JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP)—President Sukarno tonight surrendered his presidential powers to Indonesian strongman Gen. Suharto and thus ended 21 years of one-man rule.

By his own statement, he remains president in name only and even this title may be taken away from him. Informal sources said Congress at its meeting next month may make a final disposition of his future.

There was speculation whether Sukarno would leave Indonesia. But his Japanese wife, Ratna Sari Dewi, said in Tokyo she did not believe he will leave the country.

She is in Tokyo to await the birth of her first child.

Sukarno surrendered most of his powers to Suharto last March, but he remained a symbol to millions of Indonesians as the father of Indonesia's independence.

A signed statement by Sukarno said he gave all power to Suharto "for the sake of the people and the country."

TITULAR PRESIDENT

Sukarno's stepdown was not a full resignation but was a surrender of executive powers.

The 65-year-old president, who led this huge South East Asian nation from Dutch colonial rule to independence will remain president in name only.

His decision came following two weeks of intensive pressure from Suharto and his military followers.

Sukarno had been warned that if he did not hand over powers he would be investigated by Congress and possibly brought to trial.

VOID TRIAL

There were no indications what compromises were made with Sukarno. However, political and military sources said

Suharto agreed to insure that Sukarno would not be brought to trial.

There was no indication if Sukarno would remain in Indonesia or leave the country.

Sukarno's statement said Suharto would have to report to him regularly on how he was using the presidential powers. But this was probably a face-saving gesture.

Following an attempt by Indonesian Communists to seize power Oct. 1, 1965, many of the coup leaders were brought to trial and some implicated Sukarno in the attempt.

Sukarno called on the people and the armed forces to "intensify the unity of the country."

His statement was dated Feb. 20, the day after Sukarno was confronted by Gen. Suharto and the armed forces commanders.

Congress, Indonesia's highest legislative body, will meet March 7. It placed high on its agenda an investigation of Sukarno's activities.

Both Suharto and Foreign Minister Adam Malik had made clear that if Sukarno did not step aside they would proceed with the congressional investigation.

High-Speed Chase Ends as Man Shot, Killed

Mayor Denies U.S. Blocking Taubman Plan

By DAVID J. COOK

A Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) notice that the city's downtown redevelopment agreement has been "frozen" drew a strong rebuttal last night from Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

"The city still has a valid agreement," Taylor declared, "and this won't affect us one bit."

The Taubman proposal was also attacked by the leaders of a local citizens group, who promised commissioners he would file a formal protest next week concerning management of the city's urban renewal lands.

Don Frayer, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Positive Pontiac Progress, said the protest would be filed with federal officials Feb. 28.

The apparent HUD roadblock was announced to city officials Monday in the form of a letter to James L. Bates, city director of planning and urban renewal.

ORDERS CITY

The letter, signed by Dean Swartzel, assistant regional administrator for renewal assistance, orders the city "not to proceed further with or convey any property" covered by the Taubman plan.

Specific objection to the project, Swartzel said, was execution of the city's Sept. 27 agreement with Taubman "without prior approval" of HUD and "without prior concurrence" of HUD with an established sale price.

On that date, the city accepted a $250,000 "good faith" deposit from Taubman and set up an initial six-month period for obtaining major commercial tenants for the downtown property.

The lease period may be renewed for an additional six months.

'AGREEMENT TO AGREE'

Bates described the city's present arrangement with Taubman as "an agreement to agree."

RIDDLED CAR — The car in which Emmett Ransom was fatally shot last night after a high-speed chase from a holdup scene stands bullet-riddled (circles) in the Oakland County Sheriff's Department garage. ## Romney Refuses to Shed Light on Charges of Politicking in War

POCATELLO, Idaho (U) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan has assailed the Johnson administration on the Vietnam war, saying the administration had made some decisions on a basis of political expediency. He declined to give an example of his charge.

Romney, on a tour of the West, spent more than 30 minutes at a Pocatello news conference yesterday parrying questions about his position on Vietnam.

Asked if he would say what the political expediencies were, the Republican governor replied:

"No, I will not."

Light Snow, Cold Due for Awhile

Cloudy, cold with snow flurries is the prediction for today through Friday with less than one-tenth of an inch in snow flurries throughout the period.

Temperatures for the next five days will be about 10 degrees below the normal high of 32 to 37 and low of 15 to 21.

Tonight's low is expected to register 12 to 17, the weatherman said.

Morning winds, southwesterly and gusty at 12 to 25 miles, will shift to northwesterly early tonight.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 19. The 2 p.m. reading was 35.

Firebird Shown Tomorrow

The Firebird will make its first official appearance in automobile showrooms tomorrow, with area dealers taking the wraps off Pontiac Motor Division's new sports car entry.

The advertising and promotional introduction date was held to by company officials although early deliveries of some Firebird models resulted in their

"Because I choose not to," Romney replied.

"Do you mean you make charges and won't substantiate them?" he was asked.

NOSTALGIC TOUR

"Not at the time," he said. Asked if his position on Vietnam was not political expediency, he replied: "No."

Romney spent yesterday on a nostalgic tour of some scenes of his boyhood in agricultural eastern Idaho, and in three speeches continued to hammer away at the Johnson administration.

At the news conference, Idaho Gov. Don W. Samuelson said "it's a little too early to make any commitments," when asked if he would support Romney for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I can't tell you at this point because he hasn't announced," said Samuelson.

TRIP TO AID DECISION

Romney has not announced for the nomination, but has indicated he is considering it and is making this trip to help him decide.

Romney's trip earlier took him to Alaska and Utah. He will be in New Mexico and Arizona before he returns to Michigan.

He was scheduled to fly to Albuquerque, N.M., this afternoon.

At the news conference preceding his evening address at a Republican fundraising dinner, newsmen zeroed in on statements Romney made about Vietnam a day earlier in Salt Lake City.

premature appearance on the street almost a month ago.

Available in both hardtop and convertible styles, Firebird is aimed at the market presently dominated by Ford's Mustang, Chevrolet's Camaro and Plymouth's Barracuda.

The Firebird is also comparable in size to other sports car models.

A high-speed bullet-punctuated chase ended in death for a Pontiac man fleeing Oakland County Sheriff's deputies after a holdup in Pontiac Township last night.

Emmett E. Ransom, 26, of 366½ Ferry died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital about 11 p.m., some 40 minutes after the robbery. He was shot once in the left side, deputies said.

Ransom was pursued west on Auburn into Pontiac at speeds exceeding 120 miles per hour after he was seen running from the Holdsworth Market, 2653 Auburn, moments after a holdup, according to deputies.

The chase ended when he plowed into a snow bank at Auburn and South Shirley, then reportedly ignored deputies' orders to halt.

He put the car into gear and attempted to drive away, striking Deputy Gerald Reeves who then fired into the car, investigators said.

FALLS ONTO STREET

After traveling approximately 100 feet on Shirley, the car stopped against the curb and Ransom fell out onto the street, deputies said.

Capt. Leo Hazen said a foreign-model 38-caliber automatic pistol, fully loaded, was taken from Ransom's jacket, along with a wad of money and a wallet belonging to William Holdsworth, 48, owner of the robbed store.

A man had been observed cruising in a car on Auburn in front of the market prior to the holdup by Deputy Roland Pless, who was on routine patrol, Hazen said.

Pless said he became suspicious and radioed the license number to the sheriff's office, then pulled into an adjoining parking lot when the man entered the store.

ORDERED HIM TO HALT

Moments later, according to Hazen, Ransom ran out and Pless ordered him to halt.

When the deputy turned to ask if everyone was all right in the store, Ransom raced to his car and drove away, Hazen said.

Pless said he fired a warning shot, then emptied his gun at the vehicle. Reeves then arrived at the scene and both cars pursued Ransom to Auburn and S. Shirley.

Holdsworth told deputies he and his wife were alone in the store at the time of the robbery. He said the handi- entered, pulled a gun and ordered the cash register emptied, then took his billfold.

Investigators said they had not yet determined whether Ransom suffered the fatal wound at the holdup scene or where the chase ended.

An autopsy is scheduled today. Both the sheriff's department and Pontiac police officials said they have no record on Ransom.

Hazen said other law enforcement agencies are being contacted for a possible record.

GM Lays Off 8,300 Locally

An estimated 8,300 local auto workers are among 29,400 General Motors Corp. employees laid off today because of a parts shortage created by a wildcat strike in Ohio.

GM spokesmen indicated 80,000 were marked for layoffs nationwide as a result of the Mansfield, Ohio, walkout.

Two of Pontiac's three GM plants were hit by the parts shortage that sent workers home at the close of operations yesterday.

A total of 5,000 workers were furloughed at Pontiac Motor Division. Some 2,000 of those affected are engaged in final assembly operations, while 3,000 other hourly workers elsewhere in the plant are also off.

An estimated 3,300 are laid off from assembly operations at the Fisher Body plant here, a spokesman said.

Meantime, Pontiac Motor plant turns have been canceled until plant production resumes.

GM said a series of layoffs, to be

"The 80,000 figure is conservative," a GM spokesman said. "It could hit 100,000."

The nation's biggest auto builder said its assembly lines would halt because the strikebound Fisher Body plant in Mansfield no longer is producing parts.

Ford Recalling 217,000 Cars to Fix Brake Fault

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. is calling 217,000 of its 1966 and 1967 model cars into service shops for inspection of possible power brake faults.

The power-assist portion of the brake systems on some of the cars may fail in cold weather after a prolonged period of parking, causing an increase in the pressure needed to push down the brake pedal and stop the car, Ford said.

The company also said steering wheel assemblies will be replaced in 5,900 of the recalled vehicles, all new Thunderbirds equipped with automatic speed-control devices.

Besides Thunderbirds, the recall for possible brake problems include Falcons, Fairlanes, Comets, Mustangs and Cougars. The vehicles are 1966 and 1967 models equipped with power brakes.

Those cars without power brakes, as well as Lincoln Continentals, standard-size Fords and Mercurys with power brakes, are not affected, the company said.

RECENT BLIZZARDS

Ford said Tuesday that recent blizzard conditions in the northern United States and Canada aggravated the power-brake problem.

The brake system is "fail safe," the company said, "but the pedal pressure required to stop the car in the event of an inoperative booster is increased considerably."

EASILY CHECKED

Ford said the problem easily can be checked and corrected "if the driver will test his brakes as he starts slowly from the garage or driveway. Three or four applications of the foot pedal after starting the engine will provide proper operation of the brake booster."

State Senate Passes Bill to Delay Medicaid Impact

LANSING (AP) — Senate Republicans, aided by a maverick Democrat, Tuesday passed a bill to delay full implementation of Michigan's Medicaid program — approved by last year's Democratic-controlled Legislature.

The bill, sponsored by Sen. Charles Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, conforms with a delay ordered last December by Gov. George Romney and subsequently overruled by Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley.

The measure, passed 21-14 with surprisingly little Democratic opposition, would delay full implementation of the final two phases of the health services program.

Romney ordered a similar delay, saying implementation of the program according to a legislative timetable would cost the state a total of $63 million this fiscal year. The Legislature had appropriated $21 million for the program.

EXCEEDED AUTHORITY

Kelley ruled that Romney had exceeded his authority in ordering the delay in implementation and also said the legislative timetable was not valid. This meant the full program would have gone into effect on Oct. 1, Kelley said.

Joining the Republicans was Sen. James Gray, D-Warren, who explained his vote by saying he felt there is not enough money available to give the program full effect.

"We have to cut back until we come up with something we can afford," said Gray, adding that in a short time the program could cost as much as a 2½ per cent income tax would bring in.

Zollar said the action was "a step in the right direction in what would be a constant fight against the federal government in its increasing tendency to inaugurate expensive matching-fund programs and then pulling out leaving states to carry the full load."

He said the bill, if also passed by the House, could "save Michigan $21 million this year and about $6 million each succeeding year."

Sen. Roger Craig, D-Dearborn, attacked the bill as "the beginning of a Romney backlash of social legislation passed in the last Legislature."

HAVE A SURPLUS?

"We have a surplus," Craig said. "If the governor wants to save the surplus he should have thought of it before he signed the bill."

Romney has said the Medicaid bill was approved before federal guidelines were set and its full implications known.

County Units Regrouped, Murphy Tells

Daniel T. Murphy, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Auditors, yesterday outlined a revised departmental operation plan that would place major functions under four departments.

Murphy said centralization of the scattered departments at ready under the board of auditors was the main purpose of the departmental revision.

The reorganization, which will place some 20 functions under four groupings, has no effect on the departments headed by elected officials or on the courts.

Murphy said that the first of the four main departments will include the county engineering unit, lands and grounds function and the maintenance and operations departments.

Heading this department will be Joseph Joachim, who has been chief engineer for the county.

ENGINEERING HEAD

Theodore D. Dziurman will succeed Joachim as engineering head and William G. Atchison will continue as building maintenance superintendent.

Kenneth Van Natta, who heads the lands and grounds operation as well as being parks chief, will continue in his present capacity.

The first of the four consolidations affects over 100 employees. More than 1,000 will be included in the establishment of the four centralized departments.

Murphy said that the three not established main departments will be accounting, personnel and central services.

Previously, all department heads reported to the board of auditors. Chiefs of the consolidated departments will be intermediaries between the other department heads and the auditors.

Board to View School Plans

Final plans for project at four elementary schools will be considered by the Waterford Township Board of Education at its 7:30 p.m. meeting tomorrow.

Total construction costs for the projects are estimated at $1,246,000 for Burt; $306,500 for Four Towns; $294,000 for Schoolcraft and $288,500 for Beaumont.

The schools will be provided with gymnasium-multipurpose room complexes, library-instructional materials centers, new classrooms, furnishings and equipment and site development.

Also tomorrow night, contracts are expected to be awarded for interior remodeling work at Waterford Township High School and for a football grandstand at Kettering High School.

Purchase of a 15-acre site off Crescent Boulevard for the New Crescent Lake Elementary School also will be considered by the board.

Rules Are Eased for Reporters at Speck Trial

PEORIA, Ill. (AP) — Judge Herbert C. Pascher modified today — in part — his controversial guidelines for reporters covering the trial of Richard Speck, charged with murdering eight student nurses.

The judge handed out a supplemental order before the start of the third day of Speck's trial.

The rules had drawn protests from spokesmen for newspapers and broadcasters and prompted a suit requesting the Illinois Supreme Court to remove some of the restrictions.

The supplemental order lifted the ban on use of the official transcript by newsmen — one of the points criticized in the protests and in the suit.

SMOKE AND FIRE—This is an air view of firemen battling fire after a loaded oil tank truck and a freight train collided yesterday in The Plains, Va. The burning truck can be seen in center of photo, directly behind the railroad tracks running horizontally.

An explosion after the crash started the fires, which consumed a three-story apartment hotel, a house, lumber yard, a hardware store and two private garages. Seven families ran from the hotel and escaped injury. Three firemen suffered minor burns.

GM Lays Off 8,300 Locally

The strike by 2,650 members of the United Auto Workers union is in its seventh day, although the UAW's international officers, as well as GM, have condemned it as illegal. Neither side in Mansfield seemed ready to budge.

Some 2,300 members of striking Local 549 voted unanimously last night to continue the strike and Local President Robert Hall said a return to work before a settlement is reached would be unthinkable.

GM officials said they would not negotiate until the strikers get back on the job.

EXTENDED STRIKE

A GM spokesman said "an extended strike could be disastrous. I guess up to 200,000 of GM's 375,000 jobs in the United States are involved in functions which need the parts we're already short of."

He said a long strike would lead to layoffs in related industries — production of spark-plugs, batteries, headlights and other automobile parts.

The strike stems from an incident last week in which GM officials told two men to move dies for 1968 model cars to the shipping dock. The dies were found for GM's Fisher Body plant at Pontiac for testing.

GM SUSPENSION

The two workers refused to move the dies and GM suspended them.

GM said testing work normally is done at the Mansfield plant but, in this case, equipment for the test was unavailable. Besides, a GM spokesman said, the firm has shifted such tests within the company previously.

The union balked, saying the action amounted to subcontracting within the corporation. Then 107 members of the UAW local, including union officers, were suspended for what the company called contract violations.

That led to a general walkout.

Sewer System Link to Macomb Is Seen

R. J. Alexander, director of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, said yesterday that it seems likely the Clinton-Oakland Sewer system will connect to a proposed Macomb County interceptor line instead of the Dequindre Interceptor.

Alexander's observation was an aftermath of a meeting of the drain committee of the County Board of Supervisors.

The committee voted unanimously to accept the recommendation of an engineering study which cautioned against sale or lease of capacity rights in the Dequindre Interceptor because they may be needed.

This resolution will be filed with the County Board of Supervisors as a recommendation.

After learning of the drain committee's action, Alexander said it came as no surprise and added it probably would rule out any chance that 11 of the 14 communities using the Dequindre Interceptor would approve a sale or lease of rights.

Sentence Given in Boat Death

2 Years Probation With No Drinking

A Fernside man was placed on two years probation yesterday for causing the death of a Pontiac father of four in a boating accident July 4, 1966.

The sentence was imposed on Harold Ions, 53, formerly of Waterford Township, by Oakland County Circuit Judge William R. Beasley.

Ions, who pleaded guilty last month to negligent homicide, also was ordered not to drink any alcoholic beverages, or to attend any functions where alcohol is served during the probation.

A tool and die maker, Ions originally had been charged with manslaughter in the death of Walter Balasky, 30, of 174 Florence, but was permitted to enter the guilty plea on the lesser offense.

Balasky drowned after being thrown from his outboard fishing boat when it was rammed by Ions' inbound cruiser on Oakland Lake.

DIDN'T STOP

Ions did not stop to give assistance and fled to his lake-side home, where he was arrested shortly after the accident by sheriff's deputies.

Three other persons in Balasky's boat, the victim's wife and in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Linda West of 4675 First, Independence Township, suffered cuts and bruises.

The collision shattered the starboard hull of the Balasky's boat and gouged a trail of propeller marks across the lake's surface.

What Lent Means to Me

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the 12th in a series of articles through Lent written by prominent Pontiac area citizens.)

By JUDGE DONALD E. ADAMS
Oakland County Probate Court

Quite a few years ago as part of our program for graduation from high school I gave a talk on "Tomorrow's Assignment, a Test." Usually success or failure depends on the preparation preceding an event. That to me is the special significance of Lent.

Jesus had a goal, and he contemplated its uncertainties, risks and required sacrifices. Then he set about with his preparations leading toward that Easter accomplishment.

In my daily work I see so many individuals who have no goal—or are pursuing empty, unworthy aims. I hear so many parents who would save their children from any sacrifice or hard decision. The message of Lent puts into focus—there is a way.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Township patrolmen by a single vote elected to be represented by the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, AFL-CIO, at an election yesterday conducted by the Michigan Labor Mediation Board.

The men will be represented in contract negotiations as members of Metropolitan Council 23, with offices in Detroit.

The vote was 11-10 with balloting allowed only by men under the grade of sergeant. Men who joined the force since the petition for election was filed in December also were not allowed to vote.

The State Municipal Finance Commission yesterday approved the sale of $1.16 million in general obligation bonds to finance a library for Bloomfield Township.

The bond issue was approved by voters last November. The funds will go for a library site and building.

Petitions Late; Vote to Wait

The Walled Lake City Council received petitions last night requesting a vote on annexation of a portion of Commerce Township but the petitions were not in time to permit an April 3 referendum.

Howard Bond, city attorney, said there is not enough time under the law to submit the question to a vote by April as originally planned. No new dates have been discussed.

The petitions, from residents of the city and of the portion of Commerce Township proposed for annexation, contained about 120 signatures, according to Bond, or about 20 more than required.

They will now be presented to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors and its boundaries commission for recommendation and action.

The area to be affected lies between 14 Mile, Oakley Park and Haggerty to the east of the city and from 14 Mile and Beck up to the village of Wolverine Lake on the west.

RETAINS JAMAICA CONTROL — Donald Sangster smiles and waves in Kingston, Jamaica, last night at the news that his Labor party retained control in Jamaica's general election.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Authorities led by State Attorney Richard Gerstein sledgehammered their way into a luxurious North Miami home last night and shattered what Gerstein said was a nationwide multimillion-dollar bookmaking operation.

Authorities arrested Martin P. Kane, 44, who Gerstein said had just accepted more than $250,000 in bets over the phone in two hours before the raid.

He said Kane's operation was part of the national bookmaking empire of Gilbert L. Beckley, 55, who was arrested on gambling charges in Nassau County, N.Y., two weeks ago.

Gerstein was accompanied by two of his own investigators and three men from Nassau County, including Dist. Atty. William Cahn, who supplied the information that made the raid possible.

Cahn and Gerstein gave this account:

When the seven men knocked on the door with a search warrant, Kane's wife yelled "Twenty eight!" apparently a code warning to her husband busy on the phone in an upstairs bedroom.

HAMMER DOWN DOOR

As she shrieked, the raiders brought a sledgehammer down on the big front door. The investigators found Kane trying to flush betting sheets down the bathroom toilet.

The Kanes' three children, all under 12, went about their games, ignoring the authorities. They later left in a car driven by their mother.

Kane, described by Gerstein as "a bookie's bookie," was charged with operating a gambling house and bookmaking.

Raiders said letters found in the home and a car parked across the street belonged to Beckley, described by Cahn as the boss of a nationwide book-making setup taking on $100 million a year in the New York area alone.

Gerstein said Cahn had come to Miami with evidence gathered in Nassau County that made it possible to obtain a search warrant. Cahn said there may be other raids on similar operations in Miami and throughout the country.

Cahn said records seized in Kane's bedroom indicated he was taking bets on college and professional basketball games.

Recovered slips indicated $14,000 in wagers on one college basketball game alone, authorities said.

WHY LET TENSION MAKE YOU ILL—AND ROB YOU OF PRECIOUS SLEEP?

Do everyday tensions often build up to the point where you find it hard to do your work? Where you have difficulty getting along with your friends... frequently "take it out" on your family... even feel ready to explode? It's true! Tension can actually make you ill. ## He Crusades for Poor

Rochester's Rebel Profiled

By L. GARY THORNE
Assistant City Editor-Suburban

If Bermuda shorts ever become partially acceptable attire for businessmen, among the first to adopt the new style—despite his bulk—will be George H. Wilhelm.

Wilhelm, who now tends Rochester's urban renewal program, is a rebel, the genuine article unreconstructed and undaunted.

Such an attribute is relatively novel in a public servant. It is all the more unusual in jolly George who must deal so closely with the federal government, often characterized as a straightlaced old lady.

Professionally Wilhelm is an administrator. Philosophically, however, he is a knight without shining armor.

"Darn," he'll quip, "I got knocked off my white horse again."

EASY HUMOR

Despite his easy humor, which enables him to shrug off defeat, Wilhelm is serious in his role of crusader. In fact, it prompted him to quit his $10,000-a-year post as assistant Pontiac urban renewal director.

Wilhelm's concern for the plight of the downtrodden led him to join the war on poverty. Seemingly, the post would have been an ideal spot for him.

Even as an urban renewal official, he demonstrated his interest in helping the poor and displaced.

***
In Pontiac, Wilhelm, who exercises a special talent for extracting comprehensive figures from complex federal documents, worked diligently for citizen participation in urban renewal. The human element, he indicates, is vital to success of the rebuilding program.

DISAGREEMENT

Joining the antipoverty effort, Wilhelm was named director of the South Oakland Community Action Center of the Oakland County Office of Economic Opportunity.

He resigned after four months indicating only that he disagreed with economic office policy. He refrained from public attack on his former bosses.

The 40-year-old Wilhelm, however, retained his interest in the fight against poverty. Six months later he was selected and eventually seated as the NAACP representative on the antipoverty commission.

***
Of his selection, the University of Detroit civil engineering graduate said, "I am concerned with program development, not personalities involved in the antipoverty campaign."

BOTH ARE CRITICAL

Wilhelm of 2664 Penna., West Bloomfield Township, succeeded Charles M. Tucker, past president of the Oakland County chapter of the NAACP, as that group's commission spokesman.

Both Tucker and Wilhelm have been critics of the local antipoverty effort.

Meantime, Wilhelm directs urban renewal in Rochester. The Rochester project is a compact, and—in terms of the possible complexities of federal programs—a relatively simple program, according to Wilhelm. The indication is that his tenure in Rochester will be short.

FIELD ENGINEER

While his interests now appear to lean toward the administrative end of public service, Wilhelm worked nearly 10 years for the Wayne County Road Commission starting as a field engineer.

He engaged in all phases of expressway design, advancing to the rank of design engineer.

Active in church work and a busy civic contributor, Wilhelm—a punster by practice—engages in golf and bowling as hobbies. He also participates in choral singing and amateur theatrics. The latter he admits to with a quick grin.

An upcoming stage effort by the Rochester urban renewal director will see him don the garb of a Roman centurion. "Yah," laughs Wilhelm, "I even got a sword."

