntosh of Michigan be assigned to the Unamerican Activities Committee instead of Veterans Affairs.

Production of all types of red meat in commercial slaughter plants during the first half of 1956 totaled 13 billion, 329 million pounds — 9 per cent above the 12 billion, 116 million pounds produced in the corresponding period last year.

Opinions Vary Greatly on Benefits of Legal Lottery

This is the last of three articles in which a noted reporter describes current attempts to promote a national lottery in the U. S.; tells how such lotteries operate in other countries and gives a fascinating picture of gambling in America, past and present.

By BOB CONSIDINE

Legalizing a national lottery in the U. S. along the lines of the recently launched British "Premium Savings Bond" plan would require congressional action. Congress would have to amend or cancel that portion of the federal code which prohibits mailing "any letter, package, postal card or circular concerning any lottery . . . or similar scheme offering prizes depending in whole or in part upon lot or chance."

Britons enthusiastically bought more than $140,000,000 of the lottery bonds during the first two months of sales. After six months, each bond holder is eligible to share in a monthly drawing from a pool made up of the 4 per cent interest rates paid by the government. It is mathematically possible, though bleakly improbable, that the holder of a $2.80 bond could win more than $30,000 over the first 12 months of drawings.

Curiously, a federal judge has virtually declared aspects of the U. S. federal code unconstitutional. Several years ago Judge Fred Wham, Southern District of Illinois, handed down what is known as the Camarrata Decision, which held:

"Even in the cases where the bets are placed upon the winner of races to be run in the future before it is known what horses will take part in the race, there is opportunity to find out about the horses, the stables from which they come, the owners and whether or not they may be expected to put a specified horse in the race, if natural forces do not prevent; all of which furnishes a basis for the exercise of knowledge, skill and judgment and in none of which do we find, even in part, the operation of artificial forces which characterize schemes based upon lot or chance as used in the lottery statute."

WHAT DID HE SAY?

Reduced to basic English, Judge Wham was pulling the rug from under the Federal Government's prohibitions in the matter. The judge said in effect that it is lawful for the Post Office department to transport and deliver mail relating to horse betting. No branch of the Federal Government has done anything to close the door which judge Wham opened.

Judge Wham's ruling is cited as an example of the confusion and indecision which surround the whole facade of gambling in the U. S. Though the numbers racket is thug-controlled and in some cities operates blatantly, arrests usually involve only the small-time sellers and their sentences are light or dismissed. Each big city has its periodic clean-ups, after which things may return to what the gambler would call "normal."

An International News Service informal man-in-the-street poll on the legalized lottery question brought comments like these around the country:

Chicago business woman: "I feel that it's a sad thing when anybody becomes so obsessed with gambling that he virtually loses his shirt, but certainly merely saying that gambling is illegal won't stop him."

ALL SHADES OF OPINION

Pittsburgh elevator operator: "I think a national lottery would be a good idea if the politicians didn't chisel in on it too much."

Cleveland letter carrier: "I favor the British lottery plan but I don't think we'd wipe out taxes if we had one like it. I'd like to see the money go for cancer and heart disease research."

San Francisco restaurant owner: "I'm opposed to gambling in any form, legalized or what have you. It's especially bad for small business men. Once they start gambling, it's easy for them to keep dipping into the cash register. Before they know it they're bankrupt."

St. Louis tailor: "A national lottery would be the best thing that could happen."

Brooklyn cop: "Look at the wonderful hospitals Ireland has built with Sweepstakes money."

Harrisburg (Pa.) photographer: "I'd be for a national lottery if it could be properly supervised so that people won't be allowed to put all their savings into it."

Two Atlanta restaurant hostesses (respectively): "Anything to reduce taxes." "Anything to reduce taxes except gambling."

Camp Hill, Pa. phone operator: "It would be a drop in the bucket."

Portland, Ore., amusement park employe "I'm for a national lottery if it would be run by the government and not individuals."

Los Angeles salesman: "Let's have a lottery. Lotteries lowered taxes in Mexico, Cuba and Panama—why not here?"

Denver fireman: "The British lottery plan just means John Bull's last ditch stand."

Szymanski Says Accounts Short

Two Macomb Justices Asked for Accounting of Fees Collected

MT. CLEMENS (AP) — Two Macomb County men have been told by Auditor General Frank Szymanski that the state considers them short in their financial accountings as justices of the peace.

Szymanski wrote Kenneth N. Sanborn, 30, of Clinton Township and Waldimar H. Nikkel, 29, of Roseville and the letters were made public yesterday.

Szymanski said Sanborn, who resigned as justice last May and is now a state legislator, was short by $350.55. Nikkel who, besides his justice post, is also business manager of the Roseville School system, was told he was short $479.60.

Sanborn was asked by Szymanski for a detailed accounting of some 20 to 25 cases for which the auditor general claimed fees and costs had not been reported.

Nikkel, who said he wanted to examine Szymanski's audit before commenting further, said, "This all boils down to a difference of opinion."

Last week a check for $1,248 was sent County Treasurer Lynn Whalen to cover apparent shortages in the account of Justice E. Jim McClellan of Utica.

Eddie Cantor Home After Hospital Stay

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Veteran comedian Eddie Cantor, pronounced fit again after three days in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, was permitted to go home yesterday.

He collapsed after a television appearance Saturday night honoring his 65th birthday. His physician, Dr. Eliot Corday, said Cantor was suffering from exhaustion but has since completely recovered.

Hussein Names Bridge in Jordan After Himself

AMMAN (AP) — Jordan today wiped out another trace of British influence. King Hussein by decree renamed Allenby Bridge over the Jordan River after himself.

The bridge links east and west Jordan. It was named for the British commander who drove the Turks from Palestine during World War I.

Senator Blakley Prototype of a Well-Supplied Texan

DALLAS (AP)—Tha new face in the U.S. Senate starting today—the tall, slim man of 58 who really looks like a senator—is William A. Blakley of Texas.

Officially he is a lawyer, but that tells only part of the story. As they say in Texas, he's got money stacked up. He is building a business center listed as a 125-million-dollar project.

He's majority owner in Braniff International Airways. And he has widespread interests in oil, insurance, investment companies and farms and ranches in Texas, New Mexico and California.

His 1,200-acre farm near Dallas is just a good-sized lawn compared to some of his other holdings. One is a 165,000-acre ranch in west Texas. He owns about 85,000 acres near Santa Fe, N.M.

Blakley is the legendary, multi-millionaire Texan except for one thing: he's no braggart or show-off.

There was a scramble in Texas newspapers, including those in Dallas, for full identification when his appointment was announced yesterday in the waning minutes of the reign of Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas. That's how little he had publicized himself. No one even knew whether he was a Democrat or Republican. He's a Democrat.

Blakley was named to fill the vacancy in the Senate caused by the resignation of Price Daniel, who was sworn in as governor yesterday.

A special election must be held within 90 days to fill out Daniel's term, which has two years to run. Blakley, called the "interim senator," says he will not be a candidate.

Born in Miami Station, Mo., he grew up in Oklahoma ranch country where his father was in the cattle business.

After getting a law degree he went into the banking business in Oklahoma. He moved to Texas during the oil boom days more than 30 years ago and entered the banking business at Ranger, Tex.

His wife accompanied Blakley to Washington. Today is their 35th wedding anniversary. They have no children.

Politically, the new senator has crossed just about all the tangled lines in Texas.

He supported Eisenhower but gave $16,000 to the Democratic party in 1952. He supported both Shivers, an Eisenhower Democrat, and the governor's bitterest political foe, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex), Senate majority leader.

Blakley made it plain in talking to newsmen on his arrival in Washington last night he will vote with the Democrats in any move to reorganize the Senate. His vote would give the Senate Democrats a 49-47 edge.

Social Activities Set in Waterford

Plan New Program to Include Varied Civic Groups

A one-day school session in social recreation activity will be conducted from 10 a. m. to 2:30 p. m. and from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. on Tuesday, at the Community Center in Waterford Township.

This program has been planned to give new ideas for social recreation in church groups, clubs, PTA functions, scouts, and home extension groups.

During the morning of January 22, the program will feature homemade games, ice breakers, quiet and active games for small or large groups.

The afternoon program will feature singing games, stunts, song leading and summary of activities. The evening activity will include square and folk dancing with more games, songs and stunts.

A small fee will be made to cover the expenses of the day.

This school is being conducted by the 4-H Club, and Home Demonstration agents of the Michigan State University Extension Service and assisted by the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

Italian Reds Admit Drop in Membership

ROME (AP) — Italy's Communist party admits its 1957 membership is more than a third less than the number it claimed a year ago.

The party's membership chairman Giorgio Amendola told the Central Committee he had sent out only 1,449,000 new membership cards. Last year the party claimed 2,300,000 members.

The final count may be considerably less, since all the cards likely will not be picked up.

Amendola blamed the membership drop on the widespread publicity given the Kremlin's de-Stalinzation program, "the grave happenings in Poland and the tragedy of Hungary."

Do You Like It? Our Farmers Do

Perhaps you're not too happy about this snow.

But it was needed — and for another good reason besides making excellent skiing and tobogganing.

It has a great financial worth—far in excess of any trouble or expense for snow removal.

To our farmers it is worth a million, even more this winter than in most former years. It should save their wheat crop.

There was a decided lack of moisture when most of the wheat was sown last autumn. Much of it was drilled in a cloud of dust.

In some succeeding rains, most of it got off to a good start. But another autumn drouth ensued.

Consequently, much of the wheat entered the winter in a shriveled condition, with little moisture to support it through the long and cold pull, or give it the required boost when spring comes.

Until the recent snows it had little winter covering, scarcely any rain and practically no snow to furnish it with moisture when there was a thaw.

While the recent heavy snow was of the powdery kind that drifts badly when the wind blows, it largely remained where it fell. The winds did not reach the velocity of a January blizzard.

Hence the wheat, from which our bread and much of our other living comes, is safely tucked away under a substantial covering.

So, when you slosh around in it just remember that it is helping to fill the nation's bread basket.

Yes, it was a many million dollar snow.

Economic Stability and Higher Prices

Contradictions among the economic objectives of higher wages, stable prices and full employment create a situation with no entirely satisfactory solution, says the January issue of the Guaranty Survey.

For example, rising wages need not force higher prices except when wage increases exceed gains in productivity. This would raise labor costs per unit of output. When wages increase faster than productivity, the added costs to employers may be passed on to the consumer in higher prices.

If this happens, it upsets the objective of price stability. The alternative of holding the price line would make production less profitable and thus, says the Survey, threaten the objective of full employment.

Many solutions have been proposed including abolition of the right to strike and establishment of a system of labor courts to settle wage disputes. Of course, this would amount to direct government control of wages. It could be the end of economic freedom for both labor and management.

The Survey does not believe that the aim of price stability should be abandoned nor that creeping inflation be accepted as the least of the threatened evils. It points out that this would be "morally, politically and socially offensive."

The practical solution to the problem of conflicting aims, concludes the monthly review, will be found in a compromise involving the partial achievement and the partial sacrifice of each.

Our First Atomic Plant

The first of five experimental types of reactors being built under the Atomic Energy Commission's civilian development program, has been completed at Lemont, Ill.

On a test run it generated 5,000 kilowatts, its full design rating. Four other types under construction, one at Monroe, Mich., will be tested on completion. This will determine which one is the best on cost, operation and safety.

Although these are pilot plants designed to find the best type, commercial interests are going ahead with construction of large scale generators. The first will be completed this summer at Shippingport, Pa. with a maximum capacity of 100,000 kilowatts. Seven more are expected to be built within five years and will have an ultimate maximum of one million kilowatts.

Britain's first atomic generating plant was put into operation last November. Shortages of coal and oil are rushing European nations into construction of these plants. No such shortages are responsible here.

But we do have the first nuclear powered submarine and plans are being prepared for an atom powered merchant vessel. Government and private interests in this country have cooperated to make this program possible.

The Man About Town

The Oldest Man

This Column Seeks Person Having That Distinction

Income tax office: Where they cannot understand how any church can be in debt or why preachers get such poor pay.

of Waterford, Oakland County lost its oldest male resident, as far as we have been able to ascertain. He was 98 years of age on his last birthday, Aug. 9.

This column is anxious to learn who now takes over the distinction. We know of no man over 97, but there are at least four women in the county who have passed the century mark. Do you know of any man above 97?

The other day I was checking up on myself and the number of names that appeared in this column during 1956. I counted those that ran more than once. Who do you think led the league for 1956?

Well, sir, it was none other than that of the Governor of our great state, G. Mennen Williams.

"I'm not being facetious," writes

"Miss Big Little Avoirdupois," under a Pontiac postmark, "when I say that the articles in your paper will do the trick if you follow directions."

Again we are called upon to repeat that the ice on the Clinton River or any other river or stream in Oakland is NEVER safe, regardless of how cold it may be. To walk, skate or fish on them is inviting the undertaker.

An alumnus of Pontiac High School, who has been pastor of the North Baptist Church at Flint since 1940, has resigned to go to a pulpit at Wheaton, Ill.

Dr. Harold P. Warren,

Farmers in the Pontiac area may have a surprise coming in the price they'll get for their potatoes in storage. A copy of The Pontiac Press of exactly 40 years ago, sent me by of Birmingham, tells how the price jumped from ten cents to two dollars per bushel in one day, when a shortage developed.

David Lawrence Says:

Ike Needn't Take Oath in Public

WASHINGTON — It would be most unfortunate if, when the press itself is involved in controversies with the government, only one side of the case is presented to the public. It so happens that there are two disputes going on just now.

One relates to the White House decision not to make a public ceremony when President Eisenhower next Sunday takes the oath of office for his second term inasmuch as the whole thing will be repeated on Monday for the public anyhow.

The other episode relates to the decision of the State Department in declining to issue passports to American correspondents who want to enter Red China. The administration has sound reasons for both decisions and is supported by many precedents.

First, as to the protests of the correspondents who want to be present at the White House next Sunday, there was originally a plan to admit a few persons from the press, but it became apparent that if one group—a representative or two from the writing press—were present, radio would want coverage, too, and so would the photographers. It would not stop there, because the movies and television feel they should be admitted wherever any other branch of the press is admitted. In the end it becomes a public show.

DESECRATES SABBATH

The primary reason for not having a public ceremony has been that somehow it desecrates the Sabbath to have such a display on a Sunday. The last time inauguration day fell on Sunday was March 4, 1917, when President Wilson took the oath of office for his second term in the president's room at the capitol just as he finished signing bills and as the 64th Congress was adjourning at noon.

Only a few friends and the cabinet witnessed the event. No reporters or photographers or movie camera operators were admitted. The next day Mr. Wilson took the oath again on the east front of the capitol, and the inaugural parade was held as usual. Nobody protested then.

The press today, however, includes television, and this requires a lot of apparatus and makes every incident televised a public affair. Thus far the Senate of the United States has refused to permit any television or movie or still cameras inside the Senate chamber while it is in session.

SENATE PRIVATE

When Senators take the oath of office, they cannot be photographed doing so. Reporters may see and write about it, but there is no show for the screen. Some committee sessions are televised, but Speaker Rayburn has refused to make a general rule to permit it all the time.

There is, of course, another practical reason why the administration doesn't want to make a show out of the Sunday oath-taking. If the entire nation saw the President on television Sunday taking the oath, it would spoil the show for Monday. Lots of time and money are expended by organizations here to arrange an inaugural parade and all that goes with it.

To televise the Sunday ceremony could make the Monday affair a complete anti-climax. Officially the White House did not give such a reason but said merely that, if it invited the reporters to the private affair on Sunday, it would have to ask the members of the diplomatic corps, prominent officials and their friends—and there wasn't room for all these.

PRESS MUST COMPLY

On the subject of letting American newsmen enter Red China with U.S. passports, the State Department argues that the press is not above the law. The "trading with the enemy act" forbids the presence of Americans in countries with which the United States is engaged in hostilities. The armistice signed at Panmunjon has never been followed by a treaty of peace with Red China.

So far as the State Department is concerned, the press is a line of business. To let down the bars for one set of citizens involves a discrimination against all other American citizens who today want to visit in or trade with Red China. Whether the members of the press like it or not, the law of the land is that any American who carries money into Red China violates the statute and can be punished.

"Freedom of the press" does not, of course, include freedom to violate laws on the statute books.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Lungful of Cold, Fresh Air Will Put Crimp in Croup

I spoke my mind here recently about a case of croup. Perhaps I was a bit nettled by the complaint of a reader whose little granddaughter is subject to attacks of croup and has to be "rushed to the hospital, placed in steam and oxygen tent, given shots of penicillin, adrenalin" and whatnot to pull her through.

I was really exasperated by what the doctor said, that "it's just something she will have to outgrow."

Croup is never fatal.

I said it is absurd, and I repeat now, to rush a child with croup to the hospital. It is absurd to give such a child oxygen, penicillin and/or adrenalin.

What! No transfusion?

A doctor who puts on such a show for an ailment he thinks the child will just "have to outgrow" is probably a successful businessman, but from my viewpoint he's a charlatan. I'm afraid the medical profession in the past thirty years has become heavily infested with such businessmen.

NEED MOIST AIR

The reader mentioned only one thing that is usually good for a child with croup — steam, water vapor, humid, or moist air.

That, and cool or cold air to breathe, are two valuable remedies for croup. When I came home one snowy winter night and found Lalia Rookh, our first born, with the croup, and her mother, a professional nurse, as frightened as any mother can be about croup, we wrapped the baby in blankets, and I held her in the open window over the snow-covered porch.

The cold moist air soothed and quieted the baby, and she soon went to sleep. I found such treatment satisfactory in numerous cases of croup when I practiced in Penn Yan. So, don't let any trick specialist or "clinic" racketeer tell you I am uttering fanciful ideas.

Avoid excessively heated rooms, excessive clothing or covers and excessive dryness of the air the child breathes. Keep the air as moist as you can, day and night, all through the season of artificial heating.

If the child doesn't object apply cold compresses over the front of the throat—many folds of washed cheesecloth or gauze the size of your hand, wrung out of cold water and applied to the area at the top of breastbone covered with a dry napkin or waxed paper. This relaxes spasm of the larynx.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

"Hey, Mom—were you expecting a bald-headed man and a fat woman?"

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Children Must Be Taught Kindness

Donna has unintentionally been taught to be cruel to animals. For we are all born as selfish little animals. Gentleness and unselfishne must be taught. They are acquired traits. So learn how to teach "empathy" to your youngsters. "As the twig is bent," runs the old adage that applies to emotional habit as well as the muscular variety.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-375: Donna G., aged 7, is a very bright farm girl.

"Dr. Crane, Donna seems rather callous regarding animals," her teacher informed me.

"She is not just rough to them, but shows no aversion to kicking a cat or dog which may be in her path.

"Some of the other children have told me they no longer invite her to their homes because of her cruelty to their pets.

"What could have caused such an attitude in a bright girl like Donna?"

NO EMPATHY

Donna is low in her "empathy" score. That means she has never been taught to apply the Golden Rule to animals, as well as human beings.

