To Begin Pedestrian Mall

KALAMAZOO PLAN — Construction is scheduled to begin early in June on this pedestrian shoppers mall in downtown Kalamazoo. The project is part of a plan to revitalize the downtown Kalamazoo area. Benches, trees and shrubs will replace two blocks of busy auto traffic.

Milk Price War Violence Flares at 4 Nearby Stores

Smash Windows at Waterford, City Groceries

Bottles, Rocks Tossed Through Plate Glass at Low-Charge Places

Large plate glass windows were smashed at one small Pontiac grocery store and at three in Waterford Township.

Full quart and half-gallon bottles of milk were thrown through the windows, police said.

Victimized store owners tended to put the blame on the fact their prices are competitive with the price of home-delivered milk.

A spokesman for the United Dairy Works local 83, AFL-CIO doubted that independent milkmen had anything to do with the destruction.

"This may be an obvious attempt to discredit our organization," said George McLean, secretary-treasurer of the local, representing 90 per cent of the Pontiac area milkmen.

Targets were Gilmer's Market, 326 S. East Blvd. in Pontiac, plus Frank's Market, DeMino's Food Store and E & D Market in Waterford Township.

Trouble over the price of milk has been brewing in the Pontiac area for many months.

Early last December, independent milkmen staged a one-day walkout in protest over lower prices charged by super markets and chain stores.

Late in December, milkmen staged a demonstration at a Waterford Township supermarket, which was selling milk at less than the home delivered price.

Last night was the first time that small markets were drawn into the battle.

Burl Gilmer, owner of the Pontiac store, said milk and pop bottles were pitched through one of his plate glass windows and a bottle of chocolate milk hurled through the store, smashing on the rear wall 40 feet away.

The window next to the smashed one bore a sign advertising milk at 37 cents a half-gallon.

The damage occurred about midnight, he said.

Gilmer, like the other store owners, said he had never been threatened by anyone over the price of his milk.

"But the fact that four stores

Letter on Taxes Angers County School Leaders

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

A veteran member of the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board today was sharply criticized for distributing a letter which one school official said "prejudiced" the Board into believing only the county and not schools have money problems.

Robert Y. Moore, Board member and chairman of the Board of Auditors, was the target of the barbs as superintendents of the county's 31 school districts appeared before the Tax Allocation Board to plead for "no further cuts" in tax allocations.

Pontiac Mayor Philip E. Rowston, chairman of the Allocation Board, said he and other members did not authorize Moore to write the letter, which was handed to the superintendents as they appeared, nor had members been consulted about it.

Treasurer of the Oakland County School Board Members Assn., Ben S. Jones of Troy, said Moore's letter reminded him of the quip, "Don't confuse me with facts, my mind is made up already."

In his letter dated yesterday, Moore said:

"The schools have been very fortunate in being able to get the lion's share of the 15 mills, while the schools in other counties have had to get along on much less millage."

From what the many superintendents said this morning, it appeared, however, that the

Leaders of Kalamazoo Betting on Downtown

(This is the first of two articles on how Kalamazoo is seeking to revitalize its downtown shopping area by creating a pedestrian mall.)

KALAMAZOO — This community's leaders and city fathers are betting on downtown.

The downtown businesses themselves have already spent $50,000 on a master plan for the city's central business district.

Now the City Commission has committed itself to pay up to half the cost of a $65,000 project to tear up the two busiest downtown blocks and create an autoless pedestrian shoppers' mall.

Although the originally scheduled starting date of May 4 has had to be moved back a month to permit essential underground utility improvements to be completed first, the mall project remains a firm commitment.

That this is so is due to a considerable extent to the wholehearted support given to the proposal by the newly-organized Downtown Kalamazoo Association. Not to be confused with the Downtown Kalamazoo Planning Committee, Inc., which hired Victor Gruen & Associates, Inc., to draw up a master plan, the new group does include many of the latter organization's members.

The DKA is the successor to the old, and recently relatively inactive, Downtown Merchants Association. It includes not only downtown merchants and businessmen, but professional groups as well.

Despite the general endorsement of the "Kalamazoo — 1980" plan, there were literally scores of minor reasons —and some possibly major objections —why the time was not yet opportune. But the DKA formed working volunteer committees and plunged into the job of finding solutions to the problems which seemed to be blocking the start.

Rising Costs, Wages Crushing U.S. Press

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — The number of daily newspapers in the country is being reduced because of "the crushing pressure of rising costs of operation and mounting wages of aggressive unions," an industry executive said yesterday.

V. V. McNitt, president of the McNaught Syndicate Inc., said that despite the heavy odds, newspapers are getting better all the time. McNitt addressed a University of Michigan journalism honors assembly.

Charged for Silence on Apalachin Meeting

27 Underworld Figures Indicted

NEW YORK (UP)—Twenty-seven men who attended the underworld conference at Apalachin, N.Y., in November 1957 were accused today in a federal indictment of conspiring to obstruct justice by refusing to reveal the true nature of the meeting.

All 63 persons who attended were named in the indictment but only 27 as defendants. The remaining 36 were named as coconspirators.

The indictment had been returned on May 13 but was kept sealed until 7:30 a.m. today.

Agents of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics were said to have begun arresting defendants at 6 a.m.

The indictment was termed the results of months of round-the-clock work by members of a special group set up by the U.S. attorney general's office to combat big-time crime.

REPEATED EFFORTS

There have been repeated efforts by authorities, beginning the day of the conclave when it was broken up by New York State Police, to learn the purpose of the meeting.

Many believed it had something to do with realignment of power concerning major rackets operated by the nation's underworld.

Some claimed those in attendance were top echelon figures of the Mafia, the notorious underworld society spawned in Sicily many years ago.

Participants in the gathering either refused to talk about it or claimed it was nothing more than an expression of friendship for the host, Joseph L. Barbara Sr., ill with a heart ailment.

Six of those who attended have been held in jail here several months for refusal to answer questions of state crime probers. A seventh recently obtained freedom on appeal.

In the federal indictment, Barbara was named as a coconspirator, but not a defendant.

Three of the defendants—Joseph Profaci, Pasquale Turrigiano and Joseph Magliocco—also were accused of perjury.

The indictment made public here today contended that the Apalachin delegates knew that they were going to be called before various grand juries and that they conspired to withhold from them the true facts of the gathering.

Whitmer Asks Tax Board Not to Reduce Allocation

Superintendent of Schools Dana P. Whitmer today pleaded with the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board not to reduce the allocation of the Pontiac School District below last year's level.

If the tax rate set by the Allocation Board is less than the 9.38 mills of last year, Whitmer warned, the result would be "further erosion of educational opportunity for Pontiac's children."

Whitmer was among representatives of Oakland County's 31 school districts who were presenting their budgetary needs to the Allocation Board today.

The second-floor room of the Board of Supervisors in the County Office Building was filled with school officials armed with facts and figures to back up their statements.

The Board must decide what share of the 15 mills goes to county government, townships, and school districts.

Whitmer pointed out that two years ago the Pontiac schools had a tax rate of 18.75 mills — a 10 mill allocation and an 8.75 mill voted increase.

"This action represented the 'voice of Pontiac citizens' as they demonstrated their desire and support of a top notch educational system," he said.

But, he told the Allocation Board, "an erosion of school income makes it impossible to carry out the desires of Pontiac citizens."

He noted that state support toward the operating income of the district has fallen from 67.4 pct. in 1948 to 32 pct. in 1958.

Between 1957 and 1959, he said,

Fate of Alyea in Jury's Hands

Tried for Second Time in Slaying of Southfield Nursery Caretaker

For the second time, the fate of Raymond Alyea was in the hands of a jury today.

Charged with robbing and killing a Southfield nursery caretaker last Aug. 1, Alyea could be acquitted, found guilty of first or second degree murder or manslaughter, Circuit Judge William J. Beer instructed this morning.

Alyea, an ex-convict and combat Marine Corps veteran, is accused of stabbing Anthony Jasinski, 51, to death and robbing him of about $100.

Tried once before, there was no decision in the case because the jury could not reach a verdict.

Judge Beer had told the first jury that if Alyea was guilty, he could only be convicted of first-degree murder because of the robbery.

The second jury was given slightly different instructions.

"If you believe there was a robbery, then the crime was first-degree murder," said Judge Beer. But second-degree murder or manslaughter were not ruled out if the jury decides there was no robbery.

Voluminous Complaint

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — One of the men moving 20,000 books into St. Louis University's new library grumbled to another: "They build a new library, you'd think they'd buy new books for it."

Sailboat Is Spotted, 13 Aboard Are Safe

DETROIT (AP)—Thirteen young people missing overnight in a sailboat without life preservers, on stormy, foggy Lake St. Clair were found safe and sound today.

The 26-footer, the Hobo, was spotted aground in Anchor Bay by three private aircraft that took off in hazardous fog and bumpy weather to search the 20-mile wide lake on which small craft warning flew. A Selfridge Air Force helicopter verified it was the Hobo and all aboard were safe.

When coast guardsmen reached the grounded craft they reported they found no life jackets aboard. Chief Warrant Officer Everett M. Marshall, executive officer of the Detroit Coast Guard group, said the owner would be cited for violating regulaions. He could be fined $50 for each person aboard.

Fog that clung on well into the day hampered resuce in the shallow water, but the 13 finally were taken off by smaller boats and transferred to the Coast Guard cutter Maple which brought them to Detroit.

Most of those stranded were teenagers from the Grosse Pointe communities northeast of Detroit.

Discovery of the missing boat ended anguished hours of waiting for families of those aboard. Some had driven up and down shores through the night, peering hopelessly into a blanket of fog that blotted out the lake. Some took to the choppy, dangerous waters in their own boats.

The Hobo, owned by W. C. Flaherty of Grosse Pointe, put out from Mount Clemens for Grosse Pointe about 3 p.m. yesterday, shortly before thunderstorms started churning the lake.

It was piloted by Flaherty's son, Paul, 19, and was being moved from winter storage to its base at the Grosse Pointe Municipal Dock. Young Flaherty had invited friends along.

It was spotted aground in 1½ to 2 feet of water about a mile and a half south of Strawberry Island, not far from Selfridge AFB.

Twisting Winds Lash Galveston

Blow Tanker Aground, Derail Railroad Cars, Destroy Homes

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Staggering wind blasts that possibly exceeded 100 m.p.h. ripped parts of Galveston today, from a storm line that spread destruction in some cities and towns nearly to the Mexican border.

Two men who went to check their fishing lines near Galveston remained unreported late in the morning and were feared drowned.

The wind tore down an oversized sign, called a "spectacular," on Galveston's Pleasure Pier in the Gulf of Mexico. Pier authorities said engineers inspected the sign three months ago and declared it would withstand winds of from 175 to 200 m.p.h.

The winds blew a tanker aground, sank a fishing vessel, virtually destroyed three homes and caused widespread lesser destruction in Galveston and immediate vicinity.

Protest to Milk Prices?

Showers, Warmer Predicted for Area

Scattered showers, thundershowers and warmer is the forecast for all of Michigan tonight and tomorrow. The low for the Pontiac area tonight will be about 62.

Friday's high is expected to reach near 82 and showers will continue through Saturday, the weather bureau said. Today's southeasterly winds at 10-15 miles an hour will become south tomorrow.

Sixty-five was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 2 p.m. was 75.

were damaged the same night with milk bottles certainly points to a concerted effort against our prices," he said.

At Frank's Market, 2701 Elizabeth Lake Rd., near Cass Lake road, the entire front display window was smashed out, with merchandise falling to the sidewalk below.

A sign advertising milk for "34 cents a half gallon," had been used to smash the one-inch plate glass, according to the owner of the market, Frank Soda, 45, who lives at the rear of the store.

"My milk is priced one cent under the chain store prices," Soda said. "I have been in business here 15 years and this is the first time I have ever had any trouble of any kind. I don't know who could have done this."

A newspaper carrier, Donald Wright of Detroit, discovered the smashed front window at DeMino's Market, 2970 Pontiac Lake Rd., at 6 a.m. and reported the damage to Waterford Township Police.

Full bottles of milk had been heaved through one section of the plate glass, and the other three sections had been pelted with large-size rocks, which were found inside the store.

An electric switch on the meat counter was ripped off by the flying bottle. All of the signs advertising reduced prices had been smashed and turned upside down among the broken glass in front of the store.

Victor DeMino Sr., owner of another damaged store, said he turned bottle caps from busted milk bottles over to Waterford Township Police.

"They might help police discover who's behind this destruction," said DeMino.

Police kept the name of the milk company on the bottle caps under wraps temporarily.

DeMino said he had been approached several times by independent dealers asking him to purchase milk from them.

But the price was so much higher, he said, that he stayed with his supplier for the past 10 years, the Porritt Dairy of Orion Township.

DeMino figures that he sells approximately 300 gallons of milk a month.

"One family buys 25 half-gallons each week, and that's a good savings for them," he said.

His insurance company estimated it will cost some $300 to replace the broken windows.

The third grocery, E. & D. Market, at 3468 Pontiac Lake Rd., had a three-foot hole in its front glass display window.

An empty smashed milk bottle was found on the floor inside by owner Edwin Budry when he opened his store this morning. The bottle had ripped through a paper sign advertising milk for 35 cents a half-gallon.

Waterford Township Police Chief Millard Pender was reluctant to make any statement until he had checked further.

"So far, it is malicious destruction, and it is being investigated," he said.

McLean, the union leader, said milkmen in the Pontiac area were "generally discouraged" over the price of supermarket milk, but were not concerned particularly with the prices that small markets charge.

"It's illogical to think milkmen would be angered over a price of 37 cents, when some supermarkets in Detroit are charging as low as 29 cents."

McLean said his union would not condone violence.

He said milkmen were concerned mainly with "price-leading" tactics on the part of supermarkets, whereby milk is sold at a loss in order to attract customers into the store.

"Stores can afford to take a loss on one item, but milkmen can't, because they only have the one product to sell."

Pontiac Retail Wins Trophy for Sales Record

In recognition of a peak sales performance during Pontiac Motor Division's recent "Car of the Year Sales Campaign," Pontiac Retail Store has been awarded the coveted Knudsen Trophy.

The award, named for Pontiac General Manager S. E. Knudsen, will be presented to all Pontiac dealerships equalling or exceeding predetermined new car sales objectives for the period of Feb. 21 through April 30.

Reflecting the division's continual rise in 1959 retail sales is the attainment of Knudsen Trophies by more than 55 per cent of the Pontiac dealer organization.

The 69-day peak performance campaign was launched with Motor Trend Magazine's selection of the 1959 Pontiac as "Car of the Year."

No Allocation Cut, Whitmer Requests

The Pontiac school superintendent noted that last year the Tax Allocation Board set the tax rate at 9.38 mills, down from the 10 of 1957.

"The reduced valuations and allocation have meant a loss of $790,000 to our schools," Whitmer said.

"This erosion of income has come about without a vote of the people—without their consent.

"It has come about despite annual enrollment increases, despite upward trend in the cost of living, and despite the continual local interest and pressure for increases in quality and service."

Even with an allocation of 9.38 mills, Whitmer said, the 1959-60 budget would have to be trimmed by more than $650,000, and the level of educational services and programs trimmed in 1959.

Whitmer pointed out to the Board that salaries and wages of school district employes have not been raised since 1957. "The increased cost of living over this period requires us to make adjustments if we are to attract and hold teachers of quality," he stated.

Whitmer said that under the current tax rate the Pontiac schools face an operating deficit for the 1959-60 year and cannot finance construction of new buildings needed because of growing enrollments.

Gas Attendant Slayer Is Guilty

The man who confessed slaying a Birmingham gas station attendant was found guilty in Recorder's Court, Detroit, yesterday of a similar robbery-murder.

It took the jury only 15 minutes to decide that Robert H. Lewis, 33, of Detroit was guilty of murdering Detroit gas station attendant Frank Galvez, 58.

He admitted to Det. Lt. Merlin Holmquist of the Birmingham Police Department on May 7 that he shot Dyle Howe, 24, Birmingham gas station attendant, during a holdup in September 1954.

The Day in Birmingham

Senate Gets Nomination of Bloomfield Postmaster

BIRMINGHAM — President Eisenhower yesterday sent the nomination of Herbert J. Dyble for postmaster of Bloomfield Hills to the U.S. Senate.

Dyble, 50, who resides at 2575 W. Hickory Grove Rd. in Bloomfield Hills, has been acting postmaster there for the past week.

A veteran of World War II, he was educated in England and graduated from Westminster College in London. Dyble formerly was with General Motors Corp. as a regional manager in the overseas branch.

Dyble said this morning that plans are under way to place several postal drop boxes in the area. The new boxes will be the type which permits mailing from automobiles. They will be placed back on the shoulder of the road so drivers can pull out of the traffic lane to mail letters.

Collections will be made daily at 5 p.m., and all letters processed to leave Bloomfield Hills that same night.

Dyble is married and has a 12-year-old son.

The examination of seven area youths, charged with aggravated assault, scheduled yesterday in Bloomfield Hills Municipal Court was postponed to May 28 by Justice Alva J. Richardson.

Charged with the March 12 beating of Harold C. Paterbaugh, 32-year-old Clawson truck driver, are Douglas H. Danziger, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Danzier, 6325 Shearington Rd., and Robert L. Barrett, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Barrett of 6014 Snowshoe Circle, both in Birmingham.

Others charged are Robert E. Hills, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hills of 1082 Stratford St., and Timothy A. David, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. David, 591 Woodway Ct., both of Bloomfield Hills.

Also, John W. Paige, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Paige of 4300 Derry St.; John F. Jordan, 17, son of Dr. and Mrs. Prescott Jordan, 3148 Middle Belt Rd., both of Bloomfield Township; and Thomas L. Faunce, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Faunce of 2335 W. Pine Center Rd., Orchard Lake.

Bloomfield Hills Police said the altercation started at W. Long Lake and Lahser roads where the youths' car was stopped for the intersection. Paterbaugh blew his horn when they failed to start promptly.

He told police the boys then drove off at a slow pace to Woodward avenue and would not let him pass.

The fight broke out at the Woodward and Long Lake road intersection when, according to police, David got out of the car to throw a bottle at the truck and the other youths followed him.

In the ensuing struggle, Paterbaugh suffered a concussion and internal injuries. He was hospitalized for 10 days as the result.

Service for James S. Allen, 70, of 327 Southfield Rd., will be held 9 a.m. tomorrow at William Vasu Funeral Home, Royal Oak, and 10 a.m. in Our Lady, Queen of Martyrs Church, Southfield Township.

Burial will be in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Detroit. The Rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 9 p.m. today.

Mr. Allen, a retired manufacturers representative, died at his home Tuesday after a brief illness.

He was a member of Oakland Hills Country Club.

It conducted surveys on traffic patterns, parking and mass transportation, and presented its resulting proposals to the city fathers. Then, when the City Commission set the plan to close off the two main downtown blocks to auto traffic for public hearing this March, it marshalled scores of its members to speak in favor of it.

At the hearing, which was extended to a second meeting one week after the first in order that all views might be presented, the principal objections raised fell into two main categories:

1. Belief that general tax funds should not be used for the "special interest" of the downtown area, referring to the approximately $30,000 city share of its development costs (the remainder is to be specially assessed against properties fronting on the mall); and

2. Fear of the plan's effect upon removing on-street parking spaces and creating confusion by forcing the rerouting of traffic around the mall area.

To the first objection, proponents answered that all taxpayers will suffer if downtown valuations continue to fall.

They pointed to a decline of downtown property valuations by more than $1 million in a 1957 reassessment, and predicted a continuation of this trend would result in the loss of far more in taxes over the next few years than the total cost of the mall.

As for loss of on-street parking, proponents argued that the day when a shopper can park at the curbside and run into a downtown store will soon be gone anyway.

Kalamazoo's motor vehicle registration is expected to climb another 45 per cent by 1980, on top of the 100 per cent growth since 1946. The $600,000 parking system revenue bond issue okayed by the commission the week before the hearing will replace the 100 on-street parking spaces to be lost with some 250 new off-street spaces.

Proponents stressed, moreover, the fact that the creation of a permanent mall represents but one of four major steps needed to modernize Kalamazoo's downtown.

They cited as the other three "Capital P's of Downtown Progress" the following: 1 — parking lot expansions; 2—perimeter traffic route development; and 3 — private capital investment.

The City Commission at the close of the hearings voted unanimously to adopt the $65,000 Burdick street mall proposal.

City officials since have pushed ahead as rapidly as possible detailed engineering plans for the laying of the mall's concrete block and grass lawn sections, and the erection of reflector pools, tot lots, revolving stages, benches, and the planting of colorful trees and shrubs.

Barring further delays for the underground conduit repairs on other main thoroughfares needed at full capacity to divert through traffic around the mall area, construction should begin early in June with completion scheduled for early August.

The DKA, moreover, enlisted more than 100 dues-paying members in a one-week drive last month, and raised more than $20,000 to promote the mall through cooperative advertising and special events this year. Many members have already scheduled remodeling of store fronts, and a proposal for a "Park-and-Shop" program to make downtown parking free to customers is being worked out now.

City officials are studying plans for a future perimeter route to carry traffic easily and rapidly around the downtown route.

There are problems ahead. And no one knows for sure what the results actually will be when the mall is opened. But one thing is sure. Kalamazoo has launched an active program to combat its downtown deterioration.

Officers said they confiscated 4,000 bet slips and $500 in cash in raids on Dickey's apartment and four other places.

Books for Vacationers

LANSING (UPI)—More than 6,000 books will be available for Michigan vacationers this summer at state parks. The emphasis this year is on science, conservation, Michigan history and outdoor hobbies. The program is sponsored by the State Library and the Conservation Department.

Church, Offices, Hangar Among Permits

$300,000 in Waterford Building Slated

Waterford Township had an unprecedented spurt in commercial building last week. Permits for construction totaling more than $300,000 were issued by the Township Building Department.

A new $180,000 addition to the Community United Presbyterian Church on Sashabaw road near Dixie Highway has been scheduled for immediate construction.

Other commercial projects include a $55,000 airplane hangar at Pontiac City Airport, a $25,000 gasoline station, a $22,000 medical building and a $20,000 dental clinic. These estimated building costs don't include inside or outside equipment, Inspector Carl Walton pointed out.

An 84 by 109 foot concrete block and brick addition to the church will have a full basement with a raised stage and assembly hall. There will be two small anti-rooms at each end of the stage to be used as dressing rooms.

Four large classrooms will be augmented with folding partitions in the assembly hall, providing six additional classrooms when necessary. A fully equipped kitchen and boiler room completes the lower level facilities.

The main floor sanctuary, measuring 48 by 84 feet, will have a seating capacity for some 550 people. There will be a 14-foot area for the chancel and pulpit, and three glass skylights will be featured in the front narthex of the new church addition.

The pastor's study will adjoin the sanctuary along with the choir room and church parlors. Aluminum plate-glass windows will predominate throughout the new addition, according to the plans of archetects Eroh & Friedman of Pontiac.

Building specifications for the new concrete airplane hangar to be constructed on the northwest end of Pontiac City Airport indicate that the hangar will be 107 feet wide by 100 feet long. The permit was issued to the Norman Wiseman Co. of Royal Oak.

The new gasoline station is under construction on the south side of Elizabeth Lake road near Huron street and will be owned by Harvey L. Dolly of Center Line.

A two-level medical clinic is being built on Voorheis road in the Huron Gardens area by Dr. H. R. Dickstein.

The 27 by 40 foot cement block building will have three operating rooms, a laboratory, plus a large waiting room and offices on the main floor.

The dental clinic is being built by James Luttman on N. Highland road between Alma and Irwin streets.

Of modern design, the low cement block and brick building will have 10 operating, treatment, labratory, X-ray and dark rooms. Four private offices will adjoin a large central lobby-waiting room.

Besides the commercial permits there were 20 for garages, costing $22,000 as well as an unusually large number of housing permits, additions and remodeling permits, Walton reported.

Physicist Looks at Future

Reds Will Lead in Science

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP)—Dr. Edward Teller, one of half a dozen physicists who pioneered the development of the hydrogen bomb, predicted Wednesday night the Soviet Union will be the world's scientific leader in 10 years.

"All we can hope to do is regain our lost leadership at some later date," Teller said in a speech at Marquette University.

"Ten years from now, Russia's position as the world leader in science will be unquestioned. Nothing we can do will change that."

Teller, a professor of physics at the University of California at Berkeley, said: "The world will also be molded after Russian ideas and not after our own by the end of the century."

Improved Mental Care Effecting More Cures

Each year more Americans are being admitted to mental hospitals but for the third successive year total hospital population has decreased, says the National Institute of Mental Health.

The explanation is this — while more patients enter, their stay is shortened by better care and improved treatment. Mental illness is not quite so feared as it was a few years ago and mentally ill persons are inclined to seek help earlier.

Dr. ROBERT H. FELIX, director of the Institute, testifying before a House appropriations subcommittee, noted that between 1945 and 1955, mental hospital population reached an all time high of 558,000. By the end of 1958 it was 545,000, a decrease of 2.5 per cent. Had the upward trend continued, mental hospital population now would have been 8.5 per cent higher than it is.

Mental treatment is expensive but if the downward trend in the number of patients had not occurred, our already inadequate and overburdened facilities would have been handicapped further. Many more cases would not have received any treatment at all.

Because statistics are compiled and released at Lansing, none are available at the present time from the Pontiac State Hospital. However, a spokesman says that discharges there are following the national trend.

Encouragement must be given to the mentally ill to seek prompt treatment thereby shortening their hospital stay and increasing the number of available beds.

Close Vote in Austria Eliminates All Reds

In Austria's recent national election, the Communist party was eliminated from parliament for the first time since the war.

The Socialists led in popular vote but due to the electoral system, Chancellor RAAB's conservative Peoples Party was returned to power by a one seat margin. Both parties have much the same views on foreign policy and the election results promise continuation of stable government.

It is significant that the Communists lost all three of their parliamentary seats. All went to the Socialists who have a record of opposition to both Nazis and Communists.

Bordered on three sides by Communist countries, Austria has held free national elections since 1945. Moscow's ideology never had any popular appeal in this freedom loving nation.

U.S. Economy Entering New Era of Prosperity

Figures recently issued by the Departments of Labor and Commerce provide proof of a continued business upturn and reasons for a new era of unprecedented prosperity.

It was announced this week that 65,021 million Americans were at work in April and that unemployment had declined to 3,627 million. Factory wages had hit an all time high, averaging $89.87 per week. Spendable income in the first quarter of 1959 after taxes is reported at a record peak of $1,823 per capita.

Automakers sold 503,890 cars in April, the most since June 1957, with production rate steadily increasing. Steel is operating at 94 per cent of capacity, department store sales are up eight per cent and railway loadings are 26 per cent above last November. New construction has increased 15 per cent over last year.

However, there are still areas of unemployment. Secretary of Labor MITCHELL, in speaking to a business group in Miami, pointed out that despite widespread prosperity "there remain valleys of trouble where people live who cannot find jobs . . . We must have an improved program of Federal-State unemployment insurance."

In the face of this evidence of the strength of our economy, there doesn't seem to be any reason now for counselling big spending and an unbalanced budget to battle the so-called recession.

The Man About Town

It Is Tulip Time

Where Michigan's Biggest Display Now Awaits You

Weather: What we all swear about—until we learn it's doing worse elsewhere.

After waging a war with the weather that has delayed them considerably, the tulips at White Chapel Memorial Park have finally won the fight. According to Manager they will be at their glorious best over this weekend.

Dorval D. Symons,

The recent warm weather is bringing out the blooms, and everybody is invited to visit the display. It runs around the 100,000 mark, in every color of the rainbow—and then some.

The grounds, at the corner of Crooks and Long Lake Roads, less than ten miles southeast of Pontiac, are open every day, including Sundays, from eight o'clock until sundown. The dozens of tulip beds can all be easily seen without leaving your car.

It is suggested that you make your visit as early in the day as possible, to avoid the crowds. Keep to the right at all times on the driveways. The display will continue through next week.

From Pontiac the best route to White Chapel is east on Auburn Ave., through Auburn Heights, to Crooks Road, where you turn right three miles to Long Lake Road, on which is the entrance, a few east of Crooks Road.

"They all read The Pontiac Press ads," writes of Rochester, who says his hens almost stopped production when a copy of the paper was found in the poultry house, with big type figures on the small price of eggs.

According to advices from Superintendent

a $1,200,000 bonding proposal has been approved in the Fenton school district by exactly a two to one vote—698 to 349.

A phone call Wednesday from of Waterford, says he would like to accompany of Fenton when he goes to Lansing to administer corporal punishment on the governor and legislators. He says, "I'll take along my shotgun, loaded with rock salt."

Canoe trips on Oakland County rivers are attracting outsiders. A letter from

Reds Are the Darnedest People —

David Lawrence Says:

Geneva Terms Misleading Public

GENEVA—What a lot of fancy names there are in public affairs to make people believe things are different from what they really are.

LAWRENCE

For instance, the impression is widely held — as a result of extensive publicity — that there is somehow a real difference between a foreign ministers' conference and a "summit" meeting of heads of states.

But the fact is that each of the foreign ministers here is in constant and instantaneous touch with the head of his own government and would not dare make any move without consulting his chief of state.

Then there's the theory that a "negotiation" is taking place here. The assumption is that three men are sitting down with a fourth to talk things out and, in a sort of give-and-take way, are trying to find a means of agreeing on something substantial to improve the world situation.

Actually, the foreign ministers' conference now has been going on for a week and a half and there hasn't been a single occasion when the four principals sat down together without a lot of advisers, secretaries, translators and other personnel present taking notes.

Each meeting is virtually public and not a private consultation at all. The press is "briefed" immediately afterward.

What may surprise many people is that every subject discussed here has been threshed out by planning committees and policy boards on both sides and within each government over a long period prior to this conference.

So there is no such thing as an off-the-cuff negotiation, though at social gatherings occasionally some frank exchanges occur.

The three Western foreign ministers came here reconciled to the idea that the first week or more of the conference would be devoted to speech-making and propaganda operations, but they were convinced that sooner or later there would have to be "restricted" sessions, with the consultations confined to the four foreign ministers and perhaps a limited number of advisory personnel.

But the question now has arisen as to who shall attend "restricted" sessions—four foreign ministers or six?

Over the radio, the Soviets have already told the people behind the Iron Curtain that this is really a six-power conference and that the envoys from East and West Germany respectively are "participants" and not just "observers."

So the first obstacle that has to be overcome is to undo the damage that was done by giving the East and West German envoys places at any table—round or square.

Certainly there cannot be any intimate discussion by the four foreign ministers if they have to do their talking in the presence of the East and West German representatives and if everyone is taking notes.

Until there are fewer persons in the conference room, there will be no such thing as a "negotiation" in the sense in which the term is ordinarily used.

But even if there were a chance to "negotiate," would the foreign ministers be able to deviate from their previously adopted positions?

To a certain extent this is possible on both sides, but the initiative in this conference is held by Nikita Khrushchev. What he tells his foreign minister to do is the key.

Would it be any different at a "summit" conference? The answer is necessarily negative. For, while it might be assumed that the Soviet premier could make up his mind on the spur of the moment, the questions involved are far too complex and relate to too many other problems to be given an impromptu treatment.

The biggest fallacy in the world is that, because the Soviets have a one-man dictatorship, the answers to broad questions of international policy affecting the relations of the East and West can be quickly given.

Even if there were concessions from the Soviet side, further study would be required and also subsequent verification to find out what the spoken words mean when reduced to writing.

The Country Parson

"If you think you know the only right way to do a job . . . you haven't served on a church committee."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Supporting Truss Advised for Hernia in Child, Adult

In a total of 96,886 hernia patients treated by trusses at the London Truss Society, only 4,387 — less than 5 per cent— were cured. Small hernias in young persons, and especially umbilical (navel) hernias in newborn children, are most likely to be cured by properly fitted truss worn constantly.

DR. BRADY

But whether thus curable or not, hernia in infant, child or adult should be constantly supported (kept from bulging) by a suitable truss, for safety and to prevent the hernia from growing larger.

In any case of small reducible hernia in youth or adult, whatever moderate general exercise the individual can take daily, while supporting the hernia with the hand or other means, favors a cure whether treatment is by truss, special exercise, injection or radical operation.

The best exercise for this purpose is daily leg-raising calisthenics taken while you lie supine, always supporting the hernia or suspected hernia with the middle fingers of your hand; lifting first one leg, then the other, to vertical and slowly lowering to the floor, from three to six times twice a day.

Squat and up to erect position three times to six times twice a day. Practice the belly breathing exercise twice a day. Gradually increase the number of movements as you become accustomed. Such exercise is as good for femoral hernia as it is for inguinal hernia.

Watsons "Hernia," the most authoritative medical textbook on the subject (3rd ed. 1948, C. V. Mosby Co., St. Louis), includes three chapters on injection treatment, as against about ten chapters on radical operation.

I want to keep on teaching people how to keep well, and so I will say of the injection or ambulant treatment of hernia only this: It is or should be painless, does not interfere with the patient's ordinary activities nor require hospitalization, in most cases take eight or ten brief visits to the doctor's office at intervals of several days, and gives as much satisfaction as radical surgery does.

I cannot afford to maintain a directory service. Ask your own doctor about injection treatment.

Radical surgical treatment of hernia gives wholly satisfactory results in most instances, although recurrence of the hernia within a year after operation is frequent enough to make the method somewhat of a gamble. Surgeons claim from 85 per cent to 97 per cent of permanent cures, but a good many patients who seek injection treatment have had recurrence following operation.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Do Child's Questions Stump You?

Tommy's case is duplicated in almost every home. So use the famous "Pause & Praise" strategy to handle such questions from children as well as your customers. For it inflates the ego of the questioner and makes him like you, even before you have attempted to reply. Then add the "Reversible Why" and you will have a magical formula.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE B-440: Tommy J., aged 7, is a thoughtful little boy.

"Daddy, how do we get to heaven?" he asked his father recently.

So the father later inquired how he should have handled the matter.

DR. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," he began, "my son shoots dozens of questions at me when I reach home at night.

"Many of them are very difficult to answer. Since I am tired, anyway, and eager to read my newspaper, I often get a little irritated.

"Besides, when I finally figure out a good answer, couched in one-syllable words which he can understand, I find he has moved 20 questions down the line and doesn't pay much attention to my answer.

"So what can a parent do to hold his child's attention on that FIRST question, till it is finally answered properly?"

PAUSE AND PRAISE

The secret of being a good teacher, as well as salesman, lies in your use of the "Pause and Praise" strategy.

Most of us immediately attempt to answer any question put to us, if we have the information thereon.

