Nixon, Kennedy Split by Nation for Debate

By The Associated Press

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy clash again tonight—a continent apart—in their third television-radio debate on presidential campaign issues.

The split-screen, hour-long transcontinental show will find the GOP standard bearer in an American Broadcasting Co. Hollywood studio and the Democratic aspirant, Kennedy, in an ABC studio in New York City.

The candidates will appear in identical TV studio settings. A combination podium and desk will allow each man to stand or sit as he chooses.

Studio lighting will be duplicated at each end of the network, and both candidates have been asked to wear the same shade of attire.

ABC, assigning more than 20 technicians to the program, calls it the most complicated telecast in TV history.

The third debate by the presidential candidates will be telecast via video tape over channels 2, 4, and 7 at 7:30 this evening. Radio stations WWJ, WXYZ, WJBK, WCAR and WPON will carry the action live at 6:30 p.m. WJR will rebroadcast the event at 9:30 p.m.

The man chosen to coordinate the debate is Marshal Diskin, whose regular job is director of the Saturday night fights for the ABC network.

In the two previous debates the candidates have faced each other in the same studio. The first was handled by CBS from Chicago, the second by NBC in Washington.

Campaign tours prevent them from debating face-to-face this time.

The moderator will be ABC news commentator Bill Shadel.

Members of the panel will be Roscoe Drummond, New York Herald Tribune; Douglas S. Cater, "Reporter" magazine; Charles Van Fremd, Washington correspondent for CBS news; and Frank McGee, NBC news correspondent. Shadel and the panelists will be in the West Coast studio.

The last of the four debates is set for Oct. 21.

But the three networks have offered TV time for a fifth debate the week before the Nov. 8 election. Kennedy and Nixon have not as yet agreed on this proposal.

County Freeway Wins U.S. Okay

Eight- to Eleven-Mile Section Only Strip Left to Be Approved

All but three miles of Interstate 75—the extension of the Walter P. Chrysler north-south freeway through Oakland County—has been approved by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, the State Highway Department announced today.

The controversial section through Troy was included in the last segment receiving federal approval.

Troy commissioners had hassled for months over the proposed route slicing through residential property.

Only the southern terminus of the four-lane divided road, or that section from Eight Mile Road to 11 Mile Road, is yet to be approved by the federal agency.

It will be included in Commissioner John C. Mackie's next five-year highway building program to be announced next month.

The road will run from Eight Mile Road along the present Stephenson Highway (M150), parallel Opdyke Road along the east edge of Pontiac, then head in a northwesterly direction to the Oakland-Genesee County line.

It will be part of the Chrysler Expressway connecting Detroit with the Upper Peninsula.

Mackie said the bureau's latest approval gives assurance that the federal government will pay 90 per cent of the road's cost.

State and local governments split the rest.

Contracts for the first section of the road from Walton Boulevard to M15 north of Clarkston will be let Dec. 7.

Predict Showers, Mild Temperatures

Skies will be partly cloudy tomorrow in the Pontiac area with a chance of showers.

High temperature will be near 70. The low tonight will be a mild 62.

Southeasterly morning winds at 10-15 miles per hour will become southerly tonight and southwesterly Friday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 56. At 2 p.m. the reading was 80.

NANCY FLEMING

Although the Jaycees haven't lined up a single player for the 1961 County All-Star football game, because of the exigencies of time, two very important things already are established:

1. Miss America (Nancy Anne Fleming) will appear.
2. The date is Friday, Aug. 18.

Sheer luck played a part in signing Miss America. The gorgeous Michigan miss is in such wide demand that her schedule already runs into August.

She has a three-day commercial engagement ahead of the Pontiac game and leaves Saturday morning for another appearance.

She will be in Detroit next week in connection with the automobile show.

Mice in Capsule Alive, OK After Trip Into Space

Medics Study Radiation to Determine Effects on Astronauts

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Three mice named Sally, Amy and Moe rocketed 700 miles into space today and were recovered alive and in good condition from the South Atlantic, 5,000 miles away.

The Air Force announced the Atlas successfully delivered the 1½-ton cone to an intended impact area north of Ascension Island. The announcement said the ocean range vessel Coastal Crusader fished the cone from the sea.

The black mice made the radiation ride in a miniature model of a man-in-space cabin. The experiment, which took the small travelers into the dangerous Van Allen radiation belt at speeds up to 18,000 miles an hour, was another step toward manned-space travel.

The 12-foot tall cone also carried a group of radiation study instruments.

THIRD TEST FOR CONE

The Air Force emphasized the main purposes of the flight were to test the new cone and general performance of the Convair-made missile. The mice and other experiments were placed aboard because there was extra room in the area of the cone which in wartime could be occupied by a nuclear warhead.

This was the third test for the cone, designated RVX-2A. The previous two sank after successful Atlas flights because of failure of recovery gear.

All three mice are 12 weeks old. They rode in separate compartments in a 16-inch long, 6-inch diameter cylinder which was airtight to give the tiny passengers a self-contained, sealed environment.

The school, which is conducting extensive research of biomedical problems of space flight, also provided monkeys Sam and Miss Sam for rocket flights several months ago.

Dr. H. C. Clamman, the school's director of space medicine, described the mouse-carrying cylinder as "a small forerunner of a model of a man-in-space capsule." It was half-filled with oxygen containers and electronic devices to simulate an earth-like environment which may be necessary for manned-space travel.

NELSON ROCKS 'EM — Pirate first baseman Rocky Nelson aroused bedlam among rabid Pittsburgh fans and teammates in the first inning of today's fateful World Series game when he socked a two-run homer. Bob Skinner was on base at the time. Nelson's electrifying blow staked the Pirates to a quick 2-0 lead. They congratulate him here as he returns to the dugout.

U.N. to Sift Colonialism

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. General Assembly set the stage today for full debate on colonialism by accepting a Soviet resolution on freeing all colonial areas. It was certain, however, that countries under Soviet domination also would be discussed.

The vote was unanimous by acclamation.

Unveiling U.S. strategy, delegate Rrancis O. Wilcox suddenly announced to the assembly that the United States supported a Soviet proposal to debate in the full assembly a proposal to grand immediate independence to all colonial and dependent territories.

Premier Khrushchev immediately took the floor to say he welcomed the U.S. decision, but he promptly accused the Americans of plotting to "wiggle out" of any definitive result on the issue.

Later Khrushchev, in a formal address, said that if the United States expresses "regrets" in the General Assembly for its U2 and RB47 flights over the Soviet Union, Russia will drop the issue in the United Nations.

"If the government of the United States will not wish to show good will and will not condemn the practice of sending its spy planes to the Soviet Union and other countries," Khrushchev said, "the United Nations should in all strictness condemn such aggressive actions."

The U.S. move obviously deprived the Soviet resolution of much of its propaganda steam, by arraying Americans with new African and other underdeveloped countries against the idea of colonialism.

Wilcox announced the stand after one of the Soviet Union's closest supporters in Africa, the president of Guinea, chided the Communists for their demonstrations last night which broke up a U.N. discussion of colonialism in wild disorder.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev, speaking off the cuff, resumed a denunciation of "colonialists." He suggested they needed "good brain-washing" from society to change their attitudes.

ACCEPTS HAND

Khrushchev indicated that the United States, by its acceptance of the colonial question, had extended a hand to him.

"I accept this hand, I shake it, I clasp it," Khrushchev said.

The session began with a spontaneous tribute to president Frederick H. Boland, who abruptly and angrily ended the U.N. session last night. The

Irish Temper Prevents Assembly Free-for-All

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—An Irishman's temper very likely stopped a roughhouse Russian from turning the 99-nation General Assembly into a free-for-all fist fight.

Frederick H. Boland ended a Communist display of pyrotechnics with such an angry blow on his desk Wednesday night that it broke the head of his gavel.

First unofficial item of business for today at the Assembly is getting Boland a new gavel. Wags said he might send home to Ireland for a shillelagh as a replacement.

In a voice he obviously struggled to keep calm, the gray-haired General Assembly president snapped out:

"I am sure the assembly will see that in view of the scene we have just witnessed the appropriate step is that the assembly should be adjourned at once and it is hereby adjourned."

The astounding action cut off a flow of Communist abuse and vituperation that had brought the air in the blue and gold assembly chamber — designed to foster calm deliberations — to white heat.

More than one delegate said in the lounge afterward that if the ruddy - faced Irishman had not called a halt the General Assembly probably would have witnessed its first fist fights.

Khrushchev started it all and he heads for home tonight leaving a vast deposit of ill will that will need months or years to soothe — if it ever can be done.

Where delegates once called each other "distinguished representatives," even in the bitterest East-West fights, Khrushchev introduced a new era of name-calling.

JERK!, STOOGE!

Wednesday he referred to Sen. Lorenzo Sumulong of the Philippines in a word that was variously interpreted as "jerk," "lackey" and "stooge."

He said it was ridiculous to

Cuba Executes American Man

Young Adventurer and 12 Castro Countrymen Put to Death

HAVANA (AP)—A young American adventurer and 12 Cubans were executed today for plotting to overthrow Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

★ ★ ★

The American, first to be executed by the Castro regime, was Anthony Zarba of Somerville, Mass. He went before a firing squad in Santiago with seven Cuban companions. Havana radio stations reported five other Cubans were executed in Santa Clara.

★ ★ ★

Zarba and his companions had been convicted only hours before by a revolutionary military court of staging a Castro-style invasion to set up a guerrilla front in Cuba.

FIRST FROM U.S. KILLED

Zarba, 27, an adventurer who landed on the northeast coast of Cuba only about two days last week, was the first U. S. citizen to die before a Castro firing squad.

Detroit Dedicates $54 Million Cobo Hall

DETROIT (AP) — Cobo Hall, the $54 million hub of Detroit's $100 million riverfront civic center, is being dedicated formally today in a public ceremony.

The dedication program is being held in the main-floor ballroom. Benson Ford, Ford Motor Co. vice president, is master of ceremonies.

The dedication sets the stage for the National Automobile Show, which opens in the hall Saturday.

The hall, named after late Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, is so vast that Briggs Stadium, home of the Detroit Football Lions and Tigers, could easily fit inside.

CENTER SHOWPIECE

Five football games could be played simultaneously on regulation fields on its main exhibit floor alone.

The gleaming three-story structure and its adjoining 13,500-seat Convention Arena are the showpiece of the civic center whose other structures are the twenty two million six hundred thousand dollar City-County Building, the five million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollar Memorial Building, the five million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollar Henry and Edsel Ford Auditorium, and a long-time city landmark, Mariners Church.

It took more than four years to build Cobo Hall, and its adjoining Convention Arena won't be ready until March of next year.

The hall sits across the John C. Lodge Expressway and reaches the Detroit River at the spot where Le Sieur Antoine de la Moth Cadillac came ashore in 1701 to establish what is now Detroit.

The hall is Detroit's big bid for more tourist and convention trade.

It will cost one million one hundred thousand a year to operate, but Director S. T. Kish says he has "high hopes of almost breaking even" the first year with events already booked.

President Eisenhower will visit the giant hall when he comes to Detroit Monday to deliver a major address in connection with the automobile show.

The President will view the 1961 model cars assembled on the hall's main floor shortly before the dinner at which he will speak.

Nixon Favors State Decision

Candidates Divided on Federal Aid to Private Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon favors letting the states decide whether parochial and other private schools should share in federal aid funds.

Sen. John F. Kennedy firmly opposes federal aid to private schools.

Those views of the presidential candidates, which aides said they had often expressed, are restated in replies to a questionnaire made public today by "Scholastic Teacher," a magazine for educators.

The issue took on new vigor in the election campaign this week after Henry Cabot Lodge, Nixon's vice-presidential running mate, said during a radio-TV interview that he favors extending federal aid to parochial schools.

NO COMMENT

Lodge's Democratic opponent, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, has declined comment on Lodge's stand. Lodge, like Nixon and Johnson, is a Protestant. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic.

Kennedy, in reply to a newsman's question, said he voted against federal aid to private and parochial schools. He said he is still against it.

Glenn L. Archer, executive director of Protestants and other Americans United for Separation of Church and State, said Lodge "made an unfortunate concession to political expediency when he supports use of public funds for construction of parochial schools and also for grants toward transportation and text-books for these institutions."

Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said Lodge's proposal for federal aid to parochial schools "makes no sense."

Irishman Prevents U.N. Free-for-All

say the Colombian delegation represented the Colombian people.

He topped his earlier table pounding by taking off his made-in-Moscow shoe — twice — and waving it toward the rostrum behind which sat Boland.

The Irishman, who once before had considered Khrushchev remarks so offensive he ordered them struck from the record, held off until a Khrushchev puppet, Dr. Ediard Mezincescu of Romania charged down the aisle and grabbed the rostrum.

The issue was "colonialism" and Mezincescu did not care for Western delegates referring to Romania as a Soviet colony.

He started attacking Boland directly — the chair had been almost inviolate until Khrushchev arrived 25 days ago — and implied the Irishman was being partial against the Communists.

"I hope the Irish people will. . ." Mezincescu started to say in French. Those near him got the impression he said the Irish people should be ashamed of Boland.

★ ★ ★

Mezincescu insisted later he intended to end his interrupted sentence by saying "I hope the Irish people and any other people represented in this General Assembly enjoy the same freedom and independence as the peoples of Romania and other countries."

★ ★ ★

Either way, it was too much for Boland. He cut the switch on the public address system and brought the session to an end.

The Day in Birmingham

Justice Black to Discuss Need for Con-Con Passage

BIRMINGHAM — Michigan Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black will be the guest speaker Monday at a joint meeting of the Birmingham and Bloomfield chapters of Citizens for Michigan.

The public meeting will be at the Bloomfield Hills High School at 8 p.m.

A member of the Michigan Supreme Court since 1955, Black, a proponent of con-con, will explain why he feels it is essential for Michigan voters to vote yes on the proposition.

TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

He will explain what will take place if Proposal 3 is approved, and answer any questions on the issue.

Justice Black will discuss, from a legal standpoint, the meaning of the proposal, and steps necessary before a new state constitution can become law.

Parents wishing to enroll their 3- to 5-year-olds in Baldwin Public Library's next series of preschool story hours are advised of one important change in procedure.

Registration must be made only in person—not by phone—according to Mrs. Ann Burch of the staff of the Mary Lambie Room for boys and girls.

Registration opens Oct. 20, and the first story hour in the new six-week series will begin Oct. 25 at 10 a.m.

Families living in Birmingham or those holding nonresident cards may register their preschoolers for the series of 30-minute meetings.

Dr. David W. Wells, director of mathematics education for the Oakland County Board of Education, will be guest speaker tonight at the Hickory Grove Parent-Teacher Association meeting at the school.

He will explain new techniques used to make arithmetic more meaningful and interesting to the elementary grades.

School calendars with dates of all events in the Bloomfield Hills district will be available to all members. It starts at 8 p.m.

A representative of Smith, Kline and French Laboratories will discuss "Prescriptions For Tomorrow" at the Birmingham Senior Men's Club meeting tomorrow at Community House.

The discussion group will take up "What Happens When Welfare Goes the Limit?" This will be monitored by Earl Smith.

Wayne State Kills Frat's Recognition

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University has withdrawn its recognition of the national legal fraternity of Delta Theta Phi because of the fraternity's membership restrictions.

Withdrawal of the university's formal recognition means that Delta Theta Phi may not use campus facilities or send representatives to any campus councils.

Delta Theta Phi's membership rules permit only white Christians to be members.

Some time ago the university decided to deny recognition after Sept. 1 of this year to any student organization which limited its membership on a basis of race, creed, color or national origin.

U.N. Assembly Sets Colonialism Debate

A wave of applause swept the assembly hall as the assembly president mounted the rostrum to start deliberations interrupted last night amid the wildest scenes in the world body's history.

The Soviet premier was laughing and grinning as he pounded his desk as Boland appeared. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko followed the premier's lead, also grinning.

Last night's chaos had raised some doubts whether Khrushchev would fly home to Moscow tonight, but he announced he has not changed his plans. Thus, he may be gone before the assembly comes to grips with one of his favorite topics—a charge that the United States committed aggression with spy flights over the U.S.S.R.

They turned back toward Wake but Stirling's plane crashed. Finnegan landed at Wake. The men had been flying 30 hours.

Pontiac Gets Bypassed in Balloon Defense Test

The 1,500 balloons that floated up over Charlotte earlier this week might have ascended in Pontiac.

They would have, had the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization (OCDM) accepted Pontiac's offer to be the guinea pig in the first national demonstration of a home warning system for civil defense.

Each balloon indicated that a Charlotte householder was responding to the buzzing of a National Emergency Alarm Repeater (NEAR), the home-warning system being developed for the OCDM by the Midwestern Research Institute.

On hearing the signal, the householder released a large, helium-filled balloon, tethered on a 150-foot cord.

The experiment was judged a success. In practice, the warnings would indicate a civil defense emergency.

The signal receivers are small, about the size of three packages of cigarettes. They are plugged into any conventional 110-volt outlet.

If a nationwide NEAR system were set up — and this is the OCDM's hope — the warning would be transmitted to America's homes over the OCDM system, via the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs.

The NEAR receivers are not yet for sale, but OCDM officials said they would be manufactured, if the system is accepted nationally.

It was three years ago that Pontiac civil defense officials, sensing the need for a home warning system, volunteered the city for the NEAR experiment. Charlotte was picked instead.

"It has taken a long time for the system to be developed, longer than we expected," said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and deputy civil defense director.

"The city is very interested in NEAR, since sirens are not adequate for homes."

If the OCDM approves of NEAR, the city will follow suit, said Stierer.

Pete Licavoli's Daughter Wed in $$ Ceremony

DETROIT (UPI) — Everyone agreed it was the biggest wedding of the year in Detroit, even the nervous father of the bride, Pete Licavoli, late of the federal penal institution at Milan.

Licavoli's daughter, Grace, 20, married Angelo A. Abate, 26, Wednesday, in a ceremony at Montelfalco Catholic Church and the reception, for 1,500 invited guests at the Sheraton Cadillac Hotel was estimated to have cost her father, once a noted bootlegger, "many tens of thousands of dollars."

Licavoli had attempted to hire Cobo Hall for the reception but city fathers drew the line on use of public buildings for private wedding receptions.

Voters Oppose Sales Tax Boost

Sixty-Two Per Cent Against Raise to Four Cents, Poll Shows

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit News said today its election poll shows Michigan voters heavily opposed to increasing the state sales tax ceiling from three to four cents.

The news poll, conducted by the Market Opinion Research Co., said a large percentage of all groups of voters indicated opposition to the proposal No. 2 on the Nov. 8 ballot.

A total of 62 per cent of voters polled said they would vote no on the proposal, compared with 33.4 per cent who said they would mark yes, the News said. Some 4 per cent would not say.

The strongest opposition was in Wayne County, where some 71 per cent of voters said they would vote no. Outstate, 56.5 per cent plan to vote no and 39.9 per cent yes, the pollsters said.

The News said the poll indicates most voters want no new or additional tax at all.

McNamara Smiles; Bentley Serious

Senate Rivals in TV Clash

By The Associated Press

Sen. Patrick V. McNamara flashed his expansive smile and presented his arguments with ease while Rep. Alvin M. Bentley pressed his points in a serious, fast-paced manner as the rivals for the U.S. Senate debated mildly on television in Detroit Wednesday night.

The strongest clash came over using the social security program to extend medical help to the aged and over Congress' role in fighting the spread of communism.

Bentley, the Owosso Republican, indicated later he felt he scored at least once against his incumbent Democratic rival. Asked during the debate whether he could name an issue where he finally disagreed with big business or industry, Bentley replied flatly, "Yes."

He said he had proposed an equal pricing bill affecting manufacturers which sell through their own outlets as well as to other retail customers. He said this was opposed by many big businesses. Bentley said, however, the bill failed because the Democratic Congress allowed him only two days for hearings.

When McNamara was asked whether there was any issue where he and organized labor disagreed McNamara replied:

"Labor and the Democratic party are in general agreement." He went on to say "We (the Democratic party) represent everybody."

Asked whether he thought medical care for the aged should be linked to the social security program, Bentley replied:

"No, I am concerned about the growing costs being imposed upon the social security program."

He went on to say that employers must match the employes' social security tax payments and said these taxes, in order for management to maintain a profit margin, would have to be passed on to customers, resulting in more inflation. He said inflation hurts the old folk most.

Asked the same question, McNamara replied:

"I'm for increasing the social security payments one fourth of one per cent to provide a prepaid medical care plan.

"I'm astonished that my opponent is for the social security program. The Republicans have fought the program from the first and have fought attempts to improve it."

When McNamara was asked what specific steps he proposed to fight the spread of communism, he said he had always supported the administration's requests for funds for this, when they were well founded, but said "I think this is the responsibility of the administration.

"I don't think we've done too good a job in this administration," he added.

Bentley said he was astounded at his opponent's statement, saying that the constitution defines Congress' responsibility in the field of foreign affairs and foreign policy.

Snow Speckles Some Spots but Autumn Prevails

By The Associated Press

It was cool and wet in some northern and western sections of the nation today but pleasant fall weather prevailed in most other areas.

More snow fell in West Yellowstone, about four inches, while snow showers flecked the northern Rockies and western Montana. Scattered showers sprinkled parts of the central and southern Plains, with the wet belt extending into the Upper Great Lakes region. Showers also were reported along the northwest coast.

Burglar Drops Loot Stolen at Golf Club

A burglar who broke into the Pine Lake Country Club professional's golf shop early today was forced to abandon his stolen wares when a Keego Harbor police officer arrived on the scene.

Patrolman Richard Aldrich spotted the burglar on the club grounds in West Bloomfield Township at 4 a.m. today. The man fled on foot across the golf course.

Nearby, the officer found a golf cart, safe, six transistor radios and $10 in change.

The intruder had entered the shop by forcing open a door.

A Nickel Spent Could Possibly Be a Vote Earned

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pretty girls, armed with nickels, set out Wednesday from local Nixon-Lodge headquarters in quest of votes for the Republican ticket.

The girls' job is to put nickels in parking meters on which the time is about to expire, then place a card on the windshield of the car telling the motorist how he was saved from a $3 ticket.

William S. Rawls, Nixon-Lodge committee chairman, said the operation will continue until election day, if the committee has enough nickels to last that long.

Actor Richard Cromwell, Age 50, Dies of Cancer

His roles included the lead in "Tol'able David" and roles in "Lives of a Bengal Lancer," "Life Begins at 40" and "Jezebel," in the 1930s.

He was married briefly to actress Angela Lansbury in 1945. In recent years he had been an artist. He died Tuesday at his home.

Report That U.S. Prepares Cuban Invasion Force

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet press printed Wednesday a Tass story from London reporting rumors in the British capital that Americans are recruiting Spaniards for an invasion of Cuba.

The article charged that the American Embassy in Madrid is recruiting not only military pilots but also Spaniards with "other military specialties."

The Tass story said the recruits allegedly are being sent by way of Majorca to an unnamed Caribbean island that is serving as a staging area for an invasion.

Park Will Display Ancient Skeletons

MILWAUKEE (UP) — The remains of two Indians, buried more than a thousand years ago, soon will be on display at Lizard Mound State Park.

The two skeletons will be visible in a crypt being constructed about the mound in which they were found.

A special viewing mirror will enable visitors to look inside the mound and see the remains just as they were found.

Honey Crop Up 2 Pct. at 253,354,000 Pounds

WASHINGTON (UP) — This year's honey crop is estimated at 253,354,000 pounds, which is 2 per cent more than last year and 6 per cent above average.

The Agriculture Department said production was above last year in all areas except in the East North Central and West North Central, which were down 10 and 14 per cent respectively.

The 10 leading states in order of their production were Minnesota, California, Florida, Wisconsin, New York, Texas, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio and Iowa.

The province of Ontario has an area of more than 412,000 square miles.

Cave Is Full of Fossils

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — The Friesenhahn Cave, 20 miles from here, is one of the most productive archeological caches in the United States, according to the Texas Memorial Museum.

★ ★ ★

Fossil remains of a number of extinct animals were retrieved from the cave as early as 1919, although scientific excavation did not begin until 1949.

How Can Dems Keep 'Explaining' Eleanor?

American newspapers universally have commented upon KHRUSHCHEV's friendly entertainment by ELEANOR ROOSEVELT. DOLPH SIMONS, well-known Publisher of The Lawrence (Kansas) Journal-World tells it all succinctly in these three paragraphs.

★ ★ ★

"The guest of Mrs. Roosevelt has insulted the United States and our President time after time. He is a brutal, uncouth international gangster. He is one of the greatest enemies this nation has ever had. It is to the credit of our citizens that he has been ostracized and rebuked by nearly every decent American during his present visit to the United Nations.

"Yesterday this unwelcome visitor was entertained graciously by a former 'First Lady,' who now is the most revered woman in the Democratic Party."

How much longer can the Democratic Party keep on "explaining" someone like Eleanor Roosevelt?

Foreign Scientists Help Tiros Weather Program

An invitation has been extended by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the Weather Bureau to scientists of 21 nations to take part in a Tiros weather satellite research program. This invitation to explore outer space includes Soviet Russia, Poland and Czechoslovakia.

★ ★ ★

It will be remembered that more than 10,000 scientists from 67 nations with every shade of political opinion took part in the very successful International Geophysical Year. On a much smaller scale, the same cooperation may be expected from the Tiros program.

★ ★ ★

Visiting scientists will be given orbits of the satellite, to assist in timing observations, and cloud cover pictures for comparison with their own findings. Thus will be removed any suspicion that the Tiros is being used for spying.

Who knows but what this might eventually lead to world cooperation in outer space. At least it's a step in that direction.

One of the Very Finest Months of the Year

Regardless of the fact that it portends the coming of winter, October is a joy filled month.

It marks the fruition of the seasons, the completion of the harvest, the final gathering of the products of our soil, the assurance of our food supply.

Its air is bracing and nippy, devoid of the swelter and lacking the rigors to come.

Its atmosphere is conducive to action. Who can be lazy in October?

It is the month when nature puts on its foliage color parade, when the leaves favor us with an ocular symphony, that only the people in the temperate zones can enjoy.

They please our vision before falling to the ground to go back into the earth to further work for us.

It is the month of pumpkins, witches, goblins and Halloween, all making possible a more enjoyable life.

And in a sober sense it is the inventory month, when we take stock on ourselves, and cogitate on whether or not we have done all that we could to make it a better world.

It is a time to get ourselves in a frame of mind to better enjoy the forthcoming holidays of Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Let's appreciate it.

BELATEDLY and briefly, Georgia's U.S. Senators announced they will vote the Democratic ticket in November, but the names of the major Democratic candidates must have slipped their minds, as they didn't mention either of them.

Local '60 Growths Making It Look Like a Good Year

Politician: What the dictionary says often is a person primarily interested in political offices or the profits from them as a source of private gain.

The old fashioned Bartlett pear still holds the record, both for size and flavor. Some grown by

An anonymous communication wonders what all these pollsters do between elections.

That perpetual keeper of historical facts, of Birmingham, points out that the butcher is going home because the last of October has been a hectic period in Russia's history. The revolution that overthrew Kerenski and put the Bolsheviks in power started on Oct. 25, 1917.

Elmer Finchley

Meeting him on the street in Clarkston,

Oliver Denfield,

who recently moved there from Detroit, says it reminds him of some old time political campaigns, "only they didn't have radio and TV to make it even worse."

'Democrats Aren't Griping About Republican Backers'

I see the Republicans are griping about the union backing the Democrats. That is a laugh. I have been voting for 45 years and all the time the Chamber of Commerce has been backing the Republicans, and we never said a word.

Now they have not only the Chamber of Commerce but they have the Medical Association, Manufacturers Association, Bar Association and Merchants Association. Now because one organization gets behind the Democrats, they are hollering their heads off. They are a bunch of cry babies.

I cannot understand how a working man can be a Republican. If anyone can tell me one thing the Republicans have done for the working man, I will be glad to hear about it.

'Registration Effort Greater Than Ever'

Never have I seen so much effort made to get voters to the polls. We've had telephone calls and door-to-door solicitors checking to make sure all eligible voters in our family are registered. Some even offered to take us to the polls if we had no other way.

With prodding like this and with all the excellent articles and ads in The Press to remind us, anyone who can vote and doesn't should hang his head in shame.

'Elect Nixon to Have Peace, Prosperity'

These Democratic employment promises give me a pain in the neck. In 1932 FDR yelled more about putting people to work than any candidate we ever had so the people elected him to solve the problem.

If we make religion our business, God will make it our blessedness. —H. G. J. Adam.

David Lawrence Says:

Bluster—by K or Jack—Is Harmful

WASHINGTON — About all that Nikita Khrushchev has proved by his visit to the United Nations is that he is basically a politician. And, of course, politicians make mistakes, whether they are Europeans or Americans.

LAWRENCE

Speaking of mistakes, the Soviet premier, with his name-calling and intemperate remarks, doesn't seem to have been dismayed by criticism. He doubtless feels that politicians have to be tough-skinned anyway and must never admit they are wrong.

Just the other day, for instance, Khrushchev must have read in the papers about an American politician who happens to have served for nearly eight years as president of the United States. Speaking to a political meeting in Texas, former President Harry Truman told his hearers that the vice president had come to Texas to ask them for their votes and that, if they voted for Nixon for president, they "ought to go to hell."

At a press conference the same day, Truman said that Nixon "never told the truth in his life." When asked a couple days later if he wanted to modify or retract the statement, Truman said to newsmen: "No, I won't. You tell me when he ever told the truth."

The Soviet premier recently used similar language in denouncing the Eisenhower administration, claiming it didn't tell the truth. The politicians feel that extreme language like this gets across.

As for Nikita Khrushchev, he is evidently convinced that sharp language pays off—that he can get attention and perhaps win his way by bluff and threat.

It is known that many people in this country, particularly women, have been frightened by the Khrushchev tirades and believe that war is nearer because of such outbursts.

It could be said by an opposition press in the Soviet Union—if there were such a thing—that Khrushchev has lowered the "prestige" of his own country in the western world and that he has made any negotiation for peace or a reduction of tension much harder by his reckless tactics at the United Nations.

But the Soviet premier is flexible. He knows that many westerners are gullible and that he needs only to turn on his smile and make conciliatory statements.

GOOD OLD JACK

As a matter of fact, during the time the Soviet premier has been in the United States, he has read in the papers that the principal argument of the presidential nominee of the Democratic party, Sen. Kennedy, is that American "prestige" is at a very low point and that this is due to the policies of the Eisenhower administration.

If, after the election, the Eisenhower policies have been repudiated at the polls, Khrushchev will unquestionably feel he has been vindicated and that he is in a better position to force concessions from the United States.

Already he has learned from the campaign speeches that, if elected, Sen. Kennedy is willing to give up Quemoy and Matsu.

The constant talk in America about her own diminished "prestige" has, of course, aroused considerable interest around the world, and it isn't discounted altogether as a political charge or maneuver even in some countries in the West.

When there are anti-American riots in Japan, the Democrats blame the Eisenhower administration. When Castro goes on the air with wild attacks on the policies of this country and then makes an alliance with Moscow, the Democratic presidential nominee says this is somehow due to failure of the Eisenhower administration.

When it was suggested by Nixon that some of these delicate matters of foreign policy should not be interjected in the current campaign, he was accused of wishing to suppress debate or of "impugning the loyalty" of his opponents.

Dr. William Brady Says:

A Baby Six Months Old Needs More Than Milk

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

"Could you tell me what age a baby should be before I can stop sterilizing his bottles? He is six months old and on homo milk." (No signature).

For the baby's sake I hope his diet includes more than just milk such as oatmeal or barley gruel—made by boiling for one or two hours a tablespoonful of oatmeal or barley in a pint of water — a tablespoon or two of this thin gruel or water should be given in each bottle. Oatmeal water is slightly laxative, barley water less so.

Also a baby five or six months of age should have ripe banana daily. Fresh or factory canned tomato juice too. At six months begin feeding the baby freshly cooked clear meat broth, soft boiled egg and a wee bit of fresh vegetable thoroughly cooked and strained—only a spoonful of any of these daily at first, gradually increasing the amount from week to week.

Ordinary washing with hot water and soap and rinsing with hot water is sufficient "sterilization" for the baby's bottle at any age. The use of fancy equipment for "sterilizing" feeding utensils is ridiculous hokum devised, I believe, by trick baby specialists to impress their $350 snob customers.

It is as superfluous as the fancy kind of sugar prescribed in place of ordinary cane or beet sugar for infant feeding. There's no scientific proof that sugar costing 69 cents a pound is in any way better for infant or invalid than ordinary sugar.

It was in the last decade of the 19th century that the "formula" system for infant feeding was developed by Dr. L. Emmett Holt and some of his contemporaries. Algebra and trigonometry became essential for figuring out the correct formula month by month — and keeping the customers coming regularly for instructions.

BABY BOOK HELPS

Now, years later, a third grade child can prepare the baby's food. In Little Lesson 7, the new Brady Baby Book (for which send me 35c and stamped envelope bearing your address) you will find all the information you need for feeding the baby—in language any third grade child can understand.

"Homo milk," I suppose, means homogenized milk. This is any milk that has been forced through tiny holes so that the globules of fat (butter fat) in the milk are broken into minute particles which remain evenly distributed in the milk and do not rise as cream. It is questionable whether homogenized milk is in any way preferable to ordinary milk in which you can see the cream when it rises.

Certified milk, if available, is the finest, purest milk for a baby or anyone else, in my judgment. Next choice, raw milk from tuberculin - tested cows. Third choice, any fresh raw milk, boiled ("scalded") for one minute. Last choice, pasteurized milk. In regard to so-called certified milk, if it is pasteurized it isn't worth more than ordinary market milk, in my judgment.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Wives: Rebuild Husband's Morale

Which male dominates the chicken yard . . . the rooster or the capon? Among human beings, however, a false notion can actually hamstring hormonal secretions and produce an apparently platonic mate like Walter. Wives, you can generally cure such a husband within a week, so salvage your husband by rebuilding his erotic morale.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F - 494: Walter R., aged 47, is a successful business executive.

"Walter needs help badly," his worried wife began, "for he sits around and broods.

★ ★ ★

"He also breaks down and sheds tears on very little provocation. Without any special warning, he may thus be listening to the radio or reading a book when suddenly he will begin to cry. He says he doesn't know why.

DR. CRANE

"He is a Deacon in our church and a faithful worker, but he is trying to shun his church duties. And he feels he is also unfit to carry on his responsible job at the office.

"Yet he is very talented and everybody else knows he is fully competent. So what is wrong?"

So he feels in the moody, "autumnal" stage of life where he has a wistful nostalgia to be young again.

When a man begins to think he is failing in his erotic functions, he often transfers this inferiority complex to his office job.

"I'm a failure as a husband," is the usual secret dread of millions of business executives.

"So I'm not able to make the decisions (a male trait) in competitive business."

In a recent case I mentioned that a successful leader, salesman, or other executive, must usually be sexually assured.

Eunuchs and impotent males seldom can be good salesmen, for a leader must dominate the audience or customer, and sexual vigor is the usual basis for dominance.

And much the same thing holds true in human behavior. The impotent men become the critics while the sexually dominant males actually do most of the production of new merchandize, art, music, literature and even sterling sermons of the Billy Graham sort.

WIFELY PSYCHIATRISTS

You wives can thus accomplish more in a week with men like Walter than most outside counselors can do in six months, IF.

And that big "IF" means, IF you will restore your husband's sexual confidence.

Impotence is usually a psychological condition. It is a defeatism complex. And it can hamper young husbands as well as those past 45.

But a wife who throws off her usual feminine passivity and then sets out deliberately to rejuvenate her husband, can quickly change a defeatism complex into a winning morale.

Many wives have even saved their husbands from suicide by thus banishing this false notion of middle aged husbands that they are "no good and permanently on the shelf."

Our mental sanitariums would also be almost empty if it weren't for secret sexual fears that goad

So send for the booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit). It cured Walter in one night!

★

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Michigan's First Lady Released From Hospital

She was released Wednesday after undergoing minor surgery. Mrs. Williams was admitted to the hospital Monday, said family physician Dr. Kenneth H. Johnson.

False Teeth Give Colombia's Cows Lease on Life

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Nelson Cruz Arias, a dentist from Cali, Colombia, said Wednesday that "by wearing false teeth, an old cow can start gaining weight again and have several more years of useful life. He is in Dallas to attend the Pan-American Livestock Show.

★ ★ ★

He said he fitted a number of cattle with false teeth in Colombia and in one case a 15-year-old cow gained 45 pounds after getting the teeth. He hopes to get a patent in the United States for a device that keeps a cow's mouth open while being fitted for false teeth.

Voter Figures in Detroit Odd

Census Shows Fewer Eligible Than Number on Registration Lists

DETROIT (UPI) — Latest figures from the census bureau pared another 18,449 from Detroit's size and left the city in somewhat of a quandary regarding its voter list.

The total population on the basis of revised figures now stands at 1,654,125. Of this number, 600,499 are under voting age and 50,000 are alien residents.

This leaves 1,003,616 Detroiters eligible to vote and a recent registration drive ended with 1,008,434 on the books.

Louis A. Urban, Detroit elections director, estimates 150,000 registered voters had already moved from the city before the census was taken.

PROBABLY 850,000

He concedes that there are probably no more than 850,000 registered voters who will be present for the Nov. 8 election.

The cut in the population also means that Detroit stands to lose an additional million dollars in state funds, bringing the total drop to about nine million.

Lakes Lines Official Dies of Heart Attack

DETROIT (AP) — Herman L. Browning, one of the seven Tennessee brothers who built a Great Lakes steamship business, died at the University of Michigan medical center in Ann Arbor Tuesday. He was 47. In past months he had undergone two heart operations.

Browning was vice president of operations of the family-owned Browning Lines. The firm operates a fleet of Great Lakes freighters and Bob-Lo Island excursion boats.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Meller, D.V.M.

Q. We are getting ready to move and our possessions include a six-year-old cat. How do we move him? Shirley Frinks, Pleasantville, N.Y.

A. I realize that few cats appreciate any method of transportation, but you may find your problem is KEEPING the cat in his new home, rather than getting him there. We've all read newspaper accounts of cats walking incredible distances to return to their old homes, and this particularly occurs in the older, set-in-his-ways pet.

I'd advise moving him in a covered but well ventilated crate or basket. I have too much faith in this animal's uncanny sense of direction to let him enjoy the scenery and plan his return route.

* * *

If the move is lengthy, have an adequate amount of food, water and sanitary facilities in his crate. If the pet is apprehensive, giving him a tranquilizer about an hour before moving will help him accept the temporary prison more gracefully.

Legal requirements arise when taking animals across state lines, so be prepared by consulting with your livestock official or veterinarian before leaving.

Ancient Theater Going Strong

Greek Outdoor House 2,300 Years Old, Pulls Big Audiences

* * *

The 14,000-seat theater was called the most beautiful in all Greece by the geographer Pausanias, who visited it in the Second Century A. D., the National Geographic Society says.

Today it is not only the best preserved of classical Greek theaters but one of the best outdoor theaters in the world.

LONG INTERMISSION

It was uncovered in 1882, and in 1955 the National Theater of Greece inaugurated the Epidaurus Festival.

* * *

Epidaurus, which is about 100 miles by road from Athens, seems to have been a rather unimportant town on the Peloponnesus until a healer named Asclepius (Aesculapius in Latin) arrived.

