U. S. Jets Down Red Copters

From Our News Wires

SAIGON — American jets yesterday shot down seven Communist helicopters being used in South Vietnam and the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) for the first time in the war, military spokesman said today.

Related Story, Page A-3

Never had North Vietnam sent its Russian-built helicopters south of the border to challenge total American air superiority.

The U.S. planes destroyed the helicopters in two encounters as the North Vietnamese craft apparently were hauling ammunition to bases inside the DMZ.

CALLED ESCALATION

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of South Vietnam forces in five provinces just below the DMZ, said such Communist use of the helicopters in combat for the first time marks "an escalation of the war."

Lam said two helicopters were shot down south of the Ben Hai River which divides the DMZ between North and South.

The U.S. radar tracking station at Don Ha, seven miles south of the DMZ, traced the first cluster of North Vietnamese choppers early yesterday. U.S. Navy F4 Phantom jets intercepted the copters and shot down three of them.

Another group of helicopters crossed into the buffer zone last night. Four of these were shot down.

All the helicopters were said to be Soviet-made, M14s. Earlier they had been spotted only on the ground at several North Vietnamese airbases. Never had they gone into combat.

U.S. intelligence sources said reconnaissance indicated Hanoi has stationed about 20 helicopters near the DMZ.

One chopper was reported downed near the mouth of the Cua Viet River where a U.S. Navy patrol boat was sunk Sunday.

Ike's Heart Attack 'Major'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suffered a major heart attack Saturday night but is "alert and in good spirits," his physicians reported today.

"The early period following any heart attack is the most critical. The general's response so far has been favorable," the physicians said in response to questions submitted by the Associated Press.

Officials at Walter Reed Army Hospital gave out answers to written questions following the issuance of a formal medical bulletin at 10 a.m. EDT.

Gen. Eisenhower has been comfortable during the past 24 hours and his vital signs (blood pressure, pulse and breathing rate) have remained stable," the bulletin said.

NO RECURRENCE

"There has been no further recurrence of pain since the initial episode the night of June 15. No signs of heart failure have appeared. He has remained alert and in good spirits."

No further bulletins were planned until 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The doctors disclosed that Eisenhower "was walking about in the ward" when he was stricken Saturday.

They said that "prior to the onset of this attack Gen. Eisenhower had been making steady improvement" from the heart seizure suffered in California and had been "tolerating progressive activity well."

NO UNCONSCIOUSNESS

The doctors added that there was no period of unconsciousness at any time during the latest attack. They said there was no "cerebral involvement," that is, no involvement of the brain in the present attack and therefore no evidence of cerebral stroke.

Asked what they meant by saying in the initial medical bulletin yesterday that Eisenhower's condition had remained "stable" following his Saturday night attack, the doctors said:

"This means that the blood pressure, pulse and respiration rate have remained at satisfactory levels throughout this period." They used the word stable in today's bulletin.

Asked how they could categorize the present heart attack, the doctors replied:

"The electrocardiogram, blood studies and other observations indicate that the general has sustained another major heart attack."

'MILD ATTACK'

They did not say how many of Eisenhower's previous four heart attacks were considered major ones.

The Army listed the heart attack Eisenhower had suffered in California as a "mild" attack.

The doctors said Eisenhower "is being treated in accordance with accepted medical practices. This includes continuous electronic monitoring of his vital signs."

PAUF to Abandon Home Solicitations

House-to-house collections are being discontinued by the Pontiac Area United Fund, Frederick Poole, president of the PAUF board of trustees, announced today.

The formal residential division, which has been in existence in the Pontiac area for 19 years, will be replaced by a new community division, which will solicit small businesses and a small number of specified givers at home.

Alger V. Conner, this year's PAUF general campaign chairman, explained, "Actual door-to-door campaigning has become an outmoded method, both nationally and locally. We believe, being true to the United Fund tradition, in trying to cut down on 'many' solicitations. Too much duplication of collection has been growing in our community.

"We also feel along with the ever-growing surge of small businesses, that much more concentration could be given to these businesses. We hope to up-date the campaign through development of this new approach and are looking forward to a very progressive and successful year."

AREA INCLUDED

The community division, will be headed by Mrs. Jack Ross of 6101 Adamson, Waterford Township. Areas included in this new approach include: Pontiac, Independence, Waterford, Orion and Pontiac townships.

Oxford, as a recent PAUF participant, will continue house-to-house solicitations until next year.

Negro's Right Upheld by Court

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Supreme Court ruled today that a 102-year-old federal law gives Negroes the right to buy a home where a white man can.

The court split 7 to 2 in a case involving a St. Louis Negro, Joseph Lee Jones, who charged he was "fenced out" of a local subdivision on racial grounds.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court denied permission today for railroads to cut freight rates to meet truck and barge competition. Agreeing with the Interstate Commerce Commission, the court ruled 8-1 that rate-cut proposals may not be weighed by the standard of "out-of-pocket" costs. The "out-of-pocket" formula could, if applied broadly, result in ruinous competition with the railroads emerging the ultimate victors, the court said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Communication antenna television (CATV) operators were spared by the Supreme Court today from having to pay for televised movies and other copyright material they pick up from TV stations and relay to their subscribers.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A divided Supreme Court refused today to prohibit the jailing of chronic alcoholics for public drunkenness.

Waterford Filing Open; Ruling Due

Nominating petitions for the offices of supervisor, clerk and treasurer will be accepted in Waterford Township until 4 p.m. tomorrow even though the Michigan Supreme Court has not yet ruled if there is even going to be an election for the three posts.

Rather than wait for the high court decision, which won't come until after tomorrow's filing deadline, Township Clerk Arthur J. Salley said today that candidates should file now and not risk the chance of not being allowed to enter the race if the court rules that an election must be held.

TIME FOR APPEAL

In May, Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer declared that an election for the offices must be held when he declared unconstitutional a state law that extended the terms of incumbent township officers 18 months beyond the terms to which they were elected.

At that time he ordered Salley to accept the petitions of candidates, but said the order didn't take immediate effect, giving time to Waterford Township to appeal the ruling. While the case is pending before the Supreme Court, the township is not bound to accept the petitions.

Salley said, however, that if the Supreme Court upholds Beer's decision and an election must be held, there is no guarantee that the court would extend the filing deadline.

In Lansing, a state election official said that township clerks throughout the state have been advised to accept nominating petitions for the three posts just in case the Supreme Court ruling is directed at the entire state and not just at Waterford.

"If the state law is declared constitutional and there is no election, the petitions can be tossed away," he said.

Rifle Sale Law Is Johnson Aim

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure for tougher gun control laws continues to build across the nation, but one presidential candidate has called for caution in framing the bills and the National Rifle Association has started a campaign against stiffer legislation.

President Johnson over the weekend ordered a top-priority campaign to get Congress to pass an administration-proposed bill restricting the sale of rifles and other long guns.

Detroit Canoeist Drowns in Area

A 64-year-old Detroit man drowned yesterday when his canoe overturned in Pine Lake in the City of Orchard Lake.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said they recovered the body of Thomas T. Thomas in 60 feet of water about 11:25 a.m.

Witnesses told deputies that Thomas was about 70 feet from shore when the canoe tipped about 10:30 a.m. They said the victim did not reappear after falling into the lake and a nearby craft was unable to locate him.

Pennsylvania Governor Endorses Rocky

By The Associated Press

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has won a big-state endorsement from Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer for his GOP presidential bid—but acknowledges a drive for such backing could give new delegates to rival Richard M. Nixon.

Shafer announced the endorsement at the end of the Republican Governors Association Conference at Tulsa, Okla., over the weekend and estimated 45 to 50 of Pennsylvania's 64 Republican delegates would join him in backing Rockefeller.

Said Rockefeller: "In the last week, my campaign has really taken off." But he said further endorsements from governors who are now favorite sons could also release delegates to join Nixon's already substantial block of nominating votes.

"There is a delicate balance," he said.

Nixon's campaign manager, John Mitchell, said meanwhile the former vice president already has "more than enough delegates" to win the GOP presidential nomination and "will not engage in an exchange of charge and countercharge with Rockefeller."

Newsweek magazine said yesterday its tabulation shows Nixon only 29 votes short of the 667 needed for nomination, with 573 delegates favoring Nixon, 252 Rockefeller and 146 California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

pressing questions on Vietnam and other issues he has raised.

But former White House press secretary Bill J. Moyers predicted Humphrey will soon begin spelling out his differences with Johnson administration policies, including military escalation in Vietnam.

Delegates were selected by party conventions over the weekend in Idaho and Montana.

A poll of 25 Idaho Democratic delegates indicated 17 would vote for Humphrey and 5 for McCarthy with 3 uncommitted. The 14 GOP delegates reportedly favored Nixon but could pivot to Reagan.

Humphrey got 24 of Montana's 26 Democratic delegate votes and McCarthy 2.

A straw vote at the Minnesota Republican Convention Saturday favored Nixon by 50.9 per cent to 44.4 per cent for Rockefeller. Minnesota's 26 GOP delegates will not be bound by the vote.

In other political developments, Rockefeller reportedly suggested to fellow Republican governors at Tulsa that Reagan be given a leading role at the national convention in televised presentation of the party platform, taking advantage of the California's skill in television presentations.

Birmingham

School Pact Is Ratified by Teachers

BIRMINGHAM — Settlement of teacher salaries and school calendar for 1968-69 in this school district has been announced by Supt. of Schools Dr. John B. Smith and Don Cameron, executive secretary for the Birmingham Education Association

The announcement came Saturday, just four days after bargaining was reported at a standstill.

According to school officials, a tentative settlement was reached early Friday morning after an all-night negotiating session.

Birmingham teachers ratified the agreement at a meeting Saturday morning by a vote of 423-22.

NEW SCHEDULE

The salary package agreed upon amounts to about $722,000, almost midway between the last reported offers of the two sides.

Salaries under the new schedule include a BA minimum of $6,900 and maximum of $11,050; an MA minimum of $7,425 and maximum of $12,550; and an MA-plus-30-hours minimum of $7,700 and maximum of $12,875.

The total increase in salary, including the automatic yearly increase, ranges from $600 for a first-year teacher with a BA degree to $1,175 at the maximum; for an MA, the range is from $625 to $1,575; and for an MA-plus-30-hours, it is $600 to $1,500.

Spokesmen for both sides were enthusiastic about the agreement.

SETTLEMENT HAILED

Smith called the agreement "a great accomplishment" and added, "This settlement will make it possible for all of us to begin the 1968-69 school year with time and energy to devote entirely to the students in Birmingham."

Cameron commented, "We are extremely pleased with this agreement and with the constructive attitude exhibited by Dr. Smith and the board of education. We hope this marks the dawn of a new era in Birmingham."

Last year, teachers were ordered to classrooms by court injunction Sept. 18, several days after the scheduled opening of school.

Final contract agreement was not reached until Jan. 15.

SAME CALENDAR

The school calendar for 1968-69 will remain the same as in past years, except for a few minor changes.

The opening day of classes will be Sept. 4, the Wednesday after Labor Day, rather than Thursday, the traditional opening day. Schoof will be dismissed at 12 noon, and a full day is scheduled for Thursday.

Two half-days of in-service training — one each semester — will be scheduled by the administration.

The calendar provides for 181 student days and 185 teacher days.

The City Commission will hold a public hearing on the assessment roll for this city's 1968 seal-coat program at its regular meeting at 8 tonight.

A. P. Blethen, superintendent of public works, has recommended that four streets on which the need for seal-coating was questioned by residents at an earlier hearing, be included in the program.

The streets and excerpts from Blethen's comments are as follows: Pilgrim from Redding to Quarton — "exhibits a large amount of checking and ravelling"; Suffield from Redding to Fairfax — "excessive maintenance may be anticipated if not done this year"; Madison from Hunter to Adams — "The edges of the street have broken up, been patched and repatched"; and Golfview from Fairway to Lincoln — "freezing and thawing action of this past winter and spring caused extensive breakup."

Also on tonight's agenda is a report from City Engineer William T. Killeen on improvement of the Bloomfield Art Association (BAA) parking lot, located near 14 Mile and Cranbrook.

W. Germany Seeks Ways to Fight Squeeze on Berlin

BONN (AP) — The West German Cabinet searched today for ways to combat the new Communist squeeze on West Berlin as the isolated city and the western half of Germany marked the anniversary of the 1953 uprising in East Germany.

Officials said Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger might fly to Washington to talk to President Johnson about the situation. The government announced Friday that Kiesinger would write or telephone the president, but officials now are talking about a personal visit to dramatize West Germany's concern.

Kiesinger called his Cabinet together to discuss what to do about the new Communist taxes and restrictions on surface travel between West Germany and West Berlin. Parliament is to debate the situation later in the week.

The United States, Britain and France have protested the East German regulations, which include passports by July 15 for all West Germans and West Berliners traveling by surface routes, visas and increased taxes and travel costs on German goods shipped overland. Kiesinger announced that his government would pay the increases, which are estimated at $18.5 million a year.

NOT SUFFICIENT

Foreign Minister Willy Brandt said Saturday that protests by the Western allies would not be sufficient to meet the situation, but he did not suggest what else the allies could do.

Some members of Kiesinger's Christian Democratic party want him to put pressure on Washington and Moscow by refusing to sign the new treaty against the spread of nuclear weapons unless the Russians intervene against the travel regulations.

Gov. Romney's Son Injured in Crash

BORDEAUX, France (AP) — Walter Mitt Romney, 21, son of Gov. George Romney of Michigan, was reported resting comfortably today in a hospital in the nearby village of Bazas, following an auto collision.

ROMNEY

Friends reported he suffered torn ligaments in one elbow and head injuries yesterday, but they were said not to be serious. He is expected to leave the hospital in about two days. An earlier report from the hospital said he was not injured.

A passenger in the car with Romney, Leola Seeny Anderson, 57, died during the night of her injuries. She was originally from San Bernadino, Calif., but has recently been living in Paris. Her husband, Duane, was slightly injured. Romney and Anderson are Mormon missionaries in France.

South Viets Dump 'Honest' General

SAIGON (AP) — A dynamic South Vietnamese general regarded as too honest by many of his colleagues has been dumped from another top job, reliable sources reported today.

The ouster of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang was regarded here as part of President Nguyen Van Thieu's purge of senior military men allied with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Thang, who is 37, was once the American-supported boss of the pacification program. For the past four months he has commanded the 4th Corps Area, which includes the Mekong Delta.

Thang, a native of North Vietnam, has removed eight province chiefs for corruption and revitalized the military effort in the delta.

Reliable sources said Thang's closeness to Ky was the main reason that he was replaced today by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van La, former inspector general of the armed forces. Thang is for the time being on "indefinite sick leave," a euphemism for being fired, the sources said. His dismissal had been rumored for a week.

Local Attorney in GOP Race for Prosecutor

Richard D. Kuhn, a Pontiac attorney and businessman, today announced he will seek the Republican nomination for the office of Oakland County prosecuting attorney.

Kuhn, 38, of 205 Gateway, Waterford Township, is the second Republican to announce his bid for the post. The other is John N. O'Brien of Royal Oak.

Active as a conservative Republican, Kuhn was a candidate for Congress from the 19th District in 1966 and the GOP nominee for the office in 1964.

* * *

Recently he was legal counsel for the special Senate Committee to investigate the Detroit newspaper strike. His brother, Sen. George W. Kuhn, served on the three-member panel.

'MUST SUPPORT POLICE'

In announcing his candidacy, Kuhn said, "Lawlessness will not be tolerated. We must give our full support to our police and other law enforcement officers."

"If there is organized crime in Oakland County it will be cleaned out," he said. "We must have return to law and order."

There is no room for permissiveness when it comes to violators of the law, he added.

"Our homes, churches, business and streets must be made safe for our families," said Kuhn. "Law and order must be put above politics."

A graduate of Michigan State University with a degree in political science and the Detroit College of Law, Kuhn represented Oakland County's old 1st Legislative District at the state Constitutional Convention.

Married, Kuhn has four children.

Poverty March Planners Are Confident of Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lights burn most of the night in the small, two-story brick slum building that is the headquarters for Wednesday's "Solidarity Day" march in support of the Poor People's Campaign. And the people who keep those long hours say they're accomplishing an almost impossible job.

Sterling Tucker, the man charged with getting people to come from across the country, accepted his job just eight days ago, and there are only two days left to do it in.

"We had 10 days to do what took three months in 1963," said deputy local coordinator Chip Wood. Nevertheless, he's confident that there will be what he calls "a good march."

With time so short Tucker, director of the Washington Urban League for the past 11 years, had to rely on already organized groups to send people from cities around the nation.

Labor unions, religious organizations, the still active Poor People's Campaign support groups that sent the original demonstrators to Resurrecion City and the city of Washington are the backbone for Wednesday's march.

Tucker refuses to speculate on numbers beyond saying he expects at least 25,000 demonstrators. The National Student Association alone has pledged to supply that many.

Wood said in an interview yesterday he would guess that 75 to 100 organizations have pledged their support, including the United Auto Workers. Its president, Walter Reuther, will not only lead a UAW contingent, but will also be one of the main speakers. And because Tucker was the march's Washington organizer before he took over the position that Bayard Rustin resigned, he plans to turn out as many local residents as possible.

Another Official Quits OCC Post

By AUSTIN SCOTT

Another top administrator at Oakland Community College has quit.

