$35,000 OK'd to Aid Hospital at Northville

To Improve Security; 11 Children Returned After Mass Escape

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney has approved a $35,000 emergency expenditure to tighten security and make security repairs of a building housing emotionally disturbed children at Northville State Hospital.

Charles F. Wagg, assistant director of the State Mental Health Department, said 11 of the 80 children at the hospital staged a mass escape two weekends ago, and other single escapes have occurred since. All were safely returned to the hospital, he added.

Romney said $10,000 would be appropriated from an emergency fund to purchase security - type window screens.

The repairs could be paid for by transferring $25,000 from various categories of the hospital's operating budget, he said.

Wagg said the children escaped by simply opening large windows in a building not intended for security and walking off the grounds.

NOT DANGEROUS

While they are not dangerous to others "the children might endanger themselves in a community because they usually are under heavy medication," Wagg said.

Romney also asked the State Department of Mental Health to review the total program in the children's unit at Northville, and advise him as to further action needed to improve the program and prevent reoccurrences of the present emergency.

Romney said the children also had damaged equipment and fixtures in the 10-year-old building, designed for use of more passive patients.

"The children seem to want to add to the deterioration when they notice something has started to go," he said.

Romney noted that the children will be transferred out of such temporary facilities as Northville when a $5.6-million state hospital construction program is completed by mid-1968.

N. Viets Reply to Appeal by Red Cross Unit

Say Captured Enemy Pilots Will Be Treated as War Criminals

GENEVA (AP) — North Viet Nam has informed the International Red Cross Committee that all enemy pilots captured on its territory will be treated as war criminals.

The Communist government made its statement in a letter dated Aug. 31.

The letter which the Red Cross disclosed today, answered a Red Cross appeal to the warring powers in Viet Nam to observe the Geneva convention for the protection of prisoners and civilian population.

The North Vietnamese answer charged that air and naval bombing of its territory has been "deliberately" directed against such objectives as hospitals, schools and villages.

★ ★ ★

Consequently, the Hanoi government told the Red Cross, all captured enemy pilots will be considered war criminals and will be tried by tribunals.

'WELL-TREATED'

North Viet Nam added in its letter that the prisoners "are well-treated" — presumably while awaiting trial.

The Red Cross said it has notified the United States and South Vietnamese governments of North Vietnamese charges of indiscriminate bombings, and the U. S. State Department has informed the Red Cross that it has no proof of American air attacks on installations marked visibly with the sign of Red Cross.

The Hanoi government also told the Red Cross that authorization for prisoners to correspond with their families has been temporarily suspended due to violations of correspondence regulations.

★ ★ ★

The Red Cross Committee, an all-Swiss body, said it has asked North Vietnamese authorities for a list of American and South Vietnamese prisoners and about the possibility to visiting them. There has been no reply, the Red Cross said.

★ ★ ★

The disclosure of North Viet Nam's plan to treat American and South Vietnamese pilots as war criminals came on the heels of Viet Cong guerrilla execution Sunday of two Americans.

Buick Foresees Success in '65

Year May Wind Up Second Only to 1955

DETROIT (AP) — Buick officials predicted Tuesday that 1965 would wind up as one of the most successful years in Buick's 62-year history with more of the same to come in 1966.

Robert L. Kessler, General Motors vice president and general manager of its Buick Division, said 1965 output of about 650,000 cars would be second only to the 781,296 built in 1955.

"To date this year we have sold approximately 430,000 cars—about 21 per cent more than last year—and we did not reach that same figure until the latter part of November last year," Kessler said.

Kessler said the cleanup of 1965 models was going very well and "if sales continue at the present rate, we do not expect to have more than a normal number of 1965 models to carry over into the new year."

Referring to the ever increasing number of options available to car buyers, Kessler said:

★ ★ ★

"I think I can safely say we could tailormake a car for every Buick customer for the next decade and never come up with two cars exactly alike. This is the kind of market we are in today and we have to have this flexibility."

TALKS TO NEWSMEN

In a question and answer session with 200 newsmen at Buick's national press preview, Kessler said Buick has "no plans now for any front-wheel drive car—not even plan 1."

City Prepares to Sell Land to Scrap Yard

The city moved last night to sell 35 acres of former Pontiac Township land to a local scrap yard firm.

City Attorney Philip E. Rowston was authorized by the City Commission to prepare a 10-year land contract for the sale of property to Sam Allen & Sons, Inc., 22 Congress.

The land is part of a 212-acre parcel the city recently purchased and annexed along the city's northern boundary.

Rowston, who conducted negotiations with the Allen firm and their attorney, L. Harvey Lodge, reported that the sale price would be $99,778.

★ ★ ★

Terms of the contract call for the scrap yard firm to transfer to the city some 22.7 acres of land currently owned by the firm.

ADJACENT ACRES

The 22.7 acres is adjacent to the balance of the 212 acres that the city acquired for a sanitary land-fill site.

The scrap yard operators will be credited with $38,000 for the 22.7 acres being transferred to the city, leaving a balance of $83,778 on the 10-year land contract.

The land being purchased by the firm is located south of Collier and east of the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks.

★ ★ ★

REZONING NEEDED

The land sale is subject to the Allen property being rezoned to manufacturing-3.

Commission action on the land sale followed the reading last night of a bill of complaint filed in a Circuit Court suit by Pontiac Township Supervisor Leonard Terry and two township residents.

The suit seeks to overturn the city's annexation of the former township land, and it alleges that the state law is unconstitutional.

★ ★ ★

Meantime, Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson said last night that the city's action was tentative until a detailed plot plan was presented at a public hearing on the rezoning Oct. 12.

House Acts on Tax Plan, OKs Agenda

LANSING (AP) — With an agenda agreed to and a controversial graduated income tax proposal on the House floor, the legislature today began to improve its slow pace of the first two autumn session weeks.

A proposal to amend the State Constitution to permit a graduated income tax came under consideration right after an agenda was approved.

Meanwhile, House Democrats moved to add several items to the agenda.

Gov. George Romney promptly called the graduated tax proposal an "alibi and excuse" for the House's refusal to act this fall on the tax package the governor supports

★ ★ ★

The House Committee on revision and implementation of the Constitution reported out the amendment on a 6-3 party line vote, Democrats favoring it.

FLAT RATE TAX

Democrats contend a flat rate income tax as proposed in the Romney-supported tax plan would be inequitable.

Romney says taxes should be dealt with now and would be no bar to future changes in tax structure.

If the amendment is approved by two-thirds of the Senate and two-thirds of the House, it would go to the public in the November 1966 election.

Volcano Isle Devastated; Death Toll Stands at 145

TANAUAN, The Philippines (UPI) — Daring teams of rescue workers landed today on the volcano island of Taal and found only a smoking sea of lava, ash and mud on the south shore where three villages housing 1,300 persons once stood.

The volcano, which had lain dormant in the center of Lake Taal, 35 miles south of Manila, for half a century, erupted yesterday with a cataclysmic explosion that turned the night into a hell of fire, punctuated with lightning from the blinding tropical storm it produced.

The entire southern half of the 3-by-5-mile island was covered with lava and Filipino officials reported more than 1,000 persons still unaccounted for. The Red Cross and the Social Welfare Administration said 145 bodies were recovered and "many persons" listed as missing. No Americans were reported to have been in the disaster area.

The volcano still rumbled today and spewed out steaming ash and curls of smoke thousands of feet into the air every five or 10 minutes. Scientists set up a new seismograph station on the island today to warn of even greater explosions feared at any time.

One team of scientists landing on the island today was led by

Living-Cost Drop Biggest in 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drop in food prices cut living costs two-tenths of one per cent in August — the biggest decline in nearly three years, the Labor Department said today.

Housing and transportation costs also showed slight declines, but clothing and medical care went up.

The two-tenths of one per cent drop in the government's consumer price index brought it down to 110.0 per cent of its 1957-59 average.

This means that typical family consumer items that cost $10 in 1957-59 cost $11 in August.

The drop in living costs was the first downward move since August of last year.

Says Exiles Can Pick Them Up

Cubans With Kin in U.S. Free to Go—Fidel

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro appears to be opening channels of exit and entry for both Cubans with relatives in the United States, and those in the United States who want to come back to look for their kin.

Castro said in a speech last night that any Cubans with relatives in the United States can leave Cuba after Oct. 10.

He said boats would be provided to take would-be refugees out of the country and promised "they will undergo no risk."

The official version of the speech, published in Havana papers today, added that anyone in the United States who has relatives in Cuba "could come in a ship, no matter who it is, with all guarantees if they advise us ahead of time by correspondence."

"And if they want they can have 48 hours in port so they can inform their relatives they have come to look for them and so they can take them back by a sure way."

PUT AN END

The official version of the speech, which Castro had delivered extemporaneously, said this would be done to put an end to "imperialist propaganda" that Cuba keeps people from leaving.

Castro was quoted as saying the port and boats will be provided so that Cubans in the United States with relatives here "will be taking no risks of any kind."

Castro also promised to clear up the mystery of Maj. Ernesto Guevara in a few days.

★ ★ ★

He devoted part of his speech to an attack on the National Urban Reform Agency, blaming counter revolutionaries as a source of administrative chaos.

The agency is charged with assigning living quarters, collecting rents and over-all guidance of state-owned housing.

FIDEL CASTRO

Run in turn by several men, it was recently turned over to Justice Minister Alfredo Yabur for reorganization.

Though Cuba has done little significant building of housing since he came to power in 1959, Castro said 1,200,000 new dwellings would be needed by 1975. He estimated the Cuban population then will be 10 million.

He blamed "the imperialists," his term for the United States, for blocking normal routes for Cubans wishing to leave the country since the October 1962 missile crisis.

"Now they are leaving in small boats, many of them drowning," Castro said, "and they (the Americans) use this as propaganda."

He added: "Now those who want to leave can leave because there are many here remaining who struggle for the people."

Castro repeated that it was not his government that has been preventing the exit of Cubans. "Now we shall see what the imperialists will do or say," he said.

COULD APPLY

The prime minister said that beginning Oct. 10 any Cuban with relatives in the United States who wanted to leave Cuba for that country could apply to the Interior Ministry.

"Nobody who wants to go need go by stealth," he declared.

He said he would set up port facilities at Camarioca, in Matanzas Province, and ship out those who wanted to leave, "not in our fishing boats but maybe in small luxury craft."

★ ★ ★

He indicated he expected friends and refugees of the relatives to arrange for them to be picked up a certain distance from Cuba but did not spell this out.

Truce Outlook Remains Dim

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The outlook for the India-Pakistan cease-fire remained bleak today as both sides made new demands and neither showed any sign of withdrawing from positions seized during their undeclared war.

A spokesman for the Indian Foreign Office said the withdrawal of armed personnel should include an estimated 3,000 guerrillas the Indians claim Pakistan trained, equipped and sent into the Indian sector of Kashmir for subversion and sabotage.

Pakistan has denied the Indian claim, contending that the guerrillas whose operations touched off the war are Kashmir nationalists fighting for freedom from Indian control.

Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told newsmen the most urgent task facing the U.N. Security Council "is to ask Pakistan to desist from its declared path of aggression."

Shastri said Pakistan had been threatening in the Security Council to unleash a wide conflagration if its desires were not met. He said India had accepted the cease-fire voted by the council "in complete good faith, unconditionally but not unilaterally."

Shastri said Indian forces were under strict orders not to violate the cease-fire, but he added: "Indian forces are under instructions to defend themselves wherever and whenever attacked by Pakistan."

Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto, speaking to the U.N. General Assembly in New York, proposed that both Indian and Pakistani forces in Kashmir be replaced by a U.N. peace force as the prelude to a plebiscite to determine the future of the disputed Himalayan state.

Bhutto repeated that Pakistan would consider withdrawing from the United Nations — if the Security Council did not work out a permanent solution of the 18-year-old Kashmir dispute within a reasonable time.

Shastri already has said that India would not agree to a U.N. peace force, and that India is adamantly opposed to a plebiscite in Kashmir. Most of the state's people are Moslems and the Indians assume they would vote for independence from Hindu-dominated India or union with Moslem Pakistan.

U.N. Secretary General U Thant reported that almost 200 U.N. military observers had arrived or were on their way to serve with the U.N. observer corps charged with enforcing the cease-fire.

Forecasters Downgrade Storm Debbie

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Forecasters downgraded Debbie from tropical storm rating today and ordered warnings generally lowered.

But the Weather Bureau said winds of 25 to 35 miles an hour in squalls were expected on or near the Gulf of Mexico coast from Mississippi Sound to Apalachicola, Fla., during the day.

Tides of two to four feet will fall slowly, the Weather Bureau said in the noon advisory which it said was the last scheduled on Debbie.

* * *

The Washington Weather Bureau issued a final advisory on Hurricane Carol, howling over the eastern Atlantic.

Carol was expected to move northeast from its position about 360 miles west of the Azores Islands, raking the westernmost islands with winds up to 60 miles an hour.

CENTER LOCATED

Debbie's "ill-defined" center was about 115 miles south-southwest of Mobile, Ala., at the time of the last planned advisory on the storm that meandered north from the western Caribbean. Debbie was forecast to continue weakening, then move northeastward with heavy showers into northwest Florida tonight and into southern Georgia Thursday.

Lesser Charge in Gun Killing

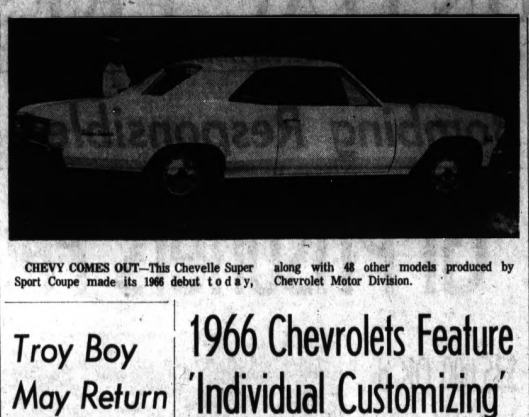

Luther Curry, 16-year-old Pontiac youth accused of the fatal shooting of his brother-in-law, was bound over to Circuit Court today on a reduced charge of second-degree murder.

Curry of 317 Hughes furnished $500 bond and was released following his examination by Municipal Court Judge Maurice Finnegan.

The defendant was originally charged with first-degree murder last week. Circuit Court arraignment was set for Oct. 7.

Curry had been in custody at Oakland County Jail since shortly after the shooting.

Victim of the shooting was Hasting Martin, 25, of 459 Highland, found dead on a city street Sept. 11.

Troy Boy May Return Tomorrow

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A juvenile court judge said today a mute, mentally retarded teenager abandoned in Miami a week ago probably will be returned to Michigan Thursday.

Judge Ben Sheppard said he would make his decision at a hearing this afternoon after meeting with the parents of 13-year-old Richard Thorne.

The parents have been charged with neglect.

The boy's father, Victor, 48, of 2435 Dalesford, Troy, left Detroit by air for Miami Tuesday night shortly after the charges were filed against him and his wife, Maynie, 44.

Thorne, foreman of a tool and die plant in suburban Detroit, said Sheppard had assured him by phone he would be given custody of Richard.

* * *

But the judge and juvenile officials in Pontiac, Mich., where the charges were made in Juvenile Court yesterday, said no decision had been reached.

LABELS SNIPPED

A search for Richard's parents was started after he was found at Miami International Airport last week with only three cents in his pockets and labels snipped from his clothing.

Mrs. Thorne admitted she left her son at the airport last Tuesday and said she does not want him back.

In Pontiac, Lynn G. Kellogg, Michigan's deputy welfare director, said the neglect charges were filed "in order that we can get jurisdiction and bring the boy back to Michigan."

He added: "What we're trying to do is not to publicize and prosecute the parents but work out a plan to help them and the child.

AT YOUTH HOME

"The boy can be thoroughly examined by doctors at the Oakland County youth home and a decision made as to whether he should be placed in a training school, foster care or someplace else."

Mrs. Thorne returned to Miami Sunday night from Chicago, where she had gone with her husband on a business trip.

She underwent court-ordered psychiatric tests upon her return.

Deputy Tells of Admission in Death Trial

An Oakland County Sheriff's deputy yesterday testified that a Detroit man, on trial for first-degree murder, admitted fatally stabbing a fellow worker in West Bloomfield Township.

"I stuck him, I stuck him," Deputy Stanley Clark quoted Joseph E. Strawther, 28, as telling him shortly after he arrived at the scene.

The Circuit Court jury is expected to get the case today. Assistant Prosecutor Richard Rossman rested his case yesterday afternoon.

Court-appointed attorney Jerome K. Barry says Strawther was defending himself.

Strawther is accused of killing Quitman Williams, 39, also of Detroit, during an argument over money.

The stabbing occurred July 14 on Lockin Road where the two men were tearing down a home for a lumber company.

Clark said that Strawther had been drinking beer, but that it was his opinion that Strawther wasn't drunk.

Judge William J. Beer is hearing the case.

1966 Chevrolets Feature 'Individual Customizing'

New model options and new color and interior combinations highlight the 1966 Chevrolet, introduced today by Chevrolet Motor Division.

E. M. Estes, Chevrolet general manager, said the new choices would give car buyers the opportunity to "individually customize" any one of 50 models from six passenger car lines.

The 1966 Chevrolet goes on sale Oct. 7 at the following area dealers:

Matthews Hargreaves, Inc., 631 Oakland; Haskins Chevy-Olds, 6751 Dixie, Independence Township; Crissman Chevrolet, 755 S. Rochester, Rochester; Taylor Chevrolet Sales, 142 E. Walled Lake, Walled Lake; Al Hanoute Chevrolet-Buick, 209 N. Park, Lake Orion; Van Camp Chevrolet, Inc., 334 N. Main, Milford; Homer Hight, 160 S. Washington, Oxford; and Patterson Chevrolet Co., 1000 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

The regular Chevrolets have a more powerful appearance, with a forward-thrust to front fenders and bold horizontal bars in the grille. Individual moldings and ornamentation designate each series. All have tail lamps integrated into the rear quarters and deck.

NEW SPRINGS

Structural improvements have been made in both chassis and body. New springs, shock absorbers and softer bushings and body mounts increase riding quality. The 110-inch wheelbase is retained.

The basic six-cylinder engine is increased in displacement from 230 to 250 inches. Six V8s are available, including two new 427-cubic-inch engines. Horsepower range is from 155 to 425 and five basic transmissions are offered.

The 1966 Chevy II is slightly lower and longer and more than 1.5 inches wider than previous models. There are new roof-lines on all sedans and coupes.

* * *

A low, wide appearance is given the front end by a massive front bumper and new aluminum grille with recessed head lamps.

SIDE TREATMENT

The side treatment emphasizes length with a sweeping peak line. A broad, tailored rear deck includes integral backup lamps in the rear fenders.

Length and width of Chevelles are increased approximately one-half inch while the wheelbase remains at 115 inches. Redesigned body panels and front end with wrap-around grille give a longer and lower silhouette.

Rooflines are new for two and four-door sedans.

Seven engines—two sixes and five V8s—are the range of power choices. Horsepower ranges from 120 to the two 396-cubic-inch V8s rated at 325 and 360 horsepower and four transmissions are offered.

THREE SERIES

There are seven models in three series—all either convertibles or two- and four-door hardtops.

Four-rear-mounted, air-cooled, six-cylinder engines are offered with horsepower ranging from 95 to 150, and choice of three-speed, four-speed or Powerglide transmissions.

Corvette is new in the nameplate on the hood, the body side trim, the grille and the wheel covers. There is a special high-domed hood on models with a 427-cubic-inch engine.

* * *

There are two Sting Ray models—a convertible and a sport coupe—on a 98-inch wheelbase.

State Official to Quit 2nd Job

Mayerson Awaits Opinion on 'Conflict'

LANSING (AP) — Insurance Commissioner Allen Mayerson said today he will quit his consultant job with an out-of-state insurance company pending an attorney general's opinion as to whether or not the private connection is a conflict of interest.

Mayerson, appearing before the Senate Insurance Committee, said in a prepared statement that he "based my decision on the need to end once and for all any speculation about my position."

The committee headed by Sen. Bernard O'Brien, D-Detroit, had called in Mayerson to quiz him on his actuarial consulting work with the out-of-state firm.

Mayerson said he had outlined all his business relationships in October 1963, to the Senate Business Committee before he accepted the commissioner's post.

TERMINATED SOME

He said after that discussion he terminated some of the associations but that "the Senate Business Committee and the executive office were satisfied that the few business relationships remaining were technical in nature and did not involve any direct or indirect connection with the management of the affairs of any insurer.

"My work situation has not changed since that time," he said.

He said because it has been charged in recent weeks that the 1963 interpretation of his work was erroneous, "I am requesting an opinion of the attorney general."

Johnson Signs Arts Aid Bill

Goals of the Program Outlined by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, with a distinguished group of actors, writers, scholars and educators looking on, signed today legislation providing federal aid for the arts.

He announced at the ceremony that the federal government, working with state and local governments as well as private organizations will:

—Create a national repoertory theater to bring ancient and modern classics to audiences all over America.

* * *

—Support a national opera company and a national ballet company.

—Create an American film institute, bringing together leading artists of the film industry, outstanding educators and young men and women who wish to pursue art as their life's work.

NEW WORKS

—Commission new works of music by American composers and support symphony orchestras.

—Bring more distinguished artists to schools and universities by creating grants for their time in residence.

In a speech before signing the legislation, Johnson described art as the nation's most precious heritage.

"For it is in our works of art that we reveal to ourselves and to others the inner version which guides us as a nation," he said.

NO VISION

"For where there is no vision the people perish."

He said America has not always been kind to artists and scholars.

"Somehow," he said, "the scientists always seem to get the penthouse, while the arts and the humanities are down in the basement."

The legislation creates the National Foundation for the Arts and the Humanities to make grants and otherwise stimulate interest in the arts.

LASTING RESULTS

Johnson stressed, however, that the federal government cannot do the job alone. To produce true and lasting results, he said, states and municipalities, schools and private foundations must join forces with the federal government.

The new law makes about $20 million of federal money available for the program in each of the next three years.

Ad Firm Gets Go-Ahead on City's Annual Report

BIRMINGHAM — Preparation of an annual report for public distribution was approved this week by the City Commission.

The report, which will be in the form of a calender, will be designed by the Birmingham advertising firm of Page, Winchester & Connelly, Inc.

The cost of preparing and printing 10,000 copies of the 16-page report has been estimated at $4,100 by the agency.

A week ago the commission turned down a plan to have an annual report prepared because of the high cost. At that time, the Bloomfield Hills advertising firm of MacManus, John & Adams had estimated the cost would vary between $4,500 and $6,500.

* * *

The commission has appropriated $3,000 in the current budget for an annual report.

COMMUNICATIONS

The purpose of the annual report is to improve communications with residents of the city and to give them a better understanding of local government.

It is expected that the annual report will be ready for mailing by Dec. 1.

In another action, the commission approved a $2,500 allocation for the Birmingham Youth Assistance Committee.

The funds will be used for secretarial services and supplies.

Firemen Set to Give City a 'Hot Time'

Fire Prevention Week, which begins Monday, will be highlighted locally next week by a "Fire Fighters Festival" at Wisner Stadium Thursday night.

Fireworks, bands, balloons and clowns are attractions for the festival, which will feature demonstrations by Oakland County firemen of the latest in fire fighting techniques.

Innovations such as high-expansion foam, able to fill a blazing building, and a "slide to life" ride down a 50-foot rope will be shown along with vintage fire fighting equipment—a 1923 Fox pumper truck.

Firemen will also engage in a tug-of-war, with the losers getting pulled through a sheet of water.

The event is cosponsored by Oakland County Firemen and the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Volcano Island Is Devastated

Philippines chief volcanologist Arturo Alcaraz. He reported:

"The southern half of the island is completely covered with thick volcanic ash and mud. All houses there, even the volcanology station, were buried.

* * *

"All vegetation was burned. Eruptions from the crater on the southwestern part of the island near the lakeshore were at every 5 to 10 minutes. Many dead animals are floating in the lake. Human casualties were many but not exactly determined."

SEARING HEAT

The rescue teams could go no closer than half a mile to the volcano itself because of the searing heat.

Because of their warnings of the possibility of a new cataclysm the government declared the towns located on the shoreline of Lake Taal as danger spots.

All residents were being evacuated and the thousands of refugees who had sought shelter there were being moved again to higher areas at least 500 to 1,000 feet above sea level.

* * *

More than 3,000 refugees were crowded into the resort city of Tagaytay perched on a ridge 3,000 feet above the island.

1911 ERUPTION

Tourists visiting there in the past had a breathtaking view of the blue waters of Lake Taal—now a muddy brown—and of the volcano which took an estimated 3,000 lives when it last erupted in 1911.

Estimates of the number of victims differed sharply because of the chaos in the vicinity. Estimates of the number of residents of the volcano isle varied from 2,000 to 6,000. The number who escaped to the mainland was not determined.

But the devastation did center on three villages on the south shore and refugees said that out of an estimated total population of 1,300 in these places only seven families have been accounted for by rescue agencies. Other villages on the island were affected but whereabouts of the villagers was not known.

Brig. Gen. Flaviano Olivares, chief of the Philippine constabulary (national police) reported earlier that 300 persons were officially listed as killed but later said this figure was only an estimate.

ONLY DEVASTATION

A constabulary team led by T/Sgt. J. Calicdan and one headed by Dominador Isreal, principal of a fisheries school located near Taal Lake, visited the island today and found only devastation.

Israel also found a grim scene at Agoncilio Town which is directly opposite the crater on the shoreline about two miles away.

"All the trees and plants at Agoncilio were burned and a thick carpet of mud covered the town," Israel said.

City Moves to Sell Land to Scrap Yard

scaped with appropriate screening, he added.

Negotiations on the planned land sale have been carried out at the direction of Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem, who directed that both sides attempt to reach a settlement.

The scrap yard firm's operations at its current Congress site are the subject of another suit that has been suspended pending the outcome of the sale talks.

The second suit, charging that certain operations at the Congress site are a nuisance, was brought by the city and 15 residents.

'Shot Men Appeared Armed'

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A witness testified today that a white seminarian who was slain and a priest who was wounded tried to enter a country store after they were told it was closed, and that both appeared to have weapons in their hands.

Leon Crocker, who described himself as a domino-playing friend of part-time deputy sheriff, Thomas L. Coleman, the defendant, told the jury that Coleman came out of the store with a shotgun immediately after the shooting. Crocker said he was handed the gun by Coleman.

* * *

The witness said he did not see the shooting. Coleman, 55, a highway engineer, is on trial for manslaughter in the killing of Jonathan M. Daniels, 27, an Episcopal seminary student from Keene, N.H. He also has been charged with the wounding of the Rev. Richard Morrisroe of Chicago, a Roman Catholic priest who was with Daniels when the shooting occurred Aug. 20.

Crocker testified that he was at the grocery when Coleman arrived and when Daniels and the priest walked up accompanied by two Negro women.

"Daniels took the lead and walked up toward the door. I heard Coleman tell him, 'This store is closed for business. You all can't come in,'" Crocker said.

"Coleman told him again the store was closed and Daniels said, 'Are you threatening me?' Coleman said no, he wasn't. Then I heard a shot."

* * *

Crocker said he was seated on a bench outside the store and did not see who fired the gun. He said as far as he knew Coleman was standing in the open door of the store.

The witness told the jury of white men that Father Morrisroe "made a break like he was going in. Just as he made the break and took two or three steps, he twisted to the left. I heard another shot and he fell back against a car, then began to roll and then started to sag to the ground."

NATIONAL WEATHER — Rain is expected tonight for the southeast coast and from the northern Plains through upper Lakes area. Showers are forecast for the central Gulf Coast, northern New England and from the central Mississippi Valley into the Ohio Valley. Snow, rain and drizzle is in store for the central Rockies. It will be milder in the northeast and cooler in the Rockies.

PROPOSED I-696—The State Highway Department today defined the route it proposes for controversial I-696 through South Oakland County. The heavy double lines in the above drawing shows the route of the depressed highway from Lahser Road on the west to just east of Campbell Road in Royal Oak. The circled "X" are interchanges. A public hearing on the proposal will be held 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Ferndale High School.

Hearing Set on Drain Project

Work on the second leg of the Clinton River drain project appears ready to proceed through the Oakland County drain commissioner.

The City Commission last night received notice of a public hearing Oct. 15 on apportionment of the cost of the drain work, which is the second half of a project to improve the Clinton River channel.

The hearing will be held at 10 a.m. in the commission chambers at city hall. The cost of the project is to be split between the city, county and state.

Estimated cost of the work is $2.37-million with the city covering about 97 per cent of the cost.

★ ★ ★

Turned over to the county for construction as a county drain, the river work consists of improvements to go in between Union and Opdyke.

WENT TO COUNTY

Known as the Clinton River Drain Project No. 2, the river work was turned over to the county drain commissioner after the city encountered money problems.

Thus, the work will be handled like the recent Clinton River tunnel project in downtown Pontiac, with the county selling bonds to finance the work and the bonds being retired by a special assessment levied on Pontiac taxpayers.

The assessment would be included with county tax bills.

The river project is keyed to the future M59 freeway construction. River improvements have to be made prior to the highway construction.

PRECEDE BID TAKING

The public hearing Oct. 15 will precede the taking of bids on the river project the same day.

In other business last night, the commission approved a tentative lease with the Waterford Township School District for use of the terminal restaurant at Pontiac Municipal Airport, which has been closed for two months.

The school district will operate the restaurant under a student training program.

★ ★ ★

The city will receive a monthly rental fee running between 2 and 4 per cent of the gross receipts, depending on the total amount of the receipts.

TO BE REVISED

The contract, granted for only 30 days last night, is to be revised to meet objections raised by the attorney for the school district.

Final action was deferred, pending submission of a detailed plot plan, on commercial rezoning for a projected 15-acre shopping center on the north side of the city.

Commissioners held a public hearing on the rezoning, but tabled action on the matter for one week. The area to be rezoned is bounded by Baldwin, the alley north of Montcalm, Terry Lake and the rear of lots on the south side of Merrimac.

★ ★ ★

Also last night, a hearing on necessity was held for construction of a combined sewer on the north side of Kennett, Fairview to Carlisle. The city assessor was directed to prepare the special assessment roll. Total cost is $5,740.

