

$100 REWARD

DEWEY WINS!

by DANIEL R. WITSCHI

A $100 reward is being offered for information leading to the return of several instruments used by the Collegium Musicum that were stolen from Varner Hall October 31. No questions will be asked, and no prosecution will ensue, should the instruments be returned. Anyone with any knowledge of the thefts should telephone 373-6537 or 377-2030.

According to Lyle Nordstrom, director of the group, the instruments have little commercial value, although they would be time-consuming to replace. Their appeal is limited to a few Renaissance ensembles, who have already been notified of the thefts. Pawnbrokers in the area have also been alerted.

A spokesman for the Collegium indicated that the future of the group (which enjoys a national reputation) depends on the speedy retrieval of the instruments, most of which were handmade and specially selected for their task.

The instruments stolen were:

- 1) An alto recorder with case, stained boxwood, ivory fittings, made by Frierich von Heune.
- 2) A tenor recorder with case, also made by Frierich von Heune.
- 3) A 13 string lute in a plush-lined case, made by Stu Corwin.

4) A treble viol and case, orange-brown with a rosewood fingerboard and tailpiece. The bow is permabuca with an ivory frog.

5) A violin with case and bow, French orange-brown finish, labelled "Breton Mirecourt." The bow has "August" engraved near the frog end.

6) A bass viol with bow and case, light brown with an ivory and wood rose under the end of the fingerboard.

Only one of the instruments was insured, and only one of the instruments belonged to the school. The loss of these instruments is a heavy blow to the musicians who owned them, many of whom lack the funds to replace them.

by Artur Sear Shennig

Dewey and Warren won a sweeping victory in the presidential election yesterday by an overwhelming majority of electoral votes. Our early samplings of the returns, coupled with our last public opinion polls, showed the Dewey-Warren ticket carried at least 45 states, with an overwhelming popular and electoral majority in almost all regions of the country.

The up-to-date, modern polling methods used in our last night pre-election polls covered a representative cross-section of the population, including those in the post-rigor-mortis age grouping (a majority of whom were surprisingly still found to be undecided), the strongly unified plutonium-miners bloc in the Northeastern states, the caterpillar-farmers of the Midwest, and other groups often overlooked by less efficient polls.

Up until now this paper has refrained from endorsing any candidates. However, we now pledge our full and wholehearted support behind the Dewey-Warren administration.

PROTEST : MEXICAN-AMERICANS TO PICKET ADMISSIONS OFFICE

The lack of a positive response to the demands of the Latino students at Oakland University has led us to this picketing. The following are a series of events in which Oakland's administrators have failed to serve our needs:

Nov. 3, 1971-The Latino students requested that the admissions office employ a full time Latino recruiter for the academic year of 1972.

Admission's Office Reply-The admissions office does not have an opening now, and can not afford to hire any new people.

December, 1971-Two new people were hired by the Admissions Office. None of these two persons were Latinos.

Feb 17, 1972-Latino students again requested that the admissions office hire a Latino recruiter. Again the admissions office said it had no openings, and could not hire any new staff.

August, 1972-A position is left vacant in the Admissions Office. Three Latinos have applied for the job. None of them have been hired!

Reasons Given-Two applicants requested salaries higher than those the office was willing to pay. (Which was not too much), because he had not obtained his M.A.

Fact (or else Admissions Office lack of honesty)-At the time of employment at least five of the recruiters did not (and even now do not) have an M.A.

The lack of honesty on the part of the admissions office is being shown here. Beyond any doubt, we have been deceived by the rhetoric of the administration. We have said before that minorities do not mean blacks only. The admissions office responses are rather weak, false, and full of rhetoric. It only represents the morals of these who pretend to be liberal and open minded. It only shows the falsehood of the administration.

Oakland University is located in the center of one of the highest concentrations of Latinos in the Midwest. There are about 180,000 from Detroit, Pontiac, and Saginaw, and yet little is being done.

