Day for Busy Hands

CLEAN WINDSHIELDS — Motorists who last night went to sleep figuring they might have to shovel out their autos were greeted this morning not only by the heavy snow, but found their car windows caked with ice.

TREACHEROUS WALKS — And out came the shovels as householders and storekeepers attempted to clear their walks of treacherous ice and snow which made walking extremely hazardous.

Storm Lashes U.S.

Freezing Rains Slash Path for Heavy Snows

Foul Weather Extends From New Mexico to Cape Cod; 12 Die

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—A giant storm lashed the nation with snow, freezing rain, bitter cold and even thundershowers in the South as it crept across the mid-continent today.

The storm area stretched from northern New Mexico to Cape Cod on the coast of New England and from the southern Great Lakes into the Mississippi Valley.

As it moved slowly northeastward it dealt its harshest blows to the Midwest—Kansas, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska and Illinois.

Twelve deaths have been attributed to the storm. All of the victims were killed in traffic accidents on ice or snow covered roads. Three were killed in New Mexico. Montana, Pennsylvania and Iowa each reported two deaths, and Oklahoma, Kansas and Illinois had one each.

In a special summary the Weather Bureau said snow, cold and high winds kicked up blizzard conditions in Nebraska, Iowa and the flatlands of central Kansas. Immediately ahead of the snow, there was a narrow band of freezing rain. In the South, thundershowers accompanied spring temperatures.

There was even a tornado yesterday afternoon in Mississippi. The funnel touched the ground near Vicksburg, but apparently did no damage.

The heaviest snowfall this morning was in eastern Kansas and northern Missouri. Kansas City lay in the center of the area. At midnight, with four inches on the ground, the snow began again, and the Weather Bureau said it would reach eight inches.

Parts of New Mexico, Colorado, Wyoming, Oklahoma, Nebraska and Iowa still were getting snow. The northern three-quarters of

Stricken Movie Pioneer Dies at Home

CECIL B. DeMILLE

DeMille died at his home at 5:30 a.m. He had been ill for a week. Death was attributed to a heart attack.

With him when he died was his daughter Cecilia, and her husband Joseph Harper. A nurse who had been attending the veteran film maker notified them when DeMille appeared to be failing during the night.

DeMille, who remained at the top of motion picture hierarchy from the days of its infancy until the present, had just returned from extensive travels on behalf of the movie, "The Buccaneer," when he became ill.

DeMille turned out more than 70 pictures, starting in 1913 with "The Squaw Man," the first movie ever made in Hollywood.

The young actor-turned director, filmed it for the Jesse Lasky Feature Play Co., which he, Lasky and Samuel Goldwyn formed in 1912, with Dustin Farnum, a Broadway star, in the lead.

DeMille pictures on the grand scale were "Reap the Wild Wind," "Samson and Delilah," and "The Greatest Show on Earth."

The second "Ten Commandments," made in 1956, was the biggest of all, however. It cost nearly 12 million dollars, used thousands in its cast, and ranks as one of the greatest box office attractions of motion picture history.

DeMille was born Aug. 12, 1881, in Ashfield, Mass. His father was a teacher who studied for the ministry at one time. It was from his father's habit of reading the Bible aloud each night that DeMille absorbed his feeling for the epic qualities of religion that marked his movie-making career.

MSUO Receives 70 Applications Before 1st Day

Although Michigan State University Oakland has announced February 1st as the official date for receiving student applications, 70 prospective students have already written in, and all of them enclosed the ten dollar application fee.

"We are very pleased at this tremendous advance interest," said D. B. Varner, today. "A break down shows 50 per cent are in the top quarter of their high school classes and 90 per cent are in the top half. This is an unusually high percentage of good students."

Of the whole, 10 have applied for Business Administration, 18 for engineering, 18 for Liberal Arts and 24 for Teacher Education. Estimates of the total size of the freshman class next September place the figure at 600.

OSLO, Norway (AP)—The Soviet government today charged that U.S. and British warplanes are using Norway's Bodoe Airport as a base for reconnaissance flights to Soviet frontiers. Moscow made the charge to the Norwegian Ambassador.

Death of Atlas Expected

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP)—Atlas, the American satellite which broadcast President Eisenhower's Christmas message of peace to the world, was expected to plunge to its fiery death today in the vicinity of the Hawaiian Islands.

Wounded Deer Hunts for Food in Fisher Plant

LANSING (AP)—A 150-pound buck, believed to have been blinded by the snowstorm and hit by a train, charged through the main body shop of the Fisher Body plant in Lansing this morning.

Workers reported that the buck entered the plant through an open gate, fell off a loading dock and then charged through the main body shop, scattering workers before it.

The animal, its antlers splintered by its wild run and the apparent accident, then died of exhaustion and injuries.

News Flashes

LITCHFIELD, Ky. (AP)—A tornado ripped through this area like a "giant knife" today, leaving one woman dead and several persons injured, demolishing buildings and uprooting trees.

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Michigan's star quarterback Bob Ptacek was chosen by Cleveland and Wolverine tackle Willie Smith went to the Bears on the 8th round of today's NFL draft. Jon Linden, an Oregon tackle, was added by the Lions. Backs Wilbur Fowler of Northwestern and Purdue's Tom Barnett were others chosen.

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) A state of emergency was declared and a request for Ohio National Guard troops made by Mount Vernon's Mayor Phillip Hauger today as rain-swollen streams in the area practically isolated the city.

Weather Bureau Says We'll Get More Tonight

A 3-4 inch snowfall, following by a freezing rain, combined to give Pontiac and Oakland County area residents their worst weather of the winter.

And as motorists and pedestrians struggled through the heavy snow and ice, the U.S. Weather Bureau and State Police warned that the worst is yet to come.

An accumulation of three or more inches of snow was forecast for tonight. The Bureau also said rain will change to freezing rain or snow late today.

In Pontiac, all schools opened on schedule this morning and school buses were running. Most schools in the northern section of the county were closed due to ice and snow, however.

The Pontiac area also was in for a sharp drop in temperature, the Weather Bureau said. Today's high was predicted at 35 with rain this morning and afternoon changing first to freezing rain and sleet and then to snow tonight.

Tonight's low will be about 22 with a high of 24 predicted for Thursday.

Winds will be east to south 15-20 m.p.h. today, shifting to west and northwesterly 20-30 m.p.h. tonight.

The Weather Bureau described the combination of freezing rain and snow as the worst weather of the winter. Traffic was paralyzed, stranding thousands of trucks and cars throughout the state.

Pontiac state troopers reported most highways in the area were slushy but not yet ice-covered, except for side roads. Sheriff's deputies expected the worst will come tonight when temperatures begin to drop and the slush turns to ice.

Troopers at the Redford Post reported traffic moving very slowly on U.S. 16 and said that many side roads in southern and western Oakland County were impassable.

The rain is washing away the salt being put on major highways, State Police said.

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

LANSING — Attorney General Paul L. Adams said today he will give "top priority" to untangling a legal snarl that looms over one phase of a plan to use the Veterans Trust Fund to ease the state's cash crisis.

Adams' statement came after lawmakers said they would not act on the plan until a ruling clears up a point about legality of part of Gov. G. Mennen Williams' emergency financing plan.

Williams, meanwhile, said lawmakers "may have a point" in their question but he said he thought the plan would be legal.

Williams said the bill probably will be introduced today. There were indications there will be some revisions in the plan before it goes to the Legislature in final form.

These devolpments on the stopgap financing plan came as Williams' office announced he has completed spadework on his 1959-60 budget proposals and will present them later this week.

These developments also came as veterans organizations urged lawmakers not to tamper with the fund which was established to assist veterans.

House GOP Floor Leader Allison Green (R-Kingston) raised the possibility of a legal hitch when he asked Attorney General Paul L. Adams to rule whether securities from the veterans fund could be used to meet obligations created by borrowing from the public school employes retirement fund.

Green did not challenge the part of Williams' plan that would use

Record Budget Adopted for City

Outlays of $5,919,250 OK'd by Commission Last Night

A record budget of $5,919,250 for 1959 was adopted last night by the City Commission.

Following a public hearing at which no objections were raised, commissioners accepted City Manager Walter K. Willman's budgetary recommendations with no changes and adopted the annual appropriations ordinance as an emergency measure.

The emergency label was used to get the budget out of the way before the Jan. 31 deadline, Willman explained.

Features of this year's budget are:

1. It is designed to maintain the 1958 tax rate of 13.27 mills for each $1,000 evaluation for the second straight year.

2. It is about $235,000 higher than last year's.

3. Of the $962,500 earmarked for capital improvements, $520,000 is already committed to completing Pontiac General Hospital.

About $600,000 in departmental requests was pared from the budget before its submission to the Commission, Willman said.

In answer to a question from the audience, the city manager stressed the budget was based on need, not on the city's maximum ability to tax.

"The city could gain $1 million more a year by levying taxes on state equalized values," he pointed out. "But we are sticking with the lower, city-assessed valuations."

The prediction that the tax rate can be kept at 13.27 mills is based on the assumption that city assessed values will go up $5,000,000 this year, he said.

REAL SPARKLE — No amount of tinsel, lights and artificial decorations can match the crystal beauty of this evergreen which bowed under its load this morning. Temperature fluctuations around the 32 degree point first coated the tree with snow, then added a layer of glaze, and finally, a light coating of rain, just for additional twinkle.

Challenge Legal Standing of Graduated Income Tax

"The legal status of a graduated income tax in Michigan will be challenged and probably proved unconstitutional," declares Louis H. Schimmel, Executive Director of the Municipal Advisory Council and one of the leading tax authorities in the country.

"This means a delay of about two years with the chances favoring an adverse court decision.

"It is proposed by the Citizens' Advisory Committee that a graduated income tax be adopted by the Legislature. The revenue from this tax is estimated at $220,000,000," said Schimmel.

"Fifteen years ago the Tax Study Committee appointed by Governor Kelly was advised by the Dean of the University of Michigan Law School and by other authorities that a graduated income tax could not be legally adopted by the State Legislature unless the Constitution of the State was amended.

"The recommendation of the Citizens' Advisory Committee that the Legislature enact a graduated income tax seems to be an invitation to test the constitutionality of the tax in the courts. A law suit means delay.

"If the present Michigan Supreme Court sustains the opinion of the legal counsel for the Kelly Tax Study Committee, then it would appear that a graduated income tax would be declared unconstitutional. In that event it would take two years before the Constitution could be amended and the graduated income tax legally adopted," he continued.

"It is also proposed by the Citizens' Advisory Committee that certain personal property be removed from the tax roll. It is estimated that the loss in revenue due to such removal would amount to $120,000,000.

"In many cities and school districts, a substantial part of the taxable valuation is represented by personal property. The revenue derived from local taxes levied on personal property is used in part to finance the operating costs of local government, and in part, to pay principal and interest on bonds issued to build schools and municipal improvements.

"Whether or not the Legislature can reduce local taxable valuation by removing certain properties that were represented as taxable assets when bonds were sold, is a question that will have to be decided by the courts.

"There are some school districts where the removal of personal property would seriously affect the ability of the district to comply with the terms of its bond contract.

"Any litigation relating to taxes would seriously restrict the marketability of Michigan municipal bonds, particularly those issued to finance school buildings. It is improbable that any capital improvement financing could be undertaken by Michigan municipalities while this question was being decided by the courts.

"It has been proposed by the Citizens' Advisory Committee majority report that their recommendations be adopted as a package. If the legality of the two principal parts of the package must be decided by the courts it may mean considerable delay before we knew whether or not the principal parts of the tax package are legal.

"Can we afford that much delay? Can we afford the risk that part of the tax package would be declared unconstitutional? If the answers are 'no' then the Legislature may have to face up to the financial solutions that are available in the flat rate gross income tax or the sales tax. Either of these can produce large sums of money.

"The minority report as submitted by E. C. Hayhow is much sounder and more practical."

Mikoyan Plane Forced to Land

Makes Emergency Stop at Newfoundland After Engine Catches Fire

From Our News Wires

ARGENTIA, Nfld. — Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan resumes today a homeward flight that was interrupted last night when the airliner flying him home made an emergency landing at this top-secret U.S. Naval air base.

The Soviet official was sidetracked when one engine of the airliner caught fire and another had to be "feathered" (shut off and the propeller blades adjusted for least wind resistance).

Mikoyan — apparently unshaken by the mishap which set nerves jangling in more than one world capital — was to board another plane today to resume his flight to Copenhagen.

He ended his 16-day visit to the United States Tuesday and started home with a party of five, including his son Sergo.

A Scandinavian Airline spokesman in New York expressed doubt sabotage lay behind the mishap while the four-engine DC7 was high over the Atlantic. There were 35 passengers and 14 crew members aboard.

The spokesman said the plane had been under close guard after it arrived at Idlewild and that New York police had inspected it thoroughly.

Nevertheless, the airline said, all four engines will be stripped from the plane, sealed and shipped to Stockholm "for a very close technical investigation."

The four-engined plane was only three hours out of New York on its scheduled non-stop flight to Copenhagen, Denmark, when the pilot radioed a distress signal.

500,000 Rally in Havana to Back War Trials

Stores, Plants Close for Day

Ike Nominates Bonsal to Succeed Smith as Envoy to Cuba

HAVANA (UPI)—An estimated 500,000 supporters of Fidel Castro began massing here today to demonstrate their support for the execution of Cuban "war criminals" and to defy U. S. "meddling" in the country's affairs.

In Washington, Philip W. Bonsal, a career diplomat, was nominated by President Eisenhower today to be the new ambassador to Cuba.

Bonsal, now ambassador to Bolivia, succeeds Earl E. T. Smith, who resigned Jan. 10—a few days after the Castro forces overthrew the government of Batista.

Banks, government offices, schools, factories and stores closed for the day, which was also proclaimed a day of national mourning for physicians said to have been killed by supporters of ousted ex-President Fulgencio Batista because they tended wounded revolutionaries.

David Salvador, new president of the CTC Labor Federation, ordered its members—except newsmen and transportation or communications workers — to stop work from 6 a.m. to midnight.

A few hours before the scheduled start of the mass meeting, Agriculture Minister Humberto Sori Marin announced that the trials of 500 to 600 army men held prisoner here will begin Thursday or Friday in the Sports Palace, a stadium with a capacity of 15,000 spectators.

Sori, who drafted Cuba's new penal code while he was serving in the hills with Castro's guerrillas, said he himself will prosecute the first three defendants.

They are to be Lt. Col. Ricardo L. Gau, Maj. Jesus Sosa Blanco and Capt. Pedro Morejon Valdes, who between them are accused of torturing or killing more than 200 revolutionaries while Batista was in power.

Newspapers here say Sosa alone has admitted 108 killings and declared that he "would do it again in the same circumstances."

Reports from Oriente Province, where Castro launched his revolution, say farmers there had a saying about Sosa: "Que pasa cuando Sosa pasa? (what happens when Sosa passes?)—Cruelty and slaughter."

Maj. Miguel Duque de Estrada, rebel legal officer for Havana Province, said the start of the trials here was delayed to give the authorities time to interrogate 600 farmers from the Oriente Hills who will testify.

One of the most shocking stories was told by Hidalguia Rabasa, who said her husband was a courier for the rebels. One day, she said, an army patrol dragged him out of their house, cut off his hands and feet, poured oil over him and burned him to death before her eyes.

Others told of cold-blooded killings by regular troops or ex-Sen. Rolando Masferrer's "private army," whose victims often were farmers whose only offense was that they lived in the battle zone.

Will Choose Queen at Ice Carnival

Sponsored by the Pontiac Parks & Recreation Department and the Northside Community Club at Northside Park Jan. 31 and Feb. 1 the carnival will feature an ice show, exhibition hockey and contests open to all Oakland County boys and girls.

The winning queen will have a chance at the Miss America title, via other beauty contests sponsored in Michigan this year, said Leonard Buzz, recreation supervisor.

Candidates must be county residents who are single and at least 18 years of age. They must be interested in winter sports, but not professionally active in them, Buzz said.

The queen will win a ski ensemble, trophy and a trip to Grayling to represent Pontiac in the Grayling Winter Sports Queen contest.

Saturday at 1:30 p.m. there will be races for boys and girls in age brackets from 7 to 14 years old. Special events are scheduled for children 13 years old or more.

Champion teams in the Parks & Recreation league will vie in the exhibition hockey game at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

At 3 p.m. the beauty contest preliminaries will be held, if necessary, Buzz said.

At 7 p.m. Saturday there will be prizes for the winners of free style figure skating competition open to boys and girls of all ages.

At 7 p.m. Sunday the Pontiac Skating Club will put on an ice show and at 8 p.m. the queen will be crowned.

Earlier Sunday there will be finals in the racing and figure skating contests. The queen will be selected at 4:30 p.m.

Alyea Denies Jasinski Killing

Accused Testifies He Had No Part in Vicious Southfield Murder

"I did not kill Tiny."

With these words, accused murderer Raymond L. Alyea, a combat Marine Corps veteran, took the witness stand yesterday in his own defense. The trial is being heard in Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer's courtroom.

"Tiny" is Anthony Jasinski, 51, whose brutally beaten and stabbed body was found Aug. 1 on the floor of the Ilgenfritz Nurseries, Inc., 22951 Northwestern Hwy., Southfield, where he was a caretaker.

"Men will tell you how I even looked out after Tiny," said the 35-year-old Alyea, a self-employed gardener who did some work for the nursery.

Assistant Prosecutor William E. Lang contended as he closed his case yesterday that Alyea who once served a prison term for armed robbery — beat and stabbed Jasinski to death with a jack handle, hedge clippers and scissors after Alyea stole money from a pay check he had just cashed for him.

Judge Beer yesterday denied a motion from Alyea's court-appointed attorney, William R. Beasley, that the first-degree charge should be dismissed as Lang had failed to prove the murder was committed in perpetration of a robbery.

Alyea, twice married and the father of three children, was scheduled to return to the stand today to continue telling his story of what happened the night of July 31 when police say Jasinski was slain.

Beasley, in his opening statement, said he would attempt to show that Alyea became frightened, fearing he might go back to prison as a parole violator, when he stumbled upon Jasinski's body.

"He was harmless," said the bushy-haired Alyea when Beasley asked how Jasinski was thought of by his fellow workers.

"I had no grudge against him. We would joke about his weight, making him always the goat. But it was the same old joke."

the state were reported impassable or extremely treacherous this morning. In Detroit, clogged drains on the city's two main expressways made a shamble of rush hour traffic.

What was described as a "fantastic traffic jam" occurred when the drains iced over, flooding the super highways.

Late this morning the U. S. Weather Bureau in Kansas City issued the following special bulletin on the storm's progress:

"Storm center near Indianapolis at 8 a.m., moving northeastward at about 45 m.p.h. Sleet and freezing rain southwestern lower Michigan and snow northwestern lower Michigan this morning becoming much colder with snow and blowing and drifting snow over entire area by late this afternoon."

The weather caused one death in Detroit this morning.

Police said Harmon Windl, 67, was found dead in his bed at 1 a.m. His wife told authorities he complained of shortness of breath after shoveling snow last night.

Two planes were believed in distress last night and early this morning.

Residents around Hudsonville in Ottawa County reported a low-flying plane circling the area. But it flew away after a few minutes and was not heard from after that.

In Lansing, State Police used an emergency generator truck to set up searchlights around Lake Lansing to try to help a pilot who circled that area for several hours in a light plane.

The small craft flew away about 1 a.m. and police called off the search about 2:30 a.m. Authorities said they did not know whether the plane landed at a nearby airport.

State Police said "anywhere from 200 to 1,000 trucks" were stuck on main highways, many of them unable to get up icy hills.

Authorities reported U.S. 23 north of U.S. 16 at Brighton was impassable, as was U.S. 12 between Jackson and Ypsilanti. Especially bad conditions were reported on M-60 near Jackson and U.S. 127 south of Jackson. Trucks were also reported stalled on U.S. 112.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 27 degrees. The thermometer registered 34 at 1 p.m.

Reds Set Control of Berlin Traffic

East Germany Readies Plan to Take Over Access to City

BERLIN (AP)—East Germany's Communist government said today it is preparing to take over control of Allied military traffic into isolated West Berlin.

The warning was issued in a speech to the East German Parliament by Communist party boss Walter Ulbricht.

Ulbricht did not say when his regime would get control over Allied military traffic. The Soviet Union in notes on Nov. 27 to the Allied powers said this would happen in six months, presumably at the end of May.

Ulbricht also asserted that the Soviet proposal to make West Berlin a demilitarized "free" city has one aim—Complete liquidation of the Allied occupation regime.

Ulbricht denied he has any blackade intentions, provided the Allies negotiate with his government on access to Berlin. The Allies have refused so far to have any dealings with the East German regime, saying that the Soviet Union as one of the victors of World War II is still responsible for its zone of Germany, and the Communist East German government is not a valid, representative government.

GOP Calls Meeting for 'Overhaul'

DES MOINES, Iowa (UPI)—Republican organization leaders were summoned today to go to work on a party rebuilding job with a warning that they could "no longer afford the luxury of part-time dabbling in politics."

The summons came from GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn in a statement prepared for a closed session of the party's executive committee. His detailed program for an overhaul of the party will be laid before the Republican National Committee tomorrow or Friday.

No final decision on the convention city was expected for several weeks. Chicago and Philadelphia were regarded as the strongest candidates.

