Strikes Paralyze France

PARIS (AP) — Strikes snowballed rapidly across France in a wave of social ferment today and the nation approached total paralysis. Paris was at a virtual standstill with not a bus, subway or train moving. Housewives rushed to stock up on food.

Joining the walkouts amid calls for the resignation of President Charles de Gaulle were workers in coal mines, automobile factories, ports and airports. Even war widows and war veterans joined the movement with demands for higher pensions.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle conferred with top ministers yesterday but took no immediate action. He had returned home early from his official visit to Romania Saturday.

The number of workers off their jobs ballooned into the millions. Hundreds of business concerns were closed down either by worker walkouts or because of the paralysis of transport and other services.

GARBAGE PILES UP

Garbage piled in the streets of Paris. There have been no collections since Saturday because of a strike of garbagemen and street cleaners.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of workers occupied the big Peugeot auto factory at Sochaux in eastern France near the Swiss border. All of the government-owned Renault auto plants have been occupied since Friday.

The 22,000 workers of the Michelin tire factory at Clermont Ferrand in central France went on strike and occupied the premises.

Striking Marseille dockworkers ran red flags to the tops of masts of all French ships. The 3,000 dockers of neighboring Ciotat were also on strike.

UNABLE TO WORK

About two-thirds of the 65,000 workers at various Citroen auto plants around the country were unable to work. A company spokesman said "elements foreign to the company" prevented the men from entering.

★ ★ ★

In Paris, lines formed in front of some banks even before opening time. Bank employes got strike orders Saturday. The Bank of France delayed the opening of the foreign exchange market.

Electricity workers in Paris continued to provide power although they have occupied the factories since Saturday night.

MOST MINERS OUT

Most miners were out. The 45,000 coal miners of the North Basin joined the strike of their comrades in Lorraine.

Reports of other stoppages poured in from outside Paris — 2,500 at the French plant of International Harvester at St. Dizier, nearly 10,000 in the Sud-Aviation plant at the port of Rochefort, and an unlimited strike voted by the same firm's factory at Marignane, near Marseille.

PRESS WINS AGAIN — John A. Riley (right), Pontiac Press advertising director, accepts two major awards for the paper from John Biddle, president of the National Newspaper Association, at a ceremony Saturday in Los Angeles. The recipient of numerous past awards, the new honors are for general excellence in the daily newspaper field and typography.

2 Awards Captured by Pontiac Press

The Pontiac Press captured two top awards in the 1968 National Better Newspaper Contest sponsored by the National Newspaper Association.

The awards were accepted by Advertising Director John A. Riley at the 83rd annual convention, held in Los Angeles, Calif. The Press was acclaimed for general excellence in the daily newspaper field, taking second place; and third place for excellence in typography.

Taking first place in the daily division, general excellence, was Today, a paper established two years ago in the Cape Kennedy area near Cocoa, Fla.

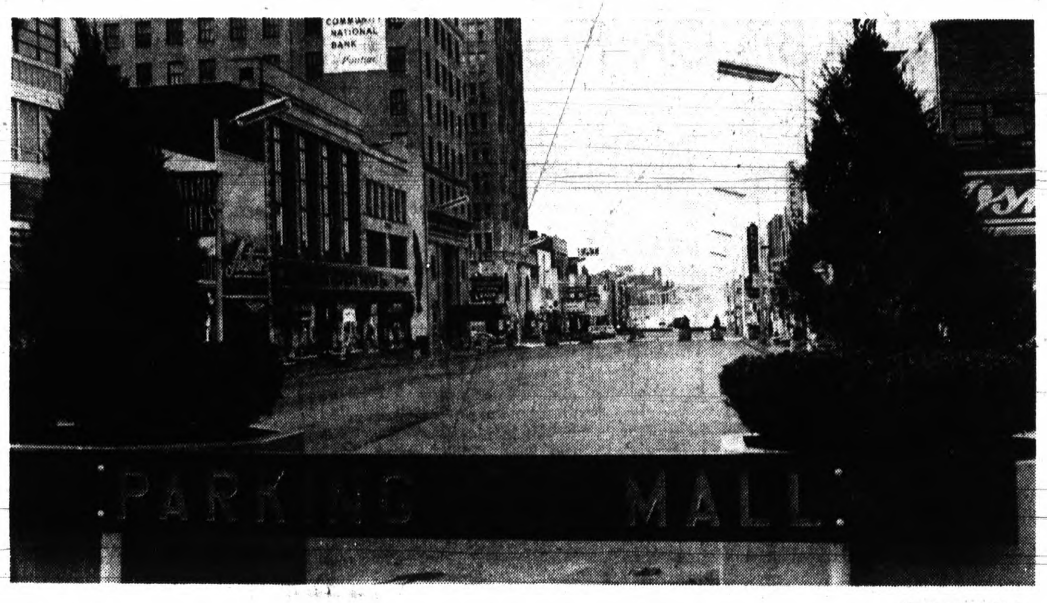

A total of 163 newspapers from 38 states were involved in the competition, with 3,414 entries. In the general excellence division The Press was cited as a close second and praised for its mixture of local, state and national news on page 1.

"Good layout and plenty of white space" was lauded in awarding The Press third in the typographical division.

★ ★ ★

The Press has won numerous awards in this contest before, including the Sweepstakes prize, for the over-all winner in all divisions.

The Birmingham Eccentric also received several awards in the weekly newspaper category.

PARKING MALL — A parking mall which hopefully will attract more business to the downtown area was put into effect this morning. North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence was closed to traffic to allow the new arrangement which boosts parking capacity from 14 spaces to 66. The mall was empty shortly before 9 a.m. when this photograph was taken but by midmorning it was well used. The street will be closed to traffic during shopping hours.

Downtown Parking Mall Open

Downtown Pontiac's parking problem was somewhat relieved today with addition of 52 new parking spaces on North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence.

★ ★ ★

The increase was made possible with installation of a parking mall that permits parking at right angle to the curb rather than the familiar parallel parking.

★ ★ ★

The parking mall, enlivened with decorative planters and benches, can be entered from Huron or Lawrence, but motorists can only exit at Huron where an attendant is stationed in a booth to take tolls.

★ ★ ★

Basically aimed at the short-term parker, the mall will be in operation Monday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

5 CENTS FOR HALF-HOUR

The parking fees are 5 cents for a half-hour; 10 cents for one hour; 15 cents for an hour and a half; 25 cents for two hours; and 35 cents for each additional hour.

Before the opening of the mall today, there had been only parking spaces for a total of 14 cars along the one block stretch of Saginaw. Now there are 66.

When entering the mall the motorist presses a button on an automatic machine to receive a time-punched card. The card is given to the attendant when leaving to determine the parking fee.

★ ★ ★

City Candidates Report Cost of Campaigning

Seven city commissioners elected April 15 spent, or had spent directly on their behalf, a total of $1,915 for campaigning expenses, according to affidavits filed with the Oakland County clerk's office.

★ ★ ★

State law requires that each candidate for office file with the clerk's office a record of campaign expenses, how the money was spent, where it came from and how much is yet owed. In addition committees working on behalf of candidates must file a record of expenses.

TUCKER CAMPAIGN

The largest amount was spent for the campaign of Charles M. Tucker, District 1 candidate. Tucker listed expenses of $469 for printing and newspaper and radio advertisements.

The Charles Tucker for City Commission Committee spent $1,195, according to its treasurer, Mattie L. Lasseigne. This included printing, newspaper and radio advertisements and pay for precinct workers.

★ ★ ★

The committee listed a number of gifts from individual contributors including $490 from C. Tucker.

George M. Grba, a candidate in District 4, listed expenses of $631. The Grba for City Commission Committee spent $440 for advertising, according to its treasurer, Don Medina of 607 Granada.

OPPONENT'S DONATION

The committee listed a number of donations including one of $70 from Richard I. Moore, who filed for the same

Harriman, Vance Review Paris Talks With S. Viet

PARIS (AP) — Vietnam peace negotiators W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance called on South Vietnam's observer here today for a 45-minute review of the talks thus far.

★ ★ ★

Harriman told newsmen as he left the South Vietnamese consulate that he and Bui Diem, who is South Vietnam's ambassador to Washington, had agreed "the affirmative position taken by the United States delegation in the talks was the correct one, rather than getting involved in the propaganda exercise which has characterized the Hanoi approach."

★ ★ ★

Harriman added that he wanted "to get down to the substance of the talks" as soon as possible but added: "That is up to Hanoi."

Diem told reporteers: "We had a very, very broad review of the world situation after the first week of negotiations."

When he arrived at the South Vietnamese consulate, Harriman told newsmen he wanted to "get some information from the South Vietnamese delegation and to keep them fully informed. We want to get their point of view and judgment.

"After all, it is the future of their country we are talking about."

He said he also wanted to learn the latest news from Saigon since the formation of a new cabinet.

On his return to the U.S. Embassy, Harriman commented that a reporter had told him the North Vietnamese were predicting there would be nothing productive from the conference until some time in June.

'RIGHT PLACE'

"I said to him," Harriman went on, "that he had come to just the right place to ask about that. As far as we are concerned, we are prepared to have it productive immediately."

Knowledgeable American and French diplomats believe a compromise way will be found to end U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, reduce North Vietnamese infiltration into the South and move to full-scale negotiations.

★ ★ ★

But the possibility that the differences between the Americans and the North Vietnamese will persist and that the talks will eventually collapse cannot be ruled out.

No meetings are scheduled until Wednesday.

Cleanup Opens M-Week

Pontiac Press Photo

An estimated 1,700 youths helped kick off Michigan Week in Pontiac Saturday with a cleanup of the downtown business district and city parks to celebrate Community Pride Day.

Today, Government Day, features an exchange of mayors between Ypsilanti and Pontiac. While Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. is visiting Ypsilanti the city will host Ypsilanti Mayor John H. Burton, Mayor Pro Tem Vaughn E. Filsinger and their wives.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Michigan Week Chairman Clyde Haskill, termed Community Pride Day a great success. The downtown area cleanup Saturday started with hundreds of youths sweeping Saginaw Street.

The youths, under the direction of the Pontiac Area Jaycees who sponsored the cleanup, also swept store foyers, cleaned store windows and helped put up displays in vacant stores.

PARKS CLEANED

Several busloads of youths went to Murphy, Oakland, Beaudette and Jaycee parks to clean them. Another contingent was bused to the Bagley-Wessen area for a general cleanup.

Some youths were also taken to the Stephen Wisner home, where the grass was cut and the grounds spruced up.

It wasn't all work for the youngsters, though. Refreshments were provided by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank and the Downtown Pontiac Business Association throughout the day.

In the afternoon seven area bands took part in a contest and provided music and entertainment for cleanup participants.

Area to Stay Cool Through Tuesday

After yesterday's rain which chalked up the highest accumulation of any day this May (1.8 inches), skies cleared and temperatures dipped. The low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 42 degrees. By 2 p.m. the mercury warmed to 61.

★ ★ ★

Variable cloudiness will continue to punctuate the blue skies through tomorrow with tonight's low to fall in the 36-to-40 range and tomorrow's high in the low 60s.

★ ★ ★

A slight warming trend will be noticeable Wednesday and skies will remain overcast, according to the weatherman's predictions.

★ ★ ★

This morning's northwesterly winds at 10 to 20 miles will diminish by evening.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today, tonight and tomorrow 20.

Communists Attack Yanks Along DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops made three ground attacks on U.S. Marines along South Vietnam's northern frontier yesterday and sent big rockets smashing into fuel and ammunition stores at the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division.

The U.S. Command said the Marines repulsed the attacks near Khe Sanh and Con Thien, killing 127 North Vietnamese soldiers and capturing 58 weapons. Twelve Marines were reported killed and 49 wounded.

But the enemy's 100-pound rockets did "heavy" damage to the ammunition stores at Camp Evans, the 1st Air Cavalry headquarters 16 miles northwest of Hue, as well as "light" damage to fuel stores, material and facilities. "Light" personnel casualties also were reported.

Heavy damage to the ammunition means that so much of it was blown up that the men at the camp could not continue their mission until their supply was replenished.

MAN-FOR-MAN

U.S. officers say five divisions of allied and North Vietnamese forces face each other in the northern sector on almost a man-for-man basis. The U.S. Command believes that enough allied troops are on hand to handle anything the enemy may try in the five provinces below the demilitarized zone.

★ ★ ★

The South Vietnamese military command reported 131 enemy troops killed by government rangers and tanks in a three-day sweep 12 miles south of Da Nang. Government casualties were said to be light.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. Command also announced that allied forces have killed or captured more than 10,000 Vietcong and North Vietnamese in six weeks of Operation Complete Victory, the 100,000-man campaign to keep enemy pressure off Saigon. The casualty figures include the repulse of the Vietcong's second attack on Saigon two weeks ago, a small-scale followup to their lunar new year offensive in February.

The U.S. Command reported three planes lost Saturday, raising the total reported lost in combat in Vietnam to 263 over South Vietnam and 839 over North Vietnam.

PILOT KILLED

An Air Force Super Sabre jet was shot down Saturday while attacking enemy positions 22 miles northwest of Saigon. The pilot was killed.

Both the planes lost over the North were photo reconnaissance jets: a $6-million Navy Vigilante equipped with a $1-million camera, and a $2.5-million Air Force F4 Phantom. All four crewmen were missing.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac Woman Killed in Crash

A 53-year-old Pontiac woman was killed yesterday when the car in which she was riding collided with another vehicle on M59 in Highland Township.

Three of four other persons involved in the mishap were hospitalized.

★ ★ ★

Killed about 1:15 a.m. was Mrs. Francis R. O'Connor of 684 Kenilworth, a passenger in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Joann M. Lada, 35, of 671 E. Madison, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said the Lada car was eastbound on M59 when it collided headon with a car driven by John Krajinka, 54, of 1497 Whittier, Waterford Township.

FAIR CONDITION

Both drivers and 14-year-old Donna Mathews of 660 Second are reported in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

Miss Mathews was a passenger in the Lada car, as was Jenna Carmichael, 14, of 671 E. Madison, who was not reported hospitalized, deputies said.

★ ★ ★

City Girl Captures Dance Honors

A 12-year-old Pontiac girl was one of the two best dancers at the National Highland Dance Competition at Oakland University over the weekend. They will compete in the world championships in Scotland this summer.

Noreen Karos, of 2637 Littletell, will represent Michigan in the competition.

More than 250 pipers, drummers and dancers from the United States and Canada competed.

The colorful event was held in conjunction with Michigan Week and was the first time Michigan has hosted the dance competition.

AGE GROUPS

Dance competition was held Saturday and Sunday in age groups ranging from 5 to 20 years.

Miss Karos also won two trophies for being the best dancer in her age group for performing such dances as the Highland Fling, Sword Dance and Highland Reel.

★ ★ ★

Other area trophy winners included Maureen Connor, 10 and under group, Beth Noble, 14 and under, and Ann Jones, 8 and under, all of Utica.

Highlight of the two-day event was the combined performance of all competitors in a march.

★ ★ ★

Pipe bands that performed were the Detroit St. Andrews Pipe Band, Redford Highlanders and Michigan Highlanders.

CLEAN STREET AGAIN — The start of a busy day for Pontiac youths featured the cleaning of Saginaw Street in the downtown area Saturday. The cleanup program, sponsored by the Pontiac Area Jaycees as part of the Michigan Week celebration in the city, was concentrated on the downtown area and a number of city parks.

M-Week Starts With Cleanup

Jaycee cochairmen for the project, Thomas Bretzius and John R. Lyon, said that a number of prizes were given out among the cleanup participants.

Nearly 400 from Eastern Junior High School participated, they said.

★ ★ ★

Today's program calls for the Ypsilanti officials to tour Pontiac's major administrative buildings, points of interest in the city, the Pontiac Motor Division plant, the Oakland County Service Center and Oakland University.

The guests and city officials will meet at a dinner tonight at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.

Congressman Will Run Again in 18th District

Congressman William S. Broomfield of Royal Oak announced today that he will seek a seventh term from Michigan's 18th District.

The 46-year-old Republican said he will continue his campaign for "efficiency, economy and a more effective foreign policy."

★ ★ ★

Broomfield said the "administration's foreign policy failures throughout the world, crime, poverty and inflation will definitely be issues" in the campaign.

The ranking Republican on the Asian and Pacific affairs and national security subcommittees of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Broomfield also is a member of the African subcommittee.

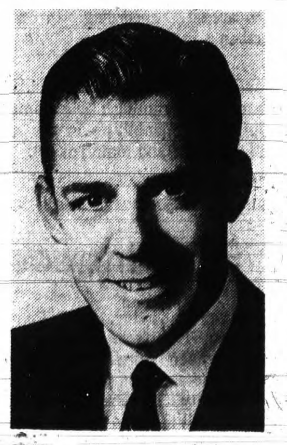

ONLY REPUBLICAN

He served last fall as a member of the U.S. delegation to the 22nd General Assembly of the United Nations, the only Republican named to the five-man delegation by President Johnson.

Before taking office as a U.S. representative in 1957, Broomfield served two years in the Michigan Senate and six years in the Michigan House of Representatives in Lansing where he was the youngest speaker pro tem in the state's history.

WILLIAM S. BROOMFIELD

Senator Favors House Version

Holiday Bill OK Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sponsor of a measure to create five new three-day federal holidays says he'll ditch it in favor of a House-passed measure offering one less long-weekend holiday.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said Sunday he's confident the measure passed 212 to 83 by the House — and backed by business and labor alike—will clear the Senate.

"I think we will be better advised to take the House bill," said Smathers, "and if we do, I feel confident we will be able to pass it."

The House measure, once considered a sure candidate for defeat, would transfer Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day to Monday and would make Columbus Day a national holiday—also to be celebrated on a Monday.

Inclusion of Columbus Day in the bill is credited with winning it House passage by generating support from big-city members with large Italian-American and Catholic constituencies.

The bill wouldn't take effect until 1971—a concession to calendar-makers. While it would legally apply only to federal employes, state and local governments and private employers would be expected to follow suit.

Enactment would mean five three-day weekends, since Labor Day already falls on Monday.

Smathers' bill would have included Thanksgiving and Independence Day among the Monday holidays—as well as Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veteran Day—but didn't include Columbus Day.

The senator, who said he didn't expect Senate action before June, spoke on his weekly radio-television show for Florida stations.

Dinner Planned to Honor Youth

The Pontiac Citizens' Committee on Youth will hold its sixth annual awards dinner Wednesday at the Holiday Inn, 1801 S. Telegraph.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. will present awards to five citizens and one organization for their work for and with youth.

★ ★ ★

Teen of the week selections from the school year will also be acknowledged, according to George P. Caronis, executive secretary of the committee.

Receiving citizens awards will be Mrs. Louise Saks, Rosemary Gayton, William Lacy, Cressy Larson, Clarence Barnes and the Pontiac Police Officers Association.

Featured speaker will be Dr. Lino Romero, community mental health consultation and education director for Oakland County.

Saigon Rebuilding Set

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. and South Vietnamese military commands announced today they are assigning troops to rebuild sections of Saigon destroyed in fighting early this month. The project is called Operation Hearts Together.

City Buses Idle, Drivers 'Sick'

Most of the bus drivers in Pontiac failed to report to work this morning and service on three of the five routes was shut down.

Marvin Hilton, manager of Pontiac Transit, said 12 of 18 drivers expected to work today "called in sick."

He said he didn't believe that many men were really sick, but added "I don't know what it's all about."

Hilton said the men are members of the Motor Coach Operators Union, an AFL-CIO affiliate. Hilton said he was unaware that any problems existed at present. He said the union committeeman was one of the workers that showed up today. A meeting with union members is to be held later today, Hilton said.

CLOSED ROUTES

The only bus routes working this morning were the James K and Huron. Closed were the Joslyn, St. Joseph's-Franklin and Baldwin routes.

Hilton said he would make an effort to keep as many buses operating as possible and clear up the dispute. "As far as I'm concerned we're still operating," he said.

Birmingham

Panel Finds No Problems on Trash Site

BIRMINGHAM—"Relating our observations in Seattle (Wash.) to the proposed local station — if it is built as described in the authority's report—there should be no problems from noise, dust odor or rodents . . ."

That statement concludes the report of this city's rubbish transfer station study committee. The report will be presented to the City Commission tonight at 8.

The committee, established March 11 by the commission, visited Seattle May 2-3 as part of a study of transfer sites comparable to one proposed on city-owned property by the Southeast Oakland County Incinerator Authority.

The commission held a public hearing Jan. 22 on whether to sell the property, located on Coolidge between 14 Mile and Maple in Troy, to the authority, but postponed decision on the sale to allow time to study objections.

1,400 FEET AWAY

Though the closest residences to the industrially-zoned site are 1,400 feet away and separated from the site by railroad tracks, Sheffield Estates and Pembroke Manor civic associations have objected, complaining that odor, dust, rodents and traffic would depreciate property values.

All except Phelps concurred in the conclusion of the report.

The report dealt with each possible objection. As to noise, it said, "A check of residents in the gently ascending residential area to the north of the North Station revealed that those fronting the station at distance of 50 feet were universally annoyed. Residents at a distance of over 500 feet were not bothered or aware of any noise."

BARELY AUDIBLE

At 1,400 feet, the report continued, with open terrain and a 12-m.p.h. wind blowing toward listeners, the noise was barely audible.

Complaints regarding dust and noise, the committee found, showed the same distribution.

While puffs of dust were observed at the sites, only residents living within 300 feet complained. Only those within 250 feet found odors objectionable.

On rodents, the report stated, "No problem at all. None observed. No complaints from any residents. Only rodents reported by transfer station employes were on two specific occasions when they were sighted being dumped from collector trucks into trailers."

NO ACTION EXPECTED

No action is expected tonight on the property sale. The commission previously agreed to notify the Sheffield and Pembroke associations prior to a decision. According to John Saefke, assistant city manager, no notification has been sent.

Also set tonight are public hearings on rezoning of lots in the south Woodward area and on vacating of an alley west of Woodward from Landon to Lincoln.

The hearings were postponed at the April 29 commission meeting on recommendation of City Planner William Brownfield.

An additional hearing, on rezoning to the city's new row or town-house R-8 classification property bounded by Ann, Lincoln, Floyd, George, Purdy and Landon, will be June 24.

District 5 City Commissioner Robert F. Jackson listed expenses of $620 and donations from five persons totaling $337.

District 1 Commissioner T. Warren Fowler Sr. listed expenses of $431 and donations totaling $394.

Robert A. Landry, a candidate in District 7, listed expenses of $368 and donations from friends or relatives of $350.

MARSHALL EXPENSES

District 7 City Commissioner James H. Marshall listed expenses of $94 and donations from friends totaling $94. Another person, Lola P. Marion, filing a list of expenses on behalf of Marshall, claimed expenses of $271.

The Irwin for City Commission committee spent $312 on behalf of District 2 City Commissioner Robert C. Irwin, according to the affidavit signed by his brother, John K. Irwin Jr., a Pontiac attorney.

He listed contributions totaling $312 from a number of donors, including $10 from the candidate. Robert Irwin filed no expenses.

★ ★ ★

John F. Leonard, candidate in District 6 listed expenses of $305 and donations from two friends totaling $150.

DISTRICT 5 CANDIDATE

Arnold F. Jones, a candidate in District 5, listed expenses of $253 and donations from three persons totaling $253.

District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood listed expenses of $99 and donations from friends totaling $75.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. of District 3 filed an affidavit claiming no expenses and no donations as did Louis E. Fairbrother, a Birmingham attorney and an unsuccessful candidate in District 2.

NO PAPERS FILED

Two committees, each of which supported a number of candidates, also filed expenses.

A committee for the election of Tucker, Douglas, Jackson, Leonard and Landry spent $2,602 for signs, advertising, printing, and campaign workers, according to the treasurer Elmer Fangboner of 3371 Meinrad, Waterford Township.

Fangoner's affidavit did not list contributers.

BETTER PONTIAC

The Citizens Committee for a Better Pontiac spent $828 according to its treasurer, JoAnne Van Tassel of 51 E. Iroquois.

★ ★ ★

Miss Van Tassel said the money was spent in behalf of Taylor, Fowler and Marshall. She said $450 of the money spent was raised at a fund raising party. Another $375 is owed for newspaper advertising, she said.

COG Assembly OKs $294,000 Budget for 1968

By ED BLUNDEN

A budget of $294,000 for 1968 was approved by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (COG) at its general assembly held Saturday morning in Detroit.

The assembly was the second held by COG, a group which began operation in February of this year and is made up of representatives from governmant agencies in the six-county area — Wayne, Macomb, Oakland, St. Clair, Washtenaw and Monroe.

The budget was presented as a balanced one with anticipated expenditures equaling expected income. Almost all income — $240,000 — is from fees paid by members, the amount set according to population figures.

In another move related to finances, the COG assembly approved a resolution to apply for a federal grant from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Affairs.

ABOUT $100,000

E. Robert Turner, hired by COG as executive director May 1, said the grant request would be for about $100,000.

Turner, former city manager of Burbank, Calif., urged restraint in applying for federal grants. He warned too much federal money could bring loss of independence. He said COG will be looking for other grants from private sources.

"Only by maintaining a balance between local fees, federal and state monies and private funds will we be able to shape our own destiny," he said.

A recent poll taken among the delegates apparently did not fulfill its purpose. Members were asked to designate what goals COG should pursue. The objectives was to formulate a priority list for programs. However the executive commitee reported too much variation had occurred.

A list of five primary and five secondary goals were offered and adopted, pending further study.

The primary goals are: educationl requirements and financing, health planning and coordination, public safety, housing trends and needs, and solid waste disposal. Secondary goals are: regional building code and enforcement, computer and information systems, federal and state aid assistance, regional joint purchasing, and antipoverty coordination and planning.

COG Chairman William L. Mainland of Milford Township issued a statement apparently aimed at State Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, in connection with legislation pending in the State Legislature.

Both a House and Senate bill now under consideration would greatly restrict COG operations if passed, Mainland said. The bills have the backing of Huber, it was indicated, and without naming him, Mainland urged opposition to "a man who has made a career of causing confusion."

RESOLUTION PASSED

The assembly also approved the membership of two standing committees, finance and bylaws. On the finance committee from the Pontiac area is David Levinson, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors ways and means committee. On the bylaws committee from Oakland County are Herbert F. Sillman, vice president of the Intermediate School Board and John N. Doherty, supervisor from West Bloomfield Township.

★ ★ ★

Oakland County continued its domination of leadership positions in COG in two elections held by delegates. The membership was broken into blocs, representing area of interest; county men won the two elections held.

Leading the counties' bloc as chairman is Levinson, and the schools' chairman is C. Henry Haberkorn III, representing the Bloomfield Hills School District.

ELECTIONS POSTPONED

Two other blocs, on cities and villages and townships, did not have a quorum and chairman elections are to be held later.

Only about 70 delegates — out of 122 — showed up for the meeting and Chairman Mainland expressed disappointment at the turnout. He said perhaps future meetings could be held on a different day than Saturday.

20 Die in Michigan in Weekend Crashes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least 20 persons lost their lives on Michigan highways over the weekend, including three motorcyclists.

The Associated Press count of highway fatalities started at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

★ ★ ★

The victims were:

● George Hinton, 66, whose car went out of control at an intersection in Genesee Township near Flint and hit a utility pole.

● Edmon D. Abel, 57, of Algonac, killed Sunday evening when he failed to negotiate a curve near Algonac on his motorcycle and crashed into a house.

● Booker Thomas Massey, 59, of Detroit, killed in Detroit when his car went out of control Sunday night, and hit a stopped car, a parking meter, a sidewalk rail and a building.

● Edward T. Kratochvil, 27, and his daughter, Lisa, 4, of Interlochen, killed Sunday night when a car in which they were riding made a left turn in front of another vehicle on M 27 near Baldwin.

● Aimy Smith, 56, of rural Stockbridge, a passenger in an auto which ran off an Ingham County road and struck a tree Sunday.

● Loretta Russell, 6, of Otsego, killed Friday night when hit by a car as she rode her bicycle about four miles west of Otsego.

● George A. Ball, 34, of 483 North Road, Armada Township, killed Friday night when his pickup truck raced off a road, hit a culvert and overturned.

● Delores Fletcher, 22, of Lansing, who died Saturday of injuries suffered in a two-car collision on U.S. 27 north of Lansing.

● Terry McGaha, 7, of Flint, killed Saturday when he slipped off his bicycle and fell under a passing semitrailer truck near his home.

● Monica Kresnak, 18, and Richard A. Akins, 19, both of Norton Shores, and 18-year-old Sharon Holmes of Muskegon Heights, killed Saturday when their car ran off a road four miles south of Muskegon Heights and hit a tree.

● Donald Kibzt, 22, and Ernest Babcock, 20, both of Lincoln Park, killed Saturday when a car plowed into their motorcycles at a stoplight in Melvindale, a Detroit suburb.

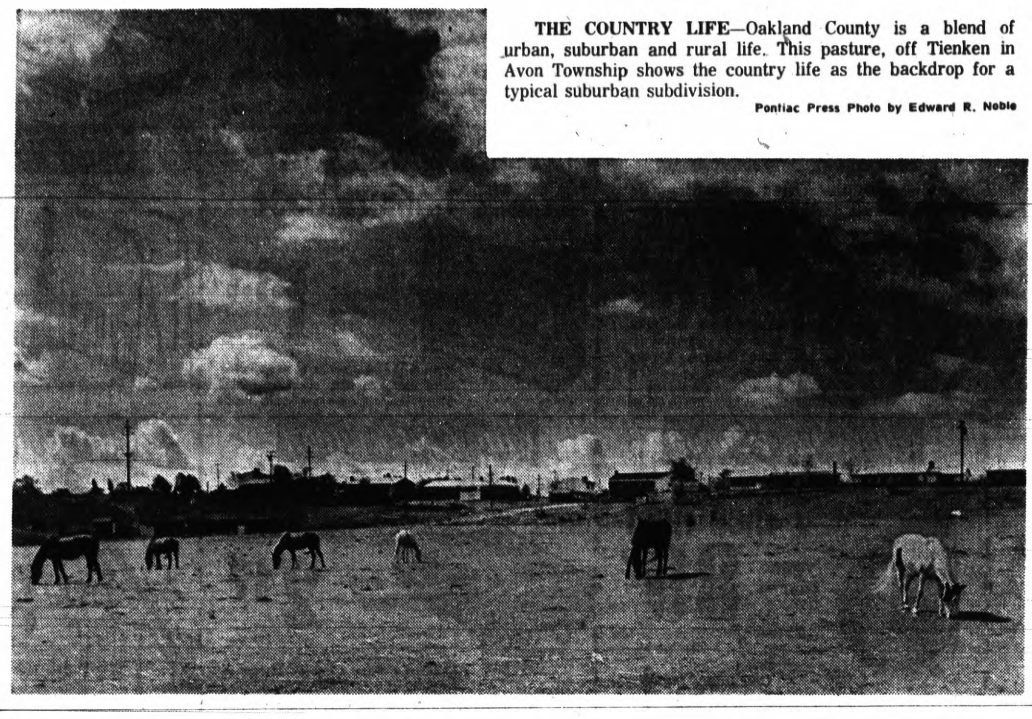

● Leslie Long, 19, of Algonac, killed Saturday when her car ran off Marsh Road in Clay Township, St. Clair County. The car overturned.

● Suzanne Hasty, of Royal Oak, killed Saturday when her car went out of control and flipped over in Sims Township of Arenac County.

● Theodore Renaud, 38, of Trenton, killed Saturday night when his car ran off West Road in Trenton and smashed into a utility pole.

● Michael Nicoloff, 22, of Indianapolis, Ind., killed Sunday in a car that overturned on I-94 in Battle Creek.

● Dorothy O'Connor, 54, of Pontiac, killed Sunday in a two-car crash on M-59 in Highland Township near Milford in Oakland County.

Wixom Council to Decide Fate of Police Chief

WIXOM — Police Chief D'Arcy Young was not included in the administrative reappointments made by Mayor Wesley E. McAtee.

According to the city charter, the mayor has the prerogative to reappoint department heads and administrators 30 days after his April 1 election. McAtee was given a two-week extension by council and made all the reappointments on the last day of that extension.

★ ★ ★

The appointment power reverted to council, which next meets May 28, at the end of that extension. Young is waiting for that body to decide whether he will be reappointed.

Department heads and administrators reappointed by McAtee, with confirmation by council, include Elizabeth Waara, clerk-treasurer; Robert Trombley, department of public works head; and Robert Potter, fire chief.

CHIEF SINCE 1964

Young, who has been police chief since 1964, said he has been provided no specific reason by McAtee for not being reappointed.

"I've always done my job to the best of my ability," said the chief, whose reappointment comes up every two years.

Young was hired as a policeman in 1959. He had been in the Novi police department since 1954.

In other action, council awarded a $8,949 bid for reconstruction of the DPW garage to Morton Building of Michigan, Inc. of Rockford. The building is at Charms and Wixom roads, next to the sewage disposal plant.

Novi Beauty 'USA' Finalist

NOVI — A local miss, Virginia Clift, 18, was among the 15 finalists in the Miss USA contest Saturday night in Miami Beach, Fla.

Virginia, the daughter of Robert H. Clift of 45285 Grand River, and Mrs. Laura C. Clift, 41151 Grand River, became Michigan's representative in a contest May 3.

