Johnson Victorious in Rail Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP) — A give-and-take agreement has ended the threat of a nationwide railroad strike, with President Johnson a victor in the toughest domestic test of his administration.

A few hours after the agreement was reached, two dissident union officials threatened to strike part of the New York Central Railroad.

But sources involved in the negotiations in Washington discounted the possibility that the threat would be carried out.

Johnson, obviously elated, went before television cameras last night to announce settlement of the long, highly complex dispute a little more than 48 hours before a scheduled strike threatened to tie the nation's economy in knots.

The agreement in effect gave union members financial gains in exchange for letting the railroads reduce employment.

Just how many jobs will be affected or how much money the railroads may save won't be known for some time after the general agreement is translated into contract language.

PREVIOUS RULING

The new agreement has no effect on a previous arbitration ruling permitting the railroads to eliminate 30,000 firemen's jobs and review on a local basis the number of other train crew members.

The arbitration ruling last year is now being appealed by the unions before the Supreme Court.

The railroads have agreed not to start eliminating firemen or seek review of train crew size until after the high court rules.

Johnson Asks Policy Talks With Hopefuls

Intelligence Briefings Will Be Offered to 7 Republican Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today he would like to confer personally with presidential aspirants so they could chart a positive course for discussing foreign policy problems.

Johnson, at a news conference in the sunlit rose garden outside his office, announced that foreign policy intelligence briefings would be offered to seven presidential aspirants — including Democratic Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama. He said Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to South Vietnam, and a potential GOP nominee, already has the information.

In addition to Wallace, the briefings will be offered to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Sen. Barry Goldwater, Harold E. Stassen, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith. All are potential Republican nominees.

On other points, Johnson declared:

—He saw a very few civil rights demonstrators Wednesday at the opening of the New York World's Fair whom he considered rude.

—“I pity them,” he said. “They served no good purpose.” He said the civil rights march “won’t be stopped either by fanaticism or ruthlessness.”

—The President will tour areas of heavy unemployment and poverty in Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and Pennsylvania tomorrow.

—Additional defense savings of $68 million a year were announced.

INSTALLATIONS AFFECTED
Johnson said the installations affected by the economies and specific actions to be taken would be announced later by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Johnson raised the prospect of spending more money to pursue the anti-Communist war in South Vietnam. And he said he hoped “we’ll see some other flags in there” as a result of discussions at the recent conference of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization.

In any case, City Attorney William A. Ewart said that Wellbaum will be sworn in at the organizational meeting of the new commission Monday night.

Asked if the recount would create problems and confusion about who, legally, is District 7 commissioner, the city attorney said:

“The only legal record the city has to go by is the certified canvass of votes.

“That makes Mr. Wellbaum the District 7 commissioner, and that he will be until such time as a recount changes the official results.”

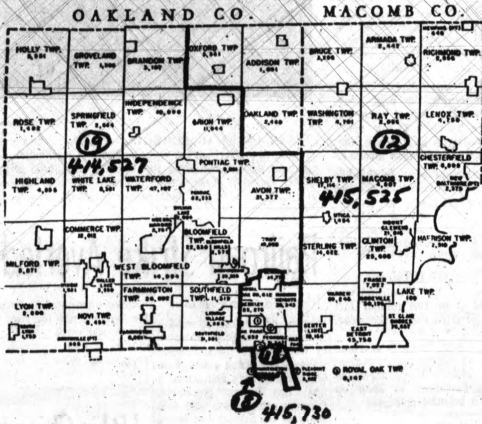

Landry said he “wants to look at every write-in vote” to see for himself what variations in the spelling of Wellbaum’s name were accepted as valid votes.

“VOTERS PROMPTED”

The outgoing mayor said he had witnesses who would testify that election workers “were prompting voters and telling them how to cast write-ins without being requested to do so.”

Landry pointed out that “state law permits this only if it is requested by the voter.

“I estimate that at 60 to 70 per cent of the city’s precincts they told people how to vote write-ins before voters had even

SPLIT THREE WAYS — Oakland County would be divided among three congressional districts under the districting bill passed yesterday by the State Senate. The county’s southeastern cities would be joined by Highland Park and a part of Detroit in an 18th District that probably would elect a Democrat. Three northeastern townships would go with Macomb County in a Democratic 12th District. The rest of Oakland would form a 19th likely to elect a Republican.

Man’s ‘Lie-In’ Halts Subway

NEW YORK (AP)—One man halted a World’s Fair-bound subway train for several minutes today in an incident similar to that which signaled a series of civil rights demonstrations on opening day.

The transit authority said the man, identified as Louis Klein, Manhattan, walked down the tracks from the 74th Street Station of the Flushing IRT Line. He flagged the train to a stop and then lay on the tracks.

Transit authority policemen, climbed, lay down and resisted police.

More than 300 demonstrators, both Negro and white and some from distant states, were dragged into police vans, hauled off to a wire-fence stockade, and then to court.

Some stayed in jail, unable or unwilling to post bail.

There were a few bloodied heads but no serious injuries. One of the 5,000 city and private policemen on duty said the demonstrators were treated “with kid gloves.”

Opening day attendance was 92,646, about a third of what had been expected. Officials blamed the rain and demonstrations.

FREEDOM CHANT
Chanting “freedom, freedom” demonstrators nearly drowned out one of President Johnson’s two speeches, and they sat down through the national anthem.

They forced temporary closing of the Ford and Schaeffer Beer pavilions.

A much-heralded auto “stall-in” to create a huge traffic jam around the fair site in Queens did not develop. Traffic was only 25 per cent of normal and moved better than usual, said Traffic Commissioner Henry Barnes.

Among those arrested was James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, which planned the demonstrations inside the fairgrounds and also suspended its Brooklyn chapter for planning the “stall-in.”

Death Foreseen in House Unit

By JIM DYGERT

Ten Democrats and 10 anti-Romney Republicans last night passed a Democratic plan for congressional districting in the State Senate, but a House Republican from Oakland County confidently predicted today that the measure would die.

The surprise bipartisan coalition rammed through a proposal drawn up by Democratic Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski while Romney Republicans in the GOP-controlled Senate protested and fought in vain.

With a 20-12 vote, they pried Lesinski’s bill and a state reapportionment plan drawn up by an Upper Peninsula Republican out of the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, of Oakland County, and passed them.

But State Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Hills, said today, “I can assure you the bill will rest in committee.”

Hogan is chairman of the House Apportionment Committee, which was to get the bill today after the House received it from the Senate.

“We Republicans in the House are better organized,” Hogan said. “Some of the senators blew their tops. It was like a panty raid by college students.”

EMBARASS GOVERNOR
Hogan said, “They must have known they weren’t going anywhere with it. They just wanted to embarrass the governor.”

Hogan said, however, that his committee may report out the state legislative reapportionment measure also passed by senate and use it as a “vehicle” to be amended.

“But you won’t recognize it,” he said.

Roberts said today that the 10 outstate conservative Republicans who voted for the bill had been tricked by Democrats who used the bitterness of the conservative GOP lawmakers against Gov. George Romney to get the Republican support.

“I ask one Republican senator to stand up and tell why this deal was cooked up to give the Democrats another Congress,” he said.

THE rest of the county—minus these southeast and northeast corners—would then make up the new 18th District received by the state as the result of population gains reflected in the 1960 census.

DEMOS WIN
Under this plan, which came from the office of Democratic Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski, and according to past voting records, Democrats would win the 18th and the 12th and Republicans the 19th.

Plans proposed by Gov. George Romney and his backers among the Republican legislators would leave the 18th exclusively in southeastern Oakland County, except that it would also include Southfield, Troy, the Birmingham-Bloomfield area and Avon Township.

The 19th, under the GOP plan, would have the rest of the county and part of northern suburban Wayne County.

These plans would presumably leave the 18th safe for the GOP, make the 19th a marginal district and leave the 12th—all of Macomb—to the Democrats.

GEORGE N. HIGGINS

Higgins in Governor Race; Calls Romney GOP Imposter

of being a Republican imposter, George N. Higgins formally announced today his candidacy for the GOP nomination for governor.

The 63-year-old Ferndale Automobile dealer and former state senator actually became the first in the Republican field, Romney has given every indication of seeking reelection, but has not yet announced.

Higgins announced at a Detroit Press Club news conference and said:

“The man who sits in the executive office in Lansing and now calls himself a Republican is an imposter. He used the Republican party to get himself elected to that office and he has abused the Republican party ever since. And if there is any doubt about his being an imposter, let me quote his own words.”

Higgins then read from newspaper articles in which Romney was quoted on three different dates as saying he was not a Republican. The latest was on Jan. 30, 1960.

A self-styled conservative, Higgins has made no secret of his disdain of Romney’s performance as governor. He first dropped a hint he might enter the primary race several weeks ago.

ROMNEY QUOTE
“I want to be governor,” he told newsmen, “because I can get cooperation from both parties and get things done.”

Scholar Says He's Solved Mystery of Bard's Sonnets

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A literary scholar who claims to have solved the greatest mystery of William Shakespeare's sonnets — the identity of "Mr. W. H." to whom they were dedicated — says he even knows where to find a picture of the man.

Several scholars have maintained the sonnets were written to the Earl of Southampton or the Earl of Pembroke, but their evidence generally was considered flimsy.

Dr. Leslie Hotson said in an interview and in a lecture today, the bard's 40th birthday, that he has conclusive proof that "Mr. W. H." was William Hatcliffe of Lincolnshire.

Hotson is a research associate in English at Yale.

ATTEMPTS MISTAKEN

About the sonnets, he said: "My evidence shows that all the previous attempts at identifying the friend are mistaken. No one has ever made any proof which is from evidence in the sonnets themselves. But I go at it right from the sonnets." But who was William Hatcliffe?

"He is previously unknown to scholarship," said Hotson, "but Shakespeare's London knew him."

Hotson said he has evidence that Nicholas Hilliard's "Youth Leaning Against a Tree Among Roses"—famous English miniature—is a portrait of Hatcliffe.

DESCRIBES RESEARCH

Hotson has written a book, "Mr. W. H.," published this week in London, that describes his research.

It reports he concluded from the many references or allusions to a king or sovereign, Shakespeare must have been writing to some royal male, although England then had a queen.

He finally decided the subject had been a Winter Prince from one of the Inns of Court, roughly the equivalent of college of law.

Next, Hotson concluded they dated from the period 1587-89. Hotson came across a book listing the cast of a comedy presented before an Inn of the Court—in 1588. It noted that the play was presented by a Winter Prince—William Hatcliffe.

FOUND HIS MAN

Hotson was convinced he had his man when he found that the Hatcliffe coat of arms contained four-leaved figures known among heraldry experts as true-loves. The theme of the sonnets is true love.

Hotson said he also found some 40 hidden interweaving of variations of Hatcliffe's name in the sonnets.

An incidental finding, he said, is that the play "Love's Labour's Lost" was written in 1588, earlier than is generally believed.

The consumption of man-made fibers by American textile mills last year equaled that of cotton.

Asks Study on Projects

LANING (AP) — Research calling for rocket-firings from the Upper Peninsula and improving the north's conventional iron ores has been asked by Gov. George W. Romney.

Romney Wednesday submitted for legislative approval two more research projects under the direction of the Department of Economic Expansion.

One, administered by the University of Michigan in cooperation with Michigan Tech at Houghton, calls for the spending of $52,850 in state funds to study feasibility of a rocket-firing site on the Keweenaw Peninsula. An additional grant of $66,000 would come from private industry and $112,500 from the federal government.

The other proposal calls for a project at the Houghton university to study ways of improving conventional Michigan iron ores. The state and private industry would contribute $11,500 each and the federal government $22,000.

Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R-An Arbor, introduced enabling legislation to release the money from the state research fund.

No Accommodation Woes for Rail Car 'Hotel' Owners

DETROIT (AP) — A group of Minneapolis men pays $50 a day to park its car when it goes traveling.

But the $50 includes maid service, steam, electricity, water, telephone connections and use of shower facilities.

These services are handy when your car is an 80-foot-long railroad car.

Once the pride of the Soo Line vice president, Car No. 48 now is the traveling hotel of nine Minneapolis men, whose average age is 35 and whose occupations range from plumber to physicist.

 Three of them brought No. 48 into Detroit this week, parked it for $50 at the Grand Trunk station in the downtown area and went off to the American Society of Tool & Manufacturing Engineers exposition.

Vote Age Bill Appears Dead

LANING (UPI)—The House of Representatives appeared ready today to quietly let die a proposed constitutional amendment that would lower Michigan's voting age to 18.

But State Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, a cosponsor of the resolution for extending the franchise to the under-21 age group, isn't ready to quit the fight.

The Senate passed the resolution to put the question on the November ballot last month, 24-7, and it awaits now for further action in the House.

Wednesday Rep. Homer Arnett, R-Kalamazoo, chairman of the House Committee on Constitutional Revision, indicated the action won't be forthcoming. He said the resolution would stay in committee.

Arnett said the main reasons for avoiding the issue on the floor were the press of the legislative calendar — including congressional and state reappointment — and indecision on the part of teen-agers themselves.

NO MORE PROBLEMS
 "My fellow lawmakers have asked me not to give them any more problems this session," Arnett said. "And we also have an election problem with the possibility of voting machines being so jammed they couldn't hold any more."

Arnett said teen-agers who testified at a House hearing on 18-year-old vote Tuesday weren't sure which way they stood.

"Some of them were for it but I think maybe a few more were against it," he said.

Bowman complained the House committee "didn't even give me the courtesy of appearing at a hearing. But I'll work for it and with the right odds I'd bet we get it out of the committee."

Bowman and Sen. William Ford, D-Taylor, were the main boosters when the long-debated question on teen-age voting advanced farther than at any time in Michigan's history last month.

They buy 18 first class tickets to get the railroads to pull them.

At the end of the day, their accommodations were ready—five bedroom compartments which sleep 10 persons; a kitchen, a lounge with tables and easy chairs, a lavatory and an observation platform.

The car is equipped with carpeting and mahogany paneling throughout and, its owners estimate, would cost about $225,000 to build now.

PRICE $3,600
 They bought it for $3,600 after spotting it in a Minneapolis railroad yard last year. No. 48 was built in 1909 and modernized somewhat in 1926.

"We've taken short trips around Minnesota, down to St. Louis and Chicago or up to Duluth," said James E. Moe, president of the Minnetech Laboratories Inc., which makes high precision gauging equipment.

"In August we'll be at the World's Fair in New York."

"There'll be no accommodation problems for us," added Clark E. Johnson, an electrical engineer and physicist.

"This isn't expensive when it's divided nine ways," Moe said.

"In fact, it's cheaper when you figure food, hotel bills, tipping, cabs and fares."

Response to Vaccine Gratifyingly High

Most gratifying was the tremendous reaction of tri-county residents to the polio-immunization program introduced last Sunday.

Nearly a half million Oakland County citizens underwent the first phase of the two-stage preventive measure against one of mankind's worst diseases.

The serum-treated sugar cubes were so systematically dispensed that 80 per cent of the County's population was treated with noteworthy speed and without semblance of confusion or delay that might have been expected in an initiatory project of such magnitude.

It is important for those who availed themselves of the treatment to realize that it is not effective until the second dosage is taken. This will be administered June 14.

We warmly congratulate medical authorities and volunteers for the superb job done in health preservation of the area's citizenry and commend those who so numerously benefitted by it.

Constitution Change Is School Prayer Hope

Banning by the U.S. Supreme Court of state-sanctioned prayers and Bible reading in public schools has hatched a batch of proposed amendments to the Constitution.

To date, 146 Congressmen have introduced bills to liberalize the First Amendment to allow religious observance in the schools. Hearings will be under way soon in the House Judiciary Committee.

According to polls, Americans overwhelmingly oppose the Supreme Court's rulings. It is often asked, therefore, why the wishes of millions of citizens should be nullified by the handful of litigants who have initiated the court actions.

To set the issue in perspective, however, it should be realized that at the time of the court's latest decision, 38 states did not require religious ceremony in their public schools. Many states, in fact, prohibit it.

Of the 12 states requiring religious exercises, eight have so far defied the court's ruling.

If change is made in the Bill of Rights (the First Amendment to the Constitution), the first since its adoption in 1791, it will have effect of eight states being instrumental in imposing permissive religious practices on at least 38 others that have heretofore deemed them unnecessary or even undesirable.

Canada Shipping Czar Finds Self in Drydock

A maritime menace was recently liquidated by the trustees of Canada's Maritime Union.

The deposed boss of the union, Hjal C. Banks, had been brought to Canada from San Francisco in 1949 with the blessing of management, labor and government to clean up the Communist-dominated Canadian Seaman's Union.

In the 12 months prior to his arrival, 66 strikes and work stoppages had stricken Canadian shipping.

But it appears that Banks did his job too well. After a short period of strong-arm tactics, he had crushed the Communist labor stronghold and converted its crews to his own Seafarers International Union.

Thus empowered, the boss and his union plunged into violent disputes with rival unions that have plagued Great Lakes shipping for three years.

The director of a government inquiry into the lawlessness enveloping BANKS and his union characterized him as a four-ply combination of international scoundrels.

Thirteen charges against Banks ranging from murder to child stealing have been dismissed since 1930. Four others stuck. Currently he faces three more court appearances in Montreal.

The action of the Maritime Union trustees in ridding the Great Lakes of a latter-day sea monster, though long overdue, is to be commended. Prospects are now good for resumption of navigational business as usual.

LBJ Outshines GOP Candidates

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON—Watching President Johnson and the Republicans' would-be presidents like watching a bedside lamp trying to compete for attention with an all-night neon sign.

He has been getting bouncier and livelier, talking more and doing more, ever since he moved into the White House, perhaps as his confidence increased. But something which happened recently really seemed to charge his batteries.

While public opinion polls put him away in front of any Republican, last Wednesday visiting newspaper editors decided it was not a question of whether he would win in this election year but only by how much.

He has been outdoing himself ever since: A news conference the next day, a meeting with the editors Friday, a news conference Saturday, handshaking Sunday, a big foreign policy speech Monday, another news conference Tuesday.

Most of the time on these occasions he made announcements that got headlines. The Republicans are whirling around and popping off practically every day.

CRITICISM SOLUTIONS

They criticize him or they offer solutions for the ills here and elsewhere, all the time talking politics, and playing it. His advantage is that he can play politics without mentioning it.

While they sound like a voice in the hills, he gets a big play just by saying something as president, it's only shaking hands with tourists or walking in the White House rose garden.

This lucky political position of a president in an election year has been true of every president, but none ever realized it better than Johnson or sought to make more use of it.

He has been a politician 24 hours daily since he came to Congress in 1937 but never more so than when he repeats he just wants to be president of all the people and indicates he wouldn't think of talking politics until the campaign begins.

President John F. Kennedy stayed busy trying to keep the public reminded of him. But in this Johnson is outdoing Kennedy, who was a master at it.

He can get more attention just dancing, and he loves to dance, than a Republican presidential hopeful like Harold Stassen if he shouted through a bullhorn all day.

Johnson is probably the greatest White House dancer since Theodore Roosevelt, if Roosevelt danced. If not Roosevelt, then it would have to be someone back in the 19th century.

Although, come to think of it, if Calvin Coolidge danced, that would have been an exciting spectacle.

A good example of how Johnson keeps himself in the news is to check the front pages of newspapers for the past two weeks. There was hardly a day when he didn't do or say something to put him there.

He got a lot of mileage out of the threatened rail strike alone: calling labor and management together, getting the strike pushed off, getting agreement on another 15 days of negotiations, making helpful statements about the outcome.

David Lawrence Asks:

How Far Can Bias Protests Go?

WASHINGTON — What's the difference between a "stall-in" and a "sit-in"?

Did the New York police violate "the law of the land"—as proclaimed by the Supreme Court of the United States—when demonstrators were arrested in and around the New York World's Fair?

These questions reflect the confusion that exists in the United States today as to what are the true limits of "street demonstrations" and just how far the exercise of the right of petition may go before it becomes a vehicle of violence.

But no matter whether one approves or disapproves of these demonstrations, the point has been drummed into the ears of many Americans that what the Supreme Court says is the law of the land.

Small wonder that the civil rights demonstrators decided on a "stall-in" as a mere supplement to the rights granted them in court cases in connection with "sit-ins" and "marches."

The Supreme Court, for instance, on May 20, 1963, reversed the conviction of three Negroes and one white student who had been arrested for trespass when they refused to leave a lunch counter of a store in New Orleans.

PROTESTS ENCOURAGED

Demonstrators thus have been encouraged to block entrances and collect crowds that disrupt traffic—if only to gain notoriety or publicity for their cause.

The right of any citizen to drive his automobile and stall it on a public highway is regarded by some Negro leaders as comparable to the court-approved right of "sit-in" demonstrators to block entrances to buildings.

Two of the demonstrators at the New York fair yesterday—James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, and Bayard Rustin, who was deputy director of the march on Washington last August—engaged in a "sit-in" at the entrance to the New York City pavilion, and were arrested.

They arrived at the fair with many followers, and one of the leaders said: "I came here to court arrest."

SUPPORT BY COURT

Now, ordinarily individuals would not take these chances, but they have been supported by recent Supreme Court decisions and by the voices of approval which have been raised in many quarters to the idea of demonstrations.

Thus, for example, in the march on Washington there was a disruption of traffic and a heavy financial loss to merchants in the city of Washington and to the city government, but the "march" nevertheless was applauded not only by much of the press but in speeches in Congress and elsewhere.

Many workers were afraid to go to the center of the city and a good many citizens refrained from going to their jobs, preferring to take no chances on entering the downtown area.

The danger of any demonstration involving hundreds of persons is one that poses a bewildering legal problem for the police.

Shall they deal with a threatened demonstration and get a court order as a preventive, or must they wait until law and order have actually been disrupted and somebody has been hurt?

The Supreme Court, for the time being at least, has decided things must reach the point of violence before the police can intervene.

Russia Fears China Plan to Compete in W. Europe

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Moscow displays fear that Red China has a long-range plan to smash out of its isolation and throw its weight around in Western Europe in competition with both the United States and the Soviet Union.

SUB FOR CONSIDINE

The plan might seem far-fetched now, but evidently the

EVEN BRITAIN

So the Soviet Communists are accusing the Chinese of developing the notion that governmental leaders of France, West Germany, Japan and possibly even Britain should be looked upon by Communists as potential allies against the United States. Perhaps, by implication, this means allies against Khrushchev's supporters, whom Peking calls renegades from communism.

News Analysis

Soviet Communist party is taking an extremely dim view of it, apparently nursing lively suspicions that the Chinese are up to no good.

The Soviets describe the Chinese plan as "the intermediate zone theory." The Soviet Communist party's top theoretical, Komintern, denounces the entire thing as a serious danger to the world Communist movement.

The way the Soviets see it, the Chinese have decided to regard Japan, West Germany, France, Britain and Italy as nations under "the bondage of American imperialism" and therefore are wooing those countries.

The implication is that Peking is offering future prospects of a market of three quarters of a billion people, and inviting these countries to get in on the ground floor.

STILL UNIMPRESSED

Peking will remain unimpressed by Moscow's wrath.

Early this year, Mao Tse-tung, the Chinese Communist leader, talked with visiting politicians from France. He is reliably reported to have broached the idea of a "third world," even to suggesting that some central organization be set up for a formal beginning.

Nothing has come of that, and nothing may come of it for a long time. But Mao's idea appears to be to start modestly, perhaps with Red China and France as the nucleus of such an organization.

Japan, West Germany and Italy would be approached later and perhaps later on even the British, if Britain should lose what Mao regards as her subservience to Washington. Some day, also, Latin American na-

New Gadget Aids in Virus Battle

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — At the end of this month, a small, undramatic meeting on centrifuges will be held in the Atomic Energy Commission offices at Oak Ridge, Tenn. It may revolutionize the speed with which American medicine develops vaccines and methods of treatment for leukemia, other forms of cancer, the common cold, encephalitis and other virus diseases.

At this meeting, AEE and National Cancer Institute scientists will unveil for private industry a series of radical new centrifuges able to separate "large" quantities of pure viruses.

These centrifuges, and others under development, may make possible:

- Quantity separation of platelets—which could pave the way to saving 25 per cent of those who now die of leukemia.
- Separation of the viruses which cause leukemia in quantities sufficient to develop a "leukemia vaccine" in a handful of years.
- Development of vaccines without impurities that marred early batches of polio vaccine.
- Positive identification of the exact viruses which trigger major virus diseases probably years earlier than otherwise.

- Rapid separation out, as new viruses are identified, of the large quantities of pure viruses needed for quicker development of vaccines for key virus diseases.

The secret is the unusual ability of the new centrifuges to separate out pure viruses and, eventually, even parts of viruses (heads, tails, parts of heads), in large quantities—a quart or more at a time.

A major barrier to successful virus research has been the inability of scientists to get sufficient quantities of pure viruses for experimentation.

Voice of the People:

'Some Workers Confused About Vaccine Donations'

Before the next polio vaccine is distributed there should be a change in the collection of donations.

At the Christ Church Lutheran station, after taking the cube you passed a table with two baskets and a sign "Suggested Donation 50 Cents Per Person." You just dropped your donation in the basket and that was it.

At some of the schools a volunteer would count the members of the family and tell them what they owed. This caused embarrassment for parents of large families who weren't able to pay. Some paid who couldn't afford to. I'm afraid this may discourage some from going back for the second vaccine.

'Red Wings Shouldn't Black Out Games'

In my opinion, the Red Wings have no grounds to boycott the playoff games at home. They are doing more to harm hockey in Detroit than to aid it. Their statement that "it protects their gate," is completely unfounded as we called Olympia last Saturday, and they were sold out for both games as of noon.

