Polio Immunization Starts in County

580 Rochester Children Getting Vaccine Today

First Shots for Other Rural Schools Slated Tomorrow Afternoon

Shots of the Salk polio vaccine were given to 580 first and second graders in Rochester district schools this morning, leading off the mass immunization of Oakland County school children.

The Rochester pupils received the first in a two-shot series in clinics set up in Harrison Central and Brooklands schools.

They were transported by bus from eight other public and parochial elementary buildings to the two central locations.

Booster shots for children who got the vaccine in last year's tests will be given with the second round, scheduled in one month.

Dr. John D. Monroe, county health director, said only 10 per cent or less of the parents of eligible children have declined the shots.

About 24,000 youngsters will get their first shots this week, while an additional 8,000 are scheduled for booster shots next month.

Children in the cities of South Oakland County will receive their shots in Saturday clinics. Parents will be responsible for having their children at the proper place.

Shots for Pontiac and Waterford Township children will be given in a series of clinics Saturday, May 7.

In all localities, children will receive the second in the two-shot series approximately one month after the first. Schedules for these clinics will be announced next month.

Oakland May Join Macomb in Study of Critical Water Problem in Area

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday voted to name seven of its members to round out a 13-person water-study group being formed by the county's plan commission.

The move was requested by the commission which has been studying Oakland's water problem since January 1953, through a water study committee.

Ferndale Supervisor and plan commission member Roy F. Goodspeed reported on findings to date.

It has been definitely decided, he stated, that the Detroit water system will include "generally the area south of the north line of Royal Oak Township. Areas north of this will be required to look elsewhere for their water.

"There is a definite trend of industrial and residential expansion north of Detroit, extending well up into Oakland and Macomb Counties." This will spread farther, he stated, if adequate water and sewage systems can be provided.

All present information indicates areas north of the Detroit system and east of and including Pontiac cannot supply enough ground water for any great expansion, said Goodspeed.

The Macomb County Supervisors, he said, have also established a water committee.

The Oakland water group will attempt to work out a program with Macomb looking toward solving both counties' water problems by bringing a long-range supply from the Great Lakes, said Goodspeed.

If no agreement can be reached with Macomb, then Oakland should investigate the plan itself, under the commission's recommendation.

Speed is necessary, Goodspeed pointed out, because even if an organization is set up "many years may pass before its work can become effective.

"For many years we've done nothing but talk," he asserted, "now we've got to study the economic, fiscal and legal problems involved and turn the talk into action."

Big Breath of Advice

DENVER (INS) — Retired policeman Carl W. Baker took just three words to give his longevity comment upon reaching his 98th birthday: "Just keep breathing."

Scientists Begin to Study Great Brain of Einstein

PRINCETON, N. J. (UP)—Scientists today began a study of the great brain of Dr. Albert Einstein.

The shy physicist who died in his sleep early yesterday had asked that fellow scientists study his brain and other vital organs and they were removed shortly before his body was cremated yesterday afternoon.

"His brain looks like everybody else's," a pathologist remarked after a brief examination. But scientists planned to study the gray mass carefully for any physical manifestation of its extraordinary capacities.

Disposition of the ashes of the humble man whose name was known throughout most of the world was not expected to be ordered for some time.

An autopsy disclosed that Einstein died of a rupture of the aorta, the main artery of the body. He was quietly admitted to the Princeton hospital Friday after he was seized with severe nausea.

No funeral services were held for the scientist although he was not an atheist. He once said he believed in God as a "superior reasoning power, which is revealed in the incomprehensible universe."

He also said, "I cannot believe that God plays dice with the universe. God is subtle but He is not malicious."

The Flag flew at half mast yesterday at the Princeton Institute for Advanced Study where Einstein was a staff member, and passing employes gazed reverently into the cluttered office where Einstein worked on his complex mathematical equations.

Papers, books and pads scribbled thick with formulae were strewn over the desk and around the room in profusion.

Memorial services were planned for Friday on the Princeton campus.

Tornado Threat Comes to End

Pontiac Area Lashed by Rain, High Winds Early Today

The threat of the season's first tornado hovered over the Pontiac area for three hours early this morning, then faded as the storm failed to materialize.

Worst to come was a thunderstorm with lashing rains propelled by gusts of wind up to 65 m.p.h. No damage was reported from the high winds or rain.

A bombardment of lightning bolts in the Birmingham section also failed to cause any reported damage.

A quarter-inch of rain, borne by the gusts, fell on Pontiac between midnight and 2 a.m.

Tornado warnings were issued by the U. S. Weather Bureau in Detroit at 12:30 a.m. and continued for three hours. The warning area covered 40 miles on either side of a line between Battle Creek and Mt. Clemens.

In Lansing, winds blew in the wall of a theater 45 minutes after the last patron had left.

By 8 a.m. today, winds in Pontiac had diminished to 10 m.p.h. The forecast is for cloudy skies with occasional showers and more thunderstorms tonight and tomorrow.

Cooler tempreatures are seen for tonight, with a low of 50-54. The mercury is expected to climb to a high of 66-70 tomorrow.

Tomorrow night is to be partly cloudy with occasional showers or thunderstorms and turning cooler. Low is expected to be near 45.

At 8 a.m., the mercury in downtown Pontiac stood at 56 degrees, rising to 68 at 1 p.m.

800 Polio Monkeys Arrive in America

NEW YORK (AP)—A shipment of 800 Rhesus monkeys to be used in research and development of Salk vaccine arrived here by plane from London yesterday.

The caged monkeys started their journey at New Delhi, India. They were consigned to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which ordered them taken to Okatie Farm, Pritchardville, S.C., to be conditioned for medical research.

U.S. Subverting Red China, Chou Tells Delegates

Claims Peaceful Aims at Bandung Meeting of Asians, Africans

BANDUNG, Indonesia (AP)—Red China's Premier Chou En-lai told the Asian-African conference today his country is not interested in "subversive activities" but instead is being "subverted by the United States of America."

"If you do not believe this," he told the delegates, "then you can send representatives to China to take a look. You are all welcome."

Chou continued: "We do not hide the fact that we believe in communism. But this is not a meeting to discuss ideologies but to seek a common ground and not great divergencies."

Communist China, he said, had come to Bandung ready to comply with the decisions of the sponsoring nations, and not to raise other questions.

"We have no proposals," Chou asserted. "China could raise the question of the liberation of Taiwan 'Formosa' and the neighboring islands. We could have made criticism of the unfair treatment of China in the United Nations but we are not going to do that."

Aside from the charge of U. S. subversion, most of Chou's speech followed a conciliatory line, emphasizing chiefly his contention that "peaceful coexistence of countries with different social systems can be realized."

Chou invited others of the 29 Asian and African countries to join with Red China, India and Burma in supporting the five principles of "peaceful coexistence" proposed by India's Prime Minister Nehru.

He said Communist China would not raise at this conference, the question of its admission to "its rightful place in the United Nations" even though the Colombo powers sponsoring the Bandung conference at an earlier meeting endorsed without exception Red China's claim to the right to replace Nationalist Chinese representatives in the U. N.

Chou's speech followed new attacks on Communist expansion by Asian allies of the West today. They did not call the Reds by name but their meaning was clear.

Trick-Treat Killer Gets Electric Chair

EBENSBURG, Pa. (AP) —Harry Gossard must die in the electric chair for the pre-Halloween trick-or-treat slaying of six-year-old Karen Mauk.

Gossard pleaded guilty to strangling the child. Sentence was passed yesterday. Evidence to fix the degree of Gossard's guilt was heard about a month ago.

The child's body, half nude, was found near the entrance to a cemetery two miles from her home in nearby Conemaugh.

Gossard, a husky, 39-year-old unemployed merchant seaman, testified he met the little girl as she toured the neighborhood near her home playing trick-or-treat.

He said he coaxed her into his car and took her to the cemetery. When her body was found, a bag of candy, given her by neighbors was clutched in her hand.

Execution date will be set later.

Russia Asks Big-Four Meet to Sign Austrian Treaty

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union called today for a meeting of the Big Four foreign ministers in Vienna in the nearest future to sign an Austrian state treaty.

Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov called in the top diplomatic representatives of Britain, France and the United States this morning to hand them notes declaring:

"As a result of the exchange of opinion with Austrian Chancellor Raab and his delegation last week it is clear that the possibility exists to settle the Austrian question and conclude a state treaty with Austria."

The note said representatives of the Austrian government should take part in the talks.

In the note handed to U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen, Molotov said:

"The Soviet government expresses the hope that the government of the U. S. A. will on its part contribute to the necessary understanding between the governments of the four powers and the government of Austria concerning the conclusion of a state treaty with Austria.

"The Soviet government considers it expedient that the ministers of foreign affairs of the United States, France, Britain and the Soviet Union with the participation of Austria convene in the nearest future to consider the question of a state treaty establishing an independent democratic state of Austria and to sign this treaty.

"This city of Vienna is proposed as a place of the said conference."

Foreign Ministry spokesman Leonid Ilyachev told a news conference that Bohlen, British Charge d'Affaires C. C. Parrott and French Charge d'Affaires Jean Leroy had promised to transmit these notes to their governments without delay.

Reports reaching here from Vienna have said that the Austrian Parliament was expected this week to request the Big Four to meet with Austrian representatives in Vienna to sign a treaty ending the 10-year-old occupation of the country.

Dulles Assistant Released Data

Secretary Says Aide McCardle Gave Times Yalta Papers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today that Asst. Secretary Carl W. McCardle was the man who gave out the Yalta papers a day ahead of their general release.

Dulles told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that McCardle, "gave a galley proof" to the New York Times the evening of March 15.

"This involved an exercise by Mr. McCardle of a discretion that was his," Dulles said. "It involved no breach of security."

Dulles said he had concluded by the time the one copy was given out that the British government had withdrawn its objections to publication and that the publication would not hurt U.S. relations with Allies.

Release of the single copy came just a day after the State Department had said disclosure of the record of the wartime conference between British Prime Minister Churchill, Soviet Premier Stalin and the late President Roosevelt

Hart and GOP Work Together on Free Shots

Draw Plans to Make Salk Vaccine Available to All State Children

LANSING (AP) — In an unprecedented burst of political cooperation, the Republican-controlled Michigan Legislature and Democratic Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart worked together today to provide Salk polio vaccine for all children regardless of their parents' wealth.

Their goal was vaccination of one and a quarter million children under 10 years of age outside of the first and second graders who will get free vaccine from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in community clinics.

Although the matter had been discussed tentatively by Republican Senate leaders last weekend, Hart set the ball rolling yesterday by calling in some of those leaders for a conference.

Hart first proposed the state appropriate one million dollars to buy the Salk vaccine and allocate it to local health departments under a system of priorities. He said this would not do the entire job but would provide all the vaccine the state could obtain.

Later Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner, reported conversations with pharmaceutical manufacturers which indicated the state could obtain all the vaccine it needs in 60 days and at a price much cheaper than expected—80 cents per dose.

No complaints have been received about insufficient amounts of vaccine, inadequate facilities or personnel in connection with the giving of Salk shots to Michigan's first and second graders, the state health commissioner said today.

Dr. Heustis reported that "everything is going like clockwork."

However, a gray market in the vaccine has been reported in Detroit.

"Almost anybody with the proper 'connection' could obtain at least a three-shot supply—even before it began going to the city's first and second grade children under the auspices of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis," one Detroit newspaper said.

Dr. Heustis cautioned against panic.