Avon Twp. Will Fill 2 Board Vacancies

AVON TOWNSHIP—Two new trustees to fill a pair of vacancies will be named by the township board at its meeting tonight.

Wayne Holman and Clarence Shaw resigned with incorporation of the city of Rochester earlier this month. Holman and Shaw reside within the new city limits and are therefore ineligible to serve on the township government.

Also expected at tonight's meeting is the appointment of two new constables and a new member of the board of review.

The township was expected to officially transfer the duties and power of the old Zoning Board of to the Avon Township Planning Commission authorized earlier this month.

Supervisor Cyril Miller is expected to report on the transfer of ownership of Mount Avon

Dog Clinic Set

NOVI—A dog clinic will be held at the Township Hall from 1 to 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Dog owners can take their dogs in for shots and licenses at that time.

Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of the Oakland County Animal Welfare Division, is in charge tonight.

NEGOTIATIONS

The board is in receipt of a letter from the city requesting further negotiations regarding settlement of ownership of the Avon Township Park and Library, both of which lie within the city limits.

The city council has appointed a committee comprised of Mayor Roy Rowland, City Attorney Arthur Cox and City Manager William Sinclair to work out the details.

The township, meanwhile is prepared to take up the 1967 Library budget at its meeting tonight.

Second Signing for Sewer Pact

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The township will sign for the second time a pact today agreeing to join the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor.

Permission to sign the pact was agreed to unanimously by the township board last night.

Independence will join West Bloomfield, Orion, Avon and Pontiac townships in the proposed $16.9-million project—$28,627,500 including interest.

Only Waterford Township is unsigned in the agreement which would see construction of the trunk lines for connection with the Dequindre Interceptor to be extended from Detroit.

***
Revised Clinton-Oakland contracts were prepared after Pontiac dropped out of the system.

Sex Education Program Eyed

Group in Holly Twp. Calls School Session

HOLLY TOWNSHIP—A citizens' group will meet at 8 p.m. tonight at the high school library 805 E. Sherman, to begin formulating a sex education program for the district.

It was decided to form the group, to be called the health council, at a meeting called earlier this month by the board of education advisory council of the Holly Area School District.

Mrs. Merton Pelton of 3211 M-47, one of the organizers, outlined goals of the proposed health council.

"We will try to set up a group to explore a program that will be carried on from kindergarten through high school," Mrs. Pelton said.

***
"There is a basic need for this type of program in our schools and we will try to gather people who are interested in the program," she said.

TRAIN TEACHERS

She indicated the first task will be to train teachers for the subject and to gather information on how the program will be carried on.

"We have to take a first step," she said.

In the meeting earlier this month, the group heard Miss Marjorie Gaston, County Board of Health education director, encourage the group and offer assistance where needed.

Mrs. Pauline Iyengar, State Department of Health consultant in family life education, also has spoken to the group and pointed out "a sound sex education program helps dispell fallacies and taboos which have caused young people and their parents so much heartache."

Holly Township Education Board Sets Bus Policy

HOLLY TOWNSHIP—The board of education has decided on a bus policy that may answer a lot of problems that arose during recent snowstorms.

Residents in the southeast area of the township complained that when buses did start running, children in their area were still not picked up.

Confusion arose over which roads should be used. The school board said it would try to work out an agreement with the county road commission to determine which roads would be cleared and direct the children to the proper point.

The board also decided to write all the state legislators from the district as well as the chairman of education committees on financing for the district.

***
The letter will state that the district cannot properly meet its obligations without increased state aid. The problem of increased teachers' salaries will be cited.

Swimming Pool Vote for Milford School Scheduled Saturday

By JANICE KLOUSER

MILFORD—Swimming may not be uppermost in the minds of Huron Valley School District voters at this time of year, but they will be asked to give it some thought Saturday.

Voters are being given a "second chance" then to approve addition of a swimming pool to the Milford High School.

Just last June, they turned thumbs down on a $650,000 bond issue which would have financed a new pool.

Because of the small margin of defeat—1,357 to 1,173 school officials feel they "owe a second chance" to those who were in favor of it.

In addition to providing an improved educational program, officials point out, the pool would also provide for much needed recreational activities and water safety instruction for young people and adults after school, Saturdays and during the summer.

Presently, physical education facilities at the high school can accommodate 420 students daily. By the time the addition is completed, the capacity would be 1,500 students.

Tentatively, plans call for a pool about 75 feet by 25 feet with an off-center 2-foot diving area which could accommodate three individual swimming groups at one time.

***
Officials say the pool will be "competition" size.

There would be a small charge of 25 to 50 cents for persons using the pool after school hours to help pay operating expenses of the pool.

It has been estimated it costs $7,000 to $10,000 more per year to operate a pool rather than a second gymnasium but, according to officials, operating funds voted last July are sufficient to cover the costs.

The pool was recommended over the second gymnasium by the citizens' committee, a University of Michigan study committee and the board of education because "children benefit from water safety instruction as well as from the more creative type of physical education program a pool provides."

Authorities are also stressing a favorable vote will not cause a direct increase in the present bonded indebtedness tax rate of 7 mills or 7¢ per $1,000 of equalized valuation.

It will, however, stretch payments on the bond issue approved last June over an extended period of time "so that future generations and future residents can help pay for the pool."

Last June, the bonding tax rate was raised to 7 mills per $1,000 of equalized valuation to borrow money from the State School Bond Loan Fund at little or no interest.

***
If the pool is approved, plans are to incorporate it into plans for a proposed addition to the high school.

"LOGICAL TIME"
"The board feels it is a logical time to build the pool while the high school addition is being constructed," said Gerald Kartz, administrative assistant.

***

Work would probably start next fall on the addition which was approved as part of the earlier bond issue.

***
The vote is being held on a Saturday to give more people, particularly men who are home from work, a chance to vote.

Romeo Man Put in House Post

ROME—Louis H. Freye, 245 Church, a former state representative and current chairman of the Michigan Waterways Commission, has been named assistant clerk of the House of Representatives by Speaker Robert Waldron, R-Grosse Pointe.

***
Frey served in the House from 1945 to 1948 and in 1951 and 1952. He was first appointed to the Waterways Commission in 1959 and was reappointed in 1962 and 1964.

GERALD E. McNALLY

JP Is Named in White Lake

Board Picks Ex-Aide to County Prosecutor

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—The Township Board last night appointed Gerald E. McNally, 1775 Porter, as justice of the peace, replacing Joseph F. Hynds who resigned recently.

An attorney, McNally was with the Oakland County prosecutor's office prior to entering private practice in December.

McNally was graduated from the University of Michigan Law School in 1963 and served as assistant city attorney for Dearborn for two years.

He is a member of the township planning commission and has taught philosophy at the University of Detroit evening school for three years.

***
Hynds resigned to move to Florida.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business last night, the board discussed the possibility of joining the Wayne County Public Library Board but took no action.

Currently the township does not belong to a library association but residents have been able to use the Highland and Waterford Township libraries.

It had planned to join the North Oakland Library Contract which folded last year when Pontiac withdrew.

***
If the township joins the Wayne County Board, residents will be eligible to use all libraries within that system.

Board Refuses Zone Request

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—A request to rezone 10 acres of land on Welch Road from residential to multiple dwelling was turned down by the Township Board last night.

The action complied with recommendations of the planning commission and the Oakland County Coordinating, Zoning and Planning Committee.

Residents voiced their objections to the request at a recent public hearing.

***
In other business, the board discussed preliminary plans for an addition to the township hall.

***
The proposed 2,000-square-foot addition would cost about $70,000, according to Township Supervisor Thomas Tiley, and would have to come out of next year's budget.

DECISION LATER

Tiley said a decision cannot be made on the addition until after the annual meeting April 1 at which time the board must get authorization to spend the money.

***
The board also approved a contract with the Wayne County Public Library Board which will enable residents to use libraries in communities belonging to the board.

Petitions Oppose Trailer Courts

ALMONT—Petitions are circulating in the village and township in an effort to ward off zoning for trailer courts.

***
Donald Burley, township clerk, said the petitions will attempt to eliminate trailer courts altogether by requiring special sewage disposal systems for the facilities.

Batman as Clerk?

Elections Wide Open in 3 Villages

Batman for president, or village clerk? It could happen next month when voters go to the polls for local elections in three area communities.

***
Holly voters in Oakland County and electors in the Lapeer County villages of Dryden and Metamora will have a wide-open choice on election day.

A new twist in the state election law causes the blank ballots.

No names can be listed on the March 13 ballots, only the positions, according to Mrs. Mildred Gray, Dryden village clerk, and Mrs. Margaret Brauer, Metamora village clerk.

***
The foul-up is the result of an election ruling made last year concerning general law villages not organized under a home rule charter.

NO OTHER PARTIES

The ruling states no other parties—other than those that appeared on the ballot in the November general election—are allowed on non-home rule village ballots.

In Oakland County the village of Holly faces the same unusual election.

Said Mrs. Gray, "We even sent in affidavits after the filing stating the candidates' party affiliation, but the Secretary of State's office refused them."

***

PROGRESSIVE PARTY

In Metamora it was the Progressive party—no longer allowable on the ballot—that caused the mixup.

All candidates had intended to run on the Progressive ballot.

The only real race stacking up in Metamora is for the two seats on the council. Incumbent Richard York and Richard Roe are being challenged by William Willis and Frank Andler.

***
Percy Clark will run again for president; Mrs. Brauer for clerk; Mrs. Florence Ray, treasurer; and Edward Hinton for assessor.

WANTS TO STAY

In Dryden Oliver Braidwood has filed to retain the position of village president and Mrs. Gray, clerk; Mrs. Jean Mulholland, appointed treasurer in September, will run again. No one filed for the position of assessor.

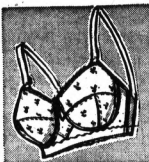

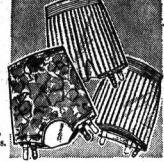

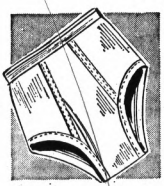

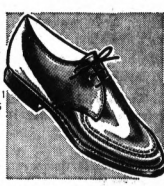

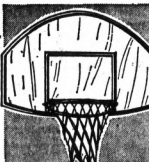

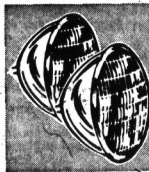

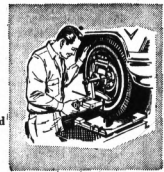

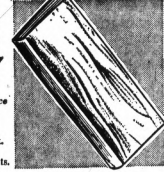

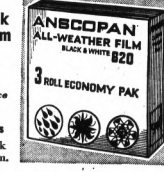

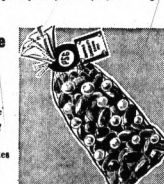

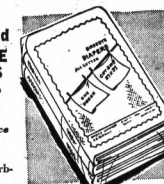

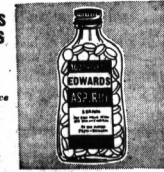

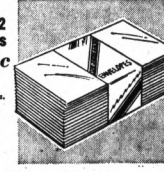

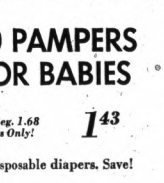

Irvine Talmadge, Glenn Fletcher and Raymond Stevens, incumbent trustees, have no opposition.

SIGNING UP—Members of the Oakland County 4-H Club volunteer for the club's candy sale to raise money for an exchange trip this summer to Iowa. Signing up the members is John Tyson, club secretary. An auction will also be held May 6 to help finance the trip from July 5-15.

Nation Pays Tribute to Founder

It is 235 years since the birth of GEORGE WASHINGTON. In our kindergartens, walls are decorated with cut-outs of hatchets and cherry trees, mythical symbols of WASHINGTON's unswerving rectitude. Older students learn that he commanded the Continental Army during the War of Independence, that he later became the first president of the United States.

American history majors in college may make more detailed study of his military campaigns, his contribution to the writing of the Constitution, the actual crises he faced as chief executive.

But for most of us, Washington was the man who won the Revolution, the wealthy but democratic aristocrat who lived at Mount Vernon and became the Father of his Country, the man whose birthday is an excuse for a holiday. We are content to let it go at that.

If that were all there was to it, why then should WASHINGTON be as equally respected by professional students of history? Because his greatness holds up even under the most critical examination of his life and works.

We venerate him not only because of his place in history. His memory is a continuing inspiration to living men, who must face the crises and changes of their own times. Because of this, Americans 235 years from now will honor GEORGE WASHINGTON.

Federal Budgets Challenge Comprehension

When you talk about the Federal Budget, someone is likely to ask: "Which one?" For, as though one didn't provide enough confusion, there are three to bewilder experts and laymen alike.

The official one — the Administration budget that the President has annually presented to Congress since 1921 — projects the administration's estimate of spending for the fiscal year ahead, and the appropriations that will be asked of Congress.

But there can be many a slip between an appropriation request and the disposition Congress makes of it. Also, the money appropriated may not even be spent during the budget year.

As it now stands, the Number One budget figures to run a deficit of $8.1 billion for the 1967-68 fiscal year.

Next comes the so-called Cash budget. Along with the spending appropriations sought it embraces total cash flow into and out of the national treasury. This includes trust funds such as Social Security and highway funds and Federal agencies like the Federal Home Loan Banks and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp.

Since these Government departments are mainly self-supporting and frequently show a surplus, their inclusion in an expense budget is unsound accounting practice and misleading.

As a result, budget Number Two makes much better reading with its indicated deficit of $4.3 billion.

Finally, there is the National Income Accounts budget. Unlike the other two, it uses standard bookkeeping procedures. It counts taxes as they accrue and counts Government spending when the goods purchased are delivered (Accounts Payable) rather than when the Treasury writes the checks.

Budget Number Three looks the best on paper. Its estimated deficit is $2.1 billion.

We wonder how long a major American business would exist under such a snarl of accounting and how long its stockholders would put up with it.

Condemns 'Mutilation' of Literary Classics

When is a classic not a classic? When it is adapted for American schoolrooms, complains English Journal, published by National Council of Teachers of English.

It cites Mark Twain's "Adventures of Huckleberry Finn" as an example of books that have been simplified and bowdlerized for student readers.

There are at least five student-designed versions of Huck Finn on the market. In all of them, the original has been tampered with to bring the text within the range of readers with a limited vocabulary and to condense the story for the sake of rapid reading.

"There is danger," warns the Journal, "of teaching intellectual dishonesty in exposing (students) to these desecrated classics. . . . The obvious manner of talking down to young readers in these adaptations only adds insult to mental and emotional injury in a climate bereft of opportunity for esthetic experience and reflection."

Transmission of our cultural heritage is accomplished partially through the teaching of the classics. Those that have survived have had an intrinsic merit of their own. It should not be snuffed out by precautionary or protective measures.

Hawks, Doves Could Be Soothed

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — The Johnson administration has put itself in a position where it can mollify the "hawks" and comfort the "doves" if it should decide to call off the bombing of get peace talks started in Vietnam.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara laid the ground work for it, intentionally or not, in testimony he gave senators late last month although it wasn't made public until this week.

The North Vietnamese have demanded an end to the air war before any peace discussion can begin.

He said the renewed bombing was necessary "in fairness to our own troops and those of our allies."

He said he had hoped the pause would induce North Vietnam to seek peace but, instead, it used that period to supply its troops in South Vietnam.

WAS RESTRAINED

The resumed bombing, as in the past, was restrained and not all-out, which didn't please the "hawks" who have called for far heavier bombing. At the same time, it kicked the "doves" who want no bombing done at all.

But McNamara told the senators the bombing of North Vietnam has failed to reduce significantly the infiltration of men and materials into South Vietnam.

And to those who want the bombing stepped up, McNamara gave this answer: there is nothing he could conceive of in the future which would significantly reduce the flow of men and material into the south.

If now, under domestic and world pressure, the Johnson administration should stop the bombing as a condition for peace talks, it can tell the "doves" it wasn't giving up much since the bombing didn't cripple the north anyway.

A CONCESSION

At the same time, it can argue it made a great concession toward peace because McNamara told the senators that, despite his reservations, he believes the air campaign had been successful when viewed against this country's stated objectives in bombing at all.

He listed these as the objectives: 1. increasing the morale; 2. increasing the cost to the north for its infiltration; and, 3. raising the political price paid by the north to continue the campaign in the south.

"Those were the stated objectives we had in mind," McNamara said, "and we have accomplished them."

A Guiding Hand From The Past

David Lawrence Says:

Rights Bombshell Perils Dems

WASHINGTON — Maybe the Johnson administration doesn't realize it, but the bombshell just thrown into the public forum by the U.S. Commission on Civil Rights could bring about a defeat for the Democratic party across the nation.

The commission demands the elimination throughout the country of "racially imbalanced schools" — which are defined as those "in which Negro pupils constitute more than 50 per cent of the total enrollment."

The solution favored is the assignment of Negroes only to schools in which at least half of the pupils are white.

The disturbance that could be felt by communities from such a move, along with the open-housing legislation also urged by the commission, would certainly provoke considerable resentment at the polls.

The commission's report to the President could not have occasioned more surprise than if it had recommended as a means of correcting "racial imbalance" that intermarriage between whites and Negroes be accelerated so that their children would tend to be more equal in mental achievements.

RECOMMENDATION

One of the recommendations made by the commission is the following:

"Congress should establish a uniform standard providing for the elimination of racial isolation in the schools."

But it is significant that the Civil Rights Commission expects the states to administer the reform.

FEDERAL MONEY

"It is conceded, of course, that not much can be accomplished without cooperation from neighboring communities, and it is pointed out that the states have the authority and means for securing cooperation 'by consolidating or reorganizing school districts or by providing for appropriate joint arrangements between school districts.'"

The federal government would, to be sure, come directly into the picture by providing money to implement such programs in violation of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

President Johnson now will have to decide for himself whether to support the commission or repudiate its findings.

Certainly the electorate will be told during the campaign that a victory for the Democrats in the presidential as well as in the congressional elections will mean a significant step toward the enactment into law of the recommendations just made by the U.S. Civil Rights Commission. This is the kind of issue which affects not only national but also local elections.

Indeed, the victory of the Republicans last November in winning majorities in a large number of state legislatures and more governorships may be directly attributed to the wave of opposition which has arisen in the electorate against conformity by coercion.

Jackie's Letter to Nikita Makes Book Worthwhile

NEW YORK — The final passage of the last installment of "The Death of a President" in Look Magazine is worth the tedious journey through the rest of the material.

It is Jacqueline Kennedy's previously unpublished letter to Nikita Khrushchev written on Dec. 1, 1963, one of her last days in the White House. She has never been back.

The letter is irrelevant to the rest of the installment but it easily stands on its own merit.

It reveals the Jacqueline Kennedy millions watched and marveled at throughout the punishing ritual of the state funeral of a woman of incredible poise in the face of her demolished world.

First off, she thanks "Dear Mr. Chairman President" (Khrushchev) for sending Anastas Mikoyan to the funeral, and she concludes the letter asking Khrushchev to thank his wife for the tears she shed at the American Embassy in Moscow after signing the book of mourning.

But what makes the letter unusual and restores the widow's luster and dignity after William Manchester's seamy passages that preceded it is her clear-eyed assessment of the world and its peril, such as this incisive thought:

"The danger which troubled my husband was that war might be started not so much by the big men as by the little ones. While big men know the need for self-control and restraint, little men are sometimes moved by fear and pride."

BEFORE FIGHTING

"If only in the future the big men can continue to make the little ones sit down and talk, before they start to fight."

There have been as many hints that the two leaders engaged in informal and secret correspondence during the last months of JFK's life, bypassing their foreign ministers and ambassadors.

We don't know, but Mrs. Kennedy's letter would seem almost to be a natural continuation of a friendly exchange.

Whatever, the letter comes as a welcome relief at the end of an installment filled with pathos, lin-picking, the author's almost feminine preoccupation with picaresque frictions, injured feelings and soap-opera rhetoric.

Arrest Upheld

Columbus Dispatch

With patriotic American boys dying in Vietnam it is grievous that some other young men engage in draft card burning.

In view of this we were heartened that the Supreme Court refused to interfere with a lower court decision which held that the 1965 law to punish draft card burners is constitutional.

He was the first to be arrested under the statute.

It is just possible the majority of the high court is cognizant of the general mood of the country with respect to such matters.

Two Comment on Resignations in Township

I am glad West Bloomfield firemen are looking into the charges for which Duane K. Sanford resigned. There have been several resignations in high places that make us elderly wonder why, Mr. Citizen just reads and gripes but does nothing. It will be interesting to know who will be selected to be on the committee to investigate.

KINDA NEW RESIDENT

There is something amiss in the West Bloomfield Township governing body to create the recent resignations of two supervisors and criticism from the volunteer firemen, but with all the publicity over the last two months, 13 interested citizens attended the last board meeting. Thirteen out of over 20,000 is a poor percentage and could explain why the board can refuse to become excited over the charges filed against it.

It would be wonderful if all who were accused or had charges placed against them were able to choose their own jury or committee to investigate the charges. Taxpayers of West Bloomfield Township, this is your responsibility — not the board's. It may even be wise to have a grand jury investigate the last decade of township actions.

That would depend on the nature of your question, but send it to the office of the State Attorney General Frank Kelley, Lansing, Michigan, and ask that it be forwarded to the appropriate person.

In effect, the taxpayer would be contributing evenly to both major parties. He would have no choice about that.

With minority parties pretty well excluded, unless they racked up an improbably high vote of five million, the Democrats and Republicans would divide the proceeds of the kiddy, estimated at $60 million.

The bipartisan contributions and exclusion of minor parties are questionable features. So is the probability that this fund, instead of substituting for fat-cat contributions, would merely augment them.

But perhaps the biggest danger was that the law, once on the books, would tempt legislative wizards into making it even worse. This is already happening in the Senate.

On the good chance that the public might not leap at the option to contribute to friend and foe alike, prospective amendments are reportedly being considered in terms of authorizing appropriation of campaign money from the Treasury without any checkoff by taxpayers.

Also, ostensibly to obviate fat-cat contributions but more probably to lay claim to a fatter wad from the Treasury, they are talking about restricting, maybe even banning private contributions to presidential campaigns.

Instead of an optional $1 per head, there would be a mandatory extraction from the Treasury of more like $5 per.

All this, plus the private contributions that would slip through anyway, is understandably appetizing to the omnivorous fangs of the political establishment.

But we question how many lesser mortals will care for the idea of turning the U.S. into a land of captive political donors.

It is true enough that the entire area of campaign contributions and spending needs reform, but since when is a political grab bag a reform?

Antinepotism Law Costs Wallace $1

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — In 1963, the first year of his administration, former Gov. George C. Wallace signed into law an antinepotism act which prohibits state officials from putting their kinfolks on the payroll.

Now, because of that law, Gov. Lurleen Wallace cannot use state funds to pay her husband the $1 a year she promised him as her No. 1 adviser.

She can pay it out of her own purse, of course, but as any husband knows, that's a risky proposition.

The legislature had no idea when it passed the antinepotism law that Mrs. Wallace would be the next governor and that her husband would help run the state as her assistant.

The law says "No officer or employee of the state or any state department, bureau, committee, commission, institution, corporation, authority, or other agency of the state shall appoint any person related to him... to any job, position or office with the state or any of its agencies."

TIGHTEN UP

The loss of the $1 a year won't send Wallace to the poorhouse. But, he grined, "I'll have to tighten up on my budget."

He has always been somewhat tightfisted with his money. His wife apparently is every bit as frugal.

She is saving trading stamps — to get a new vacuum cleaner for the governor's mansion.

"It takes 17½ books of stamps to get it," an aide chuckled. "She's saving them as fast as she can."

The aim of the proposed expansion is to ease traffic flow, said Ralph E. Quinn, coordinator of the Detroit Industrial and Commercial Development Committee.

2 Dance Permits Are Turned Down

City commissioners last night refused to renew a dance permit for a Pike Street tavern and turned down a similar request from a nearby bowling alley-lounge on North Perry.

Charles Gersten, proprietor of the bar, was fined twice last year by the LCC, once for selling to intoxicated persons and three months later for fighting on the premises.

Specific recommendation to deny the permit came from John F. Reineck, assistant city manager.

Reineck also presented to the commission a request from the LCC for a city ruling on a dance-permit application from the Timberlane Lounge, 18 N. Perry.

Despite the absence of city or state objections to the request, commissioners voted 4-2 to deny it.

"Dancing and liquor don't mix," declared Commissioner Wesley J. Wood of District 6.

Commissioner John A. Dugan of District 5, citing "trouble" experienced at the nearby Central Bar, predicted the problem would simply move to the Timberlane if commissioners approved the request.

Commissioners Robert C. Irwin of District 2 and Leslie H. Hudson, District 4, both voted for approval, asking "fair opportunity" for a businessman engaged in a "legal activity."