We protest the injustices that are being committed against the Latino Students. We want to make public our position, and also wish the moral support of the students of Oakland University.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Dear Editor:

I realize that those students who park their cars on Squirrel Rd. to avoid paying the parking fee must be a real thorn in the side of the Parking Commission. Just think of all those $26 stickers going to waste. Anyway, I thought of a way to force them to "pay the parker" so to speak. The university could build a sidewalk over the muddy ground along University Drive, then charge the fugitives a $26 "sidewalk fee". There could be a "walk pool" option, as well as preferential sidewalk space for faculty/staff. Great eh? (The only problem I haven't solved is where to put the walking sticker.)

Thank You,
David Suwal

Letter to Editor:

Be sure to have a friend with you at all times. For, if you slit your wrist, or have a physical emergency, the University has no ambulance to help you. You may wait 10 minutes or so for a hospital ambulance to come, or be driven by a friend, if time permits.

If you care about people, friends, or just yourself, go to Public Safety and help! Please!

Samuel Steinberg

Dear Sir:

The recent election has created deep unrest in America, but it also has exposed a great deal of hypocrisy; the attitude of the so-called "peace seekers" who advocate tolerance an brotherhood yet practice hatred, repression and social tyranny.

For the past several weeks the College Republicans have manned a table in the Oakland Center, for the purpose of introducing an alternative to the college voter. Our material was not exceedingly offensive. Our staff forced no one to ingest it. Our display obstructed no one's path and at least its presence had administration approval.

We are not so crass as to condemn all McGovern supporters. Yet a handful of social termites were able to disrupt our pursuits by verbal abuse, destruction of property, and physical assault. These included one brave neurotic who smeared a lone (no doubt to the relief of this pacifist) female staff member with a candy bar.

Throughout the campaign we have refrained from responding to these half-wits in kind. We feel that it would have debased ourselves to act in such an infantile manner.

Yet we are termed "Fascists"?

Respectfully,

D. Shoup
J. Cummer

General Dredge

One day God made an inventory of all the activities in Heaven—a kind of celestial Domesday Book. He was shocked to discover that General Dredge of the Corps of Engineers and his colleagues were draining and damming a section of Paradise.

God called them up immediately:

"Dredge, what are you doing up here?"

"I've got my orders, God. Me and the boys are improving Paradise."

"But how can you improve Paradise, Dredge? And who sent you up here?"

"The Devil did. We're just following orders. God immediately called the Devil:

"Aren't you a little out of your territory?"

He asked. "What's Dredge and his crew doing up here?"

"They're bring progress to Paradise," replied the Devil.

"You can't bring progress to Paradies, Devil! I won't allow it!"

"Sorry God. You let a few folks in who want to improve the environment up there, and we're just the bunch to do it. As long as there's a demand for more dams, my boys will carry out the bad work."

"All right, Devil," sayeth the Lord. "I was hoping we could settle this like two mature Spirits. But I see you want a fight. I'm bringing legal action, and I'll start with an injunction against Dredge's draining operations." Evil laughter came from far below. "Is that so, God? And just where do you think you're going to get any lawyers?"

ZPG

by Bob Knoska

Dr. Karen Sacks, Assistant Professor of sociology and Anthropology, will speak at the November 12 meeting of the Greater Oakland Chapter Zero Population Growth—8pm at St. John Fisher Chapel just east of the intersection of Walton with Squirrel Road, close to Oakland University.

In a discussion titled "Lifestyles and Alternatives," Prof. Sacks will discuss the advantages and disadvantages offered by the family lifestyle and consider some of the alternatives to marriage, parenthood and the traditional employment roles. Also to be discussed will be why alternate lifestyles have not been as widespread and enduring as the family.

ZPG's goal is the achievement of permanent population stability through voluntary means. Understanding of the role of lifestyles is part of that goal, since traditional lifestyles have emphasized marriage and child bearing roles for women, regardless of their personal talents and preferences. The acceptance of new roles for men and women will allow freedom of choice in family size.

The meeting will be set up mainly as an informal discussion with Prof. Sacks, with an opportunity for comments and questions from the group present.

The public is invited and encouraged to attend this interesting meeting.

