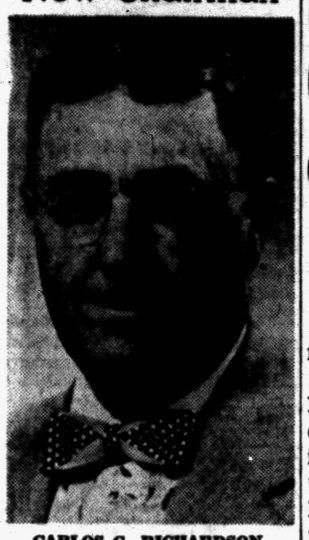
New Chairman



CARLOS G. RICHARDSON

County Dems Name Chairman

Carlos Richardson Will Replace Willis Brewer as Committee Head

The Oakland County Democratic Committee last night named Carlos G. Richardson, 57, as county Democratic chairman to succeed Willis M. Brewer.

Brewer resigned the post at a meeting in the Hotel Roosevelt. The resignation becomes effective when he begins work as manager of the secretary of state's office here.

The 16-member committee passed a resolution expressing regret that Brewer was stepping down and commending him for his service "to the state and county" while holding the position.

Howard Coleman of Southfield Township was selected to replace Richardson as treasurer.

Brewer said today that auditors are expected here Thursday to check out the books of Roy Annett, outgoing secretary of state's manager.

"I will probably be installed Thursday," Brewer added. He said the new office will be located at 53 N. Parke St. near the Pontiac Municipal Parking Lot.

Richardson resides at 2326 Carlos Dr., Waterford Township. He served 23 years as clerk and four years as supervisor of the township. He is president of an insurance agency.

Detroit Attorney Dies in Miami

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Thomas J. Hughes, 56, Detroit patent attorney, died of a heart attack yesterday while talking with a federal judge during the luncheon recess of a case being heard here.

The case involved a patent infringement charge by the Industrial Machine Tool Corp. of Fenton, against the Miami Window Corp. Hughes was appearing as an expert witness.

Hughes was talking with Judge John W. Holland when he told the jurist he felt faint, and collapsed.

He is survived by his wife, Ethel, who accompanied him to Miami.

French, Italian Chiefs Discuss Strengthening of Economic Ties

ROME (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France met with Italian Premier Mario Scelba today to talk over plans for strengthening French-Italian economic ties and to win backing for his proposed European arms pool.

Mendes-France, 48 today, previously had met at the French Embassy with Italian Budget Minister Ezio Vanoni. He planned to talk later with Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino and top parliamentary leaders.

Mendes-France and Scelba talked for two hours at their first meeting. The French Premier had no comment but Scelba told a reporter: "We had a chat during which we started discussing problems of mutual interest. The discussion will continue this afternoon."

Mendes-France awarded Grand Crosses of the French Legion of Honor to Scelba and Martino. The Italians, in turn, gave the French leader framed autographed photos and several rare books.

Sources said the two premiers closeted themselves in Scelba's study at his villa with only one aide on hand, Italian protocol chief Micaelis Scammacca, who acted as interpreter.

An Italian informant said Scelba had asked Mendes-France for a "clarification" of the arms pool proposal, aimed at preventing runaway rearmament by West Germany.

"The arms plan appears to be supranational," the informant said. "However, Mendes-France is the same Premier whose government saw the European Defense Community defeated because it was too supranational. We need to know whether the new French attitude as represented by this plan is in contrast to the former position or an evolution."

Mendes-France and his wife arrived in Rome last night after a five-day vacation at Positano, south of Naples, and a luncheon call yesterday in Naples on Italian President Luigi Einaudi.

After this three-day state visit to Italy, the French Premier goes on to Baden-Baden, Germany, to meet West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer Friday.

The Italians let it be known they were favorable at least to part of the French project to coordinate arms production and distribution within the seven-nation Western European Union now in the process of ratification.

White House No Place for Young Eisenhowers

NEW YORK (UP)—The President's son and daughter-in-law think the White House is no place to raise their children.

Look magazine reported today that Maj. John Eisenhower and his wife, Barbara, consider the White House a bit too glamorous for their three youngsters. Mrs. Eisenhower told the magazine "with all that attention, they are likely to be a bit difficult when we return home."

Secretary McKay Will Address GOP Dinner in Waterford

U. S. Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay will speak Feb. 9 at the annual Lincoln Republican Club dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the CAI Building, Waterford Township, according to Club President John Wilson.

He has served as chairman of the Western Governors' Conference and as a board member of the National Governors' Conference.

McKay was original chairman of the Willamette River Project, part of the development of the Columbia River basin. He has played an active part in the planning, development of Oregon's natural resources.

America Will Be 'Slow to Anger' With Red China

NEW YORK (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles said today the United States will be "slow to anger" in dealing with Red China on freeing of American prisoners.

Dulles spoke out about the bitter controversy with Red China in a speech about peace which he gave before a luncheon celebrating the centennial of the Young Women's Christian Association.

In his prepared remarks, he gave no clue to what United Nations Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold has reported on his negotiations in Peiping which ended yesterday.

Hammarskjold flew there in a move to win freedom for 11 American airmen who fought for the United Nations in the Korean War.

Dulles said Americans "eagerly await" Hammarskjold's return from Red China along with his report on the outcome of his mission. He said this flying visit "critically involves issues of humanity and justice," adding:

"Our own nation makes its contribution to the peaceful settlement to these issues by heeding the Biblical injunction to be 'slow to anger.'"

In talking about world peace, Dulles said there is "too much complacency" by freedom-loving democracies in efforts to insure a lasting peace.

"There will never be permanent peace so long as men and nations reserve for war their greatest effort, their most sacrificial endeavor."

Awards Made at Bosses' Night Dinner

Frederick J. Poole Named Outstanding Man by Jaycees

Frederick J. Poole, 30-year-old building supply company executive, last night was named "Outstanding Young Man of 1954" by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

David R. Ewalt, Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. director, was named "Outstanding Boss" at the Jaycee's annual Bosses' Night banquet. Ewalt, 38, lives at 92 Prall St.

Melvin Eller, 33, a parking lot operator and home builder, won the Key Man award, given to the outstanding man within the Jaycee organization.

Eller, of 1057 James K. Blvd., is second vice president of the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Main speaker at the affair was Dr. Philip Wernette, professor of business administration at the University of Michigan, who outlined a program for "Meeting the Challenge of Russia."

Dr. Wernette called for a program which would keep America "ever-stronger, ever-better — spiritually, physically, economically, socially and morally."

He said the Soviet Union's challenge was two-pronged: ideological and military.

A continuation of the United States' rapid economic growth would counter both points, he declared.

"A stronger economy will provide a continuing shield against military threats and a factual, realistic demonstration of the merit of the capitalistic system," he said.

The economist predicted the average annual wage would rise from the current $5,000 to $11,000 by the end of the century — "and in terms of 1955 dollars."

He also sees a doubling of U. S. population by the year 2000.

As communism's allies, he listed ignorance, lying propaganda, poverty, feudalistic land systems, inept governments and racialism and colonialism.

Costa Rica Says Village Taken

Claim That Nicaraguans Hold Aerial Beachhead 50 Miles From Capital

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) — President Jose Figueres, feuding with Nicaragua, announced today a small rebel aerial force has taken Villa Quesada, a Costa Rican village 50 miles south of the Nicaraguan frontier.

The President said the group probably got there by hopping into pastures in light planes. Communications with the village of 3,500 were reported cut. It is about 50 miles north of this capital city.

Rodolfo Quiros, the Costa Rican chief of staff, said he assumed there had been a fight between volunteers at Villa Quesada and the rebel group—presumably Nicaraguans.

He said a detachment had been sent from San Jose to Villa Quesada to determine the situation in the town.

The first report of an attack there came from a radio operator at about 8:30 a.m.

Villa Quesada is a commercial center at the foot of the Poas Volcano. Grain, tobacco, coffee, livestock and lumber are the principal products of the San Carlos lowland about the town.

Costa Rica complained last week to the Council of the Organization of American States in Washington that she is threatened by invasion from Nicaragua, her sister Central American republic. Yesterday the council decided to postpone any action on the complaint and asked both countries to do nothing to "aggravate" the difficulties between them.

Paratroopers Jump From Burning Plane

MILES CITY, Mont. (AP) — Red flames streaking the dark skies from an Air Force Flying Boxcar sent 33 air troopers parachuting to safety amid near-zero temperatures in southeastern Montana last night. The plane's crew rode the big ship down to a forced landing on the Miles City Airport.

Only two were reported hurt and their injuries were not considered serious. Their names were not available immediately.

The men all are of Company B, 503rd Airborne Infantry Regiment, 11th Airborne Division, Ft. Campbell.

They were being transported to Alaska for special training maneuvers. They had been airborne since 9:30 p.m. yesterday and were to have stopped next at Edmonton, Alta., Canada.

College Student Fires Gun Into Dorm Room, Kills One

SWARTHMORE, Pa. (AP)—A Swarthmore College student who was planning to enter the ministry fired five shots into a college dormitory room early today, killing one of the two students sleeping there, police reported.

Delaware County detectives said Robert Bechtel, 22, of Pottstown admitted firing the shot which took the life of Holmes Strozier, 18, of Akron, Ohio.

Bechtel then walked with Witt and another student into the Swarthmore Police Station where he surrendered himself.

Dean Everett L. Hunt, who sat in on the police questioning, quoted Bechtel as saying that he became enraged last night at pranks played on him by other students.

Hunt said that Bechtel then went to his home in Pottstown, about 35 miles away, got a .22 calibre rifle, returned to the campus about 3:30 a.m., tried to get into several rooms, then fired 5 shots into the room where Strozier and Witt were sleeping.

Hunt said Bechtel was proctor in charge of the floor where Witt and Strozier lived. He was considered strict by the students.

Hunt quoted Bechtel as saying the pranks by students "got to where it was an intolerable condition" and that he had "an uncontrollable rage."

Strozier, a junior, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Allen Strozier of Akron. The elder Strozier is a vice president of the Ohio Edison Co.

Other students who lived on the floor told reporters they thought

Chief and Association Differ on New System for Leave Days

The Pontiac Police Officers Assn. has been granted a hearing by City Manager Walter K. Willman after their petition requesting repeal of a newly-invoked leave system was rejected by Chief Herbert W. Straley.

Willman said he would meet with the association's committee Wednesday morning in an attempt to iron out grievances.

Association spokesmen told the Pontiac Press that a petition signed by 100 out of 107 policemen was forwarded to Chief Straley last month. But the association later was notified that a formal hearing on the new policy would not be granted, nor would the system be changed.

The petition expresses dissatisfaction with the department's new program which calls for a 28-day work month instead of the conventional month in computing leave days.

In issuing the order, Chief Straley stated:

"This new change-over . . . is also more consistent with our pay periods . . . so as to provide periodically for each officer weekend leave days of Saturday and Sunday."

The Chief added that the new system is necessary in order to provide a more equitable system of scheduling leave days for officers whose work periods change periodically.

However, the association contends that the new system, which took effect Jan. 2, is unfair to

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Chinese Nationalist warplanes last night and early today bombed Red-held Tienao Island, 15 miles north of the Tachen Islands which were hit yesterday by the greatest Communist air raid of the civil war.

The Chinese Nationalist planes also bombed Red warships in the Sungmen area of the Chekiang province coast.

The Nationalist Defense Ministry said its planes dropped scores of bombs, setting fire to Red installations on Tienao.

There was no indication how many Nationalist planes took part in the attack.

The Defense Ministry acknowledged that the Communists damaged a coal ship and a small gunboat in yesterday's attack by more than 100 planes. The Red radio had said four naval vessels were destroyed or damaged.

The Nationalists said Red bombers made several more passes over the Tachens last night and today but did not drop any bombs.

Requests Boosts in Postal Rates to Balance Costs

All Civilian Employes Would Get Salary Hike, Health Insurance

WASHINGTON (INS) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for an average five per cent pay boost for federal employes and for increased postal rates, including a four-cent regular mail stamp, to help pay the costs.

The salary hike for the one and one-half million government workers would add nearly 400 million dollars a year to the government payroll, including 55 millions for a contributory system of health insurance for government workers and their families.

Eisenhower asked Congress to put the Post Office department on a pay-as-you-go basis, with provision for future increases in postal rates as they are needed to keep the mail service operating in the black.

He proposed immediate increases in first, second and third class mail to make the postal service essentially self-supporting.

The President did not refer specifically to air mail, but the administration is expected to ask for a boost in the air mail rate from six to seven cents an ounce.

The pay boost for civil service workers outside the Post Office Department would range from $125 a year in the lowest bracket to $800 in the top grades. There would be no change in the top maximum of $14,800 for top Grade 18 officials, however.

No comparable scale was given for postal workers, but the proposed increase for them also would average five per cent.

The President's recommendations were sent to Congress in two separate special messages.

Light Snow Forecast by Tomorrow Night

Light snow and increasing cloudiness is forecast for the Pontiac area for tomorrow night by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

But the weatherman says little change in temperature is due and predicts a low tonight of 18 to 22 and a high tomorrow of 29 to 33.

In a five-day forecast issued today, the weather bureau says that temperature in the area will average near normal with a high of 34 and a low of 20 until Thursday. Thursday and Friday will be slightly colder with below normal temperatures predicted for the weekend.

Yesterday's temperatures remained almost constant, between 28 to 30 degrees. This morning at 8 a. m., the thermometer reading was 27 rising to 36 at 2 p.m.

$101 Billion for Highways Outlined in Report to Ike

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special presidential commission today presents to the White House a 101-billion-dollar federal-state highway program incorporating a new approach to the problem of modernizing the nation's highways.

The commission was reported to have given full endorsement to President Eisenhower's "grand plan" for expenditure of 54 billion dollars over the next 10 years in addition to the 47 billions now planned. The object: to develop maximum use of highways for a possible national emergency.

Eisenhower is due to send the administration's highway program to Congress Jan. 27. He is expected to follow pretty closely the findings of his five-man commission headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

As outlined last week by Frank Turner, the commission's executive director, the plan would set up a big new federal agency to finance the program by floating bonds.

Highway improvement contributions are now made to the states out of federal appropriations.

For work on the "strategic network" of interstate highways, the federal government now puts up 60 per cent and the states 40 per cent of the cost. The commission's idea is for the federal government to pay "substantially all" the 24-billion-dollar cost of developing 40,000 miles of interstate roads.

A private organization, the National Highway Users Conference, put out a statement today in advance of release of the Clay commission report saying: "Strong opposition is building up against expected Clay recommendations on toll roads."

The conference said the presidential commission was expected to propose that states be reimbursed for construction of existing and future toll roads and then be permitted to continue collecting tolls on them.

Noble Tells Newsmen of Squalor, Unrest He Saw in Soviet Slave Labor Camps

BERLIN (AP) — An American released from a Soviet slave labor camp at Vorkuta said today a rebellion flared there in July, 1953, in which guards mowed down 110 prisoners on the spot and wounded 500 more.

John H. Noble, 31, of Detroit, who was released by the Russians on Saturday after 9½ years imprisonment, told a news conference the vast network of prisons in Russia "needs only a spark" to explode into open revolt.

Noble said the revolt at Vorkuta, in Arctic Russia northeast of Moscow, was inspired and organized by followers of the executed Soviet Secret Police Chief L. P. Beria, who was then under arrest.

From 50 to 60 persons were executed later, he said, as a result of the revolt.

Noble said the slave labor camp at Vorkuta contained more than a half million inmates, of whom 95 per cent were dedicated to opposing the Soviet regime.

Noble said the inmates got the impression that Beria's men were trying to foment revolution throughout the Soviet Union to overthrow Premier Georgi Malenkov's regime.

Noble described how he and his father, a camera manufacturer, were trapped in Dresden by World War II and were compelled to remain there under local internment. Both were arrested in 1945 by the Russians. The father was released seven years later. Young Noble was taken from a German prison to Vorkuta in 1950.

He said he was sentenced to 15 years, although he was never tried, and added:

"All they ever told me was that we were guilty of having received American officers and soldiers in our home in 1945 and that we had American food in our possession."

Even when he was released, the Russians declined any explanation.

Life in the Siberian labor camp, he said, is "horrible and hopeless."

"None of us ever expected to return," he said. "The worst thing was to fall into Soviet hands, be-

Rain, Snow Seen for Many Areas of Nation Today

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More wet weather, rain or snow, was the outlook today for many parts of the country.

Oklahoma City reports 9 persons were killed in highway accidents last night and yesterday as snow, rain and fog turned roads into treacherous death traps.

The storm center which spread a narrow blanket of snow from 1 to 6 inches deep from west central Texas northeastward into the Ohio Valley was centered early today over South Carolina. Rain fell over the eastern Carolinas and Virginia and snow hit areas in West Virginia and eastern Kentucky.

Heavy rainfalls were reported in parts of the Southeast, including Atlanta and Savannah, Ga., and Birmingham, Ala.

More snow, from 2 to 6 inches fell in the far Southwest, including Utah, Nevada and northern Arizona. Light snow was reported from northern North Dakota to central Minnesota while flurries fell in the northern Great Lakes region and the northern Rockies.

Farther west, snow also greeted residents of San Bernardino, Calif., but melted as soon as it hit the ground.

Palm Springs, southern California's swank desert resort, had a close shave. Snow fell within 17 miles of the town and tourists driving there from Los Angeles ran into heavy snowfalls.

It was colder today in the eastern half of the country with greatest temperature drops in New York and Pennsylvania and the lower Mississippi Valley. Some warming was reported in the Western states.

In Japan a rather strong earthquake was felt in the Tokyo-Yokohama area and parts of central Japan today, but no damage was reported.

WHERE REDS MAY BLAST OUT NEW SEA—Shaded area is a rough approximation of the area where according to reports from Western diplomats, the Russians may be planning to use nuclear explosions to blast out a new Central Asian sea. Such a sea would make the winters and summers milder in Siberia and provide needed irrigation. Russian scientists have revealed that they hope to be able to reverse the northward flow of the Ob and Yenisei rivers to provide water for the new sea basin. The Aral sea would be the basin for the project which would include area between Kirghiz steppe and Kazak mountains toward city of Tobolsk, according to the reports.

City Approves Ordinance to Require Parking Space

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Lawmakers shook two major parking problems out of their hair at last night's City Commission meeting. After years of preparation, a much disputed off-street parking ordinance that had been tabled since last summer received a bare 4-3 nod of approval, and will take immediate effect.

New and expanding businesses will now be required to provide parking on a basis of one square foot of parking area per one square foot of retail floor space.

Next, a verbal offer to sell the single remaining property needed for construction of Birmingham's first municipal parking lot, on Pierce between Brown and Merrill streets, has apparently cleared away all immediate obstacles.

City Manager Donald C. Egbert will negotiate with Judson Bradway, whose wife owns the parcel, who offered the piece for sale at $41,500.

Egbert said final land acquisition costs will boil down to $1,050 apiece for the 223 car spaces, or $2.99 per square foot to be paid for the entire parcel.

A lie detector test yesterday cleared Delores Vock, 20, 4226 Berkshire, Royal Oak, of any knowledge of the Sept. 12 shotgun slaying here of Doyle Howe, 24-year-old gas station attendant.

Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist of the local police department had questioned Miss Vock and four other young people from this area in Tucumcari, N. Mex., last month. Police there, holding the five on a gas theft charge, notified local police when newspaper clippings of the Howe murder were found in a purse of one of the group.

cause once there you hardly have a chance."

Noble was put to coal mining. He said the temperature sometimes reached as low as 40 degrees below zero, and on one occasion it fell to 72 below.

In the camps where he worked, he estimated there were several thousand Germans and "quite a lots of Poles."

He saw only two other Americans, one Pvt. William C. Marchuk, 30, of Norristown, Pa., who was released with him, and another soldier, Pvt. William Verdine, 28, of Starks, La.

An American request for Verdine's release has been presented to the Russians.

Noble said Marchuk told him he fell into Russian hands because he "got drunk" in the Soviet sector of Berlin in 1949. Marchuk is in the Army hospital now under guard and the Army is preparing a trial. Officers said today they have not yet decided on charges, whether they will be absent without official leave or desertion.

Noble added that he had heard from other prisoners of Americans being held in other camps.

"I heard one time there were some pilots who came down in the Baltic Sea, and that there were others from North Korea," he said.

He gave these details:

Unrest continues among the prison population, and the Russians have tried to minimize the situation by improving conditions a little. Nevertheless, sabotage is frequent, especially in the mines.

Prisoners get two meals a day, of cabbage and grain and sometimes fish. They work an 8-hour day and have three days off in one month. They receive Communist newspapers from Moscow and East Berlin.

It was possible to live through the Vorkuta experience, but the prison camps the Russians established in Germany right after the war were "pure death mills."

Eighty per cent of the Germans held in a work camp in Dresden in 1945 died of starvation, Noble said.

Noble appeared in fairly good health but said he would remain under U. S. medical care here for a while before leaving for his parent's home in Detroit.

Bernard Jurose of 7300 Carroll, Garden City, told Oakland County sheriff's deputies yesterday that someone broke into his car Sunday while it was parked at the State Recreation Park, Teeple Lake, and took hunting clothing, shotgun shells, tools and auto accessories. No estimate was made of the loss.

Boy Sees Dad Shoot Mother

8-Year-Old Watches in Terror as Detroit Man Kills Estranged Wife

DETROIT (AP)—As an 8-year-old son watched horror-struck, police said, Nelson Cheney, 28, shot his estranged wife to death today in the kitchen of her East Side home.

The woman, Florence Cheney, 28, was hit in the head by one of five pistol shots.

Police Detective Raymond Brewington said Cheney admitted shooting his wife and told him he thought Mrs. Cheney had been too friendly with a man with whom she worked.

Brewington said the Cheneys' 8-year-old son James told police:

"They were yelling at each other. They made so much noise I got up and peeked in the kitchen. Daddy had a gun and he shot and Mama fell down.

" 'Then Daddy saw me and told me: You get back in bed and get out of my way.' "

The Cheneys had been separated 10 weeks. He is a steel worker. She was an employe of Chrysler Corporation's Mack avenue plant.

Detectives said that as they questioned Cheney at the scene, Joseph F. Smith of Detroit drove up and told them he had gone to the house shortly after 6:30 a.m. to drive Mrs. Cheney to work.

Police said Smith told them he saw Cheney through a window of the house, and added:

"When I rang the bell, I saw him stoop over and pick something off the floor. I saw it was a gun, and I got out of there."

Smith said he had been driving Mrs. Cheney to work for nearly a year and knew "something was wrong between Mrs. Cheney and her husband, but I didn't know he was blaming me for his troubles."

