10 Dead Left Behind

15 Miners Are Saved

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (AP) —Fifteen stiff and chilled miners rode a conveyor belt to freedom today after spending five days in a flooded coal mine, breathing its foul air, feeling its dampness and sleeping on its hard floor.

Left behind, deep in the mountain, were 10 of their fellows for whom hope was lost long ago.

"I knew we were going to get out..." said Ottie Junior Walton, the 39-year-old father of five children who has spent 20 years working in the mines.

"We prayed and sang and talked about living a better life when we got out. We had a real religious bunch down there."

10 FEARED DEAD

It was believed the other 10 men were swept to their deaths Monday noon when a break in the wall to an adjoining abandoned mine shot millions of gallons of water through the mine's rolling passageway.

"Nobody panicked: Everybody was real cool," Walton said. "we just talked. Some of us slept. For a while we just sat and had a good bull session. All the boys had a good sense of humor."

The condition of the miners was considered remarkably good for men who had spent that length of time confined to a small space. They went to their homes immediately after their rescue and returned later in the morning for physicals at a hospital in Richwood.

The first miner came out of the mine entrance, into the glare of floodlights and the waiting arms of his wife and family at 5:20 a.m. He had spent a total of 118 hours and 20 minutes in the mine since he reported for work at 7 a.m. Monday.

The others followed in quick succession.

As each man stepped off the belt—unaided—a blanket was thrown around his shoulder and he was led to a padded bench.

They were black from hardhat to boot and wet from the water they had to wade through on part of their journey.

City Drive Claims 1,000 New Voters

A concentrated drive to register unregistered voters in Pontiac began May 1, and yesterday cochairmen for the drive — Ernest Seay of 86 S. Marshall and James B. Davis of 1127 Dudley — announced that more than 1,000 new registrations had been secured.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley said the registration forms would have to be checked and verified to determine that they are accurate and legal. She said the final number of registrations would be known next week.

If the drive ends up near 1,000 registrants, it represents a substantial increase in the number of registered voters in such a short period.

The city had a total of 29,085 registered electors before new registration opened after the school millage election on March 25. Registration closed yesterday.

21 DEPUTIZED

Twenty-one persons sponsored by Seay, Davis and a number of interested clergymen and professional persons were deputized by Mrs. Barkeley last Wednesday.

Machinery for getting out new voters did not mesh easily at first but the drive — admittedly aimed at getting a favorable vote on the city's fair housing referendum election June 24 — was in motion.

Weekend Outlook Is Rainy and Mild

Occasional showers and mild temperatures may be expected over the weekend.

The weatherman forecasts the following day by day report:

TODAY—Mostly cloudy with occasional rain likely and little temperature change today and tonight. High 62 to 68. Low tonight 48 to 52.

Winds northeast to east at 5 to 12 miles per hour, becoming east to southeast at 8 to 18 miles this afternoon and tonight.

SUNDAY—Mostly cloudy and mild.

MONDAY—Partly cloudy and cool.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 80, tonight 70, tomorrow 20.

Forty-six was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The Mercury registered 50 at 2 p.m.

Bobby, Hubert Speak in Omaha

By The Associated Press

Crisscrossing the Great Plains in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy says the American people "want a change that cannot be promised by politicians or enacted by the most powerful government."

The people seek "a change in the national spirit," the candidate said yesterday in Omaha, Neb.

★ ★ ★

The Omaha dinner was a political doubleheader. Kennedy was heard while the diners were digging into their salads and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was served up with dessert.

In his Omaha speech, Humphrey said the voters don't "want this nation in a frenzy." They will shun those who ignore problems as well as those who exaggerate them, he said.

POPULARITY TEST

Both men seek the Democratic nomination but Humphrey didn't get into the race in time to be on the ballot in Tuesday's Nebraska primary, which shapes up as a popularity test between Kennedy and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

Kennedy is favored to top McCarthy, who is putting more emphasis on the May 28 primary in Oregon and the June 4 test in California.

★ ★ ★

McCarthy, campaigning in Portland, Ore., told backers in a neighborhood headquarters yesterday that he'd be around to see them again, regardless of the outcome in Nebraska.

Kennedy, campaigning in South Dakota last night, told some 3,500 persons at Mitchell that as president he would give high priority to securing for farmers bargaining power to protect their own interests.

Poverty March Has Its Troubles

By The Associated Press

The Poor People's Campaign, hit by a stabbing and some lack of housing, continued its roundabout route toward Washington today.

The Southern segment of the campaign, which ran into housing problems in Macon, Ga., last night, was assured of beds at its next stop in the Georgia coastal city of Savannah.

★ ★ ★

And in Washington officials worked out an arrangement in which the campaigners will be allowed to erect what they call "Resurrection City, U. S. A.," in a park between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial.

Bigger problems broke out yesterday on the New England segment of the march, when a demonstrator picketing the campaign in Boston was stabbed.

KNOCKED TO GROUND

Joseph Mlot-Mroz was picketing across the street from campaign buses when he was knocked to the ground. He got in his car, turned the vehicle and was a block away when he was stabbed. He was listed in fair condition.

U.S., N. Viets Okay Procedure for Talks

PARIS (AP)—American and North Vietnamese negotiators reached agreement today on procedural matters for Monday's opening of talks which could lead to an end of the war in Vietnam. The atmosphere of today's meeting was described as "very good" by an American official.

Cyrus R. Vance, deputy leader of the American delegation, told newsmen after today's session: "We have concluded all procedural arrangements. We will go into substance on Monday."

★ ★ ★

Vance was emphatic on one point: "The atmosphere has been very good."

He said it had been agreed with his opposite number, Col. Ha Van Lau, that the conference will be conducted in two official languages—English and Vietnamese —with French as the working language. This means that each side will use its own language in conducting the day-to-day business of the conference. But French will be used for any conference documents and statements, which can be readily translated and understood by both sides.

SMILING BROADLY

After today's second and final 2-hour and 22-minute procedural meeting, Lau was smiling broadly, as he usually does, and told newsmen he was "very satisfied." Asked if there would be a further meeting tomorrow, he said: "Tomorrow is Sunday."

Pressed as to whether a Vietnam cease-fire would be the first order of business Monday, he replied: "No comment. We must leave that to the heads of the delegations."

★ ★ ★

Vance said an agenda for the talks Monday was not discussed.

Vance and Lau were reported to have shaken hands at the start of the meeting, as they did the first time they met.

POLITE MEETING

Their opening round yesterday also had been described as polite.

Vance and Lau reportedly agreed that they should give out as little information as possible on their discussions.

★ ★ ★

The North Vietnamese spokesman said: "The Americans suggested that nothing further be said" and the North Vietnamese agreed. Other sources confirmed that this was an American suggestion.

U. S. officials who see prolonged and difficult negotiations ahead were not quite sure what to make of yesterday's events. The simplest explanation appeared to be that the North Vietnamese were genuinely concerned about conference arrangements and that they had decided as a matter of tactics not to make a major issue immediately of such matters as how many questions the preliminary talks will cover.

Trapped Vietcong Launch Desperate Assault; 88 Die

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong guerrillas, trapped in a bombraked pocket on Saigon's southern border, made a desperation assault on American lines tonight but U.S. infantrymen killed at least 88 of them in a flare-lit battle.

Officers at the scene said there was no report of American casualties in the fight that erupted when several hundred guerrillas emerged from the rubble and rushed toward the U.S. lines shouting and shooting.

★ ★ ★

When the attack broke in less than an hour, troopers of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division counterattacked.

"The count is probably over 100 now," one officer said. "We're sweeping the area and finding more bodies all the time."

NEAR KEY BRIDGE

The clash occurred about 700 yards southwest of the "Y" bridge, one of three main bridges across the Kinh Doi Canal that links Saigon with the Mekong Delta.

Earlier in the day, the American Command reported 50 other Viet Cong soldiers killed in and around Saigon. The enemy's seven-day-old offensive appeared to diminish.

But in the northern sector action stepped up in what some officers described as part of Hanoi's "peace talk" offensive—a reference to the U.S.-North Vietnamese meetings in Paris.

Army Blasted on M16 Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator and congressman from Maine say the Army didn't consider price in awarding a big contract for rifle production—a contract that didn't go to a Maine firm that was low bidder.

Rep. Peter N. Kyros, D-Maine, one of the disgruntled legislators, also accused the Army of being biased in favor of big companies in awarding contracts for production of the M16 rifle.

★ ★ ★

"I am bothered that they eliminated all consideration of pricing," Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, told newsmen after a meeting with Brig. Gen. Walter Woolwine of the Army Materiel Command.

What mattered most to the Army, Muskie said, was "a company's capacity to turn out the rifles as fast as they were needed under the new policies."

★ ★ ★

The contracts went to Harrington & Richardson Co. of Worcester, Mass., and the Hydramatic Division of General Motors Corp., Ypsilanti, Mich. The ceiling price on the GM bid was $56 million—$20 million higher than the Maine firm's.

Districting Delay for Counties Eyed

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — The Cheboygan County Board of Supervisors is distributing a resolution to Michigan's other 83 counties requesting that reapportionment of supervisors on the one-man, one-vote basis be delayed until 1970 after the new census.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has interpreted a State Supreme Court ruling on the issue as having immediate effect. Cheboygan supervisors argue the census would require additional changes when the new population figures are known, and hope to enlist support from other counties to postpone reapportionment.

Local Man, 24, Bound Over in Mall Kidnaping

Following a 4½ hour hearing yesterday, Laurence S. Moore of 499 W. Huron was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court to stand charges of kidnaping, rape and gross indecency.

Moore, 24, married and the father of one child, appeared before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hempstead. He is accused of kidnaping a Pontiac woman and her brother-in-law from the Pontiac Mall April 29.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Norman Kinnison, 19, of 435½ University testified yesterday that during that night she was raped three times by Moore.

His arraignment is scheduled for May 29 at 10 a.m. before Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

SUSPECT IDENTIFIED

Mrs. Kinnison and her brother-in-law, Frank Kinnison, 14, of the same address, identified Moore from the witness stand as the man who had abducted them.

Moore asked if she would drive him to a bowling alley, but as they neared it, he showed her the small pistol he was carrying and a hunting knife, according to Kinnison.

★ ★ ★

Kinnison said about an hour later he was ordered out of the car on Bass Lake Road in Commerce Township. "The last thing I heard before they drove away was Pat asking 'Now what are you going to do to me?"

Shortly after Mrs. Kinnison took the stand and began telling her story, she lost her composure, and both she and Moore's wife who was sitting behind him in the courtroom, began to cry.

FINISHES TESTIMONY

She finished her testimony after returning from a recess called by Judge Hempstead.

Five police officers testified, including the two that arrested Moore in Genesee County about 12 hours after Mrs. Kinnison gained her freedom

★ ★ ★

Police said they found a pistol like the one used in the kidnaping stuck into a seat of a pickup truck that had stopped to give Moore a ride. Moore later directed police to a wooded area where they found the knife he had tossed away.

The day after Moore was charged in the Kinnison case, another charge of kidnaping and rape was brought against him by a 21-year-old Pontiac woman who was abducted from the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center parking lot in March.

★ ★ ★

His preliminary examination in that case is scheduled for Tuesday at 2 p.m. before Hempstead.

Area Man Found Dead

Russell F. Zink, 57, of 2760 Mackintosh, Bloomfield Township, was found dead in his car in the parking lot of Crittenton Hospital, Rochester at 7 p.m., yesterday.

County Sheriff's deputies and a coroner attribute the death to suicide by a self-inflicted shotgun wound in the chest.

Key Romney Bills Just Make Deadline

LANSING (UPI) — Majority Republicans in the Michigan Legislature had to scramble yesterday, but they managed to pry Gov. George Romney's top-priority bills from committee six hours before the midnight deadline.

Squeezed out just ahead of the cutoff point for approving bills for debate were measures to beef up tenants' rights, to wage a stiffer fight against water pollution, to crack down on crime and to appropriate a record-high $1.34-billion general fund budget for next year.

★ ★ ★

Each house now has just two weeks to wade through the several dozen bills cleared for homestretch action. Deadline for final passage of bills is May 24. The lawmakers hope to clean up details and be out for the summer before Memorial Day.

★ ★ ★

The only near miss for Romney was a bill authorizing voluntary regional councils of government. The bill came out of the Towns and Counties Comittee in the House, but without recommendation for passage — which means it will lie on the table until and if a majority decide they want to consider it.

OTHERS FOR TABLE

Other bills coming out to lie on the table included ones to let local chief executives declare states of emergency during riots and to ban contests at gas stations.

★ ★ ★

Other major issue bills making it to the floor with recommendation to pass included measures to:

- Hike the state minimum wage in stages to a top of $1.50 an hour by Jan. 1, 1970.
- Allow electronic eavesdropping on certain suspected criminals under very restricted court-supervised conditions.
- Make it a crime to use your credit cards that have been revoked or canceled.
- Make it a crime to riot or incite to riot, with punishments ranging up to 10 years in prison or a $10,000 fine.
- Establish a state internal security council to keep tabs on possible subversive or dangerous elements in the state.
- Set forth who will succeed state officers if they cannot perform their duties during times of major civil disturbances.

TENANTS' RIGHTS

The tenants' rights bills — which some think will go far further toward solving problems of ghetto-dwellers than open housing — forbid cancellation of a lease except for "just cause" and set up boards of tenants' affairs to help run public housing projects.

Texas Is Raked by Rain and Hail, Fierce Winds

By The Associated Press

A weeklong siege of severe thunderstorms raked Texas with more weather violence today, hurling hail, heavy rain and tornadic winds across the state from the panhandle to the gulf.

Severe weather warnings were in effect through most of the night for south-central and southeastern sections of the state as the storms continued into the sixth straight day.

★ ★ ★

Six persons were dead, either in weather-related traffic accidents or by drowning in flash flooding which hit parts of the state Thursday and Friday in the wake of foot-deep rainfalls.

★ ★ ★

Numerous funnel clouds churned about Texas again Friday night, but again as in other night, damage reports were rare and there were no reported injuries. Tornado sightings were as far apart as Dalhart, in the panhandle, and Tomball and Pasadena, in the Houston vicinity.

★ ★ ★

A heavy metal top whirled off an elevated water tank at Abilene and split a frame house apart near the city's business district. No one was injured. Airplanes in a hangar at the Abilene airport were unharmed as the building was lifted from them in the windstorm.

Hailstones ranging in size from baseballs to black-eyed peas pounded widely scattered sections of the state once more — the larger ones being reported at Kermit, west of Odessa, and the smaller near Amarillo in the panhandle.

Lapeer Man Killed in 1-Car Accident

A Lapeer county man was killed at 3:30 a.m. today in an auto accident on North Lake Road, south of Castle, in Lapeer County.

Raymond C. Jenning of 9787 North Lake Road, Lapeer, apparently ran off the road after going around a right angle curve, according to the Lapeer County Sheriff's Office.

The vehicle tipped and slid sideways to the left bank. Jenning, 47, was thrown out of the car, and the vehicle then rolled over him, according to police.

Members of Local 4013 in Monroe failed to report to work after striking Western Electric employes set up picket lines at Michigan Bell facilities there. The local has about 100 members. Robert Lusch, picket captain of Western Electric CWA Local 4090 in Monroe, said he expected installers to begin picketing throughout Michigan today. In Metropolitan Detroit, the state's two largest CWA locals remained on strike pending the results of a new ratification vote on a contract with Michigan Bell.

More than 100 persons volunteered their help. They represented about one dozen organizations. Students from a number of area high schools and Oakland University played a big part in getting unregistered residents to the schools where new registrations were taken, Davis said.

A group organized to promote a favorable vote on the fair housing issue — known as Friends of Fair Housing — helped organize and set the drive into motion.

Four More File Petitions for Waterford School Seats

The number of candidates for the Waterford Township School District's June 10 board of education election increased to six yesterday as four more office-seekers filed nominating petitions.

Robert W. Carr, 39, of 6505 Waterford Hill Terrace, Independence Township, became the first candidate to enter the race for the lone two-year term at stake.

★ ★ ★

Filing for the two four-year contests were William D. Motzny, 37, of 3078 Grace View; Edward J. Kuhn, 44, of 2295 N. Lake Angelus; and Frank A. Lane, 66, of 5801 Crescent Road, all of Waterford Township.

A justice of the peace and an attorney, Carr is a senior partner with the law firm — Powell, Peres, Carr and Jacques.

PONTIAC ENGINEER

Motzny, an unsuccessful candidate in last June's board of education election, is employed as an engineer at Pontiac Motor Division.

In his 17th year in the Hazel Park School District, Kuhn is an economics teacher at Hazel Park High School.

Pontiac to Focus on Recruiting During Police Week Observance

The emphasis will be on recruiting when the Pontiac Police Department observes National Police Week beginning Monday.

★ ★ ★

Ultimate goal, according to Police Chief William K. Hanger, is expansion of the department to a force ideal in numerical ratio to the city's population.

★ ★ ★

"And," he emphasized, "doing this by adding the best men we can possibly hire as our quotas allow."

Hanger said the department will complete the hiring of the 18 recruits it was authorized in January to add by the end of this month.

DOESN'T END

"But the process doesn't end there," he added.

"We're going to continue to try and interest young people in a police career so as to fill the inevitable vacancies and higher quotas of the future with the most qualified men possible."

★ ★ ★

One facet of the local recruiting effort is a program of advertising in military service newspapers to attract servicemen.

★ ★ ★

Those who do apply get discharged 60 days prior to their normal separation date.

Schools are also prime recruiting targets and officers attend career day programs with displays outlining their jobs.

FILMS SHOW WORK

"We also have films depicting the different phases of police work which we show to school and service organizations," Hanger pointed out.

Kennedy Eyes Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy will make a three-hour visit to Detroit next Wednesday, one day after another presidential hopeful, Vice President Hubert Humphrey, visits the city. The Kennedy visit, announced yesterday, will feature a noontime speech in Kennedy Square, the downtown landmark named after the New York senator's assassinated brother.

FAMILIAR FACE—Pontiac Patrolman Thomas Gracey puts into place a wanted poster bearing his picture. The poster, part of the department's recruiting program, is one of 2,000 distributed in the Pontiac area. Recruiting will be emphasized in the department's observance of National Police Week, beginning Monday.

Birmingham Area

2 Annexation Issues May Be Put on Ballot

Two elections on annexation issues were called for by the County Board of Supervisors Boundaries Committee yesterday.

The committee approved annexation petitions for seven acres in Bloomfield Township to be added to Birmingham and seven acres in the village of Bingham Farms to be joined to Beverly Hills Village.

★ ★ ★

Elections would be held Aug. 6, coinciding with the primary.

The recommendation approving the validity of the petitions and setting the election date will go before the entire Board of Supervisors at its next meeting, May 27, at 9:30 a.m. at the courthouse auditorium. The board seldom reverses a committee recommendation of this type.

BIRMINGHAM ISSUE

Both Birmingham and Bloomfield Township voters will be asked to approve annexation to Birmingham of a parcel of land at Big Beaver and Adams. The land abuts both Birmingham and Troy and has been the subject of a two-year dispute.

★ ★ ★

The annexation has been opposed by officials in all three communities concerned. Homer Case, supervisor of Bloomfield Township, appeared before the committee yesterday to again oppose the proposed election.

★ ★ ★

The land in question is now zoned for multiple unit residences. In Bloomfield Township, under a recently revised zoning code, a density of 10 apartments per acre is permissible. If the land is taken into Birmingham, a density double that is allowable, Case explained.

★ ★ ★

He claimed the developer, C. Allen Harlan and his firm, Cranbrook Realty, is planning a commercial development at the site.

SUITS THREATENED

The committee, which considered the matter two weeks ago, has been threatened with lawsuits over the issue.

Its main function is to rule on the validity of the petitions, however the validity has been challenged because of their age — they were circulated over two years ago. The committee vote was three in favor and one opposed with one abstention. In favor were Philip Mastin, Claude Tapp and Lester Melstrom; opposed Robert Long; and abstaining, Charles Malley of Clawson, a new committee member.

★ ★ ★

In the Bingham Farms issue, Harold Speicher, village president pro tem, mourned the impending loss of the seven acres to his small community. "A small village no longer has a chance of existence," he told the committee.

★ ★ ★

He pointed out that Beverly Hills with its 8,000 residents was bound to out-vote Bingham Farms with just 400. The annexation could add to the Beverly Hills tax base, but at present the land, north of 13 Mile and west of Lahser, is vacant.

MATTER OF ETHICS

Speicher agreed the developer was within his legal rights to seek the election, but added, "It's a matter of ethics, what's right or wrong."

★ ★ ★

Robert M. Mock, official in the development firm of Pulte, Inc., said if the annexation was approved, the land would be subdivided and added to the adjacent North Georgetown Subdivision in Beverly Hills.

★ ★ ★

Zoning laws in Beverly Hills allow more density of construction than does Bingham Farms.

A question on the validity of 10 signatures on the petitions from Bingham Farms was resolved by a study of the election law which says only 1 percent of the residents' signatures are needed, just four in the case of Bingham Farms.

French Police Crush Students' Revolt

PARIS (AP) — Gas-masked and bitterest student revolt in riot police crushed the latest the Latin Quarter at dawn today after 11 hours of tear gassing, clubbing and warding off rocks thrown by youths.

There was no immediate count of the injured or arrested among the demonstrators, who varied in number during the rally from 10,000 to 30,000.

★ ★ ★

Appeals were broadcast for taxis to evacuate the wounded. The archbishop of Paris issued an appeal for calm and top ministers of the French government met in emergency session.

The colorful Left Bank area near the Sorbonne, focus of student protests, was littered with burning, upturned cars, piles of cobblestones and shards of glass from shattered shop windows.

FAMILIES WATCH

Throughout the long running battle between police and students, Parisian families stood on the balconies of their apartments and watched with seeming indifference.

The rioting students showed no inclination to challenge police lines at the Seine and cross to the Right Bank where preliminary peace talks on the Vietnam war are being held by North Vietnamese and U.S. negotiators.

Mainly the students demand the release of students arrested in earlier demonstrations, withdrawal of police from around the Sorbonne—the University of Paris—the reopening of the school of literature and general modernization of educational processes.

One of the biggest battles was fought on the west end of the Luxembourg Gardens. There students entrenched behind barricades five feet high and six feet thick held out for three hours before riot police made them yield.

TEAR GAS FIRED

Lines of gendarmes with grenade-launchers fired tear gas grenades almost point blank at students who raised their heads above the ramparts.

Missing the rebels, the grenades sped overhead and slammed into shop windows, leaving a hissing red tail. Then the gendarmes sent concussion grenades among the insurgents.

★ ★ ★

The students sang the Internationale, the Communist anthem, and waited for the charge.

Upon a shouted order the massed blue lines of police rushed forward to the top of the barricade. A few policemen who reached the summit were felled by flying paving stones, about four inches on a side and weighing more than pound.

2 CHARGES FAIL

Twice the blue line struggled forward and twice it was forced to retreat. The third time, after an attack with concussion grenades the police broke through the student phalanx. Cries rose in the murky darkness.

The retreating students set overturned cars afire to impede the attacking police and kept shouting their defiance.

★ ★ ★

One young man tried to evade the charge by hiding in a doorway. He made a run toward police and was beaten to the ground with rifle butts, then dragged to an ambulance.

Slight Oversight

CUBA, Ill. (AP) — School officials Friday postponed an $810,000 school bond referendum set for today after an attorney for the Cuba School District discovered an error on the ballot. The amount of the bond issue was left off the special ballots printed for the election.

PAUF Assured of Top Leadership

Good leadership is essential to the progress of any institution or organization. Without it, the enterprise is doomed to slow extinction as its initial life dies on the vine.

POOLE

The outstanding success of the Pontiac Area United Fund from its inception in 1949 is attributable to that basic ingredient — good leadership. That and the dedicated army of volunteer workers who give time and effort in support of the ideal.

★ ★ ★

To succeed Bruce Annett who gave PAUF outstanding executive service during his three-year reign, a new president has been elected.

He is FREDERICK J. POOLE, long identified with various aspects of the fund. He was chairman of the 1967 fund-raising campaign after having served as vice president of the organization's planning committee and as a member of the advance gifts solicitation team.

Additionally, POOLE has been active as a board member of a half-dozen community agencies functioning in the areas of social welfare and youth development.

★ ★ ★

The Press warmly approves the selection of Frederick Poole to head the Pontiac Area United Fund with best wishes for a fruitful and rewarding year in his important office.

Routine Work Can Be Rewarding, Says Scientist

It's pretty much an accepted truth among special scientists that the monotonous routine of a modern factory production line is impersonalizing.

The kind of job that requires a worker to do little more than tighten a bolt or make some minor adjustment on an endless stream of identical widgets just has to be psychologically detrimental, say the theorists.

Well, someone has finally come down from the ivory tower of theory and gone into a factory to ask the workers themselves.

★ ★ ★

After studying a couple hundred employes in a large midwestern electronics firm, William P. Sexton, a management professor at Notre Dame University, suggests that theorists are more disturbed by routine work than the people who actually perform it.

While some jobs offer little opportunity to express one's self and to become involved, there are many other things that lead to satisfaction, says Sexton — a feeling of security, for one; or the existence of stable expectations; or the chance to socialize with fellow workers; or just daydream.

"The task is not montonous unless the individual is forced to concentrate on it," he says. "For the most part, the staff assistant must concentrate on his work. The line worker's concentration, in contrast, is not wholly required in the performance of his job. Perhaps it is he who is actually enjoying a sense of freedom!"

Undoubtedly, there are a lot of us who feel like square pegs uncomfortably squeezed into round holes, but common sense seems to support the professor. As the engineers would say, there's a positive feedback involved here.

The person who hates routine, who feels capable of doing something imaginative, will either not get into a noncreative job in the first place or try to get out of it.

★ ★ ★

The person who likes the role of cog in the gears of industry will stay there and be happy—if the academicians will let them.

Eye Panama Treaty With Caution

By EVERETT DIRKSEN

There were two incidents late in 1967 that, studied in their proper perspective, may throw some light on the cautious attitude of a great many United States senators on the new treaty with Panama that was proposed some time ago and that has not yet been submitted to the Senate for ratification.

DIRKSEN

The treaty and the studies made of the Panama Canal situation, together with the attempt in Panama to force its president to submit to impeachment, have moved many Americans to focus a penetrating eye on the importance of the canal and the importance of canals and connecting waters all over the world.

★ ★ ★

Americans had listened to the arguments against the treaty as presented by a group known as the American Emergency Committee on the Panama Canal. As minority leader I wanted the Republican senators to hear both sides of the argument for and against a new treaty with the Republic of Panama that could be so vital to the operation, in all kinds of world conditions, of the Panama Canal.

I called on two knowledgeable men to come in and speak to the senators They may not be identified here, because they were asked to speak with the utmost frankness and they were promised anonymity if they would do so.

The first man had been appointed by President Johnson to conduct negotiations with the government of Panama. He came before the weekly Policy Luncheon of the Republican senators and he presented his view in favor of the treaty.

Many penetrating questions were asked of him. He gave a good account of the arguments in favor of the treaty and the senators learned once again how important to our national well-being and safety is the safe operation of the canal that connects the Atlantic Ocean to the Pacific Ocean over a distance of so relatively few miles.

★ ★ ★

I had remembered the writings of a retired brigadier general of the U.S. Marine Corps who had argued very persuasively on what he described as the "choke waters," — or "choke channels" — of the world, the canals and straits that permitted water-borne commerce, and navies, to pass from one ocean to another. I invited him to take the other side of the Panama Treaty question.