HEARING HELD

A similar hearing was held on construction of a water main in East Sheffield, Highwood to Jaycee park. Total cost was set at $18,260 with the city share equaling $11,080.

A request from S.B.S Builders to vacate an alley north of Mount Clemens from Emerson west was referred to the City Planning Commission.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. requested last night that a meeting be set up with the Bagley-Wessen Block Club to report on intensified police control in the area.

★ ★ ★

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said that city administrators were to meet today on the problems in the Bagley-Wessen area.

TO MEET WITH RESIDENTS

The meeting with residents is for sometime the week of Oct. 10th.

Actions of the city's substandard housing committee were reported last night. Two structures have reachd the demolition stage.

A building at Paddock and Pike has already been torn down and a permit has been issued to tear down a second building at Bagley and Wessen.

Mediator in City Monday to Hear Dispute on Pay

Called to mediate a dispute between the City and the Pontiac Firefighters Association (PFA), a state labor mediator will be in Pontiac Monday to meet with both sides.

Jack Douglas, PFA president, said that he had received notification from Mediator Leonard Bennett that he would hear the fire fighters' dispute.

City officials still do not know when mediators will hear a similar case involving the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA).

The PPOA and PFA have objected to a salary and job reclassification study adopted by the City Commission. The study set up new pay schedules for nearly all of the city's 750 employes.

★ ★ ★

Members of the PFA and PPOA voted to reject the pay plan, charging that the study contained disparities and inadequacies.

$50 PER YEAR

Meeting with city officials, spokesmen for the police and firemen asked for an added $50 per year to put them on par with other cities.

Also, the two employe groups wanted: (1) the same pay for fire engineers that police detectives receive, (2) longevity pay, (3) police captains' pay at the same rate as assistant fire chiefs.

Separate mediation proceedings are expected for talks with the PPOA because that group filed a separate petition.

★ ★ ★

The PFA had previously petitioned the mediation board to settle alleged differences between fire fighters and the city.

Fill Metro Committee

A committee of 100 key leaders from the state's six southeastern counties was named today to work toward solutions of common metropolitan area problems.

Formation of the committee was announced by the Metropolitan Fund, an urban affairs foundation supported by labor, business and industry, in cooperation with the Supervisors Inter-County Committee.

Purpose of the committee will be to review and develop definite proposals for implementation based on recommendations of the recent Metropolitan Fund report on govmental organization in southeast Michigan.

Creators of the committee look upon it as a regional "constitutional convention," the first of its type in the nation.

The committee will seek voluntary discussions of local government leaders to find more effective ways of working together to resolve common problems.

Appointment of the committee provides for appropriate governmental representation from counties, cities, townships and school districts. Most of the appointees are elected officials.

Because of the size of the committee, it will be divided into four subcommittees with three chairmen of each subcommittee serving on an overall coordinating group for the total committee.

Among the dozen coordinators are Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; L. Curtis Potter, Royal Oak mayor; and William Shunck, superintendent of Wayne County Schools and an Oakland County resident.

Other members of this group include Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh and the chairmen of the Macomb and St. Clair county boards of supervisors.

Members of the 12-member coordinating group as well as the entire 100-member committee represent the region's six counties, Oakland, Wayne, Macomb, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Monroe.

All appointments to the 100-member committee have not been confirmed.

The complete list of members will be released next week.

School Grant Goes to AAUW

ROCHESTER — The first grant to help women prepare for careers in higher education has been received by the College Faculty Program of the American Association of University Women.

The $2,000 grant was contributed by the Chrysler Corp. Fund of Highland Park and may be used by college women for graduate study in any subject field leading to a higher education career in teaching, research, or administration.

The gift initiates the Michigan autumn drive for contributions from individuals, business and foundations for this statewide program to prepare Michigan women to meet the state's faculty crisis.

The AAUW program is designed to increase the resource of well - qualified professional personnel for college and university posts.

★ ★ ★

It is estimated that each year for the next 10 years, Michigan will need more than 3,000 new faculty members, 41 per cent for new positions.

GRADUATE WORK

The program seeks able women college graduates 35 years or older who need financial aid to undertake graduate work to prepare for such careers.

The program will provide each recipient with tuition and fees for an academic year plus a personal stipend related to her needs. These stipends can range from $600 to $2,000 for full-time graduate study.

The first grants will be made in the fall of 1966. Applications are due Jan. 15, 1966.

Further details may be obtained by calling Mrs. E. A. Goodwin, 736 Cambridge, or by writing AAUW College Faculty Program, 2401 Virginia Avenue N. W., Washington, D. C.

Rezoning Out in Rose Twp.

Mobile Home Site Issue Loses, 193-127

ROSE TOWNSHIP—Rezoning for the township's second mobile home development was canceled yesterday by a 193-127 vote of property owners.

The turnout represented "quite a big vote" on a local issue in the township which has 695 registered voters, Supervisor C. Milton Nelson said.

Defeated in the referendum election was the request to change from industrial to mobile home classification some 40 acres of property at the end of Cogshall just south of the Holly village limit.

The property had been selected for the site of Bloch Brothers Mobile Home Sites No. 2, adjacent to the first mobile home area developed by the Waterford Township firm.

★ ★ ★

Township board approval of the request in April was followed by the filing of a petition calling for a referendum election. It bore some 209 eligible signatures.

OPPOSED REZONING

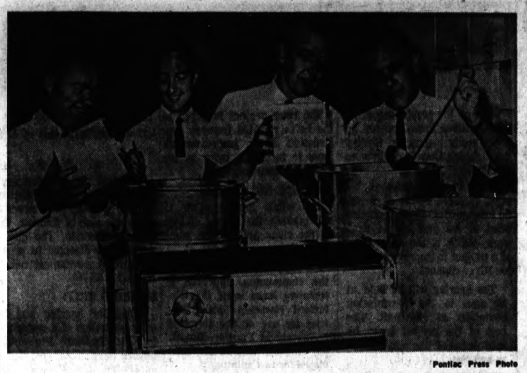

Nelson, who took office after the Township Board action, has been opposed to the rezoning, as have Clerk Mildred J. Jones and Treasurer Esther R. Downing. Trustees Allan Hill and James J. Alexander have voted for it.

In Walled Lake District

3 School Posts Authorized

WALLED LAKE — A new administrative aide and two teachers are to be added to the staff of the Walled Lake School system.

★ ★ ★

Schools Supt. George Garver has asked for and received board of education authorization to hire a new administrator for the central office.

Garver said the aide would handle projects in areas with which the district has not previously been concerned.

As examples, he listed federal open land grants, educational planning for a new senior high school, grants and requirements under new federal laws and accelerated professional staff recruitment.

★ ★ ★

Garver, who plans to fill the post immediately, now is taking applications from outside and within the school system.

NEW TEACHERS

He also has been authorized to hire a new first grade teacher for Walled Lake Elementary School and a kindergarten teacher on a halftime basis for Twin Beach Elementary School.

The last two moves are aimed at solving problems of overcrowded classrooms at the two schools.

Round Two for Wolverine Lake Hearing

WOLVERINE LAKE — Round two of the hearing on improvement of Wolverine Lake will begin tonight at 7 o'clock in the Walled Lake High School gymnasium.

The first round last week resulted in the selection of a chairman for the three-man board of determination hearing the matter and establishment of some rules for conducting the hearing.

Members of the panel are Chairman Bruce Annett, Pontiac realtor; Monroe M. Osman, Pontiac businessman; and Laurence H. Pate, civil engineer of Pate, Hirn and Begue of Detroit.

They are to determine the necessity, feasibility and practicability of improving the 272-acre lake.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac attorney Howard I. Bond has been retained by the board as legal counsel.

★ ★ ★

Principals in the argument are County Drain Commissioner Daniel W. Barry, who has declared a dredging project unfeasible, and members of the Wolverine Lake Rehabilitation Association, who want the lake improved.

12 Classrooms Will Open at Area School Monday

FARMINGTON — Twelve classrooms in the new Larkshire Elementary School will be put into operation Monday.

Because construction of the school on Tuck Road fell behind schedule, youngsters assigned there have been scattered to other schools throughout the district.

However, they were transferred by classroom and now will retain the teachers they have studied under since the start of the school year.

While the 12 regular classrooms are ready for use, the kindergarten and special education rooms at the school are not yet complete, according to Schools Supt. Gerald V. Harrison.

He said school officials are working on a plan to serve the pupils hot lunches although the cafeteria is not finished.

Board of education members this week also took a look at revised plans for Fairview Elementary School.

Making some 30 minor alterations, architects at Linn Smith Associates Inc. of Birmingham hoped to shave at least $50,000 from the cost, Harrison said.

Original bids on the construction were about $70,000 above the $480,000 estimated cost.

★ ★ ★

The board will open new bids on the unit Oct. 13.

Peril-Bearing Blubber Also Brings Some Pleasures to Fat Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Everybody is knocking fat today.

You are advised to keep it off your person and cut it off the meat you eat.

Fat is blamed for everything from early acne to early death. It seems to be public enemy No. 1.

Politicians probably would even blame the worldwide Communist conspiracy on fat except for one inescapable fact: Most Communists aren't fat, unless it is between the ears where it doesn't show. They generally tend to the lean and hungry look.

DIET-MAD WORLD

But in a diet-mad world, the critics of fat overlook one truth: It may have its perils, but it has its pleasures too. Yes, blubber hath its charms for the man or woman who owns it.

To paraphrase Abraham Lincoln, "The Lord must have loved fat people—he made so many of them."

Here are a few compensations for being overweight:

You never have to give the shirt off your back to help a buddy. It is too big to fit your buddy.

* * *

It isn't necessary to push your way through revolving doors. You merely lean against them—and they spin like crazy.

SIMPLY NO ROOM

When a fat man sits down in a bus seat, he doesn't have to share it with anyone else. There simply isn't room for anyone else.

You don't have to learn new dances such as the Frug, the Monkey or the Jerk. No gal in her right mind would want to be seen going through such strenuous motions in public with a fat man.

* * *

Yet, there are few sights more heartwarming than seeing a graceful fat man and a fat lady waltzing together. It is like watching two battleships sail through heavy seas while smaller craft scurry for safety.

As a matter of policy, life insurance agents rarely try to sell a really fat man a big new policy he can't afford.

NOBLE BY NATURE

Strange dogs bark less often at pudgy folk, realizing instinctively that they are more noble by nature than stringbean-shaped humans.

You don't fritter away your strength doing unnecessary exercises such as push-ups and pull-ups. A fat man gets all the exercise he needs bending down and tieing his shoelaces each morning.

* * *

One of the profound joys of living is eating. The fat man wants what he eats and eats what he wants. Restaurant owners see that he gets the best table and the best service, because he is a good ad for their place. A restaurant patronized only by thin people soon goes out of business.

Fat men run fewer occupational risks in both war and peace. They are rarely asked to fly jet fighter planes or lead infantry patrols, to become trapeze artists, firemen or high-steel workers. Among criminals, it is even unusual to see a fat second-story man.

NO RESTRICTION

Few huge corporations are headed by excessively plump executives. While this may seem a restriction on the promotion of fat men, it has its healthy aspect also: It means fewer fat men will worry themselves to death with business responsibilities.

But the simplest and greatest blessing of blubber lies in its ability to create lasting friendships. The reason everybody loves a fat man is that everyone feels superior to him; if you give a fellow a reason to feel superior to you, he can't help liking you.

Inside every thin man is a fat man trying to be big about it all.

Editor's note: All that the foregoing nonsense about fat men boils down to is that Hal Boyle's wife has made him go on a diet again—after he jumped from 190 pounds to 210 in two months.

Experts Claim Piranha Couldn't Exist in Georgia

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Greater Atlanta Aquarium Society says the possibility of flesh-eating piranha fish surviving in Georgia waters is just a lot of "bizarre publicity" brought on by state officials.

* * *

In a letter to Atty. Gen. Arthur K. Bolton Tuesday, the society said the piranha lives only in warm water, generally above 70 degrees, and has very little tolerance to change in temperatures. "This means any piranha living in Georgia waters would die when fall and winter came," the letter added.

* * *

The society told Bolton, who has suggested a law to ban the fish from the state, "if legislation of this nature was to become law, the way would be open to prohibiting saber-tooth tigers, dinosaurs and do do birds."

United Fund Goal Set for Annual Campaign

With the kick-off for its annual campaign set for Oct. 14, the 1965 goal of Pontiac Area United Fund has been set at $875,000.

Seven per cent higher than a year ago, the moderate increase is a result of the area's population growth and augmented services being rendered by the Fund's 55 agencies, which last year served 30,000 families.

★ ★ ★

The annual fund-raising drives represent a tremendous amount of preparatory and solicitation effort on the part of the area citizenry as well the United Fund's professional staff. Under chairmanship of Calvin J. Werner, general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division, the upcoming one is the 18th since the "give once for all" concept of charitable support was inaugurated.

We fully support this fine humanitarian project and urge cooperative and generous response by the people of the area.

Longhair of Science Cuts at Long Hair

At last, a setback for "Beatlemania."

A dermatologist in Salt Lake City reports an increase in forehead acne among teen-agers with Beatle-style hairdos. It seems that bacteria thrive in all that hair, which not only collects dirt but raises skin temperature to promote a type of infection he calls "Beatle Forehead."

★ ★ ★

His advice to kids so afflicted: "Get a haircut."

That's the same advice a lot of us have been giving all along, but we never had the backing of medical authority before.

Asia-India Ferment World Explosion Fuse

The fabric of Asian history for an unforeseeable number of years will be woven from the tangled skein of ambitions, alliances, fears and hatreds that exist in that area of the world today.

A darker thread in an already dark pattern has been introduced by the 86 members of the Indian Parliament who have demanded that their country build an atomic bomb — something which it is believed India has the capacity to do within a year's time.

★ ★ ★

From the viewpoint of the Indians, threatened as they are by belligerent, trouble-making China on one border and by Pakistan on the other, there would seem to be no other alternative.

But whatever security atomic weapons might bring to India would be more than offset by new factors which the possession of them could call into being.

Pakistan, already conscious of the widening power gap between itself and India and angry at what it considers its abandonment by the West, would hardly stand idly by. If it could not produce atomic weapons of its own, its only other course would be deeper entanglements with Red China, which has at least the beginnings of an atomic arsenal.

The only way to head off these threats is by ordering of world affairs that would remove the reasons that make possession of atomic weapons necessary or tempting for many large and small nations.

★ ★ ★

Clearly, the first item of business for the newly reconvened United Nations is to settle the Kashmir dispute once and for all. That the settlement may not be to India's liking and that it might spur separatist movements among other groups within its borders seems far less important than the danger this festering problem poses to Asian — and world peace.

To the extent that the U. N. falls short of attaining this objective will the world approach closer to nuclear catastrophe.

'Idea Gap' Faces GOP Builders

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Republicans have been told by one of themselves that they need new ideas.

MARLOW

Gov. John H. Reed of Maine told a group of Republicans here "we have been suffering for a number of years with idea gaps to cope with the problems of the modern world."

House Republicans, less than productive with new ideas, are hoping task forces they created will come up with some to be used in the 1966 congressional campaigns.

But one of them, asked what the party stands for now, said "family unity." Another said "fiscal responsibility." This sounded like an echo of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

He recently said Republicans should take their stand on fiscal responsibility, frugality and integrity.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile the Democrats, under President Johnson's leadership, are rolling through Congress programs that have something for the poor, Negroes, children in school — and through them their parents, old people, and, through excise tax cuts, something for everybody.

CONSTANT CRITICS

While the Senate Republicans, under the leadership of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, have been rather quiet on Johnson, House Republicans under the leadership of Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Michigan and Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin have been his constant critics.

They're still searching for issues to use to try to make the Republican party more attractive to voters.

"Successful Republicans," Reed said "must be able to convince the voter that our policies are superior . . . that they can provide the better life and the integrity that is a vital part of this environment.

★ ★ ★

"We cannot solve tomorrow's problems with yesterday's thinking."

SPLINTER GROUPS

At this point in their history Republicans would probably be hard put to say — if anyone of them tried to speak for all — what their philosophy is since they are beset with splinter groups.

Ray C. Bliss, the GOP national chairman, earlier this year expressed grave worry about the effect of these splinters on the party. Later he invited them to come in under the Republican tent.

"Once they are formed," he said, "I am going to try to find a way to work with them."

★ ★ ★

There are perhaps 15 different groups which might fit — or want to fit — under the Republican tent although, as one newspaper said, Republicans have splinters to the right of them and splinters to the left of them.

How Long Can The Hocus-Pocus Last?

David Lawrence Says:

Deficits Stir Little U.S. Concern

WASHINGTON—Bankers and financial officials from various governments of the world are meeting here in Washington this week to discuss informally the problems of international payments, with the hope of maintaining sound money.

LAWRENCE

But just a few blocks away, in the various departments of the U.S. government, the spending of public funds is growing rapidly and there is a seeming indifference to the preservation of sound money.

★ ★ ★

It is surprising indeed what little concern is being displayed throughout this country in the prospective rise of treasury deficits during the next few years which could require an increase in taxes.

The big alibi here in Washington today is the Viet Nam war. This is being blamed for the rise of government expenses.

★ ★ ★

There is no denying that the Viet Nam war expenses will cause the federal cash budget and military outlays to climb sharply, but at the same time there is no diminution in the welfare type of spending which is presenting the threat of bigger and bigger deficits for the next few years.

CASH RECEIPTS

Thus, in the 1966 fiscal-year budget presented in January of this year, cash receipts were estimated at $123.5 billion and cash outlays at $127.4 billion, resulting in a cash deficit of $3.9 billion.

But now unofficial estimates indicate that receipts will go up to $124.6 billion, and outlays will be increased to $130.2 billion, producing a $5.6 billion deficit.

Military expenditures, which today are increasing abnormally, could, of course, be curtailed if there were a change in the Southeast Asia situation. But it now looks as if the total military budget in fiscal year 1966 will wind up at $50 billion and will rise to $53.8 billion in the year beginning next July 1.

★ ★ ★

Not all the increases are due to the Viet Nam war. There have been some liberal pay raises for the armed forces, and there are more in prospect next year. Civilian employes in the military establishment will also probably get increases.

SUBSTANTIAL RISE

Hence, altogether the outlay on the military side is showing signs of rising substantially.

Meanwhile, very little is being done to hold down expenditures in the nondefense field.

There has always been a debate as to whether the formula should be "guns or butter" or "guns and butter." But it is the latter which is being applied today.

The argument is being made by the administration that wage-price stability has been maintained and that prices have not risen sufficiently to threaten any serious inflation.

OBTAINED BY UNIONS

It is pointed out, for example that wage raises obtained by labor unions have compensated for increases in the cost of living.

But this doesn't take into consideration the plight of those workers who are not beneficiaries of the organized union pressure which is exerted in major industries. Only about 22 per cent of the nation's 77-million labor force are members of labor unions, according to latest figures.

The biggest single influence, however, which is operating at present to cause uneasiness is the growth of federal deficits and the continuance of such deficits over the next several years. This can only mean that public confidence in the monetary unit may in time be adversely affected.

★ ★ ★

Perhaps another international conference may have to be called in Washington some day to find ways and means of saving the American dollar from rapid depreciation.

Capital Letter:

LBJ's Phenomenal String May Be Broken on 14B

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — President Johnson may have pushed his phenomenal string of hits too far in demanding that Congress stay in session until it acts on repeal of 14B.

Ruth Montgomery

Opposition against this move to outlaw state right-to-work laws is gathering force, and indications are that GOP Senate leader Everett Dirksen will have plenty of helpers in conducting his promised filibuster "until the snow flies."

If 14B is repealed every worker in an organized industry can be forced to pay dues to a union.

The Senate bill would exempt only conscientious objectors whose religion prohibits joining such organizations, but they would have to pay the equivalent amount of "dues" to a charity designated by the union.

★ ★ ★

President Johnson, in urging congressional action, said: "With the hope of reducing conflicts in our national labor policy that for several years have divided Americans in various states, I recommend the repeal of Section 14B."

AT ANY PRICE?

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., points out that political elections also bring conflicts that divide Americans, and that such conflicts could be reduced by abolishing free elections . . . But do we want peace at any price?

It seems rather contradictory for the President to demand that all citizens be assured the right to vote in elections, even if they can't read or write, and simultaneously seek to deprive workers of the right to join or not to join a union.

The so-called liberals who want to force union membership on every worker argue that those who fail to join unfairly reap the same benefits as those who pay dues and go out on strike. Well, that's the way life is!

★ ★ ★

'Committee Is Studying State's Police Situation'

In reply to the letter of John Durkes, an in-depth study of the police situation throughout the State is currently under way by a Senate Committee of which I am chairman. I am in full agreement with the position Mr. Durkes takes.

★ ★ ★

Money for additional policemen and salary increases for those now on the police force is badly needed. It is apparent that local communities dependent upon revenue from property taxes can no longer support the kind of police protection necessary. State financial aid to local communities seems to be the only answer.

★ ★ ★

I am currently working to develop a formula which will return state revenues to local communities to aid in police salaries and in the hiring of additional policemen where needed. Waterford Township and Pontiac are two communities in this State which will be most benefited by state aid to their law enforcement agencies.

Commie Leaders Plan Coordinated Action

Latin American Communist leaders met in Havana to discuss plans for coordinated subversive action in the Western Hemisphere. The meeting included talks with Soviet, Communist Chinese, and Vietnamese instructors of Castro's guerrilla and terrorist training camps.

★ ★ ★

Venezuela's delegation, the largest at the meeting, was headed by Isabel Tortosa de Farias. Her husband, Daniel Farias, Secretary General of the Venezuelan Communist Party, is currently imprisoned in Venezuela. The remainder of the delegation included Hector Marcano Cuello, Hector Perez Marcano, Domingo Santana and Alvaro Rodriguez. Panama's Communists were represented by Thelma King, and a two-man delegation spoke for Chile's Communist Party. North Vietnamese delegate Tuam-Vi-Shon emphasized that Viet Nam "is indebted to Latin America and we also have the duty of annihilating the Yankees."

★ ★ ★

The new Communist plans for Latin America are aimed at synchronizing subversive movements in each country and at coordinating guerrilla activities to create a greater propaganda impact in the hemisphere.

Relates Recent Incident at Senate Hearing

Recent hearings in Washington raise the question of the dangers of a consensus that is beginning to insist upon a conformity to Administration policy and abdication of individual judgment.

★ ★ ★

Senator John O. Pastore of Rhode Island was presiding at hearings of the Senate Appropriations Committee on the foreign aid bill. T. Coleman Andrews was in opposition and he had barely gotten into his statement when Senator Pastore demanded: "How do you account for the fact that three Presidents . . . have advocated and supported a foreign aid program? Are you saying they don't know what they are doing?"

★ ★ ★

Such a question in a public hearing is an extraordinary exhibition of subservience to a party line. Actually no Senator is worth his salt whose views and votes are taken docilely in deference to what the Executive has determined. To attempt to silence a witness because he disagrees with the Administration would be more appropriate for a Soviet commissar.

Questionable Threat

Chicago Tribune

The eccentric prime minister of newly independent Singapore, Lee Kuan Yew, has threatened to offer the Soviet Union a military base on the Singapore straits if the United States undertakes to help defend Malaysia from attack by Indonesia's President Sukarno. Lee split away from the Malaysian federation early in August.

We do not know what prompted Lee's latest outburst, but he has been unloading anti-American sentiment almost since he proclaimed Singapore's independence. One of his charges was that after a CIA agent was caught trying to obtain a connection with Singapore's intelligence apparatus, the United States tried to buy his silence with 3 million dollars.

Malaysia's deputy prime minister has responded that Lee is talking thru his hat when he says Malaysia is looking to the United States for protection. Malaysia has a defense agreement with Britain which it considers perfectly satisfactory.

If our state department had any wit it would tell Lee to go right ahead and bring in the Russians. They would be more of a threat to Red China and to Sukarno's imperialist ambitions than they would be to the United States.

Because of the bitter ideological dispute between Moscow and Peking, the Russians would probably like nothing better than to install themselves on the Singapore straits as a roadblock to the imperialistic squeeze coming from mainland China on the north and Jakarta on the south.

These associated thieves see nice pickings in collaboration, and the Russians would be pleased to frustrate them both, especially Red China.

So there might be unsuspected benefits if Lee were to carry out his threat.

Limit Subsidies?

The National Observer

In passing the farm bill, the Senate voted down amendments that would put ceilings on the amount of Federal subsidies farmers get for not growing and selling things. One amendment would have limited subsidies for any one farmer to $100,000 a year.

Sounds reasonable enough. If the purpose of the farm program is to keep farmers out of the poor house, $100,000 apiece ought to be just about enough.

★ ★ ★

But backers of the bill argue that if you limit how much you pay farmers for not growing and selling things, you limit their incentive for not growing and sellings things. Or, putting it another way, you give them an incentive to grow and sell things. If enough big farmers do this, you'll drive down prices for the little guy. Or something.

★ ★ ★

All this probably makes some sense, as silly as it sounds. But it makes sense only in the context of the farm program, which, under the bill that now will go into law, shows little basic change this year. No one, of course, has come up with an alternative.

Nun Changes Catholic Order

Fighting With Church Over Animal Shelter

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — Mother Cecilia Mary, unable to win a six-month battle with the Roman Catholic Church over her animal shelter, has taken the religious order she founded to the Old Catholic Church.

"Now our vows are safe," the 75-year-old nun said Tuesday in announcing her action. "We have not changed our religion. We are still Catholics."

* * *

Not so, said Msg. Michael O'Connell, chancellor of the Victoria Roman Catholic diocese.

"Old Roman Catholics are not considered part of the Roman Catholic Church," he said. "There is no question about that."

PREVIOUS ORDER

Msgr. O'Connell had said previously that if Mother Cecilia Mary and the other nuns of her order persisted in defying orders to close the animal shelter the church would consider them to be "lay persons."

Mother Cecilia said the Old Catholic Church broke away from the Roman Church in 1871, refusing to acknowledge the infallibility of the Pope in matters of faith and morals. The little-known body is headed, she said, by Primate Gerard Shelley in Rome and is still part of the Roman Church despite its theological differences.

* * *

She refers to the Church as the Old Roman Catholic Church, but references call it the Old Catholic Church and say the organization was modeled after Protestant churches and that changes in discipline and dogma completely separate Old Catholics from the Roman Catholic Church.

Mother Cecilia insists the two branches are part of the same church and describes the move as "like going from one room to another."

SECOND MOVE

The move will be the second by the Order of the Sisters of the Love of Jesus, which the British-born Mother Cecilia founded. She led it from the Anglican faith to the Roman Catholic Church more than a score of years ago.

Mother Cecilia's latest decision came a day after she put a for sale sign on her 24-acre animal shelter in suburban Colwood, but the developments were not related.

* * *

She said she put the property on the market for $58,000 after being denied permission by civil authorities to expand, and was considering moving the shelter and its nearly 200 animals farther out in the country.

She said the decision to transfer to the Old Catholic Church was made after Sister Mary Agnes, one of the six nuns helping her run the shelter, failed in a personal appeal made in Rome.

MEET BAYONET

Mother Cecilia said Sister Mary was stopped by the bayonet of a papal guard when she tried to see the Pope and was allowed to see His Holiness only at a semiprivate audience attended by 2,000 persons.

"I never knew there was so much aversion to work with animals in the Catholic Church," said Mother Cecilia.

* * *

The original dispute with the Church involved an edict from Rome that Mother Cecilia and her helpers at the shelter return to an "accepted religious life" at St. Mary's Priory.

Mother Cecilia refused. She said animals, as well as humans, have souls and need care.

ALLOWANCE CUT

Recently, the Church cut off a $500 a month allowance for the six nuns, but Mother Cecilia said "we have managed."

She established the shelter several years ago with money from an inheritance left by her father.

Her parting shot was: "Defeated? Not on your life."

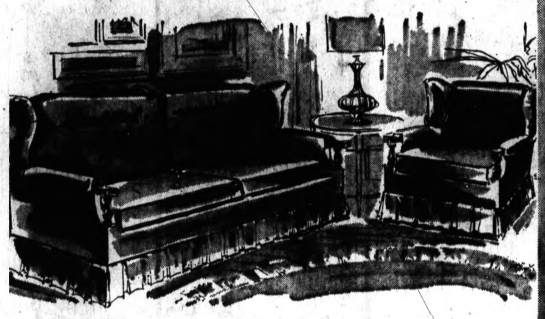

The Post Office Department reported 805 arrests, 627 convictions and 8,175 suppressions as a result of 15,975 investigations in its antipornography campaign last year.

GOOD STEP — Electrician's apprentice Bruce Murphy of Fargo, N.D., was cautioned against scratching the gymnasium floor while installing an electric scoreboard in a new high school. Walking through the recent North Dakota snow gave Murphy an idea. He placed his rubbers on the bottom of the ladder for a nonskid, no-scratch job.

Acquitted Police Officer Hopes for Return to Force

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I hope to get back on the force: that's my life work."

A suspended police lieutenant thus greeted his acquittal Tuesday after a trial in which brother officers testified he shot and wounded a man he mistakenly believed involved in the mass rape of his daughter.

O'NEAL

"I'm sorry I hit anyone," said Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal as smiling jurors shook his hand. "The fact that it was the wrong man didn't make any difference. I just shouldn't have done it. It was the wrong thing to do."

O'Neal, 41, awaits a police board hearing Nov. 2.

SOBBED UNABASHEDLY

As the verdict was read, another jury in a nearby courtroom was hearing evidence in the trial of five other youths accused of raping Shirley Diane O'Neal, 19. She testified in both cases.

O'Neal had sobbed unabashedly as he testified that his daughter, selling cookbooks door-to-door, had been enticed into a house by the promise of a sale. Inside, a gang of young men raped her.

Three days later O'Neal was assisting the investigation of the rape case when, in West Valley police station, two suspects were led down a hallway. Other officers in the hall said O'Neal suddenly drew his pistol and fired. Carl E. Norman, 21, was hit twice.

Norman later was cleared of complicity in the rape case. He recovered and testified at O'Neal's trial.

TWO VOTES

The jury, after deliberating 90 minutes, found O'Neal innocent of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to murder and innocent of a lesser charge, assault with a deadly weapon. Only two votes were taken. Both were unanimous.