Egan's Condition Grave Following Emergency Operation Tuesday

SEATTLE (AP) — Alaskans offered a prayer today for their first elected governor, fighting a desperate battle for survival after an emergency operation for a serious intestinal ailment.

William A. Egan, 44, remained in critical condition although Dr. Leland Spalding, resident surgeon at Virginia Mason Hospital, said the governor, a Democrat, was resting comfortably. Mrs. Egan and the couple's son, Dennis, 11, were at the bedside.

The former storekeeper from Valdez underwent emergency surgery Tuesday morning. He was flown here from Juneau, Alaska's capital, only a few hours earlier.

Dr. Joe W. Baker, who headed the team of surgeons, said afterwards Egan had a "desperate chance to get well." His chances, Dr. Baker added, were "little less than 50 per cent."

The slightly built, unassuming governor took the oath of office Jan. 3, only a few minutes after President Eisenhower declared the huge northland the union's 49th state.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Hugh J. Wade, 56, also a Democrat, has taken over the affairs of state. He became acting governor when Egan left the capital.

Alaska's ultra-modern state constitution, drawn up by a 1955 constitutional convention headed by Egan, gives the state only two elective offices, governor and secretary of state.

Has TVA Wasted 46 Million Dollars?

WASHINGTON (UPI)— Government auditors reported today that the Tennessee Valley Authority has bought 46 million dollars worth of generators that don't work properly.

Comptroller General Joseph Campbell advised Congress that the TVA "is presently studying" whether it should claim damages from the supplier of the generators, Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Campbell said in an audit of TVA operations that the agency has run into "serious problems" with the 14 turbo-generators, which it bought for installation at its Shawnee and Kingston steam plants.

As originally installed, the report said, the generators failed to meet the heat rate specified in the contracts. This required the use of more coal to get a given heat rate, thus boosting fuel costs.

The audit said some improvements resulted when three units were modified but they still didn't meet the contract specification and tests of an additional modification have been agreed upon.

The report said TVA informed Campbell's general accounting office "it is presently studying questions related to" the "substantial" damages it has suffered.

Generally, snow depths ranged from 5 to 8 inches, with a high of 12 inches at Douglas, Wyo. Temperatures in the southern part of the snow area were in the teens, but reached 5 to 10 below zero from the upper Mississippi Valley westward through the northern plains.

Freezing rain and drizzle, mixed with occasional sleet, fell from eastern Oklahoma northeastward through central Missouri and Illinois, along the border of southern Michigan and into central New York state.

Snow was reported as far east as Pennsylvania and southern New England.

Spring-like weather prevailed south of the freezing belt of precipitation with temperatures generally in the 60s and 70s. Showers and thundershowers were reported from northeastern Texas through the lower Mississippi Valley into southern sections of the Ohio Valley and Tennessee.

NO SPONSORS

Bills to carry out Williams' plan to mortgage the vets fund were reviewed by Democratic lawmakers yesterday but none appeared willing to sponsor them in the form in which they were first drafted.

One change would make it so that the state "will" rather than "shall" restore the fund within 10 years. Some lawmakers want to make it 5 instead of 10 years.

"There has to be some public relations done on this bill," Rep. Einar E. Erlandsen (D-Escanaba) said last night. "There isn't a man on the floor who would have signed this bill earlier today."

Meanwhile, leaders of the state's eight congressionally chartered veterans organizations urged lawmakers to leave the fund as it is.

In an open letter to members of the House and Senate, the commanders said that to tamper with the fund "would be both morally and economically deplorable."

The veterans group, chairmanned by Nicholas R. Firis, commander of the Marine Corps League, said it considered diversion of the fund the same as liquidation and "is unalterably opposed to any tampering, changes or attempted diversion of the trust fund or portions thereof."

The commanders previously had given a flat "no" to a proposal by Gov. Williams for use of the fund. Williams proposed that the bulk of securities in the fund be used as backing to obtain loans by the major universities. The governor said the fund itself would remain intact.

32 Face Charges, 14 Cases Dismissed

Vice Hearing Set Feb. 17

Charges against 32 persons will be aired at a Municipal Court hearing Feb. 17 as preliminaries resulting from the mammoth police vice squad raid Dec. 5 neared completion today.

Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum yesterday dismissed charges against 14 more persons.

There are still 19 persons, including five women, charged with conspiracy to violate state gambling laws; seven charged with possession of numbers bet slips and six with loitering in an illegal gambling place.

The persons charged with violating state laws face examination Feb. 17 to determine whether they will be bound over to Circuit Court. The others, charged with violation of city ordinances, face trial.

Judge McCallum said he would handle all the cases at the same hearing, which is expected to last several weeks.

The judge dismissed charges against 40 persons last week. Fifty-one persons were seized the day of the raid, and a number of others afterward.

The latest against whom the charges were dismissed are:

That Settles It!

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — Asked why he expected his third child, due in June, to be a boy, comedian Ernie Kovacs said: "My wife, Edie Adams, and our two girls, Betty and Kip, spent four hours the other day reviewing girls' names."

Williams Noncommittal on Unlimited Jobless Pay

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams doesn't say yes and he doesn't say no on jobless pay benefits of unlimited duration.

Moreover, if the AFL-CIO is seeking his support for legislation to do away with the existing basic maximum of 26 weeks benefits, he hasn't heard about it, the Governer told a news conference yesterday

Several Republican lawmakers dismissed the objective laid down last week by the AFL-CIO executive board as pie-in-the-sky talk. Republicans have an iron grip on the Senate and nominal control in the House.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, a Democrat and union official, said yesterday that he or some other lawmaker will submit a bill at the current session for unlimited compensation.

Kowalski, as House Democratic leader, is the governor's floor spokesman on administration policy matters.

Williams said:

"I haven't studied any such provision."

When questions persisted and Williams said he didn't know whether labor might have submitted its plan to one of his aides, Paul Weber, his press secretary, broke in.

"We have nothing in this office representing an approach from labor," Weber said.

The governor said he could not answer off hand as to the practicality of the proposal.

Rep. George M. Van Peursem (R-Zeeland), former House speaker and labor committee chairman, called it "utterly ridiculous." Rep. Allison Green of Kingston, Republican floor leaders, said "unrealistic."

They said that with the unemployment compensation fund tobogganing, it would mean higher payroll taxes on industry, deterioration of the state's business climate and loss of jobs.

Kowalski argued that with unemployment at about 325,000, it would be cheaper in the long run to have unlimited jobless pay than to put those out of work and with exhausted benefits on welfare rolls.

Michigan employment security officials, who administer the jobless pay program, said removing duration restrictions would "cost a lot of money" but how much was not known.

Last year, even with emergency legislation for up to an extra 13 weeks unemployment compensation for the long term jobless—making a total maximum duration of 39 weeks, over 10,000 persons exhausted benefits.

Special Election Slated by Troy School Board

TROY—A special election has been scheduled by the Troy Board of Educaiton for March 10 when residents will be asked to approve a 5½ mill increase for operational purposes.

Superintendent Rex Smith said if accepted it will mean a tax rate of $22.75 per thousand assessed valuation for two years. He said residents are currently paying $16.70 per thousand and last year paid $25.19.

Registration deadline for voters will be Feb. 9. For the first time in the school election the seven precincts' voting places will be used.

Historic Old Church Destroyed by Fire

RIDGEWOOD, N. J. (UPI)—Fire destroyed historic Ridegwood Reformed Church early this morning in spite of the efforts of firemen from six communities.

The alarm was sounded at 3:37 a.m. EST. By the time the flames were brought under control two hours later, equipment and firemen from Hohokus, Glen Rock, Midland Park, Wyckoff and Fair Lawn as well as Ridgewood were at the scene.

The steepled edifice, belonging to the Dutch Reformed Congregation, is located in the heart of the Community opposite the Municipal Bus Terminal and the Memorial Park. Hundreds of spectators were attracted to the area by the flames.

Overheated Chimney Causes Armada Fire

To Head Senate Committees

Name 5 GOP Chairmen

LANSING (AP)—Five Republican senators were installed in new committee chairmanships today as fencing over completing organization for 1959-60 continued in the evenly divided House.

Minority Senate Democrats, who sent up a big ho 1 last week, made no outcry yesterday when the GOP majority voted to limit them to one berth on each of 15 standing committees.

A Republican concession helped quiet them. The GOP let Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, a Democrat, fill minority committee seats.

For the last two years, six-member committees had two Democrats apiece. The 20 new Senate committees, with some exceptions, will have a four and one ratio. Overall Republicans outnumber Democrats 22 to 12.

In the House, split 55-55, Democrats were driving for an equal break on committee assignments but had almost no chance of getting one—on committees that count.

Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) was elevated to the driver's seat and committee appointment power last week when Democrats temporarily lost one of their votes due to the illness of a Detroit woman lawmaker.

WINDSOR, Ont. (UPI) — The Canadian government has announced that Queen Elizabeth II of England and Prince Philip will visit Windsor July 3.

Mayor Louis Miriani of Detroit, who invited the Queen to visit the Motor City when she tours the St. Lawrence Seaway, said today chances were slim that she would stop in Michigan.

The Queen's only stop in the United States will be at Chicago July 6 where the royal party will visit an international fair and exposition. He stop in Windsor will be brief.

According to the details of her 15,000-mile tour of Canada, the Queen and her party will arrive at 12:30 p.m. by train from Chatham, Ont., tour the Windsor area, and at 4 p.m. board the royal yacht "Brittania" for Sarnia and Chicago.

Family of Four Dies in Farm Home Fire

LOW MOOR, Iowa (UPI)—Four members of one family, including two children, died today when fire swept their farm home in a heavy snow storm.

The victims were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Greve and their children, Gary and Joyce.

Volunteer firemen from Low Moor battled the blaze. But the fire had a big start and they were unable to save the family.

2 Drayton Girls Hurt in Crash on Walton

A Drayton Plains teenager and her sister were injured in a two-car collision at 6:30 p.m. yesterday at the intersection of Walton boulevard and Sashabaw road.

Her auto was hit by a car driven by Henry Ball, 46, of 4440 Cheeseman St., who told police he was unable to stop in time.

The girls were taken to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, treated for bruises and cuts, and released.

Probe Due on Deals and Girls

NEW YORK (AP)—Do call girl play an important role in helping big corporations swing business deals?

No, say businessmen.

Yes — to a degree — says the city's chief magistrate.

A Senate committee should investigate, says the AFL-CIO.

We'll investigate, says the city police department.

The new twist in the world's oldest profession got a thorough airing Monday night on the CBS radio program, "The Business of Sex," narrated by Edward R. Murrow.

Unidentified speakers from the business world and the demi-monde told of company policies that include keeping prostitutes on public relations payrolls or paying them monthly fees for dealings with customers.

As spokesmen from the top ranks of big business generally denied the sex-for-sales practice, Police Commissioner Stephen P. Kennedy ordered an investigation.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner's office said: "We will not tolerate such scandal and vice in the city."

Kennedy, acknowledging the difficulty of detecting call girl set-ups, appealed for any information that might aid the probe. He promised to protect informants but threatened to prosecute any businessmen found employing prostitutes.

A promise not to disclose names had been made to participants on the Monday program by CBS officials, who refused Tuesday to identify speakers to police.

Deputy Police Commissioner James R. Kennedy said the network employes "fully cooperated to the limit they could" and that he respected their right to refuse.

"No one is going to jail here," he said.

This was an apparent reference to Marie Torre, New York Herald Tribune television columnist who recently served a 10-day jail sentence for contempt of court for refusing to divulge a news source in a court case.

Rhee Action in Korea Causing Worry in U.S.

A new Korean law rammed through the Assembly gives the government of SYNGMAN RHEE power to arrest political adversaries under ill-defined charges of aiding Communists.

This omnibus measure was opposed by 80 Assemblymen of the opposition Democratic Party and by the Korean Newspaper Editors and Bar Associations on the ground that it would infringe basic civic liberties.

In an effort to block the bill, brought to the floor previously while opponents were at lunch, the Assemblymen went on a sit-down strike but Dr. RHEE knew just what to do. A 300 man riot squad went into action and after a 50 minute fight dragged the Assemblymen from the chamber and locked them in anterooms. Eight were sent to a hospital, two seriously injured. The bill then passed, unanimously, 128-0.

Among other provisions it imposes rigid restrictions on the press, provides that henceforth mayors will be appointed by the government rather than elected by the people, and postpones national elections. Then, too, the government is talking of increasing the size of the supreme court, which has ruled against it on several occasions, and of instituting a parliamentary system which would permit Dr. RHEE to select his prime minister and dissolve the assembly.

No doubt the Republic of Korea is constantly menaced by Communist infiltration and espionage. However, the new law leaves Dr. Rhee open to the old charge that he rules undemocratically. He can not expect the United States Government to remain indifferent when the U.N. police action to keep Korea free cost this country 25,600 lives and more than $15 billion.

On the day the bill was passed one Seoul newspaper, Donga Ilbo, still free at the time, declared "in Korea, democracy died today." What the RHEE dominated government does with its new powers will be the test of whether Korea can claim to be a bastion of the free world.

Social Security Plan Is Financially Sound

The 13 member Advisory Council on Social Security Financing set up by Congress in 1956, has found the program financially sound.

This report should end disturbing rumors that the Government may not be able to meet all of its Social Security obligations. While payments exceeded receipts in 1958 and will do so again this year, the Council thinks that a balance can be struck after that if Social Security taxes continue to go into effect as scheduled under existing legislation.

The program took in $7.6 billion in 1958, paid out $8.3 billion and had $21.9 billion in its trust fund at the end of the year. By 1963 benefits are expected to total $11.7 billion but the trust fund will also increase to an estimated $13.6 billion.

Higher taxes which went into effect Jan. 1 will yield an additional $1.1 billion in 1959. Increased benefits going to 12.3 million beneficiaries in February will cost $700 million more. The balance of $400 million will be put into the Social Security trust fund.

These fund reserves are invested in Government bonds, a procedure which was found by the Council to be "sound in relation to both the Social Security program and the fiscal operations of the Federal Government." Financing is a compromise between a pay-as-you-go system and a full actuarial reserve such as is maintained by life insurance companies. The latter requirement which could meet any obligations at any moment, is unnecessary because Congress is not likely to end so desirable a social, political and economic program.

"DRINKING alcoholic beverages shrinks the brain," says a psychiatrist. What a pity! The person who can least afford to have his brain shrink is the one most likely to begin drinking and thereby set up a vicious circle.

Abuse Privileges

A Few Ice Fishermen May Close Lakes to Everyone

The other half: What you wonder how they live—when you ride with them

Many letters, cards, phone calls and personal contacts have praised our lead story of last Thursday, censuring some ice fishermen for abusing their privileges. It is pointed out that only a small portion of them perpetrate these abuses, but they're casting a stigma on all the rest.

The strongest indictment comes from

of Waterford, who writes: "They're killing off the sport. Their failure to protect holes they cut in the ice, scattering of garbage (including some that should be left in a bathroom or outhouse), damage to the rights of way in going to and from the lakes, and general lawlessness and rowdyism will result in most of our lakes being closed to everybody."

George Lawford

was startled when he hooked a corpse — a large doll that had evidently fallen from a boat last summer.

A challenge comes from Lapeer, where is retiring after being township clerk for 44 years, and they defy us to show such a continuous record in Oakland County.

A native of Oakland County, born in Troy Township,

Miss Ella F. Douglas

died Monday at Fenton, aged 101. She graduated from high school the year that Man About Town was born, 1877—which makes me feel young.

of Drayton Plains says that a pair of each dine together at her bird feeding station — and do it peaceably.

Again chosen to manage the Michigan State Fair for another two years is Oakland County's of Southfield, who although only 37 years old, knows the ways. He guided the 1958 fair to $33,000 in the black.

Donald L. Swanson

on it. Have you any suggestions? I'm puzzled, as the great Stradivari died in 1737.

His master was such a good teacher that the dog of

'My Word! Black Ink!'

David Lawrence Says:

'Lynch Law' Prevails in Cuba

WASHINGTON—Two wrongs do not make a single right. This moral principle seems to have been abandoned not only in Cuba but by some people inside this country who condone that savagery which has prompted the execution of dozens of persons without trial.

LAWRENCE

For, on the radio and in some press comments, the statement has been made that the executed Cubans deserved their fate because they committed crimes under Dictator Batista. This is the language of "lynch law" which has too often been used by the mob in an attempt to justify excesses.

Shall the United States government and the governments of Latin America, however, stand by and utter no word of protest about what has been happening in Cuba?

Fidel Castro, the Cuban revolutionary chief, may say it's an "internal affair." Only a day or so ago in Washington Soviet Deputy Premier Mikoyan reproached the American government and the United Nations for "meddling in the internal affairs of Hungary."

Cuba wouldn't be free and independent today if the United States had considered what was happening in Cuba an "internal affair," instead of sending troops to that island in 1898 to help liberate its people from Spanish savagery and tyranny.

It would not have been of any avail to Cuba if the United States had not in those days manifested its horror over what was happening in Cuba and followed it up with military intervention when an American warship was blown up in Havana harbor.

FAIR TRIAL

Can any government which does not give a fair trial to a person accused of crime be regarded as civilized? Can any such government be expected to respect the lives and property of foreign residents? Usually it's the foreigner who suffers when there's a wave of disrespect for law and morals on the part of the government in control.

Fidel Castro is a graduate of a Cuban law school and should know that summary execution of persons on the basis of revenge and without a chance for the accused to have a fair trial is a blot on the record of any government.

He should know, too, that the United States, which stands throughout the world for the principles of decency and respect for human life, cannot remain silent.

Yet about all Castro could think of the other day was that the United States might intervene militarily. So he promptly threatened to massacre Americans.

Under such circumstances, the policy of the United States government must be one of caution. Already diplomatic recognition has been extended, though it was perhaps done too hastily.

No new American ambassador, however, has as yet been sent to Havana, and there is still an opportunity for a more deliberate approach to the problem of appraising the government that has arisen in Cuba.

The Department of State could send a special envoy to explore the situation while the Senate takes its time about confirming the new ambassador, Philip Bonsal, now on duty at the head of our embassy in Bolivia.

Experienced though Mr. Bonsal is, there would be an advantage in delaying his arrival in Havana until a thorough examination has been made by a special envoy of just what the situation is now and is likely to be in the future.

The Country Parson

"The way things are going, we had better learn to do things machines can't do — love each other, for instance."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Let's Take Another Look at Radical Tonsillectomy

"Last summer I got a sore throat and had Dr. —— attend me. The first thing he said was that I should have my tonsils out.

DR. BRADY

"I don't believe in rushing into such surgery. I lost a 13-year-old daughter 40 hours after removal of her tonsils. I mentioned this to the doctor, who said that was unfortunate but nevertheless I should have my tonsils out without delay. I said I wouldn't.

"I feel fine today and there has been no further throat trouble or illness of any kind." (MCS)

Apparently the doctor glanced at her throat, noted she had tonsils and concluded "those bad tonsils" must come out immediately. As the ever-ready operators abundantly proved in the early decades of the 20th century, that's all the argument they need to persuade the average untutored layman to submit to the serious major operation known as "tonsillectomy."

If I believed there were a septic focus in one or both of my tonsils I'd have diatermy (electro-coagulation, electro-desiccation) treatment.

If my tonsils were sufficiently enlarged to interfere with breathing, ventilation of the middle ear (though Eustachian tube) or swallowing or speech, I'd have tonsillotomy—instantaneous removal of the obstructing portion of tonsil.

TONSILLECTOMY? NEVER!

In no conceivable circumstance, except perhaps cancer, tuberculosis, syphilis or actinomycosis involving and apparently limited to the tonsil, would I consent to undergo tonsillectomy.

When I read of wholesale operations on the entire family or see pictures of half a dozen children who are about to be subjected to the atrocity—complete with editorial humor—I get a sickening pain in the soul wondering whether all the victims will survive.

Formerly tonsillotomy — instantaneous, as safe as extraction of a tooth, and, like extraction of a tooth, usually done at home or in the doctor's office — was standard treatment for enlargement of tonsils when ear trouble, deafness, obstruction of breathing, impairment of voice or speech or swallowing occurred.

It was only after trick specialism began to flourish, that the operators switched to tonsillectomy—extensive dissection of the throat—in the attempt to "get every bit of tonsil."

To the best of my knowledge there is no valid evidence that children subjected to tonsillectomy derive any benefits they would not get from tonsillotomy. On the other hand this crude dissection of the throat too often proves fatal and therefore should, in my opinion, be forbidden.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Positive Attitude Insures Success

Some 35 years ago my crew of tree surgeons was a cocky outfit. Failure never entered our minds. And that same positive viewpoint is one reason why America leads the world. When you feel blue or discouraged, re-read this case again. Put it in your scrapbook as a mental tonic, to be taken whenever you feel low in morale.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE A-433: About 35 years ago I was foreman of a gang of tree surgeons.

CRANE

One summer we Were stationed at Terre Haute, Indiana, where we worked on the stately trees of the Hulmans and other leading citizens.

And our motto certainly was positive, for it ran: "If we can't, there can't anybody!"

Obviously, that wasn't very good grammar, but it was superb psychology, for that attitude has made America the pace-setter of the world.

During World War II, I was on a lecture tour of the West, and visited the Hendy Iron Works in California, which was using my college textbook for employe classes.

On the wall I saw a very interesting motto, which has been duplicated since then in many other plants!

"The difficult we will perform at once. The impossible may take us a few days!"