"We have sufficient vaccine on hand for all of the state's first and second graders," he said, "and we understand that additional vaccine will be made available to those needing it most."

"There is no need to run to any unethical source for the vaccine, should one exist," he said.

State officials huddled last night to consider tackling the vaccination of the entire child population of Michigan—possibly to the tune of about two million dollars. They considered giving the vaccine free to physicians, who would charge patients for administering it only.

Hart said one proposed priority plan would provide the vaccine first to kindergartners, next to those between 1 year and kindergarten and then those from second grade to 10 years of age.

The President also recommended that Dr. Salk be the first to receive a proposed distinguished civilian award.

Horn Player Takes His Bow Minus Invitation

CINCINNATI (AP)—Albert J. Andraud, 71, is an English horn player and a traditionalist.

He was playing his last concert with the Cincinnati Symphony Saturday night. Fearful conductor Thor Johnson would not call on him for the traditional last bow, Andraud took the bows uninvited. He came to the front of the stage and bowed several times just before intermission. A surprised audience applauded mildly.

"Mr. Johnson was angry with me and I could tell he wasn't going to invite me to take a bow, a custom for retiring musicians," Andraud said yesterday. "So I took a bow without being invited. After a quarter of a century with the orchestra, it was the honorable thing to do."

Johnson made no comment, but a puzzled audience finally had its answer to the bowing horn player.

Reds Tried to Break Him Up, Judge Medina Reveals

DETROIT (AP)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina has described the strategy of the American Communist Party during the 1949 New York trial of 11 of its leaders as "a demoniacal plot to break me up."

The defendants, their counsel and the party staged a "psychological campaign to drive me crazy" during the nine-month trial, Medina told the Detroit Economic Club yesterday.

He said that prior to the trial he had considered Communists "a bunch of roughnecks who wanted to divide up our property and have a good time with it.

"I know now," he said, "that they are capable of the most diabolical scheming man ever conceived."

The 11 Reds were convicted of advocating the violent overthrow of the federal government. Their conviction later was upheld by the Supreme Court.

"I began the trial," Medina said, "thinking I could handle it like any other—calmly, judiciously, patiently. I soon realized I was in for the time of my life.

"They began by firing daily delegations of workers, housewives, farmers and what-not at me—delegations supposedly from all over the country. I tried to explain the trial to them—after all, they were American citizens.

"I soon realized it was just a Communist maneuver to wear me down. When I ordered that no more delegations be allowed to come it, it was like shutting off the roar of a fast-flowing faucet. From that point on, I settled down to fight the battle of my life."

Medina said the real issue of the trial was: "Was the American system of fair trial equal to the task of trying Communists?"

Communist pickets, he said, chanted obscenities as they marched under court room windows during the trial.

"They even tried for several weeks to drive me into jumping from a window, a 'kind of psychological campaign to drive me crazy," he said.

"I used to think they pushed (Jan) Masaryk and that Russian school teacher (Mrs. Oksana Stepanova Kasenkina) out of the window, but I know differently now," Medina said. "When you hear a chanted cry of 'jump, jump, jump' coming at you for five or six weeks, wherever you turn, you can understand how people could jump of their own will."

(Jan Masaryk, Czech foreign minister, died in 1948 in a fall from a window in Prague following the Communists' sweep to power in Czechoslovakia. Mrs. Oksana Stepanova Kasenkina, a Soviet Russian school teacher, leaped from a third floor window of the Soviet consulate general in New York City in 1948 and suffered serious injuries.)

Medina said he went into his chambers daily when the pressure mounted, "praying to God for that day's allotment of courage and patience to carry the trial through."

During the trial, he said, he stood virtually alone—isolated from colleagues, friends and associates, guarded by government agents. When the trial ended, a flood of congratulatory mail descended on him from every corner of the country.

"The people of America wrote to me out of their hearts," he said. "From every walk of life, from every field of endeavor, from every social station they wrote to say 'thank you, Judge Medina for giving us faith in our America, for showing us that America can be strong in the face of attacks from its bitterest enemies."

"I got my reward in those letters," he said.

Say Tax Refund Due McCarthy

Internal Revenue Men Reported Finished With Probe of Finances

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Internal Revenue Service was understood today to have cleared Sen. McCarthy's income tax record after a detailed investigation of his finances.

Various informed sources reported last night the Wisconsin Republican had been granted an income tax refund for the years 1946-1952. One report said the refund was $1,056. Another version placed it at $1,046.75.

* * *

In Des Moines, Iowa, State Department Security Chief R. W. Scott McLeod, a friend of McCarthy's, said he had been informed that T. Coleman Andrews, Internal Revenue commissioner, had notified McCarthy last Friday that he had a refund due him. McLeod said he understood it is over $1,000.

The revenue service refused to comment on the McCarthy case.

A Senate elections subcommittee raised questions about McCarthy's financial affairs during a 1951-1952 investigation. However, the subcommittee did not attempt to answer those questions, saying in its report that McCarthy had declined to testify on his finances.

* * *

The matter was turned over to the Internal Revenue Service which then began its long investigation. The subcommittee report also went to the Justice Department. In October 1953 Atty. Gen. Brownell said his department had found nothing to show that McCarthy had broken any laws.

The disclosure that McCarthy apparently has received a tax refund indicates the Wisconsin senator was able to furnish records or other evidence sufficient to convince the Revenue Service the amounts in question were gifts and donations—and thus were not taxable income.

General Visits Korea

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, commander of U.S. Army Forces Far East and the 8th Army, today flew here from Japan to begin his first inspection of American and South Korean forces since he took over from Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor April 1.

Ladies and Gentlemen— stay seated!

EVER see a "hardtop" where the front-seat passengers didn't have to move to let someone from the rear get out?

You see one pictured here. It's the Buick Riviera with four doors—and it's fast becoming the biggest hit in hardtops since Buick originated the first one six years ago.

But look again, if you please, at this brand-new kind of automobile.

It has all the sleek raciness of Convertible styling, with a solid steel roof overhead—plus the complete absence of center doorposts above the window line—a "must" for the true hardtop.

Yet it's also a true sedan—with separate doors to the rear compartment. So here you have the much-wanted convenience of four-door entry and exit—plus rear-seat legroom and headroom as extra generous as a Buick-size family sedan.

As we said, this rock-firm beauty is headed for the best-seller lists—and for more reasons than just style and comfort.

It's tagged at really modest prices—for it's available in Buick's budget-priced SPECIAL Series and the medium-priced 236-hp CENTURY Series.

And you can have it with the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—the "switch pitch" wonder drive that's taking the country by storm.

So why not drop in on us and test-pilot a new Buick—just for the sheer thrill of it?

That way you can also take a firsthand look at the 4-Door Riviera—and judge for yourself how smart it is to place your order promptly for what is very definitely the last word in automobiles.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

Local Delivered Price of the 1955 Buick SPECIAL 2-Door, 6-Passenger Sedan, Model 48 (illustrated) is $2267.88

Optional equipment, accessories, state and local taxes, if any, additional. Prices may vary slightly in adjoining communities. Even the factory-installed extras you may want are bargains, such as: Heater & Defroster-$81.70; Radio & Antenna-$92.50.

Overpopulation Troubles Egypt

1,500 Babies Are Born Every Day While 1,000 Persons Die

CAIRO (UP) — The most fundamental problem facing Egypt now is over-population.

With the present population at 23,000,000, there are 1,500 children born every day. The rate of infant mortality has declined in recent years so that now only 18 of 1,500 die before reaching adolescence.

The general death rate is less than 1,000 daily.

Egyptian sociologists said it is practically impossible to increase production and national income to keep pace with the population growth.

Educational and health programs barely meet the increase, and production projects, including land reform and industrialization, can never match it.

They explained that this increase of birth rates is due to the fellaheen (peasants) who form two-thirds of the population.

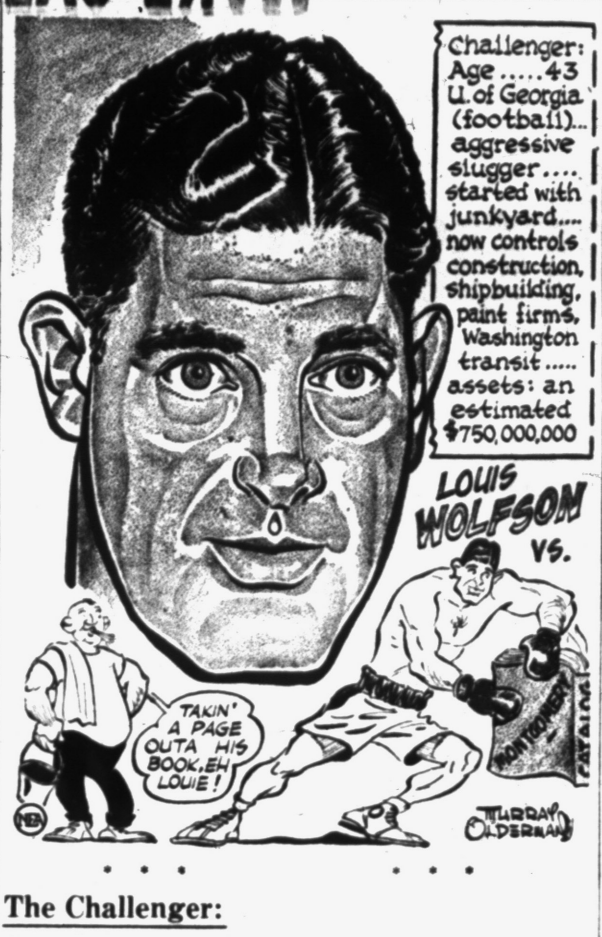

To the fellah, a child is extra capital which costs nothing, because children start working as hands in the fields or servants in houses as soon as they are old enough to walk, thus adding a bit more revenue to the family's income.

To the fellah's wife, there is more security for her in constantly producing children because her husband, under Moslem law, can easily divorce her for lack of fertility.

Sociologists put forward two inter-dependent solutions.

The first is a countrywide program of obligatory education. This would have the double effect of depriving the fellah's children of their value as immediate capital because of their being obliged to attend schools, as well as spreading education.

The second is to outlaw polygamy and restrict divorce. This, they pointed out, would result in strengthening the female's position in the family as well as bettering the Egyptian family bonds.

The Challenger:

Wolfson Parlays $10,000 Into Vast Financial Empire

By DOUGLAS LARSON

CHICAGO (NEA)—There's nothing small-time about the assets which handsome, 43-year-old Louis Wolfson controls, reliably reported in the vicinity of $750 million.

The profits buy him such baubles as three luxurious houses in Florida, more cars than he keeps track of, a super-plush apartment in New York and expensively tailored clothes.

They permit him to have the suave, former Notre Dame football coach, Frank Leahy, as his constant traveling and business companion, the ready advice of a slick public relations firm always on tap, and the comradeship of such sports figures as Jack Dempsey and Joe Di Maggio.

These things he has won by building a Florida junk business into a financial empire that includes one of the biggest construction firms in the U.S., a huge shipbuilding company, a paint factory, a home appliance firm and Washington's streetcar and bus company, among other interests.

But his bid for a permanent berth in the major league of American finance, putting him in the class of Robert Young, the Vanderbilts, the Fords and Morgans is his fight for control of the $750 million Montgomery Ward mail order firm.

If he wins Ward's, Louis Wolfson will prove beyond doubt that he's more than a flash in the financial pan, that he's ready to take up permanent residence in the top-level financial community.