In the national contest, Virginia, who stands 5-foot-6 and measures 34-24-34 was judged on appearance and poise. Last week she was in Miami Beach for rehearsals, luncheons and interviews with judges.

★ ★ ★

Vote Sought on ½-Mill Tax Proposal

Shelby Drive On for Recreation Program

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — A citizens' committee has begun a petition drive in this township aimed at establishing a recreation program.

The group is attempting to collect the 900 signatures needed to put a tax proposal on the Aug. 6 state primary ballot.

According to Mrs. Albert Hopper, 11097 Shadywoods, the petitions will ask for a public vote on a ½-mill increase to finance the program.

"This township has a lot of area under development" Mrs. Hopper commented, "but nothing to offer in the way of recreation so far."

NO MONEY

Supervisor Kirby Holmes said the township has no money on hand for recreational purposes at the present time.

Income from the proposal would amount to about $40,000 annually.

The program would be held on township sites and would be admnistered by members of the township parks and recreation board, currently chaired by Joseph E. Rivard Jr., 49665 Valleyview.

Types of activities which would be conducted under the program include baseball and softball, summer basketball and tennis.

LITTLE LEAGUE

Assistance would also be provided to present programs and facilities for such recreational activities as Little League, arts and crafts, chess tournaments, horseshoes and others.

The plan would be designed to furnish recreational opportunities for all ages, Mrs. Hopper said.

★ ★ ★

Hero Honors Puzzle Vet

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Although Oliver E. Anderson, of St. Louis wants to be known as a musician, singer and composer, somebody in Washington wants him to be a war hero.

★ ★ ★

The 26-year-old Anderson has received the Bronze Star and a Purple Heart for meritorious service in Vietnam.

★ ★ ★

The correspondence reached Anderson through ROTC headquarters at Washington University. He told officials that he has never been to Vietnam. Anderson served his Army time as a private.

Rochester Volunteers Plan May 28 March

ROCHESTER — A Muscular Dystrophy March Against Time will be conducted from 6 to 9 p.m. Tuesday (May 28) in Rochester.

Would-be volunteer marchers are asked to contact the community chairman, Mrs. Marvin Garnett, 122 South Alice, or area chairmen, Mrs. T. R. Beck, 6059 Ronnoco, Mrs. Gerald Peters, 424 Oak, or Mrs. Marvin Niebauer, 425 W. Third.

PTA to Hear Policeman

ROCHESTER — Police officer Lloyd Johnson will speak to the McGregor School PTA at 8 tonight at the school. His topic will concern community-police relations. Refreshments will be served.

Father, Son to Be Speakers

GRANVILLE, Ohio (AP) — For the first time in Denison University's 137-year history, a father and son team will deliver the baccalaureate and commencement addresses.

★ ★ ★

The Rev. Dr. Jitsuo Morikawa, secretary of the Divisio of Evangelism of the American Baptist Convention, will give the baccalaureate address June 2.

★ ★ ★

His son, Dennis, was picked from among 12 student candidates as the speaker for the commencement June 3. He will graduate with a political science degree.

The largest major group in the animal kingdom are the beetles, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Tennis Program Is Planned for Troy Youth This Summer

TROY — This city's parks and recreation department will sponsor a full-time tennis program for beginning and advanced tennis players, both boys and girls, in grades 4-12 this summer.

A special instruction program will be sponsored for adults in the evening if there is sufficient interest in the community.

★ ★ ★

The tennis program will be held at the new Boulan Park courts, located west of Crooks between 16 and 17 Mile.

Registration for the program will be Saturday from 10 a.m. to noon at Boulan Park or at the parks and recreation office, 500 W. Big Beaver, before June 8.

★ ★ ★

The registration fee will be 50 cents per lesson for 14 lessons. Lessons may be paid for individually or totally upon registration. Dick Shepich, Troy High School tennis coach, will direct the program.

Farmington Twp. Passes Housing, Rights Resolution

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP—An open-housing and civil-rights resolution has been passed by the township board.

The resolution is identical to that passed by the city of Farmington early this month, said a township spokesman.

★ ★ ★

It proclaims that the board supports fair-housing practices, urges citizens to abide by state civil-rights laws and asks that all citizens voice support of legislation "to make human dignity, equal justice and equal opportunity a reality."

The resolution follows the proclamation of Gov. George Romney's Fair Housing League, said the spokesman.

★ ★ ★

In other recent action, the board denied apartment rezoning on part of a nearly 16 acre parcel at Northwestern and Middle Belt requested by developer Ivan Frankel.

Although the Township Planning Commission had approved the rezoning, the board rejected it after hearing residents' objections regarding increased traffic.

PTO Event Tomorrow

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Scotch Elementary School PTO "Extravaganza" which includes a rock band, skits and a Mexican hat dance is Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the school, 5810 Commerce.

3 New Principals Are Named

WALLED LAKE — Three new appointments of principals have been made by the board of education here.

The Loon Lake Elementary School to open this fall will be headed by D. Bruce Moody, principal of Twin Beach Elementary this past year.

Taking his place is Lloyd V. Antieau, now principal of Commerce Elementary School.

An addition to the school system is Mrs. Jeanne A. White, who will direct Commerce Elementary School. She is now the principal of Bagley Elementary School in Pontiac, reported Walled Lake Schools Supt. George Garver.

She has been a teacher and an elementary school consultant in Pontiac since 1959. A graduate of Pontiac Central High School, she received her bachelor and masters degrees in education from Wayne State University.

Site improvement plans have moved ahead for Walled Lake Central and Western high schools and Commerce Elementary School.

The board is taking bids for improvement to drives, parking lots and sidewalks at Central and Commerce schools. Estimated cost of the projects is $50,000.

Authorization was given for the architectural firm of Warren Holmes Co. of Lansing to prepare plans for tennis courts, football and baseball fields, track concession stand and storage building for Western High.

SPECIAL EDUCATION

In other recent action, the board settled on financing of the Twin Sun Special Education Building with the Oakland Schools.

The intermediate district covers the entire construction bill of $113,000 and the entire architectural fee of $11,000.

★ ★ ★

Equipment bills for the school to open this fall will be settled later.

Rockefeller Believes Reagan Is After Top Spot

By The Associated Press

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket would have "great strength"—but that he feels right now California Gov. Ronald Reagan is after the top spot.

Rockefeller, announced Republican Presidential candidate, said Sunday he thinks Reagan's course will be influenced by the vote the Californian draws in the May 28 Oregon and June 4 California primaries.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller planned to meet today with Southern GOP leaders in New Orleans where Reagan spoke Sunday. The two governors scheduled visits to Florida later in the day with Reagan making stops at Washington, D.C., and Charlotte, N.C.

The New Yorker's comments on Reagan were made on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

'INCREASINGLY ACTIVE'

"He's getting increasingly active—a lot of TV work around the country," Rockefeller said, "and I think that he is pretty well set for the top spot."

Asked if he'd be happy with a Rockefeller-Reagan ticket, the New York governor replied he'd be happy to get the GOP nomination "and after that I'm open minded.

"If you get a ticket that reflects both points of view in the party," he said, "then it gives great strength."

Reagan, a California favorite-son candidate who has said he would accept the GOP nomination but is not soliciting it, is entered in both the Oregon and California primaries.

He called at a Republican rally in New Orleans Sunday for the "great silent majority" of college teachers and students to stem the tide of campus demonstrations and stand up "for the true meaning of academic freedom.

NIXON TOPS POLL

"If students, urged on and supported by a radical minority of faculty members can take over and threaten our higher education system," Reagan said, "what makes us think that tomorrow it won't be taking over society itself?"

Republican candidate Richard M. Nixon was listed by the Gallup Poll meanwhile as the candidate with the highest public enthusiasm now—although the poll showed less enthusiasm for any leading presidential candidate now than in the past 16 years.

The poll found Nixon listed "highly favorable" by 28 per cent of the people surveyed. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey followed with 26 per cent, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy with 24 per cent, Rockefeller with 23, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy with 19, third-party candidate George Wallace with 15 and Reagan with 11.

Wallace was listed "highly unfavorable" by 32 per cent of those surveyed, Kennedy 19 per cent, Reagan 15 per cent, Nixon 12 per cent, Humphrey 10 per cent, Rockefeller 8 per cent and McCarthy 4 per cent.

BROADSIDE AT HUMPHREY

The poll found none of the current candidates doing as well at this stage of the campaign as did President Johnson in 1964, Nixon and John F. Kennedy in 1960, and Dwight D. Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson in 1956 and 1952.

In the Democratic presidential race, Kennedy issued a new broadside at Humphrey for "using a political forum to report" on sensitive negotiations with Asian Communist nations.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey had told the American Association of Editorial Cartoonists the crew of the captured intelligence ship Pueblo, and possibly the vessel, "may" be released by North Korea.

Humphrey also said the best way to get the ship and crew back would be to include the issue in current peace talks in Paris between U.S. and North Vietnamese representatives.

Said Kennedy in a statement released in Washington: "It is my sincere hope that Mr. Humphrey's statement will not be damaging to the position of our representatives now trying to negotiate release of the Pueblo crew at Panmunjom."

STATEMENT DENIED

Kennedy said an earlier Humphrey statement that Paris negotiators had agreed to include Vietcong-connected representatives in their peace talks "was later denied by more authoritative sources within the government."

★ ★ ★

Kennedy was campaigning in California as the statement was issued. He planned to move on to Oregon later this week.

Humphrey said in Washington meanwhile he would win the Democratic presidential nomination if the Democratic National Convention were held this week.

★ ★ ★

"I think we're that far out in front," Humphrey said. "But the convention isn't tomorrow—it's not till August. There will be a great deal of tugging and pulling and persuading between now and then."

DISCUSS GHETTO

Humphrey's comment was in a copyright interview in U.S. News & World Report.

McCarthy, the third-Democratic presidential contender, said in New York the "way to break down the ghetto is to build moderate-cost housing outside the inner city."

Six million such housing units are needed in the next five years, McCarthy said, and their dispersal—which he said would open new job opportunities for the poor—"can be attempted only through public planning.

"We are dodging the issue with plans merely to rehabilitate the ghetto without involving the rest of our society," he said. "That approach—which is alluring to many—is neither adequate, nor possible, nor moral."

Philanthropist Stewart Mott announced during McCarthy's Madison Square Garden appearance he would contribute $50,000 to the Minnesota senator's campaign.

Mott, whose family earlier had announced contributing $50,000 to Rockefeller, said he hopes Rockefeller and McCarthy get their respective party noinations.

'Give Me A Ticket To The Front Door!'

It Seems to Me . . .

Bobby's Mother Says Wealth Proper Ally of a Candidate

BOBBY KENNEDY'S mother burst right through the center of the political football line and ran for a touchdown without a single bit of blocking.

The poo-bahs were aghast.

She said something new and novel.

★ ★ ★

Opponents of the irrepressible Bobby have been nudging each other and pointing to his huge campaign expenditures. It's really big stuff. "Millions," they declared. The day after the Indiana primary, Governor Roger Branigin said ruefully: "You can't beat a two million dollar campaign." Senator Eugene McCarthy went "all out" financially, but he had to do it with peanuts.

★ ★ ★

Another opponent asserted that in one of BOBBY'S campaigns he had 26 men on his own payroll. Six of them were assigned to newspapers, TV and radio stations exclusively. And the balance covered the hurrah-boys, stirred up the people and led the cheering. But it remains for Mama ROSE to silence friends, foes and frenzied followers.

★ ★ ★

"If the families have the money," says she calmly, "why shouldn't they spend it?"

There's a good question.

Can you challenge the lady?

She declares Bobby and the family have a perfect right to distribute all the lucre they wish in an effort to get this "favorite son" elected.

"If you have money," says Mrs. K., "you spend it. And the more you can afford, the more you can spend." Apparently it's that simple. And she continues: "The Rockefellers are like us. We both have lots of money to spend on the campaign. It's something that isn't regulated. Therefore, it's not unethical."

Touchdown — Rose.

★ ★ ★

As The Chicago Tribune states succinctly in commenting on the situation: ". . . . . you can't take it with you, so you better drop a bit by the wayside in Indiana, Nebraska, West Virginia, etc." And The Tribune concludes with the cogent and illuminating observation that "it isn't particularly beneficial or helpful anymore to be born in a log cabin."

Millions for Offices . . .

Here we go again.

Our U.S. Senate is authorizing $1,250,000 for the purchase of "more land" on which the government would build a third (3rd) Senate office building. The Senate approved the money 42 to 33. Another $100 million palace would give the Senators just three times as much space as they had 10 years ago. Of course, the total number of Senators in that period has increased.

★ ★ ★

Oh, yes!

It went from 96 to 100.

That's four members.

Does the addition of two Senators from Alaska and two from Hawaii justify a third $100 million office building? If it does, the "justification" will exist only in the minds of the Senate.

★ ★ ★

They're demanding economy.

Taxes, taxes, taxes, taxes.

Unexpected Repercussion . . .

Inflation, skyrocketing costs and added taxation show unexpected repercussions at times. Last year, the Nation's huge Foundations failed to increase their total appropriations for the betterment of mankind for the first time. The 1967 total was $1.3 billion, which approximated the 1966 figures.

★ ★ ★

Foundations must plan ahead, just like everyone and everything else. They are subject to the laws of costs and diminishing returns like corporations, businesses and private individuals.

People from Michigan can be especially proud to note that three of the biggest ten Foundations are "Michigan bred" while a fourth has a strong underlying tinge of the Wolverine Commonwealth.

★ ★ ★

Here are our ten largest:

Ford
Rockefeller
Duke Endowment
Charles Stewart Mott
Lilly Endowment
Carnegie
W. K. Kellogg
Alfred P. Sloan
Pew Memorial Trust
John Hartford

★ ★ ★

There were no statistics with the current listing, but you can safely say The Ford Foundation is bigger than the other nine combined.

And in Conclusion . . .

Professional gamblers are betting now that it will be NIXON against HUMPHREY . . . . . The Department of Housing and Urban Development says that if you want to make a room look bigger, heed these suggestions: use soft colors, buy furniture of simple design, avoid cluttered arrangements, make use of big mirrors and adhere to a simple theme . . . . . Overheard: "It's not only the youth of today that's different; it's today itself, too."

Crackpots pester the White House and are a cruel threat to LBJ's safety. Threatening letters come in and a dozen unusual suspects have been picked up inside the White House grounds. This means they've climbed an eight foot fence . . . . . A new road between two eastern country clubs has been named "Two Hundred and Fifty Yard Drive."

HUMPHREY'S team in the D. of C. has been amazed and delighted at the way early campaign funds have poured in . . . . . The newest thing on golf courses is colored sand. More than 400 clubs have indicated they want to give it a whirl. Red is used on the par fives, white on the par fours and blue on the threes . . . . . Overheard: "My father was a cultured man. Everytime he took me to the woodshed he proposed a toast: 'bottom's up.'" . . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's —MARIAN QUINE; the J's —LOUIS and the Hatter's TV commercial.

David Lawrence Says:

Paris Is Salutary Place for Talks

WASHINGTON — Peace in Vietnam depends not merely on what happens in the Paris meetings during the next few months but on world opinion.

LAWRENCE

If history is to be repeated and powerful nations ignore the plight of the peoples of both North and South Vietnam who really want freedom and independence, the chances are the country will remain divided and the risk of another war will be increased.

The best thing that has occurred thus far is the selection of Paris as the place for peace negotiations.

The United States did not name Paris, but officials in the American government are gratified that the North Vietnamese chose it.

Practically every Vietnamese leader of consequence with an education abroad went to a college or university in France. The French have had their fingers in the affairs of Indochina for more than 150 years.

SECOND LANGUAGE

French is a second language of all Vietnam and its inhabitants. Most of its schools were run by the French and were taught in that language.

French business interests developed the big coal deposits in North Vietnam, and even though France had to abandon its colonial power in Indochina in 1954, contacts of French businessmen have continued.

Ho Chi-minh learned about communism in Paris just after World War I, and there met Chou En-lai of Red China.

When the Vietnamese think of Europe, they think of Paris. When they have money and the opportunity to travel, the first place they want to go is Paris.

The North Vietnamese Communists especially feel comfortable in Paris because there is a strong Communist party in France.

Perhaps the principal development which will puzzle the American people will be the intensification of fighting in Vietnam from time to time.

This, of course, has a specifice purpose. The North Vietnamese want to make sure that any slowdown of military operations by them will not be interpreted as a willingness to surrender.

★ ★ ★

The involvement of European countries in the discussions behind the scenes seems inevitable, and could be constructive.

Bob Considine Says:

Some Words on Peace From Out of the Past

NEW YORK — With the stormy peace talks under way in Paris, let us take a look at what was said of peace in the past.

CONSIDINE

"Peace in our time . . . peace with honor," Neville Chamberlain cried, waving his umbrella to the British crowd that welcomed him home from Munich.

The man who was soon to succeed him as his majesty's first minister, Winston Churchill, took a more realistic view:

"The human tragedy reaches its climax in the fact that after all the exertions and sacrifices of hundreds of millions of people and of the victories of the righteous cause, we have still not found peace or security, and that we lie in the grip of even worse perils than those we have surmounted."

BRADLEY MESSAGE

Gen. Omar Bradley put muscle in his peace message: "Our pleas for peace are measured not by the sincerity with which they are spoken but by the strength we can array to enforce them."

★ ★ ★

"The American Unknown Soldier who lies here did not give his life on the fields of France merely to defend his American home for the moment that was passing," the president said one May day at Arlington National Cemetery. "He gave it that his family, his neighbors and all his fellow Americans might live in peace in days to come. His hope was not fulfilled."

DOUR VIEW

Gen. Marshall took a dour view, too:

"If man does find the solution for world peace it will be the most revolutionary reversal of his record we have ever known."

Gen. Douglas MacArthur always was sure who had the most at stake during any peace conference:

"No man desires peace as much as the soldier for he must pay the greatest penalty in war."

There are about 200 classical allusions to peace in Bartlett's Familiar Quatations. The office of the chief of information, Department of the Army, includes a well-larded section on peace quotes in its manual for the military writer.

But none of them quite prepare an emissary to tangle with a bloke like Xuan Thuy, the north Vietnamese who opened the current talks with the preposterous assertion that the U.S. has lost the war and now comes mewing for peace.

Minister's Group Views Tavern Licenses in City

For the last several years the City Commission has been under constant pressure to upgrade tavern licenses. A Special Mayor's Committee on Tavern License Upgrading was appointed and 12 recommendations were submitted to the City Commission in 1964. The recommendations lack convincing proof that there is anything in the recommendations which would make Pontiac a better place.

REV. MARION

Any business which sells alcoholic beverages creates disturbing and deteriorating conditions in the community. Permitting increased sales of alcoholic beverages will require stricter policing of these areas and stricter policing means more taxes. Increased sales of more alcoholic beverages will result in more crime, traffic violations, broken homes and juvenile delinquency.

Calls Attention to Sales Tax on Prescriptions

How many know that there is a sales tax on prescriptions for medicines or drugs? This may be included in the cost, but the druggist has to pay it. Is our State in such dire straits that it must tax the ill? What a hardship this must work on the aged who must exist on a small fixed income. There must be ways of cutting spending or of taxation.

★ ★ ★

I am a chronically ill person and have three or four expensive prescriptions filled every month. It is depressing to think of paying such a tax to aid and support people who could but won't work. Maybe if some of the aid were cut some of the able-bodied people might find work that is now considered beneath them. Maybe a cut in some areas of the school departments would be worth considering.

Question and Answer

How can I find a relative missing since 1944 who is probably drawing Social Security payments now?

B. KARR

REPLY

Miss Blackwell of the Social Security office tells us national headquarters usually doesn't permit disclosure of someone's whereabouts. However, sometimes exceptions are made if (1) there is a strong, compelling reason to get in touch with that person, (2) it is ascertained that person would want to be contacted, (3) he has been missing at least nine months, and (4) all other procedures for locating him have been exhausted. If you don't have his Social Security number, additional identifying information will be needed. If you feel your case meets these requirements, check with the Social Security office, 334-4711.

Chicago Tribune

A Brooklyn haberdasher has filed a $250,000 claim against the city of New York, charging that the police failed to protect his store from looters on the night of April 5. He says the police ignored a burglar alarm, watched while the looters carried $75,000 worth of goods from his store, and ignored his telephone calls pleading for protection.

City Controller Mario Procaccino says he has received many inquiries about filing such claims and "we anticipate receiving more."

★ ★ ★

New York City is in such desperate financial straits that this will be bad news for Mayor John Lindsay, who has been receiving a certain amount of acclaim lately for the "restraint" used by his police during the recent disorders. He was quite scornful in his comments on Chicago Mayor Daley's statement that the police would shoot arsonists and looters in the future.

★ ★ ★

Of course, if a city decides that it is sound policy to turn some property over to the looters and arsonists in order to prevent devastation, the owners of the sacrificed property surely ought to be compensated.

New York's taxpayers had better prepare themselves to finance Mayor Lindsay's hesitation to enforce the laws.

Disciplinary Action Taken at Columbia

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University says it has started disciplinary action against students accused of taking part in campus disturbances over the past several weeks.

★ ★ ★

Henry S. Coleman, acting dean of Columbia College, a unit of the university, said Sunday about 25 letters had been sent to students of that college telling them:

'You are charged with participating in the recent demonstrations which started on April 23, 1968."

★ ★ ★

The students were given deadlines running from Tuesday afternoon through Friday to appear at the dean's office or face suspension.

The letters were the first of more than 500 expected to be sent to student protesters in the next few weeks. The Ivy League school has a total student enrollment of about 25,000.

LETTER TO SDS LEADER

Mark Rudd, 20-year-old Columbia College junior from Maplewood, N.J., leader of the Students for a Democratic Society, a major dissenter group, was one of those getting a letter this week.

Coleman said students who admit participating in the demonstrations, during which five campus buildings were occupied until cleared by police, could be put on disciplinary probation for a year.

★ ★ ★

Coleman said that no final disciplinary action would be taken until pending criminal charges against students have been resolved.

★ ★ ★

According to Columbia records, 524 of its students were arrested on charges of criminal trespass or resisting arrest on April 30, when 1,000 city police cleared the five buildings held by protesters. Of those arrested, the university said, 239 were from Columbia College, the undergraduate liberal arts school. Of 121 persons arrested Saturday during a demonstration in a tenement just off the campus, police said, 56 of those were Columbia students.

GUIDELINES SET UP

Coleman said the letters were sent in accordance with the guidelines established by the Joint Committee on Disciplinary Affairs. The committee was appointed by the senior faculty to decide on discipline for demonstrations that ended normal university procedures for the semester.

★ ★ ★

The demonstrations began as a protest against construction of a gymnasium in Morningside Park and the university's alliance with the Institute for Defense Analyses that does research work for the government.

★ ★ ★

The protests soon focused on demands for revision of the university's basic structure to provide students and faculty members with a greater voice in conduct of Columbia affairs.

★ ★ ★

Adam Clayton Powell, at a Harlem rally Sunay in the auditorium of the Abyssinian Baptist Church, where he is pastor, chided Negroes for not doing what "our white soul brothers have had to do for us."

★ ★ ★

Referring to the white students arrested Saturday, Powell said, "On 114th Street, young white soul brothers did a job young black brothers should have done."

Powell charged that Columbia had negotiated real estate deals that would displace Negro residents and replace them with white teachers, students and administrators.

He also charged that the university exerted pressure on Harlem Hospital and maneuvered Negro doctors out of their posts and replaced them with white physicians.

KERNER

Kerner's last official act was to address a handwritten letter of resignation to the people of Illinois yesterday declaring he would be "indebted forever to my fellow citizens who placed such great faith and trust in me."

The transition of governors, both Democrats, became effective at midnight.

Kerner, who headed the President's commission on Civil Disorders, is sworn in today in Chicago as a judge of the U.S. Court of Appeals. He will return to Springfield, the state capital, tomorrow to administer the oath of office to Shapiro who served as lieutenant governor seven years and five months.

John Kennedy Jr. Breaks Wrist in Fall

John F. Kennedy Jr., 7-year-old son of the late President, Sunday was reported recuperating at a weekend retreat near Morristown, N.J., after fracturing his left wrist when he fell off a pony.

A spokesman at Morristown Memorial Hospital said young John was brought to the emergency room Friday evening by his mother, Jacqueline Kennedy. They were accompanied by a Secret Service agent and a chauffeur.

Russian Marks 136th Birthday, Tass Says

Shirali Mislimov, who lives in a Barzavu Highland village, is 136 years old today, according to Tass, the official Soviet news agency.

Mislimov reportedly is seldom ill, has sound vision and hearing, and often does outdoor work.

In the same district, with a population of 37,000, says Tass, there are 80 other peasants over 100 years of age.

Entrapment Is Alleged in Brown Trial

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — Attorneys for H. Rap Brown planned today to attempt to show there was a federal-state conspiracy to entrap the black power militant.

U. S. Dist. Judge Lansing Mitchell recessed Brown's trial at noon Saturday after the defense ran through its supply of witnesses. The attorneys said they would have more today.

★ ★ ★

Brown, on trial for violation of the federal firearms act, is charged with carry a rifle on flights from New York to New Orleans and back last August while under arson indictment in Maryland.

Testimony revealed Saturday Louisiana State Police Supt. Thomas Burbank furnished information leading to the confiscation of a semiautomatic rifle from Brown's New York apartment last August.

AGENT QUESTIONED

After state objections to the line of questioning, Kunstler said he was attempting to establish the extent of a federal-state link in the case and show both authorities were out to entrap Brown.

★ ★ ★

The defense said it would subpoena "certain records" which might reveal a conspiracy to arrest Brown "on any pretext possible."

Jordan also testified the warrant was based in part on information that several Delta Airlines officials had seen Brown with the rifle while on flights to New Orleans, Atlanta and New York.

RIFLE UNSEEN

Earlier in the trial, two stewardesses and two other airline employes testified they saw Brown carrying a red plastic bag, but never actually saw a rifle.

War Memorial Is Dedicated

PORT HURON (UPI) — A member of South Vietnam's Parliament Sunday took part in the dedication and ground breaking for a memorial to American war dead in South Vietnam.

The U.S. State Department said the memorial was only the second such to be erected in this country.

About 400 persons were on hand for the dedication, at which Deputy Nguyen Tan of South Vietnam and Rep. James Harvey, R-Mich., were guests.

Tan said, "America is a very great country, not only because of your military power, not only because of your economic power, but also and above all, because of your sacrifices in the defense of freedom and democarcy."

ETERNAL FLAME

The $15,000 cost of the 18-foot tall granite obelisk topped by an eternal flame is being paid for by public subscription. More than half of the amount has been subscribed. The obelisk is to be complete in August.

The drive to erect the monument was begun in January by radio announcer Larry Lick of station WPHM.

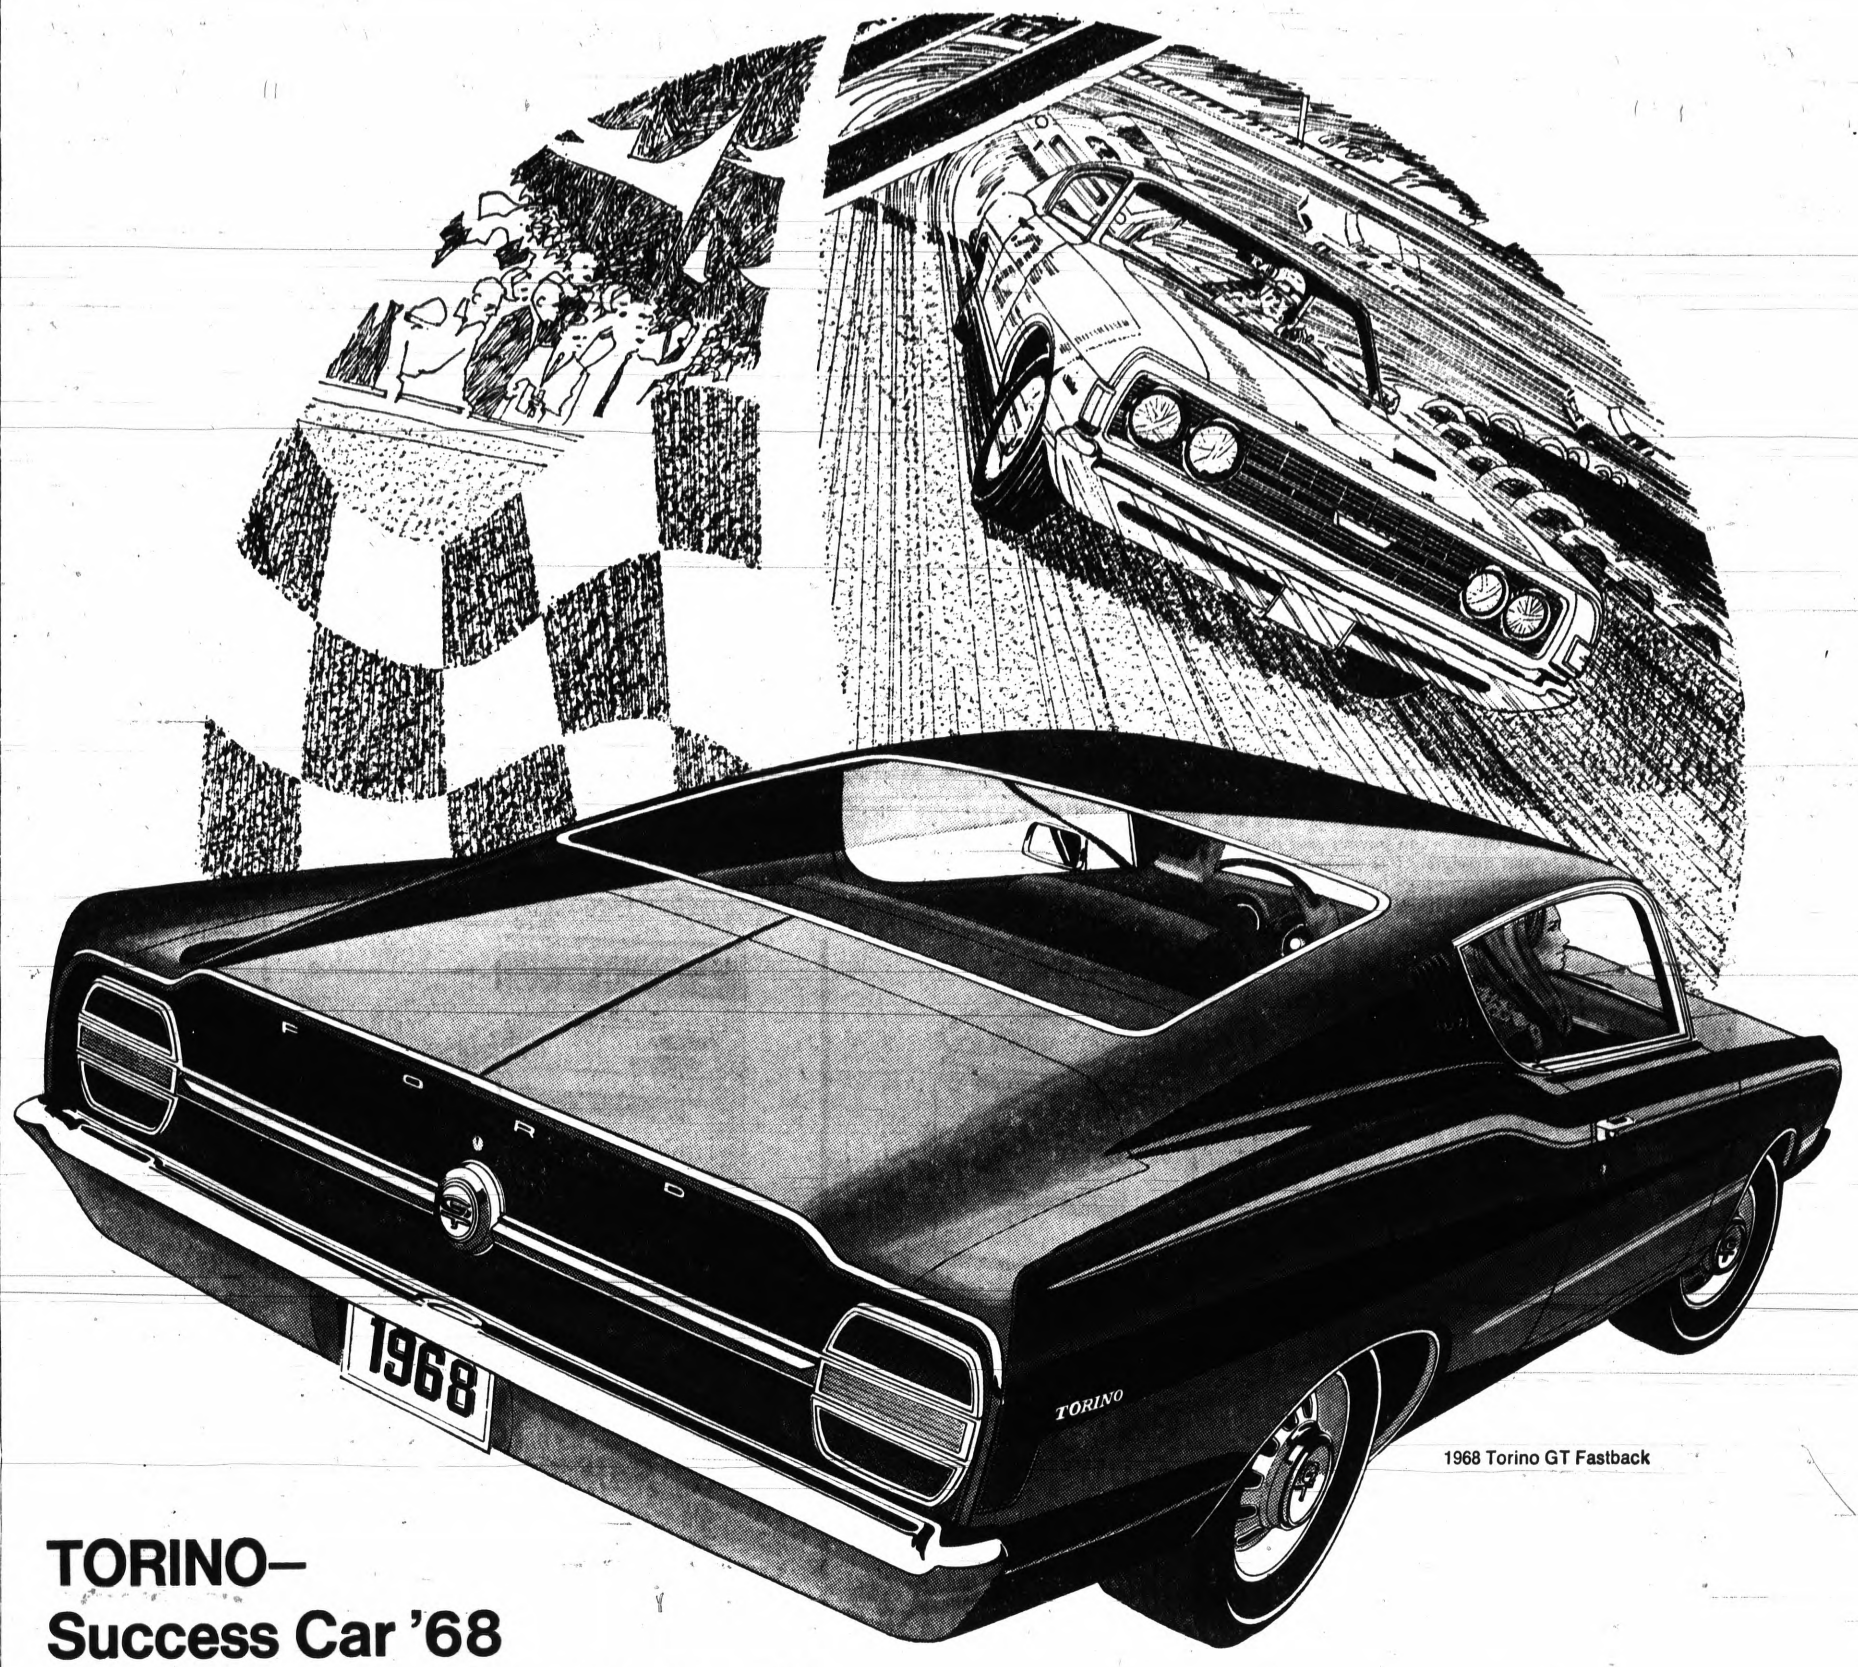

"YOUR HEALTH"
"HEADACHES"

Do you suffer from frequent headaches? Too many people do. Covering them up with aspirin gives only temporary relief. The underlying problem remains. Chiropractic treatments attempt to get to the cause of the condition, which in many cases; is pressure on the nerves in the spine and neck. Once the nerve pressure is removed, most headaches disappear. If you have lived with this pain over the years, and been told, "It's your nerves, take some aspirin," then give chiropractic a chance. Results measure the merit of anything. Chiropractic claims nothing it has not already accomplished many times.

