Tornadoes, Rain Drive Hundreds From Homes Throughout State

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Violent thunderstorms rumbled over Texas today following tornadoes and floods that killed at least three persons and drove hundreds from their homes.

A squall line that moved over Pawnee in southern Texas dropped an inch and a half of rain in 20 minutes at 7:30 a.m. out of black rolling clouds. Cleburne, in north-central Texas, got two inches in an hour and a half.

Rusk in eastern Texas got 10.50 inches in 24 hours.

One man drowned in central Texas when his auto plunged into a rain-swollen creek. Another drowned in southeast Texas when a bridge gave way beneath him and a third was lost in the same area when high winds swamped his small boat.

The floods also stranded seven persons in a school bus, wrecked a passenger train and drove hundreds from their homes. Dozens of highways were closed.

At Ballinger in West Texas, which had the worst flooding, about 150 spent last night at a Red Cross shelter. Runnels County Judge W. H. Rampy hesitated to place a dollar loss on the flood, but said he thought it was light "and we are pleased that the loss was not more serious and that we escaped without loss of life."

State police took seven persons by boat from a school bus stranded between two creeks near Taylor in central Texas.

A Missouri-Kansas-Texas trestle at Weir, in central Texas, collapsed, derailed the engine and four baggage cars of a San Antonio-Dallas passenger train. No one was injured.

FLOODS 50-BLOCK AREA

The water at Ballinger, a town of 6,000 extended over a 50-block area and reached a few business houses at the southern edge of the downtown business section. About 100 homes were badly damaged. Most of those flooded out were Latin-American and Negro families.

Ford Stresses Fuel Economy

New Engine Will Power '58 Cars, Shown Today at Press Preview

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co's. 1958 model Ford cars, given a 185 million dollar re-styling and re-engineering treatment, were shown to representatives of the press today at a national preview.

Along with 225 regular newsmen some 145 teenagers, invited by Ford and selected by newspapers around the country made the preview one of the largest of the new model period.

Ford ousted Chevrolet from the industry's No. 1 spot with the 1957 model introduction. It currently is nearly 50,000 units ahead of Chevrolet in retail deliveries.

Chevrolet showed an entirely new line of cars last week to a press preview group.

W. J. Cooper, Ford Division general sales manager, said that through concentrated engineering efforts the 1958 Ford cars will give 15 per cent more fuel mileage.

A major engineering advance bringing this about, Cooper said, is a new 352-cubic inch engine turning over 13 per cent fewer times than the 1957 model while attaining the same ground speed.

Thousands Jostle Elizabeth and Philip Rushes to Rescue

OTTAWA (INS)—Prince Philip, usually as good a sport in public as he is a sportsman in private, displayed his first irritability today when an army of photographers, backed by thousands of French-Canadian people, closed in on Queen Elizabeth.

The usually affable prince rushed to his wife's side outside the city hall of the town of Hull, just across the Ottawa River from the capitol, and glared with obvious displeasure at the crowd.

Royal Canadian Mounties, as red of face as of jacket, rushed i nand pushed the photographers — exploding flashbulbs and all — back to the protocol distance of 15 feet from the royal couple.

It was the first sign of strain either Her Majesty or Phillip has shown during the hectic U. S.-Canada tour which began Saturday and takes them to Jamestown, Va., tomorrow.

The occasion was a 10-minute visit to the town of volatile French-Canadian subjects, where the Queen met the mayor, signed a guest book, and was greeted by more than 50,000 screaming subjects.

Immediately following the incident, she and Phillip rushed to their plastic-domed limousine, and headed off in a motorcade toward

For Recognizing East Germany

Report Adenauer Ready to Be Tough Toward Tito

By SEYMOUR TOPPING
AP Bureau Chief

BERLIN—West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer today was reported bent on a tough policy toward Yugoslavia in retaliation for Marshal Tito's decision to recognize East Germany's Communist government.

Qualified diplomatic sources said a break in the formal diplomatic ties between Bonn and Belgrade was likely as a warning to other nations that might think about falling in line with Tito.

But the diplomats added that the two nations might continue working relations, since West Germany is Yugoslavia's most important trade partner.

Dusan Kveder, the Yugoslav ambassador to Bonn, informed the West German Foreign Office last night that his government today would announce the establishment of diplomatic ties with the German satellite nation.

Adenauer and Foreign Minister Heinrich Brentano, in Berlin for the opening of the new lower house of Parliament, held an urgent meeting on receipt of the Yugoslav bombshell.

Allied officials conceded that Yugoslav recognition was an important victory for Russia and its German satellite.

The West has tried to keep the East German regime in diplomatic isolation in hopes this would hasten an agreement to reunify Germany through free elections.

Adenauer earlier had warned that his government would break off ties with any nation recognizing the East German regime, which the Western Allies consider illegal and not representative of the 18 million East Germans. Adenauer made an exception of Russia.

No Disclosures on Missiles, Moons

Ike Talks With Scientists

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today met with the 13 members of his science advisory committee for a 45-minute discussion of earth satellites and missiles—Russian and American.

Neither the White House nor the scientists would disclose what was said.

Dr. Isador Rabi, chairman of the committee, told reporters, "anything you want you will have to get from the President's office."

Hagerty earlier had told newsmen the conference was called before Russia's Sputnik began its 18,000-mile-an-hour orbit around a startled and fascinated world 11 days ago.

Dr. Rabi, professor of physics at Columbia University, said he and his colleagues had "a privileged meeting" with the President, but that it would not be appropriate for them to discuss what was said.

He also declined to be drawn out on whether the U. S. ballistic missile and earth satellite programs should be speeded up.

Reports from both sides of the country said Sputnik had been sighted early today. Ambassador G. L. Mehta of India said he saw it from the terrace of the Indian embassy in Washington at dawn today.

Rooftop observers in San Francisco said they saw Sputnik or one of its celestial traveling companions at daybreak there. They said it was plainly visible to the naked eye.

Meanwhile, U.S. scientists have reported puzzlement over an "unknown force" that apparently is acting on the moonlet, causing variations in its orbit.

CONFIRM NAVY REPORTS

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, associate director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, said in Cambridge, Mass., that findings concerning the force confirmed reports from the Naval Research Laboratory in Washington.

Hynek said the information was "very puzzling," and added the findings might account for variations in Sputnik's timetable. He said the satellite's orbital plane apparently is turning faster as a result of the force, thus preventing electronic computers from accurately determining the orbit on the basis of normal gravity.

But, he went on, gravity still accounts for 99 per cent of the total force acting on Sputnik.

It was reported yesterday that the sphere had resumed its "beep beep" radio transmissions after emitting a continuous buzz for an extended period.

And a California physicist, C. R. Moe, said last night at Sunnyvale that he had obtained the first definite evidence of what he called coded radio signals from the satellite.

Moe said: "We heard 10 pulses of coding or what appeared to be definite evidence of 'keying' of the transmitter." He said he had been monitoring the satellite's radio signals since Oct. 8.

Russia has not given detailed information on the radio signals.

Says Fluoridation to End False Teeth

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A Seattle dentist predicts fluoridation benefits will make artifical dentures a rarity in Grand Rapids in the future.

Dr. Olin E. Hoffman, chief of the Dental Health Section of Washington State, Health Department, visited the city yesterday on an inspection tour.

He said fluoridation of drinking water has greatly reduced tooth decay among Grand Rapids children. Benefits of the program will remain with today's youngsters all their lives, he added.

Dr. Hoffman inspected 25 fourth graders at one school and said he found only four in need of dental attention.

He observed that fluoridation of drinking water ultimately will become a routine public health measure comparable to the chlorination of water to prevent typhoid fever.

Grand Rapids was first in the nation to adopt fluoridation in 1945. Dr. Hoffman said the program was introduced in his state in 1950.

Reign Over Tribe

PRINCESS AND CHIEF — Reigning over the Pontiac High School tribe this week during Anteneeban (Indian for Fall Festival) are "Princess" Jeanne Johnson, 16, of 661 Robinwood Ave., and "Chief" Larry Beamer, 17, of 36 Steinbaugh Ct.

P.H.S. Picks Track Star as Chief of Homecoming

Chief Pontiac never had it so good. Pontiac High School track star Larry Beamer will tell you that.

His tribe of fellow students chose him over eight other candidates in an all-school election to be their leader. They selected pretty Jeanne Johnson, a cheerleader, to reign with him as princess.

Beamer, who graduates in June, is the 1957 state high school half mile track champion and the number one cross country contestant at Pontiac High.

Princess Jeanne was selected over 14 other high school girls. She is vice president of the student council and secretary-treasurer of the cheerleaders.

The couple will be introduced to its tribe during a special assembly today in school. They will ride on one of the 14 floats scheduled to be in the parade beginning at 5:30 Friday afternoon from Crofoot Elementary School field.

Keep Umbrella Out Against Rain Tonight

Take out your umbrellas!! Light rain tonight and tomorrow is the U.S. Weather Bureau's prediction for the Pontiac area.

Tonight the forecast is for mostly cloudy with occasional light rain. The low will be 54-58 degrees.

Tomorrow there will be mostly cloudy skies with occasional showers. The mercury will rise to 64-68.

In an extended weather forecast, The U.S. Weather Bureau says temperatures will average around three or four degrees above normal. The normal high 62; the normal low 43.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac this morning was a mild 45. At 2 p.m., the mercury had risen to 70.

Claims Attacks Lessen Chance for Fair Trials

Top Teamster Pleads Innocent to Perjury in Federal Court

NEW YORK (AP)—Counsel for Teamsters Union official James R. Hoffa today accused the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee of "doing what it can to destroy Hoffa and prevent him from getting a fair trial" on indictments charging wiretapping and perjury.

Shortly before the heated remarks by attorney Sol Gelb, Hoffa had pleaded innocent before U.S. Dist. Judge William B. Herlands to five counts of perjury involving a federal grand jury investigation of wiretapping in his Detroit headquarters.

Hoffa was also in court for the setting of a trial date on an indictment charging him and two others with conspiracy to tap the telephones in Teamsters headquarters in Detroit.

Gelb argued heatedly for a long postponement of the trial of both cases, his voice shaking at times as he waved newspaper clippings and magazine articles which he claimed painted Hoffa as "public enemy No. 1," precluding a fair trial in the near future.

Hoffa posed for photographers but told reporters he had nothing to say.

Hoffa was grim-faced as the perjury indictment against him was read.

Hoffa recently was elected president of the 1,400,000-member International Brotherhood of Teamsters, but has been barred by court order from taking office.

The 44-year-old Detroiter's plans to take over the scandal-tainted Teamsters Union today or tomorrow were upset yesterday by U.S. District Court in Washington.

ISSUES ORDER

Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts issued a temporary restraining order that barred Hoffa and others elected with him Oct. 4 at the union's Miami Beach convention from taking office.

Beck had agreed, however, to step aside to give Hoffa an ear-

Army Orders Forces Reduced by 500, Plans to Dismiss Guards

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The Army took note yesterday of the calm atmosphere around recently integrated Central High School by ordering a 500 man reduction in the number of soldiers protecting nine Negro students.

★ ★ ★

The surprise move announced by Secretary of the Army Brucker at Washington brought little response from this city, wracked by nearly seven weeks of racial tension.

Gov. Orval Faubus declined comment.

Army officials here seemed more surprised than civilians. An Army spokesman said last night that Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker, who commands both paratroopers and Arkansas National Guardsmen, had received no orders yet to release troops from duty here.

Brucker announced that 500 of the 1,000 members of the 101st Airborne Division will be returned immediately to their regular post at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Brucker also said the Army will dismiss from federal control the bulk of Arkansas National Guardsmen federalized Sept. 24, the day the paratroopers arrived in Little Rock.

C. E. Wilson Opposes Merging Armed Forces

'Single Military Could Bring Dictator'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charles E. Wilson, who stepped down as secretary of defense this week, says he opposes the idea of putting all military men in the same uniform. Some unification advocates demand just that.

Wilson said a single uniform military would not "wash out the problems" or prevent disagreements. Besides, he said, it might open the way to military dictatorship in this country some day.

Saying he considers unification in the armed forces "pretty good right now," Wilson said: "I wouldn't advocate any important changes."

The former defense secretary gave some afterthoughts on his job in a copyrighted interview in the weekly magazine "U. S. News & World Report."

★ ★ ★

Wilson said he feels the United States is just as strong militarily, compared to Russia, as when he took office in 1953. As to whether this country is stronger, he did not say directly but remarked:

'TOO MUCH TALK'

"I'm a little bit unhappy at times that we talk about the new weapons and war as much as we do, because if you're going to try to keep reasonably ahead without overstressing the economy of your country and you promptly tell about everything you're doing, why you're certainly tipping your hand and disclosing all the information and stimulating the possible enemy and the armaments race."

Wilson said he is "a middle-of-the-roader" on telling about the military defenses. "I would like to go on a 'need to know' basis," he said. The former defense chief said the secrets of U. S. progress in research for new weapons are not being kept "as well as I would like to see them kept."

On his outlook toward war, Wilson said "Perhaps I'm sort of an optimist, but I don't look forward to a third world war of complete destruction as inevitable."

His biggest problem in getting things done in the Pentagon, Wilson said, was the rapid turnover among the service secretaries which "cut down the ability to make progress quickly and have a common understanding without too much discussion and argument."

The former General Motors head said he did not think it was necessary for him to sell his General Motors securities before taking office.

"I was a little peeved at the idea that apparently some people thought I might be coming to Washington to cheat for General Motors," he added.

Asked if he didn't consider himself harassed by having to appear before so many congressional committees, Wilson replied:

"Oh, it sweated me a little, once in a while, but it's part of our democratic process. I don't object to it."

Beverage Drivers in Detroit Vote to Pull Out of Teamsters

DETROIT (AP) — A unit of a Detroit Teamsters Union local headed by a top aide of James R. Hoffa voted tonight to get out of the Teamsters and join another AFL-CIO group.

Driver-salesmen of the Seven-Up Bottling Co., represented heretofore by Teamsters Local 337, voted 48 to 1 to join Local 297 of the Wholesale, Retail & Department Store Employes Union. Of the 52 men involved, two were absent and one man's vote was declared invalid.

Teamsters Local 337 is headed by Owen B. (Bert) Brennan, a Hoffa lieutenant and recently elected an international vice president of the Teamsters. Brennan was scheduled to appear in a New York court today on charges involving alleged tapping of telephone lines. He was not available for comment.

Local 337 claims a membership of 12,000.

The Seven-Up drivers reportedly were unhappy over the way local 337 chose delegate to the recent Teamsters convention in Miami Beach.

MEETING ORDERLY

The meeting to disaffiliate was orderly and without unusual incident.

William Palmer, a spokesman for the dissident group, said: "Hoffa has reached the point where he no longer can stand any more bad publicity."

Meanwhile, in Chicago, John T. O'Brien, veteran Chicago labor leader, says he expects to take over as chairman of the powerful Central States Conference of the Teamsters Union, replacing James R. Hoffa, the union's newly elected president.

O'Brien, now a vice president of the Teamsters, also is secretary-treasurer of Chicago Local 710 of the union. He was the first Teamster to announce as a candidate to succeed Dave Beck as president of the union, but later withdrew in favor of Hoffa.

★ ★ ★

O'Brien announced that the Central States Conference will meet Oct. 29 to draft demands for wage boosts for 175,000 Teamsters in 26 midwestern and central states. The wage boosts, of still undetermined amounts, will be sought for dock workers, over-the-road and city cartage drivers, he said.

Supervisor of Pontiac Township, Ex-Justice Dies in Dearborn

Howard C. Decker, supervisor of Pontiac Township and former justice of the township, died suddenly yesterday in Dearborn Veterans' Hospital. He was 64.

A native of Dryden, he attended school in Dryden and West Branch. He had been a resident of Oakland County for 30 years.

Owner and operator of Decker's Gravel Pit, he served the township 16 years as a justice. In 1955, he was elected supervisor.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Decker was active in Hill-Gazette Post No. 143 of the American Legion, Auburn Heights, and was a past commander. With his father he had built roads in the northern part of the state.

Other survivors include a sister, Miss Audrey Decker of Flint; three brothers, Alvah of Des Moines, Iowa, Frank of Detroit and Arland Decker of Saginaw.

Mr. Decker's body will be at the Dudley H. Moore Funeral Home, Auburn Heights, Wednesday afternoon.

Pilots' Strike Ties Up Lakes' Foreign Ships

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Masters, Mates and Pilots International organization staged a four-hour strike yesterday that tied up foreign-flag shipping on the Great Lakes.

Capt. Rolla H. Johnson, vice president of the union, said at Montreal that a settlement had been reached there with the Shipping Federation of Canada.

The union had picketed earlier today, Johnson said, to end "discrimination against American pilots" by foreign flag shipping interests.

Four foreign ships were tied up here, six more at Chicago, three at Milwaukee and three at Detroit. Longshoremen refused to unload the vessels because of the pilots' picket lines.

Know the Weather

By E. H. SIMS

What is an occluded front? What causes them to form?

An occluded front is almost always formed when a cold front (which travels up to 35 m.p.h or sometimes even faster) overtakes the slower-moving warm front.

The cold air mass pushes the warm, often moist, air upward and there is a mixing process which may confuse the observer on the ground and even the professional in his forecasting office.

A characteristic of an occluded front is heavy rain and often strong winds. Often, however, the cold front which overtakes the warm will speed up the eastward movement of weather and clearing will come sooner than had the warm front passed overhead in a normal manner.

Ex-Russian Spy Resumes Story

NEW YORK (AP)—A former Russian spy returns to the witness stand today to further detail how Russian Col. Rudolf I. Abel allegedly masterminded Soviet espionage activities in the United States.

His voice tinged with a Russian accent, the renegade spy, Reino Hayhanen, yesterday identified Abel as the resident espionage officer in this country known to him by the code name of "Mark."

Hayhanen is under indictment with Abel as a coconspirator but is the government's star witness.

If convicted, Abel could be executed.

Hayhanen, 37, testified in federal court in Brooklyn that he came to the United States in 1952 "to take residence as a citizen in espionage work."

A portly man with dark hair and a thick mustache, he said the Soviet secret police sent him to the United States with the promise of $500 a month in salary and expenses plus a $5,000 bonus for any highly significant item of military or atomic data.

The government says he defected to the West last May, a month before Abel's arrest.

Under questioning by Asst. Atty. Gen. William F. Tompkins, the chief prosecutor, Hayhanen said he came to the United States in 1952 using an American passport bearing the name "Maki," a name he said belonged to a family that moved to Russia from Idaho in 1927.

Canada Government to Ask Tax Cuts

OTTAWA (AP) — Canada's first Conservative government in 22 years has announced it will ask Parliament for higher pensions, financial aid to prairie wheat farmers and possible tax cuts.

★ ★ ★

The legislative aims were outlined yesterday in the speech from the throne read by Queen Elizabeth II to open Parliament. The speech was written by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker's government.

Political debate on the program opens tomorrow.

The list of proposed laws in the program was shorter than usual, indicating hopes for a comparatively short session. Requests were made for money to run the government only through next March 31. An election might be held late next spring after another session.

a bridge gave way beneath him at LaGrange. A University of Texas student, David Hand, 18, Lubbock, Tex., drowned when his car plunged into a flooded creek near Valley Mills. He was trapped by a seat belt. John B. Dickins, 43, Houston, drowned when his boat was swamped by wind-lashed waters in Lake Houston.

One twister struck about nine miles north of Dayton and wrecked three homes. Buddy Cherry and his children, Jerry, 15, and Garland, 13, were treated for minor injuries.

The Texas Department of Public Safety said another twister wrecked a drive-in theater and several farm homes at Waller, about 40 miles northwest of Houston. One resident said he spotted three funnels.

The Weather Bureau said it had reports of 8.86 inches of rain at Palestine in East Texas and 7.60 at Hutto in central Texas.

Munising Resident Dies in Wisconsin Accident

WAUKESHA, Wis. (AP)—Norman M. Osland, 58, Munising, Mich., died late yesterday in the collision of his auto and another car at a highway intersection about 25 miles west of Milwaukee.

Osland's wife, Violet, 57, was taken to Waukesha Memorial hospital in serious condition with scalp lacerations and loss of blood.

Waukesha County deputies said the crash occurred at the intersection of State 67 and U.S. 18, about one mile from Dousman. The driver of the other car suffered minor cuts.