The college's board of trustees have been informed that OCC's sixth top administrator has resigned within one year.

Latest to go is Dr. Richard E. Wilson, 34, provost of OCC's new Orchard Ridge campus in Farmington Township.

He has been appointed project director for a three-year program of assistance to new community colleges to be administered by the American Association of Junior Colleges (AAJC) effective July 1.

PREDECESSORS

Others to precede Wilson in leaving were the college's original three presidents and Presidents Dr. John E. Tirrell and its director of finance.

All left for more prestigious jobs, except Tirrell whose resignation is still somewhat of a public mystery.

The board of trustees is expected to name an interim president of the college tomorrow night while considering the selection of a president from many candidates.

Based on seniority and the availability of only two candidates, the selection is most likely to be Dr. Stanley Hergenroeder, provost of the Highland Lakes campus in Waterford Township.

The regular meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in the college's Bee Executive Office, 2480 Opdyke, Bloomfield Hills.

Vietcong Rocket Routes Uncovered

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vietcong rockets bombarding Saigon were brought into South Vietnam from Cambodian storage areas in sampans moving at night along jungle-shrouded waterways, according to U.S. intelligence sources.

When the sampans, each carrying four or five of the weapons, arrive at a designated point in South Vietnam, they are sunk—with the rockets encased in waterproof containers—until the Vietcong are ready to use them.

From prisoner interrogation and other sources of information, American intelligence specialists have pieced together a pattern indicating how the North Vietnamese are able to send the weapons deep into South Vietnam, to the point where they can be hurled against that country's capital and its population.

The rockets, mostly 122mm, come down from North Vietnam by truck, passing through the Laotian panhandle, U.S. officials say, and on into Cambodia where they are stored near the South Vietnamese border.

BORDER CROSSINGS

They are then carried across the border along any of the more than 1,300 square miles of waterways reaching from Cambodia into the Saigon region.

Hundreds of sampans are said to operate along these streams for the Vietcong, carrying rice as well as weapons and other supplies from Cambodia. Moving mostly at night, the boats are hard to spot.

The Cambodian government, which professes neutrality, repeatedly has denied that its soil is being used as a supply and troop base by North Vietnam and the Vietcong.

The waterways are running deep now, experts said, because of the rains and this creates favorable conditions for their use as supply routes into South Vietnam.

At the appointed time, the Vietcong raise the sunken boats, take the rockets from their containers and then move them into firing position.

Weapons experts of the Army Materiel Command estimate that it takes less than five minutes to set up a rocket, fire it and then be gone.

The rocket is described as "an area weapon," that is, there is no way to aim it against pinpoint targets. Rather, it is pointed generally at a large target, such as a city or town, and fired.

The 122mm rocket assembly comes in three parts and weighs a total of about 214 pounds.

FIRE TEAM

U.S. weapons authorities say that a crew of three men can handle and fire the rocket, but that as many as five may be involved in a fire team.

The 122mm rocket has a range of about 6.8 miles according to U.S. caiculations. One intelligence report reaching here said the 107mm rocket, also being fired by the VC, has a range of 26.7 miles. Other specifics on this rocket were not immediately available.

'HHH to Rap LBJ Viet Policies'

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson's former press secretary, newspaper publisher Bill D. Moyers, predicts that Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey will soon move away from the administration's position on Vietnam.

Moyers said he has a "hunch" that Humphrey will score Johnson's war policies as "inadequate" and that the President will quietly give his blessing to the new campaign strategy.

Moyers spoke on WNEW radio's "Sunday News Closeup" program.

"The problem," he said, "is whether or not Humphrey can free himself from the incrustations of the last four years and emerge as the Humphrey who really wrote the script for most of what Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy have been saying this year."

PRIVATE OPPOSITION

On the program, taped Friday, the 34-year-old publisher of Long Island's Newsday, an afternoon daily, said Humphrey has privately opposed Johnson's military policies in Vietnam for some time.

But, Moyers said, "He is a loyal trouper, as any vice president should be, and for 3½ years he's had to express his views privately to one man and not publicly to the country."

Moyers went on: "I do know that Mr. Humphrey has always questioned the efficacy of American military power in a situation like Vietnam. I know that he's always felt that a military solution was impossible and that a political solution was the only way to resolve this seemingly intractable problem in Vietnam.

"He has not been an advocate, in the inner councils, of the military approach to the problem of Vietnam. I'm sure that as of today he does not believe there can be any ultimate military solution.

"I think that he has to say publicly what he has been feeling privately, and that is that present policies are inadequate, present personalities are inadequate, that we must move away from where we have been, we must liquidate the war in Vietnam in one way or the other, we must rearrange the economic structure to provide for the poor who've been left out."

Troy Schools' Modular Schedule Lauded

TROY — A visiting group of educators from the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services has commended this school district's controversial flexible modular scheduling program.

The program, introduced at Troy High School three years ago, was scheduled to be dropped next year if additional millage was not approved by voters in the June 10 election.

However, according to Supt. Rex B. Smith, passage of the 4-mill property tax hike will enable the district to continue the debated system.

The comments of the 11 instructors, who visited the school May 1, appeared in a letter to Clyde D. Peterson, Troy High principal, from Kent W. Leach, director of the Bureau of School Services.

Several educators commented on the favorable attitudes of students and teachers.

"Probably the most outstanding feature in mathematics is the fine rapport between students and teachers. The classroom atmosphere is relaxed, yet businesslike. The students are responsive, inquiring, and eager to learn," said A. F. Coxford, assistant professor of education.

"The discipline and morale of students seemed good. The relationship between students and teachers was especially impressive: there was a kind of openness and honesty which I think is unusual," added Alan B. Howes, associate professor of English.

Under the system, the frequency and length of class meetings are determined by a computer on the basis of the type of instruction, the subject and the kind of students in the class.

CLASS LENGTHS VARY

A class day consists of 25 15-minute "teaching modules," with individual classes varying from 45 minutes to 1½ hours.

Some classes meet daily while others, where a minimum of actual teaching is necessary, may meet only once a week.

The student is provided a workroom and is alloted a certain amount of nonscheduled time. He is encouraged to use it to work at his own pace on class-related projects.

The program came under fire from parents at first. Many felt that pupils had too much unscheduled time. The amount of assigned time was subsequently increased, and a survey of parents' opinion early this year indicated general satisfaction with the system as presently administered.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

Recommendations of the bureau visitors included some administrative changes, and investigation of the results of the modular system in certain areas.

Richard W. Bailey, assistant professor of English, called the restoration of department heads, eliminated this year after a millage defeat, "of major importance to the continuing effectiveness of the English program."

Leach also remarked upon the lack of department heads, saying that teachers felt "it would be wise to consider" establishing coordinators within departments and between departments.

The director added, with regard to the scheduling debate, "There seemed to be a fairly high degree of emotoinal feeling concerning the pros and cons of so-called "free time" verus control.

'FEW MODERATE VIEWS'

"There didn't appear to be many moderate viewpoints expressed."

Compromises could be worked out, he suggested, by intensive discussion among board members, administrators, teachers, students and parents on the meaning of terms like "freedom" and "responsibility."

Both Leach and Coxford expressed concern about the effect of the program on students of average and lower ability.

Leach said college-preparatory students appear to use unscheduled time more wisely, and recommended programs and activities be designed to appeal to non-college-bound pupils.

Coxford urged looking into the effect of reduced teacher-student time on student achievement, particularly among those having less ability.

Garbage Can Liner Sale Set

ROCHESTER — The city is about to engage in the garbage can liner business.

Some 20,000 of the plastic liners will be purchased by the city for resale to residents. No price has been determined. The decision was based on a post card sampling of resident reaction to a trial run.

A public hearing to rezone 1.5 acres south of Crittenton Hospital and north of McGregor School for apartments was set for 7:30 p.m. July 8. Aikens Fund Development Co. of Pontiac has requested the rezoning in line with similar zoning in the township.

The zoning ordinance was amended to allow a six-man zoning board of appeals. Difficulty in obtaining a quorum with the five-man board was given as the reason. Dale Martin, 423 Parkdale, was named to fill an existing vacancy.

COMBINATION BID

The council accepted a combination bid of General Motors Truck and Coach Division and Fire Trucks Inc. in the amount of $27,106 for purchase of a new fire truck.

The bids were referred to the township for further action since the township has agreed to pay half the cost.

A committee of Mayor Roy Rewold, Manager William Sinclair and Attorney Arthur Cox was named to negotiate with Avon and Oakland townships on a plan for operation of Woodward Memorial Public Library. A sharing of costs is contemplated.

Walled Lake Names 5 Members to New Historical Commission

WALLED LAKE — The first five members of the city's newly created Historical Commission have been appointed by the City Council.

Lee Phelps was named temporary chairman. Serving with him are Harry Champe, Mrs. Mabel Rose, Edmund T. Godrich and Mrs. Leon W. Clutz. Mayor Wendel G. Kellogg Jr. serves as ex-officio member.

City Manager Royce Downey said more members will be appointed.

Immediate aim of the group is the collection of historical data pertaining to Walled Lake and the area. In the future the committee hopes to purchase an older home to serve as a museum.

In other recent business, the council adopted a swimming pool ordinance which provides, among other things, for fencing of all pools deeper than 12 inches.

Council also received word of receipt of an Office of Economic Opportunity grant for $987 to be used in connection with the school summer recreation program.

W. Bloomfield School Secretaries Get Raise

The 13-member secretarial union of West Bloomfield Schools has won an average 40-cents-an-hour salary increase over a two-year period.

The first year was the school year ending this June. Raises are retroactive to last July.

Tht new contract, which expires June 30, 1969, was recently ratified by the school board and the union, a chapter of the local AFL-CIO.

There is not yet a total of what the hikes will cost the district, but they are within the budget, said Schools Supt. Leif Hougen.

Committee Seeks Facts for Election

A committee to learn about candidates who are seeking positions on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors was named recently by the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association.

Called the Candidate Information Committee, the group was formed at the request of association members in the southern part of Oakland County.

"Our Candidate Information Committee will tell us how candidates for the Board of Supervisors feel about county spending and how they will vote if elected," said Association President Glenn Swindler.

Announced candidates for the board of supervisors will receive questionnaires from the committee in order to survey their opinions on pertinent spending issues.

WHAR Head to Speak to Group in Holly Twp.

HOLLY TOWNSHIP—Ben East, chairman of WHAR (Why Have Awful Roads), will address residents of Hawaiian Gardens Mobile Home Park at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the home of Mrs. Arthur Anthony, Lot 34, Grange Hall Road.

The Mauna Loa organization of residents has collected 1,403 signatures towards a goal of 1,500 which they intend to present to the County Road Commission in seeking a traffic signal at the Grange Hall-North Holly Road intersection.

Mrs. Anthony contended that residents of the park have been using private roads to avoid the intersection, which she termed congested and hazardous.

School Budget to Be Revised

The Avondale Board of Education will meet at 8:30 tonight at Auburn Heights Elementary School, 260 S. Squirrel, to revise the 1968-69 budget in the light of a second millage defeat.

Voters last Monday sunk a 7.7-mill increase, having previously defeated a 12.7-millage request in February.

Also expected is discussion of a third millage vote this year.

A resolution to contribute $5,000 to Avon Township on preliminary planning for sewers will be considered. Residents of the area, anxious for sewage service, have been asked to make up the $150,000 preliminary costs.

MRS. JAMES H. KLIPFEL

Lake Angelus Woman in Race for County Seat

Mrs. James H. Klipfel, 59, of 830 Lake Angelus Shores, Lake Angelus, has announced her candidacy for the Republican party nomination in the 22nd district to the reapportioned Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The election will coincide with the state Aug. 6 primary and national Nov. 5 election.

Mrs. Klipfel seeks to represent a district that includes Orion Township, Pontiac Township, Lake Angelus Village and the northeastern corner of the city of Pontiac.

She is a board member of the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, a group which has been critical of the board of supervisors' taxing and spending policies.

15-YEAR RESIDENT

She is a member of the League of Women Voters, a former assessor of Lake Angelus Village and an area resident for 15 years.

Her strongest stand is opposition to the proposed development of the Oakland-Orion Airport. The airport, if allowed to expand, would have much longer runways than those at the present Allen Airport and is very near her home.

Also opposed to planned expenditures for a new county jail, Mrs. Klipfel said, "I feel spending $6.4 million on a jail is far too much. Under the proposed plan, the criminals would have better housing than many people in Oakland County. We have to put the government back in the people's hands."

Wixom Initiates Pension Plan for 15 City Employes

WIXOM — A pension plan for the 15 city employes has been initiated here after five years of discussion. It will cost the City Council $5,100 the first year.

The city pays a larger share than the employes, according to the Michigan Municipal Employes System's plan being followed.

The city's cost is 4.17 per cent of the first $4,200 of an employe's salary and 5.91 per cent of the salary above that.

The employe's share is 3 per cent of his first $4,200 and 5 per cent of salary over the base amount.

RETROACTIVE COVERAGE

The council is also allotting $14,668 for retroactive coverage for several employes who were working when Wixom became a city in 1958.

In other recent action the council has approved the final plat for 73 lots of Highgate on the Green No. 1 south on Loon Lake Road between Ben Stein and Wixom roads. The subdivision is being developed by Douglas Colwell.

The council also postponed a decision on a request for a traffic light at the westerly city limits from the Micro Poise firm on West Maple. Action is awaiting reports from the police and public works departments, said a city spokesman.

Miss Shepherd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shepherd, was crowned Friday night, as part of the village's "Carnival Days" festivities.

She was graduated this year from Brandon High School and plans to attend Flint Junior College in the fall, majoring in foreign languages.

Miss Shepherd succeeds 1967 queen, Cindy Cooley. Connie Leece, 1370 Hummer Lake, Brandon Township, was first runner-up in this year's contest, with Linda Lashmet, 1905 Dunwoodie, Brandon Township, second runner-up.

Oxford Board Okays Apartment Rezoning

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has rezoned to allow apartment construction on 13.5 acres of the Starr property on West Drahner Road. Petitioner was Donald Heath, a local builder.

The board turned down the rezoning request of Billy VanArsdel to allow summer trailer camping on Stanton Road. Action was taken on the basis of VanArsdel's withdrawal of application.

Pick a Cliche... any Cliche cliche. We don't need a local ordinance now that we have a state law and a Federal law!

truth. There are a number of good reasons for having a local ordinance. For one thing, quite obviously, it indicates local support for the law of the land. For another, it provides local control, through local officials, of a law that is basically of neighborhood concern. Third, it tends to increase property values. (See point #2)

But most important, it shows that the people of Pontiac are willing and able to work together to begin solving the problems that face our community. Apathy has practically killed downtown Pontiac, and apathy is slowly, but surely, killing the rest of our town. Now is the time to change this. We can . . . if we really want to.

cliche. Property values go down when Negroes move into an all-white neighborhood!

truth. Panic selling, not racial integration, causes a decline in property values. People in Ann Arbor, Mich., have found their property values have increased since their fair housing ordinance went into effect in 1963.

Much of the opposition to fair housing comes from realtors who are afraid they'll lose business. And yet, the biggest boosters of fair housing are realtors who live in areas where they have fair housing. Two good examples are Mr. Robert Davis of Ann Arbor, and Mr. John Masselblad of Denver. Mr. Masselblad's change of heart is documented in John Fischer's column, The Easy Chair, in the December 1967 issue of Harper's.

cliche. Fair housing is really forced housing!

truth. Nobody can force you to sell or rent your property against your will. And Section 3 of Pontiac's Fair Housing Ordinance guarantees your right to sell your house to whoever you want to.

Section 3 Nothing in this ordinance shall require anyone owning or possessing an interest in real property to offer the property to the public at large before selling or renting such interest; nor shall this ordinance be deemed to prohibit owners or possessors of an interest in real property or their agents from giving preference to prospective tenants or purchasers for any reason other than religion, race, color, or national origin.

In other words, you can favor one prospect over another . . . just so long as your decision is not based on a prospect's religion, race, color, or national origin. When you study it, you will find Pontiac's Fair Housing Ordinance protects your property rights.

cliche. If one Negro moves into a neighborhood, a multitude will follow!

truth. The movement of one or two Negro families into a neighborhood will not necessarily change the neighborhood. Only hysteria and panic selling can cause a neighborhood to radically change its face. If the residents stay put and resist the high pressure tactics of the greedy unethical real estate promoter, the neighborhood will retain its value and status.

The study, The Influence of Negro Purchases on Suburban Buying Patterns, inquired into the results of integration in 17 subdivisions ($10,000-$18,000 price range) in the Philadelphia area. The findings showed no evidence of mass Negro movement into the subdivisions. But it did show that white families continued to move into these areas, next to Negro home owners, at the same rate as before integration. In short, fair housing did not flood the area with Negroes nor influence white families to avoid the areas.

cliche. A Fair Housing Ordinance violates my property rights!

truth. While this statement is a popular rallying cry, it really has no basis in fact. The public interest has always placed some limitations on the uses of property. Actually a fair housing law affects your property far less than zoning laws . . . or fire, safety, and health regulations . . . or building codes. And yet no one is saying we should do away with these laws.