TORINO WINS REBEL 400

1968 Torino GT Fastback

TORINO—
Success Car '68
The record speaks for itself

- MAY 11, 1968—Torino takes Rebel 400 at Darlington, S. C.— widens its lead in the NASCAR Manufacturer's Championship race.
- MAY 5, 1968—Torino double-header—wins Yankee 250 at Indianapolis and the Fireball 300 at Weaverville, N. C.
- APR. 21, 1968—Torino wins Gwyn Staley Memorial 250 at Wilkesboro, N. C.
- MAR. 24, 1968—Torino takes the Richmond 250.
- MAR. 17, 1968—Torino wins Southeastern 500 at Bristol, Tenn.
- FEB. 2, 1968—Torino named Official Pace Car for the Indianapolis 500.
- JAN. 21, 1968—Torino starts the season, taking the first 5 places in the Riverside 500.

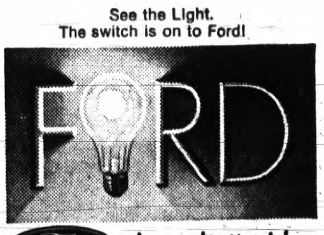

Out there on the big banked tracks of the NASCAR circuit it's flat out go —no favors asked, none given. All Grand National competitors are specially modified and driven by professionals. So what it all grinds down to is the fact that the car that took the checkered flag packed an extra something the others couldn't come up with. And the fact is that Torino has won 6 out of 9 major NASCAR races held so far this year.

One further fact: The Ford engineers who create the winners on Sunday have built into the Torinos you drive on Monday the kind of ruggedness and reliability you need.

Torino hardtops, fastbacks and sedans have a full 116-inch wheelbase (longer than 38 competing models) for a smoother ride, more room, and up to 20% more trunk space. There's a whole range of Six and V-8 engines and a total of 14 models to choose from.

Is it any wonder that Fairlane/Torino is America's best selling intermediate—today's fastest growing class of cars. Get in a Torino and know what it's like to drive the leader!

State Tourist Centers Preparing for First Rush

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's tourist information centers, to total nine before the end of the summer, expect to welcome some 800,000 vacationers this year, reports the State Highway Department.

★ ★ ★

Maintenance crews have been repairing and redecorating the center buildings and grooming nearby picnic grounds for the first crush of business over the Memorial Day weekend.

★ ★ ★

Six of the centers are located on main highways at points of entry to Michigan-New Buffalo, Monroe, Port Huron, Sault Ste. Marie, Ironwood and Menominee.

NINTH CENTER

Two others are at Clare and Mackinaw City. By late summer, a ninth center will be in operation on I-69 near Coldwater.

★ ★ ★

Last year, the department said, visitors carried away more than 2.5 million pieces of literature about Michigan, including maps, directories, schedules, brochures and booklets telling about tourist attractions. The total is expected to top three million this year.

Budget Watchdog Can Save on Holes

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — In its budget request for fiscal 1969, the Administrative Office of the U.S. Courts is seeking $9,500 with which to purchase a photocopying platemaker and a multiple spindle paper drilling machine.

WEST

This is surely a modest, one might even say insignificant, sum as federal budgets go. Ordinarily, a House Appropriations subcommittee might not concern itself with such trifles.

★ ★ ★

But the subcommittee on judiciary appropriations has as its chairman Rep. John J. Rooney, a rather extraordinary New York Democrat.

DIFFICULT TO CLASSIFY

My apologies for the mixed metaphor above. Rooney is known around Congress as a bird of a different feather, which makes him difficult to classify ornithologically.

I' would be remiss, being from the sidewalks of New York and of a nontechnical nature, if I did not inquire about this photocopying platemaker and a multiple spindle paper drilling machine," Rooney said. "What are they and why?"

★ ★ ★

William R. Sweeney, assistant director of the Administrative Office, had the misfortune to be in the witness chair when Rooney swooped.

"You mean paper plates for parties?"

"No, I am not sure the machine will make that,' Sweeney replied.

MOVES ON

Rooney did not pursue the interrogation further, apparently having concluded that the functions of a photocopying platemaker were beyond the comprehension of someone from the sidewalks of New York.

Instead, he tackled the multiple spindle paper drilling machine.

"Is that another word for a paper punch?" he inquired.

Sweened confirmed that Rooney had penetrated its nomenclature. He noted that "the machine we have now will only punch one hole at a time." He estimated the multiple spindle paper drilling machine would "save us about 40 per cent in man hours in punching."

Rooney accepted the explanation with a philosophical comment that impressed me as expressing the essence of all governmental economy moves of this type. Spake he:

★ ★ ★

Art Fair Sunday

FLINT (AP) — Flint's first annual Art Fair will be held next Sunday on the grounds surrounding the DeWaters Art Center. Artists and craftsmen from Michigan, Illinois, Indiana and Ohio are expected to enter the competition. They will vie for $1,000 in prizes. The fair was scheduled for Sunday, May 19th, but was postponed because of inclement weather.

Why should we invest in a new piano until we're sure our child will keep on taking lessons?

The best way to insure your youngster's continuing interest in music is to start him on a new, easy-to-play Kimball that makes practicing more fun—there's nothing more discouraging to the beginner than learning to play on an old, stiff-action piano. Your investment in a new Kimball at the start, is the most important contribution you can make to your child's musical education.

What's Wrong With Guests? Hostess Asks

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: I have been puzzled and hurt for a number of years about the fact that most of the friends that my husband and I have to our home for dinner parties never reciprocate.

Since I love to entertain, I usually ask eight married couples in, two or three times a year, new friends along with old. No one must balance a plate on his knee because the dining room seats sixteen comfortably.

So you won't necessarily think we might be at fault in obvious ways, I would like to add that we are in our early forties, college educated, well-read, and public spirited. We usually invite people of similar backgrounds to ours only because we don't have the opportunity to meet people from different backgrounds.

I entertain a bit more lavishly than do most of our friends, but the difference isn't great enough to make anyone uncomfortable.

My question then is: Isn't it in the worst possible taste to accept an invitation to someone's home for dinner when one doesn't have any intention of returning it? — Louise

Dear Louise: As I have said in this column many times, I deplore the attitude, "We'll have the Joneses to dinner because we owe them." However, you are quite right that dinner invitations should, sooner or later, be returned and people who have no intention of doing so, should not accept them.

NOT MAIDS

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it proper to ask aunts of the bride to serve at the reception, or would this be wrong since they, too, are guests at the wedding reception? They would be expected to make the coffee and punch, cut the cakes, serve the ice cream and wash up the dishes. — B. Dall

Dear Mrs. Dall: It certainly is not proper! Guests at a wedding (or any other function) should not be asked to act as cooks, waitresses or kitchen maids. If the bride's immediate family cannot afford to hire help to serve the punch and cake and clean up, her mother and sisters (as hostesses) must do so.

'Bach at Cranbrook' Concerts Proclaimed a Musical Triumph

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

For the third year, "Bach at Cranbrook" was presented last weekend at Christ Church. The audience filled every nook and cranny of the sanctuary and overflowed to the adjacent chambers.

MRS. ROSENTHAL

By and large, it was an eager young audience who came to hear three concerts of rarely played music by the greatest of all composers, and they listened with reverence and applauded with enthusiasm.

★ ★ ★

It was a sampling of the infinite variety and prodigious output of the great master, performed, almost to perfection, by fine, dedicated artists, whose interpretations of the difficult music were smooth, sensitive and seemingly effortless.

SMALL ORCHESTRA

The small orchestra of 27 members, which would have been standard in Bach's day, not only accompanied the choral and solo numbers, but performed the Concerto in A Minor, with violin, the Concerto in D Minor with 2 violins, and the Fifth Brandenburg Concerto.

Under the direction of Isadore Cohen, these were perhaps the outstanding performances of the series, for they were done with virility, with vitality, with exact tempi and with the utmost regard to bringing out every nuance, every inner part.

There was sweep, there was grandeur, yet there was intimacy and complete understanding of the Baroque style.

The Kenneth Jewell Chorale, with its many fine soloists, made their blended sound a thing of infinite beauty in the motet "Sing Unto the Lord a New Song," and the more familiar cantata "Heart and Voice and All Our Being."

The great "Magnificat," in which both soloists and chorus did splendid work, was somewhat marred by the overtoning of the trumpet in the difficult high registers.

SOPRANO

Soprano Benita Valente, the fine singer of the "Music from Marlboro" group, was heard in "Praise Ye God Throughout Creation," and three songs with 'cello and harpsichord accompaniment.

Her round even voice, her beautiful control and sensitive interpretation were a delight to hear.

Instrumental solos maintained the high, devoted standard of the music. Ruth Meckler Laredo, on both piano and harpsichord, performed with finesse and delicacy.

★ ★ ★

Her duo playing with her husband, Jaime Laredo was spirited and confident. He soloed in the Concerto in A Minor and the Partita No. 3.

★ ★ ★

The Suite No. 6 for unaccompanied 'cello was interpreted with understanding and aplomb by Ronald Leonard, a knowing and mature artist.

Before each performance and at intermission, various chorales were played on the balcony above the entrance to the church, by a five-man brass ensemble from Cass Technical High School.

★ ★ ★

Much credit is due to L. James Schneider, general chairman, and his tireless committee for the monumental job of bringing to this area the finest of music, performed in time-honored style, by a gifted and dedicated company of performers.

Barn Theatre's Student Players Slate 'Oh Dad'

The Student Enterprise Theatre of Oakland University has begun production for "Oh Dad, Poor Dad, Mamma's Hung You in the Closet and I'm Feelin' So Sad."

The avant-garde comedy by Arthur Kopit will be presented at the Barn Theatre on June 7, 8, 14 and 15 at 8:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

The story revolves around Madame Rosepettle, a slightly more than over-protective mother, who carts from country to country a stuttering, bewildered son and the stuffed body of her late husband.

PLOT

★ ★ ★

"Young Jonathon — America's youth — is a typical product of his mother's society, one in which the unreal myths and traditions about love and life have been so hammered into the ground that he seems unable to rise out of his destiny.

★ ★ ★

"He has been raised on collections of stamps, coins and intellectual books — preparation for his eventual greatness (which his mother constantly predicts). Until he achieves that status, however, he remains locked up in the Havana hotel suites, complete with black drapes to facilitate his mother's mourning.

★ ★ ★

"Madame Rosepettle wheels her point home by luring to her hotel suite wealthy lovers — Commodore Roseabove in this instance — and then destroying their amorous advances by describing her frustrated sexual experience with an ugly, inadequate husband whom she ultimately murdered.

★ ★ ★

"And when Jonathon falls in love with Rosalie, 'the girl next door,' his mother brings her to him, only to later expose her as a promiscuous seductress.

★ ★ ★

"This all ends drastically (involving the destruction of Mme. Rosepettle's pet piranha and carnivorous Venus fly-traps) with Madame's innocent and ultimate question, 'What is the meaning of this?'"

The Art of Kissing Is Self Taught

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating a guy named Jake for the last month or so. My problem is that Jake doesn't know how to kiss. He is 24 years old, hasn't been around much and he kisses me like he's kissing a wall.

ABBY

I know how a guy should kiss a girl, and poor Jake doesn't know what he's missing.

Is there some way I could tell him without offending him? I would like to hang on to him, but I'm afraid if I critize his kissing he will drop me.

Can you please give Jake and guys like him a simple lesson on how to kiss? I'm sure I'm not the only girl with this problem. LIKES JAKE

DEAR LIKES: Sorry but each girl will have to give her own kissing lessons. An inexperienced kisser may be clumsy at first, but with practice, he should improve. Kissing, when inspired by honest affection, is instinctive. Don't tell him. Show him. If he's normal and genuinely interested in you, he'll catch on.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My fiance and I set the date for our wedding and I went ahead and made all my plans. Then his mother tells me that I should change the date because it conflicts with her high school reunion.

I told her it was impossible to change the wedding date, so she said, "Well, I may just have to miss the wedding."

Abby, which do you think is more important? A high school class reunion or your own son's wedding? And do you think I was wrong for not changing the date?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I would say that one's son's wedding would take precedence over a class reunion, and I don't blame you for not changing the date.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press, Dept. E-600, P.O. Box 9, Pontiac, Mich. 48056 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

State BPW Ends Confab With Election Sunday

TRAVERSE CITY (UPI) — Delegates to the Michigan Federation of Business and Professional Women ended their annual state convention in Traverse City Sunday after electing officers and naming Grand Rapids as site for the 1969 meetings.

The 736 delegates also named a Cadillac teacher for the Michigan Young Career Woman award.

Officers elected include Mrs. Madeline Vick, Birmingham, president; Mrs. Constance Geisler, Battle Creek, president-elect for 1969; Miss Georgia Galeas, Detroit, recording secretary; Mrs. Phyllis Clark, Alma, treasurer and Vera Petraska, Wayne, State nominating chairman.

A July 28 wedding is planned by Majorie Loeser and Gary G. Gaynor. She is the daughter of the Louis Loesers of Decatur and her fiance is the son of the George Gaynors of Simmons Drive. Miss Loeser received her BS degree from Western Michigan University, where her fiance was awarded his bachelor and master degrees. She is currently studying for her masters at Wayne State University.

Showers Are Given for Two Brides-Elect

Hosting the event were the bride's aunt and cousin, Mrs. Don and Julie Noggle.

★ ★ ★

Several out of town guests attended the event in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Brannack, on Lakeward Lane. Among these were the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Leonard Stewart of Detroit.

JOAN THOMPSON

Mrs. Frank G. Totte of Starr Street and Mrs. Charles J. Chapman Jr. of Jackson, honored their nephew's fiancee, Joan Margaret Thompson, with a miscellaneous shower in the Mrs. Totte's Starr Street home Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The birde elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thompson of Waumegau Road, Springfield Township. She will wed Richard Swartout of Jackson July 6.

Anchor Candles

If you find you have no candleholders when you want to decorate a birthday cake, try sticking the ends of the candles on toothpicks. This keeps them in place and has the added advantage of leaving no visible holes in the frosting.

POMEROY-MARTIN

A reception at Guirn's Banquet Hall followed vows Saturday by Barbara Jo Martin and J. Stewart Pomeroy. The daughter of the Leland H. Martins of South Shore Drive and son of Dr. James K. Pomeroy of Regina, Saskatchewan and the late Mrs. Pomeroy were married that afternoon in Central Methodist Church. Attended by Sharon Arnold, the bride wore a day length A-line sheath of Jakarta fashioned with a rolled collar and elbow length sleeves trimmed with Venetian lace. Her short veil of illusion was capped with an organza bow and she held white carnations centered with a corsage of yellow miniature roses. Best man was Ronald Stananought of Toronto.

Reinforce Linens

If you have pillow-cases, tablecloths or scarves on which the hemstitching is breaking, stitch machine rickrack on the top side. This more than doubles the life of the linens if it is done when the hemstitching first begins to break.

Plenty of Time for Amended Tax Return

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley:

We were told recently that we could have claimed a deduction on our income tax return for the considerable storm damage to some important and expensive ornamental trees on our property during 1967.

FEELEY

Since we didn't realize this at the time, can we do anything about it? How long does one have to file an amended return? How do we go about it?

Mrs. O. C., Southwest Reader

Dear Mrs. C.:

You're allowed a three-year period in which to make this claim. There's a new tax form just issued, called Form 1040X, which simplifies the procedure of amending a return. Ask for it at your local Internal Revenue office.

Keep in mind, when you estimate such a deduction, that the amount of casualty loss deductible is limited to the difference between the value of the property immediately before the disaster and its value immediately thereafter.

For example, the measure of loss of those ornamental trees is the difference in the fair market value of your whole property, before and after the trees were destroyed.

Whether you actually have a valid claim or not remains to be seen. The key words in the IRS book are ". . . it must be established that there has been a decrease in the total value of the real estate." If you have photographs of your home showing these plantings before and after the damage, they may help your case. Also, be prepared to furnish the following information:

RESULT

The nature of the casualty and when it occurred; assurance that the loss was the direct result of the casualty; that you were the owner of the property at the time; the cost of the property damaged; the amount of insurance or other compensation received or recoverable.

Dear Miss Feeley:

I recently discovered my Social Security card reads "Mrs. Victoria G. F." My name on the joint U.S. Savings Bonds reads "Victoria T. F." Our several insurance policies also use the initial T.

Unfortunately, I have several middle names and I must have chosen different ones at the different times. Now if I die before my husband, would he have any trouble in settling the affairs? If he dies before me, will I run into trouble?

My husband says I will have no trouble and that I should just sign each document respectively as my name indicates on the said document. He says each is an individual matter and one is not really related to the other.

What is your opinion?

Mrs. V.F., Melrose Park, Ill.

Dear Mrs. F.:

You can doubtless prove, by your birth certificate and other documents, that these various middle names are all yours, so there's no great problem involved. However, if you'd feel better about it, you can easily change your Social Security listing to "Victoria T.," thereby having it conform to your other signatures which use the T and not the G.

It's generally considered wiser to have all signatures involving property and contracts identical.

★ ★ ★

One woman I know of did the same thing you've done—picked various middle initials out of her name at different times — then attached to her will an affidavit, proper witnessed, explaining the situation, and noting which signature appeared on which document. That's one way of handling the situation.

Barnard Head Reverses Decision on Coed

NEW YORK (AP) — Linda LeClair, who incurred the wrath of the Barnard College administration by living off-campus with her boyfriend, will be allowed to continue as a student, although her actions are not condoned, the college's president has announced.

President Martha Peterson thus reversed a tentative, earlier decision when she wrote Linda, "It is my inescapable conclusion that no useful purpose can be served by your continued enrollment . . ."

Miss Peterson announced Thursday she was abiding by the ruling of the nine-member student - faculty - administration judicial council which, in effect, gave Miss LeClair a slap on the wrist by taking away such campus privileges as use of the snack bar.

Supporters of the 20-year-old New Hampshire sophomore acknowledged this as token punishment for breaking a college rule requiring all students under 21 to have supervised housing. Linda decided to publicly test the rule by announcing she was living with Peter Behr, 20.

A petition reportedly signed by 79 per cent of the college's 1,800 students deplored Miss Peterson's action in "overriding" the judicial council in the LeClair case by her statement indicating severed enrollment.

After the petition was presented to Miss Peterson by 35 students holding a half-hour sit-in in her office Thursday, she announced:

"Because of the overwhelming vote of the student body in favor of upholding the judicial council decision, I have agreed, insofar as the part of Linda LeClair's continued enrollment is concerned," to let her stay.

"Although I don't approve of or condone Linda's actions, I recognize the importance of duly constituted bodies in the college and feel, in light of all the past turmoil on the campus of Columbia University, of which Barnard is part, this is not a time to challenge one of these bodies."

DREAMS COME TRUE FOR BRIDES-TO-BE

New Bridal Registry

C. R. Haskill

Thanks to a new and unique photographic registry service initiated this week by C. R. Haskill Studios, many brides and brides-to-be will now be able to have their complete wedding photographed and albums given to them as wedding presents.

How often it has been said, "I'm not having wedding photos taken, it's beyond us right now." Yet, the very thing the young bride forsakes in the beginning is the one thing that remains forever, bringing memories of that wonderful day each time photographs are viewed.

Now through "Wedding Photography Registry" a prospective bride can call C. R. Haskill Studios on University Drive in Pontiac and engage a photographer to cover the wedding day festivities. At the same time, she can select the style of wedding photography she prefers — Natural color; the album; wall - hung paintings; frames, etc.

As a gift, C. R. Haskill provides each of his brides a Wedding Guest Book, a portrait for the newspaper free and even rice conveniently packaged for the guests to throw at the happy couple when leaving the church.

Mr. Haskill has also available at special discount prices, invitations and napkins and often quips, "We supply everything but the Bridegroom!"

Why not call C. R. Haskill Studio now at 334-0553 and reserve your wedding date, or stop in at 1 University Drive, Pontiac.

BURNHAM-SIERSMA

A cascade of daisies comprised the bridal bouquet held by Linda Diane Siersma when she spoke vows Saturday with David Burnham in Four Towns Methodist Church. The daughter of the Lawrence Siersmas of Keith Road, West Bloomfield Township wore a linen ensemble highlighted with Alencon lace trim. A double crown of matching lace secured her bouffant veil. Mary Hacker was maid of honor with Mrs. Joseph Pinter, Jacqueline Colpitts and Terri Mage assisting. Best man for the son of the Thomas Burnhams of Listeria Drive, Commerce Township was Donald Sage. Also at the bridegroom's side were Lawrence Siersma Jr., Thomas Burnham Jr. and Douglas Pinter. Following a reception at the Middle Straits Community Hall, the couple departed for a wedding trip to Kentucky.

Sorority Elects Local Woman as State Prexy

Mrs. James M. Stone was elected president of the Michigan State Council of Epsilon Sigma Alpha at last weekend's 18th annual state convention held in Lansing.

"People Helping People" was the theme chosen by her for the coming season.

Area members representing their chapters were Mesdames: John Crosey, B. T. Tompkins, John Keller and Wade Thompson.

Checks totaling $1,200 will be presented to the Children's Leukemia Foundation of Michigan as the state group's project for the year.

Mrs. Stone will represent the state at the International convention in New Orleans in July and also at the Presidents' Leadership Conference in Vail, Colo. in August.

Poultry Storage

Fresh poultry can be stored six to eight months with little change in flavor, texture, color and nutrition if frozen properly. Experts advise though that poultry be purchased already frozen instead of processed at home. The food processor usually is better equipped to freeze and package the meat to keep air and moisture out.

Miss USA Competes for Tuition

MIAMI BECH, Fla. (AP) — The new Miss USA says she would not be Miss USA today if she had been an only child. But as one of nine she entered her first beauty contest to scratch up a little extra money for her college education.

"All the kids have some kind of a job," said Dorothy "Didi" Anstett of Kirkland, Wash. "So I thought I would enter a beauty contest and one led to another.

"But I still can't believe it. I wish I could cry or something, but I don't often cry," said the brown-eyed brunette who remained dry-eyed when she was crowned Saturday night as Miss USA 1968.

★ ★ ★

"Freddie delivers papers, Marie works at a swimming pool and everybody but Beth baby sits," said Miss Anstett, a 20-year-old English major at the University of Washington who hopes to become a full-time teacher. She already tutors underprivileged children.

FAMILY

Her four brothers and four sisters range from 3-year-old Beth to 23-year-old Terry. Terry is married and the only one who lives away from the family's six-bedroom home on a lake in Kirkland, just outside of Seattle.

Miss Anstett, who edged out Miss Maryland, Paulette Reck of Baltimore, for the crown competes in the Miss Universe pageant here in July.

The chestiest girl in the pageant, with 40-25-36 measurements on a 5-foot-9 frame, Miss Anstett described herself as a stringbean in the eighth grade.

★ ★ ★

She said she expects some good-matured ribbing from her family when she gets home, especially for 13-year-old Meg, whom she calls "Meggles." The sisters share bunk beds in a room that also houses a player piano hooked to a vacuum so it plays with just a flick of the switch, no pumping needed.

"She's the one who will really laugh it up when I get home," said Miss Anstett, "much more than my brothers, although I'll really hear it from them too."

DOROTHY ANSTETT

'Scriptwriters Do Little for Indian Image'

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — An Indian beauty queen believes television and motion pictures have not done much to improve the image of the American Indian.

"Script writers conveniently forget that Indians were defening their territorial rights," says Angelina Medina, Miss Indian Expo 1967.

★ ★ ★

"They overlook the fact that the white man is in truth the invader of the North American continent," she said in a recent interview with a newswoman for the weekly Navajo Times.

★ ★ ★

Miss Medina, a Fort Lewis College student, hopes to become a high school teacher. She is a member of the Acoma-Zia Indian Tribe of New Mexico.

★ ★ ★

She was named Miss Indian Expo 1967 in ceremonies last October in California. Miss Medina, who speaks the dialects of New Mexico Indian tribes fluently, received a $1,000 scholarship upon winning her crown.

Miss Medina believes the American Indian hasn't taken advantage of opportunities available to them.

"There is no reason why we cannot accept the best of modern knowledge and still retain our culture, our rich heritage, and especially our pride," she said. "One of the greatest rights we have as Americans is the right to free public education."

Chopped Relish

For a quick relish, chop cooked beets (home-cooked or canned) and mix with chopped sweet onion, sugar and vinegar to taste. If there's bottled horseradish in the refrigerator, it will make a fine addition to the salt and pepper seasonings for the relish.

Three-year-olds are scheduled Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m.

Further information may be obtained from Mrs. Phillip D. Smothers of Wimbley Lane, who will send pre-enrollment forms to interested parents.

Battery Operates British Beer Mug

A British beer tankard, which flashes a red light when a button is pushed to indicate that it needs refilling, will be among items shown when the Birmingham Chamber of Commerce and Industry Trade Mission visits the United States in May. The mug is battery-operated.

CAMPBELL-FRANZEL

After a reception Friday evening at the Fisher Body Union Hall, newlyweds, the Jackie L. Campbells (nee Frances Marie Franzel) left for a honeymoon trip to the Mountain Laurel Festival in Kentucky. The daughter of the Frank E. Franzels of Cherrylawn Road and son of the Chester C. Campbells of South Roselawn spoke vows earlier that evening in St. Michael's Catholic Church. Attended by Lori Hylla, the bride wore a satin brocade ensemble with a short veil and crystal crown. She carried a bouquet of daisies. Margaret Finnegan and Barbara Franzel were bridesmaids with ushers Speed Campbell and Frank Franzel Jr. Best man was Ronald Smith.

State and local governmental debt in the U.S. rose by $7.5 billion during fiscal 1965-66 to a record total of $107.1 billion.

'Mock Weddings' Show at MSU

EAST LANSING, Mich.—The gown will glow and the bride's bouquet will float when Michigan State University student florists stage their annual "mock weddings" Saturday evening in Fairchild Theatre.

They show that anything is possible when the floral designer puts skill and imagination to work.

★ ★ ★

The main attraction will be three traditional weddings and a fashion show of going-away outfits, sportswear, and at-home hostess styles.

★ ★ ★

VICTORIAN STYLE

★ ★ ★

Each wedding will be complete except for the exchange of vows. Descriptions of each floral accent and design and its cost will be distributed to the audience.

★ ★ ★

The program is conceived, planned and executed by students majoring in MSU's two-year commercial floriculture program. A unique instructional technique, it gives them experience in helping the bride plan her wedding and reception.

Bonnie and Clyde will also put in an appearance in what might have been the bridal fashions of this bank-breaking duo.

Refreshments will be served at a reception immediately following. The reception area will be decorated in the Mediterranean motif with bright reds accenting floral arrangements and black wrought-iron candelabra and lanterns providing contrast.

Some $10,000 worth of donated flowers and materials are incorporated in this year's bridal and fashion show.

Tickets will be on sale in advance at Norm Kesel's and Barnes Floral in East Lansing, Smith Floral in Lansing, and in Room 109 of the Horticulture Building on campus.

A few tickets will also be available at the door.

Clock Thermostat Aids Efficiency

A new clock thermostat features a number of improvements intended to make it the most accurate residential device ever produced, the manufacturer reports.

★ ★ ★

The new clock thermostat lets you sleep cool and wake up warm. It automatically turns heat down at night and up in the morning. The maker says the unit's hermetically sealed mercury switch contacts never have to be cleaned.

Bake Potatoes in Four Minutes

A new portable, counter-top microwave oven utilizes standard 115-volt house current and retails for under $500. The electronic oven can lighten the housewife's average cooking time as much as 75 per cent, the manufacturer reports.

★ ★ ★

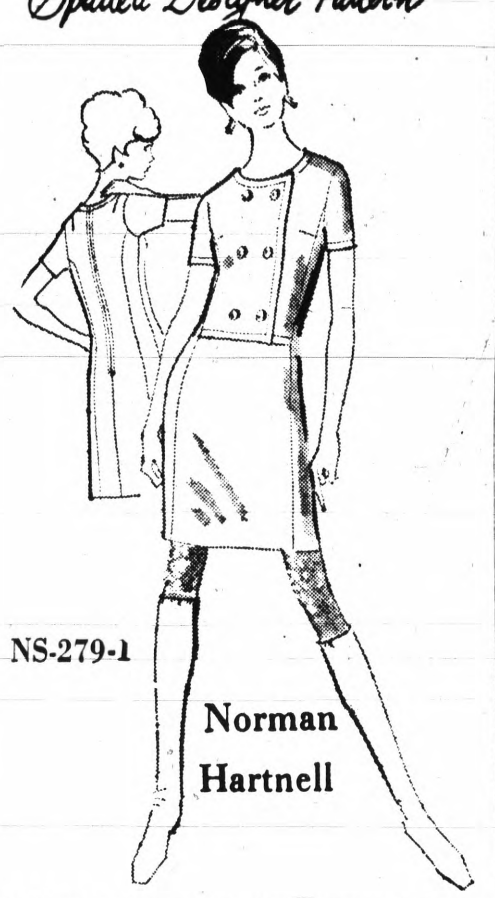

It can bake a potato in four minutes; a hamburger in 60 seconds; cook a five-pound roast in 37½ minutes; or heat a casserole dinner in four to eight minutes.

Plight of Poor Opens Hearts and Purse Strings of Stars

By BOB THOMAS

THOMAS

Three persons, including Rosalind Russell, gave a total of $11,000 to send busloads of Los Angeles poor to Resurrection City, U.S.A., in Washington, D.C.

★ ★ ★

These were some of the results of a meeting last week to enlist Hollywood support of the Poor People's Campaign. Some of the nation's highest-paid personalities came to a Bel-Air mansion to hear of starvation, homelessness and neglect of their fellow Americans.