He saw the advantages of Epidaurus as a center of healing, for it lay on a well-traveled route and had a spring famed for its medicinal virtues.

TRIED EVERYTHING

He used every weapon against disease — herbal lore, surgery, autohypnosis, faith-healing and even suggestions of modern psychoanalysis.

His advice was terse and to the point. He told one patient, a very fat man named Apellas: "Wash yourself well, stop overeating, keep your temper and tip the attendant generously."

Police Benefit Ball and Show Will Be Nov. 4

The annual police benefit ball and show of the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA) will be held Friday, Nov. 4, at the CAI Building in Waterford Township, it was announced today by Sgt. Herbert C. Cooley, PPOA president.

Proceeds from the affair will be used by the PPOA for its youth activities programs to combat juvenile delinquency in the Pontiac area, Cooley said.

Dancing will begin at 9:30 p.m., preceded by a floor show at 8 p.m.

Featured entertainers will be Paul Lennon, a television comic, and Irving LaDuc and his orchestra.

Tickets may be obtained from all policemen belonging to the PPOA.

GOODBY ARMY — Olympic pole vaulter Don Bragg of Pennsville, N.J., jumps for joy to a tree branch Tarzan-style. He has just been released from the Army at Ft. Dix, N.J. He leaves today for a Hollywood screen test and hopes to land a contract to make a series of Tarzan movies.

Asks for State Job Legislation

Republican Federation Proposes a Sweeping Eight-Point Program

FLINT (UPI) — The Michigan Federation of Republican Labor, which claims to have 2,500 members, has proposed an eight-point program of sweeping employment legislation in Michigan.

The federation's nine-member executive board, headed by Leon Murray, a business agent for Detroit Operating Engineers Local 324 (AFL), made its recommendations at a meeting here Monday.

* * *

Proposals included enactment of state laws "to protect the rights of working men and women in those industries in the state not covered by national labor legislation," extension of unemployment insurance to registered nurses, and minimum standards for housing and living conditions of migrant farm workers.

Other recommendations called for immediate establishment of an automation commission, a state safety code for the building and construction industry, and legislation to allow use of Michigan's school system for trades training.

The federation also called on the state to 'urge our national government to give immediate consideration to increasing the tariff on foreign-built products" and to help workers over 45 to get jobs.

* * *

Although the federation was formed by union members unhappy with the Michigan Democratic party, many of the board's proposals had been advanced earlier by Democrats.

Notable among these were establishment of an automation commission and minimum living standards for migrant farm workers, both long sought by Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Third Flatter Trial Scheduled Jan. 18

DETROIT (AP) — George Darryl Flatter, 21, charged with strangling Mrs. Elizabeth Moughler, 46, as she walked home from a neighborhood theater last January, will be tried for the third time Jan. 18.

* * *

Flatter's second trial ended Saturday with a deadlocked jury. He was tried the first time last spring, and was convicted. However, the conviction was set aside because the jury based its decision partly on evidence obtained outside of the court.

London's great clock, "Big Ben," began ticking on May 31, 1859, but its famous bell did not begin to toll until the following July 11.

Hawaii Airlanes Stir Up Feud

Many Lines Press for Service Grants in Busy Island Market

★ ★ ★

Who owns or controls the air space among the five main islands which constitute the state?

The question arises in the midst of what amounts to an angry beehive of air service developments.

Honolulu is among the 10 busiest airports in the United States, with more than one million persons arriving and departing yearly, nearly thirty-five million pounds of cargo and ten million five hundred fifty thousand pounds of airmail being handled, and 12 airlines conducting some 730 landings and takeoffs daily.

ASKS INTERISLAND RUNS

A number of lines naturally want to enter this busy market, and their cases are being vigorously pressed before state and federal authorities.

Among them is the application of Island Airlines, Inc., to the Public Utilities Commission of Hawaii for permission to establish a new interisland service.

The public utilities commission denied the application, and the airline is appealing the case to the Hawaii Supreme Court.

★ ★ ★

But the Civil Aeronautics Board, in a statement filed with the commission, has claimed that regulation and control of air travel among the islands falls within the jurisdiction of the CAB.

The act admitting Hawaii to the union did not offer a solution to this problem of jurisdiction.

A Senate committee, in fact, held that the "substantial expanses of ocean" separating the islands "are not included in the territorial limits of Hawaii."

'HISTORICALLY ATTACHED'

It also stated that "most, if not all, of the interisland air transport passes through air space not a part of the territory."

Island Airlines insists that the channels among the islands historically have been regarded as part of Hawaii and subject first to monarchial control by Hawaii's rulers, then to territorial authority and now to state regulation.

The Admission Act, passed March 18, 1959, defined the state as consisting of "all islands, together with their appurtenant reefs and territorial waters."

A Hawaiian constitutional convention declared that this "includes not only the 'three-mile limit' but the territorial waters between the named islands."

Schedule Xway Hearing

LANSING (AP) — A hearing will be held Oct. 20 at Belleville on a State Highway Department proposal to convert the Detroit Industrial Expressway in Western Wayne County to a fully controlled access freeway.

Seek FM Station

WASHINGTON (AP) — The voice of Ann Arbor, owned by Theodore W. Gibson Jr. and Michael Rice of Ann Arbor, has applied to the Federal Communications Commission for a new FM station 94.3 megacycles.

Wernher von Braun to Highlight Series

MSUO Slates Lectures, Concerts

Michigan State University Oakland today announced a schedule of 12 events for its first lecture-concert series.

The program, to be spread throughout the academic year, will be open to the public.

Highlighting the series will be addresses by rocket expert Dr. Wernher von Braun and Jacques Barzun, provost of Columbia University.

The opening program will be a chamber concert by a resident quartet from Michigan State University at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19.

Works to be performed are the "Trio for Violin, Cello, and Piano in C Major" (K-548), Mozart; "Trio for Violin, Viola, Cello in C Minor" (Op. 9, No. 3), Beethoven; and "Quartet for Violin, Viola, Cello and Piano in A Major" (Op. 26), Brahms.

The artist from MSU will be Louis Potter, cello; Romeo Tata, violin; Lyman Bodman, viola; and Henry Harris, piano.

Like all other programs, the opening concert will be in Oakland Student Center.

WILL RETURN

On Nov. 20, Haas will return with violinist Mischa Mischakoff, concertmaster of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, and cellist Paul Olefsky, a faculty member of the University of Iowa, for an all-Beethoven chamber concert.

John Scott, special assistant to the publisher of Time Magazine, will highlight the Nov. 16 program. Scott, who recently returned from the Soviet Union, will speak on Russian affairs.

Brazun will open the 1961 program with his lecture on Jan. 25. A noted historian and writer, he is the author of several books, the most recent being "The House of Intellect."

Following Barzun on the series will be the consul of the West German Republic, Hans-Georg Schober. On Feb. 8 he will discuss Germany's problems and views and its positions in international affairs.

Two winter term concerts will be offered on Jan. 30 and Feb. 22, by a woodwind quintet and string quartet, both from MSU.

Von Braun will speak on "Why We Must Conquer Space" on May 5. Former director of Germany's rocket research that developed the V2 rockets of World War II, Von Braun has headed the Army's space research and missile development program.

Other events in the spring will include a talk April 26 by Sir James Easton, British consul-general in Detroit, on the role of Britain in modern affairs.

There will also be two musical events, a concert April 12 by the Baroque Trio, and an appearance May 21 of the Collegium Musicum Ensemble and Chorus. Both groups are from the University of Michigan.

The series was arranged by a faculty committee on cultural programs, headed by Dr. Gerald Straka of the history faculty.

Tickets are a dollar for each event. Students and faculty will be admitted free.

Mail orders will be accepted provided they include cash or check and stamped, self-addressed envelope. Further information may be obtained at the Oakland Student Center, MSUO.

Dag Hopes to Probe S. Africa Apartheid

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold told the Security Council Wednesday he hopes to visit South Africa next January to look into South Africa's apartheid policies and see whether they violate human rights.

The Security Council asked Hammarskjold to go last summer but the Congo crisis forced him to postpone the visit. A new invitation was issued Sept. 28 by Eric Louw, South African foreign minister.

"It would be my intention to explore with the prime minister the possibility of arrangements which would provide for appropriate safeguards of human rights, with adequate contact with the United Nations," Hammarskjold's report to the Security Council said.

South Africa has been under U.N. fire for its racial policies and for refusing to report on its administration of Southwest Africa, a former German colony.

Nixon More Confident Over 3rd Round of Debate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon goes into the third round of his big television debate today, and this time he appears far more confident than he was for the other two.

This is the debate in which the candidates will be as far apart physically as they are on the issues.

Sen. John F. Kennedy is in New York; Nixon is here. Because of the four-hour time difference, Nixon begins answering questions at 3:30 p.m., Los Angeles time. He'll spend the morning getting ready for the debate, and he has nothing else on his formal schedule.

* * *

Nixon has never said publicly how he thinks he did on each of the other two meetings. But then he never had to.

After the first debate when, due partly to bad make-up and lighting, Nixon looked pale and haggard, even his friends gluinly conceded he ran second. And reporters traveling with him noticed that he never referred to the debate at all.

* * *

After the second meeting, when Nixon looked much better and his friends were insisting he won, the story was different.

In almost every speech since then he has reminded his audiences of some point he made, or at least thinks he has made, against Kennedy.

* * *

It was a remarkable change from the first get-together, when he obviously wished to forget the whole thing.

* * *

One question that may be settled tonight: Will the candidates be rougher on each other when they're separated by a whole continent and don't have to throw their charges directly in the other's face?

Crash Kills 2 Women

BEAR LAKE (AP) — Mrs. Martha G. Larsen, 67, Mrs. Grace L. White, 74, both of Muskegon, were killed Tuesday when the car in which they were riding collided with another auto half mile north of here. Four persons in the other car were injured.

Eisenhower to Speak in Detroit Monday

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry's top management and labor figures will break bread together Monday at a banquet whose feature speaker will be President Eisenhower.

* * *

The annual banquet is being sponsored by the Automotive Manufacturers Association and is held in connection with the industry's auto show.

* * *

The association has sent engraved banquet invitations to the top officials of the United Auto Workers Union, and they have been accepted.

Muskegon Area Joblessness Up

Listed With 2 Other State Regions Having Major Unemployment

Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan's employment situation darkened slightly this week with a Labor Department report demoting Muskegon County to an area of substantial labor surplus.

* * *

The department listed the Muskegon-Muskegon Heights area along with Detroit and Battle Creek as major areas of unemployment (6 to 8.9 per cent) in Michigan for September.

Six smaller Michigan areas — Adrian, Bay City, Iron Mountain, Marquette, Monroe and Port Huron — also were listed as areas of substantial labor surplus.

All these communities, with the exception of Battle Creek, also were listed as areas of "substantial and persistent labor surplus," meaning that unemployment has run from 50 to 100 per cent above the national average the last one to three years.

SEES LITTLE CHANGE

The department's September report blamed the demotion of Muskegon County from an area of moderate unemployment to substantial joblessness on "recent heavy reductions in autos, household appliances and foundries."

It predicted unemployment would remain high there until the end of the year.

Five other Michigan areas — Flint, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Lansing and Saginaw — were classified in the 3 to 5.9 per cent unemployed category, with job seekers slightly in excess of job openings.

Specific types of employes still are sought in some work fields in the state, the report said.

It listed shortages of floor molders in Lansing, bench molders in Detroit, and cabinet makers in Grand Rapids and Detroit.

Hand carvers also were reported in short supply in Detroit.

'Peyton Place' Author Remarries First Husband

NEW YORK (AP) — Grace Metalious, author of the best-seller "Peyton Place" who divorced her second husband last Friday, disclosed today that she had remarried her first husband.

The 35-year-old author talked in her suite in the Hotel Plaza with her first husband, George Metalious, sitting beside her and puffing happily on his pipe.

* * *

She said they were remarried Saturday in Elkton, Md.

Her marriage to T. J. Martin, 35, a Laconia, N.H., disc jockey, was practically over before it began, she said.

The two were married in February, 1958, and Miss Metalious said she left him less than a week later.

Last spring, she said, her first husband came to her house, asked her if she was ready to come home and she told him yes.

* * *

She divorced Martin in Laconia. The divorce was not contested.

Kerosene Bath Renews Polishing Brushes

Recondition old floor waxer and polisher brushes by soaking in kerosene for five minutes. Then rub two brushes together with a circular motion while still in the kerosene. Rinse in warm water and detergent.

SECRET MEETING — Gen. Carlos Toranzo Montero, Argentine army commander in chief, leaves the suburban Buenos Aires residence of President Arturo Frondizi Wednesday after a secret conference. Shortly after the meeting, Frondizi announced over the radio that "A minor group wants to stage a coup against the constitutional government." He said he will never quit the presidency.

Dem Disputes Jack on Quemoy

Sen. Lausche Supports Nixon Stand on China's Offshore Islands

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche, who recently endorsed fellow Democrat John F. Kennedy for president, has taken Richard M. Nixon's side in the debate over whether to defend Matsu and Quemoy islands off the Red China coast.

★ ★ ★

The maverick Ohio senator said that if the U.S. decided not to defend the two islands, then Chinese Communist leader Mao Tse-Tung would demand the surrender of Formosa.

"As a member of the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, I have heard extensive testimony on what course we should follow on Quemoy and Matsu, he said.

In their second television meeting, Nixon and Kennedy differed about what is best for the two islands. Kennedy said the islands were indefensible and he would not pledge U.S. defense if they were attacked. Nixon, on the other hand, said the islands should be defended.

★ ★ ★

"It is now suggested," Lausche said, "that we yield to Red China the Quemoy and Matsu islands on the grounds that they are meaningless and militarily not capable of being defended."

"These islands are deeply wanted by Red China. Why? Because they are the first conquest that is needed in conquering Nationalist China on Formosa.

★ ★ ★

"Mao Tse-Tung has not been willing to agree that the yielding of Quemoy and Matsu would stop him from demanding the surrender of Formosa. Giving Quemoy and Matsu would be merely the beginning of the demand by Red China for the surrender of Formosa."

Sees Stock Market at Recovery Base

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Fitch survey reports that the market's recent action, coupled with the price adjustment already having occurred, suggests that the list is near an area from which a sustained recovery could ultimately be mounted.

★ ★ ★

It says the list could temporarily move into lower ground but that an extensive further correction does not appear to bein the cards at this point.

★ ★ ★

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel & Co. says there is presently a minor base in the Dow-Jones industrial average ranging from 565 to 590 on an intra-day basis and 570 to 586 on a closing basis and he believes that trading will stabilize in this area for a while.

NAACP Youth Council to Host Oratory Contest

The Pontiac NAACP Youth Council will present its first annual oratorical contest at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Benjamin Franklin School on Franklin Road.

Twelve contestants from city high schools and junior highs will compete for the first and second cash prizes of $10 and $5.

★ ★ ★

Judges will be Milton Henry, city commissioner and attorney; Charles Tucker, manager of Associate Brokers Investment Co. Inc.; and Mrs. Robert Stasiuk, speech teacher at Jefferson Junior High School.

A dance for teen-agers will follow the contest.

Detroit Schools to Get Holiday for Auto Show

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit's big national automobile show next week is going to mean a half-day holiday to the city's more than 200,000 school pupils. The 10,100 teachers and school administrators also will get the half-holiday.

All the pupils and all the teachers and school officials are being given free tickets to the show. The auto show, at Cobo Hall, will be one of the motor city's biggest public events in years.

Poll Indicates State in Favor of Con-Con

DETROIT (UPI) — The Detroit News poll has indicated that Michigan voters are in favor, nearly 2 to 1, of the constitutional convention proposal that will be on the Nov. 8 ballot.

★ ★ ★

The poll showed 54.5 per cent for the proposal, 31.2 against it and 14.3 per cent not voting.

Pegs State Potato Crop 10 Pct. Above Average

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates Michigan's 1960 potato crop at 7,928,000. The national total included 170, 918,000 hundredweight in fall potatoes.

If the estimate materializes the 1960 crop will be 4 per cent above the 1959 crop and 10 per cent above average.

HELP OR HINDRANCE? — Pretty Jacqueline Kennedy is one of the paradoxes in her husband's campaign for the presidency. She's pretty and chic, but critics charge that she spends too much for clothes. Kennedy's age, religion, education and family background are other dark horses that could either win or lose for him.

Kennedy's Key Attractions Also His Big Problems

By United Press International

If Sen. John F. Kennedy has paused during his campaign for the presidency to ponder his political assets and liabilities, he must have found the same entries recurring on both sides of the balance sheet.

Some voters evidently were attracted, and others repelled, by each of these ingredients in the Kennedy personality.

At 43, Kennedy is one of the youngest men ever to run for the nation's highest office. Some Americans felt that his youth would insure a fresh, dynamic approach to national problems. Others equated it with lack of experience.

He is the first Roman Catholic to be nominated for the presidency since 1928, and his religion has made him the target of bitter attacks from some quarters. But politicians said he would gain as well as lose votes because of his church affiliation.

The vast wealth and political prominence of the Boston Irish clan from which he sprang also seemed to help and hurt him at the same time.

On the one hand, his family background provided him with money and a great many attractive, hard-working relatives to assist with his campaigning. On the other hand, some voters resent his being the son of a multimillionaire — particularly when the multimillionaire happens to be Joseph P. Kennedy, a controversial political figure in his own right.

EDUCATION A FACTOR

Kennedy's cultured accent, his ability to quote easily from poetry and the classics, has been a constant reminder that he was a product of Choate and Harvard, a certified intellectual who had won critical acclaim with two scholarly books.

Again, these credentials have become in the minds of some voters a testimony to his brain power, while to others they make him suspect as an "egghead."

Even chic and beautiful Jacqueline Kennedy, who he married in 1953, became a campaign issue. There are those who think she would make the loveliest and most gracious first lady any nation could want. And there are those who say she spends too much for her clothes.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy brought into his campaign two other attributes which were undoubtedly assets.

One was courage. He demonstrated it in World War II when he was cited by the Navy for heroism in saving his crew after a PT boat under his command was sliced in two by a Japanese destroyer in the Pacific.

He demonstrated it on several notable occasions during his 13 years' service in Congress — for example, when he voted against a veterans' pension bill and criticized the American Legion for pushing it.

* * *

He also showed his courage during the six months he spent in hospitals in 1954 and 1955, risking death in extremely serious operations in order to correct a back injury that he had suffered in the war.

The other asset was political skill. Perhaps he inherited it from his grandfathers, both of whom were successful Boston politicians. Perhaps he learned it the hard way, in getting elected three times to the U.S. House of Representatives and twice to the Senate.

When Adlai E. Stevenson threw the vice presidential nomination up for grabs at the 1960 Democratic convention, Kennedy made a strong bid for it. Although he lost by a hair, he became overnight a well-known national figure.

* * *

He began campaigning for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination almost as soon as the 1956 elections were over, and he had it sewed up, before the convention met in Los Angeles in July, by winning every primary he entered.

Both in his masterly, intuitive sense of politics, and in some of the other traits of his personality, Kennedy reminded some folks of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. He gladly accepted this identification with FDR, and it has become one of the pronounced features of his campaign.

2 Hopefuls Youngest in 50 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The next president of the United States will be the youngest in more than 50 years and will succeed the oldest man ever to hold that office.

Whether Sen. John F. Kennedy or Vice President Richard M. Nixon wins the election, the country will have the youngest President since the administration of Theodore Roosevelt.

Kennedy, at 43, would be the youngest man ever elected President and the second youngest to hold the office. Nixon 47, would be the fourth youngest president.

As a newly elected vice president, he lacked 43 days of being 43 years old when he was catapulted into the presidency on Sept. 14, 1901, by the assassination of President McKinley.

If Kennedy wins the election, he would be more than nine months older than that—281 days to be exact—when the oath of office is administered next Jan. 20.

After finishing out McKinley's term, Roosevelt ran for a full four-year term of his own, and on Nov. 8, 1904, became the youngest man ever to be elected president. On election day he was 46 years and 12 days old.

Kennedy, if he wins the presidency, will knock more than two years off that record. He will be 43 years, five months and 10 days old when the votes are cast Nov. 8.

Kennedy was born May 29, 1917. Nixon was born Jan. 9, 1913. Counting the intervening Leap Year, there is a difference of four years, four months and 21 days in their ages.

Dwight D. Eisenhower was born Oct. 14, 1890. On Oct. 4 of this year he set a new record for age in the White House surpassing that set by Andrew Jackson 123 years ago.

Jackson was 11 days from 70 when he stepped down from the presidency March 4, 1837.

He was inaugurated at the age of 68 on March 4, 1841, but died a month later.

Phony Knavery Doesn't Ring Bell With GOP

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Marshall Douthett, president of the Young Republican Club of Pickaway County says it was "a dirty trick."

* * *

Kenneth Shepler, chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, says "I don't know anything about it. Such tactics do not meet with my approval."

* * *

Douthett repeatedly dialed a number Sunday to listen in on the day's GOP political blurb, paid for by the Young Republicans.

Getting nothing but a busy signal, he asked Keith Wagner, district supervisor for the General Telephone Co., to investigate.

* * *

The Biggest Surprise? LBJ's 'Yes'

By United Press International

Lyndon Baines Johnson achieved the biggest political surprise of the 1960 election campaign by saying one word.

The word was "yes," and Johnson said it when Sen. John F. Kennedy asked him to be his vice presidential running mate.

* * *

The political pundits had no trouble guessing why Kennedy wanted him.

The 52-year-old Texan, they said, would contribute "maturity" and prestige to the ticket, help to hold dissident Southerners in the Democratic fold, and perhaps reassure conservatives elsewhere who regarded Kennedy as too liberal.

A variety of reasons were offered for Johnson's decision to run for vice president — party loyalty, the desire for a change after 24 years in Congress, his wife's wish that he seek a less strenuous post than the Senate leadership, his belief that the vice presidency has become a far-more-than-ceremonial job.

CAPITALIZES ON CHANCES

The last-named reason may well have been the crucial one in Johnson's thinking. For he knows, from experience, that a political job is what you make of it.

Johnson has been making the most of his opportunities all of his life.

He was born Aug. 27, 1908, in a frame house on the banks of the Pedernales River near Stonewall in Central Texas.

* * *

Family resources were meager. Johnson worked as a boy around the farm and in nearby Johnson City and finished high school there.

Then he ran away from home for a year of restless odd job roaming through the West, winding up as a fruit picker in the Imperial Valley of California.

After working his way back to Johnson City, he labored on a road building gang for almost two years and then entered Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos, Tex.

WON SEAT IN 1936

After brief teaching stints, Johnson went to Washington in 1931 as secretary to then Rep. Richard M. Kleberg (D-Tex.).

Here's Grandpa With Glamor

Henry Cabot Lodge, 58, Draws Approval of an Admiring Public

By United Press International

Henry Cabot Lodge has proved conclusively in the 1960 election campaign that a man can be glamorous when he has gray hair and eight grandchildren.

At 58, the Republican vice presidential nominee is the oldest candidate, and the only grandfather, on either national ticket.

* * *

But he also turned out to be the one who drew the most appreciative sighs from female citizens of all ages.

And, judging from the size and warmth of the crowds which have greeted him wherever he goes, he has a lot of appeal for male voters too.

Tall (6 feet, 2½ inches), handsome, urbane and articulate, Lodge might have been an asset to the GOP ticket solely on the grounds of his personal charm.

* * *

But his popularity has not stemmed entirely, or even mainly, from his looks and manners. It reflected public approval of the way Lodge had served, since 1953, as the chief U.S. spokesman in the United Nations.

After his campaign speeches, enthusiastic voters crowd forward to tell him that they like the way he "stood up to the Russians" in the U.N.

* * *

His grandfather, for whom he was named and by whom he was schooled in politics, was the Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, who usually is characterized as having done most to block U.S. participation in the League of Nations.

TAKES ADVICE

After graduating cum laude from Harvard, Lodge took his grandfather's advice that journalism "is at least the equal of law as training for politics."

After nearly 10 years as a working newspaperman, beginning as a cub reporter on the Boston Transcript and ending as an editorial writer for the New York Tribune, he began his political career in 1932 by serving two terms in the Massachusetts legislature.

Friends, Foes in Great Debate —Is Nixon Cold . . . or Warm?

By United Press International

During his 13 years of public service, Richard Milhous Nixon has been the subject of five full-length biographies, hundreds of heated private conversations.

All have sought to analyze his complex personality, to pinpoint the kind of man he "really is.

The descriptions vary so widely it is somtimes hard to realize they are all being applied to the same human being.

Nixon has been depicted as shy and introverted . . . and as a born ham actor. He has been labeled "cold, impersonal, calculating, opportunistic." He has also been found "warm, friendly, practical, dedicated."

One famous Washington correspondent (Richard L. Strout of the Christian Science Monitor) sees him as "one of the most brilliant and intellectually gifted figures that American politics has produced in half a century."

Another (columnist Walter Lippmann) regards him as a ruthless partisan who "does not have within his conscience those scruples which the country has the right to expect in the president of the United States."

SINCE 1946

Nixon has been winning ardent friends—and equally ardent enemies—ever since 1946, when he answered a newspaper advertisement seeking a Republican candidate for Congress in his home district of Southern California. Nixon was a 33-year-old lawyer, who had just gotten out of the Navy after World War II service in the Pacific. His Democratic opponent was veteran Congressman Jerry Voorhis.

Nixon defeated Voorhis in a slugging campaign, and went to Washington where he won national attention during his freshman term in the House, by playing a leading investigative role in the Hiss-Chambers case.

In 1950, he ran against Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas for the Senate. His political tactics in that campaign have been the subject of controversy ever since. Admirers described them as vigorous; critics called them vicious. At any rate, they were successful, and Nixon moved up to the Senate at the age of 37.

Two years later, he was tapped to be Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate. A campaign furor arose over an $18,235 "expense fund" which had been raised for him by some wealthy California supporters, and for several days Nixon's budding political career seemed to hang in the balance, with Eisenhower and other GOP leaders debating whether to drop him from the ticket.

Nixon decided the question for them with a nationwide broadcast in which he gave a detailed account of his personal finances.

Some critics still haven't forgiven Nixon for what they call the "soap opera" flavor of that broadcast, but others thought it was tremendous, and Nixon stayed on the ticket.

The vice presidency once was considered the graveyard of political ambitions, but with Eisenhower's blessing Nixon raised it to a new level of importance.

Throughout the eight-year Eisenhower administration, Nixon has functioned as a "working partner" of the chief executive, sitting in on meetings of the cabinet and National Security Council, traveling almost 160,000 miles abroad as the President's representative on good will visits to 54 countries, and generally playing a larger part in administration policy councils than any vice president has ever done before.

His role as "understudy" to the president was dramatized on three occasions when Eisenhower illnesses pushed him close to the point of becoming "acting president."

Nixon, now 47, won the 1960 GOP presidential nomination without a serious contest, and has built his campaign around the theme that his "experience" in high government councils has fitted him to deal more adequately than his opponent with Russia and national problems.

BAD DEAL OR IDEAL? — Republican presidential candidate Richard Nixon has long been the object of heavy praise and equally heavy attack. Few people seem to be neutral on this strong personality, shown here with his wife Pat. Emotion may well play a big part in his success or failure in the Nov. 8 election.

Jap Terrorists Get Warning

Prime Minister Says He Will Crack Down on Violence

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda today warned the Japanese nation mourning the assassination of Socialist party chairman Inejiro Asanuma that he will crack down on terrorism no matter what its source.

In his first public statement since a young rightwing fanatic stabbed Asanuma Wednesday, Ikeda said that violence from either left or right imperils Japanese democracy.

As Ikeda spoke, more than 15,000 leftwing students and laborers, who regarded the stocky, rasping voiced Asanuma as their hero, massed in a park in central Tokyo for new protests against the police and Ikeda's government.

Earlier attempts in mid-afternoon to arouse some 500 students to revengeful attacks on the police headquarters where the youthful assassin was being held and on Ikeda's official residence fell flat.

STEPS DOWN

Yamazaki, director of the National Public Safety Commission and a minister of state, stepped down as a gesture of responsibility for police failure to prevent the assassination.

The public hall where the tragedy occurred had been heavily guarded by police and plainclothesmen alerted for possible trouble from the Nazi-like rightwing greater Japan Patriotic Society.

Police raided the headquarters of the Greater Japan Patriotic Society and said they had seized documents indicating a possible link with the slaying.

Roberts Vote Record Attacked by Bronson

In a talk before a Democratic women's group in Farmington, Bronson labeled his opponent, Rep. Farrell E. Roberts, as a "I'm - against - almost - everything" candidate.

Bronson accused Roberts of voting against measures to aid small business, encourage economic growth in Michigan, more aid for state supported colleges, aid for adult education, and industrial safety legislation.

Russians Like American Goods, It Not People

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev and his party evidently like American products, even if they don't like Americans.

As the group prepared to leave for home today, crates, cartons and other items of baggage were carried out of the Park Avenue Soviet headquarters and loaded into trucks.

Among other things, newsmen could see automobile tires, antifreeze and auto batttries.

World Is Split on 'Prestige'

By United Press International

Foreigners seem to be as divided as Republicans and Democrats in gauging United States prestige abroad.

The rival presidential candidates raised the issue in their second television debate last week. Vice President Richard M. Nixon said American prestige is at an "all-time high." Sen. John F. Kennedy said it has deteriorated in the past eight years.

A United Press International survey of political writers, commentators and officials in various capitals around the world turned up a measure of support for both points of views.

The answers did reveal that the word "prestige" doesn't mean quite the same to everyone. Some regarded it wholly as the amount of respect a nation can command by virtue of its military, economic or scientific power. Others, more as a measure of the general approval enjoyed by basic American objectives in the cold war.

Nor did everyone make the test with the same yardstick. To some, the big international questions—the space race, Berlin, for example—were the dominating factors. Others appeared more concerned with narrower issues that struck closer to home.

In Chile, for example, U. S. prestige was rated as being at its highest point since 1952 because of the massive American aid to victims of the recent earthquakes there.

And in Venezuela, one commentator said that otherwise high U. S. prestige had been hurt by the latest American sugar purchase from the Dominican Republic, whose government is under assault as a dictatorship.

Flint Men Face Check Count

Examination Set for 2 in Municipal Court Wednesday

Two Flint men face prosecution on charges of passing $1,000 in counterfeit checks in Pontiac Sept. 23.

Examination of the pair, Donald E. Parks, 34, and Carl A. Darby, has been set for Wednesday when the pair appeared in Municipal Court.

Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan set bond at $1,000 each. They are in the Oakland County Jail.

Pontiac Police Detective Robert A. Emery said the pair passed 11 checks, each for $97.25, drawn on the Utley Construction Co.

One of their victims took down their car's license number, Emery said. The car was registered to Parks' mother.

He was arrested Oct. 3 after an investigation showed a similarity between signatures on the bogus checks and Parks' signature on parole records, Emery said. He is on parole for armed robbery.

Emery said Darby, also an ex-convict, admitted the scheme and implicated a third Flint man who allegedly printed the checks.

He was to be picked up in Flint today for questioning.

Nikita May Have to Face Music Back in Moscow

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)

Premier Khrushchev's mistakes at this bewildering session of the U.N. General Assembly have been nothing short of awesome.

His performance may even cause him trouble when he gets back to Moscow. He's had to face the music before for past mistakes, although he has managed to stay on top.

Leaving tonight, Khrushchev is nursing painful wounds sustained in the verbal battles which culminated Wednesday night in a spectacle that left delegates stunned and bewildered.

Khrushchev may still consider that he made some gains. But the consensus at the United Nations is that Soviet policy has had a costly setback, and that Khrushchev himself contributed liberally to it.

Now that the captains and the kings have just about all departed and a calmer look can be taken at the sensational goings-on, some conclusions can be drawn from the first hectic weeks of the Assembly's 15th regular session — a session that will live in history.

A diplomatic struggle is not like a football game. There is no clear-cut score to distinguish winner from loser. Khrushchev's success or failure depends in many instances on the point of view.

But one of his main purposes in coming to New York was to make a strong bid for the goodwill and respect of African nations and of other uncommitted countries. He blew his chance finally Wednesday night with his shoe - waving, shouting performance which led to the climactic adjournment of the wildest session in U.N. history.

One African, representative of a country Khrushchev was trying most to impress with his professed intention to end all colonialism sardonically commented that he was glad to soak up atmosphere in "such an august assemblage."

Jackson's Mayor Dies in Hospital

JACKSON (AP) — Mayor Harold E. Nichols of Jackson died in Foote Hospital yesterday five days after he was admitted.

Nichols, 69, was taken to the hospital Saturday when he became ill at his home. The nature of his illness was not disclosed.

Nichols, a native of Jackson, was elected mayor in 1959. Previously he had served 16 consecutive years on the City Commission, and twice as vice mayor.

Assault Case Dismissed by Municipal Judge

Municipal Judge Cecil McCallum yesterday dismissed a felonious assault charge against Charles V. Theobold, 21, of 276 Parke St., when the complainant in the case refused to testify at Theobold's examination.

The charge stemmed from a fight at the Buttercup Drive-In, 910 Oakland Ave., Sept. 24, in which George W. Hall, 25, of 3580 Overton St., Waterford Township, told police he was beaten up.

Hall refused to take the stand yesterday. A felonious charge against another man involved in the fracas was dismissed last week.

Will Try to Make New Life in U.S.

Estonian Seaman Is Granted Asylum

NEW YORK (AP)—The Estonian seaman who jumped ship from Soviet Premier Khrushchev's liner Baltika has been granted political asylum and turned loose to make a new life for himself in the United States.

The defector, Victor Jaanimets, 29, was in seclusion today thinking things out.

John Richardson Jr., president of the International Rescue Committee, said: "For a few days, Mr. Jaanimets, in accordance with his own wishes, will have time to rest without being disturbed and to consider his future, to choose his home and to take advantage of job opportunities, and to begin to become an independent American citizen."

Jaanimets apparently will have no difficulty in finding a home and a job as a machinist—his choice. Offers are pouring in to the International Rescue Committee and to the Immigration and Naturalization Service.

Federal officials slashed through red tape to give the seaman the freedom he sought when he went AWOL from the Baltika while on shore leave Monday.

VICTOR JAANIMETS

REAL REFUGEE

P. A. Esperdy, district director of the immigration service, announced late Wednesday that the seaman had been cleared as a "bona fide political refugee."

Esperdy said the International Rescue Committee, which aids refugees, had been selected as sponsor for Jaanimets to "look after his welfare and get him settled."

"I'm nervous," Jaanimets told newsmen. "I didn't know how this would end, but now I feel much better. I wish to thank all the persons who helped me—all the American people."

Esperdy said the seaman will be "under the protection" of the immigration service, but no special police guard or protection is planned.

The Baltika, which brought Khrushchev and a retinue of Soviet bloc leaders to the United Nations session, will sail from her East River pier Friday. Khrushchev, who arrived here Sept. 19, will go home by plane tonight.

* * *

At a sidewalk news conference outside the Soviet U.N. delegation's headquarters, the Soviet Premier said Wednesday: "He either lost his way or he wanted to stay. If he does, it's all right with me.

"If he had approached me—I was on the same ship—I would have furnished him with some money for the first period until he finds a job."

Air Force Takes a Little Word Out of Its Language

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force is taking the sex out of the language of its project engineers.

Until now postponed flights have been "aborted." When a scheduled test flight of the X15 was called off Wednesday, it was simply "canceled."

The place where the X15 is locked under the wing of its B52 mother ship has been called the "mating area." Henceforth, this will be the "servicing area."

To Transfer Troopers

EAST LANSING (AP) — Three trooper transfers effective Oct. 17 have been announced by state police. They are Troopers Edward F. Hancock, Grand Haven to Cheboygan; Albin J. Rajala, Flat Rock to Gladstone, and James J. Zbacnik, Gladstone to Flat Rock.

To Talk Fire Safety

EAST LANSING (AP) — A public hearing on proposed revision of the state hospital and institution fire safety regulations will be held Nov. 2 at Michigan State University. Capt. Glenroy M. Walker, chief of the fire marshal division of state police, will conduct the hearing.

The U. S. has large quantities of manganese ore but generally it is of such a poor quality that it seldom can be processed economically.

Quemoy-Matsu Issue Has Military Upset

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Military leaders are concerned about the fast-mushrooming presidential campaign issue over whether the United States should defend the Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Some Pentagon officials go along with GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon's insistence that the Nationalist-occupied isles be held as symbols of freedom against any invasion by the mainland Communists.

Other military men back Democratic candidate John F. Kennedy's contention that the islands, only five or six miles off the mainland, are indefensible.

But most defense leaders agree that it would be bad for this country to get committed either way.

Many military officials, especially Navy men, feel the only thing that has persuaded the Chinese Communists not to attack the islands so far is uncertainty about what the United States would do.

The Republicans poured new fuel on the blazing controversy today by quoting Adm. Arthur W. Radford (ret.), former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, as saying Kennedy's stand "could certainly start a war" if the Red Chinese believed it was U. S. policy.

* * *

"There are few places in the world that are not defensible if you put enough into it. Therefore, the statement that these islands cannot be defended is false," Radford was quoted as saying by the GOP congressional campaign committee's weekly newsletter.

The State Department, pulled into the political uproar Wednesday, denied that the United States is negotiating for the withdrawal of Nationalist Chinese troops from Quemoy and Matsu.

The department issued the denial after Kennedy and William Vanden Heuvel, a New York Democrat running for Congress, demanded to know whether such negotiations were in progress.

United Parcel Case to Resume Oct. 19

DETROIT — Hearings will be resumed before the Michigan Public Service Commission Oct. 19 on an application by United Parcel Service for exemption from the truck minimum rate order.

Such exemption, which United Parcel said permitted it to compete with Parcel Post for overnight package delivery orders, was granted by the MPSC in 1957.

However, the Michigan Supreme Court vacated the exemption on grounds that public hearings are required under law before such exemption can legally be granted.

The high court held unanimously that the MPSC has the authority to grant exemption.

Hearings were begun Sept. 13 at which time truckers withdrew opposition to the United Parcel application. Railway Express Agency and Greyhound Corp., however, still oppose exemption.

Life Magazine Backs Nixon for President

NEW YORK (UPI) — Life Magazine, which supported President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956, has endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency.

An editorial in this week's issue said Nixon's domestic program is "far better" than that of Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy. The magazine said it will compare the two candidates' foreign policy programs in the second installment of a two-part editorial next week.

GOP 'Truth' Unit to Join Jack at Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A so-called Republican "truth squad" has made plans to visit Grand Rapids Friday, Kent County Republican leaders said, even before Sen. John F. Kennedy's departure.

The announcement said Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana, accompanied by Reps. Donald Jackson of California, Robert Michel of Illinois and William Widnall of New Jersey have scheduled a "facts meeting" and news conference at Kent County Republican headquarters.

Journey Into Crime

Ex-GI Finds Fortune and Death in Manila

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 14th installment in a 15-part series on international crime condensed from "Journey Into Crime," a new book by Don Whitehead, two-time Pulitzer Prize winner.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

When a country's political leaders become involved in crimes of smuggling, bribery, theft and payoffs, then the stage is set for death to get into the act.

Manila was such a stage in the years that followed liberation from the Japanese. Among the players were Americans who moved in to get their share of the spoils.

During this period of corruption, there was born an organization known as the Philippine Bureau of Investigation, modeled after the FBI, and headed by men who dreamed ofmaking it an incorruptible force.

