Area UF Soars Over Goal to $822,581 Peak

Pontiac Press Photo

ALL ADDS UP — Payday for Pontiac Area United Fund showed a six per cent "bonus" in the annual campaign. A total of $822,581, an all-time record in pledges and collections, was reported at a noon victory luncheon today by E. M. Estes, drive chairman (left) who predicted the $776,700 goal would be topped. Continuing to hold up their end of the campaign are (left, from Estes) Chairmen Robert Critchfield, advanced gifts; Stuart Whitfield, commercial; Earl A. Maxwell, industrial; Mrs. William Brace, women's; and George S. Stephens, publicity. Adding punctuation are the Torchy Twins Jeanine and Janice Willockx, holding up the comma.

E. M. Estes, campaign general chairman, noted the drive went well over the original $776,700 goal.

"This campaign has been successful beyond all expectations," he happily announced to over 300 United Fund volunteer workers attending a victory luncheon at Elks Temple.

The amount pledged this year exceeds by nearly 10 per cent the $756,422 reported last year, Estes said. This brings to $8.75 million the total United Fund has collected since the first drive in 1949.

He stated one of the primary factors for the campaign's success was industrial division solicitations directed by Earl A. Maxwell. This unit raised over $50,000 above its goal.

Final totals show major local industrial firms and their employes contributed $571,410, or 109 per cent of the assigned quota.

COMMERCE DIVISION

Commercial division volunteers, under chairman Stuart Whitfield, collected pledges of $207,987 from small and medium size business firms and their employes, professional, school and government workers.

Final total on the women's division campaign, headed by Mrs. William Brace, shows $32,679 was raised. This was 109 per cent of the division's goal.

In another highlight of today's luncheon, United Fund President Glenn H. Griffin presented plaques to three former fund presidents.

★ ★ ★

Honored were Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press; William B. Hartman, local attorney; and businessman Leonard T. Lewis.

Robert Emerick, director of Pontiac Motor Division public relations, served as master of ceremonies. The luncheon was sponsored by The Pontiac Press, S. S. Kresge Co., J. L. Hudson Co., Pontiac Varnish Co., and Montgomery Ward & Co.

Soviets Yield, Clear Convoys

BERLIN (AP)—The Russians cleared large Berlin-bound French and British convoys through highway checkpoints without harassment today. The action was considered a Soviet backdown in the face of Western Allied firmness.

The French military convoy cleared the Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn at the western end of the autobahn to begin the 110-mile journey across Communist East Germany to Berlin. The British convoy was right behind.

A U. S. convoy was cleared earlier, but it consisted of only six vehicles and eight men — not large enough to cause the Russians to demand a head-count.

The French convoy had 10 vehicles and 47 men. It took an hour to clear the Marienborn checkpoint, about twice the normal time. There was no explanation of the delay, but a French spokesman said soldiers in the convoy did not dismount and were not asked to.

The convoy finally was allowed to proceed to Berlin on Wednesday.

WARNING GIVEN

Premier Khrushchev has warned there will be more such holdups on the autobahn unless the Western convoys conform to what he calls normal Soviet checking procedure.

The western powers maintain they have a right to unrestricted travel along the autobahn. They refuse to permit soldiers in their convoys to dismount for counting unless there are more than 30 passengers plus a driver and codriver for each vehicle.

Like the U.S. and French convoys, the British convoy leaving West Germany today is in the nondismountable category. There are 43 men in eight vehicles.

In Bonn, the West German capital, the government announced that U.S. Under Secretary of State George W. Ball will arrive Sunday to discuss the autobahn incident with West German leaders.

Ball will meet with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, Defense Minister Kai-Uwe Von Hassel, and former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

'Can't Permit Berlin Delays'

Rusk Covers Viet, Autobahn Situations

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the United States cannot permit the Soviet Union to interrupt Western access to Berlin.

He told a news conference that Soviet Premier Khrushchev has already indicated that he understands the seriousness of the issue.

Rusk declared also that the "world is in no shape" to permit any relaxation, and that

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today there may be some agreement soon on the long-stalled $250-million wheat deal with Russia.

U. S. foreign aid to other nations is still a critical need.

"There are large and dangerous questions still before us," he said, and cited Berlin, Laos, Viet Nam, Cuba.

NO RELAXATION

"There is . . . no easing of tensions between the Communist world and the free world. This is no time to quit. There is too much unfinished business before us."

Rusk said the new government of South Viet Nam, given diplomatic recognition yesterday, brings hope that troubled nation can be "free and secure."

He said this country wants no military bases, has no special interest of its own in Viet Nam and never has had a selfish concern there.

The American interest from the outset, he said, has been to insure survival of the nation against the threat of Communist takeover.

For the first time in history, the secretary of state's meeting with reporters was opened to live broadcast. It was carried live by Mutual Broadcasting System and ABC-Radio. The television networks taped it for later viewing.

Senate Shuns Its Leadership, Bans Yugoslav, U.A.R. Aid

WASHINGTON (AP)—Turning its back on the White House and on its own leaders, the Senate has voted to ban aid to Yugoslavia and the United Arab Republic.

Administration wishes for a free hand were trammeled on yesterday as the Senate put these prohibitions into the foreign aid bill and approved another amendment to keep the lid on assistance to Indonesia.

★ ★ ★

Administration forces clearly were reeling as the Senate closed up shop after its first night session since taking up foreign aid a week ago Monday.

ROCKY ROAD

The slow and rocky road to passage of the $3,742,365,000 measure is strewn with 47 additional amendments, aimed either at paring the authorization or restricting how the funds be used.

Administration forces plan to fight later to restore the President's discretion to provide most favored nation trade treatment for Yugoslavia and Poland, barred last year by Congress.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., is ready with an amendment to cut off all aid to Communist Yugoslavia except for some surplus food and for assistance to American schools, hospitals and libraries.

And Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said he will offer an amendment to wipe out completely the President's discretion to aid any Communist country under any circumstance.

Under present law foreign aid cannot be given Yugoslavia, Poland and other Communist countries unless the President determines the assistance is vital to the security of the United States, the recipient is not controlled by the Kremlin and that the aid will promote the country's independence.

★ ★ ★

The big fight Thursday night came on the amendment by Sen. Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, to bar help to any nation which the President determines is engaging in or preparing for aggressive action against the United States or any country receiving U.S. assistance. Identical to a provision in the House-passed bill, it was approved, 65 to 13.

Weekend Showers Predicted

The weatherman said a damp weekend is in store for Pontiac area residents. Saturday will be partly cloudy with a chance of showers late in the day and Sunday.

Temperatures will continue mild, the high for the next five days averaging 4 to 8 degrees above the normal 46 to 50, and normal low of 32 to 35.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. today was 42. The thermometer ing at 2 p.m. was 47.

Overpayment, Farnum Says

Officials of County in Auditor's Charge

The State Attorney General's Office is studying a new report by Aud. Gen. Billie S. Farnum, alleging Oakland County officials have been overpaid $13,970.

Spokesmen said the office will determine if any legal action should be taken.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan, denied his office was launching any legal investigation in the county.

Farnum's report includes $9,470 in alleged overpayments mentioned in an earlier report on the county's 1960 finances. The new report, extending through 1961, charges additional overpayments of $4,500, for a total of $13,970.

EARLIER REPORT

Cohan couldn't recall the disposition of Farnum's earlier report after it was submitted to the attorney general for possible legal action:

The additional $4,500 referred to now by Farnum covers mostly the same sort of payments reported for 1960 which Farnum alleged were improper.

★ ★ ★

County officials named in the latest report again deny any wrongdoing.

THE CHARGES

Again, Farnum charges Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry and former County Supervisor John Semann were overpaid.

Farnum said Hamlin was illegally paid $25 a meeting when state law limited a supervisor's per diem to $15.

Hamlin said he never asked for the increase, which was approved by the board of supervisors because members agreed that his efforts were worth more.

County Corp. Counsel Robert Allen said the board of supervisors acted within its rights because statutes never covered the chairman's pay, and that permission for extra payment has since been spelled out in new statutes.

TO TAKE OPINION

Hamlin said he would abide by the opinion of the county's

State Okays Holly Site for Hunting Use

LANSING (AP) — The State Conservation Commission today approved a proposal to set aside 2,791 acres of the Holly Recreation Area for hunting and game management.

Local sportsmen had complained that almost all of the land in the popular Oakland County area was being used for recreational purposes. Hunters were not being given a fair share of the use, they said.

Joseph Rhoades of Clarkston, representing the Southeastern Michigan Council of Conservation Clubs, said there was good hunting in the area and it should be preserved in a natural state for the development of game.

LAPEER AREA

The commission took no action, only recommended a study, on a request that a portion of the Lapeer State Game Area be opened to recreational use.

Arnold Whitney, Lapeer city manager, asked that Long Lake and an adjoining area be opened to recreational uses such as swimming, camping and water skiing.

Romney Open to Tax Ideas

LANSING (AP)—Gov. George Romney said today he might be able to accept some individual tax reform proposals passed by the Legislature—even if they did not constitute a basic program.

But "I'm not going to be satisfied with a watered-down version that would lead the people to believe we've got tax reform when we haven't," he added.

★ ★ ★

Romney decisively ended a protocol standoff yesterday when he stalked from his office into the Senate, shook the hand of the House's top Democrat, and said he'd been told "a personal invitation from me might help."

It did.

Minutes later, House Democratic leader Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, and Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, the top elected Democrat, were in the Republican governor's office.

The result was a written commitment from Romney to the Democrats "to meet on any basis on which you want to meet at the earliest possible time for the purpose of considering a satisfactory program of basic tax reform."

Lesinski called it "the first real sign of cooperation" but he and Kowalski said Tuesday at 10 a.m. probably would be the earliest a formal session with Romney could be set up.

ADJOURNED FOR WEEKEND

The legislature adjourned for the weekend yesterday while letters flew between the offices of Lesinski and Romney. The letters had these words in common: "Time is of the essence."

Lawmakers will return Monday night — three months to the day from the start of the special session — with Romney's program half-dead in the Senate and bottled up in the House.

Lesinski Wednesday announced the Democrats would form informal committees to work with Republican legislative leaders — he did not name Romney — to "salvage" fiscal reform.

He said then that Romney was "not the man to deal with," but today after getting Romney's invitation said the governor "may be awakening to reality."

The possibility of the afternoon meeting seemed to have dissolved when Lesinski said "I don't see how we can make it before Monday."

He and Kowalski were discussing it when at least three

By JIM DYGERT

While his mother sobbed and his stepfather did the talking, 16-year-old Charles R. Morris yesterday sat silent through a hearing in his fatal shooting of a young stranger Wednesday.

A problem boy familiar to authorities, the Walled Lake youth showed little emotion during the preliminary Juvenile Court hearing.

Charles added nothing to earlier statements that he shot 18-year-old Kenneth Beebe because he wanted himself to be killed.

Beebe, of 46759 Vineyard, Shelby Township, a construction worker, was slain shortly after 1 p.m. The fatal bullet, third fired from a 32-caliber deer rifle, came from a second-floor window of the Morris boy's home at 920 Ladd.

Probate Court Judge Norman R. Barnard set Nov. 19 for another hearing. He then will rule on a prosecutor's petition for a waiver to permit the boy to be tried as an adult.

Charles was returned to the county jail after the hearing.

Oakland County Senior Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry said he had not decided whether to issue an order for a first-degree murder warrant before Barnard's ruling on his petition.

★ ★ ★

In the meantime, Juvenile Court Casework, Supervisor Wallace C. Crane, who attended yesterday's hearing, and court psychologists will probe into the boy's past and examine him before making recommendations to Barnard.

A good part of the boy's story

Baker Faces Third Probe Over His D. C. Tax Status

WASHINGTON (AP) — The District of Columbia has started its own investigation of Robert G. Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

A district tax official said Thursday that a probe is under way of the tax status of all persons reported to have been involved in business ventures with Baker.

It was his extensive outside business interests that brought about the current Senate investigation of Baker, who resigned Oct. 7 after allegations he was using his Senate job to promote his own dealings.

The FBI and Internal Revenue Service have also announced they are looking into his affairs.

NOTHING ON FILE

Leo J. Ehrig Jr., supervisor of the income and franchise section of the district's finance office, said Thursday that Baker has until Nov. 18 to explain why he and his wife have not filed district income tax returns.

He said a survey going back to 1955 failed to uncover returns by either of the Bakers. Mrs. Baker was also on the Senate payroll.

Baker and his family were living in an expensive house in the district—although he was not listed as the owner of record—and he owned a townhouse in which his former secretary was living.

Officials of Federal Housing Administration said Baker once sought a review of the FHA's rejection of an apartment project in Puerto Rico and also asked about a job for a friend. He was turned down in both instances, the FHA said.

Staff members said Baker never tried to apply any pressure.

Youth Silent at Hearing in Area Slaying

is already in the court's records. Charles has been in and out of trouble for years.

Walled Lake Police Chief James A. Decker, who also was at the hearing along with Sheriff's Detective Ray Bills, said he told juvenile authorities three years ago "if something wasn't done to help in a permanent way, the boy would kill someone."

Charles twice was confined to the county Children's Center, once on his 13th birthday for breaking into a policeman's home and slashing his uniform, and again last year for breaking into a market.

He had numerous other scrapes with the law and twice was brought into Juvenile Court for home incorrigilibity.

A neighbor, whose wife heard the shots Wednesday and saw the wounded Beebe, said Charles sometimes responded to offers of help, "but if it involved any work, he wasn't interested."

What apparently triggered the boy's drastic move, according to police, was his despondency at being forbidden to see a 16-year-old girl friend. He ran away with her six weeks ago in an unsuccessful marriage attempt.

The boy, who talked freely to police after his arrest, said he "wanted to shoot someone so the police would come and kill me."

★ ★ ★

But Charles made no effort to shoot it out with police, although he locked himself in his house for an hour before surrendering.

Police confiscated seven guns at the home, a source of concern for the step-father, Russell Wager, according to Chief Decker.

Detective Bills said Decker told him that Wager wanted the guns back immediately because deer hunting season was approaching.

The boy's mother and stepfather spent 15 minutes privately with Judge Barnard after yesterday's hearing.

DOUGLAS-HOME

Sir Alec Wins Commons Seat

PERTH, Scotland (AP)—British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home won a seat in the House of Commons today by a whopping 9,328-vote margin which he hoped would take some sting out of a bad Conservative party defeat in another special election.

Defeat of the prime minister in the safe Conservative district of Kinross and West Perthshire would have been an unprecedented disaster for the Conservatives and would have plunged Briain into a government crisis.

★ ★ ★

In a three-sided race in the 1959 general election, the Conservatives won the district by a 12,000-vote margin. No one had expected them to come anywhere near that figure this time.

Romney Meets With Top Dems on Tax Reform

persons — a reporter, a Democrat staff member and a Republican lawmaker's assistant — hurried into Romney's office to say the two Democrats were talking in the Senate chamber, not 50 yards distant.

Romney made the walk, confronted the surprised Kowalski, invited him, and returned to his office. Lesinski took Kowalski's arm and the two followed Romney.

★ ★ ★

MODIFIED PROGRAM

Earlier, Romney said he was willing to modify his tax reform program with either of two plans proposed yesterday for solving Detroit and Wayne Coutny fiscal problems.

In a meeting with Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and other officials, Romney said, general agreement was reached that a plan should be used which would not reduce Detroit tax revenues but which would meet Wayne County needs.

Both plans now under consideration — and to be discussed with legislators next week — involve a shifting of the $10.8-million Detroit welfare burden to Wayne County.

At the same time, the county would be furnished with methods of raising new revenues to absorb the welfare burden and to meet all other needs in addition to paying off a deficit of about $28 million.

RIGHT TO LEVY

Under one plan, originally put forth by a subcommittee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, Wayne County would be given the right to levy and nonproperty taxes not pre-empted by the state except an income tax.

★ ★ ★

Under the second plan, the state would help Wayne County by assuming responsibility for 50 per cent of the total welfare cost up to one mill of taxation and all welfare costs beyond one mill, or either way, whichever would be most favorable to the county.

Charge by Farnum of Overpayments

Barry said Farnum was confusing money paid to him by 14 communities in Southeastern Oakland County while acting as their district drain agent with his salary as county drain commissioner.

Barry was paid an additional $2,400 as the agent in 1960 and '61. The money doesn't come from county funds, he said.

Semann, who has since been appointed a Lansing lobbyist by the board of supervisors said he didn't know of any irregularities in his case.

SIDE OF STORY

"I haven't seen the report," he said. "My side of the story will have to wait until after I see it, and have a chance to confer with legal counsel."

Barry denied as entirely false a Farnum allegation that drain funds were used to buy a car for County Treasurer Charles Sparks.

"The treasurer has the use of a car from our motor pool when carrying out financial transactions for the drain board," said Barry.

County officials said there was nothing new in Farnum's latest report. They wanted to know what happened to his earlier report.

Cohan said he was checking the disposition of that.

Gobblers May Mean Gravy

Lake Orion Eyes Its Future

By ROGER SRIGLEY

LAKE ORION — Members of the Merchants Association here are beginning to talk turkey about what the organization can do to improve Lake Orion — physically, financially and aesthetically.

The biggest hurdle is already overcome. Most of the association's members have admitted — to themselves and to each other — that something is definitely lacking here.

More than 50 business, civic and government leaders turned out to a meeting Oct. 24 to discuss the problem.

★ ★ ★

Many had their own ideas of just what's wrong. Village President Irvine J. Unger thinks the town's motto, "Where living is a Vacation," is being taken too literally by the residents.

OTHER PROBLEMS

Others suggested the problem was in part based on lack of parking, an unsatisfactory sewage program, the geographical layout of the town and a constant passing of the buck where improvement is concerned.

Tuesday, at another meeting, merchants began planning Thanksgiving and Christmas promotions.

"Hey!," said Dave Donnelly, owner of Townhouse Restaurant. "How about live turkeys!" And so began "Merchant Turkey Daze," set for Nov. 21, 22 and 23.

Although plans are incomplete, the group will be releasing live 16-pound turkeys in town on these three days.

TURKEY TAGS

"We'll have something going with turkey tags, too," commented Duane Decker of Lake Orion Furniture and Appliance. He doesn't know yet what would be done with the tags.

The association's Christmas plans are more complete. A 10:30 a.m. parade on Dec. 7 will kick off seasonal festivities.

Already signed up to enter floats are the American Legion, camp fire girls, Upland Hills Subdivision, three churches and six local businesses.

Santa Claus and "Miss Merry Christmas" will also be featured in the parade. Beginning Dec. 6, stores will be open until 9 p.m. daily through Christmas.

But active members of the association are asking for more than participation in promotion campaigns. They want more than floats.

Donnelly, a sparkplug for community betterment, has plans for drastic changes.

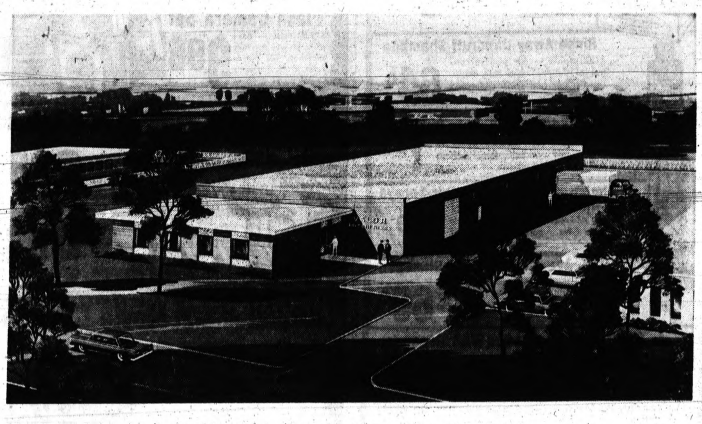
Donnelly contends that downtown Lake Orion could be made into a shopping center that would draw people from all over the area.

REJUVENATION

He, and others who have the same convictions, are talking of "cleaning up" the town and rejuvenating it.

Next meeting of the merchants Association is set for Dec. 3.



Architect's Conception Of Valor Enterprises Building

First Building on Way Up in Troy's Industrial Park

TROY — Work has begun on the first building in the new 38-acre industrial park adjacent to Berz Airport.

The walls of the Valor Enterprises structure are up, and the roof now is being installed.

The small appliance firm, headed by Stuart Davis and Charles Pelizzari, is being relocated in Troy. The present home of the company is at 2300 Cole, Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

Reason for the move, Pelizzari said, was that "we are constantly working on new products and need more room."

NEAR RESIDENCES

The new site, east off Coolidge, between 14 and 15 Mile roads, was selected because of its proximity to the residential areas that surround it and its immediate and contiguous location with Berz Airport.

This permits industries locating in the park to have access to the airport, its service and complete maintenance facilities.

Water, sewage, gas and concrete pavement have been installed this year.

Concrete paving from 14 Mile Road north on Coolidge to the Birmingham Airport subdivision, as the park is called, has been installed by the City of Royal Oak. Similar concrete pavement is currently under design and will be installed from that point north to Maple by June 1964.

SEPT. 30 CEREMONY

The park was officially opened with ribbon-cutting ceremonies Sept. 30 presided over by Troy Mayor Robert J. Huber.

At that time, it was announced the Valor Enterprises would be the first firm to occupy a pareel in the subdivision.

The new building will have 16,000 square feet of floor space, and the offices will be air-conditioned. It is being constructed by Englehardt, Buettner & Holt, Royal Oak.

Marr and Marr of Detroit are the architects.

Owner of the land in the park is the Birmingham Industrial Corp, headed by George R. Squibb. Max Broock, Inc., Birmingham, is handling sales of the 33 one-acre sites that make up the park.

Gerrymander Is Charged

GRAND RAPIDS (UPI) — A Democratic member of the Legislative Apportionment Commission was attacked yesterday for supposedly trying to Gerrymander Kent County's five state representative seats.

However, Grand Rapids attorney A. Robert Kleiner scrapped his plan just before the criticism from County Republican Chairman Walter J. Russell.

Under Kleiner's plan, Russell charged, "an all-white Democratic district" would be formed in a traditionally Republican area. All five present representatives are Republicans.

Huron Valley Board Sets Building Program Airing

MILFORD — The Huron Valley Board of Education last night set Nov. 18 as the date for a public hearing on its proposed building program.

Leading up to the Dec. 12 vote on a $2.2-million bond issue, the 8 p.m. meeting will be held at Brooks School, 1000 Hill, Highland Township.

Board members will outline details of the building program, which calls for a new Milford Junior High and additions to Highland Junior High and Milford High schools.

A similar bond issue was defeated last June by an 813-810 margin. However, 27 ballots were invalidated because they were improperly marked.

ANOTHER BUILDING

The school district's initial building program included another elementary school at an estimated cost of $300,000.

Previously, the board had considered tacking this on to the $2.2-million bond proposal, but decided against it.

In other action last night, the Huron Valley school board reaffirmed its policy that all buildings will be community centers available to residents for activities after school hours.

Two new multipurpose rooms were opened this fall. The rooms are located in Duck Lake Elementary School and Johnson Elementary School.

Special Bonds Get State OK for Southfield Work

SOUTHFIELD — The State Municipal Finance Commission has approved issuance of $256,000 in special assessment bonds for water mains and sanitary sewers here.

The bonds will finance $99,000 for water mains and $157,000 for two sanitary sewers.

Smith said most of the work was slated for the southern portion of the city.

