Senate Sends Ike Bill to Boost Home Building

Ike's Tax Plan May Clear Last Hurdle Today

Senate Expected to OK Complete Overhaul of Revenue Laws

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's huge tax revision bill, which he terms the cornerstone of his 1954 domestic program, today may clear its final congressional hurdle.

The Senate planned to take up the 1,000-page measure, a complete overhaul of the nation's tax laws, sometime during the afternoon barring a last-minute program change.

Senate Republican leaders predicted confidently they had the votes to send the compromise bill to the President's desk, in the face of a last-chance battle by some Democrats to knock out of the bill a controversial tax cut on dividends to stockholders.

Their chances of success appeared small since Sen. George (D-Ga), top Democratic member of the Senate Finance Committee, was ready to go along with the compromise bill. He said the good things in it outweighed the bad.

The House passed the bill, a compromise of separate Senate and House versions, by a 316-77 vote yesterday. Democrats there lost 227-169 in an attempt to knock out the dividend tax relief.

Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-NY), whose Ways and Means Committee originally wrote the bill, told his colleagues its enactment would signal "a green light" for expansion of the national economy.

Eisenhower and Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey have used the same argument, contending various provisions of the bill will lead to much faster plant expansion and modernization and thus to more jobs.

These provisions include scores of new or bigger deductions for depreciation of new plants and equipment.

The dividend tax cut in the compromise version would exempt from taxation entirely the first $50 of a dividend income.

Groups or individuals who would benefit most from other provisions of the bill include families with heavy medical expenses, retired persons, parents of college-age children who work, mothers who must work to help support their children and farmers with large soil conservation expenses.

Suspicions Confirmed

BOONE, N. C. (AP)—Bill Gragg suspected someone was stealing gas from his truck so he put on a lock-type gas tank cap.

Next morning his suspicions were confirmed.

Along with the gas the new cap was missing.

Rocky Ledge Tumbles at Prospect Point

AP Wirephoto

AFTER COLLAPSE—This huge pile of rock at Niagara Falls, N. Y., was hurled into gorge 170 feet below as Prospect Point, popular observation place at the brink of American Falls, collapsed yesterday as thousands watched. An estimated 185,000 tons of rock fell from the point and from a portion of the falls.

Hutchins Backs Courthouse Plan

Urges 'Yes' Vote Aug. 3 for New Building at County Service Site

Approval at the polls Tuesday of a proposal to build a new courthouse on county-owned land on Telegraph road, at the County Service Center, is urged by C. H. Hutchins, president of the Pontiac Varnish Co.

Long active in civic affairs, Mr. Hutchins is a past-president of the Pontiac Manufacturers Assn. and is one of the founders and a former president of the Pontiac Boys Club.

He points to the future needs of a county already comprising 50 governmental units within its borders.

"Our present courthouse was built soon after I became a resident of Pontiac, 50 years ago, and the building and site have served us well during most of that period," he said in an interview today.

"The proposal for a new courthouse, upon which we are asked to vote "yes" on Aug. 3, is a sound proposal.

"Our farsighted Board of Supervisors have acquired a site consisting of enough acreage to provide space for all county buildings together with provision for adequate parking.

"Oakland County contains fifteen

Pounding Niagara Bites Off 185,000-Ton Morsel of Rock

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y. (AP)—Thousands of tourists jammed the edges of the Niagara gorge today, awaiting possible new rockfalls in the wake of the thundering collapse that practically destroyed Prospect Point and sliced a piece out of the American side of Niagara Falls yesterday.

Cracks extended more than 50 feet upstream from the ragged edge left after an est mated 185,000 tons of rock slipped from the top of the 170-foot chasm. Some of the cracks were six to eight inches in width and appeared to be widening.

Park officials threw a heavy guard around the mainland area near the brink of the American cataract to guard against accident in case other sections of the cliff let go. A snow fence has been in place since early yesterday.

Engineers and gelogists reported they might have to dynamite some parts of the area to create a safe observation point to replace the old Prospect Point.

Countless visitors witnessed yesterday's thundering fall, but no one was injured.

Engineers and geologists reported tier State Parks Commission estimated the size of the rockfall as 400 feet long from the lip of the gorge, 50 feet wide, and 150 feet deep. An estimated 200 feet of the falls crestline crashed to a point 70 feet down the face.

Throughout the day park officials had cast uneasy eyes on some widening fissures that snaked back onto Prospect Point from the river's edge about 40 feet above the brink of the falls.

The area was fenced off by workmen as engineers mapped plans to find out what was causing the break.

The entire drop took nearly 10 minutes. The crevices widened rapidly in the asphalt pavement and the lawn of the observation area.

Then the wire and iron fence appeared to settle before breaking up in huge pieces and crashed to the floor of the gorge.

Bid for Woodward Separation Accepted

LANSING (UP) — Low bidders were determined Wednesday on six state trunkline projects costing $5,639,000, it was announced today by Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler.

Darin and Armstrong, Detroit, submitted the low bid of $3,386,000 for construction of the largest grade separation every built in Michigan at the intersection of Woodward Ave. and Eight-Mile Rd. at the southern edge of Oakland County.

The giant tri-level traffic exchange will untangle traffic movement at one of the busiest metropolitan intersections in Michigan. Construction is to be completed Dec. 15, 1955.

Leonard Scores Governor's Action on Defense Cutback

By UNITED PRESS

All but one of Michigan's four candidates for the Republican nomination for governor kept up their blistering campaign pace Wednesday, with only five days remaining before the Aug. 3 primary election.

One of the candidates, Owen J. Cleary, took time out to attend a federal road fund allocation conference in Washington. Cleary, who advocates construction of two toll turnpikes through Michigan, claims that if elected governor, he can get $10,000,000,000 for state highway construction through President Eisenhower's proposed road fund.

Former State and Detroit Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard placed part of the blame for a slowup in Michigan business on Gov. G. Mennen Williams. Leonard said that, had he been governor during the period of recent cutbacks in defense spending, he would have "camped on the doorstep of the Pentagon to get a larger share of contracts for Michigan."

D. Hale Brake, present state treasurer, said he was "familiar with all . . . problems" involving school financing and said "I believe I have the remedy for most of them." Among his proposals was establishing a system of reciprocity between Detroit and out-state school systems as a partial solution to the teacher shortage.

Dr. Eugene C. Keyes, the fourth GOP gubernatorial candidate, continued to blast away at his three opponents who, he said "are

Additional Rain Here Forecast to Ease Drought

Light Fall Today Aids Withering Crops After 2 Dry, Hot Weeks

Light rain arrived in the Pontiac area today about 10 hours ahead of schedule and ended a withering 14-day drought.

The moisture bolstered dwindling water reserves, brought new life to crops and lessened the threat of disastrous forest fires.

Hopes that sun-parched Oakland County would get a good soaking soared when the U. S. Weather Bureau forecast two more days of occasional showers or scattered thundershowers.

The rain started falling about 5:15 a. m. and covered the area with .12 of an inch of water by 1 p. m. Forecaster hadn't expected the rainfall until about 3 p. m. today.

Although showers are forecast, they aren't expected to cool the area much. A hot and humid 88 to 92-degree high is due Friday. Cooler weather may arrive Saturday.

Water officials, conservation officers and agricultural agents hailed the rain as a life-saver.

Edmond W. Alchin, county agricultural agent, said the rain was worth "a million dollars" to county farmers, and that a good soaking would revive most crops.

"Pasture crops and second-cutting hay suffered the greatest setback," he said, "and there may be some dollar-and-cents hay loss. But other crops should snap back."

Find Dynamite Beneath House

Police Say Boys Took 20 Sticks to Stage Fireworks Spree

Twenty sticks of dynamite stolen by two boys who planned to explode it in Murphy Park were found today by Pontiac Police. One stick, wired to explode, was underneath the house of one of the youths.

The boys, aged 12 and 13, said they were preparing to blow up the single stick first to test it out. The other 19 sticks were cached in a gulley in the park.

Police described the explosives as being "extremely treacherous" as they contained a high percentage of nitroglycerin. They said a bolt of lightning or any other fairly strong electrical current would have ignited the stick under the house.

Detective Sgt. John DePauw arrested the boys this morning on a house break-in investigation and they led police to the dynamite.

They admitted stealing it Monday night from Slater's Pontiac Building Supplies Co. at 451 E. Wilson Ave. They also took 20 caps and extension wires.

James Green, company manager, said the single stick would have been powerful enough to "have blown up the house."

DePauw and Detective Olin Hoffman removed the dynamite from the house and field, then turned it over to the building supply company.

Company officials said they would blow it up, as it has become moist, making it even more dangerous.

The juveniles are expected to be turned over to Oakland County juvenile authorities later today.

Saturday Is Deadline on Campaign Charges

So that everyone will have an equal chance on local political issues the Press is establishing a deadline on campaign statements. No last minute charges from either side will be published in the Pontiac Press after Saturday, July 31. This pertains both to news columns and the Voice of the People. To help voters make their selections, biographical information on primary candidates in the state senate and the U.S. House of Representatives nomination races appears on page 15.

Navy Orders 4th Carrier, 2 More Atom Submarines

WASHINGTON (AP)— The Navy today announced the award of contracts for construction of a fourth big aircraft carrier of the Forrestal type and for two more atomic-powered submarines, the third and fourth of the new type undersea craft.

Rear Adm. William D. Leggett, chief of the Navy's Bureau of Ships, said the new 60,000-ton giant carrier will be built by the New York Naval shipyard at Brooklyn.

One of the new atomic-powered subs will be constructed at the Portsmouth Naval shipyard at Kittery, Maine. The other will be built by the Electric Boat division of the General Dynamics Corp. at Groton, Conn., where the first two nuclear-powered subs were constructed.

Of the first two, the Nautilus already has been launched and presumably is about ready for trial runs, although the Navy has made no announcement about this. The second, the Seawolf, is under construction.

Leggett also confirmed a previous announcement that the Portsmouth yard in addition will build a new "snorkel-type" attack submarine of the Tang class in the 1955 building program.

Leggett also said contracts are being worked out for these additional ships in the 1955 program.

Two destroyers with the Quincy, Mass., shipyard of the Bethlehem Steel Co.; four destroyer escorts with the New York Shipbuilding Corp., Camden, N.J.; two utility landing craft of a new design as a development contract with the Staten Island, N.Y., yard of the Bethlehem Steel Co.

Baby Succumbs After Scalding

Child Turned on Water by Accident While His Mother Bathed Him

A 15-month-old baby mortally scalded himself last night when he accidentally turned on the hot water faucet while being bathed in the kitchen sink of his Pontiac home.

The infant, Charles Singleton, died about 10 p.m. in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Singleton of 369 E. Tennyson Ave.

Pontiac Police said Mrs. Singleton, the mother of three other children, told them she left the kitchen momentarily and found the baby scalded when she returned.

The baby's father was at work in a Pontiac factory when the accident occurred.

The body is at the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home, where service will be held at 10 a.m. Saturday with Rev. M. J. Reilly of St. Michael Catholic Church officiating. Burial will be in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

New Legislation Calls for 35,000 Dwelling Units

Public Housing Is Only for Families Displaced by Slum Clearance

WASHINGTON (AP)—New housing legislation, one of Congress' major actions on President Eisenhower's legislative program this session, should boost home building by 10 to 20 per cent, Sen. Capehart (R-Ind) said today.

Capehart, Senate Banking Committee chairman, steered the compromise measure to Senate passage last night by a 59-21 roll call vote, thus sending the bill to the White House.

The Indiana senator said in an interview today the bill "contains a great deal of what the President asked." He commended the House for having agreed to a 35,000-unit public housing program, described by Senate public housing advocates as "a sham and a delusion."

That compromise provision, authorizing far less than Eisenhower recommended, was the main reason for the 21 "no" votes cast in the Senate on the overall bill.

The compromise wording allowing 35,000 public housing units in the next year would restrict this type of building to families actually displaced by federal slum clearance activities. Eisenhower had asked for 140,000 units over the next four years, without this restriction, and the Senate originally went along on that. But the House refused to authorize any new public housing when it passed its original bill.

Capehart said the conference committee which framed the final version of the bill was "indeed fortunate" to have won House agreement for even the restricted 35,000-unit public housing feature.

In other major respects, Capehart said, the new bill liberalizing down payments and extending repayment periods on homes bought with government-insured mortgages followed closely the housing proposals Eisenhower sent Congress early this year.

Capehart said the new housing bill is "certain to pump even more activity into a building industry already operating at a far higher rate than anticipated a year ago.

Under the bill, a house with an FHA-appraised value of $12,000, for instance, could have its down payment lowered from the present $2,400 to $1,200 if new and $1,650 if old. Loans could run as long as 30 years instead of the present limits of 20 to 30 years.

New Children's Librarian Likes Fishing Expeditions, Reading Books to Groups

From Our Birmingham Bureau

BIRMINGHAM — Baldwin Library has a new children's librarian who gets almost as big a kick out of fishing as she does out of helping youngsters find adventure and information in books.

Rounding out her first month at the library is 22-year-old Kathleen Piket, who came to the Birmingham library from her hometown of Kalamazoo.

She spent six years in the Kalamazoo library system and studied library science at Western Michigan College.

Miss Piket got her first close-up of Birmingham youngsters, en masse this week when the first in a series of story hours was held. Thirty children turned out for the session, which was held on the library lawn.

Holding outdoor meetings is nothing new for Miss Piket, who was head counselor at a camp near Comstock, Mich. for two years.

The blue-eyed, black-haired librarian says she loves all outdoors sports and activities, but likes fishing best of all. She recalls many fishing trips with her father, who is account superintendent for the Consumers Power Co. in Kalamazoo.

Miss Piket chose library work "back in the ninth grade," she says.

"We had to find out what we would like to do when we got older. I went down and talked to the people at the Kalamazoo Public Library. I went to work there as a page a year later.

"I knew that I wanted to work with books and I always liked children so I decided that as a children's librarian I would be able to combine both."

Miss Piket holds a teachers' certificate from college but has never taught in a school.

She has a large collection of classical music recordings and has started a small collection of paintings. Her favorite reading: Historical fiction.

Claude R. Leland

BIRMINGHAM—Claude R. Leland, 80, of 436 Glengary Rd., died at his residence yesterday after a two-month illness.

He was born on Sept. 6, 1873, in Northfield Township, Washtenaw County.

Survivors are one daughter Mrs. Gardnier C. Vose of Birmingham, two granddaughters, one brother Ira Leland of Tacoma, Wash., two sisters Mrs. Gertrude Suck of Winter Park, Fla., Mrs. Anna Shinar of Highland Park.

Graveside service will be conducted Saturday at 11 a.m. at the Leland Cemetery, Northfield Township, with burial there. The body is at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co., Birmingham.

Additional Rainfall Forecast for Pontiac drizzle, City Water Superintendent Joseph W. Gable said it "looks swell."

"We've got four wells turned off now and this rain should cut lawn sprinkling use way down during the next few days," Gable stated.

He said water pumpage dropped 900,000 gallons yesterday from Tuesday's summer high of 20,333,448 gallons, and pointed out that no sprinkling restrictions are contemplated.

Despite the rain, other Oakland County communities continued their sprinkling bans. Emergency watering restrictions remain in effect in Birmingham and Royal Oak.

The threat of serious forest and meadow fires was virtually eliminated by the rain, according to Marvin C. Hartwig, the Michigan Conservation Department's forest fire office for Oakland, Wayne, Macomb and Monroe counties.

Yesterday, when no letup in the drought was in sight, Hartwig said the forest fire danger was nearing the "explosive" stage.

He said he was called upon to fight four fires during the two-week dry period and expressed the fear that the number of field and wood fires would materially increase if the drought dragged on.

Today's rain was the first in Oakland County since July 14 when .31 of an inch was recorded.

The entire month has been unusually dry. Only 1.15 inches of rain have fallen, compared with a normal July precipitation of 2.91 inches.

Detroit was hit even harder. The weather bureau there recorded only .38 of an inch.

After two days of 90-degree weather, the mercury failed to reach that mark in Pontiac yesterday. The high yesterday was 89 degrees; the low, 71.

The mercury stood at 70 degrees at 8 a.m. today in downtown Pontiac, then rose to 71 at 2 p.m.

Meanwhile Gov. Williams, unopposed in his party for a fourth term, appeared on a Detroit TV program with Philip A. Hart, candidate for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor.

Williams, for the first time dropping self-imposed "neutrality" said, "I hope (Hart) is nominated next Tuesday.

Until Wednesday night, Williams had declined to comment on the Democratic lieutenant governor's race, in which George S. Fitzgerald is the other candidate.

Royal Oak Twp. Justice Dies

Richard Broder Was With Ford Motor Co. for 34 Years

Richard V. Broder, 56, Royal Oak Township justice for the past 20 years, died Wednesday at 3 p.m. in North General Hospital, Detroit.

Broder, of 27029 Barrington, Royal Oak Township, suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Monday while on his job at the Ford Dearborn Plant. He had just returned to work following a two-month medical leave. Broder was admitted to the hospital Tuesday.

A former township board member, he served as a deputy under Sheriff Frank Schram. He was employed at Ford for 34 years.

Surviving besides his widow, Sadie, are three sons, Richard of Royal Oak Township, Paul of Mt. Clemens, and Airman Second Class John, of Selfridge Air Force Base, and two daughters, Mrs. George Corey of Hazel Park, and Alice M., at home, and two sisters.

Funeral arrangements are pending at the Sullivan and Son Funeral Home, Royal Oak.

Prayer service was held today at the William F. Davis Funeral Home for Anthony Smith, infant son of Prince and Martha Sain Smith of 65 Gillespie Ave. Burial was in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Born in Pontiac July 25 the baby died the following day. He is survived by this parents.

Mrs. Leo Sillers

Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Leo (Mary) Sillers, 49, who died in Cheboygan Hospital at 1:30 p.m. Wednesday. Mrs. Sillers was the wife of a former city fireman, Leo Sillers, whom she married here in March, 1929.

Born in Cheboygan March 30, 1905 she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brandau.

Mrs. Sillers was a member of the Methodist Church at Levering, the OES, White Shrine and the Metropolitan Club Auxiliary of Pontiac. She moved to Levering four years ago.

Besides her husband she is survived by her mother who resides in Cheboygan, a daughter, Mrs. Lyle Short of Levering and three grandchildren. There also are four brothers and three sisters surviving.

Funeral will be Saturday at 2 p.m. from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home. Dr. Milton H. Bank of Central Methodist Church will officiate. The body will be at the funeral home after 8 p.m. on Friday.

Pumping of Water Sets a New Record

BIRMINGHAM—An all-time high water pumpage record was set in the 24-hour period ending at 8 a.m. today, it was reported by Assistant Fire Chief Park Smith.

The city system pumped 5,430,000 gallons of water, Smith said. The previous high record was set Saturday.

Meanwhile, falling rain has at least temporarily relieved the situation.

"Today was the first in 12 days that the pumps have not been used during the daylight hours," Smith stated. "Of course, it may only be for the day, but right now our water situation is all right."

Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley promised a crackdown on citizens who continue to violate water restrictions imposed by the city.

In a special order yesterday he told officers they could sign court complaints against citizens refusing to comply or continuing to violate after once being warned.

Landing Craft's Inventor Sentenced to 1-2 Years

DETROIT (AP) — The Bay City inventor of a newfangled landing craft was sentenced today to one to two years in prison for his part in selling $60,000 in profit shares of a deal that fell through.

Recorder's Judge W. McKay Skillman sentenced George G. Eddy, 54, to one to two years imprisonment.

Eddy's business partner, Marvin P. Longyear, 34, of 29340 14 Mile Rd., Birmingham, was placed on five years probation for his part in the shares scheme. The first month must be spent in the Detroit House of Correction.

Eddy and Longyear were convicted July 1 by a jury which found them guilty of selling profit certificates without a state license. They were accused of selling royalty certificate shares in a "twin skiff shallow draft landing boat." The revolutionary craft was Navy tested but rejected in 1951.

Petroleum products were first exported from the U. S. in 1861, some of them in sailing ships.

Duke of Edinburgh Sizing Up Canada

OTTAWA (UP)—The Duke of Edinburgh returned to Canada today to look rather than be looked at.

Canadians ogled him and the then Princess Elizabeth during their 1951 royal visit. This time, tour officials said, Philip wants to see Canada and the Canadians. During his three-week "informal sightseeing" visit only three full-scale royal receptions are scheduled.

The Duke's visit will include a look at Canada's booming industry, military units, the British Empire games in Vancouver, the far northland and the Quebec-Labrador iron ore development.

Bostonians Cough Up

BOSTON (UP) — More than 300 persons yearly are brought to the Massachusetts Eye & Ear Infirmary for the removal of foreign objects they have swallowed. The objects range from peachstones to poker chips.

Bob Considine Finds:

Owning a Home Changes Outlook on Many Things

ALLENHURST, N.J. (INS)—Editor's note: The writer of the following understatement is a bum who never owned a conviction, much less a home. And still doesn't. But he made a $10 deposit on one of those old Jersey shore jobs the other day—the architect was Charles Addams—and he has flipped. The author, that is. Not Addams. Addams flipped years ago.)

Should've got it for less. Should've said, "Are you kidding?" and walked out, six abreast. It's that kid Barry's fault. Should never have taken him with us to look at the place.

Some poker-face, that one. Warned him to alternate between snarling "N-N-N-N-yah, so what?" and crying hysterically, "I hate it, hate it, hate it."

But what he did! Kept turning cartwheels on the old lawns, and rolling ecstatically in the flowers. Kept saying in wide-eyed wonder, "Gee, this will be my room." Or, "This is where I'll keep the bike." Or, "I'm inviting all the kids from the beach over for a feed. Boy, what a grill!"

Tried to kick him. Missed. Hurt knee. Now will never break 100.

That's odd. Never noticed that abandoned place across the street before. It's a downright eyesore.

Been coming down here, renting, for a few years, and never paid it any mind. Well! Got to do something about that, and real soon. Where's the mayor? How about a tart letter to the reader's corner of the Asbury Park newspaper?

Can see it now: "How long are property owners going to stand for unsightly conditions in Allenhurst, jewel of the Cadillac and canasta coast of Jersey? Let all elected officials remember that November is coming. Yours in sport, pro bono publico." That ought to bring them to their knees!

Hmmm. Who's that guy and pretty girl using my driveway for a U-turn? Some crust! Hey, Mac, don't you have no respect for no private property? Don't you know that a man's home is his Irene Castle?

How's that?—you say you saw me use your driveway like this plenty of times? Oh . . . hi, Ira and Enid.

Funny you two should be driving past just now. After all the times we free-loaded, I mean visited, you it looks like now we might be neighbors. I've put a sizeable down payment down on this place. The door's open, have a look. This way, please.

Mind the nasturtiums! What do you mean I ate a $750 orchid at your house one night while raiding the ice box? Was that the time I complained about the lettuce? That's a hot one. But, nevertheless, mind the nasturtiums. The way certain people I could name have been walking around here today since I put the down payment down you'd think nasturtiums grew on bushes.

Here we are. Mind using the doormat with the shoes? You know how it is, when you walk across grass. All that chlorophyll. Hold it! I'll get you an ash tray for that cigarette, Enid.

I always used to say, when spending weekends with you folks, that ashes are good for carpets. But a funny thing happened today, just after I put the down payment down. Amazing coincidence, really. Picked up a copy of the January, 1942, Reader's Digest at the dentist's and there was a piece in it, big as life, saying ashes actually are not good for rugs. Can you beat that?

Just a minute, please, Ira, there must be a coaster around here some place. You know, they don't make furniture the way they used to. At least, they don't finish it as well. I've been putting drinks down on pianos for years—like I used to at your house — and nothing happened. Now, all of a sudden, matter of fact I noticed it only today, drinks leave rings.

I guess that's pretty hard for you folks to believe. But drinks actually leave big white rings. Oh . . . you heard about rings, hey? I had missed that copy of the Digest. Overseas.

Want you folks to spend a weekend with us. The least we could do. If you can make it, I want you folks to know that this will really be Liberty Hall. Come and go when you please, eat when you please, sleep when you please, play when you please. Matter of fact, after I put the down payment down today I typed a 10-page schedule of fun activities for weekend guests and tacked it on each guest-room door.

The schedule is a little tight, maybe, oh, like surf-bathing from 7:38 to 7:49 each morning, but, after all, people want that sort of thing on the Jersey Coast.

Must you leave so soon? I wanted to tell you about a stiff note I plan to send to the local police about ragweed.

Exhibit of Extinct Birds in New Zealand Museum

CHRISTCHURCH, N. Z. (UP)—A large new exhibit of New Zealand's extinct bird, the moa, has been added to the Canterbury Museum.

Perfect skeletons of two of the four types of moas found in the Pyramid Valley are displayed. Several moa eggs, including one put together from over 200 fragments, are part of the valuable exhibit.

Skeletons of other of New Zealand's extinct birds — the giant rail, the flightless duck and others —have been included by Dr. Roger Duff, director of the museum.

BRUNSWICK, Me. (UP) — Ben Glovsky is taking steps to improve his filling station business. He is remodeling the building to provide free sleeping quarters for drowsy truck drivers.

Service Car by Mistake

WINSTED, Conn. (UP) — Mrs. Jeannette Venezia got her new car greased and oiled for nothing. A service station attendant picked up the wrong car when a customer asked him to service it. Mrs. Venezia's was parked in front of the auto the attendant should have taken. It wasn't until after her car was greased and oiled that the mistake was discovered.

THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1954

Pontiac and Oakland County Suffering

This Nation needs roads.

It needs them desperately.

One of the major problems facing the country today is the traffic snarl that grips northern Maine and clutches everything in sight from there to San Diego.

We're swamped everywhere.

The operation of automobiles, trucks and buses has become so widespread that traffic jams have seized the entire nation. Practically every main artery in the United States should be widened from two to four times. We mean that — TWO to FOUR times.

Corners are nightmares.

And often we've come to a complete standstill and inch our way forward as that left hand turn problem knocks everything for a loop.

We all pay the price for having allowed the use of automobiles to catapult beyond our ability to provide the roads. Of course, financial aid has lagged badly and this failure may be the main source of our national bottleneck.

President Eisenhower sees the problems in its entirety and recommends a fifty billion dollar road program over a period of 10 years. We fear this is insufficient. By the time an additional decade has been ripped from the calendar, we'll be precisely where we are now unless the program is stepped up.

The number of motor vehicles has increased from 30 to 58 million and the additional 28 million are all congregating at favorite corners and pursuing the best traveled and most desirable routes.

Governor G. Mennen Williams senses the enormity of the problem and is proposing a $500,000,000 highway program.

Governor, this is a splendid start. The Press applauds and stands with you. But it's only a beginning. The Press has no hopes that the current Wolverine muddle can be solved by no greater a sum. This now is a joint State and Federal problem.

State and local committees should be named immediately to come up with specific recommendations, for the emergency isn't something we face in the future.

Pontiac, Michigan has a tremendous stake in this problem for we make cars, buses, trucks, coaches and trailers. Everything that rolls has a cradle in Oakland County. The life, living and prosperity of all our people are involved. Each of us should constitute a one man and one woman committee forever championing the cause of bigger and better highways.

Accept this as YOUR nomination.

Red Attacks Despicable

Red China knows now that American military planes will fight back if attacked.

Their fliers learned this the hard way after two of our planes shot down two Chinese fighters which had attacked them. This second display of Chinese brutality took place outside the 12 mile limit off the South China island of Hainan.

That the attack was wholly unprovoked and despicable is shown by the facts. It came while our planes from the carriers Philippine Sea and Hornet were hunting for survivors of a British airliner shot down by the Reds.

Three Americans are among the victims of that attack on an unarmed plane.

Peiping has apologized and offered to consider British claims for damages. In explanation the offending flier was said to have mistaken the transport for a Nationalist Chinese plane.

A strong U. S. protest, sent to Peiping for us by the British government, should convince the Reds that this country never will submit to such treatment by a trigger happy Nation.

We commend to the leaders in Peiping a study of Congressional reaction to these outrages. Without exception every lawmaker who expressed himself backed the order to our fliers to fight back if attacked.

Mahoney Named to U. N.

Deserved honor has come to Charles H. Mahoney, widely known Detroit attorney and insurance executive.

He has been nominated by President Eisenhower to be a member of the United States delegation to the United Nations General Assembly for a term beginning in September.

Mahoney, now 68, is a graduate of Fisk University and the University of Michigan Law School. For many years he has been active in State and local government circles. He will take to the U. N. a fine understanding of racial problems gained as a member of the late Governor Groesbeck's Interracial Committee during and after World War I.

We believe the President has made an excellent addition to our delegation at U. N. headquarters.

Another trouble with the weather is that it is rarely stimulating enough to make us feel like working.

Democrats Are Trying to Regain Power by Using a Socialistic Regime Program

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

The Democrats are doing their utmost to regain power in state and national government. Their object, to take up the Socialist's program where it was interrupted by the ouster of Truman and gang.