The Bible tells us that "As a man thinketh, so is he."

That's superb psychology, for a person with a chronic negative outlook which makes him feel, "I can't do it, I'm whipped before I start," will very likely fail.

But the positive personality will show far more energy and ingenuity for he thinks "SUCCESS, SUCCESS."

Coue, eminent French psychologist of a generation ago, came to America to expound his positive doctrine and even urged us to whisper to ourselves each day:

"Day by day in every way I am growing healthier than ever."

"Oh, I'm sick of all this talk about positive thinking," I heard a soured introvert exclaim recently. "It's all malarky."

But don't you believe it! I have previously outlined the results of the hypnotic experiment with soldiers in England.

While they were still in their normal waking state, they competed to find which one had the most powerful handgrip. And their average was 101 lbs.

Then they were hypnotized and given a negative or defeatism suggestion.

"You are weak, feeble, sickly d anemic," they were ihroedm and anemic," they were informed. "Now grip the machine as hard as you can."

Under this negative suggestion, they now averaged only 69 lbs. per man.

But before they were awakened, they were told, that "You are strong and powerful. You are like Hercules and Samson, so grip the machine as hard as you can."

Under this POSITIVE outlook, their handgrip now averaged 140 lbs. per man, which was double their strength when they felt weak and inferior.

So your mental attitude actually can increase your physical strength. It can also create new ideas and produce inventions, for the fellow who thinks "It can't be done" is not likely to invent a new way of getting the task accomplished.

MIRACLES ARE POSITIVE

"Positive Thinking Produces Miracles," is the title of an address I often deliver throughout America.

Jesus found the fishermen discouraged after a futile night without even a single fish. But Christ didn't criticize their boat or patched nets or even the skill of these forlorn men.

He simply informed them they didn't have the proper outlook!! So he told them to cast the nets on the OTHER side. Then they were deluged with fish!

So take the POSITIVE attitude in life and you will produce miracles, too.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Opinions Differ on Negro Vote

In reply to "Negroes should support the party that helps them," if a Republican could get voted into high offices of Georgia, Mississippi, Arkansas and other deep South states, he'd make the same remarks as Democrats because they know such remarks put and keep them in office.

Only a handful of Negroes are allowed to vote and the majority of white people are going to vote for anyone that upholds segregation and the louder they do it, the more votes they get.

Negroes in the North vote Democratic for economic reasons. They prefer a full stomach to an empty one. They realize a Republican doesn't care about the working man, black or white, so how can his vote for a Republican help the Negro in the South when the South doesn't even recognize the law or the land nor the President, who is Republicans?

Mrs. Fred F. Jackson
289 Dellwood St.

I agree with the editorial on Negro voting. In 11 southern states there are 1,250,000 Negroes registered. This is about one-fourth of the total eligible.

These are Democratic states and it shows the Democrats almost refuse to let Negroes vote at all, yet when the Negroes get the chance, they blindly vote the Democratic ticket.

Canada to Have 2 Bomarc Bases

Slate Launching Site for Antiaircraft Missile by Late 1961

OTTAWA (AP) — Two Bomarc antiaircraft missile bases are scheduled to be operating in Canada in late 1961.

It is understood the bases will be in the neighborhood of North Bay, Ont., and Mont Laurier, Que.

The Bomarc is manufactured by Boeing Airplane Co. of Seattle.

Ottawa officials say the missile, to be fully effective, will have to carry a nuclear warhead.

Under U.S. law, Canada cannot be given American atomic warheads but they could be kept under U.S. custody at the Canadian sites. These sites will be roughly on a line running from Sault Ste. Marie to Quebec City to help protect the Canadian industrial triangle east of the Great Lakes.

Each site will have 56 launching platforms as well as the radar control unit, housing for personnel, maintenance shops and the like.

By 1961, the Canadian air force says, the Bomarc should have a range of more than 375 miles. The missile is a pilotless interceptor and will operate in almost the same way as the manned CF100 jet fighter currently functioning in Canada's air defense system. The Bomarc is designed to carry out its task more quickly and to be able to climb higher.

The two bases and the semi-automatic ground environment electronic system to control their operations will cost about 264 million dollars.

Bob Considine Says:

Dems to Show L.A. a REAL Convention

NEW YORK — Open letter to the people of Los Angeles and certain suburbs, including Snohomish, Washington:

Looks like the Democrats are going to gather 'n your rambling town in July of next year to choose what they confidently expect will be the next President and the next Vice President of the United States.

Now, let's face it. You're not accustomed to a Democratic convention. San Francisco had the Republicans in 1956 and maybe some of them wandered down (or up) your way. But they're a different breed of pup.

They're quieter, generally older, and it was most unusual for them to get into that little ruckus over whether second place should go to Dick Nixon or Christian Herter.

Fittingly, the lone song lampooning this mild discord was one entitled "Onward Christian Herter,' to the refrain of the grand old hymn. Some Democrats feel sorry about the Republicans. They think they're a vanishing species, like the Airedale.

Red Hanigan's bar and grille, featuring the guy at the piano with the busted top hat, was the Poor Man's Press Club during convention times.

No wonder Mayor Daley let out a scream like a stabbed horse when he learned that the Site Selection Committee of the Democratic National Committee had recommended your comparatively quiet place.

APPLE-CHEEKED MEN

I remember back in 1952 when both parties held their shindigs in Chicago that we were provided with a perfect example of the difference between a Republican and a Democratic convention.

On the Saturday before the opening of the GOP convention, the main lobby and the pavement just in front of the main doors of the Conrad Hilton hotel were filled with the cohorts of Sen. Robert Taft.

There were a lot of nice ladies in white dresses, and fine apple-cheeked men, tending toward portliness. With George Bender leading, they sang a number of hymns (including the aforementioned Onward Christian Soldiers) and also "America," and—the most daring of all the items of their repertory, "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover." We joined in, feeling fine and clean.

Precisely two weeks later, to the very hour, the same lobby and same pavement were filled with the guests of my friend Col. Jack Arvey, the Cook County Democratic leader.

At the curb stood a fleet of city buses, with bars fitted in the rear of each—like a lounge in a good plane. We all went to Arlington Park for the races. We joined in, feeling fine and lucky.

P.S.—The Republicans won, that time. Then again. But you'll hear from a lot of Democrats that this was a fluke. The country went for a folk hero—Ike—not for a Republican, the Democrats will tell you, and then present some pretty impressive figures, such as the Congressional and Gubernatorial sweeps and the polls which show that there are now 20 or 30 million more Americans who consider themselves one with Roosevelt, Truman and Wilson.

They won't break up any joints, to speak of. After all, you're in the hands of a Democrat in Sacramento for the first time in the memory of the older GOP graybeards of the state, and anarchy has hardly been the order of the day, has it?

What the Democrats will do to L.A., I'd say, is liven it up a bit, help the hotel, bar, race track business, give The Strip a pretty good going over at night, when the sound of Mr. Sam's gavel has faded into the valley.

Still, you're in for an experience. It isn't the annual gathering of the American Legion, circa 1928, let's say. Nor is it the conclave of the 4-H clubs and Campfire girls, combined. It's the biggest and, a lot of us think, the best show on earth—and that goes for Mr. Ringling's, too.

Poetry, Politics and the People

Sandburg's 1-Night Stand a Success

By ANDREW MEISELS

EAST ORANGE, N.J. (AP) — "The fog," Carl Sandburg once wrote, "comes on little cat feet."

Carl Sandburg doesn't.

The dynamic 80-year-old poet and writer came in out of the fog Tuesday night to receive an honorary doctor of letters degree from Upsala College.

Then he delivered a forceful speech, read from his works and the works of others and capped the evening with a few songs.

The white-thatched bard spoke of poetry, politics and the people. He threw in a couple of digs at the movies and TV.

Of modern poets, Sandburg said: "They ain't doing so good."

He called modern poetry "a variety of cliques, claques and movements."

To illustrate, Sandburg read a few selections from his monumental work, "The People, Yes." The audience answered with thunderous applause.

Sandburg, who won the Pulitzer Prize in 1940 for his biography of Abraham Lincoln, spoke at length about the Great Emancipator.

He spoke also of the problems raised by the Civil War and of Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus.

"Before the Civil War, official documents used to read 'the United States are.' The war was fought to enable us to say 'the United States is,'" Sandburg said. "Faubus don't (sic) know the United States 'is' — but he gonna (sic) know."

Of the movies and TV: "They are very poor indeed. Lincoln, Jefferson and Washington never saw TV but developed personalities which were sublime. They had books. Books give you a choice: you can mark the pages and skip the parts that are stupid."

Wearing his customary black suit and black four-in-hand tie, Sandburg charmed the audience of 2,500 by playing a few folk songs on his guitar.

He kissed the hand of a woman who asked for his autograph on the way out. Later, he interrupted a discussion with newsmen to compliment some college girls on their looks.

Asked about the so-called "beat generation," he snapped: "they are neither a generation nor are they beat. They're eatin' regular."

Mikoyan Pans Straight Vodka, Sips Martini

In the course of a leisurely conversation in a railroad dining car Mikoyan discussed vodka drinking. Russians, he said, drink vodka undiluted and "do adna" — bottoms up, and this is bad.

The Americans have a better way, Mikoyan said: they put in tomato juice.

Meanwhile, he sipped on a martini-on-the-rocks.

Auto Executive Denies Charges

Says Nothing Illegal in Studebaker-Packard Tax Situation

NEW YORK (AP)—Studebaker-Packard Corp. President Harold E. Churchill last night denied an Ohio Congressman's charges his firm attempted tax manipulations.

Rep. Charles A. Vanik (D-Ohio) accused Studebaker-Packard yesterday of such manipulations and said they could cost the U.S. Treasury at least 70 million dollars.

Vanik said, however, there was nothing illegal about this.

Churchill, in a statement released by a New York law firm, said he believed the "loss carryforward" provision of the tax law was "only fair to our corporation, our employes and our stockholders."

"There is nothing 'manipulative' or anything else sinister about this," Churchill said.

Consumption of frozen strawberries has increased by about 200 per cent since World war II and demand for fresh strawberries has decreased 50 per cent in the same period.

It buys a Buick LeSABRE instead...

We hope you'll look into this personally, before you buy a new car. Because the simple fact is that for just about $200 more than the price of the best models of the three leading low-priced cars . . . you can own a Buick LeSabre instead. You can check this any time by comparing the manufacturer's suggested retail prices posted right on the cars in the showrooms.

Not "stripped", but equipped as you want it

In the past, you may have run into price comparisons where the higher-priced car had no extra equipment, and the other had lots of it. This is not what we're talking about here. We mean only $200 more for a car fitted out the way you want it. You could pick the LeSabre 2-door hardtop pictured here . . . including Twin-Turbine automatic transmission, radio, heater, white sidewall tires, electric windshield wipers, direction signals, lighter and automatic dome and glove compartment lights. Even with all that our statement will still stand up.

Furthermore, you'll own a BUICK

You'll have a fine car, with a fine-car ride, a true fine-car feel. You get a quieter, more substantial car. Not only are this year's Buicks the finest Buicks ever built, but they have been judged the "outstanding" cars in their field in a recent poll of car owners.

Plus new economy, high trade-in value

In designing this year's Buicks, the engineers planned to build noticeably better gas mileage into the cars. Reports now in from owners, and careful competitive tests, too, prove they did a very successful job.

Alongside all this, put the good trade-in value which the Buick name and Buick's successful new styling assure . . . and you can see why we say this $200 difference in price is the most important $200 in the automobile world today.

Won't you see your Quality Buick Dealer soon and let him prove it in detail?

Nerve Gas Could Destroy Minds

By ROGER GREENE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Testifying behind locked doors on Capitol Hill, the general told a little joke.

"The story was about a man who went to visit a friend in the hospital and found him all bandaged up, with a broken arm and one leg in a plaster cast.

"Patient: "What in the world happened?"

Visitor: "You remember the party Saturday night? Well, you got up on top of the dresser and said you could fly to the other side of the room. You jumped off and didn't make it."

"Why didn't you stop me"

"Stop you? I was betting you could do it!"

The lawmakers gathered around the table at a House committee hearing didn't laugh — a few of them shivered — as Maj. Gen. William M. Creasy, then chief of the U.S. Army Chemical Corps, related the joke.

For Creasy used the story to illustrate how secret new types of nerve gas — or "nerve discombobulators," as he called them — might be used to subdue the enemy in a conflict involving germ or chemical warfare.

"The point is," said Creasy, "that it (the gas) will do these things to you. You will be acting very irrationally and the other people who have also been subjected to it will not know it, either. Everybody will be on the bandwagon."

Creasy's heavily censored testimony, when published, did not elaborate on the weird effects of certain nerve gases beyond saying they would "upset your behavior pattern."

But in citing "gases that afect the minds of men...(and) break down a people's will to fight," the general seemed to be hinting at a new type of warfare — without guns, bombs or bayonets — in which victory would be achieved without killing or maiming on either side.

Asked if such gases have been developed yet, the secrecy-minded Pentagon replied:

"The Chemical Corps is conducting research in this area to determine the feasibility of such compounds as casualty-producing agents. There are various chemicals known to affect the behavior of animals and humans."

Subsequently, the Defense Department issued a television film showing (1) a cat pouncing on a frightened mouse and (2) the same cat, sprayed with a secret gas, backing away in terror from a mouse.

While the Pentagon shies away from almost all discussion of germ warfare, further enlightenment about there "psycho-chemical" weapons has come from Dr. E. L. Kropa of the Battelle Memorial Institute, Columbus, Ohio, which engages in numerous defense research projects.

In a report Dr. Kropa described laboratory experiments by a scientist named Hofman involving a chemical which produces temporary madness. The chemical is known as LSD-25 or lysergic acid.

Kropa said LSD-25 "destroys the individual's will to think and communicate...the head seems to be severed from the body, and there is a feeling of floating in space."

And he added:

"To give you a little insight as to how active this material is, it has been estimated that less than a pound would cause all the inhabitants in New York City to take on a 'schizoid reaction' — i.e., an emotional disturbance marked by such things as delusions and hallucinations.

"I had great dificulty in speaking coherently, my field of vision swayed before me...objects appeared distorted like images in a curved mirror...the faces of those around me appeared as grotesque colored masks...I shouted half insanely or babbled incoherent words...."

Six hours later the siege of temporary madness began to taper off.

Because of Pentagon secrecy, there is no certainty whether such a weapon exists in America's chemical warfare arsenal. But the military implications of Dr. Hoffman's six-hour ordeal are sharply etched:

In six hours, with the opposition temporarily and harmlessly reduced to so many babbling idiots, enemy invaders could march in without iring a shot.

Next: Defense against germ warfare.

Hart Criticizes Budget Proposal

Calls President's Plan Unrealistic, Hopes for Appropriations Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart (D-Mich) said Tuesday Congress will have to save President Eisenhower from the effects of what Hart called the President's wholly unrealistic budget.

"This precariously balanced proposal is wholly unrealistic," Hart told a news conference.

"I'm hopeful that the Congress will undertake more than the President recommends," Hart said. "Unless we do, there will be an adverse effect on the economy.

"If we slack off," he continued, "the withdrawal of the stimulus of federal spending almost certainly means that government revenues won't meet his expectations."

Hart said unemployment and the need for more urban renewal projects are prime Michigan problems, "but withdrawal of federal participation is proposed in many other areas. It means all of us will suffer, not just Michigan, but the nation."

Kalwitz Is One Volunteer City Would Really Miss

The greying, 65-year-old former General Motors Truck & Coach Division official is finding even more time for his community since his retirement from work three weeks ago.

City officials, who have a saying that "a good volunteer is hard to find," are happy to hear Kalwitz intends to continue on in his fifth year on the Planning Commission.

Never a man to fail to take a stand, Kalwitz, as a member of the Oakland County Special Government Study Committee, looks forward to the approaching battle in behalf of home rule, which the group advocates for the county.

He'll also stay on as chairman of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Government Affairs Committee, a group which he has led to many civic accomplishments.

If any other challenging jobs turn up, Kalwitz may have the time now to tackle them, too.

ENJOYS CONTACTS

"The wonderful thing about civic service is associating with other people interested in improvements," he says.

"In the last analysis, though, it's the spirit of the people of Pontiac that counts. There's a lot of public spirit in Pontiac, and I have found that if the people here understand an issue, they generally go in the right direction.

With Truck & Coach since it became a General Motors subsidiary in 1925, Kalwitz held a key job during the war production years.

He was administrator of government controls at the time the Pontiac plant was turning out heavy duty cargo trucks and the amphibious "ducks" that spearheaded so many South Pacific beachheads.

The job took on military importance again during the Korean conflict, when the "6x6" trucks were put into production here for a second time.

A native of Winona, Ill., Kalwitz joined the Yellow Truck & Coach Manufacturing Co. in Chicago as an accountant, after serving as an ensign in the Navy and studying at the LaSalle Extension University in Chicago.

When GM purchased the firm and moved it to a brand new plant in Pontiac in 1928, Kalwitz moved, too. He and Mrs. Kalwitz have lived at 112 Osceola Ave. almost 30 years.

Kalwitz made his way up in the accounting department during the depression days when Pontiac was thankful to have as steady an employer as Truck & Coach.

He was government controls coordinator from 1940 until his retirement last Dec. 31.

SERVICE A HABIT

Civic service has always been a habit with Kalwitz and the list of causes he's aided is a long one.

He was prominent when the Chamber of Commerce formed the Citizens Street and Highway Safety Council back in 1937, and helped push Pontiac from the bottom of the National Safety Council's list to the top (1940).

As head of the safety council, Kalwitz led the movement for establishment of municipal court and helped found Pontiac Central High School's first driver-training class, with the aid of two Pontiac cars loaned by Pontiac Motor Division.

He was head of a citizens committee that dared to urge more school taxes for the rehabilitation of Pontiac schools in 1940.

The proposal was resoundingly defeated at the polls, and so was Kalwitz when he ran for the Board of Education.

"People were so much against more taxes, I lost in every precinct except my own," he said.

SAW HOPES REALIZED

But a little later, Pontiac schools were able to free themselves of the 15-mill county tax limitation and Kalwitz saw his hopes for more money for schools realized.

"Since then, Pontiac people have been financially generous to the schools," he observed.

During World War II, Kalwitz was on the Citizens Committee for Navy Recruitment, commanded the Civil Defense Council and served on the Draft Advisory Board.

He became a director of the Oakland Citizens League and was president when the League successfully campaigned for a numbers racket grand jury in the mid 40's.

Under his direction, the Chamber of Commerce Governmental Affairs Committee successfully urged Pontiac to become one of the first cities to publish an annual report to taxpayers.

The committee successfully fought to raise the city's tax limitation in 1954, persuading voters to continue the old two mills for debt retirement after the debts had been paid off.

Kalwitz has a saying that sums up his attitude about civic service.

"If America ever fails, it will not be because of the strength of its bad people, but because of the indifference of its good people."

Authorities Say Gunman 'Sick'

Irrational Notes Left During Shooting Spree Basis for Statement

EATON RAPIDS (UPI)—Police said today a gunman who went on a wild shooting spree from Eaton Rapids to the Kalamazoo area "appears to be sick and needs help."

Authorities said Charles W. Rogers, 22, left a number of irrational notes at places he stopped along the way.

Rogers waived examination at his arraignment before Justice Cecil L. F. Baldwin on breaking and entering charges yesterday. Rogers, held on $5,000 bond, was bound over to circuit court for the March term.

Police said Rogers started his escapade by breaking into an Eaton Rapids sporting goods store where he helped himself to two rifles and some ammunition.

He jammed four other rifles trying to fire them with outsized bullets. He tested the other two by shooting them into the floor.

He fired another shot into the ceiling of his brother's home where he demanded the keys to his station wagon.

He then drove to Albion 25 miles away and tried to get into the home of a teacher, John Davidson. Rogers fired a shot into the driveway when he was told to go away.

Battle Creek Township police caught him later as he was headed for Kalamazoo. He gave up without a struggle.

Mrs. Hunsinger to Be Sworn In at Hospital Bed

LANSING (AP)—Rep. Josephine D. Hunsinger (D-Detroit), whose illness enabled Republicans to take control of the House, will be sworn into office from her hospital bed.

House members last night adopted a resolution directing a State Supreme Court justice to administer the oath of office at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital.

Mrs. Hunsinger underwent an abdominal operation Jan. 9. Her absence clears the way for Republicans in the evenly-divided House to take control, by a 55-54 vote.

Democratic leaders said they expected she would resume her legislative duties in two or three weeks.

State Liquor Sales Continue to Climb

LANSING (AP)—Liquor sales continued up this year over last year for the second consecutive week, the State Liquor Control Commission reported today.

Case sales for the week ending Jan. 9 were 69,778 compared to 66,634 cases a year ago.

The first increase over the previous year was noted the week after Christmas after sales had been running behind for nearly a year.

One Little Texan Is Mighty Rough on Garter Snakes

The son — Timmy Ray, aged 15 months — had picked up a garter snake that promptly curled around the boy's arm.

Doug stammered a warning.

Timmy Ray gurgled, patted the snake, then bent over and bit it in two.