A problem has arisen with the questionnaires about the School of Community and Human Development which was inserted in Focus October 25. The collection box of completed questionnaires which was placed near Charlie Brown's, was sent to the dump and never reached the Provost office. For those who would like to renew their interest in the questionnaire, and complete it again; another copy can be obtained in Room 212 Varner Hall or by calling 377-2195 and having a duplicate sent to your address.

FROSTBITE CURE

By CHUCK BARSHAW

The wanton, wintery wind whipped him mercilessly, and the blindingly white fragments of frigid frost stung his frostbitten face as he plodded hopelessly forward into the blustering blizzard. His feet, now painfully numb, sank methodically into the ever-increasing mountains of frigid fluff, until an unseen, treacherous root grasped his frozen limb and hurled him to the snow encrusted ground. He knew then that he would not get up again. The biting, bitter cold and the howling wind had ripped the heat from his body, and had left him a shuddering, empty hulk. As the final numbness crept with agonizing sureness into his heart, a tear glittered solidly in his eye, and with a last, convulsive gasp, he cried, "Nassau Bahamas", and gave up his spirit.

Yes friend, for a limited time only, we are offering the trip of a lifetime, a dream vacation to Nassau Bahamas. I mean, just think of it friends: a gigantic stretch of pure white sand lies passively as the sparkling blue water laps gently. The sun glows warmly, and the atmosphere flows with excitement and glamour.

And it can all be yours for as low as $179.00. Can you believe that? Only 179 smackeroos'll take care of a round trip ticket on world renowned Air Canada, and also completely cover your six day stay at Gleneagles Hotel.

What's that, my man? Oh, well, there are varying rates for the rooms. If you care to share the room with three other people, the cost is $179.00. Triple occupancy is $199.00, and Double is $209.00. Or if you really want to be elegant, you may go to unsurpassed Mantagu Beach Hotel, whose rates are a mere ten dollars more than the Gleneagles Hotel. Or, if you think your potato brain can find a better hotel, well then, the round trip ticket will only cost you $109.00. Now go away, you bother me.

NEWS BRIEFS

The Community Service Program will host a "VOLUNTEER JOB MARKET" Wednesday, November 15, 1972 from 10:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. in the Fire-side Lounge, Oakland Center.

The purpose of the Job Market is to recruit student volunteers. The Community Service Program assures the placements of students with the agency, and upon successful completion of the course, eight credits are awarded.

The Community Service Program was designed to provide socially conscious and concerned students with an opportunity to become actively involved in direct social action and to provide agencies with additional manpower to expand agency efforts to combat problems with which the agency must deal. Students, Program director and agency have the right to renegotiate the placement if necessary.

The Community Service Program is based in the Urban Affairs Center, 203 Wilson Hall. Feel free to stop in or call (377-3210) for more information if desired.

by Genevieve de Sebonde Ron James, president of the OU Chess Club, stated last week that his goal is to make Oakland University the chess capital of the state.

In order to achieve this goal, the club will be guided by chess expert Charles Bassin, fund raising programs are planned, and tournaments are anticipated with other universities. The club also plans to have a tournament in March, supported by the USCF (of which Bobby Fischer is a member), and sponsored by Ray Miller as well as the Michigan Area Chess-players.

The Chess Club meets in the Oakland Room on Tuesdays from 4:00 P.M. to 7:00 P.M. Meetings are free to all who would wish to compete or receive guidance in the game. For more details, telephone 377-3747.

by DANIEL R. WITSCHI Once again, we at Focus regretfully have to announce a printer's error, which appeared on the front page of our October 18th issue.

The error in question occurred twice in the "OU FORGETS SLP" article which stated that the Office for Student Organizations forgot to prepare a reception for SLP Presidential Candidate Louis Fisher.

In truth, according to a reliable OSO source, the Concert Lecture Series Committee was the organization which forgot the SLP.

