Area to Sizzle Until Thursday

TODAY'S TEMPERATURES

4 a.m.	74	10 a.m.	90
6 a.m.	73	Noon	94
8 a.m.	82	2 p.m.	95

Yes, it IS a hot day.

And that's the forecast for tomorrow, too—hot and humid.

Pontiac area residents will sizzle in the sun until the arrival of thundershowers expected late in the afternoon or early evening on both days.

Scattered thundershowers promise little relief from the heat as temperatures will remain in the 90's.

With the exception of Saturday when the high was 89 this is the fifth consecutive day for 90-degree temperatures.

A year ago, residents also suffered in a 90-degree heat wave during the last week of June. Temperatures registered 95 on June 30.

Yesterday's high of 97 climbed to an all-time high for the day. In 1933 the mercury registered 96.

Here's good news. The weatherman reports Thursday will be fair and a little cooler.

Today's winds will continue southwesterly at 10 to 20 miles per hour.

$250 Million Set to Develop Scripps Estate

Planned Community
Would House 35,000
in Orion Township

Plans for a $250-million community on the Orion Township estate of the late William E. Scripps were announced today.

The master-planned development would provide housing for 35,000 persons on the 3,200-acre grounds formerly owned by the newspaper magnate and his family.

Howard T. Keating, president of Keating of Michigan, Inc., said his firm acquired the land through purchase of all of the outstanding stock of Village Acres, Inc., owned by the R. Howard Webster interests in Montreal.

The Webster interests bought the land 10 years ago and for some time had been looking for a developer to make use of the rolling fields and woodland for recreational and business purposes.

Formerly known as Wildwood Farms, the huge parcel lies 1 1/2 miles north of the I-75 Freeway and about equal distance west of M24.

Keating said the tract is the largest single plot of land available for development within commuting distance from both Detroit and Flint.

LARGEST IN MIDWEST
He said it would be the largest single undertaking of its kind in the Midwest.

Suburban living facilities for families, apartment dwellers and retirees in a setting that provides more than 500 acres of lakes, an 18-hole golf course and miles of slopes for winter sports are included in the master plan.

Donald Gaake is the land planner for Keating, as the community will be named.

10-YEAR PERIOD

The scope of the development is so great, according to Donald Condon, vice president and general manager of the Keating organization, that the work will be spaced over a 10-year period. A plot for the initial area shows 147 90-foot lots for single family homes. They will be located at Baldwin and Walden roads, in the southwest section of the land.

Condon said the homes will be priced at about $20,000, and that models are expected to be ready by early fall.

One of the contributing factors leading to acquisition of the property, Keating officials said, was that last year they received that no jet airport would be located in the township.

JUANITA

With tears in her eyes and her voice breaking, the 41-year-old woman read a six-page denunciation of the Cuban regime headed by her brothers Fidel and Raul.

Miss Castro, one of seven Castro brothers and sisters, refused to say how she came to Mexico from Cuba.

Her sister Emma has lived in Mexico City since her marriage three years ago to a Mexican engineer.

Miss Castro said she had supported her brother's revolution against dictator Fulgencio Batista by collecting money, arms and medicine in Cuba and abroad.

After his victory she dedicated herself to building schools and hospitals, she said, but she soon realized Castro had abandoned the ideals of his revolution and "we were being deceived."

She said there are now 75,000 political prisoners in Cuba and the island is "an enormous prison surrounded by water."

Deteriorating conditions in the last few months finally forced her to flee, she said.

More Sailors Enter Search in Mississippi

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP) — The Navy sent more sailors—400 now—into the broadening search today for three civil rights workers who vanished in this red-clay hill country nine days ago.

The sailors and a dozen officers were dispatched into this east-central Mississippi area from the naval auxiliary air station north of Meridian.

The order to send more sailors came from the White House.

The White House announced Monday that the search was being expanded and intensified.

Searchers today spilled over into Newton County, which adjoins Neshoba County on the west.

MADE IT CLEAR

The Mississippi Highway Patrol also made it clear it was here to stay until authorities find out what happened to the missing trio.

Rita Schwerner, 22, wife of Michael Schwerner of Brooklyn, one of the missing men, asked the President Monday to send 5,000 men to Mississippi to join the search.

Explosion, Fire Sink Oil Rig

Pilotless Jet Brings Death to 2 Children

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP)—A silent and pilotless jet fighter slashed into a sleeping neighborhood early today, brushing half a dozen homes and a dozen cars before exploding into a house at the end of the street, killing two children.

Todd Gifford, 10, and his sister, Pamela, 8, perished when they were trapped in their one-story ranch house and burned to death.

Capt. D. F. Sullivan, pilot of the Massachusetts Air National Guard Sabre Jet, said the plane exploded as he returned from a proficiency flight to Maine.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Gifford, escaped practically unhurt.

Sullivan said he was at about 2,500 feet and ejected himself because, "I knew I was headed away from Haverhill."

Sullivan parachuted into a tree, cut himself from a wire, and walked to the Merrimack River.

He said he inflated a life raft and was in the river using his radio when he was rescued by a Coast Guard helicopter.

STARTS FIRE

The crash started a three-alarm fire that damaged several other homes.

The plane came down about 100 yards down Lackey Street, ripping up chunks of pavement, tearing down utility wires, bouncing into cars and brushing other homes before the fuselage buried itself in the Gifford house.

Police Chief James J. Shanahan of Groveland, just across the river from Haverhill, was standing with a friend, Earl Sweetser, and saw the fighter plane "nosling down and apparently headed for a shopping plaza."

HALTED BY FLAMES

Sweetser, the first person to reach the Gifford house, said he managed to get about 15 feet inside the front door, but was halted by flames.

"Mrs. Gifford ran by me," he said. "She was hysterical. Then, Gifford appeared. He was crying. 'Get my children. Get my children.'"

Flier Prayed Before Crash

Hoped Jet Would Hit in Uninhabited Area

BEDFORD, Mass. (UP)—"I prayed that my children would get a good father. I prayed that the area was uninhabited."

Thus spoke Capt. Dalbert F. Sullivan as he told of ejecting himself from his plane which crashed into three homes in Haverhill, Mass., killing two sleeping children.

Sullivan sat stunned in the dispensary examining room at Hanscom Field here. The words came hard. His wife sat at his side.

Sullivan, father of five children, apparently thought he was not going to survive the crash. That's why he prayed for his children—that they would have another good father if he died.

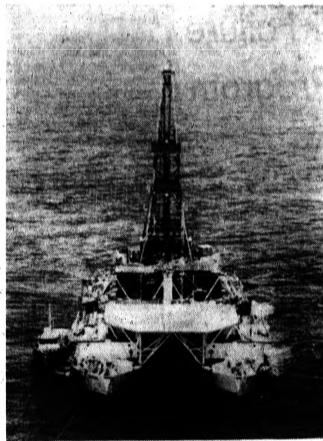

Sullivan was on a night proficiency flight out of Hanscom. He headed north up the coast to Maine. At Kittery, Maine, he turned inland for eight to 10 miles and then headed south.

THE STORY

He said: "I was running some routine tests on the air compressor starter system and the air brakes. Then I heard an unusual noise. I eased back on the power and checked the instruments. Everything showed normal. There's no telling when you hear a strange noise for a brief second."

"It could be the air rushing by the canopy at 400 knots or your helmet might have turned a little. I eased back up to full power again. It exploded. Then a flash of yellow light. I looked at the gauges. All quiet. No engine. I tried the procedure for restarting the engine. Nothing worked."

"I turned toward a black area to the right. No lights. It looked like tree tops and such. I knew I was headed away from Haverhill. My airspeed was down to 180 knots. Altitude about 2,500 (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Scranton, Goldwater Talk to Key Illinois Delegates

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, scrambling to prevent a first-ballot nomination of Republican presidential contender, Sen. Barry Goldwater, vies for votes with the Arizona senator today.

The two will make separate one-hour request appearances before the key Illinois Republican delegation to the July 13 San Francisco convention.

Also to appear is Harold Stassen, another candidate for the presidential nomination.

The latest Associated Press poll of delegates lists 693 tentatively committed to Goldwater and 138 for Scranton.

Thirty-nine of the 58 Illinois delegates are pledged to Goldwater. 1 to former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and 18 uncommitted.

DEBATE URGED

Scranton, while on a delegate seeking drive in the South yesterday, challenged Goldwater to a face-to-face debate before the Illinois delegation.

The challenge was ridiculed by Goldwater, who said, "Why should I stand in front of a delegation that I already have and argue with another Republican?"

For Scranton, the meeting today will put his appeal to Republican delegates squarely on the line.

Illinois GOP Central Chairman Victor Smith, who is also cochairman of the delegation, told The Associated Press he expects the delegates to vote their preference after the meeting.

VOTE PROPOSED

"It might be a good idea to get the delegation more or less on record and end all the speculation," Smith said.

Smith said he did not expect Scranton to fare well in his quest for more delegates.

"I would say Goldwater's position is real fine," he said.

Also in Chicago was a delegation of civil rights demonstrators from Scranton's home state.

PICKETING DUE

They said they would picket the governor because he sent state troopers to a school segregation demonstration in Chester, Pa.

Demonstrators were allegedly manhandled by the state police.

25 Crewmen Escape Death Off Louisiana

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)

—An explosion and fire roared through a floating oil rig in predawn darkness today, plunging the multimillion-dollar apparatus into the depths of the Gulf of Mexico. At least four persons were killed.

At least 13 were missing.

Twenty-five survivors were brought to Lakewood Hospital. A hospital spokesman said all were in satisfactory condition.

The dead were not immediately identified.

180-FOOT DEPTH

The rig sank in 120 feet of water, about 15 minutes after the explosion and wind-whipped flames blanketed the vessel.

Some of the first survivors to arrive at Lakewood Hospital here were unconscious. Others were able to walk away from the rescue helicopters.

At least 42 men were aboard the twin-hulled rig, which was operating 78 miles southwest of Morgan City in the area known as Block 273 of Eugene Island. RIG OWNERS

The 280-foot-long rig — actually a drilling ship — is owned by Reading & Bates of Morgan City. It had moved to the explosion site only yesterday.

Half the men on the rig, the C. P. Baker, were asleep when the explosion occurred about 3:30 a.m.

The first survivors to reach here said the on-duty crew built a shallow high pressure pocket of gas while drilling in the Gulf of Mexico at 640 feet. The gas began seeping up into the rig.

"The floor began to buckle and we knew it was time to get off," said one survivor.

SOME LEAVE

Some had gotten on the Della Service, a workboat alongside when sparks on the rig touched off the explosion.

Those on board were trapped momentarily by flames. Wind whipped the flames away from one side of the rig and some of the men were able to jump into the water.

"It stood up on its end and down she went," said another survivor, describing how the drilling rig sank in more than 100 feet of water.

Claim Is Aired by Radio Hanoi

Two-Thirds of S. Viet Nam Under Reds?

SAIGON, Viet Nam (UPI) — Communist Viet Cong rebels in South Viet Nam have "complete control" of two-thirds of the territory, and half the 14 million people, according to a claim by Communist North Viet Nam.

Radio Hanoi said the Viet Cong can now inflict "heavy losses at any time and any place."

The Communists made this claim yesterday as it to mark the changing of the guard at the American Embassy, where retired Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's newly vacated post is being filled by Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor and diplomatic troubleshooter U. Alexis Johnson.

As it to punctuate their claim, a home-made bomb exploded harmlessly last night within the wall of the Philippine Embassy in Saigon.

Saigon police said they had arrested 17 terrorists, who were held responsible for planting a bomb at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut Airport which narrowly missed

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist guerrillas shot down a U.S. Army helicopter in South Viet Nam's northern mountains today killing an American pilot and his U.S. gunner.

The new U.S. military commander last Friday.

BOMB BLAST
Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland had left a plane memorial service for two dead American pilots minutes before a bomb blew a hole in the wall of an adjacent airport building.

Several Americans were killed with roof tiles. Two of them were hurt slightly.

In the countryside, the tempo of battle has stepped up. The Communists are attacking government outposts within a dozen miles of the capital.

Radio Hanoi said, "there is now neither rear nor front line for the enemy, which may be attacked by surprise and inflicted with heavy losses at any time and place in South Viet Nam."

CITES ATTACKS
It cited not only field operations but bomb attacks in the cities and the sinking of the U.S. aircraft transport "card" in Saigon Harbor.

"At present," Radio Hanoi said, "the (South Viet Nam liberation) Front has secured complete control over two-thirds of the territory with a population of over seven million out of South Viet Nam's 14 million inhabitants."

'Let Viet Nam Run the War'
WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Cabot Lodge said today for the United States to take over active command of the war in Viet Nam would be a return to colonialism.

Lodge, who resigned as ambassador to campaign for Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton for the GOP presidential nomination, thus took a stand against a proposal made by a House Republican task force.

The task force group, which includes Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., chairman of the Republican Convention Platform Committee, proposed Americans take over command of the forces in South Viet Nam instead of acting merely as advisers.

"If we do that," Lodge told reporters, "we become a colonial power. I think it is pretty well established that colonialism is over."

It would bring unfortunate results in the form of anti-American feeling, a tendency to let the Americans do it.

BRAVE SOLDIERS
"This (Viet Nam) is a little country but it has brave soldiers and a competent command."

Lodge talked with newsmen after a closed session with the combined Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees.

He said he had reported to the senators that there are "subsurface hopeful signs" that the war in Viet Nam is likely to go better.

He said the situation remains dangerous but he is hopeful of ultimate victory.

CREST OF DRIVE
Asked about the political situation into which he is plunging in an effort to help Scranton keep Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., from winning the GOP nomination, Lodge said he thinks the Pennsylvania governor is "on the crest" of his drive and "big things are ahead."

He said he expects to meet later with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower but has no appointment set up with him.

Lodge said he hopes he can convince Eisenhower he should come out for Scranton.

Lodge said he had a long telephone talk with Scranton last night.

Name Head of College Trustees County Crops Seem Good Despite Sporadic Rainfall

A Birmingham attorney, George Mosher, will head the six-member board of trustees for the proposed Oakland County community college.

Mosher was elected president by the board at its organizational meeting yesterday.

Mrs. Lila Johnson was elected secretary, while Vernon M. Fitch was elected treasurer.

The board commended the Community College Citizens Committee for its efforts in behalf of the college. Voters approved the two-year college June 8 and elected the board of trustees.

The college trustees were urged not to forget about those youngsters in the bottom half of the class.

REMEMBER AMBITION
"Remember the bunch at the end of the list who still have ambition," urged Fred Leonard, retiring county school board president.

Elected to the college board were the three officers and Earl M. Anderson, Frederick A. Chapman and Clifford H. Smart.

JUDGE T. C. QUINN

Caro Jurist Eyes Court of Appeals

Circuit Court Judge for Lapeer and Tuscola counties, Timothy C. Quinn, has announced his candidacy for the 2nd District of the new Court of Appeals.

Quinn, 55, a Caro resident, has been circuit judge since 1953. Before that he was Republican prosecuting attorney of Tuscola County. He is a University of Michigan graduate.

Quinn says he has held court as a visiting judge in most of the 16 southeast Michigan counties (including Oakland) which make up the appellate court's 2nd District.

He is among four other announced candidates seeking one of three district court seats.

Oakland county crops are in fair to good condition despite sporadic rainfall throughout most of the growing season.

Jay Poffenberger, county agricultural agent, Cooperative Extension Service, said some areas of the county are dry, but the crops as yet have suffered no drought damage.

Poffenberger said the northern part of the county has had the least rainfall this spring and summer, and has reached the point where a continued dry spell could cause damage, especially to corn.

Most farmers in the county have had one good cutting of alfalfa, Poffenberger said.

The second cutting should be ready by mid-July if the county is favored with some rainfall, the agent reports.

WHEAT, OATS
Wheat and oats are looking good, Poffenberger said, and are starting to ripen in some of the drier areas.

Harvest of the cereal grains should be well under way in about three weeks.

Lyon Township farmers are keeping a wary eye on their wheat and oats after the township was quarantined by the Michigan Department of Agriculture June 22 because of presence of cereal leaf beetles.

Under quarantine conditions, farmers are restricted in their movements of grain, forage crops and some farm machinery.

AREA AFFECTED
The cereal leaf beetle, which in sufficient numbers can ravage small grain crops, has spread throughout most of the southern half of Lower Michigan.

More than 30 entire counties including Livingston, Genesee and parts of Washtenaw have been quarantined because of the fly infestation.

Michigan and U.S. Department of Agriculture field men are keeping a constant lookout for the bug in areas where it has not yet been detected.

Poffenberger said the chances are good that the insect will spread throughout the rest of Oakland county this year.

The cereal grain crops are far enough advanced in growth

"The plane had taken a 90-degree turn after I jumped out. 'All you can do then is pray. I can't do the parachute, climbed down and set out forward, a light.'

Officials Act to Curb Smoking by Teen-Agers

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission last night adopted a new ordinance designed to reduce teen-age smoking.

The ordinance, however, is not directed toward teen-agers, but at cigarette vending machine operators.

The new code provides for the licensing of each machine at a cost of $5 and the seizure by the police department of any machine found to be used by any person under 21 years of age.

Action on the ordinance was delayed four months ago by the commission to allow vendors an opportunity to submit alternate proposals that would provide more control over cigarette sales to minors.

Two weeks ago, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley told the commission the "sales to minors through machines continues to be a serious problem."

COMMISSION ACTS
The commission then requested that the ordinance be resubmitted.

Last night, Paul Gold of the Michigan Cigarette Vending Co. in Detroit, chairman of the vendor's committee, presented a list of locations where machines had been relocated or removed.

He said that 10 or 12 per cent of the machines in the city had been removed from locations where there was no supervision.

"The ordinance will not have any effect on individual families that allow their teen-agers to smoke," Gold told the commission.

CITY WILL EYE Resolution for Road Name

A resolution to name the perimeter road heads the agenda tonight for the City Commission.

Pontiac commissioners are slated to pass on a name for the roadway created through urban renewal redevelopment.

Other business will include appointment of a new Housing Commission member and two members to the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Acting City Manager John F. Reinick will offer recommendations for both boards.

In still other business, Reinick will recommend that the bus contract with Pontiac Transit Corp. be extended through July 31.

AGREED TO CONTINUE
The agreement expires at midnight tonight. However, the bus firm has agreed to continue operations until the question of bus transportation is settled.

The county's senior judge in years of service, he was a Probate Court judge from 1938 to 1963, when he was appointed to the Circuit Court by Gov. George Romney.

He became executive judge this spring, heading administrative affairs over the seven circuit courts.

Judge Moore is one of the founders and is presently board chairman for Camp Oakland, Inc., a director of Michigan Children's Aid Society and Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic.

He is a past president of the Juvenile Court Judges' Association, and was the first president of both Pontiac Boy's Club and Royal Oak Kiwanis.

COURT SERVICES
A longtime proponent of auxiliary court services, he is leading requests for a court marriage conciliation service, and is a backer for an enlarged probation program.

He sponsored the recent Probate Court proposals for a children's diagnostic building which is now under construction.

"The duty of the circuit judge is to administer justice on an entirely impartial basis but with deep interest in the social services which should aid justice in relation to the people involved," stated Judge Moore.

Now 63, Judge Moore lives at 1407 Vinetta, Royal Oak.

3-YEAR TERM
He is seeking a two-year term, which would make him eligible to run for a longer period in 1966 when court terms will be revised.

smoke," Gold told the commission.

NO SOLUTION
"The commission is not going to solve this problem," he said.

Gold said the ordinance was "discriminating" against vendors.

Although voting in favor of the ordinance, Commissioner Robert Page said he questioned "the advisability of burning vendors with license fees when there already is a state law (prohibiting minors from smoking) but isn't followed."

Commissioner Carl Ingraham said the difference lies in the fact that the new ordinance would put the responsibility on the person who sold the cigarettes.

POLICE VIEW
Several police officers in the audience, when asked by the commission, said they felt that the local ordinance would give police better controls and would be easier to enforce.

City Promotes Fire Fighters
New Ranks Effective Tomorrow for Eleven

Eleven promotions in the Pontiac Fire Department were announced today by Chief James White.

The promotions become effective tomorrow, with the beginning of the 56-hour workweek for firemen.

Promoted to captains from lieutenants are Kenneth Egert, 41, of 1280 Bramble; and Raymond Wilson, 46, of 1121 Voorhees. They have been with the department 18 and 16 years, respectively.

Two cousins were promoted to lieutenants. They are engineer Richard A. Mielke, 34, of 558 Raskob; and fire fighter Gerald W. Mielke, 34, of 4081 Quillen, Waterford Township. Richard joined the department 11 years ago today. Gerald has been a fireman more than 12 years.

The following fire fighters have been promoted to engineers:

PROMOTIONS LISTED
James Finch, 39, of 650 W. Walton; Ray Underwood, 32, of 61 E. Newport; Allan Stone, 31, of 7195 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township; Raymond G. White, 41, of 2865 Semblon, Orion Township; Mervin Bell, 33, of 3950 Queensbury, Orion Township; Robert Gaylord, 38, of 9550 Mandon, White Lake Township; and Albert Roth, 34, of 1960 Paris, Commerce Township.

Rocket Shot Failure May Stall Program

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Premature shut-down of the second-stage engine prevented a high energy Atlas-Centaur space rocket from hurling its second stage into orbit today.