HOSPITAL FENCING

Timberlane owners Raymond J. Bowhall and John Launinger were not present at the meeting.

Commission approval was given to a request from St. Joseph Mercy Hospital to construct fencing along a portion of Dellwood Avenue at the rear of the hospital.

Concern was voiced by District Commissioner T. Warren Fowler, however, who said heavy delivery trucks using Dellwood were a traffic hazard in the area.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren said hospital officials were aware of the problem and had indicated a willingness to work with the city in alleviating it.

City Affairs

Traffic Light Okay Resolves Dispute

A growing dispute between city officials and the State Highway Department has apparently been resolved with strong indications the department will approve installation of a traffic light on West Huron.

Howard E. Hill, highway director, in a letter presented to city commissioners last night, said a "traffic-actuated" signal on West Huron near Dwight is agreeable to the department.

Hill's letter was read to the commission by District 2 Commissioner Robert C. Irwin, who last week submitted to City Manager Joseph A. Warren some 700 signatures on petitions asking for a light.

The traffic facility — or absence of it — has been attacked by residents of the area since its removal last summer.

At that time, a crosswalk was constructed in front of Webster Elementary School.

ATTEMPTS REBUFFED

Several attempts by Warren, Irwin and other city officials had been rebuffed previously by highway engineers, who opposed interruption of West Huron traffic.

Traffic is presently uninterrupted for a half-mile stretch between Genesee and Johnson streets.

The flow of cars, particularly during rush hours, prevents safe crossing of West Huron by pedestrians and inhibits entrance to the street by other vehicles, according to citizen complaints.

A "traffic-actuated" device would be triggered by a magnetic switch beneath the pavement, set to activate the light after passage of a certain number of vehicles.

Surveys as to specific location and acquisition of the light itself will delay installation for at least 60 days, Warren estimated.

Fire Damage Down in 1966

Pontiac Records Drop of 4.5 Pct. From '65

Fire damage in the City of Pontiac last year was $14,528 lower than in 1965 — a dip of some 4.5 per cent — according to figures released by the city fire department.

A grand total of $431,997 damage was caused in 1966, down from $446,525 the previous year.

Per capita losses were $5.28 in 1966 — $5.45 in 1965.

Three fires last year were the largest contributors to the final figures, representing some 40 per cent of the total.

A blaze at the McAlliff Ford dealership at Summit and Oakland Sept. 10 caused $75,000 damage to contents and more than $25,000 damage to the building.

CHURCH BLAZE
Some $40,000 total damage was caused by a fire at the United Presbyterian Church at Joslyn and Third Oct. 16.

More than $25,000 damage was done July 25 by a fire at the Peoples Food-O-Mat Market, 465 E. Pike.

Deaths and injuries caused by fires were also fewer last year.

ONE DEATH

One person was burned fatally and eight others were injured in 1966 as opposed to three fatalities and 17 injuries in 1965.

In all, the department responded to 2,462 alarms last year, 72 fewer than the previous year.

Of these, 861 were fire runs and 385 were false alarms — both figures lower than in 1965.

One type of alarm was responded to with equal frequency in both years — rescue truck runs totalled 905 in both 1965 and 1966.

'Subtleties Affect Equality in Education'

Subtle assumptions and innuendoes can cloud the crux of racial problems which Pontiac School District citizens are attempting to discover, the director of the regional Michigan Civil Rights Commission office warned last night.

Wilma H. Ray, who has headed the CRC office here for six weeks, last night officially met members of the citizens' committee studying the equality of educational opportunity in the school district.

Organized in December on the suggestion of the CRC, the citizens' group held its second general session after a series of several subcommittee meetings during the last two months.

"As you conduct the study, I hope you're aware of the kinds of subtleties at work in this kind of framework," Miss Ray said.

"The subtleties come into play through the attitudes and behavior of those involved in the educational process."

"The teacher or principal doesn't say anything — it's inferred," she commented.

LEARNING LAG

"It's not that the quality of instruction isn't as good (for Negro children). It's that there isn't the same amount of learning taking place."

"There's the suggestion that the Negro youngster isn't capable of learning in the same way," she said.

Miss Ray, who is serving as a consultant to the committee, urged the members to "come up with bold, creative steps" that may not have been taken elsewhere.

The 50-member committee is to take 18 to 19 months for its investigation, which will result in a report and recommendations to the board of education.

FOLLOW-UP ASKED

Miss Ray said she will follow the study closely and offer help when she can.

She was asked if she would follow up to see if the board enacts recommendations.

"We're assuming that everyone is working in good faith and that the board is anxious to receive your recommendations," she said.

Although education traditionally has been thought of as the great equalizer, it cannot be considered in a vacuum, she noted. Other factors — such as housing — also should be taken into account, she said.

The fear was expressed that "forced integration" will clear the city of all but poor whites and Negroes.

"Leaders can't take the posture that they will accommodate themselves to people's fears," Miss Ray said. "The people of commitment should be making themselves heard. There should be a more vocal stand on the part of leadership."

On the same plane were 12 teachers and officials who will make a 12-week observation tour of elementary schools in the United States and Formosa.

The students' scholarships and all living and travel expenses are being paid by the U.S. Agency for International Development.

They are to be trained to assume responsible positions on their return to Vietnam.

The students, 17 to 32 years old, were chosen from more than 1,200 applicants.

After an intensive six-month course in English in the California state educational system, they will attend universities in various parts of the United States.

Cuba Knocks U.S. in Holiday Tribute

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Havana radio commanded George Washington on his birthday today, then knocked the present U.S. administration.

"Today," said the broadcast monitored in Miami, "the Cuban people pay tribute to George Washington's memory and salute in his person the ideals which . . . unfortunately do not inspire the men now ruling the federal government."

Washington's Birthday, even before the Fidel Castro regime, customarily got some degree of observance in Cuba.

Electric Car: Word Is Go in Italy

PISA, Italy (UPI) — A little David is getting a head start on the auto Goliaths in the production of electric cars. The American and European giants have been thinking electric for years and each already has its prototype battery-powered vehicle.

But so far, while trying to develop lighter and less costly batteries, they've been waiting to see what the other will do.

Waiting is not a game Marquis elderly Tuscan inventor, said he Piero Girolamo Bargagli likes, and so he is determined to get his small electric car — the "Urbanina" — on the market as soon as possible.

"Being first will give us an advantage," he said in an interview. "And we will be the first to hit the market with this kind of car unless some other small manufacturer beats us to the gun."

The marquis, a soft-spoken, elderly inventor, said he will come out in June with 1,000 "Urbaninas" and then continue to manufacture them steadily.

To prove he was not just double-clutching, he produced a ledger showing orders from just about every point on the globe — for 6,500 of his electric vehicles.

"We would have had the first series of car ready in March," said Bargagli, "but the floods last November caused serious damage to our factory."

The factory of Bargagli and Cristiani, the Marquis' partner, is located in Santa Croce Arno in the Province of Pisa and on the road to Florence.

7 FEET OF WATER
Like a good portion of Pisa it was flooded by seven feet of water last Nov. 4-5, when northern Italy was crippled by its worst floods ever.

The car Bargagli and Cristiani have developed is a tiny two-seater weighing about 750 pounds, 190 pounds of which is battery.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT

Fidgeting, nose-picking, a storming retail itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms. . . . parasites that medical experts say infect 1 out of every 3 persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it. To get rid of Pin-Worms, they must be killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W Tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:
First — a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then — Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work — kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with dangerous, highly contagious Pin-Worms which infect entire families. Get genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge small, easy-to-take tablets . . . special sizes for children and adults.

Camera Angles

By IRVING DESFOR
In Newsfeatures
Simplicity in a photo is a virtue, something to be aimed for. To achieve simplicity, a noted artist once told his students, "Perfection is gained, not when there is nothing to add, but when there is nothing more to take away."
This probably applies more to photography than to art work. Artists automatically eliminate distracting details when they draw or paint a scene.
However, if a camera were to photograph the same scene seen by an artist, everything in view would be recorded including unimportant details such as telephone poles, garbage cans or litter.
To attain perfection, therefore, photographers must be even more selective in their choice of camera angle, type of lighting and critical area of focus.
ELIMINATION
It boils down to each photographer studying a possible picture and thinking, "What can I eliminate here?"
He can certainly do without the branches sprouting from his subject's head so he'd shift the camera angle higher, lower or to one side to avoid a merger with the background.
Or he could come in closer to concentrate on one facet of the scene, making it easier to see because it is simpler.

When a scene has more than one point of interest, he might make each point the center of interest of an individual picture. With extraneous elements removed, each picture gains added strength through simplification.
MAJOR FACTOR
Camera angle is a major factor in achieving simplicity. In outdoor shooting, aiming the camera up often gives you the simplest, most natural background of nature... the sky.
At other times, when the occasion calls for it, aiming the camera downwards from a high vantage point results in simple backgrounds of grass, water, sand or snow.
Another way to simplify pictures is through lighting. By using side-lighting and back-lighting, the focal elements of a photo are reduced and the result is often more dramatic.

Kosygin's 63rd Birthday Goes Almost Unnoticed

MOSCOW (UPI) — It was not until British television was beamed here during Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin's visit to London that the Soviet people learned he had a daughter and grandson.
This fact, which has not appeared in the Soviet press, shows how little Soviet people know of the personal lives of their leaders.
Few Russians realize that yesterday was the 63rd birthday of their number two citizen.
There was no birthday congratulations in the Soviet press or special feature articles about Kosygin.
The only public notice of his birthday was in the fine print of the standard 365-page calendar which says:
"A. N. Kosygin, chairman of the Council of Ministers of the U.S.S.R., member of the Politburo of the central committee of the Communist party of the U.S.S.R., was born Feb. 21, 1904."
Despite the lack of publicity

'Ghost' Sparks French Race

LYON, France (AP) — Jacques Soustelle, a turbulent and discordant echo from Charles de Gaulle's past, is public, he was one of the chief Gaullist spokesmen in Parliament and usually acted as the Gaullist hatchet man when the time came to topple a cabinet.
In 1955, he was appointed governor general of Algeria by Premier Pierre Mendes-France. French residents of Algeria protested that he was too far to the left. Within months, the settlers had won Soustelle to their views and accepted him as their champion.
CLEAR CALL
In May 1958, when the Algerian settlers and the army were boiling up to open revolt, the Gaullist government in Paris put a guard on Soustelle's Paris apartment. Soustelle hid in the trunk of a car, fled to Geneva and flew to Algiers. There he helped channel the directionless revolution into a clear call for the return of de Gaulle, hailed then as the savior of French Algeria.
As a reward Soustelle was named minister of information when de Gaulle formed a government. Algerian terrorists fired on his car near the Arch of Triumph.
When it became clear that de Gaulle was moving toward Algerian independence, Soustelle broke with him, fled France and worked politically to support the angry settlers who saw Algeria slipping through their hands.
He has been in exile since 1960. Recently he was in Lausanne, Switzerland.
Where is he now?
"I don't know," Miriot says. "He has left Lausanne to avoid any violation of the ban on political activity from Swiss soil."
Soustelle was elected a deputy

Vassar College: Now You See It . . .

Move to Yale Contemplated

Vassar College May Vanish

By ROGER DOUGHTY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. —
"The bottom may fall out of the hair spray market."

That's how a druggist summed up the situation when he learned that the girls from Vassar College are considering bundling up their bicycles, Bermudas, books and brains and moving out of this Rip Van Winkle-ish community to head for New Haven to work in closer co-operation with the men of Yale.

As far as Poughkeepsie is concerned, this city without Vassar would be like Gotham City without Batman and Robin, Liverpool without the Beatles or Milwaukee without beer.

To the merchants of "College Row," the casual but expensive ring of shops near the school, the possible move means more than the end of a tradition that started in 1861 when Vassar was founded. "Here comes Brokeville," is the way one shop owner puts it.

Except for a few Vassar undergrads who are pinned to Princeton or Harvard men, contact with Vassar students can be shattering, having once been flattened by a hike powered by a member of the class of '62.

While civic committees have been formed to try to convince Vassar administrators that the school should stay put, area merchants are making plans to storm New Haven or go on relief.

The manager of a fashionable clothing store says she sells very little to Vassar students but that the townspeople think she does, so they come out in great numbers to buy things they think the students are buying, even though they aren't.

Many other merchants share these fears but, as always, there are two sides to the question. "Frankly," says one real estate man, "I'd be delighted to see Vassar go. If I could get hold of the property I'd make a mint promoting it as a tourist attraction. Not only is Vassar the place where 'The Group' grouped, but Jackie Kennedy attended the school. Now if only I can find out which room she lived in..."

... Now You Don't

Do-It-Yourself in Sanity Quotient

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the problems everyone has to solve today is whether the world is getting balmer — or he is. It does no good to ask your best friend. He may give you a discouraging answer. The best way is to make a periodic check up on yourself.

To determine whether you have retained or lost your marbles, figure out your own sanity quotient periodically.

How can you do this? Quite simply.

HERE'S THE QUIZ
For example, here is a quiz by which you can rate yourself:

Are you able to sit down and reason with your own children intelligently, thus helping them to improve their ways?

as you try a game-winning putt on the 18th hole?

FEEL GENEROUS?
When your neighbor buys a new car more expensive than the one you own, does it make you feel warm all over because someone you know is getting ahead?

Are you pleased if, while preparing a back yard cocktail, one of the guests steps forward with a suggestion on how to make the charcoal fire burn better?

Should someone offer to fix a traffic ticket for you, would you become righteously indignant because you feel the law ought to take its course in such matters?

After filling out your income tax forms each year, do you have the quiet satisfaction of someone who has done a good hard honest job?

IN VOTING
In a political race do you always vote for the man and never for the party?

Do you make it a policy to pay up all your bills at least a week ahead of time to avoid any possible confusion?

Are you the kind of fellow who refuses to bet on a sure thing because you think it's unfair to take money from suckers? Are you the type of husband about whom other wives say by their own mates, "Why can't you be more like him?"

LOSE TEMPER
Do you make it a point never to lose your temper, no matter what the provocation? When you decide to give up a bad habit, such as smoking too much or cussing out the government, can you do it easily and without a single relapse?

Have you already done your Christmas shopping for this year? Well, now let's look at the box score.

UNUSUAL CASE
If the answer to all the foregoing questions was "yes," there is no doubt that you are an unusual case. You are theoretically 100 per cent normal.

That means you are abnormally normal, the kind of a smart bore who drives everyone else around him out of their minds.

You are also probably so dully perfect and perfectly dull that your wife is planning to run off with the laundryman just to get away from you.

Masons, Knights Allies

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Officials of the Masons and the Roman Catholic Knights of Columbus have agreed to form joint civic programs on a broad basis.

In making the announcement yesterday, officials of the two organizations said that the "fraternal" spirit was an outgrowth of the Vatican Ecumenical Council, which encouraged subsequent discussion and cooperation among many Protestant, Catholic and Jewish groups.

Councils of the Knights and lodges of the predominantly Protestant Masons have cooperated on the local level in recent years for such causes as blood drives and fund-raising campaigns for civic projects.

But the pledge of cooperation to form widespread programs in the "moral, civic and social action fields," was described by the two organizations in a statement as "the first time that the highest officials met to explore avenues of cooperation."

The statement said it was agreed "that the ideal of a belief in the brotherhood of man under the fatherhood of God, which both fraternities embrace and support, could serve as a social and moral therapy for the ills of modern society."

ANNOUNCEMENT

The statement was released yesterday by George A. Newbury of Buffalo, N.Y., sovereign grand commander of the 500,000 Masons in 15 Northeast and middle Atlantic states, and John W. McDevitt of New Haven, supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus.

McDevitt represents all 1.3 million members of the Knights of Columbus in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Puerto Rico and the Philippines.

There are four million Masons in the United States, but Mason officials noted that there was no one national leader of the organization. Policy decisions, therefore, are made by sectional leaders.

Masonic officials said they expected other sectional leaders to join in the agreement reached by Newbury and McDevitt at a private meeting in New York City Jan. 19-20.

OBJECTIVES

McDevitt and Newbury cited as some of the objectives of cooperation between the two organizations:

— "Promotion of true patriotism and love of country under God."

— "Support of positive programs for development of good citizenship and respect for constituted authority, law and order."

— "Encouragement of programs for youths to train them for responsible leadership as participants in the democratic way of life."

If you thought Pontiac was coming out with just another sports car, you don't know Pontiac!

Pontiac announces not one, two, three or four, but five magnificent new Firebirds for every kind of driving.

Now you can choose from five new Firebirds with the same advanced Pontiac styling, but with five entirely different driving personalities. And they all come with supple expanded vinyl interiors, wood grain styled dash, exclusive space-saver collapsible spare, bucket seats (or you can order bench in coupes) and GM's standard safety package. All come with wide-oval tires as standard equipment. Which Firebird is for you?

Firebird 400. Coiled under those dual scoops is a 400 cubic inch V-8 that shrugs off 325 hp. It's connected to a floor-mounted heavy-duty three-speed. On special suspension with redline wide-oval tires. You can order it with a close- or wide-ratio four-speed. Or with our stupendous three-speed Turbo Hydra-Matic. This could be called the ultimate in grand touring machines. After this, there isn't any more.

Firebird HO. HO stands for High Output. As a split second behind the wheel will attest to. The Firebird HO boasts a 285-hp V-8 with a four-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts and sport striping. Standard stick is a column-mounted three-speed. Or you can specify an all-synchro floor-mounted four-speed or automatic. Naturally, all Firebird options such as Rally wheels and gauge cluster are available.

Firebird 326. Is there room for a family in a sports car? There is now. The Firebird 326 combines the excitement of a sports car with the practicality of a 326 cubic inch V-8 that delivers 250 hp on regular gas. (Yes, we said 250!) Standard transmission is an all-synchro three-speed, but you can order an automatic that does all the work for you, and options that include everything from air conditioning to stereo.

Firebird Sprint. Now you don't have to go to Europe for a sophisticated road machine. Firebird Sprint's standard motivation is a 215-hp version of our eager Overhead Cam Six. It's mounted on special suspension that practically welds it to the road. (Any road!) With a floor-mounted all-synchro 3-speed and special emblems. You can order all Firebird options like front wheel disc brakes and a hood-mounted tach.

Firebird. This is our economy Firebird—with the same exciting options and interiors as the more exotic ones. What gives it its unique personality is that it was designed for inexpensive fun driving. Its Overhead Cam Six squeezes 165 hp from regular. Order it with a column-mounted 3-speed or automatic. Like all Firebirds, it comes with seat belts with pushbutton buckles, front and rear.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Mr. M. F. Cole Gives History of Michigan

Members of Alpha, Beta, Gamma and Delta chapters of Beta Theta Phi sorority were present for Tuesday evening's 48th annual banquet in the Waldron Hotel.

Maurice F. Cole, secretary of the Historical Society of Michigan and Ferndale attorney, was the guest speaker.

He spoke of the many stories coming from the early history of Michigan and Oakland County and of the old families who made Michigan history.

Mrs. Howard Johnson, welcomed the chapter members and their guests. She is president of Alpha chapter which was hostess for the annual event.

Past chapter histories were given by their secretaries.

Honorary members present were Mesdames: Bert Parker, Arthur Kent, Frank Durkee and Miss Faye Donelson.

Mrs. Walter Kinsler, Mrs. J. Frank Coad, Mrs. Arthur McKinsler, Mrs. J. Homer Finney and Mrs. Harold Davidson were members of the committee in charge of the event.

Blue Star Mothers Mark 25th Anniversary

Five area chapters joined Pontiac Blue Star Mothers, chapter 4, at the silver anniversary luncheon, Tuesday, in the Pontiac YMCA club rooms.

Entertainment was provided by the Eastern Junior High School Bellringers, and Delbert Chase, violinist, with Mrs. Chase at the piano.

FOUNDED IN FLINT

The Blue Star Mothers of America was founded by Capt. George H. Maines of Flint in 1912. He felt that a national organization in the trying times of World War II would be of benefit to service men and women.

He called it the 'Blue Star Mothers' who in turn were to display a blue star in the window for each family member in service.

In 1943, the organization of Michigan started a separate corporation known as the 'Rehabilitation Foundation.' It bought 33 acres at Indian Lake in Michigan.

This home was for service men and women returned from the war needing a place for rehabilitation.

Glass boots, walk-a-chairs and hemolators were purchased.

Members participated in the USO, worked on blood banks and each year, placed a wreath on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington Cemetery.

STILL HELPS

Pontiac chapter 4 is still carrying on rehabilitation work, helping veterans and their families, sending various articles to veterans' hospitals and donating to the chaplains' emergency fund.

Mrs. A. J. Roy was charter president of chapter 4. Charter members living are Mrs. Florence Brown, past national president; Mesdames Frank Schmidt, Herman Dennis, B. J. Wyman, Emmett Merridith, Alma Cowley, Clyde Taylor, Mrs. Roy and Mrs. Chase.

Other members of chapter 4 have served 24 years, and attended meetings in the YMCA serving breakfasts and dinners.

Some still have sons and grandsons in service.

Mrs. J. Frank Coad of Neome Drive (left), Mrs. Walter Kinsler, Preston Street (seated) and Mrs. Harold C. Davidson of Lakeswood Street check last minute program details, prior to the 48th annual banquet of Beta Theta Phi sorority at the Waldron Hotel Tuesday evening. They were on the committee in charge of the dinner.

Too Many 'Extras'

Tell Boss Your Feelings

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am "the" girl in a one-employee office, and my problem is my boss's wife.

ABBY wrapped in a piece of torn tissue paper. (No sales slip. Just try it some time!)

She is always sending stuff for me to have gift-wrapped and mailed out of town. Nothing is ever in a box. All this takes time and standing in line. And I have to do it after my regular office hours. I am not paid an extra dime for this, and she has never even said thank you.

Now she has a new one. She brings her little 4-year-old boy to the office for me to entertain while she has her hair done. I like my job and I like my boss, but I don't like being —
THE WIFE'S ERRAND GIRL
DEAR ERRAND GIRL: Tell your boss that this was not the kind of work you were hired for, and unless your job resumes its original character, you're leaving. (P.S.: But don't be rough about it. He may be as pained as you are about his wife's demands.)

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law got pregnant and I offered to let her wear my maternity clothes. They were good as new and I paid good money for them. When she returned them to me they were just like rags. All worn out and even soiled. I could have cried.

I will never be able to wear them again. I hope to have more children and I planned on saving them. Should I send her a bill?

DISGUSTED
DEAR DISGUSTED: No. Charge it to experience. And in the future offer articles of clothing to no one unless you are reasonably certain they will be returned in good condition.

DEAR ABBY: Four months ago my son and his wife asked me to live with them. They have six children. I promptly accepted for I lived alone.

Ever since then, I have had absolutely no privacy whatsoever. Every morning bright and early their kids come knocking at my bedroom door. My son and his wife go out constantly, leaving me with the kids. They tell everyone they now have a "built-in sister."

I can't take much more of this. I have a job and my own life to live. How can I tell them I am leaving?

NO SITTER

DEAR NO: Unless you can communicate better in another language, try English.

AP Wirephoto
Joanne Hedge, 23, daughter of Detroit public relations executive, Frank Hedge, is the newest member of Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson's press office staff. Her particular assignment will be keeping track of the President's oldest daughter, Lynda.

Baby Production Faces Decline in Michigan

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's baby production continues on the decline, reports the State Health Department.

Tentative figures for 1966 show 160,815 births during the year, 290 fewer than in 1965.

Late reports, however, could bring the total somewhat higher.

The Health Department said Michigan births have shown a steady drop since a high of 207,577 births was recorded in 1957.

Every month in 1966 except February saw a decline in births from the similar month in 1965. There were four more February births in 1966 than the total of 22,588 for the same month the previous year.

The figures are gathered from birth certificates filed with the State Health Department.

Auxiliary Slates Yearly Benefit

March 10 is the date of the fifth annual benefit luncheon of the Auxiliary of the Oakland County branch of Michigan Children's Aid Society.

This single fund raising event of the group at Devon Gables will begin at noon. Spring fashions by the Jacqueline Shops will be shown.

"EXTRAS" FOR KIDS
Proceeds from the party will be used to provide extras for children in the agency Foster Care program and to show appreciation for the foster parents.

Auxiliary members do active volunteer work with the agency. They work in the office and drive babies and children when transportation is needed — for medical or counseling appointments and to meet prospective adoptive parents.

All volunteers are screened by the agency's coordinator of volunteers.

Both individual volunteers and additional foster homes in the area are always being sought. Application for consideration under either may be made to the local office in the Community Services Building.

Mrs. Keith Crissman of Rochester, president of the auxiliary, has announced committees for the luncheon.

Mrs. Louis Scarloti, Waterford Township, is general chairman. Working with her are Mrs. Thomas Eastburn, Birmingham; Mrs. C. M. Shelton and Mrs. Merin McNutt, Rochester; Mrs. Raymond Rapaport, Bloomfield Hills.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Reed Dewey, Mrs. Louis Lovette and Mrs. Jack Reed.