Socialism is the parent of Communism, and all other "Isms" including New Deal "Ism." Socialism seeks to crush the human spirit, regiment the mind, and regulate the affairs of the individual. Socialism regards the citizen as the slave of the State! The Stars-and-Stripes is the symbol of American "Ism," and it regards the State as the servant of the citizens.

Jefferson said the best government was the one that governed least. Let us not forget the last words of Nathan Hale and George Washington and those who fought and died. . . . for our freedom.

For labor to strike is damaging. The milk strike caused farmers thousands of dollars damage. One farmer set his milk and gave the skimmed milk to his neighbor for pigs.

Each time labor strikes we pay more for the different things we buy and more men are out of work. It does no good for labor to strike.

Case Records of a Psychologist

Newsboys Obtain All Around Experience in Economics by Operating Paper Routes

Byron has 500,000 twins in America at this very minute. He is not the type who becomes a juvenile criminal or a Prodigal Son who wastes money trying to buy friends with his foolish splurging. CM's rank with school teachers and clergy in offering the best antidotes for juvenile delinquency.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-370: Byron L., aged 18, has operated a newspaper route for his entire four years in high school.

"Now he is going to college next term," the Circulation Manager of his big newspaper informed me.

"And we have awarded him a scholarship, along with several other boys who have done outstanding work.

"Dr. Crane, we keep careful records on all of our newspaper carriers and we know who are most faithful and who are careless.

"So the boys who work hardest get their reward in these annual college scholarships."

Previously I have mentioned that newspaper carriers obtain the very best type of training in our "free enterprise" system.

They gain the broad, over-all viewpoint of economics. For example, they see the production or manufacture of newspapers at the printing press.

Then they purchase their papers at wholesale. Next, they deliver the papers, to placate irate customers, and sell newcomers on taking a subscription. This is called merchandising.

Finally, they do their own collecting, so they keep books, and subtract their costs from their gross sales till they see their "net" profit.

No other occupation in America equals this teen-age profession of handling a private newspaper route.

For economics involves production of goods, plus their merchandising (including advertising and selling), as well as credit of finance.

"But my husband makes a liberal salary so my boy doesn't need to earn money," many a society mother has protested to me.

But that is wrong. The sons of wealthy parents need this even more than do the poor youths.

For the wise handling of money is not inherited. A famous and very successful manufacturer or merchant or banker can't pass along his personal experience by inheritance.

And because his family is now living at a high standard of living, his child is actually handicapped in obtaining a true appraisal of the meaning of money.

He is likely to become a Prodigal Son or a wastrel, for he never has spent the long, grueling hours in toil, as during heat waves and snowstorms, to acquire the financial acumen and dependability which his successful Dad underwent as a teen-ager.

So you parents who are fairly well off financially, are doubly in need of letting your son take a course in basic American business via operating their own newspaper route.

Indeed, it would be well worth it if you actually had to pay $10 per week to the Circulation Manager of his newspaper to have him train your son faithfully for 50 weeks in the year in selling, advertising, credit, etc.

The CM's of newspapers are giving this sterling training to over 500,000 newspaper boys every year. These young men are above average in school marks, too, as well as in their health.

And they are the very best type of boys to select for college scholarships as well as for employes.

Girls, they also make topnotch husbands in later life, for they can talk gracefully and are courteous, hard working men who know how to handle money as well as people. That's a rare combination today.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3c stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.)

Aunt Het

I've got so I don't like mirrors. I feel so good I'd still think myself young if I never saw what I look like.

David Lawrence Says:

Dem Filibuster Provides GOP With Election Ammo

WASHINGTON — Maybe the Democrats in the Senate have, by their 13-day filibuster, unwittingly furnished the country with a very persuasive argument for electing a Republican majority in both houses of Congress next autumn.

For the filibuster will be pointed out as an example of "obstructionism" and how the next two years can produce legislative chaos if the Democrats gain control of Congress.

Until just a few weeks ago, in recognition of the political and personal popularity of President Eisenhower, the Democrats in Congress were boasting that they were doing more to secure the passage of the main items in the Eisenhower legislative program than were the members of his own party.

But now, when it becomes apparent that the Republicans are showing unity as the major issues come to final votes in the closing days of the session, there is a change of tactics. The tax bill passed the House by enough Republican votes, irrespective of any Democratic aid.

Whatever their reasons for deciding to spend 13 days in obstructing public business, the Democrats—and it appears to have been a concerted move — unintentionally gave some valuable ammunition to the Republican stump speakers.

Thus, at a time when matters have reached a critical stage throughout the world and important appropriation bills containing measures of military and economic aid were held up by the 13-day filibuster, the delay was dramatically emphasized before the whole country.

The Republican spokesman will ask the voters to decide whether they can expect the Democrats to "cooperate" or to "obstruct" and they will point to the filibuster as a glaring example of party irresponsibility.

President Eisenhower expects to make a number of speeches in behalf of the Republican Party before the autumn congressional elections take place. His whole effort will be aimed at getting a vote of confidence from the American people.

If they want his leadership continued and if they want the kind of administration for which such a preponderant majority of the people voted in 1952, will they get it by electing Democrats next autumn who will be committed to follow the party strategy of doing everything possible to obstruct the legislative program of the President and to wreck the administration?

Before the 13-day filibuster such an argument might have been regarded as the usual theme of a congressional campaign in the middle of an administration.

But after the filibuster and the tactics used to prevent the passage of important bills, the country will not need much convincing that extreme partisanship still holds sway in the minority party and that two years of frustration lie ahead if the President's party is not given a majority at the polls.

Some of the Republicans have themselves done a great deal of harm to the President's program by diversionary measures, but not one of them can be justly convicted of having actually held up public business, as did the 13-day filibuster.

What is important is that the Democratic Party did not accidentally take the course that was recently followed but decided on it in a deliberate way after conferences among the party members.

Wrapped up in the filibuster question, of course, is the attitude of southern Democrats who see in that technique the only way to keep from being passed a flood of legislation applying the non-segregation principle to a lot of problems, from public housing to government contracts, and other laws to which provisions objectionable to the South could be attached.

If these ever come to a vote, there's a majority to adopt them and hence the southern Democrats feel they have a vested right, so to speak to ... ping the filibustering technique uncurbed.

Some of the Republican Party have not been inclined to press such questions in deference to some of their southern colleagues who were voting with them on basic issues of conservatism versus radicalism.

But the South lately has been sending to Congress some radicals who do not vote with the Northern conservatives, and there is a tendency now among northern Republicans to feel that the time may have come to force a strict cloture rule through the Senate so as to prohibit unlimited debate.

The southern Democrats and the northern Republicans have operated a conservative coalition for many years but the attitude of some of the southerners seems to have been changing, especially toward the government-ownership side.

So the Republicans in the northern states will have a much more penetrating issue on the subject of party responsibility than they have had before if they begin to take up the unlimited-debate rule which the Democrats by concerted action have frankly utilized to try to block legislation.

Few issues are as easy to explain to the voters as the one that says a majority shall rule and a minority shall not obstruct.

And the big issue could be whether the Democrats should be given an opportunity to control Congress and to bring on more of the kind of irresponsible government which the 13-day filibuster so vividly illustrated.

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

(International News Service)

That candidatial spinster Stevenson is coaching the White House how to mind the baby.

Adlai was out in Oregon weeping 48-caliber tears over the melancholy state of the incarcerated incumbents.

Steevey went to the Northwest for a better look at the Southeast. For the first time in forty years there is danger of Oregon sending a Democratic senator to Washington. Now you know why Adlai gave his sobbing muscles a workout.

Senator Wayne Morse is in the Senate but he is polishing no Hood River apples. He runs as independent as hair on the back of the neck.

Steevey claimed Morse was a Republican as long as he could stand it. But he doesn't explain why Morse never became a Democrat. The switch has been made by politicians in the prime of their ambitions.

The problems in Oregon are tidewater oil reserves, natural resources, hydro-electric power, Snake River dam, irrigation, low level dams, too much starch in neck-bands and squatters sovereignty in drugstore telephone booths.

He also mentioned that Harry Truman had an ear for music critics, the Administration for double-parking tea-wagons at five o'clock, said the greatest surplus was Republican campaign promises and drove off in a four-wheeled huff.

There's one gimmick you can guarantee about Adlai. When he starts viewing with alarm he goes wide screen.

This Steevey fellow is one of the best talkers running loose in the land. But we agree with Tom Payne that these are times that try men's solos.

He called upon all patriotic Democrats to help Ike Eisenhower out.

You can take that one two ways. Straight or with sweet spirits of ammonia.

Let Your Children Think Things Out and Set a Fair Example Before Them

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

"I wish I could talk to my parents the way I can talk to you," a teenager often tells a neighbor. "You're so tolerant and understanding."

A neighbor can afford to be relaxed and amused and somehow respectful of the teenager's craziest ideas because he is not the parent. His pride is not hurt.

"My boy is becoming a stranger to me; he never confides in me, anymore," parents remark.

Are you and your youngster becoming strangers because you do not respect him?

When he angrily and defiantly expresses ideas which to you are idiotic, immoral, Communistic, dangerous, what do you do?

Treat him as if he were middle-aged, like you, and should long since have given up such fool attitudes?

Or do you demonstrate by your interest that you respect his right to express his ideas, no matter how abhorrent they may be to you? For courtesy begets courtesy, and you are the example-setter.

If you do not hear him out, he will find someone who will. Your anger, ridicule, loud disapproval, will not combat his wrong attitudes.

And beware—if he compliantly swallows your pre-cooked ideas, he will swallow those of any other propagandist!

Instead of denouncing his "unreasonable attitude," you will promote mutual respect and friendship if you first hear him out, and then put forward for his consideration:

(1) Your own ideas, stated with clarity and conviction; (2) The teachings of great men, past and present, through literature and the arts;

(3) Visible examples of the living of such ideas in your own community and the nation; (4) Your hope that the discussion will be continued from time to time, when you will both shed new light on it, learning, one from the other.

Let your children think.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self addressed envelope is enclosed, etc.

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Shoeshine boys offered to donate an hour of their time and earnings to the YMCA fund drive. Three times, the "Hour of Shine" was scheduled. But each time the boys were unable to get out on the streets because of rain.

Consumption of Canned Vegetables Is Doubled

CHICAGO (UP) — Americans are eating twice as many canned and frozen vegetables as they did 25 years ago.

M. P. Cortilet, vice-president of a large can-making firm, said farmers harvested more than 13,000,000,000 pounds of vegetables for canning and freezing in 1953, compared with 6,000,000 pounds in 1929.

The present total provides 82 pounds for each person in the country.

Machine Tans Your Hide —in Four Minutes Flat

SOMERVILLE, Mass. (UP)—Here's a machine that will tan your hid—in four minutes flat.

Developed by Secotan, Inc., after 10 years' research, the revolutionary machine turns hides into leather hundreds of times faster than former process.

The unit, with a four-man crew, will turn out material for 10,000 pair of shoes daily.

Convict-Author Has 1 Day Left

Caryl Chessman Hopes Supreme Court Appeal Will Save Life

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP) — Convict-author Caryl Chessman has only one day left to outsmart the executioner. He has done it before and hopes to do it again.

The 32-year-old convicted rapist and kidnaper said he would appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court today.

Tomorrow he is scheduled to die in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber at 10 a.m.

For six years Chessman's legal maneuvers have saved him from execution.

* * *

On May 22, 1948 he was convicted in Los Angeles of eight counts of robbery, four of kidnaping, two counts of sex perversion on victims, one count of attempted robbery, one of attempted criminal assault and one of auto theft.

Chessman, acting as his own attorney told the jury:

"I never molested any woman. Either acquit me of these charges or give me the death sentence."

Chessman has made his own funeral arrangements and rewritten his will disposing of estimated $20,000 proceeds from his book, "Cell 2455, Death Row." He set up trust funds for three children of people who had befriended him, but refused to make their names public.

Chessman's attorney Berwyn A. Rice said he would ask one of the justices of the U.S. Supreme Court for a stay of execution while a new petition is filed.

Hot Dogs Pay Off

GENEVA, N. Y. (UP)—Hotdogs during the football season provide a spring tour of the south for the Hobart College lacrosse team. For the past three years, members of the team have manned their hot-dog stand at all Hobart football games. Proceeds from sale of the dogs have paid expenses for 24 players during the week-long lacrosse junket.

Big-Spenders Ride

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Free taxi service for customers who buy at least $10 worth of groceries was recently started at a super-market here. The service operates between 9 a.m. and 11 a.m. six days weekly. The only apparent requirements are that the customer get to the store under his own power and have the necessary cash to buy the required amount of groceries.

Clear Hanging Mystery

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (UP) — Campus and New Haven police rushed to Calhoun College at Yale University when a motorist reported seeing the figure of a man hanging in one of the rooms. Authorities discovered it was an effigy. However, they couldn't tell whom the effigy was supposed to represent.

A single redwood tree in California has been known to produce 100,000 board feet of usable lumber at the sawmill.

Behavior Nets Syrup

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — Two University of Illinois football players and a Navy man found they were no match for a waitress with her dander up. They got into an argument over the way she was handling their order. She warned them to behave or she would douse them with maple syrup. They didn't so she did.

Waynesburg, Pa., Alert for Even a Spatter of Rain

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — A "rain crew" took up a vigil promptly at 12:01 a.m. today to record the slightest precipitation in this southwestern Pennsylvania community of 8,000.

The crew, says Attorney John Daily, will stay on duty at the courthouse steps until midnight tonight—if necessary—to keep faith with Waynesburg's tradition.

The tradition goes back to 1877 when someone, for reasons best known to himself, said it would rain on July 29 and it did.

* * *

Since then, according to Daily's statistics, it has failed to rain July 29 on only seven occasions.

In many cases, Daily admits, the rain has just been a sprinkle but that was enough to keep the tradition alive. Somewhere along the line Daily became "chief rain prophet."

And, somewhere along the line, the Chamber of Commerce thought it would be a good idea to publicize the tradition. For the past few years Daily has been in the custom of wagering a hat with some celebrity that it would rain. He has quite an accumulation of headgear now. So many, in fact, he doesn't bet hats anymore.

This year's "fall guy," is Bill Corum, sports writer and president of Churchill Downs where betting, especially on Derby Day, is somewhat of a tradition itself.

If it does not rain, Corum has promised to make Daily an honorary Kentucky colonel. If Daily loses, he says Corum will become the unofficial chief rain prophet.

Farmers hereabouts are hoping Corum wins his bet. It hasn't rained since last Friday and the crops could use more than a little precipitation.

Jap Scientist Blames H-Bomb for Cool Days

TOKYO (AP)—A Japanese scientist is blaming the H-bomb tests last spring for still another development—chilly summer weather.

Dr. Hidetoshi Arakawa said that because of the lower temperatures a record low rice crop is in prospect this year.

Army Plans to Destroy Freedom Village, Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Freedom Village, the first stop for nearly 5,000 United Nations prisoners of war repatriated last year, soon will disappear from the Korean scene.

The 8th Army yesterday ordered dismantling of the huge warehouse building used to process the 4,909 ex-POWs in the 33-day repatriation which started last August at Munsan.

Claims Ford Estate

DETROIT (AP)—No date has been set for a hearing requested Wednesday by Edgar Leroy Bryant, brother of the late Mrs. Henry Ford, on his claim for the entire $28,000,000 estate left by his sister for the "many services" he performed for Ford. The probate court claim i scontested by Henry Ford II, Benson Ford and William Clay Ford, executors of Mrs. Ford's estate.

Syrian Judges, Lawyers Strike for Higher Pay

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP)—Courts in Syria put up their shutters today as judges went on strike for higher pay. Lawyers came out in sympathy.

Cabinet ministers had at least one good reason for settling the dispute quickly. Elections are coming up—and a justice of the peace must head up each vote-counting committee.

One-quarter of all the inhabitants of Argentina live in Buenos Aires.

Cabbie Drinks Whisky, Wakes Up Minus $15

TOKYO (AP)—Two passengers left a bottle of whisky with cab driver Kiichi Tanaka to protect him against the chill night air while they went to call a friend.

Tanaka tilted the bottle a couple times. He woke up three hours later this morning minus the equivalent of about $15.

Analysis showed the whisky was reinforced with sleeping drugs.

Law Men Foiled by Ohio Slaying

Hold Meeting to Discuss Brutal Murder Case in Cleveland Suburb

CLEVELAND (AP) — Cuyahoga County law officers today planned a meeting to decide their next step in the case of the brutal slaying of a Bay Village socialite.

Since July 4; when 31-year-old Marilyn Sheppard was found dead in her blood-soaked bed, police have been unable to come up with enough evidence to charge anyone with the crime. But today, the chief law enforcement officials of Cleveland and the swank suburb have a meting scheduled with County Prosecutor Frank T. Cullitan.

"We're going to decide whether present findings justify an arrest," Cleveland Police Chief Frank W. Story said yesterday. He said it was his personal opinion they don't. However, final decision on the filing of charges rests with the prosecutor.

The victim's husband, Dr. Samuel Sheppard, prominent 30-year-old osteopath, has been undergoing most of the police questioning — much of it bearing on his relationship with a pretty laboratory technician who used to work with him in Bay View Hospital.

The girl, Miss Susan Hayes, 24, who came here voluntarily from California to testify, yesterday was quoted by officials as saying romance earlier this year, and for some time past, she and the doctor carried on a

Angler Hooks Big One, but It's Cow—Not Carp

ST. IVES, England (AP)—A man went fishing for carp here and hooked a cow, name of Lucy.

Lucy was grazing among the bulrushes of the River Ouse when she spotted the angler's gaily colored float yesterday. She chewed up and swallowed flota, hook, sinker and 50 feet of line.

The angler, out of sight behind a clump of trees, knew he had a big one on, but was unaware it had hooves instead of fins. Other fishermen in the vicinity reported later he made a game attempt to reel Lucy in, but the line broke.

* * *

At milking time farmer Jerry Anderson saw a length of line trailing from Lucy's mouth. He pulled out 30 feet of it.

A veterinary extracted another 20 feet, plus the float, hook and sinker, and said Lucy would recover.

Said Anderson:

Police Called Honestly

OMAHA (AP) — Police learned that Robert Viele is a conscientious man. He wanted to go fishing and he wanted to dig worms near a grain elevator. But he didn't want to trespass.

He went to the office door and tried to rouse someone. His efforts set off the burglar alarm.

Naughty Lion Takes Stroll in England

SOUTHPORT, England (AP)—A full-grown Abyssinian lion loping along a street touched off frantic phone calls yesterday which sent two carloads of policemen racing to the scene.

Helena Farrar, 16, got there first. Seizing the lion by the ear, she said:

"Simba, you naughty boy, come home immediately." The lion submitted meekly.

"Occasionally he takes a nibble at you, but it's all in fun."

Young Boy Suffocates in Closed Automobile

DOWNEY, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Frances Reichle put her 3-year-old son into the family automobile when she got ready to clean her house yesterday. The temperature was 90 degrees, so she rolled down the car windows to make the boy, Robert, more comfortable.

An hour later, Mrs. Reichle returned to the car. The windows were closed. Apparently the boy had rolled them up. Robert was unconscious on the seat.

At Maywood Hospital he was pronounced dead of suffocation.

The population of New York state increased 10 per cent between 1940 and 1950 but the number of people over 65 years old increased 39.3 per cent.

Grandchildren Liven Ike's Life

3 Young Eisenhowers Romp at White House During Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes these days there comes a tap at President Eisenhower's White House office window and a small voice calls: "Hi, Ike!"

That will be Dwight David Eisenhower II, the President's 6-year-old grandson, or maybe his sister Barbara Anne, who is 5. And the third Eisenhower grandchild, Susan, 2, is likely to be toddling close by on the patio just outside the chief executive's office.

• • •

The youngsters are visiting at the White House with their parents, Maj. and Mrs. John Eisenhower. The major is serving as an aide to the President for a few weeks before taking over a new assignment at Ft. Lavenworth, Kan.

The grandchildren all call the President "Ike" and that makes them part of the very small minority that still does.

He loves it. Mrs. Eisenhower is "Mamie" to the children and she likes that.

• • •

Like grandfathers all over the world, he figures out ways to spend as much time as possible with the kids. David and Barbara Anne and sometimes little Susan are up mornings in time to see him off to work in the White House office wing.

And it's no secret the President sometimes calls it quits a bit early in the afternoon to get together with them again.

Young David is becoming as great a golf enthusiast as his grandfather and they do some practicing together on the putting green recently built on the south White House lawn.

• • •

Officer Acquitted for Forcing Men to Stand in Sun

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — A wiry, one-eyed non-commissioned officer with six years of Army service behind him yesterday was cleared of charges that he kept 225 recruits at bone-taut attention for an hour in 92-degree heat.

Sgt. 1.C. Richard J. Witbeck, 24, of Wellington, Ohio, breathed a sigh of relief as a three-man, special court-martial board of three of his superior officers acquitted him after deliberating 40 minutes.

"I feel very good," Witbeck said outside the pine-paneled hearing room. "I'm glad it's all over."

The verdict thus wiped clean the slates of the two principals brought up on charges as a result of the June 21 punishment formation during which men were said to have passed out in the broiling sun, been revived with pails of water and forced back into line.

First Lt. Robert S. Morgan, 28, of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Witbeck's immediate superior and commander of Company "L," 272 Infantry Regiment, which stood the formation, was cleared of "dereliction of duty" charges last Friday.

Beef and Lamb Best Meat Values for This Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef and lamb look like your best bets for meat value in the nation's food stores this weekend.

Chuck roast again will be a favorite in the beef line, but you may also find specials on round roast, beef liver and chopped beef. However, few stores list prime ribs or steaks among their weekend specials.

Legs of lamb will be cheaper in many stores, and the price of lamb chops will be down as well. A few markets will drop pork chop prices by a couple of cents a pound.

Legs and rumps of veal will be on sale in a fairly large number of outlets.

Specials in seafood will be limited pretty much to two items—swordfish and shrimp.

Eggs, which went up last week, will be a couple of cents a dozen higher this weekend in many stores.

Your best buys in vegetables this week will be among those grown locally.

Most food stores will be featuring cantaloupes, Honeydew melons and Elberta peaches this weekend. Cantaloupes and Honeydews are about as cheap as they'll get this season.

Once again, cherries, plums, apricots and nectarines edged up in price along with citrus fruits.

Produce markets report more Bartlett pears arriving from west coast orchards, with prices down somewhat.

One chain says its coffee sales are down 10 to 19 per cent from a year ago and another discloses that it is selling 25 per cent less coffee than in 1953.

Authorities Seek Payees of War Claims Checks

Fred S. Galloway, director of the Oakland County Department of Veterans' Affairs, said today he is searching for an Oakland County couple so he can send them two checks totaling $1,359.

He said the U. S. War Claims Commission checks were sent to the former address of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Clark, but were returned to Washington when it was found the couple no longer lived there. Their former address was 5960 Osmun St.

Color Line Definitely Gone in All Ft. Riley Operations

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
(By International News Service)

FORT RILEY (INS) — About ten one evening, we drove by a protestant chapel, and late though Gen. P. D. Ginder, commanding it was, light showed through its open windows and a hymn floated out to us.

It was in Camp Forsythe, which with Camp Funston and Camp Whiteside makes up Fort Riley. My sons and I were with Maj. officer of the post and the 10th Infantry Division.

"We'll go in for a minute," said the general, and seeing me worried about my bare head, handed over his handkerchief. I knotted the corners, as I'd once seen hatless tourists do in Venice before entering the great cathedral of St. Marks, and with me strangely capped, we all went inside.

It was a simple chapel, not very large; the altar was plain and the pews empty. At an upright piano sat a boy in uniform, and up in a small balcony at the rear, a young woman played the organ.

They were practicing "Lead On, O King Eternal," starting it, stopping, re-playing. From the balcony, the woman called down softly, "This time I'll play the phrase first, you take it the second time, I'll take it the third. Let's try it again."

* * *

The boy at the piano, I learned later, was Pfc. Darrel Noles of Elkhart, Indiana, and the young woman at the organ was Beverly Anne Rutherford of Columbus, Ohio, wife of Cpl. Charles E. Rutherford.

It was a scene that could have taken place in any chapel anywhere on any hot summer evening, but there was one thing about it that wouldn't have been true of that scene before segregation came to an end in the armed services.

For as it happens, Pfc. Noles was white, and Beverly Anne Rutherford wasn't.

"Lead On, O King Eternal" is a beautiful hymn, and to me it was a beautiful and touching moment, sitting in the wooden pew of a Kansas chapel and hearing piano and organ play it phrase for phrase.

I had known that 17 per cent of Fort Riley's 18,500 personnel are Negro; I had seen white boys and Negro boys eating together in the service clubs and noncom clubs, and swimming together in the swimming pools.

* * *

That very morning, on the parade grounds, watching three battalions drill for a special parade to be given at Fort Leavenworth, I'd seen integration on the march, had seen men's places fixed only by their height, the tallest at one end of each line, the shortest at the other.

On every left shoulder of those 2200 men, I'd seen the crossed red bayonets on a blue powder keg—the insignia of the 10th Infantry: And when they swung around in formation, I'd seen their right shoulders—about one in every four wore the insignia of combat in World War II or Korea.

Above them were the faces, white faces and Negro faces, all young, all hot in the 105 degree heat above their green fatigues and under their metal helmets.

The only colors that mattered were the regimental colors, the colors of the fluttering guidons, the colors of shoulder patches, and the colors of the flag all these men had served, were serving and would serve.

And again in the nearly empty chapel, where the chords of the hymn reverberated more loudly than they would on Sunday morning when the practicing would be a thing of the past, I had seen this still-young policy of integration in another guise, and with another meaning.

As I said, it was a beautiful hymn, I'll hear it for a long time—and that boy's voice and that girl's, talking it over together.

Cohn Declines New Job Offer

Sen. McCarthy Tells of Refusal at Testimonial Dinner for Ex-Aide

NEW YORK (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis) says Roy Cohn, a principal in the bitter Army-McCarthy controversy, has declined an offer to serve as his personal consultant.

McCarthy spoke last night at a testimonial dinner for the 27-year-old Cohn, who recently resigned as chief counsel of the Senate permanent subcommitte on investigations, which is headed by McCarthy.

on my personal office staff as my personal representative on the committee," McCarthy said. "Roy turned it down. He said it would be like going out the front door and coming in the back door."

* * *

Both McCarthy and Cohn received ovations from some 2,000 $7.-a-plate dinner guests in the Hotel Astor ballroom. Sponsors of the affair said more than 6,000 ticket applications had to be turned down because of lack of space.

Cohn, responding to many addresses of praise, said he considered himself "extremely fortunate to have had the opportunity to oppose the Communist menace."

Outside the hotel, about 250 persons demonstrated against the dinner, carrying signs and chanting:

Farmhands Hitch Ride on 'Copter, Swear Off Flying

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP) — Chances are these two Formosan farmhands will think twice before again attempting to hitch a ride on a helicopter.

The Chinese Nationalist Air Force said one of its pilots set his 'copter down in a field for emergency repairs.

Two farmhands who had been watching ran to the craft and clung to its framework when he departed.

* * *

As the chopper gained altitude the two became terrified and screamed. The pilot, only then aware he had passengers, began a gentle descent.

Panic-stricken, one farmhand let go, dropping a few feet to the ground.

This caused the plane to lose balance and it crashed.

The pilot suffered injuries to both legs.

Tropical Storm Strikes Louisiana Coastline

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A tropical storm struck the thinly populated southwest Louisiana coast today and began moving inland toward a point east of Lake Charles.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said in an advisory at 4 a.m. the storm was carrying heavy rains and winds up to 60 miles an hour as it crossed the coastline about 25 miles east of the small fishing town of Cameron and about 40 miles southeast of Lake Charles.

Defense Sounds Familiar

DARLINGTON, S. C. (AP) — To Circuit Judge J. Henry Johnson, the murder defendant's story was just like scores of others he had heard. The other fellow looked like he was reaching for a gun, the defendant testified.

"I hope," Johnson remarked, "I will live to see the day when manufacturers no longer put hip pockets in men's trousers."

Biographical Sketches Pinpoint Primary Candidates

State Senate Race Draws 6 Republicans and 2 Dems

Six Republicans and two Democrats are seeking nomination as state senator in Tuesday's primary.

Considered chief contenders on the GOP ticket are William S. Broomfield and Howard K. Kelly, both of Royal Oak. Broomfield has been a state representative since 1948 and Kelley was recently elected mayor of Royal Oak.

Republican entries in the senatorial race were heightened by the withdrawal of Sen. George N. Higgins of Ferndale who has announced his intentions of seeking the secretary of state post.

Other Republican hopefuls are Frank M. Granger of Ortonville, Anthony Renne of Pontiac, Edward Morey of Milford and Richard D. Kuhn of Pontiac.

On the Democratic ticket Fred Elias of Hazel Park and Fred L. Hanscom of Royal Oak are doing serious campaigning to win the nomination.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD
(Republican)

A Royal Oak state representative for three terms, William S. Broomfield is now seeking the Republican nomination as candidate for the post of state senator.

BROOMFIELD

Broomfield, 32, lives at 1116 S. Lafayette St. and attended Royal Oak public schools. He served in the U.S. Air Corps during World War II and is a member of the Optimist Club, F. & A. M., American Legion, Chamber of Commerce and Lions.