The Massachusetts Supreme Court, in ruling on property rights and upholding the constitutionality of the state's fair housing law, said, ". . . neither property rights nor contract rights are absolute; for the government cannot exist if the citizen may at will use his property to the detriment of his fellows, or exercise his freedom of contract to work them harm." (Massachusetts Commission v. Colangelo, 182 N.E. 2d 595) cliche. Negroes do not keep up their property!

truth. Officials in the greater philadelphia area, which has had a fair housing ordinance for 11 years, put it this way — "Our most important evidence that Negro home owners keep up their property well is right here in Germantown. We can think of many blocks where Negro home owners have kept up their properties far better than previous white owners."

Don't take Philadelphia's word for it — prove it to yourself. Visit Herrington Hills or Pontiac Knolls subdivisions here in Pontiac. You cannot tell which homes are white-owned and which are Negro-owned unless you see the family out front.

cliche. Integrated housing would put my children in daily contact with Negro children and lead to intermarriage!

truth. Without a doubt, integrated housing will put white children in daily contact with Negro children . . . just as school integration does now. But growing up together does not, in itself, lead to marriage. Very few people these days marry someone they grew up with. How many people do you know who married a childhood playmate?

A number of different organizations have done research in the area of intermarriage. And not one of them has found that growing up in an integrated neighborhood was a factor leading to intermarriage. The myth that integration leads to intermarriage has no basis in fact.

cliche. Negroes are happier among their own kind and don't really want to move into all-white neighborhoods!

truth. Most Negroes do not want to move into white neighborhoods, as such. However, what they do want is a nice home . . . one that they can afford with enough room for every member of their family.

Because Negroes have been kept in the older, poorer sections of town, they cannot find the type of housing they want and can afford. The typical Negro man is not interested in moving into a white neighborhood . . . he is interested in moving into a decent house wherever it may be located.

These cliches are typical of the views expressed by a great many well-meaning middle-class Americans. Somehow the myth has been ingrained in our thinking that the Negro is inately inferior . . . that his manhood is something less than a white man's . . . that his emotions and feelings are different from a white man's. Nothing is further from the truth.

The Negro is a human being just like you are. His motivations and drives are the same as yours. And he wants to provide for his family just like you do. The only real difference between you and a Negro is skin color . . . his is darker.

Tragedy of Bobby Kennedy Stains Nation's Global Image

News of ROBERT KENNEDY'S assassination flashed around the entire globe with the speed of lightning. Your reporter was in Africa and the happening drew eight-column heads on page one of every paper in the area and from all European editions that circulated in Nairobi.

It was greeted universally by shock that bordered on disbelief and incredulity. When the news of his death followed 24 hours later, widespread pity for the ill-fated Kennedy family ended in outspoken indignation and ill-concealed condemnation for the decline of decency in the United States. Newspapermen in Nairobi were attending a conference of the International Press Institute that drew delegates from half a hundred countries and the unanimity of opinion on this affair was unmistakable.

The U.S. is suffering from a global black eye that desperately needs defense and correction. We aren't "conquering heroes" in anybody's book at the moment.

The unbelievable tragedy that stalks the KENNEDY family has a worldwide understanding and appreciation. Men and women from all ranks seemed to know "BOBBY" and whether you believed in his politics was completely unimportant. The man himself had been viciously assaulted and murdered without rhyme or reason.

No matter what political faith U.S. newsmen professed, they were unanimously filled with the deep sympathy for Ethel Kennedy, her children and relatives. It is doubtful whether the assassination of the brother provoked any more spontaneous and overwhelming sense of loss. The Kennedys represent tragedy compounded beyond the realms of comprehension. Few families have ever been similarly visited by such a succession of unpredictable catastrophes.

U.S. newspapermen who were political opponents of ROBERT KENNEDY forgot party politics in the face of this cruel twist of perversity and their honest sorrow and absolute indignation were genuine and a reflection of innermost feelings. Some things are regrettable but this was completely unforgivable.

Why? Why? Why?

This query persisted everywhere among publishers from 50 nations around the world and met silence with an occasional lame and faltering "explanation" from someone in the U.S.

We all comprehend so little of what takes place. The reasons often are not apparent at the time or upon study and reflection. BOBBY KENNEDY was a clean-cut, patriotic and essentially honest young man.

He didn't know the limitations of an eight-hour day or a five-day week. Energetic, impulsive, vigorous—the picture of health—he fought the clean fight for all he was worth. Why should he be taken away in the very flower of his existence by the senseless actions of an earthy moron? Why should stark tragedy strike at this same family with the cruelist blows of all? How little we all know here below. It isn't given to us to comprehend.

Publishers and editors in Kenya from four dozen nations representing every continent shared a common and universal reaction. It transcended national lines. BOBBY was universal. He was worldwide.

How could this happen?

Political battlefronts must be redrafted and reappraised. The whole order changeth. Certain plans are discarded and new ones formulated rapidly as turmoil reigns.

The writer was not going to support Robert Kennedy if he were nominated. But I am just as indignant and just as aroused as his own enthusiastic henchmen. It was a dastardly and completely unforgivable murder from every conceivable angle. There can be no justification or "extenuating circumstances." Swift, certain and the maximum justice must be administered at once—and without our customary court delays. The people of the world demand it. Our reputation is at stake. Already we've been kicked around, scorned and derided. Delays and stalling will build it all higher.

Senator KENNEDY, may you rest in peace as completely as you do in the memories and affections of countless and unnamed citizens, worldwide.

And America—let's start the pendulum the other way. The outspoken contempt with which these men from all around the world hold the United States was unmistakable. Right or wrong we really stand condemned.

Voice of the People:

'Disagree With Support for Stricter Gun Laws'

I am sick of being told that I am a potential killer because I own firearms. I am sick of people that want to restrict and blame a piece of steel for a human's crime. Where people are trained in the use of firearms, crime rates have dropped. Firearms should not be restricted but those that use them to commit crimes should be.

Anyone who murders while committing an armed crime should hang. Those convicted for armed robbery should get a 15-year jolt in prison. The second conviction for armed robbery or other armed crime should be considered as murder and punished as the same. Such laws will not happen because they deprive a person of his civil rights. Doesn't the victim have civil rights? Don't restrict the ownership of firearms. A gun has never planned a crime.

'Deficit Spending Is Threat to Our Dollar'

The United States is broke—busted.

The U.S. owes $350 billion for money it borrowed from the people. More than three times greater than this are 115 obligations for services previously rendered but for which no funds have been set aside. Unless deficit spending at home and abroad ceases, the dollar—once as good as gold—will be relegated to membership in the Mickey Mouse Club to which most foreign paper monies belong.

Despite this, deficit spending seems certain to be greatly increased. The war on poverty is to cost far more. Foreign aid is also to be greatly increased, since we are fighting a no-win war in Vietnam. He's representatives in the Paris talks sit as our equals. Unless we decide to lift restrictions on air and sea power and win the war, we may offer to buy off the enemy by rebuilding the war-torn areas. In either case, we face a new multi-billion dollar program in Southeast Asia.

Of all these costly programs, foreign aid is the one for which there is no excuse. This program is largely the President's. The theory of this aid is if the U.S. or the World Bank lend money to Communist states they will buy our goods, learn to love us, and tensions will cease. Meantime, Communist purchases from us help the enemy in Vietnam to kill our men. To end foreign aid now might end deficit spending at home and abroad; it would strengthen enormously the eroding dollar.

'We Must Work Together to End Violence'

Isn't there enough trouble, violence, destruction and sadness in the world without adding to it knowingly? We've been enlightened to the problem, now let's do something about it. If we all work together to end this saturation of evil and violence, perhaps our beginning can have a happy ending. Perhaps God once more will bless America.

Serviceman Views Recent Events at Home

I am a soldier fighting for my country in Vietnam. I have always loved my country and no one could have been more proud of it than I. I say "could have" because I have heard of the senseless shooting and death of Senator Robert F. Kennedy. Isn't it enough that we are giving our lives over here without the senseless acts of violence taking place back there? It makes me so ashamed of my countrymen.

The men over here are sick of the killing and all the sadness that must go with it. We don't want to go home and have to face the same thing we have left here. The way things are going, we may be disappointed. Back home they have so much to learn with so little time left. I pray for their sake and the sake of our country they make it. The guys here are doing their part, but we can't do it alone.

Question and Answer

Some time ago there was a child pictured wearing earphones in a classroom. Is this part of a recording device or part of a closed-circuit TV? Which schools have these?

READER

REPLY

Mrs. Scott at the Board of Education tells us they are earphones for a listening post device. A child can hear recordings without disturbing the rest of the class, or a teacher can make tapes to be used by a particular child — they can be used in a number of ways. All grade schools have some sort of listening post devices, and junior and senior high schools have more complex devices for studying language arts.

David Lawrence Says:

TV Debates Are Too Superficial

WASHINGTON — There is talk of a possible Rockefeller-Nixon debate or perhaps later a Nixon-Humphrey debate on television. But is the purpose of a "debate" between two presidential candidates merely to present a television "show" to an audience of 25 or 30 million?

LAWRENCE

Will this enable the viewers — or the rest of the 70 million or more voters who read about it later — to make up their minds just which man is really capable of being president of the United States for four years?

The answer to the second question must regrettably be in the negative. For the whole American system of government would suffer if the man with the best display of wit or the master of sharp retort could defeat a thoughtful, dignified person who might speak less glibly but whose hesitation might be the mark of a careful and deliberate mind.

There's a better method to pick a president than by a direct confrontation of nominees in an hour's "debate" which can become a dialogue of abstract phrases or a means of comparing spur-of-the-monent or impromptu skill.

USEFUL PRESENTATION

The way to give the American people a useful presentation of the atttiude of candidates on specific subjects of major importance is to set aside two hours of an evening and give each of the two candidates one hour to express his thoughts comprehensively on a particular subject.

Then, after the two candidates had spoken, a panel of two separate groups of newsmen would the next night be given an hour for interrogation of each nominee.

There would be an opportunity in the questioning to take up almost every phase of a public issue, and the people would get the viewpoint of each presidential candidate.

The voters then would have something better than superficial or fragmentary utterances on which to form a judgment.

Bob Considine Says:

Lessons Taught by Dallas Kept Sirhan Sirhan Alive

NEW YORK — Lee Harvey Oswald was in the custody of the Dallas police from shortly after noon, Nov. 22, until he was killed by Jack Ruby about 48 hours later.

CONSIDINE

During that period he was questioned by the police, the FBI, the Secret Service and presumably by psychiatrists. What he replied to that barrage of questions has never been fully exposed.

President Kennedy was killed, I'm convinced, by Lee Harvey Oswald and Lee Harvey Oswald alone. The only question in my mind, after a great deal of study of the tragedy and talks with a lot of people involved, is whether that nut was really aiming at the president when he let go with three shots from his Carcano.

He could very well have been trying to take a bead on Gov. John Connally, who was riding in the seat just ahead of the president.

REFUSED TO INTERCEDE

Gov. Connally had not long before that fatal day refused to intercede in Oswald's effort to obtain an honorable discharge from the U.S. Marine Corps, to replace the dishonorable one.

Marine Corps records indicate that Oswald was a lousy marksman.

But what he replied to the tons of questions remains obscure. Whatever he said was not deemed pertinent to the trial of his own murderer.

Sirhan Sirhan is alive today and ready for trial because of lessons learned the hard way in Dallas. With the possible exception of the Nazi war criminals, no man has been more closely guarded than the suspected killer of Sen. Robert Kennedy.

OSWALD ON DISPLAY

The Dallas police showed us Oswald on the night of the assassination, as if displaying a sheep-killing wolf they had successfully run down. Ruby, of course, was there. Ruby killed Oswald the following Sunday. Why he didn't do so on the night the cops proudly showed off Oswald will never be known.

Fast work by Rosie Grier, Rafer Johnson, Jesse Unruh and LA police saved the skin of Sirhan Sirhan in the immediate wake of the shooting of Robert Kennedy.

So he was spared and the state of California will now attempt to put him to death legally.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

There's a lot to be learned in Europe, Asia, Africa and Australia. For example, in Norway a driver can't take a drink for six hours after he has reached his destination. This gives the police a chance to administer a drunken driver's test if he's under suspicion. . . . . And in Finland, a drunken driver practically finds himself tossed in the pokey without debate. . . . . In Norway a driver can't smoke in towns or built-up areas. . . . . The Franch tell us President DE GAULLE has held his stormy office for just over ten years.

Outrages

East African Standard

A shock wave of horror passed around the world after the senseless shooting of Senator Robert Kennedy. Only two months ago, Dr. Martin Luther King was assassinated by a gunman. The Senator's elder brother, President Kennedy, was killed four and a half years ago.

How can such outrages be committed in a society which is said to be the most advanced in the world for civilized forms and in standards of living?

Political assassination has been a tragic characteristic of American public life. Four Presidents have lost their lives while in office and attempts have been made on others, besides many public figures.

Agitation has continued through the century since President Lincoln met his death in 1865 for stricter control over the possession of firearms, but has been largely unavailing against the inbred doctrine that restrictive legislation would conflict with the constitutional rights of American citizens to carry arms.

The U.S. nation and Congress ought to be galvanized into reform by repeated demonstrations of what the indiscriminate possession of lethal weapons will lead to.

The only possible good to come out of this dreadful crime is that it can intensify demands for stricter control over lethal weapons in a coutry riven by political discord and racial hostility.

The ultimate irony is that only a few seconds before he was hit by bullets fired point-blank, he had promised he would do his best to end violence in the U.S. if he became President.

Opponents . . .

The fact that de Gaulle has singled out the Communists for his most virulent diatribe shows that he understands who his main opponents are.

It is de Gaulle and his regime who are strangling democracy, whereas the Communist party has been fighting to end his regime and replace it with a democratic people's government which would open the way to socialism.

Won't Be Deterred ---Radical Students

EAST LANSING, Mich (AP) — "In revolution one wins or dies," read the slogan on a poster of Cuban revolutionary Che Guevara.

Another poster proclaimed "Hail Columbia!"—the site of recent student disorders—and a third pictured a Vietnamese liberation fighter.

Below the posters sat leaders of Students for a Democratic Society (SDS), telling newsmen that efforts "to free people from American imperialism" would not be deterred.

"Intimidation, attempts to jail members and deter activities will be met most strongly by renewed activity," said Bernardine Dohrn of New York City, newly elected interorganizational secretary.

WEEKLONG CONFAB

The weekend scene at Michigan State University wound up a weeklong national convention, at which members pledged to spread their revolutionary ideas.

Workshop sessions dealt with organizing workers, Negroes, high school and college students.

Members passed a resolution calling for "support for (military) deserters and their demand for amnesty."

"The armed forces of the United States as presently constituted are the primary instrument of American imperialism and are used to oppress people in the United States and other countries," read the statement.

AIMS RESOLVED

"Be it resolved that (SDS) initiate and support activities directed toward creating a radical political consciousness among the members of the armed forces."

Talk of the demonstrations at Columbia, MSU and the University of Hawaii dominated many conversations among the nearly 700 delegates at the convention.

"The most important response is to refuse to be intimidated and refuse to withdraw," Miss Dohrn said.

"We have to link up . . . into a solidified force for social change," said Mike Klonsky of Los Angeles, newly elected national secretary.

NO AGREEMENT

Although leaders agreed on the SDS plan to spread ideas, convention delegates failed to agree on a plan for restructuring the organization, a mass-based, loosely organized group.

It was "clearly the sense of the convention" that increased regional work was desired, Miss Dohrn said. Delegates however, defeated two resolutions specifying how regional control was to be affected.

Another defeated proposal stated that "the challenge at this juncture in movement history is to change the emphasis from building a radical movement to using the radical movement in the work of making revolution."

The measure criticized the fact that members "talk randomly about their work and leave again without any sense for common strategy or even general direction."

Opponents said features of the SDS being criticized were the "base of genius" of the group and that undercutting that genius would make the organization "susceptible to attack by the establishment."

Last week two state legislators toured the convention site for more than hour browsing through literature and talking with members about their views.

"I never thought I'd see anything like this at a state-supported university, State Sen. John Bowman, D-Roseville, told newsmen later.

If MSU President John A. Hannah knew of SDS and its convention, "We should ask him to resign," said State Rep. Harold Clark, D-Warren.

Used Jail Makes Unique Playhouse

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Royce Meyers own an old jail which was used in the late 1800s.

Made of iron pipe, the cage is about 6 feet long, 5 feet wide and 6 feet high. It was designed to hold two prisoners and was placed under a shed to keep the rain off. It has no walls, except the iron bars, to protect from heat or cold.

Meyers bought his antique jail for $10 and brought it home in a pickup truck. He made a cement floor to put it on and planted vines and shrubs around it. His three children have a "different" sort of back yard playhouse from any of their friends.

Israel War Hero Gets Political Setback

JERUSALEM (AP) — Premier Levi Eshkol seems certain to win cabinet approval of his proposal to make Yigal Allon, rival of war hero Moshe Dayan, deputy premier.

Eshkol's proposal is seen as the first step toward denying Defense Minister Dayan the premiership when the 72-year-old premier steps down or is forced out in elections at the end of 1969.

Eshkol told the Cabinet Sunday he wants Allon, 49, as his second in command and minister for immigration absorption, a key post. The Cabinet did not discuss the proposal, but the dominant Mapai party's leadership bureau approved the move Friday. Dayan and other members of the Rafi wing of the party boycotted the special meeting.