Tickets may be purchased from any auxiliary member, from the agency office or from either of Wiggs' two stores.

The Michigan Children's Aid Society is a member agency of the Pontiac Area United Fund, United Community Services of Detroit and is also supported by funds from Aven, Pontiac and West Bloomfield Townships.

Lyle Stephen Henretty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle K. Henretty of Third Avenue, received a bachelor of science degree in chemistry from St. Louis University (Mo.) Feb. 5. He is presently a student in the University College of Law.

Alpha Delta Pi Slates Election

Opening the March 2 meeting of the North Suburban Alumnae Association of Alpha Delta Pi will be election of officers.

Mrs. Harry Dunn of Birmingham will be hostess for the 8 p.m. meeting in her home with assistants, Mrs. Harold Lakin and Mrs. LeRoy Frederick.

A program, with film, "A Cook's Tour of Europe" will be given by Mary Ann Moyne of Consumers Power Company, Royal Oak Unit.

Letter Wins Post Book for Writer

By ELIZABETH L. POST
The following letter has been chosen as the most interesting one for this week. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been sent to the writer, whose name I am withholding.

Dear Mrs. Post: My cousin asked me to be matron of honor for her. She is also having two bridesmaids, whom I never met before this week. Neither one knew what to do about a shower for the bride.

I suggested we have it at my house and I would make all the arrangements and keep receipts for everything I bought, and the cost would be split three ways. I figured approximately $25 apiece.

We planned a buffet with alcoholic beverages. I also suggested that if they had any ideas not to hesitate to call me, and the cost would be split three ways.

The following day, after picking out and leaving a deposit on our gowns, they called me and told me that they were told by several people that twenty-five dollars was too much to spend on a friend and that they decided to drop out of the wedding party because of this.

I told them that I would pay for the shower if only they would not back out of the wedding. They cancelled their gowns that same day without even discussing it with the bride. I am very upset and would very much appreciate your opinion. Was I unfair in suggesting what I did?

It is $25 too much to expect two working girls to chip in for a shower for the girl they are bridesmaids for?—Mrs. P. J. C.

Dear Mrs. C.: What miserable friends those girls are to let the bride down in such a way! I only hope she has two more loyal friends to replace them.

Twenty-five dollars is a lot to expect working girls to pay for a shower, but since you had asked them to call you about the plans, an agreement certainly could have been reached to settle for a simple, less expensive party.

In any case, no matter what the provocation, it is incredible that a girl who has been honored by being chosen to be a bridesmaid could drop out without so much as a word to the bride.

Former Lake Orion residents, Mr. and Mrs. Cyril L. Adams of Imlay City announce the engagement of their daughter Mary Ellen Adams to James Carl Arthur. His parents are the Thomas Arthurs of Lake Orion. The bride-elect attends Ann Arbor Practical Nurse Education Center.

November voters are slated for Connie Lynn MacDiarmid and Ronald Raymond Parker. Their parents are Mrs. Elaine MacDiarmid of Highland Road, Leon MacDiarmid of Island Park Drive and the Harold Parkers of Durnham Street. Mr. Parker is a freshman at Oakland University.

Name New Directors for Hospital Committee

By SIGNE KARLSTROM
New directors for the Women's Service Committee of William Beaumont Hospital include several area residents: Mrs. Donald Bassett, Mrs. Alan Coleman and Mrs. Richard Montgomery were named at the recent annual meeting of the group.

Active members who have been volunteers for the past 10 years include Mesdames: C. W. Wiggins, Charles E. Ervin, William D. Seibert and Willson Menewich.

When the Bloomfield Art Association opens its new shows on March 5, co-chairman of the sculpture showing will be Mrs. Lewis Dibble and Mrs. Jerome Fink.

TWO EXHIBITS

The Michigan Sculpture exhibition will be in one gallery with the Abner Dean exhibit in the other.

Abner Dean will be on hand from 3-5 p.m.

Dean is known to draw caricatures of people from their voices and recently did that for a number of area individuals.

Social chairmen on March 5 will be Mrs. LeRoy Kiefer and Mrs. Carl E. Widney.

Dean will be the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dean of Bloomfield Hills — no relation, at all. They're just friends from the time Mrs. Dean was a student at the Art Students' League in New York.

The Deans will host a small cocktail party on Saturday for their guest. The William Newbergs have invited some friends for supper following the cocktail party.

Plan Review for Meeting

Mrs. Douglas Keys, president-elect of the Birmingham Branch of the American Association of University Women, will review "Gideon's Trumpet" by Anthony Lewis at the meeting of the University of Minnesota Women's Club.

The group will gather in the Robinhood Circle home of Mrs. Joseph L. Schroeder on March 2 at 12:15 for a salad luncheon.

Hostesses are Mesdames: Robert McFarther, Lucas S. Miel, Stanley Anderson and Harold Helgeson.

Polly's Pointers

Clean Dog's Feet

DEAR POLLY — We have a small dog and every time we would bring her in from the yard in wet weather her feet were dirty. We finally attached a holder for paper towels near the outside door and use one or two towels to clean her feet as she comes in. This has really saved my rugs and floors. — LUCILLE

DEAR POLLY — Does anyone know how to clean stains off of a white nylon bag? Also I would like to know how to clean white felt hats. — MARTHA

DEAR POLLY — I own many dresses that button down the front and the last button always hits my knees. This one kept popping off of every dress when I stretched or sat down. To solve the problem I sewed these pesky buttons on with elastic thread and they now stay neatly in place and stretch when I do. — REDHEADED RASCAL

DEAR POLLY — All of us do a bit of hand-washing at one time or another. I take a can from which one end has been smoothly removed, invert the can and punch several holes in the bottom. Place the article to be washed in basin or dish pan and cover with sudsy water. Holding the can in an inverted position, plunge can into the water, making a vacuum-type plunger of it.

Repeat the plunging process until the article is clean with perhaps extra attention given to heavily soiled parts. Some spots may have to be rubbed or brushed a bit by hand. This fast and easy way is good for drip-dry things where wrinkles are to be avoided. Use the same method for rinsing.

Naturally there is a limit to the size of the articles that can be washed this way although when necessity demanded I once washed a chenille bedspread in the bathtub. — OPAL

Mr. and Mrs. Peter F. Imbrunone of Waterloo Street reveal the betrothal of their daughter, Grace to Airman I.C. James Robert Gibson of Colorado Springs, Colo. He is the son of Mrs. Alma Gibson of Cavalier, N.D. A June wedding date has been set.

June vows are being planned by Mary Kathleen Fero of Lenox Street and David J. MacDonald. Their parents are the R. E. Feros of Gladstone, Ore. and the Harold E. MacDonalds of Elizabeth Lake Road.

The Lee W. Saincomes of Moccasin Street announce the engagement of their daughter, Cinda Lee to Charles Lee Weller. His parents are Mrs. Donella Weller of Milwaukee, Wis. and James Weller of Keego Harbor.

New Members Are Welcomed

Mrs. A. J. Shay and Mrs. C. L. Salter were welcomed to membership at Monday's meeting of the Sylvan Shores Women's Club.

The Shore View Drive home of Mrs. Lydon Salathiel was the setting for the meeting where Mrs. Edward Casey took over duties as program chairman.

Wash Easily

Toys that are filled with shredded or foam rubber may be immersed safely if the opening in the toy is covered with waterproof adhesive tape during the subduing to keep water from soaking in.

Carpeting gives a new look to the bath. In the above picture, an Acrilan acrylic shag was used to bring the most color to the room. The pattern in the vinyl wallcovering was used to pick up the colors in the carpet. A clever bathroom addition is the room divider made from plywood frame that can be bought at hardware stores or lumber yards. The beaded curtains can also be purchased in department stores and are an easy way to add a gay, light touch to the room. The carpet is Callaway's "Debutante." Available in 20 colors at $9.95 a yard.

Anti-Bacterial-Deodorant Soap.

If you have a teenage daughter, your bath room shelves and medicine cabinet are probably filled with bottles, jars, and tubes of preparations, concoctions and sure-cures for keeping her skin clear.

Or perhaps your husband insists on one kind of soap for his daily shower, and another for use after he's been gardening or golfing.

And it's a pretty sure thing that your young son resists all soap and water as often as possible, even when you insist he wash the cuts and scrapes accumulated from bike riding, fence climbing, and backyard wrestling.

Maybe you have a favorite complexion soap to add to the list.

Aren't there times when you'd like to sweep all of the keep-clean preparations into a large wastebasket, and replace them with one soap that would satisfy the whole family?

taining hexachlorophene will solve the variety of clean-up problems your family presents.

Take daughter, for example. If her skin is not always clear, it is ideal for her because its special formula reduces skin bacteria. Regular use is beneficial in clearing teen-age skin problems.

Mild and gentle enough for your use as a complexion soap, it protects your skin even under make-up. And, at the same time, its continued use fights disease-producing and odor-producing bacteria — qualities that will make it your husband's favorite bar soap too.

You say these are rather odd Mexican names? It's time you joined the "in" group and learned about Derby Tamales. Derby, that's the mild kind people here like best.

In case you think a tamale is some wild sort of Mexican vegetable, it isn't. It's a roll of good ground beef wrapped up in a corn meal pancake.

Simmer Derby Tamales in a saucepan in their own tomato sauce and you'll find that this good beef is seasoned just the way people here like it.

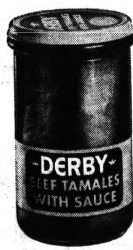

You can top with chili sauce the way some of the Mexican restaurants do, pour on some ketchup the way a lot of people here do, or just serve 'em plain.

However you serve them, Derby Tamales are sheer ecstasy to eat (in a mild sort of way). What kind of kooks eat them? Some of the best in town.

But spell it with a "c," like this, c-o-o-k-s.

Take this coupon to your grocer. It is worth 8¢ on your next purchase of Derby Tamales at his regular price.

Mr. Dealer: The bearer of this coupon is entitled to 8¢ off on the purchase of one package of Derby Tamales. We will redeem this coupon for 8¢ plus 2¢ for handling. Postage allowed when sent via third class mail insured. Mail to: Derby Foods, Inc., 337 West 42nd Street, Chicago, Illinois 60632. Invoices proving purchase of sufficient stock to cover coupons redeemed must be shown on request. Customer must pay any sales tax. Coupon void if one is prohibited, restricted or cashed. Mailed quantities fixed. Limit one to a customer. Cash value 1/20 of a cent. 25¢ off 3¢.

Speaks Vows
in Ceremony

Selalia Ann Hyde chose lace-appliqued white taffeta for her recent marriage to Alvin Kent Thaens in the Church of the Nazarene.

A matching lace cap secured her illusion veil and she carried white carnations and lilies of the valley.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Hansel A. Hyde of Cooley Lake Road, Mrs. Maurice Spring of Dixie Highway and Alvin Thaens of South Paddock Street.

Judy Miracle was maid of honor at the evening rite and Forta Monroe, flower girl. On the esquire side were best man David Bales with ushers Fred Limatta and Wesley Wilson.

After the reception at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, Lake Orion, the bride and groom will be on their way to a wedding trip to Alabama.

Mrs. Jensen
Gives Talk
on Gardens

For her philosophical talk on dirt gardening before Pontiac branch, Woman's National Farm and Garden Association on Monday, Mrs. Roy P. Jensen of Southfield chose the provocative title "The Worm and I."

She explained how one gets a worm's eye view of the wonders of nature when "down to earth" — an ideal place for meditation.

Mrs. Harold A. Fitzgerald opened her home on Ottawa Drive for the occasion.

Assisting the social chairman Mrs. Alfred Hubbard were Mrs. Stuart Whitfield, Mrs. Robert Greenhalgh, Mrs. Jack Hatel, Mrs. Joseph Warren, Mrs. Mac T. Whitfield, Mrs. C. G. Darling and Mrs. Vaughn Garrison.

Smog Stain
Rinse Away

The Director of the Pennsylvania State Division of Air Pollution Control has suggested ways to clean hydrogen sulphide deposits from smog-damaged homes.

The first step is to wash painted surfaces with detergent suds, and rinse thoroughly.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer,
I am working on a plaid material. Although I just love plaids, I can't think of any one thing in the whole wide world that scares me more. I can never remember what part of a garment needs to be matched. Please help!
Mrs. B. G.

Dear Mrs. B. G.:
Here are a few basic pointers about plaids. First, be sure they are completely matched on the under layer of fabric, not just at the selvages and ends. You must be confident that both layers of fabric will be exactly the same.

Second, if there is a center back seam on the coat or suit, place the seamline on the fold of the fabric and avoid this extra matching point.

Third, remember that the lines must match horizontally all around a garment. The side seams will usually make it impossible to match vertically at this point. Most women have a tendency to match the underarm instead of the notch at the hipline. If you match the underarm, there is usually a fitting side dart that will throw the entire side seam off. Match horizontally at the notch indicating the hipline.

The front notch on the cap of the sleeve should be matched to the front notch at the armhole. (Usually the back notches won't match, but it is more important to match the front.) For added self-contrast detail, try cutting the yokes, sleeves, pockets, or any other part of your garment on the bias. Often the underarm section of a suit or coat looks great if it is cut on the bias.

Most women shy away from plaids. Please have confidence; they really aren't too difficult to work with and are so much fun to wear.

One last tip, after you have placed the pattern on your fabric, and you are sure everything is going to work out perfectly, put it away overnight. Take it out the next morning and recheck before cutting. Sometimes we can look at a mistake so many times we really aren't aware of it. The final check might disclose a cutting error.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. A. Miller, Enid, Okla. is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following suggestion.

Here's my tip for stress points that keep ripping and tearing out causing many frustrations! Use a very short zig-zag stitch instead of your regular machine stitching for the seam area under the arms, the crotch of slacks, etc. This adds a little extra give to the area and prevents ripping.

Dear Eunice Farmer,
Please tell me what buttonhole twist is, and where can I find it?
Mrs. M.J.

Dear Mrs. M. J.:
Buttonhole twist is a silk thread that has a twisted texture and is much heavier than ordinary thread. It is used for top stitching, hand-picking, woven arrows at the end of darts and other decorative details.

Because of the minimal use of this thread, everyone can't afford to stock it. It is usually available at your large department or fabric stores in all colors.

You can't begin to sew without knowing how to alter your pattern according to your own measurements. You will find my leaflet "Your Pattern And You" invaluable in making your figure correspond with your pattern. Send a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents to Eunice Farmer in care of The Pontiac Press and your copy will be sent to you immediately.

Working Mothers

Success Can Come

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to working mothers:

If you've been feeling guilty about being one of those working mothers so frequently blamed for the problems of their teen-age children, forget it.

Your children are not suffering from the fact that you are a wage earner as well as a homemaker.

The result of a careful 10-year state-sponsored study of 12,892 Texas teen-agers, conducted by the Hogg Foundation for Mental Health, has revealed that the children of working mothers are as well-adjusted socially as those of full-time homemakers.

Now, perhaps, the viewers with alarm can go easier on working mothers and give them credit for being able to handle two jobs without letting the more important—child rearing—suffer.

Though the report of the Hogg Foundation is going to surprise a lot of people, it really shouldn't. Just think of the really important things teen-agers can learn from a working mother.

Organization for one. No woman can hold down a job and run a home adequately without being organized. Responsibility, for another. Children of working mothers waited on and indulged as the children of mothers to whom homemaking and child rearing is a full-time job.

And equality of the sexes. In a household where both parents are wage earners and both share home responsibilities there is a pattern of equality that children are bound to sense.

And, of course, there is the lesson for the girls of the family that a woman in today's world doesn't have to choose between marriage and a career nor does she have to sit helplessly by in times of financial stress. She can get out and become a wage earner as well.

So while there are some disadvantages to a woman's holding down two jobs, so far as her children are concerned, there must be enough advantage to outweigh them. Else the children of working mothers wouldn't turn out as well-adjusted as the children of mothers who make homemaking a full-time career.

Why Grow Old?

by JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. I have heard that they now have a cure for baldness for men. Is this true?

A. No, not really. A study was made by applying a male hormone to the scalps of 21 men. This stimulated a little hair growth on the heads of 16 of them. However the doctors warned that this is not a cure for baldness but "rather the real significance of this research lies in its opening of a door for investigating the creation or study of other compounds which might have almost entirely local effects." Absorption of the hormone through the skin could have undesirable side effects. This study was made at the University of Pennsylvania by Dr. Christopher M. Papa and Dr. Albert M. Kligman.

Q. I am the weight I want to be. Will I have to diet and exercise forever in order to stay this way?

A. You do not have to continue eating like you did in order to lose weight. During your reducing period you have probably formed better habits in eating, or this should have happened. You perhaps have to some extent lost your craving for rich non-essential foods and have become accustomed to smaller helpings.

Keep the habits for the sake of health, but add 300 calories to your daily intake and watch the scales. If you continue to lose add another 200 a day. With a little caution and experimentation you can discover just the number of calories you need to maintain your ideal weight.

You should continue exercise for the sake of your health as well as your figure.

Q. I am just 15 years old and am very blonde. My lashes are fairly thick but hardly show at all because they are so light in color. I want them dyed, but my mother objects. What do you think?

A. Why not use a brown eyebrow pencil lightly and also a light application of brown mascara?

A. Try one of the cosmetic lines planned especially for women who are allergic to the usual products. There are several splendid ones.

Beate Leber, 30, of Germany (left) is suing Henry Brown, 63, (right), part-time Arizona rancher for $2.5 million in a breach of promise to marry suit. Legal action began Tuesday in U.S. District Court in Tucson, Ariz. Mrs. Leber says she left her 45-year-old husband in Heidelberg in the fall of 1965 to marry Brown. Brown, through his attorney, says he "leased" the shapely, auburn-haired Mrs. Leber, but there was no mention of marriage.

Learn Acceptance of This Helplessness

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: When our son, an Air Force officer, married a girl he'd met on the base, his father, sister and I flew across the country to the wedding. Later, before he was sent to Okinawa, he asked us to fly to them again to say goodbye and see his baby.

But at this time his sister was so ill and depressed that she was talking of suicide. So we offered them the plane fare to come to us. Since then we have not heard from him. He phoned just once to say he wanted no more to do with us. I would like your professional advice...

ANSWER: My views are not professional because I am not professional. They are absolutely personal. And my personal view is that you can do nothing whatsoever about your son's decision.

(Incidentally, why on earth did your daughter find living so awful that she considered ending it?)

I'm aware that accepting a child's decision to be done with us is quite an assignment. Before we can manage it, there's much rage to be felt. After the rage, there are tears of pain. And after the tears, the breaking of our will-to-power over the child, the acceptance of our human helplessness.

To help you arrive at this point, I urge you to read the last three chapters in the Bible's book of Job.

It will tell you why there is no point to sackcloth and ashes when circumstances make it clear that we cannot have our own way.

A young woman I know has just been committed to a mental hospital because she will not know that she cannot have her own way. And as I've felt most sad over this waste of her great gifts, I said to a psychoanalyst friend of mine who is the wisest person I know, "Is insanity the determination to have what we cannot have? Is it the will-to-power over what we can't control?"

"With some slight complications that is exactly what insanity is," he said.

So I advise you to pull yourself together in order to submit yourself to the experience of the rage, the pain, the tears that may finally lead you to acceptance of our human helplessness.

In the end we all have to come to the will-broken statement:

"Thy will be done."

Like Job, we have to see the difference between us and God.

Mrs. Lawrence welcomes letters from readers but because of the volume of mail she cannot answer all letters personally. Questions of general interest will be discussed in the column.

Crime Drives Grocer Out of United States

DETROIT (AP) — "I can't count how many times I was robbed and burglarized — you have to have an adding machine to figure that."

Grocer Musallam Eadah, 48, made the comment Tuesday as he announced that he has decided to close his two Detroit grocery stores and move to Canada. He is the second Syrian grocer to consider such a move in the past few days.

"I hate to leave this country that has opened its doors to me," said Eadah. "I love the United States and I am very respectful toward it. But I have to go before we can have nervous breakdowns or get killed."

Eadah's fellow countryman, Abraham Swad, said last week-end that he is considering returning to Syria because of a series of holdups and thefts.

WON'T ARM

Eadah doesn't believe in grocers arming themselves, a step taken by some Detroit grocer owners recently because of a soaring holdup rate and several murders of store owners.

A grocery trade newspaper is holding free classes in gun handling for small businessmen. Some 200 showed up for the first session, despite official disapproval of businessmen arming themselves. Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said he felt this could lead to more violence and shooting in holdups.

Swad didn't attend the gun-handling school, but kept a pistol and routed a would-be hold-upman last weekend. He was cleaning up after a burglary at the time. Swad said his three stores had been frequently robbed.

"My stores look like a zoo," Eadah said. "We have bars in the windows and cages all over the merchandise."

But, Eadah said, it's not the lost money. "I'm living in self-torture, not knowing if the next customer will be a holdup man, and my wife is terribly frightened."

Eadah said his stores have been held up three times the past three months.

Robberies in Detroit rose 85 per cent in 1966 over 1965. Registration of pistols with Detroit police climbed 23 per cent from 1965 and officers estimate thousands of others were purchased in Ohio, where no permit is needed, and brought into Detroit.

Many of these probably were purchased by citizens for protection, officers say, but they fear a large percentage are used in crimes.

Press Contacts Channeled to Johnson's Desk

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson keeps tabs on what top federal officials tell newsmen.

Press Secretary George Christian said Tuesday that White House assistants tell him daily about significant press contacts, and outside officials "send in such information as they think I may need."

When Christian believes the information is pertinent or informative, he sends Johnson a memo, he said.

Christian said the system is a good idea, that it keeps him informed about what reporters are asking and that he inherited it from predecessor Bill D. Moyers.

TENTS SAFER THAN SCHOOL — Students at Calipatria (Calif.) High School walk to classes being held in tents yesterday after the main building (background) was condemned as not being earthquake-proof. Voters rejected a bond issue for new buildings, so school trustees refused to accept responsibility and ordered students to tents.

Edge in Parliament Cut

India Congress Party Battered

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's once invincible Congress party suffered a series of defeats from both the left and right in early returns today from the week-long national elections.

Despite the early reversals, the Congress party was expected to retain control of the lower house of Parliament.

But it appeared to be heading for a sharp reduction in its 234-seat majority.

Within hours after the last polls had closed, a Communist front had won control of Kerala State again by a much larger margin than expected, the right-wing Hindu Jan Sangh party held a big lead in the Delhi Federal Territory, 13 state ministers from the Congress had been defeated, and two of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's Cabinet members were trailing in their races for Parliament.

The Congress, facing the electorate nationally for the first time without the leadership of Jawaharlal Nehru, made its worst showing in the southern state of Kerala.

7-PARTY COALITION

There a seven-party coalition led by the pro-Peking Communists won control of the state assembly.

With 77 of the 133 assembly seats decided, the Left Communists had won 30 and the Congress only 6, far below its 1965 election showing when it got 36 seats and 33 per cent of the popular vote.

Even more surprising was the strong Jan Sangh showing in the Delhi territory, where it held commanding leads in six of seven parliamentary races and was closing the gap in the seventh.

In the 1962 national election, the Congress won all five of the seats then allotted to the territory.

Hot, Breezy Tents Provide Classrooms in the Desert

CALIPATRIA, Calif. (AP) — What's it like to go to high school in a tent?

On the California desert, it's breezy.

Winter winds are obviously going to be a problem for the 325 students of the Calipatria Unified High School District or "Calipat" as it's called.

Come late May, desert heat will take over. The canvas classrooms will become portable steam baths.

A PRECIPITATION

How did the youngsters of this Imperial Valley farming community get into such a predicament?

It began when the high school's main building — a two-story frame and stucco structure — was ruled unsafe in the event of an earthquake. Then, Feb. 14 a $1.3-million bond issue to rectify the situation failed by 27 votes.

District trustees — advised not to go off."

they would be personally liable for damages if an earthquake should hit — ordered the building evacuated.

State aid may produce portable classroom buildings eventually, but right now tents are the answer. Ten of them were leased from a Los Angeles firm for $5,300. These were set up Monday. The first classes moved in Tuesday.

"I don't like it too much," said Deria Wallis, 17, a senior studying journalism. "You don't know whether to take off your coat or not. The tents are drafty at the bottom and hot at the top."

A carnival atmosphere prevailed outside the classes. But not so inside the tents.

Mary Sherry, an English teacher, said of the students: "At first they were so intense that we thought their feelings were hurt about moving out of the main building. But it was just that they were trying hard

Red China Says Secrets Stolen

Follows Disclosure of N-Information Theft

HONG KONG (AP) — Reports from Red China today indicated that foes of Mao Tse-tung have been stealing top-secret state documents, possibly to use in the struggle against the aging party chairman.