Foreman Robert L. Benson said the jury accepted the defense contention that O'Neal acted unconsciously when he opened fire on Norman O'Neal's counsel had told the court: "He suffered from loss of sleep, lack of food, his daughter's appearance after the attack, and the recurring dream that his daughter was in a room with men who acted like animals."

O'Neal, father of four, is a veteran of 15 years on the force.

The rape trial continues.

Dirksen Hits Bill on Doctor Drug Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., introduced Tuesday his bill to make it a federal offense for any doctor to profit from the sale of medicines or other items he prescribes for patients.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., promptly protested that "it would appear to me to be most unusual for Congress to consider any legislation that would bar anyone from making a profit on the things he sells."

* * *

Hart is chairman and Dirksen, the Republican leader, is a member of the Senate Anti-trust and Monopoly subcommittee which has filed a divided report of findings in an investigation of medical men's profits from the sale of drugs and medicines.

A majority report signed by Hart and others criticized doctor ownership—sometimes secret—of drugstores and wholesale drug businesses. It recommended legislation to deal with the problem.

* * *

A minority report by Dirksen and Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., expressed concern about the practice but said no need for new federal legislation had been shown.

Says LBJ Ignored Congress on Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said today President Johnson ignored a 54-year-old line of authority between the executive and Congress in negotiating the controversial auto trade agreement with Canada.

Gore, in a prepared speech attacking the bill implementing the agreement, said a serious imbalance already exists between the power of the White House and legislative branch.

* * *

"The ratification of the President's action in negotiating this trade agreement will further erode the Congress' standing," the Senator declared. He added: "Not since 1911 has the President negotiated a trade agreement of this sort—one requiring implementing legislation—without prior authority of Congress."

PACT IS SIGNED

Johnson and Prime Minister Lester Pearson of Canada signed the agreement last Jan. 16.

The Senate began debate on the implementation bill Tuesday. Democratic leaders said they hope to pass it this week. The House cleared it Aug. 31.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the bill, said in opening the debate Tuesday that the agreement was to the advantage of the United States and Canada.

* * *

It will avoid a commercial conflict between the two neighbors and permit the big auto manufacturers to make the most efficient use of their plants whether in this country or in Canada, he said.

Under the agreement, tariffs would be eliminated on new cars and parts for news cars moving across the border either way.

'IMPORTANT AGREEMENT'

Gore charged an effort was being made to rush "this improvident agreement" through the Senate at the end of the session without proper consideration. He urged that the bill be defeated.

Gore said the big losers from the agreement would be 10,000 American firms which supply parts to the automotive industry. Most of the opposition to the bill has come from these companies.

* * *

The American motorist will lose under the agreement because he will have to pay higher prices for replacement parts, the senator argued. This will result, he said, because the U.S. parts firms will lose much of their original equipment business to Canada and will have to charge more for replacement items to stay in business.

To America with love... The 1966 Chrysler

Could be we're getting too emotional. But it isn't very often you get a chance to follow an all-time sales record year with a new Chrysler like this one.

Sure, our '65 was great. But the '66 is even better.

It looks better. Moves quicker. It's got a beautiful new front end and a very dramatic new rear.

It's got a bigger and more zesty group of V-8 engines. From a 383 cubic incher to a 440 TNT with twin exhausts and twin snorkels. (A "snorkel" is an air intake horn for the carburetor — does great things for performance.)

The interiors, all up and down the line, are more luxurious and comforting. Take our new shell bucket seats, for example. It's almost as if they had been custom-fitted for you.

One thing we didn't even think about changing. It has to do with money. Five of our Newport models (real Chryslers —not junior editions) are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars with the same equipment. This includes features like power steering, power brakes, a 383 cubic inch V-8, automatic transmission, radio and many standard items like safety door handles and seat belts.

Move up to Chrysler . . . it's getting easier by the minute.

Wants State to Limit Available Scholarships

LANSING (AP) — Rep. James Del Rio, D-Detroit, says it takes too much running around now for high school students to look up all available college scholarships and he wants the state to remedy that.

Del Rio planned to introduce a resolution today calling on the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority to publish an annual directory of all scholarships—public and private and financial aid opportunities available for students living in Michigan.

Adopted During Viet Tour

GI Back in U.S. With New Daughter

TRAVIS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—After a tour with the Special Forces in Viet Nam, Spec. 4 William Kendell of Lansing, Mich., returned to the United States Tuesday night for discharge and the duties of fatherhood.

★ ★ ★

With him on a commercial flight from Saigon was his 10-month-old adopted daughter, Michelle Bertha Marie, whose parents were killed near Saigon.

★ ★ ★

He said he and his wife, Sandra, 27, had been thinking of adopting a youngster for a long time. When he spotted the girl in an orphanage "it was love at first sight."

★ ★ ★

Kendell, 30, legally adopted Michelle March 11.

His wife has not yet seen the child.

Had it not been for the bipartisan intervention of two Michigan congressmen, however, the girl might have been left behind, he said.

★ ★ ★

Immigration authorities in Detroit refused her entry because they did not recognize the adoption, he said. Through an attorney his wife contacted Rep. Charles Chamberlain, a Republican, and Sen. Patrick McNamara, a Democrat. They obtained a visa for the girl.

★ ★ ★

Kendell said Michelle had been living with a Vietnamese army official and his wife since the adoption.

ON THE LINES

"Neither of us have been together very much because I have been on the lines," he said. He was attached to the 114th Air Mobile Light Division.

★ ★ ★

Kendell said the girl will be kept at a nursery while he is processed at the Oakland Army Terminal for discharge.

Immigration officials at the air base said they believed Michelle was the first Vietnamese girl to be adopted by a member of the Special Forces.

U.S. Planes, Viet Troops Beat Off Cong Attack

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A U.S. spokesman announced today that South Vietnamese forces and U.S. planes beat off an attack by one of the largest Viet Cong concentrations in several months, possibly more than 2,000 guerrillas.

The spokesman said no further fighting was reported today in the area 45 miles northwest of Qui Nhon and 295 miles northeast of Saigon.

★ ★ ★

The government force of two battalions suffered moderate losses and many Viet Cong were believed to have been killed by the U.S. air strikes, the spokesman said, but no body count was made.

The atcion took place in the area of Phu Cu Pass, where the Viet Cong suffered heavy losses in a battle last week.

PRONGED ATTACK

Two Communist battalions launched a two-pronged attack Tuesday against the Vietnamese troops from the east and west while two other battalions struck from the southwest.

U.S. intelligence sources have said the Viet Cong hame begun a buildup in Binh Dinh Province, in which Qui Nhon is located. Top Vietnamese military officers said earlier in the week they believed that North Vietnamese troops are operating in the province.

★ ★ ★

U.S. paratroopers ended the longest operation of the war involving American troops Tuesday night in the dense D Zone brush and jungles near Ben Cat, 30 miles north of Saigon.

Vietnamese, New Zealand and Australian contingents also took part in the two-week sweep, which sought to wrest the initiative from Communist guerrillas in an area they have long dominated.

The spokesman said 45 Viet Cong were killed and 75 captured and that the allied force suffered only light casualties. He said the paratroopers seized thousands of pounds of weapons and supplies, 5,000 Viet Cong documents and three field hospitals.

In the air war, a U.S. jet was shot down over North Viet Nam Tuesday and another U.S. bomber was downed today in the Mekong Delta. A U.S. Army helicopter was also reported forced down in the Delta by enemy fire.

The spokesman said the pilot was killed in the north after he ejected and his parachute failed to open. He was on a two-plane strike against a railroad bridge 60 miles north of the frontier when his plane was hit.

The other plane was shot down in Ba Xuyen Provinc, 90 miles southwest of Saigon, but the pilot parachuted safely and was rescued unhurt by a helicopter.

CREW RESCUED

The helicopter crew also was reported rescued.

A flight of B52 bombers from Guam pounded a suspected Viet Cong logistical facility Tuesday night 320 miles northeast of Saigon in Quang Ngai Proxince. It was the 34th B52 raid of the war.

★ ★ ★

U.S. and Vietnamese war planes flew 347 sorties against other suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam in the past 24 hours.

U.S. Navy planes from 7th Fleet carriers flew 650 sorties in the week ending Saturday, the spokesman said.

NEW STRIKES

In new strikes over North Viet Nam, pilots reported they destroyed a bridge 30 miles north of the demilitarized zone and cratered the approach to another bridge 40 miles north of the frontier.

A U.S. military spokesman announced that U.S. and Vietnamese forces killed 690 Viet Cong last week at a cost of 172 Vietnamese and 8 American dead.

Marian Anderson's rich voice filled the vaulted Sainte Chapelle in Paris, with the ringing tones of Negro spirituals.

She came out of retirement to sing last night on behalf of the first world festival of Negro arts to be held in Dakar, Senegal, next spring. More than 500 socialites filled the little chapel and, despite a plea from a priest, broke into long applause.

Father's Method at Fault

Your Judgment Correct

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I rent a room in the home of a very nice couple who have three children between the ages of 9 and 14. They treat me like a member of the family.

ABBY

A couple of months ago, I started to notice that a few things were beginning to disappear from my room. Nothing of value, just a few candy bars.

Last week I noticed that some packages of cigarettes were missing from the carton I kept in my dresser drawer, so I mentioned it to the parents. They got the children together and found that the nine-year-old boy was the guilty one.

The father spanked him very hard, took away his television privileges for two weeks and made him sit on the front porch with a sign around his neck which read, "I STEAL."

Abby, I am sick to have been the cause of all this. Now I wonder if I did the right thing in telling the parents. The things the boy took were of so little value.

Had I known the lad would be punished so severely I would have kept quiet. Help me sleep nights.

ROOMER

DEAR ROOMER: Yes, you did the right thing in telling the parents. You may have thwarted a tendency toward dishonesty before it grew to more serious proportions, which actually was a kindness to the child.

The parents were cruel to have made humiliation a part of the punishment. But don't feel responsible for their actions.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a boy who calls a girl up and asks her if she wants to go out and park with him?

INVITED TO PARK

DEAR INVITED: He sounds like an efficiency expert with a character deficiency.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: How can a young, foolish girl find out if she went too far with a boy before it's too late?

SCARED TO DEATH

DEAR SCARED: If she's "scared to death," she went too far. If she went too far, she should see a physician at once. He can tell her how late it is.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WANDA IN NEWPORT: You had better tell your friend exactly what to bring for the holiday. To some girls a "one-pieced bathing suit" means a cap.

Their parents are the Joseph Ackermans of Monroe and the late Mr. and Mrs. Hosea A. Lewis of Frankfort, Mich.

Tiny ruffles circled the scoop neckline and wrist-length sleeves of the bride's gown of white Venise lace over taffeta.

A lace tiara held her short veil of illusion and a white orchid centered her bouquet of white roses and Stephanotis.

Catherine Ackerman attended her sister at the noon ceremony and the bridegroom's nephew, Arthur Land, was best man.

Use Tact With These Young Wage Earners

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

The average family rarely has trouble finding something to fight about. But these days it's getting even easier to start a squabble. Out of the mouths of babes comes this battle cry: "It's my money, I earned it, and I ought to be able to spend it."

MARY FEELEY

Not only do our teen-agers earn money, but our sub-teens are coming home with jingling pockets. Junior has his paper route, and little sister sits with the neighbor's baby.

They're literally wage-earners in the truest sense — and you parents have a fine opportunity here to guide and counsel — if you don't mess it up by being too dictatorial.

Naturally it cuts you to the quick to see money going down the drain for "foolishness." But remember that thrift involves not just saving, but spending, too — spending something for what you worked for in the first place.

Also, your adult values of what's worth the money are going to conflict with what your children consider important. It's walking a tight-rope to handle this thing, but that's your job in the first place.

★ ★ ★

Dear Mary Feeley:

My 12-year-old son has a paper route, for which he gets about $11 a month. Since starting eight months ago, we have insisted he put $2 monthly into his savings account.

★ ★ ★

We are having braces put on his teeth, and because he doesn't appreciate this (he constantly forgets to brush his teeth after eating), I said I want him to put $1 monthly towards his teeth, too. These expenses will amount to close to $1,000.

Also, I thought $1 a month towards his clothing and haircuts would be a good idea, leaving him $7 to spend on his whims. Am I asking too much?

Mrs. M. H., Lombard, Ill.

Dear Mrs. H.:

I'll go along with you on those monthly savings. But let's keep in mind that collections on a paper route are not always right on the button. So asking your son to stick to rigid weekly figures may not be realistic.

As for asking him to contribute toward clothing, and haircuts, I say don't. A kid who has to pay for his own clothing and haircuts would be better off not working!

I can't quite go along with you either on his helping to pay for the braces on his teeth — as a sort of punishment. I don't know the specific circumstances, of course, but usually braces are needed because of a physical formation which the child had nothing to do with.

If you make him feel responsible for something he inherited — well, Mrs. H., he may look at you some day with a calm, clear-eyed stare that will frighten you out of your wits.

★ ★ ★

Dear Miss Feeley:

My son is 12 years old. He works shining shoes and makes $10 a week, sometimes $5. He wants to buy his clothing for school and that is what I think he should do. He also goes to music school once a week and pays for his music lessons.

★ ★ ★

My husband wants him to give him the money and he does not want me to touch it. I say that if I ask the child for $1 if I run short of cash, he should give it to me. We have a large family of eight children and my 12-year-old is the only one able to work. What do you think?

Mrs. W. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Dear Mrs. D.:

I think you and Mr. D. should stop fighting over that boy's earnings.

If he buys his own clothes and pays for his music lessons, then for goodness' sake, let him put money in the savings bank, with a little something left over to spend if he wants to.

I agree that he could contribute $1 a week toward the family needs. And I believe that a responsible boy would be glad to assume this financial obligation.

But I urge you and his father not to grab at his earnings. Let him discuss this plan voluntarily with you both, and let him enjoy the dignity of dispensing his own earnings.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice:

One of my very favorite sleeveless dresses ripped at the underarm as I reached over to close the windows in my car. How can I fix this so that it won't look patched? Mrs. J. C. C.

Dear Mrs. J. C. C.:

I'm glad you asked this question because it not only gives me a chance to tell you how to remedy your dress, but also how you can change the armhole to have a NEW look this year. Change the rounded armhole to a squared one, usually in front only. It will not be necessary to rip off your facing. Just restitch your new seamline (twice for added reinforcement) clip to your stitching line, understitch the facing and you're finished.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. J. E. Bennett, Rock Island, Ill., is this week's winner of a Tailor Trix pressing board for this suggestion.

"In planning my 8th-grader's back-to-school wardrobe, I looked with despair at the still-good and expensive pleated woolen skirts she would not be able to wear this fall. They were too short and too small around the waist. With a little imagination, I was able to change these skirts into the most up-to-date styles by adding contrasting bodices with the very-new dropped waistline. Suede cloth, contrasting wool and jersey are a few of the ideal fabrics to use for the bodice. Remove the waistband from the skirt and let out the pleats slightly to fit the width of the bodice.

Re-use old pleated or straight skirts

Usually the hem will be perfect the way it is."

I might also add short skirts can also be used. Combine the skirt with matching sweater-tops and the new long stockings. Every dollar saved will give you more to spend on your new fabrics.

Mrs. H. H. says: "Take the stacks of white gloves that have been taking up space in your drawer, but haven't been worn because of style changes, and transform them into the very popular and practical shortie gloves.

Use the zig-zag on your sewing machine (or the scallop if you desire) and carefully stitch on the line you have marked for the new length. It's much easier if you turn the gloves wrong side out. Of course you will still do your stitching on the right side of the glove. The width of the stitch should be fairly short and the stitches should be very close together. After you have finished stitching, cut the excess close to your stitching.

You Must Extend One Invitation

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: Neighbors invited my husband and me to their house for the first time the other evening.

We found we had nothing in common with them and, in fact, thought them quite boring. I would like to know if it is necessary to return their invitation.

I'd rather not encourage further friendship with them but my husband thinks it would be very rude not to ask them to our house at least once. May I please have your opinion on this?

A: Your husband is right. You should invite them to your house. You may then discourage further friendship by neither inviting them again nor accepting further invitations from them.

RETURNING PRESENTS

Q: I have just broken my engagement and am now faced with the task of returning engagement and shower presents that I have received.

Is it necessary that a note be sent with each gift, and if so, what do I say?

A: A short note of explanation should be written, such as: "Dear Susan, I am sorry to have to tell you that Jim and I have broken our engagement.

"Therefore I am returning the beautiful vase that you were so sweet to send me."

BEST MAN'S EXPENSES

Q: I have been asked to be the best man at a friend's wedding and I would appreciate your telling me just what expenses I have in connection with this position.

I have had so many different opinions that I have decided to write to you for the authoritative answer.

A: Further than providing the clothes you will wear at the wedding and buying a wedding present, you have no other expenses unless you have to travel a distance to the wedding, in which case you will have the added expense of your train or plane fare.

Polly's Pointers
TV Table Revamped

DEAR POLLY—Racks that held television trays are often found in second-hand shops.

I bought one for each bedroom in my house and put two strips of lawn chair webbing across the top of each of them. They make fine luggage racks or bedspread holders, to say nothing of many other uses.—RUTH

DEAR POLLY — Children seem to be attracted to red and blue more than other colors. When our children play croquet during the summer they use the red and blue balls more than any of the others.

When we are ready to put the game away for the winter we repaint the balls and switch the colors so the original red and blue ones are another color and do not get so much wear the next year.—S. W.

DEAR POLLY — So many of my high school girlfriends are getting married these days and I have hit on a good way to remember new names for old faces.

Cut out friends' engagement or wedding announcements from the paper and staple by the same girls' pictures in your high school year book. This will also help answer some of those "Whatever happened to Mary?" questions in years to come.—KATHRYN

Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Swan of Birmingham were honored recently at a dinner party in the Detroit Athletic Club by their children, Harry L. of Chicago and Mrs. John McKee Jr. of Wing Lake. The couple who were wed on Sept. 23, 1915 in Detroit, marked their 50th wedding anniversary. There are six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

I want to share the following letter with you because it is so inspirational describes such a wonderful spirit.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I wish that your reader whose friends think she is nuts because she is learning to tap dance and play the piano at middle age knew my mother.

"At 52 she was left a widow. She had always wanted to learn more about writing poetry, and to try her hand at painting. She joined a summer art colony held on a college campus. Mother only had had a seventh-grade education, but she said that if she listened instead of talking no one would find out. She became the darling of the group, using her homemaking and mother instincts to do something for everyone in the colony.

"She wrote poetry which won no prizes, but gave her great satisfaction. She painted pretty scenes which never won a place in an art gallery — she never expected them to.

"Once I insisted that she join one of the groups for older citizens. She came back and said, 'I'm not ready to sit and knit and talk about my operations.' I begged her to give the group a chance for I felt she needed companionship with people her own age.

"The next time she went she took along a record player and some dance records. I was shocked! My mother said, 'If I can't get any of them out of those chairs I am not going back.' The group grew from 28 members to over 100. The city had to provide a larger meeting place. They now have balls, dinners, contests, which mayors and dignataires attend.

"One night she came home and announced, 'If I ever marry again, I saw the man tonight.' My mother had never accepted a date or any male escort arrangement made for her by friends. Typical of my mother, she married this most wonderful man. He brought wholesomeness, charity and faith into all of our lives. My only dread was that she would be hopelessly despondent if she ever lost him.

"After five years of a love story more beautiful than any written, he died. Despondent? My mother fell upon her knees to thank God for giving her five perfect years of life. She is as close to his children as she is to her own.

"Now in the later years of her life she is still giving of herself. She also now plans to take a writing course at The University's Evening Division as soon as she has time."

The Raymond H. Bartells of West Rutgers Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Jo Ann to Forrest Kropp, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Kropp of Grand Marais, Mich. Late November vows are planned.

ONCE YOU USE LUCITE® HOUSE PAINT

YOU'LL NEVER GO BACK TO "HARD WORK" PAINTS AGAIN

Once you see how "Lucite" flows on—how it dries in minutes—how it needs no special primer—how it saves you hours of work—how fast it is to clean up with soap and water after painting—how easy it covers wood, brick, stucco, masonry, cinder block, you'll never go back to oil base paints. And "Lucite" gives you more—more years of wear—than ordinary paints. Tests on actual houses proved it. If you use "Lucite" according to directions this year, it probably will be the last time you'll have to repaint this decade. Need we say more?

Fraternity Can Help Grades

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

College fraternities, as a rule, select pledges who have made superior high school records both on grades and in student activities. These are outgoing young people with potential ability above the all-college average.

DR. NASON

Even so, fraternities still have problems with below-average students, especially freshmen.

Because they do possess outstanding ability, these students in many cases succeeded in high school without gaining a thorough and permanent knowledge of the subjects they studied.

Their inefficient learning procedures were successful in high school and have become habits. Consequently, these students resist efforts to change their techniques and ignore warnings that they are headed for trouble.

* * *

Fraternity study tables, while forcing students to spend time on their books, do little to correct the basic flaws in their study procedures. The first essential, if a change is to be brought about, is that these students become convinced there are more efficient ways of learning.

SUGGESTIONS OFFERED

The following suggestions have proved successful in bringing this about:

The student should be required to state or, better still, write his plan for mastering each of his courses.

Revision of each plan should be suggested or perhaps insisted upon, where necessary, to provide adequate preclass preparation. Twenty minutes before class will often save two hours of study time after class.

* * *

For example, the chapters of a freshman survey course should be outlined by the student previous to lectures, thus reducing the necessity for voluminous class notes and allowing for maximum class-time learning.

SHOULD BE CHECKED

Occasionally the student's plan for completing the immediate day's assignment should be checked. Plans lead to action. The student who carefully plans his day's study usually starts and completes it without the delays and interruptions that so often plague fraternity-house living.

Adequate review procedures should be incorporated in the plans, eliminating dependence upon cram sessions.

Efficient test-taking procedures can be discussed in group meetings. However, post mortems should be on an individual basis. Someone who knows test-taking procedures should help the student discover any wrong approach to the process.

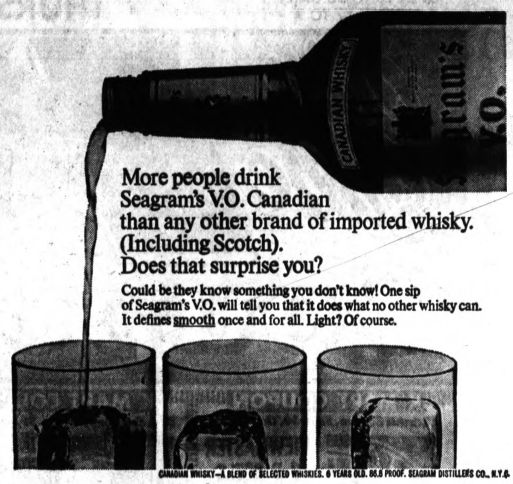

Students failing at midsemester should be encouraged to make a crash effort to salvage the course. Learning procedures in the course should first be rechecked. More effort in the use of learning methods that have already proved ineffective will not solve the problem.

WEEKEND REVIEW

A weekend of review, using more efficient techniques and redoing the course from the beginning, can establish a foundation for mastery of the remainder of the course.

* * *

Successful upperclassmen are seldom aware of the approaches to learning that have brought them high grades. However, they are quick to recognize flaws and omissions in the procedures of the less experienced freshman.

More people drink Seagram's V.O. Canadian than any other brand of imported whisky. (Including Scotch). Does that surprise you?

Could be they know something you don't know! One sip of Seagram's V.O. will tell you that it does what no other whisky can. It defines smooth once and for all. Light? Of course.

Giants Slip to Second Spot; LA Takes 11th Straight, NL Lead

Rookie Jaster Ruins Evening for SF's Mays

Willie in 2,000th Tilt, Homers to Prevent St. Louis Shutout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — It could have been one of Willie Mays' happiest nights. Instead it was one of his saddest.

The superlative San Francisco center fielder celebrated his 2,000th major league game with a home run, his 51st of the season, which equaled his previous one-season high.

★ ★ ★

But his Giants were beaten 9-1 by St. Louis and knocked out of first place Tuesday night as the Los Angeles Dodgers defeated the Cincinnati Reds 2-1 in 12 innings.

With five games left to play, the Giants found themselves one game behind the Dodgers after leading or tying for the lead since Sept. 16.

DIDN'T STAY

"I'd gladly have given that home run back for a victory," said Mays, who did not stay around for the result of the Reds-Dodgers game.

The Giants have been winning very few games lately. After winning 17 of 18 to overtake the Dodgers and forge into a four-game lead, the Giants have dropped five of their last seven. The Dodgers, meanwhile, have won 11 straight.

★ ★ ★

Everything has gone sour for the Giants—the pitching, hitting and fielding. They haven't had a complete game from a pitcher since Bob Bolin beat the Houston Astros on Sept. 16.

Manager Herman Franks has been forced to use 27 Giant pitchers in the last seven games. The five in the latest game were tagged for 14 hits by the Cardinals, who had lost four straight.

FORMER GIANT

Bill White, a former Giant, collected two doubles, a single and a home run, driving in three runs.

Larry Jaster, a 21-year-old southpaw, making his second big league start, went the distance, spacing 10 Giants hits. That was only the second time in the last 13 games that the Giants had hit in double figures.

Jaster, a 6-foot-3, 198-pounder from Midland, Mich., was called up by the Cardinals from Tulsa a couple of weeks ago. He had a 11-13 record there but led the Texas League with 219 strikeouts.

"He really came on in the last two months," said Cardinal Manager Red Schoendienst. "He's not overpowering but he has a pretty good fast ball and curve. Most important, he throws strikes. He walked only 51 in 210 innings. He was really mixing them up tonight."

The youngster admitted he was nervous at the start.

THREW STRIKES

"It was not so bad after I struck out the first two batters," he said. "It helped my confidence and I started throwing strikes."

Jaster retired Mays twice in four times at bat. He walked Willie in the first inning and was fortunate in the third when Lou Brock caught Mays' line drive with his back to the left field fence. Mays' homer came in the eighth. It was the 506th of his career. Willie also hit 51 homers in 1961.

★ ★ ★

Kaline's Pinch Hit Helps Tigers Split

CHICAGO (AP) — Veteran Al Kaline, desite his years and ailments, is still the bellwether for the Detroit Tigers.

Kaline's pinch-hit double set off a sudden, four-run rally in the eighth inning of the second game that enabled Detroit to split a doubleheader with the Chicago White Sox Tuesday night.

★ ★ ★

The rally pushed the Tigers on to a 4-3 victory after they had fallen in the opener of the twinight affair by an identical score in 11 innings.

Defeat in the second game would have forced Detroit into a tight scramble with Cleveland for a fourth place finish in the American League race.

THREE LEFT

Second place is out of the picture and there still is a contest for fourth. The Tigers, however, now fourth, have only three games left—all with lowly Washington at the Capitol Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Today and Thursday are open dates.

Danny Cater's home run off reliefer Terry Fox's first pitch in the 11th won the first game for the Sox. Starter Joe Sparma's bad first inning had given Chicago all its prior runs.

★ ★ ★

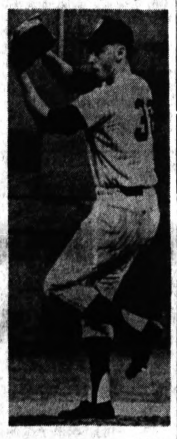

Jim Hicks' first homer of the year in the seventh off Hank Aguirre gave Chicago a 2-0 lead in the second game which the Kaline-initiated rally wiped out in the next frame.

Jim Northrup capped the rally with a two-run triple. Two runs scored earlier when Jerry Lumpe singled home Kaline and scored himself on a walk and Gates Brown's sacrifice fly.

DIED HARD

The Sox, fighting Baltimore for second place, died hard. Bill Skowron homered (his 18th) off Larry Sherry in the eighth. Two men singled in the ninth but neither scored.

Cater settled things in a hurry in the 11th with his homer after Fox had blanked the Sox from the seventh onward on two harmless singles. The loss was charged to Fox, his fourth against six victories.

Breaks Field Goal Mark

Barefoot Booter Boosts Spartans

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Dick Kenney goes about setting football records barefoot. No other player can make that statement.

Kenney, who became a national curiosity because of his barefooted place kicks last season, has set individual Michigan State football records in the first two games of the season.

★ ★ ★

The 6-foot, 204-pound kicking specialist from Honolulu booted three field goals during MSU's upset, 23-0, victory over Penn State last week.

That was a one-game MSU record and lifted his career total to eight field goals, another school mark.

Kenney, who also does the punting, barefooted, broke his own one-game field goal record of two, set during the 13-3 victory over UCLA in the season opener.

SETS RECORD

A junior, listed as a fullback in the roster, Kenney has scored exactly half of MSU's 36 points this season. Fifteen of these were scored on field goals and three on extra points.

Kenney's unique habit of whacking the pigskin with his bare toes, drew national publicity last season when he kicked a 49-yard field goal against Southern California. That stands as an MSU field goal distance record.

★ ★ ★

"I kick this way because I get the feel of the ball," said Kenney, considered a scoring reach the opposition's 40 yard line.

"We'll try one anytime the ball is on the 40," head coach Duffy Daugherty said.

"If the wind is in our favor, Kenney is capable of kicking a 57-yard field goal," he added.

★ ★ ★

Kenney does nothing but practice placekicks and punts during the daily 90-minute MSU drills. He stays in shape by filing flat the callouses at the ends of his right toes.

THREE OF FOUR

Daugherty believes Kenney will make three out of every four field goals he attempts inside the 30.

He has a five for five record this season, booting field goals against Penn State of 24, 29, and 36 yards. Against UCLA, he kicked three-pointers of 34 and 23 yards.

In the past, Daugherty has used a number of odd-type kickers — notably former soccer player Lou Bobich who kicked with the side of his foot.

None of them matched Kenney's records, however.

Daugherty also has another barefoot kicker under wraps. He is sophomore fullback Bob Apisa — another Hawaiian — who runs with his shoes on but kicks a' la Kenney.

But Apisa has been doing so well running a touchdown in each of the first two games that Daugherty is likely to keep him shod, unless, of course, one of Kenney's talented toes gets stepped on.

Doctor to Aid U.S. Linksmen at Cup Meet

MADRID (AP) — Jack Nicklaus and Tony Lema, United States representatives in the Canada Cup golf matches starting Thursday, have their own doctor with them in Madrid.