Pittsburgh Strike in 2nd Day

All Moves but Trolleys

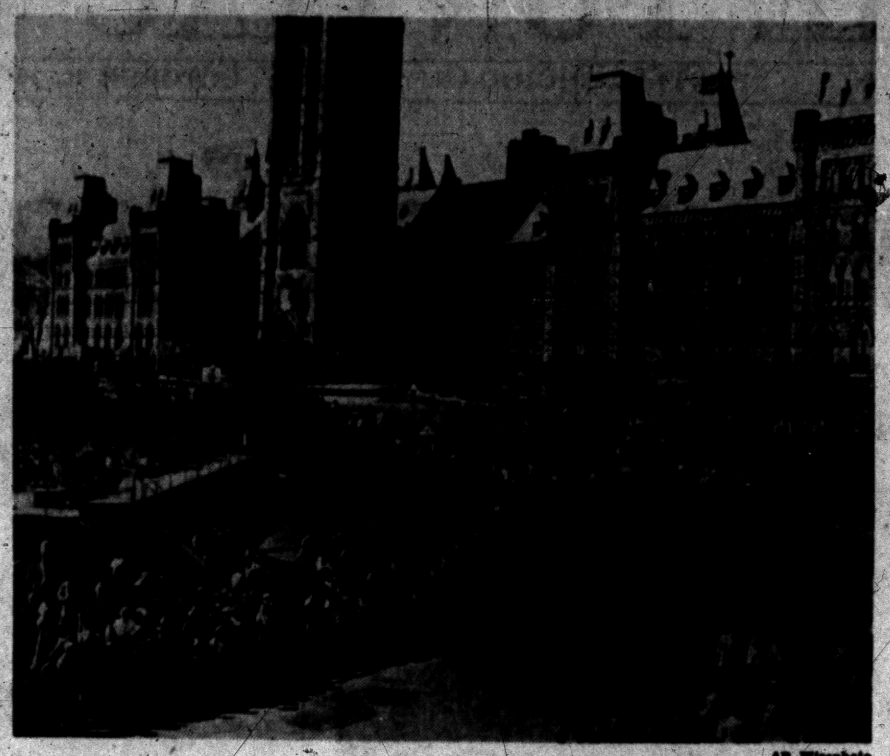

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Almost every available form of transportation—except trolleys—was used by thousands of residents to get to work today in this transportation-crippled metropolis.

As a strike of 2,200 bus and trolley operators against Pittsburgh Railways Co. went into its second day there was no sign of a quick contract settlement. No negotiating meetings were scheduled.

Safety Director Louis Rosenberg said yesterday's traffic jam was the worst in Pittsburgh's history. There were not so many autos on the street in 1954 when Pittsburgh railways was shut down for 35 days by a strike, Rosenberg said.

The railways company operates the mass transit system which hauls about 350,000 persons daily.

Some persons walked miles to work yesterday. A few got out bicycles. Hitchhikers were a common sight. Railroads put on 22 special commuter trains.

CROWD AWAITS QUEEN'S ARRIVAL — Here's part of the crowd that arrived early outside the Parliament Building in Ottawa yesterday, well in advance of arrival of Queen Elizabeth to open Parliament. People lined roadway up which the Queen's carriage and escort passed.

The Queen was wearing a Norman Hartnell suit of holly berry red wool, with black Persian lamb collar and matching muff — the lightest-weight costume this very formal trip has yet called for.

40 POUNDS OF CLOTHES

Yesterday, it was estimated the delicate Queen had to support more than 40 pounds of clothes, including two gowns heavily crusted with diamonds and pearls. Plus that she wore at least $2,000,000 worth of diamond jewelry, which also can be heavy.

Like nearly 10,000 Canadian prisoners, who are being granted amnesty (remission of one-twelfth of their sentences) in honor of her visit, Elizabeth went comparatively free today.

Following the Hull adventure, she attended the official opening of the "The Queen's Way" highway, where she detonated the first blasting operation of a six-lane traffic strip in Ottawa being named after her.

Later, except for two more changes of clothes, the schedule was easy — for a Queen, at any rate.

QUIET DINNER — FOR 115

There is an informal reception at the local Gothic hotel, Chateau Laurier, for civic leaders, where her white gloves will make contact with a few hundred more white gloves. Then a quiet dinner at the home of Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, to be attended by a small group of 115.

Last night, after her two-hour, solemn duty of opening Parliament, the Queen appeared to have a good time at a highly formal dinner for 175 at Government House, followed by the reception for 275, during which she chatted amiably with dignitaries for nearly an hour.

But under her eyes there were light circles, and it was readily observed by many guests that the Queen, even at the tender age of 31, had put in a strenuous day.

Dressed in a deep green velvet gown, known as the "Maple Leaf of Canada dress" because the white rose of York and maple leaves are etched in pearls and diamonds over the vast skirt, she was almost as magnificent a picture as she had appeared earlier — when she sat motionless on a red throne in her pearl and diamond coronation creation.

Sympathy Lights Orion; $2,900 Will Aid Smiths

Lake Orion was ablaze last night with the lights of sympathy.

Porch lights all over the village and in neighboring areas of Orion Township were turned on to attract volunteer solicitors for the Julius A. (Lindy) Smith Fund.

As a result, between $2,900 and $3,000 was collected to help Smith pay hospital and funeral expenses for his wife and two children, killed in a train-auto crash Friday.

Volunteers stopped at every door, figuring there may have been some families who had not heard of the tragedy. The totals show how generously the community responded.

Contributions can still be sent to the fire department or to a five-man committee consisting of Martin Carlson, co-publisher of the Orion Review; D. A. Rose of the fire department, James Sheldon of the Lions Club, A. D. Curran of the Saddle Club, and Peter Hamelieft of the Rotary Club.

Smith, a village maintenance worker, attended funeral services at Holy Cross Lutheran Church in Oxford today for his wife, Gayle, 35, and two children, Richard, 4, and Wendy, 2.

Offers Valid Reason to Refuse Jury Duty

VENTURA, Calif. (AP) — George Johnson was in a group of persons summoned for jury duty in a drunk driving case in Municipal Court.

Johnson told Deputy Marshal John Proby yesterday that he realized it was his civic duty to be a juror but that he really ought to be excused.

Proby demanded a reason.

"I'm the defendant," said Johnson. He was excused.

UAW's Mead Now Head of Time Study Division

DETROIT (AP) — Kermit Mead, administrative assistant to President Walter P. Reuther of the United Auto Workers, was named director of the union's engineering and time study division in the research department yesterday.

★ ★ ★

He succeeds Robert Kanter who was transferred to the actuarial division of the UAW's social security department. An actuary is an expert who calculates insurance risks and premiums.

★ ★ ★

Plan Series of Hearings Over Revisions in Zoning

The first, an informal hearing which will be merely to explain the various phrases, will be held Oct. 23 in the main auditorium of the Community House.

At this time, Herbert Herzberg, city planner, will explain the entire ordinance. This session will be for explanatory purposes only, with residents having an opportunity to present their questions at later hearings.

The first "section" will be at the regular Oct. 28 meeting of the City Commission.

The ordinance has been planned in such a way that the various zoning restrictions are "sectionalized." These subsequent hearings will deal specifically with the separate sections.

Birmingham Chapter OES will install newly elected officers at a public ceremony in the Masonic Temple tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace G. Matthews will be installed matron and patron.

Still others are Mrs. Ing Sahlin, chaplain; Mrs. Richard Walden, marshal; Mrs. William Ferguson, organist; Mrs. Alex McVean, Adah; Mrs. Fred Little, Ruth; Mrs. Jess Murray, Esther; Mrs. Alex Busby, Martha; Mrs. Thomas Bain, Electa; Mrs. Harold Reuter, warder and Mrs. Ray Render, sentinel. Mrs. Clifford Ross, Mrs. Glenn Barker and Richard Walden will serve as color bearers.

Mrs. Cornell Heath has been appointed assisting marshal, with Mrs. Roger Bermingham, assisting organist.

Mrs. Walter E. Widdis, past matron from Atlanta (Mich.) and sister of the matron-elect, will be installing officer. She will be assisted by Mrs. Walter Weitzel, Mrs. David Masterton, Mrs. Isaac Kidd, Dale Hess of Commerce, Mrs. Walter Starr, Mrs. Darwin Hillman and Mrs. Edward Puls.

Hoffa Lawyer Raps Senate Committee

ller start in directing the 1,400,000-man union.

Last Sept. 25, Hoffa was indicted on five counts of perjury. He was charged with lying to a federal rackets grand jury investigating the use of wiretaps in his Detroit union headquarters.

Last May 14, the same grand jury had indicted Hoffa, Bernard B. Speidel, professional wiretapper, and Owen Bert Brennan, president of Detroit Local 337, on charges of conspiracy to use illegal wiretaps.

Hoffa has asked that the wiretapping trial be postponed indefinitely on the ground that adverse public opinion would prevent a fair trial now.

Shortly after Hoffa entered his plea, Benjamin Franklin Collins, secretary-treasurer of Teamster Local 299 in Detroit, pleaded innocent to a separate 12-count perjury indictment returned by the same grand jury.

Collins was charged with lying in testifying before the grand jury that original minutes of the local's city cartage division for March 11, 1953, had not been altered.

Herlands tentatively set Nov. 6 for Collins' trial and released him on $2,500 bail.

Union Members Need Protection

Knowland to Ask Curb on Labor Heads; Give Control to Secret Ballot

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said last night rank and file union members need protection against what he termed abuses on part of labor leadership.

Speaking to a Young Republican group at the University of Michigan, the gubernatorial candidate from California said labor hearings before Congressional committees indicate the need for such protection.

"The rank and file of a labor organization should not be taken out on strike except by a majority secret ballot of the membership," he said. Knowland said union members should be able to elect their officers by secret ballot and "have the votes cast be the ones counted."

They also should be able to recall incompetent officers, he said.

No group in industry or labor should have the power to strangle the economic life of 168,000,000 Americans when in doing so they endanger the whole free world of free men, Knowland said.

The Senator termed the Congressional passage of voting rights legislation and the formation of the civil rights commission, "another historic event" of the Eisenhower administration.

LIVE IN GOLD FISH BOWL

"The Communist world is watching developments in this nation," Knowland said. "Since we live in a goldfish bowl, events in any area of the country are reported freely by our news agencies.

"This is as it should be, but when certain local events are given emphasis by the Communist press abroad, they are made to appear as being representative of our entire nation."

Knowland praised the Eisenhower administration for what he said was "five years of peace with honor, three successive balanced budgets, taking our economy out from under Office of Price Administration (OPA) controls, a tax cut in 1954 of seven billion dollars, the largest peacetime employment in the nation's history."

33 Dead, 100 Injured, Scores Missing

Floods Ravage Spain

VALENCIA, Spain (AP)—All rivers along 150 miles of Spain's Mediterranean coastline were over their banks today, flooding the nation's richest agricultural region. At least 33 persons were dead and authorities believed the toll might reach 100.

The raging Turia River swept into Valencia, a port of 500,000 inhabitants, for the third time in 30 hours.

Much of the city was a lake stretching as far as five miles inland. The city was without lights, drinking water, or gas. Only one telephone line was functioning.

An official count listed 22 dead in Valencia and 11 in surrounding villages, with more than 100 injured in the city.

Scores were reported missing. The muddy, swirling waters of the Turia may have carried many out to sea.

The Spanish Mediterranean fleet sailed in from Cartagena. Sailors swarmed ashore. Ships' boats began evacuating marooned families.

The U. S. Air Force advised the Spanish government it was ready to help if needed.

FINISHING TOUCHES — Pontiac firemen put the finishing touches on a job which kept them at work late Monday night. The fire blazed up at a Speedway Gas Station, at 125 Oakland Ave., when Patricia Sagamany, of 277 S. Shirley St., drove in and hit two pumps. Damages to the car were about $400, while the station estimated its damages at $1,600. The mishap occurred shortly after 10 p. m. No one was injured.

Ike to Receive Family Bible From Society

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower receives today a large family Bible symbolic of the American Bible Society's start on distributing its second half billion volumes of Scriptures.

The 1,051-page edition in red morocco weighs 9 pounds 2 ounces.

Since its founding in 1816, the society has sold or given away 500 million Bibles, testaments or smaller sections of the Scriptures. It reported distributing 15,170,058 last year.

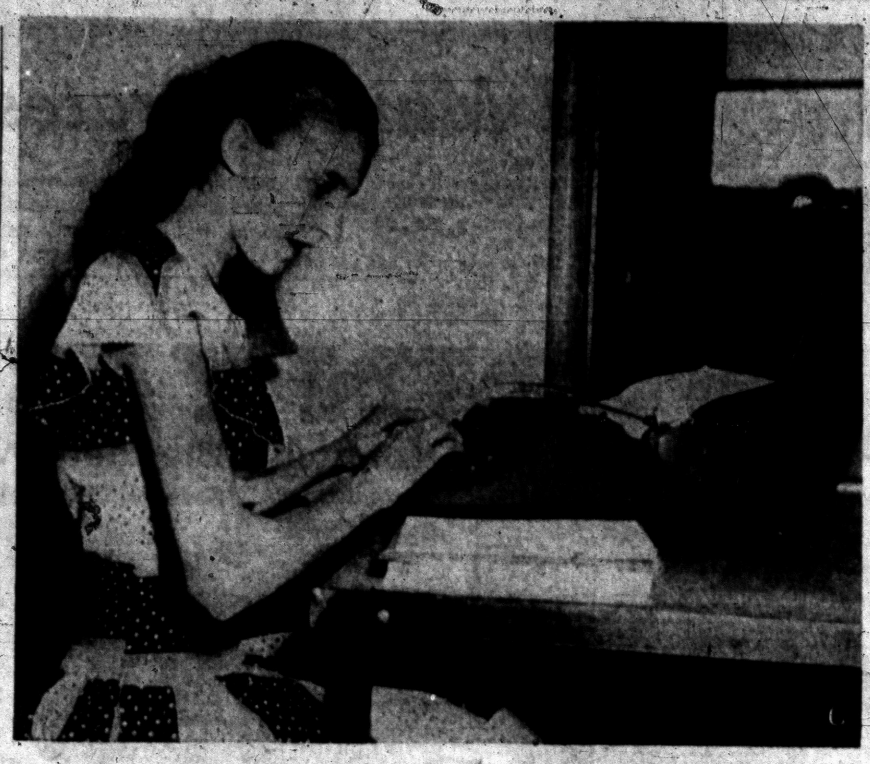

More than 40 million volumes have gone without charge to members of the armed forces, and more than 600,000 have been specially prepared for blind persons.

About 51 per cent of the total distribution has been in this country, with the remainder divided among the more than 60 countries and nearly 200 languages with which the society works.

The society is dedicated to the translation, publication, distribution and encouragement of the use of the Bible, "without note or comment" to avoid controversy.

WINS PRIZE — Susan Bellehumeur, 14, of 135 N. East Blvd., was recently named a winner in the Junior Editors' series carried by The Pontiac Press and many other newspapers. Susan, a ninth grader at Eastern Junior High School, asked the question "Why was Lot's wife turned into a pillar of salt?" She received $10 for her interesting question. Susan says the idea came to her while attending Bible class at Zion Nazarene Church.

Narcotics Trial Resumed in Rome

ROME (AP) — The narcotics trial of 24 men and women — including a prince and a war hero—was resumed today with the questioning of the defendants.

Among those on trial are Prince Giuseppe (Pepito) Pignatelli of Rome and Mexico City; Marquis Emmanuele de Seta, a Sicilian aristocrat and World War II hero; and Max Mugnani, night club figure whose silk dinner jacket, police said, had special pockets for narcotics.

The defendants were arrested in June 1956 in a dawn narcotics raid on a little night club near Rome's fashionable Via Veneto. They are charged with illegal use of narcotics.

New Miss World Gives Attention to Her Feet

LONDON (AP) — The new Miss World, a statuesque blonde who makes her living by taking care of people's feet, gave some special attention to her own today.

But not before she had been on her feet for a long time.

While the judges were surveying her classically lovely face, long golden hair and shapely legs, Miss Lindahl thought of her feet.

"They hurt," she said. "I will now have to give them more attention."

The 18-year-old Miss Finland, a pedicurist by profession, was the tallest and heaviest of the 23 girls in the competition. She stands 5 feet 7¾, weighs 136¼ and is contoured 37, 22¾, 37.

She was rewarded with a sports car and 500 pounds ($1,400).

Lilian Madsen, representing Denmark, won second place and 100 pounds ($280). Miss South Africa, Adelle Kruger, was third and Miss Tunisia, Jacqueline Tapia, fourth.

★ ★ ★

Charlotte Sheffield, a 21-year-old graduate of the University of Utah, competed as Miss United States but did not show up among the six finalists. It was the first time an American girl had not been among the front runners.

Newsmen Peek at Royal Party

They Hide on Platform Behind Curtains to See Ottawa Festivities

OTTAWA (AP) — The general spilled his champagne on his heavily decorated uniform when he saw it: a human head peering wide-eyed from drawn draperies high on the walls of the ballroom during Queen Elizabeth's state reception last night.

Few of the other 500 guests noticed the intruder or the 14 other apparently unconnected heads which appeared for two-minute intervals at a crack in the draperies.

The heads belonged to the first duly accredited corps of peeping toms. They were 15 reporters who were taken by a roundabout route up to a temporary platform to look through the curtains at the reception.

★ ★ ★

An informal "pantry peepers association" was organized after some reporters complained to public information officers that they were unable to cover the reception. Only four or five reporters in white tie and tails were admitted.

The rest drew lots for chances to peep on the proceedings.

What the 15 saw made some bitter. Thirsty and chilly on their lofty platform, they kept noticing that the well-stocked bar wasn't well-patronized. Most guests wanted to keep their hands free just in case the Queen or Prince Philip decided to stop to talk.

Only one woman reporter, also chosen by lot, got to see the state dinner which preceded the reception. Dressed in plaid slacks, she climbed a 20-foot ladder to a well hidden, curtained alcove to observe the 114 resplendent guests below.

Japanese Freighter Abandoned on Reef

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — The 5,500-ton Japanese freighter Eifuku Maru was abandoned today on a reef 300 miles off the central Queensland coast. She ran aground Friday.

The tug Fearless radioed Brisbane she had taken off the freighter's captain, passengers and crew. The ship was carrying wool and barley.

Distance Matters Little Now . . .

We conduct funerals at a distance, and serve many families whose residence is some miles away. We take the deceased to distant points for interment—or bring them from a far away place, where their passing may have occurred.

Because families now live a little farther apart, distance is a part of every service. Call the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, regardless of where the end of life has come.

New Legislation Due to Curb Union Abuses

One aftermath of the HOFFA election as president of the Teamsters' Union is sure to be national legislation setting up rules to assure union democracy.

The Senate Rackets Committee presented evidence that at least half the delegates to the Miami convention had been chosen illegally. The prospect is also for other much needed legislation to curb racketeering and certain financial practices in some of the Nation's labor unions.

Evidence of wrong doing found by the Senate Committee led the AFL-CIO Ethical Practices Committee to call for a housecleaning in the Teamsters' Union. All this was ignored in the election of HOFFA despite his record and warnings from the Federation and other sources.

Other proposals gaining support would end illegal picketing and boycotting, collusion between unions and management to destroy competition and registration of union welfare funds. As summed up by the Magazine of Wall Street:

"The indignation generated by the McClellan Committee hearings with the disclosures that the highest officials in some unions would not answer questions about their private records, indictments, hoodlumism and defalcations on the ground that the answers might incriminate them, has put it squarely up to Senators and Representatives to announce, through their votes, which side they are on."

Distinctly Not Melancholy Days

There's an old poetic effusion to the effect that October days are melancholy days. It gives cause for wonderment. It's a questionable allegation.

★ ★ ★

Far from melancholy have been the last few days in the Pontiac area.

Perhaps we do not appreciate them. Maybe we're too close to them.

Besides the foliage coloring, they bring many other enjoyable features quite characteristic of autumn, of which it has a plenty.

Never at any other season is the breathing more bracing. It's great just to be alive and capable of realizing what our location means.

The gentle reminder of frost in the morning air is an elixir that lasts throughout the day. It brings a pep unmatched by vitamins or pills.

Living out here, close to the integral essence of unspoiled nature, we are the envy of big city dwellers. There's a drudging sameness to their lives.

Deep breathing never seems more exhilarating as in October, but it gets little cooperation in the big city's pollution of monoxide gas. They don't mix.

The guy who calls these days melancholy better get out of the rut in which millions are living, even in the richest nation in the world.

Let him come out to Oakland County and inhale a glorious inspiration.

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

Wishing Won't Erase Disunity

WASHINGTON — The number one news story of the country is still in Arkansas. Disunity in the nation, deep-seated resentment over a secret instruction to the military forces of the federal government which the people of the South regard as an attempt to terrorize them, discord in the major political parties, and a bitterness that could wreck the Eisenhower legislative program in the coming session of Congress—all this cannot be eliminated by wishful thinking.

