Key U.S. Satellite Lift-Off a Success

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — A powerful Thor-Able rocket carrying a 142-pound "paddle-wheel" satellite roared aloft today in an apparently successful launching. The Air Force said all three stages ignited properly. A brief announcement 15 minutes after the spectacular blast-off said: "The second and third stages of the United States three-stage Thor-Able satellite launching vehicle lunched at the Atlantic missile range has been fired." If successful, the satellite could open a new era of larger, more advanced space research vehicles. Launching time was 9:23 a.m. Four minutes later the International Telephone & Telegraph-Mackay monitoring station at Southampton, N.Y., picked up signals from the space traveler.

The station classified the signals as good. The satellite, to be called Explorer VI if it orbits, contained a flying laboratory to investigate many mysteries of space. The three-stage rocket was aimed at a highly elliptical orbit that would take it as far as 23,000 miles into space and as close as 160 miles to the earth.

Tax Talks Fold; Solons Go Home

Will Return on 3-Day Week; Hint People May Vote on Issue

From Our News Wires
LANSING—The Legislature started a part time work schedule today as a result of a wide open breach between the House and Senate on the state's tax puzzle.

There even was a suggestion the people could be asked to settle the revenue muddle in view of collapse of tax negotiations yesterday.

Most legislators headed home last night and today because the thing that was keeping them in Lansing—talks on taxes—folded.

House members, both Republicans and Democrats, insist some form of business profits tax must be adopted. Senate Republicans, with a 22-12 vote control, said they "don't want any part of any kind of a business or corporations income tax."

The reaffirmed Senate stand, just when it appeared settlement might be near, triggered legislative turmoil.

"It is a form of obstinacy that is beyond comprehension," said Rep. Louis Cramton (R-Lapeer), referring to the Senate position there should be no new taxes on business.

"I've never seen anything like it in my life," the 83-year-old veteran lawmaker said.

DEMAND BUSINESS TAX

House GOP floor leader Allison Green (Kingston), said negotiations were collapsed "at least for now" and that a tax package without some form of business levy would not get through the lower chamber.

The House had previously approved a package including a surtax on business profits.

House speaker Don Pears (R-Buchanan), said Senate action was a "great surprise."

However, there were indications the apparent united front shown by Senate Republicans wasn't solid.

Sen. Clyde Geerlings (R-Holland), chairman of the Senate Taxation Committee, said he "reluctantly" offered to try to get

Shock Kills Man Stung by Hornets

A 50-year-old Keego Harbor construction worker died of shock yesterday afternoon after being stung by hornets while at work in Drayton Plains.

William F. Stephens, of 2857 Knowlson St., a member of an Oakland County Road Commission ditch-cleaning crew, was operating a grade-all machine when it disturbed a hornet's nest, Waterford Township Police said.

Stephens was stung "a number of times" while getting away from the ditch, fellow workers told police.

"He went around behind the truck," said John Lawrence, of 6812 Drake Rd., Walled Lake, "and then went around the front and got into the cab. He acted real sick and laid down on the front seat and died."

He was pronounced dead at the scene by Oakland County Coroner Dr. L. G. Rowley. Rowley said Stephens apparently had suffered shock from the bites.

Stephens is survived by his wife, Thelma; a daughter, Sandra Anna; and a son, Theodore, both at home.

News Flash

GOTEBORG, Sweden (P)—Ingemar Johansson said today that he wanted a full account of his earnings from the June 26 bout with Floyd Patterson by noon Sunday or there would be no return bout on Sept. 22.

The new heavyweight champion made his demand, as he returned to his hometown from yesterday's secret meeting with Bill Rosenzohn of New York, promoter of the June fight, in Paris.

HIGGINS LAKE (P)—The State Conservation Commission today approved an expanded special deer season despite some vocal opposition at an earlier hearing. Deer experts estimated the liberalized season would nearly double the kill of does and fawns—from 26,862 last year to 45,970 this year.

The station classified the signals as good.

The satellite, to be called Explorer VI if it orbits, contained a flying laboratory to investigate many mysteries of space.

The three-stage rocket was aimed at a highly elliptical orbit that would take it as far as 23,000 miles into space and as close as 160 miles to the earth.

Because of this eccentric course, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said it will be hours before it can be determined whether the satellite achieved orbit. The announcement will be made in Washington.

Fifteen major experiment devices were crammed into the spheroid-shaped satellite which is 26 inches in diameter and 29 inches long. Its main mission was to study the radiation belts that surround the earth. Knowledge of this potentially deadly radiation is a key to manned space travel.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Explorer VI satellite is in orbit and will remain aloft for more than a year, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced today.

The 90-foot rocket accelerated rapidly. After about 30 seconds, it arced high in the sky and sported a brilliant tail of fire.

All three stages were designed to ignite in about 4½ minutes, sending the satellite hurtling into space at 22,000 miles an hour.

This is 4,000 miles an hour faster than required for the normal earth orbit.

The third-stage rocket was expected to go into orbit along with the satellite itself.

A five-pound "kicker" rocket rode at the base of the satellite. If needed, this was designed to be fired by a ground signal. Scientists planned to use it only if they determined that the satellite would burn up in the earth's atmosphere.

The kicker would add 50 to 100 miles to the payload's low point.

The satellite was expected to make only one orbit every 12 hours because of the long journey into space. This compares with an average of two hours for most earlier satellites.

TOWN IS SHATTERED — Dynamite loaded in a truck caught fire, and in a mighty blast exploded in Roseburg, Ore. Eight persons were killed and many injured. This picture was taken during the early morning hours. Several blocks of this lumber center were completely wrecked, windows over a wide area shattered and many homes burned. Firemen were successful in preventing the fire from jumping into the residential area on the west side of the Umpqua river.

Lie Test Clears Doctor's Wife

Mrs. Warrick Knows Nothing of Husband's Death, Police Say

The wife of a murdered Pontiac doctor was cleared of any connection with the slaying of her husband after she voluntarily took a lie detector test yesterday afternoon at the Redford State Police Post.

Lt. William Nesbitt, commander of the Pontiac Police detective bureau, said the attractive 44-year-old blonde wife of Dr. Carleton Warrick, Joan, was "cleared 100 per cent."