Fire Ruins Barn, Hay in Brandon

BRANDON TOWNSHIP — Flames started by a spark from an electric fence yesterday leveled a barn on the Charles Ward farm, 3600 Sherwood, and destroyed 3,000 bales of hay stored inside.

Ward told Brandon Township Fire Chief William Buckingham he spotted smoke at the rear of the structure, where the fence was, but by the time he reached it, the entire side was burning.

The Brandon Township Fire Department received the call shortly after 4:30 p. m.

With assistance of the Orion and Oxford departments, they were able to have the fire under control by 5:30, but stayed until after 11 p. m. clearing debris.

SAVE STABLE

The volunteers concentrated on saving a stable next to the barn. Their efforts were hampered by a lack of water.

Buckingham estimated the damage at $3,000 to the barn and $2,500 to the hay, lumber and equipment.

The stable, about the same size as the 26- by 50-foot barn, was only slightly damaged. Ward said he had no insurance on the building or contents.

★ ★ ★

Avon Farmer to Exhibit at World Show

Oakland County is among the many Michigan counties that will be represented by exhibits at the 1963 International Livestock Exposition Nov. 29-Dec. 7 in Chicago.

Stuart J. Hutchins, owner of Hutch Farms, 1062 E. Hamlin, Avon Township, will be showing purebred Holstein cattle at the event.

Celebrating its 64th anniversary this year, the country's largest stock show will be held in the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stockyards.

Feature attraction of the daily horse shows in conjunction with the exposition will be the appearance of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police in their famous Musical Ride.

Traffic Deaths 1,510

EAST LANSING (AP) — Traffic accidents have killed 1,510 persons in Michigan so far this year, provisional figures compiled by state police showed today. The toll at this date last year was 1,365.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Royalty Sought in Oxford to Reign at Holiday Parade

OXFORD — The Chamber of Commerce is looking for a local boy and girl to reign as Snow King and Queen of the Nov. 30 Christmas parade.

In addition to being awarded the royal titles and prizes from local merchants, the couple will ride in a cutter with Santa Claus, highlighting the parade.

The cutter will be atop a hay wagon furnished by Upland Hills Farms.

★ ★ ★

Civic groups, merchants and area churches are also expected to sponsor floats in the parade, which will begin at the junior high school and travel south to the village park.

SANTA HOUSE

There, Santa will dismount and go to the Santa Claus House, where he will spend his leisure time during the pre-Christmas season.

The parade will begin at 2 p.m.

In order to qualify for Snow King or Queen, contestants must be between ages of 6 and 10 and reside in the Oxford Area Community School District.

Merchants' children cannot compete, according to Bruce Sanderson, chamber president.

REGISTER CHILDREN

Parents of the area are invited to register eligible children at Noble's Suburban Shop before Nov. 16.

The name, age, address, phone number and a picture of the boy or girl must be left with the entry blank.

Ballots will be given out with purchases made at Oxford stores. Pictures of the contestants will be posted at the Town & Country Business Service.

The lucky winners will be announced Nov. 29.

SUSAN KAY SUTTON

Mr. and Mrs. Verne E. Sutton of 722 W. University, Rochester, announce the engagement of their daughter Susan Kay to Thomas Allan. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Robert Allan, 1415 W. Tienken, Avon Township. A December wedding is planned.

VFW Dinner in Rochester

ROCHESTER — The Jack A. Mason Post No. 3908, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will celebrate Veterans Day with a 6:30 p.m. cooperative dinner in the Avon Park Pavilion.

Representatives of local veterans organizations as well as civic leaders will attend the Monday event. Entertainment will be provided by the Cooper Sisters Dance School.

★ ★ ★

The veterans post is named after Jack A. Mason, first Avon Township resident to become a casualty in World War II.

'Can't Force Teachers to Join MEA'

LANSING (AP)—Dr. Lynn Bartlett, state superintendent of public instruction, firmly told the superintendent of the Mecosta-Remus schools yesterday that he can't keep teachers in empty classrooms just because they don't belong to the Michigan Education Association (MEA).

"Very unfortunate . . . too bad it happened . . . I hope as a result of this superintendents will be informed so it won't happen again," were among the comments from Bartlett after a meeting with Supt. Elliott Oldt.

The order, for which Oldt took full responsibility at his meeting with Bartlett, told teachers, in effect, that they could not attend regional teacher institutes unless they belonged to the MEA.

"There is no authority in law for a local board of education to prohibit a teacher from attending a county or state teacher's institute on the basis the teacher does not belong to an educational institution," Bartlett said.

For Literary Program

Moderators Sought

Adult leaders are being recruited for the countywide Junior Great Books Program.

Mrs. James H. Worley, Great Books coordinator, said an eight-week leadership training course will begin Jan. 6.

The deadline for registering for the once-a-week training sessions is Nov. 15. The tuition-paid course will be held in Southfield, Birmingham, Ferndale and Royal Oak.

Mrs. Worley said a demonstration of the Junior Great Books program will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Jane Adams Elementary School, 220 W. Webster, Royal Oak.

AROUND TABLE

The Great Books coordinator explained that the program is comprised of groups of 15 students in the same grade level who meet around a conference table once a month.

Under the guidance of two coleaders or moderators, the youngsters discuss what they have read.

Mrs. Worley said a "Socratic technique" is used in the discussions. This is based on asking questions, not giving answers.

Great Books programs involve 700 students in 57 discussion groups in the county, including Orchard Lake, Walled Lake, Pontiac and Farmington.

Mrs. Worley said new groups can join the Great Books program by registering ahead of the Nov. 15 deadline.

He Didn't Trust Banks

House Cluttered--With Cash

FORT DODGE, Iowa (UPI)—Harlan Phelps is a friendly, dependable man with few needs and fewer extravagances.

He walks 3½ miles back and forth from work each day. Most evenings he stops by a store to pick up some groceries. Then he goes home and listens to the radio.

He, doesn't like television. He also doesn't like banks.

* * *

His employer of 25 years, the U. S. Gypsum Co., for whom he is a maintenance worker, says the only trouble it ever had with him was getting him to cash his checks.

POLICE VISIT

Wednesday night police burst into his modest white frame house and found $12,000.

* * *

The cash was mostly in old, faded, rotten and crumbling bills, strewn about in boxes and drawers and in piles of paper and rubbish throughout the house. Here and there were coins.

It apparently was money left over through the years from Phelps' meager expenditures.

* * *

Piles of newspapers covered most rooms two or three inches deep. Small cans of food were scattered throughout the house. A suit with wide lapels hung from the living room chandelier, apparently untouched for years.

UNUSED TELEVISION

A small television set stood in the living room, but cobwebs streamed from it to a nearby window, which was covered with tattered curtains. When found, Phelps was dozing by the radio.

* * *

Phelps, 62, who earns $100 a week, might have gone undisturbed for who knows how long, had it not been for a 16-year-old boy who got into trouble.

Police arrested the youth after it was reported he had purchased a used car for $200 and was spending money wildly. They found nearly $39,000 in cash.

When the youth, J. W. Dock, told officers he took the money from a house in the modest Coleman section just outside the city limits, they were inclined not to believe him. He offered to show them the house.

HE MISSED IT

Phelps, smiling and amiable, said he had missed the money but did not report it because, "I was afraid someone would find out about the rest of it."

He told police he didn't have much use for banks because "When you put the money in banks, you don't get half of it back when you want it."

He said this happened to him once several years ago, but he did not elaborate.

"I guess I'll have to start believing in banks," Phelps said.

Highest U. S. Bridge

The bridge at Cleveland, Ken. is 250 feet above river level and 1,736 feet from shore to shore, probably the highest continuous steel deck bridge in the U.S.

You Are Further Notified that on said date the petitioner intends to ask this Court to establish the normal height and level of said lake at 934.00 feet above sea level and if you desire to oppose the establishment of the level at 934.00 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause, if any you have, why:

(A) The normal height and level of said lake should not be established;
(B) Why 934.00 feet above sea level should not be the level fixed as the normal height and level of said lake;
(C) Why such other and further relief as to the Court seems fitting and proper should not be granted to petitioner.

Supervisors' Action Is Progressive Step

Oakland County Board of Supervisors voted by a substantial majority to appoint DANIEL T. MURPHY to the chairmanship of the County Board of Auditors. He has served the County offices of clerk and register of deeds since 1950.

MURPHY

The action of the board is tantamount to the creation of the office of county manager responsible to the supervisors. The move has been contemplated for some time, with Mr. MURPHY clearly eligible for appointment because of the well-rounded qualification he had demonstrated.

With population and industrial growth of Oakland County exceeded by few others in the Nation, an executive head to administer the many phases of area government is compatible with the times.

★ ★ ★

The PRESS commends the board of supervisors on the progressive step taken and the selection of Mr. MURPHY for the expanded office.

With Existing Poll Tax U.S. Not 'Land of Free'

There is no more archaic socio-political law than the poll tax statute. It puts a price on right of free expression, one of the concepts on which our democracy is founded.

Originally, right of suffrage in Colonial America was based upon economic and social status. Thus the poll tax was first used in the new United States to extend that right. It was not until after the Civil War that states seized upon the tax as a device to keep the electorate small.

★ ★ ★

Today, but five states—Alabama, Arkansas, Mississippi, Virginia and Texas — penalize their voters. Thirty-six states have thus far ratified the proposed Federal amendment to the Constitution banning poll taxes for national elections. The proposal passed by the Senate last year, needs the approval of but two more states to become the law of the land.

★ ★ ★

Currently, Texas votes Nov. 9 on an amendment to the state constitution that abolishes its $3.50 annual poll tax for a husband and wife. But another state — Virginia — is calling a special legislative session to write a new state poll tax law for state and local elections that would even have force after passage of the Federal amendment.

★ ★ ★

Until the last vestige of state suffrage restriction is abolished, our democracy cannot in truth be called "the land of the free."

Cuba's Soviet Support Shows Signs of Wear

Not only was he dealt a shattering blow by the forces of nature that threw his island domain into social and economic chaos, but it looks as though his Communist puppeteer, NIKITA KHRUSHCHEV, has become disenchanted with him.

Reliable intelligence indicates that 1,800 Soviet troops have gone home from Cuba within the short space of one recent week. This shrinking process has reduced the estimated peak of 21,000 to a force now numbered between 5,000 and 8,000.

There is also significance attached to the niggardlyness of the first offer of post-hurricane aid to CASTRO by Russia—a token $90,000. It was, however, later amplified with an assortment of "extras" after Red China had come through with $1 million.

Still a third unfavorable straw in the wind for Castro are reports from Eastern Europe that the Soviets, Czechs and other Cuban trading partners in the Communist bloc have decided to be much less generous in their future dealings with the Castro government.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Castro's need for handouts is mounting continuously, and not just because of the devastation wrought by the hurricanes. The Cuban economy is in ruins. Misery is mounting. Under the prick of want, signs are beginning to appear that Cubans are far from ideal raw material for a Communist state.

JFK in Hot Seat; K Applying Heat

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — It's enough to make President Kennedy uncomfortable. He wants reelection in 1964 for another four years. His best campaign theme would be peace and prosperity.

MARLOW

And now Premier Khrushchev, who can grunt and growl like a mechanical bear, is performing again. Twice in less than a month's time the Soviets have blockaded American convoys in East Germany.

This could be merely a temporary unpleasantness, like sneezing in the soup. There's no way of knowing that.

It could also be the signal for worse to come, with Khrushchev turning 1964 into a year of crises.

★ ★ ★

AGREE TO EXCHANGES

On March 8, 1963, the United States and Russia agreed to cultural exchanges in the scientific, technical, educational and artistic fields.

Things looked even more comfortable June 20 when the "hot line" between Moscow and Washington was open to speed communications between the two nerve centers in an emergency.

And on July 25 the United States, Russia and Britain in Moscow initialed a limited nuclear test-ban agreement.

The treaty wasn't wrapped up until Kennedy signed it, which he did Oct. 7. It was to go into effect Oct. 10.

TRYING TIMES

Repressing his clamorous instincts for those last three days must have been trying on the Russian.

But waiting gave him a chance for some unforgettable and perhaps, as time may show, ominous irony.

On Oct. 10, the very day the test treaty went into effect, Khrushchev became his old self again.

★ ★ ★

The Soviets blockaded the American convoy in East Germany, held it up a couple of days, did it again Nov. 4 and again let it through.

These two escapades created brand new tensions in this country.

★ ★ ★

All this might have been just Khrushchev's reminder to the West not to suppose he was getting soft or soft-headed because he made a few agreements.

But it could be his way of giving Americans a foretaste of worse in store.

Just Won't Let It Roll

David Lawrence Says:

Khrushchev's Policy Dangerous

WASHINGTON—A most sensational revelation has just been made by Premier Khrushchev. He tells the world that at any moment a war could break out between the United States and the Soviet Union, inasmuch as the Russian military commanders on the Berlin highway can decide for themselves to open fire on Allied troops and vehicles.

LAWRENCE

This state of affairs would normally be protected against a dangerous climax by diplomatic intervention, but Mr. Khrushchev apparently has given discretion to subordinate officers to shoot if they construe existing regulations about access to Berlin to be challenged.

He indicates that, irrespective of the facts, he will blame the United States forces for having provoked the fighting.

★ ★ ★

"Are you saying that if we cannot agree over procedure on the autobahn, that you would give an order that would result in shooting and possible war?"

To this, Mr. Khrushchev replied as follows:

"No, we gave no such order but there is an established procedure . . . It is a matter of a soldier being a soldier. He has operational instructions and if someone wants to break through, then it is in the natural course of things that force will be met by force.

★ ★ ★

"It is something that is based on standing orders. A soldier is not a foreign minister. He cannot enter into negotiations and he has to carry out his orders. That is the law both for our soldiers and for yours.

MADE ATTEMPT

"They (the Americans) made an attempt to ignore the established procedure. Thus our armored trucks came out of concealment to bar the way and then the American and British agreed to observe the established procedure.

It is difficult to say what would have happened if they had not agreed to that. It is possible that you and I would not be here today. We would not have yielded and they would have had to move over our dead bodies."

★ ★ ★

The American version of the autobahn incident is that it was the Soviets who departed from the "established" procedure.

★ ★ ★

This is the kind of argument that normally is thrashed out by the foreign offices and the diplomats, but the Khrushchev statement indicates clearly that the Soviet troops are under "operational instructions" to shoot whenever they themselves wish to deviate from the customary procedure and the Allied forces in response attempt to maintain their own rights.

No more dangerous setup could be devised to bring on a war. If shooting starts, there will not be time to argue afterwards just who departed from the "established" rules.

But now everybody knows that the Soviet military forces have been told to shoot when challenged.

Mr. Khrushchev's policy appears to be to seek gradually to impose more and more restrictions until the Allied forces have been driven out of the Berlin area altogether.

Bob Considine Says:

Diem Spoke at Interview With the Vigor of Youth

NEW YORK — President Diem's last interview was with the Hearst task force, just a little over a month ago.

★ ★ ★

Ambassador Lodge said we'd find him an old and beaten man who had lost his grip on the situation, uncertain of his future course and all that sort of thing.

When Diem bounced in to greet us, he brimmed with vigor. He was everything Ambassador Lodge had said he wasn't.

CONSIDINE

Diem spoke to us in French, except for one sentence. Suddenly restless with the game of languages, he turned to Bill Hearst and spoke a sentence in perfect English.

The early phases of the interview had to do with his sister-in-law's most recent interview, the one in Rome where she was reported as blasting the younger American officers serving in Viet Nam as military advisers.

HEDGES ON AID

We expected him, somehow, to come forth with a full-breasted endorsement of the American aid effort.

Instead, Diem seemed to hedge a bit. Sorry, he had not read the text of Madame's remarks in Rome, and therefore could not comment, could he?

Frank Conniff said that was sensible, but how did he, Diem, feel about our men. But he ducked that a bit, too.

★ ★ ★

"The American officers I've met are good ones, on the whole," he said. "Actually, I've had little contact with your junior officers and men." By this he seemed to be tacitly supporting Mme. Nhu's reported statements in Rome.

A DEPUTY

"Did you ever tell her to keep quiet?" I asked him.

★ ★ ★

Diem shrugged. "She was in Rome this time," he said. "I didn't know what she was going to say. But, remember, she is also a deputy. She can speak for herself; just as your congressmen do."

"But don't you see how bad that sounds to dependents of the men concerned, the mothers and fathers of them, their wives and kids?" Frank pressed him.

"I have always spoken of our foreign friends in a friendly way," Diem answered solemnly. Then the strong bronzed face beneath the shock of raven black hair burst wide open with sudden and radiant laughter.

"It is because I am not married that I have all these troubles."

Voice of the People:

'How Do We Prevent Red Takeover of Viet Nam?'

It is any wonder the U.N. observers were barred from entering certain places in South Viet Nam, since the Viet Nam government could not expect objective reporting?

Ceylon, one of the most vocal in accusing South Viet Nam government of religious persecution, is guilty of discrimination against its Christian citizens. It has pursued an open anti-Christian policy since it came to power. It has taken over hundreds of Catholic schools.

★ ★ ★

Mme. Nhu is not the issue. The issue is how shall we save South Viet Nam from being taken over by communism.

Baldwin Rubber is being closed. This affects the hopes and future of over 700 people and their families (or approximately 2,800 people including children). Let's all cooperate and buy stock in Baldwin Rubber so our auto mats will continue to be made locally as our autos are—for the good of Pontiac as well as men who want work, not charity. — C.B.T.

Suggests Moving Sidewalks for Pontiac

While downtown Pontiac is considering ideas to build a better city, it would do well to speculate on some plans. I believe the time is near when malls will have moving sidewalks. The distances people have to walk in some mall areas will not long be tolerated.

★ ★ ★

In the early 1930's a businessman asked me what he could do to make a proposed apartment attractive. "Air condition it," I replied. He didn't, but the builders are doing it today.

Tomorrow you will be riding sidewalks. They will be as common as air conditioning.

Oregon Tax Revolt

The Omaha Evening World-Herald

Oregon citizens pay state income taxes, graduated up to 9½ per cent. But Oregon spenders, like those in many another state, complained that revenues didn't meet their needs, so the Oregon legislature boosted the income tax rate by 20 per cent.

★ ★ ★

The action instigated a statewide campaign for a referendum, and people avidly signed petitions which called for a special election to approve or disapprove the legislature's action. The voters went to the polls and clobbered the tax increase by a margin of better than three to one.

★ ★ ★

The Norfolk Daily News observed the other day:

"Neither a sales nor an income tax seems to have settled the problem (of taxation) in other states. When the amount gets too high, the people revolt."

★ ★ ★

What happened in Oregon reflects the wisdom of the Norfolk editors' words, and we hope Nebraska's spenders were paying attention.

'Atom and Evil'

The Chicago Tribune

Adam and Eve began the whole thing, but it looks as if atom and evil may end it.

Fear Begets Fear

The San Diego Union

There are a lot of people who have concluded that the price of a nuclear war would be too much and therefore peace at any price is the better part of wisdom.

★ ★ ★

A nuclear war could very well destroy civilization. But it is not the actual threat of a nuclear war that we most fear but the acceptance of an assumption that any firm resistance we might offer to communism will inevitably bring about such holocaust.

★ ★ ★

Therefore, we retreat before a mirage rising out of our own confusion. In the view of Lt. Gen. Ira C. Eaker, USAF, ret., the United States, as a result, is facing a period of the greatest peril in its history, a period unlike any this nation has experienced. The reason is that we are induced to surrender, not forced to. Our courage is melting away in a flood of propaganda of fear. We resent the weapons which can assure our survival and eagerly offer to feed those who would destroy us.

★ ★ ★

The Russians are about bankrupt. They can't feed their own people, can't afford the race to the moon, and are willing to accede to a limited nuclear test-ban in the obvious hope of reducing a threat to their own existence. And yet, our own "cult of surrender" is growing. To Gen. Eaker they are "frightened little men who really believe that the thought of nuclear war is so abhorrent we would be better advised to surrender."

★ ★ ★

Surrender to what, and for what?

Not all people feel this way, but the influence of those who do is great enough to seep across the land, to a point where we are led to dispute our military counsel, and to seek refuge in a philosophy that we must deal "with a world as it is" and lay down our guns and trust in human frailties.

We are to allow our own fear to be the means by which the Communists can save themselves.

We will have a form of peace for a while. But can anybody believe that if the Russian Communists had had plentiful crops, had been able to produce the wealth necessary to place men on the moon, and could have built more and better missiles than we, that they now would be offering a hand of friendship?

★ ★ ★

Let's not fool ourselves. When we have been reduced, militarily, and perhaps economically, to their level, we will awake to our peril. In his talk before the San Diego Chapter of the Navy League, Gen. Eaker, who commanded the famed 8th Air Force in World War II, spoke of the need of courage. Not just the courage of the heat and excitement of battle but of the moral and spiritual courage needed to risk the threat of nuclear war in order to do the things that, in the end, will avert such a catastrophe.

★ ★ ★

That courage requires leaders who will speak in harsh truths and not in false hopes.

GOP in Texas Bids for Seats

Hope to Increase State Representation

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas Republicans make a bid Saturday to increase their representation in the state's congressional delegation and in the legislature.

One Republican faces two Democrats in a special election to represent Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson's old district—the 10th Congresstional District in central Texas. If no candidate receives a majority of the votes, Texas law requires a run-off election between the two candidates receiving the largest vote.

GOP POLITICOS

A total of 49 candidates seek three seats in the Texas House of Representatives. Two of the contests are in Dallas and one in Austin. The high man in each contest will be the winner.

★ ★ ★

Nine of Texas' 181 legislators are now Republicans.

The entire state will ballot on four proposed changes in the Texas Constitution.

VOID POLL TAX

The major proposal would void the 61-year-old $1.75 poll tax voting requirement and substitute a 25-cent voter registration fee.

Supporters of the voter registration plan claim a 25-cent voting fee will stimulate voting by Texas Negroes and Latin Americans, a big source of Democratic votes.

The congressional race in the 10 counties surrounding Austin will name a successor to U.S. Rep. Homer Thornberry, D-Tex. who retires Dec. 21 to accept a federal judgeship. Thornberry was elected in 1948 when Johnson went to the Senate.

Candidates' names will be listed on the ballot without party designation.

THE CANDIDATES

The candidates are: J. J. Pickle, 49, a former campaign aide of the vice president and former Texas Governors Price Daniel and Allan Shivers.

Jim Dobbs, 38, a Republican and former Church of Christ minister who quit a job with the conservative nationwide radio program "Life Line" to make the race.

Jack Ritter, 29, a former state representative and oil firm executive in Austin.

Dirksen, Wife Injured in Minor Auto Mishap

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen received a cut on his hand and his wife received a broken foot yesterday when their chauffeur - driven automobile was involved in an accident.

Oil Firm Founder Dies

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — William R. Pate, 70, who founded the Pate Oil Co. in 1933, died Thursday of pneumonia. His firm became one of the largest distributors in the Wisconsin area. He retired in 1966.

Royal Tonsils Are Out

Senator Raps Smoking Toll

Asks Risks in Print on Cigarette Packs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger, D-Ore., proposed today that each package of cigarettes be required to carry a warning that smoking can lead to lung cancer, heart disease and other health risks.

The proposal was part of a four-part attack on smoking outlined by the attractive former school teacher in her book, "Smoke Screen," which was published today.

Mrs. Neuberger, a former smoker, stopped short of advocating tobacco prohibition, but she said there were "practical and judicious measures which can effectively be employed to brake the rising toll of smokers."

