FABulous Tuesdays to feature Stamps

Kick-start your day with breakfast and a lecture by Richard Stamps, associate professor of anthropology, at the next FABulous Tuesdays faculty/alumni breakfast, Tuesday, Nov. 12, at 7:30 a.m. Stamps will talk about his archaeological excavation of Thomas Edison's boyhood Michigan home.

The FABulous Tuesdays breakfast series, sponsored by the Oakland University Alumni Association (OUAA), brings together faculty, staff, students and alumni four times a year for breakfast and a lecture.

"This is a way to encourage OU alumni to come back to campus, catch up with old friends and reconnect," said Jamie Simek, assistant director of alumni relations. "We invite speakers who are interesting, inspiring and intriguing."

Stamps, a 2002 OUAA Honorary Alumnus Award winner, will use photographs, maps and illustrations to present Edison's boyhood home and describe the inventor's school years in Port Huron. Stamps led the archaeological excavations of the site and authored "Search for the House in the Grove."

Breakfast will be served at 7:30 a.m., followed by the presentation at 8 a.m. The cost is $10 for OUAA members and $20 for non-members. Reserve a spot by contacting Simek at (248) 370-3700, ext. 1113, or ruark@oakland.edu.

Upcoming FABulous Tuesdays will feature:

- Feb. 11 — Bill Rogers, golf professional and managing director of Katke-Cousins Golf Course
- May 13 — Robert Jarski, associate professor, School of Health Sciences, and director of complementary medicine and wellness