But that is not the best method. And salesmen should by all means learn to bite their tongues and hold back the correct answer until they have first "Paused and Praised."

For this technique makes the questioner feel more important. It inflates his ego, so he is immediately prejudiced in your favor.

And it also keeps his attention on that first question, so he doesn't shoot a dozen more queries at you in the meantime.

Besides, if you are caught off guard, it gives you a chance to collect your wits.

"Tommy, that's a dandy question you have asked," his daddy should thus begin, as he employs the "Pause and Praise" strategy.

Obviously, Tommy will feel happy and proud of himself, so he will focus his attention on that question.

"Indeed," his daddy can continue, "most people nowadays, even grown men, don't know how we get to heaven."

And that doubly inflates Tommy's ego, for when a child can "stump" a grown person, that's a red letter day!

"REVERSIBLE WHY"

Now the father should add the final part of the magical formula and reverse the child's question, deftly if possible.

For the complete formula says "Pause and Praise", then "Reverse the Why."

"Tommy," he can now continue, "since you have asked such a good question, I'll give you two guesses as to how YOU think we get to heaven."

So Tommy's daddy took that strategy home and used it on Tommy, who immediately answered:

"We go to heaven in an airplane."

That was a pretty good response, but his father decided to keep on the "asking" end of the process, so he inquired, "How can we go by airplane when no man has ever gone much above the clouds?"

This puzzled Tommy for a while, but he decided that God must furnish some new kind of plane we haven't discovered as yet.

If you are a teacher, or conductor of public forums, or if you are a parent or salesman, please become adept at the "Pause and Praise" strategy, followed by the "Reversible Why."

It promotes "audience participation" and encourages children to do a lot of deep thinking. Meanwhile, it links your answer with their original query.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

'Let's Not Wait Too Long to Act on Urban Renewal'

I attended the recent meeting at City Hall on Urban Renewal an believe the City as well as the public should back it 100 per cent and nc wait five or six years to get it started.

I live in Detroit but work here. There are some fine people livin in Pontiac, many who think it's going to the dogs. On the whole, it's a beautiful city and worth saving.

I own several homes here and would like to move back, but because my wife doesn't drive, and my hours away from home are long, we live away so she may attend a good show once in a while or shop and have lunch at some nice place. What does Pontiac have to offer?

And

'Don't Let This Vicious Bill Pass'

A most vicious bill is up for debate called Mental Health House Bill 156. If it were to pass you could be arrested without a warrant; you wouldn't be guaranteed the protection of your personal physician, a friend or any Government employe may order your commitment, the court wouldn't be bound by any evidence.

It could also be used for political reprisals. Write immediately to Senator Lodge and Representative Anderson and demand they vote against this bill. It's a flagrant violation of your personal rights and a terrible blow at freedom. Who knows what excuse they'd use to enter your home?

Mrs. Mary D. Walker

'Don't Let Old Way Creep Back In'

Pontiac people should appreciate the United Fund which lets them have one drive a year. Where I came from they have a drive every week and sometimes there are two going at the same time.

The same workers get called on many times and the effect is a great waste. Pontiac residents should never support any drives for organizations that are trying to buck the chest or they will slowly drift back into the old way.

This is the best plan and any agency that doesn't want to come into the United Fund should be shown the community means business.

'Why Don't Mothers Get Some Help?'

My ex-husband pays alimony when he feels like it. He's some $1,200 behind. He's married and expecting a child. He doesn't have any feelings for my children at all. I have five and we live on ADC and group surplus. I wonder if her child will drink powdered milk and eat rice and cornbread.

If you throw the men in jail, it doesn't do you any good. They ask why is Michigan broke. It's because the state helps support children of divorced homes when the husband should support them.

It should be a law to take it from their pay, which my husband did sign for, but his place of employment wouldn't let it continue. Why don't we mothers get some help?

Mrs. Hagedorn

'Even I Could Play Better Than Harris'

Every baseball fan in the U. S has the right to second guess the manager and I will second guess the Tigers. Why don't they play Groth in right field, Kuenn on first and find Harris a good spot in the Boy Scout League in Tokyo.

Groth is batting .438 and Harris .138. Groth has 10 hits out of 23 times at bat and Harris has 9 hits out of 65 times at bat.

If Groth goes to bat 42 straight times without getting a single hit he will still be ahead of Harris. Kuenn certainly can field better than Harris.

This advice to Jimmy Dykes is absolutely free and if he doesn't like Kuenn at first, I will play it myself. I can field better than Harris and with a little practice I know I could bat .140.

Mildred C.

'Such Maneuvers Are Inexcusable'

The other day I followed a goofy driver who made about eight turns in a mile and a half and he never signaled once. His car should have been knocked off the road by someone that banks upon him to be a gentleman and declare himself as others do. He had turn signals on his car and if they were out of order, he could have used his arm. Selfishness on the highway is inexcusable . . . and very dangerous.

Businessmen Get Advice

Be Citizens, Not Lobbyists

NEW YORK (AP)—Spokesmen for the Republican and Democratic parties told businessmen today their role in politics must be that of citizens—not as seekers of special privilege through political advantage.

Sharing the speakers' platform before the American Management Assn. were Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, the Republican national chairman, and Paul M. Butler, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

"If businessmen are to achieve maximum effectiveness in politics," Morton said in his prepared speech, "they must work toward this goal primarily as citizens, rather than as spokesmen for or representatives of just one segment of our total economy."

In his prepared speech Butler said, "The best and most profitable way for business to get into politics is for each and every businessman to recognize that he is a citizen first and a businessman second, that he has all the other rights, duties, obligations that any citizen has."

The Republican and Democratic spokesmen agreed that selfish motives should not inspire a businessman to become active in politics.

Convict Teen Drag Racer in 3 Traffic Deaths

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (A)—A teenage drag racer accused of causing a traffic accident that killed three persons was convicted of manslaughter Wednesday.

Robert Clarence Fennewald, 18, was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $1,000 in Circuit Court.

Witnesses said Fennewald was racing at speeds of more than 100 miles an hour last Nov. 23 in North St. Louis just before the accident. They said he forced the car he was racing into the wrong lane, where it collided with another car.

Michigan is ranked as the fourth most popular tourist state in the nation.

Bills Affect Wine, Cattle

Senate OKs Measures for State Regulations Involving Both

LANSING (AP)— Proposals for state regulation of cattle grazing on state lands and of prices of wine with less than 16 per cent alcohol marched along today in the Legislature.

The House-approved grazing bill passed the Senate 22 to 8 yesterday and was routed back to the House for agreement to amendments. The wine pricing bill cleared the Senate 29 to 3 and was sent to the House for its first test there.

Sen. William E. Miron (D-Escanaba) said the proposed curbs on cattle feeding were designed to cut down on damage to private property, particularly in Delta County, where he said buyers let livestock roam on public land.

Under the regulation bill, they would have to get permits from the Conservation Department for use of specified areas. Then farmers whose gardens were damaged by roaming cows could trace the owners and collect, Miron said.

The wine bill, which drew some criticism from Detroit area Democrats, would allow the State Liquor Control Commission to fix maximum and minimum prices as it already does on products with more than 16 per cent alcohol.

Junior Chamber in Waterford to Seat Officers

Installation of new officers of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce will take place June 9 at the Community Actvities Center on Williams Lake road.

Others are Donald Beedle, secretary; Richard Thompson, corresponding secretary; and Jack McCaffrey, treasurer.

Open School Board Meetings Advanced

LANSING (AP) — A bill to open school board meetings to the public moved into the Senate today after winning overwhelming approval in the House.

Endorsed by the Michigan Press Assn. and the Michigan Education Assn., it would permit executive sessions. But, any final action would have to be taken at a public meeting advertised 24 hours in advance.

All board records also would be open to the public.

The bill was one of two right-to-know measures introduced this year. Another is expected to compel township boards to conduct their business in the open.

No Fire, but It's Wet

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—A false fire alarm sent pupils at Wiley School scurrying into the rain. They got wet outside, then went inside to get dry.

Kiss Subs for $400 Fee

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP)—June Lemon, a petite, red-haired waitress, lost her wallet containing $308 in 45 feet of water during a boat drill aboard the liner Matsonia at its dock. Salvage diver Berger Norvik and two helpers recovered it. The job normally would have cost $400, but Norvik gallantly waved aside money and collected a kiss instead.

Nassau Leader Requests Duke

Says Windsor Should Reveal Information on 15-Year-Old Murder

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP) — A Bahamas political leader says the Duke of Windsor should come to Nassau and reveal what information he has on the murder of Sir Harry Oakes more than 15 years ago.

The House of Assembly unanimously approved a resolution to ask Scotland Yard to renew investigation of the multimillionaire's killing.

Cyril Stevenson, who introduced the resolution, said he was surprised at the Assembly's action Tuesday and expected it to be thrown out.

"I feel it imperative that the Duke of Windsor come to Nassau to reveal information he has at his disposal concerning the murder," Stevenson said Wednesday. "It was the duke's bungling that was responsible for the investigation not being carried through."

Stevenson said that Raymond Schindler, an American detective, "told me without doubt he could put his hand on the murderer who he said is a member of the Bay Street political party."

Sir Harry, who owned considerable Bahamas property and gold mines in other parts of the world, was found bludgeoned in his home July 8, 1943. His son-in-law, Count Alfred de Marigny, was charged with the slaying but was acquitted.

The Duke of Windsor was governor of the Bahamas at the time and hired veteran detectives to work on the case, which has never been solved.

De Marigny was ordered to leave the Bahamas and later his marriage to Nancy Oakes, heiress to an estimated 200 million dollars, was annulled. Both De Marigny and Nancy have since remarried.

House Showers Warm Tributes on John Dulles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has paid affectionate tribute to cancer-stricken John Foster Dulles.

No change was reported in the condition of the former secretary of state, whose cancer illness has been complicated by pneumonia.

House Democratic Leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts said Wednesday, "We miss him very much. I wish him well and pray that God showers His abundance on him."

McCormack said he had no doubt that history will recognize Dulles as one of the greatest secretaries.

Representatives Walter H. Judd (R-Minn) and Fred Schwengel (R-Iowa) said Dulles already ranks as America's greatest secretary of state. They expressed hope some miracle might spare his life.

Axed Classmate Remains Critical

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP)—Rosa Watterson, 20, who was attacked by a hatchet-wielding classmate while asleep in her college dormitory, remained in critical condition today.

Sheriff Laurence E. Brown said her assailant, Patricia Dennis, 22, Lyndhurst, Ohio, is being held on an open charge.

The two are first-year students at Warren Wilson Junior College at nearby Swannanoa. Miss Watterson is from Guilford College, N.C.

Authorities said Miss Dennis told them she was jealous of Miss Watterson because she had taken her friends away.

The sheriff said Miss Dennis went to Miss Watterson's room at 4:40 a.m. Other girls heard screams and rushed to the room. Betty Ferrell, 20, Orgas, W.Va., was cut on the arm while trying to pull the girls apart.

Shakespeare to Get Western Treatment

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A college group which plans to present Shakespeare "Western-style" in Europe was on its way to New York today. Some 30 students from Howard Payne College, Brownwood, Tex., left here Wednesday by rail. They will sail May 25 for England.

The group will present "A Midsummer Night's Dream" while costumed in Western garb such as blue jeans, boots and wide-brimmed hats.

3-Year-Old Can Drive

TROY, Ala (AP) — Three-year-old Keith Rolling claims to be one of the world's youngest tractor drivers. He is able to start and stop the machine, put it into forward or reverse gear, and drive it.

Start on Foreign Aid

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Foreign Affairs Committee today began work on President Eisenhower's $3,900,000,000 foreign aid program. Chairman Thomas E. Morgan (D-Pa) already has warned the administration that some cuts are to be expected, especially where "waste and inefficiency" have been found.

The world's largest limestone quarry is located at Rogers City.

Sounds Like Electric Guitar

Plectronic Piano Invented

ATLANTA (UPI) — An Atlanta man has crossed a small piano with a singing guitar—and come up with a "plectronic piano."

William B. Taylor is the inventor of this unique instrument that looks like a miniature baby grand, but sounds like an electric guitar.

Taylor's plectronic piano is played just like a regular piano.

The big difference is that when the key is depressed, the strings are plucked instead of hammered. A small metal device at the back of each key plucks the strings as the key is struck.

Taylor's first model used piano strings, but the wire was too heavy, giving the instrument too much overtone. Guitar string wire is used in his present model. An electronic system is built in for volume.

The inventor cut and fashioned his own wooden keys and covered them with ivory. The instrument is housed in a delicate, highly-polished birch case.

Taylor, a commercial artist, says he got the idea for the plectronic back in 1926 when he was strumming a guitar with a Dixieland Jazz band in New Orleans.

He decided to build an instrument that combined the good points of the piano and the guitar. He started work on his first plectronic a few years later.

Guns Are So Expensive That Few Could Buy

RADIUM, Colo. (AP)— Henry Hinton runs a ranch in northwestern Colorado, but when he can, makes guns, especially heavy muzzle-loading rifles like those used by this nation's earliest settlers.

Hinton says he spends so much time on the old flint-and-ball muskets that few could afford to buy one. So he occasionally gives one to a friend.

Bob Considine Asks:

Where Will I Get 20 Million Lire, Signora?

NEW YORK—You meet such interesting mail:

"Please immediately answer my letter of last March 18 in which I asked for a loan of 20,000,000 lire. Sincerely yours — Giuseppa Montanto Vedora Papala, via Vittorio Emanuele, N. 12, Caltagiorone, Catania, Sicily, Italy." (I'm still trying to catch my breath, signora.)

Philip Cortney, president of Coty, whose company will provide makeup and makeup know-how for a million Russian women at the American Exhibit in Sokolniki Park, Moscow, this summer, writes:

"Russian women today, whatever their complexion, have only two shades of face powder to choose from. They must find a becoming lipstick from a choice of only three shades.

Our trained group, all of whom will speak to the women in Russian, will provide vivid personal proof to each Russian woman of how the art of makeup can enhance her individual beauty." (Suddenly I felt sorry for Ivan—the poor slob. This could bring him to his knees, crying uncle.)

Man at Boeing writes, "the B-52G may become a 'phantom bomber', with an earthly ability to confuse the detection devices of the enemy. It is equipped with 'decoy' missiles, designated Quail. The decoys are mounted on special racks in the bomb bay of the 8-jet B-52.

When they are launched from the airplane, each missile produces a 'blip' on enemy radar screens similar to that produced by the high-flying Stratofortress itself. Thus the enemy is puzzled by a series of blips, with the problem of determining which one is the real B-52." (Peek-a-boom!)

GI STORY

Maryknoll missionary editor father Al Nevins forwards a memorable story about two GI's who will soon find themselves in different uniforms.

"Halfway around the world from where Father Bill Cummings coined the phrase 'there are no atheists in foxholes,' two GI's — Leo Decman and Jack McGovern — huddled together in a Brittany foxhole.

"As lethal 88's opened up gaping holes in the battle area held by the U.S. 66th infantry division, Decman and McGovern vowed to each other and to God that if they ever got out alive they'd contribute 'something useful' to a torn and bleeding world.

"As riflemen for 19 months in Europe, this was not the last foxhole the two privates shared. The 66th was the key unit in the mopping up operation against remnants of 125,000 German troops holding out in pockets along the coast of western France.

BUDDIES SEPARATED

"With VE-Day and the final surrender of the German forces, the two buddies were separated, rotated to the states and discharged from the army. They lost track of each other. By 1946 both men were in college earning degrees under the GI bill. The foxhole in Brittany was only a memory. Or was it?

"In February, 1949, Jack McGovern graduated from Marquette U., with a degree in history, and entered Maryknoll Seminary to study for the foreign mission priesthood. Ordained in 1954, he was sent to Rome for three years of advanced study in Sacred Scripture.

Upon his return to America he was assigned to teach on the Maryknoll faculty, at the major seminary outside Ossining, N.Y.

"In June, 1950, Decman graduated from the University of Illinois. He worked for a year for Caterpillar Tractor, then joined Maryknoll.

He was flabbergasted, the first day he sat in the classroom at the major seminary, to find that his dignified scripture professor was none other than his old foxhole buddy, Red McGovern.

"On Saturday, June 13, Leo Decman of Joliet, Ill., will be ordained and on the following day receive his official assignment to Korea, a few miles below the 38th parallel. One week later, Father John McGovern, of Upper Black Eddy, Pa., will assist Father Decman in the celebration of his first solemn mass at his home parish.

"The altar of St. Joseph's is a far cry from the battlefield which united them in their dream of a better world, but we know as they stand together, clothed in the vestments of the church, their minds will not be too far from a muck-filled foxhole in Brittany."

How about that?

Car 33 Years Old Drives 'Like New'

CANTON (UPI)—Miss Helen D. White, a former school teacher, is still driving the automobile she bought in 1926.

After 33 years on the road, she says, the car is "like new."

"I get 22 miles on a gallon," says Miss White, "and don't have the every-two-or-three-year headache of turning in one car to get a new one."

An estimated 5 million tons of copper has been mined in Michigan during the last 100 years. In normal smelting operations, only one pound of copper is recovered from a ton of rock.

Kitchen Stove Test Fails to Win Case

ST. CHARLES, Mo. (UP) — St. Charles County Prosecutor Andrew McCulloch was his own judge and jury recently—and his kitchen was the courtroom.

A business firm asked the prosecutor for permission to sell its fire alarm thermostat in the county. McCulloch decided to personally test the device the company said would ring when the temperature reached 160 degrees.

McCulloch put the gadget in his electric stove, set for 160 and waited. No alarm.

While the firm representative squirmed, McCulloch raised the temperature.

Finally, at 220 degrees the alarm went off.

Tests for Temperatures Varying 450 Degrees

SALT LAKE CITY (UPI) — A special pump for filling flamethrowers with fuel was tested recently in a special chamber at Dugway Proving Ground near here.

The U. S. Army Chemical Corps spent $130,000 for the chamber, which can test for temperatures from 100 degrees below zero to 350 degrees above and can simulate an altitude of 160,000 feet above sea level, according to its manufacturer.

CHERRIES AND A CHARMER — Traverse City is called "The World's Cherry Capital" and the luscious red fruit is a leading crop in this colorful corner of Michigan which also boasts industrial, cultural and tourist attractions.

The Story of Five Counties

Traverse City Means Tourism, Cherries

(This is the 24th in a series of articles on Michigan's industrial and cultural achievements written by Michigan newsmen as an introduction to Michigan Week which began Sunday.)

By WILLIAM S. SMITH
Editor, Traverse City Record-Eagle

TRAVERSE CITY—Two slogans—"The Heart of Nature's Playground" and "The World's Cherry Capital"—pinpoint Traverse City.

The city's initials, T. C., might well stand for two of its most famous and valued products, tourism and cherries.

But the story of this bustling, progressive city of 18,500 located at the base of Grand Traverse Bay adjacent to the "little finger" of Michigan's lower peninsula is not the story of one town but of a five-county region. Its unique geographical location makes Traverse City the hub of an area which encompasses Grand Traverse, Leelanau, Benzie, Antrim and Kalkaska counties.

The Grand Traverse Bay region, with a trading area of 75,000 persons and a summer population of 250,000 when the tourist and resort season is at its peak, can divide its history of well over 100 years into four eras: Indians, lumber tourists and cherries. The last two combine to give the region its greatest and lasting prosperity.

The tourist and resort business ranks No. 1 in this region, and its importance to the region's economy is underlined by estimates that vacationists represent an annual business of $40 million in this five-county area. The miles of sand beaches, hundreds of lakes and streams, and temperate climate pull thousands of vacationists into this region each summer.

The tourist and resort promotion no longer stops with a single season, however. The Traverse City Chamber of Commerce, one of the most active for any community of comparable size in the nation, this year adopted a record $60,864 budget based on a four-season promotional program.

To the "three S's" of "surf, sand and sunshine" has been added a fourth "S," namely "snow," and the rapid development of winter sports facilities in the area is keyed to the tremendous boom in skiing which makes this region among the favorite spots in Michigan.

Traverse City can rightfully claim the title of Cherry Capital of the World. Michigan ranks first in red tart cherry production, and the Grand Traverse region produces more than half of the state's total tonnage. As high as 90 million pounds of cherries have come off trees in this area in a single year, representing as much as $11 million to orchardists.

Theer are more than 1.6 million cherry trees in the region, with 650,000 in Grand Traverse county alone. The Old Mission Peninsula, which splits Grand Traverse Bay into two arms and extends 20 miles into Lake Michigan, has 22,600 cherry trees for every square mile of farm land.

Linked closely with the cherry industry are two major events here, the National Cherry Festival and the Blessing of the Blossoms. The 32nd annual festival, to be held July 8-10 this year, will attract upwards of 250,000 persons to the midwest's biggest yearly fiesta, and the solemn ritual of the blossom blessing in May annually brings visitors from throughout Michigan.

There are other things that make the Traverse City area tick.

Diversified industry, which includes the manufacture of helicopter rotor blades, gears and tool and die products, has been boosted by the Traverse City Industrial Fund, Inc. This organization, one of the first to be formed in Michigan, was incorporated in 1950 to develop existing local industries and promote new industries. In the past nine years the Fund has raised over $300,000 for 11 industrial projects through the financial backing of the community at large.

Northwestern Michigan College, a regional education center less than a decade old, was founded, built and developed through community enterprise and now has more than 400 students.

The famed National Music Camp at Interlochen, 14 miles south of Traverse City, each summer draws 1,500 students here for 10 weeks of advanced musical training under some of the nation's best-known instructors. Located in one of the last virgin pine stands in Michigan, the camp attracts students from every state in the union and many of its possessions.

Women's Dorm Better, Coed Advises Director

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Darcus E. Soles of Tabor City wrote Prof. Jasper L. Memory Jr., director of the Wake Forest College summer session, that it was Miss, not Mister Soles.

"I thought that I should call your attention to this as it will probably have some bearing on the room assignment," Darcus wrote after receiving a letter from the school addressed to Mr. Soles.

Ship's Captain Reports Whale Got the Bruises

"Whale bumps Hoover.
"Hoover unhurt.
"Whale bruised."

More than 200 ships steamed into New York harbor on their maiden voyages in the past year.

Young Students Poetic About the Space Age

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—The student newspaper at Butler Elementary School printed some poems offered by the youngsters. Included was this one by Robert Olsen:

"Satellites are red,
"Rockets are blue—
"And if you don't behave

Tractors to Carry More, Weigh Less, Cut Shipping Costs

GM Developing Revolutionary New Line of Trucks

A new line of tractors being developed by General Motors Truck & Coach Division is one of many outstanding developments in truck tractor design which will put millions of dollars in the pockets of truckers without costing the shippers an extra cent.

For more than a quarter century there has been a continuous effort on the part of commercial vehicle manufacturers to design units that can haul greater cargoes both in bulk and weight without violating rigid length, weight and height laws of the various states.

While these laws have been gradually liberalized over the years, the demand for more cargo space has become more and more intense.

So far a great part of the burden has fallen on the manufacturers of truck trailers, who have just about come to the end of their ingenuity in designing vans that will provide the utmost in cubic capacity and at the same time provide a minimum of vehicle weight. Even a half-inch saved in the thickness of the trailer walls or of the rear doors has been regarded as an important contribution to economical transportation and has been heavily featured by the trailer manufacturers.

Tractor manufacturers have contributed to the saving in length and the more advantageous distribution of weight.

2 BIG HELPS

The cab-over-engine and the tilt cab have been outstanding contributions in meeting this problem. But here, as well as in trailer design, it had appeared that just about the limits of design ingenuity had been reached.

The new GMC line—by making use of far more compact power and transmission units plus a greatly increased employment of lightweight metals, and at the same time a revolutionary method of weight distribution—promises a major break-through.

The engineering features of this new GMC highway tractor have been made known through papers and discussions before the Society of Automotive Engineers and other automotive engineering groups. But the economicgains which can be translated in terms of savings for both truck operators and shippers are really the main objective.

The gains are in the ability to haul more bulk as well as more weight while conforming to state load and length laws now in force.

NEW BASIC DESIGN

This two-way gain in load and bulk stems from an entirely new basic design of the tractor.

First, a combination of wheelbase and relative position of front and rear axles to center line of the fifth wheel and an extremely light chassis allows transfer of load from the trailer in an amount as much as 2,000 pounds.

This in turn relocates the relative front and rear axle distances to the center line of the fifth wheel kingpin. The semi-trailer rear suspension is relieved of as much as 2,000 lbs. of g.c.w. loading thus giving firm steering with absence of brake dive and "wheel fight."

The elimination of high frequency vibrations, regardless of load or road conditions, saves the driver, the cargo, and, from rigid proving ground and field tests, drastically cuts maintenance.

The driver will note new responsiveness due to improved torque characteristics of the new 6-71 GM two-cycle diesel with an improved power train, reducing the need for shifting and giving increased fuel economy. He will also note improved braking because, by making use of the air suspension units, a unique valve system that proportions the brakes on each axle to the load.

The new aluminum tilt-cab is counterbalanced with torsion bars for hand tilting. Plenty of forced heat or fresh air ventilation are provided, and big glass area gives wide-angle vision in all directons.

Volcano Quiets Down

STROMBOLI, Italy (AP) — Stromboli volcano has quieted down. The volcano on this tiny island off northeast Sicily blew its top Tuesday in one of the strongest eruptions of recent years. No one was injured.

Hospital Workers Vote to Stay Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Nonprofessional workers at six hospitals have voted overwhelmingly — 1,784 to 14 — to continue their 14-day-old walkout in a bid to win union recognition.

A previously secret 11-point truce program was read Wednesday night to members of Local 1199, Retail Drug Employes Union before balloting started.

Local President Leon J. Davis indicated the strike may spread to other hospitals.

The "memorandum of agreement," worked out with the aid of Mayor Robert F. Wagner, ruled out union recognition but provided for a grievance procedure in each hospital with a single arbitrator for all. His decision would be binding.

Other provisions included minimum wages of $1 an hour; a $2 weekly raise to those making more than $1 an hour; overtime pay after 40 hours and job classification.

About 3,500 workers walked out of Mount Sinai, Beth Israel, Beth David, Lenox Hill, Bronx and Brooklyn Jewish hospitals May 8. The hospitals have continued with the aid of volunteers.

Fined Farmer Sticking to U.S.

Case of Sand Beach Wheat Grower Similar to That of Yankus

HARBOR BEACH (UPI)—Wilfred Booms of Sand Beach Township owes the government $703.05 for excess wheat grown last year but he's not going to follow in the footsteps of Dowagiac's Stanley Yankus and move to Australia.

Booms said he will just sit back and see what action the government takes to collect the penalty for wheat he grew in excess of his acreage allotment.

The Huron County farmer, like Yankus, grew wheat for the sole purpose of feeding his livestock.

"If the government wants to sue me, there is nothing I can do," Booms said. But he doesn't think the government would be justified in seizing any of his property to cover the penalty.

DIDN'T SIGN

Booms didn't sign the wheat agreement because "it is wrong."

He said he could have grown less wheat and used the extra land to grow cash crops, marketing them to buy feed for his livestock.

"But then it (the government) would be telling us farmers what we should grow on our own farms," Booms said.

Webster Cook, Assistant U. S. Attorney for Eastern Michigan, said Booms planted 21.5 acres of wheat in excess of his 1958 acreage allotment.

Cook said the overplanting resulted in a "farm marketing excess" of 645 bushels. The penalty rate is $1.09 a bushel for excess wheat.

Booms was given 30 days in which to pay the penalty. After that time, court action will be started and Booms faces the possibility of additional penalties for court costs.

'HM-M-M, LOOK AT THAT!' — Intense interest is shown by these visitors to the "Industry Day" exhibition in Rochester last night. They are looking at the Detroit Edison Co.'s model of the new Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant now under construction near Monroe. The displays were set up in the gymnasium of Rochester Community High School.

Hundreds Brave Rain to See Show

By LEE WINBORN

ROCHESTER — Last night's downpour of rain failed to dampen the enthusiasm of crowds that came to view "Industry Day" exhibits in the gymnasium of Rochester Community High School.

Termed a "highly successful venture" by participants, the show drew close to 2,000 visitors, including over 700 area residents in the evening and some 1,200 school children who came by bus to see the displays during the afternoon.

The industrial exhibition, first of its kind in the Rochester area, was a feature attraction of the community's "Michigan Week" celebration. Some 25 large and small companies located in and near the village had set up displays showing products they manufacture.

ENTHUSIASTIC, PROUD

On hand at the door to welcome visitors were Rochester Village officials and members of the Avon and Oakland Township Boards. All said they were enthusiastic about the "Industry Day" exhibits and were "proud" of the caliber and variety of manufacturing in their areas.

One of the largest plants, National Twist Drill and Tool Co., had an attractive lighted display board featuring a large variety of rotary cutting tools especially chrome plated for display purposes.

Dytronics, Inc., one of Rochester's newest industries, showed samples of printed circuits manufactured for the electric and electronics industries.

Another display that stirred considerable interest was set up by Detroit Broach Co. It featured "Big Boy," one of the world's largest industrial broaches together with the smallest.

Also drawing crowds of interested spectators was Detroit Edison Co.'s lighted model of the Enrico Fermi Atomic Power Plant now under construction near Monroe.

Rochester Paper Co. had a colorful display of multi-colored blotting paper in addition to photomount board filter paper—including a small filter press—and packaging materials.

DISPLAYS VACCINES

Parke, Davis & Co., the biggest firm in the area, had a display of vaccines including those for polio, diptheria, tetanus and smallpox.

Avon Tube Co. showed tubular assemblies for cars such as fuel lines, vacuum tubes and engine push rods.

Some of the comments overheard at the exhibition were "I had no idea Rochester had all this industry" and "You know you just don't realize what plants we have in the area until you see them on display in one place like this."

Chairman of the "Industry Day" exhibition was R. Elliott Jose. He was assisted by Michigan Week Chairman John Boeberitz.

Of interest to visitors to the Fair were the paintings done by Rochester High School students which were hung in the hallway leading to the gymnasium. All depicted some familiar scene in the local "Michigan Week" celebration.

Other exhibitors included Allen Cooler and Ventilator, Inc., Avon Broach & Production Co., Avon Industries, Forest Products, Inc., Lynd Gear and Tool Co., Lyon Gear and Machine, Material Industries, Inc., and Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

FURNISHES ORGAN

Still more were Nu-Era Corp., Ray Industries, Oakland Foundry and Machine Co., Rochester Die and Tool Co., Rochester Gear Inc. and Rochester Machine Specialties Co.

Rochester Manufacturing Co. also had a display set up in one of the cloth-draped booths as did Square Tool & Engineering, Inc., Visner Tool and Engineering, Inc., Winter Brothers Co. and Ring Screw Works.

Morris Music Co., Pontiac, furnished the organ played during the evening by Mrs. Walter De Baene and Edward Smith.

Clinton Scouts Meet Tonight

Annual Council Session at Utica to Feature Speaker, Awards

William H. Coy of Pontiac will be featured speaker at tonight's annual dinner meeting of the Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council at the Methodist Church Community Hall in Utica.

Coy is president of Coy & Associates, national public relations and advertising agency with headquarters in Detroit. His topic is "Tell Your Story."

Council President John W. Hunt of Farmington will preside at the annual event for Scout leaders and their wives. Program highlights include election of officers and presentation of the Silver Beaver awards. The Silver Beaver is the highest local award for "distinguished service to boyhood."

About 300 persons from northern Oakland and Macomb counties are expected.

Gardens Club Picks Officers at Clarkston

CLARKSTON — The Friendly Gardens Extension Club met Tuesday in the Clarkston Community Center to elect officers for the 1959-60 season.

The new officers will be installed at the next regular meeting, June 13.

Among those elected were Mrs. D. C. Inman, chairman general; Mrs. Donald Paulson, vice chairman; and Mrs. Richard Sevetkoff, secretary-treasurer.

The club voted to present the Brandon Elementary School's Special Education Classroom with a $35 check from the proceeds of their April Bake Sale. The special classroom is one of the club's community projects.

After the business meeting Mrs. Paulson talked on "Good Sense Dieting." A luncheon was served by Mrs. Wesley Cinader, Mrs. N. Laswell and Mrs. Douglas Medland, hostesses for the evening.

Union Lake Plans Firemen's Ball

UNION LAKE — A Firemen's Ball will be sponsored tomorrow, starting at 9:30 p.m. in the Oxbow Pavillion by the Union Lake Volunteer Fire Department.

Music will be provided by the Cass-Milton Orchestra. The public is invited.

Irvin H. Maynard has been re-elected chief of the volunteer fire department for his fifth straight year, and John Howard has been re-elected assistant chief.

Others chosen were Barney Larsen, captain; Harold Taylor, lieutenant; Jack Switzer, president; and Jim Sanders, vice president.

Glengary Elementary PTA Installs Officers

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—New officers have been installed for the Glengary Elementary School PTA. They are:

Mrs. Joe Deimling, president; Mrs. Richard King, mother vice president; Gerald Overholt, father vice president; and Iva B. Lowrance, teacher vice president.

Late Coeds Aid Orphan

MIDDLEBURY, Vt. (UPI) — Hundreds of Middlebury College coeds were fined two cents for each minute they stayed out after the Saturday night curfew. The fines totaled enough to support a Korean War orphan adopted by the Women's Undergraduate Assn.

School Election Slated in July for Brandon

ORTONVILLE — The annual election of the Brandon School District is scheduled for Monday, July 13. Two board members will be elected, each for a three-year term.

Terms of Mrs. Bernice M. Ware, secretary, and Joseph Jencks, trustee, expire this year. Jencks was appointed during the past year to fill the unexpired term vacated by James Slattery's resignation.

Other Board members whose terms continue are president, Leary Wood; treasurer, Leslie L. Wright; and trustee, Harold Webb.

Nominating petitions for candidates must be filed with the secretary, Mrs. Ware, who lives at 102 Church St. by 4 p.m. on June 13.

Petitions must carry the signatures of not less than 50 qualified electors in the school district.

No one may validly sign more petitions than there are positions to be filled, and in this case there are two, Mrs. Ware said. Petitions may be picked up at the superintendent's office, 185 Cedar St.

Any school elector in the district, whose name appears on the assessment roll and who is the owner in his own right of the property so assessed, shall be eligible for election.

Where a husband and wife own property jointly, regardless of the name which appears on the assessment roll, each shall be eligible for election to office.

Cooley School Plans Kindergarten Roundup

A kindergarten round-up for the Thomas M. Cooley School in Waterford Township will be held tomorrow from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m. and 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting, according to Ruth Ermel, principal, is to provide an opportunity for parents of children who will start kindergarten in September to enroll their offspring.