The PBI still exists, a small flame in a dark, gusty night. Perhaps the flame one day will spread. Then the Philippines will be freed of its tainted politicians and men such as George C. Murray.

At 10:25 p.m. on Aug. 12, 1949, handsome George C. Murray of Kansas City gave a last look at himself in the bedroom mirror of his home in San Juan, Rizal — a suburb of Manila.

Satisfied with what he saw, he turned to his pretty Filipino wife Esther who was watching him with the intensity of a woman deeply in love.

Mrs. Murray said, "I wish you weren't going into town tonight, George."

"I've got to go," Murray said. "Tom is back and this is the only chance we'll have to talk business." He glanced around the room. "Where is my pistol?"

At 30, Murray was a model of a young, successful businessman. Not many ex-soldiers could boast, three years after the end of World War II, that they were nearing the millionaire class.

During the war, Murray had been in the U.S. Army's criminal division. In the Philippines, he helped break up huge black market rings dealing in materials stolen from American military supplies.

When the war ended, Murray took his army discharge in Manila and became treasurer and half owner of the Equipment Trading Co., trading in surplus goods.

Within two years he had a half interest in a $200,000 yacht called the Mistress, and was well known at Manila's night spots.

Murray must have looked back on his postwar career with satisfaction as he parked his car outside the Riviera night club.

He was led to a secluded table occupied by beautiful Carol Varga, a 20-year-old movie star, who looked at him as lovingly as his wife had a short while before.

UNTIL DEATH

As the couple sat at the table, Murray asked her to marry him, and whispered, "if I should die, Carol, I want you in my arms."

It was 4 a.m. when Murray quietly made his way to his bedroom, and lay down on the bed.

Had he opened his eyes for a moment, he would have seen the pistol's muzzle a few inches away. The first blast drove a bullet squarely between his eyes. The second shot tore through his mouth, a third smashed the jugular vein, and the fourth went through his heart.

Then a woman screamed, and the three boxer dogs began to bark.

When police arrived, red-eyed Mrs. Murray sat with the children huddled against her and related that someone had climbed the balcony and shot Murray.

She said she was having a cup of coffee in the downstairs kitchen when she heard the shots. When she ran upstairs, she found the door to the balcony open, and her husband dead.

Police asked Mrs. Murray if she knew of any enemies who might have killed her husband.

"George had enemies," she said, "because he had been threatened. Thats why he carried a pistol."

Police could not find a murder weapon. But in Murray's desk they found a sensation. From his papers, they discovered the yacht was in reality a gun-running vessel which had been smuggling arms to rebels in Indonesia, Malaya, and other southeast Asia countries.

Police pieced together this story: Soon after his army discharge, Murray had begun buying huge stocks of army surplus equipment, backed by an international gambler.

When the U.S. Army turned its huge supply depot over to the Philippine government in 1948, Murray managed to get the government contract to haul material from the base to other points in the islands.

Strange things happened to the truck shipments. Somewhere along the route, new equipment was removed, and worn material and even rocks substituted.

ENEMIES EVERYWHERE

Murray was one of the "big-time operators." There were strong hints that high government officials were involved and were getting a rake-off. Many Americans too had aided and abetted the gigantic frauds.

Police realized Murray might have been killed by any one of a hundred enemies, or by one of his "friends". But there were several questions that disturbed the Philippine bureau of investigation.

If a stranger climbed the balcony, why didn't the boxers bark? Why had police found no footprints in the muddy yard? Why were there no mud smears on the white stucco wall below the balcony? And where was the maid?

★

When PBI agents and police returned to question Mrs. Murray, they found a freshly laundered nightgown hanging in a closet.

A PBI agent found a pathway leading to a neighbor's home. There he discovered the terrified maid, who told him she had been brought there by Mrs. Murray immediately after the shooting.

She said she was awakened about 4:30 a.m. when Mrs. Murray brought her youngest child in to her. "She told me Eddie couldn't sleep, and wanted to sleep with me. About 30 seconds later I heard some explosions . . . After a few minutes I opened the door, and saw Mrs. Murray come out of her bedroom.

She started downstairs, but then she turned. When I looked in the Murrays' bedroom I saw her standing there with the children. Mr. Murray was lying in bed, bleeding.

"Mrs. Murray grabbed me by the arm and said, 'If anybody asks you any questions, tell them the shots you heard were the back firing of a car and that you also heard the dogs bark. Tell them I was in the kitchen and that we met on the stairs as you were going down.' "

"Did you hear the dogs bark?" she was asked.

"Was the door to the balcony open?"

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

Asked if she knew what had happened to Murray's revolver, the maid replied, "Mrs. Murray said she didn't know where it was—but I had seen her put it in her sewing bag."

The chauffeur told police he had seen a woman emerge from the bedroom after the shots and throw something in the direction of the dogs' pen.

In the pen, police found Murray's revolver. Ballistics tests showed it was the murder weapon. After repeated questioning Mrs. Murray produced the missing glove. Laboratory tests showed traces of nitrate on the back.

Mrs. Murray insisted she had used the glove in handling fertilizers. But police had a different idea—since such telltale traces are often left by a pistol's explosion.

The beauteous Carol Varga told police she had heard Murray was married but preferred to believe such talk "the idle talk of jealous women."

★ ★ ★

She admitted a girl friend had told her "George's wife has a pistol and might go after George."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Murray insisted her husband had been killed by an enemy, but she was convicted of murder on circumstantial evidence, and given a life sentence.

★

One thing was certain: George C. Murray knew a great deal about smuggling but he knew very little about a woman in love.

Get a Little Confused, You Land in Jail

DETROIT (AP) — Within two and a half hours Jesse Hall went to jail twice on the same driving charge Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

He was locked up for driving without a license. And police put his car in a parking lot.

★ ★ ★

To their surprise the same policemen saw him driving the same car again later. His wife had posted $25 bond for his release. Hall said he thought that entitled him to drive. But the police didn't agree. They put him back in jail.

State High Court Gets Stock Fight

Michigan Asks to Have Unclaimed Dividends of Continental Motors

LANSING (AP)—A fight over unclaimed dividends and stocks in Continental Motors Corp. of Muskegon awaits a State Supreme Court decision.

The court took the case under advisement after hearing oral arguments Wednesday.

The state seeks possession of dividends and stocks in the corporation belonging to missing persons estimated at some $60,000. The holdings would be sold by the state and turned over to the school fund.

A favorable decision in the precedent-setting case could mean "millions of dollars in new revenues" for the school fund, Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams has said.

Continental Motors has appealed a ruling upholding the state position by Muskegon County Circuit Judge Noel P. Fox.

Continental Motors contends the state has no claim on the assets because it is a Virginia corporation. The state argues it has a claim because more than 50 per cent of the corporation's physical assets are in Michigan and because stock transactions took place within the state.

Sen. Judd Blasts Kennedy in Ohio

TIFFIN, Ohio (UPI)—U.S. Rep. Walter H. Judd, R-Minn., stumped through Ohio Wednesday, blasting both Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy and the Democratic platform.

★ ★ ★

Judd, who spoke on the same theme at Columbus, Springfield and Troy, told a group of young Republicans at an ox roast here last night that Kennedy makes "irresponsible statements."

He said the farm program of the Democrats was "deceptive" and said they could not implement it without raising taxes.

Judd lashed out at Kennedy's statement that Quemoy and Matsu, islands off Red China, were "strategically indefensible," in all his speeches.

★ ★ ★

To give them up, Judd insisted, would "shake the confidence in the United States of our friends and allies around the world."

TV's Perry Mason Gets Hospital Examination

Nature of the tests wasn't disclosed. He was admitted Tuesday for what his doctor said would be a few days.

Kennedy Calls Nixon Idea 'Trigger-Happy Leadership'

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. John F. Kennedy says Vice President Richard M. Nixon's position on the islands of Quemoy and Matsu mean he would give the nation "trigger-happy leadership" as president which might bring a nuclear war.

The Democratic presidential nominee said in a speech Wednesday night that such a conflict would be "the wrong war at the wrong place at the wrong time."

★ ★ ★

If elected president, he said, "I intend to see that not a single American dies on these islands."

Kennedy made his speech on the Quemoy-Matsu dispute at a Democratic fund-raising dinner after his staff worked furiously through a busy campaigning day to get it into shape.

CHANCE FOR INITIATIVE

They obviously felt that the controversy with the vice president over the question, which has been raging at long range ever since last Friday's television-radio debate, gave Kennedy a chance to seize the initiative on the peace issue.

It seemed clear that this had ballooned into the major fight of the campaign to date, with the question of war and peace at stake as well as who can best stand up to the Communists.

The senator apparently decided to make his big pitch on Quemoy and Matsu Wednesday night after Nixon charged Tuesday that the Democratic candidate's policy on the islands would take the nation down the road to "war and surrender—or both."

Kennedy said this:

1. As president he would stand fully by the nation's pledge to defend Formosa and the Pescadores Islands.

★ ★ ★

2. Quemoy and Matsu, lying within easy bombardment distance of the China coast, are not essential to the defense of Formosa. President Eisenhower and many eminent military leaders have concurred in this view.

OTHERS GIVEN UP

3. The U.S. persuaded the Chinese Nationalists to abandon the Tachen Islands, also close to the China coast, and Nixon never voiced any protest on principle.

4. Drawing the U.S. defense line to include Quemoy and Matsu puts this country in the position of letting Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, the Nationalist leader, and the Chinese Communists decide whether American troops shall fight on the islands.

5. Nixon is alone in his view that the islands must be defended, so far as U.S. leaders are concerned, and this country would be without the aid of its allies if it decided to defend them.

Delay Hearings on Gas Prices

Sessions Adjourn Until Friday in Application for $13.5 Million Hike

LANSING (AP) — Hearings on the Consumers Power Co. application for a $13.5 million annual rate increase have been adjourned until Friday with eventual windup not expected until December.

A time schedule for appearances before the State Public Service Commission was agreed upon Wednesday.

The company will wind up direct testimony Friday. Cross examination of company witnesses is scheduled for Nov. 21 and the commission staff and intervenors will present their testimony and undergo cross examination starting Dec. 6.

Donald Cook, Chicago rate consultant, testified Wednesday the company's rate of return on its gas properties was 4.5 per cent. Dr. John K. Langum, a professor of business administration at Indiana University, said he thought a fair rate of return would be around 6.3 per cent.

Consumers serves 520,000 gas customers in 30 Southern Michigan counties.

'Sea Cucumber' Secretion May Prove of Value

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy hopes research on a poison given off by the "sea cucumber" fish will lead to an improved shark repellent, it was reported today.

The sea cucumber, a marine creature related to the rear-fish that gets its name from its cucumber shape, secretes a toxic substance called "holothurin" to protect itself from its natural enemies.

The chemical is under investigation, spokesmen for the Office of Naval Research told a reporter, not only as a possible shark repellent but also as something that may prove of value in medicine.

They stressed, however, that it remains to be determined whether the chemical is safe for use in man as a medicine—or as a shark repellent that could be released by skin divers and others in the water.

U.S. Bars Cuba at Installations

Exclude Castro Regime in Invitations Offered Latin Countries

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has barred Cuba's military attache from routine tours made by Latin American officers of military installations in this country.

* * *

Diplomatic sources said today the decision stemmed from a demand by Argentina that Cuba declare whether it has become a military ally of Russia.

Maj. Gen. Harvey H. Fischer outlined the new policy in issuing an invitation to his colleagues on the Inter-American Defense Board to visit installations in Texas and Oklahoma Oct. 25-29.

* * *

"In view of the anxiety expressed by the inter-American Defense Board delegations in connection with the present intentions of the Cuban delegation and government," he said, "the U.S. delegation does not consider it appropriate to extend the invitation to the Cuban delegate."

Cuba's delegate to the defense board, Maj. Jose Moleon y Carrera, could not be reached for comment.

* * *

Board officials said they could not recall any previous instance when a member delegation had been excluded from the tours, which are conducted almost every month to different installations.

* * *

One delegate said he understood no classified equipment or information was expected to be reviewed during the forthcoming tour.

Miami News Endorses Kennedy for President

MIAMI (UPI)—The Miami News Wednesday endorsed Sen. John F. Kennedy for president and said in an editorial the Democratic nominee was correct in stating the United State's world position has regressed in recent years.

* * *

The News, which endorsed Adlai Stevenson in 1952 and 1956, said Kennedy's ideas on foreign policy seem sensible, that he is dedicated to constant, sizable growth in the nation's economy, and that he has answered questions about his religion "with candor and honesty."

GM Marks 10th Year of Pension Plan

General Motors Corp. marks the 10th anniversary of its pension program for hourly rated employes this month.

In those 10 years there have been 1,058 retirements at GMC Truck & Coach Plant, 1,174 at Pontiac Motor Division and 518 at the Fisher Body Plant in Pontiac, it was announced today.

Of these, 2,125 are still living.

General Motors announced that nearly 33,000 U. S. retired hourly-rate employes have received $80 million in pension benefits since the program began in October 1950.

* * *

More than 350,000 GM hourly-rate employes in the United States are building retirement benefits under the GM pension plan.

GM bears the entire cost of the retirement plan, including its administration. Employes do not contribute.

The pension funds are held and invested by six banks acting as trustees. The funds cannot revert to GM.

The amount of the hourly-rate employe's pension depends upon his length of service with the company. For example, an employe retiring now with 30 years' service would receive a GM pension of approximately $72.

Including Social Security benefits, at age 65 he would have a monthly income of $191. If married and his wife were 65 or older, their combined income would be over $250 a month from the two sources.

* * *

Of the 33,000 who retired since inception of the hourly-rate program, there are 25,000 still living and receiving benefits.

Hourly-rate employes may retire anytime between age 60 and 68 and, if they have at least 10 years' service, be entitled to GM pension benefits. The automatic retirement age is 68.

Under the GM hourly-rate pension plan, an employe with at least 10 years of service who leaves GM before retirement but after age 40, retains his right to receive a pension at age 65.

Agreements between the company and the unions covering the GM hourly-rate pension plan provide for joint union-management committees at each plant to authorize pensions and to handle disputes.

Pulitzer Winner Is New Britannica Chief

CHICAGO (UPI) — Harry S. Ashmore, Pulitzer Prize winner, has been named editor-in-chief of Encyclopaedia Britannica, Publisher William Benton has announced.

Ashmore succeeds the late Walter Yust, who died last February after serving as editor of the reference work since 1938.

A reporter and writer since his youth in Greenville, S.C., Ashmore won the Pulitzer Prize in 1958 while executive editor of the Arkansas Gazette for his editorials on the school integration crisis in Little Rock.

* * *

Benton said Ashmore would divide his time, during the initial phase of his editorial duties, between Britannica headquarters here, the London editorial office and Santa Barbara, Calif., where he'll work closely with the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

In association with the center, directed by Robert Maynard Hutchins, former University of Chicago chancellor, Ashmore will deal with planning and execution of editorial procedures.

Carries Sword of Liberal, Shield of Conservative

Ike Is a Political Knight in Shining Armor

(Second of three dispatches)
By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Dwight D. Eisenhower, at 70, stands out as a curious mixture of the "liberal" and the "conservative."

Domestically, he is a "steady as you go" President. In his time, there have been no crash programs for the military, space, education, highways or integration.

Yet his military budgets have been the largest in peacetime history. So have his space and science budgets, his education and highway budgets. And the nation has moved closer toward an integrated society in his eight years than it had in the previous 40.

The Eisenhower philosophy is simple. It is said, with no disrespect intended, that he is a man who believes in Horatio Alger, Sir Galahad and Buffalo Bill.

He has an almost childlike faith that good triumphs over bad. He tries to be good. He wants his friends to be good. He wants the men he works with to be good.

His critics say that he has led no crusades to weed out badness in government. He has believed it could best be done by personal example.

He has disavowed all personal influence. He has spoken in high moral tones. Men will argue for years whether he has achieved the results a crusader might have accomplished.

Mr. Eisenhower has no concept of a president leading the nation forward to great social and economic changes or shaping vast space and economic contests with the Russians.

HE BELIEVES THIS

Progress comes with stability. He has a passion for a stable dollar, a stable budget, for normalcy.

If there is stability, then people—not government—will provide the incentives and the programs for economic, social and scientific advances.

Everything should be even-tempered. And what changes he does want the government to push should be gradual.

The government should get out of business, and where possible, it should leave electric power development to private companies, offshore oil to the states.

The government should not interfere in strikes. Or take over industry. Or set up price controls. Management and labor will act correctly if he invokes patriotism and good will.

If the government doesn't do too much to upset the applecart, then individuals, free to operate, can correct a recession by their own efforts.

The government should favor civil rights but without a hurried program of integration.

If he and his top officials set an attitude of honesty and decency, of no influence peddling and of respect for the individual, then this same attitude will prevail throughout the government. But he has not acted quickly against those who break this code.

He is quickly angered by those who set out to stir things up, as in Little Rock, or who desecrate churches. But he usually decries strong action.

★ ★ ★

His handling of Sen. Joseph McCarthy was typical. He did not believe in McCarthy's methods. But he waited until he felt that public opinion had turned against the senator; then he took quiet steps to further cut McCarthy's influence.

Foreign Trade Zone Approved for Toledo Port

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Commerce Frederick H. Mueller has approved establishment of a foreign trade zone at Toledo, Ohio.

The zone will be the first on the Great Lakes and the first to operate on the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The grant was issued by Mueller in his capacity as chairman of the Foreign-Trade Zone Board, to the Toledo-Lucas County Port Authority, which will establish and operate the zone on the east bank of the Maumee River.

Shippers will be permitted to store, process or reship imported items without paying customs duty on goods delivered to the zone. Tariffs will be paid only when the products are sold in interstate commerce.

Oil Production Saves Argentina $23 Million

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Expanding oil production saved Argentina at least $23 million in the first eight months of 1960, it was announced today.

The mining and industry ministry released statistics showing that domestic oil production increased 31.4 per cent over the year, reducing the nation's petroleum import needs.

Eleven public holidays a year are celebrated in Japan, during which all banks and most businesses close.

Ford Motor Declares 4th-Quarter Dividend

DEARBORN (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. Wednesday declared a regular fourth-quarter dividend of 75 cents a share and an extra dividend of 30 cents.

Previously this year Ford declared quarterly dividends of 75 cents and two of 60 cents.

Wednesday dividends are payable Dec. 1 to stockholders of record Nov. 1 of this year.

Job Prospects Good for Grads

Indiana U. Placement Director Plays Down Business Uncertainty

BLOOMINGTON, IND. (UPI)—Indiana University placement director J. Douglas Snider said today that job and pay prospects for the 1961 college graduate will continue strong despite business fluctuations.

Snyder said the job market could fall slightly behind the record-breaking levels of recent years but if the fourth quarter of 1960 shows an increase in business activity, 1961 recruiting is expected to equal or better that of 1960.

Snyder said 150 firms have made advance bookings for campus recruiting in the fall semester and 190 for the spring term—more than in any previous pre-season period.

Major areas of interest to company recruiters are graduates with degrees in chemistry, physics, mathematics, accounting, market research and operations research.

"Salaries will continue upward unless the business market breaks entirely," Snyder said, "but the

Kennedy Names Kellis to Unit of Advisers

James G. Kellis, Democratic candidate for the 18th Congressional District (Oakland County), has been named by Sen. John F. Kennedy to his natural resources advisory committee, the presidential candidate's headquarters announced today.

★ ★ ★

"I am particularly glad to have Jim Kellis on this committee because of his special interest in water and conservation problems," Kennedy said.

★ ★ ★

The committee "clarifies" issues in this field during the campaign, Kennedy said.

Muskegon Tries 'Ban' on Downtown Kissing

MUSKEGON (AP) — City Commissioner Victor J. Yurick suggested that morning traffic jams on one of Muskegon's downtown streets resulted from long farewell kisses delivered by husbands driving wives to work in downtown stores.

He proposed that husbands thus occupied pull into parking places and feed the meters while they said goodbye.

However, the commission voted to remove parking from one side of the street for 30 days to try breaking the traffic bottleneck.

FIVE MINUTES FROM CAR TO PLANE—This is the Aerocar, a car-plane designed and manufactured by Moulton B. Taylor of Longview, Wash. Its ground speed is 67 miles per hour and in flight it can cruise at better than 100 m.p.h. It can be converted from car to plane or vice versa in five minutes. The Aerocar holds two persons and 100 pounds of luggage.

Beware of Purchasing Stolen Elevator Doors

NASHVILLE, Tenn (AP)—Bargain hunters were warned today to beware of anyone offering elevator doors for sale cheap.

Police said thieves stole 10 mahogany-finished elevator doors, weighing 200 pounds apiece, from the St. Thomas Hospital grounds.

Ex-Teacher Killed

GREENVILLE (AP) — Retired Greenville school teacher Ruby Pangburn, 67, was killed late Wednesday in a head-on auto crash on M57 at the east city limits.

Want State, Congressional Jobs

260 Dem Women Running for Office Across Nation

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some 260 Democratic women are running for Congress, statewide offices and legislative seats in the November election, Mrs. Margaret Price, vice chairman of the party's national committee said.

Only 10 states have no Democratic women on the ballot for major state or federal office or the state legislature, she said.

Mrs. Price said the number of Democratic women seeking congressional seats is the largest in the party's history.

TWO TRY SENATE

Two of them—Miss Lucia Cormier of Maine and Mrs. Maurine Neuberger of Oregon—are running for the Senate and 16 for the House.

In addition, she said, 11 women Democrats are candidates for major statewide offices and about 230 are running for legislative seats.

Connecticut tops the list, with 54 Democratic women seeking election to the lower house of the legislature.

★ ★ ★

Half of the party's women candidates for the House of Representatives are incumbents.

They are Reps. Iris Blitch, Ga.; Gracie Pfost, Idaho; Martha Griffiths, Mich.; Leonor Sullivan, Mo.; Edna Kelly, N.Y.; Edith Green, Ore.; Kathryn Granahan, Pa.; and Elizabeth Kee, W. Va.

Mrs. Price told a news conference ballots from 75,000 women showed they were more concerned about "the decline of U.S. prestige abroad" than any of five other "peace" issues.

Forgetful Horse Betters Leave $62,000 for State

LANSING (UPI) — Forgetful bettors have made the State Board of Escheats $62,000 richer.

State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown said the Michigan State Racing Commission has turned over the money to the state board. It accumulated during the 1959 racing season from unclaimed parimutuel bets.

State Auto Club Officer Elected AAA President

CLEVELAND (AP) — Michigander Charles L. Wilson, who drove a team of horses to help build the world's first mile of concrete highway in 1908, Wednesday was elected president of the American Automobile Association.

Wilson, 69, is a director of the Automobile Club of Michigan and president of Ora Wilson & Sons, a Detroit dairy company.

He succeeds Frederick T. McGuire Jr. of Cleveland as AAA president for a two-year term.

Wilson also is chairman of the Wayne County Road commission. He has been on the commission since 1938, when he replaced the late Edward N. Hines, Wayne County's first road commissioner.

DIRECTOR BY HINES

Wilson is past commander of Detroit Commandery Knights Templar, past potentate of Moslem Temple, a former member of the Michigan State Fair Board, a member of Detroit Rotary and past president of Detroit Golf Club.

Wilson is the third Michigan man to be AAA president in the organization's 58-year history.

Labor Boycott Faces Mitchell in Saginaw

SAGINAW (UPI)—Secretary of Labor James Mitchell arrived here on his campaign swing through Michigan in behalf of Vice President Richard M. Nixon today and faced a threatened labor boycott.

Mitchell had extended an invitation to local labor leaders to meet with him during his stay but the Saginaw Labor Council and several United Auto Workers officials said they would boycott the meeting.

★ ★ ★

They said Mitchell, who has a reputation as being a friend of labor, was only in Michigan to "rescue Al Bentley (GOP candidate for the U.S. Senate), Paul Bagwell (GOP candidate for governor) as well as 'Tricky Dick' (Vice President Nixon)."

2 Red Satellite Chiefs Leave U.N. for Home

* * *

* * *

A heavy police guard was provided at pier 90 as they boarded the British liner Queen Mary.

* * *

Their departure attracted little public attention. Aides said neither of the Communist leaders had any statement.

Deputy Caught With Notes for Future Classes

DETROIT (AP)—A Wayne County deputy sheriff may lose his job because he had notes on lectures which hadn't yet been delivered by his instructor in a training class run by the Detroit Police Department.

* * *

Undersheriff William C. Ryan said the deputy, Dolzier McDonald, 29, had his class notebook inspected by his instructor in a training class run by the Detroit Police Department.

* * *

"The instructor found McDonald had notes on lectures which had not yet been given," Ryan said. He said McDonald refused to say where he got the notes.

* * *

Ryan said he would ask the Wayne County Civil Service Commission to fire McDonald.

Chicago Paper Backs Nixon as Best Qualified

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Chicago Daily News, in endorsing Vice President Richard Nixon Wednesday for the presidency, said he was best qualified to deal with the great issues facing the nation.

The News, an independent paper, supported President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

Loss of Prestige Top Peace Issue to Women

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democrats reported tolay they have polled some 75,000 women and found that "decline of U.S. prestige abroad" is the "peace issue" of most concern to them.

Margaret Price, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee and director of its women's activities, told a news conference about the polling.

She said women taking part in meetings in 43 states picked this item from six major peace issues on a ballot distributed to them.

She said the No. 2 concern the women checked as listed on the ballot was "lack of leadership in selling democracy."

* * *

At the meetings, called "strategy for peace" meetings, the women are addressed by some Democratic leader such as Adlai E. Stevenson, the party presidential nominee in 1952 and 1956; former New York Gov. W. Averell Harriman, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana and Rep. Chester Bowles of Connecticut.

The ballot lists issues in this order and phrasing:

* * *

Decline of U.S. prestige abroad, lack of progress toward nuclear disarmament, deterioration of good neighbor policy, decline in U. S. defense superiority, need for better aid program for underdeveloped areas, and a lack of leadership in selling democracy.

GROWING UP Young men and women in the United States today average about two inches taller than their forebears at the turn of the century. They are also heavier, says an Agricultural Dept. report, which contains various studies of heights and weights of American adults during the last 100 years. One example: In 1883, only about four per cent of young men entering Amherst and Yale stood six feet or more. In 1956, over 30 per cent did.

Still Holds Gen. Fremont's Land

U.S. Ignores Injustice to Hero

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—This is the story of 95 years of federal government red tape and bungling that has turned an $80,000 mistake into a possible $2.3 million injustice.

It concerns not an ordinary citizen whose request might be shunted aside as being unimportant, but one of the nation's most dedicated heroes and his family.

It is the story of Gen. John C. Fremont, a legendary explorer who claimed California for the United States in 1846 in the war against Mexico.

After the war Fremont settled in California and bought a 14-acre tract of land for $42,000 near the entrance of the bay which miners already were calling the Golden Gate. He also put up a $40,000 mansion for his bride.

When the Civil War started, Gen. Fremont went into battle on the Union side and his home on San Francisco Bay was taken over by the government.

At the end of the war, Fremont asked for his home back. Secretary of War U.S. Grant replied that "for the time being" the Army would keep the land, now called Ft. Mason.

Fremont then petitioned Congress to pay him for the property. The petition was approved by congressional committees 12 times, but each time it was stalled in Congress by representatives of the Southern states. Fremont, they recalled, was the Yankee general who turned hundreds of slaves free wherever his Army marched.

★ ★ ★

In 1890 Gen. Fremont died, an impoverished, embittered man of 77. His widow continued the battle. In 1901 the California legislature called on the U.S. government to "rectify an injustice of long standing." That same year Mrs. Fremont died.

CARRIES ON FIGHT

Their son, Maj. Francis Preston Fremont, continued the fight until 1925, then turned it over to his son, Benton Fremont, who came back from Cuba where he was an engineer to carry on.

Although a dozen more times bills calling for restitution to the Fremonts were approved in committee, they always died in Congress for one reason or another.

The latest one died last month when Congress rushed to complete its work in order to get the political campaigns under way.

★ ★ ★

Benton Fremont, crippled from a series of heart attacks and weakened by pneumonia, entered San Francisco County Hospital last Thursday as a pauper—a few miles from his family's government-held estate which is now surrounded by scores of lavish, high-rent apartment towers and now assessed at $2.3 million.

On Friday, Benton Fremont died.

But the fight may go on. Fremont said some time ago that the government "might as well give up now. I have a son and three grandchildren, and we're not going to quit fighting."

★ ★ ★

The son, an Air Force jet pilot, flew back from Europe to bury his father and, perhaps, petition the U.S. government again to give him back his land or pay him for it.

Germans Ready Big Rocket

Largest Since War, It'll Go Up 40 Miles for Meteorological Study

BREMEN, Germany (AP) — The German Rocket Society is preparing to shoot its first big post-war Rocket 40 miles into space.

A spokesman for the society said a 13-foot-long rocket probably will be fired within four weeks from an undisclosed spot on the German coast near Cuxhaven.

The spokesman said the rocket will be sent up strictly for meteorological purposes. It will contain delicate German-built measuring instruments.

The venture will be the biggest for German rocket scientists since Hitler developed the buzz bombs of World War II.

PRIVATE GROUP

Since the war, the Germans have limited all their rocket research to experiments with small rockets that could be used for delivery of mail.

METALIOUS REVISITED — "Peyton Place" author Grace Metalious is back with her first husband George Metalious. They were remarried Saturday, the day after she divorced her second mate, disc jockey T. J. Martin. They will rejoin their three children in Martha's Vineyard, Mass.

Chief Seeks Return of Job in Court

HART (UPI) — Circuit Judge Harold V. Domelen had under advisement a motion from ousted Police Chief William Kurzel that the City of Hart give him back his job.

Kurzel, 40, was suspended by the City Council Aug. 23 and his dismissal was made permanent Sept. 7. He had been police chief six years.

In August two Shelby youths complained that Kurzel used profane language after stopping their car in Hart for making excessive muffler noise, and then damaging the car while testing it.

Kurzell contended the methods used to fire him were improper, thus giving the Circuit Court jurisdiction in the case.

England's Royal Couple to Make Nepal Visit

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and her husband Prince Philip will make a state visit to Nepal from Feb. 26 to March 1 next year, Buckingham Palace announced today.

Nepal's King Mahendra and Queen Lakshmi Devi are due in London for a state visit next Monday. Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip are already due to visit India and Pakistan during January.

Ex-U.S. Official Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Arthur A. Ballantine, 77, former undersecretary of the Treasury under Presidents Herbert Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt, died Monday. Ballantine, a tax and corporate law authority, was a partner in the firm of Dewey, Ballantine, Bushby, Palmer and Wood.

Gas lights in London streets were introduced in 1807.

Roseville Voters OK School Bond Issue

ROSEVILLE (UPI) — Voters here have approved a $3.5 million two new junior high schools, one elementary school and additions to seven elementary schools.

About 1,200 elementary students now are attending school on half-time.

The bond issue was approved 2,336 to 641.

Catholic Educators Study 2-Year Cut in School Setup

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roman Catholic educators, caught between rising costs and booming enrollments, are looking for ways to cut the traditional 12-year elementary and secondary school program to 10 years.

The 12-man programs and plans committee of the National Catholic Education Association meeting here this week took a long, hard look at the ways by which even more water may be squeezed out of what is generally a very basic program of academic subjects.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Frederick G. Hochwalt, executive secretary of the NCEA, said, "We know it is possible for many students to do in 10 years what they now get in 12, although that isn't necessarily true for all of them.

"We are looking into new classroom techniques—teaching machines, nongraded primaries and educational television—as well as the idea of longer school days and school years.

WASTE TIME.

"We have known for a long time that all the schools, both public and private, waste too much time.

"The traditional three-month summer vacation isn't realistic based as it is on the idea that children must be free in the summer to help their parents on the farm."

Enrollment in Catholic schools is nearing a record six million pupils, and the supply of new teachers from the religious orders isn't keeping pace.

More and more lay teachers have been hired but the competition with public schools is intense because few Catholic schools can manage the pay scales of the public schools.

Poll Gives Kennedy Nod as Ice Cream of the Crop

That's the report today from Good Humor which is now wrapping its ice cream bars in Kennedy and Nixon wrappers in Southern California.

So far Southern Californians have preferred Kennedy wrapped ice cream bars by 52.7 per cent, the firm reported.

IT'S POPCORN — Virginia Spencer holds an ear of corn shaped and colored like a strawberry. It was grown at the research nursery of the Missouri Farmers Association in Marshall. The hybrid is called, appropriately, strawberry popcorn.

Background on Quemoy, Matsu

2 Little Islands Suddenly Get Big

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The presidential candidates are blowing up a storm over what each would do about two small islands—Quemoy and Matsu—off the Red China coast.

★ ★ ★

Should they or shouldn't they be left out of the area which this country would defend against the Red Chinese? Sen. John F. Kennedy says yes—in order to avoid being dragged into a war over them. Vice President Richard M. Nixon says no—but he didn't say he'd go to war to defend them.

★ ★ ★

The islands became a campaign issue last week in the Nixon-Kennedy TV debate. Those islands, close to the China mainland, are claimed by Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government on Formosa which is 110 miles from the mainland.

But the Red Chinese on the mainland claim them, too. Chiang keeps a lot of his troops on them. The Reds have been bombarding them for years. Sooner or later, as Red China gets stronger, it will probably try to take them by invasion.

TREATY COVERS FORMOSA

This country, by treaty with Chiang, is bound to defend Formosa from Red attack. It is not bound to defend Quemoy and Matsu. And President Eisenhower has always avoided saying this country would go to war to defend them.

But, on the other hand, he has never said this country wouldn't go to war to defend them. This apparently has been intended to keep the Red Chinese guessing on what they could expect if they did attack.

Whether or not the islands would be defended has always been tied to this question which has never been publicly or fully answered: Are they really necessary to the defense of Formosa itself?

Kennedy said that as president he would try to persuade Chiang to pull his forces back from the offshore islands. Why? Because, he said, he sees no sense in this country's being dragged into a war over two islands which are "not strategically defensible."

But he said: He would not let the Red Chinese force the evacuation of the islands under the threat of force.

★ ★ ★

Nixon conceded the two islands are unimportant—he even said the few people who live on them "are not too important"—but he said he wouldn't let the Red Chinese have them. Why? He said it is a matter of "principle."

ECHO PRIOR VIEWS

Kennedy was actually echoing the views of some other Democrats in past years. Nixon was echoing Eisenhower, even to the extent of using some of the same words the President has used in the past.

Wednesday night Kennedy accused Nixon of being "trigger-happy" in insisting upon holding on to those "unimportant...indefensible" islands.

Wednesday Night Nixon likened Kennedy's willingness to give them up to the Western allies' concessions at Munich before World War II.

After the Red Chinese drove Chiang from the mainland in 1949 he fled to Formosa with his forces. This country had little interest in Chiang or Formosa at the time.

★ ★ ★

President Truman even announced this country would not attempt to defend Formosa or Chiang from Red attack. And American military leaders didn't consider even Formosa essential to this country's defenses in the Pacific.

This attitude changed when the Korean War started. Ever since, the United States has made defense of Formosa a prime policy. But Chiang claimed more than just Formosa.

NO "PRINCIPLE" IN 1955

He claimed the Pescadores Islands, which are close to Formosa, plus a string of islands which, lying close to the mainland, were more than 100 miles from Formosa. These included Quemoy and Matsu and 100 miles up the coast, the island of Ichiang and the Tachen Islands.

In 1955 the Reds captured Ichiang and this government persuaded Chiang to abandon the Tachens because they were not essential to Formosa's defense. At that time Eisenhower didn't mention any principle being involved in letting the Reds have Ichiang and the Tachens.

Later, however, he said the American people would stand by a "principle" in not letting Quemoy and Matsu go. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said they might be important in the defense of Formosa. He didn't, however, say they were.

This country, meanwhile, signed a defense pact with Chiang, pledging to defend Formosa and the Pescadores. There was no pledge to defend Quemoy and Matsu. But the door was left open on this by saying this country would also defend other "territories" it considered necessary.

Dulles said he thought surrendering the islands to Red China would not aid the cause of peace. Still, through the years the Eisenhower administration has avoided saying it would defend Quemoy and Matsu unless they were considered necessary to Formosa's protection.

WOULD WHET APPETITE

On Sept. 11, 1958, when the Reds had the islands under heavy bombardment and this country helped Chiang ferry supplies to them, Eisenhower said surrendering them would only whet the Communists' appetite for Formosa.

★ ★ ★

He said no American boy would ever be asked to fight "just for Quemoy" and it was then he said he believed the American people were ready to stand by a principle. Then, just as Nixon is doing now, Eisenhower likened the surrender of Quemoy to Munich.

★ ★ ★

Still, the President has always avoided saying this country would get into war over Quemoy, just as Nixon is not now saying it would.

ISLANDS AN ISSUE — Nationalist-held Quemoy and Matsu, islands off the Red China coast, are involved in a presidential campaign controversy. Vice President Nixon accused Sen. Kennedy of fostering a line of thought dangerous to world peace. In Friday night's television debate, Kennedy argued that the islands should not be a part of the defense pledged for Formosa. Nixon says the islands should never be allowed to fall to the Communists.

Finch's Attorney to End Summation

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Attorney Grant Cooper was expected to end his final argument today by asking the jury to spare the life of Dr. R. Bernard Finch and find him innocent of murder.

★ ★ ★

The veteran attorney indicated he planned to end his summation —which began last Wednesday — before noon. Coprosecutor Clifford Crail then will present his final argument which is expected to last two or three days.

★ ★ ★

The 16-week-old trial, the second life, death or freedom test for the wealthy 45-year-old physician and his receptionist-mistress Carole Tregoff, 23, will go to the jury of 11 women and 1 man sometime next week.

Central Africa Report Assailed

Head of Federation Hits Suggestion of Probers That Split Be Allowed

LONDON (UPI) — A political storm erupted Wednesday over a strong recommendation that the Central African Federation be allowed to break up because of the black Africans' widespread distrust of the white-dominated federation.

A 25-man commission under Viscount Monckton, set up last November by the British government to inquire into the constitutional future of the new federation, Tuesday recommended greater African participation in the federation and the right of eventual secession for the territories.

The commission said African distrust and dislike for the federation were too intense and widespread to permit the three territories to continue under the present setup.

The federation consists of the self-governing British colony of Southern Rhodesia and the two British protectorates of Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland.

★ ★ ★

Southern Rhodesia, where most of the whites live, has taken on many of the policies of South Africa, which is ruled by a white minority.

The Africans in Northern Rhodesia and Nyasaland have opposed the federation.

Shortly after publication of the Monckton report, Sir Roy Welensky, prime minister of the federation, blasted Viscount Monckton and his colleagues for recommending the territories be allowed to secede.

Deeds Office Receipts Drop in Past Month

Receipts coming into the office of the Oakland County Register of Deeds continue on the downgrade, and Registrar Daniel T. Murphy Jr. has a ready explanation.

"It is still a very slow real estate market," he said.

The decline is experienced in the mortgage and deed transactions, Murphy said.

Total receipts for last month came to $17,928. For the same month last year the total was $20,467.

Two new plats were recorded in the office last month, Murphy said in his monthly report.

The number of deeds over the comparable period dropped from 2,897 ($4,806) to 2,686 ($4,378) while the mortgages went from 1,440 ($4,926) to 1,332 ($3,782). Chattel mortgages dropped from 6,201 ($6,201) to 5,467 ($5,467).

