Merchants Applaud 'Terrific' Downtown Festival Kickoff

Enthusiastic response yesterday to the first of the five Downtown Pontiac Festival Days was reported by merchants.

Public response to the many exceptional values being offered in outdoor displays and inside the stores can be summed up as "terrific," a word used frequently by store owners and managers.

A Waite's Department Store spokesman said they had an exceptionally good day yesterday. "We would like that sort of volume every day," he said.

Jack Simon, assistant manager at Simms Brothers, said the store doubled its sales over the same day a year ago. "Our sidewalk booths went 'way beyond our expectations," he added.

Frank Lyndall, of Sears, Inc., said the store was up 50 per cent in sales over the same day a year ago in number of purchases. "We were busy from early morning on. The festival certainly brought out the crowds."

A spokesman for J. C. Penney Co. called yesterday a "very good day. The festival was well received and we had a far better than normal day. This morning also traffic is up," he reported.

Among the added features announced today during the festival which runs through Tuesday is the appearance of television and radio organist Tom Montgomery.

He has been secured by Connolly's Jewelers, Todd's Shoe Store, Wiggs Colony Shop, Gillies Shoes and Pauli Jewelry to appear on their W. Huron block tonight from 7 to 9 p.m. and tomorrow from 2 to 4 p.m.

DEMONSTRATE CAMERAS

Montgomery will play the organ on the sidewalk for the public.

Lewis Furniture has put out a huge captain's chair in front of their store and free pictures will be taken of youngsters sitting in the oversized chair.

Carnival rides, offered at two locations, are available from 10:30 on each day except tomorrow when they will open early.

The rides are located at parking lots at E. Pike at Hill, and W. Lawrence at Wayne. Cookouts are being held at both locations as well. Merchants are giving out tickets good for the reduced price of 10 cents a ride. One ticket is given with each $1 of purchases.

More than 60 merchants are participating in the Festival Days with games, prizes, entertainment and special values. Stores are staying open until 9 p.m. except Tuesday, the last day, when they close at 5:30 p.m.

Keego Jet Pilot Reported Killed

AF Notifies Family of Son's Death in Crash During Guam Flight

A 24-year-old Keego Harbor jet pilot, missing since Tuesday in flight over Guam, was killed when his T33 jet plane crashed, the Air Force notified his parents today.

PEARSALL

No other information about the accident was available at this time, the family said.

Lt. Pearsall leaves his wife, the former Patricia Graves of Keego Harbor, and a 2-year-old son, Bradley. They make their home in Chicago.

He was a graduate of the former Roosevelt High School in Keego Harbor in 1953 and president of his senior class. Pearsall joined the Air Force in 1954, and was sent to Guam last October.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Pearsall also leaves his sister, Mrs. F. H. Wright of Pontiac and three brothers, Duane D. of Denver, Colo., Sheldon J. and Maynard V., both of Drayton Plains.

Homebrew Business Too Good in Windsor

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP)—The homebrewers have been hard at work in the Windsor area since a strike of beer handlers began, but things are getting tough in that business too.

★ ★ ★

Two of the essentials for bathtub beer are rapidly becoming scarce: Hop-flavored malt and crocks.

The demand is so great, said a local distributor today, that a factory in Montreal which produces the malt can't fill the orders.

And as for crocks, they weren't getting much use a couple of months ago, but now they're at a premium.

Pleasant Climate Promised for Festival Days

Tonight's low will be near 55 degrees.

Today's light variable winds will become southerly at 8-15 miles an hour tonight and continue Saturday.

Sunny and partly cloudy with little temperature change is tomorrow's forecast with the high about 78, the low 56. For the next five days temperatures will average three to four degrees above the normal high of 74 and normal low of 52.

Both Saturday and Sunday will be mild with Monday and Tuesday a little cooler. Little change is expected Wednesday.

Forty-eight was the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The mercury rose to 71 at 2 p.m.

Adams to Resign? Hagerty Says 'No!'

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—A reporter asked at a summer White House news conference:

"Whose turn is it to ask if Sherman Adams has resigned?"

"Well, I don't know, but it's my turn to say 'no.'"

The question comes up at every Hagerty news conference these days. And Hagerty's answer always is the same—no, Sherman Adams has not resigned as President Eisenhower's chief aide.

Hagerty said he talked by telephone with Adams, who is in Washington. He said they discussed only government business in no way related to the Adams-Goldfine controversy.

Executive Board Meets Today

UAW Eyes Strike Deadline

Says Oakland Not Fair With Tax Allocations

Independence Attorney Cites County Surplus of '$2.5 Million'

Oakland County year after year receives a greater share of the 15-mill tax limitation despite having a "surplus of upwards of two and a-half million dollars" from which it could draw, a state official was told yesterday.

Milton F. Cooney, attorney representing Independence Township, challenged the township's 1958 tax allocation on the grounds it shouldn't have been cut, while the county share was boosted.

Cooney supplemented the township's appeal of its allocation of 1.32 mills in a hearing yesterday in Pontiac before R. Gerald Barr, a commissioner on the Michigan State Tax Allocation.

Farmington Township, represented by its attorney, Joseph T. Brennan Jr., attempted to back up an appeal of its .86 tax allocation, saying it violated a law placing the minimum for townships at one mill.

But Barr produced financial statements of Farmington Township which showed he said that there would be a surplus of $66,000 by next year based on the given apportionment. A surplus, Barr told Brennan, would wipe out Farmington's chances for receiving an increased share of the 15 mills.

Both townships' requests for higher allocations will be decided by the three-member Tax Commision based on their written and oral appeals. A decision is expected by Oct. 3.

Frauds Shock Rackets Group

Ending Teamster Probe

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rackets Committee prepared to close the books today on what one member called "a great record of misconduct" in the Teamsters Union.

The committee wound up seven weeks of hearings late yesterday but left its record open for a closing statement by Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) summing up the Teamster investigation. McClellan said he would make it public tomorrow.

The committee devoted a large part of its final session to a long, involved examination of what Chief Counsel Robert F. Kennedy described as "fraud, collusion and favoritism" in millions of dollars worth of Teamster insurance business.

It purported to show that Teamster President James R. Hoffa channeled the lucrative account of the Central State Teamsters Conference through his friend Allen Dorfman of Chicago who shared in about $1,400,000 worth of commissions over seven years.

This, according to staff investigators, was about a million dollars more than the average commission rate.

In addition they said the Union Casualty Co. which got the insurance was not the low bidder. They said it collected some $650,000 more than the other bidder would have got in the first three years the policy was in effect.

Hoffa, questioned earlier, denied he promised to help Dorfman get the insurance. He said he told Dorfman he probably would get it if Dorfman's bid was competitive.

Testimony showed the union tossed out the first round of sealed bids in which the Pacific Mutual Co. was low and called for new ones. Pacific Mutual was again low but was told by Hoffa it was unacceptable because the company had some financial difficulties in 1936.

During the marathon inquiry Hoffa fenced with the committee with one hand while jousting with the union's court-appointed Board of Monitors with the other.

He disclosed the union was planning an effort to unseat one of the monitors, New York attorney Godfrey Schmidt. He also disclosed that the union had taken steps to hire a private investigator to check up on the expense accounts Schmidt submitted in connection with his work on the monitor board.

★ ★ ★

Hoffa was due in Cleveland, Ohio, tonight to take care of another matter growing out of the hearing — the refusal of Teamster official Louis (Babe) Triscaro to tell the committee about his outside business activities. Hoffa said he would leave it up to the members of Triscaro's local to decide whether any action against him was warranted.

Union Warning GM, Chrysler to 'Quit Playing'

Special Session Called to Review Settlement With Ford

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers called their Executive Board into special session today to review the Ford settlement and decide whether to set a strike deadline against General Motors or Chrysler.

Approval of the Ford pact was assured but there was no indication what the board's decision would be on the other auto companies.

The union warned both GM and Chrysler that time was running out. Douglas Fraser, leader of the

UAW team at Chrysler, said that "unless the pace picks up in the Chrysler negotiations we will ask the Executive Board for permission to set a strike date."

Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president and director of the GM Department, showed similar impatience.

"The time has come for them to quit playing games," Woodcock said. "Chrysler started to bargain several days ago but GM is still trying to make decisions and put the UAW in a position of being able only to decide whether or not to take them."

With the Ford agreement in hand, the union now has a lever to exert pressure on either company. Both Woodcock and Fraser have said they hope to improve on the three-year Ford pact.

★ ★ ★

Offers reportedly similar to the one Ford first made the UAW Monday still are on the table at the other two auto companies.

Walter Reuther, UAW president, described the proposals as deficient but said they offered a basis for collective bargaining.

The Ford settlement gave the UAW pay boosts, increased pensions, severance pay, cost-of-living and improvement factor allowances, compensation for those on short work weeks and extended supplemental unemployment pay.

★ ★ ★

Reuther said he probably would enter either the GM or Chrysler talks before the end of the week. The union resumed negotiations with both today.

Meanwhile, local grievances hampered return to 1959 model production at Ford plants where 98,000 walked off on strike call

Ballot on Segregation Sept. 27

Faubus Bares 'Legal' Plan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gov. Orval E. Faubus of Arkansas last night offered the people of Little Rock what he termed a legal plan for private, segregated schools and asked them to vote for segregated classes.

In Virginia, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. closed white schools as rapidly as the courts ordered them to admit Negroes.

An attorney for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People said he will go into court if necessary to get a group of Negro children into a white elementary school at Miami, Fla.

Faubus said approval of segregated classes in the Sept. 27 special referendum will make the school facilities surplus property.

The school board can then lease them to private agencies and he urged them to do so. One such agency has already been chartered. The plan depends heavily on the special election which some lawyers say has no legal significance because of the Supreme Court order to integrate immedittely.

The Little Rock School Board, meanwhile, arranged for informal televised classes for 3,480 high school students to begin Monday. School officials have not decided what credit may be given for such work.

Faubus said that the only way to keep the Little Rock school crisis from turning into racial conflict is to fight it out in the courts.

He said he will call out the National Guard, if necessary, to

It's First Drop in 2 Years

Cost of Living Declines

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of living dipped two-tenths of one per cent last month, the government reported today. The August drop was the first in two years.

The seasonal decline in food prices and small declines in clothing costs outweighed price rises for other basic family goods and service.

★ ★ ★

The August drop reflects heavy seasonal marketing of meats, fruits, and vegetables. "This is no downward trend," Commissioner of Labor Statistics Ewan Clague said. "The index is now tending to stabilize."

Liquidate Bonds to Meet Payroll

Planning More Layoffs at Pontiac General

By PETE LOCHBILER

The Board of Trustees last night authorized the transfer of $50,000 in treasury notes to the general fund to meet $49,000 in pay checks being distributed today.

The action was taken after Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, announced there would be further layoffs tomorrow as the hospital continued a crash austerity program to halt its soaring operational losses.

Euler said that 24 more employes were being laid off on a seniority basis, pushing the total number since May to 136. As of tomorrow, he said, the hospital complement will stand at 463, as compared with 593 employes in May, when the austerity program began.

The layoffs, he said, are for a 60-day period, subject to recall if the hospital's patient census improves.

Although the hospital's occupancy rate climbed to an average 85 per cent last month, as compared with July's all-time low of 76 per cent, the 1958 deficit continued to mount, Euler said.

August's losses amounted to $30,000, putting the total operational deficit so far this year at about $145,000, he reported.

Euler said that the critical financial period he had predicted for July and August was continuing, with no definite end in sight as yet.

At the same time, City Manager Walter K. Willman announced that other Oakland County communities help make up losses incurred by the hospital through unpaid emergency service bills had been given, largely, the cold shoulder.

★ ★ ★

Euler reported that Blue Cross officials have put an end to advances they have been extending the hospital this summer to help it meet its weekly payroll. He said, frankly, that hospital officials were scratching their heads in doubt about where next week's payroll will come from.

★ ★ ★

The increase in the occupancy rate was affected to a large degree by redistributing beds to favor surgical patients, whose occupancy of hospital rooms can be scheduled in advance, Euler said.

He said that personnel cuts had brought down the ratio of the number of hospital employes to patients to 2.43, or .12 points above the state average.

"This slightly higher rate might be justified here, though," Euler said, "since ours is a short-term hospital."

Developments in the hospital's shifting financial picture will determine whether more cuts will be made, Euler said.

★ ★ ★

Clouding the picture is the question of how soon the expansion program will be finished. Originally scheduled for completion this fall, the program received a setback earlier this month when it

Clarkson to Head City Hospital Board

James S. Clarkson, who has borne the heavy burden of guiding Pontiac General Hospital fiscal policies during this year's financial crisis, last night was elected chairman of its board of trustees.

Clarkson, a board member two years, succeeds Willis M. Brewer, who retired from the board last night after six years as a trustee.

★ ★ ★

William P. Babcock was elected 1958-59 vice chaiman; T. W. Bradford was elected treasurer; and Mrs. Edna B. Roush, secretary.

Board treasurer the past 20 months, Clarkson is executive vice president of the Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn.

Also retiring from the board was Charles Yeager, who like Brewer has held his hospital post since the board of trustees was created in 1952.

★ ★ ★

Yeager served as the board's first treasurer, Brewer as chairman of the committee which planned the present hospital expansion.

JAMES S. CLARKSON

Replacing them are Bradford, retired plant engineer for Pontiac Motor Division, and Dick Kirby, business agent for the AFL-CIO building trades council in Detroit.

Two more new members are expected to join the board soon, one to replace Harold B. Euler, who resigned to become hospital administrator, the other to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Edward P. Barrett, who has moved out of the city.

★ ★ ★

The new appointments are still to be made by the City Commission.

To Chase Reds Into China Area

U.S. Pilots Will Pursue Any Attackers to Hilt, Announces Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department says that if Chinese Red jet fighters shoot at American Air Force or Navy pilots, they are authorized to pursue the attackers, even into Communist China itself.

This military tactic of hot pursuit, the right to go after some one who shoots at you, applies anywhere, a Pentagon spokesman said in answer to questions.

Its application in the Quemoy area goes beyond the policy adopted in the Korean War. There, American fliers were prohibited from following Communist fighter planes beyond the Yalu river, the boundary between North Korea and Communist China.

★ ★ ★

The policy has not been put into use. No attacks on American planes or warships have been reported up to now.

The United States has announced reorganization of the American advisory command on Formosa, making it—in effect—a regular combat command.

The announcement by the commander of the U.S. Formosa Defense Command, Vice Adm. Roland N. Smoot, said the step was taken to attain an adequate defense posture in the face of recent stepped-up Chinese Communist actions.

The Nationalists said the Reds fired 6,613 shells between noon and 6 p.m. The bombardment was particularly heavy while three LST's —Landing Ship, Tank — were unloading supplies at Quemoy.

The Defense Ministry here said the ships accomplished their mission without damage and returned safely to base, presumably the Pescadores Islands.

Smoot's command announced that the United States has augmented its Army, Navy and Air Force in the Formosa area. It said this augmentation has established a requirement for centralizing operational control of all forces assigned to the Formosa area.

The announcement said the Joint Chiefs of Staff established the U.S. Formosa Defense Command as a subordinate unified command under the commander in chief, Pacific. Over-all direction remains under Smoot.

The first American casualty of the Red Chinese bombardment of Quemoy was flown to Formosa today aboard a Nationalist transport plane through a hail of Communist artillery shells.

Johnston, who was hit by a shell fragment during a Communist bombardment, walked off the plane with his left arm in a bloody sling. He carried a stack of hi-fi records under the other arm, one a Dinah Shore record scratched by a shell fragment.

"I don't remember just how it happened," Johnston told United Press International. "The shells were popping all over the place."

3 New Buildings Grace Campus at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Three new buildings on the University of Michigan campus are being used for the first time this fall.

The $8.5 million Medical Science and School of Nursing Building provides classrooms and laboratories for several departments of the University's medical center.

The $5.5 million Mary Markley Hall is the largest campus dormitory for women. It houses 1,200 students and contains 283,888 square feet.

U.S. Proposes 1-Year Delay in U.N. Action on Red China

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States formally proposed today that the U. N. postpone action on the seating of Red China for at least another year.

The move was made by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge in the General Assembly's powerful steering committee.

APPROVAL EXPECTED

The U. S. proposal was similar to motions adopted by the Assembly in previous years. There appeared no doubt that it would be approved again this time.

★ ★ ★

Lodge told the committee "this year, of all years, is not the time" to consider ousting Nationalist China and seating the Chinese Communists. He made no direct reference to the Chinese Communist attacks on Formosa, but spoke only of "recent developments" in the Far East.

Nationalist China's T. F. Tsiang blasted the Peiping regime as a product of Soviet indirect aggression and subversion, and declared it does not represent the Chinese people. He also asserted it had been branded by the U. N. as an aggressor.

Pressure for an early Steering Committee vote came from the United States and India after Assembly President Charles Malik had postponed the question twice in as many days.

★ ★ ★

The United States, angered over the repeated delays, was confident the U.N. would follow past procedure and vote to shelve the issue for another year.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was described as shocked by the postponements. A U.S. spokesman said: "We want a vote and we want it now."

A hundred and fifty U.S. deputy marshals, imported for integration duty, are still training in the Federal Building. There is nothing for them to do until the schools open.

In Virginia, Gov. Almond closed two schools at Charlottesville, under a state law which automatically halts classes wherever integration is ordered. The white high school at Front Royal was closed last week.

The Warren County (Front Royal) Parent-Teachers Assn. vetoed a move to reopen the school without state funds. The PTA named a committee to make plans for interim pupil instruction.

yesterday committee members showered down strong words of condemnation on Hoffa and his associates.