ABANDONS BID

On another political front, Dr. Nahum Goldmann abandoned his bid for reelection as president of the World Zionist Organization and said he planned to establish a new international coordinating body for unaffiliated Jewish groups.

Goldmann announced his withdrawal during the World Zionist Congress amid charges he had interfered with Israeli foreign policy by meeting with Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the U.S. Senate's Foreign Relations Committee. Goldmann remains president of the World Jewish Congress.

An experiment to allow exiled Palestinians living in parts of the Arab world to visit relatives in the Israeli-occupied West Bank sector began Sunday.

"The experiment is for one month only," Col. Shlomo Gazit told a news conference. "After we see how it works, we will consider the next batch. We do not intend to permit them to come from extreme Arab countries—Egypt, Syria, Iraq or Algeria."

No group visits will be allowed to the occupied Gaza Strip, but Gazit said individual applications will be considered.

In Amman, the Jordanian government placed some 50 companies on a trade blacklist charging their operators with violating the Arab trade boycott against Israel.

The list included the Indian Coca-Cola Export Corp. of Bombay, and the Frech aircraft manufacturer Marcel Dassault, whose Israeli Mirage jets played a decisive role in last year's Arab-Israeli war.

However, Jordan removed from a previous blacklist the American - Studebaker Corp., Sea and Ski Corp. and the Prelcad Co.

Truck Kills Girl

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — A 20-month-old girl, Cindy Darrow, was killed Saturday while playing in the driveway of her home, when she was struck by a garbage truck. Her death was not included in the weekend traffic fatality count since the accident happened on private property.

Saint Patrick was born in England and came to Ireland at the age of 16.

Tuzex Monopolizes Czech Marketplace

PRAGUE (UPI) — "Tuzex" is the magic word in Czechoslovakia.

It is a state-run trading cooperative selling mostly imported goods in exchange for dollars or other hard currency.

The range of goods is considerable, from whisky to autos, from toothbrushes to textiles, and even houses.

In other words: You can buy in Tuzek all those products which cannot be gotten anywhere else, provided you have the necessary cash.

HAVE NOTS

As a result, two types of people exist in Czechoslovakia: the Tuzek-haves and the Tuzek-have nots. This was particularly important in the past, when Western cigarettes or drinks were available only in the Tuzex shops. But a couple of months ago, these products reached ordinary shops.

The same applies to improted textiles, which also used to be a Tuzex monopoly. But the monopoly has been retained in motorcars. A man with Tuzex money can buy an automobile on the spot. Those people who have no Tuzex account must wait two to five years.

Who can buy in the Tuzex? First of all, visitors from the West, and secondly those Czechs who have relatives or friends abroad sending them hard currency. This currency is exchanged into so-called Tuzex coupons at the lowest rate of exchange.

Thus, $1 officially is exchanged for 7.20 Tuzex coupons, although the exchange rate for tourists is 14 crowns per dollar.

PRESS CRITICAL

The Prague press has been critical of Tuzex, which caters only to a privileged few. Some newspapers recently even went so far as to call it "immoral" and urge its Liquidation.

However, the management of Tuzex announced that it had no such intention, because the firm is one of the most important sources of hard currency to this country.

Although turnovers of Tuzex have remained a big mystery over the years, informed sources said volume amounted to several hundred million crowns a year.

On the black-market. Tuzex coupons sell for five crowns apiece. Foreign tourists walking through Prague are again and again accosted by black-market dealers who want to buy foreign currency for Tuzex deals.

A bottle of whisky at Tuzex costs 32 Tuzex crowns, or $4.30. A Simca car is sold for 14,000 Tuzex crowns. or about $2,000.

Marine's South Viets Tagged 'Crazy Water Buffaloes'

SAIGON (AP) — For eight months a young Marine captain, Don Bonsper, has been the U.S. adviser to a bunch of "crazy-water buffaloes."

It was not exactly what he had in mind when he graduated from the Naval Academy in 1965 but it has been rewarding, he says.

Bonsper's buffaloes are South Vietnamese marines of the 2nd Battalion, which won its nickname in battle three years ago.

The unit charged a Vietcong position like "crazy water buffaloes," a captured guerrilla report said.

FARM YOUTHS

The Vietnamese marines, mostly farm youths with a healthy respect for the nation's cantankerous beast of burden, liked that and now sport a shoulder patch showing a wild-eyed buffalo.

While Bonsper watched, the little marines in camouflage green were doggedly pushing through a rubbled street on the western edge of Saigon. Columns of smoke spiraled skyward and the buildings occasionally shook from rocket bursts. It was blistering hot.

Unperturbed, the blonde, crew-cut American checked grease-penciled maps, listened to the South Vietnamese major at his side and worked the battered pack-radios connecting with the helicopter gunships overhead.

Although seven had died that morning and 11 were wounded, the South Vietnamese marines were relaxed and sometimes even carefree.

FIRECRACKERS

A little group down the street was having great fun firing a captured Chinese AK47 submachine gun. Others would occasionally set off strings of firecrackers taken from the jumbled streetside shops. Another had patched up a radio and listened to a love song from Saigon's studios barely five miles away.

An American Marine commander might take a strict view of such lightheartedness but the Vietnamese marines have their own esprit, and an adviser has to get used to it. Along with rangers and an airborne brigade, the marines are Saigon's shock troops, with the extra latitude permitted such outfits.

Scratching his head, Bonsper had to reach back to figure out how many men the 600-man battalion had lost since he joined it eight months ago.

"It must have been about 60 killed and 300 wounded."

Luckily, Bonsper had gone through that—and five previous months as a platoon leader and company executive officer with the American Marines—without being scratched.

From his home in Portville, N.Y., Bonsper won a Naval Academy competitive exam and emerged in 1964 as a Marine second lieutenant with a new bride and a Fulbright Scholarship for a year's study in Costa Rica.

A year later, he was in Vietnam. He has spent practically all of his time here in the field.

The only break was a week's leave with his wife in Hawaii—returning Feb. 3 and driving straight to his battalion which was then also fighting in Saigon.

Now, in the little house where the Vietnamese marines had set up their command post, Bonsper peeked at a photo of his wife, carefully tucked inside the confidential folder of the battalion's official combat log, and contemplated his 25th birthday next month.

"I'll make it," he grinned. "I've got 15 days until I go home. I'm ready."

Goods on Move Get Tax Help

CHICAGO (AP) — In-transit property now is protected by "free port" laws in 35 states from property tax assessment.

Commerce Clearing House, a tax law authority, said the free port provision also applies in the District of Columbia.

The net effect is to eliminate double taxation on firms selling and shipping goods across the country.

Without such laws, companies selling and shipping goods across state lines are confronted not only with the possibility of multistate income and sales taxes, but also with the possibility of multistate property taxes.

Several states require that the goods must be shipped in from outside the state and others have free port laws that specify that goods must be stored in a public facility before the rules apply.

Three Children Drown on Family Outing in Texas

TEMPLE, Tex. (AP) — An outing for Nicodemus Garza and his family ended in tragedy Sunday. Three of the Garzas' five children drowned in Lake Belton.

Witnesses said four of the youngsters apparently slipped into water over their heads while wading. Nicodemus Jr., about 12, was rescued while clinging to a tree.

Bodies of his sister Frances, 9, and brothers Jacinto and Jesse Garza, both 8, were recovered later.

The fifth Garza child did not go wading with the others.

Bunker Hill Is Reenacted

BOSTON (AP) — Today is Bunker Hill Day in Boston and about 250 men costumed as British soldiers and colonial irregulars re-enacted the famous battle Sunday before an audience which included the British consul-general in Boston.

On June 17, 1775, the date of the real battle, about 1,000 Colonials battled 3,000 British regulars. The English suffered some 1,000 dead and the Colonials about 300.

"Jolly interesting show," said Consul-General Ralph W. Selby. "I'm delighted that I declined an invitation to play a British general. It looked extraordinarily hazardous out there."

Mexican Mom Dies in State

DOUGLAS (AP) — Mrs. Santiaga Almanza, 29, who drew national attention in a drive to bring her children in Mexico to her hospital bedside in Michigan, died Sunday of cancer at Douglas Community Hospital.

Her children and husband had been with her to the end, thanks to the generosity of Allegan County area residents and an Illinois oilman.

Mrs. Almanza and her husband came to Michigan last September to visit her relatives living in Fennville. While here she became ill and doctors diagnosed it as terminal cancer.

Reuniting the mother with her seven children was termed "the best medicine" by one doctor and the family pooled its resources but there was enough to bring only three to her bedside. The four youngest remained in Mexico.

OILMAN HELPS

Oilman Burt Burrow of Olney, Ill. offered to bring the four youngsters to Michigan and the reunion took place in a hospital room in May. For the first time in eight months the family was together.

Before she died, Mrs. Almanza asked that the children stay in this country for their education. Their visas expire July 30. Almanza has been unable to work to earn money because of his visitor's status.

Priest's Gun Turn-In Plea Fails

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — A plea by a Roman Catholic priest that his parishioners turn in their guns to him so they could be destroyed went unheeded Sunday.

The Rev. John Huhn, assistant pastor of Battle Creek's St. Joseph Church, asked some 1,000 parishioners to "turn over their weapons of violence" at two masses Sunday. But no one complied.

Father Huhn said he was a little disappointed, but added:

Father Huhn said he was little disappointed, but added: "Perhaps it was just a general reluctance or fear of wanting to be involved or to stand up publicly and do something.

"My desire in issuing the call was to make a point. If they respond even in the internal recesses of their hearts, it certainly will not be wasted."

The priest got the idea for a gun turn-in appeal when a reserve Navy lieutenant commander handed in his shotgun last Monday night during a memorial mass for Sen. Robert Kennedy.

The 30-year-old priest mailed his own draft card to Secretary of State Dean Rusk and then to Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark last December to protest the Viet-War. He said he has not been contacted by federal authorities on the matter.

During last Monday's memorial mass for Kennedy, Richard Hale of Battle Creek walked to the altar and gave Father Huhn a 12-gauge shotgun which he said he won in a sales contest.

Hale, general manager of a guns is no way to settle anything.

The priest, who intends to destroy the shotgun, then issued a plea for other parishioners to follow Hale's example and to bring their guns to the altar during the offertory of the two masses Sunday. He even asked children to bring in toy guns.

In his sermons, the priest said:

"We are not concerned about a lot of gun control legislation. It is important and necessary.

"But it is sort of incongruous, because we stick guns in the hands of 18 and 19 years olds and send them across to the other side of the world to kill and destroy and burn innocent women and children with napalm."

He added: "In general "because of a nation bringing violence to another country like this, we souldn't really be surprised that we have so much violence here."

He referred in Sunday's epistle to St. John, which says, "Anyone who hates his brother is a murderer and you know tha a murderer does not have eternal life abiding in him."

The priest added:

"We did not pull the trigger in Memphis, Dallas, or Los Angeles, but because of our hatred for black people or others who tend to disagree with us, we are in a similar situation because St. John's statement is so lumber rompany, said he had a strong belief that the use of clear."

19 Are Arrested in 2 City Raids

Face Arraignment on Gambling Charges

Nineteen men face arraignment today in Pontiac Municipal Court on gambling charges stemming from simultaneous raids early yesterday at two homes in the city.

Pontiac vice squad officers, assisted by Oakland County sheriff's deputies, raided 817 St. Clair and 883½ Baldwin about 1:15 a.m.

Arrested at the St. Clair address on a warrant charging conspiracy to violate state gambling laws was Daniel S. Margosian, 28, of 159 S. Terrace, Waterford Township police said.

Named on the same warrant and arrested this morning was Carmen Green, 46, of 5 Pingree, according to officers.

SEPARATE WARRANT

Named on a separate warrant and arrested for the same charge at the Baldwin address were Patrick L. Hallmark, 50, of 94 N. Holcomb, Clarkston, and Jesse Marcum, 33, of 258 Auburn, police said.

* * *

All four are in Oakland County Jail pending arraignment, officers said.

Five men arrested at the Baldwin address and 10 at the St. Clair address are to be arraigned on a charge of loitering in an illegal gambling place.

All were freed yesterday on $25 bond, according to police.

EQUIPMENT IMPOUNDED

Lt. Fred Goines, commander of the Pontiac vice bureau, said gambling equipment, including cards and tables, were impounded at both homes.

He said the raids were the result of several months of investigation.

Stress on Housing in City

Civil Rights Hearings Resume

Hearings of the Michigan Civil Rights Commission into the nature and status of race relations in Pontiac were to resume today at 1 p.m. in the City commission chambers of Pontiac's City Hall.

The commission is to hear testimony from a variety of witnesses, mostly relating to the field of housing.

Two days of hearings have now concluded. The CRC inquiry is scheduled to end Wednesday evening.

The testimony so far indicates that Pontiac has serious problems in the area of racial relations, but three civic leaders testified Friday that positive steps are being taken — although slowly — and that there has been a noticeable change of attitude among persons of influence in the city, the so-called power structure.

MORE INVOLVEMENT

Edward E. Barker Jr., president of the Pontiac State Bank and chairman of a race relations task force of the Pontiac Area Planning Council, told commissioners there is a need for greater involvement of Pontiac citizens in the problems of race.

He said the task force had recently attempted to secure testimony on the status of race relations in the city, but there had been a poor response. He said there seems to be no great demand for merely a listening body to air grievances, but there is a need for an action body.

Involvement, "people-to-people involvement," is the most effective destroyer of racial ignorance, he said.

He said this is shown by the task force's experiences with local PTA's. The task force asked to appear before 14 PTAs in city schools. The force appeared before only five PTAs, he said, and only two showed any real interest in solving racial problems.

SCHOOL INVOLVEMENT

Barker said he believes this is because at the two schools student bodies or the parents had had some successful involvement with Negroes. The involvement included a Negro teacher at one school and at the other a program of student exchange — for short periods — with a Negro school followed by a similar exchange of the PTA's.

Rabbi Ernest Conrad said the city's power structure is becoming more involved in racial problems. But, he said, the rest of the community is slow to become involved. "It (the movement to eliminate discrimination) is not involving enough people to be meaningful," he said.

* * *

He said the white community has to realize what it has at stake and must change from just another "northern mill town into a true American community."

HOUSING INEQUITIES

Conrad, chairman of the housing committee of the Pontiac Area Urban League, said there are obvious inequities in housing and that apartments for middle-class Negroes are nonexistent.

* * *

Rev. Jack H. C. Clark, chairman of the city's human relations commission (HRC), testified on the nature of that Commission and told of its role in attempting to stop wild rumors during tense racial situations.

He alleged that newspaper and radio accounts of two deaths of Negroes in the last seven months — one involving Pontiac police, another a gas station attendant — were misleading and the HRC felt it imperative to move with full speed to find out what exactly had happened and to relate this information to the community at large.

He said the HRC is only one of several bodies which deal with racial problems, but there is a need for a coalesced organized effort among all such bodies to handle racial problems.

Clark said he believes relations between police and the Negro community are "no better and no worse" than comparable communities with the same racial balance.

He said they should be better.

'No Hang-Ups' for Boy Genius

PRINCETON, W. VA. (AP)— If you were Norman Platnick, boy-genius with an IQ varying between 148 and 178, what would you have accomplished after 16 years in this quiet southern West Virginia town?

For one thing you would have read the entire World Book Encyclopedia in the second grade while fellow students were drawing lines on paper.

For another you would have entered college at 12 and been graduated and accepted as a graduate teaching assistant in zoology at Michigan State University at 16.

For kicks you would compose classical-style music, write philosophical poetry, and keep Peanuts paperbacks side-by-side with Nietzsche hardbacks.

'TOO DIVERSIFIED'

And you wouldn't have any "hang-ups" other than the fact that you're "too diversified."

Norman Platnick, a chunky spectacled youth of 16, created quite a stir four years ago when he stepped from the local seventh grade class here into Concord College at nearby Athens.

"The phones never stopped ringing", said Mrs. Philip Platnick, the boy's mother. "People would call from all over the country telling us what a mistake we were making. But we weren't. Norman is the most well-adjusted young person I've ever met."

The Platnicks, being Jewish, were forced to migrate to the United States during World War II from what was then the country of Lithuania on the Baltic Sea. It's now part of Russia. Philip, a dentist before the war, now owns a successful scrap iron business.

Norman is less than ecstatic about a possible meeting with Edith Stern, the 15-year-old Florida mathematical genius who also will be teaching at Michigan State next fall. "I don't plan to go out of my way," he said mathematicians are generally dull people."

Guests Never Should Dress More Formally

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My friend is making a Bar Mitzvah for her son at a very fashionable hotel. She is wearing a short formal and her husband and son are wearing tuxedos. The invitation does not say "Black Tie" or "Dress Optional."

Is it proper for me to wear a long gown and my husband a tuxedo? My host and hostess say "yes" and I say "no." — Mrs. M. Z.

Dear Mrs. Z.: You are both partly right. Guests may always wear the same type of clothes as the host and hostess, but they should never dress more formally.

Therefore, it is quite correct for your husband to wear a tuxedo, but you would be dressed in better taste in a short gown. The lack of specific dress information on the invitation merely gives the guests a choice. Those who know what the host is wearing may wear "black tie"; others won't — and all will be correctly dressed.