The failure could further delay development of Atlas-Centaur — problem child of U.S. rocketry.

The rocket is being developed to launch unmanned project surveyor spacecraft to the moon next year to take measurements and to scout possible astronaut landing areas. The failure was the second in three test launchings for the vehicle.

CLAIM SUCCESS
But the National Aeronautics and Space Administration claimed some measure of success for today's mission, when two major objectives were achieved.

These were ejection of second-stage insulation panels and the restart of the Centaur-Space engine boost pump.

The 112-foot tall Atlas-Centaur blasted away from Cape Kennedy at 9:04 a.m. and performed flawlessly during the first-stage Atlas flight.

The second stage ignited on schedule. It was to have burned for 6 minutes 17 seconds but radio data showed a shut-down after about 4 minutes. This prevented the 8,200-pound stage from reaching intended orbital speed of 16,000 miles an hour.

Tracking instruments indicated the Centaur stage plunged into the Atlantic Ocean several hundred miles west of the Cape Verde Islands, which are off the West African coast.

The second-stage insulation panels, which had contributed to most of the program's delay, worked today as planned, for the first time.

Another goal was achieved when the boost pumps of the second-stage engines were re-started for 50 seconds after the Centaur stage had burned out. They were restarted by a timing device aboard the rockets.

There was no immediate indication what caused the early shut-down.

Because of the nature of the flights, no scientific payload was aboard the 8,200-pound package. The trial had been postponed four times because of various technical troubles.

FLIGHT PLAN
The flight plan was similar to the second Atlas-Centaur flight, which was successfully executed last Nov. 27. The first rocket in the series exploded May 8, 1962.

The Atlas-Centaur program is more than a year behind schedule. Further delay would seriously hamper U.S. plans to gather data about moon conditions in advance of manned lunar landings scheduled late in this decade.

Separating the insulation panels has been a major problem in the rocket's development. The panels are designed to help maintain temperature of the liquid hydrogen at 423 degrees below zero. Otherwise the fuel would vaporize.

FBI Enters Diary Leak Probe

Floor leaders in the House of Representatives are chosen in party caucuses. Prior to 1910 most of them were appointed by the Speaker.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Disturbed by publication of a major item of evidence in its investigation of President John F. Kennedy's assassination, the Warren Commission has asked a full FBI investigation of how parts of Lee Harvey Oswald's diary got into print.

It wants to find out how the diary of the sharpshooter accused of assassinating Kennedy in Dallas last November "was obtained and whom it was obtained from" before it was quoted over the weekend in copyright stories in the Dallas Morning News.

The probe was announced Monday night by J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel of the presidential commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren. Rankin hinted strongly that the commission suspects the journal of Oswald's two years in the Soviet Union got into print through the Dallas Police Department.

Rankin also told reporters that the commission's report—which the investigators had hoped to have ready for President Johnson by today—would not be issued until after July 18 at the earliest.

NEWS STATEMENT

Following Rankin's announcement of the probe, Jack B. Kreuger, managing editor of the Dallas Morning News, said:

"The Warren Commission has every right to make this request of the FBI. The FBI has a right to ask us what it will, under the proper conditions."

"There are other rights involved. The American people have a right to know, particularly any facet of an assassination of a president of the United States. The American press, large and small, has an obligation to tell them. This obligation and right is enunciated in the First Amendment to the Constitution."

"The Dallas News is going to report every piece of important piece of news to its readers to the limit of its ability."

CONTAINS QUOTES

The stories in the News contained quotations from the Oswald diary which expressed the wrath of the Marxist ex-Marine at having been denied Soviet citizenship. Rankin said the commission was seriously concerned over the breach of secrecy on materials under its control, partly because of fear that a piecemeal disclosure of the evidence might be misleading to the public.

The glass container industry in the U.S. employs more than 80,000 workers in 109 plants with a payroll of $400 million annually.

Typhoon Paralyzes Manila; 7 Drown, Scores Hurt

MANILA, Philippines (AP)—Typhoon Winnie paralyzed this city of two million people today. At least seven persons were reported drowned. Scores more were injured.

The storm's winds of up to 95 miles an hour tore through populous central Luzon Island before dawn, demolished thousands of shanty homes and left Manila without power, light, newspapers and public transportation.

Unofficial reports said seven persons drowned in swirling flood waters in the Manila area. The communications blackout delayed word of casualties and damage in the provinces.

Rains continued but winds had subsided by late Tuesday morning as Winnie moved over the South China Sea toward the China mainland.

DAMAGE REPORTED

The Weather Bureau said the eye of the storm passed directly over Manila. The winds tore off roofing, knocked down stone and brick walls and uprooted huge trees.

Hundreds of cars and buses were stalled in flooded streets. Thousands of residents were stranded. Many areas were short of water because pumps could not operate.

Telephone poles were knocked down and news services blacked out. Radio stations were silenced when their transmitting towers were blown down.

Fifteen small yachts were reported sunk in the Manila Yacht Club's harbor. Three oceangoing ships were driven perilously close to famed Dewey Boulevard.

NO FLIGHTS

Several Philippine air force planes were reported damaged at Manila International Airport.

The airport's control tower was unusable, grounding all international and domestic flights. The typhoon passed 35 miles

The breakdown in communications hampered rescue operations as the Red Cross and other organizations prepared to send relief teams to stricken areas.

Integration Resolution Clears First Hurdle at Educator Confab

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A resolution which says in effect "integrate now" to the all-white teacher associations in 11 Southern states has cleared its first hurdle at the convention of the National Education Association. The paper-thin margin of victory, however, makes ultimate defeat virtually certain.

The resolution, which gave the Southern affiliates a deadline of July 1, 1966, to get integration well under way or face expulsion from NEA, was adopted by the NEA's Department of Classroom Teachers, 1,004 to 965.

"With a vote that close, we don't stand a chance when it comes before the full NEA later this week," said one backer of the resolution, who requested anonymity. "But we'll keep trying."

Pat L. Tormillo of Miami, Fla., another backer, said he was pleased with the final vote, "but the battle is far from won. No doubt, pressure will be brought on delegates to change their votes in the NEA Representative Assembly."

AGAINST MEASURE
The NEA leadership is against any "integrate or get out" measure for fear pressures in the South would force many of the state associations to leave the NEA. It favors desegregation of state and local affiliates but wants the job done gradually.

Tormillo said he was particularly disappointed at the vote of many Northern and central states.

Indiana voted with the South and against the resolution, 50-7. Missouri 32-10, Nebraska 23-10, New York 29-15, Wisconsin 16-0, and South Dakota 13-0.

The three West Coast states of California, Oregon and Washington, plus Michigan, Pennsylvania, and Ohio tipped the scales for the narrow victory.

OTHER MEMBERS
The Department of Classroom

Teachers has 820,000 members, 92 per cent of the NEA total membership.

Opponents of the resolution said nothing could be gained by setting a deadline and forcing the segregated affiliates to meet it.

Peter Goudis of the Nassau Suffolk Classroom Teachers Association, Long Island, New York, noted that the resolution did not demand full integration within the two years.

He said only that racial restrictions must have been removed and the process of integration must have begun by that time, Goudis said.

The resolution was proposed by 23 delegates from nine states. The 11 states with segregated state and local associations are Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, and Virginia.

Freedom Bells to Toll Throughout Nation

At 1 p.m. on July 4, 100 area church bells will peal for four minutes in solemn commemoration of the spiritual and physical independence Americans proclaimed 188 years ago. The Bells of Freedom heard locally will be swelled by countless others throughout the State and Nation.

This marks the second year that such observance will be made. It was born a year ago in the minds of two Connecticut men who were concerned that Independence Day had evolved more into a summer holiday than a patriotic festival.

Although every state has an organized group responsible for airing the ringing message, Michigan alone has entrusted it to her youth.

In establishing the brief ceremony last year, Gov. GEORGE W. ROMNEY wisely called on the H-Y organization of the YMCA to implement it. He rightly saw the H-Y Clubs as part of a tangible project by which good citizenship and guiding principles for right living could be disseminated.

The 1964 Bells for Freedom will ring out under the statewide direction of Jan Appel, YMCA Youth Governor of Michigan. A graduate of Waterford High School, he will also act as Greater Pontiac local chairman.

The PRESS renders a reverent salute to the ideal to be symbolized by the voice of the bells, and hopes that it will be thoughtfully heard by every American.

Automobile Excise Tax No Longer Applicable

As everyone knows, taxes once imposed stick like the traditional mustard plaster.

Annually, a bundle of "temporary" excise, or luxury, taxes levied during the Korean War came before Congress for action on the expiration-repeal condition embodied in their imposition.

And, annually, the administration agrees that the excises should be abolished — but not this year. President Johnson has just re-enacted the tattered script.

We think that of the hundreds of excise taxes renewed from year to year, the 10 per cent tax on automobiles should be the first to feel the legislative ax. They have long since emerged from the "luxury" class and become prime necessities for a vast number of Americans.

Republican Congressman CHARLES E. CHAMBERLAIN of Michigan thinks so, too. Yearly, he has fought for reform of the entire excise tax structure, with specific priority on abolition of the tax on passenger cars. The ears of his colleagues that have been turned to him have largely been deaf ones.

The automobile industry is now the bellwether of the U. S. economy. It wouldn't take an economist to figure out the galvanizing effect that the diversion of from $250-to-$500 tax saving per car on the current 7-million unit annual production would have on the Nation's business climate.

In addition, the de facto reduction in new car prices would have comparable effect on the used car market. This would likely be reflected in elimination of a substantial number of the 33 million cars six years old and over now on the road, a great many of which have become highway hazards.

This, say safety experts, would be a tremendous factor in reducing highway casualties, since it is this age-bracket of automobiles that are disproportionately involved in accidents.

We trust that the doughty Congressman will not let his annual rebuffs cool his ardor. We badly need his reformatory voice crying out for tax equality and hope that in due time it will become a chorus.

Confused GOP to Need Accord

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans are reaching the point where they will have to find some agreement among themselves — on a party platform — but until then they will continue rubbing a sandpaper on their wounds.

Next week the 100-man resolutions committee meets in San Francisco to hold hearings on what form the platform should take when the Republican presidential convention opens there July 13.

It has been a confusing Republican year. Henry Cabot Lodge, U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam won the New Hampshire presidential primary although he was far off in Southeast Asia and said he was not a candidate.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had campaigned hard in that unpredictable New England state.

Then Rockefeller, by the polls, wasn't supposed to win in Oregon but he did. While the polls said Rockefeller would win in California, it was Goldwater who won when the Republican governors met in Cleveland in early June and some talked of stopping Goldwater, none stuck his neck out.

SUDDEN MOVE
Then, Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton suddenly died. He announced he would be a candidate for the Republican nomination. He has been scouting around the country ever since, trying to make inroads on Goldwater.

Then last week Lodge resigned as ambassador, announced his sole reason for doing so was to come home to help Scranton stop Goldwater, and in the process got into a disagreement with other Republicans, including Scranton.

Lodge, who had been ambassador in Southeast Asia under the Democratic administrations of Presidents Kennedy and Johnson, said the war against communism there is on the right track and should not be a political issue this year.

But Goldwater, who has been criticizing the Democrats' Southeast Asia policy for months, said it most definitely is an issue. And Sunday so did Rep. William E. Miller, chairman of the Republican National Committee.

SCRANTON DISAGREES
Even Scranton disagreed with Lodge. He said "as far as I am concerned, it is an issue."

Where this is leading is hard to say. Since Goldwater is a conservative and some of the other top Republican leaders are not — men like Scranton, Lodge, Rockefeller and Michigan's Gov. George Romney — they want a voice in the direction the party takes, even if the convention nominates Goldwater.

Lodge, Romney and Rockefeller are going to appear before the committee in San Francisco to say what they think the platform should contain. Goldwater has said he would like the platform to be merely a statement of principles rather than a list of specifics.

But if he gets the nomination, and at this moment his chances look unexcelled, he will need broad Republican support, not only from party leaders who now disagree with him but from rank-and-file Republicans, too.

Agonizing Self-Reappraisal

David Lawrence Asks:

Are Fund-Raisers Violations?

WASHINGTON — These are days when pious pleas are being uttered by President Johnson urging that the laws of the United States be obeyed by the people. But are there any violations of law to which government officials close their eyes?

Within the LAWRENCE last few days, the news dispatches from Minneapolis and Detroit have told about how hundreds of thousands of dollars of campaign contributions were collected by the Democratic party through the device of selling tickets to a presidential dinner or reception.

The Federal Corrupt Practices Act makes it a crime for any corporation or labor union to contribute to political campaigns. A UPI dispatch from Minneapolis on June 27 said:

"Minnesota Democrats brought in about $375,000 in two fund-raising events held tonight in conjunction with President's Johnson's visit to the twin cities."

"U.S. Dist. Atty. Miles Lord said an estimated 2,450 persons paid $100 each at the party's fund-raising dinner at which the President spoke."

"Other party officials said about 130 people paid $1,000 to attend an exclusive, ticket-only, half-hour reception at which the President shook hands with the faithful party donors."

News dispatches from Detroit also reported that about 75 individuals paid $1,000 each for the privilege of attending a reception there for President Johnson, and that 2,000 persons were present at a later dinner, the tickets for which cost $100 each.

A newspaper dispatch stating that one of the large automobile corporations bought 20 tickets to the Detroit dinner may have been in error, and it could have been that the corporation executives contributed their own money to purchase these tickets.

But the dispatch reported that the politicians in charge of the dinner actually announced the number of invitations allegedly bought by the automobile company itself.

INTO DEM FUND
In the case of the Minneapolis and Detroit receptions and dinners, as well as those already held in several other cities, the money goes into the Democratic party fund.

In recent years, whether under Republican or Democratic administration, the Federal Corrupt Practices Act has not been enforced rigidly against either corporations or labor unions or employees of the government who solicit campaign contributions.

It would be no violation of the law for union officials or corporation executives in Detroit or Minneapolis to have contributed in the last few days to presidential receptions or dinners, provided the money was their own.

If, however, it was part of any expense account paid for by a corporation or a labor union, the whole transaction would be subject to the Federal Corrupt Practices Act.

LAW OF THE LAND

"The law of the land" requires that in no way may contributions by corporations or labor unions be made, either directly or indirectly, to any national political campaign.

The American people are always interested in knowing whether the laws are being strictly enforced and whether the newspaper accounts which seemingly point to violations are actually correct.

It is doubtful whether any committee of Congress will have the temerity to make an investigation of these matters, because both political parties engage in virtually the same practices.

Capital Letter:

3 Dynasties Represented in '64 Senatorial Races

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Three tall, handsome scions of America's most famous political dynasties are running for the U. S. Senate this year.

Their grandfathers knew each other well — if not always pleasantly — as did their fathers and brothers.

RUTH MONTGOMERY
The bearers of the proud family banners are Robert A. Taft Jr. of Ohio, John Davis Lodge of Connecticut and Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Taft is the grandson of President William Howard Taft, the son of "Mr. Republican" Bob Taft and the brother of former Ambassador to Ireland William Howard Taft II.

Lodge is the grandson of Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, who led the successful drive to defeat America's entry into the League of Nations; and the brother of Cabot Jr., former senator, ambassador and GOP vice presidential candidate.

Kennedy is the grandson of Mayor John (Honey Fitz) Fitzgerald of Boston, the son of former Ambassador to Britain Joseph P. Kennedy and a brother of the late president.

HELD BY BROTHER
Teddy, recuperating in the hospital from a recent plane crash, is seeking reelection to the Senate seat formerly held by his brother, John F. Kennedy, which he won two years ago.

The intertwining of the illustrious families began in the late 19th Century when Henry Cabot Lodge Sr. defeated John Fitzgerald for the Senate.

The intertwining was to continue into the second and third generations.

In 1952 Jack Kennedy, grandson of "Honey Fitz," defeated incumbent Sen. Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. for the seat over which their grandfathers had once battled.

Now Teddy, John and Bob are running again.

If all are elected, the three families for the first time will be joined under one spotlighted roof — the august U.S. Senate.

In Washington:

Congress to Halt Redistricting?

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
WASHINGTON (NEA) — Congress could move by late August to try to bar U. S. courts from taking a hand in state reapportionment.

A sense of urgency grips those in and out of Congress who want to forestall general overhaul of state legislatures in accord with the Supreme Court's June 15 ruling which decreed that both legislative houses must be apportioned on a population basis.

If action on a constitutional amendment to nullify this decree is not quickly begun, opponents of the decision fear it may be too late. A high proportion of state legislatures meet in early 1965 and will be under compulsion to act under the court's ruling.

Senate Republican leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois already has sparked a GOP Policy Committee discussion of a proposed amendment. And Rep. William McCulloch, R-Ohio, is pushing a similar proposition in the House.

Policy Committee members want time to study the idea. A Dirksen staff man is busy raking over old cases which might throw light on the constitutional aspects of the matter.

Meantime, a big head of steam is building up. Some 15 governors perturbed at the court's decision have conveyed their concern to Dirksen and others.

Voice of the People:

'Goldwater Offers Voters a Very Definite Choice'

Why are liberal critics of Sen. Goldwater so anxious to undermine his candidacy by proclaiming his nomination would drive Republican liberals into the Democratic fold? Is it possible that they are afraid that conservative sentiment in the United States has been growing too fast for their comfort?

Sen. Goldwater offers Americans the first chance in 32 years to express themselves at the polls on vital, fundamental issues. His nomination would mean a return to the two-party system. It would help arouse from their apathy and indifference many of the thousands of citizens who have failed to vote because of the very lack of a choice of issues. It would provide an opportunity to vote for a philosophy of government and of life that is essential for our continued existence as a strong and free people.

His honesty, forthrightness and moral courage may seem like shocking and dangerous heresy to sainted liberals and Left-wingers, but for countless other Americans, these all too rare qualities shine as a beacon of hope and promise for the future well-being of our nation.

Senior Citizen Disgusted With Congress

Now that Congress has turned down aid in form of medicare and other help needed for the aged, the members forgot one thing. The citizens 50 years and older keep them in office. Every office holder in the state and nation got a pay raise, but senior citizens were forgotten.

If the public will only stop and think, the man in overalls has been behind the gun in every war and took many chances.

Let's get together and put new faces in both state and national offices.

DISGUSTED

Praises Waterford's Police, Fire Depts.

The Waterford Township Fire Department certainly did a good job at our recent fire. Also, without the alertness of our police department our business could have been totally wiped out.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN OGG
(OWNERS OF MAIN CLEANERS)

The Better Half

"It was a wrong number, but he tried to borrow twenty from me anyway."

the total could expand rapidly in 1965.

One significant straw in the wind comes out of Sarasota, Fla., where a large group of southern legislators, state administrators and other state officials took a surprisingly mild tack in a resolution approved just four days after the Supreme Court decision.

They did not demand that the U. S. courts be barred altogether from stepping into state reapportionment.

These 225 officials, meeting at the Southern Conference of the Council of State Governments, simply urged a flexible approach which would take account of "regional and local values" and allow one legislative house to be apportioned according to criteria other than population.

And it should not be forgotten that a roughly similar blocking amendment, initiated at the state level in early 1963, has so far won approval in just 14 states — all in the southern, border, plains and western areas of the country.

Yet the breadth and intensity of interest in a blocking amendment is no assurance that it would find easy, automatic ratification from the necessary 38 state legislatures.

Some specialists in federal-state relations argue that numerous state legislatures with one house already reasonably well-founded on a population may resist an amendment banning all federal court intervention.

The list of such legislatures is expected to swell this year. Unless the counter-force of a blocking amendment intervenes,

Adoula Quits as Congo Premier; Tshombe May Succeed Him

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Premier Cyrille Adoula resigned today as the Congo marked the fourth anniversary of its independence and the last U.N. troops left the country.

President Joseph Kasavubu announced he had accepted Adoula's resignation. He said a new government would be formed in a few days.

There was widespread expectation that the new government would be headed by Moïse Tshombe, the secessionist whose defiance of Adoula's government was ended by the U.N. Congo force early in 1963.

Tshombe returned last week from self-imposed exile in Europe and embarked on a reconciliation mission to bring together the still turbulent African country's feuding politicians.

The former president of Katanga Province announced Monday night that Antoine Gizenga, Communist-supported breakaway government, will be freed soon from the island prison where he has been held for 2½ years.

POLITICAL ARENA

With Gizenga's return, all surviving political leaders at the outset of the Congo's independence were back in the political arena.

Gizenga claimed to be Patrie

Lumumba's successor when he set up his regime in the north-east Congo after Lumumba, the Congo's first premier, was murdered in Katanga.

Also back in the picture is Albert Kalonji, self-styled god-emperor of South Kasai Province, who came out of exile the day after Tshombe returned to the Congo.

Kalonji said he was willing to reconcile with all leaders except Joseph Ngalmula, who supplanted him in South Kasai.

SUPPORT PLEDGED

Tshombe said he also has been promised support by André Lubaya, former provincial president of Kasai. Lubaya was sent across the Congo River from Brazzaville by exiled extremists who call themselves the "National Liberation Committee" and have been trying to overthrow the Leopoldville regime of Premier Cyrille Adoula.

Tshombe said Lubaya told him the Brazzaville committee was "prepared to back all my actions, without putting forward conditions."