But the underlying causes of her trouble is the fact she was a great pal of her daddy on the farm.

She followed him wherever he went. And because farmers often must kill chickens and other animals for table use, Donna had witnessed her father twist the heads off young roosters.

She had also seen him stick a knife into a pig's heart and had then watched the porker bleed prior to the butchering.

Several times she had even observed her daddy swing a sledge hammer against the skull of a steer or calf what was to be slaughtered.

Adults don't regard such behavior as wantonly cruel, for farm animals are raised to furnish us food.

And such instantaneous forms of death are not cruel. But toddlers and even children in early grammar school, may fail to appreciate the full economic motives of the farmer.

They respect at face value to the striking of a calf with a sledge hammer. And soon they become emotoinally callaused to the situation.

NO CRUELTY DEVELOPS

Thereafter such children may thoughtfully kick a kitten or abuse a puppy.

They are not purposely cruel. They are simply imitating their earlier experience where they witnessed farm butchering.

"Daddy strikes the calves with a hammer, so why can't I strike animals?" is the uncritical conclusion which they may reach.

Maybe their limited mental age will not permit the logical analysis which shows the two situations are not identical in purpose, even though they look alike on the surface.

So it is not wise to let youngsters witness butchering. And it is very necessary to inculcate the Golden Rule into youngsters and even urge them to extend this ethical code to animals beneath mankind.

That's one reason why pets are valuable aids to the proper education of children.

NEED PETS

For a pet kitten or dog or even a turtle, will help teach the toddler to identify himself with this other creature.

And that is the process in psychology "empathy". For we can never be kind until we place ourselves in the position of the other person or creature.

If a toddler pulls the tail of its kitten or puppy, mother can pull a lock of the child's hair to make her analogy more vivid.

"See how it hurts when I pull your hair?" she can ask. "Well, that's how Pussy feels when you pull her tail or step on it."

It requires many such lessons in empathy at the toddler age in order to make kind-hearted adults out of the selfish little beasts which all children are at birth.

For we are born selfish and must be trained to be kindly. Stories, songs, like "Rudolph, the Red-Nosed Reindeer," and household pets assist parents in making their children unselfish.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

'Why Not Allow Reporters at Inauguration Ceremony?'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Why is it that the official swearing-in ceremony of President Eisenhower is being held without press representation? It would seem that the President's desire to have a private ceremony is taking something away from the voters that elected him.

True, they will have a mock ceremony on the 21st, but this will not take the place of the actual oath as President of the United States.

How about you newspaper folks sticking up for your rights?

'Shoveling Excuse Is Just Laziness'

All this business about not shovelling snow because it is bad for your heart is so much bunk. People are just downright lazy and the heart excuse seems like a good one.

I notice that it is okay for the President's heart specialist. Dr. Dudley White claims that an average amount of exercise is necessary for everyone.

Presuming that Dr. White is right, then Pontiac sidewalks could use some of the exercise.

Republican Bill Panned by 'Dem'

I see Representatives Bentley and Ford from Michigan are going to introduce a bill to allow an income tax deduction for the costs of going to work when an automobile is required.

Well, here is Republican politics at work. It's a crazy sounding idea and would lead to violations of all kinds and descriptions. How could you police a thing like that? It probably won't pass, but it makes a good campaign talk and wins favor with the voters. I voted for Williams and he would never stoop to a thing like that.

'Take Advantage of Last Chance'

I see where we're going to have two high schools in 1958. Good. But that means next fall will be our last fall with a big double school. After that, we'll be like other cities our size.

Next fall is the last fall our high school football team can be recruited from a double squad. We should make an extra attempt to have a winner. We'll never have that much advantage over other teams again. Yours for the Saginaw Valley title and recognition as one of the fine teams in the state. Let's give up our role of doormat.

Praises Basketball and Track Teams

Pontiac High may be at the bottom in football, but we're wonderful in basketball. One of the current ratings places us third in Michigan. Keep it up, boys. We need the good publicity.

Our track team the last few years has been super terrific, also. In fact, last year we were the best in Michigan and the best in the United States. That makes up for a lot of those football beatings we take every fall.

The high school basketball team deserves applause from the entire area.

Flying Squirrels Bother This Lady

Have you ever seen a flying squirrel? They are very rare, you know.

But I have flying squirrels. In the spring we had a pair with four babies. The babies were turned over to the conservation department and the parents left, we thought. Came cold weather and back came the flying squirrels. We built a live trap and are endeavoring to capture the beasts.

Good luck to you in your efforts for discouraging your creatures.

Forecasts Ouster of Quiz Emcee

The Press likes to have readers make forecasts and predictions. I predict that Ralph Storey is in grave danger of losing his job on the $64,000 Challenge TV program. He hasn't been sharp enough, and he has fumbled on too many occasions. That Babe Ruth fiasco was terrible. The Babe never struck out so badly in his entire baseball life as Storey did right there. And it cost his sponsors a pretty penny.

Last Sunday he wasn't on top of the situation in a fairly routine matter and had to ask off-stage help.

Ralph is a very personable individual, but he can't get by without taking charge and running the show cleanly and in a workmanlike manner.

Solon Hits Secrecy in Presidential Oath

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) has described as "a highly dangerous precedent" the White House plan to bar newsmen when President Eisenhower takes his second-term inaugural oath Sunday.

A public ceremony will be held in front of the Capitol the following day.

Neuberger yesterday joined capital newsmen in protesting the decision, saying the presidency "is the living, breathing fountainhead of government for a vast and vital democratic nation." He added:

"It is threatened in status when the actual oath-taking is held in virtual secret, without coverage by the press, while the ceremonial duplication receives an immense buildup."

Career Heaps Honors on Great Toscanini

NEW YORK (AP)—Arturo Toscanini's brilliant career spanned 70 years, and won him virtually every honor the musical world has to offer.

He had already scored great success before he came to the United States in 1908. In this country he swept on to the heights.

For seven seasons he conducted at the renowned Metropolitan Opera in New York—during the era of such never-to-be forgotten artists as Caruso, Melba and Scotti. But a disagreement, never explained, caused him to quit the Met in 1915, never to return.

Subsequently, he directed the New York Philharmonic Symphony and the National Broadcasting Co. Symphony Orchestra. The latter brought him closer to the American public than any of his other endeavors.

Toscanini conducted his last concert with the NBC Symphony Orchestra at Carnegie Hall April 4, 1954. But neither the capacity audience nor those who heard the program on radio knew it was his farewell.

His retirement was made known after the concert by the release of letters exchanged previously between Toscanini and David Sarnoff, chairman of the Board of the Radio Corp. of America. This was in accord with the maestro's wish that news of his retirement should be withheld until after his final appearance with the orchestra which he had led 17 years.

His last concert was an all-Wagner program. As he stepped off the podium, as the last chord of "Die Meistersinger" overture sounded, his baton slipped from his hand. A member of the orchestra picked it up and handed it to him. Then Toscanini slowly walked off. He was applauded for many minutes by the audience.

Toscanini did not return.

Toscanini, known as a severe taskmaster and a perfectionist in his direction, was hailed by many as "the greatest living conductor."

But his path to success was not an easy one. Although he surmounted the obstacles of poverty to win musical recognition at the beginning, it was a whim of fate that made him a conductor.

Born to a poor tailor and his wife in Parma, Italy, music beckoned to the young Toscanini at an age when most boys are occupied only by the games and diversions of childhood.

At 9 he entered a conservatory at Parma. Students lived at the school, operated along monastic lines.

The food here was of a very plain nature. The students seldom were treated to meat. To get this delicacy, they had to give up coupons.

Toscanini, who loved music better than food, took to selling his meat coupons to boys with greater means. He used the money thus obtained to buy music.

Although Toscanini was only slightly over five feet tall, and sparsely built at that, he was a giant on the podium. His temperament was one of his trademarks, impersonally his fiery outbursts and criticisms.

The conductor married Carla di Martini in 1897. She died in 1951. They had four children, one of whom died in childhood.

His son, Walter, handled his father's affairs. A daughter, Wally, became the Countess of Castelbarco, and the other, Wanda, the wife of Vlarimir Horowitz, the noted pianist.

Injury-Frequency Rate Lowest in State in 1956

LANSING (AP) — The injury-frequency rate for the third quarter of 1956 was the lowest ever recorded for a third quarter in Michigan, the State Labor Department reported today.

The rate dropped to 12.3 accidents per million employe hours worked—six per cent below the 1955 third quarter period and fractionally below the previous low of 12.4 set in the third quarter of 1954.

The monthly accident rate during the past year rose to 12.8 in July, leveled off at 12.7 in August and dropped to 11.6 in September, the department said.

The rates for July and August were record lows for the months in contrast to most previous years, when they have been high months, the Labor Department reported.

Seeks Speedway Safety

DETROIT (AP) — City Council President Louis Miriani, who was caught in two recent expressway jams, said he will ask for a meeting of traffic engineers and safety experts next week to discuss safety measures for the high speed roadways. Miriani says he favors permanent installation of a TV traffic control system.

Seeks to Cover Cost of Social Security

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has asked Congress for supplemental appropriations totaling 383 million dollars—277 millions of this to cover increased costs of the Social Security program.

The funds, requested Monday, would supplement money already available for the current fiscal year which ends next June 30.

The added Social Security money is sought as a result of congressional action which boosted the federal share of funds, matched by the states, for payments to the needy.

The White House also asked:

An additional 26 million dollars for the Farmers Home Administration to aid farmers hit by drought and other disasters, 50 millions to meet increased loan requirements of the Small Business Administration, and 30 millions to continue the purchase of strategic minerals produced domestically.

Cool, Rainy Summer Is Reason

City Water Pumped in '56 Is Least Amount in 10 Years

The city of Pontiac pumped slightly more than three billion gallons of water in 1956—the lowest amount pumped from the city's wells since 1946.

Joseph W. Gable, superintendent of the city's water department, attributed the decrease to heavier rainfalls causing less lawn sprinkling and a cooler summer resulting in less use of air conditioning.

Departmental figures show that 27 wells pumped 3,182,292,115 gallons in 1956. In 1955, 4,482,933,520 gallons, or 1,290,641,405 more than last year, were pumped.

During the past 10 years, the peak pumpage was in 1953 when 4,698,262,195 gallons were recorded. In 1946, 2,900,686,600 gallons were pumped.

LESS 'RED WATER'

Gable admitted a noted decrease in the amount of "red water" in the city's supply since it was chlorinated last year.

"Records and reports show an improvement in the color of water, as the iron from the wells is held in solution," he said. "The iron in the mains shows up and is being removed by progressive flushing. However, total removal will take time."

Gable said that during the past year 866 new water connections were made. This represents 320 less than the 1,186 made the previous year, he said.

There were 28,379 feet of new water mains, ranging in size from six-inch to 16-inch, installed in 1956, compared to 41,172 feet in 1955.

Civil Defense Program Raised

30 Pontiac Members to Get Briefings on CD Training

Thirty members of the city's Parks and Recreation and Cemetery Depts. will participate in a four-hour refresher course in Civil Defense rescue training Jan. 21, Robert A. Stierer, administrative assistant, announced today.

The men will receive a 15-minute briefing from Stierer and then split into three teams to go through three problems of removing a "casualty" from a simulated wrecked building, using a fellow member.

The course will be held at the city incinerator plant off East boulevard. Besides Stierer, William Aho, director of rescue training, Kenneth Anthony and Donald Nagel will instruct the men.

"This is the first step in an intensified Civil Defense training program in Pontiac," Stierer explained. A training program, the first of its kind in the city, will be formed to instruct the supervisory staff of the Water and Public Works Depts., he added.

BASIC COURSE

Members of the Parks and Recreation and Cemetery Depts. took a 40-hour basic course in rescue training in 1955 and a refresher course last year.

The three problems performed by teams which would rescue in case of emergency would remove the "casualty" from a basement, a high roof down the side of the building, and from a roof by means of a stretcher sliding down a near-horizontal rope.

Icy Cold Brings Frozen Meters, Overtime Work

The recent cold wave is causing members of the city's water department to work overtime, and is also draining a few resident's pocketbooks, Joseph W. Gable, department superintendent, reported.

Some 35 calls have been received complaining that water meters have frozen from the zero temperatures.

"We have to remove the meters, put in new ones, and repair the frozen ones at the expense of the user," Gable said.

He blamed the freeze-ups on persons not keeping areas where meters are installed warm enough. Repairs costs range from $1 to $10, he said.

Try to Extradite Royal Oak Man

A hearing in Corpus Christi, Texas tomorrow will determine whether a former Royal Oak businessman will be extradited here to face a bad check charge, Assistant Prosecutor Paul M. Mandel said.

Mandel left for Texas today to appear in Nueces County Circuit Court to ask that awrit of habeas corpus protecting John H. Gesek not be issued.

Gesek is accused by a former associate, Parvin Lassiter, who runs a used car agency at 2614 N. Woodward Ave., Royal Oak, Mandel said, of giving him a $300 personal check last May with insufficient bank funds to cover it.

Extradition proceedings, started last Sept. 13, have been blocked by Gesek's petition for the writ, Mandel said. If the writ is denied tomorrow, Gesek will be returned to Michigan, Mandel said.

Red Skelton Back on TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP)— Comedian Red Skelton went ahead with his TV show last night, his first professional venture since he learned that his 9-ear-old son, Richard, was critically ill with leukemia. He made only brief mention of his family tragedy last night. He said "Mrs. Skelton, Richard, Valentina (his 11 year old daughter) and I wish to thank you for your letters, telegrams, prayers and good wishes."

The principal, if not the only beneficiaries of the trading stamps practice, are the Trading Stamp companies who profit not only from the sale of stamps but also from the huge percentage of unredeemed stamps . . . so declared Governor Williams Study Commission on Small Business.

Concentration May Win Loot in Pot-O-Gold

You'd better start concentrating very hard on your puzzle solutions, because the money is on its way up again. It might just as well be yours as another's, so study the clues and clue words carefully. And don't forget the rules. Your entry is no good if you have overlooked them.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

Humphrey Asks Removal of All Troops in Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) urged the Eisenhower administration today to expand its new disarmament proposals to include a negotiated withdrawal of both American and Soviet troops from Germany.

Humphrey, a member of the American delegation to the United Nations, voiced approval of a five-point disarmament program presented to the U.N. yesterday by the chief U.S. delegate, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

But the Minnesota senator said in an interview he regrets the proposals "do not indicate some flexibility relating to Central Europe and Germany."

"I think we should restudy our position in Western Germany with the objective of withdrawing our troops if the Soviets will agree to pull back their troops from East Germany and Poland," Humphrey said.

"We are going to have to face up to the possibility that a German government — not necesarily the present one headed by Chancellor Adenauer — may proceed on its own initiative to try to negotiate for unification with East Germany.

"In such a situation we could find ourselves in the position of being asked to get out of West Germany. It would be much better if we now could begin to weigh the assets and liabilities of a phased withdrawal of American and Soviet forces from the area."

In its five-point program, the administration proposed, among other things, that the armed forces of the United States and Soviet Russia be limited to 2½ million men each and those of Britain and France to 750,000 each, subject to a workable inspection system.

The tourist industry in Texas is worth about $412 million each year. The figure represents an increase of about $136 million since the 1950 estimates.

Stalin's Tomb Now Reopened for Russian Public

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government has reopened its top sightseeing attraction — the Lenin-Stalin Tomb in Red Square.

No discernible change had been made in the interior of the red granit structure since it was closed at the end of November for "renovation."

The bodies of Lenin and Stalin still lay in glass coffins side by side, bathed by a soft red light.

Closing of the tomb aroused speculation that the Soviet government planned to remove Stalin's body as another step in the de-Stalinization process. But when the temporary covering over the front of the building was removed late in December, the inscription Lenin-Stalin was again there in new, raised granite letters.

IF YOU SUFFER FROM ARTHRITIS
I KNOW WHAT'S BEST FOR IT!
"I believe that people are put on earth to help others, and that is the reason I offer this true testimonial," says Mrs. Anna Knack, Flint, Michigan.

"I am glad to tell others of my experience with O-JIB-WA BITTERS, as I have suffered so much for over 30 years, and have found the medicine that brings the relief that you want. I had rheumatism and arthritis in both knees, but especially the right one, and was often forced to sit down because of the severe pain; but I just wouldn't stay in bed. I also had it in the back of my neck, and the pain was so fierce that I couldn't sleep nights. I discovered years ago that O-JIB-WA BITTERS brought results where other medicines failed, and besides, it seems to build me up and gives me lots of pep too. I sew for others, baby sit and keep up my house, and I am strong and healthy for a lady of 76. I also find that by using your tea with the medicine, that it's good for indigestion, as before, I couldn't eat cabbage, beans, onions, etc., as these foods would upset me but now I can eat anything and enjoy it. I have read in the Bible how God created herbs for the service of man, and after trying other medicines, know that nothing compares with O-JIB-WA BITTERS. That is why I offer this true testimonial, so that others who have rheumatism or arthritis may know of the wonderful results obtainable from this herb medicine."

Hal Boyle Says:

Whiteman Keeps 1920s in His Soul

NEW YORK (AP)—All the kings of what Westbrook Pegler so aptly called "the era of wonderful nonsense" are dead, dignified, or retired—except one.

At the age of 67, Paul Whiteman, the original "King of Jazz," looks 20 years younger, still boils over with the tempestuous energy that made the 1920's one of history's most memorable decades.

Paul, who for a time at the old Hippodrome conducted his band atop a white horse (can Arturo Toscanini match this claim?), has put together a golden anniversary record album to celebrate his 50 years in music.

The album has taken many an aging jazz lover back to the springtime of his life when Bix Beiderbecke, who died young, blew a trumpet as no man has since, and a young unknown called Bing Crosby was one of three "Rhythm Boys" ad didn't have a racehorse to his name.

The rest of this piece is a monologue of memories and summaries by "Pops" Whiteman, who keeps the 1920's wrapped in his soul but remains as fresh as tomorrow:

"They didn't call it jazz when I started. They called it ragtime. I began on the viola in the Denver Symphony Orchestra in 1906 when I was 16. By 1919 I had my own orchestra and came East.

"I had 9 pieces and I built the band up to 46, counting the singers.

"Those were the years! In 1925 I grossed $680,000—before taxes, thank the Lord!

"They talk about the $125,000 party that Texas oil man just threw. Around 1922 our band played for a party for Clarence MacKay on Long Island that cost $465,000.

"He only had about 200 invited guests, but he built a model of the Versailles Gardens for the brawl. There were two acres of cut flowers and an orangerie of 50 live trees shipped up from Florida just for that one night.

"I got a $10,000 tip myself—not unusual in those days. When they threw a party then they weren't fooling.

"I remember a party in Philadelphia where they turned a hotel ballroom into a jungle full of real monkey, cockatoos — and guests. At 3 'clock in the morning, they blew 15 tons of rose petals over the dancers.