FORMAL DINNER

Dear Mrs. Post: I am having a formal dinner party for 10. ● If soup is served, which is the proper procedure: the hostess ladling from a tureen at the table, or the maid bringing each filled bowl from the kitchen? ● Can flowers and candles be removed before dessert if cake and coffee are served? I would like to place several footed cake plates on the table. — Mrs. E. Armstrong.

Dear Mrs. Armstrong: ● The hostess should not do any serving at a formal dinner. The maid brings the filled bowls from the kitchen, or, if the soup is the first course the filled cups or bowls may be on the table when the guests sit down.

* * *

● Flowers and candles, since they are decorations, should not be removed. Your cakes may be spaced about the table — at the corners, or between the flowers and candles.

The Second Look Styles Are Fashion Must for Fall

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a reaction faction in fashions for fall.

The avant garde has backed up. The alienated have joined the establishment. The hawks have become more dovish, and the feminists more female.

LIKE IT IS

Designers are either telling it the way it is — or the way women are, with bosoms, waistlines, and hips unmistakably there.

Or they are escaping from reality altogether — with romantic costumy clothes that could have come out of a trunk backstage.

PREVIEW

All this will become self-evident beginning Tuesday when more than 200 fashion reporters converge here for 11 days of previewing what women are expected to wear next season.

"Wearable," which has become an old-fashioned word in style lexicon, is sure to be dusted off for use again, along with words like "ladylike," "curvaceous," "modest," and "mannerly."

Words destined for mothballs are "wild," "kooky," "mod," "psychedelic" and "nudeness."

For gimmicks and sensationalism are passe; even for Jacques Tiffeau who has been among the most avant of the garde; and nearly for Rudi Gernreich who has been so far ahead he finds it hard to slam on the brakes.

Actually, designers have not had much choice other than to blow the hippie scene, the Indian bit and the harlot hangup and rejoin the Establishment.

The bizarre had become so boring, the hemline highs and lows so ho-hum, and flesh exposure so "so what?" that being conventional is now the only way to be different.

As Tiffeau said, "The whole world is upside down. It is time we had our feet on the ground."

Though a just plain weariness of extremism had already brought about a conservative reaction in fashion, Florentine designer Emilio Pucci voiced many views of American designers as well when he said that the reaction to all sorts of violence has resulted in a "more serious, gentle look, reflecting a sense of responsibility."

Some designers are pinching in waistlines, padding out shoulders and letting hems fall to midcalf in hope of reviving the New Look — which also was a reaction to violence.

Pants costumes for women still exist, for there has been no reaction to comfort and modesty. However, these are softer, with wider legs and less conscious effort to mimic males.

Occasionally midriffs may be bare. But generally nudity ends there. This, too, is a reaction to years of pretending that the midriff never existed.

Now belts, cummerbunds, elastic shirring, and contrasting fabric insets are the various ways in which the waistline gets its just due this year.

Chantilly Lace Highlights Ensemble

Attired in a gown of silk crepe with appliques of Chantilly lace on bodice, skirt and chapel train, Barbara Jeanne Cheal became the bride of Raymond George Olle Saturday evening in First Congregational Church of Pontiac.

The bride's fingertip veil of silk illusion was capped with a Dior bow. She carried white rosebuds with ivy streamers.

MRS. RAYMOND G. OLLE

MATRON OF HONOR

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Cheal of Barchester Drive was attended by Mrs. Paul Flagg of Biloxi, Miss. as matron of honor.

Bridesmaids were Barbara Lanthorn of Grand Rapids and the bride's sisters, Alice and Mary. Virginia Middleton was flower girl.

The bridgroom's brothers, Gafur, of Ferndale, Roger of Detroit and Spec. 4 John of U.S. Army, Alaska, served as best man and ushers. They are the sons of Mrs. Raymond Olle of Berkley and the late Mr. Olle.

Gus Perez and Gordon Seltz, both of Detroit, completed the usher corps.

A reception in the church parlors preceded a honeymoon trip to Montreal and Niagara Falls.

The newlyweds will take up residence in Bakersfield, Calif. in July, following the bride's graduation from Michigan State University.

Run Off Together

This 'Jogs' Wife's State of Mind

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This woman my husband jogs with is beginning to worry me. She isn't even a neighbor. She drives five miles every morning (and at 7 o'clock!) just to jog with my husband.

Don't tell me to jog with them. I'm no jogger. Do you think I have anything to worry about?

JOGGER'S WIFE

ABBY

DEAR WIFE: Not as long as they keep jogging.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 13 years, and our problem is his brother who lives in another state. Every summer this brother (single) comes to "visit" us for a whole month. We do not invite him, and he doesn't ask if it's okay for him to come. He has his mother write and tell us when to expect him.

My husband and I would like to put an end to his visits because we don't enjoy his company that much. In fact, he is a real pain in the neck. We're afraid if we don't do it right his mother and the rest of the family will think we are inhospitable.

One year when we were expecting our oldest daughter and her new-born baby, we wrote and told him we couldn't have him at that time, but he came anyway and just sat around to be cooked for and waited on.

Can you help us?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO: YES! Write and tell him that it is not convenient for you to have him THIS SUMMER. It may seem cold and inhospitable, but feeling as you do, it's better than having a "guest" of his description sitting around for a month.

DEAR ABBY: I just read something in your column that hit me close to home. You said, "If parents want to be noble and stay together because of the kids, they should be a little more noble and not let the kids know it. It makes them feel guilty."

Abby, parents who stay together because of the kids can't hide it. The kids know something is wrong. You see, our parents had this crazy idea that they owed it to us to put up a front, I guess you would call it, and stay together until we were grown. We knew they didn't really love each other.

Well, four years ago they got the divorce they should have gotten long before. Since then we have all been much happier. We spend time with both our parents.

Dad is remarried and is very happy. Mom is going with someone and it looks serious. If they had waited until we were all grown it might have been too late for them to build another life for themselves.

I am 18 and a freshman in college, and the two younger ones are in high school and junior high. I can't speak for all kids, but I know this way is better for us. Parents shouldn't feel that they have to sacrifice their own happiness for their kids.

HAPPIER NOW

DEAR ABBY: That woman who complained because she got an electric dishwasher for Mother's day really got my goat. I don't have one and I'm not complaining because I have two good strong hands with which to wash my dishes. That's more than I can say for sister who is so crippled with arthritis she can hardly bend her fingers, poor dear soul.

NO COMPLAINTS

DEAR ABBY: Last year we put in a swimming pool. Please don't get the idea that we are millionaires. We aren't. We're just average folks in moderate circumstances. We like to share our pool with our neighbors, but some people don't know when enough is enough.

We started serving soft drinks to the kids, and beer to the adults, but that didn't last long. We did a bigger business than the country club.

How can we let our neighbors know that there are days when we've invited guests, and the whole neighborhood gang is not invited? I know we should not have been so big-hearted last year, but now that we realize our mistake, what should we do?

PORTOLA VALLEY

DEAR PORTOLA VALLEY: Fly a little "flag" on a pole to let your neighbors know that the pool is open for "all." If you plan a private party, no flag. Then educate your neighbors. It's as simple as that.

MRS. JAMES STEINER

Steiner Vows Are Exchanged

Marjorie Jean Ashby and Rev. James N. Steiner were wed Saturday in Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian.

Crystal white mousseline de soie combined with point de Venise lace fashioned a cage over a slim skimmer of taffeta for the bride whose parents are the John L. Ashbys of Orchard Lake.

A cluster of organza loops held her tiered veil of silk illusion and she carried daisies, gypsum, Stephanotis and yellow roses.

Mrs. Robert Krainer of Madison, Wis. was her sister's matron of honor with bridesmaids, Terry Ashby, Elaine Noffze and Mrs. Dennis Randolph.

Donald Steiner of Ft. Wayne, Ind., stood as best man for his brother, the son of the Robert Steiners of Indianapolis, Ind., with usher corps, Harry Keith, John L. Ashby, Jr. and Rev. John Peter.

Prior to leaving on a northern Michigan and New York City honeymoon, the pair was feted at a reception in the church parlors.

Holds Bacteria

Bad news for the "hirsute" generation — three Army scientists have reported that "bacteria hold more tenaciously to the beard than to the face and plain soap and water remove more bacteria from the facial skin than from a beard."

For one about to celebrate her 87th birthday June 27, Mrs. Maggie Butters of Baldwin Street reflects a smile as youthful as the five generations surrounding her. To the left of this great-great-great grandmother is Mrs. Edward Pace of South Boulevard East (great-great grandmother). Directly behind them is the youngest grandmother, Mrs. Al Roth of Oak Vista Street with daughter Sheila (Mrs. Leslie Rodriguez of Second Street, both Independence Township) and four month old Kena Sue. Mrs. Dale Boner of Paris Street, Commerce Township, is Kena's great-grandmother.

Couple Creates Own Sanctuary

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Alex Rubolino have joined forces in a hobby to which each contributes a particular talent in producing life-like small wooden birds, ducks, and geese of numerous species.

Rubilino carves the miniatures, which range from 2 inches in height to models with a wing span of 8 inches, in action poses. His wife paints the carvings, using a special technique that gives them a downy-soft feathered look. The couple frequently visits bird sanctuaries to observe their models.

Are you ready to play the organ?

Playing the organ isn't just playing the organ. It's a way of thinking about yourself.

It starts with you ungluing yourself from the TV set. And unscrewing your head from Top 40 radio.

And it ends with you doing something with your life. Like creating music.

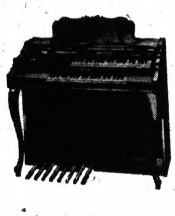
Now, isn't talent important?

Of course. In fact, just to help you make sure, we are offering a free talent test. (We'll try your sense of pitch, your feeling for rhythm, etc.)

But talent isn't everything. And neither is price. Baldwin makes organs in everybody's price range. And our terms are easy, since Baldwin does our financing. The burning question is whether you yearn to carve a niche of your own. Only you can answer that.

So there's no point in telling you about our beautiful sonorities. Our rich cabinetry. And the mind - dazzling electronic wizardry built into a Baldwin organ.

You have to find out for youself. It takes a little courage. We're ready any time you are.



2 Manual Starter Organs Used, but Guaranteed about $450

Thought of Vacationing on Houseboat?

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Lots of persons are going to get a new perspective on the U.S.A. this year. And it doesn't have a thing to do with politics. They're going to see America from some vantage point along the country's 25,000 miles of inland waterways from aboard their houseboats—or their rented houseboats.

FEELEY

This vacation trend to take to the water in a leisurely way is growing, especially among families who want to team up to get some new kind of fun and share expenses. Since outright ownership can involve around $10,000 for a 35-foot houseboat, you'd probably want to settle for a rental first time out. Have a look at some figures well in advance.

One week's rent for a 35-foot boat can be figured at from $295 to $375, depending on type of power, outboard or inboard. The price can include dishes, pots and pans, etc., but probably not linens. Gasoline and food would be extra, but the rental includes insurance coverage.

So, say, a two-weeks' cruise on a houseboat accommodating six people — maybe two couples and two children or a family with four kids — could run about $900 to $1,000. If these figures look big at first glance, how much did your last cross-country car trip cost? The National Association of Engine and Boat Manufacturers, Inc., has gathered these statistics: boat rent for two weeks, $600 to $650.

Gas about $110. Food with extra refreshments, from about $125 to $150. And marina fees, if any, may run about $50 to $75, depending on how many stops are made. Marina fees on a daily basis range from $1 to, at some of the rivers in the Northeast, as high as $4.50.

Veteran inland voyagers report that marina services are getting more deluxe all the time. Not only refueling, but often restaurant facilities, laundry, laundromat, garbage collection, mail service, are dockside conveniences.

Of course, you'll need to know more than the costs of houseboating. You have to know how to handle the boat safely. And you'll have to demonstrate your ability before anybody will rent to you. Basically, they say, the safe handling of a houseboat requires knowledge comparable to that required for handling a traditional cruiser. The public can ask for and get free instruction in boat handling, through courses offered by the United States Coast Guard Auxiliary.

While you don't have to be an old hand at water travel in order to plan for a houseboating vacation, there are regulations to abide by and some serious preparation to be made. You'll need a certain amount of knowledge of weather and water conditions, as well as boat handling. From boating studies made round the country, about 40 per cent of houseboaters moved up from runabouts and 25 per cent moved over from cruisers.

If you feel you're ready for a try, physically as well as financially, you can get a list of places throughout the U.S. that rent houseboats. Address your request for a list of rental, or other information on houseboating to the International Houseboat Manufacturers Association, Box 610, Jeffersonville, Ind.

While the association itself has nothing to rent or sell, they can steer you to those who do.

Storage Cost Possibly Less Than Moving

If you are making a move that may be temporary or are moving into a smaller apartment or home, you might save worries or money later on by putting some or all of your furnishings in storage for the time being.

According to Burnham Van Service, nationwide movers, families who might return to their original destination after a short period of time should check with their mover about facilities for storing household goods in transit and the extra cost involved.

If you are not certain the move will be a permanent one, it might pay to store your furnishings in your present city. The cost of moving your goods back and forth over a long distance may easily exceed the cost of storing them.

Up to a period of one year, the mover has the same liability for your goods in storage as during moving. If, sometime during the year, you decide to make the move a puermanent one, the mover can take the goods out of storage and deliver them to your new address. For storage periods longer than one year, your mover's liability ceases and you must make separate arrangements with the warehouseman.

Modern storage warehouses are designed for maximum protection against dampness, moths and other damage. If you store clothing, however, you should have it cleaned and mothproofed before storing.

OPEN FRIDAY EVENINGS

KNIBBS-MAGLOTT

Following a reception Friday at Gingellville Community Center, Michael LaVern Knibbs and his bride (nee Linda Kay Maglott), left for a Niagara Falls honeymoon. For the ceremony in First Open Bible Church, the bride chose a chiffon and taffeta sheath with a beaded pearl crown and illusion veil. She held white carnations encircling pink Sweetheart roses. Matron of honor was Mrs. Timothy A. Means with Thomas Knibbs as best man heading a bridal party of 10. The bride is the daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Arthur W. Maglott of Northfield Street. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. LaVern C. Knibbs of Jamm Road, Orion Township.

PATCH-KATH

A honeymoon to Mackinac Island followed vows Friday in St. Michael's Catholic Church for Lynda Joyce Kath and Thomas Allen Patch. The daughter of the Maynard W. Kaths of Giddings Street, Pontiac Township wore a traditional gown with petaled headpiece and bouffon veil. Attendants were Linda Leach, Virginia Gilroy, Mrs. Ralph Landry, Linda Townes and Sandra Swartz. Best man for the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Patch of West Rundell Street was the bridegroom's brother, Robert. Ushers were Donald Wright, Raymond Lavoie, Frank Lauinger, Gregory Glynn, Steven Patch and Dale and Richard Kath. A reception was held at the American Legion Hall.

BARTLE-JENCKS

A southern honeymoon followed vows Saturday for USA Spec. 4 Michael Donley Bartle and Nancy Lou Jencks. Attired in a silk organza gown accented with appliques of lace and seed pearls, the bride carried Sweetheart roses and Stephanotis on a white prayer book. Honor attendants were Mrs. Richard Tallmadge and Stephen Hubbs with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Nelson, Julie Westerby, Shawn and Gary Bartle and Richard Lloyd. Parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell W. Jencks of Clarkston and the Leroy E. Bartles of East Glass Road, Brandon Township. A reception in the parlors of St. Christopher's Episcopal Church, Flint, followed the vows.

Polly's Pointers

Start an Avocado Tree

DEAR POLLY — A am answering Jean's request for a way to grow an avocado plant which is not a vine but a tree. I have had success with the following method: Stick three round toothpicks in the side of the pit and suspend the flat end of the pit over a glass of water with the bottom always in the water. It will take several weeks but eventually a root will sprout from the bottom and the top of the pit will split and a stem will grow upward with a couple of leaves.

Then carefully plant the pit in good rich soil in a very large pot that has good drainage. Keep the plant moist and in a sunny spot and it will grow like wild fire. — DOTTI

DEAR POLLY — Could someone please tell me if paper white narcissus bloom more than once? If so, how would one care for the bulbs to get them to bloom again? Thank you in advance. — EDNA

DEAR POLLY — Mine is not the least expensive solution to Mrs. S. M.'s problem of too-short bedroom curtains but nothing could be more stunning. Buy small unpainted shutters, about two feet in length, and install across the top of the window. Paint them to match the predominating color in the printed draperies which are hung below the shutter. This allows light to come in the top when the shutters are open and the curtains drawn for privacy. — ELEANOR.

DEAR POLLY — To keep my chrome kitchen chair backs from marring the walls, refrigerator and such when they are pushed back and forth, I bought matching terry cloth kitchen towels with fringed ends, folded each of them in half and sewed along each side. I slipped these down over the backs of the chairs. They really work, are pretty and easy to launder, too. — MRS. E. K.

DEAR POLLY — In answer to the "too-short bedroom drapes" problem I had the same one and lowered my traverse rod from the top down one-fourth the length of the window. I put a plain curtain rod at the top and made a valance of matching material, wide enough to gather.

They look as if they were intended to be that way. The valance could be made of contrasting or plain material and also pleated for a more tailored look. — MINNIE

Woman's Hobby Comes in Handy for Centennial

CALGARY, Alberta (AP) — A Calgarian housewife has in her own way been preparing for Canada's Centennial for 20 years.