★ ★ ★

"It is my purpose in this book to enlist the support of my readers in the task of implementing such measures," she said.

FEW SENATE SUPPORTERS

But Mrs. Neuberger offered little hope of enlisting her fellow senators to enact legislation which would carry out any anti-smoking program. She proposed that the program be implemented by administrative orders "within the framework of existing legislation."

Mrs. Neuberger's book was the signal bell for what is expected to be a difficult round for the tobacco industry in the battle against any action that would curtail sale of its products.

A special committee appointed by the U. S. surgeon general is expected to deal the industry a severe blow late this year by reporting that there is a definite link between smoking and lung cancer, heart disease and other ailments.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Neuberger said a host of surveys left no doubt there was a link between smoking and lung cancer, heart disease, emphysema, cancer of the bladder, gastric and duodenal ulcers, bronchitis, pneumonia, influenza, and other diseases.

★ ★ ★

She said her "best guess" was that there would be 300,000 to 500,000 fewer deaths each year if it were not for smoking. In addition, she said, there probably are about 1-million or 2-million persons in this country who are "disabled to some degree by the effect of smoking cigarettes."

Educator Set for MSU Talk

Dr. Chandos Reid, assistant superintendent for instruction, Waterford Township Schools, will be a featured speaker Thursday at the Michigan Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development conference at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

Speaking before some 400 principals, teachers and curriculum specialists from Michigan schools, Dr. Reid will discuss "Our Task and the Individual Learner."

Grudging House OKs Debt Limit Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

DEBT: For the third time this year, the House Thursday grudgingly approved a temporary increase in the national debt limit, but only after throwing a scare into administration leaders.

The 187-179 vote that sent the legislation for a $315-billion ceiling to a more sympathetic Senate showed 147 Republicans and 32 Democrats opposing the increase and 187 Democrats supporting it.

Six months ago, the House voted a debt increase to $309 billion by a nine-vote margin. In August it continued the $309-billion top until the end of this month.

CEILING DROP

Without the pending extension, the ceiling would drop to $285 billion on Nov. 30.

The bill would hike the ceiling to $315 billion until next June 29 and then drop it to $309 billion until next July 1.

Before sending the measure to the Senate, the House turned down a Republican attempt to shuttle it back to the Ways and Means Committee for downward revision to around $311 billion.

NITZE: The Senate Armed Services Committee put Paul H. Nitze through the wringer on Thursday and then delayed for a week a vote on his nomination by President Kennedy to be secretary of the Navy.

★ ★ ★

The three-hour hearing took some stormy turns: Although witnesses usually are not sworn, midway through the session, Nitze was at the request of Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who demanded he "tell the truth and nothing but the truth."

★ ★ ★

Nitze told the senators that he never advocated the United States turn its Strategic Air Command over to U.N. control. He said he tossed the idea into a national strategy seminar sponsored by the Stanford Research Institute in 1960 to "stimulate thought and discussion."

Nitze, now assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, also declared himself opposed to any policy of appeasement toward the Soviet Union, the recognition of Red China, termination of the military draft law and unilateral disarmament.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said he had been asked to put off the vote on Nitze's nomination until next week. Russell said Nitze would be recalled only if other senators want to question him further.

ON THE MEND: Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., was released Wednesday from the Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., where he was treated for a brain tumor.

★ ★ ★

It will be some time before Engle is back at his desk, the senator's physician, Dr. Roy Sexton, said Thursday, "but he plans to maintain daily contact with his staff, and operations in his office will go forward on a 'business as usual basis.'"

★ ★ ★

Sexton said Engle's general health is good. He will recuperate at his Washington home and will receive physiotherapy to strengthen his right arm and leg.

Barry Will Win, Says New Hampshire Man

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater's top New Hampshire backer said today he thinks the conservative lawmaker will win that state's first-in-the-nation presidential primary despite the early campaign launched by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Sen. Norris Cotton of New Hampshire said he looks for "a fine aggressive" Rockefeller campaign.

But he added:

"We don't want an early campaign. We want a campaign that steadily intensifies until the end. And I'm just optimistic to think that we can carry New Hampshire."

Goldwater, who tops polls in New Hampshire and across the nation on the 1964 Republican presidential nomination, stuck to the no comment policy he has followed since Rockefeller declared himself a candidate Thursday.

BEGINS VOTE DRIVE

The New York governor made his announcement in Albany, N.Y., then flew to New Hampshire for two days of campaigning.

★ ★ ★

"I know I am the underdog in the polls," he said in Nashua, N.H., "but if one comes into politics because of his belief in principles, then whether you are ahead or behind in the polls doesn't matter."

★ ★ ★

Dewey—who made two unsuccessful bids for the White House—said Rockefeller's leadership "and remarkable achievements in New York make him the logical Republican candidate for president and I wish him every success."

NO COMMENT

Goldwater has not said whether he will seek the nomination. The Arizona senator has promised an announcement by Jan. 27.

And if he does become a candidate, Goldwater said in Concord, N.H., 10 days ago, he will enter the New Hampshire primary and campaign actively in the state.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Cotton, top name among Goldwater supporters in New Hampshire, said a defeat in that primary could knock Rockefeller out of contention for the nomination. He said "it wouldn't be fatal" if Goldwater entered and lost.

WKHS Assembly Rallies Students for Final Game

By JOY McREYNOLDS

A courtroom drama was the highlight of a pep assembly at Waterford Kettering High School this afternoon. Sponsored by the student council, the assembly rallied spirit for the season's final football game with rival Waterford Township High School tonight.

Senior Don Douglas edited the skit, which deals with a WKHS student being tried mercilessly for not appearing at the game.

Sharing the spotlight with the courtroom comedy was James Larkin, football coach, who introduced the senior members of the squad. At this time, the student body joined in the applause of farewell to graduating players.

★ ★ ★

LATIN CLUB

Those installed were Jeanne McGinley, president; Harry Kevorkian, vice president; Andrew Blain, secretary; and Roger Roosa, treasurer. Officiating sponsors were Mrs. Ruth Worthy and Mrs. Mary McGinley.

For Cali Project

Committee Will Be Named

Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, Wednesday was authorized by the board to appoint a committee for the economic development of the Cali region in Colombia, South America.

The committee here will work in cooperation with a similar committee from Cali through an exchange of coordinators.

The committees' primary job will be to raise standards of living in the growing region through a program of assistance at the local level of government.

* * *

Until now, alliance efforts have been at the national government level only. These efforts have been criticised by U.S. Rep. William S. Broomfield, R-Oakland County, innovator of the Cali program.

HAS FAILED

He said the alliance so far has failed to improve living conditions in South America outside of a few capital cities.

The U.S. State Department has approved the new program, after arranging for an exchange of local community delegations earlier this year.

The delegation from here reported that efforts first should be made to improve the administration of local government in the Cali region.

* * *

Other important phases of the program, said Hamlin, would be to improve education standards and encourage American industrial development in the Cali region.

APPOINTMENTS

He said he plans to fill the committee appointments within the next few weeks, including representatives of county government, business, industry, financial institutions and labor.

The new program is expected to be in full progress by early February, when a coordinator is scheduled to arrive here from Colombia and one will be sent from here.

The coordinators are to be paid $10,000 a year.

* * *

The local governments are to provide them with offices, equipment and bilingual secretaries.

BUDGET APPROVED

A $45,500 budget has been approved for the program.

* * *

The costs, including travel expenses, are to be borne equally by private foundations here and in Cali and by the federal government.

NATO Vote on Kennedy N-Proposal

PARIS (UPI) — Legislators of 15 nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) planned to vote today on a committee report condemning President Kennedy's proposal for a multilateral nuclear force.

The 200 representatives met in the final session of the NATO parliamentary conference to vote on committee resolutions, including several on Western unity.

The military committee's report, submitted for discussion yesterday, condemned both the U.S.-endorsed multilateral nuclear force and such independent nuclear projects as French President Charles de Gaulle's planned French striking force.

* * *

COMBO FORCE

It endorsed the NATO council's decision in Ottawa last May to combine all existing national nuclear forces in a NATO deterrent under the supreme allied commander, currently U.S. Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

The parliamentary conference is composed of legislators of NATO nations. It is an advisory body to the NATO council, which actually determines the alliance's policies.

The report of the military committee also opposed the formation of a NATO committee to keep a collective finger on the atomic trigger, as proposed by France.

* * *

It said ultimate decisions on the use of nuclear weapons should rest with the President of the United States.

Independent national deterrents pose a danger, the report said, because they might be used at a time the other allies considered inappropriate.

Fulbright Raps Press Junket

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $250,000 Hollywood press junket has led to a suggestion by Sen. J.W. Fulbright that "the journalism profession take an honest look at its own practices."

* * *

Fulbright told the Senate in a speech Thursday that the junket came "at a time when the press is so quick to attach grave conflict-of-interest implications to the activities of others."

* * *

"Its responsibilities to the public in terms of honesty and integrity are not less than the responsibilities resting on those who serve that same public as elective and appointed officials."

JUNKET ACCOUNT

Fulbright referred in his speech to an account of the junket published Thursday in the New York Times. According to the story by reporter Murray Schumach, motion picture producer Stanley Kramer brought about 250 reporters to Hollywood from 26 countries and 53 cities in the United States. The finale of the four-day visit was a viewing Sunday night of Kramer's new picture "It's A Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad World."

The story said that five newspapers paid the expenses for their representatives.

* * *

Again referring to the Times account, Fulbright said:

"Transportation for all the others as well as their hotel rooms, food and liquor bills were all paid for by the movie maker.

"The financial 'hospitality' went so far that the movie maker even paid for the newsmen's cable and telephone charges run up sending stories—most of which the producer characterized as 'favorable'—back to their newspapers."

Fulbright is president of the Northwest Arkansas Times. He told a reporter later that he does not play an active role in the operation of the newspaper.

Migraine Drug Good, but Not for All

Q—My doctor has prescribed Cafergot for my migraine headaches.

If I take the drug as soon as the blurred vision starts, it seems to prevent vomiting.

What are the side effects of this drug?

This is an excellent remedy for migraine if you keep it handy and take it early in an attack.

Such occasional use would not be likely to cause any side effects, but this drug should not be used by those who are pregnant or who have high blood pressure, coronary heart disease of the blood vessels, liver or kidneys.

BLOOD SPOTS

Q—I am 45. Lately I have noticed blood spots in the skin all over my body.

What causes them and what should I do?

A—Blood spots such as you have may be due to many causes.

If they itch they could be due to the bites of fleas, chiggers or other insects.

Purpura, a deficiency of vitamin C, and some forms of anemia may be the cause.

Have your doctor determine the cause and the question of what to do should be easy.

PARAPSORIASIS

Q—Iam a woman, age 47. My doctor says the skin trouble I've had for the last two years is parapsoriasis.

What causes it and what can be done for it?

A—You have a disease that is very hard to cure.

The silver lining on the cloud is that the lesions are usually painless and they will not affect your general health.

COATED TONGUE

Q—What causes a coated tongue that makes my mouth taste spur when I get up in the morning?

A—If your tongue is coated, you haven't been eating enough solid food such as unpeeled raw apples, raw carrots and hard toast.

Doctors no longer look at the tongue routinely to determine what kind of a diagnosis to make.

Brush your tongue, too, if you can do it without gagging. You might also try a mouthwash.

BEER STOMACH?

I'm not sure which I have, but I think it may be ulcers.

A—Your first step should be to have your doctor determine the cause of any distress you may have in the stomach region.

Guesswork never pays. If you have an ulcer, you should definitely lay off alcoholic drinks.

If you have a nervous stomach, have your doctor treat the nervousness and the stomach will take care of itself.

EYE DROPS

Q—My son is nearsighted and has to have an eye examination every year.

Is there any danger that the drops used to dilate his pupils will cause cataract?

A—No.

Mandy's Memoirs Withheld

LONDON (AP)—Police kept one sex story, the 17th century novel "Fanny Hill," off British book stands today. The printers are stopping another, the life story of prostitute Mandy Rice-Davies.

★ ★ ★

A paperback edition of "Fanny Hill, Memoirs of a Woman of Pleasure," was scheduled to go on sale today, but Scotland Yard obtained a warrant against it under the obscene publications act. Police seized thousands of copies Thursday night from the publisher.

The novel describes the amorous adventures of a laundry maid in considerable detail. It went on public sale in New York this year after a State Supreme Court justice ruled it was not obscene by modern standards.

The story of Mandy, 19, co-star with Christine Keeler in the John Profumo scandal, was to have come out next week. But "the printers say they do not wish to print the book," said a spokesman for her publisher, Confidential Publications.

★ ★ ★

PALERMO, Sicily (AP)—The Regional Assembly of this Italian island—birthplace of the Mafia—has adopted a plan to strike at the underworld society's influence on Sicily's economic life.

★ ★ ★

The assembly voted Thursday night to examine ownership of wholesale sales licenses and commercial and industrial associations to see if the Mafia has a hand in them. It also ordered a sharp lookout on public works projects to keep out underworld influence.

Authorities say the Mafia has recently concentrated on gaining commercial footholds to extend its power and raise money.

PARIS (AP)—France is turning out atomic bombs on an assembly-line basis and will continue nuclear tests to develop a hydrogen bomb regardless of protests at home and abroad, says Defense Minister Pierre Messmer.

He told the National Assembly Thursday the bombs had been coming off production lines since the middle of the year for France's Mirage IV planes.

A Gaullist deputy said 15 to 20 of the supersonic bombers would be operational by the end of 1964. Unofficial sources estimated last month that four to six Mirage bombers had been turned over to the military.

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government executed five men Thursday night for slaying a militiaman. Local newspapers claimed the five were agents of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency.

It was the second execution this week of alleged CIA agents.

Militiaman Vicente Perez was gunned down Oct. 23 on a farm near Havana. Those convicted by a military court for the slaying were Enrique Cruz Abreu, identified as the ringleader, Roberto Echavarria Martinez, Enrique Gonzalez Cepero, Osmany Prieto Vera and Ismael Merchante Hernandez.

A firing squad on Monday executed Francisco Duenas Landin, said to have been a member of the CIA espionage and sabotage band.

HAVANA (AP) — The Soviet Embassy celebrated the 46th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution with a huge reception Thursday but Prime Minister Fidel Castro was absent.

★ ★ ★

The government announced that Castro had left Havana in the afternoon for a tour of several provinces. President Osvaldo Dorticos and Castro's younger brother, Raul, the defense minister, also were reported out of town.

★ ★ ★

Ontario Man Killed as Blast Hits Store

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP) — An explosion demolished the rear portion of a three-story hardware store yesterday, killing one man and injuring eight other persons.

The body of Robert Fera, 32, of Sault Ste. Marie, a store employe, was found amid debris today, nearly 12 hours after all three floors collapsed in the blast.

★ ★ ★

None of the injuries was described as serious. Police said 15 customers and employes were in the store at the time. Cause of the blast, which originated in the building's basement, was undetermined.

Negro Loses by Little to White in Dixie Vote

★ ★ ★

Hooks, who also is an assistant public defender, polled 41,515 votes in Thursday's city election. A Negro hasn't been elected to public office here since reconstruction. The winner, Ray W. Churchill, ran with bar association endorsement and won with 43,396 votes.

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP)—The ban has fallen upon Joshua Nkomo, African nationalist leader in white-ruled Southern Rhodesia.

An order issued Thursday by Justice Minister Clifford Dupont banned Nkomo from attending any public meetings for three months. His Peoples Caretaker Council also was banned temporarily.

$277.5-Million Stockpile Used by GIs in Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has $277.5 million invested in tanks, artillery, trucks and other equipment stockpiled in Western Europe for Army divisions airlifted from this country.

The cost of that two-division stockpile was learned today by The Associated Press.

The 2nd Armored Division, flown to West Germany nearly three weeks ago in Exercise Big Lift, has been using about $155 million of this gear in war games near the Iron Curtain.

After the maneuvers, the division will return the roughly 4,000 vehicles—tanks, armored personnel carriers, trucks, jeeps and other equipment—to depots west of the Rhine River.

Then the outfit will be flown back to its home base at Ft. Hood, Tex.

FROM BERLIN CRISES

Enough heavy gear for an armored division and an infantry division was stockpiled in Germany and France during the Berlin crisis two years ago.

The stated purpose is to permit a swift reinforcement from the United States during a time of tension preceding a possible armed clash with the Soviets and their satellites.

Information on the stockpile indicated that the 4th Infantry Division at Ft. Lewis, Wash., is ticketed for emergency service in Europe if needed.

A rundown on the cost of the "preposition" equipment for two divisions and 10 supporting units showed: 2nd Armored Division —initial cost of equipment $144,697,683 plus spares worth $10,319,485 for an over-all total of $155,017,168.

Also figured in is a basic load of ammunition worth about $900,000, bringing the grand total for the stockpile to $277,492,299.

The lesser equipment cost for an infantry division stems from the fewer vehicles it uses compared with an armored division.

Ladies Are Losers

Even Social Security Is Discriminatory

EDITOR'S NOTE — Most working women pay taxes on their income and give a part of that income for social security. Nonetheless, the President's Commission on the Status of Women finds inequities affecting women in the programs designed to provide insurance against loss of income by unemployment or retirement. This last article in a four-part series on the Commission's report sets forth what can be done to insure basic income security to the country's 68 million women.

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

WASHINGTON — The day of the dependent woman is over. But some of the discrimination lingers on.

The spinster who grew old serving in some relative's household, the unworldly wife who leaned upon her resolute lord and master for decisions even about the children, the girl afraid to enter a business because it was unladylike — they seem as remote from the modern woman as high button shoes from the sling pump.

Yet though 1 in 10 heads of families in this country is a woman, and 1 in 3 wives is working, some high button shoe thinking prevails about the second sex.

★ ★ ★

The recent report of the President's Commission on the Status of Women says: "In the course of the 20th century many bars against women that were firmly in place in 1900 have been lowered or dropped. But certain restrictions remain."

NOT ALL WRITTEN

Some of these discriminatory provisions are in common law, written into statute, upheld by court decisions or take the form of practices of industrial, labor, professional or governmental organizations.

For the woman who has responsibility both for making a home and earning the living, the problems are greater than a man's — and her resources are usually less. If she belongs to a minority racial group — as do seven million non-white women and girls—her load is twice as heavy.

In the social security field, for example, the woman comes off second best in government programs designed to provide insurance against loss of income by unemployment or retirement.

These are among the gaps and inequities in coverage pointed out by the commission:

AGED WIDOWS

Under Old - Age Insurance, benefits based on a worker's earnings are less when they're paid to dependents or survivors than when they're paid to the retired worker himself. This means, for example, that a widow, eligible for benefits at 62, gets only 82½ per cent of what her husband would have received had he lived and retired.

Benefits to elderly widows—we have nearly two million now and the number is growing — average $66 a month as against $76 for retired workers. The benefits should be equalized, the commission insists.

When a spinster (or bachelor) dies, only parents are eligible for benefits. But, asks the commission, what about the many single people who support other relatives — an aged aunt, a dependent sister who keeps house for her? Include all reasonably close relatives in the definition of dependents, suggests the commission.

A great many working women are not covered by the federal-state program of unemployment insurance. The commission urges, therefore, that the insurance system be extended immediately to workers in small firms, nonprofit organizations and state and local governments. Also uncovered are household workers, who are mostly women, and farm workers, who are mostly men; the commission wants their situation expressed with a view toward including them too.

WORKING MOTHERS

When a woman stops work to have a baby, she obviously needs money more than ever. But neither federal social security — nor 46 of the 50 states — provides compensation for loss of income due to childbearing. (The four thoughtful states? New Jersey and Rhode Island, and to a lesser extent California and New York.)

At most, says the commission, a third of American working women have such insurance from private or public sources.

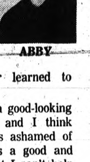
Around 70 other countries provide such protection and the commission urges U. S. governments, employers and unions to think about doing it too.

Child Ashamed of Mom

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am in the sixth grade and my problem is I am ashamed of my mother.

Please don't think I'm a bad person, Abby, but it's hard for people who have American mothers to understand when somebody else's mother is a foreigner and doesn't speak much English.



ABBY

When she comes to school, it is very embarrassing when the teachers ask her what she said so many times. My mother has been in this country since I was a small baby, so I don't know why she never learned to speak English.

My father is a good-looking American man and I think sometimes he is ashamed of her, too. She is a good and kind mother, but I can't help how I feel.

How can I solve my problem and not hurt my mother?

HALF AND HALF

DEAR HALF AND HALF: Ask your father to encourage your mother to enroll in an adult education class and study English.

If she agrees, wonderful. And you could help her study. If she will not, she is probably too shy.

But don't be ashamed of her, honey. Inability to speak English is no reflection on your mother's character, and she probably suffers more humiliation than you know.

DEAR ABBY: A new girl came to work in our office. She is a sweet girl, and we like her but, Abby, here is the problem.

She brings her lunch in a brown paper bag (as we all do) and she sets it up on the closet shelf with the other girls' lunches.

She always brings salami, sardines, dill pickles, or something that smells up the entire closet. My coat has has started to smell of garlic!

Is there a nice way to tell this girl about the unpleasant situation she has created without hurting her feelings?

ONE OF THE GIRLS

DEAR ONE: One of you girls should get next to her (literally, if possible) and tell her of your complaint.

DEAR DAY PERSON: How were you two awake long enough at the same time to fall in love?

If you really love Pete, force yourself to stay up at night, and you won't have any trouble sleeping the following day.

Thank You by Phone Not Needed

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: It seems to me that in the present day, people are becoming very careless about calling a hostess to thank her for a lovely time after having been invited to a party at her house.

This is instinctive with me. When I have had a pleasant evening at a friend's house, I do not feel satisfied until I have called her and told her how much I enjoyed the evening.

I think this is the least a person can do to show one's appreciation. Is it not a breach of good manners to fail to telephone the hostess after a party?

★ ★ ★

A: Failure to call and thank a hostess after a party is not, and never has been, a breach of etiquette.

To thank her for a pleasant evening when leaving is all that is necessary.

In fact, a busy housewife would hardly welcome being called on the telephone by every guest who came to her party.

Q: I am going to be married next month. I sent my aunt and uncle an invitation through the mail. She was very indignant over this and thinks my fiance and I should have delivered it in person.

She claims this is the proper thing to do in the case of a close relative. May I please have your opinion on this?

★ ★ ★

A: The bride and groom-to-be are not expected to deliver wedding invitations in person. They are properly mailed to everyone on the wedding list whether it be aunt or uncle or friend.

Fashionable Women Like Boots

The lass who tops the best-dressed list this fall will take the high road to fashion with trim leather boots. "Active" is one word, "sportive" another — both applied to the clean and functional line which is the order of the times.

Back with a bang this fall, the burgeoning boot has invaded every area of activity. There are boots for walking and boots for town. There are boots that barely reach the ankle and boots that climb to the knee. For the lady who can't make up her mind, there are buttoned spats to give a boot to any classic pump in her wardrobe.

Women will find the fall boots more striking in detail, more refined and elegant than ever before. Style detailing is kept simple, for the most part. Toplines of every height are most often angled, notched or softly curved. They may be plain or collared, banded, furred or folded.

DETAILED

There is, at times, much interest up front, with backs low and sides straight in little pumps. Contrast overlays start at the throat line and may run all around the entire boot or stay up front. Open boots — back or side openings — are a part of the total look of vests and short skirts, and all moods that are soft and young.