Nesbitt said that Mrs. Warrick knew "nothing about nothing" of the murder.

Dr. Warrick, 71, was shot by a gunman July 24 in his office at 2412 E. Huron St. He died the following night at Pontiac General Hospital.

Mrs. Warrick told police she was unaware of the physician's financial transactions. Internal Revenue agents reportedly found an estimated three-quarters of a million dollars in stocks and bonds in the Huron street office.

Mrs. Warrick said her husband

It's Not Principle but Money

Anti-Flooding Hopes Dim

By PETE LOCHBILER
The city has an $8,723,000 plan to prevent basement flooding.

But there's little possibility that the plan will be made a reality in the foreseeable future, according to City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Why not? "Where are we going to get the $8,723,000?" is Willman's parry to that question.

"There's not much reason to think that voters would approve a general obligation bond issue for that much and there's no other practical way to raise the money."

Pontiac voters, he pointed out, haven't approved a general obligation bond issue since the 1954 hospital construction bonds. Opposition to bond issues has been strong since then, sometimes bitter.

At one point in the history of efforts to improve the city's drains there was an attempt to finance improvements on a special assessment basis.

Up for a consideration was a proposal to tunnel Pontiac Creek around downtown. That was in 1951 when the cost was estimated at $750,000.

Assessments were to be spread over the entire drainage area served by the creek, the north-west quadrant of the city.

More than 300 property owners overflowed the old city hall, registering the most protests ever against a single proposal.

Intimidated city commissioners quickly shelved the project and have never dusted it off.

"In the first place," says Willman now, "a project of that magnitude should be a city-wide obligation."

"In the second place, first things should come first. Instead of beginning with Pontiac Creek, we should begin with the Clinton River," which is the outlet for the city's storm waters.

A plug or bottle-neck in the Clinton River's outlet causes the flow of storm waters to slow all over the city, he pointed out.

"Eventually the storm waters start backing up and that's what causes the flooding," he explained.

It is conceded, of course, that local flooding is usually caused by local bottlenecks in the storm drain system.

"But if you eliminate one bottle-neck, the storm waters simply will start backing up again at the next bottleneck down the line," Willman continued.

"The way to remove bottlenecks is to start at the Clinton River outlet and work upstream."

Convinced that this philosophy was wise, city commissioners authorized an engineering study to improve the Clinton and Pontiac Creek several years ago.

The city's engineering consultants—Jones, Henry and Williams of Toledo—came up with a $12,000 report in 1957.

It recommends widening, straightening and deepening the two channels and embodies the 1951 suggestion—tunnel the two rivers around downtown Pontiac.

Pontiac Creek and the Clinton do a lot of meandering in the downtown area, the report noted, and as a result the flow of storm waters is slowed to a snail's pace. Cut out the meander, divert the

52 in Hospitals Following Blast in Oregon Town

Explosion Ruins Blocks of Warehouses, Stores in Business District

ROSEBURG, Ore. (P)—A dynamite truck parked beside a burning building exploded with mammoth force early today. At least eight persons were known dead.

The blast shattered buildings and spread a raging fire over the downtown area.

Hospitals held 52 persons, at least three of them critically hurt. Physicians and blood plasma were flown from nearby Grants Pass.

The hospitals reported three bodies. A mortuary said it had four bodies, and fragments of at least one, and perhaps two others.

Only two, Asst. Fire Chief Roy McFarland and Harry Carmichael were identified.

The blast and fire wrecked six blocks of warehouses, small business places and residences. Debris was spread through an other six blocks, including the heart of the business district.

The fire, fought by men and equipment from as far away as Eugene, 75 miles north, was controlled four hours after the blast came at 1:20 a.m.

There was a crater 50 feet wide and 20 feet deep where the truck, from Pacific Powder Co., Tenino, Wash., had stood.

The truck blew up moments after a fire siren had sounded an alarm for a blaze at the Gerresen Building Supply Co., beside which the driver had parked the truck while he got a cup of coffee.

KNOCKED DOWN

The driver, George Rutherford, Chehalis, Wash., said he was walking back toward it and was knocked down by the blast. He was hospitalized, with injuries believed not critical.

Volunteer fireman Tony Shukle said he was knocked down, blocks away.

"There was fire all over," he said, "the big one and probably four or five small ones."

For a time there was fear that a propane gas storage tank might explode but firemen cooled it with water.

At the height of the fire the six-story Umpqua Hotel's 65 guests and employees were evacuated.

The manager, Dick Smith, said that at his home, two miles away, windows were blown out.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a little cooler with a high of 78.

For the next five days temperatures are expected to average near the normal 82 high and 62 low. A warming trend is likely Sunday with cooler temperatures and possible showers returning about Tuesday or Wednesday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 65. At 1 p.m. the mercury registered 76.

Airport Fund Nearly Ready

State Lawmakers OK Michigan's Share in Construction Expenses

Funds for Pontiac's $356,000 expansion program at Pontiac Municipal Airport next year were virtually in the bag today.

The House in Lansing completed legislative approval yesterday of a $89,000 allocation to Pontiac. The bill went to the governor for signing.

The money represents the total amount which the city sought from the state in order to attract the maximum amount of federal aid for an expansion program recommended by the Michigan Department of Aeronautics.

The federal aid formula consists of 50 per cent federal funds, 25 per cent from the state and 25 per cent local funds.

The City Commission has already promised to put up its $89,000 next year and Congress included $178,000 for Pontiac in its airport appropriation this year. The 1960 expansion plans are in the hands of the Federal Aviation Administration, which controls release of the federal funds.

Big items for 1960 include construction of a $137,000 apron for parking, loading and unloading aircraft in front of the new terminal building and a 1,500-foot concrete extension to the main east-west runway, bringing it to 5,500 feet in length.

Hurricane Dot Vents Fury on Kauai Island

HONOLULU (AP)—A howling hurricane turned the enchanted movie island of Kauai into a mass of devastation today.

It blew down houses, unroofed others, knocked out communications and power, flooded some sections, left roads impassable, cut water supply to some communities.

The rare mid-Pacific storm, known as Hurricane Dot, swirled up on Kauai from the south, hit with 75 miles-an-hour winds and torrential rain, and moved north out to the open sea where it began to disintegrate. Damage could run into millions.