U.S. Readies Plans for Cuban Embargo

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration was reported today to have drawn up plans for a virtual economic embargo of Cuba in the form of strict export controls.

★ ★ ★

But officials said no final decision had been made yet on when to put them into effect or how inclusive they should be.

★ ★ ★

Under one plan export controls would be imposed to bar shipment of all U. S. goods to Cuba except medicine and some foods.

★ ★ ★

A more limited plan would impose controls only on goods which would contribute to Cuba's war potential — industrial machinery, for example.

The Spirit of Sweetest Day

Sweetest Day is a day dedicated to the remembrance of others—your way of "remembering" may be a long postponed letter, a special word of praise or encouragement, an unexpected gift to someone who will be glad just to know that you remembered. You will be surprised at the magic that lies hidden in even the smallest trifle of unselfishness. Try it—and make Saturday, October 15, a real adventure in happiness.

Special Sweetest Day Box

The feature piece of this attractive gift assortment is a chocolate-covered old-fashioned mint decorated with the words "Sweetest Day." In addition, there are buttercreams, nut caramels, chocolate fudge, pastel candies, cherry nut royals, peanut and coconut clusters, regents and many others.

2-POUND BOX $3.30
1-POUND BOX $1.65

Meadow Milk Chocolates $1.65 POUND

Some folks like dark sweet chocolate—some like milk chocolate—and some, bless 'em, like both! This assortment has been created strictly for the "milk chocolate contingent." Included are luscious buttercreams, nut clusters, almond butter squares, cherry cordials, nut fudge, caramels and many others. 1, 2, 3 and 5-pound boxes.

$1.35 POUND

New Pavilion Chocolates

A favorite old name—but an excitingly new and distinctive assortment! Nougats and caramels in tempting variety, peanut clusters, and orange and pineapple in cream will vie for your favor with coconut delights, cherry nut royals, regents and many more. 1, 2, 3 and 5-pound boxes. Please specify your choice of dark or milk chocolate coatings.

TOAST BASKETS — Served first at a breakfast for the country's food editors, these toast baskets are a decorative touch to a platter of omelet or scrambled eggs. They take only minutes to make. Get them ready early and keep them warm until serving time.

Toast Baskets Fun to Make

A new idea for a wonderful accompaniment to eggs for a festive brunch or for a spur-of-the-moment luncheon party is to serve toasted bread baskets. These can be filled with a combination of bacon, sausage, mushroom, and tomato.

Trim the crusts of a slice of white bread. Reserve one of the crusts. Bend two diagonal corners of the bread upwards to make the basket. Form a handle by attaching the reserved crust, pinching the ends into the outside of the diagonal corners. Insert a round, double pointed foodpick through the two ends of the handle and the bread.

Brush the inside of the baskets with melted butter. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees F.) for three or four minutes, or until edges are browned. Remove the foodpick immediately. First loosen it by giving it a slight twist in the center under the handle, then pull it out from one side.

Line each basket with two slices of Canadian bacon, lightly panfried. Fill with a mushroom cap and a slice of a small tomato which has been broiled with grated cheese and butter. Finally, add a small cooked breakfast sausage. The baskets can be toasted and filled and kept warm. Before serving time, decorate with a sprig of parsley.

Blueburgers Satisfy Tastes of Any Age

When the football contingent gathers at your house after the game, be prepared to serve a simple but satisfying meal. You can be certain the gang will be ravenous after an outing!

For most young people and sports-minded oldsters, few foods are more welcome than plump, juicy hamburgers. To score another "touchdown," though, surprise them all with a new and fascinating approach to the All-American food — Blueburgers.

To make Blueburgers, all you need do is prepare your usual good beef patties, adding some minced onion and a little salt. Broil the patties on one side, turn, and brown them slightly on the other side. Then top each burger with a generous spoonful of crumbled American blue cheese blended with an equal amount of butter.

That's all there is! Sharply pungent American blue cheese adds an unexpected flavor fillip that is truly delicious. Because of its distinctive taste, you don't need a lot of spicy sauces with the burgers. The creamy, blue-marbled cheese is enough.

A cup of mayonnaise mixed with a quarter cup of French dressing plus catchup or chili sauce, horseradish and Worcestershire sauce makes a delicious sauce for a shrimp cocktail.

Chiffon Pie Flavors Are Mixed

Three-Flavor Chiffon Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
2 eggs (separated)
½ cup dark molasses
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup hot strong coffee
1 to 2 teaspoons rum flavoring
9-inch baked graham cracker crust
Whipped cream

Soften gelatin in cold water. In top of double boiler mix egg yolks, molasses, one-third cup sugar, salt and coffee. Cook over hot (not boiling) water stirring constantly until slightly thick. Stir in softened gelatin.

Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Beat egg whites until stiff; gradually beat in remaining sugar. Fold in gelatin mixture. Turn into crust; chill; top with whipped cream.

Heat a can of stewed tomatoes and serve with meat loaf or baked macaroni and cheese.

Fish Changes Name

The delicately flavored fish that we know as ocean perch was until recently called rosefish by the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service and redfish by fishermen. It is a marine fish, not related to the yellow perch, which is native to the Great Lakes and other fresh-water lakes.

Sprinkle biscuit dough with cheese and shape jelly-roll fashion; cut off slices and bake in a hot oven. Good with creamed fish.

No Drying Out

When wrapping hamburgers or chops or steaks for the freezer, brush the meat with Spanish olive oil first. This helps to keep the meat from drying out when it is frozen.

Labels on Cuts of Meat May Be Most Confusing

CHICAGO—What's in a name? If your wonderment extends to the meat counter, you know for sure that the names represent good eating and nutrition. Sometimes, though, this may be the extent of your knowledge because the names of meat cuts are often confusing. Here's a list from the American Meat Institute of some of the unusual cuts and names that might have puzzled you in the past.

Pot roast seems especially inclined toward fanciful phrases. "Gooseneck," "golden nugget," "horseshoe," "diamond," and "Pike's Peak" are colorful ways of describing a pot roast cut from the heel of the round. "Boston cut" or "English cut" is a chuck cut at the plate corner where the blade and arm sections meet.

The "T-bone pot roast" gets its name from the "T" shape of the bone in a blade bone pot roast. "Cross rib," "scalped shoulder" and "hopey cut" are terms sometimes applied to a chuck roast cut across the clod section so that the three rib ends remain.

Other parts of beef have intriguing names. "Spencer roll" is a boneless beef rib with the chuck muscle removed. A spencer roll with the surface fat removed is called a "regular roll."

Slice the boneless rib eye and you get "Delmonico steak." "London broil" is a high quality flank steak, sliced thinly and diagonally, to be broiled and served rare. Round steak is called "bucket steak" in some sections of the country.

"Cally," "callie" or "picnic" are names given to the lower section of the pork shoulder. It is similar to ham in flavor and appearance. "Butterfly pork chops" are two thick, boneless pork chops left hinged together and flattened to achieve a butterfly shape.

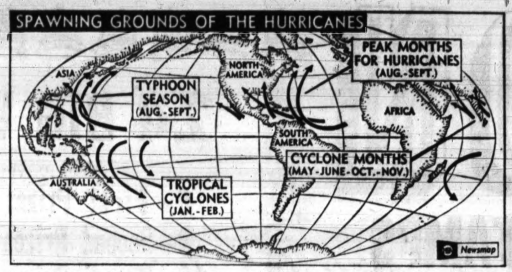
"Mock duck roast" is an unusual dinner dish you might want to try sometime. It is the outside of the lamb shoulder, cut and fashioned into the shape of a duck. "Saratoga chops" are chops cut from a rolled, boneless inside lamb shoulder. "English lamb chops" are sliced from a boneless, rolled double loin lamb roast.

"Veal drumsticks" are ground veal formed in chicken-leg shape onto wooden skewers. "Veal birds" are thin slices of boneless veal. "City chicken" is the name given to veal cubes arranged on a skewer. Sometimes pork cubes are alternated with the veal for added flavor.

Although these names may leave you with some questions in mind, you can be sure that all meat, no matter how it is cut or what it is called, contains the essential proteins, vitamins and minerals your family needs daily.

Try Honey and Wine

Honey and wine make an excellent baste for meats. Use honey and California Sherry with ham or corned or roast pork. Combine honey and Burgundy for spareribs or duck. Join honey and California Chablis or Sauterne to baste chicken.



"DOLDRUMS" — Known as hurricanes, tropical cyclones or typhoons, the vast cyconic storms which plague mankind annually form in the "doldrums," a relatively narrow region north and south of the equator. This atmospheric belt, an area of light winds, rising, warm, moist, air and frequent rain, and thunderstorms, shifts back and forth across the equator with the changing seasons, and storms form on its outer limits.

Nixon Will Whistle Halfway Across U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon will make a whistle-stop campaign tour halfway across the country the week before election.

Nixon's headquarters said today a campaign train will leave Washington Oct. 24 but the vice president's aides declined to give any further details.

The Charlotte Observer, however, in a dispatch from its Washington bureau Tuesday, said the 14-car train would make 40 stops in Maryland, Indiana, Iowa, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Michigan and Illinois.

Ground Beef Is Favored as Economical Meat Buy

Of those five to six thousand items in the food market, which will you choose this week? That is the question. A survey of 250 Lansing families from 1955 to 1959 shows that an average family of 3.3 persons spent about 23 per cent of the food budget for meat. What does your family spend? And what meats will you select at this time?

Religious holidays last week restricted slaughter to some extent. Even though wholesale beef prices were temporarily higher, consumer prices remain about as they have been for all meats except pork. The number of hogs coming to market has not been as heavy as was expected and prices are slightly higher.

No doubt ground beef at an average of 49 to 55 cents a pound will be a favored meat in at least one-half our homes. This is one of the thriftier choices for less than 15 cents per serving states the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Blade chuck for a tender pot roast varies as much as 30 cents a pound, depending upon the grade you choose. The protein value depends upon the amount of lean and not upon the grade you buy.

Some retailers say that lamb prices are about the same, others say they are slightly lower. Shoulder is one of the most economical lamb choices, but you may not use it because of the large amount of bone.

If you don't like to carve the blade bone in lamb shoulder, just remove it. This flat thin bone can be removed a few minutes with a sharp knife. Then the shoulder can be stuffed and tied, rolled and tied, cut into pieces for stew, or ground for patties.

Children and adults will find lamb patties a special treat — especially when they are shaped about a half-inch thick, three inches in diameter and broiled with a strip of bacon around each pattie.

Top quality veal is rather scarce at this season. For leg roast you'll spend 23 to 33 cents per serving this week.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has just completed its buying of 18,850,000 pounds of turkey for the school lunch program. This has helped to steady producer prices and retail prices have fluctuated very little so far this fall.

Smaller production is the main reason why egg prices are higher than they were last year in October. Three small size eggs at 11 to 12 cents or two large eggs at 12 cents will give about the same amount of protein as an average serving of meat.

Fruits and vegetables accounted for close to 20 per cent of the average family's grocery spending in the Lansing survey.

If you wish to pick fresh fruits and vegetables in largest supply, you will again check ways to use apples, cauliflower, celery, onions (both green and dry), potatoes, winter squash and cabbage. Arrivals of fresh produce at the larger terminal markets throughout the nation totaled over 500 cars less than the previous week . . . another sign that harvest in northern states is near an end for 1960.

There are still Michigan tomatoes, but you also find the 14-ounce tubes (which were picked green and ripened) and tomatoes being shipped from warmer climates. Added transportation and handling explain why prices differ from those grown in Michigan.

The 250 Lansing families spent 18 per cent of their grocery money for dairy products. Adult groups recommended 3 or 4 cups of milk per person adds up to too much for your spending plan, what do you do about it? A quart of non-fat dry milk will cost about 10 cents per quart and can be used in all ways you use whole milk. This simple adjustment may be all you need to help your family get the calcium and other food nutrients which milk provides.

That trip to the food store can be more meaningful when you consider more than the foods your family needs and the amount you can spend. Current information on foods in the market, and changes in supply and price are other guides.

Crisp Vegetables Contrast to Fish

Supper for weight-watchers.

Baked Fish With Crisp Vegetables

2 whole fish (1½ to 2 pounds each)
Salt
Pepper
1 small onion
1 small green pepper
1 medium-sized carrot
2 or 3 ribs celery
2 to 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Have fish split, cleaned and backbone removed; head and tail may be left on. Sprinkle insides with salt and pepper; seasoning salt may also be used.

* * *

Cut onion, green pepper, carrot and celery into thin strips; arrange in fish. Sprinkle vegetables with seasoning and dot with butter. Close fish with twine or skewers; rub outside with butter. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 25 minutes or until fish flakes easily and loses transparent look. Vegetables will still be crisp. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Simmer Franks With Sauerkraut

Franks and relish are cooked the easy way—in a skillet at the same time.

Frankfurters With Sauerkraut Relish

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion (cut in thin strips)
1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut (drained)
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
1 bay leaf (broken into quarters)
6 frankfurters (about 1 pound)

Lightly brown onion in hot butter in 9 or 10-inch skillet. Add sauerkraut, tomato sauce, sugar and bay leaf; mix thoroughly. Add frankfurters whole or cut in half. Cover and simmer until flavors blend and franks are hot — about 20 minutes. Stir a few times so as not to scorch. Makes 4 servings.

Cook diced kidneys, strips of onion and sliced mushrooms in butter; use as a filling for a luncheon omelet.

Creole Sauce Does Wonders for Eggs

When you want to serve eggs for lunch or supper this flavorsome dish may fill the bill. It may be made for one or a dozen.

CREOLE SHIRRED EGGS

For each serving:
½ cup tomato sauce
¼ cup diced cooked ham
2 eggs
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Heat tomato sauce and ham; turn into buttered shirred egg dish or individual 6-inch pie plate. Break eggs over hot sauce; sprinkle with cheese. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven until eggs are firm — about 20 minutes.

Note: Homemade Marinara Sauce is delicious in this recipe. Parmesan cheese may be replaced by Romano, or use a combination of the two.

Evening supper for the gang: make-your-own sandwiches of salami and ham slices, cheese, tomatoes, onion rings.

Burnt Sugar Date Cake Gets a Glaze

Burnt Sugar Date Cake

1 package burnt sugar cake mix
1 cup commercial sour cream
2 tablespoons water
1 egg
1 package (2⅝ cups) pitted, chopped dates

To cake mix add sour cream, water, eggs and contents of the packet of burnt sugar syrup. Mix for 2 minutes as directed on the label. Fold in dates. Pour batter into a well-greased and floured 13x9½x2-inch pan and bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. (Or use a 3-quart, 10-inch ring mold and bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes.)

Let cake cool 15 minutes, then turn out onto a platter. Serve warm or cool with whipped cream, custard sauce or Apricot Glaze.

Apricot Glaze

1 jar (12 oz.) apricot jam or preserves
¼ cup water
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Measure all ingredients into a small saucepan. Cook and stir until mixture simmers. Let cool slightly, then spoon over warm Burnt Sugar Date Cake or over pieces of the cake. Serve warm or cool.

They Like to Grow and Can Food

CANS FOR FUN — All summer long, Norman Hopping had a hard time keeping up with his wife's tremendous canning project. As fast as fruit and vegetables ripened, the ambitious woman (with a heart condition) peeled, cut and canned her beautiful produce. The Hoppings use only a small portion, then give the rest away to friends and relatives — just for the fun of it.

(Food Editor's Note: Our roving Waterford Township reporter, Reba Heintzelman, came up with this interesting story on growing and canning food. We thought you would like it too. The Hoppings have gone away on a trip. We will try to get a recipe from Mrs. Hopping later on.)

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

It would take a "heap o' livin'" to attempt to keep up with one Waterford Township couple — supposedly retired because of serious heart conditions.

True to their name, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hopping (both 63 years old) of 385 Airport Road, grow huge squash, tomatoes, potatoes, and all types of fruit; can and preserve all the foodstuff; then give it away to friends and relatives.

"We take it real easy all summer puttering around in the garden, then canning the things we grow. It's a real satisfaction to be able to give something so good, for so little cost and that's the way we like it," Hopping commented.

More than 500 shining glass jars of beets, mushrooms, okra, green pole beans and various relishes line the fruit cellar shelves in the Hopping basement.

There are bright yellow peaches, golden ears of Yellow Bantam corn (an almost extinct brand because of its smallness), pink applesauce, multi-colored corn relish, along with strawberry, blackberry and blueberry jellies and jams.

HAD TO RETIRE

It all started when the energetic Hopping was forced to retire from his job at Fisher Body because of a weak heart. His wife also suffered from the same condition.

The two then decided to get their living from the land, by moving slowly and with ease. As a result, every type of vegetable was planted for diet variety. Peach, apple and pear trees provided ample fruit for breakfasts and desserts, and thriving berry bushes produce the tasty topping for toast.

★

★ ★ ★

Slightly resembling old-time film star, Will Rogers, Hopping is most proud of his "gone-crazy squash." Planted just like any other squash in late June, they now look like gigantic turtles lying in the sun and covering one entire end of the garden.

"I don't know what happened to those seeds," he said. "They were planted, then cultivated only once with no special fertilizer used. They just went plum crazy, and now I don't know what to do with them."

Hopping really knows where they will end up. They'll be given to some worthy organization, school or hospital, proving his heart is in the right place regardless of what the doctors say.

Let Youngsters Bake Cookies

Youngsters can bake these cookies themselves.

Lunchbox Cookies

½ cup sifted flour
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup quick-cooking rolled oats
⅓ cup butter or margarine
⅓ cup sugar
1 egg
½ cup seedless raisins (washed and drained and halved)
½ cup chopped walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking soda, salt and cinnamon; stir in rolled oats. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg. Add flour mixture, raisins and nuts; mix. Drop from tablespoon, a few inches apart, on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 15 minutes. Makes 1½ dozen.

Pontiac Press Photo

★ BIG SQUASH IN WATERFORD — Norman Hopping looks a little concerned over what to do with his huge Hubbard squash he grew in less than three months. The one up front weighs more than 65 pounds. The other three in the picture are over 55 pounds each, and it would take a man with a strong back—and ax—even to get one open.

Chorus Seeks More Members

Pontiac Press Photos

An audition that's relaxed and informal is all that's required to affiliate with the Pontiac Women's Chorus, now in its 29th year. Demonstrating the process is member Beth Carter of Lake Orion and chorus director George Scott of Walled Lake.

Women Meet Every Tuesday

The Pontiac Women's Chorus, opening its 29th season, is seeking additional members.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, the group meets Tuesday evenings at the Mark Twain School. Director George Scott is assisted in his work by accompanist Charles Wilson.

Composed of women from the townships as well as the metropolitan area, the chorus presents several concerts during the season. Social activities are also a part of the year's events. The group draws women from all walks of life.

No formal training is required for membership. Basic requisites are acceptable tone quality, note-reading ability and the willingness to devote the time and effort of weekly rehearsal and concert preparation.

Organized in 1932 under Thelma Allen who was its director for nine years, the chorus has established a tradition of making beautiful music and providing a joyous outlet for the musical talents of local women.

Auditions, which are relaxed and informal, are held on Tuesdays through Nov. 1 Mrs. Michael Patterson of Grace K. Court or Mrs. Frank Weger of Farm Road, Waterford Township, may be contacted for further information.

Librarian Mrs. Leslie Howey of Stratton goes over the piano accompaniment of the score of some of this season's music. Chorus members looking on are (from left) Sandy Arnold of Going Street, Sandra Lilliquist of Newport Avenue and Arlene Linsenman of Hillsmont Avenue. The group, sponsored by Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, is seeking additional members.

Montoya, Wife to Perform Here

Flamenco guitarist Carlos Montoya will have as his co-star in the opening session of the Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall series his lithe and talented dancer-wife Trianita.

Wednesday morning's session at the Oakland Theater is set for 10:30. Departing from the usual format, the program will be 90 minutes long and will be followed by a celebrity luncheon at the Orchard Lake Country Club.

Flamenco guitar music has no set arrangements, leaving room for improvisation within the framework of the traditional rhythms.

Rhythmic rather than melodic, dominately minor, the music requires no program notes, but speaks from the heart. It is especially adaptable to interpretation in dance figures and the appearance of Trianita should enbance Wednesday's program.

★ ★ ★

The Flamenco tradition stems from Andaluzia and for many centuries the masters of this art have been Spanish gypsies. They have been much imitated but seldom equaled in their distinctive approach and unique sense of rhythm.

★ ★ ★

A Moorish influence and traces of ancient Hebrew strains are said to be found in the background of the music, but it is impossible to trace the origins of any specific Flamenco form.

★ ★ ★

Montoya makes all of his own arrangements. A Spanish gypsy, he has been concertizing throughout the world for many years and is said to keep music in purer form than many Flamenco artists currently appearing in Spain who have been influenced by the current craze to modernize the music.

★ ★ ★

His program will include a Moorish Zambra; Galician airs which will produce a bagpipes effect; the Guajiras based on Cuban rhythms; and his own creation, the Saeta which is based on Holy Week songs heard in Sevilla. In the latter, he produces a drum effect by using the strings.

Possessing what is called a natural technique, he does not read music and has avoided formal training. In view of this, his technical facility is considered all the more remarkable.

The concert is available to season ticket holders only. However, tickets for the series may be purchased at the opening concert.

The change in location of the celebrity luncheon is called to the attention of members by the board of directors. Luncheon reservations must be in 12:30 affair at the Orchard Lake Country Club may be made through Mrs. Clyde Dearing.

NASW Dinner Slated Tuesday

The Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers will attend a dinner meeting at 6 Tuesday in Devon Gables.

Delegate Robert Janes, executive director of Family Service and chairman of Oakland County's chapter of the association, and alternate Charles Mentzer, executive director of the Birmingham Council of Community Services, will report on the NASW Delegate Assembly yesterday in Chicago.

Dorcas Guild Elects Officers

Officers were elected by the Dorcas Guild of Pontiac Central Christian Church Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Adrian Willis was elected president. Her co-officers are Mrs. Eldon Gardner, vice president; Mrs. Roy Warner, secretary; and Mrs. J. H. Moon, treasurer. Mrs. Moon submitted the annual report.

★ ★ ★

Members spent the afternoon quilting and making cancer pads.

Don't Start Buzz Session, Says Abby

Send Friend Elsewhere for the Old Tale

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A 16-year-old boy lives next door. Last night he told me he was never told the facts of life. I was really surprised, because I am 13 and my mother told me a long time ago. He said he asked his father and was told he knew all he needed to know to get along.

ABBY

His 18-year-old sister also told him he knew enough. He said all he knows he heard from the kids at school. I don't feel right talking about things like that with him, but I do think he ought to know. Where can he find out?

A GIRL WHO KNOWS

DEAR GIRL: The boy should learn the "facts of life" from a mature, informed adult. If his father refuses to tell him, he should go to his clergyman, his coach at school or a respected relative or friend. Don't YOU discuss it with him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Have you [illegible] family going into debt over their ears to put on a big wedding and reception just to impress people? When our daughter became engaged, we explained to the boy's parents that our income was limited, and said we would give the children the nicest wedding and reception we could afford.

This didn't suit them, because they took over without consulting us, and are putting on a three-ring circus and are paying for everything. We'll be the laughing stock of this town for years to come. Should we refuse to attend the wedding?

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: The parents of the groom could hardly plan your daughter's wedding without her knowledge and consent. If she shares your viewpoint (which, by the way, IS the proper one), she should let them know. If she's all for the groom's family putting on the show and footing the bill, then go and keep the peace.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a businessman should hire relatives when he needs more help? This is a small place and most of us have been here a long time, but lately the boss has been bringing his relatives in.

To them there's no "Boss" — only "Cousin Joe" and Brother Moe." We outsiders don't appreciate a family reunion every day during business hours. We'd appreciate your comments.

OUTSIDERS

DEAR OUTSIDERS: Whom a businessman hires in his place of business is his own [illegible]

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a $10 bet with my father-in-law riding on your answer, so please don't let me down. He says that even though you never reveal a writer's name you are not allowed to use a letter in your column unless it is signed. I say he is wrong.

BERNIE

DEAR BERNIE: Congratulations, you have just won $10.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. James Woods and the Bill Elliotts will entertain at the Woods home on Eileen Drive. Guests will include the James Greens, the George Weirs, the Owen Batzloffs, the Ray Slaughters, the Lorne O'Neils, the John Massas, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ranzilla and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vidor.

★ ★ ★

The Charles Robinsons of Marlborough Road have invited Mr. and Mrs. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Linmark, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Anderson.

★ ★ ★

Officers for 1960-61 are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oosterhof, president; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Ross, secretary; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Aldred, treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Slaughter, publicity; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wharton, orchestra; and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Saulter and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holmes, membership.

Brides Bid Bon Voyage to Member

Pontiac branch of Trans-Atlantic Brides and Parents Association met for their first bon voyage party Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Dale Baumgardner in Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

President of the branch Mrs. Stanley West presented gifts to Mrs. Steven Strzelecki who is returning to England with her husband for a two-month visit.

Remembrances also were given to Mrs. Frank Wallace of London, England, who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Phillip Hicks of Waterford since June.

★ ★ ★

The next meeting of the English girls' club will be at the home of Mrs. Stanley West on Vernon Drive. English women from this area may attend.

Art Group Sponsors 2 Events

The Bloomfield Art Association is sponsoring two October events which exemplify creative expression.

Sunday the Architecture Show will open under the chairmanship of Frederick Stickel and Anthony Moody, area architects.

The show will clarify architecture as art and will demonstrate the manner in which it utilizes science, philosophy and aesthetics. William Lyman is assisting Mr. Stickel and Mr. Moody.

This exhibit follows the beginning session of a five-week series of art workshops in creative materials for young people at the BAA building in Birmingham. The first class was held Oct. 8.

Youngsters from grades five and six are meeting from 9 to 11 a.m. in Saturday classes which will run through Nov. 5. Grades one and two meet on the same days from noon to 1:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

A second workshop series for children will begin Nov. 12 and continue through Dec. 17. Grades seven to 12 are scheduled from 9 to 11 a.m. and grades three and four from noon to 1:30 p.m. on Saturdays. Classes will not meet Nov. 26 following the Thanksgiving holiday.

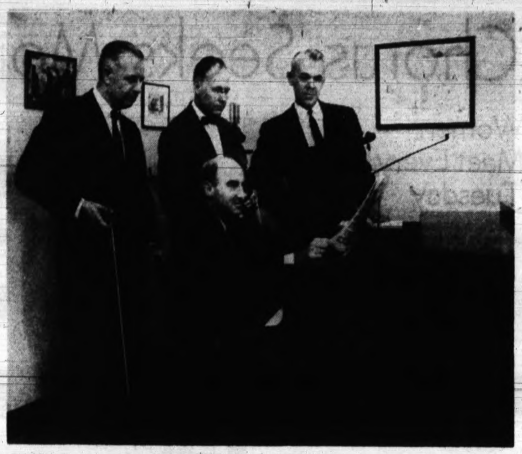
Specialties from guild members' recipe boxes will be served at the public affair.

NANCY LEE WERNER

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin J. Werner of Lookout Drive, Dayton, Ohio, and Endsleigh Drive, Birmingham, announce the engagement of their daughter Nancy Lee to John R. Weiffenbach Jr., son of the John R. Weiffenbachs of Dayton, Ohio. The bride-elect and her fiance are graduates of Otterbein College. She was affiliated with Kappa Phi Omega Sorority and Mr. Weiffenbach with Lambda Gamma Epsilon Fraternity. Wedding plans are incomplete.

Good go-along for tomato juice: Cream soft cheddar cheese (it comes in a roll) with butter and add finely chopped shrimp, onion powder and chili sauce or catchup. Spread over toast and broil.



The resident artists' group of Michigan State University will open MSUO's lecture-concert series Wednesday at the student center at 8 p.m. Instrumentalists are (from left) violinist Romeo Tata, cellist Louis Potter Jr., violist Lyman Bodman. The pianist is Henry Harris. Single admissions to the 12-session series are available through MSUO.

Latex Helps Stop Hill Lawn Erosion

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you've ever tried to grow a lawn on a hillside, you're probably acquainted with the erosion damage that a heavy rainfall can cause.

★ ★ ★

Chemists find that if they seed erosion-prone hillsides, then spray them with latex, grass grows unhampered and erosion is resisted.

For Smooth Seam

(NEA) — In order to get a smoother and flatter seam appearance on the right side of garments, notch the edges that curve out and clip the edges that curve in.

NEW JAMAICA LENGTH PANTY GIRDLE by Silf Skin

SCULPTURES YOUR THIGHS TO SMOOTH PERFECTION! An entirely new concept in thigh control: the flattering new length that cinches inches to create a marvelously sleek, unbroken line from waist to just a whisper above the knee. And you're longer on comfort throughout your active day! Because SILF SKIN puts maximum emphasis on ease: a pre-shaped back panel controls naturally; a satin front panel firms gently. Hip section eliminates seams.

White only. #528 Jamaica length $8.95
#258 Long torso, $10. Small, medium, large. Extra large slightly higher.
Fibres: Rayon, Acetate, Nylon, Cotton, Rubber.

It's All a Matter of Taste

Eating Is Merely a Habit

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The food we like to eat and the colors we prefer to wear are matters of individual taste. However, I think that our daily habits in eating are dictated mostly by habit, many of which we acquired in the home of our parents and others which we have developed ourselves.

★ ★ ★

One of the benefits of a well-planned reducing diet, besides the loss in weight, is a new way of eating.

The daily candy bar and the rich dessert do not seem nearly so attractive after we have been without them for a while. The greasy, fried foods may not appear nearly so tempting as those which are broiled.

I have known this to be true because of my own experience and because of pupils and readers who have told me that they have had the same experience.

TRY IT YOURSELF

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I tried powdered fat-free milk and I would rather die 10 years sooner than drink that. Why don't you try it yourself before you write about it?"

The truth is that I have not used anything but powdered fat-free milk for the past 10 years.

I have done this because I have to watch my weight constantly and also because accumulating information seems to indicate that it might be better for health. Now whole milk does not appeal to me as a general habit. Of course I ant. enjoy, with gusto, exotic rich sauces and wonderful desserts and fried foods, on occasion, but I am thinking of the usual daily habit in eating.

OVEREATING, TOO

The same thing is true of overeating. The fact is that when we overeat it affects us not only on the outside but on the inside.

Our real stomach, not our abdominal measurement, stretches. It becomes abnormally large. Until we give it time to return to normal, that void gives us trouble.

However, once we form the habit of eating moderate portions, the way we feel after stuffing ourselves is not worth it—except perhaps, on special occasions.

So, the way we eat is a habit, and it is always rewarding to substitute good eating habits for bad ones, not only because of the dividends in looks and health but because they soon will become pleas-

A Son Needs Advice Only Father Can Give

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to young fathers:

If you are wise you will make a deal with your wife when your children are still young, whereby you let her have the final say-so about the guidance and discipline of your daughters and you have the final authority on questions that concern your sons.

There is a trend among middle-class families, child guidance authorities tell us, for mama to make the decisions concerning both sons and daughters. And the results aren't too good.

What is happening, they say, is that boys are being disciplined like girls, because mama is disciplining both. And the kind of discipline and guidance that is good for sis isn't right for junior.

So if your wife tries to sell you the idea that she knows what is best for all the kids in the family—boys and girls alike—just don't let her get by with it.

She doesn't know what is best for a boy because she doesn't know what it is like to be a boy or what qualities a boy needs to develop to get along in a man's world. You know much better than your wife how to direct and guide and discipline your sons.

But what you know isn't going to be of much value to your sons unless you make it clear when they are small that you want and intend to have the final word where your sons are concerned.

Start that pattern early. It will be too late if you wait until your sons are teen-agers to try to take over. By then they will be used to a woman's discipline, to a woman's set of values, perhaps, even, to a woman's tendency to overprotect her young.

Mother knows best when it comes to rearing daughters—but father knows best when it comes to rearing sons.

Youths Feel They Don't Earn Their 75 Cents an Hour

Baby-Watching Brigade Really Sitting Pretty

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

There's a labor force swarming over the country today which is content with its hourly wage, doesn't worry about coffee breaks, and has little difficulty in interpersonal relationships.

This satisfied segment of the working population is made up of the teen-age baby sitters, on duty an average of one assignment a week.

Sixty-four per cent of the 993 young people polled in this week's survey are baby sitters.

They average between 50 and 75 cents an hour, often get bonuses for after-midnight sitting and household chores, and are quite able to control their charges—not by punishment but by play.

Moreover, the sitters feel their pay is fair, and that both parents and children try hard to make the sitter feel happy in his work.

In fact, some of them feel they don't really earn their pay. Says Victor Komisar, 17, of Valley Stream, L. I., "Being paid three or four dollars for doing nothing is nice work."

Bonnie Gustafsen, 14, of Hingham, Mass., reports she "just sits and eats and gets paid for it." And Becky D. Quinn, 16, of Miami, Fla., lists the joys of sitting as "money, icebox, TV and phone privileges."

SOME ARE NATURALS

Money is the motivating factor for the teen-agers who sit regularly, but experience and the pleasure of being with children ranks high. Comments Sheila Syring, 17, of Eugene, Ore., "I usually care for one angelic boy of one family and he is more fun than work."

Even those whose duties seem more onerous express satisfaction.

"All I have to do is to feed and watch the children," is the casual remark of Marcia Burkert, 16, of Indianapolis, and her philosophical girl comments, "After all the baby sitter is just a substitute and the real mother gets no money for a full-time job."

From the comments on the poll, it's evident that some sitters are natural-born psychologists. An understanding sitter from Greenville, N.C., has no trouble controlling the children because "when I explain to them what they did wrong, they mind."

"Sabra Dawes, 18, of Coral Gables, Fla., thinks "if children are treated like adults, they act as such." And many say they enjoy playing games and reading to the children.

The minority who find it hard to handle children complain of their temper tantrums, their disobediences, and the difficulties encountered in getting them to bed on time. Their own parents must chuckle about this!

While most sitters enjoy a good working relationship with the parents who hire them, there is a minor faction that has a few gripes. Staying out beyond the time specified is a source of concern. "I have to get some rest," explains Priscilla Estes, 18, of Miami, and a 15-year-old youngster from Baton Rouge, La., says, "I am most annoyed when they get home late."

SOME MORE GRIPES

Other complaints range from leaving inadequate instructions and information as to the parents' whereabouts, to beefs about those detail-minded parents who spell out everything without leaving any decision to the sitter's judgment.

Bill Wilson, 17, of Baton Rouge, La., says, "The parents give me orders as though I were an idiot. The mother tells me not to do some things and to do others which I would do anyway."

But at the other extreme is Pat Shank, 16, of Medina, Ohio, who comments, "They don't explain how to run appliances. I had to get the child out of bed once, to show me how to run the dishwasher."

Last-minute cancellations are a source of genuine grievance. "I sit steadily for one woman, and although I am supposed to reserve Saturday nights, she will not notify me in advance."

Most of the sitters polled have a steady once-a-week date. Others work as much as three times a week, or as little as once a month.

Some say they would like to sit and earn the extra money, but dates and school work, plus their responsibility in taking care of younger members of the family, curtail their sitting schedule.

Weekends see the biggest demand for sitters, though some, like Marie Hendrix, 17, of Eugene, Ore., sit "after school and all day weekends."

WATCH TV, STUDY, READ

If their charges are asleep, most watch TV, study or read—or do all three. They're willing to abide by the parents' instructions on the ticklish matter of entertaining a friend. Marsha Skorstad, 15, of West Allis, Wis., however, is annoyed when the parents depart saying, "Remember! No boys." But Katherine Field, 18, of Green's Farms, Conn., says if the parents approve, "I entertain a friend."

★ ★ ★

A pleasant rapport between employer and employe seems to prevail in the majority of cases. When asked if parents try to make themselves popular with their sitters, 55 per cent say yes. "The father of one of my families helps me with my chemistry," says Becky Doyle-Quinn, 16, of Miami, Fla. Others take a keen interest in their sitters' activities and talk to them about their school and other interests.

The children, too, seem to want to be in the sitters' good graces. Forty-six per cent of the sitters said the youngsters try to make themselves popular.

The girls spend the fruits of their labors on clothes, cosmetics, records, gifts, entertainment, and school supplies. The boys use theirs for hobbies, dates and pocket money. A percentage thriftily banks the earnings for education.

Sorority Will Host Benefit on Friday

Lambda Tau Delta Sorority will sponsor a benefit luncheon and fashion show at Devon Gables at noon Friday.

Proceeds will be donated to the Child Research Center of Detroit and The Institute of Logopedics, teacher training program at Wichita, Kan.

In the last 14 years the Detroit branch of the sorority has contributed over $25,000 to these institutions.

Mrs. Bernard Dodd of Birmingham is chairman for the event, assisted by Mrs. Bliss French of Orchard Lake.

★ ★ ★

Members from local chapters planning to attend include Mrs. John Hooks Mrs. Charles Harris and Mrs. Reginald McNichol, all of Pontiac; and Mrs. Manuel Barris of Birmingham.

Bloomfield Fashion Shop of Birmingham will furnish apparel for the show.

Short 'n' Sweet

Soroptimists Slate Sale of Rummage

Plans were completed for the annual fall rummage sale by members of Soroptimist-International of Pontiac at a dinner meeting Monday in the Hotel Waldron.

The sale will be in a store building at the corner of Huron and Cass, Oct. 29, beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Mrs. Pat Hooper of Ferndale, director of Oakland County Social Welfare Commission, recently appointed director of the 3rd District of the Soroptimist Federation, spoke briefly on classification and membership.

A letter was read from the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children thanking the club for sending a 17-year-old postpolio patient to Indian Trails summer camp for two weeks.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Karl Schultz, Mrs. Ray Maxwell and Mrs. Howard Decker represented the club at the monthly party for Pontiac State Hospital patients.

Mrs. Decker will narrate a film "The Story of the United States Mail" at the Oct. 24 social meeting in the Hotel Waldron.

Coming October 18th

Huron Valley to Study Education Objectives

Citizens' Group to Aid Program

All Areas of Operation Within School District to Be Covered

By JIM LONG

A study program of education objectives in the Huron Valley school system for the next decade will be undertaken by the district's newly formed citizens advisory committee, it was announced today.

MIL

The purpose of the advisory committee is to determine the facts concerning all areas of operation in the system and prepare recommendations for the board of education on the needs in the district for the next 10 years.

The project will be undertaken by five subcommittees on school problems, with the entire program directed by a steering committee.

The subcommittees will study curriculum, personnel, school plant, taxes and finance, community relations and publicity.

According to cochairmen of the advisory group, E. Eugene Russell and Ernest Hummitch, the subcommittees will not pass judgement on existing conditions or attempt to assess blame or praise for what it finds.

Each group, the cochairmen said, will determine what should be done and how it should be accomplished. Recommendations will be submitted to the school board for appropriate action, they pointed out.

The operation of each subcommittee, according to the steering committee, is to formulate basic questions or issues pertaining to its field of study, obtain factual data on local school practices and trends, summarize national trend and facts and prepare recommendations.

NO COST CONCERN

The recommendations of all subcommittees, except finance, are to be made without concern for cost. However, areas of possible economies and greater efficiency will be identified.

The finance committee will make firm recommendations for a 5-year program with tentative recommendations covering a second 5-year plan.