Leather boots for teen-agers feature silver or gold buckles, brightly colored linings and the use of two or more leather textures or colors.

Lined in smooth, frictionless leather, the boots can be worn indoors or out with elegance and ease. In wet, windy, below-freezing weather, shearling (wool on leather linings will keep the frostiest feet warm and dry. Medium-weight leather soles move flexibly with the foot, providing support and allowing easy motion.

LOW TO HIGH

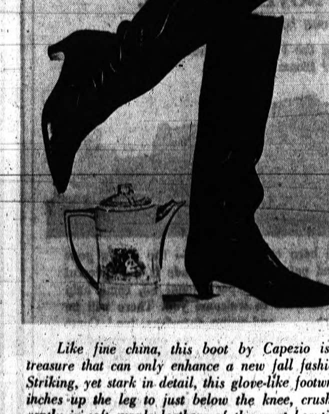
How high the boot? Women will be wearing the above-ankle boot, the ankle-skimming bootie and the dress boot-shoe as well. One shelled-out pump of gleaming black alligator is booted all the way to the knee with taupey, crushy kid. Its well-mannered country cousin might combine antiqued saddle leather with natural colored canvas.

★ ★ ★

Boot heels, like boots, will come in many heights — high, mid and low — and many shapes — curved or straight, thick or chunky or stacked.

★ ★ ★

The color palette of the leather boot for fall encompasses the deep country browns and greens; the bright tones of scarlet and Mediterranean blue, the subtleties of palomino and antelope and the elegance of mustard and cranberry. Suedes in the warm hues of fall are exquisite with shiny patent trim. The suede, itself, has a greater nap and a deeper, richer look.



Like fine china, this boot by Capezio is a treasure that can only enhance a new fall fashion. Striking, yet stark in detail, this glove-like footwrap inches up the leg to just below the knee, crushed gently in soft supple leathers of the most beautiful shades of cranberry, bronzine and camel.

The new look for town is this sophisticated boot offered by Thom McAn in smooth sleek black glove leather. Fur lined for warmth, this boot has a softly tapered toe and flattering medium high heel. This boot, and boot-shoes like it, eliminate the problem of wearing both shoes and boots.

A small treasure from every fashion point of view is Capezio's belt boot — one that has all the markings of fine craftsmanship and detail. The beautiful unlined buff suede with a little Gigi heel is available in hayride, eggplant and big apple red with matching kid.

University Celebrates Fortieth Homecoming

By SUE DAWE

"Mad-ison Avenue" is the theme selected for the 40th annual homecoming today and Saturday when Central Michigan University meets Northern Illinois University in a football clash.

Activities include a pep rally, a bonfire, mixers, open-houses, class reunions, a parade of floats, dormitory displays, homecoming balls and various Greek activities. Pontiac area students are getting into the swing of these activities.

GENERAL CHAIRMAN

Sandy Gowen, Tilden Avenue, is serving as general chairman of the homecoming balls. She has also been selected as one of the chorus members to be in the musical comedy, "Oklahoma," to be presented November 22 and 23.

Several area students are working closely with Sandy as committee chairmen for the dance. John Ryan, Andersonville Road, is serving on programs; Sue Dawe, Osceola Drive, is publicity chairman; and Barbara Hillier, Ogemaw Drive, is intermissions chairman.

★ ★ ★

Barbara, a sophomore, is also treasurer of Alpha Lambda Delta, a freshman scholastic honorary society and is taking courses on the honor's program.

Dick Rogers, formerly of Chippewa Road, will be taking souvenier pictures at the dance and is the official homecoming photographer for the campus newspaper.

JOIN BAND

Larry Nichols of Green Street and Art Stinson of Pine Grove have joined the Universities 100 piece marching band. The band performs at all home and many away football games and will be a vital part at the half-time ceremonies during homecoming.

★ ★ ★

Sororities and fraternities are also in the act of these festivities. John Roush, of Illinois Avenue, is secretary of his fraternity, Sigma Phi Epsilon, and is helping to promote their float and dance.

Another active Greek, Priscela Dawe, Osceola Drive, is serving on the stearing committee for homecoming of her sorority, Alpha Gamma Delta.

Don't Sacrifice Present for Future Security

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

My husband and I have been saving money for our boy to go to college, and also for our old age. We don't take vacations and don't go out too often because we're afraid we won't be able to live just on Social Security when we're old. My husband does not get a pension so all we'll have will be the Social Security.

MARY FEELEY

It seems that we're missing so much in life now when we can enjoy it, because we have to save for our old age! By the time my husband retires, we'll have our house paid for. Our taxes would be about $500 a year, and the water comes to $20 a year. Our other expense would be like any other retired couple's.

I hear many older people complaining that they just live on Social Security alone. Won't you please try to help me estimate what we'll need in addition—$5,000, $10,000, $20,000 or more? Maybe if we can set a figure we could take a vacation and start to live a little.

Mrs. C. D., Pueblo, Colo.

Dear Mrs. D.:

First of all, I recommend that you take that vacation come what may. Nobody in this world can afford to throw "now" away in favor of "then." That's the most wasteful way of living I can think of, if it's pursued year in and year out.

You must change your attitude and let your natural enthusiasm for life have some leeway. Of course you have to plan for the future — everybody should. But do try to strike a balance.

You already have much more to look forward to than thousands of other people have — a home that will be paid for at retirement.

You haven't given me any specific figures to work with, but let's assume your Social Security benefits will be $127 a month, beginning at age 65.

If you can manage to provide an additional income of $100 a month, you will have a total income that many retired people live on quite adequately. Here's a possible budget that could be set up on such an amount:

Housing, $65 (an expense you won't have entirely, as your taxes and water bill total $520 a year rather than $780); household operating costs, $15; food, $60; clothing and upkeep, $10; personal allowance, $15; medical costs, $20; recreation and vacation, $10; books, magazines, $5; miscellaneous, $25. Total: $225.

You will have to decide in your own mind what "enough" money is for the retirement years. But if I were you, I would try to adjust my wants to my ability to achieve them. Assuming you accept the above scale of living, here's how you might manage it.

As annuity bought for $16,900 at retirement would give you a life income of $100 a month, with a life income also assured the surviving beneficiary.

We Need a Recipe for Salisbury Steak

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Once again we are asking our readers to help us find a recipe. The last time we did it, we were deluged with replies. Nice readers!

★ ★ ★

The other day a reader called us asking for a recipe for Salisbury Steak.

"Certainly," we said, "that's easy. We'll call you back right away."

But it wasn't easy.

Salisbury Steak, as most of us know it from eating in restaurants, just doesn't exist as a cookbook recipe.

In fact, the only recipe we found in our hundreds of cookbooks was simply a broiled hamburger patty, fancied up a bit with onion, green pepper and celery. No sauce at all.

So, how about it? Anyone have a recipe for Salisbury Steak and the sauce that is usually served with it.

Shoe Box Makes Good Space Saver

Outer space is a subject of national interest today, but many of us have not yet conquered our problems concerning inner space. How many times have you heard, "There just isn't enough space to store things!"?

Smart young homemakers, however, are now solving this lack of space inexpensively, yet attractively, with ordinary boxes. Shoe boxes and hat boxes can hold more than just shoes and hats — they make excellent storage containers for such things as handbags, belts, scarves, gloves.

You can borrow an old French idea of adding decorator touches with fabric. Use left-overs from your last decorating spree. To secure them, use rolls of plastic tape which will prevent raveling and add color accent.

To create these handy storage containers, first reinforce the edges of the lid and bottom of each box with strips of sturdy colored plastic tape. Cover the box with fabric of your choice — perhaps one matching your draperies or one to blend with your particular color scheme — then band with more plastic tape.

Since the tape is stretchy, it will go around corners and conform to odd shapes. You'll be able to make a harmonizing, eye-catching ensemble which will multiply your storage space.

Following the same color scheme, you can save dimes by rejuvenating articles which are showing signs of wear:

1. Give old wastebaskets a "new look" by banding top and bottom with colored plastic tape and then covering the entire basket with fabric.

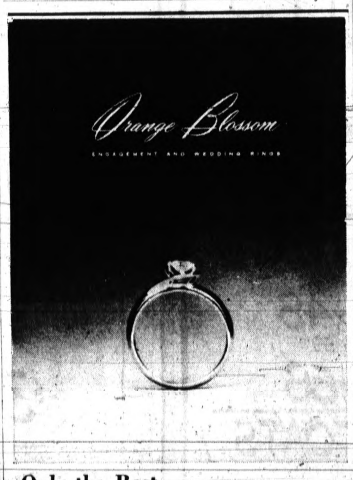
Strips of this waterproof tape in a contrasting color applied again around top and bottom over the fabric edges will provide reinforcement and prevent marring of floors and walls.

2. Garment and other storage bags can also be inexpensively repaired with this tape. A strip applied to the underside of the tear and another on the outside will assure an air-tight repair. To add a "French touch," attach bands of fabric to the front of the bag with more tape.

Clutter can be eliminated with this inexpensive and simple way to make attractive storage boxes. Using an ordinary shoe box, decorate with fabric and solve a lack of space problem.

Washable Filter for Furnace

If your furnace requires a new filter, look for a washable type that comes in three sizes which can be cut to fit all forced air systems. The neoprene-coated material is fire resistant, mildew proof, and needs no oiling or deodorizing.



Only the Best Is Good Enough . . .

The diamond which is a token of your love should be beautiful and flawless. Size is not of the greatest importance . . . quality is all-important. Nothing but the best (a flawless diamond) is good enough for her.

Teen Disappointed

Legislature Disillusioning

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," I have often been asked, "isn't it a splendid experience for teen-agers to serve as pages?"

DR. CRANE

On the surface, that would seem to be true, wouldn't it?

But support those high schoolers come away from the State Legislature disillusioned? Then what?

For example, Patsy said she expected dignity and respect for the presiding officer.

But she reported that many legislators were running around with their shoes off.

Others, even while the presiding officer was speaking, would read their newspapers or carry on conversations without even lowering their voices to a whisper.

★ ★ ★

Another had his radio turned on and was listening to it instead of heeding the speaker of the house, though the latter was pounding with his gavel to quiet them down.

Still another kept singing audibly and also whistling for variation all during the session.

★ ★ ★

Since the Indiana Legislature was about evenly divided between Republicans and Democrats, Patsy was asked if either party seemed more dignified.

She said she didn't see much difference.

So do you readers think it inspires more admiration for our government to send high school students to their state legislatures if they are to view such disrespect?

Maybe it would be safer to leave the teen-agers back in school where they can cherish their illusions about the dignified demeanor and respectful behavior of legislators.

Ethel Finds Horse With Malnutrition

Testifying in a cruelty-to-animals case, the wife of the attorney general said she and her daughter, Courtney, were riding near their McLean home when they became aware of the ailing animal, shut in a dilapidated chicken coop.

★ ★ ★

"He was obviously starving," Mrs. Kennedy told Judge William Plummer of Fairfax County Court.

"I went home and got the groom to go back and get the horse."

The horse died within a week as a result of severe malnutrition.

Danger Underscored

Young Korean Men Getting Restless

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

BACKGROUND OF THE NEWS — AP SPECIAL REPORT

SEOUL, South Korea—"They educated us to be unemployable," a young South Korean said with a mirthless laugh.

Young men seem restless in this tense little republic of 27 million, which lived through a bloody war against communism and remains alert to the possibility of another one.

Their complaints underscore dangers in South Korea's present economic condition. An inflationary spiral is a clear threat to political stability.

Jobs are hard to come by. One big newspaper, advertising for a few apprentice newsmen, received applications from 400 college graduates. A similar story comes from corporations and banks.

Well-educated young men are forced to take jobs far beneath their abilities, or even to remain jobless.

All this leads to feelings of frustration among a highly important element of the population. Students who study abroad, notably in the United States, remain away from home rather than return to a country in which they have no place to go.

Students in the universities, colleges and secondary schools are organized, but governments have attempted to control them. Under the iron - handed rule of Syngman Rhee — brought down by students in 1960 — the students were allowed only one organization called the Students' Defense Corps. This broke up after the 1960 revolt. With the short - lived freely elected government of Premier John M. Chang, various smaller groups organized, some with leftist sounding slogans, some with nonleftist outlook.

After the present military junta took over in a coup in May, 1961, independent organizations were forbidden again. Students are watching to see what happens after the government turns civilian Dec. 17, with the inauguration of Gen. Chung Hee Park as president.

The military government sponsored an umbrella organization called "The National Reconstruction Movement." It is an attempt to get all elements of young intellectuals under a single government-operated organization, and to some extent has succeeded.

AGAINST OLD

Many students proclaim themselves against "the old politicians." The Park regime adopts the same slogan. But the way students use the term "old politicians" this could include many connected with Park.

Young men reflect bitterness at the condition of the South Korean press. A law against "spreading falsehood" can bring severe punishment. The government is judge of what is true and false. There are other harassing laws.

The government controls the banks and most major corporations. If a newspaper needs money, it requires the favor of the government. And many papers are in the red.

Frequently, young Koreans hear from foreigners that Korea is not ready for democracy. Perhaps they will agree it is not ready for European democracy and that it may not even want that sort. They may agree that while it is underdeveloped, the country needs a strong central authority.

Arraignment Awaiting Trio

Three men police captured after a burglary July 26 were bound over Wednesday to Circuit Court for arraignment Tuesday.

A. J. Simpson, 30, of 256 S. Sanford will be arraigned on two counts, a charge of assault with intent to murder and a breaking and entering charge.

Pontiac police said they were fired at three times while pursuing the trio.

★ ★ ★

The other two, Arzo Carson, 22, of 496 Arthur and, Kenneth Griffin, 24, of 475 Arthur are charged only with breaking and entering.

SMASHING HOLE

The three were attempting to smash a hole through a wall at Harley Davidson Motorcycle Co., 372 S. Saginaw, into the adjoining Carter Tire Co. when they were frightened off, police said.

They failed to meet bonds of $5,000 each after their preliminary examination before Municipal Court Judge Cecil McCallum and were returned to jail.

Monday Is Holiday for State Employes

LANSING (AP) —Monday will be a holiday for state employes — except for the legislature.

Veteran's Day, one of Michigan's 10 annual legal holidays, was recognized by Gov. George Romney in a proclamation of gratitude "for the sacrifices by our men and women in uniform."

But when lawmakers yesterday approved adjournment, they agreed to resume the special session at 8 p.m. Monday.

Man Rides Tiny Scooter

MADISON (AP) — When Bruce Mohs applied for a motor vehicle license he was asked what kind of a vehicle he wanted it for.

"Here it is," he said, as he hoisted a gadget to the counter. It was his home-made, collapsible, 35-pound, 25-mile per hour motor scooter.

$3,500 Damage Value in City Home Blaze

Fire believed started by children playing with matches yesterday caused an estimated $3,000 damage to a house at 87 Summit and an additional $500 damage to contents.

The blaze, which started in a bedroom of the two-story frame house, was reported just before noon.

Patient Costs at General Rise Slower Than Average

The average increase for comparable hospitals in the Detroit area is $7.49 during the same period, according to the report.

★ ★ ★

In 1958, Blue Cross established a formula for limiting payments to hospitals in the event that costs of one particular hospital rose faster than the average.

AREA, SIZE

"Hospitals were categorized by area and size so that each hospital would be in a group with similar conditions," said Harold B. Euler, administrator.

"Pontiac General is in a group with 37 other hospitals in the Detroit Metropolitan Area that have 150 beds or more."

When the grouping was initiated in 1958, Pontiac General's per diem costs were highest in the category—15.6 per cent above the average.

★ ★ ★

"In the latest report," Euler noted, "our costs are only 2.8 per cent above the group average, a remarkable drop in our position."

MOST SMALLER

Euler said that he expected Pontiac General's per diem cost would normally remain a little above the average "because the majority of hospitals in the group are smaller and many don't have a full range of services."

"Since 1958 our per diem cost has risen from $40.23 to $43.47, or about 7.56 per cent," he said.

The Blue Cross report shows a rise in the average daily cost of all hospitals in the group from $34.80 to $42.29, or an increase of 21.52 per cent.

"Our costs have not risen as fast, we believe, partly because of our high occupancy and partly because of improved efficiency and cost controls," Euler explained.

He added that he thought all hospital costs would continue to rise as wages rise.

"Our objective is to control the rise to the best of our ability consistent with the best in patient care," Euler concluded.

School Paper Day Is Tomorrow at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — Nearly 100 high schools around Michigan will be represented when some 550 student journalists and 100 advisors attend Michigan State University's annual high school newspaper day tomorrow.

Cave-In Victim Still Unconscious at St. Joseph

After four days in the hospital, the victim of a Bloomfield Township earth cave-in still had not regained consciousness this morning.

Woodrow W. Smith, 34, of Detroit has been in critical condition since Monday afternoon, according to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital officials.

He was one of three men trapped under a huge pile of dirt and a tandem dump truck when the side of an excavation gave way.

★ ★ ★

Most ornamental trees and shrubs do not require extensive annual pruning. Only the removal of dead and scaly branches is advised in most cases.

Junior Editors Quiz on HIGHWAYS

ANSWER: We usually think of highways as being big, important roads, but we don't think of them as being higher than other roads. Yet there was a time when the highway actually was built up high, and it was from this that it got its name.

After the invention of the wheel, about 3,500 B. C., roads began to appear, for people were using wagons to haul trade goods.

The Romans were especially skillful road builders. But many of the first roads were so muddy that they were almost impassable.

In England, an attempt was made to improve these. In building certain important roads, the earth was thrown in toward the center, raising the road's level higher than surrounding land.

This provided drainage, making roads drier ad much better to travel over. A road like this became known as the "King's Highway."

This did not mean that only the king could pass over it; it meant the road was protected by the king's men.

Smaller, privately built roads were called "byways." People spoke of traveling "by the highways and the byways." So the custom of calling a large road a highway has come down to our time.

FOR YOU TO DO: Old roads are romantic and fascinating. See if you can find some in your locality and discover where they lead. You can often spot them because of the old houses built alongside.

★ ★ ★

But Moro fell short of unanimous approval from his fellow party members. Sixteen out of the 150-member council voted against him, a sign of rightwing opposition to going into a government with Marxist socialists.

★ ★ ★

Despite that opposition, President Antonio Segni was expected to name Moro as premier-designate. Segni was in the final round of consultations with various political leaders with the premier-designate to be named at the end.

Pontiac School Board OKs Addition at Mark Twain

Plans for a five-room addition to overcrowded Mark Twain Elementary School, 729 Linda Vista, were approved last night by the Pontiac school board.

The board authorized that architectural planning begin on the proposed new wing.

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said he hoped construction could start early next year with occupancy available by September 1964.

★ ★ ★

Whitmer said enrollment projections indicate the school will have steady increases in students during the next four years.

The school expects to have 797 pupils by 1967.

Twain School now has an enrollment of 600, which is 80 pupils over capacity.

The five-classroom addition would increase capacity to 710.

Whitmer said funds for the new wing could come from a $150,000 excess in the school district's building and site fund.

He explained that the 1962-63 building program fell short of its $3.9-million estimated cost.

In addition to the five classrooms, Whitmer said the added pace would contain rest rooms for the upper elementary grades.

He said rest rooms in the office section would be taken out to provide a teacher's lounge, an office for the visiting teacher and other office space.

The board selected Harry M. Denyes Jr. Associates, Inc., 615 Community National Bank Building, as architects for the addition.

Whitmer also mentioned that the school board might want to consider use of metal portable classrooms in the future.

He said the Pontiac district had five such classrooms now.

West Draws Horse Collar

Out of the Money on Voting

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — After each election there comes a period of what is known in political circles as "analyzing the returns."

WEST

The ballots we cast don't just speak for themselves, you know.

In order for us to understand why we voted the way we did, somebody has got to sit down and figure out what we meant when we voted that way.

I have great admiration for election interpreters, mainly because I have never been able to master that art myself. But I keep on trying just the same.

In the wake of the elections this week, I approached a friend of mine who specializes in interpretations and asked him to give me a few pointers.

"I'll be glad to," he said. "It's quite simple, really, once you get the hang of it. When issues are involved, you analyze the politicians, and when politicians are involved, you analyze the issues. Got it?"

NEEDS EXAMPLE

"I think so," I said. "Would you mind giving me an example?"

"Very well. Take the majority election in Philadelphia. A Democrat named James H. J. Tate defeated a Republican named James T. McDermott. How would you interpret that?"

"Could it mean that a majority of the voters felt that Tate would be a better mayor than McDermott?"

"Good heavens!" my friend exclaimed. "You do need help!"

"Well, then, maybe it means that Philadelphia voters are prejudiced in favor of candidates with two middle initials."

"You are trying to analyze the politicians," my friend said. "What this election provides is an opportunity to analyze the political impact of the civil rights issue."

"I think I'm catching on," I said. "Try me on another one."

"All right. In New York City, the voters went on record 3 to 1 in favor of legalizing off-track betting on horse races. Let's see how you analyze that."

"I analyze it to mean that three out of every four New Yorkers are in favor of legalizing off-track betting," I said.

"Now you are trying to analyze the issue," my mentor commented. "This one should be interpreted as a political victory for Mayor Wagner."

I thanked my friend for explaining the system to me and I believe I have it all straightened out now.

According to my analysis of the returns, the odds against a New York horse being elected mayor of Philadelphia on a civil rights platform are 3 to 1, off-track.

Meteor Rocks Frisco Coast

MOSS BEACH, Calif. (AP)— A large fireball, apparently a meteor, streaked across the San Francisco Bay area sky Thursday night, exploding violently, and landed in the Pacific Ocean several miles offshore.

Thousands of residents saw the object.

Joe Miles, chief of the Point Montara Fire Department in the Moss Beach area, said he saw and heard the fireball explode and drop into the ocean.

The Federal Aviation Agency at San Francisco International Airport said a Navy patrol plane also saw the object hit the water and identified it as a meteor.

SHAKES COAST

San Mateo County Sheriff's watch officer, Roger Goad, said the explosion "literally shook the coast." He said reports indicated the object blew apart before it hit the water, emitting a blue, then orange light.

Moss Beach is about 15 miles south of San Francisco.

Automation Provides Moonshiners Escape

MARBLE HILL, Ga. (AP) — Automation has invaded the moonshine whisky business.

State and federal agents seized a huge, push-button operated still in a raid near this north Georgia community Wednesday night. They said the still was so automated that all the operators had to do was prime it and then run it by electric controls from a house several hundred feet away. That distance was just enough to allow the bootleggers to escape.

Primary Campaign Under Way

Rocky Opens 'Meet-the-People' Drive

NASHUA, N.H. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller continued today his all-out campaign to "get out and meet the people and discuss the issues" in the highly strategic New Hampshire primary.

His initial efforts as a formal candidate were hampered by driving rain. But he kept up a fast moving pace.

He then plunged immediately into his campaign to win the New Hampshire presidential preference primary next March 10.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona was vacationing at an undisclosed hideaway but an aide in Washington said Rockefeller's announcement has'nt changed the conservative Republican senator's plans.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater has yet to announce he will seek the GOP presidential nomination. He paid a brief visit—billed as non-political—to New Hampshire recently and said he would enter the state's primary if he decides to seek the nomination.

In Little Rock, Ark., Winthrop Rockefeller said of the New York governor's announcement: "My brothers and my sister and I heard his decision at a meeting in New York."