Mrs. Karl Kraemer collects and reproduces dress designs of the past. She can copy a dress design from a magazine or newspaper picture and seeks out authentic trimmings and accessories at auctions and church rummage sales.

More than 70 dress reproductions hang from clothes racks, enought material for 70 more fill drawers and boxes and cardboard boxes hold purses, gloves, jewelry and other accessories.

"I've had so much fun," she says, "and there are so many things I want to make that they fill my mind at night and I can't sleep."

Soften Dry Skin

Stain-Resistant Finish Still Requires Care

If you have tested the new stain resistant fabrics and found them not much better than the plain finishes you used to buy, it may be you aren't giving them a chance.

Miss Bernetta Kahabka, Michigan State University Cooperative Extension Service specialist on clothing and textiles, says the oil and water stain resistant finishes are a form of built-in help, but do not automatically elimiate the necessity for attention.

"It is important to recognize that once a stain has penetrated through the stain resistant finish and into the inner structure of the fabric, the very quality of the resistance that it has will not release the stain to normal laundering procedures," she reports.

Miss Kahabka explains that prompt treatment of a stain on any fabric, including a treated one, is important. The finishes are stain resisters, but are not stain proof, as many consumers treat them. They will reduce the size and severity of a large stain and often provide complete protection against minor stains, but this is not always the case.

DIFFICULT STAINS

Stains vary in their degree of difficulty to remove. Rubbed in stains or those allowed to dry and age are much more difficult to remove, she points out.

The effects of some finishes may be canceled out by poor rinsing either in washing or in dry cleaning. Thorough rinsing is recommended in both cleaning processes. Any detergent residue left on the fabric can mask the effectiveness of the stain resistant quality, Miss Kahabka cautions.

The clothing specialist also has a word on "do-it-yourself" applications of stain resistants: "When one considers how many factors enter into the picture when a finish is put on in the textile mill, and the high degree of technology involved, surely home processing by amateurs could never be as satisfactory."

A BS degree in Elementary Education was awarded recently to Dorothy V. Dow during commencement exercises at Eastern Michigan University. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dow of Brooks Avenue.

To Publish Baby Care Guide

On June 3, Prentice-Hall will publish "Infant Care," the United States Government Guide annotated and supplemented by Dr. Frederick W. Goodrich, Jr., author of "Preparing for Childbirth."

Dr. Goodrich is one of the nation's leading obstetrician-gynecologists and is an authority on pediatrics.

The government's own editions of "Infant Care" have sold approximately 50,000,000 copies, yet this is the first edition to be made available in bookstores and libraries. Definitive and all inclusive, the book deals with the care of infants from birth to one year of age.

The Prentice-Hall edition is based on the eleventh and latest edition of the government's work but is substantially expanded by the introduction, supplementary chapter material, and charts provided by Dr. Goodrich, as well as additional illustrations.

The publication benefits from the research facilities of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the information contributed by 100 experts in the fields of child psychology and psychiatry, pediatrics, parent education, orthopedics, child development, vision and safety.

Up-to-date, authoritative and very readable, "Infant Care" should provide a practical guide to the young mother. The book is also enhanced by a cover of washable and durable fabric.

Columbus' Flagship Is Believed Located

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — An amateur archaeologist and an undersea explorer today sought funds to exhume what they believe to be the remains of the Santa Maria, the flagship of Christopher Columbus.

"Finding the Santa Maria is like finding the Holy Grail," Fred Dixon Jr. of Ocean City, N.J., one of the backers of the expedition, said.

Adolf Kiefer, former Olympic gold medal winner in swimming, revealed the nature of the expedition while in Albany Friday for a swimming demonstration.

He said the group he is associated with is "99 per cent sure" they have discovered the 117-foot ship which slid beneath the waters of the Caribbean nearly a half-millenium ago.

ON HISPANIOLA

The ship remains were found in 12 feet of water on the island of Hispaniola, which is now split up between Haiti and the Dominican Republic. The hull of the vessel was filled in with silt and coral growths, Kiefer said.

Four specimens from the site have been sent to Europe for exmaination and include a piece of wood, a chunk of pottery, a brass spike and a brass shackle.

Kiefer said scientific analysis of one object placed it between 1375 and 1475 — only a few years away from Columbus's discovery of the new world.

Kiefer and Dixon, who heads Dixon Mining and Exploration Corp., planned a meeting today with prospective backers. Kiefer said it will take $150,000 to resurrect the remains of the ship.

SINKING SITE

The undisclosed site is near another location five miles away where another group of archeologists claim the Santa Maria went down.

Careful study of documents of the period, including Columbus' own diary of the voyage of discovery, and biographies on the explorer, provided the clues to locating the site, Kiefer said.

When the 100-ton Santa Maria sank early Christmas Day, 1492, after piercing its hull on a coral outcropping, its 52-member crew scrambled to safety.

Columbus had to crowd as many as possible aboard a smaller vessel, the Nina, leaving some men behind with a year's supply of provisions at a settlement he called Villa de Natividad.

The third vessel in the trip, the Pinta, was separated from the other vessels in a storm but later was reunited with the Nina for the return voyage to Spain. Columbus made three more trips to the new world.

Film Figures Join in Effort to Aid Negro

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — A group of film figures concerned over the plight of the Negro have joined in a cooperative film venture.

Last week a news conference was called by veteran film maker Robert Wise "West Side Story," "The Sound of Music" and a neophyte in the movie world, Tom Laughlin "Born Losers." They were joined by actors Marlon Brando, Jack Lemmon, Jean Simmons and Candice Bergen in the announcement of a nonprofit company to produce a film about race, poverty and other social problems.

This is the latest evidence of the outpouring of social consciousness in Hollywood as the result of the assassinations of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

As announced by Wise and Laughlin, the film enterprise would attempt to arouse the public awareness of the problems of Negroes and other poor, an area which the entertainment-oriented film industry has rarely touched.

FILM PLANS

"We think it's time that the screen started dealing with the problems that exist in this country," said Brando.

How will the film makers go about it?

"We're now planning a film to start shooting the first of August," explained Laughlin. "The first part would be the story of Martin Luther King—his beginnings in the civil rights cause, the rebuffs he received along the way from those in power, right down to his assassination.

"Then we'll go to a round-table discussion with such figures as Harry Belafonte, Marlon Brando, Candice Bergen, Jack Lemmon, Dan Blocker, Paul Lynd, Sidney Poitier, Nancy Sinatra, Raquel Welch, etc. talking about matters concerning the Negro. After that, we will take certain persons into the field and let them examine the situation firsthand.

"We might sit Gregory Peck down with a bunch of Black Panthers and let them tell him how they feel about the white community. We might put Candice Bergen with a family in Harlem and let her sit up all night on their 'rat patrol.' In that way, we could give the audience an identity with the problem."

GEARED TO COMPETE

All this sounds like unusual material for film theaters, but both Brando and Laughlin assured that the movie would be geared to compete as movie entertainment. Proceeds from the film project have been earmarked for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, which was headed by King.

Junior Editors Quiz on STERLING SILVER

Question: What does "sterling" on a piece of silver mean?

Answer: Silver is a precious metal treasured and venerated nearly as much as gold. Harder than gold, silver can be hammered and shaped into sets of tableware, which people have always loved, because such pieces combine the lustrous beauty of the silver metal with the high value of the silver itself.

Silver however, while not as soft as gold, is still soft enough to show wear when frequently handled. For this reason, silver is usually mixed with copper to form an alloy. When too much copper is mixed in, the silver piece loses its value.

This happened in England in the 1200s. The only dependable silver coins of the time were produced in Germany and called Easterlings to distinguish them from others.

The English changed the word Easterling to sterling, and sterling came to mean a high grade of silver with very little copper. Sterling silver today is 92.5 per cent silver to 7.5 per cent copper.

To distinguish sterling, the English used a hallmark, often of a rampant lion (A), stamped into the silver piece. America took over the stamping idea, but used and still uses a stamp with the single word, sterling (B).

Stress, Looks Key Factors in Building Bridges, Bras

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Engineering students all over the country presumably are rushing to the drawing boards to prepare their entries for a new design contest sponsored by a brassiere manufacturer.

WEST

The Lovadle Co., feels that in view of the "complex structure" of brassieres, "the application of engineering concepts may well make a significant contribution to improvements in design."

So it is offering prizes up to $500 for the best blueprints.

I don't know too much about engineering, but it seems to me that everything a bra designer might need to know has already been discovered by bridge designers.

LOADINGS, FORCES

Bridge designers work primarily with two engineering principles known as "loadings and forces." These principles, including the so-called "coefficient of rigidity" calculated by an engineer named D. B. Steinman, could easily be applied to brassieres.

There are four basic types of bridges: The "simple girder," the "cantilever," the "arch" and the "suspension." Brassieres also come in these four types.

Everyone who has ever seen the top of a bikini bathing suit knows what a "simple girder" is. The "suspension" bra is equally familiar. The "cantilever" is a strapless bra, and, of course, all bras have two arches.

An article that I read on bridge construction says that one of the main problems is achieving "aerodynamic stability." I imagine that brassieres also need aerodynamic stability.

OPEN STRUCTURE

The article says this can be achieved in bridges "by opening the structure to the wind wherever possible." It has been my observation that bra designers already are doing that to a large degree.

Other ways of achieving aerodynamic stability include "employing latticed stiffening trusses and cross girders . . . employing upper and lower lateral systems in the deck . . . employing diagonal cable stays from the towers . . . anchoring the main cables to the deck at the center of the span."

LBJ Observes Father's Day With Family

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson extended his weekend Texas ranch stay through today and perhaps into Tuesday after spending Father's Day boating and relaxing.

He observed Father's Day with his family, getting special gifts from his daughters. Luci Nugent and Lynda Robb, and going to church twice.

When the weather cooled down a bit late in the day, the President, wearing a green sports outfit and jaunty green beret, took his speedboat for spins on a lake near his ranch.

Afterwards, there was a dinner party at the Haywood Ranch, one of Johnson's lakeside properties.

HOT AND SUNNY

The Texas weather has been hot and sunny, with temperatures in the mid-90s since the President came here Thursday. But the countryside remains unusually lush from bountiful spring rains. Johnson told reporters Sunday "these are the most beautiful ranch conditions I've every seen in my life."

He invited members of the White House press corps up for morning coffee between church services and brought out some ripe, juicy local peaches from nearby Stonewall orchards for them to sample.

The President started out early, turning up first at Mass at St. Francis Xavier Roman Catholic Church at nearby Stonewall with Luci and several staff members.

There, The Rev. Wunibald W. Schneider welcomed "our dear President" and, in a Father's Day sermon, he advised fathers not to allow themselves to be so taken up with breadwinning and outside work that they don't know what's going on at home.

PAUSE TO RELAX

After a pause to relax on the front lawn of the ranch, Johnson gathered up his wife, Lady Bird, and two daughters, to go down head of the Secret Service ranch the Pedernales River road a detail, Clarence Knetsch, is on short way to services at Trinity the board of trustees there. Lutheran Church.

None of the Johnsons is Lutheran, but the President said he likes to go to this nearby church, too. He noted that the one little girl a kiss.

'Suspect Vehement in Dislike for RFK'

NEW YORK (AP) — Sirhan B. Sirhan shouted his dislike of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy shortly before Kennedy was slain, Life magazine says.

In its current issue, the magazine said two witnesses told of Sirhan's activities before the shooting. Sirhan is accused of the slaying.

The magazine named one of the witnesses as Enrique Rabago, 35, an unemployed mechanic. It said the other was a "still unnamed friend."

On the evening before Kennedy was shot, Life said, Sirhan "had just been thrown out of a victory party being held by backers of Max Rafferty who had won the GOP senatorial nomination."

CONTEMPTUOUS TIP

Because he was coatless and without a tie, the story says, an Ambassador Hotel waitress refused to serve Sirhan a drink. "He put up a fuss," Life said, "and contemptuously tipped her $20 'for nothing.' A security guard eased him out."

On the other side of the lobby, the magazine said, Rabago nodded in the direction of the Embassy Room and said, "Robert Kennedy might help the poor."

At that, Sirhan was quoted as shouting, "Kennedy—Kennedy—he should never be president. Kennedy helps himself. He's just using the poor. Can't you see that?"

In another development related to the assassination, police in San Gabriel refused to comment on a gun shop owner's disclosure that he sold ammunition to Sirhan and two companions five days before the killing.

AMMO BOUGHT

Ben Herrick, 42, owner of a store in this Los Angeles suburb, said the three bought four boxes of 22-caliber ammunition for $3.99 on the afternoon of June 1. The death gun was a 22-caliber pistol.

He said two of the boxes contained miniature magnum shells, which he described as the most powerful ammunition available for a 22-caliber weapon.

Cities Act to Ease Tension

DETROIT (AP) — When smoke and flames engulfed Detroit last summer and the city exploded into the nation's headlines, a fallout of violence hit at least seven other communities in the state.

Although none of the outstate disturbances reached major proportions, civic leaders nevertheless took a second look at what could be done to ease racial tensions in their communities.

Some came up with new projects to help the ghetto dweller. Others bolstered already existing programs in jobs, housing and education. Some decided they couldn't do much more than already was in the works.

"No matter what we do," says Mayor Henry Marsh of Saginaw, "it's not enough for some people. Some want to solve our problems, others want to use them for their own purposes."

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

Grand Rapids Mayor Chris Sonneveldt believes his city's programs, "while certainly not perfect," are accomplishing a great deal. He takes particular pride in the fact that opponents of an open housing ordinance passed by the City Commission were unable to get enough signatures to place the issue on the ballot.

Flint City Manager Thomas Kay and Lansing Mayor Max Murninghan both cite stepped-up job training efforts in their communities, plus the adoption of open housing laws since last summer.

Marsh, who is one of three Negro mayors in Michigan (the others are at Flint and Ypsilanti), has worked hard at trying to solve Saginaw's racial problems.

But he is under fire from a black nationalist group called "United Power." The group has made itself heard since last fall through publication of a newspaper called the Saginaw Afro-Herald, which regards the mayor as an "Uncle Tom" lacking in militancy.

SHRUGS OFF ATTACKS

Marsh shrugs off the attacks. "We're indulging in self-delusion if we think that any amount of programs will stop the critics," he said in an interview. "We're doing a lot for normal people. Some others merely want to use our problems, and nothing will stop them."

Saginaw voters endorsed an open housing ordinance by a nearly 2-to-1 margin after the proposal received backing from 21 clubs and organizations, including the Saginaw Labor Council, Catholic and Protestant churches, Downtown Improvement Association and the City Council.

The Greater Saginaw Chamber of Commerce has been active for two years in the field of housing, finding rentals and homes for sale for minority group members.

SECOND PROJECT

Another project in the works is known as LIFE (Loan Improvement Fund Enterprise) to help repair or remodel homes.

Loan requests would be granted on the knowledge of people rather than credit.

A similar program with a similar name — LIFT (Loan Improvement Fund Today) already is operating in Kalamazoo and now owns 30 homes. It reconditioned them to meet local code specifications and rents them to low-income families.

As elsewhere in Michigan, the housing situation is tight in Kalamazoo and there is a waiting list.

LIFT's plans to build a 200-unit, low-rent housing complex on the edge of a predominantly Negro residential section were blocked recently by a complaint that the project would perpetuate and extend segregated housing and school patterns.

LIFT agreed to drop plans to rehabilitate four low-income housing units in the Negro area but will go ahead with eight other units located in various parts of the city.

FOLLOWED BY CITIES

The scattered-site concept has been followed by a number of Michigan cities, including Ann Arbor and Flint. Ann Arbor has plans for 175 units or nine scattered sites, with a maximum of 24 units at any one location.

In Detroit no public housing has been constructed since 1957, and the New Detroit Committee says that the housing situation poses one of the most urgent and pressing problems of the urban crisis.

The New Detroit Committee, headed by department store magnate Joseph L. Hudson Jr., has become the target of critics who say that it has failed to take much action.

"Our progress has been painfully slow," Hudson acknowledged recently, "and no one is more concerned about this slowness than me."

PROGRESS REPORT

After nearly nine months of existence, the committee issued a progress report both optimistic and gloomy.

While claiming a lengthy list of accomplishments, the committee conceded that, measured againsst Detroit's overall needs, the achievements have been woefully inadequate.

One disappointment was the failure of the Legislature to act during its special session last year on a request for emergency aid for ghetto schools.

As submitted by Gov. George Romney, the proposal called for a $5-million appropriation to be shared by all school systems in the state.

SOME SUCCESS

But the governor met with some success the second time around. His request for $9 million for so-called disadvantaged children in the current legislative session wound up in a new law providing increased recognition of the needs of Michigan's poorer and inner city school districts.

Dubbed the "Middle Cities Project," it provides that districts with a high state equalized valuation will get a 2 per cent increase in basic grants while districts at the other end of the scale get 14 per cent.

Some observers were skeptical, however, noting that the Legislature was shifting $6.3 million from grants to the underprivileged into the Middle Cities project. The new emphasis will be on classroom instruction support as opposed to extraeducational activities.

When the 39-member New Detroit Committee was created it was a relatively new concept.