Birth certificates must be presented to establish that the child will be five years old on or before Dec. 1, 1959.

Waterford Dem Women to Show 2 Cancer Films

The Waterford Township Democratic Women's Club will sponsor the showing of two cancer films Tuesday.

"Time and Two Women," about the detection of Uterine cancer, and "Breast Self-Examination" will be presented at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Community Activities Building, 4597 W. Walton Blvd.

A local doctor will be present for a question-and-answer period, according to Mrs. James Seeterlin, chairman.

NEWEST INDUSTRY — Rochester's newest industry, Dytronics Inc., which manufactures printed circuits for electronics, had an exhibit in yesterday's "Industry Day" fair in Rochester. Company President A. R. Hughes describes his product to a group in the high school gymnasium.

New School Is Named for Walled Lake Leader

WALLED LAKE — The junior high school presently under construction here has been officially named Clifford H. Smart Junior High School in honor of the superintendent of schools.

Since Smart came to Walled Lake 14 years ago, the district has built six new elementary schools, put an addition on another, and constructed a senior high school in addition to the new junior high.

PTA groups in the district instituted petitions to name the school in Smart's honor.

Bids to install fire doors in the junior high building have been awarded to McHugh Construction Co. of Detroit. Total cost will be $4,841.

SEEK SUGGESTIONS

PTA's in the Walled Lake School District have been asked to offer suggestions for renaming Walled Lake Junior High School, Smart reported.

He said the Board of Education has already hired all but five of the new teachers needed for next fall.

TO RENT TEXTS

Pupils in the junior high schools for the first time will be able to rent text books beginning next fall, according to a plan worked out by Assistant Superintendent of Schools John Williams.

To date, pupils from the seventh grade on have had to purchase their own books for the courses.

CONDUCT SCHOOL CENSUS

A school census presently is being taken under the direction of Donald Milligan, attendance officer. It is to be completed by May 30.

Will Pick 'Miss Romeo' to Vie for Peach Queen

ROMEO — Directors of the Romeo Peach Festival Assn. have set June 4 as the date for the annual "Miss Romeo" contest to be held at 8 p.m. in the Romeo Community Youth and Civic Center.

MUST BE RESIDENT

To be eligible to enter the competition, a girl must be single, between 17 and 21 years of age and a resident of the Romeo Community School District.

Mrs. Omer Walters is contest chairman, assisted by Mrs. George E. McKeough.

Candidates will be judged on beauty, personality, poise, personal appearance and ability to speak before an audience. A panel of out-of-town judges will pick the winner and two maids of honor.

The trio will ride on the Peach Festival publicity float in parades in nearby towns during the summer, and will represent the village at many public functions prior to the Peach Festival celebration over Labor Day weekend.

"Miss Romeo" will be the village's candidate for the Peach Queen crown in the contest to be held early in August.

She will be competing with titleholders from 10 neighboring towns.

FESTIVAL IN SEPTEMBER

The Queen will reign over the 27th annual Peach Festival celebration Sept. 5, 6 and 7 in Romeo.

Honeyed Petition Draws Stinging Rejoinder

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—As a child I never admired bees, having innocently sat or stepped on a considerable number and found them vengeful.

This antipathy later spread to include people who call other people "honey," an unimaginative term with neither the sincerity of "darling," the rustic charm of "dearie," nor the earthiness of "doll."

I have staunchly closed my wallet to the prospect of becoming beautiful if it involves wearing royal bee jelly at five dollar a drone's drop, and I still would as soon hear a hiss near my feet as a buzz.

So now, a Vermont doctor says that the honey, produced by the local garden variety of stingers, is the (and he means THE) great American mendicant for almost every ill.

Honey, it seems, is the ideal remedy for: sleeplessness, coughs, muscle cramps, burns, fatigue recovery in athletes, stuffy nose, shortage of breath, sinus, hay fever, arthritis and bed-wetting.

It also is good for hangovers and sick cattle.

Dr. D. C. Jarvis is a 78-year-old doctor who looks like a man in his 50s, presumably in great measure because of honey. Apparently native Vermonters have great respect for the nutritional wisdom of the bees, based on the fact that they have "no new-fangled ways" . . . just keep buzzing to flowers which they recognize with "infallible instinct" are up to their honey-making standards.

In the pollen of the flowers, says Doc Jarvis (in a book called "Folk Medicine"), is a supply of minerals and vitamins unmatched in any other sweet. Honey also has been predigested by the bee, which saves the humna gastrointestinal tract a deal of effort.

Doc says that although honey is extremely useful when applied externally, as on burns and surface wounds (such as bee stings), its chief modern usage is as an inexpensive sedative.

He regards it as "the best remedy of all for producing sleep."

His prescription: "If you take one tablespoonful of honey at the evening meal each day, you will soon discover that you are beginning actually to look forward to bedtime, and it may even become difficult to banish a feeling of drowsiness when, for social reasons, you may be up later than usual.

"You probably will fall asleep very soon after your head touches the pillow."

However, if sleep does not come easily, mix three teaspoons full of apple cider vinegar with a cup of honey and put it on the night table.

"Take two teaspoonfuls while preparing for bed.

"If you don't fall asleep within an hour, take two more.

"You can continue doing this at intervals of an hour for as long as necessary . . . "

You will fall asleep. From sheer boredom, if nothing else.

For hay fever, sinus or any nasal catarrah, the doctor says, take two teaspoons at each meal. And if you are not too sleepy—also chew frequently on chunks of the honeycomb wax. It should dry up the nose, sweeten the sore throat, whiten the eyes. Fifty years of practice have proved that it usually works.

All right, Doctor Jarvis. You've proven the worth of the honeycomb, a veritable house of health. But I shall continue to avoid any dealings with the architects.

Have a Black Eye? Why Not Try a Leech?

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pharmacist M. L. Cooper is stocking leeches on his shelves these days. The public demands it, he says.

The retail price is $1.50 per worm. Most of his sales are to people with shiners, who contend one leech usually will drain the coagulant from one black eye.

Spend Your Rubles, Comrade Writers

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Writers Union is loaded with money, and authorities want to know why it isn't being spent.

The official auditing commission told writers now in session here that one of the union's main troubles was its failure to persuade writers to go out and gather material.

The auditors said that over the past four years the union has made a profit of 119 million rubles—nearly 30 million dollars at the official ruble rate—from the activities of its two publishing houses—Soviet Writer and Literary Gazette.

Observers said the trouble might result from some writers' unwillingness to leave the comforts of Moscow.

Premiere There End of June

Movie Excitement Lingers for Marquette Residents

MARQUETTE (UPI) — Nearly eight weeks of movie-making have ended for residents of Marquette County but the excitement isn't over yet.

"Anatomy of a Murder" will be screened in Ishpeming and Marquette on June 29, three days in advance of the world premiere in Detroit, New York and Chicago.

Members of the cast and production crew of Otto Preminger's Carlyle Productions Inc., have left the county with filming of the movie completed one day ahead of schedule.

The Cinderella atmosphere erected here on March 22 with the arrival of James Stewart, Lee Remick, Eve Arden, Ben Gazzara and Kathryn Grant scarcely dimmed during eight weeks of movie-making, but with the last contingent headed for Hollywood the setting is gone.

Preminger is producing the film for Columbia Pictures for release on a "crash program" calculated to take advantage of the publicity given "Anatomy."

The proceeds from the first showing in Ishpeming and Marquette will go to the Bay Cliff Health Camp at Big Bay. Big Bay is the scene of the 1952 murder on which Michigan Supreme Court Justice John Voelker based the book, written under the pseudonym of Robert Traver.

When Preminger and the company left Marquette County the movie was completely finished except for the score which will be recorded by Duke Ellington in Hollywood sound studios.
be recorded by Duke Ellington

Movie experts believe it is the first time a major movie has been completely filmed on location. They said it is also the first time a movie company has moved its complete operation to the filming location.

During his stay here, Preminger's complete business staff was set up in local offices. Rushes, or sequences of each day's filming, were flown to Hollywood for final processing and then returned to Marquette County for viewing by the producer-director and stars.

More than 300 Marquette County "extras" were hired for the multimillion dollar movie.

Stewart, who started in the picture, was required to work every day the picture was filmed, considered unique among Hollywood productions. Usually an actor has a couple of days in which he doesn't have to appear before the cameras.

State Invited to Fight Again Over Bull Run

LANSING (UPI)—State officials are considering an invitation to send blue-clad troops to Virginia in 1961 to refight the Civil War.

Lewis Beeson, executive secretary of the Michigan Historical Commission, said a decision will be made sometime this month on a bid from Virginia Gov. J. Lindsay Almond to take part in a re-enactment of the first battle of Manassas (Bull Run) during the Civil War centennial.

Beeson said Michigan should be represented because four regiments of state troops took part in the original battle.

The Virginia governor said the July 21 re-enactment would mark the start of a four-year Civil War centennial.

"In general, the Civil War Centennial Commission considers only activities within the state, but at a big battle like this one we should be represented," Beeson said.

He said Michigan Gov. G. Mennen Williams referred Almond's request to the Centennial Commission for a decision.

CHEVY'S BIGGER BRAKES
(BUILT FOR UP TO TWO-THIRDS LONGER LINING LIFE)
Chevrolet's new brakes are the biggest in their field—bigger, in fact, than those of many heavier, higher priced cars. And Chevy's bonded linings do away with drum-scoring rivets.

CHEVY'S FULL COIL RIDE
(NO OTHER LEADING LOW-PRICED CAR HAS A RIDE LIKE THIS)
A few minutes behind the wheel will show you why Chevrolet engineers have put leaf springs out to pasture. No other car near the price has come up with a ride that coddles you like this one.

CHEVY'S FRESH STYLING
(THE ONLY UNMISTAKABLY MODERN LINES IN ITS FIELD)
You don't have to look twice at Chevy's clean-swept silhouette to know it's a new car. And, besides the satisfaction it brings, Chevy's style will mean a higher allowance at trade-in time.

CHEVY'S BIGGER SAVINGS
(MORE MILES TO THE GALLON THAN ANY OTHER FULL-SIZE CAR)
A pair of Chevrolet 6's proved this emphatically—coming in first and second in their class in this year's Mobilgas Economy Run. And the winning mileage was a whopping 22.38 m.p.g.

CHEVY'S HIGHER TRADE-IN VALUE
(BY NATIONAL AUTOMOBILE DEALERS ASSOCIATION FIGURES)
The N.A.D.A. Official Used Car Guide Book shows that Chevy consistently brings a higher trade-in allowance than any other low-priced car. Last year Chevrolets averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."

CHEVY'S ADVANCED-DESIGN ENGINES
(AND YOU GET THE WIDEST CHOICE IN THE INDUSTRY!)
Chevy's the only car in its field that gives you oil-hushed hydraulic valve lifters on all standard engines for smoother, quieter performance. It's the only American car at any price with a high-performance V8 that packs more than one horsepower into every cubic inch of displacement. And you get nine engines in all to choose from . . . every one of them with the convenience of automatic choke.

CHEVROLET

Testing Poisons Against Cancer

DENVER (UPI)—Several hospitals across the country are testing a new medical technique for killing isolated cancers with poison.

The technique was described by Dr. J. J. Griffitts, Miani blood specialist, during a recent postgraduate course at the University of Colorado School of Medicine.

Griffitts described the method this way: If a cancer or tumor is located in a patient's arm or leg or an organ, and hasn't spread into the system, his blood can be routed around the cancer, which is then treated with a profusion of poisons which may kill the growth.

Griffitts said the potential of the cancer treatment technique is "great," on the basis of initial tests.

The Michigan Water Resources Commission estimates it takes half a pint of water to make a sheet of typing paper. Michigan, it adds, has plenty of water in its 11,037 inland lakes and 36,350 miles of streams. And Michigan borders four of the five Great Lakes.

Confidence Soars at Home, Abroad

Upswing Amazes Experts

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The snapback in American industry and trade has stumped some of the experts. It has put a new face on the U.S. economy in the eyes of the world. It has built up confidence at home—all the way from the optimistic stock trader on Wall Street to the free spending consumer on Main Street.

And now the upswing is generating some effects by itself. They promise to pull general business still higher—with the chief obstacle to this at the moment, the threat of a steel strike.

The growth of the economy was greater in the earlier months of the year than first anticipated. It wiped out almost all of the recession spots.

Some remain in certain regions and in scattered industries—notably in the capital goods industries that supply equipment, plant and tools to other producers. And unemployment, although falling, is still higher than before the recession.

But business is continuing its climb into new high ground and confidence is mounting.

MAJOR EFFECTS

Abroad the quick snapback from recession in the United States has had three effects:

1. It has allevated any fears others felt of being dragged down by the American slump—and has boosted some of their exports to us, such as autos.

2. It has given the nations that supply raw materials to the world fresh hope of soon restoring their old export figures —and perhaps regaining their ability to buy our exports.

3. It once again has confounded the fondest hopes of the Communists — that U.S. capitalism was about to come a cropper and tumble into a crippling depression from which only the Reds could profit.

At home the official figures on the economy tell this story: Total output of goods and services in the first three months of the year were at an annual rate of 467 billion dollars, up 14 billion from the final quarter of 1958. Consumers were spending at a record annual rate of 300½ billion dollars. Business inventories rose at an annual rate of 5¾ billion dollars.

Since then, rising employment and industrial output tell of further gains.

Some Wall Street bulls see these figures as putting them in the I-told-you-so class. They argue that for the third time since the war the economy has quickly shrugged off a recession and seems set to repeat the two previous experiences of climbing to new records—boosted perhaps by another round of price inflation. This justifies, in bullish eyes, their bidding up of stock prices.

Confidence works wonders in loosening consumer purse strings, too. This may have further impact on installment sales of big ticket goods. It may increase spending by vacationists about to take to the highways, airways, rails or sea lanes.

If the new statistics boost business confidence it could have two results, each with built-in growth factors:

1. Further building of inventories in anticipation of increasing business activity. And stock building increases primary and secondary output.

2. Revival of plant expansion to take advantage of increasing sales.

Ike and Queen to Ride Yacht

Details Made Public of Program Planned for Seaway Opening

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Queen Elizabeth will take a five-hour cruise aboard the royal yacht Brittania in formally opening the St. Lawrence Seaway June 26.

The White House announced this in making public details of the ceremony.

The President will be accompanied by Mrs. Eisenhower on the visit. They are scheduled to arrive in the Presidential plane about 10 a.m. EDT June 26 at the Royal Canadian Air Force station at St. Hubert, just south of Montreal.

Eisenhower will receive a 21-gun salute and be welcomed by the Queen, her husband, Prince Philip, and Canadian Prime Minister and Mrs. John Diefenbaker.

From the airport the party will go by automobile to the nearby Lambert Lock of the seaway.

There the President and the Queen will speak briefly and each will receive a book commemorating the formal seaway opening.

After that ceremony, the Eisenhowers, the Queen and her husband and the Diefenbakers will go aboard the yacht Brittania for a cruise through the seaway to the Lower Beauharnais Locks. United States, British and Canadian ships will escort the yacht.

At Lake St. Louis, 16 full dress ships of the three nations will be reviewed by the party as the yacht passes by.

The Eisenhowers and the Diefenbakers will leave the yacht at the lower locks and return to the airport at Montreal by automobile. The President's plane is scheduled to take off for Washington at 6:30 p.m.

The 1960 U.S. Census is expected to show Michigan has a population of more than 8 million, an increase of about 1,650,000 over the 6,372,009 counted in the 1950 census.

Natural gas is available to three out of four of Michigan's 8 million residents. Seven utility companies distribute natural gas to more than 500 Michigan cities, villages and townships.

Bridge Designer Poetic About State

Dr. David B. Steinman, famed designer and chief engineer of the $100 million Mackinac Bridge, writes poetry and music as a hobby.

Although not a resident of Michigan, Dr. Steinman has been a frequent visitor during the last 10 years and is generally considered the state's No. 1 Honorary Citizen.

Dr. Steinman wrote "Michigan The Beautiful" recently for 1959 Michigan Week.

By D. B. STEINMAN

Michigan the Beautiful!
Paradise the red man knew,
Where the deer still range the greenwood
And the lakes reflect the blue.

Michigan the Beautiful!
Where the smoke of campfires curled,
Now a thousand wheels are humming
Day and night to serve the world.

Michigan the Beautiful!
Haven of the heart's desire;
Smiling farms and gleaming cities
Keep alight our Freedom's fire.

Michigan the Beautiful!
Land of forest, lake and stream,
Builders of the Western Dream.

Shoot It Out With Timing Device

Modern Gunmen Form Clubs

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—A new breed of gunslinger is stalking the West . . . and the East, the North and the South.

They are practitioners of "quick-draw," the art of extricating a pistol from its holster, cocking and firing it in one lightning move Just like on television.

Inspired by TV's triggermen, "fast guns," as they sometimes call themselves, have banded together in an estimated 600 quick-draw clubs throughout the U. S.

"Basically, you have to be an extrovert, a show-off," said quick-draw club president Jerry Navratil, who from his black moustache to his black polished boots is a dead-ringer for his favorite TV character, "Paladin" (Richard Boone).

This resemblance is not all coincidence. The 43-year-old San Franciscan admits that "many amateur gunslingers, including myself, enjoy the public exhibition side of the sport because they aspire to the movies."

"I'd be happy with even a bit part," the rugged six-footer said wistfully.

RELAXING HOBBY

Navratil, an avid reader of Western fiction and history since his youth, describes quick-draw as a "hobby . . . a way to relax . . . although you might call it a noisy way."

"A lot of my friends can't accept a hobby as exotic as gunslinging," he added, "yet they go out every Sunday and sock away at a little white golfball."

In pursuit of their special brand of relaxation, Navratil and 19 fellow members of the Gun Hawks, the club he founded, practice each Sunday on a rented section of a public rifle range.

They're not the only ones. The National Rifle Association magazine, "The American Rifleman," recently reported that "the quick-draw craze is sweeping America."

But the magazine added that the craze has been accompanied by a "mounting number of foolish and needless gun accidents" — numerous self-inflicted leg wounds and at least six killed in the U. S. during the past year by friends practicing quick-draws.

CLUBS ARE SAFE

But Navatil insists clubs like his are not to blame. "It is the loner or the novice who causes most of these accidents," he said. "The clubs do not tolerate any unsafe measures and they instruct the uninitiated in the safe use of a revolver."

Unlike TV stars, the Gun Hawks do not draw against each other. Their only "adversary" is an electric timing device which measures speed in 1/100 of a second. The target is a cardboard silhouette of a man.

Navratil can draw, fire and hit the target in 32/100ths of a second, including the time it takes him to react to a gong set off by the timing device. Eliminating the "reaction time," he can do it in 17/100ths of a second—faster than a person can clap his hands from two feet apart.

Like Navratil, most Gun Hawks use large (.38 or .45 caliber), single-action (one-shot) revolvers. His favorite is a .45 Colt.

The culmination of the Gun Hawks' weekly practice comes at "shoot-outs," competitive matches held with two other Bay area quick-draw clubs or with gunslingers from other parts of the state.

Navratil also gives one-man exhibitions for churches and civic groups but claims his best audience is made up of his three sons, Mark, 12, Craig, 11, and Dana, 7, all of whom practice quick-draw with cap pistols.

"Children are surprisingly fast because they have no mental blocks. With an adult, the slightest thing, a thought, a bad day at the office can slow down reaction time," Navratil said.

But he added quickly that "my boys haven't beaten me yet."

Soviet Red Cross Helps

CASABLANCA, Morocco (AP)—The Soviet Red Cross today delivered 1,000 tons of food for refugees from the Algerian war.

Elizabeth Won't Talk With Space 'Expert'

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth has rejected a suggestion she grant an audience to self-styled flying saucer expert George Adamski.

The 68-year-old American from Los Angeles, who claims he talks with folks on Venus, was received by Dutch Queen Juliana Monday.

He told a news conference later that people "high in British society" were trying to arrange for him to meet Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip, her husband.

Buckingham Palace, which usually doesn't bother to comment on such things, announced today: "The royal family has decided it cannot entertain Mr. Adamski or his ideas in any way."

Say Invaders Sighted Secret Brook Flows On

GUATEMALA (AP)—The Guatemalan government accused Cuban Communists Wednesday night of being on the way to invade Guatemalan territory. A communique said four armed schooners from Cuba had been spotted off British Honduras.

GOP Whirlwind From Oregon Shocks Michigan Republicans

LANSING (AP) — Mark O. Hatfield, Oregon's handsome "boy governor," heads westward today with both Republicans and Democrats gaping in his wake.

On a one-day visit to Michigan's capital city, the 36-year-old GOP governor:

1. Startled Republicans and delighted Democrats with an outright endorsement of a state income tax and legislative reapportionment.

2. Fired up nearly 300 Republicans at a fund-raising dinner with his formula for GOP victory in a Democratic-dominated state.

Democrats want an income tax to meet the state's revenue needs. Republicans are fighting for a sales tax increase.

Oregon has no sales tax, but its 30-year-old income tax is one of the nation's highest.

"Anything the proponents of a sales tax say you can do, you can do with a properly established income tax," Hatfield said at a news conference. A sales tax, he said, is regressive.

Learning of Michigan's tax war, however, he added quickly:

"Please bear in mind that I speak only of Oregon."

Later, addressing a joint session of the Legislature, Hatfield spoke glowingly of legislative reapportionment in Oregon.

"Now," he said, "our districts are represented not by jackrabbits and sagebrush but by people."

Democrats applauded loudly. They have long complained that legislative apportionment has left the populous Detroit metropolitan area, a Democratic stronghold, without fair representation.

Republican House leaders hustled Hatfield into the Speaker's office after the talk to brief him on some of the touchy subjects in Michigan politics.

"He talks too much like a Democrat," said Sen Perry W. Greene (R-Grand Rapids).

"Somebody should brief these guys before they come to Michigan," said Rep. Russell H. Strange (R-Clare).

"I wish we had the Democratic legislators from Oregon here in Michigan," said Sen. Carlton H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo) driving force behind the GOP sales tax drive. Oregon's Democratic senators passed a sales tax bill this year but it died in the House.

Some 300 Republicans paid $110 a couple at the fund raising dinner which grossed nearly $18,000 for party coffers.

Hatfield, an upset winner last November in the face of a near Democratic sweep, said these factors helped him win:

1. A "healthy, competitive" GOP primary which drew candidates from both conservative, moderate and liberal wings of the party.

2. Less emphasis on platform speeches and more on face-to-face meetings with voters.

3. A broad base of campaign contributions from all walks of the party, with a $1,000 limitation.

4. A positive platform rather than concentrated attack on Democratic policies.

Hatfield, who allied himself with the liberal element, won by about 60,000 votes despite a majority of 56,000 Democratic registrations.

Facing a Democratic-dominated Legislature, he lost his bid for a "net receipts" tax which would have broadened the base of Oregon's one to nine per cent graduated income tax.

Present exemptions, he said, excuse about 50 per cent of the state's residents from any income tax.

Instead, he said, the Oregon Legislature went for a number of "one shot" propositions, including a liquor tax increase and abolition of installment income tax payments.

Nevertheless, the state will wind up about 60 million dollars in the red by the middle of 1961, he said.

Asked for comment on Michigan's tax muddle, Hatfield shot back:

Newsman Refuses Government Work

TOKYO (AP)—The Japan Congress of Journalists protested today because a government agency asked a Japanese newsman to gather military and economic information on a trip to Communist China.

The newsman, Kyodo news service reporter Maso Mukai, said on his employer's orders he refused the request from the Cabinet Research Bureau, and also declined to answer similar questions put to him by officials of the bureau on his return from Peiping last April.

The journalist group protested that such requests create distrust of Japanese correspondents and hurt friendly relations between Japan and China.

The Great Lakes, now opened to Ocean-going traffic via the new St. Lawrence Seaway, cover 95,000 square miles. The area is equal to the combined spread of Belgium, The Nethrelands, and Luxembourg — plus four Denmarks.

Carrier and Tanker Collide in Refueling

HONOLULU (AP)—The aircraft carrier Lexington collided with a tanker during fleet refueling exercises Wednesday, but damage was minor and no one was injured.

The Navy said the accident between the carrier and the fleet oiler Kawishiwi occurred 60 miles south of Honolulu off Oahu.

Britain Grants Asylum to Czech Diplomat

LONDON (AP) — Britain today granted political asylum to a Czech diplomat who fled his post in Iran, reportedly with valuable information about Red spy networks in the Middle East.

The Home Office announced that Dr. Jan Maier, former second secretary in Czechoslovakia's Tehran legation, has been given permission to stay in Britain indefinitely.

Maier, who is 50, arrived in London April 27 with his wife, and two sons, 10 and 8.

Fish Sails Through Air, Stabs Boy in the Back

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) —A 15-year-old boy was stabbed in the back by a catfish.

Sammy Lee Dyal was walking along a causeway Wednesday when a woman angler hooked a fish, reeled in and pulled it out of the water.

Turning Point at Hand?

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter will meet with the other Big Four foreign ministers tonight at a dinner which could prove a turning point in the negotiations over a summit conference agreement.

Some high diplomats attached great importance to the dinner, though it is billed as purely social.

British and French officials said the assembly of 12 top men of the Big Four conference at Herter's villa offered an opportunity to get away from the repetitive formal debate of the regular sessions and come to grips with basic problems.

They even spoke of a possible series of such social affairs as a means of swinging the conference into more private negotiations

U.S. officials, however, attempted to dampen growing interest in the dinner. They said there was no thought beforehand on Herter's part of trying to get any conference work done or to promote any secret diplomacy.

Officials of all three Western delegations conceded that it was literally impossible to predict ahead of time what would happen because Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko might create an opening or make a move which they cannot anticipate.

Gromyko is already beginning to prod the three Western ministers into letting them know what their terms are for agreement on a summit conference. Herter, Britain's Selwyn Lloyd and Maurice Couve de Murville of France are reported playing hard to get, chiefly because France and West Germany — meaning President Charles de Gaulle and Chancellor Konrad Adenauer—have insisted this is the best bargaining line to take.

The debate on contradictory Soviet and Western German peace plans is continuing but getting nowhere in the main conference sessions. The question all four big-power delegations are now worrying about is how and when to start secret negotiations.

Dr. Paul D. White, famous heart specialist, says that most heart patients have but one attack and then live for years.

Heavy Rains Swamp City in Florida

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — It rained and rained. The streets became rivers, overflowing into business buildings and homes.

Creeks and lakes spilled over their banks.

Traffic was tied in a gigantic knot as more and more cars stalled and more and more streets became impassable. Some autos were wholly covered by water.

This was the picture of metropolitan Jacksonville Wednesday. By the time the rains ceased at night, some 6 inches had fallen. Damage was estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Employes of the State Board of Health were evacuated by boats after Hogan Creek overflowed into the state agency's buildings.

School children were caught in classrooms and many had to stay long after dismissal time until they could be taken home.

Rainfall was heavy elsewhere in the state. Some 6 inches fell at Tavernier in the Keys. Tallahassee received more than three inches.

$50 Million Research Plan in House

Medical Bill on Way

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to establish a 50-million-dollar annual program of cooperative international medical research has been sent to the House by a 63-17 Senate vote.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen waged a futile floor fight against it Wednesday, basing his argument principally on its cost.

Hill said this bill would help mobilize the world's top medical brains.

Much of the money would be used for grants for research in laboratories in this country and abroad; the achievements would be for the benefit of the entire world.

2 Planes Collide, Both Pilots Saved

NEW YORK (AP)— Two Air Force planes collided and crashed into the Atlantic between Bermuda and the Azores today, the Coast Guard reported. They said the pilot of each plane was rescued.

The Coast Guard said the planes were out of Sumpter, S. C., and that the fliers were picked up by the Coast Guard Cutter Mendota.

Mailbox Fix-Up Time Observed in Pontiac

It's spring cleaning time and according to Robert J. Featherson, superintendent of delivery and collections at the Pontiac Post Office, it's also fixup mailbox time.

The annual National Mail Box Improvement Week is now being observed throughout the country and Pontiac postmen are checking the boxes to see that they are safely accessible and afford satisfactory protection to the mail.

This year, city as well as rural boxes are being examined. Notes will be left in the boxes to inform residents of the box conditions which need to be corrected to comply with postal regulations.

Last year, more than 1,000 Pontiac area mounted mail box owners repaired their receptacles in observance of the week, Featherston reports. Notes will also be left this year commending owners of boxes which are in good condition.

Duplex and apartments are "the biggest headache" to the post office as far as city mailboxes are concerned, according to Featherston. Many of them do not have names and numbers of residents on them, he explained.

Names of the mounted box owners should be printed on the side of the box, visible to the carrier as he approaches, or on the door if the boxes are grouped. The box number is helpful to the mailman and can be inscribed on the box.

Boxes and their supports should be kept painted unless they are made of the approved metal. City boxes should be on the porches with receptacles for magazines. Door slots are also permissible.

Rural mailboxes must be located on the right side of the road in the direction of travel of the carriers. The boxes must be located at the curb line and the bottom can not be less than four feet from the roadway.

When boxes are grouped at one point and/or are not directly in front of the residence, the names and addresses must be on the front of the boxes.

Reporter Gets China Passport

Vincent Sheean Plans to Open News Bureau in Peiping Shortly

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vincent Sheean, author and veteran free lance foreign correspondent, has been granted a U.S. passport valid for travel to Red China. He expects to set up a news bureau in Peiping, the Communist capital, for Westinghouse Broadcasting Co.

Sheean, in New Delhi, India, on the way to the new assignment, is reported to expect to start work in Peiping by late June or early July.

He joins 29 other American correspondents with valid passports who have been waiting for Red China visas, many of them as long as two years. Word of the issuance of Sheean's passport came from the State Department Tuesday night.

Sheean is an old China hand. One of his early successes as an author was "Personal Experience," based on a tour there.

The waiting list for entry into Communist China was set up in 1957 when former Secretary of State John Foster Dulles relaxed for newsmen the ban on travel there by Americans.

Prior to that the Communists had indicated strong interest in receiving U.S. correspondents. Actual admissions bogged down, however, over a Chinese demand for reciprocal admission of the same number of their own correspondents to this country. The State Department takes the stand that it cannot make a blanket commitment to receive unknown persons but will consider visa applications on an individual basis.

Michigan's Utilities Spend Big to Expand

DETROIT—Five of Michigan's largest utilities will spend a record $307.6 million during 1959 to expand their facilities.

Consumers Power Co., which provides power and natural gas to many outstate communities in 63 counties, has announced it will spend $117.8 million this year as part of a five-year $575 million expansion program.

Detroit Edison Co., which embarked on a $3 million five-year expansion program, has earmarked $68 million for expansion this year.

Michigan Bell Telephone Co. plans to spend $75 million during 1959 to keep pace with the growth of the state while General Telephone Co. of Michigan will spend $12.8 million to enlarge its facilities.

U.S. Roads Now Carry Record Total of Autos

WASHINGTON (UPI) — There were more passenger cars on America's streets and highways last year than ever before and the number is still going up.

The government reported that passenger car registrations totaled 56,870,684, an increase of 1.7 per cent over 1957.

Including trucks and buses, total motor vehicle registrations rose to 68,299,408 an increase of 1,168,337 for the year. The figures were reported by the Bureau of Public Roads.

Club Denies Room to Negro Minister

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Reports that a Negro minister was denied a room at a swank downtown club circulated today at the auditorium where the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. is holding its 171st annual general assembly.

A block of rooms had been reserved at the Columbia Club for the church delegates. When some of them arrived Dr. Jesse Barber of New York, a Negro, said he was told he could not stay there.

Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, stated clerk, the chief executive officer of the church, announced that in that case none of the delegates would stay at the club. Other quarters were found for them despite a scarcity of hotel rooms because of conventions.

The club manager, Robert Wilson, told newsmen he knew of no such incident. But John M. Smith, chairman of the local assembly arrangements committee, and Dr. Blake and Dr. Barber confirmed it.

The controversy has not been mentioned in the assembly and indications were that it would not be brought up officially.

Three Blasters, 17, Waive Examination

SAGINAW (AP) — Three Frankenmuth High School students charged with throwing dynamite into a migrant workers' settlement waived examination in Municipal Court yesterday.

All were bound over to Circuit Court under $2,000 bond each.

The trio—George Frank, Jim Keinath and Dave Johnson, all 17—are charged with committing a felony. The specific charge is possession of dynamite with unlawful intent. The penalty is two to five years in prison.

Authorities said the three admitted throwing the dynamite into the workers' camp to "scare" the group. No one was injured.

The three said they found the dynamite in a hollow tree where a farmer had cached it.

Tornado Alarm Interrupts Picnic Recalling Terror

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Residents of one block in suburban Ruskin Heights got together for a front-yard picnic Wednesday night, the second anniversary of a terrifying night.

Exactly two years ago a tornado smashed every house in that block. The storm killed 41 persons.

Sixty-eight residents of the rebuilt homes attended the picnic. They were looking at pictures of the storm damage and telling newcomers what it was like when a tornado warning siren sent the party scurrying to basements.

It was a false alarm this time. The thunderstorm was a mild one.

They resumed the picnic after the rain passed.

Search for Man in Colorado River

MOAB, Utah (AP)—A six-man crew walked the rocky banks of the Colorado River southwest of here today in the hunt for a missing boater.

They were looking for Frank A. Rich, 65, of Lakewood Village, Calif. Rich, his wife, son and daughter-in-law were thrown into rapids of Cataract Canyon Sunday when their pleasure boat capsized.

Rich was last seen clinging to the overturned 15-foot boat as it hurtled down the boiling rapids about 40 air miles southwest of here. The other members of his family were rescued. Wreckage of the boat was spotted in the canyon later.

Unit Probes Reasons for Hospital Stays

CHICAGO (UPI)—The National Opinion Research Center of the University of Chicago is trying to find out why people go to hospitals.

The Health Information Foundation, a research and educational organization set up by the drug, chemical and allied industries, has granted the center $200,000 for a 2½ year study of hospital admissions.

Chauncy D. Harris, dean of the university's division of social sciences, said a special study will be made of the part played by hospital insurance coverage in decisions to hospitalize or not to hospitalize.

Hospital admissions in the United States exceed 20 million annually, foundation officials said, and during the next few years there will be increasing demands for hospital facilities.

They said the study is being made because of the need to make the widest use of limited hospital facilities.

Pupils Breaking Rules of Road Won't Graduate

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP)—Police Chief William A. Ross said today high school seniors found guilty of traffic violations after their prom Friday night will lose their diplomas as well as their licenses.

Ross said he had arranged with Acting Principal Donald Evans to withhold the diplomas of graduates convicted of auto charges.

to help prevent serious accidents

He said the action was taken which have marred similar dances in this area recently.