"Yes, I threw the first big concert by a jazz band. We introduced George Gershwin's 'Rhapsody in Blue.' I also had the first jazz band in the Ziegfeld Follies, and took the first American jazz band to Europe. They were high years.

"What killed the big bands? Well, I quit myself. But what destroyed most of them was the bandleaders got fat-headed. Over a period of 10 years they taught the people to listen to singers instead of dancing.

"Guy Lombardo didn't. That's why he's still big. The others made the singers bigger than their bands.

"The greatest entertainer I ever knew? Bing Crosby, as of now. But Sinatra will be another Crosby. Sinatra is fabulously generous. Do you know that guy's given away 26 Cadillacs to people he likes?

"I wouldn't write off this Elvis Presley too fast either. That guy is a symbol to a lot of kids with troubles—but he's got something in his neck, too, and it comes out.

"Talent is God-given, although a lot of performers don't bother to give God equal billing. A thousand guys can practice equally hard—but only one has the spark.

"What destroys many performers is that their head gets so big it gets in their own way, and as their head gets bigger, their heart gets smaller.

"That never happened to Bing. You notice he never has a bad word to say about anybody—except himself. Perry Como is the same way.

"What did Bix Beiderbecke have? Every time he lifted that trumpet, he blew it different from the time before.

"Yes, I lived well, I've hired trains to go on a party. Started for Alaska once on a party, but the train never did get there.

"I still do all right. I have me a farm in New Jersey I call 'Agony Acres on Swinging Jaw Road,' complete with mortgage.

"I keep busy in radio and television. I always liked sports cars, and I still have a $5,600 Porsche. In 1953 I drove 90,000 miles—mostly commuting between home and shows.

"My life has ben a mixture of two Jackie Gleason characters—the 'poor soul' and the 'loud mouth.' My head has been swelled and deflated so often that now it stays in a groove. But I've never been mean to anybody.

1,500 Rehabilitated in 6 Months

Handicapped Put to Work

LANSING (AP) — There were 1,583 handicapped persons rehabilitated into employment during the first six months of the present fiscal year, the State Office of Vocational Rehabilitation has reported.

Dr. Ralf A. Peckham, director, said this was an eight per cent increase over the same period a year ago.

Peckham said there is a reasonable prospect of this increase continuing if there is no serious cutback in general employment as his agency has been gradually able to increase the number of persons receiving services.

He reported, however, that there are 1,207 more persons waiting rehabilitation than there were at this time last year.

Peckham attributed the increase to two bottlenecks — lack of state funds to meet available matching federal funds and lack of trained counselors.

During the current fiscal year, Peckham said, the agency will not be able to claim $360,000 available in federal funds because of a lack of matching state money.

Restrict Height Near Airport

Curb Natural Objects, Structures in Ordinance Adopted by Board

An airport zoning ordinance which will regulate the height of future structures and "objects of natural growth" around Pontiac Municipal Airport was adopted Monday by a Joint Airport Zoning

A Board of Appeals will be appointed prior to the effective date of the ordinance which is March 15, according to Homer D. Hoskins, airport manager.

The ordinance establishes a 10-mile "air bowl" with a maximum height limitation for buildings, trees and other objects around the airport.

The outer zone of the "bowl" will have a maximum height limitation of 500 feet above the established elevation of airport. A maximum height limitation of 25 feet above ground will be imposed at a few locations in the direct approach to the runways at the edge of the field, Hoskins said.

HELD HEARINGS

Public hearings were held in February and December of 1954 on the proposed ordinance. Its adoption was delayed pending contemplation of a Detroit radio station constructing an antenna in the vicinity of the field.

"This ordinance expressly exempts any non-conforming heights, existing or under construction, at the time it becomes effective," Hoskins said. "therefore it will not present any hardships to these structures in the airport approach zone."

Members of the Joint Airport Zoning Board were Lloyd L. Anderson, Waterford Township supervisor, Frank Webber, Addison Township supervisor, Forest Brendell, White Lake Township supervisor, Henry C. Smith, Pontiac city planner, and James Carr, secretary of the Michigan Department of Aeronautics.

The board was appointed by action of the county Board of Supervisors, the Pontiac City Commission, and the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, under provisions of a 1950 state law.

'56 Marine Fuel Tax Up 20 Pct. Over '55

LANSING (AP)—The state collected $149,368 from its marine fuel tax during the past year, an increase of $26,123 over the $122,244 collected the previous year, the Secretary of State's office reported today.

The increase primarily resulted from a jump in the marine fuel tax from three to six cents a gallon which became effective on Aug. 11.

With the increased rate effective for the entire year, it was estimated that 1957 marine fuel tax collections would total more than a quarter of a million dollars.

The tax moneys go to the state waterways fund.

Pontiac Hosts Bankers for Foreign Aid Debate

Pontiac will be host to Cleveland and Detroit chapter debate teams of the American Institute of Banking 8 p.m. Saturday at the Waldron Hotel.

Subject of the debate will be "Resolved that the United States should discontinue direct economic aid to foreign countries." Upholding the affirmative will be Fred Ehlers, of the National Bank of Detroit, and Virginia Swickler of the Detroit branch of the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago.

Dismiss Rape Charge Against Herbert Brewer

A charge of statutory rape pending since last May 29 against Herbert Brewer, 28, of 2625 Dearborn St., Avon Township, yesterday was dismissed by Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor recommended dismissal, he said, because the alleged victim, a 13-year-old girl, no longer lives in Michigan and was unable to testify at Brewer's trial, scheduled for yesterday.

Bob Considine Says:

Tax Bite Staggers the Imagination

NEW YORK (INS) — Friend of mine got tired of working himself broke, tax-wise, and took off for foreign climes a few years ago.

Now his big concern is that his chauffeur won't be allowed to wear the gold Rolls Royce insignia on his cap until the master has owned his Rolls for at least three years.

My friend has built himself a fine villa overlooking a stretch of water treasured by centuries of sweet singers. He has a swank house "in town," an apartment in Paris and knows the best suites of the best hotels all over the world. He keeps what he makes.

About this time of year, when people borrow on their life insurance and steal from the children to get up the tax money, I somehow expect my friend will write and say, "Buster, it must be tough having Sam's beard on your shoulder and his hot breath steaming your collar.

"As I look out over the bay from my veranda, and my native girls curry my favor, I feel for you—you simple slob—and so I am enclosing a check which may tide you over your troubles."

LIKES IT FINE

The letter never comes. My friend who, like the old guy in "You Can't Take It With You" just didn't believe in taxes, likes it fine where he is. The goods he makes still sell real fine here.

Nobody bother to put the bite on him where he lives, and if they did so he could square himself with a double sawbuck and a jug of red. His favorite politician is Pierre Poujade.

When he writes, my friend is filled with news about what a wonderful life is the taxless life. Everybody seems to agree. Even the U.S. Bureau of Internal Revenue. It recently sent him a $10,000 refund for an overpayment he made a few years back, and let's hope it apologized for having put him to the trouble.

My friend is relieved of an emotion peculiar to many Americans at this time of year. It is the empty feeling (Editor's note: You can say that again, Brother) the empty feeling that comes from comparing what he coughed up with the total sum apparently needed to preserve us from pestilence at home and abroad.

I know a salaried bloke who begged, borrowed and filched $60,000 not long ago to wipe out a lien and draw more or less abreast in the taut race for financial survival.

$73 BILLION BUDGET

He had just enough left over from several years of work to buy himself a drink, which he did, and was sitting there feeling drained but noble when the radio announced that the federal budget for the coming fiscal year will be $73,000,000,000.

To spend what the U.S. will spend this year on everything from atom bombs to zithers an individual born at the time Christ was born, and given enduring life, would have had to blow $100,000 a day, every day, seven days a week.

Mike Todd (and what a delightful series Bill Slocum is writing about him) couldn't do that even if the money wasn't his'n.

A Navy plane accidentally dropped a couple of wing tanks on a New York suburb the other day. They cost more than a lot of hardpressed folks could raise in taxes last year.

A single battleship broadside for the newsreels was once estimated to cost about $50,000. Those H-bomb tests at Eniwetok-Bikini last May might have cost $5,000,000,000.

It is impossible to relate one's own tax payments to the breath-taking foreign aid program, and hard to comprehend that in this coming year we'll spend 5,000 times as much as we invested in the Louisiana Purchase (827,192 square miles which made 14 states), and 10,000 times what Alaska (586,400 square miles) cost.

My friend couldn't help much, I guess, but he's sure delighted to be included out of our rat race.

Ike's 'Group' Lives 10 Years, Says Dr. White

NEW YORK (AP)— Dr. Paul Dudley White, cardiologist to President Eisenhower, said today the President is in a group of heart attack survivors who live an average of about 10 years.

White told a news conference the President was in the most favorable group of those surviving heart attacks in that he had no symptoms afterward.

White talked with newsmen prior to adressing a conference of the New York Heart Assn., attended by more than 900 doctor, public health leaders and social workers.

Claim Two Arabs Killed

TEL AVIV (AP)—An Israeli army spokesman said two Arab infiltrators were killed last night in the southern Negeb Desert. The spokesman said they were part of a band, presumably from Jordan, which did not halt when challenged near Nurim and Povim settlement. The rest of the band escaped.

American men smoke an average of about 100 cigars per year.

Airport Question in Air

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The Kent County Airport Board of Control Monday awarded a $4,100 contract to Leigh Fisher and associates of South Bend, Ind., for a survey to determine whether the airport should continue at its present location or find another site. The firm made a recent study of similar needs at Muskegon.

Low pressure tires for autmobiles came in use in 1922.

Ice Hunting

Hunting seals is an important part of an Eskimo's life. The seal is his chief source of food and clothing.

It tries to escape the hunter by swimming under the ice, but has to come up to breathe every once in a while. That's when the patient hunter gets his chance.

Here is an Eskimo hunter standing beside an air hole in the ice waiting for a seal. He has a spear in his hand and a snow knife beside him. Another knife is stuck into the handle of his food pouch.

Paste this picture down on cardboard and color it with crayons. Cut out the parts carefully. If you fold the end panels forward the Eskimo will stand up. Cut the small heavy line on the food panel. Fold the left part under and the other part forward. It will be ready to stand in front of the Eskimo.

Now cut a slit in the ice hole as indicated. Slip the seal up through the hole. Let it pop up and look at the Eskimo. You can quickly pull it back as often as you like.

(Winner of $10 for this idea is Elvin Zimmerman of West Salem, Ohio. Send your idea to Junior Editors, care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Indian Exploiter Captured by FBI

mercantile store and an undertaking establishment. Whenever a full-blooded Osage died, Bill Hale prospered in some fashion.

GETS BRILLIANT IDEA

Then the "King of the Osage Hills" got the most brilliant idea of his life.

Old Lizzie Q. was a full-blooded Osage worth maybe $330,000. That old squaw had three "head rights" herself: and her daughters held one and one-sixth "head rights" each.

Now, Hale mused, suppose old Lizzie Q. should die. And just suppose that two of her daughters, Anna Brown and Rita Smith, should die along with Rita's husband.

Who would inherit all that money, maybe a half a million dollars or more?

The answer was simple. The fortune—most of it, anyway—would go to the third daughter, Mollie. And Mollie was married to Hale's nephew, Ernest Burkhart. Then if Mollie should die, there would be no trouble handling Ernest. He was a weak-willed chucklehead anyway.

Hunters found Anna Brown's decomposed body in a ravine. She had been shot in the head. Her estate was worth $100,000.

Cld Lizzie Q. died two months later, apparently of natural causes; her estate was divided between Rita Smith and Mollie Burkhart. And just as the verse said, now there were only two little Indians.

FIND COUSIN'S BODY

Anna Brown had a cousin—a picturesque full-blooded Osage Indian named Henry Roan Horse who liked to wear his hair down his back in plaits.

Roan Horse's body was found outside Fairfax, slumped in the front seat of his car. Henry's brains had been blown out for reasons known best to Hale.

Two months later, while Hale was at the Texas Fat Cattle Show, Fairfax was shaken by the explosion which killed Bill and Rita Smith and their maid.

After this, there remained only one little Indian — Mollie Burkhart.

But the blast that shook Fairfax also shook the Osage Tribal Council to action. In desperation, the Indians appealed to Washington.

The appeal was relayed to the FBI and the order went out launching an investigation that was to last for three years and become one of the classic manhunts in FBI history.

'STRANGERS' ARRIVE

No one in Fairfax paid any particular attention when four strangers drifted into town one by one, a cattle buyer, an insurance salesman, an oil prospector and an Indian herb doctor. They went about their business, minding their own affairs.

Weeks passed without a break in the case. But then a signal was passed and the four strangers met one night in the badlands to pool their information and plan their next moves.

The "cattle buyer" was the oldest, and he was the FBI agent in charge for this special undercover detail.

The four stangers often met under the stars in the Osage hills to exchange information and each time they met they had a bit more information. Gradually the picture was taking form. And the man in the picture was William K. Hale.

Finally the agent in charge told his men: "Hale is our man without a doubt. He had a $25,000 insurance policy on Henry Roan Horse's life.

And it looks as if he was working to get the estates of Lizzie Q. and her daughters centered in the hands of that nephew of his."

The wall against which they had pounded so long crumbled slowly but steadily. From the badlands came a tip that a convict in the state penitentiary knew something about the murders.

The convict, who hated Hale, said, "Go see Ernest Burkhart. He will tell you everything you want to know."

Hale's nephew was the weak link. He broke and told the agents how Hale had dominated him all his life. He named the killers of Henry Roan Horse and the Smiths; and he said his uncle had plotted the murders.

One by one the killers confessed. In each case they pointed the finger at Hale. Hale was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. It was Jan. 26, 1929. (Hale was paroled in 1947.)

The bloody reign of the "King of the Osage Hills" had ended. The FBI had closed one of the most fantastic cases in its files.

John E. Queen, 49, of 6615 Tipsico Rd., Highland Township, who was badly hurt in another holiday crash, has improved since the incident and is now listed as "fair" at the hospital.

Miller, a resident of 331 Reitman Ct., Rochester, has been hospitalized since he rammed into a tree. He is the son of Avon Township supervisor Cyril Miller. Queen was badly hurt when his car overturned on top of him on Tipsico road.

Prompt Action Averts Serious Fire Damage

Prompt action by the Walled Lake Fire Department prevented a possible serious blaze at a large building under construction just outside the city limits last night.

Very little damage was reported to the factory building being built at Welsh and Maple roads in Commerce Township. Firemen extinguished the flames in 20 minutes despite a steady snowstorm and freezing weather.

No cause has been determined for the fire which burned some tarpaulin and wood being used in the construction. The structure is said to be being put up by a Farmington firm which plans to move to the new location eventually.

Victor H. Hall, 33, of Alma, and Charlie Washam Jr., 26, of Springfield, Mo., were arrested last night in Walled Lake by FBI agents.

Police said the men, who had served eight years together in the Air Force, had apparently been living in Walled Lake since they went AWOL last Oct. 3. Both are married and have been working for a Plymouth firm since departing the camp.

Two Will Testify in Sexton Trial

Former Police Officer Faces Reduced Charge of Felonious Assault

Two men allegedly wounded by a former Pontiac patrolman in an off-duty shooting almost a year ago were scheduled for the witness stand today.

Their testimony will be the main evidence, Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said, against James B. Sexton, 30, who faces a jury trial today before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland on a charge of felonious assault.

The witnesses are Robert K. Stephens, then 30, and Archie McCowen, then 24, who Sexton reportedly wounded with his service revolver in a parked car early Jan. 27 after an alleged drinking spree.

Sexton, on probation at the time of the shooting for conduct unbecoming an officer, a charge which involved off-duty drinking and fighting, was immediately fired by Police Chief Herbert W. Straley.

The trial comes after a long series of legal delays, during which an original charge of attempted murder was reduced and Sexton changed his plea to the reduced charge.

Injured in Collapse, Three Return to Job

JACKSON (AP) — Three men who were hurt seriously when the Consumers Power Co. building collapsed last Oct. 3 are back at the scene trying to remove debris.

The trio are part of a 20-man crew which is salvaging material from the collapse site where 10 workmen were crushed to death under the falling concrete.

Sandy Moore, Beverly Turner and Mark Artis were pouring cement on the fourth floor level when the collapse occurred. They were thrown into the basement with the debris.

The repair crew is staying away from the overhanging concrete flooring that is still part of the building remains.

What will be done with the remaining structure has not yet been decided, a Consumers Power spokesman said.

Indications are that a decision will await a report now being prepared on the causes of the collapse by an investigating committee, appointed by the governor.

Saline Fire Aftermath Reveals None Killed

SALINE (AP)—Fears that a mother and her three children had died in a fire that destroyed several downtown stores and apartments yesterday, diminished as workers sifted the ruins.

Apparently no one was killed in the fire and the subsequent building collapse. All but a small portion of the ruins had failed to turn up signs of death.

One possibility was that Mrs. Barbara Gibson, 21, had joined her husband, and they and their children had left for his former home in Arkansas. The children were Diane, 3; David, 1, and Gary, five months.

PLEASANT RIDGE—The bond drive for a "badly needed" $175,000 recreation center here has gotten off to a flying start with an anonymous donor contributing $5,000.

Representatives from every street will meet with Newton next week to plan ways of bringing the bond issue to the people.

Oakland Township Man Hurt in Towing Mishap

An Oakland Township man suffered a minor injury of the left hand and a bump on the head in an accident which occurred while his car was being towed by another vehicle Tuesday.

DeWaine J. Ayotte, of 3334 Lakeview Dr., was released after treatment at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

He was hurt when his car hit a mail box while being pulled out of a driveway on Sashabaw road near Walton in Waterford Township. Driver of the other vehicle was Rufus J. Cibbs, of 6210 Shappie Rd., Clarkston.

Ayotte told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he hit his head on the car door as the impact forced it open and then struck his hand against the mail box.

Increase Resources, Deposits

All Financial Institutions Reporting Excellent Year

By JOE HAAS

The annual stockholder meetings of most of the banks in the Pontiac area were held Tuesday, and directors were chosen. In most cases these were followed by meetings of the directors, and the selection of officers.

Without exception, these financial institutions all report a good year. In nearly every case there was an increase in resources and deposits, as well as in surplus and undivided profits. The customary dividends were declared, which in a few places were in excess of last year.

Increases in capital stock were made by some banks, largely to provide funds for further development in their areas. The last quarterly statement, as called for on Dec. 31, generally reflects not only the stable condition of the bank, but also that of the community which it serves.

The year brought extensive changes in the physical setup of some of the banks, the added investment in new additions and equipment representing several hundred thousand dollars. Results of the elections follow:

CAI Is Hub of Waterford Activities

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
of our
Waterford Township Bureau

"Know Your Community Center" is the theme that officials of the Waterford Township CAI Building are using for their open house to be held, Jan. 29.

To the thousands of people who come and go at the community center weekly, the CAI Building is the very heart of Waterford Township, as far as family fun and healthy activities are concerned.

There are approximately 1,300 people enrolled in various activities, and weekly traffic is about 3,000, according to Mrs. Helen Hall, secretary and charter member of the CAI.