He is Dr. Everett Gaillard of White Plains, N.Y., and he will be on hand to deal with any illness in the American camp.

★ ★ ★

"It's the first time we've brought a doctor along," said Fred Corcoran, the tournament director.

"Already he's treated Tony for a slight stomach upset."

IN THREESOME

Lema, of Oakland, calif., went out in practice Tuesday with only his caddy and an interpreter for company. He fired as many as five or six balls on some holes, exploring and investigating every hole.

Nicklaus, of Columbus, Ohio, who has won more money from golf in the year than anybody else in the game's history, was due to arrive in Madrid today.

Cross-Country Drought Is Over for Kettering

Kettering won its first dual cross-country meet since 1963 yesterday by downing West Bloomfield, 25-31.

The losers' Dave Maun ran a 11:29 race to pick up first place, but Kettering grabbed the next four places to take the victory.

Pacing Kettering were Fred Limatte (2nd), Dave Arcand (3rd), Frank Limatta (4th) and Dave Chambers (5th).

Walled Lake grabbed the two top spots to down Northville, 20-41, at Cass-Fenton Park.

Don Schoenberger led the Vikings with a 11:36. Gene Small of the winners was second. Northville's Walt Harrison placed third followed by Walled Lake's Dan Gilbert.

Orchard Lake St. Mary's strong team opened defense of its Catholic League championship yesterday by whipping Dearborn St. Alphonsus, 18-37, at Rouge Park.

PLACE 1-2-3

John Dziuba paced the unbeaten Eaglets in their second meet of the season by placing first in 10:39. Teammates Bob Przeslawski (2nd) and Phil Slatinsky (3rd) finished ahead of the loser's Nick Corridora.

Robert Tinsman, Rick Oldaugh and Larry Reese finished in that order for Holly as the Broncos downed Oxford, 25-30.

★ ★ ★

Oxford picked up the next five places with George Bovee placing fourth and Jim Sinacola fifth.

BOSTON (UPI) — The Boston Bruins of the National Hockey League Tuesday announced the signing of team captain Lee Boivin to a 1965-66 contract.

Spartans Stress Defense

U-M's Detwiler Jumps

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (UPI) — Halfback Jim Detwiler jumped to pull in a Dick Vidmer forward pass as the Michigan Wolverines prepared Tuesday for Saturday's invasion by Georgia.

Detwiler's move was special. The bruising Toledo, Ohio, back just returned Monday from an absence because of a knee injury suffered at North Carolina. He is apparently sound again.

Defensive guard Barry Deblin hobbled around following a re-injury of his knee. Defense coach Bob Hollway described his condition as "doubtful."

Guard Ken Wright, who replaced Dehlin in Saturday's California game, will remain at that spot.

Dennis Flanagan and Hank Hanna are alternating at Bill Keating's guard. Keating is out for the season following knee surgery.

EAST LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — Michigan State put the major emphasis on defense Tuesday, impressed by the Illinois power in its 42-0 runaway over Southern Methodist.

MSU and Illinois open their Big Ten seasons at East Lansing Saturday. The Spartans also scored a shutout their last time out, 23-0 over Penn State.

HE'S READY

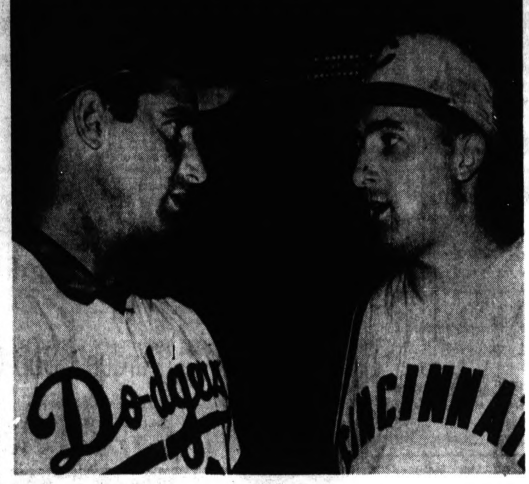

First string Spartan defensive back Charlie Thornhill was back for the workout after being sidelined by a minor ankle sprain and will be ready to go against Illinois.

Pat Gallinagh, a second string defensive guard, will miss the game because of a fractured thumb but should be ready for the next one against Michigan.

READYING FOR WOLVES — Bloomfield Hills' Barons practice a running play while preparing for Friday afternoon's key Wayne-Oakland League game with Clarkston's Wolves. Both opened with victories last week and will approach the 3:30 p.m. clit with title aspirations since Milford's defending champions already have been beaten. The Hills' players are (left to right) halfback Randy DeArment, quarterback Bob Calhoun, center Bill Kline, guard Doug Carnegie, tackle Brian Marshall and end Ken Black.

NO-HIT HURLERS DUEL — Southpaw Sandy Koufax (left) of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Jim Maloney of Cincinnati, both owners of no-hit games this season, face each other tonight when the two clubs meet in LA.

Dodgers Edge Reds, 2-1, Take 1-Game Lead

Lou Johnson Decides Extra-Inning Contest With Big Home Run

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Slugging outfielder Lou Johnson drilled a home run in the 12th inning for the Los Angeles' 11th straight victory and undisputed first place in the torrid National League pennant race.

The 32-year-old escapee from 10 years in the minor leagues, a first-year Dodger man, got the blow off relief pitcher Joey Jay.

★ ★ ★

The homer gave Los Angeles a 2-1 triumph Tuesday night over Cincinnati and propelled the remarkable Dodgers one game in front of San Francisco.

The Reds' loss dropped them five games behind the lead, with time fast running out. The three leading teams have but five games remaining.

The one-run Dodger margin was typical, but the four-bagger is not, of the Dodger image.

"We don't win too many like that," said a pleased but most undemonstrative manager, Walt Alston.

GREETED AT PLATE

There was a wild reception at home plate when Johnson literally broad-jumped the final stride around the bases. It seemed the entire Dodger squad was there for the welcome.

Later in the clubhouse, however, things were relatively quiet, almost as subdued as the Cincinnati quarters.

Johnson's homer arrived just before midnight of a 3-hour-52-minute game before 38,420 in Dodger Stadium on a 1-0 pitch. It was stamped for four bases as soon as it was hit, and landed just inside the left field foul pole.

★ ★ ★

What was his immediate reaction as he toured the bases?

"All I could see was dollar signs," said Johnson, referring to the possible $12,000 each player will get in the World Series.

It was Johnson's 12th home run of the year—and only No. 26 by the Dodgers in their own ballpark in 76 games.

With the San Francisco-St. Louis game apparently settled early, the Reds and Dodgers were scoreless after 6½ innings.

The Dodgers scored on a hit by Jeff Torberg. Nate Oliver ran for him, stole second and scored on Maury Wills' single, all at the expense of Jim O'Toole.

SCORE TIED

The Reds tied it in the eighth on a walk to Tommy Harper, a bunt and Vada Pinson's double.

Ron Perranoski relieved for starter Claude Osteen, holding the Reds hitless in 3 2-3 innings in another sterling performance, and bowed out to Howie Reed for the final inning. Reed got credit for the win, Jay the loss.

Tonight, in the Reds' final game here, it will be Sandy Koufax (24-8), and Jim Maloney (20-8), each of whom have no-hit, no-run victories this season.

★ ★ ★

Johnson, acquired by the Dodger farm system in a deal with the Chicago Cubs, came to the big club last spring when Tommy Davis broke his ankle. He had been with Spokane in the Pacific Coast League.

"Johnson picked us up at a time when we needed him, batting around .340, and he's helped us a lot in the pennant drive," Alston recalled.

In his first game as a Dodger, Johnson doubled in two runs, and in the second he hit two home runs and two singles.

Cardinals Flying High With Passing Game

NEW YORK (AP) — If the Cleveland Browns are still wondering what hit them last Sunday, a glance at National Football League team statistics will bring them up to date.

The St. Louis Cardinals, winners by a 49-13 score, lead the league in passing with 645 yards and nine touchdown passes and are tied with Philadelphia with 25 first downs passing. The Cards gained 320 yards passing against the Browns.

Six interceptions, all against Cleveland, put the Cards in first place in that department although they rank ninth in overall pass defense.

San Francisco's high-powered attack gives the 49ers the lead in total offense with 886 yards, 20 more than Cleveland. The 49ers also are tops in rushing with 388 yards.

LIONS LEAD

Detroit's surprising Lions lead in both total defense with 405 yards allowed and pass defense with 183 yards. The Los Angeles Rams have the best defense against the running game, giving up 147 yards.

★ ★ ★

Next week's schedule, calling for a Monday night game between Dallas and St. Louis will find the best passing game, St. Louis, tested by the second best pass defense, Dallas. The Cowboys have permitted only one touchdown in two games.

WEEK'S TOP BACK — Quarterback Bob Griese, who led Purdue to a 25-21 victory over Notre Dame Saturday, picked up the Associated Press Back of the Week award yesterday for his performance against the Irish.

Purdue's Bob Griese Top Back

By the Associated Press

Notre Dame Coach Ara Parseghian called Bob Griese's passing show against the Irish last Saturday "the finest performance I have ever seen."

That's the kind of praise that earned Griese, Purdue's fine signal caller, The Associated Press Back of the Week Award today.

Griese completed 19 of 22 passes, three good for touchdowns, and gained 282 yards through the air as the Boilermakers upset the top-ranked Irish 25-21.

Parseghian was quick to pay homage to the Purdue passer.

"You figure even a great passer will miss some and his receivers will drop some," the Notre Dame coach said. "But Griese and his receivers were unbelievable."

Griese set a school record, gaining 322 yards passing and running. His favorite target was Bob Hadrick, whose eight catches also set a Purdue record.

Bobby Hull Off on Trip, Club Waits

CHICAGO (UPI) — General Manager Tommy Ivan of the Chicago Black Hawks said today he was making no effort to trade star left wing Bobby Hull, who has remained away from practice for three days.

Hull's boycott of drills began Saturday when he was asked to take his two sons, Blake, 5, and Bobby, 4, out of the Hawks' dressing room.

"If they're not welcome, I'm not going to stay," he said.

Hull, his wife, and the two boys Tuesday went to Southern Illinois to inspect some cattle.

Hull runs a farm with purebred polled Hereford cattle in Canada.

Ivan said he hoped the dispute with Hull would be "settled," but said he had not talked to Hull.

Hull said he wanted to settle with Jim Norris, chairman of the board of the club.

"I'm not making any effort to trade him," Ivan said. "That's the furthest thing from our minds."

Roger Maris Recuperating

NEW YORK (AP) — Roger Maris of the New York Yankees was recovering at Roosevelt Hospital today from an operation in which he had a bone fragment removed from the base of his right hand.

Maris, virtually idle since June 28 when he hurt the hand, will remain in the hospital for a few days following Tuesday's operation. His hand will be in a plaster shell for about three weeks.

Crystal Ball Gazer Picks Spartans, 'M'

By HAROLD CLASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — Here's hoping the maid has polished up the crystal ball. Last week it was so covered with cobwebs that the only thing which came through clearly was Purdue's triumph over Notre Dame.

But there were 17 losers in the 52 decisions for an average of .652. That made the seasonal figures 70-26 for .729.

★ ★ ★

Here are this week's winners:

Michigan over Georgia: The Dixie club prides itself on its defense but the object of the game still is to score more points than your foe.

Michigan State over Illinois: Nine of the 22 men listed as regulars on the two Illinois teams are sophomores and none is named Butkus.

Texas over Indiana: Coach Darrel Royal of the Texans says it is too early in the season to name his team as the country's No. 1. For the Hoosiers it already is too late.

Purdue over Southern Methodist: Despite the Mustangs' 7-3 victory over Miami of Florida, they play in a different league. Purdue has too much too soon.

Nebraska over Iowa State: The Huskers have everything including Frank Solich, a tiny fullback who goes and goes and goes.

WITHOUT LIGHTS

Arkansas over Texas Christian: This is a night game but so many sparks will fly in this one they could play it without lights.

Florida over Louisiana State: Florida quarterback Steve Spurrier will find a way even if he has to carry the ball over the goal line himself.

Kentucky over Auburn: Roger Bird's ankle doesn't hurt anymore and he will be at his peak against Auburn.

Notre Dame over Northwestern: Those two fine Irish lads, Bill Wolski and Pete Andreotti, start Notre Dame on to victory.

ARMY RETREAT

Boston College over Army: There are many who say that sophomore fullback Brendan McCarthy of the Eagles is the best newcomer to the collegiate scene this season.

Washington over Ohio State: The Big Ten team is having difficulty scoring.

★ ★ ★

Syracuse over Maryland: Floyd Little makes the difference.

Southern California over Oregon State: By statistics, the Trojans' Mike Garrett is the best runner in the country today.

Track Coach Selected

MONROE, La. (AP) — The track coach at Northeast Louisiana State, Bob Groseclose, reports he has been notified he will coach the U.S. team in a track and field meet at Sao Paulo, Brazil, Oct. 20-21.

NEW YORK (AP)—It's the year of the pass for Texas Western and the unheralded Miners, only major college team to go winless last season, have spun off two straight high-scoring victories through their new airborne offense.

O-A, Tri-County Title Races Shape Up

Championships in the Tri-County and Oakland A leagues should be pretty well settled in the next two weeks.

The preseason games are over in the Tri-County where defending champion Kettering will open defense of its title Friday at 7:30 p.m. at Romeo.

Another Tri-County league game has Lapeer playing host to L'Anse Creuse while Oxford travels to Imlay City for a non-conference encounter.

Over in the O-A, defending titlist Troy entertains Madison, Lake Orion plays host to Clawson, Avondale travels to Warren to meet Cousino and Rochester has a date at Warren Fitzgerald.

★ ★ ★

Kettering finished two non-league contests with a 1-1 mark and how well the Captains will fare in the league race will depend on how well they fare against Romeo.

ROMEO LOADED

The Romeo squad is loaded. The Bulldogs opened with a 20-0 win over Richmond and followed it with a 12-0 triumph over Chippewa Valley.

★ ★

L'Anse Creuse and Lapeer are both 1-1 and both have been inconsistent, Oxford has dropped two in a row, and unless they improve in a hurry, the Wildcats may wind up on the bottom again this season.

Whether or not Troy has another championship squad should be decided in the next two games.

Madison (1-1) lost to a tough Oscoda squad in its opener but rebounded with a convincing 21-6 triumph over Rochester.

Should Troy get by Madison, then comes Fitzgerald, the team picked to give the Colts a run for the title.

Fitzgerald has been impressive in two outings, downing a good Hazel Park squad, 25-13, and Clawson, 28-13.

★ ★ ★

Avondale pulled a surprise last week by edging Lake Orion, 12-6, but both Avondale and Lake Orion need more experience to challenge the favorites.

Rochester, which finished in a tie for third last year, has lost two in a row and may wind up battling to stay out of the league cellar.

Wings' Lighter Goalie Crozier Back in Action

DETROIT (AP) — Roger Crozier, the Detroit Red Wings' goalie, is back to his normal playing weight of 158 pounds, but he still is on a special diet, a Red Wings' spokesman says.

Crozier, who last year garnered the Rookie-of-the-Year award and was the only National Hockey League goalie to appear in all 70 season games, was up to 170 pounds this summer, the spokesman said Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

The 5-foot-8 Crozier suffered what was called a nervous stomach attack, and his subsequent stay in ahospital brought the weight back to normal. Doctors have cut out "things like ice cream and fatty foods," the spokesman said.

"Crozier's ready to play," the spokesman added. "He's been participating in all scrimmages."

Roger-to-Gary Paces Touch Win

Roger Hayward connected with his brother, Gary, on two 20-yard scoring passes as Motorcar Bandits downed Orchard Lanes, 14-6, in Pontiac Touch Football League play last night.

Dan Greig passed 25 yards to Fred Davis for Orchard Lanes — the 1964 champion — only touchdown.

Bob Pomroy hit Darrell Lovell with three TD passes and Bob Weinberger with two to lead McDonald's Drive-In to a 36-20 victory over the offenders.

Coach Sparks Piston Victory

ARCHBOLD, Ohio (AP) — Playing-Coach Dave DeBusschere dropped in 21 points in leading his Detroit Pistons to a 120-105 victory over the Baltimore Bullets in their National Basketball Association exhibition game Tuesday night.

The victory was Detroit's second in three games. Baltimore is now 2-2.

Eddie Miles scored 19 points for Detroit. Rookie Thaler McReynolds topped Baltimore with 17 points.

Ice Star Bowing Out After Career in Minors

QUEBEC CITY, Que. (AP) — Guy Rousseau, who has starred with Cleveland, Rochester and Quebec in the American Hockey League, announced his retirement from hockey Tuesday.

Rousseau, 30, is the brother of Bobby Rousseau of the Montreal Canadiens.

Position Battles Continue Behind AL's Twins

By the Associated Press

Three things are sure in the American League — Minnesota will finish first, Washington will finish eighth, and there is a scramble for the eight other places.

After Wednesday's action, and with five days left in the season, the pennant-winning Twins and also-ran Senators have their spots clinched.

★ ★ ★

Otherwise — Baltimore's streaking Orioles are in second, just 1½ games ahead of the Chicago White Sox; two games separate the Detroit Tigers and Cleveland Indians in the fight for fourth; New York's sixth-place Yankees have only a one-game edge on the California Angels; and the Boston Red Sox are just 1½ games ahead of Kansas City's last-place Athletics.

The Orioles made it nine victories in a row Wednesday night, getting two runs in the fifth inning without a hit and trimming Minnesota 4-2.

ROCK KNOCKS

Rocky Colavito's three-run homer helped the Indians deal the Yankees their sixth straight loss, 6-3.

Joe Coleman Jr., 18-year-old son of a former big league pitcher, made his debut in the majors and pitched Washington to victory in the first game of a doubleheader 6-1. A's won the second game of the doubleheader, 8-6.

And the Angels pushed across two runs in the eighth inning on an error and a bases-filled walk, edging the Red Sox 4-3.

Baltimore netted the two runs in the fifth that proved decisive against Al Worthington, Minnesota relief ace who had been sidelined for three weeks with a sore right arm. He loaded the bases on two walks and a hit batter, then walked Brooks Robinson and Curt Blefary on eight straight pitches.

KILLEBREW HOMERS

Harmon Killebrew, recently returned to the Twins line-up after seven weeks absence due to a dislocated elbow, homered with a man on for Minnesota's two runs — his first homer since July 28.

In addition to Colavito's three-run homer, the Indians had timely singles by Leon Wagner and Fred Whitfield in their victory over the Yanks, who are headed for their worst finish in 40 years.

Coleman, just called up by the Senators from the Class A Carolina League — where he had an unimpressive 9-10 record — limited Kansas City to four hits. He blanked the A's until two were out in the ninth, then was tagged for consecutive singles by Dick Green and Bill Bryan.

The youngster's mother and father, who pitched in the American League for 10 seasons in the 1940s and 1950s, were in the stands.

Larry Stahl led the A's to victory in the second game with three runs-batted in on a triple and single. Ken McMullen homered in each game for the Senators.

With one Angel run in on Dalton Jones' error and the bases filled, Dick Radatz relieved Dave Morehead and walked Ed Kirkpatrick, forcing in the run that gave California its decision over Boston.

Kirkpatrick and Jim Fregosi homered off Morehead as he lost to the Angels for the 10th straight time.

Ex-NHL Player in Coaching Post

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Johnny Wilson, former National Hockey League player, has been named coach of Princeton University's hockey team.

★ ★ ★

Wilson's NHL career spanned 12 seasons, from 1951-62. He set a league record, since broken, of playing in 580 consecutive games.

The 36-year-old Wilson played for Detroit, Chicago, Toronto and New York.

New York Jets' Safety May Miss Denver Tilt

NEW YORK (AP) — Dainard Paulson, the New York Jets' top safety, is a doubtful starter for the American Football League club's game against Denver this week.

Paulson suffered a possible hairline fracture of the wrist in last Sunday's 33-21 loss to the Buffalo Bills.

COACH RETIRING — Horace (Bones) McKinney announced yesterday that he is retiring as basketball coach at Wake Forest College in Winston-Salem, N.C. Jack Murdock, McKinney's assistant, was named acting coach.

'Bones' McKinney Quits Coaching Job

WINSTON - SALEM, N. C. (UPI) — Flamboyant Horace Albert (Bones) McKinney, whose sideline dramatics were not what one might expect of an ordained Baptist minister, resigned Tuesday as head basketball coach at Wake Forest College.

The college announced that assistant coach Jackie Murdock, 30-year-old Wake Forest basketball immortal who was fired, and rehired in a "misunderstanding" with the school last season, would succeed the lanky, excitable McKinney.

★ ★ ★

McKinney, 45, gave poor health as the reason for his decision to quit after eight years as Deacon head coach.

He said he would hang up the lucky red socks he wore during each game and seek a non-coaching position.

McKinney coached Murdock as an 11-year-old little league basketball player in his home-town of Raleigh and later recruited his quiet, soft-spoken successor for Wake Forest.

McKinney, who has been known to throw towels at spectators and exasperate officials, submitted his letter of resignation to Wake Forest President Dr. Harold Tribble from his bed at North Carolina Baptist Hospital here.

SEVERE COLD

He was being treated for a severe cold, but the strain of 13 years on the sidelines began to show last year.

"It's getting harder every year," he told United Press International in an interview last season.

"As soon as the day of the game, it starts right here in your stomach."

McKinney came to Wake Forest in 1953 as assistant to late head coach Murray Greason.

He became head coach on March 26, 1957, and steered the Deacons to a 123-94 record in eight seasons, the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament finals five years in a row (1960-1964) and the ACC championship twice (1961-1962).

Weather Slows Assault on Land Speed Records

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Rain and wind halted scheduled preparations to try to break two world land speed records Tuesday.

Officials said nothing could be attempted on these Western Utah Salt raceways until the rain quit and the track dried. Parts of the track were under water.

★ ★ ★

Betty Skelton of Detroit set a women's world land speed record Monday of 277.82 miles per hour. This was her average in two runs through a measured mile.

Art Arfons of Akron, Ohio, is here with the jet-powered car in which he set the record of 536.71 m.p.h. last year. So far he was made only tune-up runs.

Archers Can Begin Stalking Deer In Michigan Friday

In Northern Two-Thirds of State

Grouse Hunters, Archers Start Friday

Hunters opening the small game season in Northern Michigan Friday will find grouse about as plentiful as 1964 and heavy foliage on trees and bushes.

Geese, woodcock, rabbits, squirrels and raccoons also become legal Friday in the Upper Peninsula and northern half of the Lower Peninsula.

★ ★ ★

Archers start stalking deer throughout the state Friday the same day, and bear become legal targets for gunners above the Straits.

The small game season does not open in Southern Michigan until Oct. 29. Hunters in the lower third of the state can begin taking geese when the state's duck season starts Oct. 11.

The 1964 grouse kill in Northern Michigan was the highest since the 1950s. Nearly 245,000 were bagged in the northern Lower Peninsula last year and 270,000 above the Straits.

Although leaves on trees and bushes have changed to their autumn colors in the Upper Peninsula and are beginning to turn in Lower Michigan, the foliage is still heavy enough to mon contain top-rated grouse cover below the Straits.

Other good locations are in Emmet, Isabella, Newaygo, Oceana, Clare and Arenac counties.

Woodcock hunters should find plenty of action in the northern two-thirds of the state.

Although there are indications that this fall's supply of timber doodles may be off a little from a year ago, woodcock kill is expected to approach last season's take of 18,850 in the Upper Peninsula and 93,250 in northern half of Lower Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Sharptailed grouse hunting will be limited to the Upper Peninsula. Dickinson County is closed this fall, but Drummond Island has been opened and good shooting is expected there.

Other good sharptail locations are southeast of Newberry and central Schoolcraft County.

Only a few prairie chickens remain in the Upper Peninsula because these birds closely resemble a sharptail from shooting distance and use the same cover, they are legal targets.

More geese than usual are on hand in Michigan for this time of year because an early freeze in Canada sent many honkers winging South.

Biggest concentration is around the Seney National Wildlife Refuge and in Benzie, Leelanau and Mason counties. The peak of the goose migration will be in Michigan about Oct. 25.

BEST YEAR

This fall's flight is expected to be up from last year when hunters took 40,000 geese, the best kill in 10 years.

Prospects for the bow hunters are very good.

With opening day falling on Friday, a number of archers and grouse hunters will be in the woods at the same time.

Grouse hunters often benefit the bowmen by driving deer past stands. Good archery hunting can be found in Southeastern Michigan.

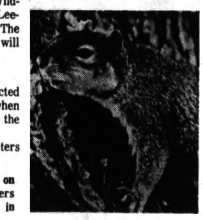

★ ★ ★

Milford, Springfield, Holly and Rose townships are good spots in Oakland County as are the Tuscola and Minden City game areas in The Thumb.

Bear hunters had exceptional luck during the brief September season and more of the same is predicted for the 15-day hunt which opens Friday. Dogs can be used.

The National Bear Hunt will be Friday through Sunday in the Brimley area.

Rabbit populations in Northern Michigan continue spotty. A cold spell will start snowshoes turning from brown to white. Squirrel numbers are about the same.

Campers Need Police: O'Brien

Senator Hits Facilities at Pontiac Lake

State Senator Carl W. O'Brien (D-Pontiac) has thrown his support behind future expansion of state camping sites and better police protection in the parks, especially in those serving the Metropolitan areas.

O'Brien, co-chairman of a special State Senate Committee which investigated the camp situation, said he reached his conclusions after touring several of the parks Sept. 2-4.

★ ★ ★

"Some or our parks through which we toured have good setups," O'Brien said, "but they are still too small; for instance, the Pontiac and Waterloo parks. Others are just plain lacking in facilities and don't do one bit of good for Michigan's image as a great outdoor state.

"When one gets into parks that serve the big population areas, we have to have adequate police enforcement.

"That stood out most to me. When you have 700 trailers lined up in a camp, there's a little city in itself and the campers need protection just as if they were in the city," O'Brien said.

★ ★ ★

O'Brien said a multi-million dollar expansion program in the future would most likely be needed to serve the needs of the people.

"This camping business is really booming and it looks as if it will get even bigger," he said.

The expansion program, according to conservation officials, would require acquisition of key parcels of land as the first priority, O'Brien pointed out.

Department to Seek Big Budget Increase

The Conservation Department will ask a budget jump from $26 million to at least $36 million next year, director Ralph MacMullan said last Saturday.

MacMullan told directors of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs that even a $10 million increase would knock the state's proposed 10-year, $100 million parks development and expansion program a year behind schedule — "a downright dirty shame."

The department's budget for the current fiscal year climbed $6 million from 1964-65.

MacMullan said "this tremendous forward step . . . didn't close the gap between demands and present services and facilities."

He said $10 million of the proposed budget will be earmarked for park development but that the department actually needs $15 million to keep on schedule.

FISH LICENSES

MacMullan also said the department will propose overhaul of the fishing license fee structure.

He said the present system does not yield enough revenue and exempts too many groups of fishermen.

He wants the $2 base resident fee raised to $3 and license requirements extended to married women and Great Lakes fishermen. Other proposals include temporary licenses for non-residents and once-a-year permits for residents.

Coupled with an accounting shift which would take some administrative costs away from the game and fish protection, the changes would produce $1.1 million for additional fish management.

MacMullan said the department will also seek from the Legislature:

—Discretionary authority to manage the state's fish and game.

—A "more realistic" basis to manage the southern Michigan deer herd.

—Renewal of the expiring two-year authority to hold elk hunting seasons.

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's Solunar Tables. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Duck Stamp Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — The sale of federal duck stamps totaled 1,565,860 during the year ended June 30, an increase of 110,374 over the previous year, Secretary of the Interior Stewart L. Udall announced.

prove a major handicap to hunters.

BIG BAY AREA

Grouse populations are down slightly in the eastern Upper Peninsula and up in the western sector. The Big Bay area of Marquette County is expected to offer good shooting.

Creek bottomland and adjacent hardwood ridges northeast of Cousino in northern Schoolcraft County and central Alger County are good possibilities. Another good bet is the headwaters of Two-Hearted River.

Northern Midland County, Grousehaven (Rifle River Area) near Rose City, the bottomlands of the East Branch of the Augres River, in Iosc County, the Udall Hills in Manistee County and the hills north of Roscom-

Fish Winner in This Case Big Triumph

SHEFFIELD, England (AP) — This is a real fish story. George Holland, dropped his bait can into the Derwent River, then dropped his car keys trying to recover the can.

★ ★ ★

Worse followed. He fell into the river trying to recover the keys. He had to force a side window to get into his car and, without keys, had to short the ignition to start the engine. But he couldn't turn the wheel since the anti-theft device on it was locked.

"The whole affair," George said, "was a triumph for the fish."

Whitetail Roundup

Grayling and Crawford County will start the bow-hunting season off with an "Archers Whitetail Roundup" October 1-3.

Deer Permit Deadline Near

The deadline for postmarking antlerless deer permit applications which are to be mailed to the Conservation Department's Lansing office is this Friday, Oct. 1.

In previous years, the final day for postmarking these applications has been a week to 10 days later.

However, with upwards of 300,000 applications expected this fall, the cut-off date was moved up to allow time to process entries for a machine drawing which will be held Oct. 15 to select permit holders.

As another reminder, the department points out that Area 14 covering Bois Blanc Island is part of the Upper Peninsula and therefore will come under that region's Nov. 13-28 firearm deer season.

The island is incorrectly shown as a Lower Peninsula area in the 1965 rules for hunting deer.

Romney Vows Study on State Subsidy to Raise Police Pay

LANSING (AP) — A study of proposals that the state should help provide adequate pay for policemen is promised by Gov. George Romney.

Romney said after his governor's conference on crime and law Tuesday that his staff would initiate the study. The conference had agreed the state should help in the pay of law enforcement officers. Romney conceded there would be a problem in effecting a program.

* * *

But he added another pitch for tax reform by noting that such assistance "would be linked importantly to the state's financial picture and the public's recognition of the need for such a program."

About 200 persons concerned with law enforcement heard Romney and Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley call for new steps to meet what Kelley called the "crime crisis."

SEVEN POINTS

The governor, as conference chairman, listed seven points of agreement reached during the day-long meeting.

