NEW ASSISTANT CHANCELLOR TO HANDLE URBAN AFFAIRS

The last of a series of top-level shifts in administration went into effect today (Monday) with the introduction to campus of a new assistant chancellor and the announcement of several changes in the makeup of the provost's office.

Karl D. Gregory takes on the newly established post of assistant to the chancellor for urban affairs. He will be responsible for identifying and marshaling resources in the entire University community to be directed toward the whole area of race relations and urban problems. Chancellor Varner made this comment on the appointment: "While the specifics of the assignment must of necessity be worked out in light of experience, it is my hope that Gregory can serve as a focal point in the University community for student and faculty interests and involvement in this problem in terms of both community action and research. Because of our geographic location, his concern will be aimed specifically--although not exclusively--to relating the University and its resources to the problem of the disadvantaged in Pontiac. A successful program will necessitate a close and continuous working relationship with the many segments of the Pontiac community, both black and white."

Assistant professor of economics at Wayne State University since 1964, Gregory has also served as a consultant to Detroit's Inner City Business Improvement Forum, the Federal Bureau of the Budget and Federal Reserve Bank. He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Wayne and a doctorate from the University of Michigan.

Administrative changes announced by Provost Donald D. O'Dowd include: Frederick W. Obear, vice provost (from assistant provost); Lewis N. Pino, dean of the Summer School and director of research services; Wilbur W. Kent, Jr., director of the Meadow Brook Summer School of Music (in addition to being associate dean of the School of Performing Arts); William Jones, assistant dean of graduate study (formerly associate director of admissions and scholarships), and Norton Seeber, assistant to the provost for the School of Business Administration. O'Dowd also noted that he will assume the additional responsibility of dean of graduate study.

The provost spelled out the responsibilities of the new positions in a three-page memorandum to faculty and staff. Of particular note was his comment that Pino "is taking full responsibility for the planning and operation of an undergraduate summer school program primarily designed for non-Oakland students that will begin during the second half of the old spring semester in 1969. This will require close coordination with the Meadow Brook Summer School of Music and the graduate courses currently being offered."

GRANTS TO OU TOTAL $127,822

Major gifts and grants totaling $127,822 accepted last week by the MSU Board of Trustees in the name of Oakland University included the following: $40,000 from the National Foundation for Eye Research of Cleveland and $3,000 from Research to Prevent Blindness, Inc., of New York City, both to support eye research under the direction of V. Everett Kinsey of the Institute of Biological Sciences; $29,250 from Health, Education and Welfare to support the Language and Area Center for East Asia, under the direction of S. Bernard Thomas (history); $24,278 from the National Science Foundation as an institutional grant for science, under the direction of Chancellor Varner; $12,100 from NSF to purchase instructional equipment, under the direction of Robert H. Edgerton (engineering), and $19,194 worth of lab equipment for teaching and research in chemistry, from Smith and Underwood Laboratories of Royal Oak.

THE NEWEST LANGUAGE The Computing and Data Processing Center will offer a one-hour session (at three different times) on running programs written in the Fortran IV programming language on the new system 360/40 computer. The subjects, to be presented by Donald Mann, assistant director of the center, will cover what the Fortran II programmer must know to write in Fortran IV, and offer example Fortran programs illustrating the disk operational system control cards. All faculty, staff and students are invited to any one of the three sessions, which will be held in 243 Dodge Hall at 10 a.m. and noon Thursday and 10 a.m. Friday.

BUFFALOED BY BILLS? If debts have you down, maybe the lift you need can be found in a three-week series of programs entitled "Family Money Management," being sponsored by the MSU Credit Union. The Wednesday noon sessions will begin this week in 128 and 130 Oakland Center. The October 2 and 9 sessions will be held at the same hour in Gold Rooms A and B. Take your lunch. Coffee and desert will be furnished free.

PICNIC SLATED SUNDAY An announcement of the annual picnic for OU employees and their families, scheduled for 3:30-6 p.m. Sunday, has been mailed to all known home addresses. If you have not received the invitation and wish to attend, please see Mrs. Mary Wood, administrative secretary in the reception lobby, 101 North Foundation, before Thursday to make a reservation.

SCHOLARS SOUGHT The advising office is asking faculty and others to help identify seniors who might qualify for Fulbright-Hays grants for graduate study abroad and to encourage the students to apply. Forms and information can be obtained from Dean Fred W. Smith, 203 Wilson Hall. The deadline for filing applications here is Friday, October 18.

'THE WAY IT IS' A film by that title, showing an actual ghetto classroom in all its disorder and how a team of education experts tried to improve it, will be shown at 4 p.m. today (Monday) in 195 Science. Everyone is invited, especially those in the fields of education, psychology and sociology.

TRUSTEES' MEETING SET The next meeting of the MSU Board of Trustees will be held October 17. The deadline for materials to be in the office of H.N. Stoutenburg, 101 North Foundation, is October 2.

The following personnel action affecting OU faculty and staff members was approved by the MSU Board of Trustees at its monthly meeting, held Friday at East Lansing:

LEAVES OF ABSENCE

Beauregard Stubblefield (mathematics), 1968-69 year to continue work on a tri-university program in teacher improvement in Texas; Alan A. Redner (shipping and receiving), 1968-70 to serve in the armed forces, and Robert Maile (grounds and landscaping), for personal reasons.

Editor's Note: The copy for this week's STAFF BULLETIN was prepared on a "Composer" on loan from IBM. It looks like an IBM Selectric typewriter, can print 60 different fonts of type, and costs something in the neighborhood of $4,400. IBM is trying to sell the machine as an ideal complement to the University's new Addressograph-Multigraph offset printer.

BRIEGER GIVES PAPER Gottfried Brieger (chemistry) presented a paper at the fall meeting of the American Chemical Society in Atlantic City, New Jersey. Co-authors were Charles McKenna and Terry L. Nestruck, both OU undergraduates.

CREDIT UNION OPEN The Credit Union office is again open during regular University office hours, with Gordon Rollenhagen on duty as the new manager. He formerly managed a consumers finance firm in Lansing and attended Lansing Community College.

JANUSZKO TO LEAVE Albert Linsenman will assume responsibilities as acting manager of Vandenberg food service October 1, succeeding John Januszko, who has accepted a position with Servo-Mation of Ypsilanti. Linsenman has been assistant manager.