"All I ever did," Smith added, "was to drive her to work. I rarely drove her home."

Baldwin Rubber Employes Give $787 to Fund

Although more contributions for the fund for the 13-year-old boy who lost both legs under a train Christmas Day are expected, the fund's administrators see the end of the unofficial campaign approaching.

"We expect to go over $7,000," said Mayor William W. Donaldson, who has been working closely with the three local ministers administering the fund.

"We want to thank everybody for the generous way they have responded to the fund," Donaldson added.

He said persons with fund canisters in their places of business were urged to turn them in at City Hall right away.

Several restaurants, dairy bars and gas stations have already turned in canisters. The largest collection was from XXX Lunch, 135 W. Huron St., which gathered $130 in a pickle jar.

Ike Asks Congress to Up Federal Pay

hinged to the request for higher postal rates to stress the administration position that the two actions must be coupled together.

The increase for classified civil service workers would cost an estimated 202 million dollars, with another eight and one-half millions for proposed changes in the salary structure for certain special groups.

The wage increase in the postal service would cost approximately 129 million dollars.

The health insurance plan would round out the federal personnel benefits program enacted by the 83rd Congress. The government proposed to contribute approximately one-third of the cost of the insurance for employes and their families.

Eisenhower pointed to the huge deficits run up by the Post Office Department in recent years, including a 399 million dollar loss in the 1954 fiscal year.

In proposing the four-cents-an-ounce rate for first class mail, he noted that the present three-cent rate has not been increased in almost a quarter of a century while operating costs have almost doubled.

The President declared: "I am convinced that the American people will understand, appreciate, respect and support congressional action to provide for a long overdue rate increase on letter mail which will go far towards balancing the postal budget."

Eisenhower said the administration will recommend a two-step increase in second class rates, which apply to newspapers and magazines.

Hearing Is Slated on Police Petition men who have piled up many years of seniority.

An official of the association said: "The men prefer the older system because preferred days-off go to the oldest men in the department. The old system gave a policeman something to look forward to."

The petition, which was drawn up and signed before the system was announced, asked for further explanation of the new policy's benefits and stated preference for the existing system.

Under the new system, platoon lieutenants will have to work three consecutive 28-day periods on one shift, while the three platoons rotate.

Chief Straley explains that "lieutenants will, under the schedule, have the opportunity of observing as a senior supervisory officer, the performance of patrolmen and sergeants in all three platoons of the patrol bureau instead of just the men of one platoon as has been the practice in the past."

Pair Sentenced for Two Breakins

Probation, Prison Term Given to White Lake Residents

Two White Lake Township residents, accused of breaking into two cottages in that area Jan. 3, were sentenced yesterday in separate county courts.

James F. Mersino, 25, of 544 Lakeview, Cedar Island Lake, was sentenced to 1½ to 15 years in Jackson Prison by Oakland County Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty for violation of probation in connection with the breakins.

Donald Pongratz, 17, of 919 Mandon Rd., was given a 90-day suspended sentence by White Lake Township Justice Fred R. Stephan, after Pongratz pleaded guilty to entering without permission the cottages at 754 Lakeview, and 9534 Mandon Dr.

A 16-year-old White Lake Township boy, also involved in the case will be processed through Oakland County Juvenile Court.

Oakland County Sheriff's Detectives Leo Hazen and Mahlon France said they recovered tools, silverware and other household articles taken from the cottages.

Albert L. Bryant, 43, of 250 Nebraska Ave., charged with possession of an unregistered gun, pleaded guilty and paid a $50 fine yesterday when he appeared before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum.

Pontiac Police said they arrested Bryant Sunday night after they received a call to his home. Police confiscated the weapon on their arrival.

Statutory Rape Charge Dropped

A Detroit youth was successful in his battle against extradition to California on a statutory rape charge, after a hearing yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

Charges against Donald P. Balagna, 21, of 21125 Avon Lane, were dropped by California authorities when they learned that Balagna decided to fight extradition during his hearing before Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

Balagna, who was arrested yesterday morning by Oakland County Sheriff's Detective Jack Davis and later ordered to Oakland County Jail when he failed to produce $1,500 bond set by Doty, was released this morning.

Sportsmen's Club Offers Reward for Dog Shooter

A $500 reward is being offered by the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person, or persons, involved in the shooting of a Weimaraner dog Dec. 18, in Pontiac Township.

The two-year-old dog, Henry, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Nevin of 3440 Featherstone Rd., was shot, apparently by two hunters behind the Nevin home.

Mrs. Nevin has offered a $100 reward and the Oakland County Animal Welfare Society added $50 more for information leading to those who left the dog floundering in bushes behind the Nevin home with birdshot in his body and head. One eye was lost because of the shooting.

Mrs. Nevin spoke to one of two hunters when she approached to inquire about her dog. She described the man as middleaged, six-feet tall, round-faced, and weighing over 200 pounds. He had a ruddy complexion and wore a multi-colored plaid hunting coat, she said.

Warrant Issued in Assault Case

Girl Charges Suspect Forced Her Into Car at Knifepoint

A warrant charging assault with intent to rape was issued today against a Pontiac masonry worker who Waterford Township Police say abducted a 15-year-old girl at knife-point last Tuesday night and held her for over an hour.

The girl, who identified Patrick W. Duggan, 21, of 186 Perry St. yesterday in a line-up at Oakland County Jail, said he forced her into his truck at Airport and Hatchery Rds., and drove her to the vicinity of the old prison farm off Teggerdine road.

Duggan was arrested yesterday near his home by Waterford Township Patrolman Charles T. Whitlock, who said Duggan's truck was accurately described by the girl.

A knife, which police say is Duggan's was located by Whitlock Friday near the scene where the girl said the suspect attempted to rape her.

Arraignment will probably take place late today, Whitlock said. Duggan was originally held for investigation of kidnaping.

M'Namara Gets Important Posts

State's Junior Senator Placed on Labor and Public Works Groups

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Democratic Senate Steering Committee today assigned Sen. McNamara to two desirable posts—the Labor and Public Welfare, and Public Works Committees.

The freshman Michigan senator said the public works assignment would give him an opportunity to work on important highway legislation which will come before Congress this year.

The labor and public welfare job, he added, will permit him to take a hand in one of his pet projects, federal aid to education. He is a co-sponsor of a bill to provide $1 billion in federal assistance to schools during fiscal 1956-57.

The Public Works Committee also will be confronted this session with legislation to authorize deepening of the Detroit River and other Great Lakes channels to provide passage for eventual St. Lawrence Seaway traffic into Lake Superior.

McNamara also may get a chance on the Labor Committee to act on proposals aimed at revamping the Taft-Hartley Act.

In addition to his two important committee posts, McNamara was assigned to the minor District of Columbia Committee which acts as overseer for the government of the nation's capital.

Innocent Plea Entered for Breakin Suspect

In Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday, Reuben McCray, 35, of 278 Dellwood Ave., stood mute on a breaking and entering charge and Judge Frank L. Doty entered an innocent plea for him.

McCray is accused of breaking into a home at 67 Clovese St. last Dec. 19. Doty directed that a trial date be set.

Local Court Officials Study Saginaw System

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum and Court Clerk Leo F. McDonald are visiting the Saginaw municipal court today in an effort to learn what other legal divisions in the state are doing to advance their court systems.

Visits to courts in other cities are also planned. Meanwhile, Judge Maurice E. Finnegan is hearing all cases in Municipal Court here.

And, because we love, we grieve. But, because we have faith, we look forward to immortality. To our soul's unspoken question on these solemn occasions, flowers whisper comfortingly, "Hope!"

Because...like life...flowers flourish and fade. But there is something in their vital beauty that cannot wholly perish.

Warrants Out for 13 Commies

Bail Is Revoked After High Court Refuses to Review Conviction

NEW YORK (AP)—Warrants are out for the arrest of 13 second-string Communist leaders who have been ordered to start serving prison terms for conspiracy.

The warrants were issued by Federal Judge Irving R. Kaufman as he revoked the bail of the 13, who were free in $25,000 each.

Kaufman acted shortly after the U.S. Supreme Court refused yesterday to review the case.

The 13 were convicted Jan. 21, 1953, under the Smith Act on charges of conspiracy to teach and advocate overthrow of the U.S. government by force and violence. They were sentenced to terms ranging from one to three years and also drew fines ranging from $2,000 to $6,000 each.

The 13 are: Elizabeth Gurley lynn, 63, a member of the Communist party's National Committee; Pettis Perry, 56, national secretary of the party's Negro Commission; Alexander Bittelamn, 63, a member of the party's National Education Commission; Alexander Trachtenberg, 67, a member of the National Education Commission; Victor J. Jerome, 56, chairman of the party's Cultural Commission; Louis Weinstock, 49, a member of the party's National Review Commission.

Also, Arnold S. Johnson, 48, chairman of the party's National Groups Commission; Albert Lannon, 45, the party's national maritime coordinator; Betty Gannett, 46, the party's national education director; Jacob Mindel, 71, a member of the National Education Commission; William W. Weinstone, 55, a member of the National Education Commission; George Blake Chairney, 47, the party's trade union director; and Claudia Jones, 37, secretary of the party's Women's Commission.

Brake May Quit Role as Farmer to Run for Bench

STANTON (AP)—Montcalm County's agricultural fraternity has a new member. He is D. Hale Brake, a private citizen for the second time in 27 years.

Brake went out of office Jan. 1 as state treasurer, having been beaten for the Republican nomination for governor and then defeated in his bid for a seventh term as treasurer in the November Democratic landslide.

Brake came back to his farm on the eastern outskirts of Stanton and was busy last week as he put it, doing "menial tasks like cleaning stables and other work a farmer does at this time of the year." He added: "But I love it."

Brake, however, may be back on the political trails shortly. Some Republican quarters are boosting him as a GOP candidate for the State Supreme Court. Candidates for the spring election will be picked at the party's Detroit convention next month.

In 1927 Brake became prosecutor of Montcalm County and served four years. He was elected to the State Senate in 1935. From the Senate he stepped into the job of treasurer on Jan. 1, 1942, and had been there since.

Reds to Mark Birthday of Lenin Instead of Death

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Communist party announced today that Nikolai Lenin's birthday, April 22, will be celebrated in the future and not the anniversary of his death, Jan. 21, as has been the Communist custom.

A decree of the party's Central Committee, published in today's newspapers, said observance of the day of Lenin's death "imposes an atmosphere of mourning and grief," while the birthday "festival . . . would be more in keeping with the entire spirit of Leninism as an eternally living and life-asserting teaching."

Television's St. Bernard Really Not a Tippler at All

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — There is nothing more disgusting than a dog who drinks.

He gets overly barkative and, if he's really loaded, he loses control of his wag.

This being the case, it was a relief to learn this week that Neil, the allegedly alcoholic St. Bernard on the "Topper" TV show, is really not a tippler at all. Those martinis he is always laping up on Wednesday night are made of beef broth with a soupcon of fruit juice.

"Of course, now. . ." said his owner, with a click of his tongue that made Neil promptly roll over like a souped-up bear rug, "he could drink real martinis if he wanted to—and stay sober as a judge. Couldn't you, Neil?"

Neil raised his head and nodded.

"But ASPCA would object," continued the master. "They do not even approve of three per cent wines for dogs. Do they, Neil?"

Neil raised his head and shook it.

He was obviously tired from the strain of cross-county flying and the change to New York water, and was off his feed. "In spite of all this luxury and quiet," said Spitz, surveying Neil's four-room hotel suite, "he has lost five pounds. It is most unusual, because he is not a bit temperamental."

The truth of the matter is probably that Neil—a grand-nephew of Buck, the famous St. Bernard who costarred with Clark Gable in "Call of the Wild"—is homesick for the kleig lights. He is six years old and for five years has trained and performed masterful feats for films.

At the snap of Spitz's finger, Neil will pounce on a movie villain and seem to tear him apart without hurting him. At a whisk of Spitz's hand, Neil will look mortally wounded and roll off a 100-foot-high-cliff, and at the sould of a director calling "Cut," he will walk calmly off the set to his dressing room.

"Neil is no dope," explains Spitz, heavy-hearted. "He knows he's not making any money here in the East. Probably feels insecure."

This dog, with the foot - long tongue and the amazing capacity for making people want to pick him up a ridiculous idea) and hold him, actually has nothing to worry about financially. Spitz isn't saying what he makes, exactly, but it is just under the salary of "Lassie"—Neil's only serious canine competition.

And Lassie, the highest-paid dog in history, pulls down $1,500 a week plus a percentage of her pictures. "This is plenty for hamburgers," he concedes.

"Show the lady you think so, too, Neil," called Spitz with a curious flip of the wrist.

Superdog spring up, paused for effect and then, with a fine display of enthusiasm, clapped his paws.

You're sure he doesn't drink, Mr. Spitz?

Martial Law Will End in Phenix City Jan. 17

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. Gordon Persons has issued a proclamation to end limited martial law in Phenix City Jan. 17 after six months of law enforcement by the National Guard.

During a cleanup campaign in the onetime vice center, more than 150 defendants were indicted and nearly 100 subsequently fined or sent to prison on vice charges. Three men were also indicted in the slaying last June of A. L. Patterson, antivice crusader and nominee for state attorney general.

Will 1955 Be the Year That Changes the World?

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," is offering, free of charge to the public, an astounding 64 page booklet analyzing famous world prophecies covering these times. It shows that four of the greatest prophecies could not come true until the present time. But now they can, and the years that change the world are at hand. Great dangers, but still greater opportunities confront forward looking people in 1955.

"The Voice of Two Worlds," a well known explorer and geographer, tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable improvement in power of mind, achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

These strange methods were found in far-off and mysterious Tibet, often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in all of us, and that methods for using them are now simplified so that they can be used by almost any person with ordinary intelligence.

The 64 page booklet he is now offering free to the public gives guidance for those who wish to prepare themselves for the momentous days ahead. It gives details of what to expect, and when. Its title is "Beware of These Days!"

The book formerly sold for a dollar, but as long as the present supply lasts, it is offered free to readers of this notice. This liberal offer is made because he expects that many readers will later become interested in the entire system of mind power he learned in the Far East and which is now ready to be disclosed to the Western world.

For your free copy of the astonishing prophecies covering these momentous times, as revealed in this 64-page book, address the Institute of Mentalphysics, 213 South Hobart Blvd., Dept. P103, Los Angeles, 4, Calif. Send no money. Just your name and address on a postcard or in an envelope will do. No obligation. Readers are urged to write promptly, as only a limited number of the free books have been printed.

Waterford Jaycees Select Outstanding Man of Past Year

Roy A. Larmee Receives Honor

High School Principal Given Plaque at Dinner Held In Drayton Plains

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Roy A. Larmee was named "Outstanding Young Man of 1954 of Waterford Township" by the Waterford Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

The Waterford High school principal was selected for his service to the community during the past year.

He received the award, a plaque presented by Jaycee Ervin Greer, at the first "Bosses Night" dinner of the organization, held at Decker's Cafeteria in Drayton Plains.

on military service for high school youths, and as a result Waterford High school is the only school in the county, and one of 18 in the state, taking part in a pilot study on the matter.

A veteran himself, Larmee spent two years in uniform before taking a teaching post at Waterford Village in 1948.

He has been active in civil defense work, and was principal of Hudson Covert school prior to taking over as high school principal in May, 1953.

He attended Ann Arbor high school, and received his bachelor's and masters degrees from the University of Michigan, where he is currently working on his doctorate during summer sessions.

On the selection board for choosing the young man between 21 and 35 years of age for the award were William Schunck, Lloyd Anderson, Ervin Greer, William Jacober, and Ray Harrington.

Harrington was honored with an award for the local businessman who has helped the Jaycee organization most during the past year.

Waterford Receives Annual Police Report

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The annual report of the Waterford Township Police Department was accepted last night by the township board.

The board also appointed Mrs. Betty Blanchard as secretary of the police department, to replace Mrs. Mary Sutherland who resigned recently.

A hawkers and peddlers license was granted to William Herb, and a soft drink restaurant license was transferred from William Carland to Marie Shangeria of Bill's Coney Island, 6089 Highland Rd.

PONTIAC LAKE—A "Family Night" meeting is on the agenda of the January meeting of the Pontiac Lake PTA.

The 7 p.m. Thursday supper will be served at the school. Those who plan to attend have been asked to bring their own table service and a dish to pass.

A business meeting will follow the supper.

Hammarskjold Is in Hong Kong, Refuses to Talk

HONG KONG (AP)—U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, arriving in Hong Kong from Peiping tonight, disclosed he had cabled warm thanks to Red China's Premier Chou En-lai for his hospitality.

The U.N. Chief remained mum on the results of his mission seeking the release of 11 American airmen held by Red China as spies and other U.N. personnel imprisoned by the Chinese.

Hammarskjold told 50 waiting newsmen at Kowloon, Hong Kong's mainland station, he would make no statement on his mission until he made his report to the U.N. General Assembly which sent him.

Hammarskjold is scheduled to spend the night at Government House in Hong Kong before flying on to Tokyo and thence to the United States. He is due back at U.N. headquarters in New York Saturday. He is to leave for Tokyo at 8 a.m. tomorrow (7 p.m. EST tonight) aboard a Scandinavian Airways System plane.

Despite the lack of any mention of the airmen in the final joint communique or in any previous Peiping announcements on the talks, diplomats at the United Nations and officials of several nations found hopeful signs in yesterday's brief report.

Woman Waives Hearing on Embezzling Charge

A 25-year-old woman, accused of embezzling $1,750 during a year's period, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday when she appeared before Municipal Judge Maurce E. Finnegan.

Helen Beech Reene, 25, of 758 Otter Ave., Waterford Township, was returned to the county jail after waiving examination. She failed to furnish a $2,000 bond, pending the hearing Monday.

Pontiac Police said Miss Reene took the money while an employe of Dr. Daniel S. McGreen from Nov. 1, 1953, to Nov. 16, 1954.

Waterford Travelogue Series Continues With Dr. Gerald Hooper

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — "Tramp Steamer to Trinidad" by Dr. Gerald Hooper is the next attraction to appear on the recreation travelogue series at the Waterford Township High School.

This 8 p.m. Wednesday lecture is a single deviation from the usual Tuesday night schedule of such talks.

Dr. Hooper, director of Chicago's World Travel Adventure Forum, is making a return engagement with the Waterford travel series.

The film journey scheduled for Wednesday night begins on the wharves of New Orleans, and tours the Carribbean area to a destination off the coast of Venezuela.

Faces Jail Term Following Ninth Traffic Violation

A 20-year-old Sylvan Lake youth, with eight traffic court convictions on his record since March 15, 1954, was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday for arraignment on a reckless driving charge by Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

Rodney Morrill, 20, of 2363 Garland, who yesterday pleaded guilty to his ninth traffic offense in less than a year, was freed on $300 bond for appearance in Circuit Court Jan. 17.

According to Leib, Morrill's license was suspended for 45 days from Sept. 22 to Nov. 5, 1954. Maximum sentence Morrill could receive in circuit court is six months in jail and $1,000 fine.

Iowa City Council Holds Thirty-Second Session

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—The city council here planned to meet only one minute in regular session Monday night so members could get out to the Iowa-Michigan State basketball game.

They did better than that. By dispensing with the reading of the minutes of the last meeting they were able to adjourn after 30 seconds. Iowa won, 94-81.

Admits Drunk Driving

Eward Greer, 32, of 92½ Bagley St., will appear before Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum Monday to face sentencing after he pleaded guilty yesterday to a drunk driving charge. He was released on a $200 bond.

Byrd Will Lose Watchdog Post

Senators Barkley and O'Mahoney Given Top Committee Positions

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new policy by the Democratic Senate leadership appeared likely today to remove Sen. Byrd (D-Va) from the chairmanship of the spending watchdog committee he has headed in all its 14 years.

The Democratic Steering Committee yesterday announced it was asking that no Democrat hold two committee chairmanships. In the past, one man has been permitted to head one of the regular legislative committees and a special committee such as the Byrd group.

Byrd will be Finance Committee chairman this year, the first major standing committee he has headed in his 22 years in the Senate. Thus he would not be able to head the watchdog committee under the new policy.

The Democratic steering group completed its committee assignments yesterday, managing to give plums to two veterans who are now "freshmen" — Senators Barkley of Kentucky and O'Mahoney of Wyoming—and also to Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore).

Barkley got the two major committee posts he held—foreign relations and finance—before he left the Senate in 1949 to become vice president. O'Mahoney was assigned to interior, of which he formerly was chairman, and to the Judiciary Committee.

Morse, whose vote makes possible Democratic control of the Senate, was given the foreign relations spot he long has wanted. He also was put on another major committee, banking, and kept on an assignment he wanted to retain —District of Columbia.

Senate Republicans had shunted Morse to less desirable committees after he bolted the GOP in 1952.

Suspends State Airport Grants

Federal Aid to Be Held Pending Probe of GOP Charges Against Board

WASHINGTON (INS) — Commerce Secretary Weeks today suspended all federal aid grants to Michigan airports pending an inquiry into Republican charges that Gov. Williams is attempting to use funds to settle political debts.

At the request of Michigan's Democratic State Aeronautics Board, the Civil Aeronautics Administration reallocated $551,530 in grants to Michigan airports.

(Last Friday, it was reported that under a shift of allocations, Pontiac Municipal Airport would receive federal aid amounting to $30,000.

(When the original allocations were made in October, Pontiac airport was among four that received none of Michigan's share of U. S. assistance.)

Rep. Ford (R-Grand Rapids), charged that the reallocation favored airports in areas where the Democratic vote was heavy.

Sen. McNamara (D) responded by blaming former Sen. Ferguson and Rep. Clardy, both defeated for re-election, and "continuing connivery" by Ford for the controversy.

Bob Considine Says:

Hope Cries, Punch Scores, and a Lush Calls an Error

NEW YORK (INS)—Last Tuesday Bob Hope called his friend Toots Shor after a preview of his brilliant forthcoming picture "Eddie Foy," and said, "I'm going to take Charlie Yates west. He doesn't look good."

Yates was Hope's stage and personal appearance manager for years.

Saturday night, with his wonderful Thule (Greenland) Air Force Base filmed show all set to be TV-screened Sunday evening, Hope drove Yates to Palm Springs from L.A. It turned out to be more of a Saturday night than anybody feared, but Yates was up bright and early Sunday afternoon and asked Hope to play golf with him. Hope felt terrible, but being the great guy he is he said okay. They rented one of those electric carts to keep from walking around the desert course.

Part way around, Yates got out of the cart, hit tremendous 4-iron to the green, and went back to the conveyance. Hope was about to hit his own shot when his friend suddenly toppled out of the cart, dead.