CHAIRMAN OF MEETING

Harry Belafonte was chairman of the meeting, which overflowed the art-filled living room of producer Edward Lewis. Talking softly but with undisguised intensity, Belafonte told of his involvement with Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s movement since 1956. "Since his death, my life has been up for reinterpretation," said the singer.

He called for support of the King tradition of nonviolence. He said that in the wake of King's assassination such Negro militants as Stokely Carmichael, H. Rap Brown and Leroi Jones had been persuaded to mute their campaigns to give the principles of King a chance to prevail.

Belafonte introduced Mrs. Martin Luther King. After the audience stood and applauded, the widow spoke slowly but unfalteringly of her partnership with her late husband in the civil rights campaign.

"My life has been one of real fulfillment; I do not feel deprived of anything," she said. Realizing that her husband was "an extremist for good," as he called himself, she had been prepared for the possibility of his violent death.

'RIGHT DIRECTION'

"I'm convinced more now than ever of the rightness of our course," she said. "I'm more determined now than ever that my husband's dream will become a reality."

King's successor as president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, the Rev. Ralph David Abernathy, told the audience: "Your presence here indicates that we are not alone in our struggle."

Abernathy told of his own partnership with King and how they became known as "the civil rights twins and jail mates," having been jailed together 19 times. He spoke of events leading to the assassination and said that the fallen leader, unable to speak because of the bullet wound, told him with his eyes: "Ralph, it has happened. I told you so. You have to carry on. You can't let me down."

Like King a Baptist minister, Abernathy quoted scripture and asked for support of Resurrection City. He commented: "You and I live in the richest, most powerful, most affluent nation in the world. It is a shame that one-fifth of our population is isolated on an isle of poverty in a sea of plenty."

DOWN TO SPECIFICS

An associate, the Rev. Andrew Young, presented the specifics: "We want your art. We want your presence. We want your money." He cited examples of how entertainers could help the movement: The pairing of Robert Culp and Bill Cosby on TV's "I Spy"; Peggy Lee's introduction of Ray Charles to white America; Fats Domino's attracting of white teen-agers in Dallas, aiding a school integration struggle.

Young asked the celebrities to visit Resurrection City and other areas of the civil rights campaign, and he told of the financial needs, such as $5,200 daily to feed the tent city residents and $310 for a tent.

Marlon Brando took over the microphone and began emotionally: "If anyone is not interested in what we're talking about tonight, please get up and leave the room." No one left. He then issued a call for those present to make commitments, whether it was pledging 1 per cent of their salaries, marching in Washington, or making films about poor Americans.

"We have to get into the black world," he said, "and we have to get the black world into the white world."

TELEGRAMS CITED

Jack Lemmon rose to comment: "I'm lucky—I happen to be hot at the moment." No matter what his next film deal is, he said, "50 per cent of that picture is going as a contribution to the Poor People's Campaign could amount to $500,000.

Brando reported telegrams of support from Rod Steiger, Paul Newman, Burt Lancaster, Shirley MacLaine and the Smothers brothers. A spirited discussion took place with such speakers as Barbara Parkins, Patty Duke, Robert Morse, Jean Seberg, Anthony Franciosa, Louis Lomax and Mrs. Nat King Cole offering suggestions for action. Blank checks were distributed, and a meeting to form a committee and plan future moves was announced for this week.

We'll take the credit for your vacation plans... at your

You can pay for a vacation in many ways. With credit cards. With savings. With a travel loan. But eventually you pay for it in just one way. With cash.

Lots of folks borrow cash. Some pay a higher price than others, and that runs up the cost of their vacation. The smart ones see their credit union.

A loan from your credit union usually costs less because credit unions are in business to help their members. They are owned by their members. And there's no point in charging yourself high interest rates.

So whether you're flying first class or roughing it in a state park, let your credit union take the credit for your vacation plans. It will probably cost you less money.

Contact the C.U. where you work — or the one in your parish or neighborhood — or write Michigan Credit Union League, P.O. Box 5210, Detroit, Mich. 48235.

Frog Jumping Contest

Ticklish Entry Wins

ANGELS CAMP, Calif. (AP) — Tickled onward by his owner, a swamp-bred frog named Corrosion hopped 36 times his length and won the Mark Twain-inspired international frog-jumping contest.

Corrosion, a diminutive six-incher, once called a Bakersfield, Calif., swamp home. Sunday he outdistanced more than 500 of his peers to win the 40th annual event.

The 4-year-old winner leaped 18 feet and one-half inch, outdistancing his nearest rival by one foot, 4¼ inches. It marked the fifth victory for owner-trainer Leonard Hall of Concord, Calif., who said there is a formula to his success.

★ ★ ★

TICKLE PAYS

Hall, a real estate man, said he learned while training Corrosion that "if you tickle him, he'll pick up a bit." Confidently plunking him on the starting spot before thousands of onlookers, Hall cooed, "Gitchee, gitchee, gitchee" and tickled him with his index finger.

Corrosion bounded away, escaping the traditional dinner-pan finish of some also rans and outclassing "celebrity" frogs.

Big Tom, entered by Oregon Gov. Tom McCall, jumped only six feet, 6½ inches, but that outdistanced "celebrity" finalists entered by politicians from Nevada, Nebraska and New Hampshire. Gov. Ronald Reagan's entry, with a seven-inch effort Saturday, failed to reach the finals.

The event is based on Twain's century-old yarn, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County," mythically staged at the gold rush community of Angels Camp.

Mott's Son Aids 2 Candidates

Rocky and McCarthy Get $50,000 Each

NEW YORK (AP) — Stewart R. Mott has donated $50,000 to each of the presidential campaigns of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a Republican, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn.

A crowd of McCarthy supporters in Madison Square Garden Sunday night stood and cheered as Mott pledged $50,000 to the senator's campaign for the Democratic nomination.

In March, Mott, 30, said Rockefeller was the only liberal Republican choice for president and took an ad in The New York Times pledging to donate $50,000 to the governor's campaign if Rockefeller met certain conditions. These included a demand that Rockefeller chart a peaceful course in Vietnam.

When Rockefeller announced his candidacy for the nomniation, Mott donated the money.

Mott, son of multimillionaire philantropist Charles Stewart Mott, has been championing causes in New York since he came here from Flint, Mich. several years ago.

He has allowed a group of youthful crusaders to use his office on Madison Avenue to push their campaign to get New York State's abortion law reformed.

★ ★ ★

Mott gave strong support to the formation of the Coalition for a Republican Alternative, a colage of political groups pledged to Rockefeller's candidacy.

Mott is still a strong supporter of Rockefeller, but says he is anxious to get behind antiwar, liberal candidates in both parties.

EYES CONGRESS

He says that if Rockefeller gets the GOP nomination and McCarthy beats his two Democratic rivals, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, he may turn his attention to his own office-seeking ambitions.

They are simple: To become a congressman. He already has been approached by Michigan politicians, he says.

Louis Armstrong's Sister Killed by Car

BOUTTE, La. (AP) — The sister of jazz trumpeter Louis Armstrong was struck and killed by a car Sunday as she was walking across U.S. 90 here, police reported.

★ ★ ★

State police identified the victim as Beatrice Celina Armstrong, 46, of New Orleans. Boutte is just west of New Orleans.

★ ★ ★

Armstrong was in New Orleans this weekend for a jazzfest commemorating the city's 250th anniversary but he had left for Toronto, Canada, before police could relay the message of his sister's death to him.

Boom Theory Tried; Mink Still Multiply

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The sconic boom produced by fast-flying jets may break windows, scare the milk out of cows and make nervous wrecks out of chickens. But the prolific mink apparently couldn't care less about all the noise.

A newly coumpleted government survey disclosed today that boom or no boom, mink multiply just as fast.

The sconic boom is a shock wave produced by a supersonic plane pushing air aside as it moves through the sky. The result is a boom much like a thunderclap.

Such shock waves have shattered windows and damaged buildings. Critics also claim they cause chickens to cut egg prodution, cows to stop producing milk, and mink to stop producing little mink.

CONSIDERED SENSATIVE

As part of an over-all study of the sonic boom's effect on mag's environment, the U.S. Agriculture Department simulated the noise of the sonic boom in a three-month test on 300 mink—an animal considered to be quite sensitive to disturbances during the reproductive period.

One group of pregnant and nursing mink were subjected to eight booms a day. A similar group experienced nothing but usual farm noises.

The mink subjected to the booms did as well as the ones who enjoyed quiet, researchers said.

The "boomed" mink produced an equal number of offspring and these survived in the same ratio as did those born to the other group. The entire group produced about 1,250 off-spring.

NO RESULTING DEATHS

There was no evidence that repeated booming caused mink to be more excitable or nervous, or that any offspring died as a direct result of booming, the study report said.

The tests were conducted at two commercial mink farms near Christiansburg, Va. The boom was simulated with a device which forced two quick bursts of compressed air through a membrane. The resulting shock waves were then channeled through a large horn.

River of Death Spreads Grim Disease

TOKYO (UPI) — Death began stalking the rich valley of the Jintsu River in northwestern Japan decades ago.

★ ★ ★

It was a strange and terrible death, mostly striking the women. Some mysterious disease was destroying them from within.

And it destroyed them slowly, and with an agony so intense that its victims cried aloud. "Itai, itai" — Japanese for "ouch" is "itai, itai."

★ ★ ★

Medical science was baffled. The doctors had no name for the malady that destoyed the bones within the body.

GIVEN NAME

Its victims gave it a name. To them and their families it was the "itai, itai" disease.

Over the past two decades somewhere between 100 and 200 persons in the river valley have died of the disease. Hundreds more suffer from it today.

★ ★ ★

The Japanese Health Ministry now has announced that a four-year investigation turned up the source of the river peoples' misery.

In the 1800s a metal mine was opened by the Mitsui Mining Co. at the upper reaches of the river. For a century it has been pouring waste and drainage into the river.

CONTAINED CADMIUM

The mine pollution contained a high level of cadmium, the investigation showed.

The ministry said the investigation proved that "itai itai" disease was chronic cadmium poisoning. It laid responsibility at the door of Mitsui's Kamioka nonferrous metal mine. Lawyers for the victims hailed the health ministry announcement as decisive proof of the claims.

Toyama Prefectural (state) Gov. Minoru Yoshida meanwhile indicates the prefecture may soon demand compensation of Mitsui Mining for damages caused to the public, including the cost of free medical care for all victims.

★ ★ ★

Across Japan there have been public moves to boycott rice produced in the Toyama area — despite health ministry assurances that the rice alone does not contain enough cadmium to bring on the disease.

A ministry spokesman said the cadmium poisoning occurs only in persons who have lived in the river area for 20 years, drinking the water and eating a steady diet of river-irrigated food crops.

Meanwhile, the people of Toyama were pondering the fact that a river which has given life for centuries now gives death.

Biafran Rebel Vows to Keep on Fighting

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The leader of Biafra's rebel forces vowed Sunday to fight on after Nigerian federal forces reported capture of Port Harcourt, the last major secessionist city.

"We shall make it impossible for the vandals to enjoy the amenity of our homes," declared Lt. Col. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu in a defiant broadcast. "We shall torment and harass them every time and chase them at every landing."

Ojukwu made only one concession to the peace talks scheduled to start Thursday in Kampala, Uganda. He said he would agree to a plebiscite in areas populated by tirbesmen other than Ibos to determine whether they want to remain with Biafra. The Ibos are the dominant tribe in eastern Nigeria.

★ ★ ★

Nigerian Foreign Secretary Okoi Arikpo called Ojukwu's offer "ridiculous." He said federal troops already have occupied non-Ibo portions of the eastern region.

The number of vehicles on British roads has nearly doubled to more than 13 million in the last decade.

Turnout Is Big in Italy Vote

Legalizing Divorce Among Major Issues

ROME (AP) — Italian voters, completing their first parliamentary election in five years today, are expected to keep Premier Aldo Moro as head of a center-left coalition.

The two-day balloting opened Sunday with a big turnout. No violence was reported, but an earthquake scattered thousands of residents of eastern Sicily. The quake did no major damage, and voters in the area were casting their ballots today.

★ ★ ★

Among the main issues was legalization of divorce, strongly opposed by the Roman Catholic Church. Pope Paul VI in an appeal Sunday urged the voters to uphold the country's "social, moral and religious values."

The pontiff's remarks were regarded as an appeal for support of the dominant Christian Democratic party, in which the Vatican has a major voice. The Socialist party, the other major member of the center-left coalition, wants to legalize divorce.

HOPES FOR 25 PCT.

The Communist party, largest in the West and second biggest party in Italy, hoped to retain its 25 per cent of the electorate won in 1963 when it mustered a record 7.7 million votes.

At stake were 630 seats in the Chamber of Deputies and 315 in the upper house.

★ ★ ★

The returns are not expected to change the parliamentary lineups radically.

The coalition of Christian Democrats with the Socialists and Republicans is expected to survive.

Without a major upset, the three parties in the coalition are pledged to create a cabinet similar to the present one headed by Moro, a Christian Democrat.

Fiscal Crisis Clouds Horizon, Say U.S. Economists

News Analysis

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even if Congress votes a tax increase, the threat of a dollar crisis will hang over the United States for years.

The tax bill would be a big step back from the brink. But the proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge alone could not restore wage-price stability for months, perhaps years, to come.

★ ★ ★

And it would not bridge the gap in the balance of payments which has weakened worldwide confidence in the dollar.

That's the consensus of most private and government economists in Washington. They disagreed with Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin that America is in a major financial crisis now. The crisis is potential, not present, they believe.

COULD BECOME REAL

Right now, luck may be with us. Progress toward peace in Vietnam could take some bullishness out of the markets. Some industries will be slower to jack up prices if any descalation of defense spending seems likely.

And companies which have been hiking prices to improve their position in event of a price-wage freeze will no longer have that incentive. Ceilings are not in sight now; a cease-fire would kill any remote possibility of controls.

But instant peace is not in prospect. And the longer U.S. prices continue to climb, the more years it will take to repair America's damaged price competitiveness—and the harder it will be to close the payments deficit.

'GRAVEST CONCERN'

"This is the gravest concern of all—the ground lost in our permanent competitive position in world markets," one high administration official told the Associated Press.

"The setback is probably serious—it may take us two, three or even five years to regain our competitive standing."

★ ★ ★

Reserve Chairman Martin, raised the crisis cry in his speech to the American Society of Newspaper Editors on April 19. He was trying to shock Congress into heeding President Johnson's plea for an anti-inflationary 10 per cent tax surcharge.

★ ★ ★

A foreigner would have expected Congress to look, listen and act when the nation's central banker declared the United States to be in the middle of the "worst financial crisis since 1931"—and said so just after the combined financial resources of the free world had been mobilized to rescue the dollar from speculative attack.

BOLSTERS CONFIDENCE

Martin's gloomy speech actually bolstered confidence in the dollar in the central banks of Europe—which are uneasily holding more dollars than they need or want—simply because his words indicated an official resolve to take strong action.

But Martin's storm warning was hoisted a month ago, and there's still no tax increase. Nor any positive assurance there will be one.

★ ★ ★

Congress didn't really believe Martin. After all, everybody who wants a bill passed claims a crisis. These days crises are as plentiful around the Capitol as Volkswagens around the Germany embassy.

Some are real, some are phoney, some are slow-developing disasters that can take months or years to happen—and, if firm steps are taken, need never happen at all.

FITS LAST CATEGORY

The dollar crisis seems to fit into the last category, although the dollar may remain vulnerable for years to such unforeseeable hazards as a military crisis, an economic slump or a massive civil disorder that could shatter foreign confidence.

Most officials are concerned but hopeful. They think Congress will act, simply because they believe that failure to act would be unthinkable—the consequences would be too enormous.

★ ★ ★

Nor do they believe that the horrors which Martin saw ahead—"an uncontrollable recession or an uncontrollage inflation" and a "worldwide devaluation of currencies" including the dollar—are imminent hazards.

In fact, one highly placed official privately describes Martin's nightmare forecasts as "conceivable but not probable—they are the possible consequence of a low-probability chain of events."

GAP NARROWS

Martin said this is the worst crisis "since" 1931. A financial bellyflop still can be avoided, he said, if in the next few years the country corrects its chronic twin deficits—the federal budget deficit of $20 billion-plus, and the balance of payments deficit, which came to $3.6 billion last year and hit a horrendous rate of $7.4 billion in the fourth quarter, when Britain devalued the pound.

The payments gap has narrowed, but other events since Martin's speech have done nothing to allay his fears. The developments included:

● Figures on national output showed that the boom has reached runaway speed. A $20 billion-a-year increase in the production rate in the January-March quarter set a record.

● Consumer spending took wings. The savings rate of more than 7 per cent, which kept a damper on inflation throughout 1967, suddenly dropped. Consumer outlays rose by an unprecedented $16 billion annual rate in the first quarter.

★ ★ ★

● Inflation moved from a walk to a trot. Rising living costs ate into the dollar at the rate of 4 cents a year in the first quarter. There was nothing in sight—except the proposed tax bill—to prevent them from going to 5 cents on the dollar.

★ ★ ★

● A classic wage-price spiral, dreaded by economists, was in motion. Unions have been "catching up" with price increases by winning wage settlements averaging close to 6 per cent. That will crank up business costs and undoubtedly lead to more price boosts.

★ ★ ★

● The Federal Reserve Board is tightening the credit screws. Interest rates are being pushed up, credit is scarcer. Home buyers, home builders, small businesses, and municipal governments will suffer.

★ ★ ★

● The struggle to close the payments deficit is meeting obstacles. Imports exceeded exports in March for the first time in years. Foreign cars, foreign steel, and other goods are making bigger inroads.

AGREE IN PRINCIPLE

Almost everyone agrees in principle on what should be done. By moving to a more austere fiscal policy the government should curb its deficit financing—stop feeding billions of dollars more into the public's pockets than it takes out. The world is waiting for such action.

"The simple fact is that we are running out of time," Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler told the United States Chamber of Commcre recently.

★ ★ ★

"Neither the United States nor other nations can wait much longer for us to bring our financial affairs much closer to a balance."

Even though Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has been the President's chief antagonist in the tax bill battle, Mills says he agrees with Martin that the country is courting disaster with its present fiscal policy.

"Fiscal policy must be made to implement monetary policy, to do the job required," Mills told the Associated Press.

Then why did Mills and his committee shelve the tax bill three times after Johnson requested it last Aug. 1? Because mills wanted deeper spending cuts to go with the 10 per cent surtax.

★ ★ ★

Johnson finally yielded to a $4-billion budget cut. A Senate-House conference committee raised it to $6 billion. Johnson fumed that this was "blackmail." It would kill needed programs, he said, and "sow more seeds of despair and frustration" in the nation's troubled slums.

★ ★ ★

So the skirmishing goes on, while financiers wonder how long the European allies will tolerate the accumulating reserves of excess dollars—reserves that will grow as long as the U.S. runs a payments deficit.

CREDIT-TIGHTENING

They wonder, too, what will happen if another wild speculative scramble to convert dollars into gold begins, like the gold rush which ended in March after siphoning $2.2 billion of U.S. gold from Fort Knox.

The alternative to a tax-and-economy package is more credit-tightening.

The Federal Reserve banks' discount rate—the interest on loans made to commercial banks—has been hoisted to 5.5 per cent, the highest rate since pre-crash 1929.

To go higher is to invite trouble--choke off investment, discourage hiring, and perhaps bring on a recession. That's why Martin yelled for reinforcements in the form of fiscal action.

BRIEF TAILSPIN

His speech—like the one he made in 1964 reporting "disquieting similarities" between that year and 1929—sent the stock market into a brief tailspin and caused million of America to wonder: Just how far have we actually traveled down the road to disaster?

One well-informed economist, although completely sympathetic with Martin's aims, said privately that the financial collapse which Martin forecast was one which "almost no economist would predict."

★ ★ ★

"It implies a whole chain of crises, with every episode in the chain going against us," this source said. "The odds against all these things happening are very high."

It was suggested the "improbable chain of events" might take this form if a stalemate between congress and the White House kills the tax bill.

CLAMPDOWN ON CREDIT

First, a tight clampdown on credit, causing a housing recession but not convincing the rest of the world that the U.S. means business about curbing inflation and the payments deficit.

Second, nervousness in some small countries over the soundness of the dollars they hold. They demand gold instead.

Third, some bigger powers might then decide it's too risky to stay with us. They too decide to cash in their chips.

★ ★ ★

Fourth, the U.S., if unable to meet a worldwide demand, is forced to abandon the convertibility of gold at $35 an ounce. In effect, the dollar is devalued.

Fifth, other currencies are forced to devalue, causing chaotic exchange conditions in which international trade flounders.

When vast values are at stake, you don't let a chain like that get started."

WISEST COURSE?

But some hitherto unthinkable things have become thinkable in recent months. Arthur F. Burns, chairman of the Council of Economic Advisers under President Eisenhower, said in a speech five days after Martin's that:

"If we are unwilling to practice austerity on a sufficient scale, then an increase in the price of gold may be the wisest course open to us."

★ ★ ★

In all this gloom there are some grounds for optimism, these among them:

● Despite the bitter struggle, the odds now favor a tax boost this session, plus spending cuts.

● That will permit "some deceleration" of the inflationary spiral in the second half of the year.

● The balance of payments deficit, though still a problem, is diminishing. The $2.4 billion annual rate of deficit in the first quarter, though twice as high as had been hoped, showed a trend in the right direction.

● There are signs that the government will get tough in some particularly painful areas of inflation, including medical costs, construction, and government procurement.

● Business is strong, unemployment low, and inventories are in reasonably good balance with production and sales. Martin emphasized that he was speaking of a "financial crisis, not a business critis."

Tigers Steal Homer Show From Howard in Sunday Sweep

Nat Slugger's Homer Spree Stopped in 5-4, 7-0 Wins

The Detroit Tigers took the home run heroics away from Washington's Frank Howard Sunday and won a doubleheader in the process.

Howard, with 10 homers in six games, failed to connect as Detroit swept a twinbill 5-4 and 7-0.

Al Kaline slammed his 307th career homer, passing Hank Greenberg as the all-time Detroit leader; Eddie Mathews hit his 510th to put him one behind Mel Ott in sixth place on the all-time major league home run list, and Dick McAuliffe hit a pair, one which almost cleared the right field roof in Tiger Stadium.

TAKES RIBBING

McAuliffe, the little Detroit second baseman, took a good natured ribbing from teammates.

"I hit it out of the park and it bounces back on the field," he said. "I guess they only count them out of this park when they stay out."

McAuliffe's blast hit the base of the light tower and bounced back onto the field but didn't qualify as going out of the stadium, a feat accomplished by only 11 players.

The lumbering Washington Senators first baseman slammed two more home runs Saturday in the Nats' 8-4 victory.

TREMENDOUS BLAST

The first homer landed in the second deck in right-center field.

"I've have never seen a ball hit that hard, and you probably won't wither, unless Howard hits it," said Washington Manager Jim Lemon.

It was only the 11th ball hit out of Tiger Stadium since it was remodeled in 1938. Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins is the only other player to hit a ball clear of the left field roof, which stands 82 feet above the 340-foot marker on the fence.

"I did the best I could," he said Sunday. "But you've got to give credit to those guys, the Detroit pitchers."

Earl Wilson, rookie Les Cain and Fred Lasher held Howard to a single and a double in seven trips to the plate. He walked twice.

Wilson, who started the first game, was breezing along on a 4-0 shutout when Washington rallied for four runs to knot the score in the eighth.

GATES' SINGLE

The Tigers won it in the bottom of the eighth on a double by Norm Cash, which fell in front of Senator right fielder Ed Stroud, who fell down on the wet grass, a walk and Gates Brown's two-out pinch single.

McAuliffe drove in two runs in the first game with his fourth homer and a sacrifice fly. Kaline and Ray Oyler drove in the other runs with singles.

Rookie Les Cain and Lasher combined to blank the Senators on six hits in the nightcap.

"It was a long time in coming," Kaline told newsmen. "I'm sorry it took so long."

The Tigers open a three-game series with the Minnesota Twins tonight in Minneapolis. Denny McLain will pitch for Detroit against the Twins' Jim Merritt in the opener.

HOWARD'S HANDIWORK — Washington's Frank Howard takes a practice swing against the Tigers yesterday and it was a similar swing on Saturday that sent a Mickey Lolich fastball sailing out of the park at Tiger Stadium in Detroit. The arrow points to the spot where Howard's big blow made its exit. It hit the roof and bounced into the street. It was one of two homers for Big Frank Saturday as he paced the Senators to an 8-4 victory.

Turbines Set Hot Pace

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Drivers of conventional racers were about ready today to concede the 52nd 500-mile Memorial Day race to one of the Lotus turbines that dashed to Indianapolis Motor Speedway qualifying records over the weekend.

LEONARD

But they could be premature, said S. A. Silbermann, metalurgist and long-time U.S. Auto Club official who heads the 500 technical committee.

★ ★ ★

He noted that the weather was damp and chilly Saturday when Graham Hill of London set the 10-mile qualifying record at 171.208 m.p.h. and Lotus teammate Joe Leonard of San Jose, Calif., raised it to 171.559.

COULD CHANGE

HILL

"The turbines' horsepower and torque will drop off about 20 per cent if the temperature is 85 degrees," he said. "They hit their peak at 59 degrees."

Bobby Unser of Albuquerque, N.M., winner of the last three USAC championship races and defending Indianapolis champion A. J. Foyt Jr., Houston, were among a host of drivers and car owners who said the piston cars will have to run a separate race behind the turbines. They said the "heat engines" will ruin auto racing.

Silbermann commented, "did you see that crowd Saturday? Turbines won't kill racing. The crowd will always turn out to see something new and controversial."

HUGE ESTIMATE

The Saturday turnout was estimated up to 265,000.

Unser had the third-best qualifying speed of 169.507 m.p.h. in an Eagle-Offenhouser and will share the front row with Leonard and Hill.

Fifteen cars that qualified Saturday averaged 167.225 m.p.h. against 163.577 for the first 15 last year.

Mario Andretti of Nazareth, Pa., who held the track qualifying record of 168.982 with a piston engine, burned a piston Saturday in his turbocharged Ford. He came back with a replacement engine that had run only 10 miles and was fourth-fastest at 167.691.

SHARES SECOND ROW

Andretti will share the second row with Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex., 167.613 in a Mongoose turbocharged Offenhauser, and Bobby Unser's brother Al, 167.065 in a new four-wheel drive Lola-Ford which could challenge the turbines after a little more adjustment.

★ ★ ★

Other Saturday qualifiers included Roger McCluskey, Tucson, Ariz., 166.976 in an Eagle-turbocharged Offenhauser; Foyt, shooting for an unprecedented fourth 500 victory, 166.821 in a Coyote-Ford; Gordon Johncock, Hastings, Mich., 166.775 in a Gerhardt turbocharged Offenhauser, and Dan Gurney, Santa Ana, Calif., 166.512 in one of his own Eagles with semi-stock Weslake-Ford block.

Art Pollard of Medford, Ore., put the third of the Lotus turbines, all entered by Andy Granatelli of STP Corp., into the line-up at 166.297.

Other qualifiers included one rookie, Jim Malloy, Denver, Colo., and previous starters Wally Dallenbach, East Brunswick, N.J.; Jimmy McElreath, Arlington, Tex., and Jerry Grant, San Diego, Calif.

Rain fell almost all day Sunday and the weather cleared only long enough for one more driver, Jochen Rindt of the Grand Prix circuit, to qualify. He put a Brabham-Repco into the line-up at 164.144, slower than any of Saturday's qualifiers.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The tentative line-up of 16 qualifiers Saturday and Sunday of the 500-mile race May 30 at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway to be changed only if some of the 16 are not among the 33 fastest qualifiers through next weekend:

First Row
Graham Hill, London, England, Lotus-Pratt & Whitney turbine, 171.208.

Second Row
Mario Andretti, Nazareth, Pa., Hawk-turbocharged Ford, 167.691.
Lloyd Ruby, Wichita Falls, Tex., Laycock Mongoose-turbocharged Offenhauser, 167.613.

Third Row
Roger McCluskey, Tucson, Ariz., Eagle-turbocharged Offenhauser, 166.976.
A. J. Foyt, Houston, Coyote-Ford, 166.821.

Fourth Row
Art Pollard, Medford, Ore., Lotus-Pratt & Whitney turbine, 166.297.

Fifth Row
Jim Malloy, Denver, Colo., Vollstedt-turbocharged Ford, 165.032.

Sixth Row

Siebert Gives Indians Sweep Over Orioles

CLEVELAND (AP) — Sonny Siebert pitched hitless ball for 6 1-3 innings and finished with a one-hit 2-0 victory over Baltimore in the second game as Cleveland completed a double-header sweep againt the Orioles Sunday.

Duke Sims clouted a three-run homer and Lee Maye and Larry Brown smacked three hits apiece, leading the Indians to an 11-6 romp in the first game.

Siebert got the only run he needed in the fourth inning of the nightcap when Tommy Harper clouted his second home run of the year. Tony Horton doubled in another run in the eighth.

The red-hot Indians now have a 14-4 record for May and a two-game lead over the Orioles for second place.

VETERANS DELIVER — Detroit Tigers' Al Kaline (left) and Ed Mathews sport big grins in the locker room after both hit home runs in Detroit's 7-0 victory in the second game against Washington yesterday. Mathews rapped a three-run blow in the fourth, while Kaline connected with a mate aboard in the sixth. It was No. 307 for Kaline, putting him at the top of the list of all-time Detroit homer hitters. Detroit won the first game, 5-4.

Clean Report Given Preakness Leaders

BALTIMORE MD. — Forward Pass won the Preakness Saturday, and the chemist said Sunday that is exactly what happened.

Dr. John A. Herculson, chief chemist for the Maryland Racing Commission, reported that the urinalysis of the first three finishers were negative.

It was a positive urinalysis — one that revealed a trace of an illegal medication — that led to the disqualification of Dancer's Image as winner of the Kentucky Derby.

★ ★ ★

It was a disqualification that kept Dancer's Image from undergoing a test after the Preakness.

The stewards at Pimlico ruled that Dancer's Image impeded the progress of Martins Jig during the stretch run and disqualified him from third place to eighth in the field of 10.

★ ★ ★

However, they held jockey Bobby Ussery blameless, ruling he could not control Peter Fuller's hard-luck colt.

Willie McKeever was not as fortunate. The apprentice rider of Noduble stood up in the irons with a sixteenth of a mile to go, and was fined $100 for misjudging the finish line.

But by the time Ussery got into trouble and McKeever made his mistake, Forward Pass had already let it be known who was going to win the race.

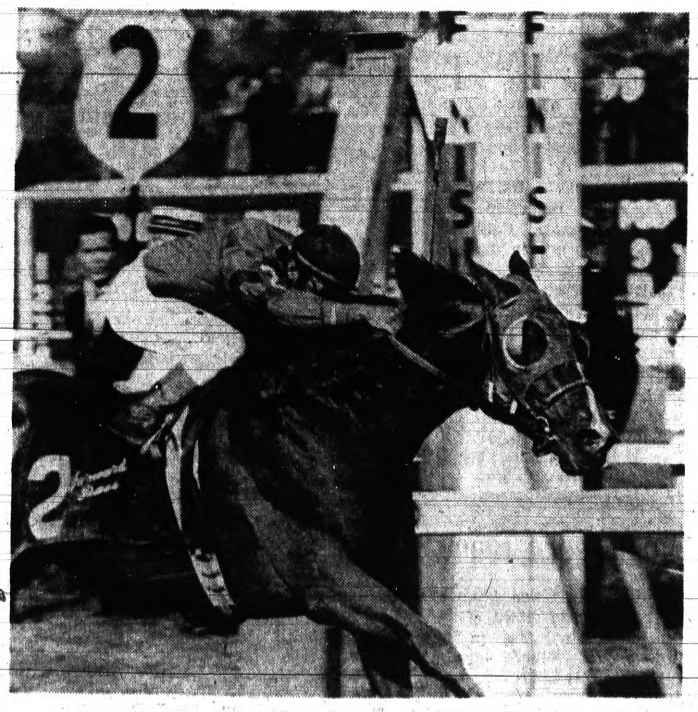

TAKES LEAD

Ismael Valenzuela moved Forward Pass into the lead turning for home and the Calumet Farm ace blazed through the stretch to complete the 1 3-16 miles six lengths ahead of Robert J. Kleberg's Out of the Way who got to the wire a head in front of Dancer's Image. The time was 1:56 4-5.

★ ★ ★

Nodouble, whose owner, Gene Goff, paid the supplementary nomination fee of $10,000, finished fourth and then got third-place money of $15,000 when Dancer's Image was set down.

The victory not only vindicated Forward Pass and Valenzuela, it set him up as a possible Triple Crown winner. The last horse to win the Derby, Preakness and Belmont, which will be run June 1, was Calumet's Citation in 1948.

TOUCHDOWN? — It wasn't a touchdown but still a score of sorts as Forward Pass, with jockey Ismael Valenzuela aboard, raced to an easy victory in the 93rd Preakness at Pimlico, Md., Saturday.

MSU Flashes Grid Power

EAST LANSING (AP) — A sneak preview over the weekend showed Michigan State should have a vastly improved football team this fall.