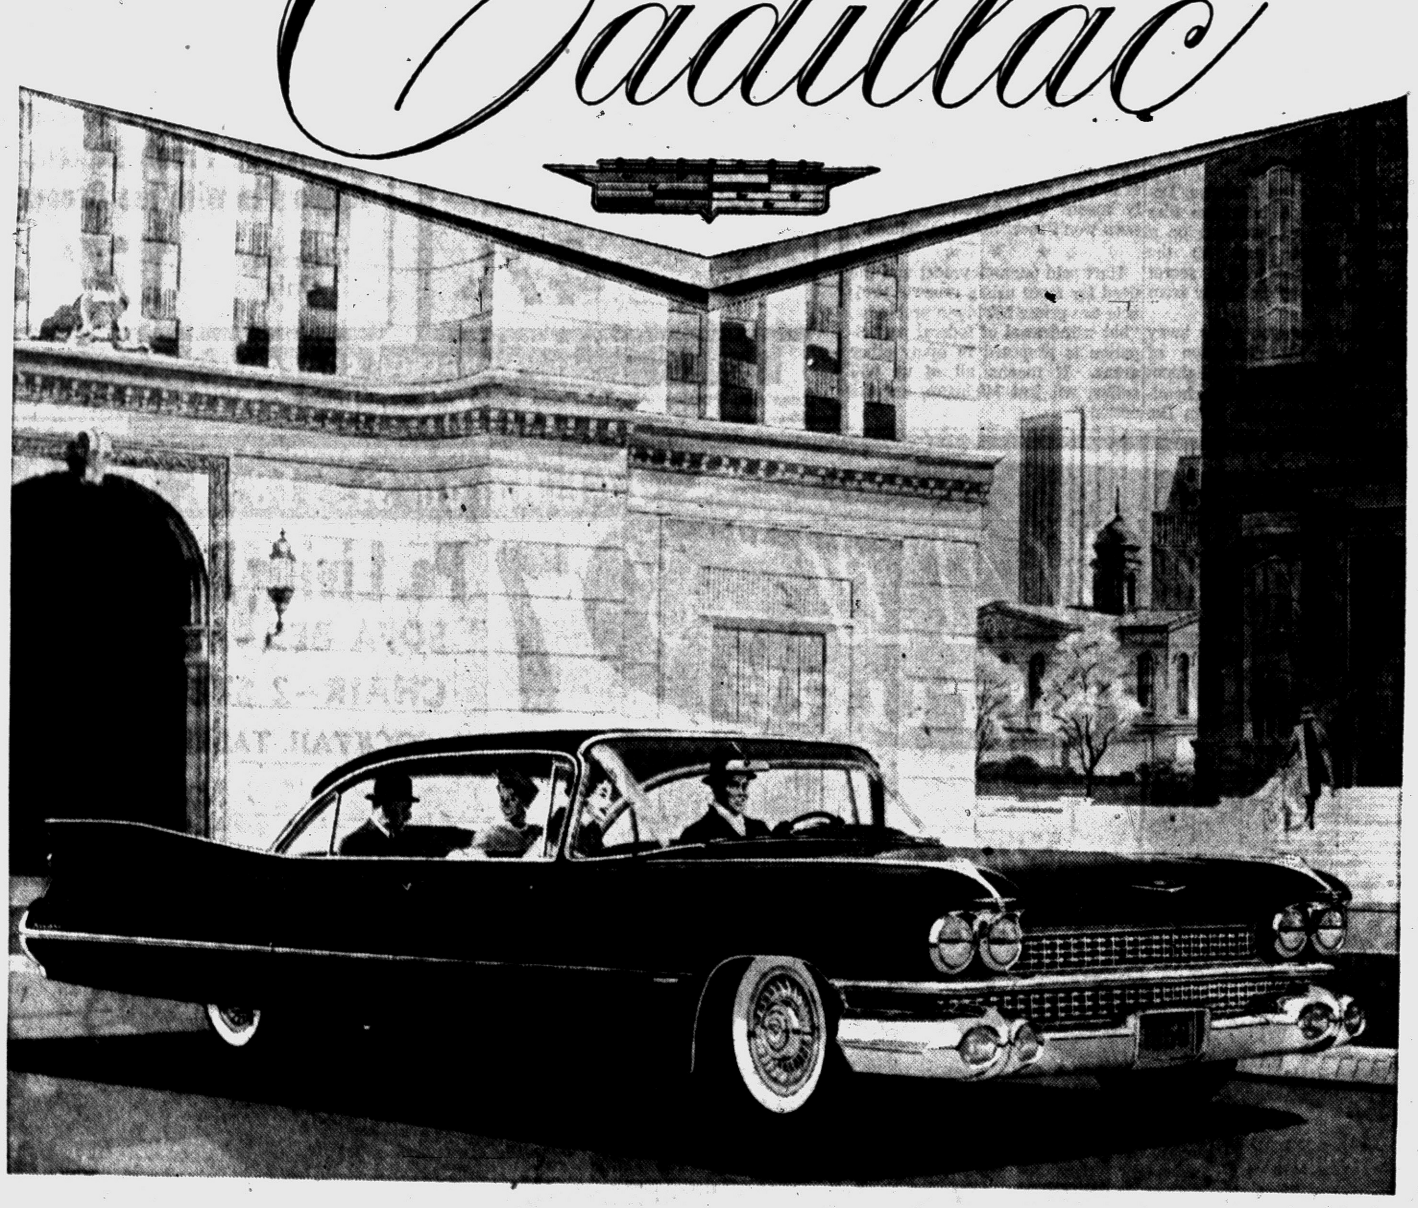
Cadillac



Without Precedent... Even Among Cadillacs!

It has long been understood that the one true way to judge a Cadillac is to measure it against another Cadillac!

And yet, even this historic yardstick of Cadillac goodness is not completely applicable for 1959. For this newest "car of cars" is without precedent—even among Cadillacs!

Standing regally at the curbside, in motion on the highway, or making its grand entrance at some distinguished event—its majestic new styling is always the subject of unstinted admiration.

Cadillac's new fabrics and leathers are breath-taking to behold . . . appointments are crafted with a jeweler's care . . . and its interiors are so spacious that entering and leaving are accomplished with ease.

And the car is so easy to handle, so obedient and responsive to the touch and so smooth and silken in action that even the longest journey is always a pleasure to anticipate—and a genuine joy to recall.

Without precedent, did we say?

Well, we'll have to confess that there are some ways in which this new Cadillac is very much like its distinguished predecessors. There is the great quality of its craftsmanship, for instance . . . its remarkable dependability . . . and its extraordinary economy of ownership.

But with these exceptions, Cadillac for 1959 is unique!

So whether you are looking forward to your first Cadillac—or your fifth—or even your tenth—you have a great discovery ahead of you.

We suggest you visit your dealer soon for a personal demonstration of this brilliant new Cadillac.

Contract for Design of Library Signed

With a price ceiling agreed on, city commissioners last night signed contracts for the design of the new public library.

A ceiling of $500,000 for construction was stipulated in the agreement entered into the Birmingham architectural firm of Odell, Hewlett & Luckenbach.

Other costs should push the total bill close to the $600,000 maximum which the Commission has decided to pay out for the library, City Manager Walter K. Willman said.

Besides a 5 per cent architect's fee and the cost of city-employed supervisors, it is estimated that it will take $40,000 to furnish the building.

The city also agreed to pay a 1 per cent fee to the Detroit consulting firm of Morhardt & Ulveling, known throughout the Mid-west as being expert in library planning.

For $500,000, the architects said they could build a two-story building containing 25,000 square feet of floor space. The new library will be located on South Parke street across from City Hall, in the civic center area.

The architects said actual construction cost would be more closely estimated as they submit preliminary plans and working drawings to the Commission for approval.

Construction is expected to get under way this fall, with completion in time for the city's centennial in 1961.

Commissioners, in other business, referred to the city attorney for study a proposed formula redistributing assessments on alley paving in residential-commercial neighborhoods.

Proposed by City Assessor Roy W. Ransom, the formula would have the commercial property paying all of the costs where the alley is not used by the residential property. In cases where the alley is in both residential and commercial use, the commercial property should pay 85 per cent of the cost, Ransom suggested.

Given a preliminary reading was an ordinance rezoning four lots in the triangular parcel bounded by Lakeside, Montcalm and Stanley, from residential to commercial use.

A new beer and wine license was approved by a 5-to-2 vote for a grocery store at 338 Central Ave., and a request was granted to transfer tavern and beer and wine licenses from 23 E. Pike St. to 21 E. Pike.

Turned down was an application from Detroit Garage Builders, Inc., for a sidewalk building permit. "The firm has failed to conform with city requirements in the past," said Lewis M. Wrenn, City Engineer.

Postpone Hearing of Ousted Officer

OAK PARK — A hearing of ex-Police Lt. Joseph W. Roberts scheduled for Friday has ben postponed until Feb. 9 because of his wife's illness, Capt. Paul McGee said this morning.

Roberts, 36, was dismissed from the force Dec. 12 for allegedly firing a pistol into a juke box in a Detroit bar during an argument the night before.

Widow of Only 24 Hours Gives Birth to 7th Child

The future looked bleak today for a Pontiac mother, Mrs. Isabelle Craig, 29.

Mrs. Craig gave birth to a baby girl, Darlene, early Monday morning at Pontiac General Hospital. It was her seventh child.

Her husband, Ralph, 35, died at the same hospital about 24 hours before, after failing to regain consciousness following an auto smashup Christmas Eve.

The distraught mother said yesterday:

"I haven't got a dime to my name right now. We didn't have any insurance. My husband had a welfare job in Rochester."

He was found lying near his auto by sheriff's deputies along Auburn road in Avon Township early Christmas morning. The car had struck a ditch and then smashed into a large rock. Deputies were never able to discover how the mishap occurred.

MOVED TO PONTIAC

Mrs. Craig moved from their home at 440 Michelson St., Rochester, to a smaller dwelling at 354 W. Huron St. several weeks ago.

"I wanted to be with him every day," she said, "and it was too difficult caring for the children and coming all that way each day during the final month of pregnancy."

"We've never had much," she sobbed, "but now I don't even have enough money to bury him with."

The funeral will be held at Huntoon Funeral Home tomorrow afternoon.

The mother will get a check for $140 later this month from the Aid to Dependent Children, the only source of income she has at present.

The other six children are Johnny Ray, 13, Rose Marie, 12, Judy, 11, Jack, 8, Gladys Loretta, 2, and Ralph Edward Jr., who will be a year old on Jan. 29.

BONN, Germany (AP)—A top official of the East German secret police has fled to the West, officials reported today.

He was reported to have brought with him information on Communist undercover organizations carrying out subversive activity in West Germany.

Bars of Gold Just Bull—Not Bullion

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — D. E. Jones' 86 bars of gold were just plain bull—not bullion—the U.S. Secret Service said today.

Jones, 38-year-old father of eight children, told Secret Service officers Tuesday "there wasn't any gold." He had just taken a lie detector test.

Forrest V. Sorrels, agent in charge of the Dallas ofice of Secret Service, said Jones made the admission. Earlier, the Corsicana, Tex., filling station attendant said he found the multimillion-dollar cache in eastern Texas while picking berries.

But the idea of the tale started last summer, he said, while the boys were sitting around the filling station talking about buried gold.

Jones' curiosity was aroused so he went to a banker to find out what to do if he found the gold. The banker sent him to a lawyer. With seven cents in his pocket, Jones went to an attorney and signed a contract.

People started bothering Jones for a cut in his "discovery," he said, so Jones moved to Corsicana and the filling station job.

Last week, Jones started telling the story again. The Secret Service stepped in, and Tuesday Jones pointed to a gold-filled tooth.

Old 1880 Hotel, Home of Earp, Burns in Arizona

TOMBSTONE, Ariz. (UPI)—The Nellie Cashman Hotel, a Tombstone landmark that was home for Marshal Wyatt Earp in the 1880s, was 90 per cent destroyed Tuesday by a fire of undetermined origin.

The one-story frame building was Nellie Cashman's boarding house in the old days when Earp, visiting dignitaries and the gambling dentist-killer, Doc Holliday, lived there.

John Slaughter stayed there when he was Cochise County sheriff in later years. Slaughter died in Douglas, 58 miles south of Tombstone.

A 30-mile an hour wind carried flames through the 12-room structure in moments. The Tombstone Volunteer Fire Department confined the blaze to the hotel, however.

Harvey Lodge Heads Senate Committee

State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County) has been named chairman of the Senate Elections Committee and member of two other committees for the 1959-60 session.

Lodge, beginning his second two-year term, was named on the Conservation and Judiciary committees.

Crime Suddenly Takes a Holiday in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI)—Crime took a holiday in Michigan's second largest city during a 24-hour period ending at noon yesterday, police reported.

For the first time in anyone's memory, the city jail was empty at 8 a.m. It had been occupied during the night by three men who had no other place to sleep but they had left earlier.

Police said it was unusual for no arrests to be made during the night in a city which has a population of 200,000. Prisoners are kept in jail only until they appear in court. If they fail to furnish bond, they are transferred to the county jail.

Autopsy Shows Baby Died of Pneumonia

LAKE ORION — Cause of the death of a six-week-old baby girl, found dead in her crib yesterday morning, was virus pneumonia, according to Dr. E. Arthur Calkins.

An autopsy was held yesterday since the cause appeared to be suffocation but the child had been healthy.

The baby, Kathleen Marie, was the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving M. Walter Jr., of 943 Merritt St. The Walters have four sons who are all at home.

City OKs Fund Loan to Complete Hospital

Pontiac General Hospital should pay back extra costs to complete the hospital expansion program, city commissioners decided last night after authorizing City Manager Walter K. Willman to resume construction immediately.

Willman was authorized to negotiate an agreement under which the hospital would begin paying back the estimated $300,000 to $350,000 as soon as it is financially able to fund depreciation.

When this would be is dependent, Willman said, on how soon extra repair work in the east wing is finished, the building remodeled and revenue-producing beds installed in sufficient numbers to pull the hospital out of the red.

Harold B. Euler, the hospital director, said he would submit the proposal to the Hospital Board of Trustees.

WILL PUSH REPAIRS

Willman said he would begin getting preliminaries under way today for two Pontiac contractors to start work on the repairs immediately.

Commissioners authorized Willman to hire J. A. Fredman, Inc., and the Eames & Brown Co. on a time-and-material basis, after Mayor Philip E. Rowston signed agreements canceling the 1956 contracts under which the expansion program has been more than 90 per cent completed.

Fredman is to do the general construction and Eames & Brown the plumbing and heating work involved in replacing worn out heating, plumbing and lighting installations in the east wing.

Willman said both firms had agreed to "extremely attractive terms, from the point of view of the city."

It was agreed that the two companies would charge only 5 per cent profit, payable a year after the work is finished.

The city manager was authorized to find an electrical contractor willing to agree to the same terms.

Replacement costs are expected to be kept at a minimum, Willman said, through city-employed supervisors ordered to save what is usable and to discard only what is not salvagable.

Reminding commissioners that a $500,000 price tag was put on replacing the defective systems in their entirety, Willman believed that proceeding on a time-and-material basis would cut costs.

When the repairs are completed, the local contractors will continue on to complete the remodeling job, Willman said, and as the remodeling is finished in various areas, beds will be moved in.

The canceled contracts were with Darin & Armstrong, Inc., the general contractors; Brodell Plumbing & Heating Co. and Saarin Electric Co.

Under the cancellation agreements, the city was credited for work undone and materials undelivered and was to pay Brodell and Saarin off within 30 days and the bulk of the Darin & Armstrong bill by March 1.

Answers on Social Security

Needs 5 Years for Eligibility

By RAY HENRY
Associated Press Writer

From P.B. of St. Petersburg, Fla.: "I've just retired from government work at 62. How long would I have to work in a job covered by Social Security to earn enough time to be eligible for Social Security retirement payments in addition to my Civil Service payments?"

You would need 5 or 5¼ years in a job covered by Social Security to be eligible for retirement payments.

From G.N. of Pittsburgh, Pa.: "I paid $94.50 in Social Security tax last year. Does the amount of my tax have any direct bearing on the size of the retirement payments I'll receive?"

No. Your retirement payments are related to the earnings you had in jobs covered by Social Security.

From Mrs. W.M.P. of Green Bay, Wis.: "My husband who is 65 plans to retire in March and start drawing his Social Security payments. I'm working and expect to continue to work for another four or five years. Will my earnings have any bearing on my husband's right to collect Social Security?"

No. The amount of earnings he can have and still collect Social Security payments is limited. But, your earnings have no bearing on payments he collects.

From E.S. of Clearwater, Fla.: "Recently I got a questionnaire from the Veterans Administration about the income I had last year. As I understand it, the questionnaire has something to do with the vet's pension I draw. What if I don't fill out the questionnaire and send it back?"

Under the VA regulations, if you don't return the questionnaire within 30 days after you receive it, the VA can stop your pension.

From W. McC. of Newark, N.J.: "A neighbor of mine employs a maid full-time, but refuses to pay any Social security for her. I think this is terrible. What will the woman do when she's too old to work? She's now 56. Is there anything you can suggest for me to try to force my neighbor to put his maid under Social Security?"

You can report your neighbor to the nearest Social Security office. Apparently he feels that paying the Social Security tax is voluntary. The fact is your neighbor is violating a federal law by not putting his maid under Social Security. He can be forced to do so and may be required to pay penalties.

From S.A. of Iowa City: "Several years ago, an old family friend came to live with us. He died about two months ago. I paid all the funeral expenses. He was getting Social Security retirement payments at the time of his death. Can I get any repayment for the funeral expenses, even though we weren't related?"

Yes. All persons eligible for Social Security payments are also covered by a lump sum payment at death. If there is no widow, the lump sum can be collected by whoever has paid the bill, related or not. Apply to the local Social Security office.

'Pledge Battle on Integration

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. has responded to court rulings knocking out Virginia's chief anti-integration laws with a pledge of unyielding resistance to race mixing in the public schools.

If there was doubt that the administration would pursue massive resistance along some other line, Almond scotched it Tuesday night in a radio-television address.

The people of Virginia "have repeatedly made it crystal clear that they cannot and will not support a system of public education on a racially integrated basis," he said. "I make it equally clear that I cannot and that I will not break faith with them."

Almond's 15-minute speech, his first real comment after Monday's court rulings, was significant also for what was left unsaid. He gave no new details of what course the state will pursue, hinting only that the key to the plan of battle would have something to do with state tax revenues. His closest approach to a specific recommendation was an "urgent request" that private school classes for children from nine closed schools in Norfolk, Charlottesville and Warren County continue without interruption.

Almond seemed to reject any local option plan that would allow school integration. He spoke scornfully of "false prophets of a little or token integration." He said it is "imperative" for Virginia to have one "statewide basis" for fighting school integration.

Monday's court rulings wiped away the state's school closing law. Almond has no statutory power to keep the nine schools closed. There are no state laws to prevent local officials from reopening the schools, shut in September to prevent race mixing.

Still, there is no indication of a move to reopen schools in any of the three localities.

State Youth Brightens Life in Denver Hospital

Hal D. Story, 16, of St. Joseph, Mich., has rigged up a record player, a homemade microphone and used radio parts for a radio station he operates at the National Jewish Hospital at Denver.

Actually, Hal's station is part of the hospital's public address system. But he broadcasts as station K-N-J-H when the hospital's regular music programs end at 5 p.m.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Story, plays suppertime record programs of popular music and carries news of patient activities to two libraries and rooms on the hospital's asthma floor.

Hal has been in the hospital himself since October 1957. He reports that he grew four inches and gained 27 pounds in his first year of treatment.

The youth has kept up with his education by attending Denver's East High School. Recently he has been able to go on hikes into Denver where he attended photography clinics.

The youth's father is the operator of the Store Electric Co. in St. Joseph.

His father reports the boy comes naturally by his interest in electronics. While Hal was in the eighth grade, he was allowed to join a radio class his father was attending to see if the adult material could be absorbed by children.

Hal's grades were better than his father's half the time and he finished in the upper 50 per cent of the adult group.

The first schoolbook printed in America was the "New England Primer," published around 1690.

Closing Out Vanguard Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is closing out its Vanguard satellite program after four more launchings in favor of "bigger and newer things."

Just what is planned wasn't specified by Homer J. Stewart, director of program planning and evaluations for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

He told a meeting of the National Rocket Club Tuesday that beyond the four upcoming launchings there is "no intention of continuing the Vanguard program as such."

Stewart gave that answer when asked why President Eisenhower's new budget allocates no funds for the Vanguard project.

Of seven Vanguard attempts since December 1957, only one has succeeded. The Army has put three satellites into orbit.

New Civil Rights Bill Example of Strategy

Johnson's Policy of Compromise Works

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — One of the best insights into the mind and tactics of Sen. Lyndon Johnson, leader of the Senate Democrats, is in the kind of civil rights bill he offered Tuesday.

The Johnson bill is strictly a compromise: too mild for the liberals, too strong for the Southern Democrats. But if any civil rightn bill can pass this year, it's probably this one, or one like it, just because it is middle-road.

Because it's that kind, it fits completely a description of Johnson given last week by one of his closest associates: "Here in Washington issues are all around us. But Johnson doesn't try to create issues; he tries to settle them."

Johnson uses compromise to do two things mainly: to inch forward and to avoid long fights that create bitterness and delay the Senate's work.

One of his aides said: "Sometimes he'll talk to as many as 50 people, in Congress, in government, outside government to get the best advice he can before he makes up his mind. He's a brain-picker.

"Sometimes he finds, through these consultations in and out of Congress, that a slight change in the wording of a bill means the difference between enough votes to get it through and determined opposition."