Warren Store Robbed

DETROIT (P)—A lone gunman robbed a Warren supermarket of $5,000 in cash and $500 in checks last night. Mrs. Bernice Evans, 22, of Warren, a cashier at the supermarket, said the man pulled open the door of her check-cashing cage and demanded money.

'Mr. K. Should See Military Bases'

McElroy, Soviet Official Disagree on Trip Agenda

From Our News Wire
WASHINGTON — The Soviet ambassador doesn't include U.S. military bases in the list of "many pleasant and interesting places" Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev is likely to see in America.

Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy said Thursday at a news conference it would be constructive for Khrushchev to see some of the bases during his tour here next month.

McElroy said he knew the Premier had said he had no wish to see American bases. But McElroy added he thought it was possible that Khrushchev might want to change his mind.

Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov had a prompt reply. Khrushchev "doesn't usually change his mind," Menshikov said.

McElroy, in response to a newsman's question, said the purpose of having Khrushchev visit bases would be more to inform than to impress. He said some American officials like himself have been concerned that a Soviet miscalculation of U.S. military power might result in Soviet military action.

Sen. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.) today proposed that Eisenhower invite Khrushchev to take a cruise on the atomic submarine Nautilus during his U.S. visit.

Jaywalker With 31 Tickets Goes to Jail

DETROIT (AP) — "Policemen are mad mosquitoes," said the jaywalking man in town yesterday as he was sentenced to 10 days in jail.

Kolman Shklnik, 77, a white-bearded retired butcher, was on his way to court to account for three jaywalking tickets when he crossed a street against the light.

A policeman handed him another ticket, his 31st for jaywalking since 1935.

Unable to pay a $100 fine, Shklnik was sent to jail by traffic Judge John D. Watts.

Eisenhower is expected to take Khrushchev to his secluded Camp David retreat in Maryland for informal talks at some point during the Russian leader's visit next month.

This was reported today by well-informed officials who said tentative plans for the Camp David talks are emerging from U.S.-Soviet negotiations on arrangements for the Khrushchev visit, which begins Sept. 15.

Officials said Eisenhower and Khrushchev would have a much better chance to get down to brass tacks in a discussion of cold war problems in the relaxed, private atmosphere of the mountain retreat than at White House meetings.

President Eisenhower's close associates said today he appears to be in good physical shape for his forthcoming round of cold-war meetings with world leaders.

The chief executive heads for his Gettysburg farm today to begin an extended vacation. He departs for Europe later this month for talks with allied heads of government before he meets Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev.

Eisenhower is scheduled to interrupt his vacation for a 24-hour return to Washington to keep some Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning appointments. But he then will go back to Gettysburg for an indefinite stay.

Across the ocean, European nations concerned over the prospect of a "big two" approach to world affairs began a round of talks today designed to insure that their interests will be protected.

U. S. Under Secretary of State Livingston Merchant arrived in Rome to assure the Italian government that the coming exchange of visits between Eisenhower and Khrushchev will not have the effect of dividing the world into two spheres of influence.

At the same time, West German Foreign Minister Heinrich Von Brentano was preparing to report to Parliament on the situation. Reports in Bonn said Chancellor Adenauer's cabinet is seeking a pledge that the Eisenhower-Khrushchev talks will cause no weakening of the Western position in Berlin.

SHE'S VERY HAPPY — A Buckingham Palace spokesman in London today announced that Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip were very happy to announce that the Queen was expecting her third child early in 1960. Prince Charles is 10 and Princess Anne is 8. The entire royal family left Thursday for a vacation in Balmoral Castle in Scotland. The Queen only returned Aug. 2 from her Seaway trip.

Elizabeth and Philip Expect Baby in '60

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II is going to have another baby, her third, probably in January or February.

A Buckingham Palace spokesman announced today that a royal baby is on the way, disclosing the 33-year-old Queen was pregnant during her long and tiring tour of Canada this summer.

The spokesman said the Queen had rejected suggestions that she called off the tour because "she knew the disappointment it would have caused."

The birth will be the first in more than 100 years to a reigning British sovereign. Queen Victoria gave birth to Princess Beatrice in 1857.

Prince Charles, heir to the throne, was born Nov. 14, 1948, and Princess Anne Aug. 15, 1950. Queen Elizabeth's coronation was June 2, 1953.

The Queen returned to London Sunday from Canada. She called in her doctors, Sir John Weir and Lord Evans, the next day. Only then was her pregnancy confirmed, the spokesman said. Since then she has spent nearly all her time resting.

After her doctors confirmed that she was pregnant, the Queen stayed close to home — Buckingham Palace. But Thursday she left for Balmoral Castle, her home in the Scottish highlands, with her husband, Prince Philip, and the children.

The Queen was smiling as she boarded the train for Scotland. She appeared far from exhausted despite the rigors of her 45-day tour of Canada that also took her to Chicago.

After announcing the forthcoming birth, the palace spokesman said: "Her Majesty and Prince Philip are very happy about it."

The Queen has canceled all public engagements. She called off her visit to Ghana, which was to have taken place in November.

A new royal baby will change the line of succession to the British throne.

Princess Margaret, the Queen's 28-year-old sister, is now third in line. She will drop back to fourth. Ahead of Margaret now are Prince Charles and Princess Anne.

The palace did not say where the birth will take place.

A palace statement said: "The Queen will undertake no further public engagements."

Howard Sutton, 23, of 6149 Cottage Dr., Haslet, has been appointed public relations director of the Pontiac Area United Fund. The announcement was made today by Leonard Lewis, president of this year's LF campaign.

Sutton, a June 1958 graduate of the Michigan State University School of Journalism, will be responsible for the advertising, publicity and promotion of the Pontiac Area United Fund.

The fund is a central fund-raising organization for 55 health, recreational and welfare agencies throughout North Oakland County.

While attending MSU, Sutton was the recipient of the Harry Suftrin advertising award, business manager of the Michigan State News, received the A. A. Applegate Journalism scholarship, and was accepted as a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, national advertising fraternity.

Sutton was previously in sales promotion work with the Capital Sales Corp. in Lansing. He will move with his wife and daughter to the Pontiac area.

