Claudia Warns Pilate of Terror Seen in Dream

By GEORGE CORNELL
Religious Writer

She jerked awake and sat up in bed, her eyes wide and terrified. The dream still churned in her mind, and she still could hear the mad howling—almost as if it were real. She stiffened. It was real!

CLAUDIA

With a sweep of her arms, Claudia Procula yanked the netting from around her canopied bed and called out for her slaves. Oh gods, she murmured, oh invisible fates.

The maidslaves came running, bringing trays of fruit, but she waved the food aside and ordered them to dress her at once. She clasped the tiny icon of Juno at her breast, breathing a supplication.

Outside on the lithostrotos, she could hear the taut rise and fall of voices parleying, and at intervals, the mass growl of a mob.

A grim, fearful noise it was, as if issuing from the throat of a single, mindless creature.

The horror of the nightmare swept her again, and perspiration misted her body. She spun away from the wardrobe maids, knotting the sash about her stola herself.

"LET HIM BE CRUCIFIED"

She hurried down the corridor toward the open platform of the praetorium. The sentries at the archway saluted, slapping arms to chest, at her approach. Claudia halted, just inside the portal, listening.

"We found this man perverting our nation—saying that He is Christ a King!" The voice was stern, disdainful." . . . Let Him be crucified!" Then came Pilate's voice, querulous, evasive, and intermittently, that inhuman crowd sound.

A little moan escaped Claudia's lips, and she suddenly felt weak. The vision of her troubled sleep flooded her anew, and she retreated toward her rooms. So they, too, wanted blood.

The circumstances had a horrible resemblance to the fantasies of her night. Without doubt, the spirits of Hesperides or furies of the abyss had brought her this message, this warning. It was as if the very stars had spoken.

Just as in her dream, her husband sat before the multitude — only it had been in an amphitheater, yes, that was it, an arena as big as the circus at Rome — and heroic man was at the stake.

A nightmare swarm of eyes had glinted all around, while a whole world roared for death.

She had been there, too, at Pilate's side in the box, and a red-orange glow, mixed with black, filled the atmosphere, while images of her imperial ancestors glided by, the Caesars, across the dark sea of screaming faces. Release the beasts!

And then . . .

Claudia clapped a hand to her eyes, her throat quivering. Oh heavenly sisters, oh guardian shade of Nona. It was up to Pilate now, just as in the dream to give the word. Only he had the authority.

WHAT TO DO!

At a loss for what to do, Claudia summoned a garrison officer, questioning him about the case being heard by Pilate. He confirmed as she feared, that the man was Jesus of Galilee, of whom she had heard marvelous things.

He had been seized secretly last night, the officer said, by a joint military-civil detachment, and arraigned at once before the native Sanhedrin, which condemned Him for religious sedition, or something of the sort.

It was a rather tumultuous session, the officer went on, with the high priest ripping his clothes and shouting "blasphemy!" at the culprit, after haranguing Him into saying something about being the "Son of God."

PURPOSEFUL PRISONER

That finished Him, and He knew it, yet He seemed to do it on purpose. The officer paused, knitting his brow — ah well.

Just then, a burst of sound slammed through the corridor. "Crucify him."

Claudia stood motionless, the color drained from her face. Finally, she caught her breath and dismissed the officer. She sagged into a chair. What could she do? How stop it?

The stir outside resumed and she detected a rustle of activity down a side passage in Pilate's council chambers.

She rose abruptly and stole a look through the portieres. She saw Jesus brought in, His arms and neck bleeding from the flagellum.

Her heart seemed to stop. Pilate had obviously had Him flogged. She slipped along the passage, knowing she could not interfere, but unable to stay away. She heard her husband's sarcastic question, "Are you the king of the Jews?"

The reply was strained, but firm, "My kingship is not of this world . . ." Then Pilate, amused, "So you are a king?" The other spoke slowly, wearily. "For this I was born, and for this I have come into the world, to bear witness to the truth."

Pilate chuckled sagely. "What is truth?"

NIGHTMARE RETURNS

Although she could not see the man, Claudia could see again the tumult of her dream. Her thoughts whirling, she returned again to her room, and dropped on a couch beside the table. She picked up a feather quill and dipped it in the ink, hesitating.

The nightmare rose before her, the face of the doomed, the crowd, the death cries, the memory of Pilate jabbing his thumb downward, and instead of beasts, it was a flame springing out at the faggots piled in the arena about the Great One.

Then she had felt herself caught up in a wild wave of humanity, herself and her husband, too, his eyes glazed and unseeing, hurried into a trampling moil, a death frenzy of men and women, dark figures, crazed, tangle-haired, toothless.

But the doomed man mystifyingly had grown larger, his stature rising above the teeming multitude, and he had spread his arms over them all, and she had seen the face, the kind, wise face of the Galilean, pitying and sorrowing above the world's turmoil.

ALL SHE COULD DO

The pen shook in Claudia's hand as she touched it to the parchment. "Have nothing to do with that righteous man," she wrote,

Sullenberger Trial Still Without Judge

Circuit Judge George B. Hartrick today tossed the problem of what judge will preside over trial of Dr. Neil H. Sullenberger's $250,000 damage suit against Pontiac General Hospital back into the lap of state court officials.

He said he intended no action until hearing from state court administrator Meredith Doyle on his request last week that an outside judge be assigned to hear the case since Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, to whom it had initially been assigned had disqualified himself.

Doyle, on the other hand, has said he wouldn't make an outside assignment unless all four Oakland County circuit judges had disqualified themselves.

With the trial scheduled to begin next Tuesday, Judge Hartrick, to whom the case could fall by virtue of his position this week as presiding judge, today did not appear prepared to disqualify himself.

"I don't think very many outside assignments would be made in this state if local judges had to disqualify themselves on grounds they were personally biased," he said.

"The issue in this case is not personal bias, but whether public sentiment is such that an outside judge should be called in. This is a question to be settled in Lansing, not by my conscience."

The confusion arose last week after Judge Adams acceded to arguments in behalf of Dr. Sullenberger that the case had received too much publicity and involved too many local officials and physicians for a local judge to try it.

Judge Adams ruled himself out, saying that Dr. Sullenberger was entitled "to feel he is getting a fair trial," but added that his ruling did not affect the other three county judges.

Dr. Sullenberger's attorney, Harry N. Dell, had not been informed of the stalemate. He said today he would attempt to meet with the Oakland County bench in an attempt to iron out the problem.

Rebels Isolate Santiago City

Castro Launches His All-Out Offensive in Cuban Province

HAVANA, Cuba (AP)—Cuba's second largest city, Santiago, was virtually isolated from the rest of the island today by opening blows of rebel leader Fidel Castro's long-promised "all-out" effort to overthrow President Fulgencio Batista.

Castro launched his offensive by stepping up attacks on transport and communications in Cuba's easternmost Oriente province, where his 16-month-old guerrilla war is strongest.

Communications continued to be normal outside Oriente. Havana businesses operated as usual. Batista's troops and police, on almost continuous alert for months, braced to meet the rebel threat.

Castro supporters said total war against Batista would be extended to the rest of Cuba after midnight Saturday, the rebel deadline for the President to quit.

Roving rebel bands cut telegraph lines to Santiago, fired upon transport moving in the area and spread oil and nails on the roads. Most bus and rail workers stopped work around Santiago and highways were almost deserted.

The 31-year-old rebel leader plans to call a general strike. Some sugar mill employes in Oriente province already have joined transport workers in walkouts.

For Bombers, Missile-Firing Subs

New Defense Funds Sought by President

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for an extra $1,455,747,000 in defense appropriations, mainly to acquire B52 bombers and build more missile-firing submarines.

His request was in the form of a memorandum to the House Appropriations Committee asking for an increase of that amount in the defense budget for the year starting July 1. If granted, this would boost fiscal 1959 defense appropriations beyond 40 billion dollars.

Of the amount requested, 218 million would be for the Army, 180 million for outer space research programs, 206¾ million to build two additional Polaris-firing submarines, and 518½ million to build more big bombers and plane refueling tankers.

The Army's allotment would be used mainly to speed up missile programs. A large share of the Navy's money would be for anti - submarine warfare programs.

Eisenhower told a news conference today the government must give very careful thought to the idea of an anti-recession tax cut. He added forcefully that if we don't approach the problem of the business slump very seriously, we will build trouble for ourselves in the future.

Such trouble, the President said, would make the current recession look small by comparison.

Speaking of the $1,850,000,000 housing bill he signed yesterday, Eisenhower repeated his criticism of some provisions. The main thing needed, he said, is to encourage private spending. He said business can't be stimulated just by expenditure of federal money.

Eisenhower said today the Soviet Union's nuclear test ban announcement is just a gimmick which should not be taken seriously.

SEEK AGREEMENT

Eisenhower told a news conference that evaluation does not mean, however, we should stop trying to find a common ground for agreement with the Soviet Union.

He recalled repeated U.S. efforts over the years seeking agreement with the Soviet Union in the disarmament, nuclear test and other fields.

And he said we should keep on trying to win agreement.

The President said he does not

Electric Union Joins Reuther

Demands Profit Sharing From General Motors in Today's Bargaining

DETROIT (AP)—The International Union of Electrical Workers teamed up with Walter P. Reuther today in demanding profit sharing from General Motors Corp.

IUE President James B. Carey opened bargaining talks with GM on a new labor contract by presenting substantially the same demands that Reuther's United Auto Workers Union made.

Carey disclosed no specific percentage of profits being asked. The UAW is asking 25 per cent on all profits, before taxes, in excess of 10 per cent of capital investment.

The IUE is the dominant union at Westinghouse and General Electric and several other electrical firms.

Carey argued that profit sharing along with a wage increase would halt the business recession by giving workers more purchasing power.

The IUE's present three-year contract at GM expires May 29 at the same time the UAW contract does.

The IUE represents GM employes at Frigidaire and Delco Products, Dayton, Ohio; Packard Electric, Warren, Ohio; Delco Appliance, Rochester, N. Y., Delco Battery, New Brunswick, N. J.; and Delco Radio, Chicago.

American Motors Corp. asked the United Auto Workers union today for a two-year freeze on wage and other economic benefits.

The demand applied specifically to 8,000 workers in the automotive division who are represented by the UAW.

The demands of the corporatoon were made known in letters to UAW officials preparatory to the opening of contract talks.

Contract talks between the UAW and GMC are tentatively set for April 15-16.

$20 Million Order Goes to Chrysler

WARREN (AP) — A new Chrysler Corp. missile contract for $20,622,751 will mean additional employment of 200 persons for a year in the Detroit area, according to Sen. Potter (R-Mich) in Washington.

Potter said yesterday the contract will be awarded by the Army tomorrow for work at the Chrysler missile plant here, in connection with the 200-250-mile range Redstone.

The Army last week awarded Chrysler a 25 million dollar contract in production of the 1,500-mile range Jupiter missile at the Warren plant.

13.27-Mill Levy for '58 Reflects Valuations Rise

Move Means Savings for Majority of Pontiac Taxpayers

To provide tax relief, Pontiac city commissioners last night cut the proposed 1958 municipal tax rate by 43 cents on every $1,000 of assessed valuation.

They set a 1958 tax rate of 13.27 mills to be spread on a total assessed valuation of $270,944,500 announced by the Board of Tax Review.

The new tax rate is a reduction from the 13.70 mills that have been levied for the city the past four years and is the lowest rate since 13.10 mills in 1949.

The 1958 valuation shows an increase of $16,824,750 over last year. However, the vast bulk of this has been spread on industry, leaving practically all of the home owners alone.

Commissioners figured that because of the increased valuation, the city could lower the tax rate and still raise the $3,562,000 in tax money needed to finance the 1958 budget.

Since the vast majority of existing homes in Pontiac were not assessed at higher rates this year unless they had been improved, the lower tax rate will mean savings to almost all taxpayers.

ABSORBED BY PLANTS

The increase in assessed valuation was being absorbed mainly by plants here, it was indicated. Personal (industrial) assessments were fixed at $131,278,200, or an increase of $13,565,000 over last year.

Real assessments, on the other

900 Flee Floods at Alviso

Rains Playing Havoc in California

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Without time to mop up after one heavy drenching, much of California braced for another today. Rivers were already brimming, lowlands flooded and coastal highways cut by slides.

A combination of high tide and overflow from the Guadalupe River forced evacuation last night of some 900 residents of Alviso, one of the state's oldest and traditionally one of its wettest communities.

Thirty families stood their soggy ground in the town at the southern end of San Francisco Bay. The rest moved into motels and Red Cross shelters in the nearby San Jose area. A number of Alviso homes were flooded.

Besides the Guadalupe, seven other rivers were bankful or overflowing — the Kaweah, St. Johns, San Joaquin, Fresno, Salinas, Chowchilla and Carmel Valley.

A strong weather front passed through central and northern California Monday and early yesterday, then moved on through southern California.

GALE WARNINGS UP

The Weather Bureau said a new storm would hit the northern half of the state today. Gale warnings were up from Monterey, 100 miles south of San Francisco, to the Oregon coast.

Twenty-four-hour rainfall by 2 a.m. today measured 1.40 inches at San Francisco, 1.63 at Fort Bragg, 1.51 at Sacramento, 1.52 at Santa Maria, 1.02 at Los Angeles and 1.08 at Fresno.

The Fresno River and its tributaries crested and began slowly dropping after flooding an estimated 4,000 acres of farm land on the west side of Madera in the Central Valley southeast of San Francisco.

With the snow level down to 2,800 feet in the High Sierras, there was fear that the new rainstorm or a sudden warming would bring new flood threats from melting snow.

San Francisco has had its wettest season since 1889-90, a total of 30.96 inches of rain up to 8 p.m. since the start of the season July 1. That compared with 43.50 for the 1889-90 season.

High winds ripped up and down the coast. They uprooted trees and unroofed houses in the Los Angeles and San Diego area. A 75-foot waterspout wrecked the patio of a home at Laguna Beach near Los Angeles.

Faces Charges in Housing Suit

2 Vets Say They Were Duped Out of Homes by Oak Park Man

An Oak Park man has been named in a suit filed yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court by two veterans who say they were duped out of their homes.

The suit was brought against Milton Silverman, of 13241 Dartmouth St., by Raymond Schefsky, 29, of 415 N. East Blvd., and Billie M. Ward, formerly of Pontiac, now residing in Matawan, N. J.

Their attorney, Sol E. Goldberg, of Detroit, charges Silverman with "willfully and wantonly misrepresenting the nature and character of the transaction" which saw Schefsky lose his Inkster home and Ward his in Pontiac, which Schefsky now lives in.

Judge George B. Hartrick Tuesday granted an injunction to keep Silverman from evicting Schefsky from this home.

The suit also seeks to set aside deeds which both plaintiffs say Silverman had them sign in turning over the rights to their homes. Silverman said the men would be threatened with eviction and legal action if they didn't comply, the suit says.

The men had defaulted on their mortgage payments when Silverman approached them with promises of picking up the due payments, Goldberg states in the suit.

The FBI in Detroit and Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem are looking into the alleged racket.

But so far, Ziem said, "we have insufficient evidence on which to prosecute."

The suit states that Silverman told Schefsky he owned Ward's home in Pontiac and would rent it to him for $80 a month. This occurred after Silverman had bought equity rights to the house from Ward as his mortgage was about to be foreclosed.

Officials say most veterans are unaware that under their GI-insured mortgages, they can remain in their homes for about a year's redemption period without making payments.

After promises of making due mortgage payments, Silverman refused to do so, the suit says, and instead turned around and rented it during this redemption period.

New School Bus Bill Clears Legislature

A bill requiring motorists to stop in both directions for school buses was passed by the Legislature today and headed toward Gov. Williams' desk.

If signed into law, it would amend the present law that requires only those motorists following a school bus to stop when it stops on rural roads to load or unload school children.

Passage was completed by the Senate, which agreed to minor House amendments requiring students leaving the bus to cross the street in front of the bus and compelling the bus driver to turn off all stop signals before proceeding.

The measure would bring Michigan into line with the 46 other states having a two-way stop.

It was sponsored by Reps. Lloyd L. Anderson (R-Waterford Township) and Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township) in the House and Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County) in the Senate.

Glory of God Lights Up Heaven, Says 9-Year-Old

By DAWN BLACKSTONE
Local Fourth Grader

In heaven the streets are paved with gold. In the Bible, John tells that the city does not need a moon or any stars because the glory of God is the light of it.

There are beautiful flowers, trees, and beautiful cities, and other beautiful things in heaven. There you will see, and talk with Jesus.

When we die our souls go to heaven if we become as little children and believe that Jesus was God's Son who gave up His life so that we can be forgiven for our sins. Jesus said that everybody has sinned and fallen short of the glory of God.

In heaven God gives us new bodies. No one will be sick in heaven, nor will they be poor. Now Jesus is busy preparing mansions for those who love Him. When He left His disciples, He said, "I'm going to prepare a place for you, and if I go, I'll return and receive you unto myself."

Someday He will come again and take away all the people who have told God that they believe Jesus was His gift to them and died in their place so that they can live forever and ever.

There is no more death for anyone because of Jesus.

Nine - year - old Dawn Blackstone has missed less than 10 Sundays in attending church and Sunday School at Christian Temple in her lifetime. An avid reader, she attends Schoolcraft School, Waterford Township and lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Blackstone and three brothers of 6368 Barker Ave., Drayton Plains.

hand, were set at $139,666,300, or an increase of $3,259,750. Most of this increase was accountable to new home construction.

City commissioners had anticipated earlier this year the total assessed valuation would rise about $6 million, and planned their budget on the theory they would keep the tax rate at 13.70 mills.

Learning last night the total valuation had gone up more than twice that much, they passed a resolution, recommended by the board of review and reading in part:

"The current economic conditions justify passing along to all taxpayers benefits accruing from an increased assessed valuation."

The board had recommended this step be taken.

It notified the Commission that "in view of economic conditions, it is proper that city, county and school tax budgets be based on actual needs.

"Any increases in valuations should not be used to obtain increased revenues in the form of higher taxes. Rather, such increased valuations should be used to reduce tax rates in the city."

The board's final assessment figure represents cuts on assessor's figures amounting to $1,061,550 on real property and $49,680 on personal.

Commissioners had been notified last night that the total assessed valuation had been set at $270,947,400. However, the board entered another, final cut of $2,900 this morning during the last hours of its 1958 session.

believe there is any justification for labeling the U.S. position a negative one just because it is being firm in the interest of the United States and the rest of the world.

Some critics in Congress and elsewhere have contended the administration's position has been negative.

Eisenhower will send to Congress tomorrow a reorganization plan he said is aimed at strengthening the authority of the secretary of defense in military strategy matters.

Eisenhower said the secretary must wield the decisive influence in over-all planning, supported and advised by the Joint Chiefs of Staff who must run the separate services for him.

A good deal of the questioning at the news conference dealt with whether the United States could have gained if it had labeled the Soviet test ban as just propaganda in advance of the Soviet announcement.

The announcement had been widely forecast.

Eisenhower replied that was considered by this government—along with the possibility of the United States making the first move toward banning tests — but that both proposals were rejected on the ground that the Soviet Union was only seeking to gain from a propaganda standpoint.

Eisenhower was in a cheerful mood at the conference.

Lake Huron Ice Jam Holds Up Freighters

DETROIT (AP) — An ice plug at the foot of Lake Huron is preventing shipping from entering the lake from the St. Clair River and has lowered water in both the river and Lake St. Clair to the south.

