Center for American English hosts ESL program

Oakland University's Center for American English is hosting an English as a second language (ESL) summer institute beginning Monday, June 24.

The six-week intensive program includes four courses: Reading and Vocabulary, Writing and Grammar, Listening and Speaking, and an introduction to American Culture and Customs, which includes field trips to Detroit-area cultural locations as well as discussion and instruction on social customs. The deadline to register is Saturday, June 1.

The institute offers two levels of each course on the university's campus Monday through Thursday. This program is ideal for students who wish to speak English. Total cost for the program is $4,375, which includes tuition, housing and meals, health insurance, books and supplies.

For more information or to obtain an application for the Summer Institute, contact the Center for American English at (248) 370-2175.