LAWRENCE

Even the secretary of state of the United States, William H. Seward, whose duty it was by law to "proclaim" amendments to the Constitution when ratified, publicly expressed doubt as to the legality of the "ratification" of the Fourteenth Amendment. Here is the text of his proclamation of July 20, 1868:

"Whereas by the second section of the Act of Congress, approved the twentieth of April, one thousand eight hundred and eighteen, entitled 'An Act to Provide for the Publication of the Laws of the United States and for Other Purposes,' it is made the duty of the secretary of state forthwith to cause any amendment to the Constitution of the United States which has been adopted according to the provisions of the said Constitution, to be published in the newspapers authorized to promulgate the laws, with his certificate specifying the states by which the same may have been adopted, and that the same has become valid to all intents and purposes, as a part of the Constitution of the United States;

"And whereas neither the act just quoted from nor any other law, expressly or by conclusive implication, authorizes the secretary of state to determine and decide doubtful questions as to the authenticity of the organization of state legislatures or as to the power of any state legislature to recall a previous act or resolution or ratification of any amendment proposed to the Constitution;

"And whereas it appears from official documents on file in this department that the amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed as aforesaid has been ratified by the Legislatures of the states of Connecticut, New Hampshire, Tennessee, New Jersey, Oregon, Vermont, New York, Ohio, Illinois, West Virginia, Kansas, Maine, Nevada, Missouri, Indiana, Minnesota, Rhode Island, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Massachusetts, Nebraska and Iowa;

"And whereas it further appears from documents on file in this department that the amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed as aforesaid has also been ratified by newly constituted and newly established bodies avowing themselves to be, and acting as the Legislatures respectively of the states of Arkansas, Florida, North Carolina, Louisiana, South Carolina and Alabama;

DOUBTS REGULARITY

"And whereas it further appears from official documents on file in this department that the Legislatures of two of the states first above enumerated, to wit, Ohio and New Jersey, have since passed resolutions respectively withdrawing the consent of each of said states to the aforesaid amendment, and whereas it is deemed a matter of doubt and uncertainty whether such resolutions are not irregular, invalid and therefore ineffectual for withdrawing the consent of the said two states or of either of them, to the aforesaid amendment;

"And whereas the whole number of states in the United States is thirty-seven;

"And whereas the twenty-three states whose Legislatures have ratified the said proposed amendment, and the six states as having ratified the said proposed amendment by newly constituted and established legislative bodies, together constitute three-fourths of the whole number of states in the United States;

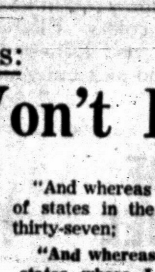

"Now, therefore, be it known that I, William H. Seward, secretary of state of the United States, by virtue and in pursuance of the second section of the Act of Congress approved the twentieth of April, eighteen hundred and eighteen, hereinbefore cited, do hereby certify that, if the resolutions of the Legislatures of Ohio and New Jersey ratifying the aforesaid amendment are to be deemed as remaining of full force and effect, notwithstanding the subsequent resolutions of the Legislatures of those states which purport to withdraw the consent of said states from such ratification, then the aforesaid amendment has been ratified in the manner hereinbefore mentioned and so has become valid to all intents and purposes as a part of the Constitution of the United States."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Poor Misguided Humans Fouled Up on Breathing

In one sense it's comical, in another sense pathetic, the way the average person tries to breathe deeply at the examiner's request. The poor misguided one usually pushes out his chest pigeon-fashion and pulls in his belly a la ballet.

DR. BRADY

The effect of these antics is to restrict the breathing, and make not only the normal breathing sounds but also significant accidental sounds, such as rales, less audible.

An individual who has no knowledge of physiology breathes better than one who has been taught "deep breathing," "chest expansion," drawing in the "stomach" and other tricks devised by physical culture freaks.

Standard textbooks of physiology still describe, as normal, two types of breathing, namely costal (referring to the ribs) or chest breathing and diaphragmatic or abdominal (belly breathing).

The physiologists assert that "in quiet breathing in the erect posture the respiration of man is the abdominal type and that of woman is the costal type" — and then mumble vaguely as to "whether this difference is a genuine sexual distinction or depends simply on differences in dress."

IT'S THE BUNK

Baloney! The breathing of an unconscious, sleeping or anesthetized man is not at all different from that of a woman.

In the primer How to Breathe, for which send 35c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I say:

"Sedentary persons are certain to have more or less stagnation of blood in the veins, especially the veins in the abdomen" (that's the larger, lower body cavity) "even though they notice no undue fullness or prominence of veins on the surface. They are likewise certain to benefit from bellows (belly) breathing if they practice it."

You are equipped with a booster pump for your circulation. Use it to get the stagnant blood back into circulation.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Two Readers Have Doubts About Aspects of Satellite

A week has gone by since Russians claimed they launched a satellite at the speed of 18,000 miles per hour 568 miles above the earth. These figures alone should have caused skepticism in the minds of intelligent people.

All the teachings of the laws of physics have gone overboard as a result of Red propaganda. It reminds me of the 15th century when they talked of changing lead into gold and the elixir of life. This is just as much an age of superstition as the old days when people believed in the impossible.

I wish our young people would get down to earth and attend to the serious troubles ahead instead of spending money on useless above-earth matters. What good is a satellite, anyway, if we want a peaceful land?

George A. Dunham

506 W. Huron.

People can talk all they want about seeing Sputnik with the naked eye, but I don't believe it. I've seen plenty of Selfridge jets flying just a few miles up and all I could see was the vapor trails. A jet is sure a lot bigger than that satellite, and if you can't see a jet a few miles up, you sure can't see a satellite that's up over 500 miles.

Your editorial was right. We are a nation of watchers. The responsibility rests squarely with the parents to see their children get enough exercise. "Watching widens the waistline" might be a good motto for the whole family.

Foresees Problem About Smut Ban

A recent letter mentioned that laws should be passed to prevent sales of obscene literature and other objectionable material. I agree wholeheartedly, but I'm wondering who's to decide what's obscene. There are many things I think are acceptable that others find distasteful and vice versa. I can't see any solution to that problem.

Turks Hard Nut to Reds, Fighting, Brainwashing

By KENNETH C. DONOGHUE
INS Staff Writer

About 300 Turkish soldiers—all of them wounded — were taken prisoner by the Communists during the Korean War. The Reds made endless efforts to brainwash them, to convert even a small percentage to communism. Every one of the Turks returned as fiercely bitter against communism as ever.

★ ★ ★

In light of this, Nikita S. Khrushchev's boast that Russia would defeat Turkey in a one-day war seems a bit ridiculous. Soviet missiles and bombs might devastate Turkey's cities but the Red Army would have a rough time trying to get the Turkish Army to surrender.

Turkey's Premier Adnan Menderes has told Russia flatly that Turkey has no designs on pro-Soviet Syria or any other nation. And the United States, echoing her ally's words, has made it plain that this country is not trying to push Turkey into war with Syria.

This is tough talk from two angry countries which are not going to let Russia use her missiles and satellites to blackmail the free nations.

RISK 3RD WORLD WAR

There is little reason to believe that Khrushchev would risk a third world war by openly aiding Syria in a Middle East conflict.

★ ★ ★

For such a war would certainly result if Syria attacked Turkey. The Ankara government would be aided by its 14 North Atlantic Treaty Organization partners and by its allies in the five-nation Baghdad Pact.

But Russia, despite her intrigues in the Middle East, almost certainly is not going to pin her hopes for world domination on safeguarding Syria. The game is not worth the candle.

Tactically, the Red Army would have quite a problem, anyway. It is true that Russia borders on Turkey. But an invading Soviet Army would have hundreds of miles to go in some of the roughest country in the world before it would get near Syria.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

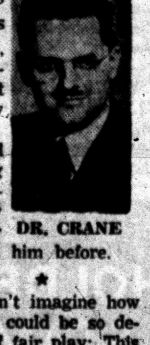

We Have Stone Agers Even Today

Lois is worried and well she should be! For if you should be dropped upon a strange planet inhabited by selfish, cruel Stone Age people, what chance would you have? Would they hesitate to club you to death and devour you, as cannibals often did on this planet in previous centuries? Re-read today's case and then think!

By GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane," she began, "recently a gang of boys attacked a high schooler who was innocently standing on the corner waiting for a bus.

DR. CRANE

"The young gangster who actually was most responsible, wielded a hammer and just beat the lone boy to death.

"Yet he said he had nothing against his victim personally and had never even set eyes on him before.

★ ★ ★

"Dr. Crane, I can't imagine how any human being could be so devoid of a sense of fair play: This is the 20th century, isn't it?"

STONE AGE—1957 STYLE

Yes, this is a late stage in civilization. But we must never confuse civilization with Christianization.

The two are definitely not synonyms. Hitler and Mussolini lived in a civilized age and had the advantages of all modern scientific advances.

But Hitler and Mussolini were Stone Agers at heart.

And today, right here in modern supposedly Christian America, 40 per cent of our people belong neither to the Hebrew or Catholic or Protestant denominations.

They are religious orphans and comparatively pagan. In fact, millions of them react with the selfishness and cruelty of the Stone Age.

This is difficult for most of you readers to comprehend, for you have been reared in moral homes and have participated in school athletics where good sportsmanship has also been taught you.

Although you don't consider yourselves saints or even halfway good church folks, you still react to the Golden Rule and our sports codes. Those humane attidues have become so much a part of you that you respond automatically with sympathy for the under dog.

70,000,000 PAGANS

But 70,000,000 Americans (40 per cent) don't belong in the same class with you 100,000,000 (60 per cent) who are moralists.

They belong to no church. They attended no Sunday School. They never belonged to the YMCA or CYO or Camp Fire Girls or Boy Scouts.

Most of them never were on a school athletic team, so they failed to absorb the principles of fair play and good sportsmanship.

Maybe you can't realize the fact, but at this very minute we have the paradox of 100,000,000 moral moderns living in the same towns with 70,000,000 Stone Agers.

★ ★ ★

The latter have almost no conscience at all. They obey the law only when a policeman is in sight. Fear alone keeps them in line.

But you who are the 100,000,000 moralists, tend to obey the laws even though nobody is there to spy on you or arrest you.

Well, we can trust 60 per cent of our fellowmen even in the dark. But we dare not trust the other 40 per cent, for they are unmoral if not actually immoral at heart.

And that is why our Republic has feet of clay. For those 70,000,- 000 can help convert us into communism or fascism very quickly.

That's doubly true when you realize our 100,000,000 are often divided into partisan camps called Republicans and Democrats, leaving the Stone Ager voters to tip the scales.

So think on these things. And send for my booklet "Americans Must Never Shut Up," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

It shows in language even grammar schoolers can understand why we must speak up at all times about the moral foundations for this great Republic and its marvelous "free enterprise" system.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

2 Boys Hammer Hand Grenade—and Live to Tell It

★ ★ ★

The boys' stepfather, Robert Terranova, grabbed the grenade and gingerly put it in a corner while Mrs. Terranova telephoned the police.

★ ★ ★

She's 99, French and Acts Like It

Grandma Ages in Alcohol

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Grandmothers Club of America, 1,500 strong, is holding its annual convention here and the hardiest grandmother of them all is 99-year-old Madame Marie Renier of Kankakee, Ill.

★ ★ ★

Mme. Renier speaks only French. She says she sits up past midnight to play euchre and rummy, with family and friends, wouldn't think of eating a meal without wine, drinks an ounce and one half of whisky before retiring and sleeps like her 15 grandchildren, 16 great-grandchildren and nine great great-grandchildren.

★ ★ ★

Three of her daughters are with her for the convention. They, too, are grandmothers. They didn't bring Mme. Renier. She persuaded them to come, she explained in her best French, and they agreed. They are Mrs. Aliec Jeffrey, 75, and Mrs. Zoe Sharkey, 69, of Kankakee, and Mrs. Flora Van Sleet, 72, South Bend, Ind.

★ ★ ★

Mme. Renier tries not to miss a minute of living. She still likes her coffee hot and strong and she always is the center of attraction when the 450 descendants of the Renier and Le Coq (her maiden name) clans gather each July 14 for their annual celebration.

"The families speak Swedish, Gaelic, French, German, Russian, English, Armenian, Hungarian, and Greek," she says, "but I speak the best French."

Russians Race to Fire First Rocket to Moon

(President Eisenhower has disclosed that the U.S. plans to fire its first small "moon" satellite into space in December, and launch a "larger" more instrumented one next March. But, says rocket expert Martin Caidin in this article, fifth of a series, the United States has had for several years the know-how and ability to send a rocket the full journey across space to the moon! Caidin is the author of the recently published book "Vanguard!".)

By MARTIN CAIDIN

For nearly five years the United States has had the rockets and the fuels with which to send a missile through space to reach the moon.

During the last three years engineers and scientists have made attempts to bring such a project to reality.

PREPARED DETAILS

One project group prepared details of a rocket—using a booster with 135,000 pound thrust motor developed by North American, a modified Army Redstone rocket, and several solid-propellant rockets.

The giant missile would carry 150 pounds of instruments away from the earth at nearly 29,000 miles per hour. It would take less than five days to cross the 250,000 miles of space to reach the moon. There it would crash on the lifeless surface of that small world.

The proposal was studied by high-ranking officials in the Pentagon. It was subjected to serious review. The existence of all the components of the rocket was substantiated. The rockets were available for use. The moon rocket could be assembled and fired in less than a year.

Then came PROJECT VANGUARD. With the exception of several top-secret military studies, such as the Air Force's elaborate "Advanced Reconnaissance Satellite" (ARS), all active development on projects to reach into space were abandoned.

MOON IN GRASP

We had the moon almost in our grasp. We threw away a pricelrss advantage of time.

* * *

Behind closed doors, American scientists, engineers and military officers are warning our government that we are likely to suffer another devastating scientific and political blow at the hands of the Russians. They have scored a dazzling success and gained unbelievable prestige with their 18,000-mile-per-hour satellite "Sputnik."

For all time the Russians will be remembered as the nation that led mankind into space.

Now the Russians are shooting for an even bigger goal. They are determined to prove that Soviet science is far more advanced than our own. They want to demonstrate this—again—in a stunning fashion.

SEND ROCKET

The Russians are going to send a giant rocket bursting upward through our atmosphere. It will streak away from earth with a speed greater than 25,000 miles per hour. Several days later it will hurtle into the moon's airless and pitted surface.

It is the Soviet intention that they will be the first to cross space. It is the Soviet intention that they will be remembered for all time as the first people to send a spaceship to another world.

They have the rockets and the fuels to do this. They are led by military men and scientists who are hard-headed and realistic in their appraisal of world opinion. The ovation which has descended upon Russia for its brilliant satellite achievement is all too clear.

BIG VICTORY

A Russian rocket hurtling the quarter-million miles across space to crash on the moon would be a tremendous victory for the Russians over the United States. It would "prove" to men everywhere that our country has been surpassed greatly by the accomplishments of Soviet science. The prestige to be gained from such a maneuver could swing hundreds of millions of people over to Soviet influence.

For if the Russians can place a rocket on the moon, the world will be told that it is obvious that ". . . we can shoot rockets with nuclear warheads accurately to any city on the earth." They have announced the development of an ICBM. They have fired a satellite into space.

Who can argue the facts of life? The Red satellite was first into space. The Russians are preparing other and larger satellites to follow.

Not one American Vanguard rocket has yet been fired. Our first, small satellite is not scheduled to be launched until December.

ENGINEERS UNDERSTAND

It seems that only the engineers, and not the officials who can make the decisions to go ahead with rocket programs, understand that it actually is EASIER to send a rocket to the moon than it is to place a satellite into an orbit around the earth. An additional speed of only a few thousand miles per hour would have sent the "sputnik" hurtling away from earth. The task of striking a body in space 2,163 miles in diameter is infinitely more simple than placing a satellite into a highly precise orbit.

The Russians have made an accomplished fact the more difficult task. They have won the admiration of the entire planet for doing so.

Now they are preparing for the moon, to dazzle and astound the world. The giant M-106 ICBM rocket, with only a single additional booster to replace the nuclear warhead, can reach the moon!

* * *

It may be only a matter of months before we read the startling headline: "RUSSIAN ROCKET LANDS ON MOON!"

We can beat that headline. The American rocket industry has for years had the capability of firing rockets across space to the moon. Our engineers have wanted, and have tried to obtain the permission to do so.

They have been refused that permission. Officially the concept was regarded as "too unrealistic." It was not "worthy of consideration."

* * *

But . . . what now? Is it still "unrealistic" and is it still not "worthy of consideration?"

FIRST TO FLY

We were the first to fly. We were the first to fly faster than sound, then at twice, and finally at more than three times the speed of sound. An American scientist, Dr. Robert H. Goddard, in 1926 fired the first liquid-propellant in the world. For several years after World War II American rockets held every speed and altitude record in the world.

We have been throwing away our priceless advantages. Not by superior accomplishment on the part of the Russians—but by default.

We CAN send a rocket to the moon. We can PROVE to the world that our science is second to none.

But will we do it?

Paper Bags to Stretch

NEW YORK (AP) — A packaging item of the future: paper bags that stretch. West Virginia Pulp & Paper Co. is working on a new kind of paper that stretches like a rubber band. The new material is being developed under an agreement with Cluett Peabody & Co., inventors of the "sanforizing" process for pre-shrinking cotton cloth.

Credit State Sailor With Saving Mate

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—The heroic rescue efforts of Bart R. Avenell of Grand Rapids, Mich., have been credited by the Navy with saving the life of a fellow crewman in the crash of a patrol bomber in the Bering Sea.

Avenell later disappeared beneath the waves.

His efforts were believed responsible for the survival of Melvin C. Petersma, an aviation electronics mate from Pella, Ia.

...magnetic memory produces your check

records faster, more accurately,

...keeps checking costs down!

ANOTHER FIRST . . . Post-Tronic, the electronic bank posting machine with the "magnetic memory." Keeps track of your check records with an unprecedented degree of accuracy and speed. Installation of these new Accounting Machines is another important step we are taking to bring you the latest and most efficient banking service available.

Changeover to the new electronically controlled Post-Tronic machine is under way. You will soon note a new "electronic signature" number on your checks. This number assures you positive, automatic identification. With older systems, there could be confusion when there were two people with the same name or when the signature was not legible. With Post-Tronic there can be only one number . . . one person! There is no chance for the wrong entry being posted to the wrong account.

The Post-Tronic system keeps checking costs down. In these times of rising costs for everyone, we can now provide you with the latest, most efficient checking service possible at the same low PONTIAC BANK rates.

Nixon to Speak at Conference

Leaders of Industry and Business Eye Growth of Free World

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Vice President Richard Nixon is the featured speaker today at the International Industrial Development Conference searching for ways to expand the free world economy.

★ ★ ★

An exploding world population, rising demands for higher living standards and the continuing struggle between free enterprise and state socialism were among the formidable problems laid out for study at the conference yesterday.

It brought together more than 500 bankers, industrialists and business leaders from 61 countries.

★ ★ ★

Chairman Henry R. Luce, editor in chief of Time, Inc., opened the conference yesterday by reading a message from Dr. Ludwig Erhard, minister of economics for the West German government, who said: "I trust that this conference will be a universal demonstration that the free enterpriser is aware of what he is called upon to do and is conscious of his responsibility. May this conference be a success for the whole world to see."

★ ★ ★

Director E. Finley Carter of Stanford Research Institute, which with Time-Life International is sponsoring the meeting, said that "only when trust prevails can capital investments earn real dividends—real in a materia' sense and real in contributing to an abundant life for all peoples."

★ ★ ★

The feeling of urgency to see progress in underdeveloped countries and the great importance of private investment in industrial development were stressed by Eugene R. Black, president of the International Bank for Reconstruction and Development.

CHICAGO (AP)—John Ahlhauser's photograph of a grief-stricken mother has earned the Milwaukee Journal cameraman the sweepstakes award in the 17th annual news picture contest of the Inland Daily Press Assn.

His picture — "Her Six Children Died" — also won first place in the black and white division for full-time photographers on newspapers with over 50,000 circulation.

Earl Johnson of the Duluth (Minn.) Herald won first place in the black and white division for papers with circulation under 50,000.

The contest, sponsored by the Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern University for the association, drew a record of 924 entries, submitted by 245 photographers on 94 daily newspapers.

Grease Job Interrupted by Skunk Sitting on Car

Attendants explained that after the car was lifted they noticed a black and white tail dangling from the underside. The rest of the skunk was perched atop the transmission housing. They finally chased him away with a water hose.

Bob Considine Says:

Even Dobbin Gets Royal Protocol Briefing

OTTAWA (INS) — British reporters covering the Queen's visit to Canada are distressed over the reserved manner of the modest crowds that gather to greet her.

"Are you a royalist?" a worried poll-taker from Fleet Street asked a man standing along a procession-filled street.

"Hell, no," the Canadian said, on a note of indignation.

"They why are you standing here?" the English newsman asked.

"Because those cops won't let me cross the street," the guy said.

Pardon this fascination with the microscopic details, the minutuae, of a royal visit. There are even instructions to horses. Hear this announcement concerning the fairy tale State Carriage which was set aside to take the Queen and her handsome husband to Parliament:

"The horses will move at a slow collected trot, except when entering the Centre Gate at the Parliament buildings, when they will change pace to a walk."

(Got that straight, Dobbin?)

"Pray be seated—Veuillez voss asseoir," she said from her throne.

In her first live TV speech the night before she spoke at some length in French, first to the Dominion's children and then to her adult subjects. The Queen studied French under Marion Crawford and has liked the language since childhood. She made the jump from one tongue to the other without a slip.

Parliament here is bi-lingual, a fruit of years of war fought between the British and French for this rich rugged land. After the Queen's short "veuillez vous asseoir" the speaker took over in the two languages. His role, long rehearsed, saw him rise, tip his tri-cornered ceremonial hat, bow to Elizabeth and cry:

"Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, you will proceed to the House of Commons and acquaint that house it is Her Majesty's pleasure that they attend her immediately in the Senate."