The Coast Guard here said the plug at the foot of the lake stretches back 15 miles and stacks up to 20 feet above the lake level in some spots.

The icebreaker Mackinaw has been ordered into the area today and should be able to break up the ice stopper in a couple of days, a Coast Guard spokesman said.

The ice jam has resulted in a low water level and dangerous currents at the head of the St. Clair River, between Port Huron and Sarnia.

'... Breeder of Law Suits'

Right-to-Know Bill Dies

LANSING (AP)—Branded by a former newspaper publisher as "a complete flop," the controversial right-to-know bill was killed for all practical purposes in the House today.

On a 54 - 32 vote, Republican members in the Lower Chamber effectively pigeonholed the bill for the session by sending it back to the House State Affairs Committee.

Rep. Clyde E. Cooper (R-White Cloud), one-time publisher of the weekly White Cloud Eagle, assailed the measure as "a complete flop" and "a breeder of law suits."

It was a far cry from legislation sought by the Michigan Press Assn., he said.

The bill voted out today was a substitute version of a measure approved earlier in the Senate. The original bill was designed to assure public access to meetings of governmental bodies on a state and local level as well as school boards, legislative committees and like groups.

The Michigan Municipal League and others, however, objected that certain business, such as contemplated property purchases, undertaken by local governing bodies might best be kept secret.

The substitute version would have allowed all affected groups to close their doors if they felt the public welfare was involved. It also permitted them to conduct secret executive sessions for any purpose.

Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski (D-Detroit) held Republican backers of the measure responsible for the disagreement that led to eventual rejection by the House.

"I hope the proper party takes responsibility for the right-to-know bill being killed," he said.

2 Former FCC Men to Testify

Windup of Investigation Expected Today; See Much Progress Made

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators called two former Federal Communications Commission members today in what was expected to be the windup of the marathon FCC inquiry.

The witnesses, former FCC Chairman George McConnaughey and Frieda Hennock, were summoned to tell of their contacts with the broadcasting industry the FCC regulates.

McConnaughey is a Republican appointed by President Eisenhower and Miss Hennock a Democrat named by former President Truman.

In previous testimony before the special House subcommittee, present FCC members denied any wrongdoing in connection with allegations of undue fraternization with the industry.

Subcommittee Chairman Harris (D-Ark) expressed hope today's testimony would bring an end to the hearings on the misconduct charges — made earlier this year in a confidential staff memorandum.

The committee met behind closed doors yesterday to discuss an interim report.

"We are getting down to concrete proposals and language . . . and a lot of progress is being made," Harris reported.

"Standards of Living and Family Finance," taught by Dr. Grace Gerard, will also be held on Mondays. It gives a perspective on family economic situations in relation to that of broad economic groups.

Enrollment will be held Wednesday for "Occupational Educational and Social Information". Dr. Willa Norris will instruct the course which concerns guidance programs.

Oakland's Jobless to March on Lansing

AFL and CIO officials expect about 250 jobless Oakland County union members will volunteer to join a state-wide march on Lansing next week to seek unemployment legislation.

Plans for county participation were laid at a combined meeting of the Oakland County CIO Council and the Pontiac-Oakland County Federation of Labor.

State AFL and CIO officials have planned the event for next Tuesday. They have lined up a morning meeting with Gov. Williams and members of the legislature in the Lansing Civic Auditorium.

Oakland County members of the Legislature are expected to confer Tuesday afternoon with their constituents who attend, said Charles Curry, UAW regional education director.

Says Woman Became Alcoholic at Age of 80

NEW YORK (AP)—A woman became an alcoholic after downing her first drink at the age of 80—a group of business men studying the economic impact of alcoholism was told yesterday.

Dr. Harold W. Lovell, a psychiatrist, cited the woman's case as proof that many persons are potential alcoholics.

ARE YOU A UNITARIAN WITHOUT KNOWING IT?

Do you believe the Bible to be an inspiring human document, rather than the literal "word" of God.
Do you believe that there is no such thing as original sin, but that man is able to develop his character and his ethics?
Do you believe Jesus to have been a great religious teacher, rather than a god?
Do you believe that "religious truth" to be acceptable must be in harmony with the truth in every field, science included?
Do you believe in the brotherhood of man, and wish to join with others as they try to break down racial barriers?
If so, you are professing Unitarian beliefs.

HERE'S YOUR CALLING CARD, a 5 by 11 inch metal card with holes punched in it. Its job is to automatically pick the speediest route for your Long Distance call. And it does this with the speed of light. For instance, if you call Atlanta, as soon as the Michigan operator dials the Atlanta number the "Atlanta card" automatically pops into place and a light shining through holes in the card automatically connects your line with wires through Cincinnati to Atlanta. If those lines are busy, it connects with wires running through Chicago to Atlanta—or through New York to Atlanta. When an emergency requires an entirely new routing, someone at the switching center just punches a new card with a different set of holes and—bingo—your call takes the new routing. This saves issuing instructions to many different operators when a route has to be changed. Pretty good example of how Bell scientists try to give you the best and fastest service at low cost, don't you think?

EASTER SUNDAY is one of those days when all of us like to be near our loved ones. But this isn't always possible. The next best thing to being all together is a Long Distance phone call. Your voice over the telephone will be as welcome and cheering as Spring. And it will cost you very little. Places a whole day's drive away can be reached by phone for a dollar or less. The usual low "after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday" rates apply all day Easter. Make a list now of all those you want to phone a "Happy Easter."

Reaching Moon No. 1 Priority

With our three satellites traveling around some place in outer space, we are pretty well fortified in this category for the present.

Following Russia by only a few months has somewhat renewed this country's faith in our Government's scientific achievements. Nevertheless, Russia still had the edge and apparently their satellites are somewhat larger than the type we are using.

Instead of all the controversial reports about the possibility of eventually reaching the moon, it would seem that determined action would best suit our present needs.

Over the weekend two leading authorities predicted the United States could send a rocket to the moon within a year or two. The gentlemen responsible for this statement are Maj. Gen. DONALD N. YATES, commanding general of Cape Canaveral, and Dr. JOHN P. HAGEN, director of the Vanguard satellite program.

Reaching the moon first should be this Government's No. 1 objective.

Our entire missile program should be united with this one assignment: "Reaching the moon first."

Winning this race, if it can be called a race, would do much to help our sagging economy and also reestablish this Government as the leading world power.

Conservatives Sweep Elections in Canada

Prime Minister DIEFENBAKER'S landslide victory in the Canadian elections, the biggest majority in any government since Confederation, ends his restricted position as a result of the June election when his Progressive Conservative party won a plurality but not a working majority.

Perhaps the biggest surprise was the complete overturn of the Liberal Party in the traditionally isolationist Province of Quebec. Unswervingly Liberal since 1896 when Sir WILFRED LAURIER became the first French Canadian Prime Minister, the province went Progressive Conservative by a wide sweep, 50 to 25 seats. In their June defeat after being in power for 22 years, the Liberals were practically a Quebec party with 64 of their 106 members coming from that area.

The Prime Minister was re-elected in his own Saskatchewan constituency as were all his cabinet members in theirs. Of the 265 seats in Parliament the Progressive Conservatives added 97 to their 113, for a grand total of 210. Liberals lost 59 of their 106 seats leaving them with 47. Right wing Social Credit members lost all 19 seats. The Socialist Co-operative Commonwealth Federation made a poor showing, particularly in its birthplace, Saskatchewan, where it had been the dominant party for years. This splinter group lost 17 of its 25 seats.

In his campaign Prime Minister Diefenbaker promised a big public works program to help Canada's 650,000 unemployed; increased trade with Britain to offset the U. S.-Canadian imbalance which amounted to $1.06 billion in 1957, and scaling down taxation.

Taking over leadership of the Liberal Party from St. Laurent only two weeks before the campaign began, the able and well known LESTER B. PEARSON called for a $400 million cut in taxes and increased trade all around. He argued that cuts in trade with the U.S. already had harmed industry. His party, he declared, if elected would press for an immediate ban on nuclear bomb tests.

There are many problems to be settled between our two countries, most of minor importance, but basically it can't make much difference to us which party is in power. Both leaders are excellent representatives of Canada and we congratulate Prime Minister DIEFENBAKER on the overwhelming mandate he has received.

The Man About Town

Railroads, Canals

They Figured Prominently in Early Pontiac Banking

Happiness: What you can multiply by dividing—it with others.

Pontiac's early banking days were unique. Our first bank had a connection with a proposed canal, and the next was part of a concession granted Detroit financiers if they would build a railroad out here.

Both issued money of their own, even to three-dollar bills, one of which is still owned by

of Rochester. The canal never got this far, going flooey with the bank. But the railroad reached here in 1844, and the bank did business until absorbed by others.

"Times surely have changed in my old town," writes of Detroit, who says when he lived in Pontiac 60 years ago most everybody came downtown Saturday nights. He says the men gathered in the old Hodge House bar to hear the latest stories gathered by local traveling men who had been on the road that week. "And," Oscar writes, "I never heard any of those stories repeated in church next day."

I like the theme of Michigan State University's Department of Agricultural Economics:

"Farming Today Tomorrow's Way."

There's a big difference between baseball and advertising. In the former the plan is to but in the latter that's fatal.

"Who'll Be the First to See the Other Side of the Moon?

David Lawrence Says:

Baruch Has Solid Economy Advice

WASHINGTON — Bernard M. Baruch, elder statesman, has no axe to grind. He is retired from any business activity and devotes himself to philanthropic and public-service interests.

LAWRENCE

What he says, therefore, out of an abundance of experience with the ups and downs of the national economy, can be listened to with confidence by all groups —labor, management and political parties.

And "B.M.," as he is familiarly known here, tells the Senate Finance Committee at its hearings that the danger of inflation is greater than the dangers of the present recession.

He deplores the pressure of every economic group for advantages for itself and argues against tax cuts, even hinting that some tax increases might be necessary.

"Each group," he says, "wants to shift the burden of dislocation to someone else. Each wants special consideration, arguing that its wages or prices or profits must be kept up to avoid a depression. . . .

"Nothing is more dangerous than this notion that economic salvation lies through government intercession. Government did not keep us from getting into our present condition. How can we rely upon it to get us out of it? . . .

"A tax cut will increase the deficit, add to the debt, and further weaken the government's credit. To reduce revenues before our defenses are secure and our debt manageable is uneconomic and immoral."

But Mr. Baruch's main fire is directed against the wage-price spiral. He says:

"Nothing would be more effective in turning the tide than to halt the never-ending spiral of wages and prices. The best stimulant to our economy would come from price reductions. The consumer, who has no lobby or bargaining agent, is belatedly rebelling against having every wage and cost increase passed on to him.

"If industry and labor continue to push up wage, price and profit levels, they will price themselves out of the market. Consumer resistance will grow, further depressing economic activity and adding to unemployment. Foreign goods will enter our markets in increasing quantities with unsettling effects on our domestic economy, our tariff policies and our allies and friends."

There is in the Baruch statement a hint about the alternative—namely, wage and price control—as he declares:

"No one is more concerned to see labor preserve its gains than I am. But we must halt the wild, unmerry chase of prices, wages and profits. We prefer not to compel this by legislative fiat or executive order. We rely upon individual action, self-discipline, and enlightened selfishness of labor and industrial leaders.

"If they cannot recognize that self-interest requires concern for the national interest, then they and the nation as a whole will be made to suffer. If they will not adjust voluntarily and in time to the law of supply and demand, the adjustment eventually forced on them will be much more painful.

"It would be an inspiring and salutary thing if the leaders of our great labor unions and businesses would jointly pledge to the President that for one year there will be no increase in wages or prices and that profit margins would at least be frozen."

The alternatives which elder statesman Baruch now presents are unmistakably clear in their warning of the disaster that lies ahead unless the right measures of restraint are applied now.

Few men in Congress, for political reasons, would dare to come out in favor of the advice just given them, but an informed public opinion some day will have to demand what nobody really likes —namely, wage and price controls.

Unless Congress, which is eager to fight "administered prices" by industry, is as ready to do battle against industry-wide bargaining by national unions which set the wage costs and indirectly the prices of the major products in America today, the national economy will hardly wind up the current recession before it runs into an inflationary crisis and crash that may be much worse than anything yet experienced.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Primrose Path to Trouble: Nibbling at Tranquilizers

One of the most affable guys on the bowling green is not concerned about my health. His greeting is "Well, what are you mad at today?"

DR. BRADY

Generally I can list the principal things in a few minutes, but today, I'm pleased to say, I'm not mad at anything or anybody — so far. You see, I'm spending the day gamboling on the green—the bowling green—where one never needs a tranquilizer.

Who's shouting? I merely wish to point out that the use of tranquilizing drugs, now almost as popular as dosing with aspirin and acetanilide, is the primrose path to drug addiction.

I'm sorry about it and disturbed. I worry about the future of America. But I'm not mad.

By skilled promotion the drug manufacturers have persuaded many laymen and some physicians that the so-called tranquilizer, meprobamate (sold under various trade names), is virtually harmless.

That's what the promoters said about the barbiturates (nerve sedative drugs sold under various trade names) when these drugs were introduced to take the place of chloral and the bromides.

From the clinical histories of numerous addicts it seems evident that they began nibbling at one or another tranquilizer, later found they needed a barbiturate and eventually discarded these as inadequate for their needs — heroin proved so much more effective.

Anyone in A-1 nutritional condition and good health feels just fine and dandy and has no need for stimulant, tonic, bracer, nerve steadier or warmer-upper. So, unless he has inherited some mental or character defect, he will never drink — first, because alcohol can do him no good, and second, because it is his duty to abstain, as an example to youth.

There are so few abstainers — from alcohol or anything else — in America today.

The promiscuous use of aspirin (acetyl-salicilic acid) and acetanilide (phenylacetamide) as painkillers or sense-deadeners not only leads to drug addiction but also is a contributing cause of many chronic ailments including heart disease.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Defends, Explains Position of Subscription Television

Free speech is not primarily the right of the publisher to print but the right of the public to read all sides. Readers select the media that present the news. Great press associations and columnists add their expressions.

TV networks, supported entirely by advertisers, have developed a dangerously powerful position. This power is in the hands of two or three men and the networks have life and death power over nearly all TV stations. No such concentration ever existed in the press and Congress didn't intend to give it to the networks.

This year one of the men decided to use that power and Congress was flooded with letters opposing subscription TV. Campaigns can be used to make the public believe almost anything that network chiefs want.

The networks are striving to maintain a most dangerous monopoly over American public opinion. Their broadcasting stations have hammered home the false statement that subscription TV and advertising paid TV cannot exist together. Subscription was never intended to, nor could it, replace advertising sponsored TV.

Networks have been able to sway many members of Congress to oppose even a trial of subscription TV. Their opposition arises from fear of competition. As Thomas Jefferson wrote, "The only security is in a free press. The force of public opinion cannot be resisted when permitted freely to be expressed."

'Inconvenience Is Big Shame'

If all these City Hall employes have fought so many battles for their glorious country, why don't they let Armistice Day fall where it falls and quit trying to remake the calendar?

We didn't declare Independence Day for the benefit of a local union in the Pontiac City Hall; and they didn't arrange to have Christ born in December as a convenient holiday for the "patriots" in the big new marble palace; and the Great World War wasn't ended on Nov. 7 to "balance the holidays" of these staunch flag wavers.

I suppose they should have slaughtered and killed each other for another three months so Armistice Day would have been in February and satisfied the Pontiac City Hall workers. The soldiers were very cruel to work such a holiday hardship on these brave citizens.

Beware of despairing about yourself; you are commanded to put your trust in God, not in yourself.—Saint Augustine.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Here's an Effective Way to Study

Hobart is like millions of students who read and even re-read their textbooks, yet muff many exam questions thereon. So scrapbook this case and send for the booklet named below, for you can raise your school grades and lower your tension before final exams by the practical plan outlined herein. There are scientific methods of studying, so get wise to them early.

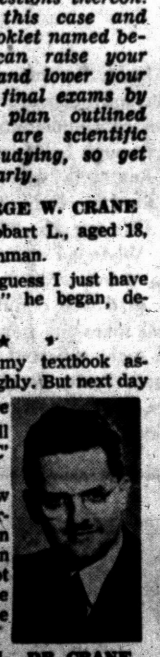

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case X-369: Hobart L., aged 18, is a college freshman.

"Dr. Crane, I guess I just have a poor memory," he began, despairingly.

"For I read my textbook assignments thoroughly. But next day the prof may give us a test and still I make only a 'C' grade.

DR. CRANE

"I think I know the chapter perfectly but when I get quizzed on it, there are a lot of things in the chapter I realize I missed.

"How can a fellow improve his memory and study more efficiently?"

MEMORY IMPROVEMENT

One secret of a good memory is to hook information upon the typical type of questions you may later encounter.

So take the role of the teacher as you actually study your textbook. Imagine you are to give your fellow students a quiz thereon.

With this new attitude, you will then read far more searchingly. And to further dig out the contents of your chapter, make a true-false quiz as you read.

For variation, you can also concoct a four-answer or "multiple choice" exam thereon.

Then you will read with a quizzical frame of mind and pounce on anything that lends itself to a question.

A lot of sentences and even paragraphs in textbooks are simply explanatory and "filler" copy. They don't contain factual statements of the sort out of which questions are composed.

But you don't realize this fact until you try to take the professor's attitude and read with the aim of compiling questions for an exam.

TRUE-FALSE STUDY

You are probably all familiar with the "objective" exams, such as the true-false, the "multiple choice," "matching problems," etc.

Suppose, for example that you are studying your history textbook. Make your true-false questions and, in parentheses, list the exact page where the spacific answer is to be found.

Then, as you make a quick review of the true-false statements, if you are in doubt about one of them, you can quickly turn to the specific page to refresh your memory.

Here's an example of the two types of quiz format:

T F (a) The Mayflower set sail for America with 119 passengers. (P. 187).

The same type of question can be made in the "multiple choice" style by:

The number of passengers on the Mayflower was 102—119—127—145.

You can quickly glean the factual content from a chapter in this manner. Oh, it may irritate you a little to stop at every paragraph to compose a true-false statement that will bring out the data in that paragraph.

Your total reading time may thus be 50 per cent longer than by skimming through the pages, passively absorbing their content.

But once you have finished, you don't need to read the chapter again! Thus, when your pals are cramming for final exams, you can simply run through your own true-false or "multiple choice" quizzes, and in 5 or 10 minutes you will refresh your memory as to the entire chapter's contents.

And in an hour or two you can review an entire college textbook! Then you can go to the movies and relax while your classmates, who used the "passive" type of reading, will groan and drink black coffee and cram till daylight.

Passive readers can read and then re-read the chapter five times and still miss many questions based therein.

But one reading is enough with this "active" type of learning whereby you make a running quiz as you study the book.

Send for my booklet "How to Improve Your Memory and Study Efficiently," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit). It can easily raise your school grades and reduce your fear of exams.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Time Is Ripe for Khrushchev to Produce More Sensations

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)— These next few months are a good time for Nikita Khrushchev—the new one-man boss of the Soviet Union—to produce sensations which might range from space flights to startling maneuvers in world affairs.

The first sensation has already occurred. The Soviet Union announced yesterday — when there was worldwide agitation for such a move—that it would voluntarily ban nuclear weapons tests.

This could have been done last week—there were rumors it was coming — before Khrushchev had been made premier in place of Nikolai Bulganin. The latter had been only a front man for Khrushchev anyway.

That the announcement was delayed until Khrushchev became full boss, in name as well as in fact, would indicate he attached importance to the timing: after he became premier.