A few hours later, millions of Americans were laughing with or at Bob Hope on TV, via the show he filmed during his gracious New Year's trip to the forlorn Air Force Base in Malenkov's vestibule. But Hope . . . he was crying.

In its issue of Oct. 14, 1953, the ancient and honorable British magazine "Punch" printed what was (and is) to me an inscrutable bit of poetry by the distinguished Robert Graves.

"Why," they demand, "with so much yet unknown
Anticipate the final colophon
Where the book fails among appendices
And indices?"
"To count the tale almost as good as done
Would be intimidation by the sun,
Chalked on the door.
"Look at Sam Shepherd, ruinously white,
With marrow in his bones to leap all night!"
Yet Considine sits dead from the neck down,
With not a tooth lost and a beard still brown,
Curse of the town.

To repeat: The date was Oct. 14, 1953. At which time I was probably writing the clean-up on the World Series and Dr. Sam Sheppard was an obscure osteopath in an obscurer place named Bay Village, Ohio.

Can anyone supply me chapter and verse?

I suppose one would have to be an old baseball writer or confirmed fan to appreciate a report overheard at last Saturday night's annual Touchdown Club dinner in Washington.

Bud Wilkinson, the coach of the Oklahoma football team, was telling the audience his concept of the difference between baseball and football. In his discourse he said:

"Now take baseball. A shortstop fields a grounder and throws over to first to catch the runner. If the first baseman drops the ball it's the first baseman's error—not the shortstop's."

At the precise mpment a very proper souse woke up and, with as keen an analysis as we've heard in years, remarked, "The throw was low."

City-Wide Walkout Nears End in Texas

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—What began 15 months ago as a mass strike against many Port Arthur retail firms, bringing charges of a Communist conspiracy to seize the oil industry, has dwindled to picketing of four firms today.

Six business houses reached agreement with a union local yesterday. Eight firms settled Dec. 31. Earlier, two establishments went out of business, two others settled, and pickets were removed from another.

Whether the union gained bargaining rights, chief issue in the strike, was not revealed. Terms of the settlement were unannounced.

For more than a year pickets walked in front of laundries, restaurants, hotels and other business houses in this industrial city of the Texas coast.

Texas Atty. Gen. John Ben Sheperd declared the area was being used as a testing ground for a Communist plot to take over the oil industry and principal Texas ports.

MEDICAL JOURNAL REPORTS PROOF YOU CAN SPARE YOUR FAMILY DAYS OF SUFFERING FROM COUGHS OF COLDS

Here's Relief So Different It Will Change All Your Ideas About Cough Syrups

Six Leading Cough Syrups Tested in Medical Center. Results Vital to You.

Never before could any leading cough syrup promise you so much. Think of it! A new kind of cough syrup specially made, not only to relieve coughing faster and more completely, but also shorten the duration of the cough!

Here are Facts:

After testing six leading cough syrups on patients for two years, doctors reported that new Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup not only quickly relieved coughing spells and irritating throat dryness, but also cut the duration of the cough by as much as two full days.

Cetamium is the Answer

One reason for this, the report concluded, is that Vicks contains a new penetrating ingredient — Cetamium — that carries relief-bringing medicine right to the cough-irritated crevices of the throat — medicates as it penetrates. In addition, Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup also works through the system to help speed breaking up of the cough.

Doctors also learned that Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup does not upset stomach or appetite. This feature, plus its pleasant flavor, makes it ideal for children.

So spare your family days of suffering from coughs of colds. Use new Vicks Medi-trating Cough Syrup.

MEDICAL JOURNAL REPORTS:*
Matched, point for point, against five other leading cough preparations, Vicks Cough Syrup:
1. Helped reduce the duration of the cough by 2 full days.
2. Started to bring relief 39% faster than the average.
3. Brought more complete relief from coughs.

Liberty Highly Valued By Some U. S. Citizens

For generations a belief has been widespread that people who live in the United States take their civil and political liberties too much for granted.

Perhaps this is so, but legacies left to our Government by many native as well as foreign born Americans suggest otherwise.

One importer who came from Germany 50 years ago recently left all but $1,000 of his $70,000 estate to our Government. In doing so he explained in his will that he and his late wife were "so much indebted for the blessings we have enjoyed as citizens of this country."

A Los Angeles worker who earned so little that he pays no income taxes sent $100 a year to his Government anyhow. An anonymous donor gave $18,000 to the Treasury as "an elementary way of expressing belief in a democracy."

Down in St. Louis a Swedish rooming house operator left $12,000 to the Government as a token of her affection and gratitude. An Albanian dentist who practiced in that city bequeathed $5,000 "in appreciation for permitting me to make my home in the United States."

Most widely known name on the list is that of the late Supreme Court Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes. He left the Government $250,000, or about half his estate.

These bequests leave no doubt that those who made them felt very strongly that freedom is the most valuable of the many blessings we enjoy in this country.

"A camel is trained never to pass a camel ahead of him." So, it would seem, are many of the horses people bet on.

Order Cuts GI Benefits

By executive order President Eisenhower has decreed that certain GI benefits will not be available to persons joining the armed forces after January 31.

Thus will be ended what proved to be the most successful effort in our history to help war veterans readjust themselves to civilian life. Outstanding was the opportunity for GIs to continue their education either in schools, colleges, or universities or by on-the-job training.

In the opinion of college administrators, the benefits of that program have been enormous with very few violations of the spirit of the act either by veterans or educational institutions.

Besides these allowances, other benefits to be terminated are hospitalization and nonservice connected pensions, GI loan assistance for the purchase of homes, farms and business and housing assistance.

It is important to remember that all those entering the service after this month will be eligible for regular peacetime benefits. These include hospital and medical care and disability and death compensation.

According to Press Secretary Hagerty, the President's order does not terminate the Korean emergency. Presumably, however, it will reduce the $40,000,000 or more a month the Korean GI benefits cost taxpayers as long as the emergency continues.

Training GM Executives

One problem to which all large corporations like General Motors attach great importance is that of assuring themselves an adequate supply of capable executives.

No doubt most big firms place some dependence on the possibility of finding capable men on the open market. Other candidates for top jobs are developed in a day to day and month to month operations.

OLSON

But GM speeds the process by sending able and ambitious young men to its General Motors Institute at Flint where they get the best of technical training. It would be difficult to find a case which illustrates the value of such training as well as that of Bert T. Olson.

A native of Pontiac, Olson joined GM Truck and Coach Division in 1934. While working there he attended General Motors Institute and was graduated four years later in 1938.

That same year he was assigned to the division's sheet metal department becoming its superintendent in 1950. Four years later he became production engineer and in December was promoted to the post of manufacturing manager of the Delco Division at Dayton, Ohio.

Institute training, of course, can't guarantee as much for all its graduates. But the rapid progress made by this young production expert emphasizes the possibilities of institute training, native ability and hard work.

The rest of the year it is little less than a joy ride, and serves to make one better appreciate the many blessings of Michigan outdoors. The Northern Oakland Girl Scout Council Voices Its Appreciation for Your Support

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Today, although social tensions are increasing, there is ever greater awareness of the needs of youth. This has particular significance to the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council.

As we begin a new year filled with hopes and plans for the girls of Northern Oakland County, we take this opportunity to voice our appreciation to the public. Through your contributions to your local United Fund or Community Chest, you have given and are giving our organization and similar youth groups the necessary funds to operate a rich and meaningful program.

In March, our Scouts will present a "Scoutarama" display for the public. Through this project every Brownie, Intermediate, and Senior Scout will be saying "thank you" to those who contribute so generously to their United Fund or Community Chest.

Obtain Information About Fluoridation

The question of fluoridation now faces Pontiac. Americans look to their newspapers for the facts on current issues, especially this one concerning public health.

For your most recent bibliography, may I suggest the hearings on House Resolution 2341, a bill to stop fluoridation of water in the United States.

These hearings are available for $1.50 from the United States Printing Office, Washington, D. C. They took place in Washington, May 25, and May 27, 1954, with many noted doctors present, among whom was Dr. Leo Spira of 344 W. 72nd St., New York City, who has written a book entitled "The Drama of Florine, Arch-Enemy of Mankind," which is available also for $2 from the Lee Foundation, Milwaukee, Wis.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Parents Would Rather See Children Graduate Than Quit School for Money

Harry is much like the little boy in our neighborhood who gave his mother a bow and arrows for Christmas. He liked them so he figured she should like them. Instead, do a 'consumer survey' and try to take the viewpoint of your dad and mother. They get more actual joy out of your school diploma than out of any auto you can offer them.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case N-320: Harry S., aged 17, is the high school student whom I described yesterday as wanting to quit school to take a $50 per week job.

"Dr. Crane, my mother is a widow," he said, "and she has made a lot of sacrifices for me already.

"So I figure I owe her some happiness in life. And it seems to me that it would make her happier if I bought her a fur coat and an automobile and some of the things we've never had.

"Even if the lack of my diploma might hurt my chances for better jobs later on in life, don't you think I owe her some of these pleasures now?"

We psychologists have been stressing consumer surveys, not alone in business, but even in social and family relations.

"Harry, what does your mother say about your getting her these gifts now?" I asked.

"Well, I admit, she says she'd rather I finished school," he replied. "But I feel I owe her something now, while she is alive and can enjoy the things I buy her."

That's a laudable aim, but it pleases us parents far more to have you kids get prepared to lead a happier, more useful life in the years to come, than for us to have automobiles or refrigerators and even fur coats.

"An investment in knowledge," said sage old Benjamin Franklin, "always pays the best dividends."

It is an evidence of childishness to try to impress your associates by sinking your money into fur coats and other flashy symbols of wealth.

A trained brain is your most valuable possession. And we parents would much rather see you kids prepared to meet the problems of life more successfully, than to have you reimburse us with fur coats and Cadillacs.

Harry feels that his mother should have some luxuries right now, and he deserves praise for thus thinking of her welfare.

But mothers have great patience. I told Harry that his mother had put up with many inconveniences for the 17 years of his life, so she'd not mind going without the automobile and fur coat for a few years more.

"Harry, you may not realize it," I added, "but she will be far happier in seeing you get a high school diploma than in receiving a new car.

"She never graduated from high school herself, so she has sacrificed and dreamed of the day when she could sit in the audience and watch you receive a diploma.

"She will thus get more of a thrill from your diploma because she has sacrificed and worked and saved and prayed that you'd get one.

"So don't try to force a secondary pleasure upon her now in the form of an automobile or fur coat, when by so doing you'd deprive her of that primary pleasure of watching you graduate."

This type of delight which Harry's mother will receive when she watches him graduate, is termed "vicarious pleasure." The word "vicarious" means, by substitution."

And you teenagers, if you have the generous regard for your parents which Harry shows, should try to give your parents what they like, instead of offering them gifts which you yourselves enjoy.

A little boy of my acquaintance gave his mother a bow and arrows for Christmas. You readers know why. He liked them and figured he could use them for her.

But many older sons and daughters make similar unwise gifts. Instead, offer your parents what they really long for.

And most of them long for you to get diplomas and be admired by the people in your community.

Army Report on Peress Explains Dismissal Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army got rid of Irving Peress only when two generals, after months of fumbling by the rest of the Army, learned the facts and demanded action.

Peress, a New York dentist called to active duty as a captain after refusing to answer questions about communism, later was promoted to major after refusing again.

The Army's handling of Peress was one of the causes of the feud between the Army and Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis). Peress was in the Army 15 months. Now the Army has issued a 10,000-word report on why he stayed so long.

The generals mainly responsible for building a fire under Peress were Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, commander at Camp Kilmer, N.J., where Peress was stationed most of the time, and Lt. Gen. Withers A. Burress, 1st Army commander.

The story, as told by the Army, speaks for itself:

Oct. 15, 1952 — Peress sworn in as captain. Oct. 28 — He pleads Fifth Amendment in not answering questions about communism. Jan. 1, 1953 — He goes on active duty.

Feb. 5, 1953—Counterintelligence of 1st Army, which has headquarters in New York and jurisdiction over Camp Kilmer, begins investigation of Peress. April 24 — Counterintelligence informs Intelligence Division and surgeon general's office in Washington it has found "sufficient evidence of disloyal and subversive tendencies to warrant removal of Peress from service."

April 30, 1953 — Washington's Intelligence Division sends report on investigation to Camp Kilmer. June 15 — Intelligence branch at Kilmer returns file to 1st Army's intelligence branch with recommendation Peress be dismissed.

July 7 — 1st Army's Counterintelligence tells Washington's Intelligence Division keeping Peress is "not clearly consistent with interests of national security." Since regulations provide for a man in such a spot to answer more questions, a questionnaire is sent from Washington to New York and then to Kilmer.

Aug. 25 — Peress refuses under Fifth Amendment to answer all questions except those like his name and address. Aug. 26 — Kilmer's intelligence branch, again recommending Peress' dismissal, sends unanswered questionnaire to 1st Army's Intelligence Division. Sept. 2 — The latter forwards file to Washington, again urging Peress' dismissal.

Sept. 9 — Peress, at a time when Army is considering promotion of number of Army dentists, asks promotion to major. This request passes through a number of Camp Kilmer offices — chief dental surgeon, commanding general, intelligence office, personnel branch — and then to 1st Army headquarters in New York, with recommendation from two Kilmer officers that Peress be promoted. They had been informed of the derogatory information in Peress' files but forgot or ignored it.

Sept. 23 — 1st Army's adjutant general approves promotion, tells adjutant general's office in Washington. Then follows an exchange of letters around the Army on Peress' qualifications as a dentist. The surgeon general's office, which twice had recommended Peress' dismissal, approves promotion.

The Army explains this promotion business was handled by Army personnel people, not by the intelligence people who had investigated his background.

Oct. 21 — Zwicker is informed of derogatory information on Peress and that he has asked promotion. The same day Zwicker notifies Burress, 1st Army commander in New York, and recommends Peress' dismissal. Oct. 23 — Adjutant general's office in Washington appoints Peress major. Nov. 2 — Peress becomes major.

Nov. 3 — Burress visits Zwicker at Kilmer. Zwicker notes Peress has been made a major over Zwicker's opposition. Burress immediately phones his chief of staff in New York to get busy on case. Nov. 6 — Burress writes vice chief of staff in Washington, Gen. Charles L. Bolte, urging Peress' dismissal.

Nov. 20 — Army personnel board considers Peress' case and decides he must go. Dec. 31 — Bolte notifies Buress that Peress must be dismissed but will be allowed to quit with honorable discharge any time within 90 days after being notified.

Jan. 25, 1954 — Peress is given notice and decides he will get out March 31. But he quits Feb. 2, three days after being called before McCarthy and refusing to testify under protection of the Fifth Amendment.

Baering Down

Old soldiers never die and old politicians don't even get sick.

All this tea-talk about a third party leaves 'em colder than a box lunch. They aren't even sure about a second.

The big fat question is will the GOP Split itself up the back like a swordfish with an ingrown beak?

A concensus of muffled opinion in the dumbwaiter shaft of Chateau D' If indicates no.

An impartial canvas of yesterday's low level skywriting says yes.

Books published by their authors and splinter parties are vanity organizations.

But the Democrats paralleled off on a north-south axis during Franklin Delano's dynasty. And racked up a five-term score.

The best example of pampered introspection was Teddy Bull Moose Roosevelt. For most of his career Teddy had things his own way like a ventriloquistic auctioneer on 6th Avenue. He asked the questions and called the bids.

Then Bill Fatso Taft went off on his own like a boy sliding down a cellar-door. Whereupon Teddy launched the Bull Moosers at the pique of his career.

Like all vanity cases it paid off like a hanging jury. The Yuletide boar never eats the apple that's in its mouth.

Why Spoil Such Fine Sport as Hunting Cause, Cure of Hypothetical Ailment?

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Aunt Polly cites "statistics" (origin not revealed) to the effect that "colds" cost five billion dollars a year and fifty per cent of all absences from work are caused by the "pesky" malady (pesky being an appropriately facetious word to use in such a piece, if you can't make it ker-choo).

An appeal to industrial leaders to cough up half a million dollars for research on the cause and cure of the common etc. etc. was launched on the basis of these statistics, says Aunt Polly—still without divulging any particulars.

Ever since Tony was a pup—Well, then, since such endowments became deductible items, research expeditions have been setting out with more or less acclaim about the great economic advantage that will accrue from discovery of the cause and cure of the elusive "common cold".

No physician or other authority has defined "common cold" so that any other physician can understand what he's talking about. That's the way the old timers like it—indefinite.

A notable feature of nearly all the "drives", "research investigations" or organized studies undertaken to find the cause and cure of a hypothetical disease is that the newspaper publicity accorded the launching is the last we hear of the expedition.

An outstanding exception to the rule was the three-year investigation recently concluded in England. From experiments on human volunteers the British investigators concluded that exposure to cold and wet had no influence on the individual's susceptibility to or immunity to respiratory infection.

So what? Who in America cares what British investigators find, and vice versa? Why spoil such a fine sport as hunting for the cause and cure of a purely hypothetical ailment?

The correspondent who sent me Aunt Polly's story commented: What a wonderful thing if you could be granted this half-million to put on a drive in your own common sense way?

Yahbut the bigshots, the trick specialists and the kliNICK racketeers would proclaim to their customers that Brady is a quack—avowedly so—and the few doctors who might approve would be afraid to say so.

The idea is interesting, however. A half-million dollars would print and distribute four million copies of Little Lesson No. 5, "Call It Cold," for a copy of which send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

From testimonials received, it seems fair to assume that study of Little Lesson No. 5 enables at least one family to reduce the incidence of CRI (common respiratory infections), so the distribution of four million copies might make a big dent in the family's year-around doctor bill.

Signed letters not more than one page or 500 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to diseases, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

Says Affidavit Is Not Factual

Ziem Claims Detector Test Shows Statements of Holdup Not True

"Investigation has shown a statement to be false" which a Pontiac man asserts clears his son of a robbery armed conviction, according to Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Aubrey Smith, of 1420 S. Hospital Rd., yesterday said he would seek a retrial for his son, Robert K., 20, who was sentenced in Circuit Court last June 21 to ten to 20 years in Jackson State Prison.

The elder Smith said he obtained an affidavit from Lee Bates, 20, formerly of 80 Omar St., in which, Smith stated, Bates admitted wrongly accusing his son and two other men.

Robert Smith plus Arthur Hewitt, 19, formerly of 1654 Giddings Rd. and Richard Parks, 17, formerly of 22 McNell St., were convicted with Bates of holding up the Walton Dairy Bar, 228 W. Walton Blvd., last April 20. The four are now in Jackson Prison.

After signing the statement in prison, Bates was taken to Lansing Jan. 5 for a lie detector test, said Ziem.

"We were convinced at Lansing," Ziem stated, "that when Bates implicated the three others on the witness stand he was telling the truth and that his allegations in the affidavit are false."

Strangers Invite Actors to Parties for Free Performance They Expect

By EDDIE CANTOR

There is an old gag that when a sailor has a day off, he usually spends that time rowing a boat on some lake. I know performers enjoy themselves most when they are entertaining each other at private parties.

If what George Burns does at parties could ever be captured on the screen, he'd run all of us out of the business. Danny Kaye is another who keeps his friends in hysterics without scenery or costumes—all he needs is a living room and an audience of not less than three.

But the bane of our existence is being invited to the parties of comparative or complete strangers who have developed a juicy racket out of the free show they know they will get.

Once when Will Rogers was asked to a party given by one of New York's society ladies, he accepted. He regaled the guests with a brilliant monologue, and the day after the affair, sent the hostess a bill for $1,000. She telephoned Will immediately to ask if this was another of his jokes.

"No, Ma'am," he drawled. "That's my regular salary for doing m yact." "But you were invited to my party as a guest," she protested. "Yeah," he said, "But I notice you didn't invite my wife, and when she ain't invited, I figure it's just the act you want."

Early in 1929 Ziegfeld persuaded me to attend a party given by one of the automobile tycoons of America. I went. The host asked that I sing the song, "Makin' Whoopee." I did. To my surprise, on leaving the gentleman handed me five $1,000 bills. He also gave me a tip on his stock, which I bought the very next day. Result —I lost $45,000 on the deal. I've never sung at a party since.

The actors are not the only ones who are victims of partyitis. It extends to all professions. A physician I know got tired of being invited to dinner by a friend of his, only to be asked over the demitasse to diagnose the assorted ailments of the host, hostess and their family.

After more than a year of this sort of thing, the doctor decided to end it once and for all by rendering a bill for $500 for professional services.

But having done this, it troubled him. At lunch the next day with a lawyer friend, he confessed his action, adding, "I had to put a stop to it, but maybe this wasn't the right thing to do. What do you think?" The attorney answered, "I'd say you were certainly within your rights. After all, you were dispensing professional services."

The doctor felt better about it. The next day in his mail he received a bill for $500 for services rendered from his lawyer friend.

Trooper Wounds Man After Wild Auto Chase

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — A state trooper last night shot and wounded a Cheboygan area man who police said brandished a gun at the officer after a wild automobile chase.

State Police said Bernard Jewett, 29, of Route 3, Cheboygan, led pursuing Troopers John Sible and Philip Charney to his home in a high speed chase after failing to stop for a traffic violation.

Police said Jewett brandished a shotgun menacingly and was wounded by Sible when he refused the trooper's order to drop the gun.

Jewett was taken to Cheboygan General Hospital where his condition was described as fair.

It seems that many communities want to start zoos but don't know how to go about it. That's what Prof. Arthur Wilcox of MSC, chairman of the sponsoring committee, says.

Sandstorms Get Men's Names

Feminine Tag Hurricanes Now Have Competition in West Texas

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP)—Ladies who have been upset about Hurricane Alice can get back at their husbands pretty soon. There'll be Sandstorm George to talk about at the breakfast table.

The hurt feelings of women about the female names given to hurricanes is not, of course, the only reason for a momentous decision taken in this west Texas city.

Sandstorms, people feel here, have just as much personality as hurricanes. And the same right to names. Good, strong, masculine names.

So, Editor Bill Collyns of the Midland Reporter-Telegram today announced appointment of the world's first sandstorm advisory board.

There are three members: a woman, to make sure the sandstorms get masculine names; the Chamber of Commerce manager, who is happy about the "recognition" the sandstorms are going to get, and W. M. Perry, chief meteorologist in charge of the U.S. Weather Bureau here.

Perry's job: to size things up and decide whether a wind has enough in it to be called an honest-to-goodness sandstorm.

Mrs. Barbara Culver, Midland attorney and member of the state board of the American Assn. of University Women, is the woman member. She's happy about the chance "to protect the good names of our women."

Chamber of Commerce Manager Delbert Downing drew a deep breath and opined that: "We have some of the finest sandstorms in the world."

