High School Students Line Up for Chest X-Rays

X-RAY UNIT AT PHS—Pontiac High School students lined up this week for free chest X-rays to detect hidden cases of tuberculosis. One of two chest X-ray vans touring Oakland County is at PHS Wednesday, today and Friday to serve high school students only. Both units will be open to the public next week, one spending two weeks at Huron and Saginaw streets while the other tours the city making neighborhood stops.

Cooler Weather Expected Friday

Bureau Forecasts High of 77 to 80 Degrees; Mercury at 88

Cooler weather, with a high of from 77 to 80 degrees, is expected to give some relief from the hot and muggy weather that has gripped the Pontiac area since Monday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau also predicts partly cloudy skies tonight and tomorrow.

Warm air continued to flow northward from the Gulf of Mexico today, shoving the temperature to 88 degrees at 2 p.m. in downtown Pontiac.

The warmest weather in Pontiac this year was recorded Tuesday, Wednesday and today when the temperature jumped to 88 degrees.

City water pumpage kept pace with the soaring thermometer.

Water Supt. Joseph W. Gable said 16,800,000 gallons of water were pumped Wednesday, about 2,300,000 more than on Tuesday and a high for this year.

Despite increasing water demand, he said pressure has remained constant and sprinkling restrictions are not immediately in sight.

Yesterday's 88-degree high was recorded at 4 p.m. The low was 62.

No Ferdinand, Bull Is Sued for Indelicate Didos

NAPA, Calif. (AP)—Prince Domino III, a blue-blooded bull, stood acquitted today of charges of willful misconduct in his affairs with 34 heifers in a neighboring field.

Superior Judge Mervin C. Lernhart decided in favor of Prince Domino and his owner, George Mardikian, owner of Omar Kayyam's Restaurant in San Francisco in a $6,610 civil suit filed against them by Glen and Carleton Lynch of St. Helena.

The Lynchs' suit charged Prince Domino crashed the fence into the Lynch property and did there "wound, worry and impregnate" the heifers over a three-year period.

The suit characterized the Prince as a "bovine Don Juan" and a "wicket Lothario."

But Judge Lernhart ruled yesterday there was no evidence to prove just who had done the fence crashing—whether Prince Domino had invaded the heifers' field or visa versa.

Removes Toy Bell From Child's Throat

A Pontiac mother won a 10-minute struggle for the life of her one-year-old son yesterday after he swallowed a tiny, round bell from a toy teddy bear.

Mrs. Robert Parker, of 10 LeGrande Ave., said today that her son, William, evidently chewed the bell from a knotted cord around the neck of the toy.

Pontiac firemen rushed to the Parker home and whisked the boy to Pontiac General Hospital for examination of his throat. Mrs. Parker was able to remove the bell before the child reached the hospital.

Captain Chennault Leads in Air Force Gunnery Meet

By JOHN W. FITZGERALD
(Assistant to the Editor)

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—The U. S. Air Force Gunnery Meet at Indian Springs Range has been hampered by high winds and dust, but the meet goes on with the keenest possible competition.

These jet fliers, I've noticed, are much like the men and women here in Las Vegas at the crap tables. They've come with the express purpose of winning, and nothing else seems to matter. The stakes are high, but that's the way they like it.

Because of air conditions on the desert the first jet mission is at 5:55 a. m. The range is surrounded by mountains and the heat waves later in the day make low angle flying hazardous.

Gambling is still going strong as we leave the hotel for Nellis Air Base at 4:30 each morning. The Air Force provides a 119 paratroop transport plane to fly the sleepy newsmen to the gunnery range out on the desert.

From the bleachers beside the control tower the observers wait for the first bit of action. The voice booms over the loud speakers:

"Stand by. The first pass will be for spacing only."

The microphone clicks off. Everyone on the ground turns to the sky. From back over the tower a black dot grows bigger, bigger, and suddenly bursts into a full sized F84 and shoots overhead.

Instinctively everyone ducks, and the jet grows smaller as it passes off into the sky. Its sound is a deep growl, arriving after the plane has passed.

Down from thousands of feet come the other three members of the team, leaving only trails of jet sound behind.

"Stand by," says the voice over

Flint City Official Injured in Collision

John W. Proctor, 37, city civil service director at Flint, is reported in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital with a brain concussion and back injuries sustained late last night in a head-on car-truck crash on Dixie Highway in front of the Pontiac State Police Post.

Truck driver Chester Wisniewski, 40, driver for an Alpena brewing firm, told State Police that Proctor, headed north, was driving on the wrong side of the four-lane highway. Wisniewski was treated for scalp cuts.

Proctor, who has held the civil service post for about three years, was unable to make a statement. But authorities learned that he was returning to Flint after presiding at a Detroit area meeting of the Michigan Chapter of the Civil Service Assembly. Proctor is the chapter's vice president.

2 Escape Cab of Blazing Truck

Flames Fail to Set Off Load of Oil in Trailer After Rig Flips

Two Detroiters smashed their way out of a flaming oil truck cab minutes after their vehicle rolled down a 20-foot embankment last night and burst into flames.

Driver Paul Knutine, 44, of 13927 Westwood, and passenger Richard Christensen, 19, of 15815 Woodbine, were treated for burns at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

The flames miraculously failed to ignite the truck's tank filled with inflammable road mix oil.

Trooper John Benaglio of the Pontiac State Police Post said the truck went out of control on Telegraph near Ward road when Knutine tried to avoid a car that stopped suddenly in front of him.

He said the truck flipped over and its gas tank apparently exploded, spraying the cab with flaming gasoline.

Trapped inside, the pair managed to break through a jammed door to safety moments before the flames completely engulfed the cab. Knutine suffered arm cuts in the escape.

Bloomfield Township firemen were summoned.

Court Forbids Picketing Cabs

3 Judges Issue Edict; Contempt Suits Against Unionists Delayed

A court order issued yesterday by Oakland County's three Circuit Judges forbids Teamsters Local 614, AFL, from picketing the Pontiac Cab Co. or in any way interfering with the company's operation.

The order, which continues a temporary injunction against the union from interfering with the company, also stipulates that contempt proceedings against four union members will be heard at a later date.

Contempt charges against Frank Orsini, LeRoy Shaw, William Sowles and Gail DePew will be heard to determine if they employed strong-arm tactics in a drive to unionize cab company drivers.

Their hearings will come up after scheduling on the regular court docket and will probably not be heard until next fall because of the press of cases, according to court officials.

Attorneys for both sides drew up the agreement and presented it to the three Circuit Judges for signature Wednesday at the request of presiding Judge Frank L. Doty.

Contempt charges had been filed against the union and a hearing on them opened Tuesday after being adjourned last May 18.

Mrs. Lucille G. Cornell, cab company owner, charged the union with violating a temporary injunction forbidding interference with operation of the company after some of her drivers and passengers were "roughed up."

Williams Taps GOP Man for Civil Service Board

LANSING (AP)—Vernon J. Brown, of Mason, "grand old man" of the Michigan Republican party, was appointed to the State Civil Service Commission by Gov. Williams today.

Brown served three terms as auditor general, one term as lieutenant governor, and 10 years in the House of Representatives. He is a retired weekly newspaper publisher.

Sen. McCarthy Swears Adams Tried Blackmail

Tells of Threats Used to Block Questioning of Loyalty Board

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy swore today that Army Counselor John G. Adams tried to blackmail him out of calling Army loyalty board members before him for questioning about communism, "graft and corruption."

McCarthy said Adams used "a combination of salesmanship and threats" in a three-hour talk at McCarthy's Washington apartment on the night of last Jan. 22.

And, McCarthy said, Adams made it "very, very clear" that if the investigation were not called off an unfavorable report about Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy subcommittee, would be made public.

At that time, McCarthy said, 'they had not thought up" the charges subsequently filed against McCarthy, Cohn and Francis P. Carr, staff director for the subcommittee.

"I told him we just would not be blackmailed," McCarthy swore.

In swift recital of his relations with Secretary of the Army Stevens and Adams, McCarthy also testified:

1. Stevens and Adams sought to divert his subcommittee from its investigaion of Reds in the Army and suggested to him at a Nov. 6 Pentagon luncheon that "there must be" Communist infiltration of the Air Force and the Navy which the subcommittee could investigate.

2. As early as last September, he urged Stevens to "lean over backwards" against giving any special consideration to G. David Schine, wealthy young consultant to the McCarthy subcommittee who faced prospective drafting into the Army.

3. Stevens, in his presence, asked Schine to pose with Stevens for a photograph at McGuire Air Force Base last fall. Stevens has testi-

Ike's Speech Tonight Asks Public Support

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will make a fresh appeal for public support of his legislative program in a major television-radio address tonight.

It is scheduled for 8 p.m., EST.

His immediate audience for a half-hour speech will be a group of self-styled "political amateurs," the National Citizens for Eisenhower Congressional Committee.

This group opens a three-day meeting tonight with a congressional reception to be addressed by Vice President Nixon. A hurriedly arranged dinner will follow with the chief executive speaking. Up until late yesterday the President had been listed only for some brief informal remarks tomorrow.

The speech will be carried in the Pontiac area on WXYZ-TV (Channel 7) at 8 p.m

It will be rebroadcast over WXYZ radio at 9:00 p.m. and over station CKLW at 10:30 p.m.

DIPLOMAS — AND 852 TRANSFUSIONS—John Ciccone, 20, and his sister, Theresa, 19, await their 451st and 401st blood transfusion at Children's Hospital in Philadelphia to insure their fitness for high school graduation next week. They are victims of a rare, and considered incurable blood disease called Mediterranean anemia, and have had a total of 185 hospitalizations. Physicians say blood transfusion is the only known treatment. The nurse is Helen Strickland.

Rebels Take 2 More Posts in Critical River Delta Area

HANOI, Indochina (UP)—Communist troops captured two more posts in the South Red River Delta, wiping out one of the garrisons, in fierce amphibious battles through flooded rice paddies, the French High Command announced today.

Rebel troops took the post of Hai Yen, at the confluence of the Red River and Bamboo Canal, 30 miles southeast of Hanoi, and the garrison at Lat Khiem, 35 miles south of the Northern Indochina capital.

The high command said the entire garrison at Lat Khiem had been killed or captured by the rebels.

Loss of the two posts was announced as the high command reported the advance of four divisions which conquered Dien Bien Phu to a point about 40 miles west of Hanoi. The high command said the troops of Red Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap had trudged forward with heavy guns, antiaircraft batteries, and other fighting materiel.

The fall of Hai Yen to the Reds was considered a major loss because it covers the strategic juncture of the Red River and the canal that cuts northeast across the whole delta coastal region.

Hai Yen had been under severe Communist pressure for several days. Early Tuesday morning the Reds launched two successive assault waves of infantry against the post and the French command evacuated the garrison Wednesday.

Gen. Raoul Salan, former supreme commander in Indochina, held an urgent conference with the Delta General Staff on defense of the rich triangle against Giap's anticipated assault.

Salan was returned to Indochina to become right-hand man of Gen. Paul Ely, newly appointed military and political chief of the three associated states.

Giap is expected to launch his assault on the vital Red River Delta and Hanoi within the next five or six days.

The high command reported that French and loyal Indochinese troops had fought their way out of a Communist ambush in a Red-infested section of the Red River Delta earlier in the day.

A spokesman said the rebels attacked a Franco-Viet Nam group engaged in mopping up Communist pockets of resistance between Hanoi and Kesat, 22 miles to the east.

Bell Employes to Get Raises

Company to Push Plea for Rate Boost in State to Offset Wage Hike

DETROIT (AP)—A $1 to $2.50 weekly wage increase for 18,400 CIO Michigan telephone workers today apparently assured another year's labor peace for Michigan bell.

Negotiators agreed on the wage boost along with other adjustments Wednesday. Rank and file ratification is required. This, however, is regarded as only a formality.

The agreement averted a possible strike in the statewide system. It capped a concentrated period of negotiation since the company's contract with the CIO Communication Workers expired May 28.

Coincident with the settlement, Michigan Bell said it would petition immediately for a rehearing of its rejected proposal for a rate increase for its more than 2,000,000 customers.

Under the new wage agreement the top craftsman's pay in Detroit will be $103.50 a week.

Switchboard girls will be paid a top of $64.50 in Detroit.

Pay rates in the several classifications of workers vary downward in other cities across the state. However, 50 outstate cities and about 20 job classifications were upgraded.

Among the upgraded cities are: Birmingham, Rochester, Utica, Fenton, Holly, Brighton, Howell and Lapeer.

4 Trapped Children Perish in Flames

LACONA, N.Y. (AP)—Four young brothers and sisters perished early today in a fire that trapped them in their second-floor bedrooms.

Six members of the family escaped, two by leaping from a porch roof.

The dead, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Williams, were Gerrit, 7, David Lee, 5, Jessalyn, 4 and Melodie Ann, 2.

The fire, of undetermined origin, wrecked the two-story frame house in this central New York village. The parents asleep in a first-floor bedroom, awoke to find the house in flames.

President Plans No Move Now Except Standby

Says U.S. Must Fight Policy of Communism for Many Years

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today said the French Union forces in Indochina are in possibly better defensive shape than before the fall of Dien Bien Phu, but undoubtedly could be much aided by outside military help.

However, the President told his news conference he still does not believe this country should start a war.

Instead, he declared, the United States should keep its military reserves highly mobile, ready to move to any point of danger, and to continue waging the attack on communism on a worldwide front with intellectual, economic and spiritual weapons as well as military ones.

The President said this country certainly is in a truly serious situation, although he declined to accept a questioner's suggestion that it was in greater danger than ever before in history.

The greatest danger, Eisenhower said, is the possibility that Americans will look only at single conflicts and isolated battles at various places in the world, whereas the danger is worldwide and may last for 40 years regardless of the outcome of individual clashes.

He added it is his belief that the country's national security program is the right one—but he could change his mind any minute.

The questioning was touched off with an inquiry whether Eisenhower, as a former Army commander, believed that outside naval and air assistance would help the French Union forces in Indochina.

Eisenhower said: "The French and Vietnamese troops have had a most difficult task in holding a vast area on a defensive basis. They did not wish to mount major attacks in an effort to destroy the enemy, because in so doing they would lay waste their own peoples. As a result, the Communist forces could choose the times and places of assault.

"It was difficult for the defensive commanders to be strong enough at all the places all the time, to cope with the Red thrusts. Further, the French faced an elusive enemy which had no large troop concentrations up to the recent battle for the fort of Dien Bien Phu.

"Now fighting within the Red River Delta itself, the French have a smaller area to defend and are succeeding in concentrating some mobile forces in positions from which their forward troops can be relieved and supported.

"Their situation therefore is possibly better, but they could use outside help.

"There is no doubt their situation could be improved with assistance from other countries."

Later Eisenhower likened this country's situation in world affairs with that of the French problem in the Indochina fighting. Americans must not forget, he said, that Russia is not only a great unified force, strong in arms and able to choose its military objectives, but also has a great appeal for many people in the world.

That is why this country must meet communism on the broadest front—intellectual, economic and spiritual as well as military—if it hopes to lead the free world to security and peace, Eisenhower said. We must be strong in our belief that ours is the right system and prove it to the rest of the world, he said, and we must be strong enough militarily to defend that system anywhere in the world.

Counsel in Verbal Tilt With McCarthy

School Days Almost Over as Vacation Season Nears

About 15,813 children in Pontiac's public schools will close their books for the last time this year on June 18, when summer vacation is officially launched in the city.

Parochial students will begin their summer respite earlier with St. Michael High School closing its doors this Friday and St. Frederick students attending classes for the last time next Tuesday.

The St. Trinity Lutheran School will end its term this Friday, with the Emmanuel Christian School and the Seventh Day Adventist School both closing the semester June 18.

City schools will reopen Sept. 7, along with the St. Trinity Lutheran School. All parochial schools and other church institutions will commence the fall term Sept. 8.

Birmingham Shifts School Enrollments to Help Cut Overcrowding at Pierce

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Following the recommendations of a 1952 survey of the Birmingham School District, school attendance areas will be shifted this fall to ease crowded conditions, according to Malcolm Ferguson, Pierce School principal.

One of the schools chiefly effected will be Pierce, the city's largest elementary school, with a current enrollment of 1,030.

Ferguson said next year's enrollment will be dropped to 885 through the shift, but added that the rated capacity of Pierce is actually only 827.

A few complaints have been registered, but Ferguson said all in all, parents have been very cooperative.

"People on the fringe area of the district must expect to have their children transferred to another good Birmingham school," he said.

"I insist that quality in one school is not better than in another," Ferguson continued. "Every school has as fine a program as the other, and there is no favoritism."

Ferguson said a minimum of 100 children will have to be diverted from Pierce to the Baldwin and Beverly schools for the next three years.

The change in attendance area moves the southern boundary from Buckingham to Beverly road, leaving other boundary lines as they are now set up.

McCarthy Accuses Adams of Blackmail

fied he does not believe he proposed the picture—that he certainly had no recollection of it.

4. In his opinion, the Army took reprisal against Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton because Lawton cooperated with McCarthy's Investigations subcommittee. McCarthy said he believes Lawton, commander of Ft. Monmouth, N.J., failed to get a promotion to the permanent rank of major general because of such cooperation.

McCarthy said he made it clear to Adams in the Jan. 22 talk that he and Cohn felt if they "could be blackmailed out of one investigation by this threat, it would set up a modus operandi by which the same type of blackmail could be used every time we tried to expose a Communist."

The senator said he told Adams to go ahead and make public any information about Cohn which should be made public, but he "couldn't conceive" that the Army would file the "false charges" it eventually did—the accusation that McCarthy, Cohn and Carr jointly exerted extreme pressure for favors for Schine.

* * *

McCarthy contended it was his committee's efforts to go behind the scenes in the Pentagon and find out who was "coddling" Communists that led to the filing of charges against him and his committee staff.

"I think that is responsible for the hearings here today," he declared.

McCarthy said he also thought "a part" in preparation of the Army's "false charges" was due to his insistence on finding out who was responsible for the honorable discharge Feb. 1 of Maj. Irving Peress, an Army Dentist described by McCarthy as "a Fifth Amendment Communist."

* * *

Peress declined last winter to answer questions from McCarthy, invoking the Fifth Amendment's protection against forcing a witness to give testimony against himself.

McCarthy served notice that once the current hearings are out of the way he intends to get Army loyalty board members before him.

Ray H. Jenkins, special counsel to the Senate Investigations subcommittee, completed direct examination of McCarthy just before the subcommittee recessed for lunch.

Under the established procedure, Jenkins will cross-examine him before members of the subcommittee and Army counsel get opportunity to ask questions.

* * *

Both Stevens and Adams, also under oath, have denied they tried to divert the subcommittee to investigation of the Navy and Air Force.

McCarthy testified that at a Nov. 6 Pentagon luncheon, Stevens and Adams indicated "they were unhappy" about the subcommittee's concentrating its investigations of the Army.

They told him, McCarthy said, that the Navy and Air Force "must be just as bad as the Army."

The senator added that Adams offered to give Roy M. Cohn, his subcommittee chief counsel, information on the Navy.

* * *

This charge that Stevens and Adams tried to steer the McCarthy subcommittee into investigations of the Army's sister services has been described by Army counsel as perhaps the "toughest" of all those hurled by the McCarthy camp.

McCarthy said Stevens also told him at the Nov. 6 luncheon that he would "lose his job" if McCarthy continued his investigation of the Army.

Stevens "argued rather convincingly," McCarthy said, that while the situation developed under the previous administration he would have to take the blame; that the American people would not separate the "old from the new" in fixing responsibility.

Program Secretary Is Appointed by Y

BIRMINGHAM — Paul R. Heins, 22, of Columbus, Ohio, will take up duties as program secretary of the Birmingham YMCA next Tuesday, it was announced today by William C. Gordon, chairman of committee management of the local Y.

Gordon said the move was prompted by the population growth in the 64 square-mile area served by the local branch.

As an assistant to Edwin F. Kirbert, executive secretary, Heins will coordinate and supervise programs for boys and girls and family members of the branch here.

Heins will arrive after his graduation from St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. Born in Japan, he was brought to the United States by his missionary parents as a boy. He has done choral work with his college glee club, plays the French horn and trumpet, and speaks German and Norwegian fluently.

Check 700 PHS Students for TB

1st of 2 Mobile X-Ray Units Comes to Pontiac for Public Use

Seven hundred Pontiac High School students were checked for tuberculosis Wednesday as one of two mobile chest X-ray units spent its first day in Pontiac.

Other high school students will get the free X-rays today and Friday.

Oakland County Tuberculosis Association, co-sponsor of the mobile units' visit here, asked the public to wait until next week for their X-rays.

One unit will be open to the public from noon until 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Fridays at the county courthouse, Huron and Saginaw streets, June 14-22. Another will tour the community, making neighborhood stops.

Men and women don't need to undress to take the X-rays, which take only a few minutes.

The TB Association explained X-rays not only find tuberculosis (usually curable if discovered soon enough) but often show up cancer, enlarged heart and other chest abnormalities.

Sponsors of the mobile units' four-month tour of Oakland County are the Tuberculosis Association, Oakland County Medical Society, and Michigan, Oakland County, Pontiac, Birmingham, and Ferndale-Pleasant Ridge health departments.

James K. Thomas

After a prolonged illness, James K. Thomas, 58, of 745 Featherstone Rd. died at Pontiac General Hospital at 9:45 p.m. Wednesday.

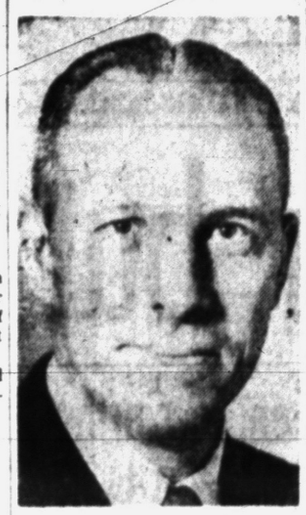
Born in Greece Aug. 4, 1895, he married Alice Beach in Detroit in 1922. He came to Pontiac 26 years ago from Detroit and was last employed in the press room at the American Forging and Socket Co.

Besides his widow he is survived by a son, George, and a daughter, Katherine Spong, and six grandchildren, James and Marla Thomas, Alfred, James and Arthur Spong and Michael Graham.

The body will be taken from the Brace Funeral Home to St. George Greek Orthodox Church for service Saturday at 2 p.m. The Rev. Soterios Gouvellis, pastor of the church of which Mr. Thomas was a member, will officiate.

Long-Time Druggist Dies

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Otto Schnorr, 59, a pharmacist in Battle Creek for 35 years, died Wednesday night. He opened the first dispensary at Camp Custer during World War I.



THEODORE E. WIERSEMA

Jefferson School Principal Appointed

Theodore E. Wiersema, Crofoot School principal since 1950, was appointed new principal of Jefferson Junior High School Wednesday.

Pontiac Board of Education named Wiersema to succeed Kline B. Hartman as principal of the 235-student junior high at 600 Motor St. Hartman has resigned to teach at Pontiac High School.

A graduate of Mount Morris College near Rockford, Ill., Wiersema came to Pontiac in 1925 as a science teacher at PHS. He has coached several athletic teams, has headed Pontiac Teachers Club and is active in Pontiac Federation of Teachers. He has a master's degree in school administration from Wayne University.

The school board has not yet appointed a Crofoot principal to take Wiersema's place.

Bloomfield to Cut Cost of High School

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — After discussion last night with architects and school administrators, Supt. of Schools Eugene L. Johnson said today that the school board "has seen its way clear to cut about $140,000, without too much revision of the plans," off the new $1.5 million high school plans.

Bids received last week were that much over the original estimate of $1.5 million.

Johnson said bids will probably be awarded next week after consultation with the low bidders.

Chennault Leading Air Force Gunners

the tower loudspeaker. "The first mission is low angle bombing. The range on the right will be used. Pullouts will be at 500 feet."

The observers wait anxiously, looking out at the hot desert. A general from France offers a cigarette to an American brigadier general. Others adjust their field glasses.

"Now," booms the voice in the tower. "This is the team from the Far Eastern Command. Team captain is Capt. C. O. Chennault (son of Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault of Flying Tiger fame). Other members of the team are named. They are flying F84 Thunderjets.

"First member of the team is coming in on the bomb run. That's Capt. Chennault diving in on the target."

All eyes are upward watching the black dot grow larger as it comes on at better than 500 miles an hour.

The aircraft passes overhead, and goes into its pullout. A white puff of smoke appears near the target.

"Ten feet out at 2 o'clock," the loudspeaker says. Observers again look to the sky for the next black dot.

"Repeat, 10 feet at 2 o'clock. This is unofficial. The final score will come from the judges."

Before the smoke clears from each run the next team member is in to try and do better.

The target is just 150 feet across. Diving at this speed the pullout jams the force of about five G's into the pilot's body. G force is caused by gravity pull. One G equals your weight. This is something most of us would not care to try.

As the white puffs of smoke come up from the target the announcer places it for the observers: "That was 15 at 5 o'clock." Capt. Chennault coming in for his final pass," the tower voice says and waits for the white plume of smoke. "Bullseye," the announcer says.

All observers agree this super speed and precision bombing is terrific. "Wish I could putt that well," remarks one newsman.

Another team follows in 15 minutes so the observers go for cokes or coffee.

When the final scores for the day's events were in, Capt. Chennault led all other jet aces in both teams and individual scoring.

Jury Hearing $200,000 Suit

Royal Oak Dentist Asks Damages for Injuries at Football Game

Testimony in a $200,000 damage suit against Birmingham School District and a Detroit bleacher company was presented to a Circuit Court jury of 11 women and three men today.

Dr. Maurice Richards, Royal Oak dentist, is seeking the damages for permanent injury to his left leg sustained when a bleacher section collapsed at a high school football game in 1948.

His attorney, Walter Martin of Saginaw, told the jury today that he intends to show negligence on the part of the school district in erecting the bleachers.

Cole said the school district and the Atlas Portable Bleacher company entered into a written contract wherein the school district assumed full responsibility and liability for any accident.

The jury was told that no planks were placed under the bleachers' uprights to keep the stands from sinking into the ground; that in construction no proper bracing or bolting of the frames was effected; seats and foot boards were not secured; there was no proper inspection before or after construction and that the bleachers were erected in mud and water in direct violation of the contract.

Dr. Richards, according to Cole, had his left leg shattered behind and below the knee and that a five hour operation to restore use of the leg was unsuccessful.

Damages were being asked, Cole said, because the doctor has suffered loss of $30,000 income since the accident; he will lose upwards of $100,000 in future income; for pain and injury and for thousands of dollars in doctor's bills.

Albert Haller, Ferndale city surveyor, took the stand today to explain scale drawings he made of Pierce Field in Birmingham, scene of the football game at which Dr. Richards was injured.

Boy, 8, Riding Bicycle, Injured by Automobile

James M. Johnson, 8, of 97 Prall St., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for forehead cuts and arm bruises received Wednesday when he was struck by a car on North Johnson avenue.

The driver, Richard E. Roberts, 22, of 3267 Midwall, Keego Harbor, told Pontiac Police the boy rode his bicycle from a driveway, between parked cars into path of his car. Witnesses verified Roberts' account.

Arrest Picketing Wife on Disorderly Conduct

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Officers yesterday stopped Mrs. Sammie Wolfson from carrying a sign in front of the theater her husband manages.

The 40-year-old wife, who says she plans to file for a divorce, was picketing the theater with a sign which stated that Wolfson was "trying to keep from giving his wife any money to live on."

Mrs. Wolfson faced a hearing on a charge of disorderly conduct in police court today.

Flying Squirrels Raised on Farm

Ex-Government Worker Operates the Only Such Enterprise Anywhere

WASHINGTON (UP. — L. E. Greeson, retired government worker, has extended a childhood hobby into a new career. He operates the only commercial flying squirrel farm in the world.

Unlike birds, these kiting rodents of the Petauristidae family utilize the furry folds of skin stretched between their legs as the means of staying airborne. They fly on the glider principle—gliding from aloft and steering with their tails.

Greeson's ranch in the suburbs of Washington, numbers about 1,100 squirrels, not including the fledglings. Greeson makes his living selling the creatures as pets—"the best in the world." He receives orders from all over the United States, and from Europe, India and Japan.

As a boy in Texas and other parts of the West, Greeson was intrigued by flying squirrels and took them up as a hobby.

"Down there," he said, the squirrels were so plentiful that 'you could shake them out of a locust tree."

But Texas and the West are not the only places one may encounter these flying nut-gatherers.

"The Blue Ridge Mountain area is the best place to catch them in this part of the country," he said. "But they're in the woods right around Washington too. You have to know how to find them."

Outlining his trapping methods, Greeson said he learned that the squirrels, which are much smaller than their earth-bound relatives, "took off from the top of a tree in a quick dive and would steer with their tails, and could twist and turn in the air with never a miss."

"They would glide down—sometimes the length of a city block—and when they reached the second tree, they'd be near its base," he added. "They give a quick flip and then land with all four paws. Then they'd climb up the second tree and take off again."

Greeson explained that the squirrels "never take off without a destination in mind."

After a considerable period of squirrel watching, he learned to foretell the direction they would jump. Once attained, this skill made capture simple.

"But sometimes," he added, "we caught them in the air just like a ball."

He doesn't expect serious competition from amateurs.

"You could walk all day and never see one, and I could walk right behind you and see a hundred. I can find flying squirrels anywhere."

Cornell University Has Solatron for Experiments

ITHACA, N. Y. (UP)—Cornell University has produced its own "sun" to shine on small-scale architectural models.

The artificial sun, called the solatron, simulates the position of the sun for any latitude, season, and time of day.

College architects said the solatron could, for example, be used to show how an overhanging roof should be designed to cut off the direct rays of the high summer sun but let in the low rays of the winter sun. It will be used for such problems as designing sun control devices and studying the sun's efefct on housing projects and buildings.

Work, Sleep, Play In Comfort

Without Nagging Backache

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1954

Roger M. Kyes Placed

After conflicting rumors had run rampant for a month or so, Roger M. Kyes returns to General Motors as a director, vice president and group executive.

His office will be in the General Motors building and he will continue to live as a near neighbor to Pontiac in his beautiful residence just south of us in Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

This is a fine step upward for Mr. Kyes who left Pontiac as head of the GMC Truck and Coach Division to accept his role in Washington as Deputy under Secretary of Defense, C. E. Wilson. The original plans called for him to spend a year in Governmental service but he extended this a few months at the request of the Defense Secretary.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Kyes is a man of tremendous capacity and ability. He is blessed with unbounded energy and has a restless, inquisitive nature that keeps everything humming within reach and sight. His selection by C. E. Wilson as his closest assistant in the Pentagon building wasn't by chance or purely ineidental. He was picked for "proven performance" under fire.

Mr. Kyes is only 48 years old and few men have climbed as high in the industrial ladder so rapidly. He holds a high echelon place in the biggest corporation in the world and still has plenty of time to move higher, in spite of the unusual level he has attained already.

Pontiac is proud to have been a part of his rapid rise in industry. He strengthened the Truck plant immeasurably during his stay here and the same capacities and abilities will now be brought to play on a wider scope.

Both General Motors and Mr. Kyes have done well.

Victory for Gas Users

Millions of natural gas consumers may benefit in ultimately lower fuel bills as a result of a five to three decision by the U. S. Supreme Court.