Will Study Cowbird's Habits

State Bird Lovers to Camp Here

The cowbird's carefree domestic life will come under close scrutiny Memorial Day at the annual spring campout of the Michigan Audubon Society near Ortonville.

This common Michigan bird has held fascination for the year-old Pontiac Audubon Society, which will host 200 ornithologists, conservationists and naturalists at the campout on Lake Tamarack.

The cowbird has a habit of child desertion that leads to annoyance and sometimes tragedy within the bird kingdom, according to Dr. Daniel McGeen, Pontiac dentist who is co-chairman of the campout program.

Cowbirds never build their own nests, but the female lays its eggs in the nests of other birds, usually smaller ones.

"Then it flys off and never comes back," said Dr. McGeen.

The smaller birds (both male and female) are left with a problem. In order to hatch their own eggs, they must necessarily sit on the intruder egg, too, causing it to hatch. Domestic instinct tells them to go ahead and hatch the eggs.

But once hatched the young cowbird often turns out to be bigger, stronger and hungrier than the other budding fledglings. The littler ones often starve, sometimes are booted right out of the nest.

As for the male cowbird, his life is almost pure bachelorhood, according to Dr. McGeen.

The scandulous conduct of cowbirds is called parasitic by the ornithologists. That's why it holds special interest among Audubon enthusiasts, explained Dr. McGeen.

Speaking on the cowbird at the campout will be three nationally-known experts: Walter Nichol, naturalist at the Cranbrook Academy of Science; and Drs. Harry Hann and William Southern, ornithological experts at University of Michigan.

Other speakers at the campout will be Dr. Howard Young of the University of Wisconsin and Mrs. Margaret Nice, a Chicago housewife who pioneered in the study of the common song sparrow.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks & Recreation, the Pontiac bird-watchers have planned a series of field trips for campout guests. Leading specialists from all over the state have signed up to conduct the trips, said Alton Madden, co-chairman of the campout.

Besides birds, the campout will study bogs, flowers, rocks, reptiles and trees, he said.

Killer of Three Shot to Death

Woman, Two Officers Slain, Two Wounded by Louisiana Junk Man

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP)—A Negro junk man barricaded himself in his two-room frame house Wednesday and fought off officers for two hours before he was shot to death. Before that he killed a white woman and two policemen.

The victims of Albert Victor, about 40, were Mrs. Paul Ducharme and Capt. Harold Abadie and Sgt. Leroy King.

Two other policemen, Chief Carlo Listi and Asst. Chief Donlon Ritchey, were wounded. Listi's condition was described as serious.

Police were unable to figure out why Victor killed Mrs. Ducharme, 50, whose fully clothed body was found on a dressing table in her house. Victor lived just a few yards from the Ducharme home.

Abadie and King answered the complaint. Unaware that Mrs. Ducharme had been shot to death, they called on Victor to come out. He opened fire as they stood on his front porch. The two boys, James Rogers, 10, and William Langlinais, 9, rushed out and jumped into the police car.

Listi and Ritchey investigated when King and Abadie failed to report. Victor began shooting as they stepped from the car. Listi fell wounded. Ritchey radioed for help.

About 50 officers surrounded the house, but Victor, armed with a shotgun and .22 rifle, kept them from closing in on him with his accurate shotting.

Officers threw tear gas shells and hand grenades into the house. The house burst into flames, but officers said they didn't know whether Victor set it afire or whether the blaze was caused by tear gas.

Doctors Find Trumpet Tooting Not Harmful

LONDON (UPI)—It takes more wind to blow a trumpet than any other musical instrument, but aspiring trumpet players need not worry about this.

An Anglo-American team of researchers reported in The British Medical Journal that even to hit a shrieking high D, a trumpet player builds up less pressure then the average person does when he coughs.

Drs. M. Faulkner of the University of California and E. P. Sharpey-Schafer of London did suggest it is better to sit than stand when blowing a trumpet, since the player probably builds up more pressure that way. Their over-all conclusion:

"Apart from discomfort by way of occasional dizzy sensations or black-outs, trumpet players are not likely to come to any harm."

West Berliners' Morbid Wit Helps Break City's Tensions

WEST BERLIN (NEA)—Berliners are known as the Cockneys of Germany — a tough, self-reliant breed noted for their sharp wit.

"Our sense of humor is the only thing that has kept us from caving in during 13 years of Soviet cold war," a veteran of the 1948 blockade and other Russian skirmishes said.

In fact, Berlin has become a sort of secret weapon for use against the humorless Russians who occupy the Eastern sector of the city. But there are as many jokes about Adenauer as there are about Nikita Khrushchev. To the average Berliner, nothing is sacred.

The nude statue of a Greek marathon runner is known to everyone here as "The Last Taxpayer."

Americans may not be amused to learn that the Air Lift Memorial, dedicated to U.S. and Allied airmen who saved Berlin from starving during the 1948 Blockade, is known as the "Hungry Claw." (It resembles a hand curving into the sky.)

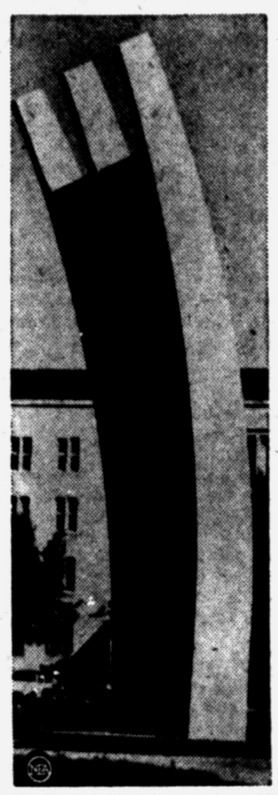
NO INGRATITUDE

But no ingratitude is intended, say Berliners. This is just the local way of letting off steam.

The same applies to "The Expectant Oyster," Berlin's name for its new, oddly-shaped Congress Hall, built with funds from the Benjamin Franklin Foundation.

West Berliners are grateful for American aid in rebuilding their city, but cannot resist having their little private jokes.

Berlin wit is to be found at its most acid in the music halls and political cabarets. The "Porcupine Club," for example, has a skit featuring a preacher and a scientist spotlit by a revolving Sputnik.



THE 'HUNGRY CLAW' — No ingratitude intended.

While the preacher reads extracts from the story of Noah and the Flood, the scientist recites the latest scare-statistics about radioactive fall-out.

The climax occurs when the preacher tells about the waters receding from the earth, for the scientist has only to add that the seas, contaminated by radioactivity, will make life impossible on this planet for a billion years.

Skits like this leave a bitter after-taste, but much of the humor here is morbid, due to Berlin's isolation from the rest of the world.

One gets a feeling of claustrophobia, of being slowly suffocated, in this city, hemmed in as it is by the borders of Soviet-occupied Eastern Germany.

West Berliners cannot visit their friends and relatives in East Germany without special passes. Nor can they even visit the cemeteries which encircle the city, and where most of their dead are buried. These cemeteries lie in the Soviet Zone.

Those West Berliners with cars drive bumper-to-tail to the Gruenewald on weekends, hoping to avoid their fellow men and to lose themselves in the fir forests.

Usually, they are accompanied by a dog. There are 87,962 licensed dogs in West Berlin, which works out to one dog for every 25 inhabitants.

But even in the Gruenewald and on the bathing beach at Wannsee, the Soviet frontier with its armed guards is never far away.

Algerian Rebel Claims Red Aid

Envoy Says Chinese Will Supply Arms in Fight Against French

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — An Algerian rebel spokesman has indicated the Chinese Communists are going to give his forces arms for their fight against the French.

Abdelkader Chanderli, New York representative of the Algerian rebel government in exile, said Wednesday that Red China had promised assistance to a rebel mission which visited Peiping.

"Help is to be given," he said. "Various means of help and so on are on the way to being implemented."

He declined to go into details, saying, "That is a military matter."

He said the French were using American weapons in fighting the Algerian nationalists but the State Department had prevented certain other countries equipped by the United States from sending the arms on to the rebels.

The State Department had said that U.S. arms supplied to countries could not be handed over to a third country without American permission.

Ex-Food Executive Dies on Paris Trip

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP —The death of Harold E. Mountain, 65, retired A & P Food Stores executive vacationing in Paris, France was reported today by his son, Harold E. Jr. of 32240 Arlington Dr.

Mr. Mountain, who resided in Detroit, died Tuesday.

He retired in October as secretary of the A & P chain in the Central-Western division.

Surviving besides the son, are the deceased's wife, Juanita, and another son, the Rev. William J. Mountain, S. J., of St. Louis, Mo.

Ford Wins Small Car Name Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Ford Motor Co. has won a race with Chrysler Corp. in naming its new small car the Falcon just 20 minutes before Chrysler tried to get it.

Neither company knew the other was interested in the name. Both had asked the Automobile Manufacturers Assn. to look into the availability of the name.

While Chrysler was making its final decision, Ford called in and registered the name.

STILL HEDGES

All three cars, to meet competition of imported and American economy cars, go on the market this fall.

Although some Ford officials have called the company 100 per cent committed to bringing out the compact car, Henry Ford II in his prepared address today at the annual stockholders' meeting in Detroit, still hedged with the words that "barring changes in the market or other circumstances, we plan to introduce such a car during the 1960 model year."

Industry guesses have placed an introductory date at about Oct. 16.

Ford Motor Co. had its best first quarter in history this year, earning 135 million dollars after taxes.

In his president's address, Ford commented that today's meeting came under much happier circumstances than a year ago when the 1958 recession was close to the bottom.

He estimated 1959 retail car sales will reach at least six million, including imports, and called it "a respectable year by any standard."

TRUCK OUTLOOK BRIGHT

He said truck prospects are especially bright, that the Ford Tractor and Implement Division appears headed for an outstanding year and that earnings from abroad have been an increasingly important source of revenue.

Almont Man Is Found Dead in His Basement

ALMONT — An 81-year-old Almont man was found hanged in the basement of his home by a friend yesterday, the Lapeer County Sheriff's Department reported today.

The victim, John Kotzian of 525 E. St. Clair St. was "in good spirits the night before but had complained of dizzy spells," according to friends.

Funeral service will be held at 2 p.m. tomorrow at Muir Brothers Funeral Home here with burial in Ferguson Cemetery.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Suits of Detroit, and two sons, Peter of Detroit and Frank of Roseville.

Mrs. Mandeville is chairman of the Red Cross Grey Ladies on Wednesdays, putting in an average 10 voluntary hours of service at the hospital every week, said Helen Harper, director of nursing service.

Warns State to Build Express Highways Fast

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan must overcome its locational disadvantage by building express-type highways at a faster rate than the neighboring states to its south, a development specialist says.

"This is imperative to the state's future industrial expansion, its port prosperity and to its tourist travel growth in the face of mounting competition," Frank W. Suggitt said yesterday.

Broken Arm Only Harm in Accident 188 Feet Up

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—A steelworker has only a fractured left arm to show for his harrowing 50-minute experience atop a 188-foot steel tower.

Robert Raley, 28, escaped possible death Wednesday when an elevator cable flung a four-pound shackle against him.

He staggered and fell to his hands and knees, clutching a board 12 inches wide and eight feet long on a tower at the new 14-story addition to the Fontainebleau Hotel on Collins Avenue.

Jim White, 21, a fellow worker, grabbed Raley around the waist and yelled for help.

Firemen rushed a hook and ladder to the scene but the ladder reached only 100 feet. A Coast Guard helicopter hovered overhead but the wind was blowing 30 miles an hour and rain was pelting down.

"We were afraid to try to take him off," said Lt. Cmdr. Tom Hynes. "The wind was terrific and we weren't certain the men would know what to do with a stretcher or basket."

O. C. Perry, a fellow worker, said Raley went into shock.

"He was cold and shaking all over," Perry said. "We held him."

A doctor sent up some pills to ease the pain.

Finally, firemen and fellow workers lashed Raley to the plank with a rope and slowly lowered him through the scaffolding while hundreds watched. An ambulance carried the injured man to Mount Sinai Hospital.

J. E. White, job foreman for the Postom Bridge and Iron Co., Inc., was unable to say exactly what caused the cable to fly loose.

Given 25 Years for Bank Holdup

'Flying Bandit' Sprenz Pleads Guilty in Ohio to $25,955 Robbery

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—A 25-year prison sentence stretches ahead for Frank L. Sprenz, 29-year-old "flying bank robber."

U.S. Dist. Court Judge John H. Druffel impose dthe 25-year term.

Then, in a surprise move, Sprenz signed waivers to allow transfer here from Vermont, Pennsylvania and Maryland of federal charges of automobile and airplane thefts. He will be arraigned on those charges later.

During the long flight since his escape from the Summit County jail in Akron 13 months ago, Sprenz has flitted from Toronto, through a score of states, and finally into Mexico where he was caught several weeks ago. He is known to have stolen at least three planes during that time.

Sprenz' divorced wife, Alberta Mae, 26, has described him as brilliant. Certainly he's been clever. He has posed, at various times, as a college student, professional football player, a garage mechanic. He often used a toupe to hide his receding hairline.

He first ran against the police when he threw rocks at another boy. He was 11 then. Later he was sent to a reformatory, but walked away from the institution's honor camp. He served two Army hitches, but even then, he couldn't stay away from trouble. He stole an automobile to drive to the recruiting station and he was continually in hot water for stealing or being AWOL.

Between 1952 and 1957, Sprenz drifted from one legitimate job to another but then apparently turned to full-time crime.

California Engineer Held in Hire-to-Murder Plot

SOUTH PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—An electronics engineer was arrested Wednesday night and accused of plotting a "kill now, pay later" conspiracy to eliminate a love rival.

Police said Arthur Herbert Reeser Smith, 50, of Pasadena, had turned over the second of two $250 payments and a promissory note for $1,500 to Charles Hitchcock Johnston, 41, also of Pasadena.

Smith was booked in the county jail on suspicion of soliciting another person to commit murder.

Johnston, who described himself as an ex-soldier of fortune, told police Smith hired him to kill another man he said was alienating a girl friend's affections.

Johnston said Smith suggested he use poison gas.

"But as a soldier of fortune used to killing," Johnston quoted Smith as saying, "you must have a favorite method of your own. I don't care how you do it, but get the job done."

C. A. Pantaleoni, investigator for the district attorney, told this story:

Smith approached Johnston May 4 and asked him about an ad Johnston published in a Pasadena newspaper, offering to undertake dangerous missions for money. He offered Johnston $2,000 to kill Joseph D. Reed, a former teacher at Santa Fe (N.M.) High School.

Smith said Reed had come between him and Elaine Wortihngton, 40, a teacher at the New Mexico school. Johnston notified South Pasadena police.

Detective Sgt. Donald Roberts said he met Smith May 13, told him he was working with Johnston and got the first $250 down payment. Wednesday night, he said, he got the second payment. He said the remainder was to be paid after Reed was killed.

Gaslights Linger in East

Tireless Baudouin Hobnobs With a Beautiful Nob Hill Society Heiress

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif. (AP)—Scarcely two hours after flying to San Francisco Wednesday, King Baudouin was dining with Dolly Fritz, a Nob Hill society beauty.

The quiet, seemingly tireless 28-year-old Belgian King sat across from the 23-year-old beauty in the red plush upstairs Ambrosia Room at Ernie's world-famed restaurant.

He showed no signs of fatigue from his strenuous Los Angeles visit, highlighted by a late-hour dancing date with movie star Debbie Reynolds and hours spent trudging around Disneyland and lunching with Walt Disney.

The unannounced date with Miss Fritz was arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Wilson. Wilson is a wealthy San Francisco businessman and a friend of State Department chief of protocol, Wiley Buchanan, who is traveling with the king. Mrs. Buchanan was the sixth member of the party.

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Baudouin, the 28-year-old bachelor King of the Belgians, has let his royal hair down on his current visit to the United States.

Seldom has a visiting monarch so charmed the people he met.

Aides said the slender King began to loosen up a bit in Texas ("I'm sorry I didn't get here when it was still the biggest state," he said.) Still his visit to the movie capital Tuesday started off stiff and formal.

But the royal aloofness cracked by the time he met Frank Sinatra and Gina Lollobrigida.

He and Miss Lollobrigida conversed in French and when a reporter asked him what he thought of the sexy Italian star, he made a noise with his teeth that could only be interpreted as a Belgian refinement of the wolf whistle.

At a luncheon, Baudouin's partner was actress Debbie Reynolds, who kept up a running conversation with him. She was later astonished to hear that he sometimes is called Baudouin the Silent by Belgians.

"I never met a more charming man," said Debbie. The King interrupted his split-second schedule to return with Debbie and Glenn Ford to the set where they were working.

A parade of 14 limousines plus a squadron of motorcycle officers preceded the royal limousine. On the trip over, he confided to Miss Reynolds and Ford: "I wish we could take off, just the three of us; we could have a lot of fun."

Later the same night, he attended a party at the home of a Hollywood director, where he danced until 1:40 a.m. with Miss Reynolds, Maria Cooper, daughter of Gary, and Cyd Charisse.

At Disneyland the following day, the King really had a ball. He rode in the engineer's cab of the Santa Fe and Disneyland Railroad that traverses a diorama of the Grand Canyon, and took the helm of the Mississippi River sternwheeler — and even sounded the steam whistle.

As he left Disneyland, he asked that all of the police and chauffeurs who had escorted him through southern California be lined up. Then he walked down the line thanking each one with a hearty handshake. He did the same with the press.

"I want to come back again," he said, "and spend more time."

Sewage Plant Is Showplace of Clearwater

It looks just like a yacht club. Actually, it's Clearwater's new sewage treatment plant, designed to be a showplace rather than an eyesore.

The plant, put into service recently, had to be located near a luxurious residential development. Its designers took all this into consideration and came up with a building which looks like anything except what it is.

Speedy Integration Requested in Texas

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Negro attorneys have asked federal courts to require immediate integration of schools in Dallas and Houston.

U.S. Dist. Judge Ben Connally set the Houston request on his docket for Monday. The Dallas request, filed here while Judge T. Whitfield Davidson was holding court in Fort Worth, must be sent to Davidson before he can set a hearing date.

Attorneys, including Chief Counsel Thurgood Marshall of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, asked that the Dallas School Board be ordered to comply with an April 16, 1958, integration order.

The Houston petition asked Connally to require integration on the basis of a two-year-old order calling for schools to be integrated "with all deliberate speed."

Douglases Visit Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Actor Melvyn Douglas and his wife, Helen Gahagan Douglas, arrived today to spend two weeks with their 20-year-old daughter Mary, who is working in a kibbutz (collective settlement) at Hagoshrim, close to the Syrian border.

Space Tube Model to Be Fired in July

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A model of the capsule that will carry the first American into space is scheduled to be fired aboard a powerful Atlas intercontinental range ballistic missile this July, informed sources said today.

Launching of the 1,900-pound instrumented capsule will be a major stride for Project Mercury, the nation's multimillion-dollar effort to put man in space.

Three of the Army's reliable medium-range Redstone missiles also are programed to shoot capsules starting in July, it was learned.

The plan for the first Atlas venture is to blast the capsule 1,800 miles over the Atlantic and then recover it from the depths for study.

In the future, animal passengers will be included on the capsule flights before man takes his first big step.

It's nice to see people with get-up and go — especially if some of them happen to be visiting you . . . When a girl dresses like a 12-year-old, talks like a 6-year-old, and tries to act like a 21-year-old — well, you know she's a teenager. —Earl Wilson.

Editor Wins His Battle to Reopen Murder Case

NASSAU, Bahamas (UPI)—Cyril Stevenson, Nassau newspaper editor who won a fight to reopen the unsolved 17-year-old Oakes murder case, said Wednesday, "I could point my finger at the man responsible."

Sir Harry Oakes, multimillionaire Canadian who made a fortune in gold mines, was found bludgeoned to death in his bed in 1943. There had been a crude attempt to burn the body, but the bed only smouldered.

The House Assembly has voted unanimously to reopen the murder case on petition of Stevenson, editor of the Nassau Herald. Among those voting was H. C. Christie, a house guest of the Oakes the night Sir Harry's body was found.

Count Alfred de Marigny, husband of Nancy Oakes, daughter of Sir Harry, was tried on a murder charge and acquitted. The case remained unsolved and one private investigator, Betty Renner, a reporter-lawyer from Washington, was found dead several years later in a well near Nassau.

EXPECTED OPPOSITION

"The House did the right thing in reopening the case," Stevenson said. "I expected opposition but obviously they felt it would be like they were trying to protect someone."

Stevenson said Miss Renner had notified her Washington office she had been threatened before her death. He said his family was concerned for his safety but that he was confident his actions were in the best interests of the colony.

Stevenson asked for Assembly action after returning from Miami where he conferred with detective Raymond Schindler. He said Shindler had uncovered enough new evidence to make reopening the case worthwhile.

Stevenson said he was convinced the man who engineered the murder was an important Nassau businessman but that he did not want to take advantage of his parliamentary immunity to name him and would "leave that to Scotland Yard."

"I am prepared to say that in my opinion Oakes was killed by one of his close friends whom he had no reason to suspect and that he drank with him several hours before the murder," Stevenson said.

The bill was sent to the governor general for certain approval.

EXHIBITS INTACT

Stevenson said all the exhibits in the murder case still were intact and that Capt. R. P. H. Shelmedine, a Briton who headed the Criminal Investigation Department at the time, could be recalled with other principals in the case.

Stevenson said every effort had been made in the past to prevent a solution.

He said he had proof the man responsible for the murder has a criminal record in Boston but that those files on the case were stolen in Nassau.

Hypnosis May Lull Spacemen

Scientist Says Method Would Maintain Mental Health on Long Treks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Remote controlled hypnosis across the vast reaches of space might be one way of keeping future astronauts mentally healthy on long space trips, a scientist suggests.

It might be possible, said Dr. S. Fred Singer, to put space voyagers into a sort of hibernation for as long as a year by this means. Their bodily processes would be slowed to the point where they would need little food, water or oxygen.

Singer, a University of Maryland physicist, outlined his ideas at a news conference Tuesday in connection with his appointment as secretary of a new space medicine section of the Pan American Medical Assn.

Singer, who is not a physician, suggested a study of the possibility of hypnotic conditioning of space astronauts. After they are in flight, he said, hypnosis might be induced by radio signals from earth, or by radio triggering of recorded hypnotic suggestions in the spaceship.

He said scientists already have demonstrated that it's possible to transmit post-hypnotic suggestions by radio to a subject already conditioned hypnotically.

The news conference was called to outline plans for the association's next periodic meeting in Mexico City next year.

France Makes Concessions on High Living Tax

PARIS (AP) — The outcry in France against linking taxes to the standard of living brought a few concessions from the government today exempting some maids and some cars as signs of wealth.

The maid must be over 60, and the car more than 10 years old to be exempt.

The De Gaulle government has released details of the formula it is using in its campaign launched a year ago to catch up with taxpayers who live high but pay low.

The declared income is checked of any taxpayer with a swank apartment, big car, maids, race horses, yacht, private plane or country home. The government formula gives all such evidence of affluence an arbitrary rule, which presumably the taxpayer had to earn to acquire same.

Maybe France Could Loan U.S. Money . . .

NEW YORK (AP) — France's economy is improving to the extent it might be able to lend money to the United States, a high French official said today.

Antoine Pinay, minister of finance and economic affairs, smiled as he made the remark on arriving at Idlewild Airport. He said he wanted to stress that he had not come here to ask for money.

Pinay is here to attend a New York University dinner tonight and to confer with Washington officials.

Polio Foundation Cuts Program, Expands Field

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has cut back its polio program and has expanded aid to victims of arthritis and birth defects.

Basil O'Connor, president of the foundation, said Tuesday the foundation will continue to meet its basic obligations to polio patients. Payments for nonparalytic polio will be discontinued.

Takes Own Life After Brooding Over Dog's Death

ROCHDALE, England (AP) — Jack Ashworth took a stroll in the park with the collar and lead his dog Topper had worn before the 13-year-old Airedale died.

Ashworth, 46, then went home, took poison, and died.

He left a note to a friend: "I am going to join Topper."

Harold Midgeley told the coroner's inquest Ashworth, who was divorced, had called on him the night after Topper died and cried continually.

"He said 'I have nobody to go home to now,'" Midgeley reported.

The Man Comes to Dinner

Doctor Monroe Likes Lobster

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Mrs. John Monroe has the best reason in the world to be a good cook. Her husband is a great gourmet who knows and appreciates good food.

"I think," says Mrs. Monroe, "that having such a husband made it easier for me to learn to cook and gave me an incentive to be a good cook."

Again, the Man Who Comes to Dinner is a big man who needs plenty of food. He is not fussy, but he does have favorite dishes.

Pontiac Press Photo

THE CROWNING TOUCH — Mrs. John Monroe, wife of Oakland County's Health Director, puts the finishing touch on an angel food cake. She always uses a seven-minute frosting and at this season of the year makes it strawberry flavored. Cake is the perfect dessert for her husband.

We asked Mrs. Monroe for a sample menu. She immediately mentioned seafood, with rare roast beef a close second.

The Monroes order lobster from Maine. They arrive alive at the specified time, all packed in seaweed and ready to cook. Mrs. Monroe serves just butter with this boiled lobster.

But first they have clam broth. This she makes with clams and chopped celery. Seasoned to taste, it is the perfect prelude to a lobster dinner.

Scalloped corn is the only other hot dish. Our Pilgrim ancestors would approve of that. The Indians introduced the first settlers to corn and we assume that they caught and ate lobster from the Atlantic Ocean at their front door.

The salad for this meal is simply lettuce with roquefort dressing. Mrs. Monroe mixes sour cream, mayonnaise and roquefort cheese.

HICKORY NUT CAKE

Now, if Dr. Monroe has his way, the dessert to top off this dinner is Hickory Nut Cake with whipped cream. But he gets that only a few times a year. Hickory nuts are hard to come by. Mrs. Monroe is apt to substitute one of her frosted angel food cakes most of the time.

But when we talked with her this week, she said, "You know what will happen when the doctor reads this article. He'll say, 'When do we get one of those cakes?' So I might as well start picking out the hickory nuts right now."

Have we done you a good turn, Dr. Monroe?

Note Increase in Supply of Vegetables and Eggs

Your weekly menus can be as colorful as the flowers in bloom suggests the MSU Marketing Agent. For greenery you might choose lettuce, cabbage or garden-fresh asparagus. Lively red shows up in fresh or frozen strawberries or the increasing supplies of outdoor grown or greenhouse tomatoes. For a golden hue, you might choose from the plentiful supply of large size eggs or abundant cheeses.

In the meat department, you'll find plenty of pork with special emphasis on bacon and ham. All kinds of poultry are again competing for your interest with various stores featuring fryers, roasters and turkey. Since wholesale prices on beef are high, any price reduction at retail is of special interest. A slight price drop on cattle used for hamburger may be reflected in lower retails for this favorite meat.

PRODUCE FOR COLOR

The forecast for the early spring crop of lettuce was 6 per cent higher than the 1958 crop and more than a fourth above average. This explains the fine quality, large supply and low prices you find in local markets.

Cold weather has delayed local supplies of asparagus, but you should find more than a week ago. You may find asparagus priced by the pound or by the bunch. Check the weight of the package when determining price per pound.

Fresh asparagus should be kept cool. Get it into your refrigerator as quickly as possible. Store in a moisture-proof container or bag and use within a day or two.

Cabbage is being shipped from several states, so supplies are good and prices low. A pound will serve four when cooked or make eight cups of shredded raw cabbage.

Increasing supplies of both field grown and greenhouse tomatoes are bringing slightly lower prices. Volumes of celery will add crispness to salads and relish dishes for 19 to 35 cents a bunch.

Depleted supplies of old crop potatoes and rather light supplies of new crop potatoes are influencing prices. Generally white potatoes are 5 to 9 cents a pound, low for the food value they provide.

EGGS—EGGS—EGGS

Thrift-minded homemakers will take notice! Eggs are one of the best protein values in the market Mrs. Josephine Lawyer remarks. Six to seven cents will buy two large size eggs and provide the same protein found in an average serving of meat or cheese.

Eggs are quick to cook. You might put them on the list of "convenience foods." When you need a meal in a hurry an egg omelet with fresh asparagus or strawberries could serve for lunch or dinner.

YOUR MEAT DOLLARS

Although fewer porkers are coming to market, pork prices compete favorably with other meats. You'll find some emphasis on hams this week with more stress for the holiday next week. Bacon, marked at special prices, may suggest better breakfasts or crisp sandwiches with tomatoes or peanut butter.

Your preparation plan will determine what poultry you choose. Have you ever fried one of the small fryer-roaster turkeys that weigh from 3 to 5 pounds? Allow at least one day for it to thaw in its original wrap in the refrigerator. Cut and coat it as you would a fryer. It can be fried on top of the range in about 50 to 60 minutes or in the oven in 75 to 90 minutes. The turkey is done when the thickest pieces are fork tender.

Hamberger and blade chuck will stretch your beef dollars. Prices for cows used in hamburger dropped slightly. You may find it a few cents less per pound in some stores this week.

If you buy blade chuck that grades U.S. Prime or U.S. Choice you might like to experiment by broiling. Have it cut between 1½ to 2 inches thick and marinade it overnight in the refrigerator. Broil it, but not beyond medium rare. Of course it won't have the same texture of the more tender steaks, but there is a big price difference you might appreciate. French dressing or your favorite barbecue sauce is a quick marinade that will add lots of flavor too.

Curry Betters Chicken Soup

If you and your family rate canned condensed chicken noodle soup as one of your three favorite canned soups . . . you're "in the lead section" of the scoup parade in the U.S.A. It's interesting to note that studies reveal that chicken noodle soup is a family favorite, and ranks particularly high with kids. Kids ask for, and eat this kind, with relish.

Facts? On the basis of all times that soup was served, in a two week analysis period, 15% was chicken noodle. Of the people eating (young and old) 44% were kids, 12 years old or under.

Now there is a new improved formula. You who like canned condensed chicken noodle soup, will go for it even more! Those who are not in the lead section of the parade, will join in and go for it in a big way. The improved formula is richer, heartier, and even has more chicken flavor.

Serve this soup plain, according to directions on the can label, or vary your menu planning with this recipe. Be sure to include a large selection of crisp crackers as a go-with.

Near East Chicken Noodle

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed chicken noodle soup
1 soup can water
½ teaspoon curry powder
¼ cup chopped or slivered toasted almonds

In saucepan, combine soup, water, and curry powder. Heat; stir now and then. Top each with almonds. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

SCALLOPED ONIONS — Delightful to serve with roasts and chops, scalloped onions are baked in cream of mushroom soup. Slivered almonds add texture to this interesting vegetable casserole.

Onion Dish Has Nutty Layer

Ask any homemaker which food does more to enhance the flavor of dishes than any other, and she'll probably tell you "onions." For their use as a flavoring agent has been known around the world for centuries. Added eating enjoyment can be obtained from onions by serving them as a vegetable.

One easy-to-make recipe you might want to try produces Scalloped Onions with Almonds. In this delicious dish, onions are combined in a casserole with almonds and cream of mushroom soup, topped with buttered corn flake crumbs and baked. You'll enjoy the versatility of this dish, since it's a perfect accompaniment for many different entrees.

Scalloped Onions and Almonds

4 cups sliced, raw onions, ⅛ inch thick
¼ cup blanched, slivered almonds
1½ cups (10½-oz. can) cream of mushroom soup
Salt
¼ cup corn flake crumbs
2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted

Cook onion slices in boiling, salted water until tender; drain. Place alternate layers of onions, almonds and soup in greased shallow 1-quart baking dish. Sprinkle each layer with salt. Combine corn flake crumbs with butter; sprinkle over onion mixture.

Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 20 minutes or until mixture is thoroughly heated and crumbs are browned. Yield: 6 servings, about two-thirds cup each.

Molded Salmon Salad Includes Canned Peas

Attractive for luncheon or dinner fare is hearty Salmon Mold Supreme. Prepare a package of lemon flavored gelatin according to package directions. Add 3 tablespoons lemon juice and some salt. Pour into a mold and chill until partially thickened.

Stir in drained canned salmon broken into chunks, drained canned peas, sliced stuffed olives and chopped onion. Chill until firm. Unmold on crisp greens and top with celery seed-sour cream dressing.

Orange Sauce Is Served on Bacon

New and interesting ideas concerning foods, menus or recipes are usually welcomed or considered a refreshing change by most homemakers.

It might interest many homemakers to know that Canadian-style bacon is the boneless cured and smoked back strip of loin.

For convenience and variety purposes, Canadian-style bacon can be roasted if in one piece. If sliced, it may be broiled, pan-broiled or panfried.

Canadian-Style Bacon-Orange Sauce

12 slices Canadian-style bacon, cut ¼ inch thick
6 thin onion slices
6 orange slices, rind removed
2 teaspoons sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 cup orange juice
1 orange, cut in sections
2 teaspoons grated lemon rind

Arrange 6 slices Canadian-style bacon in a greased shallow 1½-quart baking dish. Top each slice with an onion slice, an orange slice and another slice of bacon. Bake in a slow oven (300 degrees F.) for 25 to 30 minutes.

Mix together sugar and cornstarch. Add orange juice and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened and clear. Stir in orange sections and lemon rind. Serve sauce over bacon. Yield: 6 servings.

Spanish Fish Recipe Comes to America

Cadiz-Style Sole

8 boneless and skinless sole fillets (about 1½ pounds)
Salt and pepper
4 tablespoons olive oil
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon minced onion
Paprika

Wipe fillets with damp cloth; dry; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Spread 2 tablespoons of the olive oil over a jellyroll pan; arrange fish in one layer in pan.

Heat remaining 2 tablespoons oil in small skillet; mix in bread crumbs; remove from heat; mix in cheese. Sprinkle fillets with onion; sprinkle breadcrumb mixture over fish; dust with paprika.

Bake in moderate (375) degrees) oven 20 minutes; if fish is not brown enough, broil a few seconds. Or bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 15 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

PLAN AND PLANT—Now's the time to make your plans for summer entertaining. Plant vegetable seeds now for garden-fresh vegetables later on. They can't be beat.

Baby Food Flavo New Milk Drink

A fluffy fruit-milk drink has real magic for a youngster, whether he is active or on the convalescent list.

Call on the wide variety of strained baby fruits for fruited milk shakes in many colors and flavors. Non-fat dry milk is the second half of this nourishing drink which may be quickly whipped up as a between-meal beverage.

A colorful shake, complete to straws, might well replace other snacks that would rob appetite for regular meals.