All this, of course, is in addition to the many favors he does for fellow senators, who are not unmindful when he badly needs them.

Having made up his mind, he turns to strategy: picking the time and the situation for making his move. He gave a demonstration of that Tuesday.

Both the Eisenhower administration and the Senate liberals are expected to offer civil rights legislation fairly soon. Some bills already are in. Before others were offered, Johnson unexpectedly produced his proposal.

This got him the maximum attention for his bill. It became a yardstick for judging other proposals made later. By being first with a compromise bill, he took the steam out of any more far-reaching bills.

Johnson did the same kind of thing on the opening day of this new Congress. Liberals had said they'd put up a tough fight to change a Senate rule to make it easier to smash a filibuster.

On opening day, before they had a chance to open their mouths, Johnson offered a plan to make it just a very little bit easier to smash a filibuster. The liberals didn't like it and neither did the Southerners, but for opposite reasons.

But because it meant only a mild change, the Southerners did not filibuster and the change went through. What had seemed on opening day as a long fight was cleared up in less than one week.

In 1957 Johnson did what many people had considered impossible: he steered through the Senate the first real civil rights bill to pass in this century. It was truly a compromise bill, too mild for the liberals, too strong for the Southerners yet not strong enough to cause a Southern filibuster.

DOC, ABOUT THOSE SHOTS — What Pansy is telling her doctor may someday help hayfever sufferers the world over. The pup, wheezing with what one doctor described as "the worst case of hayfever allergy I have ever seen in man or beast" had her symptoms relieved through treatment at the University of Michigan medical center. She has since adopted Dr. Roy Patterson as her own physician.

2 Young Children Die When House Burns

They were Preston Gould, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Gould, and Bruce Nickerson, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred NicRerson. Both families live in Newberry.

Fire Chief Russell W. Hill said the destroyed house was owned by Russell Nesberg, Mrs. Gould's father. Bruce was visiting the home.

Car Joins Owner in Motel Bed

NORTH BERGEN, N. J. (AP) — Walter Siner found a car in his bed at a motel here. It was his car, and it arrived unexpectedly.

Police said Mrs. Siner had gone out to the car to get something while her husband bedded down in their room. He had left the motor running.

Mrs. Siner reached into the car and accidentally hit the gear shift lever. The car started moving.

She fumbled for the brake but hit the accelerator. The car crashed through the wall, right into the bed where Siner was lying.

He was treated for a hand injury and she for shock.

Baby Born to Woman After Accident in Car

Mrs. Adams, who reportedly had only slight injuries, was going there anyway. Twenty minutes after the accident, she gave birth to a 7-pound, 14-ounce boy.

Prince Philip Arrives for New Delhi Visit

NEW DELHI (AP) — Prince Philip arrived in New Delhi today for the first visit by a member of Britain's royal family since India gained independence in 1947.

About 2,000 Indians applauded as Queen Elizabeth's husband stepped from a Comet jetliner and exchanged greetings with Prime Minister Nehru.

Most of the crowd had been waiting for more than three hours because a rare winter fog had closed in the airport. The Comet stopped at Agra, 125 miles south, until the fog lifted.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Fifteen years ago, Sir Laurence Olivier began an ambitious long-range program of bringing the best of Shakespeare to the audiences of the world.

"I determined to bring them along gently," he remarks. "First I did 'Henry V' which was a sure-fire story for the movies. Then came 'Hamlet' which was a little more difficult.

"Then with 'Richard III' I figured they were ready for a real story with wonderful characters."

"Henry V" won special Academy award, "Hamlet" an Oscar for best picture of 1948 and one for Olivier as best actor. Both made money over the long haul. "Richard III" did not. Olivier places the blame on TV.

It was released in England when the box office was taking a nose-dive because of the rise of TV.

"I pleaded with the backers not to do it," the producer-director-star said. "They claimed people would be stimulated by the TV showing to see it on a big screen and in color. The money was too tempting for them—$600,000. Because they had no distribution or advertising costs, that was the equivalent of two million dollars in theater returns.

"But I knew it would ruin the theater business. The show was three hours with commercials and few could sit through that. We couldn't possibly survive such a bad reaction."

Because of the box office failure of "Richard III," Olivier was unable to find backing for the fourth of his Shakespearian films, "Macbeth."

"I tried for nine months to get the money," he said wearily. "I needed the same as I spent for the other films—$1,200,000. I was turned down everywhere. I couldn't fight it any longer. I gave up."

The Green Empress

CHAPTER XXXII

Brushing aside Angus's suggestion that he should enjoy the siesta hours in the cool, quiet lounge kept expressly for Empress passengers, the Admiral went out and walked to the square in which the Empress was parked. Climbing in, he followed the example of Eerdy in the driver's seat. He pushed his chair back to its lowest angle, lay back, closed his eyes and added baritone snores to Ferdy's tenor ones.

He was still asleep when the passengers re-embarked.

"Don't disturb him," said Angela softly.

"He could have seen so much!" mourned Mrs. Denby-Warre. "He could have learned so much. Surely one can stay awake in surroundings like these?"

The Admiral, however, stayed asleep for the next fifty miles, and awakened in a mood unconducive to the appreciation of scenery.

"Yes, yes, yes," he said sullenly to his sister, as she handed him a map. "I know where we are. We're on our way to Salamanca, and we could have gone there in a straight line, instead of trapesing round the country."

He rose with the intention of following Angus back to the observation compartment. The coach gave a slight lurch, and he clutched the back of Miss Seton's seat to steady himself.

"What's that river?" he asked her.

"The Douro."

"Can't be," said the Admiral. "The Douro's in Portugal."

"Only the business end of it," pointed out Maurice.

"The Douro!" he said slowly. "Port!"

"'sright," said Maurice.

"Port!" intoned the Admiral. He sent an angry glance round the coach. "Why can't we follow the river into Portugal, instead of wasting time at a lot of other places? We'd see the vine terraces, and those boats, forget what they call 'em, that carry the wine down to Oporto."

"That's scheduled for the return journey, sir," said Angus.

DRIVER COULD STOP

"Couldn't we stop and take a look at the river?" asked the Admiral.

"We could sir. I'll talk to the driver. We cross it when we leave Zamora, and he could stop after that."

The place Ferdy chose was a pleasant stretch of road that afforded a backward view of Zamora. The passengers got out of coach and walked a little way, picking out landmarks. Only the Admiral kept his gaze on the water and let his imagination rove over its lower reaches and saw the wine on its way to Oporto Port.

Rich, rare port. He had a couple of bottles of '27 he'd been keeping for—for what? He'd better drink it soon, or somebody'd drink it at his funeral. Port . . .

He marched along the bank, and Angus watched him with a smile. Mrs. Denby-Warre came to stand beside him, and spoke hopefully.

"I really think," she said, "that he's beginning to take an interest in the scenery, at last."

"I'm sure he is."

"He told you"—She turned to look up at him—"about my, shall we call it dream?"

"Yes. I hope you're not worrying about it?"

"Not waits, I hope, to see the Admiral under the coach?" he said gently.

"Waits to see what fate has in store. I saw an empty coach, two seats are now empty. Hasn't that struck you as extraordinary?"

"To tell you the truth—"

He never told her the truth. A shout had come from the direction of some trees overhanging the river, and Angus, swinging round, saw the Admiral running, plunging through hanging branches, lumbering awkwardly but valiantly in the direction of the clump of trees that were closest to the water. He vanished behind foliage, reappeared, vanished again—but before disappearing, he had turned and yelled loudly to Angus.

"Got him! Come on!"

Angus began to run—not fast, but steadily. If he went too hard, he reminded himself, cursing, his knee would let him down. He took a short cut down the bank, making for the trees behind which the Admiral had disappeared. Mrs. Denby-Warre's anxious cries fell behind him, thinned and died away.

He was going downhill, down to the trees, guided now by a loud and triumphant shout from the Admiral.

Before he had taken many more steps, he hear the crash of branches. The broad back of the Admiral appeared, and Angus saw that he was striving desperately to keep his balance. Arms flailing, he staggered backward a few more paces and then, before Angus could reach him, fell heavily and rolled down the bank.

Angus, making a lightning calculation, chose a place at which he could arrest the Admiral's downward progress, and with a lunge, reached the spot, braced himself and waited. A rough estimate of the old man's weight made him feel almost certain that far from stopping the rapidly descending form, he would merely check it momentarily and then go down with it—down into the brown water.

He heard the Admiral's hoarse breathing, felt a rush of loose pebbles and then the weight was on him and he felt himself being borne downward. He dug his heels into the earth, clutched desperately at the undergrowth, slithered a few more yards and finally stopped at the water's very edge.

The next moment, he had got to his feet and was bending over the Admiral's heaving frame.

"Are you all right, sir?"

"Who, sir?"

"Didn't see. . .didn't get. . . proper look. Saw the devil st-stealing away and. . .and made a grab and. . ."

"You're hurt," said Angus.

"No. Yes. My arm, damn it."

FACE SCRATCHED

Mud-streaked, his face scratched, his clothes torn, the Admiral struggled, with Angus's help, to a sitting position. Voices were heard coming nearer, and a heavy pounding told Angus that Ferdy was on the way.

"Didn't see the f-fellow," the Admiral brought out. "Saw him moving off through the trees . . . made a dive. . .got a hold. . .lost it. The devil was going to——"

His voice, to Angus's dismay, faltered and died. His eyes closed. He sank back, and Ferdy hurtled down the bank in time to aid Angus in lowering the old man gently to the ground.

"What happened, sir?" he panted.

Angus hesitated. The others were near. Suspicion was one thing, accusation another. If it could be proved that the Admiral had seen Maurice Tarrant. . .but he had not been able to identify the man. Nor had he stated what had roused his suspicions.

"I don't know, Ferdy," he replied.

"Yes. We'll have to get him back to the coach."

There were willing helpers. Maurice Tarrant and Lord Lorrimer, who had come down together, were fetching water. Miss Seton was getting a coat to put over the Admiral. Ferdy was loosening his clothes. Kneeling on the ground and supporting her brother's head was Mrs. Denby-Warre, pale as death, but admirably calm. Issuing quiet orders, she got her brother comfortable and signed for silence as his eyes opened.

"Your arm is hurt, dear," said his sister.

Discovered Only What Couldn't Be Done

Arms Talks With Reds Are Futile

By PIERRE J. HUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — The great fear haunting the world both sides of the Iron Curtain is that some fateful day there will be a sudden holocaust hurtled upon us out of the sky as one great atomic power seeks by surprise attack to deliver a knockout blow against the other.

The spectre of such a nightmare consequently moved the Western powers and those of the Soviet bloc last year to sit down together in Geneva to probe the possibility of preventing such surprise attacks.

The enormity of this task is obvious when one visualizes the speed and destructive power of modern missiles, which can travel across continents at thousands of miles per hour and explode on target only minutes after elaborate warning systems have signalled their approach.

After nearly seven weeks of talk, the conference adjourned without so much as agreeing on the agenda. However, a clearer picture of what can be done and what cannot be done came to the surface.

The official U.N. report issued on the talks brought out the irrefutable conclusion that surprise attacks cannot be prevented but that the task is to reduce as much as humanly possible the danger of such attacks.

The other lesson learned was that the technical and scientific aspects of devising measures to reduce the danger of surprise attacks are inevitably linked to the problem of disarmament and that consequently political questions involved must be discussed concurrently with technical problems. That is a decision currently being mulled over by the governments which participated in the Geneva Conference.

SHOW NO TRUST

The Geneva Conference also laid bare once again the fact that Russia and the Western powers do not trust each other, and they draft proposals which reflect this at every turn.

On the U.S. team as head man was Deputy Defense Secretary William C. Foster, an expert on all things military. The Soviet group was led by Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov, a politician with no little influence in the ranks of the Kremlin.

Kuznetsov made propaganda speeches for five weeks, and finally submitted a proposal which from scratch was unacceptable to the West because it was deceptive and downright dangerous.

Foster and the delegates of the other western countries rejected the Soviet plan. It proposed among other things a one-third reduction of all foreign troops stationed on the European continent, and the denial of any nuclear weapons to West Germany.

The Russian proposal also offered the establishment of 28 observation and control posts behind the Iron Curtain for the purpose of watching against war preparations in ports and industrial centers. But these control posts would be fixed, not mobile, and only Iron Curtain officers could be in command.

In other words, Soviet officers in Russia would be theoretically responsible for warning the West against any war preparations secretly undertaken by the Kremlin. This was absurdity itself, and typical of the trickery practiced in all international diplomacy by the Kremlin.

SUBMIT BLUEPRINT

Foster and his fellow delegates submitted a carefully worked out blueprint based on systematic inspection and control for reducing the danger of surprise attack.

This included everything from looking into nuclear weapons stockpiles to flying over every mile of the countries concerned to photograph terrain and any activity of suspicious character below. Mobile squads of inspectors enlisted from countries other than those being inspected would have the authority to investigate any military installation or industrial plant at any time unannounced.

In other words, the moment small or large military movements or weapons production was detected, the alert would be given and the guilty government brought to task.

The Russians rejected this plan and gave the usual evasive reasons. They made it clear that in the words of the Kremlin, the Soviet Union will not permit on its territory groups of "foreign spies" who could pry into their innermost military and industrial secrets. They do not want the West to know how large a stockpile of nuclear weapons is stashed away in underground Siberian depots.

They have dug up one excuse after another to avoid commitments in this field and even that of controlling outer space.

They simply do not want their hands tied either to conduct outer space exploration and conquest or, if need be, to start a third world war if they are convinced that from the military standpoint they have a chance of landing a knockout blow against the United States by surprise attack. That is the long and short of Soviet reluctance to join the West in honest attempts to cut down the danger of surprise attacks.

Urges Firms Start License Plate Service

LANSING (AP) — Secretary of State James M. Hare has suggested that large employers provide an auto license pickup service to help save the state some $250,000 in tax dollars.

Hare wrote to the heads of about 2,000 of the state's larger firms about the pickup service. He recommended that a company representative colect the license fee from employes, type out the application blank and bring the forms in to pick up the plates.

In addition to the saving to the state through the outside processing, branch offices can issue plates in numerical sequence as an aid to parking cars in plant lots, Hare said.

Woman, 68, Suffocates

Whittier Hotel Sold

DETROIT (AP) — Sale of the Whittier Hotel, overlooking the Detroit River, was agreed to Tuesday by Whittier Corp. The new owner of the 800-room hostelry will be the Stahl Real Estate Co. of New York. The sale price reportedly is $3,500,000.

Make Headway With WSU Bill

Measure Provides for Appointment of Board by Governor

LANSING (AP)—A bill that would head off election of a permanent Wayne State University board of governors at the April 6 election reached the floor today, apparently en route to speedy Senate approval.

It provides instead for appointment of the board by the governor, with Senate consent, and for a seven-member unit with staggered terms.

Existing law calls for a six-member board and six year terms.

Sponsored by Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), the bill won Education Committee endorsement yesterday. Hutchinson said it would assure a high caliber governing body.

Clarence B. Hilberry, Wayne president, has urged that Wayne be merged administratively with the University of Michigan under U. of M. regents.

Also off to a fast start in the Senate was a proposed constitutional amendment that would permit the Legislature to provide for continuity of state and local government in the event of atomic calamity.

Should an entire city administration be wiped out by a bomb, the Legislature could provide by law for a method of emergency selection of a new set of officials.

If the resolution clears the Senate and House, each by a two thirds majority, it will go on the ballot for a statewide vote in the spring.

Rockefeller Is Quick to Sign Gas Tax Bill

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller moved swiftly Tuesday to sign into law a two-cent increase in New York state's gasoline tax.

The Republican governor signed the bill an hour after it cleared the Legislature. On March 1, the gas tax will be raised from four to six cents and the levy on diesel fuel from six to nine cents a gallon.

The increases will yield close to 60 million dollars a year in extra revenue. But Rockefeller said the additional revenue will not be enough to close a 230-million-dollar gap between income and outgo in the two-billion-dollar state budget he is preparing.

Jail Declared Unfit

MADISONVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—County officials are considering construction of a new jail. Judge James Witt has declared the old one unfit for human habitation.

Natives in the African and Asian countries where the jeep is replacing the camel are not completely satisfied with the newcomer. Their complaint is that the jeep can't be milked, eaten nor turned into tents when retired.

Too Bad About the Dance

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post; I invited two couples to dine with my husband and me on a certain night. In the meantime, we received an invitation to a dinner-dance for that same evening. It is one of the nicest social events of the season and we would like very much to go.

"My husband has asked me to call our guests and postpone the dinner for another night, but much as I would like to go to the dinner-dance I am not at all sure that this would be the proper thing to do. I told him I would write to you and abide by your decision."

Answer: I am sorry but it would be the height of rudeness to put off people you have invited to dine in your house because in the meantime you have received an invitation to a party that seems better than your own.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What about eating barbecued spare ribs? Isn't it perfectly proper to pick them up and eat them in the fingers? It's practically impossible to eat them otherwise.

"However, every time I do this my wife makes a big fuss about it and says it is not good table manners. I'm counting on you, Mrs. Post, to convince her that I am right."

Answer: Eating anything as greasy as barbecued spare ribs in one's fingers would never be correct, and is only permissible at a very informal meal where extra napkins and finger bowls are provided.

"Dear Mrs. Post: What is the correct way to introduce a man friend who is in his late twenties to my friends, who are all near this same age, and also to older friends and relatives? Should he be introduced as "Mr. John Jones," or just "John Jones?"

Answer: If he is an intimate friend and you are introducing him to friends of your age and also to relatives, you say John Jones. To other people you would introduce him as Mr. Jones.

Clothing Tells Its Own Story

No matter how well coiffured, manicured and massaged a woman is, if she is careless about her clothing, the effect is spoiled.

An uneven hemline, a peeping petticoat, stocking runs and rundown heels tell their story of untidiness.

Shirley Hutchison is Michigan's Junior Miss. She won the title Friday evening in a state contest sponsored by Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce. Dancing since the age of five, her interpretations helped her win the contest judged on personality, talent and beauty.

Michigan Junior Miss Has Talent, Personality

By LYDIA ROTHMAN

Shirley Hutchison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hutchison of Lakeward Lane, was declared winner over 11 other contestants in the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsored state contest.

Although Shirley has entered other contests (she won the Michigan acrobatic championship in 1953), this is her first beauty contest. Naturally she was very surprised and is thrilled over her new honor. Phone calls and telegrams from admirers are still pouring in by the dozens.

TALENTED DANCER

Going from one extreme to the other is just one indication of Shirley's versatility and talent. She has been dancing since she was five years old. Her parents enrolled her in dancing classes because she was slightly pigeon-toed and they hoped this would correct it — which it certainly did.

For the past two years, Shirley has been teaching tap, toe and ballet dancing as well as acrobatics at the Love School of Music and Dance in Pontiac. She teaches pupils ranging from 3 to 14 years of age on Monday evenings and Saturdays.

Along with her dancing, Shirley is very interested in the theater and has appeared at Willow Way Apprentice Theatre.

HAS ACTING PLANS

This summer, as a result of her part in the High Fever Follies, director Norman Leger has invited her to attend the summer stock theater in New London, N.H. She plans, not only to dance and act, but to help backstage with props and scenery as well.

Shirley also has a dancing part in Pontiac Central's forthcoming production, "The King and I."

Other interests of Michigan's Junior Miss are tape-recording music, particularly Rock 'n' Roll. Johnny Mathis is her favorite singer and Fred Astaire her favorite dancing star. She also swims, fences, sings and plays the piano.

A member of Bethany Baptist Church, she is treasurer of the youth fellowship there.

Among other clubs that she belongs to and holds office in are Keloa Club, Fencing Club, Thespians and Dolphin Club.

Shirley has a sister, Sonya, who is 9 and a brother, Bob, who is 5 years old. When Shirley won her title and a trophy, Bob looked at the trophy and asked "Can I enter a contest and get a trophy like that when I get older?"

TO VIE FOR U.S. TITLE

March 3 to 7, Shirley will be in Mobile, Ala., where she will vie with contestants from all over America for $10,000 in prizes in America's Junior Miss Pageant.

Pontiac Motor division is providing her with a 1959 Pontiac to drive during the contest, sponsored by the National Jaycees. Shirley will stay with a family in Mobile, designated as her official chaperone.

Among her local appearances she will be dinner guest of Junior Chamber of Commerce on Feb. 11. On Feb. 7, she will present the trophy to the winner of Pontiac area Golden Gloves contest.

April 30 to May 3, she will reign as Queen of the 1959 Builders show.

Shirley's future plans include going to either Hillsdale College, her first choice, or Michigan State University — and to "marry a man like my father."

Shirley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hutchison of Lakeward lane is a senior at Pontiac Central High School. Right now she is in the midst of exams. She hopes to go to Hillsdale College next fall.

Former president of the Birmingham Farm and Garden Club and free lance writer, Mrs. L. C. Dibble, illustrated her talk with slides at the home of Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer on Illinois avenue Monday.

The speaker suggested gardeners combine flowering trees and shrubs. Bushes she suggested for planting included the Shad Bush, which is seen in the country, but seldom in gardens, although it grows very well when planted.

Another is the Beauty Bush, which is long blooming, fragrant, and useful for screening; and the Hungarian Lilac, which blooms a month later than the regular variety.