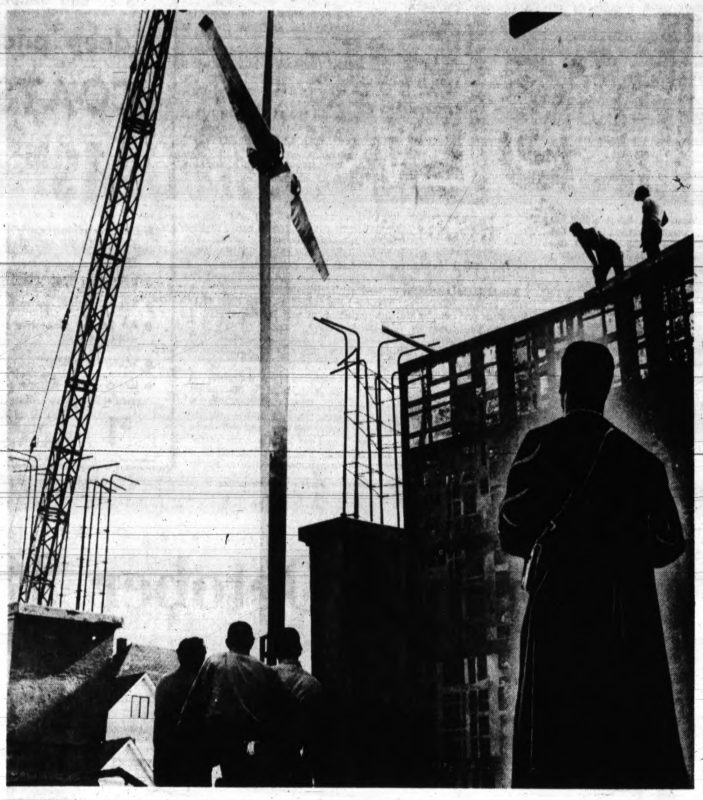
Consideration also will be given to other public services supported by taxes which might be curtailed or discontinued before depriving children of currently needed educatinal facilities.

Complete freedom of movement has been guaranteed by the school board and faculty to all committees accumulating facts concerning the school district.

The appointed chairmen of the subcommittees are Mrs. C. N. Mann, curriculum; David Ryckman, personnel; Gordon Brooks, school plant; Martin Boyle, taxes and finance; and William Cichowski and Thomas Hancock, community relations and publicity.

All residents living in the school district have been invited to the next meeting of the steering committee at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Milford high school.

Volunteers interested in joining a subcommittee can contact the Huron Valley Board of Education.



ERECT GIANT CROSS — A 52-foot, bronze-plated cross was erected yesterday at the entrance of Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church in Farmington. The new church is to be completed by mid-January. The memorial was designed by Birmingham sculptor Marshall Fredericks and engineered by Hans Nielsen. The cross-beam is 28 feet wide. A similar, gold plated cross, scaled down to a fourth of the original, will be placed on the roof of the church.

Avon Players Work Backstage

'Nude With Violin' Set Oct. 21, 22 at Junior High in Rochester

ROCHESTER — When the Avon Players present Noel Coward's comedy, "Nude with Violin," Oct. 21 and 22 at Rochester Junior High School, it will mark the climax of weeks of work for backstage crews as well as the cast.

Directing the production is Mrs. George W. Akers. Her assistant is Mrs. Larry Shaffner. Both are veteran members of the Players.

For more than a month he and his committee chairmen have been directing the efforts of those collecting properties, building sets, fitting costumes and applying stage make-up.

★ ★ ★

Set designer is Raymond P. Bandemer, and his wife has charge of the ticket sales.

The play, which had long runs in both London and New York, spoofs the gullibility of patrons of the arts.

Its central character is a suave, unscrupulous butler who had been the faithful valet of a world-renowned artist. Cast in this role is James B. Jackson.

Upon the painter's death, his long-estranged widow, son, daughter, daughter-in-law and agent learn his canvases were actually painted by others.

The Oct. 21 performance will be a special students' night. Tickets will be sold at half price to high school and college students that night only.

Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. both nights.

Huge Crucifix Placed at Farmington Church

FARMINGTON — While workmen and schoolchildren watched, a huge cross was gently, almost reverently, raised into position yesterday at the entrance of Our Lady of Sorrows Catholic Church, now under construction here.

★ ★ ★

Rising 52 feet above the ground and dominating everything in the area, the giant cross is a memorial to Our Lady of Sorrows.

The tapering, diamond-shape cross was designed by Birmingham sculptor Marshall Fredericks.

It is covered with bronze sheets over a steel rod skeleton, which took three weeks to fabricate.

The cross was engineered by Hans Nielsen, who worked with the Carlson Welding and Mfg. Co. of Royal Oak on its fabrication.

The memorial, which will have a scene from the crucifixion at its base, took 20 minutes for positioning by a 90-foot crane.

It was placed on a steel column sunk 10 feet in the ground, then permanently welded into position.

The cross is 37 feet from the base to its cross beam which is 28 feet wide, and then rises another 15 feet.

Another cross, gold plated and scaled down to a fourth of the size of the entrance memorial, will be placed on the roof of the new church sometime next week.

The 13-foot cross will be placed on an eight-foot base.

TRIANGULAR PATIO

The Latin name for this area was "Atrium" and it was the entrance patio to the early Roman houses the first Christians used for their churches.

It usually contained a fountain where disciples or first priests of the church baptized pagans.

The modern church, expected to be completed by early January, is being built at a cost of $525,000, plus an additional $145,000 for the rectory and administration building.

Clarkston Club Asks Candidates to Talk

CLARKSTON Republican and Democratic candidates for office will have a chance to present their views on important issues at the Oct. 26 meeting of the Clarkston Community Women's Club.

All candidates will be given a short period to talk, followed by a question and answer session, according to program Chairman Mrs. Tull Lasswell.

All women in the Clarkston area have been cordially invited to attend the 8 p.m. meeting, and if interested, to join the club, Mrs. Lasswell said.

Appointed Trustee at Orion

ORION TOWNSHIP — George Collingwood, Harper Avenue, Detroit, secretary, has been appointed as a trustee on the Orion Township Board.

Collingwood, 1123 Absequami Trail, fills the vacancy on the board created by the death Oct. 2 of veteran trustee Harry Slater.

In other action Tuesday, the board approved rezoning of recently acquired property behind the township hall which will be used for a parking lot.

The new township parking lot will accommodate some 40 cars. Township Clerk Mrs. Margaret Stephen said there is space for only six vehicles in front of the hall at 571 S. Broadway St.

★ ★ ★

The board believed the extra space was necessary in view of the number of residents who will be voting at the hall Nov. 8, Mrs. Stephen said.

Brandon Grange to Get Award for Service

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — The Brandon Grange will be presented a community service award in East Lansing Wednesday at the Michigan State Grange Convention.

The local grange was first-place winner in the Thumb area in the National Grange and Sears Roebuck Foundation community service contest. It finished third in statewide competition.

Receiving the award for the Brandon Grange will be Mrs. James W. Empey of 709 Sands Road, community service chairman.

One of the major projects of the group this year was the clearing of trees, vines and brush from blind street corners in the Brandon Township area.

Youths Chased Union Official

Four Guilty in Attack Try

TROY — Four youths who reportedly tried to beat up a Troy union official were found guilty yesterday in arraignments before Clawson Justice of the Peace Bristol Hunter.

★ ★ ★

Robert D. Rock, president of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Local 935, said one of the group hurled a tire iron through his car window while he was stopped for a traffic light in Clawson Tuesday night.

Rock, 42, of 803 Kirts St., said the youths then pursued him all the way to the Clawson police station.

They escaped after a chase in which police fired six shots at their car, but three of them were picked up later by Royal Oak police. A fourth surrendered the same night.

SEES NO CONNECTION

Police said there was no apparent connection between the incident and the 80-day strike last spring of Rock's Union against Dynamics Manufacturers, Inc., 4755 Rochester Road, here.

Bound over to Circuit Court on $5,000 bond was Stanley F. Otis Jr., 19.

The others were given $50 fines and 10-day jail terms. They are Norman Matthews, 16; Carl D. Barton and Robert W. Frush, both 20. All are from Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Police said they had been drinking. They were charged with felonious assault and resisting arrest.

Find Two Guilty in Flint Murder

One Man Cleared in Beating and Death of Dennis R. West

Two of three men charged with beating to death a 17-year-old Avon Township youth two days after his high school graduation were found guilty of second degree murder in Flint last night.

★ ★ ★

A Genesee County Circuit Court jury of 10 women and two men brought in the verdict against Billy Joe Housley, 21, and Frederick Brown, 23, both of Flint.

Police said they had beaten and kicked to death Dennis R. West June 11 outside a Mexican restaurant on Flint's south side.

West, who was seeking directions when he and three friends became lost in the city, was attacked and died of a brain hemorrhage while being rushed to Hurley Hospital.

A popular 6-foot-4, 165-pound youth who played basketball on church and YMCA teams, West was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross C. West of 140 Montmorency Road.

★ ★ ★

His father is general administrator of the salaried payroll at the General Motors Technical Center. The Wests have two other children, teen-aged daughters.

Young West had graduated June 9 from Rochester High School. He and three friends had taken a ride to Flint "on the spur of the moment," one of them said.

A third man held in the slaying, Clinton Harris, 21, was cleared by the jury.

★ ★ ★

The jury deliberated nearly eight hours before bringing in the split verdict. Circuit Judge W. Baker set Nov. 28 as sentencing date for Housley and Brown.

PTA Planning Smorgasbord at Ortonville

ORTONVILLE — The Brandon Schools Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a smorgasbord dinner Saturday in the school cafeteria.

Slated to begin at 5 p.m., serving will continue until all are served. Proceeds will go toward the Brandon Township landscaping program.

★ ★ ★

The PTA regular meeting Monday at 8 p.m. will be "Back-to-School Night."

Parents will follow the same schedules as their children in the classrooms at all schools. A short business meeting will follow in the auditorium.

School Board Airs Carver Problems

The Oak Park Board of Education will meet today with the Oakland County Board of Education to discuss the problem of what to do with students in Royal Oak Township's Carver School District.

★ ★ ★

With all indications pointing to the dissolving of the Negro school district later this month, the question is what part of the Carver district will be annexed to surrounding school districts.

The Oak Park Board has maintained a position that it doesn't have the needed facilities to handle Carver students.

The board appealed for a complete study of the Carver situation and asked to be included in any such study "to safeguard the financial and other interests of the community and school system."

★ ★ ★

Last week, residents of Oak Park filed petitions supporting a policy of not accepting nonresident students.

Today's meeting will be held at the County Board of Education Offices, 1025 N. Telegraph Road, at 5 p.m.

Dr. William J. Emerson, county superintendent of schools, said today that no move could be made on the Carver District until after Oct. 26.

"That is the date of the school board election in Royal Oak Township," he explained. "After the old board resigned, no nominating petitions were filed to fill the vacancies.

"But this doesn't mean we can drop the election. It must be held under state law. If five new members are not elected, then the county board may move to officially dissolve the school district," Emerson said.

★ ★ ★

Carver School District has no high school. It sent ninth grade students to Detroit schools on a tuition basis until this semester when Detroit refused the Carver students because of crowded classrooms.

Both at North Pointe Plaza

Set 2 Area Store Openings

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The first two stores to be completed in the big $3 million North Pointe Plaza shopping center near Clarkston will be open for business Nov. 9, according to developers.

Of Early American design, the $130,000 A&P supermarket and a modern drug store are two of the proposed six units to be constructed on the corner of Dixie Highway and M15. All six are scheduled to open this year.

Leases have been signed by owners of a shoe store, and a hair stylist will open a beauty salon in the plaza, according to negotiators William Paul and William Cushman of the North Pointe Realty Co.

The Clarkston Realty Co. is also handling a portion of the lease contracts.

The two firms are negotiating for leases with several national chain and variety stores, Paul said. He added that three more stores will be ready for occupancy by mid-December.

Also included in the over-all plan are a motel, a service station and a restaurant on the 20-acre shopping center site.

Already under construction is a blacktopped parking area in front of the stores, which eventually will accomodate more than 2,000 automobiles.

Paul said that developers chose the present pie-shaped site for a shopping center primarily because it is strategically located to serve residents living in Holly, Ortonville, Davisburg, Waterford and Independence Township.

★ ★ ★

Further information on the grand opening of the two stores nearing completion will be released in the near future, Paul concluded.

Lapeer County Teachers to Hear Two Authors

Teachers in Region 10, composed of Genesee and Lapeer counties, are scheduled to hear two authors at their institute Oct. 20-21.

★ ★ ★

Speakers at the general meetings will be Dr. Carl C. Byers, Cleveland author-lecturer, and Nila Magidoff, Russian-born author and humorist and heroine of the top-selling novel "Nila."

The institute will be conducted for some 4,000 teachers in the two-county area. It is sponsored by the Michigan Education Association.

★ ★ ★

The annual conference of the Michigan Association of Junior Colleges will be held at Flint Community Junior College the same day as the regional institute.

To Fete Anniversary at Avondale Church

AUBURN HEIGHTS—The Toney Brothers Quartet of Detroit will be featured in a two-day 4th anniversary celebration at Avondale Baptist Church, 2155 Auburn Road.

The quartet will appear Saturday at 7 p.m. services conducted by the Rev. William Goodwin.

A women's trio from First Baptist Church of Pontiac will sing at 11 a.m. services Sunday.

Slides showing progress of the church will be followed by a singspiration and fellowship hour at 7 p.m. Sunday.

Elmwood Church to Air World Mission Plans

AVON TOWNSHIP — The proposed world mission program for the coming year will be presented at the Elmwood Methodist Church's congregational dinner meeting at 6:29 p.m. Tuesday.

Wanda Hammond of 2860 Crooks Road, publicity chairman, asked those who attend to bring their own dishes for the pot luck dinner.

Commerce Methodists to Banquet Saturday

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — The Commerce Methodist Church annual fall banquet will be Saturday at 6:30 p.m. at the church.

Proceeds will be used to tile the church floor.

Anniversary Dance Scheduled for Saturday

The South Oakland Branch of Transatlantic Brides and Parents Association will hold an anniversary dance at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Oddfellows' Hall, Goulson at John R. roads, Hazel Park.

Music will be furnished by the Toni Rossi orchestra of Detroit.

Mrs. Jack E. Grenzenbach of Clawson has charge of arrangements.

The dance is open to the public as well as TBPA members and their friends.

Big Beaver Methodists to Observe Homecoming

TROY — Big Beaver Methodist Church will hold homecoming services Sunday including morning worship at both 9 and 11.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Albert Hartog, pastor, will preach at both services.

Church School will be at 10 a.m. A cooperative dinner will be served at 1 p.m. Guest speaker at the 2 p.m. service will be Maurice Cole of Ferndale.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bernard Haag, Mrs. Harold Samel and Mrs. Florence Carpenter are directing arrangements.

Carpenter PTA to Meet

ORION TOWNSHIP — Members of the Carpenter School Parent-Teacher Association will hear Mrs. Wilma Cage, first grade teacher, discuss teaching methods at their 8 p.m. meeting Tuesday.

AP Photofax

I'M FOR YOU — Shirley Temple has a smile and a handshake for Vice President Richard Nixon Wednesday as he visits the NBC studio in Burbank, Calif., where she is rehearsing her television show. She assured the presidential nominee during a chat that she is making numerous telephone calls urging people to vote for him. Later Nixon dropped by the set of "77 Sunset Strip" in Hollywood where he quipped about his profile with the actors.

Sees Little Difference

History Professor Knocks Both Presidential Runners

By BOB CONSIDINE

NEW YORK—In his determined pro-Kennedy tract, "Kennedy or Nixon: Does It Make Any Difference?", published by the MacMillan Company, Harvard history Prof. Arthur Schlesinger Jr. writes that there is some justification for the feeling in many quarters that there is scant difference between the two presidential candidates.

★ ★ ★

They are "cool cats," "packaged," "junior executives on the make, political status seekers, end-products of the age of public relations."

"There can be no question 'too that the superficial resemblance between the two men gives this indictment an initial plausibility," Schlesinger goes on.

"Most conspicuously, Kennedy and Nixon represent the bid of the post war generation to take over the American government.

BOTH IN WAR

"Both came of age in the 1930's. Both fought in the Second World War.

"Both entered politics during the presidency of Harry S. Truman. Both showed themselves smooth, ambitious and tough.

"Both dared aspire to an office held by a man who was nearly a quarter of a century old before the older of the two was born.

"Both callously shoved aside an entire interviewing generation—the men born between 1890 and 1913—in their determined pursuit of the presidential prize.

★ ★ ★

"The sight of these brash young men knocking with such confidence on the door of the White House comes as a natural shock to a nation—indeed, to a world—used to government by the elders."

Woman Starves —Wouldn't Rent Room for Living

DETROIT (UPI) — A 55-year-old Detroit woman who was too proud to rent out the second floor of her home died apparently of starvation Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Police said the report of the death of Mrs. Irene G. Turner was turned in by her son, Richard C. Turner, 30, who lived with his mother in a home she owned in the heart of Detroit.

Turner told police his mother had not eaten in two months and he had lived on bread and water during that period.

He said he had not held a steady job since 1954 and had not held a job of any kind since 1956. After he lost his last job, Turner said, he obtained welfare aid but was dropped from the rolls last year because his mother refused to rent out the second floor of their home.

★ ★ ★

Turner said he obtained money for his bread by selling pop bottles he gathered in alleys. He said he spent most of his time caring for his mother, who was ill.

Singer-Announcer Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Basil Ruysdael, 72, who gave up opera stardom for careers as a leading radio announcer and actor, died Tuesday of complications following surgery. He was once a leading basso at New York's Metropolitan Opera House but quit in 1918 for a career on the New York stage. Later he was announcer for the Hit Parade and Jack Benny radio shows.

In Form of Inspection Blanks

Blazes Battled With Paper

In conjunction with stress on Fire Prevention Week which ends Saturday, Waterford Township firemen are distributing home inspection blanks to residents in an effort to determine sources of fire hazards.

Firemen are attending civic meetings and those of Parent-Teacher Associations, and social clubs in the township, presenting talks on the importance of fire prevention. They also are asking residents to return completed the inspection blanks to the fire department as soon as possible.

"There are many people who have said they had never thought to check certain areas in their homes," Fire Chief Elmer Fangboner said.

* * *

Among the more unusual fire causes on the list are leaky fuel oil lines, fuses of the wrong size and frayed or broken cords on home appliances. Stairways and hallways should be kept free of storage in order to offer easy access in an emergency, the blank says.

The blank also suggests that parents conduct regular fire drills, showing children the best and fastest way to get out of a burning home.

If escape is cut off, parents should explain what should be done until help arrives, the blank says.

* * *

"We believe that this inspection will help reduce loss by fire in Waterford Township, and may possibly save a life that might have been taken by fire," Fangboner said.

All the bake goods on sale are donated to the league by friends of the organization.

* * *

Proceeds from the sale are used for league activities. Last year the group raised $117 from the one-day sale.

Surprise, Nancy! Mother and Dad Have Arrived

LANSING (UP) — Miss Nancy Ann Fleming saw her parents here Wednesday for the first time since she won the "Miss America" title in Atlantic City, N. J., last month.

* * *

The 18-year-old dark-haired beauty saw her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fleming, of Montague, on her first visit to her home state since she was awarded the national beauty-talent title.

The Flemings paid a surprise visit to their daughter in Lansing, where she was taking part in a kickoff celebration for the Community Chest fund drive.

Northern Awaits Invasion of Waterford Tomorrow

Stengel Won Gamble by Starting Ford After Only 3 Days

Yank Pitcher Usually Given Four-Day Rest

Yankees Poured It On in Their Three Series Victories

PITTSBURGH (AP)— Manager Casey Stengel made the big gamble and it paid off.

He pitched Whitey Ford with only three days rest in the sixth game of the World Series and the New York Yankees won 12-0, pulling even with the Pittsburgh Pirates at three games all.

Usually Ford, a tiny, stubby southpaw almost 32-years old, gets at least four days rest. Bob Turley, winner of the second game of the series, was ready to go and he had five days rest.

* * *

As in the case of the other lopsided Yankee victories (10-0, 16-3) it was a game without a turning point. The Yankees just poured it on.

The scoring started in the second inning when Yogi Berra drew a base on balls, advanced to third on Bill Skowron's single to right, and after Elston Howard had been hit on the right hand, filling the bases, Berra came home on Whitey Ford's twisting tap to the mound that Bob Friend could not field in time.

The third was the big inning for the Yankees. Tony Kubek got on base when Friend also hit him, went to third on Roger Maris' double to right, and both runners scored on Mickey Mantle's single to center. Then Berra singled to center sending Mantle to third from where he scored on Bill Skowron's fly to right.

John Blanchard, who came in to catch when Howard had to leave the game with a broken bone in his hand, singled to center and both runners scored on Bobby Richardson's booming triple to left field.

That was the blow that gave Richardson 11 runs batted in, the most any slugger has ever made in Series competition. The five runs were the high water mark of the Yankee offensive.

In the sixth, Cletis Boyer opened with a triple to right and scored on Kubek's single. Kubek went to third on Maris' single and scored on Berra's single.

The Yankees added two more in the seventh when Blanchard opened up with a double to center and scored on Richardson's triple. This boosted Bobby's RBI total to 12, two over the old record held by Yogi Berra and Hal Kluszewski. Richardson came home on Whitey Ford's bunt.

The scoring was concluded in the eighth. Mantle got to first on a fielder's choice, took second on a wild pitch and came home on Berra's third under-the-arm throw brought home the 12th run on the game.

The Pirates used six pitchers in a vain effort to stem the Yankee tide. Bob Friend left the game in the third for Tom Cheney. Wilmer Mizell came in at the start of the Yankee fourth and Fred Green at the start of the sixth. Three successive hits by Boyer, Kubek, and Maris brought Clem Labine to the mound. George Witt took over in the ninth. No Pirate pitcher ever came to bat. Pinch hitters were used on all three opportunities.

Only one Pirate reached third —Hal Smith in the fifth inning and that was after a double play. Ford struck out pinch hitter Rocky Nelson to end the inning.

Many of the 38,580 paying customers, after watching the Yankees manhandle Pittsburgh pitching for the third time in the series yesterday, found it hard to understand how the Pirates were able to win three games from the American League champs.

In the six games played, the Yankees have amassed series record totals of 78 hits and 46 runs. That's an average of 13 hits and 7.4 runs per game. Compared to the Pirates average 8.1 hits and 2.5 runs per game. The Yankees have outhomered the Pirates eight to one, have outscored them by 29 runs and have the only two shutouts pitched. Yet the Pirates could win the championship by taking today's game.

Pittsburgh outfielder Roberto Clemente, whose English sometimes is difficult to understand, probably explained the strange situation best.

"When we no have the good pitching, we fall apart," he said after yesterday's debacle. "We look like Minor League club today but tomorrow Law is pitching and (Elroy) Face is in bullpen. We win."

That's the way it's been. Law has won two: Face has saved three.

Ace Pitcher Last Buc Hope

Time for Pirate 'Law' Again

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Vernon Law, the Pittsburgh Pirates' ace pitcher, believes he will be able to go nine innings today against the powerful New York Yankees in the seventh and final game of the 1960 World Series.

But he declined to predict the outcome of the finale.

"I don't see why I can't go nine innings," the tall Mormon preacher said. "Sure my ankle bothers me some, but not as much as it did."

Law sprained his right ankle Sept. 25 at Milwaukee when he fell while taking a shower during celebration of the clinching of the National League pennant, first for the Pirates in 33 years.

Law, who ended the regular 1960 campaign with a 20-9 log, said he did not experience any particular difficulty against the Yankees in his first two starts, both of which he won with relief help from little Elroy Face.

He said he felt he could have gone all the way had it not been for his ankle bothering him, and noted in the fourth game Sunday that "I was really pitching on only one leg."

A newsman pointed out that Roger Maris, Yankee rightfielder, collected three hits off Law in the first game, one of them a homer. The Idaho native acknowledged this, but said "anyone can get hot in one game and then cool off the next."

* * *

Law said Bill (Moose) Skowron, New York first baseman, had hit several good balls off him but they all were to right field. "I guess if I would have to select anyone who troubles me, it would have to be Skowron," the Pirate pitcher said.

Law said he did not plan to change his pitching style. "After all, it takes some hitters as long as two or three seasons to correct their weaknesses and I am sure the Yankees haven't changed much since the series started," he added.

* * *

In two World Series games, Law has pitched 13 1-3 innings and allowed four runs, all earned. He has struck out eight and walked only two to post two of the three Pirate victories. Harvey Haddix won the other Monday with relief help from Face.

Law was reminded that the Yankees, who have slaughtered the Pirates in three games, will be out to get him today.

* * *

But he shrugged his shoulders and said, "the Yankees don't scare us any, we are going to show up and try hard to beat them."

TODAY'S THE DAY — Unsmiling Danny Murtaugh, Pirate manager, listens to New York Yankee manager Casey Stengel who tells him, "We ain't dead, that's what I told you." That was no joke. The Yanks were hardly dead as they pounded out 17 hits to win 12-0 yesterday. "Well, we've still got Law," Murtaugh said quietly.

Pontiac Press Photos

FRIDAY RIVALS — Waterford and Pontiac Northern meet for the second time on the gridiron Friday night at Wisner Stadium and if the first meeting at Waterford last year is any indication of what will happen as the rivalry grows, tomorrow's contest should be a real scrap. Bob Nestor (above) one of Waterford's top linemen will be troublesome for speedy Northern backs. John Erkkila and Al Lawrence are regulars in the PNH line.

Local Rivals Clash in Big League Battle

Wisner Stadium Foes Rated as Even Going Into Game

By CHUCK ABAIR

A game expected to be among the outstanding battles of the 1960 area prep football season is on tap for Wisner Stadium tomorrow night at 8 when Pontiac Northern entertains the Waterford Skippers.

The big local battle shapes up as a tossup from every standpoint. The Huskies should get a boost with the return of head coach Ed Heikkinen to the sidelines. The popular boss man missed last week's contest when he was felled by back and leg ailments.

Each school will take a 2-2 season record and 1-1 Inter-Lakes slate into the tilt which could determine the eventual league runnerup with Walled Lake expected to all the way now.

PNH has beaten Lake Orion and Farmington and bowed to Hazel Park and Walled Lake. Waterford took a beating at Walled Lake last week after successive victories over Lapeer and Southfield. The other defeat was to Pontiac Central opening night.

* * *

Northern has packed the better scoring punch with 51 points featuring a high of 25 to 32 for the Skippers whose best total has been 12.

Coach Freeman's charges have been tougher on defense allowing 47 points as compared to 60 given up by the Red and White.

Waterford has been working to make its defense stronger this week. Freeman plans to make more changes Friday in hopes of keeping some of the key offensive boys fresher. Northern has only five boys going both ways.

PNH will have the advantage on speed but the Skippers can counter with better size, especially in the line.

Both teams should go into the affair in good physical condition. Starting Waterford end Tom McArthur is favoring an injury suffered in practice Wednesday and Dick Shipman, starting linebacker and No. 2 quarterback, has a cold, head but is expected to play. Likely to be missing for Northern is halfback Rick Fisher with a severe cold.

The Pontiac coaches shouldn't need to do much talking to fire up their boys with revenge another angle. Waterford won the 1st meeting of the schools 13-7 last fall. Fullback Dave Moczarski and fullback Chris Payne each scored 12 points at Farmington to take the PNH scoring lead. Four other Huskies have tallied touchdowns. Moczarski, Payne, Bruce Norton and Mike Merwin or Bill Young will start in the backfield.

Meadows Wins Class B Award

Nicholie Hurler Named 'Most Valuable Player' in City for 1960

Although he pitched for a losing team, Pontiac's Greg Meadows has been named the Class B City Baseball League's Most Valuable Player for 1960.

As winner of the annual Class B award, Meadows will receive The Pontiac Press MVP Trophy. This was Meadows' 3rd season in the "B" league.

Meadows, who lives at 224 E. Rundell, hurled for the Don Nicholie team this year in the four-team "B" loop, Don Nicholie finished in last place, but Meadows was rated the circuit's outstanding performer.

Meadows' sterling record included almost all of Nicholie's wins and when he wasn't on the mound, he proved his versatility by playing either 1st base or outfield.

On the hill he has an excellent assortment of pitches. "He throws a little bit of everything," said Nicholie manager Carroll Orr. He throws and bats right-handed and is a strong hitter with a handful of home runs to his credit.

Meadows, who turns 24 in January, is employed by Seaman Manufacturing Company. A native of this city, Meadows attended Pontiac Central High School and Pontiac Business Institute and served four years in the radar branch of the U.S. Air Force.

STOPS DOUBLE PLAY—Gino Cimoli of the Pittsburgh Pirates slides into second base and effectively breaks up a double play attempt by New York second baseman Bobby Richardson. Cimoli gives him the "get out of my way" treatment. The Yanks didn't get out of Pittsburgh's way to the World Series, they won, 12-0.

Claims Kluszewski

Bucs Pitching Wrong to Bob Richardson

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—The Pittsburgh Pirates are pitching Bobby Richardson all wrong!

Who says so?

Big Ted Kluszewski, who held the old World Series record of 10 runs batted in jointly with Yogi Berra until yesterday when Richardson cracked the mark by boosting his rbi total to 12 for the current series.

Don't get the idea Kid's comments are sour grapes from a guy who isn't built that way.

* * *

"More power to Richardson," said the burly Chicago White Sox first baseman, who is doing post-game television commentary on the series here. "Records are made to be broken and I think the little guy is making one helluva showing.

"But I'm really surprised at the way the Pirates are pitching him. They're keeping the ball up on him and in Chicago we never pitch him high.

"That homer he hit with the bases full in the third game was on a high fast ball that was in on him. And both those triples he hit yesterday were on high fast balls.

"We keep the ball down on him and away. Instead of fast balls, we throw him breaking balls."

Kluszewski pointed out that the surprising New York Yankee second baseman has been "the most natural hitter," as far as swinging at the ball is concerned, in the entire series.

"In a way that's not so hard to understand," Klu said. "The big names like Roger Maris, Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra and Bill Skowron get all the publicity and try their hardest to live up to it.

"But a little guy like Richardson, who hit only one homer all season, doesn't get much advance publicity and therefore is more likely to play his normal game.

"Look back at some of the past World Series heroes and you'll find that to be true in many cases. Remember that great series Gerry Coleman had when no one expected it of him? And how about Billy Martin? Larry Sherry, who beat us in last year's series, was in the same category."

Kluszewski, who gained his greatest fame with Cincinnati but was with Pittsburgh in 1958 and part of 1959 before coming to the White Sox, tied two records in last year's World Series against the Dodgers.

His total of 10 rbi's tied the mark Berra had set in the 1956 World Series and Klu equalled another series record when he drove in five runs in one game.

Richardson, who batted only .252 during the regular American League season, has smashed both those marks.

Wins Walking Crown

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — John Allen, an Olympic team member from Buffalo, N.Y., won his second national 25-kilometer walking championship Wednesday. Allen, 32, covered the course in 2:03:28.3, beating his nearest competitor by almost a half mile.

Rabaja Honored at Dinner

Wins Pike Baseball Award

Two baseball awards were presented to Rabaja, who was better known for his basketball prowess at Pontiac Central High School where he helped the Chiefs win two straight Saginaw Valley titles.

The Billy C. Pike Memorial Trophy, a traveling award, was presented to the 5-foot-7 Rabaja to signify his selection as the City Baseball League's Most Valuable Player in 1960.

Moments earlier, he received The Pontiac Press Trophy, also honoring him as the City League's MVP this year.

Rabaja is the 15th winner of the Pike award, named in honor of the late Billy Pike, a City League baseball star and MVP recipient in the early 1940s who lost his life in France during World War II. The annual trophy presentation began soon after the war ended.

Rabaja graduated from PCH last June and is now a freshman at Hillsdale College. He landed a berth on The Pontiac Press All-Oakland County basketball team last March.

Another honored guest at last night's dinner was Pontiac's Hayes Jones of Eastern Michigan University and 1960 Olympic track fame.

The local hurdles star, who won a bronze medal in the Rome Games, discussed the Olympics in an informal question-and-answer session. Jones is now living in Ypsilanti and working in Ann Arbor.

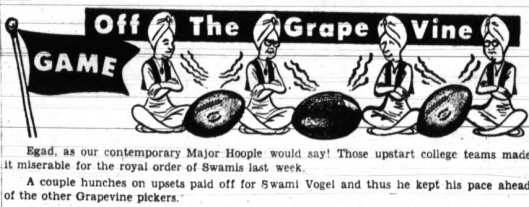
Pontiac Table Tennis Group Starts Today

The Pontiac Table Tennis Association will start the 1960-61 season with a meeting tonight at 8:00 p.m. in the Pontiac Central girls' gym.

Anyone interested in playing with a team in the league is invited to attend an organizational meeting prior to the regular league gathering.

There are 11 teams entered in the league this season including Capitol Barber, Nutrilite, L. H. Cole, Seaman Mfg., Superior Ambulance, Fox Cleaners, Dorris & Son, Frostop Drive Inn, A&W and Kuhn Auto Wash.

Off The Grape Vine



Egad, as our contemporary Major Hoople would say! Those upstart college teams made it miserable for the royal order of Swamis last week.

A couple hunches on upsets paid off for Swami Vogel and thus he kept his pace ahead of the other Grapevine pickers.

The big local game this week has Pontiac Northern and Waterford scrapping at Wisner Stadium and the swamis are broken in two divisions as to which will be the winner.

Well, this might be the week for the tallenders to move up, Hrmmph!

Eagles Haven't Quite Found Themselves, Coach Says

AL Application Filed by Texans

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—The Dallas-Fort Worth baseball club has filed an application for membership in the American League with Del Webb, chairman of the expansion committee.

This was announced Wednesday by Amon Carter Jr. of Fort Worth, co-owner of the American Association franchise here with J. W. Bateson of Dallas.

★ ★ ★

"We have filed the application and were delighted to do so," said Carter. "This is American League territory. Our people prefer its brand of baseball and its kind of operation, and so we were happy to make application for membership. I believe we are as far advanced as anyone in the effort to gain big league membership.

'Bruiser' Wrestles Here

Dick "The Bruiser," hero of wrestling fans will make his first appearance in the area Friday night at Pontiac Central High School gym.

Bruiser will defend his heavyweight championship against Cowboy Bob Ellis in the main event of three bouts on the card.

Ellis, the idol of teenagers, is the only one ever to beat the Bruiser on television.

The two have been bitter foes in the TV series.

In another bout, Luis Martinez will tangle with Jim "Brute" Bernard, and the third bout will pit Dick "Mr. Michigan" against Bulldog Brower.

The program is being sponsored by the VFW Post 1370 and tickets can be obtained in advance at Griff's Grill.

They're Lions' Next Foe Sunday at Philadelphia

Winless Detroit Lost 40-10 NFL Exhibition Game to Philly

DETROIT (AP) — The Philadelphia Eagles have won two of their first three games of the National Football League season, and the way coach Buck Shaw is talking, things might even get better.

The Eagles' coach was not overly pleased with his team's 27-25 victory over the new Dallas club, nor the 31-27 victory over St. Louis. Philadelphia will be the Detroit Lions' opponent Sunday.

"We just haven't found ourselves," Shaw complained. "Our quarterback hasn't quite been himself but he'll be all right in a game or two, I'm sure."

Shaw's appraisal of quarterback Norm Van Brocklin does not cheer the Lions, who saw the Dutchman complete 13 of 20 passes against them in a preseason game. The Eagles won that game 40-10.

★ ★ ★

Van Brocklin has great receivers in Tommy McDonald, Pete Retzlaff and Bobby Walston: McDonald grabbed seven passes in the exhibition game and the Lions are not noted for a particularly strong pass defense.

The Eagles' loss was inflicted by Cleveland by a 41-24 score and that should not be disturbing since it is the general consensus that a lot of football teams will lose to the Browns.

The Lions can note that most everyone seems to be able to score against the Eagles.

Shaw said, "We've had our troubles on defense, but we're working hard on improving that this week."

The Lions have scored only one touchdown in two games and an impotent ground attack is one of the main reasons. Detroit runners have averaged only 2.9 yards per carry in 58 attempts. The Lions' total ground gain in two games is 166 yards—a figure most solid clubs surpass in a single Sunday.

Coach George Wilson promises to "open up" his offense against the Eagles in Philadelphia. (The game will be televised and broadcast back to Michigan.) He is hopeful, too, that linebacker Joe Schmidt will get back into action. The all-pro linebacker has been out since Sept. 11 with a shoulder separation.

State Colleges to Play Key League Grid Games

By United Press International

Northern Michigan gets the early jump on the rest of Michigan's small college football teams again this weekend when it squares off against St. Norbert tomorrow night at Marquette.

The Wildcats, the only team to dump powerful Hillsdale so far this season, will be looking for their fourth win in five starts.

The other schools roll into action on Saturday and one of the headline attractions will pit the state's two entries in the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference—Central Michigan and Eastern Michigan—against each other.

Central is picked as a decisive favorite on the basis of its overwhelming 50-0 drubbing of Illinois State last week. Eastern, on the other hand, is winless in four outings.

The state's three unbeaten and untied teams will be out to keep their perfect records intact Saturday.

Ferris Institute, which has racked up 138 points to its opponents' 13, will go after its fifth win against Indiana Central while Michigan Tech will also be searching for victory No. 5 when it journeys to St. Cloud (Minn.).

Albion, a top contender for the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association title, will try to extend its record to 4-0 when it tangles with Adrian in a MIAA tuneup for next week's showdown battle against Hillsdale.

Marlin McKeever Lineman of Week

★ ★ ★

"Maybe we should have left him along more than we did."

Butts referred to All-America end Marlin McKeever and his performance last week which highlighted Southern California's 10-3 victory over the Bulldogs.

★ ★ ★

The outcome was the selection today of 230-pound Marlin as The Associated Press "Lineman of the Week."

Northwestern Worries Bump Elliott

Wildcats Have Been Difficult for Wolverines

'M' Gridders Seek 1st Big 10 Win Saturday at Ann Arbor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Hardly anyone except coach Bump Elliott and his staff of professional worry-warts seems particularly concerned about Michigan's chances of whipping Northwestern on Saturday.

Wolverine followers, bearing in mind the sparkling performances in the first three games, have reason to suppose that Michigan can cope with the Wildcats without getting too badly scratched.

But Elliott and his aides have equal—if not greater—justification for being more cautious than usal, if that's possible.

"Northwestern hasn't won any Big Ten games but neither have we," Elliott pointed out, "and they're always one of our most troublesome opponents. A look at the record tells that."

* * *

Elliott and backfield coach Hank Fonde were members of the 1946 Michigan team that was lucky to salvage a 14-14 tie against an underdog Northwestern team.

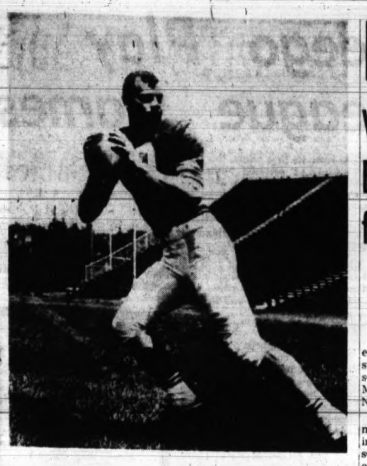
Line coach Bob Hollway and freshman coach Don Dufek recall their first experience at being members of a losing college team.