Sen. Frank Church (D-Idaho) said the "shocking disclosures. . . seem to indicate that there is just no end to the scandals." He said the Teamster treasury "seems to have attracted a host of parasites like are lights attract bugs."

Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-NY) chimed in with the remark about the "great record of misconduct." He expressed hope it would cause the American people to "rise up and demand that this thing be corrected."

Both senators praised McClellan and the committee staff for a "tremendous service" to the nation in exposing what they construed as misdeeds in Hoffa's giant union.

Kennedy said when the hearings resume in November the committee will go into the secondary boycott issue as its main subject of inquiry.

Nuclear Test Series Opens in Nevada

ATOMIC TEST SITE, Nev. (AP) — A tiny, but powerful, atomic weapon exploded over the desert today as the seventh and possibly final nuclear test series opened at this southern Nevada proving ground.

A brilliant flash cut through the morning sunlight as the device went off beneath a balloon at 500 feet elevation.

A light brown cloud, without the usual atomic mushroom shape, shot up over the floor of Yucca Flat at 7 a.m.

The sound and the shock wave were hardly noticable at News Nob 10½ miles away.

Four of the tests will be fired from balloons and low towers. The remaining six will be in tunnels deep in a mountain.

rather funds set aside for the proposed new courthouse.

Merritt said the money, not as high as Cooney quoted, but exactly $1,392,427.18, was by law restricted for this use and not possible to be used for other purposes.

The country's equalized valuation and tax yield have both increased in the last three years, Cooney pointed out to Barr.

In the same time, he added, Independence Township's valuation has climbed 38 per cent, but its tax yield has been a minus 5.2 per cent because of the smaller allocations from the county.

The Tax Allocation Board back in June granted Independence 1.32 mills after first granting a preliminary allocation of 1.80. Cooney said the .48 difference will mean a loss of $26,000 in tax dollars.

Conclude Suit Against Pontiac

City Manager Says He Opposed Promotions for 3 Officers

The suit by three Pontiac police officers against the city seeking immediate promotions concluded yesterday afternoon with City Manager Walter K. Willman as the final witness.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams gave City Attorney William Ewart 10 days to file a brief and the plaintiff's attorney, Paul W. Harty, 10 more days for an answer.

The suit was brought by Sgt. Raymond Meggitt, Detective Herbert Cooley said Sgt. Ted Goines, stating they were denied their promotions in violation of civil service law.

They claim that personal hostility to them by Chief of Police Herbert W. Straley was responsible for blocking their promotions.

Willman's testimony brought out that although Chief Straley opposed the promotions because he felt the eligible men were not qualified, Willman refused to make the promotions for other reasons.

Willman said he first postponed the promotions to await the Public Administration Service report on the police department. Later, he decided to wait for the arrival of the new director of public safety, due in Pontiac in about three weeks.

Willman said he felt that a reorganization of the police department would create a surplus of supervisory officers making further promotions unnecessary.

Under cross-examination, he was asked why he had asked the Civil Service Commission to conduct examinations for two lieutenants and three sergeants and then failed to order the top eligible men promoted.

★ ★ ★

"I had as much right to change my mind as any housewife," Willman replied.

"Do you have confidence in the judgment of your chief of police?" Willman was asked by Harty.

"He's still my man," the manager answered.

"Do you think you have done a good job in supervising the police department?" Harty asked.

"I've been a distinct failure in supervising the department," Willman admitted, "But it was the same way 30 years before."

Eye Strike Deadline for GM or Chrysler

Wednesday. The company said normal operations couldn't be expected before Monday.

Another 2,000 were idled by a strike at GM's Fisher Body plant at Grand Blanc, and 500 were out at a Fisher Body plant in Los Angeles. A strike at a Chevrolet plant in Oakland, Calif., idled another 900, making the total for GM plants throughout the nation, 7,077.

Victory, Defeat, Compromise

Original UAW Demands Compared With Results

Profit sharing, the UAW's most publicized demand in 1958 negotiations, was dropped quietly during the long months of negotiations. The UAW said that so long as it got gains from the auto companies, it did not care whether they were in the form of wage increases, profit sharing or other categories.

UAW ASKED:	SETTLEMENT WAS:
1. A general wage increase "accurately reflecting the national increase in productivity attainable under full employment and full production conditions."	1. No general wage increase.
2. Elimination of wage rate in equities.	2. An eight-cent-an-hour increase for skilled workers such as electricians.
3. Improvement of the wage formula to protect against increases in living costs.	3. An immediate increase of from nine to 10 cents an hour by continuing the cost of living allowance and annual improvement factor.
Contract Breakdown
4. Supplemental pay for laid off workers and their families: A—Increase to 65 per cent of gross pay rather than 60-65 per cent in present contract, up maximum weeks from 26 to 52.	A—65 per cent 39 weeks.
B—Full payment of SUB to workers in states which do not permit supplementation of unemployment compensation.	B—Granted. Payments to be made by giving worker SUB one week, letting him collect state unemployment in alternate weeks.
C—Eliminate $25 ceiling.	C—Not granted.
D—Liberalize waiting eligibility requirements.	D—Granted.
5—Increase basic benefits from pensions from $2.25 per month per year of service to $2.75.	5. Upped to $2.35, with fringe benefits.
6. Compensation to workers who lose jobs because of job transfers.	6. Ford-UAW agreed on first such severance plan which could give a worker a maximum of $3,000.

The Day in Birmingham

Business Women's Club Told of Visit to Russia

BIRMINGHAM — "One of the deepest impressions the Russian people made on me was their asking if every American owns an automobile and their obvious pride in the Soviet educational system," Mrs. Ruth Miller, a member of the Paroles and Pardons Division of the Michigan Corrections Dept., told members of the Birmingham Professional and Business Women's Club meeting last night at the Community House.

Mrs. Miller visited Russia earlier this year on an American social study tour.

Russian children start school at the age of seven, she said, and are under constant government supervision and graded on ability and talent. Students considered university material are singled out and given special opportunities for learning.

While attending universities they are paid weekly, she said.

The Russians claim their solution to juvenile delinquency is system of children's clubs, Mrs. Miller told the group. These clubs provide both entertainment and recreation, besides being a place where they can do school home work.

With some glee, Mrs. Miller related one incident in which Russia cannot claim a first.

After a tour of a modern, immaculate bakery, Mrs. Miller said her group was surprised to see the unwrapped loaves of bread being packed into baskets for delivery.

The manager explained: "In a year we expect to complete a system whereby the bread will be sliced and wrapped.

Charged with ferocious assault, Thomas Andrews, 32, of Detroit, stood mute yesterday in Bloomfield Hills Municipal Court. Judge Alva J. Richardson set trial for Oct. 2.

Andrews is accused of beating his estranged wife, Jacquelyn, 30, on Sept. 11 in a church parking lot. She lives at 6765 Glenway Blvd., Birmingham.

Andrews gave himself up yesterday after he had been talked to by Detroit Police, Bloomfield Hills Police Capt. Walter Sluiter said.

In a second hearing yesterday, Judge Richardson fined Marcus F. Bishop, 25, of Detroit, $75 on a charge of assault and battery.

The complaint was filed by Mrs. Selena Wallace, 42, a Bloomfield Hills domestic worker. She told police she had accepted a ride last Friday from Bishop from Detroit to her place of employment and he assaulted her.

FRANK H. GALBREATH

Frank H. Galbreath, 57, of 1433 Maryland Blvd., Birmingham died yesterday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, following a long illness.

A civil engineer for the Ford Motor Co. in Detroit, he formerly had been employed by the Ohio State Highway Dept. Mr. Galbreath was a graduate of Ohio State University and a member of Moscow Lodge 122, F&AM, in Point Pleasant, Ohio.

Surviving are his wife, Betty C.; a son, Robert C. of Birmingham; his mother, Mrs. F. N. Galbreath of Point Pleasant; two sisters and a brother.

The body will be taken tonight from Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. to Cincinnati for service and burial.

More Layoffs Due at Pontiac General

was announced that extensive repairs must be made to old plumbing, electrical and heating installations before remodeling of the original hospital building can proceed.

Willman and Euler said that the extent of the repairs and how much extra money they will cost have not yet been determined. City inspectors, contractors and architects have still to decide on the minimum amount of work that must be done, Willman said.

The contractors have estimated that to replace the defective systems in their entirety could push completion of the building program as far as a year away. The city and hospital, however, are determined to keep replacements at a minimum.

It is doubtful that the hospital can operate profitably until the original building is occupied and revenue-producing, Euler said. At present, only the recently-completed 254-bed addition is being used.

The plan that Willman proposed to other communities asked them to reimburse the hospital for unpaid bills run up by their residents.

Willman said that he has yet to receive a favorable reply to his proposal, made in July.

"We may soon come to the point where we must decide whether or not we can continue to act as a receiving hospital for the whole county," Willman said. "It is high time that the people of Pontiac stopped paying through the nose for the care of patients from other communities."

The hospital estimates its losses at about $50,000 a year on bills unpaid by out-of-town patients and another $50,000 on Pontiac residents. But the city has agreed to reimburse the hospital for its loss on Pontiac residents, beginning next year.

A committee of trustees is to be formed to ask other cities to adopt the Pontiac plan. The same committee is also to meet with county officials to spur payments on welfare cases.

Maybe 2 Dying Men Piloted Fatal Train

BAYONNE, N.J. (UPI) — Authorities scheduled an autopsy today to determine whether two dying men may have been in the cab of a Jersey Central commuter train locomotive when it ran three signals and plunged through an open drawbridge.

Investigators asked the autopsy on fireman Peter Andrew, 42, to determine whether he may have suffered a heart seizure immediately before the accident Monday as another autopsy showed engineer Lloyd Wilburn, 63, probably did.

Testimony before an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing in New York yesterday disclosed that Andrew had been on restricted duty because of "moderate elevation of blood pressure."

The number of bodies recovered from the oily waters of Newark Bay rose last night to 38. In addition, at least 11 persons believed to have been on the train still are missing.

Reports Eddie Fisher Wants to Marry Liz

Fisher and Miss Reynolds quarreled and parted over, among other things, his steady nightclubbing with Miss Taylor here while Miss Reynolds waited for him at home in Hollywood with their two children.

Miss Taylor, whose producer-husband Mike Todd was killed in a plane crash six months ago, has denied any romantic interest in Fisher. Fisher has also denied he loves her.

Supper Means More

Ford Settlement Is Good News

Settlement of the Ford labor negotiations is heartening news to everyone, not only here but across the nation. Reaching agreements over the conference table is far more expedient than strife and turmoil which has sometimes entered the picture.

★ ★ ★

For the last few days all eyes have been watching Detroit, especially the Ford-UAW bargaining. Not only does the automobile industry affect our lives here, but it has a great influence on the national economy.

"A sound and equitable agreement" are the words used in the joint statement by the company and the union. These are the words that countless numbers have been waiting to hear.

★ ★ ★

Aside from the actual workers in the auto plants, most other businesses in this immediate area are directly affected by the automobile plants. They have all been waiting for the go ahead sign, which is now in sight.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps this will be the pattern, or at least the foundation, for a settlement by the other two companies. The general feeling during the last few months has been one of insecurity, but now the tempo is easing and a mood of renewed confidence exists.

Let's hope this agreement will be one that can be quickly followed by the rest of the auto industry, so that the recession can be pushed into the background and employment can return to normal.

★ ★ ★

Congratulations are in order for both the UAW and Ford negotiators that worked unceasingly to reach this new agreement.

People Are Losing Faith in Our Judiciary System

What's the matter with our judiciary system? After observing several cases going by the boards over the last couple of years, it seems that the effectiveness of our courts leaves something to be desired.

★ ★ ★

Recently JAMES R. HOFFA, Teamsters president, has been "whitewashed" three times by the Federal courts. Once in Washington, D.C., and twice in New York. In each case, the evidence was very strong against acquittal.

Over the weekend Counsel Robert F. Kennedy of the Senate Rackets Committee scored the Justice Department for not handing out any indictments. Kennedy accused the Department of "dragging its feet on prosecuting cases unearthed by the committee."

★ ★ ★

Certainly the Supreme Court's decisions concerning Little Rock have added little to their stature. Right or wrong, carrying out of the decisions has become pretty much a farce.

People are beginning to wonder what gives with our courts. With so much controversy at local, state and national levels, this is understandable.

Two late developments which are causing raised eyebrows locally involve Federal Judge FRANK A. PICARD and Detroit Recorder's Judge JOSEPH A. GILLIS.

Because of the lack of any new evidence Judge PICARD dismissed indictments against six top Detroit and Michigan Communists accused of conspiring to advocate violent overthrow of the Government.

They were convicted in 1954 by Judge Picard but the Supreme Court reversed the decision. In commenting Judge Picard said, "I do this reluctantly because the Supreme Court and I disagree."

Right on the heels of the Federal decision comes word that Detroit Recorder's Judge GILLIS was paid $1,200 by the Teamsters Union for a TV program. The Rackets Committee also disclosed that he received $6,200 in campaign contributions from the Teamsters.

During this time Judge GILLIS had a labor shakedown case before him involving, among others, two Pontiac Teamsters.

★ ★ ★

It is decisions and actions such as this that are slowly causing citizens to lose faith in our judiciary system. A cleanup from the top down seems to be in order.

Who Said His Best Friend Wouldn't Tell Him!

David Lawrence Says:

Several Ways to Act Against Court

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Rogers is an able and conscientious man, and he has just made a good speech on why he thinks citizens should obey court decrees.

But, unfortunately, he told only a part of the story when, in his address before the National Citizenship Conference here, he said:

"Of course, persons who disagree with decisions of the Supreme Court interpreting constitutional rights are free to seek change by the orderly process of constitutional amendment."

LAWRENCE

Rogers did not mention any other means of securing a reversal of a court decision or of mitigating its effects. But there are many other lawful ways open to the citizen who disagrees with the Supreme Court's "interpretations" of the Constitution.

★ ★ ★

Here are some of them which do not require advocacy of any amendment to the Constitution:

1. A citizen may petition his senator or representative to vote for legislation that will, as the Constitution provides, limit the powers and jurisdiction of the Supreme Court in certain types of cases. Such laws have been passed before by Congress.

2. A citizen may petition members of Congress to bring about the removal of justices who have not lived up to their oaths.

3. A citizen may join with other citizens in petitioning the members of his political party to nominate for the presidency a man who will pledge himself, if elected, to appoint justices to the Supreme Court who have had judicial experience of at least five years. Most of the members of the present Supreme Court have never before sat on the bench of a Federal or high state court.

4. A citizen may petition his state legislature to enact laws that will avoid the consequences of a Supreme Court decision. It is unlawful to evade income taxes, but lawful to avoid them. One can refrain, for instance, from making certain expenditures in one year and postpone them till another year when the individual or corporation income might be smaller or subject to a lower tax rate. It is not a "defiance" of the law to use proper methods of avoiding its penalties.

5. A citizen may bring a suit that tests a new point which was not specifically decided before. It is not unlawful to bring test cases. It is done right along by labor unions and by corporations, and they are not accused of "flouting" the law just because they seek to determine its true scope in differing circumstances. Virginia and Arkansas are considering new ways to keep segregation through the leasing of school buildings to private corporations.

Abraham Lincoln's doctrine called for individual obedience to any decree, and he deplored any defiance, but he said with respect to the Dred Scott decision of 100 years ago by the Supreme Court of the United States involving slavery:

"We know the court that made it has often overruled its own decisions, and we shall do what we can to have it to overrule this. We offer no resistance to it."

There are, therefore, legal ways of trying to get a reversal, and these do not necessarily require advocacy or adoption of a constitutional amendment.

On the same day that Attorney General Rogers was making his speech at Washington, Sen. John W. Bricker of Ohio, an eminent lawyer who was formerly attorney general and then governor of his state, made a speech about the Supreme Court before a meeting in Cleveland of the Sons of the American Revolution.

"My remedy for judicial legislation," said Sen. Bricker, "is slow and prosaic, but it conforms to the letter and the spirit of our Constitution.

"The remedy is simply that the President and the Senate exercise far greater care in the future than they have in the past in nominating and confirming men for the highest tribunal. It is not enough merely to be satisfied that a prospective justice has nothing derogatory in his record."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Skip Tranquilizers, Lady; Seek Cause of Tension

"I am 25 years old, my husband is 30, and we've been happily married six years, married for seven—the first year we were not happy but thanks. . .we have five healthy, sweet, spoiled, sometimes naughty children . . . my pregnancies were all normal, never gained over ten pounds and never in labor more than two hours.

DR BRADY

"My big problem now is nerves. Something that I never dreamed would bother me. Always have been calm and unexcitable. But now under the slightest disturbance my throat gets numb and then painful, my head aches, I stutter, little things bother me that never used to.

★ ★ ★

"Three doctors have said my blood pressure is normal, but it's nervous tension. I do not like to take medicine to control my nerves, but the doctor has me taking a tranquilizer, one tablet after each meal and at bedtime. (Signed ————)"

In the first place this young woman should reject the phony suggestion that her trouble is "nervous tension" and consult a physician who makes a careful physical examination or call it health examination before he or she attempts to explain the present complaint.

This is still a health column, not a medical museum or long distance "clinic," and so I shall not mention explanations which occur to me, though I do remind the young woman that a test of the morning urine for sugar is an essential part of a health examination.

In some circumstances it is imperative that the doctor administer morphine, heroin, opium, alcohol or other narcotic; or a barbiturate or other hypnotic; or mepromate in any of the dozen forms in which this tranquilizer is available. Administer, I say. I mean that, in my opinion, putting any of these drugs in the hands of the patient is unjustifiable within the bounds of medical ethics.