And it appears to be this goal which Wolfson seeks above all others. This is the opinion of persons who have done business with him and is apparent in his speeches and interviews.

"I won't really be satisfied until every stockholder in the U.S. is protected against unscrupulous or inferior management. And this will result when the abuses I want to correct in Montgomery Ward's management are eliminated in other businesses," he insists.

"And after that I think I will devote my time to fighting juvenile delinquency and communism," he adds.

These things he claims as his long-term goals in life. Then he turns to Frank Leahy, who has been at his side constantly since the Ward fight began, slaps him on the back and says:

"And this fine man is going to help me do that job, too."

In running the meetings of Ward stockholders which the Wolfson group has been holding around the country, Leahy introduces Wolfson as "the Knute Rockne of the business world."

Wolfson is tall, slim and completely relaxed and confident. But he obviously would be more at home swapping sport yarns with Joe DiMaggio than he is making lofty statements about crusades against delinquency and corporate malpractices.

Wolfson has not amassed his fortune with public speaking talent. His speech is an interesting blend of Georgia Cracker and Brooklynese. But he helps make up for a lack of rhetorical polish with a refreshing frankness. At a recent talk to Washington investment experts he was asked if he favored giving out contracts let by his firms on a personal basis.

"You can always count on me giving contracts to friends. That is the way I do business," he said to a startled audience. "But that is only when everything else is equal and they meet the lowest price of a competitor," he added.

Another speaker might have gotton a laugh from that, but Wolfson is a particularly humorless speaker.

Wolfson attributes his financial wizardry to business lessons learned the hard way.

"The bankers you have to do business with and your tough competitors teach you all you need to know about getting ahead in the financial world," he says. "The trick is learning from your mistakes, and I made plenty of them," he adds.

Wolfson is at his best when discussing one of the business he controls. "As far as the future of Capital Transit goes we may have to have a 30 or 40 cent fare to keep up profits," he says, for example.

When he discusses Ward's he talks in terms of specific stores which have to be remodeled, ways of improving the mailing rooms and other details which reveal a shrewd business man's analysis of a firm.

Wolfson, who is married and has four children, is the son of a Russian immigrant. He was born in St. Louis and moved to Jacksonville, Fla., with his family when he was 14 months old. His father ran a junk yard and was prosperous enough to send Louis to the University of Georgia with the aid of a football scholarship.

In 1932 Wolfson borrowed $10,000 to start the Florida Pipe & Supply Co. After that there was no holding the young man back in the financial world.

Plant Visits Buyers

HAVERHILL, Mass. (UP) — Allied Shoe Machinery Corp. transformed a standard passenger bus into a miniature shoe plant. The factory-on-wheels provides front-door demonstrations to prospective buyers.

Seven hundred manufacturing concerns crowd Worcester, Mass., the state's second largest city. Since World War Two, 283 successful businesses have started.

Norway Battles Alky Smuggling

Police Boost Strength to Cope With Increase in Lawbreaking

OSLO (UP) — Three new police cruisers have been stationed in the mouth of the Oslo Fjord to give alcohol smugglers a hard time.

The number of smugglers — profiteering highly on the skyrocketing prices on all kinds of wine and brandy in Norway — has increased heavily during recent months, police claim.

Only a small percentage of the smugglers have been caught, owing to the modern methods they are using and the old-fashioned methods employed by customs and police officials.

Now, this is being changed. The water police force is slowly but surely catching up with the lawbreakers, even if the improvement does not come with the speed they could wish. Lack of funds is still a handicap.

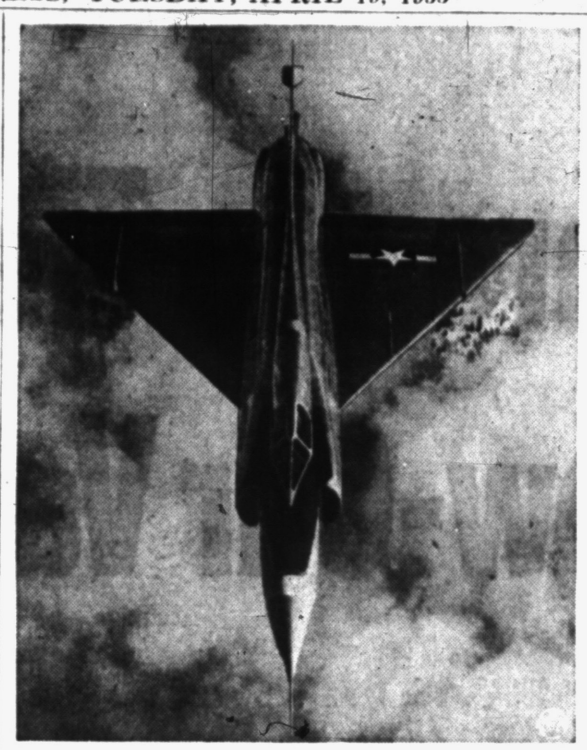

Sources here, who do not want to be identified, claim that an increasing number of Dutch and West German freight vessels engage in the smuggling in Scandinavian waters.

From these vessels, watertight containers filled with alcohol are dropped in the Norwegian fjords. They are fished out later by the Norwegian contacts of the foreigners.

The alcohol is believed to come mostly from Baltic ports behind the Iron Curtain.

The smuggling of alcohol into Norway has taken such proportions, recent statistics show, that court of justice actions against smugglers this year show the highest number since 1927, the last year of the prohibition period in Norway.

More than 30,000 U. S. tourists visited Ireland in 1954 and spent an estimated $200 each in that country.

MR. and MRS. THOMAS GONZALES

Newlywed City Couple Honeymoons at Niagara

Honeymooning at Niagara Falls are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gonzales. The bride is the former Betty Jane Humes, daughter of Albert Zinser of Osmun street. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jose P. Gonzales of South Shirley street.

The Rev. Ralph Claus performed the candlelight ceremony Friday evening at eight o'clock in St. Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over nylon tulle in ballerina length. A crown of iridescent sequins and pearls secured her fingertip veil of scalloped illusion. Her jewelry was the bridegroom's gift of a single strand of pearls and matching earrings.

She carried a prayer book, a gift of the bridegroom's parents, and two orchids.

Mrs. Albert Kinkade attended her sister as matron of honor and Florence Myre was a bridesmaid.

The matron of honor wore a ballerina length gown of blue net over taffeta. She wore a spray of blue flowers in her hair and carried an arrangement of blue carnations.

The bridesmaid was gowned in pink net over taffeta. Her headpiece was a spray of pink roses and she carried an arrangement of pink carnations.

Joe Priestley served as best man. Seating the guests were Allen McBride and Alfonso Costello.

Sprays of snapdragons, gladioli and pink roses decorated the home of the bridegroom's parents for the reception. Mrs. Gonzales wore a steel gray dress with rhinestones and a lavender orchid.

When the couple left for their wedding trip the bride was wearing a blue suit and hat with beige accessories and an orchid corsage. The newlyweds will reside on Osmun street.

Give Bride-Elect Linen Shower

Joyce Perry, bride-elect of Elmo C. Jones, was honored at a linen shower held at the Flint home of her aunt, Mrs. Floyd Hook.

Joyce is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Perry of State avenue. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Jones of Collingwood avenue.

The couple will exchange their nuptial vows July 9 at First Presbyterian Church.

Guests at the recent shower were Mrs. Roy Savage, Mrs. Arnold Campbell, Mrs. Don Meecke, Mrs. Carolyn Meecke, Mrs. Cecil Harper and Mrs. Lulu Agree.

Others were Mrs. Bruce Ferguson, Mrs. Eugene Redmond, Mrs. Jones, Patty Campbell, Mrs. J. H. Perry, Mrs. Hersey Pete and Mrs. Perry.

'Weight and Wait' Will Restore Figure

So your abdomen didn't flatten right out the minute you had baby. A wise doctor said it: "Two things —weight and wait." If you don't try to kill yourself with violent exercises at first and do keep your diet balanced, but calorie conscious, it will get flat soon enough.

Don't, whatever you do, start on a figure-reforming binge during your first six weeks out of the hospital.

Ideal Suit Fabric

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Braid were honored Sunday when their son, James and daughter, Normalee, entertained 150 guests at an open house in their Rosewood drive home.

The Braids were celebrating their 25th wedding anniversary. The occasion also marked the birthday of Mrs. Braid's mother, Mrs. Roy Stroupe.

James returned Saturday from Fredericksburg, Va., where he represented the Albion College chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, national classical fraternity, at an annual convention. James is president of the Albion group.

He is also one of twelve seniors at the college elected to Phi Beta Kappa, oldest scholastic honorary society in the nation.

Missouri Revisited Inspires Apology

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

Besides wanting to see everybody, what I really went back to Missouri for, after all those years away, was to pick up some charming stories about my childhood.

I had a sort of notion that the minute I set foot in Missouri soil neighbors, cousins and aunts would begin spilling delightful tales about me as a little girl.

The whole venture was more important than it sounds, stated casually like that. The truth is that I've just about run out of nostalgic memories and to one of my trade, that is tragedy.

I've long thought that writers should have nine lives like cats so that when one life is used up they can begin promptly on the next.

In Paris, Mo., my cousin Mary, about my age, importuned to reminisce, did her best to dredge up suitable incidents, but, it was obviously hard going.

Then suddenly I began an apology which through the years clear across the country I had sometimes rehearsed in my own mind.

When I was 7, my family had moved in from the country to a house in Paris, but Mary's folks still lived on their farm a few miles away. Paris, which had about 1,500 population, seemed like a big city to me at first.

I felt like a country yokel and all those town children seemed much smarter and more attractive than I could ever hope to be.

There wasn't anything I could do to impress THEM—so I took to venting my inferiority complex upon my poor country cousin Mary. Suddenly I became a zealous correspondent.

In long letters I described in glowing colors the life of the metropolis. I listed all the Christmas presents I had received and, as if that weren't enough, put down birthday gifts, too.

I bragged arrogantly about my popularity and how well I was doing in school, making up little showing-off yarns.

In the advanced spelling book I discovered some simple French phrases with their translations—"S'il vous plait—if you please," "merci—thank you," "respondez s'il vous plait—answer please" —and these I sprinkled lavishly through my communications, implying that they were common usage in the great world which I inhabited.

Now, back home, hungrily eating Aunt Pearl's good fried chicken, I said remorsefully what a little monster I had been to write all those braggy letters.

Mary looked genuinely amazed. "Why, I didn't think they were like that at all," she protested. "I always thought your letters were wonderful. I guess I was impressed by them.

Then, in a desperate effort to produce a story about our youth she unwittingly confirmed my worst fears about myself when young.

"When you'd come to visit, you were always looking in mirrors and combing your hair," said Mary, "and you'd say to me, 'Don't you think I have beautiful hair?'"

Then at my stricken look—"I'm sure some older person had told you so," kind Mary added quickly.

Beige Linen Shown

Coming this summer—Irish linen in the palest beige. As a costume, it has a high, but belted midriff, an open jacket with a round collar, three-quarter sleeves with medium cuffs.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penney: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance. Try this Houbigant Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.85 plus tax at better stores.

Doctors Hunting for Better Vaccine

Editor's Note: Last of four articles describing the long battle against Polio.

By EDWIN DIAMOND

ANN ARBOR (INS) — What is ahead in the polio fight? Is the disease definitely and finally defeated?

Even before the announcement that the Salk vaccine is safe and effective in preventing all three types of paralytic polio, there was general agreement that polio could and would be controlled by a vaccine granting prolonged immunity.