FRANK M. GRANGER
(Republican)

Frank M. Granger, 60 of 4494 Granger Rd., Ortonville, is a Republican candidate for nomination as state senator from Oakland County.

GRANGER

He was graduated from Michigan State College with a B. S. degree in engineering and received a master's degree in engineering from New York University.

He has taught for 30 years and is a professor of aeronautical engineering at Wayne University.

Granger is a member of the Engineering Society of Detroit, the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences; the Michigan Education Assn.; Farm Bureau; American Legion; Farmer Rotary Club and Michigan Flying Farmers. He served in the European theater during World War I.

HOWARD K. KELLEY
(Republican)

Mayor of Royal Oak, Howard K. Kelley will seek the Republican nomination to the post of state senator from Oakland County.

A resident of 1610 E. Lincoln Ave., Kelly received his education in Royal Oak Public schools, the University of Michigan, Detroit Institute of Technology, and Detroit College of Law.

KELLEY

Kelley has held the post of city commissioner from 1948 to 1953 and mayor from last December to the present time. He is a member of the law firm of Allen and Kelley in the Washington Square building in Royal Oak, and served in the U.S. Army during World War II.

RICHARD D. KUHN
(Republican)

A Republican candidate for nomination as state senator is Richard D. Kuhn of 2295 N. Lake Angelus Rd.

Kuhn, 25, was born in Detroit and attended Northern High School; Highland Park Junior College, Albion College, Wayne University and was graduated from Michigan State College.

KUHN

He also attended Washington Capitol Page School and worked in Congress as a page.

EDWARD MOREY
(Republican)

Edward Morey, 48, a Milford Republican, is seeking nomination in the coming election to the post of state senator from the 12th district.

A graduate of Detroit Institute of Technology and Warner Institute, Morey is a graduate chemist and a registered pharmacist. At present he is owner-manager of a semi-private golf club; secretary of the Metropolitan Golf Assn.; president St. Vincent Central Board; president of St. Vincent de Paul Society of Oxbow and director of the Catholic Family Center.

MOREY

ANTHONY RENNE
(Republican)

Pontiac attorney Anthony Renne, 41, of 645 Fourth Ave., is a Republican candidate for nomination as state senator.

Born in Ypsilanti he attended Michigan State Normal College there and was graduated from Wayne University with an LL.B degree.

RENNE

He served with the U.S. Marine Corps in World War II and is associated with Pontiac Safety Committee; Better Business Committee; Pontiac Chamber of Commerce; Elks; Amvets; Urban League of Pontiac and is a member of the Oakland County Bar Association.

FRED ELIAS
(Democrat)

A Michigan resident 25 years, Fred Elias, 40, of 1561 E. Muir, Hazel Park, is a Democratic candidate for nomination as state senator from Oakland County.

He is president of the Hazel Park Businessmen's Assn. and a past president of the Michigan Drive-In Restaurant Assn.

ELIAS

Elias owns a drive-in chain with his brother, Louis, who was appointed Hazel Park mayor last December and served in that capacity until the April 6 election.

FRED HANSCOM
(Democrat)

Fred Hanscom, 41, of 203 Dewey St., Royal Oak, is Democratic candidate for nomination to state senator. Owner of a Hazel Park dairy bar, Hanscom has been a Royal Oak resident three years, is married and father of three children.

HANSCOM

He attended Detroit public schools, Garvin Institute and Detroit Business Institute; was regional civil defense director; and is a member of the Masonic Lodge. Hanscom has never held public office but was nominated to the U.S. Congress in the 11th district in 1950.

Would-Be Suicide Loses Footing, Falls

NEW YORK (AP)—Arthur Bretton, 32, on the roof of a five-story building, had been shouting at would-be rescuers early today, "get back or I'll jump."

But instead of carrying out his threat he demanded that the Rev. John Kehoe be sent for "because I know him."

Father Kehoe and another priest arrived and urged Bretton to "sit down and talk it over." Bretton wheeled to reply, lost his footing and fell from the building. He was taken to a hospital in critical condition.

Later, his wife said that they had quarreled and Bretton had left their apartment saying, "you'll see no more of me."

Rock Fall Kills Miners

SPRINGHILL, Nova Scotia (AP)—Two miners were killed in a rock fall at the Cumberland Railway & Coal Co., mine here today. About 20 miners trapped in the fall were freed by rescue workers. Sixteen of them were injured, two seriously.

Legion Awaits Adenauer

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will fly to the United States next month to address the national convention of the American Legion Aug. 30 in Washington.

3 Dems Vying for Nomination

Close Battle Looms in 18th District Contest; Dondero Unopposed

With Congressman George A. Dondero unopposed on the Republican ticket, political observers have shifted their gaze to the there-way Democratic nomination race in Tuesday's primary election.

The three Dems, all of south Oakland County, are seeking to carry their party's banners in this fall's election battle over the U.S. House of Representatives seat in the 18th District.

Although most observers rate the race a toss-up, some give Paul Sutton, 44, of Royal Oak, a radio actor, a slight edge over Zigmund J. Niparko, 34, mayor of Hazel Park, and William A. Welsh, 55, a Royal Oak attorney.

They base their reasoning on the fact that Sutton has waged a vigorous campaign and may gain some Hazel Park votes that normally would have gone to Niparko.

Others, however, think Niparko may be in a favorable spot due to the fact that he is the only candidate holding public office.

Dondero is the sole Republican candidate for nomination. He is presently serving his 12th term as congressman.

ZIGMUND J. NIPARKO
(Democrat)

A Ferndale school teacher, Zigmund J. Parko, 34, of 421 E. Harry St., Hazel Park, is a Democratic candidate for U. S. Congressman from the 18th District.

NIPARKO

At present he is serving as mayor of Hazel Park and is seeking the congressional nomination for the third time, having been defeated in 1950 and 1952.

Niparko is serving his third year on Oakland County Board of Supervisors; was secretary of the Hazel Park Board of Education and has been teaching school in Ferndale for three years.

He is a graduate of Michigan State Normal College and attended Wayne University Graduate School.

PAUL SUTTON
(Democrat)

Seeking the U.S. Congressional seat from the 18th district is Paul Sutton, 44, of 509 Hawthorne St., Royal Oak.

Sutton was born in Albuquerque, N. M., and educated in California. He moved to Michigan in 1944 following his discharge from the army to accept a job with a national network as a radio actor.

SUTTON

Until the announcement of his candidacy he had been chairman of the Royal Oak Democratic Committee and has been active for years in the Democratic party. He is a past commander of the American Legion and his two children, Sharon, 7, and Michael, 6, attend Whittier School.

WILLIAM A. WELSH
(Democrat)

Royal Oak attorney William A. Welsh, 55, is seeking nomination as Democratic candidate for U. S. Congressman from the 18th district.

Welsh lives at 400 N. Cincinnati Ave. and is a member of the Michigan State Bar, Oakland County Bar Assn. and the Detroit Bar Assn.

WELSH

His early education was obtained in Savannah, Ga., and he received degrees of L.L.B. and L.L.M at Georgetown University in Washington, D.C.

He has his law offices in Royal Oak and has lived there since 1939.

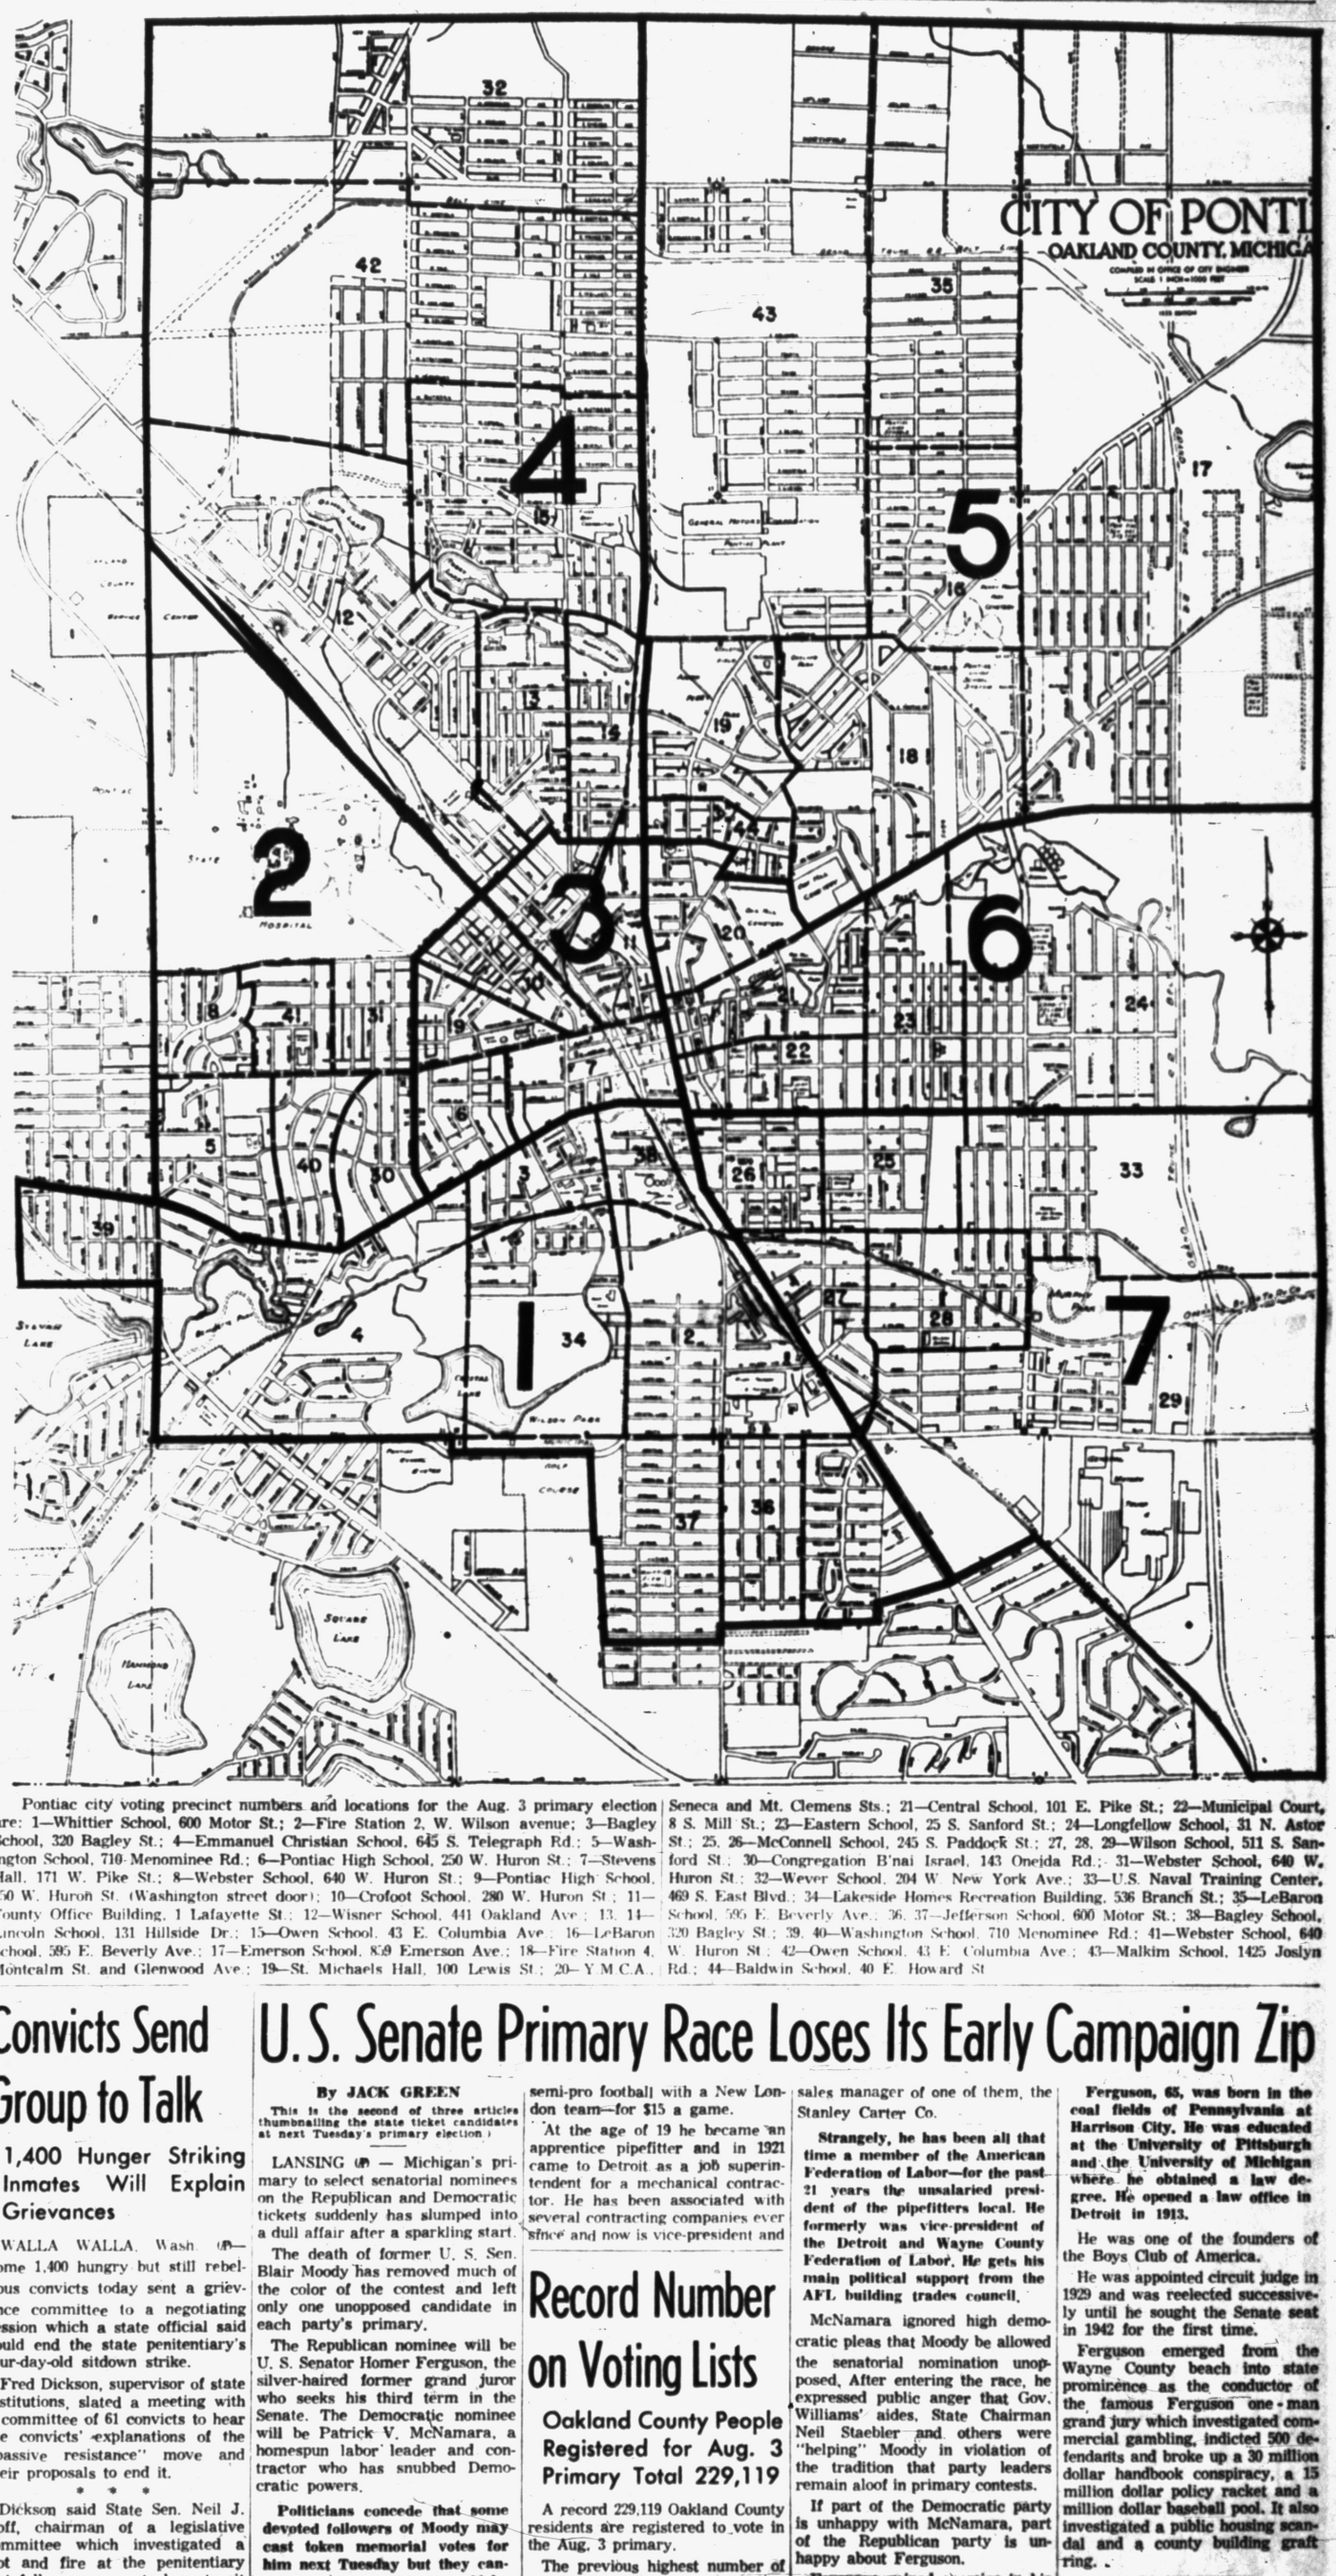

GEORGE A. DONDERO
(Republican)

Now serving his 12th term as U.S. Congressman, Republican George A. Dondero of Royal Oak is again seeking nomination as a candidate.

Dondero was born in Royal Oak in 1883 and served as its first village clerk and mayor. Educated in the city's public schools, Dondero also graduated from Detroit College of Law. He lives at 426 E. Seventh St. and is a member of Masonic Lodge and Kiwanis International.

Convicts Send Group to Talk

1,400 Hunger Striking Inmates Will Explain Grievances

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—Some 1,400 hungry but still rebellious convicts today sent a grievance committee to a negotiating session which a state official said could end the state penitentiary's four-day-old sitdown strike.

Fred Dickson, supervisor of state institutions, slated a meeting with a committee of 61 convicts to hear the convicts' explanations of the "passive resistance" move and their proposals to end it.

* * *

Dickson said State Sen. Neil J. Hoff, chairman of a legislative committee which investigated a riot and fire at the penitentiary last fall, was en route here to sit in on the meeting.

Whether the strike ends or continues "will depend on the outcome," Dickson said.

For some of the prisoners it was the fourth day without food. The strike started among prisoners in the Laundry Monday noon and had spread to the entire prison population by Tuesday night.

Dickson said no meals will be served until a settlement is reached.

U.S. Senate Primary Race Loses Its Early Campaign Zip

By JACK GREEN

This is the second of three articles thumbnailing the state ticket candidates at next Tuesday's primary election.)

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's primary to select senatorial nominees on the Republican and Democratic tickets suddenly has slumped into a dull affair after a sparkling start.

The death of former U. S. Sen. Blair Moody has removed much of the color of the contest and left only one unopposed candidate in each party's primary.

The Republican nominee will be U. S. Senator Homer Ferguson, the silver-haired former grand juror who seeks his third term in the Senate. The Democratic nominee will be Patrick V. McNamara, a homespun labor leader and contractor who has snubbed Democratic powers.

Politicians concede that some devoted followers of Moody may cast token memorial votes for him next Tuesday but they cannot conceive that there could be enough to nominate him posthumously.

Moody's name will be on the ballots because they were printed in most places before his death.

Ferguson is well known in Michigan. McNamara is the enigma.

Fifty-nine years ago McNamara was born in Weymouth, Mass. He was forced to leave school early and worked for a while in New London, Conn. shipyards. He played semi-pro football with a New London team—for $15 a game.

At the age of 19 he became an apprentice pipefitter and in 1921 came to Detroit as a job superintendent for a mechanical contractor. He has been associated with several contracting companies ever since and now is vice-president and sales manager of one of them, the Stanley Carter Co.

Strangely, he has been all that time a member of the American Federation of Labor—for the past 21 years the unsalaried president of the pipefitters local. He formerly was vice-president of the Detroit and Wayne County Federation of Labor. He gets his main political support from the AFL building trades council.

McNamara ignored high democratic pleas that Moody be allowed the senatorial nomination unopposed. After entering the race, he expressed public anger that Gov. Williams' aides, State Chairman Neil Staebler and others were "helping" Moody in violation of the tradition that party leaders remain aloof in primary contests.

If part of the Democratic party is unhappy with McNamara, part of the Republican party is unhappy about Ferguson.

Ferguson gained enemies in his own party two years ago with his insistent espousal of the presidential aspirations of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft. He deepened the animosity in a fight over the appointment of the Republican's first federal judge in Michigan in two decades.

But behind Ferguson is the full weight of the Eisenhower administration, the Republican National Committee and the state organization.

Ferguson, 65, was born in the coal fields of Pennsylvania at Harrison City. He was educated at the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Michigan where he obtained a law degree. He opened a law office in Detroit in 1913.

He was appointed circuit judge in 1929 and was reelected successively until he sought the Senate seat in 1942 for the first time.

Ferguson emerged from the Wayne County beach into state prominence as the conductor of the famous Ferguson one-man grand jury which investigated commercial gambling, indicted 500 defendants and broke up a 30 million dollar handbook conspiracy, a 15 million dollar policy racket and a million dollar baseball pool. It also investigated a public housing scandal and a county building graft ring.

Record Number on Voting Lists

Oakland County People Registered for Aug. 3 Primary Total 229,119

A record 229,119 Oakland County residents are registered to vote in the Aug. 3 primary.

The previous highest number of registered voters was recorded in 1952 when 178,949 persons were eligible and 59,833 voted.

Clerks of the various political subdivisions throughout the county have received their ballots, according to Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen.

Persons who will be away on election day should request absentee ballots in person or by mail at clerk's offices before 2 p.m. Saturday, Allen added.

Bell Executive Retires

DETROIT (AP)—Arthur Leazenby, who started as a Michigan Bell Telephone Co., clerk 42 years ago, retired Wednesday as a company vice president. The company also announced Lou Conroy, assistant general commercial manager, has been named assistant vice president in charge of independent company relations, defense and special staff activities.

New American Learns About Country Fast

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Canadian born Ronnie Tadman, insurance salesman, sold his first policy in the morning. In the afternoon, he drove to court where he became an American citizen.

When he returned to his car, he found his first traffic ticket under his windshield wiper.

CHAPTER 26

Willie stepped out of the plane to the gangway and saw his mother waving gaily to him from behind a window of a waiting room. He ran across the strip of windy airfield. In a moment he was being violently kissed and hugged in the steam-heated room.

"Willie, Willie, Willie! Oh, my dear, it's so good to feel you close again!"

Willie's first thought was, "How gray she is!" Her red hair had dimmed to a nondescript grayish brown. "You look wonderful, Mother."

"Thank you, darling! Let me take a good look at you——" Holding his arms, she leaned back and scrutinized him, her face alight with joy.

Willie told her very little during the drive homeward. He found himself minimizing the dangers of war and exaggerating the boredom, like all good tight-mouthed Americans in the movies. The more his mother pressed him for details the vaguer were his answers.

When they arrived he was hungry; and while his mother chattered happily about his handsome appearance he ate up a large platter of eggs and bacon, with several rolls.

"You never drank coffee like this before," said Mrs. Keith, filling his cup for the fourth time, and watching him with mixed anxiety and respect. Afterwards they went into the library.

A ghost was in the brown book-lined room, but Willie fought down his feelings of awe and sadness. He dropped into his father's red leather armchair, selecting the sacred spot deliberately, disregarding his mother's wan sorrowful loving look.

He told her the story of the mutiny. She fell silent after a few shocked exclamations, and allowed him to talk for a long time. When he finished and looked at her face she regarded him steadily and puffed a cigarette.

"Well, what do you think, Mother?"

Mrs. Keith hesitated, and said, "What does——have you told May about it?"

"May doesn't even know I'm in New York," he said irritably.

"Aren't you going to see her?"

"I guess I'll see her.

The mother sighed. "Well, all I can say is, Willie, this Old Yellowstain sounds like an abominable monster. You and the executive officer are perfectly innocent. You did the right thing.."

"The doctors say different."

"You wait and see. The court will acquit your executive officer. They won't even try you."

His mother's blind optimism did not comfort Willie. "Well, Mother, not that I blame you, but you don't know much about the Navy, that's obvious."

"Maybe not. Have you decided anything about May, Willie?"

Willie didn't want to answer, but he was cross, and nervous; and telling the mutiny story had shaken his self-control.

"Well, this will probably please you very much. I decided that it wouldn't work. I've given it up."

The mother nodded slightly, and looked down at her lap, appearing to suppress a smile.

Willie went to his mother's bedroom and called the candy store in the Bronx. "May Wynn's not home," said a flat, vulgar voice, a woman with a foreign accent. "Try Circle 6-3475."

He called the number. "Hotel Woodley, good morning," said the operator.

"Miss Wynn? One moment."

But it was Marty Rubin, not May, who answered the telephone.

"Willie? Well, for Ch----'s sake! This is terrific? Listen, Willie, did May know you were coming? She never said a word ——Just a second, I'll get her up——"

The pause was a long one. "Hello! Willie!"

"Hello, May. Sorry I woke you up——"

"Honey, don't be silly. I—I can't believe it! Why didn't you let me know, honey? Gosh——"

"I thought I'd surprise you."

"I am surprised. I'm flabbergasted." There was a silence which was very dreadful to Willie. "Well, honey, when am I going to see you?" she said.

"Any time you want to."

* * *

"Oh, dear. Darling, you couldn't have picked a worse day. I have the grippe or some damn thing, and—we might have lunch — no, wait, there's something else — Marty, when are we cutting that damned audition record? When can I get away? . . . Not till then? . . . Oh, Willie, it's a mess! There's this radio show I have to cut a record for—it has to be today—I've been doping myself to try ot get in some kind of shape —Marty, honey, can't we call it off? . . . Oh, Willie, you should have let me know——"

* * *

"Forget the whole thing. Don't get upset," Willie said, glaring at himself in the mirror of the closed door. "See you tomorrow, maybe."

"No, no! Honey, I'll be through around three — when, Marty? — three-thirty, Willie — meet me in the Sonophone Studios in the Brill Building, can you do that?"

"Okay. Three-thirty. I'll be there."

Willie slammed the receiver so hard that the telephone went clattering off the table to the floor. He took off the civilian clothes into which he had changed as soon as he came home, and dressed in his uniform.

He had two caps, a fairly new one, and the cap he always wore at sea, the gold trim of which was tarnished dull green. He selected the old cap and put a fresh cover on it, which set off more strikingly the tarnish of the ornaments.

SHINING LIBERTY—Puerto Rican Boy Scouts Benjamin Negron, on pedestal, and Pedro Malave prepare for the second anniversary of Puerto Rico's Commonwealth status on July 25, by giving "Miss Liberty" a shine. The replica of the famous U.S. statue was given to San Juan, by the Boy Scouts as part of the organization's "Strengthen the Arm of Liberty" campaign.

Canada to Referee Indochina Peace

MONTREAL (AP)—Canada sent a five-man delegation flying toward New Delhi today to make arrangements for the Indochina Cease-fir Commission with India and Poland, the supervisory group's other two members.

The Canadian Foreign Office announced last night Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent's government had accepted the Geneva conference's rqust that it serve on the commission. Canada was th last of the trio to agree.

India, chairman of the commission, announced earlier this week she had invited Poland and Canada to send representatives to New Delhi to make preliminary arrangments for the group.

Samoans Return to Easier Living

Naval Station Closing Returns Languid Life to Islanders

WASHINGTON — The living is easy again in American Samoa after a dozen turbulent, toilsome years—not so easy perhaps as before World War II but slowly returning to normal.

The eastern Samoas, a group of volcanic islands jutting out of the Pacific south of the Equator, have been United States possessions for 65 years. Population is about 19,000. Pago Pago, capital and harbor for thte islands, lies on 40-square-mile Tutuila.

For centuries the smiling, hospitable Polynesians of Samoa led a serene, carefree life. The men were reluctant to toil in town or country, but would row a canoe all day on a deep sea fishing trip. They were adept at spearfishing among Pago, Pago's encircling reefs.

All this changed early in the war when the Navy established a ship repair station at Pago Pago. The lure of good wages brought many men and women in from the coconut groves, and for ten years they lived "high."

But in 1951 the Navy closed its station in Pago Pago (pronounced pango pango) and turned over island administration to the Interior Department.