Time means a lot to Khrushchev because it's running out on him: he's 64. He has taken on himself, singlehandedly, the future of Soviet communism and the progress of communism everywhere.

Any blame for things gone wrong hereafter will be his alone.

Now sensational Soviet scientific achievements would solidify his position at home—giving him the kind of Soviet devotion and spirit he needs for internal success—and enormously increase his prestige and influence abroad.

Bold diplomatic strokes—particularly in the direction of peace—not only would give communism a terrific and persuasive propaganda value but perhaps throw him into the position of world leadership among men, if not among nations.

At this moment for various reasons the United States, which has leadership of the Western world, at least, is rocking along stodgily and unimaginatively, nursing the status quo, taking one propaganda beating after another from the U.S.S.R.

Stalin, last Soviet one-man boss, had far more time than Khrushchev to rivet down his leadership indisputably. He was 45 when he took over at Lenin's death in 1924.

It took him at least a decade after that — through one-by-one elimination of his rivals and finally through mass purges—to give him the absolute control he wanted to shape the Soviet future.

But Khrushchev several years ago—by his public repudiation of Stalin's bloody tactics—put himself in the position of a man who will have to depend on achievement rather than on bloody violence for success.

So far, he's followed that line. He's eliminated his rivals simply by shoving them into back seats.

If things got tough for him, or if those rivals whom he thrust into the shadows tried to gang up on him, he might feel it necessary to out-Stalin Stalin. There's no reason yet to think he'll try that.

Since therefore, it would seem, he will have to depend on achievement and time is running out on him at his age, it's likely he will try a bold and imaginative road. He's shown plenty of boldness and imagination already.

Straits Bridge Traffic Jumps

May Soar 75 Per Cent Ahead of That Handled by Ferries—Brown

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Mackinac Bridge traffic jumped to 30,500 vehicles and tolls to $126,900 in March, compared with 21,670 vehicles and $96,842 in February.

Ferries, which handled all traffic between Michigan's two peninsulas before the bridge was opened last Nov. 1, carried 22,400 vehicles and collected $98,700 in tolls in March 1957. The traffic increase was 36.2 percentagewise.

In the five months since the 100 million dollar span across the Straits of Mackinac was opened, tolls total $870,164, compared with $666,705 in the same months by ferries a year previous.

Prentiss M. Brown, Mackinac Bridge Authority chairman, said while it still is too early to make accurate forecasts based on the first few months of operations, he feels confident bridge traffic will seem 75 per cent ahead of that handled by ferries in the summer months.

To meet its interest requirements alone, the bridge must show an average monthly increase of 26 per cent in ferry traffic. February, the month of least traffic, was 29.9 up.

November traffic of 104,585 vehicles tops by far that of any other month to date. December was second with 35,933. March was third.

Brown said that commercial vehicle traffic had not kept pace with the increase in passenger cars. He said this probably was due to economic conditions and delay in realignment of routes and schedules.

Clerk Boy Shot Dies; Second Charge Filed

WOODWARD, Okla. (AP) — A clerk who was wounded Sunday when two youngsters riddled a Woodward grocery store with pistol fire died yesterday. Robert Smith, 12, and his brother David, 10, have been accused of the shootings.

A second murder charge was filed against Robert after Adrian Wilson, 22, died in a Woodward hospital. Robert also is charged with murder in the shooting of Wilson's employer Ralph Blair, 49.

A preliminary hearing will be held Friday.

Robert is in jail, David has been sent to a private boys' ranch.

The annual Waterford Township board meeting will be held from 1 to 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the town hall on Highland and Crescent Lake roads, according to supervisor Elmer Johnson.

A resident may make a motion from the floor or air his grievances at this yearly meeting, Johnson explained.

Meader Asks Ike to Urge Dairy Support Reversal

WASHINGTON (AP)— Rep. Meader (R-Mich) has asked President Eisenhower to urge Agriculture Secretary Benson to change his mind about lowering dairy prices supports.

Meader also told Benson he favors keeping only dairy supports at the 1957 level. He referred to a measure vetoed Monday by Eisenhower which would freeze all supports at 1957 levels.

Burned-Out Hulk of Ship Still Afloat

LONDON (AP) — The burned-out hulk of the Norwegian immigrant ship Skaubryn today was reported still afloat in the Indian Ocean off Africa.

The Skaubryn's 1,200 passengers and crew, including 209 children, are being taken to the British Red Sea port of Aden aboard the Italian liner Roma. They are due there tomorrow.

The 9,786-ton ship, en route to Australia with more than 1,000 migrants, burned Monday night after an engineroom explosion. Survivors were picked up by the British freighter City of Sydney, which transferred them to the Roma. There was only one casualty, a German passenger who died of a heart attack.

Airport-Hatchery Corner to Get Blinker Light

Waterford Township police have been notified that a new blinker light will be installed at the intersection of Airport and Hatchery roads, May 1st.

Due to innumerable accidents and heavy traffic flow through the intersections, Oakland County Road Commissioners made a survey and a traffic control order was issued for the flashing beacon installation.

Royal Criticism of Townsend's Visit Denied

LONDON (INS)—A London newspaper quoted a member of the royal household as saying Queen Elizabeth did not criticize Princess Margaret for her teatime reunion last week with Peter Townsend.

The Laborite Daily Herald said: "If the princess wishes to see the group captain again she is at liberty to do so. I think it depends on Townsend's movements. When the queen and the princess met Sunday they talked about the places they had been visiting. But there was no family upset."

Some observers had said the queen was angry with her sister for seeing her old suitor on his return from his trip around the world.

The Daily Sketch said that Margaret will not promise to see Townsend again. Before leaving for Brussels Monday Townsend expressed the firm hope he would be able to see Margaret another time.

Use Coin Flip on Cancer Cure

Doctors Utilize Method to Determine Who Gets Drugs in Surgery

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter

CHICAGO (AP)—The flip of a coin is deciding some cancer patients' chances for longer life.

The coin decides whether they will or won't be given anticancer drugs at the time of cancer surgery. The drugs are aimed at killing escaping cancer cells which could start new cancers elsewhere in the body later.

Doctors and scientists think such use of drugs greatly boosts the chance for cure, for killing all the cancer. The drugs do marvelously well in animals.

But they don't know whether it's wise, or indeed essential, to use the drugs along with surgery in humans.

Human tests are the only way to find out. Some people can be given the drugs, others not.

But who? Deciding each personal case would be like playing God. So the decision is made by flipping a coin. That's actually one of the best ways of statistically choosing a random sample.

Dr. Warren H. Cole, surgeon in chief of the University of Illinois Research and Educational Hospitals, described the cancer experiments today to science writers making an American Cancer Society tour of leading research centers.

The drugs are introduced into the surgical wound and injected by vein at times after the operation.

How well they work may take two more years to learn, but early results "look promising," Dr. Cole said.

Once there is real evidence that the drugs can save lives, they will be given to everyone undergoing most cancer surgery, he said.

Tend to State, Williams Told

Governor Finds Fault With Critical Senator's Public Debt Figures

LANSING (AP) — Once again, Democratic Gov. Williams is in receipt of Republican advice to soft pedal presidential yearnings and devote full time to problems of the state.

Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) said he offered the counsel because the Governor told a Congressional committee on Monday that he did not know the extent of public debt in Michigan.

"That is probably the reason why we find ourselves in the financial chaos we are in," said Geerlings yesterday.

Geerlings said the debt total could be figured at $1,869,508,839, if local government unit borrowings were included, or $669,508,839 without them.

The lower figure, he said, included general obligation bonds issued in the state's name, and borrowings of the state universities, the Mackinac Bridge Authority, the State Office Building Corp., the highway department and local school districts to the extent they have received advances against delinquent state school aid payments.

Road Repair Signs to Replace Red Flags

LANSING (AP) — The familiar red flags used by workmen to direct traffic at highway construction sites will be officially abandoned Thursday, the State Highway Department announced today.

Replacing them will be reversible "stop" and "slow" signs and black and yellow checkered vests to be worn by the sign-carriers. The "stop" sign will be red and white and the "slow" sign yellow and black.

Use of the new equipment has been made mandatory for state highway construction by Highway Department and State Police directives.

One Carpet Salesman Charged in Fraud Case

DETROIT (INS) — One of six carpet salesmen facing charges of a $500 thousand fraud case was to be arraigned today after his surrender at the Wayne County Jail.

Daniel D. Cribbis, 32, of Allen Park, surrendered to the county prosecutor after being informed that he was wanted on the warrant.

Prosecutor Samuel Olsen said Cribbis and five others are charged with running a chain-letter type scheme to defraud at least 23 downriver customers.

Official in GOP Scores Senator

Says McNamara Ran Out by Resigning From Rackets Committee

LANSING (AP) — Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) stood accused today of "walking out on his responsibility to the people of Michigan" in resigning from the Senate Labor Rackets Committee.

John B. Martin, Republican national committeeman from Michigan, fired the charge yesterday. He said the action "raises the question of who owns the Senate seat — the people, or (United Auto Workers President) Walter Reuther."

McNamara, former president of Pipefitters Local 636 in Detroit, quit the committee Monday, saying he could spend his time more profitably on other committees.

The Michigan senator has complained the committee was "rigged against labor" in its investigation of union activities. Martin criticized him as the only committee member to dissent from its annual report signed by all other members, including his fellow Democrats.

Pontiac City Affairs

State's Road Plans Given OK

State Highway Department plans for widening Perry street and resurfacing Opdyke road were approved last night by the City Commission.

Contracts for construction are expected to be signed by the state next month.

The road project was proposed by the state last week to provide construction jobs to relieve unemployment here. Although the widening of Perry street has been planned for several years, it also was seen by the Commission as bringing new money and jobs to Pontiac to counteract present unemployment.

The Perry project will cost approximately $1 million, with the city paying $250,000. The Opdyke cost is estimated at $160,000, with the city paying $20,000.

Involved is the widening of Perry to four lanes from Huron street northeast to Opdyke at the M24 dual highway to Lake Orion. Opdyk will be repaved and widened four feet from Square Lake road to Walton boulevard.

The city's funds will be taken out of its state gasoline and weight tax distribution.

Objections raised during public hearings on 11 other improvements last night caused some switches in planning.

Commissioners dropped plans to install curbs and gutters on that portion of Adelaide street that lies west of Baldwin and was once known as Adelaide court because it is narrower than the rest of the street.

They approved improving the rest to Oakland Avenue.

A hearing on curbs and gutters on W. New York avenue from Baldwin to Walton was continued for three weeks to allow residents time to circulate new petitions for and against the project.

Commissioners made this decision after affected property owners at last night's hearing seemed evenly split on whether the project should be included in this year's improvement program.

Three other curb and gutter projects were approved. They are on Harriett street, Cadillac to Adelaide; LeGrande avenue, Baldwin to Euclid; and Gladstone place, Cooper to Edison.

Special assessment rolls were accepted for seven other curb and gutter projects, including:

Ann Arbor avenue, Carlisle to Stanley; Cornell avenue, Baldwin to Carlisle; Euclid avenue, from High street east about two blocks; Kinney road, Oakland to Stanley; Stanley avenue, Kinney to Kennett; Wyoming avenue, Bagley to Franklin road and Pensacola avenue, Oakland to Monticello.

Freak Road Accident Causes Woman's Death

NILES (INS) — A freak highway accident killed Mrs. Frank L. Kolbe, 33, of Indianapolis, Ind., yesterday west of Niles.

Police said a 15-foot steel grain auger fell from a truck, crashed through the windshield of her car and pierced the woman's heart.

Four children riding with Mrs. Kolbe when the farm tool fell off the truck were not hurt.

Price of New Cars Probe May Spread

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury investigation into the pricing of new automobiles in the Washington area may be followed by similar inquiries in other parts of the country, Asst. Atty. Gen. Victor R. Hansen said today.

"The dealer pricing plan, employing what is known in the trade as 'the price pack,' seems to follow a pattern in several areas," Hansen said.

Hansen, who heads the Justice Department's antitrust division, disclosed that a broad investigation into dealer auto prices on the West Coast has been under way for some time. He said also that his division is looking into pricing practices elsewhere, but did not pinpoint areas.

The Washington investigation is the first to move into the grand jury stage. Hansen said use of a grand jury will make it possible to subpoena business records which might not otherwise be available for FBI inspection.

Pilate Warned of Terror

"for I have suffered much over Him today in a dream." She folded it, and sent a servant with it to Pilate.

It was all she could do.

But she knew Pilate, knew his vain temporizing, his expedient grasping to preserve his power, his brutality. He would stamp his seal on the grim verdict: Crucify the Christ.

As recorded in the ancient Acts of Pilate, presumably taken later from his report in the archives of Rome, Claudia that day "neither ate nor drank," and for a long time, was "exceedingly grieved."

Her husband remarked sardonically to some priests, "You know my wife is a worshiper of God."

Parke, Davis Profits Soar

Firm Looks Forward to Greater Earnings During This Year

DETROIT (INS)—Parke, Davis & Co. President Harry J. Loynd has predicted the firm's earnings and sales this year will be greater than record-breaking 1957.

Loynd told a stockholders meeting—largest in the pharmaceutical company's 92-year history—that earnings are expected to jump 10 per cent and sales eight per cent in 1958.

He said earnings went up 25 per cent and sales 12 per cent in the first three months of this year.

Loynd said Parke-Davis is putting increased emphasis on research with the new laboratories at Ann Arbor scheduled to cost $12.5 million and be completed by early 1960.

The P-D president also announced the government has given the company a $350,000 contract for additional cancer research.

Discussing capital investments of Parke-Davis, Loynd said the firm is spending about $44 million throughout the world in the next five years.

All nine directors were re-elected at the meeting, at which 3,749,264 shares of common stock were represented either in person or by proxy.

Harlow H. Curtice Says:

Traffic Toll Could Be Cut in Half

CHICAGO, Ill. — The nation's highway traffic toll could be cut in half within a relatively short time if present knowledge of highway safety problems were effectively applied on a nationwide basis, Harlow H. Curtice, chairman of the President's Committee for Traffic Safety, declared today.

Curtice, who is president of General Motors, addressed more than 1,000 delegates attending a 14-state Citizen Leadership Conference sponsored by the President's Committee for Traffic Safety. Purpose of the conference is to mobilize public support for high priority safety measures.

"Certainly we don't know everything we should know about the causes and prevention of traffic accidents," Curtice said. "An intensified research program is urgently needed — with special emphasis on driver behavior. But we know enough right now to be able to cut the accident toll in half within a relatively short time."

"Our fundamental problem," he declared, "is not ignorance of what to do. It is failure to get it done on a sustained, nationwide basis. We should concentrate more intensively on putting our knowledge to work instead of casting about for revolutionary new approaches in the mistaken belief that present measures are futile."

Public opinion is on the side of traffic safety, Curtice emphasized. "To make it a more meaningful force, we should stop deploring the myth of 'public indifference' and concentrate our efforts on translating widespread individual concern into constructive united action."

By such action, he said, "I do not mean a 'vigilante committee' approach. The only 'do it yourself' responsibility of the individual citizen is to be a careful driver and pedestrian himself. We should leave the technical phase of traffic safety to public officials. Our role as private citizens in relation to this official function is to encourage and support its effective performance."

This can be done best, Curtice declared, through the medium of broadly-representative and well-directed community safety organizations. They provide a "rallying point" and furnish leadership and coordination for community effort.

He cited Chicago as an example of the effectiveness of community safety organizations. Since Chicago's Citizen's Traffic Safety Board was formed in 1952 traffic fatalities have dropped 30 per cent.

"This is a dramatic demonstration of how much can be achieved by a sound official program which has vigorous, organized public support," he said. "It is reinforced by the experience of many other cities and states which have pursued a similar course."

Curtice urged delegates attending the conference to "do all in your power to respond to the President's appeal for civic leadership" in the field of traffic safety so that organized public support 'may become the real force for progress that it can and must be."

Rebel Sympathizers on Hunger Strike

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Ten Cuban rebel sympathizers continued a hunger strike today. Twenty-two others were out in bond after an anti-Batista demonstration at a Miami railroad station.

The hunger strikers are encamped in the lobby of television station WTVJ. The management said they may stay as long as they are orderly.

Two of them fainted last night, a station spokesman said, but appeared to recover satisfactorily. He did not know their names.

The hunger strike will continue, the Cubans said, until 36 other rebel supporters are released from jail at Brownsville, Tex., where they are held on charges of arms-running. The Texas group also is on a hunger strike.

At Brownsville, Tex., 22 Cuban rebel sympathizers neared the end of a week of hunger striking at the county jail, and 14 others were being fed intravenously at a hospital.

Union Action Report Bill Heads for Vote

LANSING (AP) — Withstanding strong Democratic attack, a bill to open nearly every phase of union activity to public inspection headed for a showdown vote in the House today.

Republicans united yesterday in fighting off Democratic efforts to bring all organizations, including business corporations, under the same law.

As approved by the Senate, the measure would compel all local and international unions to file detailed reports with the State Labor Mediation Board listing such facts as:

Bob Burns' Daughter Returns to Jail

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The 20-year-old daughter of Bob Burns, the late bazooka-playing comedian was back in jail today.

Barbara Ann Burns was arrested yesterday — the second time since Sunday — on suspicion of violating the federal law requiring narcotic addicts to register on crossing the U.S. borders.

She had been arrested on the same charge Sunday when she returned from a visit to Tijuana, Mexico, and was released Monday on her pledged bond of $1,000.

Miss Burns denied she is now an addict. She said she had been cured in January after treatment in a sanitarium.

A hearing before U.S. Commissioner Betty Marshall Graydon on the latest charge is scheduled today.

Miss Burns told a reporter that her second arrest was "all a mistake."

"I registered at the border this time," she said. "I just registered at the wrong place."

The customs agent who made both arrests said he was unable to find any evidence she had registered.

No Choice in Shoes for Japan's Women

TOKYO — Women's shoes in Japan come in only one size and with no left or right. The traditional geta, a clog-type shoe, is worn in no other country. It consists of an oblong piece of wood raised on a crosswise support with a thong passing between the big toe and the second toe.

Getas vary in height, with cleats from 1½ to 2½ inches. A 4-inch sole is worn at festivals. But the getas are all 8½ inches long; they were increased to that not long ago — women's feet are becoming larger in Japan.

State Questions Madison Heights Bond Plan

Sewer Financing Snags

Application from Madison Heights for permission to borrow $1,500,000 for financing of storm sewers was held up yesterday by the State Municipal Finance Commission in Lansing.

Two Oakland County area school received approval along with those of 18 other school districts for borrowings totaling $819,400.

Bond issues approved were those of the Mariette Community School, $29,000, and the Brandon Township School District, $45,000.

The commission tabled two Madison Heights bond issues in order to determine whether $10,000 included for attorney's fees in the court battle over the city's attempt to withdraw from the Twelve-Towns Drain should be allowed.

"We question the propriety of these fees," said Edward B. Mikrut, commission secretary.

The commission reported that some 400 requests for borrowing applications have been received from school districts and that some 70 applications actually have been filed.

"This is only the beginning though," Mikrut said. "We expect to be swamped with school requests before the end of the month."

The influx started after it was announced that the state would be unable to meet the school aid advance generally paid on March 15. The state aid payment has been postponed until sometime in May because of the cash shortage in the state treasury.

Student Driver Education Aids Adult Motorists

EAST LANSING (AP)—Driver education in Michigan high schools is paying an unexpected dividend in also making better drivers of adult drivers.