Several other vaccine methods were being developed at the same time Dr. Jonas E. Salk was working with his killed virus.

But the licensing of the Salk Vaccine and its use before the onset of the polio season in June does not mean that this polio research will stop now.

Dr. Salk himself has no intention of stopping. Ever since last summer's mass field trials involving his vaccine, he has been working with his associates at the University of Pittsburgh to improve its effectiveness.

There are other projects going forward with vaccines.

One of the most important is at Michael Reese Hospital in Chicago.

There doctors are treating polio virus with ultra-violet irradiation instead of the formalin chemical used by Dr. Salk in making his vaccine. It might be a better process.

The Michael Reese Research Foundation, under Dr. Albert M. Wolf, is cooperating with the Illinois Department of Health on an inoculation program using this radiation-killed virus. Dr. Wolf reports that initial results are encouraging.

Also in Chicago, Dr. George Le Roy, associate dean of the Division of Biological Sciences at the University of Chicago, has offered an explanation for some of the "paradoxes of polio"—the apparent increase in cases in the more advanced countries and the rise in the age-incidence of polio.

Dr. Le Roy points out it is maintained now by infectious disease specialists that polio is caused by a virus which may be produced in the human body and excreted in the body wastes.

In a society such as ours, Dr. Le Roy says, with our modern plumbing and santiary conditions, there is not the constant exposure to polio virus doctors find in such outdoor plumbing areas as the Middle East and Asia.

With no mild natural polio exposure occurring to build up our disease-fighting antibodies, when the one big dose comes the result is paralytic polio.

This also explains why the average age of polio victims continues to increase. In the countries with high standards of living, infections occur increasingly later in life; in the underdeveloped countries early mild infection gives natural life immunity.

This has prompted Dr. Le Roy and others to call polio one of the growing "diseases of civilization."

One of the most experienced workers in the polio vaccine field is Dr. Albert B. Sabin, professor of research pediatrics at the University of Cincinnati.

Dr. Sabin has for some time been working on the theory that a live virus might grant better and longer immunity than the killed virus used by Dr. Salk.

It is Dr. Sabin's theory that there are both good and bad polio viruses occuring in nature. He explained:

"The bad virus causes paralytic polio; the good virus gives us infection without dangerous consequences and hence grants us immunity from later bad virus.

"Where there are epidemics, you can be sure there are these bad virusus."

He hopes to isolate the natural good virus or alternatively, to produce it in the laboratory. He believes a vaccine made from such a virus would be the best possible protection against polio.

Dr. Sabin describes his efforts to produce a live virus vaccine as an attempt to imitate what happens in nature.

He lists these advanages of such a vaccine:

Only a small amount would be needed.

This minute quantity might be given orally, thus avoiding the cumbersome system of triple inoculations.

The live virus, sufficiently treated to prevent paralytic polio, would be capable of stimulating into protection a high level of antibodies as they multiplied.

Such a vaccine would be cheap to prepare and readily available.

Dr. Sabin has experimented with the live virus on volunteers from an Ohio prison (the Chillicothe Reformatory). He will report on these results at the May meeting of the American Association of Physicians.

Dr. Sabin makes it clear he intends to follow through on his live virus vaccine. He is convinced that his goal in research—the development of a vaccine giving "solid immunization that lasts a life-time to everyone in the world"—is realistic.

Here is how he describes the ideal polio vaccine:

"It would be a drop of liquid which could be put into the formula of babies when they are three or four months old. It would be so effective that we would never have to worry about polio again."

Reno Harold's Club Will Sell Property

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Harold's Club of Reno, Nevada's biggest gambling enterprise, put an estimated 2½ million dollars worth of its property up for sale yesterday.

Club officials would not explain why, publicly. But some said privately that a sharp increase in state taxes and the cost of an expansion program prompted the move.

On the block are two big Reno motels, a trailer park, two large ranches and other property in the city.

Explosion of Dud Shell Hurts 33 in Mess Line

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP)—A smaller caliber artillery shell, accidentally dropped by a Marine standing in a mess line, exploded and injured 33 enlisted men yesterday.

A spokesman for the 1st Marine Division said the Marine was believed to have picked up the 'dud' artillery shell on the firing range as a souvenir.

"He was showing it to his buddy in the mess line," the spokesman said, "when he dropped it and it exploded."

Pvt. Dorman T. Swann of Winnsboro, Tex., was in critical condition.

Trailer Sheds Its Tires

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—Truck driver Riley Lee Barton, Temple, Tex., thought it was strange when he saw a pair of dual tires complete with wheel rolling past the cab. He pulled up short and took a look. The tires were off his trailer.

Livonia Mayor Guest Speaker

High School Is Scene for 8 P. M. Confab on Change in Status

TROY TOWNSHIP — Township residents attending the public meeting on incorporation will hear a voice of experience this evening.

Livonia Mayor Albert M. Hartom is slated as the speaker for the 8 p.m. meeting at the Troy High School.

Livonia is the only city, in this area that made the incorporation move from an entire township.

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors has called a June 7 election for residents of Troy Township to vote on incorporating the greater portion of the township.

At the meeting tonight will be Troy officials, including Supervisor Norman Barnard. They will be available to answer questions on what the change would mean to residents.

The incorporation move followed an attempt by Royal Oak to annex a portion of Troy on which the Vickers Corp. of Detroit is building a $2,000,000 plant.

Indian elephants have a single finger-like projection on their trunks while African elephants have two.

LOIS SCHINKE

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Schinke of Hickory Lawn, Rochester, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Lois Lorraine, to Donald Wayne Ruffner. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Ruffner of Rochester. An August wedding is planned.

School Board Member Resigns Troy Position

TROY TOWNSHIP—Clarence R. Little, elected to a three year term last year, has resigned from the Troy Township School board.

Arthur R. Lovejoy was appointed to fill the position until the June 13 board of education election. Little said "reasons beyond my control" led to his move.

Waterford Play Deals With Aged

'The Room Upstairs' Slated for Donelson at 8 P. M. Thursday

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The Waterford Township PTA Program Planning Committee in co-operation with the Recreation Department, is presenting a one act play Thursday on the problems of the aged.

"The Room Upstairs" will be given at 8 p.m. at the Donelson School.

Objections of this co-operative affair between the schools and the recreation department is to focus attention on problems of old age, and how both agencies can help.

"The Room Upstairs" depicts grandmother's room, and the associated problems of living with the family of her daughter.

Forming the cast are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bergemann of Lambert School; Mrs. Clifford Temple of Waterford Center School; Mrs. Virginia Wagner of Williams Lake School, and township recreation superintendent Thomas Belton.

No admission charge will be made.

Railway tracks in the U. S. are more than double the mileage in 1888, when the total was 191,376 miles. Today it is about 395,000 miles.

Big Ten Wins Eight TV Grid Dates in '55

NEW YORK (AP)—The Big Ten Conference, which led the fight against the NCAA national game-a-week football television program, will be able to show its wares on TV on eight successive Saturdays next fall.

* * *

The eight-game national program was announced Monday by the NCAA television committee and the National Broadcasting Company, which will telecast the national programs. Five Saturdays were left open for regional programs.

* * *

Four Big Ten teams are scheduled for national network appearances, two against non-conference opponents, and the regional dates are spaced so as to make a continuous eight-week program possible for regional viewers.

The schedule:

Sept. 17—Miami (Fla.) at Georgia Tech.
Sept. 24—Regional date.
Oct. 1—Ohio State at Stanford.
Oct. 8—Regional.
Oct. 15—Notre Dame at Michigan State.
Oct. 22—Regional.
Oct. 29—Iowa at Michigan.
Nov. 5—Regional.
Nov. 12—Regional.
Nov. 19—UCLA at Southern California.
Nov. 24 (Thanksgiving—Texas at Texas A&M.
Nov. 26—Army vs. Navy at Philadelphia.
Dec. 3—North Carolina at Duke.

Lindsey Nelson and Harold (Red) Grange will be the commentators on the national series. NBC also plans to program regional games on the five available dates to provide a continuous series.

* * *

This isn't what the Big Ten originally sought in its demands for regional programs under national controls, but it can put at least one conference team before regional viewers on all but the last Saturday of the Big Ten season. Conference rules provide that the season may not open before the last Saturday in September and must end the Saturday before Thanksgiving

* * *

The Pacific Coast Conference, which also objected to the national TV controls of the past four years, didn't fare so well. Its teams can't appear on more than six Saturdays between Sept. 24 and Nov. 19.

Argentine Marathon Favorite

BOSTON (AP) — Reinaldo Gorno, a 36-year-old sanitation engineer from Buenos Aires, ruled a solid favorite today to maintain the recent monopoly of foreign foot-racers in the famed Boston A. A. Marathon—but showery weather might be his undoing.

The dark, wavy-haired Argentinian had been hailed as a favorite of almost "sure thing" proportions until a forecast of cool, cloudy weather with showers gave a new cast to the situation.

Gorno, 2nd to Czechoslovakia's great Emil Zatopek when he broke the Olympic marathon mark in 1952, would prefer a sunny day with temperatures in the low 60s, for this 26-mile, 385-yard grind from rural Hopkinton to downtown Boston.

* * *

But the advent of showers boosted the chances of the other foreign stars to spring an upset. Sweden's lean, swift Gustaf Jansson, who lost by only an eighth of a mile to Gorno for second place in the last Olympics, was accorded a strong chance to take it all.

Like most of the other foreigners except Gorno, Jansson will be at his best on a coolish day. The 31-year-old woodsman lives near the Norwegian border and wound up his training in the snow before flying across the Atlantic.

Others benefitting from the threatening weather will be Finland's "mystery men," Paavo Kotila and Eino Pulkkinen. The 1954 BAA winner, Veikko Karvoen, was a countryman of theirs.

Karvonen is not back to accept a double victory. He had his choice between this race and last fall's marathon at Kamakura Japan. Gorno won that one, with Karvonen second.

Japan's entry is always powerful. This year its three-man squad consists of two men who have run this course before and one first timer, Sadaaki Tanaba. Yoshitaka Uchikawa was 8th in 1951 and Hideo Kammamura 6th in 1953, when Japan's little Keizo Yamada set the record of 2 hours, 18 minutes, 51 seconds.

Top U. S. hope is Nick Costes, a Farrell, Pa., native who teaches school in Natick — one of the communities along the marathon route. Costes, ninth a year ago, moved up in the reckoning when John J. Kelley, New London, Conn., star who was the first American to finish the past two years, decided he wasn't in shape to run.

EVERYBODY DUCKS—Catchers Roy Campanella of the Dodgers and Stan Lopata of the Phillies try to cover up in the second inning of their game in Philadelphia last night trying to avoid pitcher Carl Erskine's relay to the plate. Lopata scored when Hodges fielded Earl Torgeson's roller and tossed to Erskine who fell and was unable to recover. Erskine threw to the plate from a sitting position, Umpire is Jackowski and the Dodgers won, 5-2.

Pirate Ace Should Know!

Thomas Says It's Tough to Play for Tailender

NEW YORK (AP) — Anyone who thinks it's easy to play for a last place club is crazy.

That's the sober opinion of Frank Thomas, star outfielder of the hapless Pittsburgh Pirates and one of the top sluggers of the National League. Thomas should know because he's never been on any but a last place team ever since he came up to the major leagues in 1953.

"Regardless of what some think," Thomas said sorrowfully in the gloom of the Pirate clubhouse following Pittsburgh's sixth successive defeat Monday, a 12-3 loss to the New York Giants, "it's hell to play with a last place club. A guy is supposed to be relaxed. Relaxed my eye. What's so relaxing about losing day after day?"