This young woman says the tranquilizer she is taking doesn't "make me dopey, so I will take it and see if I feel better."

What she calls "feeling better" is, of course, dulled or lowered perception of how she feels. It is precisely the effect a person gets from any narcotic—alcohol, for instance. As one addict explained, at times he drinks to excess because he "feels the need of a stimulant, or just wants to feel better."

In a sneaky way I'm trying to lead you to the conclusion that if you have good health and good nutrition you'll feel just fine and dandy and you'll have no need for a narcotic, a stimulant, a sedative or a tranquilizer.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

The Country Parson

"Knowing a lot of words won't enable a man to say anything worthwhile if there's nothing worthwhile in him to come out."

Voice of the People

Urges Readers to Promote Withdrawal From the U.N.

Patriotic Americans, awake! Write your Congressmen and our President urging that we get out of the Red-controlled United Nations. It's slowly strangling us and our individual rights, blood-bought for us by our forefathers.

★ ★ ★

The Big Five Security Council has always had a Russian secretary and these Big Five hold the club over the General Assembly, which is a false front to mislead the people with the idea that the UN is governed by the democratic vote of the member nations.

★ ★ ★

Let's heed God's Word and not hold alliance with sheep in wolves' clothing, who would brainwash us to believe Red is black. The great patriot, Sen. Wm. Jenner (R-Ind) called the UN charter "the machine gun that looks like a baby carriage" and Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev) said "I shall always regret to the last day of my life that I ever voted for the United Nations." As God-pleasing Americans, let us cast off this Tower of Babel with actions, not apathy.

Readers' Opinions on South Differ

This letter is in answer to that written by Arkansas Wife With Pontiac Husband.

★ ★ ★

If God loves the Southerners just as much as he loves Northerners, I'm just as sure he loves those with dark skin as much as those with white skin. God is no respector of persons.

★ ★ ★

If this country should be, and it is, free for anyone to travel and live where he desires, why shouldn't everyone have the same right of education, no matter how great that education is, wherever and whenever he so desires?

Judy Thurman
60 N. Shirley St.

Jim Raines didn't say half enough for the Southern born. I owe my life to a Southern surgeon. He removed my lung and 10 ribs in three operations in seven months. If it weren't for the Grace of God and this genius, I wouldn't be here today. By the way, it was in your Pontiac General Hospital.

These cheap and foul mouthed politicians will have to talk a lot faster and louder before they set me against my Southern friends. They are married in my family and I'm proud to have them.

M. C. Pooley

Thinks Straley Should Be Fired

Every decent citizen in Pontiac is grateful for the bravery of these police heroes who secretly called in the State Police to wipe out a vicious racket and its leader right under Straley's nose.

★ ★ ★

The City Commission and Mr. Willman, indeed, have some fast talking to do. Straley should have been fired, if only for his benevolence of their rotten crooks. Why wasn't he? The P.A. Service report alone pointed out too many inadequacies.

★ ★ ★

I have completely lost faith and trust in the men who run our city as well as The Press. It's time to lift the rug and sweep out the dirt once and for all. It's every citizen's business and duty. I'm good and mad.

Mrs. John Coyle

Challenges Writer to Prove Charges

In answer to Wondering, there is good and bad in all organizations, but they can't be judged by the actions of a few or a minority. The Democratic party is an honorable organization and I'm proud and honored to be associated with it.

However, we wouldn't want Wondering for a member. That type only causes dissension and discord. And I'll challenge him to name any undesirable members in our Pontiac Democratic Club. If any are proven so, their membership shall cease. You should think twice before making definite statements that are untrue, malicious, denunciatory, defamatory or reflect on the character of an organization.

Compares Sentence With Other Cases

I recently read that a Negro in Alabama lost an appeal and was scheduled to be executed for robbing a woman of $1.95. I can't help but draw a comparison between this and the many sex maniacs who rape and kill and are then put into mental institutions.

Wants to Stick With Leaders

It's time people discovered that just because some labor leaders cheat and lie and steal that it doesn't apply to all. Most of them go straight and do right. We can't all talk to the boss and they can. Let's stick with them.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Must Seek Cause of Alcoholism

Hal is typical of thousands of talented men who go emotionally berserk after the age of 40. He has used whisky as an escape mechanism. To cure him, we must go to the underlying core of his complex and clear it up. Scrapbook this case or pass it along to the wives of such victims.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, I am so worried about Hal," his attractive wife began, "for he is drinking himself to death.

DR. CRANE

"And I mean that literally. He missed an excellent promotion a year ago which would have given him $3,000 more salary per year.

"But it wasn't this which made him a drunkard, for his drunkenness has been going on for three years.

"And he is such a wonderful man when sober. He has great ability, too, and our children are devoted to him.

"But he is now threatened with loss of his position and I really fear he will be on Skid Row within six months. What can I do?

"He refuses to join Alcoholics Anonymous and doesn't seem to care what happens. In fact, he told me last night it's either liquor or suicide."

FIRE ESCAPE

In psychiatry we regard alcoholism as a parallel to the fire escape from a burning building.

It is an escape mechanism by which people try to flee from the inner torment (fires) of shame, humiliation, fear, etc.

By use of drugs, we medics can nauseate such a patient whenever he sips alcohol. But it is folly to tear down the fire escape before putting out the fires.

Otherwise, the victim may literally resort to suicide or narcotics or some other escape machinsim.

★ ★ ★

The ultimate cure of alcoholism is to dissect the personality of the victim until we find why he is so afraid of reality that he wants to flee.

SEX COWARDS

After a man passes the age of 40, he often grows neurotic in the sexual realm.

Although women are usually regarded as the victims of sex complexes after 40, their husbands are just as vulnerable.

And I found this to be true of Hal. Three years ago he became relatively platonic as regards his wife.

That wounded him in the most vulnerable "Achilles tendon" in the masculine personality, namely, his sex ego.

He didn't tell his wife, but for several months he took testosterone shots as a means of trying to build up his erotic fervor.

But the doctor somehow lost his psychological prestige, so the shots failed to work. And this is often true, for impotence is usually about 90 per cent above the eyes, anyway.

So Hal felt thereafter that life was wormwood and gall. He could not bear to face the future.

★ ★ ★

So he fled into a drunken stupor, although he had previously been a teetotaler. Now he drank before breakfast and remained liquored up all day long.

ALCOHOL & SEX COWARDS

Alcohol is the ally of sex cowards who feel they are no good and that their future marital life must remain forever platonic.

That is usually as false a notion as the neurotic wife's mistaken belief that she is on the shelf, too, after the menopause.

Both of these attitudes are totally false. But if they are firmly believed, then they can cause just as much tragedy as if they were true!

★ ★ ★

Many husbands thus drink to excess after 40 to dull their own wounded spirits, and also to divert their wife's attention from the basic fear that torments them.

Send for the booklet, "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It helped cure Hal, as shown in tomorrow's follow-up.

★ ★ ★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Assassin Shoots U.S. Diplomat

Vice Consul on Cyprus in Dangerous Condition With 3 Bullet Wounds

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — U.S. Vice Consul John Page Wentworth was in dangerous condition today with three bullet wounds inflicted by a young gunman who may have believed he was shooting a Briton.

The gunman fired over the garden fence as Wentworth stood behind his home last night. The 33-year-old diplomat had just been romping with his 3-year-old daughter Caroline. He was hit twice in the stomach and once in the leg.

★ ★ ★

He was taken to the British military hospital, where his condition was listed as dangerous. The gunman escaped.

About the same time a British airman was slightly wounded by a gunman a couple of blocks away and two Turkish Cypriot policemen also were wounded.

British authorities quickly imposed a general overnight curfew and an indefinite house curfew for all Greek Cypriot men between 15½ and 25.

There was speculation that Wentworth had been mistaken for a British citizen, the main target of Greek Cypriot terrorists trying to win freedom for this British crown colony to join Greece.

The American colony of about 600 persons on Cyprus has not been a target of terrorism by either Greek or Turkish Cypriots though hundreds of lives have been taken in the last 3½ years.

Wentworth arrived here last June with his wife Jocelyn, his daughter and a son Peter, 1, to become an assistant to U.S. Consul General Taylor Belcher. The family lives near the new American consulate building.

A native of Worcester, Mass., Wentworth was graduated from the Case Institute of Technology in Cleveland. He was a Navy officer and an electronics engineer before joining the consular service in 1955. He served as a vice consul in Medellin, Colombia, before coming here.

Violence continued in Cyprus today with the fatal shooting of a 40-year-old Greek Cypriot carpenter at Limassol. Another man was wounded. Police said it was believed EOKA, the Greek Cypriot underground, was responsible.

U.S. Bond Sales Slip

DETROIT (AP)—Savings bond purchases in Michigan dropped 10 per cent in August from the same month a year ago, the U.S. Treasury Department reports. However, despite widespread unemployment in the state, purchases in the first eight months this year were only 4 per cent below 1957.

18 Teaching Indonesians

JAKARTA — Eighteen American cement-mill workers are teaching Indonesians how to operate a new $14,000,000 cement plant in Indonesia. They expect the workmen to be trained well enough within a year to run the plant at its full capacity, 250,000 tons a year.

Lawton Resident Killed

LAWTON (AP) — Arthur Waters, 87, of Lawton, was killed Thursday when he was struck by a car while crossing a Lawton intersection.

Three Gunmen Rob Bank in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Three gunmen, believed to be the same who have pulled off three daring holdups in recent months, robbed an East Side bank of an undetermined amount of money yesterday.

One of the men vaulted a counter at the Detroit Bank and Trust Co. branch and scooped up money as his companions held customers and employes at gunpoint.

★ ★ ★

Within minutes the three had escaped. No one was injured.

Gunmen of the same description robbed a National Bank of Detroit branch in Harper Woods of $7,000 on Aug. 1 and a week ago took $10,000 from a St. Clair Shores supermarket. They are also believed to have robbed another suburban bank on June 30.

Use Bow 'n' Arrow to Secure Atom City

★ ★ ★

Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory — where the world's first atomic bomb was developed—was faced with the problem of stringing wires across a box canyon.

The walls of the canyon were too steep to climb, and the distance too great for throwing a line.

★ ★ ★

So Harold W. Groves, a lab employe and an expert bow-and-arrow man, unlimbered his equipment, tied some fishing line to the tail of an arrow and zipped it across the canyon.

The rest was easy.

Turn Attention to 1959 Talks

Insurgent Steelworkers' Efforts Beaten Down at Union Convention

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—The United Steelworkers turned attention today to 1959 contract negotiations after methodically stamping out the fire of an insurgent group and recommending its expulsion.

★ ★ ★

A resolution calling leaders of the Dues Protest Committee dual unionists and traitors to the labor movement passed yesterday on the fourth day of the union's ninth constitutional convention. There were two negative votes.

The resolution called on USW locals that have Protest Committee members in their ranks to "take prompt and vigorous action to eliminate those guilty of these serious constitutional violations."

The action was one of repeated demonstrations of the power that President David J. McDonald wields in the 1,200,000-member union. His leadership was under question when the convention opened Monday.

The expulsion move was directed at Donald C. Rarick, chairman of the Protest Committee and Nick Mamula and Frank O'Brien, two outspoken members. All are presidents of USW locals in the Pittsburgh area.

2 in 'Space Chamber' Entering Eighth Day

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Two researchers at the Air Force School of Aviation Medicine entered their eighth day in a sealed, simulated space chamber today. They report they are "feeling great" but look forward to a shower when they emerge Monday.

Both Dr. Bruno Balke and M. Sgt. Samuel G. Karst are eating and sleeping well and have stopped losing weight, said Dr. Robert C. Clark, who heads the experiment to learn more about man's reactions to living in space.

To End Legitimate Vice in Italy After Today

ROME, Italy (AP)—Sex is legally on sale for the last time in Italy today.

The country's "houses of tolerance" must close their doors tonight under the Merlin Act making prostitution illegal. The act was signed into law six months ago by President Giovanni Gronchi.

Little Rock Student Enrolls in Texas

★ ★ ★

Tommy Moon, 15, formerly of Little Rock's Hall High School, enrolled yesterday. He was accompanied by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Moon of Little Rock, and will live here with an uncle, Dr. E. F. Thomas.

"He'll be here at least for one semester," the boy's father said. "We hope it won't have to be longer."

★ ★ ★

Little Rock citizens will vote Sept. 27 whether their high schools will be integrated. Amarillo schools are segregated with Negro students permitted, if they wish, to transfer to white schools for all their work or for specific courses. No Negroes are now attending Amarillo High School.

Moon, as a non-resident student, will pay tuition of $159.50 for a semester of 4½ months.

Novi Vote May Create County's Biggest Village

NOVI TOWNSHIP — Oakland County's largest village, and one of the biggest in the state, would result from approval Monday of the charter for the proposed Village of Novi.

The area, which was approved for incorporation March 17, covers about 30 square miles of the township's 36. The first vote was 509 to 442.

There are about 6,000 residents in the proposed village.

The only portions of Novi Township not included in the village boundaries are two subdivisions, Northville Estates and Brookland Farms No. 1, and a small area recently annexed by Northville, which is involved in a legal dispute.

Warren Products, on industrial firm in the small township section annexed by Northville, is carrying on a legal battle to remain a part of the township.

Qualified Novi electors will also vote for candidates for a five-man village council. They are George T. Ames, J. Philip Anderson, A. Russel Button, Ebertus J. Fisher, David M. Fried, Dirk H. Groenenberg, Leo E. Harrawood, Dicron Tafrailian, Walter Tuck and Donald W. Woodward.

Those elected would assume office only if the charter is approved.

Others cited by a pro-village group are local control of tax monies, including revenue from sources other than real estate taxes, and the legal powers which enable an incorporated village to own and operate its services such as water and sewer systems.

The proposed charter limits property tax levy at 5 mills. Any property tax increase would have to be approved by voters.

If the home rule charter is turned down by the voters, it will be revised and resubmitted to the voters, according to Charter Commission members.

Fire Damages Orion Home

ORION TOWNSHIP — Fire yesterday evening caused an estimated $10,000 in damages to the home and contents of Mrs. John C. Plassey, 477 Oakgrove St. in the Bunny Run Subdivision.

Mrs. Plassey, widow of the late Mr. Plassey, who owned the Community Motor Sales, Inc., Rochester, was at a church dinner in Rochester when the blaze broke out at about 6:30.

★ ★ ★

Orion Township Fire Chief George Schick believed it started in the utility room where an oil furnace was located.

Two other rooms in the eight-room house were gutted, and there was extensive smoke and water damage throughout, Schick said.

★ ★ ★

Water was pumped directly onto the flames from a canal near the house, Schick said. Early efforts by the township volunteer fire department were hampered by the heavy smoke, he said.

An active clubwoman, Mrs. Plassey recently had the home renovated and moved into it from Rochester.

Damaged or destroyed were many pieces of antique furniture, china and oil paintings. She also lost a valuable collection of slides and material used in demonstrating her lectures to garden clubs.

★ ★ ★

Her son-in-law, Frank Shepard, a Rochester realtor, believed damages would amount to about $10,000.

Lodge Probe Called 'Political Phony'

A tag of "a political phony" has been placed on Oakland county Sen. L. Harvey Lodge's recent inquiries of his Senate Investigating Committee into use of state-owned cars by state officials for private errands.

Eugene F. Black, Michigan Supreme Court justice called to task by Lodge, today hurled the charge saying the inquiry "is a political phony" and that "his (Lodge's interest in the subject, from and after election day, will drop to zero."

★ ★ ★

Justice Black criticized Lodge in a letter to State Controller James W. Miller, with whom Lodge, chairman of the committee, hassled over the use of state cars by Justices Black, John Voelker and Talbot Smith.

Black said requisitions for the cars were "made principally for regional meetings for purposes of the court administration acts of 1952 and 1954 and for expanding the court's developing supervisory program."

ROMEO—A bank pouch containing $34 was stolen last night from the office of Church and Church on E. St. Clair street, Romeo Police said today.

The pouch was taken from a filing cabinet in the office.

New Hospital to Be Expanded

Plan 18-Bed Addition Even Before Finishing Building Near Romeo

ROMEO — The new Community Hospital, located between Romeo and Almont, will be expanding even before it is formally dedicated next month.

Plans now are being drawn by architects for a 16 to 18-bed addition, a hospital spokesman said today. Bids on the additional construction will be opened Oct. 28, four days after the scheduled dedication.

Completion of the new wing will raise the hospital's capacity from 30 to 46 or 48 beds, and will still leave space for the total of 80 beds originally planned.

News of the proposed expansion follows the recent announcement by the Michigan Office of Hospital Survey and Construction, which has recommended a federal grant of $91,696. Total cost of the hospital, including the new addition, will be approximately $715,000.

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (AP) — Some time ago Doyal Plunkitt traded in his 1953 model car for a new one. The used car traveled a circuit among dealers that took it to Muncie, Anderson, Indianapolis and finally back to New Castle, where Plunkitt bought it again to give to his daughter.

Relman Morin Writing for Hal Boyle:

Kindness and Love Reform Communists

Associated Press Staff Writer

Can you imagine trying to reform a Communist with kindness and love?

"We think it works," said the young professor. "Come and see."

So this correspondent, on a recent trip to Formosa and Quemoy, spent the night in one of the most unusual "schools" in the world. It is near Taipei, capital of the exiled Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa.

Surrounded by walls, and with armed guards in watchtowers, it looks more like a penal institution. But they call it a school. The grounds are "the campus." When a man or woman is allowed to leave, they say he has "graduated."