Loss of the Navy payroll caused some hardship, but readjustment probably was easier than it would have been in other lands. The happy-go-lucky Samoans returned to their farms and their fishing canoes. The islands once again became a languid paradise.

The Samoans have high social and cultural standards. Purest of the Polynesians, they speak a musical dialect called the "Italian of the Pacific."

Ireland Offers Choice Buys to U.S. Shopper

DUBLIN (UP) — Ireland is a woman shopper's paradise.

A hand-embroidered, linen table cover with 12 napkins sells for around $5.50. In New York, prices for the same linens range from $17.50 to $50, depending on quality of the linen, size of the cloth, and design.

Tweeds, the standard 54 inch width, start at $3.50 a yard in Dublin shops. They're about double that in the United States.

A tweed suit in Irish shops sells for $30; in the United States, the range is from $70 up. Waterford-made crystal, an Irish boast since 1770, comes in all shapes and prices.

Food is equally a bargain, compared with state-side prices. One of the best known delicacies is Galway oysters, available at the Oyster Bar of the Red Bank in Dublin for $1.

The total bill, including tip for a dozen oysters, brown bread and butter and a half pint of stout—$1.40.

A bargain lunch can be had in Dublin restaurants for 40 cents, which covers the cost of soup, spaghetti, peas, potatoes, fruit pudding and coffee.

Irish Folklore Being Compiled in Book

DUBLIN (UP) — Seamus Delargy, Irish folklore commission director, is writing what may be the longest story in the world. It already exceeds 250,000 words.

Delargy is recording homespun story-tellers tales of Irelands past. His information comes from 300 volunteer workers who send stories and any other records of the nation's past to Delargy's headquarters in a quiet Georgian mansion in Dublin's St. Steven's Green.

As a college student in Dublin, Delargy went to Kerry to learn the Irish language, and while in southwest Ireland heard the rich heritage preserved only on the lips of old men and women.

Delargy led a one-man campaign to preserve Irish folklore, and in 1935 the government set up the commission he heads and supports it with a budget of $30,000 a year.

Lightning in the United States does an estimated $12,000,000 worth of damage to farm buildings each year.

Red Quick Courses Form Poor Students

HONG KONG (AP) — The sons of the peasants and workers in Red China are no shining lights as scholars. The Peiping Ministry of Higher Education has put out a set of orders on how to cope with students whose "low cultural foundation" made them "unfamiliar with the ways and methods of study."

The Reds, in a forced enrollment, put more than 22,000 such children into middle schools in 1951-52 on a quick-course schedule to "develop technicians." Last fall the first 1,500 finished the short courses and were dumped on the colleges. A high percentage of them have proved deficient in "language and analytical geometry . . . with rather poor knowledge of mathematics, physics and chemistry."

The teachers are told to "form special classes," to "improve teaching methods and strengthen after class coaching activity."

Life Is Good in Kalamazoo Despite Postwar Problems

By DAN RYAN
Kalamazoo Gazette

KALAMAZOO (UP) — This city, Michigan's contribution to Tin Pan Alley, is convinced of one thing: "Life Is Good in Kalamazoo."

Those are the words that greet motorists, entering Kalamazoo from every direction. It's the Chamber of Commerce's official slogan. Businessmen and industrialists use it for their letterheads.

For the past eight years it has been straining through a seam-busting, button-popping expansion period typical of many communities in the post war boom.

All of the usual problems are present—subdivisions, annexation, traffic, parking, schools, employment, hospitals, housing—but all are reasonably under control.

Known for years as "The Celery City," Kalamazoo no longer can claim that honor. Western competition and the integration of the old Dutch families who planted the first beds, have cut local celery acreage deeply.

Paper mills have replaced the celery beds. The big mills of Kalamazoo and the Kalamazoo River Valley are an important factor in making Michigan the fourth ranking paper manufacturing state.

Adding to the industrial stability of Kalamazoo is the Upjohn Company, manufacturer of pharmaceuticals.

Millions of dollars have been spent since World War II on new city school construction and on renovation. Of particular interest at the moment is the proposed plan for the construction of four-room "neighborhood" schools for the early elementary youngsters.

The phenomenal growth of Western Michigan College of Education has been one of Kalamazoo's post war wonders. One of the nation's largest producers of teachers, Western has outgrown its old campus and has gobbled up additional acres on the city's west side.

A shiny new $8,000,000 second campus now sprawls over the hills of a one-time golf course. From a a 1940 enrollment of 2,600, Western has jumped to 4,300 students and estimates double that number by 1970.

Successful million dollar - plus community fund drives have given both Bronson and Borgess Hospitals funs for expansion and improvement. The new 200-bed Southwestern Michigan Tuberculosis Sanatorium opened here only this month and adds to Kalamazoo's reputation as a medical center.

Double Jeopardy

BOSTON (UP) — Francis S. Sardone of Randolph laid down his wallet after removing a dollar bill to pay a traffic fine at Municipal Court. The next thing he knew his billfold containing $20 and a man sitting nearby had disappeared.

Formosa Raid Could Fire Cool War of Nationalists

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Nationalist China's war may be back in the headlines soon.

This little shooting war is being fought on a "front" of about 500 miles between the Nationalists and the Chinese Communists.

It has been going on ever since the Communists drove the Nationalists from the mainland to the island of Formosa in 1949.

So far, it has been unimportant. It is a matter of small, brief engagements between Nationalist and Communist warships and planes.

But a big military build-up has been in progress for a long time on both sides.

The Nationalists have been watching for months for any sign that the Reds might be planning an attack on Formosa, 100 miles across the Formosa Strait from Fukien Province.

* * *

There has been no indication that any such an attack is likely in the foreseeable future. It would be too much of an undertaking. The United States is committed to defend Formosa, and the 7th fleet is operating in the Formosa Strait.

But dispatches from Taipeh, the capital of Formosa, quote the Nationalists as believing that their little war may be heated up soon as the result of the shoting down of two Red planes by American carrier-based fighters.

The feeling is that if the Reds get angry enough, they may take it out on Formosa, in one way or another.

* * *

As soon as the news of the downing of the Red planes was received in Taipeh, high Nationalist military leaders were called into an emergency meeting to discuss possible developments.

If the Reds did decide to retaliate against Formosa, they might attack some of the islands right off their coast which the Nationalists have held since 1949.

These islands include the Tachen group in Taichow Bay, 220 miles north of Formosa; Matsu, roughly opposite northwest Formosa, and the Quemoy Complex off the Red port of Amoy, opposite central Formosa.

The Nationalists have fortified these islands strongly and believe they can be held against a major attack.

* * *

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek never has lost hope that some day he will be able to invade Red China. He has an army of from 350,000 to 400,000 men, a small air force and a small navy.

The United States is pouring military equipment into Formosa. Two destroyers have just arrived there from the United States to reinforce Chiang's fleet. The force of Sabre jet fighters will agrive next month.

For their part, the Reds a month ago increased their troop strength in Fukien Province, and in Chekiang Province just to the north, from 100,000 to 500,000 men. They have hundreds of Russian-made MIG fighter planes at newly established air bases along the coast.

Some day, the little Chinese hot war may become a big one.

H. G. Wells wrote more than a dozen books after he was 70 years old.

No Breakfast Causes Fatigue

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (UP) — One nutritionist says many headaches, much irritability and mid-morning fatigue are due to the no-breakfast habit.

Harriet Barto of the University of Illinois says every family member should eat a breakfast that will provide one-fourth to one-third of his daily food needs.

She recommended the first meal include fruit, cereal or bread and a beverage plus milk; with the addition frequently of bacon, other meats, cheese or fish.

Dots Liven Gloves

You may have spots before your eyes and be pleased about it this summer. Among the new gloves are some that feature an all-over pattern of polka dots.

Too Many Covers Bad for Tiny Baby

If Baby does not sleep well at night, there are several possible causes on which you should check. Usually, mothers tend to overcover children. Actually, Baby's covering should never be heavy.

It's better to put an extra sweater on him if his room seems cold. In very warm weather, be sure to put an electric fan in his room but be sure it isn't trained directly on him. Be sure that Baby isn't overexcited in his play close to bedtime and never let him become too dependent on a rigid routine.

You Too, Can wear Shining Crown

By ANITA COLBY

Cleansing your crowning beauty —Or isn't it crowning? Let's get this straight about hair. You can always improve its looks — shine it, with your own oil; vitalize it, with better feeding from your own blood.

I repeat, because your scalp is just some more of your face — it must be cleaned, oiled and massaged, just as your face must. Kept clean, with its oil wells kept open, and the dry or oily scale washed away; kept loose so the blood can get through it easily and carry food and fuel, it will produce magnificent hair for you.

So if your hair is not a joy right now, take heart — take a brush, and let's go.

Snip off your split ends. Go on. They won't grow any better.

You'll probably lose them anyhow — a normal scalp can lose up to 50 hairs a day and keep them replaced.

Autumn and spring there's an even higher turnover, so don't be alarmed at a good crop in that hairbrush. Any more questions?

How often should you shampoo? As often as your hair needs it. When it looks dirty, oily, straggly or dull. If you're dry, it may be once a week, or every 10 days. If you're oily, it may be as often as every two or three days.

Think of the movie stars—every one I know has to shampoo her hair once a day while she's working on a picture. It's a studio "must," so hair texture, shine, life won't vary from shot to shot.

So—none of this business about too much washing being bad for hair. What's bad for hair is dirt, and soot, and smoke, and too much sun, salt and sand. And starvation — lack of oil and food.

How Mary Did It

And dandruff — Dandruff is the scale formed by the dead cells wanting to slough off here, just as everywhere else on the skin, left around the hair roots in a dry, white, flaky "scurf."

It is usually loose and falling, especially from a dry scalp, bad in bad cases where it is formed in patches, clinging and scaly, it needs:

1. Hot oil soakings, to soften and loosen it.
2. Plenty of massage, plenty of brushing.
3. Frequent shampoos.

So—oily or dry—wash, repeatedly wash, until you have a clean scalp. Mary Martin had visions of her hair drying up and falling right out when she was faced with Nellie Forbush's daily tousing in "South Pacific."

But, with a rich creaming twice a week, and an olive oil soak on Sundays, her hair is thicker, shinier, healthier than it ever was.

Hot Oil Steaming

All right, are you set for your shampoo? First, dry hair and scalp should have a hot oil steaming, preferably the night before, to loosen dirt and scale.

Heat some olive oil — section off your hair in inch-wide parts, all over head. Dip cotton swab in oil and scour parts with it, covering every bit of scalp. Now wrap in a warm Turkish towel and let stand two hours — overnight is even better.

Do this oil soak before every shampoo until hair shows improvement; often thereafter in winter, always before permanents. When you take off towel, massage until scalp is loose and tingling, to lift the dandruff the oil has been working on.

Rotate finger and thumb cushions firmly, moving from spot to spot. Get scalp loose and sliding. Rub a sulphur cream into your hair after washing, if the dandruff is really bad.

Shampoo Routine

Now—let's go—here's your step-by-step shampoo routine:

Step 1—First, wash and sterilize all your combs and brushes—from dressing table, handbags, etc. A few drops of ammonia in a bowl of water, or a tablespoon of bicarbonate of soda to a quart of water will lift out dirt immediately. Rinse with soapy, then clean, warm water—set to dry. Now—

Step 2.—Brush: With your head down, or hanging backwards over end of bed, arms and shoulders free. (As you brush and brush you're doing an excellent bosom exercise, too.) Work professionally—up from scalp, with a roll and squish of bristles into scalp, first to loosen dry or oily scale.

Tug with your brush right out to the ends. Now tug with your hands, too, a lock at a time, all over the scalp, to bring up the circulation. Now you're ready for Step 3—Soap and water: There are plenty of good shampoos made for your special hair type. Don't put off washing yours because you haven't any.

Make it by shaving a cake of castile or any bland soap into a pint of warm water. Soft water—hot water. You're full of oil, and to get it completely out you'll use plenty of hot soapy lather and elbow grease.

Wet your hair with warm water—get your head soaking wet. Now lather richly, working up suds at nape of neck, ears and hairline.

Rotary-massage scalp. Scrub hair out to ends. Rinse. You need a spray—lacking one, duck your head under faucet.

Lather again, and rinse, rinse, rinse, until hair "squeaks" through fingers. If your hair's long, or heavily oiled, you may need a third lathering. Wait until you get a clear high squeak in clean running water before you give up.

Step 4 — Special Rinses For Shine: Use a vinegar rinse to soften and cut soap—4 tablespoons of vinegar to 3 glasses of water. Or if this proves too drying, 2 lemons to 2 glasses of water. Now quickly rinse this out—so you won't smell like a salad.

For gray or white hair—a few drops of bluing in a quart of water.

Step 5—Drying: Twist hair in towel, then rub out excess water with clean, nonshedding towels. Now go at your head with a clean brush out in the sun, if it's warm enough.

Step 6—Brushing dry: Brush head down again — circulation will feed roots. Away and up from scalp, brushing shape into your hair.

Find your best part, and brush, brush to the shape you want. Long, short, or as you like it, you'll get more beauty parlor smoothness if you tame it with brushing before you comb into strands for pin-curls.

Controlling Hair

Coarse, wiry: Actually this type is very manageable, if it's kept well-lubricated, and is cut and shaped by a knowing pair of scissors.

Use a little pomade or brilliantine to soften it — brush for getting your own oil down to ends—give yourself warm oil shampoos.

Baby Fine: This hair benefits by being cut quite short, so its own weight doesn't drag it down. Long, it gets lank and stringy—doesn't work like the Loreleis.

Bushy, Too Curly: Thin this hair, and be especially careful in setting it; give it pomades, brilliantine, to prevent kinking.

Use oil shampoos and lots of shaping, brushing. In setting, it, part accurately, divide in even strands, place curls for good contour. Use wave-set and stretch the hair as you set it.

Now see what you can do to develop personality in your own hair.

Now You Can Eat Your Hat and Like It, According to Paris Stylist

PARIS (INS) — Eat your hat?

The latest Parisian fall chapeaux, designed by Achille, are "cooked up" of shrimps, rice, artichokes or sunflower seeds. And besides being digestible, they are high style, chic and Parisian as all get out.

The recipe for the "shrimp hat" is as follows:

Buy a pound of shrimps and . . . eat them. All you need for the hat are the shrimp shells. Those, properly washed and dried, are glued—neatly one beside the other—on a small head-hugging felt cloche. The striking result is particularly suited for dark hair and brunettes in general.

After cooking his artichoke, he carefully separates the tender inside leaves which have a soft purplish color. He dries them and uses them to cover a large mushroom-shaped hat of dark purple felt. The artichoke leaves, glued on in a fish-scale pattern, completely cover the top of the hat.

Even more striking is an Achille creation whose recipe reads "Rice and Artichokes." It is a bonnet on which the flat front bandeau is covered with rice grains while the back is covered with artichoke leaves.

The rice, used as hat-trimming, should not be cooked. Simply washed and polished, it is glued to the bandeau, grain by grain, to look like pearls.

Another eatable hat is studded with sunflower seeds. For this model, Achille chose beaver-colored velvet which he worked into an Egyptian-styled chapeau. This hat has several rows of sunflower shells, cut in half, as face-framing ornaments.

Twisted Nylon Best

When you are buying "bargain" nylon tricot garments in 40-denier yarn, textiles specialists advise you to check to see if the yarn is of the twisted or untwisted variety. Although fabrics knitted of untwisted yarn may cost less, they don't wear as well and probably won't save you money in the long run.

Growing Up Isn't Easy

Sympathetic World Sees Quints Struggle With Life

NORTH BAY, Ont. (INS)—Confusion and perhaps a little sadness exists these days in the home of the Dionne quintuplets.

The five world-famous sisters are growing up—and it isn't easy.

Around North Bay the old-timers who have watched the progress of the girls since their birth 20 years ago can only watch, sympathetically, as Marie struggles with the decision as to whether she will, after all, become a nun . . . and as Emilie "meditates" in a convent on what she will do with her life.

Everyone grows up, everyone has the problem of facing up to life. But with the quints it is, obviously, a little different. They grew up behind nursery windows, always together, always under strict surveillance, always aware, after the first innocent days of babyhood, that they were sisters apart—curiosities, in a sense.

To all appearances, it must be stated, the quints are young women of poised maturity. But North Bay wonders whether they can now—after all the guarded, supervised years together—actually pull themselves apart and go their separate ways successfully.

No outsider is willing or able to answer that question because no one has been allowed close enough to the quintuplets to speak with authority.

Only Papa Oliva Dionne and Mother Elzire might know. And they are close-mouthed French-Canadians who say no more than they feel they have to.

When they are thoughtful or concerned, as surely they must be at this moment, they do not waste time talking.

The facts, however, are here:

With tears and pathetic farewells, the entire family last November left Marie—always described as "the small one"—at the Convent of the Servants of the Blessed Sacrament in Quebec City, to take up novitiate studies and become, eventually, a nun. It was the life she felt she must have.

But last week Marie left the convent suddenly after a homesick exchange of letters and calls with her parents and sisters. The other quints (Emilie, Yvonne, Annette and Cecile), scattered across Canada in schools of their own choice, rushed frantically home.

Emilie—always referred to as "the independent one"—was for a while so independent that she was believed lost. In her urgent rush to get to Marie, she left another convent, where she had been "resting," and headed by bus for Quebec.

Somehow, though the circumstances are still not fully explained, the forlorn Emilie lost her way and was found by police wandering the streets of Montreal. They said she was tired and "dazed."

The world can only look closely at the girls—as closely as their shy personalities permit — and guess what may happen to them, singly or together.

When the babies were born, blue in color and weighing altogether only a fraction over 10 pounds, it was an incredible dream that any—much less, all—would survive.

But thanks to prayers, and to money and incubators which flooded the little shack of Oliva Dionne within two days after the news was flashed around the world, they not only survived—they flourished.

Today they are perfectly normal girls.

Three of them, Marie and Annette and Yvonne, wear about size 12 dresses, and the other two are size 14's.

Their glove and shoe sizes are about average: Both between 6½ and 7.

Socially speaking, the quintuplets' experience has been about as average as an August snow in Haiti.

They lived their childhood under scientific study and care, as wards of the British crown. They were tested constantly, both medically and psychiatrically, and they saw more of nurses and government officials than of their mother and father—who protested quietly but did not really attain possession of their amazing offspring until the girls were 8.

Even then, they were still Canada's top tourist attraction, and usually when they went out it was under police guard.

Papa Dionne insists that he "never told them not to have dates."

But the Dionne quints never have. They often entertained boy and girl classmates in the game room in their house at Callander. But they never had individual dates, nor did they seem inclined to.

Cecile—labeled by her parents "the most unpredictable" of the five—is the one who answered a reporter's question as to what she wanted in a man.

"He must be nice-looking, well-educated and a real gentleman," she said, and the other girls agreed that these were their requirements too.

But they have made no move to find such men as yet—in spite of the fact that finding such men, especially five such, will require considerable digging around.

If they do find such gentlemen, real gentlemen and nice-looking as specified, the quints will have the additional problem of deciding whether or not they are fortune - hunters. Because among them, the girls will split $1,000,000 next year when they are 21.

The sum, amassed by the wonder girls from endorsements and a trust fund set up by the Canadian government, is now in control of Papa Dionne.

Next May 28 they will be of age, and they must start deciding.

Meantime, their friends and well-wishers can do little but wonder—and read the two stern signs that are nailed to the gatepost outside the Dionne farmland:

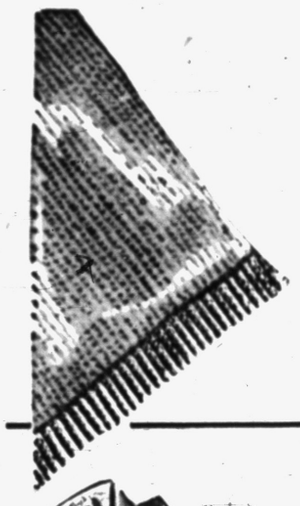

"No Admittance. Private Property."

Booths Plan to Vacation at Old Trail

Nances Spending Their Weekends at Torch Lake

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Summer plans of Hills residents are varied. Mrs. Henry S. Booth and Martha plan to go up to Old Trail Inn Aug. 14 for a fortnight and Mr. Booth and daughter Melinda will follow for the Labor Day weekend.

Melinda is spending the greater part of the summer acting as librarian at the Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Mrs. Saunders

Marcia Nance took a responsible position soon after her graduation from Smith College and is spending the summer months prior to her August wedding going into town every day. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Nance, spend almost every weekend at their summer home on Torch Lake.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Lee will go down to Lake Maxincucke in Indiana this weekend to visit their son, Tommy, who is at Culver Summer Camp.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. R. Jamison Williams will be hosts at a cocktail and dinner party Friday evening honoring Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Culpan of Sydney, Australia. Mr. and Mrs. Culpan, Mrs. Williams' parents, wil lbe visiting here the rest of the summer.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Draper of Barden road will spend this weekend in Fredonia, N. Y., and plan to leave next week on a western motor trip with their two sons.

• • •

Mrs. Horace P. Shaw and Mrs. Leroy G. Vandeveer entertained at luncheon today for Polly Murray who is the guest of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. DeForest W. Candler of Pon Valley road.

This head-hugging cloche of black velours by Christian Dior exposes the hairline. Black satin ribbon punctuates the brim and the ribbon reappears in long loops in the back, hanging gracefully down, giving a dramatic effect.

Countryside Club Holds Gathering at Orchard Lake

Mrs. W. H. Jones, Mrs. Wallace Chalcraft and Mrs. Augusta Miser were cohostesses when the Ladies Countryside Club met Tuesday in the Orchard Lake home of Mrs. S. W. Trythall.

A white elephant sale highlighted the afternoon's activities. Mrs. Gordon Van Camp will be hostess in her Commerce road home for the Aug. 11 meeting.

Mrs. Van Camp's cohostesses will be Mrs. Paul Terry, Mrs. S. J. Stroup, Mrs. Ray Ridge and Mrs. J. C. Mahannah. A baton twirling exhibition will be featured on the program.

Picnic Is Planned by Sylvan Manor

Families and friends of the residents of Sylvan Manor Subdivision will gather at Kensington Park Aug. 8 for a basket picnic. Neil McArthur, president of the Sylvan Manor Association, has announced that games and swimming for the children will begin at 2 p.m.

Suds New Towels

The best towels are those whose loops are long and close together. Washing increases the absorbency, so suds new ones before using.

Clothes Being Geared to Life on the Road

American Enthusiasm for Sport Cars Is Reflected in the Fashion World

NEW YORK — (INS) — Sports cars—gay and geared to wind velocity — soon may change the entire look of casual fashions.

Men and women may dress in the brilliant colors of their cars.

And certainly they will wear the kind of clothes that fit, practically, into the open-road life; shorter coats, more head-hugging hats, high-muffled necks and easy knee action.

The "sports car look" for winter 1954-'55 was predicted today by Fred R. Smith, young fashion editor.

Smith revealed he had studied sports fashions in every avenue from bowling alley to racetrack, and has seen no bigger influence than the race and sports cars.

"It's quite easy to explain," he pointed out. "There's more playtime for Americans than ever before, and more places to play. There's no easier way to go to most play-places than by car, so the car is the biggest sports-partaker in existence."

Consequently, car-makers are making their products more colorful, speedier and jauntier. And fashion makers are making their clothes to blend in.

Smith listed the style trends which will result from the new interest in autos:

1) Coats and jackets for men as well as women will be shorter — to allow for less bulk behind the wheel. Almost all men's topcoats now are hemmed well above the knees, and women's mid-thigh-length coats are a hot new fashion note.

2) Hats will contribute to the neater look. To keep hair from being windblown at a sports car clip, designers are giving women deeper-crowned hats and, in general, smaller brims.

Men are being intrigued into wearing caps with visors for practical purposes, or Tyrolean hats to fit in with the sporty theme.

3) Crease-resistant fabrics have never been more important and that, at least partly, is helped along by the sports car business. To look well-groomed, the traveling family must be able to spend long hours sitting . . . without wrinkling.

4) Colors are greatly affected. Smith points out that the top racing car drivers (and some of their wives) have special costumes to match the vivid reds or bright blues or lemon yellows of their cars.

Some small percentage of weekend drivers will copy this idea. But whether or not they dress to match their convertibles, they will at least find themselves gradually influenced by the brilliant shades on the highway — and will dress less conservatively.

Dinner Presented for Mrs. Wardlow

Mrs. Edward Bottom and Mrs. Ray L. Frink were cohostesses, assisted by Laura Bowmaster, at a farewell dinner in honor of Mrs. Phillip Wardlow who has retired from General Motors Truck and Coach Division after 25 years' service.

Forty guests were entertained at the dinner which was held Wednesday evening in Old Mill Tavern.

Launder Bedding

There are so many non-iron fabrics available by the yard, you can easily create a wardrobe for the simplest possible laundering. Dresses and accessories can all go into the washing machine safely, if you plan your sewing wisely.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Her 'Superstitions' Are Throwback to Childhood

Of course, I'm not superstitious. I know there's no harm in 13 at table, walking under a ladder, a black cat crossing my path. And certainly stepping on ants won't make it rain.

MISS McBRIDE

In fact, when I toss a little salt over my right shoulder — I did it a few minutes ago, which started me thinking about the subject — I am merely continuing a childhood habit.

I was talking about this once with opera star Licia Albanese who said she wasn't the least bit superstitious either — then instantly remarked: "But I won't fly in planes on Tuesdays and Friday," reaching out as she said it and knocking on the wooden table.

"That's not superstition," she assured me earnestly. "I just do it because everyone else does."

I told Licia then about the Rev. Charles F. Potter, who has made a lifetime study of the religions of the world. Dr. Potter says that knocking on wood began when people knocked on trees to summon the Druid spirits within for help.

And that old rhyme for counting out in a game, "Eeny, meeny miney, moe," originated as a Druid chant in North Wales centuries ago — to determine who was to be a burned sacrifice to the gods, no less.

It is interesting to see how many ordinary acts have their roots in ancient beliefs in magic. Wearing a necklace, for instance. From the earliest times in Scotland, beans were strung around the neck as a charm against witches. Egyptians wore them as symbols of immortality. And then women replaced beans with diamonds and pearls and called them necklaces.

Or take lucky coins — people have hoarded them for hundreds of years. Even today in England some people keep a few pennies in a copper kettle — because they believe certain fairies spend their nights in humans' kitchens.

My tossing spilled salt over my shoulder had its origin in the time when, in old Rome, they put a pinch of salt in the mouth of a newborn babe for health. And because it was such a sacred, beneficent commodity and hard to come by, spilling was really bad luck.

Lots of people today believe that flipping a struggling ladybug back on its feet brings luck, a superstition which stems unchanged from ancient Egypt where the scarab beetle was sacred and anyone who helped a scarab in distress had all his sins forgiven.

I know it's silly to keep knocking on wood and throwing salt over my shoulder just because I did it in childhood, so I'll stop now and call upon the owners of big buildings to join me in this revolt by starting to count the floor above 12 as 13, instead of 14, as they do now.

Colorful, casual settings automatically earn the seal of approval of the teenage group and these gay Tam O'Shanter dishes are ideally suited to this type of setting. The blended stripes of rust, deep green and chartreuse are accented by chartreus straw mats. Candy wrapped in varicolored paper napkins forms a "goodies ring" around giant candles.

Yet He Wants to Date Her Again

Former Beau Tells Nasty, Untrue Tales About Girl

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: A boy I went with a few months ago was pretty serious about me, I think. Then he started getting fresh, very fresh. I told him to stop misbehaving or I wouldn't see him any more.

"I broke off with him once, but he convinced me he was sorry and he did behave for a couple of dates. Then he started again. I broke off completely that time.

"Then he started telling nasty stories about me. All the boys I used to date avoid me now because of these stories. I talked to him about it and he said he would stop if I would promise to date him again.

"I refused, and he still tells everyone nasty, untrue things about me. Frankly, I'm frantic. So what should I do? Start dating him again? My parents think so."

It's amazing that he'd want to have anything to do with a girl about whom he has told so many untrue stories. Amazing that he would want to be seen with a girl with such a "reputation." Strange that he would be willing to advertise the fact that he was lying by parading you in front of the boys to whom he has talked.

It might give your self-confidence and poise a real shot in the arm if you had another date with him and talked this thing out. For it would seem that you two have never come to grips over your real differences. Neither of you knows exactly how the other thinks and feels.

The first thing, of course, is to find out just how fresh he really was. You might have taken offense where no offense was meant. Maybe you misinterpreted him, put too much importance on trival things. Maybe you condemned him for things you didn't understand.

Get your values straightened out by talking things over indirectly and impersonally with some of your girl friends. See, too, how your mother reacts.

Then, if he broaches the subject of another date with you, agree to go out with him—but with considerable wonder that he should want to take you out.

Why should he want to, for instance, when you're supposed, in his estimation, to be such a loathsome character? If he can give you any sort of reasonable answer, you're on your way to a real discussion of his behavior behind your back.

Tell him you don't like having untrue tales told about you. Add that you think it's mean, unfair and unworthy of him. Admit frankly that you're afraid of having anything to do with him.