The majority opinion, written by Justice Minton, reversed an earlier decision by the Federal Power Commission. FPC members had held that they lacked authority to regulate the price of natural gas collected by the Phillips Petroleum Company for distribution in interstate pipe lines.

★ ★ ★

Concurring with Minton, besides Chief Justice Warren, were Justices Black, Reed and Frankfurter. A dissenting opinion was signed by Justices Douglas, Clark and Burton. Justice Jackson took no part in the case which the court previously had refused to review, thus letting stand a Circuit Court opinion overturning the original FPC ruling.

After holding that Phillips is a natural gas company within the meaning of the Natural Gas Act, the opinion added:

"Protection of consumers against exploitation at the hands of natural gas companies was the primary aim of the Natural Gas Act."

★ ★ ★

This common sense decision is a great victory for natural gas consumers, most of whom in the State are customers of Consumers Power Company or Michigan Consolidated.

Detroit's assistant corporation counsel, James H. Lee, says Michigan cities are ready to ask FPC for lower rates on gas collected in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Lee added that this decision upholds an eight year old contention that the FPC had authority to regulate producers. Had the FPC assumed this authority and put suppliers under bond while court action was fought, Lee said, Michigan gas users would have millions of dollars in refunds coming.

One Car in 4 Dangerous

Less favorable though the results were, the report on the 1954 safety check of automobiles emphasizes the value of this annual Chamber of Commerce and Police Department program.

About 25 per cent, or 1,565, of the 6,282 cars checked during May were found to need immediate maintenance attention. Most numerous faults were lack of license plate lights and defective brakes, tail lights and headlights.

More persons were ticketed this year for not having a driver's license than for any other offense. Failure to have registration cards available also ranked high on the list.

Even though the checkups covered only a part of the cars owned and operated in the Pontiac area, the figures in this report are thought provoking. The number of cars found to need maintenance attention suggests that not more than 75 per cent of Pontiac owned automobiles are in perfect operating condition.

★ ★ ★

That fact, in turn, warns that here is a potential cause of traffic accidents, injuries and deaths. Finally, the report should be a reminder to all motorists that safety not only is the job of every car owner and driver, but a never ending responsibility.

Make sure your car isn't a killer.

Art Robertson Urges Electors to Vote Yes Monday; Improve Local School System

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Next Monday we are asked to go to the polls and vote for additional money for the school system. Education, which is the root of a great America, can only be furthered by voters furnishing the money.

You don't buy education as you need it; it must be obtained by planning for it, by looking ahead and seeing the increasing needs.

Teachers are one of the bulwarks of our society and to see them quitting the teaching profession and going into other fields is not only distressing but downright alarming. If you provide second-rate pay and facilities you will get second-rate teachers and half-educated boys and girls.

We have a fine board of education, the members of which have kept us out of debt and have planned wisely for the future with the money which they have been given.

However, they need more money to do the job the way it should be done. Let's show them that we appreciate their hard work and trust their judgment by voting "yes" on Monday.

Too Many Cruel People Discard Small Animals

In reading about the unwanted kitten and the kind lady that took it in, I too, wonder what race of morons are among us. There are people who take puppies to the city dump and leave them there like garbage. Yes, unbelievable in a city that has so many fine churches and good, kind citizens.

Last January on a raw day we had to go to the dump. Two of the cutest black puppies trotted up, no more than a month old. I yelled, "Whose pups are these?" as cars and trucks backed in and out, nearly running over them. The attendant said, "Somebody left them here. There were three but one froze to death."

We brought them home, fed them, took them to the vet. We wanted to find them a good home so we advertised in the Press but no one answered.

I can hardly believe that the uncivilized tribes in some parts of this world would throw away their animals or children, but we have a class here that does it. There should be a law to arrest such people.

Wants Children to Play in Safety of Backyard

Now that vacation time is near for hundreds of Pontiac children watch the trouble start in various neighborhoods as to where boys and girls can play and can't play.

We have two or three people in my vicinity who call the police every time a child steps on their property. We know there are parks to play in but I for one want my two children where I can keep track of them.

If they play in our back yard they hear about it if they bat a ball in the neighbor's yard. What are we to do about such a situation?

Case Records of a Psychologist

Urges Parents Not to Make Great Fuss If Child Refuses to Eat Certain Food

Table psychology is fascinating. But don't let youngsters like Donna make theatrical slaves out of you parents. And don't show worry or apprehension when they go on a outbluff you parents. They'll eat if you casually ignore them. They seldom skip more than one meal.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-328: Donna B., aged 1½, is getting her Daddy alarmed.

"Dr. Crane, she doesn't seem to like solid foods," he protested, "but still wants to nurse at the bottle.

"I've helped my wife try to feed her other foods with a spoon, but she just turns her head and spits out the gruel or potatoes, etc.

"Why, she will not taste meat. Why doesn't she enjoy meat and other foods the way I do?"

The delight in foods is chiefly a learned reaction. Newborn babies apparently have very little fondness for any food except sugar.

Beefsteak, fried chicken, oyster stew, or any of our other adult delicacies exert no charm over toddlers, or even grammar schoolers, until they have been taught to like these new food items.

"Why do my children turn up their noses at steak and fried chicken," many parents of school children, have asked, "yet show great fondness for hamburgers and hot dogs?"

Most of you parents have noted this same thing in your own youngsters. They'd rather have a hamburger than a T-bone steak, and that is no exaggeration.

David, our youngest child, would often give his initial order for five hamburgers when we'd dine at the restaurant, and he was a high schooler.

The waitress would look at him in shocked surprise. But he'd rather have his five hamburgers than chicken or steak.

So when you wish to initiate your baby to new foods, you must try to get him happy and smiling, for that generalized pleasure will ultimately become attached to the new food, whether it be spinach or egg or cod liver oil.

But don't give him too much of the new food item at the start. And praise him liberally. Keep him happy.

This is called "conditioning" in psychology. That word simply means that the general happiness of the child becomes linked to the new food that is casually slipped into his mouth at that same time.

By repetition, he ultimately thinks the food itself later tastes good. That's why children are so fond of hot dogs or hamburger sandwiches.

For they encountered them originally at picnics where the kids were elated and footloose and happy. That mood becomes linked with such foods.

Some doting parents make too great a fuss over their youngster at the high chair, so he refuses to eat thereafter until they again go through their theatrical performance.

Serve your child his food. Be casual. If he doesen't eat, clear the table and ignore the situation. He'll not starve himself long.

But he'll try to outbluff you doting parents and make you table slaves if you aren't careful.

Was Any Ulterior Motive Behind the Fisher Stab?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph N. Welch, 64-year-old special counsel for the Army, walked out of the Army-McCarthy hearing and wept. He had just found he was playing in a league too rough for him.

He had been a Boston trial lawyer 35 years. But even experience like that, it seemed now, had not prepared him for a Senate hearing like this or an encounter with Sen. McCarthy.

* * *

Only a moment before he had provided the emotional high moment of the hearing with a denunciation of McCarthy in a voice so choked he seemed like a man speaking through tears. He held the tears until he got outside the room.

* * *

McCarthy had just attacked him and a young lawyer, Frederick G. Fisher, who works for Welch's firm. The audience in the hearing room gave Welch unrestrained applause. What the television audience thought is unknown.

That was the emotional side of what happened. But looked at coldly, as an experienced trial lawyer like Welch himself might look at it if someone else had been sitting in his place, what was the practical side of this memorable moment?

The people who like McCarthy will probably remain undisturbed by Welch's grief and go on liking the senator. The people who dislike him will probably dislike him even more.

* * *

There was a central question which may have been obscured under the emotion: Did McCarthy have a purpose in his attack on Welch and Fisher? And did Welch fall for it?

* * *

Welch was cross-examining Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel of McCarthy's staff. Time and again in the past when Welch was pressing Cohn hard, McCarthy had come in to tackle Welch.

Each time it happened McCarthy diverted Welch's attention from Cohn. It was something Welch seldom did to McCarthy when the senator for days grilled Secretary of the Army Stevens although if he had, it would have given Stevens a rest.

It's a matter of opinion whether Welch was making much progress yesterday afternoon when he was digging into Cohn. But suddenly McCarthy moved in. Welch at once became so emotionally tangled with McCarthy he seemed to lose all thought of Cohn.

* * *

And when he had finished denouncing McCarthy he said he would not ask Cohn any more questions, that the Senate committee could call the next witness. This was McCarthy.

* * *

Welch had not drawn any startling disclosures from Cohn. But so long as he had him pinned in the witness chair, there was always the chance he might touch a soft spot. If McCarthy's attack was intended to get Welch off Cohn's back, he succeeded.

McCarthy himself is an expert hand at keeping a witness pinned to the chair. He did this to Stevens and to Army Counselor John G. Adams for days. His pressure paid off.

Adams disclosed for the first time high officials in the Eisenhower administration had advised the Army in its dealings with McCarthy. McCarthy made quick capital of it and kept the hearings attention focused on this episode for a week.

* * *

The McCarthy attack went this way: he accused Welch of trying to "foist" off on the Senate subcommittee conducting the hearings a former member of the National Lawyers Guild — Fisher.

* * *

Welch said he did not find out until after he brought Fisher down here to help him in this case that the young man had been a member of the guild at Harvard Law School and a few months thereafter. Then, Welch said, he sent Fisher back to Boston so this matter would not get dragged into the hearing.

The Lawyers Guild has denied charges it's a Communist front, first officially made by the House Un-American Activities Committee in September 1950. Welch's firm has said Fisher resigned from the guild in early 1950.

In U. S. Beriberi, Nerves Are Affected by Degeneration and Not Inflammation

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

A recent talk on beri-beri in the United States was, I daresay, scientific, interesting and informative (ugh, what cheek!).

But it had an unsatisfactory ending, for I gave what Bicknell & Prescott ("The Vitamins in Medicine") call the clinical picture of beriberi:

Ascending, symmetrical, bilateral, peripheral neuritis.

Ascending—first there is a burning sensation in the soles of the feet and numbness of the top of the foot with weakness in the ankle (footdrop, steppage gait, toedrop, danglefoot). Months later the weakness spreads upward to the calf muscles . . .

Symmetrical—none of the symptoms is localized in one foot or leg or one side — both sides are involved.

Bilateral — difto — the word just sounds good to the doctor using it.

Peripheral — the symptoms are in the legs, later in the arms, or at the surface where they are apparent to any one, not deep within the body.

Neuritis—inflammation of nerve or nerves. This is not so. Inflammation of nerves is no more characteristic of beriberi, than inflammation of joints is of ordinary chronic rheumatiz.

What really happens to nerves in American beriberi is degeneration, not inflammation. One with beriberi is as likely as anyone else to have neuritis, but beriberi does not manifest itself as "ascending, symmetrical, bilateral, peripheral" or as multiple neuritis or polyneuritis.

Unless my training in pathology is wrong there is a good deal of difference between chronic inflammation and physical degeneration.

I also believe the bad habit of calling degeneration of joint tissues "arthritis" tends to obscure the fact that the trouble is in most instances physical degeneration due to lifelong nutritional deficiency, chiefly calcium and vitamin D deficiency.

Therefore it is more or less amenable to correction of the nutritional deficiency in the future (if you want to know more ask in writing for pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz and incluse stamped, self addressed envelope).

So I believe the bad habit of calling beriberi "neuritis" tends to obscure the fact that the trouble is essentially nerve degeneration due to prolonged deficiency of vitamin B1 in the diet, and therefore it may be prevented or remedied by an optimal daily ration of vitamin B for a year or so.

Thereafter an adequate daily ration of B is needed for as long as one cares to keep in fine fettle.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed.

South Looking for Loopholes

9 Governors Assemble to Find Way of Beating Segregation Ban

RICHMOND, Va. (INS)—A new line of defense to preserve the South's traditional policy of racial segregation is being sought today in the one-time capital of the Confederacy.

Nine Southern governors and other state officials from below the Mason-Dixon line are gathered in Richmond to discuss the recent U. S. Supreme Court decision abolishing separate public schools for Negroes and whites.

Most of the governors agreed that action of the high tribunal has left them without their time-tested defense of segregation through Constitutional Law.

Except for Gov. William C. Marland, of West Viriginia, the executives attending the day-long, unofficial session expressed hope they still can maintain racial separation through legal administrative procedures despite the court ruling.

Marland, an early arrival for the get-together, said that West Virginia intends to comply fully with the court decision. He added:

"I came to Richmond hopeful I can get some ideas to make it easier to integrate the schools from an administrative viewpoint."

Gov. Robert Kennon, of Lousiana came in Wednesday night and, in contrast to the West Virginian, declared that the dual school system for white and Negro pupils will be maintained in Louisiana.

"What we are looking for here," according to Kennon, "are ways and means to accomplish this within the law."

Would-Be Tarzan Saved After Leap at Rope Fails

MIDDLEVILLE (AP) — Terry McDonald, 11, who couldn't swim, tried a Tarzan-like leap for a rope dangling from a tree on the bank of the Thornapple River Wednesday. He missed and toppled into the water.

But Frank Poisal, 12, leaped in and kept Terry afloat until Jack Finkbeiner, 16, pulled them both out.

Collie Stuck in Culvert and Rabbit Gets Away

CARLETON (INS)—It took Monroe County Road Commission workers two hours last night to free Lassie, a half-grown Collie, from a 300-foot-long culvert near the home of his owner, Roy Warner of Carleton. Lassie was stuck at a bend in the 15-inch pipe and the rabbit got away.

School Board Approves 600 Teachers' Contracts

Pontiac Board of Education okayed some 600 teachers' contracts, set aside $3,520 for new bookkeeping machines and authorized the annual audit of school records Wednesday night.

Board members met in school offices, 40 Patterson St., for their regular June session.

The new machines, a payroll machine and check cutter-signer, were authorized after the board learned Vernon L. Schiller, school treasurer, has had to do school bookkeeping nights and Saturdays. The payroll machine he has to use for bookeeping is busy during the day, Schiller said.

The school treasurer says with the new machines he hopes to have more time to supervise certain school accounts. "For instance, there are about 15 school cafeterias, each one running independently, whose records are never audited," he said.

The board authorized Ernst and Ernst to do the annual outside audit of the school system's books for $1,600.

School board members gave J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent, an $11,000 contract for next year and a $500 bonus for the double work load he's carried in the absence of retiring Supt. Frank J. DuFrain.

The board gave Francis W. Staley, Eastern Junior High principal, an extra month's salary for hiring teachers and gave his secretary a $100 bonus for the extra work Staley's added duties caused her.

Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department again got permission to use school buses to take children to and from summer recreation projects, such as Frog Hollow Day Camp. The city furnishes gas, oil, insurance and drivers.

Letters from Webster PTA and Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce supported the 10-year school tax program being proposed to Pontiac voters in Monday's school election.

Board president Glenn H. Griffin commented several architects had asked to talk to the board about new ideas in school building.

"I've told them," he said, "that our future depends on this election Monday. If the tax program passes, we'll give them time at some future board meeting."

Schoolmen point out that if the program is voted down, there won't be any school building program.

Average GI Fired 50,000 Rounds to Kill 1 Commie

WASHINGTON (AP)—It took 50,000 rounds of small-arms fire to kill one Red Chinese soldier in the Korean War.

Lt. Col. Walter J. Fellenz, chairman of the Small Arms Committee at the Army's Infantry School at Ft. Benning, Ga., considers this something of a national disgrace.

With other members of an Army-civilian research team, he helped figure out the firing effectiveness in Korea. In contrast, he points out a Confederate rifleman at the Battle of Chicamauga averaged only about 208 rounds to knock off a Yankee.

Obviously the former history instructor at West Point says, "something is wrong, for the weapons we have today are far superior to the musket."

* * *

Fellenz, who fought in Europe and Korea, feels strongly that if you aim at something you should hit it, thereby saving lives for your side, shortening the war and saving taxpayers money.

One of the reasons Fellenz believes so much ammunition was wasted in Korea was the character of the fighting—much of it at night.

He is convinced that the Oriental can see much better at night than the Occidental, who long has been accustomed to artificial light whether candles, incandescent bulbs or fluorescent tubes.

* * *

Furthermore, he has concluded the Westerner just doesn't like to fight at night. This, he believes, is the result of centuries of training in sportsmanship, growing out of the age of chivalry, when knight warfare ruled out night warfare.

Fellenz says the Oriental is a practical man who hits the enemy when and where he can with the least danger to himself.

"In Korea," he says, "the Allies had superiority with artillery and they also had air supremacy. The Chinaman and the North Korean learned very quickly that if they stuck their heads up in daylight they were going to have their scalps parted.

* * *

"So what did they do? They scouted around to see what they had that we didn't. It was night vision."

Fellenz says that while Americans learned a lot about night fighting in the Pacific during World War II, they didn't bother to get it down on paper for future reference.

The troops in Korea, he says, had to learn it all over again.

Fellenz is engaged at Ft. Benning in teaching soldiers how to shoot at night. Its quite a trick.

Vision experts long have known that at night you do not see in a straight line. Objects appear to the right or left of where they really are. A target will fade away completely if you close one eye and try to aim.

* * *

One trick is to keep both eyes open and the head high so that you can see the muzzle of your rifle and the apparent target in line.

The common error of night fighting, Fellenz says, is to fire three to six feet too high and to the left. His remedy:

"Drill our people into making compensation for night shooting until it becomes as instinctive as the cowboy shooting from the hip."

* * *

Fellenz, who came to Washington recently to help set up the National Rifle Assn.'s big shoot at Camp Perry, Ohio, says that a majority of the troops taking the night-firing course for the first time, even Korean combat veterans, will not hit the target at all.

A man with exceptional night vision may get as many as six hits out of 16 shots on the black target.

At the end of the course of instruction the number of hits will average somewhere between 10 and 14 out of 16 rounds.

Taking Off for the Moon Should Be Done Slowly

CINCINNATI, Ohio (UP) — Prof. Bradley Jones of the University of Cincinnati's aeronautical engineering department warns anyone planning a rocket trip to the moon to take off from the earth slowly.

"A projectile going through the earth's atmosphere at even a fraction of 6.9 miles per second — the rate of 'escape' velocity — would be heated by air friction to a temperature unbearable to human occupants," Jones said.

House to Extend Tariff Powers

2 Committees Speeding to Give Ike Authority to Lower Barriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two House committees set a fast course today for a bill to extend for another year President Eisenhower's power to lower U.S. tariffs in agreements with other nations which lower theirs.

• • •

Known as the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, the law which the House bill would keep in effect is presently scheduled to expire at midnight Saturday.

House leaders want to get the extension bill to the Senate in time for action there next week if possible. While that would be after the deadline, a temporary lapse of the 20-year-old law would not affect reciprocal trade agreements already on the books.

Eisenhower originally had requested a three-year extension of the controversial program in line with recommendations of a special commission on foreign economic policy headed by Clarence B. Randall, president of Inland Steel Co. The President later backed away from the three-year request now and asked instead for the shorter extension in order, he said, to give the House Ways and Means Committee more time for a longer look at the over-all program, with action next year.

• • •

This committee called a morning session to approve the one-year extension provided for in a bill introduced this week by Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-NY).

The Rules Committee, meanwhile, docketed an afternoon session to send the measure to the House floor under procedure barring all amendments. Without such Rules Committee protection, the bill would be subjected to a barrage of amendments which could keep it before the House for weeks.

Speaker Martin (R-Mass) predicted that the House would overwhelmingly approve the one-year extension.

American Rice Causing Diarrhea Among Japs

TOKYO (AP)—Kyodo news agency said today the government plans stricter inspection of American rice because Japanese eating it were developing diarrhea.

The illness is brought on by morning glory seeds found mixed with the rice, Kyodo said.

Population 161,969,000, Higher Than Estimate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau says the nation's population, including armed forces overseas, was about 161,969,000 on May 1. This was an increase of 2,767,000, or 1.7 per cent over the estimate at the beginning of May a year earlier.

'Grocery Store' Steams From U.S. to Alaska Port

PORTLAND, Ore. (UP) — A "floating grocery store" operates between Portland and Ketchikan, Alaska.

R. E. Gearhart and J. H. Marshall organized the Alaska States Shipping Co. and chartered the 96-foot motorship Dorothy for their "store."

They load the ship with fresh produce, meats and milk, bought from Oregon growers and jobbers, and take it to Ketchikan where it is sold. About 150 tons of food are carried to the Alaskan community.

Gearheart said they plan to bring back fresh and canned fish for sale in this country.

The Dorothy is outfitted with blowers to keep the produce fresh.

Won't Wait for Judge

SANTA FE, N. M. (INS) — A Santa Fe, N. M., prisoner apparently became tired of waiting for a tardy judge and decided to leave—without a trial. Santa Fe police said Lafayette Barela was one of 30 prisoners waiting for trial in Judge Joe Berardinelli's police court. Police said Barela apparently walked out of the courtroom with a group of spectators.

With an area of about 386,000 square miles, Eygpt is more than three times the size of the British isles.

School Days, School Days! Happy Days for Mothers

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
International News Service

"No more pencils, no more books, no more teacher's dirty looks"—This familiar chant of emancipation will soon rend the air of the nation.

To its happy little tune, millions of innocent mothers will start their tough annual assignment of "having the kids underfoot all day."

Compulsory education may be underestimated and unappreciated for about nine months of the year, but come June and it becomes the most sorely missed mother's helper in the land.

On rainy days from now till September. "Mom, what'll I do next?" will be asked every hour on the hour, and the patter of little feet and big hassles between brothers and sisters will vibrate against maternal eardrums from Maine to California.

"Go outside and play," "You haven't had a whiff of fresh air all day," and "Can't you see I'm busy?" will again become national catchwords, and American tension will rise as a result of this shift in the weekday ground - rules.

"Can't I stay up a half hour longer? There's no school tomorrow" is another refrain every kid in the U.S.A. learns by the end of the third grade.

Cut fingers, skinned knees, torn blue jeans and nice black shiners are coming into season too, as well as hives, sunburn, mosquito bites and poison ivy — each of which is always timed to keep Mom from getting the cake out of the oven before it scorches.

At my house, though my teenage son is in bondage for another week, my 12-year-old has been "at leisure" since Friday.

Already we've had some exchanges of sophisticated dialogue I've been informed that at 12, bicycles are too corny, roller-skating just kid's stuff, and going over to a best friend's house a real dumb deal.

By some miracle I can't possibly deserve, television has never been a problem, but knowing that a boy is "just reading" for five hours in a row can roil maternal nerves too.

I'll adjust soon, of course I will. Each summer for years I've slowly got used to crowds of reading sons, have learned to step over prostrate bodies on the floor during the playing of records, and to answer softly when I'm piteously asked, "Could I have my allowance now instead of Saturday?"

I don't know why mother love comes so much easier from September onward, but no mother I know ever agrees with her kids that vacations are too short.

Boy, Girl Given Blood to Prepare for Exercise

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—John and Theresa Ciccone received blood transfusions yesterday to be ready for high school graduation exercises next week.

For John, 20, it was his 451st transfusion. His 19-year-old sister received her 401st.

The Ciccones were born with a rare blood disease known as Mediterranean anemia which hampers the production of red blood cells. The only known treatment for the disease is blood transfusion.

2-Year-Old Badly Hurt by Playmate's Prank

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—A playmate, 8, gave a firecracker to 2-year-old Bobby Hughes yesterday, telling him it was a cigar. When Bobby lit it, it blew up in his mouth.

He was in serious condition in Gregg Memorial Hospital.

The queenly pearl is the only precious gem to come from the sea, and the only one produced by a living process.

Nagging Wives Don't Help Our 4 Million Alcoholics

(Editor's Note: Families of the estimated 4,000,000 alcoholics in the United States are getting increased attention from experts who believe that answering a relative's question, "What can I do to help?" is one of the most important steps in combatting the disease. The following is the first of two stories on the alcohol problem.)

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK (UP)—The worst conversation a wife can have with a husband who is drinking heavily and steadily sounds something like this:

"John, you're spending all our money on your drinking and the extravagant things you do when you drink . . . you've missed two promotions at the office . . . you've made a wreck of me . . . you're ruining your health, you look terrible."

That is the opinion of Evlin Gardner, associate director of the National Committee on Alcoholism, an information center which now has branch offices in some 60 cities.

The organization, and a steadily increasing number of other social welfare sources, are deeply interested in giving expert advice to the wives—and husbands—of the estimated 4,000,000 alcoholics in the United States.

"John knows all this," Gardner said. "It's like twisting a knife. He is beginning to drink now to forget the trouble his drinking already has caused him."

Men like John will rationalize, Gardner said, usually on the basis of their incomes.

"I've seen hundreds of men whose wives are ready to leave them and whose children are seriously affected by their drinking who say, 'Why, I made more money than any man on my street last year—how could I be an alcholic?'" Gardner said in an interview in the committee's office at the New York Academy of Medicince.

The answer is that alcohol almost always affects the job last. First comes the home, the family . . . the hobbies.

Gardner emphasizes that authorities don't want to make every housewife an expert on alcoholism, but he gives this advice:

"First a wife should talk over her worries with a social worker or a counselor to see if they are groundless. A man can be a heavy drinker over a period of years, yet not increase his consumption, and he probably never will be an alcoholic.

"The key phase between the early stages of social drinking and the danger point is when the wife realizes, 'You're not the man I married.'

"The first signs of personality change comes at home when a man begins to take less interest in the house and children."

Nagging, sulking, hiding the liquor or pouring it down the drain, all these are useless, Gardner said.

"A wife must realize she is fighting a disease. She should wait for a time when there is no tension, and when her husband has not been drinking, and then try unemotionally to tell him that she has been worried and that she has gotten some information.

"She should point out that the relationship in their home life has been changing because of his drinking, and that the information she has indicates that this is a sign of serious trouble ahead.

A man who has pride in being able to 'drink like a gentleman' can be reached only by keeping the conversation on a plane of accepting information."

Gardner agreed that even this tactful approach often "brings a reaction of extreme resentment." But if it is tried early enough, "Seldom does it fail to arouse the interest and curiosity of the drinker."

"The path from the casual drinker to the alcoholic is clearly marked with signals," he said. "It is important for the drinker to realize that the early signposts are the first symptoms of a disease. It is at this stage that the wife should try to help—while her husband can stop drinking without serious trouble."

Conferences with worried relatives are commonplace at the information centers in various cities established through the work of the national committee, where the calm approach of the counselors, like Gardner, comforts over-wrought wives and husbands.

"A man can be a potential problem drinker long before he reaches the point of needing a drink in the morning or of drinking alone," Gardner said.

"When he reaches the stage of social drinking where he can no longer just sit in the living room and enjoy the conversation and sip a drink . . . when he can't wait for the slow pokes to catch up with him and has to slip out to the kitchen for one or two quick drinks there and to refill his glass . . . it's time for him to take stock."

Marble Plaque to Mark Ski Lift Anniversary

WOODSTOCK, Vt. (UP) — A marble plaque has been unveiled marking the 20th anniversary of the establishment of the first ski tow in the United States.

Robert Bourdon of Woodstock, who two decades ago became the first person to ascend a ski slope by mechanical means in this country, watched as the plaque was unveiled.

Texas' state capitol has more than 400 rooms and 18 acres of floor space.

Colgate U. Has Name Which Is Official Now

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP) — It's official now — Colgate University is no longer Madison University.

The name of the university was changed by court order in 1890, but the laws of 1846 establishing the school as Madison University were left unchanged.

The 1954 session of the state legislature finally brushed the cobwebs off the old statute and approved an amendment changing the university's name.

Driver Talks His Way Into Drunk Driving Count

NORWICH, Conn. (UP) — The more Chester Sproski talked, the more he got into trouble.

First, he was picked up on a charge of evading responsibility after a traffic accident. He explained that his brakes were bad, so he was charged with driving with defective equipment. He argued about it and got slapped with a resisting-arrest charge. Then he said it was all a big mistake, his brakes weren't bad at all.

"I was just plain drunk," he said. The final charge was drunk driving.

GI Can't Get Wife Into U.S.

Alien Spouse Stranded in Canada; Family Dog Allowed to Re-enter

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A National Guardsman who sent his wife to stay with her mother in Europe while he went to serve in Korea says he hasn't been able to get her readmitted to this country. His wife is not an American citizen.

She's now stranded in Niagara Falls, Canada, says Charles Irvine, 31, who commands Battery C, 708th Antiaircraft Artillery Battalion of the National Guard.

After returning from Korea, he says, he wrote his wife Lori to come home. She had been with her mother, Mrs. Arthur Mullin, a British subject, in Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany.

* * *

"Last month she and our son, and our dog, arrived in Montreal," Irvine said. "I went up to bring them back. And, by golly, the immigration officials said she couldn't come in on a visitor's visa.

"I didn't know what to think but they wanted papers about our marriage, papers about everything. Hell, I just gave up and came back home."

He said he was "getting damned mad."

* * *

"I guess it's just because of red tape but it's difficult to understand that kind of red tape. I have my dog but my wife and child are in Niagara Falls, Canada. How about that!"

Irvine met his wife while serving in Europe during World War II. He said after the war he returned to Europe and they were married in 1950 at South Sea, England.

"We got a visitor's visa for my wife and entered the U. S. with no trouble at all," he said.

* * *

He was shipped to Korea in 1951 after service in the reserve.

"I hardly knew what to do," he said. "Here I was going to get in the shooting again. So I sent my wife and son to live with her mother."

There was no immediate comment from immigration officials on the present difficulty.

25-Year-Old Expectant Mother Freed by Judge

FLINT (INS) — A 60-day sentence imposed on Mrs. June M. Rodgers, 25-year-old expectant mother of twins, was canceled yesterday by Circuit Judge Phillip Elliott.

Mrs. Rodgers was released under a promise to make restitution for 16 checks totaling $645 she had written to beguile her husband into believing she was working.

Red Dictatorship Pales Hitler's

Adenauer Tells Press He Hates Soviets More Than Nazis

BONN (INS) — West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer told American World War II Correspondents today that "the Russian dictatorship is even grimmer than the Nazi one which I detested with all may soul."

Adenauer, who said he will visit the United States in October, spoke for an hour to the group of former war correspondents who went to Normandy last weekend on the 10th anniversary of the Allied landings and then visited Berlin before going to Bonn.

"The Russians only respect strength," said Adenauer, "and the only hope of a free world is strength and unity.

"You saw East Berlin and now have a better impression of the terrible dictatorship that has gained a hold over Europe.

"It is stronger and even more cruel than that of Hitler.

Now you have some idea of the danger confronting the free people of the world today.

"I hope, by God, that you will never have to continue your work as war correspondents."

The 78-year old Adenauer will journey to the United States this fall to accept an honorary degree from Columbia University and also to see President Eisenhower and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Man, 80, Drowns

ANN ARBOR (INS) — Eighty-year-old Harry Hanson fell into the Huron River while walking on the bank and drowned yesterday. Rescue attempts by a passerby, Clarence Haley, were futile.

Grandma Ready to Get Degree After 42 Years

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mrs. Irene Thomas, a shy, 62-year-old grandmother who says "I'm a pretty old lady for this kind of thing," is going to get a college degree next Wednesday—after 42 years of off-and-on study.

She first registered at Western Reserve University in 1912 as a candidate for a one-year certificate in library work.

Accomplishing that, she started work in city libraries.

She returned to the university in 1926 and started taking courses to take her "mind off" troubles she says cropped up after leaving school.