It is a reformatory for Chinese Communists.

★ ★ ★

Formosa is only 120 miles from the coast of Red China. In their unending war, the two regimes continually slip agents into each other's territory.

When the Nationalists catch a Communist, or even a fellow-traveler, they put him in this school.

He stays at least three years. Then if the instructors are convinced he has changed, they release him.

"But isn't this plain brain washing?" I asked. "It sounds like the same thing the Communists do."

"Just the reverse," said the Chinese professor.

★ ★ ★

"They use force. We never touch a man. They preach hate. We teach love. We try to make a man feel that he belongs to a family, and is loved, as in any family."

More than half the day is devoted to political instruction.

"But we encourage them to argue freely about Communist doctrine. We counter every point with the teachings of Dr. Sun." Sun Yat-sen, the revolutionist, wrote the "Three principles of the People," advocating democracy.

"Here, again, there is no coercion," said the professor. "Each person freely chooses the trade he wants to learn."

They reason that a man who has a special trade, and can earn a better living, is less likely to fall for the Communist line. Statistics showed that the great majority of those who had come to the school as Reds were farmers or soldiers, many of them illiterate.

Each man also has a bit of ground for gardening. Some raise flowers, the majority vegetables—and they are encouraged to sell the produce, thus indulging in that Communist anathema, private enterprise.

The sound of children singing floated across the yard.

"That's our kindergarten," said the professor. "There are always a few women here. Those who have children can keep them here. They play games and get a little schooling while their mothers are at work."

★ ★ ★

He said one of the women had been planted by the Reds as a housemaid in the home of an American officer to spy on him.

"One other thing," said the professor. "The Communists try to erase all feeling of family and nationality, as you know.

"We try to make them as fiercely Chinese as possible. They read about the glorious days of China. They have an orchestra and they play the classical music and see the classical dances and drama.

"We want them to feel Chinese—not half Russian."

★ ★ ★

Finally, I asked the pay-off question: "When you release a man, how can you be sure he isn't merely pretending to have given up his Communist ideas? How can anyone tell?"

"They are watched, of course," he said. "They know that.

"But this is much more significant: Many come back to visit us and they frequently say 'I feel that this is my home and my family.'"

Can you cure communism with love and reason? In this unique "school," they firmly believe so.

Women Keep Baseball Going—or Coming

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — If you are a woman and you try to enter the press box at a ball park, they will give you not only a prompt and physical heave-ho—they will throw in, with the throw-out, a lecture. "This is one game, madame," a Yankee Stadium guard advised me several years ago, "that is completely untainted by females."

★ ★ ★

Although basically I approve the principle, feeling that men should have an occasional hideaway to run to when the females get rough, I objected to the tone. It was so positive. Everyone should know that as long as there is forbidden fruit and a descendant of Eve on earth, nothing is certain.

So today comes the news that, without women, the game of baseball might be a smashing bore, or extinct.

It is their delicate fingers and 20-20 vision that put, into a ball, the capacity to sail over fences.

A total of 125 women, called "stitchers," turn out 800 dozen baseballs a year for the 16 major league teams.

One woman, a pleasant-faced 50-year-old named Mrs. Jesse Wilson, is the champion stitcher of all times. She has been at the job for 10 years, and can turn out 55 balls a day. And she does it, obviously, for love of Mickey Mantle, as her salary is $68.75 a week.

Mrs. Wilson figures she has stitched more than 150-thousand baseballs in her career, but has never seen a game.

Why?

Nerves.

She thinks every ball she makes should go over the fence, even with a light tap. Someone told her that they don't, and it hurt her feelings, professionally.

★ ★ ★

The A. G. Spalding Company, which makes all the major league baseballs, says women do 95 per cent of the work, and by hand. Each woman works with two needles, and uses about 188 inches of waxed twine in each ball. Each takes exactly 108 stitches—no more, no less. It's a regular "lace stitch," as used in tying your shoes.

★ ★ ★

The production manager, who hires the only girls who "taint" the baseball picture, says, "You can put the best materials in a ball, but if the woman who assembles it cannot do her job right, you have a piece of junk.

"This is one job that no machine can do like a good woman."

The high cost of baseball players is equalled by the high cost of balls. Each ball costs a club between $2 and $2.25. The going rate is 50 balls per game, and another 25 in batting practice.

★ ★ ★

The chances are that 300 to 500 balls will be used in the World Series. "And in the main," reports the company, "they are the handiwork of Mrs. Wilson." She might be called the hidden heroine of the sport, on the theory that:

A stitch in time saves the nine?

Antiaircraft Nike—Hercules Added for Defense

U.S. Sending New Missiles to Formosa

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The U. S. Army's newest antiaircraft missile is being added to the defense of Formosa with the assignment here of a Nike-Hercules missile battalion.

The U.S. Taiwan (Formosa) Defense Command announced today an advance party of the 71st Artillery Regiment's 2nd Missile Battalion had arrived from Ft. Bliss, Tex., and missile launching sites are being built.

★ ★ ★

The Nike-Hercules can knock down enemy aircraft more than 75 miles away. It can carry either a conventional or an atomic warhead.

The Defense Department in Washington said Monday the battalion was going to the Pacific but refused to confirm reports that it would come to Formosa.

A Nike-Hercules battalion consists of 700 to 800 men manning 48 missile launchers. This type of supersonic missile is in defense around New York, Chicago, Los Angeles and the Washington-Baltimore area.

Matador guided missiles have been in operation on Formosa since late last year. U.S. jet fighters also are on Formosa, and the 7th Fleet carries its own antiaircraft missiles and fighters.

The Nationalists got three more LSTs through Communist shellfire to Quemoy, the Defense Ministry said. The ships unloaded supplies and withdrew without damage.

★ ★ ★

This brought to nine the number of LSTs reported to have delivered cargoes to Quemoy, since U.S. advisers showed the Nationalists new techniques.

Nationalist China gave credit to better U.S.-trained pilots and superior American planes for the victories it claimed in dogfights with the Communists yesterday.

The Defense Ministry said eight of its planes tangled with 30 Communist MIGs near the offshore Quemoy islands and downed five of them without a Nationalist loss. Nationalist planes also sank three Communist torpedo boats and damaged another, the ministry claimed.

The ministry spokesman, Rear Adm. Liu Hoh-tu, was asked at a news conference how outnumbered Nationalist jet pilots could score such one-sided victories.

"It must be because of much better morale, experience and training of our pilots," Liu replied. "I think also that American equipment inside the plane is superior, as you all know from the Korean War."

Liu apparently referred to radar and electronic gunnery equipment in F86 Sabre Jets and F84 Thunderjets supplied to the Nationalists by the United States. The basic planes themselves are older models than the Communist MIG17s. Nationalist pilots are now training in newer supersonic F100 Super Sabres.

★ ★ ★

Liu said U.S. jets flew protective air cover with the Nationalist planes protecting a supply convoy to Quemoy but were not engaged in the dogfights.

"There was no need for them to come in," he added.

So far there have been no direct clashes between U.S. forces and the Chinese Communists. But a soldier from the U.S. military advisory team on Quemoy arrived in Taipei with an arm wound received during a Communist shelling. Specialist 3.C. George Johnston of Springdale, Pa., said he was not certain whether he was hurt by shell fragments or the dive he took into a hole.

★ ★ ★

After a lull of 11 hours 12 minutes, the Communists reopened their bombardment of the Quemoys at 2:42 a.m. The Defense Ministry said 1,250 shells had hit the islands by noon.

Island Without Cars, but Tractors Problem

ST. HELIER, Channel Islands (UPI)—The tiny English Channel island of Sark, where automobiles are banned, has a traffic problem—tractors.

Fun-loving farmers often ride the tractors from pub to pub on noisy drinking sprees. The Sark Parliament is considering a curfew on tractors from 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Buenos Aires has five subways.

Buried Wrongs Come Back to Convict Worker

HALIFAX, England (UPI) — Somehow Kenneth Elsworth, 38, couldn't get the hang of the curtain rods he was supposed to be assembling at a factory here.

He was always making mistakes and every time he did he was bawled out by his boss. That went on for some time until he thought of a way out.

To cover up his mistakes he decided to smuggle the faulty products out of the factory, take them home and bury them at the bottom of his garden.

Six years ago Elsworth figured he had had enough so he quit, moved to another city and got another job.

Then along came Mrs. Jessie Fox who took over Elsworth's old house. She was digging in the garden and there she uncovered 68 of Elsworth's mistakes.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Fox worked for Elsworth's old firm and recognized the rods. She told her foreman who told the manager who called police who charged Elsworth with stealing the rods.

He pleaded guilty.

"I was allowed to make a few mistakes on the assembly line, but I made many mistakes," Elsworth told police in a statement read in court yesterday.

"I would do anything to stop the foreman shouting at me. So if I made more mistakes than I was supposed to I took the rods home and buried them."

★ ★ ★

Elsworth was freed after he promised to pay $56 to his old firm for the rods, plus court costs.

He is now a textile worker.

Mrs. Boyer Wins First Golf Title

Her first links title was a good one for veteran WMGA player Mrs. E. R. (Phyllis) Boyer of Bald Mt. club. Mrs. Boyer took the Metropolitan Golf Assn. crown yesterday at Plumbrook. She defeated Mrs. Charles Zahn, 1 up, without her 2-stroke handicap.

Curtice Says Ford Pact Won't Set GM Pattern

NEW YORK (AP)—Harlow Curtice, former president of General Motors Corp., said today the Ford labor settlement was "quite satisfactory" but implied it was not a pattern-setter for GM.

Curtice, a member of GM's finance committee and Board of Directors, said GM and the United Automobile Workers would "have to reach their own agreement."

Curtice sailed with his wife aboard the liner United States for a one-month inspection tour of European plants. He reiterated his last month's forecast that a good year lies ahead for the auto industry.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Open Waterford Bids on School

Detroit, Pontiac Firms Have 2 Lowest Offers on Elementary Unit

Nine bids for construction of the Laura Haviland Elementary School were opened at last night's regular Waterford Township Board of Education meeting.

The Smith and Andrews Construction Co. of Detroit submitted the lowest base bid of $236,953. The Bundy Construction Company was next lowest with a bid of $237,500.

All of the bids were referred to architects of the George D. Mason Company for study and recommendation. Contracts will be awarded at a special Board of Education meeting at 8 p.m. next Thursday.

In other business, a group of parents from the Drayton Plains school area were present, questioning bus transportation scheduling.

The board explained that buses do not transport children who live within a 1½-mile radius of their school this year due to lack of state aid funds.

Chairman of the building committee Frederick Poole was authorized to have realtors Holmes-Bartram submit an offer for purchase of another elementary school site in the Jayno Adams school area.

The board also is considering three different high school sites in the township, and some action on this project is expected at the special meeting Thursday.

★ ★ ★

The board approved Supt. William Shunck's recommendation that Municipal Finance Commission approval be sought for a $400,000 loan for school operation costs.

The loan is necessary due to an anticipated 50 per cent cut in October state aid funds. The board also approved a bid of $50,000 at 2 per cent interest from the Community National Bank for operating expenses.

★ ★ ★

17 New Polio Cases Seen in Detroit Area

DETROIT (AP) — Seventeen new polio cases were reported in the metropolitan Detroit area yesterday, bringing the area's total for the year thus far to 509, compared with 205 at the same time last year.

Health officials said 14 of the new cases were in Detroit and the rest were reported in Wayne County outside the city limits.

★ ★ ★

A total of 79 cases were reported in Detroit during the last seven days compared with 78 in the previous week. Thus far in Detroit this year, a total of 380 polio cases with 11 deaths have been reported. The totals for the comparative period last year were 153 cases and two deaths.

Woman Halts 3 Workers With Blast of Shotgun

WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. (AP)—Three workers from a nearby rock quarry drove up to the home of Mrs. Janice Davis, 43, to warn her they were about to do some more blasting.

★ ★ ★

This was not news to Mrs. Davis. Police said she intercepted the delegation with a blast of her own from a shotgun, shooting holes in their station wagon's tires.

★ ★ ★

Snark Streaks on 6,000-Mile Atlantic Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —A Snark guided missile streaked aloft today on the start of another 6,000-mile flight across the Atlantic.

★ ★ ★

The 69-foot Snark, which has been fired from the Cape more than 50 times, at present is the only U.S. missile capable of traveling intercontinental range.

Twin booster rockets flashed a bright stream of orange flame as the Snark skimmed across the Cape and out over the sea. After a few seconds, the boosters broke away and a turbojet engine cut in.

★ ★ ★

The missile, developed by Northrop, has a speed of only 600 m.p.h., but it is capable of sensational accuracy. If launched off course, the Snark's airborne guidance system can correct the trajectory automatically.

Lately the Snark has been fired by members of the 556th Guided Missiles Squadron of the Strategic Air Command. This is the same unit that will be the first to deploy with the Snark when it becomes operational.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force confirmed that a Snark was launched, but no other details were released.

In 1957 a total of 2,800 Norwegians emigrated — 1,724 to the United States and 947 to Canada.

Goes to Hospital as Comptroller

R. DeCleene Replaces Swatzburg in $9,500 Position Here

Harold B. Euler, Pontiac General Hospital administrator, today announced the resignation of Louis Swatzburg as comptroller and the appointment of Robert O. DeCleene to the $9,500-a-year post.

★ ★ ★

Swatzburg, 57, who held the job two years, has resigned to take another position, Euler said.

★ ★ ★

DeCleene, 39, of 10085 Talbot Rd., Huntington Woods will join the hospital staff Oct. 13, Euler said.

The new official has been comptroller for Arthur Murray studios throughout Michigan for the past three years. A certified public accountant, he has had 10 years experience in both private and public accounting.

One of DeCleene's major jobs will be to supervise the new mechanized accounting system which the hospital plans to install in the near future, Euler said.

★ ★ ★

As comptroller, DeCleene will be in charge of hospital finances and accounting. He will also serve on the hospital management committee.

Three Children Watch Search for Themselves

The group included two women, mothers of three children reported missing.

The crowd kept getting bigger. So there wasn't much stir when three youngsters joined the group to see what the excitement was about.

Not, that is, until someone recognized them as the objects of the search — 5-year-old Bobby Curran, and Gail and Mark Walpert, 3 and 5.

Where had they been?

"Way over there," one managed to reply with an indefinite wave of his arm between hugs and kisses from his mother.

Bob Considine Says:

Little Rock School Chief Is Man-in-Middle

LITTLE ROCK—The man in the middle in the school integration situation in Little Rock is the city's superintendent of schools, a big, dogged, honest-as-the-day-is-long former football played named Virgil T. Blossom.

No man tried harder than he to obey the dictates of the Supreme Court and, at the same time, make acceptance of that hard verdict as palatable as possible to a people who had no appetite to comply.

He took the matter a step at a time. In the immediate wake of the first high court order, May, 1954, he and the school board which elected him issued a statement which reviewed the city's outstanding efforts to provide "spearate but equal" educational opportunities. The report added, "It is now our responsibility to comply with federal constitutional requirements and we intend to do so when the Supreme Court of the United States outlines the method to be followed."

When, a year later, the court ruled that school integration must go forward with "all deliberate speed," Blossom and his associates devised a plan which won wholehearted approval among the people, Blossom made more than 200 speeches to big and little groups, white and Negro, explaining it.

The Arkansas Democrat named him "Man of the Year in Little Rock" in 1955 with a citation which read, "In less than three years (as superintendent) you have made an excellent record in administering the city's schools. The problem of increased enrollment and others even more serious have been handled by you in a manner that has brought you the respect and admiration of the entire country."

In the early hours of the morning of the day before Little Rock's gentle integration plan was to go into effect, Gov. Faubus (who had applauded the plan) called out his National Guard to "protect" the Negro students by keeping them out of Central High School. You know the rest of the seamy picture—the exclusion of a Negro girl, the arrival of the bayonet-bared 101st Airborne troops, the fights, the recriminations, the staining of Little Rock's fair name all over the world.

Blossom has become one of the governor's major targets of late, even though he plugged manfully for the 2½-year desegregation stay which the Supreme Court rejected last week. The newspaper that hailed him as "man of the year" is critical of him. Some of the mail he gets is downright vicious. The governor has signed into law a bill which enables him preemptorily to fire Blossom from his $13,200 a year job, as well as the publicly elected school board members from their payless jobs.

Blossom has been in school work since 1924. His record at Little Rock won attention through the nation long before events turned the attention to notoriety. He has dedicated himself to the enormous task of trying to restore his peoples' respect for the Supreme Court, for law in general. He is out to rid the mounting fears the parents and students have of reprisals, if they speak their minds.

Significantly, none of his teachers have quit, despite heavy pressures brought to bear on them. He himself is able to carry his own burden, he says, because of the "magnificent" character of the teachers and "95 per cent" of the students, and a school board which has stuck by its guns even though the businesses of some of the members have been hurt by boycott.

"What happened here in Little Rock was certain to happen somewhere else in the South," he told me today, over a hurried bowl of soup that was his lunch. "Where else would people of a community of this size take this problem in such perfect stride, day by day? I'm so darned proud of these good people, so darned sorry about what they've had to go through."

East Germany Loses Many of Its Doctors

KIEL, Germany (AP)—So many doctors have fled East Germany that some small cities and hospitals have no doctors at all.

This was reported today by Ernst Lemmer, refugee minister in the West German government. He called the situation a catastrophe and said Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's Christian Democrats, holding a party congress here, are seeking ways to help. The Soviet Union may be asked to send in doctors to help care for the 17 million Germans in the East Zone, which is under Sovitt domination.