More Letters on Christianity, Church

Yes, God said to keep His commandments. Jesus is the Son of God. God, therefore, sent him to earth to die on the cross, shedding His blood to atone for the sins of man. He wants us to pray without ceasing. One should always be a person of prayer.

Nellie Francis

Regarding church attendance, the statement was made that nowhere in the Old or New Testament are we commanded to attend church. Some people had better do some more reading. All reborn believers are the church for which Christ died. Christ said, "To forsake not the assembling of yourselves together as a manner of some is." Call it what you may, it is church where a group of people assemble for worshipping God.

A Reborn Believer in Christ

Says Deaths Should Serve as Warning

When Mr. A. A. Riddering criticized an editorial, The Press replied, "... you can hardly compare five deaths with 'several million'..." Really? Then just how did the Nazis reign start? Was it born when the people were complacent and ignored crime; when some believed in racial superiority?

We can hardly ignore these warnings. Three cheers for Mr. Riddering.

The Nausedated Kid

The Better Half

"It isn't much of a show, but it's pleasant to hear the canned laughter machine enjoying itself."

You may have to identify and separate a second virus for the same variety of the same disease, because it may be that two viruses work as a team to trigger the disease.

Once you've established what virus or viruses cause the disease, you must separate out large quantities of the virus or viruses for use in developing vaccines.

When you hit on the right vaccine, you must separate out even larger quantities of the virus or viruses to produce the vaccines doctors need to inoculate their patients.

The problem is more complicated if several varieties of a particular disease are common. It's believed, for example, that there may be 10 or more kinds of cancer.

These significant new centrifuges are an outgrowth of work on the atom bomb. When alert scientists at Oak Ridge and Washington decided that the centrifuges they were developing might have wider applications, these Atomic Energy Commission scientists teamed up with men from the National Cancer Institute.

The result may be a revolution in virus research.

Court Order Halts Primary Preparations

California Politics Thrown Into Turmoil

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Word from Washington, legal and medical, threw California's political campaign into quiet turmoil today.

All preparations for the June 2 presidential primary came to a complete halt, by order of Justice William O. Douglas of the U.S. Supreme Court.

And Sen. Clair Engle's return to the hospital revived speculation — denied with practiced regularity — that his health would force him to give up his fight for reelection.

It also brought into the open persistent reports that jobs paying $25,000 or more a year are waiting for the 52-year-old Democratic senator, felled by brain surgery last August, if he quits the contest for his party's nomination.

For the moment, state election officials were more concerned over a matter of time — time to print the seven million ballots and organize the machinery for a primary less than six weeks away.

APPEALED DECISION

Harold Stassen caused an unprecedented situation by appealing a State Supreme Court decision which denied him a place on the Republican presidential ballot.

The one-time Minnesota governor seeks to join Sen. Barry Goldwater and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in competition for California's 58 votes at the Republican National Convention.

Stassen needed 13,702 signatures of registered voters to qualify. Only some 9,000 were certified as valid.

Stassen backers told the U.S. Supreme Court in their appeal that they presented 25,000 but that county clerks failed to make a complete examination of all the affidavits.

HOLD EVERYTHING

Justice Douglas yesterday ordered Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan to direct the 58 counties to hold everything on election preparations pending a decision. Jordan followed through promptly.

Lawyers toiled through the night to rush the state's reply to Washington by courier in hopes of getting it before the court for its weekly Friday conference.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk said any delay would "wreak havoc" with the task of printing ballots and distributing them by the deadlines assigned by state law.

Ballots must be available by May 2, the first day for absentee voting. Sample ballots must be mailed to every voter by May 8. More than a million ballots already have been printed.

DELIVERY TIME

Mosk noted that only watermarked paper supplied by the secretary of state here can be used, and it takes 10 days for delivery.

He doubted whether the counties could meet the deadlines if the court delays a ruling.

Thorny Issue Over Thieves

HAWTHORNE, Fla. (AP)—The city has decided to add a few thorns to its law. It posted a $50 reward for the capture of rosebush thieves.

City Council President Harry Baker said that someone had been stealing the rosebushes which the city has planted along Highway 301 in the city. They were pulled up during the night.

Romney Urges More Support of Antibias Plan

BAY CITY (AP) — Gov. George W. Romney urged more than 200 municipal and civic leaders Wednesday to support the People to People program to promote international understanding.

Romney was host at an all-day conference aimed at expanding the program in Michigan. Bay City, Frankfort, Saginaw, Flint, Clawson and Grand Rapids now have chapters.

"The People to People program is a counteraction against prejudice, ignorance and false ideas existing in the world," Romney said.

"It is a purely voluntary and private movement of American citizens from all walks of life—housewife, factory worker, businessman, student, retired person," the governor added.

FAUBUS TO RUN—Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus exhibits a box of $1 bills which he said came "from the common people" after he read a statement yesterday that he would be a candidate for a sixth term. He will face Republican Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, if each wins his respective primary.

20 Flee Fire in Apartment

DETROIT (AP) — A roof fire forced 20 persons to flee an apartment house Wednesday and caused injuries to a fireman.

Fireman Michael Hastings fell through the roof, suffering a leg injury.

The four-alarm blaze destroyed the roof of the three-story Webb Ave. building, across the street from Central High School.

Third floor apartments were damaged. Damage was estimated at $30,000. Firemen said a blaze apparently had smoldered between the roof and third floor ceiling. The cause was not determined.

Italian State Expands Drilling Beneath Sea

RAVENNA, Italy (AP) — Agip, the Italian state petroleum combine, has started operating its third floating platform for oil drilling beneath the sea.

The new platform is in the Adriatic off Ravenna. The two other platforms are in the Persian Gulf and the Red Sea.

Foundry Walkout 2nd in Kalamazoo

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A dispute over a new contract resulted in a walkout at a second foundry here Wednesday.

Part of the work force at the U. S. Foundry Corp. walked out, idling 80 members of Local 388 of the International Molders and Allied Workers Union. The company and the union have been negotiating on a new contract.

Local 388 struck the Riverside Foundry Division of Kalamazoo Tank and Silo Co. Tuesday. The strike idled 63 workers.

Ol' Town Hall Gone to Dogs

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — The entire municipal machinery of the town of Beirut ground to a halt because a mad dog took over town hall.

All the officials evacuated the building and for three days no work was done. Finally, authorities called in two policemen to solve the dilemma.

Before the law arrived, a townsman, disgruntled with the stalemate, walked in and killed the beast with a shotgun.

Rail Strike Averted Without Threat of Congress Action

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson averted a coast-to-coast rail strike without ever threatening even in private to invoke congressional action, insiders reported today.

The specter of last resort legislative intervention always hovered in the background. Everybody knew it was there. But it never emerged into the open.

The reason, one official said, was that management and unions talked for five years but bargained for only 13 days — the 13 preceding the settlement that marked up a domestic triumph for Johnson in an election year.

"Nobody—the President, the mediators or either side—said at any point," this official said, "that we'd ever have to go to Congress. Nobody even implied it."

"The closest thing was when the President said at one point that he didn't want to come out with such words as seizure or arbitration. Seizure is a horrible word to the carriers and arbitration is horrible to the unions."

Persons with first-hand knowledge of the negotiations gave this picture of how things went:

Union bargainers agreed to settlement terms late Tuesday. Railroad presidents held out until little more than an hour before Johnson and spokesmen for both sides took to the television networks late Wednesday to announce a peace pact.

Negotiations had been comparatively relaxed in the first week after Johnson won a 15-day postponement of an April 10 strike deadline.

Then Sunday night, Johnson got a report from his five-man mediation team that issues had been worked around to the point where a hard push might settle them.

So Johnson met with both sides and pointed out they had an important stake in preserving 7 million jobs and the future of collective bargaining. An overnight recess was called to let his words sink in, and then heavy, intensive bargaining got under way Monday and went on through the night.

Labour and management drafted separate statements of their positions at that point and laid them on the table about 1 a.m. Tuesday. After hours of discussion, the mediators took on the job of boiling 20 or 25 pages down to eight—written in long hand—that were ready by Tuesday noon.

Talks started up again then and one informant said: "That's where you really started to get some hard, sharp offers."

UNION OFFER

By Tuesday night, the unions had agreed to settlement terms but management offered only a qualified "yes."

Then Wednesday morning, Johnson conferred in the White House living quarters with J. E. Wolfe, chief negotiator for the railroads, and Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz. Wolfe wanted to bring in various railroad presidents who were on the negotiating squad, and that was arranged for late afternoon.

The meeting was held in Johnson's oval study, over coffee cups, with management still a bit uneasy about settling.

Johnson went over the whole situation. He stressed the heavy national interest in avoiding a strike, reviewed some of the 7 million jobs that would be affected, and finally got an assent from the rail executives.

TV ANNOUNCEMENT

The question of a joint announcement was disposed of with a decision that the best way was for everyone to be seen on television, and with the cooperation of the networks the time was set for 6:45.

Roy Davidson, spokesman for the unions, already had a statement ready. Wolfe needed a little time to prepare his. Johnson and some of his staff started in on a final draft of his.

All hands were called to the White House Cabinet room for a final session that had to be short. This was a little before 6:30, and the television studio was miles away through traffic. Johnson congratulated everybody who had a hand in the settlement and told them he appreciated the job he said they had done for their country.

As one onlooker described it: "Everybody was in a damned good mood, including Wolfe and Davidson, who had been glaring at each other for God knows how long. There was a real air of jubilation in the room."

GIRL'S LETTER

Cars rushed the President and the others to the studio. On the way, Johnson pulled from his pocket a letter he read from a 7-year-old Illinois girl asking that he "please keep the railroads running" so her grandmother could come and see her. "To him," one of those present said, "this summed up the meaning of this thing to individual human beings."

Taylor and Keel will have the final say in translating the general agreement on the other issues into contract language. Spokesmen said this is not expected to take long.

Johnson said the settlement averted a strike that would have slashed national production 15 per cent and sent prices spiraling upward as the flow of goods was choked off.

"I am glad to tell you that all of this is now avoided. Our robust economy can continue its healthy and encouraging forward movement," Johnson said. "Business and labor can take new encouragement. All of us can remain optimistic. My heart tonight is filled with the pride that I hope every American must feel," he said.

"This agreement is American business and American labor operating at its very best," the President added.

Wirtz said the settlement of the lengthy dispute was made possible after "it became perfectly clear that the President of the United States was going to insist on a voluntary settlement."

Said Johnson: "The terms of the agreement are just and fair. This is a good day for our country and our system of government."

The agreement has no effect on the two issues which brought the nation to the brink of a nationwide strike last year and caused Congress to step in with the first compulsory arbitration law in peacetime history.

The two issues resulted in an arbitration ruling permitting the railroads to eliminate some 30,000 firemen's jobs and review on a local basis the number of other train crew members.

The arbitration ruling is now being appealed by the unions before the Supreme Court. The railroads have agreed not to start eliminating firemen or brakemen.

seeking review of train crew size until after the high court rules.

The five unions involved in the frequently bitter dispute are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the Switchmen's Union of North America, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen—all AFL-CIO — and two independent unions, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen.

Eastern City Shuts Schools as Protests Resume

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — All public schools in this southeastern Pennsylvania city were closed today and 216 persons in jail following the resumption of civil rights demonstrations. School officials Wednesday announced the closing of the city's 18 public schools, "pending the return to normal conditions," because of what they termed an explosive situation and fear for the safety of 11,000 pupils in this industrial city of about 63,000.

Civil rights demonstrators have staged rallies and protest marches almost every day in the last month. They are protesting alleged de facto school segregation, a charge denied by the eight-member school board, which includes one Negro. Demonstrations began last

March 27 and there was a one-day school boycott before that, with about 30 per cent of the pupils staying out of classes. Most of the demonstrations were peaceful, except when they first started and six persons were injured after a street sit-in, including two policemen. Meetings between the school board, the Chester Human Relations Commission and the protesting groups, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and the Committee for Freedom Now, all broke up in angry denunciations and no agreement.

Wednesday night, 177 demonstrators were arrested as more than 500 sang and marched to the home of State Sen. John J. McClure, a Delaware County Republican leader. Police arrested 132 in front of the McClure home. Some of them were bleeding when herded into the buses.

At the Chester School District administration building, the Municipal Authority building and inside and outside schools.

Three of the seven or eight persons reported injured were admitted to area hospitals. Earlier, 39 persons, including two Negro ministers, were arrested during sit-in demonstrations at the Chester School District administration building, the Municipal Authority building and inside and outside schools.

The school closing affects about 500 teachers and some 11,000 pupils. Chester, about 20 miles south of Philadelphia, has 11 elementary schools, three of them all-Negro, four junior high schools, one senior high school and two special schools.

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman lectured a woman jaywalker today and got a smile in return.

Taking his customary morning walk, Truman spotted the woman pedestrian crossing against a red light at Park Avenue and 78th Street.

"Lady, you're going to get killed if you do that," he said.

"Yes, I was forgetting the light, Mr. President," the woman replied, smiling. "I should know better."

80 Arrests End Melee in Oklahoma

GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP) — About 80 Negroes and whites were arrested here Wednesday night in a street battle brought under control by fire hoses, hastily summoned police from nearby cities and state troopers.

The violence erupted at the end of Oklahoma's 89th anniversary celebration and involved fist fights and brick and beer can throwing. At least one man was injured by a blow on the head.

Guthrie Police Chief C. H. Noble said it was not a race riot but said both Negroes and whites were involved. A Guthrie policeman said a number of young Negro and white youths moved to a Negro-area dance hall after a race show.

RACIAL THREAT

He said he heard a shouted racial threat by one of the young persons. It was near the dance hall that the mass fighting broke out. "Everytime we'd get one group calmed down with the fire hoses," one policeman said, "another wave would come from another direction."

"Taverns were ordered closed an hour before the regular midnight curfew. Desk Sgt. Roy Clinton said the violence was a culmination of a day of drinking and celebrating. "It was the

There were some 80,000 persons jammed into the town which normally has a population of about 10,000. There were extra police from nearby cities, along with highway patrolmen, on hand when the fighting started.

Noble sent out an emergency call to neighboring Oklahoma City and the patrol for reinforcements. The Oklahoma City police brought along their canine units and they had a calming effect on the crowd.

"It was just a bunch of drunkards," said Claude Canning, a deputy.

"We thought we were going to have a riot but it was settled off pretty quickly."

Dutch Deny Story Princess to Convert

AMSTERDAM (U-P) — Princess Christine of Holland has attended a Roman Catholic mass, the Dutch government information service says, but it insists there's nothing to reports that Christine will become a convert.

Christine's sister, Princess Irene, created a sensation in the Netherlands when she abandoned the royal family's traditional Protestant faith to become a Catholic.

Irene will marry Prince Don Carlos de Bourbon-Parma, a Catholic and a pretender to the Spanish throne.

The government information service said Christine attended mass at the town of Eindhoven, where she was visiting a Catholic friend of the royal family, W. C. J. M. Van Lanschoot.

Hospital Ceremony Set Sunday

Cornerstone Laying in Farmington Twp.

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., is scheduled to speak Sunday at the cornerstone laying ceremony for Botsford General Hospital.

The 202-bed osteopathic facility is under construction on a 15-acre site at 2850 Grand River.

Now nearly half completed, it is expected to be ready for use by late December. The $3.8-million center is a unit of Ziegler Osteopathic Hospital, Detroit.

Sunday's ceremony will begin at 3 p.m. with Murray D. Van Wagoner, chairman of Ziegler's board of directors, welcoming guests.

Hart is to speak after an address by Dr. Morris Thompson, president of Kirskeville College of Osteopathy and Surgery.

Dr. Robert M. Frehe, executive director of the Detroit Round Table of Catholics, Jews and Protestants, will deliver the invocation and benediction.

A portion of the hospital has been financed by a $1,182,585 Hill-Burton grant. Other funds were raised through mortgages and loans from staff physicians.

Dominating the site will be a five-story building housing hospital rooms and the offices of administrators and physicians.

An adjoining single-level building will contain surgery and X-ray departments, delivery rooms, laboratories, an emergency section, kitchen and cafeteria facilities.

The building was designed by architects Smith, Hinchman and Grylls of Detroit.

Church Slates Gospel Work in Commerce

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—"The Twenty-Six" is preparing to embark on a new evangelistic project at Commerce Methodist Church.

The designation applies to the number of persons on the original committee.

Each is to contact 10 others—the equivalent of a pew—to stimulate the habit of worship.

The plan will be initiated Sunday and continue through May 17, when another committee will be named to reach others on a similar basis.

The chancel choir, under direction of Robert Crompton, has invited the public to its performance of a sacred cantata at 4:30 p.m. Sunday.

The vesper service, consisting mainly of Baroque sacred music, will feature "The Seven Words of Christ on the Cross" by Heinrich Schuetz.

Rochester Women Plan Public Tour of 7 Gardens

ROCHESTER—The Rochester Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association announced plans for a tour of seven outstanding gardens in the area at a committee tea yesterday.

Called the Rochester Garden Tour, the event is planned for two days, June 13 and 14 from 1 to 5 p.m., to benefit the many charitable endeavors of the local WNFGA branch.

These include full tuition scholarships to Oakland University for two June graduates of Rochester High School, and the International Farm Exchange and Penies for Friendship projects.

It will also help raise money for scholarships for two Rochester School District elementary teachers to attend the Conservation Training School at Higgins Lake and work in the field of horticultural therapy at Pontiac State Hospital.

Cochairmen of the tour are Mrs. James E. Clark of Birmingham and Mrs. Arthur Underwood of Avon Township. They say the committee hopes to sell 1,000 tickets to the two-day event. It is open to the public.

GARDEN LIST
Mrs. George H. Goble, Rochester branch president, announced the following gardens will be viewed:

- Mr. and Mrs. Henry Axford Sr.—4090 N. Rochester. (Refreshments will be served there.)
- Mrs. Mason Case—332 Charles
- Mr. and Mrs. John Cochran Sr.—867 Peach Tree
- Mr. and Mrs. Artus E. Gureley—2549 Stoddleigh
- Mr. and Mrs. George Marquart—336 Charles
- Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Simon—141 Bowdoin Hill
- Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Underwood—155 Tree Top

Cochairmen of the committee tea held at the home of Mrs. John Nadon, 2452 S. Christian Hills, were Mrs. Albert West of Romeo and Mrs. William Burke of Rochester.

Assisting them were Mrs. William Dorn, Mrs. Frederick C.

MILFORD—The Huron Valley Branch of the Michigan Cancer Foundation is sponsoring a cancer control program planned specifically for men at the Milford High School at 8 p.m. today.

All men in the area are urged to attend this life-saving program which will feature the foundation's new film "Time Out For Living."

Dr. Frank W. Prather will be in attendance to answer any questions about cancer the audience might have.

To Ask 10 Mills From County

Romeo District School Budget Is Set Higher

ROME — The Romeo Community School District is going to ask the county for a 10-mill allocation to help defray cost of the 1964-65 budget, tentatively estimated at $71,000 higher than this year's.

Schools Supt. T. C. Filippula has set the next academic year's expected expenditures at $121,000. Estimated spending for this year will reach $114,000.

Most of the addition will be used to cover salaries of five new teachers and increased cost of a new teacher salary schedule, Filippula said yesterday.

He said if the county allocation board goes along with the 10-mill request, the district will receive about $23,000, based on present valuation.

Teacher salary scale for the 1964-65 calls for, in general, a $100 across-the-board increase.

NEW MINIMUM

Instructors with a bachelor's degree will begin at $5,000 as compared with this year's minimum of $4,500. After 11 years, the maximum will be reached, now set at $7,400.

On the advanced level, teachers with a master's degree will begin next year at $5,400 instead of the present $5,300. Reaching the top of the 11-increment scale will bring a maximum salary of $7,800.

Filippula emphasized that the new budget is tentative and might have to be revised, depending upon the outcome of the system's request for 10 mills from the county.

Farr, Mrs. A. N. Gardner, Mrs. S. E. Ross and Mrs. Harold Williams, all of Romeo.

Also at the tea, committee chairmen to assist Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Underwood were named. They include Mrs. Herman K. Hix, secretary; Mrs. Frank Shepard and Mrs. Oscar J. Sorenson Jr., tickets; and Mrs. Fred Noyes and Mrs. Nadon, publicity.

Others are Mrs. Carl J. Oxford Jr., Rochester High School poster contest; Mrs. Keith Crissman, garden hostesses; and Mrs. Frank Beall, flower and table arrangements.

House OKs Defense Bill, May Fight Yard Closings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has received a vote of confidence from the House. But angry cries may follow if he fulfills a prediction and closes three naval shipyards in the East before the year is out.

The vote of confidence came late Wednesday when the House, by a unanimous vote of 365 to 0, passed the $46.8-billion defense appropriation bill.

All major attempts to change the bill with amendments failed and the measure, as passed, is pretty much the way McNamara wanted it.

HEADS TO SENATE

The bill now heads to the Senate, where the civil rights debate has posed a legislative logjam.

Most of the controversy in the bill centered on a provision that limits the amount of repair and conversion work that can be done in naval shipyards, leaving the rest for private yards.

During the debate, Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said this provision, first put in several years ago, has hurt naval shipyards.

"Before this calendar year is out," Vinson told the House, "you will see at least three shipyards closed." He named New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

DEFIANT CRY

This quickly drew a defiant cry from Rep. James A. Burke, D-Mass., who said, "I serve notice on the secretary of defense that we will not take this lying down."

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., saying that the House Appropriations Committee "is the unwitting partner in the destruction of naval shipyards in the United States," introduced an amendment that would strike out the repair and conversion provision. But this lost on a standing vote of 130 to 82.

The provision, which allots 65 per cent of the work to the naval shipyards and 35 per cent to private yards, was supported by Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., who told the House, "The private yards can do it cheaper."

The bill provides $461 million less than Congress appropriated for defense last year and is $712 million less than President Johnson requested in his January budget message.

The cut of $712 million is a little more than 1 1/4 per cent of the original request.

Won't Work for Peanuts

SAN FRANCISCO — No-body works for peanuts in California, the State Division of Industrial Welfare ruled yesterday.

The division found three boys working 14 hours a day selling peanuts for $5 a day and all the peanuts they could eat.

The employer was ordered to come up with another $25 daily for all three in minimum wage payments.

In the News From Washington

Report Alaska Quake Felt Over Half-Million Square Miles

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington: QUAKE REPORT: U.S. geologists and surveyors report the Alaskan earthquake was felt over half a million square miles and that it raised and lowered huge sections of the largest state by as much as 13 feet.

Geophysical Union meeting and as a news conference Wednesday, were offered by S-T. Algermissen of the Coast and Geodetic Survey and Arthur Grantz geologist with the Geological Survey, Menlo Park, Calif.

"There is little question that one of the major earthquakes of recorded history occurred on Friday evening, March 27, at 5:26 local time," Algermissen said.

14 PREVIOUS

The quake came in an area where 14 major earthquakes have been previously recorded. The experts seem relatively sure of these points:

That a 35,000 square mile area sank between one and 3 1/2 feet.

That a 12,000 square mile area—and perhaps an area out to sea—rose between 2 to 8 feet. That at one station in Anchorage, seismologists counted 560 local shocks in 178 hours of measuring, from March 30 to April 7.

That the epicenter of the shock seems to be just north of Prince William Sound.

Bentley Speech Set by Pontiac Education Group

Former Congressman Alvin M. Bentley of Owosso will address a dinner meeting of the Pontiac Education Association tonight at the Airway Lanes, 4825 W. Huron, Waterford Township.

Bentley will discuss higher education and project HOPE.

Named to Governor Romney's citizen committee on higher education, Bentley was chairman of the education committee at the Michigan Constitutional Convention.

He served four full terms in Congress, representing Michigan's 8th Congressional district, which includes Owosso.

That there is visible cracking in ice and other features over an area of 100,000 square miles—but it isn't known if the underground fault at the quake's origin reaches to the surface.

NUCLEAR CUTBACK: Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield declared Wednesday night that American initiative brought about the cutback in nuclear weapons materials announced this week by President Johnson and the Soviet Union. Mansfield told the Senate that this was stressed at the morning White House meeting with the President, his senior advisers and congressional leaders of both parties.

Mansfield said he was assured by the President that the American decision to reduce production of plutonium and enriched uranium for nuclear weapons "was not the result of any agreement, executive or otherwise, and that there is no fine print."

Mansfield said that despite the cutbacks, "the United States will not minimize the research and development" of nuclear weapons and materials on which the national defense depends.

CUBA: Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., suggested Wednesday that the Soviet Union remove all its anti-aircraft missiles from Cuba as a concrete and positive contribution in world peace.

He also urged in a statement that the Soviets pull out any other long-range weapons or installation they may have on the island.

This, he said, would give Soviet Premier Khrushchev an opportunity to ease further East-West tensions by taking the weapons from the hands of Fidel Castro "and his trigger-happy henchmen."

E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager. But, he adds, it won't be as easy as camping in northern Michigan or other places where the welcome mat is untrampled.

There is first the difficulty of finding vacancies at sites within driving distance of the fair. True, sites may be found within a 50-mile radius of New York City. But, and this is most important — reservations simply must be made well in advance of arrival.

It's well to keep in mind that there are no trailer parks within the five boroughs (or counties) that make up New York City — Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, Staten Island and the Bronx. In addition, there are no facilities now, or planned, at the fair for parking travel trailers.

A central clearing bureau to aid those seeking New York travel trailer accommodations has been established, Fisher said. This will eliminate the necessity of contacting all the individual parks to find space.

William S. Rayburn, a trailer dealer who knows the New York area and its trailer parks from 45 years spent there, has formed Trailer Accommodations, Inc., Box 150, White Plains, N.Y.