If Tshombe succeeds in his peacemaking role, he is given a good chance to succeed Adoula whose regime has been doomed by his failure to stem the rising tide of tribal war and rebellion in the eastern and southwest Congo.

A national referendum is under way on a new constitution that probably will result in a new central government.

EDGE FORWARD

Demoralized, hesitant Congo army forces are edging forward against Communist-backed rebels whose advance against the east Congo center of Bukavu has been stopped by plane attacks. U.S.-made T28 fighter-bombers have driven the fanatical Bufu- la chief leading a revolt in Kivu Province southeast of Leopoldville.

Veteran State Attorney Announces Retirement

LANSING (AP)—Veteran state attorney Victor Meier announced Monday he will retire July 18, after 25 years of state service.

There has been speculation that Meier, an assistant attorney general assigned to the State Highway Department, will run for the State Senate this year. He lives in nearby Williamston.

Nearly 10,000, or 30 per cent of the defendants in federal criminal court cases, require court-appointed attorneys each year, testimony before the Senate Judiciary Committee has revealed.

FOOT ODOR?

New aerosol spray checks perspiration. Keeps feet odor-free 24 hours!

Medical scientists have developed a new aerosol spray that checks perspiration... stops foot odor 24 hours and cools and dries hot, sweaty feet. It's Mennen's Foot Deodorant with triple-action effectiveness to:

1. Kill odor-causing germs on contact with a continuous-acting antiseptic that keeps working all day, all night.

2. Instantly check the flow of perspiration that breeds odor-causing germs—helping block the return of foot odor.

3. Cool, soothe and refresh your hot, tired feet making them dry and comfortable.

Factor, more effective relief. Because Mennen Foot Deodorant is an aerosol spray, it stops the smell of hot, sweaty feet fast. It eliminates odor so effectively because its fine spray penetrates even the tiniest foot crevices.

Celebrities, non-staining. Mennen Foot Deodorant is colorless and will not stain or harm nylon, wool, cotton or leather. In fact, you can spray its cooling refreshment right through hose or down into your shoes to help rid them of lingering odors. Get new MENNEN FOOT DEODORANT with amazing triple-action effectiveness that checks perspiration as it keeps feet odor-free 24 hours! That's Mennen Foot Deodorant, by the makers of Famous Quinsana Foot Powder. At drug counters everywhere.

'How Can You Make It a Good One?'

Lodge Can't See Viet Nam as Issue

WASHINGTON (AP). — Henry Cabot Lodge, expanding on his view that he doesn't see how U.S. policy in the Viet Nam war could become a campaign issue, says "I don't see how it gets votes — how you can make it a good issue."

He adds: "If you have a disaster in foreign relations, then that becomes an issue whether the politicians make it one or not. Happily, I see no prospect of any disaster."

Lodge, who resigned after 10 months as ambassador to South Viet Nam, returned Monday to help Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in his campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

President Johnson met with the retiring ambassador at the White House, then went before newsmen with Lodge at his side to express public thanks for his services in Saigon.

'SITUATION BETTER'
In replying to questions submitted to him by Wes Gallagher, general manager of the Associated Press, Lodge said "things in Viet Nam started to go better and I felt it was my duty to be here" to help Scranton.

The questions had been asked of Lodge in Saigon, but he said he preferred to defer his replies until his resignation became effective Monday.

The questions and Lodge's replies:

Q. Gov. Scranton disagrees with you that the war in South Viet Nam should not be an issue in the campaign. Now that you are supporting him, how do you expect to resolve this difference?

HOW COULD IT?
A. I have not said it should not be an issue. I have said I don't see how it could be. I don't see how it gets votes — how you can make it a good issue.

If you have a disaster in foreign relations, then that becomes an issue whether the politicians make it one or not. Happily, I see no prospect of any disaster.

Q. How do you propose to overcome Sen. Goldwater's long lead for the nomination? And why did you wait so long to come home to enter the campaign?

A. That's two questions. With respect to the first one, I'm not sure he has such a long lead. I remember when the AP gave Sen. Taft a long lead over Gen. Eisenhower in 1952. You can't take the delegate pledges at face value.

CURRENT SURVEY
(The current AP survey of GOP convention delegates lists 893 first ballot votes for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona — 39 more than the 655 needed for nomination if they stick with him. Of these, 118 are from primary election commitments, 257 from delegates instructed by state or district GOP conventions, 62 personally pledged and 256 who favor him. The survey shows 138 for Scranton, none of them bound to him.)

The second question, why did I wait, is "really the question, what made me come home early?" I was not waiting, nor was I intending to come home this early. But I got messages from friends, people I esteemed, saying that if I came early it might make a difference in Gov. Scranton's campaign. Then things in Viet Nam started to go better and I felt my duty was to be here.

Q. Did the messages come from Gov. Scranton and friends of his?

A. No, they came from persons interested in me who wanted to see me do the right thing in this campaign.

MUCH SPECULATION

Q. There has been much speculation in the United States about the possibility of striking into North Viet Nam and possibly China. Do you favor such strategy?

A. The answer to that question gets into classified information.

Q. Should your successor, Gen. Taylor, have authority to direct U.S. strategy not just in Viet Nam but for the anti-Communist operation throughout Southeast Asia?

A. I think policy has always got to be made in Washington. I do think we ought to treat Indochina as an entity. Gen. Taylor's recommendations will be considered in formulating policy. But the decisions must be made in Washington.

GREATER FORCES

Q. Would the United States be able to exert more power in the area of Southeast Asia if it put greater forces there, especially if it put troops into Thailand?

A. In Viet Nam, the aim of the struggle is to create a proper political atmosphere. That's how you beat the Communists there. The minute you're created a proper political atmosphere the war is over. That's why I was encouraged by the report I received just before I left Saigon that people are no longer feeding the Communists.

I don't see the need for more troops in Viet Nam. I think our policy there of relying on the Vietnamese to win with our help is the right policy.

You are invited to visit BIG ROCK POINT NUCLEAR PLANT

When you are in northern Michigan make it a point to visit Michigan's first large-scale atomic electric plant, just off U.S. 31 about five miles north of Charlevoix.

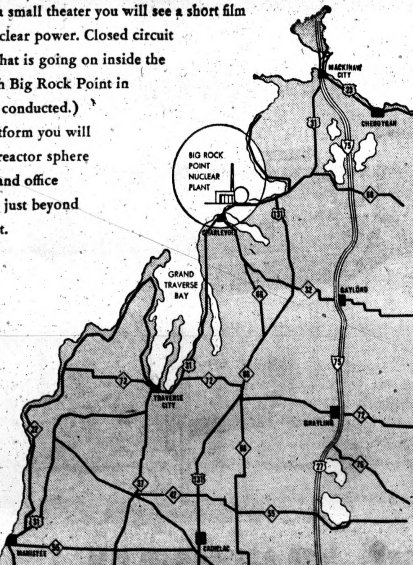

You will be welcomed at the Information Center. There you will view animated exhibits showing how the atom is split and how electricity is produced. In a small theater you will see a short film and hear a brief talk on nuclear power. Closed circuit television will show you what is going on inside the plant. (We regret that, with Big Rock Point in operation, tours cannot be conducted.)

From an observation platform you will obtain a close view of the reactor sphere and the turbine-generator and office wings with Lake Michigan just beyond and forest scenery all about.

Search for Mid-Air AF Crash Victims

HAMILTON, Bermuda (AP)—U.S. boats and planes were searching off Bermuda's south coast today for 12 American airmen missing after the collision of two Air Force planes during a space training mission. The planes plunged into the Atlantic Monday as parachuting airmen were running a test rescue operation for the two-man Gemini space project.

They fell into the sea. After the collision I saw two people parachute out, then more jumped as the planes neared the sea."

Airman 1.c. T. M. White, Airman 3.3 R. A. Martin, T. Sgt. R. C. Brownley, all stationed at Kindley; S. Sgt. R. S. Weddel, Airman 3.c. S. S. Poey, both from Lajes; M. Sgt. C. Tolbert, Orlando Air Force Base, Fla., and T. Sgt. H. E. Moak, Robbins Air Force Base, Ga.

RECOVERY PROJECT

Gemini recovery experiments were carried out last week near Hamilton by the Manned Spacecraft Center training base for astronauts at Houston, Tex.

The boiler-plate capsule used in the experiments was left behind so the Air Force could make additional tests and use it in the movie "Para-Rescue in the Space Age."

Eggs 'Prove' Copter Flew 101 Hours

BAKERSFIELD, CALIF. (AP)—For 101 hours, the only thing between a helicopter and the ground was fresh air and 48 eggs.

Then, yesterday afternoon, the copter dropped down to an altitude of three feet, the four cartons of eggs were plucked from its skirts, and it sat down on hard ground for the first time since Thursday.

National Aeronautics Association referees—who taped the eggs to the skids to make sure the Hughes 200 machine made no unauthorized landings—said the 101-hour, 5-minute mark will be posted as a new helicopter endurance record.

Four pilots took turns manning the copter, climbing in and out when it dropped down to a yard above Kern County Airport. The craft also was fueled by a siphon device as it hovered there.

When the old mark, 72 hours, set four years ago by Navy fliers, was cracked Sunday, pilot Gene Goodman dropped an egg to the runway. It was one he had in his pocket.

AP Photo/

MISHAP AREA — Cross points to approximate area off south coast of Bermuda where search continued today for possible survivors of collision between two U.S. Air Force planes Monday. The two planes of the Gemini two-man space project collided in air during a parachute operation in Atlantic. Seven of 24 participating in operation are known to have survived.

Swedish Princess Married

GAERDSLOESA, Sweden (AP)—Princess Margaretha of Sweden was married to British businessman John Ambler today on the Baltic Isle of Oeland.

It was Sweden's second royal wedding this month. Princess Desree, a younger sister of Margaretha, was married June 5 to Baron Niclas Silfverschild.

King Gustaf VI led his green-eyed eldest granddaughter to the altar in the little white 13th Century church. Margaretha's father, Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf, was killed in a plane crash in 1947.

And her only brother, 18-year-old Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf, is heir to the throne.

The tall, 30-year-old princess was dressed in white and wore the church's golden wedding crown on her auburn hair. Television viewers across Europe watched as she whispered "yes" and exchanged marriage vows with her 40-year-old commoner bridegroom.

CHURCH PACKED

The little limestone church was packed with 250 guests, headed by Queen Ingrid of Denmark, a daughter of King Gustaf and an aunt of the bride.

Thousands of Oelanders and visitors from the mainland waited outside the church. Sweden's Lutheran primate, Archbishop Gumar-Hultgren, conducted the ceremony in Swedish and English.

Oeland was chosen for the wedding site because it is the favorite summer home of Princess Sibylla, the bride's mother.

ONE UNMARRIED

Margaretha's marriage left only one of the four Swedish princesses unmarried—Christine, 30, who recently returned from a year at Radcliffe College in the United States.

The other princess, Birgitta, married Bavarian Prince Johann George of Hohenzollern in May 1961.

Area Motorists Are Penalized

State Acts to Pull, Suspend 12 Permits

STERLING ENCLOSURE

Slaying Laid to Detroit

Indicted in Murder of Virginia Lawman

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP)—Bruce Walter Leikett of Detroit was indicted today by a special grand jury for murder in the slaying of one of two Fredericksburg policemen.

The jury of four men and one woman indicted the 26-year-old ex-convict in the death of Sgt. Roy C. Wright, 31, Wright and patrolman W. Franklin Mines, 27, were shot to death in May behind a shopping center here. Arraignment on the indictment was set for July 13 by Judge S. Bernard Coleman.

Commonwealth Atty. J. M. H. Willis Jr. said he did not seek an indictment in the slaying of Mines because a trial must be held within three court terms of an indictment. He said Leikett would first be tried for the slaying of Wright.

POLICE CHASE

Leikett was captured May 8 near Detroit after a police chase that ended in a traffic crash killing another driver. Found in Leikett's wrecked car were the pistols and handcuffs belonging to the slain policemen and a .45 millimeter pistol.

Police Chief Robert W. Coble testified at a preliminary hearing last week that the 7.65 pistol was used to slay Wright and Mines.

Leikett is also accused of killing a service station attendant in New Jersey May 4.

Oleg Cassini Holds Spotlight in NY Fashion Week

A boyish look for not-so-little girls is Oleg Cassini's theme for fall. Modeled in New York this week for the fashion writers was this couturier's beige wool sheath with front tab belt and high standing collar.

A deep-scooped neckline, wide midriff and pushed-up long sleeves are special factors about this blue, green and turquoise embroidered silk chiffon short dinner dress by Oleg Cassini. This costume includes a matching headscarf, guaranteed to hide a bad hairdo.

From the New York house of Christian Dior comes a black and white checked wool dress. It's low belted, trimmed in black braid, has a button-down tab collar and loose jacket which reverses to white. Previewed for fashion press writers this week.

There's nothing Oleg Cassini wouldn't do for a woman. In the works this fall is the suit jacket as well as the shirt off his back.

The jacket has an optional belt, but is tailored just like Oleg's — double-breasted, and with long narrow revers showing a light blue shirt (the kind he favors) and matching four-in-hand tie.

Considerable else is masculine-inspired, and many superb crease-resistant flannels and gabardines are almost unbelievably man-made.

NOT MANNISH

Mannish, however, is never the word. A dark wool dress is apt to have a small white dress shirt bow and a slyly-pleated skirt.

Many a suit has a comparably soft, fold-wrapped skirt. And evening dresses are invariably décolleté in one way or another — front or back or both.

Jackets play a leading role for day and night. Moreover, the designer uses the same new, roundish sleeves, cuffed at the wrist, for jackets from tweed to lamé.

Numerous jackets, like the replica of Cassini's own suit jacket, are fastened like blazers with silver buttons over dresses as well as skirts. Other jackets of thick, cozy-looking wool tweeds are color-matched to dresses.

A fabric best studied in the light, is a new sheer wool horizon — tally — ridged, and as supple as knit but far airier. It comes in a flattering deep blue and in emerald, in a smart and simple two-piece suit tied with neckline roping.

The various rayon weaves in the collection include what looks and feels exactly like silky grey wool flannel.

Other weaves are in two-tone small block checks and in fine monotone gabardine weaves, sometimes in distinctive color contrast of duobonnet with grey.

Most of the dresses in the latter two series have long-drawn, figure-slimming bodies, and most of the jackets are closer, if only scarcely, than last season's. An occasional separate dress is identified by its military piping.

Waistlines are both fitted and belted and otherwise, but the suggestion is clearly indicated in every case.

SCASI SHOWS

A Scasi collection aims always, to be good theatre — to present fashions of spirit, brightness and electric personality. This season the plot centers around seaming, squared, crisscross, pyramidal or curved.

There is a new "hippy" skirt which Scasi believes holds prophecy. Necklines are discreet but intriguing. Fabrics are intrinsically decorative. Lots of chiffon and lots of lace.

Two New June Brides Hear Wedding Bells

Beard-Stanley

A white cotton organdy bodice trimmed with fine Cluny lace and a bell-shaped skirt of pure silk linen with flat Dior bow and cummerbund accented Barbara Kay Hagle's wedding gown.

Rev. Walter J. Teeuwissen Jr. performed the recent afternoon ceremony in the Drayton Plains United Presbyterian Church as she became the bride of John Murdock Kenn of Standish. A church reception followed.

ORANGE BLOSSOMS

The daughter of the Alton Hagles of Hanley Drive selected an orange blossom flowered headpiece accented by crystal beads and pearls. Her semi-cascade bouquet included white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Stephen Balmer of Port Huron performed the duties of best man for the son of Mrs. Donald Kenn of Port Huron and the late Mr. Kenn.

Ushering were Richard Balmer, Port Huron and James Isler, Harbor Beach.

Deborah Mendenhall of Elyria, Ohio, was maid of honor.

GO TO ALASKA

They will live in Standish following a honeymoon in Alaska.

Peau d'ange lace accented a gown of white silk organza over taffeta for Rita Louise Stanley who became Mrs. Donald Iden Beard recently in the First Christian Church.

Her illusion veil was caught by a pearl crown. A corsage of red sweetheart roses with cascading white roses rested on her white Bible.

The L. R. Stanleys of Rosewood Drive and the M. D. Beards of Delta, Ohio are parents of the couple who spoke vows before Rev. Elwood Dunn, preceding a church reception.

ATTENDANTS

Attendants were Lesta Jean Stanley, Joanne Dembinski, Elizabeth Argy, and Marlene Romer. Beth Somerville and Jeffrey Hunt were flower girl and ring-bearer.

Keith B. Drayton of Tulsa, Okla. was best man. H. Earl Somerville, George Shaver, Charles Hunt, Bob Dunn and Marine Capt. Theodore Hunt of Camp Pendleton, Calif. served as ushers.

The couple, graduates of Oakland University and Hillsdale College, respectively, plan a honeymoon in the western states.

Homemakers' Chance

EAST LANSING — Any Michigan homemaker can be a college student for four days this summer — July 21-24. These are the dates of the 37th annual College Week for Women on the Michigan State University campus in East Lansing.

Who Shall Decide? is the title of one session featuring Dr. Leroy Augenstein, chairman of the MSU Department of Biophysics at MSU. He will discuss the moral questions created by modern science, such as "Does an unconceived child have the right never to be conceived?" and "Does the individual have the right to die?"

College Week is sponsored by the MSU Cooperative Extension Service and Continuing Education Service and the Michigan Home Economics Extension Council.

In general session, Charles T. Vetter Jr. of the U.S. Information Agency will discuss "Building Stronger Families" at 7:45 p.m. July 23.

Both programs are open to the public free of charge, and clubs are encouraged to attend these meetings as a group. Both are in the MSU auditorium.

All other programs are open only to those that have paid conference fees of $2 for one day, $4 for four days, or $27 registration fee, room and board for four days.

Complete program and registration information may be obtained by writing to College Week for Women, 108 Agricultural Hall, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 5

Sometimes new mothers concentrate so hard on the technicalities of baby care they forget to enjoy their babies. Your delight in your baby is one of the great golden gifts you can give. The baby who is talked to (and laughed with) lovingly, develops security and sociability. The baby who is played with happily gains confidence early and learns invaluable lessons in co-operation.

Vitamin C availability. I know you mothers usually think in terms of orange juice for baby's vitamin C. But it should be reassuring to know that Gerber Strained Apple Juice and 'Juice' combinations are fortified to give your baby just as much of this important vitamin as Gerber Orange Juice. One can of any of the other eight Gerber Juices supplies over 100% of the recommended daily dietary allowance for vitamin C. 9 varieties in all including the new Mixed Fruit Juice and Prune-Orange.

Golden rules for baby care. By-the-book rules are fine as guides but all rules do not fit all babies and any rule is only as good as its flexibility. Guides to good mothering: heed your doctor and your common-sense head and lead with your heart. Happy is the baby whose mother makes adjustments for his (or her) individuality.

Growth patterns. Your baby grows much faster the first year than the next few put together. That's why he needs protein aplenty to give that growth a boost. Gerber Strained Meats are high in protein, low in fat and ever so easy to digest. Points to remember:

- Gerber Meats are cooked by an exclusive process which preserves the utmost in nutritive values; insures a smooth moist texture.
- They're the products of two great specialists—Gerber, famous for fine baby foods and Armour, famous for fine meats.

Home Reception Follows Ceremony

Parents of the couple are Mrs. William K. Gardner of Birmingham, the late Mr. Gardner, Mrs. Robert Allen, Cameron Avenue and Charles Hurst, Perry Street.

STREET-LENGTH
With her street-length gown of white organza over taffeta, styled with lace bodice, the bride wore an open crown lace pillbox and French illusion veil. She carried white roses and carnations.

Patricia A. McCarty attended the bride and Daniel J. Shadrick was best man. Seating guests were Stuart Rindt and Allen Tunny.

Carolyn Ann Liddy, daughter of the Leonard A. Liddys of Melrose Avenue and John Ernest Best, son of the Ernest E. Bests of Robinwood Avenue, were wed recently in the Perry Park Baptist Church.

Leslie Whitaker of Calabasas, Calif., escorted his niece at the ceremony performed by Rev. Daniel Britz in St. Michael's Church.

Unless Greece OKs Talks

Turks Renew Cyprus Invasion Threat

LONDON (AP)—Turkey has threatened anew to invade Cyprus unless Greece accepts United Nations proposals for negotiations to settle the strife between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Turkish Premier Ismet Inonu told the British government Monday that U.N. mediator Sakari Tuomioja may have only one more chance to settle the dispute by peaceful means.

Inonu told a news conference that Turkey considers it still has the right to intervene militarily in Cyprus despite the presence of the U.N. peace force on the Mediterranean island.

"There is no contractual provision which would deny Turkey the right of intervention during the presence of United Nations troops in the island," he said.

Inonu said the next few days would show if Greece is prepared to accept diplomatic proposals to negotiate the issue.

Turkish diplomats said Tuomioja is expected to propose that he make a fresh attempt to reach a settlement in separate negotiations with the Greek and Turkish governments.

"If these negotiations should fail, we do not see how we could escape the absolute necessity of exercising our treaty right to intervene in the island," a high Turkish source said.

"We have prepared to send our troops into Cyprus on four different occasions up to now and the latest occasion was on June 5.

U.S. INTERVENTION

"Only the intervention of the United States stopped us from going, but the Americans now realize, and we understand they have told the Greek government so, they will not be able to restrain us indefinitely."