Soviet Union Publishes Its First 'Who's Who'

MUNICH, Germany (UPI)—The first "Who's Who" in the Soviet Union went on sale here yesterday.

The 780-page collection of 2,000 biographies was compiled by "The Institute for Research of the Soviet Union" in Munich, which claims the work is the first of its kind.

Included in the book are personalities of the Communist Party, the Soviet army, industry, economics, science, art, sport and religion.

Present Fall-Out Not Cancerous

No Bone Afflictions or Leukemia Traced in Nuclear Research

WASHINGTON (AP)—A woman researcher says tests on mice show that the present fall-out from nuclear weapons tests will not produce a single case of bone cancer or leukemia in humans.

The report of the researcher, Miriam P. Finkel, was carried yesterday in Science Magazine. Miss Finkel conducted her tests at the Argonne National Laboratory, operated in Lemont, Ill., by the University of Chicago under contract to the Atomic Energy Commission.

In her experiment, varying degrees of strontium-90 were injected into 810 mice. An additional 150 mice received no injection. The results, he said, indicated no damage to the injected mice.

Strontium-90 is a dangerous component of fall-out which is deposited in bone. It remains there always, exposing the person to constant radiation.

★ ★ ★

A report issued Aug. 10 by the United Nations Scientific Committee on the effects of atomic radiation said as many as 2,000 persons a year might contract leukemia (cancer of the blood) as a result of radioactive fall-out.

Miss Finkel writes that strontium-90 probably is 7 to 14 times more harmful to man than to mice because of his greater size.

But she estimated that the minimum dose for man is so much higher than present fall-out levels "that it is extremely unlikely to induce even one bone tumor or one case of leukemia."

It was a record year for phonograph records in West Germany last year, with 57,000,000 being manufactured, a 40 per cent increase over 1956.

He Served Time

Past Returns to Haunt Author of Best Seller

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Harry L. Golden of Charlotte, editor of the Carolina Israelite and witty spokesman on issues of the day, admitted today he had served a federal prison term almost 30 years ago for using the mails to defraud.

It came to light, Golden said with characteristic wry humor, because of his success—because he has written "Only in America," a collection of his essays and commentary that tops the nonfiction best-seller list.

Golden, who returned here early today from a trip to New York, said he had lived for years in fear of becoming a success because his past might come out.

He recalled that when he was in his early 20s he altered his name of Goldenhurst to Goldhurst and entered the brokerage business in his home city of New York. The business failed, and Golden—or Goldhurst—filed a petition in bankruptcy.

★ ★ ★ ★

Then he was charged with fraud. He says he had not realized how wrong were the things he had done. Most of his debts, he said, were "paper profits" he owed to people he had gambled with. He pleaded guilty Oct. 16, 1929, and was sentenced to five years. He served 18 months and was paroled. Then the parole was revoked when it was protested by the late Sen. Carter Glass (D-Va).

★ ★ ★

He served out his term until March 29, 1933, and was discharged with time off for good behavior. As Harry L. Golden, he made a new start, working in a variety of jobs. In his business travels he came to Charlotte, liked it and decided to stay. That was a dozen years ago. He became well liked here and his writings in the Carolina Israelite, which has a circulation of at least 15,000 in the United States and abroad, have been widely noted.

Then came success and his past returned.

"People started writing anonymous letters to national magazines and big newspapers, my publishers and to me. We decided then it was best to bring it out in the open."

Now, with nothing more to hold back, says the best-selling author, he has more writing to do—and no more fear of further successes.

Contract Loss Threatens Layoffs at Utica Plant

DETROIT (UPI)—Several hundred workers at the Curtiss-Wright plant in Utica were faced with layoffs today because of the loss of a $16,565,000 Army contract for Dart antitank missiles.

The Army said the contract was ended because of other systems for antitank warfare now under development.

NAACP to Wait on School Incidents

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) —The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People says it is adopting a "wait and hope policy" after what it calls new racial incidents at an integrated Madisonville school.

James Crumlin, Kentucky president of the NAACP, said he is satisfied state police will take stops to protect four Negro children attending Pride Avenue Elementary School.

Brief disorders flared 10 days ago when a group of white women tried to prevent the Negroes from entering the western Kentucky school. State police broke up the crowds and the situation quieted.

But Crumlin said his reports indicate whites are daily pelting a car occupied by the Negroes with rocks and vegetables.

He notified Gov. A. B. Chandler, whose office informed Crumlin measures are being taken to protect the Negroes.

U.S. Offers 2 Subs

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — The United States has offered the Argentine navy two submarines and a destroyer on a lend or lease basis. The Argentine government was reported ready to accept the offer.

To Head FBI Office

DETROIT (AP)—Thomas Gearty, agent in charge of the FBI office at Butte, Mont., has been named to take over the FBI's Detroit office. Harry G. Maynor, agent in charge of the Detroit office since April, will take over the Butte office. The change will be effective next month.

According to official statistics the number of ships that passed through the Suez Canal during the first three months of 1958 totaled 4,288 an increase of 284 over the figure for the corresponding 1957 period.

Music Is All Right Later on

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I are arguing about whether or not it is permissible to turn the radio on during a dinner party. My husband loves music and often turns on the radio when we have dinner guests. He thinks it is entirely proper to do this and that music adds to the dinner party.

"I think it's unfair to run the risk of forcing people to listen to something they may not want to hear at all and, furthermore, it hinders conversation. What is your opinion?"

Answer: I agree with you. Good food and the conversation of those at your table should be all that is necessary to make your dinners completely enjoyable, and there is plenty of time for music later.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our son is being married. I understand that after the rehearsal the bride's family has ordered dinner in a restaurant. The members of the wedding party will be present and her parents. We have not been asked. Isn't this irregular?"

Answer: This depends upon whether any persons other than the bridal party were included. If the dinner is for none but the bride and groom and their attendants, your omission was not rude.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am secretary to the vice president of a large company. I have my own private office and on occasion my employer will come in to talk to me about something or with some work that he wants me to do. I would like to know if it is necessary for me to rise or may I remain seated at my desk. I am in my late twenties and he is in his early sixties."

Answer: No, certinly you may remain seated.

This Widow No Back-Seat Rider

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: My husband and I planned to drive (just the two of us) from Portland, Maine, to Midland, Tex. A neighbor (widow) heard about it and asked if she could come along for the ride. She offered to pay one-third of the gas and her own expenses so we saw no harm in taking her.

ABBY

"She is about 55 and she wore short shorts and a pony tail on the trip and flirted with every service station attendant she saw, but the worst part of it was this. She sat in the front seat with my husband the whole trip while I sat in the back seat holding the luggage. She said riding in the back seat makes her sick. Going back should I say anything to her or not?" BURNED UP

DEAR BURNED: Tell her that riding in the back seat made YOU sick. Offer her some motion sickness pills and sit in front with your own husband.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: I am 14 years old and am in the ninth grade. Boys drive up in front of our house and just sit out there. When my mother asks them what they want they say, 'Send Sandra out.' I am too embarrassed to go out there and talk to them, but I wish I had the nerve. What should I do?"

NO NERVE

DEAR NO: Go out — just once and tell them that if they want you, they should come to the door and ring the bell. If they refuse — tell your mother to let them sit.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: We are wondering if you could settle a dispute for us. What are two unrelated women to each other when they are married to brothers? One says we are sisters-in-law, the other says we are nothing to each other."

JUDY AND BECKY

DEAR GIRLS: Technically a woman is a sister-in-law only to the brother or sister of the man she married.

"DEAR ABBY: I am a boy of 20 and expect to be called into the Army any day now. My girl friend is only 16 but she acts much older. I am very much in love with her and know she feels the same way. We plan to be engaged when she is 18 and graduates from school.

"Here is our problem. My girl friend wants to get engaged before I go into the service, but I disagree. I don't think it is fair to tie her down at her age for two years while I'm away. We have tried to talk this over like adults but she insists she wants to become engaged now and wait for me. Please help us solve this problem." TWO IN LOVE

DEAR TWO: Your girl friend is lucky to have a boy friend with as much brains as you display. If your "love" is real, it will hold up until you return from the service. I vote against the engagement.

★ ★ ★

"DEAR ABBY: There are several women in a group who take turns going to each other's homes for a game of cards and chit-chat. There's one lady in the group who is getting left out because of her poodle dog. No one likes to go to her house because she lets the dog get up on the furniture with dirty toys and bones. Her furniture is covered with dog hair and dirt from the dog's toys and nobody cares to sit down there. The ladies talk behind her back but no one has the courage to tell her. How can this situation be handled without hurting any feelings?" A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: If you are a real friend, you will tell this woman the truth. It is kinder to tell her why she is being "left out" than to have her wonder.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "HE-MAN": When you were married you promised to "cleave" to each other. This is not done with a MEAT CLEAVER. You need police protection.

★ ★ ★

Double Benefits

Feet Over Head Helps Your Midriff

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "Will you give me just one exercise which is good for both the stomach and the waist?"

A. Lie on your back with your legs straight and your arms on the floor at your sides, palms on the floor. Lift both legs with stiff knees. Continue on over until the toes are touching the floor behind your head. Return legs to place. If you cannot touch the floor with your toes at first, go over as far as you can. Gradually your feet will come closer and closer to the floor. Push from your hands.

Q. "The veins in my hands are large and protrude. I think they are very ugly. Please tell me how to correct this."

A. I am sorry there is not much you can do about it. This is usually an inherited characteristic just like the shape of your nose or mouth. It helps to keep your hands out of hot water as much as possible.

Also, if you are underweight, a gain in pounds will help. The most important thing is not to let this affect your personality by making you self-conscious.

Q. "In what way do flat feet affect the legs? I am 18 and have just learned that this is one of my problems."

A. Flat feet can affect the whole body because, after all, they support the weight of the body. They also can influence the appearance of the legs because the flattened arch causes the foot to assume an unnatural position — flat feet turn in. Weakened arches also can cause pain in the calves and even in the thighs and back.

Q. "Is there any way to prevent baldness? My hair is getting very thin."

A. I know of no certain preventative, although there is evidence that a number of factors contribute to it. A well-balanced diet with emphasis on vitamins and minerals is essential. Some studies have indicated that the vitamin B family may benefit the hair in a special way.

* * *

Ask your doctor how much vitamin B complex to take daily. It also seems that abnormal conditions of the scalp may lead to balding. For instance, if a scalp is extremely tight, daily massage is indicated. Extreme dryness or oiliness should be corrected.

EXCHANGE WITH CENTRAL

Last week Pontiac Central High School students published their first edition of the Tomahawk this fall and then gave us 1,000 copies. Because of the expense of publishing the two high school papers, each school will print an edition bi weekly and then give the other school one copy of their paper for every homeroom. Thus, both schools will receive all of the high school news.

★ ★ ★

Beginning Monday, the Polaris will sponsor a photograph contest each week. The panel of judges will select the best black and white snapshot to be published in the next issue of the paper and become eligible for the grand prizes at the end of the semester which are five dollars, first; three dollars, second and two dollars, third.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

A couple of good albums which seem to be selling fairly well around Pontiac are "Burnished Brass" (Capitol T-1038), by The George Shearing Quintet with brass choir led by Billy May, and "Kings Go Forth" (Capitol W-1063), soundtrack stuff from the flicker featuring Sinatra, Tony Curtis and Natalie Wood.

THE JAZZ NEST: Of recent jazz LPs, one issued by the World Pacific people stands out as tops in the field of new talent. "Chico Hamilton Trio" (PJ-1242) introduces the piano of Freddie Gambrell.

This is a good Hamilton LP (but not his best) with Gambrell definitely in the spotlight. Freddie looks like a sure bet for an LP of his own before long. He plays with taste and has good ideas.

Also up for grabs is "The Swings To TV" (World Pacific WPM-411) by Bob Cooper and Bud Shank. I'm not impressed by the strings but some of the selections on this LP are great. Let's put it this way: Some of the "swings" end up swingin' more than others.

Tommy Edwards' platter, "It's All In The Game," lost the neck-and-neck race and has fallen to second this week in the Pontiac area. It's selling well but lacks the consistency it had last week.

"Rockin' Robin" by Bobby Day still remains a solid seller and takes third place this week. In fourth spot on the old sales chart is "You Cheated" by The Shields.

Ranking fifth is "Bird Dog" by The Everly Brothers, a disc that has seen better days but has remained a top seller for seven consecutive weeks.

Atlas Missile Fails on First Long Flight

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The first attempt to launch an Atlas missile the full 6,000-mile intercontinental range ended in a spectacular blowup high in the Florida sky.

It was the 13th Atlas fired to date, and was launched from Pad No. 13 at the Cape.

The blowup cut short immediate U.S. hopes of closing the gap with the Soviet Union in the space weapons race. Most U.S. missile experts believe the Soviets already have an operational ICBM.

The failure also was disheartening for the Atlas' Convair launching team which has spent 14 months developing the missile for the first "all the way" test.

★ ★ ★

The liftoff seemed almost perfect, similar to the three previous shoots that were highly successful over a range of about 3,000 miles. After a roaring climb straight up, the 85-foot war rocket leaned toward a horizontal path and darted toward the southeast.

★ ★ ★

Just as the missile began to spurt out a thick vapor trail at an altitude of about 60,000 feet, it burst apart with a brilliant flash.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Relief that business recovery won't be stymied by an auto strike is somewhat tempered today by worry over the possible inflationary aspects of the new labor pact at Ford.

Both labor and management insist that the new wage hikes and other benefits are noninflationary.

★ ★ ★

The public will probably make up its mind about that after it sees:

1. The prices for the new models.

2. The psychological effect, if any, on wage negotiations in other industries now under way or to start in coming months.

In the matter of prices it's noted that the current settlement provides a much smaller wage boost than was made in the 1955 settlement. The big hike at that time was widely believed to have helped trigger the rise in the cost of living that has continued up to now.

Today's argument is that the present smaller wage boost might be absorbed by increased productivity and efficiency in the plants and by dealers in the present more competitive market.

The new car prices also will be affected by rising costs other than labor. Prices of some materials, notably steel, have risen recently, after a wage boost in that industry. The costs of getting materials to the auto plants and of getting cars and trucks to the dealers also have risen.

The first price list on 1959 models, that of Buick, was announced before the Ford agreement, which is expected to set a pattern for General Motors and Chrysler as well. The Buick prices might have taken into consideration an expected wage hike, but they offer few clues. They range from $63 more than Buick's lowest priced model last year to $491 less than its highest priced.

Labor leaders and labor relations executives belittle the belief that one industry's labor contract sets a pattern for others.

Outsiders aren't so sure. The United Auto Workers, seeking a new contract with the makers of farm machinery, seem likely to be swayed by the settlement they made with Ford. The Electrical Workers Union also deals with the auto industry.

Since World War II there appears to have been a definite pattern among similar industries. Some years have been good ones for labor in the durable goods field to get fat wage boosts. Other years, notably during the shallow and brief recession periods, have seen only small advances, except when wage scales automatically rose under long-term contracts or because of being tied to the rising cost of living.

The psychological effect upon both union leaders and management of settlements in other industries, especially similar ones, can't be measured but it seems sure to be strong.

With auto labor peace apparently in the final stages of negotiation, economic interest in Detroit will now concentrate on the public reception of the new models which will be making their bows in increasing volume.

★ ★ ★

Homesick Cows Wreck Big Bull Elk's Kidnaping

JOHANNESBURG, Mich. (AP) —An eight-point bull elk rounded up all the cows in a pasture near here and refused to allow anyone near them.

Two conservation officers, two collie dogs and all the children in the neighborhood tried to chase the elk back into the woods and free the cows for milking, but failed. They gave up at dark.

By nightfall, the problem solved itself. The cows wandered back to the barn and the elk returned to the woods.

Mae West Returning

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mae West is returning to the movies after a 14-year absence. Actor Steve Cochran said he has signed the 66-year-old actress to star in his independent production of "Klondike Lou," to be filmed here and on location in the Yukon.

Husband Arraigned in Slaying of Wife

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A 38-year-old Ypsilanti hospital orderly who police said admitted fatally stabbing his wife was to be arraigned today in Ann Arbor Municipal Court on a first degree murder charge.

The defendant, Gladis Weatherford, was accused of stabbing his pregnant wife, Janice, 23, several times and then setting fire to their home.

Sgt. John Mongiat of the Ypsilanti State Police post, said Weatherford's wife told police before she died:

"He stabbed me . . . several times . . . carried me up to the attic, then set fire to the attic."

Mrs. Weatherford's premature son was born shortly after she died, but he lived only about four hours.

Mail Service to Improve in Future—Summerfield

CINCINNATI (AP)—Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield says there will be better mail service in the future despite a lack of facilities and an increasing volume of mail.

Summerfield was scheduled to be the principal speaker last night at the closing convention banquet of the National Assn. of Post masters, but a strained throat prevented him from giving the speech in person.

Dep. Postmaster General Edward O. Sessions read it for Summerfield as his boss sat alongside him.

Summerfield said that recent increases in postal rates have not solved the postal deficit.

(The year 'round, on any given day, Fraser, Colo., and Yuma, Ariz., are likely to be listed in weather charts as the coldest and hottest spots in the nation, respectively. Here's a report on what these weather-famous places are like).

That sums up how most Fraser residents feel about living in the town that more often than not is listed in daily weather stories as "coldest in the nation," summer and winter.

More than 200 people live here making a living from lumber and tourists. Fraser is on both sides of U.S. 40, a tourist highway.

A typical resident is George Pellini, who moved to Fraser from warmer climes 30 years ago. He's now a deputy sheriff and a county commissioner.