'Hungry' Youth Arrested Today in Burglary

A 17-year-old youth was held for investigation of burglary this morning after admitting to Pontiac Police that he had broken into the door of the East Side Market at 226 E. Pike St. in an attempt to break into the building.

Larry Rose, who told police he lived with his father at 169 E. Pike St., was arrested early today. Someone passing by the market heard the youth pounding on the store's front door and reported the incident to police.

The youth, however, did not realize how much of a racket he was making, for Rose is a deaf mute.

He was taken into custody by Patrolmen James Bachelor and Raymond Dickinson as he crouched in the doorway of the store.

Rose was questioned at the Public Safety Building by the officers. The patrolmen wrote out their queries and Rose replied on paper. He said he tried to break into the store because he "was hungry."

"I knew it was wrong," he wrote.

Anti-Flooding Hopes Bleak Costs Appear Prohibitive

waters through big, gently curved tunnels, and the flow would be speeded up, the report recommended.

The Clinton tunnel would be from a point south of Orchard Lake road and west of Grand Trunk Railroad to a point north of the municipal parking lot north of Auburn avenue and east of S. Saginaw street.

The tunnel should consist of two tubes, each 10 feet in diameter, according to the report. For 1,200 feet of double tube tunnel, it said, the city would have to spend $198,000 in construction costs, $108,200 for right-of-way and $191,400 to revise existing sewers, or a total of $1,707,600.

The report also recommends that the city install closed double box concrete conduits—each box 9-feet-6-inches square—at each end of the tunnel, 1,900 feet on the east side and 2,400 feet on the west side.

The total cost for the conduits—including construction, right-of-way and sewer revisions—is estimated at $1,376,400.

The report would treat Pontiac Creek in similar fashion. The creek should be diverted through a double tube tunnel (each tube 10 feet in diameter) between a point west of Oakland avenue and north of Lafayette avenue to a point east of Perry street, the report said.

Total cost for 1,300 feet of tunnel would be $1,464,900, the report estimated.

Double box conduits—running 900 feet east of the tunnel and 3,500 feet west of it—would cost another $1,146,500, the report figured.

Conduits and tunnels would bring the Clinton and Pontiac Creek together just west of Richardson Park, five blocks east of their present juncture under West Lawrence street between Wayne street and Cass avenue.

Not only would Pontiac Creek be shortened by some 1,300 feet, but the Clinton River would be relieved of the Pontiac Creek flow for about 1,900 feet.

The Clinton River tunnel alone would trim 2,000 feet off the distance that river travels in its present loop through the downtown business district.

By diverting the two streams around the business district, "the present stream bed can be reclaimed and future development of the areas will be freed from the restrictions imposed by open stream channels," the report stated.

The conduits would extend the Pontiac Creek improvements as far west as Johnson avenue. Total cost is estimated at $3,108,000.

The conduits would extend the major Clinton River improvements as far west as a point west of Bagley avenue, 600 feet south of Wessen street.

But the report envisions minor improvements to the Clinton from Auburn road on the eastern city limits to a proposed $85,000 flood control dam at the eastern end of Crystal Lake in western Pontiac.

It recommends straightening the channel and widening it to 40 feet from the dam to the conduit. East of the business district, it says, a 28-foot wide concrete channel should be constructed to Paddock street, leading into earth channels 50 and then 60 feet wide, as far as the sewage treatment plant at East boulevard.

The improvements would shorten the Clinton by 3,300 feet, the report said. Total cost would be a whopping $5,615,000, it estimated.

Jones, Henry and Williams said that for better flood control, Pontiac Creek should be improved northwestward eventually to Oshtemo and Terry lakes.

Pope felt the problem of education was not related to the Russian scientific advances dramatized by the Soviets' thrusts into space.

"Not enough interest and attention is being paid to turning out nourished, healthy minds from our classrooms," he asserted.

The MSUO official rapped the knuckles of the federal government for realizing the importance of technological progress while almost completely overlooking the need for progress in the educational field.

"Huge sums have been appropriated to the Labor and Agricultural Departments," he pointed out. "The budget of the U.S. Office of Education has been pitiful."

that his own recommendations still were before Congress.

Eisenhower rejected as too weak a moderate Senate-passed bill and an even milder measure approved by the House Labor Committee. He said neither "will really do the job—to curb the abuses the American people want to see corrected."

Backers of the rival measures gave sharply different assessments of the effect of Eisenhower's address on the House labor reform showdown expected next week.

Chairman Graham A. Barden (D-NC) of the House Labor Committee, who favors the Landrum-Griffin measure, said the "situation looks very good" for approval of that bill.

Landrum said, "I think we are going to win." Griffin said the speech would help "win a battle that the American people... cannot afford to lose."

But Rep. Stewart L. Udall (D-Ariz.), a leading backer of the labor committee bill, said the Eisenhower speech "plays into our hands" by making a partisan issue of reform legislation.

Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.), chief author of the Senate bill, warned that the Landrum-Griffin measure might cause a congressional deadlock that would kill all reform legislation. He said the measure would "wreck the legitimate union movement."

The Day in Birmingham Workmen Installing Gas for New Groves School

BIRMINGHAM — Dirt is flying along both sides of 13-Mile road near Birmingham's new Groves Junior-Senior High School as workmen install a gas line and sanitary sewer.

By next week the six-inch Consumers Power Co. gas line should be in place, according to foreman Maurice Morneau, and will run along the south side of 13-Mile road, from a point just west of the school, to Cranbrook Village subdivision.

The line will serve homes in the subdivision as well as the new school which is scheduled to open this fall.

On the other side of 13-Mile road, workmen are digging trenches for an 18-inch arm of the Evergreen interceptor sanitary sewer. It will run from Kennaway circle east to Pierce street with completion planned by October, according to Bill Beaker, field engineer for the Nelson M. Sharrow Excavating Co.

Plans are well under way for the annual fashion show to be presented by the Altar Society of Our Lady Queen of Martyrs Catholic Church in Beverly Hills.

The fashion show will be directed by the St. Joseph and St. Michael Guilds of the church. The show is to be held at the Birmingham Country Club Sept. 23.