★ ★ ★

The general told us why he was opposed to the new treaty with Panama. He then expanded his arguments by presenting a world perspective and demonstrating with maps and clear argument what could happen to unpleasantly affect world commerce if countries that had jurisdiction or sovereignty over "choke waters" were hostile or affected by hostile influence. We senators were reminded of these facts:

★ ★ ★

In the case of the Suez Canal, which joins the Mediterranean and the Red Sea, the world has just such a problem right now. Commerce is choked.

If the Malacca Straits between Malaya and Sumatra were restricted in any way, it would affect all ocean commerce.

★ ★ ★

If access from the Atlantic to the Mediterranean by way of the Straits of Gibraltar were in any way interdicted the results could be disastrous and it is one reason why Great Britain has steadily carried on a campaign to take the straits out from under Spanish jurisdiction.

It would be equally disastrous in the case of the Dardanelles, which joins the Aegean Sea and the Black Sea.

★ ★ ★

At neither of those meetings between the Republican senators and the experts on the Panama Canal was there a show of hands or an effort to ascertain exactly how the members felt, but I can write this: It was the best geography lesson that senators have had since they put aside their geography books in high school and it was a necessary lesson on the importance of keeping the "choke waters" of the world open to the commerce of the world.

The senators will cast their most penetrating eye on the Panama Treaty when it is submitted for ratification.

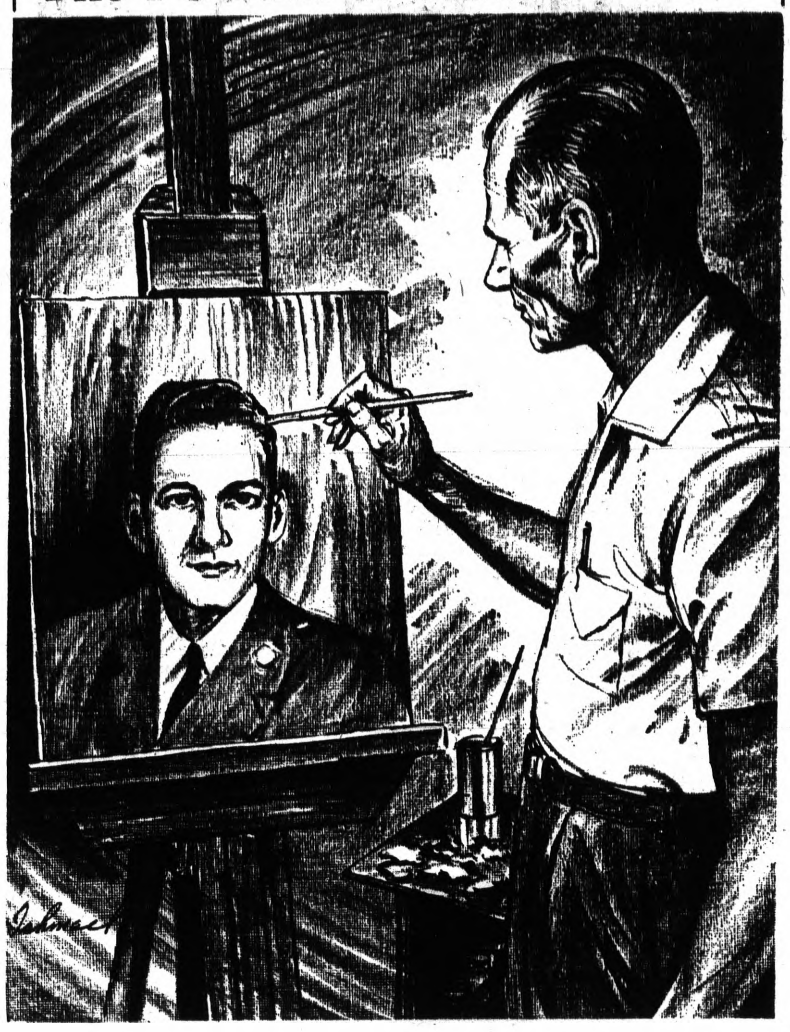
The POWER of FAITH by WOODI ISHMAEL



H. Pierce Day, a proofreader for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, is also an artist—with a special mission of love and service. He paints portraits, without charge, for the families of servicemen from that area who have been killed in Vietnam. At present he has completed 11, with 10 more in progress, and has requests for 30 more.

The response has been overwhelming and Day spends every spare minute at his easel hoping to ease the pain of those who have had a loss. He knows and understands their needs, for he has two sons and a son-in-law in service. One is a gunner on a helicopter in Vietnam.

He has had to move out of his little studio into the living room because parents and other relatives of casualties spend so much time with him. "I have to have their help," he says. "I've never seen these boys. It is a difficult thing to do." He works from photographs and snapshots and needs guidance on the color of hair, eyes and complexions. "I almost get to know these boys," he declares. "It's a wonderful feeling. What I strive for is expression, compassion, and faith."

Confident Living:

Practice Creative Anticipation

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Years of failure, job after job, then he changed and became outstandingly successful. The dramatic turning point came when he learned to practice an important law of mind action.

DR. PEALE

The father of this young man came to me and said, "What can be done to help my son? I put him through a topflight college. Then I used my influence to get him a good job. He lost it. I got him another. He lost that one.

★ ★ ★

He has been handed half a dozen fine opportunities, but the story is always the same. He fails at everything and he is now almost 30 years old. What can we do for him?"

We convinced the father that his son needed counseling. An appointment was made with a psychologist who gave him a comprehensive aptitude test. The results showed he was outstandingly qualified for personnel work. This surprised him, but he seemed inclined to try it.

The psychologist then said, "In my opinion this fellow requires something more basic than just a different line of work. He needs to learn the law of creative anticipation."

★ ★ ★

Creative anticipation . . . It was the first time I had heard the phrase. The psychologist explained, "The trouble with this young man is that he always expects the worst. He must be taught confidently to expect the best. He must practice creative anticipation."

Emerson referred to this when he warned that what you deeply expect you tend to get. Your habitual expectations attract corresponding circumstances and events.

When the young man started practicing creative anticipation creative things started happening. For years he had lived from day to day expecting to meet trouble or opposition at every step and grimly assuming that he would mess things up. Now he learned to think confidently, expecting good things to happen.

Twenty years have passed since this man achieved that change. Recently I was in the city where he now lives and called at his office. He is today the most successful man in his line in that city and heads a large force of people. He expressed thankfulness for having been helped to find himself.

★ ★ ★

"That law of creative anticipation is really something," he declared. "Of course with each problem I carefully consider the contingencies. I give it plenty of hard thinking. But I do so optimistically, believing I will find a good solution. I practice creative anticipation."

In thinking and living just as in mathematics and physics, things are governed by cause and effect. Do a certain thing and you get a certain result. Everything in this world proceeds according to law. Similarly we can improve ourselves by the use of applicable laws and the law of creative anticipation is terribly important.

★ ★ ★

Closely related to the law of creative anticipation is another principle, the law of wholeheartedness. Life denies its best to people who will not give their all to it.

A famous Canadian hockey coach said that no man can ever be a really great athlete who is a holdout. To be a star performer one must be an all-out. This is as true of success in living as it is in athletics.

Success does not come to the holdouts. The individual who achieves anything is the one who believes he can and he is the type who throws himself wholeheartedly into advancement toward his goal.

★ ★ ★

We all face difficulties, hardships, crises. And oftentimes we anticipate the worst and we freeze, we cannot function. But by substituting creative anticipation and by "throwing" mind and heart over the obstacle you can overcome it.

The rest follows the thrust of the mind. Consistent application of the two laws — creative anticipation and wholeheartedness — can make anyone a more successful person.

Washington Notebook:

RFK Feeds Hand Likely to Bite

By NOEL GROVE

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A strange kind of truce prevailed between Kennedy and McCarthy forces for a few moments at campaign headquarters in Omaha, Neb.

A staff member in McCarthy's headquarters appeared in the enemy camp with a McCarthy news release in his hand. The Kennedy men tossed off a nervous joke, saying, "Well, we'll trade you, one of yours for one of ours."

★ ★ ★

"No! No!" said the McCarthy worker. "You don't understand. We want to borrow your mimeograph machine to run this off — we don't have one."

After a short, shocked silence, the Kennedy man and the McCarthy man went down the hall to Kennedy duplicating facilities and together they ran off the McCarthy news release.

Which is probably as close to "running for" an opposing candidate as any Democrat is likely to do until after the convention in Chicago.

Fame has its price, as Sen. Eugene McCarthy has discovered.

The Minnesotan was asked recently what personal effects he had noticed as a result of rising from an obscure midwestern senator to a position of national recognition and a reckoning power in presidential politics.

★ ★ ★

"Well," said the droll candidate, "I've noticed since New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Indiana that the introductions of me are getting shorter. I guess they figure they don't have to explain what I'm doing now, or maybe that it would take too long to do so.

★ ★ ★

"And now I'm whisked to my room via a food elevator, instead of the regular elevator, and people are starting to complain about my clothes — that I never wear striped ties, and all my suits are blues and grays.

"Almost every day now, I get a striped tie in the mail."

Poor People's March leader Dr. Ralph Abernathy doubled up Mississippi Negroes with laughter when he took a wry slap at whites while recruting marchers in Mount Beulah, Miss.

"We sat down in a restaurant the other day," he told the auditorium full of Mississippi Negroes, "and had some hominy and cornbread, and it was real good.

★ ★ ★

"And then we had some black-eyed peas and some ham, and we really enjoyed that.

"After that we had a big piece of apple pie, and that was real good, too.

★ ★ ★

"The white proprietor came over and said to us, 'I just wish I could eat like that.'

"Well," I told him, "you have taken my money, you have taken my rights, you have told me where I can live and where I can't live, and you have taken my vote.

"And now you want to take my appetite as well."

Value of Open Housing Discussed by Reader

Regarding the Open Housing legislation, I feel that all Negroes should have the opportunity to live where they want to instead of living where they are forced to. I live in a sterile community and I would welcome the change it would bring if families were of mixed race. It would bring better understanding of the world as a whole.

Urges Support of Human Relations Groups

If this were not a racist society, one would see Negroes shopping, driving, walking, playing, working, praying, dining, and living in every city in America. In truth, all but a fraction of the black population is concentrated in the urban areas. Almost every suburb of Detroit and Pontiac has a human relations group expending a real effort to promote understanding and friendship between races. It would benefit Mr. and Mrs. America to look into the organization and lend support.

Teen-Age Boy Gives His Views on Unions

When unions get pay hikes for their members, the company has to raise its price of what it sells to make ends meet. Then the food industry has to raise prices to meet demands of their employes. Unions have to be in our society, but I feel they are going too far.

Question and Answer

Do non-residents who pay City income tax have to pay the 10 per cent surtax for the use of Pontiac General Hospital and the $5.00 fee for a library card? What do we get in return for the tax?

TAXATION WITHOUT REPRESENTATION

REPLY

Removal of the surtax and library fee have been under consideration by the City Commission, but so far nothing has been done to change the present policy. Finance Director Gallagher tells us that in addition to Pontiac being the economic backbone of this area, non-residents who work here are provided with streets, lights, water, police and fire protection, etc., as well as benefiting from services which the City provides for the large industries where they are employed.

He Looks Down on Hawaii— and Has Thrill of His Life

By EARL WILSON

HONOLULU — Instead of vacationing in France this summer, many friends of mine will be coming to Hawaii, U.S.A. They can get away from it all and also from deGaulle.

To visit Hawaii and even to be Hawaiian is getting to be "in." Leaving Waikiki, we flew about 20 minutes over to the new Hotel Sheraton Kauai (pronounced Cow-eye) on Kauai Island — and then helicoptered over that wondrous island, in my most thrilling — and terrifying — flight except those I took on and off aircraft carriers in Vietnam.

WILSON

Our pilot Jack Harter 'coptered us up and over mountain tops, down into the Canyon of Lost Souls, up into the Valley of the 1000 Waterfalls, and then we hovered over Wai-mea Canyon, called "the Grand Canyon of the Pacific."

For almost an hour, we skimmed the ridges and hung above those great gaping canyons, frequently wondering why we'd come.

"Greatest adventure of my life," people say afterward. Costs about $40 and it's unavailable in Paris.

★ ★ ★

Then we sat at the edge of the ocean sipping mai-tais and "Sheraton Bloody Marys" — with celery and salt on the rim of the glass — and talked of the lovely Hawaiian superstitution:

"The menehunes . . . Hawaiian leprechauns . . .

"There's an ancient belief that you may leave a glass of gin on a ti leaf outside your window when you go to bed, and make a wish.

"If the gin is gone from the glass when you get up, your wish will come true.

"The menehunes will have drunk the gin, become happy, and will grant your wish."

"I got hair for the rest of my life without any pain and I can wear it in the shower or swimming," says Ted, who figures Sessler'll makes millions out of bald heads.

State Hospital Official Invited

The director of community relations for Pontiac State Hospital has been invited to present part of the program in a two-day conference for hospital coordinators in Oshkosh, Wis., on Tuesday and Thursday.

PANARETOS

Ted Panaretos has held his post since 1959.

Superintendent of the facility Dr. D. W. Martin, in the hospital's latest newsletter, complimented Panaretos on his invitation and stated, "Thanks to him our community relations program is becoming known all over the country."

★ ★ ★

At the conference, presented by the Wisconsin Division of Mental Hygiene, Panaretos will give his views on programs using community volunteers, one of his duties in Pontiac, and will take part in three other phases of the presentation.

He holds a master's degree in social work from the University of Michigan and was casework supervisor at the mental hospital before assuming his present duties.

Panaretos lives at 53 Elizabeth Lake and he and his wife Jean have a son, Jimmie.

something greater

Natural science and human invention are breaking through many old barriers, but men are still unsatisfied . . . still reaching out for something greater . . . still looking for a star to follow. It was glimpsed long ago in the redeeming love and power of Christ Jesus, whose entire life pointed to the underlying spiritual laws of all existence. There can be nothing greater. Hear a public lecture on "Christian Science: Religion for a Scientific Age" by GORDON F. CAMPBELL, C.S.B., a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

National Hospital Week to Be Observed Locally

Pontiac hospitals will observe National Hospital Week beginning tomorrow with exhibits and employe dinners the main features.

Theme for the week is "Your Hospital-People Caring for People."

★ ★ ★

Harold B. Euler, Pontiac General Hospital administrator said: "In recent years, the public's attention has been focused on the tremendous technological advances hospitals have made in patient care . . . but unfortunately it is too often forgotten that human hands must operate the machines.

"Technology is useless without technologists," he added.

200 CLASSIFICATIONS

Euler pointed out that nearly three employes are needed to care for each patient admitted to Pontiac General. There are more than 200 job classifications within the hospital's walls.

Health careers will be the subject of displays and information booths to be in the Pontiac General lobby all next week.

★ ★ ★

General tours of the hospital will be given also to area schoolchildren during the special week.

Pontiac General will honor its employes at the annual award dinner Tuesday at 7 p.m. at Devon Gables, Long Lake and Telegraph, Bloomfield Township.

WILL BE FETED

Employes with 10 years service or more will be feted at the dinner.

At St. Joseph Mercy Hospital the observance of National Hospital Week will also include an employe award dinner. Some 180 employes will be honored at an awards dinner in a downtown Detroit restaurant.

★ ★ ★

Service pins also will be presented the St. Joseph dinner.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital officials will be on hand Tuesday evening when a career night is held at Kennedy Junior High School.

EQUIPMENT ON DISPLAY

The main feature of the week at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital will be an equipment display in the main lobby. Equipment demonstrations are scheduled each day from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

A Florence Nightingale tea is slated for 2 to 4 p.m. Thursday honoring Pontiac Osteopathic employes.

DENNIS BROWN

Teen of Week Is a Singer and a Swinger

Dennis Brown, Pontiac's Teen of the Week, is one of the Swingers at Washington Junior High School.

Singing is one of his favorite activities, and he belongs to a school singing group called the Swingers.

★ ★ ★

A ninth grader, he is also a member of the male chorus and is vice president of the ninth grade choir.

But, Dennis says, athletics is his major interest. He quarterbacked his Class A football team, was a regular on the varsity basketball team and is now on the track team.

B-PLUS AVERAGE

A member of the yearbook staff and student council representative, he maintains at least a B-plus classroom average.

Dennis says he plans to go to college and study either data processing or engineering. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Brown, 2035 E. Hammond Lake.

Chiliasm is the doctrine that Christ will come to earth in a visible form and set up a theocratic kingdom all over the world and thus usher in the millennium.

THE VERY BEST SERVICE IN THE WORLD FRETTER'S

Pontiac Press Photos

Three hundred and 64 days of the year, Mrs. Jesse Villereal of South Merrimac Street waits on her five sons. On Mothers Day they'll wait on her. From the left are Randall, 9; Bruce, 17; Gary, 19; Michael, 20 and Douglas, 5.

Janice Shephard, 17-year-old student at Pontiac Catholic High School, is like all teenagers. She likes pretty clothes. Adjusting one of her new spring dresses is her mother, Mrs. John Shephard of Judson Street.

Thoughtfulness Key Word for This Situation

By ELIZABETH L. POST

The following letter has been chosen as the prize-winning one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to Mrs. Goodridge of Pittsburgh, Pa.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mrs. Post: Could you suggest guidelines for the distribution of family possessions to the heirs. The complications include situations where persons try to be generous and fair by dividing tea sets, sets of dishes, etc.

Is there any approach the children could make to the parents that would lead to a happier dispersion than, for instance, a daughter asking for a sofa when the mother has decided the daughter does not need the sofa, etc? Very often there is disappointment, if not dispute

Should there be a council or should the present owners do as they see fit? Sometimes a will complicates division so that the only way to divide an estate is to sell it all or in part and divide the "losses." — Mrs. W. Goodridge

Dear Mrs. Goodridge: The only answer I can give for those in charge, or those who now own the articles is to adhere to the basic principles of etiquette, thoughtfulness and consideration of others.

The most practical approach is, as you suggest, a family council. At this time each one who is to be included in the distribution should list his first choices in order. Where there are wide inequities the person choosing the lesser item might be allowed to choose a second.

When choices overlap, the first decision should be made by drawing lots and thereafter by taking alternate turns.

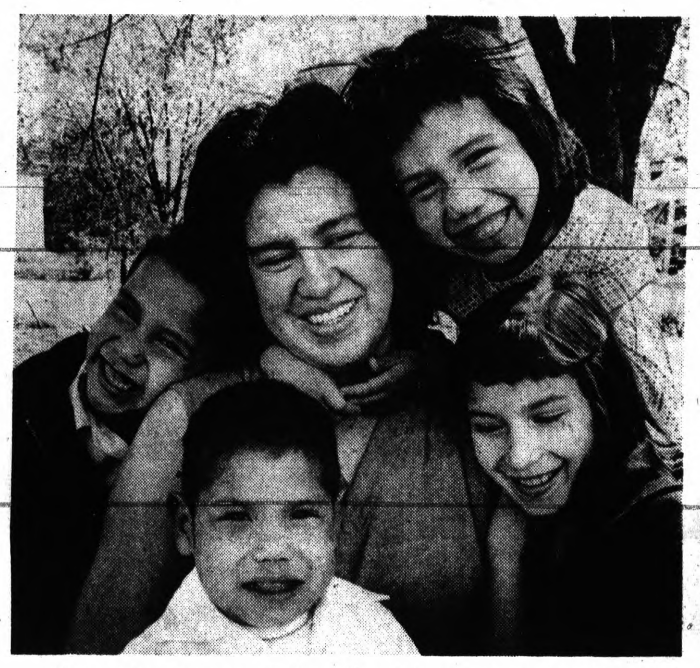
It is not up to the parent, or whoever has present ownership, to decide which things should go to whom. Of course, where the will states how things must be divided, there is no remedy except to abide by it. Sets which belong together should never be broken unless there are more items than one person can use.

This situation can be a real disaster, but if it is handled sensibly and unselfishly, it can end up by drawing family members closer than they have ever been before.



Mrs. Alta Tramper of Hess Street is a true native American, being part Chippewa and part Cherokee. Four of her eight children live in Oklahoma; the ones with her are (left) Harold, 6; Sally, 5 and Darlene, 10. In front is Will, 3. That Pontiac has a relatively large Indian population may come as a surprise to many readers.

'Queen of the Castle' Is Mom's Role, Sunday

Two little girls keep Mrs. Ralph Ratzloff of Pontiac busy from dawn to dusk. Sandy (left) is 2½. Lisa is a year old. Their solemn expressions show how impressed they are with the occasion, their first modeling job.

John Fernald to Address Confab in Windsor

WINDSOR, Ontario — John Fernald, one of the leading figures of the English-speaking theatre, will deliver the keynote address for the theatre conference of the 35th Dominion Drama Festival in Windsor on May 21.

Mr. Fernald is artistic director of the John Fernald Company of the Meadow Brook Theatre, professional repertory company in residence at Oakland University and director of the Academy of Dramatic Art at OU.

Mr. Fernald's address, titled "Words And Beyond", will set the tone for the conference theme The Playwright and the Director.

The annual Dominion Drama Festival brings together top theatre people from community theatres throughout Canada in competition for national honors.

Mr. Fernald's own company is currently presenting his production of Chekhov's "The Sea Gull" at Meadow Brook Theatre.

Gold Star Moms Meet

Mrs. Carl Rutherford opened her Michigan Street home Friday for the monthly meeting of Oakland County chapter 34, American Gold Star Mothers.

★ ★ ★

The business agenda included a report on the Easter gifts sent to veterans in the Oakland County Sanitarium.

Other business included analysis of the recent state convention attended by local delegates.

Full Speed Ahead for Lady Bird as She Carves 'Niche' in History

By FRANCES LEWINE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, a veteran campaigner, is following the President's edict to his official family and avoiding partisan politics — at least for the moment.

The First Lady aims to spend the next few months promoting the Johnson administration record — from the Head Start program for disadvantaged preschool children to the Rediscovering America project to encourage Americans to be tourists in their own country.

★ ★ ★

She has "nonpolitical" commitments that will take her to New York, Connecticut, North Carolina, Arizona and Oregon in the next two months.

Asked whether Mrs. Johnson will compaign for the Democratic presidential nominee after the August convention, her press secretary said:

"That depends on President Johnson — he'll give the signal."

HISTORY

Meanwhile, Mrs. Johnson is obviously very conscious that she and her husband are on their way into the history books.

From posing for a White House protrait to completing her diary, Mrs. Johnson is busily wrapping up her years as First Lady.

NICHE

She expects to have "my little niche" in the Lyndon B. Johnson Presidential Library in Texas, she recently told delegates of the American Association of Landscape Architects. They gave her a citation and honorary membership for her beautification efforts.

★ ★ ★

The landscape architects said Mrs. Johnson helped create a favorable climate for improving the nation's environment.

And, members of the First Lady's staff say, "she is the symbol, she doesn't want the credit, but it's given her," everytime some city area gets a face-lifting.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Johnson could probably rest on her laurels as America's beautification queen, but she'll be out in the remaining White House months planting a few more trees and speaking out for sprucing up cities and countryside.

A few days after Johnson's dramatic March 31 announcement that he would not be a candidate for the presidency again, Mrs. Johnson told guests at a White House Women Doers luncheon:

HOOKED

"Some of you might have been wondering whether we would be holding this luncheon. Let me say it clear and strong: we're going to be working until the day we leave this house on the programs we believe in. Actually, in the words of the young, 'I'm hooked' for the rest of my life."

Mrs. Johnson has pointed out nostalgically that she is participating in some of the traditional White House social events for the last time as First Lady.

Obviously, though, she has no intention of retiring completely from the Washington scene.

"I'll be back as someone's constituent," she keeps promising.

Group Cancels Tea

The fifth annual Mothers Day tea given by the Golden Age group will not be held Sunday at the YWCA as previously announced.

Auxiliary Groups Set State Meeting

The annual meeting of the Michigan Association of Hospital Auxiliaries, Southeastern District, will be held at the Wayne County Medical Society, 1010 Antitam, Detroit, May 28.

Each Auxiliary president will make a one-minute report, followed by annual reports and election and installation of officers.

★ ★ ★

A skit "Hospital Hootenanny" will be presented following the luncheon.

All Auxiliary members may attend.

Betrothal Announced

Rev. and Mrs. Ralph Dietzman of Melrose Park, Ill., announce the engagement of their daughter, Mavis Lucille, to Robert H. Sturgis.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sturgis of Easton Street, Independence Township. Aug. 24 vows are slated.

Calendar

SUNDAY

Jackson Chorale Concert, 3 p.m., Pontiac Northern High School. Tickets are available at door.

MONDAY

Women's Association of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, Inc., 1 p.m., J. R. Slavsky home on Dow Ridge. Mrs. James Rosenthal will speak.

PEO Sisterhood, chapter CL, 1:30 p.m., home of Mrs. H. W. Chapman of Maybee Road, Independence Township. Mrs. J. C. Frueh is cohostess. State convention report.

Junior Pontiac Woman's Club, 6:45 p.m. Airway Lanes. Pontiac Central High School Madrigals will perform under direction of Gilbert Jackson.

Parents Without Partners, Pontiac chapter, 9 p.m., Oakland County Supervisors Auditorium. Metro meeting with Pontiac chapter's members as hosts.

Rochester Branch Slates Benefit

Continuing a tradition begun last year, Rochester branch of the American Association of University Women is planning a benefit performance of the Avon Players for AAUW members and their guests.

The performance this year is "The Sound of Music" on May 19.

PROCEEDS

Proceeds of the benefit will be reserved for use in the College Faculty Program which establishes financial grants to eligible women wishing to return to college to prepare themselves as teachers at the collegiate level.

Preceding the 8 p.m. curtain, five open houses will be held in members' homes. The hosts are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Birch, Mr. and Mrs. David Boddy, the Donald Iodices, the Joseph Nedrows and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Owen.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. John Solverson, president, is general chairman for the event. She has been assisted by Mesdames Norman Daniel, John Gibson, Charles Lapp, Arthur Maynard, James Plutschuck and Samuel Warwick.

★ ★ ★

Your Husband Shouldn't Tolerate This Action From His 'Good Friend'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Joe and I have been married for 18 years and have had a fairly happy marriage. Joe isn't the jealous type, but I think he carries it to the other extreme.

ABBY

We've been very friendly with a rather weird couple who live across the street from us. Pete is 59, short, fat, and very unattractive. Aggie is his third wife. She's cute and sexy, and about 25 years younger than Pete. She obviously married him for his money.

★ ★ ★

Lately Pete is getting much too friendly with me. He puts his hands on me, and once made a direct proposition, which I turned down gracefully. It seems the four of us are spending more and more time together, during which time Pete tries to play "footsies" with me. Last night he even took his shoe off and practically had his foot in my lap. I loudly told him off, and my husband just laughed. Aggie doesn't care who Pete plays footsies with as long as it isn't her. (I think she must have something else going for her.)

Anyway, Pete suggested the four of us take a month's vacation together. I started making up excuses why we couldn't, but my husband was all for it.

Is our marriage sick? I don't care to spend all that time with this couple. Why should my husband want to? And why shouldn't he be annoyed that another man makes passes at his wife?

JOE'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Your marriage IS sick, and so is Joe in the area of husbandhood. A man who respects his wife and his marriage would not tolerate any monkey business, much less encourage it. Tell Joe that if he enjoys Pete's company, he should see him without you. And you could be right about Aggie's having something else going for her. Just make sure it's not Joe.