NOT ALONE

Today, the committee is not alone. Similar urban coalitions have sprung up across the state and nation.

In Benton Harbor, 24 industrialists and business leaders got together to form the Area Resources Improvement Council (ARIC), hired a former city attorney as executive director and went to work to try to line up some 300 jobs for the hard-core unemployed and summer employment for another 200 ghetto youngsters.

ARIC also works closely with other groups to develop training school programs, recreational and other projects.

In Grand Rapids, the local Chamber of Commerce set up a similar committee and launched "Project 1003," a crash program aimed at providing 1,000 jobs for the hard-core "unemployables" in three months. It finally came up with 1,053, although the deadline had to be extended a few weeks.

SIMILAR PROJECTS

Similar projects for hiring the hard-core jobless were started or accelerated in Pontiac, Flint, Muskegon and Detroit.

Some 12,000 residents of Detroit's predominantly Negro inner city were hired in the first six months after new recruiting policies were adopted. Under the new policies, employers dropped longtime screening practices which automatically rejected applicants for minor police records or illiteracy.

While many Michigan communities are striving to eliminate what most experts believe are the basic causes of riots, they also are preparing for the possibility of more violence.

Some police authorities are concerned about drastic increases in the purchasing of guns by civilians, the formation of vigilante groups and the spread of rumors which suggest invasions and kidnapings and burnings.

GO ALL-OUT

With tensions building up as summer approaches, authorities have gone all-out in attempts to get the public to "cool it."

One such step has been the creation of so-called rumor-control centers, where citizens can call to check on the validity of second-hand information.

In Flint, where racial tensions have been bubbling in some schools, wild rumors have aggravated the situation.

Dr. William Early, general superintendent of community education, said at a recent meeting of the Flint Board of Education that most racial incidents among students had been blown out of proportion in the rumor mill. Many alleged incidents did not happen at all, he said.

KLAN ACTIVITY

Flint, with more than 20 per cent of its population Negro, was the scene of Ku Klux Klan activity last October. On a Saturday afternoon, downtown shoppers were startled to see more than a score of brightly robed Klansmen parading down the sidewalk.

City officials tend to shrug off the KKK as more of a nuisance than a threat.

Klan members nevertheless are known to be active in Flint's auto plants, occasionally taking up collections for the legal defense of KKK officials on trial in the South.

LEE SHOWS HIS GLEE — A birdie can make a man dance, particularly when he posts successive ones while battling for the lead in the final round of the U.S. Open championship. Lee Trevino does a fancy step Sunday after dropping in his third stroke on the par-four 12th hole at Oak Hill Country Club. He went on to record a 69 and capture the coveted title by four strokes.

U.S. Open Title First Win

Trevino Impressive Champ

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — He's a joker, a quipster, a wise-cracking comedian, but there could be the stamp of golfing greatness on laughing Lee Trevino.

He came up the hard way, from caddie and boot black. He's victory-hungry and tough-minded as the marine he once was.

And, at 28 the brand new U.S. Open golf champion is going to be around a long time.

He proved in a single year he could play with the world's best professionals. And now he's shown that he can beat the best — and beat them in record-shattering fashion.

FIRST VICTORY

Sunday's triumph was his first professional tournament victory. But you can bet the rent money it won't be his last.

"I'm going to keep on playing as well as I can, and as long as I can," he said.

"Sure, I'm going to play some bad rounds. I've played bad rounds before. But I'll keep playing. I'll be playing this game when I'm 100 years old."

His 275 winning total matched the lowest score ever shot in the open, set last year by Jack Nicklaus. And his four sub-par rounds on the 6,962-yard Oak Hills Country Club course set a record in this most prestigious and demanding of all the world's golf tournaments.

He had rounds of 69, 68, 69, 69-four consecutive under par, and never matched by all the greats who have played the Open. No one before had ever done it.

But still Trevino wasn't satisfied.

"I came up 18 looking for a birdie," he said. "I wanted all the records. A birdie would have broken Nicklaus' scoring mark.

He didn't get it. In fact, he had to scramble to salvage par.

"Let go for a birdie here," his caddy, Kevin Quinn, told him. "Let it all out."

MATCHES RECORDS — Steve Spray of Cedar Rapids, Ia., had several reasons for this smile after completing the final round of the U.S. Open in Rochester, N.Y., yesterday. He carded a 65 and tied a couple of Open records in the process. His 30 on the back side equalled the nine-hole mark and his 65 tied the 18-hole record for the final round, enabling him to share fifth place with 284.

"He did, but hooked his tee shot into the left rough.

"It was a bad lie," Trevino said. "Usually, I'd use a wedge back to the fairway. But I didn't want to be remembered as the Open champion who wedged in. So I took a six-iron and tried to reach the green."

But he only moved it further down the rough.

"Then I got the wedge, went for the green and got it about four feet from the pin. And I made the putt."

ONE BEHIND

He started the day one stroke back of Bert Yancey, his playing partner, and both had bogeys on the first hole. But Yancey faded back with putting troubles, and then Nicklaus challenged, moving within three strokes.

That threat was repulsed when Trevino rolled in 35 and 20-foot birdie putts on the 11th and 12th holes.

"Man, I just wanted to get so far out in front I could bogey in," Trevino said.

Nicklaus finished with a 67 for 279 and second place. Yancey the leader at the end of play each of the first three days, fell back to a 76 for a 281 and third.

Bobby Nichols was fourth with a 69 for 282, followed by Don Bies and Steve Spray, at 284. Spray closed with a 65, matching the best closing round ever shot in the Open, and tying the record for nine holes, 30 coming home.

Arnold Palmer closed with a 75 for 301 and 56-year-old Sam Snead had a two-under-par 68 for 286.

Trevino made his debut on the pro tour in the 1967 Open, finishing fifth. The $6,000 he won there — he was a $30 a week assistant pro before that — launched him on the tour.

He's won about $120,000 since then and now owns one-third of the club where he once worked, Horizon Hills in El Paso, Tex.

And what about the $30,000 first-prize money from the Open, the Mexican-American was asked.

"I'm gonna buy the Alamo and give it back to Mexico," he quipped.

Spray's 30, 65 Match Records for Open Totals

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Steve Spray, a 27-year-old touring pro, shot a final round 65, five-under-par, Sunday and tied two United States Open golf championship records.

His back nine of 30 matched the record for the lowest ninehole score, held by Ken Venturi, Arnold Palmer and James McHale Jr.

And his score tied the record for the lowest closing round, held by Walter Burkemo, Palmer and Jack Nicklaus.

Spray's sensational round included eight birdies, and three bogeys. Two of his birds came on putts of 35 feet, and he had five others of 10 to 18 feet. He had 11 one-putt greens and only 25 putts for the round.

He finished the tourney with a 284 total after previous rounds of 73, 75 and 71.

Three Net Titles Won by Van Lingen

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Peter Van Lingen of South Africa won three titles of the 83rd annual Southern Tennis Championships at Highland Racquet Club here Sunday.

Van Lingen trounced Zan Guerry of Lookout Mountain, teamed with Joaquin Loyo-Mayo of Mexico City to capture the men's doubles crown and then teamed with Linda Tuero of New Oreans for a victory in the mixed doubles competition.

Van Lingen and Loyo-Mayo beat Rudy Hernando of Detroit and Mark Conti, 9-7, 6-3, for the men's doubles crown.

Fight Site Moved

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Welterweight boxing champion Curtis Cokes will fight South Africa's Willie Ludick in Lourenco Marques, Mozambique, June 29 and not in Salisbury, Rhodesia, as originally planned.

Promoters explained the switch of the non-title 10-round bout from Rhodesia to Portuguese Mozambique by saying they were "offered a far better deal in Lourenco Marques."

Cokes toyed with black welterweight Joe Ngida Saturday and won on a technical knockout when Ngida did not answer the bell for the fifth round.

Tigers Split, Earn Stanky's Ire

Infield Singles Feature Rally in Bengal Win

CHICAGO (AP) — This may be the year of the horse according to the Chinese calendar, but as far as the American League baseball scene is concerned it's the year of the Tiger.

Detroit Manager Mayo Smith agrees with a "let's hope so", and Chicago White Sox Manager Eddie Stanky says "it better be the year of the Tigers or they'll be the disgrace of the league."

* * * *

According to Stanky, the Tigers, off and running, "better win it big or they won't win at all."

Still burning from a sloppy five-run uprising by the Tigers, which gave Detroit a 6-1 victory and a split of a doubleheader Sunday after the Sox had taken the opener 3-2 on a tie-breaking homer by Tommy Davis, Stanky kept sticking barbs into the Tigers.

RUNNING SCARED

"I said last year they should have won by 10 games," said Stanky. "If they don't do it big they won't do it. Why do I think so? I'll tell you when they win it or lose it. They know why."

Prodded a little more, Stankey said: "They're running scared and it's only June. Guys like Willie Horton, Bill Freehan and Norm Cash bunting for base hits? If that isn't an indication of what I mean then I can't tell you any more."

Losing 1-0 and held to one hit in seven innings by Cisco Carlos, the Tigers were facing their first doubleheader loss of the season.

Then Tom Matchick singled, Don Wert was hit by a pitch and Carlos messed up a double play ball hit by Wayne Comer to load the bases.

WINNING RUN

Pinch batter Willie Horton checked his swing on a Hoyt Wilhelm offering and the ball dribbled to the left of the mound. Wilhelm slipped, nobody covered first, Horton reached it, and the game was tied. A walk to Dick McAuliffe forced in the winning run.

Jim Northrup's ground ball shot past first for a two-run double and Cash dribbled a run-scoring single past the mound.

"Funny thing," said Smith, "even if we had lost two, we weren't in trouble. Cleveland had lost and Baltimore had lost the first game of a doubleheader.

"The year of the Tiger?" asked Smith. "Why not, let 'er rip. I'm all for it."

Smith praised Dennis McLain, who

Yankees' Superman Plays Rescue Role

By the Associated Press

Horace Clarke staggered Rick Clark to get the New York Yanks off the ropes, but it took a super stroke by Clark Kent to get them off the hook.

California's Clark had the Yankees down 1-0 Sunday until Clarke ripped a two-run eighth inning homer and Mickey Mantle unloaded another two-run blast off reliever Clyde Wright.

The Angels, however, rallied for two runs in the ninth before Andy Kosco, the bespectacled outfielder who is fast becoming New York's answer to the Superman cartoon legend, flashed to the rescue despite a false start and saved the Yankees' 4-3 victory.

With two out, one run in and two Angels on the bases, Kosco lost Bobby Knoop's fly to right in the sun. It fell for a double, scoring Rick Reichardt and sending Bubba Morton racing toward home from first base with the tying run.

EASY OUT

But Kosco, whose broad shoulders, good looks and clutch hitting have earned him the "Clark Kent" tag around the New York clubhouse, fired a strike to the plate, easily nailing Morton for the final out.

The Yankees' third straight victory left them in seventh place in the American League — one game behind Oakland's surprising Athletics, who swept a doubleheader from second place Baltimore 4-2 and 6-4. The Orioles slipped 7½ games behind Detroit's league leaders.

At California, Reichardt's fifth inning homer gave Clark a one-run edge and the 22-year-old right-hander, winless in six previous decisions, shackled the Yanks on two hits until the eighth.

Then, Bobby Cox beat out an infield single and Clarke, who had managed one extra base hit . . . a double . . . all season, homered over the right field fence. Clark walked Roy White and was replaced by Wright. Mantle then sent a drive over the left field fence for his ninth homer this year and the 52nd of his career.

PINCH BLAST

Boston downed Cleveland 5-3 and Minnesota defeated Washington 4-2 in other single games.

Wahoo Crawford, Ex-Tiger Great, Dies on W. Coast

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Sam (Wahoo) Crawford, one of baseball's all-time greats, is dead.

The end came Saturday evening at Hollywood Community Hospital after a lenghty illness. He was 88.

Crawford, who compiled a lifetime batting average of .309 in his 19 years in the majors, was the only player to lead both leagues in home runs.

He hit 16 for Cincinnati of the National League in 1901 and seven with Detroit of the American League in 1908 before the so-called "lively ball" was in use.

Crawford's 312 lifetime triples are still the major-league record and, though he was proud of the record, he maintained that about half of those triples would have been homers against the ball in use today.

Crawford played in 2,114 games for the Tigers, ranking him behind only Ty Cobb and Charlie Gehringer on the all-time club list.

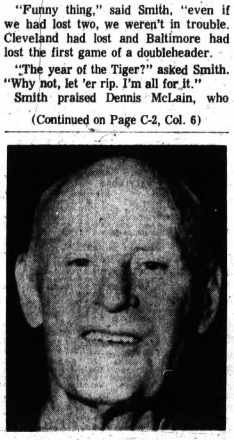
Crawford's 2,964 lifetime hits rank him ninth on the all-time list.

He received his nickname from his hometown of Wahoo, Neb., and was officially inducted into the Hall of Fame on July 22, 1957, with Joe McCarthy, long-time manager of the New York Yank



'WAHOO' CRAWFORD

2 Share Lead in City Baseball

The Clippers and M. G. Collision continued tied for the city men's baseball league lead Sunday at Jaycee Park but the Clippers can take over the top spot in tonight's only game.

Defending champion M.G. survived a scare on Willie Holloman's bases-loaded single in the last of the seventh for a 3-2 win over Pass Excavating.

The Clippers coasted past Talbott Lumber, 7-1, to match the Collision crew's 4-0 mark, and play winless Uncle Charlie's Pet Shop tonight.

In yesterday's other lopsided tilts, Local-594 stayed one game off the pace by winning its third in a row, 8-0, over Local-653; and Teamsters-614 blanked Uncle Charlie's, 9-0.

UNEARNED RUNS

Pass handed M.G. two gift runs in the opening frame, then used the long ball to tie the game. Dick Roy cracked a solo homer in the second, and Dennis Walters tripled in Rick Toles with the tying marker in the sixth.

But in the seventh, Leo Plencia led off with the triple for M.G. He was forced at the plate (following a hit batter and a walk), before Holloman's single ended the duel of four-hitters between Dave Renshaw and Jack McCloud.

Harry Bartkowiak had a double, single and scored twice for the Clippers, and six teammates drove in runs in a balanced attack.

Dave Fagerlie drilled three singles, scored twice and drove in the first two runs in Local-594's easy victory behind Dale Manning's three-hit, 13-strikeout pitching.

Surprising Oakland A's Saddle Orioles With 2 Losses

Trojan Team Keeps NCAA Track Crown

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Gerry Lindgren figures he was the beneficiary of a miracle, but his Washington State teammates weren't so lucky.

Lindgren completed the third double of his college career when he won the 5,000-meter run at the National Collegiate Athletic Association track and field championships Saturday. But favored Southern California repeated as team champions by one point over the Cougars.

The Trojans scored 58 points to Washington State's 57 as the Cougars won four individual titles to Southern Cal's three.

The winning margin came on the basis of Tim Barrett's third-place finish in the triple jump. Barrett tied with Eric Klein of Washington at 51-0, but had a better second jump and was awarded third.

TWO POINTS

The difference between third and fourth was two points.

Lindgren, who won the 10,000 meters in 29:41.0. Thursday, said he was hurt and tired during the 5,000 and when three contestants got past him late in the race, he figured it was all over.

"I was dead back there," he said. "I could hardly move."

But move he did, shooting past Kerry Pearce of Texas-El Paso, Arne Kvalheim of Oregon and Dave Stagebert of Georgetown on the final backstretch to win in 13:57.2, a meet record..

"I don't know where I got it" Lindgren said. "It was a miracle."

Washington State's other winners were John Van Reenan with a 194-foot, 10-inch discus throw, and Carl O'Donnell with a 258-11 javelin toss.

HURDLES WIN

Southern Cal's winners were its 440-yard relay team of Earl McCullouch, Fred Kuller, O.J. Simpson and Lennox Miller with a 39.5 clocking and, on Friday, McCullouch in the 110-meter high hurdles at 13. and Miller in the 100-meter dash at 10.1.

Other winners Saturday included surprising Jon Vaugh of UCLA with a pole vault of 17-0 ¼, beating out Southern Cal's Bob Seagren; Dick Fosbury of Oregon State, with a 7.2¼ high jump in his inimitable upside down fashion and Lennox Burgher of Nebraska with a 53-1¼ triple jump.

Also, Dave Patrick of Villanova won the 1,500 meters in 3:39.9, dashing past Oregon's Dave Wilborn on the final backstretch; Dave Hemery of England won the 400-meter intermediate hurdles in 49.8; Lee Evans of San Jose took the 400-meters in 45.0; Byron Dyce of New York University took the 800-meters in 1:47.3; Emmett Taylor of Ohio University took a close 200 meters in 20.8. And Villanova won the mile relay in 3.:08.6.

Other winners the first two days of the meet were Bob Narcessian of Rhode Island with a 202-1 hammer throw, Pertti Pousi of Brigham Young with a 26-3½ long jump, Pearce in the 3,000 meter steeplechase at 8:50-8 and Steve Marcus of UCLA with a 61-7¾ shot put.

USC WINS—Pat Kuehner of Southern Cal is carried off the field by his teammates after he hit a dramatic two-run pinch triple with two outs in the last of the ninth inning to give USC its fifth NCAA College World Series baseball championship, 4-3, over Southern Illinois Saturday night in Omaha.