The report was made by William A. Mann, associate professor of teacher education and also a member of the Highway Traffic Safety Center at Michigan State University.

In a study of relationships between parents and their teenage children, Mann found a majority of the parents take an active interest in how and what their children are learning in driver education courses.

About 50 per cent of the parents said their own driving had been affected by the course work. Many indicate the courses made them realize they needed to be better models when it came to driving.

Others said they hadn't realized they had acquired bad driving habits until their children pointed out faults.

Mann reported the parents had only one recurring complaint.

"Have the driver education teachers coach the youngsters to be more tactful when criticizing their parent's driving," they asked.

Ocean Depths May Be Last Hiding Place

Submarines' Importance Rising Fast in Naval Planning

By EVERETT S. ALLEN
New Bedford Standard-Times
Written for The AP

If there's a hiding place anywhere in the nuclear and rocket age, its in the ocean depths.

Because of this fact, the importance of the submarine in naval planning has risen as steeply as that of the battleship, onetime ruler of the seas, has declined.

The National Academy of Sciences sponsored an intensive summer study group at Falmouth, Mass., in 1956, dealing with the sea and national security.

The military aspects of the ocean were thought to present a situation sufficiently serious so that 60 to 80 very important people gave up their summer to think about it.

What did they talk about?

Here are some good bets:

The true submarine presumably is just around the corner. To date, the sub has been merely a surface ship that could submerge, but as it advances in technique, it will go deeper—as much as 2½ miles—and stay down longer. Even now, some nuclear-powered subs stay under water for two weeks.

U.S. subs, therefore, must learn to navigate for great stretches without surfacing; their navigators must have knowledge of all dimensions of the ocean, including the underwater reaches.

The Navy has long had surface charts of the sea. What it needs for the future are charts of the ocean bottom and how the waters of the seas circulate.

GATHERING DATA

U.S. oceanographers are already engaged on the task of gathering this information. At intervals of roughly 80 miles, their little ships make five-hour stops to take soundings, check temperatures, salt content, currents, bottom sediment.

If submarines want to remain undetected, they must cut down on the noise they make.

Submerged, the submarine uses its electronic and mechanical "ears" to check the target's course and speed. The data it obtains by such listening governs the torpedo settings.

This dependence on acoustics also offers a remarkable defensive possibility, one about which experts speak only in careful generalities.

USE SOUND WAVES?

This is to fill stretches of the ocean with sound waves—just as broadcasts can be jammed now—and so plug the hostile sub's electronic ears.

Development of such measures are for the future. Meantime, it will take some 10 years of hard work before the United States can be sure it has gained clear and overwhelming technical superiority over the Soviet Union's existing fleet of some 460 submarines.

To help in that crucial struggle for undersea superiority, some top scientists say, the United States should be making four times the effort it is now making in marine science—presently the concern of only a few hundred persons in America.

The federal government last year spent on oceanography the equivalent of the cost of four miles of highway—and there's every reason to think that this effort is being dwarfed by the Soviet Union.

Tomorrow: Power from the sea.

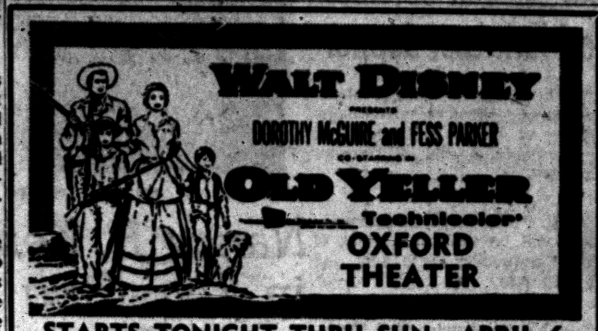

Cushing, Okla., is the point of greatest concentration of oil pipe lines in thee United States.

Safety Patrol Boy Cited as Hero by Auto Club

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Norman Wohlfield, 13, a school safety patrolman in suburban Roseville, has been cited for heroism by the Automobile Club of Michigan.

A club spokesman said the youth, a seventh grader at Sacred Heart School, saved Linda Garner, 7, from being struck by a car by pulling her from its path Nov. 19.

Norman was given a gold medal and will represent the club at a three-day national safety patrol rally in Washington in May.

Suspended Student Punches Teacher

NEW YORK (AP) — Curtis Tait, a 17-year-old suspended pupil, returned to Samuel Gompers Vocational High School in the Bronx yesterday and punched a teacher in the eye, police said.

The teacher, Frank Keegan, 52, told police he was struck after ordering Tait to leave his auto mechanics class. The teacher said Tait had disrupted the class by shining his shoes with a school towel and engaging other pupils in conversation.

Keegan and another student seized Tait and held him for police.

Tait was arrested on an assault charge and held in $1,000 bail for trial.

He was suspended last week for allegedly tampering with lockers in the school building. He was ordered to report daily to the school pending a hearing. Tait is Negro, Keegan white.

Bob Considine Says:

Ton of Mail Follows Appearance on TV

NEW YORK (INS) — People . . . places . . . things . . .

Jan Mitchell, the elegant restaurateur who owns Luchow's, received an even ton of nice mail after his appearance on Ed Murrow's Person to Person. People like food and find restaurant-keeping engrossing.

Philip Liebmann, chairman of the advertising and public relations committee of the United States Brewers Foundation, wrote:

"This fine nationwide image, not only of what the restaurant is but of your personality and your beautiful home, can only be a priceless association for our industry and our product which should be deeply appreciated by all of us."

Mitchell is campaigning for a revolution in traditional sit-down dinners. He says:

"Try something besides the southern fried chicken or roast beef bit. Stir up interest with a seafood gumbo, turtle soup or cauliflower gumbo, for example. For a main course, thin-sliced filet of beef with green peppers is delicious. Veal knuckle with vegetable sour cream sauce is different, tasty, easily prepared and inexpensive. For dessert, try a fruit whip or raspberry pudding instead of the usual pie. Dessert should be light and easily digested, as should be the entire meal.

Remember that people should be fed satisfactorily but with the idea in mind that the evening is still young after dinner. People should be fit to enjoy an evening of dancing or whatever else might be planned. Let's quit drugging conversation, a precious art our heavy meal is smothering."

Stop ringing them bells, Pavlov!

Raymond Loewy, who designed almost every functional object we use except the egg, pleaded with our space people to answer the Sputnik challenge by launching a little U.S. moon that would ". . . serve as a message of amity to whomever else may inhabit our universe, and a shiny reminder of this attitude to ourselves." An obscure technician on the Vanguard project made the wish come true. He lashed a St. Christopher medal to the little ball that now buzzes around the globe.

Lo, the poor farmer. Last year the government-paid Garvey Farms of Colby, Kans., $278,000 for not raising wheat. Harris Ranches of Sahuarita, Ariz., was given $209,000 for not raising cotton. Sixty-seven farms drew checks of more than $50,000 for not doing this or that. What am I offered for not writing?

Fish should be strung through the point of the lower lip only, not through both.

Junior Editors Quiz on NATURE

QUESTION: Is coal vegetable or mineral?

ANSWER: Coal is a mineral. But it came from a vegetable. It happened this way: More than 200 million years ago much of the world's land area was swampy. The air was damp and steamy. The vegetation consisted of trees and huge ferns. As these trees and ferns and other vegetation died, they fell into the swamp water. Other trees and ferns grew. And these died, too. This process was repeated for thousands of years. In time, the rotted vegetables—the trees and ferns—turned into a peat. This is a substance which looks like tightly packed rotted wood. Still later, wide areas of the earth's surface sank. The oceans poured over it, bringing mud and sand which covered the peat. The pressure of the water squeezed the brown peat and gradually turned it into coal. The greater this pressure was, the better the coal that was formed. Eventually, the seas receded and the coal waited far beneath the ground to be discovered. The plants that formed coal took the carbon necessary for their growth from sunlight. For this reason, coal is sometimes called "buried sunshine." The Chinese are believed to have used coal 1,100 years before the birth of Christ. The mineral was discovered in North America in 1679.

FOR YOU TO DO: Coal looks black and smooth. But when it is examined under a microscope, a piece of coal appears brown and gold in color and the markings of plants and ferns can be seen. If you have a microscope, place a bit of coal on the slide and examine it. If you don't have one, your school will have.

Advancing Home Warning CD Device

It will take "six to eight months" more to finish testing a home warning civil defense device that Pontiac officials are especially interested in.

So said the Midwest Research Institute in Kansas City, which has been assigned by the federal government to test the so-called NEAR (National Emergency Alarm Repeater) system.

In response to a query from Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and deputy Pontiac civil defense director, the institute said research was still in its early stages.

Under the NEAR plan, individual homes would be equipped with a disaster signal that could be sounded from one central location.

Pontiac, which helped prompt NEAR research and volunteered last summer to act as a test city, will seek state and national clarification on how great the scope of the system should be, if it is found to be workable, said Stierer.

"We want to know how great an area the central alert point should serve," he said. "The NEAR system could operate locally and independent of other large cities. Or it could operate on a state or national basis."

The institute said its field tests so far involved systems that could serve areas of about 100,000 population. The tests are being conducted in western Michigan.

Homes would be hooked up to the NEAR system by means of alarms operating from ordinary electrical outlets.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FUNNY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ...and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Nikita Permits Bulganin to Keep Banker's Hours

MOSCOW (AP)—The extent of former Premier Nikolai Bulganin's downgrading was demonstrated graphically today when Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, listed the members of the new Council of Ministers.

Bulganin, now chairman of the Soviet State Bank, was 44th among the 60 members.

Morning newspapers were more than doubled in size to accommodate reports from the Supreme Soviet and individual photographs of Premier Nikita Khrushchev and all other members of the new government.

The papers did not mention the U.S.-British-French notes proposing that diplomatic exchanges begin in Moscow this month to plan for a summit conference.

European Flight Prices Slashed

New Economy Class of Travel Inaugurated on 'Sandwich Specials'

NEW YORK (INS) — The "Sandwich Specials" began flying out of Idlewild International Airport yesterday with full loads, Europe-bound.

It was the day the new economy class service, minus hot meals and alcoholic drinks — as low as $454 round-trip New York-London — began on the trans-Atlantic airlines.

Persons with round-trip economy tickets to London rode $113 more cheaply than tourist, hitherto the least expensive way. First class to London and back is $783.

Inauguration of the third, economy class of air travel culminated a 15-year fight by Juan Trippe, president of Pan American World Airways, who, since 1943, has argued the wisdom of flying "the average man at what he can afford to pay."

Trans World Airlines, the other big U.S. carrier on the Atlantic, reported its kitchens had turned out a mountain of 1,500 sandwiches to start off the day. TWA is listing 38 economy flights weekly.

Pan Am DC-7Cs are carrying 104 pessengers on the Sandwich Specials, 76 tourist and 56 first class. When its 707 jetliners start flying this fall, they'll load 165 economy class passengers, 122 tourist and 86 first class.

A Gallup survey recently asked people what one section or feature of their daily newspaper they found most useful. Advertising headed the list.

She Still Leads Full, Active Life

Famed Novelist Urges Cancer Victims to Consult Physicians Without Delay

(The story of cancer is too often told solely in terms of the lives it claims. Those who have suffered from cancer and been cured — because the disease was detected in time — have dramatic and instructive stories to tell.)

By MARY ROBERTS RINEHART
For International News

I had cancer. I discovered its presence early. I was completely cured of it. And I have never made the slightest secret of it.

It was a warm bright afternoon when cancer struck. Or rather when I discovered that it had struck, for the initial invasion of cancer is silent, painless, unwarning; that is the treachery and cruelty of this inscrutable disease.

It hits anyone, anywhere, at any time. The fat and the slender; the strong and the sickly; the woman who overworks and the woman who doesn't work at all.

If ever a woman seemed secure from illness that warm bright afternoon in 1936, it was I. I was enjoying the day at my favorite sport, fishing, when I felt a nagging pain. And Then I discovered the lump in my breast.

It was still tiny and that was lucky. But my recovery did not depend on luck; I acted without delay.

Buy the time cancer hit me I had lived nearly three-quarters of a life crammed with activities. None of them was curtailed in the quarter-life that followed by encounter with cancer.

At seventeen I began training as a nurse, only because I was too young to enroll in a medical college. Before I finished there was no phase of human life and suffering which I had not touched.

The hospital years also gave me my beloved husband, Dr. Stanley Rinehart. We had our three sons before I was 25.

All this was enough to fill a woman's life. It is true that I'd had an early yearning to write, but I doubt if I would have done anything about it had my contented housewife's routine not been shattered by an unforseen event: The Stock Market crashed and left us heavily in debt.

I met this crisis as any woman would. I did all the work in our large house, cared for my three small children and took calls for my doctor husband. But I knew this exhausting effort was only a short-range solution. So late at night, when chores were done, I began to write. I used a card table as a desk.

And my very first short story sold — for $34!

With the publication of my novel, "The Circular Staircase," I felt I had made a good start as a professional writer.

But let us make no mistake about it, the experience of cancer was an emergency for which I had to gather all my forces.

The operation took place in the spring of 1936. For a while it impaired the mobility of my left arm. Then I was able to brush my hair. Finally, I regained total use of my arm.

By the autumn of 1936 I began a new mystery novel, "The Wall." The next year I went to England for the coronation of George VI.

The operation really changed nothing in my active life. I swam, fished, played golf, and worked as hard as ever. Compared with other experiences, my cancer operation was not the worst experience I've had.

Certainly it was the most crucial and challenging. I have had cancer and lived to talk about it for 22 of the best years of my life!

So don't wait. Don't hesitate. Don't be afraid or ashamed or overoptimistic. For those are the attitudes that cost lives. There is nothing to fear about most common cancers. Nothing except delay.

Water shortage is a major problem in the U.S., says Henry J. Vaux, dean of the School of Forestry, University of California. Increasing use of water in industry and agriculture causes the dilemma.

Pontiac Press Photos

Photographed with a 17th Century cupboard, hand-made of walnut and curly maple, which was purchased at a Pontiac antique show, is Mrs. John Keller of Davisburg road. She is holding a piece of her Rosenthal china collection, San Souci pattern, originally designed for Peter the Great of Russia. Such fine antiques will be found at the sixth annual Antique Show and Sale at All Saints Episcopal Church April 8, 9 and 10.

Franklin Crawford of Commerce road is seated at his desk, handmade from the wood of one large black cherry tree. Franklin's parents, the Franklin G. Crawfords, are avid antique collectors and fond of pieces with a local history. This desk was made to order about 80 years ago for William Beatty, who lived on a farm on Voorheis road.

Antiques of All Kinds Will Fill Church Gym

By opening hour, 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, Stevens Hall gymnasium, All Saints Episcopal Church, will be crowded with hundreds of antiques of all kinds for that popular present-day bazaar and fair known as an antique show.

Here the fine cabinet work of a substantial Chippendale or Queen Anne piece, delicate Hepplewhite, or graceful Sheraton, will vie for attention with country-made hutch tables, cupboards, dry sinks and decorated Pennsylvania Dutch pieces.

Some will have satiny refinish, many will show proud distress marks, others boast of the original varnish, paint or gilt.

COLORED GLASS

Here the soft glow of colored glass in shades of red, green, blue, amethyst and amber will rival the beauty of precious jewelry, also shown.

There will be pattern glass, too, and art glass and milk glass.

Dishes of all kinds, utilitarian stoneware, earthenware, woodenware and pewter in the shape of mugs, plates, platters and bowls, will be offered, along with delicate but enduring porcelains. The list of finer ceramic pieces is long and includes Wedgewood, Leeds, Newhall, Lowestoft, Rockingham, Staffordshire, Havilland and Sevres.

There will be frames and old mirrors, prints and oils. One dealer from Ann Arbor, a new exhibitor to the Pontiac show, will have an extensive collection of hand-colored prints and a few old gold coins.

OTHER COLLECTIONS

There will be candle-holders, lamps and sconces, iron, brass, silver and tinware.

Among the collections will be 18th Century Dutch cookie boards, early silhouettes, tobacco jars, fairy lamps.

The all-out antique lovers who tolerate nothing but authentic pieces in an all-antique house, those who combine heirloom pieces with reproductions, and those who have discovered the value of antique accessories in an otherwise modern decor, all will find something of interest.

Those who would not give houseroom to an antique will find fun in the quaint relics, pleasure in durable beauty and an education in the styles and kinds of household treasures of the past.

Herbert Martin, Pontiac's blind chair caner, will be there with examples of his craft.

HAND-WOVEN ITEMS

A large collection of hand-woven articles will be offered by members of the Michigan Weavers' Guild and the Detroit Weavers' Guild.

Tea will be available on the balcony overlooking the show and luncheon may be obtained in the newly decorated auditorium upstairs.

The three-day show is sponsored this year by the Women's Auxiliary of the church, with Mrs. Robert Tricker as general chairman. Doors will open at 11 a.m. and close at 10 p.m. daily.

Sitting beneath one of her prized possessions, a hand-colored lithograph found at a Pontiac antique show, is Mrs. Theodore Pauli of Illinois avenue. Mrs. Pauli is fond of the baby ducks, and the soft colors in the picture complement her green and brown living room.

Women's Section

Prepare for 'April in Paris'

April is to be a busy month at Forest Lake Country Club. On April 19, members will find the clubhouse decorated with an "April in Paris" look.

Strolling artists, famous paintings and decorated cafe tables will be on the scene. Dress-up is optional but French costumes will be seen on many Forest Lakers.

In charge of the party are the Eino Nurmes. They will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dittrich, Mr. and Mrs. John Hern and Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Suhr.

"A Bouquet of Fashions" will be the theme for a monthly event. Mrs. W. M. George is chairman of the April 23 luncheon and fashion show. Fashions will be modeled by club members.

Round Table Hears About Life in Japan

Mrs. Robert C. Buehrig of Clarkston spoke of her life in Japan and showed her own watercolors to members of Round Table Club Tuesday in the Elizabeth Lake road home of Mrs. Elmer Reynolds.

The speaker explained native "ikebana", Japanese for floral arrangements.

Hostesses for the Tuesday event were Mrs. George Cram, Mrs. Paul Kantz, Mrs. Clay Murphey, Mrs. Clyde Nelsey and Mrs. D. R. Lazelle.

Mrs. William Gordon gave a report of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs conference which was held in Ann Arbor.

Personal News of Area

Beulah Moore of Dayton, Ohio, is spending a week in the city as the houseguest of the Ray E. Taylors of Neome drive. She will return to Dayton on Easter. Upon her arrival in Pontiac, Miss Moore was entertained by friends at a cooperative dinner in the Taylor home.

Weekend dinner guests of the Paul Hagles of Middlebelt road were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wolfin of Saline.

On Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Hagle's son, Paul, will arrive from the University of Michigan where he is a sophomore. He will be accompanied by his roommate, Richard Almy. The two will leave Sunday for the East where Paul will be interviewed for a summer position doing laboratory work in the field of chemistry.

To travel to Akron, Ohio, this weekend are Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Haushalter of Scott Lake road who will visit his sister, Mrs. Claude Frederick.

From there the Haushalters will go to Girard, Ohio, to spend Easter with their son-in-law, daughter and granddaughters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Ague, Elizabeth Ann and Barbara Jo.

Carolyn Leacher has received her cap at ceremonies conducted at Harper Hospital School of Nursing. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Leacher of Murphy avenue.

On Thursday, the Taylor University Varsity Quartet will appear at the Perry Park Baptist Church. The public has been invited to attend the service, which will feature messages brought by the students as well as singing.