From the outside, the architecture of the building appears plain—and quiet. There is no fancy entrance—no elegant pillars, steps, or impressive outside decorations of any kind.

The big painted, cinder-block structure is two stories high and stands in the center of a 3-acre parking space. (More than 1,500 cars have been accommodated at one time).

And the grounds surrounding the building are not pretentious. The Farm and Garden Club has made the CAI area landscaping its project, and someday it will be one of the beauty spots of Waterford Township.

Inside the building, there is a different story. It is literally a bustling, beehive of activity with many different types of recreation facilities going on day and night, including Saturdays and Sundays.

There are projects ranging from youngster's ballet classes to dog training courses, to church services. More than 20 entirely different activities are scheduled, according to Tom Belton, Township Recreation Director.

The idea for a commnity center was started by the Waterford Women's Club in 1945 when the group acquired a plot of ground with a big red barn in the center.

BUILDING BURNED

One year later the building burned to the ground, but by that time residents realized the terrific need for a community center due to the lack of space in schools, and churches, so they started all over again.

People all over Waterford Township contributed volunteer labor and before long they had the present building. There are five classrooms occupied by students from the 5th and 6th grades of Williams Lake School. These have been in constant use since the building was finished nine years ago.

There is a fully equipped dairy bar, a large activity room, a dining room and kitchen, and a library stocked with more than 5,000 books.

The women's lounge for club meetings is tastfully furnished, and the games rooms and gym are kept in full use most of the time.

NO TAX MONEY

Not one cent of taxpayers money has gone into the CAI building, although it is valued at $175,000 and costs approximately $2,000 a month to maintain.

Two distinct organizations are combining efforts in making the center a success. They are the Community Activities Inc. and the Waterford Township Recreation departent.

The Pontiac Area United Fund contributes to the support of the CAI building.

The CAI is governed by a board of directors, responsible for maintenance and facility operation plus some responsibility for programming.

The Recreation department, is a separate service agency supported by the Board of Education and Waterford Township government.

A minimum cost of $5 a year enrolls an entire family. For $50 there is an 11-year policy, and if a family group pays $100 they may use the facilities for life.

"Of the year-round recreation buildings in Waterford Township, the community center is of momentous importance." Belton said.

"If it were suddenly to become non-existant, a significant void would be experienced by thousands of people seeking outlets to their many leisure-time interests," he concluded.

World War III Can Easily Ignite in Mideast

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Two world wars started in places few Americans knew about. It was Sarajevo in 1914, Danzig in 1939.

If there is another, it could start in a place called Mosul, or Alepo, or some other unheard-of dusty outpost of the Middle East.

The Eisenhower Doctrine says the United States will fight any Communist-led invasion of the Communists who care little for the world of the Arab leaders. They are more interested in the world of the Arab people, and particularly that small world of educated Arabs whose pent-up bitterness against the West makes them inviting targets.

The Arabs themselves are hopelessly divided on virtually every question except common enmity for Israel. They are highly vulnerable to the sort of indirect attack Communists use.

Even on the question of Israel there is no real agreement. Many Arabs would like to turn their backs on the problem and devote themselves to trying to bring about some measure of stability in their world.

Israeli leaders I have interviewed say they would gratefully welcome such an attitude. They, too, say they believe only stability among the Arabs, in governments and economies, offers any chance of peace.

But in the Arab East there is a desperate poverty of leadership. Much of it is leadership by demagoguery. Arab politicians can arouse passions over the Israeli issue, and this is an invitation to political power.

For many reasons, Soviet armed attack in the Middle East seems unlikely. But the communist world covets the Middle East — not for the oil so much as to deny that vital commodity to the economies of Western Europe. If that could be accomplished, the Communist job in the West would be easier.

This is what the Middle East is like today:

Iraq — A nation of about five million people, 90 per cent illiterate, a third nomadic. Rich in resources — oil, minerals and above all the precious water of the Tigris and Euphrates. A forward-looking program using oil money is reclaiming long-neglected land. But the program is long range, and the lot of the average Iraqi remains a sorry one.

Per capita income is $85 a year.

The government of Premier Nuri Said, now 68, is called the West's best friend in the Arab East. But most literate Iraqis are against it. Fourteen times premier, Said remains a virtual dictator mostly because of the lack of any other responsible leadership. If anything happened to him, Communists surely would try to fill the void — but not by military means. The Tudeh Communist party of neighboring Iran strong in numbers, is ready to infiltrate.

Syria — This country of four million is dominated by its army intelligence section, whose leaders are pro-Soviet, but not pro-Communist. The Russian are supplying Syria with significant amounts of arms. Officially outlawed, the Syrian Communist party operates openly and wields influence through its wily leader, Khaled Bagdash, a member of the Kurd minority. The regime is at sword's point with neighboring Iraq. Syria's economy is rocky. The Soviet approach again would not be military aggression, but gradual attrition to break down Syrian resistance.

Syria still has many people who worry about Communist intentions and look westward for avenues of salvation.

Jordan — The future of this little nation of 1½ millions — a million of whom can consider they owe no allegiance to young King Hussein — is shaky. The late King Abdullah annexed that part of Palestine not taken by Israel after the Arab-Israeli war, and annexed a headache. A million Palestinians, many of them educated, now dominate the nation. Jordan, seemingly headed for disintegration, may become the object of a Syrian-Iraqi clash.

Saudi Arabia — King Saud seems worried like other Arab rulers, he faces a youthful restlessness characteristic of the whole area. His economy depends wholly on oil dollars.

Lebanon — A little country of 1½ millions, half Christian and half Moslem. Lebanon often seems to an outsider an oasis of sense in an illogical world. The Lebanese have a thriving economy. They are subject to pressures from Syria and Egypt, but have resisted the pressure. The government, backed by a small but ably commanded army of about 7,000, remains a staunch friend of the West and a possible bridge between West and Middle East.

Yemen — This feudal country of 4½ millions provides a quick test for the Eisenhower Doctrine. The Yemen, a feudal monarchy ruled by its Imam, has concluded a deal with Russia for arms to use against the British in the neighboring Aden protectorate. Nothing in the Eisenhower Doctrine seems aimd at stopping this sort of penetration.

Egypt — Israelis and Westerners alike said they had great hopes for the Arab world when Egypt's revolution ousted King Farouk in 1952. Washington entertained rosy hopes for young Gamal Abdel Nasser, who took over as premier in 1954 and later made himself president. The young officers annouced a planning program which someday might rescue the fellaheen — the unshod, unwashed and disease-ridden peasantry — from their eternal misery.

But events interrupted the dream. Nasser, claiming desperate need to defend Egypt from Israel, got from Russia the arms he could not get from the West. Nasser today is more a hero to the Arabs than ever before, after the fiasco of the British-French invasion following Israel's attack.

But Egypt has vast economic problems. Her leaders seem worried at the extent to which her economy is being tied to the Communist bloc.

Israel — Created in 1948 when Britain left Palestine, Israel showed the world what Western know-how and determination could do with hostile soil. While her victorious army stood guard, pioneers made desert areas bloom and built a modern nation in the heart of a backward world.

Hemmed into a tiny strip of land and surrounded by hostile nations, her economy still depends on goods imported from abroad.

In 1955 Britain, with the backing of the United States, formed an alliance with Turkey and Iraq, a northern tier against a possible Soviet aggression.

Israel always is in danger of runaway inflation. Her policy of immigration and program of public health indicate her population, now less than two million, eventually will be too big for her territory. She needs Jordan River water to open up new land in the Negeb Desert. Syria says it will mean war if the Jordan is diverted. Meanwhile, Arabs fear Israel's natural growth will push her.

Tomorrow: What the Arabs are asking about the Eisenhower Doctrine.

Egyptian Dam Would Open Dike for Deadly Snails

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Egypt is in for more trouble if it ever gets its proposed Aswan dam built, according to a University of Michigan zoologist.

This time the trouble could stem from tiny snails, says Prof. Henry van der Schalie.

The snails, prevalent in northern Egypt, cause a blood disease known as schistosomiasis, which leaves its victims weak and emaciated and eventually kills them.

The professor says 60 per cent of the northern Egyptian population is afflicted with the disease, but only about six per cent have it in the southern areas.

If the dam is erected, van der Schalie says, all the benefits Egypt expects to gain from irrigation and power projects along the Nile River may be erased by the itinerant snails.

Dads Join in Winter Fun

Pontiac Press Photos

"You're supposed to stand up on skates, Daddy!" Eileen doesn't seem to have any trouble, but her father, Norman D. Dunn, could tell a different story. But even the bumps and bruises can't keep the family from their favorite winter sport. The Dunns live in Waterford.

Little Jimmy Panaretos is very glad he moved to Pontiac—there seems to be so much more snow here. And his Daddy has a lot more time to play outdoors with him. From his home on Elizabeth Lake road, he can watch his father coming home from work — then he dashes for the snowsuit and boots. The 18-month-old youngster is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Panaretos.

"Hurry and get your skates on, Daddy," Joy McReynolds urges her father, Marvin McReynolds, as they go out for an afternoon of skating. Every minute counts to Joy who is very much at home on the ice. With Mrs. McReynolds, they reside on Seebaldt avenue.

Apply Lipstick Without Grimacing

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The proper application of modern day makeup may not be classed with the real arts, but it certainly is a highly technical skill which can bring out latent beauty. In fact makeup and its proper application can make a dramatic difference in the way a woman looks.

Most women know something about makeup but there are many fine points we do not know. I myself never had thought of the factor in applying lipstick until Eddie Senz, New York's outstanding makeup artist, mentioned it to me not long ago.

Have you ever stopped to think what grimaces we go through when applying lip rouge? We indulge in almost as many facial gyrations as a man does when shaving. We open our mouths rather widely and stretch out lips.

The wrong way to apply lipstick is illustrated at the left—the contour of the lips is stretched out of shape. Instead, open the mouth only slightly and relax the lips.

This is wrong. When the skin of the lips is stretched out of shape we cannot follow their normal contour. The contour is distorted. Therefore we may end up with grotesque lines.

Instead of this, we should open our mouth only alightly and relax the lips. Then take a lipstick brush and outline the natural shape. After that, fill in.

Be sure to take the lip rouge all the way to the corners unless your lips are too long. Then stop just short of the corners but blend the color so that there is no sharp break.

Also, be sure to color the inside of the lips far enough back so that there is no break in this area. Many women who apply their lipstick skillfully forget to remove any which may have gotten on their teeth.

Another hint—keep in mind the fact that your features should be in balance. For instance if you have a large nose and a small mouth, it is easier to enlarge the lips than to minimize the large nose. When enlarging the lips make the fullness or enlarged curve only the width of your nose.

Here is a final quote from Mr. Senz concerning makeup: "The average woman should stick as close to the natural as possible but make as much of the natural as she can."

If you would like to have my leaflet about make-up send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50 "What's Going On?" to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Ballet Dancers to Appear in Concert at Waterford

Waterford Civic Music Association will present its third concert of the season Saturday evening in Isaac Crary Junior High School auditorium. The Robert Joffrey Theater Dancers will be seen in the 8:30 program in their first appearance in this locality.

Each member of the corps de ballet is a soloist and all-around entertainer in several styles of ballet.

Robert Joffery's first engagement, after leaving Seattle five years ago, was in with the Ballet de Paris. He has also appeared on Broadway, been a faculty member of the High School of Performing Arts in New York, and also an instructor at the Ballet Theater School.

His achievements include choreography for TV shows and for the musical comedies produced at the giant Aquatheater in Seattle.

In Mr. Joffrey's company is Glen Tetley, an ex-newspaperman from Pittsburgh. He was trained in ballet by Helen Platova and in modern dance by Hanya Holm. He has been leading dancer for five years with the New York City Opera and has made many appearances on television.

Beatrice Thompins is best known as soloist in the Ballet Caravan, the American Ballet and the New York City Ballet. She has recently danced extensively in television.

Music and dance are combined in the career of John Wilson, another Joffrey dancer Mr. Wilson has found time in his 25 years to do drama direction and choreography, to study music for a year in Geneva, to appear as vocal artist in recitals and with orchestras, and to compose a list of original works in every conceivable form.

Dianne Consoer, a brilliant new soloist from Chicago, who began her career in New York only a year ago, has appeared on leading television shows

A product of the Joffrey training is Brunilda Ruiz who has appeared with the dancers in every facet of their public life. Her appearances include ballet concerts on national television programs and ballet workshops.

History of Inaugural Balls Reveals Plenty of Mixups

WASHINGTON (INS) — "After the ball was over, they sang the inaugural blues . . ."

Vicissitudes encountered by inaugural ball committees in times past are recalled by officials planning the four glittering ballroom spectacles which will climax the Eisenhower-Nixon second-term inaugural celebration Monday.

President Eisenhower and Vice President Richard M. Nixon and their ladies will make personal appearances at all four inaugural balls — in the National Guard Armory, and the Sheraton Park, Mayflower and Statler Hotels.

The ladies and gentlemen of the arrangements committee are fervently hopeful that there will be no repetition of the untoward incidents which marred some of the earlier-day inauguration jamborees.

Even with four balls, space is a big problem, as it has been ever since pert, pretty Dolly Madison led the grand march, her eyes as bright as the silver buckles on President James Madison's shoes, back in 1809.

So many guests, invited and otherwise, squeezed into that first inaugural ball, held in a hotel on Capitol Hill, that the management had to knock out the windows to improve the ventilation.

It's a cinch that the Eisenhower-Nixon committee won't repeat the mistake made at President James A. Polk's inauguration in 1845.

Two balls were held that year —one, at $10 a ticket, for "high society" and the other, at $5, for "just plain folks."

Somebody forgot to invite the Washington diplomatic corps to the $10 ball, so the thrifty diplomats all went to the cheaper one.

An historian of the day reported that the result was the greatest mixup "since the time of the ark." An ambassador's wife, for example, found herself dancing the quadrille with her gardener.

RECORD CONFUSION

But according to the chroniclers, the record for chaotic confusion was established at President Ulysses S. Grant's first-term inaugural ball. The crush was so great nobody had a chance to dance. Ladies fainted by the dozen. Gentlemen lost their tempers, their toppers, and their tickets.

At Grant's second inaugural ball, however, the crowds thinned out quickly. The event was held in an unheated wooden hall and the temperature outside was zero. Everybody shivered—and the champagne froze.

President Zachary (Old Rough and Ready) Taylor ordered a special hall built for his inaugural ball. Things were all right until midnight supper was announced, and in the wild stampede for the seats and drinks, fair ladies were trampled and strong men fainted.

That sort of thing, however, seemed fairly normal for the 19th Century. Benjamin Perley Poore, an ace newsman of the day, gave this account of the situation at President Abraham Lincoln's 1865 inaugural ball:

"Such a crush and scramble there was! Little screams, broken exclamations, and hurried protestations against the rush were heard on all sides, but no one heeded or cared for anything but to find a place at the table."

Cotton Knit to Introduce Softer Style

In keeping with ready-to-wear trends, cotton knit styling takes on a softer, more feminine look this season.

Coordinate groups that were previously marked by Ivy detailing give way to softer stylin gin items such as hooded blouses, U-back camisoles, halters, cropped jackets and ponchos.

Companion pants run the gamut in lengths and include shorts, Jamaicas, Bermudas, Capri pants or slim skirts. Many cotton knits simulate the look of richer, more expensive fabrics such as wool, lace and corduroy.

In keeping with the ladylike feeling, colors are softened in tone and include: copen, raspberry, yellow, coral and pink. Camel and slate gray, each shown with stripes of white are especially popular in separate tops and have the go-with-everything look.

In the dry indoor heat of the winter months, remember to keep some containers of water about the house to maintain moisture in the air.

Most Women Won't Nag if They Are Able to Brag

Wives Pester Husbands Who Refuse to Assume Adult Responsibilities

By RUTH MILLET

A wife has suggestions for husbands on how to stop a wife from nagging.

"Most wives are driven to nagging," she says, "by husbands who won't cooperate, who have poor manners or who are procrastinators. If they didn't have a wife's nagging to contend with, they would just act like star boarders in their own homes."

So the answer on how to cure a wife's nagging seems simple to this wife.

All you men have to do, she maintains, is accept a little responsibility, cultivate enough neatness so that you aren't forever creating unnecessary work for your wife, do jobs for her the first or even the second time she asks and mind your manners around the house.

Personally, I think the reader has something. Maybe all nagging isn't brought on by a husband's indifference, laziness, or carelessness but certainly a good part of it is.

If a husband refuses to act like an adult and shirks his responsibilities around home, a wife either has to "let things go" or she has to keep after him until he finally gets around to do what he is supposed to.

CALLED 'EFFICIENT'

If a secretary makes sure her boss answers important letters, gets to appointments on time and finishes the piece of business that can't wait, a man calls her "efficient."

But if a wife tries to make sure that he gets the storm windows on, or fixes a leaky faucet, or asks him please not flip cigarette ashes on the carpet—her prodding isn't efficiency but "nagging."

So get on the beam, men, if you don't want to be nagged. Women don't enjoy those constant reminders they give you.

And they wouldn't have to nag you if they could brag about you instead.

Blue Star Group Has Installation of New Officers

Mrs. Florence McCrae was installed as president of Blue Star Mothers Chapter Four at the recent meeting held at the YMCA.

Other officers are Mrs. John Yungk, first vice president; Mrs. Edward Schram, second vice president; Mrs. Lettie Hancock, treasurer; Mrs. Herman Dennis, financial secretary; Mrs. James Dando, recording secretary; Mrs. Wilburt Fitzthomas, chaplain, and Mrs. Alma Cowley, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Karl Leonhard, past national president, and Mrs. Bessie Hathavy were installing officers.

Mrs. Rolen Centers and Mrs. Maurice Croteau were accepted as new members. Mrs. John Schram served as hostess.

Beauty Hint

If you have difficulty setting in a wave with a comb, try alternating the direction of two rows of pin curls. You'll have your wave and find it simpler to manage.

Cotton flannel goes sophisticated with a new gold touch. Gold printing is combined with vivid colors to make a striking Persian print in this full-length robe. And it is Sanforized.

Year 'Round Handy Product

In Step! — March in Starch

Many people regard starching as a spring and summer occupation, but actually to keep one's wardrobe fresh and in ship - shape, there is work for the starch all year 'round.

For instance, at this time of the year, the starching of such items as cotton gloves, which will keep their shape better, as well as resist dirt; cuffs and collars on dresses and suits; shirtwaists and blouses made of cotton, as well as those of rayon, nylon or dacron, although these miracle fibers will only need a light solution.

* * *

Starching these, however, will give them more body and prolong their wearability. The item that simply cannot do without starching is the crinoline petticoat without which no wardrobe is complete today. It is recommended that these petticoats which need more than ordinary stiffening, be dipped into a pure starch solution to which no water has been added.