Dear Abby:

A-Freud Those Dreams Mean Girl Friend's Boy Friend Is 'It'

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: I am 17 and have a steady boy friend. My best girl friend also has a steady boy friend and her boy friend and my boy friend are best friends. Naturally we always double date. My problem is I go to bed thinking about MY boy friend but I always end up dreaming about HER boy friend. My own boy friend and my girl friend are never even in my dream. I can't understand it, Abby, because I really love my boy friend and think of my girl friend's boy friend as a good friend. Do you think my dreams mean anything and what should I do about it?"

DREAMER

DEAR DREAMER: CONSCIOUSLY you love your own boy friend, but I'm a-Freud UNCONSCIOUSLY you wish your girl friend's boy friend were your own boy friend. Don't make any lifetime decisions about one fellow while you are dreaming about another.

"DEAR ABBY: I have a problem concerning my little seven-year-old daughter. She goes to Sunday school and is learning the Ten Commandments. I have to tell her the meaning of each commandment. The one I am stumped on is "THOU SHALT NOT COMMIT ADULTERY." How can a man tell his seven-year-old daughter what "adultery is?"

A FATHER

DEAR FATHER: Simply say "To commit adultery means to break marriage vows."

DEAR ABBY: I am employed as a waitress in a first class hotel dining room. One elderly couple dines here regularly, always at the same table. They are rich people but they order one order and split it between them. He orders coffee and gives her the second cup. They run me ragged saying the cream is sour, the butter is rancid, the chops are cold and I am even asked to pick the seeds out of the blackberry pie.

"They never leave a tip but at Christmas they give me a handkerchief. I like my job here and the manager says these people like me and won't let anybody else wait on them. What should I do?"

BURNED UP WAITRESS

DEAR BURNED: These people are obviously very conservative, but anyone who waits on the public sees this type every day. Find your sense of humor, and enjoy the hankie to laugh in—not to cry in.

"DEAR ABBY: I have a friend and she calls herself a WIDOW. She WAS a widow 10 years ago, but she got married again and that marriage didn't last very long and she got a divorce. Shouldn't she be calling herself a "DIVORCEE?"

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: Technically, she is a "divorcee" but if it makes her feel better to call herself "Queen of the May," it is her own affair.

Stick to Marathon to Reap Rewards

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I want to give a little help today to those women who have joined by 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon.

Some of you now have finished, or almost finished, the first two weeks of this program. A few of you may not have yet received your Marathon booklet. We have gotten such a terrifically heavy mail that even with an extra secretarial staff working overtime, those of you who did not write in immediately may have had a little wait.

I am sorry about this but let Marathon start for you when you receive your booklet. Then stick to the directions in this booklet and those I have given you and will give you in this column for eight weeks. The idea is to see how much you can improve your appearance in that length of time.

One day a week for the next six weeks I will try to reinforce your determination and will bring you additional information and help. Today I want to impress upon you anew the fact that there is no value in adopting an improvement or slimming routine unless you are going to be faithful in adhering to it.

If you just cut down a little on your daily calorie intake or count calories for two days and then backslide for two or three—if you do your exercises for one day or massage your scalp one night and then procrastinate for a while, you cannot expect results. You will experience the penalties of a self-improvement program without any of its benefits. It seems useless to muddle along like this.

When you joined Marathon you proved that you are interested in becoming more attractive, in losing extra pounds, in making your figure more symmetrical, in overcoming or minimizing any defect in good looks which you may have. Eight weeks is a very short time! Stick to the routine and you will be happily rewarded.

Let Marathon start for you when you receive your booklet.

NEED A CRUTCH?

If you are not the strong-willed type who can sit at the table and watch the rest of your family slather butter on hot biscuits, or if it hurts to inhale the aroma of exotic sauces or gravy, perhaps you need a crutch.

For instance, maybe it would be wiser and easier if you eat alone and stay away from the dinner table at night. You will miss the companionship of your family at this time but it won't be for long. Or, if you insist on sitting with them, eat your evening meal beforehand so that you will not be so hungry when you observe them stacking the calories in.

You might save an apple or a glass of milk to have while sitting with them at the table. Such little aids are sometimes the difference between success or failure, especially during the first two weeks of a weight-reducing campaign.

If you did not join Marathon and would like to do so, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon Booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

PEO Chapter Pays Tribute to Founders

Wrapping Paper to Amuse Child

Your older pre-schooler can have fun with a large piece of brown wrapping paper, says an extension specialist in parent education and child development at Michigan State University.

Lay the paper on the floor. Then have the child lay down on it and you trace around his outline. The child will have fun coloring a picture of himself and cutting out the figure.

45-Degree Angle

The secret of many a beauty with a glowing, soft skin is one that we all can share: the 45-degree angle. This means simply resting with your feet up in order to give your blood a chance to circulate properly.

Daring Fabrics, Colors Enhance Year's Designs

Designers have gone overboard for the fresh excitement generated by vivid or off-beat colors further enlivened by an unlimited scope of surface treatments this season.

Bold, warm colors, or the unexpected intermingling of several in novelty weaves and tweeds, offer new expressions for all daytime clothes.

Equally bold, or more subtly accented surfaces, inspire a completely different from last year's approach to texture.

HOW DO YOU SOUND?

Take into consideration both the tone of your voice and what you have to say.

If you have the habit of prattling, slow down, enunciate clearly. If on the other hand, you find your conversational voice sounds dull, regardless of how exciting your news may be, put your enthusiasm into your voice. In either case . . . read aloud often in front of a mirror. Try speaking expressively. Accent your action words and watch for telltale rising inflections at sentence endings that make you sound uncertain. Next week we'll help with conversation builders.

Respect Child's Property---Even His Bed

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Hanno was my best friend when I was a little girl.

Late one holiday eve her grandparents arrived for a visit. In the car they brought other unexpected guests, her Aunt Dell and Uncle Harry.

Apparently, after the first excited exchange of greetings and gossip, the question of sleeping arrangements came up. Though the guest room had been prepared for Grandma and Grandpa, nothing had been planned for Dell and Harry.

Someone must have suggested the davenport, for Uncle Harry slept on it that first night while Aunt Dell was retired to Hanno's room.

Lights were switched on, valises opened, whisperings exchanged, and Hanno was aroused from the kid of dreaming you do when you're 8 years old to find in her bed a cold-footed grownup she'd met once in her life.

The next night, as Dell and Harry complained of their separation, Hanno was dismissed from her bed and consigned to the davenport.

The following day she still smoldered with rage. We played school with her new blackboard but she kept interrupting the game to say fiercely to me, "They never asked me! They jsut took my bed without asking me!"

The fact is, nobody ever asked her to do anything. They told her to.

And as any protest was generally disapproved, she gradually became a paragon of obedience.

When she was grown up, she joined the Communist party, that organization which makes such efficient use of its members' mingled needs for vengeance and submission.

No, I'm not suggesting that all children whose beds are commandeered for visiting relatives become revolutionaries.

I'm just saying that their beds are their private property, and that if we want them to develop real respect for a society that is based on ownership of private property, we can't deprive them of theirs without at least asking.

With Dolls as Models

She Stages Style Shows

NEW YORK (UPI) — About 100 times a year in cities across the country, Mrs. Jennie Graves, 68, stages fashion shows.

But they don't attract the usual patrons. The audiences are children, and the models are dolls.

For the shows, Mrs. Graves — widow and grandmother of four—rounds up local volunteers (mostly little girls prodded by mothers, but a few are boys, also prodded) and whips up clothes to match doll outfits. The children carry the dolls while a commentator describes the styles, story-fashion.

These shows are part of Mrs. Graves' career as a doll manufacturer. She goes to her office every day in Medford, Mass., runs two factories—one in Medford and another in nearby Malden — and handles endless details necessary to head one of the nation's largest firms in the $200-million doll industry.

This breezy, forceful woman, whose booming folksiness camouflages a shrewd business sense, got her start in 1922 while designing dresses for her daughter's dolls. A friend took some of her work to sell at a church bazaar, but instead, sold it to local stores.

Mrs. Graves followed suit, found a market in Boston, and set up shop in her basement. Later she rented an old store, and in 1948, she made her own mold for an 8-inch all-plastic doll with moving eyes, the first of its kind.

California Coats Lush but Relaxed

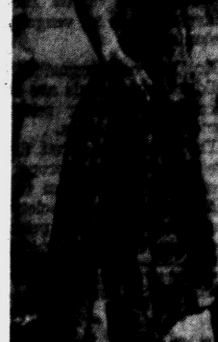
For California coats, designers have taken yards of lush and plush fabrics such as sheared angora, wool tweeds, pure cashmeres, brushed wools and polished fur blends — draped and shaped them into beautiful new silhouettes.

The full blown cocoon or bloused back coat is one predominant shape — with fabric gently gathered from a yoke to a controlled, banded hemline, or a low-placed hip belt, or a tapered shaft.

Craftsman Care for Fine Handbag

A good handbag represents a sizeable investment and should last for years. Be sure it gets professional care at least once a year.

Leather craftsmen can reline a bag, put on a new handle or fastener and refinish the leather completely.



While the men talk shop the women talk shopping.

Hint for Home Nursing Care

After bathing, remake the bed with clean linen to assure your patient's comfort. The towel should, of course be laundered.

Petition and Sports Department Reply Is Presented

Walled Lake Students Protest Article

"Walled Lake basketball coach John Shadford was hung in effigy by a group of school students Sunday night. 'We strung up a dummy with a sign "Shadford" on a telephone pole. A lot of students went to look at it Monday,' said a spokesman for the group. He said Shadford's actions during the game at Southfield when he allegedly 'jumped up and down and ran out on the floor' had brought on the hanging."

As result of this paragraph, the student council at Walled Lake presented The Press sports department with a petition.

WALLED LAKE STUDENTS' PETITION

"We, the undersigned students of Walled Lake High School, hereby request The Pontiac Press sports department to print an apology to our well respected basketball coach, John Shadford, for causing him public embarrassment over a minor incident that occurred during the Southfield-Walled Lake game. We also feel an apology is due the student body of Walled Lake High for giving the impression that even a small percentage of students knew about and sympathized with the unfortunate occurrence of Monday. Except for poor taste in printing this information, Mr. Shadford and entire student body, with the exception of a few publicity seekers, would never have known that such a juvenile incident had happened. We feel, therefore, that it is your duty to officially apologize to Mr. Shadford and us for your unwarranted publicity." (Included were 400 signatures.)

PRESS SPORTS DEPARTMENT REPLY

We, of The Pontiac Press sports department, feel that an incident of fact, with reliable source and qualified verification, was printed and therefore under no circumstances ethically are we obligated to make public apology to anyone in this instance.

When any newspaper has to apologize for any or every reported and verified fact, the freedom of the press is placed in jeopardy.

The facts in this article are very clear:

1. It was a FACT that the Walled Lake coach was hung in effigy and the name printed across the dummy.

2. The sports department KNOWS the names of those who did the hanging and those who reported it, and we are not obligated to reveal the source of our information.

3. Members of the sports department checked to VERIFY the incident and received confirmation from others, including faculty members, who saw the "dummy hanging in effigy."

4. In regard to Mr. Shadford's actions, which was the given reason for the hanging, The Press Sports department did not make the claim, it merely QUOTED the responsible parties.

Members of the sports department have no quarrels with Mr. Shadford, in fact there has been nothing but the most cordial relations between the coaching staff at Walled Lake and this department.

To accuse this department of "poor taste" in printing the article and for giving "unwarranted publicity" to a factual incident, is an attempt to pass judgment on a newspaper reporter in the performance of his duties.

Was it in poor taste that The Press along with 1,800 dailies across the country reported that Bennie Oosterbaan and Duffy Daugherty had been hung in effigy?

The matter of "bad taste" lies with those who did the hanging and not those reporting it; and the matter of "unwarranted publicity" lies with those who provoked the incident and not the one who wrote it.

5-YEAR PACT—John Bridgers, defensive line coach of the Baltimore Colts who was named head football coach and athletic director at Baylor a couple days ago, was expected in Waco, Tex., today to sign a five-year contract.

Detroit Grabs Line Pair; Two Spartans Picked

'Skins Begin Sessions by Selecting Wetoska of Notre Dame

The final 26 rounds of the annual 30 round draft were expected to take all day, starting at 10 a.m. and winding up sometime around midnight. The first four rounds were selected last Dec. 1.

The Redskins had first choice today as the result of previous trade with the Green Bay Packers. Last place Green Bay was to have been first selector in the fifth round.

Wetoska was described by the Redskins as a 238-pound offensive end who was a good short pass receiver. The 21-year-old Notre Dame lad, who stands 6-foot-4, also has a reputation as an excellent blocker.

The Chicago Cardinals dipped into the player grab bag for Maurice Schleicher, Penn State end, while the Philadelphia Eagles' fifth round choice was Nick Mumley, Purdue tackle.

Using choices acquired from Washington and Detroit, respectively, the Cardinals took Ted Bates, Oregon State tackle, and the Cleveland Browns selected John Wooten, Colorado guard.

Other fifth round choices were Frank Geremia, Notre Dame tackle, by San Francisco; Andy Cvercko, Northwestern guard, by Green Bay with a choice obtained from Pittsburgh; John Lands, Montana end, by Los Angeles; John Adams, Los Angeles State back, by the Chicago Bears; Dick Le Beau, Ohio State back, by Cleveland; Ellison Kelly, Michigan State guard, by New York; and Hanson Churchwell, Mississippi guard, by Baltimore.

LAST TIME OUT — Pontiac Central coach Art Van Ryzin helps guard Charley Barge try on his graduation robe and cap and he isn't really as happy as he may appear. Barge plays his last game Friday night against Saginaw on the PCH court for the top ranked Chiefs. He is a mid-year graduate at Pontiac Central. The sharpshooting cager leads the Saginaw Valley in scoring and has helped PCH to the top ranking in the state in class A wire service polls.

No Matter the Score, PCH Big Loser Friday

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

No matter what the score is Friday night when Pontiac Central meets a dangerous Saginaw High quintet on the PCH court, the Chiefs will come out of the game with one big loss.

That will be the loss of guard Charley Barge, currently the top scorer in the Saginaw Valley Conference with an average of 21.5 points per game.

Barge will play his last game against Saginaw and then take his place among the mid-year graduates at Pontiac Central.

The Chiefs, still ranked as the number one team in Michigan, can expect trouble from the Trojans who would enjoy nothing more than to topple Pontiac Central from its perch.

Saginaw has two potent scorers in Bob Parker and Jim Gronski. Both have scored 123 points for a 17.5 average in seven games, and the Vikings are second behind Flint Central in total offense with 237 points scored in four league games.

Flint Central has amassed 257 points in league play while Pontiac and Flint Northern each have scored a total of 227.

On the other hand, Saginaw has also given up the most number of points, 267, in four games, while Pontiac Central has the best defensive average in allowing only 195 points.

Among the other scoring leaders John Bandy with 14.5 average and Harrison Munson with a 10.3 mark are among the double figure scorers.

John Gillian of Flint Northern, held to 10 points by PCH last Friday, dropped from the lead to second place with an 18-point average. Parker and Gronski of Saginaw are tied for third.

All five starters of Flint Northern are among the top 20 scorers.

The Chiefs have a great opportunity to pad their lead in the SVC Friday night against Saginaw, because Barge's departure could be a serious blow to Pontiac's title thoughts, especially with key road games coming up.

Kelly Rejoins Crippled Wings

DETROIT (AP)—Red Kelly, Detroit Red Wing defenseman, worked out with his National Hockey League teammates Tuesday and is expected to play against the Black Hawks in Chicago Wednesday night.

A cast was removed from Kelly's bruised left foot shortly before he took the ice for the workout. He injured the foot a week ago and had missed three NHL games.

Terry Sawchuk, Red Wing goalie out with a bruised shoulder, was described as 30 per cent improved at Detroit Osteopathic Hospital, but he will miss Wednesday's game.

Doctors said Sawchuk may be ready for Detroit's weekend games.

Mays Signs for $80,000; Yanks Expect Problems

It's Contract Time in Majors

By United Press International

Willie Mays, "definitely satisfied" with a new $80,000 contract, looked forward today to a "steady .340 season" and a possible National League pennant for the San Francisco Giants.

"We have a good chance for the pennant because the young players who helped us so much last season should be better," said the brilliant, 27-year old center-fielder. "I'll be satisfied if I can have a good steady season and wind up around .340."

Mays hit .347 and missed his second batting championship by only three points last year but conceded, "I dropped a lot in the middle of the season." Willie was hitting more than .400 at the end of May but then went into a long slump that didn't end until September.

Willie's new contract makes him second only to Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals ($100,000) on the National League pay scale. Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox is estimated to receive about $125,000 and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees is believed dickering for $85,000. Mays' 1958 contract was estimated at $75,000.

The Yankees onetime star battery of left-hander Whitey Ford and catcher Yogi Berra were among the world champions rumored today to have received salary cuts this year.

Ford had a 14-7 record in 1958 but was not the effective stopgap as in other years. Berra batted .266, well below his usual 290-plus mark.

The big question mark was Mantle, who finished with a .304 average and led the American League with 42 home runs, though his slugging average dropped to 60 points from .957.

Mantle is expected to ask for a $10,000 or more raise from last year's $75,000.

The two players expected to demand the biggest increases are righthander Bob Turley, hero of last fall's World Series, and catcher-outfielder Elston Howard.

Turley led the league with 21 victories and Howard had an outstanding season at the plate and afield. Turley balked last year and finally signed for an estimated $20,000.

Despite cuts general manager George Weiss indicated the Yankee payroll will be higher. It had increased every year since 1946. Last year the Yankees paid $610,000 in salaries, exclusive of manager Casey Stengel's $80,000.

The Pirates signed "hard luck" pitcher Ronnie Kline, a 210-pound fast-baller who had a 13-16 record but who lost four games by one run and three by two runs. He is regarded as a potential 20-game winner.

Veteran outfielder, Carl Furillo, pitcher Bob Giallombardo and first-baseman Jim Gentile signed with the Los Angeles Dodgers. Furillo hit .290 for the Dodgers last season, Giallombardo won 12 games for Montreal and Gentile hit .249 at Spokane.

First-baseman Mickey Vernon, 41, signed with the Cleveland Indians for his 20th season in Major League baseball. He hit .293, eight homers and drove in 55 runs last season.

First-baseman Frank Torre became the sixth member of the Braves to agree to terms. He alternated with Joe Adcock last season but is expected to take over the regular job this year.

Pitcher Willard Schmidt, outfielder Bob Thurman and infielder Bobby Henrich signed with the Cincinnati Redlegs and Dick Harris, 25-year-old son o general manager Buck Harris of the Boston Red Sox, signed with Washington—the club Bucky started with in 1919.

Ahead of '58 in Play, Drawing Fans

Rebuilt Kentucky Strong

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—This is the year Kentucky was supposed to spend rebuilding its basketball forces.

The result can hardly be classified as a retread job.

The club, young in experience but long on talent, matured rapidly and to date is out-doing Kentucky's 1958 NCAA champs — on the playing floor and in box office appeal.

Kentucky's home attendance for 10 dates is 112,291, counting the Illinois game at Louisville as a home attraction. That one drew 18,274, the largest audience to see a regular season game in the South, and helped put the turnout far ahead of last season.

This time last season, the Cats had attracted 93,435 for 10 home games. The best year at home was four seasons ago when 14 games drew an estimated $155,600.

Overall attendance is running ahead of last season, too, by 141,781 to 138,901.

On the playing court, the veteran Kentucky team that won its fourth NCAA title was ninth nationally with 12 won, three lost at this stage last season.

Johansson-Patterson Match Appears Set

NEW YORK (UPI) — Sweden's Ingemar Johansson was given the green light today to "fly to New York and sign" for a world heavyweight title fight with champion Floyd Patterson in June.

Edwin Ahlqvist, Johansson's adviser, telephoned the good news from New York to the unbeaten European champion at Goteborg, Sweden. Ahlqvist made the transatlantic call after discussions with promoter Bill Rosensohn and Cus D'Amato, Patterson's manager.

"We expect Johansson to arrive Thursday night or Friday," said jubilant young Rosensohn, who has been trying to close the match since last Sept. 14.

Rocket to Wait Before Deciding to Skate Again

MONTREAL (AP)—Maurice (The Rocket) Richard, his left leg in a cast and his phenomenal ice hockey career nearing conclusion, said today "I will not decide whether to continue in the game until I'm able to skate again."

The 37-year-old star of the Montreal Canadiens suffered a fractured left ankle in Sunday night's game in Chicago. He will not be permitted to skate again for four weeks.

This was the latest in a series of recent injuries for Richard, who has scored 606 goals in regular season and Stanley Cup competition—the highest lifetime total in the National Hockey League.

Police Quintet Rallies to Win

Bill Newman Collects 21 for Patrolmen in City League Play

Pontiac Police finished with 18 points in the 4th quarter after trailing most of the way, to defeat the Holly Merchants, 50-45, in city league class C action last night.

In "D" games, Lakeside Royals led by Cliff McCoy's 19 points whipped Boys' Club 42-28 with Gene Gidcumb getting 17 for the losers.

Charles Kimbrell with 16 led Coca Cola to a 33-29 decision over Northern.

The Police quint was behind 24-23 at halftime and 37-32 after three quarters. Bill Newman got 21 and John Bridgewater 13 points, while Roger Voorheis, Bob Pence and Amos Bradsher hit 15, 13 and 12 respectively for the Holly team.