You can't trust him any more. The fact that he has done unnecessary damage to your reputation has damaged his own standing in your eyes.

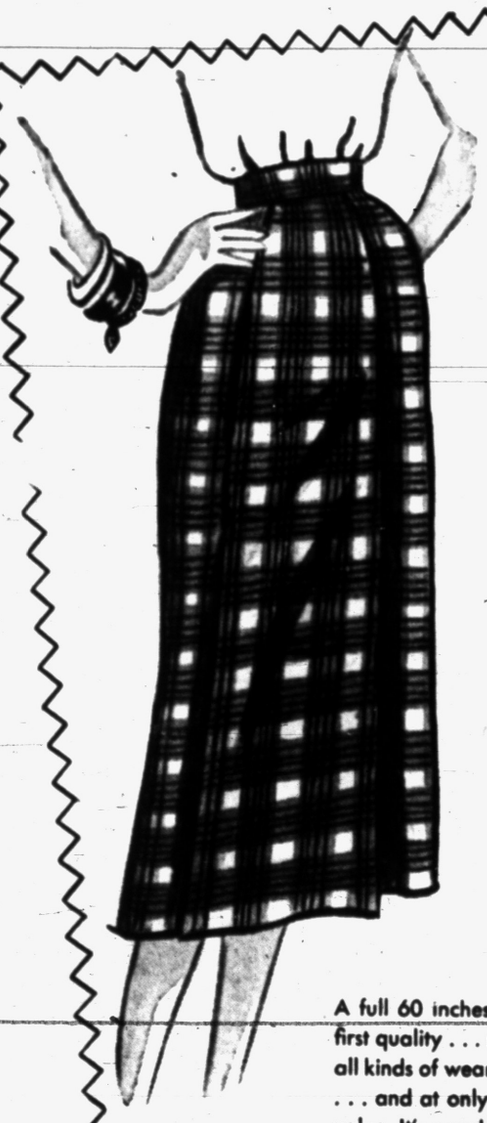

All of this you can clear up on one date. And if he humbly makes the proper promises and the necessary apologies, you can decide whether the storm is over and whether other dates with him would be fun.

Latest Radio Is Antique 'Telephone'

NEW YORK INS—Newest style in radios is the oldest style in telephones:

It's a novelty radio design originated by a West Coast firm which thinks people who collect old toy cars and old furniture might as well have an old phone —with a modern purpose.

This modern radio is an authentic reproduction, about three-quarters of actual size, of the hand-crank phones used from 1895 to 1905. It's made of maple and brass, and looks like the real thing, complete with bells, receiver, mouthpiece and crank.

Hung on the wall, the radio is operated exactly as if you were placing a phone call at the turn of the century.

The radio goes on when you take the "phone" receiver off the hook. Turning the hand-crank changes the station. And the speaker of the "phone" is literally the speaker of the radio.

According to the manufacturer, this $59.95 five-tube radio is just the item for people who like a "countrified" decor.

To make that point doubly clear, the company calls its hand-crank phone radio the "Country Belle."

Add Luster Easily

To brighten and clean your wooden sports equipment, sandpaper down to the bare wood and apply a thin coat of fresh white shellac. Strings of tennis racquets will wear longer if shellac is applied.

This soda-sipping twosome enjoys mutual taste in ice cream and fashion. The bola tie complements their casual shirts with equal ease. Thong-like in design, with a sliding "keeper" to secure it about the neckline, his is of braided leather-like material while hers is a woven black fabric. The Monte Carlo cuff links are "borrowed from him."

PETUNIA!

Here's a small reminder
For you-and me-and you
When you boil potatoes,
Boil some EXTRA, too!

Right, Petunia. You'll be glad they're waiting in the refrigerator for salads, home-fries, and hashed browns later.

Make Traveling Your Job if You Yearn to Wander

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Many people have the traveling bug and wish they could get a job which would take them to faraway places.

Sometimes this is just wishful thinking; they are not doing well in their present job, hate their present life, and haven't the energy or courage to change it.

In that case, they dream of leaving the country and going to a glamorous spot, not realizing that they will take themselves with them and run into the same troubles, the same failures, the same boredom, no matter where they are.

But with some, it is a valid desire. They are doing a good job and living a satisfactory life, but they have real itchy feet for foreign places. For them, there is a wonderful book which I would like to recommend.

It is called "How to Get a Job that Takes You Traveling," and covers every phase of the subject. The subtitle is perfect: "A guide to traveling while getting paid for it!"

The author is an honorary vice president of the Globetrotters Club, and you can see that the traveling bug is in his blood.

But, mixed with the romance, is more factual data, more good information, than I have seen in a long time.

There is a chapter on "Travel With the Transportation Lines," which covers ships, airlines and travel agencies.

It gives the real inside story on what training you need, how these fields are run, what you can expect in the way of promotion, salary and future opportunity.

Another excellent chapter, "Travel With Service," tells about the American Red Cross, missionary services, nursing (many nurses get fascinating Army and Navy jobs), work camps, World Health Organization, and all phases of United Nations work.

Foreign commerce and export, as well as construction work and mining and oil company work, are covered thoroughly in "Travel With Commerce."

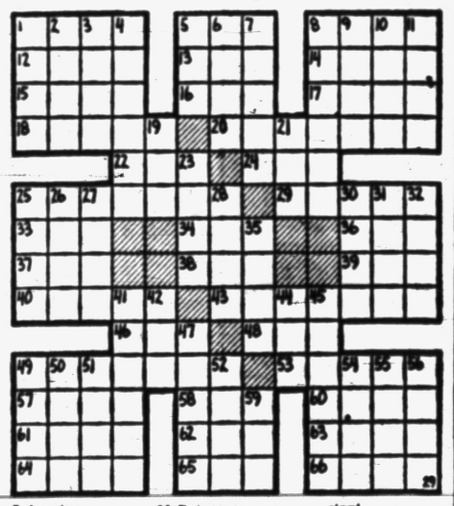

In addition, there's a long section which discusses each foreign country and gives you the real lowdown on the opportunities it offers. There's also a whole section on travel jobs for women.

If you dream of making a living and traveling at the same time, do get this book. If you'll send me a stamped envelope, I'll give you details.

Repair Leak in the Roof From Inside

You Don't Need to Scramble Around Outdoors

By HUBBARD COBB

In a recent article we did on repairing leaky roofs we neglected to say just how one can go about stopping a leak if it's impossible to get onto the roof or if you are one of the many who just don't care for climbing about on roofs.

What you can do in either of these cases is to repair the leak from the inside. Here is how you go about it.

First of all, you want to locate the exact point of the leak on the underside of the roof.

After this, take a piece of 2x4 and cut it so it will just fit between the two roof rafters that run on each side of the leak.

Next, take some roofing compound and smear it over the roof sheathing boards in the area of the leak.

Smear some compound on the 2x4 between the rafters so that it covers the leaky area and the roofing compound.

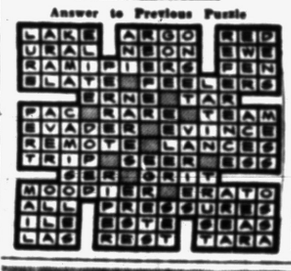

The 2x4 should now be nailed into place by running the nails through the sides of the rafters. These nails should be slanted slightly so that they will force the 2x4 hard up against the wood sheathing.

If, for some reason, you can fasten the patch to the roof rafters, use wood screws to fasten it to the roof sheathing, but be sure that the screws are not so long that they will penetrate the sheathing and the roofing—for this will just produce a few more leaks.

Mail Hanky Gifts

A favored gift for centuries, dainty handkerchiefs now are available enclosed in greeting cards which are suitable for birthdays or as "bread and butter" gifts for those by whom you have been entertained. The handkerchief cards will also be available as Christmas gift - greetings this year.

MAKE FRIENDS

When you want to tell a funny story to a group, go over it in your mind before you open your mouth. That will keep you from leaving out any important detail that gives point to the story. It will also prevent you from having to stop in the middle to remember just how to lead up to the punch line. Unless you have a story well composed in your mind, don't tell it. Forget it completely.

Should Plan Evening of Talk in Own House

She Can't Refuse in Another's Home

By EMILY POST

A letter today explains: "While I do play cards on occasion, I am bored to death with all card games. Most of my friends, on the other hand, would rather play cards than eat.

"Whenever my husband and I go to their houses, it seems we have no sooner arrived than the hostess suggests playing cards. I would much rather spend the evening talking.

"Would it be rude on my part to say that I don't care to play cards, or do good manners demand that I play and say nothing?"

Answer: I am afraid you will have to play cards as long as they want you to when you are in their houses. When you invite them to your house you can have your evening of talking.

Dear Mrs. Post: Some time soon a friend of mine who lives in a distant city will come and spend her two-week vacation with us. Will you please tell me what is expected of my husband and me in regard to paying for her entertainment.

We live in a large city where there is much to do and see, and as this is her first visit here I am sure she will want to see as much as possible.

When we go anywhere—to the theater, sightseeing, etc., is my husband supposed to pay her way all the time? My husband and I are in modest circumstances, whereas she has a good job and is well able to pay her own way.

Answer: Take her as often as you can afford. Then when you can no longer afford to go, stay home.

If she suggests going somewhere, tell her frankly you cannot afford to go and must therefore stay contentedly home. If she can, she'll undoubtedly offer to take you.

Dear Mrs. Post: My employer received a visiting card with the letters "P.P.C." written in the lower left-hand corner. He hasn't any idea what it means and asked me to find out from you.

Answer: The exact translation is "To take leave." In other words, people send out these cards to say "goodbye" when they are leaving town.

Kremlin Woos the British at Reception for Chinese

MOSCOW (AP)—The Kremlin chiefs uncorked their choicest Vodka last night to honor Chinese Premier Jews.

Chou En-lai and Vietminh Deputy Premier Pham Van Dong, triumphally touring homeward from the Geneva conference.

Toasts by the dozen to peace and coexistence were hoisted at a gala reception given by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov for about 1,000 persons, including Western diplomats and newsmen.

The get-friendly theme was pitched mainly at British Ambassador Sir William Hayter, who sat at the head table with the guests of honor and top Russian officials.

In a jovial moment toward the end of the party, Soviet Communist Party Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev raised his glass to the British diplomat. "You British don't want to capture Leningrad," Khrushchev said, "and we don't want to take Glasgow."

"Leningrad is a very nice town, prettier than Glasgow," Hayter smilingly replied.

* * *

U. S. Embassy officials passed up their invitation to the big Spridanovka House reception. It arrived just a few hours before the party started. The Americans wouldn't have gone anyway, because the United States does not recognize Chou's Peiping regime.

Premier Georgi Malenkov topped the guest list of government leaders. Moscow bigwigs, foreign diplomats and Western correspondents. The Premier was amiable and all smiles but he offered no toasts.

As the vodka compliments mounted toward half a hundred around the head table, Khrushchev and Internal Trade Minister Anastase I. Mikoyan grew especially animated and high spirited.

Even after all the guests rose to leave, Khrushchev kept tipping his glass with the British ambassador in an exchange heard by newsmen nearby.

"Now we don't want any war, and we are not afraid of each other," the party chief said.

U.S. Set to Offer Egypt Support

Military and Economic Aid Would Help Bolster Near East Defenses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is ready to offer military and economic aid to Egypt as part of its drive to bolster the Near East against possible Communist aggression.

Officials reported today that negotiations for separate military and economic agreements with Egypt would begin within a few weeks.

Egypt's agreement with Britain over the future of the Suez Canal is viewed as clearing the way for American assistance, previously withheld on the ground it might encourage the Egyptians to balk at a compromise.

Officials voiced confidence that military and economic understandings can be signed quickly permitting Premier Abdul Nasser to modernize his army so as to play a bigger defense role with Western nations in the region.

Egypt, it is hoped, will change its attitude and lead other Arab governments into a Western-backed Middle East defense alliance, already being fashioned by Pakistan and Turkey.

President Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he was highly pleased that the Egyptians and the British had finally settled their three-year-old dispute. He expressed hope Egypt would now go along with her Western friends to help build more security in the Near East area.

Officials declined to say how much aid Egypt would be offered.

Israel is expected to protest any such military shipments, but American officials are determined to go forward anyway because in their view such equipment is intended to guard against possible aggressive moves by Russia and not to renew the war against the

Returns Kindness

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Philip Hull, vice president of a pen company, recently received this note from a teacher: "I want to thank you for your kindness when we visited your splendid plant. Also, I am returning two fountain pens two of my students picked up while we were making the tour."

Sicilian Women Smuggle Salt 'Neath Petticoats

TRAPANI, Sicily (AP) — Nervous women with flowing petticoats are carrying on a bizarre smuggling traffic here in western Sicily. Beneath their ample gowns they carry packets of salt.

Salt is under state control, and subject to tax, on the Italian mainland. On Sicily, home of one of the world's biggest salt beds, it is uncontrolled and untaxed.

And there's too much salt in Sicily. The beds of Trapani are piling up great surpluses because big customers such as Japan and India have found salt closer to home. The big customers now are fishermen, who buy thousands of tons to preserve their catches. A good fishing year can mean a salt year. Some of the biggest sales are made to Norwegian fisheries, but last year was a poor one for the Norwegians. The result: 3,000 Trapani workers fear they will lose their jobs.

Trapani keeps on producing its salt at the rate of 180,000 tons a year. The Sicilian women, with flowing petticoats, keep on buying it cheap to sell at higher prices on the mainland blackmarket.

They don't consider themselves smugglers — merely business folk. They carry as much as 100 pounds of salt, strapped round their waists for the short voyage across the Strait of Messina.

Their efforts won't help Trapani's salt industry much, however. A good catch of fish in Norway would do much more.

Make a Soda of Pink Lemonade

PINK LEMONADE SODA—Can you think of anything more appealing to drink on a hot day than this pink lemonade? Serve it in your largest goblet, put in a scoop of strawberry ice cream, garnish with lemon and serve. Ah-h-h-h . . . s' wonderful!

Drink Is Frothy and Refreshing

Strawberry Ice Cream Adds Extra Touch to Vitamin-Rich Mixture

The pink of perfection is this new summertime flavor combination—looks good enough to drink and tastes even better. Fresh lemon juice plus strawberry ice cream is the secret.

Adds up to a drink that not only looks irresistible and tastes delightful, but is good for you, too.

Certain to delight both Junior and Aunt Jenny is:

Pink Lemonade Soda

½ cup lemon juice
½ cup sugar
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel

Combine lemon juice, sugar, and lemon peel. Allow to stand 15-20 minutes. This is the soda base and may be stored in a covered container in the refrigerator until needed. Makes enough for 6 sodas.

For each serving:

2 tablespoons lemon mix
2 tablespoons strawberry ice cream
¾ cup carbonated water
1 medium scoop strawberry ice cream

Combine lemon mix and 2 tablespoons strawberry ice cream in the bottom of a tall glass (18 to 20 ounce size) and mix well. Add carbonated water. Stir briskly to blend. Add 1 scoop strawberry ice cream and stir lightly. Garnish with a lemon slice. Serve at once.

Soda Pop Brings Rainbow Colors to Easy Desserts

Don't buy anything to make Rainbow Desserts. When there's a get-together at your house, look in the refrigerator. Take your very favorite soft drink—soda pop, cola, fruit or berry juice. Mix with other ingredients—cook—chill. All ready when the gang arrives!

Soda Pop Rainbow

4 tablespoons quick cooking tapioca
¼ cup sugar
Dash of salt
2½ cups soda pop, any flavor
1 tablespoon lemon juice

Combine tapioca, sugar, salt and beverage in saucepan and mix well. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Add lemon juice; blend; remove from heat.

Cool; stir once after 20 minutes. Cover and chill thoroughly. Serve with plain or whipped cream. Makes 4-5 servings.

Beverage Base Rainbow

⅓ cup quick cooking tapioca
½ cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 tablespoon powdered beverage base (any fruit flavor)
2½ cups water

Baked Eggplant Proves Delicious

Baked Stuffed Eggplant

1 eggplant (about 7 inches long and 4 inches across)
2 tablespoons butter or margarine or bacon drippings
¼ cup finely diced onion
¼ cup finely diced green pepper
¼ cup finely diced celery
One No. 303 can (1 pound) tomatoes
¾ cup lightly drained canned cut okra
Salt and pepper
Allspice
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
Grated cheddar cheese

Slice eggplant in half lengthwise; cut out pulp leaving a ½-inch thick shell; chop pulp. Melt butter in 10-inch skillet over low heat; add onion, green pepper and celery; cook about 5 minutes, stirring often. Add eggplant pulp, tomatoes (including juice from can), okra, salt and pepper to taste, and a dash of allspice. Cook over low heat until eggplant is tender, 20 to 30 minutes. Mix in bread crumbs.

Spoon mixture into eggplant shells placed in shallow baking pan. Sprinkle with extra bread crumbs and cheese. Bake in moderate 375 oven until hot through. Makes 6 servings.

Try These Dishes to Get Two of Seven Basic Foods

Two of the most important of the seven basic foods we all need every day are cereals and milk. They are essential to growth, stamina and a balanced diet. They provide essential calcium, B vitamins, minerals and protein at low cost.

Nevertheless, too many adults forget they never outgrow their need for these foods. Our national health will be much better than it is today when we all realize that not some of the seven basic foods, but all of them, must be eaten every day.

1. Quick cereal loaf breads.
2. Oatmeal cookies.
3. Chicken a la King (or other favorite creamed dish) served on hot ready-to-eat oat cereal. Dot the cereal with butter or margarine, heat in a shallow pan in a moderate oven.
4. Crispy Omelet—for a 5-egg fluffy omelet from your recipe collection, heat one cup of oven-popped rice cereal in butter or margarine or bacon drippings until lightly browned. Spread over the bottom of skillet. Pour omelet mixture over cereal. Cook over low heat as your recipe directs.
5. Creamed potatoes or potatoes in cheese sauce topped with slightly crushed flaked cereal; baked until heated through.

One of the easiest and most economical ways to get these two, basic foods into the diet is to use them at breakfast. Fruit or fruit juice, cereal, served either hot or cold, milk, bread with butter or margarine, and a glass of milk, coffee or tea make a perfectly balanced breakfast. It will also contribute from 1/4 to 1/3 of the day's total nutritional requirements at very low cost.

Ginger Ale, Juices Make Tasty Punch

Here is a recipe for cool summer refreshment.

The ingredients are: four cups of cranberry juice cocktail; two cups of unsweetened pineapple juice; one cup of lemon juice, fresh, frozen, or canned, eight seven-ounce bottles (seven cups) of chilled ginger ale. Lemon slices (to float on top of bowl).

Combine the juices and chill (in the punch bowl, if you have room in the refrigerator). Just before you serve, add ice cubes or an ice block and pour ginger ale slowly down the side of the bowl. Garnish with lemon slices. This recipe will make about three quarts.

Shape smoked cheese into balls, then roll in chopped parsley or nutmeats, and add to a vegetable salad plate.

Blueberry Crop Bigger and Better, Growers Report

NEW YORK (UP) — This year's blueberry crop, now coming to market, is bigger and of better quality than last year's, growers report.

The cooler than usual spring weather in such peak growing areas as North Carolina, Delaware and Maryland has slowed the maturing of the cultivated berry so that it is plumper and jucier than usual.

This fruit may be served many ways—for dessert with sugar and cream; in pies, cobblers, ice cream, cakes and muffins. There are hundreds of recipes.

Blueberry-Marshmallow Delight

1½ cups cultivated blueberries, washed and well-drained
12 marshmallows, cut in quarters
¼ cup chopped walnut meats
¾ cup heavy cream, whipped

Toss ingredients lightly and pile in sherbet dishes. Chill before serving. If frozen blueberries are used, thaw and drain, and proceed as with the fresh berries. If canned berries are used, chill, drain, and use as fresh berries.

Beat Cold Jellied Soup

Beat a cold jellied soup lightly with a fork before serving, then spoon into serving cups or other soup dishes. Garnish with slices of cucumber sprinkled with parsley or chives.

Jam Makes Fine Prize

Next time it's your turn to have the bridge club meet at your house, and you're wondering what to get for a prize, take a dozen glasses of homemade jellies and jams from your cupboard, wrap each glass individually in cellophane, put them all in an attractive box, and you'll have a prize that is inexpensive, practical and different.

COOL REFRESHMENT—Orange Pinemint and Iced Tea! Sounds cool, refreshing and thirst-quenching? Together they make a low, low calorie fruit dish and beverage combination delectably different for dessert or company-fare on a hot afternoon or evening.

Iced Tea Is Party Drink With Lots of Versatility

Cool summer drinks are an American institution. Young and old alike seem to find the good old summer time completely unbearable without an ice-cold refreshing drink within arm's reach at any hour of the day or night.

Because we do consume limitless amounts of beverages during this time of year, it is like stumbling on buried treasure to find one drink that is always deliciously new.

Now don't be surprised when we tell you that this always delightful beverage is iced tea. There is no other summer time drink so versatile, and it is primarily because of iced tea's versatility that it remains a summer time favorite.

Easy to prepare and the most economical beverage you can serve outside of water, brisk iced tea is good drinking any time of day or night. Served "as is" or with lemon and sweetening, iced tea is a good mealtime companion. Dress it up a bit more, and what a drink you'll have for parties!

Here are two delectable punch recipes that family and friends will love. Tea House Punch is ideally suitable for special occasions. But either that or the Mint-Tea Punch can be poured over a block of ice in your biggest punch bowl, and there, accompanied with a tray of finger foods, is your summer tea party!

First of all, simple instructions for making iced tea, from the tea experts who blend the popular brisk tea we're talking about. Here's how—

Pour 4 cups of bubbling, boiling water over 6 tea bags or 6 heaping teaspoons of brisk tea in a teapot. Let this brew steep for 3-5 minutes. Strain over cracked ice and serve. When poured over ice in 14 ounce glasses, this amount of tea will fill 5 glasses.

Tea House Punch

1 quart brisk tea
1 can (No. 2) pineapple juice
1 cup orange juice
4 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup sugar
1 bottle Sauterne, or other white wine

Prepare tea according to directions for iced tea and allow it to cool to room temperature. Combine sugar and fruit juices and stir to dissolve sugar. Add wine and the cooled tea and mix well. Pour punch over ice and serve.

Mint-Tea Punch

8 cups brisk tea
1 can frozen lemonade
¾ cup mint syrup

Brew tea according to iced tea directions and allow to cool to room temperature. Pour over ice. Blend in frozen lemonade and mint syrup. Serve in punch bowl garnished with slices or orange and lemon.

Note: Frozen limeade may be used instead of lemonade.

Mint Syrup

1 cup sugar
1 cup water
Mint (about 30 leaves)

Bruise mint leaves in sugar, add water and stir over heat until sugar dissolves. Simmer 3 to 5 minutes. Strain out leaves. Store in the refrigerator.

Cold Jellied Consomme

Cold jellied consomme makes a most refreshing first course for summer meals. Add some orange or pineapple juice to the consomme for an extra-sparkling flavor. Just blend 1 can of condensed beef consomme with ½ soup can orange juice or pineapple juice; plus 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Chill this in the refrigerator at least 8 hours. Spoon the thin jelly into chilled bowls—makes 3 servings.

Deviled Eggs Are Tasty

Want those deviled eggs you are planning to take to a picnic to taste particularly savory? Add finely grated onion, Worcestershire sauce and drained sweet pickle relish to the yolks when you mash them; season with salt and freshly-ground pepper and add just enough mayonnaise to give a good consistency.

Add Caraway Seed

Add caraway seed or celery seed to a potato salad for good flavor. You'll need about a teaspoon of the seed to about four cups of cubed cooked potatoes. Serve the salad with boiled frankfurters, corned beef or sliced ham.

Fruit Pinemint, Iced Tea Make Cool Teammates

We're not forgetting the calorie counters in this issue on cool drinks. Here's a beverage containing almost no calories and an orange dessert that's also for weight watchers.

For a variety in iced tea flavors, that do not take away from the tea's thirst-quenching, pick-up qualities, try the following:

Iced Tea Variations

One-quarter cup each of orange, lemon and lime juices add a delightful zest to iced tea.

Iced Tea Pointers

Refrigeration may cause iced tea to cloud. Cloudy iced tea can be restored to its crystal color simply by adding a little boiling water.

Orange Pinemint

To prepare Orange Pinemint for 4 people, chill 4 oranges and a small can of pineapple slices packed in water.

Remove peel from oranges and cut along membrane between sections to free segment. (Do not separate.) Heat syrup from canned pineapple.

Add 2 tablespoons crushed mint. Simmer gently 5 minutes. When cool, add 1 teaspoon aromatic bitters.

To serve, place each orange on a slice of pineapple. Pour 2 to 3 tablespoons fruit sauce over each serving. Garnish with additional sprig of mint.

Float Cherries, Grapes in Bowl of Ice Water

For a cool summer dessert, float cherries in ice water in a crystal bowl—a French and Italian way of serving fruit. When cherries aren't in season, try serving small bunches of grapes this way.

You'll like the cool way the fruit tastes, fresh from its icy bath, and your guests will admire the glamorous way it looks!

Thrifty Retired Planter Saves First Two Nickels

MARKS, Miss. (UP)—T. H. Dale, 70-year-old retired planter, said his thrifty habits started at the age of five, when he received two nickels which he still cherishes as the first money he ever earned.

Dale has the two nickels mounted. One came from a rider who asked him to hold his horse for a moment, the other from a grandfather who was boarding a train for St. Louis.

"My mother told me to save them instead of spending them for candy," Dale recalled.

On the first Atlantic cable the transmission rate was $1 per word letter.

COFFEE-BANANA FLOAT—When you want to drink your lunch on a hot day, make a coffee-banana float. You'll find it an entirely new taste treat. Serve it with a saucer of crisp, not too sweet sugar cookies, and you're all set.

Offers Lift to Church

GOUVERNEUR, N. Y. (UP) — Al Redmond, owner of a local taxi company, offers free transportation to any villagers who need it in order to get to church on Sundays.

The Suez canal runs almost due north and south for 104.5 miles through marshy lakes and deserts.

Coffee Flavors Banana Float

Where did the scoops of ice-cream, the glasses of iced coffee and the bananas go—the ones you put out for summer-time lunch? Elementary, my dear Watson! They all disappeared into the Coffee-Banana Float!

The motive? The bananas and icecream to nourish, the coffee to stimulate and cool you, by way of one delectable, super-sized drink. Crispy cookies go with this lunch-in-a-glass.

Coffee-Banana Float

1 ripe banana
1 cup strong, cold coffee
½ cup heavy cream
2 teaspoons very fine sugar
1 cup cold milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 scoops coffee ice cream

Mash banana with fork or in an electric blender. Add coffee, cream and sugar. Beat with rotary beater or in blender until thoroughly mixed. Add milk and vanilla. Mix well.

Pour into 3 tall glasses. Add 1 scoop of coffee ice cream to each glass.

Suggest Vegetable Plate

Planning a luncheon? How about a nutritious vegetable plate—peas served in turnip cups, cucumbers in sour cream and buttered asparagus, suggests Roberta Hershey, foods and nutrition extension specialist at Michigan State College.

Chlorform, ether and nitrous oxide were the first general anesthetics to be used widely by physicians.

Add Milk to Hamburger to Get Juicier Patties

Try adding two tablespoons of milk to a pound of ground beef when you are making hamburgers; they'll come out juicy!

Top the hamburgers with a mixture of chili sauce, pickle relish and prepared horseradish and serve on toasted buttered buns.

Vary Green Beans

Cook 1/3 cup chopped onion and 1/3 cup chopped celery with a package of frozen green beans. Drain, and while still piping hot, add 2 tablespoons butter or margarine. Simple — and mighty

Add a tablespoon of grated orange rind and a cup of chopepd pecans or walnuts to the batter before baking. Serve hot with an orange sauce.

MILK SHAKES—Pineapple, applesauce, cinnamon or peach. These and many other flavors can be made into delicious refreshing milk drinks. Easy to put in menus for adult and child alike, a milk shade is a welcome treat. Summer milk coolers are the answer if the children do not like milk.

Make Tasty Milk Shakes at Home in Many Flavors

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Let's not overlook milk as a cooling beverage on these hot days. The emphasis is often placed on other types of cold drinks to the exclusion of milk. Since "you never outgrow your need for milk," you need it just as much in hot weather as in cold.

One of the nicest ways to serve milk is in a milk shake. We don't know when the first milk shake was made up or who did it; but we do know it has added enjoyment to many a serving of milk.

You may have a frosted milk shake or a float. If all the ice cream is completely dissolved, the result is a "frosted." If there is an extra scoop of ice cream in the milk shake, it is a "float" in the parlance of the trade.

One of the nicest things about making milk shakes at home is that you may make them any thickness—so thick that you need a spoon to eat them—or no thicker than ordinary milk. Sometimes for small children it is wiser to keep them thin.

For the perfect milk shake have all ingredients chilled before using. Work fast while mixing and serve immeditaely before the froth subsides.

Try some of these recipes for summer milk coolers and rest assured that at the same time you are giving your family a treat you are also helping to balance their diet.

Added ice cream is optional in all these recipes.