DEAR ABBY: Two weeks ago I met a very attractive eligible bachelor at a party. I am also "free" (divorced) and we seemed instantly attracted to each other. He asked me for my telephone number and said he'd call me. He also gave me his business card and wrote his home telephone number on the back. He said that he goes out of town on short business trips frequently, which is probably why I haven't heard from him as yet.

I have had my hand on the telephone several times to call him, but so far I have been able to resist the temptation.

Today I received an invitation to a very nice party for which I'll need an escort. Do I dare call him? I know he liked me, Abby. We just seemed to "click." If I call him to invite him to this party, do you think it will look like I am chasing him?

TEMPTED

DEAR TEMPTED: Yes. Don't call him. Most attractive, eligible males are also spoiled by women who pursue them. Don't join the pack. If the attraction was mutual, you'll be hearing from him.

DEAR ABBY: In answer to "Lonely in Atlanta," there is an answer to loneliness. I know, because four years ago I was in the same boat. I sat around feeling sorry for myself. I did my share of grumbling, too, then it dawned on me, nobody cared to be around a dripping faucet. So I dried my tears, washed my hair, polished my nails, dressed in my prettiest dress and went out into the world to see who needed me.

Well to make a long story short, there were plenty of less fortunate people than I, who needed me. First I contacted the local Red Cross to find what could be done and what I was qualified to do, I then became interested in Hospital Volunteers Service, now, I am so busy in one of the local hospitals, I haven't needed a handkerchief in months.

'Suburban Jungle,' Topic

"Family Life in the Suburban Jungle" is the subject of a continuing series sponsored by Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook, in which they are examining the golden ghetto in which they live and the pressures brought to bear on the suburban housewife.

Psychiatrist Dr. Allan K. Thorburn, director of Clinical Services at the Oakland Child Guidance Clinics in Pontiac will address the Churchwomen Tuesday on the topic of parent-child relationships.

THORBURN

Before coming to his present position in July, 1966, Dr. Thorburn served as a consultant for the public schools in Ann Arbor.

Following luncheon, Ruth Edberg, humanities teacher at Seaholm High School in Birmingham, will continue the theme with a presentation of a panel of students who will give their views of the same subject.

Interested persons may meet in the Guild Hall of the Church at 10 a.m. for the morning session. Luncheon is served at noon. Reservations for this are necessary. A nursery is provided for preschool children.

Income Increase Creates Demand for More Food

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — The rapid rise in individual incomes among the more advanced people of newly developing nations is creating a strong demand for world food.

Dr. Russell Larson, dean of the College of Agriculture at Pennsylvania State University, said increased individual incomes are reflected in a growing worldwide demand for grains to produce more meat, milk and eggs.

★ ★ ★

As income increases, said Larson, all societies want more animal proteins.

Present grain available per person per year in most less developed countries is about 400 pounds — most of which is used directly for human food.

★ ★ ★

In contrast, the high protein diet in the United States requires about 1,600 pounds of grain per person per year. About three-fourths of that poundage is fed to livestock and poultry to produce animal proteins.

Spend Free Time Teaching Others

Mentally ill adults and children in an Oakland County institution need the help of volunteers in many fields to find their way back to a normal balanced life.

Openings for volunteer work with children include teaching arts and crafts, dancing, drama, homemaking arts, reading, arithmetic and library work.

Other types of volunteers needed to work with the mentally ill are recreational therapy aids, music therapists, ceramics and crafts instructors, sewing and mending aids, beauticians, secretarial and office aids, dental office assistants, pharmacy aids, accounting aids and lobby receptionists.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County Volunteer Bureau in Birmingham can direct you to the volunteer position best suited to your time, ability and talent.

Installation Held

Mrs. Michael Gollogly was installed as president of Xi Gamma Alpha chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Wednesday.

Assisting her during the coming year will be Mrs. Donald DeVoe, vice president, Mrs. A. Byron Barnes, secretary and Mrs. Clyle Haskill, treasurer.

Mrs. Gollogly entertained the group in her Ellingrove Drive home in White Lake Township.

Maurice's Site of Reception

A reception at Maurice's followed the wedding today of Margaret Rose Fitzgerald and Pvt. Edward D. McMahon, USA, in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

★ ★ ★

ATTENDANTS

Sharon Fitzgerald was maid of honor with bridesmaids Patricia Garland and Maribeth Shore. Standing with the bridegroom were Richard McMahon as best man with ushers James Foley Jr. and Michael Kalinowski.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the newlyweds are the Maurice Fitzgeralds of South Jessie Street and the Thomas McMahons of Judson Street.

New Iota Eta Unit President Also Delegate

Mrs. Stig Danielson was elected president of Iota Eta chapter, Pi Omicron National Sorority and was also appointed delegate to the National Convention to be held at French Lick, Indiana in July.

Mrs. Ruthmary Wilds will serve as alternate delegate. The two will also function in same capacities at the Michigan State Convention in Lansing May 18-19.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. George Brinkman and Mrs. E. Verne McCall are in charge of the Sunday chapel service for the State convention.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Robert Dunham, vice president; Mrs. Paul L. Hoskins and Mrs. Joseph Chummings, secretaries and Mrs. Wilds, treasurer.

The June banquet and installation will be held at Oakland University June 6. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Buhl Burt by June 1.

Mrs. Hoskins hosted the meeting in her Lincoln Avenue home. She was assisted by Mrs. Burt.

Deep Saucepan

A five-inch deep 2½ quart saucepan is designed to prevent boilovers of foods which have a tendency to foam. The deep pan also holds frozen blocks of vegetables. It's available in gold or avocado green. Lid and pan have heavy duty non-stick coatings.

Case No. E-574

Take Care of Your Teeth

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-574: Dolly D., aged 4, needed dental care.

Her mother brought Dolly into the office of my son Daniel, the dental surgeon.

DR. CRANE

Daniel has a winning way with most children but occasionally he meets one who has been spoiled by a doting mamma.

"After working on her lower teeth," Daniel said, "I urged Dolly to lean over and spit out the saliva.

"But she wouldn't move. She just stared at me, stubbornly.

"So I told her if she didn't want to empty her mouth, that was O.K. with me, for I'd just work on her upper teeth.

"After a couple of minutes, the saliva was brimming over.

"I ordered her to lean over and spit it out. She refused. Instead, she tried to spit in into the paper napkin that my dental assistant had placed around her neck.

"So I grabbed her and held her head over the basin, insisting that she spit. She did.

★ ★ ★

"Then I placed her back in the chair and told her that she couldn't play such games with me! I informed her that she might continue to do so with her mother and get away with it, but when she was in my dental chair she must act like an adult, instead of a baby. Understand?"

Dolly nodded her head, "Yes."

And thereafter Dolly has never caused any trouble.

In fact, she has since become a great rooter for Daniel, who clowns around with child patients and also wins the younger ones by letting them select a small toy out of his "Pirate Chest," if they have behaved properly while seated in his operative chair.

Daniel's office suite is on the ground floor, facing the street, and many youngsters drop in without appointments just to chat with him or tease him.

★ ★ ★

This may not augur well for efficiency but does show the new attitude of youngsters toward the modern dental surgeon.

Instead of dreading the dentist and shunning his office, modern children actually seem to relish visiting their dental surgeon.

And that's a great advancement in medical science, for our 32 teeth are the foundation stones of good health all our lives.

With fluoridation, plus regular tooth brushing and early dental care, our present crop of children can easily reach the age of 75 years without requiring false teeth at all!

Such full dentures are a boon to us of the older generation who now need them.

For they remove the sunken cheeks, puckered mouth and shortened chin-to-nose dimension that makes us look like an old witch.

So dentures can be a woman's major cosmetic improvement after middle age.

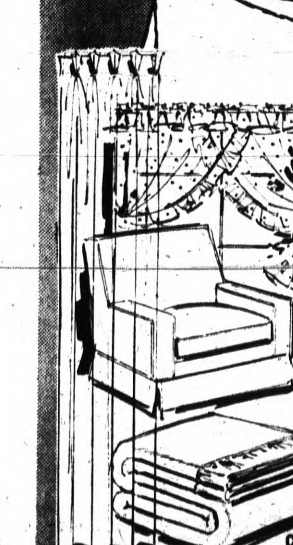
★ ★ ★

But they never work as efficiently as our own natural teeth, for people with false teeth tend to shun steaks and raw vegetables, thus becoming victims of secondary anemia.

★ ★ ★

The usual American is offered plenty of vitamins, protein, sugar and fat in our typical three square meals per day.

But there is often a lack of iron in the diet of middle aged folks so their red blood corpuscles routinely show lower hemoglobin than is correct.



A great little gadabout for daytime vacation wardrobes is the pantsdress that combines cool comfort and pure fashion. Crazy Horse makes this one in an heraldic print on easy-care chino fabric of Eastman Kodel polyester and rayon that excels in no-muss, no-fuss performance. In red and navy or marigold and chocolate on white.

Junior Editors Quiz on ATOLLS

QUESTION: How did atolls come to appear in the open ocean?

ANSWER: Probably the most fascinating small islands are the little circular atolls, so many of which are present in the Pacific South Seas region. They are made of coral, which once formed on the upper crater rim of a volcanic mountain, when such a mountain had sunk below the sea's surface.

After the coral grew up and reached the surface, soil was gradually formed. Vegetation grew and there developed a fairy-like ring of coconut trees on a base of gleaming sand, circling around a shallow interior lagoon, generally with an opening to the sea.

Think of yourself as one of the castaways at upper left. You see a little cloud far away, and realize that such clouds often form above oceanic atolls; so you paddle toward it.

As you enter the lagoon, you see many fish swimming in the shallow water. You climb a coconut tree and throw down a lot of the big round nuts. You slice the end off a nut—there is delicious cool coconut milk inside of it. Ripe coconuts give excellent meat, and with fish you have speared you sit down to a wonderful South Seas dinner.

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World Yearbook if your question, mailed to Junior Editors on a postcard in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

Slate Tops Hearth In Redwood-Paneled Country Kitchen

Home Designed With the Sun in Mind

BY JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

"My husband," said Mrs. James W. Hulen, "designed our home to fit our needs and take advantage of our lot. For instance, our country kitchen is in the front of the house because of the sun's path.

"Had it been at the back, it would have been too hot to cook dinners in the summer. Plus by being in front, we can take advantage of the beauty of the woods across the road."

LEDGEROCK

Paneled in redwood, the country kitchen features a Tennessee ledgerock fireplace with a raised hearth topped in slate. On the mantel are a copper pitcher, copper-washed pewter candlesticks with yellow candles and copper Turkish expresso urns.

Bright yellow chrysanthemums in a wicker container camouflage the firepit when it is not filled with a crackling fire to take away the spring chill.

★ ★ ★

Providing light for the maple deacon bench and the wing-back sofa covered in an Early American print of brown tones and bittersweet accents are a black Tole floor lamp and a lantern-wheel hanging fixture.

★ ★ ★

Sheer yellow cafe curtains hang from brass rods.

A louvered hanging door leads into the central hall and the formal living room. White walls and off-white antiqued satin draperies complement the room's pale blue carpeting.

COLOR REPEAT

To emphasize the floor covering, Mrs. Hulen chose a quilted cotton floral in shades of blue, white, lavender and green for the sofa. Above the sofa are grouped Parisian street scenes in water colors, a steel etching of Venice and fruitwood framed children's pictures.

★ ★ ★

Dominating the end wall of the living room is a walnut stereo. Oval framed silhouettes of the Hulens' eight-year-old daughter Holly dress the wall. Decorator accents include a white bowl and pitcher planter and gold etched candlesticks with sandalwood candles.

★ ★ ★

Femininity reigns in Holly's bedroom with its white walls and white carpeting. The dust ruffle, canopy and valance are in blue dotted swiss. Repeating the blue is the room's quilted cotton bedspread.

PRIVACY

Folding louvered half shutters dress the lower portion of the windows to allow light passage and still provide a measure of privacy. A blue candle centers the flower-edged candlestick on the window sill.

Furniture in the room is white with the exception of the miniature black Hitchcock rocker. Yellow and white daisies spill over the edge of a wicker May basket to add a touch of whimsy and spring to the over-all decor.

As Twig Is Bent So Grows Tree

Environment has a lot to do with the way a tree grows.

Most people wouldn't recognize the artistically contorted pines found along the Oregon coast as the same tree that grows so straight and tall in inland sections of the west that the Indians named it Lodgepole pine and used it for their tepee poles.

Oregon holds one-fifth of the nation's timber resources.

The National Education Association is the world's largest professional organization.

Ready to Remodel, Check Heat Source

Now that winter is over, millions of homeonwers will be busy adding rooms, finishing their basements and attics, and in general making their homes larger than they presently are.

A winter season usally reveals how cramped and crowded most homes are, and people can't wait for spring to arrive so that they can add the space that will make life at home less hectic.

It should be remembered that in at least 90 per cent of all renovation work, it is necessary to add heating equipment. Heating is generally overlooked until the very last moment, yet it is vital to comfort. Without heating, most homes in this country would be uninhabitable.

Adding additional heat, can be relatively simple if the house is equipped with a hydronic (modern hot water) system. Baseboard heating panels can be added to the present system quite easily, and if the new room will have a separate function, it can be hooked up to the boiler on its own individual zone.

A government that is run by women is called a gynarchy.

Home Needs Quality Rather than Eye Appeal

Love at first sight is as risky when choosing a house as when choosing a mate.

Sometimes, potential homeowners are so impressed with a house's good looks, that they don't take time to check its quality before buying.

After they've moved in, they find that the house has faults or requires expensive maintenance — and the romance begins to fade.

Determining the durability, serviceability and low maintenance of a house before you buy will assure more than your long-term satisfaction with it. It also safeguards your investment in terms of resale value.

★ ★ ★

Here are some hits:

- Visit the house you like on a rainy day. It's the best time to check for possible roof or basement leakage.

★ ★ ★

Danger signs of these potential problems are wet spots on attic rafters or moisture on basement walls.

- Be sure the house is fully insulated. Batting should be at least six inches thick in ceilings, though it can be less in walls and floors.
- Check to see if all windows (not just the "showy" windows in front) are high-quality units that will last the life of the house. They should be weather-tight and have smoothly-operating hardware.

★ ★ ★

If the windows have insulating glass, it will save the added expense and periodic maintenance of storm sash later.

★ ★ ★

Look for low-maintenance materials. These might include exterior siding, wind-resistant roofing, and vinyl-clad windows which do not require painting and will not pit, rust or corrode.

- Make sure all lumber is seasoned and of quality grade. Interior millwork, such as basement boards and corner and ceiling trim, should be smooth and properly mitered.
- Check the hardware used on interior doors and cabinets as well as on the front door. High quality and decorative hardware in the interior is usually a sign of quality construction.
- If the house is furnished, try to envision how it will look with your own furniture. What is the condition of the floors under the carpeting?
- If you can't determine for yourself whether a house's beauty is more than skin-deep, ask the help of a professional appraiser.

Planes are made for every cutting and smoothing job.

Foam Rubber Hints

Only two of the many types of foam rubber now on the market need concern the do-it-yourselfer. One is the solid sheet or slab sold in thicknesses from ¼" to 2" and used primarily where relatively thin padding is required.

The other is pincore foam, sold in thicknesses up to 6" and recognizable by the numerous holes running through it.

In making a purchase of this material, remember that each of the types described above comes in different degrees of firmness or density, which explains why one piece of foam rubber may cost more or less than another of the same size.

★ ★ ★

Also, the thicker type of foam can be purchased in a crowned shape, as well as the conventional flat kind, for special purposes as, for instance, in the making of rounded, extra-plump cushions.

FOAM RUBBER

You can have foam rubber cut to size in some stores, although others sell only what they have in stock. If you do decide to have it cut to size, be sure to bring in a pattern and see that it is cut ½" larger on all sides.

This extra margin will later be compressed and serve to keep your fabric covering tightly in place. If you do the cutting yourself, you can use ordinary scissors for foam up to 2" in thickness.

Larger pieces usually require a bandsaw or an electric upholstering knife.

★ ★ ★

The rubber fabricating cement used in most offices works especially well in the bonding of two pieces of foam.

The way to get an extra tight bond is to coat the two surfaces being joined with the cement and letting the cement dry without bringing together those surfaces.

SECOND COAT

Then apply a second coat to each surface. This time wait until the cement gets tacky, which will be no more than a couple of minutes. Bring the two surfaces together and let dry for about an hour.

The resulting bond will be far stronger than if you had applied only a single coat of the adhesive.

★ ★ ★

In fact, it is virtually impossible to tear apart two pieces of foam rubber which have been joined properly by this method.

Red Chinese Women Also Engage in Plots

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Foreign News Analyst

NEW YORK—It is not only the ruling men who struggle for power in Red China but also their women.

One of the more interesting features of Peking's "cultural revolution" has been its effect on the fortunes of the wives of China's top leaders.

Particularly spectacular has been the meteoric rise of Chiang Ching, Mao Tse-tung's fourth wife, who is reported to be the real power behind the Red throne of her aged and ailing husband.

Things are still different in Red Russia. Until ex-Premier Nikita Khrushchev brought his amiable Nina to the United States in 1959, the wives of the Kremlin's leaders played minor roles, if any, in Russia's political life.

To this day most of them are faceless women.

ENGAGE IN INTRIGUES

But in China the women, like their men, engage in palace intrigues and maneuver for power.

Teng Ying-chia, Premier Cho En-lai's wife, and Yeng Chung, the wife of Defense Minister Lin Piao, are reported to be wielding enormous political power.

But even they, it seems, are little more than amateurs compared with ambitious Mao and ruthless Chiang.

Chiang, at 53 Mao's junior by 20 years, did not reach her present position without a struggle. Her marriage to Mao was not popular with the Communist party bureaucrats who compared her unfavorably with the veteran revolutionary Ho Tse-chen to whom Mao was married when Chiang still was an unknown actress.

REGARDED AS UPSTART

Mao's close associates regarded Chiang as an upstart. Her detractors have suggested that she came to Yenan with the idea of marrying "the man of all men" to compensate for her lack of success in the sophisticated movie world.

Because she had been married several times before and had had a number of lovers who jilted her, Mao's friends even spread rumors that Chiang was a prostitute from Shanghai.

She was such a poor actress that Mao, after marrying her, ordered destroyed all films in which she appeared.

One such was "The Sons and Daughters of China" in which the playwright, Ten Han, recommended Chiang for a minor part. No wonder the unlucky playwright was bitterly denounced, humiliated and eventually jailed when Chiang became one of the top leaders of the cultural revolution.

NO FORGIVENESS

Mao's wife, it seems, is a lady who never forgives an insult.

The case of Wang Kuang-mei, attractive wife of Liu Shao-chi, still president of China and Mao's toughest rival, provides the clearest example of personal vengeance at work.

Imagine the jealousy aroused in the aging Chiang by the official recognition in the early 1960s of the younger and better-educated Wang Kuang-mei as China's first lady.

That Wang Kuang-mei's superior physical attractions were indeed a sore point is suggested by the frequent references in Red Guard criticism of her "capitalistic taste in clothes."

SEMITRANSPARENT DRESS

She is described, for instance, as having appeared at a reception in a semitransparent dress, causing one Communist bureaucrat (now disgraced) to fawn on her "like a Pekingese dog."

According to reports from China, there is much speculation in Peking as to the reasons behind Chiang's rapid climb to power in 1966.

★ ★ ★

It is variously acscribed to her own ambition, to Mao's growing doubts about the loyalty of his old associates and to the scheming of would-be successors to Mao like Lin Piao. The truth probably includes an element of all three.

Floor Upkeep Is Simplified

Once upon a time, so the storygoes, oak floors were difficult to keep clean and attractive. There may have been some truth to that.

Today, though, the story can be set down as a fairy tale. Modern materials and methods make the upkeep of oak floors a simple matter.

The latest development in this direction, further easing Mrs. Homemaker's housekeeping chores, allows her to skip waxing the floors.

NEW FINISH ONLY

It should be emphasized, perhaps, that this new no-wax policy prevails only with some of the new finishes, such as the urethane (also called polyurethane) types.

This kind of finish is becoming increasingly popular.

The material provides an excellent surface with long-wearing and low maintenance properties.

Most spills and soils can be wiped up readily with a damp cloth, and the floor can be kept clean easily by dry mopping.

At least one producer of amino resin type finish contends that no waxing is needed with its product.

MADE EASIER

Even with floors that require waxing, the task is made much easier now than formerly by use of liquid rubbing wax, which can be applied with a long-handled applicator.

In this category, for example, are floors finished with penetrating seal, another popular mar-resistant finish.

Soap-and-water scrubbing of oak floors long ago disappeared from Mrs. Homemaker's agenda.

FRENCH TWIST—Authenticity is the key to this French chandelier. Satin pure porcelain fonts with delicate rosebud design are topped with tall, finely etched glass chimneys, emanating from burnished brass arms. These curve gracefully from a distressed mahogany wood finished center spindle.

If your taste runs to the rich colors and patterns of Oriental rugs and to lavishly upholstered furniture, keep walls quiet but important by paneling them with straight-grained, light-toned softwood lumber.

Idaho white pine with its glints of silver can be a perfect backdrop.

Spring Plans Summer Fun

Do you have plans for building a backyard or pool-side patio this spring?

★ ★ ★

Keep in mind the fact that using dependable, quality building materials instead of cheaper products will save you money in the long run.

For example, surfacing the patio deck — and walls, in any — with ceramic mosaic tiles or quarry tiles will cut maintenance, repair and replacement expenses to the absolute minimum.

For hard cutting, your best tool is the hacksaw.

So You Are Moving

With population mobility on the increase and employee transfers by business firms a growing practice, the day may not be far off when an out-of-town move can force you to put your house up for sale much sooner than you planned.

If that day comes, there are five things to consider before you display a "for sale" sign. And there's also one thing you shouldn't do. Don't be panicked into selling for far less than your house is worth.

Check your employer to see if the firm will absorb such things as real estate agent fees or even take over the whole selling chore.

★ ★ ★

Consider renting. This may be advisable if the out-of-town venture may be of a "trial" nature and you might be coming back in a year or so. You also may be better off renting if the time of year or current market prevents your getting the price you should for your home.

Check your friends and neighbors for names of good real estate agents and consider giving the house to one agent on an "exclusive" basis for a period of 60 days or so.

★ ★ ★

A good agent, with this extra incentive, will frequently go all-out to sell the house faster.

Before you set your selling price, discuss it with your agent to see if it is realistic in terms of your house, neighborhood and current market conditions.

If your agent points out drawbacks to selling, such as peeling paint and cracked plaster, that are relatively easy to remedy, invest the time and money to have your house looking its best before you show it. A few dollars spent in patching up may be the difference between sale and no-sale.

A-Frame Is Winning Friends in Suburbia

DISTINCTIVE STYLING—Some unusual touches add individuality to this A-frame. Note the two outdoor decks over the front porch, with a long arch and an outside spiral staircase. Not seen is a rear patio, accessible via sliding glass doors from two bedrooms.

The chalet is winning new friends among suburban house planners, as well as among many city and suburban dwellers who want second homes.

This new house plan serves the two purposes well, with an A-frame exterior encompassing attractive chalet styling and a floor plan that is as easy to take care of as a year-round house as for vacation times at the shore or it the mountains.

★ ★ ★

Families of all sizes and income brackets will like its versatility. It should please the traditionalist who doesn't especially care for a modern house and yet find favor with the contemporary enthusiast because of its modern adaptation of the old-world chalet and its functional living plan.

KITCHEN

The enormous living room-dining room, combined with a U-shaped kitchen, offers informal living regardless of the use to which the house is put. The open plan, highlighted by the windows, doors and upper glass areas, should make everyone feel right at home.

★ ★ ★

The kitchen location makes it easy for family and guests to pitch in and help with the cooking, serving and cleaning up.

In any living scheme these days, there must be an area set aside for teen-age or special group activity.

★ ★ ★

This house has a recreation room with its own fireplace on the ground level, with ready access to the storage zone at the back where sports equipment and householding gear can be handled easily.

In good weather or semitropical locations. unusual outdoor areas will be utilized.

ROOFED PORCH

On the ground level, there is a roofed porch. A most engaging feature in a house of this type is a spiral staircase that connects this lower level area with the deck above. The folks on each level thus can join each other or keep their gatherings separate.

The lower porch is particularly good for cookouts in uncertain weather, since the grill is protected, but if the weather clears, the food trays can be taken to the upper deck via the staircase.

★ ★

On the first floor, there are two bathrooms, with a closet wall between, and a complete bathroom in the hall nearby.

An excellent feature, especially if it's lake or mountain property, is the broad patio at the back on this level, reached through sliding glass doors that form view windows for both rooms.

SECOND FLOOR

The second floor or upper level has a number of innovations and offers not only a good bedroom plan but a delightful, sheltered, outdoor sleeping balcony at the front.

The balcony is reached by a railed bridge from the bedroom area across the upper section of the living room. This will be a conversation piece as well as a practical addition to the basic plan.

★ ★ ★

Although this house is built on a concrete slab and is without a basement, the ground floor has householding adjuncts that will please the most demanding.

★ ★ ★

The storage area has a heater alcove and space for laundry equipment.

★ ★ ★

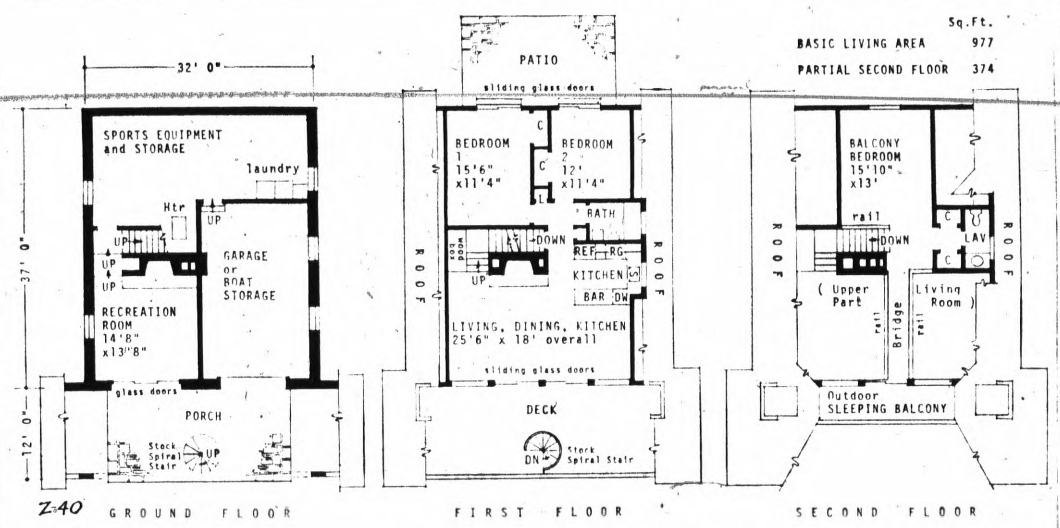
A lavatory is not shown, but could be added if required. Closet space is good on all levels.

★ ★ ★

Over-all dimensions are a modest 32' be 37', with 977 square feet of living area on the first floor and 374 square feet on the partial second floor.

Z-40 STATISTICS

Design Z-40 has a combined living room-dining room-kitchen on the first floor, plus two bedrooms, a bath, an outdoor deck and a rear patio. A third bedroom and a lavatory are on the partial second floor, with a recreation room, laundry area and large storage space at ground level. The garage could be used for the storage of a boat if desired. The over-all dimensions of the basic house are 32' by 37', not including the outdoor areas but including the garage. Habitable area on the first floor totals 977 square feet; on the partial second floor, 374 square feet.



FLOOR PLANS—Although basic house has small dimensions, three levels provide plenty of living space for either year-round or vacation living. Outdoor living areas, so important in a home of this type, are abundant, including a front deck and rear patio on the main level.