Fruited Milk Shake

1 cup ice water OR very cold tap water
⅓ cup non-fat dry milk
1 tablespoon sugar
½ cup any strained baby fruit
½ teaspoon vanilla

Sprinkle non-fat dry milk over cold water and beat with rotary beater until smooth. Add sugar and fruit with vanilla. Continue beating until well blended. Makes 2 servings, 6 oz. each.

To get the most juice from lemons, heat them quickly in hot water for several minutes before squeezing. Rolling to soften also is effective.

Plan Fancy Appetizers as You Plant Garden

Who would ever think that our homey vegetables were hot-shot party goers! They are, though, for when they're all dressed up with attractive fillings and served with special dips and dunks, they're the life of the party. But to guarantee that you have garden-fresh vegetables to serve your guests, start planning that vegetable garden grown from seed. Fresh from the garden, they'll be tops in flavor and vitamin content.

Celery Boats

1 6-ounce package chive cream cheese, softened
½ cup grated carrot
½ teaspoon chili powder
12 3-inch stalks celery
12 slices carrot, cut in 1½ inch triangles

Combine cheese, grated carrot and chili powder; mix well. Fill celery stalks with cheese mixture. Top with carrot triangles to form sails. Chill. Makes 12.

Cucumber Slices

¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese (about ¼ pound)
½ pound bacon, cooked and crumbled
2 tablespoons milk
½ teaspoon garlic salt
¾ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 medium-sized cucumber

Combine butter or margarine, cheese, bacon, milk, garlic salt and Worcestershire sauce. Beat until well blended. Meanwhile, scoop out center of cucumber, leaving ¼ inch shell. Fill cucumber shell with cheese mixture. Chill 2-3 hours. Cut in ½ inch slices before serving. Makes about 18 slices.

Vegetable Kebabs

1 cup carrot curls
¾ cup sliced radishes
1 cup commercial sour cream
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 teaspoon onion salt

Arrange carrot curls and radishes on cocktail picks. Combine remaining ingredients; blend. Serve as a dip for kebabs. Makes 6 servings.

Cauliflower Dip

1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
1 5-ounce jar process bacon and cheese spread
⅔ cup chili sauce
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
1 medium-sized head cauliflower, broken in cauliflowerets

Combine cheeses, chili sauce and horseradish; blend. Serve as a dip for cauliflowerets. Makes 8 servings.

Pretty Molded Salad Has Avocado, Onion

Such a pretty and delicious combination!

Avocado Mold

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
¾ cup boiling water
3 tablespoons lemon juice
¾ teaspoon finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
1½ cups finely mashed avocado
½ cup mayonnaise

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water in a medium-sized mixing bowl to soften. Add boiling water; stir to dissolve gelatin. Stir in lemon juice, onion, avocado and mayonnaise. Turn into six ½-cup size individual molds. Chill until firm.

Unmold. Garnish with carrot curls. If indented molds (similar to Mary Ann pans) are used, place carrot curls in indentations. Makes 6 servings.

Keep Guests Punch Happy

Pontiac Press Home Editor

Remember how your date at the high school prom seemed to steer you toward the punch bowl after each dance? Holding a glass of punch made the gawky young escort a little less nervous and gave him something to do with his hands.

As for the punch . . . what we remember is a colored watery liquid that had very little taste and didn't do much to quench our thirst. Nowadays, we think punch is better.

With a whole array of canned, frozen and fresh fruit juices to combine in any quantity, there is little excuse for poor punch. It needn't be watery from the melting ice.

Simply freeze additional fruit juice in ice cubes or freeze a large mold of iced juice. The latter will take longer to melt and keep the punch cold longer.

Tea is often used as the base for punch. It goes well with any fruit juice. If you're worried about quantities, remember that a gallon of punch will serve about 40 cups. Only you can guess how many cups each guest will consume.

Golden Gate Punch

1 cup sugar
1 cup orange juice
⅓ cup lemon juice
1 pint chilled ginger ale
1 pint charged water
Orange slices
Maraschino cherry halves
1 quart Orange sherbet, if desired

Pour hot tea over the sugar and stir until sugar is dissolved. Add orange juice, lemon juice, and chill. When ready to serve, place large pieces of ice in the punch bowl. Pour the sirup over it and add the ginger ale and charged water.

Garnish with orange slices and Maraschino cherry halves. Serve immediately. For an extra touch of color and flavor place a quart or orange sherbet in the bowl in place of the ice.

Yield: 1½ quarts.

Pineapple-Cranberry Punch

2 bottles (15-oz.) cranberry juice
2 cups orange juice
¼ cup (4 tablespoons) lemon juice
1 quart pineapple sherbet
1 quart sparkling water or ginger ale

Combine cranberry juice, orange juice and lemon juice; beat in sherbet, then chill. Just before serving, slowly pour in sparkling water. Pour over cracked ice and serve immediately. Serves 14 to 16.

Often we are asked for a good recipe for a wine punch to serve at wedding receptions. This one using rose wine and fresh strawberries should please many readers.

Strawberry-Wine Punch

1 cup sugar
½ cup water
2 cups rose wine
2 cups orange juice
¼ cup lemon juice
1 pint fresh strawberries or 1 package frozen berries
1 quart carbonated water

Cook sugar and water together to the boiling point and continue boiling 5 minutes longer. Cool slightly. Now mix wine, orange and lemon juice, sugar syrup and whole fresh strawberries or drained frozen berries.

To serve, pour over ice and stir in carbonated water. Makes 2½ quarts.

For Good Color

Company fare: Rock Cornish game hen may be seared in a hot oven and then roasted at a moderate temperature. This method usually gives the birds an inviting brown color.

'Twas a Big Deal

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) — Orator F. Woodward bought the formula for a gelatine dessert for $450 just before the turn of the century and founded a company to produce it. Twenty-five years later, the Woodward family sold the Jell-O Co., for stock in the Postum Co. valued at $67 million.

Add minced chives and parsley to butter and use for fish fillets you are skillet cooking or baking.

Frozen, Canned Soup Makes a Chowder

Quick and delightful shrimp chowder.

Double Shrimp Chowder

1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup
1 can (13¾ ounces) condensed clear chicken broth
1 can (4½ ounces) wet-pack shrimp

Empty soup into a 1- or 1½-quart saucepan; add undiluted chicken broth. Heat slowly, stirring occasionally, just until boiling. Drain shrimp and add; reheat gently. Makes 4 servings.

Homemade Coffee Cake Improves Breakfast

A freshly-baked yeast coffee cake is an appealing breakfast treat that's tops in nourishment. If you have a freezer, you can bake coffee cakes at your leisure and serve them at a moment's notice. Just heat for a few minutes in a slow oven.

Braiding yeast dough is a quick and easy way to shape glamorous coffee cakes. One version is Bohemian Braid, made by placing three braids of dough on top of one another. With warm, fragrant Bohemian Braid, you'll have a breakfast that lives up to its name as a most delightful way to break your nocturnal fast.

BRIGHT AND SUNNY BREAKFAST

Orange-Pineapple Juice
Cereal and Milk
Bohemian Braid
Butter or Margarine
Milk Coffee

BOHEMIAN BRAID

1 package yeast, compressed or dry
¼ cup water (lukewarm for compressed yeast, warm for dry)
½ cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons shortening
2 eggs
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind (if desired)
3 cups sifted enriched flour (about)
Confectioners' sugar icing
¼ cup chopped nuts

Soften yeast in water. Scald milk. Add sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Add 1 cup of flour and mix well. Add softened yeast and eggs. Beat well. Add enough more flour to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise in warm place until doubled (about 1½ hours). When light, punch down.

Shape as follows: Divide dough into 9 equal portions. Let rest 10 minutes. Roll each portion into a long roll, about 19 inches. Braid 4 rolls loosely and place on a greased baking sheet. Then braid 3 rolls and place on top of first braid. Twist last 2 rolls together and place on top, tucking ends under loaf.

Let rise until doubled (about 1 hour). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 45 minutes. Brush with confectioners' sugar icing. Sprinkle with chopped nuts. Makes 1 Bohemian Braid.

Crisply-cooked crumbled bacon scattered over spinach, snap beans or sweet potatoes gives these vegetables a lift.

MUSHROOM STUFFED CHOPS — A platter full of plentiful pork is an appetizing and smart idea to include in menu planning right now. These are loin chops with an inspired mushroom stuffing and a smooth and creamy evaporated milk gravy to "go with." Bright red spiced crab apples and sprigs of parsley are bright notes that make the platter even more tempting looking.

Stuffed Chops Turn Meat to Party Fare

Few and far between are those who don't count pork chops among their meat favorites. To make chops company-elegant here is a recipe for mushroom stuffed pork chops complete with a rich evaporated milk gravy as an accompaniment. This is an entree that would be an asset to any menu.

Loin chops are suggested and a pocket should be slit in each one to accommodate the stuffing. A liberal amount of mushrooms is included in the bread stuffing as the name suggests, but there's also celery and onion and just enough sage to make it all very interesting. The chops brown and bake in the oven and their drippings are used to add savor to the smooth milk gravy.

Brighten the platter with little spiced crab apples and lacy parsley and you'll have a hard to resist meat offering for company or as a treat for Sunday dinner with the family.

Mushroom Stuffed Pork Chops and Gravy

6 loin pork chops (1 inch thick)
1 can sliced mushroom (2 oz.)
½ cup finely chopped celery
2 slices white bread, pulled into crumbs
1½ teaspoons instant minced onion
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
½ teaspoon sage
1⅔ cups evaporated milk (1 tall can)
2 to 3 tablespoons flour
½ teaspoon salt

Slit a pocket in each chop from outside edge to the bone. Drain mushrooms, saving liquid. Mix mushrooms, celery, bread crumbs, onion, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, sage and ⅓ cup of the evaporated milk together in a small bowl. Spoon mixture into the pockets in the pork chops and close opening with a toothpick. Place chops in baking pan and add mushroom liquid.

Cover pan tightly with foil and bake in preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 45 minutes. Uncover and continue baking for 30 minutes longer. Remove chops from pan to platter and keep hot.

Pour drippings into a measuring cup, then dip off fat until there is only ⅓ cup of the drippings left. Return the ⅓ cup drippings to pan and stir in the ½ teaspoon salt and sufficient flour to bind the fat. Slowly blend in the remaining 1⅓ cups evaporated milk, stirring to keep smooth.

Cook over low heat until gravy is thickened and smooth, stirring constantly, about 10 to 15 minutes. Serve with Mushroom Stuffed Pork Chops. Makes 6 servings.

Pearadise Conde Is Exciting Dessert

Some people are never satisfied!

Some inner spirit demands dessert, even after polishing off liberal portions of a hearty dinner. Pearadise Conde is the answer — a practical, glamorous dessert that satisfied that inner desire.

To serve after a generous dinner, the cool pears in their amber glaze can be served with just a scoop of rice pudding, just a smidgeon of whipped cream. If on the other hand, dinner was a bit on the frivolous side, a more generous hand can be used with pudding, pears and cream.

Prosaic? Not this rice pudding. Each grain of rice is distinct in a custard of heavenly flavors but made of earthly proportions of milk, sugar and eggs. Glamour means pears . . . mellow, smooth, a bit more suave with the addition of a tangy apricot coating. They're garnished lightly or garnished liberally with cream, whipped and almond flavored. This is a Pearadise Conde — for any occasion where there's someone who just isn't satisfied without dessert.

You'll realize when opening the can of pears that this is just one of the many ways you can incorporate them into your family food plan. Pears are a nutritious fruit that's happily accepted, none the less, by young and old alike. Smooth, sweet and flavorful, they are the easiest of fruits to prepare, for salad, for dessert, for meat accompaniment, for fun.

Pearadise Conde

1 No. 2½ can Bartlett pear halves
2 cups milk
½ cup rice
⅓ cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons butter
1 egg
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
Apricot glaze
Almond cream

Bring milk to boil, gradually stir in rice. Cover and cook over low heat until rice is soft and milk is nearly all absorbed, about 30 minutes. Stir occasionally. Combine sugar, butter and egg, add to hot rice. Cook until soft pudding consistency is reached, about 5 minutes.

Remove from heat, add flavorings. Spoon into compote or individual serving dishes; chill. Stand drained pear halves upright in pudding to form whole pears.

Spread pears with Apricot Glaze. Garnish with Almond Cream and Maraschino cherry segments. Make 4-5 servings. Apricot Glaze: Thin apricot jam with pear juice to spreading consistency. Almond Cream: Whip ¼ cup heavy cream, add 2 tablespoons sugar and ¼ teaspoon almond extract.

Spanish Wine Drink Goes With Snacks

Wine drinks poured from a pitcher are favorite drinks when warm weather comes to Spain, and the basis of many of them is a bottle of Spanish sherry. An orange and a lemon are peeled; first the peels and then the juices are poured into a pitcher.

A few pieces of any fruit available — strawberries, pineapple sticks, and even cucumber slices —are added, along with a bottle of dry fino or nutty amontillado sherry, and ice. The drink is sweetened to taste with white or brown sugar, honey, or Grenadine.

Glasses of this springtime nectar are served with slices of ham, sausage, nuts, olives and bits of cheese, as a between-meals snack.

It's Non-Alcoholic

For a non-alcoholic cocktail, add maple syrup to taste to grapefruit juice. Garnish with a slice of orange, a maraschino cherry and a pineapple stick.

Sausage, Fruit Kabobs Please Children

Let these Sausage and Fruit Kabobs be a surprise luncheon treat for the children. Cut smoked sausage links into thirds. Core an apple and cut into 8 wedges. Open can of pineapple chunks.

Each kabob should contain 3 pieces of sausage, 1 apple wedge and 2 pineapple chunks. The kabobs can then be brushed with French dressing and broiled (between 4 and 5 minutes). Allow about 3 to 4 inches between the kabobs and neat.

When planning a buttered carrot dish, remember that a pound of carrots serves four; "new" or young carrots may be cooked and eaten with skins on.

Pimientos Color Biscuit Tops for Lunch Treat

Blend thoroughly 1 3-ounce package cream cheese, softened, 1 tablespoon milk and 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento. Set aside while preparing biscuit dough.

Sift together 2 cups sifted enriched flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt. Cut or rub in ¼ cup shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add ⅔ to ¾ cup milk to make a soft dough.

Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead gently 30 seconds. Roll out ½-inch thick. Cut with small (1- or 1½-inch) biscuit cutter. Spread tops of biscuits with cream cheese mixture.

Bake on ungreased baking sheet in hot oven (450 degrees F.) about 10 minutes. Makes about 2 dozen small biscuits.

Serve It With a Flair

"Use decorative molds occasionally for foods such as rice, gelatine salads, custards and frozen desserts" says Margaret Spader, home service editor of the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. Frozen fruit juice cans, paper cups, custard cups, ice cube trays, mixing bowls and freezer containers can serve as molds. Before unmolding foods, rinse the serving plate in cold water. This facilitates sliding and centering your production.

When you don't want to take the time to prepare regular gashed garlic bread, just rub a clove of crushed garlic over the crust before heating in the oven.

Read Food Labels for All the Facts

Do you always read the label on the food you buy, asks the MSU Marketing Agent?

The food label gives the name of the product, the weight or liquid measure and ingredients used. The label on pre-packaged meat tells the price per pound, the weight and the total price. If the meat has been government graded or graded by the packer, that is usually on the label.

The label on frozen foods tells how many servings to expect from the package and often gives cooking instructions.

Next time you food shop, do it record style. Read the label!

Do Your Own Checking on These Points

If you don't retain an architect, here are some points today's smart home buyer should cover:

See whether the ground has a good sand and gravel base and that the foundation has been membraned to insure a completely dry cellar.

Check on whether the heating unit has a sufficient capacity to supply the proper amount of heat throughout the entire house.

Ask what material is being used to cover important areas such as kitchen and bath floors which must take a great deal of wetness and wear. If a durable material such as ceramic tile is used, you can be sure it will last.

Make sure that copper tubing is used throughout the plumbing system for both heat lines and water lines.

Grilled Fish Sandwiches

This might become a specialty of the house . . . Grilled Fish Sandwiches. Just fry up some fish fillets. Spread buns with Lemon Mayonnaise (mayonnaise seasoned with fresh lemon juice). Add the fish fillets, lettuce and tomato slice. Serve with pickle slices or ripe olives. They're wonderful for lunch or a quick supper dish.

City Art Exhibit to Open

Pontiac Press Photos

New members of the Pontiac Society of Artists are looking forward to exhibiting their works for the first time when the exhibit opens Sunday. Left to right are Mrs. C. E. Dumbrigue, Mrs. Carl O'Brien and Charito Bitanga.

Getting ready for the 11th annual exhibit of the Pontiac Society of Artists which opens with a reception Saturday are, left to right, Mrs. C. K. Nauman, president of the group, Robert Carson and Mrs. Paul Taylor. Mr. Carson and Mrs. Taylor are new members.

11th Show to Start on Sunday.

Public Invited to See Displays at Library

On Sunday the 11th annual exhibit of the Pontiac Society of Artists will open with a reception, at the Adah Shelly Branch Library from 2 to 7 p.m.

The exhibit will continue until May 30, and the public is urged to visit the display. Among the entries will be oil and watercolor paintings, pastels and charcoal drawings and many sculptures.

The latter is a form of art which has captured the fancy of Pontiac artists in increasing numbers in recent years, under guidance of Mrs. C. K. Nauman, who is also president of the Society.

Judges of the exhibit will be Peter Duenas, industrial designer, of Birmingham; Robert Garelick of Garelick Galleries, Detroit; and Steven Davis, artist, who is at present painting the murals at Great Lakes Bowling Alleys in Detroit.

The Society is one of the city's newer cultural societies, having been founded only 12 years ago, with Mrs. L. L. Sterling as first president, and J. Hart Gould as teacher and adviser.

The first exhibit was in May 1948 at the Main Library with 19 items. The Society has continued to hold an exhibit each year, with a constantly increasing number of entries from a fast growing membership.

One of the requirements is that prospective members submit three original pieces of work, which are passed upon by a board of member judges.

Some of the members are art teachers, some are commercial artists and the majority are "Sunday artists," many of whom are taking instruction in the various branches of art in which each is individually interested.

Three of the members won honors the past year when their paintings were selected for statewide and national showing. Two of these talented people are the Rev. Achilles Siagris and Mrs. Paul Meredith whose paintings were picked from last year's exhibit to be shown at the Michigan Regional Art Exhibit, and later were included in a traveling exhibit which toured the state.

The third is Mrs. J. W. McCulloch, whose oil painting was one of 70 chosen to tour the country in a contest for licensed beauticians.

7 Eastern Women's Colleges Represented

Group Holds Annual Meeting

The Detroit Committee for Seven Eastern Women's Colleges gathered at the home of Mrs. James J. Nance in Bloomfield Hills yesterday for their annual meeting, followed by a tea. The group, comprised of alumnae of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar and Wellesley, enters its 32nd year of operation under the leadership of its newly elected general chairman, Mrs. Wilber M. Brucker Jr.

Last year's chairman, Mrs. E. O. Coates Jr., reported on the fund-raising project of last September featuring Dr. Wernher von Braun. Over $7,000 was divided among the colleges to further their scholarship programs for Michigan girls.

Newly elected officers of the committee were installed. Mrs. Brucker will be assisted by Mrs. Leonard Grabow and Mrs. Coates as vice chairmen. Others are Mrs. Warren Craumer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Richard Armstrong, recording secretary; and Mrs. Henry E. Swartz, treasurer.

Committee chairmen for the year's activities will include Mrs. Irwin Allen of Wellesley as College Information Day chairman; Mrs. Walter Crow of Radcliffe, tickets; Mrs. John C. Chapin of Smith, patronesses; Mrs. George N. Hilfinger of Smith, publicity; Mrs. Kenneth McCoy of Mount Holyoke, public relations; and Mrs. George Wilson of Smith, program.

Mrs. Parbury Schmidt of Barnard, who made the arrangements for the meeting and the reception, will be next year's special events chairman, and Mrs. Wilfrid McLaughlin of Vassar, past general chairman, will act as advisor.

Highlight of the afternoon was a report entitled "What's New," which featured alumnae from each of the colleges with a coverage of current campus events.

City Hospital Auxiliary Coffee Fetes Continue

Members of the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital are in the midst of their second week in a series of coffee hours, proceeds of which will finance two scholarships to be given this fall. The scholarships will be awarded for study in the fields of nursing and medical technology.

Mrs. Forest R. Wood, chairman of the fund-raising committee, has announced her committee members for the project. They include Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway, Mrs. Edward Elder, Mrs. Leonard Buzz and Mrs. J. A. Rammes.

Key hostesses who have initiated the coffee series are Mrs. Leo R. Donaldson, Vera Bassett, Mrs. Buzz, Mrs. Harry Stowell, Mrs. Willard Beebe and Mrs. Jerome Fink.

Others are Iama Hook, Mrs. Carmi J. Odell, Mrs. A B Leddick, Mrs. Charles Lucas, Mrs. William Shunck, Mrs. Roland Stephison, Mrs. Clark J. Adams, Mrs. W. H. Bedard, Mrs. Leonard Cain, Mrs. Irving Gordon, Mrs. H. B. Stenbuck and Mrs. Raymond Rapaport.

The socials will continue four more weeks. Anyone interested in assisting with the fund-raising project may contact Mrs. Wood who lives on South Tilden avenue.

Outdoor Ballet to Highlight Music Series

Pontiac Press Photos

These four look very pleased about the plans for the Cranbrook Gardens Summer Festival. Left to right are L. James Schneider, festival chairman, Max Fruhauf, president of the Cranbrook Music Guild, and Mrs. Fruhauf, and Paul Olefsky, musical director of the festival and principal cellist of the Detroit Symphony.

Ballet in the outdoor Greek Theater will be the highlight of the third annual Cranbrook Gardens Music Festival. Plans for the 1959 series include both woodwind and string ensembles with a large group of distinguished soloists.

The second concert on Sunday afternoon, June 28, will feature the Severo Artists Ballet; well known for its appearances with the Detroit Symphony. The dancers will perform an original ballet based on Arensky's Tschaikovsky Variations, prepared especially for the Cranbrook Summer Festival.

4 OTHER PROGRAMS

Other concerts in the expanded series of five programs will take place at 4:30 p.m. in the gardens at Cranbrook House in Bloomfield Hills on Sunday June 21, July 12, 26 and August 2.

The opening concert on June 21 will feature the American Arts String Quartet composed of members of the Detroit Symphony.

This year chairs will be provided for the comfort of concert-goers who will hear a well-balanced program of music masterpieces from Bach to Bartok.

Paul Olefsky, principal cellist of the Detroit Symphony and musical director of the festival, has arranged a large group of artists, including the Detroit Symphony Woodwind Ensemble; Karl Haas, Mischa Kottler and Ruth Meckler, pianists; Irwin Gilman, flutist; Paul Schaller, clarinetist; Gordon Staples, violinist; and Alexander Suczek, troubadour.

Members of the Cranbrook Music Guild handling arrangements for the series are Mrs. Maurice Garabrant, ticket sales; Ronald Kasperzak, ushers and grounds; and Clyde P. Craine Jr., programs and posters. L. James Schneider is chairman of the summer concerts and a member of the Board of Directors of the Cranbrook Music Guild which sponsors the festival.

Tickets for the series and for individual concerts are available at Grinnell's.

Mrs. Everett Higgs of the Detroit Garden Center explained details of the three other tours of the Great Detroit June Garden Pilgrimage.

Committee captains announced were Mrs. Willet McCorney and Mrs. John Cowen, tickets; Mrs. Howard Green and Mrs. Henry VanVurst, flags; Mrs. Donald Wallace and Mrs. Karl Richards, hostesses; and Mrs. Richard Burgis, refreshments.

Dear Abby . . .

His Resistance Is Low—Lose Him!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a fellow who says he loves me very much. Although he knows I won't go all the way he still tries to break down my resistance. I like him, Abby, but if he continues the way he has been doing, I don't know what I'll do. I've talked to him but it does no good. Is there any way I can get around this without losing him?

ABBY

LIKE TO KNOW

DEAR LIKE: Let's get one thing straight. A fellow who LOVES a girl does not encourage her to do something that is immoral, dangerous and degrading. If you lose him you'll be the luckiest girl in the world. Hold out for orange blossoms, Honey. He's offering you poison ivy.

DEAR ABBY: I know a man who is 73 years old. He has 6 children all married and he stays alone. He wants me to go on a trip with him for a couple of months. I am 69 years old, a widow and all my children are grown and on their own. We are just a couple of old pals.

There is no funny business going to happen. I would like to go but I'm afraid the gossips might think we were lovebirds. But we are both lonely and single, so why not? What do you say, Abby? You're open-minded. ME

DEAR ME: I may be open-minded but I don't have holes in my head. "Old pals" don't take trips together for a couple of months unless they are married. If you think the gossips would not regard you as "lovebirds" — you are cuckoo.

DEAR ABBY: I live in an apartment and the boy upstairs always comes down and pesters me. One night he dumped my purse all over the living room floor. I got mad. My mother wasn't home at the time. I couldn't hit him or anything because he is 14 and I am 12. If I went upstairs and did something like that to him he would break my arm. Give me some advice on what to say to him. MAD

DEAR MAD: Tell him if he can't behave like a gentleman he isn't to come to your apartment. A girl shouldn't have to KNOCK a pesty neighbor out—she can LOCK him out.

DEAR ABBY: I am a happily married woman with two wonderful children. I love my husband dearly but I can't seem to control a very strong impulse to show my affection (deep affection) to doctors. The last doctor I went to was on my mind night and day. I would have given anything to have kissed him just one time.

This feeling has been going on for years about different doctors I've had. I've tried to fight it, believe me, but I can't help myself. Would you please help me, Abby? I don't know what to do. MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED: You are confusing gratitude, respect, hero-worship and a little of the old-fashioned schoolgirl crush with "deep affection." There are many fine WOMEN practicing medicine. Consult one.

DEAR ABBY: Tell that stupid stepmother that she shouldn't be so worried about what her stepson calls her. If I had a 14-year-old boy around I wouldn't care what he called me. If she doesn't want him, she can send him to me and he can call me anything his heart desires. I lost my only child nine years ago, and if he had lived, he'd be 14 years old tomorrow. Sincerely, MRS. D. K.

Lutheran Women Make Bouquets

The arrangement of garden flowers into altar bouquets was demonstrated at a meeting of Ascension Lutheran Women of Ascension Lutheran Church, held at the parsonage home of Mrs. William LaFountain.

Arrangements were made using flowers and equipment available to any homemaker. Completed arrangements were sent to shut-in members of the congregation.

Taking part in the program were Mrs. Fred Sytz and Mrs. Phil White. Hostesses were Mrs. Fred Kaiser, Mrs. Nick Kerchoff and Katherine Schey.

Marriage Told

Mrs. Thomas Crawford of Warren and Thomas Ferguson of Berkley announce the marriage of their daughter, Marilyn Tindall, to Harold R. Titus. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Titus of Nelson street.

HEAVENLY STRAWBERRY ANGEL FOOD

■ Dissolve 1 package Royal Strawberry Gelatin in 1 cup boiling water. Add ¼ cup frozen or sweetened fresh-mashed strawberries and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Chill, stirring occasionally to keep mixture smooth, until slightly thickened. Fold ¼ cup heavy cream, whipped, into gelatin mixture. Chill slightly until mixture holds a soft peak. Fill center and frost top and sides of 1 large angel food cake (about 8 inches). Chill until firm, about 1 hour.

ROYAL PINEAPPLE SALAD

■ Dissolve 1 package Royal Pineapple Gelatin in 1 cup boiling water. Add 1 cup cold water. Chill until slightly thickened, but not set. Add and stir in ½ cup sliced strawberries and 1 cup canned pineapple tidbits, well drained. (Fresh or frozen pineapple must be cooked before adding.) Pour into 1-quart mold and chill until firm. To serve, unmold onto salad greens and garnish with pineapple slices and strawberries, if desired.

What Young People Think:

All-Night Prom--Clean Fun or Wild Party?

By EUGENE GILBERT

Susie has gone to the prom and Mom and Dad are alone with their thoughts:

A big night for the kids, biggest of the year . . . Some of them are pretty wild, bound to be some drinking . . . all of them have cars tonight . . . was it wise to tell Susie she could go to that all-night party?

Will this be a wild night?

We asked the youngsters, 660 of them. It might be some comfort to Mom and Dad that most of the youngsters don't think of the prom as a wild affair.

Only 13 per cent of the teenagers we questioned said the kids make a wild time of it. Sixty-two per cent said they mind their manners and watch their conduct even on these big occasions.

"Most teenagers are mature enough to control themselves and know what is best for them," says 14-year-old Binny Hersom of Augusta, Maine. And 15-year-old Claire Valliere of Hartford, Conn., agrees.

ALL IN FUN

"We are out for a good time only, not for trouble," says Claire. "We are old enough to know that trouble is not wanted and we don't give it."

"It is a time to dance and try to do your best, in courtesy and dress," says Steven Cohenour, 16, of Coffeyville, Kan.

But there is, of course, a minority report.

Proms and the after-dance parties do get wild, says 17-year-old Larry Gross of Washington. "They are the last link with high school," he says.

Jim McClurg, 16, of St. Louis, agrees. But Jim adds. "Everybody has decent fun."

Several of the youngsters, even those who say the proms are mild occasions, mention a few who "have to spoil it . . . like getting drunk to be a showoff."

About one-fourth of the teeners say they and their friends usually stay out all night on prom night.

And 8 of 10 report their parents approve of the hour they get home. But in most cases the young people say their parents set a curfew or allow them to do so "as long as it's a reasonable hour."

"They leave it to me to decide," says 18-year-old Ivie Michaels of Chicago, "and I don't abuse the privilege."

WHEN CLOCK STRIKES

Midnight is the most popular hour for leaving the dance. Thirty-five per cent say that's when they depart, while some leave as early as 11 p.m. and others—16 per cent—stick around until the last dance.

After the dance, 68 per cent of the youngsters say they go somewhere for a snack. A quarter of them say they go somewhere for more dancing, while 16 per cent prefer what their greying parents once referred to as "pitching woo." Other favorite pastimes are late parties and car rides.

About three-quarters of the young people say their parents know about their after-prom activities and approve of them.

"They know where I am going, with whom, and when I expect to be home," says Isabel Lewis, 16, of Detroit.

CHAPERONES UNWANTED

Chaperones are no more popular, nor any less, than in mom's and dad's senior year.

Sixty-four per cent say they have chaperones only during the dance, and that's all they feel they need them. Only 16 per cent say they think chaperones are necessary for the parties that follow the dance.

Most feel they are old enough to be trusted on their own. They say they are mature enough to handle any situation. Others say they have to learn responsibility some time and that proms are opportune occasions to begin.

Only 13 per cent of those we questioned say parents' groups in their area are planning supervision of all night prom activities.

Phone Calls at Mealtime Can Wait

"DEAR MRS. POST: Last night while we were having dinner, the telephone rang and my son got up to answer it. He came back into the dining room and said that the call was for me, and told me who it was. Knowing this person to be a great talker, I told him to say that we were in the midst of dinner and that I would call her back later, which I did. However, she wasn't as friendly as she usually is and I think she was put out with me for not coming to the telephone when she called. Will you please tell me if I was rude?"

Answer: Not at all. What you did was quite proper. To have gone to the telephone and interrupted dinner would have been most inconsiderate of your family and very rude to any guest you may have had.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is there an obligation upon the family of the deceased to provide a light repast for at least the pall bearers who served at the funeral? The service started at eleven and were completed at the cemetery at one thirty and several of them traveled a distance of about thirty miles to be present. There has been some criticism of the family for not having provided them with food before leaving for home."

Answer: I do not think the family of the deceased should be expected to provide meals for anyone on the very trying day of the funeral.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A discussion has arisen as to a point of etiquette at the table. My friend contends that as soon as you are served, it is proper to begin eating. Whereas, I have always been taught one must wait until the hostess is served and begins to eat. Will you please tell me who is right?"

Answer: You may begin to eat as soon as two or three others have been served.

Judaea Club Picks Slate of Officers

Pontiac Chapter of Young Judaea elected officers for 1959-1960 at its final meeting of the season held Sunday at Congregation B'nai Israel. Jack Bletstein presided.

Eric Foxman is president. Serving with him are Janet Goldman, vice president; Martin Alan Foxman, secretary; Patricia Ressler, treasurer; Jack Bletstein, program chairman; and Kay Sirlin, telephone chairman.

Mrs. Irving Schlyfestone, president of Pontiac Chapter of Hadassah, led the group in a series of Israeli dances. William Hartman showed movies taken at the Young Judaea picnic held last summer.

During the past few months, the group has taken part in the 50th anniversary of National Young Judaea by conducting a Friday evening service at Congregation B'nai Israel and a dance held at Temple Beth Jacob.

Group leaders for the past year were Mrs. Morris Bletstein, Mrs. Melvin Goldman, Mrs. Daniel Foxman and Mrs. Charles Jacobs.

Fashionette Club Honors Member

Mrs. John Neaves was awarded the trophy for the most weight lost this week at the meeting of Fashionette Club held Tuesday evening at Adah Shelly Branch Library. Mrs. Adolph Hohm was last week's winner.

After the meeting, members played miniature golf. Mrs. Frank Reichert was in charge of the program. A makeup demonstation meeting.

Expanding Field

Consider Career in Health

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I have just receved a most interesting Public Affairs pamphlet titled, "A Career In Health." Its author is Herbert Yahraes, well-known health writer. Many of the facts found in this surprised me.

I had known that we need many more doctors and nurses and dentists but I had not stopped to think what a large field the health field really is and how many opportunities it offers to the young man or woman.

I think this is a good time, just before thousands of young men and women will be graduated from high school, to call your attention to some of these openings in which you are badly needed.

It has been estimated that in the United States right now, 70,000 more nurses are needed, 8,000 more occupational therapists, 5 to 6,000 more medical and psychiatric social workers, 27,000 more medical technologists, 2,000 more dietitians, 10,000 more clinical psychologists, and in the next few years perhaps 15,000 more X-ray technicians.

It also has been estimated that we need 13,500 more dentists now and will need more later on. In order to keep the present ratio between doctor and population as it now is we will need about 2,000 more new doctors each year than are now being graduated from medical schools.

Our population is increasing rapidly. As Mr. Yahraes points out in the pamphlet, by the time today's high school seniors are 30 years old the country will have around 70 million more people than it had the year the seniors were born.

The health field has a great future because of this and also because research is constantly opening new branches of medicine. You can live anywhere you wish and there are more than 150 allied fields to choose from. Many of these fields prepare young women for their later roles as homemaker and mother as well as for a job.