In 1949 she had almost enough credits for a bachelor of arts degree and took a few required courses.

Now she is ready to graduate.

Bennington Explosion Death Toll Hits 103

QUONSET POINT, R. I. (INS)—The death toll rose to 103 today from the explosion and fire that ripped the giant aircraft carrier Bennington off the Rhode Island coast on May 26.

Latest victim is Lt. Frank M. Wells, of Tuente, Calif. His next of kin is listed as his wife, Dianna.

Lt. Wells died at Newport Naval Hospital.

The Bennington, meanwhile, was en route to Brooklyn, N. Y., Navy Yard, via Bayonne, N. J., for repairs. A Naval Board of Inquiry is in recess.

Cross-Country Jet Plane Race to End at Detroit

DETROIT (UP) — America's first cross-country jet plane race—a possible 650-mile-an-hour business—is ticketed to wind up at Detroit.

The plan, announced by the Air Force Assn. Wednesday, is to have an Air National Guard race in connection with the 7th annual International Aviation Exposition at Wayne-Major Airport here July 24-25.

The race, starring the F86 Sabre Jet, would be from Los Angeles to Detroit.

Before the race can be recognized officially for participation by the Air Guard, it must be approved by the Air Force and the Defense Department.

Air Guard units throughout the country would nominate outstanding fliers. Six then would be chosen for the race.

An Air Guard spokesman said details would not be worked out until all Guard wings have had a chance to express their feelings on the idea. If this is favorable, the race then will be formally proposed to the Air force.

Traffic Accidents Kill 2 Today in Detroit Area

DETROIT (UP) — Traffic mishaps killed two Detroit area residents today.

Thomas J. Cotter, 42, a Detroit school teacher residing in Dearborn, was killed when his car swerved off a Dearborn street and hit a tree. Urban Mazur, 68, of Melvindale, was fatally injured when struck by a car while crossing a Melvindale street.

Fatally Hurt by Truck

LANSING (UP) — Charles Sharp, 38, of Dewitt, was fatally injured yesterday when struck by a truck on Lansing's northeastern outskirts.

Sheriff Plans to Retire

CHARLEVOIX (UP) — Charlevoix County Sheriff Floyd W. Ikens, after 22 years on the job will retire Dec. 31. His announcement that he will not be a candidate for reelection this fall leaves the race to four candidates, one of whom is his son, Glen C. Ikens.

Country Club Manager to Be Buried Tomorrow

PETOSKEY (UP) — Funeral service will be held Friday for Clarence P. Murphy, 45, general manager of the Bay View Country Club, who died unexpectedly Tuesday night.

Murphy also operated a restaurant in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and formerly was a member of the Michigan Department of Revenue in Lansing.

Girl Driver Flips Jeep, Gets Brain Concussion

A 14-year-old Independence Township girl is reported in fair condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with a brain concussion suffered when the jeep she was driving Wednesday overturned near her home.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Jan Fortin, of 9770 Sashabaw Rd., apparently lost control of the vehicle in a gravel section of the road. She was alone.

BASEMENT CLASSROOM—This Baldwin School class is one of 15 held in school basements throughout Pontiac School District as students crowd into all available space. J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, says basement rooms generally are classed as "undesirable" because of high windows, poor ventilation and a "confined feeling."

BAGLEY'S "ANNEX"—Sixty youngsters crowded out of Bagley School are attending classes in a small building across the street loaned by St. Vincent De Paul Church. Pontiac Public school officials will ask voters Monday for a 10-year tax program to pay for new buildings and help pay operating costs. In the meantime, school men say, the city's schools are jammed to the limit. An approval on the tax, they say, wouldn't do away with the "undesirable" classrooms now in use but would take care of additional students entering school in the next few years.

'Let Your Colors Show' Slogan for Flag Day

The display of an American flag from every home in Pontiac next Monday is the aim of a 10-man Americanism Committee from Pontiac Elks Lodge 810.

"The city will be divided into sectors and each committee member will patrol his area to choose the best displayed flag," according to committee chairman Lynn D. Allen.

Service groups throughout the city will assist us by forwarding tips on unusually displayed flags, Allen said, and the committee will then choose one homeowner to receive a prize for his flag display.

"Let Your Colors Show" is the committee's slogan for Flag Day. Committee members Clifford Maison, Leo Halfpenny, Robert Morris, Lorne Swartz, Albert Games, Gordon Hayter, Raymond Mumby Jr., Leo Buckley and Roman Griuilla, will comprise the inspection team.

An additional program in honor of Flag Day will be held in the Elks Temple at 114 Orchard Lake Ave. on Wednesday, beginning at 6:30 p. m.

All persons in Oakland County admitted to citizenship since last June will be invited to attend a dinner at the Temple and Rep. George A. Dondero of the 18th District will be guest speaker.

His topic will deal with Americanism, as it applies to the Flag, and the effect of the St. Lawrence Seaway on Oakland County.

Allen said about 400 persons are expected to attend the dinner, including approximately 80 new citizens.

"LOOKS PRETTY SMALL"—Miss Margaret Luther, Whitfield School principal and J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent of Pontiac Public Schools, try to decide how to squeeze 30 youngsters into a 16 by 20 foot room—only two-thirds the regular classroom size. Whitfield will have to use two such rooms for classes in September. One is the school's only library.

Schools Report Insurance Deals

Award Injury and Bus Coverage; Parents Like World's Pay Record

Workmen's compensation and fleet insurance for Pontiac School District were awarded Michigan Mutual Liability Co. and Pontiac Association of Insurance Wednesday.

Mutual's offer to insure the school district against workmen's on-the-job injuries for a premium of $6,150.25 was the lowest of four offers to Pontiac Board of Education.

Pontiac Insurance Association's premium for covering the fleet of school cars and buses was $799.23.

J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent of schools, reported parents and teachers are "very satisfied" with World Insurance Co.'s payment record in its first year.

The insurance company charges $1.25 each to insure children and teachers against injuries between home and school within an hour of the time school starts and ends.

Low-cost premium is possible because of the big number of customers, Cox said.

Cox reported parents have asked the company to pay 149 claims. The company has paid 92 in full; partially paid another; refused three; and has 52 cases pending.

Average payment was $27.82, Cox said, although payments ranged from $3 to $200.

2 Candidates in Race, Cleary Due to File

LANSING (AP) — Two canddates for governor have filed their nominating petitions and a third will file late today.

The first to file was Donald S. Leonard, of Detroit, former State Police and Detroit Police commissioner, who seeks the Republican nomination at the Aug. 3 primary election.

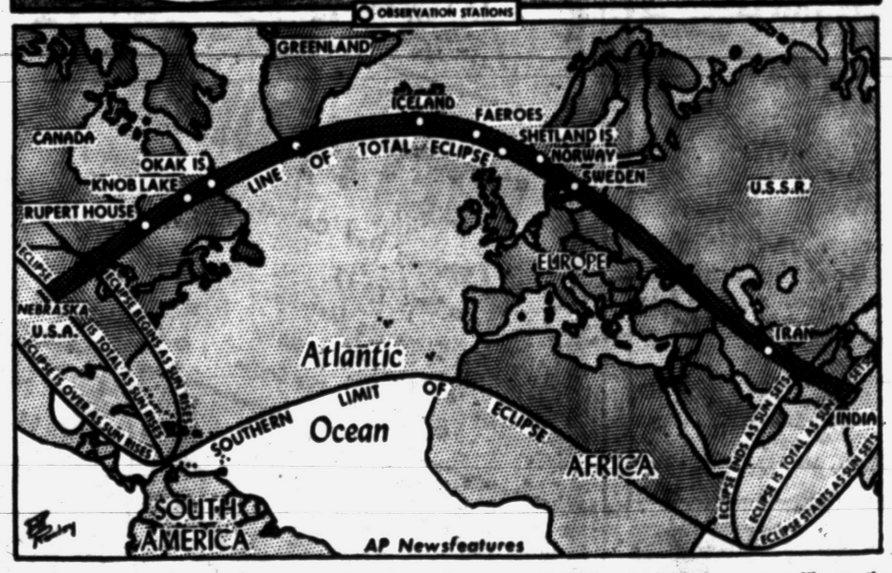
Gov. Williams, the sole Democratic candidate yet announced, filed a short time later.

Sec. of State Owne J. Cleary, another Republican candidate, will file late today.

Rattler Ruins Workers, Reptile Ruined Rapidly

STROUD, Okla. (AP)—Troopers Art Phelps and Mayes Lowery, answering an emergency call to the maintenance headquarters of the Turner Turnpike yesterday, arrived to find a six-foot rattlesnake holding a turnpike crew at bay.

Lowery shot the rattler's head off with his service pistol. Workers then reached their equipment and operations were resumed.



ECLIPSE ROUTE—The top photo shows what happens during a total eclipse. In the lower photo, the route of the June 30 phenomenon is traced. Only persons within the area of the route will see the eclipse, astronomrs say.

Partly Visible Here at Dawn

25-Mile Wide Swath of Darkness to Stretch Across Midwest

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter

Nature stages an impressive blackout June 30—a total eclipse of the sun.

It will be the last chance in this 20th Century for many Americans to see one of these celestial shows as the moon blocks the sun. And they'll have to get up early.

Only those living in a narrow band of land from Nebraska to Lake Superior will see the total blackout of the sun, with day turned to night soon after sunrise. But millions more will be able to see from half to 90 per cent of the sun bitten by the moon.

A total eclipse of the sun will touch in Maine in 1963, another in Florida in 1970, and a third will barely kiss the Pacific Northwest in 1979.

The June 30 eclipse begins at sunrise near O'Neill in Holt County of northeastern Nebraska. The shadow of the moon will fall upon the earth and travel northeastward at a speed of 3,000 miles an hour.

The dark path of totality will measure about 75 miles wide, and just about its center will pass over Minneapolis, then speed out across Lake Superior. It swings through Canada, Labrador, the southern tip of Greenland, Iceland, and the Faeroe Islands, Norway, Sweden, Russia, and Pakistan.

The prize part of the show is to see the moon covering the full face of the sun. At this total coverage, observers will see the corona, the sun's outer shell of gas, which normally is invisible. But at total eclipse, the corona glows yellow and pearly white. Around the rim of the sun will be red, jet like tongues of incandescent hydrogen gas.

Millions of Americans will be able to see part of the diming sun if they peek soon after sunrise in their localities.

And here's a warning from astronomers—don't try to look without smoked or black glasses, or exposed and developed negative films.

The first total eclipse of the sun for the United States since 1945, the event is a beautiful spectacle for those lucky enough to be in the path of totality. Scientifically, the eclipses are very valuable, and teams of astronomers will make studies from selected sites on land, or from the air.

One important project is to use the eclipse to learn more accurately distances between North America and Europe. The exact instant of totality will be timed at sites established in North America, Europe and the East. Since the speed of the moon's shadow is known, distances between the continents then can be measured with great precision.

Seniors' President Claims Schools Here Can Stand No More Crowding

"Our schools are doing a fine job with what they have—but they can't take any more crowding.

HOLLAND

That's the feeling of H. Russel Holland Jr., president of Pontiac High School's June graduating class, who thinks his classmates would give Pontiac Public Schools a vote of confidence.

Pontiac Board of Education is hoping for an official vote of confidence from voters in the school election Monday.

On the ballot is a proposal that would let the board raise school taxes 6.25 mills above the 15-mill tax limit from 1955-1957 and 8.75 mills above it from 1958-1964.

The tax program would provide at least $9,000,000 to build a new 48-room high school, 48 more junior high classrooms, 100 grade school classrooms and a dozen or so "multi-purpose" rooms that can be used as gyms, cafeterias or auditoriums.

Schoolmen say it would also raise enough money to help pay day-to-day running costs so the school system could keep its present full-day-of-class program without running in the red.

They say the cost to the owner of an average home (one assessed at about $3,000) would run $13 or $14 a year, since one voted tax now being levied ends this year and another stops in 1957.

Holland feels that the school district needs some new buildings to take care of enrollment growth. Pontiac High's new addition with the labs, cafeteria and music rooms created some 16 classrooms in the older building," he said. "These are already in use.

"Our English classes are crowded now—we're often running 25 or more to a room. Teachers do the best they can, but it's hard for them to help with each person's problems within the one hour a day that we're there."

Young Holland says Washington Junior High rooms were getting pretty crowded" when he went there a few years ago.

Schoolmen have said that if the tax increase doesn't pass, they'll soon have to put students on half-day session in Pontiac schools to keep within school income.

Holland doesn't like the idea.

"I can't speak for everybody about half-day sessions," he said. "But I know that in the work we've been trying to cover this year, I've needed all the time in class that I had. A shorter school day wouldn't help."

Intended Victim Feels Sorry, Helps Woman

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—A mother who pleaded guilty to attempted extortion not only has escaped jail but has been offered railroad fare home by her intended victim.

Mattie Mae Heath, 23, who has three small children, wept in court yesterday when Superior Judge Kenneth C. Newell granted her probation. And then she stared wide-eyed when the judge told her that R. W. Caspers, wealthy loan company executive, wanted to give her $100 for travel fare to Elgin, Ill.

It was Caspers, too, who had posted $2,500 bail for Mrs. Heath when she was arrested last March 7 with her husband Donald, 23. They were accused of trying to extort $10,000 from Caspers. Heath was sent to state prison for one to five years.

Wants Macfadden's Divorce Dropped

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Mary Williamson Macfadden wants Dade County Circuit Court to throw out a divorce granted physical culturist Bernarr Macfadden in 1946.

Mrs. Macfadden filed suit yesterday in which she contends that recently disclosed facts show his claim to Florida residence was false.

The divorced Mrs. Macfadden tried to stop Macfadden's marriage to Mrs. Jonnie Lee in 1948 when Macfadden was 80 and his bride 42.

Bay City Story Is Told in Steel Girders

By AL PELOQUIN
Bay City Times Staff Writer

Editor's note—Al Peloquin, staff writer of the Bay City Times, wrote the 10th in an Associated Press series on the accomplishments and problems of Michigan cities since the end of World War II.

BAY CITY (AP)—Bay City is nearing an end to the sometimes spectacular, sometimes lagging job of building for a future that promises more jobs and better living for a steadily growing population.

The story of postwar Bay City is told only partly in steel and concrete and in statistics of growth and improvements since 1945.

Equally important is the city's renewed interest in long-range planning, looking toward the day when the St. Lawrence Seaway is a reality and when the city must be ready for the quickening pace of industrial dispersal.

For Bay City can easily move up to become a major port on the Great Lakes. And it is strategically located just outside the defense "danger area" surrounding Detroit.

The city took its biggest single step forward in 1949. Voters approved a special four-mill school tax to finance a 15-year public school building program, on a "pay-as-you-go" basis.

Six new, modern grade schools are already constructed. A seventh is being built. When the program is finished in 1964, all 18 of the city's prewar schools will have been torn down, and replaced with new structures at a total cost of over $4,000,000.

Meanwhile, city government has spent more than $3,250,000 in improving and expanding its water system, including a long intake into nearby Saginaw Bay. The municipal electric utility has built four new substations, has plans for two more.

Consumers Power Co. has doubled its capacity at the John C. Weadock steam generating plant here, to make it the biggest single outstate source of electric energy in Michigan.

Prodded by a court order, the city is completing a $6,200,000 sewage disposal system. It will restore the city to the rank of one of the state's best outdoor recreational areas by eliminating pollution of Saginaw River and Bay.

The city is licking its traffic problems. A four-lane $4,792,000 bridge over the Saginaw River is about to be let to contract to end downtown traffic problems.

A 35-acre recreational center is being built in the heart of downtown Bay City, to include an outdoor swimming pool. A $750,000 YMCA is almost finished.

The city's hospital facilities were expanded recently by a major addition to Mercy Hospital. A new television station is in full swing.

River traffic continues to increase, and more foreign vessels are already docking. A $4,496,800 federal channel deepening project should be under way soon.

Miniature Radar Searches Space

ANN ARBOR (UP) — The Army Signal Corps can now probe space through means of a miniature radar transmitter shot 75 miles into the air in a rocket.

The method developed by engineers at the University of Michigan, involves dropping a four-foot, 50-pound nylon sphere thrugh space and measuring its rate of fall by the enclosed radar transmitter.

The sphere is carried in the rocket and then automatically released and inflated before beginning its return to earth. Precision tracking of the radar unit by ground radar stations gives information on upper air pressures, temperatures and winds.

The big advantage is that no recovery of the equipment is necessary and the data can be obtained regardless of surface weather conditions, said Leslie M. Jones, U. of M. research engineer.

Miss Japan, 1954, Picked to Compete in California

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—Miss Japan, 1954, is a dark-haired 18-year-old beauty who weighs only 101 pounds, Mieko Kondo of Nagoya.

Miss Kondo was named to represent Japan in this summer's Miss Universe contest at Long Beach, Calif., after a 3½ hour pageant of bathing suit and kimono-draped beauties here last night.

She stands 5 feet 1½ inches and measures 34-21-36 in the places where beauty queens are measured.

Bomb Flung at Home Burns Woman Badly

DETROIT (INS)—Detroit police today held four men for investigation of arson after a home made bomb seriously burned 68-year-old Mrs. Julia Williams.

Mrs. Williams was standing in an enclosed back porch of her home shortly before midnight when the bomb, believed to have contained gasoline, was thrown through a window. She is in serious condition.

Among those held are Mrs. Williams' son, Claude, 43; Calvin Heath, 28; Clayton Widemon, 45, and Charles Brown, 30.

Officers said the four men were engaged in an argument in front of the Williams home involving some money paid to the woman. Police said the four went away but one of them returned in a car through the alley and threw the bomb.

Cat Came for Dinner, Stayed to Ring Alarm

CLEVELAND (AP) — The cat that came to dinner and stayed to upset burglar alarms at the Lewis Machinery Co. got the gate.

Animal Protective League workers hauled off the orange colored tomcat yesterday after Tabby on three occasions summoned irate police by wandering past electric "eyes" during the night.

The cat first turned up two weeks ago, begging food from workers at lunchtime. After that he became a regular pest who didn't know when to go home.

Cows Stay in Barn, Don't Go to Pasture

SEAFORD, Del. (AP)—Herman J. Ockels can't very well turn his cows out to pasture, so he brings the pasture to them.

"And they're just lazy enough to like it," the Seaford farmer says of the silver platter treatment.

Ockels drives a forage harvester into the pasture, cuts a load of grass, brings it to the barns and serves it to the cows.

Ockels says the "lazy cow" idea conserves grass. Anyway, he doesn't have much choice. His farm is bordered on one side by the town of Seaford and on the other by a dual lane highway. He'd rather pamper his cows than have them risk injury by grazing.

SEA OF MATRIMONY — It'll take more than floods to stop this couple as they ride in an ox-drawn cart after a wedding ceremony in Siros, France. A swollen river inundated the community, but hip-booted guests forgot about the flood to toast Garbrielle Hourquet and Edouard Lalane at a party on the second floor, where all was safe.

Modern Men and Horses to Do Pony Express Stunt

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (INS) — Modern men will ride horses along old Pony Express routes next week to challenge a 94-year-old record set when President Lincoln's Inaugural Address was carried by horseback across the nation.

The event will highlight the 1954 National Junior Chamber of Commerce Convention starting June 14 in Colorado Springs. Modern-day counterparts of the old Pony-Express riders will be members of sheriff's posses of Ogden, Utah, and Kansas City, Kan.

One group will ride relay fashion from Ogden through Wyoming and southward into Colorado. The other group will travel across Kansas into Colorado.

The Kansas riders will cover 611 miles in an expected 55 hours. The riders from Utah plan to spend 57 hours traveling over 604 miles of rugged terrain.

The Pony Express record was set in 1860 when riders averaged 10.6 miles per hour in making a 1,996 mile trek in seven days and 17 hours.

The Ogden team hopes to average 12 miles an hour, while the Kansas team plans a rate of 11 miles per hour.

Each team will be composed of 25 horses and riders making the dash between relay stations along the routes. The relay stations will be simulated by hauling the relief horse by truck one or two hours ahead of the rider "carrying the mail."

Other trucks coming along behind will pick up the horse and rider and bring them on in to Colorado Springs. Relays in the original Pony Express were about 10 miles apart for horses, but they'll be much closer for the modern race since horses aren't as well conditioned.

The Kansas riders will be "ambushed" by Indians on the edge of Kansas City and plans call for the rescue of those attacked by other Pony Express riders.

The original Pony Express was started on April 3, 1860 when riders left St. Joseph, Mo., and Sacramento, Calif. the original Express had 190 stations and about 420 horses. The course was about 1,966 miles long.

The "Pony Express Rides Again" stunt for the Jaycee convention was the brainchild of Colorado Springs Jaycee Vaun Benjamin, who was once a reporter on a St. Joseph, Mo. newspaper. Benjamin presented the plan to Jaycee officials who adopted it enthusiastically.

Steelworkers Expect Pay Answer Today

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Top negotiators of U. S. Steel Corp. and the CIO United Steelworkers gathered today for a meeting at which big steel was expected to answer the union's contract demands.

The union is seeking an unspecified wage boost for the men who average between $2.14 and $2.24 an hour.

In addition, the union is requesting a guaranteed annual wage, improved pension and hospitalization programs and other contract changes.

Although today's talks concern only U. S. Steel, all the basic steel industry is keeping a close watch on the negotiations. All told there are some 600,000 USW members employed in basic steel. In past years U. S. Steel has usually set the pace for all steel companies.

Negotiations began May 18, recessing within a short time so the company could study union demands. Basic steel contracts expire June 30.

The pneumatic tire principle was patented in England in 1845 and two years later in the U. S.

ULTRA-MODERN CHURCH—New St. Albert Catholic Church, Saarbrucken, Germany, has chapel under open spire of concrete pillars and main building in background.

110-Degree Heat Daily Problem for New Delhi

NEW DELHI (AP)—More than a million people here live under conditions of desert heat for five months each year, and how they do it is a mystery even to many of them.

With summer temperatures flitting past the 110-degree mark day after day, life in New Delhi becomes a constant battle against the heat, unless, as many Indians do, one just relaxes and accepts the weather for what it is.

Those who can afford it—and have the hard-to-obtain electric power—have a form of air-conditioning. Some homes now have complete installations, but the majority depend on cooling one or two rooms with window coolers.

* * *

Next in popularity are the so-called "desert coolers," an old Indian favorite by which electric fans drive currents of air through moistened reed mats.

Those who can afford only fans augment their cooling powers by filling their sleeping rooms with open-necked jars of water. In Delhi's dry hot climate moisture from the jars circulated by the fan's blast knocks the temperature down sufficiently for a few hours sleep each night, when outside heat drops from above 110 degrees down to the upper 80s for a brief period.

But thousands of Delhi's people lack either fans or electric power. These try, if they can, to erect mats of khus khus, a peculiar Indian bush which retains water, in front of their doors and windows. The mats are moistened several times daily and any breeze spreads cool air through the room.

The bulk of Delhi's inhabitants simply move into the open with the heat. The native string beds or "charpoys" are moved into the gardens or even the open streets. Public parks are filled with sleepers who bring picnic meals and enjoy chats with their neighbors until midnight brings a sufficient drop in temperature to permit sleeping.

Pay Off Asked

Selassie Pleased at Farm Welcome

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — Haile Selassie, Ethiopia's solemn-eyed Lion of Judah, heads for the Far West today after voicing admiration for "your country's splendid farm industry."

The African Emperor's next stop is Spokane, Wash. Yesterday he visited the Twin Cities and the rich farming country of southern Minnesota.

His tightly crammed schedule brought him glimpses of greening fields, tall silos, the Hormel meat-packing plant at Austin and the famed Mayo Clinic at Rochester.

He stopped briefly at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Doty near Rochester, where he smilingly drank a glass of lemonade and ate some homemade cookies.

The grueling tour sapped the energy of many in the royal party. But the 5-foot-4 ruler of Christendom's oldest nation disclaimed any fatigue. "Any tiredness I might feel is offset by the wonderful reception I am having," he commented.

Radioactivity Test Ship Finds Contaminated Area

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese radioactivity test ship detected strong signs of contamination last night south of the U. S. H-bomb test area at Bikini, Kyodo news agency reported today.

Radioactivity was found in the fish, rain and seawater tested by the Shunkotsu Maru nearly 500 miles due south of Bikini.

Hal Boyle Says:

U.S. 1st Infantry Division Again on Rommel's Land

GRAFENWOEHR, Germany (AP)—From the deserts of Tunisia to the beaches of Normandy, Field Marshal Rommel's battle plans were upset by "the Big Red one"—The U.S. 1st Infantry division.

It balked his breakout blow at Kasserine Gap, then helped crush and capture his famed Afrika Korps. It was in the forefront of the forces that ten years ago landed and breached his West Wall defenses.

* * *

If the ghost of the brilliant "Desert Fox" could come back this way once more, he would find reason for a dry smile over the antics time plays with the dreams of corporals and field marshals.

* * *

For here on the great sprawling German military reservation where Rommel himself once trained his feared panzer legions, his old foe—"The Big Red"—is practicing the new arts of possible new wars to come.

On rolling Bavarian hills only 15 miles from the Czech border, the U.S. infantry division is going through intensive maneuvers over the same ground they would have to defend if the Communists ever unleash their forces.

This week a battalion of the 16th Infantry Regiment, partly manned by some of the veterans who stormed across Omaha Beach, took two hills in a test attack—hills Rommel must have known almost as well as the face he shaved.

* * *

It would have been nice to have had Rommel's opinion of the operation—a skillfully coordinated attack employing every element from doughboy and tank to modern jet aircraft.

But it more than impressed a group of 42 former war correspondents flown here by Pan American Airways for a tour of old battle scenes. It was so realistic that at one point, when a quadruple mount of 50 caliber machine guns began clipping tree branches on the road a few yards before them, several began moving nervously toward the nearest ditches.

The only foulup in the maneuver came in the field of air support. Eight swift Saberjets swooped down to knock out a strong point with napalm and 200-pound bombs.

They hit the target exactly, but about half the bombs were duds and none of the napalm containers flamed after hitting the ground. Some of the ground soldiers, knowing the nearest Czech jet airbase is only about three minutes flying time away, snickered aloud.

* * *

The air liaison officer looked unhappy. An admiral standing by looked cheerful.

"Who would you really rather have supporting you—the Air Force or the Navy?" a correspondent asked an infantry colonel who was explaining the operation.

"Well, I guess we really would prefer the U.S. Marines," said the colonel, grinning.

Commenting on the superior firepower of the modern army over any of the past, Brig. Gen. John Elmore, acting commander of the division, emphasized the penetrating power of the new Belgian-made Energa rifle grenade.

"It will go through 11 inches of armor at more than 100 yards," he said. "That means a Doughboy in his foxhole can knock out any tank now known to be in existance."

* * *

Gen. Elmore said his biggest problem is the turnover of trained men. His division of approximately 17,000 men had to train more than 11,300 new men in 1953, and will have the same problem with 8,000 more this year.

"But the spirit of the division—and spirit is as strong as any human force we know—is as high as ever, because these men have confidence in each other.

"The men think they are ready for anything. So do I."

New Product May Stop 'Endchecking' of Logs

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Loss to the lumber industry through "endchecking" of logs and lumber will be prevented by a product being developed here. Tests in the field for more than a year are reported as highly satisfactory.

The splitting and cracking occurs in logs or freshly cut lumber during drying and is heaviest in the warm summer months.

CAN'T KEEP A GOOD MAN DOWN—William Jewsbury, of Ft. Dodge, Kan., takes the wheel of the "Sutt-N-Jew," a vehicle he and his pal Ralph Sutterby created. Jewsbury's legs were amputated after an electrical accident. They collected parts from old cars and motorcycles and assembled the vehicle which travels about 18 miles per hour.

Australians Campaign Against Pidgin English

PORT MORESBY, New Guinea (UP)—Australian government administrators are beginning work on plans to eliminate pidgin English from the speech of natives and white settlers.

They are working with Bruce Robert, South Pacific Commission language expert, whose recommendations include distribution of book in English to be available to 32,000 natives.

Pidgin English is a queer mixture of native and English words, which must be learned by both the New Guinea tribal people and the European settlers. It is expected the plan will take at least five years before any native group outside the white-dominated village speaks English freely.

Woman Braids Fast

PORTLAND, Me. (UP) — A 63-year-old grandmother, Mrs. Grace Wade, who has ben braiding since childhood, recently made a 9-by-18-foot rug in three weeks. She used 804 yards of braided material.

Roger Young Grave Marked by Stone

CLYDE, Ohio, (UP) — Only recently was the grave of Pvt. Roger W. Young, World War II Congressional Medal of Honor winner who was celebrated in song for his feats in the Solomon Islands, marked in McPherson Cemetery here.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Young, waited a long time to find a craftsman they felt could execute a fitting memorial to their son. They finally decided upon a rectangular granite stone with his name chiseled into the face. The unique part is a delicately-fashioned reproduction of the Medal of Honor, which Young won on New Georgia in 1943.

It is located on the left side of the low memorial stone.

Walter Houpt, 50, Bucyrus, O., a fourth generation stone mason, executed the headstone.

The Delaware River forms a natural boundary for parts of four eastern states: Delaware, New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania.

Prize-Winning Hereford Has Built-in Monocle

HALEYVILLE, Ala. (UP)—Larry a glassy stare. He is the possessor Domino 50th, a $20,000 Hereford, has the right to give other cattle of a glass eye.

Larry Domino came out the loser in an engagement with a barbed wire fence, but his owner, Dr. R. F. Blake, was not going to let the loss of an eye bar the hefty Hereford from future prizes.

A veterinarian, Dr. Hersell Burgess, and an optical company operator, Jim Clay, combined efforts to design an artificial eye. An opthalmologist, who preferred to remain anonymous, performed a series of operations to remove the useless eye and replace it with the artificial one.

Anxious for Trimming

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UP) — Police found a 25-year-old man in a barber shop at 11 p.m. A rear window had been broken. He said he was there because he wanted to be first in line for a haircut next morning.

Rebel Leader in Indochina to Face France's Top Man

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

What happens in the Indochina situation from now on will depend to a great extent on five-star Gen. Paul Henry Ely.

The diplomats in Geneva may talk about a cease-fire. But Ely is the man on the spot.

He has been given the job of whipping the French Union forces in Indochina into shape and turning the tide quickly and radically against the Communist rebels.

If Ely can do that, the entire situation in Southeast Asia may be changed for the better.

His success—or failure—in the next few weeks will have a neffect on the growing debate whether the United States ought to intervene in Indochina. It will have an effect also on the Southeast Asia Security Pact which the United States is trying to negotiate.

It was a major move for France to send its chief of staff to Indochina at this moment.

First, it was a major move at a critical time in a campaign to replace as commander in chief Gen. Henri Eugene Navarre, who was sent to Indochina one year ago.

But Ely also replaces Maurice De Jean as French high commissioner, and thus he will be in complete command politically as well as militarily.

Ely arrived in Saigon, where the French high command maintains its general headquarters, yesterday—five days after his appointment.

Dispatches say he is expected to go north to Hanoi and assume personal command there, where the rebels threaten a full-scale attack in the Red River Delta.

It is likely that, when he gets there, rebel Commander in Chief Vo Nguyen Giap may be in for some surprises.