"Its much easier playing with a pennant contender. There's supposed to be more pressure on a fellow playing with a championship club. I wouldn't know about that. I've been in baseball eight years and I've played on a team that finished as high as fourth only once. That was the Charleston Club in the Sally League back in 1950.

"I feel certain, however, it would be much easier and more fun to play on a club that's going somewhere. As for the pressure, any good ball player welcomes it. That's when he's usually at his best."

Lions Invoking Help of Courts

File Suit Against the Argonauts to Halt Use of Ex-Detroit Pair

TORONTO (AP) — The Detroit Lions of the National Football League have filed motions for injunctions that would prevent quarterback Tom Dublinski and tackle Gil Mains from playing with the Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four this season.

The motions, filed Monday and returnable next Monday, ask the Supreme Court of Ontario to restrain Dublinski and Mains "from breach of contract with the plaintiffs."

Meanwhile, the Argonauts, the most controversial football club in Canada, signed Bucky Curtis, an end from the Browns. Cleveland previously had not been touched by Argonaut player raids.

St. Michael's Sports Banquet Set May 10

Annual all-sports banquet of the athletic association of St. Michael's parish is scheduled Tuesday, May 10, at 6:30 p.m. at St. Michael's Hall.

Wally Formhart, head football coach at the University of Detroit, will be the principal speaker. Other guest speakers include Ray Null, athletic director at UD; Bob Calihan, UD basketball coach; and Bob Morris, parochial prep writer of the Detroit Times.

Toastmaster will be Andrew Bertoni, secretary of Meadowbrook Country Club.

PHS Golfers Handed Setback at Saginaw

Up against a steadier squad in the Arthur Hill golf team, Pontiac High School's chief linksmen dropped their opening test of the season yesterday. They bowed to the 'Jacks 11½-3½ at Green Acres course, Saginaw. Pontiac's Jayvees beat Saginaw juniors, 10-5, with Tom Jacobson's 84 medalist figures.

Three PHS players were shut out. Bill Martin's 86 against Arthur Hill Bill Turmer's 80 gave PHS one point, and Jerry Richards hit 85 for 2½ points against Bill Feldt who had 91 for a half point.

Art Scott, Dick Singleton and Walt Larson completed the Chiefs' squad. They meet Waterford Friday at Pontiac Country Club.

Ancient IL Gets Under Way for 72nd Year

'Highly Exciting Race' Is Prediction by the Veteran Shaughnessey

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The ancient International League, sprawling through three countries, opened its 72nd consecutive season today and President Frank (Shag) Shaughnessy optimistically said "there is a chance for a record gate."

"Futhermore," said Shag, starting his 19th season as president of the Triple A loop, which in recent years has been beset by television problems, "I look for a highly exciting race."

There will be one new member, Columbus, 52 years in the rival American Association, took the place of Ottawa. Last year, in order to fight off the inroads of TV, Havana and Richmond, took over for Springfield and Baltimore.

* * *

Several years ago, Newark and Jersey City, two of the onetime pillars of the league, were forced to drop out because of dwindling attendance.

Only Richmond and Havana will open tonight. The Virginians expect to have 9,000 in the stands against the Montreal Royals. Righthander Bob Habenicht probably will pitch for the home club against lefty Ken Lehman.

In Havana, Connie Marrero, back in the minors after a 5-year hitch with the Washington Senators, will match slants with Buffalo's Dick Marlowe, who hurled for Detroit last season.

* * *

Wednesday, in the second round of the openers, Syracuse entertains Toronto, 1954 champion, and Columbus will play host to Rochester.

The new entry includes mostly members of last year's Ottawa club, which finished last, plus a few hand-me-downs from the Kansas City A's. Although few expect the club to finish higher than seventh (last year's Columbus American Assn. team was fourth), 160,000 tickets already have been sold.

There are three new managers—Nick Cullop of the Jets, as the Columbus outfit has been nicknamed; Greg Mulleavy of Montreal and Danny Carnevale of Buffalo.

* * *

The Maple Leafs, with practically the same team that won the title last year, are favorites. Only Elston Howard, now with the New York Yankees, is missing. But his place has been taken by catcher Lou Berberet, who hit .317 with Birmingham of the Southern Assn. last year.

Only One Available

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y. — Only one Hyperion colt will be offered at auction in the nation this year—and buyers will get their chance to bid for it at the annual Saratoga Sales.

'Gotta Hit' to Make Money Is Logan's Slogan

Braves' Infielder Is Making It Pay With Fat .591 Average

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The National League's top fielding shortstop believes "you gotta hit to make money" and that's one good reason Johnny Logan of the Milwaukee Braves carries a fat .591 plate average after Milwaukee's first half dozen games of 1955.

He's the hottest major league regular at bat, with 13 hits in 22 trips, including a pair of home runs.

Logan, who has led the National League shortstops on the field for three years in a row, wound up the 1954 season with a .275 batting average.

Troy Trackmen Win Opener at Clawson

Don Hill's Troy High School track team won its opening meet of the season Monday with a 56 5/6 to 52 1/6 decision over Clawson on the latter's track.

Floyd Bailey and George Burnard each came up with multiple victories, but the deciding points came on a surprise 2nd place finish by Dick Kelly in the shot put. Bailey won the shot and the quarter-mile and tied for first in the pole vault with teammate Jim Murdock.

Burnard won both dashes. The Colts will run at Cranbrook this afternoon.

Land O'Lakes Team Sets Pace for Elks

Land O'Lakes bowling team in the Pontiac Elks contingent at the National Elks Tourney in Detroit over the last weekend, set the pace with a 2936 total.

Others among the leading Pontiac Elks teams were:

Osmun's 2850, The 99 Club 2817, Pontiac Motor Elks 2800, Galnu Mnfg. Co. 2777, Little Horns 2776, Elks Horns 2835, Janka Horns 2818, Torrid Heat 2782 and Farmer-Snover 2775.

Zittel's Hit Nets Win for Alma College Nine

Dave Zittel of Pontiac drove in the only run of the game Monday as Alma College's baseball team defeated the University of Detroit, 1-0.

The Scots got the run in the 2nd inning when Bob Hill of Roseville was safe on an outfield error, moved up on a sacrifice and scored on Zittel's single. The Pontiac infielder is a former baseball and basketball star at Pontiac High School.

MONDAY'S HOME RUNS
Snider, Dodgers; Clemente, Pirates; Thompson, Lockman, Giants; Repulski, Cardinals; Mantle, Yankees; Doby, Indians; Finigan, Zernial, Wilson, Power, Renna, Athletics.

Land O'Lakes Gay-Day Track Agreement Set

Racing Group Discloses Tie-Up With Speedway Near Pontiac

Contract arrangements between the Land O'Lakes Racing Association and the Gay-Day Speedway were disclosed Monday night at the LLRA meeting at Butch's collision Shop. A total of 140 drivers and owners attended the meeting.

The Gay-Day track, formerly the Chief Pontiac Speedway, is now owned by Jack Korte of Ferndale. A ⅝-mile oval, the track is located north of Pontiac on Lake Angelus road.

Korte is planning extensive improvements at Gay-Day. The new surface will be of clay and chloride. Grandstands will also undergo remodeling with modern rest room facilities added.

President Gene Chidester reports that Land O'Lakes body was unanimous in the approval of the move to the new track. The Association raced last season at Pontiac M-59 Speedway.

Racing programs are planned for Wednesday nights, with twilight races on Sunday. A tentative starting date of May 15 has been set.

Michigan Modified Racing Association was represented at Monday's meeting by vice-president Bill Volke and that group pledged full support and cooperation with the new venture.

Detroit Pfeiffer 5 Rolls in ABC Tonight

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP)—Only one change was recorded in yesterday's shooting in the American Bowling Congress tournament, on the 24th day of its scheduled 72-day run.

Tonight the highly ranked Pfeiffer Beer quintet of Detroit takes a shot for the team lead. The Detroit team, which under the E. and B. banner won the ABC title in 1952 and 1953, will be aiming to top the 3,047 total which gave the 620 club of Mineapolis the lead.

In the open division yesterday, two teams, the M. P. Heinze Machine five of Chicago and Topsy's Cafe, of Fort Worth, appeared headed for the top 10 but they didn't make it. The Chicago five finished with a 2,950 count, while the Texans rolled 2,930 after starting out with the night's highest game, 1,017.

Tiger Deal Is Looking Better All the Time

Chisox' Lane Figures Dropo, Nieman, Gray Will Come Through

CHICAGO (AP)—"We don't want to crow yet, smiles the Chicago White Sox General Manager, Frank Lane, "but that winter trade with Detroit is looking bigger and better to us every day."

In the exchange last December, Lane dispatched first baseman Ferris Fain and two minor leaguers to the Tigers for Walt Dropo, Bob Nieman and pitcher Ted Gray.

"Dropo and Nieman are doing for us what we hoped they would do," Lane beams. "And any time now you'll see Gray out there on the mound. He's been looking real good."

Gray, a lean lefty, won 58 games for the Tigers from 1948 through 1954.

First sacker Dropo, a hulking 6-5, 220-pound giant, and outfielder Nieman so far have made the trade with Detroit look mighty good.

Dropo is batting .313 and last Saturday slammed a 425-foot bases loaded homer that gave the Sox a 9-4 triumph over Cleveland.

Nieman, who played for Sox Manager Marty Marion when he was skipper of the St. Louis Browns, is batting a lofty .545. He has hit three homers and driven in five runs.

No-Hitter Beats Chips

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — Jack Kenney pitched a no-hit, no-run ball game yesterday as Eastern Illinois defeated Central Michigan, 5-0, in a seven-inning second game of a doubleheader. Central Michigan won the opener, 2-0.

Kenney also pitched no-hit ball as a reliefer in the last three innings of the nine-inning 1st game.

Gene Poirer Impressive in Debut on Television

NEW YORK (AP) — The name is Gene Poirer and mark it down if you're a fight fan. You're going to hear a lot more about this 23-year old ex-platoon sergeant from Niagara Falls, N. Y.

The angular-faced Korean War vet faintly resembles Tony Zale facially and he hits hard like the old middleweight champion. For two rounds against Johnny Busso Monday night Gene showed a pretty good left. Then early in the third he exploded an overhand right against the 20-year-old New Yorkers jaw and that was that at 1:16.

* * *

Busso went down on his seat. At five he staggered to his feet. Referee Mark Conn rubbed his gloves and gave him the mandatory eight count. Then Busso's mouthpiece fell out as he wobbled hands down, to Poirer who was waiting in a neutral corner.

* * *

Conn jumped over to Busso, wrapped his arms around the dazed youngster and stopped the fight. Busso couldn't remember anything that had happened as he sat in his dressing room with blood trickling from a cut over his right eye.

It was Poirer's sixth straight victory and his eighth kayo. The record is 16-1 with two draws. It was the first time Busso has been stopped. His record now is 21-3-1.

Ypsi Horseman First in Move to Hazel Park

Driver-Trainer Bill Douglas, of Ypsilanti, became the first to ship into Hazel Park Harness Raceway, after the veteran driver received special permission from Hazel Park officials to beat the tentative April 20 date for the opening of the stable area.

Douglas brought in his stable of nine horses Monday and explained that recent rains had washed out his training track.