Nations troops in the island," he said.

Inonu said the next few days would show if Greece is prepared to accept diplomatic proposals to negotiate the issue.

Turkish diplomats said Tuomioja is expected to propose that he make a fresh attempt to reach a settlement in separate negotiations with the Greek and Turkish governments.

The Cyprus' independence agreements of 1960 made Britain, Greece and Turkey the guarantors of the island republic's constitution and gave them the right to intervene individually to uphold the constitution.

Archbishop Makarios, the Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, has said he considers the constitution and its special rights for the Turkish Cypriot minority no longer binding.

Greek Premier George Papandreu, after conferring with President Johnson last week and presumably being informed of the Turkish threat, cabled Makarios that "a Turkish landing would mean war."

TALKS TO LEADERS

Inonu has been conferring with British leaders since Sunday after talks with President Johnson. The Turkish premier told British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home he had information that Greece has secretly raised its garrison on Cyprus far beyond the 550-man ceiling allowed by the 1960 treaties.

The Turkish premier said his government would accept only one of two solutions to the crisis: a partitioned Cyprus with the Greek and Turkish parts united in a federal government, or "double enosis," a partitioned Cyprus with the Greek Cypriot part united with Greece and the Turkish Cypriot part united with Turkey.

The Greeks and the Greek Cypriots have rejected partition. A communique issued after Inonu's talks with Douglas-Home said Britain and Turkey consider the 1960 treaties are still valid.

IN PARIS

In Paris, U.S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen outlined to President Charles de Gaulle the substance of the Washington meetings between Johnson and the Greek and Turkish premiers.

Papandreu arrived Monday in Paris to talk with de Gaulle and other French officials. Inonu was flying to Paris today for similar talks.

Japan's steel output last year was 20 million tons compared with 110 million tons turned out by United States mills.

The University of Vienna, founded in 1385, is the oldest university in German-speaking countries.

The monetary gold stock of the United States decreased during December 1963 by $69.9 million to $15.5 billion.

Negroes Taunt Chicago Police

Plane Crash Kills Flint Resident

CHICAGO (AP) — More than 300 Negroes paraded on the South Side early today, jeering and taunting police, and daring them to arrest the marchers.

It was the second successive early morning civil rights demonstration, and leaders of the march promised frequent similar parades during the summer.

Today's march was called to rally support for picketing of Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania who will speak in downtown Chicago today.

Civil rights leaders said 1,000 Negroes will picket Scranton, who is seeking the Republican nomination for president.

Before the Negroes paraded, they met at 47th Street and South Parkway to hear leaders of ACT, a nationwide group of civil rights organizations.

7 ARRESTED

Seven of the leaders were arrested and charged with conducting a public meeting without a police permit. The arrested included Jesse Gray, 40, co-coordinator of Harlem's Council on Housing, and a leader of New York City's rent strike, and Lawrence Landry, national organizer of ACT.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind.

(AP)—A light plane circling a farmhouse to signal a friend to pick up the two occupants crashed Monday night, killing a Flint, Mich., woman and critically injuring her husband.

Killed when the single-engine plane crashed into a soybean field was Mrs. Irene Dryer, 45.

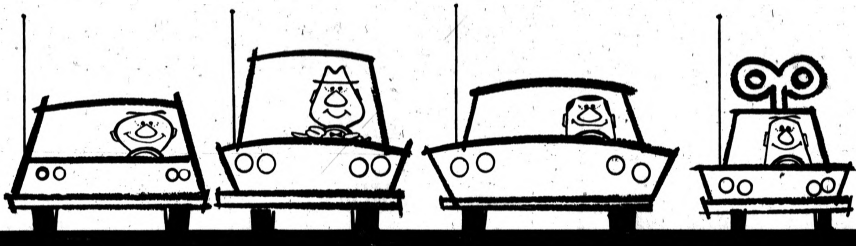

The pilot, Robert Vernon Dryer, 47, was taken to a hospital here, then transferred to Long Hospital, Indianapolis. Physicians said he suffered multiple fractures, head and jaw injuries and numerous cuts about the body.

The Dryers, former residents of Crawfordsville, were en route to visit friends and relatives. Dryer was circling the home of Mrs. John Bianconi, who was to drive to a nearby airstrip and pick them up.

ENGINE QUILTS

Scott Mahon, 25, working on a farm adjacent to Mrs. Bianconi's said he saw the plane flying low "when suddenly the engine cut out on them."

Mahon said the plane kept coming lower and clipped the top of a utility pole. The plane plunged into the field, knocked down a fence and somersaulted.

"The same place I get my cement!"

Many years ago, rebobos (colorful hand-woven shawls) were a major export of Mexico. Today, Mexican exporters are more apt to be offering cement.

Like other nations, Mexico became industrialized, and more technically accomplished. Now, Mexico exports more than 1000 manufactured articles ranging from ball bearings and seamless steel tubing to sewing machines, office furniture, condensers and electric toasters.

Half of the imports of our number one Latin American customer are machinery, equipment and supplies to keep production booming.

The tradition of quality synonymous with rebobos is kept alive in today's products. You can still get rebobos—the same place you get your cement.

PARTY BORES
Psychiatrists are the worst of all cocktail party bores. After listening to people talk to them all day, they can't shut up themselves all evening.

One thing I have never met, and don't expect to, is a U.S. senator with an inferiority complex.

What this country needs is a longer football season and a shorter baseball season. A lot of people who are tired of professional baseball hesitate to say so for fear that it sounds unpatriotic.

People who habitually send clever greeting cards get a reputation for witwits they don't deserve. In most cases they are too shiftless mentally to sit down and write a warm and readable letter.

TWO PERILS
It is hard to tell which is more dangerous to the nation — the cold war or the three-hour business lunch.

Why is it you never hear so much about a fellow after all his friends get together and give him a testimonial dinner? Many executives would last five years longer if they habitually took a half hour mid-afternoon nap in their offices. But they're afraid to do so for fear it would look like self-napping. Most wives take sofa siestas—and that's probably one reason they usually outlive their husbands.

Most crooks are underweight. Fat people aren't necessarily more honest by nature; they have just found out that they aren't fast enough on their feet to be anything else.

The guy who wouldn't lend you a dollar is always the first to give you advice on how to cure the hiccups.

The most common matrimonial mistake young brides make is to try to take the place of his friends in her husband's life. Any woman who tries to be everything to a man is bound to drive him from her—if he can get away.

When you meet a fellow with a wart on his nose, you always remember him—but somehow it's hard to recall later just what he had to say.

See June High for Car Output

Labor Overtone in Production for Week

DETROIT (AP)—Auto industry leaders were confident today their June output would total over 770,000 cars despite isolated labor disputes.

If attained, the 770,000 mark would be a new high for any June. The old mark of 689,348 was set last year.

This week's production had a distinct labor overtone, as management and labor awaited the beginning of talks Tuesday between General Motors and the United Auto Workers on a new contract. Other companies have similar talks scheduled.

TEAMSTER STRIKE

A strike of Teamster Union drivers, who haul new cars from eight East Coast assembly plants posed a problem for the automotive Big Three last week, as the firms ran out of storage space to place the new cars and were hunting for extra lots.

Ford, General Motors and Chrysler expressed confidence production at the plants involved would not be affected immediately by the Teamster walkout.

Some automotive sources predicted final figures for the January-June period would show over 4,364,000 cars built, thus erasing the old mark of 4,257,150 set in the comparable months of 1956.

Backing up the strong production reports were healthy sales reports from dealers around the country, with some sources expressing confidence that the final tally would show that the auto industry, for the first time in history, had sold four million cars in U.S. in the first half of 1964.

Plaque Dedicated by Mother of JFK

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Mrs. Joseph F. Kennedy helped dedicate a memorial plaque at Independence Hall Monday in honor of her son, the late President John F. Kennedy.

Mrs. Kennedy, 73, told an estimated 8,000 persons the late president would have been pleased "to know he is being honored here."

Kennedy spoke at Independence Hall July 4, 1962, on the interdependence of nations. The plaque, set in the pavement in front of the historic building, commemorates that visit.

Speaking During Tour of Poland

Oswald Not Part of Plot---R. Kennedy

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy declared Monday night that his brother, the assassinated president, was not the victim of a conspiracy or of communism.

The U.S. attorney general told a Polish questioner in Krakow "there is no question" that Lee Harvey Oswald killed President John F. Kennedy and "did it on his own and by himself."

Hieronim Kubiak, 25, head of the Polish Student Union, had asked Kennedy for his version of his brother's assassination in Dallas, Tex., last Nov. 22.

Kennedy replied that Oswald was a "misfit in society" and Oswald's professed belief in communism did not prompt him to murder the president.

INDIVIDUAL PROTEST

"Ideology in my opinion did not motivate his act," Kennedy said. "It was the single act of an individual protesting against society."

There has been considerable speculation in Europe that the slayings of Kennedy and of Oswald by Dallas cafe owner Jack Ruby were part of a conspiracy.

Aides said it was the first time the attorney general had spoken publicly about who killed his brother.

The question came up during the second day of his visit to Poland. Before leaving the country this afternoon, Kennedy was scheduled to go to Czestochowa, spiritual center of Catholic Poland. Although crowds everywhere gave Kennedy an enthusiastic reception, Deputy Foreign Minister Jozef Winiewicz reportedly suggested to him Monday night that he did not understand the "strict political realities" of Poland's connections with the Soviet Union.

AT DINNER

Informants said Winiewicz told Kennedy at a dinner given by U.S. Ambassador John M. Cabot that those connections do not rule out having close ties with others, including America. But he said forgetting such realities could blur the U.S.-Polish relationship.

Other guests felt Winiewicz was criticizing the attorney general's "meet the people" approach in Poland, which has drawn an extraordinarily warm response from street crowds in Warsaw and Krakow.

Winiewicz disputed the idea that the Communist regime had been cool toward Kennedy. He said it was pleased at his visit although embarrassed that it came at the same time as that of Yugoslav President Tito.

Which local news organs ignored him on his first day in Warsaw, Kennedy told a reporter he wished his reception from the government had been as warm as that from the people.

AFTER 1ST DAY

After the first day, newspapers started carrying short items on Kennedy's activities, but did not say where he would go next.

Fined for Speeding

Actress Tries to Elude Police

PIKESVILLE, Md. (AP) — Actress Gloria De Haven was given a suspended $10 fine yesterday for speeding to a Saturday night show for which she was late.

"I just couldn't keep 2,000 people waiting," she told a magistrate by way of explanation.

The 33-year-old actress is playing in "The Sound of Music" at the Painters Mill Music Fair, a summer theater just outside Baltimore.

A state policeman said he stopped her not far from the theater. "She was passing everything in sight," he testified.

But once stopped, he said, Miss De Haven didn't stay that way. "She took off again," the trooper said, and sought sanctuary at Painters Mill.

OFF TO HEADQUARTERS

A county policeman stopped her at the ticket office and took her to police headquarters. She was an hour late for the show.

"I was upset and began to cry," Miss De Haven told the magistrate. "I've never been to jail in my life."

Hey, Milkman!
Give Me Back
My 'Half-Pint'

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Milk truck driver Vern Terry was startled when a motorist frantically flagged him to pull over.

Terry stopped, got out, and watched as the motorist ran to the back of the truck and lifted a 4-year-old girl from her perch on the bumper.

Cheryl Neel was none the worse for her 10-mile stowaway trip yesterday. The rescuer was Cheryl's father, who had been combing suburban streets since the tot disappeared after a stop by the milk truck at the Neel home.

McNamara Attacks Doubters of U.S. Military Strength

WASHINGTON (AP)—For the third time this presidential election year, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has replied to allegations raising doubts about U.S. military strength.

He rushed out a three-page statement Monday denouncing as a "partisan attack" a report by a Republican congressional task force.

That task force "On American Strategy and Strength" accused the Democratic administration of allowing U.S. military superiority to be blunted, of putting too much dependence on "unproven missile systems" and weakening the bomber force, creating a "research and development gap" in defense, and planning no new strategic weapons for the 1970s.

SIMILAR ATTACKS
These GOP allegations

paralleled attacks by Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, leading candidate for the Republican presidential nomination and a McNamara critic.

Not so, McNamara declared in challenging the GOP task force. He spoke of a "tremendous increase of strength" since the Democrats took power in 1961, and replied off a long list of statistics.

Among other things, McNamara claimed that the U.S.

arsenal of intercontinental ballistic missiles and Polaris submarine-launched missiles has risen from less than 100 to more than 1,000 since 1960.

NUCLEAR WEAPONS
Today the intercontinental ballistic missile force of the United States is more than four times that of the Soviet Union," McNamara said.

He also claimed a 150 per cent increase in the number of nuclear weapons available in the strategic alert forces of bombers and missiles, a 75 per cent increase in air lift, a 45 per cent increase in the number of combat-ready divisions, an 800 per cent increase in antiguerrilla special forces, plus other gains. As for research and development, McNamara listed a 50 per cent increase per year in research and development funds over the last four years of the Eisenhower administration and an addition of 208 major new weapons and other new projects.

The defense secretary made no mention of the task force's attack on U.S. policy in South Viet Nam—an attack which suggested the United States was ready to settle for less than victory.

Asked about this, a Pentagon official said this was a foreign policy question.

HE'S DETERMINED

McNamara is determined to "set the record straight" without delay whenever critics make statements which challenge U.S. military power.

His first public reply came in January when Goldwater suggested that U.S. missiles are not dependable.

McNamara denounced the Goldwater remarks as "completely misleading, politically irresponsible and damaging to the national security."

In April, Congress published testimony by Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, Air Force chief of staff, to the effect that the United States is losing its military edge over the Soviet Union.

Again McNamara rose to the attack, without mentioning LeMay by name.

Say Rights Bill Ready by 4th

McCormack Predicts Quick House Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker John W. McCormack said today the House will complete action on the civil rights bill in time for President Johnson to sign it by the end of the week.

McCormack, speaking to newsmen after the weekly breakfast meeting of Democratic congressional leaders with President Johnson, said there was no discussion as to the timing of the civil rights signing ceremony.

It is expected, however, that, if the bill reaches Johnson in time, he will sign it on Independence Day.

McCormack, and Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, said there was a general discussion with the President today of the legislative situation.

Mansfield said he told the President that the Senate is in a position to make a major effort to enact the remainder of the administration's legislative program.

TOP POSITION

McCormack, putting civil rights in the top position, said the present session of Congress will be historic, while Mansfield said it will be "one of the most productive in history."

The civil rights bill, in the version passed by the Senate, is now in the House Rules Committee. It may act today to send the bill on the House floor. Leaders want to take it up under a rule limiting debate to one hour and barring all amendments.

- "Step 1. 1/2 cup of baking powder and stir a minute.
- "Step 2. One tablespoon of oil, it will start to fire, don't panic, put piece of meat in it.
- "Step 3. One cup of vinegar and heat water and put it in.
- "Step 4. Get some liquid soap and pour in.
- "Step 5. Store in bottle for 3 days, and it will be ready anybody can do it."

SAFETY SUGGESTION — Britain's Prince Charles (left) got a safety suggestion in the form of a golden hairnet. The British Safety Council came up with the hairnet idea after expressing concern over the length of the prince's hair. The council thinks the 15-year-old heir to the British throne is setting a bad example for factory workers. Long hair — as popularized by the Beatles — is likely to tangle in factory machines, the council warned.

LBJ Planning a Quiet Month in July

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington: LBJ's TRAVELS: After two busy months of traveling and speaking, President Johnson is expected to spend most of July at the White House.

There are no travel plans on his announced schedule for the month, and aides said only two or three out-of-town engagements are being discussed. The President may make a brief trip to his Texas ranch for the July 4 weekend.

One factor that may be influencing the President's travel plans is the Republican National Convention, which opens in San Francisco July 13 and will likely dominate the news for at least one week. Associates say it is only a coincidence that Johnson has no speaking dates during this period.

DEBT: President Johnson's signature has put the temporary national debt limit at $324 billion—until a year from today.

If Johnson had not signed the bill Monday, the limit would have dropped automatically to the old temporary limit of $309 billion today and to its permanent limit of $285 billion at midnight tonight.

The actual federal debt now stands at $312 billion.

PAY ROLL: Total federal employment dropped 3,555 in May compared with April, a Senate-House committee reported today.

The total number of civilian employees was listed as 2,476,791 in May by the Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures. The biggest cuts were in the civilian pay roll of the Defense Department.

He deplored a recent Supreme Court decision striking down a provision of the 1950 Internal Security Act banning the issuance of passports to members of organizations required to register as Communist groups.

Mundt gave no details of the new legislation he plans to introduce.

PASSPORTS: Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D., said today he is preparing new legislation to prevent Communists from obtaining passports.

Pontiac Woman Stands Mute on Murder Charge

A Pontiac woman accused in the shotgun slaying of a man who she said attacked her husband stood mute yesterday to a second-degree murder charge.

Arraigned before Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore was Mrs. Mozelle K. Poe, 48, of 306 S. Edith. She was released on $1,000 bond pending trial, for which no date was set.

Mrs. Poe is charged with firing a shotgun blast which resulted in the death of Leon Cobb, 44, no known address, on May 30.

The woman told police she fired at Cobb when he tried to enter her home after she chased him out for beating her husband, Joseph, 59.

Elly Peterson Sees Barry's Nomination

JONIA (AP) — Mrs. Elly Peterson of Charlotte sees "in all probability" a first-ballot nomination of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., for president at the Republican national convention next month.

"His delegates are firmly pledged to him and are not wishy-washy," she said in a taped radio (WION) interview here Tuesday night.

Mrs. Peterson is assistant chairman of the Republican National Committee and a candidate for GOP nomination for U.S. senator from Michigan.

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — A Savannah man, Albert L. McCoy, found that fixing flat tires can be dangerous—even at a service station.

He was inflating a tractor tire when it exploded, sending him to the hospital with head injuries.

It was the explosion that injured his head, but the gas tank he fell against.

By Waterford Twp. Board

Ask Study of Library's Future

Waterford Township Board members last night authorized the township library's advisory committee to conduct a study to determine if the library should continue as an affiliated unit or operate alone.

Presently the library is affiliated with the North Oakland Library Cooperative (NOLC). This contract expires at the end of the year.

The options are to renew with NOLC, become affiliated with the Wayne County Library system or function as an independent unit.

In order to provide for a possible change in the present status, the township will submit a termination notice to NOLC six months before the contract expiration.

By meeting this requirement, the Waterford Library will be free either to renew its NOLC contract in January or choose one of the other two alternatives.

CONTRACT SIGNED

A one-year contract with NOLC was signed last January when the library was established.

The library is located at the Community Activities Inc. building.

A library building is under construction, however, and will be completed early next year.

In other business at last night's brief meeting, the board awarded the contract for workmen's compensation and general liability insurance coverage for employees to the lowest of five bidders.

The contract went to Hardwood Mutual which bid $8,303 for the one-year coverage.

PERMIT GRANTED

Also last night the board approved a circuit permit for the Pontiac Lions Club for a two-performance show Aug. 13 at The Mall.

In other business the board voted to refund a $54.86 fee for a building permit that was never used to do underground soil conditions.

The board set July 23 from 1 to 5 p.m. as the date of the annual-employee picnic.

A zoning board hearing on the proposed rezoning of a parcel at Crescent Lake Road north of M59 for an apartment development will be held July 8 rather than July 12 as announced earlier.

Charge Man With Killing Little Leaguer

BOYLSTON, Mass. (AP) — The 12-year-old pitcher of a Little League baseball team was shot to death for trespassing on an elderly man's property, police said today.

Richard Beauregard was killed Monday when he hit the back of a slug from a 30-30 rifle.

Carl Anderson, 67, a retired merchant seaman, was charged with murder.

Police said seven boys including Richard and his twin brother, Robert, were on Anderson's property near the victim's home. Anderson had complained to police recently about boys trespassing on his land, they said.

Summertime Fete Fixed for Aug. 5 by Area C. of C.

Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce annual outing will be Aug. 5 at the Pontiac Country Club.

The affair will feature golf, door prizes, entertainment and a dinner.

Official starting time for the festivities is 9:30 a.m., with dinner scheduled for 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

Members who plan to play golf are asked to contact the Country Club for tee-off time.

Master of ceremonies for the dinner program will be Sid Yudin, editor of the Washington, D.C., Roll Call.

COMEDY ASSURED

Comedian Mark Russell, also of Washington, will furnish the entertainment.

Reaching Moon May Be Minor Benefit

U.S. Space Effort Affects Living and Thinking

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two articles on the 1975 revolution in the United States.)

By RAY CROMLEY

NE WORELAN S.—(NEA)—The Industrial Revolution of the 19th Century not only changed our way of living but our way of thinking. And today, what can be called the Space Revolution is doing the same thing.

Paradoxically, reaching the moon may become a minor benefit of the U.S. space program. The effort of this will be felt in industry, medicine, education and national defense.

At the Saturn-Apollo moon-trip plants here and in Los Angeles, this judgment is reinforced in many ways:

A doctor plays a round of golf with a space engineer on a Saturday afternoon. They discuss how an astronaut's body processes are monitored.

The result, a new method of measuring how a man's heart is doing and thus a better way to forestall heart attacks.

NEW IDEAS

An engineer working in a space rocket plant is transferred back to his company's civilian products factory. The result, recommendations for a revolutionary new management system that will speed work, lower costs and increase reliability.

