

Tuesday, August 5, 2003

School of Business hosts Careers in Financial Planning Night

Oakland University's School of Business Administration's Center for Executive and Continuing Education (CECE) is hosting a career night on Tuesday, Aug. 19, from 6:30-8:30 p.m. in the Superior Room at the Macomb Intermediate School District.

Career night attendees will receive information on becoming a certified financial planner (CFP). Expert faculty and CECE administration from Oakland University also will be on hand to answer any questions.

In addition, representatives from the Financial Planning Association (FPA) will be available to discuss their newly developed mentorship program aimed at helping students new to the financial planning profession gain experience in the field and to answer questions about the discounts to FPA membership that are available to OU students.

If you are interested in becoming a certified financial planner, but need more information, or would like to reserve a seat for the career night call (248) 370-3128.

SUMMARY

Oakland University's School of Business Administration's Center for Executive and Continuing Education is hosting a career night on Tuesday, Aug. 19, from 6:30-8:30 p.m. in the Superior Room at the Macomb Intermediate School District.

Created by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Tuesday, August 5, 2003

Modified by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Tuesday, August 5, 2003

Article Start Date: Friday, September 12, 2003