It's a bit unnerving to an American visitor to Ottawa to step up to the cashier's cage at his hotel and ask for change for $10. You get back $9.60 in Canadian. Our money just isn't as sound as theirs.

The value of the U.S. dollar varies, too. In Montreal it drops only two cents. At a bar here the other day, it was three cents under the Canadian buck. The banks put it at 3.75 per cent below.

Trying to find a place from which the 1,000 people of the news media can cover the comings and goings of the Queen is the special task here of a first class staff of the government hospitality committee, headed by Andy Ross and Len Peoples. They have given us extraordinary service in acting as a sort of go-between for the earth people in their intercourse with the royal people.

When all seats are assigned, they find standing room. When all standing room is gone they figure ways and means of getting a man on a chandelier, or something, and he reports to all on what he saw. When no press is permitted, as at the state dinner, the committee arranged for a series of "peekers, to be given two minutes each at the parted curtains," and a lone person, properly dressed, "to stand behind a potted palm."

Our "pool" man for potted palm duty took his job too literally and got himself in the same condition as the palm.

BBC-TV Praised, Attacked

British Network Cancels Talk by Queen's Critic

LONDON (AP) — Britain's state-sponsored television system drew brickbats and bouquets today for canceling an appearance by the monarchy's latest critic.

The center of the controversy, Malcolm Muggeridge, fumed: "If we've reached the point at which honest opinion about the monarchy is inadmissible or scandalous, then we have ceased to be a free society."

Muggeridge, 54-year-old former editor of the British humor magazine Punch, described the monarchy as "a kind of royal soap opera" in an article in the Saturday Evening Post entitled "Does England Really Need a Queen?"

He had been scheduled to discuss the article on British Broadcasting Corp. television last night but his appearance was canceled a few hours before the program.

A BBC spokesman said: "We have come to the conclusion that we should not give further publicity to a matter which has already had enough."

Muggeridge, a witty, silver-haired disturber of many a hornet's nest in Britain, had described the BBC in his article as "that serene temple of contemporary orthodoxy." He said it always treats the royal family with exaggerated solicitude.

The article said, among other things, that British bluebloods regard the Queen as "dowdy, frumpish and banal."

Muggeridge said at his home at Robertsbridge, near the English south coast, that he wrote the article "firstly for money ($2,500) and secondly because it is a subject which profoundly interests me and which, I think, is extremely important."

He added that Americans are fed "a lot of punk" on the monarchy. "On one hand there is the adulatory type of punk we have over here," he said, "and on the other, the monarchy-is-a-lot-of-down-nonsense punk they have over there."

The tabloid Daily Mirror jumped to Muggeridge's defense. It said the cancellation of his appearance "upholds the BBC's well-known record for mouselike timidity in dealing with matters of vital concern to the public."

But the Conservative Daily Mail declared that the BBC was right. "These attacks, so easy to make, serve no good purpose nor are they in any way constructive," it said. "They are wanton and destructive."

Confidential Retrial Scheduled Nov. 20

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Confidential magazine and associates are scheduled to be retried on criminal libel conspiracy charges Nov. 20.

The date was set yesterday by Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker.

The first trial, which lasted two months, ended Oct. 1 with the jury unable to reach a verdict.

To be retried with Confidential are Fred and Marjorie Meade, Whisper magazine, Hollywood Research, Inc., and Publisher's Distributing Corp.

Six Die as Vehicle, Frisco Train Collide

★ ★ ★

The dead were Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Busby Jr of Shidler, Okla, their three sons, from two months to five years old, and Busby's grandfather, Charles Carringer of Kaw City, Okla. They were starting home after a visit with Carringer's son near El Dorado, Kan.

The accident was at a grade crossing seven miles northeast of Augusta.

Vernon Hammond of Neodesha, Kan., engineer of the branch line train headed from Wichita, Kan., to Joplin and Monett, Mo., said he was running 45 miles an hour.

Girl's Weighty Quest Halts Weighty Talk

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Mrs. Bea Johnson, reporting on her recent trip to Russia, was interrupted by a 3-year-old girl who wandered down the center aisle of St. Paul's Episcopal parish house.

The girl came from a children's meeting in another room. Unable to find her parents, she turned to the speakers' table and asked Mrs. Johnson in a distinct voice: "Will you take me to the bathroom, please?"

Why use two when one will do?

You'll do better to protect your motor with this one all-weather oil than to change from heavy oil to light oil according to the season.

Users of TROP-ARTIC* All-Weather Motor Oil never have to worry about using different grades of oil at different seasons of the year. TROP-ARTIC is a light oil and heavy oil in one (grades 10W through 30). Furthermore, it lubricates and protects your motor far better than any of the old-fashioned "single grade" oils.

The reason is that TROP-ARTIC never gets too thick or too thin. In a cold engine it flows quickly for easy starting . . . fast protection. In a hot engine it retains the "body" necessary to prevent wear at high temperatures. It reduces friction to save you gasoline. It keeps your engine clean. Compared to old-fashioned oils it can even double engine life.

Guaranteed All-Weather Lubri-tection! Use a crankcase full of TROP-ARTIC for ten days or up to 1,000 miles. If you aren't completely satisfied that it lives up to all the claims made for it, your Phillips 66 Dealer will replace it with any other available oil you prefer at no additional expense to you. Could anything be fairer? Get TROP-ARTIC today!

Hollywood Introduced to Capital

Perle Entertains for Her Friends From Filmdom

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Hollywood celebrities are moving in on local party scene to share the social limelight with familiar government and diplomatic officials.

Hostess Perle Mesta, back to reclaim her title as No. 1 party-thrower after more than a year of galavanting, plans to invite many of the film capital's top celebrities to her fetes this season.

PARTY FOR JUDY

Her first big do of the season was tossed for Judy Garland and a movietown retinue, though the usual crowd of Washington headliners were there, too.

★ ★ ★

The hostess told me she has planned a series of Sunday luncheon parties, small and intimate "so everyone can get acquainted."

The first of these was in honor of actress Joan Crawford and her husband, Alfred Steele.

"I love Hollywood," Perle told me. "I have made many friends there and I want them to come to Washington so I can repay the many kindnesses they extended to me during the months I spent there.

"Of course, I love the politicians of both houses of Congress and will always want them around."

SLY DIG AT GWEN

This last obviously was a sly dig at rival hostess, Gwen Cafritz, who was quoted as limiting her congressional guest quota mainly to senators since she didn't think "the lower house members" added much eclat to her soirees.

★ ★ ★

Perle's long absence from the capital last year was the cause of much speculation and gossip, since she had just barely moved into the handsome new French-style mansion she purchased as a permanent residence with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. George Tyson. The Tysons are still away, living in Nevada.

★ ★ ★

Perle gave lecturing and the TV filming of her life story as the reason for not clinging to the home base, but the involvment of Perle and her sister in a lawsuit brought by the divorced wife of the hostess' young nephew undoubtedly had a great deal to do with it.

MORE RELAXED

The suit was settled several months ago and a new Perle, gayer, more relaxed, slimmer and younger-looking than I've ever seen her, is back.

★ ★ ★

"I'm going to stay put awhile," she said happily.

Pontiac Club Federation Pays Tribute to Mayor

Mayor William Donaldson was honored Monday when the City Federation of Women's Clubs met at McCarroll School.

Mrs. Frank Anderson, public affairs chairman, presented a resolution from the federation honoring the mayor as an outstanding and dedicated citizen of the community. In accepting the award, Mayor Donaldson urged the group to join in fighting for passage of the hospital bond issue.

Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, superintendent of Pontiac schools, spoke on the financial picture of the school system. He showed slides depicting the accomplishments since 1954 when 8.75 mills were voted for schools. Various schools with their recent construction in the form of classrooms and multi-purpose rooms were shown.

Dr. Whitmer stated that in 1957 there was a gain in enrollment of 3,720 pupils. Now the capacity of schools and the enrollment is about even, he said. The multi-purpose room program is completed.

Showing a chart of the debt retirement schedule, Dr. Whitmer stated, "By 1964 the total program will be amortized and all construction will have been paid for."

Mrs. Joseph Panter presided at the coffee table which carried out a fall motif with a colorful cornucopia of autumn flowers.

Cup Overfloweth

It is just as poor manners for a person always to insist on picking up the check as to be slow about reaching for it. The person who is gracious to be around likes to do his part, but he is also willing to let others do theirs.

Plastic Surgery Project Explained to City Artists

"Beyond the Realm of Plastic Surgery" was the topic discussed by C. Beaver Edwards, sculptor and painter, when he addressed members of the Pontiac Society of Artists at Adah Shelly Library.

Mr. Edwards has been working in conjunction with doctors in rehabilitation of congenital, traumitic and accidental disfigurements through sculpturing.

His work involves making artificial hands and feet. He tried special adhesives for fastening these devices on himself to be sure they were non-irritating.

★ ★ ★

Doesn't Fit the Part

A mother complains that when she drives teen-agers to her house, few of them ever stop to offer to help carry in packages and sacks of groceries. She says she doesn't mind being a chauffeur, but she hates to be turned into a bellhop, too.

Auxiliary to VFW Makes Donations

Donations to national cancer research and to veterans' hospitals were made when Auxiliary to VFW 1008 met in the hall on East Pike street Monday.

Plans to aid the VFW Children's Home in Eaton Rapids also were made. Mrs. Loren Beach was appointed chairman of the Oct. 23 dinner project.

Baker Cites Gruesome Requests

Gore Attracts Gals, Claims TV Emcee

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Women are the bloodthirsty members of the species, says Art Baker, who has spent a considerable part of his adult live studying them.

His current opinion is based on an analysis of requests which come in from men, women and children to his seven-year-old television program, "You Asked For It."

YEARN FOR GORE

"All the more gruesome requests are from women," says the handsome silver-haired Baker. "They write in asking to see sword swallowers, snakes and slaughter house scenes.

"One time we had a program during which a woman kissed a cobra, and afterward there were boxes of requests all from women — asking to see it again."

Men's requests run true to form, says Baker. They are interested in sports events, animal acts and bathing beauties.

He adds: "It's a funny thing — while men are frankly interested in feminine beauty, women hardly ever show any interest in seeing muscle men, such as the various Mr. America champions.

COOL TO FASHION

"You'd think there would be lots of requests to see things like the Paris fashion shows, too, but strangely enough, there aren't. Women, it seems, would rather see something good and gory."

During the years he has been emcee of the program, Baker has traveled over most of the world digging up material to supply fans' requests.

"There's one regular request that I never have filled, and I don't intend even to try," he says. "It seems everybody wants to see a sultan's harem. But even if I had a chance, I wouldn't disillusion them, because the sultan's favorites in real life don't look a bit like the pictures in Esquire."

The subjects that bring the greatest response from men, women and children, says Baker, are animals — any kind of animals.

Work You Love Leads to Love

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Whenever I meet people who are really happily married, I am overcome with curiosity as to how they first met each other.

★ ★ ★

I used to devote a good deal of effort to making a smooth transition in the conversation, so that I could find out without asking them point-blank. But now I just come right out and ask, "How did you two first meet?"

MEET VOCATIONALLY

Twenty years ago, chances are, they met socially — at a friend's house or through a sister or brother or on a blind date.

But nowadays, they are more likely to meet vocationally — through his job or her job or a course they took or a business meeting or volunteer activity.

For example, last week I met a charming couple, both in their late 40s. They were devoted to each other and, I learned, they had only been married for seven years.

Figuring fast — as a woman can! — that made the bride about 42 at the time of her marriage.

★ ★ ★

When I asked how they had met, they both grinned and Mrs. R. began.

WITHOUT HOPE

"I was a spinster in a small town," she said candidly. "I had no hope of ever getting married.

★ ★ ★

"I had a job that paid my way but wasn't too fascinating. But my hobby, which is sewing, was my great love.

"I even had a class in sewing, which practically every woman and girl in town took sooner or later.

"In the process of teaching the course, I experimented with all kinds of fabrics. One fabric in particular—one of the new blends — fascinated me. You could do so much with it. I always used to recommend it to my classes."

SALES MANAGER

Her husband spoke up.

"I first heard about her through our retail outlet in the town. I'm the sales manager of the company that makes that fabric.

★ ★ ★

"Well, I heard how much this little lady was doing for our merchandise so, one day, I decided to stop by, on my business trip to a nearby city, and 'ease the act.'

★ ★ ★

"I called and asked if I could sit in on one of her classes — and she very nearly didn't let me!"

"My classes were important to me," Mrs. T. picked it up, "and I didn't want any tourists. But I finally relented and let Tom come. And I loved him on sight!

DIDN'T CHASE HIM

"I think the reason he loved me was because I was so busy with my job and my class that I didn't chase him. The novelty of it, after all the women who'd been pursuing him for years, did it!"

★ ★ ★

The moral is—if you want your man, get into work you love!

FUTURE PROJECTS

★ ★ ★

Arranging the fall dinner meeting were Marguerite Buttolph, chairman; Mrs. Eugene Wellman, Mrs. Clark J. Adams, Mrs. Albert Games, Mrs. Everett Garrison, Mrs. Harry Rice, Mrs. Edward Lauchner and Mrs. James Clarkson.

The next meeting will be held Nov. 11 in the Civic Room. The Rev. Hugh P. O'Neil will speak on "Personality and Mental Health."

Tells Housekeeping Secrets

Lipstick Application Is Revealing

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This week I am proving that there IS something new under the sun. Ben Shaw, who has several successful model agencies in the United States, said, "You can tell what kind of a housekeeper a woman is by the way she applies her lipstick."

★ ★ ★

Never a dull moment, is there? This intrigued me greatly and I asked how come?

Mr. Shaw feels that the way a lipstick is applied is an accurate indication of temperament. According to him, the woman who applies her lipstick carelessly is not likely to be clever in interior decoration and may be negligent about her housekeeping. She is the one who rushes about to improve the appearance of her house just before guests arrive.

This really is not so far-fetched as it sounds when we remember that there is a new science called kinesics, which promotes the idea that gestures and mannerisms speak louder than words.

To enlarge on Mr. Shaw's theory, the woman in question will match the color of her lip rouge to the shade of her costume and let it go at that with no thought to application. The same woman will harmonize colors in her home but the rooms will lack interest because of failure to pay attention to detail.

★ ★ ★

He said, "Both lip and room colors are important but application is just as essential or more so."

The way in which you apply your lipstick may be a clue to your character. It has been said that you can tell what kind of a housekeeper a woman is from the way she puts on her lipstick!

LOOKS AT EYES

Another example: The clever woman first looks at her eyes and brows before planning her lip makeup. If her eyes are large and her brows heavy she will create a generous mouth. If her eyes are small and her brows thin, she will apply a mouth which corresponds. The same clever woman will see to the balance of her rooms to achieve a pleasing effect.

★ ★ ★

So, look in the mirror and get wise to yourself! Mr. Shaw does not leave us suspended in mid air. After emphasizing the importance of careful application of lipstick he gives us some concrete advice.

Tomorrow I will give you some directions which I think will be new to you and also some of Mr. Shaw's conclusions drawn from years of experience in the model business.

Nancy Jean Brown and Harold N. Hackett Jr. were married Saturday at Bethany Baptist Church. The bride is the daughter of Alfred Brown of Yale avenue and Mrs. Bernice Bantien of Armada. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. Hackett of Auburn Heights.

Nancy Jean Brown Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

Nancy Jean Brown became the bride of Harold N. Hackett Jr. in a candlelight ceremony performed Saturday at Bethany Baptist Church. Dr. J. I. Chapman officiated in the presence of 250 guests.

★ ★ ★

The bride is the daughter of Alfred Brown of West Yale avenue and Mrs. Bernice Bantien of Armada. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Harold N. Hackett of Auburn Heights.

Acting as maid of honor was Donna Codling. Bridesmaids were Marilyn Rowe and Mrs. Gordon June, sister of the bridegroom. All were gowned alike, wearing pale blue ballerina-length gowns of nylon chiffon with fitted bodices, scooped necklines, and pleated skirts featuring satin cummerbunds and bustle backs.

Their velvet band headpieces held half-veils accented by rhinestones, and they carried bouquets of pink carnations centered with a pink and yellow carnation mixture.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Hackett chose a dusty rose satin and crepe sheath dress with matching accessories and a corsage of matching tea roses.

Before leaving on a trip to northern Michigan the new Mrs. Hackett changed to a red wool sheath dress with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. The couple will live on Ann Arbor avenue.

Substitute Not Needed After All

But Club Member Should Step Aside in This Case

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I play cards with a group of friends every other week. We always play on a Friday night. I had to go somewhere for the day the Friday of our meeting and didn't think I would be back in time to play cards, so I called a friend of mine and asked her to fill in for me (with the hostess' permission, of course).

"I arrived back home much earlier than I had expected and called my friend to tell her that I was home and that I would be able to play cards after all and that she didn't have to fill in for me.

"When I had finished talking with her, my sister said that I was wrong to have done this and that having asked her to fill in for me I should have let her do so. I would like to know if you think I was wrong."

Answer: I am sorry but your sister was right unless your friend only agreed unwillingly to play to help you out, and you knew she did not want to.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I am going to be married next month and would like to invite the clergyman who will officiate at the ceremony to the reception, which is being held at a hotel. Do I send him an engraved invitation or do I invite him personally?"

Answer: If he is married, you would send an invitation addressed to The Rev. and Mrs. If he is not married, you could invite him personally when you make arrangements for the wedding.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My parents will soon celebrate their golden wedding anniversary, and my sister and I would like very much to give a reception for them. However, we are puzzled as to how our names should appear on the invitation. I am single and my sister is married. Also, should my sister's husband's name appear on the invitations?"

Answer: A formal invitation could be engraved, "In honour of the Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. William Brown, their daughters and son-in-law request the pleasure of your company on Friday evening the third of June at nine o'clock in the ballroom of the Round Hills Club."

Cheese Tops Ground Beef Casserole

Mrs. McGhee Adds Corn and Tomatoes to Noodle Dish

By JANET ODELL

Women who have outside jobs usually have lots of good casserole recipes up their sleeves. They have to be able to put a good meal on the table with a minimum of time and effort.

Today's cook, Mrs. Estell McGhee of Clarkston, likes this main dish made with chopped beef. In addition to her full-time job she is going to school. Bowling, golf and two grandchildren vie for the rest of her leisure teime.

TALLARAND
By Mrs. Estell McGhee

½ green pepper, chopped
1 small onion, chopped
1 pound ground beef
2 cups tomatoes
1 cup raw noodles
1 can whole kernel corn
Salt and pepper
Grated cheese

Brown onion and green pepper in a little hot fat. Add meat and brown. Add tomatoes and bring to boiling point. Add noodles and cook five minutes.

Add corn, season to taste and pour into casserole. Top with grated cheese. Brown in a 375-degree oven for 25 minutes. Serves 4-6.

JoAnn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Case Streeter of Stout street, will become the bride of Robert Warman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Warman of Douglas street, on Oct. 25 at All Saints Episcopal Church.

Attending the affair were Mrs. Case Streeter, Mrs. Robert Morin, Mrs. Leon Griffin, Christine Griffin, Mrs. James Van Dyke and Mrs. Herbert Strohkirch.

★ ★ ★

Others present were Linda Strohkirch, Mrs. Alex Burns, Mrs. Oleo Knudsen, Mrs. I. C. Priest, Mrs. Mary Napierski and Mrs. Wilford Brown.

Sugar Starch Them

To starch crocheted baskets and other favors, boil ½ cup sugar in 2-3 cup of water for three minutes. Cool slightly, dip basket, then stretch to desired shape as it hardens. Baskets may be dipped in melted paraffin but the sugar gives a prettier effect.

It's No Problem to 'Spot' This Year's Chic Woman

West German Designers Make News With Lavish Use of Ocelot Fur

By JOAN HANAUER

DUSSELDORF, Germany (INS) — This year you can tell a fashionable woman by her spots—ocelot spots, that is.

★ ★ ★

That's the top style news from Germany, where fashion designers are doing their very best to make their nation as important in the fashion field as Italy—and someday maybe beat the Paris couturiers at their own game.

Fur trim was tops, including not only spotted ocelot, but also blond and dark beaver, fox and mink. Both suits and dress-and-coat ensembles received the fury treatment.

Dresses had the "sack" or "chemise" look brought out by Paris this year. Don't confuse the terms—they both mean shapeless, but people who don't like them call them sacks, those who think they are the last word in high fashion like the more dignified "chemise" term.

Necklines were modest in front, but often daring in back. Hemlines were from 15 to 16 inches off the floor, following Dior's modified skirt length, rather than the shockingly short, at-the-knee style proposed by Balenciaga and Givenchy.

DIPPING HEMLINE

An example of the ocelot look was a beige velvet dress with a straight-across neckline and no sleeves. The hem of the slightly wide skirt dipped up in back and down in front.

The dress was decorated from throat to knee with vertical stripes made up of strips of ocelot and glittery golden beads. An ocelot bolero completed the ensemble.

Both checks and tweeds found favor with the German fashion designers. A brown-beige checked wool dress with waist eased into non-existence was combined with a matching bloused jacket that came to the end of the model's hipline. The nutria trimming on the jacket matched a nutria helmet hat.