'New Soil' Spurs Growth

Soil substitutes have caught on with the home gardener. First used by professional growers, the new compounds came about as a result of the shortage of good top soil in many areas.

Best known of the new recipes is a mixture of sphagnum peat moss, horticultural vermiculite, trace elements and plant nutrients (trade name Redi-Earth: a product of Zonolite Division, W. R. Grace & Co.). The formula was the best of many tested at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., in response to appeals from commercial growers in New York state.

The resultant lightweight blend proved itself with phenomenal results in propagation of tomatoes, annuals, and perennials. A consumer package market-tested in 1966 in Fort Wayne, Ind. met with exceptional response from home gardeners. The product was next made available in selected additional markets, as rapidly as production facilities could be provided.

The "new soil" is especially suited to patching bare spots in lawns; in flower beds; for transplanting of bedding plants, trees and bushes; and for potting soil.

Redi-Earth is obtainable at garden supply outlets.

BUILDING A POOL is a project that adds charm to the garden and leads to interest in aquatic plants and species of fish — all fascinating hobbies. SHELF BORDER — Railing around an open stairwell yields space for books, art objects with shelving added on the outside. Railing is built of clear-finished ponderosa pine to match stairwell paneling. One-by-eight inch pine boards make shelves wide enough for most books.

Use Stain and Varnish Together

Stains color wood but do not always offer adequate protection from wear, foods and liquids. After staining wood furniture or paneling, coat the surface with varnish or lacquer.

You'll need at least two coats to make the gloss uniform.

European Trend

The growing influence of Spanish and French styles in homebuilding and townhouses construction is increasing the use of ceramic tile in entryways, living rooms, hallways and courtyards.

Private forst owners are planting more than a billion trees a year.

COMFORTABLE COLLECTION—Upholstered pieces lend elegance to a living room setting. A tufted-back 84-inch French sofa is upholstered in a light blue antique satin, while the high-backed chair is a blue velveteen. Both feature an antique white finish. Austrian curtains and blue swagged draperies provide a formal window treatment and the dark-finished lounge chair introduces a new color hue—antique gold, again in satin.

Air Pollutant Burns Eastern White Pine

Cornell University plant pathologists say that needle blight or tip burn in eastern white pine may be caused by ozone, a toxic gas known to be a major air pollutant, rather than certain types of fungi.

White pines are important forest and ornamental trees. Injuries caused by ozone are more conspicuous and troublesome on these trees. A minute amount of ozone can cause acute injury to the needles in a few hours, especially during the early growing period.

★ ★ ★

Ozone, generated naturally, is one of the most common pollutants from automobile exhaust fumes, the scientists said.

★ ★ ★

"When the needles are wet, the effect of the toxicant is far greater," Prof. Wayne A. Sinclair reported. "High temperature and bright sunlight after exposure appear to enhance the injury."

When nailing boards or moldings, use blunt-tipped nails to prevent splitting.

Keep Varnish From Bubbling

Varnish should never be shaken or stirred. This leaves bubbles in the dried film.

★ ★ ★

It should be flowed on with a well loaded brush and a minimum of stroking. Finish with a nearly dry brush, working parallel to the grain.

Tips on Designing a New Bathroom

Planning a new bathroom can and should be a soul-satisfying experience. That's because you have such a wide choice of equipment. Here are some helpful tips.

Make sure your bathroom is big enough. Until recently a 5x7-foot size was considered adquate. Now rooms 7x9 or larger are coming into vogue. The extra space enables you to install a more luxurious tub and a twin-bowl lavatory that will double the bathroom's utility and quadruple its look of elegance.

It doesn't pay to cut corners on quality. The better-quality equipment is most efficient and retains its good looks longer. The siphon-jet is the best water closet because it's got the best flushing action and is the most quiet. Off-the floor types make bathroom cleaning easier.

It's important to have quality faucets and other brass that will not corrode from contact with water. The better showerheads come with varied settings, from neddle-spray to full-flow. There are automatic controls that enable you to preset the temperature before turning on the water. The temperature then remains the same regardless of changes in water pressure due to water's being used elsewhere in the house.

★ ★ ★

Don't skimp on the size of your medicine cabinet. It's wonderful to have enough room for all your toiletries, and the large mirror doors give your room a look of luxury.

★ ★ ★

Choose your colors carefully. The most popular colors currently are tan, blue and pink, followed by green and yellow. Whatever you choose, make sure it's something you'll want to live with for a long time.

A shower enclosure is another useful item that gives your bathroom a "rich" look.

Final tip: Visit a plumbing contractor's store to see what's available in fixtures, faucets, accessories and floor and wall coverings. Ask him to explain the differences in product quality. He'll be glad to do so.

Glass Bay for Interest

Stock bay windows make it easy to change a house from drab to dramatic.

They're available in assembled units of ponderosa pine.

Most styles have flanking windows that open for ventilation, and some have window seats with storage underneath.

Closet or Wall Holds Overflow

Make room for closet overflow by building a shallow utility closet along the wall or in a hallway.

Conceal the closet with folding louver doors of ponderosa pine.

Japan's Biggest

The world's largest wood building is located at Nara, Japan. It's known as the Daibutsuden of the Todaiji Temple.

One out of every four trips by air originates at one of New York City's three airport terminals.

Rug Information Found in New Color Booklet

"Open the Door to Herculon," a new four-color consumer booklet has recently been introduced by Hercules Inc.

This attractive, eight-page booklet is chock-full of carpeting and other decorating ideas for every room of the house — indoors and out with carpets.

A section of each page is devoted to "Carpet Cues" — giving informative advice on all phases of carpet buying. Tips on such items as padding, color, installation, are included to take some of the mystique out of shopping for carpets. In addition, there's an abridged dictionary of common carpet terms.

Booklets will be available through carpet shops, schools and consumer publications.

Free copies are also available by writing to: Hercules Inc., Fibers & Film Department, 910 Market Street, Wilmington, Del. 19899.

Look, Listen

Avoid Noise Headache

Renting or buying a condominium apartment was once largely limited to location, appearance of the building, the floor plan and the price.

But as the popularity of apartments grew, the public is discovering the importance of buildings designed for quiet and privacy. All the beauty of a new apartment fades if the walls are paper-thin and noise is transmitted through the floors.

★ ★ ★

A recent study by the Research Foundation of National Association of Home Builders indicates that in a 98-unit garden apartment studied, 98 per cent of the occupants could hear people walking upstairs and a high percentage heard noise through the walls.

ACTUALLY CHECK

The Insulation Board Institute suggests that prospective renters or buyers can now find apartments where the builder has engineered quiet into his properties. A simple check list readily discloses if the building is truly sound conditioned.

• Enter an apartment and observe if noise created in the hallway comes through. The door should be of the solid type and closely fitted into the frame. It should close into a vinyl gasket and the bottom should have a threshold closure.

• Wall Test — Never buy or rent until you have tested noise transmission through walls you will share with your neighbors. This so-called "common wall" can be constructed to reduce noise with special products such as sound deadening insulation board.

Have someone start a lively conversation in the next apartment to test the wall you might eventually share. Many experienced renters and buyers bring a transistor radio when they shop, using this for the noise source. The key question — does voice or radio penetrate enough to be annoying?

• Floor Test — Carpeting on the floor above helps, but your builder should also have used a special floor-ceiling system now available to reduce noise. The test here is simple — have a friend walk around above your apartment — just listen. Is the impact of heels disturbing? Can you stand it day after day?

• Mechanical Noise — The NAHB research illustrated widespread complaints on plumbing and appliance noise from 70 per cent of the renters.

Plumbing noise can easily be checked. Try this equipment in the next apartment, in the apartment overhead. And don't neglect the appliances. Quieter models and improved installation methods are available to your builder. Place emphasis on the garbage disposal unit and the dishwasher. Both these appliances are being singled out as key noise offenders.

Vary Heights for Comfort

"His" and "her" lavatories in the bathroom often work out better if they are not on the same level. A man stands to shave, comb his hair or wash his face. A woman applies or removes her make-up while seated.

Consequently, basins at standing height are most suitable for him while sitting height is best for her.

Surrounding both areas with counters, walls and floors of ceramic tile will make cleaning up easy, and prevent stains from spillage or splashing of unguents, oils and lotions.

Credit bureaus in the U.S. have information on about 110 million American citizens.

Home Ownership Retirement Buffer

Many couples who have been house or apartment renters are faced with the fact that they are no longer able to keep up their standard of living on retirement income.

It is a good point for young married people to mull over in these days of transient living that make rentals more attractive than home ownership.

After all, who wants to sell a house every few years.

★ ★ ★

But retirement doesn't create the difficulties faced by couples who must forfeit a way of life when they grow old. It is usually a case of unwise money planning in youth.

Years ago a New York attorney kept track of expenses of rented and owned homes for his own amazement.

★ ★ ★

His conclusion was that it was more profitable to rent, if one was realistic about the proportion of income that should be expended for rent and invested a portion of the remainder.

RENTER ERRS

And that is the rub. It is where the home renter errs in judgment. He sets his standard of living too high for his income and neglects to save money.

★ ★ ★

On the other hand, a house owner is locked in enforced investment. He must make his mortgage payment and repairs come what may — a deal of hot dogs, beans, no-vacation and other sacrifices might need to be made but, if he has made a good real estate investment, the value of his home should increase with the years.

★ ★ ★

There are other advantages ot owning a home besides the psychological ones that involve knowing the roof will always be overhead (if you can afford to keep it in repair.)

TAX SAVINGS

For one thing, there are tax savings — interest on the mortgage may be deducted from federal income tax, and it can be a large item.

★ ★ ★

A house can provide physical thereapy with its many outlets for do-it-yourself activities. And this labor of one's own as one adds to improvements represents financial accrual when you make final disposition of the house.

★ ★ ★

But there are many advantages in renting a house, and not the least is to escape the responsibility of its maintenance.

Let someone else worry about pipe replacement, leaky roof, a heating system that bogs down, reseeding the lawn or removing trees, (although many renters spend considerable sums beautifying property that belongs to others.)

As people grow older, paint brushes seem to grow heavier, lawn mowers are harder to push and a leaky faucet can be nerve shattering.

For this reason, many realistic homeowners sell their homes after the mortgage is paid off and there are no further tax benefits.

They rent (or buy a small maintenance-free dwelling for cash) and make wise investments with the remainder of the next egg.

This goal can be achieved also by house renters, but often realization comes too late.

★ ★ ★

Some couples of retirement age have achieved the ultimate. They have managed to pay off a second vacation home meant to be a retirement home.

★ ★ ★

New beautiful housing developments offer unlimited advantages to young people who must live in a transient state. There are all sorts of recreational advantages, shopping centers and expert maintenance. But there should be an awareness of monetary aspects.

LUXURY

Many young people are living to the hilt of their combined incomes to afford luxury dwellings Their first shock comes when their standard of living must be lowered to make room for a family.

They may never again regain financial footing to either own a house or save a portion of their income that will provide financial security in their old age.

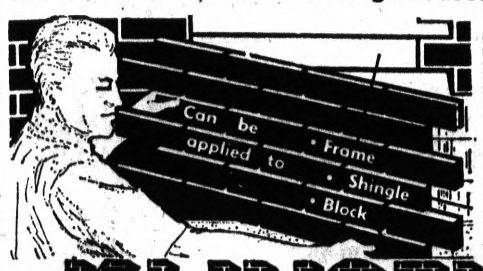
WHAT IS KLINGELHUT FACE BRICK SIDING?
It is the Multi-Purpose Brick Siding that does so many jobs—BETTER



Klingelhut brick is genuine, individually made, kiln-fired brick of standard dimension except that it is ½ inch thick. It is bonded to ½ inch insulating panels by an exclusive process developed by Klingelhut. This produces an insulating combination equal to 4 inches of blown-in insulation—or 4 feet of solid brick.

• Gives year-round insulation • Reduces fuel costs • Beautifies your home, increases its value • Resists fire • Ends repair and maintenance bills — no painting • Economical to install

Public Employe Strike—3

Stiff Laws Not the Answer

(Last of a Series)

By ROGER DOUGHTY
Urban Affairs Editor

NEW YORK (NEA) — Americans may not sleep any better at night because of it, but it's nice to know, in a masochistic way, that you can rely on death, taxes and the U.S. mail. They'll get to you, eventually.

Your children may drive you out of your skull while their teachers are on strike, the police and fire departments may leave you unprotected, doctors and nurses may walk out of the hospital at the same hour your appendix bursts, social workers may refuse to improve your social life and the garbage collector may turn up his nose at your refuse, but your mailman will never let you down. Uncle Sam won't stand for it.

★ ★ ★

Federal employes don't strike against the public. This is one area where Washington has solved a problem that plagues the nation's state and city governments.

All federal workers, and there were 2.8 million of them at last count, have to sign an affidavit saying they won't strike.

FACES FINE

The unions that represent them must pledge not to strike. Anyone who does decide to walk off the job faces a $1,000 fine and a year and a day in jail.

That's why the mail always gets through, eventually.

★ ★ ★

Stiffer laws, like the federal statutes, would effectively end the threat of strikes against the public, but the states are loathe to recommend such laws.

Lawmakers point out that the way to prevent such strikes is to eliminate the conditions that cause the civil employes to strike. And you don't do that by passing a law.

ENVIRONMENT CITED

"The power of government to prohibit conduct should be sparingly exercised," says labor mediator Theodore Kheel in his report on strikes and how to avoid them. "We must find the environment more favorable to a spirit of compliance."

Kheel feels that binding arbitration is the only solution to the problem.

Before arbitration is started he'd like to see governors invoke a cooling off period, during which negotiations would continue. The cooling-off period would be similar to the provision of the Taft-Hartley Act, which allows the President to impose an 80-day cooling-off period in disputes affecting the national welfare.

It's assumed that the would-be strikers will go on working during this period since that's been the case in Taft-Hartley cases.

NO SUBSTITUTE

Says Kheel, "I suggest that there is no workable substitute for collective bargaining, even in government, and that in improving the practice of bargaining lies our best chance to prevent strikes against the public.

"The experience of the last few months should demonstrate to us with dramatic clarity that strikes are not prevented by laws emphasizing complex procedures and penalties."

★ ★ ★

"The key to preventing strikes in the public, no less than the private sector, will be found only through improving the bargaining process, not by replacing it.

"For this purpose we should devote our energy not toward devising new penalties and more intricate procedures but toward improving the understanding and skill of bargaining participants."

LAST RESORT

On arbitration, Kheel says: "It will be effective only if viewed as a last resort after steps have failed and after the dispute has reached a stage where the areas remaining in dispute have been sharply reduced."

Others propose a plan under which public employes would receive periodic automatic salary raises, equal to an average of increase obtained by private industry.

The plan, hopefully, would remove the matter of wage increases for public servants from the area of controversy. Civil workers would be given, periodically, the average increase in pay gained in collective bargaining by workers in private employment.

The solutions don't come easily but they must be found, for, as Kheel notes, "This is perhaps the most important challenge of our time: how to prevent strikes that imperil the public interest while providing these millions of employes with the opportunity to participate in the process of determining the conditions of their work."

★ ★ ★

Until that challenge is met, all of us should feel like the president of a large corporation whose contract with the unions is due to expire. It's enough to make you sweat.

Inmate Marries; Judge's Present Is Her Freedom

ROME, Ga. (AP) — When Sally Green, 30, an inmate of Floyd County jail, married Claude Massengill, "an outsider," Friday, she had all the wedding trimmings.

The jail cook baked her a wedding cake and she had a small reception for other inmates.

Mrs. Dorothy Benvenue, jail matron, and county detective Bill Riley acted as witnesses. Justice of the Peace Bill Rice performed the ceremony.

But the best gift of all came from City Court Judge Jerry L. Minge. When he learned of the nuptials, he released the new Mrs. Massengill, who was in for probation violation.

Laborites Counter Postelection Critics

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson's Labor party supporters began a political counterattack this weekend in the wake of their massive drubbing in countrywide local elections.

★ ★ ★

The loyalists' No. 1 target was Cecil King, publsher of the mass circulation Daily and Sunday Mirror, King, who previously supported Wilson, called on the prime minister to quit, and warned that Britain faced "its greatest financial crisis."

"No Labor member of Parliament can have failed to observe the irresponsibility with which he (King) and certain of his confreres have been exploiting the nation's troubles and in particular the treatment they have accorded the prime minister," Crossman declared.

CENSURE MOTION

Several Labor members of Parliament introduced a motion Friday censuring King for his statement. And Education Minister Edward Short told an audience at Bristol that Wilson "was probably the best prime minister we have had in this country in peacetime.

"I am quite sure he will lead the Labor government and the Labor party to victory in the next election."

★ ★ ★

Wilson does not have to call a national vote until the spring of 1971.

Some political commentators said King's attack on Wilson unified Labor lawmakers around the man they chose as their leader, and who became prime minister in 1964.

SUBJECT TO SPECULATION

How long this unity would last was subject to speculation. Labor's local power structure was undercut in Thursday's municipal elections in England and Wales, and in Tuesday's vote when Scottish nationalists' gains knocked Labor from control in several important cities.

On Thursday Labor lost 1,307 municipal seats and gained 13. The opposition Conservatives gained 1,320 and lost 13. The third main party, the Liberals, lost 59 and gained 39.

The London Times said that if the anti-Labor vote recorded in the local elections was repeated in a national parliamentary election, Labor House of Commons strength would drop from a ruling 350 members to between 74 and 78.

Wilson and all but three of his cabinet ministers would be victims of the Tory undertow. They could lose elections in their own districts if the margin of recent Conservative wins held, the Times added.

WON'T QUIT

Wilson, on a tour of western England, said Friday: "Don't believe everything you read in the papers this morning."

He rejected King's statement that Britain faces its greatest financial crisis, and said he had no intention of quitting.

King's editorial accused the government of lying about Britain's hard currency reserves.

The statement, coming from a man who until Thursday night was a director of the Bank of England, helped push the London stock market toward its biggest one-day drop in five months. The Financial Times index of 30 industrial shares plunged 14.7 points on Friday to 451.4.

★ ★ ★

The pound dropped one-quarter of a cent to its lowest point since March, and the free price of gold rose on the London market before settling back a bit.

Admiral Said Ousted Skipper Displayed Lack of Judgment

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy files show the Pacific Fleet commander recommended reassignment of Lt. Cmdr. Marcus A. Arnheiter to shore duty because as a destroyer skipper he displayed "a gross lack of judgment."

Adm. Roy L. Johnson's recommendation, overruling a rear admiral who said Arnheiter should be given command of another vessel, resulted in Arnheiter's assignment to a desk job near San Francisco.

★ ★ ★

Arnheiter's file was made public by the Navy Friday, the day after unofficial congressional hearings on the case were concluded by Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick, D-N.Y.

Johnson wrote: "The actions of Lt. Cmdr. Arnheiter . . . reveal a gross lack of judgment.

'INABILITY TO COMMAND'

"It is recognized that, taken individually, many of the facts do not represent significant errors in judgment but, taken in the aggregate over a relatively short period of time, they reveal a complete inability to command and lead people."

Arnheiter, who at the Resnick hearings requested a court of inquiry or court martial, was relieved of command of the Pacific Fleet destroyer escort Vance in 1966. He contended his dismissal was caused by dissident junior officers who complained about him.

★ ★ ★

The 42-year-old Naval Academy graduate said he was not allowed to call his own witnesses at a hearing in Subic Bay, The Philippines, from which the hearing officer, Capt. Ward Witter, filed 41 "findings of fact."

Among the findings, 38 of which Arnheiter contended were never substantiated:

- Arnheiter introduced alcoholic beverages aboard the Vance.
- He reduced the number of ship's personnel while the vessel was in port to permit maximum attendance at a social function ashore.
- He fired weapons while on Vietnam duty so close to native junks that the Vietnamese were frightened and their lives and the lives of Arnheiter's men were possibly endangered.
- He used the crew's welfare fund to buy a speedboat, mounted a machine gun on it and used it for scouting the enemy.
- He conducted shore bombardments without having been assigned such a mission.

Witter concluded: "Lt. Cmdr. Arnheiter is not the type of officer that deserves the privilege of command."

REMOVAL UPHELD

Acting on the record of the Witter hearing, Rear Adm. T. S. King recommended a reprimand for Arnheiter, and that he be relieved of command.

The file shows Rearadm. W. H. Baumberger, acting on King's recommendation, upheld Arnheiter's removal from the Vance but recommended he be reassigned to command another vessel.

Adm. Johnson overturned Baumberger's recommendation.

The Navy said Baumberger "based his recommendation on his feeling at that time that Lt. Cmdr. Arnheiter had in fact come to realize his transgressions, his mistakes, his failure in command. . ."

MUTINY CHARGES

Later, the Navy said, after many long discussions with Arnheiter, Baumberger concluded Arnheiter "had not recognized and seemingly could not recognize, his own shortcomings in command. . ."

Arnheiter said at the Resnick hearing he had charged two junior officers aboard the Vance with mutiny. These charges were dismissed.

Arnheiter contended his firing was engineered by a planned conspiracy but the Navy said there was insufficient evidence in the record to support the contention.

Election Year Brings Hope to Panama's Poor

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
Associated Press Writer

GARACHINE, Panama — Election year with its usual promises has brought new hope to the poverty-stricken residents of Panama's Darien Province but few of the pledges are ever fulfilled.

Candidates for public office swoop in by air to convey the promises. The only other way in is via a long boat trip through the scrub-poor Panamanian tropics of Darien.

★ ★ ★

If nothing else, election year mans new T-shirts for many, even though they bear emblems such as "Christian Democrats" or "National Union," and dresses for the women, made of cheap cloth in the vibrant colors of campaigning parties.

News Analysis

Some people still put some stock in the political promises, though, reasoning that, as with a lottery ticket, someday there must be a payoff.

STRIP OF JUNGLE

Darien is Panama's easternmost, largest, least-populated province, a narrow strip of dangerous jungle regarded as one of the hemisphere's worst. This is where the Inter-American Highway from Canada to Argentina comes to a bumpy, soggy end and where even the Continental Divide's towering ridges become low green hills, as if bowing in deference to the steamy plains.

Only 24,000 people live here, and less than 2 per cent of the anticipated vote in the presidential elections Sunday will be cast in Darien. Still the sprawling province hasn't been ignored by the politicos. The reason is a fortunate circumstance of parliamentary regulations that gives the lone Darien representative a seat on the important nine-member National Budge Committee.

★ ★ ★

The leading presidential candidates, David Samudio, 57, backed by the government, and Dr. Arnulfo Arias, 67, twice-deposed former president, were recent visitors. So wss the Darien deputy seeking re-election, a wealthy merchant who pilots his own plane. He does not live in Darien.

Arias lost the province by a wide margin in the 1964 presidential bid and when he came calling again last week the turnout was meager. His propagandists pointed to the steady, day-long rain and the "chill" as factors. This is Panama's rainy or "winter" season. Temperatures sometimes plummet as low as the 70s.

HINTS OF APPREHENSION

The atmosphere in the Darien villages Arias visited was heavy with his prospective defeat here, but not entirely because he lacked popularity or organization. There were hints of apprehension among the Arias partisans and signs of hostility among National Guardsmen, loyal to the government. Among the government party field workers the mood was of arrogance.

In the village of Garachine, Sgt. Agustin Franco, a strapping young guardsman, nodded scornfully toward the Arias group and said, "They are nothing but a bunch of shameless types." In the crowd a woman holding a baby parrot on her arm was asked if the guardsmen had intimidated the people. She smiled and shrugged noncommittally. A woman next to her said: "They used to, but not any more."

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Department reports it is offering a free folder listing more than 60 canoe runs in the state. The map shows river portages, camping sites and other features. It is available free by writing to the department publications room in Lansing.

They gathered last night at Oakland Hills Country Club to honor the all time Master of Michigan golf, Al Watrous.

Talk about Watrous in Michigan sports is like talking about Al Kaline of baseball, Gordie Howe of hockey or Joe Schmidt of football.

This is the big four of sports in this corner. Of course there will be rebuttals, but the least likely argument should be the golf member of this quartet.

Watrous, the stowaway from the British Isles who made his first return trip as a seaman in the U. S. Navy in 1917 and later as member of the U. S. Ryder Cup, as an entry in the British Open and as U. S. Senior's Champion, was given a standing ovation which would have amounted to 37 curtain calls, when he rose to acknowledge the Hall of Fame Portrait of himself which will now become an infinite part of Oakland Hills.

PORTRAIT UNVEILED

The honor of unveiling the huge painting went to his competent successor Mike Souchak, himself a dynamic personality in true Oakland Hills tradition.

Watrous, who retired last year after his 37 years as head pro at Oakland Hills, recalled his great moments at this world renown course and the years he was fortunate enough to be the host pro for four USGA Open championships.

"The sweetest three words I have ever heard in my lifetime, after I spoke the words 'I do' were the words in 1930 when the board of directors told me, 'You're the pro,' " he said.

"At that time, the apple pie and coffee you could buy at Miller's farm house located here then was probably as satisfying as golf at this new course," he said, "but through the years, the traditions and history of Oakland Hills became one of the incomparable wonders of world golf.

"You are most fortunate," he told the gathering, "to be members of a club such as Oakland Hills which surprised the best golfers in the Open of 1924, which challenged the field in the Open of 1937, which awed the great players of 1951 and which dared the field in the Open of 1961."

Watrous called Ben Hogan as the greatest of golfers ever to compete at Oakland Hills and the "greatest golfer of all."

"The portrait," Watrous recalled, "was taken on the putting green here with Horton Smith and movie star Janet Blair nearby. So I really had to look my best," he jested in pointing to the colorful golf attire and youthful frame."

★ ★ ★

But, for Watrous, his great early years of golf were supplemented with even greater years when he passed the age of 50 and started to dominate all the titles of senior golf in the state, national and international circles.

His greatest honor in the after-50 set came in 1957 when at the age of 58 he made a clean sweep of all of the senior's titles, including the national and International crowns in Glasgow, Scotland, where he defeated John Burton of Great Britain.

FAMILY PRESENT

For Al and Agnes Watrous and their five children, all present to see their father honored, May 10, 1968 will be long remembered as a day when dedication to the game he loved, was acknowledged by the club he served so faithfully for more than half of his life.

For Souchak it was also a day to celebrate. Everyone sang happy birthday to personable Mike, who is the first pro of the new era at Oakland Hills, which soon will change from 18 to 36 holes with the encompassing of North Hills.

As the many telegrams expressed, good luck and congratulations are in order to Watrous and to Oakland Hills for its contribution to the great traditions of golf.

Kaline Powers Tigers to First Place

KALINE MATCHES GREENBERG—Detroit Tiger All-Star slugger Al Kaline Friday joined Hank Greenberg as the club's leading home run hitter with the 306th regular season blast of his career during the Bengals' 12-1 romp at Washington. Welcoming Kaline at home plate are teammates Bill Freehan (11), Mickey Stanley (24) and Jim Northrup (5). Kaline rapped a single, double and homer for six runs batted in last night.

WASHINGTON (AP) — After batting in six runs in one game and rapping a record-matching 306th home run, Al Kaline still hasn't changed his one goal in baseball: Just to be able to play.

The splendid but often splintered Detroit star tied Hall of Famer Hank Greenberg for a club record by slamming a three-run homer Friday night as the Tigers clawed Washington 12-1, taking first place in the American League.

★ ★ ★

Like almost all of the previous 305, Kaline's home run came somewhat as a surprise.