That was in 1949, when Michigan was spilled after winning 25 straight. The winner? Northwestern, 21-20.

The Wildcats, victors over Michigan the last two years, have precedence for taking three in a row. It happened in the early 1930s—before most of the current squad members were born—but it happened.

Add the fact that Northwestern beat Oklohama, which is not the achievement it once was but is nevertheless note worthy. It lost to Iowa and Minnesota, two of the highly regarded teams of the Big Ten.

Don't forget, also, that the Wildcats still are led by Dick Thornton, the man who engineered that ghastly 55-24 trouncing two years ago, and whom U-M athletic director Fritz Crisler has called "the finest player in the conference."



AP Photofax

WILDCAT RETURNS — University of Michigan will have to face a tough Wildcat Saturday afternoon at Ann Arbor when Dick Thornton, Northwestern's quarterback gets back into action after being on the injured list for three weeks. Both teams will be after their first Big Ten victory.

Syracuse Offense Slips

NEW YORK (AP) — For the first time in a full year defending champion Syracuse hasn't a single first place in any of the various major college football offensive departments.

The Orange swept three of the four principal offensive titles last year, but figures released today by the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau show the best this season is a fourth place in rushing.

Unheralded and unbeaten Utah State took over as the No. 1 ground-gainer last Saturday, rushing 501 yards against Idaho as Syracuse was restricted to 195 yards on the ground by Holy Cross.

Utah State also advanced to second place in total offense, which is led by New Mexico State's average of 422.5 yards a game.

On consecutive weekends Utah State has rushed for 501 and 467 yards respectively in winning its third and fourth games in a row.

The first six rushing teams are among the 19 major unbeaten, untied teams. Four other teams are unbeaten, but have been tied.

Four of the unbeaten teams meet this week. Iowa will match its third-ranked rushing game against the No. 2 passing team, Wisconsin; Air Force plays Navy, and Arkansas meets Texas. Alabama and Tennessee, each once tied, also tangle.

Duffy Wants TDs in Every Quarter

EAST LANSING (AP) — Second half comebacks give the customers a thrill. But they give the coaches a pain — especially when the team doesn't come back strong enough to win.

So a scoring punch in every period is being preached in the Michigan State football camp this week.

Against Pittsburgh, a 7-7 tie, both MSU and the Panthers were held to a single score in the second period.

* * *

Michigan led 17-14 at halftime of the traditional game with Michigan State. The Spartans had to put on a razzle-dazzle second half display for their 24-17 happy ending.

Iowa dominated last Saturday's game here 14-0 at the half. Two touchdown drives of more than 80 yards gave MSU a 15-14 advantage. But two late Iowa touchdowns added up to a 27-15 victory for the Hawkeyes.

Duffy Daugherty has been winning in double figures from the Irish in recent years and wants to continue the tradition. The last four MSU wins were by 21-7, 47-14, 34-6 and 19-0 scores.

As added insurance for the Notre Dame game, defensive quarterback Ike Grimsley has been rehearsing some offensive plays. Grimsley has been working mostly on the belly series with the option of handoff, run or pass.

* * *

The idea is to have a little more depth behind Tommy Wilson, who has been carrying the quarterback load almost alone on the offense.

It's Taylor of Packers

New NFL Rushing Leader

By The Associated Press

For one week, anyway, Jimmy Brown of the Cleveland Browns won't be the National Football League's rushing leader. That honor belongs, temporarily, to Jim Taylor of the Green Bay Packers.

With Brown and the Browns idle last week, Taylor moved into first place in the ball carrying department with 281 yards on 63 carries in three games. Brown is second with 240 yards on 43 carries in two games.

Cleveland, Detroit and Washington have played only two games each while the other 10 teams have played three apiece.

Taylor also leads in scoring with 30 points followed by teammate Paul Hornung, 29, and Bob Walston of Philadelphia, 28.

* * *

Baltimore's Johnny Unitas has moved past Pittsburgh's Bobby Layne into first place in passing. The new formula for judging the passing leaders includes number of completions, yards gained, touchdown passes, percent completed, per cent intercepted, and average gain in yards. The best performance in each category is the criterion.

* * *

Unitas has completed 47 of 93 for 755 yards, tossed six TD passes, has a 50.5 completion percentage, a 5.4 interception percentage, and an average gain of 8.12.

Hoople Gets Assist for Big Grid Picks

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Football's Foremost Forecaster

Jove, what a wonderful surprise is in store this week for the faithful followers of the Hoople System!

Always one to encourage the youth of our great nation, I've invited my precocious nephew Leander to join me in preparing this week's forecast.

Lest there be any misconceptions, dear readers, let me hasten to explain that L.O.S.E. deciphered is Leander's Oscillating Scientific Elective System. His plan measures the variations in the driving force of the offense as contrasted to the immovability of the defensive eleven, etc.

Indeed, Leander tells me that a perusal of one of his earlier work sheets reveals an L.O.S.E. prediction of a 51-19 Purdue rout of Notre Dame. Egad, that was the exact score. (Ed Note: There's a lot of Hoople in him.)

So, with an assist from Leander, here are my choices in Saturday's games. You'll note there is a liberal sprinkling of upsets among them. Three of these are UCLA over Washington, Kentucky to topple Louisiana State and Wisconsin to humble Iowa.

Go on with the forecast:

Rochester, Keego Play Big League Games

Rochester and West Bloomfield could take big steps toward league championships by winning key games tomorrow night.

The same is true of Walled Lake but the Vikings are not likely to be pushed very hard.

Rochester, defending Tri-County champion, entertains strong Roseville at Homecoming in a battle of unbeatens. Each is 1-0 in the league and 4-0 for the season.

"We are hoping to bring them a Homecoming present," said Roseville skipper Bill Sherman thinking otherwise.

It should be quite a battle of fullbacks as 190-pound Dan Lickert, back from an injury, duels Ron McCleese who goes 215.

Romeo is host to Lapeer in what should be another tight Tri-County affair.

West Bloomfield has been sailing along and won surprisingly easy at Brighton last week but the Lakers will be guest of Northville — an annual jinx. The Mustangs did not look capable of defending their Wayne-Oakland title but have been improving rapidly since. The absence of injured lineman Jim Lucadam could make a difference for West Bloomfield.

Other loop games will have Clarkston at Brighton, Holly visiting Clarenceville and Bloomfield Hills at Milford.

Walled Lake should make it five straight, three in the Inter-Lakes, at home against Berkley. Southfield is guest of Farmington in the afternoon.

In the Eastern Michigan, Birmingham Seaholm is a definite underdog at Ferndale. Hazel Park expects to keep rolling against East Detroit and Port Huron plays Mt. Clemens.

Lake Orion will likely keep title hopes alive with a triumph at Clawson as Avondale meets Oak Park and Troy vs. Madison in the Oakland B.

It will be Imlay City at Oxford and North Branch trying again to score its first points, this time against powerful Millington. Southern Thumb action will have Capac at Anchor Bay in an anticipated battle royal, New Haven at Almont, Dryden vs. Brown City and Memphis at Armada.

Emmanuel Christian makes its home debut tomorrow at 3:30 p.m. at Isaac Crary Junior High in Waterford against Whitmore Lake. The Lancers are 0-4 and their opponents 1-3.

* * *

Madison Lamphere puts its perfect record on the line at Huron in the afternoon. South Lyon goes to Lutheran West, Country Day visits Harper Woods, Utica and Warren Lincoln tangle, Royal Oak Dondero hosts Grosse Pointe, Ortonville tries to keep winning against Montrose, Royal Oak Kimball and Ftizgerald clash, L'Anse Creuse plays Cherry Hill and Birmingham Groves entertains Dearborn Haston in other Friday play.

Powerful Cranbrook returns to action Saturday in a home afternoon affair against University School.

* * *

Sunday, St. Frederick is home again against St. James, St. Michael goes to St. Rita, Orchard Lake St. Mary hosts St. Benedict, RO St. Mary meets St. Clements, Shrine is at St. Anthony and Farmington Our Lady vs. Wayne St. Mary.

Chicago Takes Lead in NHL

Hawks Blank Leafs for Third Straight, Led by Hull

The Chicago Black Hawks were in first place in the National Hockey League today, thanks to Glenn Hall's shutout goal tending and the power of Bobby Hull, the league's defending scoring champion.

The Black Hawks blanked the winless Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday night 3-0 for their third straight victory. They have one tie on their record—a 1-1 affair with the New York Rangers in Chicago's opening game.

Hall made 25 saves as Hull got one goal—his fifth in four games—and two assists. Dollard St. Laurent and Murray Balfour made the other goals. Toronto goalie Johnny Bower made 49 saves.

The Hawks hold a one-point lead over the defending champion Montreal Canadiens, who edged out the New York Rangers Tuesday night. The Canadiens have scored 13 goals to 11 for the Hawks, but only five goals have been scored against Chicago to seven against Montreal.

Toronto, with three losses and a tie, has scored five goals in its four games, and has permitted 16.

Pontiac Press Photo

PLAY AT HOME — Finally playing at home after four road tilts tomorrow at 3:30 will be the Emmanuel Christian led by 210-pound center Randy Leach and quarterback Bruce Yuille. Yuille has scored two TDs and passed for a pair. The Lancers host Whitmore Lake at Isaac Crary Jr. High.

Olympic Games Attract 1,050,000 to Italy

Calbi Bowls 2999 to Take Huron Lead

Calbi Music Company climbed to the top of the heap in the Huron Bowl Classic by firing a 2999 to overwhelm Oakland Mill Supply's 2670. Three of the Musicmen topped 600 with Lee Putti, Ron Rothbarth and George Chicovsky posting sets of 636, 633 and 602.

Mel Eller Builders slipped back a notch into second place as they dropped one game to Stroh's Beer. Auburn Lanes managed only one from Montcalm Centre and fell to third as Montcalm's Odie Miller featured a 623.

Paul George helped Sylvan Center best Pfeiffer's Beer in a pair ah he hit 618.

Best single series of the year was hung up by Oakland Coin's Bill Bull as he blazed 248-235-302-685 and led his team to a sweep over Felice Quality Market. Monroe Moore had 609 for Felice in a losing cause.

Buck McDonald's 256 was the high single effort of the night.

Saginaw Must Stop McCauley to Beat Chiefs

By BILL CORNWELL

A lean and hungry Saginaw High football squad faces a man-sized task Friday night when the Trojans clash with Pontiac Central in a Saginaw Valley Conference game at Saginaw.

The assignment is a real "tough-ie" and no one knows it better than coach Jim Blenkhorn and his Trojan warriors. It's a job that none of Central's three previous foes has been able to do.

What is the assignment? Put a stopper on Dick McCauley, Pontiac's flashy halfback who has been reeling off yards this fall almost faster than an adding machine can tabulate them.

McCauley, rapidly developing into one of the state's finest runners, has accumulated yardage at an almost astronomical rate during the Chiefs' first three games.

The classy 170-pound senior ball carrier has a three-game average of nine yards per carry. He has lugged the pigskin 51 times for a total of 463 yards.

A 5-foot-9 speedster who spins and slides off would-be tacklers with apparent ease, McCauley is the kingpin of the PCH attack which has rushed for 914 yards.

McCauley has a deceptive change of pace and his style of running enables him to follow his blockers extremely well and pick his spots for the best possible yardage.

In the Chiefs' 13-6 triumph over Waterford, McCauley carried the ball 20 times for 144 yards. Against Wyandotte he toted the leather 11 times for 146 yards in a 47-0 win and in last week's 20-20 tie at Arthur Hill, he rushed 20 times for 173 yards.

He also does the team's punting and is even dangerous from that spot as the Hillites learned last Friday.

On a 4th-and-4 situation, McCauley was unable to punt due to a bad pass from center. Apparently hemmed in by four onrushing Arthur Hill linemen, McCauley broke away from all of them and gained 11 yards for a first down.

If another blocker had been available at the right time, he would have gone all the way for a touchdown. He is Oakland County's 3rd leading scorer so far this season with six TDs for 36 points.

The Chiefs will be gunning for their 1st league triumph of the year against the unpredictable Saginaw outfit tomorrow evening. Coach Paul Dellerba's PCH team is a slight favorite.

Saginaw took a 34-6 lacing from Flint Northern a week ago in its Valley opener. Prior to that, the Trojans whipped Alpena, tied Bay City Handy and lost to Midland for an over-all 1-2-1 record.

McCauley, at this moment an outstanding candidate for All-Valley and All-State honors, is not the only speedster the Trojans must stop Friday.

If they concentrate too heavily on McCauley, they may find fleet-footed Roy Couser or Andy Roach prancing across the goal line.

Tomorrow's kickoff hour is 8 p.m.

Bay City Central, Michigan's 2nd-ranked Class A team, plays host to Arthur Hill in this week's only other league contest. The Wolves are heavy favorites.

The Flint schools play non-loop games this weekend. Flint Central meets city rival Flint Southwestern Friday and Flint Northern battles Muskegon Saturday, both at Flint's Atwood Stadium.

Lusky Is Titans' Hope

U-D Underdog at Boston

DETROIT (UPI)—The University of Detroit, fired up by the passing and running heroics of quarterback Bob Lusky, will be in an underdog role when it travels to Boston College Saturday.

The Eagles are rated as one of the toughest foes on the Titan schedule despite their misleading 1-3 record. BC's losses came at the hands of Navy, Army and Marquette and the least defeat was by one point.

Detroit coach Mim Miller refers to the Boston College team as "the strongest physically we'll probably play until Michigan State."

The Titans, after dropping the season opener to Iowa State, will be gunning for their third win in a row. Their chances for an upset primarily depend on Lusky, the team's number one troubleshooter.

Lusky passed Detroit to its first victory two weeks ago over Xavier and then came back last week and put on a one-man show to lead the club to a 14-0 win over Cincinnati.

Against the Bearcats, Lusky connected on 10 out of 22 passes for 74 yards and befuddled the Cincinnati defense by running for 102 more yards in 17 carries.

A doubtful starter against BC is end Larry Vargo, one of Lusky's favorite passing targets. Vargo suffered a hairline fracture of the arm last week and, for a while, it looked as if he wouldn't even make the trip this weekend.

But the injury is healing fast and it is now believed that he will see action against the Eagles.

Conservatives Back Nuclear Deterrent

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) — The ruling Conservative Party Wednesday overwhelmingly supported Britain's independent nuclear deterrent and called for a stronger North Atlantic Alliance.

This decision was taken by a party conference which suggested that London's ties with Washington, Paris, Bonn and other Western capitals be even closer than they are now.

With only one dissenting vote out of 4,000, the conference endorsed the basic defense and diplomatic policies of Prime Minister Harold MacMillan's conservative Government.

* * *

The delegates emphatically dissociated themselves from the "ban the bomb" movement — an emotion-laden campaign aimed at getting Britain to give up its own atomic and hydrogen weapons.

Advocates of nuclear disarmament won their point in the Labor Party conference held in the same Scarborough Hall last week. But they made no impact at all on the Conservatives.

Italian Students Riot Over S. Tyrol Dispute

ROME (AP) — Italian students tried to storm the Austrian Consulate Wednesday as relations between the two neighboring countries sagged to a postwar low over the South Tyrol dispute at the United Nations.

In headlines and political speeches, Italians called Austrians Nazis. Austrians called Italians Fascists. Italy has controlled the South Tyrol since World War I, and the Austrians claim its German-speaking inhabitants are being deprived of their rights by Italy.

* * *

Austrians staged anti-Italian demonstrations in Innsbruck and other cities of the Austrian Tyrol during the weekend. Italian students, egged on by remnants of the Mussolini Fascists, demonstrated here for the third successive day against Austria.

Mom Can Keep Attic Children

3 Had Been Indoors for 11 Years; Children's Aid Society Drops Fight

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A four-month legal cattle for custody of two of the underdeveloped Dickerson children is being dropped by the Children's Aid Society.

The society decided to ask Family Court that the whole matter be dropped and that the children be allowed to live with their mother Mrs. Shirley Dickerson Leach of neighboring Tecumseh.

★ ★ ★

The surprise move, coming after a series of firm maneuvers by the society to gain custody, is likely to write finis to the remarkable Dickerson case which achieved worldwide publicity.

On July 28, 15-year-old Gordon Dickerson, one of Mrs. Leach's six children by a previous marriage, crept out of the family home in Tecumseh and went to a neighbor's house.

The story he told to neighbors and to reporters was that he and his two sisters, Glenda, 13, and Connie, 18, had been kept confined indoors for 11 years, mostly in the home attic.

In her defense, Mrs. Dickerson said the three children had been hidden because of the difficulty of obtaining a home with so many children, and that the trio had been kept there after housing became easier because they were not normally developed and would be laughed at.

★ ★ ★

"We feel conditions have improved," said Jack Bevan, society director, Wednesday, "and that it is in the children's interests they be at home. We are dropping our claim for custody."

A member of Bevan's staff has been assigned to inspect the home regularly and insure certain conditions are met.

New Operating Technique

Isolates Surgeon and Incision

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An operating room which contains only the patient's incision and the surgeon's tools is ready for trial as a means of preventing infection of surgical wounds.

The operating surgeon and his assistants are outside the room. They work through the wall of a transparent plastic balloon.

The balloon wall has indentations shaped like jackets, helmets and arm-length gloves. The surgeon and his helpers fit into these indentations. This allows them to be close to the patient but isolated by the transparent balloon wall. The arm-length gloves constituting a part of the balloon wall permit the surgical team to handle the instruments.

Sterile air is pumped to the incision area, keeping the balloon inflated. The bottom of the balloon is glued to the area of the patient's body where the incision is to be made.

In wielding the scalpel the surgeon cuts through the balloon where it is glued to the patient. The incision thus exposes the target area without breaking the isolation of the wound. The balloon is discarded after the operation.

This new facility was produced at Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington, D.C. It was described in a paper before the American College of Surgeons today by one of its developers, Dr. Stanley M. Levenson. Associated with him in the work here Dr. Ole J. Malm, Dr. Richard E. Horowitz, Dr. William H. Moncrief Jr., and P. C. Trexler.

Dr. Levenson said the new setup is to keep operative wounds free from infection. In ordinary operating conditions the air of the room and even the breath of the surgical team may contain infectious organisms which often gain a foothold despite precautions.

Ailing Winchell to Miss His Sunday TV Show

NEW YORK, (AP) — Walter Winchell, suffering from a cold and abscessed tooth, will miss his ABC-TV show Sunday night, the network said Wednesday.

Substituting for him will be columnists Hy Gardner, Sheila Graham and Irv Kupcinet and Comedian Jack E. Leonard.

The network said Winchell would be back on the following Sunday's program.

Wheat-Planting Time in State

Sowing and Plowing Keep Michigan Farmers Busy These Days

LANSING (AP)—Fall-plowing and planting of winter wheat were the major Michigan farm activities reported during the past week.

More than 90 per cent of the probable winter wheat acreage has been plowed, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said.

Soil moisture was reported short in some southwestern, southeastern and scattered northern counties. Winter wheat was coming up well even in these areas.

About 10 per cent of the field corn was reported immature in Central and Northern Michigan at the time of the Oct. 1 killing frost. Southernmost counties still had no killing frost reported.

Filling silos with corn was general throughout the state and farmers in southern counties started picking corn last week.

Digging potatoes was a major activity in many areas. The Upper Peninsula crop was reported especially good this year.

Field bean combining was nearing completion with about 90 per cent of the acreage in.

The soybean harvest was 65 per cent completed in Southeastern Michigan but only around 15 per cent of the acreage was harvested in other areas.

About 15 per cent of the sugar beet harvest was completed with the sugar content reported high.

The harvesting of such fall vegetables as cabbages, carrots and cauliflower was progressing well and nearing completion in many areas.

Furniture Prices Lower

Did you know that your dollar stretches farther in buying furniture than in any other major item in your family budget? The Latex Foam Rubber Council reports that furniture prices have increased only 6.9 points in the past decade, while food prices have gained 18.3 points and housing has soared 29.2 points since 1949.

Featuring more glass and better ventilation, the F-700 has a heavy duty 302 cubic inch V-8, now standard with this model.

Hail Rockford Shoe Firm for State Product of Year

A firm whose advertising is handled by McManus, John & Adams, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills yesterday received the tributes of industrial executives and state leaders.

The Wolverine Shoe and Tanning Corp. of Rockford was awarded a plaque at a luncheon in Rockford for Michigan's Product of the Year for 1960.

Gov. Williams issued a citation congratulating Wolverine on its outstanding growth and faith in Michigan.

By mayors' proclamations, yesterday was "Wolverine Hush Puppies Day" in six cities where Wolverine plants are located.

The company, with main offices and tannery in Rockford, has factories in Howard City, Reed City, Greenville, Big Rapids and Ithaca.

Dan Gerber, president of Greater Michigan, Inc., the sponsor of Michigan Week, presented the plaque to Adolph Krause, company president.

Other speakers included Merritt D. Hill, Ford Motor Co. vice president and general manager of the Tractor and Implement Division in Troy.

Announcement of a $200,000 expansion program by Wolverine added steam to the salute.

The firm's expansion plans include adding 30 per cent to its warehousing space at its Rockford headquarters and increasing manufacturing space at Big Rapids and Ithaca plant.

Grains and Soybeans Trade in Tight Range

Soybeans, the most active commodity on the board of trade in recent weeks, encountered scattered selling at the opening, with a large elevator export house the principal seller. There was some commission house buying on reating orders on the scale down.

In wheat, there was an absence of the commercial buying that has given the market its main support lately. Prices at first declined minor fractions on a small amount of selling. The only export business sighted was 13,500 tons of red wheat bought by Israel for late October-November shipment.

Mart Undecided in Calm Trading

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved unevenly in quiet trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .20 to 207.80 with the industrials up .40 and both the utilities and rails unchanged.

Changes of most key stocks were quite small, only a sprinkling going as much as a point or so.

Decision of the government space agency to help private companies send up satellites brought some attention to this group. Some of the aircraft-missiles also responded mildly.

Steels, airlines, tobaccos and autos showed a slightly higher trend on balance. Oils and chemicals edged off. Nonferrous metals changed very little.

The opening was fairly active, then dealings tapered off to the slowest rate of the week.

★ ★ ★

Polaroid rebounded another 4 points or so from recent losses. General Instrument and Zenith were up about 2 and Litton advanced more than a point.

A big 14,700-share block of Interstate Department Stores changed hands at 45, up ¾.

The list had no particular impetus and, some analysts said, appeared to lie in a consolidation phase again.

Western Pacific pushed its gain close to a point and Southern Pacific was fractionally higher on news of its proposed merger but dealings were very quiet in each

DEBATE CONTROL — Karen Hemingway, an employe of ABC, poses Wednesday at the Los Angeles control panel which will be used for tonight's Richard Nixon-John Kennedy debate. Nixon and the people who ask the questions will be in separate studios in Los Angeles, while Kennedy will be in New York. The lever and control box pointed out by Miss Hemingway will control the split-image telecasting when images of Nixon and Kennedy will appear side by side on the nation's television screens.

Vivid Portrayals Give Sharp View of Eichmann

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — "It was as if Adolf Hitler had been found alive."

The words helped set the stage for a terrifying portrait of one of Adolf Eichmann, presented Wednesday night as the first of the new season for CBS-TV's Circle Theater."

Dale Wasserman's "Engineer of Death: The Eichmann Story," traced the Nazi butcher's career from its perverted beginnings to the present, in which Eichmann awaits trial after being captured by Israeli agents last May.

The hour was surprisingly comprehensive. It told its story in gripping, effective fashion, although the clinical approach served to squeeze out the dramatic impact that a story of this sort might have.

The production made good use of film clips, sharp and dramatic vignettes, and, of course, the calm voice of Douglas Edwards filling in the story with an objectively framed narration.

The meaty playing by the actors served to add flavor to the otherwise unmoving recitation by Edwards. Misguided passion and twisted values came forth through the skills of the players.

Frederick Rolf, as Eichmann, was excellent. At first, as Eichmann-the-nobody, Rolf conveyed the character of a weak, cowardly, disturbed, pathetic creature. But once his anti-Jewish zeal began attracting the attention of the Nazi leaders, Eichmann, in Rolf's portrayal, took on frightening authority, a sick, perverted veneer.

While the script generally pulled no punches in dealing with its villain, I felt that some characterizations of high-ranking Nazis who worked with Eichmann endeavored to show that Eichmann and his fanaticism were regarded as oddball.

My reading of history leads me to believe that Eichmann had more willing accomplices than this play gave him credit for.

Still, it was an impressive production. Paul Bogart's direction was a big help.

Sid Caesar turned up as Perry Como's guest star on NBC-TV last night and contributed a timely sketch that centered around the pitfalls a candidate can encounter in a televised "Great Debate."

Caesar, of course, blew the election with his remarks. Speaking about balancing the budget, he said, "I tend to be more unbalanced than my opponent." The sketch made use of a familiar set and format but most of the humor was nonpolitical.

The accident-prone, confused and hungry buffoon is a staple of so many of Sid's sketches and this one fell a little flat because it didn't scale that groove.

It was, however, of proper length. The highlight of Como's show, I felt, was the marching dance performed by the Hugh Lamperi dancers.

THE CHANNEL SWIM: "The Westerner," a new NBC-TV series that made its debut last month, will vacate its Friday time slot next Jan. 6 in order to make room for a new situation comedy starring Nanette Fabray and Wendell Corey. "The Westerner," unless ratings warrant rescheduling, will go into syndication.

Zsa Zsa Gabor makes a guest appearance, in the role of a Hungarian actress, on CBS-TV's "Danny Thomas Show" for Monday, Oct. 31.

Yogi Bear, a favorite on the popular "Huckleberry Hound" cartoon series, is getting his own half-hour series, to be prepared by Hanna - Barbera productions. Wacko, a wolf, will step into the vacancy in the "H.H." series.

Alistair Cooke, replacing Joseph N. Welch as host of "The Hour of Great Mysteries" series on NBC-TV, will pay tribute to the late lawyer-actor during a portion of next Tuesday's production.

Whiteside's Care Goes to Jury Today

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Federal Judge Alexander Holtzoff was expected to send the conspiracy case of Miami attorney Thurman A. Whiteside to a District Court jury today.

* * *

Holtzoff indicated he would spend 1½ hours this morning charging the jury.

His charge was scheduled to follow final summations by both the government and the defense.

Whiteside was accused of conspiring with former Federal Communications Commissioner Richard A. Mack to award television channel 10 to Public Service Television, Inc.

Warns Warner to Cast Preston in 'Music Man'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I discovered something scandalous—and maybe you'll agree.

We've constantly been led to believe that when "The Music Man" is made in Hollywood, the lead will go to the great talent, Robert Preston, who made it such a colossal hit on Broadway.

WILSON

Now it turns out that Warner Bros. hasn't quite "definitely decided" who'll play the lead.

After hearing this rumor, I encountered Jack Warner, the frustrated comedian, in El Morocco. First I asked him, "How are you?"

"Like the bottom of a stove—grate!" he said.

Then I asked him about the rumor and he said "the casting is still up in the air." He added it might not be decided until January.

* * *

Rumors are around that some slightly bigger box office names might also be considered. Well, I claim that to snatch this part away from this fine gentleman and magnificent talent, Robert Preston, would be a monstrous treachery. I warn Jack Warner that if he tries it, he'll have hundreds of thousands beside me against his picture before it even rolls!

KATHY

The inside story about Bing Crosby "standing up" Bob Hope and other chums and failing to return from Europe to see his Pittsburgh Pirates in the World Series was that "there's been a transformation in Bing since his marriage to Kathy Grant."

"He's a very, very happy man," Phil Harris tells me.

"He loves to learn things—he knows a good bit about art—he's probably buying some pictures."

His business adviser George Rosenberg says: "This is their delayed honeymoon. Besides, Bing's always thought of himself as a jinx to the Pirates when he watched them."

And Phil Harris also remarked: "You know how Bing always refused to get up and sing in clubs or at parties? Well, he's so happy now, if you don't ask him, he asks you."

EARL'S PEARLS: Interviewer Jack Lescoulie asked baseball broadcaster Joe Garagiola if Mickey Mantle could hit the ball out of any park in the country, and Joe said, "Yeah—including Yellowstone."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The Republicans claim we need a man who can talk back to the Russians. A Broadwayite says he's met a thousand cab drivers who'll do that.

* * *

WISH I'D SAID THAT: The honeymoon's over when you stop bragging about her cooking and she starts bragging about yours.

Jack Dempsey was at the Blue Angel, and comic Jack E. Leonard snapped, "I won't tell you folks how old Dempsey is, but he injured his shoulder backing out of a covered wagon." That's earl, brother.

Police Series Makes Comeback, Is Better Than in 1958 Season

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—A good, taut police action series, "Naked City," dropped out of the television lineup after the 1958 season. It made a comeback on ABC Wednesday night, expanded to an hour, and better than ever.

* * *

The first episode was about a rogue cop pulling off a box office holdup in a fight arena. It was fast moving, exciting and well acted. Much of the show was filmed in New York City locations.

* * *

There was violence—a lot of it—but not a gun was fired nor a blow struck merely for violence's sake. The story developed logically as police officers focused their attention on one of their own, Paul Burke and Horace McMahon are the regulars. It was a good show, up to the standards of "The Untouchables."

I'd like to make as glowing a report on NBC's new "Peter Loves Mary," but honesty forbids it. It is one of those quasi-biographical situation comedies and it lured Peter Lind Hayes and Mary Healy, a talented and charming couple, into the treacherous mine fields of the series.

* * *

Maybe subsequent shows will improve and the first episode was merely an effort to get the situation and the characters established in the viewers minds if not their hearts.

It's probably too late to help the current crop of politicians and their TV make-up problems, but a New York manufacturer has come up with a special make-up table with a built-in television monitor so that performers can preview themselves while they are still close to their cosmetics boxes. And it only costs $1,650, complete.

Oysters rank as the most valuable product of American fisheries. Salmon come second, menhaden third, cod fourth, and halibut in fifth place.

Local Radio Station to Air K Interview

The three-hour "Open End" interview of Nikita Khrushchev by television producer-director David Susskind, originally telecast Sunday, will be broadcast in full by radio station WPON tonight at 7:30 p.m.

Susskind keeps up a continual barrage of questions in the marathon, no-holds-barred session.

The interview will follow the radio broadcast of the third Nixon-Kennedy debate which will begin at 6:30 p.m.

A Golden Chariot Procession and mock battle between St. George and the dragon is staged in Mons, Belgium, on Trinity Sunday in May.

Algerian Leader Ends Visit to Red Countries

Abbas was quoted by the Communist party organ Nepszabadsag as saying that the sympathy manifested during his recent trips to the Soviet Union and China "was a sure pledge of victory" for the Algeria Nationalist cause.

NYC Seeks Additional 1.2 Million Registrants

NEW YORK (UPI)—An intensive registration campaign with a goal of another 1.2 million persons is on in New York City to add to the 2,558,775 voters already registered.

Democratic, Republican and Liberal party leaders participated in the drive which opened Monday night and concludes Saturday night. If the goal is met, the total of registered voters will surpass the 1944 record of 3,556,377 by more than 200,000.

U.N. Ready to Debate Colonialism

Red Satellites to Be Added to Nations Eyed

U.S. Move Lets Steam From K's Sails; Guinea Pal Raps Nik's Uproar

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly set the stage today for full debate on colonialism by accepting a Soviet resolution on freeing all colonial areas. It was certain, however, that countries under Soviet domination also would be discussed.

The vote was unanimous by acclamation.

Unveiling U.S. strategy, delegate Francis O. Wilcox suddenly announced to the assembly that the United States supported a Soviet proposal to debate in the full assembly a proposal to grant immediate independence to all colonial and dependent territories.

Premier Khrushchev immediately took the floor to say he welcomed the U.S. decision, but he promptly accused the Americans of plotting to "wiggle out" of any definitive result on the issue.

The U.S. move obviously deprived the Soviet resolution of much of its propaganda steam, by arraying Americans with new African and other underdeveloped countries against the idea of colonialism.

Wilcox announced the stand after one of the Soviet Union's closest supporters in Africa, the president of Guinea, chided the Communists for their demonstrations last night which broke up a U.N. discussion of colonialism in wild disorder.

Khrushchev quickly took the floor under the right of reply and expressed pleasure at U.S. decision. But he accused the United States of plotting to "wiggle its way out" of the colonial question by seeking later to water the resolution down into something innocuous.

★ ★ ★

Khrushchev, speaking off the cuff, resumed a denunciation of "colonialists." He suggested they needed "good brain-washing" from society to change their attitudes.

ACCEPTS HAND

Khrushchev indicated that the United States, by its acceptance of the colonial question, had extended a hand to him.

"I accept this hand, I shake it. I clasp it," Khrushchev said.

The session began with a spontaneous tribute to president Frederick H. Boland, who abruptly and angrily ended the SHOELESS NIK—Soviet Premier Khrushchev has placed one of his shoes on the desk in front of him ready to use it to pound away in displeasure at the United Nations Wednesday. The volatile Communist boss spread disorder through the assembly and President Frederick H. Boland of Ireland broke his gavel trying to keep order before he adjourned the chaotic session. Seated next to him is Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

U.S. OKs All but 3 Miles of County Freeway

Southern Terminus of Interstate 75 Held Up as Troy Route Passes

All but three miles of Interstate 75—the extension of the Walter P. Chrysler north - south freeway through Oakland County—has been approved by the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, the State Highway Department announced today.

Troy commissioners had hassled for months over the proposed route slicing through residential property.

★ ★ ★

Only the southern terminus of the four-lane divided road, or that section from Eight Mile Road to 11 Mile Road, is yet to be approved by the federal agency.

It will be included in Commissioner John C. Mackie's next five-year highway building program to be announced next month.

The road will run from Eight Mile Road along the present Stephenson Highway (M150), parallel Opdyke Road along the east edge of Pontiac, then head in a northwesterly direction to the Oakland-Genesee County line.

★ ★ ★

It will be part of the Chrysler Expressway connecting Detroit with the Upper Peninsula.

Mackie said the bureau's latest approval gives assurance that the federal government will pay 90 per cent of the road's cost.

State and local governments split the rest.

Contracts for the first section of the road from Walton Boulevard to M15 north of Clarkston will be let Dec. 7.

MISSILE HOPS OVER THE MOON — The tail flame of a mouse-carrying Atlas missile fired early today makes it seem that the shot was aimed at the moon. Actually, the missile took three mice on a 700-mile-high radiation ride which ended, as intended, in the Atlantic Ocean 5,000 miles down the missile range.

Unsure Whether the 3 Squeakers Survived Test

Sally, Amy and Moe Rocketed 5,000 Miles to Study Radiation

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Three mice named Sally, Amy and Moe rocketed 700 miles into space today and the Atlas nose cone they rode in was recovered from the Atlantic, 5,000 miles away.

It was not known immediately whether the mice survived.

The Air Force announced the Atlas successfully delivered the 1½-ton cone to an intended impact area north of Ascension Island. The announcement said the ocean range vessel Coastal Crusader fished the cone from the sea.

It reported the condition of the three mice will not be determined until a representative of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division and of the School of Aviation Medicine opens the life cell.

The representatives were on the recovery ship, but there was no indication how long it would be before they would open the chamber containing the mice.

The black mice made the radiation ride in a miniature model of a man-in-space cabin. The experiment, which took the small travelers into the dangerous Van Allen radiation belt at speeds up to 18,000 miles an hour, was another step toward manned-space travel.

The 12-foot tall cone also carried a group of radiation study instruments.

EMPHASIZED PERFORMANCE

The Air Force emphasized the main purposes of the flight were to test the new cone and general performance of the Convair-made missile. The mice and other experiments were placed aboard because there was extra room in the area of the cone which in wartime could be occupied by a nuclear warhead.

This was the third test for the cone, designated RVX-2A. The previous two sank after successful Atlas flights because of failure of recovery gear.

All three mice are 12 weeks old. They rode in separate compartments in a 16-inch long, 6-inch diameter cylinder which was airtight to give the tiny passengers a self-contained, sealed environment.

Nixon, Kennedy Split by Nation for Debate

By The Associated Press

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Sen. John F. Kennedy clash again tonight—a continent apart—in their third television-radio debate on presidential campaign issues.

The split-screen, hour-long transcontinental show will find the GOP standard bearer in an American Broadcasting Co. Hollywood studio and the Democratic aspirant, Kennedy, in an ABC studio in New York City.

The candidates will appear in identical TV studio settings. A combination podium and desk will allow each man to stand or sit as he chooses.

Studio lighting will be duplicated at each end of the network, and both candidates have been asked to wear the same shade of attire.

ABC, assigning more than 20 technicians to the program, calls it the most complicated telecast in TV history.

The man chosen to coordinate the debate is Marshal Diskin, whose regular job is director of the Saturday night fights for the ABC network.

In the two previous debates the candidates have faced each other in the same studio. The first was handled by CBS from Chicago, the second by NBC in Washington.

Irish Temper Prevents Assembly Free-for-All

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—An Irishman's temper very likely stopped a roughhouse Russian from turning the 99-nation General Assembly into a free-for-all fist fight.

Frederick H. Boland ended a Communist display of pyrotechnics with such an angry blow on his desk Wednesday night that it broke the head of his gavel.

First unofficial item of business for today at the Assembly is getting Boland a new gavel. Wags said he might send home to Ireland for a shillelagh as a replacement.

In a voice he obviously struggled to keep calm, the gray-haired General Assembly president snapped out:

"I am sure the assembly will see that in view of the scene we have just witnessed the appropriate step is that the assembly should be adjourned at once and it is hereby adjourned."

The astounding action cut off a flow of Communist abuse and vituperation that had brought the air in the blue and gold assembly chamber — designed to foster calm deliberations — to white heat.

More than one delegate said in the lounge afterward that if the ruddy - faced Irishman had not called a halt the General Assembly probably would have witnessed its first fist fights.

Khrushchev started it all and he heads for home tonight leaving a vast deposit of ill will that will need months or years to soothe — if it ever can be done.

Where delegates once called each other "distinguished representatives," even in the bitterest East-West fights, Khrushchev introduced a new era of name-calling.

JERK!, STOOGE!

Wednesday he referred to Sen. Lorenzo Sumulong of the Philippines in a word that was variously interpreted as "jerk," "lackey" and "stooge."

He said it was ridiculous to

Third Blast Rocks NYC Injuring 34

NEW YORK (AP)—A home-made bomb exploded in a subway station beneath Times Square Wednesday, shattering train windows and knocking over dozens of victims.

At least 34 persons were injured, none seriously. It was the third device to explode in 11 days in the Times Square area.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

The blast, which also destroyed a metal clothing locker, was felt at street level and some windows rattled in adjacent buildings.

LOOK FOR YOUTHS

Witnesses said they saw two youths, their faces powder-blackened, race from the blast scene. Transit Authority Inspector Patrick J. Coughlin, 49, said he overheard one of the pair say "we got too close, I lost my hat" and the other reply "I lost my hat, too."

★

Two hats were found near the blast scene.

Two youths picked up for questioning shortly after the explosion were questioned and released.

In both previous bomb explosions, eyewitnesses told of two youths fleeing from the scene. Last Sunday, in Bryant Park adjacent to the Public Library at 42nd Street and Fifth Avenue, a bomb went off but no one was injured. The first blast on Sunday, Oct. 2, in which seven persons were injured, came from shrubbery in Duffy Square near the northern rim of Times Square.