"Sure it gets cold here," Pellini said. But we don't pay much attention. It doesn't stop us. We carry on like anyplace else."

IKE LIKES IT

"It'll be 30 below here and 15 above in Denver. I'd rather stay in Fraser. Maybe it's the humidity in Denver," Pellini said.

One of Fraser's claims to fame is that it's one of President Eisenhower's favorite fishing spots. He has dipped his line into all the best-known holes — Bow Creek, Crooked Creek and the Fraser River.

It lies in a mountain valley, completely surrounded by the high Rockies. Heat goes down into the town, but due to the elevation, disintegrates quickly. The cool air of the evening flows down the mountains and collects in the Fraser "pocket," and the mountains then cut off the wind that normally would circulate the cold air and bring in moderating influences.

Fraser had an average temperature of 33 degrees last year. The low was 40 below zero and the high was 82.

YUMA, Ariz. (UPI)—Sure it's hot here, but if you like sunshine, Yuma is the place to be. Twenty thousand people like it fine, and most of them come from someplace else.

Elsewhere, Yuma may be called the hottest spot in the nation, but the people who call it home brag about their weather, including the boast that this city—fourth largest in Arizona—has the driest "moderate" winter climate to be found.

The temperature sometimes gets up around 123 degrees here.

Weather bureau statistics show that afternoon temperatures in the summer, which lasts longer here than most places, reach 100 on the average from June 8 to Sept. 13; and 105 from June 26 to Aug. 16; 120 has been reached three times. The absolute high of 123 was registered Sept. 1, 1950.

SUN EVERY DAY

"The sun doe not shine all of every day, but it comes nearer doing so at Yuma than any other place in the U.S.," says the local weatherman.

The heat comes from the fact Yuma is located in one of the lowest and warmest parts of the Great Sonora Desert. It's dry heat. There have been occasions when the humidity was zero —no moisture at all in the air.

The weather bureau states "there are places in the world where more rain has fallen in a single year than has fallen at Yuma during the past 80 years."

Yuma feels it has a lot to talk about and be proud of, regardless of the heat.

White Students' Boycott Battled in U.S. Court

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — A federal court here will be asked today to take action against a boycott by white students to send 13 Negroes back to Van Buren, Ark., High School.

★ ★ ★

Attorneys for the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People have filed a request for a temporary restraining order to prevent interference with integration at the school, located just across the Arkansas River from Fort Smith.

Defense Chiefs Delay Meetings With President

NEWPORT, (AP) — President Eisenhower will confer with two defense chiefs in Washington next week instead of meeting them at the summer White House today.

The original plan was for Secretary of Defense McElroy and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to come to Newport for separate conferences with the vacationing President this morning. The meetings were described as routine.

A change in signals was announced last night. The meetings will be held in Washington next Tuesday when Eisenhower returns to be host at a White House stag luncheon for the foreign ministers of 20 Latin-American nations.

There still was no word whether that trip to the capital will end the work-vacation the President started here Aug. 29 or whether he will fly back this resort area for a few more days.

Eisenhower got in 13 holes of golf yesterday before rain forced him to call it quits.

Tomorrow the President, Mrs. Eisenhower and a party of friends will watch the start of America's Cup sloop races in the Atlantic from aboard the destroyer Mitscher.

Nine Convicts Stage Uprising

Deputy Warden Gets Prisoners to Surrender at Idaho Penitentiary

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Nine convicts, armed with lengths of pipe and ice picks, staged a brief uprising at the Idaho State Penitentiary yesterday.

Deputy Warden Mark Maxwell walked unarmed into Cellhouse 4 where they holed up and persuaded them to surrender—about an hour later.

Warden L. E. Clapp said none of the 10 guards the prisoners seized as hostages were harmed, but guard Ezra Mendenhall suffered severe shock.

The convicts diverted the attention of Yard Capt. Gilbert Talley by telling him a fight was going on in another part of the yard. Then they herded the guards into the cellblock.

Guard Dan Chase was released with instructions to say the prisoners wanted to see Gov. Robert E. Smylie or a prison official. Smylie declined to go to the prison.

As a score of state and city policemen armed with riot guns ringed the entrance to the cellhouse, convict David R. Cobas called out: "Send one guy up here —just one."

Maxwell walked in alone and talked with Cobas, serving 20 years for robbery. The surrender was arranged after the prisoners were given permission to talk with newsmen.

"It came off—not quite as we had planned, but it came off," Cobas told reporters as he and four of the nine prisoners aired a long list of complaints.

The chief complaint was that Clapp, in their opinion, had too much authority and they spent too much time locked up. They demanded formation of a disciplinary committee of prison officials.

The convicts were placed in solitary confinement. Maxwell said he would interview each of them individually today before deciding on disciplinary action. Warden Clapp was out of town at the time of the rebellion.

Antijaywalking Law Cuts Death 22 Pct.

NEW YORK (AP) — Since the city's antijaywalking edict went into effect, pedestrian deaths have declined 22 per cent over the comparable period last year, the Police Department said yesterday.

The law became effective Aug. 8. From that date through Wednesday there were 32 pedestrian deaths. There were 41 fatalities during the same 1957 period.

Hollywood Headlines

Mike Todd-Type Picture to Star Thinner Mae West

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD — Mae West is coming back to motion pictures and Steve Cochran is the one who did the convincing. She has already gone into training and will lose eight pounds before she stars in "Klondike Lou" for Cochran's independent company.

★ ★ ★

Steve came by my house to tell me his news, and he says he will only make a guest appearance, but he'll direct Mae.

He'll try to get all of Mae's former leading men—Cary Grant, George Raft, Randolph Scott, Lloyd Nolan and himself to make brief appearances.

As you might know by the title, "Klondike Lou" is set in Dawson with Mae playing the headline act at the Malemute Saloon made famous by Robert Service's poems.

The energetic Bob Hope is having himself a field day today. He's just grabbed off that good actor Wendell Corey as his costar in "Alias Jesse James" (Wendell plays the title role) — and tonight Robin stars in his first legitimate musical for TV "Roberta" with singing stars Anna Maria Alberghetti and Howard Keel.

I was amazed to have him say that he will be back home on the Paramount lot to film "Alias Jesse James" on Sept. 29. He and Para parted company early this year, but apparently it was friendly because he's moving back in to shoot his United Artists comedy with Rhonda Fleming in the femme lead.

I must say I am not easily shocked, but "Lolita," the novel by Vladimar Nabovkov, made me feel I needed a bath, to brush my teeth and take an antiseptic.

How this story, which is all about the ravings of a mentally disturbed man, who can think of nothing but his mad, horrifying love for his stepdaughter, can be put on the screen I don't know.

This moron marries the child's mother so he can have an affair with the little girl and she becomes a captive of his insane love.

It is called artistic, humorous by the highbrows and is number one of the best seller list. A friend of mine calls it literary pornography.

★ ★ ★

I suppose Freud and Krafft-Ebing would have a word for "Lolita." I call it plain filth.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

The fact that Marilyn Monroe had Dr. Leon Krohn, obstetrician, as her doctor led to the report that she is pregnant. This is not true now, but Marilyn confidently believes she'll have the baby she wants so much before another year.

Aldo Ray was on the Paramount lot talking to George Cukor about playing opposite Sophia Loren in "Heller With A Gun."

Only Jack Benny would be as kind and gracious. He not only has given Don Wilson a leave of absence to open on Broadway in "Make A Million" Oct. 15, but Jack has also promised Don he'll plug the play on the Benny TV show.

To Probe NAACP for Communism

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett said yesterday he will launch an investigation into NAACP activities in Arkansas within six weeks.

Bennett told a visiting Britisher that he believed the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People was "riddled with Communists."

★ ★ ★

The attorney general, an outspoken foe of the Negro organization, discussed his plans with Sir Lyn Ungoed-Thomas of London, who is visiting Little Rock on a study of racial troubles.

Bennett charged that Little Rock's integration turmoil resulted from NAACP activities in the city over a period of several years.

★ ★ ★

"I am going to show at hearings," he told Ungoed-Thomas, "that the NAACP is and was led by Moscow. I have considerable documentation on which to base this."

Oh, Can't I Though?

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — Policeman Arch Albertson said a woman overran a stop signal at a school crossing, then hastily backed up when she saw him approach. "There," she told Albertson. "You can't give me a ticket now. I've stopped." But Albertson could give her a ticket—and did.

Benjamin Franklin's experiments with the evaporation of ether led him to predict air conditioning.

Commandos in Far East

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—Britain is strengthening her Far East fleet with commando carriers because of the Quemoy situation, the first lord of the admiralty, Earl of Selkirk, said today. "From such carriers trained commandos are capable of landing anywhere by helicopter," Selkirk added.

Frost Protect Tender Crops

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

How often have you worried about an early frost ruining tomatoes, cucumbers, peppers and melons? It was strawberry growers who first learned of irrigation as a frost prevention method of saving the blossoms from frost.

They discovered that continuous irrigation when the temperature dropped to 32 degrees, gave complete protection against freezing, even when the temperature dropped to 25 degrees. Since then, vegetable growers have discovered the same thing with tomatoes, peppers, beans and a variety of tender vegetable crops.

When the temperature drops below 32 degrees, the water begins to freeze on the plants. As much as three inches of ice may be on tomato vines, yet the vines are only slightly damaged. All of the plants mentioned here are protected because freezing water gives off heat. This heat holds the temperature of the ice near 32 degrees, above the freezing point of the leaves and fruits being protected.

★ ★ ★

One of the things to be remembered is to continuously irrigate during the entire frosting period and until the ice has melted. One note of warning, however. Do not stop irrigating as long as the temperature is below 32 degrees or as long as ice is present on the plants. If you would like to harvest vegetables for a month after everyone is frozen out, this idea is worth a try.

MAKE COMPOST PILE

Sometimes the disposal problem with dead stalks and frozen tops means big fires or adding to a dump pile in one corner. More and more home gardeners have found the compost pile an easy answer to this disposal problem and a source of rich garden hunus for mulching shrubs and flower beds.

One of the common methods of building a compost pile is to use picket fencing or woven wire. This makes a box or circular line into which the composting material can be placed. The usual plan is to build the pile in layers. First a layer of leaves, dead plant tops, grass clippings or waste vegetable matter.

When this layer is 8 to 12 inches thick, 12-15 pounds of fertilizer is thrown on top of the composting material. Sometimes it seems advisabl to add a small amount of soil to innoculate the pile with plant rotting organisms. A compost pile should occasionally be watered to keep it active.

When a season is complete, this pile should not be continued, but a second one begun. It is the usual case for a compost pile to be completely rotted to garden hunus in eight or nine months.

A compost pile which is five feet square and five feet high will require about 100 pounds of fertilizer and 25 pounds of limestone. Hydrated lime is unsatisfactory because it kills the rotting organisms. Commonly used fertilizers are lawn fertilizers such as 10-6-4 or 10-3-7 or garden fertilizers such as 10-10-10 or 12-12-12. Sometimes packing helps speed up the rotting process.

Perry Street Work Near Completion

Workmen tomorrow will begin laying a top level of blacktop at the northend of the Perry street (M24) widening and paving project of the Michigan State Highway Dept.

An engineer on the $1,350,000 job today reported "everything on schedule." He said the contract completion date fo Oct. 31 will be met weather permitting.

The 3.9 mile stretch from East Huron in downtown Pontiac northeasterly to Opdyke road is being widened from to four lanes divided by a center strip. Work began in May.

Donald L. Wickham, assistant district road engineer for this area, reported the entire project 70 per cent completed, surfacing 75 per cent done, and curb and gutter installation 80 per cent completed.

Bones Found in Area Prove Those of Bear

A cluster of old bones, nailed to a plank found in Waterford Township, has turned out to be nothing more than the skeleton of a bear's foot, according to police reports.

Speculation ran high at the township police station this morning, as to whether the bones belonged to man or beast, after Tony Perisi of 4759 Crescent Lake Rd., called to say that his niece had found what looked like human bones while playing in a vacant field.

There were five fingers (or toes) on the foot, (hand, or paw), and all who viewed the bones agreed that it was a gruesome sight.

Police Chief Millard Pender took the bones to the Pontiac General Hospital, where specialists confirmed his conclusion that the paw originally belonged to a very large Grizzly bear, many years ago.

Need One Win, Help From Phils

Braves Can Wrap It Up Today

By United Press International

All they need is a victory over the Redlegs plus an accompanying triumph by the Phillies over the second-place Pirates to clinch their second straight national league pennant.

The Braves, who had to wait until Sept. 23 to win last year, will send rookie Carlton Willey against Cincinnati tonight and if he doesn't get the job done, they've got Lew Burdette and and Warren Spahn ready to go against the Redlegs during the weekend.

The still-hopeful Pirates got the official go-ahead from commissioner Ford Frick to order printing plates for World Series tickets yesterday, but the Braves made it a rather empty gesture by beating the Cardinals, 9-3, last night.

★ ★ ★

Big Bob Rush posted the victory that reduced the Braves' magic number to "two" and increased their lead over the Pirates to six games. Milwaukee and Pittsburgh each have seven games to play.

★ ★ ★

Red Schoendienst paced Milwaukee's 13-hit attack with three doubles and a single while Johnny Logan and Andy Pafko contributed homers. Pafko hit his with a o on in the ninth off reliever Nels Chittum. St. Louis starter Sam Jones was kayoed in the fourth inning and suffered his 12th loss. The victory for Rush, who gave up 11 hits, was his 10th against six losses.

★ ★ ★

That was the only game scheduled in the National League. Only two were played in the American League, with the White Sox beating the Orioles, 6-2, and the Athletics defeating the Red Sox, 4-1.

★ ★ ★

Rookie Barry Latman turned in a fine relief effort in helping the White Sox strengthen their hold on second place. He entered the game in the first inning after Ray Moore was knocked out and limited Baltimore to three hits and no runs until the ninth. Then, after walking the first batter, he was relieved by Turk Lown, who retired the next three in a row.

Ray Boone hit his 13th home run in the second inning and singled home another run in a three-run fifth inning. The victory was Latman's second without a defeat. Jack Harshman, the loser, now is 11-14.

★ ★ ★

Bill Tuttle and Roger Maris got Kansas City off to a good start with back-to-back homers in the first inning and as it turned out, that was all winner Bud Daley needed. The southpaw knuckle-baller held the Red Sox to five hits, one of them being a homer by Pete Runnels.

Bob Cerv of the A's hammered his 37th homer in the eighth for good measure as the Red Sox dropped their ninth game in the last 10 starts. Ted Bowsfield was the loser.

Pete Runnels of the Red Sox was blanked in four tries but still clung to the batting lead with a .320 mark. Ted Williams, with one double in three trips, stayed at .318.

Early Rivalries Kickoff Season in County Area

Overflow Crowd Seen for PCH - Skipper Tilt at Waterford

By BILL CORNWELL

This is the day! Preliminaries have ended and it's time for the main event.

Or, to put it another way, rehearsals are finished, so "on with the show."

Oakland County area high schools, just like prepsters everywhere else in Michigan and the nation, have caught the autumn fever.

A whole flock of top-notch attractions are scheduled tonight as Oakland County area gridders officially open the 1958 season. Some of the openers are traditional, some are new, others are revivals.

Pontiac Central and Waterford fall into the "revival" category. The Chiefs and Skippers, after a two-year lapse, clash on the gridiron for the 3rd time with Waterford host to the occasion.

An overflow crowd is expected to jam into Waterford's 3,000-seat stadium for the 8 o'clock kickoff. Pontiac Central won both previous contests, 39-0 in 1954 and 24-6 in 1955.

★ ★ ★

On the traditional side of the ledger, Cranbrook's invasion of Birmingham seizes top billing. The Cranes and Maples have been swinging at each other on opening day for a good long time and their game has always been a thriller. Tonight should be no exception.

★ ★ ★

Other games fitting the label of tradition are Rochester at Davison, Oxford at Clarkston, Redford Union at Walled Lake, Grand Blanc at Holly, Ortonville at Goodrich and Royal Oak St. Mary at Madison.

A few others in this classification are Northville at Plymouth, Brighton at South Lyon, Berkley at Ferndale, Caro at Lapeer and Richmond at Romeo.

Some brand new rivalries are slated tonight with Milford's invasion of Avondale and St. Michael's tussle with West Bloomfield at Keego Harbor leading the way.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion also falls into this division. The Dragons get their feet wet against Flint Beecher on the Orion field. Other new partnerships include Royal Oak Dondero at East Detroit, Fitzgerald at Hazel Park and St. Frederick's Sunday afternoon visit to Wyandotte St. Patrick.

Southfield plays host to Royal Oak Kimball this afternoon in another attractive inaugural contest.

Tigers Bring Up Trio; Host Cleveland Today

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have ordered three players from their Charleston farm club to report immediately for a late-season tryout.

Pitcher Don Lee, 24, and first baseman Larry Osborne, 22, were recalled, and the contract of pitcher Jerry Davie, 25, was purchased from Charleston by the parent club.

Charleston recently won the American Association season championship but was eliminated in the playoffs Wednesday.

Osborne played with the Tigers for 11 games in 1957. For this season with Charleston, he hit 31 doubles and 19 homers, plus batting in 97 runs.

Lee, the son of former big league pitcher Thornton Lee, played briefly in 1957 with Detroit. His record with Charleston shows a 2.95 earned run average, fourth best in the league.

Davie, a Garden City, Mich., resident, was the American Association's leading pitcher this year. He had 17 wins, five losses and a 2.45 earned run average.