★ ★ ★

"I hit it good but I didn't know if it was going to be high enough to carry," Kaline said. "I was just trying for a sacrifice fly to bring in the man from third."

NO GOALS SET

He shrugged off a question about more goals beyond the Greenberg milestone.

"I don't set any goals. I just want to play the whole year," said Kaline, who has been sidelined at various intervals in the past by a broken cheek bone, broken collar bone, a rib injury and a misshapen foot.

★ ★ ★

"I've always said if I can play, I'll have a good year," added the outfielder, who hit .308 last year even though he missed a month because of a broken finger.

★ ★ ★

The 33-year-old Kaline, now in his 16th season, had been slumping this year with only one homer and two runs batted in until the spree against the Senators.

SCORES TWICE

He led four-run uprisings in each of the first two innings, tagging a two-run double in the first, a run-scoring single in the second and scoring both times himself.

★ ★ ★

The margin between the line drive single over shortstop and the high, floating homer that dropped into the left field bullpen was minuscule, Kaline said.

★ ★ ★

"There isn't any difference," he said. "On one ball I hit the top half of it, the other I hit up in the air. I've always hit the ball hard, but it's usually on a line or on the ground."

★ ★ ★

Kaline lashed his homer into the left field bullpen in the fourth inning to match Greenberg's mark. Kaline is in his 16th season with the Tigers.

TOPS IN LEAGUE

Denny McLain notched his fifth victory without defeat, tops in the American League this year. The Tigers eased his task with a 14-hit attack.

★ ★ ★

Don Wert capped the first inning with a bases-empty homer. In the second, Kaline singled across Jim Northrup, who had doubled, then rode home on Bill Freehan's two-run homer.

★ ★ ★

Frank Howard dented McLain for his seventh home run with bases barren in the first. Freehan's homer was his fifth for Detroit.

Indians Trounce Baltimore

Orioles Handed 3rd Loss in Row

BALTIMORE (AP) — Vic Davalillo and Joe Azcue backed Sonny Siepert's three-hit pitching with three-run homers Friday night and the Cleveland Indians handed the Baltimore Orioles their third straight defeat, 12-0.

Cleveland jumped on Oriole starter Jim Hardin for four runs in the first inning, Davalillo's second home run keying the outburst.

★ ★ ★

The Indians added a single run in the second on a hit batsman, wild pitch and Chico Salmon's single. Davalillo drove in his fourth run with a single before Azcue connected with his third homer, capping a four-run third. Tommy Harper drove in two more runs with a ninth inning double.

Pontiac Central 2nd in Valley Track Meet

MIDLAND — Flint Central had too much speed and depth Friday and pulled away from Pontiac Central's defending champions in the closing events to win the annual Saginaw Valley Conference track meet.

★ ★ ★

The Indians regained some of the prestige Flint lost last season when PCH ended a string of 10 SVC track championship by Vehicle City schools. The new champs amassed 61 points to 50 by Pontiac.

PCH finished first or second in five events but failed to score in four of the 14 events and had only a fifth place in one other.

GOOD DEPTH

Flint Central placed fourth or better in 11 of the 14 events. Led by Herb Washington's sweep of the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes, the Indians had a first or second in half of the events.

★ ★ ★

The Chiefs from Pontiac also had a double by hurdler Bob Johnson and set one of the five new SVC records when Jon Costello ran a 4:22.7 mile, setting a new PCH mark, too.

But PCH lost points when Johnson's ailing leg kept him out of the long jump and its mile relay unit was disqualified for running out of its lane.

★ ★ ★

Monday Central will entertain Pontiac Northern in the annual city track showdown.

Golf Traffic Jam at New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — They were tailgating and honking something awful behind lanky George Archer going into today's third round of the $100,000 Greater New Orleans Open.

The six-foot-six-inch Californian shot a 32-33—65 Firday to give him an eight-under-par 134 at the halfway mark. But Archer was likely to get run over even if he so much as signaled a slowdown in the weekend race for the $20,000 first prize.

STROKE BEHIND

Miller Barber of Sherman, Tex., was just a stroke behind with a 69-66—135. And Gary Player, Dave Stockton and Tom Weiskopf were a mere swing behind him, each with 136.

★ ★ ★

Player, alternately grumbling about his putting and raving about the rest of his game, missed a series of short putts Friday that could have given him another 66 instead of a 70.

Titans Win in 16th

DETROIT (UPI) — Larry Salci had to pitch 16 innings — the most ever for any University of Detroit pitcher — before the Titans came up with one run in the bottom of the 16th inning to take a 4-3 victory over Eastern Michigan Friday.

Pontiac Press Photo

SETS STANDARD — Senior Jon Costello, Pontiac Central's track cocaptain, established a new PCH and Saginaw Valley Conference mile record Friday night with a 4:22.7 clocking at Midland where the Chiefs placed second in the league meet. It is also the best mile run by a country prep this spring.

Scramble Results in Cougars' Loss

DETRIT (UPI) — Leif Klasson netted the ball following a scramble in front of the goal to hand the Baltimore Bays a come-from-behind 2-1 victory over the Detroit Cougars Friday night and their first North American Soccer League victory.

★ ★ ★

The loss evened Detroit's mark at 3-3 and moved Baltimore to a 1-5-1 season record.

Klasson took the ball after Baltimore's Calixto Mandez had hit the goalpost and the ball bounced loose at the 24-minute mark of the second half.

★ ★ ★

Detroit had opened the scoring with its lone goal at 7:05 of the first half when Barry Rowan headed the ball past Baltimore goalie Carmelo. The equalizer came at the 19-minute mark of the first half when Alex Nikolic took a free kick from 18 yards out. The ball hit a Detroit defender and deflected past goalie Dick Howard.

High School Junior in Relays Spotlight

FRESNO, Calif. (AP) — Heulon Hewitt, a 17-year-old high school junior, leaped the best double for long jump and high jump in track annals Friday night at the 43rd annual West Coast Relays.

★ ★ ★

The 5-foot-5 youngster, who weighs 165 pounds, cleared the high jump bar at 6 feet, 7 inches and soared 25-10¾ for an interscholastic long jump record.

Soap Box Derby Clinics

A series of Soap Box Derby Clinics will be held to assist Oakland County boys in building their Soap Box racers for possible entry in the first Oakland County Derby which will be held Saturday July 20 at the County Service Center area on Telegraph Road.

Gerry Lacey, director of the Soap Box program, announced that the first clinic will be held at the County Supervisor's Auditorium Saturday May 25 at 10:00 a.m.

Included will be an interpretation of the latest official Soap Box Derby rules and procedures for building a car.

The clinics will be conducted by former Derby contestants and members of an inspection team.

FINALS IN AKRON

This is the 31st year for Soap Box Derby competition and each local champion will receive a $500 savings bond and a chance to compete in the All-American finals at Akron, Ohio where they will race for a total purse of $30,000 in college scholarships.

★ ★ ★

The scholarship prizes, awarded by the sponsoring Chevrolet Division, will begin with a $7,500 first place award down to $1,000 for ninth place.

All entries in the All-American finals at Akron will receive a wrist watch and official racing uniform and helmet along with a Derby pennant.

★ ★ ★

Boys can now register their entries at any Chevrolet dealer in Oakland County.

Groups and organizations can also participate in the Derby with the promotion of a film which is available to them and can be obtained by calling the Oakland County office at 338-4900.

Firebirds Revise Schedule

New Franchises in MFL

In a surprise move in the Midwest Football League, Fort Wayne, Ind., has purchased the franchise of the Mt. Clemens Arrows and will take the Mt. Clemens spot in the 1968 MFL schedule.

In other MFL action, commissioner John Abel announced that the Lansing franchise has been placed on probation because of financial difficulties and that Lansing's games on the schedule will not be counted in championship play but as exhibition games.

The Pontiac Firebirds, with Tom Tracy returning as head coach, have a seven game home schedule listed in a season ticket plan, and will play two preseason exhibitions. The exhibitions are July 20 at Wisner with a team not announced, and July 27 in the Rochester Charity Game sponsored annually by the Rotary Club in that community for the benefit of Crittenton Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Last year, the club raised more than $5000 for the hospital from the game between Pontiac and Ypsilanti.

Hamtramck, which replaces River Rouge in the MFL, will be the Firebirds' opponents in Rochester. Coach of the new Hamtramck team, which reports solid backing from that city's business community, is Mike Olenski former grid star at Alabama and the Detroit Lions in 1947.

Another new entry in the league is Lackawanna, N.Y., along with Fort Wayne, both of which are reported financially sound, according to Abel.

BIGGER IN '69

"We have inquiries from three other cities and we expect that for 1969 we will be able to have two five-team divisions in the league," said Abel, starting his third year as MFL commissioner.

★ ★ ★

The Firebirds, who lost two of their first three games to Mt. Clemens and then won nine straight to finish second in the MFL last season, have been the top drawing team in the league.

"We are expecting most of our 1967 squad back in good shape," said coach Tracy, "but we will have to come up with another quarterback."

Veteran Bill Harrington returns as the lone returnee. Tim Jones, red-shirt rookie who was with the Firebirds last year until the final three games when he suffered a leg injury, will be back in Detroit Lions' camp this summer.

Reports are that the Firebirds are trying to make a deal for either Steve Juday of the Ypsilanti Vikings or Pete Mikolajewski of the Dayton Colts, the two leading passers in the MFL last year.

Both quarterbacks are reported unhappy in personnel difficulties on their respective teams and might be available.

STRONG FRANCHISES

"The addition of such financially sound franchises as Lackawanna and Fort Wayne, along with a new corporation taking over the Dayton club," should make the league real tough this year," said general manager Paul Parks of the Firebirds.

★ ★ ★

With Mt. Clemens out of the picture, the 1968 MFL All-Star game tentatively set for Aug. 1 in Flint will now pit the Firebirds, 1967 runnersup against the league All-Star team.

The game is slated to be played on the new Flint Astroturfed Stadium, which is one of only three outdoor football fields in the country to be covered with the synthetic grass.

This is the Firebirds 1968 football schedule:

Aug. 3 Hamtramck	Away
Aug. 10 Flint	Home
Aug. 17 Dayton	Away
Aug. 24 Lackawanna	Home
Aug. 31 Lansing	Home
Sept. 7 Ypsilanti	Home
Sept. 14 Fort Wayne	Away
Sept. 21 Hamtramck	Home
Sept. 28 Flint	Away
Oct. 5 Dayton	Home

BIG STRETCH—Rochester first baseman Stan Babiuk reaches for a toss from pitcher Don Lovelace on a pickoff attempt in the second inning against Waterford yesterday. Also making a stretch is the Skippers' Larry Hemmerley who reaches out a hand for the bag. Hemmerley made it back to first safely and the Skippers rolled to a 5-0 decision.

Stevenson Nears I-L Title

The Spartans of Livonia Stevenson moved a step closer to the Inter-Lakes League baseball title yesterday by slipping past Walled Lake's Vikings, 3-2.

The triumph raised Stevenson's record to 5-0 in league play with only three games to go. Walled Lake occupies the No. 2 spot with a 3-2 mark.

The pitching of Paul Tonnemacher plus the hitting of Jerry Detter and Chuck Sobczak paced the Spartans victory.

Detter singled home a run in the first, belted a 350-foot homer in the sixth and Sobczak's single sent the winning run across in the top of the seventh.

★ ★ ★

Wally Williams and Bill Welsh singled home runs for Walled Lake.

FLIPS ONE-HITTER

Waterford's Mike Vidor sllowed one hit and struck out 14 in blanking Rochester yesterday, 5-0.

★ ★ ★

Mike Scally touched Vidor for Rochester's (5-5) lone hit, a fourth-inning single.

A two-hit triple by Steve Goit in the fifth was the big blow in a five-hit attack for Waterford (10-8). Goit finished with two hits and three RBI. Mike Murphy also checked in with two hits.

In a couple of other contests, Royal Oak Kimball (5-6) downed Hazel Park (4-5), 5-1, while city rival Dondero (5-3) dropped a 4-1 decision to Dearborn Fordson.

★ ★ ★

An error enabled two runs cross the plate and an in... hit brought in another in the first inning fo Kimball.

An error and an infield hit led to three first-inning runs for Kimball. Bob Hurst beat out that infield safety to sent the third run across. Teammate Steve Hebold drove in a run later with a single.

Fordson pushed across two runs in the first and two in the fourth to stop Dondero. Bob Matasic led the Dearborn attack with two hits.

Twins Manage Split; Chisox Edge Oakland

ANAHEIM (AP) — Tony Oliva brought Minnesota from behind with a two-run homer in the eighth inning Friday night, giving the Twins a 6-5 victory and a split of a twi-night doubleheader against the California Angels.

★ ★ ★

The Angels won the opener, 3-0, as George Brunet pitched a two-hitter and Rick Reichhardt clouted a two-run homer.

★ ★ ★

Nine of the 11 runs in the second game were unearned. Harmon Killebrew reached base on an error before Oliva won the nightcap with his homer off loser Minnie Rojas, 1-1.

★ ★ ★

Three errors by second baseman Rod Carew helped the Angels score five unearned runs in the second game off Twins starter Dean Chance. Ed Kirkpatrick hit a two-run pitch homer for California.

Swinging Willie of Giants Doesn't Need Musical Help

By The Associated Press

They'll never pin a square rap on Willie McCovey, San Francisco's symbol of the swinging sixties.

"I'm up there to swing," says the big first baseman, "and that's what I do."

★ ★ ★

And when Willie swings, he doesn't need any musical help.

McCovey hammered a three-run home run Friday night, leading the Giants to a 6-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. In other National League games, the New York Mets dropped the Chicago Cubs 5-1, Atlanta shaded Los Angeles 2-1, Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 2-1 and Houston at St. Louis was rained out.

★ ★ ★

McCovey also had a walk and a double Friday night and now has two homers, two doubles, a single and four walks in his last nine trips to the plate.

The homer was his ninth and the three runs batted in gave him 24 for the season—both figures tops in the majors. McCovey, off to one of his strongest starts, is batting .330—fifth best in the National League.

The Giants hopped on George Culver for three runs in the second inning and then McCovey's shot against reliever Ted Abernathy in the fifth gave Gaylord Perry a comfortable bulge. It was the fourth straight loss for the Reds.

★ ★ ★

Until McCovey swung into action Friday night, Ron Swoboda of the New York Mets enjoyed a brief tenure as the National's League's top RBI man.

Swoboday unloaded a three-run shot—his first homer this month—that carried the Mets past Chicago. It was his eighth homer and gave him 22 RBIs. Tommie Agee also homered for the Mets, his first.

Jerry Koosman and Cal Koonce combined for a two-hitter with Koosman winning his fifth game. Ferguson Jenkins, 4-2, took the loss.

Zoilo Versalles' seventh-inning error with the bases loaded gave Atlana its winning run as the Braves topped the Dodgers. Singles by Clete Boyer and Sonny Jackson, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Felipe Alou had loaded the bases for the Braves.

★ ★ ★

It was the seventh 2-1 game in which the Braves have been involved in this season and they're starting to get to Manager Luman Harris.

"I wish the players would get some hits or start managing," said Harris. "This 2-1 stuff is getting too much for me."

★ ★ ★

Bob Veale, who had dropped three one-run decisions, finally won one with ninth-inning help from Elroy Face getting the Pirates past the Phillies.

★ ★ ★

Run-scoring singles by Jerry May and Carl Taylor with two out in the sixth innings snapped a scoreless tie.

We don't care how well or how poorly you play bridge. You always will make many mistakes. But the better the player, the fewer the mistakes.

JACOBY

South's four spade contract would be arrived at in almost any game. Even if North failed to give an immediate raise, South would bid along strongly.

The defense would start with West playing ace, king and jack of clubs. South would ruff the third club and most declarers would draw trumps and lose the heart finesse. Later, these declarers would lose a diamond and say something about finesses always losing for them.

Today's South was a better player. At trick four he led a trump to dummy's jack. He ruffed dummy's last club, played one more trump to pull the one outstanding and led the eight of diamonds. West played the jack.

Dummy's ace won the trick. South led a diamond back to his king and West dropped his queen under the king. West could see an end play developing and wanted to keep from being thrown in. If South held the 10 of diamonds West would have lost a diamond trick but would still get his king of hearts.

Since East held the 10 of diamonds, when South played the third diamond East was able to gain the lead. East led a heart and West's king set the contract.

South's play was good from a technical standpoint, but expert South had not played the hand as well as he might have. He had drawn a blueprint of his plan of campaign and expert West had stayed out of the trap.

Real technique would have been for South to lead his king of diamonds as soon as he ruffed that third club.

West might still have guessed enough to drop a diamond honor, but we doubt if he would have been that alert.

Studies Discover Insect Controls

DETROIT (AP) — Radiation studies at Wayne State University have found controls for nearly 100 kinds of insects that eat stored grain crops as well as ornamental and shade trees.

The common tussock moth, Mediterranean flower moth and alfalfa caterpillar can be controlled significantly by feeding them bacteria exposed to radiation, the studies show.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Build spiritual strength. Means have faith in yourself, loved ones. You may be tested today by one who is genuinely concerned. Express ideas. State opinions with clarity.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You find out the truth about what you can receive, what you must offer. Allies found close to home. Grass proves greener in your own back yard. Know this — act accordingly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Some pressure points relieved if willing to relax. Obtain hint from SCORPIO message. Tendency is to imagine what you want to exist. Wise course dictates a study of factual material.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Accent on journeys, writing, planning advertising campaign. Key is willingness to invest in your own ideas, abilities. Take note of future potential. Avoid one who sings the blues.

★ ★ ★

IF SUNDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have sense of humor, are versatile, appreciate art and have personal ability along those lines. Current cycle highlights change, travel, romantic and creative pursuits.

★ ★ ★

For Monday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Avoid travel unless absolutely necessary. Strive to understand details of project. Rushing in now may cause delay, loss at later date. Steer clear of disputes with neighbors, relatives — smile.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Fiscal responsibility is in spotlight. Many depend upon your judgment. Take conservative course. Means avoid basing actions on impulse. Heed voice of experience — older person is correct.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Finish rather than start. Complete projects, fulfill assignments. Don't try to take limelight from mate, partner. Remain in background. Then others eventually will come to you. Restraint.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Give attention to relations with co-worker. One who serves may express dissatisfaction. Key is to make intelligent concession. Stick to principles without being out-of-date. Give a little.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Avoid speculation. Stick to the known—and don't stick your neck out. Means keep guard high. Some want you to throw caution to winds. Wise course is to be charming but firm. Hold your ground.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Status subject to revision. Out of confusion, you can grasp real position. Stress versatility. Maintain sense of humor. Older person needs placating.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): News from afar could be deceptive. Best to read between the lines. Hold off on final interpretation. Go slow. Get basic tasks completed. Key is work. Delay today proves constructive.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Hold back on financial commitment. Keep sharp eye on possessions. Study TAURUS message. Read, absorb added knowledge. Money question dominates day — it is favorably settled if you are flexible.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Cycle moves up, but there remain active challenges. Mate or partner appears pugnacious. Means some issues are yet to be resolved. Strive for harmony. Consider rights of others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Work, health, need for privacy emphasized at various times today. Period spotlights confusion. Be perceptive — make choice. Don't try to be everything to everyone.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Don't depend too much upon friends, promises. Well-meaning people may try to deliver more than is practical. Best to maintain steady pace. Re-evaluate hopes, wishes. Be realistic.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): No day to buck authority. Finish what you promised to complete. Sphere of activity is enlarged. But you must play game according to rules. Realize this. Respond accordingly.

★ ★ ★

IF MONDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY domestic adjustment, possible change of residence loom large. You are straightforward, determined. Now, try to cement relations with family members.

★ ★ ★

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Lunar position good for fishing. Cycle high for SAGITTARIUS. Special word to GEMINI: permit from one close to you is but temporary.

Land-Sea-Air Trip for Whales

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Snorky and Corky took a plane ride, a truck ride and a boat ride Friday—quite an experience for boy and girl killer whales.

The plane flew them from Vancouver, B.C., and the truck and boat took them from Los Angeles to Marineland, a sea menagerie nearby.

Arthur Hill (center) stars as Bryan Gray, a man who asserts his right to personal privacy in the face of family pressure in Tad Mosel's 90-minute drama special "Secrets." Barbara Bel Geddes (right) portrays his wife, and Barbara Hershey is their daughter. The play will be color-cast on "CBS" Playhouse," Wednesday from 9:30-11 p.m. on Channel 2.

'Secrets' Role Lures Actress From Farm

The glamorous side of a successful actress's life is just small potatoes to Barbara Bel Geddes.

"I don't go dashing all over the world making pictures and gossip-column items," she says. "In fact, coming to Hollywood to tape this show is the most glamorous thing I've done in a long time."

★ ★ ★

Miss Bel Geddes is one of the stars of "Secrets," an original drama to be presented on "CBS Playhouse" Wednesday, from 9:30-11 p.m. on Channel 2.

★ ★ ★

"We have a 65-acre farm in Putnam Valley, N. Y., where my husband has lived since he was a small boy," the actress points out. "It isn't easy to tear me away from there. It took Tad Mosel's script for 'Secrets' to do it.

FEEL THE SUN

"We have six dogs on the farm in a fenced 10-acre plot where they can run all over. I like to go out in the row boat or just look at the leaves and the grass and feel the sun. I enjoy contending with the seasons — shoveling snow off the roof.

★ ★ ★

"It's a wonderful contrast to the pressures of the New York theater, where most of my work is done.

★ ★ ★

"If a play has a long run, it becomes more and more difficult to cope with such needs as continually having your hair done and your wardrobe kept up, plus trying to inject something fresh into too-familiar scenes and dialogue."

★ ★ ★

"That's the beauty of a television special like 'Secrets,'" continues Miss Bel Geddes. "Once it's done, it's done, and I can go home, turn on the set, relax and enjoy it. You never get to see yourself on the stage of a theater."

Subject of Thursday Special

East Africa Filming Recalled

NBC News Producer Craig Fisher hadn't camped out or "roughed it" since his Boy Scout days. But when he boarded a plane bound for East Africa last Oct. 15 to spend five weeks filming in the Serengeti-Mara region, he was eager and excited about this new adventure.

Fisher and his crew of eight were there to film "Man, Beast and the Land," a one-hour color special which will be presented this Thursday starting at 7:30 p.m. over Channel 4.

"Our first location was on the Mara River in the very southern part of Kenya," explains Fisher, "and we pitched our tents at the edge of the forest area where we planned to do much of the shooting for the program.

"At that time of year," he continues, "the animals are in the wooded areas and not in the open plain."

★ ★ ★

The troupe spent three days trying to find a herd of buffalo and get close enough to film them.

ON THE THIRD DAY

"Finally on the third day," recalls the 36-year old producer, "we were able to shoot a sequence with the Talbots (Dr. and Mrs. Lee Talbot of the Smithsonian Institution) absorbed in map-making in close proximity to a herd of buffalo.

"After shooting this, we went back to the tents to eat. All of a sudden we looked up and to our amazement there were a dozen buffalo simply staring at us!"

Fisher and the crew carried no weapons, but they found that the beasts left them pretty much alone. At night, however, they could hear them prowling around outside their tents.

★ ★ ★

"One morning I woke up to find that a hyena had chewed up a couple of our pots and pans," grins Fisher.

MILLIONS OF ANTS

"The only real problem we had with the African wildlife at that location," he continues, "was that our tents just happened to be in the path of millions of army ants. And they bite hard!"

After 10 days in the wooded area, the troupe moved into the Serengeti itself to a tiny tourist lodge called Seronera. There they were able to film a cheetah chasing and killing a Thompson gazelle.

Aretha Franklin belts out one of her big hits at "Aretha Franklin Day" in Detroit's Cobo Hall on Feb. 16. Miss Franklin, Gloria Loring and many of the top female singers in the "pop" field will appear on the Channel 7 news special," "The Singers: Two Profiles," at 9:30 p.m. Saturday. The program examines the rise of a popular songstress.

Climb to the Top Lonely for Singer Gloria Loring

Gloria Loring is a little over five and a half feet tall, a delectable 125 pounds and insists, while indolently pushing back her flowing blonde hair, that she's lonely.

"I really don't have many friends here in New York," the rising young vocalist pleaded while curled up on the divan of her apartment in mid-town Manhattan.

"In fact, I don't have any," she continued. "And I don't mean that in the way where I'm feeling sorry for myself. I really choose my life to be that way. I have to live every single day, and get the most out of it that I can. I must do things well."

Gloria, who will share top billing with Aretha Franklin in the Channel 7 television special "The Singers: Two Profiles" to be presented Saturday at 9:30 p.m., has been getting the most out of her career through the same dedication she applies to life.

★ ★ ★

"Everything that goes out about me must be perfectly in line," she said. "If I sing a song that's bad, people aren't going to say, 'that's a bad song.' They're going to say, 'Gloria Loring sang a bad song.'"

In her drive for perfection and stardom, the 20-year-old New York native struggles for hours over individual chords of a song with her arranger, Jack Franklin. She recently began taking voice lessons from Martin Lawrence, who teaches many top singers in the pop field.

"Voice is not always the primary thing," insists Martin. "It's a combination of being a good performer, being able to sell a lyric, projecting honesty and sincerity into what you're saying."

Gloria put all of these attributes together in her first overwhelming appearance on national television on the Merv Griffin Show.

Her "torch" rendition of "I Think I'm Goin' Out of My Head" touched off an explosive reaction from viewers, the theater audience and Griffin, himself.

'INCREDIBLE THING'

"It was the most incredible thing I ever saw happen to a singer on this show, and we have singers every single night," Merv recalled. "I introduced her . . . and I knew something exciting was happening. She walked on the show and I fell over the step. You could feel it come . . . everybody together was discovering someone." Gloria was on her way.

Hippie, 60, to Guest on Date Show

June Lockhart and Mother Hubbard are the celebrity contestants in a special Mother's Day edition of ABC-TV's "The Dating Game" Saturday at 7:30-8 p.m. on Channel 7.

Miss Lockhart has been seen as Maureen Robinson in the "Lost In Space" series the past few seasons. Mother Hubbard . . . well, a Whistler's mother-type she ain't.

She's a 60-year-old hippie who dropped her given name and donned the ankle - length dress and beads of a flower child a few years ago.

In the flower of her own youth, she was an actress in New York City, a member of Eva Le Gallienne's Civic Repertory Theater.

★ ★ ★

Today she is a recording artist and a defender of the young, long-haired, anti-establishment youngsters who populate the Sunset Strip, an unincorporated area surrounded by Los Angeles.

MARRIAGE DISSOLVED

Mother Hubbard left the stage 30 years ago to marry, and settled down in the San Fernando Valley. The marriage was dissolved a few years ago, and she was left with two children to raise.

When her youngsters — the son is now 21, the daughter, 18 — turned to the Hippie movement, Mother Hubbard saw in their doctrines some of the revolt she experienced in her own youth.

"I felt alive again when I met my children's friends," Mother Hubbard said. "Their company and their thinking, not all of which I necessarily endorse, make me feel young. So I'm with them.

"I feel the flower children are going to be running our world a decade or less from now. I for one am ready and eager to join them."

On the theory that it takes a thief to spot a heist, the SIA assigns Alexander Mundy (series star Robert Wagner) to prevent foreign agents from stealing the crown jewels of Montefiore on "It Takes a Thief" over Channel 7 this Tuesday at 8:30 to 9:30 p.m.

Judy the chimpanzee (right), featured on "Daktari" (Tuesdays, 7:30-8:30 p.m., Channel 2) strikes a motherly pose with her step-daughter, Toto, in honor of Mother's Day — an event widely celebrated, it seems.