Chairman of the event is Mrs. Richard J. Egger of 995 Canterbury Rd., Birmingham, and Mrs. James J. Stone of 1480 S. Bates St., Birmingham, is co-chairman. Tickets for the show will go on sale in about a week, said Mrs. Egger.

Six Beverly Hills families from the Congregational Church of Birmingham have returned from a week at the YMCA Family Camp near Silver Bay on Lake George in upper New York State.

They are the C. Phillip Bartlett family of 15911 Lauderdale St., the Clair Du Valls of 15920 Lauderdale; the Robert W. Collins family, 15921 Lauderdale; Donald Conrads, 16135 Beverly Rd.; Frank Spitznagel, 16136 Wetherby St.; and the Jack Marshall family of 5575 Westwood Lane.

Glenn L. Sawyer of 16023 Elizabeth Rd., Beverly Hills has been appointed Detroit sales manager for the Wolverine Tractor and Equipment Co. of Detroit and Grand Rapids.

He has been the company's service director for the past 10 years. W. Donald Martin has accepted the position of Director of Recreation for Birmingham. He has been program supervisor for the Oak Park Department of Recreation since April, 1958.

Martin is a graduate of Wabash College in Indiana, and received his master's degree in recreation from Indiana University. In addition, he completed a year's recreation internship with the Milwaukee, Wis., Recreation Department, as an appointee of the National Recreation Assn.

The new director served as a pilot in the U.S. Air Force from 1952 to 1956. He holds memberships in the American Recreation Society, National Recreation Assn. and the Recreation Assn. of Michigan.

Martin will assume the position on Sept. 8.

The statement blew the lid off what had been a quiet day in the capitol.

"This thing has blown sky high. We're right back where we were Jan. 14," said Rep. T. John Lesinski (D-Detroit), chief negotiator on the House team.

"We're all done until the Senate comes to its senses," he said. Lesinski had just stalked angrily from the fifth conference committee session.

Later, he said he would attend a sixth huddle set for today.

Sen. Carlisle H. Morris (R-Kalamazoo), top GOP Senate tax strategist; Lesinski and four other negotiators had been on the verge of striking off an agreement to increase business taxes 18 million dollars.

Basically, their proposal was to whittle one mill off the base 6 1/2 mill rate of the business activities tax and to put a one or one and one-half per cent surtax on corporation profits.

In this way, they sought to answer demands of the politically divided House for a business tax component to a package shaped around a one per cent increase in the use (sales) tax.

It is now estimated that a baby is born on the average of every second somewhere in the world.

Picking Up Signals
JODRELL BANK, England (AP) — The radio telescope at the Jodrell Bank Observatory picked up signals from America's paddle-wheel satellite today half an hour after the observatory had been advised by U.S. officials at Cape Canaveral, Fla., that all three stages of the launching rocket fired successfully.

Ideas Greatest Source of Power, Says MSUO Official, Loren Pope

By MAX E. SIMON

Russia's Sputnik served as an "Intellectual Pearl Harbor" for millions of Americans who previously were disinterested or complacent about education in the United States.

That observation was made yesterday by Loren B. Pope, assistant to Michigan State University Oakland Chancellor D. B. Varner and former education editor of the New York Times.

Pope was guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Pontiac Rotary Club at the Waldron Hotel.

"The man-made satellite whirling through outer space drove home the obvious fact that ideas, and not armies, are the greatest source of power in the world today," Pope declared.

Leading educators have been aware of this for years, he asserted, yet their pleas for assistance have fallen largely on deaf ears.

Dismissing general attacks on the overall educational system, Pope said schools in this country today are better than they were 10 years ago.

ROOM FOR IMPROVEMENT
"They're constantly improving, but they're still not good enough," he said.

Pope felt the problem of education was not related to the Russian scientific advances dramatized by the Soviets' thrusts into space.

"Not enough interest and attention is being paid to turning out nourished, healthy minds from our classrooms," he asserted.

The MSUO official rapped the knuckles of the federal government for realizing the importance of technological progress while almost completely overlooking the need for progress in the educational field.

"Huge sums have been appropriated to the Labor and Agricultural Departments," he pointed out. "The budget of the U.S. Office of Education has been pitiful."

Pope, who resigned his editorial post with The Times to come to MSUO, said the new university was "a child of destiny."

"This is a once-in-a-generation event," he said. "MSUO's opening is the most important happening in your lifetime — for you, your family, this area, and the state," he told Rotarians.

Pope said five important forces are currently shaping the future of education in the United States. He listed these as:

1. The report of James B. Conant, president emeritus of Harvard University, on high school programs. Conant's report, he said, stressed the need for a tougher academic program and more foreign language instruction.

Pope called the report "invaluable" because it points out the need for improvements.

2. The Federal Education Law which fixes responsibility on the federal government for the quality of local school programs.

The MSUO administrator called the law one of the most significant ever passed by Congress.

3. Research of philanthropic foundations which are striving to find ways to use teachers and facilities more efficiently.

4. A system of education employed in two New York schools, one in Long Beach, the other in Ossining. Half the day pupils receive work in foreign languages, reading, and writing. Pupils are not grouped by ability and are pushed to the limit of their capabilities.

Jackson Sheriff Explains Story

Claims Order to Join GOP Was Caused by Misunderstanding

JACKSON — Sheriff Fred Hammer of Jackson County said that there was some truth to reports that deputies in his department were ordered to join the Republican party or be fired.

He added, however, that the situation developed because of a misunderstanding.

Hammer made the statements at a hearing called by the County Board of Supervisors to look into allegations of irregularities in the sheriff's department. The board's probe was touched off by receipt of an anonymous letter alleging charges of minor profiteering by Under Sheriff Glen Mann and the use of trustees by Mann to build a personal raft.

Hammer said that Mann had ordered Deputy Max Russell to pay dues to the county GOP organization or turn in his uniform.

Hammer said that he later talked to Russell and explained that Mann had exceeded his authority and that the deputy was not being forced to pay dues to the party.

Russell later voluntarily paid the annual Republican dues.

Roy Taylor of Grass Lake, a member of the investigating committee, called for Mann's resignation and Alan G. Weatherwax, chairman of the board ways and means committee said that Mann's usefulness to the sheriff's department has ended.