Paul Foytack, with a 13-12 record, will get the starting nod as the Tiger choice to lead the team to its longest winning streak of the season. Foytack, who has finished eight complete games in his last 10 starts, will be opposed by Calvin McLish, with a 15-7 record.

The Detroiters, with only 10 games to go, hope to finish out the season in third place. They are four and one-half games behind second-place Chicago and two games ahead of Cleveland in current American League standings.

Babe Ruth Had Top Record Against Yanks

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Lary's feat of whipping the New York Yankees seven times this season naturally establishes the Detroit right-hander as the pitcher the American League champions "hate to meet the most."

Which pitcher did the Yankees "hate to meet the most" since entering the league back in 1903?

Was it Walter Johnson, who defeated them 60 times in a 20-year span? Was it Ed Walsh, who conquered them a record nine times in one season? Was it Lefty Grove, who beat them 35 times during the years that comprised their first dynasty?

Was it Hal Newhouser, who beat them six times in each of two different seasons? Was it Bob Feller, who hurled a no-hitter against Joe DiMaggio, Charley Keller, Tommy Heinrich and Co.? Or is it Lary, who holds 16 victories in 21 decisions with the Yankees?

If you've guessed any one of those pitchers, you're wrong. The pitcher the Yankees "hated to meet the most" was a fellow called Babe Ruth. Yes, the same Bambino who, with his bludgeoning bat, ruined enemy pitchers for the Yankees.

As a left-handed pitching star with the Boston Red Sox, from 1915 through 1919, Ruth whipped the Yankees 17 times. They beat him only five times. Three of his defeats were by shutouts, two by 1-0 scores. Another loss was by 2-1.

Although Lary's percentage mark against the Yankees is topped only by Ruth's .773 pitchers with 20 or more decisions, he hardly ranks with the leaders in total victories against the Yankees.

A total of 45 hurlers won 20 or more victories over the Yankees. Of these, only Early Wynn, 29, and Billy Pierce, 20, both of Chicago, are still active.

Other 30 or more game winners against the Yankees include Doc White, Chief Bender, Stan Coveleskie, Urban Faber, George Dauss, Newhouser and Feller.

Earl Whitehill and Wynn missed the 30-mark by one, Bob Lemon and Ted Lyons by two, George Uhle and Cy Young by three and Mel Harder by four. Wynn, incidentally, has lost more games to the Yankees than any other pitcher, 49.

20,000 to See Opener at U-D

Titans Ruled Three Touchdown Favorites Over Colonials

DETROIT (UPI)—Frank Metzger, University of Detroit ticket manager, has announced he expects more than 20,000 persons to attend tonight's football game between the U-D Titans and George Washington University.

The Colonials had a 2-7 record last year. Coach Gene Sherman blamed the lack of success on a flu epidemic and lack of depth. This year the team has no flu and more depth.

Spartans Plan Platooning

Michigan Lineup Appears Set

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The final curtain has dropped on Michigan's juggling act. The Wolverine lineup appears set for the opening of the football season a week from tomorrow.

Coach Bennie Oosterbaan has done more reshuffling than usual this fall. Player switches were almost a daily event for a while, but this is considered normal on a team that lost eight of its 11 starters.

"I don't know yet," he said, "we may not scrimmage at all next week. We're too banged up for contact work."

EAST LANSING—Michigan State plans to do more platooning of its football players this fall.

It won't be the pro type of substitution with offensive and defensive teams switching off. But there will be more subs in action under the new rule permitting any player to enter the game twice a quarter.

"As long as it's possible to get them in and out of there oftener, I think it's just good sense to do it," said coach Duffy Daugherty. "I think we can be a stronger team that way."

If Panitch uses up his appearances, Greg Montgomery, Larry Bielat and Tom Wilson, in that order, are available to call signals.

"We intend to use relief workers not only at quarterback but at other positions too," Daugherty said.

He said he thought coaches still would be able to trot the substitutes in and out although the times out have been reduced from five to four a period.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

End Problem Baffles Lion Staff

NOW JUST ONE—This was the Detroit Lions' top passing receiving corps when they opened camp at Cranbrook several weeks ago. But since then Jerry Reichow (15) and Steve Junker (88) were both operated on for leg injuries and only veteran Jim Doran (83) remains healthy. As result, Terry Barr, former U. of M. ace, may get a chance with the offensive unit when the Lions meet the Browns Saturday night in Cleveland.

Defensive Back Barr Working at New Position

May Add Richards for Final Exhibition at Cleveland

DETROIT (AP) — Though the National Football League's regular season is still 10 days away, the defending champion Detroit Lions are showing signs of rugged battles.

The coaches make no secret of their concern over the bad luck that has dogged the Lions almost since camp opened. They knew that end Dave Middleton would be only a part-time player through the pre-season games, because of his medical studies in Tennessee.

They did not expect anything near the run of injuries that has hit the squad. Ends Jerry Reichow and Steve Junker both have undergone surgery for knee injuries and the club still has no definite word on when either will be available.

This is the Detroit team's biggest problem. Coach George Wilson cannot make his offense go without good receivers and right now the only healthy ends are Jim Doran and rookie Tom Rychlec. Perry Richards, former University of Detroit star, is working out with the team and Wilson may sign him to a contract.

Suffering from two straight losses at the hands of the Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles, the Lions go into Saturday night's game against the Cleveland Browns at a low point physically.

"We decided to use these pre-season games for one purpose — to get a good look at our rookies," he said. "That's what we're doing. Naturally, because of the injuries, we've looked a little longer at some and a little harder at others because we need help."

The Lions beat the Browns 17-7 in their second exhibition game but that time it was largely Cleveland mistakes that turned the decision in Detroit's favor.

The Browns, like the Lions, are 2-3 in pre-season play but coach Paul Brown is doing some experimenting, too. That sort of thing must end after Saturday night's game. The teams start playing for keeps on Sept. 28.

Russian Lifters Lead Yanks

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Russian and American strongmen clash again today in the middleweight division of the world weightlifting championships with Tommy Kono carrying the hopes of the United States against the Soviet's Fedor Bogdanovky.

★ ★ ★

Kono, from Honolulu, won the Olympic light heavyweight crown and then dropped down and captured the middleweight title at Tehran last year with a total lift of 925.9 pounds.

Bogdanovky lifted the same weight in winning the Olympic middleweight gold medal, which also gave him the world title in 1956. Bogdanovky was runnerup to Kono at Tehran.

Victor Bouchouyev won the lightweight title last night to give Russia a 2-1 edge over the U. S. which didn't have an entry in the division.

Maple Harriers Win 21st Meet

Swamp Edsel Ford, Get Test Against Chiefs; W.L. Beats Skippers

Lack of lettermen in his varsity roster didn't stop Kermit Ambrose's Birmingham harriers from chalking up the school's 21st straight dual victory yesterday. Maples opened their season with a double 15-50 win over Edsel Ford varsity and jayvee squads, at Birmingham.

Maples get a real test, at home today, against Pontiac Central's Chiefs, led by Rufus Anderson and Johnny Jefferson. Ambrose made one change in his varsity crew for this meet, moving soph Ted Egner up in place of Bill Green. Ted turned a 11:40 for 1st in the JV section. Jim Reilly's 10:46 led the varsity win, in which all seven Maples occupied the top seven places, as follows: Fraser Cocks, Dave Pew, Dan Reid, Steve Thorsen, Tom Brown and Green, Gary Toth was 8th, first Ford runner over the finish line.

Paced by Jack Hobbs' 12:06 time for the two and one-eighth miles Waterford course, Walled Lake High's harriers yesterday afternoon defeated the Skippers 20-37. Win marked start of the Inter-Lakes League fall cross-country campaign for defending champion Lakesiders, who have won five straight I-L titles.

Flint Central's favored Indian harriers swamped Arthur Hill and Saginaw High in their opener, 18-69 (Sag) 47 (AH), yesterday at Saginaw. Gary Crenshaw, B111 Milum, George Fredericksen and Buck Miley finished arm-in-arm for first place and a meet record (10:25). Win started Saginaw Valley competition and revealed that Central's crew apparently deserves its advance top-power rating.

Draper Eliminated in Coast Tourney

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — One Michigan entry won and another lost in yesterday's second round matches in the California State Amateur golf championship.

Defending champion Tal Smith of Fremont, Mich., was four under par for 14 holes in ousting Gene Andrews of Pacific Palisades, Calif., 5 and 4.

Birmingham Champs

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—The Birmingham Barons won the Southern Assn. playoff last night and then returned to Birmingham to await the outcome of the Texas League playoff.

The pennant-winners defeated Mobile 5-4 and wrapped up the second round of the playoff in five games. Mobile won the middle game of the series.

Bears Lose Veteran Dooley for 6 Weeks

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Dooley, veteran end and halfback for the Chicago Bears, will be out of action for at least six weeks with a fractured ankle.

★ ★ ★

Dooley was injured Wednesday during practice in Soldier Field. The injury was regarded as nothing more serious than a sprain, but X-rays Thursday disclosed a fracture and Dooley's leg was placed in a cast.

★ ★ ★

Open Race for President's Cup

Teeing Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Missouri made a new contribution to Michigan's amateur golf ranks this year and he's liable to make a big noise in state tourney circles unless his rivals can devise a plot to silence him.

The gentleman in question lives in Birmingham and his name is Jack Geiss, 38-year-old regional sales manager for Reynolds Aluminum. He plays golf in his spare time and plays it rather well.

Geiss has been here less than a year and his tournament activity was limited this summer, but you'll be hearing from him if his fellow amateurs don't petition to return him to the "show me" state.

His competitive appearances were cut to a minimum during the 1958 season because, as he worded it, "I'm new here and I want to get my feet planted firmly on the ground before I start any heavy tournament play."

"I plan to enter as many tourneys as possible next year," Jack said, "by that time I'll be ready."

A graduate of St. Louis University, Geiss won amateur honors galore in the land of "mules and doubters." And just like the proverbial Missouri mule, or all mules for that matter, he's a stubborn competitor.

He was St. Louis District champion in 1949 and 1956 and winner of the Missouri State Open tourney in 1950. In pastures away from home, he has won the Centralia (Ill.) Open three times.

Geiss moved to Michigan last November and became a member of Birmingham Country Club. Jack made a spectacular debut at Birmingham CC by winning the club title and setting a new course record with an eight-under-par 63.

Duke Yager, Reynolds' vice president, and his par-busting business associate teamed up to enter the Dearborn, Pine Lake and Birmingham Invitational tournaments in Jack's only action this year. They took the Pine Lake crown and finished 2nd at Birmingham.

Geiss will be fully acclimated when tee shots start winging again next spring and then you can look for his name on entry lists around the state. He won't always have help from the boss, but his golfing record indicates that he won't need it.

SHORT PUTTS

John Walter, golf writer of The Detroit News for the past 30 years, scored his 1st hole-in-one this week with a 7-iron shot on the 136-yard 3rd hole at Detroit Golf Club's south course. His 18-hole count was 93.

Dr. Louis Doerr, a southpaw, made the 1st portside ace in six years at Plum Hollow with a No. 4 wood on the 198-yard 2nd hole. Doerr shot 92.

Jim Davis also joined the hole-in-one club when he aced the 145-yard 13th hole at Oakland Hills with a 7-iron. He fired 42 for nine holes.

Champion Akins Loses Decision

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—A victory over welterweight champ Virgil Akins sent the up-and-down career of Del Flanagan soaring in a new summit today.

★ ★ ★

But as far as Akins' camp is concerned the fancy-footed St. Paul Irishman may as well enjoy the view—he's not getting a title shot as long as Akins holds the crown.

At least this was the pronouncement of Bernie Glickman, Akins' co-manager and onetime manager of Flanagan, after last night's bout.

Detroit Racers Contenders in Weekend Spin

Favored Maverick Out of Regatta Because of Repairs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The President's Cup Regatta for unlimited hydroplane speedboats on the Potomac River this weekend shaped up as a wide open race today following the withdrawal of Maverick.

William T. Waggoner of Phoenix, Ariz., who owns the winner of this year's silver cup race, revealed last night that Maverick is undergoing repairs and will not be entered in the weekend classic.

Miss U. S., a 30-foot white and mahogany craft from Detroit, and Miss Bardahl, of Seattle, Wash., now are regarded as the leading contenders for the President's Cup. Miss Bardahl is second in the current American Power Boat Association standings with 1,325 points.

The preliminary heats will be held tomorrow to decide the crafts that will race in Sunday's 10-lap, 30-mile final for the $30,000 Gold Cup. All told, about 12 speedsters are expected to enter the event.

Miss Supertest, owned by Jim Thompson of London, Ont., is the only foreign entry. Supertest holds the Dominion straightaway record of 184.499 mph. It is powered by a Rolls Royce Griffon engine.

Other contenders include Joe Schoenith's Gale V and Gale VI of Detroit. Gale VI, driven by Schoenith's son Lee, led last year's race for two laps before conking out. Gale V was this year's second place winner in the silver cup race.

Miss Detroit, owned and driven by three time regatta winner Chuck Thompson, is expected to enter. Jack Schafer's Such Crust III, driven by Bud Saile, also is an expected entry.

★ ★ ★

Wildroot Charlie, third in APBHA points and multiply owned, and Breathless II, owned by J. P. Murphy and driven by his son Jay, round out the tentative entries.

This year's regatta will have a special exhibition of America's first jet boat owned by Joe Schoenith and driven by his son Lee. It was built in Bay City, Mich.

The Schoeniths, owners of nine "Gale" unlimiteds, use a jet F-84 fighter engine to drive the 37-foot craft. Lee will try for the world's straightway record of 239 m.p.h., now held by Donald Campbell's Bluebird.

Fisher Plant Boss Awards Golf Honors

Concluding the 1958 golf season for Fisher Body Office league, the 26th annual banquet was held recently at which the plant manager, Thomas Weithorn was principal speaker and also made the presentation of awards.

Season's winners were George Mize and Junior Clark for 1st half, H. Coin and H. Downer, 2nd half; low gross, Bill Kemp, who collected two eagles over Bald Mt. course where the final party was held, to take a 35. Four had 36s—Ralph Coin, Cass Tarchalski, A. Marcum and Walt Stolt.

Colleges Lift Lid Under New Rules

By The Associated Press

The 1958 college football season, a topic of hot controversy since they buried the 1957 campaign, gets its official kickoff tonight with new rules, new coaches and the same old upset potential.

The big event tonight finds Oregon State, ranked No. 12 in the Associated Press pre-season poll of writers and broadcasters, facing Southern California in a Pacific Coast Conference game. It marks the beginning of the final year for the PCC.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow, things begin to hop in the South and Southwest. There also will be a smattering of activity in the East, Midwest, Rockies and Far West.

All of this will give vent to some interesting discussion as to the feasibility of making an extra point worth two points by a run or pass, of allowing a player to enter the game twice within the same quarter, of forcing an offensive blocker to use one arm instead of two and of allowing downfield blocking before the reception of a forward pass.

These were the major rule changes and they are guaranteed to add to the usual upset binge that staggers the favorites each fall.

They also will test the claim of three teams to top 10 ranking in the AP poll, and to four, including Oregon State, to the second 10.

★ ★ ★

Mississippi, No. 6, the highest ranked team to see action, goes out of the Southeast Conference to play Memphis State. While the Southwest Conference's eighth ranked Texas Christian meets the Big Eight's Kansas, under new coach Jack Mitchell.

On the Pacific Coast, Eastern independent Pitt No. 19 faces UCLA, with George Dickerson taking over for the Uclans' late Red Sanders. Texas A&M No. 20 under Jim Myers for the first time, plays Texas Tech, a non-football member of the Southwest Conference until 1960.

Television viewers get in on the act when Missouri hosts Vanderbilt NBC-TV, 4 p.m. EST and Oklahoma State plays Denver in the Rocky Mountain area NBC-TV, 4 p.m. EST.

Boston College plays Scranton, Villanova meets West Chester State and Penn State travels to Nebraska to mark the only Eastern activity.

West Virginia, with 24 consecutive Southern Conference victories, meets Richmond in the only conference game there, while Duke and South Carolina are the other major ACC foes.

★ ★ ★

Tulane plays Florida and Georgia Tech meets Kentucky, a 51-0 victor over Hawaii a week ago, in the Southeast. National and conference champion Auburn is idle until Sept. 27.

Arkansas, under new coach Frank Broyles, faces Baylor in the only Southwest Conference game.

Big Yachts Vie Saturday

NEWPORT, R. I. (AP)—Sometime tomorrow morning two slender yachts will slip their moorings and head out into the Atlantic Ocean to renew the 107-year-old sea battle for the America's Cup.

★ ★ ★

Heading a spectator armada of some 1,500 crafts will be President and Mrs. Eisenhower aboard the new guided missile destroyer Mistcher.

They will be watching the British challenger Sceptre try to do something no yacht has ever done—win the ancient Cup from the American defender.

Sixteen times American yachts successfully have defended the Cup, first won in 1851 in England by the yacht America. Sailing for the United States in the first renewal of the series since 1937 will be the creamy white Columbia.

Whether Columbia will be the gem of the ocean or Sceptre the first challenger to take the garish old trophy home will be decided in a best-of-seven races over a 24-mile course.

The weatherman says a fresh 10 to 20-mile-an-hour breeze will be blowing over the starting line when the gun sounds at 12:10 p. m. with good weather some 6,000 to 9,000 spectators should be bobbing on the Atlantic to watch the race.

★ ★ ★

Sceptre is staying out of the water until the last moment. Her skipper, Lt. Cmdr. Graham Mann, says she will slide down the ways "about team time this afternoon."

★ ★ ★

Will she win?