A portrait of Boston's Richard Cardinal Cushing is scheduled on the Harry Reasoner special on Channel 2, Tuesday, at 10:30 p.m.

It's a Purr-secution Complex

"Cats directed this show," said Bud Wiser, producer, director and writer of the "Big Cats, Little Cats" special to be colorcast over Channel 4 this Tuesday from 8-9 p.m.

"Cats have a mind of their own and they almost never do what you want them to," Wiser reported with a rueful grin, recalling his experiences with all sorts of frolicsome felines — from lap cats to lions — during filming of the animal special.

"They won't chase mice or look in fish bowls unless they happen to be in the mood.

"We shot one brief segment on an ordinary alley cat exploring the back streets of a big city — and we had to use a dozen look-alike cats to get what we wanted."

Wiser explained that the many different cats were needed to insure the right reaction at the right time.

SOME STALK

"Some cats like to 'talk' for instance—they meow all the time. Some leap, some saunter, some stalk. Some like heights and some are afraid of heights.

"I don't think it would be feasible, timewise, to develop a well-rounded picture of an alley cat using just one cat."

Wiser confessed that he had an easier time with the big cats — the lions, tigers and ocelots — filmed for the special then he did with the so-called "domesticated" tabby.

"The big cats were generally well-trained and docile, but those little house pets can be real terrors at times."

'The Saint' Travels On and Off Screen

Roger Moore, like "The Saint," is a world traveler.

He's been to Finland, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Germany, France, Spain, Tunisia, Malta, Capri, Sardinia, Elba, Greenland, Newfoundland, Iceland, Bahamas, Bermuda, Aruba and most of the states in the United States.

★ ★ ★

"I'm not a tourist, in the sense of being curious what a city has to offer," said Moore. "I'm not a sightseer. That drives me absolutely insane. As a kid I was supposed to be studying architecture and I was whipped around England to look at museums and churches."

★ ★ ★

Now Moore is whipping around the world as Simon Templar, a world traveler in search of adventure.

The full-hour mystery-adventure series is colorcast on Channel 4 Saturdays, 7:30-8:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

"There are some things, like the Colosseum in Rome and the pyramids in Egypt, which I feel you have to go and see, whether you like it or not," said Moore.

Moore has a curious way of remembering places: "Every place has its smells and sounds. I remember my first impression of New York — the diesel fumes of the buses, peanuts roasting on Broadway, and the perpetual noise of traffic.

"Austria — I can still smell the crisp, clear air, like the feeling you get from 'The Sound of Music' which I've seen six times. Germany — the heavy, pungent cigarette tobacco."

Stardom Comes Early on TV

They didn't attain their success overnight. Yet none of them had to wait long for stardom.

A sizable number of the talented youngsters who have roles in CBS television series have grown up reading TV scripts along with morning cereal boxes.

They include "old-timers" Stanley Livingston, in "My Three Sons" and Ronny Howard, a star of "The Andy Griffith Show". Both series have been on the air eight years, and both boys have grown up in television.

Relative newcomer Clint Howard (Ronny's younger brother) appears in "Gentle Ben." This is the second series for the 7-year-old. His first, when he was 4, was "Baileys of Balboa."

KINDERGARTEN GRADS

Barely out of kindergarten are Anissa Jones and Johnnie Whitaker, who play the 7-year-old twins on "Family Affair." The child star who has some of the most way-out adventures is Billy Mumy, entering his teens, whose best friend on "Lost in Space" is a kindly robot.

Two teen-agers who qualify for television's younger generation are Angela Cartwright of "Lost in Space" and Kathy Garver who plays the twins' olders sister on "Family Affair."

Rome—First Stop

Bible Land Tour with Dr. Malone Begins in Italy

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the first in a series of articles on a Christian tour to Europe and the Bible Lands with Dr. and Mrs. Tom Malone by Mary Anglemier, church editor of The Pontiac Press. The first stop with the group of 25 was Rome, Italy.)

By MARY ANGLEMIER
Church Editor

Everyone was peering out airplane windows to get a glimpse of Rome, the fabulous city built on seven hills, as we swooped down from high above the clouds toward the Rome airfield.

★ ★ ★

Rome — the beautiful city of sculpture, frescoes, paintings, and the birthplace of the First Christian Church — was to be our home for three days.

★ ★ ★

And what was the first thing I observed on leaving the airport?

★ ★ ★

Just what I'm used to seeing — a parking lot full of cars. But this one was different. There were no Pontiacs, Chevrolets, Ramblers, Fords, Chryslers, Cadillacs or Lincolns. Cars were small, all of European make.

IN ROME

Several miles later we were in Rome. Here we saw cars just drive up to the curb to get gas from a pump beside the curb like our fire hydrants. Someone would come out from a place of business and sell the gas.

★ ★ ★

Gorgeous pink azaleas on five-foot plants greeted us in the lounge of the Leonardo da Vinci Hotel. After a spaghetti luncheon our guide, Tina, took us on tour.

We visited the cave-like room in Mamertime Prison where Paul was kept until he was beheaded, and the Forum, the open square where leaders of Rome spoke, listened and argued. It was begun in 54 B.C. by Julius Caesar.

COLOSSEUM

One of the most important monuments of ancient Rome, is the Colosseum, begun in 72 A.D. It is said that at the dedication of the building in 80 A.D. some 500 ferocious beasts and many gladiators were slain in the arena.

★ ★ ★

The amphitheater could seat 500,000 spectators.

★ ★ ★

The trip to Pompeii took us through the flower market area and south along the Appian Way.

BETTINA

We wonder if any little girl in Pontiac has a doll that has traveled by air as much as Lisa Clyburn's Italian doll, Bettina.

★ ★ ★

Her mother, Mrs. Clyburn of Oxford, purchased Bettina when we stopped for coffee and hot chocolate, and she has traveled to all the far away places with the group.

★ ★ ★

People are again building homes at the foot of Mt. Vesuvius.

★ ★ ★

Our guide, Tina, took us to Torre Del Grecco, a cameo factory and shop where we watched men carving and chiseling the design on sea shells like our grandparents had in the parlor.

★ ★ ★

According to an old tale, if you hold the shell to the ear you can hear the roar of the ocean from which it came.

CAMEOS

Beautiful rings, pins, bracelets, necklaces and earrings were for sale in the shop. The craft has been handed down from father to son for several generations.

★ ★ ★

After a visit to the spectacular ruins of Pompeii we headed back to Rome visiting Naples where women hung the washing high above streets from apartment windows.

★ ★ ★

It was in 79 A.D. that Pompeii, a city of 25,000 persons, was buried in ashes by the Volcano Vesuvius.

★ ★ ★

The drive was heavenly, fruit trees were in blossom, the sun was shining, the grass was green. We really had two springs, one in Rome, one here. The rolling countryside was dotted with hundreds of acres of grapes, orange groves and thousands of olive trees.

VATICAN CITY

Vatican City rises on the right bank of the Tiber on the foothills of Monte Mario and Gianicolo. In early Roman times this was the site of the Gardens of Nero, where thousands of Christians were martyred.

★ ★ ★

St. Peter met his death here about 67 A.D. Today it is the world center of the Catholic Church. Each year, thousands of Catholics and non-Catholics stream here from all parts of the world.

★ ★ ★

Not only is the Vatican a great spiritual center, but a center of priceless art treasures of the Renaissance and of antiquity.

SISTINE CHAPEL

The Sistine Chapel, the celebrated private chapel of the popes is where the solemn ceremonies of the Holy See take place, and the conclaves for the election of the popes.

★ ★ ★

The Sistine Chapel is considered one of the most sublime masterpieces in the history of world art.

★ ★ ★

It is here the great Michelangelo painted the great fresco of the Last Judgment on the entire wall behind the altar.

★ ★ ★

Michelangelo considered himself a sculptor and didn't want to paint.

★ ★ ★

When he was commissioned by Julius II to decorate the chapel Michelangelo did everything he could to get out of it, but to no avail.

★ ★ ★

The artist worked for four years on a scaffolding, with his head continually thrown back. The ceiling treatment is three dimensional.

★ ★ ★

We tramped through our first rain as we left the Vatican and St. Peter's Church. Back at the hotel we had lunch, then to the airport for a flight to Cairo, Egypt.

Families Worship Together

Mother's Day Concerns the Church

Tomorrow is Mother's Day.

Husbands, sons and daughters will be falling over backwards to make mother happy on this her day. Mothers are important but so is the entire family.

★ ★ ★

Here is a quotation from "What Is a Family" by Alan Beck:

"The family is a storehouse in which the world's finest treasures are kept. Yet the only gold you'll find is golden laughter. The only silver is in the graying hair of dad and mom.

"The family's only real diamond is on mother's left hand; yet can it sparkle like the yes of the children at Christmas or shine half as bright as the candles on a birthday cake?

★ ★ ★

"The small pleasures, the great sorrows, the hopes, the loves, the dreams of the world are contained within these four walls called home. Though you may search the far corners of the world for your heart's desire, you'll find that if it's worth having at all, it has been right at home all the time — right at home with the family."

Several Pontiac area churches are announcing the following programs for Mother's Day:

GRACE LUTHERAN

The Rev. Richard D. Stuckmeyer of Grace Lutheran Church will confirm 44 young people and adults tomorrow. The adult class will be confirmed at the 9 a.m. service and the young people at 11 a.m.

A recording of "You Are There" will be given each family in observing Armed Forces Day. The recording was taped in Vietnam in Veteran's Hospitals with American chaplains and men in military service.

PONTIAC UNITY

"Father — Mother — Creater God" will be the theme of the Mother's Day service at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow in Pontiac Unity Church, 8 N. Genesee.

Dedicate Lutheran Church

The new first unit of the Lutheran Church of the Master, 3333 Coolidge, Troy will be dedicated at 5 p.m. tomorrow.

The officiant is Dr. Frank P. Madsen, president of the Michigan Synod of the Lutheran Church in America.

★ ★ ★

Also participating will be the Rev. Lloyd D. Buss, dean of the Eastern District and the Rev. James B. Blair, pastor.

The new building is traditional in design with colored glass windows in the worship area and red brick exterior. The chancel features a free standing altar with a large cross suspended above the altar.

CARPETED IN GOLD

Carpeting in the chancel area is gold in color. Furniture is finished in walnut. Flooring in the rest of the building is tile in a light beige.

Walls are off white except for the wooden arches and decking in the nave.

The building costing approximately $90,000 contains besides the sanctuary, a kitchen, pastor's study, narthex, meeting room and two class rooms.

The ultimate plan for the four-acre site calls for the erection of more classrooms and a sanctuary with seating for 500.

ORGANIZED IN 1964

The congregation was organized in 1964 by a mission developer with the Rev. C. William Pearson, pastor. Worship was held in the Poppleton School until December when the congregation moved into the building. More than 60 families are on the membership roll.

★ ★ ★

Under the direction of Warren Coyle, Gavin Wilson and Pastor James B. Blair, the chancel area was designed and completed by men of the church.

Mrs. James Pine, Mrs. Kenneth Conrad and Mrs. Blair were in charge of making the kneeling cushions.

ST. MARY'S-IN-THE-HILLS

The Rt. Rev. George R. Selway, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Northern Michigan, will confirm six adults and seven children at St. Mary's-in-the-Hills Episcopal Church, Lake Orion at 7:30 p.m. Monday.

★ ★ ★

The Altar Guild will be in charge of the reception for Bishop Selway and the confirmands following the ceremony.

COMES TO MICHIGAN

Bishop Delway, a graduate of Kenyon College, and Bexley Theological Seminary, came to Michigan as rector of St. Paul's Church in Lansing from St. Mark's Church in Toledo, Ohio.

He served as dean of Trinity Cathedral in Phoenix, Ariz., prior to accepting his present post in 1964.

Bishop Selway's jurisdiction includes Michigan's Upper Peninsula and the islands to the east of the mainland. The Cathedral of Northern Michigan together with the Bishop's office and residence are in Menominee.

The Westminster Choir composed of senior high school young people will sing "Canticle of Peace" be Clokey at both worship hours.

Fred Fuller will be heard in "Mother's Day Song" by Templeton.

The Women's Association is sponsoring a special program featuring the narcotic problem at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Speakers are Gerald St. Sauver, narcotis control division of Oakland County; Douglas Marx, pharmacist at Pontiac State Hospital; and a film titled "Drugs and the Nervous System."

All men and women of the community are invited to the program.

Plan Program

Women of Friendship Baptist Church, Williams at Lorraine will sponsor a talent program on Mother's Day tomorrow. At 7 p.m. members will present soles, duets, and dramatic readings. Mrs. Alvin Strickland and Mrs. Eddie McDonald are cochairmen.

Teen-Agers Present Concerts in Pontiac

The Omega Singers, a group of some 70 teen-agers from Pontiac, Detroit and the Metropolitan area will perform two concerts in the Pontiac area on May 18.

★ ★ ★

They will present a secular and patriotic concert at Pontiac Mall at 6:15 p.m. and a sacred concert at the Hillcrest Church of the Nazarene, 520 W. Walton at 7:30 p.m.

The Omega singers and their director Don Bell who is music director at Detroit First Church of the Nazarene, have just returned from presenting concerts in Barrie, Ont.

Future engagements include the Michigan Sunday School Convention as well as churches throughout Michigan.

Teen-agers representing the Pontiac area include Tim Gee, Chris Brewer, Dennis Lucius and Paula Taylor, all of the Hillcrest Church of the Nazarene; and Jackie Borton, Ellen Hoskins, and Cheri Webb, all of the Rochester Church of the Nazarene.

Among the youth from Pontiac First Church of the Nazarene are Carolyn Repp, and Jim, Pam and Jeff Vixon. From the Union Lake Nazarene Church is Dana Gaines.

Mother of Year Is Selected

The Mother of the Year will be announced at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services tomorrow in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, 404 Oakland.

Last Sunday the congregation voted for one of three candidates including Mrs. Andrew Creswell, Mrs. Gerald Fritz and Mrs. Leo Grives.

A vocal trio composed of Mrs. Thomas Mackie, Mrs. Roland Williams and Mrs. Dale Harvey, will sing at the early worship.

Jack Daniel who is on the International Board and staff of Youth for Christ International and the editorial staff of Campus Life magazine, will speak tomorrow morning at 9:45 to all junior and senior young people.

A film entitled "Marriage Is for Keeps" will be shown at the evening service. Special music will include a vocal duet by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mackie. Mark Allebach will present a piano solo.

Roy Holly, a veteran missionary with the Unevangelized Fields Mission in West Iran, will show a color sound film on his work there. Refreshments will be served. The family is invited.

Jerry Fritz, Bill Key and Tom Cox are heading up a softball team for boys in the 12-18-age group for the summer. Games will be scheduled with Christian Service Brigade groups in other area churches.

Colonist Pioneer Girls will enjoy a weekend retreat at Orchard Lodge in Kensington. Leaders accompanying the girls are Mrs. Kenneth McKenzie and Mrs. William Key.

LEAVING FOR GUYANA — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Butler, members of Five Points Community Church, are on their way to Guyana, South America to serve as missionaries from their church. A farewell reception was held for the young couple following worship Sunda evening.

What can you depend on?

How often have you heard someone say, "There's nothing you can really depend on these days"?

So often life itself seems unreliable.

But there is something you can depend on.

There is a God you can trust. Christian Scientists the world over are finding this out. They're proving for themselves that God is "an ever present help in time of trouble."

If you would like to learn about a God you can depend on, hear this lecture by Glenn L. Morning, C.S.B. Bring family and friends . . . the lecture is free.

MRS. ELMER QUINE

All Saints Banquet to Honor Secretary

Former staff members, associates and friends of Mrs. Elmer Quine (Marian) as well as members of the parish will be on hand to greet Marian at the retirement dinner in her honor at All Saints Episcopal Church Thursday evening.

★ ★ ★

The dinner is scheduled for 6:30 p.m.

Born and raised in Pontiac, Mrs. Quine, who received her education in Pontiac schools, has served All Saints Church as secretary for 40 years.

She began her career as parish secretary in 1928 serving under the late Rev. Bates G. Burt for 18 years.

During this time she married the late Elmer Quine on Sept. 17, 1940 in a ceremony at the church. From this marriage she became stepmother to Quine's daughter, June, now Mrs. Bob Rogers of Milwaukee, Wis.

★ ★ ★

The Rogers have added four grandchildren to Marian's life.

In 1948 the Rev. Ivol I. Curtis, now Bishop of the State of Washington, came to All Saints and served as rector until 1953.

The Rev. C. George Widdifield came to the Pontiac church and has served continuously since then.

TREASURER OF GROUP

Marian is a member of Guild No. 7 and has been treasuruer of Episcopal Church Women for 30 years.

Just last year a few members of Guild No. 11 had charge of the coffee hours following morning worship. The women were shown just how to make the coffee by Marian.

A short time before the service was ended Marian came to the kitchenette to check.

Guild members said she might have a cup of coffee but there was nothing but hot water in the pot. It seems the committee forgot to put in the coffee.

Kirk Men Entertain at Dinner

The Men's Brotherhood of Kirk in the Hills will entertain the wives at the last session of the spring series of meetings Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

A reception in the refectory at 6:30 p.m. will be followed by dinner at 7.

★ ★ ★

John B. Horner, director of Christian education, will present "The Ringing and the Singing of the Bells." He will be assisted by the Kirkringers, senior high school student members of the American Guild of English Handbell Ringers.

Horner came to the Kirk in September 1966. He received his Bachelor and Master degrees from Westminister College in Princeton, N.J.

Before coming to the church, Horner was on the staff of First Methodist Church in Ferndale where he directed the first handbell choir in the history of the church.

HOW CAN ONE BE DECEIVED?

Jesus said, "Born of water and spirit." The deceiver will say you are born again. When you receive Jesus into your heart! Jesus said, "Go preach the gospel, he that believeth; "believeth what? Believeth the gospel, and is baptised she be. Not is saved but shall be saved. The deceiver says you are saved by just believing in Jesus as your Saviour. The Apostles preached the gospel just like Jesus commanded them. Peter said repent and be baptised every one in the Name of Jesus Christ and receive the spirit. Like Jesus said, water and spirit. Paul also preached, baptism in the name of the Lord Jesus and the spirit. As Jesus said: water and spirit from Romans II or through Revelations was to People, Baptised in the Name of the Lord Jesus Christ and received the Holy Ghost and all that don't preach this are deceivers.

Smiling Xuan Thuy Leads the Way

Hanoi Tries Friendliness Drive

PARIS (AP) — North Vietnam's delegation to the preliminary peace talks with the United States has launched a friendliness offensive since it arrived in Paris, but with only limited success.

Spearheading the drive to win friends is delegation chief Xuan Thuy, a short, bald man of 55 with a conservative taste in clothes and a reputation as a veteran revolutionary.

Thuy got a warm welcome when he arrived at Le Bourget Airport, even though the small crowd had to wait three hours for his plane.

The first thing people noticed about him at the airport was Thuy's perpetual smile.

NEVER VANISHES

It never came off—not even when the crowd of well wishers, and newsmen threatened to crush his ribs as they pressed into the main waiting room.

The smile was still there next day when Thuy and his aides had to push their way down the steps in front of the Foreign Ministry, between rows of newsmen and photographers.

★ ★ ★

Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville watched apprehensively from the door.

Thuy smiles even when he tells reporters—in Vietnamese—that he won't answer questions. He is known to speak excellent French.

AIDES BURY

His aides distributed plentiful copies of his arrival statement, plus a capsule biography. The biography said he was born "into a family of patriots on the outskirts of Hanoi."

Later there was a multi-copied English translation of both texts. This kind of pressagentry is highly unusual among representatives of Communist governments.

★ ★ ★

The friendliness remained, but after a bit the helpfulness began to fade. Reporters could usually find an amiable North Vietnamese spokesman. But he proved incapable of answering the most routine questions—such as what time Thuy was to meet Couve de Murville.

★ ★ ★

After the first session between U.S. and North Vietnamese representatives Friday, a spokesman was pleasant as ever and even had some information. But he explained he hadn't attended the meeting.

BRIEFING SCORED

The chief spokesman, Nguyen Than Le, held a briefing. But from the viewpoint of most reporters it had two major defects: It was held before the meeting, and only reporters from Communist newspapers and agencies were admitted.

★ ★ ★

The failure of the North Vietnamese to follow up their first success in public relations may have been due in part to arrangements made for them by the French government. The Vietnamese did not say so in public, but they were reported dissatisfied with the setup.

★ ★ ★

The U.S. delegation is lavishly housed in the Hotel Crillion on the Place de la Concorde, where U.S. delegations traditionally stay. It is next to the U.S. Embassy. A big lounge with magnificient crystal chandeliers has been turned into a press room, where spokesmen are available day and night.

The Vietnamese are at the Lutetia, a comfortable but far from luxurious hotel on the Left Bank of the Seine. It is more than half a mile from the office of the North Vietnamese diplomatic mission.

NO PRESS ROOM

No press room has yet been set up at the Lutetia—whether by French omission or by Vietnamese request is not known.

Cause No. 23316
STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division.
In the matter of the petition concerning Robin Charles Bean, minor.
TO: Charles Bean, father of said minor child.
Petition having been filed in this court alleging that said child comes within the provisions of Chapter 712A of the Compiled Laws of 1948 as amended, in that the present whereabouts of the father of said minor child is unknown and said child is dependent upon the public for support, and that said child should be continued under the jurisdiction of this Court.
In the Name of the People of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Court House, Oakland County Service Center, in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 23rd day of May, A.D. 1968, at 10:30 o'clock in the forenoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing, at which time temporary or permanent severance of all parental rights will be considered.
It being impractical to make personal service thereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Campus Minis Are Bemoaned

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The University of Arizona newspaper, The Wildcat, complained editorially that the brevity of coed skirts is creating a crisis among men students.

★ ★ ★

"More thigh is revealed at the University of Airzona than practically any other school in the country," said the editorial.

★ ★ ★

The average miniskirt, it said, is four inches above the knee at 70 degrees but goes up two inches for every 10-degree rise in the temperature.

★ ★ ★

It noted with alarm that the temperatures would be in the 90s by mid-May, "a near catastrophe before final exams."

Pontiac Twp. Girl Flying High Today

ATHENS, Ohio (UPI) — A Pontiac Township girl, Patricia Cleary, 20, a senior at the University of Dayton, was named queen of the National Intercollegiate Flying Association's annual air meet here last night.

★ ★ ★

Actor Cliff Robertson crowned the girl queen of the weekend event. Some 35 colleges from around the nation participated in the meet.

★ ★ ★

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cleary of 4000 Sleepy Hollow.

Heads Heart Unit

DETROIT (AP)— The Michigan Heart Association Friday elected Denis J. Bracken, a Ford Motor Co. official, to be president of the association for two years. He succeeds H. Gordon Wood, a Detroit corporation lawyer.

Insurance Pool Urged for State

LANSING (UPI) — The key to rebuilding the state's urban ghettos is creation of a state-supervised pool for insuring high-risk property, Rep. Loren D. Anderson, R-Waterford, said Friday.

Anderson is chief sponsor of a House-passed bill now before the Senate, which would create a statewide property insurance pool that would require all companies that sell property insurance to belong.

★ ★ ★

Anderson urged the Senate to pass the bill without delay.

"The desire is there and funds can be made available from both public and private sources, but people are not willing to invest and rebuild unless insurance is available to protect their effort and investment," Anderson said.

Lawmen Warn of Vandalism at Rail Crossings

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies and railroad police have issued a warning that vandals have been breaking the signals at railroad crossings in Oakland County.

Last week the crossing of the Penn Central railroad tracks at Third Street in Rochester was broken four times, deputies said.

★ ★ ★

Two weeks ago in Oxford a motorist went past a vandalized signal and the car was hit by a train and the driver injured.

Added caution is urged at crossings, and witnesses to anyone tampering with a railroad signal are advised to call the police immediately.

Photographer Brightens Up Restaurant

LANSING (AP) — Bruce Cornelius, photographer for the Lansing State Journal, is the kind of fellow who lights up a room just by entering it.

He outdid himself this week when 20 flashbulbs exploded in his pocket in a local restaurant.

★ ★ ★

"I had just finished shooting a basketball game and went into this restaurant," Cornelius explained. "I had these flash bulbs in the side pocket of my jacket.

"When I slid into a plastic covered seat they all went off at once, blasting a hole out of the side of my jacket and lighting up the entire room."

★ ★ ★

Cornelius figures static electricity created by the plastic seat, his wool slacks and a nylon jacket combined for the super flash display.

He said he didn't have an answer when a waitress asked: "What are you going to do for an encore?"

Huber to Speak

THE PURPOSE OF A DEATH CERTIFICATE
Much of the time spent in making final arrangements for a deceased person is answering questions for the death certificate.
It is very important that all information required is complete and accurate for the death certificate has many uses.

J. L. VOORHEES

M. E. SIPLE
In many cases they are of immediate use for settling such things as insurance, stocks, bonds and bank accounts.
Even in the cases where the deceased leaves no relatives, no estate or has any insurance in force, the death certificates are filed permanently in the state where death occurs, as a vital statistic in the state capital.
Seeing that the death certificate is completed accurately is but one of the many hidden services performed by your funeral director.

Bonnie, Clyde Duo Arrested

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — A man and woman arrested for a $155 supermarket holdup after a 25-mile chase were described Friday by Lee County Sheriff Flanders Thompson as "a modern day version of Bonnie and Clyde."

Thompson said the woman, Barbara Sue Woodyard, 22, carried in her purse photos of the movie version of Bonnie and Clyde and a photograph of herself holding a rifle in the classic "Bonnie pose. Standing behind her in the picture, Thompson said, was Warren Yopp, 22, who was arrested with Miss Woodyard.

In their car was a pistol and a sawed-off shotgun hidden under a blanket, Thompson said.

Planning Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $230,319 grant to the Genesee County Metropolitan Planning Commission has been awarded by the Department of Housing and Urban Development for urban planning in Flint and surrounding area.

Want Funds Back

LANSING (AP) — Members of the Michigan Good roads Federation will go to Washington May 21 to meet with the state's congressional delegation and ask for restoration of recent federal cutbacks in highway spending.

Fifth Grade Poet Honors His Mom

CHICAGO (AP) — Fifth-grade pupils at Mark Twain school wrote poems for their mothers in honor of Mother's Day. In his ode, Scott Stolnack wrote:

"We all know it's our dad who brings home the bacon,

"But it's our mom who stays up when your bones are achin'."

Today is Saturday, May 11, the 132nd day of 1968 with 234 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.

★ ★ ★

The morning stars are Saturn and Venus.

The evening star is Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1832 the first political platform was drawn up for the campaign to elect Henry Clay president.

In 1910 Glacier National Park in Montana was created by an act of Congress.

In 1928 a station in Schenectady, N.Y. WGY began the first regularly scheduled television programs.

★ ★ ★

In 1965 actress Hedy Lamarr divorced her sixth husband.

Rose Too Free With Money

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sen. Edward M. Kennedy had a smiling answer Friday for newsmen who asked him a family question.

At a news conference he was asked about his mother, Rose, who has been quoted as explaining Kennedy campaign finances by saying "it's our own money and we're free to spend it any way we please."