Japanese newsmen in Peking said wall posters warned Mao's enemies that the army and secret police will be called in "if persuasion fails to prevent" further stealing.

"Management of document rooms (in all government offices) should be by revolutionary rebels (pro-Mao groups)," the posters said. Guilty parties were also urged to return what they had taken from state offices.

The wall newspapers did not say what kind of secret documents were missing, but today's report followed recent disclosure that highly classified information dealing with Red China's nuclear program had been stolen from the state council building.

The atomic documents disappeared after Red Guards and other Peking demonstrators had ransacked the official offices. It was the first reported case of atomic espionage in China.

RED GUARD WARNED

Shortly after the incident, Peking leaders warned Red Guards and others to keep their hands off government buildings, but today's reports indicated the warning fell on deaf ears.

In another development, Peking Radio said the ruling party's central committee has ordered army troops into the countryside to help the peasants with the important spring planting.

In a special message to the country's 500 million peasants, the committee urged "all poor, lower and middle-class peasants and cadres at all levels" to hold meetings to plan all-out drives to plan spring plowing.

"And another suggestion," the latter said. "The units of the People's Liberation Army and military facilities must support and reinforce the spring plowing work," Peking Radio said.

ALL IMPORTANT

The spring plowing and planting season is all-important for China's agriculture, hard-hit this last year by poor weather, bad planning and decreasing production due to Mao's chaotic purge.

The independent Ming Pao newspaper of Hong Kong, meanwhile, reported today that Red Guard teen-agers are being called back to their schools to undergo extensive military training.

All schools in China have been closed since the start of Mao's cultural revolution last spring. Recent reports from Peking, however, said that primary school students have been ordered back to their schools.

U.S. Viet Position Termed Constant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources picture President Johnson as maintaining a constant course on Vietnam policy — willing to entertain peace overtures, but determined to continue the bombing of North Vietnam in their absence.

They said yesterday Johnson feels the United States had neither hardened nor softened its attitude toward peace talks in recent weeks.

Those familiar with the President's views said he is convinced the Soviet Union wants peace restored in Vietnam and appreciates its efforts in this direction.

Meanwhile a long-time critic of U.S. military policy in Vietnam, retired Gen. James M. Gavin, said he believes internal turmoil in Red China offers a prime opportunity for ending the Vietnam war.

Gavin told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that Red China's problems might make North Vietnam more willing to negotiate a settlement. He also warned that escalation of the war at this time could provide the Chinese with the basis for stabilizing its inner disorders.

while responding to Hanoi's need for aid.

OTHER DEVELOPMENTS

In other developments: A debate on Vietnam appeared to be shaping up in the Senate as it prepares to take up tomorrow the $4.5 billion spending authorization bill.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, D-Pa., called yesterday for extended debate on the bill by the full Senate, noting it marked the first opportunity for floor discussion of the war.

He said he was confident there wouldn't be a vote on the measure for several days. But Senate Democratic whip Russell B. Long of Louisiana said he hoped for an immediate vote.

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, said last night the nation should "turn loose" its entire arsenal and win a "total victory" in Vietnam. He made one reservation — he would not employ nuclear weapons "yet."

Rivers, speaking at a dinner dance of a chapter of the Air Force Association in New York, said: "I would hound Hanoi to fast it would make your head spin."

The association gave Rivers a 3½-foot-high trophy, featuring an eagle in an attack position and with an inscription calling him a "farsighted exponent of aerospace power both in fair weather and when the storms are gathering."

The Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., chaplain of Yale University, called for clergy and seminarians to give up their draft exemptions and register instead as conscientious objectors to protest the war.

Coffin also urged the clergy to organize mass demonstrations at which thousands of students would turn in their draft cards, thus refusing to serve in Vietnam.

Chairman John E. Moss, D-Calif., of the House Foreign Relations and Government Information subcommittee, asked Pentagon assurances that news items won't be hampered by a reported plan to bring all American civilians under jurisdiction of military law.

The Coast Guard said war costs have resulted in slashing from $210 million to $207 million its budget for replacing ships and aircraft in the coming year.

White sources talked of Johnson's views on Vietnam, they also reported the President: Expects an upsurge in the nation's economy in the last six months of this year.

Sees the need for much work to be done before there could be any U.S.-Soviet agreement on limiting deployment of antimissile defense systems.

Intends to withhold comment on the controversy over Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's recent trip to Paris, where he reportedly received a peace feeler from Hanoi.

After Kennedy, D-N.Y., returned home, there were additional reports that Johnson sharply criticized him for supposedly interfering in attempts to start peace talks.

TRIES OUT CAR — Automobile critic Ralph Nader (foreground) is checked out by University of Minnesota Prof. James J. Ryan in Ryan's crashproof car yesterday in Minneapolis. The auto, termed the safest car in the world, is equipped with hydraulic bumpers, automatic seat belts, collapsible steering column with padded wheel and recessed dashboard.

Religious Vigil Staged in N. Y.

ROSLYN HEIGHTS, N. Y. — A communitywide 24-hour religious vigil to protest Soviet anti-Semitism began Tuesday night in this Nassau County town at the Temple Beth Shalom.

Congregation members of the Temple Sinai, Temple Beth Shalom and Friendship Baptist Church took part in the interfaith services. Nassau County executive Eugene H. Nickerson spoke.

The Rev. Thomas P. Stewart, pastor of the Roslyn Presbyterian Church, said, "There was a wide spectrum of people there. I saw Negro domestics there. I know, and I saw some senior executives who work in New York City."

The vigil ends tonight at 7.

An American born in 1900 could expect to live to be 47, while one born today has a life expectancy of 70 years.

Nonmoney Factors Eyed as GOP Mulls '68 Site

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans, already offered $800,000 by Miami Beach for the privilege of entertaining the 1968 GOP nominating convention, plan now to consider non-financial factors before selecting a site.

A sixth city still in the running is Chicago, scene of the 1960 GOP convention. It is expected to submit a minimum bid within two weeks.

Bliss said Republicans will require, in addition to at least $600,000 in cash or services, a city with 10,000 hotel rooms plus a hall big enough to house the convention. San Francisco paid $650,000 for the last GOP national gathering.

No action has been taken to have both the Democratic and Republican conventions held in the same city, said Bliss. But he noted the television networks are supporting such a proposal.

He spoke from the comfortable vantage point of having already received five offers from cities willing to put up at least $650,000. That's the minimum demanded by the GOP.

GOP Plans Assault on Detroit Poverty

DETROIT (AP) — Republican-advocates of less government and more private action plan a frontal assault on poverty next month deep within Democratic territory in Detroit.

"In effect, we'll be putting our money where our mouth is," said William McLaughlin, executive vice chairman of the Michigan GOP.

The party plans to open what it hopes will be a permanent community service center in the heart of one of Detroit's most heavily Democratic and aged Congressional districts.

The pilot project will be watched closely by GOP organizations around the nation and, if it works, presumably will be adopted elsewhere.

Purpose of the center is to help poor people, and the Republican organization chose an inner city district for its locale. Some 80 per cent of the residents are Negro, nearly 70 per cent vote Democratic and thousands live under hard-core poverty conditions.

"We haven't yet decided in which areas of need we want to concentrate," said McLaughlin in an interview. "But one of them must certainly will be job placement."

McLaughlin contended that through its normal business contracts, the GOP is in a good position to determine what job openings are available throughout Michigan and make up a list to help people looking for work.

Lt. Gov. William Milliken said a volunteer corps of trained persons will form the backbone of the operation. One person will be hired to run the office and coordinate the volunteers.

FREE LEGAL ADVICE
People who can't afford to pay will get free legal advice, they will be able to get tutoring for their children who are underachievers in school and they will be able to get help with personal problems which involve any agency of government at any level," Milliken said.

Mrs. Elly Peterson, GOP state chairman, said: "We're trying to show we can do some good without turning to the government. The government has shown it can spend great amounts of money and still not get results. Anything we do will be a step in the right direction."

Rail Link Vital to Hanoi

WASHINGTON (AP) — North Vietnam relies heavily for supplies on a 100-mile rail line from Red China which has withstood repeated U.S. bombing attacks, Pentagon sources report.

The Communists received thousands of tons of Soviet-made aircraft and weapons over the railroad, extending northwestward from Hanoi into China, and protect it with 1,100 anti-aircraft guns.

Because the railroad is a vital supply link with other Communist countries, Hanoi now is seeking to enhance its capability by converting the line from narrow gauge to China's standard gauge.

Over the railroad passes what Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara calls the "high-value" war items supplied by the Soviets — MIG fighters, surface-to-air missiles, helicopters and anti-aircraft guns.

It also brings large amounts of less-expensive goods — the Chinese-supplied mortars and small cannon ammunition.

Despite hundreds of air attacks against the line, sources say the strip has never been out of service for any extended period.

Argue Against Sanctions

Suit Threat in AAU-NCAA Track War

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. president and one of the organizers of the USTFF, said the dispute between the AAU and the Amateur Athletic Union of violating anti-trust laws of the track and field interests recently in the suspension by and threatened an indemnity in this country and the organization saw no need to request the latest development in the nation's track and field war.

The Rev. Wilfred H. Crowley,

The matter of sanctions is the and said steps were being taken to clear foreign students for all authorized competition — open and collegiate — in the United States.

Previously, the AAU had insisted that foreign athletes, even to compete in collegiate meets, need AAU approval because of the AAU affiliation with the International Track and Field Federation. The USTFF denied this.

"The USTFF happens to be a reality and the USTFF has no intention of requesting sanction from the AAU for any of its competition," Father Crowley, of Los Altos, Calif., said in a letter to the Associated Press. "I cannot say at this time what our course of action will be," the USTFF president said in discussing the long-range controversy. "We have two briefs from highly competent legal sources purporting to show that the AAU sanctioning rules are in violation of anti-trust laws."

"We have just recently received the opinion that we have grounds for an indemnity suit in at least six figures against the AAU."

Frazier Bright Hope as Heavyweight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The question, says Yancy Durham, is not does Joe Frazier look ready for Cassius Clay, but rather "when will Cassius Clay look ready for Joe Frazier?"

Durham, who trains Frazier, was discussing his unbeaten Philadelphia heavyweight's future after Frazier pole axed the veteran Doug Jones Tuesday night in the sixth round of a scheduled 10-rounder at the Arena.

The knockout punch came at 2:35 of the sixth and left Jones on the canvas for more than a minute. It was a tremendous over-hand left that caught the New Yorker flush on the jaw. He toppled forward on the ropes and rolled over on his back.

Frazier weighed 205 and Jones 188. A crowd of 7,203 paid $46,432 to see what turned out to be a slaughter by the 23-year-old Frazier.

Lions May Play Three AFL Exhibition Foes

HONOLULU (AP) — As the pro football merger moves on, the other step closer to its ultimate realization in 1970, teams of the National Football League and American Football League will begin inter-league exhibition games this year.

An Associated Press survey of the various pro teams indicates that there will be 14 or 15 games this coming season. All of the nine AFL teams will play NFL rivals.

However, five NFL teams will not schedule AFL opponents because their preseason campaigns had been drawn up with contract commitments that could not be altered this year.

The Detroit Lions probably will play two AFL teams and possibly a third against the Denver Broncos.

The Lions, under new head coach Joe Schmidt, will play Buffalo Aug. 14 at Detroit and also may meet San Diego.

The Philadelphia Eagles, who finished strong last year, went all the way to the playoff round in Miami, are expected to meet both the New York Jets and the Buffalo Bills.

Tentative scheduling calls for the Los Angeles Rams to take on San Diego, their old cross-town rivals, and the Kansas City Chiefs, who won the AFL title and were defeated by Green Bay in the Super Bowl.

The Dallas Cowboys, defending Eastern Conference kings of the NFL, will take on the Houston Oilers.

Chicago already has announced it will visit Kansas City to play the champion Chiefs.

Both Washington and Baltimore expect to play the Boston Patriots. Atlanta expects to play the Miami Dolphins and the Minnesota Vikings, still without a head coach, are due to face the Denver Broncos.

Several games still are in the delicate negotiating stage. However, Pittsburgh expects to play the San Diego Chargers and the San Francisco 49ers undoubtedly will meet their rivals from across the bay, the Oakland Raiders.

Green Bay's schedule was loaded, so the Packers will not play an AFL team this year. Neither will the New York Giants, Cleveland Browns, St. Louis Cardinals nor New Orleans.

The big doubleheader pairings in Cleveland Aug. 25 will feature Minnesota and Atlanta in one game and Green Bay against Cleveland in the other.

When the NFL regular season starts with the new four team divisions in each of the eight club conference, there will be two special playoffs Dec. 23 and Dec. 24 preceding the Dec. 31 title game.

Milt Pappas Is Holdout on Redlegs' Contract

By the Associated Press
Picher Milt Pappas, the man Baltimore traded to Cincinnati for Frank Robinson, is holding out on signing his 1967 baseball contract. Pappas, a 10-year-veteran with a 122-85 record, said he would not be on hand when Cincinnati opens spring training at Tampa Friday.

"They offered me the same salary, and they haven't asked me yet what I want," he said. "I guess they don't plan on giving me a raise."

Pappas received about $35,000 last year.

The Reds also got some painful news from all-star second baseman Pete Rose, who led the team with a .313 average. He thinks he should be paid extra for a proposed switch to the outfield this year.

However, new General Manager Bob Howsam insisted he anticipates little trouble signing Rose and other regulars Vada Pinson, Deron Johnson and Tommy Helms, along with top reserve Al Shanksy.

The Atlanta Braves might not have it so easy with all-star catcher Joe Torre, who sits with Hank Aaron and Ken Johnson among those Braves signing.

Torre, who hit .315 with 36 homers and 101 runs batted in last season, was missing when the pitchers and catchers opened training Tuesday, but he won't be an official holdout until March 1. The problem, as usual, is money. Torre wants $70,000, about a $30,000 boost from last year, the Braves reportedly are offering $60,000.

World champion Baltimore, Cleveland and Washington also were having signing troubles.

With Orioles battermen scheduled to report today, still unsigned were pitchers Steve Barber, Jim Palmer, Dave McNally, Eddie Fisher, Eddie Watt and Tom Phoebus. Infielders Boog Powell, Dave Johnson and Bob Johnson and outfielder Curt Blefary, scheduled to report March 1, also were unsigned.

The Indians worried about Rocky Colavito and Sonny Siebert while the Senators were missing pitchers Camilo Pascual, Bob Humphreys and Bob Priddy.

Shooting Rule for Colleges Is Expressed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Red Auerbach, professional basketball coach-turned-basketball executive, says, "What college basketball needs today is a 24-second rule."

He made the statement here Tuesday night in a gag session with newsmen just before he was to make the principal address at a Tipoff dinner on the eve of the West Virginia Collegiate Athletic Conference Basketball Tournament.

The grizzled pro coach who has nine National Basketball Association championship rings said the college teams who sit on the ball are not the great teams.

Ex-Teammates Rivals Tonight in PCH-PH Swim Meet

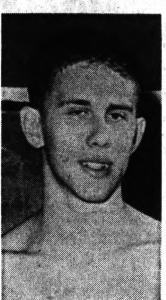

JOHN MASON

Close Meet Expected at Northern

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

A cross-town battle royale, possibly the best swimming meet in their series, will take place tonight when Pontiac Central and Pontiac Northern meet in the PCH pool.

The all-time series stands at 8-8 between the two teams since 1959. Northern tied the series earlier this year by taking a 6-41 meet in the PCH pool.

STEVE YEDLIN

Since that meet, however, Central has improved greatly, and not only should tonight's contest be a team battle, but it will bring together the last competitive match between two fine swimmers who were once teammates in their early days.

The match will be between Central's John Mason and Northern's Steve Yedlin.

It was almost nine years ago that they started swimming on the Pontiac Swim Club team and for the Pontiac YMCA.

Both had age-group AAU records from the time they were eight years old.

Actually, the parents of the two boys were instrumental in forming the Pontiac Swim Club, and tonight they will be cheering on opposite ends of the pool at Northern.

FAST TIMES

As a 11-12 year old, Mason went 58.3 in the 100 freestyle and as a 13-14 year old he was going 59.6 in the butterfly and 2:17.3 in the 200 individual medley.

Yedlin hit 52.7 in the 100 freestyle and 1:57.2 in the 200 freestyle as a 13-14 year old swimmer.

Tonight they could be opponents in the 100- and 200-yard freestyle events, which if it happens could be one of the most exciting races ever witnessed locally.

After tonight they could also be rivals in the state swim meet at East Lansing, March 10-11.

Yedlin has indicated his plans for attending the University of Michigan to swim under coach Gus Stager. Mason is a junior and will have one more year at Central.

In the first meeting this season, Yedlin won the 100 and 200 freestyles while Mason was stunned by Northern's Ken Hughes in the backstroke and was part of a losing relay team.

The team will begin at 7:30 with Central hoping to improve its 9-3 record and Northern trying to make it 9-3 for the season.

3rd Marathon Title Is Goal in Olympics

GENOA, Italy (UPI) — Lt. Abebe Bikila of the Ethiopian Imperial Guard said Tuesday he hopes to win his third straight Olympic marathon title in the 1968 Olympics at Mexico City, and then retire from sports.

The 34-year-old Army officer, who shocked the sporting world when he swept the 1960 Olympic title at Rome barefooted, made his statement at a ceremony honoring him as winner of the "Christopher Columbus" sports prize.

He also won the 1964 marathon at Tokyo.

Badgers Apply Kayo to Top Big 10 Teams

CHICAGO (AP) — Wisconsin Coach John Erickson claims no Big Ten team has enough talent to challenge for the NCAA basketball title and his Wisconsin Badgers are proving it.

In something like 72 hours, Erickson's Badgers have kayoed two Big Ten title hopefuls including Northwestern with an 110-94 decision Tuesday night.

Wisconsin achieved what was considered almost impossible when the Badgers downed Iowa at Iowa 96-95 in triple overtime Saturday.

The Badgers carried over their exploits to eliminate Northwestern from title consideration Tuesday night.

While Wisconsin was putting Northwestern completely out of the picture, Minnesota did the same to Iowa with an 88-86 victory Tuesday night.

HOOSIERS LEAD

Indiana with a 7-2 record and Michigan State with a 6-3 record are the only teams still in the running for the conference championship.

Iowa, Northwestern and Wisconsin all have 5-4 marks and are tied for third place.

Wisconsin's 110 points was the highest ever scored by a Badger team in conference competition. Wisconsin took a 60-44 halftime lead only to have Northwestern come within two points before Badgers put on a crushing finish.

Palmer Is Late Arrival for Golf Award Dinner

NEW YORK (AP) — Arnold Palmer was late for the dinner at the midtown hotel — he got there but he was late. So he apologized and explained why.

"It's a matter of diet," he said.

"You see, I was playing this charity exhibition in New Orleans with Phil Harris and Dean Martin. We started at 1:30 New York time and were supposed to go 18 holes.

"But they knew I was supposed to be at this dinner, so they graciously let me go at the end of 13.

"I say graciously. The fact is, Dean couldn't make it any further and they called it off. No peanut butter for that boy."

The peanut butter reference was to Al Geiberger, who won the 1966 Professional Golfers Association championship, while munching on peanut butter sandwiches.

TEE AWARD

He was one of many persons honored Tuesday night at the annual dinner of the Metropolitan Golf Writers' Association.

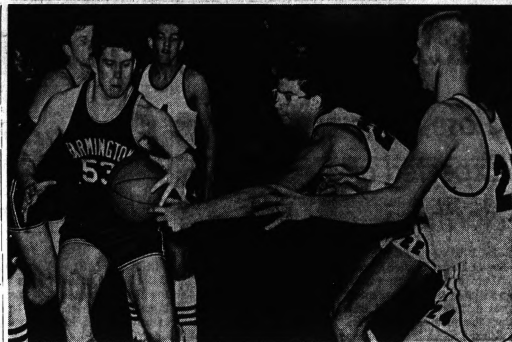

Palmer was on hand to present the Golf Tee Award for meritorious service to golf to Joseph C. Dey, executive director of the U.S. Golf Association. Palmer received the award last year.

Palmer and Jack Nicklaus both paid tribute to Dey, but not before they got off a few jibes at the honoree and each other.

The Ben Hogan Award, which goes to a golfer who has made a comeback after a physical disability, went to Warren Pease of Detroit. The family of Johnny Farrell, former U.S. Open champion, received the Chapin Award as the outstanding golfing family.

Lumley in Nets Again

BOSTON (AP) — Harry Lumley will play golf for the Boston Bruins' old-timers against the Montreal old-timers in the Jimmy Fund benefit hockey game March 19 at the Boston Garden.

MUSKIES HOUND FALCON — Farmington's Fritz Simons (51) is intent on grabbing the loose basketball under the Falcon's basket during the fourth quarter of last night's game at Pontiac Northern. Four of the host Huskies close in on Simons and the play

Purple Hornets Ready

Repeat Seen for Class C Title

By The Associated Press

When you're No. 1, everybody is gunning for you. But up in the Copper Country around L'Anse, Coach Bill Supp and his Purple Hornets are ready and waiting.

"We're not a one-man team by a long shot," says Popp, whose cagers won the Class C state basketball title last year and are odds-on favorites to repeat.

"We won it last year and we have a better team this year," says Popp. "But there are a lot of things that figure. You have to have luck, you have to avoid the possibility of having a bad night, and you have to keep your fingers crossed."

The one-man team tag is hung on L'Anse because of 6-foot-5 senior center Jerry Gerard, a scoring machine with a 30.8 average and a knack for hauling in 15 rebounds a game.

Popp points out he also has Bobby Frederickson, a senior state basketball title last year and is odds-on favorites to repeat.

Kent, a junior guard, is the man who makes the Purple Hornets run-and-shoot offense click, and is the key man in the team's fullcourt press defense.

ONE THREAT

Popp thinks Wakefield is the team to beat in the U.P. if L'Anse is to make it back to Lansing. Houghton also is tough, he said.

In the Lower Peninsula, Leslie's Blackhaws, Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart, Brooklyn and Charlevoix are top contenders.

Flint Holy Redeemer, beaten championship game, is aching for a rematch. The Flyers upended Willow Run, the No. 4 team in The Associated Press Class B poll, 81-76 Feb. 14, and figures to be tough with John Coggins and Ted Kramer holding hot shooting hands.

Muskegon Christian may be the dark horse downstate. The Warriors won state titles in 1958, 1962 and 1965 and were runners-up in 1959, all under Coach E. J. Walker.

After 15 games, mostly against Class A and B teams, the Warriors boasted a 14-2 record.

TALLEST PLAYER

Muskegon Christian is small, with 6-foot-3 Bob DeVries the tallest man, but Walcott says "We were out-rebounded only twice in our first 16 games."

DeVries leads a well-balanced offense with a 17-point average, and Dave Kool, the floor leader, chips in with around 12 a game.

Walcott says Shelby, with hot-shooting Bill Beckman, Mount Pleasant Sacred Heart and L'Anse as the top contenders.

"I saw L'Anse in the state finals last year and if they come back they'll make their presence known," he said.

Baldwin and Scottville, a couple of West Michigan teams, also are rounding into tournament form, and Capac in the Thumb area always is a contender.

TOMORROW: Class B outlook.

Villanova, 15-3, boosted its hopes for an NIT bid by upsetting Providence 55-52 in the Friars' home court Jimmy Walker, Providence star, was held to only five points compared to his 29.1 average as the Wildcats chalked up their eighth victory in nine starts.

Dayton, Boston College and Chicago Loyola, other tournament hopefuls, won Dayton, now 20-4, pulled out a 90-79 victory over Miami, Fla., on Glinder Torsan's two free throws in the last 14 seconds.

The Hurricanes had wiped out a 20-point deficit to lead 79-73 with 40 seconds on the clock.

MSU Coach Sees Need for 3rd Official

EAST LANSING (AP) — While some fans may yell "kill the referee," Coach John Benington of Michigan State thinks basketball needs one more referee at every game.

At his weekly meeting with newsmen Tuesday, Benington was unhappy with some of the officials' calls in MSU's 67-66 victory over Minnesota Saturday and its 90-44 loss to Ohio State Monday night.

Benington said he would ask the Big Ten to consider using three officials, so one always would be ahead of the play. He said he believes there is a chance the proposal will be adopted.

He hoped to experiment with the plan when the MSU freshmen play the Notre Dame freshmen Thursday night at East Lansing.

The MSU coach proposed starting with one official at each baseline and one in the center, and rotating assignments during the game.

Speedy Woman Set to Race Mile Run

SEATTLE (AP) — Doris Brown, the speediest woman miler in the country, has switched her training schedule and plans to enter the mile run of the 88th in the National Women's AAU Indoor Championships at Oakland, Calif., March 3-4.

The Seattle housewife decided to run the longer distance to keep in training for a women's two-mile cross-country race at Barry, Wales, March 18, her coach, Dr. Ken Foreman, reported Tuesday.