★ ★ ★

If you want a hunch, longshot bet, how about the Spartans as a darkhorse to win the Big Ten title and go to the Rose Bowl again this year?

Coach Duffy Daugherty staged a semiprivate showing Saturday of what kind of football team he'll field this fall.

FLASHY SOPHS

A speedy sophomore tailback with the catchy name of Tommy Love figured in three of the four touchdowns as the varsity squad overpowered the reserves 27-7.

Al Brenner of Niles, the leading pass receiver last year, looked better than ever as he snared two touchdown passes one from Love.

Local Qualifying Begins for USGA

A field of 92 pros and 41 amateurs were playing a 36-hole round at two local courses today in the first phase of the U.S.G.A. Open qualifying.

The golfers, playing 18-hole rounds at Forest Lake and Indianwood country clubs, are battling for 24 spots in the 'sectional' phase of the qualifying which is slated for June 3-4 at Knollwood Country Club.

Also in the sectional will be two qualifiers from he 'local' tournament at Grand Rapids today. There are 13 players bidding for those two spots there.

Only 543 players will survive the 'local' qualifying across the nation today and tomorrow and they will then join 58 partially exempt players for the sectional battles slated at 13 sites across the country.

The 116 survivors from the sectional will then join 34 totally exempt players for the championship proper, a 72-hole event at Oak Hill Country Club in Rochester, N.Y., June 13-16.

USC Win Paced by McCullouch

The Trojans, with McCullouch and Lennox Miller picking up three first and one third place medals each, thundered over opposition in the ninth Pacific Conference track and field championships Saturday.

NCAA NEXT

Now it's on the the NCAA championships, in which they are defending crown-wearers, June 13-15 on the same University of California Edwards Field.

Southern California totalled 128 points with a balanced team that won eight events and scored points in 14 of the 18.

★ ★ ★

Defending champion Oregon, despite an unprecedented sweep of the first four places in the mile for 28 points, was held to 82. Ambitious Oregon State had 79, California 77 and UCLA 74.

Ice Hall of Fame for Minnesota City

BOSTON (AP) — Eveleth, Minn., will be the site of the new National Hockey Hall of Fame.

The Amateur Hockey Associaton of the United States voted Sunday to endorse the long-time hockey hotbed of Minnesota's Iron Range as the hall location.

Big Ten Decides Track, Golf, Tennis Championships

U-M Netters Dethrone MSU

Minnesota, Indiana Rule Cinders, Links

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten crowned new champions in track, golf and tennis over the weekend with Minnesota, Indiana and Michigan carrying off the trophies.

Minnesota edged Michigan and Wisconsin in one of the tightest meets in more than half a century to win its first track title in 19 years.

The Gophers compiled 50 points, one more than Michigan and two more than Wisconsin.

Ohio State was a distant fourth with 30 points followed by Illinois with 26, defending champion Iowa with 22, Michigan State 22, Indiana 19, Northwestern 10 and Purdue 6.

RAIN STOPS RECORDS

Alternating rain and drizzle ruined record attempts in the running events. Three conference records, however, were set. Mike Fischer of Ohio State won the 3,000-meter steeplechase in 9:02.2; Mike Bond of Wisconsin took the triple jump with an effort of 47 feet, 9¼ inches and Gary Knickerbocker of Michigan smashed the high jump record with a leap of 6 feet, 9½ inches.

★ ★ ★

Indiana withstood a late challenge by Michigan State to grab its first golf title since 1962. MSU was 19 strokes behind Indiana as the final round began and pulled even after nine holes. The Hoosiers then picked up 12 strokes in the final nine for the victory.

MEDAL HONORS

Brill Brask of Minnesota took Individual honors with a 293 total, two strikes better than Indiana's Steve Cisco. Randy Erskine of Michigan was third with 296.

★ ★ ★

Indiana totaled 1,511 strokes to Michigan State's 1,523. Michigan was third with 1,526 followed by defending champion Purdue's 1,548. Ohio State had 1,553, Iowa 1,576, Illinois 1,583, Wisconsin 1,597 and Northwestern 1,650.

TENNIS CROWN

Michigan coasted to the tennis title by sweeping six of nine championships. The Wolverines totaled 148 points to 100½ for defending champion Michigan State.

Minnesota had 78 points, Northwestern 71, Indiana 62, Iowa 60½, Wisconsin 59½, Illinois 56½, Ohio State 9½ and Purdue 6.

Northwestern's Don Lutz took blanking Dave Brown of Indiana the No. 1 singles crown by 6-0, 6-0. Brown had eliminated top seeded Pete Fishback of Michigan and third-ranked Charles Brainard of MSU.

Fishbach and Brian Marcus teamed for the No. 1 doubles title by defeating Michigan State's Brainard and Rich Monan 7-5, 6-3.

ALL OUT — The facial expression indicates the effort Wisconsin's Mike Butler is putting into his winning effort in the 120-yard high hurdles Saturday in the Big Ten Conference track meet at University of Minnesota. He was clocked in 13.8 seconds.

CMU Runners Again Reign in Loop Meet

Eastern Illinois was second with 64½ points, Illinois State had 46½ and Western Illinois had 39.

Central's John Smith won the 100-yard dash, the 220 and the high hurdles for 18 points that netted him the Lloyd Olds Award as the meet's top individual scorer.

2-Out Triple Nets Victory in Rec Play

A two-out triple by John Stoddard in the last of the seventh inning Sunday night gave Ray's Sunoco Service a 4-3 triumph over Local 594 in City men's softball action.

The other three contests on the makeup schedule were lopsided affairs. Timberlanes Bar thumped J. A. Fredman's, 9-2.

In two contests that were called after six innings, Town and Country trimmed Milburn Industries, 8-1, and Ron's Roost routed the Union Lake Merchants, 15-2.

★ ★ ★

Three hits, three errors and two walks forged a seven-run outburst for Timberglanes.

Rod Laver Prevails in Garden Event

NEW YORK (AP) — "Rod Laver is great, but I'll still have to stick with Bill Tilden as the best tennis player of all time."

★ ★ ★

The speaker was Henry Benisch, veteran tennis official and member of the West Side Tennis Club in Forest Hills, N.Y., who has been watching the great and near great for 54 years.

★ ★ ★

Benisch was one of the gallery of 11,108 who saw Laver, winner of tennis' grand slam as an amateur and three times world champion as a professional, win the Madison Square Garden Invitation with a 4-6, 6-3, 9-7, 6-3 triumph over fellow Australian Ken Rosewall.

★ ★ ★

After the spectacular, fast-paced match, many of the gallery went away claiming they had just seen a match between the two best players who ever lived.

Drought Ends for Lakers

NEW BALTIMORE — West Bloomfield brought home its first state regional track title in at least 15 years Saturday and had a record-setting time in earning the trophy.

The Lakers set three school records and tied two others in outdistancing defending champ Cranbrook, 42½-30, on the new all-weather track at Anchor Bay High School.

Romeo totaled 26 points, Oxford had 25½ and Harper Woods 25 in the scramble for third place.

Pacing the West Bloomfield victory was the school record :15.7 clocking by sophomore Randy Bevier in the high hurdles.

Other records were sophomore Jim Wilson's second place 10:06 in the two mile (won by Cranbrook's Charley Craig in 9:56.8) and the mile relay team's 3:31.8 (won by Harper Woods, 3:31.7).

EQUAL RECORDS

Tim Brennan won the pole vault at 11-10, Romeo's Dan Burzynski took the high jump at 6-2, Cranbrook's John Wallace put the shot 52-7, and Mike Koerner ran a 4:27.8 mile for Cranbrook.

Oxford took the 880 with Brian Edgett (2:00.5) and the low hurdles with Gary Cummings (:20.4), Harold Perry of Lahser won the 440 in :51.6 and the long jump went to Romeo's Bob Craig (21-2½).

Sprinter Spurs Broncos' Win in Loop Meet

The Western Michigan sprinter won the 440-yard intermediate hurdles in the MAC meet in Kent, Ohio, over the weekend, finished third in the 120-yard high hurdles and ran legs on the Broncos' 440-yard and mile relay teams that finished second.

That made him Western's top performer as the Broncos captured the league championship with 186 points, edging out the early frontrunner, Ohio University, by 23 points.

Defending champion Doug Lambert of Western tied his own pole vault record in the meet by soaring 15 feet, 5 inches. John Linta of Kent State tied the mark, but Lambert placed first in the event by virtue of fewer misses.

★ ★ ★

Western trailed OU in the early competition, but cinched the championship with victories in the intermediate hurdles by Lemon, in the 440-yard run by Tom Randolph and in the half-mile run by Jack Magelssen.

CHICAGO (AP) — Minnesota and Michigan State, deadlocked for first place in the Big Ten baseball race, should settle the issue in head-on, season ending doubleheader Saturday.

Minnesota defeated Iowa 5-1 and Michigan State wiped out the Gophers' half game lead by blanking hapless Purdue 9-0 and 1-0 to draw into a first place tie. Each team has a 12-2 record.

However, before the big meeting Saturday in Minneapolis, each team has a doubleheader scheduled Friday and cannot afford to fall flat.

'M' AT MINNESOTA

Michigan State is at Iowa for a pair before going on to Minnesota and the Gophers entertain rugged Michigan twice Friday.

Michigan was all but eliminated from the race when the Wolverines split a doubleheader with Illinois, winning the opener 4-1 but losing the nightcap 5-3.

★ ★ ★

Michigan is tied with Wisconsin for third place, each boasting a 9-5 mark but neither has much of a chance at the championship.

Wisconsin, defeating Ohio State 4-2 before suffering a 13-2 loss, has only two games remaining, both against Northwestern.

Michigan could gain a share of the crown on a lengthy "if" basis. If Michigan wins two from Minnesota and Minnesota and Michigan State split Saturday, Michigan could finish in a tie only if Iowa were to beat Michigan State twice Friday.

With Indiana defeating Northwestern 6-0 and losing the nightcap 4-2, Michigan State's double shutout was Saturday's only sweep.

Mickey Knight and Zana Easton each fired one-hitters to power the Spartans into their first place tie. Steve Garvey's bases-loaded double was the big hit in the opener and Steve Rymal singled home the winning run in the fourth inning of game No. 2.

★ ★ ★

Friday's schedule finds Northwestern at Wisconsin for a single game and the doubleheaders are Indiana at Illinois, Michigan at Minnesota, Michigan State at Iowa and Ohio State at Purdue.

Saturday's windup has Northwestern at Wisconsin for one game with doubleheaders finding Michigan State at Minnesota, Michigan at Iowa, Indiana at Purdue and Ohio State at Illinois.

Dutchmen Tie for Track Title

ALBION (AP)—Victory in the Michigan Intercollegiate Athletic Association track meet lifted Hope into a tie for the MIAA track championship Saturday.

The Flying Dutchmen wound up in a first-place tie with Calvin, which merited the tie by beating Hope in a dual meet earlier in the season.

Hope led the meet field with 82 points, Calvin had 61, Adrian 43, Alma 35, Albion 33½, Olivet 16 and Kalamazoo 2½.

Calvin's Rudy Vlaardingerbroken was the big individual star, winning three events, including the discus, the javelin and the shot put, where he broke his own conference record with a toss of 50 feet, 11 inches.

Flint Resident National Champ on Motorcycle

Markel, riding a Harley-Davidson, edged runner-up Dan Haaby of Englewood, Calif., by two seconds over the one-half mile dirt track. Fred Nix of Franklsville, Wis., was third in the 12-man field. Eleven were running at the finish.

Pontiac JHS Teams Dominate Relays

Pontiac schools won seven of the 11 events and set six of the 10 new records Friday in the third annual Milford Junior High School Invitational Relays.

Jefferson JHS (high jump relay, long jump relay and 440-yard relay) set three marks. Lincoln JHS set new Pole Vault relay and distance medley marks, plus placed first in the shot put. The other Pontiac school to finish first was Washington who broke the sprint medley record.

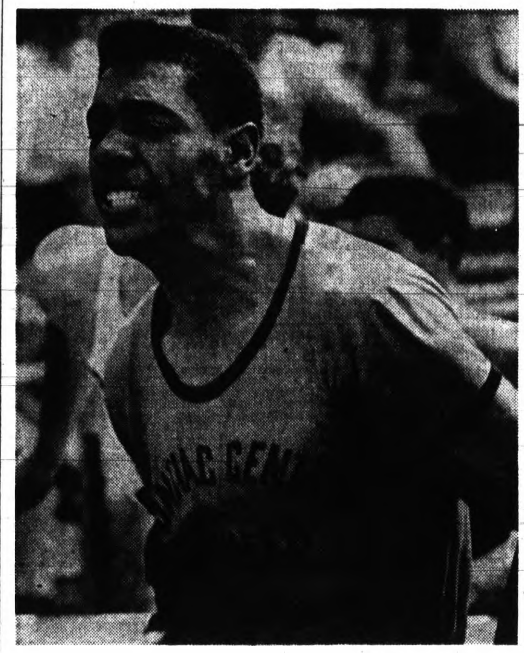

Farmington's Dunckel (Two and one mile relays) and East Farmington (880 relay and shuttle hurdles) set the other four records.

Johnson Wins Both Hurdles to Pace PCH

The powerful Chiefs of Pontiac Central rolled up 47 points in racing to an easy victory in the Class A state track regional at Waterford Township Saturday.

The victory was another in a series of successful efforts for the Chiefs and first-year coach Roger Shepler, and they'll try to put the frosting on the cake next Saturday in the state finals at Ann Arbor.

A distant second to the Chiefs was Birmingham Groves (29). Rochester (23) was third, followed by Port Huron (17), and Waterford and Kettering, who shared fifth with 15 points apiece. Pontiac Northern shared eighth in the field of 20 teams.

FIVE VICTORIES

Johnson emerged as the meet's only double winner, taking the high hurdles in 14.4 seconds and the lows in 19.2.

★ ★ ★

OTHER WINNERS

The Chiefs posted another victory in the running events with a first in the mile relay (3:25.7) and picked up their other first-place points in the field events.

★ ★ ★

Rich Sherrill leaped 6-feet-1-inch to take the high jump for the Chiefs, while teammate Roland Garcia won the broad jump with a leap of 22-feet-2½-inches.

★ ★ ★

Groves procured three winners. Fred Grover took the 440 in 49.7 seconds, Dave Anderson won the 220 in 22.1 seconds and the 880 relay team checked in with a winning tie of 1:30.6.

SPEEDY RACE

Rochester's Bob Woodroof continued his sub-10-second times with a 9.8 clocking in taking the 100-yard dash. He later finished second to Anderson in the 220.

David Galloway won the mile for Waterford in 4:21.5, just nipping Pontiac Central's Jon Costello (4:22.55). Another Waterford win was posted by Larry Biskner in the pole vault with a mark of 13-feet-6-inches.

Country Day Trackmen 2nd

OL St. Mary Fourth in Class C Regional

New Haven won with 57 points. Country Day was next at 45. Fourth with 22 markers was Orchard Lake St. Mary.

★ ★ ★

Jerry Dowis took the 440 (51.6), John Means wno the low hurdles (21.0), Andy Ditzhazy bagged the 220 (23.0) and those three teamed with Casey McWilliams to win the 880 relay (1:32.9).

★ ★ ★

Ed Pomazanko was one of two winners for OLSM. He took the high hurdles in 15.8 seconds and placed second to Means in the low sticks.

★ ★ ★

The other OLSM win was taken by Andy Jugan with a 4:30.4 clocking in the mile.

Oxford Nine Splits Twinbill at Romeo

A grand slam homer by Dave Kastelic carried Oxford to its initial baseball conquest of the season Saturday, a 4-2 victory at Romeo in the opener of a double header.

In a Wayne-Oakland League makeup game, Brighton surprised Northville, 7-5, with the aid of a five-run fourth inning.

WILD WELCOME FOR WILLIAMS — Cleveland Indian teammates run to congratulate pitcher Stan Williams Saturday after he drove in the winning run in the 10th inning for a 1-0 victory over Baltimore. Williams hurled a two-hitter that started the Indians on a three-game surge and into a two-game lead over Baltimore in the battle for second place in the American League.

California, Twins Split

ST. PAUL-MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Ron Perranoski, tagged for California's winning hit in the first game, put down an eighth inning rally by the Angels in the nightcap to protect a 3-2 Minnesota victory that gave the Twins a doubleheader split Sunday.

The Angels won the opener 2-1 as reliever Minnie Rojas choked off a ninth inning rally, stranding the tying run on third after the Twins broke Sammy Ellis' shutout bid.

Oakland Goalie Collects Sixth Soccer Shutout

By the Associated Press

Only the Oakland Clippers are getting a kick out of goalie Mirko Stojanovic, who makes sure no one gets a kick by him.

The Oakland goalie from Yugoslavia helped the Clippers to a 3-0 victory over Houston Sunday by recording his sixth shutout in the Pacific Division of the North American Soccer League.

The other two matches Sunday did end in ties as the Chicago Mustangs and Toronto Falcons played to a 1-1 draw and the Vancouver Royals and the Kansas City Spurs deadlocked 2-2.

Can-Am Racing Series for Cars Ups Prizes

NEW YORK (AP) — A championship fund of $126,000, first prize of $40,000 and a new Canadian circuit were announced today for the Canadian-American Challenge Cup series of international auto races.

★ ★ ★

John M. Bishop, executive director of the Sports Car Club of America, sanctioning body of the Can-Am, said the new Canadian event will be in Edmonton, Alberta.

SERIES MONEY

He predicted a total of more than $526,000 will be available for prize money in the series of six races this fall.

★ ★ ★

The $126,000 championship fund compares with $90,000 last year, the second year Can-Am had been in operation. Bruce McLaren, New Zealand, won last year's series.

★ ★ ★

"We can confidently expect 300,000 spectators for the 1968 events," Bishop said. That would make a guarantee of $36,000 in prize money, plus an anticipated $180,000 in manufacturers' contingent awards.

★ ★ ★

The schedule, with minimum purses: Sept. 1, Road America Can-Am, Elkhart Lake, Wis., $45,000: Sept. 15, Bridgehampton Grand Prix, Bridgehampton, N.Y., $25,000; Sept. 28, CRDA Can-Am, Edmonton, $30,000; Oct. 13, Monterey Grand Prix, Monterey, Calif., $40,000; Oct. 27, Los Angeles Times Grand Prix, Riverside, Calif., $45,000, and Nov. 10, Stardust Grand Prix, Las Vegas, Nev., $35,000.

Banks' Blow Helps Cubs Gain Split

By the Associated Press

The Chicago Cubs caught San Francisco's Herman Franks turning the other cheek . . . and Ernie Banks followed Dick Nen's left jab with a right smash that floored the Giants.

Nen drilled a two-run homer in the fourth inning of Sunday's doubleheader nightcap at San Francisco, then bowed out in the sixth for pinch hitter Banks, whose three-run homer powered the Cubs to a 6-3 victory.

★ ★ ★

Durocher said, "When Herman put in the left-handed pitcher (Gibbon), he forced me to take out Nen and bring in a right-handed hitter. I don't know what Herman had in mind, but I certainly wasn't going to use a lefty against a lefty.

Nen was hitting .077 in 12 games.

The Braves swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 3-2 and 2-0 for a run of eight victories in their last 10 games. The Cardinals bowed to Philadelphia 4-3, extending the losing string to four. Cincinnati slugged Pittsburgh 9-3 and Houston beat Los Angeles twice, 2-1 and 3-1.

★ ★ ★

After Banks' sixth homer of the season gave Chicago a 5-0 lead, Phil Regan came out of the Cubs' bullpen to choke off a Giant rally in the bottom of the sixth and preserve Bill Hands' fourth victory. Mike Marshall chased Hands with a two-run single, but Regan got Hart to bounce into an inning-ending double play.

POSTS 5TH WIN

In the opener, Perry posted his fifth victory and first shutout of the year in a duel with Ferguson Jenkins, who surrendered Hart's seventh homer and dropped to 4-4 for the season.

The homer was Hart's second in successive trips to the plate following a five-game layoff while he nursed a groin injury.

Billy Williams, who stroked three of the Cubs' hits against Perry, got another in the nightcap while tying Richie Ashburn's major league record of 694 consecutive games played by an outfielder.

Ron Reed, Atlanta's unbeaten rookie, pitched a two-hitter in the opener at New York and gained his fifth victory when run-scoring singles by Felipe Alou and Felix Millan erased a 2-1 deficit in the eighth inning.

The Phillies blew a 2-1 lead in the ninth, then edged St. Louis for the third straight day on two walks and pinch hitter Gary Sutherland's two-out, two-run double in the bottom of the ninth.

Rookie catcher Johnny Bench drove in four runs with a double and two singles as the Reds rolled to their fourth victory in the last five games. George Culver blanked the Pirates on two hits until they tagged him for three runs in the seventh.

The Astros snapped a five-game losing streak behind southpaw Denny Lemaster, who scattered seven Dodger hits in the opener at Los Angeles. Jim Wynn homered for Houston and Ron Brand doubled home the deciding run in the fifth.

Stanky Maneuvers White Sox Into 6th Place

By Associated Press

Stanky's Chicago White Sox swept a Sunday doubleheader from Kansas City 6-2, 7-3 and did it on a three-run homer by a pitcher and with three pinch runners all scoring runs in the same inning.

The Sox, who started the season in reverse with 10 straigst losses, now have won 12 of their last 16 games and soared into sixth place ni the American League.

Stanky, who moved fast and furiously with second game substitutions, let pitcher Tommy John swing for himself with Oakland leading 2-1 in the fourth inning of the opener and two runners aboard.

John rewarded the faith with a three-run homer and shut out the A's the rest of the way.

In the nightcap, Chicago was nursing a 1-0 lead in the fifth when Stanky went to work in earnest. Luis Aparicio was hit by a pitch and Ken Berry sacrificed. Pete Ward walked and Stanky inserted Buddy Bradford to run.

★ ★ ★

Tommy Davis singled for one run and Bill Voss went in to run for him. An error loaded the bases and Stanky sent up Wayne Causey as a pinch hitter. A two-run single, naturally, and Sandy Alomar in to run for Causey. Tim Cullen bunted and another run scored as the A's missed a runner at the plate. Gerry McNertneh singled another run across before the Sox were through.

Three pinch runners, all of whom scored, and a successfull pinch hitter, all in one inning?

"Routine," shrugged Stanky, walking off.

The Tigers halted Howard's string which had reached 10 homers in six games, and beat the Senators twice with some long ball punch of their own.

Casper's Win Puts Him Above $103,000

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Methodical Billy Casper, became the first player in golf history to win over $100,000 this early in the year Sunday with a runaway five-stroke victory in the Colonial National Invitation Tournament.

Casper's $25,000 first prize put him at the $103,868.64 bracket. He says the Mormon church gets 10 per cent and the government the rest.

★ ★ ★

"But Uncle Sam won't help me sink those three-foot putts," chuckled Casper, fuelled by four boiled eggs and a papaya.

CLOSING ROUND

Casper shot a closing round two-under-par 68 over the tough 7,000-yard par 70 Colonial Country Club course to finish with a 275 and become a two-time winner in the tournament.

The victory also put Casper alone as the only three-time winner on the 1968 tour. He previously scored victories at Greensboro and Los Angeles.

The earliest previous date for any golfer to win over $100,000 was in June, 1967 when Arnold Palmer won $15,000 with a second-place finish in the U.S. Open to get a $113,225.63 total.

★ ★ ★

Casper was never really pressed although he started the day tied with South African Gary player, who said he shot his "worst round in five years" in soaring to a 76 for a 283 total.

Gene Littler fired a closing round 68 to finish second with an even par 280 worth $15,000. Tommy Aaron carved out an even par 70 for $9,375.

The affable Casper birdied No. 1 with an eight-foot putt, and Nos. 2 and 9 with two-footers, and drilled a 20-foot bird on No. 12.

★ ★ ★

His only hint of trouble came at the par 3 No. 8 where a five-iron landed in the middle of the green and rolled over. Casper chipped back and three-putted for a double bogey.

California Kegler Wins Gals' Crown

Mrs. Massey defeated Mrs. Marion Spencer, Oklahoma City, Okla., two straight matches Sunday to claim the title.

Mrs. Massey won the first match 884-853, forcing a playoff in the elimination meet.

Mudcat Didn't Expect Actual Publicity Shot

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Pitcher Jim "Mudcat" Grant of the Los Angeles Dodgers escaped injury Saturday when a pistol shot fired by an irate landowner broke up a publicity picture-taking session.

Police said Grant and Armand Alzamora, a photographer, parked their car on a street in the Hollywood Hills. When they refused to move, police said a property owner shot his pistol, hitting no one.

U.S. Education Benefits—6

Teachers Can Get Study Aid

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the seventh article in a 15-part series on U.S. educational and training benefits available to you.)

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Publications

If you plan to be an elementary or high school teacher or are one now and have graduated from college, you may be eligible for a federal teacher fellowship.

These fellowships may run for periods up to 24 months. The stipend is normally $2,000 the first year and $2,200 the second. Additional stipends of $400 are available for study outside the normal academic year. Allowances are given for dependents.

★ ★ ★

Prospective teachers must seriously intend to pursue a career in elementary or secondary education. Men and women who are at present teaching must be recommended by the local school system to which they expect to return.

The fellowships are intended for graduate study leading to a master's degree or its equivalent.

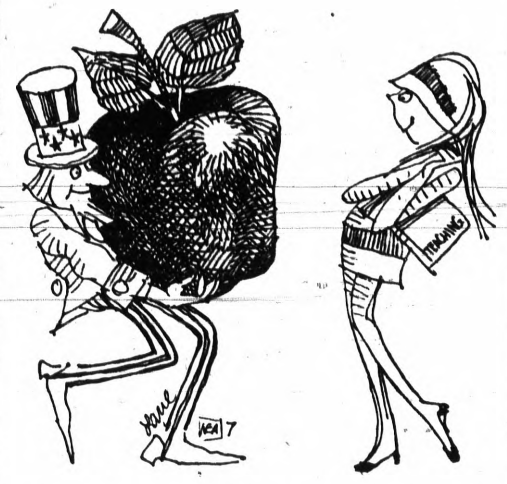

FOR DATA

For further information, write the Graduate Academic Programs Branch, Bureau of Higher Education, U.S. Office of Education, Washington D.C. 20202.

Under still another program, graduate students who want to become college or university teachers may be eligible for National Defense Graduate Fellowships.

These provide three years of support. The stipend is $2,000 the first year, $2,200 the second and $2,400 the third. There are allowances for dependents. Additional stipends of $400 for study outside the normal academic year are available. In addition, the college or university receives up to $2,500 per fellow in lieu of tuition.

A fellow must maintain satisfactory standing and devote full time to his study or research.

PORTION AVAILABLE

A portion of the fellowship may be awarded to persons who have completed up to two years on their Ph.D.

There are also federal teaching fellowships designed to encourage high-quality men and women to teach in developing institutions. These pay up to $6,500, plus $400 per dependent.

Highly qualified graduate students and junior faculty members are eligible. Appointments are for a maximum of two academic years.

3 Die in Fire; Boy Charged

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say a 9-year-old boy has admitted he set fire to a three-story frame house in Brooklyn in which three persons burned to death Sunday.

The boy, whose name was not made public because of his age, was booked on a charge of juvenile delinquency. Police said he told them he set fire to the house with matches.

Firemarshals and police, who questioned 50 persons in the neighborhood, said one of them pointed out the boy who was arrested.

The fire was set in a vacant ground-floor apartment and spread quickly up through the building.

The dead were identified by police as Fred Fratz, 70, occupant of a second-floor apartment; Elizabeth McNulty, 63, and her sister, Mary Dick, 53, who shared a third-floor apartment.

Canadian Leader Is Elected to Bachelor Group

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau has been elected to membership in the Jackson Hole Bachelor Herd.

The invitation said the bachelor-statesman "should taste our most special version of the freedom enjoyed by all male animals before the female snare is sprung."

★ ★ ★

The Bachelor Herd was organized after the weekly newspaper here published a list of eligible bachelors in the area as a Leap Year service to unmarried women.

The invitation to Trudeau included an offer for a float trip down the Snake River, an elk stroganoff feast and a sample of night life in Jackson.

To extend that ground beef for hamburgers, you can add dry bread crumbs and beaten eggs plus seasonings.

Fellowship Tough Choice

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Leslie Lenkowsky, 22, a senior at Franklin & Marshall College here has decided to accept a $20,000 Danforth graduate fellowship at Harvard University, but he says it was a really tough decision.

And no wonder, to take the Harvard bid, the Norwalk, Conn., native had to turn down a handful of other scholarship offers totaling $44,600.

Satellites Spy on California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Government agencies will be spying on Southern California from planes during the next two weeks to see if satellites could do the job better.

The "remote sensing" project, borrowing techniques used by military satellites over foreign lands, is designed to survey national resources, such as land, water, minerals and people.

If it is successful, similar equipment will be installed in satellites surveying this country.

The project is conducted by the U.S. Geological Survey in cooperation with the U.S. space agency.

The planes will carry cameras with special films and filters, infrared scanners and radiometers, and radar and passive microwave sensors. The latter survey land use, soil moisture and other properties through clouds or in darkness.

Run Clean Town

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — A law officer isn't always involved with enforcing the law, as evidenced by this report made by Sgt. Neal Stanley of the sheriff's department: "A person called and reported glass on Kinsey Road at Winding Trail Drive. This unit responded with a broom and cleaned it up."

Up Thataway

PORT GIBSON, Miss. (UPI) — A unique Presbyterian Church located here since 1859 has a steeple topped by a huge metal hand with forefinger pointed toward heaven.

State Allocating 1st-Quarter Road Funds

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department reports it has started distributing first-quarter motor vehicle highway fund collections to counties, cities and villages.

Collections during the first quarter of the year totaled $110.76 million, up $10.95 million from the same period a year ago.

Under a formula set by the Legislature, the Highway Department will receive $51.28 million, the counties $37.99 million and the cities and villages $21.48 million.

The department said the collections include only two months of the penny-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax enacted last year.

The distribution is based on one month of the formula of 47 per cent to the state, 35 per cent to the counties and 18 per cent to the cities and villages. Distribution for the other two months is based on the new formula of 46, 34 and 20 per cent, respectively.

State Treasurer Allison Green reports, meanwhile, that the first quarterly distribution of the state income tax to local units of government will total $11.84 million.

The disbursement is figured at the rate of $1.52 per person, as based on the 1960 census.

HE REALLY TALKS — Irene Genova holds up the telephone receiver so Pepe, her 5-year-old, 6½-pound registered Chihuahua, can speak into it. Mrs. Genova was the first to discover that Pepe could talk. There are some doubting Thomases, however, who accuse Mrs. Genova of being a ventriloquist.

Chatty Chihuahua Shuns 'Bowwow' for 'I Love You'

By GENE HANDSAKER

This statement might arouse widespread and well-merited apathy if Pepe were a child. But he's a dog—a Chihuahua, weighing 6½ pounds.

★ ★ ★

Pepe can say things like, "Hello" and "How are you?" and appears to have either a rudimentary sense of humor or poor judgment. Otherwise he would hardly make passes at a girl beagle eight times his size, or tell a furnace repairman "I love you."

The hardened cynics say his mistress is a ventriloquist. But Pepe really can talk.

MARBLES AND MUSH

Not distinctly, you understand —strictly mouthful of marbles and mush with a lot of high-pitched whining and howling on the side.

★ ★ ★

But I heard him say, "Hullo" and "Ila"—she's the pretty lady next door — and "I love yer."

Pepe, who is tan and short-haired, was a gift to Irene Genova from her machinist husband, Jerry.

★ ★ ★

One day when Pepe was 11 months old, Mrs. Genova heard him say through the backyard chain-link fence to Cleo, the beagle next door: "I want you."

MAGAZINE ARTICLE

Later a furnace repairman was greeted by Pepe with "I love you." That led to an article in the gas company's magazine. Then came performances before asthmatic and retarded children and disabled veterans and an appearance on a recent television show.

★ ★ ★

The show brought Mrs. Genova letters from all over the country, most of them accusing her of being Pepe's sub rosa voice. Mrs. Genova indignantly denies it.

She starts Pepe talking by holding him tenderly and cooing "I love you" or "Oooooh, he's so pretty!"

ANSWERS

"Ooooh," Pepe howls, "Hullo!"

Pepe's performance for the interview wasn't up to par, Mrs. Genova said, because I had brought a tape recorder. He freezes up, she explained, ever since he heard another interviewer with a recorder play back the tape.

Ila Breedlove, the lady next door, said Pepe frequently speaks to her through the fence, calling out her first name. By phone he has said "I love you" and "Hello, how are you?" to Mrs. Genova's sister and brother in New York and a friend in Florida, Mrs. Genova said. He did not talk on the phone for me.

Syrup Output Up

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's spring maple syrup production is estimated at 72,000 gallons, 20 per cent above last year but 16 per cent below the five-year average. The State Crop Reporting Service said tapping trees began about March 10 and ended April 3, making it a short, 25-day season. Michigan rated fourth in the nation in syrup production, ranking behind New York, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Summer Rust Protection for your Tank

WITH A HEATING OIL FILL FROM STANDARD OIL

Summer is tough on oil tanks. If they sit empty, they tend to rust and corrode as moisture forms on the bottom. With your summer fill, we add our Tank Bottom Inhibitor Additive. This new chemical settles to the bottom, neutralizes moisture and prevents rust. Yet never mixes with the oil itself. Protect now, be ready for winter, and don't pay a dime until fall. Offer expires August 1st. So call Standard Oil Hot Line Heating Service now. We'll be right out.