Mann is the brother-in-law of Sheriff Hammer.

Hammer said that he will not ask for Mann's resignation.

The investigation is continuing.

To Contain Sensitivity Tests

Kit to Help Doctors

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Suppose a mysterious infection has you down and the doctor isn't sure what's wrong. Maybe one of the wonder drugs will help.

The doctor will take a newly developed testing kit in his own office to find out quickly the right drug, or antibiotic, to get you back on your feet.

Take another example: An epidemic spreads through your child's school and your doctor has never before come across anything like it. That testing kit again may show him which antibiotic to use.

In neither case will the kit show the doctor what is wrong, but both times it should show him what to do. Each test may take as little as 30 minutes, and the doctor will need no medical laboratory or trained technicians.

The testing kit, called a sensitivity test, was developed by a young Knoxville bacteriologist. It is expected to be available to all doctors in the country by Christmas.

Sensitivity tests go hand-in-hand with antibiotics. This is because bacteria build up immunities to penicillin, Aureomycin and other antibiotics, just as your own system builds up immunities to the germs themselves.

James R. Brown, bacteriologist at Tennessee Children's Hospital developed the new testing method when he became impatient with the time and expense of present, more complicated methods. Helping him were Dr. John M. Woodward and Dr. Raymond Beck, both of Knoxville.

The test will work with any infection which can be treated with known antibiotics and from which specimens can be obtained.

Brown's new weapon gets results in 30 minutes to six hours, compared with 24 to 36 hours now needed with laboratory-type tests, which require special skills to use.

Brown, 30, the father of two, said a Miami firm hopes to have his test on the wholesale medical supply market by the end of the year.

Basically, it works like this:

In a transparent plastic case, the size of a box of candy-coated chewing gum, are placed paper discs — available in bottles like aspirin — which have been soaked in solutions of various antibiotics. Specimens of the infection to be treated are placed on the discs, each of which represents a different antibiotic.

In solution with the antibiotics on the discs are a glucose-protein compound and a chemical known as TTC Triphenyltetrazolium-chloride. The glucose compound provides food for the infection-causing germs.

If the antibiotic kills the germ, the disc remains white. But if the antibiotic is ineffective, the germs digest the glucose — and as they do, the TTC turns the disc red.

The doctor needs to know only which disc represents which antibiotic, and he's ready to start treatment.

"With this test," Brown said, "it would be just as easy to do a sensitivity test as it would to do a blood count, and this is done in all doctors' offices everywhere."

Youthful Qualities Win

The reason many female swimming champions are teen-agers is because they have the proper combination of "baby" fat for buoyancy and muscle for power.

About one-half the United States wood harvest comes from privately-owned lands.

Three-Hit Shutout of Yanks Foytack's Top Effort

Wilson Homers, Singles Twice in 4-0 Triumph

Yost Also Hits Seats in Series Clincher; at Boston Tonight

BOSTON (AP)—The Detroit Tigers, fresh from their latest conquest of the New York Yankees, moved into Boston today for a weekend series against the new-look Boston Red Sox.

Paul Foytack gave the Tigers the edge in the three-game Yankee series yesterday when he pitched a masterful three-hitter and beat the slumbering world champions, 4-0.

It was the strong-throwing righthander's best effort of the campaign and it assured the Tigers of an edge in the season series against the New Yorkers.

Detroit has taken 12 of 17 decisions. Don Mossi and Frank Lary have five victories apiece over the Yankees and this was Foytack's second triumph. He has split even in 20 decisions on the season.

All the hits off Foytack were singles and none was the type of base hit that gave the Yankee team a reputation for power. Gil McDougald looped a single to center leading off the third, Bobby Richardson beat out a slow bouncer to short in the fourth and losing pitcher Art Ditmar beat out a hit to second base in the sixth.

Home runs by Red Wilson and Eddie Yost eased Foytack's task, although the Tigers did not score until the fifth inning and had Foytack tolling on a one-run margin for seven innings.

Wilson hit a solo home run in the fifth and Yost cracked his in the eighth. The Tigers added two more runs off ex-teammate Duke Maas in the ninth without getting a ball out of the infield.

Wilson started it with his third hit, a punt along the third base line. Wilson stole second on a strikeout and Frank Bolling received an intentional walk. Hector Lopez, who helped the Tigers considerably last trip to Detroit with his fielding, bobbled Coe Veal's slow grounder and the bases were loaded.

Foytack was credited with a hit when his bouncer went so high in the air that Maas could not make a play once he retrieved the ball. That scored one run. Another came home on a force play.

This was the 11th time the Yankees have been shut out this year. They had only 10 white-washings all of 1958. The defeat dropped them back into sixth place, the Tigers taking over fifth by winning two out of three in the series.

CAUGHT STRETCHING — Detroit rightfielder Neil Chrissy is tagged by Yankee third sacker Cletis Boyer as he tries to advance two bases after Charley Maxwell's single. Mickey Mantle's throw to Boyer was in time for the tag. The Tigers won, 4-0.

White Sox and Orioles Tie 1-1 in 18 Innings

By The Associated Press
The Chicago White Sox and Baltimore Orioles can put in for overtime pay after struggling through 18 innings — the longest game of the season — with nothing to show for their work except a 1-1 tie, stopped by the curfew law. Baltimore has a special curfew that permits no inning to start after 11:59, Baltimore time. They just were nicely getting into No. 18 at that time.

Hoyt Wilhelm, relieving Billy O'Dell in the ninth, pitched 8 2/3 hitless innings and wound up by allowing only two singles in a 10-inning workout.

Billy Pierce, Chicago's stylish left-hander, had the longest tour of duty of any major league pitcher this season when he worked the first 16 innings. Turk Lown came on to finish.

Wilhelm was thrown out at the plate in the 15th, when the Orioles had three hits. The pitcher was trying to score from second on Billy Klaus' single to left.

Wilhelm's knuckleball got Baltimore in a jam in the 18th. A combination of a single by Sam Escobar, a passed ball, an intentional walk and another passed ball by catcher Joe Ginsberg on Wilhelm's knuckleball put men on second and third with two out. He worked his way out when Billy Gardner raced back from second base to take Al Smith's bloop in short right.