Ely is regarded as a first rate strategist and tactician. At 57 he is a veteran of both world wars. He was still in his teens when he went to war in 1914 with his class at St. Cyr, the French West Point. His right arm was crippled by a wound in World War II.

He was one of the most daring of French underground fighters after the collapse of France in 1940. He used to go back and forth between occupied France and England and he had many narrow escapes.

It is because Ely's political acumen is respected that he was made high commissioner in Indochina as well as commander in chief.

He visited Washington on a combined military and political mission only last March. That visit, in a successful bid for more American arms aid, was based on the possibility—if not probability—that the Geneva Conference would fail to bring peace in Indochina. The conference has not yet failed, though it has bogged down. The diplomats in Geneva will be watching Ely's moves closely while they talk on.

French Cabinet Fight Inevitable

New Vote of Confidence by National Assembly Demanded by Laniel

PARIS (AP)—The specter of a prolonged Cabinet crisis threatened France and the Geneva conference today. Premier Joseph Laniel for the third time in five weeks demanded a vote of confidence from the angry National Assembly.

The deputies will vote Saturday. Observers generally were pessimistic about Laniel's chances. The Premier survived his last confidence vote May 13 by the thin margin of two votes and some of his support seems to have deserted him since then.

Enough of the lawmakers may reconsider during the interim, however, to enable the government to squeeze through. Few of the deputies want to assume responsibility for jeoparizing the Geneva conference and there is no certainty any new government could be formed quickly.

• • •

The Premier's confidence vote demand came early today, at the end of an all-night session of the Assembly. It followed the deputies' refusal, 324 to 269, to consider an innocuous government-backed resolution on the Indochina crisis, offered as the windup of a four-day debate.

Many speakers accused the Cabinet and Foreign Minister Georges Bidault, in particular, of not working hard enough for an Indochina peace.

Laniel immediately called a Cabinet meeting at the Elysee Palace —France's White House—to formalize the confidence vote demand.

• • •

The crucial ballot Saturday will be on the government's refusal to give priority to three other resolutions sharply critical of its Indochina policies. But the Assembly's decision may well turn also on the troublesome question of the proposed European Defense Community Treaty.

81-Year-Old Man Tries for Basketball Team

HARBOR SPRINGS (UP)—Business men here are planning a basketball team for next winter.

Readmond has rigged up a basket in his backyard and practices faithfully 15 minutes a day.

"I think I can make the team," he said to friends.

'Dixie' Division to Change Name, Become Inactive

CAMP CARSON, Colo. (AP) — The Confederate colors of the 31st Infantry "Dixie" Division will be returned to Alabama and Mississippi next Tuesday when the unit is renamed the 8th Infantry "Golden Arrow" Division.

The change will be made in a two-hour ceremony at Camp Carson. No movement of troops is involved.

Retirement of the 31st is part of the Army's program to return eight National Guard units to inactive status. The original troops recalled to active duty in January, 1951, have returned to their homes.

Most of the division's troops hail from the northeastern United States. With Tuesday's change, they will doff the double-D patch and Confederate shoulder emblem.

Contractor Bound Over on Phony Check Charge

Attica contractor Ernest Force, 50, waived examination before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan Wednesday on a bad check charge, and was bound over to Circuit Court to appear June 14.

He is charged with giving the Municipal Court a bad check for $619.61 in the process of going into receivership.

Bonnie Parcher Becomes George LeMaster's Bride

Honeymooning in northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. George Eugene LeMaster, who were married Sunday afternoon in Emmanuel Baptist Church.

The bride is the former Bonnie Jean Parcher, daughter of Mrs. Florence Marsh of Hillcliff street and Arthur Parcher of St. Louis. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas LeMaster of Winding drive are the bridegroom's parents.

The bride approached the altar gowned in embroidered tulle over satin fashioned in a full-skirted redingote style. A finger-tip headpiece of pleated tulle and satin ornamented with iridescent sequins and pearls held her fingertip veil and she carried a white orchid and stephanotis on a satin-covered wedding fan.

Shirley Ream was maid of honor in a ballerina-length gown of yellow nylon. She carried yellow and white carnations on a satin-covered heart.

Best man was the bride's brother, Stephen Kyle, and seating the guest were another brother, Joseph Kyle, and the bridegroom's brother, Joseph LeMaster.

Receiving guests at her home, the bride's mother wore a blue lace dress with a corsage of pink and white carnations. The bridegroom's mother chose a pale pink suit with a corsage of white carnations and rosebuds.

For the wedding trip the bride changed to a brown and white frock with rhinestone trim and wore the white orchid from her bridal bouquet.

On their return the new Mrs. LeMaster will reside with her mother while the bridegroom finishes his tour of duty at Norfolk, Va., where he is stationed with the Navy.

Michigan Bell Club Has Election

Young Organization Gathers for Picnic at Shirley Home

One of the more recent clubs organized in the city is the Michigan Bell Girls Club of Pontiac. This group, which claims 65 members, was organized April 14, 1953, at which time Maureen Porter was named president and Mrs. Eva Dyer became the club sponsor.

Other officers serving the first year were Mary Eddy, vice president; Mrs. Allen Rososky, treasurer; Mrs. Gordon Davis, secretary, Marvel Dusenbury, historian; Mrs. Clarence Hagerman, entertainment chairman; Mrs. Ross Terry, membership chairman, and Mrs. Gerald Fritz, business manager.

Tuesday evening when the group held a picnic at the Crescent road home of Mrs. Donald Shirley, new officers were elected.

Miss Eddy assumed the duties of president with Mrs. John Engle, as vice president; Mrs. Thomas Callahan, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Allen Rososky, treasurer; Mrs. Hagerman, recording secretary, Shirley Nelson, historian, and Frances Phillips, business manager. Mrs. Fritz installed the officers.

The purpose of the club is "to encourage closer friendships among women employes by promoting social, charitable, educational and athletic activities among its members."

From a charitable point of view the club, which is in its infant stages, has been most generous. This year's special project is a TV set for patients at Pontiac State Hospital.

The entertainment for the year has been educational, with programs and demonstrations by authorities in the fields of merchandising, health and beauty. And members of the club who have taken trips to Europe, Bermuda and Mexico have shown colored slides of their tours.

The club sponsors a monthly bulletin entitled the "Girls Club Gazette" and also has formed a golf club.

Moose Group Elects Officers

Membership Chapter Night was held Monday by Women of the Moose at Moose Temple, with Mrs. Clarence Cavalier addressing the group on membership organizations.

Election of officers followed the speech, and the new roster includes Mrs. F. B. Houston as senior regent; Mrs. Richard Rohrer, junior regent; Mrs. William Morgan, chaplain, and Mrs. Cavalier, recorder. Mrs. Henry Godin is treasurer and Mrs. Howard McCandless is junior graduate regent.

Eight new members were initiated in honor of the year's sponsors. Included were Mrs. Sina Ross, Mrs. Bertha Taylor, Mrs. Carl O'Dell, Mrs. Howard Gilleland, Mrs. Wilson Ledbetter, Mrs. Garnet Stockwell, Mrs. Bernard Danton and Mrs. Leland Hamilton.

Shower Presented for Dorothy Kraus

Mrs. Glen Boughner and Mrs. Edward Madden were hostesses Saturday evening at the Boughner home in Rochester for a personal shower honoring Dorothy Kraus.

Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Kraus of Franklin boulevard, will speak her nuptial vows June 19 with James L. Madden. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Madden of Rochester.

Guests at the shower were the mothers of the bride-elect and the prospective bridegroom and Julia Dimond, Lucy Newell, Mrs. Tom Madden, Mrs. Jack Yencich, Mrs. Arnold Soutar, Mrs. George Madden, Mrs. Walter Costello, Mrs. Leo Emery and Mrs. Harold Lanktree.

"Rootin' Tootin' Ranch," a three-act comedy, will be presented Friday and Saturday evenings by the Methodist Youth Fellowship of First Methodist Church. Enacting a scene from the comedy are Lora Sparks of South Paddock street, Nancy Richards of Charlotte avenue and Marshall Buttram of East Chicago avenue (left to right). Doors will open at 8:15.

Youth to Create 'Rootin' Tootin' Ranch'

A wild bandit named "One Eye Mike" on the loose, a quiz kid with all the answers and a group of eastern dudes. Put them together and you get an episode of the West like that to be presented by Methodist Youth Fellowship of First Methodist Church.

The cast includes Nancy Richards as Mrs. Stevens, Phil Bowser as Dusty; Pat Yarger and Marshall Buttram as Joan and Jimmy from the East.

Others are Kenn Stephens, a neighboring cowboy; Beverly Wright as Meredith, Lora Sparks as Miss Stubbs, Rosalie Richards as Elaine, Joan Ward and Pat Clark as Ginger and David Richards as Ronnie.

Special effects and lighting are under the direction of Warren May and Paul Hickman, with staging and costumes being handled by Louie Butler and Mrs. Ethel Proffitt.

Fresh Air Brings Dirt Into House

Use Conditioners to Filter Out Dust While Ventilating

By HUBBARD COBB

One of the major troubles with this world is that there is too darn much dirt and dust floating around in the air. This makes the job of trying to keep a house clean and also well ventilated something of a problem.

If you keep the windows closed you almost suffocate and if you open them you get flooded with dirt. That, in the opinion of many, is no way to run a railroad.

The simplest way to get fresh air and keep out the outside dust and dirt is to install a central year-around air-conditioning system. This is also rather expensive.

A less expensive method is to install window air-conditioners which, being equipped with filters, remove the dust and dirt from the air in the house.

If you don't like this idea you can buy or build a combination fan and filter which is fitted into the window and which removes the dirt from the air before it is let indoors.

The efficiency of these dust screens, and for that matter, the efficiency of any unit which uses a filter, depends on how often the filter or screen is cleaned.

If you allow the filter or screen to become heavily coated with dust and dirt, it will either reduce the amount of air that is allowed to pass through or will fail to catch the dust and dirt.

Wife Should Help Build Business

Husband's Project Calls for Sacrifice and Hard Work

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband wants to start a shop of his own," a woman writes me, "and he wants me to help him. But he has all the wrong ideas. He wants to start practically at scratch, without hiring anyone, at least in the beginning.

"He says I will have to work right along with him, and in the beginning we'll have to give up practically all our fun and just work all the time.

"It's very important to him to be on his own, but I think he might give some consideration to me.

"I have a nice three-room apartment, and he won't even let me have a maid to take care of it while I'm doing all the dirty work at the shop.

"Don't you think I should refuse to consider such an arrangement? Seems to me our marriage would collapse."

It seems to me that with so selfish an approach, you are already threatening your marriage. If this project is important to your husband and offers him a chance to succeed and be on his own, you ought to pitch in.

What are a few years of hard work and sacrifice, compared to freedom, both financial and personal, the rest of both your lives?

I think of Mr. and Mrs. Horace McCready of Allentown, Pa., from whom this woman could learn much.

The McCreadys have a tremendously successful business involving a large nursery and greenhouse, and several beautiful and busy florist shops.

They travel all over the country to flower displays, have a large staff to handle all the details of the business—in short, an enviable life with money, love, happiness and all the good things, including beautiful children and a charming country estate.

But, when they began, as a young married couple with one little greenhouse, they worked their heads off. Mrs. McCready told me that there were twigs and pine needles all over the apartment and she never had time for cleaning or dusting or cooking.

They would work a 12 or 16 hour day, then munch sandwiches and fall into bed.

But the project succeeded, and it was all more than worth it. "In fact," Mrs. McCready told me, "I would do it again in a minute!"

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

If It's Progress to Destroy Beauty, She's Against It

Sometimes I'm downright against progress. Just now I wish almost anything would happen to prevent a modern super-highway from being bulldozed close to a certain rambling stone house built into a wooded hillside overlooking the Hudson River just where it widens to meet the sea.

I realize that roads must be built. I know that one who stands, however innocently, in the path of improvement must suffer dislocation.

MISS McBRIDE

But I just don't want the river view from the terrace of my beloved Hader House to include winking traffic signals, nor the woodsy silence, broken now only by bird sounds, to be invaded by the whine of tires and explosion of backfiring.

Hader House is a sprawling picture-book structure of red sandstone and yellow and gray cobbles with peaked green roofs and odd-shaped terraces on several levels.

There's a waterfall tumbling over mossy rocks straight down the hill to a pool at the bottom, and honeysuckle and ivy grow along the steep winding path that heads up from the pool to the front door of heavy unpainted chestnut.

The house isn't quite finished yet though it was begun 25 years ago. Berta and Elmer Hader, artists, built it with their own hands and since there were no blueprints, they never had to keep to a set plan. So whenever a thing doesn't work out in practice they tear it out and do it over some other way.

The land was a jungle when they found it. They had to cut a trail through blackberry brambles to get to the top of the hill, on the way discovering to their delight the source of a spring and the remains of an old quarry.

The spring had long ago furnished half the countryside with water during a terrible drought. The old quarry had supplied stone for many of the brownstone fronts in New York City.

Near the spring they found a pile of red rock and laid out their foundation.

This took weeks because Berta insisted they save as many trees as possible—elms, birches, sassafrases. They even made a jut in the studio so as not to sacrifice a wide-spreading pignut tree.

After they had poured the concrete for the foundation they had to stop for awhile to make some money from the children's books they draw and write to go ahead building.

The two got up at 4 in the morning for months to work on the house. The first thing they made was a great fireplace, 9 feet across, capable of burning a 6-foot log. Then they constructed a living room around the fireplace.

At Hader House in summer all meals are eaten on whatever terrace is shadiest at the moment. Fountains splash and butterflies settle on the petunias.

The place has long been a peaceful, happy haven for harassed city dwellers. If it's progress to destroy this, then I'm agin' progress this time.

One nylon stocking contains about a mile and one-quarter of nylon yarn.

Try It

Save Ice Cream Sticks

Do you like ice cream? I wonder what you do with the sticks which come with your ice cream suckers? From time to time we have had ideas in Try It which make use of these little sticks, so perhaps you will want to keep them this summer.

Here is a grand idea for those ice cream sticks which you will collect this summer, and it was sent in by Carolyn Wardlow of Mishawaka, Ind.

You will need eight sticks, a picture which you like, some yarn and a bit of paste. Start with two pieces of yarn about 1 yard each in length, knot them in the center, then measure down about 3 inches and tie the yarn tightly around the first stick.

Knot again and tie the second stick in. Do this until all eight sticks are in place, then knot the string at the end. Paste the picture on the sticks. A coat of shellac may be added. Brighten up your room.

I have sent an original Try It drawing to Carolyn for her fine idea. Have you sent your suggestion in to Try It yet? Just mail it to your paper, and you will hear from me.

MR. and MRS. RICHARD F. HAGUE

Honeymooning in northern Michigan are Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Hague who were married Saturday afternoon in All Saints Episcopal Church. The bride, the former Patricia Colpus, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Colpus of Henderson street, and the Edwin Hagues of Drayton Plains are the bridegroom's parents.

Mary Yvonne Swenson Wed to Charles Mosley

The home of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Allison in Keego Harbor was the setting Saturday when Mary Yvonne Swenson became the bride of Charles Jerry Mosley.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gunnar Swenson of Watkins Lake and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mosley of Elm street.

The double-ring ceremony was performed at 7:30 before a fireplace banked with palms, candelabra and summer flowers. The Rev. Frank Tully of Trinity Methodist Church read the rite.

A redingote-style gown of Chantilly lace over satin was worn by the bride. The off-the-shoulder neckline featured a nylon yoke and the long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists.

A pearl tiara held her fingertip veil, which was edged in matching lace. The bridegroom's gift of a white Bible was adorned by an orchid surrounded with white carnations, stephanotis and ivy. She wore a gold cross for her jewelry.

Danielda Berryman of Alpena, the bride's cousin, was maid of honor in Nile green taffeta carrying a bouquet of tearoses, yellow carnations and ivy.

Bridesmaid was Mrs. Alan Stott, the bride's sister, and Barbara Berryman, her cousin, was junior bridesmaid. They wore gowns similar to the honor attendant's in Nile green and yellow, respectively, and they carried similar bouquets in yellow. Bruce MacKenzie was best man.

Mrs. Swenson wore blue lace over taffeta with a pink carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Mosley wore pale blue linen with a pink carnation corsage.

After a reception at the home of the bride's parents, the new Mrs. Mosley changed to a navy suit and the orchid from her bouquet for the wedding trip.

Band Parents Conduct Election

The newly organized Washington Junior High Band Parents Club elected officers Tuesday at the school.

Horace Hall is chairman with John Springer as vice chairman. Committee chairmen include Donald Newman, steering committee; Mrs. Rudolph Hartman, treasury; Mrs. Ralph Williams, social; Ross Tenny, program; John Hufton, publicity; Mrs. Stanley Dalley, secretarial, and Allen Monteith, advisory.

The purpose of the organization is to permit parents to participate in a band program by encouraging support for concerts and public appearances.

Hairdressers Name Delegates to Parley

Mrs. Harry Randall and Mrs. Ernest Thayer were appointed delegates to the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association convention at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Pontiac association.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall were hosts to the group at their Wards Point home. Alternate to the convention at Los Angeles this summer is Mrs. Albert Wilson.

Catholic Women Name Delegates

Mrs. J. E. Clark, Mrs. Harry Riggins and Mrs. Charles Miller will represent the League of Catholic Women at the Archdiocesan League board of directors meeting, it was announced at the Monday evening meeting held in the South Parke street league building.

St. Clair Inn will be the setting for the June 15 gathering. At the Monday evening meeting, Mrs. Riggins reported on the state league meeting held recently in Detroit.

It was announced that the Northwestern Deanery meeting will be held Thursday at Center Line.

Now's the Time for Bridegrooms to Study Up on Right Wedding Attire

Wife Wrong in Praising Man's Garb

Her Compliments to Hubby's Friend Are Too Personal

By EMILY POST

A wife writes me: "My husband thinks it is wrong for a woman to compliment a man other than her husband or a member of the family. He has taken great exception to my having said a few nice things to a bachelor friend of his whom he sometimes brings home to dinner.

"Why telling a man 'That's a becoming suit you have on' or 'You look very well with a tan' is in bad taste because a woman says it to a man instead of vice versa, I can't understand. Will you please give your opinion?"

Answer: Surely you can say plenty of nice things to either a man or woman, but I do agree with your husband that discussing the becomingness of his clothes is rather too personal to be in good taste.

Dear Mrs. Post: In a recent column you recommended ordering small notepaper marked with initials at the top to acknowledge wedding presents.

Will you please tell me what initials should be used — maiden or future initials? Some of the presents will be acknowledged before the wedding and some after.

Answer: If a bride is going to use this paper to acknowledge presents before her marriage, then it should be marked with her maiden initials, and if she doesn't get through, she may quite properly continue to use this paper for a short while afterwards. But she cannot use paper marked with her married name until after she is married.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it true that the little squares sometimes used on furniture arms and head pieces to prevent soiling are old fashioned and in bad taste?

Answer: The white ones are very old-fashioned, but certainly not in bad taste. Modern ones are usually made to blend with the furniture covering.

Don't Mar Event With Wrong Garb

Consider Time of Rite and Length of Bridal Gown

Woe and doom betide the bridegroom who manages to fluff his role by choosing the wrong formal wear. If you think only a stupe would wear the wrong thing, answer this:

What should the bridegroom and his party wear for a formal daytime wedding if the bridal gown does not have a train? Ah-ha! And just think how many years an unwary man would have to hear about his error.

Here are the answers. The bridegroom must consider two things when deciding what should be worn: The time of day the wedding is to be held and the length of the bride's gown.

The length of the bridal gown is the deciding factor as to whether the cutaway or the tail-less stroller jacket is worn. If the bride's gown has a train, the cutaway is it; if it is chapel or ballerina-length — or just plain has no train — the stroller jacket is right.

What about an evening wedding? There are really three choices, all formal. If it's a very posh evening wedding, the tailcoat in black or midnight blue tropical worsted with matching trousers, white single or double-breasted waistcoat, stiff-front white shirt with wing collar, white bow tie, pearl studs and cuff links, patent leather shoes, black socks, white gloves and white boutonniere — all this is in order.

If the men wear this, by the way, the bride and her party are supposed to be in some recognizable version of evening gowns.

If it's later in the summer, the white formal tropical worsted dinner jacket with black or dark blue tropical worsted trousers is proper. If the jacket is single-breasted, a dark blue or black bow tie and matching cummerbund are required. If double-breasted, the cummerbund may be dispensed with.

A white shirt with turndown collar is in order. White boutonniere, no gloves.

Summerize Living Room

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Add up ideas for cooling the living room for summer and see if you can't use one more.

First thoughts of course have been to take down heavy draperies to play up lighter-weight and perhaps white or lighter-colored curtaining, or to use reed or wood slat blinds. And to cover luxurious upholstery fabrics with slipcovers of fresh-looking cottons or linen.

Then, what about smaller furnishings? To clear out non-essentials and store away heavy accessories and decoration helps the summery look, too, because it makes the room seem more open and airy.

Some too solid bowls and vases might be exchanged for baskets, others for bits of china, perhaps in white.

And for the floor, large thick rugs might make way for fiber rugs, or for small light-colored rugs which clear expanses of shining floor.

Small rugs are fashionable and especially interesting and varied now in texture, color and pattern. Use them to set off a conversation grouping or to lighten a spot in front of the dark fireplace.

* * *

Mrs. C. J. C. "In a living room which has casement windows close to the street, would cafe curtains be suitable to provide privacy when draperies are open? What fabric should be used for the curtains?

"I have thought of casement cloth, but am in doubt as to the suitability of such curtains in a living room."

Cafe curtains are now being used in living rooms of almost every style, and there is no reason you shouldn't have them if they do not interfere with the opening and closing of the windows.

Casement cloths, too, are used everywhere and are widely varied now in both formal and informal types and come in varying weights.

Mrs. R. R. Y. "What color should the walls be in a den which has one large brown leather chair, two sectional upholstered units in red and an oak desk with a matching chair with a green seat?

"We plan to leave most of the natural oak floor bare and use small rugs, one brown and cream and one green. We are thinking of gray for the walls."

A gray that leaned toward beige or brown might be successful, but a cold stone gray would be less related to the scheme.

Do Spoiled Brats Rule Your Life?

With Such People, No One Else Can Get Her Way

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

You're not spoiled, of course. But I'll bet you have your own opinion of some of the people you know. Bet you think some of the girls and boys you know are spoiled to death.

Take Muriel, for instance. There's just no meeting of minds with her. When you want to go somewhere, she's not in the mood, so you wind up not going. When you want to see a special movie, she wants to see another and that's the one you see.

You want to invite those two new girls to your party, but she rules them out. Golly, you can't ever get your own way when Muriel's around. She always has to have hers!

Susie's spoiled, too. She has such rockbound convictions and she's so determined about them. She's always right, of course, and you're wrong. You've never been able to convince her of a thing. She always wins every argument.

Dell's spoiled, too—in that superior, looking-down-her-long-nose sort of way that you loathe. Admire her new dress and she'll crack, "What—this old rag?" Her comments on the way other people look and what they wear make her out to be a fashion expert.

She looks you up and down, smiles patronizingly, raises her eyebrows as though to say, "It's very nice—but not on you." Her taste is always better than anyone else's. She always knows better, Dell does.

Fran must think that everybody's out to do her in the eye. She keeps standing up and shouting loudly about her rights. She never gives a considerate thought to anybody else's convenience or comfort. Little Frank comes first with Fran.

Bill's the bully type of spoiled brat. He won't play on the team unless he's captain. And he'll fight anybody who stands in his way. He's always ready to explode in all directions, fists flying.

Knocking two heads together is his pet argument for getting his own way. And if he loves a decision he sulks and mutters that he's being mistreated. A charming fellow, Bill.

Joe gets to be a handful toward the end of a date. You don't want to slap him, but what is there left after you've used up all your arguments? He edges closer and keeps teasing, needling, trying to persuade you—and you back away and keep talking and talking.

And when he realizes that you simply won't he gets in a huff, drives you home without speaking, then never asks you for another date.

There's a whole long list of people who are spoiled to death. They all just have to have their own way. They talk loud, throw their weight around and grind you down until they get it.

A girl likes to do things her own way now and then, but how can she with all these spoiled brats around?

IN BUSY CHICAGO LOOP, blind veteran Lloyd H. Greenwood plays role of a veteran named McCabe as he threads his way through crowds for VA film showing use of "The Long Cane."

Blind Veterans Get Help From Special 'Long Cane'

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Blind veterans are now being taught to use a special long cane in their endeavor to walk without fear in a dark world.

The Blind Rehabilitation Section of the Veterans Administration Hospital in Hines, Ill., is performing miracles with this revolutionary method of aiding sightless veterans.

For centuries the blind have stumbled along with an ordinary short cane which they used in an attempt to hide their handicap. The modern long cane does no such thing, for its sole purpose is to guide and guard.

Dr. R. E. Hoover, eye surgeon at Johns Hopkins' Wilmer Institute and consultant to the VA, originated the idea of a long cane 10 years ago while stationed at the Valley Forge Army Hospital. Hoover devoted long hours to the project and often blindfolded himself to fully understand the problem.

The orientation program a blind person has to go through before he can master the use of the long cane is not easy.

Take the case of Lloyd H. Greenwood, one of the first of 300 veterans who have had the chance to learn the process. As an officer in the Army Air Force he lost his sight when wounded on a mission over Vienna. In 1945 he became a patient at Valley Forge and while there was introduced to the long cane.

In three months, Greenwood was able to walk around on his own. Soon after he came to Washington to become Executive Director of the Blinded Veterans Association. For six years he devoted time and effort to the cause of blinded veterans. Today he is a freelance writer.

When the VA wanted to make a documentary film about the long cane they called on Greenwood. He agreed and went to Hines to play a role he had once been through himself.

Here is the step-by-step training of a blind veteran named McCabe, as portrayed by Greenwood in the VA movie, "The Long Cane."

The day McCabe entered Hines he was given a long aluminum cane. Private instructors patiently began teaching him how to handle the strange object. For many days he practiced by walking the corridors of Hines. Finally he found the cane began hitting obstacles before he did.

Between lessons McCabe learned to type, read Braille and accustom i thsmfleot ..d shrdlu pupu tom himself to eating and neatly dressing without aid.

Device Guides Fingers to Hit Correct Keys

SPARTANBURG, S. C. (AP)—When his fingers seemed to refuse to hit the right typewriter keys, Russell R. Potter decided to do something about it.

Potter has invented a gadget that he claims fences errant fingers in so they can't hit wrong keys. Vertical fences flock fingers from other key areas and may prove to be of aid in teaching typing to the blind, he says.

Prefers Oxen to Tractors

Farmer Says Animals Are Smart, Economical and Don't Depreciate

NEWAYGO (UP) — Marlen Palmer has a way to beat depreciation costs on farm machinery.

The Newaygo farmer apparently is one of the few farmers left in the nation who uses oxen. He said his primary reason for using the beasts is that they increase in value.

"The longer you have a tractor the more it depreciates in value," he said. "In the winter when you're not using a horse you have to feed him, but he doesn't increase in value. Feed an ox, and he puts on weight, and that weight is beef."

Palmer also thinks oxen can outperform horses or tractors.

"Oxen are smart," he said. "Nothing bothers them. They are deliberate and dependable. It takes a lot of patience to train them, but once they know what's wanted of them they work beautifully. And they are mild-mannered."

Palmer trains his oxen with the traditional yoke. In fact his particular yoke is 65 years old. It was originally used in a lumber camp.

The oxen are widely traveled and educated. Last summer the Palmer oxen participated in parades, fairs, and rodeos in 11 states. He has trained his oxen to perform tricks in front of grandstands — to shake hands, kneel, count and so on.

In addition to their usual summer chores, Palmer's oxen pull school children on sleigh rides and perform in logging operations in the winter.

Someone once offered to trade him even—his oxen for a tractor—but Palmer preferred his oxen.

"Even if they come out with atomic-powered tractors, I doubt if I'd trade for my oxen," he said.

Fewer Women Die

NEW YORK (INS) — Female deaths due to cancer have decreased by 12.6 per cent in the past decade it it reported by the American Cancer Society. This over-all improvement is not true for males.

IN GRATITUDE — Lorgi Mollo, an Italian emigrant, carves head of Simon Bolivar at his farm in Turen, Venezuela, in appreciation for opportunities in new land.

Sturgeon Decoy Deceives Fisherman

WAUPACA, Wis. (UP)—August Opichka should have known his sturgeon fishing luck was running too good.

August speared two sturgeons, a 41-pounder and a 14-pounder, at his own shack on Lake Poygan, and then walked over to a neighbor's shack to see how luck was there.

No one was at the shack when he got there. When August peered into the water, he spotted a huge sturgeon at the botom.

Grabbing a spear off the wall, August drove it deep into his prey.

Nation Lights Up

BLOOMFIELD, N. J. (INS) — Nearly 1,100,000 household electric light bulbs are sold in this country each year, lighting engineers reveal. Since the first incandescent lamp was developed, 20 billion household bulbs have been consumed in the United States.

Would Make Monuments of Locomotives

TOLEDO (UP) — A railway official has called upon the nation's railroad managements to halt the scrapping of steam locomotives. He wants them given to cities and towns as monuments.

Howard Skidmore, director of public relations and advertising of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railway, told a railroad men's meeting here that the "iron horse" should go on a pedestal instead of the scrap heap."

"As monuments," Skidmore said, "the locomotives would be worth their weight in gold in good will to the railroads of America, if they were given to the children of the cities and towns along the tracks."

Skidmore said the locomotives had become a symbol of his boyhood to every American man and a symbol of manhood to every American boy.

"They belong in parks and public squares throughout the country as a monument to a great chapter in our history," he said.

Rolled to Look Like Diplomas

Big Dash of Pepper in Filling Provides Tangy Taste Youngsters Like

The clever homemaker sometimes makes a name far herself with the simplest of ideas. That's what happened to the one who thought of shaking a little ordinary ground black pepper on her cheese hors d'oeuvres and canapes before serving.

So simple—and yet, so effective. The pungency of ground black pepper gives a decided lift to the bland cheeses. It's always included in recipes for cheese dishes and most people add more of it from the shaker at the table.

But, with canapes and hors d'oeuvres, pepper is usually forgotten in the kitchen and almost never used in the dining or living room when canapes are served.

When sprinkled on top of a tasty tidbit, the ground black pepper also acts as a garnish.

This touch on snacks and appetizers will give them just the right distinctive quality for successful June entertaining, from graduation parties to wedding receptions.

Cheese Dunk

1 3-ounce package cream cheese
¼ cup catsup
⅛ teaspoon onion salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
¼ cup cream
Potato chips
Ground black pepper

Mash cream cheese until smooth and stir in catsup, spices and cream, stirring until well blended. Place in bowl, surrounded with potato chips and sprinkle with additional black pepper. Serves 8 to 10.

Diploma Sandwiches

1 cup cooked chicken
¼ cup chopped celery
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
4 tablespoons mayonnaise
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon ground black pepper
⅛ teaspoon paprika
12 slices white bread

Force chicken and celery through meat grinder. Add garlic powder, mayonnaise, salt, pepper, paprika. Blend well. Cut crusts from thin slices of white bread. Spread with spicy chicken mixture. Roll to form "diplomas" and tie with ribbon. Makes 12 sandwiches.