According to information furnished by Rayburn, travel trailer owners will be offered reservations at the nearest park in which space is available for the dates requested. A service fee of $5 will be charged.

Three dollars will be returned if no space can be found for the dates requested.

Most of the parks in the area have complete hookups. Charges range generally from $2 to $5 daily, depending on distance to the fair.

Fisher said it was estimated that 600 travel trailers will arrive in the New York area daily during the fair.

A new camping and travel trailer site is planned at Exit 12

of the New Jersey Turnpike, Fisher said. The 2,600 sites, for either travel trailers or camping, will rent for $5 a day, electrical hookups, toilets, showers, play areas, uniformed police security and regularly chartered buses to the Fair Grounds.

Fisher said further information may be obtained from: Camping for World's Fair, care of Cadillac Estates, Inc., 4239 Monroe Street, Toledo, Ohio, 43606.

Other sources of information on campsites include the New Jersey State Department of Conservation, Trenton, N.J.; the New York State Department of Conservation, Albany, N.Y., and the Connecticut State Park Commission in Hartford, Conn.

The list may be augmented later this season by 1,000 new campsites in Brewster, Mohawk State Park and Peekskill, N.Y.

EMERGENCY SITE

In New Jersey, 35 miles from New York, Chesapeake State Park is being readied as an emergency campsite area. None of the comforts of home should be expected at this rural camp area, however, Fisher warns.

It's also important to remember that house trailers with bottled gas are not permitted to use the Holland Tunnel, the Lincoln Tunnel, the George Washington Bridge Lower Level or the George Washington Bridge Expressway.

The prohibition also applies to empty containers which last contained liquefied petroleum gas. This restriction, however, does not apply to the George Washington Bridge Upper Level or at any of the Staten Island Bridges operated by the Port Authority.

Trailers also are not allowed the use of any of New York City's parkways, including the East River Drive and the West Side Highway, nor those in Nassau, Suffolk and Westchester Counties.

A final reminder from Fisher: AAA does not inspect or recommend trailer parks or campgrounds and is not in a position to place reservations for such facilities.

Senate Passes Bill to Aid Stock Sales

LANSING (AP)—The Senate Wednesday passed 83-3 and sent to the House a proposal for a new Blue Sky Law concerning the sale of stocks and bonds.

The 1923 state law was enacted 17 years before Congress enacted the Federal Investment Company Act, and has been amended at nearly every session since.

Enactment of the mammoth, 82-page bill will remove restrictions which now prohibit the sale of many securities.

Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, the bill's chief sponsor, said it will permit new firms to finance themselves in Michigan.

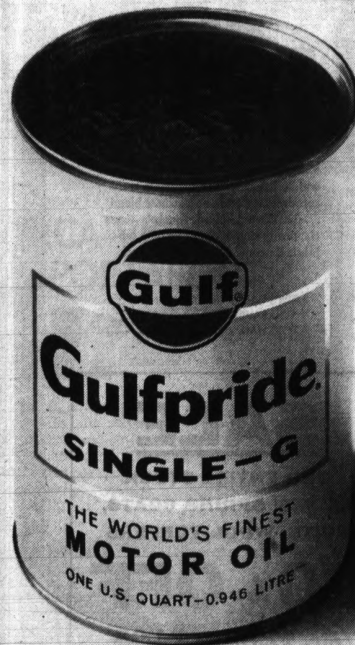

Recovering De Gaulle

Sees Aides in Hospital

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle, recovering from a prostate operation, discussed routine affairs today with two aides.

De Gaulle conferred at the Cochin Hospital, where he was operated on last Friday, with Etienne Burin des Roziers, Secretary General of the president's Elysee Palace, and Jacques Pochart, Secretary-General for African and Malagasy affairs.

NEW GULFPRIDE® SINGLE-G MOTOR OIL BEATS FOUR MAJOR COMPETITORS IN TOUGH ENGINE-PERFORMANCE TEST.

Announcing all-new Gulfpride® Single-G: Gulf formulated this brand-new motor oil to assure complete all-round protection for your engine—old or new—in all driving conditions.

To prove its superiority, new Gulfpride Single-G was tested against the best oils of four major competitors. Rigorous tests prescribed by the automobile industry for motor oil performance under severe operating conditions were used.

In the most critical test—engine cleanliness—Gulf even doubled the engine running time.

At the end of this tough test, new Gulfpride Single-G showed the highest engine cleanliness rating of all, including higher priced oils.

Give your car—old or new—a new high in protection through a new high in engine cleanliness. Change to new Gulfpride Single-G—at the Sign of the Gulf Orange Disc. Gulf Oil Corporation.

THANK YOU! — Cathy May Baker, 7, presses pencil to cheek as she prepares to write a thank-you note to President Johnson last night. Johnson, in announcing settlement of the railroad dispute, mentioned he had received a letter from the Park Forest, Ill., girl requesting he "keep the railroads running" so Cathy's grandmother could attend the girl's first communion last Saturday.

PARK FOREST, Ill. (AP)—President Johnson's announcement of the nation's railroad dispute settlement has gained him the special friendship of at least one 7-year-old.

"He's nice," said Cathy May Baker. "He mentioned my name."

Two weeks ago, Cathy May wrote to the President, asking him to "keep the railroads running" so her grandmother, May Coyle of Yonkers, N.Y., could be present at the girl's first Holy Communion last Saturday.

Wednesday night, via network television, President Johnson answered the second grader.

NO INTERRUPTION

"Cathy May," he said in announcing the settlement, "if you are watching tonight, I am pleased to tell you that the railroads are going to continue to run without interruption."

The letter, written two weeks ago, read:

"Dear President Johnson: I am 7. My grandmother lives in New York. She is coming to see me make my first Holy Communion. Please keep the railroads running so that she can come to see me. Thank you."

Cathy May's grandmother, who could not be reached for comment, arrived on time for the event last Saturday. The President on April 9 had obtained a 15-day strike postponement.

The letter to President Johnson was written by Cathy May during the brief Illinois Central Railroad strike two weeks ago, the girl's mother, Patricia, said.

VETOED BY DAD

At first, Mrs. Baker said, Cathy May intended to include her telephone number with the letter, but her father vetoed that idea. Her father, John, a field engineer for the Burroughs Corp. in Chicago, commutes on the IC.

Now, Mrs. Baker said, Cathy

Ballerina Still Active in Bolshoi Theater

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Galina Ulanova, once the world's greatest ballerina, says she's still active at Moscow's famous Bolshoi Theater.

Miss Ulanova, who is in her 50's, arrived in Copenhagen to attend celebrations of the 40th anniversary of the Danish-Soviet Friendship Society.

May is wishing she sent the telephone number. "Maybe the President would call her," the mother said.

To most persons, perhaps, a letter from the President might serve just as well as a telephone call. But Cathy May isn't so sure.

"Well," she said when asked if she was looking forward to getting a letter, "I might and I might not be."

3 Others Killed in Action

To Watch Son Get Sub Post

HANCOCK, Maine (AP)—A Hancock mother who lost three sons in World War II will see the fourth take command of a new warship today.

Lillian Crabtree will be a guest at the commissioning of the Polaris missile submarine Daniel Boone at Vallejo, Calif.

Cmdr. Alan B. Crabtree, 35, will command the "gold" crew of the 7,000-ton sub.

A "blue" crew will alternate in running the craft.

Cmdr. Crabtree was in his teens when his older brother, Staff Sgt. Alfred E. Crabtree Jr., was taken prisoner in the Philippines and died in a prison camp.

SECOND SON

The news reached Mrs. Crabtree and her late husband about the same time they learned their second son, Staff Sgt. Parker F., was missing on a bombing raid to Berlin. His death was confirmed shortly afterward.

A few months later came the news that a third son, Lt. Robert S., had been shot down and killed over Italy.

Tourism is Switzerland's big money-maker today, displacing the long-famed watch-making industry.

CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York World's Fair bloomed in almost all its heralded splendor but rain, cold and fog put a damper on its opening Wednesday.

Civil rights demonstrations, and a threatened highway traffic tie-up which never came off, apparently contributed toward local official attendance to $2.646. At least a quarter of a million visitors had been expected. But it was the weather, which put a damper on things.

President Johnson, noting the fair's theme of "peace through understanding," said that "peace is not only possible in our generation, but I predict it is coming much nearer."

The United States, the President added, would soon be a nation "in which no man is handicapped by the color of his skin or the nature of his beliefs."

OTHER DIGNITARIES

Among those under the canopied platform as Johnson spoke were former President Harry S. Truman, New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, Francis Cardinal Spellman, Roman Catholic archbishop of New York, Mayor Robert F. Wagner and Robert Moses, president of the fair.

Truman, in a brief speech to 16,000 listeners in rain-drenched Singer Bowl, said, "There's only one Moses, and that's not the one mentioned in the Bible."

At the opening ceremonies, messages were read from former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Herbert Hoover.

President Johnson also cut the tape, and spoke, at the federal pavilion before flying back to Washington. As pickets chanted and shouted and some youths waved placards, Johnson said: "We do not try to cover up our failures; we freely admit them and bend our energies to toil to meet them."

ON SCHEDULE

The fair opened on schedule at 9 a.m. and soon thereafter came the big parade. Months in planning, the 45-minute procession was colorful, commercial, international, patriotic, musical and soggy.

MORE MARCHERS

But the 4,000 marchers greatly outnumbered the onlookers, estimated in the hundreds.

There was plenty of musical cheer — armed forces, high school and college bands, Irish and Jordanian bagpipers, African drum rollers, Spaniards strolling and strumming guitars, the 136 pavilions were not quite ready for the "opener," and a few didn't not open.

As on most opening days of huge exhibitions—the fair occupies a mile-square site at Flushing Meadow—there was some confusion. Many out-of-order pay telephones and coffee and sandwich stands couldn't cope with the customer rush.

OTHER FEATURES

Among other parade features: A troop of Montana cowboys, led by their governor, Tim M. Babcock; geishas singing softly and twirling parasols; shriners with molting feathers; Moorish women holding their skirts up when they came to muddy puddles; Hula dancers doing their celebrated gyrating—under topcoats.

There also was a carriage carrying "Ferdinand and Isabella"—Mr. and Mrs. John N. Page, contest winners from Columbus, Ohio.

As night fell, lighted pavilions and colored fountains glowed through the fog; the pool of industry erupted with fireworks, and powerful searchlights raked the sky.

It was gala and it was fun, but nature didn't cooperate at all.

House Members: Prayer Issue Not Between Godly, Godless

WASHINGTON (AP)—The issue of prayers in public schools does not pit the godly against the godless, say several members of the House Judiciary Committee.

Aroused by the tone of early witnesses in the committee's hearings on proposed constitutional amendments to permit school prayers, several members erupted in protest Wednesday and demanded future witnesses address themselves to the constitutional issues only.

They had heard repeated references to cynics, atheists and "strange and obnoxious" persons opposing the amendments, and the "anti-God" nature of the Supreme Court's 1962 decision banning official school prayers.

FIRST TO COMPLAIN

Rep. John V. Lindsay, R-N.Y., was the first to complain. "I hope members who seriously question the issue raised here are not going to be charged with being anti-God," he said.

Lindsay said witnesses should relate the proposed amendments to the First Amendment's provision that "Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting the free exercise thereof."

"This has been called the bulwark of the republic," he said, "and the question before us now is, 'Do we want to change the First Amendment?' It must be discussed without any suggestion that those who seriously question any change are somehow anti-God, or antichildren or antimother."

Rep. Jacob H. Gilbert, D-N.Y., complimenting Lindsay for bringing the subject out into the open, called for an end "to all veiled accusations."

"This issue is not between the godly and the godless," Gilbert said. "It is not even a religious question. It is a serious constitutional question which all Americans must try to resolve."

Among others expressing similar views were Reps. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., Judiciary Committee chairman; Byron D. Rogers, D-Colo.; and William T. Cahill, R-N.J.

Cahill said he would ask all future witnesses to say what kind of prayers they want said in the schools, who is to determine the kind of prayer, and what version of the Bible will be used.

Cahill described the designation of the authority that will determine the prayer the "key problem" facing the committee.

When Rep. William C. Cramer, R-Fla., said the local school board could decide, and if the people objected they could "throw the board out and elect another one," Chairman Celler jumped into the debate.

"That's the nub of the difficulty," he said. "It would put prayers and Bible reading right into politics."

"No," said Cramer. "It would put it in the hands of the voters. And that's the way America should be run."

The committee heard seven members of Congress Wednesday and plans to question dozens more today and Friday. The first nonpublic witnesses, including church officials, will start testifying next Wednesday.

Save Hunters From Icepack

BARROW, Alaska (AP)—Four bear hunters, two of them injured, were rescued Wednesday from the Arctic icepack 85 miles northeast of here, where they spent more than 48 hours after making a forced landing.

They were picked up in a light plane piloted by Bob Cooper of Fairbanks and flown to a larger plane on smoother ice nearby, which flew them to Barrow. They left behind their two damaged planes and a bear they had shot.

Pilot Jules Thibedeau had cuts on his face and Stan Dale, a passenger, an injured leg. Olly Huddeson, the other pilot, and Army Sgt. John E. De Frehn, the other passenger, were unhurt. All are from Fairbanks.

Simulated DC7 Crack-Up Part of Air-Safety Tests

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — A four-engine DC7 airliner was to roar down a Phoenix airstrip this morning in a takeoff that never gets far off the ground. The big craft, guided by rail and occupied only by 15 dummies, was to reach a speed of 140 miles an hour before smashing up into a pile of twisted metal.

Barring unfavorable weather, the airliner was to be sacrificed in the hope of making future air crashes more survivable. The simulated crackup was to take only about four seconds.

As it reached the projected speed, barriers were to clip off the landing gear with the plane skimming along about six feet off the ground.

Next, a wing was to slice into a small mound of earth while the other sheared off three telephone poles. The battered plane, after a bounce or two, was expected to crumple up on the side of a hill.

Inside, 20 cameras were to take pictures of what happened to the dummy passengers, new safety devices and standard airplane equipment.

Shocks and stresses to various parts of the plane and the dummy human beings were to be recorded on 82 test channels. Main fuel tanks carry colored water to allow a study of spray patterns when they ripped apart.

Sponsor of the performance is the Federal Aviation Agency which awarded the research contract to Aviation Safety Engineering and Research, a non-profit Phoenix group.

Later this year a Super-Constellation will be smashed up as part of the $160,000 research project.

Joining in the tests are the Army, Navy, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. They sought to test such equipment as cargo tie-down, seat design and arrangement, seat belts for adults and infants and galley equipment.

Victor Rothe, head of the Phoenix research organization, called the test "a simulated survivable accident" whose purpose is to make air travel safer.

The fatality rate for scheduled airlines is 22 per 100 million passenger miles, Rothe said, compared with 3.0 in 1940. Even so, he said the many more millions of miles logged makes it necessary to reduce this rate.

It's a Fine Situation - Finally Checked

JACKSON (AP) — James L. Malch, 17, pleaded guilty last month to illegal possession of beer and paid a $50 fine and costs with a personal check.

The check bounced, and now Malch awaits trial on a charge of writing a check on insufficient funds to pay the fine.

The Amazon is one of the purest rivers on earth, having a chemical purity near that of distilled water and better than that coming from most public water supplies in the U.S.

Wife of Rail Dispute Mediator Is Proud Husband Could Help

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "I just felt very proud my husband could do it."

The voice of Edith Taylor bubbled with excitement, joy and pride.

She is the wife of Dr. George Taylor, one of the two private mediators who helped bring about a settlement announced by President Johnson in the four and a half year railway dispute.

Less than two weeks ago Taylor, a labor relations expert and professor of industry at the University of Pennsylvania's Wharton School, left his sick wife at the call of President Johnson.

Mrs. Taylor said today it was worth it.

"Oh, my goodness, yes, to have this wonderful result," she said. "It certainly was."

Mrs. Taylor, recuperating at home from surgery, said she heard Johnson praise her husband in a national television appearance Wednesday night announcing the settlement.

"One of these men, Dr. Taylor, left his sick wife who had just been operated on that day to come here to the White House to serve in these negotiations," said Johnson.

THING TO DO

Mrs. Taylor said she thought it was the right thing for her husband to leave her.

"I was in very good hands," she said. "I had very good care. The President was wonderful. He sent the White House plane up at different times with my husband to visit me during the negotiations."

Mrs. Taylor's first word that her husband was to serve the President came from Johnson.

"The President got him out of bed," said Mrs. Taylor. "He couldn't call me that night. Then it was the President that called me as soon as he arrived in Washington.

GREAT THING

"Your husband is right here with me," the President told me. He told me he thought it was a great thing that my husband would come down. There are times when you have to do things for your country."

Today, Mrs. Taylor says her recuperation is coming along very well and she's "just about ready to go out." Her husband will be home today.

In a final note, Mrs. Taylor reminded: "You know my husband has served five presidents, so it's something I'm very used to. I'm very proud about it."

Fishermen Found Alive in South

LAFITTE, La. (AP) — Five fishermen — believed victims of a boat explosion — were found yesterday. They were thirsty and hungry, but unharmed except for insect bites.

The men, all from the New Orleans area, had been missing since they left Grand Isle in the Gulf of Mexico Sunday bound for Lafitte in the 28-foot cabin cruiser, Miss Dixie.

The trip would normally take about six hours through Barataria Bay — once the haunt of buccaneer Jean Lafitte — up Bayou St. Denis and into a canal through swampy marshes south of New Orleans.

But they took the wrong turn and wound up in Bay Batiste, an offshoot of Barataria Bay. Then the boat plowed into a submerged bulkhead used to prevent erosion. The boat lost its keel and suffered damage to its prop.

FRUITLESS EFFORTS

Gerald Nepveux, 38, of New Orleans, one of the five, told last night of the group's fruitless efforts to signal aircraft and a miserable time with gnats, mosquitoes and sand flies, for nearly 72 hours.

Nepveux said they had to eat raw fish and drink foul-smelling water from the melting ice in the boat's fish box.

"When I started drinking that water, I had to hold my nose," Nepveux said. "I thought of the story about Jesus when He asked for water and they gave Him vinegar."

The Coast Guard said Tuesday it feared there had been an explosion aboard the Miss Dixie after a helicopter crew found two life jackets and an ice chest which the son of one of the men on board identified as coming from the missing boat.

With Nepveux were his brother-in-law, Wallace Foster, 49, of New Orleans, owner of the craft, and three brothers from Gretna, a suburb of New Orleans, Hermand David, 38, Clyde David, 28, and Norman David, 21.

Tax Bill Back Before House

Limit on City Levies Faces Uncertain Fate

LANSING (AP) — A bill to limit city income taxes today was on its way back to the House, where it faces an uncertain future.

The measure, supported by Gov. George W. Romney, would limit city income taxes to 1 per cent on residents and one-half of 1 per cent on commuting suburbanites.

It passed the Senate 26-6 Wednesday after a House amendment to require voter approval before any such tax is levied was removed. In its place is a provision for a referendum between the enactment of a tax ordinance and its effective date.

Rep. Wilfred Bassett, R-Jackson, speaker pro-tem, had sponsored the original referendum amendment, contrary to Romney's wishes.

PLEDGES FIGHT

Bassett pledged a fight to retain the referendum provision "or some reasonable means by which the people can make their wishes known."

House Speaker Allison Green, who outranks Bassett, said, however, he did not expect the House to "fight too hard against the Senate amendments."

Romney succeeded earlier in moving up the effective date for the proposed law from Jan. 1, 1966 to Jan. 1, 1965. Affected would be the cities of Detroit, Hamtramck, Saginaw and Flint.

Broadway Show Star Trips, Breaks Ankle

NEW YORK K — Inga Swenson, star of the Broadway musical "110 in the Shade," tripped and broke her ankle last night. She'll be out of the show for four weeks.

Miss Swenson, 29, was coming on stage for a curtain call when she fell. She was taken to the Medical Arts Center Hospital, where she was kept overnight.

Turk Cypriot Says No to Amnesty Offer: 'Would Imply Guilt'

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) —A Turkish Cypriot spokesman rejected President Makarios' offer of a general amnesty and other peace proposals Wednesday night, saying acceptance would be an admission of guilt. Makarios told a news conference he wished to demonstrate "not only by words but also by deeds our good will and desire for the island's pacification."

But he added: "If the Turkish Cypriot leadership does not show the necessary understanding, there can be no doubt that it does not wish the island's pacification, because it thinks it will be able to create partitionist conditions by the force of arms. In such a case, we shall have to face the situation. The Turkish-speaking community, outnumbered 4-1 by the 45,000 Greek Cypriots, has demanded partition of Cyprus to resolve the conflict. The Greek Cypriots, many of whom want union with Greece, have rejected this demand."

Defense Minister Osman Orek termed Makarios' package proposal propaganda and said: "One does not submit proposals like these in the form of a news conference."

"To accept his offer of an amnesty would amount to an admission of guilt," Orek declared. "The Turks only fought to defend life and property from attacks and are not guilty of any acts as suggested by Makarios." It was the first time Makarios had offered a general amnesty to the Turkish Cypriot minority.

Storybook Characters Decorate Soups

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

It takes so little effort to make a child smile. And while we don't approve of coaxing children to eat, there is no law against making their food look appetizing and amusing.

Just a suggestion starts the child's imagination working. Set one of the soups in the above picture in front of him and you're both off to the land of make-believe.

There's Pinocchio — Humpty Dumpty — Raggedy Ann — the Cheshire Cat — Sleeping Beauty — and Goosie Goosie Gander. Who knows, the youngsters may think up some new ideas for decorating their favorite soups.

Canned soup has been a convenience food for many years. There is such a great variety available nowadays that you can serve a different kind every day for several weeks without repeating yourself.

Carry this idea over into summer and cold soups. Even the grownups might enjoy it.

RAGGEDY ANN

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
- 1 soup can water
- Shredded carrot
- 2 to 3 black olives or 4 to 6 plump raisins
- Pimiento
- 2 or 3 large, curved celery or green pepper slices

In saucepan, blend soup and water. Heat. For each serving, outline hairline and fill in hair with shredded carrot. Cut rounds from black olives or use plump raisins for eyes. Cut a triangle nose from pimiento. Form a smile with celery sticks, ends curved upward. Gently place in each bowl of soup. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

HUMPTY DUMPTY

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato rice soup
- 1 soup can water
- 1 to 2 hard-cooked eggs
- Raisins
- Pimiento
- Slice American process cheese

In saucepan, blend soup and water. Heat. Ladle into shallow bowls. Cut egg or eggs lengthwise in half; remove yolks. Make eyes from bits of cut raisins, mouths from pimiento and bow ties from slice of cheese for bowls of soup. Carefully lay egg whites, cut side down, on soup surfaces. Refrigerate egg yolks to use later on as sandwich filling or to garnish soups or vegetables. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

GINGERBREAD BOY

(not shown)

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato rice soup
- 1 soup can water
- 2 or 3 slices American process cheese
- Raisins

In saucepan, blend soup and water. Heat. From cheese slices, cut outlines of gingerbread boys with paring knife or cookie cutter. Make eyes and buttons with bits of cut raisins. Gently place figures on surface of each bowl of soup. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

GOOSIE GOOSIE GANDER

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed vegetable soup
- 1 soup can water
- 2 or 3 slices of American process cheese
- 2 or 3 round carrot slices
- 2 or 3 raisins

In saucepan, combine soup and water. Heat. Cut profiles of gooseheads from cheese. Use carrot slices and raisins for eyes. Gently place on each bowl of soup. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

PINOCCHIO

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed chicken with rice soup
- 1 soup can water
- 2 to 3 small carrots, peeled
- 4 to 6 stuffed olive slices
- 2 to 3 thin curved green pepper slices, about 1½ inches

In saucepan, combine soup and water. Heat. Cut pointed ends of carrots, about 3 inches long. Stand flat ends on bottom of soup bowls with pointed ends coming through soup surface. Make eyes of olive slices and mouths of green pepper slices, ends curved upward for his smile. Gently place on each bowl of soup. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

SLEEPING BEAUTY

- 1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of celery soup
- 1 soup can water
- 1 black olive
- 2 or 3 cherry tomatoes or 1 pimiento
- 6 or 9 thin green pepper strips, 2 to 3 inches long

In saucepan, blend soup and water. Heat. Cut slivers from black olive and place 2 on each soup surface, curved side down, to show sleeping eyes. Make a cherry tomato or pimiento mouth and use 3 strips of green pepper for each serving to form hairline, one piece across top and one vertical piece on each side. Gently place on each bowl of soup. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

CHESHIRE CAT

- 1 can (11¼ ounces) condensed green pea soup
- 1 soup can water
- 1 slice American process cheese
- 2 to 3 raisins
- 12 to 16 carrot strips, about the size of paper matches
- Pimiento

In saucepan, blend soup and water. Heat. For each serving, cut oval shaped eyes from cheese; use a raisin for the nose, and place carrot whiskers under nose, allowing 3 strips for each side, slanted upward. Make triangular mouth from pimiento. Gently place on each bowl of soup. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

Jolly Clown Salad Tempts Youngsters

If salads are on the list of foods your youngster must be coaxed to eat, here's a tip for you. Borrow an idea from his world of make-believe with an imaginative yet easy - to - fix Clown Salad. The name alone would appeal to him, but one look at the clown's smile will win him over completely.

Clown Salad

- 2 cups (1 lb.) cottage cheese
- 4 canned cling peach halves
- Lettuce
- 2 maraschino cherries
- 8 raisins
- 1 green pepper
- 8 crisp rye wafers

Put cottage cheese into a strainer and drain well. Place peach halves pit side down, on a paper towel to drain. Arrange lettuce on 4 salad plates.