Receiving congratulations on the birth of a daughter, Cynthia Melanie, March 25 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital are Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Perry of Birmingham.

Maternal grandmother is Mrs. Helen Jay of Detroit. Paternal grandparents are the Stanley Perrys of Detroit.

Rehearsing for St. Dunstan Guild production of "Come Back, Little Sheba" are Mrs. Robert Raich, a veteran of many guild plays, and Jerry Newman, who is making his first appearance with the group. The show, which opens April 11 for a two-week-end run at Cranbrook Pavilion, will be open to the public. Performances begin at 9 p.m.

May Tea to Be Held by Branch

Plans were discussed Tuesday morning in the North Lake Angelus road home of Mrs. Louis Golden for a May 28 tea to be given by Lake Angelus Branch of Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

Mrs. Peter J. Dunn is chairman for the tea, which will be held from 3 until 8 p.m.

Interested men as well as women will be taken on a garden tour of the former Fisher estate, now owned by the Jack Rothbergs. Emphasis will be on the Oriental gardens and spring gardens.

Mrs. Robert Lake reported on the state council meeting.

Dear Abby....

Don't Hint Around—Speak Up!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My brother-in-law has owed me $500 for six years. Since that time he has traded two cars and now he's starting to build a house. This burns me up and my wife doesn't quit nagging about it. Should I remind him with a good strong hint that he owes me? OWED

ABBY

DEAR OWED: People don't "forget" a debt of $500. A hint won't do it — tell him in plain words that you'd like him to start paying off. He didn't "hint" when he borrowed it.

DEAR ABBY: So . . . "A Wife Who Knows" thinks all we secretaries have to do all day is make whoopee with their husbands? We may arrive at the office looking glamorous, but after a hectic day of catering to the boss' whims, putting up with his childish tantrums, placating all the people he's insulted to make him look like a god to his clients, we don't care how we look!

As for that vodka bottle in the bottom drawer . . . I wish I had one. I'd like to break it over my boss' fat head and give HIM away.

A SECRETARY WHO KNOWS BETTER

DEAR ABBY: My brother was married for three years to a woman who was no good. He divorced her in a scandalous court fight (she contested it) when he had pictures to prove she had cavorted all the way with six different men.

My brother never remarried after that because he lost faith in women. He passed away a single man. Now his ex-wife is calling herself a WIDOW instead of a divorcee. How can we stop her? HIS SISTER

DEAR SISTER: You can't stop her from calling herself whatever she wishes, but I imagine those who know her are still calling her by the name she earned.

DEAR ABBY: I am on the verge of a nervous breakdown because my husband (age 46) refuses to go to night school although he can't read, write, count or even understand the calendar.

He thinks because he makes a good salary he doesn't have to know these things but everybody is robbing him blind because of his ignorance. He says he is too old to learn and would rather watch Westerns on TV than go to night school. What can I do with this stubborn mule? DISCOURAGED

DEAR DISCOURAGED: He is NOT too old to learn, but if he thinks he is and is too lazy to try, then let him suffer the consequences.

Nut Sticks Baked in Big Sheet

Mrs. Newman Cuts Cookies Into Bars After Short Cooling

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Break out some of the pecans you have stored in the freezer or refrigerator and make a batch of Pecan Sticks. These little bar cookies are delicious with a fruit or ice cream dessert.

Mrs. Ward Newman, today's cook, says cookie baking is one of her hobbies. She shares the enthusiasm of the whole family for model trains. A social club and card club are also on her list of favorite activities.

PECAN STICKS
By Mrs. Ward S. Newman, Jr.

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sifted cake flour
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
½ cup pecans, chopped

Cream together butter or margarine, sugar and eggs. Beat well. Add vanilla, then dry ingredients sifted together. Mix well, add chopped nuts.

Spread batter in a greased cookie sheet. Bake 25 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Remove from oven, let cool 5 minutes, then cut into sticks.

You Need Varied Hues in Wardrobe

Don't Be Color Sissy—Experiment

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Experimentation with color can take years off a woman's age and will also add much pleasure to the selection and use of her wardrobe.

Women are apt to be color sissies. Many women feel that they can wear only one or two colors. Of course it is true that there is usually one which is especially flattering to each woman but most women can wear many colors or a variation of many.

For instance, there are many different children in the brown family: Dark brown, warm light brown, beige, tan, mustard and rust. Some of these may not suit you but one or more may be most flattering.

There is a terrific range in the blues and reds and grays. The yellows range all the way from the very soft yellows to orange.

Black is universally chic but many authorities (and many psychologists) feel that women wear too much of it. Unless black is worn with a flair or is dramatized, it is likely to be nondescript or aging.

LOOK OLDER

The dark shades make you look older because they grow shadows on your face while the lighter ones (especially white) reflect the light in a flattering way, decreasing shadows and minimizing lines. To prove this to yourself, put on a black dress. Stand in front of a mirror. Now hold a white towel up in front of you and notice the difference.

Don't get into a rut with black, brown and blue! You need variety. A change makes you feel younger and actually can be relaxing or stimulating. Perhaps you need a blue dress to be relaxed in, a red one in which to be gay, a black one to feel sophisticated in, a gray one for calm days and a purple one to be sad in.

There is usually one color which is especially flattering to a woman, but most women can wear many colors or a variation of many.

Most of us cannot take it that far but I do feel that color has a real influence on our moods. The impact of color is such a well recognized fact that it is used in the decor of hospitals and schools.

Have fun with color in your wardrobe! It makes you more interesting to your friends not to be typed in their minds so that they see red, green, blue or black when they think of you.

Use Paper When Sewing If Material Is Balky

DALLAS (INS) — Keep some paper handy in your sewing kit and see how it can help you with the fine and bulky pieces under the machine needle.

Chiffons, satins, jerseys, acetates and the like are downright contrary about being gathered or stitched sometimes, but a piece of paper will tame them.

Slip strips of paper under the material, using it as a stay, and when the stitching or gathering is finished — rip the paper off.

Any kind of paper will do, but some about the weight of ordinary brown wrapping paper is best.

Some dressmakers keep a roll of one or two inch paper handy and they use it with any fabric which displays a tendency to slip or stretch.

When monogramming or embroidering with your machine, instead of transferring the design to the fabric, pin the design paper on the material you want to decorate and stitch

This is especially good when monogramming terrycloth because it holds the little loops down and doesn't give the finished work a frayed look.

When the stitching is finished, tear off the paper — the part that is left under the stitching helps give the embroidery a padded look.

PTA Sponsors Adult Program

A six-week adult recreation program has been organized by the Herrington School PTA and the faculty.

General supervisor of the program is Harry Avesian, who is with the school's physical education department, assisted by George Beauchamp, PTA recreation chairman.

The Parks and Recreation Department will give assistance to the program when needed.

MR. and MRS. GORDON J. FORTON

Alice E. Behnke and Gordon J. Forton were married Saturday evening. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Elton D. Behnke of Joslyn avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edith Forton of Mount Clemens.

Alice E. Behnke Marries in Oakland Park Service

Oakland Park Methodist Church was the scene of a Saturday evening ceremony uniting Alice E. Behnke and Gordon J. Forton in marriage. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. James W. Deeg in the presence of 150 guests.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Elton D. Behnke of Joslyn avenue. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Edith Forton of Mount Clemens.

The bride approached the altar wearing a gown of silk peau de soie accented by a chapel train and Alencon lace trim outlined in pearls and sequins. Her veil of imported silk tulle was secured by a tiny lace cap outlined with seed pearls. A white orchid and hyacinths composed her bridal bouquet, and she carried a white Testament.

As her sister's matron of honor Mrs. Richard Bucksar of South Lyon was gowned in a shaded green nylon chiffon frock and carried pink carnations and hyacinths. Bridesmaids Mrs. Harold Perry, sister of the bride, and Rita Ziegler of Utica wore gowns identical to the matron of honor's, with pink carnations and hyacinths also composing their bouquets.

Frank Biessel of Port Huron served as best man. The guests were seated by William Biessel and Floyd Bobcean, both of Mount Clemens.

At a reception held in the church parlors Mrs. Behnke wore an embroidered navy crepe creation with navy and white accessories and a pink corsage. Mrs. Forton chose a slate blue ensemble with navy accessories and a red and white corsage.

Before leaving on a trip to Washington, D.C., the new Mrs. Forton changed to a French blue suit with navy accessories. The couple will reside in Utica.

Bride-Elect Entertained at Shower

Also included were Mrs. Thomas Dodson, Mrs. Donald Brooks, Janet Mercier, Joyce Campbell, Mrs. Violet Murphy, Mrs. Charles Redmon, Mrs. L. G. Mathews, Mrs. Alfred Sandberg and Mrs. Robert Gierman.

Dody, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brantley of Pine Grove avenue, will become the bride of William Lehman, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Lehman of Williams drive, on May 3 in St. Benedict Church.

Shared Interests Add Zest to Married Life

By RUTH MILLETT

"I've been taking bridge lessons because my husband promised me if I would learn to play a good game of bridge he would learn to dance.

"A month ago he admitted I was pretty good and signed up for dancing lessons."

The middle-aged woman who told me that added: "The funny thing is I now love to play bridge and my husband is as proud as can be of learning to dance. It's a pity we didn't make our bargain years ago."

There's an obvious moral to that story. In fact there are two morals.

The first is that when a wife decides to find out why her husband is so fascinated by a hobby, she usually ends up as fascinated by it as he is. The same goes for a husband. The willingness to learn pays off in a new interest.

The other is that for a couple to be really companionable, both should make some effort to learn to enjoy the things the other finds fascinating.

It isn't enough for a wife to learn to share her husband's interests. Their companionship is much closer if he also learns to share some of her interests, too.

So if your huband thinks he doesn't like to dance, and you love to dance, but wonder how in the world he can spend a day sitting in a boat fishing, why not make a bargain?

You'll try fishing, if he'll try dancing. You'll have more fun as a couple if you at least try to share each other's interests. And you'll stay young longer, too.

Controlled derriere in very snug corseting should go with the long-line cardigan, co-ordinating with the chemise dress.

The bloused-back elongated bulky-cocoon cardigan with deep arm eye to accommodate any type of dress sleeve coordinates with the chemise dress. The easiness is an illusion since it is snug, even taut across the derriere.

Why Label Unusual Behavior 'Neurotic'?

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A mother writes: "Our 10-year-old girl has a new teacher who is always criticizing her. From what other mothers tell me, their youngsters dislike the woman, too. But she doesn't seem to upset them as she does my child. Is she neurotic? Sometimes she cries before going to school."

Why do you think of your child as "neurotic?"

It is laziness in us that applies such a psychological term to a child's problem. Using the term enables us to avoid struggling with the problem ourselves by making it into a big scientific mystery we can't be expected to understand or help.

I see no mystery in this little girl's resistance to school. Would her mother enjoy working for a boss who pounced on her? Of course not. Then why doesn't her child's dislike of a pouncing authority appear natural to her?

Certainly the youngster must continue to go to school in order to discover that she can survive an unpleasant experience.

WE ADD FEAR

But when we see her natural dislike of it as unnatural and "neurotic," we add fear of being queer to her fear of the teacher. And this makes fear of the teacher much, much harder to endure.

I feel I really must speak out against this modern habit of damning other people with psychological labels.

We're supposed to be enlightened people. We think we have progressed far beyond the old religious fanatics who predestined others to hell without hope of salvation. I think we haven't.

Today, instead of damning sinners to eternal flames, we damn to psychological suffering anyone who strikes us as being more sad, more angry, more scared than we think he ought to be. We call him "neurotic" or "fixated" or "compulsive."

This habit has been adopted by parents. Where the old Calvinist parent meekly submitted to the idea that hell was yawning for his innocent child, we meekly accept the idea that anything unusual in a child's behavior is "neurotic."

Of this submissiveness, psychoanalyst Erich Fromm writes: "In the old days the individual at least knew that there was some person or doctrine that condemned him — and he could at least fight back. But who can fight against 'science'?"

He calls such submissiveness "dangerous."

Blouse-Skirt Costumes Look Smart Anywhere

American girls can go around the world in blouses and skirts — and look at home in any capital.

It's a talent developed in the U.S.A. — this ability to mix and match tops and skirts to produce costumes in any degree of formality, suitable for any climate.

And whether it's Paris or Rio, Tokyo or Calcutta, you can always tell an American girl by her casual, well - groomed look, her easy air of being correctly and comfortably dressed, her skill in accessorizing the simplest shirt-and-skirt outfits with the right touch of color, the correct handbag, the imaginative scarf.

This year blouses come in an endless range of colors, styles and fabrics, to enable smart separates fans to assemble their favorite wardrobes. Overblouses are popular in the new chemise silhouette, and may be teamed with a coordinated skirt to look like a dress.

New wash - and - wear fabrics make life easy for the blouse fancier, too. For she can dunk out her blouses at night and wear them again in the morning without the touch of an iron.

That's one reason American girls can travel light and always look bandbox-fresh.

Untactful to Return Pastries

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Last Sunday we had a man and his wife in to dinner. They brought along a large box of French pastry which I served for dessert, although I had prepared a dessert of my own.

"As there was quite a lot of pastry left over and my husband and I seldom eat dessert, I put it back in the box and asked her to please take it home with her as it would only go to waste here. My husband was mortified and said that I was very unappreciative. Will you please tell me if I was wrong in doing what I did?"

Answer: I'm sorry but I have to agree with your husband that the explanation you gave was very tactless. If only you had urged her to "share" what was left, you could have given her most of it, and at the same time have been appreciative of her gift.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A discussion came up in our office the other day as to how long an expectant mother may go to business. I mean from the point of view of good taste and not from a medical standpoint."

Answer: It depends entirely upon the type of office in which she works. If it is a very small office and her employer has no objection she may work for so long as she feels able, or her doctor thinks it advisable. If it is a large office, or if she comes in contact with the public, then she should leave as soon as her condition becomes obvious.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have just become engaged and would like to send an announcement to the newspaper, but am puzzled as to the correct way this should be done as both my parents are deceased. Will you please help me?"

Answer: If you have neither grandmother nor aunt to announce it for you, it could be announced impersonally this way: "The engagement of Miss Louise Jones, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Jones, is announced to Mr. Henry Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Brown."

It Doesn't Cost Anything to Accept Gifts Warmly

The repercussions from a simple gesture like giving a gift can be terrific. Most people like to look a gift horse hard in the face. A verbal or written thank you is in order for any gift, welcome or unwelcome.

Gifts fall into many categories: (1) The true giver who means it, (2) one who gives because it is expected, (3) one who gives to pave the friendship path, (4) one who feels the gift is required.

NEED NOT ACCEPT

You do not need to accept a gift from one. But you do have to acknowledge it with thanks and assume the gesture was sincere, even if you return it.

Some gift recipients, even in our own families, are likely to bring out the worst in us (and you may be one). These are the types:

1. One who looks crestfallen after opening the gift, tries to be brave about it all, fighting back the tears.

2. Gushy Gertie whose effusiveness over a little present makes you want to say, "Aw, turn off the oil."

3. The type who rushes right off to the store to exchange anything for new color, different style. They believe they have better taste than anyone.

4. The cruelly critical type who says, "What's this supposed to be, anyway?"

5. The sister who says plaintively, "Mary was the one who wanted this."

THE SPOILED TYPE

6. The spoiled type who says, "Couldn't you get the watch with diamonds?"

7. The outright-disappointed-don't-care-who-knows-it type. "I'm never going to say what I want for Christmas again. Nobody pays any attention to it."

8. The I-like-this-but type who squelches with: "You should have seen the ski suit Joan is getting from her parents."

9. The jolly girl who laughs hysterically saying, "Ho, ho, here's a scarf again, I'll bet," before she even opens the box.

THE LITTLE MARTYR

10. The little martyr who has spent a year's allowance on everyone's gifts, who sits quietly estimating that she has been far too generous for what she got back.

If one of these types fits your own personality, sit down and write letters to all who gift you, telling them how much you are enjoying your gift, and how much you appreciate their efforts in picking just that for you.

It doesn't cost anything to be appreciative of another's attempts to please you.

And if you think you can reform people by putting them in their place in a situation of this sort, you are mistaken—it never works.

What Did He Say?

Tourists Wonder in Senate

WASHINGTON (INS) — Tourists to Washington—and the tourist season is now at its height—"must wonder what goes on" when they watch the U.S. Senate in action.

That is the conclusion of one of its own members, Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wisc). He took the Senate floor yesterday to turn to the packed galleries and emote:

"The people in the galleries must wonder what is going on. They can't hear what is being said here on the floor. I've tried several times to have a loudspeaker system installed but nothing has ever been done."

Wiley then explained in a voice that came out loud and clear:

"We have just finished the morning hour when the senators insert speeches, articles and other information in the Congressional Record. Anything from soup to nuts can go into the records—and it does."

Capitol guides who escort visitors said Wiley has touched on one of the two big complaints uttered by tourists. The other complaint heard most frequently, they said, is the fact that only a few senators are normally on the floor at the same time.

At one point yesterday, there were only one Republican and two Democrats in the chamber. Many tourists who had traveled thousands of miles in hopes they would catch a glimpse of such Senate stalwarts as Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas and Minority Leader William F. Knowland of California were disappointed. And frequently, Vice President Richard Nixon is absent from the presiding chair.

Guides meet tourists' complaints by pointing to a passage in an official pamphlet on the Senate. The passage, printed in bold-faced type, says:

"Note—Senators not present in the Senate Chamber may be found at committee meetings, at hearings, in their offices, or elsewhere on official business."

Rock 'n' Roll Diet Blamed for Teen Ills

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—"A rock 'n' roll diet is making an under-nourished race out of millions of teen-agers," says the president of the New Jersey Farm Bureau.

Herbert W. Voorhees told a Rotary Club meeting that soda pop, "hot dogs and soggy potato chips continue to be the favorite luncheon among millions of high school crowd."

Voorhees, a member of President Eisenhower's Citizens Advisory Committee on the Fitness of American Youth, added:

"It's no wonder we find our boys making poor showings in physical exams for Army service and scores of our teen-age mothers seriously affected with childbirth complications because of malnutrition."

Tranquilizers' Boon Ousts Cowboy's Tune

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — They used to use a singing cowboy to settle down nervous cattle. Now they use tranquilizers.

More than 200 cattlemen gathered at Texas Tech College here today to hear the results of Tech's feeding experiments.

Dr. Wise Burrough of Iowa State University said new tranquilizer drugs are being administered to cattle to calm them down and help them gain weight.

Little Town Grabs Big City's Airport

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The town of Berkeley (Pop. 5,000) voted to grab the St. Louis Municipal Airport right from under the big city's nose yesterday.

Mayor Raymond Tucker of St. Louis called the move "nothing but bold tax grab" and said this city would take the matter to the Supreme Court if necessary.

Berkeley voters cast 1,933 votes to annex the 1,400-acre airport property and 333 against the proposition.

A Berkeley official estimated in a report to the City Council that the town's tax rate could be cut by one-half by the annexation.

The airport was in an unincorporated area.

Entire Police Force Runs for Chief's Job

BROOKFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Brookfield's entire 6-man police force ran for the chief's job in a special municipal election yesterday.

Olin Gates, who was chief from 1948 through 1956, was elected t the $3,000 a year post with 1,157 inished third with 229 votes.

The special election resulted from a change from city manager to mayor-council government.

Chief Clark had said there really wasn't any dissension.

"We just all want to e chiefb," he explained.