In the last of the 18th, Willie Tasby singled with one out. He moved to second on an infield out but Walt Dropp bounced out to the pitcher, ending the game.

The first hit off Wilhelm was a single by Billy Goodman with two out in the 17th.

The same two clubs had played two 17-inning games earlier in the season. Chicago won both of them, 6-5 on June 4 and 4-3 on July 25. They also played a pair of 10-inning games.

The tie game cut Chicago's American League lead to 1 1/2 games because Cleveland beat Washington 5-2 on Rocky Colavito's two-run homer, in the seventh. It was No. 32 for the Rock, breaking a 2-2 tie and assuring Gary Bell of his 12th victory. Bell's double had given the Indians their first two runs off loser Russ Kemmerer.

Boston had only four hits off Kansas City pitching but made them count for a 4-3 victory. Loe Kiely pitched his way out of a bases loaded jam in the ninth to save Jerry Casale's eighth triumph. Dick Williams and Bill Tuttle of the A's hit home runs.

John Molenda, 20-year old U. of D. golfer, led the field of 152 entries in the qualifying round of the Detroit District championship yesterday by firing a 34-37-71 at the Country Club of Detroit.

Molenda, playing out of Lakepointe, had five birdies in taking medalist honors.

Match play starts today with state amateur champion Bud Stevens joining the field. Stevens is paired against veteran Bob Babish in his first round. Babish had a 76 in yesterday's qualifier while Stevens made a practice tour at 78.

All 6 Michigan Junior Golfers Are Eliminated

Gary Mow, of Birmingham, who survived the second round of the National Junior tournament in Palo Alto, Calif., was the last of six Michigan players to be eliminated.

Mow fell in the third round to Jim Grant of Wethersfield, Conn., 5 and 4 after he had beaten Ron Frantz of Indianapolis, 5, and in the morning yesterday.

Other Michigan players Dennis Ahern of Royal Oak, Dick Brooks of Royal Oak, Bob Wagner of Owosso, Larry Joseph of Ann Arbor and Gary Pageau of Detroit were beaten in the first two rounds.

Sixteen remain in the field led by Bob Small of Long Beach, Calif. who had a 69 yesterday.

Meet in Exhibition at Boulder Saturday

Lions-Rams Start With Clean Slate

The Detroit Lions and Los Angeles Rams, two of the big 1958 National Football League disappointments, begin their "wipe the slate clean" campaign tomorrow in the first all-NFL exhibition game of the 1959 season.

The Chicago Cards had the first taste of battle on Wednesday when they lambasted Toronto of the Canadian Big Four Football Union, 55-26. Tomorrow's Rams-Lions game at Boulder, Colo., is the first of 39 exhibition games before the season gets underway. Saturday, Sept. 26.

The Rams carried on one of the most extensive house-cleaning campaigns in pro football history. In one sweep last January, they traded their second, third and fourth draft choices, and four varsity performers for halfback Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cards.

General Manager Pete Rozelle figured that Matson was the running power the Rams could have used to beat out Baltimore for the 1958 Western Conference crown. The Rams finished third.

"We could use him as a flank end or a defensive back," Rozelle said. Matson is definitely slated to handle the punt and kickoff returns in addition to his ball carrying that netted 505 yards in 129 carries for Chicago last year.

Detroit, with top draft choice Nick Pietrosante at the College All Stars camp, must go with the brittle John Henry Johnson at fullback. Lions coach George Wilson, whose team finished with a 4-7 record in 1958 after being world champions the previous year, still feels he has the nucleus of a title contender.

The Rams worked out at Boulder yesterday with Coach Sid Gillman sticking with his decision to use ex-Rice star Frank Ryan at quarterback for the first quarter and have regular signal caller Bill Wade take over the second quarter and finish the game.

The Rams will also be without the services of halfback Jon Arnett and Tom Wilson, and end Leon Clarke while end Jim Doran and tackle John Gordy are doubtful Lion participants.

Ralph Guglielmi and Eddie Lebaron hit end Bill Anderson with two touchdown passes last night as the West edged the East in a Washington Redskins intra-squad scrimmage, 30-13.

An operation on the knee of Baltimore Colts' linebacker Leo Sanford was termed "satisfactory," but there was no indication at this time if it would cure the chronic ailment.

Hot Putters Share Cleveland Open Lead

But the 44-year-old pitch-and-putt master from Down Under was tied for the top today as the $25,000 Cleveland Open wheeled into the second of four 18-hole rounds.

Deadlocked with him was 44-year-old Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla. Each fired a 67, four under par at Seneca Golf Club's 6,966-yard layout.

The two veteran campaigners—each a pro for more than 20 years—used their putting skill to stave off par and younger opponents. Ferrier had 10 one-putt greens, five birdies and one bogie, Cooper had nine one-putts, six birdies, and a double bogie.

Cooper has won nearly $20,000 this year, and Ferrier only $200, as they lead the way toward the $3,500 first prize.

The Australian-born 1947 PGA champion gave up the tour some five years ago in favor of teaching. He settled in California, made infrequent appearances in the near-Hollywood events and hasn't won a tournament since 1952.

Hollywood Headlines:

Sen. Javitz' Wife Trying Acting to Ease Loneliness

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Why does a senator's wife leave a busy life to do a walk-on in a movie?

This is the riddle posed by Marion Javits, bright-eyed wife of Sen. Jacob Javits (R-N.Y.). She is here for a role in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" She has three brief scenes as secretary to the New York FBI chief, performing with Tony Curtis, Dean Martin, James Whitmore and John McIntire.

The whole thing started, said the pretty brunette, when she had lunch one day in Lindy's in New York City. Her lunch mate was a friend of George Sidney, who was eating there, too. Mrs. Javits told the director she had always wanted to act.

"You've got a job!" he replied. But her yen goes deeper than just the desire to act. It has to do with the life of a senator's wife. "It can be a lonely life," she remarked. "The campaigning is exciting and fun, but there is little that a wife can share with him. Some women can live with loneliness. I think it's easier for the older wives to adjust to it. But for the younger ones — and there are only about a dozen of us — it can be very difficult."