Cincinnati Has 1st Winning Streak

Pettit Garners 52 Points

By The Associated Press

The Cincinnati Royals were the proud possessor of a two-game winning streak for the first time this season today.

The last-place club in the Western Division defeated the New York Knickerbockers 114-108 in the first half of a doubleheader in St. Louis last night. In the windup, Bob Pettit scored 52 points to lead St. Louis to a 119-114 victory over the Boston Celtics.

Jack Twyman had 30 points for Cincinnati which broke open a tight game with a run of seven straight points in the final three minutes. Wayne Embry and Arlen Bockhorn provided the scoring punch down the stretch. Embry had 17 points in the second half and Bockhorn 14.

Willie Naulls had 19 points for New York but all but one came in the first 14 minutes of the game. The Knicks, handicapped without their top scorer, injured Kenny Sears, held a 103-102 lead before Cincinnati mustered its final drive.

The Royals have won 10 games as of last night. But never had they put together two victories in a row.

Pettit's total was the fourth highest one-game figure in NBA history. It was also this season's high. Boston Coach Red Auerbach was twice tagged with technical fouls and ejected from the game in the third period by Referee Norm Drucker. St. Louis went ahead to stay midway in the second period.

Matmen Busy Thursday

Road matches for both Pontiac schools and a full Inter-Lakes League schedule will make up an almost complete Oakland County wrestling schedule Thursday.

Pontiac Central gets a good tune-up for the big Saginaw Valley League meet coming up next month by competing at Bay City Central while Northern's impressive Huskies are guests of Royal Oak Kimball.

Walled Lake at Waterford will carry the most local interest on the I-L slate despite the losing records of both teams. Farmington will be at Berkley and Southfield hosts Van Dyke in the others.

County power Hazel Park will be back in action at Port Huron. Cranbrook, which last was in competition Dec. 13, remains idle until Feb. 7.

Rochester Downs Troy to Stay Unbeaten

Gallup 'Cold' as Birmingham Bows, 63-56

Cranbrook Defeated, South Lyon's Perfect Record Smashed

Rochester showed it had more guns than Troy could cope with in posting a 42-35 triumph in a battle for prestige between two of the area's outstanding Class B hoop teams last night at Rochester.

It was the 7th straight triumph for the Falcons. Troy also has won seven times while bowing twice.

Birmingham and Cranbrook were both losers and Brighton gained sweet revenge and knocked South Lyon from the unbeaten ranks at the same time with a 64-54 win in some of the other top Tuesday games.

Rochester held the edge all the way and "sat on the ball" in the last quarter to preserve its lead. Bruce Ennis and Gene Lothery paced a balanced attack with 12 and 10, respectively. Rod Harris was the only steady Troy scorer with 13.

The outcome will likely bring about a change in the state ratings since Troy had been listed as 9th and the Falcons 11th.

Jeff Boucher made a valiant attempt to take up the slack by hitting 20 but the Maples dropped their 3rd Eastern Michigan contest in four starts. It was Ferndale's 4th straight in the loop. Toy Palmer meshed 28 and Ron Chapman, in his 1st start, added 15.

Hazel Park's entire squad couldn't find the range in a 66-28 walloping at Port Huron in the other EML tilt.

Kennedy of Ontario snapped Cranbrook's four-game victory string and got even for an earlier loss by winning 60-53. Jim Williams scored 16, Roger Rothenberger 14 and John Hayden 12 for the Cranes, who led 20-9 at the 1st quarter and were still ahead by one at halftime.

Three Brighton cagers, sparked by Don Appleton's 24, combined for 48 points as the Bulldogs stopped the Lions. Dave Wren hit 19 in defeat.

South Central foes Ortonville and North Branch played outside the loop. The Blackhawks nipped Mt. Morris 51-49 to even their record at 4-4. Mike Ribner got 17 and Don Nellenback 15 but North Branch still lost at Bad Axe, 61-54.

Romeo's scheduled home tilt against Roseville was postponed a week due to examinations. L'Anse Creuse squeaked by Grosse Pointe University School 47-45, Utica turned on the power in the final quarter to belt Fraser 57-37, Hamtramck socked East Detroit 86-55 and Country Day won out over Lamphere 47-42 in overtime.

Knotted Title Looms for SCL

St. Mary's Bows to Ravens

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

By H. GUY MOATS

Now there are three!

Where yesterday there was but a single unbeaten club at the top spot of the Suburban Catholic basketball circuit, today there are three on top, each with one defeat.

With the one-point 32-31, last minute victory for the St. Benedict club over previously unbeaten Orchard Lake St. Mary there are no clean slates remaining.

With the league's season nearing its end, it now looks like there's going to be a triple tie for the title, following the same pattern that was set for last fall's SCL football championship. St. Benedict, St. Frederick and St. Michael were co-titlists. Now, Eaglets, Rams and Ravens are knotted, each with 6-1 records.

Last night's battle in the Ravens' gymnasium, was a wildly applauded affair from start to finish. The noise from the stands was terrific, and the tenseness of the fans was matched by the players.

Eaglets started the scoring, but trailed at the first period, 8-6. They were still behind at halftime 19-14.

Three times during that hectic final minute Eaglets had their chances, but missed shots like the long one by Glen Hass (who had a very cold night) that went in, spun around inside the ring and popped out while the big St. Mary crowd moaned.

Chet Wlodkowski, game's leading scorer, with 14, missed one easy shot and Mike Witkor couldn't convert two foul line chances in a frustrating windup, that pointed up one of the coldest goal-getting nights of the season for the Eaglets. The Orchard Lakers collected only two buckets in each of the first three periods, on 12, 17 and 15 shots, respectively.

Mark Storen's 11 points paced the winners.

In other area parochial contests, RO St. Mary disposed of a stubborn Madison club 55-47. The Royal Oak five grabbed an early 12-point edge and never was headed. Diminutive Tom Alsheckie had a hot night, with 33 points. Madison's Moos had 14 to lead the losers.

Royal Oak Shrine dropped its second First Division tilt 49-48 to Wyandotte St. Patrick. The Pats grabbed the verdict in the last 18 seconds on Dave Johnson's free throw.

Three-Way Tie in Thumb Continues, Dryden Wins

Almont, New Haven, and Anchor Bay survived another full slate of games in a three-way tie for first place (5-1) in the Southern Thumb League last night while Dryden was winning its third straight to stay close behind.

Almont and New Haven each had easy times. The Raiders, down 15-13 at the opening period, walloped Memphis 67-47 as Don Eschenburg led nine scorers with 15. Jim Ostrander added 13 and excelled in rebounds. John Barber's 11 topped Memphis.

New Haven led all the way in bombing Capac 55-37 featuring a 24-point night for Nate Petty. John Kersten caged 15 for the losers.

Dryden had to offset numerous threats in edging Armada, 30-28. Terry Wills was a one-man gang for AHA with 19 points. He swished six corner shots in the 3rd quarter. Dryden is now 4-2.

Juniors Learn Safety

By H. GUY MOATS

Right in line with a current proposal at Lansing to incorporate in Michgian laws, a requirement that any person under 17 will have to complete a hunter safety training program before being licensed to hunt, Oakland County Sportsmen's Club is the winter conducting a basic rifle training course for juniors.

This National Rifle Assn.-approved program has just completed its second program and will inaugurate another, starting Feb. 3. Fourteen juniors and one adult received certificates last night, at the final session of the group. These graduates are now eligible to become members of the Junior Rifle Club, and enter competition, if they desire.

It's like Don Bennett, in charge of the program, says:

"This program is open to any young person between ages of 12 and 18 for the purpose of training them in the safe and efficient use f firearms. Its primary goal is safety on which about 70 per cent of the course is based. Actual use of firearms. Its primary goal add to their education in safety and practical usage of guns, and to teach marksmanship."

Courses comprise six class periods of two hours, once a week.

Fundamentals of gun and ammunition construction, use of the sling, learning to use the "sight picture," proper breath control, relaxation, trigger squeeze, are among the necessary things taught by qualified instructors, all of whom have NRA ratings. A written examination is required when the course is finished.

Seven instructors are conducting the OCSC courses, including Bennett, Lawrence Kempel, Ken Farnum, Kyle Wharff, along with three apprentice instructors, sons of instructors, Jim Bennett, Larry Wharff and John Farnum.

Tight discipline is a feature of the training and the NRA reports that among 150,000 youngsters trained in 1958 there was not a single accident.

This program is held Tuesday nights from 7 to 9 p.m. Any one interested in the course should contact Donald Bennett at UL 2-2076, or Kyle Wharff at FE 4-6474.

Little Stories About Outdoors

Michigan Canoe Racing Assn. is satisfied with its 1958 official lineup, as evidenced in last weekend's annual confab in Flint. Only one change was made, Don Fisher of Lambertville being named a vice president.

Some 40 canoeists attended the conference at which a race betterment committee was formed, and discussions held on plans for requirement of safety devices for racing paddlers, better escorts for the canoes and talk about the coming season.

A new event for the state group is the Prince George, British Columbia race in July, which is expected to have a number of MCRA teams. Albert and LeRoy Widing of Holly hope to get in it.

There aren't too many all-around dog show judges of top ability left around the nation, says one of the veteran all-breed experts, Dr. A. A. Mitten of Maryland (best-in-show judge last weekend at the PKC event). Dr. Mitten told PKC members at the dinner after the show, "if you want the services of all-around judges, better get them committed for several years ahead." The good doctor has commitments for many shows in 1959 and 1960, he said.

Two of three ice-fishermen spearing from shanties on a private lake in the Pontiac area, last weekend added two nice pike to the list of big fish taken this winter. Ronald Rice, 5446 Savoy, Waterford, brought in a fat 13-pounder, 36-inches long, while Roy Graves landed a 10-pound 33-inch specimen. Pete Young failed to connect. Rice's fish was the biggest he has ever taken, he reported, and his only one in several tries.

One of nature's seasonal changes that aids in protecting wild animals is the color change of snowshoe rabbits. The "shoe" sheds its brownish coat in late autumn, dons a white coat for the winter. Come spring and Mr. Hare regains his darker "apparel."

Michigan Skeet Group Adds New Senior Class

Michigan Skeet Association this week approved the 1959 season schedule of shotgun events that starts with the April 26 White Oaks shoot at Kalamazoo. This opener is a 100-bird contest.

The association also effected some changes in the state program with hopes of boosting entries. Trophies have been added to five places for women shooters and a new class was instituted for shotgunners who have passed the 50-year age mark.

Other changes included reduction of entry fees for novices in their first three shoots to establish classifications.

Tourney awards will be in cash, providing also for purchasing trophies if the shooter wishes to do so.

The association also plans to publish a monthly bulletin.

Big Rewards at Anchor Bay on Weekend

Fun Carnival for Ice Fishermen

By JACK PATTERSON

A note from Earl Gove, Fair Haven, advises that the Fair Haven-Anchorville Lions Club is sponsoring an ice fishing carnival Jan. 23, 24 and 25 on Anchor Bay, Fair Haven. In addition to a grand prize of $1,000 to be awarded Jan. 25, there will be prizes awarded daily for the largest fish caught in each class.

PATTERSON

There will be ice skating races for the children with prizes for winners in each age group. There will also be bob-sled rides for the children.

As an added attraction, the Detroit Skating Club will put on a skating exhibition Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Sounds like fun for ice fishermen in this area, because Fair Haven is only a whoop and a holler away, and then there is always the possibility of carting off that grand prize as an added inducement, if any is needed.

Jack Niggeman reports that Houghton Lake's "Shanty Town" looks bigger than the city of Pontiac and that weekend traffic through Alpena rivals that on the 4th of July.

Local fishermen are annoyed or delighted, depending upon the firmness of their consciences by the brisk feeding activity of "pocket perch," or rainbow trout, as they are more properly known. It is, of course, illegal to take these fish through the ice, but temptation sometimes overcomes prudence and it is possible that not all rainbows taken are promptly returned to the water.

Best way to lick this rather common violating in southern Michigan rainbow lakes would be to make ice fishing for rainbows legal. The fish are planted in these lakes on a pretty much put-and-take basis anyway and it would seem to make sense to allow fishing for them when the fishing is most productive—in the winter. A limit of say two a day would satisfy most anglers and would bring a lot of transgressors back to the path of rectitude without decimating the rainbow population.

Bill Kennedy, man of many parts, and caretaker for Alcona County's Ten Buck Club is cutting popples on the club property under contract to Abitibi Paper. Weekend visitors report fantastic numbers of deer feeding on the down brush.

$85,000 Is Sought for Safety Program

The conservation commission has approved a legislative proposal requesting an appropriation of $85,000 from the state's general fund to finance a department-directed gun safety training program for youngsters.

Costs for training approximately 8,000-9,000 instructors, publication of manual aids and other first year expenses prompted the appropriation request.

The proposal also affixes fees of $1 for registration and 50 cents for proficiency certificates.

Trap Biggest Bruin

Perhaps the largest black bear on record was trapped recently by students of the N.Y.S. College of Agriculture at Cornell University. The monster tipped in at 605 pounds. After being weighed, he was released.

Fish Capacities

Michigan studies reveal that about 86,000 one-inch fish can inhabit an acre of lake, while only slightly more than 200 fish 10 inches long can live in an equivalent area.

OCSC Hunters Bag Two Foxes, See Many More

Forty fox hunters were not enough to properly cover three sections of land around Ortonville, in Sunday's first fox hunt of the winter for Oakland County Sportsmen's Club shotgunners. "We should have at least 80 for that size hunt," says hunt chairman Lewis M. Wrenn. Wrenn says another "swing" may be held during February.

However, the party accounted for two foxes, a male and vixen. At least a half dozen escaped, Wrenn reported and many more were seen. One was hit but also got away. Jim Jackson of Waterford bagged the vixen. Tice Woody downed the dog fox. They averaged 12-13 pounds.

An unusual concentration of deer was noted by the fox hunters. In one group alone, there were five, mostly does.

But Hard to Maintain

Plank Roads Were Cheap

LANSING (AP) — A hundred years ago travelers in the Wolverine State rode on a highly popular type of highway—the plank road—whose construction cost was only one to three thousands dollars per mile.

Compare that with the eight to 10 million dollars per mile price tag the State Highway Department places on today's urban expressways. Or even the half a million dollars per mile estimate for a modern four lane highway in outstate areas.

But, before any economy-minded citizens begin clamoring for a return to plank roads, it should be noted that they had a fatal disadvantage: maintenance.

The story of the plank road craze is recalled by Philip P. Mason, Wayne University archivist, in the January issue of "Hy-Lighter" — the State Highway Department's monthly publication.

The roads were constructed by laying boards of pine or oak across "stringers" placed parallel to the direction of the road.

But, Mason says there is conclusive evidence that in 1837 the Michigan legislature granted a charter to the Detroit, Plymouth and Ann Arbor Turnpike Co. for a "timber road made of good, well-hewn timber."

The plank roads were privately operated with the legislature setting up construction specifications and regulating tolls.

Financial support came mainly from local sources. In all, a total of $2,040,180 was invested in plank road companies.

The standard toll charge was two cents a mile for a wagon or carriage and one cent a mile for every sled or sleigh.

Despite the tolls, plank roads were extremely popular. Trips which took from four to six days on dirt roads were cut to from 10 to 14 hours.

The problem of maintenance was formidable and brought a relatively quick end to the plank road craze.

The roads remained in good condition for three or four years. After that, they needed constant attention. Planks loosened, warped or decayed to the extent that annual repairs cost from 20 to 30 per cent of the original construction cost.

The high cost of lumber led companies to substitute gravel for planks in repairs work. This hastened the inevitable end of the plank road.

When asked how he liked his trip over the Kalamazoo and Grand Rapids plank road, Twain replied: "It would have been good if some unconscionable scoundrel had not now and then dropped a plank across it."

Cubans by Hundreds Rush Home

By ROBERT D. CLARK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Cubans are streaming home from exile in numbers that have consular officials talking of records.

All that acting consul Oscar Ramirez, 35, can think of today i a bath and bed.

"We are doing business a never before," the Miami man said.

"Fees for processing outbound Cubans are running to $2,000 a day. In the days before Batista fell, daily receipts from the same source were $100 to $200."

In addition to expediting the return of Cubans, Ramirez Tuesday was helping about 40 newsmen who planned to take advantage of the revolutionary government offer to fly from Miami today for an eyewitness view of the mass meeting schduled in the Presidential Palace Square at Havana this afternoon.

Korea Drops Chinese to Use Phonetic Script

KOREA—The Republic of Korea has directed that all government documents must be written in Korean phonetic script instead of in Chinese characters.

Korea simplified its writing into phonetic script in 1443, but Japanese characters were used during the Japanese occupation. After World War II the American Military Government returned primary-school instruction to phonetics.

Grave of Early Pioneer Set Off by Iron Fence

BLUFFTON, Ohio (AP) — A weather-worn iron fence sets off an 8-foot square plot between an oat and corn field on the Walter Amstutz farm south of here.

Although names and circumstances have been lost in time, it is believed to be the grave of a pioneer child who died during the trek west in the early 1800s. The Amstutz family has preserved the grave on the chance relatives of the child may someday seek it.

He put out a stop-payment order on it and the city issued him another check for the same amount. A few days later original check cleared the bank. It was endorsed in Hawes' handwriting.

The red-faced mayor said he forgot all about cashing it. He promptly wrote the city a check to cover the second one.

Big 3 Committed to Smaller Car

GM, Ford, Chrysler Hope to Produce New Models by Fall

BY JACK VANDENBERG
UPI Automotive Editor

DETROIT — All of the "big three" auto producers have now passed "the point of no return" and are "definitely committed" to production of a new smaller car, industry sources said today.

The sources said Chrysler Corp. was the last of the big three to join the race to turn out a new line of cars which would be placed in between the small foreign cars and the standard sized American car of today.

Ford and General Motors made the decision to produce smaller cars in December, the sources said, and Chrysler joined the race this month.

Introduction dates for the cars are aimed at this fall but probably will drag into winter in the case of Chrysler, the sources said.

Until December both Ford and General Motors had been going ahead with plans to produce smaller cars. But they were holding back on any big outlay of money, such as that required in tooling up for actual production, until they could determine what sales would do in the 1959 model year.

They actually hoped, sources said, that their drastically restyled 1959 models might be the answer to the demand for "something different."

Pontiac Varnish Is Reorganized

Ziegelbaur Is Elected Chairman, Arnoldi Is New President

The Board of Directors of the Pontiac Varnish Company, 30 Brush St., has reorganized following the group's annual meeting.

Paul J. Ziegelbaur of 7380 Franklin Rd., Franklin, has been elected chairman of the board. He replaces C. H. Hutchins, founder, chairman and president for the past 56 years. Hutchins is now honorary chairman.

ZIEGELBAUR

The company's new board includes Ziegelbaur, Frank Arnoldi, of 2740 Franklin Rd., Bloomfield Hills, Harold E. Howlett, 104 E. Iroquois Rd., and Dr. Harold A. Furlong, of 207 Navajo Rd.

Arnoldi, who was secretary and treasurer, was elected president and chief executive officer. Ziegelbaur, former president, is now executive vice president.

ARNOLDI

Arnoldi attended McGill University and was with Ernst & Ernst, Detroit, prior to joining the company in 1932.

Ziegelbaur, director of the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn., is a University of Michigan graduate. He is past president of the Detroit Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Assn. and Detroit Paint & Varnish Production Club.

Loan Extension Ups Soybeans

CHICAGO (AP)—The government offer of a year's extension on price support loans for soybeans boosted that commodity well ahead today in early dealings on the Board of Trade but grains held within narrow ranges of previous closes.

Activity was not more than moderate although Japan was reported to have bought about 1,400,000 bushels of wheat overnight and Greece took about a million bushels. However, the sale to Greece had been expected and probably was covered in yesterday's trading.

Snow and continued cold over much of the Midwest attracted some scattered demand for the feed grains in the belief that marketings will drop off sharply until all roads and highways are thoroughly cleared. The weather also is believed to be increasing the use of feed grains.

Romeo High Schools Reschedule Exams

ROMEO — The junior and senior high schools here will be open tomorrow so that students may take their mid-year examinations that were scheduled for today, schools officials announced today.

Elementary schools will be in session for one half day tomorrow as originally planned.

An average American eats about 100 pounds more food than he did in the late 1930's, but because of carefully regulated diets, the calorie intake is about the same.

Explosions Jar Buenos Aires

Peronista Unions Defy Order to End General Strike in Argentina

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Bomb explosions jarred Buenos Aires today as Argentina attempted to recover from a two-day general strike against President Arturo Frondizi's belt-tightening program.

The blasts were set off as leaders of the 62 Peronista unions defiantly announced after a secret meeting that they had decided to continue the walkout indefinitely. Unless the government cracks this strike, it will keep such industries as textiles and metals paralyzed.

Two other big labor camps, 19 Communist unions and 32 independents, voted last night to call off the strike which began snowballing last weekend. Many strikers have gone back to work.

Several of the bombs were aimed at railway property and may have been set off by disgruntled Peronistas or Communists to interrupt the back-to-work movement.

In Washington, President Arturo Frondizi of the Argentine Republic warned Congress today that the "misery and backwardness" of millions of Latin Americans is "a source of danger to the security of the hemisphere."

The Argentine president told a joint meeting of the Senate and the House that the United States "cannot remain indifferent to the fact that millions of individuals lead a life of hardship in the American continent."