These included:

—The state should establish minimum police training standards.

—The state should financially support police training and trainees.

—The state should financially support adequate pay for law enforcement officers.

—A Michigan crime information center should be created.

—So should a crime prevention center.

—A statewide conference should be scheduled for exchange of information on crime-fighting programs and community relations efforts.

—Separate facilities for lawbreakers between 17 and 21-years-old should be developed.

* * *

Romney said the nature of the conference did not permit in-depth discussion of the pay assistance question.

He said several participants questioned whether it would violate municipal home rule laws but favored the idea.

CIRCUIT JUDGES

The state has a pay assistance program for circuit judges. The state pays the first $15,000 in salary and the circuit pays whatever additional it chooses, ranging from $1,000 to $14,500 per judge.

Romney said no dollar figures were discussed regarding supplemental law enforcement salaries.

A. F. Brandstatter, head of the Police Administration School at Michigan State University, agreed that "the upgrading of law enforcement in every respect should be emphasized."

"The present level of preparation for police service is totally inadequate for our very complex society," he said.

COLLEGE EDUCATION

A minimum of two years of college education should be required, he said, and four years of college would be ideal.

At present, he said, police departments vary in training their officer candidates from 40 to 250 hours. Some police departments hire officers without an hour of training, he said.

Brandstatter said between 50 to 75 per cent of high school graduates now are going on to college. But most police department trainees come from the marginal level of high school graduates, he said.

"We must recruit those with a high leadership ability," he said.

'Growers Rejected Teen Help'

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan farmers rejected the services of several thousand teen-agers as potential pickle pickers just before last summer's harvest season, a Michigan Employment Security Commission official said yesterday.

The high school students' help was offered just before a critical labor shortage prior to the picking season, F. M. Mitchell, chief of the Employment Service Division of MESC, said.

Only eight of 32 growers who had been offered the services of 4,500 teen-agers took advantage of the available labor, he added.

Only 475 boys actually went to work in the fields, he said.

Several farmers contracted with the youths, but then told them enough adult labor was available to do the job, Mitchell explained.

Carpenter's Sealab Work Hailed by Scientist-Diver

LA JOLLA, Calif. (AP) — A civilian scientist-diver admits he scoffed when he first learned astronaut M. Scott Carpenter was going to head a team of divers in the Navy's Sealab 2 experiment.

He returned to the surface believing that Carpenter "is the best thing that ever happened to underwater research."

* * *

Physicist George B. Dowling, 38, who spent 15 days with Carpenter and eight others in the 12-by-58-foot steel cylinder on the floor of the Pacific 1,000 yards offshore, said in an interview:

"I was frankly skeptical. I thought, 'They're going to let him go down because he's what he is — an astronaut.'

'WELL-EQUIPPED'

"But that was before I met him.

"After two weeks in Sealab 2 I am convinced they couldn't have picked a better man for the job. I've never known anyone as considerate, as painstaking, as well-equipped for this kind of work.

* * *

"Just for instance, our breathing tanks were the latest and best that could be obtained, very advanced models. But while we were still in training, Carpenter found 25 changes that had to be made and all of them were worthwhile.

"That probably was from his training as a test pilot. But there were many other things that made us respect and like him. There was no task too menial for him to do. Whenever he saw something that needed doing, he didn't tell someone; he did it himself.

"I don't know when he got any sleep."

OCEANOGRAPHER

Dowling, a civil service oceanographer at the Navy Mine Defense Laboratory at Panama City, Fla., has degrees in chemistry and physics and is close to winning his doctorate in physical oceanography.

A member of the second team to spend two weeks 205 feet below the surface in Sealab 2, Dowling returned with his teammates Sunday and, after 30 hours in a decompression chamber, appeared with them at a news conference Tuesday.

* * *

Interviewed later, Dowling gave an unusual, unofficial picture of the Sealab 2 experiment to test man's ability to function underwater for long periods — an experiment which will end when the third team comes up Oct. 10.

"The laboratory for which I work is interested in countermeasures against underwater weaponry," Dowling said. "Many of the experiments we conducted obviously had military applications.

MEASURED CURRENT

"We measured current and temperatures, for instance, because you can correlate changes in those factors with changes in sonar signals and thus get a better idea of whatever target your sonar is hitting.

"Some of us swam along marked lines to measure how far away objects can be recognized as a way of helping divers locate mines on the bottom.

* * *

"But much of our planned research work suffered because of the unexpected difficulty of doing simple tasks at that depth. Things we figured would take 10 minutes required 40 or 50.

* * *

"Just cutting the steel bands from a parcel of stakes we used to tether cables took 10 minutes or more. On the surface you could do it in seconds," he said.

Large-Scale War on Pollution Is Urged

CHICAGO (AP) — Sen. Gaylord A. Nelson, D-Wis., called Tuesday for an expenditure of $50 billion to $100 billion in the next 20 years for conservation and for eliminating pollution in lakes and rivers.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Nelson told the Allied Industrial Workers Union's 15th biennial convention that in 25 years all five Great Lakes "will be turned into nothing but vast chemical tanks" by industrial and city waste dumping.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Nelson warned that Lake Erie has "already been polluted beyond redemption" and that Lake Michigan would be the same way if the dumping trend continued.

Dems Lead Youth Move in Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is a youth movement in the Senate, and the Democrats are leading the way.

The staid, old chamber has hardly become a young men's club—the average age of all senators is slightly over 58.

* * *

But the Democratic average is about 57 and has been going down, while the GOP average is 61½ and has been going up.

The Democrats hold a 68-32 majority and have controlled the Senate since 1955.

13 FRESHMEN

Since 1962, the Democrats have sent 13 freshmen senators to Washington with an average age of 43. The oldest, Connecticut's Abraham A. Ribicoff, is now 55, while the youngest, Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts is 33.

Republicans, during the same period, have sent six new senators, ranging from 45-year-old James B. Pearson of Kansas to 67-year-old Milward L. Simpson of Wyoming, with an average age of 58.

* * *

The result is that of 23 senators under 50, only three are Republicans. Two of the three, John G. Tower of Texas and Jack Miller of Iowa, face tough election battles next year.

Three of the six newest GOP senators are former governors of their states—Simpson, 67; L. B. Jordan of Idaho, 66; and Paul Fannin of Arizona, 58.

APPOINTEE, 37

When Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey resigned from the Senate last December, Minnesota Gov. Karl Rolvaag appointed Walter F. Mondale, now 37, to succeed him.

The effect of this Democratic youth movement is apparent on the Senate floor.

* * *

The immigration bill was floor-managed by Edward Kennedy. It was the first time he had led the fight for a major administration bill since he entered the Senate in 1962. Earlier this year he led an effort—opposed by the administration—to put a poll tax ban into the voting rights bill. It failed by four votes.

The, pending constitutional amendment on presidential disability was written and floor-managed by Indiana's Birch Bayh, 37, a Democrat.

YOUNG DEFENDERS

The chief defenders of the Supreme Court's "one man, one vote" decision against the Dirksen amendment on reapportionment were Joseph D. Tydings, 37, D-Md., and Edward Kennedy.

And the successful fight to keep control of foreign farm labor in the hands of the secretary of labor was led for the administration last week by Ross Bass, 47, D-Tenn.

The Democrats have something of a monopoly among the Senate's graybeards, too. The seven oldest Democrats are all older than the two oldest Republicans, 73-year-olds George D. Aiken of Vermont and Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts.

The oldest senator of them all is Arizona's Carl Hayden, who is nearing his 88th birthday. Hayden was a relative youngster, 49, when he started. But he's been around for a record 38 years.

3,000 Detroit Elderly Due Free Dental Care

DETROIT (AP)—About 3,000 Detroit elder citizens are going to get free dental service under a government program designed to determine the cost of such service for all persons over 65 years of age.

The University of Detroit announced the study program Tuesday under a $140,000 federal grant. The program is to start next year.

Pope, LBJ Will Set Precedent

First Meeting in U.S. of Pontiff, President

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The meeting Monday of Pope Paul VI with President Johnson in New York will be a milestone in relations between the United States and the Vatican.

It will be the first encounter on American soil between a U.S. chief executive and a Roman Catholic pontiff. It will come at a time when the Vatican is taking a growing role in world affairs, bringing it into diplomatic contact — if not actual diplomatic relations — with the U.S. government.

The subject of Vatican-Washington diplomatic ties will loom in the background although it may not figure directly in the conversations.

They will meet in the New York apartment of the U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, Arthur J. Goldberg.

AT VATICAN

Popes and American presidents have met three times before, but always at the Vatican.

The first such meeting was between Woodrow Wilson and Pope Benedict XV Jan. 4, 1919. Wilson was in Europe for the Versailles peace treaty conference that formally ended World War I. Wilson and Pope Benedict conversed in English. The Pope praised the American president for his efforts to form the League of Nations.

★ ★ ★

Dwight D. Eisenhower was the next U.S. chief executive to call on a pope. He saw John XXIII in the latter's private library Dec. 6, 1959, as Eisenhower began an 11-nation tour of Asia and Europe.

During the 27-minute audience, Pope John said he rejoiced that the United States aspired toward "the lofty ideals of a loyal and effective concord between nations." The Pope invoked "celestial blessings" for Americans. President Eisenhower expressed his thanks.

DREW PRAYERS

John F. Kennedy met the present Pope July 2, 1963. They were together 50 minutes in the papal library, and the pontiff said he would pray for Kennedy's efforts to end racial discrimination.

On the eve of that audience the Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano hinted that the Vatican would like closer ties with the United States.

The newspaper praised President Franklin D. Roosevelt's assignment of a personal representative to the Vatican in 1939 — and by implication suggested it would like to see a new envoy sent here.

Apparently, nothing ever came of the hint.

Airman Braves Dangers on Carrier for $136 a Month

IN THE SOUTH CHINA SEA (AP) — The next time you begin to despair of the younger generation, of bearded beatniks tearing up their draft cards and picketing the White House, think of kids like Billy Collins.

Airman Apprentice Collins, from Madison, Wis., is 19. His short-cropped blond hair often is matted with sweat, and the grease and grime of his precarious profession run down his face in streaky black rivulets.

Collins is a hook runner, the most dangerous job on the deck of the aircraft carrier Independence.

War to Billy Collins means standing in the dark in the middle of the flight deck, five feet from the foul line, while a 50,000-pound attack bomber thunders toward him at better than 200 miles an hour. As soon as the pilot catches the arresting gear with his plane's tail hook, Billy runs out to be sure the plane has disengaged the wire, then waves it forward to be parked on the bow. If, as frequently happens with Sky Hawks and smaller prop planes, the tail hook fails to disengage, Billy tries to dislodge it by belting the wire with a boat hook.

MAKE ABOUT $136

"Those kids make about $136 a month. I wouldn't take that job for a general's paycheck," said Lt. Cmdr. Jim Bell of Cumberland, Md., a jet pilot who doesn't regard his own job as half so dangerous.

Bell flies a huge Vigilante reconnaissance bomber on strikes into North Viet Nam, regularly risking Communist antiaircraft fire and surface-to-air missiles.

"Hook runners," says Jim Bell, who sees these kids come running out every time his Vigilante hits the deck, "have been blown overboard, sucked into jet intakes, chopped to pieces by propeller blades, severely burned by jet blasts.

"Running around out there in the dark, they can trip over the arresting wires, slip on the oil-slick flight deck and maybe fall down the elevator to a deck 90 feet below. And always, of course, there's the danger of being hit by a runaway plane."

Aside from a few minor jet blast burns and skidding on the deck a few times, none of these things has happened to Billy Collins, so it came as news to him that the pilots regarded his job as the most dangerous aboard the carrier.

But Billy knows what it is to be bone-weary, soaked in sweat, with head throbbing and ears ringing from the constant whine and whoosh of the jets, and still carry on, watch after watch, day after day. Since the Independence has been flying bombing sorties day and night, Billy Collins has been putting in an 18-hour working day.

MAINTENANCE WORK

When the planes aren't coming back, he's down on his hands and knees on the broiling flight deck doing maintenance work on the four landing wires. Or maybe he's working with the catapult crews on "Vulture's Row" near the bridge island or pushing planes around in the world's most complicated parking lot. All this for $136 a month. Not even a chevron on your sleeve to show your girl.

★ ★ ★

On any given day, Billy Collins runs out to meet 90 to 100 planes. Sometimes, between takeoffs and recoveries, he gets to curl up in the shade of a rack of bombs for a quick nap out on deck. Some days, when he's lucky, he might get to eat two whole meals down in the crew mess, instead of sandwiches and coffee in paper cups out on the flight lines.

★ ★ ★

On those rare, rare nights when the moon is too bright for the bombers to go, Billy can sit for a few hours out on deck, watching the South China Sea slip silently by beneath the Independence's hull. Someone is sure to break out a guitar and the hook runners will get to singing. The music is always rock 'n' roll.

★ ★ ★

But somehow out here it doesn't sound all that bad," says Lt. Cmdr. Church McKenna, a jet pilot from San Diego, Calif. "Whenever anyone tells me the younger generation is going to hell, I think of these kids out there risking their lives and singing those nutty songs."

BILLY COLLINS

Haiti's infant mortality rate is 20 per cent. Only one child in seven attends school.

American book publishers reported sales of a record 1.04 billion dollars in 1964.

Median income of U. S. families in 1964 was about $6,800, up 5 per cent from 1963 and 57 per cent higher than 10 years earlier.

Refrigerated Green Salad Has Crispy Cold Charm

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Get a restaurant captain talking and he's likely to tell you about some pet preparation of his own.

When a New York friend of ours dined out recently, that's just what she did — and came up with some salad know-how that she passed along to us. Here's what we learned — and tried:

You mix all the ingredients for a French-type salad dressing — except the oil — in a salad bowl. Then you add the salad greens and any other ingredients you wish. Next you cover the bowl and refrigerate it for several hours.

When you are ready to serve, you bring the salad to the table, add chilled safflower oil, and toss before your family or guests. The salad will be cold and crisp.

Just be sure to follow directions and add the oil at the last minute; if it is added sooner, it will wilt the greens.

Safflower oil, by the way, does not solidify when it's chilled, so you won't have to take it out of the refrigerator before you use it.

If you like garlic - flavored oil in your salads, peel a clove of garlic, cut it in half and drop it into the bottle of oil before chilling.

Or use the garlic-flavored oil in which to brown cubes of bread for croutons in a Caesar-type salad.

In the following salad recipe, we've suggested that you use a garlic crusher. But if that small utensil is not at hand, do this.

Peel a garlic clove, cut it in slivers and turn it onto a piece of heavy wax paper. Then use the flat side of a wide-blade heavy chopping knife to mash and crush the garlic slivers.

Peel garlic and put through garlic-crusher into a large salad bowl. Add lemon juice, mustard, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce; mix well.

Place salad greens and tomatoes over dressing in bowl, do not mix. Cover tightly and chill until ready to serve. At serving time, sprinkle the chopped egg over the top of salad.

Add safflower oil and toss lightly but well. Makes 6 servings.

Creamed Fish

Nice for Friday lunch: flaked cooked fish added to a well seasoned cheddar cheese sauce and served over toast. A sprinkling of minced parsley or paprika just before serving will make the dish look extra attractive.

First Layer's Sticky

If you are preparing a two-layer gelatin mold, have the first layer set but not firm before adding the second layer. At this stage, the gelatin should stick to your finger when you touch it and mound or move to the side when you tilt it.

Mike's Salad

1 small garlic clove
3 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon salt
Freshly ground pepper to taste
½ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
5 cups mixed salad greens, packed down
2 medium tomatoes, each cut in 6 wedges
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
¼ cup chilled safflower oil

Measuring Butter

Each quarter pound stick of butter or margarine equals one-half cup. Remembering this fact simplifies measuring.

Special Training Proposed for Men Rejected by Draft Boards

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The director of the Selective Service System says he is considering a plan that would be "something almost approaching universal service."

Under the plan, said Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, men now being rejected by their draft boards would be given special training to prepare them for a national emergency, during which they would be expected to serve.

He spoke to the National Guard Association of the United States, which will consider endorsing his proposal Thursday.

Hershey said his plan initially calls for a two-year, full-time training period for between 25,000 and 30,000 men rejected for regular military service.

He called the plan "Pilot Tests For 1-Ys." Men considered fit to serve only in time of emergency are classified 1-Y.

★ ★ ★

Hershey said the the 1-Ys would be trained away from home to escape old environments and they would be given educational opportunities.

★ ★ ★

He said more than half of America's youths are unable to meet draft standards.

"During the last fiscal year, we rejected 130,000 before even taking them from the local boards," said Hershey. "Of those, 54,000 were turned down for moral reasons — that usually means being convicted of something that is antimoral."

In addition to these rejections, Hershey said, 50.5 per cent of the men who took preinduction tests were rejected, mostly for physical or mental reasons.

The white-haired general said that marriages by young men about to be drafted presented no serious problems.

★ ★ ★

"At the rate we are moving," he said, "we'll get to them early next year anyway. They'll get a reprieve rather than a pardon."

Maj. Gen. Curtis R. Low, assistant chief of staff for Air Force Reserve forces, told the conference that during the past fiscal year, Air Guardsmen and Air Force Reservists flew more than 350,000 hours in direct support of the Air Force.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, Army vice chief of staff, told the more than 2,000 officers: "Our forces have greatly improved weapons and equipment which enable them to respond to the entire range of possible conflict — from the most unsophisticated on up to general nuclear war."

Wrong Man Sent South

Three Deputies Suspended in Mix-Up

DETROIT (UPI) — Police admitted today they were fooled by a couple of playful prisoners and sent the wrong man on a long ride to Virginia.

Three deputies were suspended for their roles in the mix-up which resulted in Giuseppe Tocco, 22, charged with an armed robbery here, playing the role of Robert Ramsey, 33, wanted in his home town of Charlottesville, Va., on a bigamy charge.

Wayne County Sheriff Peter Buback said Tocco spoke up when deputies came to the lockup and asked for Ramsey Sunday.

Tocco correctly answered questions about Ramsey's age, birth place and other things, officers said, indicating the two men staged the masquerade.

Tocco then accompanied C. O. Durham, assistant Charlottesville police chief, back to Virginia. Durham discovered the deception yesterday about the same time Ramsey admitted he wasn't Tocco.

Officers said Tocco apparently believed he might go free, perhaps on bond, if he took Ramsey's rap.

Buback said the three deputies should have taken fingerprints to verify Ramsey's identity. He suspended them for five days.

Romney Boosting Candidate in N.J.

NEWARK, N. J. (AP)—Gov. George Romney of Michigan arrives here today to bolster the campaign of Republican gubernatorial candidate Wayne Dumont Jr.

Romney, accompanied by his wife, will motor from New York City to Newark in the afternoon, hold a news conference, and then meet privately with major financial contributors before the main event of the day—a $100-a-plate dinner at the Robert Treat Hotel.

Home Rule for D.C. Is Near Crucial Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The District of Columbia home rule bill enters the crucial amendment stage in the House today, with its backers still confident they can put over a bipartisan compromise.

* * *

But the pending business of the House is a substitute offered by Rep. B. F. Sisk, D-Calif., calling for a referendum to see if District residents want home rule, and then an election of a board to work out a city charter.

There was a possibility that other amendments would be disposed of, too. More than 20 of them were lying on the speaker's table when the House adjourned Tuesday night.

* * *

The House completed two days of general debate late Tuesday. Several opponents said it was unfair to label them anti-civil rights or anti-Negro when they opposed home rule on constitutional grounds. Washington is more than 50 per cent Negro.

Under Sisk's plan, the charter board would have seven months to map out the kind of government the city should have, and would have $300,000 to hire experts on municipal government. Then the charter would be submitted to the voters, and finally to Congress.

* * *

Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis., opposed the Sisk proposal on the ground that Washington residents have overwhelmingly approved home rule in previous referenda. The capital now is governed by Congress and a three-man commission appointed by the President.

* * *

The compromise bill, which home rule strategists believe will prevail, would give the District self-government next year. It provides for an elected mayor and city council and a nonvoting delegate to the House.

* * *

The bill originally conformed closely with the version passed by the Senate.

Chilly Weather Means Soup

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Weather such as Pontiac has been having for the past few days makes a cook think about soups and chowders for the evening meal. A big bowl of thick soup, some kind of bread, salad and a favorite dessert — that's good fall eating.

Everyone knows about the bean soup served daily in the Senate dining room of our nation's capitol. That one takes a long time to prepare.

But here is a quick version of bean soup.

Baked Bean Soup

½ cup onions, chopped fine
1 medium carrot, sliced thin
1 stalk celery, chopped fine
3 tablespoons butter or margarine
2½ cups canned pork and beans
4 cups water
2 frankfurters
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
Salt and pepper to taste
Paprika

Saute onions, carrots and celery in butter till lightly browned. Combine with beans, water and 1 frankfurter that has been cut in half lengthwise. Simmer 20 minutes, then discard frankfurter which will be flavorless.

Add the other frankfurter, sliced thin, the worcestershire sauce and salt and pepper. Simmer about 5 minutes to heat thoroughly and serve very hot. Top with croutons and sprinkle with paprika. Serves 4 to 6.

If you own a blender, you can have the smoothest potato soup imaginable. Even if you're late getting home some night, the family won't have to wait too long for this treat.

Legendary Potato Soup

1 cup of 1" carrot pieces
1 cup of 1" leek pieces
3 cups water
3 cups of 1" potato pieces
1 medium onion, cut in eighths
2 teaspoons salt
¼ cup butter
3 cups milk

Put carrot and leek pieces into blender container, cover with water, cover container and process until carrots are grated.

Drain water and put into soup kettle with potato pieces, onion and salt. Cook about 20 minutes until potatoes are tender.

Meanwhile, melt butter in skillet and saute carrots and leek about 15 minutes. When potatoes are cooked, remove from kettle, reserving cooking water, and put half in the blender along with half the milk.

Cover and process on high until smooth. Add to reserved liquid and repeat process with remaining potatoes and milk.

Add sauteed vegetables to soup and simmer about 15 minutes to blend flavors. Makes 2 quarts.

Convenience foods are meant to make life easier for the homemaker. The following recipe for a hearty corn chowder proves the point. By starting with an onion sauce mix, you take only minutes to prepare this soup. And what flavor!

Hearty Corn Chowder

1 envelope (¾-oz.) creamy onion sauce mix
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk
1 cup water
1 can (1-lb.) cream-style corn
1 teaspoon prepared yellow mustard

Combine sauce mix, milk, water, corn and mustard. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. 4 servings.

MADE WITH ROLLS — Salad Sandwich Loaf, attractively decorated and delightfully flavored, will become a luncheon favorite. The recipe is amazingly simple because you begin with a package of the new sesafe rolls, completely baked and frozen.

Make Sandwich Loaf With New Frozen Rolls

A pretty sandwich loaf served at a buffet luncheon always provides compliments for the hostess.

Here's an unusual new way of preparing a sandwich loaf that's so simple and delectable, all your friends will wish they'd thought of it first. The idea was suggested at the Newspaper Food Editors Conference as an elegant way to present the new frozen, completely baked sesame rolls.

You just slice the entire package of rolls into three layers, without separating the individual rolls. Then spread ham salad and egg salad between the layers and a mixture of whipped cream cheese and mayonnaise on the sides.

Garnished with parsley, Salad Sandwich Loaf is pleasing to the eye and to the taste.

The loaf could also be prepared with other frozen rolls, such as finger rolls, Parker House rolls and dinner rolls. You might vary the fillings, too.

Salad Sandwich Loaf

1 package frozen sesame rolls, thawed
Butter
Egg filling
Ham filling
1 package (4 ozs.) whipped cream cheese or whipped blue cheese
2 to 3 tablespoons mayonnaise or dairy sour cream
Parsley

Slice roll loaf lengthwise in three layers. Assemble sandwich loaf by spreading cut sides with butter; then spread egg filling on one layer and ham filling on other. Replace top layer, pressing down lightly.

Blend cream cheese and mayonnaise until smooth; spread on sides of sandwich loaf, leaving top plain. For that extra touch, use pastry tube to pipe part of cream cheese around upper edge of loaf. Garnish with parsley sprigs.

Refrigerate until ready to serve. Eight servings.

Egg Filling

3 hard-cooked eggs
¼ cup chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped green onion
2 tablespoons chopped radish
2 tablespoons mayonnaise

Mash eggs with fork; add remaining ingredients and mix well. Refrigerate until ready to use.

Ham Filling

1 cup ground cooked ham
2½ tablespoons crushed pineapple, well drained
2 tablespoons chopped dill pickle
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
½ teaspoon prepared mustard

Combine all ingredients and mix well. Refrigerate until ready to use.

Brandy and Jam on Chocolate Cake

This is a delectable way to cover a chocolate-cake layer.

French Chocolate Cake

1 nine-inch chocolate-cake layer
⅓ cup apricot preserves
2 tablespoons brandy
1 cup heavy cream
½ cup sweet cocoa mix (the kind used for making a beverage)

Cover sides of serving plate on which cake is to be placed with 4 wide strips of wax paper. Brush crumbs from cake and center on serving plate.

Stir together the apricot preserves and brandy and spoon over top of cake, spreading evenly.

Whip together the cream and cocoa mix until thick; spread over preserves and over sides of cake. Pull away strips of paper from plate. Store in the refrigerator.

Low Calorie Foods Become First Course

Canned consomme and raw vegetables make a refreshing first course that is low in calories.

Place 1 (10½ ounce) can of condensed consomme in refrigerator for about 4 hours, or until jelled. Divide soup into three (4 ounce) stemmed glasses, layering it with a total of ⅓ to ½ cup of chopped raw vegetables (carrot, celery, cucumber, radishes, watercress, and parsley).

Top each with a spoonful of salted whipped cream.

Keep Parmesan Cheese to Grate as Needed

If you like to use Parmesan cheese in your cooking, you'll find it at its best when it is freshly grated. Small rotary type cheese graters are widely available and inexpensive.

If you buy the Parmesan in a piece, you can use this handy little kitchen utensil to grate the cheese as you need it.

Put Peaches in Shell of Topping Mix

A delight to the eye and an ambrosia to the taste . . . these heavenly individual desserts add sparkle to any meal. The unequaled taste of Fresh Michigan Peaches is heightened by the sharpness of the almonds in the fluffy, delightfully light shells.

Fresh Peaches In Almond Shells

1 envelope whipped topping mix
½ cup milk
¼ teaspoon almond extract
½ cut sliced almons, broken fine
2 cups sliced fresh Michigan peaches
Mash 1 small fresh peach and add water to make ¾ cup
2 tablespoon cornstarch

Prepare whipped topping mix with milk and almond extract as directed on the package. Fold in broken, sliced almonds. Drop mixture onto waxed paper or aluminum foil on a cookie sheet (dividing it into 6 parts of about ⅓ cup each) as you would for drop cookies.

With a spoon make a depression in the top of each mound. Freeze until firm — about 2 hours.

Combine the mashed peach and water with the cornstarch in a saucepan and cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and becomes clear. Add peaches to thickened liquid and cool. Spoon into frozen shells.

To save time in serving the dessert, the shells can be placed on the serving plate, the peach mixture spooned into them, then the plate can be returned to the freezer while the first courses are served.

Simmer Zucchini in Tart Liquid

Cut 1 pound zucchini-squash into French-fry size strips. Saute 1 chopped onion in 1½ tablespoons butter 'til soft but not brown. Add zucchini and 1 teaspoon Hungarian paprika. Cook slowly 5 minutes.

Mash 1 teaspoon butter with 1 teaspoon flour (use a knife), add to skillet with ¼ cup cider vinegar, ½ cup water, ¼ teaspoon dill seeds, 1 teaspoon sugar, ¼ teaspoon salt.

Stir 'til boiling then cover and simmer slowly 'til crisp-tender, about 20 minutes. Serves 4.

Noodles and Pecans

Nutty noodles complement a platter of cold meats for an informal party meal. Cook 1 pound (about 8 cups) of medium egg noodles as label directs. Drain. Melt ½ cup of butter or margarine. Add ¾ cup of chopped pecans and cook 5 minutes. Toss nut-butter mixture with noodles. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

BUSHEL BASKET PLATTER — Among food tops given editors at a brunch hosted by the Florida Citrus Commission in connection with the 23rd annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference in Chicago, was this Bushel Basket Platter. A butter sauce made with frozen Florida grapefruit juice concentrate adds unique flavor to fresh, frozen or canned vegetables.

Extend With Celery

To extend a package of frozen vegetables such as peas, green beans or chopped spinach, add finely diced celery when you add the butter or margarine. The crisp texture of the celery benefits the softer cooked vegetables.

Mush for Dinner

When you want to serve cornmeal mush with a main dish, turn it into a shallow pan and chill. Cut the mush in small squares and arrange in a shallow baking pan; dot with butter, sprinkle copiously with Parmesan cheese and heat in a hot oven.

Frozen Juice Puts Tang In Sauce

Editors attending the 23rd annual Newspaper Food Editors Conference in Chicago were entertained at a brunch by the Florida Citrus Commission the first day.

The emphasis was on youth—The Fountain of Youth, for this past August 28th marked the 400th anniversary of the settlement of Florida when a Spanish expedition landed at what is now St. Augustine in 1565.

While Columbus had brought the first citrus seeds to this hemisphere, it was Ponce de Leon and his adventuring band of Conquistadores who sowed them while searching for the elusive Fountain of Youth.

History tells us there were oranges growing around St. Augustine in 1579, thus making Florida's citrus industry almost 400 years old!

Whether they realized it or not, the early Spaniards hence made a valuable contribution to the modern search for the Fountain of Youth. We have learned much about the importance of proper foods in our daily diets to ensure longer, healthier and therefore happier lives, and citrus fruits play no small part in the drama.

High in vitamin C content, low in calories, and always delicious whether you purchase citrus in fresh, frozen, chilled or canned form, oranges and grapefruit add nutritional value as well as fine flavor to breakfast, lunch and dinner menus.

One of the most convenient, easiest ways to utilize citrus is with the frozen juice concentrates. Frozen Florida grapefruit juice concentrate imparts refreshingly tart, tingly taste to a recipe for a simple sauce of undiluted concentrate and melted butter or margarine, lightly flavored with garlic.