Unique Engine, Designed as Airplane Motor, Is Feature of Unusual Entry in Indianapolis '500'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walter F. Strader has entered 1955's most unusual race car in the 500-mile Indianapolis Race. It's so unusual Strader doesn't even know how to describe it.

"The engine is what's different," Strader, an ordained minister, inventor and mechanic, explained at his Los Angeles shop Monday night. "There's no way of comparing it to a regular engine."

Strader calls it a "Planacircle" engine, and calls his car the "Planacircle Special." The engine looks something like an electric motor. "Everything in it moves in a circle," Strader said.

* * *

He isn't disclosing all the details of the engine's operation. But he explained this much:

It has no cylinders.
It has no pistons.
It has no valves.
It has no crankshaft.
And it's air-cooled.

"I built it primarily as an aircraft power plant," Strader said. "As it is it could go right into an airplane. The car is incidental to the engine. This will give it a first-hand demonstration in a place where the most people will see it."

* * *

Strader said he has paid the $500 entry fee, and officials of the 39th annual Indianapolis classic, although frankly puzzled by the builder's description, have accepted it. For the officials, Strader defined his power plant this way:

"The fuel mixture is compressed in two combustion chambers through a system of rotors."

* * *

He said the engine has a displacement of 137 cubic inches, half the 274 cubic inches allowed on non-supercharged engines. Although it has a system of rotors, it isn't a turbine. "It's an internal combustion engine, all right, Strader said.

How did he figure the displacement without cylinders to measure?

"It had to be figured on compound curves and arcs of circles," Strader said, a trifle mysteriously.

As a matter of further interest, Strader said his power plant, as yet untested in its normal-appearing chassis and body, is connected to the rear end at a one-to-one ratio. "You can tell by that it doesn't turn at a high rpm," he said.

* * *

Strader formerly had an auto sales and service shop in Syracuse, Indiana. He came here five years ago, continued his work on the engine, and also attended Bible college, becoming an ordained minister.

He said he got his engineering experience on the job. He built the engine himself and is finishing the car in a small Los Angeles shop.

Junior High Track Season Set to Start

Track season for Pontiac's junior high schools will begin Wednesday afternoon with Lincoln meeting Jefferson and Washington opposing Eastern at Wisner Stadium.

Meets will be held each Wednesday until May 25, on which date the annual Junior High School Meet is scheduled. Washington Junior High is the defending champion for the 3rd straight year, having lost only one dual meet, while winning 13 meets over the 3-year period.

Em Ghianni's Braves will be favorites again this year, with stiff opposition expected from Jefferson.

Crary Thinclads Win School's First Meet

Crary Junior High School won the first track meet in the new school's history Monday with a 50½ to 26½ victory over Farmington Junior High on the Waterford High School track.

Mike Ewer paced the Clippers with first places in the 75yard dash and the broad jump, as they took 6 or 8 events. Crary, coached by Jack McCaffrey, competes in the Inter-Lakes Conference's Cinder Path League for 7th and 8th graders.

Crary will meet Southfield next Monday.

Detroit Men Propose Sports Hall of Fame

DETROIT (AP)—A committee of Detroit newspaper and radio sports editors have been named to set up plans for a statewide sportswriters vote on nominations to a proposed Michigan Sports Hall of Fame.

Bucky Still Uncertain About Pitchers He'll Keep on List

DETROIT (AP)—Al Kaline and J. W. Porter both got home runs yesterday. But neither will count in official American League records.

The two circuit clouts were hit in a six-inning intrasquad game.

It was Kaline's 4th homer in two days. In his 1st appearance at the plate yesterday he planted a pitch from Dike Maas in the left field stands.

It was the only run the regulars got in a 5-1 defeat by the reserves. Porter's four-bagger and triples by Ronnie Samford and Wayne Belardi accounted for the reserves' runs.

Maas and Paul Foytack gave the regulars only two hits besides Kaline's blast. Bud Black and Ray Herbert pitched for the regulars. Black gave up all five reserve runs.

It was an off day on the Tiger schedule, but manager Bucky Harris wanted to take another look at some of his pitchers.

He must trim the Tiger roster from 33 to 28 by May 12 and the problem of which pitchers are to go is giving him headaches.

Harris has 16 pitchers. He has indicated he will keep 11.

Yesterday's performance left him puzzled.

Black was hit for six of the reserve safeties including Porter's homer and the two triples. Herbert retired six straight then pitched himself out of a hole after he gave up a single and two walks.

Kaline's four-bagger and a single by Fred Hatfield were the only hits off Maas. Foytack held the regulars to one other single in his turn.

"I haven't seen enough of our pitchers to know what to do about them," Harris said. "And I don't know how I can see any more of them. This is the toughest job I ever had."

"I guess I'll just have to use my best judgment," Harris added. "I hope I do the right thing."

As it appears to stand now, Ned Garver, Steve Gromek, Billy Hoeft and Frank Lary are starters.

Bonus baby Bob Miller must be kept until June.

Al Aber, George Zuvernik, Van Fletcher, Bob Schultz, and perhaps Herbert and Foytack, seem to have relief and spot pitching jobs.

That leaves five pitchers—Black, Maas and Bill Froats, Leo Cristante and Ben Flowers.

Viking, Bluejay Golf Teams Are Victorious

WALLED LAKE and Southfield of the Inter-Lakes Conference won golf matches Monday. DeForest McIntyre's Vikings measured Waterford's Skippers, 339-352, over the Edgewood Golf Club course.

Southfield won a triangular at Plum Hollow, scoring 351 to 383 for Farmington and 457 for Fitzgerald. Don Sherer and Don Bradley scored 86 and 87, respectively, in the Southfield triumph.

At Edgewood, Walled Lake's Dick Dewling took medal honors with an 81. Bob Stewart and Norm Dierkes added 83s, while Jack Reynolds paced the Skippers with 83.

Stout Steve Gromek Aims for First 20-Game Season

DETROIT (UP) — Aging Steve Gromek of the Detroit Tigers, whose big objective is reaching the 20-game winner circle for the 1st time, thinks this might be his year to reach that goal.

GROMEK

The 34-year-old right-hander, who relies on control rather than speed, already has two victories to his credit with the American League season only one week ago.

And he's certain he is every bit as sharp as he was last year when he turned in 18 triumphs to lead the Detroit pitching staff—maybe even sharper.

"Those fast-ball pitchers slow down a lot as they get older," Gromek said. "But a control pitcher can keep on winning for a long time and he gets smarter every year."

Gromek admitted the Tigers made his job easy in his 1st two starts this season, both against Kansas City, by running up a total of 26 runs against the Athletics.

But the fact remains that stout Steve was plenty stingy. He was touched for only two runs in his 1st outing. A 10-2 victory, and blanked the Athletics in the next start, a 16-0 rout.

He walked only one batter in the two games, proving that his control is as sharp as ever. Last year, he walked only 57 batters in 253 innings and had a 2.74 earned run average.

Gromek, who came to the Tigers in a 1953 mid-season trade with the Cleveland Indians, has twice come close to the coveted 20-victory mark. He won 19 games and lost nine for the Indians in 1945 and wound up with an 18-16 mark a year ago.

'Ducky' Oertel May Put Pontiac in Big Leagues Within the Next Couple Years

Pontiac may well be represented in the big leagues within a year or so.

Charles (Ducky) Oertel has made a very favorable impression on officials of the Baltimore Orioles baseball team, including general and field manager Paul Richards.

Oertel, one of the best all-around athletes ever to perform for St. Frederick's High School in Pontiac, is just starting his 4th season in professional baseball, but will be playing his 2nd season in a Class AA league.

Oertel spent 3 weeks with the Orioles in spring training, but was optioned on March 20 to the Birds' San Antonio farm team of the Texas League, where he played in 1954.

The Pontiac youngster was the youngest of 9 outfielders on the Baltimore spring roster and with such veterans as Walter (Hoot) Evers and Gil Coan having fine spring training seasons, the competition was just a little stiff.

* * *

The Orioles also have ex-Yankee Leaguers Carl Abrams and Chuck Diering and former Red Sox up-and-downer Chuck Maxwell. However, at 24, Oertel has the years on his side and may well jump to the majors in the next season or two.

Evers is 34; Woodling, 33; Diering, 32; and Coan and Abrams, 31, so their future in the American League may be limited

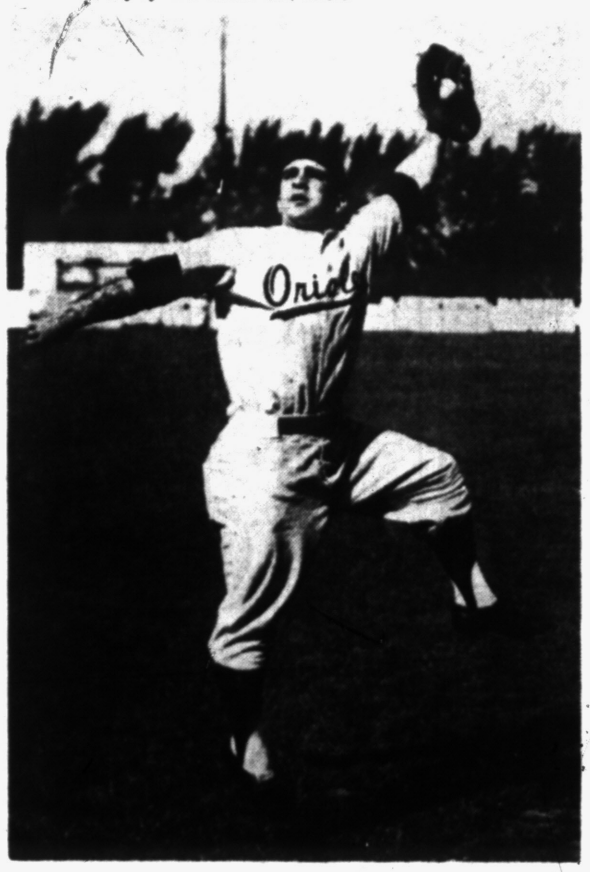

The former Ram ace began his pro career in 1950 at Baxley, Ga., where he hit .352 in 92 games, earning a promotion to Appleton, Wis., where he maintained an identical batting average for the remainder of the season. He was playing 3rd base at the time.

In 1951 at Appleton, he hit .325 for 122 bases, and his hits included 27 doubles, 13 triples and 10 homers, as well as 19 stolen bases. His fielding mark also showed improvement.

The seasons of 1952 and '53 were spent in the Marines, but "Ducky" joined San Antonio and played 139 games last season, hitting .276 in what is traditionally regarded as a "pitchers' league".

He again hit 10 home runs and his all-around play and hustle as an outfielder earned him the spring bid with the Orioles. A stocky 5-8, 170-pounder, he is a speedy, aggressive base runner with a strong throwing arm from right field.

"Ducky" looks like a future Oriole.

FUTURE ORIOLE — Charles (Ducky) Oertel (above) of Pontiac is shown in the uniform of the Baltimore Orioles, with whom he spent the spring training season. The former St. Frederick star was optioned out to the Oriole farm at San Antonio of the Texas League, but is well regarded by the Baltimore "brass."

Cleveland's 'Hatchet Men' Blast Blackwell

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cleveland's Indians have a real Murderer's Row—six hatchet men who keep swinging until they get the other guy's scalp.

If one slugger doesn't get the job done, the next guy might. If he doesn't, the other clubbers are lined up for their whacks.

All of which gives manager Al Lopez the guaranteed payoff of a savings bond. With Al Smith, Bobby Avila, Larry Doby, Al Rosen, Ralph Kiner and Vic Wertz swinging for him, he's shooting for a second straight American League pennant with loaded dice.