★ ★ ★

Police have questioned all those injured in yesterday's explosion, and about 300 other witnesses, but say no lead has been developed.

Cuba Executes American Man

Young Adventurer and 12 Castro Countrymen Put to Death

HAVANA (AP)—A young American adventurer and 12 Cubans were executed today for plotting to overthrow Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

★ ★ ★

The American, first to be executed by the Castro regime, was Anthony Zarba of Somerville, Mass. He went before a firing squad in Santiago with seven Cuban companions. Havana radio stations reported five other Cubans were executed in Santa Clara.

Zarba and his companions had been convicted only hours before by a revolutionary military court of staging a Castro-style invasion to set up a guerrilla front in Cuba.

FIRST FROM U.S. KILLED

Zarba, 27, an adventurer who landed on the northeast coast of Cuba with a small party last week, was the first U. S. citizen to die before a Castro firing squad.

Another American, Alan Robert Nye of Whiting, Ind., was given a death sentence last year for plotting to kill Castro but the sentence was suspended and he was deported.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. Embassy appealed to Castro's government for a stay of execution and clemency for Zarba, but this apparently was ignored.

Miss America to Appear at County Grid Game

Although the Jaycees haven't lined up a single player for the 1961 County All-Star football game, because of the exigencies of time, two very important things already are established:

1. Miss America (Nancy Anne Fleming) will appear.

2. The date is Friday, Aug. 18.

Sheer luck played a part in signing Miss America. The gorgeous Michigan miss is in such wide demand that her schedule already runs into August.

She has a three-day commercial engagement ahead of the Pontiac game and leaves Saturday morning for another appearance.

★ ★ ★

She will be in Detroit next week in connection with the automobile show.

Both Bullpens Ready to Back 'Em

Turley, Law in Clincher

From Our Wire Services

PITTSBURGH — The managers of the Pittsburgh Pirates and New York Yankees have decided to throw the book at each other in the final game of the World Series today.

Both managers, Casey Stengel of the Yanks and Danny Murtaugh of the Pirates, named their starting pitchers but at the same time each listed the relieflers who would be ready if either starter should falter just slightly.

Bob Turley, who beat the Pirates in the second game, 10-0, took the mound for New York. Stafford, Bobby Schantz and Ralph Terry ready in the bullpen.

For Pittsburgh, the combination of Vern Law, the starter, and Elroy Face, the reliefer, has accounted for two wins against the Yanks.

BEAT YANKS TWICE

Law beat the Yankees in the opener, 6-4, with Face pitching the last two innings. Sunday he won again, 3-2, and Face was the effective fireman putting out the last eight Yanks in order.

"We've got to stay close," said Murtaugh, "so any pitcher on the team is liable to get called."

Whitey Ford, who pitched yesterday's 12-0 Yankee victory, revealed he worked most of the game with a blister on a finger on his pitching hand.

Ford, who pitched after only three days' rest, admitted he was tiring midway in the game, "But Stengel came out and told me to slow down. I did and that's when Mazeroski hit into the double play and then Rocky Nelson struck out."

★ ★ ★

"We were mahv-alus yesterday," said Stengel, "and I hope are just as mahv-alus today."

Pirate ace Bob Friend, knocked out yesterday for the second time in the Series, took the defeat badly.

"I thought I had good stuff and it makes me feel worse when they hit me like that than when I don't have anything.

"If Murtaugh needs me today, I'll be ready. I know I can pitch against the Yanks," he added, "and I have a little making up to do."

Another standing room crowd poured into Forbes Field early this morning with warm temperatures and partially cloudy skies.

Irishman Prevents U.N. Free-for-All

say the Colombian delegation represented the Colombian people.

He topped his earlier table pounding by taking off his made-in-Moscow shoe — twice — and waving it toward the rostrum behind which sat Boland.

★ ★ ★

The Irishman, who once before had considered Khrushchev remarks so offensive he ordered them struck from the record, held off until a Khrushchev puppet, Dr Ediard Mezincescu of Romania charged down the aisle and grabbed the rostrum.

The issue was "colonialism" and Mezincescu did not care for Western delegates referring to Romania as a Soviet colony.

He started attacking Boland directly — the chair had been almost inviolate until Khrushchev arrived 25 days ago — and implied the Irishman was being partial against the Communists.

★ ★ ★

"I hope the Irish people will . ." Mezincescu started to say in French. Those near him got the impression he said the Irish people should be ashamed of Boland.

Mezincescu insisted later he intended to end his interrupted sentence by saying "I hope the Irish people and any other people represented in this General Assembly enjoy the same freedom and independence as the peoples of Romania and other countries."

Either way, it was too much for Boland. He cut the switch on the public address system and brought the session to an end.

U.N. Asembly Sets Colonialism Debate

U.N. session last night. The Communists registered another show of derision when Khrushchev led them in thumping the desks.

A wave of applause swept the assembly hall as the assembly president mounted the rostrum to start deliberations interrupted last night amid the wildest scenes in the world body's history.

The session broke up in disorder after a series of Communist insults and repeated interruptions, highlighted by the astonishing spectacle of Khrushchev banging his desk with one of his shoes.

The Soviet premier was laughing and grinning as he pounded his desk as Boland appeared. Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko followed the premier's lead, also grinning.

Last night's chaos had raised some doubts whether Khrushchev would fly home to Moscow tonight, but he announced he has not changed his plans. Thus, he may be gone before the assembly comes to grips with one of his favorite topics—a charge that the United States committed aggression with spy flights over the U.S.S.R.

Boland, an Irishman, used a new gavel borrowed from the Security Council to open the day's session. He broke a gavel last night when he slammed it down to bring the tumultuous session to an ubrupt end.

More snow fell in West Yellowstone, about four inches, while snow showers flecked the northern Rockies and western Montana. Scattered showers sprinkled parts of the central and southern Plains, with the wet belt extending into the Upper Great Lakes region. Showers also were reported along the northwest coast.

Quemoy-Matsu Issue Has Military Upset

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Military leaders are concerned about the fast-mushrooming presidential campaign issue over whether the United States should defend the Chinese offshore islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

Some Pentagon officials go along with GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon's insistence that the Nationalist-occupied isles be held as symbols of freedom against any invasion by the mainland Communists.

Other military men back Democratic candidate John F. Kennedy's contention that the islands, only five or six miles off the mainland, are indefensible.

But most defense leaders agree that it would be bad for this country to get committed either way. Many military officials, especially Navy men, feel the only thing that has persuaded the Chinese Communists not to attack the islands so far is uncertainty about what the United States would do.

★ ★ ★

The Republicans poured new fuel on the blazing controversy today by quoting Adm. Arthur W. Radford (ret.), former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, as saying Kennedy's stand "could certainly start a war" if the Red Chinese believed it was U. S. policy.

★ ★ ★

"There are few places in the world that are not defensible if you put enough into it. Therefore, the statement that these islands cannot be defended is false," Radford was quoted as saying by the GOP congressional campaign committee's weekly newsletter.

The State Department, pulled into the political uproar Wednesday, denied that the United States is negotiating for the withdrawal of Nationalist Chinese troops from Quemoy and Matsu.

The department issued the denial after Kennedy and William Vanden Heuvel, a New York Democrat running for Congress, demanded to know whether such negotiations were in progress.

Nixon, Kennedy Split by Nation for Debate

from debating face-to-face this time.

The moderator will be ABC news commentator Bill Shadel.

Members of the panel will be Roscoe Drummond, New York Herald Tribune; Douglas S. Cater, "Reporter" magazine; Charles Van Fremd, Washington correspondent for CBS news; and Frank McGee, NBC news correspondent.

Shadel and the panelists will be in the West Coast studio.

The last of the four debates is set for Oct. 21.

But the three networks have offered TV time for a fifth debate the week before the Nov. 8 election.

Kennedy and Nixon have not as yet agreed on this proposal.

The third debate by the presidential candidates will be telecast via video tape over channels 2, 4, and 7 at 7:30 this evening. Radio stations WWJ, WXYZ, WJBK, WCAR and WPON will carry the action live at 6:30 p.m. WJR will rebroadcast the event at 9:30 p.m.

Seaplanes Seeking Aviator in Pacific

HONOLULU (AP) — Seaplanes from Midway, Kwajalein and Wake joined in the search today for a North Dakota long-distance flier who crashed into the Pacific three miles north of Wake Island.

Lt. Duane Stirling, 27, and Capt. Charles Finnegan, 30, Air National Guardsmen from Fargo, N.D., were attempting to fly non-stop in separate planes, from Oakland, Calif., to Manila. They were 14 miles past Wake Wednesday night when Stirling ran into trouble and was unable to gain altitude.

They turned back toward Wake but Stirling's plane crashed. Finnegan landed at Wake. The men had been flying 30 hours.

Water Accidents Fewer

Nixon Favors State Decision

Candidates Divided on Federal Aid to Private Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon favors letting the states decide whether parochial and other private schools should share in federal aid funds.

Sen. John F. Kennedy firmly opposes federal aid to private schools.

Those views of the presidential candidates, which aides said they had often expressed, are restated in replies to a questionnaire made public today by "Scholastic Teacher," a magazine for educators.

The issue took on new vigor in the election campaign this week after Henry Cabot Lodge, Nixon's vice-presidential running mate, said during a radio-TV interview that he favors extending federal aid to parochial schools.

NO COMMENT

Lodge's Democratic opponent, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, has declined comment on Lodge's stand. Lodge, like Nixon and Johnson, is a Protestant. Kennedy is a Roman Catholic.

Kennedy, in reply to a newsman's question, said he voted against federal aid to private and parochial schools. He said he is still against it.

Glenn L. Archer, executive director of Protestants and other Americans United for Separation of Church and State, said Lodge "made an unfortunate concession to political expediency when he supports use of public funds for construction of parochial schools and also for grants toward transportation and text-books for these institutions."

Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, said Lodge's proposal for federal aid to parochial schools "makes no sense."

McNamara Smiles; Bentley Serious

Senate Rivals in TV Clash

By The Associated Press

Sen. Patrick V. McNamara flashed his expansive smile and presented his arguments with ease while Rep. Alvin M. Bentley pressed his points in a serious, fast-paced manner as the rivals for the U.S. Senate debated mildly on television in Detroit Wednesday night.

The strongest clash came over using the social security program to extend medical help to the aged and over Congress' role in fighting the spread of communism.

Bentley, the Owosso Republican, indicated later he felt he scored at least once against his incumbent Democratic rival. Asked during the debate whether he could name an issue where he flatly disagreed with big business or industry, Bentley replied flatly, "Yes."

He said he had proposed an equal pricing bill affecting manufacturers which sell through their own outlets as well as to other retail customers. He said this was opposed by many big businesses. Bentley said, however, the bill failed because the Democratic Congress allowed him only two days for hearings.

★ ★ ★

When McNamara was asked whether there was any issue where he and organized labor disagreed, McNamara replied:

"Labor and the Democratic party are in general agreement." He went on to say "We (the Democratic party) represent everybody."

Asked whether he thought medical care for the aged should be linked to the social security program, Bentley replied:

"No, I am concerned about the growing costs being imposed upon the social security program."

He went on to say that employers must match the employes' social security tax payments and said these taxes, in order for management to maintain a profit margin, would have to be passed on to customers, resulting in more inflation. He said inflation hurts the old folk most.

Asked the same question, McNamara replied:

"I'm for increasing the social security payments one fourth of one per cent to provide a prepaid medical care plan.

"I'm astonished that my opponent is for the social security program. The Republicans have fought the program from the first and have fought attempts to improve it."

When McNamara was asked what specific steps he proposed to fight the spread of communism, he said he had always supported the administration's requests for funds for this, when they were well founded, but said "I think this is the responsibility of the administration.

"I don't think we've done too good a job in this administration," he added.

Bentley said he was astounded at his opponent's statement, saying that the constitution defines Congress' responsibility in the field of foreign affairs and foreign policy.

GOP 'Truth' Unit to Join Jack at Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A so-called Republican "truth squad" has made plans to visit Grand Rapids Friday, Kent County Republican leaders said, even before Sen. John F. Kennedy's departure.

The announcement said Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana, accompanied by Reps. Donald Jackson of California, Robert Michel of Illinois and William Widnall of New Jersey have scheduled a "facts meeting" and news conference at Kent County Republican headquarters.

Thomas Hood once said, "But evil is wrought by want of thought, as well as want of heart."

Air Force Takes a Little Word Out of Its Language

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force is taking the sex out of the language of its project engineers.

Until now postponed flights have been "aborted." When a scheduled test flight of the X15 was called off Wednesday, it was simply "canceled."

The place where the X15 is locked under the wing of its B52 mother ship has been called the "mating area." Henceforth, this will be the "servicing area."

Pontiac Gets Bypassed in Balloon Defense Test

The 1,500 balloons that floated up over Charlotte earlier this week might have ascended in Pontiac.

They would have, had the Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization (OCDM) accepted Pontiac's offer to be the guinea pig in the first national demonstration of a home warning system for civil defense.

Each balloon indicated that a Charlotte householder was responding to the buzzing of a National Emergency Alarm Repeater (NEAR), the home-warning system being developed for the OCDM by the Midwestern Research Institute.

On hearing the signal, the householder released a large, helium-filled balloon, tethered on a 150-foot cord.

The experiment was judged a success. In practice, the warnings would indicate a civil defense emergency.

The signal receivers are small, about the size of three packages of cigarettes. They are plugged into any conventional 110-volt outlet.

If a nationwide NEAR system were set up — and this is the OCDM's hope — the warning would be transmitted to America's homes over the OCDM system, via the North American Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs.

The NEAR receivers are not yet for sale, but OCDM officials said they would be manufactured, if the system is accepted nationally.

It was three years ago that Pontiac civil defense officials, sensing the need for a home warning system, volunteered the city for the NEAR experiment. Charlotte was picked instead.

"It has taken a long time for the system to be developed, longer than we expected," said Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager and deputy civil defense director.

"The city is very interested in NEAR, since sirens are not adequate for homes."

If the OCDM approves of NEAR, the city will follow suit, said Stierer.

Burglar Drops Loot Stolen at Golf Club

A burglar who broke into the Pine Lake Country Club professional's golf shop early today was forced to abandon his stolen wares when a Keego Harbor police officer arrived on the scene.

Patrolman Richard Aldrich spotted the burglar on the club grounds in West Bloomfield Township at 4 a.m. today. The man fled on foot across the golf course.

Nearby, the officer found a golf cart, safe, six transistor radios and $10 in change.

The intruder had entered the shop by forcing open a door.

The Day in Birmingham

Justice Black to Discuss Need for Con-Con Passage

BIRMINGHAM — Michigan Supreme Court Justice Eugene F. Black will be the guest speaker Monday at a joint meeting of the Birmingham and Bloomfield chapters of Citizens for Michigan.

The public meeting will be at the Bloomfield Hills High School at 8 p.m.

A member of the Michigan Supreme Court since 1955, Black, a proponent of con-con, will explain why he feels it is essential for Michigan voters to vote yes on the proposition.

TO ANSWER QUESTIONS

He will explain what will take place if Proposal 3 is approved, and answer any questions on the issue.

Justice Black will discuss, from a legal standpoint, the meaning of the proposal, and steps necessary before a new state constitution can become law.

Parents wishing to enroll their 3- to 5-year-olds in Baldwin Public Library's next series of preschool story hours are advised of one important change in procedure.

★ ★

Registration must be made only in person—not by phone—according to Mrs. Ann Burch of the staff of the Mary Lambie Room for boys and girls.

Registration opens Oct. 20, and the first story hour in the new six-week series will begin Oct. 25 at 10 a.m.

Families living in Birmingham or those holding nonresident cards may register their preschoolers for the series of 30-minute meetings.

Dr. David W. Wells, director of mathematics education for the Oakland County Board of Education, will be guest speaker tonight at the Hickory Grove Parent-Teacher Association meeting at the school.

He will explain new techniques used to make arithmetic more meaningful and interesting to the elementary grades.

School calendars with dates of all events in the Bloomfield Hills district will be available to all members. It starts at 8 p.m.

A representative of Smith, Kline and French Laboratories will discuss "Prescriptions For Tomorrow" at the Birmingham Senior Men's Club meeting tomorrow at Community House.

The discussion group will take up "What Happens When Welfare Goes the Limit?" This will be monitored by Earl Smith.

The school, which is conducting extensive research of biomedical problems of space flight, also provided monkeys Sam and Miss Sam for rocket flights several months ago.

Dr. H. C. Clamman, the school's director of space medicine, described the mouse-carrying cylinder as "a small forerunner of a model of a man-in-space capsule." It was half-filled with oxygen containers and electronic devices to simulate an earth-like environment which may be necessary for manned-space travel.

"This experiment is a step toward finding how to send human beings into space. It will help establish guidelines for the type of chamber we need to safely carry man into space," Clamman said.

HELP OR HINDRANCE? — Pretty Jacqueline Kennedy is one of the paradoxes in her husband's campaign for the presidency. She's pretty and chic, but critics charge that she spends too much for clothes. Kennedy's age, religion, education and family background are other dark horses that could either win or lose for him.

Kennedy's Key Attractions Also His Big Problems

By United Press International

If Sen. John F. Kennedy has paused during his campaign for the presidency to ponder his political assets and liabilities, he must have found the same entries recurring on both sides of the balance sheet.

Some voters evidently were attracted, and others repelled, by each of these ingredients in the Kennedy personality.

At 43, Kennedy is one of the youngest men ever to run for the nation's highest office. Some Americans felt that his youth would insure a fresh, dynamic approach to national problems. Others equated it with lack of experience.

He is the first Roman Catholic to be nominated for the presidency since 1928, and his religion has made him the target of bitter attacks from some quarters. But politicians said he would gain as well as lose votes because of his church affiliation.

The vast wealth and political prominence of the Boston Irish clan from which he sprang also seemed to help and hurt him at the same time.

On the one hand, his family background provided him with money and a great many attractive, hard-working relatives to assist with his campaigning. On the other hand, some voters resent his being the son of a multimillionaire — particularly when the multimillionaire happens to be Joseph P. Kennedy, a controversial political figure in his own right.

EDUCATION A FACTOR

Kennedy's cultured accent, his ability to quote easily from poetry and the classics, has been a constant reminder that he was a product of Choate and Harvard, a certified intellectual who had won critical acclaim with two scholarly books.

Again, these credentials have become in the minds of some voters a testimony to his brain power, while to others they make him suspect as an "egghead."

Even chic and beautiful Jacqueline Kennedy, who he married in 1953, became a campaign issue. There are those who think she would make the loveliest and most gracious first lady any nation could want. And there are those who say she spends too much for her clothes.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy brought into his campaign two other attributes which were undeniably assets.

One was courage. He demonstrated it in World War II when he was cited by the Navy for heroism in saving his crew after a PT boat under his command was sliced in two by a Japanese destroyer in the Pacific.

He demonstrated it on several notable occasions during his 13 years' service in Congress — for example, when he voted against a veterans' pension bill and criticized the American Legion for pushing it.

* * *

He also showed his courage during the six months he spent in hospitals in 1954 and 1955, risking death in extremely serious operations in order to correct a back injury that he had suffered in the war.

The other asset was political skill. Perhaps he inherited it from his grandfathers, both of whom were successful Boston politicians. Perhaps he learned it the hard way, in getting elected three times to the U.S. House of Representatives and twice to the Senate.

When Adlai E. Stevenson threw the vice presidential nomination up for grabs at the 1960 Democratic convention, Kennedy made a strong bid for it. Although he lost by a hair, he became overnight a well-known national figure.

* * *

He began campaigning for the 1960 Democratic presidential nomination almost as soon as the 1956 elections were over, and he had it sewed up, before the convention met in Los Angeles in July, by winning every primary he entered.

Both in his masterly, intuitive sense of politics, and in some of the other traits of his personality, Kennedy reminded some folks of the late Franklin D. Roosevelt. He gladly accepted this identification with FDR, and it has become one of the pronounced features of his campaign.

2 Hopefuls Youngest in 50 Years

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The next president of the United States will be the youngest in more than 50 years and will succeed the oldest man ever to hold that office.

Whether Sen. John F. Kennedy or Vice President Richard M. Nixon wins the election, the country will have the youngest President since the Administration of Theodore Roosevelt.

Kennedy, at 43, would be the youngest man ever elected President and the second youngest to hold the office. Nixon 47, would be the fourth youngest president.

As a newly elected vice president, he lacked 43 days of being 43 years old when he was catapulted into the presidency on Sept. 14, 1901, by the assassination of President McKinley.

If Kennedy wins the election, he would be more than nine months older than that—281 days to be exact—when the oath of office is administered next Jan. 20.

After finishing out McKinley's term, Roosevelt ran for a full four-year term of his own, and on Nov. 8, 1904, became the youngest man ever to be elected president. On election day he was 46 years and 12 days old.

Kennedy, if he wins the presidency, will knock more than two years off that record. He will be 43 years, five months and 10 days old when the votes are cast Nov. 8.

Kennedy was born May 29, 1917. Nixon was born Jan. 9, 1913. Counting the intervening Leap Year, there is a difference of four years, four months and 21 days in their ages.

Dwight D. Eisenhower was born Oct. 14, 1890. On Oct. 4 of this year he set a new record for age in the White House surpassing that set by Andrew Jackson 123 years ago.

Jackson was 11 days from 70 when he stepped down from the presidency March 4, 1837.

The oldest man ever elected President was William Henry Harrison.

He was inaugurated at the age of 68 on March 4, 1841, but died a month later.

Phony Knavery Doesn't Ring Bell With GOP

CIRCLEVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Marshall Douthett, president of the Young Republican Club of Pickaway County says it was "a dirty trick."

* * *

Kenneth Shepler, chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee, says "I don't know anything about it. Such tactics do not meet with my approval."

* * *

Douthett repeatedly dialed a number Sunday to listen in on the day's GOP political blurb, paid for by the Young Republicans.

Getting nothing but a busy signal, he asked Keith Wagner, district supervisor for the General Telephone Co., to investigate.

* * *

The Biggest Surprise? I.B.J's 'Yes'

By United Press International

Lyndon Baines Johnson achieved the biggest political surprise of the 1960 election campaign by saying one word.

The word was "yes," and Johnson said it when Sen. John F. Kennedy asked him to be his vice presidential running mate.

Until Johnson uttered his startling affirmative, practically no one thought that the powerful majority leader of the Senate would consent to take second place on the ticket.

* * *

The political pundits had no trouble guessing why Kennedy wanted him.

The 32-year-old Texan, they said, would contribute "maturity" and prestige to the ticket, help to hold dissident Southerners in the Democratic fold, and perhaps reassure conservatives elsewhere who regarded Kennedy as too liberal.

A variety of reasons were offered for Johnson's decision to run for vice president — party loyalty, the desire for a change after 24 years in Congress, his wife's wish that he seek a less strenuous post than the Senate leadership, his belief that the vice presidency has become a far-more-than-ceremonial job.

CAPITALIZES ON CHANCES

The last-named reason may well have been the crucial one in Johnson's thinking. For he knows, from experience, that a political job is what you make of it.

Johnson has been making the most of his opportunities all of his life.

He was born Aug. 27, 1908, in a frame house on the banks of the Pedernales River near Stonewall in Central Texas.

* * *

Family resources were meager. Johnson worked as a boy around the farm and in nearby Johnson City and finished high school there.

Then he ran away from home for a year of restless odd job roaming through the West, winding up as a fruit picker in the Imperial Valley of California.

After working his way back to Johnson City, he labored on a road building gang for almost two years and then entered Southwest Texas State Teachers College at San Marcos, Tex.

WON SEAT IN 1936

After brief teaching stints, Johnson went to Washington in 1931 as secretary to then Rep. Richard M. Kleberg (D-Tex.).

Here's Grandpa With Glamor

Henry Cabot Lodge, 58, Draws Approval of an Admiring Public

By United Press International

Henry Cabot Lodge has proved conclusively in the 1960 election campaign that a man can be glamorous when he has gray hair and eight grandchildren.

At 58, the Republican vice presidential nominee is the oldest candidate, and the only grandfather, on either national ticket.

* * *

But he also turned out to be the one who drew the most appreciative sighs from female citizens of all ages.

And, judging from the size and warmth of the crowds which have greeted him wherever he goes, he has a lot of appeal for male voters too.

Tall (6 feet, 2½ inches), handsome, urbane and articulate, Lodge might have been an asset to the GOP ticket solely on the grounds of his personal charm.

* * *

But his popularity has not stemmed entirely, or even mainly, from his looks and manners. It reflected public approval of the way Lodge had served, since 1953, as the chief U.S. spokesman in the United Nations.

After his campaign speeches, enthusiastic voters crowd forward to tell him that they like the way he "stood up to the Russians" in the U.N.

* * *

His grandfather, for whom he was named and by whom he was schooled in politics, was the Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge, who usually is characterized as having done most to block U.S. participation in the League of Nations.

TAKES ADVICE

After graduating cum laude from Harvard, Lodge took his grandfather's advice that journalism "is at least the equal of law as training for politics."

After nearly 10 years as a working newspaperman, beginning as a cub reporter on the Boston Transcript and ending as an editorial writer for the New York Tribune, he began his political career in 1932 by serving two terms in the Massachusettes legislature.

Friends, Foes in Great Debate ---Is Nixon Cold . . . or Warm?

By United Press International

During his 13 years of public service, Richard Milhous Nixon has been the subject of five full-length biographies, hundreds of heated private conversations.

All have sought to analyze his complex personality, to pinpoint the kind of man he "really is."

The descriptions vary so widely it is sometimes hard to realize they are all being applied to the same human being.

Nixon has been depicted as shy and introverted . . . and as a born ham actor. He has been labeled "cold, impersonal, calculating, opportunistic." He has also been found "warm, friendly, practical, dedicated."

One famous Washington correspondent (Richard L. Strout of the Christian Science Monitor) sees him as "one of the most brilliant and intellectually gifted figures that American politics has produced in half a century."

Another (columnist Walter Lippmann) regards him as a ruthless partisan who "does not have within his conscience those scruples which the country has the right to expect in the president of the United States."

SINCE 1946

Nixon has been winning ardent friends and equally ardent enemies ever since 1946, when he answered a newspaper advertisement seeking a Republican candidate for Congress in his home district of Southern California. Nixon was a 33-year-old lawyer, who had just gotten out of the Navy after World War II service in the Pacific. His Democratic opponent was veteran Congressman Jerry Voorhis.

Nixon defeated Voorhis in a slugging campaign, and went to Washington where he won national attention during his freshman term in the House, by playing a leading investigative role in the Hiss-Chambers case.

In 1950, he ran against Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas for the Senate. His political tactics in that campaign have been the subject of controversy ever since. Admirers described them as vigorous; critics called them vicious. At any rate, they were successful, and Nixon moved up to the Senate at the age of 37.

Two years later, he was tapped to be Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate. A campaign furor arose over an $18,235 "expense fund" which had been raised for him by some wealthy California supporters, and for several days Nixon's budding political career seemed to hang in the balance, with Eisenhower and other GOP leaders debating whether to drop him from the ticket.

Nixon decided the question for them with a nationwide broadcast in which he gave a detailed account of his personal finances.

Some critics still haven't forgiven Nixon for what they call the "soap opera" flavor of that broadcast, but others thought it was tremendous, and Nixon stayed on the ticket.

The vice presidency once was considered the graveyard of political ambitions, but with Eisenhower's blessing Nixon raised it to a new level of importance.

Throughout the eight-year Eisenhower administration, Nixon has functioned as a "working partner" of the chief executive, sitting in on meetings of the cabinet and National Security Council, traveling almost 160,000 miles abroad as the President's representative on good will visits to 54 countries, and generally playing a larger part in administration policy councils than any vice president has ever done before.

His role as "understudy" to the president was dramatized on three occasions when Eisenhower illnesses pushed him close to the point of becoming "acting president."

Nixon, now 47, won the 1960 GOP presidential nomination without a serious contest, and has built his campaign around the theme that his "experience" in high government councils has fitted him to deal more adequately than his opponent with Russia and national problems.

BAD DEAL OR IDEAL? — Republican presidential candidate Richard Nixon has long been the object of heavy praise and equally heavy attack. Few people seem to be neutral on this strong personality, shown here with his wife Pat. Emotion may well play a big port in his success or failure in the Nov. 8 election.

MSU Brass at Opening of University in Nigeria

ENUGUS, Eastern Nigeria (AP) — A delegation of Michigan State University notables will be at Nsukka today for the convocation of Nigeria's first full-scale university.

* * *

First lectures at the University of Nigeria began Wednesday, less than two weeks after the country's independence was celebrated.

It will be several years before the vast project is completed. Two hundred students are mustered but plans envisage the enrollment of 6,000 in 10 years.

The driving force behind the project is Dr. Nnamdi Azikiwe (Zik), the Nationalist leader who becomes first Nigerian governor-general next month.

Zik recalls that when he led an educational mission to Michigan State last year the Nigerian University plans caught the imagination of MSU leaders, including Hannah, Dean Glen Taggart, Dr. Troy L. Stearns and Dr. George M. Johnson, professor of education who is settling in as the university's principal after a week in Nigeria.

* * *

Nigerian members of the university teaching staff said in a statement:

"We shall always be grateful to Michigan State University for their practical assistance and encouragement in helping to make a reality of our dream.

"The presence of a large MSU representation at today's convocation when they will be given a magnificent welcome is a token of their continued interest in Nigeria's major educational project."

* * *

Dr. Johnson, who was a law school dean at Howard for 12 years before going to MSU and is a member of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission, described Nigeria's new university about 45 miles north of the eastern regional capital of Enugu as "an exciting venture which offers a unique challenge to anyone interested in education because of the effort being made to develop an institution of higher learning geared to the special needs of indigenous Nigerians."

College Heads Ring Doorbells

Seek Contributions for Independent College Funds of America

NEW YORK (UPI)—Two hundred college presidents rang office doorbells of the nation's biggest corporations Tuesday, hoping to collect as much as $10 million in donations.

It was one of the largest concentrations of college presidents ever to descend on New York City and the most concentrated fund-raising attempt ever made by the Independent College Funds of America.

Approximately 80 college presidents, also are calling today on corporation officials in Chicago, about 50 in Minneapolis and 25 in Indianapolis. The campaign will spread out from these cities to other cities and towns in 45 states during the remainder of October and November.

The "perapetetic pavement-pounding presidents" visit corporation offices by appointment in groups of two or three.

They were briefed in "selling" techniques by Willis M. Tate, president of Southern Methodist University, and carry with them pledge cards and fact kits.

The idea of having independent colleges pool their fund-raising efforts got its start in Indiana in 1948 when the presidents of Wabash College and Earlham College teamed up to get two corporation gifts totaling $15,000. Since then the ICFA has attracted $42 million from 35,000 donors.

Lipsticks to Keep 13 Colors

* * *

The Food and Drug Administration has formally approved use of 13 specific coal tar colors for use in cosmetics, saying it is not inconsistent with the public health.

* * *

The finding, based on animal tests over the last two years, was made as a temporary measure pending more thorough testing over the next 2½ years.

* * *

The FDA once had ordered a ban on use of the colors, saying that test rats suffered liver, kidey and blood damage from a diet which included the dyes. The law then forbade use in cosmetics of any substance which caused damage in test animals.

* * *

Lipstick makers protested that no woman would swallow anything like the amount of the colors fed to the rats, but the law provided no leeway. Congress changed the law to permit use of the dyes in quantitities found to be safe.

* * *

Those quantities were fixed in Tuesday's FDA order.

An industry spokesman said the amount of dye being used in most lipsticks is well below the limits fixed and few changes will have to be made.

Japanese Beetles Target for B25 Raid

LANSING (AP)—The stage is set for an aerial attack against Japanese beetles in Southeastern Michigan.

A granule insecticide will arrive this week for distribution over 46,070 infested acres in Monroe, Lenawee and Wayne counties, the State Agriculture Department said. Treatment will begin soon after unless bad weather intervenes, the department said.

* * *

Two B25 planes will drop the granules at a cost of 73½ cents per acre. Rain and snow carry the insecticide into the earth to attack the beetle in the larval stage.

The cost will be shared jointly by the state and Federal Agriculture Department.

State agriculture officials said the insecticide usually is effective for three or four years.

Without treatment, they said, the infected area could spread over 500,000 acres by next year, causing severe damage to crops and other states to set up quarantines against Michigan products.

Will His Spending Increase?

Business Pins Hopes on Consumer

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — The consumer hogs the center of the business stage today. The other actors have failed to make a hit in their first fall appearances.

Manufacturing, business spending, purchasing agents and retail buyers, easier money policies, even government spending have not come forward with the needed push for the economy.

★ ★ ★

What the consumer buys, how much he spends, how much he saves, how much he has to spend —these are prime factors in setting the trend in the months just ahead.

The figures for September have not been too reassuring.

In an advance report, the Department of Commerce estimates retail sales slipped one per cent below the August level. But a number of stores have reported doing better than a year ago.

The consumer was holding tighter to what he had to spend.

Another indication of that has been the rise in the total amount of savings. Still another has been the slowdown in the rate of increase of consumer credit. Instalment credit took a big jump last year, but in recent months the increase has been moderate.

★ ★ ★

The total of consumer debt has been built to a record. Counting in personal loans and home mortgages, total debt repayment now comes to $52 billion a year, according to the Institute of Life Insurance. This would be about one-sixth of all personal income after taxes.

If consumers are paying out around $1 billion a week on the various types of debt they owe, the crimp in their additional spending is evident.

But personal income has been holding high. And the job report for September, while far from glowing, had its reassuring elements. Unemployment fell more than had been expected, and employment dropped less than the seasonal pattern would have called for. The total of the jobless, however, is still far too high to make any great pickup in consumer buying a sure thing.

The job situation brightened in the auto industry as it pushed toward supplying its dealers with enough new models to start a big sales drive. Many of these dealers, however, are still struggling to move out stocks of unsold 1960 models.

Once the dealers have the new cars in abundance, it will be up to the consumer again. If he buys them, all will be well with this important industry—and with its suppliers, right back to the steel mills.

A slight rise in steel orders has heartened some companies. The trade publication, Iron Age, says steel orders are now up to the rate of steel operations. This may herald the end of the cutback in steel inventories, but the magazine warns "the improvement does not mean a significant change in steel operations."

Steel orders aren't consumer spending. But any major pickup in steel, auto, appliance and other manufacturing activities would soon be translated into higher income comes available for consumer spending.

Even without this, consumers still have a lot of money to spend —and how they spend it, and if they spend it will set the business pace now more than any other one thing.

Successful Fund Drive Means a New Armory

STURGIS (UPI) Sturgis and St. Joseph County were assured today of having a new armory building with the successful completion of a drive to raise local matching funds for the project.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Richard Messner, chairman of the armory fund drive and company commander of the local national guard unit, said actual construction probably will begin shortly after the first of the year.

The armory will cost $315,0 Only $65,000 of the total had be raised locally.

★ ★ ★

The city gave $40,000 and the county $8,000, leaving $17,000 to be raised in the drive. The drive started a year ago and was bogged down until being revived again this fall.

In Form of Inspection Blanks

Blazes Battled With Paper

In conjunction with stress on Fire Prevention Week which ends Saturday, Waterford Township firemen are distributing home inspection blanks to residents in an effort to determine sources of fire hazards.

Firemen are attending civic meetings and those of Parent-Teacher Associations, and social clubs in the township, presenting talks on the importance of fire prevention. They also are asking residents to return completed the inspection blanks to the fire department as soon as possible.

"There are many people who have said they had never thought to check certain areas in their homes," Fire Chief Elmer Fangboner said.

Among the more unusual fire causes on the list are leaky fuel oil lines, fuses of the wrong size and frayed or broken cords on home appliances. Stairways and hallways should be kept free of storage in order to offer easy access in an emerbency, the blank says.

The blank also suggests that parents conduct regular fire drills, showing children the best and fastest way to get out of a burning home..

If escape is cut off, parents should explain what should be done until help arrives, the blank says.

"We believe that this inspection will help reduce loss by fire in Waterford Township, and may possibly save a life that might have been taken by fire," Fangboner said.

United Parcel Case to Resume Oct. 19

DETROIT — Hearings will be resumed before the Michigan Public Service Commission Oct. 19 on an application by United Parcel Service for exemption from the truck minimum rate order.

Such exemption, which United Parcel said permitted it to compete with Parcel Post for overnight package delivery orders, was granted by the MPSC in 1957.

★ ★ ★

However, the Michigan Supreme Court vacated the exemption on grounds that public hearings are required under law before such exemption can legally be granted.

The high court held unanimously that the MPSC has the authority to grant exemption.

Hearings were begun Sept. 13 at which time truckers withdrew opposition to the United Parcel application. Railway Express Agency and Greyhound Corp., however, still oppose exemption.

Life Magazine Backs Nixon for President

NEW YORK (UPI) — Life Magazine, which supported President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956, has endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon for the presidency.

An editorial in this week's issue said Nixon's domestic program is "far better" than that of Democratic nominee John F. Kennedy. The magazine said it will compare the two candidates' foreign policy programs in the second installment of a two-part editorial next week.

Upper Michigan Orchestra Offers Top Scholarship

IRON RIVER (UPI) — The Northwoods Symphony Orchestra, the only symphony in Upper Michigan and Northern Wisconsin, begins its second season next month by asking the finest young musicians in the area to compete for a valuable scholarship.

The Northwoods Symphony was born last winter out of the lifelong ambition of a high school music teacher to conduct a symphony orchestra and the desire of a radio station manager to provide fine music.

They merged their ambitions and called together the best musicians, from teen-aged to graybeard, in the thinly-populated north country.

The Northwoods Orchestra will hold a young artists' talent audition at the Windsor Auditorium here Nov. 12. The audition will be open to any young artist in Michigan's Upper Peninsula and Northern Wisconsin.

The winner of the audition will receive a year's music scholarship at Northern Michigan College in Marquette, including tuition and fees.

Journey Into Crime

Ex-GI Finds Fortune and Death in Manila

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the 14th installment in a 15-part series on international crime condensed from "Journey Into Crime," a new book by Don Whitehead, two-time Pulitzer Prize winner.)

By DON WHITEHEAD

When a country's political leaders become involved in crimes of smuggling, bribery, theft and payoffs, then the stage is set for death to get into the act.

Manila was such a stage in the years that followed liberation from the Japanese. Among the players were Americans who moved in to get their share of the spoils.

During this period of corruption, there was born an organization known as the Philippine Bureau of Investigation, modeled after the FBI, and headed by men who dreamed ofmaking it an incorruptible force.

The PBI still exists, a small flame in a dark, gusty night. Perhaps the flame one day will spread. Then the Philippines will be freed of its tainted politicians and men such as George C. Murray.

★ ★ ★

At 10:25 p.m. on Aug. 12, 1949, handsome George C. Murray of Kansas City gave a last look at himself in the bedroom mirror of his home in San Juan, Rizal — a suburb of Manila.

Satisfied with what he saw, he turned to his pretty Filipino wife Esther who was watching him with the intensity of a woman deeply in love.

Mrs. Murray said, "I wish you weren't going into town tonight, George."

"I've got to go," Murray said. "Tom is back and this is the only chance we'll have to talk business." He glanced around the room. "Where is my pistol?"