Reuther—the Man Who Is Challenging Labor

DETROIT (AP) — There is an adage in Detroit: "Never bet against Walter."

The man is Walter P. Reuther, a red-haired, onetime high school dropout who now has 11 honorary college degrees.

★ ★ ★

As president of the United Auto Workers, with 1.6 million members, Reuther is charging what appears to be an immovable object: George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO.

Said to have ambitions to be ranked in history alongside labor heroes Samuel Gompers and John L. Lewis, Reuther calls it an effort to get the American labor movement "off dead center."

'REST HOME'

But he may have alienated many who are in a position to help him. He compared the AFL-CIO Executive Council to "a retired worker's rest home." All 29 members, like Reuther, are union presidents.

The split comes 12½ years after Meany and Reuther welded competing organizations into what they dubbed the "House of Labor."

★ ★ ★

The organizations were Meany's craft-oriented American Federation of Labor (AFL), and Reuther's Congress of Industrial Organizations (CIO), in which unions were organized industry-wide.

Reuther nominated Meany, who was elected AFL-CIO president, and Reuther was elected vice president. Some said this indicated Reuther was heir apparent.

LABOR HARMONY

While Meany, a plumber by trade, and Reuther, a tool and die maker, often didn't see eye to eye, the two largely concealed their differences, in the interest of labor harmony, with showdowns generally confined to the executive council. The 73-year-old Meany repeatedly was the victor.

Then, in 1966, Reuther went on the warpath.

★ ★ ★

A sharp negotiator, Reuther is credited with an uncanny knack of knowing when to give or take or compromise at the bargaining table, and at times he has referred to Meany as a man "who never negotiated a contract and never walked a picket line."

WALTER REUTHER

Reuther has proposed organization of so-called community unions, such as that in the Watts district of Los Angeles, to exert political pressures for community improvements and a stronger voice in decision-making.

PRODDED AFL-CIO

He has prodded the AFL-CIO to strive harder to organize the unorganized, particularly among migrant farm and white-collar workers.

He once proposed a five-year, $60-million AFL-CIO campaign, with affiliates contributing $1 a year for each member to set up a common defense fund to help struggling unions as well as organize.

★ ★ ★

The UAW has been a major financial supporter of attempts to organize migrant workers in California and the Southwest, and some in the UAW claim Meany killed off an AFL-CIO Agricultural Workers Organizing Committee on grounds the return in dues would not be worth the organizing costs.

He accused Meany of being dictatorial, ignoring the AFL-CIO constitution and permitting the labor movement to "vegetate."

CONTRADICTIONS?

Referring to "some loudmouthed critics on our own side who say we are not doing too well," Meany said Reuther's charges were contradicted by the AFL-CIO record.

The UAW withheld its per capita dues, which total about $1 million per year, for three months. The AFL-CIO constitution provides suspension of any affiliate 90 days in arrears. The union was suspended last Thursday.

The UAW held up dues payments after demanding that the AFL-CIO convene a special convention "without any strings attached" for a Reuther-Meany showdown before rank-and-file delegates from the federation's 126 affiliates which have 14 million members.

If the AFL-CIO did not agree to the demand, Reuther said, the UAW would "automatically disaffiliate" Dec. 15 and "use that money as a kitty to launch the labor movement on the offensive."

COMPETITION

What other steps the 60-year-old Reuther will take in coming months remains to be seen, but they are likely to be innovative and unanticipated — the kind of actions that help him win at the bargaining table with tycoons of industry and in the factional brawling that led him to the top of the UAW.

Fired 35 years ago from a job in a Ford Motor Co. factory, because of union activity, now he usually is on a first-name basis with the occupant of the White House. His salary, with a $1,840 raise June 1, will be $31,590 a year.

A firebrand on the speaker's podium, where he often diminished his effectiveness with speeches of 1½ hours, Reuther privately is shy, secretive and evasive, particularly in rare private interviews with newsmen.

COLD LOGIC

One reporter complained: "You ask Walter the time of day and he tells you how to make a watch."

But it is clear that cold logic, planning and persistence characterize his every move.

No scandal has marred his 22-year stewardship.

Reuther was elected without opposition to a 12th consecutive two-year term as UAW president earlier this month by 3,000 delegates from a membership for which he has pioneered many economic and fringe benefit gains.

GAINS LISTED

Among those gains: a guaranteed annual income, supplemental unemployment benefits, pensions that give some workers as much as $400 a month at age 60. The UAW struck Chrysler Corp. for 104 days in 1950 to win the funded pension — which continues even if the company collapses.

Despite his string of victories, each biennial convention draws a vocal anti-Reuther contingent, but Reuther holds the respect, if not the love, of a vast majority of his membership and has consistently overwhelmed the opposition.

With 18 regional directors and scores of international representatives tending political fences among the rank and file, the so-called Reuther Caucus is a smooth-working machine.

At his 1968 convention be bucked at a proposal that union officers be elected by unionwide referendum, instead of by convention delegates. The delegates sided with him and buried the proposal.

QUIT SCHOOL

A native of Wheeling, W. Va., Reuther quit high school at 15 to seek work. In 1926 he migrated to Detroit, wangled a job at Ford, and at night he completed his education.

Fired from Ford in 1933, Reuther and his brother, Victor, with several hundred dollars in savings, struck out for Europe and moved on to Russia, where they remained for 18 months.

★ ★ ★

They finally ended up broke in Tokyo and worked their way home on a Dollar Line steamship. Reuther returned to Detroit and plunged into organizing workers in the then fledgling UAW.

Reuther was active in the 1936-37 sit-down strikes in Detroit and Flint. They finally brought recognition of the UAW as the bargaining agent for General Motors Corp. workers.

SEVERELY BEATEN

He and other unionists were severely beaten in 1937 at Ford's giant Rouge plant in suburban Dearborn, and in 1941 Henry Ford finally capitulated and recognized the UAW.

The blast of an assassin's shotgun crippled his right arm and almost killed Reuther on April 20, 1948. An attempt to take him for a gangland "ride" in 1938 was frustrated. Despite offers of huge rewards, no one ever was convicted in either attempt on his life.

Under the current constitution he must retire in a bit over four years—at age 65.

He has picked and backed the election of the 25 members who serve with him on the UAW executive board. One is a Negro; another is a woman.

SPECULATION

From this group likely will come his successor, particularly the one who gets Reuther's blessing.

Most speculation now centers on Douglas Fraser, 52, Chrysler Department director and codirector with Reuther of the Skilled Trades Department, and Leonard Woodcock, 57, one of the UAW's two vice presidents and chief of its General Motors Department.

★ ★ ★

The board member who gets Reuther's approval, most observers say, will be the one who, in Reuther's eyes, most resembles the current UAW president in philosophy and aims.

Reuther has been telling for 20 years a story which at least partially explains his.

ANECDOTE

When he was die-making, a worker he relieved asked every afternoon how the baseball game came out.

"I always had to tell him I'd forgotten to find out," Reuther recalls. "Finally the man burst out, 'you're the dumbest man I ever met'."

"Who," Reuther says he responded, "is your congressman?"

The worker said he didn't know. "And so I told him, 'then you're the dumbest man I ever knew'," Reuther recalls.

★ ★ ★

A dozen years later Reuther was inspecting a picket line, came upon the same man and was shown a bump the size of a goose egg on his head.

"He wanted me to feel sorry for him." Reuther said, "but I had to tell him I couldn't. I told him: 'If you'd known back then who your congressman was, you wouldn't have that bump on your head'."

Honors Planned for Movie Extras

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some of the world's least-known actors and actresses will be accorded their moment of glory tonight.

★ ★ ★

They are screen extras. In what the Screen Extras Guild calls the First Annual Screen Extra Awards, 12 extras will receive special statuettes for "distinguished performances" at a black-tie dinner at a Hollywood restaurant.

The winners will be picked for distinguished performances in a crowd, as a gambler, in a moving vehicle, with or on an animal, at a cocktail party, in a riot, in a Roman—or Greek—arena, and so on.

McCarthy in Need of Big Comeback to Stay 'on Stage'

By United Press International

Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy now resembles a spent meteor who flashed across the sky in March before his flare was dimmed by primary defeats in Indiana and Nebraska.

His scorn for the conventional rules of politics may have looked good when he was winning. But now he needs an impressive comeback in Oregon and California to avoid moving offstage or accepting a mere secondary role at the Democratic national convention.

McCarthy, who drastically reshaped the national political outlook by his early challenge to the renomination of President Johnson, speaks of winning several primaries. His actual competitive record reads this way:

A real victory over Johnson in Wisconsin but two days after the President announced he would not accept renomination.

Second place behind Kennedy in Nebraska.

McCarthy was the only name on the ballot in Massachusetts, where the delegates are bound for the first ballot, and in Pennsylvania, where delegates are not necessarily bound by the primary voting.

CONTESTS AHEAD

Still ahead are contests with Kennedy in Oregon May 28 and in California and South Dakota June 4 and with Sen. George Smathers, a favorite son, in the Florida primary May 28. The big prize is the 172-vote California delegation bound to the primary winner.

McCarthy was helped in his effort to run a poor man's campaign, at least relatively, by the recruitment of an army of student helpers in all of the primary states.

Kennedy has borrowed this technique, but he also has much more money available and an experienced campaign team which was assembled soon after his belated entry into the run for the presidential nomination.

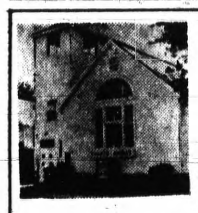

That team knows how to identify his supporters and to get them to the polling places when it is time to vote.

From the beginning, McCarthy has ridiculed the old-fashioned practices of setting up sub-agencies to go after bloc votes. He has said those practices were out of date and bad politics anyway.

★ ★ ★

He has taunted Kennedy about setting up committees to work with economic, racial and nationality groups. He once asked why a candidate with an Irish-American name like Kennedy needed an Irish-American committee to solicit votes in that community.

With an Irish-American named McCarthy as one of his rivals, Kennedy may feel a competitive effort is necessary among Irish-Americans. Whatever techniques he uses, they have helped Kennedy run ahead of McCarthy in their first two contests.

Oswald: "In the Jacoby method, the two club response to one no-trump is Stayman and covers many major suit holdings and the strong hand with one major suit.

JACOBY

"The two diamond response is a transfer to hearts; the two heart response a transfer to spades; the two spade response a special bid to show both minor suits; three heart and three spade responses are certain strong major suit hands, while three diamonds and three clubs cover hands such as today's North holding."

★ ★ ★

Jim: "North has six high card points and a reasonably good six card diamond suit. He wants to be in three no-trump if his partner holds good diamonds and a good no-trump. Otherwise he wants to play the hand for a diamond part score. His three diamond bid shows this exactly."

Oswald: "South has only 16 points but he has good diamonds, and the other three aces. He is delighted to try for three no-trump."

Jim: "The combination of the spade lead and the good diamond break allows South to make an overtrick at three no-trump. He simply wins the first spade, runs six diamonds and leads a spade from dummy to establish the 10 of spades as a 10th trick."

Oswald: "If North had a poorer hand with six diamonds he would have passed one no-trump and only gone to diamonds if his partner were doubled. With a slightly better hand, such as six diamonds headed by ace-queen-jack North would have bid three no-trump, after the no-trump opening."

Jim: "Finally, if North held a really strong hand with one minor suit he would respond two clubs (Stayman) and follow up by bidding his minor suit."

Oswald: "This bid would alert partner that there might be a slam. Whether the slam is bid would depend on both hands."

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Tuesday

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Lunar cycle is high, meaning you can safely embark upon new project. Your judgment apt to be excellent. Circumstances turn in your favor. Your timing is good. Make that contact today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Some people want you to arrive at quick decision, but you are wise to hesitate. Much is happening behind the scenes — wait until the picture is crystal clear. Don't panic.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Friends may be enthusiastic, but where responsibility is concerned you must act in independent manner. Don't attempt to please everyone. Stick to the facts; fulfill commitments.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): There are some blocks, obstacles, but those in authority are on your side. Know this — act with confidence. Finish project. Let people know you are not a novice. Exude confidence.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Good lunar aspect promotes connection with those at a distance. Day especially favorable for writing, publishing, advertising. Don't be limited in outlook. Gain shown — get ready.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Look in hidden crevices. Much that is obscured can aid you if brought to light. Cycle today is one which demands that you probe, investigate. Money question is settled if you demand facts.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Accept on public relations, how you respond to humor. Avoid extremes. Don't commit criticism. Key is to employ sense of humor. Avoid extremes. Don't commit yourself to one course. You learn, evaluate. Hold off.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Work neglected today demands its proper attention. You may have to go back, check details. Relative on the move calls upon you, communicates. Don't be dissuaded from central project. Use will power.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Change, travel, variety, your ability to express yourself are emphasized. If single, you may have to make decision about engagement, marriage. If married, question of children arises.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Accent on how you handle practical situations. Real estate, property matters are spotlighted. What happens at home is of utmost importance. Take nothing for granted. Check — double check.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Accent on journeys, messages and relations with neighbors. Key is to see persons, situations in realistic light. Not wise to feel others necessarily think as you do. Investigate.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): What you gain depends upon amount of research, preparation on your part. People in position to grant reward want results. Know this — act accordingly. Seriousness of purpose is weighed.

★ ★ ★

IF TUESDAY IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you are versatile, artistic, fond of travel. You are now due for change, intensified relationships, which if single, could lead to marriage.

Junior Editors Quiz on HORSEPOWER

ANSWER: It certainly is not figured in the ludicrous way our artist has suggested in his first drawing; this is not to be taken seriously.

Horsepower measures how much power an engine may have. It is figured on a standard worked out in the 1700s by James Watt, inventor of the modern steam engine. Watt wanted some way of measuring how much work an engine or animal could do. He experimented with strong dray horses.

If one pound of weight could be raised one foot in one minute, this was to be called one foot pound. A powerful horse, Watt found, could lift 33,000 foot pounds in one minute. Watt called the force exerted by the horse to do this one horsepower.

Such horsepower ratings are still used for engines today. One way to figure them for gasoline engines is to multiply pressure on the piston by area of piston, the length of strokes in feet and the number of strokes per minute. This will give number of foot-pounds per minute. Dividing this by 33,000 gives the engine's horsepower.

Life in Old Castle Means Snowball for Queen

LONDON (UPI) — One of the drawbacks of living in an ancestral castle is that the place is usually so big that if you put something down somewhere you might not run across it again for a year or so.

★ ★ ★

Another is that you are liable to owe the sovereign — in this case Queen Elizabeth — a feudal duty such as presenting her with a snowball when she calls. And what do you do if she calls in midsummer?

★ ★ ★

The Duke of Argyll mentions these admittedly minor snags to the formidable prestige of his many honors (from chief of the Clan Campbell to Keeper of the Great Seal of Scotland) in a new book about Britain's still fluorishing upper class, "The Aristocrats" (Weidenfeld and Nicholson).

★ ★ ★

Thirty years ago the Duke had 16 maids and six manservants to help look after his seat, Inveraray Castle. Now he and his American duchess (the former Mathilda Mortimer of Litchfield, Conn.) make do with a temporary butler, a cook and a daily cleaning woman.

96,000 ACRES

Argyll's domain has 96,000 acres, his castle has 84 rooms.

"If you absent-mindedly put a book down just anywhere it simply disappears," he said. "You can spend 18 months looking for it. Really, it's happened. The amount of time we spend looking for things is quite unbelievable."

★ ★ ★

As hereditary sheriff if Argyllshire, the Duke said, his duties include greeting the Queen with a rose and a handful of snow taken from the top of Cruachan, a hill that is also the war cry of the Campbells.

★ ★ ★

"On the last visit we couldn't manage the snow," he said.

HEALTHY STATE

Author Roy Perrott spent a year investigating the aristocracy and found that despite frequent obituary notices the peerage and the landed gentry (usually aristocrats without titles) are both in a remarkably healthy state and the honor of a title is still eagerly sought by Britons.

"I am assured by a good source," he wrote, "the applications for a peerage normally amount to 10 times the number that the honors list can sensibly contain in any one year . . .

★ ★ ★

"The reference books on the British peerage are still the biggest and heaviest in the honor-giving world.

★ ★ ★

Burke's Peerage lists about 1,000 nobles of various degrees; Burke's also lists 4,500 people who, by reason of pedigree or other qualities, can be counted as landed gentry and another 1,480 or so have the hereditary title of baronet."

★ ★ ★

The Labor Government announced in 1965 that it would award no more hereditary peerages but this may be reversed if the Conservative party comes to power again.

The world's largest wood building is located at Nara, Japan. It is known as the Daibutsuden of the Todaiji Temple.

Living Room Decor Is In for a Brushing

By JOY STILLEY

It may not be the answer to all our decorating problems, but it has certainly solved our toothbrushing problems.

★ ★ ★

Though a bit out of place among the lamps, ashtrays and potted plants with which it shares display space, it came to its final resting place by the process of elimination.

My husband purchased this automatic tooth cleaner as a surprise—which I feared might give me something of a shock—for my birthday. I am dubious about the wisdom of mixing electricity, water and toothpaste, but this time the lazy side of my nature won out over the cautious side.

NO DANGER

Actually, I was in no great danger of getting electrocuted while the busy bristles were swishing up and down at the rate of 11,000 stokes per minute. It turned out that there's no electric cord attached to the power handle which holds the toothbrushes. It operates on rechargeable batteries and the electricity all goes into the recharger base, where the handle rests to revitalize itself when it's not in use.

However, there was one drawback to this mechanical marvel, we discovered on reading the ground rules: it had to be plugged in to a "live" electric outlet in order to keep its muscle power in working order.

The outlet in our bathroom is on the same switch as that room's electric light. To maintain the toothbrush in operating condition, the bathroom light would have to remain on 24 hours a day. Not only would that be a little too much brightness in our lives, but while the toothbrush was charging, the electric company would be charging too.

★ ★ ★

The dental delight had to be plugged in somewhere—but where? The kitchen, too far afield to make it a practical base, was vetoed. The bedrooms were similarly bypassed. Obviously the living room, with its multitude of live outlets and its proximity to the scene of dental action, was the only possible answer.

★ ★ ★

Shipping Into N. Vietnam Down Since Bombing Ban

Johnson on March 31 exempted from U.S. bombing most of North Vietnam's territory, including the main port area of Haiphong and lesser ports of Cam Pha and Hon Gai. Some authorities expected shipping traffic to North Vietnam to increase as a result.

They felt North Vietnam's freedom to move supplies away over repaired roads, bridges and ferries without fear of U.S. air attack would have eased serious congestion of the ports.

REPORTS DISPUTED

But authorities with access to reconnaissance photographs and other intelligence information disputed reports that the shipping flow to North Vietnam was blossoming.

In addition to reporting the decrease in ship arrivals, they said there has been no significant rise in the number of vessels bound for North Vietnam. The United States has means of monitoring shipping from Vladiovostok, Hong Kong, through the Dardenelles and other places traveled by North Vietnam-bound vessels.

★ ★ ★

The April figures show the number of Soviet ships arriving in North Vietnam totaled 18 compared with 20 in March; Red Chinese ships 7 in April compared with 8 in March, and a single Eastern European Communist ship compared with 3 the previous month.

Non-Communist shipping, mostly bearing British flags out of Hong Kong, went up from 12 vessels in March to 13 in April.

PORT CAPACITY

U.S. officials whose job is watching the flow of shipping to North Vietnam speculate one reason the traffic hasn't increased is that the Haiphong port, in particular, is operating at maximum capacity. They say dredging apparently has not yet cleared away enough silt to permit a larger number of seagoing ships into the harbor.

The Communists turned to smaller vessels earlier this year because silt was choking channels and waterways leading into the country's biggest port.

During the time when American bombers ranged virtually all over North Vietnam, Hanoi maritime authorities undertook only limited dredging of Haiphong harbor approaches.

Since the bombing restrictions went into effect, some renewed dredging activity has been reported but its effects may not be significant for some time. The Soviet press reported in April that some 50 cranes were in simultaneous operation unloading as many as 10 to 12 ships a day.

AID INCREASE

The Soviets have announced plans to increase their aid to North Vietnam by some 20 per cent in 1968. It totaled about $750 million last year.

But so far, U.S. officials said, they have not detected any significant increase in Soviet aid to match Moscow's announced intentions.

As much as 80 per cent of Soviet supplies reach North Vietnam by sea, with the chief commodities being wheat flour, petroleum products, fertilizer, trucks and machinery.

U.S. officials claim there have been no seaborne deliveries of major weapons such as surface-to-air missiles or MIG jet fighters.

Robber Punctual

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Samuel Linder, owner of a pharmacy in St. Louis' West End, has asked police to keep an eye on the store at about 1:30 p.m. each day. That's the time a young robber has held up Linder three times within 10 days. Linder said the youth took $120 at knifepoint in the latest holdup Saturday.

25 Teens Felled by Drugs at Rock Show

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI) — The rock band was gushing out its message to the 15,000 youngsters in the audience Saturday, popping hundreds of small orange capsules into outstretched hands. The band resumed its tempo and the "hogs" drifted away.

A few minutes later, a teenage boy began vomiting, another doubled over with cramps, a third passed out. Others tumbled over like bowling pins.

★ ★ ★

"They're dropping like flies," a Santa Clara sheriff's deputy said. Ambulances roared to the county fairgrounds. Twenty-five youngsters were given emergency treatment for violent nausea, vomiting and blurred vision.

A spokesman at the hospital, where the victims were treated and later released, said the pills apparently contained amphetamines.

No Experience ---but Altar Boy Does the Job

FOREST CITY, Iowa (AP) — The Rev. E. W. Lechtenberg of St. James Catholic Church needed an altar boy to participate in a wedding.

He saw a youth sitting on the back steps of the church and pressed him for the 45-minute marriage ceremony of Nancy Anderson and Charles Garcia.

★ ★ ★

After the ceremony the priest asked the boy his name.

"I'm Danny Gangstead," the youngster said. "My father is pastor of the Lutheran church across the street."

Trade Is Active

Further Weakness in Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market weakened further early Monday afternoon as gold-mining stocks rallied again on news of climbing prices for gold bullion in the free market. Trading was active.

Losses outnumbered gains by some 300 issues on the New York Stock Exchange, greatly widening the margin inthe morning.

The rise in the price of gold to more than $42 an ounce aroused fears of another world monetary crisis, possibly leading to further devaluation of the British pound and a weakening of the dollar in foreign exchange.

★ ★ ★

Although the ticker tape was late briefly at the start, the pace of trading simmered down to a bit below Friday's when there was a turnover of 11.81 million shares.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .7 at 327.4, with industrials off .23, rails up .3 and utilities off .1.

★ ★ ★

Prices were irregularly lower on the American Stock Exchange. Cubic Corp. gained 1 and Computer Sciences nearly 2. Reliance Insurance dropped more than a point and Solitron Devices a point. Fractional losses were taken by Airlift International, Commonwealth United, Asamera Oil and Signal Oil & Gas.

Cyclist Loses Leg in Mishap

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said Ross was riding south on Benstein near West Maple about 12:20 a.m. when his motorcycle collided with a car driven by Bert M. Young, 32, of 901 Benstein.

Young was turning into the driveway of his home when the mishap occurred, deputies said.

Kmart Fire Believed Set by Arsonist

Pontiac fire department officials said today they believe a fire early yesterday in a storage area of the Kmart shopping plaza, 7 S. Glenwood, was the work of an arsonist.

The blaze, which caused $5,000 to a building fromerly used as a maintainance garage, was discovered about 4:40 a.m.

Five fire trucks, under the command of Assistant Chief Lee Nye, were at the scene more than 90 minutes.

Nye said a rear overhead door on the corner of the building was open and appeared to have been forced. The fire was started in that area, he said.

★ ★ ★

City police and the fire marshal's office will continue the investigation, according to officials.

Conservatives to Hear Hanger

Pontiac Police Chief William K. Hanger will be the guest speaker tomorrow at the 8 p.m. meeting of the Oakland County Conservative Club at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 30755 Southfield, just south of 13 Mile.

A 21-year veteran of the department and police chief since October 1963, Hanger will discuss "Civil Disobedience in America; its Causes, Effects and Prevention."

Board Inspects Dropout Center

Expanded Facility Named for Chairman

New quarters for the high school dropout program at Camp Oakland, Oxford Township, were inspected by the camp's board of directors at yesterday's spring meeting.

It was announced the expanded facility will be named the C. B. DeVleig Work Education Center in honor of the chairman of the board of DeVleig Machine Co., Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

DeVleig, one of the camp's directors, has contributed substantially to the programs for wards of the County Probate Court as has his employes.

Judge Arthur E. Moore, chairman of the camp's board of directors, also announced the naming of the new dining hall, Kresge Hall, in honor of Stanley S. Kresge and the Kresge Foundation — a large contributor.

SERVICE AWARDS

Judge Moore presented an award for outstanding service to two camp employes. They were Mrs. Mary Clement, a cook, and Gale Shafer, vocational training teacher.

Named to fill vacancies on the board of directors were Amos F. Gregory of 1216 Dorchester, Bloomfield Township, and Daniel E. Allen of Sam Allen & Co., 500 Collier, Pontiac.

Jordan, Israel Exchange Fire

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Jordanian and Israeli forces exchanged fire twice across the River Jordan today, a Jordanian military spokesman said.

He claimed the Israelis were first to open medium machine-gun fire in the direction of Jordan forces at Manshia, in the northern Jordan Valley. The Jordanians returned the fire, which continued sporadically for 25 minutes, the spokesman said.

He added that three hours later the Israelis opened sporadic fire on Jordanian farmers five miles north of Damieh Bridge. The Jordanians returned the fire, which finally ceased on both sides 27 minutes later.

Neither the Jordanian forces nor the farmers suffered any casualties, he said.

Three Bodies Taken From Japanese Ship

KOCHI, Japan (AP) —Rescue workers recovered three bodies today from a Japanese tanker which capsized in rough seas off this southern Japanese city on Shikoku.

Rescuers earlier cut a hole into the hull of the No. 16 Hozan Maru and rescued one of five crewmen trapped in the 230-ton vessel for 30 hours. Officials said a giant crane vessel lifted the stern of the tanker out of the water and the hole was cut through the exposed hull.

Officials said divers receovered the three bodies from inside the ship. The fifth crewman was missing and believed washed out to the sea, they added.

Lobsters Planted in Pacific Waters

USELESS BAY, B.C. (AP) — About 4,000 East Coast lobsters have been transplanted in the Pacific waters of Fatty Basin at the head of Useless inlet—and the wild predators couldn't be happier.

★ ★ ★

Biologists at the Canadian government's Vancouver Island lobster experimental station say the experiment to see if East Coast lobsters can be raised on the West Coast is going well so far.

But the final answer isn't expected for up to 10 years.

Trip Cut Short

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Gov. and Mrs. David F. Cargo returned to New Mexico one day early from a Hawaiian vacation and last week's Western Governors Conference in Honolulu. Mrs. Cargo has the mumps.

Royal Box Gets With Times Playing a Sound-Soul Act

By EARL WILSON

How many times have you heard it? (Baby?)

Perhaps believing the warning to be true, the Hotel Americana Royal Box is headlining "the 5th Dimension," five talented Negro boys and girls from St. Louis and California, in a soul-sound session which may make musical history because it's so advanced that many of its fans can't understand it.

WILSON

"No, I can't understand all their lyrics," one adult said to me, "but it doesn't matter because I like them, and if I understood all the lyrics, I might not like them."

It's prom time and these youngsters (noted for "Up, Up and Away") may dictate the bookings of tomorrow . . . Personally, I also got a thrill from Davis & Reese, the comics . . . Sample Ecumenical gag: "Isn't it wonderful? The Pope says the Catholics can eat meat on Fridays!" . . . Jewish boy: "Yeah! Next year he's going to work on pork for our side."

Bennett Cerf's writing his "Treasury of Atrocious Puns." One is about a fellow composer finding Beethoven lying in a coffin. Asked what he was doing there, Beethoven replied, "I'm decomposing."

Brigitte Bardot will appear on U.S. TV in the fall in a Burlington Mills special agented here by Guy de La Passardiere and Gabriel Desdotis. BB will be 34 in September, and though there was opposition in America to show anything French, the conclusion was that America wanted it, so "She's bigger than France and bigger than de Gaulle."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Sally Kirkland, whose mother is a fashion editor at Life, is one of the nudes in the off B'way show "Tom Paine" . . . Tammy Grimes' recent escort at Arthur was ex-husband Jeremy Slate . . . Actor Rene Santoni (of "Anzio" and "Enter Laughing") will wed actress Lisa James, in Gibraltar; they'll wear matching white meditation suits.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Free love among college kids isn't really free. It's just that the parents are picking up all the expenses.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "It is far better to get ahead than to get even."

EARL'S PEARLS: Nowadays a successful farmer is one who holds the summer stock company an extra week in his barn.

Those student riots are spreading. A guy says his son is a correspondence school student — and staged a sit-in in a post office. That's earl, brother.

OCC Reveals Finance Head Leaving Post

Oakland Community College officially announced today that its director of finance will be leaving for another job next month.

HELLAND

★ ★ ★

The Pontiac Press learned earlier this month when President Dr. John E. Tirrell announced his resignation that Helland would be leaving.

Helland, 40, of 457 W. Iroquois, came to OCC in 1965 as an accounting instructor. He was appointed director of finance a year later.

★ ★ ★

Helland became the first pastor of the new Mt. Hope Lutheran Church, 539 W. Walton, in 1964.

OCC Trustees Set to Ask Addition of Area to District

Oakland Community College trustees are expected to approve tomorrow a resolution advocating that a portion of the City of Troy be placed in the OCC district.

The two-square mile area in the southeast corner of Troy is in Warren Consolidated School District but is not part of any community college district. Residents would have to vote on the annexation.

★ ★ ★

The meeting is the board of trustees' regular monthly which was postponed from last Thursday because Executive Vice President Dr. Ervin L. Harlacher was out of town.

The meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in the George A. Bee Executive Office, 2480 Opdyke, Bloomfield Hills.

Health Is Topic

Health officials from more than 26 Michigan colleges and universities will examine many aspects of student health programs Thursday and Friday at Oakland University.

About 80 doctors, nurses and others in health-related campus posts are expected to attend the programs as part of the 31st annual meeting of the Michigan College Health Association. The host will be Dr. Arthur R. Young of Pontiac, director of health service at Oakland.

Plane Death Ruled Suicide

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The death of a student training to become a commercial pilot was declared a suicide Sunday after he radioed "I'm gonna crash this plane" and sent the light aircraft in a dive to the ground.

Justice of the Peace Charles Luke made the ruling after listening to a tape recording of pilot James Boyer's conversation with the Daytona Beach Airport. Boyer, 24, was from Inkster, Mich., a Detroit suburb.

★ ★ ★

"He said he'd been having trouble with his wife. Apparently he'd been brooding over this," the justice of the peace said.

The justice of the peace said Boyer broke into a hangar, took the keys to the $6,000 Cessna 150—a plane in which Boyer had trained and took the craft from the parking strip.

★ ★ ★

The crash occurred about 1 a.m. Sunday in a wooded area west of the city airport.

'Laugh-In' Socks It to 'em . . .

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — It was "sock it to me" time at the Television Academy as three Emmy awards were given to the raucous "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-in."

The NBC show, a mad rocket-gun combination of outrageous gags and blackouts, won the award as best musical or variety series, and special. Laugh-in was presented as a special before taking to the air as a series in midseason.

The show's platoon of writers won Emmies for best variety writing.

★ ★ ★

In the other major categories, the awards Sunday night had the look of a rerun. Repeat winners included: Lucille Ball, best actress-star in a comedy series; Don Adams of "Get Smart," best actor-star in a comedy series; Barbara Bain of "Mission: Impossible," best actress-star in a dramatic series; Bill Cosby of "I Spy," best actor-star in a dramatic series; "Mission: Impossible," outstanding dramatic series.

OTHER AWARDS

Other awards went to Maureen Stapleton, best actress in a single dramatic role, for "Among the Paths to Eden"; Melvyn Douglas, best actor in a single dramatic role, for "Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night"; best single dramatic program, "Elizabeth the Queen," Hallmark Hall of Fame; best comedy series, "Get Smart"; best supporting actress in a drama, Barbara Anderson, "Ironside"; best supporting actor in a comedy, Werner Klemperer, "Hogan's Heroes"; outstanding writing in drama, Loring Mandel, "Do Not Go Gentle Into That Good Night."

★ ★ ★

Two of the supporting Emmies brought a sentimental reaction. The award for best supporting actress in a comedy went to Marion Lorne, the flutter witch of "Bewitched." She died two weeks ago at age 82.

Elizabeth Montgomery, star of "Bewitched," accepted the award for Miss Lorne and said, "We owe her a big thanks for all the happiness she brought us."

HEAVY APPLAUSE

Milburn Stone, the "Doc" of the long-running "Gunsmoke," won heavy applause as best supporting actor in a drama.