Prune-Apricot Milk

Combine 2 cups cold milk with 1 small can or jar each of strained prunes and strained apricots (baby pack); blend thoroughly. Serve with a sprinkling of grated nutmeg and a dab of whipped cream, if desired. Yield: 4 beverages.

Minted Applesauce Milk Shake

Combine 3 cups cold milk, 1 cup canned applesauce and 2 drops mint extract; blend thoroughly. Add sugar to taste and a few drops green food coloring, if desired. Serve with fresh mint sprig garnish. Yield: 4 beverages.

Pineapple Milk Shake

Combine 3 cups cold milk, 1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice, ¼ cup honey in tightly covered jar and shake well. For frosted shake add 4 large tablespoons ice cream. Shake. Yield: 2 beverages.

Cinnamon Milk

Combine 2 cups cold milk, 1 tablespoon honey, ¼ teaspoon vanilla, ⅛ teaspoon cinnamon in a tightly covered quart jar. Shake thoroughly and serve immediately. Yield: 2 beverages.

Peach Ice Cream Sodas

Divide 1 8-oz. can sliced peaches, drained, and 1 pint vanilla ice cream among six tall glasses. Fill each glass with milk. Serve at once with iced teaspoons. Yield: 6 beverages.

Maple Milk Shake

2-3 tablespoons maple syrup
¼ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup milk
1 large serving vanilla ice cream

Dieters Advised to Watch Drinks

Dr. Norman Jolliffe, Director of Bureau of Nutrition, Department of Health, City of New York and author of "Reduce and Stay Reduced" recently made some interesting points regarding summer beverages.

His recommendations, especially to those who are counting calories, is to drink water, carbonated water, or iced tea with a non-caloric sweetener. The calorie beverage chart below is self-explanatory.

Beverages	Approx. No. Calories per 6-oz. serving
*Iced tea (unsweetened)	4.0
Iced coffee (unsweetened)	11.0
Sugar-free carbonated beverages	18.0
Beer	59.0
Cola beverages	82.0
Lemonade, frozen	86.0
Carbonated fruit-flavored beverages	91.0
Grape juice	111.0

Iced coffee with cream and sugar 94.0.

Dr. Jolliffe pointed out that iced tea is a non-filling, non-fattening beverage that quenches thirst because it has no sweet, cloying aftertaste. It refreshes, and at the same time gives you a lift.

Cook Vienna Sausage, Spaghetti for Fast Meal

MKT BKT — 14

A meal in mere minutes is yours when you combine cans of spaghetti and Vienna sausage. Keep some "spares" of these two products on your kitchen shelf or at the weekend cottage—then you're always prepared to "hurry up" a meal.

First brown the sausage (1 can) in a little hot shortening. Remove them from the pan and put in 2 cans (about 3½ cups) of spaghetti in tomato sauce. Add a cup or so of cooked corn if you like. When piping hot, serve scoops of spaghetti topped with browned sausage. Good alongside is pear and cottage cheese salad.

Serve pineapple slices with a center twirl of pimiento to accompany a molded sea food mousse. Garnish with additional pimiento and watercress.

Franks on Spaghetti Good Outdoor Meal

'Round about now outdoor barbecues and grills are seen on patios and terraces all over the country. Outdoor cooking provides plenty of opportunity for imaginative meals.

For appetites made keen by fresh air and exercise there's nothing more flavorful than a savory spaghetti, macaroni or noodle dish. These three foods are simple to prepare whether you're feeding five or fifty, and they make perfect partners for barbecued or grilled meats of every kind.

Barbecued Frankfurters on Spaghetti

¼ cup butter or margarine
2 large onions, thinly sliced
1 cup chopped green pepper
4 8-ounce cans tomato sauce
⅓ cup vinegar
2 teaspoons sugar
2 teaspoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon garlic salt
2 pounds frankfurters
2 tablespoons salt
4-6 quarts boiling water
1 pound spaghetti

Melt butter or margarine over medium heat. Add onions and green pepper and cook until tender. Add tomato sauce, vinegar, sugar, mustard, 1 teaspoon salt and garlic salt.

Slash frankfurters crosswise in 3 places. Add to sauce. Cook over low heat 30 minutes.

Add 2 tablespoons salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add spaghetti so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

Serve barbecued frankfurters on spaghetti. Makes 8-10 servings.

Nutrition Confusion Causes Food Waste

Food faddists and nutritional quacks result in the waste of a half billion dollars a year in food according to Dr. Charles Glen King, scientific director of Nutrition Foundation, Inc.

He asserts that faddists cause confusion about nutrition which prevents the public from learning about and having confidence in sound eating practices, and that much of the wasted money is spent to purchase a special foods such as "cultured" milk, powdered alfalfa leaves, grain germ, molasses of a type usually fed to livestock and special "vitamin foods" which in most instances contain few necessary nutrients that could not be obtained in cheaper everyday foods.

Combine one can concentrate for lemonade, 1½ cups water, 1 cup pineapple juice and ½ cup crushed pineapple in order given. Pour mixture into molds and freeze.

Salmon Steak, Aspic Delicious

One of the most popular items on a summer restaurant menu is Cold Salmon Steak in Aspic. It's a colorful dish, and of course everybody likes delicious salmon. Preparing a fresh piece of fish in aspic in a home kitchen might be a little too much to contemplate on a hot summer's day.

But why not use canned salmon, the National Fisheries Institute suggests. Most kitchen cupboards hold at least one can of this versatile fish. The recipe given by the Institute calls for another staple, lemon gelatine, plus a can of madrilene, which delicatessens and grocery stores always stock in summer. Called Quick Summer Salmon, this recipe is just that—a new, easy way to prepare canned salmon and a nutritious hot-weather main-course dish.

Quick Summer Salmon

Remove salmon in one piece from a 6-ounce can. Drain on paper towels. Lay salmon in a bed of Lemon Madrilene cubes (recipe below) and garnish with olive slices and cucumbers. Serve with Tartar Sauce or any tangy mayonnaise sauce. Makes 4 servings.

Lemon-Madrilene Cubes

Dissolve 1 package lemon gelatine in 1 cup hot water. Stir in 1 can madrilene. Pour into 8x8x2 inch pan. Chill in refrigerator until set. Cut into ½-inch cubes.

Calorie Counters Can Also Enjoy Refreshing Fizz

To fill the need for a between-meal refresher that's satisfying but not "fattening," try a skim-milk soft drink fizz. You can make up just one serving at a time, in a tall glass, or the milk can be beaten up into a concentrated base for several servings.

The base may be used at once, or it can be covered and stored in the refrigerator—handy for "help-yourself" family servings.

One-Serving Fizz

3 tablespoons dry milk powder
1 to 2 teaspoons lemon juice
Individual bottle carbonated soft drinks, chilled

Put dry milk in tall glass or pint pitcher. Add lemon juice and 2 to 3 tablespoons of chilled carbonated beverage. Stir with fork until mixture is smooth. Stir in a little more beverage, then fill up the glass. Serves 1.

Fizz Base

1 small bottle carbonated soft drink (any flavor)
1 tablespoon lemon juice
¾ cup dry milk powder

Pour soft drink in quart-size mixing bowl; add lemon juice. Sprinkle dry milk over top. Beat with rotary or electric beater until mixture has consistency of soft whipped cream. Use at once, or cover and store in refrigerator. For 4 servings.

Player Pianos Stage Big Comeback in Akron

AKRON, O. (UP)—James Ross doesn't know what's going on nationally, but, so far as his local music store is concerned, the player piano is staging a comeback.

Ross said he is currently selling $30 to $40 worth of player rolls a day. He stocked a few rolls for years just to satisfy a handful of old-fashioned customers. Now he has a hard time keeping enough on hand.

Lemon Sauce Tops Boiled Fish Fillets

Fish Fillets With Lemon Sauce

1 small onion
2 medium carrots, diced
1½ quarts cold water
1½ teaspoons salt
Few grains pepper
2 pounds fish fillets
1 cup fish liquor
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons flour
3 eggs, well beaten
½ cup milk
4 teaspoons lemon juice
Parsley

Place onion and carrots in water. Bring to boil. Season each fillet with salt and pepper. Roll lengthwise. Fasten with toothpicks.

Place in boiling water. Cover. Simmer 10 minutes. Drain. Reserve ½ cup fish liquor.

Melt butter or margarine. Add flour. Blend. Combine eggs with milk. Blend. Add liquor and lemon juice. Combine with flour mixture. Blend. Season.

Cook, stirring constantly, until thick. Pour over fillets. Garnish with parsley.

Son Administers Oath to Father, a Sergeant

EAST GREENWICH, R. I. (UP) —First Sgt. John D. Bradshaw, Jr., brought his 11-year-old son, John D. Bradshaw, 3rd, around to his National Guard Battery meetings before World War II and the boy became battery mascot.

A few years later Bradshaw resigned because of temporary deafness.

But recently the sergeant was sworn back into the outfit. The oath was administered by the battery executive officer, John D. Bradshaw, 3rd, a World War II veteran.

Give Thanks for Turkey on Any Day of the Year

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Each person in the United States eats about five pounds of turkey a year — but there's nothing that says all this turkey need be consumed at Thanksgiving.

Michigan turkey growers are making a concerted effort to have the public become turkey conscious this week. July 28 to Aug. 8 is to be known as Midsummer Turkey Time.

MRS. ODELL

During this period it is hoped that many homemakers will include turkey in their meal plans. There are some thirty-five million pounds of turkey in storage, and it won't be many weeks before the new crop will be ready for that storage.

To acquaint food editors and other interested people with this effort the Michigan Turkey Growers put on a Midsummer Turkey Time Luncheon recently. Two of us drove out to the D. W. Smith farm just this side of Brighton.

Long tables of food were set up in the spacious yard. Service was cafeteria style and the quantities of food seemed unending. Turkey appeared in every conceivable form.

But first we had some delicious Cranberry Punch. It was a mixture of bottled cranberry juice and ginger ale poured over a block of raspberry ice cream. Bits of the ice cream broke off and went into the punch cups. It was a beautiful color and would be most appropriate for a baby shower or a summer reception.

Tiny parmesan cheese puffs were ready to be filled with a yummy barbecued turkey mixture. Slices of cold smoked turkey to be eaten from the fingers were arranged on trays.

Representing the salad department were Buffet Turkey Salad and Jellied Turkey Pineapple Loaf. The latter had crushed pineapple, grated carrot, celery, olives and chopped turkey in a lemon gelatin base.

Buffet Turkey Salad

2 cups diced cooked turkey
2 cups cooked rice
¼ cup French dressing
1 cup diced celery
½ cup diced green pepper
½ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
Salt and pepper
Lemon juice
Jelled cranberry sauce

Combine turkey, rice and french dressing. Chill. Just before serving combine turkey mixture with the celery, green pepper and mayonnaise. Season to taste with salt, pepper and lemon juice.

Arrange in lettuce cups. Garnish with slices of cranberry sauce and deviled eggs, if desired. Makes 6-8 servings.

Then there was roast turkey, roast breast of turkey, roast turkey thighs, glazed turkey, turkey rotisserie and turkey sandwiches. I blush to say that most of us tried everything. A dish of relishes and ice tea or coffee completed the menu.

Roast Rolled Turkey Thighs

Remove the bones from two turkey thighs by working the point of a knife between the bone and flesh. Place the meat skin side down and sprinkle flesh with ½ teaspoon salt. Spread with a thin layer of your favorite stuffing and roll the edges to make a loaf.

Put skewers through skin or tie with cord to make roast keep its form. Place in baking dish and roast, uncovered, 45 minutes for each pound in a 300 oven. May be served either hot or cold. Thin slices make tasty filling sandwiches of rye bread.

We all came away from the luncheon convinced that turkey is an excellent food — any time of the year.

Ticketed Driver Thanks Police for Stopping Him

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UP) — Motorist Mason Flynn, 43, thanked police here for handing him a ticket for speeding.

"I thought policemen always bawled you out," Flynn said. "They were exceptionally nice and courteous and I think they should be commended."

Flynn said he was glad that he was stopped.

"They (the police) made me realize I was speeding within the city limits . . . endangering life and property."

Understanding Owner Forgives Phone-Caller

MIAMI, Fla. (UP) — Mrs. Mildred Miller went into a drugstore in her neighborhood at 11 p.m. to make a call on the pay phone there. At 11:45, Druggist Henry Mitton noted she was still talking.

"I forgot about her after that," Mitton said, "and we closed the store at 12:30."

Some time after that, passersby were attracted by a woman banging on the drugstore window from the inside. She shouted that she had been locked in the store.

Police called the owner, Lynn Abelson, and his wife drove to the store to let Mrs. Miller out.

"I'm so embarrassed," Mrs. Miller said. "I don't know what you're thinking, but you can search me."

Pennant Formula Is Revealed

NEW YORK (AP)—Branch Rickey, who has been coming up with ideas since he started in baseball a half-century ago, has a brand new one for the players and fans to mull over.

* * *

The 70-year-old general manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates has reduced to a mathematical formula the answer to why pennant winning teams of the past 35 years have been the league champions.

"The formula is so revealing and unrefutable," he says in a story in Life magazine, "that it has compelled me to put different values on some of my oldest and cherished memories."

* * *

For example, he names his 25 top hitters and 10 best pitchers and the results are bound to cause controversy.

Babe Ruth is the No. 1 hitter and Carl Hubbell the best pitcher.

Ty Cobb, who is regarded by many experts as the greatest hitter of all time, is only No. 23, and Hubbell is placed above Grover Cleveland Alexander, Lefty Grove and Dizzy Dean.

In the hitting department, George Sisler, Bill Terry and Paul Waner, all of whom were over the .400 mark at least once in their careers, are not listed in the top 25.

The formula has numerous equations and symbols but it adds up to the fact that the team with the widest plus margin in scoring runs as compared to the giving up of runs usually wins the pennant. Rickey says it has proved correct 96.2 per cent of the time in the last 20 years.

It deals solely with offense with the stress on power. Rickey scoffs at fielding averages, and takes these three basic ingredients for success:

1. On base average. 2. Extra base power. 3. Clutch hitting combined with speed and ability to take the extra base.

* * *

Under his system, Rickey rates Ted Williams second to Ruth followed, in order, by Jimmy Foxx, Rogers Hornsby, Hank Greenberg, Ralph Kiner, Stan Musial, Joe DiMaggio and Mel Ott.

* * *

In rating the pitchers, Rickey admits he has not been able to figure a better method than the present one of earned run averages—the number of runs, exclusive of those scored because of errors, that are charged to a pitcher.

Chick and Wally Reverse Roles in Lakepointe Test

Chick to Defend Title in Three-Day Tourney Starting Friday

Little time will be wasted by both Chick Harbert, Meadowbrook professional and new National Professional Golfers Association champion, and the former PGA king, Wally Burkemo, challenging each other again.

Both will get into the firing Friday for the Michigan Open Championship at Lakepointe Country Club. The three-day event winds up on Sunday. Harbert is the defending champion. Thus the roles the two played in the recent tourney at St. Paul, Minn., will be reversed, with Burkemo the challenger this time.

Harbert and Burkemo head a list of the state's best shotmakers in the Open. Burkemo is also a former Open champion, having won the crown in 1950. Harbet did not compete that year. Chick won the title four times, the last year crown being captured at Hillcrest.

In Friday's pairings, Harbert and Burkemo are starting a few holes apart. Chick tees off at 11:40 Friday and at 1:32 p.m. Saturday. Wally in each case follows Harbert by 20 minutes.

Sunday's final round will be over a 36-hole route.

Veterans Pick Littler to Win KC Open Test

Ability of Young Pro Commanding Respect of Established Stars

By SKIPPER PATRICK

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The veteran pros figure young Gene Littler as the man to beat in the $20,000 Kansas City Open golf tournament beginning on the parched Blue Hills Country Club course today.

Littler, the 1953 National Amateur champion and runner-up in the last U.S. Open, has been a pro only since January, but his ability is commanding respect of all the established stars.

* * *

The former San Diego State College star, now pro at Palm Springs, Calif., is rated along with Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis, Tenn., dentist playing out of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Ed (Porky) Oliver, Lemont, Ill., as best bets.

* * *

Both Littler and Middlecoff passed up a pro-junior event on the 6,625-yard par 73 Blue Hills course yesterday. Earl Stewart Jr., of Dallas and his three teenage partners won the nine hole contest with a best ball score of 31, five strokes under par. Stewart picked up $250 for his efforts.

* * *

Among others who played the course well under regulation yesterday were Lloyd Mangrum, a former champion here, from Niles, Ill., Jimmy Clark, Huntington Beach, Calif., and Bob Toski, of Livingston, N.J. Each had a 32 in the pro-junior shooting.

The field had about 160 shooters and will be cut to the low 60 pros and ties and the 10 low amateurs tomorrow. The meet, played for the benefit of the Mercy Childrens Hospital, ends Sunday.

* * *

Old Sarge PassesOn

Bagby Helped Indians Win 1920 World Series

MARIETTA, Ga. (AP) — Jim (Sarge) Bagby, who helped pitch the Cleveland Indians to the 1920 world championship of baseball, died yesterday.

Bagby, whose full name was James Charles Jacob Bagby Sr., won 31 games and lost 12 for the Indians in 1920 and in the World Series against Brooklyn became the first pitcher ever to hit a Series home run.

* * *

The 64-year-old mound star had been in bad health since he suffered a stroke in 1942 while umpiring a game in the Piedmont League. He died at Kennestone Hospital in Marietta, where he had lived for the past several years.

Survivors include a son, Jim Jr., who followed his famous father as a major league pitcher in the 1930s. He now is employed at the Lockheed aircraft plant here.

Bagby was hammered hard in the World Series but came out with a 1-1 record against the losing Dodgers.

* * *

That season marked the zenith of his career, however. The Indians traded him to Pittsburgh in 1923 and he finished the year with Seattle. He shuttled around in the minors until 1930, when he made his last professional pitch for York, Pa.

In 7½ years in the majors, he won 128 games.

California Plumber Horseshoe Champion

MURRAY, Utah (AP)—Guy Zimmerman, plumber from Danville, Calif., won the world horseshoe pitching championship last night with three straight victories over Fernando Isais, a Los Angeles advertising sign worker.

* * *

The slender, gray-haired Zimmerman hit an amazing 87.8 per cent of his shots for ringers to beat the former long-time champion Isais 51-36, 52-39 and 50-40.

The Class B title was won by Harry Dolan of Fontana, Calif., who defeated Harry Page of Waterloo, Iowa, 2-1.

NY's Stoneham Spent 'Peanuts' for Top Club

Fabulous Willie Mays Cost Giants' Owner Only $10,000

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK (INS) — Horace Stoneham, genial check-grabber of the New York Giants, has often been tabbed as a playboy who was letting his club go to ruin.

What his critics overlook is the fact that he is a smart, shrewd business man in his working hours.

Where other clubs have been spending fortunes for ball players he has a league-leading club that cost comparative peanuts.

The fabulous Willie Mays cost Stoneham only $10,000 and the boy can attrack more than enough in one week to pay that tab.

Sal Maglie, one of the Giants' pitching aces, cost something less than $5,000 when he was landed in a draft from the Elmira, N. Y. Club.

Stoneham acquired big Jim Hearn from the St. Louis Cardinals for the $10,000 waiver price and he got his star relief artist, Marv Grissom on waivers from the American League for $15,000.

He bought his slugging outfielder, Monte Irvin and his equally hard-hitting 3rd baseman, Hank Thompson, from Negro teams for little more than car fare.

And he signed Ruben Gomez, who should be a great pitcher for many years to come, as a free agent for $15,000.

First baseman Whitey Lockman, outfielder Don Mueller and his No. 1 catcher, Wes Westrum, cost nothing. They were developed on Giant farms.

As for pitchers Johnny Antonelli and Don Liddle, Stoneham actually got a little cash with them when he sent Bobby Thomson to Milwaukee in a trade. And he got many years of great service out of Thomson who cost him very little.

Al Dark and Eddie Stanky came to the Giants in a deal for some players who have long since disappeared from the majors.

Only Davey Williams and Dusty Rhode cost a large amount. Atlanta got $65,000 for Williams and Nashville $25,000 for Rhodes.

Olympic Diver Starting Tour of Asia, Japan

Maj. Sammy Lee Will Become Ambassador of Good Will

SEOUL (AP) — Tireless Maj. Sammy Lee becomes an athletic ambassador of goodwill tomorrow when he leaves on a three-month tour of Japan and Southeast Asian countries.

The two-time Olympic high diving champion has been granted a leave by the U. S. Army to visit Asian countries and explain to amateir athletic groups the meaning of American sports.

* * *

The tour is under the joint sponsorship of the National Amateur Athletic Union and the State Department.

* * *

The 34-year-old American-Korean physician will coach divers in the countries he visits and give several exhibitions.

Lee, whose major duty is that of an ear specialist at the 8th Army's 121 Evacuation Hospital near here, got in a little warmup yesterday with an exhibition at the Seoul City Stadium.

Forfeit Gives Lunsford Share of Junior Crown; Class E Champion Held to Scoreless Deadlock

By BILL MARTIN

Lunsford Market assured itself of at least a share of the City Junior Baseball League Class F regular-season title yesterday by being awarded a forfeit victory over St. George.

In other "F" contests, Avondale iced 3rd place by blanking Majestic 8-0 on Larry LaForge's 2-hitter and Welden's pulled a mild upset on Boys' Club Nationals, 11-6.

Class E champion Lytell-Colegrove and runnerup Rosebud Market battled to a scoreless tie in seven innings to end the "E" schedule. Darkness forced umpires to call the game at the end of seven frames.

Lytell-Colegrove surprised Griff's Grill, 5-1, to blast Griff's hopes for a share of the Class D crown. Lytell's Berry Fell limited Griff's to a single hit, struck out five and walked two. Rochester blanked Mets 12-0 on Lynn Wright's 2-hitter in another "D" game.

In Knothole American play, champion Boys' Club won its 10th consecutive victory, 14-0, over Yankees as Tom Mayes twirled a 1-hitter. Avondale edged GMC, 9-8, and Dick & Wes dumped Indians, 15-6.

Senators defeated Orioles, 10-4, in the 1st game of a special playoff to break a 3-way deadlock for the Knothole National championship. Senators met Vollmars this morning to settle the tie.

Johnson Surprises Fifth-Ranked Jones

NEW YORK (AP)—George Johnson, the unranked Trenton, N.J. middleweight, is back in business again after his upset victory over sluggish Bobby Jones, the No. 5 boy in the division.

Jones hasn't won a fight since he spurned an alleged $15,000 bribe offer before his June 11 bout with Joe Giardello.

Although Jones was an 8 to 5 favorite, Johnson was a unanimous choice last night at Madison Square Garden in a national televised bout that drew a crowd of no more than 1,500. The International Boxing Club didn't bother to announce any figures.

Johnson, 154 to Jones' 157, simply threw too many punches for the Oakland, Calif. veteran of 66 pro bouts. Only in the fifth, sixth and ninth did Jones flurry. Each time he stopped before he could do any heavy damage.

Moose Nine Clinches Tie for 2nd Place in League

Moose clinched a tie for 2nd place in the City Men's Softball League last night as it closed out its season with a 2-1 triumph over Champagne-Velvet.

Victory left Moose with a regular-season mark of 14-4 and a tie with Stadium Inn for the runnerup spot behind champion General Motors.

Moose scored its winning run in the last of the 7th, when Ernest Mann singled, advanced on a passed ball and came home on Jim Carter's single.

Milford Merchants finished in 5th place with a 9-9 record after downing Forster Tool, 6-2. Jack Ganzel smashed a 2-run homer for the winners in the 1st inning.

Giles Realty, champion of the Girls' League, won its 14th victory in a row, 24-1, over Gingellville. Ronnie Roberts, Effie Seay and Learlie McCaughan hit home runs for Giles. GMC edged Avondale, 9-8, to move into a tie for 2nd place with Shaw's.

Home-Town Honors U.S. Open Golf Champion

UTICA, N.Y., July 29 (AP) — Ed Furgol, National Open golf champion, was toasted on Wednesday by his home town.

The 37-year-old Furgol was honored by more than 500 friends and fans at a dinner at the Twin Ponds Golf and Country Club in New York Hills, a Utica suburb. He was given a purse of money, the amount was not disclosed.

Matron Stakes Won by Lavender Hill

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP)—Lavender Hill, surging up from 10th place in the last half mile, won the $34,720 Arlington Matron by 3½ lengths at Arlington Park yesterday.

Jockey Conn McCreary booted Mrs. Charles Silvers' 5-year-old chestnut mare up on the outside, caught the leaders with an eighth of a mile to go and pulled away swiftly.

She turned the mile in 1:36 3-5.

Mrs. Virginia Shwab Jr.'s Fixen Fixit, a 26-1 longshot, also closed resolutely to finish second in the field of 12.

Seeded Players' Ranks Due for Thinning in Net Test

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Ranks of the seeded players were due to be thinned today as the National Junior and Boys' Tennis championships entered the 4th round.

In junior singles, the favorites tag was pinned on Jerry Moss, the 2nd seeded player from Modesto, Calif., after the stunning upset of top-seeded Mike Franks, Los Angeles, in yesterday's 3rd round by Robert Riley of Kansas City, Mo., 3-6, 8-6, 6-2.

Moss, who yesterday whipped George Mandel, Astoria, N.Y., 6-1, 6-2, meets Maxwell Brown, 15th ranking player from Louisville, Ky., today.

Jon Douglas, 3rd-seeded junior from Santa Monica, Calif., who meets 10th-ranked Crawford Henry, Atlanta, Ga., today, trimmed Ed Hudgins of Greensboro, N.C., 6-1, 6-2, in the 3rd round.

Two other seeded juniors fell by the wayside yesterday. Norm Perry, Los Angeles, came from behind a 0-4 deficit in the final set to beat 16th-ranked David Frieshat of Baltimore, Md., 0-6, 6-0, 7-5. And Ron Holmberg of Brooklyn defeated 14th-seeded Tom Freiberg of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-1.

Alan Silverman, the topseeded boys player, whipped Tag Grossman of Denver, Colo., 6-0, 6-1. Silverman has lost just two games in the four sets and today meets Martin Riessen, Hinsdale, Ill.

Michigan's top player, Gerald Dubie of Hamtramck, 3rd-ranked here, plays James Shaffer of St. Petersburg, Fla., today. He ousted Larry Piper of Danville, Indiana, 6-1, 6-3, yesterday.

Favored Maxwell Leads in All-Army Golf Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cpl. Bill Maxwell, shooting the brand of golf that established him as pre-tourney favorite, led a culled field into the third round of the All-Army championships today.

Maxwell, ex-National Amateur king from Big Springs, Tex., shot a 2-under-par 70 at Woodmont Country Club yesterday for a 36-hole total of 141.

He thus headed the pack of 22 who passed the halfway mark at the qualifying score of 152 or better.

Moreau Says Amateur Round a Tough Test

One of the four alternates for the U.S. Amateur Golf Championship at Country Club of Detroit, in August is a Pontiac linksman. He is Al Moreau, war veteran of three years service (1942-45), playing out of Indianwood Country Club.

Al was involved in the playoff for the alternate spots after finishing in a four-way tie at 153 (77-76—153).

Due to war disability, Al was "off" golf eight years, and only since 1949 has he gradually worked his game back into shape.

"Both courses (Oakland Hills, Birmingham CC) played extremely long and difficult, due to the back tees and placement of the flags. It was tough going, physically," Moreau says. Al played the last six holes at Birmingham with his legs threatening to tie up in knots before he could finish.

Ace for Mrs. Korbut

A surprised WMGA player yesterday afternoon, marked up her 1st golfing ace. In the weekly league play at Pontiac Country Club, Mrs. W. A. (Catherine) Korbut holed out her tee shot on the 135-yard 8th hole. She used a No. 6 iron for the shot. Playing with her were Mrs. Sarah Symington and Margaret Purdy. Mrs. Korbut had 48-70—118 for the dound. All are Detroiters.

Mrs. Robert Erdelon topped the field of 101 with a 39-41—80, to lead Mrs. R. F. DeBolt by two strokes.

Pontiac Driver Snaps Slump at M-59 Speedway

Pontiac's Joy Fair snapped a month-long slump last night as he won the 25-lap hardtop feature at Pontiac M-59 Speedway last night.

Fair beat Chuck Partello of Rochester by a half-lap to rack up his 5th feature triumph of the season. Phil Ragatz of Waterford was 3rd.

The Pontiac driver also won a heat race, while Partello took the trophy dash and the Australian pursuit. Bill Hasselle won the semi-final, while heats were won by George Rhyndress, Jack Weston, Glen Woodall and Dick Dewey.

Souchock's Homers Help Aber Beat A's

By JOE FALLS

DETROIT (AP) — Dripping wet, but smiling, Steve Souchock was told his two home runs yesterday gave him exactly 50 in his big league career.

"That leaves you only 664 behind Babe Ruth's record," a baseball writer chided. "Think you'll catch him?"

"I sure will," Souchock shot back, "... in batting practice"

* * *

It was only a small dressing room incident, good for a brief laugh, but it gave a sharp insight of a ball player who has had little to smile about this season.