* * *

When done in this way, the crinoline will have its original stiffness. Although not generally known, it is also advisable to dip nylon stockings into a light starch solution, for this will add to the life of the stocking, yet not detract from its sheer quality. All garments treated with starch will retain crispness through from six to ten washings.

Must Wives of Workers Be Invited?

Bridal Pair Wants to Ask Associates but Omit Mates

By EMILY POST

The following letter is from a bride-to-be: "Is it possible to invite husbands to a wedding without also inviting their wives? I would like to invite all of my office associates and those of my fiance too, but it would make too many, I am afraid, for our little church; that is, it would if we had to include the wives. We both belong to very big families and they will all be present."

Answer: If the wedding can be made an office event, that is, if your associates can all go to the wedding together and directly from the office, then it is entirely proper to invite the men without their wives.

But if the wedding takes place on a Saturday afternoon, for example, when the office is closed, so that each man will be coming from his home, then it would be improper to invite anyone without his wife.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When my daughter was married last summer I bought a very pretty pink silk dress. I have been invited to the wedding of the daughter of a friend which will take place in two weeks.

"Would this dress be suitable to wear at this season of the year? My daughter thinks it will look out of place because of the color. Will you please advise me?"

Answer: This depends upon the weight of the silk rather than the color. If it has a heavy body it would be all right, but if it is of really summer lightness it would be out of place.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When applying for employment or for membership in a lodge it is usually necessary to list several personal references. I would like to know if courtesy demands that permission be asked of these friends before using their names?"

Answer: If they are very intimate friends it is most advisable but not strictly necessary to ask them. If, on the other hand, they are only acquaintances, you must telephone them to ask if they would be willing to have you use their names.

Household Hint

A new basin for the bathroom has a single dial which replaces faucets, and controls both water temperature and flow. It comes in pastel colors and white.

Add Pastel Shades to Popular Footlets

CHICAGO (INS) — Modern "glass" clear plastic slippers are so popular for winter resort wear that something new has been added to footlets, which bare-legged devotees sear to protect their feet.

The latest footlets come in pastels—pink, yellow and blue — in Tycora yarn so that women can match the foot protectors to their dresses.

Education takes 7.7 per cent of British government revenues.

Household Hint

Add a sprig of rosemary to boiled potatoes in the early stages of cooking. Rosemary is a sweet and fresh-tasting herb which looks like a curved pine needle; it is used in lamb dishes, soups and stews.

Mamie Sets No Trends in Fashion

Most First Ladies Made Little Impact Upon Styles

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Mamie Eisenhower's bangs and her favorite pink stirred a brief flurry in the fashion world four years ago. However, the First Lady's style preferences could hardly be jotted down as trend-setters.

There is nothing unusual about her tastes, for a great many women like the same fashions. Mamie likes wide skirts worn over stiffened petticoats. She likes little hats, gloves and accessorie in matching colors. So do a lot of women.

Mamie loves furs of all kinds and has a luxurious wardrobe of scarves, stoles, capelets and wraps of fur, but there is nothing very revolutionary in the styling of these pieces.

When you get right down to it, most First Ladies have been on the conservative side and none, with the possible exception of the glamorou Dolly Madison, has ever had any real impact on fashions.

Alice Roosevelt, Teddy's daughter, and Eleanor Roosevelt, who lived longest in the White House as the wife of the four times elected F.D.R., both had their favorite shades of blue named after them.

IMAGINATIVE DOLLY

Dolly Madison had originality and imagination. She had been accustomd to wearing a Quaker cap before coming into the capital limelight.

Then she took to wearing turbans, wrapped headdresses of bright, rich silks, brocades and velvet trimmed with feather cockades and jeweled ornaents.

Prominent ladies of the 19th Century copied these and many other innovations she introduced.

One of the most unusual hairdos worn by a White House lady was that of Mrs. Andrew Jackson Donelson, niece of President Andrew Jackson and his official hostess. It was also one of the ugliest and no one ever was tempted to copy it.

The style which is featured on the plaster of Paris figurine in the Smithsonian Institution's Hall of First Ladies, wearing Emily Donelson's inaugural gown, shows the hair parted in the middle and swept up into two great rolled-under puffs on top.

Dinner-Dance Will Bring Florida to Bloomfield Hills

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — If you can't get to Florida this year, bring the Sunshine State to Bloomfield — at least so prescribes the group planning St. Dunstan's annual midwinter dinner-dance.

Party is scheduled for Jan. 26 at the Pavilion on Lone Pine road, and its theme revolves entirely around the Southern Gold Coast towns.

Potted palms will line the walls, travel folders will mark places at the cafe tables and mobiles will twinkle from the ceiling, each one depicting a different resort area. Huge maps and miniature airplanes will further the illusion that all roads lead South.

SHARON CLARK

Officers Named by Keloa Klub

At the Sunday afternoon meeting of Keloa Klub held in the home of Janet Wiltgen on Wenonah drive, Sharon Clark was elected president of the group.

Others elected were Judy Lauckner, vice president; Sue Uligian, recording secretary; Beverly Lindquist, corresponding secretary; Ellen Taylor, treasurer; Linda Gaylord, historian; Sue Whitfield and Sonja Ryan, publicity chairmen, and Gail Blamy and Marcia Petrie, sergeants-at-arms.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. King, Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Forbes and Mrs. Edward F. Sullivan are chairmen for the party, and working with them are Fred D. Hendrick Jr., Mrs. Robert H. Porter, Mrs. Donald Hutton, Thomas Martin, Robert L. Garrison, Mrs. Herbert G. Taylor and Mrs. Stephen F. Booth.

Mr. and Mrs. Booth will be among those attending a cocktail party preceding festivities in the home of James W. Fox, others to include Mr. and Mrs. John D. Kice and the Carleton C. Pattersons Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Saunders and Mr. and Mrs. Otis C. Thompson are planning to attend the cocktail party given by the John S. Coppins.

BOWLERS TO GATHER

Detroit Boat Club Bowlers will be guests of Orchard Lake Bowlers Saturday at the club for cocktails and dinner. Earlier in the day both groups will be in competition at Bloomfield Lanes.

Among those representing this area will be Mr. and Mrs. Arbi Thalacker, Mr. and Mrs. Syl Leahy, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leahy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bromley, Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. DeVlieg, Victor Brink, Mr. and Mrs. John Judd, the Karl E. Scotts and Dr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Henny.

Mrs. Robert VanderKloot will be hostess Monday in her home on Lone Pine road to board and Bloomfield Hills Garden Club.

Luncheon will follow the business session, some of those on deck to include Mrs. Edgar B. Flint, Mrs. John Tebben, Mrs. L. Raymond Twyman, Mrs. Herman D. Scarney, Mrs. Carl Larson, Mrs. Dean Draper, Mrs. Henry C. Johnson and Mrs. E. Govan Hill.

At a party given recently in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Alfs of West Long Lake Road, Maj. Gen. (USMC) and Mrs. Alan Shapley announced the engagement of their daughter, Louise Elizabeth, to Frank W. Ziegler Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Ziegler of Nashville, Tenn.

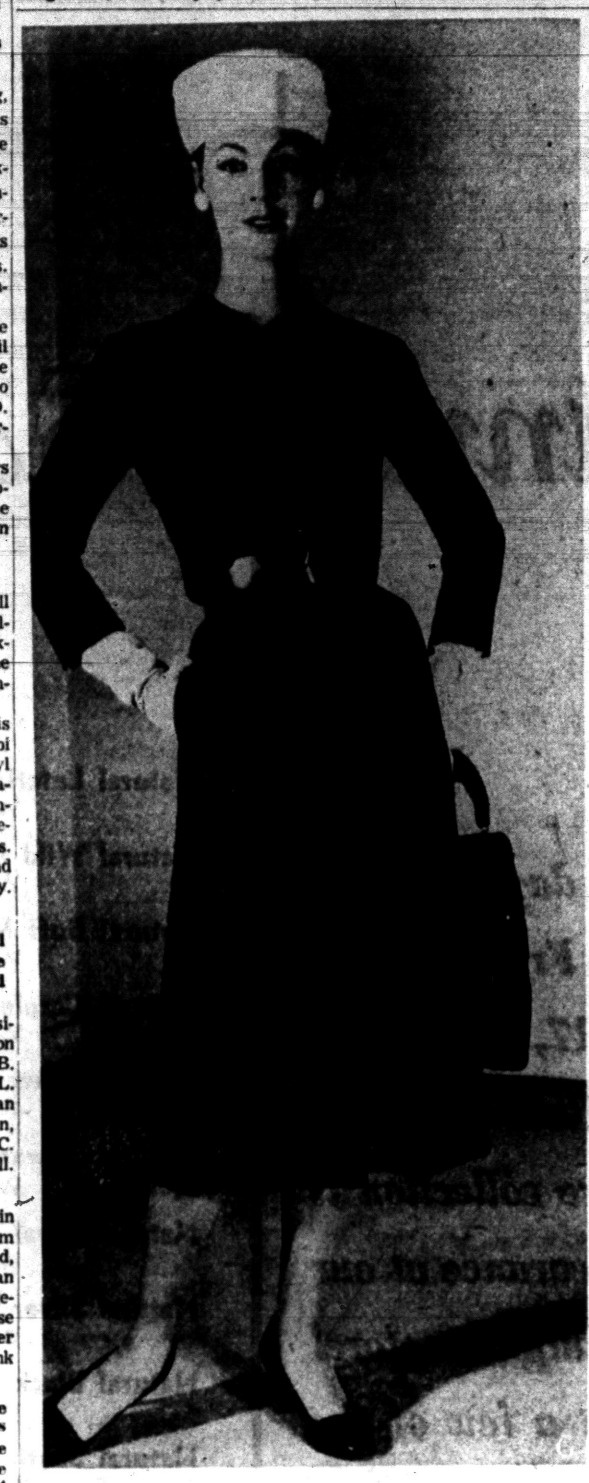
Maj. Gen Shaley was not here for the party, but sent blessings all the way from Okinawa, where he has had command of the 3rd Marine Division since last September.

Because wives aren't permitted to tag along on this kind of an assignment, Mrs. Shapley returned to home base from California several months ago and has been a guest of the Alfs while house-hunting in Birmingham and Bloomfield.

Louise is a graduate of Western High School in Washington, D. C., attended the University of Michigan School of Architecture and Design, and currently is a senior student at Harper Hospital School of Nursing.

Frank was graduated from Vanderbilt University in Nashville, and his fraternity is Alpha Tau Omega. He spent two years in the Marine Corps and is now a first lieutenant in the active reserve.

Date for the wedding will be announced later.



Anthony Blotja's suit of taupe and black checked Lesur silk and wool . . . for spring 1957. The jacket is belted under waist-tabs with black calfskin. The front-pleated skirt has a high-rise waistband.

This casserole dish can be made from staple items you are likely to have on your shelves most of the time. It can be made on the spur of the moment or put together in the morning and heated at dinner time.

Today's cook, Mrs. Frank Pernar of Lower Straits Lake, is a fairly new resident of the area. She has found it a pleasant place in which to live. Her club affiliations include the Catherine Booth group of her church and the PTA. She loves to sew and to do her own home decorating.

Some People Need Inspiring Jobs

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Some people work just for money. They don't care what a job is like if it pays well and are frank to admit that they would drop it in a minute if they had enough money to live on.

They don't care what kind of people they work with, or what kind of product they're dealing with, as long as they make as much money as possible.

But there are many people who demand more from their work than money. If you're like that, accept the fact and make your plans accordingly.

For example, consider Suzanne, a girl who was brought up by practical parents.

She took a commercial course in high school because it made better sense, as her mother put it, than wasting a lot of time on impractical subjects.

Suzanne took her first job, and all subsequent ones, simply on the basis of the size of the paycheck. But she was never very happy.

SENSITIVE TO PEOPLE

Suzanne was sensitive to people and couldn't work well with anyone who was incompatible.

She had a strong altruistic streak and couldn't work with products she didn't believe in. She couldn't work for companies which were not—or which she felt were not—in the public interest.

"I began to think I must be mad," she told me. "I'd look around at the other girls, happy enough to be making good salaries, and I'd ask myself who I thought I was and what I thought I wanted.

"But the strain began to tell on me and I'd become ill on my way to the office — just nerves and extreme distaste of the work."

I suggested that Suzanne begin doing volunteer work at her local hospital a couple of evenings a week and all day Saturday.

This would make her feel she was doing something worthwhile and enable her to tolerate the distasteful secretarial job until we found where she really belonged.

CHAIN OF EVENTS

But it turned out—as it so frequently does—that we never had to do another thing. Taking the volunteer job—the step in the right direction — started off a chain of events which landed Suzanne in the right job.

One of the doctors for whom she worked on Saturday at the hospital, was struck by her ability and dedication. When his secretary left to get married, he offered Suzanne the job.

She loves being a medical secretary, feels her life is adding up and serving a good purpose. Furthermore, she's making every bit as much money as she did before!

If this field interests you, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, for my list of books in the medical secretarial field.

Good Looks Start With Soap, Water

The New Year's resolution that pays off best is to resolve to look well groomed all the time in 1957.

Since good grooming depends on the little details observed every day, no great amount of time is required on any one day.

And certainly no money is involved. For good grooming starts with soap-and-water cleanliness — personal cleanliness, and clothes fresh from the washing machine or the wash basin.

Resolve never to skip that daily bath, never to wear a blouse or a pair of gloves that isn't immaculate, never to skip a shampoo when you know you need it, never to think a soiled dress is good enough to wear around the house!

Leather Considered Best for Shoe's Insole, Lining

The best way of checking the quality of a shoe is to see what material is used for the lining and insole—because these are the hidden hallmarks of a quality shoe. Shoe men and doctors are generally in agreement that for greatest comfort, healthfulness and durability, leather is preferred.

Leather linings are particularly comfortable because of their smoothness. Unlike other linings they do not become rough with wear for leather rarely develops creases or ridges.

Leather insoles provide comfort and ventilation under the sole of your foot, where the greatest pressure and heat build up.

Leather is comfortable and healthful because its millions of pores allow your foot to breathe Thus the air is kept circulating and perspiration is evaporated. Synthetic or cloth in linings and insoles absorbs perspiration causing discomfort and providing a breeding ground for the fungus of athlete's foot and similar afflictions.

Controversy Brews Over New Budget

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today that if the new budget proposed by President Eisenhower is balanced, "it will be accomplished with increased inflation."

Some Republicans joined Democrats in criticism aimed partly at the size of the $71,800,000,000 spending budget Eisenhower proposed for the year ending June 30, 1958.

Sen. Schoeppel (R-Kan) said he believes the message contains "material that may cause considerable controversy," and Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said he expects Congress to "whittle down many of the items."

But Rep. Wigglesworth (R-Mass) said the outlook for a $1,800,000,000 surplus and the third balanced budget in as many years "is an outstanding administration accomplishment."

Wigglesworth, second ranking Republican on the House Appropriations Committee, said he considered the three-year record especially significant since it follows tax cuts totaling $7,400,000,000 a year voted in 1954.

Byrd, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, expressed doubts that the forecasts would be realized, saying:

"The small estimated surplus and debt reduction hang on two shaky reeds — first, increase in postal rates; and second, continuing increases in revenue from inflated corporate and individual income taxes.

"These estimates for next year are 5 per cent over the current year and 11 per cent over last year."

Included in the administration's budget revenue estimates is increased postal income it hopes to get from postal rate boosts, including a raise to 5 cents an ounce for letter mail.

The budget also is based on continuation of taxes at their present rates. This led Schoeppel to comment:

"I can't see how we can do anything but keep the tax rate in force if Congress is expected to meet the requests the President has outlined. That does not mean I'm happy about it."

Sen. Ellender (D-La) said he thought "the administration is skating on mighty thin ice" in predicting a balanced budget. He suggested two ways to achieve "real economy" would be "to curtail the foolish foreign spending and get the military boys in line."

Several legislators indicated they expect Eisenhower's request for a new natural gas bill to stir opposition. Eisenhower suggested a measure which would remove natural gas producers from federal regulation.

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) criticized the President's tax recommendations, saying the administration "has a great facility for forgetting campaign promises — I'm sure he promised tax relief to small business."

In the House, two Democrats were critical of the President's proposed housing program.

Rep. Rains (D-Ala), chairman of the House Housing subcommittee, called budget proposals on this subject "pitifully inadequate" and "a keen disappointment."

Rep. Teague (D-Tex), chairman of the House Veterans Committee, said the recommendation for increasing the GI home mortgage loan rate from 4½ to 5 per cent was "the last step to be taken," and is "not the answer" to the shortage of funds for such loans.

There was litle apparent enthusiasm for the President's proposal that the chief justice address Congress annually. Similar proposals died in the Rules Committee in the last Congress.

BUDGET DOLLAR FOR '58 — This chart, based on one released by the Budget Bureau in connection with President Eisenhower's annual budget message to Congress, shows proposed source of the 1958 federal budget dollar and how it will be spent.

More Borrowing Authority Asked by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress was told by President Eisenhower today that 35 million dollars in additional borrowing authority is needed to continue construction of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The President, in submitting his annual budget to Congress, said that amount is needed in the year beginning July 1 "to meet increased construction costs and provide for additional dredging work not originally contemplated . . ."

The U.S. part of the 27-foot-deep international waterway, being constructed by the St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp., is estimated to be more than 25 per cent completed.

Congress, in creating the corporation, authorized it to borrow up to 105 million dollars from the treasury to meet construction costs.

Under the President's proposal, the borrowing authority would be increased to 140 million dollars. The money would be returned to the treasury—over a 40- to 50-year period—through tolls from ships using the waterway.

This will make the third balanced budget in as many years under the Eisenhower administration. But the difference was expected to be so small, around two billion dollars, that it would leave no room for major tax reduction.

If the government spends 72 billion dollars during the fiscal year starting next July 1, it would be a peacetime high, exceeding present estimates of this year's spending rate by nearly three billion dollars.

Offsetting the mounting expenditures are steadily rising revenues stemming from continuing high prosperity. Revenues for the current fiscal year are estimated at nearly 70 billion dollars, with 73 billion the unofficial forecast for next year.

How to Spend $71 Billion

WASHINGTON (INS) — This is how President Eisenhower plans to spend the $71,807,000,000 requested of Congress today compared with recent years (in billions of dollars):

	1956 (Act.)	1957 (Est.)	1958 (Est.)

Total	66.540	68.900	71.807

Here Are Highlights of Budget Message

WASHINGTON (INS) — Here are the highlights of President Eisenhower's budget message to Congress:

Economy: "Today, almost 12 years after World War II, the United States has demonstrated that it is possible to sustain a high employment economy independent of war and continually unbalanced federal budgets . . . Productivity and living conditions have improved. With sound public and private policies, the prospect for continued economic growth is bright."

Inflation: "Maintaining a sound dollar requires of us both self-discipline and courage. At a time like the present when the economy is operating at a very high rate and is subject to inflationary pressures, government clearly should seek to alleviate rather than aggravate those pressures."