WOMAN TO RUN

There is talk in Washington that Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine may enter the New Hampshire GOP presidential primary. Sen. Smith said Thursday she is considering entering some primaries to offer voters a "third choice" between Rockefeller and Goldwater.

Rockefeller entered the campaign a decided underdog. Goldwater is rated the favorite for New Hampshire's GOP convention support.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller conceded at several points Thursday that he was far behind but said he felt he could win with an intensive, personal campaign in which he would meet as many New Hampshire voters as possible and present his views to them.

IN DRUG STORE

He went on to Milford, a community of 5,000 persons, where heavy rain forced cancellation of his plans to greet voters on the broad, village green. Instead the governor spent most of his time there in a drug store.

From there, he went to Milford High School, where he addressed a special assembly of 400 cheering, applauding student.

BLASTS BARRY

At a late afternoon news conference, Rockefeller renewed his criticisms of Goldwater and charged President Kennedy with failure in dealing with such key issues as the national economy and international communism.

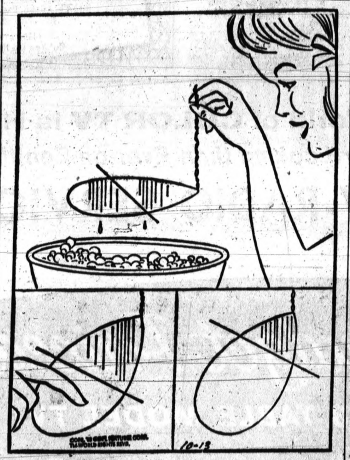
Rockefeller said he considers himself more representative than Goldwater of the progressive spirit of New Hampshire.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller asserted he considered Goldwater "outside the main stream of American life" on such issues as foreign aid, social legislation, and the United Nations.

Several Republican voters who met the governor said that, despite the polls, it was not a foregone conclusion that New Hampshire would support Goldwater in the primary.

Science Quiz



By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: Surface Tension.

NEEDED: Wire, pliers, and some strong suds.

DO THIS: Make a wire loop with a handle, and cut another piece of wire to rest across it. The piece should be very straight, and all the wires should be clean and smooth.

Place the short piece on the loop, dip both into the suds, and lift them out. There should be a water film covering the entire loop.

Break the film on one side of the wire with the finger, and the remaining film will draw the wire toward the edge of the loop.

HERE'S WHY: The surface of ordinary or soapy water acts as a stretched rubber sheet. This is surface tension, and it is strong enough to pull the small wire along.

A collection of these scientific puzzles is in book form under the name "Science Circus." It is in bookstores and libraries.

Bus 'Unfare' to Toy Bears

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP) —British bus conductors are authorized to charge half fare for animals brought aboard by human passengers.

When squeaks emitted from a market bag carried by Cathleen Norman, who had paid for a sixpenny ride, the conductor said, "I don't know what kind of creatures you've got in there but I'll have to charge you three pennies."

Mrs. Norman forked over the money, rode to her destination, and as she left the bus opened the bag and revealed two toy bears with built-in squeaking whistles.

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The thief who stole 18 men's suits and three women's dresses has a problem today.

What do you do with stolen burial garments?

Catherine Weir, a saleswoman from Eugene, Ore., told police the garments, all open down the back and without pockets, were stolen from her parked car Thursday.

So Does Help From Friends

Misfortune Comes 2nd Time

By L. GARY THORNE

Jerry Beckner, 27, does not solicit help, but for the second straight year he finds himself thankful it's there.

A Pontiac Central High school science teacher, Beckner was severely injured in a hunting accident Oct. 5 and hospitalized for three weeks.

He was hunting for deer with a bow and arrow when a companion shot him in the right side.

* * *

The arrow struck his kidney and liver and punctured the diaphragm. He doesn't expect to return to his classroom for another week or two.

FOUND HELP

However, the young science teacher, who also coaches the swimming team and is assistant track coach, has found ready aid from his colleagues and students.

* * *

Francis W. Staley, principal, said the teachers volunteered to take over the classes, thus avoiding the cost of a substitute to the school district.

BOARD VOTES

The Pontiac school board last night responded by voting to continue Beckner on the payroll, despite the fact that his sick leave days have been exhausted.

The hunting mishap was the second misfortune to fall Beckner's way in as many years.

Last year the Beckner family was involved in a car smashup that hospitalized both parents for six weeks and killed their two oldest children.

* * *

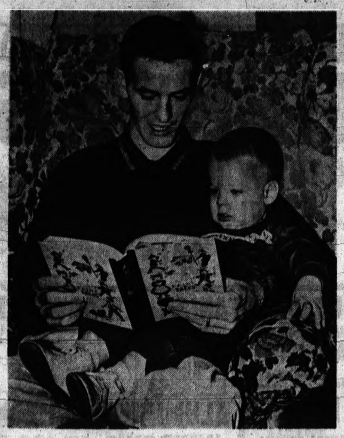
Living at 1970 Woodland, Sylvan Lake, the Beckners—Jerry, Judy, Stephen, 19 months, and Wendy, 3 months —are hopeful for the future.

"I hope there is one year that goes by I don't need this help," he said.



Pontiac Press Photo

Goldwater Visit to City in State Kept a Secret

Mrs. John Drum of Muncie, Ind., said the Goldwaters stayed at her summer home on Northport Point near Traverse City.

* * *

"The people in Northport did a good job of keeping this a secret, didn't they?" said Mrs. Drum. "This was supposed to be a rest so we didn't want anybody to know."

Tryouts to Be Held for Christmas Play

MILFORD — Casting for a Christmas play to be presented to children in the Huron Valley schools will be held at 7 p.m. Sunday.

* * *

Tryouts will be held at the home of Donald G. Tritel, 1855 Wixom, Milford Township.

Lawyers Team to Explore Other College Proposals

The possibilities of presenting a community college proposal in a different form to county voters will be explored by a team of three lawyers.

Last June, a two-part question — establishment and millage financing — was defeated in a split vote. The first question passed, but the whole issue lost when the millage was defeated.

The Community College Citizens Committee (CCCC) this week created a subcommittee of three lawyers to study the legal aspects of different ballot propositions.

* * *

Appointed to the committee were Burton R. Shifman of Oak Park; George Mosher, 551 Mohegan, Birmingham; and Pell Hollingshead, 489 Argyle, Birmingham.

OK WITH STATE?

The lawyers will determine if state statutes permit a choice of ways of presenting the question.

"If there are alternatives," commented Wendell Brown, CCCC chairman, "we will move to choose the one we feel is most acceptable to the voters."

The chairmen are Eugene W. Kuthy, 4114 Colonial, Royal Oak, finance; Mrs. John May, 206 Yorkshire, Birmingham, speakers; and Mrs. Arthur Carithers, 734 Castlebar, Avon Township, public information.

The school district liaison committee was divided into co-chairmanships with Shifman heading up the south end and William K. Martin, 3600 Barber, Oxford, the north.

The next meeting of the CCCC was set for Dec. 4 in the offices of Oakland Schools, county service center, at 8 p.m.

A machine that cuts wood with a jet of water instead of a saw is said to waste less wood and make a cleaner cut.

Pontiac School Affairs

Tax Reform, School Aid Aired

Fiscal reform and more state support for schools were discussed by the Pontiac school board last night.

He proposed that the board go on record for greater state support for public schools.

The motion passed 6-0.

The discussion on tax reform legislation pending before the state legislature resulted from a letter from the Oak Park school board.

SUPPORT URGED

The south county board asked Pontiac support in urging Gov. George Romney to include measures in his fiscal reform program to increase monies available for education.

"If we don't educate them today, we'll pay for it later (when they're) on welfare," Brown said.

He commented that someone should represent education and "put pressure on" the legislature.

★ ★ ★

Glenn H. Griffin, veteran board member, answered: "The message has been there for years."

NONE IN PARTICULAR

Victor P. Sutt suggested the school board go on record in favor of school needs, but not support any particular program.

In other business, the school board re-affirmed its existing policies on charges to the city Parks and Recreation Department for the use of school facilities.

The city requested modifications in the rental policies, including waiving the $10 per hour fee for swimming pools.

★ ★ ★

Recreation officials also asked that the school district pay part of custodial overtime and costs for certain community-wide cultural programs such as those of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

ALREADY PAYS

Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said the school district already pays rental fees in the costs of these programs with the exception of swimming pools.

"Thus," he continued, "the district pays for heat, light, and water costs, and also bears the cost of normal building depreciation."

Whitmer reported to the board last night that Charles Langs, a local developer, had expressed an interest in purchasing about 16 acres of school land for a housing development.

★ ★ ★

The superintendent said the land was located south of Bethune School, 154 Lake.

NO PROPOSAL

Whitmer had expected to present a firm proposal to the board, but said Langs had not submitted one.

In other action, board members okayed an in-service workshop for first grade teachers next week.

The workshop, scheduled for a half day, will be in another phase of the reading readiness program.

School will be dismissed a half day for first graders for the reading workshop.

Some Green Thumb, for This Big Plant

ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP) — Little Ardis Gulcynski thinks the "Jack and the Beanstalk" story may not be a fairy tale, after all.

The 5-year-old planted a sunflower seed in kindergarten last spring. When school was out she brought the plant home and set it out in her yard. It has grown to a height of over 14 feet.

Montana is three times as large as New York. It is equal to the combined area of the United Kingdom, Belgium and the Netherlands.

'Cuba Rules Death for Killing Animals'

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—You may face a firing squad for killing your cow in Cuba or serve 20 years if you butcher your pig, a refugee said today.

The exile, Victorio Fernandez, 26, a farm worker, said courts in Las Villas Province, where food shortages are extreme, are imposing these penalties. A permit, hard to obtain, is needed for slaughtering animals, he said.

Romans Are Becoming Tourists Themselves

ROME (AP)—Romans, who live in a city which attracts more than a million tourists a year, are beginning to do more touring of their own.

The central police office announced it had issued 118,939 passports to Romans in the first seven months of 1963, 61,902 more than in the same period in 1962.

Night of Traditional Prep Football Rivalries

★ ★ ★

Waterford vs. Kettering

A few surprises may be in the offing when Kettering and Waterford take the wraps off their football squads tonight at the Skipper stadium. Kick-off is set for 8 p.m.

★ ★ ★

Waterford coach Stu Thorell has been running his squad through the offensive drills this week in an effort to pack some punch in the Skipper attack.

Indications are that the Skippers' offensive unit will unveil a few new wrinkles.

Larkin has been polishing the attack of the Captains which has averaged better than 24 points a game against eight opponents this season.

★ ★ ★

Kettering has the edge in offense with quarterback Mel Patterson leading the way, but the senior field general will be facing a defensive alignment that has allowed but 20 points in its last three outings.

★ ★ ★

Lake Orion vs. Oxford

Th Double 'O' Football trophy will be at stake when Oxford and Lake Orion tangle in their 20th annual gridiron battle tonight. Kickoff is 8 p.m.

Missing from Oxford's starting eleven will be Dan VanVleet, the Wildcat's high-scoring quarterback, who was held out of practice this week because of injuries.

However, Coach Walt Braun said the signal caller might see some action from a running back position.

The Wildcats, co-champions of the Tri-County League, will be looking for their first win in five years.

The Dragons hold an 8-6 edge in the series which began in 1944. Four games ended in a tie and the 1957 contest was wiped out by a blizzard and Asian flu.

Rochester vs. Avondale

Rochester's Falcons will move into Avondale this evening to try and extend their mastery over the Yellow Jackets.

Avondale has been on the short end of the score in the last four contests and the Jackets' hopes for a victory ride with the defensive unit.

★ ★ ★

Defense has been one of the weak spots in the Avondale armor and the Falcons are expected to give it another stiff test.

Coach Gene Konley hinted that an air game might be in the making. He will have air-minded Roger Thompson at quarterback, a youngster Konley calls the best passer he has had at Rochester. Thompson has sparked the club to a 4-4 record.

A victory for the Yellow Jackets would move them into a tie for fourth place in the Oakland A League along with Madison and Rochester.

Romeo vs. Utica

One of the oldest feuds in the area will be renewed tonight when Romeo travels to Utica for the annual Little Brown Jug battle.

★ ★ ★

Romeo's bid to return the 'Jug' to Bulldog land after a five-year absence dimmed somewhat this week with injuries to three starters.

Coach Stan Motschenbacker said end Bob Rowley, with a bruised kidney, is through for the season, and he said tackle Ed Weber and Phil Hoxsey would see only limited duty.

Utica coach Ralph LaParl said his squad would be in top shape for the 'Jug' game. The Chieftains have a 3-5 record and Romeo has racked up a 3-3-1 mark.

The two schools put the Little Brown Jug into play in 1948 and Romeo's last look at the trophy was in 1958 when the Bulldogs won, 25-0.

★ ★ ★

Since that time, Utica has won three and the other ended in a tie.

Titans at Home With Villanova

DETROIT (UPI)—Junior fullback Fred Beier, the nation's fifth-ranked college rusher, will lead the University of Detroit's bid for its first victory in six games tonight when the Titans play host to Villanova.

It will be the only major college game in the nation tonight.

Beier has rushed for 624 yards in 141 carries for a 4.4 average this season and is just 24 yards behind Jim Sidle of Auburn, who leads the country with a 648-yard total.

U-D, which will be playing at home after four road games in a row, has a 1-5-1 record. The Titans downed Northern Michigan 20-7 and tied Dayton 14-14.

Villanova has a 4-3 record after knocking off Holy Cross, 22-14, last week.

The teams have lost to one common foe — Boston College. The Eagles beat U-D, 20-12, and Villanova, 34-0.

★ ★ ★

Villanova topped Detroit, 14-0, last season for its first win over the Titans in four years.

WIN STREAK

Kalamazoo will get a shot at snapping the nation's longest college football winning streak and central Michigan will get a chance to muzzle the nation's hottest passer this Saturday in the key Michigan small college grid contests.

Only five games are scheduled in the state Saturday but two of them are outstanding attractions with Kalamazoo hosting Earlham and Central Michigan entertaining Northern Illinois.

★ ★ ★

Both Earlham and Northern Illinois will conclude their 1963 seasons in Michigan.

HOWE HUNTS RECORD — Record-hunting Gordie Howe of the Red Wings gets the puck away from New York's Howie Glover (14) in last night's game. But Howe couldn't score his 545th career goal, missing the open net in the last minute of the Wings' 1-0 win. Other players shown are Detroit's Larry Jeffrey (20) and Norm Ullman (7) and Rangers' Phil Goyette.

Wings Post 1-0 Victory Over N.Y.

DETROIT (AP) — Things are getting so bad for Gordie Howe that he can't even shoot the puck into an open net.

The big Detroit right winger hit the post in the last minute of play Thursday night as the Red Wings edged the New York Rangers 1-0 in one of three National Hockey League games played.

In the others, league-leading Chicago and Montreal played to a 2-2 tie, and Toronto came from behind for a 4-3 victory over Boston.

Howe has gone five games without scoring since he tied Maurice Richard's record of 544 career goals in the game against Montreal Sunday, Oct. 27.

While Howe failed to score, he did help set up the only goal of the game when he passed the puck to Parker MacDonald on a power play at the 12-minute mark of the third period.

New York's Harry Howell was sent to the penalty box for grabbing Howe as he deftly faked New York goalie Jacques Plante out of the net and was getting ready to try a backhanded shot.

PASS PERFECT

MacDonald slipped in behind the New York defense, after passing the puck to defenseman Billy Gadsby, and smacked home Howe's pass after Gadsby gave it to Howe.

"That pass was perfect. If I would have run up into the stands," MacDonald said.

Detroit goalie Terry Sawchuk moved within one shutout of tying an NHL record when he recorded his 93rd regular season shutout. George Hainsworth, who retired in the early 1920s after 10½ seasons with the Toronto Maple Leafs and Montreal Canadiens, is the record holder.

★ ★ ★

Howe had six of the 36 shots the Red Wings fired at Plante. Sawchuk made only 25 saves in the ragged game. MacDonald's goal and Howe's near miss were the only plays that brought the crowd of 11,546 to its feet.

MONTREAL TIED

At Montreal, Dave Balon scored both of Montreal's goals, and Stan Mikita and Eric Nesterenko scored for Chicago in a game in which play ranged from rough to vicious.

Montreal's Billy Hicke had 12 stitches taken to close a cut on the right side of his forehead after he was checked into the boards by Bobby Hull.

Boston took a 3-0 lead in its game against Toronto on goals by Orland Kurtenbach, Guy Gendron and Andy Hebenton. Two of the goals came with the Leafs short-handed.

George Armstong and Allen Stanley scored second period goals to put the Leafs back in the game, and Billy Harris tied it at the 14-minute mark of the final period.

'Giants' Pace Warriors Win

7-Foot Wilt, 6-11 Thurmond Star

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco Warriors are a new team as far as New York Knicks' Coach Eddie Donovan is concerned, but he still has a prominent reminder of last year's poor Warrior play—his own team.

The Warriors swamped the Knicks 110-88 Thursday night in San Francisco and take their new-found ability to Los Angeles tonight to test the Lakers.

"With the two big guys in there, they limit you to just one shot," said Donovan, summing up Thursday's defeat.

★ ★ ★

The two are Wilt Chamberlain, holder of many National Basketball Association scoring records, and Nate Thurmond, 6-11 rookie from Bowling Green.

They played together for about 20 minutes—Chamberlain at center, Thurmond at forward, and helped the Warriors turn a close game into a rout with a 34-14 edge in the third period.

Morrall Surge Snuffs Layne Bid

DETROIT—The sudden emergence of Earl Morrall as a flashy quarterback has eased some of the worry over the troublesome Detroit Lion QB slot.

But it's now obvious just how much despair there was in the Lion camp when head coach George Wilson yesterday confirmed reports that the Lions tried to coax 37-year-old Bobby Layne out of retirement three weeks ago.

Layne, the Lion immortal who led the club to three world titles and four Western Division championships during the mid '50s, was traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers after the second game of the 1958 season in probably the worst Lion deal of modern times.

PROBLEM

But Layne retired at the end of last season when he obviously had lost his touch and he refused to join the Lions again.

"When I'm through, I'm through," Layne told the Lions.

But the fact that the Lions even went so far as to contact him shows the club was grasping at straws and had lost all faith in Morrall and Milt Plum.

Morrall has come on strong the last two weeks to direct the club to smashing victories over the Minnesota Vikings and San Francisco 49ers and will be starting again at Baltimore Sunday.

But things were different a few weeks ago when neither Morrall nor Plum could move the floundering club.

"I thought he might be able to give us a lift," Wilson said.

"I don't even know if Bobby could have played even if we had gotten him but just having him around would have helped, I'm sure," he added.

★ ★ ★

Wilson looked back on the season and said, "I had to try something, remember we were losing ball games we should have won and morale was low, remember the trouble we had?"

Title Fight Set Dec. 7

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Convention Hall, which has rung with the words of a thousand orators addressing convention delegates, will enclose the sound of gloves pounding punching bags next week.

★ ★ ★

World middleweight champion Dick Tiger of Nigeria and Joey Giardello of Philadelphia signed a contract Thursday to meet in a fight for the title in the Hall Dec. 7. Their contracts also call for them to train in the Hall for three weeks before the match.

ONE DOWN — Red Kelly of the Toronto Maple Leafs falls to the ice as he and Doug Mohns of the Boston Bruins battled for a loose puck in last night's game. Goalie Ed Johnston of Boston keeps an eye on the puck. Toronto won, 4-3.

AFL Draft Set Nov. 30

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Football League's annual draft of college football players will be held on Saturday Nov. 30, in New York, starting at 8 a.m. EST.

The 1943 Redlegs were the first to use the airlines for transportation.

Papasteggios Bids for Manager's Job

BALTIMORE (AP) — Milt Pappas offered today to take over as manager of the Baltimore Orioles and end speculation over who will handle the baseball club next season.

* * *

But his tongue-in-cheek proposal included these qualifications:

1. "I've had more major league experience as a player than some of the men being considered for the manager's job."

At 24, Milt ranks first in continuous-service seniority among the Orioles. He has been with Baltimore since graduation from high school in 1957.

2. "I have background as a manager . . . with a winning record."

He referred to the intrasquad game in spring training involving two teams of pitchers — before the main squad arrived on the scene.

* * *

3. "I would save the club money because my combined pay as player-manager would be less than for both me and the new manager. And the front office wouldn't have to make long distance telephone calls during the winter, since I live in Baltimore."

4. "Everyone says the Orioles need color. I'd give it to them by going back to my original name — Miltiadis Papasteggios. Even Casey Stengel can't top that one."

* * *

"I had a dream the other night," Pappas said. "We won the World Series, and for the first time in history the same person won the most valuable player and manager of the year awards. It was me."

Local Skaters Place Second

West German Upset in World Meet

Special to The Pontiac Press

LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Cecelia Darimont and Gerry McNieve of Pontiac placed second here last night in the free dance division of the Invitational World Roller Skating Championships.

Mrs. Sue Wahlig and David Schafer of Pontiac were fourth in senior pairs.

Miss Darimont and McNieve, who were runners up for North American honors, won the applause of the standing room only crowd but not enough first place votes from the five judges.

West Germany won the team championship with the United States in second place.

The biggest upset of the meet was recorded last night when John Renz of San Diego, Calif., edged world champion Karl-heinz Losch of West Germany in the men's singles.

* * *

Losch had never been defeated in world competition. Renz has won four North American crowns — two seniors, intermediate and junior.

Prep Gridders End Tonight

* * * * * * * * *

Emmanuel - St. Fred Close '63 Slate

Gridiron fans can look for an aerial duel Saturday when Emmanuel Christian and St. Frederick close the 1963 season at Wisner Stadium. Game time is 2 p.m.

Both teams employ a wide open offense with the quarterback doing a lot of pitching from a spread formation.

Emmanuel has used the formation with considerable success in compiling a 6-2 record, but the Rams' 'shotgun' has backfired. They own a 1-6 mark.

* * *

The Rams snapped a 20-game losing streak with a 6-0 win over St. Michael in their 1963 opener, but they launched another losing streak which has reached six.

Handling the offensive chores for the Rams will be halfbacks Gordon Doyon and John Shearer, pressed into the signal - calling duties after an early season injury sidelined quarterback Larry Walters.

Shearer got the call at quarterback in the last two outings and turned in respectable performances. Most of his passes came off the spread formation with Doyon and end Bob Peoples on the receiving end.

INJURY WOES

The Lancers ran into some injury problems at mid-season and dropped two contests after running up a four-game winning streak.

* * *

St. Frederick's hopes of winning will hinge on their success in stopping quarterback Ralph Wingate.

The senior speedster scored three touchdowns last week in a win over Webberville to boost his scoring total to 73 points, good for eighth place in the Oakland County scoring race.

Wingate also owns an accurate passing arm. His passes have sparked the Lancer attack all season and his favorite targets are Ron Jackson and Danny Wingate.

BOWL TILT

Another big game on the Saturday slate finds Royal Oak Shrine bidding for a Soup Bowl victory against Notre Dame at Titan Stadium. Game time is 8 p.m.

The Knights, behind the running of Dennis Bienkowski and Jim Seymour, have piled up a 6-1 record.

Cranbrook travels to Gilmour (Gates Mills, Ohio) for a 2 p.m. encounter Saturday, and the Cranes will be looking for their second win of the season. They have lost six.

Elsewhere on the Saturday slate, Detroit Thurston will entertain Riverside in a game set for 2 p.m., and Grand Rapids Union moves to Flint for a battle with Southwestern.