Dr. Sam Under Constant Watch

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sorrowed by a last look at his mother and anxious over his seriously ill father, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was under constant watch today in the county jail's fourth-floor observation cell.

Sheppard wept yesterday during the funeral service for his white-haired mother Mrs. Ethel Niles Sheppard, 64. He wept again when he stood with his two brothers beside the casket for a moment before it was closed.

Mrs. Sheppard shot herself to death with a revolver last Friday. The brothers say she was despondent after her son's sentence, three weeks ago today, to life imprisonment for the July 4 murder of his wife Marilyn.

Police said the mother's suicide note said only:

"I can't manage alone without father."

A crowd of about 2,000 gathered outside the yellow brick funeral home in suburban Lakewood when Sheppard arrived in a blue police car, handcuffed to Michael A. Uccello, chief jailer.

A rope barrier and police guard kept the uninvited at a distance as they snarled traffic on busy Detroit Avenue.

After he hurried inside, an overcoat slung over his shoulders, Sheppard had time for a brief talk with less than a score of relatives and friends at the private service before the Rev. Alfred C. Kreke of Bay Methodist Church began the sermon at 3 p.m.

Convict Returns to Jail 'to Keep Out of Trouble'

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Dennis M. Dixon, who entered Texas State Penitentiary in 1929 on two charges of murder and four of burglary and was paroled in 1944, is back again—at his own request.

He asked that his parole be revoked because "I thought I'd better get back in before I got into some serious trouble." He said he had been unemployed for 18 months, his wife had divorced him and he had been drinking too much.

Problem Children of Labor Force

Age Prejudice Against Workers Over 45 Mostly Without Basis, Survey Shows

Editor's Note: The U.S. Department of Labor, and state labor departments in areas where unemployment is serious, are giving special attention to a "problem child" of the labor force—the man past 45 who can't find a job because he is "too old." The following dispatch, the second in a series of three, describes how "age prejudice" afflicts our senior citizens.

NEW YORK (UP)—"First to be fired, last to be hired." So goes the bitter refrain of the middle-aged and older worker in a world that places a premium on youth.

His lament is only partly true. Through union activity and industry's recognition of seniority rights, a man getting along in years has less reason today to fear he will be among the first to be laid off if his company tightens its belt during a recession.

"Job engineering," the shifting of an aging worker to a job of slower pace, also is helping keep older workers employed.

But the deck is still stacked against the man past 45, and the woman over 35, who walks into an employment office looking for a job.

As many as 80 per cent of the jobs listed in employment bureaus carry a specific age maximum. The U. S. Department of Labor says one out of three applicants for jobs is over 45, but only one out of seven placements involves this age group.

Except in a tight labor market, when employers are grubbing for help, the older worker may indeed find himself "last to be hired."

Employment service officials believe "age prejudice" is responsible for much of the reluctance to put older men and women to work. Employers rattle off stock arguments to justify their policies. But placement officials argue right back. Examples:

"Older people are more likely to get hurt on the job." The bureau of labor statistics surveyed 18,000 workers in 109 plants and found that disabling accidents involved as many men in the 25-35 age bracket as in the 45-plus bracket. The highest rate was among men between 35 and 45.

"Absenteeism is greater among older workers." The same federal survey showed absenteeism is lowest among workers 55 to 65, highest in the under-30 group.

"If a man is unemployed at 45 he is probably a job-hopper and wouldn't work for us long anyhow." Labor surveys show job-hopping is more prevalent among younger workers, who have less family responsibility and are more restless and ambitious.

"As a man gets older he produces less." Statistics aren't available to prove or disprove this, but such a generalization is defied every day in factories where white-haired men keep up with assembly lines as easily as their sons.

"We want young men with zeal and energy!" Energetic young men often do not have the sober judgment, wisdom and experience that comes with age.

Another argument, not based on prejudice, involves pensions. Some companies say they cannot afford to put a new employe over 40 on the payroll without upsetting their pension program. He would be eligible for retirement too soon.

In some quarters it is suggested that compulsory retirement be done away with. Medical science has increased the life span to the point where 60 to 65 is no longer a realistic age to force a man to retire.

The problem of the older worker is being pressed home to industry and labor leaders—and political leaders—by the fact that increased longevity means the 45-plus group will make up half of America's adult population by 1975.

(Tomorrow—Efforts to help the older worker).

"Guess we're a pretty lucky family in more ways than one," say Mr. and Mrs. Jose Hernandez, of Dearborn. "We've got our 10-year-old son, Peter, back home from the hospital—and over $3,000 in hospital and doctor bills paid by Blue Cross - Blue Shield. You never know when you're going to need Blue Cross - Blue Shield . . . but, when you do, there's no finer protection!"

$3,247 in hospital and doctor bills for our boy covered by Blue Cross-Blue Shield

Says Dearborn auto worker, Jose Hernandez

1. Peter was outside cleaning his bike. We didn't know it—but he was using gasoline. Some of it spilled on his pants. He figured he could do a better job of cleaning the chain if he lit a match to it. And that's when it happened! It's a good thing our neighbor heard him scream. He came running out, grabbed Peter and rolled him in the sand to get the fire out.

2. But the damage was already done. Peter had terrible burns all over both legs. He was in one hospital for 88 days, and then in another for 32. They had to perform four skin grafting operations. Peter sure had to have a lot of attention in the hospital—and he got everything he needed, too. You can't imagine how the costs can run up, though.

3. We were mighty glad to have Peter home again—and we thank our lucky stars that the protection we had was Blue Cross - Blue Shield. Our Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract covered the whole hospital bill—except for sixty cents in phone calls. Blue Shield paid over $300 to our doctor, too. We wouldn't be without Blue Cross - Blue Shield for anything!

Mr. John Givaian, Detroit: "I would have had to pay $1,000 out of my own pocket if I didn't have Blue Cross - Blue Shield. I was in the hospital for 49 days with a back injury. My Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract and Blue Shield paid almost $850 of it. I'd sure hate to be without protection like this."

Mrs. Marie Pahley, Gordon City, Mich.: "I can't say enough good things about Blue Cross - Blue Shield. I was in the hospital for almost four weeks. My Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract and Blue Shield covered over $1,500 in hospital and doctor bills. It was a real lifesaver for me."

Mrs. Sarah Biggs, Hazel Park, Mich.: "Blue Cross - Blue Shield paid $604 to my hospital and doctor when I was sick recently. We didn't have to touch our savings at all. Protection like this is almost too good to be true. My husband and I are grateful we've got Blue Cross - Blue Shield. We wouldn't be without it."

1 in every 3 Michigan families will have a hospital bill in 1955!

Is your family protected? The most successful idea ever devised to protect your family against hospital bills is Blue Cross.

Because Blue Cross pays off in hospital services . . . not limited cash payments that may not cover half the services you need.

Hospital Service Protection

When you go to the hospital, you always need more services than just bed, board, and general nursing care. You may need other essentials like oxygen, operating room, drugs and medicines. The trouble is, you rarely know ahead of time how many services you'll need . . . so you can't very well prepare for their cost.

With Blue Cross, you don't have to prepare, because these hospital services are yours automatically, regardless of their cost. This is true at any Blue Cross-participating hospital . . . and that means practically every general hospital in Michigan! Each enrolled member of your family gets the very same protection, too!

Doctor Bill Protection

Your doctor can generally tell you in advance how much his bill will be . . . but what he can't tell you is when you might have that bill. That's why you need protection against doctor bills, too. Blue Shield offers you protection against the cost of doctor bills for surgical and in-hospital medical care . . . by paying generous specific amounts directly to your doctor for thousands of procedures.

Safety in Large Numbers . . .

Almost half the people in Michigan have Blue Cross - Blue Shield . . . proof that these plans must be pretty special. Ask some of your friends who have used their protection. See if they don't agree that there is no finer protection . . . that, like Jose Hernandez, they can't afford to be without it!

Ask your employer or union representative how you can protect your family with low-cost group enrollment. A company with as few as five employees may qualify as a group. Call or write your nearest Blue Cross - Blue Shield office.

BOTH PRAISE O-JIB-WA BITTERS

"Ten days was all that it took O-JIB-WA BITTERS to bring me the results that I sought for so long," says Mr. Walter Kleimola, R No. 2, Ironwood, Michigan.

"My wife is the one who first introduced me to O-JIB-WA BITTERS. She began taking it about a year and a half ago, because her arms were swollen and very painful. Her blood circulation was very poor and brown spots began to appear on her skin. She had tried many medicines, but nothing helped very much until she used O-JIB-WA. The pains left and the spots went away, so she has been recommending it to others ever since. I read on the folder packed with the bottle that it was good for stomach ailments, and as I have been suffering for a long time with my stomach, I decided to give it a trial. About all I had been able to eat was like baby food, and of course anything fried would about kill me. O-JIB-WA BITTERS helped me right away and in 10 days I wasn't bothered at all. Because of the excellent results we have both received from your medicine, we are glad to tell all who suffer about the merits of O-JIB-WA BITTERS."

Box of Old Check Stubs Patches Up Family Feud

By SAUL PETT

NEW YORK (AP)—It was one of those fights.

She said something. He said something. She said that was a terrible way to put it. He said he wasn't putting it any particular way. She said that he said.... He said, nonsense, he had only said what he said after she said...

Lost in tenses and anger, she went back to the dishes. He slammed the kitchen door and went down to his den in the basement, his since the real den upstairs had become the sewing room and the TV room and the guest room.

As always in such fights, he imagined they had not really been married the last 15 years, Helen and Tim were someone else's kids. He really was still a gay young bachelor, with lots of girls and flashy cars and places to go and bright, crisp things to say.

It further irritated him that the bottom drawer of his basement desk wouldn't shut tight and he could see why. She had crammed in the big cardboard box she kept the old check stubs in. Stubs all the way back, 13 or 14 years. Her check stubs in his desk. Well, all right, their stubs. Still it was her mania to save everything in sight, not his....

The first stub he saw was only a month old. S & J Apparels, $54. He could, he thought, rush back up to the kitchen and deliver a stinging denouncement of frivolous shoppers. But then she would produce incontrovertible evidence the kids really needed those new winter coats.

He turned the box over and began among the oldest stubs. March 12, 1940—art lessons, $14. Hers. April 9, 1940, sofa, $175. The sofa was now beside him, in the basement. Nov. 24, 1940—sculpture lessons, $18. Hers. "After all, a wife needs to feel productive, too."

Apt. rnt, $47, month after month. Then $54, then $62.... Feb. 12, 1941—beer, $28.50. What, $28.50 for beer! But then he remembered and relaxed. It was his going-away party. The next morning he was at Fort Dix. Would he ever make corporal?... and for the next four years, she signed all the checks. Sweater, extra warm, $10.20. Had it reached him in Africa or Italy?.. Xmas package, $14.40. Where had he devoured it, in Naples or Rome?

Feb. 23, 1945—Obstetrician for Helen, $100. "Of course, I know she's breathing. Just thought I'd check the crib covers."... Jan. 12, 1946, Helen's stroller, $15.89...Jan. 29, 1946, washing machine, $210... April 12, 1947, sofa, $278...May 15, 1947, drugs, $8.98...March 24, 1948, new set of dishes, $29...May 3, 1948, sewing machine, $110...what happened to the art lessons?

Without knowing why, he smiled. He was now completely comfortable in the old chair he used to complain about...

Oct. 19, 1948—Helen's tonsils, $50. "I should have stayed the night with her in the hospital. I'll never forget her eyes when I walked out."...Nov. 3, 1948—down payment, house, $1800. "My pen shook when I signed it. It felt like I was being led down an endless corridor with a million doors, each marked "mortgage payment due."...

April 12, 1949, garden tools, $23...April 29, 1949—grass seed, $13.40...July 8, 1949, cement, back terrace, $18...Oct. 10, 1949, obstetrician for Tim, $175. "Of course, I know he's breathing. Just thought I'd check the crib covers."

April 3, 1951, television set, $190. "We don't really want one for ourselves but the children are screaming for one."...May 12, 1953—Helen's first two-wheeler, $55...Jan. 15, 1954—Helen's piano lessons, $4...Nov. 28, 1954—Tim's space ranger outfit, $8.98...Dec. 4, 1954, first payment, Helen's braces, $40.

Then it came to him that actually he had never been a gay bachelor, that there were very few girls, that the only car was a broken-down model A, that the conversation usually was desperately wooden.

He paused before putting the checks back in the desk drawer. Then he went up to the kitchen where she was just finishing up. He kissed her on the back of the neck. She said, "What's that for?" "None of your business," he said, and kissed her again.

Korean Orphan Adjusts to U. S.

Boy Adopted by Sailor Enjoys TV Westerns, Christmas Bike

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—A year or so ago little Lee Kyung Soo was an orphaned waif in the muddy streets of Inchon, Korea. Today he is known as Lee James Paladino and has become quite adjusted to life in the United States.

The youngster was adopted by Navy C.P.O. Vincent J. Paladino, a bachelor, and brought here to live with his parents a year ago last month.

Lee is now 6 and a first-grade pupil in Holy Name Catholic School. He has stopped calling Paladino "Abooji," the Korean word for father, and now calls him "Dad."

Like other American boys, his television tastes run to cowboys and Western programs, the Paladinos report. And the child is particularly happy now about a bicycle he got for Christmas.

The family says the past year has almost completely wiped out the boy's memories of tragic times in his native Korea.

The Navy chief, now assigned as an instructor at the naval reserve armory in New Rochelle, still has the problem of having Lee's adoption legally recognized in the United States, a step necessary for the child's American citizenship. He is trying to get the adoption papers from Korea. If they don't come soon, he said, he plans to ask for a 30-day leave to got to Korea and get them himself.

Vocational Institutes Slated in Three Cities

The National Urban League has announced that vocational guidance institutes will be held this spring in three cities: Memphis, Kansas City (Mo.) and Gary.

This program is in line with the league's continuing efforts to help lift the occupational horizons of Negro youth and to assure them of the assistance of responsible adult groups.

Last year more than 6,000 young people took part in career planning institutes cosponsored by national and local Masons units in St. Louis, Cleveland and Birmingham.

Dressing Table on Door, Two Wrongs Make Right

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

There's always a lot of special satisfaction in the solving of a room problem. But here two problems are solved, and the solution produces the most attractive feature of a room. First of all, there seemed to be nowhere at all to put a dressing table. And then, a door that was never used cut up a wall. The two wrongs make a right this time, by design. With a valance and curtain panels to match the window treatment in the room, the door is covered completely. A logical place is provided for a dressing table, and it's a dramatic dressing table. The high and handsome background makes it twice as attractive as it could be alone. The styling here is somewhat tailored, with the straight valance and kick-pleat dressing table skirt, but there could be a ruffled swag at top and a ruffled skirt to match ruffled curtains.

He Is Right If Gift Cost Negligible

Send to Husband, He Can See That Wife Receives It

By EMILY POST

A man writes me: "One of the men in my office has asked me to send for a gadget which he saw at our house recently, for his wife. The cost is negligible, but I am wondering whether I should have this sent to his house C.O.D. or whether I may have it sent to his wife as a little present.

These people have been very kind to me on several occasions when my wife was out of town, and I would like to send the gadget to the wife if that would be all right. My own wife thinks that it would be wrong to do this and will only cause them embarrassment rather than pleasure. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Since you say it is of small value, send it as a gift from you to the husband, so that he may give it to his wife.

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it considered necessary, for the sake of being thought a gentleman, for a man to go out with the young woman he has taken to the theater if she is feeling ill and has asked to be excused to go out to the dressing room? This situation came up the other evening and I didn't know what to do. The young woman wasn't so ill as to need assistance.

Since she was not in need of assistance and did not ask for any, you were quite right to let her go alone.

Dear Mrs. Post: My sister and I are to be married within six months of each other. Our parents are dead and we live alone. We have two other older married sisters and a married brother. In whose name should the wedding invitations be sent out? My sister will be married first and I will probably live with the "newlyweds" until my marriage.

The invitations to your sister's wedding would be sent out by the oldest member of your family, who is considered the nominal head of the family, and the invitations to your wedding could be sent out by your newly married sister and her husband with whom you will be living at that time.

Considerate Attitude Can Go Too Far

Boy Cares for Girl Who Tries Hardest, She Can Be 'It'

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I liked Jack and Jack liked me until Sue started liking him. Then he, thinking I didn't like him any more, started liking her. Now they're going together, though not steady. Jack and I have fun together, still, and I have reason to believe that he still likes me a little. I still like him a lot!

"I'd like to know what I can do about it. So far as Sue's feelings go, I don't have to spare them because she sure didn't spare mine! We're pretty good friends so she knew I still liked him. He does like her a lot, I know, but I'm crazy about him!"

And it's Jack's feelings you have to consider in all this. You give a passing thought and a sideways shrug to Sue's feelings. You should fret over hurting her? You want Jack back, by fair means or foul. And what can you do about it?

Tackle Jack head on. Ask him straight out what gave him the idea that you'd stopped liking him? Churn him up good with the flat statement that you still like him and always have. Then wait to see what he does with it.

He seems to gravitate toward the girl who entertains the most lively and evident yen for him. Your yen has plenty of steam—so let him feel it. He might be intrigued enough to start liking you all over again.

After all, the decision is really not up to you two girls!

"Dear Miss Woodward: I like a boy who was very badly disillusioned by the last girl he went with. It seems that he liked her a lot and is still carrying the torch for her. But she doesn't like him any more—in fact she's going with someone else.

"I wouldn't even try to get him to like me if she cared about him even a wee bit. But she doesn't—so I don't see why I can't be the one to pull him out of his shell. Please help me."

Perhaps if the lad knew of your interest in him, it might help to cheer him up. He my be carrying that torch still because he has no real reason to douse it. You might supply a new light in his life.

But leave his former girl and their relationship out of your planning. Make opportunities to see him and get acquainted with him.

Surround him with the warmth of your interest and friendliness. When he's loneliest, he'll remember you. When he's feeling gay, he'll remember you. He may start remembering you all the time. You'll have done it!

New York Showing Is Artist's Goal

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"I live in the South," a woman writes, "and I am a painter. I do rather well here, but I am very anxious to have a New York gallery exhibit my work. I am sure it would increase my income, since New York is the center of art buying, of course.

"How do I go about it? I plan to be in New York in about three months, but I don't know anybody important in the field.

"Can an unknown ever get the top New York galleries interested in his work?"

In the first place, for a relatively unknown painter, an exhibit at a big New York gallery will probably not increase income. Only the top, well-known painters make any money to speak of. But it will be a prestige-builder, and should be considered only with that in mind, or disappointment will result.

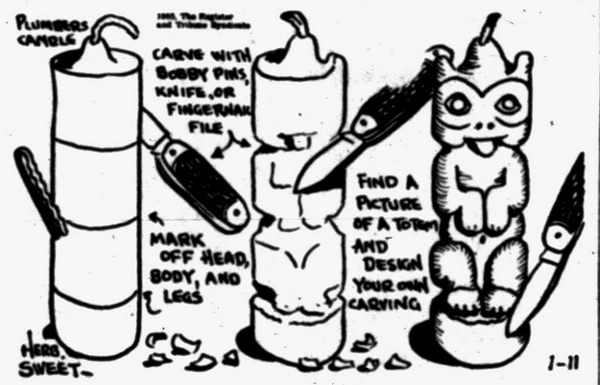
The first thing for this woman to do is decide which galleries she wants to approach. Each one has its own style, a type of art which it prefers to handle. If she will study the art magazines, and see which galleries handle which contemporary painters, she will get a good idea of the ones which might be interested in her particular type of work.

Then she should write to them, telling them which days she will be in New York, and requesting an interview. Very likely they will see her, because, in the first place, they are pretty decent people, and in the second place, they do honestly like to find new and promising talent.

Then she must take a portfolio, with representative samples of her work, and simply go from one gallery to another. She must not get discouraged if a good many of them turn her down. If she has what it takes, she will eventually find one which likes her work.

In fact, whatever your field—painting or writing or sculpture or inventing—you don't have to worry too much about "contacts." If you honestly have what it takes, and persist in showing it around, you will eventually find a buyer.

Too many women feel that they can never get anywhere at selling their ideas or products unless they know the right people. But the right people are always looking for new talent, and all you have to do is plug along, with intelligence, persistence and good manners—and eventually you'll find a market!



Try It

Carve a Totem Candle

How would you like to make a small-sized totem pole? This is a good craft, and perhaps you Cubs and Scouts would like to make this a group activity.

Totem pole carving was not done for worshiping, they were made in memory of some one or of a great event. You may want to look at some library pictures of totems, or you can follow the one in the drawing for your first try.

You will need a thick plumber's candle for your carving, then use a bobby pin, Scout knife, or a finger nail file for your tool. Divide the candle into four parts for the head, body, legs and base, as shown. Make a light sketch of the figure, then begin the carving. the candle is easy to carve, and you may want to make several different totems.

Did you know that totem poles are a fairly new art and were at their peak about 1860? Perhaps you will want to read more about the Northwest Indians?

Gourmet Tricks Found in Tube in Paris

PARIS (INS)—You may be able to "live out of a can" in America . . . but in France you can do gourmet tricks "out of a tube."

Some fancy additions and trimmings to the famous French cuisine now come in tubes. Thick sweetened condensed milk, mayonnaise, tomato puree, mustard, anchovie paste and even butter in tubes are available on the Paris food market.

The most practical tubed food is mayonnaise. It not only keeps fresh for months but the tube is specially designed for ordinary as well as fancy trimming output.

An additional plastic cap with a star-shaped top opening produces the mayonnaise as if it came out of an icing squeezer—ready for fancy canapes or other food decoration. For ordinary use the extra cap can be unscrewed to produce the normal tubular shape.

Sweetened condensed milk has the advantage of keeping much longer than the canned product since no air can get to it after each using and it is easier to handle than pouring from a can. The same counts for butter, mustard and cheese for spreads.

Cream 'n Steam

If you soak in a hot tub, give yourself a quick facial at the same time; smear your face with petroleum jelly. The steam and cream will smooth the skin.

IF mature—

No more "teen-age" outline. Dressy fabrics, pleated skirts with cardigan top, have casual air of elegance you want.

Mrs. M.—Pleated skirts are part of the long torso silhouette in young-looking dresses meant for the older woman. Remember we wore them in the '20s and now it is again the silhouette most becoming to the slender mature woman.

Amusing Episodes Given of Pranks Good and Bad

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

The psychologists probably have a name for it—the impulse that caused a 15-year-old English boy not long ago to announce to his teachers that his uncle had left him a boys' school.

His story was so impressive that he was given a day's leave to go and inspect his new property. He came back with tales of how he had fired a too-strict matron, given the students a vacation and thrown out several objectionable faculty members. He laid it on a little too thick, however, and the authorities decided to investigate. They found the story was a complete hoax—the school existed only in the boy's fertile imagination.