Mrs. Brown, National AAU women's cross-country champion, set a world indoor mile record of 4:40.2 in Vancouver, B.C. Saturday.

'M' Fete Set

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan will hold an All Sports Alumni banquet at the Michigan Union March 2.

The banquet, part of the Sesqui-centennial Alumni Celebration, will bring together some of the great names in Michigan athletic history.

Redmen Have Dove in Rout of Orangemen

Tournament Berth Certain After Win Over Syracuse

By the Associated Press

Sonny Dove virtually wrapped up a postseason tournament berth for the St. John's University Redmen of New York Tuesday night.

The 6-foot-8 star threw in 27 points and grabbed 12 rebounds in leading the Redmen to a come-from-behind 71-64 victory over eighth-ranked Syracuse in the top college basketball game of the night.

"He whipped us good," said Syracuse Coach Fred Lewis after Dove's brilliant play snipped the 12-game winning streak of the Orange and also a 22-game home court streak.

Syracuse led by seven points midway of the second half before three straight baskets by Dove cut their deficit to one and ignited a 14-4 spurt in the closing minutes for St. John's seventh straight triumph.

CHOICE BIDS

St. John's, now 19-3, now is expected to have the choice of playing either in the NCAA or the NIT when invitations are issued Thursday to the two major postseason tournaments.

Rick Dean's 18 points led the Orange, the only team in The Associated Press Top Ten to see action. Despite the defeat, Syracuse, also 19-3, is believed to be in line for an NIT berth.

Connecticut clinched its 15th Yankee Conference title in 20 years and an automatic bid to the NCAA by crushing New Hampshire 114-75 at Storrs before hand 42 points by Wes Blalock.

Villanova, 15-3, boosted its hopes for an NIT bid by upsetting Providence 55-52 in the Friars' home court Jimmy Walker, Providence star, was held to only five points compared to his 29.1 average as the Wildcats chalked up their eighth victory in nine starts.

Dayton, Boston College and Chicago Loyola, other tournament hopefuls, won Dayton, now 20-4, pulled out a 90-79 victory over Miami, Fla., on Glinder Torsan's two free throws in the last 14 seconds.

The Hurricanes had wiped out a 20-point deficit to lead 79-73 with 40 seconds on the clock.

ROAD WIN

The Loyola Ramblers, 12-9, also won the road winning Ohio University 77-69. Two free throws by Bill Baumgardner in the last second after he had stolen a Bobcat pass served it up as Boston College, 16-2, breezed over Boston University 74-46 at Newton, Mass.

Bob Verc's 30 points, 17 of them in the second half, paced Duke to a come-from-behind 97-84 triumph over Wake Forest at Durham in an Atlantic Coast Conference game. Davidson also rallied for a home court victory Virginia Military 73-69 in the Southern Conference.

Southern Methodist maintained its two-game lead in the Southwest Conference by beating Arkansas 69-64 at Dallas behind Dennis Holman's 20 points. Harry Triplet's lay-up with five seconds left gave Texas A&M a 71-69 upset over Baylor at College Station.

Texas Christian beat Rice 83-74 at Fort Worth and Texas Tech whipped Texas 88-78 at Lubbock in other SWC games.

Brown beat Rhode Island 73-65 at Providence, St. Joseph's trounced American University 84-68 in the former baseball star Dom DiMaggio, proposed at a new conference construction of a stadium, seating 45,000 for baseball and 55,000 for football, on 270 acres of land owned by the Metropolitan District Commission in suburban Dedham and Needham.

Dome Stadium Plan Revealed in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — Plans for construction of a $50 million domed stadium just south of Boston were announced Tuesday by a group of private investors.

The group, headed by financier William A. Lincoln and including former baseball star Dom DiMaggio, proposed at a new conference construction of a stadium, seating 45,000 for baseball and 55,000 for football, on 270 acres of land owned by the Metropolitan District Commission in suburban Dedham and Needham.

Along the Outdoor Trail

with DON VOGEL—Outdoor Editor, Pontiac Press

Local Hunters Score

Rabbits . . . Unlimited!

Four local hunters have been busy filling their larders with an unlimited number of rabbits this winter.

No, they aren't violating any Michigan laws by taking more dock; Frank Slaybaugh, 2050 Lake Angelus; former Pontiac Mayor John Ridgway, 19 Niagara; and Derwin Heller, 7189 Lake, Waterford Township; have made five trips across the border and will go again this weekend.

They have been hunting the English hare, an import that wasn't supposed to get loose, and have bagged over 100.

"The English hare was imported from Europe in the early 1920s for hunting as a commercial enterprise on a farm near Brantford, Ont.," according to Wooliever.

"The farm was located on a river bank and the spring thaw created an ice jam that wrecked the enclosure containing the hares and turned them free. Being very prolific, the hare spread across lower Ontario by the late twenties."

Because of their large feet and speed, the hares are called jacks by the Canadian residents.

"They are so plentiful that there is no bag limit. The only restriction is that not more than 12 hunters can go out in a group. 'This law is rigidly enforced,'" said Wooliever.

NEAR STRATFORD

The four local men hunted at Tavistock, south of Stratford, last Saturday. They collected 29 jacks and two cottontails, while hunting with eight other men. The season ends Feb. 28.

The method of hunting is to place nine hunters in a line across a block one mile wide and two miles long and then drive the jacks out of hiding. Three other gunners drive the cars to the other end and conceal themselves as standers.

"It was a bright, sunny day with the thermometer near zero all day," said Wooliever, "an ideal day for jacks. There was a crust on the snow as we line up to take the first block."

A block in Ontario is similar to a section of land in Michigan. The only difference being a section is a square mile.

"Two or three jacks get away for everyone bagged," related Wooliever. "Of course, many remain still and the hunters walk right past without knowing they are there."

Favorite shotguns are 12 gauges loaded with No. 2 mag-nums.

Title Is Decided

DETROIT (AP)—Curtis Jones made only one basket for Detroit Northwestern. But it gave his team a 63-61 victory over Detroit-Pershing — marking Northwestern's fourth straight city public school league championship Tuesday night. The exciting contest was tied 13 times.

Whirlybird Purchased

Airborne Firefighter

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's first state-owned helicopter is scheduled for delivery early in March.

The State Conservation Department, which plans multiple uses for the new whirlybird, is as proud as any parent expecting a first.

The department derives a particular satisfaction because the helicopter is made in Michigan.

The helicopter, manufactured by the R. J. Enstrom Corp. of Menominee, was named Michigan's product of the year in 1965.

THREE SEATER

The light, rugged, three-seater helicopter sells for around $30,000—much less than similar aircraft. It also is more economical to operate than comparable models.

"We're quite excited about it," said Milton Bergman, chief of the department's forest fire division. "We consider it a bargain too. They used to cost around $100,000 each."

"Although the main job of the helicopter will be to help detect and fight fires, we have a variety of uses in mind for it. We think others will be discovered as we go along."

Bergman said delivery is expected early in March. The helicopter will come completely equipped with two-way radio and navigation equipment.

"We hope to have it flying by the start of the spring forest fire season, late in March or early in April," Bergman said.

The conservation department has been using planes on loan from the Coast Guard for forest fire detection work and migratory fowl and deer counts.

"We found them much more valuable for this work than conventional aircraft," Bergman said.

AERIAL SURVEYS

The helicopter also will be used to bring supplies for fire fighters.

Others suggested uses include aerial surveys of state timber and mineral holdings, checks on possible game law violators or illegal fishing the Great Lakes and searches for missing persons.

The 1966 Legislature approved an extra appropriation to the forest fire division for the helicopter.

If the first machine works out well, the department may ask for others.

REASON TO SMILE — Theodore R. Fauble, 2148 Snellbrook, Pontiac Township, has reason to smile. He is sitting next to the 109-pound sailfish he caught recently while fishing out of Acapulco, Mexico.

SURFACING — Theodore Fauble's nine-foot sailfish breaks water just after being hooked.

Fish Biologists on Move

Three Conservation Department fish biologists will move to new stations March 6.

John H. MacGregor, district fish biologist at Plainwell since March, 1965, will assume similar duties at Cadillac next month. He will succeed Jack R. Hammond who was advanced last month to regional fish biologist for the southern Lower Peninsula, a position headquartered in Lansing.

Replacing MacGregor at Plainwell will be Ned E. Fogle, district fish biologist at Crystal Falls for the past year.

Also moving from the Plainwell district is Gary T. Schnicke who has served there since last March as fish habitat biologist. He is being promoted to Mio as district fish biologist.

Schnicke will fill the position left vacant Jan. 9 when Buddy L. Jacob was named to specialize in warm-water fisheries work for the department fish division in Lansing.

Solunar Tables

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from John Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times. If you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

MAKING COMEBACK — There have been increased reports of Canadian lynx being spotted in the Upper Peninsula. The Conservation Department feels there are sufficient numbers to form breeding stock and that some form of protection should be afforded the immigrants from Canada. Department Biologist Ellsworth Harger looks at a lynx (center) and two bobcats. Note the big pads on the hind feet of the lynx as compared with those of the bobcat.

Concession Bids Sought

Concessions at Bay City State Park and Metamora-Hadley Recreation Area in southern Michigan are being offered by the Conservation Department for leasing, starting this year.

They are available for one, three or five-year periods under sealed bid agreements which are to be submitted on a per cent-of-gross basis to the department's parks division in Lansing.

Persons interested in the concession at the Metamora-Hadley Recreation Area, La-peer County, have until 2 p.m., March 1, to forward their bids to that division's Lansing office.

Up for leasing at that site, which attracted 235,000 daily visitors and 16,000 campers in 1966, is a new bathhouse-boating concession on Lake Minewanna. It is scheduled to open for business by June 1.

No bidding deadline has been set for the other operation at Bay City State Park which consists of two units. One of these is a large bathhouse which provides for clothes-checking service and over-the-counter sales of

'Second Chance' for Dog Training

Dog owners who were too late to register for obedience training classes will get a "second chance" at one of the sites.

Because of schedule conflicts, the sessions at Whitfield school in Pontiac will not get under way until tomorrow night — two weeks later than originally anticipated.

Interested owners are to take their dogs. Jim Richmond, Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club instructor, will take the registrations before the ice and over-the-counter sales of class work starts at 7:30.

Some GIs Shivering in Parts of Hot Viet

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
KONAUM, Vietnam — It may sound silly but the men of the 101st Airborne Division are sitting around the jungle here, swatting mosquitoes, snapping leeches and freezing up to their eyeballs.

Granted the country is tropical. Nevertheless, it's c-c-cold here. And the GIs are unprepared for it since Army supply people just don't send overcoats to rice paddy zones.

Actually, the highlands of Vietnam are annually chilly about this time. Unlike the sea level regions which swelter year around, the mountains here rise up to 9,000 feet and normally experience from two to three months of shivering every winter.

"But," chatters one GI, "this year it's ridiculous."

It is that all right. Weather station records at Kontum (elevation 3,000 feet) list this year's low at 50 degrees, but goose-pimples combat troopers swear it's nearer freezing on the near-by peaks.

FROST BITE?
One soldier, in fact, recently reported to an aid station rubbing his feet violently and insisting he had frost bite.

"It can't be," a medic said. "It is," the GI countered. "Let's see."

"Well?"
"Nothing."
"But my feet are killing me!" "I suggest," the medic said, "you get larger boots."

But even though frostbite is impossible, dozens of other illnesses have resulted from the blither weather. Frequent colds have broken out and a few have been diagnosed as pneumonia.

The temperature alone, perhaps, is not severe enough to cause much concern. But coupled with rains and the endless winds which whip through the upland valleys, soldiers are suffering mightily.

The men are still dressed for 100 degrees.

"It's like wearing nothing," says one.
"I need longjohns," says another.

"Brrrr," adds a third.
INADEQUATE CLOTHING
Warmer times, however, are not in the immediate offing.

Most men have been issued thin wool sweaters but nothing else is available. Some of the line troops here didn't even bring field jackets along.

Yet, with it all, the weather is not entirely cursed. It's an ill wind that blows nobody well. And the intelligence report is that fighting has slackened off because the thirty draped enemy has beat it down country for warmer climes.

Then, too, there is the incident of the paratrooper who indirectly owes his life to the dipping temperatures. He, a sergeant, was with a company on a search-and-clear mission at the time.

They were pushing across the side of a rain-swept mountain when the order was given to halt for the night. Then men sagged wearily to the mud and pulled their insufficient wraps close around their necks.

RELAXED
The sergeant sat down on a log. He took a drink from his canteen, lit a soggy cigarette and made nasty comments about the eternal wind.

He sat there 10 minutes. Then he felt something. He got up and looked around. He was sitting on a poisonous snake.

The snake, a deadly cane viper, would have surely bitten the soldier under normal conditions. But in the cold, the reptile was too sluggish to move for the kill.

The sergeant's mouth dropped open. He picked up a knife and brought the blade down hard on the viper.

Since then, temperatures here haven't improved at all. And everybody is clustering up in small bunches to rub their hands, flop their arms and grumble about the sopping rain and the 40-mile-an-hour winds.

GRATEFUL
Everybody but the sergeant, of course.
He thinks the weather's g-g-great.

Flying Relics of Early Days Are Kept Alive

RHINEBECK, N.Y. (AP) — A collection of antique airplanes dating from pre-World War I, most of which are still in flying condition, is housed at the Old Rhinebeck Aerodrome.

The aerodrome, about 100 miles from New York City, houses such collector's items as a Thomas Pusher, a 1912 biplane with an eight cylinder engine and propeller mounted behind the wings; a World War I Neuport 28 and German Fokker, a Spad 13, and a Sopwith Snipe.

The last Sunday of each month the planes are flown at a special two-hour air show featuring high and low level balloon bursting, ribbon cutting, and simulated "dog-fights."

Solid-Fueled Rocket Program Is Dying

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The development of a huge solid-fueled rocket, motor four times as powerful as the eight-engine first stage of the Saturn 1 launcher is dying from the budget squeeze.

As it stands now, the project to create such a seven-million-pound thrust booster will be dead for all practicable purposes after a ground test-firing of a half-size version of the rocket in June.

The fatal blow came in President Johnson's fiscal 1968 budget that stopped funding for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's (NASA) large solid-rocket research and development program.

Over a five-year period, the United States has spent a total of $44.2 million on the effort to develop a giant solid-fueled rocket that would be simpler and cheaper than liquid fueled rockets producing similar power.

Dr. Robert C. Seamans, NASA deputy administrator, said those five years of research and development provide "the necessary technological groundwork for eventual use of large solids."

NO PLANNED USE
"But since we have no planned and immediate use, we do not see the necessity for carrying this any further in the budget at this time."

Proponents of such massive boosters using a solid, rubber-like fuel disagree.

They claim that two test firings of half-length versions of the 140-foot, 200-inch diameter rocket proved that such big boosters are feasible, and that work should continue to refine and develop equipment needed to make them fly.

"We feel that today's technology is not far enough advanced," said a spokesman for the Aerojet-General Corp., the only company that has built and successfully test-fired a solid-rocket 200 inches in diameter.

"It's like a trimotor Ford airplane and a 720 jet — both are aircraft, but we'd like to see the 260-inch brought up to date."

ADVANCED FEATURES
To do it, Aerojet wants to get the go-ahead to build a full-length test rocket complete with such advanced features as steering equipment, a new nozzle and faster burning propellant.

"We think the expenditure of $20 to $25 million to do this would be a most worthwhile investment. We could then better demonstrate the technology available."

"The cancellation of the 260-inch program sounds the death knell for large solids in the national space program," said Richard Cottrell, vice president and manager of the solid-rocket operation for the Aerojet-General Corp.

One job most often suggested for a full-length 260-inch diameter solid rocket would be to replace the 1.6-million-pound thrust first stage of the Saturn 1 rocket.

SECOND STAGE

By using the Saturn's 200,000-pound thrust, liquid-fueled second stage on top of a big solid booster, officials estimate that the rocket could orbit more than twice the payload at roughly the same cost of the present-day Saturn 1.

But right now, NASA has no missions for such a booster. And until the need develops, the space agency's management does not want to proceed with development. It would cost a total of about $400 million to bring the rocket to flight-ready status.

The third and final test in the currently-financed program is scheduled for June at Aerojet's $23 million Dade County, Fla., plant.

The rocket will use a refurbished casing loaded with a new type propellant to produce a maximum of 5.4 million pounds of thrust.

PROGRAM STARTED
The large solid-rocket program started in 1953 when the Air Force and NASA agreed on a test-firing program of 150-inch and 260-inch diameter motors generating up to seven million pounds of thrust.

Contracts were awarded to Aerojet and to Thiokol Chemical Corp., to build and test five half-length rocket motors.

After spending $29.7 million on the project, the Air Force decided there was no military potential for a rocket 260 inches in diameter and pulled out of the program in 1964.

NASA took over in fiscal 1965 and has spent $34.5 million through the current fiscal year. Thiokol's contract was cancelled in 1965, but Aerojet has built and successfully test-fired two big rockets, each producing 3.6 million pounds of thrust.

If you visit Peru and see women knitting while walking in the streets, it is because centuries ago women were forbidden by their Inca rulers to remain idle and so their daughters and granddaughters knit.

VIETNAM MAY BE A HOT COUNTRY, but some Americans are freezing up to their eyeballs.

Spicy Sauce Uses Tomato and Orange

Don't wait until corned beef is on special at your corner grocery store for this amazing "Fruited Corned Beef."

The predominant flavor-makers are convenient, canned tomato sauce and fresh orange juice. If you haven't tried this great taste team, here's your chance. Other ingredients blended in to create a sweet-sour flavor are brown sugar, vinegar, and a little horseradish.

Handy, canned tomato sauce is a concentrated blend of sun-ripened tomato solids, salt, onions, peppers and spices. It's a beautiful consistency, adding needed richness to this basting sauce.

With "Fruited Corned Beef" serve buttered Brussels sprouts, small whole carrots, whole potatoes and a tossed salad, with pudding parfait and coffee for dessert.

Fruited Corned Beef
1 (4 1/2 lb.) corned beef brisket Water
Whole cloves
1 (8-oz.) can tomato sauce
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon horseradish
Juice of 2 oranges

Place meat in kettle and cover with cold water; bring to a boil and remove scum. Simmer slowly for 3 hours or until fork tender; cool.

Place drained corned beef in baking pan. Score fat and stud with cloves.

Combine tomato sauce, brown sugar, cider vinegar and orange juice; baste corned beef with mixture and bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes, basting frequently. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Zesty Sauce Baked With Spareribs

This is a nice change-over from the usual Sunday roast.

Chili Spareribs
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1 tablespoon sugar
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 teaspoons chili powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon celery salt
1/2 teaspoon garlic salt
Cayenne to taste
1 tablespoon instant minced onion
3 pounds spareribs

Mix all ingredients except ribs. Heat but do not boil. Do not cut ribs apart; place on a rack in a 15 1/2 by 10 1/2 by 1-inch jelly roll pan.

Bake in a very hot (500 degrees) oven 15 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350 degrees) and bake 1 1/2 hours or until very tender, turning and brushing at 15 minute intervals until ribs are done. If you like them crisp, place under broiler 3 to 5 minutes to crisp.

With scissors cut ribs into 2 to 3 rib servings. Spoon any sauce left over the ribs. Makes 6 servings.

For Easy Glaze

Mix one cup of applesauce with 1/4 cup brown sugar, 2 tablespoons grated orange rind, and one tablespoon orange juice. Spread over top of ham or ham slices.

FARINA TORTE—Farina torte layers absorb just enough moisture from the pineapple whipped cream filling to bring out the texture and flavor of the cake.

Farina Gives Taste of Nuts in Cake

Pineapple Farina Torte is an enchanting dessert. Its three rather thin, tawny layers are springy and pleasantly chewy yet tender.

Guests probably will think finely ground nuts have been folded into the sponge-like batter. In reality, it is farina, crushed corn flakes, eggs and sugar, leavened with baking powder, that form the batter.

The resulting cake layers are but one example of the versatility of today's cereals. Breakfast cereals are excellent for ingredient use in recipes because they are inexpensive, convenient, add flavor and texture.

The handsome party torte reaches its peak of fine flavor after it has been allowed to stand in the refrigerator for several hours with the pineapple cream filling spread between the layers.

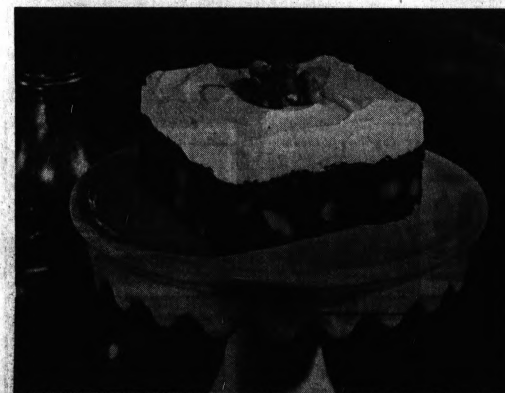

Whipped topping may be used, if desired, rather than whipped cream, for economy and calorie counting reasons.

Pineapple Farina Torte
4 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons vanilla
3 cups corn flakes, crushed to make 1/4 cup crumbs
1/2 cup farina, uncooked
1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 envelopes (2 ounces) whipped dessert topping and milk as suggested on package or 1 pint whipping cream, whipped
1 can (13 1/2 ounces) crushed pineapple, drained
1/2 cup chopped pecans, optional

Line bottoms of 3 greased 8-inch layer pans with waxed paper or foil; grease again. Beat egg whites until they hold soft peaks. Add 1/4 cup sugar to egg whites, a tablespoonful at a time; continue beating until whites are stiff and glossy.

Beat egg yolks and vanilla until light and fluffy. Gradually beat in remaining 1/2 cup sugar; beat until very thick. Fold in corn flake crumbs, farina, baking powder, and salt. Fold in egg white mixture.

Spread an equal amount of batter into each pan. Bake in slow oven (325 degrees) until done, about 25 minutes. Let cool in pans 10 minutes; remove

MAPLE BROWNIE DESSERT SQUARES—Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease a 9x9x2 pan. Mix one package walnut brownie mix, two eggs and one-fourth cup water. Spread batter in pan. Bake 30 minutes. Cool thoroughly. Whip one cup cream with one-fourth cup confectioners' sugar and one teaspoon maple flavoring until stiff. Spread over cooled dessert. Refrigerate two to three hours. Cut into nine square to serve, placing a walnut half on top of each serving.

Touch of Green Comes With Chives

It was the scholarly Ralph Waldo Emerson who declared, "There is always a best way of doing everything, if it be to boil an egg." Cook eggs over moderately low heat to prevent toughening the protein.

Yolks and whites are more easily separated if eggs are cold, but whites beat up to higher fluff if egg is at room temperature.

To such basic egg cookery rules we might add this one: One of the most delectable of seasonings for egg dishes is chives. Today that means convenient dried chives.

Whether you're cooking scrambled eggs, creamed eggs, deviled eggs, egg salad or an egg-rich main dish soufflé, use dried chives in liberal amounts.

Since about three-fourths of an egg is water, add the dried chives to the egg mixture just as they come from the container. Add the dried chives "as is" to cooking mixture such as soups, stews, etc. during the last minutes of cooking.

In two instances dried chives should be moistened with warm water, using half a measure of water to a measure of dried chives.

That is when the chives are to be freshened for use in a salad or other uncooked mixture and when they are to be stirred into melted butter or other fatty mixture.

Chives were a springtime treat in old-fashioned gardens as early as the late 18th century. Colonists brought them from Europe where they are treasured as an aromatic addition to bland or creamy mixtures, to gravies, salad dressings and rich sauces.

Unfortunately, the brilliant green spears rush the season. They bloom and then, in early fall, go dormant.

For this reason chives used to be available only in spring and summer. In the modern, easy-to-use dried form, chives can be used throughout the year.

Egg Benedict With Hollandaise Chive Sauce

4 English muffins, broiled
8 slices Canadian back bacon, broiled
8 eggs, poached
1 pkg. Hollandaise sauce mix
1 teaspoon dried chives

Split and toast English muffins, allowing two halves for each serving. Cover each muffin half with slice of broiled Canadian back bacon. Top each with poached egg. Yield: 4 servings.

EGGS BENEDICT WITH HOLLANDAISE CHIVE SAUCE—Bland, rich Eggs Benedict need the flavor fillip of chives, easily possible now that dried chives are sold nationally.

each serving. Cover each muffin half with slice of broiled Canadian back bacon. Top each with poached egg. Yield: 4 servings.

SOUP AND ITS SPOONS — Beautiful soup of all types is usually served in a plate (left) and eaten with the popular all-purpose sterling silver place spoon, shown next to the plate. At the right of the place spoon is an old-fashioned silver soup spoon which his larger than the present-day table-spoon! The round bowl cream soup spoon, and boudin spoon shown next are attractively shaped pieces, still available in some sterling patterns.