A win over Riverside would up Thurston's record to 4-5. The Eagles have been on a late-season surge, winning three of their last four outings.

Royal Oak Set for Battle of City Rivals

Walled Lake Home; Chiefs in Flint Prior to PNH Finale

Ferndale doesn't want any recurrence tonight of what happened the last time it visited Hazel Park for a season-ending Eastern Michigan League grid clash.

* * *

That was two seasons ago and a 20-6 upset left the high soaring Eagles with the only loss on a nine-game schedule and without the EML championship.

Ferndale bounced back to win the crown last season and has a good shot at a second straight diadem tonight, if Hazel Park will only submit to a defeat (such as last year's 26-13 loss).

Birmingham Seaholm is waiting in the wings to benefit from any Viking shenanigans. Two years ago it was Royal Oak Kimball that benefitted from the upset.

* * *

Kimball is out of contention this time but has an important engagement with Royal Oak Dondero in what has become a big intra-city clash.

BOUNCE BACK

The latter took the first three games of the city series, but Kimball has won the last two convincingly and wants to even the record tonight at 8 p. m. on its home field.

Pontiac Central will conclude its Saginaw Valley Conference schedule tonight at Flint Northern. The Chiefs will be underdogs for the eighth time this season.

Holly will be striving to make it three straight over a local rival, Fenton. The Broncos are 4-3-1 while Fenton is 7-1 and has a tough defense. It will not be an easy assignment for Holly.

Walled Lake saw its perfect season go by the boards when Plymouth pulled off a 12-7 victory last weekend. The Inter-Lakes League champions had rolled through six foes until that game.

The loss dropped Walled Lake to the 14th spot on the weekly Associated Press poll and ended an 11-game winning streak at home.

Defending Champs Stumble in AFL Race

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Now that other American Football League clubs have stopped pointing for them, maybe Kansas City's defending champs can end a four-game losing streak against Oakland tonight in Kansas City.

The Chiefs' skid has carried them to a last place tie with Denver at 2-5-1 in the Western Division. Oakland, 5-4, is a surprising second behind San Diego 6-2, in the West and needs a victory to stay in the running. The Raiders beat the Chiefs 10-7 last Sunday.

OTHER GAMES

Denver plays at Buffalo, 4-4-1, Saturday night with the Bills favored to keep their late title push alive in the tight Eastern Division race. Houston, Eastern co-leader at 5-4 with Boston, faces New York, 3-4-1, at Houston while Boston plays host to San Diego in the two Sunday games.

* * *

One fact indicates the other AFL clubs have been pointing for the Chiefs. Only once in eight games has a team won the week after playing the Chiefs. At the same time, it's obvious the league has greatly improved over 1962 while the Chiefs haven't.

Hank Stram, Kansas City coach, is confident his club will snap out of it and close with a winning surge. The Chiefs may be without Chris Burford, their outstanding split who ranks No. 3 in AFL pass receiving. He is on the doubtful list with an injury.

* * *

Stram said Abner Hayes, the club's heralded 1,000-yard man of 1962, likely will start as a flanker. Bert Coan, formerly of Kansas and San Diego, may start as a running back alongside Curtis McClinton. Coan and McClinton, the AFL Rookie of the Year in 1962, were in the same Kansas backfield in 1960.

Oakland has a tough defense and can get the long gainer on offense, with Cotton Davidson and Tom Flores throwing to Art Powell and Bo Roberson.

Clem Daniels, the AFL's No. 2 rusher, leads the Oakland ground game. Daniels, Davidson and Claude Gibson, whose 85-yard punt return beat Kansas City last Sunday, are former Chiefs.

The White Sox and the Giants were the first major league teams to play in Japan. The year was 1913.

Upset-Minded Major Picks 10 Wild Ones

By MAJOR AMOS B. HOOPLE
Originator of Offenses

Greetings, my millions of friends! What a treat I have in store this week for the faithful followers of the Hoople System.

In keeping with the youth movement which is sweeping the country, I have turned over the preparation of my football predictions for this Saturday to my nephews, Leander and Alvin.

Their card for this weekend includes 10 colossal upsets. (Editor's Note: Egad! There's a lot of Hoople in these lads!)

Using their own system, based on quick kicks, wayward passes and falling bodies, the boys have selected Maryland to sink Navy, Baylor to trim Texas, and Stanford to edge Southern California in the three biggest surprises of the day.

WHAT?

Nearly as startling is their prediction of a Penn State victory over favored Ohio State, 18-15—hak-kaff!

* * *

Other juicy upsets include Rice over Arkansas, Mississippi State to subdue Auburn, Texas Christian to shock Louisiana State, Northwestern to down Wisconsin, and Purdue to defeat Michigan State.

* * *

On one contest, Illinois vs. Michigan, the boys couldn't agree. Leander liked Illinois, with Alvin favoring Michigan. They asked their favorite uncle to break the tie and I cast my ballot for Michigan!

* * *

The luckless Wolverines, rated no better than 50th nationally, will rise to new heights to throttle the Illini, 16-8 — harrumph!

Oilers' Cannon Out, Put on Deferred List

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Oilers of the American Football League have returned halfback Silly Cannon to the injury deferred list.

The action was taken after the former Heisman Trophy winner reinjured his right ankle Thursday. Cannon returned to action last Friday night against Boston after competing in only two early season games.

In the longest game in major league history which went for 26 innings, both the pitchers, Brooklyn's Joe Oeschger and Boston's Leon Gadore went the entire route without relief or need for substitutions.

Have-Nots Holding Keys to NFL Division Crowns

By The Associated Press

Rarely, if ever, have the Have-Nots and Never-Been-Ables been so conspicuous on one program in the National Football League, possibly holding the balance of power in the battle for divisional honors that continues Sunday.

* * *

Minnesota, which has never been able to beat the Packers, takes a 3-5 record into Green Bay for a clash with the Western Division co-leaders, who are 7-1.

* * *

Los Angeles, which hasn't been able to beat the Bears in their last eight games, moves into Chicago with a 2-6 record.

Philadelphia, which hasn't been able to beat the Giants in five straight games, takes a 2-5-1 record to New York, where the Giants will be trying to stay no worse than one game behind Cleveland in the Eastern race.

And Pittsburgh, which has never been able to win a divisional crown and is bogged down at 4-3-1, tackles the Browns, out front with a 7-1 mark to 6-2 for New York.

In other games, Washington will be at St. Louis, Detroit at Baltimore and Dallas at San Francisco.

CLOSE GAME

The Vikings came close to toppling the Packers earlier in the season in a 37-28 loss but likely will have more of a problem this time with Green Bay's Jim Taylor running at full efficiency. John Roach again will handle the quarterbacking chores for the Packers with injured tight end Ron Kramer returning to duty.

* * *

The Rams, who have been strengthened by Roman Gabriel's sharp performances since he took over at quarterback, were clobbered by the Bears 52-14 in their first meeting. Since then Chicago has started to roll on the ground as well as behind Billy Wade's passing.

The Vikings and Rams may have one factor working in their favor — the Packers and Bears may be looking ahead to their game a week from Sunday. The Browns and Giants, however, don't meet again, but they face stiffer opposition.

SONNY RETURNS

The Eagles, despite heavy injuries, played well in a 16-7 loss to Chicago and a 23-17 defeat by Cleveland in their last two games. Injured quarterback Sonny Jurgensen may be available for spot duty behind King Hill. The Philadelphia defense, however, will have to contend with New York's Y. A. Tittle, who leads the league with 20 touchdown passes.

The Steelers gave Cleveland a stiff battle before bowing 35-23 in their first meeting and the return should again be a struggle between two Browns—Ed Brown passing for Pittsburgh and Jimmy Brown running for Cleveland. Pittsburgh played the first game without fullback John Henry Johnson.

The Cardinals, 5-3 in the East, still have hopes for a shot at the title with one game remaining against New York and a pair against Cleveland, but must get by Washington first. St. Louis won the first meeting 21-7 but the Redskins lost three fumbles in that one.

The Cowboys, tied with the Redskins for the Eastern cellar, have a chance to get out against the 49ers, last in the West. Dallas' Don Meredith and San Francisco's Lamar McHan figure to match passes for the verdict in their first meeting of the season.

Anita Holds First in Table Tennis

Anita's Lettering rolled to a 4-2 win over Pepsi Cola Tuesday to maintain its lead in the Pontiac Table Tennis League.

* * *

In other action, Club 99 topped Frostop, 4-2, Kennerly's Service edged Harvey's Colonial, 3-2, Pine Knob downed Clark's Drive-In, 4-2, Crocker Candy whitewashed Buettner's Cleaners, 6-0, Francis Fuel took a 4-2 decision from Country Kitchen and Dorris Realty decisioned A & W, 5-1.

Anita's record now stands at 23-7, good for a two point margin over Club 99.

* * *

Waterford to Introduce Slow-Down Basketball

"Bucket-Ball," a slowed-down version of basketball, will be one of the offerings on the men's winter recreation schedule in Waterford Township, according to an announcement this week by recreation officials.

* * *

An organizational meeting for all managers or their representatives, and interested players and sponsors will be held Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Activities Building, 5640 Williams Lake Road.

Recreation director Bob Beedle explained that "Bucket-Ball" is a less strenuous, slow-break type of basketball, with rules designed for less skilled or older players.

A regular basketball league will also be formed, he said.

A sponsor fee of $20 will be required for each team entering either of the leagues, along with a fee for each player.

Rules permit each team to have a maximum of three players who both live and work outside the limits of Waterford Township.

Practice sessions, slated to open Nov. 26, will be assigned at the meeting Monday.

Beedle said that persons interested in either league, who are unable to attend the meeting, could contact him at the Recreation Department, OR 4-0376.

Spartans Eye Rose Bowl; Stiff Test for 'M'

MSU Plays Purdue 11 Saturday

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —If Michigan State can get past Purdue's passing there is a Big Ten title in the Spartan future —perhaps even a Rose Bowl.

The Troika (the Russian term for three horses) of battlers for top honors are the Spartans, Ohio State and Illinois. It has been a long time since Michigan State went to the Rose Bowl—1953 and 1955. MSU rooters are hungry.

★ ★ ★

Purdue has a habit of upsetting MSU, making Coach Duffy Daugherty a nervous, rather than smiling Irishman, this week.

For the second straight weekend, it will be a contest between the best offensive team in the Big Ten, Purdue, against the best defense, Michigan State.

★ ★ ★

MSU yielded 288 yards through the air last Saturday against Wisconsin, the former offensive leader. The Badgers were held to 29 yards rushing.

OUT OR RUNNING

This gave Purdue, out of the running for any title hopes, the title for best offense. Although Purdue was thrashed by Illinois, passing quarterback Ron DiGravio continued to hit his ends for good yardage.

MSU has to contain the aerial artistry of DiGravio, who has a record of more than 50 per cent completions and five touchdowns.

★ ★ ★

The Spartans have to depend on the rushing game led by speedster Sherm Lewis. Lewis has escaped so far this season with four sprints of more than 80 yards, three of them for touchdowns.

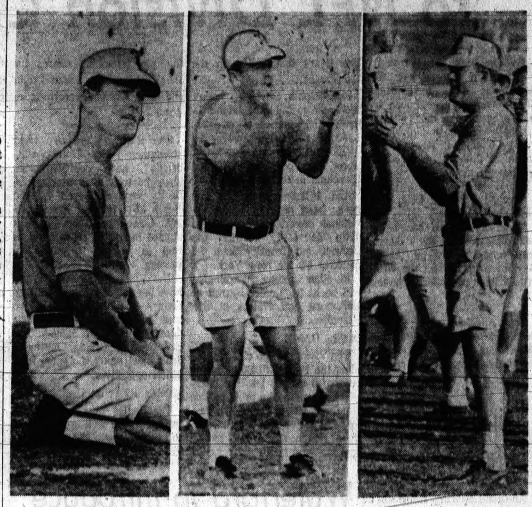
16 Teams in Running for Bluebonnet Bowl

HOUSTON (AP) — Some 16 teams—representing nearly all parts of the nation—are being considered for the fifth annual Bluebonnet Bowl football game

The game will be played Dec. 21 in the Rice University Stadium.

★ ★ ★

Executive director Lou Hassell says teams under consideration include Texas, Baylor, Arkansas, Rice, Oklahoma, Missouri, Lousiana State, Georgia Tech, Auburn, Alabama, Army, Navy, North Carolina, North Carolina State, Memphis State and Pittsburgh.



AP Photofax

ON THE MOVE — Darrell Royal, head coach of the University of Texas football team, is a man on the move during practice sessions. Royal watches a play (left) that doesn't please him; he shows players how they should run it (center); and applauds them for making the correction. Texas, top rated 11 in the country, plays Baylor Saturday.

Illini Ground Game Vs. Michigan Passes

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan's improving passing game and Illinois' bone-crushing ground attack will be matched Saturday as the Elliott brothers continue their friendly Big Ten football rivalry at Champaign, Ill.

Bump Elliott's Michigan squad, fresh from a 27-6 victory over highly-rated Northwestern last Saturday, realizes it now has a chance at a first division finish in the conference. This is something no Michigan team has done since 1956, although the Wolverines shared fifth place in 1960.

Illinois, coached by Pete Elliott, has its sights set on the Rose Bowl. The Illini share first place in the Big Ten with Michigan State and Ohio State. MSU and Illinois have a slight edge they play seven conference games, compared to OSU's six.

Pete hasn't been able to beat his older brother in three tries. Bump's Wolverines, won, 8-7, in 1960; 38-6 in 1961 and 14-10 last year.

RATED IN POLL

Grabowski, a fullback, has rushed for 317 yards — 277 in Illinois' last three games.

Quarterback Custrado has averaged six yards a try rushing, compiling 193 yards in 32 carries. He has added 157 yards in the air, completing 16 of 36 passes.

★ ★ ★

The Michigan offense operates around quarterback Bob Timberlake. The 6-foot-4, 210 pound junior has completed 30 of 50 passes for 419 yards and three touchdowns since shaking off a shoulder injury.

AIRLANES

The Wolverines are expected to take to the air against Illinois, with John Henderson, Jim Conley, Craig Kirby, Bill Laskey and Dick Rindfuss the prime receivers.

Henderson leads the team with 20 reception for 280 yards. He also leads in scoring with 30 points.

It's difficult to say that a loss to Michigan will wreck Illinois since the Illini must face Wisconsin and Michigan State before the season is over. But it's safe to say that a victory over Michigan would be quite a springboard for the Pete Elliott team which had lost 15 games in a row at this stage of the season last year.

Michigan's team went to Champaign, Ill. today without the player who provided the big play in the victory over Illinois last season.

Baylor Invades Texas

Longhorns Face Top Passer

The eyes of Texas will be focused clearly on Austin tomorrow when the hometown Texas Longhorns risk life against limb in their Southwest conference showdown struggle with Baylor.

★ ★ ★

The life involved is the No. 1 national ranking which Texas has held for a month. In addition, the winner will undoubtedly reap a Cotton Bowl bid, a fringe benefit to which the Longhorns have become accustomed — three of the past four years.

RUN VS. PASS

The limb in question is the tireless right arm of Baylor's Don Trull, who leads the nation in both passing and total offense. Trull, a senior who won national pitching honors last season, has thrown more passes (185) for more completions (106) and more yards (1408) than any other quarterback in the country.

The battle between the undefeated Longhorns and the once beatern Bears takes on added significance when you consider that Texas has run with the ball more than any other major college squad and Baylor is the nation's most pass - happy team.

A hand and a foot also figure prominently in college football's feature attraction. Lawrence (Latchin' Larry) Elkins, a Baylor wingback, is the leading receiver in major college competition with 44 catches and shoeless Tony Crosby of Texas has booted seven field goals and 21 of 21 extra points.

Fifth - ranked Auburn and unranked Princeton, who share with Texas the distinction of being the only unblemished teams in major college ranks, both face important league contests. The plainsmen, tied with Mississippi for Southeastern conference leadership and a Sugar Bowl invitation, take on strong Mississippi State, and Ivy leader Princeton faces runnerup Harvard.

Mississippi, No. 3, hosts Tampa in the mismatch of the year, while fourth - ranked Navy sends quarterback Roger Staubach against Maryland's Dick Shiner in what promises to be one of the flosiet passing duels of the season.

Sixth - ranked Oklahoma and 10th - ranked Nebraska, both undefeated in Big Eight conference play, get a chance to strengthen their Orange Bowl hopes in league contests. The Sooners play Iowa State, whose grudging defense should test the Okies' rushing power. Nebraska meets Kansas.

In an important intersectional encounter, Notre Dame entertains its second eastern power in two weeks — ninth-ranked Pittsburgh. The Irish were drubbed by Navy last week.

Any-Deer Permits

State Has Too Many

LANSING (AP)—Although there are about 10,000 surplus any-deer hunting permits, the state conservation department advises there is no fair way—short of another drawing—to divide those permits among 115,000 unsuccessful applicants.

The surplus permits resulted when applications fell short of permit quotas in 12 of the 46 antlerless deer areas.

There is not even time for a re-drawing, the department added, with firearm deer seasons opening Nov. 9, in the west Upper Peninsula and Nov. 15 in the rest of the state.

The department also advises that hunters gunning for bucks in the 46 antlerless hunting areas do not need special permits.

★ ★ ★

Department biologists, meanwhile, ask hunters to help the deer-hunting surveys by allowing their deer to be examined at one of the department's roadside checking stations.

One such station, open Nov. 12-17 and Nov. 23-24, will be at the straits of Mackinac.

Other stations open Nov. 16-19 and Nov. 23-24 will be near Standish on US23, Birch Run on I-75, Alma on US27, Howard City on US131 and White Cloud on M37.

Bowling's big boom is about busted. Indications are that the current building and expansion trend has reached a point of diminishing returns.

Certainly, the game has not become stagnant or out of date; but the proprietors and manufacturers must now plan to survive within their present limits of operation.

Even the Press Bowlerama, proven popular in recent years, has had a hard time attracting entries this time despite the apparent healthy state of the local economy.

Perhaps the best local judge of bowling's present situation is Monroe Moore, who only recently returned from a cross-country tour with the Professional Bowlers' Association.

"All the proprietors are having a rough time of it," Moore noted in an interview this week. "None of them can sit back and relax — let the money roll in."

The situation, it should be noted, is not peculiar to any one area. Moore said he felt bowling conditions were about the same everywhere; the same variances can be found from state to state, city to city, establishment to establishment.

IMPROVEMENTS

Pontiac's popular "Sparemaster" (a carry-over nickname from his television bowling days) does not feel the bowling industry has over-indebted itself with too many fancy improvements.

"They (the bowlers) like the improvements," he said. He quickly added the bowlers may not enjoy paying for them, though.

He stated that the only real responsibiliy the proprietor has toward his customers is to provide good clean bowling conditions — those approved by the American Bowling Congress.

"A league bowler should expect to pay more than the open bowler; because he gets more services," Moore explained. Such things as telescores, foul lights, score sheets and accelerated counter service cost more but go unnoticed, he added.

"There are too many people in bowling today who come up to the proprietor with their hand out — looking for something for nothing," said Moore.

But before anyone concludes that "Mo" is through with the sport, it should be noted he still loves bowling and is returning to the pro circuit next week at the National Invitational near New York City.

MOORE

Last Saturday for Bowlerama Qualifying

Only 2 Sunday Dates Follow This Weekend

Bowlers Urged to Get Advance Squad Time at Preferred House

The last Saturday of qualifying will find four of the highest scoring houses having their next to last day of squads in the seventh annual Press Bowlerama.

Collier Lanes, West Side Lanes, Huron Bowl and Lakewood Lanes have all had series over 700 this year.

An numerous other high scores — those over 650 — have been produced at those establishments, also.

Conversely, two sites which are very low on good qualifying scores will also have squads tomorrow. Cooley Lanes, whose high is 657, and Maple, where the top mark is 631, will be anxious to have squads Saturday afternoon.

The situation will be reversed somewhat Sunday as six other establishments jump back into the action. Only two of those have had 700s, North Hill Lanes and Howe's.

★ ★ ★

The follow up totals at those houses are not consistently high, though, so the doors are wide open at all six Sunday sites for potential qualifiers.

Other Sunday qualifying houses include Airway Lanes, 300 Bowl, Wonderland Lanes and Montcalm Bowling Centre.

Anyone who lives and/or bowls in a sanctioned Oakland County league is eligible to compete, providing the entrant has an 18-game average this season or last.

REGISTRATIONS

This will speed up the process of placing a bowler on a squad with others of comparable handicaps.

The handicap is 70 per cent of 200 scratch for both men and women applicants. First prize is $700 in the handicap portion, with an Actuals Invitational also planned.

The latter will be Nov. 30th at 300 Bowl, and the handicap finals are slated for the following day at the same location. An awards dinner will be given during the week following the finals.

LOSERS' LUCK—To the losers go the spoils is the motto for the annual bowl off between the Cooley Lanes team (front row) and a Detroit newspaper squad. The competition started 10 years ago, with the losers getting possession of the trophy and the responsibility to add something to it. It now has such items as a pie tin, coffee can, thread spool, funnel, cork stopper, etc. The original 12 men are still competing. Cooley "retained" possession for the fourth straight year last Sunday (with left to right) Joe Gannon, Mike Frank, Paul Rabaut, Ray Pearson, Martin Jensen and George Mynatt. On the back row for the winners are (left to right) Art Dowedite, Ken Jackson, Harry Glidden, Larry Aird, Bob Lashbrook and Bill Begg.

BOWLING

The Monday night West Side Lanes Classic League finds the 300 Bowl team riding comfortably on top the circuit with 57 wins and only 15 lost points.

The 675 season high series last week by Leon Pincumbe in the Collier Lanes House league went the way of most records Monday night when Jay Lovett hit 681 and Ron Smith 696.

★ ★ ★

Lovett did set a new high mark for an actual game with 278. He also had a 236 game, while Smith rolled 238-240 games.

SWEEPS FOE

West Side Lanes tied for the league lead with Roark Mobil Service by sweeping eight points in its match with the Mr. Cs.

At Fairgrounds Bowling Tuesday morning, proprietor Mel Moore and Dick Baker both fired 255 games and Moore went on to post a 636 series.

The Hilltop Rebels last week saw Stemmer's Catering hold its lead while C&S Realty, Drewry's Big D and Avon Beauty are in a three-way battle for the runner-up spot.

Clayton McIlhargie's 604 series was tops in the Pontiac Motor Inter-Office League Wednesday night. Jess Williams had a 227 game, and McIlhargie, William Logie, Ralph Armstrong and William Covarrubias all had 220s. Logie totaled a 600, also.

In the 300 Ladies Classic Wednesday, Pat Pote rolled a 226-543 duo, Dee Grattan hit 532 and Edna LaLonde converted the 3-7-10 split for the first time.

★ ★ ★

To complete his set, he added a 124 game, which was 51 pins over his average.

Wanda Smith of the Collier Tuesday evening Lucky Striker's League joins Violet Brockway and Olga Carpenter in the "200 club". She rolled a 209 Tuesday.

In the Bucks and Does at Howe's Lanes, Fawns lead the Spikehorns and Buckshots by only half game with 20½ points. Fred Carpenter's 206 was tops Monday.

In the Airway Queen's League, The Hopefuls with 24 points, The Jinx at 22½ and Nine Pinners and Four Duds at 21, top the league.