The veteran left fielder of the Detroit Tigers, a bench rider for most of the season, knows he isn't going to be active in the big time much longer. But while he's around, he's going to enjoy playing ball—broken wrist or no.

The 35-year-old Souchock broke his wrist while playing winter ball in Cuba. It was a slow-healing injury, painfully slow for a baseball player who feels this may be his last season.

Souchock had been to bat only 18 times before yesterday's game with the Philadelphia A's. His wrist still was sore, but he exploded a pair of three-run home runs and Detroit coasted to a 10-2 victory.

Both home runs barely cleared the left field fence and Souchock admitted neither was a Ruthian wallop.

* * *

"I hit the ball harder both times I flew out," he said. "But I'm sure glad I picked today to hit a couple. My three sisters from Dearborn were in the stands, and they seldom see a game."

Souchock connected in the 3rd inning and again in the 6th. His slugging led a 17-hit attack and eased lefty Al Aber to his 4th victory against as many losses.

Souchock was inserted into left field as a replacement for Jim Delsing, who was injured in Tuesday's twi-night doubleheader.

The game also was significant in that it marked the 1st time this season Aber finished what he started.

He was going for his 1st major league shutout, as well, but lost it in the 9th when the A's put together four straight singles for their only two runs.

Jackson, Walls Tumbled in Latest Ring Rankings

NEW YORK (AP)—Hurricane Tommy Jackson of New York and Earl Walls of Edmonton, Alberta, tumbled in the latest heavyweight ratings by Ring Magazine, revised last night by Editor Nat Fleischer.

* * *

Ezzard Charles, the ex-champ from Cincinnati, remains the No. 1 contender, followed closely by Nino Valdes, the Cuban giant who stopped the Hurricane two weeks ago.

* * *

Don Cockell who fights Harry Matthews in Seattle tomorrow night, remained in the No. 3 place and Matthews moved up a notch to seventh. Jimmy Slade, the original "Spoiler" of the Hurricane, still ranks fourth, followed by Roland La Starza and Jackson.

* * *

Paul Andrews continues his advance in the light heavy class, ranking third behind challenger Harold Johnson, who boxes Archie Moore for the title Aug. 11 at Madison Square Garden, and ex-champ Joey Maxim.

* * *

Joey Giardello regained the No. 2 contender spot in the middleweight class behind Rocky Castellani who has a title date with Bobo Olson Aug. 20 at San Francisco. Holly Mims was dropped to third.

* * *

Billy Graham fell from sixth to ninth among the welters after losing to Chris Christensen of Denmark.

* * *

Johnny Saxton, who is supposed to get next crack at Kid Gavilan's crown was dropped to fourth. Carmen Basilio of Canastota, N.Y. remained in the No. 1 spot.

Tribe, NY Roll On; Braves Test Hopes

By BEN PHLEGAR
Associated Press Sportswriter

The Milwaukee Braves are building up steam for a fast sweep along the Eastern seaboard which should determine whether there is any substance to the ghost of a chance they still hold in the National League pennant race.

* * *

A highly regarded entry during spring training, the Braves floundered through the first half of the season. But they've started to roll in the last two weeks and last night they ran their current winning streak to six games with a 6-4 victory at Pittsburgh.

A getaway game with the Pirates today will be followed by four games in Brooklyn starting tomorrow night, three in Philadelphia and three with the New York Giants.

It would take a virtual sweep to make the Braves' a serious threat. Teams have done it before, though not recently.

* * *

Neither the Braves nor the Dodgers gained any ground yesterday because the Giants broke their six-game losing streak at the expense of the St. Louis Cardinals 10-0.

The Cleveland Indians kept rolling over the Boston Red Sox, 2-1 for the 15th time in 16 decisions. New York beat Chicago 7-5 on Mickey Mantle's three-run homer in the ninth. Joe Coleman pitched a three-hitter as Baltimore trimmed Washington 2-1 and Detroit trounced Philadelphia 10-2.

Johnny Antonelli handcuffed the Cardinals for his fifth shutout and 15th victory. For a change, the Giants didn't really need such expert pitching. Jim Rhodes hit three home runs and Willie Mays banged his 36th of the season.

Early Wynn, who spaced 14 New York hits in his last start, gave up 11 more last night to Boston. The Red Sox bunched singles by Bill Consolo, Jim Piersall and Ted Williams for their only run. Cleveland won it in the sixth when Bob Avila singled and scored on Al Rosen's double. Vic Wertz singled home Rosen. The Indians managed only five safeties off rookie Russ Kemmerer.

* * *

Mantle's homer in Chicago came with Irv Noren and Joe Collins on base in the ninth after the game had been held up 68 minutes by rain. The Yankees trailed 5-1 after seven innings but picked up three in the eighth before the storm.

Coleman bested Bob Porterfield of Washington in a pitching duel at Baltimore. He gave up three hits and lost a shutout through his own undoing. He threw wild trying to pick Eddie Yost off third base in the first inning. A double by Clint Courtney and a single by pinch hitter Boby Young drove in the Baltimore runs in the Baltimore runs in the seventh.

Hurrying Swing Damages Start of the Downswing

By SAM SNEAD
Don't Hurry

I never seem to be able to emphasize enough the point that you should not hurry your swing. There is one point in the swing where hurrying causes especial damage, and that's at the start of the downswing.

What makes golfers do this? Well, it's eagerness to get at the ball. You've completed your backswing, and now you're anxious to sock that ball and watch it soar down the fairway.

Nine times out of 10 if you get too eager, your shot won't soar anywhere but out of bounds! Be quite deliberate as you start down—be conscious of that deliberateness. Too many golfers "loop" their swings as they start down because they turn their bodies into the shot before the clubhead starts down. Don't make that mistake, as it can cause all sorts of terrible shots.

Start down by pulling your arms ("A" in today's picture) down, hard. Bring the clubhead down through the same path it followed on the way up. Get these suggestions in mind, try them out in practice until you think you have them down and then make them work in actual play.

Drugs Regain Runnerup Slot

Trample Dairy Nine, 14-1, in Waterford's Softball League

Drayton Drugs regained 2nd place in the Waterford Men's Softball League last night after routing Richardson's Dairy 14-1.

Hank Shell and Bob Turnbull collected three hits apiece to pace the winners' 17-hit barrage. Paul Atkins homered for Drugs with the bases empty in the 4th inning.

Inter-lakes Steel forfeited its Junior League playoff game to White Brothers.

Miss Wall Advances in Women's Western

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Mary Agnes Wall, Menominee, Mich., advanced through yesterday's 2nd round of the Women's Western Amateur Golf championship. But a former Michigan player was eliminated.

Miss Wall defeated Carol Diringer, Tiffin, Ohio, 4 to 3. But Vonnie Colby, former Sault Ste. Marie star who plays out of Hollywood, Fla., dropped a 3 an 2 match to Pat Lesser, Seattle.

State Adopts a New Type of Deer Seal

LANSING (AP)—You won't be so apt to cut your thumb putting your seal on a deed next fall.

State conservation department said it was adopting a new deer seal, discarding the old ball-shaped seals with their sharp edges. The seals are flat, compact, lighter, less expensive and more foolproof, the department said.

More than 1,600,000 deer and small game licenses will be mailed out to Michigan's 4,000 license dealers starting next week.

Soo Area Producing Some Very Good Fish

By JACK PATTERSON

MONTREAL RIVER, Ont.—Fishing in the Soo area is currently very good. Walleyes hold most of the spotlight in the locks area and the St. Mary's River but some very nice rainbows are being taken. Local guides complain fishing is spotty and difficult, because of high water but we saw a couple taken last night that would spell good fishing in anybody's book. The smaller rainbow went eight and one quarter pounds and was taken on a dry fly, a deer hair drake. The larger fish went a bit over 11 pounds and fell to a black and white daredevil, fished by a gal who was casting for walleyes.

PATTERSON

Walleye fishing is very hot down around Drummond Island but some reason bass fishing, usually good in that area has fallen off rather badly. Some very good fish are coming in but they are few and far between. Pike fishing appears to have entered the midsummer doldrums both in the Drummond and Manitoulin Island areas.

We eased up north of the Canadian Soo for a look at conditions at Batchawana, a long time favorite fishing spot for many Pontiac anglers. Didn't find any of our people around but the fishing both for lake trout in Lake Superior and for specs in the streams and smaller lakes is very, very slow which might account for it.

On the way up to Montreal River and the end of the road we stopped at the Canadian Fisheries Institute's lamprey control station at Pancake Bay. In addition to installing electric barriers in the streams from Carp River to the Soo, fish management men are experimenting with poisoning immature lampreys in the mud of stream bottoms.

They spray a mixture of a commercial insecticide and carbon tetrachloride on the stream surface. Heavier than water, the emulsion sinks to the bottom and within an hour the small lampreys wiggle out of the mud by the thousands, quickly to become paralyzed and die.

Properly applied, the poison spray treatment is harmless to fish, according to institute researchers. In conjunction with electric barriers the poison treatment might prove the answer to the lamprey problem.

Unless, as some biologists suspect, lampreys can successfully spawn in areas other than streams poisoning the bottoms of the Great Lakes would be in the nature of a major project.

At Montreal River lake trout fishing was rather slow and brook trout fishing not much better, largely perhaps, because of the operations of Charley Wechesser and A. Verley of Birmingham and A. B. Edwards, Duane Bates and W. D. Willis of Pontiac.

Rainbow fishing in the area hasn't amounted to much lately, but one of the local guides smashed his tackle in the Montreal River yesterday on some that were too big to handle.

Resort operators north of the Soo complain that weekday business is way off from last year, but weekends find them pretty well filled to capacity.

Canadian Soo operators report good business and on the American side woe betide the reservationless traveller who hits town much after noon.

Oakland Hills Keeps Top Spot in Caddies' League

Oakland Hills' team defeated Bloomfield Country Club, 19-8, this week to retain 1st place in the Western Division of the Detroit District Caddy round-robin golf league.

Lean Spayski fired a 5-over-par 77 to pace Oakland Hills to its 5th consecutive victory.

Orchard Lake evened its record at 3-3 by beating Tam O'Shanter, 20½-6½. Highlight of the match was the 36-40—72 round put together by Jack Reynolds, one of the area's leading young golfers. Reynolds and Jack Brown, who had a 97, took six of nine points from Tam's twosome of Tom Manning (86) and Bob Wegmann (85).

Knollwood also took a victory over Tam O'Shanter, 14-4.

In the Eastern Division, Plum Hollow won two victories to take over 1st place. Dick Walker shot a 79 as Plum Hollow won an 8½-6½ victory over Forest Lake. His team beat Western, 9½-8½, in another match.

Jimmy Slizer and Bob O'Neil posted 80s as Western won over Red Run, 11½-7½. Birmingham handed Franklin Hills its 2nd loss in another Eastern Division test.

Current standings:

WESTERN	W	L	EASTERN	W	L
Oakl. Hills	5	0	Plum	3	1
Pine Lk	3	1	Franklin	3	2
Ol.	3	3	Western	3	2
Tam	2	4	B'ham	3	3
Knollwood	1	1	Red Run	1	3
Bloomfield	1	4	Forest Lk	1	3

It's Time Out!

Good Florida Fishing

On a fishing expedition on the Gulf of Mexico, recently, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Freeman, 325 Harper, Pontiac, enjoyed some excellent sport. They were spending a vacation at Sarasota and tried an all-day fishing trip that gave them the day's top prize on their fishing boat. Mrs. Freeman handed a 13 pound grouper, day's biggest fish for the party.

Yearling Sales Comes to End

Total of $3,419,300 Reported for Three-Day Event

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—The Keeneland Yearling Sales closed its most successful session yesterday after a total of 344 colts and fillies passed through the ring for an average of $9,940 each.

* * *

The grand total reported by Breeders Sales Co., was $3,419,300 for the three-day event. The best previous vendue was in 1946 when 415 yearlings brought $4,133,600, an average of $9,912.

The bidding slacked off yesterday afternoon mainly because fewer "big money" horses were offered. But the market was described as firm with the 86 sold bringing $669,400, an average of $7,783.

Robert Kleberg Jr., paid the top price of the day, $40,500, for a bay colt by Noor-Green Baize.

Matthews-Cockell Pilots Switch Roles

SEATTLE (AP)—While their charges ran through light workouts, rival managers for tomorrow night's Harry Matthews-Don Cockell 10-round heavyweight go also got in final licks today—but in unaccustomed roles.

From normally reserved John Simpson of London came the brash, for him, "Cockell will win—and by a knockout."

And from Deacon Jack Hurley, the man of unlimited vocabulary, came the almost meek: "Harry will win."

Wisconsin Commission Stops Louis Exhibition

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (AP)—Not a blow was swung last night as ex-heavyweight champion Joe Louis and a wrestler known as the Sheik of Araby were counted out by the Wisconsin Athletic Commission.

Louis and the Sheik had been scheduled to put on an exhibition boxing show as the windup of a wrestling card. But Fred Saddy, secretary of the commission, got wind of the affair and took steps to stop it. He said no license had been taken out and no arrangements made for officials.

Confab Today May Settle Rocky, Ezzard Rematch

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP)—Rocky Marciano is in town today for a physical exam and a conference that probably will result in a Sept. 16 Yankee Stadium rematch with ex-champ Ezzard Charles.

The heavyweight champion has been vacationing at Cape Cod, Mass. and Grossinger, N.Y. since he won a unanimous decision over Charles in a rousing 15-round bout at the Stadium, June 17. Charles fought a courageous scrap but was well battered at the final bell, although never knocked down.

* * *

In the hours after that battle with Charles, Dr. Vincent Nardiello operated on Marciano's eye, removing old scar tissue from a fight of years ago. He had been cut again early in the Charles bout and bled freely through the contest.

Rocky still wears a slight scar over the eye as the result of that operation, but believes he will be ready to start boxing in a week or 10 days.

* * *

He is anxious to get back to work and will go to camp as soon as possible after final details are arranged.

"I'd like to fight again this year," he said before leaving Grossinger's. "The long layoff (nine months) was too much. I need more fights."

Marciano said he weighed about 195, only 7½ pounds more than he weighed the night he met Charles.

Al Weill, Rocky's manager, has been holding out on a definite signing with the excuse that he wanted to be sure that the eye had healed perfectly. He wanted Rocky to undergo an examination by his personal physician.

Jim Norris, president of the International Boxing Club, is anxious to have the champ go again because there is no other major outdoor fight to put in a ball park this fall.

* * *

The first Marciano-Charles match drew a gross of $543,092.24 plus $35,000 from radio and about $122,500 from theater television. Marciano's 40 per cent came to approximately $250,000 and Charles 20 per cent to about $125,000.

* * *

One of the major problems to be settled will be whether to telecast the rematch into the homes for a national sponsor, probably with New York blacked out, try theater-TV again or black out everything and go for the big gate.

The Cubs' Willie Ramsdell twice pitched and won double-headers when he was a minor leaguer and posted shutouts in all four games.

Olivers Move Nearer Second Spot in A Loop

Motors Outfit Defeats Union 4-3 in Tight Game on Wednesday

Oliver Buick moved to within a game-and-a-half of 2nd place in City Class A Baseball League standings yesterday, edging 6th-place CIO No. 594, 4-3.

Buickmen broke a 1-1 deadlock in the 5th inning, when three runs crossed the plate on a combination of four hits, a sacrifice and a hit batsman.

Union nine shaved the margin to a single run in the 7th before Oliver relief pitcher Dick Womack retired the side. Womack relieved starter Dick Goldsworthy, who received credit for the victory, in the 7th.

Full-Scale Scrimmage Set for All-Star 11

LAFAYETTE, Ind., July 29 (AP)—The College All-Stars, prepping for their Aug. 13 football game with the Detroit Lions, will have their first full scale scrimmage in an intrasquad game Saturday.

Head Coach Jim Tatum of Maryland also announced today that his plans call for no contact work during the final week before the charity classic at Chicago.

Those 'Old' Duffers!

Current Leaders Among Linksmen Now Crowding Ripe Old Age of 40 Years

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP) — A couple of old duffers from Detroit ruled the golf world today to prove that life on the links begins at about 40.

Ed Furgol, crowding 39, scored his 1st major triumph last month by winning the U. S. Open. Now, Melvin (Chick) Harbert, who will be 40 come February, crashed through for his first big one by winning the PGA title.

And, in case your forgot, 42-year-old Sammy Snead took the Masters last spring on the heels of long-time domination of the fairways by 42-year-old Ben Hogan.

Harbert's long-sought victory was a particularly satisfying one to those who know the handosme, personable pro long acknowledged as one of the longest hitters in golf, never before had managed to live up to his potential.

Harbert was born to play golf. His father, E. W. (Pop) Harbert, was a professional and young Melvin began to learn how to swing a club almost as soon as he could walk. At the age of six he was a child prodigy of the fairways.

As an amateur, Harbert was a young man who hit the ball so much farther than his opponents that he swept to easy victories in such events as the Trans-Mississippi Amateur and the Michigan Open.

Chick, however, never could seem to win one of the big ones as a pro. Sure, he took a number of tournaments along the way such as the Texas Open, Jacksonville, Charlotte, St. Paul and Beaumont.

But in the big ones—and to the pros the PGA is the toughest—he just couldn't crack through. Twice before he went all the way to the finals. Each time he lost after leading at the halfway mark.

519 Now on List for Big Golf Test

CHICAGO, July 29 (AP)—Entries already in, including that of Sam Snead, boosted to 519 the number who will shoot for $205,000 in cash and prizes at the Tam O'Shanter golf tournaments Aug. 5-15.

Tournament officials said the entry list, which will close Friday midnight, may reach 600.

Golfers from 39 states and 20 foreign countries have signified they will compete in the All-American tournament, the International Cup matches and the World Meet at Tam O'Shanter Country Club.

Lay Off Rough Stuff, Bell Says

NFL Head Warns Lions to Be on 'Their Best Behavior'

YPSILANTI (UP)—Detroit Lions took to the practice field for another rugged scrimmage session today with a warning still fresh in their minds to "lay off the rough stuff."

The warning was sounded Wednesday by National Football League commissioner Bert Bell during his annual pep talk to the team. He told the National League champions to be on their best behavior at all times—both on and off the playing field.

Concerning practice sessions and games, Bell said: "There isn't any need for the flying elbows and knees. The other fellow has to make a living, too, and injuries can be caused easily with a flying elbow."

Bell watched 52 players work out in full pads in 90-degree temperatures. Workouts are becoming gradually stiffer as the team prepares for a full-scale scrimmage Saturday afternoon.

Sailor Stricken in Routine Dive

Doctors Keep 39 Hour Vigil in Decompression Chamber With Trainee

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young sailor, stricken while undergoing a training dive, was hospitalized in critical condition early today after more than 39 hours in a drum-like chamber to adjust him to normal atmospheric pressure.

* * *

Lt. Cmdr. Walter A. Wilson, who heads the diving school at the Naval Gun Factory here, called Appleton's mishap "a bizarre case." He said he could find "none on record like it."

Appleton, in diving gear, submerged in a special tank to a pressure equalling that of 100 feet Tuesday morning. He complained to a companion of feeling dizzy. Raised to the surface, he was hurried into a decompression chamber.

* * *

Quid Pro Quo

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (UP)—Dwight Walker heard a crash and looked up to find an automobile poking into the wall of the service station where he is manager. The driver, Raymond Jones, explained he wanted to have his brakes repaired. Jones paid for the damage to the station, and Walker fixed the brakes free of charge.

Buyers Toll Death Knell for Yellow Elberta Peach

BENTON HARBOR (UP) — The days of the Elberta peach, southwestern Michigan's leading fruit crop for more than half a century, are numbered.

In a few years, growers in this area will no longer be producing Elbertas. As fast as they can, they are replacing their Elberta trees with other varities.

The trouble with the Elberta, it seems, is that it's a yellow peach. Peaches are supposed to be pink or red.

"Eye appeal demands that a peach be pink, an apple be red and a banana be yellow," said an editroial in the St. Joseph Herald-Press commenting on the death of the famous peach.

Officials of the Michigan chain and independent grocery buyers association recently told southwestern Michigan fruit growers that the Elberta "is on its way out" as far as they are concerned.

The Courier said the Elberta will be missed in Coloma because it has been "a crop that pays off mortages, buys new farms, sends kids to college and provides the rural family with a car of recent vintage."

". . . If turning apples red and peaches pink will improve the lot of the farmer and the grocer, we suppose it is not abusing the term to say that progress has come to the fruit belt," the Herald-Press editorial said.

Antibiotic Boosts Rate of Growth

Nutrition Men Report New Aureomycin Use at Continental Meeting

MEXICO CITY (UP)—The antibiotic aureomycin has made children in Guatemala grow faster, a nutrition expert reports.

Dr. Nevin S.Scrimshaw told the Continental Meeting on Nutrition and Growth today that groups of poorly fed school children were given a drink made of soy bean flour and sugar. Some got the drinks with antibiotics or vitamins added, others without.

Dr. Scrimshaw reported that aureomycin dosage always resulted in an increase in the height of the child. He said this is a surer method of testing results than using only increase in weight.

* * *

Penicillin only sometimes resulted in a growth increase as did vitaman B12, the experts reported. When the administration of aureomycin was halted, he said, the rate of growth decreased unmistakably.

Dr. Scrimshaw, formerly of Milwaukee, is now director of the Central American Institute of Nutrition.

* * *

He credited the growth improvement to a change in the number of tiny plants—the "intestinal flora"—which live in the human intestines. Possibly, he said, there is an increase in the number of bacteria which produce B12 in the body. Equally possible, he added, there is a decrease in the microorganisms in the intestine which use part of the nutritional value of the food, leaving less for the body tself.

DETROIT (UP)—Moving the brake pedal to the left foot would cut down rear-end accidents says H. P. Bruns, auto engineer. He estimates it would cut 15 feet off stopping distances at 20 m.p.h.

Bruns says it takes ¾ of a second to take the right foot off the accelerator and depress the brake. But in cars with automatic transmissions, it would take only ¼ second to use the left foot to do the same job, he told the Michigan Safety Conference.

Pontiac Spraying Elms in Endeavor to Stem Disease

This year's second spraying of Pontiac's elm trees was started yesterday after City Forester William Aho announced that five cases of Dutch elm disease have been found here so far this summer, compared with two all last summer.

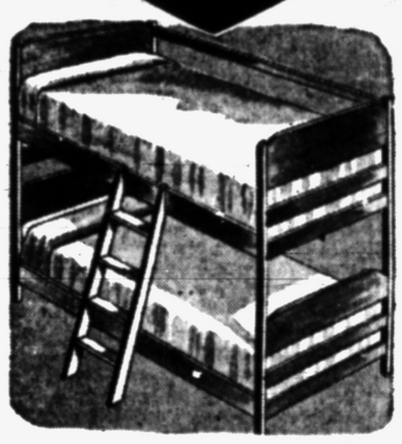

"We expect that more cases will be located when the results of tests on tree samples sent to Michigan State College are returned," said Aho.

Th elms were sprayed in April this year. This time the four-man Parks and Recreation Department crew will spray trees in the city's south half first in the effort to kill disease-carrying beetles.

Planning Board OK's Road Change

Note Good Response on Van Atta Petitions

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Shelton Pearsall Jr., chairman of the volunteer group circulating petitions throughout the township for the reinstatement of ousted police chief Frank Van Atta said today that the volunteers were getting "a tremendous response" to the petitions.

"We hope to cover the entire township by this weekend, and then present the petitions to the Township Board at their meeting Monday night," he added.

Van Atta was fired recently by a majority of the township board for allegedly failing to cease his activities in the policical race for Oakland County Sheriff in the Aug. 3 primary. Van Atta claims he merely favored the wrong candidate, Frank Irons, instead of incumbent Clare Hubbell, and also maintains that he did not campaign for Irons after a warning from the township board.

BIGGEST YET—Carl Schmidt, of Clear View Farm near Clarkston, had the biggest harvest in 17 years when his 8½-acre wheat plot yielded an average of 49 bushels per acre. Schmidt, pictured above, says he didn't use any secret formula but thinks the early spring rains had much to do with the large growth. He farms a total of 208 acres.

Plan Artery System for Rochester - Avon Future Expansion

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Village, Avon and Oakland Township Area Planning Commission recommended that Inglewood street be continued to Red Oak street, during their July meeting.

The reason for the rerouting is that this would create a new approach to the elementary school, on the north edge of the village and that this would also be a better fire route.

David Geer of Geer Associates Inc., presented the master plan for future development of main artery roads, industrial areas and existing and proposed areas.

Geer presented the problem of determining which north and south road, Crooks or Livernois, would make the best bypass for traffic.

In order to encompass future growth in the section running east of Rochester, East Tienken and Romeo roads would merge, then run east to Shelby road and over to Marine City Highway.

F. R. Chapman, president of the commission, during an interview, complimented Geer on the proposed future plan.

Say U.S. Won't Aid Rhee's War

American Officials Balk at Joining Asia Conflict but Praise ROK Leader

WASHINGTON (UP) — Administration leaders and key congressmen made it plain today that this country will not back South Korean President Syngman Rhee in his proposed war of liberation in Asia.

They praised him for his stubborn determination to rid his country and the world of the Communist menace. But they privately took exception to restoring deliberately to the terrors and destruction of war.

Rhee, who is visiting the United States as the guest of President Eisenhower, made his war call in a defiant speech before a joint session of Congress Wednesday.

He urged American military and naval help to attack North Korea and Red China. He asked for aid to double South Korea's 20 divisions. He said it would be "excellent" if Russia intervened because it would justify the United States bombing it into surrender.

At a Korean embassy dinner Wednesday night, President Eisenhower and Rhee exchanged friendly toasts without alluding directly to the idea of reopening the Korean War.

Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr., called Rhee a "great champion of liberty." Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) described him as "a great patriot . . . filled with American ideals."

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said "If the Vietnamese had had some leader of Syngman Rhee's spirit, there might well have been a different result in Indochina."

These and most other congressmen shied away from commenting publicly on his proposals. But the private feeling of most was summed up by Rep. James T. Patterson (R-Conn), a member of the Senate-House committee on atomic energy.

"As much as we all sympathize with the problems of the Republic of Korea," he said today, "the free world cannot allow itself to be led into an all-out atomic war at the wrong time or in the wrong places."

Stork Sets New High; 25 Babies for Single Day

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital's stork should be too tired to lift a wing today.

The hospital's obstetrics wards are overflowing with an all-time record of 25 infants born in the 24 hours ending at 11:30 Wednesday night. This tops a previous record of 19 infants born Sunday. The hospital usually delivers 7 to 10 infants a day.

Sister Mary William, hospital administrator, said the 15 baby girls, 10 boys and their mothers are "all doing just fine."

"We managed to get all the infants into the nursery but had to use an extra six-bed ward in surgery to make room for the mothers," she said.

The word "thaler" (from which "dollar" is derived) is an abbreviation of Joachimsthaler, a coin first struck in the Bohemian town of Jachymov or Joachimsthal in the sixteenth century.

Ike's Support of Gov. Shivers Could Backfire

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower appears to have invited a test of his political popularity in Texas that could reverberate in the fall campaign for control of Congress.

The President's unusual action yesterday in endorsing Gov. Allan Shivers, Texas Democrat who is bidding for a renomination that is normally equivalent to re-election, may make Shivers' connection with the President one of the chief issues in an Aug. 28 runoff primary.

* * *

Texas Democrats in Washington who asked not to be named disagreed about the possible effect of Eisenhower's news conference statement that Shivers has made a good governor.

* * *

Some thought it might rebound to the benefit of Ralph Yarborough of Austin. Yarborough ran 23,852 votes behind Shivers in the first primary last Saturday. Because of votes for other candidates, neither major rival polled a majority, so a runoff is necessary.

Other Texans said they believe Eisenhower is just as popular in their state as he was when he carried it by 133,000 votes in 1952 and that his public praise will help Shivers.

Accidents Injure 2 Pontiac Men

Waterford Car Mishaps Only 11 Hours Apart Involve Two Neighbors

Two Pontiac motorists who live across the street from each other, were injured yesterday in auto accidents that occurred one mile and 11 hours apart on Andersonville road in Waterford Township.

About 3:30 a.m. Francis W. Holmquist, 37, of 385 Whittemore St., lost control of his car about ¼ mile west of Airport road on a turn and hit a tree. Holmquist was treated at Pontiac General Hospital for minor injuries and arrested for being drunk and disorderly.

Eleven hours later, Harley Booth, 54, of 376 Whittemore St., was treated at the hospital for minor injuries which he received while riding with Willard A. Jones, 34, of 67 Pingree St.

Jones' car collided with an auto driven by Arthur Terreault, 17, of 6829 Elizabeth Lake Rd., when Terreault made an improper turn in front of Jones at the Andersonville Dixie highway intersection, according to Michigan State Police of the Pontiac Post.

Holmquist, who pleaded guilty to being drunk and disorderly before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy, was fined $25 and $15 costs yesterday.