The Health Careers Guidebook has been sent to high schools and colleges all over the country. If you are interested, ask your librarian or school counseling office about it. Or if you wish, you can send 25 cents to Public Affairs Pamphlets at 22 East 38th Street, New York City 16, N.Y. Ask for the booklet "A Career in Health" which I have mentioned today.

Dr. A. L. Miller Heads United Presbyterians

Assembly Elects Denver Minister

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—A man who grew up on a farm and now is minister of one of the largest churches in his denomination will preside over affairs of the United Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. for the next year.

Dr. Arthur L. Miller, senior Minister of Denver's Montview Boulevard Church, which has 4,000-plus members, was elected and installed Wednesday as moderator of the largest Presbyterian body in the United States.

He was elected over Dr. Herman L. Turner, Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. Henry S. Randolph, New York City and Tionesta, Pa. Miller received 496 votes on the first ballot, Turner 223 and Randolph 222. Miller's election was made unanimous on the motion of Turner.

The new moderator is proud of his rural background. On May 31—the Sunday after the 171st general assembly, over which he was presiding today, adjourns—he will preach in the old Presbyterian church at Geetingsville, Ind., where he spent his boyhood. He also will spend a few days visiting two brothers and three sisters who still live in the region.

Dr. Miller was born 59 years ago on a farm near Geetingsville (pop. about 50), 50 miles north of Indianapolis.

He went to Indiana University, dabbled in journalism and became editor of the Daily Student, campus newspaper, before his graduation in 1922. Then he went on to Princeton (N.J.) Theological Seminary and later was graduated from McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago.

At a news conference after his election he spent as much time discussing his early days in Indiana and his family as he did church and world affairs and his more recent experiences as world traveler.

He has served on numerous denominational committees and boards; is on the boards of Hastings and Parsons colleges, and is president of the board of trustees of Beirut College for Women in Lebanon. He held pastorates in four other states before going to his present church 12 years ago.

Dr. Miller spoke with pride of his wife, Lova, their one daughter and two sons, and six grandchildren.

He told newsmen that airplane stewardesses often ask whether he is the playwright Arthur Miller whose wife is actress Marilyn Monroe, and he always replies: "No, I'm a preacher, and my wife is much more beautiful than Miss Monroe."

Dr. Miller, still as tan as a Hoosier farmboy, said: "Reconciliation is the great task facing the church today. The church must help people to understand each other . . . in the home . . . between races . . . and between nations."

Speaker Heck of New York Dies

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—Oswald D. Heck, 57, speaker of the New York State Assembly for 22 years, died today in a hospital.

Heck, a Republican, enterdd the hospital in April for treatment of a circulatory ailment.

He began his unprecedented tenure as speaker in 1937. No one had held the post more than 10 years. At the time of his election to the office, he was only 34—the youngest to hold the job in 30 years.

During his early days in the Assembly, he campaigned against trailer trucks, which he called "road freight trains," and introduced legislation limiting their length and carrying capacity.

In later years, he was instrumental in establishing the State Commission Against Discrimination, the first state unit of its kind. He also helped push through the compulsory automobile liability insurance and compulsory automobile inspection laws.

Dinner to Honor Retiring Prexy

Charles L. Anspach Central Michigan Head Since 1939

LANSING (AP)—Charles L. Anspach, retiring president of Central Michigan College, will be saluted by friends and alumni at a dinner June 2 in Mt. Pleasant.

Announcement was made today by Glenn MacDonald, editor of the Bay City Times and chairman of an 18-member sponsoring committee.

Anspach, 64, retires July 1 after 20 years as president.

MacDonald said more than 500 persons are expected at the dinner in the college gymnasium. "Reservations must be submitted by May 27," he said.

Among the sponsors are many of the state's leading education administrators, including John A. Hannah, Michigan State University president; Lynn M. Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction; James A. Lewis, University of Michigan vice president; Edgar L. Harden, Northern Michigan College president; and Stephen S. Truck Smashes Car, Six Dead

Big Vehicle in Wrong Lane, Minus Lights; Five Victims Nurses

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) —A contractor and five student nurses were killed Wednesday night in the crash of a pickup truck and an auto near this San Francisco Peninsula town. The pickup was without lights and in the wrong lane.

The truck driver was Warren P. Hamilton, 43, Los Altos.

The student nurses, all from St. Mary's Hospital, San Francisco, were Dolores Mae Goudreau, 20, Hayward, driver of the auto; Lois M. Wyrwa, 21, Helen Patricia Wilkinson, 20, and Shirley Jane Onetti, 22, all of San Francisco; and Nancy Joan Sullivan, 20, Roseburg, Ore.

Highway Patrolmen Durl Vital and Elwin Block said Hamilton, operator of the Hamilton Construction Co., Los Altos, was driving without lights southbound in the northbound lane of the freeway.

The pickup slammed head on into the auto and all occupants of both vehicles were killed instantly, the patrolmen reported.

Alcohol Flow at Geneva Tiny; Water Popular

GENEVA (AP) — The foreign ministers conference of 1959 is the least alcoholic parley of them all.

The working sessions are running on water.

The British haven't even insisted on tea.

"It's amazing," said a member of a Western delegation. "It's almost unbelievable. A conference without a drink is like an oasis without shade."

The luxurious bar set up for the conference stands almost empty at the Palace of Nations overlooking Lake Geneva. Not once in the first eight formal sessions was there the traditional break for relaxation and refreshment in the middle of the discussion.

At previous big international conferences here, delegates recessed their sessions every day for what was euphemistically called a tea break. Precious little tea was consumed.

A few minor aides now flit into the bar during the sessions. There's a small gathering for only a few minutes after the sessions end. That's all.

The water consumption in the conference room has never been higher, however. Before each delegation stands a large carafe of water, surrounded by glasses. The jugs are emptied several times during each meeting.

There are no known teetotalers among the foreign ministers. Cocktails and wines are always on the menu when they get together at lunch or dinner.

Nor can the absence of the tea break be blamed on any increase in the price of drinks. The drinks are free. Eventually the taxpayers pay for them.

Questioned about the lack of refreshment recesses, a British delegate said: "I suppose it's because we're meeting later in the afternoon than before. Or perhaps it's because no one has courage enough to suggest a break. Anyhow, it's awful without them."

Mother, 5 Children Saved From Flames

DETROIT (AP)—A mother and her five children were carried to safety through smoke and flames today by two policemen who broke into a burning building in Hamtramck.

Patrolmen Harold Butler and Emil Jones said they spotted the fire while cruising in the area, broke through a locked back door and groped up a smoke-filled stairway, yelling to awaken Mrs. Lucille Hinson and her children.

A fireman was overcome by smoke in fighting the blaze. No one else was injured. Fire officials estimated damage to the two-story brick and frame building at $50,000. It housed the Hinson apartment, a tobacco shop, dry cleaning shop and a hat store.

Led to safety with Mrs. Hinson were her children, Sandra, 13; Linda, 8; Charles, 3; Donna, 2, and Dodson, 1. Mrs. Hinson is a widow.

Fireman Joseph Brakoniecki, 39, was overcome by smoke and taken to a hospital for observation.

The blaze was brought under control in about four hours. Cause was not determined.

U.S. Airman Banked Wrong Way

Crashing Pilot Spared Japanese Town

ASHIYA AIR BASE, Japan (AP) — The American pilot whose crippled transport plane crashed into a U.S. Air Force barracks Wednesday had banked the wrong way to avoid a Japanese town of 30,000 people.

The pilot and six other American servicemen died in the crash. Another airman was reported missing, and 13 were injured.

The pilot who spared the nearby town of Ashiyamachi was the only fatality among the eight men aboard the giant turboprop C130. The other seven escaped with slight injuries.

The other casualties were men in the barracks.

The two-story, E-shaped barracks, housing 225 men but almost deserted at meal time, was leveled.

The 2½-million-dollar transport, coming in from Iwo Jima with one of its four turboprop engines dead, apparently approached too far down the runway and was rising for another try when it went out of control.

"The pilot in the usual flight pattern would have turned to the right when attempting to make another landing," said an operations officer, but this pilot turned left. He did it to avoid Ashiyamachi."

The plane crunched into the barracks, spewed exploding gasoline through the building, floundered briefly in the air, and then hit the ground in flames, 100 feet beyond.

The C130's loadmaster, A. 2.C. James V. Farrel, Levittown, N.Y., was called a hero for guiding other crewmen from the burning aircraft.

"If it wasn't for him we'd all be dead," one of the rescued crewmen said.

Farrel, who suffered only minor cuts and bruises, said: "I was in the cockpit when the plane crashed. I found a hole and went through. The others followed me. It was such a mess and we got slammed around so I didn't know where we were. When I saw dirt I dove for it."

Names of the dead and two men seriously injured were withheld.

House OKs Increase in Wayne Circuit Court

LANSING (AP)—A bill to increase the number of judges on the Wayne County Circuit Bench from 18 to 20 shifted to the Senate today after squeezing past the House with two votes to spare.

Rep. Frederick Yates (D-Detroit) said the new judges were needed to ease "production line justice" in Wayne County's Circuit Court.

But, Rep. Harry J. Phillips (R-Port Huron), estimating the cost to the state at $25,000 annually, asserted visiting judges and court referees were reducing the court's backlog of cases.

He lit into attorney-lawmakers "who talk economy out of the side of their mouths but when it comes to a judge don't have the guts to vote."

Michigan is served by 32 railroads with 6,635 miles of main line tracks.

Ex-Convict Sought in Double Slaying

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A divorcee and her boy friend died in a blaze of gunfire in her apartment Wednesday night and police started looking for her former husband, an ex-convict.

Estelle Hamilton, 30, was killed with one shot from a .380 Magnum revolver. Lorenzo Bernard, 33, was fatally wounded.

Inspector Richard Young said police are seeking Raymond M. Hamilton, 37. He said witnesses gave police a description of an auto that sped away from the apartment.

State Figure Smallest in 3 Years

Prison Population Drops

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's prison population has dipped below 10,000 for the first time in more than three years.

The Corrections Department reported the figure on May 15 was 9,886—the first below-10,000 count since the 9,996 listed on May 5, 1956.

State Corrections Director Gus Harrison credited the reduction to an accelerated release policy initiated in January.

The temporary policy was adopted to relieve dangerous overmates had soared to 10,660.

crowding after the number of in-

Under the plan, release dates of parolees were advanced up to 90 days. Blanket permission to do this was granted by sentencing judges.

However, the policy will be terminated next month and Harrison expects the prison population will begin to rise again.

Why not continue it?

"The policy was designed to cope with an emergency situation and it did the job," Harrison said. "I doubt that the Corrections Commission would want to continue it since, in a sense, it is extra-legal."

Woodward Estates Residents Plan Tea

Detroit Recorder's Court Judge Elvin L. Davenport will be the guest speaker at a tea Sunday, sponsored by the Woodward Estates Property Onwers Assn.

Judge Davenport, who is interested in neighborhood projects and the upkeep and improvement of property, will discuss "You and Your Property."

The open meeting will be held at the Benjamin Franklin School, 661 Franklin Rd., from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

Purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the public with the purpose, progress and future of the association, and to introduce new officers.

That's Not Chicken Feed

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP—When Roy Wilmuth opened his new chicken feeder he found $1,000 in it. He had bought the feeder at the hardware store of Ralph Stanley over the weekend. He returned the money to Stanley, who explained he had hidden it to keep burglars from finding it.

Legislative Study of Education Proposed Again

LANSING (AP)—A $25,000, two-year study of education problems from kindergarten through 12th grade levels has been proposed in the Senate.

A resolution submitted by Sen. Arthur H. Dehmel (R-Unionville), Education Committee chairman, would build on foundations laid by the existing committee to study public education.

Dehmel suggested an eight-member legislative group equally divided between senators and representatives.

He said the present group was unable to finish the job because of the complexity of problems encountered, acute public concern over education financing, statewide dissatisfaction over reorganization, dissension on curricula, and time and financing limitations.

Waterford Woman Hurt in Collision on M59

Mrs. James Wilkinson, 50, of 3255 W. Huron St., Waterford Township, was injured when her car was struck as she tried to make a left turn into the driveway of a grocery store on M59 near Elizabeth Lake road.

A car driven by Michael Lang, 17, of 86 Riviera collided with Mrs. Wilkinson's car. Lang told police he was unable to stop in time to avoid the crash.

Mrs. Wilkinson, taken to Pontiac General Hospital with injuries to her right elbow and both knees, was treated and released.

WSU Governors Meet 1st Time

New Board Selects UAW's Woodcock as Chairman

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University's brand new Board of Governors held its first meeting yesterday.

The six-member board, composed of five men and a woman who make up a 5-1 Democratic majority, put in a solid day of consultation in its initial effort at running the institution of 19,500 students.

Leonard Woodcock, a vice president of the United Auto Workers Union and a Democrat, was elected chairman by a unanimous vote.

With election of the board April 6, the big university came under full direct control of the State of Michigan.

The only Republican on the board is Benjamin J. Burdick. Democrats are Mrs. Jean McKee of Grand Rapids, Clair A. White of Bay City and Dr. Michael Ference Jr. and Dr. DeWitt T. Burton of Detroit.

In a day-long session the board examined university routine and approved a new hospitalization insurance plan for faculty members.

Dean Arthur Neef, university provost, commented to the board on the institution's change in status, bringing it under state direction.

Discussing university budget problems, Dean Neef made a point of what he called Detroit's land costs.

"From now on the Legislature will control our capital budget and it has been our experience," he said, "that they (the Legislature) are not used to the high land costs we have here."

The world under the sea is far from silent. Fish and other animals make many strange sounds that can be detected by hydroplanes. Croakers make a noise like a pneumatic drill. Schools of certain shrimp sound like fat frying.

Teamsters Men Apart

Action and Suspicion Are Hoffa Characteristics

By United Press International

To those who know "Jimmie" Hoffa, his threat — later denied — to work for a nationwide strike if Congress makes unions subject to anti-trust action came as no surprise.

Hoffa is an energetic, five-foot, five-inch individualist who has injected his own personality into the union he controls, formally known as the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America.

Despite the fact that the union, largest independent labor organization in the world, covers even more territory than its name implies, it is an extremely clannish group.

"The Teamsters are a race apart," Hoffa once said. "My friends in the labor business are mostly all Teamsters. The rest you gotta watch with both eyes."

It is out of this suspiciousness that the Teamsters philosophy of operation has developed. This philosophy is that the Teamsters can take care of themselves and their own troubles and any outside interference, by government or other labor organizations, is unwelcome.

This feeling dominated the Teamsters even before Hoffa became president. As ninth vice president of the union under Dave Beck, he was the power behind the throne.

It also was in a large part responsible for the Teamsters' ouster didn't like to have anyone else, even a labor organization of which it was a member, telling it what to do.

James Riddle Hoffa, as he was named when he was born 46 years ago, is not a theorist. He prefers the "muscle" or direct action approach.

He is always poised for a fight and will use whatever methods seem most applicable at the time.

"A union isn't a social club," he once said.

To Hoffa, a union's most effective answer to any opposition it meets is a strike.

"I don't think anybody can say I am strike-happy," he once said. "But I am certainly not afraid of strikes. I am very much opposed to anybody trying to call a strike either to build themselves up, save face, or make a lot of noise . . . When you're striking you've got to make them feel it is to win and you don't strike unless you expect to win."

Hoffa was born Feb. 14, 1913, in Brazil, Ind., to a coal driller of German descent. He worked in a warehouse when he was 17 and affiliated with an independent union when he was 18. He took the union into the AFL six months later, and continued to rise rapidly in the union ranks.

Northville Crash Laid to Machinery

DETROIT (AP)—The crash of a jet plane in suburban Northville May 8 was caused by malfunction of the automatic pilot or failure of the elevator control system, an Air Force investigation board said yesterday.

The pilot of the F84F, Maj. John L. Moutier of Belleville, parachuted to safety shortly before the craft plunged into a residential area. Two children are recovering from burns suffered when the plane fell.

The ruling on the crash came after five hours of testimony before a board headed by Col. William R. Schaal at Metropolitan Airport. Schaal said that extensive damage to the plane made it impossible to reach a definite conclusion on the cause.

Maj. Moutier was returning from a photo reconnaissance flight. He was attached to the 127th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing of the Michigan Air National Guard.

Michigan's population increase — more than 10 per cent in the last five years — is the biggest in the middle west, according to U.S. Census Bureau figures.

Gold Coins Halt Work

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—A bulldozer breaking ground for a high school shattered a jar in which $20 in gold coins had been buried. All work stopped. Workers and spectators rushed for the coins, then scratched the earth for more. About 25 were found before the hunt finished and work resumed.

Genesee Bank Declares 40-Cent Stock Dividend

The Board of Directors of the Genesee Merchants Bank and Trus Co. of Flint was declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents a share payable June 15 to stockholders of record May 29, the firm's Ortonville branch office announced.

The dividend amounts to $130,140 on 325,350 shares outstanding.

Man Receiving Old Age Benefits Is Worth $29,000

NEW YORK (UPI) — Blue chip stocks worth $29,000 were found this week in the home of a 92-year-old man who has been receiving public welfare payments for the last 13 years.

The Department of Welfare obtained a court order yesterday to seize the securities as a first step toward recovering the $14,473.72 it has paid out to James Flaherty, owner of the stocks.

The securities were found in Flaherty's home after he was taken to a hospital Monday. The department said some had been acquired before and some since he began receiving old age assistance payments in 1946.

Don't Like Criticism of Seminary

'Outsiders' Anger Southern Baptists

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A showdown loomed today on whether Southern Baptists will stand for continued regulation by an outside accrediting agency of the way they run their theological schools.

The issue, which touches a sensitive nerve in relationships among Protestants, was expected to go before the denomination's annual convention.

It stems from the intervention of the American Assn. of Theological Schools, an interdenominational accrediting body, in a smoldering dispute at Southern Baptist Theological Seminary here.

The seminary has been ordered to rectify certain conditions — or lose its accredited status.

In retaliation, the Rev. L. E. Barton of Montgomery, Ala., is pushing a move to get the convention to pull all six of its seminaries out of the association.

This would automatically cost them their standing with other theological institutions.

In circulars sent to Baptist leaders throughout the country, Barton has maintained that outsiders have no business telling Southern Baptists how to conduct their affairs.

They have never belonged to such interchurch cooperative groups as the National and World councils of churches, and Barton contends their seminaries should not be subject to any "ecumenical organization."

Top leaders of the nine-million-member denomination, including President Brooks Hays, have opposed any walkout from the association, saying it would be a grave blow at Baptist academic prestige.

Seminary officials also have worked to correct the original problem, involving the mass firing last summer of 13 professors, in compliance with criticisms by the association.

One professor has been reinstated. The dismissal of the others has been rescinded, and they have resigned.

They had originally assailed the seminary administration of Dr. Duke K. McCall as high-handed.

Meanwhile, the 15,000 Baptist "messengers" and visitors from across the country heard several reports, including a warning that Christianity is not keeping abreast of growing population.

They registered strong approval of a plea by Hays for establishment of racial justice and elimination of discrimination.

"This is part of the Christian gospel, and we must demonstrate that we believe it," the former congressman from Arkansas said. "It is the mission field on our own doorstep."

A two-way race developed in the election of a successor to Hays, with Dr. Ramsey Pollard, Knoxville, Tenn., and a surprise Georgia candidate, the Rev. Dr. Roy O. McClain of Atlanta, leading a field of five in the first voting. A run-off vote was set Thursday.

State Charges 2 Men Stole at Liquor Store

LANSING (UPI)—The manager of the West Branch state liquor store and a clerk have been charged with stealing $3,000 worth of the store's liquor.

The Liquor Control Commission said yesterday that George Hegeman, 64, manager of the store nearly 24 years, and Clark Hennessey, 47, a clerk there six years, were scheduled for preliminary examination on the charge June 6.

Loss of the liquor was discovered by commission auditors. A commission spokesman said the pair was taking the liquor and replacing full cases with empty ones to cover the theft.

Nearly 150 billion cubic feet of gas is stored in 13 underground storage fields in Michigan, thus assuring industry of a constant supply during periods of peak demand or emergency.

'Baby Brother' Lindsay a Sly, Quiet 'Phantom'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Here comes the Phantom."

That's the way the older Crosbys greet their baby brother, Lindsay. He has earned the handle by his air of mystery. While the comings and goings of the other three are fairly predictable, Lindsay is always hard to locate. Here's how the brothers describe him:

Gary: "He's like the old man (Bing). He's more quiet than the rest of us, more sly with his humor."

Phillip: "He's the coolest one of us. He has a great disposition."

Dennis: "Lindsay just exists."

Lindsay differs in looks, too. He is the darkest of the four, with curly brown hair and heavy eyebrows, a slim, handsome face with cleft chin. At 21, he seems amazingly mature.

Gary and the twins were only a year apart. Lindsay came three and a half years later, and he recalls being an unwelcome tagalong during his boyhood. After Dixie died, Bing dropped his career to spend most of a year with Lindsay. They toured Europe, where Lindsay pursued his interest in art.

SERVED IN ARMY

The lad attended a semester at Williams College in Massachusetts, then dropped out to serve his Army duty. "I liked Williams, but I didn't think I was getting anything out of it," he says.

Most of his Army service was at Ft. Ord, 300 miles north of Hollywood. It was during this time that he decided on a show business career. He emceed an Army show on a Los Angeles TV station and sang for teen-agers at roller rinks and dance halls.

"One night I looked down at all those kids watching me and I discovered I was enjoying myself, he says.

Recently out of the Army, Lindsay shares a two-bedroom hillside home with singer Jimmy Boyd.

He has made some records with fair success — "But they wanted me to sing rock 'n' roll and my voice is too low for that." Jerry Wald feels he has great promise as an actor and wants to cast him in "Hound Dog Man." But Lindsay insists that nothing will interfere with the brother act the Crosbys are preparing for a nationwide tour.

REHEARSE HARD

All four feel the same way. As you watch them go through strenuous rehearsals, you can sense a dedication that seems more profound than the usual urge to succeed in show business.

They are not merely four young men trying to score as performers. They are the Crosby boys, still lingering in the shade of a world-renowned father.

The relationship has advantages, including financial security; each boy is worth at least $200,000, largely from their mother's trust fund. And the famous name has opened certain doors for them as entertainers. But, as Dennis points out, "We've got to be good after those doors are opened."

2 Detroit Officers to Face Trial Board

DETROIT (UPI)—Two policemen, acquitted of charges that they raped a 22-year-old waitress while on duty, face a police trial board next Wednesday.

Patrolmen Edwin B. Cable, 36, and Michael T. O'Donnell, 31, were cleared by a Recorders Court jury Tuesday. They were accused of forcing the waitress, a mother of two children, to a parking lot and attacking her.

Atty. Harry C. Kent, who represented the officers at their trial, said he will seek to have the men reinstated with full back pay. Both were suspended when the charge was made.

Police Commissioner Herbert W. Hart said the police board has not decided upon the specific charges to be brought against the men.

Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Thirty years of tremendous efforts by industrialist Fred Matthaei to bring the Olympic games to Detroit seem almost futile as the big moment for selecting the 1964 site nears.

Matthaei and his committee continue to work tirelessly to bring the international event to Detroit despite worldwide claims that Tokyo will get the bid in 1964.

The decision will be known within the next few days as the 64 delegates of the world meet at the International Olympic Committee conference in Munich starting tomorrow.

Everything seems to be stacked against Detroit getting the games, and what makes it more difficult is the fact that Detroit doesn't even have the support of all the U.S. delegates.

Surprisingly, the strongest support for Detroit is expected to come from the Soviet Union.

The Russians, who walked away with the 1956 games, would like to come to the U. S. to show off their athletes to the American people.

Tokyo, however, is almost sure of getting the 1964 Olympics for many reasons.

The Japanese did not get the 1940 games because of the war, and sentiment by European and Australian countries favor staging the affair in an Asian country in 1964.

South America is also expected to favor Tokyo, because Beunos Aires has made it known it will seek the 1968 Olympiad and is ready to make a deal with the Japanese in reciprocal voting.

Even Los Angeles has not come to the support of Detroit because officials of the coast city are also interested in getting the games in 1968 and they are ready to play politics in exchanging votes with other nations to get them.

Why there should be so much sentiment in favor of Tokyo is beyond us. After all, the Japanese were highly responsible for the war which lost them the games, and they should be made to forfeit the "rain check" they claim they are due.

If they want a rain check then they should wait until 1968 or 1972 even if it means bluntly telling them that spoils still go to the victors and not to the instigators of the war.

Observers say that Detroit could get the 1964 games only if International Committee chairman Avery Brundage went on record publicly favoring the Motor City.

But the same observers say Brundage won't do this for the reason that he does not want to lose his status as the International head.

He won't be international head forever and this is the least he could do for the city in which he was born. The same observers say that only one man could persuade Brundage to publicly favor Detroit and that is President Eisenhower.

So as the International wheels turn at Munich during the next week, we can expect disappointment at the decision for the 1964 Olympics and we can have great reason to rejoice if Detroit is selected, because the odds just don't favor it.

Perennial Champs 8th 1st Time in 19 Years

'Mighty' Yankees Are Last

Ker-PLUNK!

The Yankees are last.

Incredibly whether you're toasting the plunge in champagne or cryin' in your beer, it's incredible either way the club that has handed the American League a decade of drudgery is at the bottom of the pile.

The club that has won nine pennants and seven world championships in 10 years is in the cellar.

You have to go back to May 25, 1940, to find a set of standings that shows the New York Yankees in eighth place at this stage of the season. And those 1940 Yankees, too, were world champions. They had won four consecutive world series, and had swept the Chicago Cubs and Cincinnati in four straight in 1938 and 1939.

Yet that New York Yankee club, too, was last. By August 9 it still was only a .500 team (51-51), and while it was to make a brief stand in first place by winning the opener of a double-header on September 11 as Ernie Bonham beat Bob Feller at Cleveland, it finished third—missing a fifth consecutive pennant by three games.

Detroit was the champion, by one game over Cleveland and two games over New York.

But that was long ago. Yogi Berra was a kid of 15 on The Hill in St. Louis. Mickey Mantle was 7, Tony Kubek 3. Of the 16 players Manager Casey Stengel used as Detroit plunked the Yankees into the cellar with a 13-6 crash yesterday, only Enos Slaughter was in organized ball in 1940. He was the 24-year-old country boy playing outfield for the St. Louis Cardinals.

Stengel? He was managing the National League's old Boston Bees, who escaped the cellar in the last month and finished seventh.

Cleveland Manager Joe Gordon was the star second baseman for the New York Yankees the last time they were in the cellar. He recalls that 1940 season vividly.

"We had won four pennants in a row," he said last night. "And then all of a sudden we couldn't do anything right. And we were a better club than the Yankees are now.

"That bad start killed us. We finally started winning, but it was too late. There were too many teams ahead of us and we finished third."

Quietly, and without bitterness, the man who has won nine pennants and seven world championships in his 10 seasons with the team discussed its problems.

The nearest he came to a threat was the comment: "I expect those pitchers of ours realize that they will have to do better than that (what they did yesterday) or they can't stay around."

Prior to yesterday Stengel had pointed to lack of timely hitting as the basis for the troubles. Yesterday he reckoned the hitting wasn't too bad.

That he has confidence the team is better than its record might indicate was hinted by his statement that "I think three or four clubs will pay for those runs before the season is over."

Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! He! He! Ha! Ha! Oh! Ha! Ha! Ha!

NEW YORK (UPI) — Casey Stengel looked up at his seven American league rivals today and reminded them: "He who laughs last, laughs the mostest."

Right now the biggest laughs belong to Baltimore, Kansas City and Washington, three perennial second division teams who currently are battling for first division berths.

A last-place manager for the first time in 19 years, Stengel also warned his battered New York Yankee pitchers, "some of you guys better start doin' better or you won't be around here very long."

HA! HA! YANKS — This is the way American League rivals looked at the Yankee situation as of today. It has been a long time since perennial cellar teams like Washington and Kansas City had a chance to laugh at the Yanks, but this was their day. Of course Casey Stengel said, "He who laughs last laughs the mostest."

Yost Belts Two Homers in 4th Win Over N.Y.

19-Hit Barrage Includes Circuit Clout by Harris; 3 Rough Series Ahead

DETROIT (UPI) — Before the Tigers start feeling too cocky, it might be best to look ahead.

Beating the Yankees has become almost commonplace to the Tigers — they've done it four times in as many tries this season and year in and year out, the Yanks are one of the few clubs Detroit holds a winning record against.

But tomorrow night Detroit opens a four-game, weekend series in Cleveland. They've lost all five games to the Indians. Then there's a three-day stretch at Kansas City. They're 0-for-3 in K.C. and after that comes a trip to Chicago for four games in three days. Against the Sox, Detroit is 1-5. Cleveland, Chicago and Kansas City have dealt Detroit 13 of its 20 defeats.

The Tigers, who whaled the Yankees to a fare-thee-well with Frank Lary 13-6 yesterday in sweeping the two-game series, spent a day off at home today.

Detroit's historic conquest of the Yanks, which gave Lary an 18-5 all-time mark against New York, was sweet for lots of reasons.

Besides abandoning last place, the Tigers squared their road record at 4-4 and stirred hopes for continued improvement with an 11-5 record under Manager Jimmie Dykes since he took over the club May 3.

Nineteen Detroit hits, including two homers by Eddie Yost with six RBIs for the third baseman, all but pulverized the Yankees. Besides his two homers, Yost got a single. One of Eddie's homers was a grand slammer.

Yankee-killer Lary was just that again. The Yanks clipped him for two runs in the first inning on Mickey Mantle's single and Yogi Berra's first of two homers. But until the ninth they totaled only six hits. Two singles and homers by Mantle and Berra accounted for four Yank runs in the ninth when Detroit was out ahead by 13-2.

Lary, striking out nine men and walking three, notched his fourth victory of the season against three defeats. Two of the triumphs have been over New York.

The gritty righthander and Yost were the top Tigers of the day, although all the cast was effective. Every man in the lineup got a hit except Lary and he forced a two-out walk in the Tigers' six-run seventh that set the stage for Yost's grand slammer.

Detroit tied it at 2-2 in the fifth on Charley Maxwell's two-run single and went ahead with three in the sixth, including Gail Harris' homer.

The Tigers got all their six runs in the seventh off former teammate Duke Maas. In the entire frame, Duke gave up seven hits and a walk. He failed to show up for the eighth.

With two out and Al Kaline on first from a single, Rocky Bridges tripled in the first run. Red Wilson singled home Bridges and Frank Bolling also singled. At this point Lary, fouling off several pitches, forced his important base on balls and Yost unloaded the grand slammer.

Yost led off the ninth with his second homer. Two walks and a single by Coot Veal scored another run.

The two homers by Yost gave him nine for the season, one more than his total for all of last year. He also finagled two walks in the game, giving him a lifetime free-ride total of 1,301.

Idle today, the Tigers could move up to a sixth place tie with the Boston Red Sox, provided the Kansas City Athletics beat the Sox in the only game in the American League.

Experienced Drivers Sought at Indy

19 Spots Open for Memorial Day Classic

Only 30 Veterans Are Available to Take 44 Cars Through Trials

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Motor Speedway is suffering from an acute shortage of experienced drivers, with 44 cars still to make qualification runs for the 500-mile race May 30.

Only about 30 men with the ability and experience to drive at more than 140 miles an hour were available for these 44 cars. They will get their chance to qualify Saturday and Sunday.

Fourteen cars qualified last weekend, leaving 19 places open in the 33-car starting lineup. After 19 more cars have qualified, the slower ones may be bumped from the lineup by faster qualifiers.

The driver shortage may lead to considerable car hopping in the final qualifications. A car may qualify only once, but a driver whose car is eliminated may try again in another.

Three of the 61 cars originally entered have been wrecked beyond repair.

Rain yesterday narrowed the field of drivers by washing out the final driver tests for two rookies, Russ Congdon of Payallup, Wash., and Johnny Kay of New Britain, Conn. Chief steward Harlan Fengler said there would be no extension of the test time.

The rain also deprived both qualified and unqualified cars of needed practice time, and observers revised downward their predictions of the minimum qualifying speed needed to make the starting lineup.

Drivers and mechanics predicted that 141 miles an hour would make the field. Duane Carter of Indianapolis in the Yunich-Glover-Lathrop Special, slowest of the first 14 qualifiers at 142.795, looked a lot safer than he did after last weekend.

Hall-of-Famers Accept Honors

Sports People Inducted Into Michigan List of Elite Figures

DETROIT (AP) — Solemnity attended the 1959 inductions into Michigan's sports hall of fame yesterday.

One man's widow and the surviving brother of another honored sports personage accepted the honors.

Mrs. Allen B. Stowe, widow of the Kalamazoo tennis coach who was a benefactor of the game, accepted in the name of her husband.

Dr. Stowe and Ketchell were among the six elected to the hall of fame this year by sports writers and sportscasters. The other four were Earl (Dutch) Clark, former Detroit Lions halfback; Ray Fisher, former Michigan baseball coach; Matt Mann, former Michigan swimming coach, and Mrs. Marion Ladewig, women's bowling champion.

TOAST FOR YOST—Detroit's Eddie Yost was the toast of the team yesterday as a welcoming committee greets him after he hit a grand slam home run against the Yanks in the 7th inning. He had two homers in the game. Greeting him are Harvey Kuenn (7), Frank Bolling (2), Bob Wilson (10) and Frank Lary (17). Yost accounted for six of the Tigers' 13 runs.

Tribe Clings to Slim Lead in AL

From Our Wire Services

Cleveland held on to first place in the American League Wednesday night by defeating Washington 5-3, behind the combined six-hit pitching of Herb Score and Jim Perry.

Second place Chicago remained a half game off the lead by trimming Baltimore 5-2.

Harmon Killebrew, the Senators' sensational 22-year-old third baseman, struck out three times but also belted a 430-foot homer two-thirds of the way up in the left-centerfield bleachers.

This was Killebrew's 15th home run and gave him the major league lead over Milwaukee's Eddie Mathews, who has 14.

Lanky Dick Donovan of the Chicago White Sox pitched the pesky Baltimore Orioles into submission 5-2 Wednesday night, allowing them only four hits, but was on pins and needles until the eighth inning.

Donovan, although his teammates were more than doubling the output of Oriole hits, enjoyed only a 3-2 lead until a two-base fielding error helped his White Sox twice in the eighth.

The victory enabled the White Sox to stay half a game behind American League-leading Cleveland, winner over Washington. The Orioles held on to third place.

Jack Harshman, Oriole southpaw pitcher, made a bid for his first victory against five setbacks by clouting a homer in the second inning to put his team ahead 2-1. He gave way in the seventh for a pinch hitter and the White Sox jumped into their lead off Billy Loes.