Taxes: "It is my firm belief that tax rates are still too high and that we should look forward to further tax reductions as soon as they can be accomplished within a sound budget policy . . . however, the reduction of tax rates must give way under present circumstances to the cost of meeting our urgent national responsibilities."

Defense: "Our nuclear weapons and our ability to employ them constitute the most effective deterrent to an attack on the free nations. We shall continue to expand our nuclear arsenal until an agreement has been reached for reduction and regulation of armaments under safeguarded inspection guaranties."

Domestic programs: "The government's leadership in assisting the people to satisfy their own needs has been so exercised that steady progress has taken place without paternalistic interference."

Foreign aid: "The United States can work toward its goal of lasting peace by continuing to help its friends overseas protect their freedom from foreign domination and better their economic conditions."

Agriculture: "Agriculture is confronted with serious adjustment problems that stem from international as well as domestic agriculture developments."

Natural resources: "They must be a concern not only of the federal government, but of everyone. Individual enterprise and state and local participation are essential to effective development of the nation's soils and forests, water, minerals, fuels and fisheries."

Labor and welfare: "The objective of the government's programs is to further the well-being of the people by increasing individual opportunity, fostering self-reliance, and providing safeguards against economic hazards."

Where We Get It

WASHINGTON (INS)—This is where the money will come from to run the federal government in the coming fiscal year along with revenue figures from recent years (in billions of dollars):

Bruins Want Sawchuk to Reconsider Quitting

ANXIOUS MOMENTS — Coach Dick Bye of Avondale undergoes an anxious moment while team manager Robert Palmateer (foreground) does some fingernail chewing in the 2nd period of last night's game between the Yellow Jackets and Lake Orion. Bye's grip on the towel relaxed a little later as Avondale trimmed the visiting Dragons, 73-53.

Ex-Wing Goalie Fails to Make Drill Session

Teammates Stunned by Decision After Getting NHL Honors

BOSTON (AP) — Officials, players and fans of the Boston Bruins were hopeful today that star goalie Terry Sawchuk would reconsider a decision to quit at the peak of his National Hockey League career.

Coach Milt Schmidt declined an official statement until after an afternoon practice, while the consensus among stunned teammates was that Sawchuk would change his mind and stay with the club.

The 27-year-old netminder, a three-time Vezina trophy winner, suddenly decided to quit hockey yesterday — a few hours after he had been announced as the NHL all star goalie in mid-season voting.

Sawchuk failed to report for practice and then advised club president Walter Brown of his intentions. Next he visited Schmidt, who was ill, and said he planned to return to his home in a Detroit suburb.

However, Sawchuk remained in Boston overnight although he was not available for comment. Friends reportedly were attempting to get him to reconsider.

The goalie's decision to quit became known shortly after the Bruins announced that Norm Defelice was being recalled from Hershey in the American Hockey league for tomorrow night's game against the Detroit Red Wings at Boston Garden.

Schmidt was quoted at the time as saying that Sawchuk "seems to be laboring under an emotional strain with something on his mind."

"We're bringing up Defelice because we think Sawchuk can benefit from the rest," Schmidt said.

Sawchuk, obtained from the Red Wings in a nine-player deal after the 1954-55 season, is considered the key to Boston's championship hopes in the tight NHL race. The Bruins trail the first place Montreal Canadiens by five points, and second place Detroit by two points.

FIRST AND 10—Lake Orion forward Jim Drake looks like he's about ready to be brought down by an unidentified Avondale tackler in the 1st quarter of their Oakland B League basketball game Tuesday night at Avondale. The Jackets defeated Orion 73-53.

Record Entry for Keg Meet

A record number of entries in every division will be shooting for the biggest purse in the history of the Michigan Elks Bowling Tournament when the 37th annual event gets under way in Pontiac Saturday afternoon.

Eight successive weekends of bowling will carry the competition through March 10 before the champions are crowned. The entire program will be conducted by Pontiac Lodge 810.

A total of 517 teams, 1165 doubles groups, and 2,330 single entries representing 41 different state lodges will be competing for the prize money which totals $14,990.

Trophies and cash awards will be presented to the winners in each division for both actual pinfall and handicap scores. An all-events winner will be determined by actual pinfall.

Host Pontiac holds a big edge in the entry list with a total of 106 teams, 204 doubles units, and 408 singles. Royal Oak, Kalamazoo, Muskegon, and Lansing are other cities well represented.

Another first in an Elks bowling tourney will be the appearance of a group from Sault Ste. Marie. Bowlers will also be here from Farmington, Ferndale, Detroit, Saginaw, Flint, Bay City, Adrian, Traverse City, Sturgis, Allegan, Alma, South Haven, St. Joseph, Alpena, Ann Arbor, Battle Creek, Port Huron, Plymouth, Benton Harbor, Big Rapids, Petoskey, Otsego, Owosso, Cadillac, Dearborn, Niles, Mt. Pleasant, Grand Rapids, Hillsdale, Monroe, Midland, Holland, Ionia, Manistee, and Jackson.

A Pontiac team is the defending champion in the event and will have a good chance to repeat bowling on familiar home alleys. The Little Horns, who copped first place in the handicap division with a 3071 score at Saginaw last winter, are entered again sponsored by Chuck's Shack.

Lockage Store for Men in Muskegon will also be out to repeat its title in the team actual pinfall standings. It won with a 2839 total last year. All but one individual champ are expected back.

Returning winners are the Niles doubles combination of E. Deeds-J. Bierwagen, who hit 1248 last year in actual pinfall, the doubles handicap duo of Ed Baes and Dick Masters, of Lansing, and two keglers who tied for the top slot in actual pinfall for singles. Walter Mitchell, of Ann Arbor, and Saginaw resident Reuben Grover both finished with 656. Not scheduled to compete is 1956 singles handicap victor Frank Daigle, of Muskegon.

Bowling each weekend will be held on Saturday and Sunday with 36 alleys in use at the Elks Temple and Huron Bowl. Team play will be limited to the Elks with the doubles and singles keeping the 24 alleys at Huron busy.

The event will be operated under the direction of general chairman Russell M. Dodd with Wylie McClellan the tournament manager. J. Earl "Cap" Holliday, former state president who was instrumental in bringing the tourney to Pontiac this year, is honorary chairman.

R. D. Bonnell, National President of the Elks Bowling Association, Michigan leader Robert Managh, state BPOE secretary Ralph Benedict and Pontiac's Exalted Ruler Jack M. Bender will preside at the tourney. Ten past presidents are expected to be on hand.

It is the biggest single event to be staged by the local lodge during 1957 and its members are turning in an all-out effort to make it is the best tournament ever.

Battle of Contenders in Saginaw-PHS Clash

In pre-season predictions, coaches of the Saginaw Valley Conference saw Pontiac and Saginaw as the two teams most likely to succeed this season.

The coaches had an accurate crystal ball in this respect, but now is the time to find out which will be the bride and which of the two will be the bridesmaid.

The big meeting takes place at Pontiac High Friday night and it will be the roughest encounter of the year for the unbeaten Chiefs.

Saginaw, which is a 3-1 in SVC play, and a 5-1 overall, must win to gain a first place with the PHS. For the Chiefs, a victory would mean a two game lead with a second half schedule of six league games to play.

The Trojans have a big veteran team with seven lettermen back from last year.

Just after opening game of the season however Saginaw lost its high scoring center Bill Frost for disciplinary reasons.

His sudden loss hurt Saginaw in its only loop loss to Flint Northern by a five point margin, 53-48, but since then the Trojans have recovered and have swept by Arthur Hill, Flint Central and Bay City Central.

Led by Deb Blondin, second only to Pontiac's Dave Diehm in the SVC scoring race, Saginaw is probably the only team in the league which can match the height of the PHS quintet.

Last night Saginaw set a new school scoring record in whipping Bay City Handy, 101-55, with Blondin and Dick Yates each getting 19 points and three other Trojans hitting in the double figures.

Saginaw has one of the better balanced scoring teams in the SVC with Blondin, Yates and Bill Halliday averaging in double figures.

PHS officials announced there has been a great demand for tickets. The ducats have been made available at Osmuns downtown until 5:00 p.m. Friday, or until they are all gone, and at the high school from 2:30 to 4:00 until Thursday.

No phone orders are being accepted. Game time is 8:00 p.m. Friday.

Shaw's, Griff's Take City Games

Jewelers Near Century Mark With 97-47 Win; Grill Rally Pays Off

Shaw's Jewelers almost touched the century mark last night and Griff's Grill skipped past Bestway in adult City League basketball games at Pontiac High.

The undefeated Jeweler powerhouse rolled to a 97-47 victory over Booth Homes in American League action for its 6th win of the season. Shaw's had half a dozen players in double-figured scoring with Dave Sebring's 17 points at the top.

Griff's overcame a 16-10 1st quarter deficit to defeat Bestway 44-41 in National League play. Bestway's 4th period rally was too little and too late. The loser's Gerland Spangler took scoring honors with 13 points.

Class D activity at Lincoln Junior High found Green's P & H, Doodlebugs and Central Christian all winning by wide margins.

Frank Wilson's 13 points featured Green's 45-21 decision over the Elks and Arch Bell netted 15 points to pace the Doodlebugs to a 51-23 triumph over Home Lunch International League contest.

Minoso's Annual Feud

Major League Holdout War Officially Begins

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Major League holdout front opened officially today when outfielder Minnie Minoso began his annual tug-of-war with the Chicago White Sox.

Some of Minoso's past battles with the Sox front office have approached comic-opera proportions, and this one appears headed that way right off.

The White Sox received Minoso's unsigned contract from Havana yesterday with the notation:

"It looks like this contract was intended for the Minoso of 1953 or 1954, not the one who had such a fine season in 1956. Please send corrected contract."

Vice President Chuck Comiskey went along with the gag.

"Minnie is right," he said. "The contract should be corrected. It should be addressed to Saturnino Orestes Arrieta Minoso."

Minoso, who batted .316 last year, reportedly was offered $32,000, the same as last year.

With the exception of the Washington Senators, none of the major league clubs has come up with any serious holdouts as yet and most of the top line players are coming into the fold without argument. New York Yankee star Mickey Mantle sent back his first contract, but his case isn't regarded as serious — yet.

Cousy and Johnston Pace Win for East

BOSTON (AP) — Playmaker Bob Cousy and shotmaster Neil Johnston make such an unbeatable combination that opposing National Basketball Assn. players are grateful they aren't teamed regularly.

The fabulous pair made the difference last night in carrying the East to a 109-97 triumph over the West in the seventh annual all-star game at Boston Garden.

Cousy, the 6-1 Boston Celtics' backcourt ace, won the game's most valuable player award for the second time. He has appeared in each of the all-star shows to date and was named MVP in 1954.

Coach Johnny Jordan of Notre Dame experienced his first losing season in five years during the last basketball campaign.

Berrios vs. Cadilli in Televised Bout

BOSTON (AP) — Rugged Miguel Berrios of Puerto Rico, a top-ranked contender for Sandy Saddler's featherweight title, meets stylish Gil Cadilli in a scheduled 10-round bout tonight at Mechanics Building.

Berrios and Cadilli will be making their New England debut. The bout will be telecast nationally, ABC, with Boston stations blacked out.

The Puerto Rican, managed by Jimmy Angelo who handled former heavyweight contender Roland LaStarza, is seeking a shot at Saddler's title. Angelo has offered a $15,000 guarantee to the featherweight champion to defend his crown against Berrios.

Golden Bears OK Elliott to Boost Grid Fortunes

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California looks today to young Pete Elliott, former Michigan quarterback, to boost its football fortunes in the Pacific Coast Conference.

California lured the 30-year-old Elliott from Nebraska with a three-year contract estimated at about $18,000 per year.

Pete directed the Cornhuskers last year in his first season as head coach and had been voted a pay raise to $14,500 there. His club had a record of 4 victories and 6 defeats with a 3-3 mark in the Big Seven.

Succeeding 54-year-old Lynn O. "Pappy" Waldorf, the split-T advocate becomes the 21st and youngest head man in California's grid history.

Waldorf took the Golden Bears to the Rose Bowl in 1949, 1950 and 1951 but last season they finished next to last in the nine-club PCC with a 2-5 record. He announced his retirement before the season ended.

Athletic Director Greg Engelhard announced late last night that Elliott had accepted the California pact and had been approved unanimously by the executive committee of the Associated Students of U. C., the group making the final decision.

Immediately after that Nebraska said backfield Coach Bill Jennings would succeed Elliott.

Paul Hastings, executive director of the Associated Students, told newsmen, "We felt Elliott had all the qualifications from the stand-point of technical knowledge, personality and philosophy that we wanted."

Elliott served as assistant coach at Oregon State in 1949 and 1950 and at Oklahoma from 1951 through 1955.

A native of Bloomington, Ill., Pete won 12 varsity letters at Michigan, four each in football, basketball and golf. Graduated in 1949, he was awarded the Big Ten medal given annually to the senior who compiles the highest scholastic average and contributes the most to his alma mater.

Engelhard said Elliott was one of six coaches under consideration during the recent NCAA meetings in St. Louis, but admitted that not all of the six were available. The first time Pete talked with the California interviewers was just eight days ago, the athletic director said.

'Happy to Be With Tigers'

Finigan Enters Fold

DETROIT (AP)—"Great to be with a winner" goes the old baseball saying. But for Jim Finigan, it's great to be with a contender.

The 28-year-old infielder, who signed his 1957 contract yesterday, calls his trade to the Detroit Tigers from the Kansas City Athletics "a wonderful break." Finigan and relief pitchers Jim Bunning and Al Aber are the latest to come to terms, bringing to 21 the number of Tigers in the fold.

There'll be plenty of pressure on the stockily - built infielder who banged out a .302 batting average in his first season in the majors, slipped to .255 and then to .216 last season. He will scrap with young Reno Bertoia for the regular third base job, with the Tigers planning on using Ray Boone at first base.

"But it'll be a lot different playing with a club that's going somewhere," said Finigan. "A player tries to maintain confidence in himself, and you fight the best way you know how, but it's just not the same with a club that is a consistent loser."

Finigan who attends the University of Kansas City during the winter, came to Detroit for a March of Dimes banquet and got his contract business squared away during a brief huddle with general manager Spike Briggs.

Aber and Bunning could solidify the Tiger pitching staff headed by Paul Foytack, Frank Lary and Bill Hoeft. Aber was 4-4 last year, all his decisions coming in relief, while Bunning recorded a 5-1 mark after joining the club in late July.

Weight was Aber's big problem last year, but he told the club he is in "the best physical shape of my career and looking forward to a good year."

Bunning has compiled a 9-3 record pitching for Marianoa in the winter league in Cuba. He is the league leader in earned runs with a 1.48 mark.

Maple Tankers Win Third EML Contest

Accounting for all but one 1st place and setting two pool and school marks, Birmingham's high school swimmers last night won their 3rd straight Eastern Michigan League match at home against Ferndale. Dales were swamped 71-23. Maples lead the EML.

Tom Bechtel swam a record (1:08.1) 100-yard orthodox breaststroke. F. J. McGinnis, Jon Overgard, Bechtel and Pete Sintz swam a record (1:37.8) 200-yard freestyle relay. Jay Meyers' team took 9 firsts, 6 seconds and one third place.

Saginaw High went outside the Valley for its Tuesday night tune-up, against Lansing Sexton. Trojans emerged on the winning side of a 50-40 count. Flint Central entertains Bay City Handy in an afternoon meet today.

Chiefs resume SVC action Friday in a night test at Saginaw High and Arthur Hill's leaders will be at Flint Central.

Police Mistake Oklahoma Star as Wanted Thug

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two city detectives buttonholed Oklahoma's All-America football star Tommy McDonald yesterday thinking they had a long-sought bandit—but the identification was a fumble.

McDonald was in town to receive the Maxwell Award as college player of the year and stopped into a downtown airlines' office to buy a ticket to Detroit where he is to attend a March of Dimes banquet tonight.

A girl clerk took a long look at McDonald and motioned to the detectives in a backroom. They were waiting there on a chance of catching the "good-looking" lone-wolf bandit who has been preying on women clerks in city airline offices and loan companies.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY — Tommy McDonald (left) halfback from Oklahoma had detectives closing in on him at the Philadelphia airport when an airline ticket saleswoman thought he might have been the "lone wolf" bandit who has been preying on women. The sketch is that of the bandit. McDonald was in Philly to sign a pro pact with the Eagles.

Farmington High Matmen Make 1st Home Showing

An Oakland County school which opened its first wrestling season a year ahead of schedule a week ago is now busily preparing for its first home match coming up Jan. 22.

Farmington High School became the 6th county school to take up the mat game and the third newcomer this season when it drew up a late schedule after originally planning to just have intramural wrestling.

The Falcons turned in an impressive showing in bowing by a one-point margin in their opener at Southfield and return to action next week against Williamston in the second outing on a six-match slate.

Coach Gene Freed has been drilling his team hard since a hurried schedule was drawn up. Southfield will be met again as will Williamston twice and Livonia Bentley twice.

Jerry Cassell, 138, Bob Dwyer, 133, and 175-pounder Sheldon Beckwith all scored pins in their first matches in actual competition. Decisions were won by 112-pounder Nick Staudt and heavyweight George Fawlett. Other key Falcons are grid star Steve McCane, Don Shuster and Jim Marsh, veteran cross country runners.

St. Clement No Match as Rams Win Easy Tilt

St. Frederick Quintet Romps Over Crusaders, 76-34, in SCL Game

Coach Gene Wright will probably never be more relaxed at a basketball game than he was last night.

He sat back in his chair and watched his St. Fred cagers slaughter a hapless Center Line St. Clement quintet, 76-34, in a Suburban Catholic League tilt at the southside gymnasium.

The visiting Crusaders had no business on the same floor with the Rams. St. Fred rolled into a 22-7 1st quarter lead and by halftime the margin had stretched to an overwhelming 42-13.

Everyone wearing a Ram uniform, 11 in all, saw action and all of them scored. Tom Derocher poured in 22 points in the 1st half, then sat out the final two peroids. Bill Mountain tallied 19 points. Louis Hallman topped St. Clement with 13.

EYES RIGHT — The St. Michael cheering section at last night's game against St. Benedict could really be called one-sided. All of the rooters are turned to their right for action taking place down court, and it must not be too good as several of the fans hold their heads with their hands in dismay. St. Mikes lost 66-46.

St. Benedict Slams St. Mike 66-46

By CHUCK ABAIR

A high-powered scoring duo of Larry Gacki and Marty Massucci paced unbeaten St. Benedict, to a somewhat easy 66-46 trouncing of St. Michael in a Suburban Catholic League game at the Pontiac High gym last night.

The forecourt pair outscored the Shamrocks alone combining for 48 points, 28 by Gacki, as the visitors won their 5th straight in the loop and 6th for the season.

The loss dropped the Mikemen into a third place tie with local rival St. Frederick which got back in the win column. Both are now 3-2 in the SCL.

Although never very close, the game was never out of reach of the locals until a streak of 10 straight points in the final minutes doubled the margin.