American fashion editors, flown to Dusseldorf by Lufthansa German Airlies to see the Berlin and West German fashions, were treated to a group of glittering nighttime clothes. All that glittered was not gold—some of it was silver, and beads, too.

For the young there was a sleeveless silver lame shirtwaist dress with pressed pleats in the skirt. A velvet coat lined with lame completed the costume.

CLUSTER OF SPARKLERS

A beige chiffon dress, with the inevitably eased waist, had a cluster of gold and silver sparklers embroidered from the waist down to the end of the hipline. An all-over white beaded sheath had green-leaved pink roses re-embroidered over it in more beads.

★ ★ ★

For those who prefer a this-year touch to last year's styles, there was a lace sheath with waist-hugging cummerbund combined with a floating chiffon wrap lined in lace and edged in mink.

The Rocky Mountains have peaks from 11,000 to 14,255 feet in height.

Couple to Live in Adrian

Before members of their immediate families Mrs. Elouise Reid Emerson of Adrian and Jerry W. Turner of Adrian, formerly of Pontiac, were married Saturday. The Rev. Ihno A. Jansse performed the ceremony in Grace Lutheran Church.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Reid of Hamilton, Ala., are the bride's parents. The bridegroom is the son of the Charles W. Turners of Glenwood avenue.

Mrs. Leon Clendenin served as the bride's only attendant.

A reception was held for 70 guests at Oakland County Boat Club. After a trip through the East the couple will live in Adrian.

The bridegroom was graduated from Ferris Institute.

MRS. JERRY W. TURNER

Betty V. Bryan Marries

MRS. JOHN A. LEWIS

Before members of the immediate families Betty V. Bryan and John A. Lewis were married Saturday afternoon. The Rev. George Mahder performed the ceremony in the Edison street home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lawrence Gaylord.

★ ★ ★

GOWNED IN LACE

She wore a Juliet-type cap with pearls and a ballerina-length veil of French silk illusion. Her bridal bouquet was composed of white cymbidium orchids and feathered carnations.

Lawrence Gaylord served as best man.

The newlyweds are on a trip through the South and will live on Fairgrove avenue.

Beverly J. Judd Becomes Bride

★ ★ ★

The wedding took place in St. John Lutheran Church with the Rev. Carl W. Nelson officiating.

Emma Toler served as the bride's only attendant and Larry Morris was the best man.

WSCS Schedules November 7 Dinner

Mrs. Leo Mineweaser was named general chairman of a turkey dinner scheduled for Nov. 7 by members of Women's Society of Christian Service of Oakland Park Methodist Church. It was also announced at the Friday evening meeting that Mrs. Carney Loucks will be in charge of the dining room.

There will be a Fun Night cooperative dinner Thursday in the church.

Dust Spice Shelf

Your family's dinner is likely to be seasoned with dust — right along with more tasty flavors — unless you keep your spice shelf clean. Swab the tops and sides of all spice containers with a lightly sudsed sponge regularly. Then you'll be able to shake away without fear of contaminating the food.

Some Facts About Men Usually Bewilder Women

Can't See Why Tired Hubbies Pep Up When Attractive Girl Enters Room

By RUTH MILLETT

Some facts about men that women find hard to understand:

Why a man thinks that his inability to understand a woman is something to brag about.

How a man can become so attached to an old hat, a paint-spattered, worn-out pair of khakis, or an old bathrobe.

Why it is easier for a man to take a nap with a play-by-play report of a ball game droning in his ears, than in peace and quiet.

The sudden rejuvenation of a group of tired husbands when an attractive and momentarily unattached young thing comes into the room.

Why a man thinks that any woman who flatters him really understands him.

★ ★ ★

Why a man's day is ruined if for some reason he misses his morning or afternoon newspaper.

BATTING AVERAGE

★ ★ ★

How a husband can have so much to talk about when he is away from home, and so little to talk about when he is at home alone with his wife.

Why a man is sure his son isn't as responsible as he was when he was a boy.

★ ★ ★

Widow Specializes in Criticizing Clothes

By VIRGINIA KACHAN

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Alma P. Cresci-Muller is a fashion consultant who takes on personal appointments in addition to running fashion shows for large retailers in Chicago.

Her specialty is the woman who is unsure of herself in the way she dresses or what she needs to add to a wardrobe.

For $10 an hour and up, Mrs. Cresci-Muller either confirms a woman's personal taste or points out what is wrong with it.

Her unusual career started 15 years ago after an extensive background in designing and clothes retailing. "Even while my husband was alive," said Mrs. Cresci-Muller in an interview, "many of my clients kept in touch with me to plan their wardrobes."

Over the years, Mrs. Cresci-Muller estimated that she has served as a personal fashion consultant to "hundreds of women all over the country who learned of my services by word of mouth."

"Many women," she said, "spend hundreds of dollars on clothes only to wear them once or twice because they are not suited to them individually or are not fitted properly."

"Many women," she said, "need an objective point of view. Some are afraid to ask their friends for help because it might reflect on their taste. Others feel friends select unattractive things for them."

In overseeing a woman's shopping, Mrs. Cresci-Muller lets the client choose things anywhere in Chicago by herself. Then, when the selections are made, she goes back with the woman to decide whether the clothes should be bought.

A trained designer and former retailer before marriage interrupted her career, Mrs. Cresci-Muller has no tie-ins with clothes retailers in the city.

One of her recent clients, she said, "didn't need new clothes at all — and I told her so." The woman, she explained, had adopted a "city walk" which threw her posture and her clothes out of line. She said:

Washing Given 7 Million Tulip Bulbs at Grant

A giant shipment of 7,000,000 tulip bulbs from Copenhagen, Denmark, to Grand Rapids recently received a 1-A stamp from the U.S. Department of Agriculture after the bulbs went through a wash operation at Grant.

★ ★ ★

The shipment, more than 95 per cent of the entire tulip crop of Denmark, was brought to Muskegon via sea lanes and carted to the Ryn Vanderhaag Washing Plant for the bath.

The plant long has been engaged in washing various types of vegetable produce and making improvements on grading onions.

Onion farmers believe the onion maggot fly originally was carried into the United States on tulip bulbs. The theory has led to more thorough washing and inspection of the imports.

Dirt washed from the Denmark bulbs was taken to Grand Rapids and buried deep underground near a city dump, as a precaution against the spread of plant disease.

Rochester Manager to Quit

Council Accepts His Resignation

Slone Leaves to Head City of Grosse Pointe Park Next February

By MYRENE TAYLOR
Rochester Correspondent

ROCHESTER—Robert A. Slone, Rochester's first and only manager, tendered his resignation at last night's regular council meeting. He will become city manager of Grosse Pointe Park, city of 15,000, whose yearly budget is $1,400,000.

With the hiring of Robert Slone, Rochester saw many improvements the first year and they have been continuous each year.

He has had entire supervision over all municipal departments and probably the Public Works and Water Works Departments have seen the greatest advancement under Slone's managership. No job was too big for him to tackle.

There was a great need of revamping the various departments and his experience as an administrator is evident. Manager Slone is recognized by managers all over Michigan as being "tops."

ROBERT A. SLONE

Slone Resigns Post

Honorable President and Council:

I hereby submit my resignation as your Village Manager.

Earlier this evening, the City Council of the City of Grosse Pointe Park met, and by resolution, appointed me their City Manager. I have accepted this position.

It is hard to leave my friends among the employes and those on the council. We have accomplished much during the past eight and one-half years. This has been a difficult decision for my family. We have become a part of the community; the ties are strong. However, I feel that this opportunity cannot be disregarded.

The Grosse Pointe Park City Council desires that I assume my new duties on or about Jan. 1, 1958. If I may be of service to you in helping my successor either before I leave or afterward, I would be more than glad to do so.

The Village of Rochester will always have a true friend wherever I may be.

Robert A. Slone

Following the reading of the resignation, a resolution was made by Councilmen Clarence Burr and John Dahlman that "It is with sincere regret that we receive Manager Slone's resignation. We wish him congratulations and God Speed. Through his eight and one-half years of hard work and sincerity he has been hired by Grosse

The Prince They Left Behind

By TOM A. CULLEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

LONDON — The loneliest boy in the whole United Kingdom is probably Prince Charles, whose mother, Queen Elizabeth II, arrives in the United States tomorrow.

Not that Charles is homesick or anything like that. He misses his mum and dad, to be sure, but they have been absent on royal tours before. Besides, Charles who is pushing 9, is a big boy now. In fact, he has just recovered from the Asian flu.

Not that things are going well at his new school, Cheam, where Charles is making history as the first future British monarch ever to attend boarding school just like other boys whose parents can afford $900 a year tuition fees.

America! All those cowboys and all those Indians! For, like many another British boy his age who watches the Lone Ranger on television, and who prefers Western movies to all others, Charles has peopled America with redskins and cow-punchers who play an eternal game of rugger (a variant of American football).

It is small consolation that his dad, Prince Philip, the Duke of Edinburgh, has promised to bring home a genuine Indian outfit, complete from deerskin jerkin to war bonnet with real eagle feathers. Charles would like to be there, in person.

And speaking of rugger, the prince would like to see a real American football game. The commander of the U.S. Air Force base at nearby Greenham Common, in Berkshire, has invited Prince Charles and some of his Cheam chums to watch a football match this autumn, but it's not the same thing.

The report on Charles' first few weeks at Cheam is: "Good, but could do better." By now, Charles, in his gray flannel school uniform, with short pants and a dark blue cap, is indistinguishable from the other 92 boys, aged 8 to 13.

Just how completely he has been absorbed was shown recently when a son—replying to his mother's discreet query, "How is Charles getting on?"—wrote back, "Which Charles? There are many boys named Charles here."

For the teaching staff there is only one "Prince Charles," however, for so they address the young heir to the British throne. He, in turn, addresses his teachers as "Sir," or "Ma'am," in the case of the two mistresses at Cheam.

Charles' day begins when a bell sounds in his dormitory at 7:15 a.m. He slips out of his springless, iron, barracks-style bed, with its wafer-thin mattress, and makes a dash for the wash-stands which he shares with his eight dorm-mates.

He makes his own bed, as does every other boy; blackens his own boots. The English public school system of "fagging," whereby the younger boys slave for the older ones, is out at Cheam, which prides itself on good manners.

Cheam also prides itself in turning out muscular Christians. For Charles, who has already shown an aptness for games, this means plenty of soccer, with rugger as well after the Christmas holidays.

Should he grow bored on this sports diet there are tennis courts, a swimming pool and even a nine-hole golf course on the 65 acres of school grounds.

On Sundays the boys walk a quarter of a mile to the village church at Headley, where Rev. Reginald Rabbetts usually takes the service. It is not certain yet whether Charles will sing in the choir (his dad did). It depends upon whether his voice is good enough.

How did Cheam, which dates back to 1646, come to be connected with the royal family? Prince Louis of Battenberg, when First Sea Lord in 1914, noticed that two midshipmen had remarkably good manner. He called them in and asked, "Where were you educated?"

"Cheam, sir," said the young men.

"Then that's the school for my son," Prince Louis announced.

And so it was that the son, Prince George, was sent to Cheam. And in his turn, Prince George's son, the present Marquis of Milford Haven, went to Cheam in 1928—followed by his cousin, the Duke of Edinburgh in 1930. And now Prince Charles.

Many Discover Queen's Titles Jawbreakers

LONDON (INS) — Few people could address Queen Elizabeth by her full titles without drawing a second breath.

★ ★ ★

Officially, she is Her Most Excellent Majesty Elizabeth the Second, by the Grace of God of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and North Ireland and of her Realms and Territories, Queen: Head of the Commonwealth, Defender of the Faith.

In addition, she is Sovereign of the British Orders of Knighthood, Captain-General of the Royal Artillery Regiment and Colonel-in-chief of the Life Guards, the Royal Horse Guards the Royal Scots Greys.

The 16th Lancers, the Royal Tank Regiment, the Royal Engineer Corps, the Grenadier Guards, Coldstream Guards, Scots Guards, Irish Guards and Welsh Guards; the Royal Welsh Fusiliers, the North Lancashire Regiment, the Kings Royal Rifle Corps, the Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders, the Royal Malta Artillery, the Royal Ordnance Corps, the Queen's Own Worcester Hussars; as well as seven Canadian, five Australian, five New Zealand and eight West African regiments and corps.

She is Captain-General of the Combined Cadet Force and the Royal Canadian Artillery; Air Commodore-in-Chief of several British and Commonwealth air units; Honorary Commissioner of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police; Master of the Merchant Navy and Fishing fleets; Head of the Civil Defense Corps and Head of the National Service Reserve.

Her many orders and decorations include the Orders of the Garter, the Thistle, the Crown of India, the Royal Victorian Order and the Order of the British Empire.

IF all this seems to make several mouthfuls, it should be remembered that in ordinary conversation the Queen is addressed as "Your Majesty" or merely, as "Ma'am."

British Believe Their Monarchs Are Overworked

LONDON (INS) — The Queen's American tour is certain to revive anxiety in Britain that she and the Duke of Edinburgh may be working too hard.

★ ★ ★

The members of the royal family are generally conceded to be among the hardest-working people in Britain. Public ceremonies can be exhausting, as anyone knows who has ever stood or sat through one, and the queen tackles dozens, especially when she is on tour.

The royal family learns all the tricks on avoiding fatigue on such occasions. One of their private mottos is "never miss a chance to sit down for a few moments."

But they do get tired and if a camera catches a drawn or worn expression on the Queen's face, thousands of Britons may complain that she is overworked.

A London newspaper once drew up a "box score" of the Queen's activities during a tour of New Zealand, which read like this: handshakes, 5,000; curtsies, 2,000 awards, 200; foundation stones, 1; speeches: made 28, heard 23; anthems, 200; gifts, flowers, 152.

New York Hotel in Majestic Jam

NEW YORK (INS)—A royal traffic jam in the corridors of the stately Waldorf Towers, involving Queen Elizabeth II of Britain and Crown Prince Faisal of Saudi Arabia, has been developing this past week.

So desperate is the entanglement that it appears Queen Elizabeth and her consort Prince Philip may have to occupy the suite usually reserved for her coolly-received uncle, the Duke of Windsor, and his American-born duchess, who is persona non grata at Buckingham Palace.

MANY HARASSED

The resultant headache has clutched at the brow of American commoners, from harassed hotel executives to the protocol experts of the State Department in Washington.

With the Queen of England and her party arriving Oct. 21 for a stay in New York of not much more than half a day, the situation is shaping up as follows:

The top-drawer suite at the Waldorf Towers, the most regal caravanserai in town, is 35-A, which is known as the presidential suite. Its present tenant is Prince Faisal, heir-apparent to the oil rich desert kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Prince Faisal at present is in New York Hospital recovering from surgery. But he's hanging onto his key with a right royal grip on prerogative.

★ ★ ★

This was the suite everyone had in mind for Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

Casting about for a suitable alternative, hotel executives and protocol experts seized upon the Towers' suite 28-A.

This palatial suite, though second-best, might have been entirely suitable, except for that one drawback serious enough to make a diplomat turn in his striped pants.

GAVE UP THRONE

Suite 28-A is the New York stopping place of the Queen's uncle and 'the woman he loved' enough to give up the British throne.

In the quandary presented by an Arabian prince, who can't be evicted, and the British Queen, whose antipathy for the Windsors has been demonstrated often, Wiley T. Buchanan Jr., chief protocol officer of the State Department, bears an undeserved burden.

Buchanan, interviewed by phone in Washington, bravely asserted that one suite is as good as another in the Waldorf Towers, adding:

"We knew Prince Faisal was in 35-A and since he had engaged it beyond the Queen's visit, he naturally had the right to stay there."

Buchanan said it "didn't matter to us" when the Waldorf informed him 28-A was available. No one, apparently, advised the State Department this was the suite occupied by the duke and duchess.

Asked if he realized 28-A was the Windsor suite, Buchanan replied:

"I don't know if it is. I don't believe so . . . I want to make it perfectly clear we've had no difficulty with the Waldorf or anyone else. We're perfectly happy with the accommodations for the whole royal party . . . We did better than we expected."

Buchanan, however, admitted the State Department had asked for the presidential suite and was informed it was in Saudi Arabian hands.

As for the entourage of Prince Faisal, his spokesman said bluntly:

The prince's spokesman said the hotel had not requested their party to move.

F. Dell-Agnese, manager of the Towers, preferred not to discuss the traffic jam revolving around the presidential suite, which costs $150 a day and is decorated in Early American.

Queen Liz Will Get $15,000 Mink Coat

WASHINGTON (INS)—Queen Elizabeth will be presented a mink coat —worth about $15,000—during her visit in the national capital.

The British Information Service said today the Mutation Mink Breeders Assn., will make the gift of a Lutetia mink upon the Queen's arrival in Washington.

The association said in New York the garment was worth about $15,000.

During the Queen's parade at Sydney, Australia, in 1955, a group of children suddenly were convulsed with laughter. No one around could find out why until they talked with the teacher of the group. Then they learned the children were deaf mutes, and had "seen" the prince say to Elizabeth, "Perk up, little cabbage; you're beginning to wilt."

'Bugs' Baer Says:

To Curtsy, Bob for Apples

New York society getting established for the visit of royalty. Park Avenue dowagers are asking Emily Post how to curtsy without backing off the wharf.

First you put your thumbs along the seams of your mink. Then you place your little left foot in back of your little right foot. Then you bob for apples.

While you're down there you might as well police the parade grounds and adjust your bunion plasters.

The Queen does not return the curtsy. She lost five tiaras that way.

Schedule Shows Grueling Pace

Exhausted Males Give Her Majesty Top Mark for Sportsmanship

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
INS Correspondent

WASHINGTON (INS) — Several dozen two-fisted males have already played queen-for-a-day in dry-run anticipation of her Brittanic Majesty's arrival in America tomorrow.

"We just grab a body — any body — and push him into position," Assistant Protocol Chief Victor Purse murmured wearily today as he paced off a few miles more of queenly steps.

The schedule for Queen Elizabeth II — jampacked and exhausting as it is — should be a snap compared with Vic's rehearsals.

The State Department official, who so captivated visiting King Saud after the Arabian potentate insisted on having him accompany him back to the Mideast, has taken every step that the Queen will take on her state visit — not once, but three or four times.

RAIN OR SHINE

"Rain or shine, we've got it down to the fraction-second," Vic promises. "We'll deliver her dry at any spot, no matter if the heavens open up with downpours."

Purse and his staff are not the only ones who have been pacing off the premises at every point the queenly toe will touch from Jamestown through Williamsburg, Washington and New York.

The dry runs have also swept up British Embassy personnel by the dozens, Secret Service men, Scotland Yard agents and White House staffers.

In practically all rehearsals, which have been grinding along for weeks, a grinning male enacts the role of the Queen. As Vic says, it's just any old male who happens to get tapped with the command:

"Take lady-like steps and walk through that door. Stand by the Magna Carta while we pretend that the cameras are grinding, and then walk back out again. Short steps, remember."

★ ★ ★

The object, of course, is to time the split-second schedule to a dainty Queen's pace. It is also to ensure that no last minute hitch can develop in crowd-control.

WILL WATCH FOOTBALL

The rain-or-shine preparations have naturally doubled the rehearsals. Should it pour as Her Majesty sweeps down the steps of President Eisenhower's plane, Columbine III, at the MATS Airfield here, a man-sized umbrella will shelter her into the terminal. If the sun beams, the ceremony with full military honors will be held outside instead.

★ ★ ★

Likewise, come sun or high water the Queen will occupy her outdoor box at Byrd Stadium for the Maryland-North Carolina football game Oct. 19.

In the event of rain, however, a plastic tarpaulin looking exactly like a peekaboo shower curtain will be stretched above the regal heads while Prince Philip downs hot dogs with mustard and his wife sips steaming tea.

British Information Chief Frank Mitchell, who has paced every inch of the embassy and the gardens four times, has also stepped off the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier almost as many times as the permanent honor guardsmen.

QUEEN TO PLACE WREATH

"The Queen will lay the wreath there in a method that has never been done before," Mitchell declared, proudly. "She'll place it at the foot, instead of the head of the tomb to make a longer and more dramatic ceremony."

Heretofore, visiting dignitaries have stepped from the Arlington Cemetery Amphitheater directly to the head of the Tomb to deposit the wreath.

The indomitable little Queen, however, will do it the long way around to accommodate more sightseers.

Leaving the car at the lower approach on Roosevelt Drive, she will stride along the flower-rimmed Mall and up the marble steps to the foot of the Tomb for the wreath-laying. Then she will pass through the amphitheater to the Canadian Cross for an identical ceremony.

Already the exhausted men who have been timing the Queen's schedule are giving her top marks for sportsmanship. They concede that she will need the combined energy of Eleanor Roosevelt and Vice President Nixon to see her through the grueling pace that will permit millions of fat-cats to look at a queen.

QUEEN ELIZABETH II

15 Welcomes, 8 Receptions, 6 Dinners, 2 Parades . . .

Is It a Royal Visit or Endurance Test?