Soup Spoons Have Changed

Soup is as old as civilization itself — but, strangely enough, the individual soup spoon we take so for granted is a relative newcomer on the world scene.

Before the Italians made spoons for table use fashionable back in the 17th century, soup was sipped from bowls.

By the time of Queen Anne's reign in England, from 1702 to 1714, more and more table silver began to be used and diners in well-to-do families were supplied with a soup spoon, as well as a small teaspoon and dessert spoon.

During this time, the elliptical shape which is so popular today began to develop.

The cream soup spoon — with shorter handle and smaller bowl than the round bowl spoon — was added to sterling sets when cream soup bowls became popular during the 1920s.

Our oval shaped soup spoon used to be very large — larger than the table-spoon of today — and remained so until fairly recent times. The oval soup spoon is now called a place spoon and its all-purpose size is useful for all kinds of soup, as well as for desserts and other foods.

The size and character of the spoon, more than any of our eating implements, is important in savoring the full pleasure of eating. Fine craftsmanship, good balance and smooth finishing of the soup spoon allow the diner to concentrate on the important thing — the soup itself.

One reason sterling silver has never been displaced from the top rank of flatware metals is that it feels "friendly" to the hand or mouth on contact, and responds instantly to the temperature of food — whether it's soup or ice cream. The fact is metallurgical, but the effect is psychological.

No matter what spoon is used, there is a definite rule about how to use it. Tip the soup spoon slightly away from you and fill it by moving it away from you.

When most of the soup is eaten, tip the soup plate away from you, never toward you. Soup may be sipped from the side of the spoon or from the end — but never, oh never, put the entire spoon in your mouth.

For a hearty soup such as the following, don't worry too much about what to do with the meat and vegetables — just eat all the good ingredients with your soup spoon and enjoy this dish to the fullest.

Hearty Meat Ball and Vegetable Soup
1 pound ground round or veal
1 small onion, grated
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 egg
1/4 cup oil
2 cups sliced carrots
2 cups sliced celery
1/4 cup chopped parsley
1 cup sliced leeks
8 cups beef broth or stock
2 cups canned tomatoes
1 package (10 ounces) frozen mixed vegetables
Salt and pepper to taste

Combine round, onion, salt, pepper, nutmeg and egg; shape into 1-inch balls. Heat oil and brown meat balls on all sides. Drain meat balls on absorbent paper.

Weather Is No Bar to Broiling Ham on Charcoal Grill

When the barbecue bug strikes, it's hard to resist that urge to grill over charcoal, good weather or bad. This explains why many a garage door and patio roof shelter weekend chefs from rain or snow, as he grills the family dinner.

Ham is one of the most elegant yet reasonably priced meats to grill. There is a wide choice of shapes and sizes.

A four-pound ham cut lengthwise into six slices, 1/2-inch thick, makes 12 generous adult-size servings. For a small group select a medium-sized cased ham.

Cut the number of slices needed, then carefully wrap the remaining ham and refrigerate it for a few days.

Combine carrots, celery, parsley and leeks in a kettle. Add beef broth and tomatoes and simmer 20 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Add frozen vegetables and meat balls and simmer another 10 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

Finger Test Is Foolproof
Use the finger test when baking yeast bread. Press two fingers deeply in dough. If holes remain in dough, it is light and doubled in bulk and is ready for kneading.

Then touch well rounded loaves gently with a finger. If a slight dent remains, it is ready to bake.

Another delicious grilling choice is center slices of smoked ham. In many areas you also will find individual slices of ham in vacuum-sealed packages. Canned hams and many smoked hams, too, are fully cooked so grilling the slices over hot coals takes but a few minutes. Heating to serving temperatures heightens the flavor, but over-cooking will dry out the meat.

To give grilled ham a "master chef's touch," marinate the slices in spiced fruit juice for a couple of hours. Also brush the slices with juice often as they grill to keep the ham moist and to glaze the meat.

Charcoal Broiled Ham
4 pound pear shaped cased ham
2 cans (1 lb. 1 oz. each) fruit cocktail
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground cloves
1/4 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 tablespoons brown sugar

Put ham into six 1/4-inch lengthwise slices. Drain fruit cocktail, saving juice. Add spices to juice.

Marinate ham slices with spiced juice for two hours in the refrigerator. Turn slices at least once so that the marinade covers both sides of the ham slices.

Drain slices and grill over charcoal briquets, brushing with glaze, until heated through (about 10 to 15 minutes). Serve with spicy fruit sauce.

To make glaze: Add 1/4 cup brown sugar to 2 tablespoons marinade. Brush on ham slices as they grill.

To make spicy fruit sauce: Mix 1 tablespoon cornstarch and 2 tablespoons brown sugar. Add remaining marinade liquid and cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thick and clear.

Add fruit cocktail, heat to serving temperature. Makes about 3 cups. Serve with grilled ham slices.

No-Calorie Sweetener Makes Diet Dessert

Everyone knows, or should by now, that calories do count. They add, they multiply, but unfortunately they never subtract.

Many weight watchers have discovered that it's often just cutting down on the little things that can make the big difference in dieting... a little thing like sugar with the calorie-free sweetener, sucaryl, astonishing calorie reductions can be accomplished in many favorite desserts.

Study the recipe for the handsome Apricot Trifle Torte, shown here. Protein-rich but low-calorie, gelatin and skim milk form the basis for the rich-tasting custard, while sucaryl provides the natural, sweet taste of sugar without sugar's heavy penalty in calories.

APRICOT TRIFLE TORTE (Low-Calorie)

3 envelopes unflavored gelatin
1/4 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons liquid sucaryl
8 eggs, separated
3 cups skim milk
1/2 cup sherry
1 1/2-pound can sucaryl-sweetened apricot halves
10 ladyfingers, split

In top of double boiler, combine gelatin, salt, sucaryl and egg yolks; blend well. Gradually blend in skim milk; cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture thickens slightly.

Remove from heat; stir in sherry and liquid drained from apricots; chill until mixture begins to mound from spoon. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form; fold into gelatin mixture.

Line sides of a 9-inch spring-form pan with the split ladyfingers, rounded side out. Carefully pour the gelatin mixture into the pan; chill until set.

Arrange apricot halves on top, and garnish with low-calorie whipped topping, if desired.

Makes 12 servings, each 124 calories; 9 grams protein; 4 grams fat; 9.5 grams carbohydrate.

Caribbean Style

Blend softened cream cheese with a little mayonnaise and lemon or lime juice; flavor with cinnamon. Fold in sliced bananas, roasted dried almonds and toasted shredded coconut. Heap onto lettuce-lined toast.

Short Storage

The longer a turkey is held before or after cooking, the greater the danger of food spoilage. Birds should be cooked well and kept constantly under refrigeration.

Soufflé Tops a Chicken Dish

When lunch or supper is to be a gathering of just "the girls," make Soufflé-Topped Creamed Chicken your main dish selection. Here's the type of eating that delights all women, including the cook!

Soufflé-Topped Creamed Chicken

1 can (2 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 teaspoon tarragon, crushed
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10 3/4 ounces) chicken gravy
1 1/2 cups diced cooked chicken
1 package (10 ounces) frozen broccoli, cooked and drained
3 eggs, separated
1/2 cup (2 ounces) shredded Cheddar cheese
In saucepan, brown mushrooms and cook onion with tarragon in butter until tender. Add gravy and chicken. Heat; stir now and then.

Arrange broccoli in shallow baking dish (about 9" round); top with gravy mixture. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored; stir in cheese. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry.

Gradually fold egg yolk mixture into whites. Pour over gravy mixture. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until done. Makes 4 servings.

CARAMEL FRENCH TOAST — Combine three tablespoons melted butter, one-third cup brown sugar and three tablespoons chopped pecans in bottom of ungreased 9x9 pan. Mix one beaten egg with one-third cup milk in shallow bowl. Dip four slices bread in egg-milk mixture, turning to coat both sides. Place over sugar mixture. Bake 20 minutes at 400 degrees. Let stand one minute before inverting pan to remove bread so that caramel-pecan side is up. Serve warm, topped with ice cream. Makes four servings.

Sugar Helps Fix Any Meringue

Meringues collapse from less chance of overbeating. Whipped alone, egg whites tend to overbeat quickly. Bubbles break. Liquid drains. And early, whipping time is in-like Humpty Dumpty, once fall-creased, permitting a fine-bubbled, stable foam to form, with into bubbles.

Homemade Bread Has Many Variations—All Are Good

Low Cost Milk Adds Protein

Spare the cost, but never the pleasure of fine quick breads. By using inexpensive instant dry milk, a family can enjoy the qualities of whole milk at a saving.

Here's a delicious example: a Nut-Brown Wheat Bread made with dry milk, mixed with molasses, and dappled with coarsely chopped walnuts.

Complement the bread's nutty sweetness with butter, margarine, or cream cheese, or, for those with a sweet tooth, with preserves.

NUT BROWN WHEAT BREAD

Nut-Brown Wheat Bread

6 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1½ cups cold water
½ cup light molasses
2 cups whole wheat flour
1 cup sifted all-purpose flour
1 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder

2½ teaspoons baking powder
1½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ cup chopped walnuts

Dissolve brown sugar in water; stir in molasses. (Stir, do not sift, whole wheat flour before measuring.)

Into large mixing bowl, sift whole wheat flour, all-purpose flour, nonfat dry milk, baking powder, salt and baking soda. Pour water-molasses mixture into sifted dry ingredients; blend well. Stir in walnuts.

Pour into a buttered 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf pan. Bake in a slow (300 degree F.) oven about 1 hour, or until cake tester inserted in center of loaf comes out clean.

Cool thoroughly. Serve with butter, margarine or cream cheese. Makes one 9 x 5 x 3-inch loaf.

Buttery Topping

Sprinkle hot apple pie as it comes from the oven with a little melted butter, then with cinnamon and sugar. Let cool before serving.

Syrup in Batter

Cornbread Has a Sweet Taste

A breakfast of maple-flavored sausage patties, browned and fried in a slow skillet, and hot maple cornbread would please even a fussy Vermonter. The maple aroma arouses appetites, and the sweet flavor brings on calls for second helpings.

Hot Maple Cornbread

2½ cups sifted flour
1½ cups cornmeal
2 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¾ cup maple syrup
1 cup melted shortening
4 eggs, slightly beaten

Sift flour, cornmeal, baking powder, and salt together into a large bowl. Add maple syrup

Funnel Will Help

Save yourself time in separating eggs by breaking them into a funnel. The white remains in the funnel while the yolk flows through. Remember that eggs must be at room temperature for best baking results.

Cottage Cheese Mixed Into Fruit Loaf Batter

Perhaps you think bread baking is a difficult job, but have you ever tried it. You'll find it can be easy. With a simple, quick-mixing recipe like this one for Cottage Cheese Fruit Bread, you can bake your own loaf of bread with perfect confidence that it will come out right.

And there's nothing like the satisfaction you feel when you take that golden-crusted loaf out of the oven and slice it for your family.

This is a substantial, hearty kind of loaf, full of good things like butter, eggs, cottage cheese, flour and brown sugar. These flavorful fruits, dried apricots and prunes, give the loaf its sunny sweet flavor.

There's also a touch of orange and lemon rind for a citrusy tang that's most refreshing.

The cottage cheese goes right into the dough to add extra moistness and dairy-fresh goodness. It takes the place of milk, and adds all of milk's valuable protein.

COTTAGE CHEESE FRUIT BREAD

¾ cup dried apricots
¾ cup dried prunes

COTTAGE CHEESE FRUIT BREAD

6 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
2 eggs
1 tablespoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1½ cups (12-oz.) cottage cheese
2 cups sifted regular all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt

In a 1-quart saucepan place apricots and prunes; add water just to cover fruit. Boil gently, uncovered, about 30 minutes (all liquid should be absorbed). Cool; then chop fruit.

In a large mixing bowl cream butter and sugar. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add lemon and orange rinds and cottage cheese; beat well. Sift together flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt; add to creamed mixture and beat at low speed just until combined.

Fold in chopped fruits; spread into two well-buttered 7½x3½x2½-inch loaf pans. Bake in a preheated 350 degree oven 45-50 minutes.

Allow to stand 10 minutes. Remove from pan onto wire rack to cool. Yield: 2 loaves.

Lemon Pastry

For a delightful change when baking your favorite apple pie, change the pastry by adding lemon juice and grated lemon peel to the pastry, using the lemon juice as part of the required water.

Vegetable Biscuits

For added color and flavor to biscuit topping for chicken or meat pies, add one teaspoon of finely chopped parsley and four tablespoons of finely grated raw carrot to a regular recipe of topping dough.

CHERRY CROISSANTS

French Pastries Are Cherry Filled

Cherry Croissants

1 jar (8 ounces) red maraschino cherries
¼ cup milk, scalded
1 package active dry yeast
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
¼ cup butter

Drain cherries; chop and drain again. Pour milk into bowl; cool to warm (105 degrees to 115 degrees). Add yeast; stir to dissolve.

Sift together flour, salt and sugar; stir into yeast mixture.

Knead dough on lightly floured surface until smooth and elastic, about 5 minutes. Place in greased bowl; cover with damp towel. Let rise in warm place until double in bulk, about 45 minutes.

Roll out to 16x8-inch rectangle. Dot center with ½ the butter; fold over 1-3 of dough. Dot with remaining butter; fold over dough. Turn and roll out to a long strip.

Fold into thirds, wrap in waxed paper and chill. Repeat rolling and chilling 3 times.

Roll out dough to 16 x 8-inch rectangle, ¼-inch thick. Cut into 4-inch triangles. Sprinkle with cherries. Roll up from wide end; seal.

Place on ungreased baking sheets. Cover and let rise about 30 minutes. Brush with egg yolk. Bake in 425 degree (hot) oven 15 minutes, or until golden brown. Serve with butter.

Hominy Lunch

Quick lunch — and good: heated canned hominy (yellow or white) with strips of crisp bacon, broiled tomatoes and asparagus. Delicious enough for company — especially if you serve the asparagus with Hollandaise sauce.

Teen-Agers Bake With CoolRise Method

A snappy idea for party fare that's sure to be a hit with teenagers "in the know" is Buttons 'N' Bows teamed up with frothy, ice cream floatz.

These cleverly shaped rolls, gaily decorated with polka dots, stripes or any other design you like, will certainly add to the party atmosphere. And, they taste just as they look.

BUTTONS 'N' BOWS

(Cool Rise Method)

5-6 cups flour
(Regular or Instant Blending)
2 pkgs. or cakes yeast, active dry or compressed
2-3 cup warm water (105 degree F. - 115 degree F.)
1 cup warm milk (105 degree F. - 115 degree F.)
¼ cup sugar
1½ teaspoon salt
¼ cup softened margarine or shortening
2 eggs
Cooking oil
1 tablespoon softened butter or margarine

Spoon or pour flour into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour onto wax paper.

Sprinkle or crumble yeast into 2-3 cup warm water in large, warm bowl. Stir until dissolved.

Add warm milk, sugar, salt, margarine, eggs and 3 cups flour. Beat with wooden spoon or electric mixer at low speed until smooth (about 1 minute).

Then beat vigorously with electric mixer at medium speed (2-3 minutes) until thick and elastic. Scrape sides of bowl occasionally.

Stir in remaining flour gradually with wooden spoon. Use just enough flour to make a soft dough which leaves sides of bowl, adding more if necessary.

Turn out onto floured board.

Round up into a ball.

Knead 5-10 minutes or until dough is smooth, elastic and no longer sticky. Cover with plastic wrap, then a towel. Let rest for 20 minutes on board. Punch down. Divide into 3 equal portions. Shape into Buttons 'N' Bows.

Buttons (30 rolls): Roll one portion of dough into an 8 x 14-inch rectangle on lightly buttered board. Spread evenly with 1 tablespoon softened butter.

Roll up like jelly roll beginning with 14-inch side. Pinch lengthwise edge to seal.

Cut into thirty ¼-inch rounds using a thread. Slide thread under roll. Holding one end of thread with each hand, bring ends together at top of roll. Cross ends and pull thread with each hand, bring ends together at top of roll. Cross ends and pull thread tight, cutting through dough.

Place on buttered baking sheets. Brush surface of dough with oil. Cover pans loosely with plastic wrap.

Bows (32 rolls): Roll each portion of remaining dough into an 8 x 12-inch rectangle on lightly buttered board. Cut 8-inch side into three strips — two measuring 3 x 12 inches and one measuring 2 x 12 inches.

Cut 3 x 12-inch strips at ½-inch intervals to make 16 rectangles. Cut 2x12-inch strip at ½-inch intervals to make 16 small strips. Crease rectangles in center with blunt edge of knife and twist once along crease line.

Wrap small strip around twist and seal ends. Place sealed-side down on greased baking sheets. Brush surface of dough with oil. Cover pans loosely with plastic wrap.

Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours at moderately cold setting. When ready to bake, remove from refrigerator. Uncover. Let stand for 10 minutes while pre-heating oven.

Bake at 375 degrees for 15-20 minutes or until done. Bake on a lower oven rack position for best results. Remove from pans immediately. Cool on racks. Brush while warm with butter. Frost and decorate as desired.

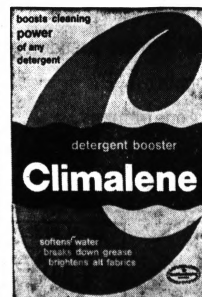

Yield: 62 rolls.

what is the definition of a private brand?

To some people, it is a retailer's own brand created with selling price first in importance and quality second.

To us at A&P, it's the opposite. Quality comes first. Value...the best for the least is the rule for our private brands.

If this wasn't true, how foolish we'd be to invest, as we have, literally millions of dollars in processing plants and testing laboratories.

If all we wanted were products we could sell cheaply without quality control, anybody could produce them for us.

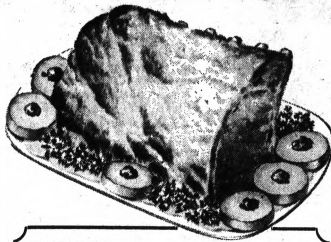

The idea of quality private brands isn't new at A&P.

Are A&P Private Brands a good reason for shopping A&P? They're one of many.

Chinese Foods Make Salad

If you are treating your family and friends to a Chinese feast, be sure to include subgum salad as one of the features. And while subgum salad is a natural accompaniment for a Chinese meal, it also is an excellent salad on almost any menu.

This exotic salad takes only a few minutes to prepare. Don't be surprised if the man of the house takes over this recipe so that he can collect the compliments.

Subgum Salad

1/4 pound water cress
2 large green peppers
1 large head lettuce
1 cup drained bean sprouts
1/4 cup olive oil
2 1/2 tablespoons soy sauce
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 tablespoon catsup
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground ginger
1/4 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon ground black pepper
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1 hard-cooked egg, chopped
Cut water cress into 1-inch lengths. Slice peppers into very thin slivers. Tear lettuce into pieces convenient for eating, and mix with water cress, green peppers, and bean sprouts.
Add olive oil, soy sauce, vinegar, catsup, salt, ground ginger, sugar, ground black pepper, garlic powder, and chopped hard-cooked egg. Toss lightly.
Yield: 6 to 8 servings.

Mushrooms and Ham for Patty Shells

The prettiest parties of all are those "little luncheons" you give for a few of your best friends.
This unusual luncheon fare is sure to rate "oohs and ahs" from all the ladies. And for you, the busy hostess, its preparation couldn't be easier.

Start with frozen puff pastry patty shells. They may be baked early in the day and are ready to use for lunch. Just spoon in this flavorful combination of ham and fresh mushrooms in a Mornay sauce.

Ham and Mushrooms Mornay

1 pound fresh mushrooms
8 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon prepared mustard
2 1/2 cups milk
1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
2 cups cooked ham, cut in julienne strips
Prepare patty shells according to package directions. Clean and slice mushrooms. In saucepan, saute mushrooms in 3 tablespoons butter until tender.

Remove mushrooms from pan. Add remaining butter; blend in flour, salt, pepper and mustard. Gradually add milk and heat stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil.

Reduce heat; add cheese and stir until melted. Add ham and mushrooms. Serve in warm patty shells. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Apple Dressing: Blend together 1/2 cup applesauce, 1/4 cup sour cream, 1/4 cup salad dressing and 1 teaspoon celery seed. Chill.

It's a Two-Vegetable Souffle

Unless you take green bean and yellow squash souffles as a matter of course, you'll agree that this specialty is a most unusual dish.

The flavor is delicate and rich. Although the recipe says, "Serve at once," you needn't panic about getting it from oven to table to plates before the great fall. This is a souffle that, for a souffle, holds up very well.

"Mr. Blue Lake's Souffle" is an appropriately festive dish for a salute to the Blue Lake green bean canners and growers of Oregon and Washington. Their 1966 pack, now in our stores, was the biggest in history.

Mr. Blue Lake is the jaunty "gentleman bean" in top hat and tails, the symbol for the Blue Lake pole beans, the original Blue Lake variety, developed especially for canning in the Northwest.

(Unfortunately, there is no way to protect a varietal name and so there are a few bush beans grown in other areas called Blue Lake. But there is only one Mr. Blue Lake and its likeness may only be used in connection with the superior green beans from the Northwest.)

You'll find this souffle especially good for a hot baked ham dinner. Or enjoy it with cold ham and zippy mustard for luncheon. In casserole or custard cups, we commend it to your pleasure.

Mr. Blue Lake's Souffle
1 can (1 lb.) cut Blue Lake green beans
2 cups diced yellow squash (about 1 lb.)
Salt

COFFEE MAKER—A 30-cup insulated percolator is being introduced by The West Bend Company, West Bend, Wis., in colorful avocado finish. By means of a sealed air space, the unit holds coffee at serving temperature for hours without being plugged in. It also keeps seven quarts of iced beverages for hours as well. From 12 to 30 cups of delicious coffee are made automatically. Under $18.

3/4 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon dry mustard
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1 cup milk
3 eggs, separated
1 teaspoon lemon juice

Drain bean liquid into saucepan; add squash and 1/4 teaspoon salt. Cook, covered, 10 minutes; drain.

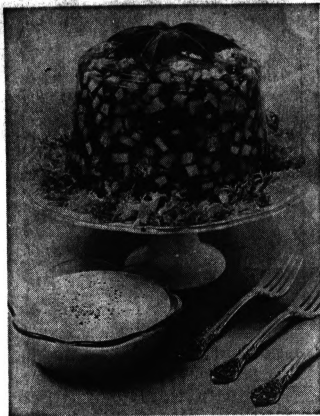

Melt butter in saucepan; stir in flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt and spices. Gradually add milk; cook, stirring, until thickened. Beat egg yolks lightly in bowl; gradually stir in hot mixture. Add beans, squash and lemon juice.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Fold into vegetable mixture. Spoon into eight (8 oz.) greased custard cups or 1/2-quart casserole. Place in pan with hot water.

Bake at 350 degrees about 30 minutes for custard cups and about 50 minutes for casserole or until set. Serve at once. Makes 8 servings.

Fancy Looking

Cakes are prettier if the frosting is textured. This is easy to do. Fluffy frosting may be swirled with tip of spatula or spoon, and confectioner's frosting may be criss-crossed with lines of fork.

CRANBERRY BOGANZA SALAD—It's a prize-winning gelatine salad... an elegant rib-ribbon combination of cranberry juice cocktail, cream cheese and chopped pecans to add excitement to any menu.

Mold Cream Cheese Balls in Cranberry Gelatine

A shimmering gelatine salad makes an event of any meal—and Cranberry Boganza Salad is one of the best ever. The dish happily keeps company with just about any kind of meat and adds gourmet flair to any menu.

Cranberry Boganza Salad is a most distinguished recipe; it has just won first prize in a national recipe contest sponsored by Knox Gelatine, Inc.

It is the culinary inspiration of Mrs. Viola Roberts East Cleveland, Ohio. The recipe won for Mrs. Roberts a stationwagon and a complete kitchen.

The salad looks elaborate enough to come to the fanciest company meal, but it is simple to make. As for other dishes made with unflavored gelatine there is no cooking involved except for the few minutes required to dissolve the gelatine in liquid, in this case tangy cranberry juice cocktail.

Once dissolved, the gelatine mixture is chilled until slightly thickened and then diced celery and chopped apple go into the mixture.

Now for the imaginative touch that makes for prize recipes. Roll little squares of cream into balls and then roll in finely chopped pecans. The cheese-nut nuggets are folded gently into the gelatine mixture and poured into a decorative mold.

There's a delicious sauce, too. It's an original combination of applesauce, sour cream, salad dressing and celery seeds for texture and added flavor.

Cranberry Boganza Salad
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
1/4 cup sugar
1 1/2 cups cranberry juice cocktail, divided
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup chopped unpeeled apple
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese
Finely chopped pecans (about 1/2 cup)

Mix gelatine and sugar in saucepan. Stir in 1/4 cup of the cranberry juice cocktail. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatine dissolves.