* * *

Cleveland's hatchet men have knocked in 29 of the Tribe's 36 runs this season, with the big four of the wrecking crew—Doby, Rosen, Kiner and Wertz—driving in 19.

What they can do to the opposition was evident on opening day. Chicago's Virgil Trucks bore down to fan Kiner with the bags loaded in the first, only to find Wertz next at the plate. Wertz singled home two runs and the tribe was off to a 5-1 victory

* * *

Last night at Kansas City, Ewell Blackwell got the treatment. He came on in the ninth for the A's, who had clubbed five homers themselves for an 8-0 lead after four frames. When Blackwell arrived, Cleveland had swung back to a mere 9-8 deficit.

A walk and a hit batsman put Blackwell in the hole. But he struck out Smith and got Avila to pop up. Then he had Doby to face. Blackwell got as far as a 3-2 count and the next pitch was swatted 375 feet over the right field fence.

That was it. Cleveland had it 11-8, moving to within half a game of the American League leader, Boston, which was idle.

* * *

There were only two games played in the league. The other, also a nighter, saw the New York Yankee's Whitey Ford set down Baltimore on three singles 6-0 as the Orioles, still winless, lost their sixth.

The National had a full slate. Brooklyn stayed unbeaten with a five-run sixth that beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-2 for the Dodgers' seventh victory; and Cincinnati got rid of Vic Raschi quick to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 7-4. Both were night games.

In an afternoon pair, the New York giants whipped Pittsburgh 12-3 and Milwaukee slipped past the Chicago Cubs 2-1.

Vikings Smash Chief 9's Win String at Flint

Four Hits in Second Inning Do All Damage in 2-1 Game

Flint Northern's Viking baseball club yesterday afternoon in Flint, smashed the Chiefs' string of wins with a 2-1 victory.

The loss was Pontiac High's first of the new season. It came as a result of an outburst of base-hits in the second inning.

Pontiac went scoreless up to the fifth when Don Daniel's homer over the centerfield fence averted a shutout.

Chiefs had difficulty getting runners around the bases. They left 9 stranded, while the Vikings had only two "orphans".

The Northern victory started with singles by Bill Basilus and Gary Morris, and both moved around on a throw to third from centerfield. Don Daniel barely touched Morris' hit and Bruce Campbell came through with another blow that sent both runners home. That was all of Vikings' scoring, but it was just enough to win.

Only other runners to get on for Northern were in the fifth, and sixth when a walk and a single put men on the paths where they were left stranded.

Chiefs collected six hits and Northern only four. Bob Johnston went all the way for Pontiac, while Roger Ross, Jim Moore and Bob Star did the chores for Northern.

Stephens Gets Walking Papers From Orioles

BALTIMORE (INS)—The Baltimore Orioles gave veteran 3rd baseman Vern Stephens his unconditional release last night and optioned rookie 2nd baseman Don Leppert to Charleston of the American Association on 24-hour recall.

Stevens, whose .285 average was the 2nd highest on the Orioles last season, saw little action this spring as Billy Cox was installed as the regular 3rd baseman.

Leppert, one of the nine players the Orioles acquired in their 18-man trade this winter with the New York Yankees, batted .313 with Birmingham last season and hit .367 this spring in exhibition games.

112 Gridders Report at UM

Kramer, Branoff and Hendricks Missing Due to Spring Sports

ANN ARBOR (AP) —An eager 112 hopefuls turned out for spring football practice at the University of Michigan yesterday. Drills will continue until May 14.

Missing from practice because of other spring sports were such players as Ron Kramer, Tony Branoff and Tom Hendricks.

Other changes were evident. Mike Rotunno, an end last year, was working out with the fullbacks. Charlie Brooks, another end on last season's squad, worked out with the tackles.

Loosening up with nearly 75 other sophomore players was halfback Jim Pace, from Arkansas.

"You should see him throw," freshman coach Wall Webber said. "His hands follow through with the ball like a piano player."

From the sophomores, coach Bennie Oosterbaan will have to plug some gaping backfield holes, left by departing letterman.

Skippers, Avon, Clarkston, Keego Win Baseball Games

Waterford's baseball Skippers broke a 3-game losing streak. Avondale opened its season with a victory, and Clarkston and West Bloomfield claimed Wayne-Oakland League decisions in Monday's prep baseball activity in the Oakland County area.

Waterford tripped Rochester, 8-3, behind the 5-hit hurling of southpaw Chuck Gillis, who struck out 9 and walked only 1. Leading the attack for Dave Freeman's Skipper nine were Ron Kind, with two doubles; Leroy Nicholas, with a triple and single; and Lorey Bray, with a brace of singles.

Buss DeBaene had 2 of the Falcons' five hits. Southfield of the Inter-Lakes bowed to Redford Union, 4-2, as the winners tallied 2 runs in the final inning. Dick Covers and Steve Klamik homered for Southfield.

Avondale nosed out Oxford, 4-3, with a 2-run rally in the 5th. Larry Herron and Ron Henderson each singled with the bases loaded for the deciding runs. Lyn Wright pitched 5-hit ball for the Yellowjackets, fanning 10 and walking 3.

In the W-O, Bob Yahnke and George Lang teamed up to stop Milford with a 4-hit shutout, 9-0. Yahnke worked 5 innings, whiffing 9 and walking 2. West Bloomfield halted Holly, 9-2, with Bill Nicholson tossing a 3-hitter and striking out 11.

Orland West collected 3 hits for the Keego Harbor club Clarenceville drubbed Northville, 12-1, and Brighton nipped Fenton, 1-0, on freshman Brian Watson's 4-hitter in other contests.

Valley Champs Oppose Chiefs

Arthur Hill Netters Here Today; Lauchner Wins No. 5 Spot

Biggest test of the early spring tennis schedule for PHS Chiefs is set for today at Murphy Park courts. Coach Vic Lindquist's charges will oppose the Valley champion Arthur Hill contingent.

Only one change in makeup of the PHS squad was announced today by Lindquist. As a result of a challenge match yesterday, Kurt Lauchner has moved into the No. 5 singles spot. He replaces Bob Erb who held the place in the Flint Central match.

PHS roster for today's match include: No. 1, Eddie Macadaeg; No. 2, Kent Mills; No. 3, Ted Wiersema; No. 4, Gary Thomas, and Lauchner, No. 5.

Erb and Bill Brenner No. 1 doubles; No. 2 doubles, John Harrington and Paul Kampner.

Hillites shut out Flint Central 7-0 and are favorites to repeat as Valley champions.

Chiefs face a stiff schedule next week, with matches against Lapeer on Monday, Flint Central Tuesday and Bay City Friday. All are PHS home contests.

SAM SNEAD'S GOLF SCHOOL

How do you swing a wood club? Notice the player at the left. His stance is slightly open, his grip is correct. Notice that both arms are virtually straight. And because the left hand is at the top of the shaft, the left shoulder is slightly higher than the right in the address position. The player is bent over in an approximately correct position for an upright swing. As he swings back, all-in-one-piece, his hands will pass back-around-and-up, close to his body, until his club is horizontal at the top, or just a bit more, his left shoulder will be under his chin, and both hands will be under the shaft. This good player will see to it that his right elbow is kept in close to the body and his right forearm perpendicular to the shaft, at the top of the backswing. In the second picture you will note both hips have begun to pivot on a horizontal plane. And he is keeping knees level by raising his left heel. Good!

Wheat, Beans Fall on Board

CHICAGO (UP)—Wheat and soybeans were easy in early board of trade dealings today after Monday's sharp upturn.

Traders said they considered the Far Eastern outlook a little more peaceful. Apprehension over the situation there led to buying in the previous session.

Soybeans fell more than grains, being off as much as 1½ cents at times.

Corn and oats held about steady.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ¼ lower, May $2.10⅞; corn was ¼ higher to ¼ lower, May $1.46⅜; oats were ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, May 72⅞; rye was unchanged to ¼ higher, May 99¾; soybeans were ¼ to 1¼ lower, May $2.53; and lard was 3 to 5 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $13.10.

I HAD TO EARN $200 A WEEK

So I sent $6 to The Wall Street Journal

High prices and taxes were getting me down. I had to have $200 a week or reduce my standard of living. Like Alice in Wonderland, I had to run faster to stay in the same place.

So I started reading The Wall Street Journal. I heeded its warnings. I cashed in on the ideas it gave me for earning extra income and cutting expenses. I got the money I needed. Now I'm slowly forging ahead. Believe me, reading The Journal every day is a wonderful get-ahead plan.

This experience is typical. Each day The Wall Street Journal tells you about far-reaching changes taking place in America. New inventions. New industries. New ways of doing business. New opportunities to earn money. The Journal gives you quick warning of any new trend that may affect your pocketbook. The Journal is a wonderful aid to salaried men making $7000 to $20,000 a year. It is valuable to the owner of a small business. It can be of priceless benefit to young men who want to win advancement.

The Wall Street Journal is the complete business DAILY. Has largest staff of writers on business and finance. The only business paper served by all four big press associations. It costs $20 a year, but you can get a Trial Subscription for three months for $6. Just tear out this ad and attach check for $6 and mail. Or tell us to bill you.

Published daily right in the Mid-west to bring you vital business and Washington news immediately. Address: The Wall Street Journal, 711 W. Monroe St., Chicago 6, Ill.

Ready Cancer Drive for Clarkston Area

CLARKSTON — Local cancer volunteers will conduct their annual crusade for funds next week.

Members of the Clarkston unit, which is not supported by the United Fund, will launch the five-day campaign on Monday, winding up with a tag day on streets of the community Friday.

A kickoff breakfast is scheduled Monday at 9 a.m. in the Clarkston Cafe, with Mrs. Charles Williams of Rochester, educational chairman for the North Oakland County Unit of the American Cancer Society as speaker.

Co-chairman for the appeal are Mrs. Howard Huttenlocher and Mrs. John Stageman.

Tuition to Be Charged

DRYDEN — Approval has been granted by the state Department of Public Instruction for charging non-resident students in grades 9-12 tuition for the school year ending June 20, 1956.

Profit-Taking Drops Market

NEW YORK (UP)—Profit-taking hit the stock market today in early dealings following nine straight advancing sessions.

Many recently strong individual stocks were singled out for concentrated selling.

Losses went to between 1 and 2 points in many cases, but there were gains going to around a point.

The decline was most apparent in the motors, steels, railroads, and aircrafts. The latter division started higher then turned lower.

Yesterday's market was strong with the Associated Press average of 60 stocks up $1.20 at $166.00, the highest level it ever has reached. The rise represented the ninth straight advance, and it was the fifth consecutive new record high.

For a time at the start today it appeared as though the market wanted to go higher again, but within a matter of minutes it turned lower in an irregular manner.

Among stocks going down were New York Central, Chrysler, Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone, Anaconda Copper, Amerada Petroleum, U. S. Rubber, International Harvester, Allied Chemical, Boeing, United Aircraft, General Dynamics, General Electric, International Paper, and Johns-Manville.

Gas Storage Co. Asks Approval of Bond Sale

LANSING (UP)—Michigan Gas Storage Co. asked the State Public Service Commission today to authorize the sale of $1,900,000 of first mortgage bonds.

The company, a subsidiary of Consumers Power Company, said the money would help finance a $2,550,000 expansion program for 1955.