Place a mound of cheese

(about ½ cup) on lettuce. Top each mound with a peach half, pit side down. Make a face on each peach.

For the mouth, cut a slit about 1½-inches long and ½-inch wide in the peach half. Fill opening with cottage cheese. For the nose, use ½ maraschino cherry, pressing cut side against peach half; for each eye, use a raisin.

For clown hats, cut green pepper into 4 triangles. Serve with crisp rye wafers. Makes 4 salads.

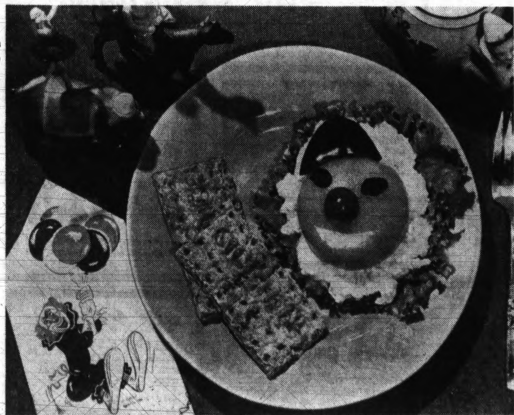

Variety Meat Loaf Best When Cold

This loaf, like the French pates, benefits from being cold.

Cold Country Meat

- 1¼ pounds ground chuck beef
- ½ pound bulk sausage
- ¼ cup finely diced cooked ham
- 1 egg
- ½ cup milk
- 1 cup soft bread crumbs (2 thin slices with crusts)
- 2 to 3 tablespoons finely grated onion, pulp and juice
- 2 tablespoons minced parsley
- 1 large clove garlic, crushed
- 2 tablespoons chili sauce
- 1 teaspoon salt and ¼ teaspoon pepper
- Mix together thoroughly all the ingredients. Pack into a loaf pan (8 by 4 by 3 inches) that has been rinsed with cold water; loosen sides; turn out into a baking pan (11 by 7 by 1½ inches). Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 1 hour.
- Pour off any fat and liquid; after 10 minutes, turn out; cool; chill. Slice thin.

Brush the undercrust of a fruit pie with egg white before adding the filling to prevent the fruit juices from soaking through the crust.

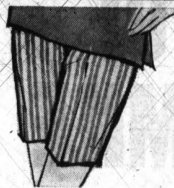

CLOWN SALAD — Salads can also make an amusing picture on the table. Made of lettuce, cottage cheese and peach halves, this one provides good flavor and proper nutrients. You'll probably have the children wanting to help make their salads.

Earth Quivers From Internal Stress, Force

WASHINGTON — Internal stresses, pressing with unbelievable force, make the interior of our spinning planet quiver 100,000 times a year.

The great majority of these tremors are mild, presenting no danger to man's safety on the earth's surface. Occasionally, as happened in Alaska, the violence of the motion brings swift and terrible destruction in its wake.

Earthquakes and tremors can occur almost anywhere on earth. But generally they take place in certain well-defined areas called the "Lines of Fire," the National Geographic Society says.

These regions of seismic and related volcanic activity are concentrated along the rim of the Pacific Ocean, where rugged mountains stand next to extreme ocean depths.

SECOND ZONE
A second zone in the earth's "Lines of Fire" stretches from the West Indies across the Atlantic to the Mediterranean and through the Himalayas to the East Indies.

An especially active part of the Pacific belt begins in central Alaska, passes through the Kenai Peninsula, near Anchorage, and down the Alaska Peninsula and the Aleutian Island chain to Asia.

Besides the Alaska earthquake, there has been much recent activity elsewhere.

Within a year, earthquakes and tremors have been recorded in Yugoslavia, Greece, northern Africa, Iran, Afghanistan and Pakistan, Australia, Chile, Colombia, Costa Rica, and the Azores.

Rustlers Seek Walnut Trees

Incentive Is Great; Premium Price Paid

WASHINGTON — Rustlers are prowling through forests and fields in search of unlikely booty — walnut trees.

The incentive is great. A large healthy walnut tree may yield veneer worth $20,000 wholesale.

Demand for veneer-quality black walnut has grown so rapidly that manufacturers are using it at twice the normal rate of 17 million board feet a year, the National Geographic Society says.

The U. S. Commerce Department recently restricted the export of walnut lumber.

The situation has touched off a lively treasure hunt, both by reputable loggers and some unscrupulous people.

In southern Maryland, thieves recently sawed and removed 17 walnut trees from a private woodland. They ignored other species.

STUMPS ARE VALUABLE

Enterprising loggers pull up sound stumps of long-dead trees. Those with interesting grain patterns have sold for as much as $6,000.

Veneer makers scout for choice old shade trees in private yards. In some cases, these backyard walnuts are worth even more than the houses they shade.

Old-fashioned solid walnut furniture banished to attics and barns is being hauled out and refurbished or sawed into thin sheets of veneer.

Early veneers were about 1-8th-inch thick, but improved cutting knives now make it possible to slice sheets only 1-32nd-inch thick. This permits matching cuts of elaborate grains.

LUSTROUS COLORS

Black walnut (Juglans nigra) is prized for its dark, lustrous color and striking grain. The heartwood varies from light brown to a deep chocolate. The sapwood is nearly white, but it is now common to darken it by steaming or staining.

Art for Hospital

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. — Nursery rhyme murals now brighten the walls in the Saratoga Hospital's pediatric department, thanks to the efforts of art students at Skidmore College.

China Food Situation Better; Still a Riddle

HONG KONG (AP) — The once critical food situation in Communist China appears to have improved slightly but it remains a riddle to the outside world.

Official Chinese Communist statements, accounts given by refugees from Red China and facts generally known are sometimes diametrically contradictory.

The Chinese Communist press has painted a rosy picture about food production yet no general increase in food rations has been reported.

HIGHEST SUPPLIES

For years, Red China has been Hong Kong's biggest supplier of foodstuffs, yet Hong Kong sends hundreds of thousands of food parcels to the mainland every month.

Peking has not released official statistics on its annual food production since 1959. Western observers have to gauge the situation on the basis of the amount of food available to the people.

In rural areas rations are smaller and inferior in quality. In some localities, monthly rations are as low as 10 catties, comprising rice, sweet potatoes and millet.

A healthy man consumes about one catty of rice daily. One can buy food on the official open market, but only those who receive remittances from friends and relatives overseas can afford this high-price food.

While an importer of wheat and rice, Peking has kept exporting food abroad, even during the critical famine years of 1959-62.

Red China exports millions of dollars of foodstuffs to Hong Kong monthly. Hong Kong residents send hundreds of thousands of two-pound food parcels to feed hungry friends and relatives in Red China in response to urgent pleas.

The flow of foodstuffs into Hong Kong did not stop or slacken in 1962 when an estimated 140,000 people in the south China province of Kwangtung stormed across the border and sought asylum in this British colony.

The food parcel figure has dropped to about 500,000 a month.

The drop is attributed to improvement in Red China's food situation and a new Chinese Communist policy encouraging overseas Chinese to send money instead of food.

Just Outside the Law

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Burglars robbed the cashier's office of a local produce firm after breaking into the building, located directly across the street from the rear entrance to police headquarters.

Governmental Changes Common

Trouble in Socialist Syria No Surprise

By PHIL NEWSOM

UPI Foreign News Analyst
 Syria has gone from pro-Western free enterprise to the Socialistism of UAR President Nasser, back to free enterprise and then once more to socialism.

That the country could survive such a series of economic shocks is the surprise and that it again is in trouble, no surprise at all. Unemployment is on the rise and discontent has been mounting among Syria's influential merchants because of declining business.

Reports trickling through tight censorship tell of shopkeepers' strikes in the bazaars of Damascus against the government's nationalization program.

A one-day revolt in the city of Hama was attributed by the government itself to "reactionaries" opposed to the regime's Socialist measures.

Added to this brew is the running feud between Nasser and Syria's ruling Baathist party, both of whom call themselves Socialists, and the propaganda war being carried on between Damascus and the Iraqi Baghdad regime of Abdel Salam Arif.

VIOLENT PROPAGANDA

In a manner typical of the violence of Arab propaganda, Arif has denounced the Syrian Baathists as imperialist agents supported by Israel.

Damascus describes Arif as a reactionary and successor to Nuri Es-Said, the Iraqi premier killed in the overthrow of the Iraqi monarchy in 1958.

Each has denounced the other for breaking up the spirit of Arab unity.

The Syrian government has declared it will press forward with its program of nationalization, and within the last week ordered the nationalization of three textile factories in the northern city of Aleppo whose owners had taken their funds and defected to Lebanon.

In the September 1961 revolt in which Syria renounced its union with Egypt, the reasons were much the same as those existing today — discontent among the merchant class over currency regulations and nationalization, and poverty among the farmers brought on by four successive years of drought.

The new government promised to restore free enterprise and at the same time to protect private ownership and the rights of landowners. At the same time it promised to preserve agrarian reforms already enacted.

This regime in return was overthrown on March 8, 1963, by a "National Council of the Revolutionary Command." This is the Baathist regime which today struggles to retain its power.

INTERESTED SPECTATOR

An interested spectator to all this is the Soviet Union.

Syrian Communists have fared no better under the Baathists than they did under the preceding government which was frankly pro-Western.

As a Cold War tactic, however, it has been traditional for the Soviet Union to oppose any close ties between Syria and Egypt.

Prior to 1958, the Syrian Communists were the strongest and best organized in the Middle East.

Nuttin' Better for Class Fund

BELLEVUE, Wash. (AP) — The Surrey Downs Elementary School has its own filbert grove, and every year the pupils harvest the crops, package the nuts and sell them to parents and friends.

When the school was built in the middle of an old filbert grove, it was decided to keep all 312 trees surrounding the school.

Proceeds of the sales go to the student-body fund for purchase of playground equipment and instructional material.

The Navy will have an active fleet of 673 ships by the middle of this year, including 656 combat types.

The Status Symbol of 18th Century

LONDON (AP) — The correct procedure for taking snuff became a ritual in polite society during the 18th Century and fashionable schools were opened in London to teach "the exercise of the snuff box."

Snuff boxes became status symbols, and were usually small enough to fit into pocket or purse, although they could be large, table-sized containers meant for communal use.

Made in all possible shapes from materials ranging from paper to precious metals, they were decorated with jewels, ivory, mother-of-pearl, and carvings or engraving.

Riviera Resort Show Beehive of Activity

SAN REMO, Italy (AP) — The fire department had to be called out to battle an invasion of bees which swarmed into this Italian Riviera resort.

Firemen sprayed them and drove them out of parks where they had been attracted by an annual show of flowers grown on the Riviera for export.

Young Smokers Try to Cover Stupidity

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY

Some years ago, the American Cancer society found that about 3,000 of 11,000 boys and 1,370 of 10,000 girls in high school in the Portland, Oregon area are smokers.

The report of this survey or study does not tell how the 8,000 boys and 9,500 girls manage to get along without smoking.

Some youngsters smoke because they are morose. They have enough intelligence to know that they are inferior mentally, physically or socially, and in their stupid way, think the business of lighting a cigarette covers up their deficiency.

Some smoke because they are afraid the smart Alecks or Aliens will call them "chicken."

Some cultivate the habit because "all the fellows" or "all the girls" smoke nowadays.

The percentage of smokers, is substantially higher among boys who do not participate in athletics. It is higher among pupils who do not participate in athletic or other activities.

ATHLETIC ACTIVITIES

Why don't pupils participate in athletic or other activities? Is it because they are aware of their inferiority? Or is it because their parents pamper and coddle them too much?

How many parents help their children to dodge gymnasium classes? How many teachers consider physical education a nuisance?

Sourpuss? If you happen to visit the bowling green one of these days and see no one smoking a pipe, I'm not there.

Any young person who begins to smoke while he or she is dependent upon parents or others for support is in my opinion a stinker.

Now you may say that I am biased in my opinion that cigarette smoking is most harmful, cigar smoking is less harmful and pipe smoking is least harmful.

I believe it is the carbon monoxide in tobacco smoke that accounts for the ill effects. If nicotine were as poisonous as the old timers would have us think, one good chew of tobacco would take the cheever for his last ride.

And besides, combustion destroys nicotine and generates or produces carbon monoxide.

You may dispute some of my teachings but not this one: It is fine character training for a boy or girl NOT to smoke or drink.

Stupid letters, not more than one page worth, but containing no personality or treatment, will be answered by William Brady, Jr., a student at the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright, 1964)

Signs, Words Point the Way

American and Continental European road signs differ in that American—as well as British—signs use words to instruct drivers, while the Continental system uses symbols requiring no knowledge of the language.

For "keep left" an arrow that comes between the two is used.

Red Carpets for Cold Storks

WASHINGTON — Nothing is too good for storks in the Alsace region of France. The big white birds are provided with warm living quarters and gourmet meals in an emergency.

Misled by unseasonably mild weather, a flock of migrating storks recently flew into Alsace a few weeks off schedule. When temperatures dropped and several inches of snow fell, the birds were in danger of freezing.

Alsations gathered up the numbed birds and took them into their kitchens to thaw out. Frightened at first, the storks became quite tame. Their royal fare included baby trout.

The recent effort was merely one episode in the Alsations' long love affair with storks. The citizens of Ribeauvillé, Alsace, went so far as to build a municipal housing project for the birds, the National Geographic Society says.

Pop Goes the Picket

SEATTLE (R)—A picket at a local store laid down his sign, walked into the store and came out a few moments later to resume picketing while munching like a waving wheat field. Water

Global Study Launched

Scientists Probe Giant Ocean Waves

Washington — To an expert wave-watcher, the roll of surf can reveal a storm boiling 5,000 miles away.

Oceanographers have measured waves in England which came from the southern tip of South America.

Antarctic storms can trigger swells reaching as far away as Alaska and Hawaii, the National Geographic Society says.

The United States and New Zealand recently launched a global wave study with the cooperation of scientists at New Zealand's Oceanographic Institute of the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research and the University of California's Institute of Geophysics and Planetary Physics.

ACCURATE PREDICTIONS The project should provide more accurate predictions of heavy seas, so important to fishing and shipping fleets.

Scientists have tried for years to make waves spill their secrets.

Leonardo da Vinci, an ardent 15th-century wave-watcher, noted that water behaves much like a waving wheat field. Water moves up and down, but, like the wheat, remains in place.

In World War II, a group of scientists known as the Swell Forecasting Section played a vital part in predicting the action of seas off Normandy on D-Day, June 6, 1944.

NOT TOO RIGHT

As those who were there remember, the predictions left something to be desired. The sea was catastrophically rough.

Giant sea waves always have been man's enemy. Seventy-foot hurricane waves reportedly destroyed 23,000 boats and drowned 300,000 people in the Bay of Bengal in 1757.

The biggest sea waves aren't even seen. Unexpected 300-foot giants have thrown submarines out of the water.

MOST FEARED

Seismic waves or tsunamis — Japanese for "harbor waves" — are most feared because they travel almost unnoticed at speeds up to 500 m.p.h. across the ocean, then build up to great heights as they approach shore.

Though they are called "tidal waves," the tsunamis are caused by submarine earthquakes or volcanic eruptions.

An Alaskan earthquake in 1958 triggered seismic waves that climbed 1,000 feet up a heavily wooded mountainside and scoured trees, earth, and everything else down to the bedrock.

Ever since early seafarers "poured oil on the troubled waters," men have tried to still the seas.

TO CALM WATERS

In the 1st Century, Pliny the Elder reported that divers released olive oil from their mouths to try to calm the waters. The Spanish rigged paddle wheels in parallel channels out from the shore.

British officials have experimented with perforated pipes, laid across a harbor mouth, which shoot up air bubbles.

Recently, but with little more success, a Frenchman devised a long, open box called a hydraulic resonator. The inventor claimed it calms the sea by pitting wave against wave to neutralize the motion.

United States Rubber Co. scientists are planning hopes on a floating box with hanging plastic and fabric curtains which will calm the ocean much as seaweed does.

Hopefully the wave traps can serve as portable breakwaters to protect harbors, prevent beach erosion, and aid in sea rescue operations.

Danes Do Dig Dairy Dives

COPENHAGEN (R)—The success of three experimental milk bars, opened a few months ago by the Danish dairy industry, will lead to the opening soon of 17 more, the industry has announced.

The bars are so popular as meeting places that they draw as many as 1,000 youngsters a day and provide a meeting place for teen-agers as well as a means of stimulating milk drinking among the young.

Open from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m., they offer 15 varieties of milkshakes and radio programs that feature serious discussions as well as popular music.

Cows Need Customers, Dairy Farmers Say

WASHINGTON (R)—At the present rate of milk consumption, a dairy farmer needs 55 customers for each 100 pounds of milk he needs to market, according to estimates by the American Dairy Association.

The average milk cow produces from 60 to 90 pounds of milk daily and the average-size herd would contain from 40 to 60 animals producing milk at one time.

Improve Your Reading—XIX

Technique Helps in Retaining Information

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the 19th article in a 20-part series designed to improve your reading. Time your reading of this column and compare your speed with that indicated at the end. The expected speed assumes a daily 5 per cent improvement.)

By THE READING LABORATORY, INC.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

If you have been following the Reading Laboratory program faithfully through these columns, you should be reading faster, with better understanding and you should be a lot sharper critic of opinion writing. Don't worry about imposing too much on your memory; you won't collapse mentally from trying to retain as much as humanly possible from what you read.

The more you exercise your mind, the bigger the load it can carry with ease. The Thrifty follows our military services are worried about never tested their muscles; now they have none.

Retention is no problem if you practice our steps of pre-reading, questioning, outlining and summarizing.

If you decide to cram a whole term's work into your head overnight for tomorrow's exam, you'll retain precious little after tomorrow.

MENTAL APPROACH

Your mental approach determines that. If you're reading something from which you want the barest knowledge, that's all you get.

All right, you say, here's reading I really should do, but I thoroughly dislike the stuff. How can I change my mental approach?

Simple. Imagine you have to teach a certain chapter tomorrow. That means you'll have to make it clear; that means it will have to be clear to you, right?

That means you'll have to make up similes and other comparisons. That means you have to go to the author of the text one better.

PREPARE MIND

You'll also want to give a test. Every good teacher does. So you prepare in your mind the key questions, and now you're not just an observer of the author's progress; you're a sympathetic ally.

Convince yourself that you're going to teach the whole course or that you're going to write an improved version of this text.

Your motivation is now ideal and you start looking for gimmicks to help you retain what you're going to teach.

If you've done even the skimpiest pre-reading, mentally summarize each paragraph as you go. It takes just a second. GUESS AHEAD.

By the time you come to the third paragraph, guess at the next paragraph.

Paragraph three is leading you to paragraph four, so see if you can foretell. Do this all the way through. Then mentally sum up the whole chapter and try to guess what should make up the following chapter.

Take any sentence in this column. Each one has key words; the other words are like glue: they tie the words together.

You're involved nicely with the author now and you're following his main ideas expressed in key words. Summarize only in key words and this, in turn, will show you how to search out only the key words in what follows.

RIGHT APPROACH

In a nutshell: get the right mental approach so that you are moved to retain the material for good; summarize each paragraph as you go; summarize only in key words so that you'll learn to spot key words as you continue.

Practice: read a news story in your paper, then ask someone to quiz you on what you read. You are as rich as what you retain; you retain as much as you motivate yourself to retain. (You should have read this column in 52 seconds.)

Income on the Increase for British Workers

LONDON (U)—White collar pay averages 22 pounds 2 shillings 2 pence ($41.80) a week in Britain, the last survey by the Ministry of Labor shows.

The October 1963, figure was 4.8 per cent higher than the previous year and 22.4 per cent higher than the 1959 average.

Heart Association Stresses Need for Resuscitation

Abortions Take Toll

LONDON (U)—There are between 400 and 600 deaths in Britain each year from abortion, Dr. Ann Mullins writes in the magazine Family Doctor. She says at least 150 abortions take place each day.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the seventh article in a series on diseases of the heart and blood system generally known as cardiovascular disease. The series is produced in cooperation with the Michigan Heart Association, a member of the United Fund.

CCCR are four letters that could save a life. A lot of people, however, have never heard of them.

It is time they did, according to the Michigan Heart Association (MHA).

And the MHA has been teaching CCCR for 18 months, instructing more than 10,000 physicians, nurses, police and firemen, life guards and similar rescue personnel.

What is CCCR? The MHA says it is Closed Chest Cardiac Resuscitation.

RECENT DISCOVERY

Blowing air into a victim's lungs has been done for many years, but massaging the heart by means of pressure applied on the chest, thus forcing blood to circulate and sustain life was discovered by a heart researcher just a few years ago.

The value of the technique, when applied promptly in cases of sudden death, especially drowning, electrocution, drug overdose or heart attack, is unquestioned.

For example, Dr. Robert Leitchman of Clarkson told the Association:

"I'm sure if we had not had the (CCCR training) program, the staff (at Pontiac General Hospital) would not have known what to do and my patient would have died."

"He lived because of an hour of intensive CCR. I can say this categorically."

HOSPITALIZED

The 45-year-old patient had been in the hospital two weeks recovering from a coronary when his heart stopped.

The association does not advise using the technique in cases of severe or prolonged illness or advanced age. However, these factors can be variable.

The critical factor is time. A brain deprived of blood for a period of more than four minutes can suffer irreparable injury.

QUICK START

Resuscitation is best done by two persons, but a quick start by one is better than waiting. A hard surface is best.

First, is to be sure the victim's throat is clear, and that air can pass; this is done by lifting the neck forcing the head back, and inserting a finger in the mouth to clear out dirt, food or vomit.

Every six or eight seconds, one rescuer blows into the victim's mouth, while the other rhythmically presses—60 times a minute—on the lower half of the center of the chest.

EXPAND, COMPRESS

While each blowing should expand the chest of the victim, the heart massage should compress the chest an inch or two depending on the size of the victim.

Heart pressure is applied with the heel of one hand reinforced by the second, both arms are held straight with the weight of the body behind a quick short push.

To say the least, CCCR is tiring, but it must not be stopped. It should be continued on the floor of the ambulance and in the emergency room of the hospital until the doctors take over.

Often CCCR will start a stopped heart by itself, but more often it won't. What is needed is a defibrillator, a device which retimes and restarts the heart by means of a powerful electric shock.

HOSPITAL SUPPLY

Many hospitals have defibrillators and people who know how to use them.

The Michigan Heart Association is prepared to supply free teachers, members of our physician team.

A word of caution—everyone should take CCCR lessons, because, improperly used, it can do damage. Heart massage in the wrong place can break ribs or burst a spleen; if it is too gentle, not enough blood is circulated.

It also supplies a rubber and plastic manikin which contains a chest and heart designed to simulate a real life rescue.

Its throat has to be cleared so air can be blown into the chest; if the right amount of air, the chest will expand. The rubber heart is hooked to a gauge, which indicates blood pressure. Actually, you can be sure the life you save will not be your own, but it could be that of your son or daughter.

Constant Hollywood Parade Reviewed at the Newsstand

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD—Most people in Hollywood come from somewhere else, and when they want to learn about where they came from, they go to the out-of-town newspaper stand at Las Palmas Avenue and Hollywood Boulevard.

THOMAS

The stand's aged cash register can be heard ringing around the clock, and each hour brings a new pattern of purchasers—from the fry cooks, hotel help and janitors of early dawn to the musicians, drivers and insomniacs of late night.

For 25 years, the owners of the Universal News Agency, Simon Feinstein and Walter Spile, have been watching the never-ending parade. "It's a fascinating business," said Feinstein. "You see people from all walks of life and from the four corners of the globe."

ART MAGAZINES

"We get 'em all. You talk about stars. They've all been here. That fellow who plays Perry Mason on the television—what's his name, Raymond Burr?—he comes by every week to pick up the latest art magazines."

"We work close to the dollar," he said. "We only make about five cents on magazines. Our biggest profit is on the out-of-town newspapers. But most of them are on a nonreturnable basis. We stock 500 different papers and every month we throw out hundreds and hundreds of copies that don't sell."

Then there is the matter of passersby who consider the stand a public library. During the peak selling hours one man does nothing but stand on the curb to check pilferage.

The newsstand faces right on the street with only a three-foot awning for shelter. Rain cuts into sales, but then a lot of customers drive by to pick up their papers.

FOREIGN PAPERS

Coomer Spile opened a hemp bag full of foreign newspapers. "Looka this," he said proudly as he chewed his cigar. "The London Times just flown in, dated two days ago."

Spile, diminutive and weather-worn like his partner, recalled past customers fondly.

"Charlie Chaplin used to come by all the time with his wife, Oona. Know what he'd buy? Detective stories. Wally Beery was a regular customer, and so was Lionel Barrymore. He used to drive by, get out in his wheelchair and look at the yachting magazines. Gene Tierney used to pick up the latest Paris fashion magazines. Mack Sennett would walk past every day to get the Hollywood trade papers. You name 'em, they've been here."

One of the enjoyments of his work is watching friendships develop at the racks.

COMMON ORIGIN

"Someone will be looking at a paper when another person walks up to get the same one," he said. "They start a conversation and they find out they came from the same part of a city that is far away. It's nice."

Matron Is Convinced by Prisoner's Talk

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—A female prisoner in the Lincoln city jail started talking to herself to pass the time. Then she began to answer her own questions.

The chattering was so realistic the police matron unthinkingly brought her two dinners.

Century-Old Oven Still in Regular Use

NAMUR, Wis. (AP)—A brick-lined stone oven, built 100 years ago, is still in regular use on the farm of the Harvey Jeanquarts, a Belgian family.