Remove from heat; stir in remaining 1 cup cranberry juice cocktail and lemon juice. Chill until slightly thicker than consistency of unbeaten egg white. Add chopped apple and celery.

Cube cream cheese in 1/2-inch squares, roll into balls and then roll in finely chopped pecans. Fold gently into gelatine mixture. Turn into 3-cup mold or bowl. Chill until firm. Unmold.

Garnish with salad greens. If desired, serve with Apple Dressing.

Yield: 4 servings.
Note: Recipe may be doubled and turned into 6-cup mold or bowl.

Apple Dressing: Blend together 1/2 cup applesauce, 1/4 cup sour cream, 1/4 cup salad dressing and 1 teaspoon celery seed. Chill.

Oil Will Tenderize Inexpensive Steak

Everyone seems to have a pet way of broiling steak. Here's another, especially recommended for those "bargain steaks" frequently offered for sale in supermarket counters.

First place the steak in a large roasting pan, cover it with boiling water, and let it stand in the water three minutes, turning once. Pour off the water, pat the meat dry with paper towel, then punch holes here and there in the meat and brush in the usual way, to the degree of doneness you prefer.

If you like a hint of garlic flavor, rub a cut clove of garlic over the surface. Then broil in the usual way, to the degree of doneness you prefer.

The reason for the quick "bath" or blanching in boiling water is to remove the stale flavor meats pre-wrapped in plastic often have acquired.

Brushing in the olive oil has a tenderizing effect on the meat fibre and also helps the meat to brown more evenly and quickly for that rich glazed look which is so mouth-watering.

FOR SERVICEMEN—Combat Zone Burger is one of the recipes included in "The Charlie Ration Cookbook or No Food Is Too Good For The Man Up Front," just printed by the McIlhenny Company, manufacturers of Tabasco sauce. The booklet was inspired by letters received from servicemen stationed in Vietnam who use Tabasco to spice up their C-Rations. The recipe uses authentic C-Rations and thus cannot be made up by readers; it merely illustrates the type of material included in the booklet. For $1.00, the McIlhenny Company will mail postage paid to any serviceman whose name and APO address is supplied them "The Charlie Ration Cookbook" and a 2-ounce bottle of Tabasco sauce, packed in a special waterproof shipping tube. Readers may write to: McIlhenny Company, Dept. NSF, Avery Island, La. 70613.

Junior Editors Quiz on PELICANS

QUESTION: Why does a pelican have a bag under his bill?

ANSWER: Pelicans are among the most unusual and interesting of birds.

They are big—some have a wing spread of nearly 10 feet—and they have a grotesque, awkward look, quite different from the streamlined beauty of most birds. But if the pelican looks like a clown, he is actually very efficient at his job, which is that of fisherman.

The two main kinds of pelican, the brown and the white, go after fish in different ways. White pelicans, fishing together, beat the water with their wings, driving fish ahead.

They then use the pouch attached to the lower bill as a dip net to scoop the fish up. The brown pelicans (illustrated) look for fish from the air, and plunge into water after their food, which they then lift up and swallow.

The lower picture shows how a brown pelican feeds her young, by regurgitating some partly-digested fish into her pouch, into which the young bird puts his head and helps himself. The brown pelican is found on the coast from South Carolina to Texas. The white kind lives in the West.

Dixie Man Sues to Halt Civil War Ship's Raising

MOBILE, Ala. (U) — A Mobile man has filed the first writ in what could be the second battle of Mobile Bay.

J. O. Wintzell Jr., filed suit in Circuit Court Tuesday to prevent the Smithsonian Institution from raising the Civil War ironclad ship Tecumseh from the bottom of Mobile Bay.

Probe Figure Fears for Life

NEW ORLEANS (UPI) — A onetime private investigator who told Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison he knew of five persons implicated in a plot to kill President Kennedy said yesterday he feared for his life and wanted police protection.

David F. Lewis, 28, who knew presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald in 1963, said the persons involved in the conspiracy were "very vicious and capable of anything."

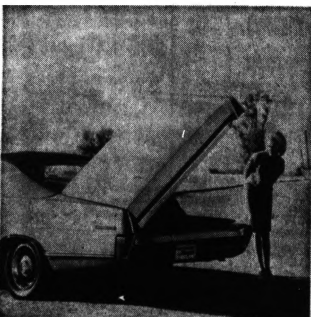

"If they're capable of assassinating a United States president, they would not hesitate in getting rid of any of the witnesses."

Lewis, a skinny, dark-haired man who said he relayed his knowledge of the alleged conspiracy to Garrison, now works as a freight agent for a bus line.

He said he met with Oswald several times in New Orleans in the six months before the assassination, but would not divulge what he and Oswald discussed.

He said Garrison's investigation into a possible conspiracy concerning the assassination should be taken seriously.

"This investigation definitely is not a hoax on anyone's part. There was a plot. I know about it. And I know the people who were involved."

TRUCK PROTOTYPE — The principle of the dual-action tailgate for station wagons has been applied to a sedan hardtop by Ford Motor Co. engineers. The lid of the experimental car — the Mercury LeGrand Marquis — swings up and over like a book cover to facilitate loading. The car will be shown Saturday at the Chicago Auto Show.

City Man Shot, Killed in Car Chase

Mayor Denies That U.S. Has Blocked Pontiac's Urban Renewal Program

By DAVID J. COOK

A Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) notice that the city's downtown redevelopment agreement has been "frozen" drew a strong rebuttal last night from Mayor William H. Taylor Jr.

"The city still has a valid agreement," Taylor declared, "and this won't affect us one bit."

Ford Recalling 217,000 Cars to Fix Brake Fault

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. is calling 217,000 of its 1966 and 1967 model cars into service shops for inspection of possible power brake faults.

The power-assist portion of the brake systems on some of the cars may fail in cold weather after a prolonged period of parking, causing an increase in the pressure needed to push down the brake pedal and stop the car, Ford said.

The company also said steering-wheel assemblies will be replaced in 5,900 of the recalled vehicles, all new Thunderbirds equipped with automatic speed-control devices.

Besides Thunderbirds, the recall for possible brake problems include Falcons, Fairlanes, Comets, Mustangs and Cougars. The vehicles are 1966 and 1967 models equipped with power brakes.

Those cars without power brakes, as well as Lincoln Continentals, standard-size Fords and Mercurys with power brakes, are not affected, the company said.

RECENT BLIZZARDS

Ford said Tuesday that recent blizzard conditions in the northern United States and Canada aggravated the power-brake problem.

The brake system is "fail safe," the company said, "but the pedal pressure required to stop the car in the event of an inoperative booster is increased considerably."

EASILY CHECKED

Ford said the problem easily can be checked and corrected "if the driver will test his brakes as he starts slowly from the garage or driveway. Three or four applications of the foot pedal after starting the engine will provide proper operation of the brake booster."

group, who promised commissioners he would file a formal protest next week concerning management of the city's urban renewal plans.

Don Frayer, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Positive Pontiac Progress, said the protest would be filed with federal officials Feb. 28.

The apparent HUD roadblock was announced to city officials Monday in the form of a letter to James L. Bates, city director of planning and urban renewal.

ORDERS CITY

The letter, signed by Dean Swartzel, assistant regional administrator, for renewal assistance, orders the city "not to proceed further with or convey any property" covered by the Taubman plan.

Specific objection to the project, Swartzel said, was execution of the city's Sept. 27 agreement with Taubman "without prior approval" of HUD and "without prior concurrence" of HUD with an established sale price.

On that date, the city accepted a $250,000 "good faith" deposit from Taubman and set up an initial six-month period for obtaining major commercial tenants for the downtown project.

The lease period may be renewed for an additional six months.

'AGREEMENT TO AGREE'

A high-speed bullet-punctuated chase ended in death for a Pontiac man fleeing Oakland County Sheriff's deputies after a holdup in Pontiac Township last night.

Emmett E. Ransom, 26, of 366½ Ferry died in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital about 11 p.m., some 40 minutes after the robbery. He was shot once in the left side, deputies said.

Ransom was pursued west on Auburn into Pontiac at speeds exceeding 120 miles per hour after he was seen running from the Holdsworth Market, 2653 Auburn, moments after a holdup, according to deputies.

The chase ended when he plowed into a snow bank at Auburn and South Shirley, then reportedly ignored deputies' orders to halt.

He put the car into gear and attempted to drive away, striking Deputy Gerald Reeves who then fired into the car, investigators said.

FALLS ONTO STREET

After travelling approximately 100 feet on Shirley, the car stopped against the curb and Ransom fell out onto the street, deputies said.

Capt. Leo Hazen said a foreign-model 38-caliber automatic pistol, fully loaded, was taken from Ransom's jacket, along with a wad of money and a wallet belonging to William Holdsworth, 48, owner of the robbed store.

A man had been observed cruising in a car on Auburn in front of the market prior to the holdup by Deputy Roland Pless, who was on routine patrol, Hazen said.

Pless said he became suspicious and radioed the license number to the sheriff's office, then pulled into an adjoining parking lot when the man entered the store.

ORDERED HIM TO HALT

Moments later, according to Hazen, Ransom ran out and Pless ordered him to halt.

When the deputy turned to ask if everyone was all right in the store, Ransom raced to his car and drove away, Hazen said.

Pless said he fired a warning shot, then emptied his gun at the vehicle.

Reeves then arrived at the scene and both cars pursued Ransom to Auburn and S. Shirley.

Holdsworth told deputies he and his wife were alone in the store at the time of the robbery. He said the handi- entered, pulled a gun and ordered the cash register emptied, then took his billfold.

Investigators said they had not yet determined whether Ransom suffered the fatal wound at the holdup scene or where the chase ended.

An autopsy is scheduled today. Both the sheriff's department and Pontiac police officials said they have no record on Ransom.

Hazen said other law-enforcement agencies are being contacted for a possible record.

RIDDLED CAR — The car in which Emmett Ransom was fatally shot last night after a high-speed chase from a holdup scene stands bullet-riddled (circles) in the Oakland County Sheriff's Department garage. Ransom died about 11 p.m. in St. Joseph Hospital after the chase ended at Auburn and South Shirley.

GM Lays Off 8,300 Locally

An estimated 8,300 local auto workers are among 29,000 General Motors Corp. employees laid off today because of a parts shortage created by a wildcat strike in Ohio.

GM spokesmen indicated 80,000 were marked for layoffs nationwide as a result of the Mansfield, Ohio, walkout.

Two of Pontiac's three GM plants were hit by the parts shortage that sent workers home at the close of operations yesterday.

A total of 5,000 workers were furloughed at Pontiac Motor Division. Some 2,000 of those affected are engaged in final assembly operations, while 3,000 other hourly workers elsewhere in the plant are also off.

An estimated 3,300 are laid off from assembly operations at the Fisher Body plant here, a spokesman said.

NO PLANT TOURS

Meantime, Pontiac Motor plant tours have been canceled until plant production resumes.

GM said a series of layoffs, to be completed by the weekend, will idle assembly lines in 22 of the firm's 23 auto production plants scattered across the nation.

"The 80,000 figure is conservative," a GM spokesman said. "It could hit 100,000."

The nation's biggest auto builder said its assembly lines would halt because the strikebound Fisher Body plant in Mansfield no longer is producing parts.

Sukarno Surrenders Powers to Suharto, Holds Title Only

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno tonight handed over his presidential powers to army strongman Gen. Suharto.

The sudden decision dramatically ended Sukarno's 21 years of one-man rule of Indonesia.

Sukarno surrendered most of his powers to Suharto last March, but he remained a symbol to millions of Indonesians as the father of Indonesia's independence.

A signed statement by Sukarno said he gave all power to Suharto "for the sake of the people and the country."

Sukarno's stepdown was not a full resignation but was a surrender of executive powers.

TITULAR PRESIDENT

The 65-year old president, who led this huge South East Asian nation from Dutch colonial rule to independence will remain president in name only.

His decision came following two weeks of intensive pressure from Suharto and his military followers.

Sukarno had been warned that if he did not hand over powers he would be investigated by Congress and possibly brought to trial.

AVOID TRIAL

There were no indications what compromises were made with Sukarno. However, political and military sources said Suharto agreed to insure that Sukarno would not be brought to trial.

There was no indication if Sukarno would remain in Indonesia or leave the country.

Sukarno's statement said Suharto would have to report to him regularly on how he was using the presidential powers. But this was probably a face-saving gesture.

Following an attempt by Indonesian Communists to seize power Oct. 1, 1965, many of the coup leaders were brought to trial and some implicated Sukarno in the attempt.

Firebird Shown Tomorrow

The Firebird will make its first official appearance in automobile showrooms tomorrow, with area dealers taking the wraps off Pontiac Motor Division's new sports car entry.

The advertising and promotional introduction date was held to by company officials although early deliveries of some Firebird models resulted in their premature appearance on the street almost a month ago.

Available in both hardtop and convertible styles, Firebird is aimed at the market presently dominated by Ford's Mustang, Chevrolet's Camaro and Plymouth's Barracuda.

The Firebird is also comparable in size to other sports car models.

YOUNG PATRIOTS — Flag-waving is almost part of the curriculum for Donelson School first graders this month. The Waterford Township pupils have been practicing frequently for a grand march they will present to parents Tuesday night. The event will culminate an all-month patriotic program during which much emphasis has been placed on Lincoln's and Washington's birthdays.

Romney Refuses to Explain Charges of War 'Politics'

POCATTELLO, Idaho (AP) — Gov. George Romney of Michigan has assailed the Johnson administration on the Vietnam war, saying the administration had made some decisions on a basis of political expediency. He declined to give an example of his charge.

Romney, on a tour of the West, spent more than 30 minutes at a Pocatello news conference yesterday parrying questions about his position on Vietnam.

Asked if he would say what the political expediencies were, the Republican governor replied:

"No, I will not."

"Why?" asked a reporter.

"Because I choose not to," Romney replied.

"Do you mean you make charges and won't substantiate them?" he was asked.

NOSTALGIC TOUR

"Not at the time," he said. Asked if his position on Vietnam was not political expediency, he replied: "No."

Romney spent yesterday on a nostalgic tour of some scenes of his boyhood in agricultural eastern Idaho, and in three speeches continued to hammer away at the Johnson administration.

At the news conference, Idaho Gov. Don W. Samuelson said "it's a little too early to make any commitments," when asked if he would support Romney for the Republican presidential nomination.

"I can't tell you at this point because he hasn't announced," said Samuelson.

TRIP TO AID DECISION

Romney has not announced for the nomination, but has indicated he is considering it and is making this trip to help him decide.

Romney's trip earlier took him to Alaska and Utah. He will be in New Mexico and Arizona before he returns to Michigan.

He was scheduled to fly to Albuquerque, N.M., this afternoon.

Light Snow, Cold Due for Awhile

Cloudy, cold with snow flurries is the prediction for today through Friday with less than one-tenth of an inch in snow flurries throughout the period.

Temperatures for the next five days will be about 10 degrees below the normal high of 32 to 37 and low of 15 to 21.

Tonight's low is expected to register 12 to 17, the weatherman said.

Morning winds, southwesterly and gusty at 12 to 25 miles will shift to northwesterly early tonight.

The low temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 19. The 1 p.m. reading was 32.

Why, George?

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Ask a first-grade pupil why George Washington cut down the cherry tree and you'll get an answer that's simple and to the point.

Red Bridge Elementary School first-graders were asked the question yesterday. Here are some replies:

He liked cherries. He wanted to put a flagpole in its place. He liked to walk over trees that had been chopped down. The cherries were rotten. He wanted to build a city. He liked to chop trees.

VIETNAM CASUALTY — Bernard B. Fall, 40-year-old author and one of the leading authorities on Vietnam, was killed yesterday by a booby trap while covering an operation by U.S. Marines 12 miles northwest of the northern coastal city of Hue, U.S. authorities said. Fall was best known for his book "Street Without Joy."

Antinepotism Law Costs Wallace $1

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — In 1963, the first year of his administration, former Gov. George C. Wallace signed into law an antinepotism act which prohibits state officials from putting their kinfolks on the payroll.

Now, because of that law, Gov. Lurleen Wallace cannot use state funds to pay her husband the $1 a year she promised him as her No. 1 adviser.

She can pay it out of her own purse, of course, but as any husband knows, that's a risky proposition.

The legislature had no idea when it passed the antinepotism law that Mrs. Wallace would be the next governor and that her husband would help run the state as her assistant.

The law says "No officer or employee of the state or any state department, bureau, committee, commission, institution, corporation, authority, or other agency of the state shall appoint any person related to him . . . to any job, position or office with the state or any of its agencies."

TIGHTEN UP

The loss of the $1 a year won't send Wallace to the poorhouse. But, he grinned, "I'll have to tighten up on my budget."

He has always been somewhat tightfisted with his money. His wife apparently is every bit as frugal.

She is saving trading stamps — to get a new vacuum cleaner for the governor's mansion.

New Trial Rejected for Convicted Killer

DETROIT (AP) — A convicted slayer of a suburban Royal Oak auto dealer has lost a bid for a new trial.

Roy C. Hicks asked for a new trial in Wayne County Circuit Court on grounds his confession was involuntary because it was negotiated with police for a reduced charge.

Hicks was one of three men convicted on a second-degree murder charge in 1959. The three pleaded guilty to shooting Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, a Royal Oak auto dealer.

Tunnel Needs Eyed in Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — Several city departments are studying plans to expand the approach to the Detroit-Windsor tunnel.

The aim of the proposed expansion is to ease traffic flow, said Ralph E. Quinn, coordinator of the Detroit Industrial and Commercial Development Committee.

Two plans have been drafted by the City Plan Commission and the Streets and Traffic Department. One calls for construction on two parking lots presently owned by the city. The other proposes building a ramp above existing facilities.

Some GIs Shivering in Parts of Hot Viet

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
KONAUM, Vietnam — It may sound silly but the men of the 101st Airborne Division are sitting around the jungle here, swatting mosquitoes, snapping leeches and freeing up to their eyeballs.

Granted the country is tropical. Nevertheless, it's c-o-o-l-d here. And the GIs are unprepared for it since Army supply people just don't send overcoats to rice paddy zones.

Actually, the highlands of Vietnam are usually chilly about this time. Unlike the sea level regions which swelter year around, the mountains here rise up to 9,000 feet and normally experience from two to three months of shivering every winter.

"But," chatters one GI, "this year it's ridiculous."

It is that all right. Weather station records at Kontum (elevation 3,000 feet) list this year's low at 50 degrees, but goose-pimpling combat troopers swear it's nearer freezing on the near-by peaks.

FROST BITE?
One soldier, in fact, recently reported to an aid station rubbing his feet violently and insisting he had frost bite.

"It can't be," a medic said. "It is," the GI countered. "Let's see."
"Well!"
"But my feet are killing me."
"I suggest," the medic said, "you get larger boots."

But even though frostbite is impossible, dozens of other illnesses have resulted from the bitter weather. Frequent colds have broken out and a few have been diagnosed as pneumonia.

The temperature alone, perhaps, is not severe enough to cause much concern. But coupled with rains and the endless winds which whip through the upland valleys, soldiers are suffering mightily.

The men are still dressed for 100 degrees.

"It's like wearing nothing," says one.

"I need longjohns," says another.

"Brrrrr," adds a third.

INADEQUATE CLOTHING.
Warmer times, however, are not in the immediate offing. Most men have been issued thin wool sweaters but nothing else is available. Some of the line troops here didn't even bring field jackets along.

Yet, with it all, the weather is not entirely cursed. It's an ill wind that blows nobody well. And the intelligence report is that fighting has slackened off because the thiny draped enemy has beat it down country for warmer climes.

Then, too, there is the incident of the paratrooper who indirectly owes his life to the dipping temperatures. He, a sergeant, was with a company on a search-and-clear mission at the time.

They were pushing across the side of a rain-swept mountain when the order was given to halt for the night. These men sagged wearily to the mud and pulled their insufficient wraps close around their necks.

RELAXED
The sergeant sat down on a log. He took a drink from his canteen, lit a soggy cigarette and made nasty comments about the eternal wind.

He sat there 10 minutes. Then he felt something. He got up and looked around. He was sitting on a poisonous snake.

The snake, a deadly cane viper, would have surely bitten the soldier under normal conditions. But in the cold, the reptile was too sluggish to move for the kill.

The sergeant's mouth dropped open. He picked up a knife and brought the blade down hard on the viper.

Since then, temperatures here haven't improved at all. And everybody is clustering up in small bunches to rub their hands, flop their arms and grumble about the sopping rain and the 40-mile-an-hour winds.

GRATEFUL
Everybody but the sergeant, of course.
He thinks the weather's g-g-great.

VIETNAM MAY BE A HOT COUNTRY, but some Americans are freezing up to their eyeballs.

Flying Relics of Early Days Are Kept Alive

RHINEBECK, N.Y. (AP) — A collection of antique airplanes dating from pre-World War I, most of which are still in flying condition, is housed at the Old Rhinebeck Aerodrome.

The aerodrome, about 100 miles from New York City, houses such collector's items as a Thomas Pusher, a 1912 biplane with an eight cylinder engine and propeller mounted behind the wings; a World War I Neuport 23 and German Fokker, a Spad 13, and a Sopwith Salpe.

The last Sunday of each month the planes are flown at a special two-hour air show, featuring high and low level balloon bursting, ribbon cutting, and simulated "dog-fights."

Solid-Fueled Rocket Program Is Dying

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — The development of a huge solid-fueled rocket motor four times as powerful as the eight-engine first stage of the Saturn 1 launcher is dying from the budget squeeze.

As it stands now, the project to create such a seven-million-pound thrust booster will be dead for all practical purposes after a ground test-firing of a half-size version of the rocket in June.

The fatal blow came in President Johnson's fiscal 1968 budget that stopped funding for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's (NASA) large solid-rocket research and development program.

Over a five-year period, the United States has spent a total of $64.2 million on the effort to develop a giant solid-fueled rocket that would be simpler and cheaper than liquid fueled rockets producing similar power.

Dr. Robert C. Seamans, NASA deputy administrator, said those five years of research and development provided "the necessary technological groundwork for eventual use of large solids."

NO PLANNED USE

"But since we have no planned and immediate use, we do not see the necessity for carrying this any further in the budget at this time."

Proponents of such massive boosters using a solid, rubber-like fuel disagree.

They claim that two test firings of half-length versions of the 140-foot, 260-inch diameter rocket proved that such big boosters are feasible, and that work should continue to refine and develop equipment needed to make them fly.

"We feel that today's technology is not far enough advanced," said a spokesman for the Aerojet-General Corp., the only company that has built and successfully test-fired a solid-rocket 260 inches in diameter.

"It's like a trimotor Ford airplane and a 720 jet — both are aircraft, but we'd like to see the 260-inch brought up to date."

ADVANCED FEATURES

To do it, Aerojet wants to get the go-ahead to build a full-length test rocket complete with such advanced features as steering equipment, a new nozzle and faster burning propellant.

"We think the expenditure of $20 to $25 million to do this would be a most worthwhile investment. We could then better demonstrate the technology available."

"The cancellation of the 300-inch program sounds like the death knell for large solids in the national space program," said Richard Cottrell, vice president and manager of the solid-rocket operation for the Aerojet-General Corp.

One job most often suggested for a full-length 260-inch diameter solid rocket would be to replace the 1.6-million-pound thrust first stage of the Saturn 1 rocket.

SECOND STAGE

By using the Saturn's 200,000-pound thrust, liquid-fueled second stage on top of a big solid booster, officials estimate that the rocket could orbit more than twice the payload at roughly the same cost of the present-day Saturn 1.

But right now, NASA has no missions for such a booster. And until the '68 developments, the space agency's management does not want to proceed with development. It would cost a total of about $400 million to bring the rocket to flight-ready status.

The third and final test in the currently-financed program is scheduled for June at Aerojet's $25 million Dade County, Fla., plant.

The rocket will use a refurbished casing loaded with a new type propellant to produce a maximum of 5.4 million pounds of thrust.

PROGRAM STARTED

The large solid-rocket program started in 1963 when the Air Force and NASA agreed on a test-firing program of 136-inch and 260-inch diameter rockets generating up to seven million pounds of thrust.

Contracts were awarded to Aerojet and to Thiokol Chemical Corp. to build and test five half-length rocket motors.

After spending $29.7 million on the project, the Air Force decided there was no military potential for a rocket 260 inches in diameter and pulled out of the program in 1964.

NASA took over in fiscal 1965 and has spent $34.5 million through the current fiscal year. Thiokol's contract was canceled in 1965, but Aerojet has built and successfully test-fired two big rockets, each producing 3.6 million pounds of thrust.

If you visit Peru and see women knitting while walking in the streets, it is because centuries ago women were forbidden by their Inca rulers to remain idle and so their daughters and granddaughters knit.