"I remember attending a luncheon (which Mamie Eisenhower) gave for the Senate wives and talking to one of the young wives. She was pregnant, and she was miserable about her existence. It's too lonely," she said.

Mrs. Javits has chosen to keep her home in New York City. She goes to Washington for social occasions, and her husband flies home three and four times a week — "congressmen in the east are expected to be at home as much as they are in Washington."

Grown-Up Margaret Will Wed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Remember that little girl with the freckled face and the braids? Well, she's grown up and getting married Saturday.

Not the little girl who lived next door. But Margaret O'Brien, the child screen star whose wistful charm won millions of fans.

Margaret, now a serene 21-year-old brunette beauty and again a busy actress after an awkward-years absence, weds Harold Robert Allen Jr., 24, a commercial art student.

The ceremony will be conducted in St. Martin of Tours Roman Catholic Church. The couple will honeymoon in Hawaii. Upon their return, Margaret plans to continue her career, Harold his studies.

Nixon Fails to Learn of 11 Airmen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's talks with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev and other Russian leaders failed to solve the mystery of the 11 missing American fliers.

Nixon presumably sought further information about the missing airmen, but his talks shed no new light on the mystery.

There were 17 Americans aboard a C130 which was shot down in Soviet Armenia on Sept. 2, 1958. The Soviet Union returned the remains of six of the fliers—four identified and two unidentified—but the other 11 are still missing with no word about their fate.

Nonstate Students Spend $45 Million

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Colleges represent a big expense to the state, but they also bring considerable wealth into the state.

The current issue of Michigan Alumnus quarterly review estimates that out-of-state students spend $45 million annually in Michigan.

The article, by William F. Dawson, places out-of-state enrollment at 22,000 or 14.9 per cent of the total college enrollment in Michigan.

Camp at Interlochen to Get FM Station

INTERLOCHEN (UPI)—The National Music Camp will have an FM radio station within a year, camp President Dr. Joseph M. Maddy said today.

Maddy said the station will operate as a part of the 160-station network of the National Association of Educational Broadcasters.

Maddy said the station will be non-commercial and will operate on a year-round basis when it goes on the air. Eventually, the National Music Camp, which is now open only during the summer months, also will operate throughout the year, he said.

Interlochen programs are now broadcast over four educational radio stations in southern Michigan.

He Switches Chambers

MUSKOGON (AP)—John T. Hay has resigned as secretary-manager of the Greater Muskegon Chamber of Commerce, effective Oct. 15, to become general manager of the St. Paul, Minn., Chamber of Commerce.

Steel industries of the United States employ upwards of 660,000 workers.

Area Families Greet Exchange Students

WALLED LAKE—Two Walled Lake families are welcoming exchange students today.

The two girls arrived in Ann Arbor at noon by bus from Montreal where they docked Tuesday. They are among 162 students from Germany, Holland, Finland, France, England, Italy, Austria, Japan and India who will live in Michigan for a year.

The Michigan Council of Churches' "Youth for Understanding" program is their sponsor.

After being greeted by the consuls of their respective countries, the mayor of Ann Arbor and Oliver T. Rose, assistant principal of Walled Lake High School, who is also a director of the exchange program, they met their "adopted" families and departed with them for their new homes.

Decorate Their Boats for Annual Parade

UNION LAKE—Trying to outdo previous year's entries, Union Lake residents are decorating their boats in preparation for the third annual boat parade to be held Sunday at 1 p.m.

Union Lake Water Patrolman, Claude Harcourt, of 3625 Elmview St., will lead the parade beginning at the fishing site.

Prizes will be awarded to the most original and unusual creations which in the past have included "The Union Lake Sanitation Tug," and a "Japanese Tea House."

Donna Kay Colton Weds Almont Man in Commerce

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Bouquets of white gladioli were used to decorate the altar of the Commerce Methodist Church for the wedding of Donna Kay Colton and Daro Edward Jasken.

The Rev. Perry Thomas performed the double-rite ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Sarah Colton of 118 Robin Rd., Commerce Township. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jasken of 6284 Tubspring Rd., Almont.

The bride wore a floor-length organza gown with short sleeves and featuring a basque waist, bodice and bouffant skirt of embroidered organza and a large organza bow in the back.

A floral crown held her finger-tips veiled of French illusion and she carried a cascade arrangement of white flowers.

Chess Prodigy Appeals for Aid

Bobby Fisher Lacks $2,000 for Expenses to Yugoslav Tourney

NEW YORK (UPI)—The mother of America's chess prodigy, Bobby Fischer, who hopes to wrest the world's chess championship from Soviet Russia, appealed today for financial aid so her son can enter the playoffs in Yugoslavia.

Mrs. Regina Fischer of Brooklyn said she and her 16-year-old son, the youngest international grand master in the world, have saved nearly $2,000—half the amount needed to pay the expenses for the nearly two-month long tournament.

"With another $2,000 Bobby could be sure of being able to take part in this tournament," Mrs. Fischer said.

Frank Brady, business manager of the U.S. Chess Federation, said that if the Fischers do not raise the money within a few days Bobby probably will not be able to participate.

"Actually the International Chess Federation has stated that formal notice of availability be forwarded to the federation's headquarters in Sweden by Aug. 5," Brady said.

"However, there is a degree of flexibility in the date and I'm sure that if Bobby raises the money by Aug. 10 his formal guarantee that he will play will be accepted."

The candidates tournament is scheduled to begin in Bled, Yugoslavia on Sept. 6 and will last until Oct. 31. This will be an elimination tournament and the winner will face the present world champion, Russia's Mikhail Botvinnik in 1960.

Mrs. Fischer said that from March to June Bobby represented the United States in international chess events in Argentina, Chile and Switzerland. He won $500 which he is using to help defray expenses of the upcoming Yugoslav trip if he can make it. He also is using the royalties from his book Bobby Fischer's Chess Games, to raise the necessary funds, but chess books are slow sellers.

Folks Bank by Boat Along the Wolf River

FREMONT, Wis., UP—Folks who live along the Wolf River soon won't have to leave their boats to do their banking.

The Fremont branch of the Appleton State Bank is building a "bank by boat" facility on the site of an old cheese factory. The new quarters are expected to be completed by next year.