44 Families in Texas Receive Welfare Food

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Representatives of 44 families received free food from the Harris County Welfare Department yesterday.

It was the first free distribution of food to "employable jobless" since the Depression.

County officials said they expected to continue giving out ood at least through April.

Thomas F. Booker, welfare director, said most of those receiving food get unemployment compensation but have been certified as needing additional aid.

Dulles Concedes 3 Important Victories

Reds Beating U.S. at Propaganda

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the testimony of Secretary of State Dulles the United States is taking a propaganda beating from the Soviet Union.

Three times in three months Dulles has conceded important victories to what he calls the cleverness and unscrupulousness with which the Soviets peddle abroad policies that the United States considers unsound.

The latest such admission came at a news conference when Dulles said that the Soviet announcement of suspension of nuclear tests had won "a certain propaganda victory" which the United States had known about in advance but been unable to offset.

Other instances came last March 4, concerning the Soviet drive for a quick summit conference, and last Jan. 10 on the general subject of disarmament.

Some officials at lower levels of government say privately the administration needs to be more aggressive in propaganda. Dulles has given no indication of any new steps to meet the Soviet challenge in that field.

Some informed officials feel the problem is beyond the powers of the U. S. Information Agency to deal with. USIA is primarily concerned with such things as running the Voice of Amreica and overseas information libraries rather than making high-level policy.

Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn) told the Senate most Americans have no appreciation "of the scope of the Soviet victory" in announcing suspension of nuclear tests.

Humphrey charged that "the United States stands before the world without leadership and without a spokesman."

Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) replied with a statement upholding the administration's decision on nuclear tests.

Dulles disclosed that top officials had met with President Eisenhower within the last 10 days and considered whether it would be wise to "try to steal a march on the Soviets by ourselves announcing a suspension of testing at least for a time."

The decision was that the government's responsibilities to the American people and "perhaps to humanity" to keep this country strong and well armed would not permit such a step "merely for propaganda advantage."

"We deliberately accepted this propaganda thrust," Dulles said, "knowing we were going to have to take it, rather than do something which we felt was basically unsound."

The United States has countered with two lines of argument:

1. The Soviets, having just concluded along series of tests, have no reason for more now. But even so, they left themselves free to resume tests after the first U.S. test blast possibly later this month.

2. Continued U. S. testing is necessary to develop smaller and cleaner nuclear weapons and perhaps defenses against intercontinental missiles, because there is no disarmament agreement.

Officials are not sure that either of these arguments will really get across to the millions of people in Europe and Asia who may be worried about the health hazards of continued testing.

Apartment Manager Robbed, Kidnaped

DETROIT (INS) — An armed man and woman robbed and kidnaped the manager of a Detroit apartment house yesterday and left the victim's wife and two small boys bound in their apartment.

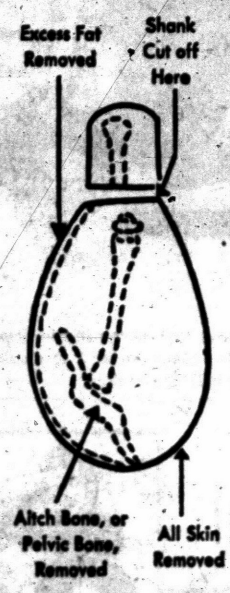

Fuson Miller, 31, was released a short time after the bandits robbed him of $405. They ignored $570 in checks.

The woman had told Mrs. Geneva Miller, 33, she wanted to enter one of the apartments to work. The man then appeared and ordered Mrs. Miller to take him and the woman to her apartment.

The pair bound the woman and her children, Donald, 11, and Frankie, 9, and then forced Mr. Miller to enter a cab they had called.

GOING NOWHERE — Montreal goalie Jacques Plante keeps a wary eye on the high-flying disc fired by Detroit Red Wing Nick Mickoski in a first period unsuccessful try for the net. The Canadiens overcame a 3-1 Detroit lead in the final period to win the game and series at the Olympia, 4-3. It was a clean sweep of four games for Montreal.

Rocket Performs Hat Trick in 4-3 Win at Detroit

Wings Waste 3-1 Lead as Canadiens Advance to Cup Finals

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — Ageless Maurice (Rocket) Richard and his Montreal teammates sent the Detroit Red Wings into early retirement here Tuesday night in the annual Stanley Cup playoffs.

The Rocket, now nearing the end of his 16th season in the National Hockey League, performed the "hat trick" as the Canadiens rallied in the 3rd period to hand the Redshirts a 4-3 setback before 13,732 spectators at Olympia Stadium.

Playing in his 1,000th NHL game, Richard scored two of his three goals in the final stanza as Montreal wiped out a 3-1 deficit to eliminate the Detroiters in four straight outings in their best-of-seven semifinal series.

New York gave the Bruins a 6-2 pasting last night at Boston Garden to even their series at two games apiece. The winner of that fond clashes with Montreal for the coveted Stanley Cup.

Montreal's victory yesterday squared an old score as far as the Flying Frenchmen were concerned. Six years ago the Red Wings dealt the Canadiens four straight losses to win the Cup. Now the Canadiens have returned the compliment in this year's semis.

The Redshirts played their greatest hockey of the season in the 2nd period to forge into a 3-1 advantage on goals by Jack McIntyre, Gordie Howe, and Billy McNeill.

Following a scoreless 1st period, the Wings had Montreal goalie Jacques Plante under continual fire in the middle stanza. Plante was forced to make 15 saves and he was fortunate that only three shots slipped by him.

But an old Montreal device — the power play — took command in the 3rd session as the Canadiens capitalized on two Detroit penalties to tie the score. The Rocket did the rest with everybody at full strength.

Richard cut Detroit's lead to 3-2 at the four-minute mark with a quick tap-in during a wild, goal - mouth scramble while McNeill was serving an interference penalty. Only two seconds remained in McNeil's penalty when the Rocket clicked.

Montreal evened the count at 9:07 when Dickie Moore rifled a hard one past goalie Terry Sawchuk at close range. Rookie Pete Goegan was in the penalty box for tripping when it happened.

Then the Rocket took charge again. He received a perfect pass from his little brother, Henri (Pocket Rocket), and swiped a backhand drive into the cage at 9:56 while Sawchuk was helplessly out of position.

McIntyre's goal came after a crisp, accurate pass from Howe to give the Wings a 1-0 lead. Richard's first marker of the night tied the score, then Howe flipped in a rebound for his first goal in the playoffs and McNeill drilled home another rebound to hand the Redshirts their 3-1 edge.

Referee Red Story assessed 11 penalties, seven against the Canadiens.

PARTY AT THE NET — Happy Montreal Canadiens have an ice party at the net with goalie Jacques Plante as the center of attention after they won the fourth straight game against the Detroit Red Wings in the Cup playoffs last night, 4-3. Henri Richard is number 16 and in the rear is Doug Harvey.

Errors Pave Way for A's to Win

Tigers Fumble It Away, 4-1

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — When the Detroit Tigers lost 15 of 23 Grapefruit League games a year ago, there was a bit of comfort when someone noted that "well, we'll never be that bad again."

Which just goes to show how wrong one can be.

The Tigers are every bit that bad — worse, in fact, now that they have won only 6 of 20 exhibition games.

Possibly more disturbing even than the rapidly mounting number of losses is the great length to which the ball club goes to lose games.

Take yesterday's game at West Palm Beach against the Kansas City Athletics, for example. The Tigers outhit the A's 6-5, but outfumbled them 2 to 0. Those two Detroit errors came in the fifth inning after southpaw Bill Hoeft, apparently recovered completely from a sore arm, had pitched four faultless innings.

The Tigers did practically everything to assure the A's of a sweep of the two-game series. After Vic Power singled leading off, third baseman Reno Bertoia threw low on a grounder. Ex-Tiger Bill Tuttle singled across the first run, Harry Chiti singled across another and then Milt Graff bounced a base hit off Bertoia's chest for still another run.

Hoeft gave the Athletics their final run when he threw the ball away on an attempted pickoff play.

Those four runs carried the Athletics to a 4-1 decision. Little Jack Urban restricted the Bengals to four hits over eight innings before Tom Gorman yielded a run in the ninth.

It arrived when Al Kaline beat out a hit to shortstop, took second on a wild pitch and scored on Ray Boone's single to right. Detroit had runners at first and third with no one out and one run across — but Bertoia, Tim Thompson and Bill Taylor all went out to prevent further damage and preserve the Kansas City triumph.

Outside of the four hits in the fifth inning, the A's had only one other hit, Chiti's seventh-inning single. But the Tigers never mustered even a mild threat until the ninth against Gorman.

Bob Shaw allowed one hit in the last two innings for Detroit and assured himself of a spot on the Tiger roster.

Bruton, Crandall Still Ailing

Braves' Disability List Mounts

BRADENTON, Fla. (INS)—Today is getaway day at the Milwaukee Braves' Bradenton training camp but all is not well with the defending world champions.

What was described as a sell kept secret has caused manager Fred Haney much worry.

Del Crandall, number one catcher, has been complaining of an ailing left elbow all spring. Crandall just revealed that he had the injury all last season.

Crandall currently is undergoing treatment from a Sarasota, Fla., specialist, Dr. Michael Di Cosolo. Di Cosolo also is working on center fielder Billy Bruton's injured left knee.

Bruton will be put on the disabled list to make room for another outfielder.

Haney has discounted reports that Crandall would have to undergo surgery for his elbow. Haney said "Crandall hasn't complained to me." He added:

"He had it examined in December and was told there was nothing basically wrong. It was examined the other day but I haven't been told yet he would have to have an operation."

The catcher has not caught a game since March 17 nor has he taken a turn at bat. His batting average is only .100. The Braves, however, are well stocked with catchers—Del Rice, Carl Sawatski and bonus baby Bob Taylor.

Crandall is quite hopeful that recent treatment will make surgery unnecessary.

His ailment has been diagnosed by Dr. Di Cosolo as bone roughness. Crandall said "it's something like a bone spur, only the injury is too small to be called a spur." The Braves catcher said he has been taking heat treatment which amounts to an electric

Crandall explained that "if the treatment doesn't work, it means one thing—an incision has to be made and the bone scraped."

This, however, is a last resort.

Should Have Voice in Own Event

Snead OKs May's Move

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Sam Snead, a representative of pro golf's old guard, can find several things to criticize about the current circuit setup. But George May's decision to call off the Tam O'Shanter tournaments because of a dispute with the PGA about entry fees isn't one of them.

"When a man puts up that much money he ought to be allowed to have something to say about his own tournament," Snead commented last night.

May cancelled the two Tam tournaments because he felt retaining entry fees was essential for him to conduct them. The newly adopted PGA policy calls for such fees to be turned over to the PGA in lieu of certain fees previously paid by the sponsors. The only exceptions are certain invitation tournaments which charge no entry fees.

"Personally I never liked to play in the tournament because there were too many people—pros, amateurs, women," Snead commented. "But May is partly responsible for tournament prizes being what they are now.

"The man who won Tam was the big money winner of the year. Maybe that wasn't quite fair," Snead added. "If you put a lot of stock in money winning, the fellow who played four good rounds there was the big man. The ones who had the low scores and was in the money week after week didn't get any credit for it."

Steve Brooks Is 7th Rider to Win 3,000

HALLANDALE, Fla. (INS) — Veteran jockey Steve Brooks is the seventh rider in racing history to ride 3,000 winners.

He gained that distinction yesterday at Gulfstream Park when he won on Tempest Tossed in the third race.

Brooks, 37, of McCook, Neb., who began riding 17 years ago at Shreveport, La., joins these riding greats—Johnny Longden, Eddie Arcaro, Ted Atkinson, John Adams, Ralph Neves and Willie Shoemaker—in the exclusive "3,000 Club."

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(Eighteen of a series)

CASEY STENGEL

By BEN OLAN

Casey Stengel has guided the New York Yankees to eight American League pennants and six World Championships. He is the oldest big league manager and, in the opinion of many experts, also the best.

Let's see how your managerial IQ compares with Stengel's. In the following situation Casey's strategy paid off. What move would you have called for?

The Yankees lead the Chicago White Sox 3-2 in the last of the eighth at Chicago. Bobby Shantz (L) is on the mound for New York. Nellie Fox and Minnie Minoso, the first two batters, are retired on a fly ball and grounder, respectively. But Sherman Lollar follows with a double off the left field wall. Walt Dropo (R) is the next batter with Larry Doby (L) and switch hitter Dave Philley to follow.

Would you:

a. Let Shantz pitch to Dropo?

b. Have Shantz walk Dropo intentionally?

c. Bring in a righthander to pitch to Dropo?

(Other data: Shantz has given up 8 hits in 7⅔ innings; Dropo has one hit in three tries in the game and is batting .250 (21-for-84) for the season; Doby is 1-for-3 in the game and an overall mark of .254.)

Result: C — Bob Grim, a right-hander, replaces Shantz and he retires Dropo on a fly to right fielder Hank Bauer. Grim holds the Whites to one hit thru nine and the Yanks win 3-2 (June 11).

Season Leaders Gain Cage Playoff Finals

Drayton Drug and White Swan moved into the championship round of the Waterford Recreation League basketball playoffs with one-sided victories in last night's playoff openers at Crary gym.

Mel Karrigan netted 17 points and Harry Dearborn bagged 16 as the Swan quintet belted Johnson & Anderson, 56-37. Bill Pfahlert had 12 for J&A.

John Collins meshed 23 points to lead the Druggist to a 77-58 rout of Ryeson's Super Market. Cecil Dumbrigue took scoring honors in defeat with 24.

Drayton and Swan will clash for the title in the single elimination playoffs Thursday night at 8 o'clock on the Crary court. The two teams ended the regular season schedule in a 1st place tie.

Celts, Hawks NBA Series Heats Up

Resume Rivalry Tonight

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The favored Boston Celtics and fired-up St. Louis Hawks, even after two games, resume their rivalry tonight in the third game of the National Basketball Assn. championship series.

Both coaches expressed confidence in ultimate victory in the best-of-seven series.

And indications were that the St. Louis-Boston rivalry may grow hotter than ever in the next two games, scheduled for 9:30 p.m. EST tonight and Saturday night.

Tonight's game will be on closed-circuit television in the 3,500-seat Kiel Opera House adjoining Kiel auditorium. The closed circuit TV, set up after both games were sold out, is said by the Hawks to be the first such basketball telecast.

If the defending champion Celtics lost any confidence in a 104-102 defeat by St. Louis in the opener at Boston, they regained it with a smashing 136-112 victory in the second game Sunday.

Red Auerbach, Celtic coach, predicted after the second game his club would come on strongly the rest of the series.

Alex Hannum, Hawks coach, said he was "particularly glad to be even with a Celtic team. Boston owner Walter Brown said was as strong in the stronger Eastern Division as the Hawks were weak in the weak Western Division."

A slow burn has been developing for months in the Hawk camp over belittling remarks attributed to Brown. The Boston owner repeated the Eastern - Western theme on television after the first game Saturday.

Eaglets Lose Meet but Set Shot Mark

Tuesday, April 1, was a real fooler for St. Mary (OL) prep thinclads. Eaglets, whose final team cut was made Sunday, dropped their 1958 opening dual test to Detroit DeLaSalle, 72-37, on the Polish lads' own field. Next meet is a triangular April 16, at Orchard Lake, with Mt. Clemens St. Mary and Oak Park High.

Eaglets collected four firsts, LaSalle nine. But one of the Eaglet winners was Joe Waluk, who tossed the shot 50 feet 11 inches to break his own 1957 mark of 49 feet 3¾ inches. Andy Zandrzycki (co-captain) won the 440 (55.8) and co-captain Chet Rock won the pole vault at 9-6. Andy and Bill Votruba tied for first in the high jump at 5-2.

DeLaSalle winners were: Jim Moran, both dashes (100 at 10.8, 220 at 23.5) and broad jump at 19-4; both relays (medley at 2:47.2 sprint 1:39.7); 70-yard high sticks, Mike Larsen (:09.65); 120-yard lows, Bill Conway (14.7); mile, Bob Biolchini (4:56) and half mile, Jim Allen (2:10.4).

Seeks Young Players

Young ball players are sought for Griff's Grill club of the city Class A Baseball league. Manager Ray White requests that any boys interested in trying out for the team contact him at OLive 2-5304.

YMCA's Norvell Sets 5 Marks, Unbeaten in '58

One of the area's brightest athletic marks has been set by a 14-year-old YMCA swimmer, who has hung up five records in an unbeaten year that produced 12 first placces in as many meets with the Pontiac Red Triangle juniors squad.

Bruce Norvell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Norvell, is now looking ahead to Pontiac High and a bigger field in his specialty, the orthodox breaststroke. Bruce was unbeaten in the event in which he set pool records here (against Saginaw 'Y"), against Detroit (at Detroit), at Bay City, and in the recent Northeast District meet at Flint. He also equalled the state "Y" record for the event at Flint in a semifinal and in the final set a new mark of 33.9. His final win was the state YMCA junior title at Saginaw, last weekend.

From The PRESS BOX

Paul Goldsmith of St. Clair Shores, who won the 160-mile NASCAR Grand National auto race last Feb. 23, is entered in this year's 500-mile Memorial Day classic at Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Goldsmith will drive the "City of Daytona," a car entered by Smokey Yunick of Daytona Beach, Fla.

Bob Cousy of the Boston Celtics, all-time professional basketball great, has been named to the NBA all-star team for the 7th consecutive year. George Yardley of Detroit, Bob Pettit of St. Louis, Dolph Schayes of Syracuse and Boston's Bill Sharman complete the honor quintet.

Baseball has been dropped as a spring sport by St. Michael High largely due to a lack of interest. Coach Bob Mingweaser can now concentrate on track with a big 10-meet schedule coming up. He may also get an informal golf group going later.

Avondale athletic director Frank Crowell has his hands full these days trying to get his spring sports teams organized. He has not been able to arrange a golf schedule yet due to not having a playing site and track plans have been delayed because no coach has been named to replace Dick Bye.

The Dodgers' move west not only cost Brooklyn a ball club but also resulted in clown Emmett Kelly losing his job. The LA Coliseum is considered too spacious for a clown act.

Dave Randall (Clarkston), Lee Folsom (Walled Lake) and Jack Hayes (Farmington) are new golf coaches in the area. Art Paddy (West Bloomfield) and Bill Golden (Milford) will debut in track.

Fred Rotsel, a "regular" on the Florida winter vacation circuit, is not enjoying his golf in the sunshine state" as much as usual, he notes in a card to Chet Reynolds, one of his Pontiac golfing partners. "Courses are a mess here (St. Petersburg). Never get a chance to dry out . . . lots of rain. Have seen the Tigers play three times — can't see any improvement."

Tigers Have 'Recession'

Ducats for Opener Remain

The Tigers' poor spring showing plus the business recession has hit hard at Briggs Stadium opening day sales. Ticket director Billy Loll says about 31,000 box seats and reserved seats have been sold. Remaining to be sold are 4,000 seats.

Generally by this time all available seats are gone with the exception of general admission seats which are put up for grabs the day of the game. Last year opening day was an early sellout—but a week before the game the announcement came that the opener would be televised.

Then came about 9,000 ticket refunds.

"We're not hearing from the little guy," Loll said yesterday. "The fellow who usually wants two or four tickets just isn't buying now. Of course, business is bad, but I think the sales would perk up if the club were doing better down south."

On the whole, the club is approximately $44,000 ahead in ticket sales—including season sales, of course. Loll said the club hopes to have between $650,000 and $700,000 in the till before the home campaign opens April 18.