In any event, the staff of FOCUS: OAKLAND wish to state that the only thing that THEY forgot was to run this correction notice in an earlier issue.

walkout staged

By Jim Brazier

Despite attempts to stage a walkout at the Student Congress meeting last week, a quorum was still present, and business was conducted as usual.

Ken Pallos walked out with the protesters, and thereby forfeited his nomination to fill the vacancy on Congress. Darlene Flack, the other nominee, was then elected to fill the post.

Before the walkout, (which was the second one this year), Bill Epling submitted a report on the Community House. He stated that the University had appropriated $66,000 to the Drug Program.

Senate Standing Committees suffered from the staged demonstration, however, those students who were eager to serve were elected by Congress to fill the positions. Newly elected members, and their committees are as follows: Academic Policy: Mick Foley (1 more student and an alternate are needed); Academic Policy: Jerry Solomon, Tom Laethen, Paul Axinn (1 more student is needed);

Academic Standing and Honors: needs 3 students; Admissions: Cheryl Dove, Gwen Ferguson, (needs 3 students); Campus Environment: needs 4 students; Financial Aid: Gwen Smith, Don Dooley, Steve Cannon, (1 more student is needed); Spring and Summer Sessions: needs 3 students; Teaching and Learning: needs 4 students; University Planning: needs 5 students.

Jim Cuillo was defeated in his bid for a seat on the Financial Aids Committee.

SAB member Beverly Beasley has filed a complaint concerning SAB chairperson Greg Janks. She stated that "He is incompetent, inconsiderate and inadequate."

Later, Mick Rhoden stated that his objection to Janks was that he (Janks) would not give any reasons for saying "no" to certain issues facing the SAB. (Janks was a participator in the walkout earlier, and could not reply to these charges and complaints.)

Students are invited to attend the next Congress meeting, Tuesday, Nov. 14, at 6:00PM. The Senate committees need students and their valuable input.

Sounds, Illusions, & Expressions

YES!

Ah yes. There will always be a soft, maudlin spot in my heart for the Yes. It just so happens that these British minstrels lay down some of the most emotionally evocative music of recent history. Rock is in itself an emotional proposition. Sensuality has always been the fibre of the music in which we invest our souls. If this is any kind of criterion for adjudging rock pre-eminence, Yes would have to rank near the top.

The Yes format is essentially simple though manifestly complex. The original attractions are the ultimate ones, being, truly inventive, phenomenally touching melodies; Jon Anderson's creamy, soothing vocals, and the electronic fantasies of keyboardman Rick Wakeman. The ensemble inevitably calls to mind a whirlwind of frenetic, intricately entangled sound dutifully pursuing the appointed musical rounds, slowing down at times to assure it's grasp on your senses with a crescendo of elegance.

This record is constructed differently than their previous release, "Fragile". The individual indulgence from the last time have been left in the studio as the band attempts here to erect lengthy, carefully crafted structures. Side one is the expansion and evolution of one musical theme though it never lapses into dull sameness. Side two is a pair of separate entities, each capable of holding the interest of a willing participant.

There is no "Roundabout" (from Fragile) on this record, that is no one song calculated perfectly as a ticket to superstardom. "Roundabout" is one of those songs that only pop up but ever so often. But, then I suppose any number of persons could catch sufficient glimpses of that calibre from what is here. The album, (despite the usual incomprehensible, or nearly so, lyrics), is good enough. Too commercially calculated? Maybe, but commercialism has always been rock's greatest impellant.

BY RICK JOHNSON

I, through time and dimensions travelling,
Like a ball of thread unravelling
Find here glistening, luminous clear,
An insignificant looking sphere.

Marvelous things have I seen,
Pulsars, quasars, bright moon-beam.
But looking at this light blue sky
My attention's diverted-- in Heaven's name, why?

Here from my celestial perch
I start, conclude, an earnest search.
Magnificent thing that here abounds!
Dare I believe what I have found?

The brilliance of a million suns,
Spewing photons by the tons!
Nature's greatest comes to naught
Compared to a solitary human thought!

otter slide

by SKIP THOMPSON

To supplement all the current environmental problems, the Campus Environmental Health Committee (a special five-member group, kept secret from the public, for their personal safety) has come up with a new plan to save Beer Lake: an Otter Slide.