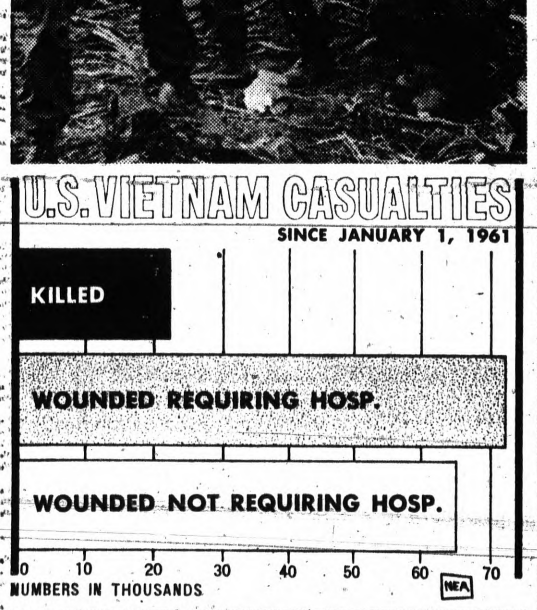
"That's why," said the Democratic senator from Massachusetts, "mother isn't finance chairman."

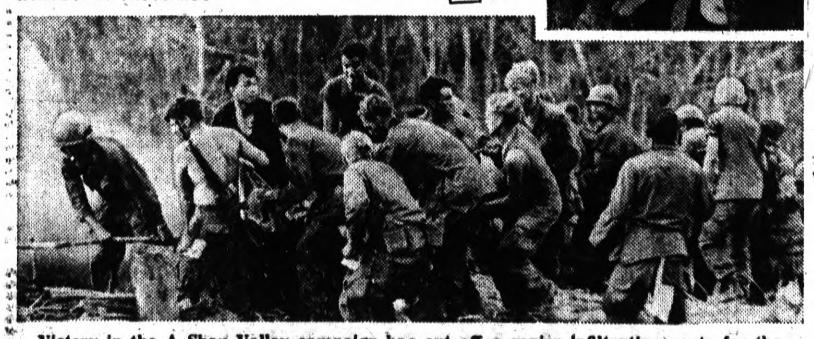
Gets Guard Post

LANSING (AP) — Brig. Gen. Floyd W. Radike has been named commanding general, Emergency Operations Headquarters, Michigan Army National Guard, Gov. George Romney announced Friday. Radike, 53, of Detroit formerly was deputy commander with the rank of colonel.

Health Unit Head

LANSING (AP) — Andrew Dempster of Detroit has been elected president of the Michigan Public Health Association, succeeding Dr. John Hanlon, also of Detroit. Named president-elect was Roy Manty of Lansing.





Victory in the A Shau Valley campaign has cut off a major infiltration route for the North Vietnamese. It has, however, cost heavily in casualties and loss of equipment, especially helicopters. Chart shows breakdown of American casualties in Vietnam since 1961 based on most recent reports from U.S. headquarters in Saigon. Figures cover part of the A Shau Valley fighting.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF IDA D. Gaff who passed away 4 years ago May 11, 1964:
Your presence is ever near us,
Your love remains with us yet;
You were the kind of friend,
Your loved ones would never forget.
—Sadly missed by Donald R. Bennett Family.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF IDA D. Gaff who passed away 4 years ago May 11, 1964:
It is lonesome here without you,
And sad and weary the way;
Life has not been the same,
Since you were called away.
—Sadly missed by husband Frederick J. Gaff and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Robert S. Smith who passed away May 12, 1967:
God saw you getting weaker,
So he did what he thought best
He came and stood beside you,
And whispered, Come to Rest.
You wished no one a last farewell,
Not even said good-bye.
You were gone before we knew it
And only God knows why.
Sadly missed by his wife, Daisy son, Harry, daughter, Phyllis Shampine and family.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Tommy R. Auger, who passed away May 11, 1966.
You're not forgotten, Son,
Nor ever shall you be;
As long as life and memory last
I shall remember thee.
With love, Dad.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Tommy Auger, who was killed 2 years ago by a car.
We cannot forget you.
Our loved one so dear.
Your memory grows sweeter,
Year after year.
You cannot return,
So our tears are in vain,
But in Heaven we are hoping
To meet you again.
Sadly missed by mother and sister Gina Marie.

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear grandson, Tommy Auger, who was killed May 11, 1966.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear,
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember, he who was here,
Who, gone away, is just as dear.
Sadly missed by grandma and grandpa Tweddle.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Fred M. White who passed away May 9, 1965:
I sigh sometimes to see thy face,
But since this cannot be;
I'll leave thee to the care of Him
Who watches thee and me.
Sadly missed by wife, Pat, and son, Kevin and Keith.

A beautiful lengthy view of the lake. This three bedroom home has a brick fireplace, carpeted living room and hall and includes all drapes and curtains, a 1½ car garage and a completely and new fence. Only $21,900 on terms. Better call quick on this one.

YOU WERE SMART TO WAIT

Select homes at reasonable prices are disappearing from the market fast, so don't wait any longer. We have a beautiful ranch home that is just right for you. Situated on a large, well landscaped corner lot in Waterford Township, it features 3 bedrooms, 1½ ceramic baths, a family room with fireplace, loads of built-in aluma view windows, a completely fenced yard, and even has lake privileges on beautiful Silver Lake. Priced at $26,500, it will make summer and winter living a real joy.

MORE INFLATION COMING

It appears so and real estate will not be any cheaper. Here's your opportunity to still buy a two year old rancher in a moderate price range. Situated on a large lot overlooking Williams Lake just across the street from the lake privilege lot. Basement, two car garage and electric garage door opener. The stove and refrigerator are also included. The owners are returning to Florida and are sacrificing. The price is $21,500.

FRESHER THAN SPRINGTIME!

This delightful three bedroom ranch is as clean and sharp as any home could be. It's located in beautiful Lotus Lake Estates (just a stones throw from the subdivision beach). Has a full basement, two-car garage, fenced yard, new carpeting. If you like suburban living with city conveniences, you'll want to make this your home. Only $22,950.

LARGE FAMILY?
SHORT OF BEDROOMS?
LINE UP FOR THE BATH?

Then you should see this four bedroom, cape cod with two baths, full basement, two car attached garage, situated in Lotus Lake Estates (not too far from the subdivision beach) which features blacktop streets and community water. This home was built in 1961 and is well worth the asking price. ASK ABOUT OUR TRADE IN PLAN.

WATKINS PONTIAC ESTATES

Strange how some houses fairly smile — this one does and rightly so — with the beautiful landscaping and carpetinn throughout. This three bedroom ranch with full basement (finished) and two car garage and fenced yard is just waiting for the right person to come along. Fourteen days possession.

NO GAUDY ADJECTIVES

Could possibly do justice to the lovely contemporary ranch we've just listed. Location — within walking distance of Tel Huron in one of Pontiac's best west side residential areas. Over 2700 sq. ft. of high class living. It features loads of built-ins, such as 2½ baths, 2½ car attached heated garage with door openers, built-in hi-fi, all sealed glass windows; underground sprinkling system, air conditioning and air filterino system, radiant heat in baths and many more plus features. It's priced at $45,000. You must see this fine home to appreciate it!

BIG WELCOME—One of 15 coal miners to be rescued early today from a flooded coal mine shaft gets a big hug from his wife. He spent nearly five days in the flooded passageway of the mine at Hominy Falls, W.Va. Ten others are still in the mine and have been given up for dead.

10 Dead Left Behind

15 Miners Are Saved

HOMINY FALLS, W.Va. (AP) —Fifteen stiff and chilled coal miners rode a conveyor belt to freedom before dawn today after spending five terrifying days huddled in a flooded mine.

Left behind, deep in the mountain, were 10 of their fellows for whom all hope was lost long ago.

It was believed the 10 were swept to their death Monday noon when a break in the wall to an adjoining abandoned mine shot millions of gallons of water through the mine's wavy passageway.

The first miner came out of the mine entrance, into the glare of floodlights and the waiting arms of his wife and family at 5:20 a.m. He had spent a total of 118 hours and 20 minutes in the mine since he reported for work at 7 a.m. Monday.

OTHERS FOLLOW

The others followed in quick succession.

As each man stepped off the belt—unaided—a blanket was thrown around his shoulder and he was led to a padded bench.

They were black from hardhat to boot and wet from the water they had to wade through on part of their journey.

The lamps on their hats flickered through the gloom.

At first the 200 friends and relatives who had waited most of the night around the mine entrance were silent. Then there was a great wave of laughing and hugging.

It was difficult to make out any of the conversations as the scene turned to bedlam. Photographers' bulbs went off like harsh fireflies.

STILL MISSING

There also was sadness among relatives of the 10 missing men crowded to the entrance in faint hope.

City Drive Claims 1,000 New Voters

A concentrated drive to register unregistered voters in Pontiac began May 1, and yesterday cochairmen for the drive — Ernest Seay of 86 S. Marshall and James B. Davis of 1127 Dudley — announced that more than 1,000 new registrations had been secured.

City Clerk Olga Barkeley said the registration forms would have to be checked and verified to determine that they are accurate and legal. She said the final number of registrations would be known next week.

★ ★ ★

If the drive ends up near 1,000 registrants, it represents a substantial increase in the number of registered voters in such a short period.

The city had a total of 29,085 registered electors before new registration opened after the school millage election on March 25. Registration closed yesterday.

21 DEPUTIZED

Twenty-one persons sponsored by Seay, Davis and a number of interested clergymen and professional persons were deputized by Mrs. Barkeley last Wednesday.

Machinery for getting out new voters did not mesh easily at first but the drive — admittedly aimed at getting a favorable vote on the city's fair housing referendum election June 24 — was in motion.

★ ★ ★

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. was instrumental in securing the loan of a van-type bus from GM Truck & Coach Division and this acted as a mobile voting registration unit.

The Pontiac School District obliged the drive by allowing registrations to be taken in the schools.

100 VOLUNTEER HELP

More than 100 persons volunteered their help. They represented about one dozen organizations. Students from a number of area high schools and Oakland University played a big part in getting unregistered residents to the schools where new registrations were taken, Davis said.

A group organized to promote a favorable vote on the fair housing issue — known as Friends of Fair Housing — helped organize and set the drive into motion.

★ ★ ★

Davis said most efforts to secure new registrants were concentrated in Districts 1 and 7.

Districting Delay for Counties Eyed

CHEBOYGAN (AP) — The Cheboygan County Board of Supervisors is distributing a resolution to Mighigan's other 83 counties requesting that reapportionment of supervisors on the one-man, one-vote basis be delayed until 1970 after the new census.

Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley has interpreted a State Supreme Court ruling on the issue as having immediate effect. Cheboygan supervisors argue the census would require additional changes when the new population figures are known, and hope to enlist support form other counties to postpone reapportionment.

Weekend Outlook Is Rainy and Mild

Occasional showers and mild temperatures may be expected over the weekend.

The weatherman forecasts the following day by day report:

TODAY—Mostly cloudy with occasional rain likely and little temperature change today and tonight. High 62 to 68. Low tonight 48 to 52.

Winds northeast to east at 5 to 12 miles per hour, becoming east to southeast at 8 to 18 miles this afternoon and tonight.

SUNDAY—Mostly cloudy and mild.

MONDAY—Partly cloudy and cool.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: today 80, tonight 70, tomorrow 20.

Forty-six was the low temperature prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The Mercury registered 56 at 12:30 p.m.

NEW VOTERS—Checking over registration forms of new voters are James B. Davis of 1127 Dudley, cochairman of a voter registration drive, and Mrs. Elaine Bryant of 105 Cherokee, a volunteer worker. Volunteers working on the drive claim more than 1,000 new voters were registered in the past 10 days.

Bobby, Hubert Speak in Omaha

By The Associated Press

Crisscrossing the Great Plains in his quest for the Democratic presidential nomination, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy says the American people "want a change that cannot be promised by politicians or enacted by the most powerful government."

The people seek "a change in the national spirit," the candidate said yesterday in Omaha, Neb.

★ ★ ★

The Omaha dinner was a political doubleheader. Kennedy was heard while the diners were digging into their salads and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey was served up with dessert.

In his Omaha speech, Humphrey said the voters don't "want this nation in a frenxy." They will shun those who ignore problems as well as those who exaggerate them, he said.

POPULARITY TEST

Both men seek the Democratic nomination but Humphrey didn't get into the race in time to be on the ballot in Tuesday's Nebraska primary, which shapes up as a popularity test between Kennedy and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota.

Kennedy is favored to top McCarthy, wo is putting more emphasis on the May 28 primary in Oregon and the June 4 test in California.

★ ★ ★

McCarthy, campaigning in Portland, Ore., told backers in a neighborhood headquarters yesterday that he'd be around to see them again, regardless of the outcome in Nebraska.

Kennedy, campaigning in South Dakota last night, told some 3,500 persons at Mitchell that as president he would give high priority to securing for farmers bargaining power to protect their own interests.

Poverty March Has Its Troubles

By The Associated Press

The Poor People's Campaign, hit by a stabbing and some lack of housing, continued its roundabout route toward Washington today.

The Southern segment of the campaign, which ran into housing problems in Macon, Ga., last night, was assured of beds at its next stop in the Georgia coastal city of Savannah.

★ ★ ★

And in Washington officials worked out an arrangement in which the campaigners will be allowed to erect what they call "Resurrection City, U. S. A.," in a park between the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial.

Bigger problems broke out yesterday on the New England segment of the march, when a demonstrator picketing the campaign in Boston was stabbed.

KNOCKED TO GROUND

Joseph Mlot-Mroz was picketing across the street from campaign buses when he was knocked to the ground. He got in his car, turned the vehicle and was a block away when he was stabbed. He was listed in fair condition.

U.S., N. Viets Okay Procedure for Talks

PARIS (AP)—American and North Vietnamese negotiators reached agreement today on procedural matters for Monday's opening of talks which could lead to an end of the war in Vietnam. The atmosphere of today's meeting was described as "very good" by an American official.

Cyrus R. Vance, deputy leader of the American delegation, told newsmen after today's session: "We have concluded all procedural arrangements. We will go into substance on Monday."

★ ★ ★

Vance was emphatic on one point: "The atmosphere has been very good."

He said it had been agreed with his opposite number, Col. Ha Van Lau, that the conference will be conducted in two official languages—English and Vietnamese—with French as the working language. This means that each side will use its own language in conducting the day-to-day business of the conference. But French will be used for any conference documents and statements, which can be readily translated and understood by both sides.

SMILING BROADLY

After today's second and final 2-hour and 22-minute procedural meeting, Lau was smiling broadly, as he usually does, and told newsmen he was "very satisfied." Asked if there would be a further meeting tomorrow, he said: "Tomorrow is Sunday."

Pressed as to whether a Vietnam cease-fire would be the first order of business Monday, he replied: "No comment. We must leave that to the heads of the delegations."

★ ★ ★

Vance said an agenda for the talks Monday was not discussed.

Vance and Lau were reported to have shaken hands at the start of the meeting, as they did the first time they met.

POLITE MEETING

Their opening round yesterday also had been described as polite.

Vance and Lau reportedly agreed that they should give out as little information as possible on their discussions.

★ ★ ★

The North Vietnamese spokesman said: "The Americans suggested that nothing further be said" and the North Vietnamese agreed. Other sources confirmed that this was an American suggestion.

U. S. officials who see prolonged and difficult negotiations ahead were not quite sure what to make of yesterday's events. The simplest explanation appeared to be that the North Vietnamese were genuinely concerned about conference arrangements and that they had decided as a matter of tactics not to make a major issue immediately of such matters as how many questions the preliminary talks will cover.

U.S. Troops Kill 442 Reds in Fighting Below the DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. forces reported today killing 442 North Vietnamese troops below the demilitarized zone in renewed sharp fighting, described by some officers as another phase of the enemey's "peace talk" offensive.

In the enemy's seven-day-old attack on Saigon, the American command reported 50 Viet Cong soldiers killed in fighting in and around the capital. Some guerrillas still were holding out on the southern fringes despite heavy allied air attacks.

★ ★ ★

In the northern war zone, U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division troops rushed in to reinforce Marine units battered in heavy fighting around Dong Ha, where 1,500 enemy soldiers have been reported killed in the last two weeks.

The army reinforcements and Marines reported killing 442 enemy soldiers in the last 24 hours in five battles ranging from 5 to 11 miles below the demilitarized zone. American casualties were put at 24 killed and 54 wounded.

18-TO-1 RATIO

If the U.S. count is correct, 18 enemy soldiers were killed for every American slain. Many of the enemy dead were claimed from American air strikes and artillery barrages.

U.S. bombers reportedly killed 56 enemy troops between Dong Ha and Gio Linh, another Marine strongpoint to the north, after a company of infantryen from the U.S. 199th Light Brigade came under enemy small arms fire and pulled back. One American was killed and two wounded.

Other fighting was reported near Hue, about 50 miles below the DMZ.

"The enemy has definitely escalated twofold," said Col. Milton Hull of Plant City, Fla., commander of the 3rd Marine Regiment.

Army Blasted on M16 Pacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — A senator and congressman from Maine say the Army didn't consider price in awarding a big contract for rifle production—a contract that didn't go to a Maine firm that was low bidder.

Rep. Peter N. Kyros, DMaine, one of the disgruntled legislators, also accused the Army of being biased in favor of big companies in awarding contracts for production of the M16 rifle.

★ ★ ★

"I am bothered that they eliminated all consideration of pricing," Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, told newsmen after a meeting with Brig. Gen. Walter Woolwine of the Army Materiel Command.

What mattered most to the Army, Muskie said, was "a company's capacity to turn out the rifles as fast as they were needed under the new policies."

MET WITH GENERAL

Muskie and Kyros met with the general because they wanted to know why Maremont Corp. of Saco, Maine, lost out when two firms were named recently to make M16s.

Maremont's bid was $36 million to produce 240,000 of the automatic weapons.

★ ★ ★

The contracts went to Harrington & Richardson Co. of Worcester, Mass., and the Hydramatic Division of General Motors Corp., Ypsilanti, Mich. The ceiling price on the GM bid was $56 million—$20 million higher that the Maine firm's.

This adds up to "disorderly procurement," Kyros said after the briefing yesterday.

Local Man, 24, Bound Over in Mall Kidnaping

Following a 4½ hour hearing yesterday, Laurence S. Moore of 499 W. Huron was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court to stand charges of kidnaping, rape and gross indecency.

Moore, 24, married and the father of one child, appeared before Waterford Township Justice of the Peace Kenneth H. Hempstead. He is accused of kidnaping a Pontiac woman and her brother-in-law from the Pontiac Mall April 29.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Norman Kinnison, 19, of 435½ University testified yesterday that during that night she was raped three times by Moore.

His arraignment is scheduled for May 29 at 10 a.m. before Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

SUSPECT IDENTIFIED

Mrs. Kinnison and her brother-in-law, Frank Kinnison, 14, of the same address, identified Moore from the witness stand as the man who had abducted them.

Moore asked if she would drive him to a bowling alley, but as they neared it, he showed her the small pistol he was carrying and a hunting knife, according to Kinnison.

★ ★ ★

Kinnison said about an hour later he was ordered out of the car on Bass Lake Road in Commerce Township. "The last thing I heard before they drove away was Pat asking 'Now what are you going to do to me?"

Shortly after Mrs. Kinnison took the stand and began telling her story, she lost her composure, and both she and Moore's wife who was sitting behind him in the courtroom, began to cry.

FINISHES TESTIMONY

She finished her testimony after returning from a recess called by Judge Hempstead.

Five police officers testified, including the two that arrested Moore in Genesee County about 12 hours after Mrs. Kinnison gained her freedom

★ ★ ★

Police said they found a pistol like the one used in the kidnaping stuck into a seat of a pickup truck that had stopped to give Moore a ride. Moore later directed police to a wooded area where they found the knife he had tossed away.

The day after Moore was charged in the Kinnison case, another charge of kidnaping and rape was brought against him by a 21-year-old Pontiac woman who was abducted from the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center parking lot in March.

★ ★ ★

His preliminary examination in that case is scheduled for Tuesday at 2 p.m. before Hempstead.

Area Man Found Dead

Russell F. Zink, 57, of 2760 Mackintosh, Bloomfield Township, was found dead in his car in the parking lot of Crittenton Hospital, Rochester at 7 p.m., yesterday.

County Sheriff's deputies and a coroner attribute the death to suicide by a self-inflicted shotgun wound in the chest.

Republicans Beat Deadline to Pry Important Romney Bills Out of Committee

LANSING (UPI) — Majority Republicans in the Michigan Legislature had to scramble yesterday, but they managed to pry Gov. George Romney's top-priority bills from committee six hours before the midnight deadline.

Squeezed out just ahead of the cutoff point for approving bills for debate were measures to beef up tenants' rights, to wage a stiffer fight against water pollution, to crack down on crime and to appropriate a record-high $1.34-billion general fund budget for next year.

★ ★ ★

Each house now has just two weeks to wade through the several dozen bills cleared for homestretch action. Deadline for final passage of bills is May 24. The lawmakers hope to clean up details and be out for the summer before Memorial Day.

★ ★ ★

The only near miss for Romney was a bill authorizing voluntary regional councils of government. The bill came out of the Towns and Counties Comittee in the House, but without recommendation for passage — which means it will lie on the table until and if a majority decide they want to consider it.

OTHERS FOR TABLE

Other bills coming out to lie on the table included ones to let local chief executives declare states of emergency during riots and to ban contests at gas stations.

★ ★ ★

Other major issue bills making it to the floor with recommendation to pass included measures to:

- Hike the state minimum wage in stages to a top of $1.50 an hour by Jan. 1, 1970.
- Allow electronic eavesdropping on certain suspected criminals under very restricted court-supervised conditions.
- Make it a crime to use your credit cards that have been revoked or canceled.
- Make it a crime to riot or incite to riot, with punishments ranging up to 10 years in prison or a $10,000 fine.
- Establish a state internal security council to keep tabs on possible subversive or dangerous elements in the state.
- Set forth who will succeed state officers if they cannot perform their duties during times of major civil disturbances.

TENANTS' RIGHTS

The tenants' rights bills — which some think will go far further toward solving problems of ghetto-dwellers than open housing — forbid cancellation of a lease except for "just cause" and set up boards of tenants' affairs to help run public housing projects.

★ ★ ★

Although the Senate had voted to up the minimum wage to $1.50 an hour by 1972, the House Labor Committee condensed the schedule to hit the top a year earlier. As the bill went to the floor, the minimum would go to $1.35 an hour next Jan. 1, to $1.40 in 1970 and to $1.50 in 1971.

★ ★ ★

The Senate Appropriations Committee sent to the floor for debate a record-high welfare spending bill fattened by Gov. George Romney's last-minute request by $12.2 million over his original recommendation.

★ ★ ★

The massive welfare bill, next to education the biggest chunk of the state's budget, brought tentative general fund spending figures for 1968-69 to $1.34 billion.

★ ★ ★

All budget bills have been passed by one house and are now revised and waiting debate in the second chamber. As they now stand, they are $6.4 million below Romney's revised general fund recommendations.

Texas Is Raked by Rain and Hail, Fierce Winds

By The Associated Press

A weeklong siege of severe thunderstorms raked Texas with more weather violence today, hurling hail, heavy rain and tornadic winds across the state from the panhandle to the gulf.

Severe weather warnings were in effect through most of the night for south-central and southeastern sections of the state as the storms continued into the sixth straight day.

★ ★ ★

Six persons were dead, either in weather-related traffic accidents or by drowning in flash flooding which hit parts of the state Thursday and Friday in the wake of foot-deep rainfalls.

★ ★ ★

Numerous funnel clouds churned about Texas again Friday night, but again as in other night, damage reports were rare and there were no reported injuries. Tornado sightings were as far apart as Dalhart, in the panhandle, and Tomball and Pasadena, in the Houston vicinity.

HANGER LIFTED

A heavy metal top whirled off an elevated water tank at Abilene and split a frame house apart near the city's business district. No one was injured. Airplanes in a hangar at the Abilene airport were unharmed as the building was lifted from them in the windstorm.

★ ★ ★

Hailstones ranging in size from baseballs to black-eyed peas pounded widely scattered sections of the state once more — the larger ones being reported at Kermit, west of Odessa, and the smaller near Amarillo in the panhandle.

★ ★ ★

More than 3 inches of rain soaked Houston since Friday afternoon.

Similarly heavy rains drenched neighboring Arkansas, with up to 6 inches falling on southwestern counties over a two-day period. Little Rock measured a 4-inch rain Friday alone.

★ ★ ★

A tornado struck the south-central Arkansas town of Hampton late Friday damaging several homes, toppling trees and knocking a restaurant off its foundations. No one was injured.

Four More File Petitions for Waterford School Seats

The number of candidates for the Waterford Township School District's June 10 board of education election increased to six yesterday as four more office-seekers filed nominating petitions.

Robert W. Carr, 39, of 6505 Waterford Hill Terrace, Independence Township, became the first candidate to enter the race for the lone two-year term at stake.

★ ★ ★

Filing for the two four-year contests were William D. Motzny, 37, of 3078 Grace View; Edward J. Kuhn, 44, of 2295 N. Lake Angelus; and Frank A. Lane, 66, of 5801 Crescent Road, all of Waterford Township.

A justice of the peace and an attorney, Carr is a senior partner with the law firm — Powell, Peres, Carr and Jacques.

PONTIAC ENGINEER

Motzny, an unsuccessful candidate in last June's board of education election, is employed as an engineer at Pontiac Motor Division.

In his 17th year in the Hazel Park School District, Kuhn is an economics teacher at Hazel Park High School.

★ ★ ★

Lane was employed as a production engineer at GMC Truck and Coach Division until his retirement in 1962.

Harry L. Smith of 1948 Henbert, West Bloomfield Township, and incumbent Philip M. Hampton of 3191 Alco, Waterford Township, both filed earlier.

Pontiac to Focus on Recruiting During Police Week Observance

The emphasis will be on recruiting when the Pontiac Police Department observes National Police Week beginning Monday.

★ ★ ★

Ultimate goal, according to Police Chief William K. Hanger, is expansion of the department to a force ideal in numerical ratio to the city's population.

★ ★ ★

"And," he emphasized, "doing this by adding the best men we can possibly hire as our quotas allow."

Hanger said the department will complete the hiring of the 18 recruits it was authorized in January to add by the end of this month.

DOESN'T END

"But the process doesn't end there," he added.

"We're going to continue to try and interest young people in a police career so as to fill the inevitable vacancies and higher quotas of the future with the most qualified men possible."

★ ★ ★

One facet of the local recruiting effort is a program of advertising in military service newspapers to attract servicemen.

★ ★ ★

Those who do apply get discharged 60 day prior to their normal separation date.

Schools are also prime recruiting targets and officers attend career day programs with displays outlining their jobs.

FILMS SHOW WORK

"We also have films depicting the different phases of police work which we show to school and service organizations," Hanger pointed out.

Kennedy Eyes Detroit

DETROIT (UPI) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy will make a three-hour visit to Detroit next Wednesday, one day after another presidential hopeful, Vice President Hubert Humphrey, visits the city. The Kennedy visit, announced yesterday, will feature a noontime speech in Kennedy Square, the downtown landmark named after the New York senator's assassinated brother.

NATIONAL WEATHER—Showers and thundershowers will blanket a broad section of the nation tonight, stretching from Illinois to part of New York and south from the Great Lakes to the Gulf Coast. It will be cooler in the Plains states.

News in Brief off Our Wires

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Calhoun County's 23 uniformed sheriff's deputies returned to work late yesterday after informal agreement on salaries with the county board of supervisors. Of the county's 35 deputies, 24 had resigned from the force Thursday morning in the salary dispute.

School Loan Bill OK'd

LANSING (AP) — A bill setting up a $1.5-million fund for emergency school loans and providing for the abolition of repeatedly insolvent districts won final legislative approval yesterday and was sent to the governor.