By NEA SERVICE

WASHINGTON — If Queen Elizabeth survives the back-breaking schedule set for her visit to the U.S. it should end for all times the charges that there may be a weakening of the British monarchial strain.

★ ★ ★

During the five and one-half day visit the Queen and her husband, Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, will be exposed to 15 formal welcoming ceremonies, eight huge receptions, six formal dinners, two major parades, nine inspections, one formal ball, one football game and one corner-stone ceremony.

That's just a run-down on the main events. The schedule of ceremonial arrivals and departures, presentations, wreath-layings and greetings is endless.

More Americans than ever before will meet the young monarch and her handsome husband in person, read about the visit, or witness some of the ceremonies on TV.

JAMESTOWN FIRST

The year-long celebration surrounding the 350th anniversary of the founding of Jamestown, Va., as the first British colony in North America is the technical reason for the visit. Elizabeth and Philip arrive at Patrick Henry Airport near Williamsburg, Va., at 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Oct. 16, and promptly take off for Jamestown to start their historic visit.

★ ★ ★

On Thursday, after spending the night at the famous Williamsburg Inn, the Queen and her husband will fly to Washington for the big doings.

Sunday night, Oct. 20, they'll take an overnight train to New York, get a ticker-tape parade on Monday morning, attend a ball that night and depart for home by royal aircraft at 12:45 a.m. Tuesday.

"During the visit Her Majesty will probably shake 10,000 hot little hands," estimates a State Department protocol expert. To save the Queen's right hand from complete mutilation, all women guests attending events for the Queen are requested to wear gloves.

HANDSHAKING MARATHON

The royal handshaking will reach a climax on Friday night and Saturday morning of the visit when the Queen will meet more than 5,000 persons at two huge receptions.

The Friday afternoon affair is a party at the British embassy thrown by the ambassadors of all of the Commonwealth countries.

An estimated 2,700 guests will have to be raced through the receiving line at the rate of seven persons per minute if they are all going to get inside for a sip of champagne.

After that the Queen and Philip will be given a chance to recover at a large, formal dinner which will be held in the Pan American Union building by Secretary of State and Mrs. John Foster Dulles.

★ ★ ★

Next morning the couple will leave the White House bright and early to rush back to the embassy and great 2,500 members of the staffs of the Commonwealth embassies.

Royal Tours Run Smoothly

Big Behind-the-Scenes Staff to Carry Weight of Queen's Visit

LONDON (INS) — Among the dozens of persons accompanying Queen Elizabeth to America are many who never hit the headlines but who carry much of the weight of the trip.

They range from Queen Elizabeth's personal ladies-in-waiting down to footmen. Without them a royal tour could never be made.

Probably the most important behind-the-scenes man of the whole party will be private secretary to the Queen and keeper of the archives, Sir Michael Adeane, 46.

Slightly built, balding, with a fair mustache, Sir Michael was educated at Eton and Cambridge. He entered royal service as a page boy when 13 years old.

Adeane is the chief link between the Queen and her people and is her closest adviser on domestic, foreign and Service affairs.

HELP OUT

Adeane has two assistants in London. One of them, Lt. Col. Martin Charteris, will be along to help out on the trip.

Press secretary Commander Richard Colville, 50, will be one of the busiest men of the whole tour.

JOB TOUGH

He holds one of the toughest public relations job in the world. He must see that the world press has access to news of the royal family, while parrying efforts to dig out behind-the-scenes gossip.

The Queen will have two ladies-in-waiting attending her— The Countess of Leicester and Lady Rose Baring.

1,100 to Write of Visit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today it has accredited more than 1,100 newsmen for coverage of Queen Elizabeth's visit, the largest press accreditation for a United States event during this administration, said James C. Hagerty, press secretary.

Roll Out Red Carpet

GLASGOW, Va. (AP) — When they roll out the red carpet — literally, that it — to welcome Great Britain's Queen Elizabeth to Williamsburg, Va., it will measure 204 feet in length and six feet in width and will be made of imported wool, some of it coming from Scotland and New Zealand.

Put Huck Finn Back on List, Group Urges

NEW YORK (AP) — The Mark Twain Assn. of New York has requested the City Board of Education to restore "The Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" to the approved textbook list for elementary and junior high schools.

Removal of the book from the list was disclosed Sept. 11.

Dr. William Jansen, superintendent of schools, denied that the removal indicated that the book was considered officially to be offensive to Negroes. He said the book had been removed because it was not regarded as a textbook.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Russians may have gotten the jump on the United States with their high-flying Sputnik, but they didn't beat Walt Disney.

Two years ago, the Disney studios made a film which demonstrated the creation of an earth satellite—even predicting the exact height at which the Communist bauble has been orbiting!

The film was made for the Disneyland TV show and was later released to theaters as a featurette, "Man in Space." A second in the series, "Man in the Moon," is being released theatrically now and is getting a big play from the space-conscious movie goers.

Next comes "Mars and Beyond," which will appear on the TV show Dec. 4. I caught a preview of it and found it out of this world — literally and figuratively. The Disney artists have depicted some of the legends and speculation about life on the planet Mars, and the result is wacky beyond belief. But the show also deals with the serious possibility of a trip from Earth to Mars in realistic fashion.

Commander of the Disney space patrol is Ward Kimball, who has drawn some great sequences in the studio's cartoon features but gave it up to become a director. When Kimball proposed the space pictures, Walt tore a blank page out of a notebook and handed it to Kimball saying, "There's your ticket."

Kimball, who wears a front-sweep hairdo and wild sport coats and plays in the Firehouse Five jazz band (a trumpeter was needed, so he taught himself to play the instrument), went to the best authorities for his data. He used the best scientific minds of the government, services and colleges and added the Disney entertainment touch.

Most of the recent developments have been predictable. But the Russian coup took him by surprise.

"We had been working on a special show for international business machines on satellites," he said ruefully. "We were having our final talks about it when the news broke. Since it takes us a year to make the pictures, it seemed best to abandon this one and try another tack."

Kimball, who has his own telescope among his many other interests, was asked how he stood on flying saucers.

★ ★ ★

"There's no doubt that they are out there," he replied. "The only question is whether they originate within the solar system or outside of it."

Acoustics Criticized at Ford Auditorium

DETROIT (AP) — Music critics think the giant new Ford Auditorium in Detroit may be a white elephant, accoustically speaking.

Howard Harrington, manager of the Detroit Symphony Orchestra, agreed after a concert that it "sounded as if a blotter had been put over the whole orchestra."

Music critics from the nation's leading newspapers, attending a workshop here, used such words as "dead," "harsh" and "strident" to describe the sounds coming out of the concert. And they said they didn't blame the orchestra.

Dixon B. Kellogg, president of the architectural firm of Crane, Kiehler & Kellogg, said leading acoustical experts were consulted before plans were approved.

Junior Editors Quiz on PEOPLE

QUESTION: Why do some of us have freckles?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: People with fair hair and a ruddy complexion seem to freckle more readily than those with darker features. Some of them never sunburn but do freckle. In seasons of less sun, freckles somtimes fade and even disappear, only to return stronger and larger than ever with the warm weather. Usually freckles are most exident on the nose, upper cheeks and arms, the areas most exposed to the sun. They are quite harmless and, on many people, quite handsome. They are caused by the action of the sun, which causes certain skin cells to change color.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: This little boy boasts a profusion of freckles, but by putting the hat on him, you can help him cut down and their number and brightness. Cut around top of boy's head and the center solid line in the hat. After coloring and cutting out, fold the bottom forward to make the picture stand.

Eye Hard Winter

ROCKY MOUNTAIN HOUSE, Alta. (AP)—Indians say western Canada is in for a long, hard winter. They base the forecast on such things as a recent severe snowstorm, the fact birds headed south earlier than usual, heavy coats already apparent on wild animals.

Unemployment Rises

DETROIT (AP) — The number of persons unemployed in Michigan increased 58,000 in the one-month check period that ended Sept. 15, the State Employment Security Commission said today. The commission's report said there were 2,512,000 employed persons in Michigan at the end of the check period, and 260,000 unemployed.

Sees Critical Need for Skilled Craftsmen

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Secretary of Labor Mitchell says the country's need for skilled craftsmen will be "increasingly critical" in the next 10 years unless there is an increase in the number of young skilled workers.

Speaking at a Lehigh University convocation the secretary said the number of skilled craftsmen in the U.S. in 1956 was 8½ million—the same number as in 1951.

"The plain fact is that we are failing to train anything like an adequate number of skilled workers," he said.

In the past five years "there was an actual decrease of 220,000 young skilled workers between the ages of 14 and 24," Mitchell declared.

Since the inception of the National Professional Football League, there have been 72 shifts of franchises.

The big shuffle was the merger of the NFL with the old All-America Conference whereas Cleveland, San Francisco and Baltimore put seven teams in the National Conference and six teams in the American Conference.

In the next two years the New York Yanks became the Dallas Texans and Baltimore washed out.

In 1953, Dallas after one year fizzled, and Baltimore moved back into the NFL but in the Western Conference. The league has been settled since then, and owners in the NFL now feel that a franchise shift is unlikely for the next 20 years.

Only change which may be forthcoming within two years is the expansion of each division of the NFL with one or two new teams, thus forming an NFL with 14 or 16 teams.

★ ★ ★

Owners were one time afraid there weren't enough good pro ball players to go around. Now they feel that the colleges are providing a better crop of gridders, thereby making it possible for additional two or four teams.

BUFFALO SURE OF FRANCHISE

One city sure of getting a franchise is Buffalo. "We, like some of the other teams, were ready for expansion couple years ago," said general manager Nick Kerbawy of the Lions, "now we think Buffalo is ready for a team, and if the vote is taken at the next winter meetings, we will vote yes in support of Buffalo."

Last time the voting took place, Detroit voted no. If Buffalo is admitted as an Eastern Conference member, then the re-alignment by east and west sections may move Baltimore to the Eastern Division.

This would leave two available spots in the Western Conference, and the two strongest bidders right now are Minneapolis and Denver. Cincinnati and Louisville are possibilities.

The poor response of southern cities to the exhibition games hardly gives them a chance for a franchise, especially after the one-year fizzle of Dallas in 1952.

"Buffalo is ready for a team now. They have a stadium which already seats 35,000 and the backers there are ready to push the capacity to 55,000 as soon as they get the okay on a franchise," Kerbawy said.

10 OF 12 VOTES NEEDED

When the matter is brought up, an affirmative vote from 10 of the 12 NFL members is needed to approve a new franchise.

There's no doubt about it now. Pro football is here to stay. Its more liberal TV policy has been a big factor, and for five straight years attendance records have been broken, with the figure for 1956 going over the two-and-half million mark.

PISTON STAR — The Detroit Pistons play the St. Louis Hawks tonight in an exhibition pro basketball game at Flint's IMA auditorium and 6-foot Dick McGuire will be a key figure in Detroit plans. McGuire is a deadly two-hand set shot artist for the Pistons.

Kenville Tells Pistons' Coach He Is Retiring

DETROIT (AP) — Veteran guard Bill Kenville notified the Detroit Pistons yesterday that he is retiring from basketball.

Kenville, a holdout, indicated last week he would accept the terms of the National Basketball Assn. club and report yesterday. He changed his mind at the last minute and told Piston coach Charley Eckman he had decided not to report.

The Pistons launch the final phase of their pre-season training tonight in a game with the St. Louis Hawks in Flint's IMA auditorium.

Richard Nears 500-Goal Mark

MONTREAL (AP) — Montreal's Maurice Richard scored four goals in the first week of National Hockey League play to move within three notches of a 500-goal career.

Richard, at 36 playing his 16th year in the league, leads in goals and has one assist for five points, giving him third spot in the scoring race behind deadlocked teammates Dickie Moore and Jean Beliveau.

League statistics released today show Moore with three goals and three assists while Beliveau picked up two goals and is tied with Detroit's Johnny Wilson for the lead in assists with four.

Seven players have three points —Andy Bathgate and Bill Gadsby of New York, Fleming Mackell and Jerry Toppazzini of Boston and Detroit's Gordie Howe, Earl Reibel and Alex Delvecchio.

LSU's Jimmy Taylor INS 'Player of Week'

NEW YORK (INS) — Fullback Jimmy Taylor, playing before a home town crowd, scored all of Louisiana State's points Saturday to lead the Tigers to an upset victory and earn himself college football's Player of the Week award.

Taylor edged out such other individual stars as Nick Pietrosante of Notre Dame, Sidney Williams of Wisconsin, Don Clark of Ohio State, Don Allard of Boston College, Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State and Dan Fogarty of Syracuse in the weekly poll of International

Mighty Spartans Replace Sooners at Top of Heap

Lopsided Victory Over Michigan Turns Trick for Duffy's Boys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

History repeated itself today when the nation's sports writers and broadcasters again placed Michigan State ahead of Oklahoma as the nation's No. 1 college football team in the weekly Associated Press ranking poll.

It was almost exactly a year ago—Oct. 23, 1956—that the experts voted Michigan State into first place ahead of the all-winning Sooners. Today, in the same situation, they did it again, giving Michigan State 1,797 points and Oklahoma 1,704.

Michigan State, second in last week's ratings, mauled Michigan 35-6 last Saturday. Oklahoma, hard pressed by Texas, won its 43rd consecutive game, 21-7.

A year ago Michigan State had won impressively from Notre Dame to go ahead. The next week Oklahoma turned its ferocity on the hapless Irish, regained first place in the voting and didn't lose it until today. The Sooners were the pre-season choice this year and had been first in each of three previous weekly ballots.

This time 92 of 196 voters put State's Spartans on top of the list and 67 rated them second. In the point scoring on the usual basis of ten for each first place vote, nine for second, etc., Texas A&M came in a poor third behind these two with five first place votes and 1,215 points. Fourth place Minnesota also polled more than 1,000 points in the heaviest voting so far this season—six firsts and 1,184 points.

The bulk of the Oklahoma support came on 64 first place votes and the same number for second.

Michigan State's one-sided victory resulted in a second change in the Top Ten rankings. Michigan, which had been rated sixth a week ago, mustered a bare 30 points and squeezed into 18th place by a one-point margin over Washington State, Rice and Army.

Duke, victorious over Rice 7-6, retained fifth place. Iowa, drawing 10 first-place votes, moved up from eighth to sixth while Oregon State remained in seventh.

Notre Dame, on the strength of its 23-21 victory over Army, jumped from a good spot in the Second Ten up to eighth in the main group, followed by Auburn and Arkansas. The Arkansas Razorbacks, who upset Baylor, were the other newcomer in the Top Ten. Army had held 10th place.

If history continues to repeat, it looks bad for Oklahoma's next opponent, Kansas, which has only one victory in four starts. Notre Dame was a 40-0 victim the last time the Sooners lost first place in the rankings. Michigan State opposes Purdue, which hasn't won a game so far, next Saturday.

The top ten teams with points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis (first place votes and won-lost records in parentheses):

Kaline, Kuenn in New Spots

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Detroit Tiger fans can expect to see Al Kaline in center field next year and Harvey Kuenn either in right field or at first base, according to manager Jack Tighe.

"We are not going to trade Kuenn. We're going to keep him in Detroit . . ." was Tighe's comment yesterday in Grand Rapids.

Tighe was in the city to address a church group. He later attended a ball game between Charley Maxwell's barnstorming All-Stars and Sullivan's Furniture of Grand Rapids.

"The minute spring season opens," Tighe said, "we are putting Kaline in center field and telling him that's where he's going to play the 1958 season." Kaline has played the position before for Detroit.

Tighe added "Kuenn is just not suited for shortstop." He said the Tigers plan to try him in the outfield and at first base in spring training.

CAGE GIANT— Walter Dukes of the Detroit Pistons, former Seton Hall All-America star, is one of basketball's giants at seven feet. Dukes will appear with the Pistons at Flint's IMA auditorium tonight in an exhibition game with the St. Louis Hawks.

Stars Hit Ryder Team System

Blame It for U.S. Loss

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Sam Snead and Jimmy Demaret, off on an Oriental golf expedition, levelled a double-barrelled blast today at the United States' method of selecting its Ryder Cup team.

★ ★ ★

Snead and Demaret left today by air for Tokyo to compete in the Canada Cup and international trophy matches involving top pros of 30 nations Oct. 24-27.

Commenting on America's recent defeat at the hands of the British professionals — the first reversal in 24 years for the Yanks —the two veterans said the responsibility lay with the system.

"Imagine picking a team to represent this country and leaving off players like Snead, Ben Hogan, and Doc Middlecoff," said Demaret. "I could have picked a better team blindfolded."

Snead was a little milder in his criticism, saying, "If I wanted to pick a team to win I wouldn't have chosen the one which represented us at St. Andrews."

The Americans were beaten, 7½ to 4½, suffering six losses in the individual matches in which the Yanks were heavily favored.

Although both were Ryder Cup veterans, Snead and Hogan were omitted from the 1957 team because they did not pile up sufficient points in a program based on tournament competition.

"We are picking our teams not on their ability but on the number of tournaments they play in," said Snead.

★ ★ ★

Demaret said that he and Middlecoff were passed up simply because they did not play in the PGA Championship Tournament although their records in other tournaments warranted their selection. "And Snead didn't make it because he picked his tournaments," Demaret added, "and he has won more tournaments than any golfer alive."

★ ★ ★

Demaret said he felt the international matches were the true world competition of golf and superseded the Ryder Cup in significance.

"We are a country of 160,000,000 people and England has 40,000,000," he said. "We have 60 tournaments and they have 10. It's a gross mismatch. We should beat them every time.

"A fairer competition would be the U.S. against the entire British Commonwealth with Australian and South African golfers included.

"Who are we to say the United States and Britain have the only golfers in the world?" Demaret added.

Saginaw Will Give PHS Real Test Friday Night

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Whether Pontiac's 20-12 victory over Arthur Hill last Friday was just a one-night stand or a real showing of finesse, is something which calls for the acid test this week when another conference rival, Saginaw, visits Wisner Stadium.

Actually, Arthur Hill was reported to be the stronger of the two Saginaw schools, but the Trojans showed surprising strength in losing to defending champion Flint Northern, 14-7, last week.

Saginaw and Northern were deadlocked at 7-7 with only two minutes remaining when Flint's Phil Gaines returned a punt 71 yards for the winning touchdown.

Pontiac, on the other hand, played its finest game in several years, taking advantage of the breaks and playing an alert defensive game.

Sophomore quarterback Fred Staley making his first start for PHS turned in a credible performance. The 15-year-old youngster, who weighs just 145 pounds, took over the duties from senior Dick Whitmer, who in turn did an outstanding job as fullback and linebacker.

★ ★ ★

This gave Pontiac a chance to utilize Whitmer's 195 pounds of power in the middle, and the speed of halfbacks Jim Kellar and Bob Manning as outside threats.

Whitmer gained 48 yards in seven carries for a 6.9 average, to go with is 57-yard touchdown run with a fumble.

The Chiefs, who really have not been able to match the depth of their opponents, used 24 players against Arthur Hill.

To add to this weight, coach Herb Korf has ex-tackle Bob Yauck, a 211-pound senior running at fullback. Quarterback Dick Jones and halfbacks Tyrone Bryant and Bruce, a pair of 155-pounders, complete the Saginaw backfield.

★ ★ ★

An evening of festivities will be held in conjunction with Friday's game. A parade of bands, floats and game time ceremonies will highlight the first annual homecoming festival for Pontiac High. Game time is 8:00 p.m.

Bay City and Midland Share 'A' Top Billing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The ease with which Bay City Central downed an unpredictable Flint Central team and the difficulty Midland's Chemics had with stubborn Traverse City left each team with a share of the No. 1 ranking among Michigan's Class A high school football teams.

The six-member Class A panel of sports writers, making the Associated Press "top ten" rankings for the 4th week of the high school season, gave Bay City Central and Midland High 57 points apiece and placed each comfortably ahead of third-place Flint Northern, the defending state champion.

Central put on what Flint Journal sports writer Doug Mintline called an "aerial circus" in Atwood Stadium last Friday night and dealt Flint Central the worst defeat in its gridiron history, 47-6.

Midland, meanwhile, needed a three-touchdown splurge in the final period to knock Traverse City from the ranks of the undefeated, 28-6. Coach Bob Stoppert was none too happy about his team's performance and suggested over-confidence for the closeness of the contest at Traverse City.

Northern needed a 70-yard punt return in the last two minutes by fullback Phil Gaines to pull out a 14-7 triumph over Saginaw High. Northern has a 10-point margin over 4th ranked Muskegon Catholic, a 20-18 winner over Grand Rapids Creston.

Here's the way the sports writers' panel ranked 'em with records included:

1. (tie) Bay City Central (4-0)
   (tie) Midland (4-0)
3. Flint Northern (3-0)
4. Muskegon Catholic (4-0)
5. Muskegon Heights (3-0)
6. Ann Arbor (3-0-1)
7. Lansing Eastern (4-0)
8. Wyandotte (3-0)
9. East Detroit (3-0)
10. (tie) Grand Rapids Union (2-1)
    Traverse City (3-1)

ARCHER GETS BUCK — First of the Pontiac area archery-deer hunters to report success in the current bow-and-arrow season (Oct. 1-Nov. 15) was Bill Carland, OCSC archer (above). Bill took his 130-pound spikeborn recently in the Ogemaw State Forest. Carland was in the area since opening day, but never was within shooting distance until he got the buck at 30 yards with a heart shot. He fired just one 33-inch broadhead arrow from a 62-pound hunting bow.