Key points by Gacki broke up several St. Mike chances to make it close in the second and third periods, while Marty Massucci took over the star role in the last quarter.

The Highland Park quintet romped to a 24-13 1st stanza margin and upped that to a 15-point lead before the home club hit six quick digits in the 2nd. Two goals by Gacki gave the winners a 34-23 margin at halftime.

A five-point spree lat in the 3rd canto cut the St. Ben lead to eight but again it was the bespectacled Gacki hitting on a jump shot to change things.

The Shamrocks hit a fair 30.6 from the floor but could convert only 10-for-23 on fouls missing four in a row during a third period rally. Lefty Ken Halpin topped the scoring with 14 followed by Dan Drops, who hit five straight jump shots, with 12.

St. Benedict's reserves copped the prelim, 51-40 as Al Philion hooped 12. Pat Campbell and Chuck Steinhelper caged 10 apiece for the Mike juniors.

Jackets Whip Lake Orion 5 Easily, 73-53

Racehorse Play Gains Oakland B Victory for Improved Avon

By BILL CORNWELL

Avondale's racehorse offense completely demoralized Lake Orion last night as the Yellow Jackets rushed to a convincing 73-53 win in an Oakland B League basketball game at Avondale.

Avon's surprisingly easy triumph was also an impressive one. The vastly-improved Jackets combined speed and aggressiveness with alert defense and backboard control to thoroughly outclass Orion.

Their pressing defense harassed and befuddled the Dragons, often forcing them into hasty and wild shots at the evasive bucket. Orion's attack became fully disorganized more than once.

The Jacket's' fast-breaking assault frequently found two and three players converging on the basket for easy layups, leaving the confused Orion cagers stranded at midcourt.

Avondale stormed into a 16-8 1st quarter lead and boosted the margin to 34-20 at halftime. A robust 24 to 10 advantage in the 3rd quarter settled the issue once and for all.

A well-balanced attack keynoted Avon's performance. Steve Saunders and Dick Gronski netted 14 points apiece. Tim Mulholland, playing his finest game of the season, collected 12 points.

Jim Drake, Lake Orion's best performer last night, and Nick Niera each accounted for 14 points while Dave Golladay added 10. Ralph MacLachlan, carrying a 13.6 scoring average into the contest, was limited to four points.

Lakers Whip Bloomfield Hills; Lapeer Gets 4th

The West Bloomfield Lakers walloped local rival Bloomfield Hills and Lapeer rallied in the last half to trip Davison in two of the most important non - league contests around the area last night.

The West Bloomfield Lekers walwide open following a close 1st quarter to post its second season triumph, 49-29. Rolf Gordhamer garnered 19 points and versatile John Lucadam 12 to lead the winning cause. Bob Elston topped the Hills scoring with 14.

An almost complete domination of the third period sent Lapeer off and winging to a 51-43 win, its 4th in seven outings.

Davison had led by one at halftime. Tom Wilson tallied 18 and Dennis Troy 11 for the victors.

Elsewhere, Livonia Bentley handed Farmington a 48-38 beating, Detroit St. Gregory nipped Royal Oak Schrine, 38-36, Brighton belted South Lyon by a 53-36 score, Utica tripped Lakeview, 59-49, and Dearborn Roosevelt romped over Oak Park, 73-28.

The Falcons gave Bentley a battle for three periods but fell apart in the final eight minutes. Don McDonald starred for the losers with 18, topping Bentley's George King who had 14.

Troy Thrashes Clawson, 62-39 for Loop Win

The loop-leading Troy Colts of the Oakland B League went wild in the last half to hand Clawson a 62-39 thrashing for their 5th win in a row in league play last night. Avondale and Roseville scored triumphs in other O-B action.

Clawson made things interesting for the first half in its hopes for an upset and trailed only 30-27 at halftime. But the Colts poured it on the rest of the way to easily clinch the verdict.

Four Troy boys hit double numbers led by Dick Booth with 14. Turner was high for the losers with 11. Troy is now 7-1 for the season.

Roseville had things all its own way in drubbing Fitzgerald by a 53-35 score. It was the 1st loop triumph for the Bulldogs.

Eaglets Breeze to 6th Victory

Paul Franckowiak meshed 17 points to pace undefeated Orchard Lake St. Mary to a 58-48 victory over Ferndale St. James last night in a Suburban Catholic League basketball game at Orchard Lake.

Three other Eaglet players joined Franckowiak in the double figured scoring column as they breezed to their 4th league triumph and 6th overall. Art Goisdzinski netted 12 points while Stan Moniuszko and Pete Madelans each made 16.

The Eaglets jumped into a 17-11 1st quarter lead and were never headed. At halftime St. Mary's advantage had increased to 33-19. Center Ray Rieti sparked the Dales with 18 points.

In another SCL contest yesterday, Royal Oak St. Mary walloped inept St. Rita of Hazel Park, 64-32, at Royal Oak.

Cranbrook Quintet Wins First, 45-35

Flashing a well-balanced attack, Cranbrook's basketball team won its 1st game of the season Tuesday night with a 45-35 decision over Kennedy Collegiate of Windsor on the Cranbrook court.

Three Cranes have double figures in the scoring column, headed by Herb Stanton who hung up 13 points. Chuck Grube and Bernie Harris made 10 apiece as the Cranes snapped a six-game losing streak.

Cranbrook trailed at the end of the 1st quarter, 12-10, but forged and never again lost the lead. Ed Mandzak sparked Kennedy with 12 poits.

Berkley Matmen Get By Hazel Park, 22-17

Dominating the competition in the lower weights, the Berkley Bears had to hold off a game Hazel Park rally to gain a hard-fought 22-17 wrestling victory in a battle of Oakland County's mat powers at the Viking gym last night.

One pin, the only fall of the night, five decisions, and a draw resulted in the BHS scoring. The Bears took a 22-5 lead int the closing matches but Hazel Park swept the last four in succession to make it close.

Cus A'Amato, manager of new heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson, has sold his entire stable of preliminary fighters.

PKC Show Has Many Unusual Breeds

By H. GUY MOATS

It would be a pretty safe wager that not more than one in 100 persons who like dogs has ever seen a Papillon! A lot more people don't even know what a Papillon is, let alone having ever seen one.

This little dog is a European breed, takes his name from the outlandish ears he sports—like butterfly wings—hence the name of "butterfly dog" often applied to him. And dog show followers and others who like them, may see a Papillon Saturday at the all - breed, unbenched Pontiac Kennel Club's show at Waterford Community Activities building.

Show runs from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. with many classes and many breeds among the 477 entries.

Pontiac's Animal Rescue League shelter will receive all the gate receipts to help pay for the new shelter here.

Besides the Papillon, there will be Scottish deerhounds, and the odd old English sheepdog, and a sleepy-eyed bloodhound.

Many Pontiac area owners are among the exhibitors, including Georgilee Anderson (collie); Mrs. Joyce Caughell (cocker); Reg Armstrong (German sh. Pointer); James Freeman (St. Bernard); F. A. Porter (German Shepherd); John Eicher (Golden retriever); Marion Barnhart (boxer); Emil Lederer (shepherd), and William Pascher (Brittany).

Two classes will be provided for junior handlers, with nice trophies for winners of each class (boys, girls). Candy bars will also go to all other competitors. This feature goes on at 2 p.m.

Late Season Hunting OK

For a number of Pontiac area duck hunters, midwinter shooting has turned out to be a very fine experience.

During the last week or so, Jack Greathouse and John Kinzler tried the marshy woodlands of the Beauchamp Duck club at Des Arc, Ark., and during a six-day stay never failed to take their limit of mallards.

Other area hunters who dropped in at Des Arçs included John Stoppert, Paul Stoppert and Lyle Sawin, who flew down for three days hunting. Ed Lintz and Jake Kremski spent lesser time there, but all did OK with the wildfowl.

This was Greathouse's 2nd trip of the season to the club, which he called "one of the best managed in the Stutgart area."

oBth Greathouse ano Kinzler are camera fans and made many pictures of the big flocks that congregate in the area.

Solunar Tables

Here are the solunar tables for the ensuing week, commencing Thursday and ending Wednesday Jan. 23. Tables were prepared especially for this area by John Alden Knight, to aid in selecting the best times for hunting and fishing.

7,377 Camp Sites in State's Parks

Michigan'h 58 state parks have a total of 7,377 camp sites, according to latest tabulations by the conservation department's parks division. Only 4,744 of these sites are equipped with electrical facilities.

Parks in the northern lower peninsula lead in the number of camp sites, with space for 3,887 tents or trailers at 25 parks in the region.

Camping areas at several state parks receive tremendous use throughout the spring, summer and fall seasons. During 1956, an estimated 30,000-36,000 persons had to be turned away from parks because of overcrowded campgrounds.

Real Winter Weather Aids Ice-Fishermen, Hunter Too

By JACK PATTERSON

The old saw that goes "as the days grow longer, the cold gets stronger" seems to be working as well as ever, although frankly we hadn't noticed the days growing that much longer. Current temperatures are useful, however, for a variety of outdoor activities. Ice-building is one. While we're temporarily concerned mainly with the annual skating rink construction, in the broader sense this ice-building weather is of greatest use to the winter fisherman. Safe ice is the biggest single factor in his sport.

While we're on the ice, in spirit anyway, we might put in a plug for that old standby the spud. Heavy, cumbersome and exquisitely painful when dropped on a half-frozen toe, the spud is as useful a tool as the fisherman might find.

Aside from its primary purpose of exposing water a spud is invaluable for freeing odds and ends of gear wedded to the ice and as a lever for easing heavy moving chores, such as ice shanties.

New-fangled giant corkscrews, king-sized brace and bits are all very well, and will cut holes in the ice. A prisoner might eventually cut a hole through a masonry wall with a rusty spoon, too, but that wouldn't necessarily be the best method of holing out.

A gimmick that is catching on in various parts of the ice-fishing belt, and was, so far as we know, started on our own Lake Huron shore, is the business of what might be called "ice motels".

Complete to bedrooms, kitchens and baths, the living room of such units has, in addition to a TV, a hole in the floor through which the angler and family can simultaneously watch the Saturday afternoon hockey game and catch a supply of fish without leaving their respective easy chairs.

We can see no particular reason why enterprising local boat liverymen couldn't look into this situation for "local application." We have long maintained that ice fishing would be a better sport if conducted in a temperature of 72-degrees.

Rabbit hunters have good snow conditions but a rather on-again off-again supply of rabbits. Extremely cold weather may cause bunnies to hole up for a bit but not for long. Like other animals that lack gas or oil heated quarters, rabbits have to eat to keep warm. If they're not out today, check them tomorrow.

Various trial balloons have been launched recently to test reaction to possible legislative changes aimed at restoring private shooting (pheasant) preserves.

We have some ideas on the matter that will be presented at an early date. We stand in favor if such legislation would permit commercial shooting preserves.

Johnny Simpson of Orlando, Fla., trained and drove three harness champions in 1956. They were Torpid, Noble Adios and Hickory Smoke.

Wildlife Week Stresses Game Habitat Needs

The 20th annual observance of National Wildlife Week has been set for March 17-23, according to the National Wildlife Federation, chief sponsor of the event.

The 1957 theme will be "Homes for Wildlife," stressing the habitat needs of various species in America. An educational campaign will be conducted to point out how soil erosion, overgrazing, unwise drainage, forest fire, water pollution and other abuses destroy natural habitat and deplete wild game populations.

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club has just embarked on a series of work bees to help the state improve game habits in this section. First of the "bees" was held last Sunday at Holly, Ortonville and Bald Mt. park and recreation areas.

Bogart Played Greatest Tough Guy Role Off Stage

(When actor Humphrey Bogart died Monday, he left a notable list of screen credits—and a widespread reputation for living life to the hilt off camera. This is the first of three articles recounting highlights in the movie tough guy's life and career and describing his courageous fight against cancer.)

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Humphrey Bogart once named Katharine Hepburn, Greta Garbo, John Barrymore and W. C. Fields among the most fabulous characters in Hollywood.

There was one glaring omission: Himself.

And the picture of Bogart the fabulous was rounded out, after 20 years of award-winning screen performances and private life hi-jinks, by the way he fought a losing battle for life against cancer.

From the comforting confines of his favorite armchair Bogey would sip his scotch and soda, growl at the world and defy even his closest pals to venture a word of sympathy.

And if any hardy soul dared to say, "How are you?" Bogey fixed the offender with a stony stare and snarled, "Great!"

It was the typical reply of a character who built a real-life personality on the rugged foundations of a sneer-and-leer movie reputation.

SURGERY TWICE

The 56-year-old actor underwent surgery last March when a cancerous growth on his esophagus was removed. Then in November he was hospitalized for further treatment that, his doctor now has said, was simply "gunshot treatment" to make him live a little longer—without really bettering his condition.

The first operation was dubbed by Bogey himself as "highly successful," and he returned to a semi-normal life gadding about his handsome home in Brentwood and sailing his beloved 65-foot yawl, the "Santana."

But after his last hospital stay Bogart took it easier and easier and at his physician's insistence stuck to his armchair and house slippers.

"Bogey was in horrible pain most of the time," a friend admitted, "but he never complained. His attitude about his illness was the greatest I've ever seen."

Only once, when he was suffering the tortures of the condemned, did Bogart reluctantly confess to a pal:

"Aw, it's a little rough!"

Waited on by his wife, actress Lauren Bacall, the academy-award winning actor "held court" every afternoon from 5:30 to 7. He usually received his pals in his huge library where he sat slumped in a brown leather chair wearing a sport shirt, slacks and a pair of black velvet slippers.

On occasions, if he wasn't up to par, he stayed in bed and greeted his friends in robe and pajamas from a sumptuous bedroom on the second floor.

Always he was caustic, taunting and often downright insulting, but his pals loved it—and him.

WANTED NO SYMPATHY

"You couldn't be nice to Bogey," a crony explained, "he'd despise you—or challenge you to a duel."

He once proposed such a duel to a long-time friend, producer Milton Bren, after Bren remonstrated with Bogart over a conversation he was having with Raymond Massey.

"Bogey wanted to beat me up," Bren recalled, "in fact he told me he was going to knock my block off. I said, 'Okay, let's go.' Then he said, 'Miltie, you're my friend, help me out of this chair!'

"I helped him up and then he said, 'Miltie, it would be awfully silly to fight with our bare fists. Why don't we use long-stemmed roses?' Then he said he had a better suggestion:

"'Why not let our wives fight it out? But I can tell you right now, mine would win—she's taller!'"

Find City Resident Guilty of Rape

A Circuit Court jury found Jessie Eberhardt, 22, of 308 Howard McNeil St. guilty of the rape Nov. 11 of a six-year-old neighbor girl.

Sentence will be passed by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Replacements for Judge

GRAND RAPIDS (UP)— Circuit Judges Raymond L. Smith of Holland and Howard L. Campbell of Cadillac are scheduled as vacation replacements for Superior Judge Thaddeus B. Taylor, who leaves next Friday on a two-month vacation. Judge Taylor announced his replacements Monday.

Heart Statistics Explanation Due

Changing Ratio Among Population Age Groups Affects Figures

NEW YORK (INS)—An expert on death rates insists that the number of Americans being killed by heart disease each year is not growing so fearfully as it seems.

Edward A. Lew told a New York Heart Association conference:

"The real increase in mortality from this disease during the past 15 years has been relatively small, certainly not of the magnitude to justify the alarms expressed in the press and elsewhere."

Lew, a statistician for the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., said, for example, that the heart disease death rate among white males actually has shown "only a modest increase" since 1940, while there has been "little, if any, increase in the mortality of white females."

He did not argue with statistics showing that the number of deaths attributed to heart disease has been climbing swiftly in recent years to the point where the nation's No. 1 killer claimed nearly 400,000 lives in 1956.

But Lew did try to explain these figures by pointing out that since 1949, when a new international death certificate was devised, many deaths now blamed on heart disease would previously have been laid to other "secondary" ailments.

Besides, he said, medical science now recognizes a definition of "Heart Disease" much broader than formerly.

And finally, the heart conference was reminded, the number of older persons in the U.S.—those most prone to coronary illness—has been growing along with the increase in life expectancy.

The life insurance expert summed it up this way:

"In other words, probably less than 15 per cent of the increase in the death rate can be attributed to a real increase in the mortality from this disease."

Woman's Perogative Overturns Own Car

WACO, TEX. (UP) — Officers Sam Aday and C. M. Watson were rather startled when they investigated an upside down car at an intersection. A woman crawled out and began pointing her finger at them.

"I was driving the car," she said indignantly. "This is my automobile, and it is my perogative to turn it over where and when I pleased."

She was jailed on a charge of drunkenness.

Europe Buying Coal From United States

NEW YORK—Coal mined in the United States is being delivered in Europe in close competition with foreign-produced coal. The cost is by far the lowest of any national coal - producing country. Seventy per cent or more of the cost of American coal at the consumer's plant in Europe represents transportation and handling charges.

'Love Me Tender'

Hollywood Headlines

Alan Ladd Will Star Son in 'The Human Equation'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Nine-year-old David Ladd, son of Sue and Alan Ladd, scored such a hit in "The Big Land" with his dad that Alan has bought a special property in which to star David during his summer vacation.

"The Human Equation" is the story of a youngster who is the son of two psychiatrists who have widely opposed theories of bringing up a child, with the unfortunate boy in the middle.

Alan denies that putting his son to work is the reason he gave Sue a new white Cadillac, one of the first of the 1957 line to be delivered in Hollywood.

Mocambo's boss, Charlie Morrison, is having his life story put on the screen by Monte Proser Enterprises. In fact, Proser has rented the part of the Mocambo where Larry Finley formerly held forth in his night spot.

In the Morrison saga, pretty Mary Morrison, who has carried on during Charlie's long illness, will be pictured as the Texas Guinan of this era. Not that Mary is in the least like the flamboyant Texan, but she's done a great job in a new type of business for her.

Tomorrow, Proser starts rehearsing show girls at the Mocambo for the opening of his nightclub in Las Vegas.

CANTOR TO RELAX

Eddie Cantor goes to Palm Springs today to recuperate from his 65th birthday on TV. He telephoned to tell me that Dr. Eliot Corday recommended that he play nine holes of golf but that he stay away from directing and producing TV.

Eddie said he's never going to take on a job as big as the Jackie Gleason Show again—all the hard work threw him into a collapse. However, his rating of 28.4, as against the popular, popular Perry Como's 25, gave him a great lift.

And by the way, I just loved Perry on the Dinah Shore Show. Loved Dinah, too, and Art Carney and Stubby Kaye. In color—this was a real treat.

I happen to know that Hal Wallis will have his eyes glued to the TV set when Thelma Ritter stars in "The Story of Mary Devlin" for the Telephone Time series. Hal is very interested in this extraordinary true-life tale, possibly as a movie for Shirley Booth.

Mary Devlin is a woman who owned a small candy store in New York. Last May a juvenile delinquent accidentally killed Mary's teenage son.