The episode reminds me of an interview with Quentin Reynolds on my radio program. I remember saying to Quentin at the start, "You've never done a better book." And he answered, "I've never had a bigger inspiration." We were nearly in tears, both of us, over "The Man Who Wouldn't Talk," George DuPre, the Canadian whose thrilling story of his underground experiences in the second World War later proved to be a fake.

A similar hoax was perpetrated not long ago by the young Congressman from our own west who posed as the hero he was not. Both men tried to explain but their motives were never quite clear.

I was a reporter when another famous literary deception came to light—Joan Lowell's "Cradle of the Deep," purporting to be an autobiographical account of her childhood aboard her father's ship. I've never known the truth about that hoax but I suspect Joan was more sinned against than sinning. Anyway, she now lives happily in Brazil on a big coffee plantation and has written other books, good ones, too.

I like Joan, but I have little sympathy for the Ohio prisoner who early last year was revealed as having obtained a fine advance from a publisher for his "first novel," which a keen-minded New York reviewer spotted as a word-for-word steal of the 1944 opus of somebody else.

Edgar Allen Poe enjoyed fooling the public: One with poker-faced accounts of a scientific discovery on making gold from dross, and again with a journal purporting to be the notes of an early American traveler. Percy Bysshe Shelley tried to pass off some of his own poems as the work of a legendary mad laundress who tossed a knife at King George III.

In the same vein, the famous violinist Fritz Kreisler attributed to 17th and 18th century masters a dozen or more pieces of music that he himself wrote. The top music critic of Berlin deplored after one Kreisler concert: "Pugnani (Kreisler had named him as the composer) would not have played the Allegro in that tempo!"

The worst hoaxes of all, I think, are those that distort history, like the famous tale of George Washington and the cherry tree. Though I suppose whether we believe George really cut down the tree or not makes little difference in our final estimate of him.

Ice Cream in Nests Is Different

Mrs. Saunders Adds Marshmallows and Margarine to Cereal

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Almost everyone likes ice cream so that you can count on approval when you serve it as dessert. You may like to try Mrs. S. Gordon Saunders' way of serving it in marshmallow nests. They caused much favorable comment at a recent club meeting.

Mrs. Saunders is another active, young mother. Besides caring for her home and two pre-school sons, she works with a group of Brownie Scouts, belongs to a Child Study group, a book club and plays in the Pontiac Table Tennis League. Mrs. Saunders is also an accomplished musician.

MARSHMALLOW NESTS
By Mrs. S. Gordon Saunders Jr.

3 cups corn flakes
¼ pound margarine
17 marshmallows

Melt margarine and marshmallows. Pour over corn flakes and mix thoroughly. Press into individual aluminum foil pie pans, indenting the center to make "nests." To serve, remove from pans, fill with ice cream and top with any desired sauce.

This mixture may be put in muffin tins or in a large ring mold. For holiday use it may be made in gelatin molds shaped like trees, hearts, etc.

Annual Reception Announced by County Republican Women

Parnis, Simpson Show Collections on Opening Day

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—Pockets are a girl's best friend, say two fashion designers whose ideas change the look of American women's clothes each season.

They are Adele Simpson and Mollie Parnis, both of whom previewed their spring collections on the opening day of New York's current week of showing for the visiting fashion press.

A woman needs pockets for change, cigarettes, handkerchiefs, glasses, lipstick and shopping lists. But up to now most high-style fashions have ignored this basic need.

Mrs. Simpson and Miss Parnis, however, are correcting the situation this spring. Both show pockets of all sizes, shapes and descriptions on their new spring fashions. As the diminutive Mrs. Simpson remarks:

"This is an age of pockets. In order to look well, women must feel comfortable and easy in their clothes. They like to stand with hands in pockets, they like to have pockets in which to carry small belongings that get lost in the bottom of a handbag. They want and need functional clothes for ease of living—skirts with room for walking or for getting in and out of taxicabs, suits that turn into cocktail or restaurant dresses with the removal of the jacket—and enough pockets to hold their minor accessories."

Miss Parnis, favorite designer of Mrs. Eisenhower, shows envelope pockets on smooth, wearable, understated shirtwaist dresses for spring, and recommends the shirtwaist outfit for every hour of the day. She explains:

"Women don't want to look overdressed or regimented. They want clothes that make them feel good, and that don't have a lot of gadgets and trimmings that need constant adjustment. They want to look smooth, well-put-together and contemporary, but never faddish. They adapt today's fashions to their own tastes and activities, individualize them with their own accessories. And they like pockets, because pockets add to the ease of living."

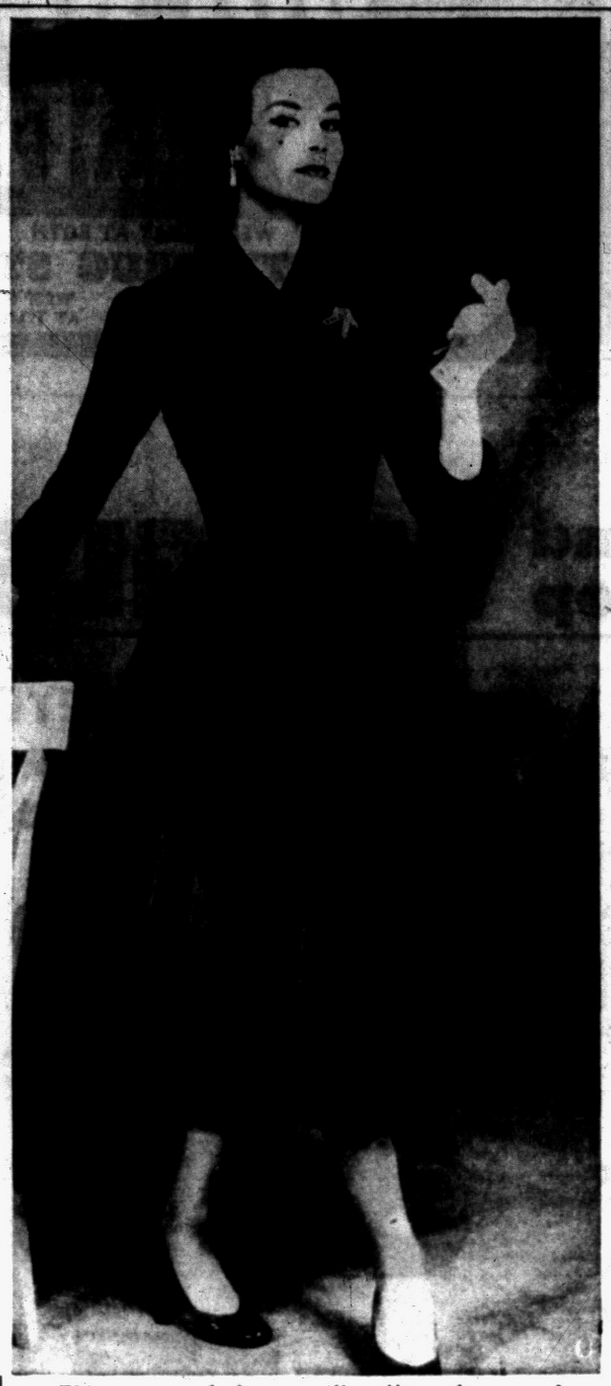
Mrs. Simpson stresses the long-torso look in both suits and dresses for spring, and is careful to explain the type of foundation garment that should be worn with them—an all-in-one combination that smooths and lengthens the midriff, lifts and rounds the bust, gives the silhouette that long, unbroken line so important to the new styles.



This scoop-necked navy silk taffeta afternoon dress has tiny puffy sleeves and a double-breasted navy wool jersey jacket. A spring design by Mollie Parnis, it has corded shell edging on the jacket collar and cuffs and on the dress neckline. The skirt is fully pleated all around.

Pauline Trigere's sheath of navy silk has a separate Puritan collar of white grosgrain. Designed for day or after-dark, the sheath is of navy silk.

Shyness Not Fashionable, but People Need a Little

By MARGARET LATROBE

Shyness is something nearly everybody knows as a brother but no one will acknowledge. Shy? Who—me? Better own up to kleptomania or acute alcoholism than shyness. It's not fashionable, it's not chic. It shows a fellow isn't well adjusted.

But just between us, it is a rare pleasure to meet people who are admittedly a little bit reserved, a little loath to make the handshake a crushing vice. To meet those who are not your instant oldest and dearest buddies the minute the introductions are made.

Some of us watched a film the other night portraying three types of shyness in children. The psychiatrist lecturing afterward defined this trait as that which is harmful only when it prohibits the full expression of the individual's social needs.

Shyness, in its lethal form, may inhibit not just one life, but may destroy an entire family. The inflicted one may long desperately for friends, for love, for the ability to reach out and touch hands with others who need and want him. But the distortions which have caused him to withdraw, to condemn himself, to find himself unworthy of friends, are overwhelming. He cannot unwind these patterns which literally fence him in.

But there are gradations of shyness which fall into the category of individual differences. When a child is fascinated by solitary explorations of mechanics, nature, games—and still finds happiness among his own kind—there is no problem. And my personal opinion is that he has the makings of a better-integrated individual than the extroverted little brats who depend on a wide open throttle of people people, people to mingle with.

It must be terrifying to seek friends, and find none. It must be a prison beside which the catacombs would resemble a suite on a cruise ship. But to me it would be a greater personal calamity to find oneself alone—and still nobody home. To be forever needing the clamor of gabbling voices, parties, meetings, clubs, lots of folks—is worse.

It's a fine, high-grade trait to be "out-going." Just so you don't "out go" so far you can't get back. I'll take mine with a dash of shyness, thank you very much. Seems to me many of the so-called shy people are oftentimes just thoroughbreds who got lost in the melee of extroverts.

Navy Enlistees Are Urged to Beat Benefit Deadline

Certain veterans' benefits under the GI Bill of Rights will end Jan. 31, and with this in mind, young men who will complete their high school education this month and are thinking of joining the U.S. Navy, have been urged to contact their nearest Navy Recruiting Station immediately.

Commander C. R. Tellefsen, Officer in Charge of the Detroit Navy Recruiting Station, said that those men contemplating naval service should apply in order that paper work could be completed before GI benefits are shut off.

In 1934 about a third of all patients with lobar pneumonia died, but such deaths are a rarity today because of the discovery of new and effective drugs.

'Desert Lion' Succumbs at 72

Marshal Graziani Led Mussolini's Forces in African Campaigns

ROME (AP) — Marshal Rodolfo Graziani, Italy's grizzled "Desert Lion" of World War II, died today at a Rome clinic where he was to have undergone an operation.

He was 72 and an unrepentant Fascist who had been striped of his many honors and lived in recent years in retirement.

For a time five years ago, Graziani appeared to emerge as the active leader of the neo-Fascist Italian Social Movement (MSI). But younger leaders crowded him out and in 1953 he was chosen "honorary president" of the minority faction.

Graziani after World War I reconquered North Africa's Libyan tribesmen for Mussolini's empire and led Il Duce's forces in East Africa to victory in the Italian war against Ethiopia. But World War II brought him defeat, disgrace and finally a traitor's trial as a Nazi collaborator.

Captured by Italian partisans in 1945, he spent the next five years in prison or in a military hospital. A civilian court disqualified itself in 1949 after a turbulent five-month trial, but he was sentenced to a 19-year term in 1950 by a military tribunal. He served only a few more months in prison, however, before a government amnesty freed him.

New Attorney General Acts to Help 2 Employe Groups

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh today took steps to aid two groups in their search for unemployment compensation.

One involved an estimated 45,000 federal employes in Michigan and the other 5,700 Ford Motor Co. employes in Detroit who were idled by a strike at the Company's Canton, Ohio, plant.

In both cases, Kavanagh reversed his Republican predecessor, former Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard, either directly or indirectly.

In the case of the federal employes, Kavanagh flatly overruled a Millard option which held that the federal government must be treated the same as a private employer.

The crux of that case is this:

State law apparently says that the last employer of an unemployed worker shall be charged for the unemployment compensation benefit paid him until the employer's credits in the state fund are exhausted. Then the charge falls on previous employers in order.

Millard held that a federal employe who became unemployed must be charged against the federal government's account first.

Kavanagh held in the new opinion that this was not mandatory and that the State Employment Security Commission could contact with the federal government to give its employes unemployment compensation on the basis that the coverage be charged against prior private employers, exempting the federal government.

Michigan employer groups have objected to this theory because their rate of contributions to the unemployment compensation fund is based on their unemployment record.

In the second case, Kavanagh set what he said was a new policy of intervening in an appeal to "protect" the rights of employes.

He said the Employment Security Commission's referee had refused to allow idleness benefits to the Ford employes who were idled by the Canton strike.

Girl Disappears After Red Boss Jumps in River

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—A Vienna newspaper today reported the disappearance of the 25-year-old secretary to a top Soviet official who is believed to have jumped into the Danube after a New Year's Eve party.

The paper, Arbeiter-Zeitung, said it was not known whether the secretary, a Viennese named Ingeborg Winter, had committed suicide also or been arrested after the death of her Russian boss Lt. Col. Gregori Rapalov.

The Soviets last week asked the Austrian police to help search for Rapalov, who was general director of a network of Austrian enterprises run by the Russians. The Austrians said later that eyewitnesses reported a man fitting Rapalov's description had jumped into the Danube early New Year's Day.

Michigan State College to Mark Centennial Year

Michigan State College will be 100 years old next month.

The centennial year, beginning on Feb. 12, will commemorate Michigan State's role as the first agricultural college in America and the model for the nation's system of land-grant colleges.

It all began when 63 young men met in a muddy clearing east of Lansing a century ago to study in the nation's first agricultural college and to work hard in the college's farm and barnyard.

On its 50th birthday, Michigan State was a firmly-rooted school with 1,000 students.

Its 20th Century growth has been enormous—additional schools and departments were added; the Legislature changed its name (in 1825) to Michigan State College, and great building programs were started to meet current and future needs for the three basic functions of teaching, research and service.

Now on the threshold of Feb. 12, 1955, the beginning of its centennial year, Michigan State's enrollment is 15 times greater than 50 years ago and 126 different courses are taught in its classrooms.

Throughout the year there will be more than 25 major events in observance of M.S.C.'s 100th year. Among these will be Founders' Day, meetings of national organizations, ten symposia for study of world issues and problems, a presidential convocation, and an exposition of farm mechanization to be presented in a colorful "world's fair" setting.

Founders' Day will start the centennial year formally on Feb. 12. The main speaker that day will be Dr. James B. Conant, U. S. High Commissioner for Germany and former president of Harvard University.

Feb. 12 will be the date, too, for issuance of a special U. S. postage stamp. It will jointly honor Michigan State and Pennsylvania State University as forerunners of the land-grant college system. The presentation ceremony will be at East Lansing.

The ten academic symposia during the centennial year will be devoted to agriculture, education, engineering, communications, home economics, veterinary medicine, the arts and other fields.

The Centennial of Farm Mechanization, Aug. 15-20, will show the history of farm equipment, as well as the future, in a "world's fair" setting. More than 200,000 people are expected to attend the many displays and demonstrations on the M.S.C. campus.

The fall convocation is scheduled during the week of Oct. 10-14. President Dwight D. Eisenhower has been invited to speak.

Heading M.S.C.'s centennial year planning is James H. Denison, chairman of the faculty centennial committee. Alvie L. Smith is centennial director. More than 400 other faculty members and students are serving on various subcommittees to carry out details.

Supreme Court to Rule on Judge

Answer Will Decide if Brennan Will Remain on Detroit Bench

LANSING (AP) — An attempt by Circuit Judge Vincent M. Brennan of Detroit to revoke his retirement and stay on the bench is before the State Supreme Court for decision.

The Attorney General's office filed its answer yesterday to Judge Brennan's petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the State Judges Retirement Board to allow him to withdraw his retirement.

The State Attorney General contended that Judge Brennan, by agreeing to become a member of the retirement system, bound himself to the provisions of the retirment law and that he had filed a proper retirement application. That application was accepted by the board.

Judge Brennan filed for retirement at the hieght of a controversy of his admitted drinking in public. Later, he argued that his drinking had been the result of poor health and that he now was in good health.

He promised to abstain from intoxicants if allowed to return to the bench.

Utica Motorist Hurt as Car Hits Truck

A Utica motorist was injured last night when he ran into the rear of a truck which was parked on Walton Blvd. east of Adams road in Avon Township, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Treated at Pontiac General Hospital for back bruises was William Larocque, 25, of 7681 24 Mile Rd., who drove his auto into a truck operated by Arthur Romske, 22, of 2680 John R., Troy Township. Romske told deputies he had stopped to unload some gravel.

FINISHES RECORD YEAR — Oakland County Register of Deeds Orrin McQuaid makes some final entries in his 1954 ledgers. Amount of business handled by his office reached an all-time peak last year.

Efficiency in Register of Deeds Office Helps Handle Record Business in 1954

By BURDETT C. STODDARD

The efficiency of procedures worked out by Register of Deeds Orrin McQuaid and his staff during the past 16 years was proved again in 1954 when Oakland County's rapid growth brought in a record amount of business.

An all-time high of 4,265 acres of county land were platted last year including 8,615 building lots, McQuaid's records show.

These were contained in 185 subdivision plats, an increase of 42 over the 1953 figure of 143, which was the previous high.

Bloomfield Township led other townships in number of acres platted with 965, comprising 1,020 lots. Royal Oak Township had the most lots, 1,416, in 263 platted acres.

Citywise, Farmington led with 171 acres and 572 lots. Bloomfield Hills was second with 110 acres and 124 lots.

Land mortgages averaged about $18,000,000 each month during July through November.

The system devised by McQuaid and his staff allows probably the most economical deeds-office operation in the state, while still supplying the highest type service.

Some $227,350 was collected in fees last year. All but $88,000 representing office expenses, will be turned over to the county general fund to support other services.

Although all figures are not complete, estimates show the office cost about $75,000 to run last year. Photostats done for other county services added $13,348 to operating expense.

Changes introduced during McQuaid's tenure have been measured by whether they would increase efficiency of the operation and at the same time cut costs.

A system worked out in McQuaid's office was made law by the legislature allowing deeds offices to consolidate deeds records in one set of books where previously eight to ten sets were necessary.

"The plan is not compulsory," he explained. "Other counties may use it or not depending on their amount of business and setup." Wayne County subsequently began using the method, he added.

Photostats and microfilms are made of all the office's recorded legal documents.

In photostating, deeds are reduced to 60 per cent of original size. They then can be compiled in smaller books taking less space and requiring less expensive cabinets.

"The old, full-size books have to be laid flat and kept on costly roller shelving," the deeds register explained. "By using photostats we can store them upright, they are lighter, easier to handle and the roller shelving is not needed."

Some 80 smaller books can be kept in the same space formerly used for 27 volumes.

The office has a "tract index." A cabinet of card files which puts a summary of information about individual lots at the fingertips. The history of ownership of a certain piece of land can be traced in seconds. McQuaid started the file in 1941.

Previously, land transactions were recorded in chronological order in regular entry books. "It was sometimes necessary to search through 40 to 50 pages to get a lot's sale history," said McQuaid.

"The index is used by attorneys, real estate men and persons just checking to see if their land is properly recorded," he stated.

McQuaid also secured legislation allowing plats to be filed loose-leaf fashion rather than being bound. Besides conserving space, the measure allowed saving about $30 on each of 50 plats recorded.

Three time-stamping machines were installed in Sept. 1953. They mark documents with the register's official stamp including the exact time the transaction took place, thus acting as a safety device in making the stamp difficult to forge.

The machines also save time by eliminating several hand operations.

Up to a year ago chattle mortgage records were kept in a separate book for each year. If a five-year search of a person's mortgage record was requested, each book would have to be gone through separately at expense of time and frayed nerves.

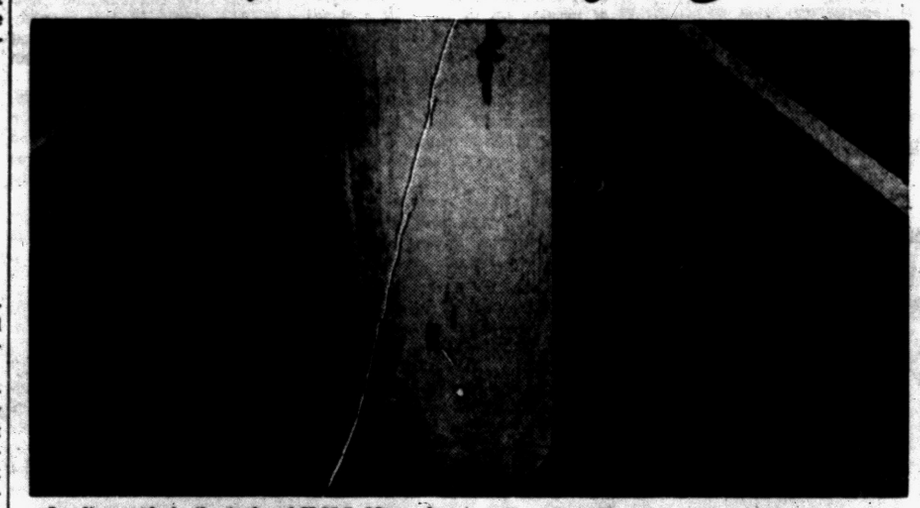
A card-file system was devised putting each mortgage record on a card inserted alphabetically. Thus each individual's mortgage record is intact, even if he made the loans months apart.

Six years' cards will be kept in the file before any are removed. At the end of that time, a swift check of a person's record will be possible.

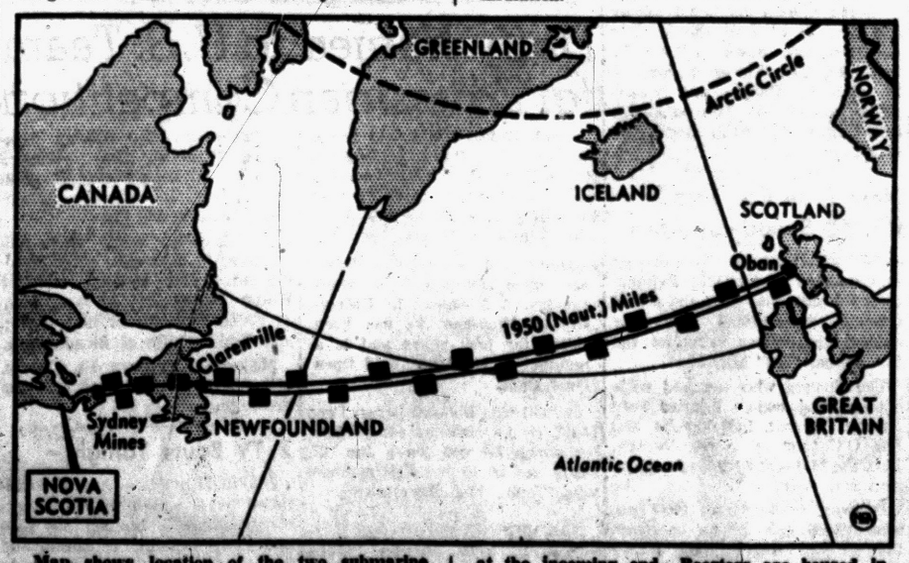
"By trying to make every time and expense saving change possible, while increasing services, we've aimed at translating good business practices into the saving of people's money," said McQuaid.