Ford Regains Golf Touch for Masters

Defending King Thinks He Can Win Title Again

Doug Points to Venturi and Snead as Leading Tourney Threats

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—"If I had to pick a man to win the Masters this week-end," said Doug Ford, "I would say myself.

"I feel just like I did a year ago. I feel my game is jelling at exacty the right time."

Although no man has ever repeated in the famous Masters golf tournament, opening Thursday, supreme confidence marks the rugged, moon-faced pro from Mahopac, N. Y., as he prepares for defense of his crown against the world's greatest shotmakers.

Ford is a man of moods and a spurter. When he is rolling—his game clicking and his spirits high—he is an almost unbeatable antagonist on the golf course. Fellow pros rate him the toughest battler in the game.

"I had a miserable winter tour," Ford added. "I couldn't putt. But at San Antonio I felt my touch getting back and at Baton Rouge and New Orleans I knew I was getting back in the groove. Now I feel great.

"If I continue playing the way I am, I feel sure I can win again."

Far back in the field at San Antonio and Houston—22nd and 29th, respectively—the husky New York professional finished eighth at Baton Rouge, fifth at New Orleans and won at Pensacola with a 53-foot putt from the fringe of the green.

Analyzing his opposition, Ford shows the most concern over Sam Snead and the redhot youngster, Ken Venturi.

"If I had to name a man other than myself it would have to be Snead," Ford said. "A darkhorse? I like Dow Finsterwald. He's a fine young golfer, just waiting for a break.

"Venturi, Finsterwald and Arnold Palmer are the youngsters who have to be watched. You can never discount Snead. But I still feel good about my chances."

Venturi, only player to win three tournaments this year, had a practice 67 over the 6,850-yard, par 72 Augusta National course yesterday and said, "I'm playing so well it scares me. I'm afraid I can't keep it up."

Bruce Crampton, the good-looking Australian, shot a 68 and Snead fired 69, a score shared by amateur Bill Hyndman of Philadelphia. Lloyd Mangrum also broke par with a 70.

The two Japanese stars, Torakichi Nakamura and Koichi Ono, tailed off a bit with a 72 and 74, respectively, but they won a best ball match from U. S. Walker Cup stars Billy Joe Patton and Charles Coe.

Ben Hogan trudged in with a 75.

20,000 See Featherweight Title Bout

Bassey Kayos Mexican 'Bird'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—World featherweight champion Hogan "Kid" Bassey played an April Fool's Day joke on his ring counselors—but they liked it just fine today.

"We told him to box—so he knocks the chap out early," said Bassey's manager, George Biddles of England.

The chap was Ricardo "Pajarito" Moreno of Mexico, who had been hailed as the more vicious puncher.

But it was the champion from Nigeria who left ringside mouths agape with his savage third-round annihilation last night of Mexico's Little Bird.

Moreno took the first step toward groggyland when Bassey, 124, clipped him with a ripping uppercut midway in the second.

The Little Bird was far from through, however, and made a game stand as thousands of his countrymen from south of the border and Los Angeles' large Mexican colony shouted encouragement.

Bassey, also a deft boxer, slipped or blocked most of Moreno's flurries. But he later admitted that even the punches on his arms hurt plenty.

In the third, Bassey opened with a wild-swinging barrage that gave the 20,034 fans who had braved threatening skies for the outdoor scrap more than their money's worth.

A solid right sent Moreno, 124¾, reeling across the ring. With the grace of a lion sensing the kill, the pint-sized African moved forward and planted another jarring right to the jaw.

Moreno's mouthpiece bounced to the canvas and he stumbled along the ropes like a rubber-legged derelict. Bassey followed with another right hand smash and Moreno did a drunken shuffle-off dance step and collapsed. He was still on his back, but making a feeble effort to rise, when Referee Tommy Hart counted him out.

It was a fine payday for Bassey, who was making his first defense of the 126-pound title since winning the vacant featherweight crown from Cherif Hamia last June in Paris. Bassey collected a guarantee of $70,000 from the Wrigley Field gross gate of $215,047.06—or almost $8,000 a minute. Moreno was $38,000 richer for his beating.

Fans Buy Spots That Disappear

Vanishing Seats Plague LA Dodgers' Officials

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Some poor fish who's been waiting 20 years to see major league baseball here may turn up at the Coliseum April 18 and find his reserved seat doesn't exist.

Vanishing seats are just one of the pickles that have been perplexing the Dodgers since they started setting up shop in Los Angeles.

General Manager Harold Parrott was telling Sports Editor Paul Zimmerman of the Times yesterday that he was walking through the stands when he ran into a gang of workmen ripping out a section of seats.

Horrified, Parrott asked the meaning of it.

The workers said they didn't know; they were just told to rip 'em out.

"Later," Parrott said, "I found out the seats had to make way for guy wires that help hold up the screen behind the left field wall."

But that didn't solve Parrott's problem. The ripped out seats already had been sold for the season opener.

"In the ticket rush we've been in," he said, "I don't know who has them. I'll find out soon enough—on opening day. And I'm prepared to make suitable exchanges But that's what happens in an entirely new operation."

Parrott says he's got a flock of requests for seats behind the Dodger dugout. "The absurd part of the whole thing," he says, "is that unfortunately the contour of the Coliseum is such that we have twice as many seats on the third base side—back of the visitors' dugout—as from first base to home plate."

Parrott has come up with at least one gimmick he thinks will make the customers happy. Season box seat tickets are being sent out in special cartons with windows in them. Through the window the fan can read his seat, row and tunnel numbers. With the tickets is the following message, pegged to the club's daffier days: "Everything happens to the Dodgers. Why not be at the Coliseum when it does?"

Georgia 9 Rallies to Beat MSU, 9-8

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Michigan State's baseball team piled up a five-run lead in early innings but was unable to hold back Georgia which went on to score a 9-8 victory yesterday.

The loss was MSU's fourth in seven southern road trip starts.

Georgia staged a four-run rally in the seventh inning, tying the score at 8-all, and added another in the ninth for the triumph.

Dick Radatz started on the mound for the Spartans and was relieved by Larry Foster in the seventh. Craig Van Sciever and Don Gilbert also pitched for the Spartans. R. E. Gladwin was credited with the victory.

Two State Cagers Play Against Globetrotters

Two Michigan college basketball players, Larry Hedden of Michigan State and Don Haase of the University of Detroit will be in the lineup for the college all-stars tonight against the Harlem Globetrotters at the Detroit Olympia.

Fight Is Offered Floyd Patterson

DENVER (INS) — Denver boxing promoter Joe Dupler said he wired fight manager Cus D'Amato in London today, requesting that heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson meet the winner of the Nino Valdes-Wayne Bethea fight.

Dupler said he told Patterson's manager he would deposit $150,000 in Patterson's bank if the champ would sign to meet either Valdes or Bethea in Denver the week of July 14.

Valdes and Bethea meet Thursday in Denver.

Arrival of Springtime Stirs Anglers to Action

By JACK PATTERSON

Well, survivors, we made it. Dreary March is gone and with it sullen winter, and now that April's here the sportsman can come out of his cave, like a spring-run bear, breathe deeply of the vernal breezes and look forward with confidence to the good old days that lie ahead.

PATTERSON

April has many things to commend it, things like the fact that it isn't followed by March, or February. And not the least of its virtues is that in its waning days fishermen can stop talking about fishing and do something about it.

Even the splendiferous array of gimcrackery at the sporting goods dealer takes on a special lustre in the sunny days of April. The trays of multi-colored flies that bore in March a vague and wistful promise, become, in April, lively, urgent problems, demanding prompt solution.

And so it is with all the other gear, too. Don't put off ordering it another minute, unless you plan to open the season on Labor Day.

The time for major rod repairs has slipped by unless you happen to be an exceptionally good customer of one of the custom rod makers, in which case you just might get the rod back in time to use it this spring.

But come to think of it, isn't that poor old rod getting kind of tired? Ready, maybe for the pasture? It WOULD look pretty nice, hanging on the wall in a permanent place of honor.

Meanwhile, you might find that the new rod you are going to rush right out and purchase has a little better action for that aging wrist of yours. It will also involve a little action for the sporting goods dealers, who love to read this kind of thing.

So, anything that needs ordering, order now. And of one thing you can be sure. With the exception of a few reels, the finest fishing tackle in the world is made right here in the U.S.A. For many years England was held to be the fountainhead of fly fishing knowledge and of the mechanical means to put this knowledge to use. In plain point of fact, English equipment hasn't progressed much beyond what it was when Theodore Gordon was whipping the streams of the Catskills.

While you are thinking about that, enjoy April — it's wonderful.

4-Day Sports Show Planned for May 1 to 4

Ivory Polo Club on Cooley Lake Rd. Site for Big, Free Event

One of the most colorful sports shows in Michigan this spring will be held at the John F. Ivory Polo Club, 9990 Cooley Lake road, when the Oakland County All-Sports Show takes place May 1-4 inclusive.

The "spectacular," free to the public, will feature exciting entertainment in a ariety of sports attractions. Polo games, free pony rides for children, boating displays, and demonstrations of expert fly casting, archery, and pistol shooting will highlight the event.

Many visitors are expected to tour the 75-acre polo club grounds during the four-day show, viewing displays of pleasure boats, motors, sporting goods, sports cars and racing boats.

Show will run from 10 a.m. until 11 p.m. each day.

Plans also include horsemanship, riding and jumping exhibitions, aerial demonstrations, an All - Sports Queen contest, orchestra music each evening, and palomino hitch rides over the five scenic miles of roadway winding through the Ivory country estate.

Efforts are being made to bring television clowns and western stars to the show and also to provide free miniature train and fire engine rides for children.

Displays by 30-50 dealers from all parts of Oakland county will be on the grounds and boating dealers will have access to the private lake for marine demonstrations. Area dealers interested in participating in the affair should contact the Show Director, Box 596, Waterford.

Little Stories About Outdoors

During the recent snow storm in upper New York state, called the worst in 15 years, donation of 75,000 pounds of bird seed by the R.T. French Company of Rochester, N. Y. is credited with saving thousands of birds. Heavy snow covered normal feeding areas and the storm threatened to decimate the bird population when distribution of the seed was effected by conservation clubs, service organizations, private citizens, Boy Scouts, farmers and others.

Within 48 hours after the seed was available the entire 75,000 pounds had been distributed.

A Roy, N.M. man may have some of the oldest known goldfish, still alive and active after 35 years. The two fish are the last of six given Frank Heiman and his wife in 1920, by a neighbor, Heiman wrote the New Mexico Game and Fish Department.

Up in Nikomis, Sask., a hunter doesn't have to go outside to find a game dinner. A prairie chicken flew into Archie Pirie's front porch. When Bill Dodsworth opened his back door in walked a mudhen.

At the recent Chicago Automobile Show a special Buick convertible was displayed that featured a restyled interior to provide "the kind of car every outdoorsman dreams of owning." Built-in gun racks, holsters for a pair of .38 pistols on front doors were featured. The job is appropriately called the Wells Fargo.

Persons who like to watch fine field dogs in action will have a good opportunity April 12-13, at the Highland area, where the annual spring field trial of the German Shorthaired Pointer club takes place. Club officials say this trial offers the most advanced type of action, with a shoot to kill and retrieve program in which live pheasants will be used. Dogs will be in action both days.

Kazoo Saddle Club to Help Polio Fund

Southwestern Saddle club, of Kalamazoo announces plans for its annual horse show, May 30-31 at the Kazoo fair grounds, and hopes to enlarge the fund it annually gives from this event for benefit of the Polio Foundation.

Horses are expected from five states, as well as from all sections of Michigan.

Competition gets under way each day at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

OCKC Spring Show Set for Weekend

Only dog show of its size in this area, during the weekend, Oakland County Kennel club's all-breed, benched exhibition will present 722 animals of scores of breeds and varieties. The event starts Sunday at 9 a.m. in the Detroit Artilley Armory in Oak Park (W. 8-Mile road).

An obedience trial and junior showmanship competition are additional features.

Cash awards, trophies and ribbons go to winners, with many other special prizes. Show is an approved AKC event, and rules of this organization will be in force.

Thomas A. Blessing is bench show chairman. Other show officials include E. W. Averill, obedience trial plans; trophies, Ray Norsworthy and chief ring steward, Fred Seaver.

Among the entries are many unusual breeds, such as the Egyptian Salukis, Rhodesian ridgebacks, affenpinschers (toy breed), butterfly dogs (Papillons), Lhasa Apsos, Chinese crested dogs, Akitas, Australian heelers and kelpies, and many more, all interesting.

Area Cockers Take Honors at Chicago

Mrs. Alice Swiderski, who operates the Rexpointe Kennels, 6765 South Rochester road, is proud of the performances of her two particolor cocker spaniels, Maribeau's My Li'l Dutch Treat, and Rexpointe Captain Holiday, in the recent International show at Chicago.

"Dutch Treat" went winners' bitch, and best of opposite sex for the breed, while "Captain," a 9-months-old pup, was winners' dog. "Dutch" is a year old. She was runnerup in a recent Detroit show and went winners' bitch in the winter PKC show, here.

Solunar Table

Anglers who are still active despite the in-between period can make good use of the solunar periods, below, prepared especially for the Pontiac area by noted outdoorsman, John Alden Knight. They indicate the time when best activity may be expected.

Four Sluggers Clout Nine Home Runs

Big Boys Generating Power

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Minnie Minoso, Bill Skowron, Ernie Banks and Steve Bilko — more than a third-of-a-ton of beef on the hoof — may generate loads of power but little Jack Urban proves baseball still has room for guile and cunning.

The four sluggers belted a total of nine homers good for 23 runs yesterday while Urban, a relative midget at 5-feet-8 and 155 pounds, pitched eight scoreless innings in the day's top hurling performance.

The 29-year-old righthander, who was 7-and-4 with Kansas City last year, combined with Tom Gorman on a six-hitter as the A's beat Detroit, 4 to 1.

Minoso was the top slugger of the exhibition day, whacking three homers good for eight runs. Each of the other three long-ball hitters had a pair of roundtrippers.

Banks' two circuits were good for five runs but he couldn't match Minoso so Cleveland overwhelmed the Chicago Cubs, 14 to 7, at Mesa, Ariz. Minoso had two of his homers off Taylor Phillips.

Skowron produced six runs with his homers and added two more RBI's on a fielder's choice and a single. His second homer was a grand-slam and came in the seventh inning as the New York Yankees broke a 9-all tie to beat the Chicago White Sox, 15-11, at Tampa, Fla.

All the Yankee scoring was at the expense of Dick Donovan and Bob Keegan and wiped out a six run lead erected by the White Sox in the first inning off Sal Maglie. Ron Jackson hit a two-run homer for the Sox in that frame. Each team had 14 hits.

Both of Bilko's homers came with a runner on and Curt Simmons pitching to help Cincinnati to a 9-to-2 win over Philadelphia at Clearwater, Fla. Harry Anderson's homer accounted for the Phillies' only runs, and Jerry Lynch connected for the Reds.

legs. Hal Jeffcoat went six scoreless inning for Cincinnati.

Eddie Mathews drove in three run with two doubles and a single and Hank Aaron homered to lead Milwaukee to a 7-to-2 win over Pittsburgh at Bradenton, Fla. Gene Conley won and Bob Friend lost.

Charley Neal's error at short enabled Albie Pearson to score in the tenth inning and give Washington a 7-to-6 win over Los Angeles at Orlando, Fla. The Senators tied the game with two runs in the ninth.

St. Louis edged Boston, 4 to 3, at St. Petersburg, Fla. The Cards ended Dave Sisler's hitless streak after the Boston righthander had retired 33 straight batters in three games. Lindy McDaniel was the winner.

The San Francisco Giants made only three hits, including Willie Kirkland's homer, but beat Baltimore, 4 to 1, at Scottsdale, Ariz. Al Worthington and Ray Monzant scattered nine Oriole safeties.

Prep Coaches Make Exits

THREE RIVERS, Mich. (AP)—The St. Joseph Valley League is faced with a mass exodus of football and basketball coaches.

Mentors at Marcellus, Constantine, Centerville and White Pigeon High Schools say they will not resume their duties next fall. The league is made up of eight schools in the St. Joseph County area of southwestern Michigan.

Richard Whitworth, basketball coach at Constantine, and Centerville football coach Roger Voreis say they plan to devote full time to teaching.

John Carr, who doubles as football and basketball coach at Marcellus, has indicated he will seek a position with a larger school this spring.

John Bright, White Pigeon basketball coach, announced his resignation last winter but said he had no future plans.

Robinson Voted Boxer of Month

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The fabulous Sugar Ray Robinson is the National Boxing Assn's "boxer-of-the-month" for March.

The 37-year-old Robinson won the middleweight title for the fifth time last week when he pounded out a split decision over Carmen Basilio in Chicago.

In announcing Robinson's selection, Fred Saddy, chairman of the NBA's rating committee, said Sugar Ray beat out five other boxers.

Also in the running for "boxer-of-the-month" were Holly Mims for his victory over Spider Webb; Tony Anthony for stopping Yvon Durelle; Harold Gomes for his upset of Ike Chestnut; Carlos Ortiz for his fine showing against Tommy Tibbs; and Mickey Crawford for his verdict over Gil Turner.

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — When Anna Magnani was in Hollywood for "Wild Is the Wind" she told me that she had just read "Orpheus Descending," Tennessee Williams' play, and she would like to do it on the stage.

She gets her wish, only instead of the stage she will star in the motion picture version. The tempestuous Anna will have Anthony Franciosa as her co-star and Sidney Lumet as her director.

Thank goodness it will be made right here in Hollywood in late August or early September for United Artists. "Rose Tattoo," another Tennessee Williams play, also starred the Italian actress.

After the preview of "Indiscreet" at the Picwood Theater a few nights ago, Cary Grant, Jack Warner and director Stanley Donen talked at Romanoff's for hours.

"Indiscreet" went over like a million and the laughs were hearty and spontaneous. Everyone who saw it is sure that Cary and Stanley, who made this as an independent feature for their Grandson Company have a hit.

"Indiscreet" will be released by Warner Bros. And Jack wants Cary to make another picture with Ingrid Bergman. Ingrid told Cary that any time he and Donen had a story she would be happy to costar with him. So as soon as Warners comes up with a property it will be an encore for Ingrid, Cary and Stanley.

Patti Page joins the Ray Ryan contingent in Ft. Worth to promote the Desert Circus in Palm Springs. She leaves tomorrow night after her show "The Big Record" in New York and flies to Texas. From there she'll fly back to California to spend Easter with Charlie O'Curran.

While Patti was in Hollywood over the weekend she agreed to read the script of "Student Body." She told me that Jerry Wald would like to have her play a dramatic role instead of being just a singer in motion pictures.

Diefenbaker's Cabinet to Meet

Will Map Plans for Fast Start in Parliament on Unemployment Woes

TORONTO (UP) — Prime Minister John Diefenbaker will hold his first postelection Cabinet meeting tomorrow to map plans for an early session of Parliament to tackle Canada's critical unemployment problem.

Backed by Monday's record-breaking political triumph, the Conservative leader was scheduled to fly to Ottawa today from his home at Prince Albert, Sask.

He announced that the newly elected House of Commons would be called at the earliest possible date, probably around mid-May.

"I sincerely believe," he said, "that we shall be able now to turn back the tide of unemployment."

During the campaign he proposed that this be done primarily by a billion-dollar program to develop the country's resources, build highways and railroads to the remote Northern areas and otherwise open up new jobs.