3rd Phone Local Out

DETROIT (AP)—A third southeastern Michigan local of the Communications Workers of America was off the job today, joining two rebellious locals in the Detroit area. Members of Local 4013 in Monroe failed to report to work after striking Western Electric employes set up picket lines at Michigan Bell facilities there. The local has about 100 members. Robert Lusch, picket captain of Western Electric CWA Local 4090 in Monroe, said he expected installers to begin picketing throughout Michigan today. In Metropolitan Detroit, the state's two largest CWA locals remained on strike pending the results of a new ratification vote on a contract with Michigan Bell.

FAMILIAR FACE—Pontiac Patrolman Thomas Gracey puts into place a wanted poster bearing his picture. The poster, part of the department's recruiting program, is one of 2,000 distributed in the Pontiac area. Recruiting will be emphasized in the department's observance of National Police Week, beginning Monday.

Birmingham Area

2 Annexation Issues May Be Put on Ballot

Two elections on annexation issues were called for by the County Board of Supervisors Boundaries Committee yesterday.

The committee approved annexation petitions for seven acres in Bloomfield Township to be added to Birmingham and seven acres in the village of Bingham Farms to be joined to Beverly Hills Village.

★ ★ ★

Elections would be held Aug. 6, coinciding with the primary.

The recommendation approving the validity of the petitions and setting the election date will go before the entire Board of Supervisors at its next meeting, May 27, at 9:30 a.m. at the courthouse auditorium. The board seldom reverses a committee recommendation of this type.

BIRMINGHAM ISSUE

Both Birmingham and Bloomfield Township voters will be asked to approve annexation to Birmingham of a parcel of land at Big Beaver and Adams. The land abuts both Birmingham and Troy and has been the subject of a two-year dispute.

★ ★ ★

The annexation has been opposed by officials in all three communities concerned. Homer Case, supervisor of Bloomfield Township, appeared before the committee yesterday to again oppose the proposed election.

★ ★ ★

The land in question is now zoned for multiple unit residences. In Bloomfield Township, under a recently revised zoning code, a density of 10 apartments per acre is permissible. If the land is taken into Birmingham, a density double that is allowable, Case explained.

★ ★ ★

He claimed the developer, C. Allen Harlan and his firm, Cranbrook Realty, is planning a commercial development at the site.

SUITS THREATENED

The committee, which considered the matter two weeks ago, has been threatened with lawsuits over the issue.

Its main function is to rule on the validity of the petitions, however the validity has been challenged because of their age — they were circulated over two years ago. The committee vote was three in favor and one opposed with one abstention. In favor were Philip Mastin, Claude Tapp and Lester Melstrom; opposed Robert Long; and abstaining, Charles Malley of Clawson, a new committee member.

★ ★ ★

In the Bingham Farms issue, Harold Speicher, village president pro tem, mourned the impending loss of the seven acres to his small community. "A small village no longer has a chance of existence," he told the committee.

★ ★ ★

He pointed out that Beverly Hills with its 8,000 residents was bound to out-vote Bingham Farms with just 400. The annexation could add to the Beverly Hills tax base, but at present the land, north of 13 Mile and west of Lahser, is vacant.

MATTER OF ETHICS

Speicher agreed the developer was within his legal rights to seek the election, but added, "It's a matter of ethics, what's right or wrong."

★ ★ ★

Robert M. Mock, official in the development firm of Pulte, Inc., said if the annexation was approved, the land would be subdivided and added to the adjacent North Georgetown Subdivision in Beverly Hills.

★ ★ ★

Zoning laws in Beverly Hills allow more density of construction than does Bingham Farms.

A question on the validity of 10 signatures on the petitions from Bingham Farms was resolved by a study of the election law which says only 1 per cent of the residents' signatures are needed, just four in the case of Bingham Farms.

French Police Crush Students' Revolt

PARIS (AP) — Gas-masked and bitterest student revolt in riot police crushed the latest the Latin Quarter at dawn today after 11 hours of tear gassing, clubbing and warding off rocks thrown by youths.

There was no immediate count of the injured or arrested among the demonstrators, who varied in number during the rally from 10,000 to 30,000.

* * *

Appeals were broadcast for taxis to evacuate the wounded. The archbishop of Paris issued an appeal for calm and top ministers of the French government met in emergency session.

The colorful Left Bank area near the Sorbonne, focus of student protests, was littered with burning, upturned cars, piles of cobblestones and shards of glass from shattered shop windows.

FAMILIES WATCH

Throughout the long running battle between police and students, Parisian families stood on the balconies of their apartments and watched with seeming indifference.

The rioting students showed no inclination to challenge police lines at the Seine and cross to the Right Bank where preliminary peace talks on the Vietnam war are being held by North Vietnamese and U.S. negotiators.

Mainly the students demand the release of students arrested in earlier demonstrations, withdrawal of police from around the Sorbonne—the University of Paris—the reopening of the school of literature and general modernization of educational processes.

One of the biggest battles was fought on the west end of the Luxembourg Gardens. There students entrenched behind barricades five feet high and six feet thick held out for three hours before riot police made them yield.

TEAR GAS FIRED

Lines of gendarmes with grenade-launchers fired tear gas grenades almost point blank at students who raised their heads above the ramparts.

Missing the rebels, the grenades sped overhead and slammed into shop windows, leaving a hissing red tail. Then the gendarmes sent concussion grenades among the insurgents.

* * *

The students sang the Internationale, the Communist anthem, and waited for the charge.

Upon a shouted order the massed blue lines of police rushed forward to the top of the barricade. A few policemen who reached the summit were felled by flying paving stones, about four inches on a side and weighing more than pound.

2 CHARGES FAIL

Twice the blue line struggled forward and twice it was forced to retreat. The third time, after an attack with concussion grenades the police broke through the student phalanx. Cries rose in the murky darkness.

The retreating students set overturned cars afire to impede the attacking police and kept shouting their defiance.

* * *

One young man tried to evade the charge by hiding in a doorway. He made a run toward police and was beaten to the ground with rifle butts, then dragged to an ambulance.

Slight Oversight

CUBA, Ill. (AP) — School officials Friday postponed an $810,000 school bond referendum set for today after an attorney for the Cuba School District discovered an error on the ballot. The amount of the bond issue was left off the special ballots printed for the election.

'Suburban Junge,' Topic

"Family Life in the Suburban Jungle" is the subject of a continuing series sponsored by Episcopal Churchwomen of Christ Church Cranbrook, in which they are examining the golden ghetto in which they live and the pressures brought to bear on the suburban housewife.

Psychiatrist Dr. Allan K. Thorburn, director of Clinical Services at the Oakland Child Guidance Clinics in Pontiac will address the Churchwomen Tuesday on the topic of parent-child relationships.

THORBURN

Before coming to his present position in July, 1966, Dr. Thorburn served as a consultant for the public schools in Ann Arbor.

Following luncheon, Ruth Edberg, humanities teacher at Seaholm High School in Birmingham, will continue the theme with a presentation of a panel of students who will give their views of the same subject.

Interested persons may meet in the Guild Hall of the Church at 10 a.m. for the morning session. Luncheon is served at noon. Reservations for this are necessary. A nursery is provided for preschool children.

Maurice's Site of Reception

A reception at Maurice's followed the wedding today of Margaret Rose Fitzgerald and Pvt. Edward D. McMahon, USA, in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church.

★ ★ ★

ATTENDANTS

Sharon Fitzgerald was maid of honor with bridesmaids Patricia Garland and Maribeth Shore. Standing with the bridegroom were Richard McMahon as best man with ushers James Foley Jr. and Michael Kalinowski.

★ ★ ★

Parents of the newlyweds are the Maurice Fitzgeralds of South Jessie Street and the Thomas McMahons of Judson Street.

Opening day for the gals at the Orchard Lake Country Club Friday found Mrs. George Hadden of Rochester Drive and Mrs. Richard Ernst (at the wheel) of Orchard Hill among the first to arrive on the green following a hearty breakfast.

New Iota Eta Unit President Also Delegate

Mrs. Stig Danielson was elected president of Iota Eta chapter, Pi Omicron National Sorority and was also appointed delegate to the National Convention to be held at French Lick, Indiana in July.

Mrs. Ruthmary Wilds will serve as alternate delegate. The two will also function in same capacities at the Michigan State Convention in Lansing May 18-19.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. George Brinkman and Mrs. E. Verne McCall are in charge of the Sunday chapel service for the State convention.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Robert Dunham, vice president; Mrs. Paul L. Hoskins and Mrs. Joseph Chummings, secretaries and Mrs. Wilds, treasurer.

The June banquet and installation will be held at Oakland University June 6. Reservations may be made by contacting Mrs. Buhl Burt by June 1.

Mrs. Hoskins hosted the meeting in her Lincoln Avenue home. She was assisted by Mrs. Burt.

Income Increase Creates Demand for More Food

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — The rapid rise in individual incomes among the more advanced people of newly developing nations is creating a strong demand for world food.

Dr. Russell Larson, dean of the College of Agriculture at Pennsylvania State University, said increased individual incomes are reflected in a growing worldwide demand for grains to produce more meat, milk and eggs.

★ ★ ★

As income increases, said Larson, all societies want more animal proteins.

Present grain available per person per year in most less developed countries is about 400 pounds — most of which is used directly for human food.

★ ★ ★

In contrast, the high protein diet in the United States requires about 1,600 pounds of grain per person per year. About three-fourths of that poundage is fed to livestock and poultry to produce animal proteins.

Spend Free Time Teaching Others

Mentally ill adults and children in an Oakland County institution need the help of volunteers in many fields to find their way back to a normal balanced life.

Openings for volunteer work with children include teaching arts and crafts, dancing, drama, homemaking arts, reading, arithmetic and library work.

Other types of volunteers needed to work with the mentally ill are recreational therapy aids, music therapists, ceramics and crafts instructors, sewing and mending aids, beauticians, secretarial and office aids, dental office assistants, pharmacy aids, accounting aids and lobby receptionists.

★ ★ ★

The Oakland County Volunteer Bureau in Birmingham can direct you to the volunteer position best suited to your time, ability and talent.

Installation Held

Mrs. Michael Gollogly was installed as president of Xi Gamma Alpha chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, Wednesday.

Assisting her during the coming year will be Mrs. Donald DeVoe, vice president, Mrs. A. Byron Barnes, secretary and Mrs. Clyle Haskill, treasurer.

Mrs. Gollogly entertained the group in her Ellingrove Drive home in White Lake Township.

Case No. E-574

Take Care of Your Teeth

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE E-574: Dolly D., aged 4, needed dental care.

Her mother brought Dolly into the office of my son Daniel, the dental surgeon.

DR. CRANE

Daniel has a winning way with most children but occasionally he meets one who has been spoiled by a doting mamma.

"After working on her lower teeth," Daniel said, "I urged Dolly to lean over and spit out the saliva.

"But she wouldn't move. She just stared at me, stubbornly.

"So I told her if she didn't want to empty her mouth, that was O.K. with me, for I'd just work on her upper teeth.

"After a couple of minutes, the saliva was brimming over.

"I ordered her to lean over and spit it out. She refused. Instead, she tried to spit in into the paper napkin that my dental assistant had placed around her neck.

"So I grabbed her and held her head over the basin, insisting that she spit. She did.

★ ★ ★

"Then I placed her back in the chair and told her that she couldn't play such games with me! I informed her that she might continue to do so with her mother and get away with it, but when she was in my dental chair she must act like an adult, instead of a baby. Understand?"

Dolly nodded her head, "Yes."

And thereafter Dolly has never caused any trouble.

In fact, she has since become a great rooter for Daniel, who clowns around with child patients and also wins the younger ones by letting them select a small toy out of his "Pirate Chest," if they have behaved properly while seated in his operative chair.

Daniel's office suite is on the ground floor, facing the street, and many youngsters drop in without appointments just to chat with him or tease him.

★ ★ ★

This may not augur well for efficiency but does show the new attitude of youngsters toward the modern dental surgeon.

Instead of dreading the dentist and shunning his office, modern children actually seem to relish visiting their dental surgeon.

And that's a great advancement in medical science, for our 32 teeth are the foundation stones of good health all our lives.

With fluoridation, plus regular tooth brushing and early dental care, our present crop of children can easily reach the age of 75 years without requiring false teeth at all!

Such full dentures are a boon to us of the older generation who now need them.

For they remove the sunken cheeks, puckered mouth and shortened chin-to-nose dimension that makes us look like an old witch.

So dentures can be a woman's major cosmetic improvement after middle age.

★ ★ ★

But they never work as efficiently as our own natural teeth, for people with false teeth tend to shun steaks and raw vegetables, thus becoming victims of secondary anemia.

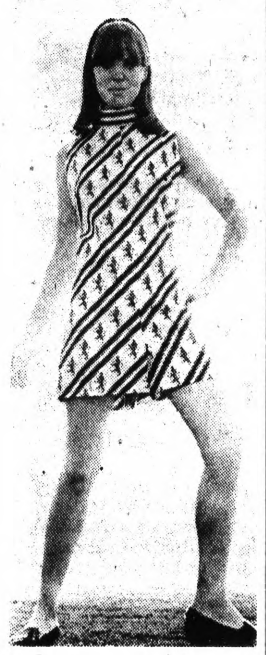
★ ★ ★

The usual American is offered plenty of vitamins, protein, sugar and fat in our typical three square meals per day.

But there is often a lack of iron in the diet of middle aged folks so their red blood corpuscles routinely show lower hemoglobin than is correct.

Deep Saucepan

A five-inch deep 2½ quart saucepan is designed to prevent boilovers of foods which have a tendency to foam. The deep pan also holds frozen blocks of vegetables. It's available in gold or avocado green. Lid and pan have heavy duty non-stick coatings.



A great little gadabout for daytime vacation wardrobes is the pantsdress that combines cool comfort and pure fashion. Crazy Horse makes this one in an heraldic print on easy-care chino fabric of Eastman Kodel polyester and rayon that excels in no-muss, no-fuss performance. In red and navy or marigold and chocolate on white.

Firebirds Revise Schedule

New Franchises in MFL

In a surprise move in the Midwest Football League, Fort Wayne, Ind., has purchased the franchise of the Mt. Clemens Arrows and will take the Mt. Clemens spot in the 1968 MFL schedule.

In other MFL action, commissioner John Abel announced that the Lansing franchise has been placed on probation because of financial difficulties and that Lansing's games on the schedule will not be counted in championship play but as exhibition games.

The Pontiac Firebirds, with Tom Tracy returning as head coach, have a seven game home schedule listed in a season ticket plan, and will play two preseason exhibitions.

The exhibitions are July 20 at Wisner with a team not announced, and July 27 in the Rochester Charity Game sponsored annually by the Rotary Club in that community for the benefit of Crittenton Hospital.

★ ★ ★

Last year, the club raised more than $5000 for the hospital from the game between Pontiac and Ypsilanti.

Hamtramck, which replaces River Rouge in the MFL, will be the Firebirds' opponents in Rochester. Coach of the new Hamtramck team, which reports solid backing from that city's business community, is Mike Olenski former grid star at Alabama and the Detroit Lions in 1947.

Another new entry in the league is Lackawanna, N.Y., along with Fort Wayne, both of which are reported financially sound, according to Abel.

BIGGER IN '69

"We have inquiries from three other cities and we expect that for 1969 we will be able to have two five-team divisions in the league," said Abel, starting his third year as MFL commissioner.

★ ★ ★

The Firebirds, who lost two of their first three games to Mt. Clemens and then won nine straight to finish second in the MFL last season, have been the top drawing team in the league.

"We are expecting most of our 1967 squad back in good shape," said coach Tracy, "but we will have to come up with another quarterback."

Veteran Bill Harrington returns as the lone returnee. Tim Jones, red-shirt rookie who was with the Firebirds last year until the final three games when he suffered a leg injury, will be back in Detroit Lions' camp this summer.

Reports are that the Firebirds are trying to make a deal for either Steve Juday of the Ypsilanti Vikings or Pete Mikolajewski of the Dayton Colts, the two leading passers in the MFL last year.

Both quarterbacks have reported unhappy in personnel difficulties on their respective teams and might be available.

STRONG FRANCHISES

"The addition of such financially sound franchises as Lackawanna and Fort Wayne, along with a new corporation taking over the Dayton club," should make the league real tough this year," said general manager Paul Parks of the Firebirds.

★ ★ ★

With Mt. Clemens out of the picture, the 1968 MFL All-Star game tentatively set for Aug. 1 in Flint will now pit the Firebirds, 1967 runnersup against the league All-Star team.

The game is slated to be played on the new Flint Astroturfed Stadium, which is one of only three outdoor football fields in the country to be covered with the synthetic grass.

This is the Firebirds 1968 football schedule:

Aug. 3 Hamtramck	Away
Aug. 10 Flint	Home
Aug. 17 Dayton	Away
Aug. 24 Lackawanna	Home
Aug. 31 Lansing	Home
Sept. 7 Ypsilanti	Home
Sept. 14 Fort Wayne	Away
Sept. 21 Hamtramck	Home
Sept. 28 Flint	Away
Oct. 5 Dayton	Home
Oct. 12 Lackawanna	Home
Oct. 19 Lansing	Away
Oct. 26 Ypsilanti	Away
Nov. 2 Fort Wayne	Home

Titans Hold League Lead in 15-0 Rout

The Titans of Pontiac Catholic maintained their lead in the Northwest Catholic League yesterday by belting Waterford Our Lady of Lakes, 15-0.

★ ★ ★

Gary Roediger and Kelly Kamner combined to limit WOLL to only one hit — a sixth-inning single — as the Titans ran their league record to 5-1. WOLL is 0-6.

John Guillean collected three hits and drove in three runs while teammate Tom Jamnik also knocked in three runs with a couple of safeties to pace Pontiac Catholic.

In another Northwest game, Joe Columbo picked up two hits and drove in three runs to lead Royal Oak St. Mary (4-2) to a 5-1 decision over Orchard Lake St. Mary (1-5). Greg Fior sent OLSM's only run home with a fifth-inning triple. Tim Megge picked up two of OLSM's six hits.

★ ★ ★

In other games, Novi raised its record to 6-1 with a 13-2 verdict over Grass Lake; Bloomfield Hills Lahser came up with a run in the bottom of the seventh to down Lake Orion, 6-5, and Oak Park rallied for two runs in the top of the seventh to nip Detroit Thurston, 4-3.

HITS, PITCHES

Pitcher Bruce Gangnath won his own game with a two-out single in the seventh that sent the winning run across the plate for Lahser (5-2). Earlier, Gangnath chased in three runs with a home run and double.

★ ★ ★

A two-run homer By Ron Ekelman in the top of the seventh brought Oak Park (2-4) from the verge of defeat to victory.

★ ★ ★

Paul Faulkner and Dan Flattery picked up three hits apiece and Flattery knocked in three runs to lead the Novi attack.

★ ★ ★

BIG STRETCH—Rochester first baseman Stan Babiuk reaches for a toss from pitcher Don Lovelace on a pickoff attempt in the second inning against Waterford yesterday. Also making a stretch is the Skippers' Larry Hemmerley who reaches out a hand for the bag. Hemmerley made it back to first safely and the Skippers rolled to a 5-0 decision.

Stevenson Nears I-L Title

The Spartans of Livonia Stevenson moved a step closer to the Inter-Lakes League baseball title yesterday by slipping past Walled Lake's Vikings, 3-2. The triumph taised Stevenson's record to 5-0 in league play with only three games to go. Walled Lake occupies the No. 2 spot with a 3-2 mark.

The pitching of Paul Tonnemacher plus the hitting of Jerry Detter and Chuck Sobczak paced the Spartans victory.

Detter singled home a run in the first, belted a 350-foot homer in the sixth and Sobczak's single sent the winning run across in the top of the seventh.

★ ★ ★

Wally Williams and Bill Welsh singled home runs for Walled Lake.

FLIPS ONE-HITTER

Waterford's Mike Vidor sllowed one hit and struck out 14 in blanking Rochester yesterday, 5-0.

★ ★ ★

Mike Scally touched Vidor for Rochester's (5-5) lone hit, a fourth-inning single.

A two-hit triple by Steve Giot in the fifth was the big blow in a five-hit attack for Waterford (10-8). Giot finished with two hits and three RBI. Mike Murphy also checked in with two hits.

In a couple of other contests, Royal Oak Kimball (5-6) downed Hazel Park (4-5), 5-1, while city rival Dondero (5-3) dropped a 4-1 decision to Dearborn Fordson.

★ ★ ★

An error enabled two runs to cross the plate and an infield hit brought in another in the first inning fo Kimball.

An error and an infield hit led to three first-inning runs for Kimball. Bob Hurst beat out that infield safety to sent the third run across. Teammate Steve Hebold drove in a run later with a single.

Fordson pushed across two runs in the first and two in the fourth to stop Dondero. Bob Matasic led the Dearborn attack with two hits.

Twins Manage Split; Chisox Edge Oakland

ANAHEIM (AP) — Tony Oliva brought Minnesota from behind with a two-run homer in the eighth inning Friday night, giving the Twins a 6-5 victory and a split of a twi-night doubleheader against the California Angels.

★ ★ ★

The Angels won the opener, 3-0, as Goerge Brunet pitched a two-hitter and Rick Reichhardt clouted a two-run homer.

★ ★ ★

Nine of the 11 runs in the second game were unearned. Harmon Killebrew reached base on an error before Oliva won the nightcap with his homer off loser Minnie Rojas, 1-1.

★ ★ ★

Three errors by second baseman Rod Carew helped the Angels score five unearned runs in the second game off Twins starter Dean Chance. Ed Kirkpatrick hit a two-run pitch homer for California.

Swinging Willie of Giants Doesn't Need Musical Help

By The Associated Press

They'll never pin a square rap on Willie McCovey, San Francisco's symbol of the swinging sixties.

"I'm up there to swing," says the big first baseman, "and that's what I do."

★ ★ ★

And when Willie swings, he doesn't need any musical help.

McCovey hammered a three-run home run Friday night, leading the Giants to a 6-4 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. In other National League games, the New York Mets dropped the Chicago Cubs 5-1, Atlanta shaded Los Angeles 2-1, Pittsburgh edged Philadelphia 2-1 and Houston at St. Louis was rained out.

★ ★ ★

McCovey also had a walk and a double Friday night and now has two homers, two doubles, a single and four walks in his last nine trips to the plate.

The homer was his ninth and the three runs batted in gave him 24 for the season—both figures tops in the majors. McCovey, off to one of his strongest starts, is batting .330—fifth best in the National League.

The Giants hopped on George Culver for three runs in the second inning and then McCovey's shot against reliever Ted Abernathy in the fifth gave Gaylord Perry a comfortable bulge. It was the fourth straight loss for the Reds.

★ ★ ★

Until McCovey swung into action Friday night, Ron Swoboda of the New York Mets enjoyed a brief tenure as the National's League's top RBI man.

Swoboday unloaded a three-run shot—his first homer this month—that carried the Mets past Chicago. It was his eighth homer and gave him 22 RBIs. Tommie Agee also homered for the Mets, his first.

Jerry Koosman and Cal Koonce combined for a two-hitter with Koosman winning his fifth game. Ferguson Jenkins, 4-2, took the loss.

Zoilo Versalles' seventh-inning error with the bases loaded gave Atlana its winning run as the Braves topped the Dodgers. Singles by Clete Boyer and Sonny Jackson, a sacrifice and an intentional walk to Felipe Alou had loaded the bases for the Braves.

★ ★ ★

It was the seventh 2-1 game in which the Braves have been involved in this season and they're starting to get to Manager Luman Harris.

"I wish the players would get some hits or start managing," said Harris. "This 2-1 stuff is getting too much for me."

★ ★ ★

Bob Veale, who had dropped three one-run decisions, finally won one with ninth-inning help from Elroy Face getting the Pirates past the Phillies.

★ ★ ★

Run-scoring singles by Jerry May and Carl Taylor with two out in the sixth innings snapped a scoreless tie.

Midwest Bowler WIBC Leader

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Mary lou Baird of Harvey, Ill., who wound up her team event Thursday night with a meager 137 game, took over first place in Division I singles and all-events in the Woman's International Bowling Congress tournament Friday.

The Chicago bookkeeper posted a 675 in the singles on games of 236, 234 and 205. She had series of 606 in the doubles and 558 in the team for an 1839 in the all events.

Lighthouse 9 13-10 Winners

Lighthouse Lanes outlasted Huron Bowl, 13-10, Friday night in a loosely played Waterford Township Men's recreation softball game at the Drayton Plains park.

The contest, which was both teams finish the opening week of the season with 1-1 marks, had 26 hits, 11 errors and 6 walks.

★ ★ ★

Lighthouse produced five runs in the first inning, then broke loose for four more in the fourth to lead all the way. Dick Rohe's two singles and a double produced three runs for the winners, while Dave Ross matched his output with two singles and a triple.

★ ★ ★

A Monday night doubleheader will mark resumption of league play.

Northern Net Loser

Pontiac Northern's netters (2-6) were even after the singles, but lost all three doubles matches and dropped a 5-2 outing to Farmington Thursday.

'ONCE UPON A TIME' — Mrs. Robert R. Eldred of 330 W. Iroquois begins a round of story telling when her grandchildren arrive. Here are (from left) Mary, Christine and Peter. Six-year-old Davis, sitting on the floor, teases for just one more as Mrs. Eldred finishes the tale of "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs." She will be honor guest at the family dinner on Mother's Day. The children's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Roger J. Eldred of Warren. Mrs. Eldred and her husband, members of St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic Church, have two other sons, the Rev. Robert Eldred and Richard Eldred.

CHURCH OF CHRIST

Michigan Christian College of Rochester will present its A Cappella Chorus in a concert at the Pontiac Church of Christ, 1180 N. Perry immediately following the 6 p.m. worship service tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

The chorus under the direction of Paul Downey consists of 41 members who are just returning from a 12-day tour to Oklahoma City, Okla. as well as other midwestern states.

Boyd Glover, minister of the church, said the public is invited.

ST. JAMES BAPTIST

The Rev. V. L. Lewis, pastor of St. James Missionary Baptist Church, 345 Bagley asks members to be present for a meeting of the congregation at 5:30 p.m. today.

Plans will be made for the coming anniversary of the church.

Families Worship Together

Mother's Day Concerns the Church

Tomorrow is Mother's Day.

Husbands, sons and daughters will be falling over backwards to make mother happy on this her day. Mothers are important but so is the entire family.

★ ★ ★

Here is a quotation from "What Is a Family" by Alan Beck:

"The family is a storehouse in which the world's finest treasures are kept. Yet the only gold you'll find is golden laughter. The only silver is in the graying hair of dad and mom.

"The family's only real diamond is on mother's left hand; yet can it sparkle like the yes of the children at Christmas or shine half as bright as the candles on a birthday cake?

★ ★ ★

"The small pleasures, the great sorrows, the hopes, the loves, the dreams of the world are contained within these four walls called home. Though you may search the far corners of the world for your heart's desire, you'll find that if it's worth having at all, it has been right at home all the time — right at home with the family."

Several Pontiac area churches are announcing the following programs for Mother's Day:

GRACE LUTHERAN

The Rev. Richard D. Stuckmeyer of Grace Lutheran Church will confirm 44 young people and adults tomorrow. The adult class will be confirmed at the 9 a.m. service and the young people at 11 a.m.

A recording of "You Are There" will be given each family in observing Armed Forces Day. The recording was taped in Vietnam in Veteran's Hospitals with American chaplains and men in military service.

PONTIAC UNITY

"Father — Mother — Creater God" will be the theme of the Mother's Day service at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow in Pontiac Unity Church, 8 N. Genesee.