Badgers' Williams Sets Big Ten Pace

CHICAGO (AP) — Quarterback Sid Williams of Wisconsin's undefeated Badgers jumped into the Big Ten all-game football scoring lead this week by scoring two touchdowns in a 23-14 victory over Purdue.

Williams pulled away from the pack with a total of 25 points on four touchdowns and one conversion. Trailing the nifty Negro from Little Rock, Ark., was Ohio State's Don Sutherin with 21 points.

The leaders:

Eager Sophs Boost Badger Status

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Football coach Milt Bruhn of the University of Wisconsin said today "it may be true that I have all my eggs in one basket, but I also have the right combination."

Bruhn, obviously pleased with the Badgers' three victories so far this season, listed five points he feels brought the team up from near the bottom:

2—More speed in the line.
3—Greater backfield depth.
5—Thirty-eight eager sophomores.

"In 1956 we just couldn't seem to find the right man to do the signal calling," Bruhn said. "But it's different now. Instead of playing five or six boys I'm sticking with one."

Quarterback Sid Williams is the one. His alertness to seize the advantage in situations where another might back down is tremendous.

"The boy's mind works like a computer," Bruhn said, "and he can deliver."

Bruhn said he believes the team passed its 1st major test by beating Purdue 23-14 last Saturday in its Big Ten opener. The Badgers visit defending champion Iowa this weekend.

"I admit we lack experience, but that will come along," Bruhn said. "This may sound corny, yet we're going to play one game at a time and whatever we do or don't do will be remembered."

★ ★ ★

Links Tourney Windup

City Pair Highland Kings

Joe Bergdorf and Ed Wasik, a pair of steady-going Pontiac golfers, ripped off a best-ball of 62, Saturday at Highland Golf Club. Their 32-30 was good enough to edge another pair of Pontiac shotmakers and a Detroit team by a single stroke for the 3rd annual Highland club best ball tourney.

The Highland event was probably the windup of area links tournaments for the 1957 season. More than a half dozen private club teams (3 from Plum Hollow, 2 from Red Run) were in the field.

Winning team has its name inscribed on the big perpetual trophy that stays at the club. Smaller individual trophies went to Burgdorf and Wasik. The 2nd place tie was shot by Charles Barker and Dick DeWitt (Pontiac) with 31-32-63, and Ed Kruger and Dick Allison, (Detroit) 34-29.

A 3rd place tie had John Driver and Augie Forgas (Red Run) and Ray Kane, Ron Nicholl at 64, while Joe Kocsis, captain of Highland club's team and Clark Dwight of Royal Oak headed five teams at 65. There were also four ties at 66.

O'Shaughnessy Top State Grid Scorer

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hillsdale's Earl O'Shaughnessy (former Keego Harbor ace) has banged ahead in the individual scoring race among Michigan's college football players.

The stocky halfback scored twice in his team's 20-14 win over Albion Saturday and took the state lead with 36 points on six touchdowns.

★ ★ ★

Lovell Coleman of Western Michigan and Kerry Keating (ex-Waterford player) of Eastern Michigan shared second place a touchdown behind. Coleman scored once as Western tied Bowling Green 14-14, while Keating scored three touchdowns in his team's 39-6 triumph over Central Michigan.

Isn't Quitting, Greenberg Says

Indian Boss Denies He Was Asked to Step Out as General Manager

CLEVELAND (AP) — High Henry Greenberg has no intention of stepping down as Cleveland Indians' General Manager when he and 12 other club directors discuss renewal of his contract tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

He made that plain last night commenting on a story in the Cleveland News that several directors oppose retaining him in the top front office job he has held since 1950.

★ ★ ★

None of the directors has asked him to step down to supervisor of farm club operations, Hank said, denying a report that such an approach was made in the interest of avoiding an open split on the board.

The one-time home-run king indicated he will welcome the showdown on a record that has been criticized more than praised by local sports writers and which is a target of not infrequent "irate fan" letters to the editor.

The season just ended was the first since Greenberg became general manager that the ball club did not make money and the first since 1946 that it finished below second. The Indians won a pennant in 1954, but flopped badly in the World Series against the New York Giants.

Spartans Await Visit of Purdue

Boilermakers Always Tough for MSU Team

Duffy Wants to Avoid Letdown After Prized Win Over Wolverines

EAST LANSING (AP)—The Purdue Boilermaker football team has an unpredictable habit of exploding every so often against Michigan State.

So the Spartan coaches, riding sky-high at the moment, aren't taking any chances as they prepare for next Saturday's home game against Purdue.

There's the feeling that Michigan State is due for an inevitable let-down after the emotional high of the 35-6 defeat of Michigan—the worst beating a Spartan team has ever handed the Wolverines.

"But this squad is smart enough, I'm sure," said Coach Duffy Daugherty, "to know that every opponent is worthy of our best efforts and that Purdue is always that way."

Daugherty isn't forgetting that Purdue played the role of a startling spoiler once before.

In 1953, Michigan State had won 28 straight games and was the top-rated team in the nation when unranked Purdue managed a 6-0 victory. The defeat nearly, but not quite, kept MSU out of its first Rose Bowl.

"Last year we had a pretty fair country ball club," Daugherty also recalled. "But we were lucky to get away with our lives against Purdue and scratch a 12-9 victory.

Although beaten, Purdue had all the edge in the statistics last year, including the rushing and passing yardage, passes completed and first downs.

Purdue doesn't look so potent this year, however, with the loss of Lenny Dawson, the former top Big Ten passer, and Lamar Lundy, the sky-scraper end.

The Boilermakers lost their first three games to Notre Dame 12-0, Minnesota 21-17 and Wisconsin 23-14.

Even with any let-down and if Michigan State should make all its mistakes in one game, the Spartans still have to be considered the overwhelming favorites.

The squad is still intact and without a crippling injury.

Detroit on Chisox 'Player Talk' List

CHICAGO (INS) — Chuck Comiskey, vice president of the Chicago White Sox, reported tonight that he has begun "serious" telephone conversations with four American League clubs in order "to strengthen the Sox for 1958."

Comiskey announced that during the next 48 hours he will be in personal contact with officials of Baltimore, Cleveland, Detroit and Kansas City.

Winless Visitors Run Well

Wildcats Next for 'M'

He had run Michigan and its big defenders ragged. More than 81,000 spectators accorded the 158-pound, 5-foot-4½ McKeiver the lustiest ovation a visiting player received all last season. He deserved it.

The Wildcat mite gained 205 yards on rushes, pass catches and kick returns before he tired so much that he had to leave the field in the fourth quarter.

"He's still a hell of a football player," Don Dufek said today.

Dufek has scouted Northwestern for Michigan and its losses to Oregon State and Minnesota. The Wildcats also were defeated by Stanford.

Northwestern was something of a surprise last year. The Wildcats posted a 4-4-1 record, but they lost to Ohio State by four points and held Minnesota to a scoreless tie.

They climaxed the season by winning their last three conference games.

"Don't forget they lost to two of the nation's top ten teams—Oregon State and Minnesota," Dufek cautioned. "I'd say they're as good as they were last year."

★ ★ ★

Northwestern still has its potent ground attack spearheaded by McKeiver and Big Ten champion Wilmer Fowler.

STRIKES AND SPARES
By Joe Wilman

If you're an average bowler, you're not going to get too many strikes, so you've got to depend upon converting spares to keep your score up in respectable company.

As you can see, I advise shooting all spares from one of three basic angles:

1. The left of middle angle for all spares on the right side of the alley.
2. The center or strike angle for all spares in the center of the alley.

The first decision a bowler makes in shooting for a spare is what angle to shoot from. All spares (or even splits) can fit into one of the three basic angles. Some slight adjustments can be made to fit specific situations, but these three spare angles are the basis for correct spare-shooting.

Bunning 3rd for ERA

Shantz Tops Moundsmen

NEW YORK (AP) — Southpaw Bobby Shantz capped a successful pitching comeback in 1957 by winning the American League earned run title. In becoming the eighth Yankee player to head the ERA listings, Shantz posted a 2.45 average.

Figures compiled by The Associated Press also showed today the Brooklyn Dodgers' Johnny Podres, also a lefthander, captured earned run laurels in the National League. Podres, who became the second Dodger hurler to win the crown, had a 2.66 mark.

Shantz, having been plagued with arm miseries, was traded by Kansas City to the Yanks last February in a multi-player deal. With the A's in 1956, Shantz, 32, had a 2-7 record and a 4.37 ERA.

Podres, who served in the Navy a year ago, yielded 58 unearned runs in 196 frames to join Dazzy Vance as the only other Dodger pitcher to capture ERA honors. Vance led three times—in 1924, 1928 and 1930. Podres, 25, also topped the majors in shutouts with six. He had a 12-9 record.

The Yanks' Tom Sturdivant was runner-up to Shantz with 2.53, followed by Detroit's Jim Bunning with 2.70 and New York's Bob Turley with 2.71. Warren Spahn of Milwaukee and Don Drysdale of Brooklyn trailed Podres with 2.69 each and Bob Buhl of the Braves ranked fourth with 2.74.

Whitey Ford of the Yanks topped the American League in 1956 with 2.58, but was ineligible this season because he pitched 129 innings. To be eligible a pitcher must work at least 154 innings. Milwaukee's Lew Burdette, the National League leader a year ago with 2.71, compiled a 3.71 ERA in 1957.

Although He'll Be 41

Maglie Fits Into Yank Plans for Next Season

But Sal Maglie fits right into the plans of the New York Yankees for next season. And by the time, the '58 campaign is a week or so old, Maglie will hit 41 summers.

"Maglie was a good pitcher for me in the games he worked last season," barked Yank Manager Casey Stengel in a farewell press conference before taking off for his Glendale, Calif., home yesterday. "I like him personally and so do the players.

Maglie, who was obtained by the Yanks from the Brooklyn Dodgers too late to be eligible for the World Series, almost got himself in the middle of it as a result of the Bronx Bombers losing the Series to the Milwaukee Braves.

As a National Leaguer of long standing, Maglie wrote a "book" on the Braves for the Yanks. Almost to a man, he advised the pitchers to keep the ball low to the Milwaukee hitters. There were some scattered mutterings that his book was far from perfect.

But catcher Yogi Berra confirmed that The Barber had it right, adding that there wasn't much to be done if the Yank pitchers couldn't keep the ball low.

"It Maglie had been in the Series, you can bet it would have been closer," said Stengel.

"But the Brooklyn club had orders from the National League not to let Maglie go until after Sept. 1 because they were still in the pennant fight and did not want to chance facing him in the Series.

Stengel also denied that the Yanks blew up in the Series, and added that he had his eye on some promising rookies in the Yank chain. Among his chief problems, he added, was finding some insurance for Mickey Mantle and Moose Skowron, both of whom are susceptible to injury.

League Battles Top Prep Action

THREATENS CLAWSON — A big threat to Clawson's hopes of living up to its preseason billing as the Oakland B favorite is Lake Orion, led by speedy halfback Jim Drake. He leads Oakland County in scoring with 55 points in three games and will be looking for some more when the unbeaten rivals clash Friday.

Plan Full Slate This Week if Flu Siege Ends

By CHUCK ABAIR

Important league action steals the prep football spotlight again this week around the local area — that is if the invasion of the flu bug is over. Several games had to be postponed last week when many schools were hit hard by the fast-spreading sickness.

Play is scheduled to start Wednesday with Capac and Memphis meeting in a Southern Thumb debacle and continues through Sunday night when St. Frederick will host Royal Oak St. Mary at Wisner Stadium.

As usual, the biggest part of the schedule is set for Friday night. Such interest-packed tussles as Southfield at Waterford, Clawson at Lake Orion, Hazel Park at Birmingham, Romeo at Lapeer, Ortonville at Oxford and Clarkston at Holly are set for that evening.

Crucial Saturday games will have Almont and Armada battling for the Thumb lead and Cranbrook going after its 2nd Inter-State loop win at home against Western Reserve.

Friday's game will be a "must" for Waterford. The Skippers made their best showing yet in whipping Berkley last week and could stay in contention for Inter-Lake honors by repeating against unbeaten Southfield. Farmington, also unbeaten, plays Berkley and Walled Lake, smarting from two straight beatings as defending champ, hopes to get its 1st win against Van Dyke in other loop play.

Something will have to give at Orion with both schools unbeaten in all games. An outstanding scoring duel is anticipated with the Oakland B rivals sporting some of the best backs in this sector. Avondale is at Fitzgerald and strong Troy hosts Madison elsewhere in the league.

Hazel Park will be seeking its 2nd Eastern Michigan victory and 4th in succession this season. Underdog Birmingham 1-1 in the loop and 2-2 overall. East Detroit goes to Port Huron for its 1st league test and Ferndale is host to Mt. Clemens.

The opener of the new Tri-County League between Romeo and Lapeer will match its expected powers. Brown City is at New Haven in the only Friday Thumb game. Imlay City, upset by Ortonville last week, plays at North Branch in the lone South Central contest.

Well-rested Bloomfield Hills tests Northville, new league threat West Bloomfield is at home against Brighton and Milford goes to Clarenceville to round out the loop slate in the Wayne-Oakland.

Four County Teams Perfect

With the 1957 grid campaign now four weeks old, only four county squads carry undefeated-untied slates.

The elite schools are Hazel Park, Lake Orion, Clawson and Troy. Troy has a 4-0 record while the others have three wins apiece.

Orion, Clawson and Troy represent the Oakland B League and since they meet each other before the schedule closes, at least two of them will pick up a scar. One will fall this Friday when Orion and Clawson collide at Lake Orion.

Two county teams are unbeaten, but have ties to mar the slate. Southfield owns three victories and a tie while Holly has two wins and two deadlocks.

Last week's Oakland casualties were Milford, which bowed to Holly, 21-6, and Ferndale St. James, trounced by Orchard Lake St. Mary, 31-6.

There are eight area teams with spotless marks. Included are Romeo, Warren, South Lake, Detroit St. Rita and Highland Park St. Benedict, each with three wins, and Almont, Armada and Brown City, all with four triumphs.

Vikings Defend Harrier Crown

Defending champion Walled Lake is all primed and set for the defense of its Inter-Lakes Conference cross-country title. Vikings won the bauble last year in a hot contest at Hickory Hills Golf Club, where Thursday's league event will be run off.

All six conference schools will be represented, with the probable biggest battle arising between the champs and Farmington. However, Berkley, led by state cross-country individual champion Jerry Young, and Waterford's coming squad, could upset the apple-cart.

Van Dyke (Lincoln) and Southfield also have teams. Field is limited to seven runners from each school.

Walled Lake reserves will also defend a title won last year, in the league reserve meet, following the varsity test which begins at 4:15 p.m.

Gophers Test Cripples, Eye Illini

CHICAGO (AP) — Midwest football briefs:

Wisconsin — not taking any chances, coach Milt Bruhn sent his undefeated Badgers through an unusually heavy drill yesterday. Emphasis was placed against Iowa plays. Guard Bill Gehler and end Dave Kocourek may miss the Iowa game because of injuries.

Iowa—Coach Forest Evashevski showed concern over Iowa's three fumbles and four pass interceptions in the 47-7 victory over Indiana. Fullback John Nocera has a bruised hip and is a doubtful starter against Wisconsin.

Minnesota—The Gophers tested their cripples in hopes of getting them to take the field against Illinois. Halfback Bob Schultz, end Perry Gehring and halfback Dave Lindblom participated in the drill. All three missed the Northwestern game.

Illinois—Halfbacks Dale Smith and Bob Mitchell were demoted by coach Ray Eliot to the 2nd team. Taking over the 1st team assignments were Don Brothe and sophomore Doug Wallace. Also boosted to the 1st team was tackle Don Yeazel.

Ohio State—Coach Woody Hayes announced that senior Don Sutherin has earned a starting berth at right halfback replacing Dick Lebeau. The Buckeyes meet Indiana Saturday.

Indiana—It's back to fundamentals for Indiana's Hoosiers after three straight losses. Coach Bob Hicks put the team through an intense drill and said "We're just not blocking and tackling."

Purdue—Starting right tackle Frank Hoffman is lost for the season. He underwent surgery for an injured knee suffered in the Wisconsin game. The Boilermakers worked on their passing attack.

Notre Dame—The Irish were given two days respite from practice following their 23-21 victory over Army. Notre Dame has an open date Saturday and meets Pittsburgh the following week.

★ ★ ★

Marquette—Halfback Jim Webster migh be able to play against Cincinnati this week. Webster, sidelined since the 1st game of the season with a bad ankle, will work out but avoid contact.

Lehigh Pair Named to All-East Squad

NEW YORK (AP)—Lehigh's quarterback Dan Nolan and end Joe Wenzel have been named to this week's All-East team of the Eastern College Athletic Conference for their spectacular feats in the Engineers' 20-7 victory over Gettysburg Saturday.

It's a rare occasion when two players from the same team are picked for the squad but Nolan and Wenzel earned the nod on the team announced today.

A Bowl of Soup for Mrs. Jones!

Of course, not everybody is going to observe Sweetest Day by taking a bowl of hot soup to a neighbor who's confined to the house or alone and ill—but it's typical of the sort of thoughtfulness we mean when we speak of the spirit of Sweetest Day.

Your particular way of observing Sweetest Day may be a long postponed letter to a friend or relative, a visit that you "just couldn't get around to," or an unexpected gift—in fact, any special act of thoughtfulness is an appropriate Sweetest Day gesture.

Go out of your way to make someone else happy and Sweetest Day will be a day of happiness for you too.

Union Votes to Drop Low Earner's Dues

NEW YORK (AP)—Local 3 of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, has voted to exempt members earning less than $1.25 an hour from paying dues.

The action was seen as part of an effort by the union, in cooperation with other AFL-CIO units, to end exploitation of Puerto Rican workers in this city by racket locals and sweatshop employers.

The dues exemption is intended to protect the workers until the union can take action to raise their pay to $1.25 an hour.

The decision means a saving of $2.50 a month for 1,000 to 1,200 of the members. Most workers affected are Puerto Ricans.

The exempted workers will continue to receive all union benefits, including life insurance policies of $500 to $1,500 each, full representation in grievance and wage negotiations and participation in employer-financed welfare programs.

Dwellings Condemned

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Nearly 130 Grand Rapids dwellings have been condemned as unfit for human habitation since 1952, according to a report by city-county health officials on enforcement of a housing ordinance. Health Engineer Winfred Ettesvold reported 48 dwellings razed, 37 rehabilitated, eight converted to other uses and 16 now in the process of rehabilitation.

Do you know that every four minutes someone is saved from cancer? This year about 150,000 Americans will be saved from cancer, says the American Cancer Society.

Robert White Chosen to Head Inland Press

CHICAGO (AP) — Robert M. White II, co-publisher and general manager of the Mexico (Mo.) Ledger today was elected president of the Inland Daily Press Assn.

Elected to the board of directors at the annual meeting of the organization were Richard H. Amberg, publisher of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat; Raymond E. Dix, manager of the Wooster (Ohio) Record, and Dale Stafford, editor and publisher of the Greenville (Mich.) News.

Grain Futures Ease Lower

Impetus for Monday's general rise — the Turkish-Syrian situation — was absent after the Turks' unruffled acceptance of Egyptian troops in Syria. Today's market reaction was general facing up to continuing bearish factors.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ⅝ to 1⅛ lower, December $2.20½; corn ⅛ lower to ¼ higher, December $1.20¼; oats ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, December 68⅛; rye ½ to ¾ lower, December $1.29½; soybeans ⅜ to ¾ lower, November $2.31¼; and lard 7 to 15 cents per 100 lbs lower, October $11.60.

Plans to Sell GE Items Below Fair-Trade Price

NEW YORK (INS) — Plans to advertise General Electric appliances at below "fair trade" laws were announced today by Masters, Inc.

President Stephen Masters, commenting on the court ruling, said "fair trade laws—unfair to all—are for all practical purposes meaningless and dead."

Golf Champ Promoted

COLLEGE POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Golf champion Gene Sarazen has been named director of sales for the Belock Instrument Corp. He formerly headed the company's customer relations staff.

NO CAP FOR CAROL?

What do little girls dream of? Take Carol—she always dreams of being a nurse in a big hospital some day. But her chances are pretty slim.

Carol lives in a community where there's a serious shortage of classrooms, teachers and good schoolbooks. That means less schooling for Carol than she needs.

Let's see that this doesn't happen in our schools. You can help by supporting our School Board, by attending PTA meetings and school conferences.

Aircrafts Gain in Early Trades

NEW YORK (AP) — Aircrafts continued to advance in active dealings early today as the stock market moved ahead generally.

Steels, oils and motors also showed plus signs.

United Aircraft rose 1⅞ at 56½ on an opening block of 1,300 shares but trimmed this gain to a bit more than a point in later trades.