"But no system would work without the people to make it work and I can't thank the staff enough for their untiring efforts."

British, U. S. Laying Atlantic Phone Cable



Loading cable in the tanks of H.M.S. Monarch. This operation often takes weeks, but the care taken pays off in that the ship cannot afford tangles or breaks when under way. The 1950-mile cable will contain 2700 tons of copper, 11,000 tons of steel wire, 1800 tons of jute yarn, 2.4 million yards of cotton cloth and 1400 tons of insulation.



Map shows location of the two submarine telephone cables, each 1950 nautical miles long, and the 335-mile single cable. Black squares represent 118 "boosters" to amplify sound so voices will be as clear at the outcoming end as at the incoming end. Boosters are housed in ingenious flexible containers. Each is only large enough for one booster, which is why two cables have to be laid.

The world's first transatlantic telephone cable is now under construction and is scheduled to be in operation by Christmas, 1956.

It is a cooperative project of Britain's General Post Office, American Telephone and Telegraph and the Canadian Overseas Telecommunications Corp. It will cost $35,000,000 and will be the longest in the world. Britain will pay 41 per cent of the cost, the U. S. 50 per cent and Canada 9 per cent.

The system will consist of two undersea cables, each 1950 nautical miles long and a 335-mile single cable, part over land and part under water. The cable will weigh three tons per nautical mile.

The whole of the 1500-mile, deep-water section will have to be laid in a single operation without pause, for the cable may buckle if the cableship has to stop during the laying. So it must be done in summer's good weather. Therefore the first cable will be laid this summer and the second in the summer of 1956.

Dropping buoy to mark end of cable near the shore. Buoys make work easier if final splices have to be made at night.

H.M.S. Monarch with the cable over her bow. Monarch is the only ship in the world capable of laying such a length of cable. Even this ship had to have the bow and stern sheaves enlarged for the job to a diameter of seven feet.

Plan Is Backed by PTA Groups

Initial Equipment Cost Estimated at About $64,000

Tabled by the City Commission at its last meeting for further study, a proposal to add fluorides to the city's water supply will again come before the Commission tonight.

The proposal is backed by city PTAs and the Pontiac PTA Council. Fluoridation is said to cut down dental cavities, especially in youngsters.

Purchasing the equipment necessary for adding fluorides — something the State Health Dept. has been after the city to do for a long time — will cost $64,000 initially.

Annual cost for fluoridation has been estimated at $15,000 by City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Adding chlorine to water greatly decreases the chance of an epidemic from contamination, State Health Dept. records show.

In other business, the Commission will take up a resolution proposing to name the new City Hall site Mack Square in honor of Col. Stephen Mack, the founder of Pontiac.

Other scheduled resolutions call for authorizing fedemption of $50,000 refunding bonds, and execution of a quit claim deed to Hugh C. Lee for four lots in Mt. Clemens Hills subdivision.

Reports are due on a lease with Gordon Air Service for space at Pontiac Municipal Airport and the assigning of a lease with Herbert and Daisy Beauchamp to David J. and Leta Rose Galbraith for a restaurant concession at the airport.

One of four reports from the City Plan Commission up for action recommends rezoning to commercial 1 classification the west side of Baldwin avenue from Merrimac street to a point 200 feet south.

Two other reports recommend denial of rezoning requests at 56-58 Bagley St. and at 448 Auburn Ave. Both requests were for shifts to commercial 1.

The fourth recommends denial of a request to vacate the alley east of Stanley avenue, between Sheffield avenue and the Belt Line Railroad.

Also on the agenda is a hearing on intention to construct a water main along West Columbia avenue from Baldwin avenue to the western boundry of assessor's plat 107.

The Commission is also scheduled to consider a food application for Arnold Capogna, of 157 Auburn Ave., disapproved by the City Health Dept., and an application from Mary Ann Gabriel for transfer of a tavern license.

The license is now held by William and Gertrude Wall at 30 S. Saginaw St.

Rounding out the 19-point agenda are approval of a plat for property on Kettering avenue, first reading of an ordinance to amend plat Ordinance 722 and communications from James G. Hartrick and Harold Dudley.

Dudley's letter asks rezoning from residential 1 and 2 to manufacturing 1 classification property on the northwest side of Perry street at the intersection of Arlene street, bounded on the north by Madison avenue.

Oakland County CIO Council Backs Fluoride

Fred V. Haggard, president of the Oakland County CIO Council, today reiterated the council's stand favoring fluoridation of the city's water.

"We believe that fluoridation of the water supply will reduce tooth decay," Haggard said. "All of the extensive scientific evidence is overwhelmingly in support of fluoridation.

"The chemical has been used with great success in many cities and the council has urged the City Commission to give first consideration to the possibility of adopting the practice in Pontiac."

Haggard said delegates to the council recommended adoption of the policy as long ago as May 21, 1951.

'Republican' Paper Exposed by C. of C.

The Pontiac Chamber of Commerce today warned potential advertisers that "The Republican State National Journal" is not an organ of the Republican Party.

"Nor is it sponsored or approved by any Republican organization," said John W. Hirlinger, assistant manager of the C. of C. "In addition, it has no known circulation in Oakland County.

"The Oakland County Republican Committee has issued a warning against doing business with unauthorized publications," Hirlinger said.

Telephone solicitors for the journal were last in Pontiac Nov. 2 and are now operating from outside the city, Hirlinger said.

Motorist Must Serve 180 Days or Pay $160

Henry Williams, 38, of 34 W. Huron St. may serve up to 180 days in Oakland County Jail if he fails to pay fines and costs on two traffic counts to which he pleaded guilty yesterday.

Orion Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback, who arraigned Williams yesterday, fined him $100 and $25 costs or 90 days in jail for drunk driving and $25 fine and $10 costs or 90 days in jail for not having an operator's license in his possession.

One Setback Fails to Dislodge Wildcats

Sparrow Eyes Pro Career

By JACK SAYLOR

Pontiac's Guy Sparrow and his University of Detroit teammates have partially passed their first crucial test of the basketball season.

They defeated the tough Oklahoma Aggies on their own floor, and despite Monday's loss to Tulsa, the Titans have stamped themselves as definite threats in the Missouri Valley Conference cage race.

Individually, Sparrow has taken his bid for All-America honors away from the homey atmosphere of the UD Memorial Building. While he was held to 11 points by the defensive-minded Aggies, his rebounding spelled victory for UD, and he bagged 18 points in last night's loss to Tulsa.

In his only previous game away from home he led the Titans to a win over Michigan State at East Lansing with a 30-point show. Further opportunities to impress observers on the road will come next month in Wichita, Des Moines, Milwaukee, St. Louis and Toledo.

Furthermore, if the Titans can make a run for the MVC crown, they stand a chance of participating in one of the big post-season tournaments. This would be a boon to Sparrow's All-America bid.

The MVC champ qualifies for the NCAA tourney, while runnersup are prime candidates for the National Invitational in New York. With wins in 11 of 13 games, the Titans are clamoring for national attention.

Should they falter, Sparrow might well suffer the anonymity that often befalls a standout player on an also-ran team. However, Guy is making his mark statistically.

But whether or not he reaches All-America status, Sparrow is building a strong foundation for an intended career in professional basketball.

The former PHS star has shown definite pro possibilities. Although he stands 6-5, he would not be a big man in the pro league. Nevertheless, he has displayed the ability to rebound against bigger men.

Also, his speed, hard-driving and deadly one-hand push shot make him adaptable to any position on the court. A physical education major (he carries a B- average), "The Bird" has high hopes of playing pro ball after graduation in June. He will begin practice teaching next semester with a coaching career in the future.

Sparrow already owns 11 all-time Detroit scoring records and is in the process of adding four more. He was a first team all-conference choice last year and has sparked the Titans to 2 Motor City Classic titles.

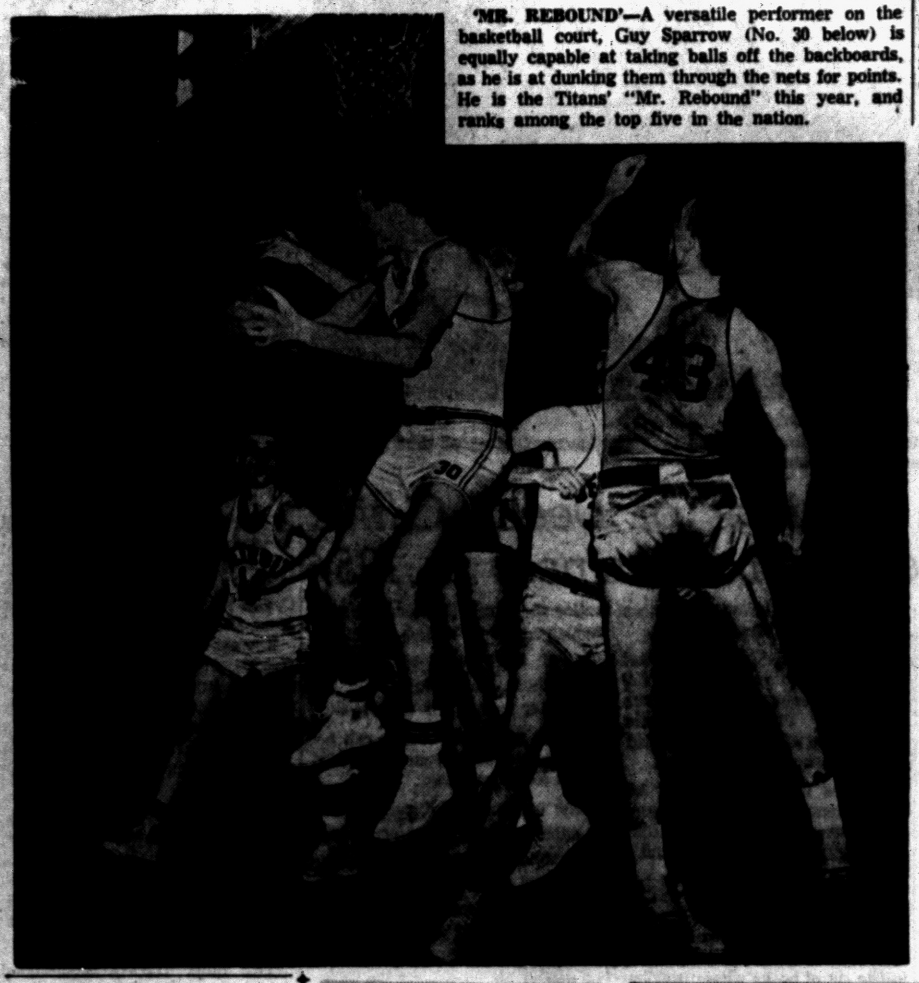
He shared most valuable player honors with Penn State's Jesse Arnelle in last month's tourney. An all-around athlete, Sparrow played first base for the UD baseball team last season and his .308 batting average led all Titan regulars.

He has spent 3 summers pitching softball in a league in Ontario. Also an excellent swimmer, he spent his days as a lifeguard at a Meaford, Ont., beach.

One day last summer, with the wind whipping up the Georgian Bay waves, two teen-age girls wandered too far from shore and began floundering in deep water. Sparrow swam to them and effected the rescue in a single trip.

Quite a change from the 8-year-old who had to be carried to and from school by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sparrow of 848 West Huron street.

A bout with rheumatic fever left him unable to walk for about a year. He was still a frail 130 pounds as a high school sophomore, but filled out to 190 as he starred at PHS as a senior. Now a bright athletic future looms for the rugged 210-pounder with pro ball his immediate goal.



'MR. REBOUND'—A versatile performer on the basketball court, Guy Sparrow (No. 30 below) is equally capable at taking balls off the backboards, as he is at dunking them through the nets for points. He is the Titans' "Mr. Rebound" this year, and ranks among the top five in the nation.

Kentucky Again Heads AP Poll of College 5s

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A 1-point setback, the first defeat in 33 games, failed to dislodge Kentucky's Wildcats from first place in the weekly basketball poll.

The Wildcats, with a record of seven victories and a 59-58 defeat by Georgia Tech through last Saturday's games, didn't dominate the figures compiled by The Associated Press Tuesday as they have in recent weeks.

But they still finished on top by a margin of 152 points over North Carolina State. A week ago they had a lead of 221 over runner-up Duquesne, which also came a cropper against little St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., on Saturday.

Kentucky bounded back Monday night to down DePaul 92-59 but Duquesne lost another, this time a 68-67 decision to 12th place Dayton, which dropped out of the top 10 and landed in 12th place and winning all of its games last week. Since figures were compiled through games of Sunday, these games did not figure in the voting.

The 104 sports writers and sportscasters participating in the poll gave Kentucky 52 first-place votes. North Carolina State, which moved up from third to second, received 22 votes for the top spot. The others were divided among Duquesne (5), LaSalle (5), San Francisco (8), Missouri (5), Illinois (2), Vanderbilt (2) and one each for Dayton and Minnesota.

LaSalle and San Francisco retained their holds on fourth and fifth places, respectively, with Missouri, Illinois, George Washington, Utah and UCLA completing the first 10.

Although there was some shifting of positions in the top 10, only Dayton lost its place among the select group. Illinois made the biggest jump, moving into seventh from 12th of last week. Auburn, only major undefeated team in the country, finally made the 20 by a narrow margin—a tie with Louisville for 20th.

In addition to Kentucky, other members of the top 10 who won Monday night were Illinois, 83-73 over Purdue, and George Washington, 104-52 over VMI. All of the others were idle.

The leading teams with first-place votes and season records (through Sunday games in parenthesis, (points on 10, 9, 8, 7, 6, 5, 4, 3, 2, 1 basis):

1. Kentucky (7-1)	(32)	895

'Bumpy' Jones Sets U.S. Mark in Iowa Meet

UM Swimmer Retires Own Record for 150-Yard Medley

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The Michigan-Iowa State swimming meet yesterday turned out to be a record breaking occasion, largely through the efforts of Michigan's Bumpy Jones and Jack Wardrop.

Most notable Michigan victory was Jones' 1:28.7 in the 150-yard individual medley. His time set a new pool record and bettered Jones' national collegiate mark of 1:29.5 set last year.

Wardrop, one of two Scottish twins swimming under Michigan's colors, set a new pool record of 2:05.4 in the 220-yard freestyle, breaking the old mark of 2:06.3, set last year by Ohio State's Ford Konno.

Iowa State only 1st place came in the 50-yard free style when Jim Vaiseau stroked it out in :24.3.

Boxing Upsets Deflate Hopes

Garcia Loses to Bell; Constance Is Held to Draw by Johnny Brown

NEW YORK (AP)—Rudy Garcia's chances of a featherweight title bout and Hector Constance's hopes of moving up in the welter class have been deflated by boxing's latest developments.

Garcia, a 2-1 favorite, was upset by Bobby Bell, of Youngstown, Ohio, last night on a unanimous decision in 10 grueling rounds at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway. Constance, an 11-5 choice, was held to a second draw by Johnny Brown of Chicago, in a dull 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Bell's victory queered Garcia's hopes of a crack at Sandy Saddler, the feather champ, in San Francisco or Los Angeles next month. Lee Borne, manager of the sturdy Los Angeles 128-pounder, said he had been approached by "an IBC representative" about the big match. The defeat ended all that talk.

New Look for Orioles!

Boss Man Richards' Most Coveted Rookie Is High-Rated Young Catcher Hal Smith

NEW YORK (AP)—No one can accuse the Baltimore Orioles of standing pat. Only 7 of the 43 players listed with the Browns 16 months ago when the St. Louis franchise was shifted to Baltimore are still with the club. At the rate Paul Richards is making deals, the number may be lowered still more by the time the regular season opens.

Rookies comprise about half of the current Oriole roster. Of the 20 new faces to the big leagues, 11 of them are pitchers but the newcomer most coveted of all is a catcher, 24-year-old Hal Smith. The latter hasn't played a single game in the major leagues but manager Richards already regards him as the club's No. 1 receiver.

"I'd like to see the guy who can beat him out for the No. 1 catching job," challenged Richards not long after he had acquired Smith from the New York Yankees in the now famous 18-player swap. "From what I've heard about him, Smitty has all the requirements of a big leaguer."

Richards is not the only one in this thought. Every scout who has seen Smith is high on the West Frankfort, Ill., youngster. An aggressive, smart handler of pitchers and possessor of a strong throwing arm, Smith also proved he is no slouch with the bat by capturing the American Assn. batting title. He hit .350 at Columbus last year while a Yankee optionee.

Another newcomer of high promise is Frank Kellert, the 30-year-old first baseman who led the Texas League with 41 home runs and 146 runs batted in last season. Kellert, up once before, batted .316 at San Antonio and for the fourth straight time led all first basemen in fielding.

New Sox Pilot Picks Indians as Team to Beat for AL Title

CHICAGO, (AP) — Marty Marion, new manager of the Chicago White Sox, is bubbling over with pennant hopes and tabs Cleveland as the big team to beat.

"Although the Yankees got Bob Turley, Don Larsen and Bill Hunter," said Marion, former St. Louis Cardinal shortstop star, St. Louis Browns manager and White Sox coach, "I see Cleveland as our chief rival.

"The Yankees are going to miss Gene Woodling. Turley is a fine pitcher but the fact he lost 15 games for Baltimore last year proves he can lose.

"But as a whole, the entire American League is going to be a lot stronger. Detroit and Boston look good with their young players jelling."

Marion, who succeeded Paul Richards when he went to Baltimore, believes the White Sox have improved so much through added strength that a pennant is not out of reach.

"For three straight years, the Sox have been third," he said. "It's time to move up. In many talks with Richards last year, we agreed that the club as it then was made up had reached its peak.

"Since you can't get standout players without giving up some of your own, the building of a good bench is the best thing."

Marion thinks that first baseman Walt Dropo and outfielder Bob Nieman, both obtained from Detroit in the Ferris Fain deal, will give the Sox much-needed power.

Paul had been sheltered there since Michigan trounced Michigan State, 33-7, in football last fall. The trophy is presented annually by the governor to the winner of the game between the two schools.

* * *

Casting added suspicion East Lansing way was a letter sent to the Michigan State News, college newspaper there. It read: "Because of the shabby treatment given Paul Bunyan . . . Paul has been returned to a home where he can be appreciated."

Bunyan did a year's stint at MSC after the Spartans' 13-6 victory in 1953.

Former Pontiac Glover Still Winning, in Army

Still winning after several years out of Golden Gloves competition, is Pontiac's Warren Scheibner, now in the U.S. Army. Warren recently won a decision over Roosevelt Cook of Oakland, Calif., in an Army bout.

The Pontiac boy was novice 126-pound champ here in 1952 and won the Detroit CYO feather title in '53. He beat Billie McDowell here on a 37-second 1st round TKO for his title.

Scheibner is fighting for Fort Lee, Petersburg, Va., post. He is the son of Milford residents.

Michigan Five Beats Badgers, Ties for Lead

Coach Finds Barron May Miss Remainder of Season

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan found itself in a tie for 1st place in the early Big Ten basketball race today, but probably without one of its finest players.

Michigan swamped Wisconsin, 90-63, last night to join Illinois, Minnesota and Iowa in a four-way tie for 1st place, all with identical 2-1 records.

Iowa beat Michigan State, Illinois set down Purdue and Minnesota defeated Indiana in the only other Big Ten games last night.

Michigan's coach Bill Perigo, after talking with doctors, said that 1st-string guard Jim Barron, injured a week ago against Indiana, may be lost for the season.

"If his knee shows torn ligaments or a cartilage break within the joint of is knee, he'll probably be gone for the season," Perigo said. "but if the cartilage break is not in the joint, we may be able to tape it up and let him play."

But Perigo said that doctors doubted whether Barron would get another chance on the floor this season. Barron got out of the hospital yesterday and will be x-rayed this week.

When Wolverines came back largely through the efforts of guard Don Eaddy, center Harvey Williams, and forward Tom Jorgensen, the margin began to grow. Midway in the 2nd half, they led by 20 points.

Eaddy was high scorer for Michigan with 19 points. Williams had 18 and Jorgensen 17. They all trailed Wisconsin's Dick Cable, a forward, who scored 21 points, nine of them on free throws.

Parochial 5's Play Tonight

Mikes Host St. Clem; Rams Travel to Face St. James

Both Pontiac parochial basketball teams are in action in tonight's 4-game midweek Suburban Catholic League card.

St. Michael, currently deadlocked with St. Marys of Orchard Lake and Royal Oak for 2nd place, entertains 5th-place St. Clement. St. Frederick goes to Ferndale to take on winless St. James.

Other games send undefeated St. Benedict to St. Mary of Royal Oak and St. Rita to Orchard Lake.

Keego 5s Are Cage Victors

Harry's Recreation shot out to a 14-4 first quarter lead, stretched it to 25-10 at the half and took an easy 51-27 decision over Beattie Motor Sales. Philgas had a battle all the way from the Waterford Merchants, but grabbed a 46-40 victory in the final minute and a half.

Jerry O'Shaughnessy's 16 points sparked Harry's to its win, while Jack Taylor had 13 for Beatties.

Dick Hesselgrave's basket broke a 40-40 tie, then another 2-pointer and a pair of free throws sent the Merchants down to their defeat. Big Tex Klause popped in 20 points for Philgas and Hesselgrave added 16, Merchant ace Seth Cummings had 17 in a losing cause.

Milford Fisherman Takes Husky Perch

After taking a number of just "so-so" yellow perch from Kent Lake's icy waters Sunday, Milford's Harold C. Geigler (633 Elizabeth street) got hold of a big one. When he weighed the 14¾ inch long perch, it tipped the scales at one pound five ounces.

"It's the biggest perch I ever saw" Geigler later told Mrs. Geigler, who added "now I suppose he'll spend all his spare time out there fishing." It was Giegler's biggest fish of the winter.

Ricketts Sub-Par, Duquesne Loses 2nd in Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Without a healthy Dick Ricketts, it appeared today that Duquesne is just another basketball team.