During the Kermis, a Belgian harvest celebration held in the fall, Mrs. Jeanquart uses it to bake 30 loaves of bread at a time and 50 or 60 pies for the fête.

The oval oven, made of stones gathered from nearby fields, was constructed by Victor DuBois, original owner of the farm.

Americans purchased more than 2.2 million musical instruments during 1963.

He Shoulda Stood in Bed

LEWIS, Iowa (AP)—John R. Struthers was taking an afternoon nap at his home one afternoon when his wife awakened him.

"There's a bunch of cars stopped down the road," she said. "Maybe it's an accident. Go down and see."

Struthers protested, but finally made the trip of about two blocks in his car.

The cluster of cars was the result of an Iowa Highway Patrol motor vehicle check, and Struthers got a ticket for a defective turn signal.

All Sicilian Products

CAGLIARI, Sardinia (AP)—Sardines were named after the island of Sardinia—but so was the sardonic smile.

Folklore here says ancient inhabitants of the island chewed a drug herb which caused spasms of the facial muscles in a semblance of humorless laughter from which the word sardonic was taken.

Uncooked Wine Sauce for Fish

When fish needs a little special flattery, serve it with a sour cream sauce that has plenty of zest. This one with horseradish, mustard, wine and pineapple adds great appeal to baked, broiled or poached fish. The sauce should be stirred together well ahead of time, and then refrigerated to allow blending of the various seasonings. If you chill the dry white wine to be used in the sauce, it will be all ready to serve as the accompanying dinner beverage, too. California's dry white wines such as Sauterne, Chablis or the various Rieslings are especially good with fish.

Zesty Sour Cream Sauce
 1/4 cup California Chablis, Sauterne or other white dinner wine
 1 tablespoon dehydrated horse-radish
 1/4 teaspoon paprika
 1 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
 2 tablespoons finely chopped green onion
 1 tablespoon garlic wine vinegar
 1 cup dairy sour cream
 1 (8-oz.) can pineapple tidbits
 Stir wine, horseradish, paprika, salt and mustard together; let stand 5 or 10 minutes. Blend in onion, vinegar, sour cream and drained pineapple. Cover and chill several hours to mellow and blend flavors. Serve with baked, broiled or poached fish. Makes about 1 pint.

Peasant Bread Is Batter Variety

Here's a quick, pantry-shelf product for the breadbaker.

Emma Law's Peasant Bread

3 1/2 cups warm water
 3 packages active dry yeast
 2 tablespoons salt
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup non-fat dry milk solids
 1/2 cup salad oil
 2-pound bag flour
 Pour warm water over yeast in a large bowl, at least four-quart capacity; stir until yeast is dissolved. Add salt, sugar and dry milk powder; stir until dissolved. Add salad oil. Gradually beat in all flour until batter is smooth.

Cover bowl loosely and place in a warm place free from drafts; let rise until doubled in bulk. Beat well and divide into five oiled round utility pans, each 6 by 2 inches. Let rise again until dough almost reaches top of pans.

Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven until loaves are golden brown and shrink slightly from pans, 40 to 45 minutes. Turn out of pans and cool on racks.

Cereal Tops Baked Fruit and Tapioca

This breakfast, designed for April, has the look, the color, the taste of spring. The main dish, cereal and fruit, displays to full advantage the glossy brightness of sugar-glazed ready-to-eat puffed oat cereal. For most people, a breakfast of average servings of the five foods composing a cereal and milk adequate breakfast—fruit juice, breakfast cereal, milk, bread, butter or margarine—supply one-fourth of the day's food needs.

Strawberry Rhubarb With Crisp Oat Topping
 1 package (1 pound) frozen strawberries in sugar, defrosted
 1 package (1 pound) frozen rhubarb in sugar syrup, defrosted
 2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
 3 tablespoons butter or margarine
 1/2 cup sugar
 1/2 cup light corn syrup
 3 cups ready-to-eat puffed oat cereal

Mix strawberries, rhubarb, and tapioca in shallow 1 1/2-quart casserole. Let stand about 5 minutes. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) until tapioca is cooked, about 30 minutes.
 Melt butter or margarine; add sugar and corn syrup. Heat, stirring constantly, until bubbly all over. Stir in cereal.

Remove casserole from oven; spoon cereal over top of fruit mixture, return to oven to heat, about 5 minutes. Serve warm, with milk or cream. Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Zesty Muffins Better Meals

Muffins and quick breads are lifesavers for busy homemakers. They can be whipped up from ingredients on hand, and take only a few minutes to prepare.

Ham and Blue Cheese Muffins are delightful corn muffins with a new flavor twist. The zesty flavor of American blue cheese adds a delicious surprise accent to the ordinary corn muffin.

Ham and Blue Cheese Muffins
 2 eggs
 1 1/2 cups milk
 1/4 cup vegetable oil or melted shortening
 2 cups deviled ham
 2 tablespoons minced onion
 1/4 cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 1 1/4 ounces)

2 cups corn meal
 2 tablespoons sugar
 1 tablespoon baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 Mix eggs, milk, shortening, ham, onion and blue cheese together. Do not beat vigorously as the blue cheese should remain in small crumbles.

Add corn meal, sugar, baking powder and salt. Mix until dry ingredients are moistened. Do not overbeat. Pour batter into greased muffin tins about 3/4 full. Bake in 425 degree oven about 15-20 minutes or until lightly browned.

Chocolate milk is whole milk with chocolate syrup added. Chocolate drink is partly skimmed milk with cocoa powder added.

Brunch Eggs Skillet Cooked

More and more hostesses are discovering the gaiety and carefreeness of entertaining at brunch. A late morning or mid-day light meal is a most welcome way to greet guests.

Put your electric skillet to work. The main dish cooked in the skillet goes right to the table or buffet.

Canned condensed Cheddar cheese soup joins forces with the egg for a dish to highlight any brunch menu—Skillet Eggs. The uniqueness of the flavor and texture of this quick to prepare dish will win compliments for any hostess.

Wedges of coffee cake (one of the packaged varieties for additional ease), still warm from the oven, and individual dishes of chilled bananas and pineapple chunks lightly topped with coconut make this meal worthy and memorable.

Skillet Eggs
 2 eggs, separated
 1 can (11 ounces) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
 1/4 cup minced cooked ham
 1 can (2 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained and finely chopped
 1/4 cup finely chopped celery
 2 tablespoons chopped chives
 2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Preheat electric skillet to 300 degrees. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon colored; beat in soup; fold into egg whites with ham, mushrooms, celery, and chives. Melt butter in skillet; pour in egg mixture. Cook; cook 20 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

*Follow manufacturers' directions.

Caramel Dumplings Cook in Fruit Juice

Heat 1 1/2 cups pineapple juice, 1 1/2 cups brown sugar and 2 tablespoons butter to boiling. Meanwhile, stir together 1 1/2 cups biscuit mix, 1/2 cup milk. Drop tablespoons of dough over boiling sauce; cover and boil gently 20 minutes. Serve these fragrant warm. Makes about 6.

Onion Squares Done 2 Ways

When the main meal isn't quite as exciting or filling as it should be, just one item can make a difference. This change can be in color, flavor, texture or a new twist to an old favorite. Onion squares made either with pastry dough or corn muffin mix can add just this touch to a mundane meal.

Onion Squares

1 14-oz. package corn muffin mix
1 cup onions
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon oil
1 egg
½ cup sour cream
Dash paprika

Prepare mix as directed on package. Sauté thinly sliced onion in one tablespoon oil and salt. Cook until tender but not brown. Beat egg and add to sour cream. Pour mix in 8x8 inch square pan. Top mix with onions and cover with sour cream. Sprinkle top with paprika. Bake as suggested on box. Makes 6-8 servings.

Or

1 layer pie crust for 8" pan
1 cup onions
1 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon oil
1 egg
½ cup sour cream
dash nutmeg

Roll out pie crust. Use an 8" pie pan or 8" square pan. Layer dough on bottom. Sauté thinly sliced onions in oil and add salt. Cook until tender but not brown. Beat egg and add to sour cream. Put cooked onions on top of pastry. Pour sour cream over onions. Sprinkle nutmeg on top. Bake in 350 degree oven 25-30 minutes. Makes 4-6 servings.

Mix Scrambled Eggs

With Corn, Bacon Bits

Corn and Scrambled Eggs offer a change of pace for a brunch or quick supper main dish. Strips of green pepper add a crisp texture and color. Heat a drained 12 or 16 oz. can of whole kernel corn and green pepper strips in melted butter. Add eight beaten eggs to the skillet and salt and pepper to taste. Cook as for scrambled eggs, stirring gently. Sprinkle crisp bacon bits over top and the platter is ready to serve.

You'll shorten the stirring time if, when you make a soft custard sauce you heat the milk before combining it with the eggs and sugar.

SEAFOOD CHINESE—An exotic combination of big pink shrimp and bright red pimiento chunks in a sweet and sour sauce atop a bed of tender-crisp vegetables—a dish as popular with the family as with the busy cook.

Cook Chinese Cabbage as Base for Shrimp

Chinese food has become more and more popular with American families. These dishes with their contrasts of textures, tastes and colors lend a bit of the exotic to family meals as well as appealing to the busy homemaker with their speed of preparation.

Seafood Chinese

4 cups shredded Chinese cabbage (about ½ large head)*
3 tablespoons shortening
Seasoned salt and pepper to taste
2 cans (1 lb. each) mixed Chinese vegetables, drained
1 large green pepper, cubed
1 large onion, sliced
1 can (5-oz.) water chestnuts, drained and sliced
1 can (10½-oz.) cream of celery soup
1½ pounds raw shrimp
1 small clove garlic
1 tablespoon sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 tablespoons soy sauce
½ cup pineapple juice
1 cup (2 4-oz. cans or jars) pimientos
Chow mein noodles

Saute shredded cabbage in hot shortening, season to taste. Add a little hot water, not more than 2 tablespoons, cover and simmer about 3-4 minutes; keep warm. Mix vegetables in soup, simmer until heated through. The raw vegetables will not be cooked, but will remain crisp. If softer, cooked vegetables are preferred, pepper and onion should be cooked until done in water to cover, then drained and added to other vegetables.

Peel and clean shrimp, then cook shrimp, shrimp shells and garlic clove in water to cover for 5 minutes. Drain shrimp, reserving liquid; discard shells and garlic. If necessary, add water to reserved fish liquid to make 1½ cups.

Stir in cornstarch dissolved in a little cold water, sugar, vinegar, soy sauce and pineapple juice. Stir over moderate heat until slightly thickened and clear. Taste and add seasonings to taste. Add shrimp and pimientos (halved or in large chunks); simmer to heat through. Keep ingredients separated, and ring around a center mound of crisp chow mein noodles. Makes 6-8 servings.

*If Chinese cabbage is not available, use celery or spinach.
Other seafood can be used such as a combination of 1½ pound shrimp, ½ pound scallops and ½ pound cubed fish fillet. Or combine shrimp and diced rock lobster. Or shrimp and canned lump crab meat.

Or use a small can pineapple tidbits or chunks (fruit and juice).

Old World Touch Given to Salad

Need a new salad for Friday's luncheon or dinner? Here is one that can be made ahead of time to mellow the flavors. It has a touch of Swedish Cuisine with the combination of beets, potatoes and salmon.

Friday's Salad

1 cup salmon
1 cup cooked potatoes
½ cup white wine vinegar
½ teaspoon salt
5 crushed fennel seeds
1 tablespoon sweet pickle relish
½ cup chopped celery
½ cup julienned cooked beets
½ cup sour cream

Remove skin and bone before measuring cup of canned salmon. Break meat into pieces. Put vinegar in bottom of salad bowl, add diced potatoes, relish, fennel seeds, and salt. Add salmon, celery and well drained beets. Fold in sour cream. Refrigerate for a couple of hours.

The 18-hole women golfers of Pine Lake Country Club started the season today with a breakfast. Discussing their plans for the year are

18-Holers Open Year at Breakfast

Some 145 members who play golf each Thursday morning opened the 1964 season with a breakfast this morning at Pine Lake Country Club.

The group, the 18-Hole Women Golfers, has as its chairman Mrs. Glenn A. MacKellar. Other officers are Mrs. Harold T. Cregar, vice chairman; Mrs. John E. Murtagh Jr., secretary; and Mrs. W. B. Booth, treasurer.

Other members of the golf committee include Mrs. Clarence J. Nephler Jr., Mrs. Harold J. Heffernan, Mrs. W. P. Hickman, Mrs. E. O. Borglin, Mrs. Fred T. Hopkins, Mrs. James R. Quinn and Mrs. Ben Ragland.

Mrs. Robert M. Thibideau will be in charge of the tournament for the president's trophy; Mrs. B. J. Bergesen for the director's cup; and Mrs. John R. Bull for the club championship.

Parental Secrets Told to Child Study Group

Sharing hostess honors for the occasion were Mrs. William Hilderley, Mrs. Fred Hoenstein, Mrs. Harold Kendrick, Mrs. Jack Hicks, Mrs. William Boettcher and Mrs. Ira Vail.

Officers were elected to be installed at the May meeting. They are Mrs. Neil Gray, president; Mrs. Victor Sutt, first vice president; Mrs. Donald Newman, second vice president; Mrs. George Wetherhahn, recording secretary; Mrs. Dean Field, financial secretary; Mrs. George Pen-tuit, corresponding secretary.

Two Programs Heard by Club

Two speakers were featured at the Wednesday dinner meeting of the General Motors Girls' club.

Randall Switzer showed a movie on "Cooking with Wine" and William L. Belaney discussed "What the Credit Union Means to G.M. Truck and Coach Employees."

Mrs. Otis Brookshear and Mrs. Donald Duffy were chairmen of the affair. This event is one of the major welfare projects being held at the G.M. Credit Union hall.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Altrusa Club to Mark Birthday

The Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham will celebrate Altrusa International 47th birthday with a 10 a.m. breakfast at Kingsley Inn Sunday.

This first woman's service club was established in 1917 and now has clubs located in Bermuda, Canada, England, Guatemala, India, Ireland, Mexico, the Philippines, Puerto Rico and the United States.

Keynote speaker will be Mrs. Jean Hoxie who is administrator in the public schools of Hamtramck, an outstanding tennis coach, and an ambassador of good will for America.

In teaching tennis Mrs. Hoxie emphasizes the development of the individual and her students are noted as young ladies and gentlemen as well as star tennis players.

TAUGHT ROYALTY

Her work for the state department has included teaching the crown prince of Japan, the daughters of Queen Juliana and other world leaders.

Special guests will include Mrs. Robert Stewart of Mansfield, Ohio, membership chairman of Altrusa International and past district governor of district five; and Evelyn Miller of Chillicothe, Ohio, membership chairman of district five.

Other guests will include members from Lansing and Detroit Altrusa clubs, along with the Birmingham Soroptimist.

CHAIRMAN

Marion Goodale is chairman of the committee in charge of the affair. She will be assisted by Muriel Brusie, Mrs. W. C. Spruill, Mrs. Laurence J. Hietzel and Marjorie Sallie.

Workshop Scheduled for 10 State Division WNFGA Units

Members of ten branches of the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will participate in a workshop Monday in the CAI building.

Hosts for the affair will be the Waterford Branch, Guests clubs will include Clarkston, Lake Angelus, Holiday Farms, Lorraine Manor, Pine Lake, Pine Lake Estates, Sylvan Lake, Sylvan Manor and Kern Lake.

WORK SESSION

The morning session, featuring flower arranging for the home, is scheduled to begin at 9:30. Instructions on table settings for flower shows will follow the luncheon interlude.

Three graduate flower show judges from the WNFGA's Michigan Division will be the instructors, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Stiller of Holly. Assisting her will be Mrs. Arthur Cox of Milford.

Those who plan to attend will bring their own materials and equipment. Coffee and dessert will be served.

Luncheon Aids Veterans Fund

Blue Star Mothers of America, Pontiac chapter 4, met for a luncheon, social hour, and business meeting Tuesday at the Lake Orion home of Mrs. Edward Schram.

Mrs. Florence McCrae will be chairman of a May 6 money-making project.

The May 12 meeting will be at the Pontiac YMCA on Mt. Clemens Street.

No Need to Stay Up for Guests

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: When having house guests, is it impolite for the hosts to retire at an earlier hour than the guests?

My husband thinks it is perfectly all right for them to do so, especially when they have a daily schedule to follow and must be up fairly early in the morning.

I think it is awkward and impolite for the hosts to go to bed and leave their guests. What is your opinion?

A: It is the host's (or hostess's) place to suggest going to bed and the guests usually follow their lead.

However, if the guests wish to stay up watching television, or reading, or whatever, it is not necessary for the hosts to stay up with them and they may quite properly go to bed.

Q: A friend of ours is going to be married this coming Saturday. My husband and I were invited to the wedding but we will be unable to go.

I did, however, send a wedding present to the bride and enclosed a card with our good wishes.

My husband thinks we should send a telegram to the bride and groom the day of their wedding since we will not be able to be there.

Will you please tell me if this is necessary?

A: Having sent a wedding present to the bride along with your good wishes, it is not necessary to send a telegram the day of the wedding.

Of course if you would like to do so, it will surely please the bride and groom.

Bangs Hide Her Forehead; but Don't Be a Sorehead

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old. My bangs touch the end of my eyebrows and that's the way I like them.

The kids at school like them that way, too, but my mom and dad want them cut.

I think I should be able to have my hair the way I like it at my age. What do you think?

LORRAINE
DEAR LORRAINE: Even more important than how you wear your hair is obeying the wishes of your parents.

BUT, I wish more parents would worry less about how their children wear their hair (as long as it was clean and neat) and worried more about what was UNDER the scalp.

DEAR ABBY: The day after I was married my husband told me that he had paid $500 to have a thorough investigation made of my background because he knew I wasn't telling him "everything." I had done in my life before we met.

He was right. I didn't lie. When he asked me, I told him I had made some mistakes, but they didn't concern him. (I had no illegitimate children or previous marriages to hide.)

We have been married five months, and a day has not gone by that he doesn't throw something of my past in my face.

His greatest pleasure is taunting me about this. I cannot stand the torture any longer. He knew all this a month before we were married, but he kept it quiet until afterwards.

I think my marriage was a mistake. We were married in the church. What can I do, short of suicide?

TWENTY-TWO AND MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Run — do not walk — to your minister and tell him your story. It could have a happy ending. Good luck.

At Annual Dinner

Assistants Honor Bosses

Oakland County Medical Assistants Society honored their doctor bosses on Wednesday evening in Kingsley Inn at the 9th annual "Bosses Night."

Dr. Robert S. Cooper was toastmaster for the dinner and evening of entertainment. Other honored guests included Dr. Robert M. Bookmyer, Dr. Kenneth Stolpman, Dr. F. A. Gaensbauer and Dr. Francis J. McEvoy.

Mrs. Robert E. Doyle, medical assistant to Dr. John L. Winant, was honored as "Medical Assistant of the Year." Mrs. George Hermoyan received the county service award.

Highlight of the evening was presentation of a humorous medical skit entitled, "Fantasy and Fact," with an all-medical assistant cast.

Music for the occasion was provided by a trio of musical MDs; Dr. Shelby Baylis, Dr. Donald H. McCandless and Dr. William von Valtier.

Assisting Mrs. Max Elliott, bosses night chairman, were Mrs. George F. Woody, Mrs. Robert A. Carlson, Mrs. Doyle and Mrs. Hermoyan.

Others were Mrs. Richard Jones Jr., Avis Wooster and Nina Williams.

Secretary of the Year Is Chosen

Catherine Walser was crowned secretary of the year for north Oakland County in festivities at Devon Gables last night.

The dinner meeting was held by the Pontiac Chapter of the National Secretaries Association in honor of "Secretaries Day," high point in the national "Secretaries Week."

Miss Walser is employed by Pontiac Motor Division as secretary to two reliability assurance directors: O. J. Brown and D. G. Simpson. She is a graduate of Waterford Township High School and the Pontiac Business Institute.

Judge William J. Beer spoke on "Business of the Court" at the meeting.

Guests included Miss Walser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eagon Walser. Others present were Barbara Micek, Ruth Brinia Moore, Virginia Hurlbut and Mrs. Robert L. Smith.

Don't Complain About No Time---Work!

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK — Today we turn our attention to the harassed woman who complains like most of society that there is not enough time these days to save time.

But it can be done. There is hope even for the confirmed procrastinators who spend more time working up to doing things than to doing them.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R., Me., tries to start each day as early as possible, claiming she can get twice as much work done in the hours before 9 a.m. as after.

Arthur Godfrey believes he saves 20 minutes each day simply by getting up when he wakes up.

Henry Ford II gains time by organizing it — writing down things to be done as much as one month ahead. Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, former U.S. treasurer, saves time by using a telephone headset which leaves her hands free for other chores while she waits, or talks.

Some women use small sized stationery — less time spent on writing. Mary Margaret McBride is reported to have gone even farther by using postcards for correspond-pondence.

As one who prides herself on being on time, I'm interested to learn that in a lifetime I will have spent three years waiting. The estimate comes from the U.S. census bureau, based on a study made by the University of Wisconsin.

Difficult as it is to believe, an extra 15 minutes a day would enable one in a year to read the whole Bible twice, the complete works of Shakespeare once.

The William H. Mohrhorffs of Mackintosh Lane announce the engagement of their daughter Miriam Christine to Lionel Albert Poirier, son of the Lionel W. Poiriers of Centredale, R.I. Both are graduate students at University of Wisconsin.

MIRIAM CHRISTINE MOHRHOFF

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is interesting to note how the habits, fashions, interests, hobbies, popular sports and the mode of life of the time, are reflected in the classified advertisements.

You will find it a hilarious and fascinating experience if you browse through the classified advertisements of some old newspapers.

I have always thought that it would be fun to write a book or at least a magazine article about this. However, I will probably never do it since it would take a lot of time and travel, if done properly.

On the current scene the elaborate beautiful bathroom seems to be an outstanding symbol of our time. Perhaps it is symptomatic of our love of luxury and reminiscent of the Romans' penchant for luxurious baths.

I have wondered just why this great interest in bathrooms has occurred. With this in mind, the other day in New York I had a talk with Sherle Wagner.

He has been a tremendous force in upgrading the bathroom from a dark corner in the house to a lounge worthy of a Cleopatra.

Mr. Wagner said that he had long been aware that the bathroom was the most neglected area in the house. It had no style and no glamour.

He reminded me that people have become much more conscious of style and gracious living than they once were because of the movies and television.

I was surprised to hear him say that more and more people are building homes in their later years. Many are finally building their dream house and every detail must be lovely. There are many beautiful designs.

Fixtures are 24 carat gold plate, silver plate or chrome. Some handles have semiprecious stones.

The charming, elegant bathroom seems to have become an international mania. There are "his" bathrooms and "hers" bathrooms and double bathrooms.

I asked Sherle Wagner how the men react to the elaborate bath.

He told me that most of them go along with the idea. It is usually the little woman who is the instigator but generally the husband helps with the selection and seldom balks.

In short, nearly 90 hours saved for something you want to do like taking those neglected piano lessons or the adult education course in decorating.

Then, there's the advice from one magazine for women to put their schedules on a diet.

It suggested that just as families have eliminated the 14-course meal, so the homemaker must stop dividing herself up for so many activities that she cannot contribute much to any.

Once signed up for, say, the PTA, symphony association and church bazaar, these are enough.

There are women who do their menu planning while sitting under a dryer at the beauty shop, who buy birthday cards in sufficient quantity at one stroke to cover the whole year of assorted relatives, who make carbon copies of folksy letters to interested members of the family.

As for procrastination, that nasty old thief of time, the best way to whip it is to dig into the project.

Although, as a practiced procrastinator, I was interested in the way James E. Robison, head of Indian Head Mills Fabrics, handles this time waster.

He deliberately tosses certain papers into a special "procrastinator's drawer." When filled, he goes through — to find that 75 to 90 per cent of the problems have solved themselves.

Two members of Xi Pi chapter presented a program to their Beta Sigma Phi sorority sisters at the April meeting, Tuesday in the Waldron Hotel. Admiral Richard Byrd's book entitled "Alone," Mrs. Willard Stephen spoke of his personal discoveries as well as the scientific data in the content.

Elizabeth Halsey discussed "High Moments of Music" and played recordings of Beethoven's "Sonata in F" and Mozart's Quintet in G Minor.

Mrs. John S. Black of Foxcroft will be hostess for the chapter's birthday dinner on May 19.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Alphonsus Fowler and Mrs. Stephan.

Pillar Group Hears Music

A special musical program by a group of girls from the Baldwin School honor choir with Mrs. Harold Northing directed highlighted the Tuesday evening Pillar club meeting.

Mrs. Frank Kirby opened her Cherokee Road home for the dinner affair with Mrs. Northing, Mrs. J. A. Rammes, Mrs. L. L. Dunlap and Mrs. Raymond C. Meiser assisting the hostess.

Mrs. Rammes told the group of her recent tour of South America.

Anchor Cushion With Foam Rubber

If flyweight plastic foam chair or sofa cushions constantly shift out of position, try putting an uncovered piece of sheet latex foam rubber under the cushion. The thousands of tiny air cells in the foam rubber will grip the upholstery fabric and help ease the cushion's wanderlust. Better still, the cushions can be easily replaced with real foam rubber!

This spray shield kit enables anyone, even Mrs. X, to color shoes without a mess. The kit includes a plastic glove, two sticks, and a spray "booth." It can be purchased for 49 cents at department, shoe and variety stores.

Fringe Benefits

Mrs. X Goes Color Mad on Shoes

By MIRIAM NEAL
Mrs. X was a normal, happy housewife with brown, black, beige, white and navy shoes.