This program includes construction of a new 16-inch gas main between Mount Pleasant and Zilwaukee, near Saginaw. The 36-mile long main will carry gas from the company's storage fields to Saginaw, Bay City, Flint and nearby communities.

The company also plans to enlarge the Freedom compressor station in Washtenaw County, increasing capacity by 60 million cubic feet per day.

About 36,500 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents in the U. S. in 1954, but the figure was almost 2,000 less than the toll for 1953.

Gas Turbine Powered Plymouth Under Tests

DETROIT—The first car ever to be powered by a gas turbine—the engine many believe will power the cars of the furture—now is being tested on city streets under actual driving conditions for the first time, Chrysler Corporation revealed today.

Chrysler said it has been test-driving a 1955 Plymouth, equipped with a gas turbine, on Detroit streets to find out what the car can do under actual driving conditions.

Chrysler said many metallurgical and manufacturing problems still remain to be solved before such an engine could be put in actual production.

But announcement that development of the engine had progressed to the point where it could be driven on city streets in regular traffic was a significant development in gas turbines.

New Safety Device

A fire extinguisher that smothers flames with a billowing "blizzard" of white powder is one of the latest safety devices installed in the heat-treat department of GMC Truck & Coach Division's Plant No. 1 on Rapid street near Saginaw.

The installation is designed to combat possible oil fires in the department's metal tempering vats by sending sodium bicarbonate and other chemicals cascading over them like a raging snowfall.

In the event of fire, sensitive heat controls automatically trigger the dry chemical extinguisher. Then compressed nitrogen gas blows the chemical powder through a series of pipes to the trouble spot.

Dodge Timed for Spring

Timed for spring is the latest addition to the Dodge line, the new Dodge Custom Royal Lancer four-door sedan.

Available in any standard color, in two-tone or three-tone combinations, the new Lancer four-door sedan is expected to open up a new segment of the automotive market—those buyers who like the dashing styling of previous Lancer hardtop models, but who want the convenience of the four-door sedan.

Says Fluorides Effective, Safe

American Dental Assn. Head Acclaims Measure as Fully Proven

DETROIT (UP) — Dr. Daniel F. Lynch, president of the American Dental Assn., said today treatment of public water supplies with fluorides to prevent tooth decay has been proven effective and safe beyond all reasonable doubt.

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Michigan State Dental Assn., Dr. Lynch said:

"Since it can be prevented, the loss of permanent teeth in children and young adults is shocking."

Dr. Lynch said that in a Democratic society it is up to each community to decide whether its water supply should be fluoridated.

At East Lansing last night the city council unanimously ordered fluoridation of the city's water supply, and in the Detroit suburb of Grosse Pointe Farms councilmen split 3-3 on the question of discontinuing fluoridation.

East Lansing councilmen estimated fluoridation could begin six to eight weeks after delivery of equipment, as yet unpurchased.

Grosse Pointe Farms voted 1,832 to 1,366 to halt fluoridation in an advisory election April 4. After last night's tie, Mayor William F. Connolly Jr. said a new vote would be taken when all seven councilmen are present.

Fulbright Eyes Stock Gambles

Says Market Reveals Beginning of Excessive Speculation

NEW YORK (UP)—Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) says he believes the nation is "experiencing the beginning of excessive speculative activity in our market."

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, says this activity of stocks has resumed after a brief respite during his committee's hearings on the stock market last month.

• • •

Fulbright discussed the rising trend in stocks last night in an address at a dinner of the Economic Club of New York.

He said it would be good if the general public, active participants in the market and government leaders "broke the hypnotic spell cast over them by the rise in stock prices and looked at the danger signs in the larger economy of which the stock market is a part."

"I am not implying," the senator said, "that I think prices are too high in the case of individual stocks or in the average market level." He added that only the free market itself "can say whether a stock price is too high as long as buyers are willing to pay for it."

Fulbright said his reference to "excessive speculative activity was limited to the way stock prices are being reached."

He said this involves the "prevalence of tipsters, flamboyant advertising keyed to expectations of quick appreciation, increases in the amount of credit, the tendency to avoid credit restraints, the tendency to resent and resist all warnings of caution, and the introduction in the market of a rash of new issues such as penny uranium stocks which are transparently speculative in character."

Plan or Accident Creates Show

Edward R. Murrow's on-the-Spot Interviews Often Pose Problems

NEW YORK (AP)—Ed Murrow's "See It Now" program evolves in a variety of ways, by plan, by accident, and sometimes by sheer nerve.

As of this morning, for example, Murrow and his co-producer, Fred Friendly, have three shows "in the bank," all filmed and ready to go. They concern book-burning, cigarets and cancer, and the story of a U.S. atomic bombing unit in Europe. These represent the planning phase, the shows which have been in the making weeks.

Murrow's memorable interview with Dr. Robert Oppenheimer was accidental. Friendly and his wife happened to be driving near Princeton, N. J., and droped in for a look at the Institute for Advance Study.

That suggested a program on the Institute, and arrangements were made. Several weeks later, Murrow came back with a camera crew. He began by interviewing Niels Bohr, the physicist. Then Murrow began talking to Oppenheimer, thinking they would get a five-minute segment for the show. Murrow got so interested he and Oppenheimer talked for almost four hours.

On another occasion, Murrow and Friendly were warned that they probably wouldn't get a picture if they attempted a "live" interview with the captain of a submarine submerged off Long Island. Ten minutes before air time, they had a picture. But during the show, the sea became rough, the picture was lost and Murrow had to rely only on the captain's voice.

Once during the presidential campaign, the program was running excerpts of speeches by Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson. Everything went fine until the picture showed Stevenson speaking and the sound carried Eisenhower's voice.

Murrow stopped the film and then ad-libbed the next 10 minutes of the show, taking the home audience on a tour of his control room.

Gleason Builds a Cafe Just for 1-Night Stand

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Suppose you'd seen a guy spend $250,000 in and on a night club last night—sober.

Suppose he'd built one of the world's prettiest cafes to put on one show? Suppose he'd hired stars Sammy Davis Jr., Hildegarde, Paul Whiteman, and Noonan and Marshall . . . They're not exactly old movies, you know.

Then after the one show, he cut off our cider and locked up. Crazy, huh?

★ ★ ★ ★

"Au contraire," like I always say. It was very sagacious, and assuredly historic. Our host, Jackie Gleason, rebuilt the interior of CBS' Color Theater into a vast "Cafe Mardi Gras"—on CBS money—to make a "TVR."

A "TVR" is a television recording . . . filmed generally to show to prospective sponsors.

Plump Jackie "has been up since last Saturday," announcer Jack Lescoulie said, rehearsing this "Cafe Mardi Gras" night club program which he hopes to produce—but not appear on—next season.

JACKIE

★ ★ ★ ★

Us "customers" included Art Carney, Harold Lloyd, Jaye P. Morgan, Vivienne Segal and William S. Paley, the CBS chairman and tab-snatcher.

Gleason even wrote—or "dictated" the show's music.

"He can't read music, so he sings what he wants," a fellow said. "When he says, 'Give me some pussycats in there' we know he wants a glissando—a rapid slur of the violin. The arranger writes in 'Pussycats' instead of 'Glissando'."

★ ★ ★ ★

June Taylor's 50 "Glamorous Glee Girls," including a niece of Joan Crawford's, danced out.

I heard Audrey Meadows say to her escort, Milton Rackmill, "Gleason's the Ziegfeld of TV."

Then commenced a fast, beautiful show Las Vegas could not afford.

Hildegarde had two accompanists—three would have been overdoing it. Tophatted stagehands had brought out the acrobatic Ashtons' props. Marshall—or was it Noonan?—said, "I'm going to emulate an operatic voice seldom heard."

"Is Mario Lanza here?" screamed the other one.

And on came Sammy Davis Jr. and the Will Mastin Trio, climaxing it.

★ ★ ★ ★

"Why's Jackie want to do a nightclub TV show?" I asked "Bullets" Durgom, his manager.

"He thinks people like night clubs but don't have the money. He wants to give 'em a big free night club TV show Saturday from 9 to 10."

"And incidentally," I said, "it'd keep them home Saturday so they could also see his 'Honeymooners' and 'Stage Show' programs from 8 to 9."

"Down, Boy!" expostulated the little man. "How'd you ever figure that out?"

★ ★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Betty Hutton and Morey Amsterdam leave May 6 for an Australian tour . . . Don Ameche has returned to "Silk Stockings" . . . Mario Lanza's cancelled all future singing dates; he'll concentrate on his movie, "Serenade."

★ ★ ★ ★

A famous crooner blew his top on 7th Av.—his wig went scooting in the wind. . . . Got any extra dough? Howard Hughes would sell Jane Russell's contract for half a mill, it's said . . . Betty Lee, of the Jack Carson TV show, stands 6 foot 4, and she's from Texas—naturally.

Draft Board Gets Thank-You Notes

OSKALOOSA, Iowa (UP)—Most draft boards seldom receive "thank you" notes from Army inductees, but the Mahaska County Board is an exception.

Since 1950 the Mahaska County Service League has prepared nearly 500 going-away packages for the draft board to give inductees or enlistees when they leave for service.

Each package contains stationery, postcards, a ballpoint pen, two candy bars, two packages of cigarettes and a bar of soap. The new soldiers usually write a note of thanks.

Hungary Sending New Minister for Vienna

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Radio Budapest said today that Lenard Szery, Hungarian minister in Vienna, has been replaced.

Western diplomats in Vienna said the change may be connected with the dismissal of Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy yesterday for alleged right-wing tendencies.

Clinton Valley Council Plans to Meet Thursday

Annual meeting of Pontiac District, Clinton Valley Boy Scout Council, will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in Washington Junior High School auditorium.

Van R. Braidwood, district executive, aid officers for the coming year would be elected. A brief progress report and a film also are scheduled.

John A. Riley, Pontiac Press advertising executive, currently is serving as president.

All Aboard for Spuds

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UP) — Southbound passengers on the Florida East Coast Railway can travel from Spuds to Dinner Island by way of Potatoville. If it doesn't agree with them they can get on the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad and go from Doctors Inlet all the way to Doctor Phillips.

Sees Gas Rule Pinching North

Oil Company Attorney Says Southern Users Will Get Most Fuel

DETROIT (AP) — Members of the Michigan Petroleum Assn. were told today that if the U. S. Supreme Court's decision in the Phillips case is alowed to stand,

In that case the high court held by a 5-3 majority that the Federal Power Commission has jurisdiction over well-head prices paid for natural gas delivered to pipelines for interstate commerce.

Samuel B. Pettingill, former Indiana congressman and now an attorney for the Pure Oil Co., said "this great natural resource (gas) is in jeopardy at least so far as Northern con-

"If the decision stands," Pettengill said, "the inevitable trend will be to divert gas from the interstate markets to those located in the states where the gas is produced, chiefly in the Southwest."

He added:

"A chemical plant in Texas and an aluminum plant in Louisiana already consume half again as much gas as all household users in Detroit, Milwaukee and Kansas City combined."

Pettingill said the Phillips decision in effect made the business of producing gas a public utility.

"It is a return in times of peace, not war, to the philosophy of government price fixing," he asserted.

About 400 oil men are attending the association's spring convention.

TV MOTHER-OF-THE-YEAR—Singer Rosemary Clooney poses with her small son, Miguel, in their Hollywood home after being chosen Television Mother-of-the-Year by the Florists' Telegraph Delivery Assn. for Mother's Day, 1955. The dark-eyed baby was born in February to Miss Clooney and her husband, actor-director Jose Ferrer.