GRADUATION PARTY SNACKS—Entertain the June graduates with a reception after the big ceremony. Serve several kinds of punch; provide a zippy dip for potato chips; stick cocktail franks on a polished wood pig; and honor the occasion with Diploma Sandwiches.

Good Old Cole Slaw Is Summer Blender

Vegetable salads will help avoid monotony in summer menus and provide a vitamin-sufficient diet.

Mrs. Betty Parks, Lackawanna County, Pa., home economics extension representative, recommends salads made of celery, raw spinach, cabbage, raw carrots, chopped green peppers and uncooked cauliflower to add zest and goodness to meals.

Cole slaw is another summer delicacy that blends well with baked beans, ham, roast, or seafood. A bit of diced onion, carrot, green pepper, chopped apple, raisins or crushed pineapple will help vary the flavor.

Marinate Lamb in Wine Sauce

Baked Breast of Lamb Mendocino is a simple and flavorsome way to prepare lamb, a favorite meat choice on spring menus. Serving-sized pieces of this less expensive cut are marinated for an hour in a mixture of chili sauce, onion, green pepper, soya sauce, salt and pepper, smoothly blended by the addition of a cup of white table wine.

After a two-hour baking and basting period, the lamb and marinade delightfully combine to make a succulent dish full of real eating pleasure.

For a dinner with a truly springtime air, accompany the lamb with creamed new potatoes and peas, parsley-buttered carrots, biscuits and honey.

For the beverage you may want to serve the remainder of the bottle of well-chilled wine — Sauterne, Chablis or any of the other white table wines will be equally refreshing.

Baked Breast of Lamb Mendocino

3 pounds breast of lamb, cut in serving-sized pieces
1 cup Sauterne or other white table wine
¼ cup chili sauce
1 large onion, chopped
½ green pepper, chopped
1 tablespoon soya sauce
Salt and pepper to taste

Arrange pieces of lamb, fat side up, in a single layer in a shallow baking pan. Mix remaining ingredients; pour over lamb; cover (using aluminum foil if the pan has no cover of its own) and let stand at room temperature for an hour or so.

Bake, covered, in a 375 oven for 1 hour; uncover and continue baking for 1 hour, basting frequently. Makes 4 servings.

Every day homemakers in the United States use about eight million cans of evaporated milk, or put another way—5,500 cans per minute.

Bologna Roll-ups Different in Salad

Bologna Salad

1 cup cream-style cottage cheese
¼ cup finely chopped dill pickle
8 slices bologna
Whole cloves
Lettuce cups
Radishes
Carrot curls

Mix cottage cheese and pickle. Place a heaping spoonful in center of each bologna slice; spread so cheese will cover center third of bologna slice. Bring edges of slice together and fasten with 2 cloves. Place 2 bologna rollups on each salad plate; arrange lettuce cup filled with radishes and carrot curls in cup. Makes 4 servings.

To prepare lettuce cups, wash a head of iceberg lettuce in cold water. Cut out core and let cold water run through the head to separate leaves easily. Drain on towel. Use small lettuce-leaf cups for bologna and cottage cheese salad; store remaining lettuce in crisper or moisture-proof bag in refrigerator.

Make a Sundae With Cantaloupe Cooked in Sauce

A most unusual ice cream sundae sauce is given here. It would be a nice one to use now when cantaloupes are still rather expensive. One small cantaloupe will make six servings.

If you feel in an experimental mood, try this fruit sauce on plain cake for a cottage pudding.

Ice Cream with Cantaloupe Lemon Sauce

1 cup sugar
½ cup water
1 small cantaloupe
1 lemon
Few grains salt
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Cook sugar and water in saucepan over low heat until sirup spins a thread, stirring occasionally. Meanwhile, peel cantaloupe and cut into medium-sized cubes. Slice lemon into thin slices and cut in halves.

Add cantaloupe cubes to thickened sugar sirup. Simmer over low heat until fruits become transparent. Cool.

Serve as a sundae sauce over vanilla ice cream. Serves 6.

Use Citrus Fruits to Cut Calories, Perk Up Meals

Here's how to be slim and trim for summer, with meals that are both delightful and nutritious. There's no need to serve a dull drab menu when fresh, juicy oranges and lemons will brighten up your recipes.

Include one whole orange in each day's diet and, for only 70 calories, you can meet your daily vitamin C requirement at the same time you provide important amounts of A and the B-complex vitamins, plus many minerals.

Lemon juice adds a lively note to many of your prize dishes. Use it often for that zestful flavor, with practically no calories.

Eat an orange one-half hour before each meal to get needed energy and also cut down your appetite, then let these delicious citrus dishes help you to have a weight reduction menu packed with nutrition for your whole family.

Lemon Baked Chicken, a very special dish for guests of the family, is a breeze to prepare. This tender, herb chicken, with the zip of fresh lemon juice and that "melt in your mouth" flavor, is always a favorite entree.

Lemon Baked Chicken

¼ cup salad oil
¼ cup fresh lemon juice
½ teaspoon grated onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon thyme
1 medium fryer (2½ to 3 pounds) cut into individual serving pieces
Chopped parsley
Paprika

Blend salad oil, lemon juice, onion, salt and thyme. Arrange pieces of chicken in a casserole and brush thoroughly with lemon-oil mixture. Cover and bake at 350 until tender, 45 to 60 minutes, basting occasionally with lemon-oil mixture.

Uncover casserole for last 20 minutes to allow chicken to brown, or chicken may be kept covered the full cooking time, then browned under broiler. Baste again with lemon-oil mixture before broiling.

Sprinkle with chopped parsley and paprika just before serving. Serves 4 to 6.

1 breast—210 calories & 62 calories for sauce—272 total.

1 leg—159 calories & 62 calories for sauce—221 total.

Antipasto First Course Goes With Meat Balls

Serve antipasto as a first course when you are having spaghetti and meat balls and you can omit salad.

Include celery, anchovies, canned pimientos, green pepper and sardines in your antipasto and arrange the vegetables and fish on individual plates. Another good addition is Italian salami, sliced very thin.

Serve Protein Dessert

The main dish need not be the only source of animal protein in a meal. A dessert of cheese and crackers, cheese and fruit, and milk to drink will provide such high quality protein.

Homemade Jams and Jellies Taste Best —Cost Less!

Quality Boned Ham in Can Is Perfect Company Fare

Boned, cooked and ready to serve are beautiful canned hams.

These bigger hams require refrigeration and average 6 to 14 pounds.

Since the 1920's, they have climbed to second place on the canned meat roster. By figuring on three to four servings per pound, you have a basis for judging the size ham to buy.

Canned ham, baked to heat through and basted with spiced fruit juice, is company fare.

To make for easier serving, trim with cloves and slice the ham as it comes from the can, and before before it is baked with the cloves. baking. Stud every other slice, before it is baked with the cloves. Then tie the ham back in its original oval shape and bake.

A glaze for the ham may be the liquid from canned peaches, pears or apricots which is spiced with vinegar, mustard and molasses. Serve the ham on a platter surrounded with fruit simmered in the same pungent syrup used to baste the meat.

Glazed Ham With Fruit

6 to 12-pound canned ham
Whole cloves
1 No. 2½ can cling peach halves
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons vinegar
3 tablespoons prepared mustard
½ cup molasses

For attractive service and easy carving, slice ham before heating. Cut ¼-inch slice; insert cloves along top edge of ham slice. Leave second slice plain. Stud every other slice with cloves before it is cut. Tie sliced ham with string in original shape; place in shallow baking pan.

Drain peaches; measure liquid; reserve. (There should be about 1½ cups.) Mix cornstarch and vinegar to a paste in saucepan. Blend in mustard, drained peach syrup and molasses. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Use to baste ham two or three times during baking.

Bake in a 350 oven, 1 hour. Stud peach halves with cloves, add to remaining syrup; heat. Use to garnish ham. Yields 3 to 4 servings per pound.

Tomatoes Hold Zesty Spread

Are you looking for quick, party-pretty luncheon platter ideas? A blend of smoky canned bacon spread and cream cheese makes the perfect jiffy filling for tomato roses.

Serve it with cucumber rings, potato chips and pickle sticks. To make it an easy-on-the-cook company luncheon, add piping hot corn muffins (from a mix) and a strawberry-pineapple compote.

Tomato Surprise Salads

6 tomatoes, peeled
6 lettuce cups
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
1 container (8 oz.) cottage cheese
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
2 cans (3¼ oz. each) instant bacon spread

Cut tomatoes into roses; place in lettuce cups. Blend softened cream cheese, cottage cheese, bacon spread and mayonnaise thoroughly. Spoon into tomato roses.

Serve with potato chips, pickles and cucumber slices.

TOMATO SURPRISE SALADS—Use the new canned bacon spread, bix it with cream cheese and fill tomatoes with the tasty mixture. Add scalloped cucumber slices, potato chips and pickles and you'll have a delightful luncheon plate.

Many American milk consumers are a hard drinking bunch—they downed more than 12 billion quarts of milk last year. But many adults, as well as children, should drink more for a better diet.

Glazed Scones Fruity Dessert

Glazed Pineapple Scones will make an excellent addition to your dessert file and a treat you'll want to make again and again. They are a sweet variation, flavored with pineapple and pineapple juice.

To make finger-shaped scones, use two forks to drop batter on greased baking sheet, shaping it into bars about 4½ inches long and one inch wide.

After baking, glaze with lemon-flavored confectioners sugar frosting.

Glazed Pineapple Scones

2 cups sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup shortening
1 egg
¼ cup pineapple juice
1 cup drained crushed pineapple
Lemon Icing

Sift together flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Beat egg and add pineapple juice. Add to flour mixture. Add pineapple. Stir only until flour is well moistened.

Using two forks, drop batter on greased baking sheet, shaping the batter into long narrow bars (about 4½x1 inches). Press sides smooth. Bake in 425 oven 15 minutes. Frost at once with Lemon Icing.

Lemon Icing

⅓ cup confectioners sugar
1 tablespoon hot milk
¼ teaspoon lemon extract

Mix together until smooth. Makes about 18 to 20 scones.

Calcium and Riboflavin Are Supplied in Milk

Milk is a natural food substance necessary throughout life from infancy to old age. Calcium and riboflavin, the two nutrients in which most American diets need improvement, are both supplied in large measure in milk.

Fragile bones which are easily broken may result from too little calcium in the diet throughout life. Besides the vitamin riboflavin, milk contains all of the other vitamins known to be required by man.

Wheat Germ Top Makes It Crusty

Try this frosty Lime Snow dessert with its delicious, crusty topping made with nut-like wheat germ.

Lime Snow

1 package lime flavored gelatin
2 cups boiling water
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten
½ cup wheat germ
½ cup graham cracker crumbs

Dissolve gelatin in water. Chill until partly set; beat frothy; fold in whites. Pour into 9 inch square pan; top with ½ mixture of wheat germ, crumbs. Chill. Cut in cubes. Sprinkle with rest of crumbs.

Stuffed Fillets Baked in Wine

If you are tired of the same old ways to prepare those delicious golden yams, do try Yam-Stuffed Fillets baked in wine.

This dish has distinctive flair and flavor. Serve it in company with glasses of well-chilled white table wine one evening soon as a home celebration of Louisiana Yam Supper Season.

Yam-Stuffed Fillets Baked in Wine

4 medium-sized yams, cooked, peeled and mashed
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
¼ cup minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1¼ pounds fillets of sole
Salt and pepper
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons chopped parsley
½ cup Chablis or other white table wine

Combine yams, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine, onion, salt and pepper; mix well. Spread yam mixture over each fillet. Roll fillets jelly-roll fashion around yam stuffing and fasten securely with toothpicks.

Place in greased, shallow baking pan and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Melt 3 tablespoons butter or margarine over low heat; add parsley and wine. Pour over fillets.

Bake in hot oven (400) 20-25 minutes, or until fish flakes easily with a fork. Makes 4-6 servings.

Cabbage Leaf Bowl Will Dress Up Salad

Here's how to dress up a salad for that cold-cuts supper when you are having company. Use a medium-size head of cabbage and carefully spread out the outer leaves; cut out the center and mix it with grated carrot and salad dressing for your slaw.

Pile the slaw back into the cabbage bowl and sprinkle with minced parsley.

MADE BY THE MAKERS OF FAMOUS BAB-O

Rhubarb Crisp Sounds Yummy

Rosy rhubarb, fresh and crisp, is baked with a crisp cereal topping to make a perfectly wonderful dessert in tune with the season. Take advantage of the rhubarb in season right now, and try this mouth-watering dessert.

It's so easy to make, you can prepare it in a few minutes just before dinner, pop it into the oven, and it's ready to eat when the family or guests are ready for dessert.

Rolled oats and brown sugar are combined with margarine to make the crumbly topping sprinkled on uncooked juicy pink rhubarb. Serve Rhubarb Crisp warm and fragrant, topped with cream, whipped cream, or best of all, with a scoop of vanilla ice cream.

RHUBARB CRISP—Rosy rhubarb with a crumble topping makes a perfect spring dessert. It's easy to make and is a wonderful way to take advantage of the early rhubarb crop. Pull the rhubarb from your own plants or buy some of the fruit that Michigan produces in such abundance.

Rhubarb Crisp

4 cups diced raw pink rhubarb
1 tablespoon flour
⅓ cup sugar
1 tablespoon water
¾ cup quick-cooking rolled oats
⅔ cup light brown sugar, firmly packed
⅓ cup sifted all-purpose flour
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon salt
1 bar (⅓ cup) margarine

Combine first 4 ingredients and put in greased 6"x10"x2" baking dish. Combine next 5 ingredients in mixing bowl. Cut in margarine with fork until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle over rhubarb. Bake in 350 oven 45-50 minutes. Serve warm with or without cream. Makes 6 servings.

Hambone Flavors Split Pea Soup

Hambone Pea Soup

2¼ cup quick-cooking green split peas
1 hambone
2 small carrots (sliced)
1 stalk celery including leafy top (sliced)
1 medium-size onion (cut in thin strips)
Few sprigs parsley
5 cups water
Salt and pepper

Put peas in strainer and wash in cold water; drain; turn into soup kettle. Place hambone on top. Add carrots (there should be about ½ cup), celery, onion (there should be ¾ to 1 cup), parsley and water. Bring to a boil quickly; reduce heat and simmer, stirring occasionally, until peas are cooked—about 45 minutes. Remove hambone.

Put soup and vegetables through strainer or food mill—if strainer is used, press through vegetables. Reheat adding salt and pepper to taste. Makes 5 cups for 4 servings

Make Mine Vanilla!

Vanilla, chocolate and strawberry are America's favorite ice cream flavors. About 51 per cent of all ice cream sold is vanilla, 18 per cent chocolate, and almost 10 per cent strawberry.

Did you know that 10¼ quarts of milk solids are the least expensive and most concentrated food source of protein, calcium and riboflavin?

Michigan Lucky in Fish Supply

Michigan families have an opportunity to enjoy fish at all seasons. Sometimes when previous food is really available, it is not fully appreciated.

Fish is an excellent source of protein. It supplies complete protein which means it can be used in place of meat. Fish also contributes valuable minerals and vitamins to the diet.

If you want to enjoy fish prepared at its best, try some of the more unusual sauces, seasonings, and accompaniments. Contact the County Extension Office, 1260 West Blvd., Pontiac, FE 4-2564, for bulletins of fish recipes.

The size of the fish determines to some extent the way in which it should be cooked. Smaller fish may be baked or fried whole, and are more suited to use in salads and casserole dishes than the large fish. Large fish may be baked whole; but are filleted for frying, broiling, and other ways of cooking.

The drier fish such as smelt or perch, require some variety of sauce or melted fat brushed over them during the cooking process. This is unnecessary when the oily fish (carp, trout, or whitefish) are cooked.

Sour Milk With Lemon

To sour milk or cream, stir 1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar into each cup of sweet milk—let stand 15 minutes — then use in any recipe calling for sour milk or buttermilk.

CLOROX makes linens more than white... it makes them sanitary, too!

Clorox-clean cottons and linens are cleaner two ways: in appearance, for Clorox removes dinginess, stains, even scorch and mildew... and in hygienic cleanliness, too, for no other home laundering product equals Clorox in germ-killing efficiency!

And, especially important with youngsters' laundry, Clorox deodorizes... leaves sleepers, underclothes, crib sheets fresh smelling whether dried indoors or out. Also, thanks to an exclusive, patented formula, Clorox is free from caustic, extra gentle. And being a liquid, it contains no gritty particles to damage wash and washer.

Keep a bottle of CLOROX in your kitchen to brighten and disinfect your sink!

Yes, besides removing stains from porcelain, enamel, tile and linoleum surfaces, Clorox also deodorizes and disinfects... provides a type of non-poisonous disinfection recommended by hundreds of public health departments. See the Clorox label for many more work-saving and housecleaning hints.

You get all these benefits in a Clorox-clean wash!
1. Snowy-white linens... Clorox removes gray and yellow dinginess.
2. Bright fast colors... Clorox removes dulling film.
3. Lovely-looking linens... Clorox removes ugly stains, even scorch and mildew.
4. Fresh, clean-smelling linens... Clorox deodorizes.
5. Sanitary linens... Clorox is the most efficient germ-killer of its kind.

When it's CLOROX-clean... it's SAFER for family health!

Skillet, Coffeepot, Spoon: Behold---a Good Dinner!

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

So you're off to buy pots and pans for your new kitchen! You've finally found a place to live and, if you're going to eat, you'll have to do something about collecting utensils.

MRS. ODELL

Maybe we can help you decide what things you really need and which are the frills.

If you are like most brides, you will no doubt get some cast - offs from your mother's kitchen. However, we'll assume that you have to buy everything yourself. Just what is a minimum list?

We thought we'd look in the Encyclopedia of Cooking for their list. That was a mistake, for their long list is confusing. Let's use our common sense and work out your requirements.

You'll need a large frying pan and a tiny one; we think there is nothing better than the old-fashioned cast iron skillet, but you may prefer a stainless steel one.

All along you will have to make your choice of materials, each has some advantages. Remember that a utensil made of cast aluminum, for instance, will last indefinitely. It does not pay to buy a cheap grade of either aluminum or enameled ware.

A double boiler serves two purposes; it can be used as two saucepans when not in use as a double boiler.

You will need one or two small saucepans in which to heat vegetables, melt butter or warm up leftovers. Then, if your budget will stretch, get a Dutch oven or a pressure cooker. You may be a lucky bride who gets the latter as a wedding present.

You can do many Dutch oven-type meals in the pressure cooker, but you can't reverse this. If you get a medium size pressure cooker, it will hold cuts of meat, process pint jars of food for canning, and later on, sterilize the baby's bottles.

So much for the absolute essentials for cooking on top of the stove. A four quart saucepan to cook spaghetti for a party, for instance, is nice. And a tea kettle comes in handy. But you can manage without these if necessary.

As we have said in a previous article, there is so much electrical equipment these days that a number of pots and pans are unnecessary. What with automatic coffee makers, waffle irons, griddles, grills, egg cookers, deep fat fryers, roasters, yes, even tea kettles and frying pans, we need a battery of wall plugs, an extra set of fuses and a degree in mechanics to preside over our kitchens.

Seriously speaking, we suggest you buy only the minimum essentials. Then, as you go along, you will see for yourself what other things you need. You will probably get some wedding presents that are kitchen directed.

Get a long handled fork and spoon. We got a large spoon last Christmas that is wonderful; it is made of stainless steel, handle and all, and a small part of the handle is bent outward to hook over the edge of the pan. Watch for handles that are firmly anchored to the spoon or fork.

Whatever else you economize on, don't skimp on a good paring knife. Get the best possible one you can afford. A cheap knife will not keep its edge, and a dull tool is dangerous.

Add a can opener and bottle opener, an egg beater, pancake turner, strainer, one wooden spoon and a spatula. This is not by any means a complete list, but you will be able to get meals adequately. Next week we'll talk about what you need for baking.

Canned roast beef baked with a mashed potato crust becomes a shepherd's pie.

Canned mushrooms and a can of beef and gravy may be heated and served over rice.

Dieting Friends Will Like Menu

Invite your dieting friends to lunch and give them a meal that will not tempt them to forego their good intentions. After all, they are trying to slim down to fit into new summer clothes.

The entire luncheon is on the plate; no, madam, there is no dessert.

On a thick slice of fresh pineapple or cantaloupe arrange pieces of apple, banana, seeded grapes and orange or grapefruit wedges. Top with a low calorie fruit dressing. Fill cones of corvelat (summer sausage) with the dieter's friend, cottage cheese. Thin toasted buns complete the meal.

This makes a pleasing meal that gives the hostess signs of praise for understanding and culinary generalship.

A growing plant requires access to about 21 chemical elements.

Luncheon Meat Is the Leading Type in Cans

Luncheon meat is the leading canned meat, representing about 25 per cent of the total packed.

Next in order are: hams, chili con carne, stews, corned beef, corned beef hash, spaghetti meat products, Vienna sausage, deviled and potted meats, vinegar pickled products, tamales.

With a quick glaze or garnish, the addition of a vegetable or sauce, ready-prepared meats in cans become personal achievements of the home cook.

About 85 per cent of the families in America use meats in cans sometime during the year, and these meats are used by all age groups and in every geographical area.

Every pound of meat in cans is equivalent to 2 pounds of meat in carcass form.

Canned meats, except for canned hams which are labeled "Keep Under Refrigeration," may be stored as other canned foods on a shelf where there is a good circulation of air and a moderate temperature.

Once opened, the meat must be treated as any other cooked meat and kept refrigerated. In any case, where refrigeration of meats is necessary, the can label will clearly state directions.

Pudding Chock Full of Flavor, Nutrition

It's fun to surprise the family with an old favorite dessert in brand new dress. Orange Tapioca Pudding is just that kind. It combines the texture and flavor of old fashioned tapioca pudding with the cool, refreshing sparkle that only fresh oranges give.

The oranges add both appetite appeal and nutritional value to the pudding, providing vitamins and minerals so necessary in a well-balanced diet. Plan this in your reducing diet.

Orange Tapioca

¼ cup quick-cooking tapioca
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups boiling water
3 teaspoons liquid no-calorie sweetener
½ cup fresh orange juice
½ medium orange, cut into bite-size pieces

Combine tapioca, salt and boiling water in top of double boiler. Cook mixture over hot water until clear, about 12 minutes. Combine liquid no-calorie sweetner with orange juice and add to the cooked mixture.

Fold in the orange pieces. Chill. Serves 4 to 5. 1 serving — 15 calories.

One pint of milk in a cream sauce with one 7-ounce can of tuna will make 4 servings.

Zippy Dessert Is Refreshing

Warm weather is with us, bringing with it the problem of serving foods which are light and tempting and, at the same time, satisfying.

A Bavarian cream is a dessert that fills all of these requirements and, when made with dry milk, has the added qualities of being economical and low in calories.

For sparkle, tempting appearance and delicate flavor, use pale dry ginger ale in which to dissolve the gelatin.

Try this trick of using ginger ale with any gelatin dessert or salad for flavor variation.

Raspberry-Ginger Bavarian Cream

2 cups hot pale dry ginger ale
1 3-ounce package raspberry-flavored gelatin
½ cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ cup non-fat dry milk
¾ cup crushed raspberries (fresh or quick-frozen)

Pour hot pale dry ginger ale over gelatin in large bowl; stir until dissolved. Chill in refrigerator until slightly thickened, stirring occasionally.

Meanwhile, pour water and lemon juice into deep 1-quart bowl. Sprinkle dry milk over water. Beat with rotary or electric beater until stiff, about 7 to 10 minutes.

Fold raspberries into gelatin mixture. Fold in whipped milk mixture. Pour into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Makes 6 servings.

Raisin-Oat Cookies Right for Small Fry

These cookies are just right for small fry. Put them in their lunchbox or serve after school.

Raisin-Oat Cookies

1⅓ cups sifted cake flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly-packed light brown sugar
2 teaspoons cinnamon
1 teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon ginger
½ cup milk
1¾ cup uncooked rolled oats (quick-cooking variety)
¾ cup raisins (rinsed in hot water and drained)

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter brown sugar with cinnamon, cloves and ginger. Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk. Stir in rolled oats and raisins. Drop by heaping teaspoonsful, about 1-inch apart, onto greased baking sheet. Bake in 350 oven 15 to 20 minutes. Makes about 50 cookies.

Peanuts Rate High Place Tastewise, Nutritionwise

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Listed as one of the plentiful foods for this month are peanuts. Few of us, I believe, realize what an immensely valuable crop this tasty little nut is. The United States produces over a billion pounds annually! That is but a small portion of the world's supply.

Peanuts — goobers — or groundnuts are not really nuts, you know, but legumes. After the flowers of the plant wither and fall off, the stalks bend downward and push into the earth where the pods develop and ripen out of sight.

Their food value is incredible. A pound of peanuts contains more proteins than a pound of the best sirloin steak, in addition to as much carbohydrates as a pound of potatoes, and one-third as much fat as a pound of butter.

So when we feed our children peanut butter sandwiches, we are giving them an excellent food.

We all know about the experiments made by George Washington Carver in his search to find more uses for peanuts. No part of the "nut" is wasted; in addition to food for both humans and animals, peanuts go into medicine (the oil), into insulation (the hulls), and into fertilizer (the residue from the various pressings).

Like the pineapple, the potato, corn and tomatoes, peanuts were grown by the South American Indians centuries ago.

Scientists have roasted and eaten peanuts found in the tombs of Incan mummies, peanuts that have been buried for hundreds, even thousands of years. They are almost exactly like the peanuts we crunch happily at ball games.

We all know dozens of ways of using peanuts and peanut butter; but perhaps I can suggest a few new ideas.

If you like salted peanuts, do try this method of fixing them. Admittedly it is more work, but the end justifies the means. You may have to hunt around a bit for the unroasted, or raw peanuts.

DeLuxe Salted Peanuts

1 cup shelled, unroasted peanuts
½ cup salt
3 cups water
2 teaspoons butter or oil

Place peanuts in boiling water for 3 minutes. Drain, cover with cold water, drain again and slip off the skins.

Heat the 3 cups of water, add the salt and when the water is boiling, add the peanuts. Cook for 8 minutes. Drain and rinse to remove the salt.

Place the nuts in a shallow pan, add the butter or oil, and bake in a 350 oven until slightly browned, stirring often. Turn onto absorbent paper. Makes ½ pound peanuts.

Another way to salt blanched, raw peanuts is to deep fat fry them until lightly browned. Salt to taste.

Done either way, they're superb and totally unlike any salted peanuts you've ever eaten.

Peanut and Carrot Salad

2 cups grated carrots
1 cup ground peanuts
1 tablespoon grated onion
1 tablespoon salt
½ cup mayonnaise
Lettuce

Combine all ingredients except lettuce. Mix lightly and serve on crisp lettuce leaves. Garnish with tomato wedges, if desired. Serves 6.

Veal Loin Chops Tender, Succulent Cooked This Way

Here are directions for the best breaded veal chops you ever tasted!

Breaded Veal Chops

4 center loin veal chops (each about ¾-inch thick)
1 egg
2 tablespoons buttermilk
½ teaspoon salt
Pepper
2 to 3 tablespoons flour
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Roll end of each chop together pinwheel-fashion and skewer to meaty part of chop with a toothpick.

Put egg in small hallow dish; beat with fork enough to combine yolk and white; blend in buttermilk, salt, and pepper to taste.

Put flour on one side of work board; put bread crumbs on other side. Dip each chop in flour, then in egg, and last in bread crumbs; with wide spatula, place on waxed paper.

Heat butter in 10-inch iron skillet; arrange chops in skillet and cook slowly until golden-brown on bottom side — about 10 minutes; turn and brown other side the same way.

Place cover on skillet (it should not fit tightly) and cook slowly about 15 minutes; turn chops once if necessary to cook evenly. Remove cover and cook slowly until very tender — about 10 minutes longer. Remove toothpicks. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

BLITZ KUCHEN—Here is a most unusual cake, Blitz Kuchen. There are many kinds of kuchens made with yeast; this one has a cake bottom layer with a meringue and nuts spread on top before baking. It's delightful eating for guests who drop in, or for late-evening refreshments.

Guests Will Ask About Kuchen

A butter flavored layer of cake topped with a fluffy meringue and chopped nuts—that's blitz kuchen. After the first bite the family will wonder what this delicious combination is. Then watch them enjoy it to the last crumb.

The bottom layer is made just as you would mix a cake. The flavor can be plain or varied with lemon or almond extract.

This batter is spread in a rectangular pan and the meringue is spread on top of it. The last touch is chopped nuts, sprinkled on the top of the meringue.

It is baked in a 350 oven for 40 minutes. After it is removed from the oven, cut it in squares or rectangles with a very sharp knife.

Blitz Kuchen

½ cup butter
½ cup sugar
5 egg yolks
½ cup milk
1½ cups sifted cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
5 egg whites
1 cup sugar
1 cup chopped pecans

Cream butter and ½ cup sugar. Add egg yolks and milk and mix well. Add flour and baking powder sifted together. Lastly add vanilla. Spread this dough in a 10-14 inch pan. Beat the egg whites until stiff and add the 1 cup sugar.

Beat until stiff again. Spread on top of the dough. Sprinkle chopped pecans on top of the meringue, and place in a 350 oven for 35-40 minutes. Cuts into 24 cookies.

Did you know that 10 quarts of rich milk are needed to provide the four pints of rich cream necessary to make one pound of butter?

Cook Big Hamburgs on Outdoor Grill

Breathes there a man who doesn't like hamburgers grilled over an open fire. Especially if he's in charge of cooking operations? Well, now's the time to start collecting recipes for such meals.

If you are left with the preparations of the meat, prior to cooking, try these Man-Size Hamburgers. So called because they're made the way men love them—oversize. Corn flakes cereal is used for flavor and texture.

A truly good recipe bound to get compliments for the cook for "his" hamburgers.

Man-Size Meat Patties

3 cups corn flakes
¾ cup milk
1½ pound ground beef
3 tablespoons finely chopped onions
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper

Crush corn flakes slightly; add remaining ingredients and mix well. Shape into large patties. Broil about 10 minutes on each side. Serve at once. Yield: 6 generous servings.

Planes, Ships Hunt for PBY

Comb East China Sea for Bomber Believed Down With 17 Men

IWAKUNI, Japan (UP)—Planes and ships ranged over the East China Sea today in a vast hunt for a U.S. Navy patrol-bomber missing since Wednesday with 17 men aboard.

The search was spurred by the admittedly slim hope that the twin-engined amphibious patrol bomber could still be afloat if it landed undamaged in the sea south of Japan.

The plane "dropped out of sight" Wednesday while on a routine flight to Hong Kong from the Iwakuni Air Base. It made radio contact with the base an hour and a half after a dawn takeoff as it left the Japanese coastline near Nagasaki.

Three hours later, a distress signal was picked up and the Navy said it believed the call came from the plane. A Far East naval command spokesman said the plane must "be presumed to be down."

Aboard were seven naval officers, two Marine officers and eight Navy enlisted men. Two of the enlisted men are brothers, Donald and James Landon of Pittsburgh.

Navy and Air Force planes fanned out over the area Wednesday but failed to sight any trace of the plane or its passengers. Naval ships also joined in the search, criss-crossing the sea where the plane was believed to have come down.