Her closet was liberally filled with light spring fashions, many white, mostly pastels and bright, bright shades. Nevertheless she felt drab, dull, and conventional.

Everyday she would go to her closet, smile at her dresses and frown at her shoes.

It was no use. Something had to be done.

She started saving pennies and forming her plan. She had it timed to the second. When the day came, the whole house was empty: no kids, no dogs, no bridge club, no husband, no nothing.

She "snuck" to the store, made her purchase and hurried back to the house. After bolting the doors, she ran to her bedroom and locked the door.

Suddenly the room was swept with swirls of color and high, nervous laughter.

When it was all over her shoes lay on the floor in torrid shades of fuchsia, peacock blue and parachute orange with plaids and stripes and polka dots and glitter and even pea green checks.

They were no longer drab.

Now she could walk with feet high, bright and pretty and if she tired of her shoes she could paint them again.

She has 24 colors to choose from any of which she can blend with any other. Like a child in kindergarten, all she needs is paint and lots of room.

Now there's a new product, which eliminates the need for lots of room. A shield is equipped with a plastic glove, two shoe sticks, and a spray "booth" in which shoes can be sprayed.

Nursery Gifts Shower on Mother

Mrs. Thomas R. Reeling (Sharon Mow) of Spokane Drive will open nursery gifts today in the home of Mrs. William French of First Avenue. Mrs. Richard Crozier will assist the hostess.

Among some 15 guests will be Mrs. Thomas E. Reeling and Mrs. John F. Mow.

The Statue of Liberty was erected in New York Harbor in 1886.

Grey Flannel Fades Out

The man in the grey flannel suit may soon look about as modern as the man in the celluloid collar. The reason: men's suits, as well as their shirts, are now being made in a variety of colors.

Men (and their wives) who have found that val-dyed shirts look just as nice after repeated washings as when new are taking a more cordial look at color in suits.

Chapter Plans State Luncheon

Mrs. Fred Tschirhart of LaPere Road was hostess for the April meeting of Alpha Nu chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa national teachers' honorary sorority.

For the altruistic project this year, the chapter will present three reference books to the library of a junior high school to be opened in the fall.

Plans were made for the sub-chapter's annual banquet on June 2, and for the annual state luncheon, Saturday, at Devon Gables.

Mrs. Paul Lantz was formally initiated as a new member.

Golden Agers Meet

The Golden Age club will sponsor a cooperative dinner Friday at 6:30 p.m. in the CAI building.

Cards, shuffle board and dancing will be featured.

to borrow from relatives? What are the assets, what are the debts? A.M., Madison, Wis.

Dear A.M.: I gather you're on the lending end in this case. People usually want to borrow from relatives because the interest will be less, or nonexistent — or the time of repayment can be conveniently extended. Or simply because they're so hard up a commercial loan is out of the question.

Unless the would-be borrower volunteers information about his financial situation and states when and how he feels able to repay the loan, then consider he's really asking for a helping hand.

In that case, either grant the loan and cross your fingers, or just decline. If you want a strictly business proposition, lend your money to a stranger.

As for whether it's a good idea for relatives to borrow from relatives — consider how many down payments on homes, how many college educations, were possible because one member of a family was financially better off than the others and was willing to put money in that risky investment, a human being.

Profit can't always be counted in dollars and cents.

Dear Miss Feeley: I have been working for many years, and so have had Social Security deducted from my income since it started.

Recently I was told that it is wise to check what's in my Social Security account from time to time. How do I go about this? Also, I received my original Social Security number some years before I was married.

Which name should I sign now, in requesting information — my unmarried name or my present married name? I never did change my name on the records. Mrs. R. B., Birmingham, Ala.

Dear Mrs. B.: While your Social Security account is automatically kept over the years,

St. Frederick's Parents to Hold School Bazaar

Members of the parents club of St. Frederick School will sponsor a school fair May 2 and 3.

Included in the activities for this affair are games of skill, and chance, pony rides, refreshments and prizes, including a television set and portable typewriter.

Hours for the fair are 2 to 9 p.m. Saturday and noon to 6 p.m. on Sunday.

Charles Dean is general chairman of the fair to be held in the St. Vincent de Paul parish hall on South Parke Street.

Good Care for Swimsuits

Help your swimsuit retain its smart good looks all summer long by rinsing it in clear water as soon as possible after wearing. Hang it up soaking wet without wringing and let air dry.

Spandex is a popular item for suits this season and if your suit happens to be a white one, be careful of pools where chlorine is used in the water. Chlorine will cause your suit to yellow.

there's always the possibility that some error can be made. This is why the Social Security Administration recommends that we all keep tabs on our accounts — preferably every three years.

There's a time limit in which a correction can be made without undue fuss — three years, three months, and 15 days, according to the Administration.

You can obtain a card — officially known as Form OAR — 7004 — from your local Social Security district office. Or perhaps through the personnel department of your company.

The card is entitled "Request for Statement of Earnings," and you simply fill in your name, address, and Social Security number, stamp the card and send it to the address printed on the card.

STRAIGHTEN OUT

If you discover an error in your account after receiving the information requested, then discuss it with your local district office and they will help you straighten it out.

You may also obtain a form from your local district office for registering your married name on your account. Your number remains the same. Attach your original card to the form when you return it, and you will be issued a new card.

Dear Miss Feeley: I have tried the envelope system of budgeting, and I have tried the checking account system. I take money out of the systems. May be there is another way to keep a budget. How do you go about not breaking a budget? Mrs. J. L. D., New Orleans.

Dear Mrs. D.: As a last resort, why not try self-discipline?

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. She will answer questions of widest interest in her column.)

Miss Love Married to Hallenberg

Candace Jean Love exchanged recent vows with Ronald Carlos Hallenberg Jr. in the Pontiac Lake Road home of Justice Patrick Daly. Parents of the couple are the Lloyd Loves of Oliver Street and the Ronald C. Hallenbergs of Gingell Court.

The bride chose a champagne silk suit to which she clipped a shoulder corsage of white and yellow carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carter attended the couple who left for a brief northern honeymoon.

Some 30 guests honored the bride at a kitchen shower Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Frank Roselli on East Fairmont Street. The hostesses were Gloria Loflin, Mary Gilmore and Patricia Billey.

Jaycee Women Vote to Include New Project

Mrs. Jeffery B. Cornish of Newwood Court opened her home to the Waterford Township Jaycee Auxiliary for the April meeting on Monday. Mrs. David Packard and Mrs. Ralph Radford were co-hostesses.

The group voted to include the Oakland County Medical Care Facility as a community project.

Mrs. Michael Patterson, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. David Zuelke and Mrs. Marshall Kachka were received into membership. Welcomed as guests were Mrs. Donald Card and Mrs. Richard Cote.

Moth's Menu Wild, Woolly

Another fellow who likes the warmer weather is Mr. Moth, who may be enjoying a meal on your good winter woollens as you bask on the beach. Clean fabrics are not found on a moth's menu, however.

Soiled, dusty materials are the favorite foods of this well-known insect who thrives in summer months. Clean fabrics do not whet Mr. Moth's appetite.

Take particular care to store your family's winter wardrobe in clean, dry, airtight boxes. Always place them in storage freshly cleaned. Professional laundries and dry cleaners moth-proof woollens such as blankets and will place them in cedar storage at a nominal charge. When the next cold spell rolls around, the garments are returned fresh and ready to wear.

Carnation Colors

Carnations are available in unusual shades of pink, red, orange, and variegated colorings as well as white. In addition, notes the Society of American Florists, carnations can be tinted to almost any hue desired to match other accessories.

Let's Knit

Cocktail Dress Glitters

For a special occasion, such as dinner and dance with the favorite man in your life, this cocktail dress is an eye-catcher with its spaghetti straps and flounce added to the bottom. The instructions are unbelievably simple.

The dress in this picture has been knitted with iridescent sequins but also included in the instructions, in case you wish to omit the sequins, is a pattern which will give the garment a material look.

It can be knitted in a stockinette stitch which is Knit 1 row, Purl 1 row.

The yarn cost of this dress is approximately $15. Instructions for Dress With Flounce come in sizes 8 through 18 and may be obtained for $1.00. All sizes are included on one pattern.

Pattern for Dress With

Flounce No. 66 may be obtained by sending $1.00 in currency, check, or money order to: Ursula du Bois, The Pontiac Press, 501 N. Main St., Pontiac, Mich. 48107.

Honor Bride With Shower

June bride-elect Betty Lou Cox will be honored at a shower Sunday in the home of Mrs. Gordon Bray on Whipple Shores Drive. Mrs. Robert Spencer will be cohostess.

Parents of the honoree are Mr. and Mrs. William Cox of Keego Harbor. Her fiancé, Allen Roy Koehler, is the son of the August Koehlers of Pigeon.

Scattering for Jobs

Ten Pontiac area students are among 164 Kalamazoo College students taking part in the career-service quarter. During spring term, sophomores are encouraged to seek employment independently or choose one of the jobs arranged by the college.

This year, 110 employers made available to the school almost 250 positions in business, industry, government, hospitals, schools, churches, public and private social agencies.

Second-year students are working in 19 states and six foreign countries.

Marilyn Coffing, daughter of the William Coffings, Pontiac Drive, is a teacher's aide

Work and Phone

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY—To take the drudgery out of cleaning and straightening dresser drawers, I do them while talking over the telephone.

Just put the drawer that needs attention in a location convenient to the telephone.

While engaged in a prolonged conversation you can be sorting, eliminating and rearranging.

When the talk is over you have a household chore completed with very little effort and great satisfaction. This is work done in a painless sort of way.—MRS. D. T. J.

DEAR POLLY—I get so many good hints from the column so I hope you and the girls will like mine.

I like to crochet and often use crossword puzzles for patterns. When doing filet crochet made of spaces and blocks (open and solid mesh) for the pattern, I merely adapt a puzzle that has the dark blocks

Heavy Trading Reported Rails Rise as Dispute Ends

NEW YORK (AP)—Ralls advanced on a broad front, sparking a stock market rally early this afternoon. Trading was heavy.

The rails responded to news that the long-standing dispute over work rules had been settled and that the threat of a nationwide strike this Saturday had been removed.

Airlines, which had stood to pick up some traffic in the event of a rail tie up, were down rather sharply.

The rest of the list was up on balance, although there were some soft spots.

STEELS UP

The tone was generally higher among steels, Big Three motors, chemicals and oils.

Nonferrous metals declined. Cigarette stocks were mixed, along with aerospace issues and electrical equipment.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.8, at 3:00 with industrials up 1.7, rails up 2.5 and utilities up 1.7.

In a delayed opening block of 60,000 shares, Texas Gulf Sulphur rose 2 1/4 to 47 1/4. Curtis Publishing opened late on 24,000 shares, unchanged at 13 1/4. In dealings, Texas Gulf trimmed its rise to a fraction and Curtis Publishing showed a fractional decline.

Prices were higher in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Data-Com Systems, which reported higher earnings, was up about 2.

Corporate bonds were mixed with rails higher. Few changes appeared among U.S. Government bonds.

Count NAACP Sets 'Operation Doorbell'

NAACP leaders say they will recruit participants from Pontiac for the planned large-scale demonstration against General Motors Corp. headquarters in Detroit May 1.

Charles W. Cheng, NAACP Oakland County chapter mobilization - publicity chairman, said his group will conduct an "operation doorbell" May 3 to enlist marchers.

"Teams of NAACP workers will canvass the city to sign up new members and encourage participation in the march," Cheng said.

"This demonstration is a revolutionary move and will not have the numbers of the Washington march but it will be more significant."

Edgar Holt, state NAACP chairman, said in a statement "This demonstration rests in the fact we are not satisfied with the tokenism in racial hiring at GM."

Representatives of the NAACP argued that since the city had not lifted the ban throughout Pontiac, it would be better to leave the total ban in effect as it was before the April 7 amendment.

The NAACP opposed this amendment Tuesday on grounds that it promoted housing segregation by limiting public housing to Negroes in Lakeside Homes, which is located in the Negro community.

"Our position has been that these low income families cannot find housing outside the area and can at least be provided with decent, safe and sanitary housing," McAfee said.

He pointed out that the expansion of Lakeside Homes might well be coupled with the removal of other substandard housing in the immediate area.

Tuesday, city commissioners asked that an ordinance reverting back to the total ban be drafted for action at a special meeting slated for 8 tonight at City Hall.

The purpose of tonight's meeting is to formally accept official vote totals in Monday's city election.

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—The presidents of Tanganyika and the neighboring island of Zanzibar have agreed to merge their countries to form a new nation, the government of Tanganyika announced today.

Diplomatic sources in London said they thought the merger would diminish Communist influence in East Africa. But they added it could open the door to more Red penetration via Zanzibar.

The British Commonwealth Office in London said the merger presumably would take some time to complete.

Informed sources in Dar es Salaam, the capital of Tanganyika, said the new nation would be run here.

A government statement said Nyerere and President Abeid Karume of Zanzibar had signed the agreement, subject to ratification by the governments and parliaments of both countries.

Nyerere paid a one-hour visit Wednesday to Karume in Zanzibar, where he was accompanied by Foreign Minister Oscar Kambona and Home Minister Job Lusinde.

Absent from the meeting, possibly significantly, was Zanzibar Foreign Minister Abdul Rahman Mohamed Babu, who leads the Communist bloc in Zanzibar's Revolutionary Council.

Seek Recruits for GM Protest

The Pontiac Housing Commission today went on record as being opposed to an ordinance prohibiting expansion of Lakeside Homes, Pontiac's lone public housing project.

In this it took a stand opposite to that of the Oakland County branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) delivered at Tuesday's City Commission meeting.

Any further construction of public housing in the city had been banned by an ordinance adopted in 1955. But the City Commission amended the ordinance April 7 to allow for an addition to the existing project.

"Our position has been that these low income families cannot find housing outside the area and can at least be provided with decent, safe and sanitary housing," McAfee said.

News From Around the World

Attorneys Appeal Death Sentence of Diem's Brother

Saigon, Viet Nam (AP)—Defense attorneys appealed for clemency today for Ngo Dinh Can, younger brother of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem. Can was sentenced Wednesday night to death on the guillotine.

The former overlord of central Viet Nam is expected to be executed within the next four days if the appeal is rejected by Maj. Gen. Duong Van Minh, the titular chief of state.

Can, 53, was convicted by a nine-man court on charges of murder, extortion and misuse of power. He was accused of planning and ordering the torture murder of three persons in 1956, 1957 and 1958.

Can, the last close relative of Diem in South Viet Nam, denied all accusations during the six-day trial.

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP)—The British governor of Northern Rhodesia handed over control of the police today to Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda's African government.

The move was interpreted as an expression of confidence in Kaunda's regime, which has reduced violence since it was elected four months ago.

Britain, however, retained the right to resume control of the police if serious disorder threatens.

TOKYO (AP)—The Japanese government said today it will

DAR Given Special Gift by Mrs. LBJ

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Daughters of the American Revolution made a special announcement yesterday of a gift of an engraving of the White House from Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson for their museum.

Mrs. Johnson sent the gift—a steel engraving of a side view of the north portico of the White House, autographed: "With best wishes, Lady Bird Johnson."

The gift was sent, it was announced, after Mrs. Musko Holland of Demarest, N. J., wrote unofficially to the First Lady asking if she might contribute something for the DAR museum. Mrs. Holland is a state chairman of the museum committee.

DAR President Gen. Mrs. Robert V. H. Duncan held the engraving up for the delegates in Constitution Hall to see as she suspended the rules to make a special announcement of the gift.

Annulment on Monday; Wedding Set Saturday

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Roberta Gale said in Hollywood that she will marry actor Albert Saint Saturday.

Her marriage to financier S. Mark Taper was annulled last Monday. Saint previously was married to actress Peggy Ann Garner.

(AP)—Employees of a stainless steel razor factory no longer shave at home. They take off the whiskers on company time.

The plant owners started the shave break to test their blade against a rival product. Unmarked samples of both are supplied the men, along with soap and after-shave lotion.

A spokesman said the in-shop shaving costs the company 50 pounds ($140) a week but will continue indefinitely.

"We get honest answers this way," he said, "and the men—they love the shave break."

About four ounces of American cheese or three-quarters of a cup of cottage cheese will provide one-third of a day's protein needs.

Texas Bowler Masters' King

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP)—Billy Welu, the tall Texan who calls St. Louis home but spends most of his time traveling around the country to major bowling events, won the American Bowling Congress Masters tournament Wednesday night.

Welu had to beat his teammate for several years, Harry Smith, the defending champion, to take the 14th championship since the ABC Masters came into being in 1951 at St. Paul, Minn.

BESTS SMITH

Welu topped Smith, 841-803, in the championship battle after the Baltimore pin blaster had fought his way through the dangerous loser's bracket for a second chance. Welu had dropped Smith into the loser's bracket in an afternoon match, 893-877.

Welu picked up $4,400 after he marched through seven opponents without a loss. The Masters first prize is $4,000 plus $50 for each match won in the finals and $50 for qualifying.

It was a big 254 final game that brought Welu the crown. Smith held a 617-607 lead at the end of the first three games and had dreams of sending the double elimination Masters into a second outing between the pair.

But Welu found the strike range midway in the final game to finish with a 234. Smith had an open frame and couldn't string strikes. He had to settle for a 186.

The 31-year-old Welu had never done better than a third place finish in the 1961 Masters before his record smashing drive to the 1964 title.

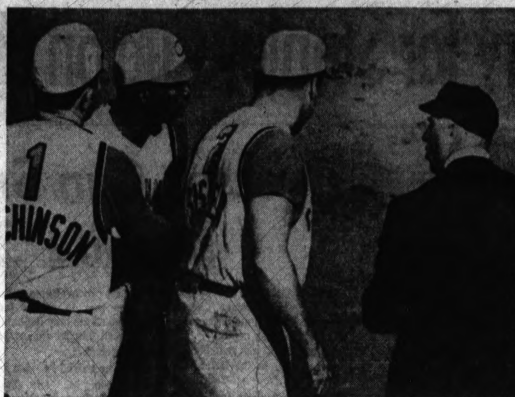

Welu knocked down 6,356 pins for his 28 games in the finals, a fantastic 227 average, bettering the mark of 223 set by Billy Golembiewski of Detroit, in taking the 1962 Masters at Detroit.

The 1964 winner also set one other mark when he had a run of 17 straight games of 200 or better. The old Masters mark for successive 200 or better games was 14 by Jim Miller of Milwaukee, also set in 1962.

Welu also tied one other Masters record as he had four sets over 900. Golembiewski had a like amount in 1962. Welu's best was 982.

Final Masters standings:

	W	L	Pins	Prize
Welu, St. Louis	7	0	6,356	$4,400
Smith, St. Louis	6	2	6,097	$2,000

Ford Baffles Chisox to Post Win No. 200

By The Associated Press

Measured by Whitey Ford's meticulous standards, the 200th victory of his major league career was a complete success—strictly a one sweat-shirt job.

Ford, the ace left-hander of the New York Yankees who doubles as the pitching coach for the American League champions, put himself down for an A grade after winning No. 200 Wednesday night by blanking the Chicago White Sox 3-0 on six hits.

"I only went through one sweat shirt," said Ford, laughing, "I'm giving myself an excellent report for the game."

Ford's chart, when completed, will show Ford the 61st pitcher to reach the 200-victory plateau. How far can Ford go toward adding to an ever-increasing list of victories?

Ford puts it this way: "I've been keeping an eye on Warren Spahn. He wins 20 when he's over 40. That indicates I'm still a boy with a long, bright future ahead of me."

PLATEAU

The record book, when revised, will show Ford the 61st pitcher in major league history to reach the 200-victory plateau.

The long, bright future also may be approaching for the Yankees, who marked their second victory in six games with still another achievement. In the fifth inning, Clete Boyer hit a homer—the first by a Yankee this season.

The Minnesota Twins hit three homers—by Tony Oliva, Rich Rollins and Don Mincher—but scored the winning run on a passed ball in a 7-6 triumph over Washington.

Two games were postponed by rain—Boston at Baltimore and Cleveland at Kansas City.

Ford, who was the AL's winningest pitcher last year with a 24-7 record, was locked in a duel with White Sox starter Gary Peters until Boyer hit his bases-empty homer in the fifth.

The Senators had tied it in the top of the inning when Moose Skowron hit his third homer and Chuck Cottier drove in another run with a sacrifice fly.

Kettering Net Team

Drops 2nd Decision

Kettering's first varsity tennis team took on Royal Oak Dondero for the second time this season yesterday and dropped a 3-2 decision.

The Captains were blanked in singles play but swept the doubles events. The loss was their fifth in six starts. The earlier meeting was a 7-0 victory for Dondero.

RO DONDERO 3, KETTERING 1
Singles: Richard Sherwood (D) def. Belj, 6-4; 6-1; Erick Bohman (D) def. Crawford, 6-3; 6-2; Mike Williams (D) def. Carr, 6-3, 6-2.
Doubles: Tom McDonald and Dick James (K) def. Parent and Ellis, 6-3, 1-6, 6-3; and John Kampman and John Dunham (K) def. Frank and Webster, 6-4, 6-4.

Kettering Golf Team Posts 7th Win of Season

After setting a new school record in defeating Rochester 158-167 on Tuesday, Kettering's golf team won its 7th meet in eight starts this season in defeating L'Anse Creuse yesterday at Pontiac Country Club, 176-177.

Mike Kimmmerer who had 36 against Rochester added a 39 against L'Anse. Kettering is now 3-0 in the Tri-County league.

LAKERS LOSE

West Bloomfield lost its first dual meet of the season in a close match to Milford, 162-163 despite Rod Thompson's par 37. Gary West had 39, Rick Ecker 43 and Bruce Hobart 44 for the Lakers while Milford posted balance with John Choate and Pete Castle with 40's, Tim Barnes and Burke Kingsbury with 41's. Orchard Lake St. Mary lost a 4-1 golf decision to Royal Oak Shrine as Tom Brennan fired a 39 at Pontiac CC and John Kort had a 41 for St. Marys.

CYO Action Saturday

There will be baseball action in the CYO Division Saturday at the Isaac Cray JHS diamond when St. Benedict tangles with Holy Name.

Last Sunday St. Ben whipped Lake Orion's St. Joseph, 6-0, behind the one-hit pitching of Bob Kruszewski.

Vikings, Waterford IL Winners

Prep Pitchers Blank Foes

Waterford and Walled Lake posted shutout victories Wednesday in opening up the Inter-Lakes League baseball campaign.

The Skippers trimmed Southfield, 2-0, and the Vikings downed Berkley, 3-0. In other games, Lake Orion blanked Madison 2-0, and Kettering handed Cranbrook a 3-1 defeat.

Larry McGuffey permitted only two hits in recording his first win of the season, and the win upped Waterford's mark to 3-1.

Chuck Swenson scored on a double steal in the opening frame to give McGuffey all the support he needed. The Skippers added another run in the sixth on a double by catcher Demie Ahnen and a single by pinch-hitter Mike Dyer.

Don Rickard went the distance for the Vikings, giving up one hit and fanning 11.

Rick King's single in the first inning sent Rick Trubeau scooting home for a 1-0 Viking lead, and the winners closed the scoring in the fourth when John Thomas chased home two runs with a single.

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) - Two players from Florida, and two from the North formed the field for today's semifinal round in the North and South Women's Amateur Golf Tournament.

Defending champion Nancy Roth of Hollywood, Fla., and Phyllis (Tish) Preuss of Pompano Beach, Fla., each 25, met in the first match. The other pairing sent Mrs. Helen Sigmund of Gladwyne, Pa., against Mrs. George Trainor of Rochester, N.Y.

Cranbrook took an early 1-0 lead on an error and a double by Guy Bramble, but Kettering moved in front 2-1 in the second on doubles by Dale Manning and Rick Pankey and Ken Hackett's single.

The Captains picked up their first run in the fourth without the benefit of a hit.

Dave Phillips held Madison to one hit as Lake Orion ran its record to 3-0.

The Dragons scored in the opening inning on a triple by Herb Mattis and an infield out.

Gotham Wags Have Ball as Fair Balls Up Traffic

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—This Is The Week That Is.
With the World's Fair opening . . . the newspaper publishers convening here . . . Lyndon B. Johnson, the Arthur Murray of the Presidents, in town . . . and the king of the traffic snarls locking us in . . . this is the week that we'll eventually smile over . . . if we live through it.

It's also Satire Time with the comedians training their guns on the Best People.

Richard Nixon was target of one of the Marty (Hello, Dere) Allen and Steve Rossi imaginary interviews at the editors' meetings in Washington. It went like this:
Nixon: "Hello dere." . . . Reporter: "Do you think a woman can ever be elected President?" . . . Nixon: "Yes, if she runs against me."

Marty Allen, in a dress, and looking like the Beatles' mother, introduced himself as "the only woman in the country that President Johnson hasn't danced with."

Sargent Shriver wasn't spared. He was asked, "With all the bars in the White House, and the booze and champagne and eating and dancing, where's the poverty?"

Traffic Commissioner Barnes was reported to have a sating for the World's Fair traffic. He was making all NY streets one-way going west.

"What happens then? Who cares? Then it's New Jersey's problem."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Abbe Lane'll work her first single performance at the Hotel Concord Saturday night. She and Xavier Cugat are divided about who'll get the plush duplex apartment. Each used one apartment over the weekend . . . Frank Sinatra dated Linda Waller and Shirley Parker this time around . . . Eddie Adams, the "What's My Line?" mystery guest, almost gave it away at Volts when she told panelist Bennett Cerf, "Well, see you later at Volts" (But it was Buddy Hackett who guessed her identity).