A psychologist works with space animals, developing methods to teach them what they need to know to operate in space. Result, a new method for the simplified teaching of languages to school children.

Work at a crystal-growing laboratory may result in a complete new family of metals.

The real importance of the space races does not lie in the thousands of new gadgets and improvements in civilian goods that will result from the space effort.

NEW ATTITUDE

Instead, the importance lies in a new attitude now slowly developing through U.S. industry, in the schools, among medical men and the military.

That attitude shows up in these ways:

A sharply increased respect for the importance of research and education.

An increased tendency in industry, schools and among military officers to latch on to new ideas and better ways of doing things.

A new respect for the man who will use his initiative and come out with new thoughts and new ideas, regardless of how much or how little education he may have.

A tendency to translate concepts and ways of doing things learned in the space business into other solutions. This trend shows up in a new way of operating a company cafeteria, a radical new method of constructing factory buildings.

Talk to a young mathematical engineer, an expert on stresses in spacecraft.

He might talk for one minute about space. Then his mind and his talk darts to the problems of management, or to a new solution to the parking jam or to new ideas for solving a particular problem in medicine or juvenile delinquency.

The creative demands of the space contest are creating a large group of mentally active men and women whose minds are so stirred up by space they will jump automatically into any new problem at work, home, church or school.

Likewise, an observer at the nation's space plants finds that military payoffs of the space race will be great.

PARTIAL SOLUTIONS

Because of the space program, partial solutions are in sight for the inaccuracy problems plaguing the big intercontinental missiles.

The major concern: radiation from enemy nuclear blasts might destroy the electronic function of the big ICBMs; when launched they'd fly erratically and not reach target.

Experiments with space satellites carrying sensitive equipment for long periods in high-radiation zones are giving researchers new insight on how to deal with this radiation headache.

Research satellites are making it possible to determine the earth's gravitational field with greater accuracy. Gravity has a direct influence on the flight of the ICBMs and must be known precisely along the bird's path in order to achieve the accuracies required.

PRECISE DATA

Findings also provide more accurate ties between existing maps and more precise locations of major points on the globe. This means U.S. intercontinental missiles can be more accurately aimed.

There will be other military payoffs:

Knowledge of how to protect Apollo astronauts from space radiation will give military designers some new ideas on how to design battlefield tanks to protect the crew against nuclear radiation.

Concentrated diets being developed for astronauts will provide the know-how for developing light food packs for guerrilla infiltration teams which must travel lean and light.

LARGER WARHEADS

Development of the Saturn V booster will make it possible for the United States to construct an intercontinental ballistic missile capable of carrying larger warheads.

The work on maneuverability and reentry will make possible a near-earth military space plane.

Development of sensitive techniques for detection of microbial activities on the moon will assist in developing equipment for the battlefield detection of biological warfare attacks.

CORVAIR MONZA by Chevrolet

Great way to wind up a road...great time to buy one!

Great as a Corvair Monza is at winding up roads, it's almost as good as a two-week vacation at unwinding you.

Part of the kick of driving one comes from those sporty good looks and jazzy deep-cushioned bucket seats. But Corvair's famous rear engine is really behind it all.

The engine weight over the rear wheels helps Corvair stick to the road like glue, come hills or hairpins, so you can travel care-free anywhere. (If you don't want to stick to a road, a Corvair can go places even bulldozers have never been through. How anywhere can you get?)

With no big heavy engine up front to steer around, Corvair

is so easy to handle we don't even make power steering for it.

And the engine's air cooled. You can cross deserts without ever worrying about water (know many people besides camel drivers who can make that statement?)

There are lots of other good reasons to buy a Corvair Monza. Like a choice of 95 or 110* hp and its smooth four-wheel independent suspension. (Starting to feel unwound already?)

Then there's June, a great time to get in on a whole summer full of fun ahead. And Trade 'N' Travel Time, a great time to get in on a beautiful buy at your Chevrolet dealer's.

You couldn't really ask for two nicer reasons, now could you?

Man Is Questioned on Break-In Try

A Pontiac man was being held for questioning of attempted breaking and entering of the Liberty Bar, 85 N. Saginaw, early today.

Gary M. Williams, 24, of 329 E. Pike was arrested at his home shortly after patrolmen David L. Schroeder and Raymond Dickinson saw a man jump from the roof of the bar and then found Williams' car behind the bar.

Williams told police he was drinking and admitted going to the roof of the bar to break in about 3 a.m.

$50,000 Building Eyed for County Credit Union

Construction of a $50,000 office building for Oakland County Employee's Credit Union at the County Service Center is being considered.

County Engineer Joseph Joachim is looking for a suitable site for the proposed building before any proposal is brought before the County Board of Supervisors' Buildings and Grounds Committee for a recommendation.

The proposal already has become the subject of controversy among county employees who are members of the credit union.

Several have expressed opinions that the credit union should remain in its present rent-free quarters in the county's courthouse administrative wing, rather than spend money for a separate building.

The credit union's elected president, Herbert Radunz of the sheriff's department, declined to comment.

Service Station Has Real Georgia Flavor

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP)—The operator of a service station at Savannah has planted a collar patch beside his station to attract tourists.

The operator, Jack Rhodes, says tourists by the dozens stop to have a look at the greens. He says the patch gives his station "a real Georgia flavor."

Is County a Boaters' Dream or Nightmare?

By JIM LONG

With its more than 400 lakes, Oakland County is a boater's dream.

It can also be a nightmare if common sense and good judgment are not practiced, says Lt. Donald Kratt, director of the sheriff's office water safety division.

Educating the owners of more than 70,000 power crafts registered in the county is an important part of the division's duties.

Enforcement of the regulations is the job of 40 special water deputies.

To emphasize the responsibilities that go along with boating, this week has been proclaimed nationally as Safe Boating Week.

LIMITLESS PLEASURE

"While limitless pleasure is afforded to boaters, the dangers, through carelessness, can not be minimized," said Kratt, whose office recorded 27 boating accidents and three fatalities in 1963, an increase in both categories over the preceding year.

A new policy for boating violators has been inaugurated this year by the division, with the cooperation of local justices of the peace and prosecutor's office.

"Instead of slapping them with a fine," Kratt explained, "they are ordered to attend one three-hour class on boating safety at the county jail."

Court costs have to be paid, however, and the pilot program does not apply to those found guilty of drunk driving.

OPEN TO ALL

Kratt said the sessions, conducted from 7 to 10 p.m. the first Monday of each month, is open to anyone and not just to those who have broken the law.

In addition to patrolling the lakes, marine deputies inspect vessels to insure that they are equipped in accordance with the state requirements.

A Michigan State Police study showed that of the 88 lives lost in boating accidents last year, at least 48 might have been saved if there had been life preservers for the passengers.

Motorboats should be properly equipped with lights, anchor, fire extinguisher, and some rescue devices such as a ring buoy and line for emergencies.

Because accidents may happen despite the best intentions, safety officials urge that boat operators and at least one family member know how to apply some method of resuscitation.

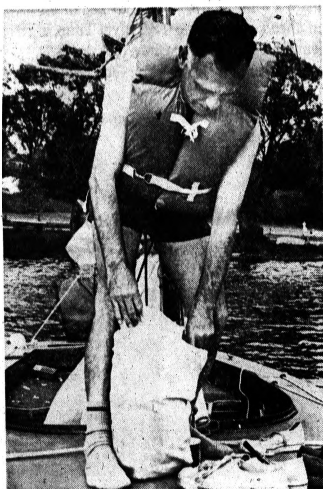

One of the best ways to learn more about boating is to join the thousands who annually take part in some sort of formal education in things nautical.

Here are some of the places where such instruction is available: The Coast Guard Auxiliary offers one-, three- and eight-lesson courses in boating; the 12-lesson course is piloting, seamanship and small boat handling presented by the U.S. Power Squadron is open to the public; and the Red Cross has one-hour dry-land demonstrations on required and recommended equipment, as well as a small craft course.

WIDE ANGLE — Lt. Donald Kratt and water deputy Basil Elwell are reflected in a 170 degree rear view mirror. This type of mirror must be used when no observer is aboard a craft to watch a water skier being towed. There are standard skiing signals that the water enthusiast should learn to insure maximum safety.

PROTECTION — A U.S. Coast Guard approved life jacket is modeled by William Arthur, 100 Spokane. The vest will last many years if given reasonable care. They should not be tossed about, used as fenders or cushions, or roughly treated. Jackets with any serial numbers beginning with any numbers other than 160 are not approved for sale and should be reported to the sheriff's department.

STAY AWAY — A red flag with a diagonal white stripe like the one being displayed by water deputy Robert Dearth informs boaters that divers are in the area and water craft must not come within 100 feet of the signal. Divers are required by state law to display the warning flag.

MANDATORY — Motorboats of closed or semi-closed construction and less than 26 feet in length must have a B-1 type fire extinguisher of the type being held up by water deputy Robert Crowden. All enclosures should be properly ventilated to keep the possibility of gathering fumes at a minimum. These fumes are easily ignited with terrific and tragic explosions resulting.

MAKESHIFT SIGNAL — Lakeside property owners wanting to contact a water deputy for any reason can attract his attention by waving any white material, in this case a pillow case attached to an ear. Several of the patrol boats used by water deputies do not have two-way radios and the white flag is the only way they can be notified from shore in an emergency.

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward R. Noble

SAFETY ZONE — A new, standard type water marker to keep boats out of swimming areas is shown by Lt. Donald Kratt. Next year, the plastic marker will replace the old barrel buoys such as those shown in the background. Boaters must stay 100 feet away from the markers. Moving or damaging the markers is an offense punishable by law.

Boating Fun Is Wonderful if You Follow Safety Rules

- Know your boat
- Don't overload
- Keep a good lookout
- Operate at safe speeds
- Respect the weather
- Be courteous and careful
- Take sufficient fuel
- Keep your boat in shape
- Carry necessary equipment
- Secure your boat properly
- Obey the law

LIFE PRESERVER — Lt. Donald Kratt demonstrates the proper method of using a buoyant cushion as a safety device. One leg is placed through a loop of the Coast Guard approved cushion while the opposite arm is put through the other loop. Cushions should be checked periodically as they lose buoyancy through constant use as seats.

LBJ Tells of New Pact to Extend Atomic Information to NATO

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson today notified Congress types of atomic information that he has approved a United States may give to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and its member nations. The new agreement supersedes an earlier one, under which NATO and its members have been receiving some atomic information for the past several years.

In notifying Congress of the new agreement, Johnson said the expanded area of information is needed to make effective use of nuclear delivery systems being provided by this country under bilateral procedures and agreements that followed creation of NATO atomic stockpiles in 1957.

Also, Johnson said, the new agreement will permit NATO member countries to share information that this country has been exchanging only with the NATO organization itself, under a 1955 agreement.

'MORE EFFECTIVE'
"This will make these countries' roles in alliance planning in the nuclear field more effective," Johnson said. He said the new agreement "represents a logical and useful step in our continuing and varied efforts to ensure wider allied participation in NATO nuclear defenses."

Furthermore, Johnson said, "Such wider participation is necessary on both military and political grounds. It is needed to enhance the effectiveness of NATO defenses. On political grounds, it is needed to reinforce NATO cohesion in meeting our allies' legitimate desire to make a constructive contribution to nuclear defense."

Under the Atomic Energy Act, the Joint House-Senate Atomic Energy Committee must have

30 days' notice before the agreement can go into effect. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, had recommended that the President approve the broadening agreement.

In a memorandum to Johnson, they stressed that the new agreement makes clear that there will be no transfer of atomic weapons or atomic war-pons systems involving restricted data.

Experts said this provision would rule out any information or equipment that would help make any NATO member an independent nuclear power.

LA Housewife Fatally Injured by Bomb at Door

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Police say the blast which maimed and fatally wounded a young housewife came from a bomb planted at her back door.

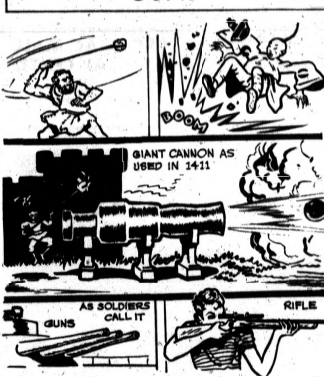

Crime laboratory experts discovered Monday that when Sandra De La Pena, 22, unlocked a screen door Sunday morning, it set off a bomb which blew off her hands and one foot. She died 90 minutes later.

Mrs. De La Pena had just placed a warm bottle in the crib of her year-old son and was opening the door for her husband, Albert, 25, a fireman, who was due home from work soon, police said. The baby and an older child escaped injury. Police have determined no motive for the bombing.

Injuries Prove Fatal

DALLAS (AP)—Steven Mitchell Posey, 9, of Inkster, Mich., died Monday of injuries received on a diving accident last Tuesday at a city pool.

Junior Editors Quiz on GUNS

QUESTION: Who invented the gun?

ANSWER: When primitive man found he could propel a stone fast and far by whirling it around on a bit of sinew and then letting it go, he created one of the first projectile weapons.

Invention of gun-powder, which would shoot a projectile through a barrel much faster than it could be thrown, was the next step.

The ancient Chinese are often thought to have invented gunpowder, which is a mixture of saltpeter, sulphur and charcoal. In 1242 Roger Bacon of Oxford University in England wrote a book giving directions for making gunpowder. The first guns, made in early 1300's, were cannons, which often used large round stones as cannonballs.

Later, large cannons were cast of bronze, such as the monster we show, which fired a projectile weighing 700 pounds.

Although "gun" is often used to mean all firearms, the armed forces only use it to refer to artillery cannon or pieces on solid foundations of wheels. A soldier would say John is aiming his rifle, not his gun.

FOR YOU TO DO: Do you know the difference between a rifle and a shotgun? This would be an interesting thing for you to find out.

Plane Crash Injures Brother and Sister

CHARDON, Ohio (AP)—A brother and a sister were injured Monday night when their single-engine plane overshot a runway and slammed into a cluster of trees at the Chagrin Falls Airport in South Russell. The sheriff's office said the plane's left wing sheared off one tree and the impact ripped off the engine and the nose, leaving the front seats exposed.

Trapped in the wreckage for a short time were the pilot, Douglas Bunce, 36, of Los Alamitos, N.M., and his passenger, Mrs. Patricia Kanno, 34, of Whitehall, Mich.

'64 Presidential Politics Handicaps Administration

Red Bosses in Asia May Misread Washington's Warnings

WASHINGTON (AP)—There is less Red China war talk inside the administration than there is outside.

This is causing a certain public confusion because the warnings of possible major conflict in the Far East are not supported by information on when, where and under what circumstances the conflict might begin.

There is a greater danger than home-front misunderstanding, however, because the Communist leaders in China and North Viet Nam may themselves misread the warnings which President Johnson and his associates are trying to send them. For them particularly, the central question is whether they believe what they are being told.

The administration is dealing with a fine line between bluntness and bluster in its efforts

The major foreign policy issue for Johnson in the forthcoming campaign — in his opinion is "peace." By this the President and his advisers mean the issues involved and the results obtained in the gradual lowering of temperatures between the Soviet Union and the United States or, more broadly, the Western allies and the Soviet bloc.

The results on which he relies for evidence of achievement by his peace policy and that of the late President John F. Kennedy include the year-old treaty putting a limited ban on nuclear weapons tests, the Washington-Moscow hot line, the nearly completed removal of Soviet troops from Cuba and the new U.S.-Soviet consular convention.

The President may also cite the sale of wheat to the Soviet Union last fall as evidence of U.S. good will when a realistic deal is offered and one that provides "peace." The heart of his argument is that the world is a safer place to live in than it was a few years ago.

NO PEACE

In Southeast Asia, however, there is no peace and in fact the Chinese faction of the Communist movement is on the march. Pathet Lao forces, backed by Chinese-supported troops from North Viet Nam, are fighting the forces of the Neutralist government of Laos, which the Russians and the Red Chinese once pledged to support.

In South Viet Nam, Red guerrillas trained, armed and directed from North Viet Nam are struggling to take over the anti-Communist south where defense forces are trained, armed and supported by the United States.

The problem, which the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk have been wrestling with is how to handle these wars and forestall the larger conflicts which might spring from them while building up the "peace" argument in domestic politics without letting the Red leaders get the idea that the United States has gone soft.

To Ask Study of Low Water

States, Provinces Seek Federal Help

TORONTO (AP)—Officials of two Canadian provinces and eight American states affected by the low water level of the Great Lakes decided Monday to call on their respective federal governments to launch immediately a special and comprehensive study of the problem.

The Canadian and U.S. governments will be asked to have the study of the whole area of water management undertaken by the International Joint Commission, which has jurisdiction over border waters.

The one-day conference, called by the Ontario government because of the current acute concern over the low water, also indicated it will meet again later to hear to progress report.

A statement issued after the meeting said, too, that the two provinces involved—Ontario and Quebec—offered to cooperate fully with the Great Lakes Commission, made up of representatives of the eight lake-bordering U.S. states in attendance at the meeting.

CALL ON JOHNSON

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois told newsmen he intends to call on President Johnson and suggest that a federal appropriation be made for a study of the problem.

Kerner said more water must be diverted into the Great Lakes and it appeared it would have to be Canadian water not being otherwise used.

Indiana Gov. Matthew E. Welch said "I think the federal governments will become interested when there is sufficient interest generated at the local level." The support of the state and provincial governments is needed, he added.

The other U.S. states represented were Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.

Boy, 16, Drowns

CEMENT CITY (AP)—Ronald Hoffman, 16, of Manitou Beach, drowned in Silver Lake three miles south of here Monday after wading into a 10-foot drop-off. Lenawee County sheriff's skin divers recovered the body.

to get its message through to the Red Chinese leaders whose actions in the months ahead could very well bring on the war.

ONE PROBLEM

The difficulty with which Johnson and his associates are handicapped is that in this summer of presidential politics there is a potential, if not already existing, conflict between Johnson's foreign policy needs and his domestic political concerns, as seen by people close to him.

Niseis Will Honor War Hero Comrade

DETROIT (AP)—Ben Kuroki will be honored Friday, 20 years after he earned his birthright the hard way.

The tribute will come from other Niseis at the 18th biennial convention of the Japanese American Citizens League in Detroit.

While 110,000 Japanese Americans were being interned on the West Coast during World War II, Kuroki enlisted in the U. S. Army Air Force.

He faced suspicion of comrades. His parents in Gothenburg, Neb., were victims of unfortunate propaganda designed to build American morale against Japan. He said one of his brothers was discharged from the Air Force because he was of Japanese extraction.

"It's hard to remember the atmosphere then," said Kuroki. "People were gripped by wartime hysteria. Propaganda whipped them up. There were cartoons on street corners of buck-toothed Japanese soldiers—the enemy."

Kuroki served as a gunner in the European Theater. He flew 25 combat missions, then volunteered for five more including a near disastrous air raid on the Romanian oil fields at Ploesti.

He was decorated for valor after the raid and volunteered for duty in the Pacific. This assignment had to be cleared by Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson because of Kuroki's ancestry.

Kuroki went on to fly 28 missions in the Pacific, including bombing raids on Tokyo and Yokohama.

His medals included the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal with five oak leaf clusters.

Now owner and publisher of the weekly Williamston Enterprise, and the Meridian News which he purchased in 1955, Kuroki lives with his wife, Shige, and three "society editor" daughters in Williamston, a community of 2,200 some 15 miles east of Lansing.

REV. HORACE JAMES

Church Names New Official

Serving Methodist Post in Rochester

ROCHESTER — New associate minister of education and evangelism at St. Paul's Methodist Church is Rev. Horace James of Harbor Beach.

Appointed by Bishop Marshall Reed at last week's session of the church's annual conference, Rev. James moved to Rochester Saturday.

The new minister has already assumed his duties at the local church and will preach during the July services.

A native of Cornwall, England, he is living here with his wife Phyllis and their two children at 355 Maywood.

A graduate of Albion College with a bachelor of arts degree, the new associate minister also has a bachelor of divinity degree from Oberlin School of Graduate Studies, Oberlin, Ohio.

Rev. James began his ministry in Gaines and has served pastorates in Munith, Harrisville, Williamston, Tecumseh, Capac and Harbor Beach.

His general responsibilities in the church will be to direct the program of evangelism and youth work, as well as to have general supervision of the church's educational program.

Rev. James has been active in PTA and the Lions Club, as well as in summer camp work.

Bang-Up 4th to Liven Area

5 Communities Plan Displays on Saturday

S-s-s-s-s BOOM! Thus will five area communities mark the Fourth of July Saturday night.

Fireworks displays are planned at dusk or shortly thereafter in Auburn Heights, Keego Harbor, Rochester and Milford.

A 7 p.m. demonstration by the Pontiac Township Fire Department will kick off festivities at the Auburn Heights Elementary School, 260 Squirrel.

The fire department, Auburn Heights Lions Club and Hill-Gazette Post No. 143, American Legion, are cosponsoring the fireworks display which will follow.

KEEGO PLANS

The Cunningham Park Association will hold its annual display about 9 p.m. in Cunningham Park at the end of Beechmont in Keego Harbor.

Rochester volunteer firemen will supervise and stage the show at Rochester High School, 130 Livernois.

Sponsored through contributions of local businesses and industry, the demonstration is scheduled to begin at dusk.