If you have trouble getting your family to eat nutritious vegetables, make hot, cooked fresh, frozen or canned vegetables, irresistably appetizing by serving them with this piquant sauce.

Bushel Basket Platter

½ cup butter or margarine, melted
3 tablespoons frozen Florida grapefruit juice concentrate, thawed, undiluted
1 garlic clove, optional
4 cups sliced vegetables, cooked*

Melt butter in skillet; add undiluted grapefruit concentrate and garlic clove. Let mixture cook over low heat about 4 minutes. Pour over hot cooked vegetables. Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

*Use vegetables in season, such as: cauliflower buds, squash, green beans, carrots, celery, cabbage, mushrooms, etc. Drained canned vegetables or frozen cooked vegetables may also be used.

Fresh Corn Blends Into Skillet Mixture

Fresh corn goes into a skillet tomato dish with celery added.

Tomatoes With Corn and Celery

1 can (1 pound) stewed tomatoes
1 cup whole kernels cut from fresh uncooked corn
1 cup diced celery
1 to 2 tablespoons butter
1 to 2 tablespoons flour
Salt and pepper to taste

In a saucepan, gently cook the tomatoes, corn and celery until the corn is tender and celery still crisp — about 5 minutes.

Blend together 1 tablespoon butter and 1 tablespoon flour; add to tomato mixture; cook and stir constantly until thickened.

If you wish vegetables thicker, blend and add another tablespoon each of butter and flour in the same way — thickness depends in part on how much tomatoes are broken up. Add salt and pepper to taste. Makes 6 servings.

Cherries Give Milk Luscious Color

A cherry-flavored beverage that's rich in protein content combines whole and instant nonfat dry milk, and red maraschino cherry syrup.

Combine 5 cups of whole milk with 2 cups of instant nonfat dry milk and ⅔ cups of the cherry syrup. Stir before serving and garnish with maraschino cherries. Makes 6 servings.

Offer 'Billboard Bill' to Free Road Funds

LANSING (UPI) — A comprehensive "billboard bill" designed to unplug a bottleneck that threatened to hold up $139 million in federal highway construction funds was introduced in the House yesterday.

Sponsored chiefly by Reps. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, and Charles F. Gray, D-Ypsilanti, the bill would empower the state highway department to ban most highway advertising within "protected areas" 660 feet either side of the right-of-ways on interstate and other federal highways.

It combines features of bills introduced by both lawmakers earlier in the year and is considerably stronger than another bill now in a Senate-House Conference Committee.

The bill would banish from Michigan's federally—subsidize roadsides such familiar billboards as those advocating beer, political candidates, shaving cream, distant resorts, new cars, cemetery markers, and tobacco products.

* * *

Last June, the Federal Bureau of Public Roads threatened to cut off federal matching funds when the Michigan Supreme Court ruled the State Highway Department did not have the authority to control roadside advertising as required in federal programs.

U.S. SUPPORT

Federal support for interstate routes is set at 90 per cent and at 50 per cent for primary, secondary, and urban highway construction. Federal funds earmarked for Michigan for the current fiscal year have been estimated at about $140 million for interstate roads and about $35 million for other construction.

"We have included the latest rulings of the bureau of public roads and the provisins of federal legislation about to be enacted," Montgomery said. "It is imperative that we get sign legislation enacted to get our building program on firm footing."

Under the Montgomery-Gray Bill, the only signs allowed in the "protected areas" would be:

- Directional and other official signs.
- Signs advertising the sale or lease of, or activities on the property where the signs are located.
- Signs designed to give information "in the specific interset of the traveling public," such as historic sites, scenic areas, recreation sites, and "places for camping, lodging, eating and vehicle service and repair."

The only trade names to be permitted would be those of vehicle equipment supplies, fuel and the like; and they would be permitted only if the place selling them is "displayed as conspicuously" as the trade name.

GEORGE RAFT
Good News Brings Tears

Actor Is Fined in Tax Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge fined actor George Raft $2,500 for income tax evasion and then said evidence indicated Raft would have been found innocent if he had fought the case.

Raft, 70, whose movie specialty was tough-guy roles, had pleaded guilty. He clutched his grandmother's Rosary during the hour-long hearing Tuesday and then wept unashamedly after Judge Peirson M. Hall pronounced sentence.

* * *

Raft could have been fined $5,000 and imprisoned for three years.

The indictment alleged that Raft understated his income $85,000 from 1958 through 1963. The government dropped five counts after Raft pleaded guilty to a sixth.

SHOWS ROSARY

Outside the courtroom, Raft held up a wine-colored Rosary that he said was 105 years old and told newsmen: "God was with me — and so were these."

His attorney, Jerry Weber, said many of Raft's friends had written the judge asking for leniency. He said they included Bob Hope, Lucille Ball, Jimmy Durante, Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., Buzzi Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Frank Sinatra.

* * *

Tears came to Raft's eyes again when Sinatra was mentioned.

"Frank was the first to come to my help. He would do anything in the world to help me," Raft told newsmen.

* * *

Raft said he would begin work soon in New York and Italy on the movie "Diabolique," in which he plays a "patriotic gangster."

Illinois Town Exposed

Crime Mecca Is Found

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—Just a roll of the dice away from the mighty Mississippi, where riverboat gamblers plied their trade a century ago, Illinois crime investigators have found a town that lives on gambling and seems to love it.

The town is Brooklyn, Ill., founded before the Civil War to feed manpower into the area's steel mills, stockyards and railroads.

The crime commission conducted two days of hearings in this St. Clair County seat and left yesterday. But the picture they drew of wide open saloon gambling lingered on.

Brooklyn, which Mayor George Thomas calls a "little Las Vegas," makes do without any of the glitter and gold of its legalized Western counterparts. Describing one game at the Harlem Club as the "best in town," former police chief Alan Jefferson testified:

"The crap table has a green cloth."

* * *

Mayor Thomas told the commission the town rakes in $600,000 a year in food and drink profit alone from the many gamblers who rush to the town on weekends.

ESTIMATES TAKE

An investigator arbitrarily estimated the gambling take itself at $1 million a year.

Agent Robert J. Walker and chief investigator John J. Gallagher told the commission yesterday that during an undercover investigation they attempted to set up a gambling place. They told of approaching Al Zitta, operator of an amusement company in nearby East St. Louis.

This is Walker's sworn testimony:

"I asked Zitta if it was all right to run a card game in the unincorporated areas. I also asked if I could pay off the sheriff.

"Zitta advised against that. He told me instead, 'The sheriff has a right hand man named William Miskell who handles that. He'll want 25 per cent of the take.'"

DENIES CHARGE

Later, Miskell told reporters that Zitta was "a —— liar."

Walker and Gallagher said they spent about three weeks investigating crime in Brooklyn and St. Clair County.

It was in East St. Louis where in recent years that rackets boss Frank (Buster) Wortman and his lieutenant, former St. Louis (Mo.) County Deputy Chief Sheriff Gregory Moore, have been indicted on charges of income tax conspiracy, and where three years ago, two other Wortman associates, Elmer (Dutch) Dowling and Melvin J. Beckman, were found shot to death and dumped along a road near Belleville.

* * *

Walker and Gallagher said that during their investigation they:

- Found pinball machines, electric slot machines, punchboards, dice and cards.
- Were paid only up to $14 on the games they played.
- Were approached by prostitutes on the street.

CRIME AREA

"I think crime is all around the area," agent John Tyrell said.

Capt. Emil Toffant, a state police commander, testified that widespread gambling existed, but, he said, "we have to get along with elected officials and local authorities."

Earlier, Brooklyn Mayor Thomas said gambling was necessary to keep the city solvent.

Former police chief Jefferson, who said he quit because he was paid only $300 a month, said the dice games were a tradition and "keep the town going."

"If I had closed them, I would not have been police chief the next morning," Jefferson said.

The crime commission recessed the hearings and said there would be no statement.

Country of Painful Contrasts

Some Parts of S. Viet Nam Considered 'Unbelievably Lovely'

By HUGH MULLIGAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—What's it like, this land where nearly 130,000 American military men now find themselves?

Some of it is unbelievably lovely.

* * *

The mountains in the west, sweeping toward the border of Laos, rise to 7,000 feet and are as dark green and deeply forested as the Canadian Rockies in summer.

The coastal plains on the east, all the way from the 17th Parallel at the border of North Viet Nam, south almost to Saigon, run down to jewel-like bays as beautiful as any in the Caribbean. These abound in broad, empty beaches that would tempt the imagination of a master builder.

In between, almost at the dead center of Viet Nam, lies elephant country, wide expanses of flat plains tufted with tall grass. Just to the north of that is tiger country, deep jungles where in the days before there was a war hunters used to come to hang on their belts the most prized of all trophies: a tiger paw.

South is the Mekong River delta. Broad muddy rivers run down to the South China Sea in countless rivulets and irrigating a land lush enough in peacetime to feed much of Southeast Asia. The delta occupies one fourth of Viet Nam's land area and is home to two-thirds of its population.

* * *

Here indeed is the inscrutable East of the tourist posters. Flooded rice paddies mirror the merciless noonday sun. Teeming grass-hut villages sit on the banks of swift-running estuaries. Thunderheads pile up the afternoon monsoon in a vast brooding sky. Water buffaloes pull ancient plows. Sampans and junks in an endless proliferation swim the muddy canals. Dense mangrove swamps swarm with lizards and snakes. Women in coolie hats carry enormous loads at each end of a shoulder pole.

* * *

Then there is the other side to the delta never shown in the tourist brochures: sandbagged outposts silhouetted in the glare of flares slowly parachuting to earth in a night attack, schools and churches ringed with concertinas of barbed wire, the bodies of the dead wrapped up in rubber ponchos and stacked along a bridge after a Viet Cong raid.

ROUGHLY SHAPED

South Viet Nam is roughly shaped like a sea serpent and almost the size of the State of Washington or Missouri in land mass. It is a country of painful contrasts and glaring contradictions.

* * *

Since the Viet Cong began blowing up the bridges and ambushing the convoys, many of the roads don't go any place. The railroad that used to go from Saigon in the south to Hue in the north ends in a tangle of ripped-up track a few miles outside each city.

* * *

Still, no matter how unfriendly the terrain as far as Viet Cong infiltrators go, rickety tourist buses traverse what's left of the dusty roads, jammed beyond belief with passengers, loaded with all sorts of bags, boxes and trunks, including bicycles strapped to the roof.

And always, as the bus rumbles along, someone is climbing out the window onto the roof to get at a piece of luggage.

The residents of Saigon, still a gay city despite the war, love to go for a drive on Sunday.

Today the road only goes to Bien Hoa, 14 miles to the east. That doesn't stop the Sunday drivers. All of Saigon, it seems, drives back and forth along the road to Bien Hoa every Sunday, creating a massive traffic jam that includes 20 police squad cars the U.S. government gave the Vietnamese police to catch speeders in the days when there was any place to speed to.

* * *

An agronomist looking at a map of Viet Nam would have quite a different view of the country than the Sunday driver or the big-game hunter — or, for that matter, the military tactician.

He could follow the rice paddies of the delta north beyond Saigon to well-ordered rubber and coffee plantations, and going steadily north continue in crop progression to the vegetable and truck farms around Dalat, the tea plantations of the middle plateau between the mountains and the coastal plains, and finally the barren, deforested hills of the north around Da Nang and Hue.

An ethnologist would find a distinct French influence still lingering in the larger cities, a small but prosperous population of Chinese merchants and tailors most everywhere, a few Indians engaged in banking and book selling, an impoverished and neglected minority of 800,000 primitive Montagnard tribesmen in the mountainous area. And of course the 13 million Vietnamese, who in anything from the traditional form-fitting ao-dai to Hong Kong elit dresses and hipster-style Ivy League slacks.

The view that most Americans get must necessarily be the military view of the countryside. Any infantryman who managed to fight in all four corps areas would find himself more often in rice paddies than in dense jungles. He would probably never get to see a tiger or an elephant, only rarely a cobra or a python, but would have a rather wide acquaintance with leeches, mosquitos, cockroaches and rats. He would probably conclude that Viet Nam is not nearly so hot as he thought it was going to be, thanks to breezes, and not nearly so wet as he thought it was going to be, even in the monsoon season.

Major U.S.-Russian Breakthrough Unlikely During Rusk-Gromyko Meeting Tonight

By LEWIS GULICK

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will sample Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's diplomatic portfolio tonight to see whether it contains any proposals worth following up for a U.S.-Soviet agreement.

Prospects of a major breakthrough seem poor — and one reason is Red China, uninvited to the dinner meeting in Rusk's Waldorf Astoria suite but looming large behind relations between Washington and Moscow.

★ ★ ★

Peking lists America as enemy No. 1. It accuses the Soviet Union of betraying the Communist cause in Viet Nam and of collaborating with the U.S. enemy in the India-Pakistan conflict.

Rusk is ready to look for other accords with the Soviets outside of the Viet Nam struggle, in which the Kremlin backs Hanoi. But in the U.S. opinion, the Kremlin is more reluctant to divorce the Southeast Asia issue from the wide range of other dealings with the United States.

Because of its rivalry with Peking for leadership of the Communist world, U.S. strategists believe Moscow finds it uncomfortable to reach accommodations with Washington.

The Russians recently blocked part of the U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange program. They arrested a U.S. citizen who strayed over the Norwegian-Soviet border. While joining the United States in the U.N. Security Council cease-fire call to India and Pakistan, the Russians' propaganda portrayed the Kashmir dispute as the fruit of Western imperialist colonialism.

★ ★ ★

Rusk planned to canvass the main cold war issues generally during his first such discussion with Gromyko since the two last attended the U.N. General Assembly 10 months ago.

Among these questions are disarmament proposals put forth by the two sides, including what both term a top priority need — a treaty to bar the spread of nuclear weapons.

Education accounted for more than one-third of all state and local government expenditures in fiscal year 1963-64.

Illinois Town Fights Lung Cancer With Painless Experiment

PARK RIDGE, Ill. (AP) — A simple, painless community experiment is under way in Park Ridge which a pathologist says could become a routine form of detecting lung cancer before a person develops symptoms.

The disease, if detected early, can be curbed successfully in almost every case by surgery, said Dr. Jonas Valaitis.

* * *

"There is a good possibility that this form of cancer detection will be commonplace a few years from now," he said.

All the experiment involves is a bottle and a microscope.

6,000 RESIDENTS

For three consecutive mornings, 6,000 Park Ridge residents are depositing sputum in a sanitary vial. The vial is turned over to Lutheran General Hospital for microscopic examination.

* * *

The two-year study is financed by a $22,650 grant from the American Cancer Society. It is directed by Dr. Valaitis, chief pathologist at Lutheran General.

Dr. Valaitis said in an interview that cancer cells can be detected in sputum before the cancer growths show up on X rays, and before the victim has observable symptoms.

Dr. Valaitis said the technique is not new. It was discovered in 1928 by Dr. G. Papanicolaou and is in general use.

PROJECT IS FIRST

The Park Ridge project, however, is the first of its kind in the country, he said.

The 6,000 Park Ridge residents participating are of both sexes, age 30 or older, and have smoked one or more packages of cigarettes a day for at least 10 years.

* * *

Dr. Valaitis said lung cancer will kill 47,000 Americans this year. It is the leading cause of deaths from cancer.

"Lung cancer is largely a preventable disease," he said. "It is estimated that more than 75 per cent is caused by cigarette smoking."

'Monkey Business' Clouds Cat Rescue

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Facets of U.S. life this week: A matter of treed cats in Maryland. Military twin problems in Ohio. A "bridge" game in Tennessee. A solar heat gadget for farmers in Kansas. A sentimental auction in New York.)

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The Baltimore Fire Board is treading on kitten's paws in its consideration of abandoning animal rescue service.

Some recent monkey business may be the straw which broke the camel's back.

★ ★ ★

"It made our men look ridiculous," said Stanley Scherr, Fire Board president, after a number of fire fighters helped catch an escaped monkey.

"I believe it's about time we stopped sending our men out after cats in trees," Scherr said.

"Only if the animal is dangerous like a tiger should we send anyone out for assistance."

NO SKELETONS

Fire Chief John J. Killen agreed. "When they are hungry they'll come down. Did you ever see the skeleton of a cat in a tree?"

To make sure it doesn't have a tiger by the tail, the board has asked the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty of Animals for an opinion before adopting a formal policy prohibiting fire fighters from rescuing animals.

ATHENS, Tenn. (AP)—A bridge game is holding up progress in dredging the Hiwassee River.

The bridge spans the Hiwassee between McMinn and Bradley counties. The foursome—the two counties and the towns of Calhour and Charleston—won't claim it.

★ ★ ★

Charlie Beasley, executive director of the McMinn County Committee of 100, says the bridge must be moved before the Tennessee Valley Authority can continue dredging.

Beasley said that several industrial prospects are interested in locating in the area, but only if the river is dredged.

★ ★ ★

He said Bradley won't claim the bridge, and McMinn County, Charleston and Calhoun haven't claimed it.

The McMinn County Council has gone on record as favoring removal of the span, but only if the other three agree.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Airmen of the 180th Tactical Fighter Group have a major problem.

It's Maj. Gill—or Majors Gill, to be specific.

★ ★ ★

Maj. John Gill is maintenance staff officer for the Ohio Air National Guard unit. Maj. Joe Gill, his identical twin, is the base civil engineer.

It's unusual for brothers to be assigned together, but the Gills have been together throughout a military career that started in 1943. President Roosevelt signed a special request to let them train together.

ACTIVE DUTY

Both joined the Ohio Air Guard in 1956 and both saw active duty during the Berlin crisis. Both are pilots. They live next door to each other in suburban Sylvania and operate an asphalt and cement company.

Their civilian bills get mixed up—and even their younger children—John has four, Joe eight—have trouble telling them apart.

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The family homestead has been saved for the "Rose Lady of Albany," thanks to dogged bidding by her grandson at an auction of tax-delinquent real estate.

Bertha Garfield Myers, 77, a widow, will be able to continue making artificial flowers and living in the house, built by her husband more than a half-century ago.

★ ★ ★

The grandson, Alfred F. Lemon, a clerk in the state government, outbid a contractor for the home and adjoining lots. LeMon obtained the property for $25,700, far more than its assessed value.

"Our family attaches a lot of sentiment to it," he explained.

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Heat from the sun is being captured in huge plastic envelopes at Kansas State University and used for drying grain. The gadget is ingenious and promises to be a boon in countries where there is a shortage of natural fuel.

George Mowry, an agricultural engineer, says the heaters are practical and can be used to provide heated air and reduce costs of drying other crops.

★ ★ ★

"Even if air could be warmed only 10 to 15 degrees," he says, "it would be a great help in drying grain in elevators."

The collapsible plastic heater developed at K-State has warmed the air it contains as much as 30 degrees on sunny autumn days. It's a simple envelope with black plastic on the bottom and clear plastic on top.

A wire framework holds open the envelope to admit air and anchors a third sheet of plastic down the center of the envelope. This additional sheet is the heat absorber.

★ ★ ★

Air is drawn into the envelope on either side of the piece of plastic and then is blown through stored grain. The plastic gets hot, "so hot it will burn you," Mowry said.

In the 1700s, a popular custom at Valentine's Day was the sending of puzzle Valentine cards.

Safety Appointments

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney appointed William E. Stewart of Lathrup Village and reappointed Stan Arnold of Brighton to the State Construction Safety Commission Tuesday.

Lake Water Levels Near Chart Figures

OTTAWA (AP) — Water levels in the Great Lakes continued at or above levels used in shipping charts, the advance weekly report of the Canadian Hydrographic Service stated.

Weekly mean level for Lake Huron was 576.8 feet above sea level, right at its chart datum level.

Lake Ontario was 1.4 feet above datum level with a weekly mean of 244.2 feet. Superior, at 600.7, was seven-tenths of a foot above datum while Erie, at 569.4 was eight-tenths of a foot above datum.

There are about 4,000 silver fox farms in the United States.

Dems Paring Wage Goals

Hope Move Will Spur House OK in Session

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Democratic leaders are considering scaling down a proposed minimum wage bill in hopes of getting it passed in the waning days of the current session.

* * *

A major part of the plan now being actively worked on calls for reducing from $1.75 an hour to $1.60 the proposed increase in the present $1.25 wage.

* * *

Consideration also is being given to cutting back the number of new workers who would be covered by the bill from the 7.9 million approved by the education and labor committee.

The committee bill, which goes far beyond President Johnson's recommendations, has been stalled by parliamentary roadblocks and lack of support from the administration and top House leaders.

LABOR DISPLEASURE

The prospect that action on the measure might be put off until next year has been viewed with displeasure by organized labor. Even if the bill should clear the House this session, there is almost no possibility the Senate will act on it before next year.

The attempt to rescue the bill is being carried out by Democrats on the House Education and Labor Committee. They held a caucus Tuesday afternoon at which various compromise were discussed.

* * *

In addition to the size of the wage increase, the proposed coverage of 1.3 million farm workers under the bill is a major target of the critics. Several other categories of coverage have also come under heavy attack.

* * *

Members who attended the session said no agreement was reached on possible modifications in the bill but that further sessions would be held.

SEEKS PEACE—White-bearded Max Daetwyler, 79-year-old Swiss pacifist, holds a white truce flag he has been marching with for 50 years as he passes out pamphlets for peace in New York Rockefeller Center yesterday. Daetwyler said he flew to the United States from Zurich in the hope Persident Johnson, and perhaps Pope VI, would see him during their visits to New York next week.

50-Year Crusade

Old Pacifist Still Trying

NEW YORK (AP) —White-bearded Max Daetwyler still was on the road today, preaching among the nations.

The 79-year-old Swiss pacifist has come back to the United States, saying he wanted to "help President Johnson bring peace to Viet Nam."

* * *

"I can help him," he said, gesturing vigorously, his blue eyes sparkling. "It is time to quit shooting."

It was something of an anniversary for the old "peace prophet." For a half century he has been traveling the international highways, often afoot, in behalf of peace.

Daetwyler became a pacifist 50 years ago. He still carries a tall bamboo pole with a worn white truce flag which he said he first used 50 years ago in a 300-mile walk from his home near Zurich to a meeting of the League of Nations in Geneva.

"I protested then," the spry former hotel keeper said, "because the League had no courage, no character."

In 1938, he said, he "made a scandal" for League of Nations officials "when I told them to unite the whole world against Hitler."

Daetwyler said he flew here from Zurich in the hope that President Johnson would see him during the President's visit here Sunday and Monday.

Newspapers Urged to Fight Crime

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — George Beebe, president of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association, urged the nation's newspapers today to become "crime fighters" and root out corruption in law enforcement

* * *

Beebe, managing editor of the Miami Herald, also blamed "lenient judges and clever criminal lawers" for the rising crime rate and expressed hope that President Johnson would "put the federal fist into the face" of racketeers.

* * *

Beebe hit hard at the criminal menace in a speech prepared for delivery as he convened the annual meeting of AP-member editors.

Pontiac Press Managing Editor Harry Reed is attending the meeting.

LADY BIRD

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson is to appear before the convention Friday to press her beautify-America campaign.

The five-day meeting began Tuesday with more than 500 editors and their wives on hand.

* * *

Business sessions, conducted from Wednesday morning to noon Saturday, are devoted to reviewing AP performance during the last year and discussing mutual problems of daily newspapers.

* * *

Beebe observed that the APME had been active in resisting attempts by bar associations and judges to restrict access to news of crime and criminal trials.

* * *

Meanwhile, Beebe said, crime has been flourishing in major cities across the nation and "thieves and racketeers continue to practice their nefarious trades while lenient judges and clever criminal lawyers keep them free on appeal after appeal after appeal.

Laborites Back Policy on Viet

BLACKPOOL, England (UPI) — The British Labor party gave overwhelming approval today to government support of U.S. policies in Viet Nam. But it urged a halt to American bombings of the Communist North and asked Hanoi to halt its "military adventures."

The Labor Party, meeting in annual conference, defeated left wing efforts to force the Labor government to disassociate itself from the United States and to condemn American intervention in Southeast Asia and Latin America.

Amid delgate cheers Prime Minister Harold Wilson said he and Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart were prepared to go to any lengths — "even to flying to Moscow to talk to Mr. (Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin" — to bring peace to Viet Nam.

Wilson rejected charges of a deal to support the Americans in return for defense of the pound sterling and claimed only the steadfast refusal of Hanoi and Peking to begn negotiations stood in the way of a peace settlement.

Stewart said, "When we say we want to see the bombing of North Viet Nam stopped, we must with the same emphasis want the military adventures by North Viet Nam stopped."

Stewart also called for the admission of Red China to the United Nations and recommended a reappraisal of the world organization's operations.

Radio Minister Dies

JACKSON (AP) — The Rev. M. B. Hinkle of nearby Grass Lake, a gospel radio broadcaster for 30 years, died Tuesday of cancer at the age of 57. He had been a pastor in Grass Lake, Bronson and Jackson. Survivors include his wife, Margery, two married daughters, and four grandchildren.

Youth Is Sentenced for Hitting Teacher

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—A 90-day jail term was handed down Tuesday by Police Court Judge Robert Verdier to a youth who pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery in an attack on a schoolteacher.

* *

Sentenced was Robert Simpson, 18, accused as the assailant of Ottawa Hills High School mathematics teacher Raymond Hoag, 29. The teacher required nine stitches to close a cut over one eye and suffered bruises of the face and hand in the assault Tuesday morning in a school corridor.

Some Favorites Falter

Dow Jones Industrial Record High

NEW YORK (AP)—A boiling stock market pushed the Dow Jones industrial average well above its historic closing high early this afternoon.

Some recent favorites faltered but the market kept advancing on heavy trading.

★ ★ ★

Steels perked up for the first time in days. Coppers and other nonferrous metals moved up along with chemicals, mail order-retails and selected blue chips.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 5.32 to 941.17, topping the record closing high of 939.62 made last May 14.

FAILED TO HOLD

On Monday the Dow industrials edged above the May 14 high on an intra day basis but failed to hold the advance until the end, thus did not make another record close.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon rose 1.2 to 346.7, topping the record closing high made Monday. Industrials were up 2.4, rails gained .1 and utilities rose .6.

SCM Corp., which has had a huge run up and rose 2¾ yesterday as the most active stock, was down more than a point after backing away from a rise of about a point in early trading.

PRICES ADVANCED

Prices advanced in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange. National Video "A" rose more than 3, Muntz TV, Astrodata and MPO Videotronics "A" about 2 each.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U. S. Treasury bonds were lower.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY AND SON

Today's discussion centers around a simple slam hand. That is, a simple slam hand in expert circles.

Oswald: "What do you think of South's bidding?"

JACOBY

Jim: "Very good indeed. It shows the best use of the Blackwood convention. His five no-trump bid guaranteed all the aces."

Oswald: "Thus, North was entitled to bid seven hearts over five no-trump if he held additional values such as the queen of hearts and a real club suit."

1♠	Pass	2♥	Pass
3♥	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass
5♦	Pass	5 N.T.	Pass
6♥	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♠ 9.

Jim: "Therefore when North bid six hearts to show two kings South knew that there were some missing queens and South settled for the small slam in spite of knowing that his side held every ace and king."

★ ★ ★

Oswald: "The hand was played in the Italy-American team match and both tables bid six hearts and both declarers had no trouble making the contract."

Jim: "It is easy to see how the play went. I assume that a club was opened."

Oswald: "Yes."

Jim: "Then South would play out the ace and king of hearts and learn that there was a sure losing trump trick. This wouldn't bother him though. He would play his ace of diamonds, lead a diamond to dummy's king, ruff dummy's last diamond and run off the last two clubs. Then he would throw West in with the queen of trumps and West would either have to lead a spade or give South a ruff and discard."

Oswald: "That is just the way both declarers played the hand and as you can see there was no way to go wrong once West was thrown in the lead at that point."

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1♠	Pass	1♥	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	3♣	Pass
4♣	Pass	4 N.T.	Pass

♠K J 5 7 ♥A 3 ♦K Q 5 ♣A Q 8 4

What do you do now?

A—Pass. There is obviously something wrong with your partner's spade suit and you can be pretty sure that what is wrong is that he doesn't hold the queen.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of responding one heart, your partner has bid two no-trump over your opening bid. What do you do now?

4 Men Go on Trial in Fur Shop Break-In

The trial of four Chicago area men charged with burglarizing a Birmingham fur shop began yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court.

They are Richard Penachio, 31, Lee Magafichi, 37, Joseph Andriacci, 33, and Peter DiFronzo, 31.

All but DiFronzo were taken into custody in Beverly Hills following a police chase last Nov. 23. DiFronzo, accompanied by an attorney, turned himself over to Birmingham police Dec. 17.

The four are accused of breaking and entering Furs By Roberts, 550 N. Woodward. The shop is no longer in business.

★ ★ ★

The first witness to testify was Lt. Merlin Holmquist, of the Birmingham Police Department, who headed the investigation.

ATTACKS WARRANT

Defense attorney Lawrence Burns attacked the validity of the arrest warrant, saying that it was signed by Holmquist without personal knowledge of the facts and then typed up by a clerk who used a form taken from a state statute.

Burns implied that no inquiry into this procedure was made by the municipal judge that approved the warrant.

Judge Frederick C. Ziem denied the motion to dismiss the warrant. He told Burns that the objection should have been raised before the trial.

★ ★ ★

Burns also objected to the fact that the prosecution has only two of the 24 furs that it plans to introduce as evidence.

AGREED EARLIER

Prosecutor Walter Schmier argued that a previous defense attorney had agreed that 22 of the furs could be returned because to keep them would cause economic problems to the shop owners.

Taking the stand later, and again today, was Gerald Haynes, owner of Gerald's Beauty Shop. Haynes, whose business is in an adjacent building discovered the break-in while it was in progress.

The burglars, police said, had first entered the beauty shop and then chopped a hole in the wall separating the two businesses.

★ ★ ★

Haynes chased the men until they got into a car with an Illinois license plate. He then notified police.

State Was Hit by Killing Frost

LANSING (AP) — A killing frost covered most of the state this past weekend, says the Federal-State Crop Reporting Service.

The frost covered the northern two-thirds of Lower Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. Scattered frosts, mostly on lowlands, were reported for southern counties.

★ ★

Damage was mostly to immature corn, beans and other tender crops.

Full extent of the damage to corn was not yet reported but the service said only two-fifths of the crop was mature enough to withstand a frost by the weekend.