Calbi Keglers Play Hot Tune

Calbi Music's eight - point sweep over Pontiac Window Cleaning and Veterans Disposal the last two weeks boosted it within two points of 300 Bowl & Lounge in the Friday night Huron Bowl Classic.

Jerry Perna had a 236-233-225—694 effort last week.

The leading 300 Bowl team has won six points in each of the past two Friday's competition, but lost ground due to the red hot tune being played by Calbi's.

DeBusschere Out of Cage Action With Fracture

DeBusschere, a former University of Detroit basketball and baseball star and a pitcher with the Chicago White Sox, will be lost for from three to four weeks, according to team physician Dr. Raymond Forsyth.

DeBusschere fell to the floor in the final quarter of the game after going up for a rebound. He had scored 18 points and grabbed 16 rebounds as the Pistons scored a 119-101 decision for their second victory in seven games.

The Navy's plebe basketball team in the 1956-57 season went through a 16-game schedule without a loss.

Rosburg Soars Into Lead With 67 in Sinatra Open

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) —Bob Rosburg, who has made his last $66,000 in golf without winning a single tournament, held a one-stroke lead over young Frank Beard today, going into the second round of the $50,000 Frank Sinatra Invitational.

Rosburg, who scored his last PGA tournament victory nearly three years ago in the 1961 Bing Crosby National, didn't miss a putt on the first 14 holes and shot a four-under-par 67 in Thursday's opening round at Canyon Country Club.

FEW PARS

Only 11 other players in the field of 150 bettered par on the two-year-old desert course.

Rosburg took only 28 putts and scored birdies with four of them, the longest a 12-footer.

"I landed in four bunkers and got down every time in two strokes," he said. "This is the best I've played in three or four months."

Beard, who turned professional only a year ago, had three birdie putts, one a 20-footer.

He missed only two greens. Beard, 24, is a brother of Ralph Beard, a star basketball player at the University of Kentucky in the late 1940s.

Beard finished the round a stroke ahead of Bill Casper, Dave Hill, Dow Finsterwald, Tommy Bolt and Bobby Nichols. A stroke farther back, at 70, were Don Essig, Gene Littler, Terry Wilcox, Tommy Aaron and Ray Floyd.

LEMA FALTERS

Tony Lema, the leading 1963 money winner in the tournament, shot a 76 and put himself in danger of failing to qualify today for the last two rounds. The field will be cut roughly in half for the final 36 holes.

★ ★ ★

Lema, fourth among PGA players this year in earnings, had finished in the money in 33 consecutive tournaments before failing to survive the 36-hole cutdown last week in the Almaden Open at San Jose, Calif.

Travelling Loop Ready for Visit to Montcalm

The Pontiac Travelling Classic will move to Montcalm Bowling Centre Sunday for its weekly league action. A full card is slated to begin at 1 p.m.

In action last Sunday, Montcalm nipped Howe's Lanes, 8-6, Airway Lanes toppled Cooley Lanes, 17-8, Wonderland Lanes edged West Side Lanes, 7-6, and Primrose Lanes walloped host Fairgrounds Bowling, 21-3.

In the latter match, Primrose's Chuck Messer accounted for six points with a 226—651 performance and Ivan Craycraft garnered seven with 234-226—645.

Airway was led by Ed Gibbs' 631 for six points and Bob Gormong's 607 for five. Pat Tinson had a 215 in Montcalm's victory.

Ailing Dayton Cage Coach Enters Hospital

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The University of Dayton's Tom Blackburn may have reached the end of his success-studded basketball coaching career.

★ ★ ★

The 56-year-old head coach of the Flyers, going into his 17th season, is in Miami Valley Hospital for the third time in two months.

Blackburn battled back from his two previous bouth with a chest condition, including exploratory surgery Sept. 27, to assume his duties as his 1963-64 squad began training last month.

★ ★ ★

But he weakened again, his voice nearly gone, and had to give it up Tuesday. He entered the hospital Thursday in what his physician called "a dehydrated condition."

He is expected to be released in three or four days.

In 1936 when Floyd Patterson was one year old, the veteran Archie Moore was engaged in boxing in the Golden Gloves tournament.

Blonde Seattle Pro Bids for Golf Win

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Ruth Jessen, the blonde blaster from Seattle, led the $8,500 72-hole San Antonio Civitan Open Golf Tournament going into its second round Friday.

Miss Jessen was the only player to better par Thursday as she posted a one-under-par 71 for a two-stroke lead in the opening round.

Mickey Wright, the leading tournament and money winner on the tour, soared to a 79 and was in 17th place.

Moderately Active Trade

Market Continues Its Rebound

Gains of key stocks went generally from fractions to about a point.

The trend was generally higher among aerospace issues, steels, utilities, rails, electrical equipments, drugs, electronics and office equipments.

Brokers said it was a continuation of the technical recovery from recent sharp losses and was helped along by some encouraging business news.

RECORD OUTPUT

Record auto production, higher retail store sales and higher rail freight carloadings were in the background.

Xerox — which proposed a 5-for-1 stock split and a doubled dividend after the New York Stock Exchange close yesterday —was up about 10 points, well below the level it reached in late trading yesterday on the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.0 at 280.0 with industrials up 1.2, rails up .8 and utilities up .4.

★ ★ ★

Chrysler, up more than a point, was the best performer among the autos. General Motors, selling "ex dividend" its $2 payout just declared, showed a net loss of a point, while American Motors gained a fraction.

PRICES MIXED

Prices were mixed in quiet trading on the American Stock Exchange. Syntex rose more than 5 and its when-issued more than a point. Barnes Engineering gained more than 2. Up a point or so were Mead Johnson, and Aerojet-General.

★ ★ ★

Letter Entered in Murder Trial

Note About Insurance by Kill-Hire Suspect

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The defense won a fight today to have a letter relating to insurance matters introduced in evidence in the T. Eugene Thompson murder trial.

Defense attorney Hyam Segell succeeded in having the letter, written by Thompson to St. Paul Insurance man John Winter, introduced over objection of Prosecutor William Randall.

Segell learned of the letter yesterday during cross examination of Winter. He demanded a copy and Randall informed the court that he did not have one in his possession.

Today, however, Winter produced the letter, dated Oct. 9, 1962, and Judge Rolf Fosseen admitted it into evidence.

THANKED HIM

In the letter, Thompson thanked Winter "for establishing an adequate insurance program for my wife and I."

Thompson is accused of instigating the death of his wife last March to collect $1,055,000 in insurance.

"In our conversation it is indicated that it would not be necessary to notify the following companies of the total amount of insurance in force on my wife," the letter continued.

The letter dealt with two general accident policies, with Time Insurance Co. and Zurich Insurance Co.

Soybean Trend Up on Futures Market

Gains of more than three cents a bushel were posted for some soybean deliveries during the first several minutes.

However, demand slackened at those levels and prices eased slightly.

School Board Awards Bonds in Waterford

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night awarded a $4.25-million bond issue to Phelps-Fenn & Co. and Goodbury & Co. of New York City, the lowest of three bidders.

The bond issue will finance the bulk of the $6.25-million school building program approved last June by the voters.

Bids on the bond issue ranged from the low net interest rate of 3.5919 per cent to a high of 3.6417 per cent.

The New York firms' bid will amount to a total interest cost of $2,212,625 from 1964 to 1989 when the last of the bonds mature.

INTEREST COST

Board members also opened bids for construction of five elementary school additions included in the expansion program. Awards will be made at a special meeting of the board next Thursday.

The low combined basic construction bid was $354,850. Low individual basic construction bids on the additions ranged from $56,400 for Monteith School to $88,400 for Leggett School.

Low bids on the other three additions were $76,400 for Cooley School, $73,900 for Burt School and $68,300 for Grayson School.

WRESTLING AIDE

Teachers named to the coaching posts will be paid four per cent of their regular salaries for the added duties.

The board also approved teaching contracts for eight new instructors, granted two leaves of absences and accepted one resignation.

Board members also agreed to loan $200 to the Beaumont School PTA so it can proceed with construction of a blacktopped play area while weather permits. Total cost of the play area is $600.

Schools Supt. Dr. Don O. Tatroe told the board of the establishment of a committee to study the school system's custodial-maintenance program and to make recommendations. Periodic progress will be submitted to the administration.

State Okays 2 OU Dorms

Oakland University got full legislative approval yesterday to proceed with plans for construction of two dormitories estimated to cost some $2 million.

A House approved resolution endorsing proposed construction of self-liquidating dormitories was passed without opposition in the State Senate.

The resolution was sponsored by Rep. Lloyd Anderson, R-Waterford Township. University officials were anxious to get legislative approval so they could start construction on one of the dormitories next month.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q) "I'm 49 years old and have three children. I work on a commission basis, netting about $30,000 a year. We have $10,000 in savings accounts and government bonds, and an interest in a family business. An inheritance has made $20,000 available for investment. I'd like to buy growth stocks and am interested in consumer goods firms. Do you think this idea is sound?" D. S.

A) Indeed I do. Your personal earning power and financial position are both exceptionally strong, and I believe the buying of some sound growth stocks would be a very sensible move to make. What's more, I like your idea of investing in the stocks of consumer goods companies.

Our national income is rising steadily, and the public has - and should continue to have—record amounts of money at its disposal. I advise you to divide your $20,000 equally among four stocks: Corn Products, Interstate Department Stores, Safeway Stores, and Scott Paper.

Q) "We have some stocks which I think we should sell because they have made us a profit. There is no immediate need for the money concerned, except that I happen to think that a person should sell a stock on which there is a profit. My wife disagrees with me. She thinks we should hold on. We own Proctor & Gamble, Chas. Pfizer, Bristol-Myers, and Radio Corp. of America. Which of us do you think is right?" G. L.

A) I'm going to side with your wife on this one. Your stocks are, in my opinion, excellent holdings, and I believe you would be missing out on future growth gains if you gave up your present strong position.

There is an old investment adage that says you should cut your losses short and let your profits run. I think this is an excellent rule to follow.

Bank to Open Its 16th Office

Community National Bank's 16th office will open Tuesday at Pontiac Road and Walton in Pontiac Township, A. C. Girard, bank president, announced today.

Girard said the branch will be temporarily housed in a 50-foot special trailer until a permanent building is constructed at the site, opposite the Oakland University entrance.

Named to manage the office was Dayton F. Patterson, 1266 Ruby, Avon Township.

EXCELLENT COMMUNITY

'This branch location was selected," Girard said, "because of the excellent residential community surrounding it and opportunity to be of service to Oakland University students and faculty."

About 85 per cent of all the children between the ages of 5 and 17 in the United States attend some kind of school.

Council Hits Anti-Semites

'Mankind to Blame for Christ's Death'

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A proposal designed to counter anti-Semitic propaganda was put before the Vatican Ecumenical Council today. It said all mankind — not the Jews alone — was responsible for the death of Christ.

★ ★ ★ ★

A communique from the council's Secretariat on Promoting Christian Unity said the document declared "that the responsibility for Christ's death falls upon sinful mankind. It was to atone for the sins of every man that the son of God willingly offered himself on the cross.

MANKIND'S GUILT

"The part the Jewish leaders of Christ's day played in bringing about the crucifixion does not exclude the guilt of all mankind. But the personal guilt of these leaders cannot be charged to the whole Jewish people either of His time or today.

"It is therefore unjust to call this people 'deicide' or to consider it cursed by God."

A deicide is the killer of God or, more specifically, a person concerned in the death of Christ.

Atom Scientist Dies

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Allan C. G. Mitchell, 61, head of the physics department at Indiana University and a leader in nuclear energy research, died Thursday of a heart attack. He worked on the atomic bomb project at the University of Chicago in World War II.

Burton Saved Goulet's Career

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Making like a columnist: Robert Goulet doesn't know it but his budding career could have been nipped except for the intercession of Richard Burton. Burton told the story on the "Night of The Iguana" location: During the Toronto tryout of "Camelot," bosses of the show told Burton that Goulet was too stiff and he was to be replaced by his understudy. "Not bloody likely," thundered Burton, who was having enough nerves in his first singing role and wasn't about to break in a new Lancelot.

Hollywood's social set turned out for Laurence Harvey's pre-Broadway debut with Elaine Stritch in "The Time of The Barracudas" at the Huntington Hartford. The macabre farce about a wife and husband killer who marry each other seems destined for rough waters. Esther Williams made one of her rare appearances, escorted by steady beau Fernando Lamas. Will she get back in the swim? "Not if I can help it," says leisure-loving Esther.

ASKED FOR IT

Want to know how Bing Crosby got the job with the Frank Sinatra mob in "Robin and The Seven Hoods?" He asked for it.

Phil Silvers says Sgt. Bilko is haunting him. Other television stations play the old series the same night as his new CBS show. His only consolation: The residual payments go to his daughters. Phil is juggling his factory show; new characters, including a family for foreman Grafton, and the action will move outside more.

Elizabeth Taylor says those photos of her in a girlie mag were not as nude as they appeared; they were doctored pre-publication, claims she. Jack Palance is trying to work out his vacation from "Greatest Show on Earth" so he can return to his alma mater, Stanford, next summer. He'd like to play "King Lear" and take a course so he can get his degree —he's shy one unit.

Vince Edwards' production deal with Columbia doesn't mean he's fleeing "Ben Casey." He has a solid deal for another season as the dour doctor, who is holding his own against the "Beverly Hillbilly" competition. Elvis Presley gets his first Thanksgiving at home in three years, Christmas, too — Colonel Parker hasn't scheduled a picture for him until after the first of the year.

Don't Throw That Away!
It's Got a Nice Nail in It

By JOY STILLEY
Written for Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — I'm not worried about whether I married a man or a mouse. What I'm wondering is if I married a man or a pack rat.

My husband doesn't just bring home the bacon. He brings home everything else he can get his hands on, too. And once the stuff is on the premises he wants to keep it there.

If he had his way, nothing would ever be thrown out except orange peelings and coffee grounds. He is absolutely convinced everything else will come in handy some day.

All our friends have been briefed never to dispose of anything without first consulting him. In this way we have come into possession of such choice items as an old electric phonograph with no tubes, a metal bookcase with most of the shelves missing, and a massive solid oak headboard from someone's discarded bed.

HANDY ITEM

This latter weighs about 100 pounds and it would take three north woodsmen a week to saw one notch in it. "It might come in handy," my hoarding husband insists.

I admit some of these odds and ends he collects have come in handy in the past when he did a lot of building for our children. He once made a wagon out of nothing by scraps of lumber, wheels from old carriages and tricycles, and even rehabilitated bolts and nails. It held six kids. He looked pretty smug when he painted it with some red paint I had been urging him for years to throw away.

But with a son away in college and a daughter well past the doll-house stage, I don't expect there will be heavy demand on his toy-building capacities from now on.

Still, it's impossible to get him to part with all the old apple crates, heavy chains, bed slats, sea shells and chipped flower pots he has collected.

We were taking a walk one evening and came across some large boxes discarded behind a store.

MMM, SHARP

Whereupon he shed the jacket I had just given him for his birthday and went to work prying the crates apart and hammering out the nails. He tied the nails in a handkerchief and we continued our walk.

"Too bad about the jacket," I sympathized. "It might have come in handy."

Highway Interchanges Numbered by Mileage

LANSING (AP)— Numbered interchanges will be in place on I-94 by next summer, advises State Highway Commissioner John Mackie.

The interchanges will be numbered according to the mileage system, Mackie said; so, for example, interchange 38 will be 13 miles ahead of interchange 25 and 12 miles short of interchange 50.

To Stop Learning Slumps

Student Should Have Consistent Plan

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: My problem is a 14 - year - old son who is an average student only part of the time. His teachers find that he works well for a period and then goes into a slump. We would appreciate any advice you could offer to help the situation.

D. B., Annapolis, Md.

Answer: A student's actions are determined by the plans he carries in his mind. Help your son decide how he is going to study each course. When he starts into a slump have him restablish the plan in his mind. He is much more apt to do his work when he knows how he is going to do it.

Dear Dr. Nason: My nine-year - old daughter is entering fourth grade. Her work is low-average and she has hated school since the very first day. At times, getting her off to school has seemed an impossible task. She pretends illness or cries.

Her teachers are most kind and have tried to help her. What can I do to help her before this situation grows worse?

Mrs. R. A., Alexandria, Va.

Answer: Usually children who resist going to school do not feel capable and comfortable in the school situation.

Since this had an early start with your daughter I suggest you investigate her ability to play games with the other children on the playgrounds, as well as her ability to read and write satisfactorily.

Has she been too timid to enter into classroom activities?

If you and the teacher could get a classmate to help her, it may kill two birds with one stone — she would learn to be adequate and feel the support of a friend at the same time.

Dear Dr. Nason: Recently when one child misbehaved in fifth grade class, the teacher kept the entire class after school for 45 minutes. Parents were not notified. We were waiting to go on a trip and were delayed by this procedure. Was I justified in protesting to the principal?

V.W., (———), Calif.

Answer: You were right to protest. The principal was negligent. I thought this practice had disappeared years ago. Don't all teachers know that "fighting" the whole class is a lost cause? Successful teachers never have more than one or two (at a time) misbehaving children and handle them promptly before the disturbance spreads.

(You can write Prof. Nason in care of The Pontiac Press. He will answer questions of widest interest in his columns.)

By OSWALD JACOBY

Everyone who has ever played rubber bridge has suffered with that type of partner which I call "The Gallant Defender."

JACOBY

The gallant defender is going to keep the flag flying irrespective of the cost and there is nothing his partner can do about it. Once in a while the defender will point out that the 1100-point set he took was really worthwhile because he went on to win the rubber and actually saved a couple of hundred points.

Chicago, or four deal bridge, is likely to cause these gallant defenders to mend their ways. Even thier sophistry can't justify an 1100-point set when it ends the game.

On the other hand, Chicago does encourage overbidding, but with good hands only. The fact that there is a potential game bonus on every deal makes it rather silly to hand one short of game if there is any real chance to cash in on that bonus.

Thus, there was no point in South's three no-trump call. He had the barest minimum of 15 points for his opening no-trump. His partner had only raised to two and South should have passed and hoped to make his eight tricks.

East won the heart opening with the ace and returned the suit. Eventually the defense collected four hearts and a spade and South was down one.

Strangely enough, South complained about bad luck. He overlooked the fact that spades broke and that the diamond finesse was on and pointed out that it took a 5-2 heart break to cost him the game.

♥♦ CARD Sense ♠♣

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East

2 ♦	Pass	3 N.T.	Pass

You, South, hold:
♠ A 2 ♥ A 2 ♦ K J 7 6 ♣ A Q 10 9 8
What do you do now?

A—This is a tough problem. I have no criticism of a pass, but if my partner is not going to treat four no-trump as Blackwood on this sequence I would bid four no-trump.

TODAY'S QUESTION

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20): Good for basic changes. Time to experiment, express yourself creatively. Don't be satisfied to know something happened. Find out WHY. Be perceptive. Check various sources, including your paper.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21): Fine chance for repaying social debt . . . or be imaginative. Realize one who appears sceptical may only be "putting on an act." The more gracious you are . . . the better. Key is HOSPITALITY.

CANCER (June 22 to July 21): Avoid being too sure of yourself. There may be loophole which needs mending. Good for catching up on correspondence. Keep active. But don't take self too seriously. Have fun tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): Avoid extravagance. Stress simplicity. Stand up for principles. Important persons can be "won over." Be confident, yet diplomatic. Your abilities spotlighted. And you are due a well-earned bow!

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You will be reminded of the past. Friends not seen for some time may reappear. Be leader rather than follower. LEO message also applies.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Examine numerous possibilities. Don't be satisfied with only one method. Seek advice, offer your own suggestions. Solution to major problem due very soon. Answer may come from unexpected source.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21): Cardiac hopes, problems. Your trust will be appreciated; no key to "hold back." Key is self-expression. Pressures not as great as you imagine. Message should become clearer by tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): Good lunar aspect highlights long-range plans, knowledge gained from reading. Make discoveries concerning your needs, aspirations. Note: Avoid making mountain out of molehill.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Pressure lifts. You can see your way clear to some changes—may include travel. Member of opposite sex due to provide challenge. Remember that competition can bring out the best in you.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Excellent for making new contacts. Listen to various offers, suggestions, but don't be in too much of a hurry. Trust friends: Don't be misled by those who claim you are too conservative.

IF SATURDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY . . . you would make excellent teacher, nurse, or counselor. Your need to serve the public finds expression in these and other fields, including—librarian, psychologist.

RECORDING STARS — The Singing Sisters of Mount St. Mary College in Newburgh, N.Y., have cleared more than $100,000 from their hit records of popular songs. The Roman Catholic nuns, one of several religious groups who have turned to records as a fund raising means, run a recording operation almost on a do-it-yourself basis.

Movieland Gives Writers the Red Carpet Preview

By EARL WILSON

Or they'll forfeit the all-time Friendship title to Hollywood, thanks to Stanley Kramer's $250,000 party for his $9 million "It's a Mad, Mad, Mad, Mad, World" movie premiere. He was so generous he allowed 210 reporters to make prepaid long-distance calls—and no questions asked.

WILSON

Free long-distance calls! Wowee!

Mothers heard from sons who hadn't phoned them in years. One guy walked into the Beverly Hilton pressroom and talked to Switzerland for almost an hour, about $200 worth.

Oh, the shame of it. After he'd left, they found the name he'd given was phony. He wasn't a reporter . . . just a stranger proving that Hollywood's really hospitable.

"L.A." is trying to establish itself as the world entertainment capitol—shoving N.Y. out. But I noticed as a loyal New Yorker-via-Ohio that in this already controversial comedy classic about a treasure hunt, they used practically an all-N.Y. cast:

* * *

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y. . . .

Diahann Carroll's opening at the Royal Box was really an opening—the back of her tight dress split during a frantic "Heat Wave" number: she finished the song, returned in a bathrobe . . . Shelley Burman'll use a real phone on stage for the first time, on the Judy Garland TV'er . . . Comics Phil Foster and Buddy Hackett bought an interest in a fighter, Allen Thomas; he'll battle at the Garden Nov. 22 . . . Two of JFK's sisters decorated El Morocco: Mrs. Peter Lawford and Mrs. Steve Smith.

Actress Thelma Ritter's giving up her N.Y. home: she sold it so suddenly she doesn't have a place to move to . . . Jerry Vale will record his Nov. 15 Carnegie Hall concert . . . Albert Finney of "Luther" sipped an Irish coffee with Shelley Winters at Downey's . . . Is the Laurence Harvey-Elaine Stritch play, "Time of the Barracudas," getting a cast change? . . . Benny's Wife Wouldn't Allow Police Protection

NEW YORK (AP)—Mary Livingston, wife of comedian Jack Benny, might not have lost $200,000 worth of jewels to a robber if she had accepted police protection, says Police Commissioner Michael J. Murphy.

* * *

Murphy said Thursday the Bennys have not been the only celebrities to reject offers of protection.

* * *

Similar cases of refusal where thefts later occurred, Murphy said, involved singer Constance McGrath, who lost $40,000 worth of jewelry from her Hotel Plaza suite last Jan. 24, and Patrice Wymore, widow of Errol Flynn. Two fur coats valued at $8,000 were stolen Oct. 4 from her Drake Hotel suite.

Post's Old Soldier, 66, Applies to Reenlist

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The oldest soldier on active duty at Ft. McPherson, M. Sgt. Howard R. Davis, 66, has applied for reenlistment Nov. 12.

Davis, of Atlanta, is assigned to the 3rd Army Finance Office. This is a far cry from the trenches of France, where he was cited for bravery by Gen. John J. Pershing. He now works with electronic computers and other tools of modern science and technology.