The Milford celebration is slated for the Avalyn Johnson Elementary School on General Motors Road.

DISPLAY SPONSORS

The 8:30 p.m. display is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, Milford Fire Department, Milford Village, Milford Township and Highland Township.

In Troy, Bishop Gallagher Council, Knights of Columbus, will display fireworks at Hansen's Park.

Teen Drowns in Kent Lake

A 14-year-old Royal Oak boy drowned yesterday afternoon in Kent Lake at the Island Lake State Park, Livingston County.

The body of Benny A. Tata, 1118 Woodman, was recovered at 3:45 p.m. by skin divers, trooper Paul D. Palmer of the Brighton State police post and Medward Tessier of the Oakland County Sheriff's Office.

It was the fourth drowning in Kent Lake this year, three of them in Oakland County.

Commerce Church Sets Schedule for Summer

Romney Urges Progress Platform

GOP Leaders Discuss Issue

'Pick Candidate Who Believes'—Governor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Michigan Gov. George W. Romney, conferring with key party leaders, Monday urged a progressive 1964 Republican platform and a "candidate who believes" in it.

Senate leader Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., who spent 45 minutes with Romney, said the governor primarily talked of his contention that the platform should take a stand against monopolistic tendencies in the labor management field.

Dirksen said he told Romney he felt the platform would carry "a general statement on civil rights in conformity with the action taken in Congress" on the civil rights bill.

Romney argued for this saying: "We ought to clearly say the bill is constitutional."

The governor, who was to meet with Sen. Barry Goldwater today in Lansing, denied he was trying to stop the Arizona senator from getting the presidential nomination.

"There was no discussion of presidential candidates," said Dirksen.

Romney called for a party platform that "goes forward from the 1960 platform — not backward," and added that the important thing is to decide on "purposes, principles and methods and then select a candidate who will adhere to them and carry them out."

Romney breakfasted with congressional leaders from Michigan after flying to Washington Sunday. After talking with Dirksen, he had lunch with Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., and arranged a conference with GOP platform committee chairman Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin.

He expressed no surprise at President Johnson's large audience—including industrial leaders—at a $100-a-dollar-a-plate Democratic dinner last Friday.

Democrats have traditionally "kicked business around," he said, and President Johnson's friendly attitude was "such a refreshing experience they all want to take a look at him."

Communion Rite Set

ROCHESTER — St. Philip's Episcopal Church will hold a communion service 9 a.m. July 4. Rev. Wilbur R. Schutz announced today.

Miss Romeo Entries Due in Only 2 Days

ROME—A last-minute warning is being sounded today!

Only two days remain for candidates to enter the Miss Romeo contest to be staged Thursday night.

To date seven area lovelies have indicated their intention to vie for the coveted local crown, according to Mrs. Anthony Yurenka, contest chairman.

Theme of this year's competition, to be held at the Romeo Community Center, is "A Midsummer Night's Dream." It was picked to mark the 400th anniversary of William Shakespeare's birth.

Winner of the title at the 8 p.m. event will receive a scholarship to John Robert Powers Finishing School in Detroit and a complete outfit for street wear. In addition, she will be Romeo's entry in the Peach Queen contest early in August.

Dick McLean will again serve as master of ceremonies this year.

He will interview each girl individually when she appears first in street dress, then give her a question to answer extemporaneously when she comes back in formal attire.

Serving as judges will be Mrs. Betty Levick, secretary of the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce; Robert Kates of the John Robert Powers Finishing School, Detroit, and Walter Morgan, president of life photographic Society of the Scarab Club, Detroit.

They will rate each contestant on poise, personality, grooming, beauty and ability to speak before an audience.

Entrants in the competition to date are Betty Abbott, Marie Ojala, Kathy Bliss, Paula Brooks, Virgie Presley, Jerry Yeaman and Pamela Cumming.

No replacement has been named for Rev. McCurry, who has served the First Baptist Church here for five and a half years.

Rev. McCurry, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McCurry of 86 Marquette, Pontiac, is a graduate of Trinity College and Eastern Michigan University.

He experienced conversion in the First Baptist Church of Pontiac under ministry of Dr. H. H. Savage and was licensed to preach by that church after graduation.

Rev. McCurry worked in the Baxter Mission of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac and in the youth and music work of the Gingelville Baptist Church.

AFTER SERVICE

Following military service, Rev. McCurry was called to the pastorate of the First Baptist Church of Davisburg, where he was ordained.

He and Mrs. McCurry, also a Trinity graduate, have two daughters, Carol, 9, and Karen, 8.

Blasts Romney on Districting

DETROIT (AP)—George N. Higgins, a Republican gubernatorial candidate, blamed Republican Gov. George Romney Monday for "trapping Michigan into the most outrageous apportionment system in the history of American elections."

Higgins, a Ferndale auto dealer and former state senator, said in a statement Romney's role as a state president of the Constitutional Convention resulted in a "repugnant gerrymandering of legislative districts."

He said the plan advocated by Romney and placed in the new State Constitution called for an eight-member legislative apportionment commission, made up of four Republicans and four Democrats, to draw up state districts.

If a majority of the commission failed to agree, the plan called for letting the State Supreme Court choose an apportionment scheme.

The nine-member citizen group was originally formed to work on the civil service ordinance last fall.

The ordinance, adopted March 12, gives all city employees civil service status.

With this ordinance, Troy has Act 78, the state law which provides civil service for police and firemen, passed in the April 6 election.

named for Rev. McCurry, who has served the First Baptist Church here for five and a half years.

Rev. McCurry, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. McCurry of 86 Marquette, Pontiac, is a graduate of Trinity College and Eastern Michigan University.

He experienced conversion in the First Baptist Church of Pontiac under ministry of Dr. H. H. Savage and was licensed to preach by that church after graduation.

Rev. McCurry worked in the Baxter Mission of the First Baptist Church of Pontiac and in the youth and music work of the Gingelville Baptist Church.

Troy Ends Civil Service Study Unit

TROY — The Troy Commission last night dissolved the Civil Service Study Committee.

Now that the committee has completed its job of studying all aspects of civil service and has reported its findings to the commission, the commission feels there is no longer any purpose in the committee's existence.

The nine-member citizen group was originally formed to work on the civil service ordinance last fall.

The ordinance, adopted March 12, gives all city employees civil service status.

With this ordinance, Troy has Act 78, the state law which provides civil service for police and firemen, passed in the April 6 election.

Crops-Soils Field Day Set July 8

"The latest scientific advances in crop varieties, weed control and fertilizer practices will be demonstrated at the 1964 Crops-Soils Field Day at Michigan State University July 8."

In all, there will be 14 tour stops during the special event, which will be held on the south campus, just off Mt. Hope Road.

Signs have been posted to direct farmers to the field plots.

Among the demonstrations being highlighted during the Crops-Soils Field Day are:

• Plowing 22 inches deep to improve soil mixing and boost corn yields.

• Demonstration plots of two new varieties—Cochman and Ausable—which are plumper and higher yielding than any varieties now available to Michigan growers.

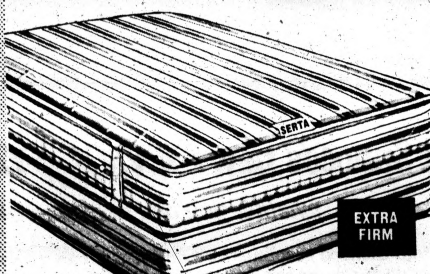

• Field trials of three annual forage crops that can give farmers five tons or more of yields per year: sudangrass, sorgum-sudangrass hybrids and thickly-planted corn (100,000 plants per acre).

• Explanation and demonstration of the alfalfa varieties and management needed to get five to six tons of alfalfa a year.

Three Tigers Named to All-Star Squad

Kaline, Lumpe, Freehan Added by Al Lopez

Al Selected for 10th Time; Shea Stadium Site of Game

BOSTON (AP)—Three members of the Detroit Tigers were among the latest players named to the American League All-Star squad by manager Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox.

The AL team includes the top nine hitters in the league and is complete except for the eight-man pitching staff.

Detroit players named to the team were Al Kaline, a terror in past mid-season classics, catcher Bill Freehan and second baseman Jerry Lumpe.

Lopez, as did National pilot Walter Alston, followed the players' balloting down the line in naming his second choices. Lopez also added first baseman-outfielder Joe Pepitone of the New York Yankees "because he can play two positions."

Lopez will announce his pitching selections Wednesday night. The game will be played July 7 at New York's Shea Stadium.

ALL PITCHERS

Chicago, now in third place but in the thick of the pennant fight all season, failed to place a man among the 17 non-pitchers. So did Cleveland and Kansas City. Since all teams have to be represented, Lopez must consider that factor in his pitching picks.

Kaline was selected for the 10th time—second only to Mickey Mantle's 13. In 12 All-Star contests, Kaline has batted .345 with two homers and six RBI.

First baseman Norm Siebern and shortstop Luis Aparicio were named Baltimore.

Boston third baseman Frank Malzone, outfielders Jimmy Hall of Washington and Peppitone also were named.

Previously announced as starters were Elston Howard, of the Yankees; rookie Tony Oliva, Harmon Killebrew and Bob Allison of the Twins; Baltimore third baseman Brooks Robinson and Los Angeles shortstop Jim Fregosi.

Hinton, Freehan and Kaline are among the leading nine league batsmen along with starters Allison, Oliva, Robinson, Fregosi, Mantle and Howard.

Crown playing the heavy emphasis on youth in the voting by the 281 players, coaches and managers.

Freehan, Hall and Peppitone are AL sophomores, along with Fregosi. Hinton is in his third full season.

Relief Pitcher Face Finds Fame Fading

By the Associated Press
The flame in Erloy Face's fork ball appears to be flickering. As a result, he's not putting out fires the way he once did.

Face, not long ago one of the top relief pitchers in the majors, was rocked again Monday night in Pittsburgh's 7-4 loss to the ninth-place Los Angeles Dodgers.

Face suffered his third loss in five decisions and had his earned run average soar to 5.23 for 22 games.

Face's showing followed a painful pattern that has developed for the man who won 17 straight games in relief in 1959 and who has averaged 61 appearances a season for the past eight years.

In other National League games Monday, New York edged San Francisco 4-3, Houston trounced Philadelphia 6-1, Milwaukee downed St. Louis, 7-4 and Cincinnati whipped Chicago 6-1.

Frank Howard drove in three runs for the Dodgers, including the winning one in the eighth inning. He also homered. The Pirates, down 5-1, had rallied for a tie on two errors by third baseman Derrell Griffith, two wild pitches by Bob Miller, walk and singles by Donn Clendenon, Bill Mazeroski, Bob Bailey and Manny Mota.

Jesse Gonder's two-run homer in the ninth off Bob Bolin lifted the Mets to their fifth victory in 10 games with the league-leading Giants. The blow followed a one-out walk to Larry Elliott. Jim Harb belted four hits, including a fourth-inning homer, for the Giants.

Bob Aspromonte's hitting and Bob Bruce's pitching led Houston over Philadelphia. Aspromonte climaxed a five-run first inning with his second grand slam homer of the season.

Elsewhere in the AL Monday Baltimore stretched its winning streak to seven games with a 6-3 victory over Minnesota. Chicago topped Cleveland 5-1 in 10 innings and Washington defeated Detroit 5-3. New York and Los Angeles were not scheduled.

Robinson Roberts survived two solo home runs by Tony Oliva and Harmon Killebrew's 28th circuit as the Orioles extended their league lead to 4 1/2 games over the idle Yankees.

Norm Siebern hammered a two-run shot for the Orioles, who have won 10 of their last 11 games in their drive to the top.

Walled Lake (4-6) and Milford (6-2) divided a twinnish with WL winning the opener, 4-3, and losing the second game, 5-1.

Berkley (5-3) took two from Southfield (0-8), 7-3 and 3-2.

Tracy came up with three runs in the sixth inning of the first game in downing Farmington, 3-0, and Farmington (7-1) came back to take the nightcap, 7-2.

Lefties Give U. S. Net Ace Some Woes

McKinley Wins Match but Struggles Into Semifinals

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—"Things aren't getting any easier for Chuck McKinley in defense of his Wimbledon tennis championship. They just seem that way."

After all, he has yet to face veteran Australian internationalist Fred Stolle and either top-seeded Roy Emerson or German upset-maker Wilhelm Bungert.

But they're all right-handed. And brash, bounding Chuck, has had his troubles with the lefties.

The San Antonio, Tex., star moved into Wednesday's semifinals with a struggling 6-3, 6-3, 4-6, 6-4 decision over unseeded Abie Segal of South Africa Monday.

So far the 23-year-old Texan has lost five sets. All but one have been to lefties. Last year he didn't lose a one on en route to the title.

Widespread reports circulated that this river side town will be hit on Saturday, which is the night of the finals, by large groups of the warring longhair brigade.

Several hotels made plans to close early. The police, although officially non-committal, drafted nearly 300 reserves into the town to take care of any violence.

The mods dress in ultra-fancy Italian styles, wear cosmetics and ride motor scooters. The rockers go in for leather jackets and motorcycles.

Clashes between the groups have terrorized several coastal resorts on recent holidays.

Bill Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif., and Nancy Richy of Dallas, the last remaining American girls, were scheduled to play Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones of England and Lesley Turner of Australia in today's women's quarter-finals.

DETROIT (AP)—Veteran hydroplane driver Bill Muncey pushed Notre Dame to 115.302 miles per hour on the Detroit River to lead six Gold Cup qualifiers Monday.

The Seattle, Wash., entry nosed out Miss Madison, an Indiana boat driven by Buddy Byers, which was clocked at 113.247.

Other Monday qualifiers included: Miss Eagle Electric, driven by Norm Evans, Spokane, Wash., 107.285; Miss Duwaine, Bob Schroeder, Tampa, Fla., 106.684; Miss U. S. V. Don Wilson, Detroit, 106.537; and Tahoe Miss, Chuck Thompson, Reno, Nev., 103.185.

A total of 16 boats, including defending champion Miss Bardahl, have until race time Sunday to make the minimum 90 miles per hour qualifying time. Monday's qualifiers have the option of improving their times to gain better pole positions, officials said.

AAU Holds 'Mechanized' Track Session

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP)—"Ladies and gentlemen," the public address system announced, "the automobiles are parked in the middle of the hammer throw area."

Which sounded like pretty good advice. Their owners apparently thought so, too, doubtless envisioning a series of 16 pound weights crashing into the hammer throw area.

"They should be removed before the start of competition,"

The announcement was the result of just one of a series of problems that beset officials at the National AAU Track and Field Championships last Saturday and Sunday, problems caused either directly or indirectly by the advance of mechanization.

And then there were the trial heats in the 100 meter dash and the 110 meter hurdles. They were using a new photo timer setup.

So the heats were run and the judges made their picks and the results announced. Reporters busily pounded out the word. Some time later the photos were consulted.

REAL COLOR

The results in two of the heats were juggled around a bit, prompting a series of highly interesting and extremely colorful comments, from the press section.

But the best one involved a hoist truck that was supposed to be used to put the pole vault bar into place. It's a pickup truck with a power-driven portable slatway attached, of the sort used by airlines for boarding planes.

So things were fine and dandy.

Except that as the pole competition moved into its fourth hour, its fifth, its sixth, and the bar moved up to 16 feet, then 16-4, then 16-8, then 17 feet, the truck wasn't being used.

Seems the truck driver had disappeared, apparently off to take a nap somewhere.

So officials crept cautiously and precariously up a teetering step-ladder each time the bar was moved up, and then there was business of measuring it.

Then Fred Hansen had the bar moved up to 17-6, almost out of sight in the gathering gloom at Rutgers University.

"The truck driver," a Rutgers official announced, "has been located and is now on his way to the stadium."

PLAY-BY-PLAY

Minutes later, after Hansen had missed once at 17-6, the announcement came: "The truck driver is entering his truck."

The suspense was almost unbearable. Will the drive the truck, or won't he?

He got out of the truck and walked around inspecting something. Then he fumbled with his keys. Back into the truck.

The driver is starting the truck," the official said.

A ragged cry went up from the sparse crowd still huddled in the darkness. He maneuvered quickly into place, the bar was set and measured and Hansen, stamping his feet at a world record level, missed two more times and everyone went home.

And the truck driver went back to sleep.

Why bother with old-fashioned hand-mixed outboard fuels?

Go-Mix
OUTBOARD FUEL

VALVOLINE
ITS HOMOGENIZED CONTAINS NO LEAD

Go modern with GO-MIX... world's first HOMOGENIZED gas-and-oil blend!

When you fuel with Valvoline GO-MIX you can forget hit-or-miss hand mixing. GO-MIX makes fueling more convenient than ever! No wonder GO-MIX has been widely acclaimed by marine dock operators and boating enthusiasts.

What's more, leading outboard engine manufacturers have given their unqualified endorsement of Valvoline GO-MIX. They know that this refinery blend of unleaded, high-energy marine gasoline and famous Valvoline Super Outboard Motor Oil offers you these important performance benefits:

LONGER ENGINE LIFE. Clean-burning Valvoline GO-MIX keeps carburetors gum-free, minimizes spark plug fouling and exhaust port plugging.

COMPLETE ENGINE PROTECTION. Used exclusively, Valvoline GO-MIX protects vital motor parts at all times, in storage or under severe operating conditions.

GREATER ENGINE DEPENDABILITY. Your motor will start faster, perform better and stay cleaner during all types of operation.

PLUS WONDERFUL CONVENIENCE! Put in Valvoline GO-MIX and go! No more bother with what-a-mess hand mixing. No more hit-or-miss blending when your tank is only partially full. You are assured of consistent quality and a stable, uniform blend that will not settle out!

So go modern with Valvoline GO-MIX! Available at a growing number of marinas, boat docks and service stations.

Orchard Lanes Ends Tie

Orchard Lanes pushed across two runs in the top of the eighth inning last night, as Bud & Larry's (6-3) 5-3, and the victory boosted the winners into first place in the National League softball race.

The two were tied for the lead going into the game.

In a second game, Berry Door (6-3) moved into tie for second in the National league with 4-3 triumph over Bud & Lou's (4-5).

Shortstop Jim McDonald led off the eighth for Orchard Lanes (7-2) with a single. He stole second and Bud & Lou's followed with a walk. Both moved up on a double steal and came across the plate on an error by the right-fielder.

A double by Ron Reid followed by three walks gave Berry Door its winning run in the last of the sixth inning.

Shakespeare Goes to Slum-Area Park

NEW YORK (AP) — Shakespeare went to a slum-area park in Harlem Monday night. The Negro community welcomed the play with a down-to-earth gusto seldom matched by sophisticated Broadway audiences.

A touring troupe presented "Midsummer Night's Dream" to an overflow audience of 1,600 ranging from babes in arms to a dead old man who didn't have a hearing aid.

The laughs were lusty—the applause thunderous. Kelly Jean Peters, who played Hermia in the comedy, said the night's work was "more rewarding than any I can think of."

TRULY EXCITING

"Somewhere there is a certain kind of excitement in playing to an audience like this," she said.

Clifton James, who portrayed Nick Bottom, said he could "go on and on" playing for such audiences.

"When they laugh at a funny line here or clap at a good straight line, you know they mean it from the heart," he said.

700 WAIT

More than 700 persons lined up outside a high wire fence in the hope someone might vacate a seat during the 2½ hour play. The production was the first of 58 performances to be presented this summer in 38 locations. They are sponsored, with some city financial assistance, by a nonprofit organization known as "The Theater in the Street."

Viola Simmons brought her two children, 6 and 3 years old. "I don't imagine they'll get too much from it," she said. "For that matter, I never read Shakespeare so I don't know how much I got from it. But it was just fun to be here."

COOL PARK

A middle-aged man, sitting with an infant on his knee, said, "It's cool here in the park. Better than roasting in that hot apartment."

Francis Jones, a postal clerk, brought his niece, nephew and 2-year-old son to the park. "I saw a Broadway play once—but I just thought I'd like to see what this classical business is all about," Jones said.

Zipper Exec Expires

WESTFIELD, N.J. (AP) — Samuel Marks Kinney, 75, who helped win acceptance of the zipper as general manager of Talon, Inc., in the 1930s and 1940s, died Sunday after a long illness.

Norway Trade Sought by K

Talks With Leader on Signing New Pact

OSLO (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Norwegian Premier Einar Gerhardsen held talks today aimed primarily at a new Soviet-Norwegian trade agreement.

Authoritative sources said Gerhardsen and Khrushchev hoped to lay the groundwork for a three-year agreement expected to be negotiated in final form in the fall.

The present Soviet-Norwegian trade pact expires at the end of this year.

Political matters under discussion reportedly were of a general nature — the present state of world affairs — with emphasis on disarmament.

There was no cheering as Khrushchev's 19-car motorcade drove to the conference. Groups of curious Norwegians stood on street corners all the way in from the royal estate five miles from the center of the city.

GOOD SPIRITS

Khrushchev appeared in good spirits as Gerhardsen showed him the view of the city from his 15th floor office.

"What a beautiful city Oslo is," the Russian said.

Then he pointed to the fjord and said: "Is it warm enough to swim in there?"

Gerhardsen replied that the water temperature is fit for swimming for only a short period of the summer.

WATER WARMTH

"For me the minimum temperature is 19 degrees centigrade (66 degrees Fahrenheit), but the ideal temperature is 22 to 23 degrees (71 to 73 degrees)," Khrushchev said.