Ricketts has been hobbling along on a bad ankle for more than a week and Monday night managed to score only 10 points. Result: The Dukes dropped their second straight game, a 68-67 decision to Dayton.

Only last Saturday, the Dukes lost to little St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., for their second defeat of the season. In that one too, coach Dudy Moore said Ricketts was operating below par because of his bad ankle.

The Dukes are currently No. 3 in the nation in the Associated Press ratings behind Kentucky and North Carolina State. Si Green, their top forward, dropped 27 points through the hoop, against the Flyers, but he couldn't make up for Ricketts' lack of point production.

Ray Dieringer made only one field goal attempt. He took a shot with seven seconds to go and it popped through to give Dayton the triumph and revenge for a licking they took from Duquesne in the New York Holiday Festival two weeks ago.

But Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 team, rebounded smartly from its stunning loss to Georgia Tech Saturday. The Wildcats took their revenge out on DePaul, 92-59, before a crowd of 12,500 in Lexington. The mob probably was attracted with the idea of seeing another reversal.

But Adolph Rupp's lads came through handsomely and the issue never was in doubt. Billy Evans led the Wildcats with 20 points. The defeat was DePaul's second in 11 starts and launched Kentucky on a modest string of one — after having its 32-game skein stopped by the Engineers.

Auburn, the only major undefeated team left, won its seventh by defeating Mississippi 85-81.

One long streak was snapped Monday night, when Western Kentucky bowed to Xavier of Ohio 82-80. The loss was Western's first at home after winning 67 games in a row. It was a tough one for the winners, too. It went to two overtimes before Dick Schneider hit with a follow-up with three seconds to go in the second extra session.

In the Big Ten, Iowa, one of the favorites, hit with better than 50 per cent of its shots to defeat Michigan State 94-81. Minnesota turned back Indiana's defending champions, 88-74, and Illinois ended Purdue's two-day lead in the standings by beating the Boilermakers, 83-73.

Navy Expected to Clarify Erdelatz' Position Today

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—The Naval Academy was expected to issue a statement today clarifying the status of Eddie Erdelatz, its successful head football coach.

Erdelatz returned from a Chesapeake Bay duck hunting trip late Monday night to learn that he himself had been hunted all day Monday by persons who wanted to know if it was true that he was leaving the academy.

It had been reported the Navy coach had been offered a job to coach the professional Los Angeles Rams at almost double the salary he receives from the academy.

When Erdelatz came home — without any ducks—he admitted he had talked to Dan Reeves, owner of the National Football League Rams, but denied that he ever mentioned terms and money of a contract. He said Naval Academy officials were aware of the conversation with Reeves.

"It doesn't pay to go hunting," Eddie said. "I got no ducks and all I got was a lot of false statements."

Earlier Monday, Reeves said Erdelatz had not been offered a job as Ram coach but that he was one of five or six under consideration.

Erdelatz confirmed this. "I was contacted by Reeves," he said, "but no agreement was reached. I anticipate the Naval Academy will issue a statement today clarifying the whole situation."

'Sucker Shift' Under Study in NCAA Meeting

Rules Committee Will Discuss Position of Linemen

NEW YORK (AP) — The NCAA Football Rules Committee was scheduled to discuss a proposal from the coaches on the position of linemen on shifts today as the committee went into the second day of its three-day meeting.

The coaches at their meeting last week called for strict enforcement of the rule banning the "sucker shift." Until now, the NCAA has not taken action on outlawing the shift. Instead, it has maintained the rule branding the sucker shift unsportsmanlike, was sufficient.

The committee Monday considered 45 proposed changes in the substitution rule but indicated that the only one which would receive serious consideration was one proposed by the coaches in which the 4-minute segment at the end of each half would be eliminated.

This would permit a player who has been removed during a quarter to re-enter once during the same quarter. Under the current rules, a player who has been taken out is permitted to re-enter only during the last four minutes of each half.

Ameche Ready to Listen to Mat Promoter's Bid

MADISON, Wis. (INS) — All-America football star Alan (The Horse) Ameche says he'll listen to a reported $100,000 a year offer by a wrestling promoter but adds he has not been contacted as yet.

Promoter P. L. (Pinkie) George said in Des Moines, Ia., yesterday that Ameche would make a good professional wrestler."

He added that he will confer with Ameche Friday in Milwaukee and that in addition to the $100,000 his contract with the Wisconsin star would include provision for a $25,000 advance and a clause permitting him to sign with a professional football team.

Canuck Players Dominate NHL Scoring List

Richard, Jean Beliveau, Mosdell, Olmstead and Geoffrion Lead Loop

MONTREAL (UP) — Montreal Canadiens boasted the most powerful concentration of scoring power in National Hockey League history today with five players bunched at the head of the points parade.

A sixth Canadien also has crashed the top 10 to round out Montreal's domination of the league's official scoring statistics.

Bert Olmstead picked up seven assists during last week's three games to vault over Gordie Howe of the Detroit Red Wings and make the top half of the scoring race a Montreal closed shop.

No other team in the modern history of the NHL has held the first five scoring positions. The Boston Bruins came closest in the 1939-40 season when the famed "Kraut Line" of Milt Schmidt, Woody Dumart and Bobby Bauer and teammate Bill Cowley clustered at the head of the list. However, Gordie Drillon of Toronto marred the Boston sweep by tying with Cowley.

Within their own brotherhood, the Canadiens' Bernie (Boom-Boom) Geoffrion and Jean Beliveau waged a stiff battle for the No. 1 position.

Geoffrion had 27 goals and 22 assists for 49 points, while Beliveau was three behind with 23 goals and 23 assists.

Maurice (Rocket) Richard was third with 38 points, Olmstead fourth with 37 and Ken Mosdell fifth with 36.

Howe was the nearest "outsider," two points behind Mosdell, with Toronto's Sid Smith in seventh place, two points off Howe's pace. Detroit's Alex Delvecchio and Chicago's Red Sullivan were tied for the eighth spot at 30 points. Danny Lewicki of NY, held scoreless last week, and Doug Harvey, another Canadien, hold down the 10th position with 29 points.

Prep 'Have-Nots' Gun for Cage Victories

A number of Oakland County's "have-nots" bid for basketball victories tonight in the feature games on the area's prep schedule.

Winless Waterford (0-6) entertains Avondale (1-3) with hopes for its first cage triumph since last February when the Skippers defeated Avondlale, 56-44. Since then Waterford has dropped 10 straight.

Frank Crowell's Avon club has lost 3 out of 4, the latest a 52-41 decision to Fitzgerald. The 'Jackets' scoring was well-balanced despite the loss as Larry Herron bagged 14 points and Toby Aldrich and Jerry Paul, 12 each.

Waterford has had trouble in this respect, with only Jerry Kruskie doing any steady point-making. He has 76 points in six games, but next high drops all the way to 35 by Chuck Gillis.

Ortonville's once-rugged Blackhawks will be Keego Harbor's guests in the Presidents' gym. Following an opening win over Goodrich, Max Berry's quintet has lost four in a row.

Keego is smarting from last Friday's 66-64 loss to Clarkston, which also owns a 51-39 decision over Ortonville. The shining light thus far for Sam Minard's Keego club has been junior Frank Rogers, who has averaged 17 points in three appearances.

Another pair of county teams trying to find the key to a win are Clarenceville and Holly. Each won its opener, but since then Clarenceville has dropped 4 straight, and Herb Quade's Broncos have lost 3 in a row.

They play at Holly in a Wayne-Oakland League game. In another league encounter, Troy (2-4) bumps into unbeaten Roseville (3-0), in the Oakland-B.

Among the area's winning teams, Shrine shoots for its 4th straight against St. Gregory, Cranbrook (3-1) will be after its 4th in a row against Patterson, and Almont (7-1) goes for its 8th straight since losing the season opener to Imlay City.

Rochester, Lake Orion and Oxford all are on the road and each will be fighting letdowns which have made the going tough. Gene Konley's Falcons grabbed a first period lead against Mt. Clemens St. Mary last Friday, then managed only 14 points, including 2 field goals, in the next two quarters.

Rochester was beaten, 51-46. Oxford and Orion were more fortunate. They won by identical 55-53 scores, but not without anxious moments.

Oxford held a seemingly comfortable lead until Lapeer's Ted June began popping in long shots in the fourth quarter. The Panthers pulled into a 53-all deadlock, then Mike Benedict tossed in the shot which gave Jean Harkness' team the victory.

On the bright side, both Oxford and Orion displayed good scoring balance, which could prove invaluable as the season wears along. For Orion, Rod Wiley was high with 14 points, but Nick Neira had 11, Johnson, 10, and Lynn Hazlett, 9.

Fred Bergin's 16 paced Oxford. Assisting were Dwight Spiker with 14, Larry Spencer, 12, and Mike Benedict, 11.

Russians Hope U.S. Speed Skaters Will Enter Tests

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet sports authorities expect a strong field for the world speed skating championships to be held in Moscow Feb. 19-20, and they hope the United States will also compete "because we know the Americans are very good in the sprints."

The Russians will defend the world championship they won last winter in Japan. The field of competitors here will be larger because more entries are expected from Europe and transportation is easier than it was to Japan.

The Russians' aces, Boris Shilkov and Oleg Gontsharenko, are expected to be in top form and they also have a number of rising new stars.

Officials of the skating section of the committee for physical culture and sport said in an interview that preliminary entries for the Moscow championships close Saturday and the deadline for final registration is February 7.

The Russians also expect strong competition from the Norwegians and other Scandinavians.

The championships will be staged on the rink of big Dynamo Stadium, where the big football games are played.

Harridge Impatient

Prompt Action Urged in Anti-Trust Suit

CHICAGO (AP)—William Harridge, president of the American League, Monday called for "a prompt dismissal or a prompt trial" of a 12-million dollar anti-trust suit filed against 13 major league baseball teams.

The suit was filed three years ago by the now bankrupt Liberty Broadcasting System of Dallas and named all major league teams except Brooklyn, Cincinnati and the Chicago White Sox.

It charged violation of the Sherman Act and Clayton Anti-Trust laws and a "continuing conspiracy to monopolize and restrain competition in broadcasting and recreating play-by-play accounts of professional ball games."

Harridge said that an application has been filed in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court in Dallas by William J. Rochelle Jr., trustee in bankruptcy of Liberty, for authority to dismiss the suit upon $200,000 settlement.

Harridge said both sides have accepted the proposal subject to approval of the Bankruptcy Court.

In Dallas, Gordon McLendon, who brought suit as head of Liberty, called the compromise offer "a victory" but added that "I am against the amount of the compromise . . . whether we accept it is up to the trustee."

U.S. District Judge Julius J. Hoffman, in a pre-trial conference, suggested the settlement "to save the court and the parties the time and expense of a protracted jury trial."

Mackinac Bridge Project Progresses During Winter

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—Despite the bleak blasts of winter, work continues on the multi-million dollar Mackinac Straits Bridge, which will join the upper and lower peninsulas of Michigan.

However, the Straits are free of ice and engineers say they are proceeding on schedule. The gigantic suspension bridge is expected to be opened for traffic in the fall of 1957.

Work was impeded during the hurricane season last fall. "Hurricane Hazel"—an ornery old wind—caused the biggest delay.

But the weatherman has promised "workable weather" for the next few weeks. A crew of 300 men, working on a round-the-clock basis (Christmas and New Year's, too), are busy sinking the two large caissons which will support the bridge.

When the bridge is completed, it will have a longer total span than the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco. The Mackinac span will be 8,450 feet, compared to Golden Gate's 8,344 feet.

The cost of the Mackinac Bridge will be approximately $100,000,000. A four-lane structure, it is expected, among other things, to be a big boon to vacation business in the Upper Peninsula.

At present, engineers are struggling, inch by inch, to anchor the two caissons to bed rock on the bottom of the Straits.

Two of the engineers—Grover C. Denny, project manager of Merritt, Chapman and Scott, the contracters, and Jack Kinney, resident engineer for D. B. Steinman, designer and consulting engineer—contend both caissons are so far down and heavily weighted that it doesn't matter whether or not they're on bed rock this winter. They say both will be anchored by spring.

Each caisson is 116 feet in diameter and bears a number—No. 19 for the southern caisson and No. 20 for the northern caisson. They are being filled with concrete and stone.

The No. 19 caisson is 205 feet long. The top of it is one foot under water. Denny believes the caisson is as far down as it can go, but Kinney thinks it can be pushed down another six to 18 inches.

The other caisson, No. 20, is 212 feet in length, with 17 feet sticking out of the water.

The No. 19 caisson weighs 2,800 tons and contains 25,450 tons of concrete and stone. It is filled to a depth of 92 feet.

The No. 20 caisson is 50 tons heavier, at 2,850 tons. It contains 31,510 tons of concrete and stone.

In an effort to sink the caissons, workers have been using dynamite and rotery drills. Presently, both are sunk into hard pan, a composition of hard clay and gravel.

In the spring, the American Bridge Division of United States Steel Co. will start work on the actual bridge itself. Two anchor piers and two support piers already have been completed at each end.

MOVIE PRODUCER—Looking much the same, Marilyn Monroe wears a white satin gown and a "subdued platinum" hair-do as she announces at a press conference in New York City that she has organized her own company, Marilyn Monroe Productions, Inc. She says she'd like to produce "good musicals" and play "serious parts."

Studio Contract Viewed as Legal Bar to Films Produced by Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A sampling of movie legal opinion today indicated that if Marilyn Monroe tries to make her own pictures, no one is going to see them until 1958.

Movie bigwigs queried were unanimous that the gorgeous blonde lacks a legal leg to stand on in her recent announcement she would form her own production company.

The sources agree that 20th Century-Fox's current contract with Marilyn will repel any legal thrusts until the 1958 expiration date.

Most outspoken is publisher Billy Wilkerson of the Hollywood Reporter, often the trade paper voice of the major studios. Said Wilkerson: "Marilyn Monroe . . . is being fed some stupid advice."

But the publicity department could well be the influential stockholder in Marilyn's new corporate structure. If so, look for Monroe and Zanuck to kiss and make up amid more popping of flash bulbs and pounding of typewriters.

Although industry sources all agree that the studio will win any legal battle with Marilyn, many of them side with her personally in the fight.

"The studio should remember a few years back," said one, "when Marilyn was the only thing it had who could get the old man away from the television set."

Unhappy Town Cooperates to Light Theater

MINNEAPOLIS—In nearby Ellsworth, Wis., merchants, discovering that the town's lack of a film theatre not only hurt their business, but also that the community as a whole has been less happy and citizenry morale and spirit lower since the shutting of the only showhouse, have taken the bit in their teeth.

They've decided to subsidize the operation of the theatre while trying to put it on a pay-as-you-go basis and have arranged for its reopening.

Nixon Boomed for Re-election

Sen. Smith Raps Dems for Attacks to Smear Vice-President

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Nixon, a target for much Democratic criticism, was backed by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) today for second place on the Republican ticket in 1956.

Smith, who recently told a New Jersey rally he is dedicating the next two years toward getting President Eisenhower renominated, said in an interview he thinks Nixon deserves another term.

"I think Nixon is a fine, upstanding young man who has done a good job for the country," he said.

While Nixon himself declined comment on recent Democratic attacks on him, GOP National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said in a statement last night there is under way "a highly organized campaign to besmirch the vice president of the United States."

"The technique is to smear him by falsely accusing him of smearing others," Hall said. "This is one of the lowest tricks in politics and in this instance destructive only to its perpetrators."

Former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York told White House newsmen yesterday he hopes the 1956 GOP ticket will be Eisenhower and Nixon.

Dewey and Hall were among Eisenhower's guests last night at a stag dinner with a distinctly political flavor. Atty. Gen. Brownell and seven GOP national committeemen were among those invited. Dewey, the GOP presidential nominee in 1944 and 1948, also was invited to spend the night at the White House.

The President has made no known commitment about 1956.

Underwater Premier Fun but Impractical

By BOB THOMAS

SILVER SPRINGS, Fla. (AP)—It may be fun, but there doesn't seem to be any future in showing movies underwater.

I can make this statement without fear after participating in the world's first underwater premiere of a movie.

So half a hundred professional divers, not so sensible members of the press and the film's stars, Miss Russell and Richard Egan, shivered on the shore last night, aqualungs strapped on and swim fins poised.

It was a long, cold wait but finally the film started rolling in the glass-enclosed projection booth.

What did we see? Darn little. A bunch of jokers thrashing around in the water. Some weeds floating by. A bored catfish staring at the crazy humans.

Later some of the less hardy souls headed for the bathhouse and the view became a little better. Still, everything had a blue appearance, as though the actors were working on a freezing stage.

You couldn't hear the dialogue. RKO technicians had carried on about installing sound speakers above and below the water. Glug, glug. That's all you could hear under there. Who wants to attend a movie when all you can hear is glug, glug?

Anyway, it was an interesting, if chilling experience. Add another chapter to the fabulous history of Howard Hughes.

Omit Invitation to Host at Governor's Party

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—There was one guest left out at yesterday's luncheon for Raymond Gary, Oklahoma's newly inaugurated governor.

It was John D. Conner, the state treasurer.

Gary hastily extended a belated invitation when Conner showed up and found himself locked out. The party was being held in Conner's office.

Actress Sues for Cuts Suffered While Posing

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Renate Hoy, 22, former Miss Germany, has filed suit for $6,500 damages, charging she suffered leg cuts when a glass floor collapsed while she posed for publicity pictures.

Named defendants yesterday were the Western Harness Racing Assn. and the Beverly Hills Club. Miss Hoy said the pictures were being taken Oct. 4 while she was a competitor in a beauty contest sponsored by the association to name the "Girl of the Golden West."

Fire Losses Drop

GREENVILLE (AP)—Fire Chief Frank Van Atta says Greenville's estimated fire losses for 1954 have shown a marked decrease from the two previous years. His annual report revealed losses totaled $4,620 for the past year. The 1953 loss, swelled by the Kennedy Sales fire, was $55,400.

Ex-Lady Sheriff Glad to End Job

Lost Sleep, Says Widow of Gladwin Officer Who Took Husband's Post

GLADWIN (UP)—Mrs. Mary Kelly, who served as sheriff of Gladwin County for 10 months, said today she is getting "a world of pleasure" out of her 10-day-old retirement.

"I've been getting all the sleep I need every night," she said, "and that's more than I got while I was sheriff."

Mrs. Kelly accepted appointment as sheriff a little more than 10 months ago upon the death of her husband, Arthur. He was known as one of the most popular police officers in Gladwin County history.

The new sheriff, Lorin Leitner, took over Jan. 1.

Mrs. Kelly's husband had been sheriff for 12 years. During that time, Mrs. Kelly served as matron of the jail, did the laundry and cooked for the prisoners.

"I liked my work while my husband was in charge," Mrs. Kelly said. "But when it fell upon me to take over—well, I'll just say I was gald when Jan. 1 rolled around."

But Mary Kelly, a life-long resident of Gladwin County, said she was proud of her 10 months in office.

"But, I'll never run for re-election," she said emphatically.

"While I was in office I tried to get eight hours of sleep a night, and I wasn't always successful. Some nights I wouldn't get to bed before 2:30 in the morning. When I did get to bed early, the telephone would ring four to five times during the night."

Jersey's Senator Smith Calls for Allied Effort if Fliers Aren't Freed

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) proposed today that the United States ask its allies to join in a blockade of Red China if United Nations efforts fail to gain the release of American airmen imprisoned there as "spies."

U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold yesterday ended a series of talks in Peiping with Red China's Premier Chou En-lai, but a joint communique, issued at U.N. headquarters in New York, gave no hint whether the 11 U.S. airmen would be freed. However, the communique described the secret talks as "useful" and this prompted speculation that Hammarskjold may have met with some success.

Smith, retiring chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Far Eastern subcommittee, said in an interview he would oppose any "trade" which the Communists could use for propaganda purposes.

"If our men are not released, we should ask our allies to join us in a blockade of the China coast," he said. "I believe to squeeze them economically would be the best sanction to apply. I know it would be dangerous, but we must take some calculated risks."

The State Department said it would have no comment until Hammarskjold files his report.

'Suspect' — Chapter 31

by Hugh Lawrence Nelson

Jim let the current fasten him against the rock wall, to one side of the opening. He pulled. For a second he made progress, felt the warmth of renewed hope. He could make out a darker shape now, could see wildly swirling hair streaming in the water. He pulled again, pulled more strongly. He could not budge the body wedged there so tightly. Nancy's body. He knew that from the first instant of contact.

The three depressions, the rocks rolled down into the water, came to his mind clearly. Rocks levered or pushed into place where they would serve as corks, partial corks. Held by the current, leaving an opening large enough for water, impossible for passage of even Nancy's body.

He found the boulders, the rounded rocks, there. Each of them weighing possibly 100 pounds, each of them moving with the push of water to close the death trap still tighter.

He found the rock which pressed so brutally against Nancy's limp body. He clawed at it.

His nails tore away from numbed fingers as they slipped from the rounded surface.

He clawed again, reached past the rounded crown of the rock. There was a slight ridge, a formation of some harder rock which had resisted water action. His fingers clenched on it. He pulled. He knew the grip on Nancy's arm was tightening painfully with the effort the other arm exerted to move away the stone.

There was sudden despair. He had to breathe or die. And he told himself to die if he could not release his wife.

A last effort, an effort of desperation which sent sharp pains through his left arm and shoulder, pains which registered even on his clouding brain. The rock moved toward him a little. It rolled over. He lost his hold, was pushed backward from the sudden release of the violence of his effort. But there was no strain on his left arm. Nancy was floating toward him. She stuck again, and he jerked her free with the last of his strength.

She was cradled in his arms when he came to the surface of the pool.

For a moment he let the current hold him, while his ears cleared of the roaring, while the red mist gradually lessened, let him see again. He began moving toward the bank, toward safety for Nancy.

He saw the pair of legs then. Legs which straddled the beam of the flash, legs which did not seem to be fastened to any body.

But the legs moved.

The flashlight rolled, slipped quickly to the water's edge, plunged beneath the surface. For a moment its glow zigzagged toward the bottom. The light failed. Blackness rushed again into the underground cavern.

A match flared, and light wavered in the air of the cavern. It showed the face of Philip Stoneman, and it showed his other hand, outstretched. An empty hand, but one that seemed to be extended in a desire to help.

The match went out.

Philip struck another match. His lips seemed to be moving, but Dunn heard no words. He began moving forward slowly, toward the man crouched now on the safe path. Jim supported Nancy easily in the crook of his aching left arm. His whole body was tensed, ready for any violence which might be necessary. If Philip helped, fine. If he was there to hinder, he could not be allowed to do so. Philip would be removed. Jim's mind fastened firmly on that simple fact.