Farmers were busy filling silos during the past week. Showers continued to interfere with the hay and bean harvests. Only about one-fourth of the beans was harvested by the end of the week.

Firemen Contain Waterford Twp. Garage Blaze

A fire of undetermined cause early this morning destroyed a garage at the home of Arvel K. Larson, 6331 Elizabeth Lake, Waterford Township.

Township firemen, who kept the blaze from spreading to the nearby house, estimated building damage at $500 and content loss at $1,500.

The razed contents included a 1957 model automobile and a new motor bicycle, according to fire fighters.

A neighbor summoned firemen after spotting the fire at the three-car frame building at 12:50 a.m.

Although high tension wires fell to the ground, no one was hurt.

World News Roundup

Japanese to Protest Rocketry

TOKYO (AP) — Nearly 4,000 Japanese farmers are trying to block U.S. plans to fire Little John rockets at a government firing range in the foothills of Mt. Fuji.

The farmers used to work the farm and forest land. U.S. occupation forces took it over after the war and the Japanese government now controls it.

★ ★ ★

The firing practice, by the 87th Artillery Group from Okinawa, is scheduled to start Saturday. Twenty to thirty farmers say they plan to dash into range of the missiles when the firing starts.

★ ★ ★

Officials from nearby cities and villages came to Tokyo today to discuss the matter with the government. Leftist labor unions also are planning demonstrations around the range.

PARIS (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. will preach in a Paris church and address a public meeting Oct. 24, the French Protestant Federation said today.

On Oct. 25 Dr. King will meet with French and foreign Protestant ministers in Paris.

ATHENS (AP) — Greek postmen cut short a three-day strike today and returned to work a day early after Greece's new government issued a civil mobilization order.

The strike was the postmen's third this month. They are demanding higher mileage allowances.

★ ★ ★

The government issued the mobilization order after postal officials said the strikes had caused such a pile-up of mail that it would be three weeks before deliveries returned to normal.

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — An Israeli spokesman charged that saboteurs blew up an irrigation pipe Tuesday night near Mezer settlement in the coastal plain 800 yards from the Jordan border.

Israeli workers running to the scene were fired on, but no one was hit, the spokesman said.

Israel complained about the incident to the U.N. Mixed Armistice Commission.

School Bus Violence Flares

Negroes Fail in Try to Join White Pupils

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Violence erupted today during an attempt by Negroes to board school buses with white pupils when a white youth struck a Negro photographer with his fists.

State troopers moved in quickly to separate the pair. The white youth was held a short time but later was released. The unidentified Negro photographer, not seriously injured, was led away by troopers.

★ ★ ★

The Negroes failed in their attempts to board the buses carrying white children to schools in neighboring counties. Several Negroes then drove to nearby Warrenton where school buses had taken the Taliaferro County pupils.

At Warrenton, a group of whites pelted a Negro's car with apples, but state police stopped them. The Negroes were held in a state police car for a short time, but then got back into their car and drove away. They made no attempt to enter the school.

NO ARRESTS

State troopers directed traffic along the highway in front of the school and kept a group of about 30 whites away from the Negroes. There were no injuries or arrests at Warrenton.

Today's attempt was the second by Negroes to board the school buses at Crawfordville after the county closed its white school and the pupils transferred to other counties.

A crowd of about 75 persons gathered at the scene. When several whites made threatening gestures toward Negroes and newsmen, a state police captain told them, "We will have law and order here for everybody."

Troopers stood by.

Junior Editors Quiz on OCEAN WAVES

QUESTION: What makes the waves break so high on an ocean beach?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: Waves are formed by the wind pushing up the water surface (upper left). Notice the round white spot. It is a free floating barrel or buoy.

To the right, the crest of the wave has move on, but the buoy, although at the lower trough of the wave, has not moved on with it. This shows that it is not the water which moves forward with the wave, it is the push or momentum.

When the wave moves up to a shelving beach, however, the case is different (lower left). Instead of being waves of oscillation, where the water moves up and down, or in a small circle, these become translation waves, where the water actually moves ahead.

But the friction of the shelving bottom slows the water layers nearest it (lower left). The upper layers of water, however, peak up and become so high that they topple over with a roar, creating masses of sudsy white foam, as shown by the main picture.

Here a young man comes racing in riding his surfboard. This is a thrilling sport which is becoming more and more popular. A surfer lies down on his board and paddles it out beyond the wave line, then stands up and comes riding in.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: You don't have to go to the ocean to see waves forming and breaking. Watch for a time when the wind is blowing and study small waves as they form on a pond or lake.

Seek to Rap School Chiefs in Negro Case

LANSING (AP)—Nine House Democrats want the Legislature to denounce officials in Center Line who they say "denied the hospitality of the North" to a Georgia Negro boy who tried to enroll at Center Line High School.

Rep. James Bradley, D-Detroit, said the boy, Mathew Hunter, 14, was one of two Georgia Negroes invited to spend the year at Warren-Center Line schools.

The other, Keith Jankins, 17, a Roman Catholic, was accepted at St. Clement High School in Center Line, while Hunter went back to Georgia after failing to gain admittance to the public school, Bradley said.

The proposed resolution, introduced Tuesday would "urgently request 11 persons involved in this drama of mockery and farce to search their souls and conscience and attempt to rewrite the script the next time a problem in human relations is presented to them to solve."

ESTABLISH RESIDENCE

Bradley said Hunter was told he would have to establish residence. An effort to do this involved a request to place the boy under the guardianship of his host family, Mr. and Mrs. George Fielder, he said.

The request bogged down in delays in Macomb County Probate Court and the state Social Welfare Department. Bradley and three other Democrats called for creation of a special committee to study school admission practices and guardianship procedures.

2 Zoning Bids Are Opposed

Waterford Planners Recommend Denial

Two rezoning requests — one for an apartment building at Telegraph and Dixie Highway — were recommended for denial last night during public hearings conducted by the Waterford Township Planning Commission.

★ ★ ★

It was the second time the request for the apartment dwelling had met with disapproval by the commission. The applicant is Selwyn Smith.

The other rezoning request, recommended for denial is for an extensive business district at Dixie Highway and Scott Lake Road. The applicant is Earl Mull.

Both requests will be considered by the Oakland County Coordinating Zoning Committee. Final action will be taken by the township board.

★ ★ ★

In other business last night, the commission gave the green light for two special approval requests, recommended denial of a rezoning request on first introduction and set a hearing date for another.

TRAILER SALES

The commission approved construction of a travel trailer sales and service business on M59 near Cass Lake Road, and gave the okay for the sale of mobile homes—with certain stipulations —to Richard Sargent.

★ ★ ★

The commission recommended denial on a request to rezone from light industrial to single family residential district a parcel of land on Warren. No hearing date was established.

★ ★ ★

A hearing was set for Oct. 26 on a rezoning request for construction of a restaurant at Boston and Telegraph.

Gas Firm Exec Dies

NEW YORK (AP) —William G. Maguire, 79, a pioneer in the natural gas industry and president and board chairman of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., died Tuesday after a brief illness.

NY Mailers, Papers Nearer to Accord

NEW YORK (AP) — An all-night negotiating session between the Mailers Union and the Publishers Association of New York came close to agreement on job security, mediator Theodore W. Kheel reported today. Kheel recessed the talks at 5:45 a.m. until Thursday morning.

* * *

He said "one knotty item" remained to be worked out on the job security issue, which centers on protection for union members classified as extras.

Of the 1963 $358 billion total sales for the wholesale trade in the United States, three states accounted for more than one-third: New York, California and Illinois.

59 New Nations Added to World Since WW II End

WASHINGTON (UPI) — With the 1965 additions of the Gambia, the Maldive Islands and Singapore, the world has gained 59 new nations in the 20 years since the end of World War II.

It has also gained more than a billion people, according to the National Geographic Society.

* * *

Statistics prepared by the society and made public yesterday show there are now 135 independent states and 3.3 billion people in the world.

Asia has spawned the largest proportion of the population increase, gaining 553 million people. But Africa is far and away the leader in producing new countries. It has added 33 states in the years since the war, 17 in 1960 alone.

American colleges and universities have an enrollment of more than 82,000 foreign students from 152 countries.

Sean Connery Covers Up His '007' Undercover Role

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Don't even mention James Bond to Sean Connery!" a fellow warned me, when I was pushing through a sweaty crowd, on the sweaty sidewalks of N.Y., to meet famous No. 007.

"Connery's sick of James Bond . . . he might get violent!" the guy said.

Naturally, I didn't want 007 . . . I mean Sean Connery . . . to get violent with me. So I just calmly talked to him there at 36th and Park where he was playing a Dylan Thomas-type of Greenwich Village poet in a Warner's film, "A Fine Madness," about his new kind of role. James Bond . . . I mean Sean Connery . . . was gentle, courteous, handsome . . . and sweaty.

I was very, very, VERY careful not to mention James Bond. "I understand you were once in Hollywood and nobody paid any attention to you?" I said.

"I'm very glad to say," he smiled.

"Because if they had, then you'd never have attained your fame as . . . uh . . . well" I was NOT going to mention James Bond.

★ ★ ★

"Oh, you mean the Bond thing?" he said. "That was only good for the money, you know." And that was as violent as he got.

Although a photog told me that when a girl fan ran up to him and said, "You're . . . you're . . . you're . . .!" Sean Connery frowned. The photog said, "Yes, he's Sean Connery." And Sean Connery slapped him on the back and said "Thanks."

★ ★ ★

It's happened to most stars . . . Ann Sheridan got as weary of "Oomph" as Brigitte Bardot got of towels and Marilyn Monroe of no underwear. Abe Lincoln used to wince when they called him "Honest Abe."

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Are Susan Strasberg and Chris Jones marrying any second? . . . Peggy Cass has a hot secret romance . . . Hollywood rumor: that NBC has some secret sensation ready to take over for Johnny Carson if he really quits "Tonight" in May . . . Two of the world's most famous night clubs are uncertain about their future.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Joe E. Lewis defined frustration: "That's being locked in a wine cellar, without a bottle opener."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "I am an old man, and have known many troubles, but most of them never happened." — Mark Twain.

Pope's Visit to Tax Police

Related Duties Given 18,000 on NY Force

NEW YORK (AP) — More than two-thirds of the 28,000 police in New York City will be given assignments next Monday directly related to the visit of Pope Paul VI.

"The facilities of the police department will be taxed to an extent they have never been taxed before," said Commissioner Vincent L. Broderick.

★ ★ ★

He said 18,000 policemen will have some task of traffic and crowd control and security during the 14-hour visit of the Pope. The overtime pay alone, Broderick estimated, will cost the city more than $1 million.

Pope Paul is coming to the United States to make a special plea for peace at the United Nations.

ON AGENDA

While here, the Pope will confer with President Johnson and with American religious leaders, celebrate a Mass at Yankee Stadium and visit the Vatican Pavilion at the World's Fair.

"If there had been a moment less than three weeks in which to prepare the whole trip it might just as well have been called off — there's just too much to do," said a priest on the staff of Francis Cardinal Spellman, acting primate of the nation's Roman Catholics and archbishop of the New York diocese.

★ ★ ★

The chancery office has supervised the printing and distribution of the 90,000 tickets for the Mass at Yankee Stadium and has looked after the countless other details of the visit.

Broderick said police security checks were made of persons living along the route of the 24-mile motorcade. He said some buildings along the way from Kennedy International Airport to Manhattan probably would be sealed off.

★ ★ ★

A large number of Secret Service agents will join the security force since President Johnson will come to New York Sunday and remain overnight to confer with the Pope.

The police commissioner urged people to stay at home and watch the historic visit on television. He also warned motorists to leave their cars at home that day and asked truckers to plan deliveries so that they will not be in an area the same time as the Pope.

Contractors Incorporate Luxuries

Many of the items now listed as standard equipment in automobiles were in the luxury or optional category a few years ago.

★ ★ ★

The same thing is true in houses, where successful features of high-priced homes eventually turn up in lower-priced homes as regular parts of the design and appointments.

Such things as insulating glass windows, valance lighting, colored fixtures, single-control mixing faucets, ventilating fans, sliding glass doors and bathroom vanities are appearing more and more in the medium-priced home market.

Builders took a tip from the large sales of these and many other features to persons owning old homes.

★ ★ ★

It seemed reasonable to assume that if these extras were attractive to the owners of old houses, they would be equally attractive to the purchasers of new ones.

The assumption was correct, as evidenced by the better sales of homes which provide a little more in the way of design and comfort.

Probe Four False Calls for Ambulance Service

NEDERLAND, Tex. (AP) — Ambulance companies and police in three southeast Texas cities are seeking a woman who makes fake emergency calls for ambulances.

Four false alarms were received Tuesday within 15 minutes by Nederland, Port Arthur and Port Neches ambulance firms, all for a residential Port Neches address.

First air raid bombs dropped on English soil were dropped at Dover on Dec. 24, 1914.

Farmington Twp. Girl Crushed to Death by Horse

A 10-year-old Farmington Township girl was killed when the horse she was taking over hurdles fell and crushed her yesterday afternoon.

Bonnie Dornan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Dornan of 30943 Halstead, was dead on arrival at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

Farmington Township police said the horse's hooves apparently caught in the top crossbar of a hurdle, causing him to fall with the girl.

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — U. S. astronaut John H. Glenn Jr., began today a three-week goodwill tour of Europe on an assignment from President Johnson. Glenn is accompanied by his wife, Annie.

Smiling and looking relaxed after an overnight flight from Washington via London, Glenn landed at Frankfurt at 10:15.

It was his first time on European soil.

Teen Cult Practically Vanished

James Dean's Life Cut Off Decade Ago

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — A screech of car wheels, a crush of metal, and the short, strange life of James Dean was snuffed out on Highway 41.

It was 10 years ago tomorrow that the brooding, brilliant actor met his death near Paso Robles, Calif., creating the greatest post-mortem idolatry in the film world since Rudolph Valentino's passing in 1925.

★ ★ ★

A year after Dean's death, Warner Brothers was receiving 8,000 letters each month with requests for photographs and information about the actor. Movie magazines, which featured little about Dean in his lifetime, poured forth stories about him. James Dean memorial fan clubs were organized throughout the world.

Teen-agers everywhere seemed to identify with the young man whose film roles portrayed him as a youth in rebellion against his parents and other symbols of authority.

ALL BUT VANISHED

A decade later, the Dean craze has all but vanished. A new generation appears more intrigued with the "cool" of the late Humphrey Bogart.

Why has the Dean influence diminished? Certainly youth is no less rebellious today; one needs only observe the goings-on at universities or listen to the protest songs of Bob Dylan and his disciples.

The Dean legend appears to have suffered malnutrition. Bogart left a legacy of 75 films; James Dean made only three. Two of them, "East of Eden" and "Rebel Without a Cause," have been played and replayed on television. The other, "Giant," is seen only in an occasional re-release in theaters.

James Dean, 24, when his career ended, was well-suited to be idol of an undisciplined generation. His few close friends declared that he could be thoughtful and profound in private. But most of his fellow workers found him unkempt and boorish.

"He seemed to care nothing for his appearance," said one of them. "He would likely show up for a party on his motorcycle with a filthy shirt, grease-stained blue jeans and uncombed hair. That is, if he showed up at all."

Some of Dean's critics declared the actor aped Marlon Brando, not only in his dramatic style but his off-screen habits. Dean once told me: "I don't particularly like the dwelling on the comparison of Marlo and me. But there's nothing I can do about it. They can compare me with W. C. Fields if they want to."

★ ★ ★

Brando and Dean once met at a party and didn't get along. Snapped Brando: "You ought to see a psychiatrist."

Some observers feel that it was Dean's lack of discipline that led to his death. Warner Brothers had been trying to notify him to report for retakes on "Giant." The actor ignored the calls, preferring to drive his sports car to road races in Salinas.

ERA MEMORABLE

The Dean era was but a fragment of Hollywood history, but it remains memorable. His debut in "East of Eden" provided a burst of vitality that made him an immediate star. That quality becomes a more precious commodity in films, as the old stars die out and few new ones replace them.

George Stevens, who directed Dean in "Giant," put the tragedy in perspective: like F. Scott Fitzgerald, Dean was a victim of his era.

★ ★ ★

Said Stevens: "Fitzgerald ruined himself with drink. With Jim, it was speed. Quite literally, he drove himself to death. He was serious about his work, but he felt that his place in life had to be racing down the highway with his foot heavy on the throttle."

Gunman Robs Store but Helps Business

VISALIA, Calif. (UPI) — A gunman who stole $161 from a clothing store yesterday took time to wait on a customer.

With the store owner and clerk bound and gagged in the rear, the bandit politely greeted a woman customer and sold her a necktie. The money from the sale was included in his loot.

Dinah Shore Says Adultery Charges False

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Dinah Shore says allegations that she committed adultery with five unidentified men are "outrageous" and "utterly and completely false."

The charges were in a divorce suit filed last Friday in Indio Superior Court by her former husband, contractor Maurice Smith, from whom Miss Shore received an interlocutory divorce decree in 1964.

★ ★ ★

Smith, 44, charged Miss Shore, 47, with extreme cruelty, also alleging that they reconciled last May, nullifying the interlocutory decree.

Miss Shore married Smith May 26, 1963, and they separated a year later.

She was divorced from actor George Montgomery May 9, 1962, after 17 years of marriage.

Cubans Free to Leave—Fidel

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro says any Cubans with relatives in the United States can leave the island after Oct. 10. He also promised to clear up the mystery of Maj. Ernesto Guevara in a few days.

Castro said in a speech last night he would provide boats to take would-be refugees out of the country and promised: "They will undergo no risk from us."

FIDEL CASTRO

He blamed "the imperialists," his term for the United States, for blocking normal routes for Cubans wishing to leave the country since the October 1962 missile crisis.

"Now they are leaving in small boats, many of them drowning," Castro said, "and they (the Americans) use this as propaganda."

He added: "Now those who want to leave can leave because there are many here remaining who struggle for the people."

★ ★ ★

Castro repeated that it was not his government that has been preventing the exit of Cubans. "Now we shall see what the imperialists will do or say," he said.

COULD APPLY

The prime minister said that beginning Oct. 10 any Cuban with relatives in the United States who wanted to leave Cuba for that country could apply to the Interior Ministry.

"Nobody who wants to go need go by stealth," he declared.

He said he would set up port facilities at Camaricoa, in Matanzas Province, and ship out those who wanted to leave, "not in our fishing boats but maybe in small luxury craft."

★ ★ ★

He indicated he expected friends and refugees of the relatives to arrange for them to be picked up a certain distance from Cuba but did not spell this out.

★ ★

MASS RALLY

Castro spoke to a mass rally celebrating the fifth anniversary of the Committee for the Defense of the Revolution, his regime's organization of neighborhood spies which includes more than a fourth of the population.

Havana's Revolutionary Plaza was packed for the prime minister's appearance.

Castro said the status of "our comrade" Guevara would be explained in the next few days when the Communist party's National Directorate meets.

★ ★

He said he would read a document then "which explains Guevara's absence these many months."

Guevara was an architect of Castro's revolution and the regime's industries minister.

The absence of the Argentine-born guerrilla leader from public view since last spring has sparked numerous conflicting rumors of his whereabouts.

Buick Foresees Success in '65

Year May Wind Up Second Only to 1955

DETROIT (AP) — Buick officials predicted Tuesday that 1965 would wind up as one of the most successful years in Buick's 62-year history with more of the same to come in 1966.

Robert L. Kessler, General Motors vice president and general manager of its Buick Division, said 1965 output of about 650,000 cars would be second only to the 781,296 built in 1955.

"To date this year we have sold approximately 630,000 cars—about 21 per cent more than last year—and we did not reach that same figure until the latter part of November last year," Kessler said.

Kessler said the cleanup of 1965 models was going very Well and "if sales continue at the present rate, we do not expect to have more than a normal number of 1965 models to carry over into the new year."

Referring to the ever increasing number of options available to car buyers, Kessler said:

★ ★ ★

"I think I can safely say we could tailormake a car for every Buick customer for the next decade and never come up with two cars exactly alike. This is the kind of market we are in today and we have to have this flexibility."

TALKS TO NEWSMEN

In a question and answer session with 200 newsmen at Buick's national press preview, Kessler said Buick has "no plans now for any front-wheel drive car—not even plan 1."

$35,000 OK'd to Aid Hospital at Northville

To Improve Security; 11 Children Returned After Mass Escape

LANSING (UPI)—Gov. George Romney has approved a $35,000 emergency expenditure to tighten security and make security repairs of a building housing emotionally disturbed children at Northville State Hospital.

Charles F. Wagg, assistant director of the State Mental Health Department, said 11 of the 80 children at the hospital staged a mass escape two weekends ago, and other single escapes have occurred since. All were safely returned to the hospital, he added.

Romney said $10,000 would be appropriated from an emergency fund to purchase security - type window screens.

The repairs could be paid for by transferring $25,000 from various categories of the hospital's operating budget, he said.

★ ★ ★

Wagg said the children escaped by simply opening large windows in a building not intended for security and walking off the grounds.

NOT DANGEROUS

While they are not dangerous to others "the children might endanger themselves in a community because they usually are under heavy medication," Wagg said.

Romney also asked the State Department of Mental Health to review the total program in the children's unit at Northville, and advise him as to further action needed ot improve the program and prevent reoccurrences of the present emergency.

Romney said the children also had damaged equipment and fixtures in the 10-year-old building, designed for use of more passive patients.

★ ★ ★

"The children seem to want to add to the deterioration when they notice something has started to go," he said.

TEMPORARY FACILITIES

Romney noted that the children will be transferred out of such temporary facilities as Northville when a $5.6-million state hospital construction program is completed by mid-1968.

Solons Act on Agenda, Tax Plan

LANSING (AP) — With an agenda agreeed to and a controversial graduated income tax proposal on the House floor, the legislature today began to improve its slow pace of the first two autumn session weeks.

A proposal to amend the State Constitution to permit a graduated income tax came under consideration right after an agenda was approved.

Meanwhile, House Democrats moved to add several items to the agenda.

Gov. George Romney promptly called the graduated tax proposal an "alibi and excuse" for the House's refusal to act this fall on the tax package the governor supports

★ ★

The House Committee on revision and implementation of the Constitution reported out the amendment on a 6-3 party line vote, Democrats favoring it.

FLAT RATE TAX

Democrats contend a flat rate income tax as proposed in the Romney - supported tax plan would be inequitable.

Romney says taxes should be dealt with now and would be no bar to future changes in tax structure.

If the amendment is approved by two-thirds of the Senate and two-thirds of the House, it would go to the public in the November 1966 election.

House Minority Leader Rep. Robert Waldron, R - Grosse Pointe, called the graduated tax an attempt by Democrats to get themselves off the hook.

"I don't think it will be passed this fall because people will think it is a substitute for tax reform," he added

DECEIVE VOTERS

Waldron also said the proposal would deceive voters because it "looks like it knocks out an income tax."

The proposal would wipe out a constitutional section which says: "No income tax graduated as to rate or base shall be imposed by the state or any of its subdivisions."

The proposal was the only tax item which made it on the fall agenda as House Speaker Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, instructed the House Taxation Committee to work on fiscal reform plans for the 1966 session.

House Democratic Caucus Chairman Rep. William Ryan, D-Detroit, said the graduated income tax proposal was included because "it's something on which Democrats are unanimous. It only takes a few minutes to give it a try."

300 Filipino Bodies Found in Lake Near Taal Volcano

TANAUAN, The Philippines (UPI) — The murky waters of the lake surrounding Taal Volcano today gave up the remains of 300 Filipinos who perished in a holocaust that entombed hundreds more under a thick blanket of superhot lava and mud.

The lucky ones who escaped said they thought it was the end of the world. Survivors, many of them badly burned, told terrifying stories of watching loved ones die in the volcanic fury.

It was impossible to tell, more than 36 hours after the long dormant mountain exploded, how many died in the gigantic eruption which seared trees 10 miles away.

Authorities estimated that as many as 6,000 Filipinos lived and farmed around the base of the volcano. The known death toll of 300 was confirmed by the Philippine National Police.

Rescue teams reached Volcano Island by boat today, but attempts to find bodies were hampered by up to 50 feet of thick mud which covered more than half of the disaster area. There was no sign of life.

★ ★ ★

The danger of a new and perhaps more violent eruption posed an additional threat to the grim job of finding casualties. Black clouds of smoke belched forth from the yawning crater every five minutes or so in a series of aftereruptions. Scientists warned of the possibility of another giant explosion within the next 48 hours.

Living-Cost Drop Biggest in 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — A drop in food prices cut living costs two-tenths of one per cent in August — the biggest decline in nearly three years, the Labor Department said today.

Housing and transportation costs also showed slight declines, but clothing and medical care went up.

The two-tenths of one per cent drop in the government's consumer price index brought it down to 110.0 per cent of its 1957-59 average.

This means that typical family consumer items that cost $10 in 1957-59 cost $11 in August.

The drop in living costs was the first downward move since August of last year.

In August of 1964 the index was 108.2. Thus the index rise for the 12 months was 1.8 points.

The last decline in the index as large as two-tenths of one per cent was in December of 1962.

To Prepare Land Sale to Scrap Yard

The city moved last night to sell 35 acres of former Pontiac Township land to a local scrap yard firm.

City Attorney Philip E. Rowston was authorized by the City Commission to prepare a 10-year land contract for the sale of property to Sam Allen & Sons, Inc., 22 Congress.

The land is part of a 212-acre parcel the city recently purchased and annexed along the city's northern boundary.

Rowston, who conducted negotiations with the Allen firm and their attorney, L. Harvey Lodge, reported that the sale price would be $99,778.

Terms of the contract call for the scrap yard firm to transfer to the city some 22.7 acres of land currently owned by the firm.

The 22.7 acres is adjacent to the balance of the 212 acres that the city acquired for a sanitary land-fill site.

The scrap yard operators will be credited with $36,000 for the 22.7 acres being transferred to the city, leaving a balance of $63,778 on the 10-year land contract.

The land being purchased by the firm is located south of Collier and east of the Grand Trunk Railroad tracks.

The city's land-fill site extends north of Collier almost to Lake Angelus Road and is between the railroad tracks and west of Joslyn.

The land sale is subject to the Allen property being rezoned to manufacturing-3.

Commission action on the land sale followed the reading last night of a bill of complaint filed in a Circuit Court suit by Pontiac Township Supervisor Leonard Terry and two township residents.

The suit seeks to overturn the city's annexation of the former township land, and it alleges that the state law is unconstitutional.

Meantime, Commissioner Leslie H. Hudson said last night that the city's action was tentative until a detailed plot plan was presented at a public hearing on the rezoning Oct. 12.

The city seeks to have the projected scrap yard properly landscaped with appropriate screening, he added.

Negotiations on the planned land sale have been carried out at the direction of Circuit Court Judge Frederick C. Ziem, who directed that both sides attempt to reach a settlement.

The scrap yard firm's operations at its current Congress site are the subject of another suit that has been suspended pending the outcome of the sale talks.

The second suit, charging that certain operations at the Congress site are a nuisance, was brought by the city and 15 residents.

N. Viets Reply to Letter From the Red Cross

Say Enemy Prisoners Are War Criminals as Result of Bombing

GENEVA (AP) — North Viet Nam has informed the International Red Cross Committee that all enemy pilots captured on its territory will be treated as war criminals.

The Communist government made its statement in a letter dated Aug. 31.

The letter which the Red Cross disclosed today, answered a Red Cross appeal to the warring powers in Viet Nam to observe the Geneva convention for the protection of prisoners and civilian population.

The North Vietnamese answer charged that air and naval bombing of its territory has been "deliberately" directed against such objectives as hospitals, schools and villages.

★ ★

Consequently, the Hanoi government told the Red Cross, all captured enemy pilots will be considered war criminals and will be tried by tribunals.

'WELL-TREATED'

North Viet Nam added in its letter that the prisoners "are well - treated" — presumably while awaiting trial.

The Red Cross said it has notified the United States and South Vietnamese governments of North Vietnamese charges of indiscriminate bombings, and the U. S. State Department has informed the Red Cross that it has no proof of American air attacks on installations marked visibly with the sign of Red Cross.

The Hanoi government also told the Red Cross that authorization for prisoners to correspond with their families has been temporarily suspended due to violations of correspondence regiations.

★ ★ ★

The Red Cross Committee, an all-Swiss body, said it has asked North Vietnamese authorities for a list of American and South Vietnamese prisoners and about the possibility to visiting them. There has been no reply, the Red Cross said.

CONG EXECUTIONS

The disclosure of North Viet Nam's plan to treat American and South Vietnamese pilots as war criminals came on the heels of Viet Cong guerrilla execution Sunday of two Americans.

A Hanoi broadcast Monday indicated more American prisoners would be executed if the South Vietnamese continue to execute Communist agents.

The broadcasts said: "This is a serious warning to the U. S. aggressors and their lackeys: Should they continue to wantonly massacre the Vietnamese people they would suffer even heavier punishment."

The Viet Cong will no longer "allow the aggressors to take advantage of this (lenient) policy to carry out criminal acts," Nhan Dan said.

Parents Face Charge in State

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The parents of a mute, mentally retarded boy who was abandoned here face charges of neglect when they return to Michigan—with or without their son.

The father, Victor Thorne, 48, left Detroit by air for Miami shortly after the charges were filed against him and his wife, Maynie, 44.

Judge Ben Sheppard of Dade County Juvenile Court said he probably would decide today what should be done with the Thornes' son, Richard, 13, after meeting the father.

Thorne, foreman of a tool and die plant in suburban Detroit, said Sheppard had assured him by phone he would be given custody of Richard.

Truce Outlook Remains Dim

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The outlook for the India-Pakistan cease-fire remained bleak today as both sides made new demands and neither showed any sign of withdrawing from positions seized during their undeclared war.

A spokesman for the Indian Foreign Office said the withdrawal of armed personnel should include an estimated 3,000 guerrillas the Indians claim Pakistan trained, equipped and sent into the Indian sector of Kashmir for subversion and sabotage.

★ ★ ★

Pakistan has denied the Indian claim, contending that the guerrills w h o s e operations touched off the war are Kashmir nationalists fighting for freedom from Indian control.