Vaughn Meader looked over singer Kathy Woodruff at the Blue Angel for an important job on his ABC-TV'er—to take a pie in the face while vocalizing . . . The World's Fair brass ordered that the hair on Lady Godiva (in the International Wax Museum) be made longer to cover her midriff . . .

Sen. Dirksen Will Ask for Vote on Civil Rights Bill Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said today he will ask the Senate to vote on his proposed changes in the civil rights bill before acting on a controversial Southern-sponsored amendment.

To clear the way, Dirksen told reporters, he will move Monday to set aside temporarily the jury trial amendment of Earlier, Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., Dirksen is viewed as the key figure in efforts to work out a compromise which would permit final action on the bill Earlier, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., the bill's floor manager, said he was willing to meet in part the demands of Southern foes of the bill on the jury trial issue.

They want the bill to include guarantees of a jury trial for persons charged with criminal contempt of court in connection with discrimination charges or other court action.

Humphrey's proposal, first on the jury trial and other thorny issues.

The GOP leader said he was hopeful the Senate would grant the necessary unanimous consent Monday to set aside temporarily the Talmadge amendment "so we can start on the package of 11 amendments I have introduced."

Rail Strike Is Averted; LBJ Emerges Winner in Give-and-Take Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — A give-and-take agreement has ended the threat of a nationwide railroad strike, with President Johnson a victor in the toughest domestic test of his administration.

A few hours after the agreement was reached, two dissident union officials threatened to strike part of the New York Central Railroad.

But sources involved in the negotiations in Washington discounted the possibility that the threat would be carried out.

Johnson, obviously elated, went before television cameras last night to announce settlement of the long, highly complex dispute a little more than 48 hours before a scheduled strike threatened to tie the nation's economy in knots.

The agreement in effect gave union members financial gains in exchange for letting the railroads reduce employment.

Just how many jobs will be affected or how much money the railroads may save won't be known for some time after the agreement.

Outline Terms on Agreement Details Given on Aspects of Accord

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here are the general terms of the railroad labor settlement announced last night by President Johnson.

1. Virtually all employees of the five unions involved who are paid on an hourly basis will receive seven paid holidays.

2. Trainmen who must spend more than four hours away from their home terminal will receive suitable lodging for the night and $1.50 meal allowance.

3. The railroads will be able to reduce the number of employees required under present rules to man self-propelled track maintenance equipment. It could not be estimated how many employees would be affected.

4. The railroads withdrew their proposal to change the present basic wage structure, which provides a daily rate of pay for either 8 hours of work or up to 150 miles for employees who receive pay on a combined time and mileage basis.

It was agreed that any wage increases until Jan. 1, 1968 will be limited to basic hourly rates and will not apply to existing mileage rates.

5. It was also agreed in connection with the wage structure that yard foremen will receive a 12-cent raise to $3.10, yard helpers an 8-cent increase to $2.50, and what were described as commensurate increases in the hourly rates of other yard service employees.

6. The unions withdrew their request for overtime pay for road employees. Yard service workers now receive overtime beyond eight hours.

7. The unions withdrew their request for night shift differential pay for all classes of employees.

NOT SETTLED

7. The railroad's proposal to combine some divisional train runs, thus lengthening the runs before crews are changed, was referred to a committee composed of the parties and two of the mediators, Dr. George Taylor and Theodore Kheel.

8. New rules will be established which will enable the railroads to a limited extent to use road crews for certain kinds of yard work. This affects the present rule requiring a separate crew to bring a train into a railroad yard and another crew to handle it there.

U.S. Forces Set for Cuban Provocations

Hundreds of Jets
Could Reach Island
Within Minutes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hundreds of U.S. jet fighters and attack planes — each capable of hurling tons of explosives — are poised within striking reach of Cuba, a check disclosed today.

A significant force of these high speed, powerfully armed U.S. jets could be over carefully pinpointed Cuban anti-aircraft missile batteries within minutes of any order to go.

Some of them are posted at Air Force and Navy bases in Florida. Others are aboard two high aircraft carriers now in the Mayport, Fla., area.

President Johnson, the State Department and other U.S. officials and unofficial sources have been warning Cuba of possible serious consequences if Fidel Castro follows through on his threat to shoot down American reconnaissance planes.

These U.S. warnings have been prompted by a belief that the Soviets may be about to turn over to the Cubans 24 complexes of SA-2 anti-aircraft missiles.

It was such a missile, able to reach 80,000 feet, that downed a high altitude U.S. U-2 reconnaissance plane over Cuba at the peak of the 1962 crisis.

NO ALERTS

Pentagon sources said no precautionary alerts have been ordered. But they said tactical air units stationed in the Southeast, as well as elsewhere, are expected to be on their toes and in shape to scramble on short notice.

The most probable form of retaliation, observers believe, would be a swift blow to knock out one or more of the Cuban anti-aircraft missile complexes.

Almost certainly it would be a high explosive attack, although all the U.S. jets are capable of nuclear warfare.

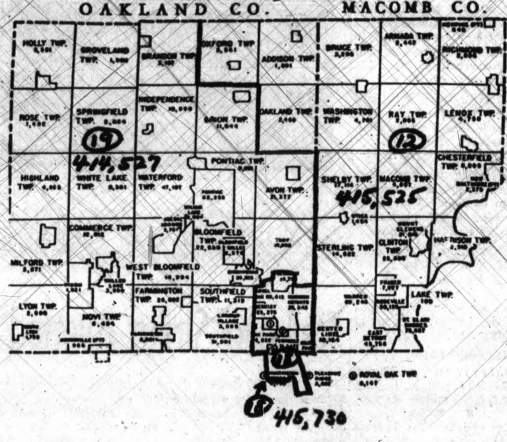

Coming in low under radar, the American fighter bombers and attack jets could hit fast and hard before the defenses could react, sources said.

AF WING

The Air Force has one wing of F100 Supersonic jets at Homestead Air Force Base, south of Miami. A wing runs as high as 75 planes.

Two other Air Force tactical fighter wings are stationed at MacDill Air Force Base at Tampa, Fla.

The United States gets photographic coverage of all of Cuba by high altitude planes at least once a week.

SPLIT THREE WAYS — Oakland County would be divided among three congressional districts under the districting bill passed yesterday by the State Senate. The county's southeastern cities would be joined by Highland Park and a part of Detroit in an 18th District that probably would elect a Democrat.

Three northeastern townships would go with Macomb County in a Democratic 12th District. The rest of Oakland would form a 19th likely to elect a Republican.

Two Pavilions Closed

300 Arrested at Fair Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — Hundreds of civil rights demonstrators tor of the Congress of Racial Equality, which planned the demonstrations inside the fair grounds and suspended its Brooklyn chapter for planning the "stall-in."

Farmer said the demonstrations were intended to point up the contrast "between the glitter and the fantasy of the World's Fair and the real world of discrimination."

Demonstrators said they were protesting what they called discriminatory hiring practices of some companies sponsoring exhibits, and segregation and discrimination both South and North, especially in schools and housing.

Some stayed in jail, unable or unwilling to post bail.

There were a few bloodied heads but no serious injuries. One of the 5,000 city and private policemen on duty said the demonstrators were treated "with kid gloves."

See Story, Page B-8

Opening day attendance was 92,046, about a third of what had been expected. Officials blamed the rain and demonstrations.

FREEDOM CHANT

Chanting "freedom, freedom" demonstrators nearly drowned out one of President Johnson's two speeches, and they sat down through the national anthem. They forced temporary closing of at least two of the modernistic commercial pavilions.

"A much-heralded auto 'stall-in' to create a huge traffic jam around the fair site in Queens was only 25 per cent of normal and moved better than usual," said Traffic Commissioner Henry Barnes.

Among those arrested was James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality.

Rain Is Predicted Today, Tomorrow

Scattered showers or thunder-showers is the prediction for late today or tonight, and showers are likely again tomorrow.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts temperatures will fall into the 40s tonight and rise to 56 to 64 tomorrow.

Morning light and variable winds will become northeast to east at 6 to 14 miles per hour tonight and 10 to 16 m.p.h. Friday.

The outlook for Saturday is for showers to end and a little cooler.

Thirty-eight was the low in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. By 1 p.m. the reading was 60.

Liz, Burton Sued for $50 Million

NEW YORK (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor and Richard Burton have been sued for $50 million by Twentieth Century-Fox in connection with the movie "Cleopatra."

The suit, filed yesterday in U.S. District Court, contended their "conduct and deportment" during and after the filming lessened the commercial value of the picture.

A spokesman for the couple, now in New York while Burton appears in "Hannibal," termed the action "an absolutely ludicrous move on Fox's part, and we'll let them do the talking."

Miss Taylor and Burton are married. During the filming of "Cleopatra," she was married to Eddie Fisher and he to Sybil Burton.

The suit was filed by 20th Century-Fox Film Corp. and 20th Century-Fox Productions, Ltd.

BREACHED

The suit sought $50 million from Miss Taylor, saying she had breached her contract by:

"Failing to abide and observe reasonable and customary rules, directives, regulations and orders for her conduct and deportment during the course of the production of 'Cleopatra.'"

"By suffering herself by her own acts and fault to become disabled, incapacitated, or unphotographable, and unable to perform her services;

"By suffering herself to be held up to scorn, ridicule and unfavorable publicity as a result of her conduct and deportment both during and subsequent to the production of 'Cleopatra' and while it was being distributed so as to become offensive to good tastes and morals and to depreciate the commercial value of 'Cleopatra.'"

The second claim for $5 million was made against Burton. The third claim for $25 million was against both Miss Taylor and Burton.

State Coalition Approves Plan

By JIM DYGERT

Ten Democrats and 10 anti-Romney Republicans last night passed a Democratic plan for congressional districting in the State Senate, but a House Republican from Oakland County confidently predicted today that the measure would die.

The surprise bipartisan coalition rammed through a proposal drawn up by Democratic Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski while Romney Republicans in the GOP-controlled Senate protested and fought in vain.

With a 26-12 vote, they cried Lesinski's bill and a state reapportionment plan drawn up by Upper Peninsula Republican out of the Senate Judiciary Committee headed by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, and passed them.

3-Way Split Given County

Dems, Rural GOP
Combine for Passage

Oakland County would be split into three congressional districts instead of only two under the plan passed yesterday in the State Senate by a surprise coalition of Democrats and conservative outstate Republicans.

The southeastern corner of the county — the cities of Berkley, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge and Royal Oak, plus Royal Oak Township — would be joined with part of Detroit and all of Highland Park in an 18th District.

This was similar to a proposal last week by House Minority Leader Joseph J. Kowalski, D-Detroit, that Democrats admitted was aimed at winning the 18th away from Republican incumbent congressman William S. Bromfield.

Unlike Kowalski's plan, yesterday's bill would also separate Oxford, Oakland and Addison townships from the rest of the county and join them with Macomb County in a 12th Congressional District.

The rest of the county—minus the southeastern and northeast corners — would then make up the new 19th District received by the state as the result of population gains reflected in the 1960 census.

Landry Announces Plan for District 7 Recount

Mayor Robert A. Landry today said he will "definitely ask for a recount of votes cast for the three District 7 candidates in every precinct in the city" at Monday's general election.

His decision came after the city board of canvassers met last night to canvass and certify the results of Monday's vote.

Several changes were made in the final totals, but none were significant. Certification by the board made the figures official.

Landry left halfway through the official canvass last night, but this morning said he planned to file his formal request for a recount of Pontiac's 43 precincts this afternoon.

City officials had no estimates to offer as to the length of time it might take for a recount.

It would involve recounting the 4,200 write-in votes cast for Emmett S. Wellbaum, 58, of 289 Seward, who beat Landry by 331 votes.

In any case, City Attorney William A. Ewart said that Wellbaum will be sworn in at the organizational meeting of the new commission Monday night.

Asked if the recount would create problems and confusion about who, legally, is District 7 commissioner, the city attorney said:

"The only legal record the city has to go by is the certified canvass of votes."

"That makes Mr. Wellbaum the District 7 commissioner, and that he will be until such time as a recount changes the official results."

Landry said he "wants to look at every write-in vote" to see for himself what variations in the spelling of Wellbaum's name were accepted as valid votes.

"VOTERS PROMPTED"

The outgoing mayor said he had witnesses who would testify that election workers "were prompting voters and telling them how to cast write-ins without being requested to do so."

Higgins in Governor Race; Calls Romney GOP Imposter

DETROIT (AP) — Angry accusing George W. Romney of being a Republican imposter, George N. Higgins formally announced today his candidacy for the GOP nomination for governor.

The 63-year-old Ferndale automobile dealer and former state senator actually became the first in the Republican field. Romney has given every indication of seeking reelection, but has not yet announced.

Higgins announced at a Detroit Press Club news conference and said:

"The man who sits in the executive office in Lansing and now calls himself a Republican is an imposter. He used the Republican party to get himself elected to that office and he has abused the Republican party ever since. And if there is any doubt about his being an imposter, let me quote his own words."

Higgins then read from newspaper articles in which Romney was quoted on three different dates as saying he was not a Republican. The latest was on Jan. 30, 1960.

A self-styled conservative, Higgins has made no secret of his disdain of Romney's performance as governor. He first dropped a hint he might enter the primary race several weeks ago.

ROMNEY QUOTE

"I want to be governor," he told newsmen, "because I can get cooperation from both parties and get things done."

Tax Base May Rise

Oakland County's tax base has grown by nearly $112 million in the past year and now totals $2.3 billion, the County Board of Supervisors will be told Tuesday.

This is the equalized valuation of private property recommended yesterday by the board's equalization committee for taxation purposes this year.

It represents about a 5 percent increase over last year's equalized valuation of $2.2 billion.

If the board of supervisors accepts the $2.3 billion figure, and it is approved by the State Tax Commission, this is the amount upon which the legal 15-mill levy for school districts and township and county government will be raised this year.

The levy would produce $34.7 million by taxing property owners in the county $15 per $1,000 of equalized value placed on their holdings.

VALUATION INTENT
Equalized valuation is intended to be 50 per cent of fair market value for property to be taxed.

If the State Tax Commission decides that the equalized valuation approved by the county doesn't come to 50 per cent of fair market value it will be changed by applying a factor.

A factor is a figure which, when multiplied into the county's recommended figure, will bring the equalized valuation to 50 per cent of fair market value as determined by the tax commission.

The County Equalization Department has applied similar factors to total assessed values submitted by each municipality to arrive at the recommended equalized valuation.

MAJOR SHARE

The major share of the proposed increase in the county's equalized valuation once more was credited to Southfield.

New construction in Southfield during the past year raised the equalized valuation there by about 25 per cent, according to Edwin Sage, the county's equalization director.

The committee set Southfield's equalization valuation at $209 million this year.

Pontiac's equalized valuation was raised from $42.9 million to $55 million.

WATERFORD TOTAL
Waterford Township was raised from $14.5 million last year to $14.5 million this year.

Sage said Pontiac's increase can be attributed mainly to General Motors Corp. installing more machinery to keep up with a booming production.

He noted that commercial development in Pontiac was up, while new homes about equaled those demolished in urban renewal projects.

State Senate Passes Dem District Plan

posed 18th district, which would join part of Detroit and all of Highland Park with southeastern Oakland County, which would probably elect a Democrat.

"These 10 Republicans made a bad deal," said Romney, referring to their getting Democratic support for the state reapportionment measure by Sen. Kent Lundgren, R-Menominee, in exchange for GOP backing for Lesinski's congressional districting.

"They sold out unnecessarily and the Democrats gave up nothing," Romney said. "I don't think all 10 will stand by this."

Romney said, however, that he would sign Lundgren's reapportionment plan if it is passed.

RELUCTANT SUPPORT

Democrats said they were reluctantly supporting Lundgren's so-called "Plan 500" only to assure "orderly preparations for a representative election."

Lundgren's plan follows the 1963 state constitution that bases senate districts 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area, a formula Democrats are fighting in federal court as unconstitutional.

Lesinski's congressional plan, Republicans fear, would change the state's lineup of 11 GOP congressmen and eight Democrats to 10 Republicans and nine Democrats.

The population disparity between its smallest and largest districts is 10,925, compared to 3,575 in a plan proposed earlier by Romney.

FEDERAL RULING
The federal court has said that population alone must be the controlling factor.

Most legislators feel that 10,000 is the disparity limit, although the courts have been no more precise than to say districts must be "as equal as practicable."

The question of legislative reapportionment has been before the State Supreme Court since the deadlock of the constitutionally created apportionment commission.

The high court has postponed a decision, saying it would rather wait for further guidelines from the U.S. Supreme Court.

Republicans want to follow the constitutional formula while Democrats want strict equality of population in both House and Senate districting.

Railroad Strike Averted

agreement negotiators successfully through 13 days of emergency White House talks, Johnson stamped his brand indelibly on U.S. labor history and achieved what two former presidents, Congress, the courts and five years of bargaining had failed to accomplish.

PREVENTS STRIKE

"This agreement prevents — we hope for all time — a crippling and disastrous strike in the railroad industry," Johnson said.

Negotiators for the five unions whose members run the trains and spokesmen for nearly 200 railroads expressed general satisfaction at the outcome.

"While the agreement falls short of satisfying all the important demands of the employees, we recognize that significant gains have been made," said union spokesman Roy Davidson.

Sources predicted ratification by union members or authorized officials.

RESTORES MORALE

Chief railroad negotiator J.E. Wolfe said "The settlement promises to restore the morale of our 700,000 employees to its highest level, and bring a rebirth of the spirit of cooperation between management and union leaders."

The agreement ended the threat of a scheduled strike slated to start one minute after midnight tomorrow night.

Johnson had estimated a strike would have idled 7 million American workers, endangered the health conditions and virtually paralyzed the economy.

Johnson gave due credit to the five federal negotiators, headed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, who emerged red-eyed and exhausted from day and night efforts at untangling one of the longest and more complicated labor quarrels in the annals of collective bargaining.

PAY HIKES

The unions won pay increases for railroad yard employees, expense money for overnight layovers, maintenance of present mileage payments, and seven paid holidays for hourly paid employees.

The railroads gained the right to cut the number of employees now required to man self-propelled track maintenance equipment and limited use of train crews for yard work under certain conditions.

Dems Get 18th in District Plan

ords, Democrats would win the 18th and the 12th and Republicans the 19th.

Plans proposed by Gov. George Romney and his backers among the Republican legislators would leave the 18th exclusively in southeastern Oakland County, except that it would also include Southfield, Troy, the Birmingham-Bloomfield area and Avon Township.

The 19th, under the GOP plan, would have the rest of the county and part of northwestern suburban Wayne County.

These plans would presumably leave the 18th safe for the GOP, make the 19th a marginal district and leave the 12th — all of Macomb — to the Democrats.

Present districting, passed in 1962 by the Republican controlled legislature but never used in an election, was ruled unconstitutional and unusable by a panel of three federal judges because of population disparities.

The court ordered that new and acceptable districts be formed or the state's 19 congressmen be elected at large this fall.

The invalidated districts included an 18th the same as the GOP proposals except for Avon Township, which was in the 19th with the rest of the county and all of Livingston County.

At the present time, under districting based on the 1950 census, Bloomfield represents the entire county. The State Legislature and former Gov. John B. Swainson were unable to agree on a districting bill in 1961 or 1962.

Former Deputy Held in Killings

Quizzed in Deaths of Georgia Policemen

LAWRENCEVILLE, Ga. (AP) — A former Gwinnett County deputy sheriff was being held for questioning today in connection with the slaying of three policemen, Sheriff Quill Samson said.

The sheriff said Samuel Powell was being held in protective custody at an undisclosed Atlanta location following his arrest Wednesday on three warrants.

One of the warrants, signed by the sheriff, asked that Powell be held as a material witness in the investigation of the deaths of Gwinnett policemen Marvin J. Gravit, 32; Ralph K. Davis, 49; and Jerry R. Everett, 26.

REMOTE AREA

The slain officers were found Friday in a remote area near here several hours after they had been handcuffed together and shot with their own pistols.

Meanwhile, an Atlanta man arrested for burglary in Grand Rapids, Mich., has been questioned about the slayings.

Inspector Walter Gilbert of the Grand Rapids police said, however, Warren W. Wright, 42, maintained he had no knowledge of the killings. Gilbert said the police had found no evidence to connect the Atlanta train driver with the multiple murder.

The officer added that Wright's fingerprints and a photograph were being sent to Georgia for checking.

Seek Budget Approval in Bloomfield Township

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Approval of a $677,000 budget for the fiscal year which began April 1 will be sought by township officials at a public hearing Monday.

The proposed figure marks a $108,775 increase over expenditures for fiscal 1963-64.

Accounting for most of the extra money required are new employees, either hired during the past year or requested by department heads.

The number of police officers has jumped from 18 to 23. While there has no change in the number of firemen, both departments have requested additional personnel.

Of the police department's $214,700 total request, $164,000 would be used for salaries. Last year the salary figure was $120,000 and the total $162,000.

SALARY INCREASE

Proposed allocation for the fire department is $175,900 compared to $162,100 last year. Salaries would consume $137,000 of the sum, showing an increase of $17,000.

The salaries of 4.5 other new employees can be found under the general government and hearing department headings in the proposed budget.

The $228,400 total being sought for general government compares to $211,325 last year.

Improvements in the building department include a full time electrical inspector, a new office worker and cars equipped with radios for the building inspectors.

A total of $60,300 has been requested for this department, which expects to add about $70,000 to township coffers this year.

Township officials expect a total revenue in the neighborhood of $638,953. Added to that are two half-mill assessments for the fire and police departments. Voted extra by the electorate, the levies are expected to net $74,775 each.

The water and sewer budget is not included in the over-all picture because the department is self-supporting and operated on a revenue basis rather than on property taxes.

Also not shown is a 1-mill levy for the township library. This money — $148,544 — is budgeted by a library board.

NOW AVAILABLE

Copies of the proposed budget are now available at the township hall, where the public hearing will be held at 9 p.m. Monday.

Birmingham Chamber of Commerce members have elected three new directors, and announced last night at the group's annual banquet.

Named to the 10-member board were Jack Kershenbaum of Kay Baum Inc., Robert L. Kilpatrick of Michigan Bell Telephone Co. and Richard H. Young of Youth's of Birmingham.

They will serve three-year terms, replacing President William E. Roberts, Wayne L. Combs and James F. Moore.

LBJ in Chicago for Dem Dinner

CHICAGO (AP) — President Johnson, accompanied by his wife, makes a frankly political trip to this Democratic stronghold today.

With Illinois' primary election tilted last week, party leaders look to Johnson to help fill the party campaign coffers for the fall election campaign.

Johnson is scheduled to speak before more than 6,000 persons at McCormick Place tonight in the largest $100-a-plate dinner ever held in Chicago.

The money will go to the Democratic Cook County Committee, whose chief is Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Security precautions are the heaviest Chicago ever has made with 1,700 city policemen and U.S. Secret Service men ready to guard the President.

The heavy guard reflects the fact it was to be the first presidential visit to Chicago since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy in Dallas last November.

Scholar Says He's Solved Mystery of Bard's Sonnets

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—A literary scholar who claims to have solved the greatest mystery of William Shakespeare's sonnets — the identity of "Mr. W. H." to whom they were dedicated — says he even knows where to find a picture of the man.

Several scholars have maintained the sonnets were written to the Earl of Southampton or the Earl of Pembroke, but their evidence generally was considered flimsy.

Dr. Leslie Hotson said in an interview and in a lecture today, the Bard's 400th birthday, that he has conclusive proof that "Mr. W. H." was William Hatcliffe of Lincolnshire.

Hotson is a research associate in English at Yale.

ATTEMPTS MISTAKEN

About the sonnets, he said: "My evidence shows that all the previous attempts at identifying the friend are mistaken. No one has ever made any proof which is from evidence in the sonnets themselves. But I go at it right from the sonnets."

But who was William Hatcliffe?

"He is previously unknown to scholarship," said Hotson, "but Shakespeare's London knew him."

Hotson said he has evidence that Nicholas Hilliard's "Youth Leaning Against a Tree Among Roses"—famous English miniature—is a portrait of Hatcliffe.

DESCRIBES RESEARCH

Hotson has written a book, "Mr. W. H.," published this week in London, that describes his research.

It reports he concluded from the many references or allusions to a king or sovereign, Shakespeare must have been writing to some royal male, although England then had a queen.

He finally decided the subject had been a Winter Prince from one of the Inns of Court, roughly the equivalent of college of law.

Next, Hotson concluded they dated from the period 1587-89.

Hotson came across a book listing the cast of a comedy presented before an Inn of the Court—in 1588. It noted that the play was presented by a Winter Prince—William Hatcliffe.

FOUND HIS MAN

Hotson was convinced he had his man when he found that the Hatcliffe coat of arms contained four-leaved figures known among heraldry experts as true-lovers. The theme of the sonnets is true love.

Hotson said he also found some 40 hidden interweaving of variations of Hatcliffe's name in the sonnets.

An incidental finding, he said, is that the play "Love's Labour's Lost" was written in 1588, earlier than is generally believed.

The consumption of man-made fibers by American textile mills last year equaled that of cotton.

Asks Study on Projects

LANSING (AP) — Research calling for rocket-firings from the Upper Peninsula and improving the north's conventional iron ores has been asked by Gov. George W. Romney.

Romney Wednesday submitted for legislative approval two more research projects under the direction of the Department of Economic Expansion.

One, administered by the University of Michigan in cooperation with Michigan Tech at Houghton, calls for the spending of $2,850 in state funds to study feasibility of a rocket-firing site on the Keweenaw Peninsula. An additional grant of $66,000 would come from private industry and $112,500 from the federal government.