Through an unusual chain of events, this courageous woman—who is being both praised and criticized for her action—has taken over the rehabilitation of the young killer of her son. Should be fascinating on both TV and in the movies.

CHEERED BOGART

As long ago as November, Harry Cohn knew that Humphrey Bogart would never be well enough to star in "The Good Shepherd." He kept telling Bogie that he was waiting for him, and refused to cast the picture, saying it was held up because of Navy operations.

Bogie was sure that he was going to make that picture and he discussed the story with me. The last picture he made was "The Harder They Fall." In fact he made several at Columbia, all of them money-makers.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Mrs. Robert Mitchum is in Good Samaritan Hospital incognito for minor surgery.

Career, Marriage, Not Housewife—Say Teenagers

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Girls these days want both a career and marriage — but they don't want to become housewives.

That's the report by the University of Michigan Survey Research Center, which interviewed a cross-section of teenagers at the request of the Girl Scouts.

The Center questioned 1,925 girls ged 11 to 19 in 66 counties of the United States. Only three per cent said they want to be housewives, although 94 per cent hope to be married "someday."

Under 16, girls make more plans about their education and personal achievement. After that age, the center found, they think more about marriage and motherhood.

Some 80 per cent of the girls interviewed want to be like their mothers when they grow up. Only 2 per cent want careers in the movies or television.

"Most girls aspire to a middle class pattern of life," the report said, but only 7 per cent want to marry men who work on farms, in factories or at a trade or craft.

Earl of Athlone Dies at Kensington Palace

LONDON (UP)—The Earl of Athlone, great-uncle of Queen Elizabeth II, died today at Kensington Palace. He was 82.

He had been in failing health for some time.

The earl was a younger brother of the late Queen Mary, wife of Britain's King George V. Born Prince Alexander Augustus Frederick William Alfred George of Teck in 1874, he became the first Earl of Athlone and vViscount Trematon when titles of German origin were abolished in Britain in 1917.

After fighting with distinction for Britain in three wars, Lord Athlone was governor general of Canada through World War II, from 1940 until March 1946.

Survivors include his wife, Princess Alice, daughter of the first Duke of Albany and a granddaughter of Queen Victoria, and one daughter, Lady Mary Abel Smith. One son was killed in an automobile accident in 1928 and another died a few months after birth.

Hollywood Fanfare Ruled Out

Bogart Rites to Be Simple

HOLLYWOOD (UP)— The Hollywood hullabaloo and phony trappings at which Humphrey Bogart frequently leveled barbed verbal darts will be missing when they bury Bogie Thursday.

Simplicity, which he liked in his lusty life, prevails in the rites planned for 12:30 p.m. at All Saints Episcopal Church in Beverly Hills.

The Rev. Kermit Kestelone, assistant rector, will read the short Episcopal funeral service. The eulogy will be written and delivered by John Huston, who directed Bogart in three of his most noteworthy movies, the Academy award-winning "African Queen," "The Maltese Falcon" and "The Treasure of the Sierra Madre."

There will be no honorary pallbearers. And the widow, actress Lauren Bacall — Bogie's beloved "Betty" or "Baby" — asked the omission of flowers, preferring, instead, donations to the American Cancer Society.

Burial will be at Forest Lawn Memorial Park Park in nearby Glendale.

Bogart died in his sleep of cancer early yesterday morning at his Holmby Hills home, with "Baby" at his bedside.

Steels, Motors Recoup Losses

NEW YORK (AP)—Steels and motors recovered to give the stock market a slightly higher tone in early trading today.

Pivotal stocks advanced from fractions to a point or so. There was a liberal scattering of losses.

After an active opening, the pace slowed.

News that the steel industry is planning record expansion this year led to renewed interest in this group. In addition, the steep losses by both steels and motors in recent sessions made these shares more attractive to buyers.

Bethlehem and Youngstown went ahead more than a point each. Republic Steel was up about a point and U.S. Steel a fraction.

General Motors, Chrysler and Ford were all steady to higher.

Leading rails displayed a run of fractional advances with Southern Pacific and New York Central about the best.

But oils were easy and there were a number of losers among miscellaneous manufacturers. Aircrafts were firm, utilities mixed. Building materials showed an upside trend.

Among gainers were Westinghouse Electric, Johns-Manville, International Nickel, Allied Chemical and Douglas Aircraft. Losers included Kennecott Copper, American Tobacco, Dow Chemical and American Can.

Opening blocks included U.S. Steel up ⅛ at 66¾ on 4,000 shares, U.S. Lines up 1¾ at 35 on 1,900 shares and Ford off ¼ at 54¼ on 1,300.

Auto Show Opens in Detroit Armory

DETROIT (AP) — The 44th annual Detroit Auto Show opens Saturday for a nine-day stand with officials predicting the largest crowds in history.

Harold Johns, chairman of the show committee, said that besides the 1957 models to be displayed in the Detroit Artillery Armory on the northwest side, there will be other auto attractions.

With three times as much space as usual, increasing numbers of foreign cars, antique autos and industrial and educational displays will be shown, Johns said.

Blind Spaniel Needs Seeing-Eye Master

A blind spaniel is seeking a seeing-eye master and a home, a Rochester woman reported today.

Mrs. E. J. Moran, 250 South Blvd., said a man she didn't know left the female liver-and-white dog at her home yesterday.

"We have another dog, and can't possibly keep her, so we'll have to take her to the Animal Shelter unless someone is interested in giving her a home," Mrs. Moran said.

Cold Weather Props Grains

CHICAGO (AP) — With the cold weather providing an important prop under the market, grains made slight advances on the board of trade today.

Much of the upturn was recorded shortly after the opening. Then buying power faltered and some gains were reduced. Trading was moderately active.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ½ higher, March $2.42½, corn ¼ to ½ higher, March $1.36⅜, oats unchanged to ¼ higher, March 79½, rye 1¼ to 1½ higher, March $1.50, soybeans, ½ to 1⅜ higher, January $2.52½, and lard 3 to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, January $15.55.

Cold weather was important in maintaining prices for feed grains while dry weather helped wheat prices. It did not appear that there would be any immediate change in weather conditions.

Israel was authorized to buy $1,900,000 worth of corn on a purchase contract signed last September, before the Israeli invasion of Egypt. This was the first authorization issued since the invasion.

The Commodity Credit Corp. sold 330,000 bushels of corn at Atlantic Coast ports and 80,000 bushels at Gulf of Mexico ports.

Japan bought a small quantity of hard wheat. Spain was expected to buy around 25,000 tons of soybean oil.

Traders noted one point in President Eisenhower's drought program would provide 25 million dollars for emergency feed assistance. There was no indication that soybean meal would be utilized in this program, as had been rumored yesterday.

Elect New President of Radio Corporation

NEW YORK (INS) — John L. Burns, a senior partner of the management consultant firm of Booz, Allen and Hamilton, has been elected president of Radio Corporation of America. He succeeds Frank M. Folsom, who has been named chairman of the executive committee.

Burns, 48, has been a senior partner and vice chairman of the executive committee of Booz, Allen and Hamilton, which he joined in 1941. Folsom became president of RCA in 1949.

David Sarnoff, RCA chairman, said the action was taken at the request of Folsom, who had informed him of his intention to retire from active service after he reached retirement age in two years. Sarnoff added:

"He asked that his successor as president be selected at this time to permit an orderly transition in management."

Old Age Assistance Lower in State in '56

LANSING (AP)—A steady decline in the old age assistance case load was reflected today in the annual report of the State Social Welfare Commission.

The drop is attributed to amendments to the Federal Social Security Act increasing old age and survivors insurance payments.

At the close of the 1956 fiscal year, the state paid out $49,371,342 in old age assistance—a decrease of well over a half a million dollars from the previous fiscal year total of $50,090,735.

"The decline is due to continue, but at a reduced rate," said C. J. Maxey, state social welfare director.

During the same period, the case load also declined, from 76,303 old age assistance recipients to 72,737.

Maxey said another significant change reflected in the report was that the average of old age assistance recipients was steadily rising.

Indictments against three other men in the case were dismissed in federal court yesterday.

Charles H. Thompson, former chief cashier of the Credit Union, has pleaded guilty to an indictment charging he submitted false statements to the federal government. He is awaiting sentence.

Robert Vezzosi, 39, director of sanitation for Dearborn and former Credit Union treasurer, also previously had pleaded guilty to a similar indictment and was placed on two years probation.

The indictment dismissed yesterday charged Thompson, Vezzosi and Franklin Lohnes, credit manager of the Credit Union, with conspiracy and misapplication of funds.

Rescue Tug, Crew of 5 Adrift on Lake Michigan

CHARLEVOIX (AP)—Coast Guardsmen pulled the disabled 36-foot fishing tug Jackie C. to safety yesterday after it spent a night adrift in Lake Michigan with engine trouble.

The tug, skippered by James Driggett, 39, and with four crewmen aboard, was sighted by a Coast Guard plane which called for a rescue boat.

It climaxed a search that was touched off late Monday when the boat was reported overdue from a trip in which it was hauling nets on Grand Traverse Bay. The boat was found some 14 miles out into the lake.

Wilsons Celebrate 21st at Sinatra's Opening

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Twenty-one years married! Hey, that's not bad in our league. As Andre Baruch said, "That's the MAJOR leagues!" Wonder if we can make it 25—in 1961?

"Nice of Frank Sinatra to choose your anniversary to open," Dagmar mentioned.

Sure was! And of Marlene Dietrich, Yul Brynner, Faye Emerson, Joe DiMaggio, Judy Garland, Pat Boone, Jane Kean, Carmine DeSapio, Julius La Rosa, Sammy Davis Jr., and Johnnie Raye to celebrate Our Anniversary — incidentally Frankie's tremendous opening, also.

"Glad you two lost weight this year — otherwise you couldn't get in!" the maitre d' chirped when we arrived in the overstuffed Copa basement, where even then tables looked thinner.

'Twas a sentimental touch, for the B. W. and I first saw Frankie at Meadowbrook with Tommy Dorsey about 1941. He was then unknown.

"That boy'll be another Bing Crosby," the B. W. said.

"You're nuts, he's too skinny," I shouted. (I'm always right on those things.)

PEGGY

Looking down on the crowd, Johnnie Ray, just turned 30, sighed, "That Marlene's Dietrich's the only woman I know who makes me wish I was 20 years older!" Comedian Joey Bishop gazed out upon Sugar Ray Robinson, Edith Piaf, Judy Holliday, Errol Flynn, Dinah Shore, Nanette Fabray, Fernando Lamas, Arlene Dahl and a few others and said:

"Are all these people out of work?"

Illustrating the demand for reservations, he said a man came in and said, "Do you have a table for President Eisenhower?"

"Yes, sir!" said the maitre d', practically saluting.

"Well, he can't come," the man announced. "I'll take his table."

Frankie sang for approximately an hour and also did several comedy bits in the manner of Joe E. Lewis whom he portrays in "The Joker Is Wild." Testing out his voice key, Frankie said, "If I could find my key—I'd use my room." Lifting his glass in a toast, he proclaimed, "Here's to our greatest ally—Scotland."

Furthermore, he wished he had a piece of the picture. "I wish I had a piece of me," he added.

I've gone to all the Sinatra openings I could make for 13 years and this was the greatest—and Peggy Connelly, his Texas gal, surely was one of the very, very prettiest.

Speaking of anniversaries, it was strange that several people chose to tell my B. W. she looked younger than ever and, indeed, like Irene Dunne. Not a soul told me I looked like Rock Hudson. There was, however, one woman who told the B. W.:

"You're married 21 years? Well, if you count all my marriages, I've been married 12!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Rocky Marciano's been invited to take over Bob Olin's restaurant—practically for free . . . Jack Lescoulie, getting his big break as coordinator on the new "Tonight" show, will be able finally to sleep days. (He leaves "Today" in a few days) . . . A Stork Club chef signed an affidavit that he got slugged by the management in the current strike . . . Ingrid'll stay with Irene Selznick. Teresa Brewer will join Jerry Lewis' Palace revue . . . Arlene Adams of the Godfrey show, 4-feet-11, is plotting a wedding with basketballer Corky Devlin, 6-feet-5 . . . Eli Wallach will star opposite Julie Harris in "The Lark" on TV. The 20th Century-Fox publicist helping Steve Allen tape-record the Ingrid Bergman interview—for use opposite Ed Sullivan's show—is named Ed Sullivan.

Earl's Pearls . . .

A new men's pocket knife has a bottle opener, razor, scissors and corkscrew, all in one. It's designed to do all those jobs a woman does with a bobby pin.—Lillie Cook.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Colleges are now divided into two groups — those that wish they'd fired the football coach last fall, and those that wish they hadn't."—Karen Chandler.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Don Rondo tells of the woman who's having her home done over—done over her husband's objection.

"The new cars are sure unusual," notes Herb Shriner. "They're getting lower and wider, but the payments are getting longer and higher." . . . That's earl, brother.

Sees No Signs of Experiments

Welk Style of Music, Quiz Shows Expected to Remain Popular

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—A year ago, when I was younger and brasher, I made some prophecies about what would happen in television in 1956. No prophet ever should confront past prophecies, but let's look anyway:

"There will be an increased number of longer television programs." (There are.)

"The two-hour program will be commonplace by the end of the year." (It is not.)

"There will be about 27 new quiz programs on TV." (at latest count, as best I can make out, there are about 17.)

"At least one high-ranking official of one TV network will transfer his allegiance to another TV network." Playing average chances again; I had no idea Robert Kintner, then president of ABC, would become a vice president of NBC.

"A sensational new comedian will come to television in 1956." (He certainly has not.)

So it went. No extraordinary prophet I; no reason to stay in the business. Yet with experience you learn that the trick is to spread your bets shrewdly. Be general rather than specific.

For 1957, then, let's make some generalizations rather than prophecies about television. Here are with many well-informed persons:

There are no signs at present of any radical departures or extraordinary experiments in television programing in 1957. Programs which appear to be generally popular will continue to be imitated.

Quiz shows apparently will continue to thrive; they seemingly bore only a minority of viewers. It seems certain that Lawrence Welk with his program of virtually straight music will cause others to imitate him.

Some of the regular dramatic programs have noted what they believe is a preponderance of viewer interest in dramas of suspense rather than social message. This does not mean murder mysteries; it means the will-she-or-won't-she suspenseful story line. They will seek more of these kinds of dramas.

There are plans for innumerable new "situation comedies," a form which continues to be considered basically popular on the home set despite its annual high casualty rate.

The imitative instinct of television will continue to lead to good as well as mediocre programing. The critical success of Omnibus on CBS-TV helped induce NBC-TV to create a different type of experiment with Wide Wide World. When Omnibus moved to ABC-TV, it was not long before CBS-TV felt it necessary to create Odyssey.

There will be better and more recent movies available to the TV medium in 1957. Taking an optimistic view of that fact, the result could be better network live programing in some time periods to meet the competition.

Waterford Ballet Classes Open for More Pupils

The Waterford Township Recreation Department announces registrations are still open for ballet instruction for youngsters, preschool, and girls from six to sixteen years old.

The one-hour classes are conducted weekly at the Community Center by dance specialist, Mrs. Carol Wolfe and instruction will continue until late spring. At the conclusion of the course there will be a recital.

Over 400 children and teenagers are currently receiving instructions and classes are held for beginners, intermediates and advanced pupils The advanced teenagers are receiving some toe work, according to Mrs. Wolfe.

Explosion in Midland Burns Five Severely

MIDLAND (AP) — Five men were injured early today in an explosion and fire which destroyed a steam truck cleaning building of the Producers Transport Co. of Midland.

The men were identified as Arneth Hammond, 27, of Midland; Richard Wirsing, 22, of Auburn; Louis Engler, 43, of Petoskey; Donald Rupp, 29, of suburban Toledo, and George Simington, 42, of Union City.

All suffered severe burns and were taken to Midland Hospital.

Police said the building, used to clean truck trailers, was a total loss.

The explosion occurred at 4:23 a.m. Firemen brought the ensuing blaze under control at 5:00 a.m.

The destroyed building is located across the street from the Dow Chemical Co.'s Austin Clock room.

Police said the cause of the blast was not known.

Bark Worse Than Talent

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—A friendly young seal that seemingly prefers human society has finally been admittd to a naval officers' club. He showed up last Friday while officers' wives were having a luncheon, barking for attention. Naval officers carried him back to sea, but he wouldn't stay put. He turned up at three subsquent parties and now he's being fed by Navy men while they decide what to do with him. Meanwhile he trips levers on club plumbing. Obviously he enjoys hearing the water gurgle.

Waterford to Set Up Radical Traffic School

Waterford Township is set to start Oakland County's first traffic school for convicted traffic offenders.

Classes will hammer home the highway dangers of speed, carelessness, drinking at the wheel and other flagrant driving habits, Township Police Chief Frank Van Atta said.

Van Atta has organized and will conduct the classes with the help of police officers Friday nights in the Township Hall, located on M-59 at Crescent Lake road.

"The big idea is to stress what we call 'highway courtesy', that is, driving with the knowledge that highways are built for more than just one car," Van Atta said.

Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy has endorsed the school plan. He said he will provide students for the classes by passing probationary sentences on certain offenders and ordering them to attend under their probation terms.

Failure to attend under these circumstances would be a violation of probation and a cause for further punishment.

Right now, the school is held up until the county gets a new justice court probation officer.

The county provided for the $4,300-a-year post after a Circuit Court decision last spring that probationary sentences are illegal with probation officer. But the county's first probation officer, Leo F. Coyle, has been asked to resign because of a bad driving record.

When the problem is settled, this is how the new school will work, according to Van Atta and Justice Lefurgy:

Lefurgy will place convicted violators on probation, depending on the circumstances and the seriousness of the offense.

VIOLATORS MUST ATTEND

Under terms of the probation, violators will be required to attend at least four of Van Atta's classes on consecutive Friday nights.

At each class, Van Atta or his substitute teacher will emphasize a main subject, including: Mechanics of driving; safe driving practices; state laws and local ordinances, controlling traffic, and highway courtesy.

Lectures, films and slides will point out the tragedy which bad driving daily causes on our roads. Stark photographs of local fatal accident scenes will be shown.

Lefurgy expressed confidence the new school will do more than traffic fines to make roads a safer place. He said a good share of drunk and reckless drivers probably will be ordered to the school, along with speeders and other offenders.

"Past driving records—and records of unpaid traffic tickets—will help me decide who will attend," he said.

Both officials believed the school is a step in the direction of stepped-up driver education, "urgently needed throughout the state and nation," they said.

$1 Buys Long Term Room, Board in Jail

For the sake of a dollar bill and small change gained at knife point last Nov. 11, Daniel Margosian, 17, of 569 S. Jessie St. will spend from 1½ to 10 years in State Prison of Southern Michigan.

The youth was sentenced Monday by Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland.

Margosian had pleaded guilty to taking the money from a pedestrian, Bruce Atfield, of 395 Third Ave., at daybreak at the corner of S. Saginaw and Turk Sts.

He pleaded guilty Nov. 19 to a charge of larceny from a person.