Stoneman's fingers closed on Jim's outstretched hand. With the contact, Jim relaxed. There was no menace in that touch. He could even make out what Philip was saying now. "Me and my big feet, chum. Sorry I kicked over the light."

Water came from Nancy's lungs as Jim set up the rhythm of pressure and release. He did not dare let his mind hold any thought of failure, and all unbidden, words substituted themselves for the usual numbers of the rhythm count. Some studio chemical for Mrs. Oswald. Lighter fluid from her lighter for Miss Wister. "Gasoline, turpentine, alcohol, chemical, lighter fluid." Over and over, the words lending themselves for the proper timing.

It came at last, the sign for which Jim had waited. To him, the most beautiful sound in the whole world—the sobbing "catch-of-the-breath," and a series of gasping irregular breaths, as Nancy's body took over the duty of supplying life and oxygen.

The doctor gave his verdict. "She'll be fine. I gave her something so she'll sleep soon. Keep her warm and quiet for a day or so." When he was gone Nancy made a face at Jim.

"Keep quiet," he ordered. "You heard what the man said."

"I knew you'd find me, Jim. Even—even when I was stuck I knew you'd get there. Even when that person came into the cave after me and I threw a rock, I knew I'd be all right.

Dunn rubbed the swelling on the top of his head, decided this was no time to bring that up. "How do you feel, Nancy?"

"Just dandy. Simply dandy. Every one of my ribs are broken. I'm black and blue from here to there. My chest is on fire. And Jim, it's so good to be alive! So good. A person should spend a lifetime just enjoying air."

Senator Sees Shrinking Stock of Farm Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said today the government's stock of about seven billion dollars worth of farm commodities should begin to shrink steadily after reaching a peak this spring.

Aiken, retiring chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said this would result from two factors:

1. President Eisenhower's farm program, which may bring lower price supports on some farm commodities starting this year, plus acreage restrictions voted by farmers themselves on major crops.

2. The success — "far exceeding expectations," Aiken said I of the new plan for disposing of the nation's big farm surplus abroad.

BOARDING HOUSE

Grains Steady, Cereals Down

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains steadied after an early dip in fairly active dealings on the Board of Trade today. Most cereals remained slightly under the previous close.

Selling at the start was concentrated primarily in wheat and soybeans. More light moisture in the winter wheat belt overnight, plus a forecast of light snow or rain, weakened wheat. Soybeans were sold on yesterday's government report of stocks of trains on farms.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅜ to ¾ lower, March $2.30⅜; corn ⅜ lower to higher, March $1.55½; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, March 77⅛; rye ½ higher to 2 cents higher, January $2.80½; and lard 2 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, January $12.90.

Each bid shall state the annual interest rate or rates upon which it is submitted, expressed in multiples of ¼ of 1%. The interest rate for each coupon period on any one bond shall be at one rate only. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such bonds must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

Said bonds will mature serially on the 1st day of May in each year as follows: $40,000 in the year 1956, $30,000 in each year from 1957 to 1959, $35,000 in each year from 1960 to 1964, $40,000 in each year from 1965 to 1969, and $45,000 in the year 1970, all years inclusive. Bonds Nos. 300 to 550, both inclusive, maturing in the years 1965 to 1970, both inclusive, are subject to redemption by the school district prior to maturity, in inverse numerical order, on any one or more interest payment dates on and after May 1, 1958, at par and accrued interest plus a premium on each bond in accordance with the following schedule:

$20 if called to be redeemed on or after May 1, 1958 but prior to May 1, 1961; $15 if called to be redeemed on or after May 1, 1961 but prior to May 1, 1964; $10 if called to be redeemed on or after May 1, 1964 but prior to May 1, 1967; $5 if called to be redeemed on or after May 1, 1967.

Notice of redemption shall be published not less than 30 days prior to the date fixed for redemption, at least once in a newspaper or publication circulated in the City of Detroit, Michigan, which carries as a part of its regular service, notices of the sale of municipal bonds. The remaining bonds will not be subject to redemption prior to maturity. Both principal and interest will be payable at such bank or trust company as shall be designated by the original purchaser of the bonds.

The bonds are to be a part of a total issue of $825,000 voted for the purpose of defraying the cost of erecting and furnishing additions to the Walled Lake High School building and the Commerce, Glengary, Twin Beach, and Walled Lake Elementary School buildings, remodeling a portion of the Wixom Elementary School Building, installing a heating plant in the Junior High School building, and erecting and furnishing a new elementary school building and acquiring a site therefor, or, in lieu thereof, erecting and furnishing additions to existing elementary school buildings, all in said school district, and will be the general obligations of the school district which is authorized and required by law to levy upon all the taxable property therein such ad valorem taxes as may be necessary to pay said bonds and the interest thereon, subject to such limitations upon the said taxing power as may result from the provisions of Section 21 of Article X of the Michigan Constitution and the Michigan Property Tax Limitation Act.

The electors of said school district at an election held on November 29, 1954, increased the tax limitation by 6 mills for the years 1955 to 1974, both inclusive, for the payment of principal and interest on said total issue of $825,000 and the establishment of a reserve therefor.

For the purpose of awarding the bonds, the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate of rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the bonds from February 1, 1955 to their respective maturities and deducting therefrom any premium. The bonds will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest interest cost to the school district. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the bonds or at a price less than their par value, will be considered.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of $11,000 drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer of the school district must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder, to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds. No interest shall be allowed on the good faith checks and checks of the unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned to each bidder's representative or by registered mail.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of Berry, Stevens & Moorman, attorneys, Detroit, Michigan, approving the legality of the bonds. The cost of said legal opinion and the printing of the bonds will be paid by the school district. Bonds will be delivered at Detroit, Michigan.

Profit-Taking Stalls Recovery

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market stumbled into some light profit-taking that halted its recovery drive in the early afternoon today.

For the past two days the market has been driving ahead in a rally that wiped out the major portion of the sharp losses suffered in the two-day break last week triggered by tighter rules for speculating on credit.

Today at the opening, the drive ahead continued, but within the first hour profit-taking appeared in the railroads and spread rapidly to all sections of the market. Prices were down between 1 and 2 points frequently.

Plenty of resistance to the fall was in evidence, and there were several stocks showing gains to a point or more. Montgomery Ward was a buying favorite with a gain of around 2 points.

Trading was heavy with the tape late in reporting actual dealings both during the initial rally and later in the sell-off.

New York Central, which has topped the most active list at higher prices for the past four sessions, ran into selling today that clipped off around 2 points at the most. During the morning the directors declared a first quarter dividend of 50 cents. Last year a total of $1 was paid.

Among other losers were Standard Oil (NJ), Southern Railway, American Telephone, U.S. Steel, General Motors, Douglas Aircraft, Amconda Copper and Kaiser Aluminum.

Employment, Jobless Pay Increase During December

Though employment in mid-December rose to 77,000—an increase of 200 over November—rising unemployment offset the gain, the Pontiac office of the Michigan Employment Security Commission reported yesterday.

In its monthly labor market letter for the Pontiac-area, the office reported that unemployment at mid-December stood at an estimated 4,000, up 800 from the previous month.

"The increase was due to increased numbers of jobseekers, both local and from out of the area, and to the closing of a primary metal plant which affected about 600 workers," James H. Dudley, branch manager, said in the report.

Currently, the unemployed make up 4.8 per cent of the total labor force compared with 3.9 per cent in November.

The employment increase was due to the addition of 700 temporary workers for the holiday season by retail trade outlets, the report stated.

The closing of Wilson Foundry Division of Kaiser-Willys Motors in late November releasing 600 workers was partially offset by an increase of 200 in fabricated metal and machinery plants, reducing the loss to 400.

"Over the next two months, the indications are that manufacturing employment will remain at substantially the current level," Dudley said.

"In the key motor vehicle industry, the present high rate of production and employment is expected to continue. In nonmanufacturing, seasonal developments will cut employment by an estimated 800 by mid-February.

The MESC office also reported an upswing in unemployment insurance volume during December under the impetus of the Wilson Foundry closing and seasonal downturn in construction activity.

During the month, the office issued 7,786 state and veterans unemployment insurance checks valued at $250,458, compared with 5,169 for a total of $252,617 in November.

From Nov. 11 through Jan. 6, unemployment compensation claims rose from 2,145 to 2,648.

Foursome Admits Burglary Charge

Four youths pleaded guilty and another stood mute yesterday when arraigned in Oakland County Circuit Court on a charge of breaking into a department store Dec. 31 at Telegraph Rd. and Northwestern Hwy.

Pleading guilty were Robert E. Buck, 18, of 14326 Stout, Detroit; James H. Richardson, 17, of 33965 Harlow; John A. Sterling, 18, of 33990 Edna and Edward T. Buchin, 18, of 33566 Rhonswood, all of Farmington.

An innocent plea was entered by Judge Frank L. Doty for Robert C. Lewis, 17, of the Rhonswood address, who stood mute. A trial date will be set for Lewis. The others will be sentenced Jan. 17.

Drunk Driver Jailed

Harold Doe, 42, of 1314 Mohawk, Royal Oak, who pleaded guilty to drunk driving yesterday before Clawson Justice Kurt C. Babo, was sentenced to five days in Oakland County Jail and fined $90 and $10 costs. If Doe fails to pay fine and costs he will spend an additional 10 days in jail.

Employes Get Stock Left by Firm Owner

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Five long-time employes of the E. H. Baare Manufacturing Co today own the entire stock of the 1-million-dollar concern.

They received the stock under terms of the wills of Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Baare, an inventory of her estate showed in Probate Court yesterday. Mrs. Baare died last November, just 16 days after her husband.

Vernon J. Ambach, who took over as president after Baare's death, received 51 per cent of the 5,499 shares of stock. He was reared by the childless couple who befriended him when he was 12.

Other stock went to Charles James Jr., vice president; Otto F. N. Groose, vice president; and Robert Renkel, secretary, all 13 per cent; and George Hoch, treasurer, 10 per cent. The firm makes wire and sheet metal parts.

Plea by Inmate Touches Judge; Tickets Revoked

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan today dismissed two traffic violations tickets on the sole basis of a letter he received from a Jackson Prison inmate.

The tickets, for speeding and driving without an operator's license, have been unpaid since Dec. 7, 1953, when Pontiac Patrolman Charles Thompson issued them to Emery F. Harris, 25, of Flint.

Harris, who later was sentenced to prison, stated in the letter:

"I am in prison so I have no way of paying this ticket. Would it be possible to serve my sentence on that ticket while I'm in here. I would like to have it taken care of so that I'll be able to start out of here with a clean slate.

"Can you help me do this so that when I get paroled out of here I won't have to come there and serve another sentence. Please give me a chance to start anew."

Said Finnegan:

"On the basis of such a sincere attitude toward amending his ways, I will dismiss both tickets against him."

Waives Examination on Breakin Charge

Richard L. Russell, 19, of 3022 19 Mile Rd., Utica, waived examination of a breaking and entering charge yesterday when arraigned before Troy Township Justice Scott C. Belyea.

Belyea set a bond of $500 to assure Russell's appearance in Oakland County Circuit Court Jan. 14. Bond was not furnished and Russell is being held in Oakland County Jail.

Manslaughter Suspect Mute at Arraignment

Charged with manslaughter, Neil A. Eriksen, 28, of 995 LaSalle, yesterday stood mute when arraigned in Circuit Court and Judge Frank L. Doty entered an innocent plea for him.

Eriksen is accused of driving a car which struck another at Pontiac Lake and Scott Lake Rds. Dec. 13 resulting in the death of Mrs. Donna McClusky, 20, of 2705 Chrysler, Waterford Township.

He is free on $2,000 bond. Judge Doty ordered a trial date set.

Business Notes:

Weekly Output Soars at Pontiac

11,300 Units Is Almost Equal to Peak Week in October Last Year

Announcing production of 11,300 units last week, Pontiac Motor Division nearly paralleled their peak week in October, 1954 when 11,376 cars rolled off the lines, Ward's Automotive Reports said today.

Officials said two shifts and Saturday operations enabled the division to attain the high peak, the auto trade publication revealed. The previous week's output was totaled at 10,378.

Meanwhile General Motors Truck and Coach output went on the upgrade last week with production of 1,315 units as compared with 1,277 the previous week.

Wards said company spokesmen announced the truck division is scheduling changeover operations for some time next month.

Firm officials announced a year-end production count of 79,019 for the year, as compared with 116,654 for 1953. Cancellation or completion of defense contracts early in 1953 was blamed for most of the decline.

Officers for 1955 include Orben Wilkins, president; Richard Arthaud, vice president; Mrs. Harry Wacker, secretary, and Leon Reene, treasurer. All except Arthaud were reelected.

Fred Walker was elected president of the Pontiac Automotive Trade Assn. when the group held a dinner meeting last night at the Old Mill Tavern in Waterford.

Also elected were Cy Owens, vice president; Ralph Humphries, secretary - treasurer; and John Braid, Ben Jerome Jr. and Paul Riemenschneider Jr., board of directors.

Walter R. Grant of Detroit has assumed his duties as vice president in charge of finance, Studebaker-Packard Corp., to which he was elected in October. He moves from a similar position held with Packard Motor Car

MACEDAY LAKEFRONT
How come people don't buy lakefront homes in the winter? Possibly, it's because they don't realize the savings involved in the winter purchase of a waterfront home. If it were spring—and robins were pulling worms out of this beautiful landscaped lawn—it would not be necessary for us to write this ad. However, a few snowflakes have fallen and the ice has covered this A-1 sandy beach on Maceday Lake. The boat has been stored in the boat house and the underground sprinkling system for the lawn has been drained.

Soviet May Use A-Blasts to Create Sea in Siberia

LONDON (AP)—There are good indications that the Russians are going to use nuclear explosions—on a scale unmatched in history—to blast out a Central Asian sea that may change the weather of Europe.

Western diplomats have brought back reports from Moscow that the Russians are planning to create such a sea as part of a long-term program to change the physical surface of Siberia and the wastelands to the south.

Last autumn the Soviet Council of Applied Sciences in Moscow published an outline revealing plans that an area in Siberia larger than North America would be irrigated and criss-crossed by a system of canals and dams.

This, said the Soviet experts, would change the weather in Siberia, making the winters and summers milder. Western meteorologists say this probably would have a profound effect on the weather throughout Europe, also making winters milder there.

Returning diplomats also report Soviet plans to divert two of Siberia's big rivers, the Ob and the Yenisei, both of which flow north to the Arctic Sea.

They said Russian scientists have privately revealed they hope to be able to make these waterways flow southward, forming a Central Asian sea.

The diplomats said nuclear explosions, in which the Soviet armed forces could test their atomic and hydrogen weapons, would be used to blast out tremendous land areas.

Woman, 38, Stands Mute on Armed Robbery Count

Alice O. Bates, 38, of 434 S. Saginaw St. yesterday stood mute on a robbery armed charge in Circuit Court and Judge Frank L. Doty entered an innocent plea for her.

She is accused of robbing a cab driver of $30 at knife point here last Dec. 10. Doty directed that a trial date be set.

Uncle Sam, Uncle Roy Team Up on Forger

DETROIT (AP)—Miller B. Waters, 42, had both Uncle Roy and Uncle Sam to reckon with in a forgery case.

Waters, of Jackson, Mich., was accused of forging and cashing an income tax refund check for $114. The check was mailed to Jackson after Waters' uncle, Roy J. Waters, had moved to the Upper Peninsula.

Uncle Roy told federal agents to prosecute. Federal Judge Frank A. Picard put Miller Waters on two years probation yesterday.

Jammed Vault Delays Bank Robbrey Report

NEW ULM, Tex. (AP) — Yeggs broke into the New Ulm State Bank some time Sunday night but the bank didn't know today how much money was taken because the thieves jammed the safe's lock in trying to burn open the door.

A lock expert is flying from Connecticut to open the safe—and determine whether the yeggs got into it or not. They did take $500 which had been left loose.

Byrd Suggested Penguin Get-Up

Panelists Didn't Guess Former Moderator's Disguised Identity

NEW YORK (AP)—Most celebrities are good sports—as good as you'd find anywhere, says producer Herb Wolf of ABC-TV's Masquerade Party.

When the admiral agreed to appear he asked what disguise Wolf would like him to wear. Wolf recalls that he thought immediately of a penguin because of Byrd's antarctic exploits but hesitated lest the famed explorer think it too undignified.

"But he came up with the suggestion himself," Wolf relates. "He's just as regular a fellow as you'd ever meet."

As another example he mentions Sen. and Mrs. James Duff of Pennsylvania, who came on the show as Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Franklin and returned a few months later as Mr. and Mrs. William Penn. The panel guessed their identity a little quicker the second time than the first, as might have been expected.

But the panelists sometimes miss one that should be easy. For several months Douglas Edwards was moderator but had to give up the spot because of the time required for his newscasting activities. Doug came back a few weeks later masquerading as King Henry VII of England, but the panelists who had been with him on the show week after week flubbed completely.

"The most difficult job I have is disguising glamor girls," says Wolf.

The makeup and costume folks do a pretty good job even there, as when Eva Gabor was disguised as a Gypsy hag. Buff Cobb suggested that she kiss fellow panelist Bobby Sherwood to give him an added clue, but Sherwood balked and moderator Peter Donald warned, "You'll be sorry." And Sherwood was when the glamorous Gabor removed her disguise.

Three Youths Deny Car Theft Count

Three Hazel Park youths were released on $250 bond yesterday after they pleaded innocent to auto theft before Royal Oak Township Justice Hendrik J. Smit.

Examination on the charge was set for Jan. 20 for Irving Widgren, 17, of 23377 Carlisle; Thomas Jones, 18, of 466 W. Madge; and Maxie A. Ridinger, 17, of 411 W. Meyers.

The trio was arrested by Michigan State Police at Grand Blanc last weekend in a car which police said was stolen from Royal Oak Township.

Rep. Hoffman Rebukes UAW Contract Protest

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Clare Hoffman (R-Mich) criticized the CIO United Auto Workers union yesterday for protesting against the proposed award of a $2,000,000 defense contract to the strikebound Kohler plant near Sheboygan, Wis.

"It's a strange way to relieve unemployment," the Michigan Republican told the House in a brief speech.

"What it amounts to is this—if you are in business and I am an employe, I hope you fail," he said.

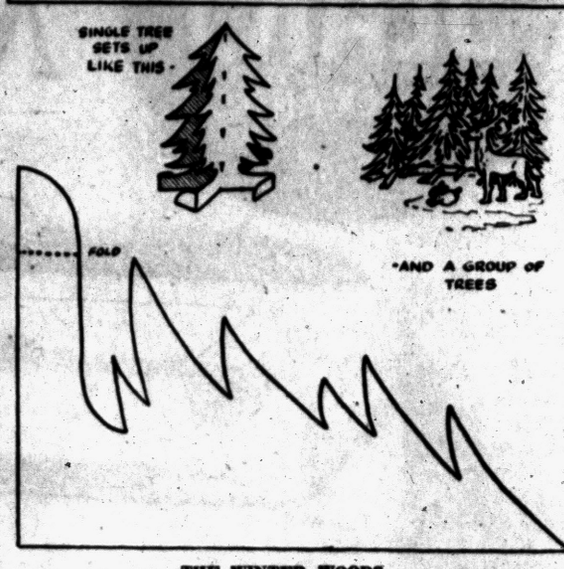
TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS



THE WINTER WOODS

1. Today's picture includes a pattern for a fir tree, and the drawing in the upper left shows how a finished tree looks. The small sketch in the upper right shows how your woodland scene will look.

2. Cut out the half outline of the tree. You will need two pieces of stiff paper. Color it green. Fold each piece of green paper in half. Place the pattern along the folded edge of one of the sheets of green paper, and cut out according to the pattern. Do the same thing with the second piece of green paper.

3. Unfold the green trees and place them together evenly. Pin them together along the folded crease with one straight pin near the top, one in the center and one at the bottom. Then spread the tree so the four sections stand out. Fold back the ends of the stand.

4. You can make as many trees as you wish. Stand them up in a big box top or in a big pan. Sprinkle white soap flakes around the base of the trees. Stand any little animal figures you have around the trees.

DETROIT (AP)— A three-man board will review security risk charges Jan. 25 against Harold Nettle, suspended border patrol inspector at Sault Ste. Marie.

Board members will be federal employes named by U. S. Attorney Fred W. Kaess.

Nettle was suspended from his government job last October on charges that some of his wife's relatives were either Communists or Communist sympathizers. Nettle's personal loyalty is not questioned.

He already has appealed for congressional aid. Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) has asked the Senate Civil Service Committee for a congressional investigation of the suspension.

Released Convict Faces '45 Charge

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A released Georgia convict demanded examination yesterday when arraigned before Municipal Judge Clark M. Olmsted on a 10-year-old charge of kidnaping and robbery.

Ben Day Thomas is accused of taking part in the 1945 kidnaping and robbery of Pat Heavy, Kalamazoo theater manager.

An alleged accomplice, Jack Brand, was sentenced to Southern Michigan Prison for his part in the offense. Thomas, however, was arrested in Nashville, Tenn., and returned to Georgia to serve out a fugitive term.

He was brought here last week on the expiration of the Georgia sentence to face the old Kalamazoo charge.

Examination was set for Jan. 19. Thomas was held under $15,000 bail.

Demand Wilson Clarify Policies

Kefauver, Jackson Ask Defense Chief's Leaning in Contract Awards

WASHINGTON (UP) — Two Democratic members of the Senate Armed Services Committee demanded today that Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson clarify his policy on awarding defense contracts.

Sens. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn) and Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash) asked whether Wilson is following a policy of spreading contracts among several producers or concentrating them in a few large companies.

They said the question also should be explored by the Armed Services Committee.

The two senators said they were both peeved and puzzled by Wilson's latest statements about Defense Department procurement policies.

Last month Wilson issued a new directive calling on the services to promote a "broad mobilization base" a procurement policy established in the Truman administration — by spreading defense contracts among as many producers as possible.

Kefauver and Jackson promptly congratulated Wilson for his "shift" away from the policy of concentrating defense contracts in a "single, efficient producer."

Wilson then stated that the directive did not represent any basic change in policy. He added that he did not have enough time to so inform Kefauver and Jackson.

Obviously miffed by Wilson's answer, Kefauver said he intends personally to look into the department's procurement policies to see what is being done to spread out defense contracts.

Over the nation, school enrollments will increase 25% by 1960—33.6% by 1965. In some communities the increase will be much greater. To be ready for tomorrow's school children we have to look ahead at least ten years. A long-range school plan must be added to all that's been done or is to be done to meet the immediate needs of our schools.