The other proposal calls for a project at the Houghton university to study ways of improving conventional Michigan iron ores. The state and private industry would contribute $11,500 each and the federal government $23,000.

Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R-An Arbor, introduced enabling legislation to release the money from the state research fund.

No Accommodation Woes for Rail Car 'Hotel' Owners

DETROIT (AP) — A group of Minneapolis men pays $50 a day to park it when it goes traveling.

But the $50 includes maid service, steam, electricity, water, telephone connections and use of shower facilities.

These services are handy when your car is an 80-foot long railroad car.

Once the pride of the Soo Line vice president, Car No. 48 now is the traveling hotel of nine Minneapolis men, whose average age is 35 and whose occupations range from plumber to physicist.

ATTEND CONVENTION

Three of them brought No. 48 into Detroit this week, parked it for $50 at the Grand Trunk station in the downtown area and went off to the American Society of Tool & Manufacturing Engineers exposition.

They buy 18 first class tickets to get the railroads to pull them.

At the end of the day, their accommodations were ready—five bedroom compartments which sleep 10 persons, a kitchen, a lounge with tables and easy chairs, a lavatory and an observation platform.

The car is equipped with carpeting and mahogany paneling throughout and, its owners estimate, would cost about $225,000 to build now.

PRICE $3,600

They bought it for $3,600 after spotting it in a Minneapolis railroad yard last year. No. 48 was built in 1909 and modernized somewhat in 1926.

"We've taken short trips around Minnesota, down to St. Louis and Chicago or up to Duluth," said James E. Moe, president of the Minnetech Laboratories Inc., which makes high precision gauging equipment.

"In August we'll be at the World's Fair in New York."

"There'll be no accommodation problems for us," added Clark E. Johnson, an electrical engineer and physicist.

"This isn't expensive when it's divided nine ways," Moe said. "In fact, it's cheaper when you figure food, hotel bills, tipping, cabs and fares."

Vote Age Bill Appears Dead

LANSING (UPI)—The House of Representatives appeared ready today to quietly let die a proposed constitutional amendment that would lower Michigan's voting age to 18.

But State Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, a cosponsor of the resolution for extending the franchise to the under-21 age group, isn't ready to quit the fight.

The Senate passed the resolution to put the question on the November ballot last month, 24-7, and it awaits now for further action in the House.

Wednesday Rep. Homer Arnett, R-Kalamazoo, chairman of the House Committee on Constitutional Revision, indicated the action now is forthcoming. He said the resolution would stay in committee.

Arnett said the main reasons for avoiding the issue on the floor were the press of the legislative calendar — including congressional and state reappointment — and indecision on the part of teen-agers themselves.

NO MORE PROBLEMS

"My fellow lawmakers have asked me not to give them any more problems this session," Arnett said. "And we also have an election problem with the possibility of voting machines being so jammed they couldn't hold any more."

Arnett said teen-agers who testified at a House hearing on 18-year-old vote Tuesday weren't sure which way they stood.

"Some of them were for it but I think maybe a few more were against it," he said.

Bowman complained the House committee "didn't even give me the courtesy of appearing at a hearing. But I'll work for it and with the right odds I'd bet we get it out of the committee."

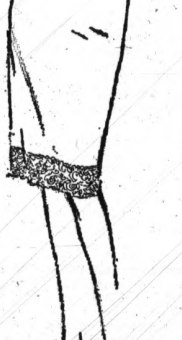

Bowman and Sen. William Ford, D-Taylor, were the main boosters when the long-debated question on teen-age voting advanced farther than at any time in Michigan's history last month.

Enjoy Camping? Combine Trip With NY Fair Visit!

MAKE OVER PAGES

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This article, Camping at the New York World's Fair, is another in the series on that attraction planned by Automobile Club of Michigan.)

Camp-minded Michiganders may have the idea it's the thing to do when planning a visit to the New York World's Fair. Is it?

It can be done, says Jerry

E. Fisher, Automobile Club of Michigan touring manager. But, he adds, it won't be as easy as camping in northern Michigan or other places where the welcome mat is untrampled.

There is first the difficulty of finding vacancies at sites within driving distance of the fair.

True, sites may be found within a 50-mile radius of New York City. But, and this is most important—reservations simply must be made well in advance of arrival.

It's well to keep in mind that there are no trailer parks within the five boroughs (or counties) that make up New York City—Manhattan, Brooklyn, Queens, Staten Island and the Bronx. In addition, there are no facilities now, or planned, at the fair for parking travel trailers.

A central clearing bureau to aid those seeking New York travel trailer accommodations has been established, Fisher said. This will eliminate the necessity of contacting all the individual parks to find space.

William S. Rayburn, a trailer dealer who knows the New York area and its trailer parks from 45 years spent there, has formed Trailer Accommodations, Inc., Box 150, White Plains, N.Y.

According to information furnished by Rayburn, travel trailer owners will be offered reservations at the nearest park in which space is available for the dates requested. A service fee of $5 will be charged.

Three dollars will be returned if no space can be found for the dates requested.

Most of the parks in the area have complete hookups. Charges range generally from $2 to $5 daily, depending on distance to the fair.

Fisher said it was estimated that 600 travel trailers will arrive in the New York area daily during the fair.

A new camping and travel trailer site is planned at Exit 12

of the New Jersey Turnpike, Fisher said. The 2,600 sites, for either travel trailers or camping, will rent for $5 a day, electrical hookups, toilets, showers, play areas, uniformed police security and regularly chartered buses to the Fair Grounds.

Fisher said further information may be obtained from: Camping for World's Fair, care of Cadillac Estates, Inc., 4239 Monroe Street, Toledo, Ohio, 43606.

Other sources of information on campsites include the New Jersey State Department of Conservation, Trenton, N.J.; the New York State Department of Conservation, Albany, N.Y., and the Connecticut State Park Commission in Hartford, Conn.

The list may be augmented later this season by 1,000 new campsites in Brewster, Mohawk State Park and Peekskill, N.Y.

EMERGENCY SITE
In New Jersey, 35 miles from New York, Chesapeake State Park is being readied as an emergency campsite area. None of the comforts of home should be expected at this rural camp area, however, Fisher warns.

It's also important to remember that house trailers with bottled gas are not permitted to use the Holland Tunnel, the Lincoln Tunnel, the George Washington Bridge Lower Level or the George Washington Bridge Expressway.

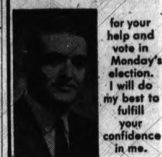

The prohibition also applies to empty containers which just contained liquefied petroleum gas. This restriction, however, does not apply to the George Washington Bridge Upper Level or at any of the Staten Island Bridges operated by the Port Authority.

Trailers also are not allowed the use of any of New York City's parkways, including the East River Drive and the West Side Highway, nor those in Nassau, Suffolk and Westchester Counties.

A final reminder from Fisher: AAA does not inspect or recommend trailer parks or campgrounds and is not in a position to place reservations for such facilities.

Thank You . . .

William H. Taylor, Jr.
Commissioner Dist. 3

for your help and vote in Monday's election. I will do my best to fulfill your confidence in me.

Senate Passes Bill to Aid Stock Sales

LANSING (AP)—The Senate Wednesday passed 28-3 and sent to the House a proposal for a new Blue Sky Law concerning the sale of stocks and bonds.

The 1923 state law was enacted 17 years before Congress enacted the Federal Investment Company Act, and has been amended at nearly every session since.

Enactment of the mammoth, 62-page bill will remove restrictions which now prohibit the sale of many securities.

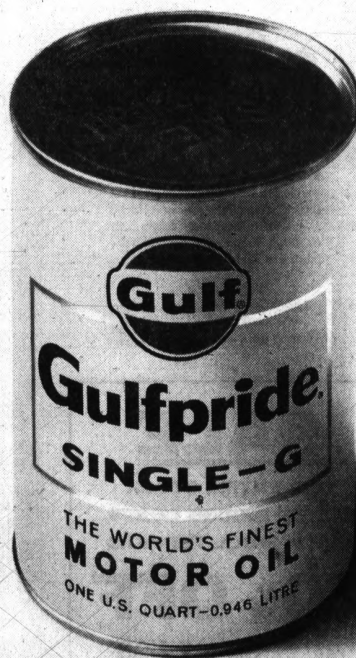

Rep. Gilbert Bursley, R-Ann Arbor, the bill's chief sponsor, said it will permit new firms to finance themselves in Michigan.

Recovering De Gaulle Sees Aides in Hospital

PARIS (AP)—President Charles de Gaulle, recovering from a prostate operation, discussed routine affairs today with two aides.

NEW GULFPRIDE® SINGLE-G MOTOR OIL BEATS FOUR MAJOR COMPETITORS IN TOUGH ENGINE-PERFORMANCE TEST.

Announcing all-new Gulfpride® Single-G. Gulf formulated this brand-new motor oil to assure complete all-round protection for your engine—old or new—in all driving conditions.

To prove its superiority, new Gulfpride Single-G was tested against the best oils of four major competitors. Rigorous tests prescribed by the automobile industry for motor oil performance under severe operating conditions were used.

In the most critical test—engine cleanliness—Gulf even doubled the engine running time.

At the end of this tough test, new Gulfpride Single-G showed the highest engine cleanliness rating of all, including higher priced oils.

Give your car—old or new—a new high in protection through a new high in engine cleanliness. Change to new Gulfpride Single-G—at the Sign of the Gulf Orange Disc. Gulf Oil Corporation.

Bangs Hide Her Forehead; but Don't Be a Sorehead

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am 12 years old. My bangs touch the ends of my eyebrows and that's the way I like them. The kids at school like them that way, too, but my mom and dad want them cut. I think I should be able to have my hair the way I like it at my age. What do you think?

LORRAINE
DEAR LORRAINE: Even more important than how you wear your hair is obeying the wishes of your parents. BUT, I wish more parents would worry less about how their children wear their hair (as long as it was clean and neat) and worried more about what was UNDER the scalp.

DEAR ABBY: The day after I was married my husband told me that he had paid $500 to have a thorough Investigation made of my background because he knew I wasn't telling him "everything" I had done in my life before we met. He was right. I didn't lie. When he asked me, I told him I had made some mistakes, but they didn't concern him. (I had no illegitimate children or previous marriages to hide.)

We have been married five months, and a day has not gone by that he doesn't throw something of my past in my face.

His greatest pleasure is taunting me about this. I cannot stand the torture any longer. He knew all this a month before we were married, but he kept it quiet until afterwards.

I think my marriage was a mistake. We were married in the church. What can I do, short of suicide?

TWENTY-TWO AND MISERABLE

DEAR MISERABLE: Run — do not walk — to your minister and tell him your story. It could have a happy ending. Good luck.

Parental Secrets Told to Child Study Group

Sharing hosts honors for the occasion were Mrs. William Hilderley, Mrs. Fred Hoenstine, Mrs. Harold Kendrick, Mrs. Jack Ricks, Mrs. William Boettcher and Mrs. Ira Vail.

Officers were elected to be installed at the May meeting. They are Mrs. Nell Gray, president; Mrs. Victor Sutt, first vice president; Mrs. Donald Newman, second vice president; Mrs. George Welterhahn, recording secretary; Mrs. Dean Field, financial secretary; Mrs. George Pentuik, corresponding secretary.

Two Programs Heard by Club

Two speakers were featured at the Wednesday dinner meeting of the General Motors Girls' Club.

Randall Switzer showed a movie on "Cooking with Wine" and William L. Belaney discussed "What the Credit Union Means to G.M. Truck and Coach Employees."

Mrs. Otis Brookshear and Mrs. Donald Duffy were chairmen of the affair. This event is one of the major welfare projects being held at the G.M. Credit Union hall.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Altrusa Club to Mark Birthday

The Altrusa Club of Greater Birmingham will celebrate Altrusa International 40th birthday with a 10 a.m. breakfast at Kingsley Inn Sunday.

This first woman's service club was established in 1917 and now has clubs located in Bermuda, Canada, England, Guatemala, India, Ireland, Mexico, the Philippines, Puerto Rico and the United States.

Keynote speaker will be Mrs. Jean Hoxie who is administrator in the public schools of Hamtramck, an outstanding tennis coach, and an ambassador of good will for America.

In teaching tennis Mrs. Hoxie emphasizes the development of the individual and her students are noted as young ladies and gentlemen as well as star tennis players.

TAUGHT ROYALTY

Her work for the state department has included teaching the crown prince of Japan, the daughters of Queen Juliana and other world leaders.

Special guests will include Mrs. Robert Stewart of Mansfield, Ohio, membership chairman of Altrusa International and past district governor of district five; and Evelyn Miller of Chillicothe, Ohio, membership chairman of district five.

Other guests will include members from Lansing and Detroit Altrusa clubs, along with the Birmingham Soroptimist.

CHAIRMAN

Marion Goodale is chairman of the committee in charge of the affair. She will be assisted by Muriel Brusie, Mrs. W. C. Sproull, Mrs. Laurence J. Hertz and Marjorie Sallie.

Workshop Scheduled for 10 State Division WNFGA Units

Members of ten branches of the Michigan Division, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will participate in a workshop Monday in the CAT building.

Hosts for the affair will be the Waterford Branch. Guests clubs will include Clarkston, Lake Angelus, Holiday Farms, Lorraine Manor, Pine Lake, Pine Lake Estates, Sylvan Lake, Sylvan Manor and Kern Lake.

WORK SESSION

The morning session, featuring flower arranging for the home, is scheduled to begin at 9:30. Instructions on table settings for flower shows will follow the luncheon interlude.

Three graduate flower show judges from the WNFGA's Michigan Division will be the instructors, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Arthur Still of Holly. Assisting her will be Mrs. Arthur Cox of Milford.

Those who plan to attend will bring their own materials and equipment. Coffee and dessert will be served.

Luncheon Aids Veterans Fund

Blue Star Mothers of America, Pontiac chapter 4, met for a luncheon, social hour, and business meeting Tuesday at the Lake Orion home of Mrs. Edward Schram.

Mrs. Florence McCrae will be chairman of a May 6 money-making project. The May 12 meeting will be at the Pontiac YMCA on Mt. Clemens Street.

No Need to Stay Up for Guests

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: When having house guests, is it impolite for the hosts to retire at an earlier hour than the guests?

My husband thinks it is perfectly all right for them to do so, especially when they have a daily schedule to follow and must be up fairly early in the morning.

I think it is awkward and impolite for the hosts to go to bed and leave their guests. What is your opinion?

A: It is the host's (or hostess's) place to suggest going to bed and the guests usually follow their lead.

However, if the guests wish to stay up watching television, or reading, or whatever, it is not necessary for the hosts to stay up with them and they may quite properly go to bed.

Q: A friend of ours is going to be married this coming Saturday. My husband and I were invited to the wedding but we will be unable to go. I did, however, send a wedding present to the bride and enclosed a card with our good wishes.

My husband thinks we should send a telegram to the bride and groom the day of their wedding since we will not be able to be there.

Will you please tell me if this is necessary?

A: Having sent a wedding present to the bride along with your good wishes, it is not necessary to send a telegram the day of the wedding.

Of course if you would like to do so, it will surely please the bride and groom.

Secretary of the Year Is Chosen

Catherine Walser was crowned secretary of the year for north Oakland County in festivities at Devon Gables last night.

The dinner meeting was held by the Pontiac Chapter of the National Secretaries Association in honor of "Secretaries Day," high point in the national "Secretaries Week."

Miss Walser is employed by Pontiac Motor Division as secretary to two reliability assurance directors: O. J. Brown and D. G. Simpson. She is a graduate of Waterford Township High School and the Pontiac Business Institute.

Judge William J. Beer spoke on "Business of the Court" at the meeting.

Guests included Miss Walser's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eagon Walser. Others present were Barbara Mick, Ruth Brown, Nancy Moore, Virginia Hurlbise and Mrs. Robert L. Smith.

NEW YORK — Today we turn our attention to the harried woman who complains like most of society that there is not enough time these days to save time.

But it can be done. There is hope even for the confirmed procrastinators who spend more time working up to doing things than to doing them.

If you want to squeeze a few more minutes out of each day, listen to how some of the experts manage or have managed.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R., Me., tries to start each day as early as possible, claiming she can get twice as much work done in the hours before 9 a.m. as after.

Arthur Godfrey believes he saves 20 minutes each day simply by getting up when he wakes up.

Henry Ford II gains time by organizing it — writing down things to be done as much as one month ahead. Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, former U. S. treasurer, saves time by using a telephone headset which leaves her hands free for other chores while she waits, or talks.

Some women use small sized stationery — less time spent on writing. Mary Margaret McBride is reported to have gone even farther by using postcards for correspondence.

As one who prides herself on being on time, I'm interested to learn that in a lifetime I will have spent three years waiting. The estimate comes from the U.S. census bureau, based on a study made by the University of Wisconsin.

Difficult as it is to believe, an extra 15 minutes a day would enable one in a year to read the whole Bible twice, the complete works of Shakespeare once.

In short, nearly 90 hours saved for something you want to do like taking those neglected piano lessons or the adult education course in decorating.

Then, there's the advice from one magazine for women to put their schedules on a diet.

It suggested that just as families have eliminated the 14-course meal, so the homemaker must stop dividing herself up for so many activities that she cannot contribute much to any.

Once signed up for, say, the PTA, symphony association and church bazaar, there are enough.

There are women who do their menu planning while sitting under a dryer at the beauty shop, who buy birthday cards in sufficient quantity at one stroke to cover the whole year of assorted relatives, who make carbon copies of folksy letters to interested members of the family.

As for procrastination, that nasty old thief of time, the best way to whip it is to dig into the project.

Although, as a practiced procrastinator, I was interested in the way James E. Robison, head of Indian Head Mills Fabrics, handles this time waster.

He deliberately tosses certain papers into a special "procrastination drawer." When filled, he goes through — to find that 75 to 90 per cent of the problems have solved themselves.

The William H. Mohrhorffs of Mackintosh Lane announce the engagement of their daughter Miriam Christine to Lionel Albert Poirier, son of the Lionel W. Poiriers of Centredale, R.I. Both are graduate students at University of Wisconsin.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

It is interesting to note how the habits, fashions, interests, hobbies, popular sports and the mode of life of the time, are reflected in the classified advertisements.

You will find it a hilarious and fascinating experience if you browse through the classified advertisements of some old newspapers.

I have always thought that it would be fun to write a book or at least a magazine article about this. However, I will probably never do it since it would take a lot of time and travel, if done properly.

On the current scene the elaborate beautiful bathroom seems to be an outstanding symbol of our time. Perhaps it is symptomatic of our love of luxury and reminiscent of the Romans' penchant for luxurious baths.

I have wondered just why this great interest in bathrooms has occurred. With this in mind, the other day in New York I had a talk with Sherie Wagner.

He has been a tremendous force in upgrading the bathroom from a dark corner in the house to a lounge worthy of a Cleopatra.

Mr. Wagner said that he had long been aware that the bathroom was the most neglected area in the house. It had no style and no glamour.

He reminded me that people have become much more conscious of style and gracious living than they once were because of the movies and television.

I was surprised to hear him say that more and more people are building homes in their later years. Many are finally building their dream house and every detail must be lovely. There are many beautiful designs.

Fixtures are 24 carat gold plate, silver plate or chrome. Some handles have semi-precious stones.

The charming, elegant bathroom seems to have become an international mania. There are "his" bathrooms and "hers" bathrooms and double bathrooms.

I asked Sherie Wagner how the men react to the elaborate bath.

He told me that most of them go along with the idea. It is usually the little woman who is the instigator but generally the husband helps with the selection and seldom balks.

Two members of Xi Phi chapter presented a program to their Beta Sigma Phi society sisters at the April meeting Tuesday in the Waldron Hotel. Admiral Richard Byrd's book entitled "Alone," Mrs. Willard Stephen spoke of his personal discoveries as well as the scientific data in the content.

Elizabeth Halsey discussed "High Moments of Music" and played recordings of Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto," Beethoven's "Sonata in F and Mozart's Quintet in G Minor."

Mrs. John S. Black of Foxcroft will be hostess for the chapter's birthday dinner on May 19.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Alphonso Fowler and Mrs. Stephan.

Mrs. Rammes told the group of her recent tour of South America.

Anchor Cushion With Foam Rubber

If flyweight plastic foam chair or sofa cushions constantly shift out of position, try putting an uncovered piece of sheet latex foam rubber under the cushion. The thousands of tiny air cells in the foam rubber will grip the upholstery fabric and help ease the cushion's wanderlust. Better still, the cushions can be easily replaced with real foam rubber!

This spray shield kit enables anyone, even Mrs. X, to color shoes without a mess. The kit includes a plastic glove, two sticks, and a spray "booth." It can be purchased for 49 cents at department, shoe and variety stores.

Mrs. X Goes Color Mad on Shoes

By MIRIAM NEAL

Mrs. X was a normal, happy housewife with brown, black, beige, white and navy shoes.

Her closet was liberally filled with light spring fashions; many white, mostly pastels and bright, bright shades. Nevertheless, she felt drab, dull and conventional.

Everyday she would go to her closet, smile at her dresses and frown at her shoes.

It was no use. Something had to be done.

She started saving pennies and forming her plan. She had it timed to the second. When the day came, the whole house was empty: no kids, no dogs, no bridge club, no husband, no nothing.

She "snuck" to the store, made her purchase and hurried back to the house. After bolting the doors, she ran to her bedroom and locked the door.

Suddenly the room was swept with swirls of color and high, nervous laughter.

When it was all over her shoes lay on the floor in torrid shades of fuchsia, peacock blue and parachute orange with plaids and stripes and polka dots and glitter and even pea green checks.

They were no longer drab.

Now she could walk with feet high, bright and pretty and if she tired of her shoes she could paint them again.

She has 24 colors to choose from any of which she can blend with any other. Like a child in kindergarten, all she needs is paint and lots of room.

Now there's a new product which eliminates the need for lots of room. A shield is equipped with a plastic glove, two shoe sticks, and a spray "booth" in which shoes can be sprayed.

Grey Flannel Fades Out

The man in the grey flannel suit may soon look about as modern as the man in the collared collar. The reason: men's suits, as well as their shirts, are now being made in a variety of colors.

Men (and their wives) who have found that val-dyed shirts look just as nice after repeated washings as when new are taking a more cordial look at color in suits.

What About Lending Relatives Money?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant to Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley: I would like to hear what you have to say about the etiquette of lending money to relatives.

To what degree should the business-like attitude in handling the transaction go? If one loans money to such relatives, doesn't one have a right to know their financial situation?

Is it really a good idea to ask to borrow from relatives? What are the assets, what are the debts? A.M., Madison, Wis.

Dear A.M.: I gather you're on the lending end in this case. People usually want to borrow from relatives because the interest will be less, or nonexistent - or the time of repayment can be conveniently extended. Or simply because they're so hard up a commercial loan is out of the question.

Unless the would-be borrower volunteers information about his financial situation and states when and how he feels able to repay the loan, then consider he's really asking for a helping hand.

In that case, either grant the loan and cross your fingers, or just decline. If you want a strictly business proposition, lend your money to a stranger.

As for whether it's a good idea for relatives to borrow from relatives - consider how many college educations, were possible because one member of a family was financially better off than the others and was willing to put money in that risky investment, a human being.

Profit can't always be counted in dollars and cents.

Dear Miss Feeley: I have been working for many years, and so have had Social Security deducted from my income since it started.

Recently I was told that it is wise to check what's in my Social Security account from time to time. How do I go about this? Also, I received my original Social Security number some years before I was married.

Which name should I sign now, in requesting information - my unmarried name or my present married name? I never did change my name on the records. Mrs. R. B., Birmingham, Ala.

Dear Mrs. B.: While your Social Security account is automatically kept over the years, there's always the possibility that some error can be made. This is why the Social Security Administration recommends that we all keep tabs on our accounts - preferably every three years.

There's a time limit in which a correction can be made without undue fuss - three years, three months, and 15 days, according to the Administration.

You can obtain a card - officially known as Form OAR-7004 - from your local Social Security district office. Or perhaps through the personnel department of your company.

The card is entitled "Request for Statement of Earnings," and you simply fill in your name, address, and Social Security number, stamp the card and sent it to the address printed on the card.

STRAIGHTEN OUT

If you discover an error in your account after receiving the information requested, then discuss it with your local district office and they will help you straighten it out.

You may also obtain a form from your local district office for registering your married name on your account. Your number remains the same. Attach your original card to the form when you return it, and you will be issued a new card.

Good Care for Swimsuits

Help your swimsuit retain its smart good looks all summer long by rinsing it in clear water as soon as possible after wearing. Hang it up soaking wet without wringing and let air dry.

Spandex is a popular item for suits this season and if your suit happens to be a white one, be careful of pools where chlorine is used in the water. Chlorine will cause your suit to yellow.

Miss Love Married to Hallenbeck

Parents of the couple are the Lloyd Loves of Oliver Street and the Ronald C. Hallenbecks of Gingell Court.

The bride chose a champagne silk suit to which she clipped a shoulder corsage of white and yellow carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Carter attended the couple who left for a brief northern honeymoon.

Some 30 guests honored the bride at a kitchen shower Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Frank Roselli on East Fairmont Street. The hostesses were Gloria Loflin, Mary Gilmore and Patricia Billy.

Jaycee Women Vote to Include New Project

Mrs. Jeffery B. Cornish of Nanawau Court opened her home to the Waterford Township Jaycee Auxiliary for the April meeting on Monday. Mrs. David Packard and Mrs. Ralph Radford were co-hostesses.

The group voted to include the Oakland County Medical Care Facility as a community project.

Mrs. Michael Patterson, Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. David Zuelke and Mrs. Marshall Kachka were received into membership. Welcome as guests were Mrs. Donald Card and Mrs. Richard Cote.