Two second bananas who approach starring status were cited for "outstanding individual achievement": Art Carney of "The Jackie Gleason Show" and Pat Paulsen of "The Smothers Brothers Comedy Hour."

Other awards included: included:

Daytime programming achievement, "Today"; sports programming achievement, "ABC's Wide World of Sports" and "Jim McKay"; dramatic direction achievement, Paul Bogart, "Dear Friends"; comedy direction, Bruce Bilson, "Get Smart"; music-variety direction, Jack Haley Jr., "Movin' With Nancy"; comedy writing, Allan Burns and Chris Hayward, "He and She."

...but Show Was a Mess

By DICK du BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The annual silliness known as the Emmy Awards turned up on NBC-TV last night, and only Frank Sinatra and master insult comedian Don Rickles saved it from being a disaster beyond belief.

It was pretty much an all-out disaster anyway, with an unbelieveable succession of technical foul-ups, dull presentations and the usual overabundance and jumbled categories of the yearly television awards combining for a thumbs-down evening.

Well, one has come to expect the Emmy ceremony to be an annual coast-to-coast folly because of its absurd awards structure and endless ego-soothing nominations. But nobody likes to see an individual embarrassed in front of an entire nation, yet poor Dick Van Dyke took it on the chin yesterday.

Van Dyke and Sinatra were cohosts of the awards. In Hollywood, Sinatra was a delight—starting with a song among the diners to get the show off winging, then delivering a strong monologue, and after that being a most gracious host, lose and swinging and bubbly as champagne.

PERSONAL TOUCH

In the deadline press room at the awards here, some of the boys were saying how good Sinatra's material was. And it was good, yet when I read it afterwards, it wasn't nearly as funny on paper, and you realized how much he brought to it.

Van Dyke, on the other hand, was sabotaged. His material, as he did the hosting chores in New York, was plainly awful.

Furthermore, there were so many incredible foul-ups in the cues and other technical areas in New York that he seemed at wit's end just doing his introductions. But he also didn't do himself any good by laughing at his lines, and his situation, when nobody else was. It was a very unsettling experience.

The New York end, despite getting some key awards, looked in fact like a shambles, partly because of the foul-ups but also, it seemed, because the tone of the proceedings there appeared old, tired, pompous, confused and joyless.

NOTHINGNESS

After Sinatra's sock opening, the show drifted into nothingness until Rickles' humor brought it to life near the end. As usual, many fine programs were overlooked in the awards, and many poor ones were rewarded. From time to time, there were moments of pleasure, such as the comedy remarks of Pat Paulsen and the incisive acceptance speeches of Bill Cosby and Melvyn Douglas.

But it was Rickles, a comedian with an instinct for attacking the jugular, who put the whole Emmy system into its proper perspective, and in its place.

★ ★ ★

He was up there, with Sally Field, to present awards for writing achievements in music or variety shows.

In this category, there are endless lists of names of writers for specific shows. Finally, his instinct for the truth shot through with an illuminating flash:

FED UP

"I'm fed up with all these guys," he cracked, and the place broke up. Everybody knew he had hit at the heart of the matter as only a fine humorist can.

His other gags had been perfect too in the insult vein. Then as Miss Field opened the envelope with the winning names, she said: "And the winner, is — are . . ." And Sickles said, "Who cares?" And the place broke up again.

Finally, Sinatra invited him over, and Rickles razzed the commanding host with insouciance too. It was a night of personal triumph for both of them.

Oh yes — when the writers finally made their way to the stage to accept their prizes, it looked like an invasion, and after a bit of pandemonium, orchestrated by Rickles, he gently helped the last acceptor off with a slight push which spoke volumes.

★ ★ ★

"Rowan and Martin's laugh-in," by the way, did excetionally well in the awards. Alas, however, the series' great star, Tiny Tim, was not present. He went to the Dodgers' double header yesterday, however, and the Dodgers lost both games.

Actor, Kin Face Drug Charges

AGOURA, Calif. (AP) — British actor Terence Stamp and his younger brother Christopher are free on $1,250 bail each after being arrested on charges of marijuana possession in this Los Angeles suburb.

Terence, 29, and Christopher, 25, will be arraigned Thursday in Malibu Justice Court. Harry Weiss, attorney for the blond actor, said his client "denied everything."

Sheriff's deputies R. J. Hickman and William Lewis said they became suspicious when they smelled the "strong odor of burning marijuana" while their car and an auto the Stamps were using stood side by side at a stop sign Saturday night.

They said Christopher Stamp dropped a lighted, half-smoked cigarette as he stepped from the car and that they found two marijuana cigarettes and a half-ounce vial of marijuana in the vehicle.

Stratascope Awaits 2nd Balloon Flight

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) — Six tons of photographic equipment, carried aloft by a huge balloon, were prepared for shipment today to Norwich, Conn., where it will be reassembled for another flight.

★ ★ ★

The Scientific Balloon Flight Station at Palestine, Tex., said a stratascope carried by the balloon made 100 negatives at 80,000 feet, presumably of the planets Jupiter and Uranus. Results of the photography will be known in about a week.

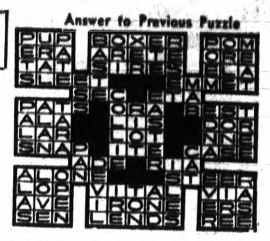

A spokesman said it was the first balloon mission for the stratascope.

Court Bill Is Back in House

LANSING (AP) — Before legislators wrap things up and go home next week as planned, they face another round of controversy over the complex issue of lower court reorganization.

Few of them are looking forward to it.

The issue is now back before the House, which fought over the complicated court bill for several weeks last winter and again earlier this year before finally putting together on paper an elaborate new judicial system.

Last week, the Senate took the House-passed system apart and approved a drastically different setup of its own, expecting that a conference committee, made up of House and Senate members, would negotiate a compromise.

But the two chambers would be starting their negotiations from positions far apart. Time, meanwhile, is running out, since lawmakers are anxious to wind up the session this month.

The push for a new system of lower courts, with jurisdiction over matters beneath the notice of the circuit bench, comes from the State Constitution, which does away with the offices of justice of the peace and circuit court commissioner at the end of 1968.

To fulfill the judicial tasks now performed by them, the Constitution directs the Legislature to "establish a court or courts of limited jurisdiction with powers and jurisdiction defined by law."

But that's been tougher than it sounds. Fights over how to distribute new judges around the state, how much to pay them, how many to have, who is to pay the costs of the new courts and who is going to receive their revenues have tangled the House twice and the Senate once.

SCRAPPED

The House defeated a court bill — which requires two-thirds legislative majorities — in last year's special legislatve session, but passed a different version this year. The Senate scrapped it.

Senators replaced the 24-page House bill — which went beyond the Constitution to also abolish and replace municipal and police courts — with an eight-page substitute expanding the duties of existing municipal and probate judges.

★ ★ ★

"I don't see the votes in the Senate for a detailed district court bill at this time," says Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, Senate Judiciary Committee chairman.

That could mean the House would be forced to choose between passing a "skeleton bill" — the Senate substitute or something equally simple or passing no bill at all, at least for the moment.

If the House insists on its plan for electing the new judges this year, they face the approaching election deadlines which precede the Aug. 6 primary. Even if the Legislature returns to Lansing in the fall, it will be too late to set up a judicial system with judges to be elected this year.

If justice courts are abolished and not replaced, the work JP's now do—largely dealing with traffic and local-ordinance violations — would be piled on existing courts, such as municipal and circuit courts.

★ ★ ★

What's more, the new Constitution gives anyone convicted of, for example, speeding, the right to appeal to a higher court. Justice court appeals now got to circuit court.

Bill Is Drafted Seeking Details on Opinion Polls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Lucien Nedzi, D-Mich., is drafting legislation which would require full disclosure of how published public opinion polls are conducted, the number of people questioned and other details.

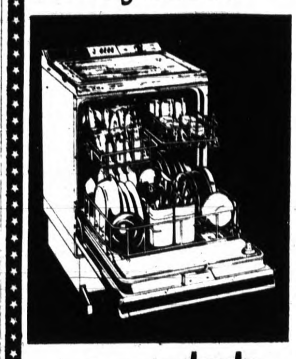

Nedzi emphasized in an interview that he was not accusing any of the syndicated pollsters of anything improper — that "the idea is to prevent as much as possible any fake polls."

★ ★ ★

"This is not intended as an indictment of the polling business," he said. "I'm concerned about the possibility of abuses by those that will be coming along.

"I think Gallup and Harris are entitled to their opinions and should be allowed to publish them. But I also feel the backup material should be available to anyone who wants to verify those opinions.

Strikes Paralyze France

PARIS (AP) — Strikes snowballed rapidly across France in a wave of social ferment today and the nation approached total paralysis. Paris was at a virtual standstill with not a bus, subway or train moving. Housewives rushed to stock up on food.

Joining the walkouts amid calls for the resignation of President Charles de Gaulle were workers in coal mines, automobile factories, ports and airports. Even war widows and war veterans joined the movement with demands for higher pensions.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle conferred with top ministers yesterday but took no immediate action. He had returned home early from his official visit to Romania Saturday.

The number of workers off their jobs ballooned into the millions. Hundreds of business concerns were closed down either by worker walkouts or because of the paralysis of transport and other services.

GARBAGE PILES UP

Garbage piled in the streets of Paris. There have been no collections since Saturday because of a strike of garbagemen and street cleaners.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of workers occupied the big Peugeot auto factory at Sochaux in eastern France near the Swiss border. All of the government-owned Renault auto plants have been occupied since Friday.

The 22,000 workers of the Michelin tire factory at Clermont Ferrand in central France went on strike and occupied the premises.

Striking Marseille dockworkers ran red flags to the tops of masts of all French ships. The 3,000 dockers of neighboring Cidtat were also on strike.

UNABLE TO WORK

About two-thirds of the 65,000 workers at various Citroen auto plants around the country were unable to work. A company spokesman said "elements foreign to the company" prevented the men from entering.

★ ★ ★

In Paris, lines formed in front of some banks even before opening time. Bank employes got strike orders Saturday. The Bank of France delayed the opening of the foreign exchange market.

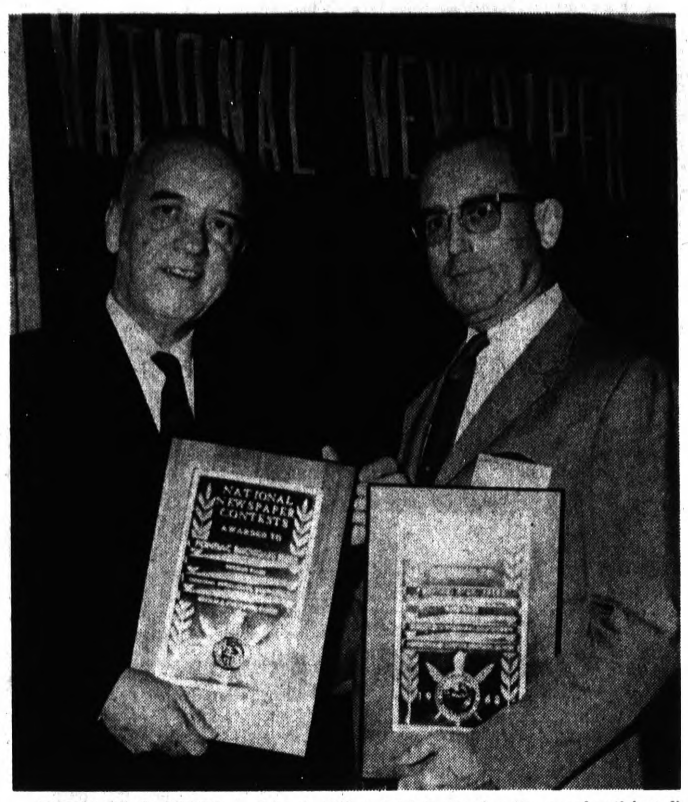

Electricity workers in Paris continued to provide power although they have occupied the factories since Saturday night.

MOST MINERS OUT

Most miners were out. The 45,000 coal miners of the North Basin joined the strike of their comrades in Lorraine.

Reports of other stoppages poured in from outside Paris — 2,500 at the French plant of International Harvester at St. Dizier, nearly 10,000 in the Sud-Aviation plant at the port of Rochefort, and an unlimited strike voted by the same firm's factory at Marignane, near Marseille.

PRESS WINS AGAIN — John A. Riley (right), Pontiac Press advertising director, accepts two major awards for the paper from John Biddle, president of the National Newspaper Association, at a ceremony Saturday in Los Angeles. The Saturday from their cleanup of Rouge River banks for a climb up Quarton Falls. in the daily newspaper field and typography.

2 Awards Captured by Pontiac Press

The Pontiac Press captured two top awards in the 1968 National Better Newspaper Contest sponsored by the National Newspaper Association.

The awards were accepted by Advertising Director John A. Riley at the 83rd annual convention, held in Los Angeles, Calif. The Press was acclaimed for general excellence in the daily newspaper field, taking second place; and third place for excellence in typography.

Taking first place in the daily division, general excellence, was Today, a paper established two years ago in the Cape Kennedy area near Cocoa, Fla.

A total of 163 newspapers from 38 states were involved in the competition, with 3,414 entries. In the general excellence division The Press was cited as a close second and praised for its mixture of local, state and national news on page 1.

"Good layout and plenty of white space" was lauded in awarding The Press third in the typographical division.

★ ★ ★

The Press has won numerous awards in this contest before, including the Sweepstakes prize, for the over-all winner in all divisions.

The Birmingham Eccentric also received several wards in the weekly newspaper category.

Parking Mall Is Open Today for Downtown

Downtown Pontiac's parking problem was somewhat relieved today with addition of 52 new parking spaces on North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence.

The increase was made possible with installation of a parking mall that permits angle parking for shoppers rather than the familiar parallel parking.

★ ★ ★

The parking mall, encircled with decorative planters and benches, can be entered from Huron or Lawrence, but motorists can only exit at Huron where an attendant is stationed in a booth to take tolls.

★ ★ ★

Basically aimed at the short-term parker, the mall will be in operation Monday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

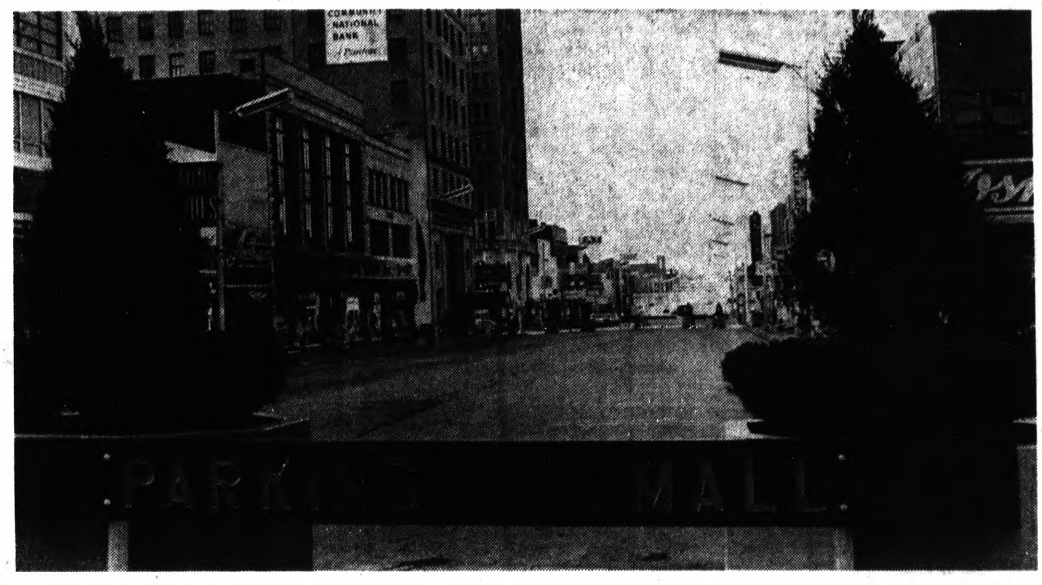

5 CENTS FOR HALF-HOUR

The parking fees are 5 cents for a half-hour; 10 cents for one hour; 15 cents for an hour and a half; 25 cents for two hours; and 35 cents for each additional hour.

Before the opening of the mall today, there had been only parking spaces for a total of 14 cars along the one block stretch of Saginaw. Now there are 66.

★ ★ ★

When entering the mall the motorist presses a button on an automatic machine to receive a time-punched card. The card is given to the attendant when leaving to determine the parking fee.

Pontiac Press Photo

PARKING MALL — A parking mall which hopefully will attract more business to the downtown area was put into effect this morning. North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence was closed to traffic to allow the new arrangement which boosts parking capacity from 14 spaces to 70. The mall was empty shortly before 9 a.m. when this photograph was taken but by midmorning it was well filled. The street will be closed to traffic during shopping hours.

U. S. Briefs S. Viet in Paris

PARIS (AP) — Vietnam peace negotiators W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance called on South Vietnam's observer here today for a 45-minute review of the talks thus far.

★ ★ ★

Harriman told newsmen as he left the South Vietnamese consulate that he and Bui Diem, who is South Vietnam's ambassador to Washington, had agreed "the affirmative position taken by the United States delegation in the talks was the correct one, rather than getting involved in the propaganda exercise which has characterized the Hanoi approach."

★ ★ ★

Harriman added that he wanted "to get down to the substance of the talks" as soon as possible but added: "That is up to Hanoi."

Diem told reporteers: "We had a very, very broad review of the world situation after the first week of negotiations."

POINT OF VIEW

Wneh he arrived at the South Vietnamese consulate, Harriman told newsmen he wanted to "get some information from the South Vietnamese delegation and to keep them fully informed. We want to get their point of view and judgment.

"After all, it is the future of their country we are talking about."

★ ★ ★

He said he also wanted to learn the latest news from Saigon since the formation of a new cabinet.

★ ★ ★

On his return to the U.S. Embassy, Harriman commented that a reporter had told him the North Vietnamese were predicting there would be nothing productive from the conference until some time in June.

'RIGHT PLACE'

"I said to him," Harriman went on, "that he had come to just the right place to ask about that. As far as we are concerned, we are prepared to have it productive immediately."

Knowledgeable American and French diplomats believe a compromise way will be found to end U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, reduce North Vietnamese infiltration into the South and move to full-scale negotiations.

★ ★ ★

But the possibility that the differences between the Americans and the North Vietnamese will persist and that the talks will eventually collapse cannot be ruled out.

No meetings are scheduled until Wednesday.

Area to Stay Cool Through Tuesday

After yesterday's rain which chalked up the highest accumulation of any day this May (1.8 inches), skies cleared and temperatures dipped. The low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 42 degrees. By 1 p.m. the mercury warmed to 57.

Variable cloudiness will continue to punctuate the blue skies through tomorrow with tonight's low to fall in the 36-to-40 range and tomorrow's high in the low 60s.

★ ★ ★

A slight warming trend will be noticeable Wednesday and skies will remain overcast, according to the weatherman's predictions.

This morning's northwesterly winds at 10 to 20 miles will diminish by evening.

City Candidates File Expenses

Seven city commissioners elected April 15 spent, or had spent directly on their behalf, a total of $1,915 for campaigning expenses, according to affidavits filed with the Oakland County clerk's office.

Their opponents spent $3,661, the records show.

★ ★ ★

State law requires that each candidate for office file with the clerk's office a record of campaign expenses, how the money was spent, where it came from and how much is yet owed. In addition committees working on behalf of candidates must file a record of expenses.

TUCKER CAMPAIGN

The largest amount was spent for the campaign of Charles M. Tucker, District 1 candidate. Tucker listed expenses of $469 for printing and newspaper and radio advertisements.

The Charles Tucker for City Commission Committee spent $1,195, according to its treasurer, Mattie L. Lasseigne. This included printing, newspaper and radio advertisements and pay for precinct workers.

★ ★ ★

The committee listed a number of gifts from individual contributors including $490 from C. Tucker.

George M. Grba, a candidate in District 4, listed expenses of $631. The Grba for City Commission Committee spent $440 for advertising, according to its treasurer, Don Medina of 607 Granada.

OPPONENT'S DONATION

The committee listed a number of donations including one of $70 from Richard I. Moore, who filed for the same

Novi Cityhood on Ballot Today

Today marks the third time Novi Village voters have been asked whether the village should become a city.

Also on the ballot are 14 candidates, nine of whom will serve on a charter commission if cityhood is approved.

★ ★ ★

The commission then will have two years to draft and submit a proposed charter for voter approval.

Polls are open until 8 p.m.

VOTING PLACES

★ ★ ★

First-class cityhood was defeated by voters in 1959, soon after the village came into existence, and again in 1962.

Press Increases Delivery Rate

Beginning today, your Pontiac Press will be sixty cents a week delivered. This is an increase of ten cents over the six days and is the first advance since 1961. Newspaper costs have gone up substantially during these seven years. We do this with reluctance, but it's dictated by necessity. The Press promises to aim at an even better product. Our carriers will share in the advance.

Cleanup Opens M-Week

CLEANUP BEGINS — Pontiac's Junior Miss, Beth Vershure, starts a cleanup of the downtown area Saturday, during a day-long program sponsored by the Pontiac Area Jaycees. Related picture, Page A-2.

An estimated 1,700 youths helped kick off Michigan Week in Pontiac Saturday with a cleanup of the downtown business district and city parks to celebrate Community Pride Day.

Today, Government Day, features an exchange of mayors between Ypsilanti and Pontiac. While Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. is visiting Ypsilanti the city will host Ypsilanti Mayor John H. Burton, Mayor Pro Tem Vaughn E. Filsinger and their wives.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Michigan Week Chairman Clyde Haskill, termed Community Pride Day a great success. The downtown area cleanup Saturday started with hundreds of youths sweeping Saginaw Street.

The youths, under the direction of the Pontiac Area Jaycees who sponsored the cleanup, also swept store foyers, cleaned store windows and helped put up displays in vacant stores.

PARKS CLEANED

Several busloads of youths went to Murphy, Oakland, Beaudette and Jaycee parks to clean them. Another contingent was bused to the Bagley-Wesson area for a general cleanup.

Some youths were also taken to the Stephen Wisner home, where the grass was cut and the grounds spruced up.

It wasn't all work for the youngsters, though. Refreshments were provided by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank and the Downtown Pontiac Business Association throughout the day.

In the afternoon seven area bands took part in a contest and provided music and entertainment for cleanup participants.

TEEING OFF

By FLETCHER SPEARS

The sight of young Bill Harding playing golf is enough to lift the spirit of anyone.

Bill, 23, is a low handicapper—two in one league and three in another—and looking at his scores you'd never guess that he moves around the course with only one good leg.

An inspector at General Motors Truck & Coach, Bill lost a leg—at mid thigh—in an industrial accident in June 1966.

It was a black time for Bill, but he refused to let the loss of a limb dull his attitude toward life. He was a fine athlete before the accident — playing near par golf — and he was determind to pick up where he left off.

HARDING

Bill was out of the hospital quicker than his doctor left possible, and fitted with an artifical leg, it wasn't long until he was again swinging the golf clubs.

MATTER OF TIME

"It's just a matter of time," says Bill the conditioning program with the new leg the part of the old one that remains. "It was awful painful to start with. I just play nine holes now. I can't quite make it for 18.

"The most I've played is 13 and I'm gradually building up. By the end of the summer, I hope to be going 18 holes."

A slight change in the qualifying format of the Michigan Open could, if followed, add a little more class to that event.

★ ★ ★

Proposed is a plan for two qualifying sites — one in or around Detroit and the other on the west side of the state. At present, there is only one site and the feeling is that the addition of another, particularly farther west, would induce some of the better players in that area to try for a spot in the Open.

qualifying site somewhere near

The present setup has the qualifying site somewhere near Detroit which places a travel burden on the many good golfers in the Grand Rapids area.

The Michigan Publinx Golf Association has a sure cure for slow players. Tex Ellison, one of the officers of the MPGA, says their cure is disqualification.

"If they don't finish a round in two hours and 15 minutes, they're disqualified," says Tex. It might be noted that MPGA has no major problem with slow players.

PCH Holding Second Place

Titles Decided in Two Prep Leagues

By JERE CRAIG

It was diamond title day in two county prep leagues yesterday but Pontiac Central's hoped-for celebration turned into a wait-and-see proposition.

Northville clinched its second straight outright Wayne-Oakland championship by edging Bloomfield Hills Andover, 4-3, in eight innings. Clarkston tied Milford for second place with a 2-1 victory.

Livonia Stevenson celebrated its first Inter-Lakes League crown in any sport by walloping Farmington, 8-1, as Paul Tonnemacher tossed a one-hitter.

Pontiac Central downed Bay City Central, 4-1, in the opener of their crucial Saginaw Valley Conference twinbill at Wisner Field to move within one triumph of clinching a share of its first diamond title in 15 seasons.

But the Chiefs' bats turned into fans in the nightcap and PCH dropped a 2-1 decision as the Wolves' Kiedel struck out 13 and tripled home the only two runs he needed.

The loss left PCH in second place with an 8-4 SVC mark Midland trimmed Bay City Handy twice Thursday and is 8-3 with one makeup game remaining against Flint Central.

The Indians are 5-4 and have a doubleheader against Flint Southwestern next week in addition to the Midland game. They must win all three to force a three-way tie.

★ ★ ★

In yesterday's opener Kiedel's opening-inning single gave Bay City a 1-0 lead until Clyde Duncan's steal of home knotted the score in the third.

Winning hurler Victor Quince slashed a two-out line drive up the middle in the fifth inning to put PCH into a 3-1 lead. Duncan singled for the third time in the sixth and scored an insurance run.

TWO SAFETIES

Bill Rollo's bunt single and Larry Tremper's run-scoring double in the sixth were the only Chief safeties in the nightcap. Koedel then settled down to retire the final five batters and dampen PCH's hopes.

★ ★ ★

Andover took a 3-2 lead on Northville in the sixth when a walk, Brian Parrott's double, Randy Marshall's two-run single and John Baumann's rbi-basehit plated all of the Barons' runs.

But pinchhitter Jeff Taylor led off the seventh with a home run to tie the game for the Mustangs. A walk, stolen base and two errors handed them the winning tally in the eighth.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston was down to its final out when Dick Johnson singled home the tying run and Jerry Ostrom promptly followed with another rbi-safety for the Wolves' fifth straight W-O triumph. They have won six of their last seven starts.

Tony Himmelspach's third-inning triple was the only hit for Farmington against Stevenson's tough senior Tonnemacher. The Spartans are unbeaten in six I-L starts, Farmington is 2-8 over-all.

SOUTHEAST MICHIGAN BASEBALL	W	L		W	L
Southfield	8	3	RO Kimball	5	7
B. Seaholm	7	5	Berkley	5	7
Ferndale	6	5	Hazel Park	4	8

Southfield's Blue Jays gained a key victory Friday afternoon and moved a game-and-a-half ahead in the Southeast Michigan baseball race with a 6-5 win over Ferndale.

The come-from-behind conquest moved the winners within two victories of a share of the title. Seaholm took over second place by blanking Hazel Park, 7-0, behind Mike Hilkene.

Berkley tied Royal Oak Kimball for fourth place with an eight-inning, 7-3 decision that was the Knights' second loss in extra innings this week.

★ ★ ★

Ferndale took a 2-0 laad at Southfield on Bill Screws' two-run triple in the first inning. The Blue Jays tied it in the second, then fall behind, 3-2, in the third. They regained the lead in the fourth on Pat Ward's basehit.

FOILS STRATEGY

Then in the seventh, the host team attempted to pass Bob Young intentionally but he reached out and doubled home two Eagle mates with his fourth hit.

In Southfield's turn at bat, Rocky Roe singled, the next batter was hit by a pitch and both advanced on a sacrifice. Ed Daniels promptly lined a double to plate the tying and winning runs.

At Birmingham, Hilkene scattered four Hazel Park hits and struck out eight. It was his third win and gives the Maples three in a row for a 9-6 mark.

KEY HITTERS

Kimball took a 3-2 lead in the sixth on Bud Hurst and Jerry Wassen singles, plus a three-run error.

13 in Succession for Clawson Nine

Clawson's streaking Trojans dumped Birmingham Groves, 2-1, last night for their 13th consecutive victory and a 14-2 record this spring.

Strikes Paralyze France

PARIS (AP) — Strikes snowballed rapidly across France in a wave of social ferment today and the nation approached total paralysis. Paris was at a virtual standstill with not a bus, subway or train moving. Housewives rushed to stock up on food.

Joining the walkouts amid calls for the resignation of President Charles de Gaulle were workers in coal mines, automobile factories, ports and airports. Even war widows and war veterans joined the movement with demands for higher pensions.

The number of workers off their jobs ballooned into the millions. Hundreds of business concerns were closed down either by worker walkouts or because of the paralysis of transport and other services.

GARBAGE PILES UP

Garbage piled in the streets of Paris. There have been no collections since Saturday because of a strike of garbagemen and street cleaners.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of workers occupied the big Peugeot auto factory at Sochaux in eastern France near the Swiss border. All of the government-owned Renault auto plants have been occupied since Friday.

The 22,000 workers of the Michelin tire factory at Clermont Ferrand in central France went on strike and occupied the premises.

Striking Marseille dockworkers ran red flags to the tops of masts of all French ships. The 3,000 dockers of neighboring Cidtat were also on strike.

UNABLE TO WORK

About two-thirds of the 65,000 workers at various Citroen auto plants around the country were unable to work. A company spokesman said "elements foreign to the company" prevented the men from entering.

★ ★ ★

In Paris, lines formed in front of some banks even before opening time. Bank employes got strike orders Saturday. The Bank of France delayed the opening of the foreign exchange market.

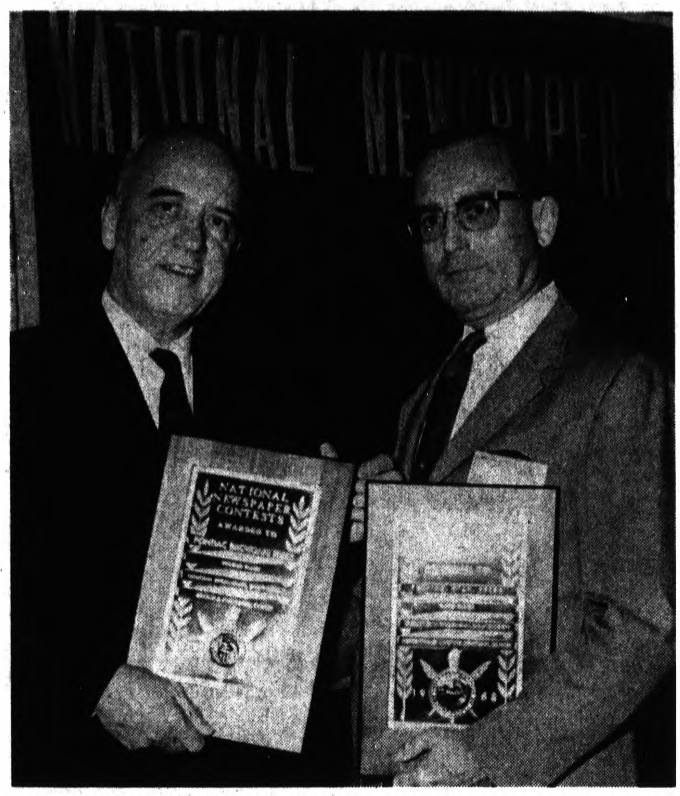

Electricity workers in Paris continued to provide power although they have occupied the factories since Saturday night.

MOST MINERS OUT

Most miners were out. The 45,000 coal miners of the North Basin joined the strike of their comrades in Lorraine.

Reports of other stoppages poured in from outside Paris — 2,500 at the French plant of International Harvester at St. Dizier, nearly 10,000 in the Sud-Aviation plant at the port of Rochefort, and an unlimited strike voted by the same firm's factory at Marignane, near Marseille.

PRESS WINS AGAIN — John A. Riley (right), Pontiac Press advertising director, accepts two major awards for the paper from John Biddle, president of the National Newspaper Association, at a ceremony Saturday in Los Angeles. The Saturday from their cleanup of Rouge River banks for a climb up Quarton Falls. in the daily newspaper field and typography.

2 Awards Captured by Pontiac Press

The awards were accepted by Advertising Director John A. Riley at the 83rd annual convention, held in Los Angeles, Calif. The Press was acclaimed for general excellence in the daily newspaper field, taking second place; and third place for excellence in typography.

A total of 163 newspapers from 38 states were involved in the competition, with 3,414 entries. In the general excellence division The Press was cited as a close second and praised for its mixture of local, state and national news on page 1.

"Good layout and plenty of white space" was lauded in awarding The Press third in the typographical division.

The Press has won numerous awards in this contest before, including the Sweepstakes prize, for the over-all winner in all divisions.

The Birmingham Eccentric also received several wards in the weekly newspaper category.

Parking Mall Is Open Today for Downtown

Downtown Pontiac's parking problem was somewhat relieved today with addition of 52 new parking spaces on North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence.

The increase was made possible with installation of a parking mall that permits angle parking for shoppers rather than the familiar parallel parking.

★ ★ ★

The parking mall, encircled with decorative planters and benches, can be entered from Huron or Lawrence, but motorists can only exit at Huron where an attendant is stationed in a booth to take tolls.