The missing men aboard the PBY brought to 26 the number unreported in Far East military plane crashes and disappearances in the past week. Thirteen others have been definitely listed as killed.

Navy headquarters in Washington said none of those aboard the PBY was from Michigan.

Peaceful A-Power Urged by Engineer

DETROIT (INS) — An atomic engineer said in Detroit last night that peaceful use of atomic power as a major source of energy is the only method whereby the world can avoid degenerating into a caveman economy.

H. N. Muller, assistant to the engineering vice president of Westinghouse, told the Michigan post of the American Ordnance Association:

"Increasing depletion of our conventional energy reserves (coal, gas, oil) combined with almost explosive population growth, threaten our civilization. We can sink into primitive life by exhaustion of our power as well as through war."

Irate Motorist Cusses Wrong Man—the Judge

DENVER (UP)—Leo May, 23, of Denver swore at the motorist who pulled alongside him and cautioned him about reckless driving. At the curb he challenged the man to a fight.

But three hours later he quietly pleaded guilty to charges of using profanity and received a $10 fine from Municipal Judge George McNamara, the motorist who had admonished him.

The modern armored military tank was a British invention first used in the battle of the Somme in France in 1916.

University Plans Probe Methods

Advisory Board to Act With President Hatcher in 3 Suspensions

ANN ARBOR (UP) — A course of procedure has been set up at the University of Michigan for investigation of the cases of three suspended faculty members.

The three were suspended after their refusals to answer questions of a House un-American activities subcommittee headed by Rep. Clardy (R-Mich).

A special advisory board to University President Harlan H. Hatcher announced the course of procedure yesterday. The board is assisting Dr. Hatcher in disposal of the suspension cases.

There would be a total series of five steps.

The board and Dr. Hatcher will review the evidence together and the board will make conclusions. Dr. Hatcher then will decide whether to lift the suspensions or make a "preliminary" decision of dismissal.

Step three would follow in event of an order for dismissal.

Step 4: The committee would review evidence, get further available evidence, and send its conclusions to Dr. Hatcher.

Step 5: Dr. Hatcher then would finally decide either to lift the suspension or recommend dismissal to the board of regents.

The three suspended faculty men are Dr. Horace Chandler Davis and Profs. Mark Nickerson and Clement Markert.

Moth Spray Pilots Near End of Job

LANSING (AP)—Pilots of four commercial spraying aircraft had only a little more than a quarter of the scheduled area around Lansing to go today.

C. A. Boyer, State Agriculture Department official, said that of the 104,000 acres scheduled to be sprayed to wipe out gypsy moth larvae, 72,108 acres had been completed.

With good weather the job may be completed today, he added.

The planes can only operate when the wind velocity is below eight miles an hour.

The state "little legislature" appropriated an emergency $150,000 for the spraying and a follow-up trapping job in the hope of wiping out the infestation, the first farther west than Pennsylvania.

Djakarta, capital city of Indonesia, is 10,400 miles by sea from New York and 7,640 miles from San Francisco.

Insects cause an annual agricultural loss in the United States of at least $3.6 billion.

Clifton Webb Nixes Return to Broadway

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"The stage?" said Clifton Webb reflectively. "No, I don't think I shall ever return to the theater."

Webb seated himself in his spacious and tastefully decorated dressing room on the set of "A Woman's World." He had slipped into a robe and wore dark glasses with a piece of cardboard over his nose so the makeup would not be rubbed off. From a vacuum bottle he poured some milk — "Ulcer, you know."

* * *

When I declined a cigarette, he sighed, "I cannot do without them. When the doctor took me to the hospital and diagnosed the ulcer, he told me to quit smoking. I tried for two whole days, and I was miserable. The slightest noise made me jump. Finally the doctor allowed me to smoke, as long as I didn't do it on an empty stomach."

As he sipped the milk and gained solace from the cigarette, he talked about his career, past and present.

One thing he does not like about 20th-Century culture: its preoccupation with violence.

* * *

"I liked 'Three Coins in the Fountain,'" he commented. "It was a gentle sort of thing. Nobody was hurt in the end.

"But that is all too rare nowadays. The movies concentrate on murder, mayhem and other forms of violence. Television is the same; it must have a terrible effect on the children.

"Even the stage has been taken over by the so-called realism. The gentle art of high comedy, such as the shows I used to do, is virtually nonexistent. I am happy to say that Miss Ina Claire returned it to Broadway last season in 'The said Clifton Webb reflectively. "Nonificent. But such artistry is seen all too seldom."

* * *

Webb said he had no yen to return to the legitimate theater, where he thrived for more than 40 years. He made his debut as a boy in 1903.

"When I go to plays in New York," he said, "I look up at the actors and say, 'You poor devils. You have to do the same thing tomorrow — perhaps twice, if it's a Wednesday or Saturday.'

"The trouble with doing a play nowadays is this: if you're in a hit, you have to play it over and over for two years or more; if you're in a flop, your ego is damaged. You can't win either way."

Imperceptive Dog Goes Through Closed Window

FRESNO, Calif. (UP) — Police officers recently investigated a suspected burglary at the home of Mrs. Ina Mae Northington when they noticed a broken window screen and glass.

However, it turned out that Mrs. Northington's chow dog was the intruder. The dog usually enters the house by jumping through an open window. On this occasion, the dog failed to notice that the window was closed.

Vaccine Maker Reports Expansion

Experts Probe Salt Firm Blast

Explosion Wednesday Killed One, Injured 8, in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Explosion experts today investigated an "experimental powder" blast which killed one man and injured eight others at the Pennsylvania Salt Mfg. Co. yesterday.

The blast, in a container holding hundreds of pounds of the powder, shook and damaged a building of the big chemicals firm in suburban Wyandotte in midafternoon.

Its terrific force tore and twisted steel window frames. Windows of nearby buildings were shattered.

A score of other men in the building were periled as the blast ripped through the 50 by 60-foot building.

Ray Mehling, 30, a worker, died of his injuries six hours after being taken to Wyandotte General Hosital.

Three company executives and two other workers were hospitalized. Three more men were given first-aid treatment at the scene.

After the blast a management representative declined to identify the powder. At the same time he expressed mystification as to the cause of the explosion.

It was indicated that an actual experiment was under way at the time.

Pennsylvania Salt is one of the nation's largest chemical firms. It makes a variety of products. It employs 750 persons.

Drug Company to Hike Output

Will Produce Polio Serum at Large Farm Near Rochester

ROCHESTER—Parke, Davis & Company, one of the biggest producers of polio vaccine, today announced plans for new facilities at its 700-acre Parkedale Farm here to increase the firm's output of vaccine for use next summer.

The firm supplied a large percentage of the vaccine now being used by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis in its nationwide inoculation program involving some 650,000 school children.

Harry J. Loynd, president of the world-wide pharmaceutical firm, said work has just been started on the new laboratories, and that they are scheduled to be completed and in operation by Oct. 1, 1954.

The facilities will supplement existing facilities in the company's main laboratories at Detroit and materially increase vaccine production, according to Loynd.

Vaccine will be produced here in two buildings, one of which will be entirely new. The new building will be constructed of masonry and steel, with the interior in glaze tile.

The other structure will be remodeled to accommodate several thousand monkeys which play an important role in production of the vaccine. Kidneys and other tissues from the animals are used to grow the three types of virus in test tubes. Final product is tested in live monkeys for 28 days before it is pronounced safe and effective.

Contract for the construction has been awarded to the John Cooley Co. of Detroit. The new facilities will be staffed mainly by trained technicians, the number as yet undetermined.

Parke-Davis has 51 years of experience and knowledge in vaccine research and production dating back to 1903, when it obtained U. S. License No. 1 for manufacture of biological products.

Located on rolling countryside just east of Rochester, the Parkedale biological and botanical laboratories were established in 1908 and have produced many of the firm's antitoxins, antiserums, vac-

New Station Under Study

Royal Oak Is Informed Grand Trunk Weighs North-Side Site

ROYAL OAK—City commissioners here this week were informed that the Grand Trunk Railway will look into the question of providing an additional commuter station for the north area of the city.

The commission was informed by S. J. Massey Jr., vice president and general manager of the railroad.

The City Planning Commission at a meeting May 19 recommended to the City Commission that a new commuter station be located at either 13-Mile road or Normandy road.

It was pointed out that an additional station was needed because of the rapid development of the area.

Still greater residential development is forecast for the area with the completion of additional water facilities by the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority.

State CIO Chief Wins Re-election With Pay Raise

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—With a pay boost of $1,000 a year August (Gus) Scholle stays on as president of the Michigan CIO Council.

Both Scholle, longtime head of the state CIO organization, and Barney Hopkins, a long-timer as secretary-treasurer, were re-elected by better than 3-1 majorities last night.

The elections, along with approval by a scant margin of a per capita tax increase, capped a sometimes heated fight over the organization's financial policies, including the officers' pay raises.

The per capita increase — on which the pay boosts hinged — barely succeeded. The vote was announced as 2,576 in favor and 2,320 in opposition.

The increase, from 4 cents to 5 cents monthly, will bring in an estimated additional $67,000 a year to headquarters offices.

Of this, $30,000 is intended for legislative work by the CIO in Michigan, the remainder to pay increases for officers and staff members and other administrative purposes.

Milford Fights to Keep Dentist

Over 250 Petitioners Protest Naval Recall of Dr. Lawrence

Residents of the Milford area began an 11th hour move last night to stay the recall to active Navy duty of Dr. Robert J. Lawrence.

More than 250 residents signed petitions against the move, wires were dispatched to Sen. Homer Ferguson and Rep. George A. Dondero, and calls were made to Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Due to a chronic bone infection Dr. Lawrence has been pronounced "permanently disabled" several times by examining doctors. Dr. Lawrence is the father of five small children and one of three dentists in the Milford area, one of whom limits his practice to dentures and fillings.

The popular 36-year-old dentist is scheduled to report for duty Monday. He was recently informed by his Detroit draft board that he would be drafted April 29 if he did not seek and receive a commission before then.

Although Navy medics at first reported him unfit, his condition was later waived and he was sworn in as a lieutenant in the Dental Corps.

The petitions will be presented to the governor today if an appointment can be secured. Attempts to reach him by telephone yesterday failed.

The petitions indicated signers felt "a grave injustice is being done by recalling Dr. Robert J. Lawrence to active duty, in view of the fact that he is needed in the community, that he has five minor children, and that his medical history is such that he is not qualified for active duty."

Residents attending graduation exercises at the Highland Auditorium last night stood in long lines to sign the protest petitions.

Affidavits of the dentist's indispensability to the community have been forwarded to draft officials by the Village Council, the chamber of commerce, the superintendent of Huron Valley School, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the American Legion, and several professional men of the community.

Due to his chronic osteomyelitis, one leg is 2 inches shorter than the other. Dr. Lawrence has undergone nine operations.

Can Can Still Draws in Paris

Moulin Rouge Finds Great Response to It After 75 Years

By ROBERT AHIER

PARIS (UP) — After three-quarters of a century, the French can-can is still bringing large crowds to the Moulin Rouge night club.

"Frenchmen and tourists like to see the typical can-can dance because it reminds them of a happy period," said pretty Marie-Jeanne Meigrie, captain of the can-can girls.

Marie-Jeanne, a 28-year-old brunette, started dancing at the age of six. After being trained in the Paris Opera ballet she left classical dancing for the can-can.

"I was too tall for the opera," she said. "They could not match me with any Frenchmen, so I decided to turn to the can-can. It's much more fun."

Marie-Jeanne shrugged her shoulders when the can-can dancing in the American film, "Moulin Rouge" was mentioned.

"It is a good movie," she said, "but its can-can dances are elementary compared to what we do here."

She explained that although the music has remained the same and the steps are similar to those danced by the first dancers at the Moulin Rouge late in the last century, the pace has changed.

"We go much faster now and all our movements are bigger and more acrobatic," she said. "It comes from hard daily training."

Marie-Jeanne said that in the past dancers kicked their legs waist high, while now they kick head-high. Splits were made by sliding, while now they are made in a powerful jump. The rhythm of the music is also faster.

The black-lace stockings, white petticoats, long dresses and glimpses of bare thighs during the kicks are the same as always.

The part of "Boneless Valentin" —The man who performs in the middle of the can-can—is danced now by 23-year-old Jean-Louis Bert who, after appearing in the "Folies Bergeres," turned to the can-can because of his long legs and extremely thin figure.

"I dance my part, using more athletic and acrobatic movements than the first Valentin ever did," he said, "but it is normal as I follow a steady physical training plan, which was unknown in Valentin's time."

One novelty of the Moulin Rouge dances is a 25-year-old American dancer from Texas, Dora Avila, who performs subtle modern dances.

"After dancing on Broadway, I came to France on a holiday," he said, "and on my first night I went to watch the Moulin Rouge show and they hired me for six months."

Juniper for Headaches?

KENT, Ohio (INS) — In pre-aspirin days, trees were often looked to for headache remedies. One headache "cure" was brewed from Juniper leaves, according to tree lore collectors of the Davey Tree Expert Company.

CLASSES MOVE OUTDOORS — Come spring, school physical education classes in Michigan move outdoors. At Tappan Junior High School in Ann Arbor, Sandra Wilson, a ninth grader, shows good form in her first try at the shot put, as classmates look on. That's an eight-pound ball she's tossing. The class also broadjumped, with Sandra making 13½ feet.

Jap Fisherman Says Russians Beat Him

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese fishing boat captain released by the Russians yesterday said he had been beaten with a leather whip by Russians who accused him of spying.

* * *

Kyodo news agency said two small fishing boats returned to Rausu in Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost main island. They were seized by the Soviets May 28.

* * *

Twelve crewmen were aboard released boats. They reported they had been held on one of the Russian-held Kurile Islands, north of Hokkaido.

They said at least 10 Japanese fishing boats and crews still were held in the area.

'Near-Perfect' Crime Brings Usual End

* * *

Grammer was convicted of bludgeoning his attractive, 33-year-old wife to death in August 1952 and sending her body hurtling downhill in an automobile so that it would appear she died in an accident.

Two county officers, who happened by almost at the instant of the wreck, found a pebble wedged under the accelerator of the auto. And Mrs. Grammer's wounds didn't match the condition of the car.

Senate Page Paid Off by Trip to Ball Game

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—John M. Gibson, 13, of Independence, Mo., visited the Missouri State Senate where his father is Democratic floor leader. By long standing custom, he was appointed an honorary page.

His "pay" was set out in a formal resolution which was adopted by the Senate. It directed his father, Sen. Floyd R. Gibson, to take him to St. Louis to see the Cardinals in action.

The U. S. maintains military and naval bases in the Philippines under the terms of a 99-year agreement. In the interests of international security the bases are available to the U. N.

Protesting Resident Fails to Get All Facts

COUNCIL BLUFFS, Iowa (AP) — The indignant Council Bluffs citizen who called police to report he had seen a policeman riding in the back seat of a police car with his arm around a pretty girl just didn't have the whole story.

The girl was the policeman's daughter and she was being rushed to a hospital with an injured hand.

St. Lawrence Waterway Will Bring Many Problems, Benefits to Michigan

LANSING (AP) — Your head will swim at some of the problems and benefits state officials expect when the St. Lawrence Seaway reaches Michigan waters of the Great Lakes.

These are some of the predictions offered at a conference in Gov. Williams' office.

The state's annual two per cent normal population gain will jump to 30 per cent a year and Detroit's population will climb to 3,700,000 persons 10 years after the seaway opens.

Tremendous highway, housing, urban and rural zoning, industrial expansion problems will result.

The Escanaba-Manistique area is best suited in the state for a major port expansion.

The Upper Peninsula should reap a harvest because shippers of North Dakota wheat, Montana beef and Canadian grains, seeking the quickest route to water, should funnel through the Upper Peninsula instead of shipping to the West Coast.

The state must quickly buy more land for recreational purposes since larger urban populations will need room to play; state parks must be expanded.

Many fine recreational spots along the Great Lakes, especially duck hunting areas, will be gobbled up by the expanding industry and shipping.

The pressure of industry on public waters will be heavier, possibly causing a rise in water pollution.

New legislation is needed to permit private and public financing of the port developments and industrial expansion.

The growth of population and the inrush of industry, with its highways, airports and rights-of-way, will take much good agricultural land out of production and the state's farmers may have trouble feeding Michigan.

The state must vastly increase its inspection services if food stuffs from all over the world pour through Michigan ports.

Railroad and truck operations will be swamped with dockside hauling.

These were some of the problems visioned by state officials. To find solutions, Gov. Williams shaped the group into a state agency council to plan for the seaway-days and to report in two weeks with nominations for a larger council representing industry, business, labor, government, education and others.

Thomas L. Lott of the State Waterways Commission told the group that there are too many public and private agencies setting up seaway planning and study groups. They must be coordinated, he said.

He declared there is a chance of serious geographic rivalry between Michigan cities for port developments.

A successful port development, he said, must have a sizeable "hinterland" to provide exports and absorb imports. Monroe and Detroit are rivals for that in the metropolitan area, he said, while the Escanaba-Manistique area presents one of the few areas of the state with sufficient "hinterland" to succeed. Michigan is too narrow for many communities to develop a big port, he said.

Bert Robb, commission secretary, said Wisconsin has the jump on the Great Lakes states, partly because of a good state port authority law and partly because it can concentrate on its single good port, Milwaukee. Ohio is working rapidly with a legislative study committee, he said, and Illinois has a "paper" overall state committee.

Robb reported many eastern seaboard businesses are planning to move to the Great Lakes to be nearer markets and that Michigan has a great opportunity to attract new businesses.

Robb said "the seaway is not five to six years away — we have it now."

There will be more than 300 cargoes leaving Michigan's ports for foreign lands this year, he said. He noted that hides can be shipped by water from Detroit to New York for one-eleventh the overland cost.

Traverse City cherries and Michigan apple juice, hides, cars and machinery already are going down the St. Lawrence from Michigan, he said.

Outracing the Junk Man

NEW YORK (INS) — The U. S. is making cars more than twice as fast as it is junking them. Last year 2,465,936 autos were scrapped, according to R. L. Polk & Co. industrial statisticians, while new car output totaled 6,121,787, with total new registrations at 5,738,989.

INFLATABLE TENT — Raising the roof of this tent is merely a matter of pumping air into the many hoses placed throughout the canvas. This eliminates the use of cumbersome metal or wooden struts. When morning comes, user can quickly deflate tent, fold into a 16-by-20-inch bundle, below, and leave. The unit is manufactured in West Berlin, Germany.

Bob Considine Says:

Mamie Has Help on Menu for Haile Selassie Dinner

WASHINGTON (INS) — The State Department helped Mamie Eisenhower arrange the menu for the recent dinner the Eisenhowers gave at the White House for Emperor Haile Selassie. At least, it told her politely what not to serve to the Conquering Lion of Judah.

"No shellfish, pork, or the flesh of web-footed fowl," decreed the foreign office with inscrutable wisdom.

P.S. — He got roast beef, and liked it.

Thomas E. Murray, atomic energy commissioner, took a long and courageous chance at the Catholic University of America graduation ceremonies when he urged that the American people and the rest of the world be let in on the terrifying scope of an up-to-date H-bomb detonation.

Murray argued that no engineering and scientific secrets would be revealed by such a test.

If the world only knew, said Murray, who witnessed the horrendous March 1, 1954 test, there would be significant new demands for peace.

Murray and AEC Chairman Lewis Strauss do not see eye to eye on this proposal. As has been abundantly proved of late, anyone on the commission who does not see eye to eye with Strauss is in danger of being removed.

Strauss has the ear and the confidence of the President and — if a pending bill passes — will, in effect, become the czar of atomic energy in this country. He is so security - conscious that he frowned on the shipment abroad of radioactive isotopes used in medical and other research.

Incidentally, one famed scientist who worked on the bomb asked to be tied to the first one dropped on a civilian population, as atonement for what he felt was the sin of attending at its birth.

The last time Murray suggested that a public H-bomb test be held he received a tart reprimand from the White House.

Gen. Harry Vaughan is in the export business.

Former Defense Secretary Louis Johnson, ex-Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida, former presidential assistant Matt Connolly, former Interior Secretary Oscar Chapman, former Agriculture Secretary Charles Brannan, ex-Sen. Millard Tydings and hosts of others, who once made front page news, are practicing law.

All are rooted in Washington. All are Democrats who still can't believe it.

People in general just don't seem to be able to leave Washington. Especially those who came here to cover the Army - McCarthy hearings.

Sugar, fixed in green plant leaves yearly is estimated to represent energy equal to 300 billion tons of coal.

Pakistan Sends Woman Envoy to Netherlands

Pennsylvania's mines yield a greater tonnage of anthracite coal than that produced by any other state.

Rabbits Endanger Flights

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Big jackrabbits make landings and take offs hazardous at the Municipal Airport. Police Chief James Hicks led 30 policemen on a hunt. They shot more than 250 rabbits which were fed to the city zoo's lions and panthers.

Soldier Sings to Aid Training

Musical Medic Uses Calypso Song to Teach Bandage Lesson

FT. SAM HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A 350-pound sergeant stepped out in front of his class on bandaging. He rolled his eyes, bounced a couple of times and chanted:

"The roller bandage is so neat,
"The flannel bandage gives with the heat,
"The gauze, of course, lets in the air,
"With a wound on the head you shave your hair."

That is the first verse of "The Roller Bandage Calypso," an Army training aid with a West Indian beat.

The song just came to M. Sgt. William J. Paschall Sr., a former Memphis and St. Louis "rhythm and blues man," one day.

* * *

He was listening to another instructor teach trainees at Brooke Army Hospital here about the long narrow bandage, how it's used to keep dressings in place and protect wounds.

"I made a little ditty in my head," said Paschall, who sometimes is known as "350 pounds of solid sugar" and also as "the melodious medic."

"Now I use it after each lecture on roller bandages," Paschall said. "And the trainees sing it with me. You'd be amazed how fast it caught on—I heard the men singing the song while they were shooting pool at the service club and pulling 'KP'."

Congressman Wins 2 Victories in Golden State

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Rep. Harlan Hagen (D-Calif) returned last night to Washington, D. C., assured of renomination and free of a charge of being drunk in an auto.

The drunk charge against the 40-year-old Hanford attorney, who is seeking his second term in the House, was ordered dismissed yesterday in Fresno Municipal Court on the ground of congressional immunity.

A charge of drunk driving was filed, however, against the lawmaker's executive secretary, George C. Baker, 33.

Hagen issued a statement expressing gratitude to voters for his primary victory and calling dismissal of the charge "a complete vindication of my original protest against arrest."

Hagen and Baker were stopped early Tuesday shortly after driving here from Kern County, where the congressman had made his final campaign speeches.

Takes Voice Calisthenics

COLUMBUS, Ga. (UP) — Stephen Harbachic, an officer candidate at Ft. Benning, Ga., keeps trained in his civilian profession by issuing loud orders. The former opera singer who recently won New York City's Caruso Memorial Award says this form of sounding off "keeps my voice in trim."

4 City Schools to Get Repairs

Work at PHS, Wilson, Central and McConnell to Cost $64,000

Some $64,000 worth of repairs and remodeling are in store for Pontiac High, Central, Wilson and McConnell schools, a Pontiac Board of Education meeting showed Wednesday.

The school board has already awarded contracts for $13,200 to Bundy Construction Co. and $17,712 to Eames and Brown to completely revamp all PHS toilet rooms.

The school board authorized J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent, to decide who will do a $17,700 repair job on Wilson's toilet rooms.

The board asked Chissus Construction Co. to install fireproof steel stairwells at Central School at a cost not to exceed $11,707.

Cox reported there's money in next year's school budget to finish a wall across the McConnell School playground and fence it so that students can't fall. The two-level McConnell site has a six-foot drop alongside the school, shored up by a partly-finished wall that, Cox said, "is a danger to youngsters."

Board members asked Cox to get breaks in sidewalks at Bagley School and PHS repaired and put more light on the high school's Washington street steps for people attending night affairs at PHS.

Treated to Blowouts

MADISON, WIS. (UP) — The driver had been gone from the tavern only a short time when he asked police to investigate two "bombings" of his car. Officers found he had two tire blowouts.

Tigers, Yanks Mum on Rumored 5-Player Deal

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Heartened by the results of their trading efforts the past two weeks, the Detroit Tigers were in a mood today to swap some more players.

Tiger boss Walter O. (Spike) Briggs and his first lieutenant, General Manager Herold (Muddy) Ruel, were in town today for a confab with General Manager George Weiss of the New York Yankees.

* * *

While both Weiss and Briggs denied a rumor that they had discussed a deal involving five players, neither would comment on a report they planned to get together again today.

* * *

The players mentioned include southpaw Ted Gray, infielders Johnny Pesky and Fred Hatfield and outfielder Bob Nieman of Detroit and second baseman Gil McDougald, outfielder Bob Cerv and pitcher Tom Gorman of New York.

Gray definitely is on the market. The 29-year-old Detroit native apparently has outlived his usefulness to the Tigers. Currently plagued by a sore arm, Gray owns a 1-2 record this season. When right, Ted is one of the best lefthanders in the American League. A fast ball pitcher with an excellent curve, Gray has a lifetime mark of 55 victories and 66 defeats in six full seasons with Detroit.

The Yankees are in dire need of another lefthanded pitcher and an outfielder. The slow start of southpaw Whitey Ford has hurt the club. The injury to Enos Slaughter which will sideline the veteran outfielder for at least a month, has weakened the Yankee bench.

During the last two weeks the Tigers have acquired pitcher George Zuverink, first baseman Wayne Belardi and catcher Bob (Red) Wilson. Zuverink, purchased from Cincinnati for the $10,000 waiver price, has won two of his three starts. Wilson, from the Chicago White Sox obtained in a trade for catcher Matt Batts, has been alternating behind the bat with Frank House.

Belardi, acquired from Brooklyn late Tuesday night for infielder Charlie Kress; a bundle of cash and two minor league players, broke in with a bang yesterday. Used as a pinch hitter against the Yankees, the 23-year-old lefthanded hitter, rapped a single to keep a Tiger rally alive.

* * *

Only some 15 hours earlier, Belardi had bowed out as a Dodger with a pinch hit single against the St. Louis Cardinals.

* * *

The newest Tiger joined the club only two hours before it arrived at Yankee Stadium for the second of the three game series with New York.

"Leaving the Dodgers might cost me financially," Belardi said, "but in the long run, I think it was the best thing that could have happened to me."

Kitten's Got Claws!

Haddix Is First Lefty to Shackle Dodgers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Harvey (The Kitten) Haddix, ace St. Louis Cardinal southpaw who led the National League in shutouts with six last year, is back in the whitewashing business.

* * *

Haddix turned in his first shutout of the season last night, dumping the Brooklyn Dodgers by a 3-0 count and dropping the Bums into a first place tie with the New York Giants in the process.

The crafty 29-year-old hurler, who lost his first two games of the season, became the first lefty to defeat the Dodgers this year and only the second to pitch a complete game against them as he hurled a three-hitter.

Haddix fanned four in the game to bring his league-leading number of strikeouts to 69. He has walked 39.

* * *

The 160-pounder, who was one of four National League hurlers to win 20 games last year, also chalked up his seventh straight win and his ninth of the season—tops in the league. He has lost three decisions.

The Kitten—a nickname he collected because of his similarity in style to Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, one-time Cardinal hurler—had a no-hitter working for five innings until his rival hurler, Johnny Podres, singled to start off the sixth.

Mangrum Rated Big Threat for Virginia's Open

Western Open Champ Tames Cavalier Course in 66 Tuneup Round

By ROBERT MOORE

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP)—Mustached Lloyd Mangrum of Niles, Ill., one of the veteran professionals along golf's big-time money trail, was regarded as one of the favorites in the second annual $15,000 Virginia Beach Open which began today in this resort town along the Atlantic Coast.

Mangrum's game is cut out for the par 69, Cavalier Yacht and Country Club course, a 6,065-yard layout which places a heavy premium on long, pin-point drives.

* * *

Mangrum, who won the Western Open Sunday, found the course very much to his liking yesterday when he turned up for this 72-hole forerunner to next week's National Open with a sizzling 3-under regulation 66 in a pro-amateur event.

Five other professionals in the big field of 153 matched Mangrum's 66. They were Fred Hawkins, of El Paso, Tex., who won the 1950 Cavalier Specialists tournament over the same course; Julius Boros of Mid-Pines, N.C., like Mangrum a former National Open champion; Dow Finsterwald of Hope Air Force Base; Robert DeVicenso of South America, and Paul McGuire of Wichita, Kans.

Mangrum and the others who ripped the course to pieces yesterday undoubtedly will find trouble in at least three other stars—young Bob Toski of Livingston, N.J., Dick Metz of Chattanooga, Tenn. and Doug Ford of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y.

Other top-notch players entered are Johnny Palmer of Charlotte, N.C., Tommy Bolt of Houston, Texas, Australian Peter Thompson, Fred Wampler of Indianapolis, Fred Haas Jr. of New Orleans, Bo Winninger of Oklahoma City and Pete Cooper of Branford, Fla.

Sam Snead and Ben Hogan both are missing.

Mishaps Fail to Stop Fair

Pontiac Driver Wins 2nd Feature of Season at Pontiac Speedway

Joy Fair of Pontiac drove around a 3-car pileup, then pulled out of a spin to win the 25-lap feature of Wednesday night's modified stock car racing program at the Pontiac Speedway.

Fair is the 1st driver to win two features at the M-59 track this season. The pileup occured in the 5th lap, took Jim Hasselle and Dorris Sanders out of competition and forced a re-start.

Three more cars, including Fair, spun in the 14th lap, but the Pontiac speedster came back to regain the lead in the 19th lap and win. Fair also won the 4th heat race.

Bill Schultz of Roseville also was a double winner, taking the 1st heat and the semifinal. Sanders won his 2nd trophy dash of the season and Chuck Partello of Rochester won the pursuit race.

Other heat winners were Sid Keller, Carm Ragatz and Chuck Messer. The night's special event, a spectator's race, was won by Leo Doyon, 2528 Elizabeth Lake road, Pontiac.

Optimists, Kiwanis Clubmen Visit Track

More than 25 automobile loads of Pontiac Optimists, their wives and guests and members of the West Pontiac Kiwanis club and their guests were entertained royally, Wednesday by the Detroit Race Course.

The clubmen and guests made the trip to the Livonia rack in a police-escorted caravan, were entertained at luncheon in the course's own lunchroom and then witnessed an 8-race program. Two of the afternoon's races were named for the clubmen.

Optimists' race was the 7th, won by Lois Cook on Dixie Flyer, heavily backed favorite. West Pontiac Kiwanis had the 5th, in which Forrest Kaelin booted Whirling Blues home in front.

Optimists presented their winner with a colorful blanket, bearing the club name.

GM's Undefeated Streak Ended in Softball Action

General Motors' undefeated streak finally came to an end last night in City Men's Softball League competition. Fifth-place Milford Merchants snapped GMC's string at six games with a 6-2 victory.

Merchants broke a 1-1 deadlock in the 5th inning, when Mynard Reed singled home Jack Ganzel and scored the winning run on John Kokas' single. Milford added three more insurance runs in the 6th and 7th innings.

Birmingham Riteway moved into a 3-way tie for 2nd place by downing CIO No. 594, 4-2. Willard Walker and Roger Reynolds combined to limit the Unionmen to three hits.