Indian Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri told newsmen the most urgent task facing the U.N. Security Council "is to ask Pakistan to desist from its declared path of aggression."

CITES THREATS

Shastri said Pakistan had been threatening in the Security Council to unleash a wide conflagration if its desires were not met. He said India had accepted the cease-fire voted by the council "in complete good faith, unconditionally but not unilaterally."

Shastri said Indian forces were under strict orders not to violate the cease-fire, but he added: "Indian forces are under instructions to defend themselves wherever and whenever attacked by Pakistan."

★ ★ ★

Pakistani Foreign Minister Z. A. Bhutto, speaking to the U.N. General Assembly in New York, proposed that both Indian and Pakistani forces in Kashmir be replaced by a U.N. peace force as the prelude to a plebiscite to determine the future of the disputed Himalayan state.

Bhutto repeated that Pakistan would consider withdrawing from the United Nations — if the Security Council did not work out a permanent solution of the 18-year-old Kashmir dispute w i t h i n a reasonable time.

INDIA OPPOSED

Shastri already has said that India would not agree to a U.N. peace force, and that India is adamantly opposed to a plebiscite in Kashmir. Most of the state's people are Moslems and the Indians assume they would vote for independence from Hindu-dominated India or union with Moslem Pakistan.

U.N. Secretary General U Thant reported that almost 200 U.N. military observers had arrived or were on their way to serve with the U.N. observer corps charged with enforcing the cease-fire.

Storm Debbie Stalled Near 2 Gulf States

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Tropical storm Debbie, its winds reduced to 45 miles an hour, hung off the Alabama-Florida Gulf Coast today. Forecasters saw local flooding as its worst threat if the storm moved inland.

The New Orleans Weather Bureau said at 9 a.m. EST that the storm was expected to remain stalled and to continue weakening but cautioned that tides of two to four feet could be expected.

★ ★ ★

Debbie was located by a Navy hurricane hunter airplane about 115 miles south-southwest of Mobile, Ala.

"Most warnings will probably be lowered later today," the advisory said.

COASTLINE HIT

However, squalls, winds and rains generated by the storm raked hundreds of miles of Florida Panhandle coastline. Wind whipped tides and pounding surf ate into the beaches.

From the mouth of the Mississippi River to Panama City, Fla., hundreds of people on low-lying islands and beaches sandbagged disappearing foundations or else gave up and went inland.

★ ★ ★

Many of them were still suffering from the pounding of Hurricane Betsy just two weeks ago. In Louisiana's St. Bernard Parish, people who had returned to their wrecked homesites only a day or so ago had to flee to high ground.

Seek to Link Suspect in Dixie Trial

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A prosecutor slowly building his case was expected today to produce eyewitness testimony in an attempt to link Thomas L. Coleman to the killing of a civil rights worker.

There was a possibility that the state, with the consent of defense attorneys, would put into the record of Coleman's trial the testimony it had hoped to get from a wounded priest.

★ ★ ★

Coleman, 55, a highway engineer and special part-time deputy sheriff, is charged with manslaughter in the shotgun slaying of Jonathan M. Daniels, a young, white, Episcopal seminary student from Keene, N.H.

Another clergyman, the Rev. Richard Morrisroe of Chicago, was critically wounded in the shooting outside of a Hayneville grocery store Aug. 20.

UNDER TREATMENT

Father Morrisroe, a Catholic priest, is still under treatment and is unable to appear in court. His absence brought demands from Alabama Atty. Gen. Richmond Flowers for a postponement of the trial and led ultimately to a court order ousting Flowers and his staff from the prosecution.

Flowers had taken over the duties as prosecutor which normally are performed by Circuit Solicitor Arthur E. Gamble Jr. The court order put Gamble back in charge.

State and defense attorneys expressed hope the trial would go to the jury of 12 white men today.

In the first day of testimony the first six witnesses testified primarily on what went on before and after the shooting. The storekeeper, Virginia Varner, told the jury Coleman came into the grocery with a shotgun, went back outside where Daniels, Morrisroe and a score of other civil rights workers were gathered, and returned a short time later to get the gun he had left behind.

FEARED TROUBLE

Mrs. Varner said she had decided to close the store for fear of trouble and that Coleman told the group outside that it was closed.

Later, she said, she heard gunfire but did not see the shooting.

Deputy Tells of Admission in Death Trial

An Oakland County Sheriff's deputy yesterday testified that a Detroit man, on trial for first-degree murder, admitted fatally stabbing a fellow worker in West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

"I stuck him, I stuck him," Deputy Stanley Clark quoted Joseph E. Strather, 28, as telling him shortly after he arrived at the scene.

The Circuit Court jury is expected to get the case today. Assistant Prosecutor Richard Rossman rested his case yesterday afternoon.

Court-appointed attorney Jerome K. Barry says Strawther was defending himself.

★ ★ ★

Strawther is accused of killing Quitman Williams, 39, also of Detroit, during an argument over money.

MEN WORKING

The stabbing occurred July 14 on Locklin Road where the two men were tearing down a home for a lumber company.

Clark said that Strawther had been drinking beer, but that it was his opinion that Strawther wasn't drunk.

Judge William J. Beer is hearing the case.

1966 Chevrolets Feature 'Individual Customizing'

New model options and new color and interior combinations highlight the 1966 Chevrolet, introduced today by Chevrolet Motor Division.

E. M. Estes, Chevrolet general manager, said the new choices would give car buyers the opportunity to "individually customize" any one of 50 models from six passenger car lines.

The 1966 Chevrolet goes on sale Oct. 7 at the following area dealers:

Matthews Hargreaves, Inc., 631 Oakland; Haskins Chevy-Olds, 6751 Dixie, Independence Township; Crissman Chevrolet, 755 S. Rochester, Rochester; Taylor Chevrolet Sales, 142 E. Walled Lake, Walled Lake; Al Hanoute Chevrolet-Buick, 209 N. Park, Lake Orion; Van Camp Chevrolet, Inc., 334 N. Main, Milford; Homer Hight, 160 S. Washington, Oxford; and Patterson Chevrolet Co., 1000 S. Woodward, Birmingham.

★ ★ ★

The regular Chevrolets have a more powerful appearance, with a forward-thrust to front fenders and bold horizontal bars in the grille. Individual moldings and ornamentation designate each series. All have tail lamps integrated into the rear quarters and deck.

NEW SPRINGS

Structural improvements have been made in both chassis and body. New springs, shock absorbers and softer bushings and body mounts increase riding quality. The 110-inch wheelbase is retained.

The basic six-cylinder engine is increased in displacement from 230 to 250 inches. Six V8s are available, including two new 427-cubic-inch engines. Horsepower range is from 155 to 425 and five basic transmissions are offered.

The 1966 Chevy II is slightly lower and longer and more than 1.5 inches wider than previous models. There are new roof-lines on all sedans and coupes.

★ ★ ★

A low, wide appearance is given the front end by a massive front bumper and new aluminum grille with recessed head lamps.

SIDE TREATMENT

The side treatment emphasizes length with a sweeping peak line. A broad, tailored rear deck includes integral backup lamps in the rear fenders.

Length and width of Chevelles are increased approximately one-half inch while the wheelbase r e m a i n s at 115 inches. Redesigned body panels and front end with wrap-around grille give a longer and lower silhouette.

Rooflines are new for two and four-door sedans.

Seven engines—two sixes and five V8s—are the range of power choices. Horsepower r a n g e s from 120 to the two 396-cubic-inch V8s rated at 325 and 360 horsepower and four transmissions are offered.

THREE SERIES

There are seven models in three series—all either convertibles or two- and four-door hardtops.

Four rear-mounted, air-cooled, six-cylinder engines are offered with horsepower ranging from 95 to 180, and choice of three-speed, four-speed or Powerglide transmissions.

Corvette is new in the nameplate on the hood, the body side trim, the grille and the wheel covers. There is a special high-domed hood on models with a 427-cubic-inch engine.

★ ★ ★

There are two Sting Ray models—a convertible and a sport coupe—on a 98-inch wheelbase.

State Official to Get Choice

LANSING (UPI) — State Insurance Commissioner Allen L. Mayerson will be asked today to either resign or give up moonlighting for an eastern insurance firm, according to Sen. Bernard F. O'Brien, D-Detroit.

O'Brien, chairman of the Senate Insurance Committee, has called on Mayerson to appear before the committee to answer conflict of interest charges. O'Brien has charged Mayerson is violating the state insurance code.

Mayerson, a former University of Michigan professor who was appointed to the state post by Gov. George Romney in 1963, was expected to fight for both jobs. He denied the conflict of interest allegations.

O'Brien said he would be willing to give Mayerson until Friday to make a decision. If he refused to move either way, O'Brien said he would ask the Senate Business Committee to remove the insurance commissioner from office.

★ ★ ★

"The Senate and the insurance committee have been overly patient with Commissioner Mayerson in awaiting a finalized decision on either being insurance commissioner or enjoying the fruits of private endeavors," O'Brien said.

CLEAR QUESTION

"I'm not out to get the commissioner. I just want to clear up this question about a conflict of interest," O'Brien said.

Mayerson has admitted being an actuary for an insurance firm in the east. However, he contends that since the firm does not do business in Michigan he cannot be accused of a conflict of interest.

Johnson Signs Arts Aid Bill

Goals of the Program Outlined by President

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, with a distinguished group of actors, writers, scholars and educators looking on, signed today legislation providing federal aid for the arts.

He announced at the ceremony that the federal government, working with state and local governments as well as private organizations will:

★ ★ ★

—Support a national opera company and a national ballet company.

—Create an American film institute, bringing together leading artists of the film industry, outstanding educators and young men and women who wish to pursue art as their life's work.

NEW WORKS

—Commission new works of music by American composers and support symphony orchestras.

—Bring m o r e distinguished artists to schools and universities by creating grants for their time in residence.

In a speech before signing the legislation, Johnson described art as the nation's most precious heritage.

"For it is in our works of art that we reveal to ourselves and to others the inner v e r s i o n which guides us as a nation," he said.

NO VISION

"For where there is no vision the people perish."

He said A m e r i c a has not always been kind to artists and scholars.

"Somehow," he said, "the scientists always seem to get the penthouse, while the arts and the humanities are down in the basement."

A search for Richard's parents was started after he was found at Miami International Airport last week with only three cents in his pockets and labels s n i p p e d from his clothing.

Mrs. Thorne admitted she left her son at the airport last Tuesday and said she does not want him back.

In Pontiac, Lynn G. Kellogg, Michigan's deputy welfare director, said the neglect charges were filed "in order that we can get jurisdiction and bring the boy back to Michigan."

He added: "What we're trying to do is not to publicize and prosecute the parents but work out a plan to help them and the child.

AT YOUTH HOME

"The boy can be thoroughly examined by doctors at the Oakland County youth home and a decision made as to whether he should be placed in a training school, foster care or someplace else."

Mrs. Thorne returned to Miami Sunday night from Chicago, where she had gone with her husband on a business trip.

She underwent court-ordered psychiatric tests upon her return.

Ad Firm Gets Go-Ahead on City's Annual Report

BIRMINGHAM — Preparation of an annual report for public distribution was approved this week by the City Commission.

The report, which will be in the form of a calender, will be designed by the Birmingham advertising firm of Page, Winchester & Connelly, Inc.

The cost of preparing and printing 10,000 copies of the 16-page report has been estimated at $4,100 by the agency.

A week ago the commission turned down a plan to have an annual report prepared because of the high cost. At that time, the Bloomfield Hills advertising firm of MacManus, John & Adams had estimated the cost would vary between $4,500 and $6,500.

★ ★ ★

The commission has appropriated $3,000 in the current budget for an annual report.

COMMUNICATIONS

The purpose of the annual report is to improve communications with residents of the city and to give them a better understanding of local government.

It is expected that the annual report will be ready for mailing by Dec. 1.

In another action, the commission approved a $2,500 allocation for the Birmingham Youth Assistance Committee.

The funds will be used for secretarial services and supplies.

Firemen Set to Give City a 'Hot Time'

Fire Prevention Week, which begins Monday, will be highlighted locally next week by a "Fire Fighters Festival" at Wisner Stadium Thursday night.

Fireworks, bands, balloons and clowns are attractions for the festival, which will feature demonstrations by Oakland County firemen of the latest in fire fighting techniques.

Innovations such as high-expansion foam, able to fill a blazing building, and a "slide to life" ride down a 50-foot rope will be shown along with vintage fire fighting equip—a 1923 Fox pumper truck.

Firemen will also engage in a tug-of-war, with the losers getting pulled through a sheet of water.

Bodies of 300 Filipinos Found

predawn hours yesterday, ending more than a half century of dormancy.

An eruption in 1911 killed more than 2,000, but since that d i s a s t e r Filipinos had returned to make a living by farming the lush tropical slopes of the mountain and by fishing the waters of the once beautiful lake.

One survivor, Elino Del Mundo, escaped with his wife and six of their children. Mundo and his wife were badly burned; Mundo may go blind. They left two children on the island.

★ ★ ★

"Heaven knows where they are," Mundo told UPI today.

"We will never return to that island again. No force in the world can make us go back."

MOST DROWNED

Most of the known victims drowned in a Jesperate attempt to cross the lake before lava engulfed whole villages on the volcanic island.

Juan Encarnacion, 35, told of watching his wife and five children drown in the boiling lake where they were swallowed up and tossed about like toys.

Encarnacion said his family was aboard one of 20 motorboats which capsized during a race for safety from Volcano Island to the lake shore. He made it by clinging to a piece of driftwood.

★ ★ ★

"Blinding light and continuous lightning prevented me from doing a n y t h i n g," Encarnacion said. Each boat carried between 20 and 40 persons.

BURIED ALIVE

Other survivors told of watching entire families being buried alive by streams of oozing lava and muck which spewed from the Mt. Taal crater.

Lt. Augusto Jardiolin, a member of the team of volcano experts maintained on the island to warn of possible eruptions, was only 500 yards away when the first explosion sent a fireball nearly two miles into the air, turning the night sky to crimson.

Jardiolin and the other six members of his team watched in horror as lava crushed against a flimsy bamboo house and devoured a family of six.

★ ★ ★

"We saw them buried alive, but we were helpless to save them," Jardiolin said.

RACE WITH LAVA

The volcano scientist and his team ran a race against the advancing lava and cascading rocks to their boat tied up on the lake front.

The motor balked and for a few terrifying seconds Jardiolin and his men thought they were done for. But the motor finally kicked over, and the group reached safety on the other side of the lake.

Only a few persons remained today on the far side of the lake. Towns there took on a ghostly appearance, and those who stayed behind were merely gathering up their few possessions before moving out.

A few brave survivors today ventured to Volcano Island itself. But they landed on the north end, unaffected by the burning lava which covered most of the southern two-thirds. The island has an area of 10 square miles.

★ ★ ★

Philippine constabulary officers said those who landed on the north end were islanders who were permitted to salvage whatever possessions they could.

POPULATION

The population of the island, according to the last census in 1960, was 2,763. The present total was estimated at about 4,000. But officials said the current harvest season on the once lush green slopes had attracted at least 2,000 more people to the island.

Key Crime-Curb Factors Listed

Members of a newly formed study committee on law enforcement problems in Oakland County generally agreed yesterday that community involvement and greater police professionalism were key facors in a sound enforcement program.

Headed by chairman John B. Osgood, a Royal Oak attorney, the seven-member committee held its organizational meeting yesterday.

Pontiac Police Chief William Hanger suggested a higher wage level to attract college-trained personnel to police work initially in preference to offering pay increments for training acquired as officers.

Higher police p a y would boost an officer's dignity and make him more inclined to participate in continuing education programs, Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson said.

★ ★ ★

Bronson added that police now are forced to take part-time jobs to meet the cost of living which leaves them neither the time nor energy to gain in professionalism.

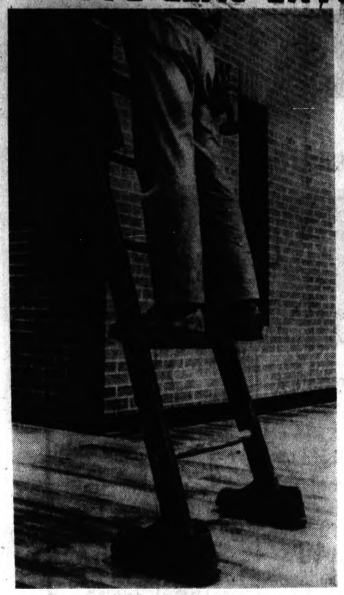

Committee members were agreed that the skills of police officers must be upgraded so that they can perform at maximum efficiency in the face of present restrictive laws.

Citing the need for community involvement as a necessity in an effective law enforcement program was Robert A. Frye, a Bloomfield Hills attorney.

The committee will meet again Oct. 12 to formulate the type and extent of training that can be provided to police officers.

Representatives of the bar association, Oakland University, Oakland Community College and Glenford S. Leonard, director of the Oak Park Dept. of Public Safety, will attend.

The study on law enforcement problems was suggested by Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore and the committee was appointed by Delos Hamlin, chairman of the County Board of Supervisors.

GOOD STEP — Electrician's apprentice Bruce Murphy of Fargo, N.D., was cautioned against scratching the gymnasium floor while installing an electric scoreboard in a new high school. Walking through the recent North Dakota snow gave Murphy an idea. He placed his rubbers on the bottom of the ladder for a nonskid, no-scratch job.

Acquitted Police Officer Hopes for Return to Force

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I hope to get back on the force: that's my life work."

A suspended police lieutenant thus greeted his acquittal Tuesday after a trial in which brother officers testified he shot and wounded a man he mistakenly believed involved in the mass rape of his daughter.

O'NEAL

"I'm sorry I hit anyone," said Lt. Thomas E. O'Neal as smiling jurors shook his hand. "The fact that it was the wrong man didn't make any difference. I just shouldn't have done it. It was the wrong thing to do."

O'Neal, 41, awaits a police board hearing Nov. 2.

SOBBED UNABASHEDLY

As the verdict was read, another jury in a nearby courtroom was hearing evidence in the trial of five other youths accused of raping Shirley Diane O'Neal, 19. She testified in both cases.

O'Neal had sobbed unabashedly as he testified that his daughter, selling cookbooks door-to-door, had been enticed into a house by the promise of a sale. Inside, a gang of young men raped her.

Three days later O'Neal was assisting the investigation of the rape case when, in West Valley police station, two suspects were led down a hallway. Other officers in the hall said O'Neal suddenly drew his pistol and fired. Carl E. Norman, 21, was hit twice.

Norman later was cleared of complicity in the rape case. He recovered and testified at O'Neal's trial.

TWO VOTES

The jury, after deliberating 90 minutes, found O'Neal innocent of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to murder and innocent of a lesser charge, assault with a deadly weapon. Only two votes were taken. Both were unanimous.

Foreman Robert L. Benson said the jury accepted the defense contention that O'Neal acted unconsciously when he opened fire on Norman O'Neal's counsel had told the court: "He suffered from loss of sleep, lack of food, his daughter's appearance after the attack, and the recurring dream that his daughter was in a room with men who acted like animals."

O'Neal, father of four, is a veteran of 15 years on the force.

The rape trial continues.

There are more than 45 collectors of barbed wire in the United States. The first barbed wire was introduced about 1800.

The velvet ant, which actually is a species of wasp, has a soft, hairy coat. The female is wingless.

Domestic airline passenger traffic during the first half of this year increased 15 per cent over last years' figures.

Dirksen Hits Bill on Doctor Drug Sales

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., introduced Tuesday his bill to make it a federal offense for any doctor to profit from the sale of medicines or other items he prescribes for patients.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., promptly protested that "it would appear to me to be most unusual for Congress to consider any legislation that would bar anyone from making a profit on the things he sells."

* * *

Hart is chairman and Dirksen, the Republican leader, is a member of the Senate Anti-trust and Monopoly subcommittee which has filed a divided report of findings in an investigation of medical men's profits from the sale of drugs and medicines.

A majority report signed by Hart and others criticized doctor ownership—sometimes secret—of drugstores and wholesale drug businesses. It recommended legislation to deal with the problem.

* * *

A minority report by Dirksen and Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., expressed concern about the practice but said no need for new federal legislation had been shown.

Says LBJ Ignored Congress on Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said today President Johnson ignored a 54-year-old line of authority between the executive and Congress in negotiating the controversial auto trade agreement with Canada.

Gore, in a prepared speech attacking the bill implementing the agreement, said a serious imbalance already exists between the power of the White House and legislative branch.

* * *

"The ratification of the President's action in negotiating this trade agreement will further erode the Congress' standing," the Senator declared. He added: "Not since 1911 has the President negotiated a trade agreement of this sort—one requiring implementing legislation—without prior authority of Congress."

PACT IS SIGNED

Johnson and Prime Minister Lester Pearson of Canada signed the agreement last Jan. 16.

The Senate began debate on the implementation bill Tuesday. Democratic leaders said they hope to pass it this week. The House cleared it Aug. 31.

Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., floor manager for the bill, said in opening the debate Tuesday that the agreement was to the advantage of the United States and Canada.

* * *

It will avoid a commercial conflict between the two neighbors and permit the big auto manufacturers to make the most efficient use of their plants whether in this country or in Canada, he said.

Under the agreement, tariffs would be eliminated on new cars and parts for news cars moving across the border either way.

'IMPORTANT AGREEMENT'

Gore charged an effort was being made to rush "this improvident agreement" through the Senate at the end of the session without proper consideration. He urged that the bill be defeated.

Gore said the big losers from the agreement would be 10,000 American firms which supply parts to the automotive industry. Most of the opposition to the bill has come from these companies.

* * *

The American motorist will lose under the agreement because he will have to pay higher prices for replacement parts, the senator argued. This will result, he said, because the U.S. parts firms will lose much of their original equipment business to Canada and will have to charge more for replacement items to stay in business.

To America with love... The 1966 Chrysler

Could be we're getting too emotional. But it isn't very often you get a chance to follow an all-time sales record year with a new Chrysler like this one.

Sure, our '65 was great. But the '66 is even better.

It looks better. Moves quicker. It's got a beautiful new front end and a very dramatic new rear.

It's got a bigger and more zesty group of V-8 engines. From a 383 cubic incher to a 440 TNT with twin exhausts and twin snorkels. (A "snorkel" is an air intake horn for the carburetor — does great things for performance.)

The interiors, all up and down the line, are more luxurious and comforting. Take our new shell bucket seats, for example. It's almost as if they had been custom-fitted for you.

One thing we didn't even think about changing. It has to do with money. Five of our Newport models (real Chryslers —not junior editions) are priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars with the same equipment. This includes features like power steering, power brakes, a 383 cubic inch V-8, automatic transmission, radio and many standard items like safety door handles and seat belts.

Move up to Chrysler . . . it's getting easier by the minute.

Offer 'Billboard Bill' to Free Road Funds

LANSING (UPI) — A comprehensive "billboard bill" designed to unplug a bottleneck that threatened to hold up $129 million in federal highway construction funds was introduced in the House yesterday.

Sponsored chiefly by Reps. George F. Montgomery, D-Detroit, and Charles F. Gray, D-Ypsilanti, the bill would empower the state highway department to ban most highway advertising within "protected areas" 660 feet either side of the right-of-ways on interstate and other federal highways.

It combines features of bills introduced by both lawmakers earlier in the year and is considerably stronger than another bill now in a Senate-House Conference Committee.

The bill would banish from Michigan's federally—subsidize roadsides such familiar billboards as those advocating beer, political candidates, shaving cream, distant resorts, new cars, cemetery markers, and tobacco products.

★ ★ ★

Last June, the Federal Bureau of Public Roads threatened to cut off federal matching funds when the Michigan Supreme Court ruled the State Highway Department did not have the authority to control roadside advertising as required in federal programs.

U.S. SUPPORT

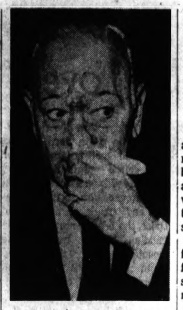

Federal support for interstate routes is set at 90 per cent and at 50 per cent for primary, secondary, and urban highway construction. Federal funds earmarked for Michigan for the current fiscal year have been estimated at about $140 million for interstate roads and about $35 million for other construction.

"We have included the latest rulings of the bureau of public roads and the provisins of federal legislation about to be enacted," Montgomery said. "It is imperative that we get sign legislation enacted to get our building program on firm footing."

Under the Montgomery-Gray Bill, the only signs allowed in the "protected areas" would be:

- Directional and other official signs.
- Signs advertising the sale or lease of, or activities on the property where the signs are located.
- Signs designed to give information "in the specific interset of the traveling public," such as historic sites, scenic areas, recreation sites, and "places for camping, lodging, eating and vehicle service and repair."

The only trade names to be permitted would be those of vehicle equipment supplies, fuel and the like; and they would be permitted only if the place selling them is "displayed as conspicuously" as the trade name.

GEORGE RAFT
Good News Brings Tears

Actor Is Fined in Tax Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge fined actor George Raft $2,500 for income tax evasion and then said evidence indicated Raft would have been found innocent if he had fought the case.

Raft, 70, whose movie specialty was tough-guy roles, had pleaded guilty. He clutched his grandmother's Rosary during the hour-long hearing Tuesday and then wept unashamedly after Judge Peirson M. Hall pronounced sentence.

★ ★ ★

Raft could have been fined $5,000 and imprisoned for three years.

The indictment alleged that Raft understated his income $85,000 from 1958 through 1963. The government dropped five counts after Raft pleaded guilty to a sixth.

SHOWS ROSARY

Outside the courtroom, Raft held up a wine-colored Rosary that he said was 105 years old and told newsmen: "God was with me — and so were these."

His attorney, Jerry Weber, said many of Raft's friends had written the judge asking for leniency. He said they included Bob Hope, Lucille Ball, Jimmy Durante, Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., Buzzi Bavasi, general manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers and Frank Sinatra.

★ ★ ★

Tears came to Raft's eyes again when Sinatra was mentioned.

"Frank was the first to come to my help. He would do anything in the world to help me," Raft told newsmen.

★ ★ ★

Raft said he would begin work soon in New York and Italy on the movie "Diabolique," in which he plays a "patriotic gangster."

Illinois Town Exposed

Crime Mecca Is Found

BELLEVILLE, Ill. (UPI)—Just a roll of the dice away from the mighty Mississippi, where riverboat gamblers plied their trade a century ago, Illinois crime investigators have found a town that lives on gambling and seems to love it.

The town is Brooklyn, Ill., founded before the Civil War to feed manpower into the area's steel mills, stockyards and railroads.

The crime commission conducted two days of hearings in this St. Clair County seat and left yesterday. But the picture they drew of wide open saloon gambling lingered on.

Brooklyn, which Mayor George Thomas calls a "little Las Vegas," makes do without any of the glitter and gold of its legalized Western counterparts. Describing one game at the Harlem Club as the "best in town," former police chief Alan Jefferson testified:

"The crap table has a green cloth."

Mayor Thomas told the commission the town rakes in $600,000 a year in food and drink profit alone from the many gamblers who rush to the town on weekends.

ESTIMATES TAKE

An investigator arbitrarily estimated the gambling take itself at $1 million a year.

Agent Robert J. Walker and chief investigator John J. Gallagher told the commission yesterday that during an undercover investigation they attempted to set up a gambling place. They told of approaching Al Zitta, operator of an amusement company in nearby East St. Louis.

This is Walker's sworn testimony:

"I asked Zitta if it was all right to run a card game in the unincorporated areas. I also asked if I could pay off the sheriff.

"Zitta advised against that. He told me instead, 'The sheriff has a right hand man named William Miskell who handles that. He'll want 25 per cent of the take.'"

DENIES CHARGE

Later, Miskell told reporters that Zitta was "a —— liar."

Walker and Gallagher said they spent about three weeks investigating crime in Brooklyn and St. Clair County.

It was in East St. Louis where in recent years that rackets boss Frank (Buster) Wortman and his lieutenant, former St. Louis (Mo.) County Deputy Chief Sheriff Gregory Moore, have been indicted on charges of income tax conspiracy, and where three years ago, two other Wortman associates, Elmer (Dutch) Dowling and Melvin J. Beckman, were found shot to death and dumped along a road near Belleville.

Walker and Gallagher said that during their investigation they:

- Found pinball machines, electric slot machines, punchboards, dice and cards.
- Were paid only up to $14 on the games they played.
- Were approached by prostitutes on the street.

CRIME AREA

"I think crime is all around the area," agent John Tyrell said.

Capt. Emil Toffant, a state police commander, testified that widespread gambling existed, but, he said, "we have to get along with elected officials and local authorities."

Earlier, Brooklyn Mayor Thomas said gambling was necessary to keep the city solvent.

Former police chief Jefferson, who said he quit because he was paid only $300 a month, said the dice games were a tradition and "keep the town going."

"If I had closed them, I would not have been police chief the next morning," Jefferson said.

The crime commission recessed the hearings and said there would be no statement.

L. T. FLYNN

Engineer's Consultant With Firm 40 Years

L. T. Flynn, nationally recognized engineering consultant for GMC Truck & Coach Division, retires Friday after 40 years of service with the division.

The 61-year-old executive joined the division's predecessor company; Yellow Truck & Coach, in September 1925, at Chicago. A year later he was transferred to Pontiac.

Flynn of 2625 Roxie, Bloomfield Hills, was named to his present post in January 1957.

Closely attuned to the needs and problems of both the truck manufacturer and the truck user, Flynn has been called upon to address dozens of operator and SAE organizations each year.

* * *

His analytical examination of knotty trucking problems and the resulting advice has been sought by hundreds.

ENGINEERING CONSULTANT

Besides his consulting activities with GMC and his many speaking engagements, he was an engineering consultant to the GM Transportation Productivity Research Group and coauthored the GM publication, "Seven Common Profit Leaks in Truck Transportation."

For this service to the trucking industry, he has been awarded numerous honors by trucking associations and allied groups throughout the United States.

A mechanical engineering graduate of Armour Institute, now Illinois Institute of Technology at Chicago, he began his career with GMC Truck as a project engineer but soon was transferred to the division's service section to serve as a liaison engineer.

* * *

Subsequent positions with GMC, highlighted by a 5½-year tenure as chief truck engineer, included technical service manager, manager of war products training, manager of sales engineering, and government sales manager.

He is married and father of three grown children.