"Peoples that are poor and without hope are not free peoples," he said.

52 Locomotives Bought

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul & Pacific Railroad bought 52 general purpose diesel locomotives for more than 8½ million dollars each. The 1,750 horsepower engines will be built by the General Motors Corp. electro-motive division.

Hayrides Now History as Horse Costs Soar

LIVINGSTON, N. J. (AP) — The old-fashioned hayride is slowly dwindling off into history hereabouts. Both the hay and the ride are too expensive.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rousch, one of the last to offer rides, are dismantling their wagons, citing such costs as $25 to shoe a horse and $45 for a ton of hay.

They sold their four horses "because it was costing us more to feed them than to feed us," said Mrs. Rousch.

Aircrafts Rise; Market Active

Fractional changes were the rule for most key stocks. A number of issues were unchanged. A fairly wide move occurred here and there.

Champion Paper spurted nearly 3 points in a resumption of yesterday's 3¾-point rise on reports that some investment companies have added greatly to their holdings of this issue.

A. M. Byers had a delayed opening. It rose 4½ to 54 on its first trade, a small block of 500 shares.

While the latest figures on the short interest showed the biggest month-to-month decrease since records were started in 1933, there was little effect on stock principally affected.

Columbia Gas, which had the biggest decline, was unchanged.

7 Cities Add Fluoride During Year

LANSING (AP) — Seven more Michigan communities started fluoridating their water last year, the State Health Department reported today.

But the names of the communities are "top secret" as far as the department is concerned.

"We made a policy of not giving out the names of those adding fluoride a couple of years ago," said Dr. Fred Werthheimer, director of the dentistry section.

"Local officials asked us not to make the announceemnts from here. Communities are so split on fluoridation that they said they would be barraged with letters and telephone calls from anti-fluoride people."

News in Brief

Two revolvers, a shotgun, a lady's watch and portable radio were reported stolen yesterday by burglars who broke into a summer home at 1855 Squirrel Rd., Avon Township, belonging to Wisson Seyburn of Grosse Pointe, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Coldwater Men to Defend Home

Civic Leaders Go to Capitol to Speak for State Mental School

LANSING (AP)—A grim and determined delegation of Coldwater civic leaders, bearing brochures and testimonials, headed toward the capital today for a talk with legislative leaders.

Their objectives:

1. "To defend the good name of Coldwater Home and Training School."

2. To prevent re-appointment of Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron) as chairman of a House committee appointed last year to investigate Michigan's mental hospital system.

It grew from the Phillips committee's investigation into the death of two men patients at the home for the mentally retarded.

Phillips, whose seven-man committee soon will make a report on its investigations and other activities, leveled charges of patient abuses and brutality.

State Police, the Mental Health Commission and the Branch County prosecutor's office all entered the investigation, but found no evidence to warrant criminal prosecution.

Phillips last night submitted a resolution to revive his committee, which went out of business Dec. 31. It calls for another $15,000 appropriation.

"We need more time to accomplish our job," he said. "Whether I am elected chairman or not does not matter."

Dean said his delegation hopes "at the very least" to dissuade House Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) from re-appointing Phillips to the committee.

Men Must Move Bees to Paint Church Belfry

ELKVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Bees held up painting the Elkville Methodist Church belfry until members Gus Gray, Myrton Piper and Melborn Porter volunteered to remove them.

Although the price was seven stings, it was worth it. It required three hours to remove three washtubs of honey.

Auto Industry Forging Ahead Toward Very Profitable Year

By DAVID J. WILKIE
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT—The auto industry is pushing ahead into what may become one of its most profitable postwar years.

Many industry analysts accept the predictions of 5½ million new car sales this year as conservative; they say that barring some adverse developments presently unforeseen the total easily could top six million units.

This would be far below the record 7¼ million new car sales reported for 1955, but that total was achieved with widespread distress selling among the retailers. In many sources it was called a year of profitless prosperity for most automobile retailers. Few cars were sold at list price.

Right now the industry has a sales trend under way that could develop into a boom. By tradition, too, a substantial upturn is due. Such an upsurge almost invariably follows a couple of years of disappointing volume.

Despite the disclaimers of most car makers, many industry analysts say the market was oversold in 1955—so much so that it required three years to regain normal balance. These experts say the production of nearly eight million cars that year forced retailers to make exorbitant trade-in allowances and slash prices heavily.

None of the industry experts will say that price discounting has been halted. Many do say the cuts are less drastic. They say also that price discounting probably will continue as long as production exceeds demand.

Latest surveys indicate dealer inventories are mounting. But the manufacturers planned it that way after winding up the 1958 model year with relatively few outgoing models in dealer stocks.

Sizable inventories with a wide variety of different body types is one of the penalties of operating in what probably is the most competitive business in the world. There always is considerable boasting by the auto makers about owner loyalty, but retailers know new car buyers car be lost if they are asked to wait indefinitely for the model they want.

So, with distinctive changes in most makes, the industry is building up inventories. If a sales lag should develop it will be reflected quickly in curtailed production schedules.

The auto makers presently do not anticipate a sales lag in the months immediately ahead. But the almost industrywide overtime scheduling has boosted output above the retail sales volume. Some leveling off of overtime operations already has been indicated.

This is another of the penalties that go with a competition measured in fabulous figures. The industry already has built about two million of its 1959 model cars. It will add a million to that total in the next eight weeks.

Throughout 1958 the industry's sales experts talked about the millions of 1955 buyers who should be back in the market. Total sales figures for last year have not yet been announced. But indications are they will be only slightly more than 4,600,000 units, including imports.

The poorest volume since 1952, that total included relatively few of the 1955 buyers. Many of them should be back in the market this year.

2 Pontiac Men to Speak at Social Workers' Meet

"The Responsibility of Labor and Industry for the Social Services of the Community" will be discussed by Robert S. Nelson and Andrew W. L. Brown at an open meeting of the Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers to be held tomorrow noon at Carrie Lee's Chinese Tea Room, 856 N. Woodward Ave., Birmingham.

Reservations may be made by calling the Pontiac YMCA.

Nelson, president of the Pontiac Manufacturers Association and general manager of Universal Oil Seal Company, is a member of the Board of Directors of the Pontiac Community Chest and the chairman of its budget steering committee.

NELSON

He also is serving on the Board of Directors of the Pontiac YMCA and is a member of the steering committee of the social service planning division of the Greater Pontiac Community Council.

Brown is assistant director of the Community Services Department of the UAW AFL-CIO. He has been responsible for the successful training of 5,000 union members as volunteer social welfare counselors in their local unions throughout the country.

BROWN

Brown is a member of the Board of Directors of the Michigan Welfare League and recently participated on the planning committee of the Community Welfare Council Leaders Conference held in Chicago earlier this month.

Marguerite Parrish, director of social services at the Pontiac State Hospital, is chairman of the local chapter.

The Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers is one of more than 200 chapters of the association. The association has a membership of over 22,000 social workers who are graduates of fully accredited schools of social work.

2-Day Layoff Ends at Chrysler Plants

DETROIT (AP) — Some 15,000 Chrysler employes returned to work at several Detroit plants today while a strike continued at Chrysler Corp. of Canada.

Workers returned to jobs at Chrysler's Plymouth body and assembly plants, the Dodge assembly, the Jefferson assembly, and the Imperial car assembly after a two-day layoff.

British Car Builders Top Million Mark

LONDON (AP)—Britain built more than a million automobiles in 1958—the first time the million mark has been passed in one year.

The Board of Trade said the production total was 1,051,551 compared with the previous high of 897,560 in 1955.

Automobile exports boomed to a new high of 486,810, or 60,000 more than in 1957, the Board of Trade said.

Newspaper Advertising Spurs Sale of Ramblers

CHICAGO (UPI) — Newspaper advertising spurred an 80 per cent sales rise for one auto company despite an industry-wide 30 per cent drop in 1958, an advertising group announced Tuesday.

The Bureau of Advertising, a division of the American Newspapers Publishing Association, made the estimate at a program honoring American Motors President George Romney for his use of newspaper advertising.

Romney, who spoke at the Newspaper Advertising Executives Association meeting, was presented a brochure showing how national advertising contributed to increased sales of the Rambler, American Motors' small car model.

The company's small car advertising campaign, said the bureau statement, "was a daring move. If it didn't pay off, there might not be a second chance."

After three months of the campaign, the company showed its first profit since June, 1955, and later counted an 80 per cent rise while the rest of the industry dropped 30 per cent in sales, the statement said.

George Lemons, NAEA president-elect, said earlier that "total selling" — a grouping of large advertising classifications for intensive local campaigns — has started to "unify the selling forces" of the newspaper industry in an unprecedented way.

"Fresh and bold news approach," he said, had received advertisers' praise as a "major achievement."

2 New Polio Cases Listed

Two more cases of polio were reported in the county last week, but because the illnesses began last year, the State Health Department is counting them as 1958 cases, according to Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director.

These two cases, one in Royal Oak Township and another in Farmington Township, raised last year's total to 66, compared to 27 in 1957.

2 Groups Want Shipping Rules

Canadian, U.S. Owners Ask for Regulation as Safety Measure

OTTAWA (AP) — Canadian and American ship owners have urged quick action by their governments to require certified navigating personnel on all merchant vessels of 300 gross tons or more on the St. Lawrence River and Great Lakes.

A resolution was adopted yesterday at the annual joint meeting of the Dominion Marine Assn. and the Lake Carriers Assn. of the United States.

It also expressed opposition to either Canadian or U.S. vessels having to pay compulsory pilot fees in those waters on the grounds that domestic vessels have qualified officers to handle navigation.

The resolution was aimed primarily at foreign shipping using the St. Lawrence Seaway after its opening this year.

Speakers said pilots won't be necessary on the Kingston-Montreal leg of the seaway and that the day of the pilot for domestic vessels seems over on the Montreal-Quebec leg of the river.

That is coming to apply as well from Quebec to farther points downstream, where pilots now are picked up and dropped off, it was contended.

Vice Adm. Lyndon Spencer, president of the U.S. carriers, said that recently one foreign vessel in the Straits of Mackinac narrowly missed three collisions in a short period and "these conditions can't go on—there's going to be a serious accident."

Peanuts have been supplanted by potato chips in popularity at ball parks and other amusement arenas, according to the publication, Food Engineering.

Professor Won't Discount Ability as Weather Prophet

Groundhog May Be Expert, After All

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The groundhog, after all, may be a real weather prophet. A University of Michigan professor says so.

"Nobody really knows what's behind this old-wives' tale," Prof. Hunt said. "It might have something to do with the animal's hormonal balance. Or it might have to do with reduced fat supply during the long hibernation period, which lasts from some time in November until early February in this part of the country."

"Even though some people don't place any credence in the matter of the groundhog as a weather prophet," he continued, "somebody might do a good long-time study to determine whether there really is any connection between his seeing the shadow and its possible effect on the weather."

According to legend, the groundhog leaves his winter bed on Groundhog's Day, Feb. 2. If he sees his shadow, he gets scared and rushes back inside his hole for another six weeks—six weeks of bad weather. But should he fail to see his shadow, he stays out and winter goes in hiding.

COMEDY'S OUT — Humorous antics of Ed Norton will be completely discarded by Art Carney for his role in "The Velvet Alley" tomorrow night. Katharine Bard co-stars in the Rod Serling story of the career of a middle-aged writer from its beginning in a New York tenement to explosive culmination in Hollywood.

Be-Kind-to-People Plan Is Losing Ground Fast

By EARL WILSON

CHICAGO — "Wilson's sick, sick, sick . . . the guy has flipped."

That's what B'way was muttering after I launched "Be Kind to People Week"—a mad experiment during which I'd try to write only praise about celebrities. Running short of usable material in N.Y. after only two days, I fled here to undertake the project about (1) Marie McDonald and disk jockeys.

WILSON

Marie was leaving town after doing a show including a sketch titled "My Mama Done Tole Me" — which some people interpreted as being about the Gabors (Marie couldn't understand why).

"My mama done tole me,
If I wanted minktails
They don't have to be healthy

There was also a line about Fooyeeo on Trujillo if he didn't give ladies Mercedes.

MARIE

Marie told me she will continue doing the sketch around the country. Zsa Zsa had seen it and had said, "I am too much of a lady to make a scene in a night club!" Marie had retorted, "Where do you make your scenes?" And that's all I'm going to say because this is Sweetness and Light Week and don't urge me!

But I was going to say something nice about the disc jockeys. I doubt if most Americans realize their importance, and I love the way they kid their jobs. One of them defined his job as "practicing the art of blabbermouthmanship." He was the same one who did a headache medicine commercial and then said, "But maybe you don't have a headache. Folks, then just listen to this commercial, and you will get one." You have to admit those guys add something to the gaiety of life.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Tony Pettito already knows one thing he's sure to get next Christmas — a liest of the things the rest of the family wants.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Remember, the hospitals are full of guys who only yesterday were laughing at jokes about women drivers . . . That's earl, brother.

11 Safe After Jumping From Flaming Plane

OLATHE, Kan. (UP) — A flaming engine on a Navy patrol bomber forced 11 men to bail out in a snowstorm Tuesday. All landed safely.

The plane crashed and burned in a pasture near Ottawa, Kan. The two-engine Neptune, based at Glenview (Ill.) Naval Air Station, was on a training mission to San Diego, Calif., when the left engine caught fire 50 miles northeast of Kansas City.

The Olathe Naval Air Station, southwest of Kansas City, started to guide the plane to a landing by radar, but the fire was too hot.

A veteran of three previous emergency jumps, Lt. Cmdr. E. J. Funk of San Lorenzo, Calif., was the pilot.

"I shut off the engine and feathered the prop," Funk said. "The fire seemed to go out.

"We dropped from 12,000 to 8,000 feet as we approached Olathe. Then the fire started again. I unfeathered the prop to try to blow out the flames. It didn't work.

The other 10 men dived into the snowstorm from a rear hatch. Funk was cut off by the explosions amidship so he went out through the nose wheel hatch.

The 11 men were strung out over 10 miles when they landed.

Must Be Careful of Mannerisms

All Comedy Set Aside to Play Part of Writer in 'The Velvet Alley'

Art Carney, who won nationwide fame and television's highest award as Ed Norton, Jackie Gleason's sewer-worker-sidekick in the comedy series, "The Honeymooners," looks upon the famous role he created as a mixed blessing.

The actor explains, "Any role I might possibly play in a future comedy series will inevitably be compared to the role of Ed Norton. I might be able to use a few of Norton's mannerisms, but essentially it would have to be an entirely new characterization. An actor certainly can't play one person in everything he does."

So Carney has set comedy aside temporarily for his upcoming dramatic role on Playhouse 90, Thursday at 9:30 p.m. Channel 2, when he will portray a pressure-torn writer in Rod Serling's original 90-minute drama, "The Velvet Alley." In this teleplay, Carney plays a television dramatist who climbs from the obscurity of a New York tenement to the limelight and perils of Hollywood's "velvet alley" — at the risk of his family, fortune, friends and integrity.

Serling, incidentally, is a man well qualified to treat the perils of writing success. He owns three Emmys himself, and is regarded as one of the outstanding original writers in television.

Says Carney, "I have to be doubly careful to use none of the mannerisms of Ed Norton in every serious play that I do. I'm even cautious about what I wear—never a vest without a jacket! I myself sometimes do Ed Norton's double-takes just in daily talks with family and friends. So it takes concentration to avoid any such reaction in a serious role. After all, Ed Norton looked a lot like Art Carney. It's no cinch to make Art Carney NOT look like Ed Norton."

"The Velvet Alley" marks Carney's third starring role on the "Playhouse 90" series. In his previous appearances he portrayed the Lord Mayor of Dublin in "The Fabulous Irishman" ("Boy, was I scared that the audience would laugh at Ed Norton as the Mayor of Dublin!") and the title role in "Charley's Aunt" ("That was a comedy and just a field day for a British Ed Norton!").

Of his upcoming role Carney says, "This is one part that I've never played before—that of a writer. I can't even type!"

New Show Gives Him the Creeps on Purpose

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Although much of TV is a horror, it is all quite unintentional.

It is satisfying, therefore, to note that ABC-TV has taken the next logical step and added to its schedule an intentional half-hour of horror called Alcoa Presents. It made its debut last night and given a series of strong scripts, it could make a dent in viewing habits.

The aim of Alcoa Presents, a filmed dramatic package, is to scare the living daylights out of you . . . or nightlights if you happen to live in the eastern time zone.

It hopes to achieve this by trotting out such psychic delicatessen as prescience, premonition and deja vu and although I'm not quite sure what all of these things mean, I'm told they will be authenticated by reputable scientists. Reputable TV scientists, of course, are those who unblock clogged nasal passages and tear acid holes in hankies. They differ from disreputable TV scientists who make book on aspirin races.

Anyway, last night's Alcoa Presents opener concerned a live lady whose body was temporarily taken over by a dead lady (Yes, Virginia, there is a housing shortage) and although it was cheapie and a trifle draggy, it also contained several chilling moments.

Those who can remember such fright-shows on radio as The Witch's Tale, The Black Cat and Lights Out plus the wonderful old Dracula, Frankenstein and Val Lewton movies know what a delight horror can be. I hope, therefore, that enough juice is shot into Alcoa Presents to make it go. It would be nice for a change to see a TV show that gave me the creeps on purpose.

Antique Dealer Gets Probation

3 Years Plus $300 Costs Is Sentence in MSU Watch Collection Theft

DETROIT (AP)—A Detroit antique dealer convicted of receiving a collection of antique watches stolen from Michigan State University was placed on three years probation yesterday. Ray O. Williams also was ordered to pay $300 court costs.

About half the valuable Chamberlain-Warren watch collection was taken from the Michigan State Museum last June 29.

He offered to sell them to Williams for $300 to $500, police said, but the two decided the watches were too easily identifiable to sell, so they stored them in Williams' garage, where they were found on a tip.

Philip Van Zant, 22, is awaiting arraignment in East Lansing Friday on a charge of stealing the watches. He also is awaiting trial at Charlotte, Mich., in a gun collection theft.

Joni James' Luggage Is a Staggering Load

Goldwyn Hits Stars' Salaries in Hollywood

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (UP) — Movie producer Samuel Goldwyn says the motion picture industry is at a record low because of the high prices paid stars.

"How long do you think this will continue — when actors demand and get up to a million dollars a picture, and a huge share of the gross or the profits in addition?" he asked Tuesday night at a Screen Producers' Guild Banquet, where he received the Guild's Milestone award.

"There are some people in Hollywood who can write, direct and produce, but there are very few of them," he said. "Actors would do well not to try to take over the functions of the producers."

Train, Truck Loaded With Tanks Collide

DETROIT (AP)—A truck laden with acetylene and oxygen tanks collided with a train locomotive in Livonia yesterday and was dragged along and ripped to shreds.

Impact of the collision threw James H. McDonald, 19, of Livonia from the cab of his truck. He was taken to a hospital in critical condition.

Financial Ills Bad for Papers

Can Lead to Pressure From Advertisers on News Pages

CHICAGO (AP)—Only the financially strong newspaper can be independent in its new column, an Oklahoma editor told advertising executives Monday night.

"The newspaper that is barely surviving," said Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor of the Tulsa Tribune, "is least able to tell a straightforward, unbiased story."

"The penniless newspaper, like the penniless young lady, is more susceptible to an immoral proposition than one well heeled," he declared.

He added:

It is too easy for advertisers to make their influence felt when papers are in financial difficulties, Jones believes.

"Too many newspapers, like too many stray dogs in the street of the slum, root desperately in the garbage can," he said. "They gyrate between jealous hatred and fawning gratitude."

Needs Lengthy Search to Verify Army Claim

HONOLULU (AP) — A former member of the Army's 27th Infantry asked the commanding officer for reimbursement for a trip he made from Manila to San Francisco.

The Army checked its records and found the claim was accurate. Sure enough, the man had been with the unit.

The trip was made in 1904.

No War, Says Mikoyan

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—"I do not foresee any new war in the near future," said Anastas I. Mikoyan as he headed home to the Soviet Union.

"This should not comfort us too much," the Soviet first deputy premier added. "For the question is what direction we are moving in—the direction of peace or the direction of accumulation of the forces of war? This will decide the fate of humanity."

Of his 17-day visit to the United States he said, "I came with no plans for negotiations. I planned exactly what has taken place."

He said he has more optimism for peace than when he came to this country.

"This does not mean that I no longer have any suspicions or that I have changed my views," he said. "But I have found grounds for bigger optimism than I came with. How events will develop in the future I don't know. Events develop according to their own laws."

Mikoyan said he was returning home convinced that Americans by and large "want to understand us and want us to understand them. This is already good. From a political standpoint my trip to the United States has been useful."

Among Mikoyan's activities were conferences with President Eisenhower, Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Mikoyan did not negotiate any agreement or settlement of any outstanding issue between the Soviet Union and the United States.

Mikoyan said he had done exactly what he had planned to do during his stay — exchange opinions and views with Americans. He said he was satisfied.

Mikoyan received before his departure a telegram from Secretary Dulles. On behalf of President Eisenhower, Dulles said he hoped the visit had been of value and that Mikoyan would give the Soviet people "an expression of the sincere desire of the people of the United States for friendship with them."

Dulles also expressed hope that Mikoyan would report to Premier Nikita Khrushchev that Americans desire peace and that they believe "irrespective of their political party in the right of people to determine their own form of government."