★ ★ ★

Basically aimed at the short-term parker, the mall will be in operation Monday, Thursday and Friday from 9 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. and on Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

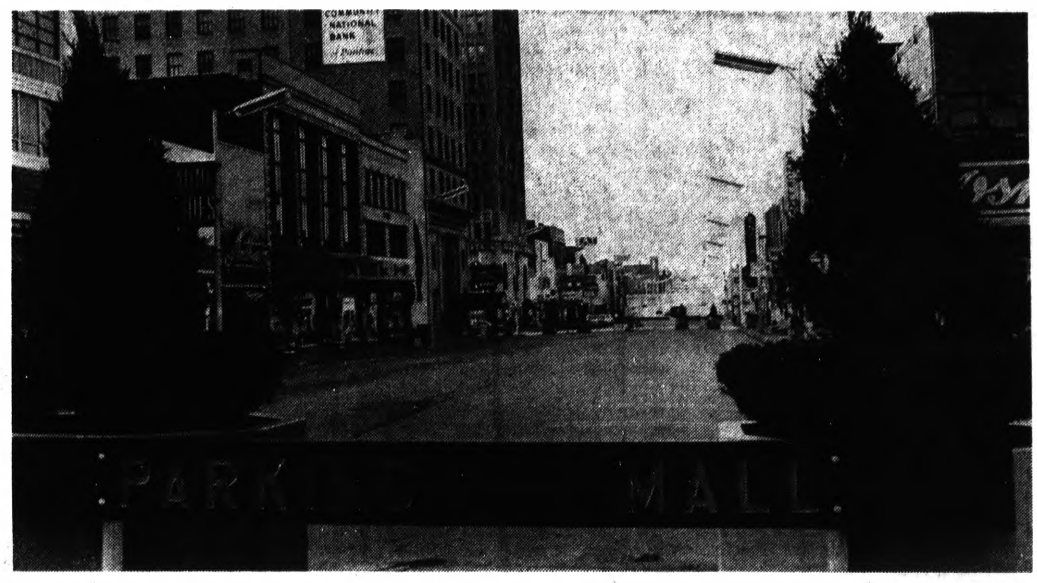

5 CENTS FOR HALF-HOUR

The parking fees are 5 cents for a half-hour; 10 cents for one hour; 15 cents for an hour and a half; 25 cents for two hours; and 35 cents for each additional hour.

Before the opening of the mall today, there had been only parking spaces for a total of 14 cars along the one block stretch of Saginaw. Now there are 66.

★ ★ ★

When entering the mall the motorist presses a button on an automatic machine to receive a time-punched card. The card is given to the attendant when leaving to determine the parking fee.

Pontiac Press Photo

PARKING MALL — A parking mall which hopefully will attract more business to the downtown area was put into effect this morning. North Saginaw between Huron and Lawrence was closed to traffic to allow the new arrangement which boosts parking capacity from 14 spaces to 70. The mall was empty shortly before 9 a.m. when this photograph was taken but by midmorning it was well filled. The street will be closed to traffic during shopping hours.

U. S. Briefs S. Viet in Paris

PARIS (AP) — Vietnam peace negotiators W. Averell Harriman and Cyrus R. Vance called on South Vietnam's observer here today for a 45-minute review of the talks thus far.

★ ★ ★

Harriman told newsmen as he left the South Vietnamese consulate that he and Bui Diem, who is South Vietnam's ambassador to Washington, had agreed "the affirmative position taken by the United States delegation in the talks was the correct one, rather than getting involved in the propaganda exercise which has characterized the Hanoi approach."

★ ★ ★

Harriman added that he wanted "to get down to the substance of the talks" as soon as possible but added: "That is up to Hanoi."

Diem told reporteers: "We had a very, very broad review of the world situation after the first week of negotiations."

POINT OF VIEW

Wneh he arrived at the South Vietnamese consulate, Harriman told newsmen he wanted to "get some information from the South Vietnamese delegation and to keep them fully informed. We want to get their point of view and judgment.

"After all, it is the future of their country we are talking about."

★ ★ ★

He said he also wanted to learn the latest news from Saigon since the formation of a new cabinet.

★ ★ ★

On his return to the U.S. Embassy, Harriman commented that a reporter had told him the North Vietnamese were predicting there would be nothing productive from the conference until some time in June.

"I said to him," Harriman went on, "that he had come to just the right place to ask about that. As far as we are concerned, we are prepared to have it productive immediately."

Knowledgeable American and French diplomats believe a compromise way will be found to end U.S. bombing of North Vietnam, reduce North Vietnamese infiltration into the South and move to full-scale negotiations.

★ ★ ★

But the possibility that the differences between the Americans and the North Vietnamese will persist and that the talks will eventually collapse cannot be ruled out.

No meetings are scheduled until Wednesday.

Area to Stay Cool Through Tuesday

After yesterday's rain which chalked up the highest accumulation of any day this May (1.8 inches), skies cleared and temperatures dipped. The low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 42 degrees. By 1 p.m. the mercury warmed to 57.

Variable cloudiness will continue to punctuate the blue skies through tomorrow with tonight's low to fall in the 36-to-40 range and tomorrow's high in the low 60s.

★ ★ ★

A slight warming trend will be noticeable Wednesday and skies will remain overcast, according to the weatherman's predictions.

This morning's northwesterly winds at 10 to 20 miles will diminish by evening.

City Candidates File Expenses

Seven city commissioners elected April 15 spent, or had spent directly on their behalf, a total of $1,915 for campaigning expenses, according to affidavits filed with the Oakland County clerk's office.

★ ★ ★

State law requires that each candidate for office file with the clerk's office a record of campaign expenses, how the money was spent, where it came from and how much is yet owed. In addition committees working on behalf of candidates must file a record of expenses.

TUCKER CAMPAIGN

The largest amount was spent for the campaign of Charles M. Tucker, District 1 candidate. Tucker listed expenses of $469 for printing and newspaper and radio advertisements.

The Charles Tucker for City Commission Committee spent $1,195, according to its treasurer, Mattie L. Lasseigne. This included printing, newspaper and radio advertisements and pay for precinct workers.

★ ★ ★

The committee listed a number of gifts from individual contributors including $490 from C. Tucker.

George M. Grba, a candidate in District 4, listed expenses of $631. The Grba for City Commission Committee spent $440 for advertising, according to its treasurer, Don Medina of 607 Granada.

OPPONENT'S DONATION

The committee listed a number of donations including one of $70 from Richard I. Moore, who filed for the same

Novi Cityhood on Ballot Today

Today marks the third time Novi Village voters have been asked whether the village should become a city.

Also on the ballot are 14 candidates, nine of whom will serve on a charter commission if cityhood is approved.

★ ★ ★

The commission then will have two years to draft and submit a proposed charter for voter approval.

Polls are open until 8 p.m.

VOTING PLACES

★ ★ ★

First-class cityhood was defeated by voters in 1959, soon after the village came into existence, and again in 1962.

Cleanup Opens M-Week

CLEANUP BEGINS — Pontiac's Junior Miss, Beth Vershure, starts a cleanup of the downtown area Saturday, during a day-long program sponsored by the Pontiac Area Jaycees. Related picture, Page A-2.

An estimated 1,700 youths helped kick off Michigan Week in Pontiac Saturday with a cleanup of the downtown business district and city parks to celebrate Community Pride Day.

Today, Government Day, features an exchange of mayors between Ypsilanti and Pontiac. While Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. is visiting Ypsilanti the city will host Ypsilanti Mayor John H. Burton, Mayor Pro Tem Vaughn E. Filsinger and their wives.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac's Michigan Week Chairman Clyde Haskill, termed Community Pride Day a great success. The downtown area cleanup Saturday started with hundreds of youths sweeping Saginaw Street.

The youths, under the direction of the Pontiac Area Jaycees who sponsored the cleanup, also swept store foyers, cleaned store windows and helped put up displays in vacant stores.

PARKS CLEANED

Several busloads of youths went to Murphy, Oakland, Beaudette and Jaycee parks to clean them. Another contingent was bused to the Bagley-Wesson area for a general cleanup.

Some youths were also taken to the Stephen Wisner home, where the grass was cut and the grounds spruced up.

It wasn't all work for the youngsters, though. Refreshments were provided by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank and the Downtown Pontiac Business Association throughout the day.

In the afternoon seven area bands took part in a contest and provided music and entertainment for cleanup participants.

Press Increases Delivery Rate

Beginning today, your Pontiac Press will be sixty cents a week delivered. This is an increase of ten cents over the six days and is the first advance since 1961. Newspaper costs have gone up substantially during these seven years. We do this with reluctance, but it's dictated by necessity. The Press promises to aim at an even better product. Our carriers will share in the advance.

Communists Attack Yanks Along DMZ

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops made three ground attacks on U.S. Marines along South Vietnam's northern frontier yesterday and sent big rockets smashing into fuel and ammunition stores at the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division.

The U.S. Command said the Marines repulsed the attacks near Khe Sanh and Con Thien, killing 127 North Vietnamese soldiers and capturing 58 weapons. Twelve Marines were reported killed and 49 wounded.

★ ★ ★

But the enemy's 100-pound rockets did "heavy" damage to the ammunition stores at Camp Evans, the 1st Air Cavalry headquarters 16 miles northwest of Hue, as well as "light" damage to fuel stores, material and facilities. "Light" personnel casualties also were reported.

nel casualties also were reported.

Heavy damage to the ammunition means that so much of it was blown up that the men at the camp could not continue their mission until their supply was replenished.

MAN-FOR-MAN

U.S. officers say five divisions of allied and North Vietnamese forces face each other in the northern sector on almost a man-for-man basis. The U.S. Command believes that enough allied troops are on hand to handle anything the enemy may try in the five provinces below the demilitarized zone.

★ ★ ★

The South Vietnamese military command reported 131 enemy troops killed by government rangers and tanks in a three-day sweep 12 miles south of Da Nang. Government casualties were said to be light.

★ ★ ★

The U. S. Command also announced that allied forces have killed or captured more than 10,000 Vietcong and North Vietnamese in six weeks of Operation Complete Victory, the 100,000-man campaign to keep enemy pressure off Saigon. The casualty figures include the repulse of the Vietcong's second attack on Saigon two weeks ago, a small-scale followup to their lunar new year offensive in February.

The U.S. Command reported three planes lost Saturday, raising the total reported lost in combat in Vietnam to 263 over South Vietnam and 839 over North Vietnam.

PILOT KILLED

An Air Force Super Sabre jet was shot down Saturday while attacking enemy positions 22 miles northwest of Saigon. The pilot was killed.

Both the planes lost over the North were photo reconnaissance jets: a $6-million Navy Vigilante equipped with a $1-million camera, and a $2.5-million Air Force F4 Phantom. All four crewmen were missing.

The Vigilante went down northwest of Vinh, about 25 miles below the 19th parallel limit for U.S. bombing raids. The Phantom was lost near Dong Hoi, about 45 miles north of the demilitarized zone.

Pontiac Woman Killed in Crash

A 53-year-old Pontiac woman was killed yesterday when the car in which she was riding collided with another vehicle on M59 in Highland Township.

Three of four other persons involved in the mishap were hospitalized.

Killed about 1:15 a.m. was Mrs. Francis R. O'Connor of 684 Kenilworth, a passenger in a car driven by her daughter, Mrs. Joann M. Lada, 35, of 671 E. Madison, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said the Lada car was eastbound on M59 when it collided headon with a car driven by John Krajinka, 54, of 1497 Whittier, Waterford Township.

FAIR CONDITION

Both drivers and 14-year-old Donna Mathews of 660 Second are reported in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital.

Miss Mathews was a passenger in the Lada car, as was Jenna Carmichael, 14, of 671 E. Madison, who was not reported hospitalized, deputies said.

★ ★ ★

The accident is under investigation, according to deputies.

CLEAN STREET AGAIN — The start of a busy day for Pontiac youths featured the cleaning of Saginaw Street in the downtown area Saturday. The cleanup program, sponsored by the Pontiac Area Jaycees as part of the Michigan Week celebration in the city, was concentrated on the downtown area and a number of city parks.

City Girl Captures Dance Honors

Noreen Karos, of 2637 Littletell, will represent Michigan in the competition.

★ ★ ★

More than 250 pipers, drummers and dancers from the United States and Canada competed.

The colorful event was held in conjunction with Michigan Week and was the first time Michigan has hosted the dance competition.

AGE GROUPS

Dance competition was held Saturday and Sunday in age groups ranging from 5 to 20 years.

Miss Karos also won two trophies for being the best dancer in her age group for performing such dances as the Highland Fling, Sword Dance and Highland Reel.

★ ★ ★

Other area trophy winners included Maureen Connor, 10 and under group, Beth Noble, 14 and under, and Ann Jones, 8 and under, all of Utica.

Highlight of the two-day event was the combined performance of all competitors in a march.

★ ★ ★

Pipe bands that performed were the Detroit St. Andrews Pipe Band, Redford Highlanders and Michigan Highlanders.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Showers are forecast tonight in the Pacific Northwest and along the Rocky Mountains. Southern Texas can also expect some showers. Milder weather is due in the central part of the U.S.

Congressman Will Run Again in 18th District

Congressman William S. Broomfield of Royal Oak announced today that he will seek a seventh term from Michigan's 18th District.

The 46-year-old Republican said he will continue his campaign for "efficiency, economy and a more effective foreign policy."

★ ★ ★

Broomfield said the "administration's foreign policy failures throughout the world, crime, poverty and inflation will definitely be issues" in the campaign.

The ranking Republican on the Asian and Pacific affairs and national security subcommittees of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, Broomfield also is a member of the African subcommittee.

ONLY REPUBLICAN

He served last fall as a member of the U.S. delegation to the 22nd General Assembly of the United Nations, the only Republican named to the five-man delegation by President Johnson.

Before taking office as a U.S. representative in 1957, Broomfield served two years in the Michigan Senate and six years in the Michigan House of Representatives in Lansing where he was the youngest speaker pro tem in the state's history.

★ ★ ★

Dinner Planned to Honor Youth

The Pontiac Citizens' Committee on Youth will hold its sixth annual awards dinner Wednesday at the Holiday Inn, 1801 S. Telegraph.

Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. will present awards to five citizens and one organization for their work for and with youth.

★ ★ ★

Teen of the week selections from the school year will also be acknowledged, according to George P. Caronis, executive secretary of the committee.

★ ★ ★

Featured speaker will be Dr. Lino Romero, community mental health consultation and education director for Oakland County.

Senator Favors House Version

Holiday Bill OK Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate sponsor of a measure to create five new three-day federal holidays says he'll ditch it in favor of a House-passed measure offering one less long-weekend holiday.

Sen. George A. Smathers, D-Fla., said Sunday he's confident the measure passed 212 to 83 by the House — and backed by business and labor alike—will clear the Senate.

"I think we will be better advised to take the House bill," said Smathers, "and if we do, I feel confident we will be able to pass it."

The House measure, once considered a sure candidate for defeat, would transfer Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veterans Day to Monday and would make Columbus Day a national holiday—also to be celebrated on a Monday.

Inclusion of Columbus Day in the bill is credited with winning it House passage by generating support from big-city members with large Italian-American and Catholic constituencies.

The bill wouldn't take effect until 1971—a concession to calendar-makers. While it would legally apply only to federal employes, state and local governments and private employers would be expected to follow suit.

Enactment would mean five three-day weekends, since Labor Day already falls on Monday.

Smathers' bill would have included Thanksgiving and Independence Day among the Monday holidays—as well as Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day and Veteran Day—but didn't include Columbus Day.

The senator, who said he didn't expect Senate action before June, spoke on his weekly radio-television show for Florida stations.

M-Week Starts With Cleanup

Jaycee cochairmen for the project, Thomas Bretzius and John R. Lyon, said that a number of prizes were given out among the cleanup participants.

Nearly 400 from Eastern Junior High School participated, they said.

Today's program calls for the Ypsilanti officials to tour Pontiac's major administrative buildings, points of interest in the city, the Pontiac Motor Division plant, the Oakland County Service Center and Oakland University.

The guests and city officials will meet at a dinner tonight at the Kingsley Inn in Bloomfield Hills.

Saigon Rebuilding Set

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. and South Vietnamese military commands announced today they are assigning troops to rebuild sections of Saigon destroyed in fighting early this month. The project is called Operation Hearts Together.

City Buses Idle, Drivers 'Sick'

Most of the bus drivers in Pontiac failed to report to work this morning and service on three of the five routes was shut down.

Marvin Hilton, manager of Pontiac Transit, said 12 of 18 drivers expected to work today "called in sick."

★ ★ ★

He said he didn't believe that many men were really sick, but added "I don't know what it's all about."

Hilton said the men are members of the Motor Coach Operators Union, an AFL-CIO affiliate. Hilton said he was unaware that any problems existed at present. He said the union committeeman was one of the workers that showed up today. A meeting with union members is to be held later today, Hilton said.

CLOSED ROUTES

The only bus routes working this morning were the James K and Huron. Closed were the Joslyn, St. Joseph's-Franklin and Baldwin routes.

Hilton said he would make an effort to keep as many buses operating as possible and clear up the dispute. "As far as I'm concerned we're still operating," he said.

City Candidates File Campaign Expenses

office but was eliminated from further contention in the primary.

District 5 City Commissioner Robert F. Jackson listed expenses of $620 and donations from five persons totaling $337.

Robert A. Landry, a candidate in District 7, listed expenses of $368 and donations from friends or relatives of $350.

MARSHALL EXPENSES

District 7 City Commissioner James H. Marshall listed expenses of $94 and donations from friends totaling $94. Another person, Lola P. Marion, filing a list of expenses on behalf of Marshall, claimed expenses of $271.

The Irwin for City Commission committee spent $312 on behalf of District 2 City Commissioner Robert C. Irwin, according to the affidavit signed by his brother, John K. Irwin Jr., a Pontiac attorney.

He listed contributions totaling $312 from a number of donors, including $10 from the candidate. Robert Irwin filed no expenses.

★ ★ ★

John F. Leonard, candidate in District 6 listed expenses of $305 and donations from two friends totaling $150.

DISTRICT 5 CANDIDATE

Arnold F. Jones, a candidate in District 5, listed expenses of $253 and donations from three persons totaling $253.

District 6 Commissioner Wesley J. Wood listed expenses of $99 and donations from friends totaling $75.

Distict 4 City Commissioner F. Jack Douglas claimed expenses of $88 and no donations.

Mayor William J. Taylor Jr. of District 3 filed an affidavit claiming no expenses and no donations as did Luis E. Fairbrother, a Birmingham attorney and an unseccessful candidate in District 2.

NO PAPERS FILED

Two committees, each of which supported a number of candidates, also filed expenses.

★ ★ ★

A committee for the election of Tucker, Douglas, Jackson, Leonard and Landry spent $2,602 for signs, advertising, printing, and campaign workers, according to the treasurer Elmer Fangboner of 3371 Meinrad, Waterford Township.

Fangoner's affidavit did not list contriuters.

BETTER PONTIAC

The Citizens Committee for a Better Pontiac spent $828 according to its treasurer, JoAnne Van Tassel of 51 E. Iroquois.

★ ★ ★

Miss Van Tassel said the money was spent in behalf of Taylor, Fowler and Marshall. She said $450 of the money spent was raised at a fund raising party. Another $375 is owed for newspaper advertising, she said.

Birmingham

Panel Finds No Problems on Trash Site

BIRMINGHAM—"Relating our observations in Seattle (Wash.) to the proposed local station — if it is built as described in the authority's report—there should be no problems from noise, dust odor or rodents . . ."

That statement concludes the report of this city's rubbish transfer station study committee. The report will be presented to the City Commission tonight at 8.

★ ★ ★

The committee, established March 11 by the commission, visited Seattle May 2-3 as part of a study of transfer sites comparable to one proposed on city-owned property by the Southeast Oakland County Incinerator Authority.

The commission held a public hearing Jan. 22 on whether to sell the property, located on Coolidge between 14 Mile and Maple in Troy, to the authority, but postponed decision on the sale to allow time to study objections.

1,400 FEET AWAY

Though the closest residences to the industrially-zoned site are 1,400 feet away and separated from the site by railroad tracks, Sheffield Estates and Pembroke Manor civic associations have objected, complaining that odor, dust, rodents and traffic would depreciate property values.

All except Phelps concurred in the conclusion of the report.

The report dealth with each possible objection. As to noise, it said, "A check of residents in the gently ascending residential area to the north of the North Station revealed that those fronting the station at distance of 50 feet were universally annoyed. Residents at a distance of over 500 feet were not bothered or aware of any noise."

BARELY AUDIBLE

Complaints regarding dust and noise, the committee found, showed the same distribution.

While puffs of dust were observed at the sites, only residents living within 300 feet complained. Only those within 250 feet found odors objectionable.

On rodents, the report stated, "No problem at all. None observed. No complaints from any residents. Only rodents reported by transfer station employes were on two specific occasions when they were sighted being dumped from collector trucks into trailers."

NO ACTION EXPECTED

No action is expected tonight on the property sale. The commission previously agreed to notify the Sheffield and Pembroke associations prior to a decision. According to John Saefke, assistant city manager, no notification has been sent.

Also set tonight are public hearings on rezoning of lots in the south Woodward area and on vacating of an alley west of Woodward from Landon to Lincoln.

The hearings were postponed at the April 29 commission meeting on recommendation of City Planner William Brownfield.

An additional hearing, on rezoning to the city's new row or town-house R-8 classification property bounded by Ann, Lincoln, Floyd, George, Purdy and Landon, will be June 24.

Banks' Blow Helps Cubs Gain Split

By the Associated Press

The Chicago Cubs caught San Francisco's Herman Franks turning the other cheek . . . and Ernie Banks followed Dick Nen's left jab with a right smash that floored the Giants.

Nen drilled a two-run homer in the fourth inning of Sunday's doubleheader nightcap at San Francisco, then bowed out in the sixth for pinch hitter Banks, whose three-run homer powered the Cubs to a 6-3 victory.

★ ★ ★

Durocher said, "When Herman put in the left-handed pitcher (Gibbon), he forced me to take out Nen and bring in a right-handed hitter. I don't know what Herman had in mind, but I certainly wasn't going to use a lefty against a lefty.

Nen was hitting .077 in 12 games.

The Braves swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets 3-2 and 2-0 for a run of eight victories in their last 10 games. The Cardinals bowed to Philadelphia 4-3, extending the losing string to four. Cincinnati slugged Pittsburgh 9-3 and Houston beat Los Angeles twice, 2-1 and 3-1.

★ ★ ★

After Banks' sixth homer of the season gave Chicago a 5-0 lead, Phil Regan came out of the Cubs' bullpen to choke off a Giant rally in the bottom of the sixth and preserve Bill Hands' fourth victory. Mike Marshall chased Hands with a two-run single, but Regan got Hart to bounce into an inning-ending double play.

POSTS 5TH WIN

In the opener, Perry posted his fifth victory and first shutout of the year in a duel with Ferguson Jenkins, who surrendered Hart's seventh homer and dropped to 4-4 for the season.

The homer was Hart's second in successive trips to the plate following a five-game layoff while he nursed a groin injury.

★ ★ ★

Billy Williams, who stroked three of the Cubs' hits against Perry, got another in the nightcap while tying Richie Ashburn's major league record of 694 consecutive games played by an outfielder.

Ron Reed, Atlanta's unbeaten rookie, pitched a two-hitter in the opener at New York and gained his fifth victory when run-scoring singles by Felipe Alou and Felix Millan erased a 2-1 deficit in the eighth inning.

The Phillies blew a 2-1 lead in the ninth, then edged St. Louis for the third straight day on two walks and pinch hitter Gary Sutherland's two-out, two-run double in the bottom of the ninth.

Rookie catcher Johnny Bench drove in four runs with a double and two singles as the Reds rolled to their fourth victory in the last five games. George Culver blanked the Pirates on two hits until they tagged him for three runs in the seventh.

The Astros snapped a five-game losing streak behind southpaw Denny Lemaster, who scattered seven Dodger hits in the opener at Los Angeles. Jim Wynn homered for Houston and Ron Brand doubled home the deciding run in the fifth.

U.S. Education Benefits—6

Teachers Can Get Study Aid

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the seventh article in a 15-part series on U.S. educational and training benefits available to you.)

By RAY CROMLEY
NEA Publications

If you plan to be an elementary or high school teacher or are one now and have graduated from college, you may be eligible for a federal teacher fellowship.

These fellowships may run for periods up to 24 months. The stipend is normally $2,000 the first year and $2,200 the second. Additional stipends of $400 are available for study outside the normal academic year. Allowances are given for dependents.

★ ★ ★

Prospective teachers must seriously intend to pursue a career in elementary or secondary education. Men and women who are at present teaching must be recommended by the local school system to which they expect to return.

The fellowships are intended for graduate study leading to a master's degree or its equivalent.

FOR DATA

For further information, write the Graduate Academic Programs Branch, Bureau of Higher Education, U.S. Office of Education, Washington D.C. 20202.

Under still another program, graduate students who want to become college or university teachers may be eligible for National Defense Graduate Fellowships.

These provide three years of support. The stipend is $2,000 the first year, $2,200 the second and $2,400 the third. There are allowances for dependents. Additional stipends of $400 for study outside the normal academic year are available. In addition, the college or university receives up to $2,500 per fellow in lieu of tuition.

A fellow must maintain satisfactory standing and devote full time to his study or research.

PORTION AVAILABLE

A portion of the fellowship may be awarded to persons who have completed up to two years on their Ph.D.

★ ★ ★

There are also federal teaching fellowships designed to encourage high-quality men and women to teach in developing institutions. These pay up to $6,500, plus $400 per dependent.

3 Die in Fire; Boy Charged

NEW YORK (AP) — Police say a 9-year-old boy has admitted he set fire to a three-story frame house in Brooklyn in which three persons burned to death Sunday.

The boy, whose name was not made public because of his age, was booked on a charge of juvenile delinquency. Police said he told them he set fire to the house with matches.

★ ★ ★

Firemarshals and police, who questioned 50 persons in the neighborhood, said one of them pointed out the boy who was arrested.

The fire was set in a vacant ground-floor apartment and spread quickly up through the building.

★ ★ ★

The dead were identified by police as Fred Fratz, 70, occupant of a second-floor apartment; Elizabeth McNulty, 63, and her sister, Mary Dick, 53, who shared a third-floor apartment.

Canadian Leader Is Elected to Bachelor Group

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — Canadian Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau has been elected to membership in the Jackson Hole Bachelor Herd.

The invitation said the bachelor-statesman "should taste our most special version of the freedom enjoyed by all male animals before the female snare is sprung."

★ ★ ★

The Bachelor Herd was organized after the weekly newspaper here published a list of eligible bachelors in the area as a Leap Year service to unmarried women.

The invitation to Trudeau included an offer for a float trip down the Snake River, an elk stroganoff feast and a sample of night life in Jackson.

To extend that ground beef for hamburgers, you can add dry bread crumbs and beaten eggs plus seasonings.

Fellowship Tough Choice

LANCASTER, Pa. (AP) — Leslie Lenkowsky, 22, a senior at Franklin & Marshall College here has decided to accept a $20,000 Danforth graduate fellowship at Harvard University, but he says it was a really tough decision.

And no wonder, to take the Harvard bid, the Norwalk, Conn., native had to turn down a handful of other scholarship offers totaling $44,600.

Satellites Spy on California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Government agencies will be spying on Southern California from planes during the next two weeks to see if satellites could do the job better.

The "remote sensing" project, borrowing techniques used by military satellites over foreign lands, is designed to survey national resources, such as land, water, minerals and people.

If it is successful, similar equipment will be installed in satellites surveying this country.

The planes will carry cameras with special films and filters, infrared scanners and radiometers, and radar and passive microwave sensors. The latter survey land use, soil moisture and other properties through clouds or in darkness.

Run Clean Town

XENIA, Ohio (AP) — A law officer isn't always involved with enforcing the law, as evidenced by this report made by Sgt. Neal Stanley of the sheriff's department: "A person called and reported glass on Kinsey Road at Winding Trail Drive. This unit responded with a broom and cleaned it up."

Up Thataway

PORT GIBSON, Miss. (UPI) — A unique Presbyterian Church located here since 1859 has a steeple topped by a huge metal hand with forefinger pointed toward heaven.

State Allocating 1st-Quarter Road Funds

LANSING (AP) — The State Highway Department reports it has started distributing first-quarter motor vehicle highway fund collections to counties, cities and villages.

Collections during the first quarter of the year totaled $110.76 million, up $10.95 million from the same period a year ago.

Under a formula set by the Legislature, the Highway Department will receive $51.28 million, the counties $37.99 million and the cities and villages $21.48 million.

The department said the collections include only two months of the penny-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax enacted last year.

The distribution is based on one month of the formula of 47 per cent to the state, 35 per cent to the counties and 18 per cent to the cities and villages. Distribution for the other two months is based on the new formula of 46, 34 and 20 per cent, respectively.

State Treasurer Allison Green reports, meanwhile, that the first quarterly distribution of the state income tax to local units of government will total $11.84 million.

The disbursement is figured at the rate of $1.52 per person, as based on the 1960 census.

HE REALLY TALKS — Irene Genova holds up the telephone receiver so Pepe, her 5-year-old, 6½-pound registered Chihuahua, can speak into it. Mrs. Genova was the first to discover that Pepe could talk. There are some doubting Thomases, however, who accuse Mrs. Genova of being a ventriloquist.

Chatty Chihuahua Shuns 'Bowow' for 'I Love You'

By GENE HANDSAKER

This statement might arouse widespread and well-merited apathy if Pepe were a child. But he's a dog—a Chihuahua, weighing 6½ pounds.

★ ★ ★

Pepe can say things like, "Hello" and "How are you?" and appears to have either a rudimentary sense of humor or poor judgment. Otherwise he would hardly make passes at a girl beagle eight times his size, or tell a furnace repairman "I love you."

The hardened cynics say his mistress is a ventriloquist. But Pepe really can talk.

MARBLES AND MUSH

Not distinctly, you understand —strictly mouthful of marbles and mush with a lot of high-pitched whining and howling on the side.

★ ★ ★

But I heard him say, "Hullo" and "Ila"—she's the pretty lady next door — and "I love yer."

Pepe, who is tan and short-haired, was a gift to Irene Genova from her machinist husband, Jerry.

★ ★ ★

One day when Pepe was 11 months old, Mrs. Genova heard him say through the backyard chain-link fence to Cleo, the beagle next door: "I want you."

MAGAZINE ARTICLE

Later a furnace repairman was greeted by Pepe with "I love you." That led to an article in the gas company's magazine. Then came performances before asthmatic and retarded children and disabled veterans and an appearance on a recent television show.

★ ★ ★

The show brought Mrs. Genova letters from all over the country, most of them accusing her of being Pepe's sub rosa voice. Mrs. Genova indignantly denies it.

She starts Pepe talking by holding him tenderly and cooing "I love you" or "Oooooh, he's so pretty!"

ANSWERS

Pepe's performance for the interview wasn't up to par, Mrs. Genova said, because I had brought a tape recorder. He freezes up, she explained, ever since he heard another interviewer with a recorder play back the tape.

Ila Breedlove, the lady next door, said Pepe frequently speaks to her through the fence, calling out her first name. By phone he has said "I love you" and "Hello, how are you?" to Mrs. Genova's sister and brother in New York and a friend in Florida, Mrs. Genova said. He did not talk on the phone for me.

Syrup Output Up

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's spring maple syrup production is estimated at 72,000 gallons, 20 per cent above last year but 16 per cent below the five-year average. The State Crop Reporting Service said tapping trees began about March 10 and ended April 3, making it a short, 25-day season. Michigan rated fourth in the nation in syrup production, ranking behind New York, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Summer Rust Protection for your Tank
WITH A HEATING OIL FILL FROM STANDARD OIL
Summer is tough on oil tanks. If they sit empty, they tend to rust and corrode as moisture forms on the bottom. With your summer fill, we add our Tank Bottom Inhibitor Additive. This new chemical settles to the bottom, neutralizes moisture and prevents rust. Yet never mixes with the oil itself. Protect now, be ready for winter, and don't pay a dime until fall. Offer expires August 1st. So call Standard Oil Hot Line Heating Service now. We'll be right out.

Gold-Mining Shares Rally

Market Down, Trade Heavy

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold-mining shares staged another rally early today as the over-all stock market declined in heavy trading. The ticker tape was late.

Losses outnumbered gains by 125 issues or so on the New York Stock Exchange. The Dow Jones Industrial Average was off about a point.

Gold-mining shares responded to a rise in the price of gold bullion to more than $42 an ounce. Homestake and American-South African gained about 2 points each. Campbell Red Lake, Dome Mines and McIntyre Porcupine more than a point each.

Engelhard Minerals & Chemicals, major domestic dealer in gold, also rose more than 2 points in active trading.

ACQUISITION'S EFFECT

International Telephone was off a fraction in the first reaction to news it had agreed to acquire Continental Baking. The latter was delayed in opening.

Gains of about a point were posted for McDonnell Douglas, Seaboard Finance, Ling-Temco-Vought and Merck.

Off a point or so were Commercial Credit, Katy Industries, Gulf & Western and RCA.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Fractional gains were made by Burma Mines, Campbell-Chibougamau, Reliance Insurance, Universal Marion, Bunker-Ramo, Stein, Hall & Co.