Louie's Tavern outlasted Drive-In Cleaners, 7-6, in another Men's contest. Tavern nine overcame a 6-4 deficit with three runs in the final inning on a triple by Lynn Van Alstine and a home run by Wallace.

Giles Realty won its 3rd straight victory in girls' league play, beating Gingellville, 18-4. Ronnie Roberts paced Giles' 14-hit attack with a home run, double and single in five trips.

Ontario Angler May Have Had Record Muskie

Taxidermist Weighed Fish; Scales Failed to Show Ounces

DULUTH, Minn. (AP)—Taxidermist George W. Flaim says he weighed a Muskie, caught in Eau Claire Lake in northern Wisconsin Sunday, which tipped the scales at between 69 and 70 pounds. The world record Muskie, caught in 1949 weighed 69 pounds, 11 ounces.

* * *

Flaim says his scales weigh only to the pound and he couldn't certify as to the exact weight of the huge Tiger Muskie hauled out of Eau Claire by Robert Malo of Port Arthur, Ont.

* * *

Flaim said his scale was being tested today.

The fish has been consumed and only the hide and the head remain at Flaim's shop for mounting.

Henry Baroo, who operates Sportsman's Lodge on the Middle Eau Claire, says he and Malo were present when Flaim weighed the fish and both got the impression it scaled 69 pounds, 12 ounces. That would be one ounce heavier than the world record Muskie landed in 1949 in the Chippewa Flowage, Wis., by Louis Spray of Rice Lake, Wis.

Malo's fish measured 51 inches with a girth of 33 inches.

Souchak, Penna, Burke Brothers in U.S. Open

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., June 10 (AP)—Three sets of brothers will participate in the 54th National Open golf championship at the Baltusrol are the Burkes, Pennas and Souchaks.

* * *

Billy Burke of Cleveland was exempt from qualifying because he won the 1931 Open, beating George Von Elm in a playoff at Inverness. His brother, Pete Burke, was comedalist among the Long Island qualifiers.

* * *

Amateur Frank Souchak, ex-Pitt football star, was exempt because he was among the first 20 finishers in 1953. His brother Mike, 26, ex-Duke football star, led the Pittsburgh qualifiers. Toney Penna qualified as a substitute in Cincinnati while his brother Charley qualified in Chicago. Toney Penna was given a spot in the field today after Honolulu failed to fill its berth.

Reaver Pitches 2-Hitter to Give Mates 9-1 Win

Victory Over Elks' 9 Moves Jeromes to 4th Place in 'A' Loop

St. Frederick athlete Ted Reaver pitched a 2-hitter for Jerome Olds-Cadillac yesterday as his team beat Elks Lodge No. 723, 9-1, in City Class A Baseball League action.

Victory moved Jerome into 4th place in league standings with a 2-2 record for the season.

Reaver struck out 10 and walked one. The only hits he gave up were singles in the 1st and 3rd innings by R. D. Winfield. Les Stone paced the winners at the plate with three singles in as many trips. Reaver had a triple in three appearances.

This afternoon's game matches Pontiac Jets and Auburn Merchants at 5:30 p.m. at Wisner Field.

Familiar Situation in US Senior Tourney

RYE, N.Y. (AP)—The standings of the United States senior golf championship looked mighty familiar today after half of the field of 204 had completed the first round.

Thomas C. Robbins, 1951-52 champion from Larchmont, N.Y., headed the list with a par-matching 72. The 61-year-old golf sales representative had a 37-35 to put him a stroke ahead of Joseph M. Wells of Newell, W.Va.

The first race at Monmouth Park on June 19, 1946 was won by Blind Path. The jockey was Nick Jemas.

Snead Disagrees With Hogan on Site of Open

Sam Says Baltusrol Links Nearly as Tough as Oakland Hills

By WILL GRIMSLEY

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP)—After making his first full tour of Baltusrol, site of next week's National Open golf tournament, Sam Snead wonders if he and Ben Hogan are playing the same course.

* * *

"I don't see where these guys get that stuff about this being an easy course," the Virginia-born stylist said today. "This baby is real tough.

"I think it's much tougher than Oakmont last year and almost as hard to play as Oakland Hills in 1951. I figure a score of 290 will be good enough to win it."

Par for the 7,027-yard layout is 70. A score of 290 would be ten strokes over par.

* * *

Earlier this week, Hogan, who will be seeking his fifth Open championship in seven years, called Baltusrol one of the easiest courses he'd ever seen for the Open. He said the fairways were wide enough for the wildest hitters and the roughs not difficult.

Hogan even predicted that his own all-time National Open score of 276, set at Riviera in Los Angeles in 1948, probably would be broken.

"I'll put Ben in the fairway on every hole and bet he can't break par for four rounds," Snead added.

Snead played 18 holes with host pro Johnny Farrell and Frank Stranahan, former British amateur champion. He didn't keep a card, he said, but hit several balls on each hole from various positions.

Snead, who has never won this major championship although he has come close on several occasions, said there were 10 blind holes—holes from which the green was hidden either from the tee or the fairway on the second shot.

"The fairways are just about 35 yards wide and the rough on each side, well, it's rugged stuff. Get in there and all you can do is chop out in the fairway. You can't make a shot.

"The greens are big and fast. The man who wins the tournament will be one who can drive straight and putt well. On that score, I'll have to pick Ben Hogan."

Gidley Outhits D-W, but Loses

Five hits, including a 2-run double by Bob Ferree, gave Dick & Wes four runs in the 1st inning and led to a 6-2 Waterford Township Softball League victory over Gidley Electric at Drayton Plains.

Gidley's out-hit the winners, 8-7, with Dean Parmenter collecting a homer and triple and scoring both runs.

"Fat" Keith and Don Herr shared pitching chores for Dick & Wes. In Junior action, George Hilborn's 2-run single in the 7th inning gave White Brothers a 6-5 win over Day's Sanitary.

Richardson Dairy and Dixie Recreation meet tonight at 8:30 p.m. A Little League game at 6:30 matches Del's Service and Williams Lake.

Gift Overshadows Big Bonus

By CHRIS EDMONDS

MILWAUKEE (AP)—How does a college kid react to an assured income of $60,000 for the next three years?

* * *

If he's Paul Giel, the Minnesota football star whose signing to pitch professional baseball for the New York Giants at those terms was announced here yesterday, He's more impressed with a gift automobile.

"Boy, you ought to see it" he told newsmen at a press conference attended by such high brass of the Giants' organization as President Horace Stoneham.

* * *

Don't conclude from this that Giel, a two-time All-America halfback at Minnesota, is more than usually naive. He had his pick of six or seven offers from major league baseball teams and turned down a couple of what he called "highly attractive" bids to play football in the Canadian League.

Actually, Giel admitted, "several" other baseball offers were better than the one he agreed to with the Giants.

Exact terms of the bonus arrangement were not revealed. One of the biggest of the club's front office brass however, agreed $60,000 was "about right," adding it would constitute the youngster's salary spread over a period of three years.

* * *

Giel figures to be in the Army by October, 1955.

Leo Durocher, Giants' manager, said he hadn't seen the righthanded Giel throw prior to a short workout at County Stadium here last night but that Carl Hubbell, farm club director, was "high on the boy."

* * *

Giel, a 185 pound tailback who did about everything in the Minnesota offense except pass the ball back from center, was named the Associated Press "Back of the Year" in 1953 and won virtually every national football honor except the Heisman Trophy. He gained 5,094 yards and scored 35 touchdowns.

THIS DID IT—Johnny Antonelli, New York Giants' pitcher, shows teammate Alvin Dark how he threw to the Braves in Milwaukee Wednesday night, shutting them out. Dark (left) got four hits in four trips, besides walking once as the Giants won, 4-0. AP Wirephoto

The Stars Speak:

Kell Recalls When Williams Awed Him; Musial Expects Hit Each Time at Bat

NEW YORK (AP)—That's what the man said:

George Kell, Chicago White Sox: "I've enjoyed my association with Ted Williams. Ted and I have been friends for years, but I can recall when I stood in awe of the game's greatest hitter. Then he'd join me and ask my theories on batting, and I really got to know him. Maybe that's what made me brash enough to outhit him for the 1949 batting crown — .342.9 to Ted's .342.7. It was nice to have him back in Boston before I checked out."

Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinals: "I have one philosophy on hitting. Every time I come to bat I expect to get a base hit. Naturally, I don't always do it but when I can't hit .300 any more, I'll know it's time to retire.

* * *

Ted Williams, Boston Red Sox: "Bob Grim of the Yankees and Bob Trice of the Athletics are the two toughest young pitchers I have faced so far. That Trice fools you. There are several other good young pitchers in the league but I have not batted against them yet. They say Baltimore has two real good ones in Bob Turley and Don Larsen. Everyone tells me threy're tough."

* * *

Wid Matthews, Chicago Cubs' general manager: "The Cubs have a pitching weakness. I thought our pitching was deep enough to hold up. I was wrong. I've checked every league in the minors for pitching help. Those who might possibly help us are owned by other major league clubs who refuse to part with them. We got the only hurler of any consequence who wasn't attached when I purchased Jim Davis from Seattle. Several other clubs were after him."

Gridders' Loss May Hurt Aggies

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., June 10 (AP)—Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant admitted Wednesday the loss of four football players suspended for membership in a secret society will have a "telling effect" on Texas A&M football prospects this year.

In his first formal recognition of the loss, Bryant said however he is personally "very much in sympathy" with the four students.

The footballers, among 17 students involved in disciplinary action resulting from formation of the secret society, are tackle Robert Ohlendorf, end Bill Schroeder, halfback Billy Huddleston and guard Ray Barrett.

All are lettermen. They took part in spring training and had been looked upon as regular material for the 1954 season.

Secret societies are forbidden at A&M.

Aides said Bryant, who came to the Aggie school this year from Kentucky and naturally wanted his first team here to be a good one, was discouraged.

Caddy Is Retrieved

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A golf player, Dick Sprouse, automobile salesman off the course, had to retrieve his caddy.

Sprouse tossed his club in the air, in a moment of exasperation over a missed shot. It got caught in a tree. The caddy climbed up and got caught, too, when one leg wedged in a crotch. Sprouse climbed up and made a rescue.

Infielder Frank Bolling of the Tigers is a brother of Milt Bolling, Red Sox infielder.

Barthel Dubious of Ability to Beat Santee

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Olympic champion Josy Barthel of Luxembourg added a final training touch here today, admittedly a little skeptical of his chances of defeating Wes Santee in their mile race tomorrow night in Memorial Coliseum.

The Olympic 1,500 meter champ, who flew in late yesterday from Boston, said he was behind time in his training schedule because of recent final examinations for a master's degree in sanitary engineering at Harvard.

Billy Kilgore Beats Durando

Hopes for Non-Title Go With Olson After TKO Victory

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Billy Kilgore's surprise technical knockout over Ernie Durando here last night may have earned him a non-title bout with middleweight champion Bobo Olson on July 7.

* * *

Kilgore, a 2-1 underdog, gave Durando, the hard-punching Bayonne, N.J., middleweight, a decisive beating from start to finish. A Miami Beach boxing commission doctor refused to allow Durando to come out for the tenth.

An examination after the fight disclosed there were four separate lacerations around Durando's left eye and 10 stitches were needed to close them. Two more stitches were taken in a cut over the right eye.

Durando was reputed to be a much harder puncher than Kilgore, but he never got a chance to prove it. Billy kept him continuously off balance.

Ace at Stonycroft

Richard Braun of Oak Park became the 2nd golfer to score an ace at Stonycroft Golf Club this season. Braun, 23830 Moritz, used a 5 iron to hole out his tee shot on the 145-yard 5th hole. A golfer for 8 years, he carded a 53 for the nine holes. He was playing with Lou Gerback, Harold Payne and Larry Miazga.

Porterhouse, War of Roses Among Leading Entries for Belmont, Toughest Section of 'Triple Crown'

By GRANTLAND RICE

NEW YORK—The eighty-sixth running of the Belmont Stakes, the route tester of the Triple Crown, will be unfurled on Saturday, over George Widener's palatial acres.

* * *

The Kentucky Derby is the glamor girl of the big three, the Preakness is the charm school but the Belmont is the champion's test at a mile and a half.

* * *

Early this spring we had a rare field facing the Triple Crown—Turn-To, Correlation, Hasty Road, Determine, Porterhouse, Fisherman, Goyamo, and others. Well, Turn-To was hurt and out of contention early. Porterhouse missed the Derby and the Preakness. Correlation, winner of two big stakes earlier in the season, never did live up to expectations.

* * *

At this June date there are some tough horses eligible for the Belmont. Porterhouse, son of Endeavor II, the big champion Argentine horse, is one. Porterhouse was the champion two-year-old colt last season.

He has been the rosy apple of Liz Whitney Person's eye. Sonny Whitney's Fisherman is sure to be a stout challenger. Fisherman is no part of a giant but a gazelle can still outrun an elephant. He is a dead-game horse and he has his share of speed.

* * *

There is another contender you can watch. This is Mrs. Thouron's War of Roses, winner of the Jersey Stakes at Garden State. He is an import by Tudor Minstrel, trained by Irish Jim Ryan.

* * *

They hope to get revenge with him in behalf of Never Say Die's victory in the English Derby. John Gaver has been working hard to have a starter for Greentree and if he finally digs up one it will be worth looking at. Maxie Hirsch had been uncertain for some time about High Gun, but after his recent victory in the Peter Pan, Maxie must feel more optimistic.

* * *

The Belmont field is rarely big. It is the survival group of the fast and hardy who have stood up under the hammerings of fate. All you have to do is to look back on those who have won the Belmont.

* * *

Their names include Sir Barton, Man O'War, Zev, Gallant Fox, Twenty Grand, War Admiral, Johnstown, Omaha, Bimelech, Shut Out, Count Fleet, Pavot, Citation, Middleground, Counterpoint—to mention only a few. Last year's winner was Native Dancer.

Close Tilts, Shutout Mark Junior Legion Loop Start

American Legion junior baseball in Oakland County got off to a fast start Wednesday with a pair of close games and one runaway.

Birmingham's two entries were winners on 1-run decisions, while Berkley shut out the Huron Valley Boys Club, 11-0. Birmingham Reds edged Waterford, 4-3, and the Blues tripped Clawson, 3-2.

At Huron Valley, the Boys Clubbers could do nothing with the slants of Berkley's Skip Becker. Becker stopped the Huron 9 with 3 hits and whiffed 18 batters without giving a walk. Leach had 2 doubles for Berkley.

Fine relief pitching of Dan Cornila highlighted the Reds' win at Waterford. He relieved starter Larry Milford and pitched 5 2-3 innings, allowing only 1 hit. Bill Watkinson's homer featured Birmingham's winning 3-run rally in the 4th.

Cornila, protecting his 4-3 lead, had set down 15 batters in a row until Chuck Gillis blasted a long hit to right field with two out in the 7th. The Waterford outfielder beat the throw home for what would have been a game-tying home run, but was ruled out for not touching the plate.

Birmingham's Blues came from behind twice to nudge Clawson and Tom Raines. Jim Traa homered for the winners in the 4th and scored the deciding run in the 5th. Reliefer Dick Covera got the victory.

Keegan Shakes Sore Arm, Becomes Chisox Ace

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sports Writer

After being mired in the minors for seven years with an aching arm, Bob Keegan leads the American League in victories today because Manager Paul Richards told him to get his arm sore in January instead of June.

• • •

The big righthander from Rochester, N.Y., is the brightest new star of the first place Chicago White Sox. He won his ninth game last night, 9-4, over Philadelphia. He's been beaten only once.

Keegan, a sinker-ball artist, is hitting his prime just two months shy of his 33rd birthday and in his second season in the majors.

The White Sox grabbed him out of the International League where he won 20 and lost 11 for Syracuse in 1951. He was available because the New York Yankees, who had owned him for six minor league seasons, had given up on his sore arm.

Sure enough, in his first season with the White Sox, Keegan came up with a sore arm last spring and had to go on the disabled list for 30 days. He finished strong, however, winning seven and losing five.

The past winter Richards ordered Keegan to go to work in the gym. Just as he expected, the pitcher developed his old ache. But the advance schedule was timed perfectly and Keegan was fit and ready when the season opened.

• • •

He has started 11 games, finished 9 of them and has a fine earned run average of 2.27 in 99 innings. He's beaten every team in the league except the Yankees at least once and he holds three decisions over Boston.

The triumph in Philadelphia, which included home runs by Johnny Groth, Chico Carrasquel and Sherm Lollar, enabled Chicago to hold its one-game lead over the Cleveland Indians who shaded Washington 1-0. New York defeated Detroit 5-1. Boston beat Baltimore 7-6.

• • •

The surprising New York Giants drove into a tie with Brooklyn for first place in the National League as Johnny Antonelli registered his second straight shutout in beating Milwaukee 4-0 while St. Louis tripped Brooklyn 3-0. Philadelphia won a pair from Chicago 4-0 and 14-6. Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 4-3 on four home runs.

Bob Porterfield of the Senators had a no-hitter working until Vic Wertz singled with one out in the seventh and he gave up only four hits all evening but Cleveland got the one run of the game. Wertz moved around to score on a single by Dave Philley and an error by Eddie Yost.

• • •

Boston came from behind in the seventh against Baltimore and won in the ninth on a triple by Sammy White after Jackie Jensen had singled. The victory went to Frank Sullivan, the 6-7 Red Sox rookie, who was the fourth Boston pitcher.

100-Year-Old Tiger Fan Invited to Game

FLINT (AP) — A 100-year-old fan who has never seen the Detroit Tigers has President Walter O. Briggs Jr.'s personal invitation to attend a game.

Peter T. Johansen, ex-sailor who became 100 May 30, is the man. He has followed the Tigers for years through the newspapers and radio but has never seen them play.

Briggs got wind of this. He sent Johansen an invitation saying "we would be very glad" to play host.

Big Field Seen for Year's 2nd Publinx Tourney

Handicap Feature Will Take Place Saturday at Highland Course

By JACK SAYLOR

Second Michigan Publinx Golf Association handicap tournament of the season will be played Saturday over the Highland Golf Club course.

A large field is anticipated for the popular event, which gives the high-handicap player just as much chance for prizes as the low-scoring stars.

Over 75 entries are in already and a large number of post entries always show up. A field of 235 played in the MPGA's 1st test of the season at Edgewood, won by John Kurach of Detroit.

Kurach, who plays out of Brooklands Golf Club, will be back for this affair, along with such other standouts as Carl Daniels of Detroit, Tex Ellison of Birmingham and Roy Iceberg of Pontiac, all from Edgewood; Charley Barker of Pontiac, and Sam Lima, also a Brooklands golfer.

Other starters are Wally Smith of Royal Oak and Sunnybrook, Doug Woody of Detroit, Bill Heyn of Roseville and Bob Brooks of Birmingham.

The Highland layout, operated by Frank Dursek, Les Oberlin and Carl Walters, is reported in fine shape for the 18-hole event. Club is located off Duck Lake Road, 14 miles west of Pontiac.

Freak Scoring Play Develops in NL Contest

CHICAGO, June 10 (AP)—A freak scoring play developed in yesterday's 2nd Philadelphia Phillies-Chicago Cubs' game when Willie Jones received credit for a sacrifice fly, run batted in, and hitting into a double play in one time at bat.

The Phillies had runners on first and third with one out in the third inning when Jones, Phils' third baseman, came to bat. Willie hit a routine fly to Hank Sauer, the runner scoring from third for Jones' sacrifice fly-RBI.

Dee Fondy, the Cubs' first baseman, cut off Sauer's throw to the plate and when the runner on first, Bobby Morgan, broke for second he was doubled on Fondy's throw to Ernie Banks, Cubs' shortstop.

Archery Deer Hunters Less Successful in '53

LANSING (AP) — Archery deer hunters were a little less successful last fall than they were in 1952, compilation of their reports showed today.

The conservation department computed that 30,700 licensed archers killed some 1,800 deer. This is a success ratio of about six per cent.

In 1952, 29,340 archers bagged 1,850 deer for a success ratio of 6.5 per cent.

Seixas, Trabert Share Honors

BIRMINGHAM, England, June 10 (AP)—Vic Seixas and Tony Trabert, U. S. Davis Cup players, shared the Priory Lawn Tennis singles championship when rain washed out the finals Wednesday.

The tournament was abandoned after rain fell steadily for five hours during the afternoon. Seixas is the defending Wimbledon champion and Trabert holds the American and French titles.

Seixas, from Philadelphia, and Trabert, of Cincinnati, reached the finals by ousting a pair of New Zealanders yesterday. They were declared joint titlists today of the local tourney, a warmup for the Wimbledon meet, June 21-July 3.

Surkont Says Braves Were Lucky in '53

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves were "a lucky ball club last year," a member of that team said last night.

"Let's face it," said Max Surkont who tossed a six-hitter at his former mates to lead the tailend Pittsburgh Pirates to a 4-1 win which shoved the Braves into third place in the National League pennant race. "We were just lucky last summer."

"The boys were getting that base hit when we needed it and they aren't coming through like that this year. You can call it anything you want, but in my book we were lucky."

Hills Poloists Win

Larry Williams scored 5 goals Wednesday night as Strawberry Hills polo team defeated Harbor Hills of Columbus, O., 10-6 at Ivory Polo Field. In a preliminary test, Mike Wacker's 5 goals led Ivory's to a 13-6 victory over the Pontiac Chiefs.

Bill Fischer, Notre Dame line coach, was a teammate of head football coach Terry Brennan for four years, 1945-48. Fischer was captain of the 1948 team.

My Greatest Shot

By LEW WORSHAM

There isn't much question about the best shot of my life.

It has become the most talked about shot—thanks to newspapers, television and radio—in golf's history.

That would be, of course, my wedge shot on the 18th hole of my last round of the World Championship at Chicago Tam O'Shanter last summer.

The hole is a 410-yard, par 4 and as I started out on it, I was a stroke behind Chandler Harper. My drive went about 300 yards down the middle. Harper, by this time, was in—and he left me the chore of getting a birdie 3 to tie.

I pulled out the club which has meant so much to modern golf—the double service wedge. I looked up at the hole. It was surrounded by people waiting for me to shoot.

Two trees guarded the green, along with a stream in front of it.

I hit the ball well, but nothing out of the usual. It crossed the water in a low trajectory, hit the elevated green. Using the wedge here, I turned it around to make it like a nine-iron.

The ball rolled a bit more than normal for a wedge shot—in fact it rolled 25 yards right into the cup while the tremendous gallery went haywire. But no more haywire than a guy by the name of Worsham.

The shot was worth $25,000 right there—and a lot more throughout the remainder of the year.

(Last of a series.)

House, Dropo Only Regulars to Up Averages

Yankees Hand Bengals 11th Setback in First 16 Games, 5-1

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit Tigers are suffering both collectively and individually in their testing 22-game road trip.

Their 5-1 setback to the New York Yankees yesterday was their 11th setback in the first 16 games of the tour. It dropped them to the precarious .500 mark, with 24 wins and 24 losses.

Tigers haven't dipped below that figure this season. They'll be battling to preserve that mark when they face the Yankees in the windup of a 3-game series today.

Al Aber or Dick Weik (each 0-1) will face New York's McDonald (3-1) in today's game.

Among the Tiger regulars, only catcher Frank House and 1st-baseman Walt Dropo have benefited during the road trip.

House left Briggs Stadium two weeks ago with a .308 batting mark. He has pushed it to .328. Dropo has upped his mark 10 points, from .270 to .280, but the Tiger front office is still disturbed over his failure to hit the long ball. Dropo has only two home runs.

Here's a rundown on how the other regulars have fared on the tour:

	Before	Now	Diff.
Tuttle	.367	.324	-43
Boone	.327	.301	-26
Kuenn	.290	.280	-10
Delsing	.274	.250	-24
Bolling	.272	.247	-25
Kaline	.309	.280	- 9

After today's game, the Tigers will play a 5-game series in Philadelphia over the weekend before returning to Briggs Stadium next week.

Detroit did a complete turnabout against the Yankees yesterday. After bombing the world champions in an 8-0 romp Tuesday night, Tigers submitted meekly and garnered only six hits off the combined offerings of starter Ed Ford and winner Tom Morgan.

Three of these safeties were by Keunn, who prior to the Yankee series was in a serious batting slump.

But it was Kuenn's boot on a ground ball in the 7th which put the game beyond recall for the Tigers. He kicked a 2-out hopper by Phil Rizzuto, setting up a 3-run double by Yogi Berra.

George Zuverink, the strapping righthander from Holland, Mich., hurled the 1st seven innings and suffered his 1st loss against two wins.

Campbell's Son Building Boat to Seek Record

LONDON, June 10 (AP) — Donald Campbell, 32-year-old son of the late speed ace Malcolm Campbell, is building a jet-propelled racing boat which may boost the world speed record to a fantastic 280 miles an hour.

* * *

Friends have disclosed Campbell and a team of scientists have been working on the revolutionary craft for a year and a half. It will cost around $100,000 and will bear the name of Blue Bird VII, after the boats in which the elder Campbell set records.

The boat will consist of a hull with floats and will be powered by a single jet engine. It looks like a seaplane without wings. Campbell will control it from a central cockpit, which will be ejected automatically if the boat should sink.

Campbell is reported to be planning his first tests in October over Lake Ullswater in northern England.

MSC, Mass. Nines Open NCAA 'Series'

OMAHA (AP)—Hard-hitting Michigan State and Massachusetts, which figures to furnish some top-flight pitching, have at it in the opener of the NCAA College World Series at 11 a.m. (CST) today.

Michigan State's job is to bring the national title home to the state for a second consecutive year. The 1953 winner was Michigan, in its first trip to the eight-team double-elimination affair.

Coach John Kobs' Spartans are picked by observers as the favorite.

11 2-Year-Old Pacers in Hazel Park Feature

Eleven two-year old pacers are expected to start in the $5,000 juvenile pace tonight at the Hazel Park Harness Raceway.

Pace is the 4th Grand Circuit event in the final week of Hazel Park's 1954 meet.

Swords Point, owned by Margaret Critchfield, of Wooster, Ohio, won the $6,275 Maltby Pace for two-year olds last night.

A crowd of 5,227 passed $260,399 through the pari-mutuel machines for the nine-race program.

PCC Violations of Athletic Code Hit Top Figures

List of 35 Reported to Run From 'Serious to Mild'

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—A record number of athletic code violations described as "running the gamut from serious to mild" were processed yesterday by the Pacific Coast Conference to clear the way for today's final session of the regular spring meeting.

* * *

H. P. (Dick) Everest, conference spokesman, said the 35 violations topped anything he could recall. Just what these violations were, however, remains a conference secret.

The PCC officials, who also relaxed restrictions on freshman athletics a wee bit, plan to wind up the four-day session late this afternoon. The agenda still appears crowded, but Commissioner Victor O. Schmidt said there was no rule that all matters must be cleared away at this meeting.

The next session is set for mid-winter at Pasadena, Calif.

* * *

While the faculty men who hold the reins on conference policy were sifting the violations, the football coaches wound up their meeting by electing Henry (Red) Sanders of UCLA as president. He will succeed Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf at their next meeting.

The report on the violations gave their number and little else. Under present conference policy, the misdeeds are reported to the presidents of the schools involved, and the administrators advise the conference as to what corrective steps are taken.

The cases might amount to anything from a minor eligibility rule infraction to a flagrant case of illegal proselyting.

Long Scouting Record

Ed Barbour, the freshman coach and chief scout at the University of Detroit since 1934, estimated that in his 20 years he has traveled more than 200,000 miles scouting Titan opponents.

Dodge Four Park Packed? Try Nearby Pontiac Lake

LANSING (AP)— Arthur C. Elmer, chief of the conservation department parks division, today asked state park visitors to spread out more.

A few state parks seemed to be jammed with visitors all the time, while nearby parks of equal quality have room and to spare.

For example, he said, Dodge Four state park, west of Pontiac, attracted more than a million visitors last year, and already attendance is past the 200,000 mark.

It is a good park with a pleasant beach, boating, bathhouse and other facilities. It is near the metropolitan area.

But less than 10 miles away is Pontiac Lake State Park which only drew 176,000 visitors last year. Its beach and other facilities are just as good, but visitors who fight for parking spaces and picnic tables at Dodge Four never seem to think of driving to Pontiac Lake.

Another example is the East Tawas and Harrisville State Parks. Some 380,000 persons used the East Tawas park last year but only 95,000 used the Harrisville Park, 30 miles north.

Cleveland Browns Sign 18-Year-Old H.S. Junior

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Browns today announced signing Chester Gilchrist, a high school junior who won't be 19 until next month.

Gilchrist, a 200-pound fullback, led Har-Brack High School, near Pittsburgh, through an unbeaten season in 1953 and was named to the All-Pennsylvania scholastic team.

Commissioner Bert Bell of the National Football League gave the Browns special permission to sign the boy, who will be ineligible to play for Har-Brack next season.

Snead, Burke Appear Hogan's Top Foes in Open

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—If Ben Hogan doesn't retain the National Open golf championship at Baltusrol next week, the natural assumption is that his successor will be a reasonably young professional who has been beating his way around the tournament circuit long enough to learn how to control his nerves, his temper and his shots.

* * *

The number of these "challengers" was reduced considerably last Monday when such prominent players as Skip Alexander, Jerry Barber, Porky Oliver and Chick Harbert failed to make the grade as the field was slashed from 1,937 to 162.

* * *

But Hogan still has to reckon with the players who qualified automatically by finishing in the low 20 at Oakmont last year and a double handful of other "name" pros who qualified sectionally.

No. 1 in the first group, naturally, is never-win, always-close Sam Snead. It also includes Jackie Burke, Jimmy Demaret, George Fazio, Marty Furgol, Fred Haas, Dutch Harrison, Ted Kroll and Dick Metz.

The second division takes in Al Besselink, Tommy Bolt, Leo Biagetti, Doug Ford, Ed Furgol, Claude Harmon, Chandler Harper, Dick Mayer, Skee Riegel, Bob Toski, and Bo Wininger, among others.

* * *

After Snead, the curly-haired, smiling Burke looks the most dangerous of the automatic qualifiers. He's been the "corner" long enough and his record this spring indicates he may arrive any minute. Jackie hasn't finished worse than seventh in six major tournaments.

* * *

Kroll, an ex-sergeant who looks the part, is another remarkably consistent non-winner. Since Jan. 1 he has been in the money—usually in the upper brackets—in 17 tournaments.

The veteran Fazio lost out to Hogan in a three-way playoff for the 1950 Open title, placed fifth in 1952 and fourth last year.

Wally Burkemo, the PGA champion, also is an automatic qualifier.

Though he wasn't in the low 20, his medal scores have improved greatly during a year on the tour.

Chiefs, Tribe Fight for Baseball Title

A pair of veteran righthanders will face each other on the mound today as Pontiac High and Flint Central tangle for the Saginaw Valley Conference's 1954 baseball championship. Game was set for 3:45 p.m. at Flint's Atwood Stadium.

PHS Coach Ed Heikkinen will start senior Marv Caswell, who has won nine of the Chiefs' 12 victories against a single loss. Going for Central will be Larry Horde, also a senior, who has a 10-2 record for the year.

Both teams boasted 8-1 Valley marks going into this final game of the season.

