

Friday, November 2, 2001

OU hosts Great Sexpectations Touring Theatre Company

Great Sexpectations Touring Theatre Company will present truths about sex, alcohol and relationships on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. in Vandenberg Dining Hall.

Great Sexpectations helps young adults reduce their risk of unwanted, regretted sexual experiences and high-risk alcohol use. It offers students hope in their ability to create meaningful intimate relationships in their lives.

The production addresses issues, perceptions, behaviors and consequences that come from real life situations of college students. It contrasts vivid images of harmful beliefs and behaviors with models of students choosing caring, respectful, protective behaviors. It serves as a trigger for discussions about real feelings, healthy versus unhealthy relationships, protective skills and supportive campus resources.

The performance is free-of-charge. Due to the nature of this production, it does contain mature content.

SUMMARY

Great Sexpectations Touring Theatre Company will present truths about sex, alcohol and relationships on Tuesday, Nov. 6, at 8 p.m. in Vandenberg Dining Hall.

Created by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Friday, November 2, 2001
Modified by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Friday, November 2, 2001
Article Start Date: Tuesday, December 16, 2003