Informed sources said a joint communiqué to be issued toward the end of Khrushchev's visit would be merely a general statement of friendship and cooperation — and the Norwegian official, following his government's policy of playing down the visit, said the government was surprised that the Danish government "caved in" and signed the joint communiqué with the Russians.

Musical Comedy to Be Aired in Fall

Comeback by Astaire Features 'Watusi'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After a four-year absence from his art, Fred Astaire is dancing again — and you should see his Watusi. You'll get a chance next fall with the airing of the musical comedy he is doing with Barrie Chase for the Bob Hope Chrysler Theater.

He has been filming the show at Universal City. It's always a pleasure to see the old master back in action.

There is only one Astaire approach to his dancing, that is one of perfectionism. His numbers will occupy only seven minutes of the hour show, but he took two full weeks to rehearse them with Barrie and his choreographer, Hermes Pan.

One number is in the old-time Astaire style, a solo with a cane to punctuate his taps. The other is a smooth ballroom number.

Two Stars Holding Up Production

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A moviemaker worried today for fear of losing both his costars — Betty Davis and Joan Crawford — and $50,000 a day.

Miss Crawford was back in Cedars of Lebanon Hospital with a respiratory ailment that had confined her there for two weeks. Stay indefinite, doctors said.

Miss Davis has been ordered by Superior Court to take time off to finish another film. Robert Aldrich, producer of the Crawford-Davis film, "Hush Hush, Sweet Charlotte," says if Miss Crawford doesn't return by noon Wednesday, production will have to halt. Loss per day: $50,000, he said.

BACK IN AGAIN

Miss Crawford was released from the hospital Friday and readmitted Sunday. Doctors said her condition was satisfactory.

An attorney for Miss Davis asked the District Court of Appeal Monday to set aside an injunction granted in Superior Court prohibiting the actress from performing elsewhere until she completes a 90-second mad scene for her last movie, Paramount's "Where Love Has Gone."

The injunction is not placed in effect pending outcome of Miss Davis' appeal.

Find Body by Tracks

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A man identified as Frank Peszko of Detroit was found dead here Monday on a railroad siding. Police said the body was discovered by a conductor on a passing freight train and believed the victim might have been crushed by a train.

with Barrie. Then they team for a light-hearted Watusi. The dance is the rage of the younger citizens, who stand a few feet apart and engage in angular contortions.

MUCH FUN

What does Fred think of the Watusi?

"Oh, I think it's a lot of fun," he replied. "It's not really a dance. It's more of a movement, an expression. I've been around to a few of the spots to observe it, and the kids seem to have a great time doing it. The music plays real loud and everybody gets carried away."

"The Watusi is not for me, because I never go out dancing. But I think it's fine for those who enjoy it."

The Hope show is Fred's first dancing since his "Evenings with Fred Astaire," which harvested a crop of Emmies. He hasn't made a movie musical since "Silk Stockings" eight years ago, but he doesn't lament the fact that Hollywood is downbeat on time films.

REAL WORK

"They're so much work," he sighed. "I enjoyed doing straight roles, like 'On the Beach' and 'The Pleasure of My Company,' but they're hard to find."

July 9 Strike Set by Screen Actors

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The 15,000-member Screen Actors Guild says it will call a strike July 9 unless management agrees to a substantial increase in pay for rerun film and shows exhibited abroad.

A strike would halt work by television actors, announcers and singers in television programs being filmed for next fall.

The present schedule provides 35 per cent of minimum salary rates for second-run productions 30 per cent for third runs and 25 per cent for fourth through sixth runs. The actors say isn't enough. Producers say they can't afford more.

Broadway's 'Hamlet' to Be Filmed, Shown

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard Burton's "Hamlet" on Broadway will be made into a movie to be shown at 1,000 theaters for two matinees and two evenings only in late September. Camera designed not to both the theatergoers will film the stage version of the Shakespeare tragedy, starting tonight.

Business Notes

Donald A. Forman, 4425 Charming, Bloomfield Township, has been appointed manager of product planning and chief engineer for Chrysler and Imperial passenger cars.

Forman has been assistant chief engineer for power plant electrical engineering since September 1963. He previously held various positions on the engineering staff at the company's Marine and Industrial Engine Division.

He joined the firm in 1951 after graduation from Chrysler Institute of Engineering. He is a member of the board of governors of the Detroit section of the Society of Automotive Engineers.

Bernard W. Crandell, 1015 Pleasant, Birmingham, has been named manager of institutional advertising on the public relations staff of General Motors Corp. His appointment is effective Aug. 1.

A former automotive editor for United Press, Crandell became director of public relations for GMC Truck & Coach Division in 1953.

In August 1962, he was named staff assistant with the GM public relations staff.

In his new appointment, he succeeds Harry E. Stahl, 1732 Blair House, Bloomfield Township, who is retiring under provisions of the GM retirement program.

Stahl has been with General Motors since 1944.

Harian R. Cagle, 4975 Lakeview, Independence Township, has been named a vice president of Sahlin Engineering & Manufacturing Co., Inc., of Birmingham.

Cagle has been with the firm since 1955 and has held various managerial positions.

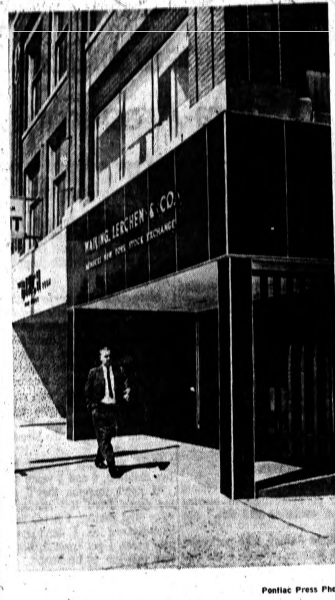

Simultaneously receiving a similar appointment was M. C. Muehl of Warren.

Sahlin Engineering designs and manufactures a complete line of press room automation machinery.

Milo J. Cross, president of the Pontiac State Bank, has been named first vice president of the Michigan Bankers Association.

Cross was elected last week at the annual BMA convention at Mackinac Island.

No Law Bars Father From Delivery Room

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY
Somewhere or other, according to a throw-away "magazine" of the sort distributed to second-rate physicians and dentists, a provincial, state or local law forbids the expectant father to remain with his wife when their baby is being born.

I have asserted here many times that there is no such law or ordinance anywhere in America.

To the first person who can prove I'm wrong about this, I'll send a complimentary set of the "Pocket Cyclopaedia of Health" (25 volumes, regularly $7.50).

All the proof required is a certified copy of the statute or ordinance and the name of the municipality, province or state where it is in effect.

I'm cocky about this matter because I'm morally certain that no one can claim the reward.

CARRY ON PRETENSE

The medical staffs of institutions that carry on the pretense of aseptic or germ-free environment in the delivery room are automatic about excluding husbands but liberal about admitting visiting doctors, medical students, pupil nurses.

For example, a reader reported that the hospital people persuaded her husband to go along home and said they'd notify him when the baby was about to be born.

As soon as he had left the premises, they brought in a class of pupil nurses and allowed each pupil to make a digital examination.

The patient was too browbeaten and distracted to protest his typical disregard of her right to privacy.

I urged her to bring a civil action against the hospital and collect suitable damages, but her husband was browbeaten too.

TYPICAL OF ABUSES

I say this was typical of the abuses and crimes that are so easily covered up in the delivery room.

When I maintain that the place for an expectant father is at his wife's side when their baby is being born, I mean, of course, that sharing in the miracle of the birth of a baby, their baby, hallows their union and greatly strengthens the spirit of love and devotion.

Forcible separation of man and wife at the most sacred moment of their wedded life, in my opinion, paves the way for further separation or divorce.

Well-managed hospitals everywhere have lately closed nurseries for the newborn and have adopted, instead, rooming-in—that is, keeping the newly born infant really isolated, in bassinets beside mother's bed, where mother, alone and/or father takes care of the baby without interference or help by nurses or other hospital attendants.

Some hospitals, under bad management, still crowd newborn babies together in a show window, where nurses pass from one baby to the next, bathing, changing, feeding, holding up for passers-by to look at and carrying heaven knows what infection from one crib to the next.

These backward institutions prefer to wait until an epidemic carries off some or many infants—then they will reluctantly adopt the rooming-in method of caring for the new-born.

If you ever visit an antique lying-in institution, notice the aseptic hokum—the cheesecloth mask worn by the nurse on duty in the show window and the way she moves from one luckless wail to the next without even pretending to wash her hands.

Anxiety, Fear Replace Celebration

Congo Anniversary Marked by Strife

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

According to the blueprint, this should be a day of celebration and thanksgiving for the Republic of the Congo.

The fact that on this fourth anniversary of Congolese independence, the Congo finds itself in the grip of revolt and chaos, anxiety and fear shows how far the builders have departed from the blueprint.

As the troops of 20,000 United Nations troops depart the Congo, revolt large and small tears at the provinces of Kwilu, Kivu and North Katanga.

In four years, U.N. peace-keeping efforts cost $408 million, with approximately $171 million of it coming from the United States. And peace and stability in the Congo still are measured in terms of years away.

Independence in the Congo did not have an auspicious beginning.

Scarcely had King Baudouin of Belgium proclaimed the Congolese free than Patrice Lumumba, the country's first premier, launched a bitter attack against the "humiliating slavery" of Belgian colonialism.

The ironies, the insults, the blows that he had to submit to morning, noon and night because we were Negroes."

FULL OR IRONIES

The history of the Congo has indeed been full of ironies. Promises made and broken, of a tremendous United Nations effort and a withdrawal today with peace not yet secure, and, at the beginning, of a huge and strategic territory whose economic base had been established without the necessary accompaniment of education and political responsibility.

Not the least ironic is the gathering now in Leopoldville, the capital, of nations fighting in the first days of independence when first the new republic seemed destined to fly apart by its own violence.

Moise Tshombe, who in the early moments of Congolese independence decided he wanted no part of it and established himself as president of the mineral-rich secessionist province of Katanga. He fought three wars against the United Nations and Congolese troops, and lost.

The former self-styled King Albert Kalonji who declared himself king, emperor and god of the "independent" diamond state of Kasai Province.

And finally, Antoine Gizenga, once the favorite African son of the Soviets and former leftist president of Lumumba, whose mantle Gizenga has attempted to take over is the important one not present.

He died while imprisoned under the care of Tshombe.

It was no great loss to the West, only the way of his dying which came about allegedly while trying to escape.

FIERED BY AMBITION

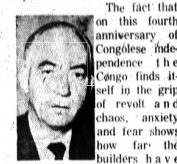

Among the other three there is no less of the ambition which drove them earlier.

Their aid is sought now by the Leopoldville government of Premier Cyrille Adoula and President Joseph Kasavubu only in the desperate need for help against Communist-supported revolts in both east and west and mounting unrest among disillusioned tribesmen.

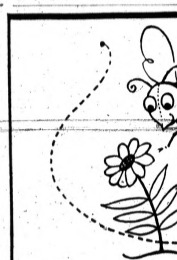

And from this may come the final irony. For Tshombe may emerge the new premier. The sophisticated Tshombe has this advantage:

"I have," he says, "no inferiority complex toward the white man as do some of my Congolese colleagues."

Abby Reports Burglary
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Abigail Van Buren, whose column appears in The Pontiac Press, reported to police in Hollywood yesterday that burglars ransacked her apartment while she was on a trip to New York City and took appliances and other household goods valued at $2,000. She writes the "Dear Abby" advice column.

Cow's Tastes a Bit Rough on Stomach

ITACA, N.Y. (AP)—Cows often suffer from a stomach ailment known to farmers as "hardware disease."

Veterinarians, who know that cows eat fence wire, nails, nuts, bolts, pieces of wood and tin cans, call the disease "traumatic gastritis."

The hardware punctures the lining of the second of the cow's four stomachs. It can be fatal.

Dr. Donald D. Delahanty, professor at the New York State College of Veterinary Medicine at Cornell University, says the cause of the trouble is lack of "oral discrimination in cattle that leads to their swallowing foreign bodies that would normally be rejected by other animals."

Dr. Delahanty has operated on 600 cows for hardware disease.

He says about 60 per cent of his cases have been caused by lengths of wire and adds that about the only thing he has not found in a cow's stomach is broken glass.

Defector Enters Innocent Plea

Claim Soldier Guilty of Desertion, Larceny

FRANKFURT, Germany (UPI)—The first U.S. Army officer to be court-martialed for deserting to the Communists in Europe today pleaded innocent to charges of desertion and larceny.

Capt. Alfred Svenson, 31, of Scranton, Pa., pleaded "not guilty" to all specifications of all charges through his defense counsel on the second day of the unprecedented court-martial.

Bat Prosecutor Maj. Charles F. Reese, 45, of Tusculum, Ala., told the six-man court jury he would prove the Lithuanian-born tank officer deserted and stole the Jeep he drove into East Germany May 4, 1963.

The Russians ushered Svenson out on May 7—one year and three days later—after the East Germans announced he was expelled because he proved "unworthy of Communist aid."

Reese said he would prove Svenson declared himself a Communist and asked directions to East Germany during a tour of border area taverns the day he defected.

DRIVER REFUSES
Svenson tried to make his soldier-driver take him into the East, but the driver refused, Reese said. "Svenson then put on his steel helmet and drove across himself."

Svenson was "gainfully employed" by Communist radio and told Western newsmen "how much he liked it and was satisfied in East Germany," Reese said.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Mary Ingraham Bunting was sworn in as the first woman member of the Atomic Energy Commission yesterday in Washington. She has been president of Radcliffe College, Cambridge, Mass., since 1960 and has specialized in microbiology and biochemistry.

North Chicago Girl Drowns in Farm Pond
PAW PAW (AP)—Margaret Kline, 18, of North Chicago, Ill., drowned Monday in an irrigation pond on a farm here. Ray Lanphear, the girl's uncle, told state police he found the body floating face down in the water.

Washed in Coldwater
The laundry was a towel monogrammed "LJB," washed in cold water, at Coldwater, Mich., by Mrs. Joseph J. Jenkins of Columbia, S.C., and Mrs. Richard Sprague of Fulton, Mich., the latter attired in buckskin garb of the Potawatomi Indians.

Sen. Olin D. Johnson, D-S.C., piloted the women into Johnson's office, and was a bit vague about the laundry operation.

But it seems that Mrs. Jenkins had to do some laundry to help win Mrs. America title last April, and that the Michigan House of Representatives adopted a resolution naming Coldwater the washing capital of the nation from June 1 through June 10, and that there was a big wash day there June 8.

Various members of Congress contributed some laundry, and the towel was tossed in for Johnson.

Banker Found Slain by Knife

MIAMI (UPI)—Police said a 69-year-old man identified as a prominent banker and former House Trust, financier was found stabbed to death in a cooperative apartment today.

Police identified the victim as Jacques Mossler.

Officials said Mossler was the chairman of the board of Central Bank and Trust Company of Miami, an official of Mutual National Bank of Chicago and American National Bank of New York.

Police said the body was discovered this morning beneath a bloody blanket in a cooperative apartment in the 10th governor's lodge on Key Biscayne.

Key Biscayne is a residential community built on an island in Biscayne Bay.

State Police Halt Truck, Nab Escapee

IONIA (AP)—Shotgun-firing state police captured one of two Ionia State Reformatory escapees Monday night.

Nabbed after a high-speed chase was Philip Hobbs, 25, who was serving 7 to 15 years for a Berrien County burglary.

His companion, James Brant, fled on foot after the truck in which the two men were riding crashed into a utility pole along M21 west of here. Brant was serving 3 to 5 years for unlawfully driving away a car in Genesee County.

State police said the two stole an Ionia County two-door station truck after slipping out of a dormitory. Troopers Darnell Dygert and Joseph Wilson heard a radio report on the escapes just before the stolen truck passed their patrol car.

Giving chase, Dygert fired four shotgun blasts at the truck. The fourth shot shattered the left rear dual wheels of the truck. However, the escapees managed to continue for several miles before the truck went out of control and hit the pole.

Officer Has a Red Face
NASHVILLE (AP)—Everything appeared normal when Patrolman William O. Rogers answered a bugler alarm at a local auto company. A salesman was making a pitch to a customer in the showroom.

To make doubly sure, Rogers entered the rear of the building to look around.

Meantime, the salesman and customer left, locking the front gate on the way out. Rogers was finally rescued when a superior officer drove by and noticed him trapped inside the company's high vice fence.

Eastern Michigan U. Given Housing Grant

YPSILANTI (AP) — A $1.8 million college housing loan to Eastern Michigan University by the Community Facilities Administration was announced Monday by Michigan Sen. Patrick McNamara and Philip Hart.
The money will be used for a campus complex including four dormitories and a dining commons costing a total of $1.38 million. The difference will be paid by the university.

ROUNDUP TIME — A normally empty field 4 miles north of Princeton, N.J., sprouted 3,000 house trailers this week, forming this radial pattern. The trailers, with their 10,000 inhabitants, congregated for the annual convention conducted by a trailer manufacturer. The World's Fair is just 60 miles away.

New Controversy in St. Augustine

King Accused of Aiding Delinquency

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — The racial controversy in St. Augustine took a new turn when a juvenile counselor charged Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and other leaders of the integration movement with contributing to the delinquency of minors.

Warrants signed by Judge Brinkhoff Monday named King, Dr. R. B. Hayling, a Negro dentist; the Rev. John Gibson, and J. S. Jackson.

The four were charged with using minors who were wards of the juvenile court in integration marches through the city.

Jewel Picked Off Fanny as Liz Picks Up Burton

NEW YORK — A pretty little 20-year-old actress named Fanny Richards was walking from her apartment on West 48th Street to Sardi's on West 44th Street a few nights ago... and found herself in the mob scene on West 46th where hundreds gathered to watch Liz Taylor pick up Richard Burton at "Hamlet."

Fanny, who's done much TV, having played "Beanie's friend" on "Love of Life," says "This seems to be Fanny's first... first 'Fanny Hill,' then 'Fanny Brice,' but that brooch wasn't insured... I'm beginning to wonder if it's a good year for Fanny Richards."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL

Frank Sinatra, heading for the Machen-Patterson fight in Stockholm, will pick up Yul Brynner in Paris. Angie Dickinson may accompany the group, along with Billy Rizzo... Sam Cooke, a smash hit at the Copa, was introduced by Sammy Davis Jr. (via a tape recording); comic Lee Allen was given a birthday party after the show by June Haver and Julie Harris.

Mayor Wagner saw "Hello, Dolly!" and visited Lee Caprice with James West, ex-State Department man... Five big society names are now in Reno's good ranches arranging for hush-hush divorces... Some Las Vegas hotels report business is 20 per cent off, but Lake Tahoe and Reno claim their business is up.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "When you are right, you can afford to keep your temper. When you're wrong you can't afford to lose it." — R. Roy Keaton.

EARL'S PEARLS: Taffy Tuttle explained her marriage plans. "I'd like as big a wedding as possible, and as soon as possible."

A fellow at Roseland described his wife: "She's a regular scheme-engine." That's earl, brotha.

Center-Left Coalition Sought to End Crisis in Italy

ROME (AP)—Italy's Christian Democrat party called today for another center-left coalition to replace the government of Premier Aldo Moro that fell five days ago.
This appeared to smooth the way toward a solution of the government crisis. The other parties of the coalition—the Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans—already have come out for another center-left Cabinet with Christian Democrat Moro as premier.

The Christian Democrats did not say whether they want Moro back as premier. A statement by the party blamed the Socialists for the crisis.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union's chief spokesman at the Geneva disarmament talks says Red China wants its own nuclear weapons because Peking knows it can't always count on Soviet nuclear support.

Writing in the government newspaper Izvestia, Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin singled out a little-noticed Soviet statement of last Sept. 21.

OWN WEAPONS
The statement said the Chinese would want their own nuclear weapons if they intended to pursue policies "which the Socialist camp cannot support by its military force."

Zorin's article was interpreted in Western quarters as another veiled warning to the Chinese to avoid a major explosion in Southeast Asia.

HONG KONG (AP)—Hong Kong goes back on normal water rations Wednesday after 13 months of two buckets daily per person.

Normal water rations in Hong Kong are eight hours supply a day. During the worst of the British colony's record drought, residents were restricted to four hours supply every four days.

A typhoon, last month broke the drought with more than 10 inches of rain.

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP)—More military supplies are expected to arrive in July for U.S. stockpiles in Thailand, American military sources said today.

The informants said 23 M4 tanks for the Thai army, being supplied under a U.S. military assistance program, are also scheduled to arrive during the month.

OTHER EQUIPMENT
In the past week, five U.S. Navy vessels have unloaded trucks, armored personnel carriers, artillery, construction and communications equipment and ammunition in Bangkok harbor for storage in the U.S. depot in Korat, northeast Thailand.

The buildup has been linked to the Communist moves in neighboring Laos and in South Viet Nam.

LONDON (AP)—Three thousand television employees decided to strike at midnight against Britain's commercial television network.

The producers, directors, floor managers and engineers want more money. The union is asking for a 25 per cent increase in wages that range from $42 to $168 a week.

KUALA LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP)—Malaysia's national defense council decided today to set up a vigilante corps in Malaysia and the Borneo states of Sarawak and Sabah to help combat Indonesian saboteurs.