He is expected to propose a deficit budget to finance the program.

The Prime Minister also must reshuffle his Cabinet to make room for more Quebec representation. This was one of his campaign promises to the Quebec voters, who responded by electing Conservatives to 50 of the province's 75 seats, 41 more than they won last year.

The opposition parties faced a gigantic rebuilding task which could take years.

Japanese Complaining of U.S. Training Areas

TOKYO (UP)—A fishermen's delegation complained today that American military training areas off the Chiba Peninsula, immediately east of Tokyo, are driving away their sardine, bonito and mackerel catches.

The fishermen petitioned Japanese government agencies to abolish the training areas. They said four such already exist and the U.S. military has notified them it will establish a fifth soon, for aircraft antisubmarine exercises.

The American military had no immediate comment.

Pvt. Elvis Progresses Very Well With Basic

FT. HOOD, Tex. (UP) — An Army spokesman says Pvt. Elvis Presley "is progressing very well" with his Army basic training.

The rock 'n' roll singer started calesthenics yesterday, had two hours of drill and classroom instruction.

"Pvt. Presley is receiving exactly the same treatmen t as all the other young men in his company," Lt. Col. Marjorie Schulten, Ft. Hood public information officer, said.

The beginning of free public libraries was established in London by an act of Parliament in 1850.

Not Uninjured, but He Survives 'Fastest' Bailout

SANTA MONICA, Cal (AP)—What do you do — at 650 m.p.h. — when your jet fighter becomes uncontrollable?

Leo J. (Pete) Colapietro, 34, bailed out. The result: he broke his right arm in two places, fractured his pelvis, cracked two vertebrae and dislocated his shoulder.

"It probably was the fastest bailout on record," said Colapietro at Santa Monica Hospital, where he is recovering from the March 19 crash.

He said the Douglas F4D Skyray he was testing went out of control on a routine flight over the ocean. Then the cockpit canopy ripped off. He reached up to trigger the ejection mechanism, and, he thinks, the buffeting slipstream dislocated his shoulder. But he got out.

DETROIT (INS) — American Motors says Rambler production nearly doubled in the first three months of 1958 and moved the car from 12th to 7th place among all automobile makes.

Roy D. Chapin Jr., executive vice president of AMC's automotive division, said Rambler production in the first quarter totaled 41,183 as compared with 22,332 in the comparable 1957 period.

Chapin said Rambler output so far in the '58 model year is up 88.1 per cent over production in the same period of the '57 model year.

DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Love C. Day claims a fall on the polished floor at Willis Case Golf Course last year spoiled her golf game. In a District Court suit she asks $25,456 damages for the impairment, claiming she can't approach par golf like she once could. Mrs. Day is 72.

Ford Maps Plans for Importing German Autos

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. is going after more of the small car market with a group of vehicles imported from Ford of Germany.

It will put six models of the Taunus passenger car line, made in Cologne, on sale in this country in May. It already has 14 models of the English Ford on the market.

Last week makers of the French Peugeot car announced their entry into the U.S. market with plans to bring in 8,000 cars this year.

Sales of foreign cars in the United States reached a record high of 5.1 per cent of total industry sales in January.

The Taunus models have unitized body construction (welded top to chassis), overhead valve, four-cylinder, 67-horsepower engines and cruising speed of 78 miles an hour. Tests have shown 35.3 miles per gallon of fuel at 40 m.p.h.

The models to be imported are deluxe and standard two-door and four-door sedans and deluxe and standard two-door station wagons. The cars are built on a 102.5-inch wheelbase, have an overall length of 172.2 inches and are 57.7 inches high.

An automatic clutch called the saxomat will be an extra-cost option. With it all shifting is accomplished by moving the gear shift lever on the steering column to first, second, high or reverse gear. No foot pedal is used to disengage the clutch.

The cars will be shown at the International Automobile Show starting April 5 in New York's Coliseum. Their port of entry prices were not announced.

Soybeans and all other grains were steady to firm.

Dealers said the corn demand followed reports of favorable weather for farm operations over most of the Midwest which was expected to cause a drop in farm selling of the grain and light cash receipts on the market today. The cash corn arrivals in Chicago were less than 100 cars.

Can't Pay Fine, Judge; Money's in Missing Leg

He went on to explain his cash was hidden inside his missing artificial leg.

Carpet Padding New

SHELTON, Conn.—A new sponge-rubber carpet padding, said to be the first to combine nonskid qualities with cushioning, has been introduced by a Shelton company. The cushion contains more than 1,500 suction cups per square foot to provide safety and neatness for small rugs.

Spotty Market Pattern Prevails

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market showed an uneven price pattern early today in moderate trading.

Changes in most key stocks were fractional.

The irregular pattern appeared in a moderately active opening. Then trading slowed.

Steels showed a slightly lower tendency. Motors were little changed except for Chrysler which dropped a major fraction as it continued under pressure.

Rubbers and mail orders had a string of small losses. Aircrafts, chemicals, nonferrous metals, utilities and rails were narrowly mixed.

On average, the market has dropped to a level which provided resistance to decline in mid-March. Background included the consumer instalment debt drop in February, interrupting an upward trend since 1954. Latest figures showed a drop in auto assemblies but also a further reduction in inventories by manufacturers.

Sears Employes Invest $1 Million

Pontiac Store Issues Report to Shareholders on Pension Fund

Pontiac employes of Sears, Roebuck and Co. have an investment of $1,317,363 in the company's profit-sharing pension fund Frank S. Lyndall, store manager, disclosed today.

The employes who are fund members met to receive their annual statements. They showed that 205 members had 36,218 shares of Sears stock and additional securities and cash amounting to $402,858 credited to their accounts as of Dec. 31, 1957.

Each share of Sears stock is worth $25.25 as of the end of 1957.

Lyndall said that in all some 138,000 employes of the firm are members of the fund. All regular employes with one year's service or more are eligible for membership.

Created in 1916, total assets of the fund now exceed $700 million, of which $127 million represents deposits from wages and salaries of members, Lyndall said.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police was organized in 1873. It is a civil force for enforcement by the law and is maintained by the Dominion government.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends and neighbors for their kind expressions of sympathy and floral offerings during the recent bereavement of our Mother, Anna Meyers. Also special thanks to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Emergency, particularly to Mrs. Nemms and Mrs. Shove, who were especially kind and considerate. Our deepest gratitude to Rev. Roy Lambert of Lakeland United Presbyterian Church and to Worsley Funeral Home for their thoughtful kindness. Mrs. Hazel Jakabs and Harold Weaver.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF SAUNders Whitehead who passed away April 3, 1956.
Your life's such a beautiful memory,
To grieve that it's gone, seems unfair;
Like grudging you more time in Heaven,
When our only hope's meeting you there.
Sadly missed by mother, father and brothers.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JOSEPH O. Schaefer, who passed away 3 years ago today. Missed by those who loved him. Mrs. Joseph O. Schaefer & family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear dad, Walter P. Gay, who passed away 3 years ago April 2. Please, God, forgive our silent tears. Our secret wish that Dad was here. Our memories are treasures that no one can steal. But death is a heartache that no one can heal. There are other deaths, yes, we know But he was our Dad and we loved him so.
Sadly missed by his son, Douglas and daughter, Christine Blower.

They Love Opera Stars but Not as Neighbors

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—So you'd like to be a glamorous opera star—like Maria Whatshername or Blanche Thebom?

You would not. Listen to me. Better yet, listen to Miss Thebom, of Canton, O., and the Met.

"No matter how much people pay to hear an opera star sing," Miss Thebom told me, "they don't want to live in the same building with one!"

WILSON

Miss Thebom seemed surprised. Personally, I wasn't. All that vocalizing at impossible hours . . .

"That's why we live in that old building. We have no draperies, no carpets. They eat up too much sound. When anybody objects to my vocalizing, I go into the bathroom and turn on the shower. Singing sounds better then, anyway."

In a year she's only home two months anyway. "People say it must be such fun traveling—but it's not traveling—you're zip-zipping everywhere. Never seeing anything."

"In Russia last December, it was never above 10 below," she remembered. "No wonder the sack dress is such a big success over there—those women are all 50 or 60 pounds overweight."

What about Maria Callous—I mean Callas?

"All of us owe her a great deal because she has emphasized the prima donna again. The tendency has been to make opera singers ordinary and colorless. Well, you can't make a factory-worker out of an opera-singer because they're different. And if an opera singer isn't a little different, nobody's going to want to hear her!"

BLANCHE

Miss Thebom's admittedly very impressed with her Russian trip. "The Russians thought I was terribly tiny. They just couldn't understand how so much sound could come out of such a tiny body. How could I dislike that?"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Bob Hope still hasn't seen the film he shot in Moscow—to be shown on TV here April 5—a week before air time; while Hope fidgeted, the Russians were still processing it . . . Linda Christian found her missing passport, will fly from Rio to meet George DeWitt in Miami . . . Liberace's long-distancing dancer Tybee Afra . . . Gloria Vanderbilt sold her latest painting to a N.Y. restaurant . . . Frank Sinatra's elegant footwear: velvet slippers with embroidered initials on the toes.

Marlon Brando's alias during his recent visit was "Gunder Hagg" (the Swedish runner) . . .

EARL'S PEARLS: We spend our first few years learning how to talk, and the rest of our lives learning when to shut up.

That's earl, brother.

Easter Recess Called by House

Congress to Resume Appropriating Funds Following Holiday

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House called it quits today until after Easter on appropriating the taxpayers' money to operate the government.

Unopposed passage of a $3,216,988,539 Agricultural Department financing bill hiked to $22,274,000,000 funds voted this year by the House in 10 appropriation measures.

This is almost 500 million dollars more than President Eisenhower requested, and some of the big bills are still to come.

Only four of the House-passed measures have cleared the Senate, which has slightly increased House-voted allotments.

All but four of the House bills are for operation of government agencies during the fiscal year starting July 1. Three of the four supplement funds appropriated for the present year, while one would give agencies authority to speed up their purchases by buying supplies this year which they originally had planned to purchase next year.

The Agriculture Department appropriation bill, $103,900,000 short of the amount requested by President Eisenhower, sped through the House without the customary acrimonious debate over administration farm policies.

The bill allots $1,456,588,653 to the department for its normal activities, proposes payment of $1,760,399,886 to the Commodity Credit Corp. for its farm price support and surplus disposal activities, and authorizes the Rural Electrification Administration and the Farmers Home Administration to make new loans up to 569½ millions for farm improvements.

Bomb Joke Loses Humor for Students

Two juveniles who instigated a bomb scare at their school yesterday found that the April Fool's Day prank isn't turning out very funny.

Two boys, 15 and 16 years old, telephoned Dublin School, at 9260 Sandyside St., White Lake Township, around noon saying that a bomb had been planted.

Oakland County Sheriff's Detectives, after searching for a bomb and finding nothing, turned their scrutiny toward suspicious students.

NBC President Outlines Trends

Forecasts Increase in Television Programing of Special Events

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert Sarnoff, president of the National Broadcasting Co., believes that this is the year when television will have its greatest opportunity to report and interpret events.

SARNOFF

Sarnoff said in an interview:

"We plan to give increased attention to news — both in reporting and in analysis and commentary. The times call for it. This is the year when television will have its greatest opportunity thus far to prove itself as a medium of communication."

NBC-TV plans more documentary and special news programs, more debates on big issues. One of its most important projects is a two-part series on communism and democracy. It is planning a series of news programs directed primarily at children.

Sarnoff emphasized a point that the great majority of viewers overlook: "The amount we'll be able to do and spend on news and special events programing will be greatly influenced by the success of our entertainment programs."

Profits made on entertainment shows sustain in a large measure those programs which primarily seek to inform.

BRIGHT OUTLOOK

The financial picture is bright for NBC this year, Sarnoff said. The most significant sponsor concept is "the growing idea of corporate identity as an umbrella for its products."

Westerns "will be one of the bulwarks of the schedule this year," he said in making these general comments on entertainment program trends:

"Situation comedy is at a low ebb. The move is toward family comedies as perhaps best typified by 'Father Knows Best.' To achieve successful situation comedy probably involves the biggest gamble of all."

Musical variety shows?

"The individual singer who is neither a master of ceremonies nor a performer undoubtedly will have some troubles this year. But that certainly doesn't apply to the Perry Comos and Dinah Shores."

Comedy?

"I doubt if there will be an increase in stand-up comedy, though I think there will be more general comedy programs."

Willed Estate if He Changes His Name

OMAHA (AP)—If he is willing to change his name, The Rev. Glen Victor Alty of Snyder, N.Y., can get the bulk of a $75,000 estate.

Norris P. Crafts of Omaha so provided in his will.

Crafts, a postal clerk who died March 24 at the age of 79, built his estate through real estate transactions, a close friend said when the will was filed for probate yesterday.

The will provides that Mr. Alty, a newphew of Crafts, will get the bulk of the estate if he willing to change his name to Crafts and if he has a son.

Crafts had no children and friends said he drew up his will requesting Mr. Alty to take the name Crafts so the name would be perpetuated.

Mr. Alty is given a year to decide whether he wants to accept the provisions. If he rejects the request he will receive an interest bearing $500 bond or $1,000 in cash, the same bequest made to a dozen other relatives of Crafts.

Ceremonies on Mass Production Basis

Britons Dashing to Altar to Beat Income Tax Man

LONDON (INS) — Britain's young couples are dashing to the altar in a last-minute bid to beat the tax man before the financial year ends Saturday.

For the wedding knot tied before that date will enable new husbands to claim income relief for the whole year as married men, which means in most cases a rebate ranging up to 40 pounds ($112.).

As a result the number of weddings in Britain has a tendency to climb sharply after the first of the year, reaching a mass production marriage peak in early April with lines forming at many registrar's offices.

The final "Beat The Tax" day always brings a last-minute rush of couples and ceremonies are performed like clock-work, one after another, in some areas.

A spokesman at the Registrar General's Office said that February and March had ousted May and June as the popular months for the romantically minded.

The nonstop trilling of wedding bells, however, does not please the majority of British clergy who view the mad rush as a "commercial arrangement."

The Reverend John C. M. Conn, of St. Marnock's Church, Kilmarnock, who has protested about relatives turning church weddings into "snobbish circuses" with tape recorders, microphones and cameras, also blasted what he termed "income tax weddings." Dr. Conn said:

"Income tax weddings! Everybody wants to get married nowadays before April 5.

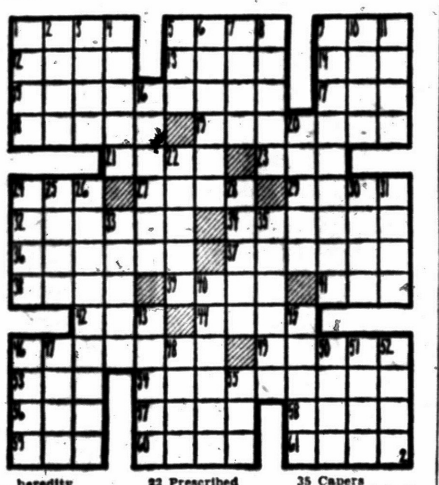

"They don't seem to know that Holy Week is a time of self-denial, restraint and prayer and I refuse to marry people during it—especially when I know that they have income tax at the back of their minds."

High Quality Silage Baled, Kept in Plastic

MINNEAPOLIS — Silage can be baled successfully. The hay is cut, allowed to wilt to about 40 per cent moisture, then baled.

The bales are stacked on one end of a large plastic sheet. The other end is pulled up over the stack and stapled. This makes an airtight bag of high quality baled silage.

Takes Lot of Chickens

LAUREL, Del. (AP) — It takes a lot of chickens just to make "chicken feed" in the broiler business, according to a University of Delaware poultry extension specialist.

Silas McHenry says you need 30,000 broilers to reap a net income of only $300 a month. The $4,800 annual costs include in addition to the birds and poultry house, miscellaneous equipment, taxes, insurance, repairs, painting, labor and interest on the loan.

In Decision to Halt Nuclear Tests

Easy Propaganda Victory Scored by Khrushchev

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Nikita Khrushchev has scored an easy propaganda victory over the West in the decision to halt nuclear weapons testing.

CONDEMN MOVE

Western officials condemn the Soviet move as one of sheer hypocrisy for these reasons:

Russia has just completed an intensive series of nuclear tests and probably will not be ready for any more for a year or so.

Russia has reserved the right to resume testing if the United States and Britain do not call off their own tests voluntarily. Yet Moscow knew in advance there was slight chance of the western powers halting their tests.

MADE NO OFFER

Moscow made no offer of agreeing with the western allies on an inspection system to enforce any ban. As the State Department said: The Soviet "elusive" doctrine is one that "can be evaded in secrecy and altered at will."

The western allies sent a note to Moscow proposing diplomatic talks in Moscow in two weeks to assess the chances of an East-West chiefs of government meeting. This was timed to take some of the sting out of the expected nuclear testing ban statement. But it is doubtful that it will help much.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's announcement was timed to take advantage of increasing world-wide demands for a ban on tests.

Japan long has plugged for voluntary cessation of testing. Moscow, incidentally, rejected such a Japanese plea just a year ago.

The Laborites in Britain are putting the pressure on Prime Minister Harold MacMillan to rush into a summit conference and to work for a ban on nuclear tests. In Germany the opposition Socialists are exerting similar pressure on Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The Russian announcement was aimed particularly at Germany because of Parliament's approval of Adenauer's decision to equip West German soldiers with nuclear weapons and rocket sites —if NATO requests it.

The Bonn government's move has caused a bitter uproar in Germany. There have been strikes, huge anti-bomb rallies and cries for a national referendum on the Adenauer decision. It also has caused uneasiness among some Britons who feel that a rush to join the "atomic club" is getting out of hand.

By its "voluntary" move Moscow aims to get worldwide credit for doing something popular—halting the tests—without giving outsiders any chance to ceck on any cheating on tests or on its previous promise of reducing its huge conventional army.

More Flip Boxes Used

NEW YORK — The cigarette industry estimates that flip-top boxes accounted for about 15 per cent of the 20 billion packs of cigarettes produced in the United States during 1957 compared with 5 per cent in 1956.

Reorganization Bill Still Alive in Senate

LANSING (AP) — The House-approved executive reorganization bill clung today to a spot on the Senate calendar after surviving an attempted death blow.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville), who killed a Senate carbon copy several weeks ago, hit into the measure yesterday. His move to send it back to committee garnered 11 votes to 18 against.

Under the bill, the governor could submit a state government reorganization plan in the first 30 days of a legislative session. Unless disapproved by either the Senate or House within the next 60 days, it would take effect.

Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) and other backers called the bill a key to economy and a forward step.

Hutchinson assailed it as a "revolutionary" device that would enable a governor to reduce a fellow state elective officer to a figurehead by robbing him of his functions.

The bill was advanced for a showdown vote. Gov. Williams, a strong supporter, is certain to sign it, assuming final Senate clearance.

I'M RID OF AWFUL ARTHRITIS PAINS

Mrs. Carey

Mrs. Lucille Carey, 215 Lathers St., Garden City, says: "I suffered 12 long years with arthritis and rheumatism so bad I couldn't close my hands, raise my arms, turn my head or even walk. Why my ankles were swollen to about three times their normal size. I even spent 11 weeks in Hot Springs, Arkansas without much help. I finally learned about O-JIB-WA BITTERS and after taking several bottles, the terrible pains are gone and I feel like a new person. I strongly urge all who suffer to try all-herb O-JIB-WA BITTERS."