You see, otters at Oakland University have been severely limited in their fun on campus. Since the otters did not have a place to slide (They are avid sliders, and enjoy sliding down a slick slope during rain or shine), they have not shown themselves much for the past two years. On this issue, the Committee did rise to the occasion, and decided to get the Greater Oakland University Otter Family (Hereafter known as GOUOF) to the forefront of OU notoriety; especially since muskrats are all that the university has seen at the present time. (All they ever do is sit in their mud two-story brick houses and reproduce the current population explosion on small graphs supplied by the Committee for the Reorganization of University Trails, known as CROUT.)

But at last report, GOUOF has prevailed and our lovable otters can now play on their own newly created slide on Beer Lake. It is a good slide, nice and rocky, and one that will excite all of the otters that we know to be here in Beer Lake, and all of the local otters are happy.

(Editor's note: Since Skip Thompson has not been available for comment, we wish to say that other sources have told us that the rock slide on Beer Lake was created to keep the bridge across Beer Lake from being eroded into Beer Lake and to keep the area aesthetically pleasing.)

And let me tell you, the scenery is absolutely unbelievable. And after you get tired of looking at the girls (Ed. note: that's not sexist - that's Barshaw) there's other stuff to do. Like what? Lemme tell you. Anything. Everything. It's your trip, so do what you want.

Huh? Your mother? Well, um, sure, If you want to bring your mother, or any other member of your immediate family, go ahead. The rates are the same for all students, faculty, staff and immediate families of OU.

When? I was just getting to that. Yessirree, they planned it just for you, sweetheart. Right at the end of the semester, when your poor brain is wiped out, you can take this miracle trip and come back fully restored. For your convenience, there are two trips scheduled; from Dec. 21-27, or the 27th to Jan. 1.

And let me tell you a little about the wonderful people who made it all possible for me to be here tonight, the Office of Student Organizations. You all know where the Office for Student Or...you don't. Well, it's found in Oakland Center, Rm 48, and it's directed by Ingo Dutzman and Jim Wu, who, by the way, are the people to see if you've got any questions.

And lemme tell you, they're wunnerful people, who're right now working on their Travel Resource Center which will have travel information for any state or country that you might wish to travel to. Again, if you have any questions, ask them, and just leave me alone.

And while we're here, I'd like to speak with you confidentially. Now, normally, I wouldn't let anyone in on this really hot merchandise, but since you've been such a great audience, well... Here's a bottle of Mom's Magical Miracle Mixer, and lemme tell you, it'll cure warts and dandruff and cancer and ugliness, and it works at unclogging sewers...

Maybe the way to change the world is to join a large corporation.

We don't make a lot of noise, but this is where it's really happening. You see, a large corporation like Kodak has the resources and the skill to make this world a little more decent place to live. And we intend to do what we can to see that this is exactly what happens.

Take our home city, Rochester, New York for example. We cut water pollution in the Genesee River by using natural bacteria to dispose of unnatural wastes. We cut air pollution by using electrostatic precipitators in a new combustible waste disposal facility. We helped set up a black enterprise program in downtown Rochester, and we've been experimenting with film as a way to train both teachers and students—including some students who wouldn't respond to anything else.

And we didn't stop with Rochester. Kodak is involved in 47 countries all over the world. Actively involved.

Why? Because it's good business. Helping to clean the Genesee River not only benefits society... but helps protect another possible source for the clean water we need to make our film. Our combustible waste disposal facility not only reduces pollution... but just about pays for itself in heat and power production and silver recovery. Our black enterprise program not only provides an opportunity for the economically disadvantaged... but helps stabilize communities in which Kodak can operate and grow. And distributing cameras and film to teachers and students not only helps motivate the children... but helps create a whole new market.

In short, it's simply good business. And we're in business to make a profit. But in furthering our business interests, we also further society's interests.

And that's good. After all, our business depends on society. So we care what happens to it.

More than a business.