Prime Minister Tunku Abdul Rahman said the council also decided to revive state security executive committees similar to those which functioned during Malaysia's 10-year war on Communist terrorists.

Rahman said the council discussed suggestions that Malaysia carry the war across the Borneo border into Indonesia but that no decision was taken.

Ferris Wheel Fall Fatal to N. Y. Girl

HUNTINGTON, N.Y. (AP)—A ferris wheel accident has taken the life of a 2-year-old girl.

The child, Deborah Shaw, died Monday nearly 24 hours after plunging 60 feet to asphalt pavement. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shaw of Commack, N.Y., who fell into another seat on the wheel, were in serious condition.

Police said the Shaws' seat apparently tipped over when it jammed and did not swing freely.

Area to Sizzle Until Thursday

TODAY'S TEMPERATURES

4 a.m.	74	10 a.m.	90
6 a.m.	73	Noon	94
8 a.m.	82	1 p.m.	95

Yes, it IS a hot day. And that's the forecast for tomorrow, too—hot and humid.

Pontiac area residents will sizzle in the sun until the arrival of thundershowers late in the afternoon or early evening. Tomorrow's high will again soar into the '90s.

Yesterday's high of 97 climbed to an all-time high for the day. In 1933 the mercury registered 96.

Here's good news. The weatherman reports Thursday will be fair and a little cooler. Today's winds will continue southwesterly at 10 to 20 miles per hour.

Excavation N-Blast Set Off in Nevada Test

WASHINGTON (AP)—A nuclear test in Nevada today sought further solutions to the problem of using atomic explosives for excavation projects such as harbors and canals.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the low-yield blast, with a force less than that of 20,000 tons of TNT, was set off underground at its Nevada test site.

Fear for 13 in Oil Rig Blast

Pilotless Jet Brings Death to 2 Children

HAVERHILL, Mass. (AP)—A silent and pilotless jet fighter slashed into a sleeping neighborhood early today, brushing half a dozen homes and a dozen cars before exploding into a house at the end of the street, killing two children.

Todd Gifford, 10, and his sister, Pamela, 8, perished when they were trapped in their one-story ranch house and burned to death.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Gifford, escaped practically unhurt.

Capt. D. F. Sullivan, pilot of the Massachusetts Air National Guard Squire Jet, said the plane exploded as he returned from a proficiency flight to Maine.

Sullivan said he was at about 2,500 feet and ejected himself because, "I knew I was headed away from Haverhill."

Sullivan parachuted into a tree, cut himself down and walked to the Merrimack River.

He said he inflated a life raft and was in the river using his radio when he was rescued by a Coast Guard helicopter.

STARTS FIRE
The crash started a three-alarm fire that damaged several other homes.

The plane careened about 100 yards down Lackey Street, ripping up chunks of pavement, tearing down utility wires, bouncing into cars and brushing other homes before the fuselage buried itself in the Gifford house.

Police Chief James J. Shanahan of Groveland, just across the river from Haverhill, was standing with a friend, Earl Sweetser, and saw the fighter plane nosing down and apparently headed for a shopping plaza.

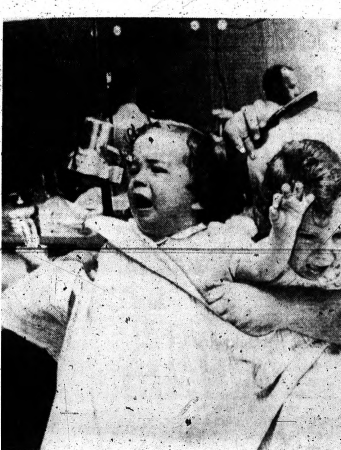

Then they heard an explosion and saw a "ball of fire."

HALTED BY FLAMES
Sweetser, the first person to reach the Gifford house, said he managed to get about 15 feet inside the front door, but was halted by flames.

"Mrs. Gifford ran by me," he said. "She was hysterical. Then, Gifford appeared. He was crying. 'Get my children. Get my children.'"

State Crash Kills 2

Scranton, Goldwater Talk to Key Illinois Delegation

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, scrambling to prevent a first-ballot nomination of the Republican presidential contender, Sen. Barry Goldwater, vies for votes with the Arizona senator today.

The two will make separate one-hour request appearances before the key Illinois Republican delegation to the July 13 San Francisco convention.

Also to appear is Harold Stassen, another candidate for the presidential nomination.

The latest Associated Press poll of delegates lists 633 tentatively committed to Goldwater and 138 for Scranton.

DEBATE URGED

Scranton, while on a delegate seeking drive in the South yesterday, challenged Goldwater to a face-to-face debate before the Illinois delegation.

The challenge was ridiculed by Goldwater, who said: "Why should I stand in front of a delegation that I already have and argue with another Republican?"

For Scranton, the meeting today will put his appeal to Republican delegates squarely on the line.

Illinois GOP Central Chairman Victor Smith, who is also co-chairman of the delegation, told The Associated Press he expects the delegates to vote their preference after the meeting.

VOTE PROPOSED

"It might be a good idea to get the delegation more or less on record and end all the speculation," Smith said.

Smith said he did not expect Scranton to fare well in his quest for more delegates.

"I would say Goldwater's position is real fine," he said.

Also in Chicago was a delegation of civil rights demonstrators from Scranton's home state.

PICKETING DUE

They said they would picket the governor because he sent state troopers to a school segregation demonstration in Chester, Pa.

Demonstrators were allegedly manhandled by the state police.

2 Known Dead in Louisiana's Coast Waters

Half of Men Asleep When Sparks Ignite Gas on Drilling Ship

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP)—A multimillion-dollar floating oil rig exploded off the Louisiana coast before dawn today. At least two persons were killed and 13 others were missing.

The Coast Guard said at least 27 survivors, some badly burned, had been picked up.

Helicopters and boats were ferrying the survivors to this coastal fishing town about 70 air miles west of New Orleans.

Some of the first survivors to arrive at Lakewood Hospital here were unconscious. Others were able to walk away from the rescue helicopters.

RIG OWNERS

The 280-foot-long rig—actually a drilling ship—is owned by Reading & Bates of Morgan City. It had moved to the explosion site only yesterday.

Half the men on the rig, the C. P. Baker, were asleep when the explosion occurred about 3:30 a.m.

The first survivors to reach here said the on-duty crew hit a shallow high pressure pocket of gas while drilling in the Gulf of Mexico at 640 feet. The gas began seeping up into the rig.

"The floor began to buckle and we knew it was time to get off," said one survivor.

SOME LEAVE

Some had gotten on the Delta Service, a workboat alongside, when sparks on the rig touched off the explosion.

Those on board were trapped momentarily by flames. Wind whipped the flames away from one side of the rig and some of the men were able to jump into the water.

"It stood up on its end and down she went," said another survivor, describing how the drilling rig sank in more than 100 feet of water.

A spokesman for Reading & Bates here said the C. P. Baker, built last year, cost about $6 million. He said the firm has four other rigs operating in the Gulf.

SEPARATE QUARTERS

The crew slept aboard the rig, with each shift having separate quarters. The men have 12-hour tours.

Louisiana's coastal waters are dotted with oil rigs and offshore drilling platforms.

"Some of the wells are drilled from stationary platforms built on the floor of the Gulf. Others are brought in by floating rigs, like the C. P. Baker."

LBJ Sets Step-Up in Mississippi Probe

PHILADELPHIA, Miss. (AP)—The search for three civil rights workers who vanished nine days ago was stepped up today by direction of President Johnson.

The Mississippi Highway Patrol also made it clear it is in this red-hot hill country of east central Mississippi to stay until authorities find out what happened to the missing trio.

Rita Schwerner, 22, wife of Michael Schwerner of Brooklyn, one of the missing men, asked the President Monday to send 5,000 men to Mississippi to join the search.

Mrs. Schwerner, after meeting with the President at the White House, told newsman Johnson, advised her he couldn't send so many.

LAST SEEN

Schwerner, 24, Andrew Goodman, 20, and James Chaney, 22, a Negro from nearby Meridian, were last seen June 21 when they were freed from jail here after posting a $20 bond in a traffic case.

Before Mrs. Schwerner visited the White House, press secretary George Freely told reporters that efforts to find the trio had been stepped up and expanded.

Mrs. Schwerner said the President assured her that the federal government is doing everything in its power.

The President, Mrs. Schwerner added, said if he "considered it useful to send more men, then he would send more."

CONTINUE SEARCH

Federal and state authorities, joined by 100 soldiers from the Navy airfield at Meridian, continued their search in the hills and snake-infested swamps of Neshoba County.

State game wardens, using radio-equipped skills, dragged the muddy Pearl River and other bodies of water in the area.

"We've covered 55 miles of the Pearl itself and haven't found even a net," said David Hutton of the State Game and Fish Commission.

The FBI ordered several thousand circulars about the three youths, distributed in a five-state area. The circulars asked anyone with information to call FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover or the nearest FBI office.

STATES COVERED

The circulars went to Alabama, Tennessee, Louisiana, and Arkansas as well as Mississippi.

Hearing Slated in Police Case

A suit challenging the rank change of acting Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger will go to a pretrial hearing in Oakland County Circuit Court at 9 a.m. Thursday.

Judge William J. Beer ordered the hearing as he also denied a request for a temporary injunction, which would have barred Hanger's receiving permanent status as inspector.

Hanger, formerly a police lieutenant, was named acting chief last fall. In December, then City Manager Robert A. Carter, promoted him to inspector, a position he would keep after the vacant chief's office was filled.

Cofficers L. Ray E. Meggitt, Capt. Donny Ashley and Capt. George T. Scott, charge they were eligible to take a competitive examination for the inspector's job, but in violation of city personnel rules it was not offered.

Pretrial arguments are expected to revolve around legality of the personnel rules and the authority of the city manager or chief of police to make appointments.

Reaching Moon May Be Minor Benefit

U.S. Space Effort Affects Living and Thinking

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of two articles on the space revolution in the United States.)

By RAY CHOMLEY

THE WORLEAN S.—(GNEA)—The Industrial Revolution of the 19th Century not only changed our way of living but our way of thinking. And today, what can be called the Space Revolution is doing the same thing.

Paradoxically, reaching the moon may become a minor benefit of the U.S. space program. The effect of this effort will be felt in industry, medicine, education and national defense.

At the Saturn-Apollo moon-trip plants here and in Los Angeles, this judgment is reinforced in many ways:

A doctor plays a round of golf with a space engineer on a Saturday afternoon. They discuss how an astronaut's body processes are monitored.

The result, a new method of measuring how a man's heart is doing and thus a better way to forestall heart attacks.

NEW IDEAS

An engineer working in a space rocket plant is transferred back to his company's civilian products factory. The result, recommendations for a revolutionary new management system that will speed work, lower costs and increase reliability.

A psychologist works with space animals, developing methods to teach them what they need to know to operate in space. Result, a new method for the simplified teaching of languages to school children.

Work at a crystal-growing laboratory may result in a complete new family of metals.

The real importance of the space races does not lie in the thousands of new gadgets and improvements in civilian goods that will result from the space effort.

NEW ATTITUDE

Instead, the importance lies in a new attitude now slowly developing through U.S. industry, in the schools, among medical men and the military.

That attitude shows up in these ways:

A sharply increased respect for the importance of research and education.

An increased tendency in industry, schools, and among military officers to latch on to new ideas and better ways of doing things.

A new respect for the man who will use his initiative and come out with new thoughts and new ideas, regardless of how much or how little education he may have.

A tendency to translate concepts and ways of doing things learned in the space business into other solutions. This trend shows up in a new way of operating a company cafeteria, a radical new method of constructing factory buildings.

Talk to a young mathematician engineer, an expert on stresses in spacecraft.

He might talk for one minute about space. Then his mind and his talk drifts to the problems of management, or to a new solution to the parking jam or to new ideas for solving a particular problem in medicine or juvenile delinquency.

The creative demands of the space contest are creating a large group of mentally active men and women whose minds are so stirred up by space they will jump automatically into any new problem at work, home, church or school.

PARTIAL SOLUTIONS

Because of the space program, partial solutions are an asset for the economy, problems plaguing the big intercontinental missiles.

The major concern: radiation from enemy nuclear blasts might destroy the electronic function of the big ICBMs: when launched they'd fly erratically and not reach target.

Experiments with space satellites carrying sensitive equipment for long periods in high radiation zones are giving researchers new insight on how to deal with this radiating hazard.

Research satellites are making it possible to determine the earth's gravitational field with greater accuracy. Gravity has a direct influence on the flight of the ICBMs and must be known precisely along the bird's path in order to achieve the accuracies required.

PRECISE DATA

Findings also provide more accurate ties between existing maps and more precise locations of major points on the globe. This means U.S. intercontinental missiles can be more accurately aimed.

There will be other military payoffs:

Knowledge of how to protect Apollo astronauts from space radiation will give military designers some new ideas on how to design battlefield tanks to protect the crew against nuclear radiation.

Concentrated diets being developed for astronauts will provide the know-how for developing light food packs for guerrilla, infiltration teams which must travel lean and light.

LARGER WARHEADS

Development of the Saturn V booster will make it possible for the United States to construct an intercontinental ballistic missile capable of carrying larger warheads.

The work on maneuverability and reentry will make possible a near-earth military space plane.

Development of sensitive techniques for detection of microbial activities on the moon will assist in developing equipment for the battlefield detection of biological warfare attacks.

CORVAIR MONZA by Chevrolet

Great way to wind up a road...great time to buy one!

Great as a Corvair Monza is at winding up roads, it's almost as good as a two-week vacation at unwinding you.

Part of the kick of driving one comes from those sporty good looks and jazzy deep-cushioned bucket seats. But Corvair's famous rear engine is really behind it all.

The engine weight over the rear wheels helps Corvair stick to the road like glue, come hills or hairpins, so you can travel care-free anywhere. (If you don't want to stick to a road, a Corvair can go places even bulldozers have never been through. How anywhere can you get?)

With no big heavy engine up front to steer around, Corvair

is so easy to handle we don't even make power steering for it. And the engine's air cooled. You can cross deserts without ever worrying about water (know many people besides camel drivers who can make that statement?).

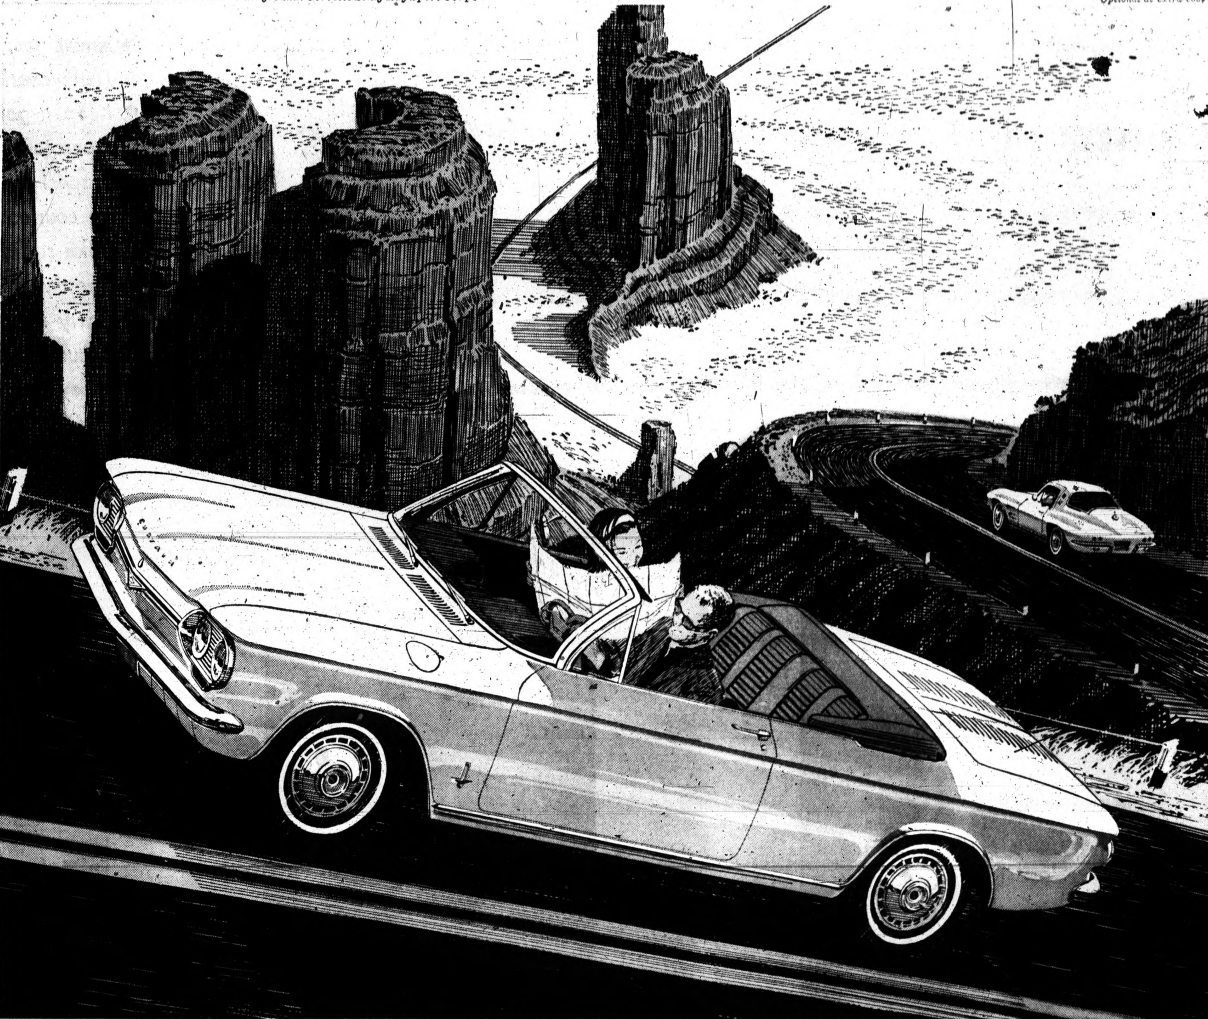

There are lots of other good reasons to buy a Corvair Monza. Like a choice of 95 or 110* hp and its smooth four-wheel independent suspension. (Starting to feel unwound already?)

Then there's June, a great time to get in on a whole summer full of fun ahead. And Trade 'N' Travel Time, a great time to get in on a beautiful buy at your Chevrolet dealer's.

You couldn't really ask for two nicer reasons, now could you?

Man Is Questioned on Break-In Try

A Pontiac man was being held for questioning of attempted breaking and entering of the Liberty Bar, 85 N. Saginaw, early today.

Gary M. Williams, 24, of 329 E. Pike was arrested at his home shortly after patrolmen David L. Schroeder and Raymond Dickinson saw a man jump from the roof of the bar and then found Williams' car behind the bar.

Williams told police he was drinking and admitted going to the roof of the bar to break in about 3 a.m.

$50,000 Building Eyed for County Credit Union

Construction of a $50,000 office building for Oakland County Employee's Credit Union at the County Service Center is being purchased.

County Engineer Joseph Joachim is looking for a suitable site for the proposed building before any proposal is brought before the County Board of Supervisors' Buildings and Grounds Committee for a recommendation.

The proposal already has become the subject of controversy among county employees, who are members of the credit union.

Several have expressed opinions that the credit union should remain in its present rent-free quarters in the county's courthouse administrative wing, rather than spend money for a separate building.

The credit union's elected president, Herbert Radunz of the sheriff's department, declined to comment.

Service Station Has Real Georgia Flavor

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The operator of a service station at Savannah has planted a collard patch beside his station to attract tourists.

Kansas' Constable Bids To Be Sheriff

MANHATTAN, Kan., AP — What's in a name? Sometimes a job.

Warren Constable, 46, of Johnson County, Kan., may have been thinking just that when he decided to run for sheriff of Polk County.

He elected to be Sheriff Constable.

Only about 10 per cent of the population of Polk County is considered literate.

ONE PROBLEM

The difficulty with which Johnson and his associates are handicapped is that in this summer of presidential politics there is a potential, if not all ready existing conflict between the two.

To Ask Study of Low Water

States, Provinces Seek Federal Help

TORONTO (AP) — Officials of two Canadian provinces and eight American states affected by the low water level of the Great Lakes decided Monday to call on their respective federal governments to launch immediately a special and comprehensive study of the problem.

The Canadian and U.S. governments will be asked to have the study of the whole area of water management undertaken by the International Joint Commission, which has jurisdiction over border waters.

The one-day conference, called by the Ontario government because of the current acute concern over the low water, also indicated it will meet again later to hear to progress report.

A statement issued after the meeting said, too, that the two provinces involved — Ontario and Quebec — offered to cooperate fully with the Great Lakes Commission, made up of representatives of the eight lake-bordering U.S. states in attendance at the meeting.

CALL ON JOHNSON

Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois told newsmen he intends to call on President Johnson and suggest that a federal appropriation be made for a study of the problem.

Kerner said more water must be diverted into the Great Lakes and it appeared it would have to be Canadian water not being otherwise used.

Indiana Gov. Matthew E. Welch said "I think the federal governments will become interested when there is sufficient interest generated at the local level." The support of the state and provincial governments is needed, he added.

The other U.S. states represented were Michigan, Minnesota, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania and Wisconsin.