Other openers included: North American Aviation, up ⅛ at 27 on 7,000 shares; Boeing up ¼ at 35 on 5,000; Douglas Aircraft up ⅝ at 61¼ on 1,200; Lockheed up ⅝ at 33 on 2,500; and General Dynamics up ⅛ at 53⅛ on 2,000.

Martin Co., which has enjoyed a rise as the prime contractor for America's earth satellite, was down on profit-taking. It dropped ⅝ at 35⅝ on 2,500 shares.

Youngstown Sheet rose a point while U. S. Steel and Bethlehem added major fractions. Both General Motors and Chrysler were fractionally higher at the start but Chrysler boosted its gain to a point.

Gulf Oil advanced around 2. Royal Dutch and Texas Co. made smaller gains. Ford and Chesapeake & Ohio were off slightly.

Valiant Division Ends Existence

U.S. 24th Infantry Now Designated 1st Cavalry; Colors Furled in Korea

WESTERN FRONT, Korea (AP)—The valiant U. S. 24th Infantry Division, first American unit to engage the Communists in Korea, passed into history quietly today.

The 16-year-old division was redesignated the 1st Cavalry Division at a simple ceremony in the fog within a few miles of the armistice zone separating Allied and Communist troops.

Some 1,200 soldiers and a few hundred Koreans watched, and a band played "Auld Lang Syne," as the division colors were furled and cased to be sent to Washington. Then the famed black and yellow horse patch of the 1st Cavalry returned to Korea.

Led by Maj. Gen. William F. Dean, the 24th landed in South Korea within one month of the June 1950 Red invasion and engaged in a costly delaying action that slowed the onrush of Communist forces until help arrived.

The division in 1952 was withdrawn to Japan. It returned to Korea in 1353 to guard Communist prisoners of war and handle the prisoner exchange. Since 1954, the 24th has been on guard across the demilitarized zone.

Organized in Hawaii, the 24th fought in New Guinea and the Philippines during World War II and was assigned to the occupation of Japan before going to Korea in 1950.

An Army spokesman said the 1st Cavalry—"Cavalry' in name only—will start at once reorganizing into an atomic-age Pentomic unit, as is being done by the only other U. S. division in Korea, the 7th Infantry.

The 1st Cavalry was activated at Ft. Bliss, Tex., in 1921 and is composed of units whose histories extend back as far as 1755. It also fought in the Pacific and Korean wars.

Troy Police Get Buffalo Troubles on Radio in Fog

Police Chief David Grattop said this morning that foggy conditions such as we have had the past two mornings quite frequently bring this out.

Today's "specials" he said, are broadcasts from the Buffalo, N. Y. Police Department. Troy officers have learned that Buffalo has "one car out of order and trouble in the bullpen."

Somewhere in the construction of the bullpen, a rivet or bolt has loosened. Grattop said the New York officers have been searching for sometime to get a welder into police headquarters to make repairs.

"It's very interesting," Grattop said, "but confusing."

Puzzler Faces California Court

LOS ANGELES (AP)—How can a gay, intelligent, wealthy woman with a wide circle of friends and a busy social schedule drop from sight and never be seen or heard from again?

The answer to that puzzler is being explored in a courtroom where J. Ewing Scott is on trial, charged with murdering his long-missing wife Evelyn. Preliminaries disposed of, the trial goes into full swing today.

The defense contends there is no basis for prosecution since the state has not proved Mrs. Scott is dead.

The defense was overruled on this objection by Superior Judge Clement Nye.

Mrs. Scott disappeared from her $75,000 West Los Angeles home May 16, 1955. Scott, asked for an explanation nearly a year later when her disappearance became known to police, said she vanished after sending him out to buy her a can of tooth powder.

In his opening argument to the jury, prosecutor J. Miller Leavy said he intends to prove that within a few days of Mrs. Scott's disappearance Scott began a series of financial maneuvers designed to give him control of her estate, estimated as high as $600,000.

UAW Offers to End Kohler Strike

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers Union has offered to end its bitter 3½-year strike against the Kohler Co. But the union says the Wisconsin plumbingware firm in return must accept the findings of a National Labor Relations Board examiner as a basis for settlement.

Acceptance by the company of the examiner's recommendations, said UAW President Walter Reuther in a telegram to Kohler President Herbert V. Kohler yesterday, would open the way for new union-management meetings which Reuther proposed be called within "the next several days."

"If the company is prepared fully to implement the recommendations of the trial examiner," Reuther said, "then the union is prepared to bring about a prompt termination of both the strike and the legal primary boycott which it has been conducting against the Kohler Company."

The company said it had no immediate comment.

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — William Wyatt, 25, of Dallas will try again tomorrow or Thursday to fly a light plane nonstop from Galveston to Rome.

The Former Marine pilot was scheduled to leave at dawn today, but he said weather forced him to postpone the flight.

Wyatt said he would follow the same route he took when he was forced by head winds and icing to abandon a previous attempt Oct. 4.

He will fly a Mooney Mark 20, a small single-engine monoplane, which he took as far as Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, after running six hours behind schedule.

He said he believed he could make the 5,500-odd miles in 36 to 40 hours. The light plane record of 4,957 miles was set in 1949 by William Odom, who flew from Honolulu to Teterboro, N.J.

Waterford Board Postpones Action on Two Major Issues

36 SPAR—WATERFORD BOARD

Two major problems confronted the Waterford Township Board when it met last night. Both were tabled for further investigation.

Approximately 30 property owners protested the rezoning of a five acre plot on Scott Lake and Watkins Lake roads from residential to commercial.

APPROVED CHANGE

The Waterford Township Zoning Board and the Oakland County Planning Commission had approved the change. Final approval is up to the township board.

The owner of the land, Louis Scarlote, 1325 Scott Lake Rd., told the group that the season for the proposed zoning change is so that a medical clinic may be built on the property.

He added that two Detroit doctors had approached him on the matter but the land would have to be zoned commercial before the sale could be negotiated.

POSTPONES ISSUE

On the advice of township attorney Paul Mandell the board postponed the issue indefinitely in an effort to work out a solution to the problem.

Board members were also faced with the problem of establishing a policy for central water systems in new township land developments.

Representatives of the Balmoral subdivision, Dr. J. E. Gordon and George Agree, told board members that they wanted approval of only 31 lots of their original 102-lot development.

The plat is located on Hatchery near Crescent Lake road.

The two men also told the board that it was economically impossible to install a central water system for so few homes. It would cost an estimated $50,000 for the system and their three-bedroom homes in the $12,000 bracket would not warrant the added cost of the water.

After a lengthy discussion it was decided that the builder and township attorney get together on a written agreement regarding the remaining 70 lots to be developed.

Legally the township has no authority to compel land developers to adhere to the central water system policy. However, the community is growing so rapidly that every precaution must be taken for the future welfare of township residents, Supervisor Elmer Johnson said.

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division:

To William Retell, father of said child.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the father of the said minor child is unknown and said child has violated a law of the State and that said child should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Court House in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 22nd day of October, A.D., 1957, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

It being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in The Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Witness, the Hoporable Arthur E. Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 11th day of October, A.D., 1957.

Find Drug to Relieve High Blood Pressure

BOSTON (AP) — Discovery of a new drug for the relief of high blood pressure has been announced by two doctors at Massachusetts Memorial Hospital.

★ ★ ★

The discoverers, Dr. Robert W. Wilkins, 50, and Dr. William Hollander, 32, said last night the drug —called chlorothiazide—may add up to 20 years to the life expectancy of some 20 million Americans who suffer from high blood pressure.

★ ★ ★

They said they tried the drug over a period of months on 51 patients with "amazing, startling and exciting" results.

Learn Boy's 'Sputnik' Only Shell Fragment

DETROIT (AP) — The police laboratory has reassured 5-year-old Dennis DeYoung that it wasn't Sputnik he found behind his home.

Dennis came across a strange metal object and dragged it into the house to show his father Morris. The father called police.

To Tow Doomed Ship

LUDINGTON (AP) — Carferry No. 18, sold by the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Co., to Steel Company of Canada, will be towed from its Ludington berth to Hamilton, Ont., for scrapping by the Canadian firm.

3 New York Firms Order Price Increases

NEW YORK (AP)—Higher prices are in the offing for bread boxes, food canisters, bedsheets and telephone service.

National Can Corp. today ordered across-the-board increases amounting to six per cent on its full line of housewares effective Nov. 15.

Springs Mills Inc. has followed three other major manufacturers in boosting prices five per cent on fitted bedsheets.

And the New York Telephone Co. has put into effect a rate increase that will cost telephone subscribers in New York state 33 million dollars a year.

Flood Control Tonight's Topic

Commission to Study Recommendations by Engineers on Drainage

The City Commission will hear an engineering firm's recommendations for attacking the basement flooding problem tonight.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he will present to the commission the long-awaited report on Pontiac's drainage system by a Toledo firm, Jones and Henry Engineering Co.

The report will give results of a year-long study, designed "to show us how to perfect our present drainage system outlet of the Clinton River and also how to plan all future drainage projects," Willman stated.

ing Pontiac Creek, which flows into the Clinton, will be included in the report, Willman said.

The study hits the problem of how the Clinton's capacity to remove storm waters can be increased to lessen the possibility that basements will be flooded.

Commissioners also have nine items of the public improvement program on their agenda tonight.

Willman said he will ask for some additional funds to make further equipment purchases for the new Public Safety Building.

31 in County See Right to Drive Suspended

Those whose licenses were suspended for habitual negligence were:

Robert T. Carrico, 73 S. Tasmania
Gordon P. Deneau, Birmingham
Sam Dunn, 169 Luther
Edward E. English, 680 E. Columbia
Robert S. Erdman, Birmingham
Clayton D. Fenner, Birmingham
William A. Garling, 562 Bloomfield

Ray A. Riese, Farmington
Clifton W. Scott, Birmingham
Jesse R. Standridge, 428 Lowell
Howard A. Stites, 1368 Stanley
Marion F. Weidemann, Clarkston

David G. Barton, 6460 Williams Lake
James H. Bowen, 1049 Durant
Raymond A. Brittian, 1200 Crestview
Edmond Jackman, Farmington
Rae William Partin, South Lyon
Timofie Shunko, 1551 Purse
James W. Simmons, Drayton Plains
Ralph E. Woodberry, Birmingham
Walter Wyatt, Franklin

William Hunt, Farmington, had his license suspended for being unable to pass tests. Billy Ledford, Novi, had his license suspended for driving while his license was suspended and Aubrey Posey had his suspended for negligent operation.

Waterford Board to Meet Residents

The Waterford Township Board plans an informal meeting with residents living in the Exmoore street area at 8 p.m. tonight, at te township hall. Members set the date at last night's regular board meeting.

Purpose of the meeting is to discuss the drainage problem existing in a hollow spot south on Exmoore street to Motorway drive in the Elizabeth Lake subdivision.

★ ★ ★

The possibility of installing a 12-inch drain easement through private property to Lanette St. where an existing catch basin will drain off the stagnant water will be discussed.

Killing of Detroit Boy - by Police Is Upheld

DETROIT (AP) — The Wayne County prosecutor's office has found a Detroit policeman was "justified" in fatally shooting a 15-year-old boy who had rammed a patrol car with a stolen truck and then fled ignoring warning shots.

The youth, Virgil Miller, was killed by Patrolman Sidney Oram two weeks ago.

Michigan Man Killed in Accident on Railroad

OTTAWA, Kan. (AP)—Wellby Erskine Jr., 27, Freeland, Mich., member of a Santa Fe railroad signal gang, was injured fatally when hit by a train five miles west of Ottawa yesterday.

S. C. Christersen, Ottawa agent, said Erskine was walking along the tracks and was hit by the side ladder of a diesel engine. He died several hours later in the Ottawa hospital.

PERRY VS. PERRY — Raymond Burr, portraying lawyer-sleuth Perry Mason, is CBS-TV's latest challenge to NBC's top-rated Perry Como Show. Aiding Burr in the mystery series is Barbara Hale, who plays secretary Della Street. The show is telecast Saturdays from 6:30 to 7:30 p. m.

Raymond Burr Likes Challenge

Enjoys Video Role as Erle Stanley Gardner's Noted Fictional Sleuth

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Raymond Burr has emerged on the TV screen as fiction's famous lawyer-sleuth, Perry Mason.

The Saturday show from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. tosses him into one of the season's top rating tussles, for the drama's second half hour overlaps the established domain of that other Perry, the crooning Como.

Burr's blue eyes glint at the prospect—he thrives on challenge, but he likes the soft approach.

"I'm not an extrovert," he says. "I'm not a particularly dominant character. But in certain areas I have great confidence in what I can do. It's not ego — it's confidence."

"I made two tests for the series," he explains, "one for the part of the district attorney and one for Mason — which was the role I really wanted.

HE WAS DEFINITE

"When I finished, they decided it would be difficult to find someone else to dominate as Mason if I was the DA. Let's say I was 'definite.'"

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Thirty-nine films are being shot. Work began in April and the first 17 are now safely stored. But by the time the series winds up in May, film-making will only be nine days ahead of telecasting.

GOODNIGHT FIRST

★ ★ ★

During shooting, he arises about 3:30 a. m., works through until about 11 p. m.

Eleanor Recalls Battle of Wits With Khrushchev

In a brief stopover in Chicago yesterday, the former first lady said Khrushchev asked her about the racial strife. Mrs. Roosevelt said she replied:

"I was not in (the U. S.) when it happened and I am in no position to judge." Then she added:

"It's strange that the Little Rock situation is the only news being reported out of the United States. There must be some good things happening there, too. Arkansas is only one state and there are 48 states in the union."

★ ★ ★

The widow of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt was asked about the emancipation of Russian women. She replied:

"They have complete liberty to work very hard."

Menon, Stassen, Gromyko Confer

Indian Head Seeks Aid to Arrange Suspension of Nuclear Arms Tests

Trying to sell his own plan for suspension of nuclear arms tests, Menon invited Harold E. Stassen, the U.S. disarmament negotiator, and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko to dinner tonight.

The veteran Indian diplomat, who has tried to mediate a number of East-West disputes in the U.N., talked yesterday with U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kuznetsov.

Informed sources said Menon was anxious to find out how much support he has before he goes before the U.N. Political Committee tomorrow to outline his disarmament plan.

India proposes to set up teams of advisers composed equally of East, West and neutral nations to make recommendations on arms questions to the 12-nation disarmament commission. Menon already has put in twin resolutions on suspension of nuclear tests and general disarmament questions.

The Indian plan is based on the premise that a group with equal representation would get better results than the disarmament commission, on which the Western nations predominate.

So far the plan has received a cool reception from Western diplomats.

By EARL WILSON

WILSON

I went over to Jack Silverman's to inspect the reasons for his courage. He's resorting to the jokes of the ubiquitous comedians, Joey Adams and Al Kelly, plus the quiet wonderful tap dancing of Lou Wills Jr. and a big floor show.

"This place depends on heavy food and weak liquor," Joey said right off. When Lou Wills Jr. stopped the show, Joey said: "I suppose you want more money?"

"How you you account for your stupidity?" he asked double-talker Kelly, who answered, "I have a bookkeeper."

They sounded real funny in the club, honest they did, and we figured this club ought to keep several shooting galleries and papaya stands off Broadway for many years.

In "The Egghead," Karl Malden, playing a professor, resigns explaining, "I'm an idiot and idiots have no right to teach." The Prexy declines the resignation saying: "We have several idiots on the faculty and we are functioning very well."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Doris Day wants to play "Daisy Mae" in the "Li'l Abner" film . . . NBC wants to team Nat (King) Cole and Eartha Kitt in a TV spectacular . . . Curvy Diane Brewster decorates "Maverick."

Joanne Dru's teenage escort is her 16-year-old son . . . Frank Sinatra, booked solid through '59, wants the TV rights to Bill Mauldin's "Willie and Joe" GI characters . . . Jean Pierre Aumont and his wife, Marisa Pavan, make their first film together this winter.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Henny Youngman's certain there's no life on that satellite moon: "Otherwise my wife would have phoned them." That's earl, brother.

Uses Sleep-Inducing Powers to Put Children in Trance for Surgery

LOS ANGELES (AP) Ever fall asleep in front of a television set? Well, a New York doctor says he uses a variation of television's sleep-inducing powers to prepare children for surgery.

And it works so well that an operation can actually be fun for youngsters, especially in the 9 to 14 age group, Dr. Albert M. Betcher on New York's Albert Einstein Medical College told newsmen yesterday. He said the procedure works like this:

The day before the operation, Dr. Betcher meets with the patient and encourages the youngster to talk freely. The next day he puts the child into a semihypnotic trance by asking that he watch a point on the wall for a pencil and describe a favorite television program.

One youngster, a sports fan, replayed a baseball game between the Dodgers and the New York Giants, reciting each pitch and play.

"I call this hallucinatory imagery," said Dr. Betcher. He said he has used this method on more than 500 children in the past year.

When the child is completely involved in this dream world, Dr. suggestions — soothes the patient's anxieties about the operation and promises no pain will be felt.

"As the gases from a mask suspended above the patient's head begin to flow down by gravity, some youngster may say 'I don't like the smell,'" Dr. Betcher said.

★ ★ ★

The procedure results in the need for less anesthetic, Dr. Betcher said, and posthypnotic suggestions that the child will feel no pain often eliminated the need for sedatives after the operation.

Mickey Rooney's Son Recovers From Polio

Timmy Rooney, who lives with the actor's ex-wife, Mrs. Betty Jane Baker, was stricken Sept. 27.

The boy's physician, Dr. Malcolm Downs, said no permanent paralysis is expected and young Timmy should make a complete recovery.

Fighting Units Arrive in Syria

Egypt Boasts Troops Equipped With Heavy Tanks, Armored Cars

CAIRO (AP)—An Egyptian military spokesman said today Egyptian forces which landed in Syria included units of infantry and artillery equipped with armored cars and heavy tanks.

The spokesman told the newspaper Al Akhbar the forces were not "symbolic" but a "striking force from the Egyptian army ready for large-scale military operations."

The spokesman did not disclose the size of the force, which Washington and London officials have estimated at from 1,000 to 1,600 men. One Turkish source said about 5,000 Egyptians may have been involved in the movement.

The Egyptian spokesman claimed dispatch of the troops to Syria was not a show of force nor a war of nerves directed against any country. He said the Egyptians would participate in any military operation undertaken by the Syrian army and would train Syrian forces in the use of new weapons.

Another Politico Waxes Poetic Over Sputnik

Today, George M. Van Peursem, speaker of the State House of Representatives, responded:

"Oh little Sputnik in the sky,
You have made your mark, I see,
When the governor of Michigan
Writes poetry to thee.
"As you whirl through the blue
Don't feel lost or cold.
On Soapy Williams' politics

Radioactive Iodine Hits English Farms

LONDON (AP) — A 200-square-mile area between England's lake district and the Irish Sea was a danger zone today from which milk could not be shipped because of radioactivity.

★ ★ ★

The Atomic Energy Authority said the escape of radioactive iodine had "not fallen off as rapidly as was anticipated" after uranium cartridges at the Windscale atomic station overheated Friday. Radioactive iodine spilled out of the plant chimney and fell on grazing land.

★ ★ ★

50 Killed in Canada

TORONTO (AP) — Fifty persons died in automobile wrecks and 13 were killed in other accidents during Canada's Thanksgiving weekend.

Claims Scientists 'Hounded' by U.S.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Yarborough (D-Tex) says so many scientists have been ridiculed and hounded out of government service the United States is hampered in the race for mastery of outer space.

★ ★ ★

"Russia gives such men privileges, honors them in addition to rewarding them with high pay," the senator told a bar association meeting. "In America we must learn at least to recognize the dignity of the work and positions of such men."

★ ★ ★

Cuban Press Asks End of Censorship

HAVANA (AP)—Cuban newspapers and magazines have appealed to President Fulgencio Batista to lift a tight censorship of the press but there's no indication that he is going to do anything about it soon.

He recently told representatives of the Inter-American Press Assn. that censorship was necessary because of the unstable internal security situation. He said he would lift it whenever that appeared to be in the national interest.

Censorship of press and radio was applied under the suspension of constitutional guarantees, effective until Oct. 30. The suspension may then be removed, or extended for another 45 days.

The Cuban press bloc has urged that the press again be permitted full freedom of expression and the right to inform all Cubans on all social, political, economic and other news developments.

Battle of Batter in Baking Race

The 97 women, two teen-age boys and the painter hope their baked specialties rise to the occasion, which is the ninth annual "Bake-off" sponsored by Pillsbury flour company.

The contestants arrived from 36 states, Hawaii and West Germany for the competition, which began yesterday. They are competing in three categories — juniors, brides and seniors. First prize is $25,000.

"I mean to give those women stiff competition," said the painter, Kenneth Stevens, as he slaved over a hot burner. Stevens, of Cambria, Calif., battled 69 women in the senior division.

Two Japanese Posts Spot Russian Moon

TOKYO (AP) — Two Japanese observation posts today reported sighting the Soviet earth satellite, its rocket and the detached rocket nose cap.

The Tokyo Astronomical Observatory announced that the three objects were about four minutes apart in the same orbit — the rocket first, then the cap and the baby moon last.