Out-of-Bounds Drive

BERLIN (AP)— When Air Force Sgt. Culler B. Johnston of Memphis, Tenn., played at Wannsee golf course, a fellow golfer teed off from the 10th hole. The drive sent the ball rolling to the forbidden Soviet zone. "You might say," Johnston observed, "that's really hitting it out of bounds."

British Golfer to Face Sarazen

Seniors' Match Play Event Will Precede Open at Southport

SOUTHPORT, England, June 10 (AP)—Gene Sarazen, America's Senior professional golf champion, will meet one of Britain's top Senior golfers here July 1-2 in the first Britain vs. America 36-hole Senior championship.

Geoffrey Cousins of the London Star, president of the British Golf Writers Assn., said his group will elect an opponent for Sarazen tomorrow. The choice is expected to be Pery Allis, E. G. Whitecombe, John Burton or Arthur Havers. The player chosen must be over 50 years of age.

The match, originated by Fred Corcoran, advisor to the American PGA, will be over the Southport and Ainsdale Course the Thursday and Friday preceding the British Open championship at nearby Royal Birkdale.

Mrs. Fox Paces WMGA

Mrs. C. F. Fox shot 45-41—86 to take low gross honors in a field of 97 players in the weekly Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament, played Wednesday at Highland Golf Club.

Low net honors went to Mrs. W. O. Looney with 93-17—76. Flight winners included Mrs. W. O. Henninger, Mrs. A. C. Yost, Mrs. B. W. Cleland, Miss Frances Rehn, Mrs. T. F. McColl and Mrs. David Martin.

DEATH RIDES AGAIN!

Driving a passenger automobile up a 10-foot high ramp at 60 miles per hour, and leaping it 90 feet through space and crash landing it into seven parked automobiles is just one of the 33 events to be done by 3 famous automobile thrill shows when the International Auto Daredevil Contest is put on at the Lake Angelus Speedway, Pontiac, Monday night, June 14th. (In case of rainout, following night.)

The event will not be done just once, but three times as each of the 3 shows have entered a daredevil in every one of the 33 events. This is the event that took the life of the late Lucky Teeter and that of Jack Perry, and is considered the most dangerous event in thrill show business.

The three shows that will compete are "Flash" Jordon's Atomic Hell Drivers, Billy Greens' Canadian Aces, and Ward Beam's 1953 World Champion Auto Daredevils.

Three men, one from each show, will roll automobiles end over end and side over side, 3 men, one from each show will do the rocket car Leap of Death, and 3 men, one from each show, will do every Automobile and Motorcycle Thriller known to Auto Thrill show business, in a 2 hour thrill packed show that will go down in history as the greatest ever put on anywhere. The show will start at 8:30 p.m., the admission is adults, $1.50, children 50c tax included.

Market Stages Mild Advance

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market staged a general but modest advance today following a sharp two-day decline. Prices were around their best in the early afternoon.

Gains went to between 1 and 2 points at the outside. Most, however, were small, and there were minor minus signs scattered throughout the list. The pace of trading was slow compared with yesterday's 2,360,000 shares.

The cautious attitude of traders and others indicated there was no confirmed belief that the two-day reaction had run its course just because of today's firmness.

Crop Reports Ease Wheat

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat eased on the board of trade today prior to issuance of an Agriculture Department crop report which the grain trade expected to show a considerable improvement in winter wheat prospects from a month ago.

Soybeans started out quite firm, helped by news the House Agriculture Committee was all set to vote in favor of a higher price support level for butter, but they did not hold their gains. Feed grains, steady at the start, became a little weaker as trading progressed.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1 to 1⅜ lower, July $1.94⅝, corn ⅜ to ⅝ lower, July $1.55¼, oats ½ lower to ¼ higher, July 70½, rye ¼ to ¾ lower, July $1.04, soybeans ¾ lower to ½ higher, July $3.62¾ and lard unchanged to 20 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $16.55.

May Take Place of Diesel Power

Both Bus and Firebird Engines Undergoing Extensive Research

The time may come when you definitely will be dated by breezing into a service station and asking the price of a new set of piston rings.

Instead you may ask: "Buddy, I need a couple new fins for one of the pin wheels. What'll they cost?"

For there is much speculation in the automotive industry as to whether pin wheels will replace pistons in the power plant of your automobile.

In brief: Will gas turbines replace piston-driven engines on which the industry raced to its present status?

Engineers will not say that gas turbines will take over the industry; neither will they say it can't happen.

And they are taking no chances of being caught short on the know-how. Gas turbines already are driving experimental cars . . . and buses.

General Motors, which introduced the experimental "Firebird" with gas turbine engine some months ago, now is driving a standard passenger bus with a gas turbine.

Details of the new engine for coaches were revealed by engineers at the Society of Automotive Engineers at Atlantic City last night. Newsmen in this area inspected the engine and rode the bus at the GM Technical Center on Mound road last week.

GM engineers who revealed details of GM's experiments with the Firebird and passenger bus engines last night were William A. Turunen and Robert Schilling, of GM Research Laboratories, and Robert F. McLean, of GM's styling section.

Turunen's report disclosed for the first time details of a new GM Turbocruiser, a GMC transit coach with its conventional diesel engine replaced by a Whirlfire turbo-power unit.

The Research Laboratories believe that if the turbine eventually enters the ground transportation field, it is likely to appear first in heavy duty commercial vehicles.

The qualification "eventually" is an important one. Engineers make it plain that turbines are highly unlikely in next year's vehicles, or the following.

Experiments have brought gratifying results: they also have pinpointed additional problems. There is much work still to be done.

The turbocruiser is the world's first turbine powered bus and outwardly it looks like any other bus of its type, with one exception. A wide exhaust stack is built into the rear of the bus, opening at the top. Only a sharp observer would notice the difference, unless you spot the absence of rear windows.

Inside, the Turbocruiser is outfitted as a complete mobile laboratory with a big instrument panel at the rear end. "It has virtually all the instrumentation of a stationary test cell in an engine laboratory," engineers point out.

Two engineering observers can sit in front of the instrument console and record data when the Turbocruiser travels. The driver's controls are just like those on a standard diesel-powered bus, except for an added cluster of instrument dials to the right of the driver.

Turunen declared one of the greatest advantages of the gas turbine over conventional engines is its favorable power-to-weight ratio.

"The entire power package for the Firebird, which includes the transmission and final drives," he said, "weighs only 775 pounds and gives the power plant and drive a weight-to-power ratio of approximately two pounds per horsepower.

"This ratio is about one-third that of a conventional piston engine and drive.

"In the Turbocruiser installation, the gas turbine engine, in addition to supplying nearly twice as much power as the diesel normally used, saves over 1,500 pounds in engine weight."

Local Woman Fined for Cruelty to Dog

A 28-year-old Pontiac woman was fined $20 Wednesday on a cruelty to animals charge after a resident reported she abandoned a pup in front of his home.

Clarence Adams of 210 E. Wilson Ave., reported the incident to Pontiac Police after he saw Mrs. Eleanor Walko of 126 Drexel Ave., throw the three-month-old dog in front of his home.

He said the dog, a mixed breed, was in a paper sack. Adams reported the license number of the woman's car after he followed her to her home, police said.

Oakland County Animal Welfare Society, Inc., officials, who took charge of the pup, said Adams will be presented a $10 reward for his report.

Dealers' Car Stocks Take Big May Drop

Domestic new car inventories dropped in May for the first time in six months, Ward's Automotive Reports said Wednesday.

The industry statistical source said the decrease followed an upsurge of sales May 21-31.

The sales increase reduced dealers' new car stocks four per cent below the April 30 all-time high to the lowest point since February of this year.

May new car sales reached 505,000 units, within one per cent of April's figure.

There are 275 wildlife refuges in the U. S. national system.

Tropical Island Kept Ideal by Restricting It to Natives

KAPINGAMARANGI, Trust Territories (UP) — Tired of it all? Want to get away from everything? How about the South Sea island of Kapingamarangi?

The nearest television sets are in Hawaii, 2,900 miles northeast, and the nearest telephones are on Guam 900 miles north. Clothing bills are unknown, as Kapingamarangi is just 64 miles above the equator and the temperature averages about 82 degrees, with plenty of shade and tempering winds.

Kapingamarangi is the island Hollywood had in mind when the movie people began casting Dorothy Lamour in those sarong sensations years ago. The Polynesian maidens are among the fairest in the South Pacific.

Bill collectors and credit agencies are an unknown menace here where there is no postal system and communication with the outside world is limited to the three-times - a - year copra boat that makes the run from Truk.

Nor is the 15th of March a black day on the Kapingamarangi calendar. They never heard of income sales, inheritance or property taxes here. It's an island of individual enterprise ruled by a chief whose pride and joy is his red aloha shirt and dark sun glasses. Yet one of the 11 islands on the atoll has been set aside as community property where any villager may pick his fill of coconuts, breadfruit or pandanus.

Housing is a simple matter on Kapingamarangi that is accomplished without mortgages, architects, building inspectors or labor problems. A good solid home goes up in two weeks unless the fishing is good, and then it may take longer.

Imported essentials are paid for by exports of copra at six cents a pound, giving everybody sufficient money to buy whatever needs can't be found on the island.

Kapingamarangi was one of Japan's "mystery islands" of the Caroline group, and was used during World War II as both a weather station and seaplane base. Four of the float zeros are still on the beach, and the sunken seaplane tender — destroyed by the Navy dive bombers — is visible in the shallow waters of the lagoon.

However, the war had little effect upon Kapingamarangi, as the Japanese remained on their two islands, and left the people pretty much alone.

Transportation is no problem on Kapingamarangi. You can go every place there is to go on foot or by boat. If you need a boat, you just chop down a breadfruit tree, allow it to dry out for three months and then hollow it out. Attach an outrigger and sail, and presto, you have your transportation with no down payments, insurance or carrying charges.

There's no closed season on the fishing around Kapingamarangi, and it's among the best in the world.

But before you put the family homestead up for sale and plan to change your mailing address to Kapingamarangi, it's only fair to reveal the chief drawback of the island — you can't go there.

As part of the Trust Territory of the Pacific, travel to the area is restricted, and probably will be for some time. And it's just as well, too, for a migration of outsiders would soon spoil its idyllic charm, and then there would be no utopian South Sea island for anybody to dream or write about.

Girl Has Husband's Place as Mayor

NOVELLARA, Italy (UP) — Every morning a slim, 23-year-old girl rides her bicycle three miles from her farm home to the city hall in this village of 12,000. She is Edda Ferretti, youngest mayor in Italy.

Edda was elected by the village council to take the place of her husband, Antonio, when he was sent to jail on charges of misuse of village funds. She said she took her election as "a verdict of absolution" of her husband.

The funds involved were advanced by the mayor to help speed a local project for housing the homeless and poor. The council said it was convinced Antonio's action "resulted from ignorance of the law and not from dishonesty." He has been released from jail under a nationwide amnesty, but because of his conviction is ineligible to take back his post as mayor.

In 1901, the Army Signal Corps became responsible for all communications between the United States and Alaska as well as all military and civilian communications in the Alaskan territory.

British Youth Seen Languid

18-Year-Olds Dream of Being Football Stars, or Bandleaders

LONDON (UP)—Britain has developed a new race, "Knights of the Milk Bar," according to a report on the life and habits of 18-year-old youths.

The report, compiled by Dr. R. F. L. Logan, physician in charge of the student health service at the Manchester University, and Miss E. M. Goldberg, senior psychiatric social worker with a social medicine research unit, gives an anything but favorable report on British youth. It was drawn up after they interviewed 85 representative young men of 18 from a London suburb.

The main conclusion reached was that the average 18-year-old dreams rather than hopes for the future—and the dreams are that he will become either a champion cyclist, a football star or a band leader. Other conclusions:

By 18 most of the boys were settled in their jobs and intended to do the same type of work, as far as they could see, for the rest of their lives.

On the subject of sex, most of the youth were for pre-marital relations with a steady girl friend, but most of them wanted their sisters and the girls they would marry to be virgins until marriage.

The mental health of the youths was not so satisfactory as their physical health. There was much emotional disturbance in the group, having its roots in family background. Twelve of the youths were so disturbed that psychiatric help would have been advisable, the researchers found.

At birth a black bear cub weighs from 9 to 12 ounces, which is about 1-200 to 1-250 of its mother's weight. It is about eight inches long, blind, and covered with a dark hair so thin that it is practically naked.

Atoll Natives Want to Trust America

Editor's note: The March 1 explosion of the hydrogen bomb injured Japanese fishermen and showered radioactive ash upon three atolls charted as safe. The Associated Press sent correspondent William J. Waugh to the Marshall Islands to get the residents' views. Today's article tells of the feelings underlying the appeal of the "poisoned people" to the United Nations. The story was delayed by censorship in the U.S. Defense and State departments and Atomic Energy Commission.

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH

MAJURO, MARSHALL ISLANDS, May 29 (AP)—There was a certain eloquence to the letter. Dwight Heine dropped it in the mailbox here April 22 and sent it winging across the 7,500 miles between these coral islands and the glass and stone headquarters of the United Nations.

The letter was signed by parliamentary representatives of the citizens of the Marshall Islands. It said:

* * *

"We feel that we must follow the dictates of our consciences to bring forth this urgent plea to the United Nations . . . We request that all the experiments with lethal weapons within this area be immediately ceased."

* * *

If these experiments are "absolutely necessary for the eventual well-being of all the people of the world," then it urged better precautionary measures and adequate compensation for uprooted citizens.

The Marshall Islands, scene of U. S. atomic experiments, are occupied by the United States under a trusteeship from the United Nations. With a population of 11,000, the islands are a group of low-lying atolls. All residents of Bikini and Eniwetok atolls were removed from them several years ago so atomic tests could go forward.

Then, in the March 1 test of the hydrogen bomb, 45 persons on Rongelap Atoll suffered radiation burns from falling ash. The 236 residents of Rongelap and Utirik atolls were evacuated on a temporary basis.

The Marshallese are scared. But after talking with them for 10 days, I feel they are most concerned lest the atomic tests force them to lose their home lagoons.

* * *

They put the gist of their fears and hopes into the petition they sent to the United Nations in April; it is to come before the Petitions Committee of the U. N. Trusteeship Council late in June.

"We spent a month working on it," said Heine, spokesman for the committee that originated it. "We purposely did not let Mr. Neas (Maynard Neas, acting district administrator) or other Americans know about it. We were afraid they would get into trouble."

Heine was on a trust territory ship at Kwajalein the day of the hydrogen explosion.

"Water around the ship seemed to shake," he said. "There were several explosions that went 'wham wham.'"

The ship arrived at Utirik next day.

* * *

"We were met by many canoes," Heine reported. "The first question they asked was 'Is there a war on?' The people said they saw something like flames or shooting stars but too low to be shooting stars. They said children cried and hid in the bush."

Heine later learned that Rongelap and Utirik atolls had been contaminated. He began, with other native leaders, to work on the protest.

Heine is superintendent of the Marshall Island schools. He and Atlan Anien, a teacher, were chief draftsmen of the petition.

"It taxed me and Atlan to write it," said Heine. "We worked every day for nearly a month. We would meet with other Marshallese and put down their ideas. Then we would make a rough draft.

"I thought we had too many 'dangers' in it. So I looked through the dictionary and decided on 'lethal.'"

Heine is 35, with dark skin and bushy hair. He went to mission schools, and worked for the U. S. Navy as a guide and interpreter in World War II.

* * *

"We like the Americans," Heine declared. "We petitioned Congress with 2,000 names to have you (the United States) stay here."

* * *

He says the petition implies no lack of confidence in the trust territory government — that Americans here felt responsible for what happened March 1.

This was borne out by Neas, the acting district administrator, who commented:

"I believe officials of the nuclear tests should have given adequate and timely information to the natives so they could protect themselves. To my knowledge this was not done."

Dr. Dunham Kirkham of Avoca, N. Y., trust territory doctor for the Marshalls, said:

"It's tough on these people. They seem a little distrustful of our promises. They are thinking of Bikini."

* * *

The 200 Bikinians were shuttled from atoll to atoll after they were removed from their home atoll, and everyone this correspondent talked to said they are unhappy on isolated Kili, their present home.

There is no question that in dealing with the unforeseen trouble at Rongelap and Utirik a magnificent job was done by all hands—the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, the joint task force, the trust territory government and Kwajalein Naval Air Station.

But why wasn't the possibility foreseen? Actually it was, and when it happened the trouble was quickly detected. As AEC Chairman Lewis L. Strauss announced, the "detonation was larger than expected." It spread over a much wider area as a result. Then a sudden shift in high-altitude winds carried the radioactivity in an unexpected direction.

The weather man, that night of March 1, gave Maj. Gen. Percy W. Clarkson, task force commander, the first tip that something had gone awry. The next day planes landed at the affected atolls and scientists decided all natives and military personnel must be evacuated. A destroyer completed the evacuation in two days, taking the people to Kwajalein for medical assistance and maintenance.

* * *

Besides the natives, 28 U. S. military personnel on Rongerik Atoll—between Rongelap and Utirik—were exposed. All those affected are recovering without serious consequences, officials say.

* * *

Since the March 1 detonation two additional tests have been announced—with no significant fallout of radioactive material on inhabited areas. The 1954 series of tests is over.

At the U. N., Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. has voiced the assurance that American authorities "are doing everything possible to prevent any recurrence of possible danger."

But even that cannot restore the residents of Rongelap to their native soil for at least a year—until it is considered safe. The people of Bikini and Eniwetok may never see their atolls again, and Heine says the Bikinians have not been compensated for loss of their lagoon. How much was it worth? Mrs. Dorothy Kabua, queen of the Majuro Atoll, replied in Marshallese and Heine tried to give a literal translation:

"Hard estimate. Islands grow coconuts, breadfruit. The reef has fish. The island home for birds. Lagoon gives many, many years life."

* * *

Mrs. Kabua was one of two Marshallese who went to the U. N. last year as representatives of the islanders. This year the State Department said there were no funds for such a trip, Heine said, adding:

"It is our desire to have a representative there. It would be advantageous to the United States especially if Russia accuses America of using our people like guinea pigs for experiments. After all, we are an ally and not an enemy."

The Marshallese are a friendly and practical people. They recognize that the nuclear tests may have to continue. If that is the case, says Heine, "our petition outlines satisfactory alternatives."

* * *

These include "all possible precautionary steps," education in safety measures and adequate compensation for loss of goods or lands.

"Land means a great deal to the Marshallese," sayd the petition to the U. N. "It means more than just a place where you can plant your food crops and build your houses; or a place where you can bury your dead. It is the very life of the people. Take away their land and their spirits go also."

Expect Commission to Cut City Taxes

Pontiac City Commission is expected to adopt an amendment to the 1954 appropriations ordinance tonight which will lower city taxes 10 cents per $1,000 of property valuation.

A public hearing and decision on the proposal is slated for a special meeting at 8 p.m. in Municipal Court.

Because Pontiac has over $20,000,000 in new property valuation which can be taxed for the first time this year, it will be possible to lower taxes and still obtain $100,000 more in revenue than first expected.

Commissioners are also scheduled to discuss problems involved in providing more municipal parking. Consideration of a proposed alley to run behind the Pontiac Retail Store on Mount Clemens street is also on the agenda.

School Offering Special Classes in Reading, Math

Again this year special one-hour classes in reading and arithmetic will be given from June 21 to July 30 in Webster School.

Reading classes are for first through sixth grade students who need the added help or who like to read and wish to carry on during the summer months.

These classes are designed to fit the individual need on the elementary level. The classes in arithmetic will be for fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Reservations for any hour from 9 a.m. to 12 noon may be made, but it is the desire of the teachers Mrs. Elsie Welch and Mrs. Marion Hinkley to keep the size of these semi-tutoring classes very small.

Dance Is Set to Honor Democratic Candidate

HAZEL PARK — An "Elias for Senator Dance" will be held at the VFW Hall, 9-Mile Rd. and Carlisle Saturday, honoring Fred Elias, Democratic candidate for state senator from the 12th district in the August primary.

Music will be supplied by the Melody Quintet and a fortune-telling booth will be featured. Tickets amy be purchased at the door.

Mothers to Register Children for School

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Mothers with children eligible to enter Pontiac Lake School kindergarten next fall have been asked to register their children at a kindergarten tea to be held at the school at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Helen V. Smith, Oakland County public health nurse, will show a film, "Kindergarten," and Mrs. Joseph Vai-vada, PTA vice president, will speak on the PTA.

Mothers should bring their children's birth certificates, a spokesman said.

Story Director for Disney Talks to Pontiac Students

Editor's note: During his visit to Pontiac, Nick George, Walt Disney's story director, came to see the Pontiac Press movie editor. As he talked, George doodled. Some of these doodles accompany the following article.

By ABBIE KUCSERA

A whirlwind visit from Nick George of the Walt Disney Studios, Hollywood, this week put hundreds of city school children in the know about Pinocchio, Pluto and Mickey Mouse.

PLUTO

George, artist and director of stories for the famous Walt Disney, is touring the country in connection with the re-release of the picture "Pinocchio," now showing locally at the Strand.

Information passed on to students proved entertaining, educational and sometimes surprising. For instance:

Out at the big new Disney Studio scrips are never written. Artists just start drawing and their "script" looks somewhat like a comic strip. But not before storymakers and gag men put their heads together with Disney in a series of conferences, talking over ideas and gags, from whence comes the nucleus of the story.

MICKEY MOUSE

During the process of forming the story, the artists develop their characters. Next, (contrary to popular belief that sound comes last) comes the sound.

All characters are assigned dialogues and the sound for the film is then recorded.

Filming is a most complicated thing.

After each little character is formed he goes through the hands of at least three artists, being first sketched, detailed, then colored or painted. Backgrounds are completed and each character is filmed hundreds of times, often to complete just one movement.

In the favorite "Pinocchio," a staff of 800 artists worked for three years to complete about a million-and-a-half drawings. Nine hundred separate backgrounds were used. All at the cost of $4,000,000.

But in its completion, Walt Disney realized a dream he had long dreamed. And the entire musical score of "Pinocchio" won for the master producer a coveted "Oscar."

Out at the Burbank Studio right now, "Sleeping Beauty" is in the story stage, says George. Also, the Disney artists are doing "Lady and the Tramp," story of "Lady," a nifty cocker spaniel, and "Tramp," a mongrel dog.

"TRAMP"

But the greatest show of all, Mr. George believes, is the live-action picture now in the filming process at the Disney Studios. It is Jules Verne's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea."

For this production, Pluto and Mickey and all of the beloved Disney characters will step aside for real-life actors, such as Kirk Douglas, Peter Lorre, Paul Lukas and James Mason.

City Manager Quits Post Next Month

PLEASANT RIDGE — Ashton J. Berst, city manager here for the past 28 years, has notified the City Commission that he will resign at the end of the fiscal year (July 11).

Berst, whose resignation came unexpectedly, came to Pleasant Ridge in 1923 as a field engineer for the village. He left for private business for two years and returned in 1926 as village manager.

For 2½ years he served as a lieutenant in the Navy Seabees.

Chief Turnkey Lou Creekmur kept all-night watch on '52 Chrysler Windsor 4 dr. with automatic shift, radio & heater. Mighty dangerous to look at, can be bailed out for only $1,095

9:03 a.m.

Patrolman Lou Greer locked in mortal combat with this '51 Pontiac 4 dr. Chieftain Deluxe. Put up a terrific struggle but we got him. This case can be released for only $995

10:17 a.m.

1947 Chevrolet 4 dr. out on probation, picked up last night on suspicion by plain-clothesman Don Weiss. Now cooling off in the cooler. Has radio, heater and new paint. Bail set at $195

11:23 a.m.

Rounded up this '50 Buick 2 dr. with radio and heater. Discovered it was trying to look like a new car, and almost does. Judge says the fine is only $495

12:01 p.m.
Lunch.

1:36 p.m.

Investigator Byron Davidson apprehended this '51 Buick 2 dr. near 210 Orchard Lake Avenue. We gave it the full reconditioning treatment and it's set for release for the payment of bail of $895

2:06 p.m.

The net was put out and Rookie Russ Hester nabbed this one. A 1953 Ford Courier Sedan Delivery. Being held at 210 Orchard Lake Avenue and can be released for payment of fine of $1,395

3:16 p.m.

This '53 Buick Super 4 dr. Dynaflow, radio and heater was brought in and checked over. No rehabilitation needed and it is ready to go out on the open road $1,995

4:15 p.m.

Large group of petty crimes entered in record. Some in fair shape, some not so good, and some in surprisingly fine condition. Contact Constable Humphries and he will introduce you to one of his men who will be glad to arrange payment of bail for these cases.

Remember

The force at Oliver's is always pleased to show any of the cases on the lot. Just dial FE 2-9101 and request demonstration drive. No obligation.

Hugh Marlowe Usually a Heel

Glad His Children Can Watch Him on TV, Be Proud of New Role

NEW YORK — Hugh Marlowe finally became a hero to his kids. As far back as they remember, the youngsters Jeff, six, and Chris four, always have seen their father killed, knocked out and mugged in his movie roles.

They finally asked him and sadly, "Daddy, why do you always get stabbed in the back?"

After all, what youngster can brag about a dad that never wins a girl, nearly always loses his life and makes life miserable for such charming gals as Lana Turner, Judy Garland, Loretta Young, Anne Baxter and Susan Hayward?

"I had good roles," Marlowe explains, "but the boys wanted me to behave like Tyrone Power—instead I was a celluloid louse!".

Luckily for the preservation of his home life, Marlowe plays the tough, brilliant Ellery Queen in the new television series of the same name.

Marlowe's fans will probably see him as often as his family. His wife, K. T. Stevens, and the boys, live in a New York apartment where they continually wave goodbye to Marlowe, who must take long jaunts to Hollywood for the filming of Queen Series.

His wife, by the way, is one of New York's finest actresses. In fact, K. T. Stevens met Marlowe in 1945 when they were co-starring together in Voice of the Turtle.

Some of his other Broadway credits are Kiss the Boys Goodbye, Margin for Error, and Lady in the Dark, opposite Gertrude Lawrence. His best known movies are Twelve O'Clock High, All About Eve, Come To The Stable and Mr. Belvedere Rings The Bell.

Until he was signed to play Ellery Queen, the Philadelphia born actor had time for only two or three TV appearances.

"This is my first big fling in television," Marlowe says. But the fact that the show will establish him as a household name and a weekly "must" for mystery fans, doesn't impress him as much as the fact that, "My kids will say, that's my pop, when they turn on the set and see me polish off two or three villains a week."

Income Tax Cut Appears Dead

Stockholders to Benefit by Proposed Changes in New Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Finance Committee action giving President Eisenhower just about what he asked for in tax changes today dimmed the prospects of victory for a Democratic-planned floor fight to tack on an income tax cut.

Finishing its work on the 875-page tax revision bill last night after six weeks of secret deliberations, the group accepted nearly all of the benefits for corporations and individuals sought by the administration. These would amount to about $1,400,000,000 in tax cuts in the first year.

Democrats on the committee did not even offer their proposal for a big reduction in personal income taxes by a boost in exemptions. It had become obvious the committee would reject such a move.

* * *

Their failure to win committee support threw cold water on any hopes for a general income tax reduction in the revision bill, for the Senate rarely upsets the Finance Committee on tax legislation.

Nonetheless, the senior Democratic committee member, Frear of Delaware, told newsmen they planned to fight the issue out on the Senate floor.

Other informants said the Democrats might center their floor battle on a new plan providing a $20 tax cut for each taxpayer on his return, taken as a final step after he had figured his tax.

Sen. George (D-Ga) actually offered this in committee last week as a substitute for a provision giving substantial relief to stockholders on their dividend income, but lost 10-4.

The revenue loss from the $20 plan would be about 850 million annually under George's estimate; committee staff officials said it might reach $1,400,000,000 a year.

Either would be much less than the original plan calling for a 4½-billion-dollar income tax cut in 1954 by raising exemptions $200 and a $7,800,000,000 reduction from 1955 on through a $400 exemption hike.

Sweeper Is Jailed

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — Add parking hazards: Police jailed the operator of a city street sweeper for drunken driving after his machine hooked a parked car and dragged it 20 feet.

Road Oil Stolen

DES MOINES (AP) — They may be using tank trucks now in thievery. A road oil company reported to police that someone took 30,000 gallons of road oil from its storage tank here in an eight-day period. The company said the oil, for use on country roads, apparently was hauled away in tank trucks.

Air Force Helps Korean Prodigy Go to Juilliard

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Tong Il (Tony) Han and a couple of friends plan to leave here today on a trip that will end with the young Korean in New York's famed Juilliard School of Music.

Tony, his friends say, is a child piano prodigy, and the 5th Air Force has put up some $4,600 to prove it.

One of Tony's friends is Lt. Gen. Samuel E. Anderson, and the other — a real Tony fan — is 1st Lt. Thomas Cutshaw, former 5th Air Force interpreter. They arrived here at Carswell Air Force Base yesterday — with Tony.

Cutshaw told Tony's story while Anderson modestly excluded himself from any part in the drama. But Cutshaw said it was really the general who started the ball rolling.

* * *

It happened this way, Cutshaw said:

Tony and his family lived in North Korea before the war began there. In 1948, the Russians confiscated all the family's furniture, including the piano.

The family moved to Seoul and later, when the fighting started, to Pusan. Tony's father, a musician, taught the boy to play the piano.

Last October, the manager of the 5th Air Force theater in Seoul heard the boy playing the piano. He put him on the program.

Anderson heard the performance and was so impressed that he sent the lad on a tour of Air Force installations.

It was then that members of the 5th Air Force, of which Anderson was the commanding officer, began taking up a collection to send Tony to this country.

* * *

Tony will live with a Korean-American family in New York.

Anderson gave up command of the 5th Air Force a week ago Tuesday. With Tony aboard, he flew to Japan and then on to this country.

Smoking Hazardous

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis. (UP) — Russell Mezera, 22, came up with a new alibi in police court, but he still received a fine of $5 for a minor traffic accident. Mezera said he lost control of his car when his cigarette fell inside his shirt and burned his chest.

Special Classes Will Aid Canadian Fishermen

VANCOUVER, B. C. (UP)—British Columbia University's new fisheries director, Dr. W. A. Clemens, says he will recommend special courses for fishermen to help Canada meet the growing competition from Japan in world markets.

The extension service courses would be designed to teach the latest techiques and devices in fish detection and navigation.

Dr. Clemens said the Japanese government established the Tokyo Fisheries University to train fishermen. He said 500 are enrolled, and 100 instructors are training them in detection, navigation, radar and other aspects of the technological era.

The wart-hog has the peculiar, but practical habit, of entering its burrow home backwards. It is thus able to rout out with its tusks any enemy that attempts to follow it.

Bronx Snake Colony Lives Luxurious Life

NEW YORK (UP)—Snakes in the Bronx zoo's new reptile house will have cages done in pastel shades, with temperatures adjusted to match that of their native habitat, and with ultra violet rays to keep them healthy and happy.

For snakes who get nervous at the sight of people, there are special "one way" windows that enable people to look at the snakes, but not vice versa.

"They never had it so good," commented a workman, referring to the snakes.

Toll House Takes Toll

MILFORD, Conn. (UP) — State police decided to list the Milford toll station on the Merritt Parkway among the "danger spots" on Connecticut highways when an automobile plowed into the toll house. It was the sixth time the toll house had been struck by a car.