City Paving Program Completion Told

This year's blacktop paving program in Pontiac is now complete, with about 126,000 square yards of blacktop poured on sections of 44 streets, according to Assistant City Engineer James N. Carlisle.

Concrete recapping over existing blacktop is slated for parts of Montcalm street, Kennett road, Walton boulevard, Paddock street and South boulevard, said Carlisle.

The major recapping job will be done on Walton from west of Baldwin avenue to the east city limits. The stretch has been patched and curve widening work done in preparation for recapping which will probably begin next week. Car-

LAPEER—Service for Mrs. W. E. Gooder, 49, of 121 Law St., will be held at 2 p.m. Sunday at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, with burial in Richmond Cemetery. She died this morning at St. Joseph Hospital, Flint.

43 New Homes Among Permits in Waterford

In addition, 16 home additions and remodelings were estimated at $12,400; 18 garages with value set at $14,425; five garages estimated at $6,000 with breezeway. A total for the 2 week period was 83 permits with a value set at $388,925.

'Joe Must Go' Drive to Spread

Wisconsin Editor Plans Renewed Campaign for McCarthy's Recall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Leroy Gore, the Wisconsin editor who heads the "Joe Must Go" club, today announced a double-barreled campaign all over the country in a renewed move to oust Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) from office.

Gore told a news conference he is "firmly convinced" his drive for recall petition signatures will succeed in a new campaign which he expects to launch in Wisconsin shortly after the November elections.

In addition, Gore said an appeal will be made to voters all over the country to write their senators demanding that the Senate seat whoever might defeat McCarthy in a special recall election next spring.

"We hope to get two to five million voters across the country to write their senators," Gore said.

The Sauk City, Wis., newspaper editor is in Washington to discuss his plans with political leaders from both parties, he said, but he declined to identify them. He said he also is doing what he can to stir up backing for the McCarthy censure resolution offered by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt).

Gore failed earlier this year in an effort to get some 405,000 signatures on petitions to recall McCarthy, but he said he expects no difficulty in getting a sufficient number of signatures in a renewed campaign.

He said the recent McCarthy-Army hearings have "unquestionably helped us." He said the volume of mail received by his organization jumped immensely when Wisconsin voters were angered at McCarthy's tactics during the 36-day hearing.

Retail Merchants Plan Annual Frolic Aug. 18

Golf, a banquet and entertainment will mark the 18th annual Chamber of Commerce Retail Merchants Assn. Frolic scheduled for Aug. 18 at Indianwood Country Club.

More than 300 businessmen are expected to attend the event being planned by a five-man committee.

Potluck to Feature Candidates, Officials

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The Democratic Women's Club of Waterford Township is planning a potluck dinner this evening at 6:30 at the Silver Lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Adams.

Attending the gathering will be Zigmund J. Niparko, Paul Sutton and William A. Walsh, candidates for U. S. Congress. Vying for State Senator are Fred Elias and Fred L. Hanscom who will also be present along with candidate for State Representative from the first district, Donald E. Adams.

Maurice E. Tripp and Robert L. O'Connell up for Prosecuting Attorney and George D. Hicks, Sheriff candidate are additional guests.

Neil R. Crowe, County Clerk candidate, Donald E. Barrett, County treasurer, and Hazel A. Kuschinsky, Register of Deeds are also expected at the event.

3-Man Group to Recommend Five for Board

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board of Trustees has asked a three-man committee to recommend five outstanding citizens for a police and fire department trial board, Supervisor Lloyd Anderson announced yesterday.

The five-member trial board, when appointed, will not hear the controversial firing of Police Chief Frank Van Atta, Anderson said, but will handle future cases of such a nature.

Serving on the committee to recommend the trial board are William Shunck, Mark Stewart, and Adsit Stewart.

Archery Tourney to Be Held Friday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — An archery tournament will be held Friday at 10 a.m. on the grounds of the Hudson Covert Elementary School.

The tournament is the climax of five weeks of archery instruction sponsored by the Waterford Township Recreation Department.

Approximately 50 boys and girls, from 8 to 15, have been participating in the township-wide program.

Japanese Burglars Net Little for Careful Plan

TOKYO (UP)—A pair of very efficient Japanese burglars must be wondering today if all their planning was worth it.

The two broke into a home in daylight, after carefully cutting telephone wires and making certain only the servant was home. They locked the servant in a closet and ransacked the house.

All they found was 900 yen (a little more than $2.)

Michigan was once a gold - producing state. Between 1883 and 1897 $650,000 worth was produced by the Ropes Mine, near Ishpeming in the Upper Peninsula. Production stopped when costs exceeded the value of the gold extracted.

'Life of Riley' May Continue for 50 Years

By HUBBARD KEAVY
(For Bob Thomas)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—By the time Chester A. Riley becomes a grandfather, he will be able to retire on his cut from "The Life of Riley." But, being an actor, William Bendix will not retire.

* * *

The series has paid well and will continue to do so. In addition to his salary, Bendix has a 25 per cent interest in the show on reruns. Re-plays of the series may well go on for years and years, in TV areas that have not seen the show via network and in other cities and hamlets where stations are yet to be built. And with dubbed voices, they could, and probably will, go on in foreign countries for the next 50 years.

"That is," cautions Bendix, "unless we run smack into color. What then? I don't know. I'm afraid, after TV converts to color, that people won't want to look at black and white any more."

* * *

Bendix likes the work because each film requires only three days' work. In the fall, when filming resumes, the company will work six straight days, making two films each week, and then lay off for a week. That, says Bendix, is wonderful.

But not half so wonderful as the job he had for two and a half years as one of the inexplicable Howard Hughes' contract actors. Let Bendix tell it.

"Word suddenly came, 'sign Bendix,' and when Howard Hughes gives an order, RKO jumps. I don't know, because I've never talked to Hughes, why he suddenly decided he had to have Bendix. I signed up after a little haggling for a straight four years, and no options, at a big salary. Well, it was $2,000 a week for 208 weeks.

* * *

"After a few months I played a small part in a picture. Worked seven days. A few months more and I worked in another picture, for 11 days. Every week I got $2,000—for nothing. Then this TV series got hot. We always were trying to get ahead with 'Rileys' because I never knew when I might get a picture call. After all, I was getting a lot of money and if I was called to work, I had to go. But the strain became too much. I either had to quit Riley or Hughes.

"So after two and a half years—and 18 days' work—I got released from the contract. I had collected $260,000—but for what? Isn't that incredible?"

Volunteer Is Warned

ROCKY HILL, Conn. (UP) — After backing a fire truck into an automobile while responding to an alarm, a volunteer fireman, John Caruso, was picked up by police and warned for failing to carry his driver's license.

Bronze Statuary Irks Councilmen in Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Art is a pretty dangerous word around City Hall these days. Mention it in the hearing of a councilman and he'll most likely flip his lid.

Bernard Rosenthal, who sculpts with a welding torch, is supposed to get $10,000 for it. Councilmen, as ex-officio critics, decided yesterday they would try to break his contract.

Don A. Allen: "Maybe we'll have another metal salvage drive."

Sculptor Rosenthal doesn't object to "an honest opinion," but he resents the "bad manners" of some people "who should know better."

He says he purposely omitted the faces of the figures "so they cannot be construed as belong to any definite race or creed in preference to another."

State Sets Up Drinks for Quail

California Commission Builds Water Sources to Save Birds

BAKERSFIELD, Calif (UP) — The California Fish and Game Commission and various sportsmen groups are "setting up the drinks" for thirsty birds in he desert sections of the state.

Some 2,000 "quail guzzlers" have been built to provide a year-round water supply in arid regions of California in an effort to increase the fast-diminishing quail population. Most of the guzzlers are located in the Mojave desert and an Joaquin and Imperial valleys.

A guzzler consists of an 800-square foot concrete apron connected to an underground tank. Rain falling on the open drainage apron runs into the storage compartment.

The entrance is only wide enough to allow the quails to enter, and keeps out desert animals such as bobcats and coyotes. Further to protect the birds a fence is built around the watering place.

The initial water supply is provided by Fish and Game Commission tankers, and the average two or three-inch annual rainfall in the areas is sufficient to keep the guzzlers operating indefinitely.

Fish and Game officials reported they have noticed a "marked increase" in quail population in areas where the guzzlers have been in operation.

The exact locations of the quail oases are kept confidential because officials fear some hunters would take advantage of the birds gathering around the concrete watering hole.

Satisfied Dieter Eyes Roast Without Envy

MIAMI, Fla.(AP) — "Have you a 15-pound roast?" the woman customer asked butcher Eddie Thal.

Thal wrestled one out of the cooler and laid it on the counter. The woman looked at it, sighed happily and turned toward the door.

"It's U. S. prime," Thal pleaded. "Doesn't it look all right?"

"Oh, I didn't want to buy it," the woman said. "I've just lost 15 pounds and I wanted to see what that much meat looks like."

Bone Detective Wonders Why Camel Left Country

RAPID CITY, S.D. (AP)—Did you know the camel was a pioneer settler of the American West, but left here nearly a million years ago?

That was long before either the Indian or the cowboy arrived. And today nobody can tell for sure why one branch of the camel family migrated to South America and became a llama, while another branch went to Africa and ended up carrying Arabs and posing for cigarettes.

* * *

"Why did he leave here?" asks Dr. James D. Bump. "The camel competed successfully here for 30 million years. So did the horse. But they both left the country. Why? Nobody knows."

* * *

These are the kind of problems that bother detectives in old bones such as Dr. Bump. He is director of the Museum of Geology at the South Dakota School of Mines and one of the nation's best known paleontologists.

To Dr. Bump the hills and eroded tablelands of the West are a great history book of America, holding more mystery than any thriller by Ellery Queen.

He spent his boyhood in the famous South Dakota badlands and became fascinated early with the fossil life imprisoned there in silt layers that tell the tale of the past, chapter by chapter. As a child he used to wander about, filling gallon cans with fossil teeth and slowly learning to identify them.

* * *

"I can't think of another place where we can find so many types of past life," he said. Among some 200 fossil animal forms dug up there are the saber-toothed tiger, the three-toed horse, and the ancestors of the modern camel, hog and rhinoceros.

* * *

Scientists come from all parts of the world to sift the rich fossil treasurers of the badlands. One summer there were 18 different scientific groups delving in the area at the same time.

Seeing the evidence of so many forms of life that have vanished tends to make paleontologists pretty philosophical about the fate of mankind. Most of them are reconciled to the possibility man isn't here to stay forever—anymore than the dinosaur was.

Dr. Bump feels pretty sure, for example, that if man doesn't figure a way to bump off the insects they will finally bump him off.

* * *

"Shellfish ruled the world for the best part of 200 million years," he said. "Then came the age of the fishes.

* * *

"The sharks were boss for a long time, and then they started dwindling and they've been dwindling ever since.

"From the fishes came the reptiles. One branch was the dinosaurs—they had the right hormones or something—and lasted for 200 million years.

"Then mammals, some smaller than mice, began evolving, and the age of the mammals has run for 100 million years. But modern man himself is quite recent—only about 50,000 to 80,000 years old.

* * *

"In every way except brainpower, man is physically inferior to many mammals."

* * *

What about those insects?

"Well, insects far outnumber any other forms of life on earth," said Dr. Bump, cheerfully, "and pound for pound, insects today probably match the weight of all the mammals in the world."

"The problem is whether man can keep from going downhill long enough to make enouch chemicals to curb them. But, of course, we can't say for sure the next age will belong to the insects."

"After all some people call this the age of man—but some call it the age of the atom."

Tornado Claims 117th

STUTTGART, Ark. (AP) — The tornado that cut through Arkansas in 1952 and took 116 lives claimed another victim two years later. James Leon Woodyard, 9, who suffered a head injury in the storm, fell into an irrigation ditch and drowned. His father said the boy had frequent, sudden fainting spells since the tornado, and officers said evidence indicated that the boy fainted and fell into the water.

Soybean Price Low After Rain

CHICAGO (AP)—Soybeans and corn turned downward on the board of trade today on news that quite ample moisture had fallen over night in the northern and central sections of the main corn and soybean belts. Wheat was firm.

Losses in soybeans did not run to the 10-cent daily limit, which some traders had expected. At the worst, beans were down around seven cents. They picked up a little from that point but didn't manage any real rally. Losses in corn were limited to less than two cents.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 7/8-1 3/8 cents higher, September $2.07 1/8; corn was 1/2-1 1/2 lower, September $1.62; oats 1/4 lower to 1/8 higher, September 73 3/4, and rye 1/4-1/2 higher, September $1.15 1/2. Soybeans were 2 1/2 to 4 cents lower, September $3.16 1/2, and lard was 5 to 38 cents a hundred pounds lower, September $15.07.

Stocks Edging Foward Again

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market edged forward today in a hesitant manner into the early afternoon.

Most major divisions were higher on balance, but all were flecked with minus signs. Gains and losses seldom got outside of a 1-point range.

The race was around 2,500,000 shares. That compares with 2,740,000 shares traded yesterday when the market was slightly higher on balance.

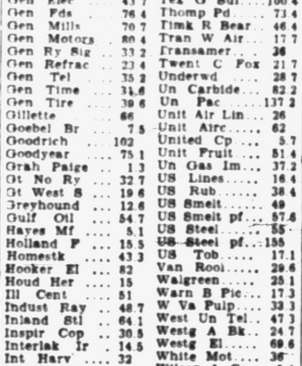

Higher prices were paid for Bethlehem Steel, General Motors, Mack Trucks, Goodrich, Grumman, American Telephone, Western Union, Mathieson Chemical, International Paper, Libby, McNeill & Libby, Hamilton Watch, Bulova Watch, Union Pacific.

GM Earnings Up 36 Per Cent

End of Excess Profits Tax Offsets 7 Per Cent Drop in Sales

NEW YORK (AP)—Industrial giant General Motors earned 36 per cent more profits in the first six months of 1954 than in the same period last year although comparison of the two periods revealed sales dropped 7 per cent.

The rise in profits reflected the abolition of the 30 per cent excess profits tax last Jan. 1. Elimination of the tax nearly halved the corporation's tax bill and the resultant savings more than made up the sales loss.

GM's regular six-month report, released yesterday, showed the world's largest industrial firm had a net income of $425,250,383 for the first half of 1954 compared to $312,845,787 for the like period in 1953.

And after $6,464,000 had been paid out in dividends to holders of GM preferred stock, common stock was reported at $4.79 per share in the first six months of this year. The same period last year common stock income was reported at $3.51 per share.

GM, along with its savings accrued through elimination of the excess profits tax, also reported its income taxes, both foreign and domestic, dropped from $764,446,000 in the first half of 1953 to $457,948,000 for the first half of 1954.

Net sales for the first half of the year reached $5,066,028,511 a 7 per cent slide from the $5,440,545,856 in the comparable 1953 period.

Harlowe H. Curtice, GM president, and Board Chairman Alfred P. Sloan Jr., said business remained at near record levels through the second quarter. Sales during that quarter were $2,655,870,957—slightly under the $2,893,691,134 during the second quarter of 1953.

Net income for the second quarter was $236,083,050 or $2.66 per common share while in the second quarter last year it was $161,583,911 or $1.81 a share.

The report stated that the first half sales this year "confirms the confidence in the business outlook expressed by Mr. Curtice last January when he announced GM's billion-dollar expansion program."

The report also pointed out that the new car market "after many years of shortages is characterized by a return to the competitive conditions which prevailed in the years prior to 1942."

GM production schedules were geared to retail demand, and at the close of the six-month period GM auto stocks in dealer showrooms were in line with requirements, the report added.

Sears Expands Latin Business, Opens in Bogota

CHICAGO (AP)—Sears, Roebuck & Co. is off on another lap of its burgeoning Latin American operations with the opening today of a store in Bogota.

They express great satisfaction about it over at the giant mail order and retail firm, which last year had total U.S. sales just under three billion dollars. Compared with this sum, the 79 million dollars of business below the border stands as but a small percentage indeed.

In the interim Sears' employe practices, purchasing and credit policies have had considerable impact on local merchandising and manufacturing in the five Latin American countries where it is in business.

The new Bogota store will boost the company's total in the area to 26. The first opened in Havana, Cuba, which country now has five others. Sears stores also are in Mexico, Brazil, Venezuela, Columbia and Lima, Peru.

As for the rest of Latin America, T. V. Houser, Sears chairman, says that only "Chile and Argentina represent great potential markets when a suitable political and economic atmosphere develops."

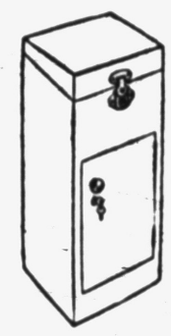

Plans Diesel Expansion

DETROIT (AP)—Packard Motor Co., long engaged in diesel engine research, announced plans today for expansion of its diesel engine development work, including a new type, lightweight unit for powering large trucks, buses, trains and other equipment. Packard has been making marine diesels for the Navy since 1951.

CAMPERS HEAD NORTH—Twenty-five youngsters, their fees paid by Oakland County Society for Crippled Children and four other civic groups, left Pontiac Wednesday for a two-week stay at Camp Grace Bentley. The camp near Port Huron is set up especially for outdoor fun for youngsters with physical handicaps.

Oakland Children Off for Camp Despite Handicaps

Camp Grace Bentley is showing 25 Oakland County children today that leg braces and wheelchairs can't keep them from having a surprisingly good time outdoors.

Donations from Birmingham and Clarkston Rotary Anns, Waterford-Drayton Rotary Club and Kappa Delta Sorority paid $325 toward their $500 camping bill. The Crippled Children's Society paid the rest.

Pontiac Board of Education loaned a school bus to take the youngsters to Port Huron. Mrs. Fred Rollins and Mrs. Clarence Craft of the Birmingham Rotary Anns rode along.

Youngsters were given last minute physical examinations by Pontiac and Oakland County Health Department nurses before they boarded the bus Wednesday.

"Those youngsters will have a wonderful time at camp," Mrs. Gerald Kirkby, the society's executive secretary, said.

"They'll play games, study wildlife, learn crafts, have amateur nights, and every one will have a chance to learn to swim." Some wheelchair cases swim surprisingly well, she said.

One wistful 7-year-old said he didn't think he could go swimming because he couldn't get along without his leg braces. Told the camp counselor would carry him into the water, "he just beamed," Mrs. Kirkby said.

Another sad-eyed girl said her wheelchair would keep her on the sidelines. "Don't you think so," a second-year camper told her. "I knew a girl who came in a wheelchair last year—she won prizes and everything!"

Knowland Asks for Aid Ceiling

Presses the Senate to Authorize $3 Billion in Foreign Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) pressed the Senate today to catch up with the adjournment-minded House by passing a new foreign aid authorization of $3,100,000,000.

The House, which has passed earlier a larger authorization, yesterday whipped through a foreign aid money bill of $5,208,419,979. The higher total includes both $2,895,944,000 in new funds and authority to use $2,312,475,979 in funds which Congress voted in previous years and are not yet formally obligated.

* * *

The authorization merely sets a ceiling on the amount of new money which may be appropriated in the current fiscal year. Senate debate on the measure was begun yesterday, then put aside for action on a housing bill.

Somewhat contrasting views on the foreign aid program were expressed in separate speeches prepared for delivery by Sens. Mansfield (D-Mont) and H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ), Foreign Relations Committee members.

Mansfield urged an orderly wind-up within a year. Smith said this is not the time to shut off foreign aid.

Churchill Secretive on Resignation Date

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill parried an attempt in the House of Commons today to find out whether he intends to resign—and if so when.

It was all in good fun and Churchill seemed to enjoy keeping everyone guessing.

Lt. Col. Marcus Lipton, a Laborite, led up to the question slyly by asking Churchill on how many days of the week he will answer oral questions in the House after the summer recess.

* * *

With a twinkle in his eyes, Churchill said Tuesdays and Thursdays were the most convenient to him but any day would be all right—except Friday.

Parliament is quitting tomorrow for the summer recess until October—and there's been plenty of lobby talk that Churchill may resign as Prime Minister before then or shortly after.

Hen Reported Copying Habits of a Chameleon

HEREFORD, England (AP)—Baffled Mrs. Amelia Reese said yesterday one of her white hens is turning jet black for the second time in two years.

Mrs. Reese said the hen stayed black for a month the first time and then slowly resumed her usual snowy plumag.

Communist Literature Found in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — The Grand Rapids Better Business Bureau today asked its members to report any Communist literature sent to them or their employes.

The bureau said a communist pamphlet entitled "The American Way" was found on the doorsteps of several Grand Rapids homes several weeks ago. The bureau said it reported the literature to the FBI.

Woman Shoots Mount, Herself

Suicide Note and 'Dead Man's Hand' Left by Philadelphia Rider

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Trudy Tollin went horseback riding in scenic Fairmount Park yesterday. The 31-year-old woman and her horse, "Bebe," were a familiar sight on the park bridle paths for the past several years.

A short while later a mounted park policeman came across a bizarre scene in a secluded wooden glen near the livery stable where Miss Tollin kept her horse.

Th young woman and her mount lay side by side. Both had been shot through the head with a .22 calibre rifle which was rigged to a nearby tree branch. The horse's head was covered with a blue denim skirt.

* * *

Police said the woman apparently shot the horse and then took her own life.

In her hand were five playing cards — a pair of aces and three eights, a full house in poker and a combination close to the traditional "dead man's hand" of the same game, two aces and two eights.

"Speak not in anger. In mercy, whisper; in vengeance, sing."

* * *

Sgt. Edward McCann, the park guard who found the two said he also discovered a note tied to the trunk of the tree.

Addressed to her brother Arthur, in New York, it said Miss Tollin planned to take her own life for 10 years and expressed regret for "any inconvenience."

Friends described Miss Tollin as "moody." Her father, with whom she lived, said his daughter was depressed recently because she was unable to find employment.

Blaze Destroys Grain Elevator in Sandusky

SANDUSKY (AP) — The McGregor Elevator at nearby McGregor was destroyed by fire today. Loss unofficially was estimated at $70,000.

Cause of the blaze, discovered at 6:30 a.m., was undetermined. Workmen had toiled most of the night loading the elevator with new grain.

Wall Will Be Rebuilt

An 150-foot section of the cement block wall fronting Oak Hill Cemetery on Mount Clemens street will be rebuilt next month at cost of about $200 as part of the beautification program now underway, according to Kenneth P. Anthony, Pontiac city superintendent of cemeteries.

Take $14 in Burglary

Thieves escaped with $14 in change after a breakin Tuesday night at Hicks Service Station, 849 Baldwin Ave., Pontiac Police said today. The money was taken from a cash box and money changer by the thieves who broke a rear window to enter.

ARMED HARVEST—French soldiers use armored vehicles to protect the harvesting of wheat in Tunisia. Police are constantly on the alert against possible acts of terrorism from nationalist groups that threaten peaceful living.

McCarran Hits Anti-Red Bills

Charges Brownell With Injecting Politics in the Security Program

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarran (D-Nev) said today Atty. Gen. Brownell has injected politics into national security and that this accounts in part for a lack of action on the administration's antisubversive bills.

Most if not all of the other major parts of the administration program, leaders of both parties agreed, seem likely to pass in some form.

McCarran also said some of the antisubversive measures submitted to Congress by the Justice Department "have been so loosely drawn that they rattle." He is a former chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee and its Red-hunting Internal Security subcommittee.

* * *

President Eisenhower yesterday urged passage of the anti-Communist measures before Congress adjourns, listing them along with farm, tax revision, social security, foreign aid and housing measures as major parts of his program.

Sens. Knowland (R-Calif) and Ferguson (R-Mich) today predicted passage within the next few days of most of the other bills Eisenhower listed. Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, said this program is "moving along fast." Ferguson, head of the GOP Policy Committee, predicted its completion and adjournment of Congress by Aug. 7.

Card of Thanks 1

WE WISH TO THANK OUR MANY friends and neighbors for their expressions of sympathy shown us in the loss of our son Raymond Meacham Jr. We especially thank our friends in Drayton Plains and Pontiac, Coats Funeral Home and GMC Truck and Coach Plant 2 and Plant 4, and Local Union 594.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF W. L. Mecredy who passed away 3 years ago, July 29 1951.
Nothing can ever take away
Fond memories linger every day.
Remembrance keeps him near
Sadly missed by loving wife Rose.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR son and brother, Johnny Barber, who lost his life, July 29, 1951.
Asleep in God's beautiful garden,
Safe in God's wonderful keeping
Until we meet again.
Sadly missed by the family and Jimmy, Janet and Joyce, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King Sr.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF J. Emeigh who passed away 1 year ago today
We who loved you sadly miss you
As it dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are ever near.

IN MEMORY OF MY BELOVED husband, Jerry R. Emeigh, who passed from this life, July 29, 1953
Eyehath not see, nor ear heard,
Neither have entered into the heart of men.
The things which God hath prepared for them that loved him.
Deeply missed by his wife, Mrs. Ellen S. Emeigh.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR father, Jerry R. Emeigh, who passed away July 29, 1953.
We cannot Lord, they purpose see,
Sadly missed by his five children.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR dear mother, Martha Schroeder, who passed away 1 year ago today, July 29, 1953.
Loving and kind in all her ways,
Upright and just to the end of her days;
Sincere and true, in her heart and mind,
Beautiful memories she left behind.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF WILliam L. Mecredy who died July 29, 1951.
Ever remembered by Am & K.

NOTICE!
GENEROUS WALT
Still at Central Lincoln Mercury. Many of my old customers have been led to believe whether intentionally or by accident, that I am no longer selling used cars for C-L-M. Such is not the case. My office is now in the quiet and clean new car store located across from the used car lot, where the business of selling used cars can be conducted with a small amount of effort and noise. Come in, ask for WALT and receive the same generous trade-ins that you are accustomed to getting from him and him alone. Don't take NO for an answer. I will be around somewhere. Here is an example of one of my specials.

GETS POST — Lieut.-Gen. Hubert R. Harmon will be the superintendent of the new Air Force academy in Colorado Springs, Colo. He and President Eisenhower were West Point classmates in 1915.

Campaigner Finds Stubborn Follower

WHITTIER, Calif. (UP) — Edwin Johnsen, a city council candidate, rang the doorbell at the home of Charles Pollak to give a campaign talk about himself and to talk against a proposed new city charter.

"Are you telling all these things against the charter to all the voters in this area?" asked Pollak.

"You bet I am," Johnsen replied.

Pollak got his coat and hat and followed candidate Johnsen from house to house. While Johnsen talked, Pollak waited on the sidewalk. Then Pollak rang the bell and talked in favor of the charter.

Fake Spouses Confuse Kiddies

Richard Denning's Child Watches Mamma Plot Against Dad on Screen

NEW YORK (UP)—In this day of numerous man-and-wife teams on television shows, it seems appropriate to revise a familiar line of Shakespeare's to read, "it is a wise child that knows his own father and mother."

For example, take the case of Barbara Britton and Richard Denning, who are the title principals in "Mr. and Mrs. North."

They are very much married but not to each other. Barbara is the wife of Eugene Czukor; Dick's wife is an actress, Evelyn Ankers. Each couple has a child.

Dianna Denning has seen her own mother play a villainess in some episodes of the series, and she has seen her father protect Barbara from Evelyn's machinations.

Mom and pop earned their right to get fan mail the hard way, but the second generation just shows up on television screens and the letters pour in.

That's the situation with the Nelsons, the real life family involved "The Adventure of Ozzie and Harriet. And the way things are going, they may have to change that title one of these years.

But their sons, David, 17, and Ricky, 13, had only to make one appearance on the Tdventures in the TV version a couple of seasons ago to start the mail rolling their way.

Not that the old folks are unhappy about the situation.

"The more popular the kids become, the better for us when we retire and they have to support us," said Ozzie.

David, a Hollywood High School football player and a jallopy owner, gets a lot of mail about sports and hot-rods from lads in the same age bracket. Ricky, who plays both clarinet and drums and is prone to dress like a bopster, gets letters that stress music.

"I don't mind the boys topping us in the fan mail business," Ozzie said, "but I do wish I could convince them that they should buy their own stamps to mail out the replies."

Kills Deer With Pole, Ax

NATCHEZ, Miss. (UP) — Sam Hornsby, 68-year-old Negro tenant farmer, told Game Warden Lester Smith he did not have a gun handy so he used a good sized pole and an axe to kill the 10-point buck his dogs corned in a thicket. Smith said Hornsby had the hide and head of the buck for proof at his home in the Possum Corner community.

Coffee Dips Five Cents at Wholesale Level

Effective immediately, several leading roasters announced reductions of five cents a pound at the wholesale level.

The action marked the first cut since the destructive frosts hit the Brazilian crop a year ago. Dealers thought the reductions would be passed on to the consumer immediately.

Bill to Legalize Bingo Sidetracked

ALBANY, N. Y. (UP)—Legalized bingo in New York, one of the most controversial topics in the legislature in recent years, seems to be far, far off now.

Several bills aimed at permitting fraternal, religious, charitable and certain other groups to hold bingo games, were buried in committee at the 1954 session.

Even if the legislature had been able to pass a bill legalizing the game, it would not have made it legal immediately. Two legislatures would have had to act, then the issue would be voted on by the people in a general election.