★ ★ ★

At 36, Murray was a model of a young, successful businessman. Not many ex-soldiers could boast, three years after the end of World War II, that they were nearing the millionaire class.

During the war, Murray had been in the U.S. Army's criminal division. In the Philippines, he helped break up huge black market rings dealing in materials stolen from American military supplies.

★ ★ ★

When the war ended, Murray took his army discharge in Manila and became treasurer and half owner of the Equipment Trading Co., trading in surplus goods.

Within two years he had a half interest in a $200,000 yacht called the Mistress, and was well known at Manila's night spots.

Murray must have looked back on his postwar career with satisfaction as he parked his car outside the Riviera night club.

He was led to a secluded table occupied by beautiful Carol Varga, a 20-year-old movie star, who looked at him as lovingly as his wife had a short while before.

UNTIL DEATH

As the couple sat at the table, Murray asked her to marry him, and whispered, "if I should die, Carol, I want you in my arms."

It was 4 a.m. when Murray quietly made his way to his bedroom, and lay down on the bed.

Had he opened his eyes for a moment, he would have seen the pistol's muzzle a few inches away. The first blast drove a bullet squarely between his eyes. The second shot tore through his mouth, a third smashed the jugular vein, and the fourth went through his heart.

★ ★ ★

Then a woman screamed, and the three boxer dogs began to bark.

When police arrived, red-eyed Mrs. Murray sat with the children huddled against her and related that someone had climbed the balcony and shot Murray.

She said she was having a cup of coffee in the downstairs kitchen when she heard the shots. When she ran upstairs, she found the door to the balcony open, and her husband dead.

Police asked Mrs. Murray if she knew of any enemies who might have killed her husband.

"George had enemies," she said, "because he had been threatened. Thats why he carried a pistol."

Police could not find a murder weapon. But in Murray's desk they found a sensation. From his papers, they discovered the yacht was in reality a gun-running vessel which had been smuggling arms to rebels in Indonesia, Malaya, and other southeast Asia countrries.

Police pieced together this story: Soon after his army discharge, Murray had begun buying huge stocks of army surplus equipment, backed by an international gambler.

When the U.S. Army turned its huge supply depot over to the Philippine government in 1948, Murray managed to get the government contract to haul material from the base to other points in the islands.

Strange things happened to the truck shipments. Somewhere along the route, new equipment was removed, and worn material and even rocks substituted.

ENEMIES EVERYWHERE

Murray was one of the "big-time operators." There were strong hints that high government officials were involved and were getting a rake-off. Many Americans too had aided and abetted the gigantic frauds.

Police realized Murray might have been killed by any one of a hundred enemies, or by one of his "friends". But there were several questions that disturbed the Philippine bureau of investigation.

If a stranger climbed the balcony, why didn't the boxers bark? Why had police found no footprints in the muddy yard? Why were there no mud smears on the white stucco wall below the balcony? And where was the maid?

★ ★

When PBI agents and police returned to question Mrs. Murray, they found a freshly laundered nightgown hanging in a closet.

A PBI agent found a pathway leading to a neighbor's home. There he discovered the terrified maid, who told him she had been brought there by Mrs. Murray immediately after the shooting.

She said she was awakened about 4:30 a.m. when Mrs. Murray brought her youngest child in to her. "She told me Eddie couldn't sleep, and wanted to sleep with me. About 30 seconds later I heard some explosions . . . After a few minutes I opened the door, and saw Mrs. Murray come out of her bedroom.

She started downstairs, but then she turned. When I looked in the Murrays' bedroom I saw her standing there with the children. Mr. Murray was lying in bed, bleeding.

"Mrs. Murray grabbed me by the arm and said, 'If anybody asks you any questions, tell them the shots you heard were the backfiring of a car and that you also heard the dogs bark. Tell them I was in the kitchen and that we met on the stairs as you were going down.' "

"Did you hear the dogs bark?" she was asked.

"Was the door to the balcony open?"

CIRCUMSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

Asked if she knew what had happened to Murray's revolver, the maid replied, "Mrs. Murray said she didn't know where it was—but I had seen her put it in her sewing bag."

The chauffeur told police he had seen a woman emerge from the bedroom after the shots and throw something in the direction of the dogs' pen.

In the pen, police found Murray's revolver. Ballistics tests showed it was the murder weapon. After repeated questioning Mrs. Murray produced the missing glove. Laboratory tests showed traces of nitrate on the back.

Mrs. Murray insisted she had used the glove in handling fertilizers. But police had a different idea—since such telltale traces are often left by a pistol's explosion.

The beauteous Carol Varga told police she had heard Murray was married but preferred to believe such talk "the idle talk of jealous women.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Murray insisted her husband had been killed by an enemy, but she was convicted of murder on circumstantial evidence, and given a life sentence.

★ ★ ★

One thing was certain: George C. Murray knew a great deal about smuggling but he knew very little about a woman in love.

Get a Little Confused, You Land in Jail

DETROIT (AP) — Within two and a half hours Jesse Hall went to jail twice on the same driving charge Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

He was locked up for driving without a license. And police put his car in a parking lot.

★ ★ ★

To their surprise the same policemen saw him driving the same car again later. His wife had posted $25 bond for his release. Hall said he thought that entitled him to drive. But the police didn't agree. They put him back in jail.

Ground Beef Is Favored as Economical Meat Buy

Of those five to six thousand items in the food market, which will you choose this week? That is the question. A survey of 250 Lansing families from 1955 to 1959 shows that an average family of 3.3 persons spent about 23 per cent of the food budget for meat. What does your family spend? And what meats will you select at this time?

Religious holidays last week restricted slaughter to some extent. Even though wholesale beef prices were temporarily higher, consumer prices remain about as they have been for all meats except pork. The number of hogs coming to market has not been as heavy as was expected and prices are slightly higher.

No doubt ground beef at an average of 49 to 55 cents a pound will be a favored meat in at least one-half our homes. This is one of the thriftier choices for less than 15 cents per serving states the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

Blade chuck for a tender pot roast varies as much as 30 cents a pound, depending upon the grade you choose. The protein value depends upon the amount of lean and not upon the grade you buy.

Some retailers say that lamb prices are about the same, others say they are slightly lower. Shoulder is one of the most economical lamb choices, but you may not use it because of the large amount of bone.

If you don't like to carve the blade bone in lamb shoulder, just remove it. This flat thin bone can be removed a few minutes with a sharp knife. Then the shoulder can be stuffed and tied, rolled and tied, cut into pieces for stew, or ground for patties.

Children and adults will find lamb patties a special treat . . . especially when they are shaped about a half-inch thick, three inches in diameter and broiled with a strip of bacon around each pattie.

Top quality veal is rather scarce at this season. For leg roast you'll spend 23 to 33 cents per serving this week.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has just completed its buying of 18,850,000 pounds of turkey for the school lunch program. This has helped to steady producer prices and retail prices have fluctuated very little so far this fall.

Smaller production is the main reason why egg prices are higher than they were last year in October. Three small size eggs at 11 to 12 cents or two large eggs at 12 cents will give about the same amount of protein as an average serving of meat.

Fruits and vegetables accounted for close to 20 per cent of the average family's grocery spending in the Lansing survey.

If you wish to pick fresh fruits and vegetables in largest supply, you will again check ways to use apples, cauliflower, celery, onions (both green and dry), potatoes, winter squash and cabbage. Arrivals of fresh produce at the larger terminal markets throughout the nation totaled over 500 cars less than the previous week . . . another sign that harvest in northern states is near an end for 1960.

There are still Michigan tomatoes, but you also find the 14-ounce tubes (which were picked green and ripened) and tomatoes being shipped from warmer climates. Added transportation and handling explain why prices differ from those grown in Michigan.

The 250 Lansing families spent 18 per cent of their grocery money for dairy products. If the recommended 3 or 4 cups of milk per person adds up to too much for your spending plan, what do you do about it? A quart of non-fat dry milk will cost about 10 cents per quart and can be used in all ways you use whole milk. This simple adjustment may be all you need to help your family get the calcium and other food nutrients which milk provides.

That trip to the food store can be more meaningful when you consider more than the foods your family needs and the amount you can spend. Current information on foods in the market, and changes in supply and price are other guides.

Burnt Sugar Date Cake Gets a Glaze

Burnt Sugar Date Cake

1 package burnt sugar cake mix
1 cup commercial sour cream
2 tablespoons water
2 eggs
1 package (2⅔ cups) pitted, chopped dates

To cake mix add sour cream, water, eggs and contents of the packet of burnt sugar syrup. Mix for 2 minutes as directed on the label. Fold in dates. Pour batter into a well-greased and floured 13x9½x2-inch pan and bake at 350 degrees for 35 to 40 minutes. (Or use a 3-quart, 10-inch ring mold and bake in a preheated 350-degree oven for 30 to 35 minutes.)

Let cake cool 15 minutes, then turn out onto a platter. Serve warm or cool with whipped cream, custard sauce or Apricot Glaze.

Apricot Glaze

1 jar (12 oz.) apricot jam or preserves
¼ cup water
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Measure all ingredients into a small saucepan. Cook and stir until mixture simmers. Let cool slightly, then spoon over warm Burnt Sugar Date Cake or over pieces of the cake. Serve warm or cool.

Crisp Vegetables Contrast to Fish

Supper for weight-watchers.

Baked Fish With Crisp Vegetables

2 whole fish (1½ to 2 pounds each)
Salt
Pepper
1 small onion
1 small green pepper
1 medium-sized carrot
2 or 3 ribs celery
2 to 3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Have fish split, cleaned and backbone removed; head and tail may be left on. Sprinkle insides with salt and pepper; seasoning salt may also be used.

* * *

Cut onion, green pepper, carrot and celery into thin strips; arrange in fish. Sprinkle vegetables with seasoning and dot with butter. Close fish with twine or skewers; rub outside with butter. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 25 minutes or until fish flakes easily and loses transparent look. Vegetables will still be crisp. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Simmer Franks With Sauerkraut

Franks and relish are cooked the easy way—in a skillet at the same time.

Frankfurters With Sauerkraut Relish

1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion (cut in thin strips)
1 can (1 pound) sauerkraut (drained)
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
2 tablespoons dark brown sugar
1 bay leaf (broken into quarters)
8 frankfurters (about 1 pound)

Lightly brown onion in hot butter in 9 or 10-inch skillet. Add sauerkraut, tomato sauce, sugar and bay leaf; mix thoroughly. Add frankfurters whole or cut in half. Cover and simmer until flavors blend and franks are hot — about 20 minutes. Stir a few times so as not to scorch. Makes 4 servings.

Cook diced kidneys, strips of onion and sliced mushrooms in butter; use as a filling for a luncheon omelet.

Creole Sauce Does Wonders for Eggs

When you want to serve eggs for lunch or supper this flavorsome dish may fill the bill. It may be made for one or a dozen.

CREOLE SHIRRED EGGS

For each serving:

¼ cup tomato sauce
¼ cup diced cooked ham
2 eggs
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Heat tomato sauce and ham; turn into buttered shirred egg dish or individual 6-inch pie plate. Break eggs over hot sauce. Sprinkle with cheese. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven until eggs are firm — about 20 minutes.

Note: Homemade Marinara Sauce is delicious in this recipe. Parmesan cheese may be replaced by Romano, or use a combination of the two.

Evening supper for the gang: make-your-own sandwiches of salami and ham slices, cheese, tomatoes, onion rings.

They Like to Grow and Can Food

CANS FOR FUN — All summer long, Norman Hopping had a hard time keeping up with his wife's tremendous canning project. As fast as fruit and vegetables ripened, the ambitious woman (with a heart condition) peeled, cut and canned her beautiful produce. The Hoppings use only a small portion, then give the rest away to friends and relatives — just for the fun of it.

(Pood Editor's Note: Our roving Waterford Township reporter, Reba Heintzelman, came up with this interesting story on growing and canning food. We thought you would like it too. The Hoppings have gone away on a trip. We will try to get a recipe from Mrs. Hopping later on.)

By REBA HEINTZELMAN

It would take a "heap o' livin'" to attempt to keep up with one Waterford Township couple — supposedly retired because of serious heart conditions.

True to their name, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Hopping (both 63 years old) of 385 Airport Road, grow huge squash, tomatoes, potatoes, and all types of fruit; can and preserve all the foodstuff; then give it away to friends and relatives.

"We take it real easy all summer puttering around in the garden, then canning the things we grow. It's a real satisfaction to be able to give something so good, for so little cost and that's the way we like it," Hopping commented.

More than 500 shining glass jars of beets, mushrooms, okra, green pole beans and various relishes line the fruit cellar shelves in the Hopping basement.

There are bright yellow peaches, golden ears of Yellow Bantam corn (an almost extinct brand because of its smallness), pink applesauce, multi-colored corn relish, along with strawberry, blackberry and blueberry jellies and jams.

HAD TO RETIRE

It all started when the energetic Hopping was forced to retire from his job at Fisher Body because of a weak heart. His wife also suffered from the same condition.

The two then decided to get their living from the land, by moving slowly and with ease. As a result, every type of vegetable was planted for diet variety. Peach, apple and pear trees provided ample fruit for breakfasts and desserts, and thriving berry bushes produce the tasty topping for toast.

* * *

* * *

Slightly resembling old-time film star, Will Rogers, Hopping is most proud of his "gone-crazy squash." Planted just like any other squash in late June, they now look like gigantic turtles lying in the sun and covering one entire end of the garden.

"I don't know what happened to those seeds," he said. "They were planted, then cultivated only once with no special fertilizer used. They just went plum crazy, and now I don't know what to do with them."

Hopping really knows where they will end up. They'll be given to some worthy organization, school or hospital, proving his heart is in the right place regardless of what the doctors say.

Let Youngsters Bake Cookies

Youngsters can bake these cookies themselves.

Lunchbox Cookies

½ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
½ cup quick-cooking rolled oats
⅛ cup butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
1 egg
¼ cup seedless raisins (washed and drained and halved)
¼ cup chopped walnuts

Sift together the flour, baking soda, salt and cinnamon; stir in rolled oats. Cream butter and sugar; beat in egg. Add flour mixture, raisins and nuts; mix. Drop from tablespoon, a few inches apart, on greased cookie sheet. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) about 15 minutes. Makes 1½ dozen.

Pontiac Press Photo

BIG SQUASH IN WATERFORD — Norman Hopping looks a little concerned over what to do with his huge Hubbard squash he grew in less than three months. The one up front weighs more than 65 pounds. The other three in the picture are over 55 pounds each, and it would take a man with a strong back—and ax—even to get one open.

Chorus Seeks More Members

Pontiac Press Photos

An audition that's relaxed and informal is all that's required to affiliate with the Pontiac Women's Chorus, now in its 29th year. Demonstrating the process is member Beth Carter of Lake Orion and chorus director George Scott of Walled Lake.

Women Meet Every Tuesday

The Pontiac Women's Chorus, opening its 29th season, is seeking additional members.

Sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, the group meets Tuesday evenings at the Mark Twain School. Director George Scott is assisted in his work by accompanist George Wilson.

Composed of women from the townships as well as the metropolitan area, the chorus presents several concerts during the season. Social activities are also a part of the year's events. The group draws women from all walks of life.

No formal training is required for membership. Basic requisites are acceptable tone quality, note-reading ability and the willingness to devote the time and effort of weekly rehearsal and concert preparation.

Organized in 1932 under Thelma Allen who was its director for nine years, the chorus has established a tradition of making beautiful music and providing a joyous outlet for the musical talents of local women.

Auditions, which are relaxed and informal, are held on Tuesdays through Nov. 1. Mrs. Michael Patterson of Grace K. Court or Mrs. Frank Weger of Farm Road, Waterford Township, may be contacted for further information.

Librarian Mrs. Leslie Howey of Stratton goes over the piano accompaniment of the score of some of this season's music. Chorus members looking on are (from left) Sandy Arnold of Going Street, Sandra Lilliquist of Newport Avenue and Arlene Linsenman of Hillsmont Avenue. The group, sponsored by Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation, is seeking additional members.

Montoya, Wife to Perform Here

Flamenco guitarist Carlos Montoya will have as his co-star in the opening session of the Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall series his lithe and talented dancer-wife Trianita.

Wednesday morning's session at the Oakland Theater is set for 10:30. Departing from the usual format, the program will be 90 minutes long and will be followed by a celebrity luncheon at the Orchard Lake Country Club.

Flamenco guitar music has no set arrangements, leaving room for improvisation within the framework of the traditional rhythms.

Rhythmic rather than melodic, dominately minor, the music requires no program notes, but speaks from the heart. It is especially adaptable to interpretation in dance figures and the appearance of Trianita should enhance Wednesday's program.

★ ★ ★

The Flamence tradition stems from Andaluzia and for many centuries the masters of this art have been Spanish gypsies. They have been much imitated but seldom equaled in their distinctive approach and unique sense of rhythm.

★ ★ ★

A Moorish influence and traces of ancient Hebrew strains are said to be found in the background of the music, but it is impossible to trace the origins of any specific Flamenco form.

★ ★ ★

Montoya makes all of his own arrangements. A Spanish gypsy, he has been concertizing throughout the world for many years and is said to keep music in purer form than many Flamenco artists currently appearing in Spain who have been influenced by the current craze to modernize the music.

★ ★ ★

His program will include a Moorish Zambra; Galician airs which will produce a bagpipes effect; the Guajiras based on Cuban rhythms; and his own creation, the Saeta which is based on Holy Week songs heard in Sevilla. In the latter, he produces a drum effect by using the strings.

Possessing what is called a natural technique, he does not read music and has avoided formal training. In view of this, his technical facility is considered all the more remarkable.

The concert is available to season ticket holders only. However, for the series may be purchased at the opening concert.

The change in location of the celebrity luncheon is called to the attention of members by the board of directors. Luncheon reservations to the 12:30 affair at the Orchard Lake Country Club may be made through Mrs. Clyde Dearing.

NASW Dinner Slated Tuesday

The Oakland County Chapter of the National Association of Social Workers will attend a dinner meeting at 6 Tuesday in Devon Gables.

Delegate Robert Janes, executive director of Family Service and chairman of Oakland County's chapter of the association, and alternate Charles Mentzer, executive director of the Birmingham Council of Community Services, will report on the NASW Delegate Assembly yesterday in Chicago.

Dorcas Guild Elects Officers

Officers were elected by the Dorcas Guild of Pontiac Central Christian Church Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Adrian Willis was elected president. Her co-officers are Mrs. Eldon Gardner, vice president; Mrs. Roy Warner, secretary; and Mrs. J. H. Moon, treasurer. Mrs. Moon submitted the annual report.

Don't Start Buzz Session, Says Abby

Send Friend Elsewhere for the Old Tale

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A 16-year-old boy lives next door. Last night he told me he was never told the facts of life. I was really surprised, because I am 13 and my mother told me a long time ago. He said he asked his father and was told he knew all he needed to know to get along.

★ ★ ★

His 18-year-old sister also told him he knew enough. He said all he knows he heard from the kids at school. I don't feel right talking about things like that with him, but I do think he ought to know. Where can he find out?

A GIRL WHO KNOWS

DEAR GIRL: The boy should learn the "facts of life" from a mature, informed adult. If his father refuses to tell him, he should go to his clergyman, his coach at school or a respected relative or friend. Don't YOU discuss it with him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Have you ever heard of the GROOM'S family going into debt over their ears to put on a big wedding and reception just to impress people? When our daughter became engaged, we explained to the boy's parents that our income was limited, and said we would give the children the nicest wedding and reception we could afford.

This didn't suit them, because they took over without consulting us, and are putting on a three-ring circus and are paying for everything. We'll be the laughing stock of this town for years to come. Should we refuse to attend the wedding?

MOTHER OF THE BRIDE

DEAR MOTHER: The parents of the groom could hardly plan your daughter's wedding without her knowledge and consent. If she shares your viewpoint (which, by the way, IS the proper one), she should let them know. If she's all for the groom's family putting on the show and footing the bill, then go and keep the peace.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: Do you think a businessman should hire relatives when he needs more help? This is a small place and most of us have been here a long time, but lately the boss has been bringing his relatives in.

To them there's no "Boss" — only "Cousin Joe" and Brother Moe." We outsiders don't appreciate a family reunion every day during business hours. We'd appreciate your comments.

OUTSIDERS

DEAR OUTSIDERS: Whom a businessman hires in his place of business is his own business.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I have a $10 bet with my father-in-law riding on your anwer, so please don't let me down. He says that even though you never reveal a writer's name you are not allowed to use a letter in your column unless it is signed. I say he is wrong.

BERNIE

DEAR BERNIE: Congratulations, you have just won $10.

★ ★ ★

For Abby's pamphlet, "What Teen-agers Want To Know," send 25c and a large, self-addressed stamped envelope in care of this paper.

★ ★ ★

Among hosts for cocktail parties will be Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Sewick of Alveston Drive, Bloomfield Hills. Their guests will be the Frank Monchers, the E. E. Madions, the Rudolph Reginalds, the Glenn Obers and the L. J. Michals. Also attending will be the L. D. Petroffs, the Edward Gentners, the Michael Russos and the Walter Zipplers.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. James Woods and the Bill Elliotts will entertain at the Woods home on Eileen Drive. Guests will include the James Greens, the George Weirs, the Owen Batzloffs, the Ray Slaughters, the Lorne O'Neils, the John Massas, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holmes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ranzilla and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Vidor.

★ ★ ★

The Charles Robinsons of Marlborough Road have invited Mr. and Mrs. Harris, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Graves, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Linmark, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Graham and Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Anderson.

★ ★ ★

Officers for 1960-61 are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oosterhof, president; Mr. and Mrs. Ward Ross, secretary; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Aldred, treasurer; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Slaughter, publicity; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wharton, orchestra; and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Saulter and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holmes, membership.

Brides Bid Bon Voyage to Member

Pontiac branch of Trans-Atlantic Brides and Parents Association met for their first bon voyage party Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Dale Baumgardner in Clarkston.

★ ★ ★

President of the branch Mrs. Stanley West presented gifts to Mrs. Steven Strzelecki who is returning to England with her husband for a two-month visit.

Remembrances also were given to Mrs. Frank Wallace of London, England, who has been visiting her daughter Mrs. Phillip Hicks of Waterford since June.

★ ★ ★

The next meeting of the English girls' club will be at the home of Mrs. Stanley West on Vernon Drive. English women from this area may attend.

Art Group Sponsors 2 Events

The Bloomfield Art Association is sponsoring two October events which exemplify creative expression.

Sunday the Architecture Show will open under the chairmanship of Frederick Stickel and Anthony Moody, area architects.

The show will clarify architecture as art and will demonstrate the manner in which it utilizes science, philosophy and aesthetics. William Lyman is assisting Mr. Stickel and Mr. Moody.

Free Red Stamps!

SCULPTURES YOUR THIGHS TO SMOOTH PERFECTION! An entirely new concept in thigh control: the flattering new length that cinches inches to create a marvelously sleek, unbroken line from waist to just a whisper above the knee. And you're longer on comfort throughout your active day! Because SILF SKIN puts maximum emphasis on ease: a pre-shaped back panel controls naturally, a satin front panel firms gently. Hip section eliminates seams.

White only. #528 Jamaica length $8.95
#258 Long torso, $10. Small, medium, large. Extra large slightly higher.
Fibres: Rayon, Acetate, Nylon, Cotton, Rubber.

Latex Helps Stop Hill Lawn Erosion

NEW YORK (UPI) — If you've ever tried to grow a lawn on a hillside, you're probably acquainted with the erosion damage that a heavy rainfall can cause.

★ ★ ★

Chemists find that if they seed erosion-prone hillsides, then spray them with latex, grass grows unhampered and erosion is resisted.

For Smooth Seam

(NEA) — In order to get a smoother and flatter seam appearance on the right side of garments, notch the edges that curve out and clip the edges that curve in.

It's All a Matter of Taste

Eating Is Merely a Habit

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The food we like to eat and the colors we prefer to wear are matters of individual taste. However, I think that our daily habits in eating are dictated mostly by habit, many of which we acquired in the home of our parents and others which we have developed ourselves.

★ ★ ★

One of the benefits of a well-planned reducing diet, besides the loss in weight, is a new way of eating.

The daily candy bar and the rich dessert do not seem nearly so attractive after we have been without them for a while. The greasy, fried foods may not appear nearly so tempting as those which are broiled.

I have known this to be true because of my own experience and because of pupils and readers who have told me that they have had the same experience.

TRY IT YOURSELF

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I tried powdered fat-free milk and I would rather die 10 years sooner than drink that. Why don't you try it yourself before you write about it?"

The truth is that I have not used anything but powdered fat-free milk for the past 10 years.

I have done this because I have to watch my weight constantly and also because accumulating information seems to indicate that it might be better for health. Now whole milk does not appeal to me as a general habit. Of course I ant enjoy, with gusto, exotic rich sauces and wonderful desserts and fried foods, on occasion, but I am thinking of the usual daily habit in eating.

OVEREATING, TOO

The same thing is true of overeating. The fact is that when we overeat it affects us not only on the outside but on the inside.

Our real stomach, not our abdominal measurement, stretches. It becomes abnormally large. Until we give it time to return to normal, that void gives us trouble.

However, once we form the habit of eating moderate portions, the way we feel after stuffing ourselves is not worth it—except perhaps, on special occasions.

So, the way we eat is a habit, and it is always rewarding to substitute good eating habits for bad ones, not only because of the dividends in looks and health but because they soon will become pleas-

A Son Needs Advice Only Father Can Give

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to young fathers:

If you are wise you will make a deal with your wife when your children are still young, whereby you let her have the final say-so about the guidance and discipline of your daughters and you have the final authority on questions that concern your sons.

There is a trend among middle-class families, child guidance authorities tell us, for mama to make the decisions concerning both sons and daughters. And the results aren't too good.

★ ★ ★

What is happening, they say, is that boys are being disciplined like girls, because mama is disciplining both. And the kind of discipline and guidance that is good for sis isn't right for junior.

So if your wife tries to sell you the idea that she knows what is best for all the kids in the family—boys and girls alike—just don't let her get by with it.

She doesn't know what is best for a boy because she doesn't know what it is like to be a boy or what qualities a boy needs to develop to get along in a man's world. You know much better than your wife how to direct and guide and discipline your sons.

But what you know isn't going to be of much value to your sons unless you make it clear when they are small that you want and intend to have the final word where your sons are concerned.

Start that pattern early. It will be too late if you wait until your sons are teen-agers to try to take over. By then they will be used to a woman's discipline, to a woman's set of values, perhaps, even, to a woman's tendency to overprotect her young.

Mother knows best when it comes to rearing daughters—but father knows best when it comes to rearing sons.

For a tantalizing new taste in a salad dressing over greens, try adding a 2¼ ounce can of deviled ham to a cup of your favorite French dressing.

Fall Troop to Begin for Players

The Birmingham Junior League Players will begin their fall trooping Oct. 24 to all Birmingham elementary schools and to two schools in Rochester.

* * *

The group's play for this fall "The Foxey Foxes" was written by Jerry McMechan, a league member's husband.

In the spring members will troop a new play to all schools in Pontiac and Royal Oak. Their plays will be shown to about 10,000 children throughout the year.

HEAD COMMITTEES

Mrs. Wesslau Wright is director. Heading committees are Mrs. Richard F. Hintermeister, scenery; Mrs. Leslie P. Durgin, costumes; Mrs. Robert W. Scripps, properties; and Mrs. Andrew J. Shepard, publicity.

* * *

Mrs. William H. Klenke Jr. is stage manager; Mrs. Harry L. Swan, production manager; and Mrs. John K. Armstrong, chairman.

* * *

In the cast are Mrs. James O. Nordlie, story teller; Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Frederick C. Bahr, Mrs. Everell Fisher, Mrs. Otis C. Thompson, Mrs. Franklin Butler and Mrs. David W. Raymond.

MRS. CHAD MELLINGER

Area Person Treasurer of Zonta Unit 5

Mrs. Chad Mellinger of the Pontiac Zonta Club was elected treasurer of District V of Zonta International at the group's 13th annual conference in Grand Rapids.

The first local Zontian to hold district office, Mrs. Mellinger is known in the area as an artist and for her work with the City Federation of Women's Clubs, the Oakland County Historical Society, the Pontiac Society of Artists and the Michigan China Painters Teachers' Association.

* * *

Others attending the conference from Pontiac Zonta Club were Mrs. Roy Riddle, Mrs. Neal Scott, Mrs. Homer Tinney, Helen Travis, Clara Nusbaumer, Laura Hunter and Mrs. Earl Floyd.

Card Party Wednesday

Mrs. James Schultz and Mrs. Warren Cleven are cochairmen for the annual card party sponsored by Lorraine Manor Branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association, Inc., Wednesday evening in Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

* * *

Comprising the committee on prizes are Mrs. Ray Allen and Mrs. Charles Cullen, Mrs. Donald Lloyd, decorations; Mrs. Burton Strong, refreshments and Mrs. Joseph Carpenter, publicity.

Proceeds from the affair will be tagged for the Lapeer Training Home and local civic improvements.

Up Prices on American; Its Cost Still Is Lowest

DETROIT (UP) — American Motors Tuesday announced a price increase of $50 for 1961 on its lowest priced car, the Rambler American two-door deluxe sedan.

This model will carry a suggested delivered price of $1,845 compared with $1,795 for 1960. The figures include 10 per cent federal excise tax and the dealer handling charges. They do not include freight, state or local taxes or any optional equipment.

The American will continue to be the least expensive car offered by an American manufacturer. It is $67 under the two-door model of the Ford Falcon.

The American, the only compact to receive a complete restyling for 1961, also is the only one of the smaller cars to increase its price. Corvair and Lark cut prices on their two-door models while Valiant introduced a two-door for the first time in 1961.

Here are the announced prices of the least expensive models of the compacts: (All figures include federal excils tax and dealer handling charges) Rambler American $1,845; Ford Falcon $1,912; Chevrolet Corvair $1,920; Studebaker-Packard Lark $1,935; Plymouth Valiant $1,953; Comet $1,998; Dodge Lancer $2,007.

State's Point System 'Fair to Drivers'

LANSING (UPI) — Secretary of State James M. Hare said Wednesday the state's point system is "firm but fair" to drivers.

Hare said several motorists inquired recently on whether the 12-violation-point system means automatic removal of driving privileges. Hare emphasized the Michigan point system does not automatically do this.

Departmental figures for the last nine months show that 42,551 drivers with 12 or more points were interviewed. The licenses of 21,152 of these were suspended or revoked following the interviews, Hare said.

The point system law also provides review of the decision by the Michigan Driver Appeal Board if the motorist feels the decision was unfair, Hare said.

Conservatives Back Nuclear Deterrent

SCARBOROUGH, England (AP) — The ruling Conservative Party Wednesday overwhelmingly supported Britain's independent nuclear deterrent and called for a stronger North Atlantic Alliance.

This decision was taken by a party conference which suggested that London's ties with Washington, Paris, Bonn and other Western capitals be even closer than they are now.

With only one dissenting vote out of 4,000, the conference endorsed the basic defense and diplomatic policies of Prime Minister Harold MacMillan's conservative Government.

The delegates emphatically dissociated themselves from the "ban the bomb" movement — an emotion-laden campaign aimed at getting Britain to give up its own atomic and hydrogen weapons.

Advocates of nuclear disarmament won their point in the Labor Party conference held in the same Scarborough Hall last week. But they made no impact at all on the Conservatives.

Italian Students Riot Over S. Tyrol Dispute

ROME (AP) — Italian students tried to storm the Austrian Consulate Wednesday as relations between the two neighboring countries sagged to a postwar low over the South Tyrol dispute at the United Nations.

In headlines and political speeches, Italians called Austrians Nazis. Austrians called Italians Fascists. Italy has controlled the South Tyrol since World War I, and the Austrians claim its German-speaking inhabitants are being deprived of their rights by Italy.

★ ★ ★

Mom Can Keep Attic Children

3 Had Been Indoors for 11 Years; Children's Aid Society Drops Fight

WINDSOR, Ont. (AP) — A four-month legal cattle for custody of two of the underdeveloped Dickerson children is being dropped by the Children's Aid Society.

The society decided to ask Family Court that the whole matter be dropped and that the children be allowed to live with their mother Mrs. Shirley Dickerson Leach of neighboring Tecumseh.

★ ★ ★

The surprise move, coming after a series of firm maneuvers by the society to gain custody, is likely to write finis to the remarkable Dickerson case which achieved worldwide publicity.

On July 28, 15-year-old Gordon Dickerson, one of Mrs. Leach's six children by a previous marriage, crept out of the family home in Tecumseh and went to a neighbor's house.

The story he told to neighbors and to reporters was that he and his two sisters, Glenda, 13, and Connie, 18, had been kept confined indoors for 11 years, mostly in the home attic.

In her defense, Mrs. Dickerson said the three children had been hidden because of the difficulty of obtaining a home with so many children, and that the trio had been kept there after housing became easier because they were not normally developed and would be laughed at.

★ ★ ★

"We feel conditions have improved," said Jack Bevan, society director, Wednesday, "and that it is in the children's interests they be at home. We are dropping our claim for custody."

A member of Bevan's staff has been assigned to inspect the home regularly and insure certain conditions are met.

Wheat-Planting Time in State

Sowing and Plowing Keep Michigan Farmers Busy These Days

LANSING (AP)—Fall plowing and planting of winter wheat were the major Michigan farm activities reported during the past week.

More than 90 per cent of the probable winter wheat acreage has been plowed, the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said.

Soil moisture was reported short in some southwestern, southeastern and scattered northern counties. Winter wheat was coming up well even in these areas.

About 10 per cent of the field corn was reported immature in Central and Northern Michigan at the time of the Oct. 1 killing frost. Southernmost counties still had no killing frost reported.

Filling silos with corn was general throughout the state and farmers in southern counties started picking corn last week.

Digging potatoes was a major activity in many areas. The Upper Peninsula crop was reported especially good this year.

Field bean combining was nearing completion with about 90 per cent of the acreage in.

The soybean harvest was 65 per cent completed in Southeastern Michigan but only around 15 per cent of the acreage was harvested in other areas.

About 15 per cent of the sugar beet harvest was completed with the sugar content reported high.

The harvesting of such fall vegetables as cabbages, carrots and cauliflower was progressing well and nearing completion in many areas.

Furniture Prices Lower

Did you know that your dollar stretches farther in buying furniture than in any other major item in your family budget? The Latex Foam Rubber Council reports that furniture prices have increased only 6.9 points in the past decade, while food prices have gained 18.3 points and housing has soared 29.2 points since 1949.

New Operating Technique

Isolates Surgeon and Incision

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—An operating room which contains only the patient's incision and the surgeon's tools is ready for trial as a means of preventing infection of surgical wounds.

The operating surgeon and his assistants are outside the room. They work through the wall of a transparent plastic balloon.

The balloon wall has indentations shaped like jackets, helmets and arm-length gloves. The surgeon and his helpers fit into these indentations. This allows them to be close to the patient but isolated by the transparent balloon wall. The arm-length gloves constituting a part of the balloon wall permit the surgical team to handle the instruments.

Sterile air is pumped to the incision area; keeping the balloon inflated. The bottom of the balloon is glued to the area of the patient's body where the incision is to be made.

In wielding the scalpel the surgeon cuts through the balloon where it is glued to the patient. The incision thus exposes the target area without breaking the isolation of the wound. The balloon is discarded after the operation.

This new facility was produced at Walter Reed Army Hospital, Washington, D.C. It was described in a paper before the American College of Surgeons today by one of its developers, Dr. Stanley M. Levenson. Associated with him in the work here Dr. Ole J. Malm, Dr. Richard E. Horowitz, Dr. William H. Moncrief Jr., and P. C. Trexler.

Dr. Levenson said the new setup is to keep operative wounds free from infection. In ordinary operating conditions the air of the room and even the breath of the surgical team may contain infectious organisms which often gain a foothold despite precautions.

Ailing Winchell to Miss His Sunday TV Show

NEW YORK (AP) — Walter Winchell, suffering from a cold and abscessed tooth, will miss his ABC-TV show Sunday night, the network said Wednesday.

Substituting for him will be columnists Hy Gardner, Sheila Graham and Irv Kupcinet and Comedian Jack E. Leonard.

The network said Winchell would be back on the following Sunday's program.

Featuring more glass and better ventilation, the F-700 has a heavy duty 302 cubic inch V-8, now standard with this model.

Hail Rockford Shoe Firm for State Product of Year

A firm whose advertising is handled by McManus, John & Adams, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills yesterday received the tributes of industrial executives and state leaders.

★ ★ ★

The Wolverine Shoe and Tanning Corp. of Rockford was awarded a plaque at a luncheon in Rockford for Michigan's Product of the Year for 1960.

Gov. Williams issued a citation congratulating Wolverine on its outstanding growth and faith in Michigan.

★ ★ ★

By mayors' proclamations, yesterday was "Wolverine Hush Puppies Day" in six cities where Wolverine plants are located.

The company, with main offices and tannery in Rockford, has factories in Howard City, Reed City, Greenville, Big Rapids and Ithaca.

Dan Gerber, president of Greater Michigan, Inc., the sponsor of Michigan Week, presented the plaque to Adolph Krause, company president.

★ ★ ★

Other speakers included Merritt D. Hill, Ford Motor Co. vice president and general manager of the Tractorr and Implement Division in Troy.

Announcement of a $200,000 expansion program by Wolverine added steam to the salute.

★ ★ ★

The firm's expansion plans include adding 20 per cent to its wwarehousing space at its Rockford headquarters and increasing manufacturing space at Big Rapids and Ithaca plant.

Russians Like American Goods, If Not People

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev and his party evidently like American products, even if they don't like Americans.

As the group prepared to leave for home today, crates, cartons and other items of baggage were carried out of the Park Avenue Soviet headquarters and loaded into trucks.

MARKETS

The following are top prices covering sales of locally grown produce brought to the Farmer's Market by growers and sold by them in wholesale package lots. Quotations are furnished by the Detroit Bureau of Markets, as of Wednesday.

Market Mixed in Quiet Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned mixed early today after an advance at the opening. Trading was quiet. Small gains and losses peppered the list of key stocks.

Some of the electronics bounced back from recent profit taking and made gains of 1 or 2 points. The government's space agency decided to help private companies send up satellites and this focused some new attention on these "science" issues.

News of the proposed merger of Southern Pacific and Western Pacific had little immediate effect on the stocks of these carriers. Each picked up fractions in light dealings. Other leading rails were very narrowly mixed, some unchanged.

Aircraft-missile stocks nudged ahead on balance. United Aircraft and Boeing making slight gains. General Instrument, Litton Industries and Polaroid added about 2 apiece. Zenith more than a point.

Steels, motors, building materials and chemicals were uneven. Airlines posted some small gains. Oils trended lower. Coppers were mostly unchanged.

DuPont was about a point higher. Slightly ahead were Chemical, International Telephone, Westinghouse Electric, International Paper, Lorillard and U. S. Gypsum.

★ ★ ★

Union Carbide was down about a point. A bit lower were Johns-Manville, General Motors, American Telephone, Eastman Kodak, Jersey Standard and General Dynamics.

It's a Kuppenheimer for you...

Your self esteem gets a tremendous boost when the clothes you wear are by Kuppenheimer. The finest of fabrics, rich in pattern and weave, play no small part in all this—but even they require Kuppenheimer designing talent and eminently superior tailoring. When you wear Kuppenheimer you are "clothes-comfortable"—the psychological effect is very soothing.
