

Monday, April 15, 2002

Bring Your Child to Work Day is April 25

The second annual Bring Your Child to Work Day at OU is Thursday, April 25. Participating children between the ages of 8 and 18 will see firsthand the types of skills different professions require on OU's campus.

The activities planned for this year's event include:

- 8-9:10 a.m. — Children will check in and get pictures taken for their ID cards. Dawn Aubry, director of New Student Programs, will welcome the participants in Gold Rooms B and C of the Oakland Center.
- 9:20 a.m. — Tours will be given of the OU Police Department and WXOU radio station.
- 10:50 a.m. — Dagmar Cronn, professor of Chemistry, will give a presentation, "Antarctica," in the Science and Engineering Building.
- 11:45 a.m. — John Cowlshaw, associate professor of biological science, will give a presentation, "Evolution of Butterflies and People," in Dodge Hall of Engineering.
- 12:30 p.m. — Lunch at Vandenberg Cafeteria.

Last year's event included speakers, tours of the police station, Recreation Center, dorm rooms, a hands-on presentation from Health Science on blood cells and lunch at Vandenberg cafeteria.

Sponsored by the AP Assembly, Bring Your Child to Work Day is a nationwide event coordinated through the MS Foundation.

For more information, contact Lori Tirpak at tirpak@oakland.edu.

SUMMARY

The second annual Bring Your Child to Work Day at OU is Thursday, April 25. Participating children between the ages of 8 and 18, will see firsthand the types of skills different professions on OU's campus require.

Created by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Monday, April 15, 2002
Modified by CareTech Administrator (webservices@caretechsolutions.com) on Monday, April 15, 2002
Article Start Date: Monday, November 10, 2003