"I think we have a sgood a chance as we ever had," said Mann with a secretive smile.

★ ★ ★

Columbia, skippered by Briggs Cunningham, spent the summer battling against three other candidates for the right to defend the trophy. They were Vim, a 19-year-old grandmother among yachts who almost won the invitation.

Harbors along the rocky Rhode Island coast are filled to the brim with spectator craft ranging from small skiffs to ocean-going schooners.

Some 400 persons are going to make a cruise out of it aboard a chartered ocean liner. They've paid from $155 to $500 apiece for a week's cruise out to the races and back.

Strikes and Spares

By Joe Wilman

One of the biggest problems that plagues a bowler at the beginning of any season is the sore thumb. It's a natural result of resuming bowling after a layoff of several months. The skin on your thumb is probably tender, and a blister can develop anywhere in the shaded area we illustrate today.

My formula for such a blister is simple. Open and drain the blister promptly. Then apply a dressing to it to prevent infection. When the blister dries completely, the skin can form a callous which should prevent any future blisters in that area.

If you must bowl while the blister still isn't healed, I have a suggestion for that, too. I always spread some liquid court plaster or collodion over the affected area. Then, I place a small patch of gauze over the blister. I repeat this procedure several times.

More Women Join Labor Force

Economy Needs Working Wives

WASHINGTON (AP) — If all the nation's working wives quit their jobs, the economy would collapse.

The National Manpower Council says this and adds that without this womanpower "we would not be able to perform the essential services needed."

★ ★ ★

The council's forecast is that more and more married women workers—they now number about 13 million—will be called into the labor force.

The council, established by the Ford Foundation, has just published a 220-page book "Work in the Lives of Married Women." It is based on a womanpower conference of more than 80 experts held last year.

The experts said so far there is no indication of any relation between employment of mothers and juvenile delinquency or maladjustment of children. They also said the fact that a wife works can't be blamed for the breakup of a marriage.

The experts said there's been a womanpower revolution and no matter what is thought of mothers working "it's hard to reverse a revolution."

They cited lots of reasons why married women work besides keeping the wolf from the door: it helps buy TV sets, cars, medical care. But whatever the reason, the council said its helping attain "a generally more desirable standard of living."

★ ★ ★

They are worried, however, that society will take advantage of the benefit in women's work but "not be sufficiently sensitive to the accompany problems of child care and development."

The council said it is evident "the ways and means of caring for the children of working mothers are inadequate" especially in lower-income families. It said further that public interest in remedying the situation is slight.

★ ★ ★

Needed to meet the new era, the council suggested, are:

1. Good arrangements for care of children of working mothers.
2. More adult education so working mothers can get retraining when they're ready to take jobs after child-bearing. Television was termed "a sleeping giant" in educational possibilities for women past school age.
3. More effort by employers to experiment with part-time and flexible work arrangements so they can draw on more womanpower.

★ ★ ★

They suggested some maternal support program might be needed to help the young mother who otherwise might have to go to work to keep the wolf from the door.

Another Woman in Writer's Life

Noted Author's Estate Complicated by Mixup With 3

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Author John McPartland's estate got a little more complicated yesterday—one more wife and another child.

That runs the total to three woman, two of them married, and seven children. The additions came out in Superior Court at nearby Salinas as Mrs. Ida McPartland was named temporary special administratrix of his estate.

Ida said the author of the best-selling book "No Down Payment" was the father of her son Donald, 10. She also repeated that he had fathered five children of Eleanor McPartland, to whom he was not married, and added that he had a 21-year-old daughter by a previous marriage.

The eldest daughter's name is Cynthia, Ida said, although she did not make public the name of that wife or give details.

The writer's tangled life came to light after he died when Ida explained to newspapermen that obituary notices were incorrect in listing Eleanor as the widow. Ida declared she married McPartland in 1943 at Tyler, Tex., and that they were never separated legally.

Eleanor was Monterey's Mother of The Year in 1956. Ida lives 125 miles away from this art colony, at Mill Valley north of San Francisco.

Eleanor confirmed that she was unwed and went into seclusion with her five children, aged 4, 6, 7, 9 and 10.

McPartland wrote a number of paperbacked books in addition to his best seller. Value of his estate has not been stimated.

Commerce Secretary Weeks Predicts:

'Recovery Will Continue'

WASHINGTON (AP) — With things looking up in the steel, auto and textile industries, the economic recovery promises to keep going into next year.

The council, comprised of top executives of about 100 of the nation's biggest firms, met with Weeks yesterday behind closed doors.

Afterward, Weeks said the industrialists were "very confident that business will go on improving throughout the fall and into next year."

The secretary gave this rundown on conditions in the steel, auto and textile industries, all of which were hurt during the recession:

Steel—As steel-using industries move to build up depleted stocks, increased production rate expected to continue.

★ ★ ★

Autos—Apparent end of industrywide tsrike threat sparks hopes for unimpeded economic recovery. Big orders for steel and other materials for 1959 models counted on to boost upturn. Auto industry spokesmen on BAC expect improved car-selling year ahead.

Textiles — Representatives on BAC report better-than-anticipated third quarter business in this industry.

U.S. Car Production Surges Despite Strikes

DETROIT (AP) — Passenger car production in U. S. plants will step up sharply this week, despite strikes at Ford factories, Automotive News said today.

The trade paper estimates this week's car output at 41,400 units, compared with last week's 24,072. It placed truck assemblies at 13,575 contrasted to last week's 6,765.

American Motors expects to produce a record total of 5,400 Ramblers this week, the paper said. It has been running at about 4,250 units weekly.

Canadian factories are scheduling 2,045 car and truck assemblies this week, compared with 1,149 last week.

St. Paul, Minn., is 10 miles west of its "twin city," Minneapolis.

End September Grain Contracts

CHICAGO (AP)—Most grain futures prices eased slightly in a moderate volume of early dealings today on the Board of Trade.

Some of the selling was hedging, but it also was believed to include a small volume of speculative short selling against the possibility that prices would fall later in the day on evening up trade.

★ ★ ★

This is the final day of trading in September contracts and while the open interest was described as somewhat smaller than usual it was large enough to cause at least fairly broad fluctuations if most speculators wait until the final few minutes to even up.

Wheat was unchanged to ⅜ cents a bushel lower near the end of the first hour, September $1.87¼; corn ⅜ to 1⅛ lower, September $1.24; oats ⅛ higher to ⅜ lower, September 61; rye unchanged to ¾ lower, September $1.30½; soybeans ⅛ higher to ⅛ lower, September $2.19¼.

Doubt about the bumper corn yield this year seems now to have passed as the crop nears maturity with much of it already safe from frost.

Assuming earlier predictions are fulfilled, the total supply going into the new crop year will be more than 5 billion bushels for the first time in history.

A record carryover of more than 1½ billion on Oct. 1 appears to be certain.

Steels, Motors Active, Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The Stock Market was a little higher in moderate early trading today.

Gains and losses of most key stocks were fractional. A few special issues made wider gains.

★ ★ ★

Aircrafts, chemicals, rubbers and drugs were mixed.

Zenith resumed its wide swing to the upside, adding around 5. International Telephone, which rose 1⅞ yesterday on news the Air Force has chosen it to produce a control system for the Strategic Air Command, was down a fraction in profit taking.

★ ★ ★

Small losses were taken by Goodyear, International Harvester, American Tobacco and American Airlines.

The market seemed to have temporarily completed a consolidation phase of two sessions following its advance to a record peak. The business and industrial news continued fairly good.

★ ★ ★

Fractional gains were made by U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors, the latter quite active.

American Motors Aims for 48 Pct. Sales Climb

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — American Motors Corp. which has been reporting record auto sales despite the recession, has set a 1949 sales goal of 252,000 cars, 48 per cent higher than this year.

Roy Abernethy, vice president for distribution and marketing, announced the goal yesterday at an unveiling of the firm's 1959 line in Convention Hall for 3,000 dealers from 19 eastern states.

The automobiles will go on sale Oct. 8.

Americans Build Solid Savings

Pending Figures May Reveal New Record for Cash This Year

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The government will release statistics soon showing that Americans are building up a solid bulwark of cash savings. It is possible that a new record may be set this year.

The report will show that savings of all kinds in the April-June period were greater than in the same months of 1957.

★ ★ ★

There may be still greater improvement in the latter months of the year since the recession is wearing off.

—Personal income has been running at a record rate this year despite the business recession.

—Greater thriftiness, especially among family breadwinners, because of the recession and the threat of unemployment. More money in the bank means less hardship in case the man of the house is laid off.

The latest government report on savings came from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board yesterday.

It said the nation's 6,200 savings and loan associations took in net deposits of $3,200,000,000 in the first seven months of the year — a sum equal to the total for the first nine months of 1957 or all of 1952.

Presley On Way to Germany as Truck Driver

FORT HOOD, Tex. (UPI) — Elvis Presley was headed for Germany today for duty as a truck driver, much to the dismay of fans who have been causing traffic jams in nearby Kileen.

★ ★ ★

Presley's father had rented a house in Kileen, and Presley fans and the curious had been cruising the streets in efforts to get a last minute look at the rock 'n roller before the Army ships him overseas.

Presley has been a truck driver in a tank company at Fort Hood, where he was stationed until today. He will be assigned to the same duty when he gets to Germany, where he will most likely complete his Army service.

★ ★ ★

An Army spokesman said Presley has done "a fine job" at Fort Hood, where he has been promoted to assistant squad leader in his platoon.

Man Watching TV Faces Poison Snake

JACKSONVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Andrew Lindstrom was stretched on the floor of his home watching television when he felt something touch his arm. The Lindstroms had been having some trouble with roaches and he brushed his arm thinking one of the insect pests had crawled on him.

Then he turned his head and was horrified to find a 4-foot copperhead snake staring at him. He and his wife shooed the poisonous reptile to the door and killed it with a shovel.

Pamela Mason Favors Harems for Hollywood

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Hollywood should have harems!" proclaimed James Mason's pretty wife, Pamela, in an interview I suspect she'll never forget.

"Why, a lot of Hollywood husbands are supporting three wives now due to alimony and are not getting any benefits. Harems yould keep all the wives under one roof, and cut down the overhead. The wives could spell each other off and you wouldn't need any baby-sitters. And just think," she exclaimed, bubbling at the thought, "of all the time off you'd have!"

"You'd be willing to be a pioneer?" I asked.

"Supposing Zsa-Zsa Gabor were sharing my husband and my home, I'd have a gay time! I'm not sure my husband would accept it," she added quickly. "He's not very kind to some of my ideas."

★ ★ ★

"How about Kim Novak?"

"That's going a bit far! The wives should be in the same age group." (Ginger Rogers, now, would be preferable.)

PAMELA

"Women are intrigued by competition," she said. "The trouble is now, you don't know you have competition, till your husband throws you out."

Husbands, Mrs. Mason continued, are put upon.

"We expect too much of them. They divorce us and still have to share their earnings with somebody they hate. We expect them to talk to us. They don't want to talk to us. They don't want to talk about reducing tables or perfume!

"They like manly pursuits which are damned dull to women. They go to football games and watch men with watermelons on their heads maim each other, then they eat hot dogs.

★ ★ ★

Some people would say that you sound like a very unhappy wife," I ventured.

"Oh, I'm a very happy wife. James knows I believe in harems, but he's not interested in my rather frank convictions and conversations. My daily 'Report from the Jungle,' as he calls it.

"He'd just as soon not hear my report from the jungle so I let Zsa Zsa hear it instead."

"Well, it was very nice taking down notes on these opinions which will get you denounced all over the world," I said. "Where will I likely be seeing you again?"

"Probably in jail," she smiled.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "It would be wonderful if husbands and wives could pull together through life like teams of horses at pulling exhibitions. They probably could, too, if they had only one tongue between them".—J. O. Jewett.

New TV Science Show Geared to Adult Level

By RALPH DIGHTON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A wise man once pleased his king so greatly that the monarch told him, "As a reward you may have anything you desire, up to half my kingdom."

"Sire," said the wise man, "my desires are very simple. I would be more than content if you would reward me in grains of wheat, in this manner:

★ ★ ★

"Lay one grain on the first square of a chess board. On the next square, two grains. On the third square, four grains. And so on for each of the 64 squares on the board."

The king thought this was a small request, until he tried to pay off. There wasn't that much wheat in his kingdom, or even in the world.

How many grains of wheat did the wise man actually request? "The figure is astronomical," said Dr. Haber, "and for all practical purposes, meaningless. You can get a pretty fair idea of it, though, if you say that all the wheat harvested in the world since Christ was born wouldn't be enough."

Dr. Haber, science consultant for Walt Disney Studios and television station KNXT, has worked up 52 half-hour programs, each answering such apparently simple questions as "Why is the sky blue?" and "Why do stars have such funny names?"

The show, which will start about Oct. 1, is aimed at adults, not youngsters who probably will enjoy it too. It will be telecast locally on KNXT the first few weeks. If it clicks, Dr. Haber says, there are plans to put the program on the CBS network.

★ ★ ★

Tall, handsome and friendly, Dr. Haber could become a new TV personality. At 45, with 20 years of scholarly research behind him he believes his scientific career is only beginning.

"Some years ago I came to the realization that Americans are not really afraid of science," he says.

"They just need someone to explain it to them. Who is better qualified to explain science than a scientist?

★ ★ ★

"The trouble is, so many scientists don't want to bother—they're too busy. This program is designed to let down the drawbridge to science's ivory towers."

Bob Hope Stars in Broadway Hit on TV Tonight

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Bob Hope tonight celebrates 25 years of stardom with "Roberta," the television debut of the Broadway hit that made him a name overnight.

At a dress rehearsal at an NBC Burbank studio, Hope ad libbed the same joke he did on opening night in the fall of 1933. It got the biggest laugh of the night — just as it did then.

The New York critics, almost to a man, cited that joke in reviewing the Jerome Kern play. Hope recalled that one of the models in the show moved too fast and he had to come up with something quick to avoid a deadly stage wait.

The same thing happened at the TV dress rehearsal.

"The joke stays in," says Bob who quipped: "The joke is so old that I have stolen it back from Milton Berle at least six times."

Hope will re-create his role of Huckleberry Haines, the band-leading pal of the All America football star who inherits a Paris fashion house. Howard Keel, Anna Maria Alberghetti and Janis Paige costar with Hope.

As Election Day Approaches

GIs Urged to Vote

By ARTHUR EDSON
AP Feature Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The military man is a lot like the civilian in at least one respect. He may be willing to die for his country, but blamed if he will take the bother to vote in its election.

Election day is only a little more than six weeks away. Many service men—scattered in 50 countries over the world (and don't forget those at the South Pole)—must start now if their vote is to be counted Nov. 4.

Traditionally, the soldier never has been much at the ballot box. But it hasn't been all his fault. Many states barred his ballot; others had rules too complex for him to meet.

By 1944 Congress and the states had taken action to permit the wartime soldier to vote, and around 30 per cent did so.

But this action applied only to time of war. The percentage dipped again in 1952, during the Korean conflict, when despite the shooting we were technically at peace.

Not until 1955 did Congress pass a law to serve as a sort of guide-post for peacetime. As a result, one out of three servicemen either voted in person or by absentee ballot in the 1956 elections.

That's pretty good, considering the difficulties, but those at the Pentagon whose job it is to encourage service voting won't be happy until the proportion runs as high as it does for the entire nation. That, incidentally, is nothing for a democracy to brag about. In 1956, 60 millions voted, or only around 60 per cent of the potential.

So far as the service men are concerned, this has been the big problem:

Only two states, Georgia and Kentucky, permit an 18-year-old to vote. But the services may take him in at 17 or 18 and ship him off to heaven knows where. At 21, when he's able to vote in the other 46 states, he may find the only way he can register is to do so in person.

There's another complication. Each state has its own rules. The Defense department has a huge chart showing the differences, and there are plenty of them.

For instance, Arizona requires a potential voter to be able to read the U.S. Constitution, and write his name. Delaware requires him to read the state constitution in English, and write his name. Several states require that the voter read and speak English, but one well known territory says it's okay if he can read, write and speak Hawaiian.

They include the servicemen, their wives and those federal employes stationed overseas as a part of the cold war. It adds up to a possible 2,610,000 ballots, an important group in an election.

Old Rough and Ready never voted in his life, not even in 1848, when he was elected president.

White Students OK'd by Negro University

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two white preachers of divergent views on segregation started back to school yesterday at Texas Southern University, a state-supported Negro institution.

The Rev. E. A. Munroe, an avowed segregationist, is pastor of the Missionary Baptist Temple here. He paid $81 tuition and went to afternoon classes.

The Rev. Clayton McMahill, an integrationist and member of the Texas Methodist Conference, entered school a few hours earlier but without fanfare that marked Munroe's registration Monday.

McMahill said he entered to set an example in favor of integration.

"Rev. Munroe was trying to make a laughing stock out of the decision of the Supreme Court," McMahill said. "It was a terrific insult to the students and faculty. The stand of the Methodist Church is integration through all agencies of the church."

Munroe admitted he expected to be rejected and had said he would fight the case to the U.S. Supreme Court, should the school bar him.

Accident Injuries Fatal

DETROIT (AP) — William Anderson, 58, a factory worker, died Thursday of injuries suffered when he lost control of his car and rammed into a house here. Doctors said Anderson may have had a diabetic attack.

Find Skeleton in Pit

ADRIAN (AP) — A skeleton, believed to be that of a woman, has been found in a vegetable pit in Adrian. It was dug up Thursday by J. L. Grindstaff and his son-in-law and turned over to the Lenawee County sheriff's office.