Negro Groups Vie in Detroit

Nonviolence Rapped by GOAL President

DETROIT (AP) — Militant Negroes intend to bypass a conference of Northern Negro rights leaders in Detroit this weekend to hold their own session — where they can denounce the principle of nonviolence.

A previously scheduled two-day conference of 100 civil rights leaders is to end Sunday with a "ride to freedom" motorcade through downtown Detroit.

Militant leaders said yesterday at least 37 persons will attend their two-day conference, which will end with a speech by Black Muslim leader Malcolm X.

* * *

Richard Henry of Detroit, brother of Pontiac City Commissioner Milton Henry and president of the Group On Advanced Leadership (GOAL), said the counter-conference was called because the other does not involve plans to discuss "self-defense or independent political action."

UNDER ATTACK

At the militant conference, he said, Martin Luther King Jr.'s theory of nonviolence in the Negro rights campaign "will be under attack."

The sponsors, the Detroit Council for Human Rights, staged a "freedom march" of 100,000 persons in Detroit in June. Some funds raised during the rally were sent to King's organization.

* * *

Henry said the meeting will be called the "Negro Grass Roots Leadership Conference." He said GOAL expects a new, militant Northern Negro organization to emerge from the conference.

* * *

"Negro activist leaders from the front lines all across the North — New York to San Francisco — will pool their experiences at the no-holds-barred workshop, hammering out common solutions and common attacks," Henry said.

Union Sought by Sightless

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Employes of the Cleveland Society for the Blind—all 40 of them sightless—voted Thursday night to form a union. The action resulted from a number of grievances, chiefly wages.

Julia Ales, a former employe of the society, said a check with lawyers showed workers for the welfare federation could form a union.

The group plans to meet again in a month to elect officers and then ask the National Labor Relations Board to hold a representation election.

Mme. Nhu Speaks to Children

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu has spoken by telephone with her three younger children, who she once feared might have died in the military revolt last week in South Viet Nam.

The children—ages 15, 11 and 4—were flown to Rome Tuesday, but Mme. Nhu was unable to reach them until Thursday. The children, under care of Mrs. Nhu's brother-in-law, Archbishop Pierre Martin Ngo Dinh Thuc, had been moved from a hotel to other quarters.

At the time of the coup—in which her husband and his brother, President Ngo Dinh Diem died—Mme. Nhu had fears the children were in the presidential palace, which was heavily bombed. She later learned they had been taken to the highland resort of Dalat.

An aide of Mme. Nhu, Col. William K. Eliscu of New York City said she asked the archbishop to send the children to Los Angeles as soon as possible. Another source said the archbishop asked Mme. Nhu to come to Rome instead, but that she replied, "I have important work to do here."

Area UF Soars to $822,581 Peak

Pontiac Press Photo

ALL ADDS UP — Payday for Pontiac Area United Fund showed a six per cent "bonus" in the annual campaign. A total of $822,581, an all-time record in pledges and collections, was reported at a noon victory luncheon today by E. M. Estes, who predicted the $776,700 goal would be topped. Continuing to hold up their end of the campaign are (from left) Chairmen Robert Critchfield, advanced gifts; Stuart Whitfield, commercial; Earl A. Maxwell, industrial; Mrs. William Brace, women's; and George S. Stephens, publicity. Adding punctuation are the Torchy Twins Jeanine and Janice Willockx, holding up the comma.

Chief of Drive Lauds Workers for New Mark

1963 Pledges Exceed by 10 Per Cent the Total Hit Last Year

E. M. Estes, campaign general chairman, noted the drive went well over the original $776,700 goal.

"This campaign has been successful beyond all expectations," he happily announced to over 300 United Fund volunteer workers attending a victory luncheon at Elks Temple.

The amount pledged this year exceeds by 10 per cent the $756,422 reported last year, Estes said. This brings to $8.75 million the total United Fund has collected since the first drive in 1949.

He stated one of the primary factors for the campaign's success was industrial division solicitations directed by Earl A. Maxwell. This unit raised over $50,000 above its goal.

★ ★ ★

Final totals show major local industrial firms and their employes contributed $571,410, or 109 per cent of the assigned quota.

COMMERCE DIVISION

Commercial division volunteers under chairman Stuart Whitfield collected pledges of $207,987 from small and medium size business firms and their employes, professional, school and government workers.

Final total on the women's division campaign, headed by Mrs. William Brace, shows $32,679 was raised. This was 109 per cent of the division's goal.

In another highlight of today's luncheon, United Fund President Glenn H. Griffin presented plaques to three former fund presidents.

★ ★ ★

Honored were Harold A. Fitzgerald, publisher of The Pontiac Press; William B. Hartman, local attorney, and businessman Leonard T. Lewis.

Robert Emerick, director of Pontiac Motor Division public relations, served as master of ceremonies. The luncheon was sponsored by The Pontiac Press, S. S. Kresge Co., J. L. Hudson Co., and Pontiac Varnish Co.

Soviets Back Down; 2 Convoys Cleared

BERLIN (AP)—The Russians cleared large Berlin-bound French and British convoys through highway checkpoints without harassment today. The action was considered a Soviet backdown in the face of Western Allied firmness.

The French military convoy cleared the Soviet checkpoint at Marienborn at the western end of the autobahn to begin the 110-mile journey across Communist East Germany to Berlin. The British convoy was right behind.

A U.S. convoy was cleared earlier, but it consisted of only six vehcicles and eight men — not large enough to cause the Russians to demand a headcount.

The French convoy had 10 vehicles and 47 men. It took an hour to clear the Marienborn checkpoint, about twice the normal time. There was no explanation of the delay, but a French spokesman said soldiers in the convoy did not dismount and were not asked to.

★ ★ ★

A Soviet demand that 4 men in a U.S. convoy dismount and be counted touched off a serious crisis Monday. The convoy finally was allowed to proceed to Berlin on Wednesday.

WARNING GIVEN

Premier Khrushchev has warned there will be more such holdups on the autobahn unless the Western convoys conform to what he calls normal Soviet checking procedure.

The western powers maintain they have a right to unrestricted travel along the autobahn. They refuse to permit soldiers in their convoys to dismount for counting unless there are more than 30 passengers plus a driver and co-driver for each vehicle.

Like the U.S. and French convoys, the British convoy leaving West Germany today is in the nondismountable category. There are 43 men in eight vehicles.

In Bonn, the West German capital, the government announced that U.S. Under Secretary of State George W. Ball will arrive Sunday to discuss the autobahn incident with West German leaders.

Ball will meet with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard, Defense Minister Kai-Uwe Von Hassel, and former Chancellor Konrad Adenauer.

The West German government has taken a serious view of the latest autobahn incident and said it endangers future efforts toward easing East-West tensions.

U. S. Execs Leave Russia

24 Business Chiefs Mull Nikita's Words

MOSCOW (AP)—Twenty touring American capitalists flew to Berlin today, their ears ringing with Soviet Premier Khrushchev's pronouncements on war and peace, economic supremacy, revolutions and Wall Street.

The businessmen, who head some of America's leading corporations, created something of a stir in Moscow by meeting Khrushchev three times, in his office upon their arrival on Wednesday and at two receptions yesterday. Each encounter produced headlines.

At a reception on the anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, Khrushchev told the businessmen the Soviet Union would surpass the United States in seven years.

Later, he appeared at a hotel party for the Americans and proposed a toast to investment capital. He suggested that the Americans invest in the Soviet Union.

'GOOD INTEREST'

"You will get a good interest rate and you will get your capital back when you want it," he said.

He told Chauncey W. Cook, president of the General Foods Corp., "I got the news today that the grain dealers in America have made a reasonable approach and perhaps we can reach agreement after all."

Wednesday, he said the grain deal might fall through because of high American shipping rates.

The businessmen grouped around Khrushchev at the gathering of about 2,000 persons commemorating the Bolshevik uprising. The Communist Chinese ambassador, Pan Tsu-li, stood apart and the Soviet premier ignored him.

Senate Shuns JFK, Bans Aid to Yugoslavia, U.A.R.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Turning its back on the White House and on its own leaders, the Senate has voted to ban aid to Yugoslavia and the United Arab Republic.

Administration wishes for a free hand were trammeled on yesterday as the Senate put these prohibitions into the foreign aid bill and approved another amendment to keep the lid on assistance to Indonesia.

★ ★ ★

Administration forces clearly were reeling as the Senate closed up shop after its first night session since taking up foreign aid a week ago Monday.

ROCKY ROAD

The slow and rocky road to passage of the $3,742,365,000 measure is strewn with 47 additional amendments, aimed either at paring the authorization or restricting how the funds be used.

Administration forces plan to fight later to restore the President's discretion to provide most favored nation trade treatment for Yugoslavia and Poland, barred last year by Congress.

But Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., is ready with an amendment to cut off all aid to Communist Yugoslavia except for some surplus food and for assistance to American schools, hospitals and libraries.

And Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D-Ohio, said he will offer an amendment to wipe out completely the President's discretion to aid any Communist country under any circumstance.

By JIM DYGERT

While his mother sobbed, his stepfather did the talking. And 16-year-old Charles R. Morris yesterday sat silent at a preliminary county Juvenile Court hearing in his fatal shooting of a young stranger Wednesday.

A problem boy familiar to Juvenile Court authorities, the Walled Lake youth showed little emotion. Charles added nothing to earlier statements that he shot 18-year-old Kenneth Beebe because he wanted himself to be killed.

Beebe, of 46759 Vineyard, Shelby Township, a construction worker, was slain shortly after 1 p.m. The fatal bullet, third fired from a 32-caliber deer rifle, came from a second-floor window of the Morris boy's home at 920 Ladd.

Probate Court Judge Norman R. Barnard set Nov. 19 for another hearing. He then will rule on a prosecutor's petition for a waiver to permit the boy to be tried as an adult.

Charles was returned to the county jail after the hearing.

Oakland County Senior Assistant Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry said he had not decided whether to issue an order for a first-degree murder warrant before Barnard's ruling on his petition.

★ ★ ★

In the meantime, Juvenile Court Casework Supervisor Wallace C. Crane, who attended yesterday's hearing, and court psychologists will probe into the boy's past and examine him before making recommendations to Barnard.

IN COURT RECORDS

A good part of the boy's story is already in the court's records. Charles has been in and out of trouble for years.

Walled Lake Police Chief James A. Decker, who also was at the hearing along with Sheriff's Detective Ray Bills, said he told juvenile authori-

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will cut its B47 jet bomber force in England by 19 planes and turn over two British bases to the Royal Air Force by next July 1, the Defense Department announced today.

Overpayment, Farnum Says

Officials of County in Auditor's Charge

The State Attorney General's Office is studying a new report by Aud. Gen. Billie S. Farnum, alleging Oakland County officials have been overpaid $13,970.

Spokesmen said the office will determine if any legal action should be taken.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan, denied his office was launching any legal investigation in the county.

Farnum's report includes $9,470 in alleged overpayments mentioned in an earlier report on the county's 1960 finances. The new report, extending through 1961, charges additional overpayments of $4,500, for a total of $13,970.

EARLIER REPORT

Cohan couldn't recall the disposition of Farnum's earlier report after it was submitted to the attorney general for possible legal action.

The additional $4,500 referred to now by Farnum covers mostly the same sort of payments reported for 1960 which Farnum alleged were improper.

★ ★ ★

County officials named in the latest report again deny any wrongdoing.

THE CHARGES

Again, Farnum charges Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors, Drain Commissioner Daniel Barry and former County Supervisor John Semann were overpaid.

Farnum said Hamlin was illegally paid $25 a meeting when state law limited a supervisor's per diem to $15.

Hamlin said he never asked for the increase, which was approved by the board of supervisors because members agreed that his efforts were worth more.

County Corp. Counsel Robert Allen said the board of supervisors acted within its rights because statutes never covered the chairman's pay, and that permission for extra payment has since been spelled out in new statutes.

TO TAKE OPINION

Hamlin said he would abide by the opinion of the county's

U.S. Hurries to Recognize Viet Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States hurried its recognition of South Viet Nam's new government on the urging of U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, officials said today.

Along with the recognition yesterday, U.S. officials immediately began considering resumption of foreign aid which had been throttled down in an effort to force the old Diem regime to ease its anti-Buddhist campaign.

Lodge urged a speed-up in the U.S. recognition procedure primarily because of increased Communist operations against the provisional government that seized power last weekend, officials said.

The Saigon regime announced that Communist Viet Cong agents were infiltrating the capital city in an attempt to create disorder which could be blamed on the government changeover.

The United States followed Great Britain's lead in bestowing recognition to the new regime less than a week after the military coup that toppled President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Romney, Dems Talk Taxes

LANSING — Fiscal reform — but not necessarily Gov. Romney's brand — was still a live issue in the legislature today after he and the Democrats finally broke the ice in getting together.

Whether the meeting develops into a working coalition of Democrats and Republicans strong enough to basically change Michigan's tax structure depends on Democratic caucuses Monday night.

Romney decisively ended a protocol standoff yesterday when he stalked from his office into the Senate, shook the hand of the House's top Democrat, and said he'd been told "a personal invitation from me might help."

It did.

Minutes later, House Democratic leader Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, and Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, the top elected Democrat, were in the Republican governor's office.

The result was a written commitment from Romney to the Democrats "to meet on any basis on which you want to meet at the earliest possible time for the purpose of considering a satisfactory program of basic tax reform."

★ ★ ★

Lesinski called it "the first real sign of cooperation" but he and Kowalski said Tuesday at 10 a.m. probably would be the earliest a formal session with Romney could be set up.

ADJOURNED FOR WEEKEND

The legislature adjourned for the weekend yesterday while letters flew between the offices of Lesinski and Romney. The letters had these words in common: "Time is of the essence."

Lawmakers will return Monday night — three months to the day from the start of the special session — with Romney's program half-dead in the Senate and bottled up in the House.

Lesinski Wednesday announced the Democrats would form informal committees to work with Republican legislative leaders — he did not name Romney — to "salvage" fiscal reform.

He said then that Romney was "not the man to deal with," but today after getting Romney's invitation said the governor "may be awakening to reality."

The possibility of the afternoon meeting seemed to have dissolved when Lesinski said "I

Baker Faces Third Probe Over His D. C. Tax Status

WASHINGTON (AP) — The District of Columbia has started its own investigation of Robert G. Baker, former secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority.

A district tax official said Thursday that a probe is under way of the tax status of all persons reported to have been involved in business ventures with Baker.

★ ★ ★

It was his extensive outside business interests that brought about the current Senate investigation of Baker, who resigned Oct. 7 after allegations he was using his Senate job to promote his own dealings.

The FBI and Internal Revenue Service have also announced they are looking into his affairs.

NOTHING ON FILE

Leo J. Ehrig Jr., supervisor of the income and franchise section of the district's finance office, said Thursday that Baker has until Nov. 18 to explain why he and his wife have not filed district income tax returns.

He said a survey going back to 1955 failed to uncover returns by either of the Bakers. Mrs. Baker was also on the Senate payroll.

Baker and his family were living in an expensive house in the district—although he was not listed as the owner of record—and he owned a townhouse in which his former secretary was living.

Officials of Federal Housing Administration said Baker once sought a review of the FHA's rejection of an apartment project in Puerto Rico and also asked about a job for a friend. He was turned down in both instances, the FHA said.

★ ★ ★

Staff members said Baker never tried to apply any pressure.

Charles twice was confined to the county Children's Center, once on his 13th birthday for breaking into a policeman's home and slashing his uniform, and again last year for breaking into a market.

★ ★ ★

He had numerous other scrapes with the law and twice was brought into Juvenile Court for home incorrigilibity.

A neighbor, whose wife heard the shots Wednesday and saw the wounded Beebe, said Charles sometimes responded to offers of help, "but if it involved any work, he wasn't interested."

What apparently triggered the boy's drastic move, according to police, was his despondency at being forbidden to see a 16-year-old girl friend. He ran away with her six weeks ago in an unsuccessful marriage attempt.

The boy, who talked freely to police after his arrest, said he "wanted to shoot someone so the police would come and kill me."

★ ★ ★

But Charles made no effort to shoot it out with police, although he locked himself in his house where police later confiscated a total of seven guns.

POLICE AT BAY

The boy's mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wager, spent 15 minutes privately with Judge Barnard after yesterday's hearing.

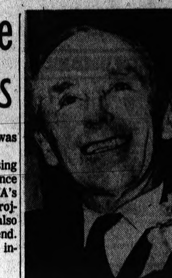
★ ★ ★

Decker said one of the first reactions to the killing by the stepfather, a factory worker, was to ask when he would get back his guns since "it's near deer-hunting season."



DOUGLAS-HOME

Sir Alec Wins Commons Seat

PERTH, Scotland (AP)—British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home won a seat in the House of Commons today by a whopping 9,328-vote margin which he hoped would take some sting out of a bad Conservative party defeat in another special election.

Defeat of the prime minister in the safe Conservative district of Kinross and West Perthshire would have been an unprecedented disaster for the Conservatives and would have plunged Briain into a government crisis.

★ ★ ★

The Perthshire vote was Douglas-Home, 14,147; Alastair Duncan Millar, Liberal, 4,819; Andrew Forrester, Laborite 3,752; Arthur Donaldson, Scottish Nationalist, 1,801; Ian Smith, Independent, 78; William Rushton, Independent, 45; and Richard Wort, Independent, 23.

In a three-sided race in the 1959 general election, the Conservatives won the district by a 12,000-vote margin. No one had expected them to come anywhere near that figure this time.

He and Kowalski were discussing it when at least three persons — a reporter, a Democrat staff member and a Republican lawmaker's assistant — hurried into Romney's office to say the two Democrats were talking in the Senate chamber, not 50 yards distant.

Romney made the walk, confronted the surprised Kowalski, invited him, and returned to his office. Lesinski took Kowalski's arm and the two followed Romney.

The Tuesday meeting, if Democrats approve in caucus, could turn out to be too big for Romney's office.

MODIFIED PROGRAM

Earlier, Romney said he was willing to modify his tax reform program with either of two plans proposed yesterday for solving Detroit and Wayne Coutny fiscal problems.

In a meeting with Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and other officials, Romney said, general agreement was reached that a plan should be used which would not reduce Detroit tax revenues but which would meet Wayne County needs.

Both plans now under consideration — and to be discussed with legislators next week — involve a shifting of the $10.8-million Detroit welfare burden to Wayne County.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, the county would be furnished with methods of raising new revenues to absorb the welfare burden and to meet all other needs in addition to paying off a deficit of about $28 million.

RIGHT TO LEVY

Under one plan, originally put forth by a subcommittee of the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, Wayne County would be given the right to levy and non-property taxes not pre-empted by the state except an income tax.

Under the second plan, the state would help Wayne County by assuming responsibility for 50 per cent of the total welfare cost up to one mill of taxation and all welfare costs beyond one mill, or either way, whichever would be most favorable to the county.

Charge by Farnum of Overpayments

Barry said Farnum was confusing money paid to him by 14 communities in Southeastern Oakland County while acting as their district drain agent with his salary as county drain commissioner.

Barry was paid an additional $2,400 as the agent in 1960 and '61. The money doesn't come from county funds, he said.

Semann, who has since been appointed a Lansing lobbyist by the board of supervisors said he didn't know of any irregularities in his case.

SIDE OF STORY

"I haven't seen the report," he said. "My side of the story will have to wait until after I see it, and have a chance to confer with legal counsel."

Barry denied as entirely false a Farnum allegation that drain funds were used to buy a car for County Treasurer Charles Sparks.

"The treasurer has the use of a car from our motor pool when carrying out financial transactions for the drain board," said Barry.

County officials said there was nothing new in Farnum's latest report. They wanted to know what happened to his earlier report.

Cohan said he was checking the disposition of that.

Church Youth Group Launches Toy Drive

BIRMINGHAM—The Walther League, a youth group at Redeemer Lutheran Church, 1800 W. Maple, has launched a toy drive.

New and used toys are being solicited for distribution to underprivileged children in Detroit and area suburbs at Christmas.

The group plans to make the necessary repairs and wrap the toys. Deadline for submitting toys is Dec. 8.

The Birmingham Recreation Department needs one more sponsor for a boys' juvenile hockey team. Local businesses have sponsored all but one of the four teams in the recreation league.

The hockey league also needs more coaches and assistants.

Approximately 150 teachers, consultants and high school principals were to attend a foreign language workshop today at Birmingham Groves High School.

Sponsored by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction, workshop was to feature demonstration classes.

The object of the workshop was to show teachers new methods and materials in teaching foreign languages.

Two area residents, Mrs. Vernon L. Venman of Birmingham and Charles MacMahon of Bloomfield Township are participating in plans for the 1964 Michigan Week celebration.

MacMahon, 3248 Woodside, heads the architecture committee of the cultural activities board. Mrs. Venman, 499 N. Eton, is chairman of the music committee.

Prayers to Be Stopped at 2 Lansing Schools

LANSING (AP) — Prayers have been ordered stopped at two Lansing schools as a result of a protest by the Greater Lansing branch of the American Civil Liberties Union.

School Supt. Forrest Averill said the schools involved were the Moores Park Elementary School and the Walter French Junior High. He said he had ordered prayers stopped at both schools.

Grudging House OKs Debt Limit Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the news from Washington:

DEBT: For the third time this year, the House Thursday grudgingly approved a temporary increase in the national debt limit, but only after throwing a scare into administration leaders.

The 187-179 vote that sent the legislation for a $315-billion ceiling to a more sympathetic Senate showed 147 Republicans and 32 Democrats opposing the increase and 187 Democrats supporting it.

Six months ago, the House voted a debt increase to $309 billion by a nine-vote margin. In August it continued the $309-billion top until the end of this month.

CEILING DROP

Without the pending extension, the ceiling would drop to $285 billion on Nov. 30.

The bill would hike the ceiling to $315 billion until next June 29 and then drop it to $309 billion until next July 1.

Before sending the measure to the Senate, the House turned down a Republican attempt to shuttle it back to the Ways and Means Committee for downward revision to around $311 billion.

NITZE: The Senate Armed Services Committee put Paul H. Nitze through the wringer on Thursday and then delayed for a week a vote on his nomination by President Kennedy to be secretary of the Navy.

The three-hour hearing took some stormy turns; Although witnesses usually are not sworn, midway through the session, Nitze was at the request of Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., who demanded he "tell the truth and nothing but the truth."

Nitze told the senators that he never advocated the United States turn its Strategic Air Command over to U.N. control. He said he tossed the idea into a national strategy seminar sponsored by the Stanford Research Institute in 1960 to "stimulate thought and discussion."

Nitze, now assistant secretary of defense for international security affairs, also declared himself opposed to any policy of appeasement toward the Soviet Union, the recognition of Red China, termination of the military draft law and unilateral disarmament.

Chairman Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., said he had been asked to put off the vote on Nitze's nomination until next week. Russell said Nitze would be recalled only if other senators want to question him further.

ON THE MEND: Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif., was released Wednesday from the Naval Hospital at Bethesda, Md., where he was treated for a brain tumor.

It will be some time before Engle is back at his desk, the senator's physician, Dr. Roy Sexton, said Thursday, "but he plans to maintain daily contact with his staff, and operations in his office will go forward on a 'business as usual basis.'"

★ ★ ★

Sexton said Engle's general health is good. He will recuperate at his Washington home and will receive physiotherapy to strengthen his right arm and leg.