A two-run single by Frank House gave the A's a 3-1 lead in the fourth. Roger Maris drove in three runs, two with his 10th homer, as Kansas City took fourth place with an 8-2 win over the Red Sox behind the eight-hit pitching of Ray Herbert (3-3).

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: Undone by the wind.

DIAGNOSIS: Overswinging is your trouble.

TREATMENT: Here we get just slightly into psychology. But please don't be alarmed. It is practical psychology.

Nearly every golfer I know has trouble hitting shots into a strong wind. The trouble in almost every case stems from trying to swing harder so as to counteract the adverse effect of the wind. This is all wrong.

What you must do when playing into the wind is to swing as you normally do. This is easy, because the wind strongly tempts you to try to give the swing something extra. What is needed, then, is an extra effort of the will to swing within your maximum power.

I find that the best way to accomplish the above is to determine at the start of the swing that you will finish the swing ON BALANCE. Think the swing through to the finish before playing a shot into the wind.

This treatment may not accomplish wonders. But I guarantee it will help.

PCH Wins by One Stroke

Samardzija's Ace Nips Birmingham Golf Team

"We got aced" was the good-natured quip by coach Carl Lemle yesterday after his Birmingham High School golf team lost an abbreviated dual match to Pontiac Central at Springdale Park in Birmingham.

And Lemle wasn't kidding, either!

Pontiac Central defeated the Maples by one stroke, 327-328, and the eventual difference in the final count came on Springdale's 276-yard 8th hole where Mike Samardzija of the Chiefs scored a hole-in-one.

Samardzija actually hit his tee shot from about 250 yards away because the normal tee was under repair. But it's listed as a par four hole and Mike aced it with his No. 3 wood.

Samardzija was playing with teammate Tom Deaton plus Gary Mouw and Buzz Lewis of Birmingham. When the four boys reached the green, they pulled the pin out of the cup and there was the ball. The green lays in a gulley and tea-offs on that hole are blind shots.

Samardzija's ace also enabled him to take medal honors with a 70, four over par. Deaton and Mouw followed with 71's and Lewis had 75.

The Samardzija foursome was the only group to play the entire 18-hole round. Heavy showers descended on the course, halting the next foursome after 15 holes and the remaining two golfers after 14.

Lemle and Central coach Dick Ayling agreed to tabulate the score up to that point and the Chiefs gained a one-stroke win. Birmingham's loss snapped a dual meet victory string for the Maples that had reached 36 in a row.

It was Pontiac's 12th dual triumph in 13 outings and gave the Maples a 6-1 season record. The two schools will meet twice more this spring, Saturday in the state Class A meet at Port Huron and Monday at Pontiac Country Club in the 8th annual Pontiac Press Prep Invitational tourney.

Rounding out yesterday's scoreboard: Pontiac Central—John Taylor 68 and Ron Sugg 61 (15 holes), Bill Davis 57 (14 holes); Birmingham—Tom Maxwell 63 and Orin Pearson 60 (15 holes), John Cooper 59 (14 holes).

Woman to Head Athletic Staff at Detroit School

DETROIT (AP) — For the first time, a woman is reported due to be named athletic director of a high school in the Detroit Metropolitan League.

She is Betty Smith who was chosen for the post at Eastern High by Assistant School Superintendent Arthur McGrath. The Detroit Board of Education is expected to approve the selection at its meeting next Tuesday.

Miss Smith has coached basketball, field hockey, tennis and swimming for girls at Cass and MacKenzie high schools in the past six years. She will head a staff of four men and four women at Eastern.

Course Mark Set in Pro-Am

MEMPHIS (AP) — Pro Don Whitt of Borrego Springs, Calif., set a competitive course record over the Colonial Country Club course Wednesday in the pro-am prelude to the $25,000 Memphis Open golf tournament.

Whitt, blazing the back nine in 28, turned in a card of 63—seven under the 34-36—70 par for the 6,500-yard layout. That won him $250 as the day's low pro.

The pro-am team honors went to Paul Harney of Worchester, Mass., and the three amateurs who played with him: Ed Whitten, Duncan Taylor and John Dobbs, all of Memphis.

Harney's score was so high he didn't turn in a card, but in the best ball competition he and his amateurs combined for a score of 54—16 under par and two strokes better than any of the 63 teams.

The 99 pros and 20 amateurs in the 72-hole medal play tournament settle down to business Thursday. The final round comes up Sunday.

Earl Averill played at eight positions for San Diego in the Pacific Coast League in 1958.

SURE GRIP SPECIAL — Frank Klus of Farmington says he's mighty concerned over the Detroit Tigers' fielding, so he has devised a special "sure-grip" baseball which is guaranteed to eliminate "fumbling, bobbles and goofs." The baseball with the handle was made for Skip the TV clown who in turn has signed it over to the Tigers. "Only ball of its kind," said Klus who made it.

Jones Boosts Huron Stock

Eastern Is Title Favorite

YPSILANTI (AP) — Eastern Michigan, led by ace sprinter-hurdler Hayes Jones, is a strong favorite to repeat for the Interstate Conference track title Friday and Saturday.

Central Michigan and Southern Illinois are expected to give the Hurons their biggest challenge. Southern is unbeaten in dual meets this season.

Eastern Michigan will be seeking its third straight track crown and its 8th in the meet's 10-year history.

Western Illinois will bid for an 8th successive golf title. Southern Illinois may be the nearest pursuer. Western has the 1958 individual champion, John Ryskiewicz, and runner-up, Jim King, returning for action.

Southern Illinois, with a 13-5 season mark, is favored to retain its tennis laurels.

Business meetings will be held Friday with reports that at least one Illinois school may submit intention to withdraw from the league. Southern Illinois is expected to make such a move with the hope of entering a conference of larger schools.

Mrs. Martell Wins Again

Mrs. R. G. Martell toured North Hills in 81 strokes yesterday to win the Women's Metropolitan Golf Association tournament for the 2nd straight week. Mrs. Martell's scorecard read 42-39 for the 18-hole distance, three strokes better than Mrs. E. L. Goddard who shot 41-43. A total of 95 golfers competed.

Warren Cawley and his Farmington teammates warmed up for Saturday's state finals at East Lansing by taking Inter-Lakes honors for the 2nd straight year yesterday.

Cawley broke records in the three events he took part in despite a downpour which marred the event at Southfield. Frank Fink of Walled Lake set a pole vault mark and tied the loop's 100-yard dash high.

The South Central Conference also had its league meet. That was also during a downpour as Millington edged Imlay City at Oxford.

Farmington finished with 63 points by scoring in 11 of 13 events. Cawley's new marks were in both hurdles and the high jump. He missed matching the national record he now shares in the high hurdles by two-tenths of a second.

Waterford and Berkley joined Walled Lake with two individual victors apiece. Steady Mike Kaines took the mile and Mike Ewer won the 880 for the Skippers.

Oxford athletic whiz Doug Stott, who also won the high hurdles, and Bob Sebert of Millington broke the SOC high jump record reaching 10 feet, ½ inch. Dick Butterfield took both dashes and actually broke the 220 mark in 22.7. But the North Branch boy's feat may not be allowed because officials could not record the flash of the starter's gun.

Millington had 64½ points, Imlay 61½, N. Branch 43½, Oxford 22½ and Ortonville 3.

Another state final coming up Saturday will be in golf as Pontiac Central, St. Fred, Birmingham and West Bloomfield shoot for honors at Port Huron. Tennis swings into the crucial stages with regionals set for Friday and Saturday.

PREP SHORTS

Popular Mike Flynn won the outstanding athlete award at the St. Michael banquet recently. Shamrock followers expecting a lot from their boys next fall . . . PCH track coach Dean Wilson happy to be underdog in state battle . . . St. Fred seeking a line coach since Tony Pizza will be busy next fall at Northern.

The latest local coach to leave the area is Arvid Watt of Almont. He will move to St. Clair after piling up a 69-19 hoop record . . . Madison has had a happy spring. Baseballers took 1st Oakland B title since 1929 and track team won school's 1st dual track meet in history . . . Holly hoop ace George McDaniel had all kinds of college offers after the state tourney but his heart was set on U. of D. all the time.

Rain Postpones Diamond Action

All Activity Suspended by Showers; Reschedule City Softball Sunday

Hard rain postponed all City League and Waterford League softball action last night and also washed out yesterday's Class B City League baseball game at Jaycee Park.

Griff's Grill held a 2-0 lead over Don Nicholie when showers halted play after two full innings.

The rained-out City League softball program has been rescheduled Sunday night with the same starting time and location for each game.

Tonight's city softball schedule: At Beaudette . . . Griff's Grill vs. State Hospital (International), 7 p.m., and Elks No. 810 vs. Pontiac Merchants (American), 8:30 p.m. At Northside—Sport Shop vs. Rogers Electric (International), 7 p.m. and Langdon's Boat Livery vs. Pontiac Retailers (International), 8:30 p.m.

Pontiac Business Institute is slated to meet Talbott Lumber today at 5:30 p.m. in Class B baseball on the Jaycee diamond.

Fleser Leads MSU Over Titans, 8-0

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan State scored five runs in the eighth inning and defeated the University of Detroit 8-0 in a non-conference baseball game yesterday.

The victory was MSU's 19th of the season against 12 defeats. Detroit, hopeful of getting an NCAA post-season tournament bid, now is 13-4 for the season.

John Fleser, Spartan left fielder, from Birmingham, paced Michigan State batters with a home run and two singles. Mickey Sinks, second of three Michigan State pitchers, was credited with the victory. Starter Gary Mettie was the loser.

Michigan State	201	000	050	8 10 0

Ace 'On the House'

Robert C. Wyatt was a guest at Birmingham Country Club yesterday and he was so appreciative of the hospitality that he shot a hole-in-one. Wyatt, who lives at 231 South Glenhurst in Birmingham, aced the 175-yard 3rd hole with his No. 4 wood. That makes two aces at Birmingham CC this year.

Tragedies Pose Question

Is '500' Race Heading for Toned-Down Touch?

ROME (AP) — May 30 will be a busy one for the automobile racing world — and perhaps a day of stock taking.

At Indianaplis, Ind., where two drivers have been killed this week in practice sessions, the 500-mile Memorial Day classic will be run. It is expected to be as wide open and as fast as ever.

In Italy, the once thrilling and often bloody Mille Miglia thousand miler will get under way, to little more than an auto rally.

The running of the two events on the same day is likely to pose a question: Is the Indianapolis race, after this week's deaths and last year's spectacular pile-up, heading for the same toned-down treatment as the Mille Miglia?

In 1957 an accident in the Mille Miglia brought death to two drivers and 10 spectators, and the Italian government cracked down. It ordered Brescia, the town where the road race starts and ends, to slow it down to the speed of a rally. Fast sports cars are banned. A 50 kilometer 30-mile an hour speed limit was imposed.

Even then, two drivers died in last year's race. The same restrictions have been imposed by the government for this year's race, which ends May 31.

Elsewhere in Europe there have been similar reactions to death in auto races.

Ninety spectators died in 1955 in an accident at Le Mans, France. The government did not demand a drastic revision of the race, but it did order widening of the tracks, special barriers to keep the crowds back, and better control of the pit stops.

Last year Italy's Luigi Musso was killed during the French Grand Prix at Rheims, and Peter Collins of Britain in an accident in the German Grand Prix at Neuerburg.

International racing officials reacted. They ordered the engine capacity of grand prix Formula I racing cars limited to 1½ liters starting in 1961. The capacity now is 1½ liters. Indianapolis cars are about 4 liters.

As a further safety measure, grand prix cars are limited to 1,100 pounds.

Not all European racing circles are convinced the decisions were necessary. Mike Hawthorn, the Briton who won the world driving championship last year and died later in a private car accident, termed them "retrograde."

In 1957 and 1958 the Monza 500-milers, with many Indianapolis veterans participating, produced speed 30 to 40 miles an hour faster than the Indianapolis speeds, but there were no accidents.

Monza engineers think their track is especially safe because of its oval shape and two 38-degree banked curves. They say this construction makes Monza safer than Indianapolis.

Bass Season to Get Start With Festival

LANSING (UPI) — Michigan's bass fishing season gets started about a month from now with the annual bass festival June 20 at Mancelona.

The Michigan Tourist Council also said the annual perch festival is scheduled for June 11-13 at Ludington, the bluegill frolic at Marcellus June 26-29 and the summer fishing derby at Cheboygan June 27.

Giants End Milwaukee Streak, Cubs Rolling

Cardinals Win 4th Straight

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Cardinals finally have made a move to see how the other half lives in that National League pennant chase.

They're still seventh, just five days free of the cellar and eight games shy of first place, but the Red Birds are on their first real winning streak after whipping Pittsburgh and winless Bob Friend 11-1 last night.

It was the Cards' fourth straight and they did it on the six-hit pitching of Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell and the second successive three-RBI game by Bill White, who has six hits in eight trips for two nights.

That put St. Louis within four games of the first division after Los Angeles slipped to fourth by splitting a twi-night doubleheader with Cincinnati. The fifth-place Reds beat the Dodgers 7-5 after an opening 8-4 defeat.

The San Francisco Giants retained second, ending Milwaukee's winning streak at six games 6-3, and reducing the Braves' lead to 3½ games. Chicago's persistent Cubs are third, winning their third in a row with a 7-5 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies, who have dropped eight straight.

Mizell (5-1), who started the Cards' streak with an 8-2, four-hit victory over Philadelphia last Friday, walked but two, struck out four and shut out the Pirates on four hits over the last eight innings.

Young Mike McCormick (2-2) tamed the Braves, with ninth-inning relief help from Sam Jones and three RBI from Felipe Alou. The young outfielder belted a two-run homer in the fourth off loser Bob Buhl, then doubled home a tying run and scored the clincher on Daryl Spencer's double in a two-run sixth. Buhl (2-2) went all the way, giving up six hits and only three earned runs.

Hank Aaron hit his 12th homer for the Braves, who have lost only two of their last 11 games.

Joe Pignatano belted a three-run homer as the Dodgers wrapped up the opener with six runs in the seventh inning after Roy McMillan missed second base on what would have been an inning-ending doubleplay. Lefty-swinging Duke Snider also homered for the Dodgers, his first over the right field fence at the Coliseum—which is some 55 feet closer than it was last season. Danny McDevitt (3-2) gave up 10 hits, after holding the Reds hitless for five innings, while beating Brooks Lawrence (3-4).

Halfback Is Back

CHICAGO (AP) — Frank Bernardi, veteran Chicago Cardinal halfback who was out of action all last season with a knee injury, Wednesday signed his fifth one-year contract.

SPRY AND GAME — Mrs. Winifred Stader of 1085 LaSalle in Pontiac, and D. G. Taft of 23 Florence Ave., don't have any rocking chairs in mind. Mrs. Stader, 73 years old, and Mr. Taft, 85 years old, are the oldest of golfers who hold 65-and-over cards at the Municipal course.

For 'Unbecoming Conduct'

Hartack Gets Suspension

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Jockey Bill Hartack, a disciple of the give 'em hell school, and Peck's Bad Boy of the race track, is in trouble again.

He's been suspended and the ruling will keep the quick-tempered Johnstown, Pa., native out of the Withers Stakes at New York Saturday and the Jersey Stakes at Garden State May 30.

Hartack, once the nation's leading winner, was suspended yesterday for the balance of the 25-day Garden State Park meeting, which ends Memorial Day, for unbecoming conduct after the sixth race Saturday.

The famed jockey's troubles started when his horse, Vego, hesitated at the start.

After the race he called the stewards and reportedly said: "What do I have to do to get an honest shake around here?"

The three stewards, Earl Potter, representing the State of New Jersey; Keene Daingerfield and George Palmer, asked Hartack to report to them Monday.

Hartack said, however, that he had ulcers and had to visit a doctor. So he met privately with the stewards yesterday. The suspension was announced, but the track officials and Hartack declined further comment.

NASCAR Point Parade Is Led by Lee Petty

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Lee Petty, 44-year-old veteran race driver from Randleman, N. C., held a 600-point lead Wednesday in NASCAR's grand national division standings.

Petty had 4,648 points with Cotton Owens of Spartanburg, S. C., in second place with 4,052. Tom Pistone of Chicago was third with 3,260.

In the convertible division, Joe Lee Johnson of Chattanooga, Tenn., led with 3,904 with Larry Frank of Piedmont, N. C., in second spot with 3,648.

Gene White of Marietta, Ga., and Ken Ush of High Point, N. C., were tied for third with 3,008 points each.

DRC Opening Day Hindered by Rain

DETROIT (AP) — With a downpour of rain much to blame, the Detroit Race Course got off to a slow start of its new season yesterday.

The track's handle was $653,710, lowest first day business since 1950, and the attendance of 12,425 was 3,000 less than opening day last year.

The feature eighth race, the $5,000 Livonia Purse, also went contrary to hopes expectations. Pan, the 6-5 favorite, lost by a length and a half to Warbler.

First Woman Applies for Free Municipal Course Card

No Rockin' Chair for These Golf 'Youngins'

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"Learn to play golf or go bowling and you won't have time for the rocking chair."

That is the advice given by Mrs. Winifred Stader who at 73 years of age became the first and probably will be the oldest woman to apply for a golf courtesy card at the Pontiac Municipal course.

The City Recreation Department instituted the policy last year of permitting men and women over 65 to play golf free at the Municipal course.

Mrs. Stader, however, is not the oldest person to get a courtesy golf card.

That honor goes to Dana G. Taft, who at 85 years of age still manages to play 18 holes of golf each week.

"Of course I don't play 18 holes all at once," said Taft. "I usually play nine on Wednesday and nine on the weekend."

Both Mrs. Stader and Taft agree that golf has kept their legs in good shape.

"I have also bowled for the last seven years in winter and summer leagues," said Mrs. Stader, "but now I decided to get back to playing golf after a lapse of 20 years."

Mrs. Stader and husband Chetney were quite active golfers in Port Sanilac about 24 years ago but when they moved into the Pontiac area they became interested in bowling.

The new Municipal policy swayed Mrs. Stader of getting back her interest in golf.

"My lady friends, Mrs. Belva Riemenschneider and Mrs. Betty Skarbo, bowl together, so we decided to go out last week and play golf," said Mrs. Stader. "Of course I'm a little rusty so I like to cheat a little bit by pushing the ball."

Mrs. Stader admits nine holes of golf is time consuming for her. She and her partners started at 8:30 a.m. and finished the nine at 12:30. "Don't tell anyone I shot a 90 for nine," she laughed.

Taft took a notion to golf at the age of 50, which gives him 35 years in the game.

He still spends some time on the job at the Community National Bank and up to last season he played in the bank golf league.

"As long as my legs will let me, I'll continue playing golf," he said.

Taft's son Robert, who is also an active golfer, says the sport solves a big problem for the five Taft children.

"Every Christmas, or on dad's birthday, we just buy him golf accessories and that solves that problem adequately," said the younger Taft. "I'm just worrying about what will happen when we run out of golf equipment to buy dad," he chuckled.

John Streit, Recreation Department manager of the Municipal course, said 35 people 65 and over have applied for the courtesy cards this year. Last year there were 25 all season.

17 Sign Tenders at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — Seventeen football prospects have signed athletic aid tenders to attend Michigan State, Coach Duffy Daugherty reported today.

Daugherty said a few more returns are expected from the 29 tenders sent out earlier in the month.

Another small group of footballers checked in during the spring term to make the known freshman squad for the fall number about 35.

"We are told this is the smallest number at any conference school," Daugherty said. "But we aren't interested in numbers, only in quality."

Prospects entering school this spring were:

Alex Valcanoff, quarterback, Lansing; Jim Bobbitt, linesman, Buchanan; Robert Weaver, linesman, Lansing; Ed Budde, linesman, Detroit, and Ted Guthard, linesman, Detroit.

Signing aid tenders were:

Dave Herman, linesman, Edon, Ohio; Jim Kanicki, linesman, Bay City; Ken May, linesman, Marshall; Ron Watkins, halfback, Flint; Dick Schmenk, linesman, Milan; Clifton Roaf, linesman, Pine Bluff, Ark.; Chuck Bardelis, linesman, Brockton, Mass.; Lonnie Sanders, end, Detroit; George Stevenson, fullback, River Rouge; Ed Youngs, linesman, River Junction;

Robert Budzinski, linesman, Flint; Ken Hardin, linesman, Flint; George Saimes, fullback, Canton, Ohio; John Kalbas, linesman, Farrel, Pa.; Dave Behrman, linesman, Cassopolis; Allan Schau, linesman, Galien, Vt.; Joe Valke, quarterback, Canton, Ohio

Big Ten Bowl Supporters Politicking

Balloting Set for Tomorrow on Contract

Tabling of Issue Until December Is Among Possibilities

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Big Ten bigwigs were politicking backstage today in an effort to save the conference's contract to provide a team annually for the Rose Bowl.

Though all 10 schools are committed to vote, and not to abstain from voting, in the showdown balloting scheduled tomorrow, supporters of the bowl contract still retained an optimistic hope they could shove through authorization for the Big Ten to remain in the game.

Some officials anticipated that an effort would be made when the matter comes up for balloting tomorrow to table the issue, thus deferring at least until December, a final action on the Rose Bowl proposal.

Success of such a plan is problematical. At least one school committed to vote "no" and another committed to vote "yes" on whether to renew the bowl agreement, have declared they would oppose any plan to delay final action on the bowl matter.

Still, one supporter of the bowl plan said, "I think we have enough votes to put it aside at least temporarily."

Should the matter come to a vote, there was no doubt, even from its strongest supporters, that the conference would wind up in a five-five deadlock preventing a new contract which would send a team to the bowl annually.

Another conference representative said that "all schools are committed to vote on the issue," and thus it was unlikely that any member would abstain from voting to make it possible for the bowl to be approved by a five-four margin.

The presidents of the five institutions whose faculties have gone on record against the bowl—Northwestern, Illinois, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Ohio State—have indicated to United Press International that there was no possibility that their representative would abstain from voting on the bowl and they left no doubt that their representative would vote "no" when the proposal comes up.

Thus, all the politicking on the issue must be directed at delaying or postponing the balloting in hope that at least one of the faculty groups that has gone on record against the bowl can be convinced that it should change its position rather than attempting an overnight shift in opinion.

Many conference officials want to retain the bowl because they feel it is a good "showcase" for Big Ten football.

Coach Changes Schools

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (UPI) — Ed Fullerton resigned from the Maryland football coaching staff today to accept a job as Jim Tatum's assistant at North Carolina. Fullerton, who captained Tatum's 1952 Sugar Bowl champions when he played for Maryland, has been a defensive end coach with the Terrapins.

League Meet Starts Friday at Ann Arbor

Purdue Golf Favorite Again

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Purdue, which has had an almost closed shop on the Big Ten golf medalist honor the past 11 years, is heavily favored to win its fourth straight individual title.

John Konsek and Gene Francis lead the Boilermaker golfers onto the University of Michigan course tomorrow morning for the first round of the 72-hole conference tournament with 36 holes tomorrow and 36 Saturday.

Konsek captured medalist honors last year at Ohio State and Francis, a junior, is an All-American collegiate golfer.

If Konsek repeats, he'll only be the seventh in the 40-year history of the tournament to do it—and he'll have strong precedent. The last two men to take the field two years running were both Boilermakers—Fred Wampler in 1949-50 and Joe Campbell in 1956-57.

Purdue is heavily favored to win the team title for the second straight year. And the fifth time since the tournament last was held at Michigan in 1949.

Although Purdue is picked to repeat, Michigan, with more conference golf titles than any other member — 12, could jump into first with Purdue and Indiana fighting each other.

The Wolverines' chances lay in their familiarity with the par 72 course which has been lengthened to 6,925 yards. The course has been toughened up especially for the tournament with the fairways narrowed and a lot of rough.

Ray Lovell of Birmingham, is Michigan's best bet for medalist honors. Lovell beat out 53 professionals Monday in qualifying for the U.S. Open at Detroit. The 20-year-old senior fired rounds of 70 and 79 to beat the cutoff by one stroke.

Wolverine sophomore Joe Brisson has carded recent rounds of 69 and 68 on the Michigan course.

Other top contenders for medalist are John Liechty of Iowa, runner-up by two strokes to Konsek last year; Ron Royer of Indiana; and Jim Remmert of Wisconsin.

After compiling the best regular season record in MSU golf history, the Spartan swingers will deserve careful watching in the conference encounter held in Ann Arbor. With 11 wins and a loss this season, Coach Ben Van Alstyne's squad hopes to make its best Big Ten showing ever, and to avenge its lone defeat at the hands of Indiana.

Van Alstyne plans to use Ty Caplin (77.5 average); C. A. Smith (76.2); Tim Baldwin (78) of Birmingham; Jack Reynolds (77.1) of Waterford; and two entries from either Tad Schmidt (79.8); Gary Barrett (81.2); or Bob Walsh (no established average).

Of the six-man teams from all Big Ten schools, the five lowest scores will be counted. To date, the best effort by a Spartan golf squad in the conference meet has been sixth place finishes in 1951, '56, and '58.

'M' Net Team Favored

EAST LANSING (UPI) — A six-man battle shapes up in the No. 1 singles event of the Big Ten tennis championships starting at Michigan State University today.

But Iowa's Art Andrews is the favorite to repeat as titlist.

Top challengers are Jon Erickson, Michigan; Vandy Christie, Northwestern; Larry Biederman, Ohio State; Dave Healy, Minnesota and Al Holtman, Illinois.

Andrews won the top singles crown and teamed to take the No. 1 doubles last year in leading Iowa to a runaway team victory.

Michigan's depth makes it the favorite to take the team title this year. The Wolverines finished third behind Illinois last year.

Besides Erickson who lost to Andrews in quarter-final play last year, Michigan will have returning champions in Frank Fulton, No. 5 singles, and Wayne Peacock, No. 6 singles.

Gerald Dubie, the Wolverines' sophomore star, will compete in the No. 2 singles event. He will be challenged by Iowa's John Story, Minnesota's Hugh Tierney, Illinois' Bob Breckenridge and Ohio State's Charles Carey.

Ex-LSU Star Loses Relatives in Crash

OPELOUSAS, La. (AP) — A three-car collision near here yesterday killed three members of the family of Jack Torrance, former Louisiana State University football and track star.

Mrs. Torrance, 42, was killed in the accident. The couple's 9-month-old daughter, Jamie, and Mrs. Torrance's mother, Mrs. A. J. Matherne, 88, died about five hours after the wreck. All were of Opelousas.

Torrance and his 9-year-old son received minor injuries.

State police said the driver of one of the cars, William Vanzandy, 45, of Victoria, Tex., was charged with negligent homicide and released on $1,000 bond.

The Torrances had six children.

Tri-County Arranges First All-Age Match

First all-breed, all-age match sponsored by the Tri-County Dog Breeders Assn., has been set for Sunday, May 24, at the Washtenaw County Fair grounds, three miles north of Saline (Saline and Ann Arbor road).

Judging starts at 11 for sporting, working, hound and obedience classes; at 2 p.m. for terrier, toy and non-sporting groups. There are four obedience classes.

Call Neil McAllister (OX 7-582?) or Mrs. West (GA 1-6755) for further information.

Tashnick Named Team Captain

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI)—Tony Tashnick, 20-year-old junior pre-medical student from Detroit, was elected captain of the 1959-60 University of Michigan swimming team by his teammates last night.

Tashnick helped the Wolverines to their overwhelming Big Ten and NCAA championships this past season by taking two firsts in the conference meet and setting a pair of NCAA records in the process and grabbing three second places in the NCAA meet.

YOGI THE FLYCHASER — Yogi Berra, better known as New York Yankee catcher, played in the outfield yesterday for the Yanks. He takes short fly in right field and threw to first to double up Gail Harris of the Tigers who was moving on the hit and run. The Tigers pushed the Yanks into the cellar as Frank Lary won a 13-6 game.

Kocsis Choice at Red Run GC

72-Hole Detroit Medal Play Tourney Begins Tomorrow Morning

Chuck Kocsis will be an overwhelming favorite to win his fourth Detroit Medal Play championship this weekend when the 72-hole tournament opens a three-day stand at Red Run Golf Club tomorrow.

Kocsis, six-time Michigan Amateur champion, has won three of the four previous Detroit Medal Play events and is the man to beat once more. Chuck took last year's title at Indianwood against a star-studded field.

He'll be facing some stellar opposition again when tomorrow's gruelling 36-hole session gets under way at 8:30 a.m. There are 85 golfers entered.

Tee-off times tomorrow are 8:30 a.m. and 12:30 p.m., with the field cut in half at the end of the first 36 holes. Eighteen holes are scheduled Saturday, starting at 1:30, and the final 18 on Sunday, beginning at noon.

Water Sports Tops

LANSING (UPI) — Northern Michigan water sports events dominated the June Calendar just released by the State Tourist Council.

The council said June marks the opening of the water sports season on Michigan's 40,000 square miles of inland lakes, rivers and Great Lakes waters.

Other fish festivals include the third annual perch festival at Ludington June 11-13, bluegill frolic at Marcellus June 26-29 and the summer fishing derby at Cheboygan June 27.

Canoe races will be held on the River Raisin June 7, Tawas Lake to Tawas City June 21, Indian River to Cheboygan June 21, and the second annual Mackinaw Canoe Marathon at Cheboygan June 27.

The first annual Michigan skin diving council treasure hunt will be held at Higgins Lake June 20-21 for aqua lung enthusiasts, the tourist council said.

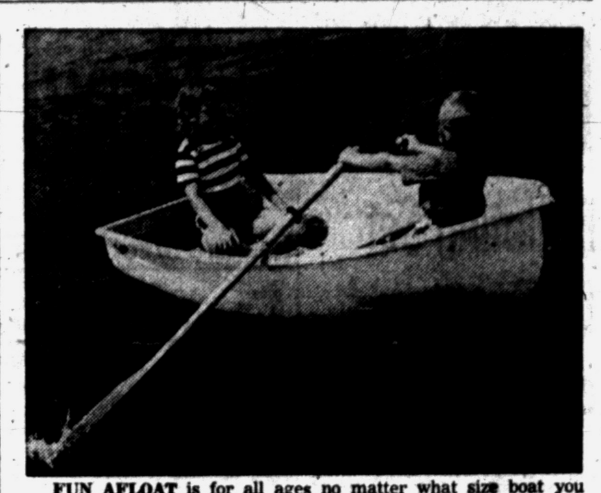
Other June attractions include the Mackinac Island Lilac Festival June 12-14, rose shows at Grand Rapids, Lansing and Jackson, the Grand Rapids furniture market June 11-20, opening of the National Music Camp at Interlochen June 28 and opening of summer theaters throughout Michigan.



FUN AFLOAT is for all ages no matter what size boat you have. Two youngsters have their own kind of adventuresome fun in a tiny fiberglas dinghy.

Hunters' Varied Luck

BLAND, Va. (AP) — The luckiest hunter in the two-day elk season in Giles county bagged an 1,100-pounder with a 14-point rack. A tractor and a farm cart were needed to remove R. J. Grenier's elk. But S. H. Shrader of Falls Mill wasn't so lucky. He was shot in the knee. A mule was also out of luck — he was mistaken for an elk by a hunter.

Orlick to Aid Women Members

Golf Clinic Friday at Tam

Warren Orlick, head golf professional at Tam O'Shanter Country Club, is not called "Mr. Rules" by his fellow PGA members for nothing.

Orlick is a stickler for obeying the rules of golf and he hopes to render his female membership a valuable service Friday morning at Tam in a free golf demonstration and rules clinic.

Warren has learned from experience that golfers do not read the Golf Rules book, although the book is always available, so he and his entire professional staff of Mac McElmurry, Ron Pawlacyk and John Monitz will give Tam's women members a helping hand tomorrow from 10 a.m. until noon.

The ladies will be driven in 22 electric cars to 12 pre-determined locations on the course. At each location a golf rule will be discussed and its proper application to conditions most golfers experience, followed by a series of golf shots with full explanations.

Orlick believes that an actual demonstration of this kind will generally speed up play and perform a service to the club. A large turnout is expected for tomorrow's clinic.

Aluminum Use in Boats Grows

Low Silhouette, Added Power, Compactness Among 1959 Features

More use of light, sturdy, aluminum characterizes the 1959 inboard gasoline engine.

In addition to the new lightness and added horsepower, the 1959 lines also feature much lower silhouettes, allowing replacement of older engines of the same horsepower in a more compact installation.

Ballentine Industries have two small gasoline inboards, at five and 10 hp, the Kermath Sea Pup and the Sea Twin.

The new 1959 Chrysler marine engines boast lower weight to horsepower ratio for the V-8s with a new 172 hp engine rated at 3,600 rpms.

A new light overhead valve V-8 is featured by Crusader Marine, and Dearborn has a new short stroke V-8 in its Interceptor line.

Victorious Machen Wants Johansson

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Heavyweight contender Eddie Machen, victorious last night over unranked Rueben Vargas, now switches his battling to the courts, seeking to halt the Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson title bout.

Eddie and his pilot, Sid Flaherty, are scheduled to appear in federal court in New York June 1 when their petition seeking to force Johansson into a return bout with Machen will be heard.

Last night in the nationally televised 10-rounder at the Cow Palace, Machen found tough going in the early and late rounds against the wide swinging Vargas. But Eddie's jab kept his onrushing foe off balance sufficiently to bring him an unanimous but close and unpopular verdict.

Michigan State will hold the swimming trials for the 1959 Pan-American Games in its new Olympic size outdoor pool August 7, 8, 10 and 11.

Robinson-Basilio Debate Goes on Merry-Go-Round

The New York State Athletic Commission, which appears about ready to strip Robinson of his title has recessed its hearing until Friday afternoon. Basilio sweated it out yesterday in the sticky hearing room while lawyers objected and took exceptions to a stream of questions.

When the going got hot, Martin Machat, Robinson's lawyer, had this to say to Chairman Melvin Krulewitch of the commission:

"If you are going to vacate the title, we are going to the Appellate Division and stop you."

Krulewitch bristled and replied:

"This commission does not threaten easily. You already have gone 'o court twice."

The case revolved around Robinson's compliance or failure to comply with an April 30 order by the State Supreme Court and the commission to "enter into articles of agreeemnt to defend against Basilio in 15 days (May 15) or risk vacating the title."

Robinson claims he has entered into an agreement to fight Basilio in Philadelphia, Sept. 31 for promoter Sam Rose. Part of the contract was filed with the commission Monday. The rest was to have been produced yesterday. It didn't show.

The commission ruled it was evident the Pennsylvania contract was invalid because it was not between two licensees. It was a contract between Rose, a Philadelphia councilman, and a Delaware corporation, American Promotions, Inc.

Irving Galt, an assistant attorney general produced copies of an exchange of wires between the attorney general's office and the secretary of state of Pennsylvania to the effect that the corporation was not authorized to do business in Pennsylvania.

The lawyers had a field day. When it was all over, the chances of a Robinson-Basilio fight seemed less than ever. The Natinoal Boxing Assn., which already has lifted Ray's title, had indicated it would okay the Philadelphia match if Basilio signed. It also said it would recognize a Basilio-Gene Fullmer match if signed by July 23.

3 U.S. Coaches Named to Carry Skills Overseas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three U. S. coaches were assigned Tuesday to spread American knowhow abroad on baseball, basketball and track.

Taking their skills to the Middle East, Africa and Europe this summer will be:

Floyd S. Stahl, assistant athletic director at Ohio State University; Leroy T. Walker, track and field coach at North Carolina College at Durham, and Glenn Martin, baseball-basketball coach at Southern Illinois College.

Stahl plans to go to Finland and Israel, Walker to Lebanon, Israel and Ethiopia, and Martin to Israel and Holland.

Olympics May Collect $500,000 for TV Rights

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Olympic planners hope to collect at least $500,000 from the sale of television rights to help defray cost of the 1960 Winter Games, a top aide said Wednesday.

Robert King, executive director of the Olympic Organizing Committee, said the American Broadcasting Co. agreed to pay $165,000 plus additional fees based on a sliding scale of revenues gained from advertising.

He put $500,000 as the minimum figure. The State of California has put up $7,990,000 and the federal government 3½ million for the event at Squaw Valley, Calif.

British television authorities contend they have the right to still make films of the Olympics.

King said that, under Olympic rules, they will be permitted the same rights as newsreel firms, "something like three minutes a day."

First Landing Takes a Rest

NEW YORK (AP) — First Landing, the 1958 two-year-old champion who has failed in all of his big tests this year, is through with racing until fall.

Trainer Casey Hayes said Wednesday the colt will be kept at Belmont Park until tests are completed, then sent to owner C. T. Chenery's Virginia Farm for a test. Hayes hopes to take him to Saratoga in August and have him ready for fall stakes.

First Landing won only one race in Florida last winter, was beaten by Manassa Mauler in the Wood Memorial rank third in the Kentucky Derby and ninth in last Saturday's Preakness.

Oklahoma Bypasses Dog-Deer Bill

Killed in Committee

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — One of the Oklahoma Rangers' biggest problems — that of deer-chasing dogs — has been bypassed by a legislative committee.

The game and fish committee killed a proposal highly controversial measure that would have put a control on loose dogs.

The Department of Wildlife Conservation ranks dogs along with the illegal hunter as the main decimator of state deer herds. Almost daily reports are received of deer found killed by dogs.

Probably the section of the turned-down bill that drew the most opposition was the proposal to allow a landowner in the country to kill any dog that molested deer, livestock or poultry on his property.

The measure would have had the wildlife department licensing the dogs outside municipalities and owners would have had to pen their pets in April, May, June and July.

Comes Back to Purdue in Coaching Capacity

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — Joe Sexson, former two-sport star at Purdue University, will return to Purdue next fall as head baseball and assistant basketball coach.

The announcement of Sexson's appointment was made Wednesday by Red Mackey, Boilermaker athletic director. Sexson, 26, succeeds Paul Hoffman, who resigned recently to take a job with the department of recreation and parks in Baltimore, Md.

Form State Pistol Team

LANSING (UPI)—Pistol matches this weekend at Fort Custer will determine a seven-man team to represent Michigan in regional matches in Indiana and national matches in Ohio in July.

More than 35 national guardsmen will take part in firing at Fort Custer's 15 matches in .22, .38 and .45 caliber weapons.

Football Voted Out

DOUGLAS, Ga. (AP) — South Georgia College voted Wednesday to eliminate intercollegiate football.

President William S. Smith blamed lack of public support, lagging attendance and gate receipts and inability to get what he termed a reasonable schedule with other junior colleges.

Thousand Prefer Squalor to Reds

Chinese Refugees Cram Hong Kong

HONG KONG (UPI)—The junk sailed almost noiselessly through the South China Sea. Below decks, a pitiful handful of humanity crouched and sweated out the hours to freedom.

Suddenly, on the almost black horizon, a British patrol boat appeared. The junk master took no chances. In a matter of minutes, his human cargo had been knocked unconscious and dumped into the sea.

This is the tragic, all-to-frequent ending for poor Chinese attempting to flee the Communist mainland for the free port city of Hong Kong.

It is also part of the heart-rending struggle Hong Kong faces to provide for its ever swelling population of refugees.

It will take another five years to build housing for the 350,000 impoverished refugees still eking out an existence while living in squalid squatters' villages or on roof-tops or the streets.

And that won't be the end, because the population is growing annually, and at a greater rate than present government plans for constructing low-cost housing.

It's not just the flow of refugees that plagues crowded Hong Kong. It also is the natural increase, which now runs better than 80,000 annually.

The colony's population is estimated at about three million. It probably is more. But this mass of people is squashed into a colony which has only 12 square miles of habitable land. The balance of Hong Kong's total 369 square miles is mostly useless or being used for farming.

COSTLY PROPOSITION

Already, the government has resettled 280,000 persons, an equal number living in squatters' huts, plus about 70,000 living on roof-tops, will be given housing during the next five years.

The program has cost the government a pretty penny. Since 1952, resettlement construction has cost 77 million Hong Kong dollars (about $13 million) and this year's budget calls for an expenditure of 36 million HK dollars.

Added to this are various social welfare assistance given to refugees, such as medical care, clothing, etc.

Where did all these homeless come from? The refugees poured into Hong Kong by the tens of thousands as the Communist armies pushed south in 1949. From 600,000, Hong Kong's population rose to more than two million.

At first, the British government willingly offered them asylum. It had been traditional for Chinese in Hong Kong and in South China to pass back and forth freely.

But the flood of refugees had to be stemmed some way. The flow actually began to diminish after the first three years, but there still was a sufficient number entering Hong Kong to cause concern. In 1955, the British closed the border to general travel, allowed only as many Chinese to enter as left.

QUOTAS ENFORCED

The quota system didn't last long, but it was re-imposed in 1956—of necessity.

The influx couldn't be stopped entirely. It is estimated that about 3,000 enter Hong Kong illegally every month. They pay anywhere from HK$100 to HK$2,000 for passage in the holds of dirty, foul-smelling junks which ply waters between the mainland and Hong Kong.

Most of them make their travel arrangements in Portuguese Macao, 40 miles from Hong Kong, on the mainland.

A good percentage never reaches Hong Kong. The junk masters are known to have dumped passengers into the sea once away from shore, a safer end to the journey than guessing where British patrol boats may be waiting to pounce.

Last year, 6,700 illegal immigrants were nabbed, but officials frankly admit this is only a drop in the bucket.

Once in Hong Kong, the refugees glide quietly into squatter villages to stay with friends. They adopt false names in order to obtain identity cards and to get jobs. For most of them, however, coolie labor is all that is open, and such jobs barely enable the worker to buy food for himself and his family.

TOO MANY PEOPLE

His trouble is competition. There are too many jobless or semi-jobless. And the artisans, the technicians, the professional men have a rough time because so many of their colleagues got here before them.

The British would be willing to charter ships to transport some of the refugees to Formosa, but such suggestions likely will never bear fruit because the Nationalists haven't go t that much room.

Other Asian nations look the other way because too many overseas Chinese already have too much control over too many lucrative businesses in their countries.

So for thousands of refugees, many of whom don't know the political significance of their flight from China, a bare living is theirs here, and starvation and malnutrition are common. It takes money to buy food — and there just isn't that much spare money around.

'We Should Vote, Too' —Kids 9 to 11 Years Old

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI)—A petition by 26 San Diego youngsters, headed by Charles R. Nielson, 10, sent to Rep. Bob Wilson (R-Calif.) said:

"Dear Congress—We think that children between 12 and 21 should be able to vote also. It would give them more opportunity to give their opinion. We are of age 9 and 11 and can see the difficulties. But we can also see the advantages."

A business executive bought an electronic computer for his office because, he said, "It will never prance in starry-eyed some morning and say it's quitting to get married." . . . Any girl who learns how to cook won't have much trouble finding a man who knows how to eat. —Earl Wilson.

Shortage Is Seen of Mathematicians

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The United States faces an acute shortage of mathematicians within the next five years, according to Dr. J. Sutherland Frame, head of the Michigan State University Mathematics Department.

One reason for this, he said, is that mathematics is too difficult for many college students. Another reason is public ignorance of the fact that mathematics is a profession in itself, not merely a tool for other professions.

According to a recent estimate, Dr. Frame said, 70,000 mathematicians, including 10,000 with doctoral degrees, will be needed for computer work alone by 1963.

But he added: "It is highly unlikely that there will be even 5,000 mathematics Ph. Ds by 1963. And most of them will be working in other phases than computing."

Takes Belated Interest in Long-Gone Husband

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—A woman caller asked police to look for her husband.

"How long has he been gone?" she was asked.

"Thirty-four years," she answered, explaining that she wanted to marry again and to be sure it was legal.

Grain Futures Trading Slows

CHICAGO (AP) — The small volume of early grain futures transactions on the Board of Trade appeared today to be a shift by brokers of their market positions.

Buying and selling was about even and prices held within almost minimum fractions of previous closes during the first half hour. The positions in May contracts which expired yesterday were being reinstated in other scattered deliveries with very little concentration in any one of them.

There were no substantial developments of any nature to influence trading either way.

After about an hour wheat was ⅜ cent a bushel higher to ⅛ lower, July $1.86⅛; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, July $1.27⅛; oats ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, July old type contract 65½; rye ⅝ higher to ¼ lower, July $1.25⅝; soybeans ⅝ lower to ¼ higher, July $2.28⅛.

Letter on Taxes Annoys School Heads

schools aren't satisfied with this "lion's share."

The first to question Moore's letter was Abraham Brickner, secretary of the Oak Park Board of Education.

"Isn't this prejudicing the Board into asking it to support the county's problem? Brickner asked after he appeared before the Board with James Pepper, superintendent of the Oak Park Board.

Moore asked a question himself of Brickner, "Who else would have written it?"

"If it had to be written it should have been done possibly by the chairman of the Board of Supervisors," Brickner replied.

Moore, a member of the Tax Allocation Board since its inception and chief auditor for more than 30 years, said he wrote the letter "for information."

Charles Coggins, superintendent of Holly schools, queried whether it was proper for the Board to hand out what he called "propaganda." He got no answer as he shoved Moore's letter and other handouts aside.

Moore's one page letter went on: "According to the Board of Auditors, they cite the generous share of the millage which has been given the schools in the past, and they have full understanding of the schools' needs in the 1959-60 allocation."

Tomorrow it is expected that either Delos Hamlin, Board of Supervisors chairman, or Fred W. Smith, chairman of the board's Ways and Means Committee, will appear before the Tax Allocation Board to give the county's arguments why it needs 6.47 of the 15 mills to meet its proposed 1960 budget of $13,997,018.

The county's taking an increased share of the 15 mills each year to meet growing budgets while the townships and schools had to take a smaller share was labeled "unfair" and "morally wrong" by the school officials.

Smith's committee, too, was criticized in today's hearings for turning down an offer from the Oakland County School Board Members Assn. to help the county try and win a voted increase by county residents in taxes to meet a current deficit and the larger budgets.

Merrill O. Bates, of Bloomfield Hills, president of the association, said Smith's committee rejected its offer six weeks ago saying, "We'd never get it approved."

Empty Avon School After Bomb Threat

Six hundred students and teachers were evacuated within minutes after the anonymous telephone threat was received at the school switchboard.

State troopers and sheriff's deputies poured out of cars and began an immediate search of the emptied school. By noon, they had found nothing, but students were sent home for the rest of the day.

The Center Line State Police post dispatched three cars to the school as did the Oakland County Sheriff's Dept.

Space Stocks Repair Losses

NEW YORK (AP) — Space age issues recovered partially and the stock market moved up a bit early today. Trading was fairly active.

Some of the electronics-rocket fuel-missile stocks recouped fractions to 1 or 2 points of yesterday's sharp losses.

Raytheon, which triggered yesterday's shakeout of the glamour stocks, rebounded more than a point. Texas Instruments recouped about 2. General Tire, whose aerojet subsidiary recovered on the American Stock Exchange, advanced well over a point.

Thiokol gained a fraction. Sperry Rand was steady.

American Motors was active and up fractionally. Other automotive stocks were unchanged to higher. Chrysler rose about a point.

U.S. Steel and Bethlehem dropped fractions.

Tobaccos were spotty. American Tobacco dropped a little. Lorillard eased. Liggett & Myers was firm.

Other small gainers included Baltimore & Ohio, Woolworth, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, Baltimore & Ohio, Merck and Illinois Central.

For Financial Aid in Strikes

CAB Okays 6-Airline Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Civil Aeronautics Board has approved formally a pact of six airlines to help each other financially when hit by strikes.

The pact, in effect since last October, was given tentative approval by the CAB last Jan. 26. Wednesday's formal change in the agreement between American, Capital, Eastern, Pan American, TWA and United airlines.

The board objected to a provision in the agreement requiring a struck airline to route traffic to the other airlines in the pact. The CAB said this provision was not essential to the basic plan, did not serve the interest of the traveling public and must be deleted as a condition of approval.

Assistance in the pact is through payments based on the amount of additional business to an operating line as a result of the shutdown of another line.

The CAB disagreed with union protests that the agreement would inject the board into the labor relations field.

Meddaugh Re-Elected to Collectors' Board

John R. Meddaugh, manager of Professional Service Bureau Inc., 916 Pontiac State Bank Building, has been re-elected to a three-year term as national director on the board of directors of American Collection Assn.

Meddaugh, who lives at 4451 Motorway Dr., Waterford Township, was named to the post at the 21st annual convention of the Michigan Assn. of Collection Agencies held at the Sheraton-Cadillac Hotel in Detroit.

He will attend the annual convention of the ACA this year in Houston, Tex., and the 1960 convention in Hawaii.

Wixom, 27, who is studying for a master's degree, was cited for "high scholastic achievement, scholarship and membership in Kappa Tau Alpha, national honorary professional journalism fraternity."

Williams Has Kiss, Flowers for His Nancy

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams, an old hand at greeting visiting dignitaries and world travelers, gave an especially warm welcome to one such arrival here yesterday.

Williams first met visiting Gov. Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon. A few minutes later his wife, Nancy, absent for nine weeks, arrived at the Lansing Airport.

The governor kissed his wife on the cheek, embraced her and brought forth a nosegay of yellow roses, daisies and purple iris.

Mrs. Williams was returning from a globe-girdling tour to inspect facilities of the World Health Organization.

Lansing's 80 degree heat was welcome to Michigan's First Lady.

"In the Orient it was so terribly hot we had to take four or five baths a day," she explained. "I had to send all my heavy clothes ahead and buy a complete new lightweight outfit."

Following the installation, colored slides of the year's school activities will be shown.

Dems Seek All of Housing Bill

Jubilant After Halting Effort to Substitute Less Costly Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democrats, riding high after an initial victory over administration forces, fought today to prevent cuts in their $2,100,000,000 omnibus bill.

On a key vote Wednesday, the House slapped down President Eisenhower's supporters by killing a proposed $1,300,000 substitute for the housing measure brought to the floor by House Banking Committee Democrats.

Some cuts below the amount proposed by the Banking Committee seemed likely before general passage, however.

The new public housing features of the measure were sure to come under expecially sharp attack from many Democrats as well as Republicans. The bill would authorize 35,000 public housing units a year for four years. Neither the Eisenhower program nor the defeated substitute proposal provided for such structures.

There were GOP warnings that the Democratic measure faces a certain veto if it is enacted without change.

The House voted tentatively 149-145 to require congressional review of all housing spending, and to make federal housing officials justify their programs each year before Congress provides the money.

Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Tex), sponsored the amendment to restrict the long-authorized practice of letting federal agencies go directly to the Treasury for money.

Liars, Savs FBI of Probe Critics

Claims False Reports Spread in Poplarville by Obstructionists

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI says "distortions and misrepresentations" about its investigation of the Mack Charles Parker case in Poplarville, Miss., have been circulated "by persons who obviously do not desire this case to be solved."

Parker, a Negro accused of raping a pregnant white woman, was hauled out of a jail by a gang of masked white men and killed. His body was found in the nearby Pearl River.

The FBI in a statement Wednesday, denied it had harassed anyone in questioning residents about the crime. It called such charges "absolute falsehoods."

"When examined in the light of the facts," the statement said, "the ludicrous nature of these charges becomes obvious.

"For example, it is alleged that Arthur Smith of McNeill, Miss., suffered a cerebral hemorrhage after being questioned by FBI agents. We have been advised by medical authorities that Smith has not suffered a cerebral hemorrhage, and the person primarily responsible for the circulation of the false story regarding Smith has known from the very outset that he was not telling the truth."

The FBI statement spoke of "other distortions and misrepresentations" but named no one as responsible for circulating them.

"Contrasted against the actions of these elements," the FBI added, "have been the active support and cooperation which we have received from Gov. J. P. Coleman, the Mississippi highway patrol and other responsible citizens."

Steel Industry Talks Resume

NEW YORK (AP)—Negotiations resume today between the United Steelworkers and the steel industry in an effort to reach agreement on a new contract covering half a million workers.

Boy Loses Leg, Hand in Trying to Beat Train

SAGINAW (AP)—Theodias Turner, 12, lost his right foot and most of his left hand when he was run over by a freight train yesterday.

Theodias and two other boys were taking a short cut home through the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway yards, ignoring "keep off" signs. Trying to cross a track ahead of a switching train, Theodias slipped and fell under the wheels.

At St. Mary's Hospital, the boy's right foot was amputated at the ankle and all his left hand except the thumb also was amputated. He also may lose his left foot.

The other two boys were unhurt.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL TOWNSHIP meeting and election and of registration of voters.

Whereas, at a meeting of the Township Board of the Township of White Lake, Oakland County, Michigan, held on the 9th day of May, 1959, a franchise ordinance was adopted, entitled as follows:

An Ordinance, granting to Consumers Power Company, its successors and assigns, the right, power and authority to lay, maintain and operate gas mains, pipes and services on, along, across and under the highways, streets, alleys, bridges, and other public places, and to do a local gas business in the Township of White Lake, Oakland County, Michigan, for a period of thirty years.

Whereas, said Consumers Power Company has heretofore filed its written acceptance of said franchise, and has requested that the question of confirming the grant thereof be submitted to the qualified electors of the Township, at a special election to be held for that purpose, and has also paid to the Township Board the estimated expense of holding such special election; and,

Whereas, there has been heretofore filed with said Board, a petition signed by at least twelve electors, requesting that a special township meeting and election be called for such purpose;

Now, therefore, pursuant to resolutions adopted by said Board, notice is hereby given that a special meeting and election will be held in said Township at:

Precinct No. 1: Dublin Community Center, Union Lake Road.

Precinct No. 2: Town Hall at 7525 Highland Road.

Precinct No. 3: Town Hall at 7525 Highland Road, on Wednesday, the 24th day of June, 1959, for the purpose of voting on the confirmation of the action of said Township Board in granting such franchise.

The polls of said election will be opened at 7 o'clock in the forenoon, or as soon thereafter as may be, and will be held open until 8 o'clock p.m., Eastern Standard Time. The Township Clerk will be in his office on the 25th day of May, 1959, said date being the thirtieth day, as determined by statute, preceding the date of said election, for the purpose of reviewing the registration and registering such of the qualified electors of the Township as shall appear and apply therefor, which registration may be made on said date between the hours of 8 o'clock a.m. and 8 o'clock p.m. Eastern Standard Time.

Said franchise as granted by said Board is on file with the undersigned Township Clerk for the purpose of inspection by the qualified electors.

By order of the Township Board.

B. A. McKEACHIE,
Township Clerk

HOW TO PICK A TREAT INSTEAD OF A TREATMENT

LESSON NO. 3

Condition of the body is of fundamental importance. Contrary to some opinions, the low, foreign look is not achieved by smashed tops, bent fenders or dished wheels. Don't buy a car made foreign on the American highway. Come to OLIVER MOTOR SALES for All-American cars with pleasing prices and teasing terms.

Strauss and '60 Get Tangled Up

Dems Press Aspirants to Deny Confirmation of Ike Appointee

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate action on Lewis L. Strauss' nomination to be secretary of commerce got mixed up in Democratic presidential politics today.

Senate Democratic liberals opposing Strauss' confirmation were reported putting pressure on colleagues who may have 1960 aspirations, in an effort to get them to vote against the Cabinet nominee.

Strauss' opponents reported, meanwhile, that a secret poll they took showed 46 senators in favor of confirmation, 45 against and 7 undecided. A vote is expected next week.

The Democratic liberals think a vote for Strauss could be used effectively against any presidential aspirant who wants their support.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn), who is eagerly eyeing next year's contest, said he will vote against Strauss.

On the other hand, Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he is not going to make up his mind until he reads the testimony given at 16 days of stormy hearings before the Senate Commerce Committee.

Two other potential presidential candidates, like Johnson, said they want to study the record. They are Senators John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) and Stuart Symington (D-Mo).

Republican supporters of Strauss were jolted Wednesday when Sen. William Langer (R-ND) announced he will vote against the nomination.

There were reports that Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) might also go against Strauss. Mrs. Smith said she hasn't made up her mind.

4 Bills Aimed at Tax 'Holes'

Dem Senators Claim Measures Would Bring $2¼ Billion More

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four Democratic senators called today for legislation they said would close tax loopholes and bring in additional revenues estimated at 2¼ billion dollars.

Such legislation was prepared for introduction by Senators Joseph S. Clark (Pa), William Proxmire (Wis), Eugene J. McCarthy (Minn) and Paul H. Douglas (Ill).

A joint announcement said:

Clark's bill would eliminate numerous luxury items now taken as ordinary business expense deductions for tax purposes. These would include entertainment at night clubs, theaters and sporting events, as well as maintenance of yachts, hunting lodges, gifts between businessmen, country club dues, and travel to conventions outside the United States.

Proxmire's bill would withhold the tax at the source on certain dividend and interest payments, as is now done in the case of wages and salaries.

McCarthy's bill would repeal the 1954 special credit and exclusion from taxation of income from dividends.

Douglas' bill would reduce the oil and gas depletion allowance on a sliding scale basis by reducing the existing 27½ per cent depletion allowance to 15 per cent for those who receive income from oil and gas properties in excess of five million dollars per year, and to 21 per cent for those with oil and gas income between one and five million dollars a year. There would be no reduction in the depletion allowance for those with oil and gas income below one million a year.

Two Admit to Series of Detroit Bank Thefts

DETROIT (AP)—Long prison terms face admitted bank robbers Leon Wagner, 30, and Albert Wicke, 24, brothers-in-law.

Wagner, a Detroiter, and Wicke, of Chesaning, pleaded guilty in U.S. District Court yesterday to a series of Detroit area bank robberies netting more than $13,000.

Judge Ralph M. Freeman ordered both men held without bail pending pre-sentence probation reports.

Wagner admitted taking part in four bank holdups and Wicke in three. Federal law provides for a 25-year sentence for any such a robbery.

NEW WATCHWORD — Closely observed by a group of "sidewalk superintendents" in a booth overhead, this construction worker in New York ignores the crowd and continues with his job. The booth contains 15 telephones, and by listening on them, amateur experts get a running account of the work in progress, by tape recording.

Defoe Warned 18th Century About 'Geneva'

LONDON (UPI) — Too much Geneva? Daniel Defoe began warning Londoners against "the immoderate use of Geneva" back in 1728.

The warning was contained in a booklet on display at the National Book Club exhibition here. The name of the booklet was "The Way to Make London the Most Flourishing City in the Universe."

Its strongest warning was against too much Geneva — the 18th Century name for gin which then was causing riots of public drunkenness in London.

Fuller Strike Urged for Cape

Canaveral Carpenters Ask Sympathy Gesture From Other Unions

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Striking carpenters have urged all union workers at the missile test center here to walk out today in a sympathy gesture.

Willard Van Hoose, Carpenters Union negotiator, also said the union rescinded its agreement allowing 1,500 Transport Workers and Teamsters Union workmen to cross picket lines to perform emergency missile work.

These two unions, plus 1,000 building tradesmen, honored the pickets when 115 carpenters struck Friday in a wage dispute with contractors.

The Transport Workers and Teamsters returned Tuesday with the Carpenters' permission to work on missiles already on launching pads.

Federal mediator John A. Kenney scheduled a meeting with Carpenter negotiators today in another effort to work out an agreement.

The Carpenters, who now average $2.85 an hour, are asking for a one-year contract with a 25-cent-an-hour wage hike retroactive to April 1, when the old contract expired. The contractors have offered a staggered 35-cent boost over a two-year period, with no retroactive pay.

Earl's Strenuous Day Produces 'Exclusives'

By EARL WILSON

"From the Terrace," Cannes, France — Now speaking of strange offices—

I set up one on the veranda of the Hotel Carlton—which is really a big outdoor cocktail lounge looking out on the Mediterranean—and let the rest of the world drop by my table. It was just about like a Miami Beach sundeck in the winter. In truth, a lot of the Miami crowd is here on the Mediterranean which made it quite homey to this bug-eyed buckaroo from Rockford, Ohio.

WILSON

"Hey, Paddy!" I called over to Playwright-Scenarist-Producer Paddy Chayefsky, when I'd got settled down with my coffee, "give me some secret that I can expose about Kim Novak. Something sensational."

Paddy rubbed his Van Dyke—which is fairly new. ("I always wanted one and it sure is easier to shave this way," he said. I told him I liked it, 'cause whatta you gonna tell a guy?)

"Well, she traveled around in my car—and you know what she did while she was in the car, don't you?"

"No, what did she do while she was in your car?" I asked breathlessly.

"She had her hair done!" Paddy tugged his beard reflectively. "It seems that whenever Kim isn't doing anything else, she has her hair done."

After wringing that big scoop out of Paddy, I decided to squat on the veranda all day, wallowing in exclusives.

Noticing Roberto Rossellini leisuring by with his Indian girl friend, Sonali Das Gupta, in her red sari and sandals, I broke a rule of my office routine or the day and got up.

My Beautiful Wife had to asked me to find out about that ruby that usually seems to be on her forehead in pictures. Is it drilled or pasted on, or what?

"It's not a ruby," the Indian lady smiled nicely.

"You'll notice that today I don't have any on. It's powder —vermilion colored powder . . . something like your beauty marks."

(When I told the B.W. this later, she said I was crazy—of course it was a ruby. But as she had lost one of her contact lenses she couldn't be too sure. Now I suppose you wonder how the B.W. lost one of her contact lenses. Well, Playboy Magazine gave a party and the B.W. strained her contact lens out looking for a girl in a high-necked dress).

EARL'S PEARLS: A pessimist is a pedestrian who stops for both the red and green lights.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The good old days were when policemen didn't hide at the side of the road—but took their chances in traffic like anybody else.—Terry McCormick, Quote.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Some housewives will go far out of their way to save a few pennies while shopping — even if it means taking a cab . . . That's earl, brother.

Ex-Solons May Get on Pension Rolls

LANSING (AP) — A bill to bring four ex-lawmakers under the new legislative pension system moved ahead today with approval of the House.

Figuring the life expectancy of the former legislators and their wives, legislative finance experts estimated it would cost the state $100,000.

Rep. Russell H. Strange Jr. (R-Clare), at 24 the youngest of Michigan's lawmakers, protested it was "costly and ill-timed."

As first proposed, the measure would permit former Sen. Don VanderWerp (R-Fremont) and ex-Reps. David L. Lindsay (D-Detroit) and T. Jefferson Hoxie (R-St. Louis) to transfer from the state employes retirement system to the legislative pension program adopted in 1957. Each would pay $515 and collect substantially higher benefits.

An amendment adopted yesterday would permit former Rep. Adrian de Boom (R-Owosso) to join up, too.

De Boom, who lost a bid for the Senate last fall, declined to join the system when he had the chance last year and fought its enactment.

TV News and Reviews

Briton King Like Others, but Is Still Really Himself

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dave King, a refugee from British TV, enrolled for a summer series last night on NBC-TV. King's half hour was an astonishing example of the influence of American show business.

King, a graduate of the English music halls, bounced on stage and almost immediately assumed the posture of the Bing Crosby-Perry Como-Dean Martin-I haven't-had-my-Geritol-today type singer; casual, vaguely drawly, left hand hung stiffly at his side as if it were in a swinging splint, occasionally snapping a finger with elaborate laziness.

Then, a transformation and into a short stand-up routine of one liners a la Milton Berle or Bob Hope. One of his lines—an aside on Manhattan's impossible traffic—was almost pure Hope: "You know, I was driving down Fifth avenue today and I got three tickets for parking."

Then, another transformation and into a sort of Sid Caesar pantomime routine which had to do with a policeman directing traffic. And incidentally, a very funny bit, too.

This was followed later in the show by another skit set in a subway that was again vaguely tinged with the Sid Caesar touch or perhaps, George Gobel: the little man, trapped, pushed, adrift in a distorted world with which he can't cope.

From all this, you may assume that King has no identity of his own, but strangely enough, it's not true.

For one thing, he has assimilated all these styles, bunching them into a cozy package that sits quite comfortably on him.

For another, King brings a rather curious addition to the package —sex. I don't mean that King is a terribly attractive man or that he pants around the cameras like The Continental.

What he does pack, however, is a very frank aggressiveness, a sort of European insinuation that goes beyond the leering of American comics.

I'm not quite sure how this will sit with American audiences, but in many ways, I find it infinitely preferable to the little-boy-with-a-semi-blue-joke approach of many American TV comedians.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: CBS-TV may present four 90-minute plays adapted from Ernest Hemingway short stories on Thursday nights next season—one of the Hemingway properties CBS-TV has title to is "The Battler."

Ernie Kovacs, who has an NBC-TV special coming up tomorrow night, broke his toe in a poolside accident and is hobbling through rehearsals . . . Liberace takes off for London May 27 from New York to fill a couple of theater engagements, play in a June 14 TV show and testify in a libel suit against a London newspaper columnist.

He Became Husband Just to Win a Bet

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Pretty Anita June Jackson, 19, said that after their marriage ceremony her husband Rex, 25, left her.

She said that three days later he met her on the street, told her he had married her to win a bet at a party, and added: "Why worry? You're not hurt."

Mrs. Jackson's testimony won her an annulment.

Money Not First With Education

Delegates at Congress of PTA See Behavior as Major Problem

By G. K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—To many Americans the basic problem in education is strictly financial—we need more money for more schools, more classrooms, more teachers.

To the 11½ million members of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, it's not that simple. To them the basic problem is: "How do we educate the youth of today to be the responsible adult of tomorrow?"

More than 3,000 PTA members from across the country have just concluded a four-day convention here. They were more concerned with delinquency than dollars, more interested in children than in bond issues.

Educate all our young people to the best of their ability . . . We need more discipline and fewer thrills . . . Teaching our children allegiance to life's true values . . . We must do more to make our children want to stay in school . . . Special programs for exceptional children—the mentally retarded, the gifted, the handicapped.

By a 2-1 margin, delegates filling out an AP questionnaire voted against lengthening the school year from its present average of 180-190 days. But, by a 10-1 vote, they plugged for summer school courses, tuition free, for students who wanted to raise their grades or take extra, outside courses.

The delegates said—by a 5-1 margin—that the public schools were meeting the challenge of the Soviet Union in the fields of science and mathematics.

About three-quarters of the delegates said that many of the present problems in American education would disappear if teachers' salaries were raised.

Saul Pett, Subbing for Hal Boyle, Suggests:

Got Water Hangover? Try Cod Liver Oil

NEW YORK (AP)—At first the news seemed reassuring to some of us. We even felt a little smug.

But as we thought about it the whole thing became very disturbing.

The news came from London. Two doctors there reported that some people can get plastered, stoned, bombed, potted, crocked, embalmed, stiff, inebriated, drunk, and awful silly on just plain water.

There were nine case histories of people who began with some emotional distress and found themselves reacting to water the way the rest of us react to too much liquor. Tanked up with water, their speech slurred, eyelids drooped, minds became giddy. They got hangovers the next day.

For us old-fashioned whisky drinkers, the news was strangely pleasing at first. All along, we suspected water drinkers as being too self-righteous; behind all that rampant white virtue there had to lurk some dark vice. Now we know.

AQUAHOLICS

Still, it's unsettling to think about the water addict—the Aquaholic, the potential member of Aquaholics Anonymous. The bad water drinker could become more of a social problem than the alcoholic. There's so much of the stuff around.

How would you get a guy off this cheap sauce? Where would you hide him?

"For pity's sake," says the worried wife to her friend, "don't suggest we vacation in Lake Louise. I think the desert would be safer."

Every swiming pool would be suspect. So would every bath and shower and no Aquaholic could be allowed to take either alone. The worst possible way to begin a marriage with one would be a honeymoon to Niagara Falls.

CUT OFF VALUE

The office water cooler would take on pathological overtones. The phrase, "Ice water in his veins," would take on a dark meaning and TVA, Grand Coulee Dam and every irrigation project from Arizona to the Negev would suddenly acquire new fanatical supporters.

"Junior!" cries the long-suffering wife, "here comes your father and he's had a mite too much. Run down to the basement and cut off the main water valve. Run outside and turn over the rain barrel. Run into the garage and empty the car radiator. Hurry back and hide grandpa's hot water bottle and, for heaven's sakes, tell Alice not to play that record of 'Old Man River!' "

How would you bring him back to life on the morning after? Black coffee would be verboten; it has water in it. Likewise tomato juice. Even 100-proof whisky would be out because it has 50 per cent water. Liquid mercury would be safe except it would kill him.

Oil and water, you say, don't mix. Right! Give him cod liver oil, caster oil, or just crankcase oil. That would sober him up but in the process you'd be getting the water addict well-oiled.

Asparagus Salad

Cook extra asparagus stalks; marinate in olive oil, lemon juice, salt and pepper in the refrigerator. Serve with romaine and hard-cooked egg (sliced) for a delicious appetizer.

Drunk Drivers Shown Pictures

COHASSET, Mass. (AP)— Police Chief Hector J. Pelletier, who is also secretary-treasurer of the Massachusetts Chiefs of Police Assn., has a novel approach to the tipsy driver problem.

Pictures should be taken of them at the time of their arrest, Chief Pelletier says. The photos, he notes, would be admissible in court as evidence.

"Maybe if these drunken operators really see what they look like," the chief says, "they will think twice before taking the wheel of a car."