Trojans Take NCAA Title With 4-3 Win

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Southern California's NCAA baseball champions may or may not rate with the top teams in College World Series history, but Coach Rod Dedeaux says "no USC team had a greater sense of pride."

"It's true we don't have as many outstanding players as past USC championship teams," said the 53-year-old head man. "But I've never had a team that kept coming from behind like this one."

"We were behind in four out of five games here and won them all," he said. "Each time a different guy did it."

Pat Kuehner did it Saturday night, smashing a two-run, 375-foot triple off the fence in right center, with two out and two strikes on him. It gave USC a 4-3 victory over Southern Illinois and its fifth NCAA baseball title.

Kuehner's jubilant teammates carried him off the field. He had gone hitless in 14 previous times at bat in the series, but this isn't a measure of his ability. He was the club's third best rbi man during the season and drafted by the Washington Senators.

Bill Seinsoth, 210-pound first baseman for USC who stroked a two-run homer in the fourth and hit .389 in the series, was voted most outstanding player of the tourney by newsmen.

The Trojans finished with a 50-14 record, winning 30 of their last 34 games.

Lady Bowler Stars in Debut on Pro Circuit

ST. PAUL (AP) — Pat Costello of Morago, Calif., appearing in her first Professional Woman Bowlers Association Tournament, captured the $1,300 first prize in the St. Paul Open Sunday night.

Prior to that title match Miss Costello edged Phyllis Massey of Alameda, Calif., 170-169.

Bev Ortner of Galva, Iowa, wound up fourth and Patty McBride of Grand Rapids, Mich., finished fifth.

Mrs. Sjostrom who led the qualifying after 21 games won $850 while Mrs. Massey earned $715, Miss Ortner $615 and Miss McBride $540.

Miss Ortner rolled games of 226, 255, 245, 279 and 189 — breaking the old record of 1171 set by Robbie Frey of Torrance, Calif., in 1966 at El Cerrito, Calif.

Gary Bettenhausen in Sprint Auto Win

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Gary Bettenhausen slipped by Scratch Daniels on the 37th lap and won the U.S. Auto Club 50-lap feature race for sprint cars at the Vigo Country Fairgrounds Sunday.

Bettenhausen won $2,070 and Daniels, who was second, got $1,438.

Rollie Beale took third, Sam Sessions was fourth and Carl Williams was fifth. A. J. Foyt, running third went out with engine trouble on the 48th lap and was 10th.

Miss Bardahl Captures Cup in Hydro Test

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A blown engine and two penalty laps made it easy as Miss Bardahl, driven by Billy Schumacher of Seattle, Wash., to run away with the first Wisconsin Cup race for unlimited hydroplanes Sunday.

Schumacher and Bill Munsey, who piloted the fastest qualifier, Miss U.S., to a pair of preliminary heat victories, were paired in the final race, but Munsey blew his engine on the second 2.5 mile lap.

Schumacher also won his first two heats.

Two other boats, Notre Dame and My Gypsy, jumped the gun on the final heat and had to run an extra lap. That made it a two-boat race, with Bardahl pitted against Savair's Probe. Bardahl was ahead all the way.

Savair's Probe also was second in the final standings with 900 points. Bardahl finished with 1,200. Third went to My Gypsy, 860 and fourth was Notre Dame, 850.

Schumacher's victory was his first this season. He wound up fourth in the opening unlimited race two weeks ago at Guntersville, Ala. He won six of eight races last year.

Donnie Allison Captures Carolina 500-Mile Race

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Donnie Allison, only one year out of the rookie class, won his first Grand National stock car race Sunday, outlasting a 44-car field in the Carolina 500-miler at Rockingham.

The 28-year-old Hueytown, Ala., father of two children, NASCAR's rookie of the year in 1967, finished more than two miles ahead of his older brother Bobby Allison to climax a day of attrition among top drivers unlike anything seen in southern stock car racing in years.

Donnie Allison, driving a factory-sponsored Ford, supervised by former driving great Banjo Mathews, added $15,675 to the $22,350 he already had won this season. The purse was $78,280.

Bobbie Allison, 31, who deserted a factory Ford 10 days ago to campaign in his own independent Chevelle, won $9,650.

OVER 5 HOURS

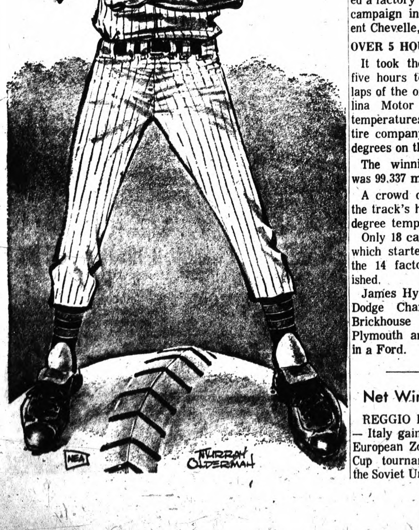
It took the winner just over five hours to negotiate the 500 laps of the one-mile North Carolina Motor Speedway, where temperatures, according to a tire company official, were 14 degrees on the track surface.

The winning average speed was 99.337 miles an hour.

A crowd of 50,000, largest in the track's history, baked in 95-degree temperatures.

Only 18 cars finished of the 44 which started, and only two of the 14 factory-backed car finished.

James Hylton was third in a Dodge Charger, rookie Dick Brickhouse was fourth in a Plymouth and Roy Tyner fifth in a Ford.



Genth Is Leader for First Half in Bahama 500

FREEPORT, Grand Bahama (AP) — Richard Genth of North Miami, Fla., with former heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano as one of two crewmen, led the field in the $92,000 Bahamas 500 powerboat race from the start to the halfway mark at Nassau Sunday.

Genth's 31-foot inboard, Thunderbird V, averaged 53 miles per hour but was trailed by defending champion Odell Lewis of St. Cloud, Fla., and John Bakos of Fond du Lac, Wis., the fastest qualifier, each one minute behind Genth coming into Nassau.

Four of the 37 boats dropped out of the race.

The race began in heavy rain and choppy seas when a flare was fired at Freeport.

The 589-statute mile circuit around the islands of the British colony was expected to take 10-12 hours for the leader, perhaps all night for end men. First prize is $20,000.

Jerry Langer, in seventh position over-all at Nassau, was leading the outboard class in his 27-foot Magnum-Donzi powered by three 115-h.p. Evinrudes.

Net Player Shift to Pros Cramps Style of U.S. Gals

By GEOFFREY MILLER

LONDON (AP) — The Wightman cup is back in Britain—and United States women's tennis is beginning to count the costs of professionalism.

Without two of their most brilliant girls—Mrs. Billie Jean King and Rosie Casals, now pros—the Americans lost the cup to Britain Saturday for the first time in eight years.

The British won four matches to three but U.S. non-playing captain Mrs. Betty Pratt was not dismayed.

"I knew all along it would be a tough job," Mrs. Pratt said. "It was a desperately close series, and it might have gone either way. Most of our girls are young, and they performed with credit.

"It doesn't happen often that you lost two girls like Billie Jean and Rosie at the same time."

Mrs. King and Miss Casals signed professional contracts three months ago.

PEACHES WINS

Three of the girls who faced Britain in the two-day series at Wimbledon were new to Wightman Cup tennis—Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., 19, Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., 21, and Stephanie De Fina of Hollywood, Fla., 22.

Miss Bartkowicz won her match against Winnie Shaw but Miss Harter and Miss De Fina lost the last deciding doubles—a desperately exciting affair—to the Truman sisters, Mrs. Christine Truman Janes and Nell Truman.

CAUGHT AT HOME — Detroit catcher Bill Freehan puts the tag on Duane Josephson of the Chicago White Sox as the Chisox' backstop tries to score on a fly ball to left, off the bat of Pete Ward in the seventh inning of their first game in Chicago yesterday. Tigers' Willie Horton hauled in the ball in medium leftfield and fired to Freehan for the put-out. Chicago went on to win this one, 3-2, but Tigers rebounded for a 6-1 verdict in the nightcap.

Year of Tiger Has Mayo's OK

"He's one helluva pitcher this year," said Smith. "He's got pitches now he didn't have two years ago. He's concentrating and his control is great."

Reliefer Wyatt Joins Tigers' Mound Staff

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers said Saturday that relief pitcher John Wyatt has been acquired from the New York Yankees.

The 33-year-old Wyatt joined the American League at Kansas City in 1961 after playing with 11 minor league clubs.

Wyatt was traded to the Boston Red Sox in June, 1966, and sold to the Yankees this spring.

A Tiger spokesman said Wyatt will join the bullpen staff of Detroit and be used exclusively as a relief pitcher.

Wyatt, who was acquired at an undisclosed amount above the waiver price, will fill the vacancy left on the team roster by Eddie Mathews, who is confined to a hospital with a back ailment.

Packer Star Willie Davis Lands Award

CHICAGO (AP) — Willie Davis, All-Pro linebacker of the Green Bay Packers, was named Sunday winner of the National Football League's top award for contributions to his team, league and community.

Davis, who last week received a master's degree from the University of Chicago, received the Justice Byron Raymond "Whizzer" White Award at the NFL's second annual awards night dinner, a $100-a-plate affair.

The award is named for the UMS. Supreme Court justice who was a former football-American and professional football player. Davis received the award from last year's winner, quarterback Bart Starr of the Packers.

Finalists in the award competition were Davis, Frank Clarke of Dallas, Bobby Mitchell of Washington, Mike Pyle of Washington, Mike Pyle of Chicago and John Unitas of Baltimore.

Jim Lonborg Pitches Five Innings in First '68 Start for Boston

Mike Hershberger's two-run pinch homer in the eighth inning capped a three-run rally that shot Oakland past the Orioles in the opener and Sal Bando drove in three runs with a double and two singles as the A's completed their sweep.

Chuck Dobson, 4-6, stopped Baltimore on five hits, including homers by Fred Valentine and Curt Blefary in the first game. Lew Krausse, 3-7, survived Frank Robinson's three-run homer in the nightcap but needed eighth inning relief help from Catfish Hunter.

Ken Harrelson's three-run homer in the eighth inning powered the Red Sox past Cleveland. Boston's Rico Petrocelli smacked a two-run homer in the seventh.

THREE STRAIGHT

The Twins put together three straight victories for the first time this year in trimming Washington, which has lost five in a row, behind Dave Boswell's four-hit pitching and a 12-hit attack. Cesar Tovar clubbed a two-run homer for the Twins after teammates Tony Oliva and Ted Uhlaender poked run scoring singles.

Penn Takes Oars Crowns

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Pennsylvania's reigning Intercollegiate Rowing Association champions enjoyed a brief holiday Sunday before getting down to serious training for a rematch with unbeaten Harvard at the Olympic Trials at Long Beach Calif., July 11-13.

Penn's unbeaten jayvee and freshman crews also rowed away with smashing victories to make it the first Penn team to win all three races at the IRA—and the first varsity crew to win consecutive titles since Cornell in 1962-63.

The high stroking Penn varsity moved into the lead at the 500-meter mark of the 2,000-meter classic and turned back a determined bid by Washington to finish in front by 1¼ lengths. Princeton was third in the six-boat field, followed by Northeastern, Rutgers and Brown.

Goalby to Rest; Masters Champ Hits 293 at Open

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Masters champion Bob Goalby packed his clubs Sunday and said he would take a rest because "my left arm hurts."

"Besides I've been playing too much, I'm worn out," he said after carding a fourth-round 73 and a 72-hole 293 in the United States Open Golf Championship.

Goalby was paired with Roberto de Vicenzo, who lost a chance for a playoff against Goalby for the Masters title when he signed an erroneous score card. De Vicenzo carded a par 70 and had a total of 290.

It wasn't a head-to-head match, both insisted.

Goalby said he injured his left elbow last Thanksgiving Day while throwing a football to his 14-year-old nephew.

"The doctor told me it was a superficial muscle pull," he said. "It hurts when I practice but it doesn't bother my game."

He said he aggravated the injury with extra-long practice sessions early last week.

Pink Drink Spoils Morning Water

MAXWELL, N.M. (AP) — Early morning risers found pink water coming out of their faucets Sunday.

City employe Jeff Bartlett arrived at work and discovered someone had put several packages of instant sweet drink in a 40,000-gallon storage tank.

The community will operate on its other storage tank until it is determined what can be done with the spoiled water.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Mickey Wright of Dallas has cut down her tournament play, but she is still the one to beat in women's golf.

The 33-year-old Miss Wright captured the $15,000 Speedway Open Sunday—her 80th tournament triumph and her fourth in just six outings with the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour this season. She shot a four-under-par 68 and finished with a 54-hole total of 212.

Carol Mann, the 6-foot-3 New Yorker who also has won four 1968 tournaments and is the LPGA's leading money winner, was forced to withdraw before the final round of the Speedway tourney when back spasms prevented her from turning her neck.

SANDY PROBLEM — Bert Yancey sprays sand and the ball (top) onto the ninth green during the final round of the U.S. Open yesterday in Rochester, N.Y. Yancey, who was in the lead at the start of the final round, took a bogey 5 on this hole and lost the lead to Lee Trevino, who went on to take the title.

Sportsmanship Rules at Open

By MARVIN R. PIK
Associated Press Sports Writer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — There almost was another Masters incident Saturday in the U.S. Open Golf Championship.

Only the close observation — and the good sportsmanship — of Lee Trevino prevented an error that would have resulted in a two-stroke penalty against Bert Yancey and cost him the Open lead.

Yancey might have been trailing by one stroke, instead of leading by one and the golf world would have been buzzing again.

Here's how it happened:

At the 11th green, Yancey marked his ball. Trevino then asked him to move the coin a club head away because the coin was in the line of the young Mexican-American's putt.

After Trevino putted, Yancey placed his ball beside the coin.

The crowd around the green apparently was aware of Yancey's failure to move the coin to its original spot.

Trevino asked Yance, "Did you move the coin?"

"No I didn't," Yance answered, but he then did and putted.

If he had not reset the ball to its original spot and putted, he would have been penalized two strokes. If he had not reported those penalty strokes when he checked and signed his scorecard, he would have been disqualified.

In the Masters in April, Roger de Vicenzo of Argentina signed for a four instead of a three on the 17th hole and a 66 instead of a final round 65.

Under golf rules, he was stuck with the erroneous score.

Instead of tying for the Masters crown, he lost it be a stroke to Bog Goalby.

Netter Laver Pins Loss on Ralston

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — Defending champion Rod Laver swept to a straight-set victory over Dennis Ralston in the semi-finals of the U.S. Pro Tennis Championship Sunday after John Newcombe nipped a comeback bid by Tony Roche in their marathon, rain delayed opening match.

The winners will meet in all-Australian final Monday for the $8,000 first place prize money in the $32,250 tournament on Longwood Cricket Club's grass courts.

Orioles, Nats Deal

Baseball Market Buzzes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The major league trading deadline has come and gone and a number of players have done the same as the American and National Leagues reacted with a flurry of minor activity. The biggest moves before midnight Saturday were a pair of straight player trades in which Baltimore sent pitcher Bruce Howard to Washington for outfielder Fred Valentine, and Cleveland traded Vic Davalillo to California for Jimmy Hall.

In the National, first place St. Louis traded reserve outfielder Dick Simpson and southpaw relief pitcher Hal Gilson to Houston for outfielder Ron Davis.

The New York Yankees parted with two pitchers, selling reliever John Wyatt to the Detroit Tigers and Jim Bouton to Seattle, one of the two 1969 expansion teams. The Yankees also sent catcher Ellie Rodriguez back to Syracuse of the International League.

The moves by New York opened the rosters for the return from military duty of Al Downing, Frank Fernandez and Steve Whitaker.

ANOTHER LOOK

The Orioles wanted Valentine as protection in case they lost Paul Blair to the Army. Blair had been ordered to report for active duty June 26, but the Army took another look at his injured ankle Friday and Baltimore still does not know if he is going.

Valentine, 33, hit .240 in 36 games for Washington with three homers and seven runs batted in.

Howard, 25, a right-hander, was obtained last winter from the Chicago White Sox in a six-player trade that sent Luis Aparicio and Russ Snyder to the Sox. He had a 3.77 earned run average in 31 innings and an 0-2 record for the Orioles.

Hall, 30, who hit a record 33 homers as a rookie in 1963, is hitting .210 with eight RBI and one homer. Davalillo, 26, was batting .239 with 12 RBI.

It was the second trade of outfielders by the Indians during the week as they sent Leon Wagner to the White Sox for Snyder.

Bouton, a 21-game winner in 1963 and a former World Series hero, has been bothered by arm trouble since winning 18 games in 1964. He is 1-1 in 12 games this season. The right-hander has been assigned to Seattle of the Pacific Coast League for the

PBA Star Closes In on Money Record

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Jim Stefanich of Joliet, Ill., won his fifth tournament of the year Saturday night when he captured the Professional Bowlers Association $30,000 Portland Open.

The 26-year-old star picked up $3,000 for his win. This left him only $320 short of the all-time money winning record of $54,720, set by Wayne Zahn in 1966. With 18 more tournaments to go this year, Stefanich was almost a cinch to shattered the mark.i

The winner's final total was 9,222 for 40 games. This included 500 bonus pins he collected for winning ten of his 16 match games in Saturday's action.

Dave Soutar of Detroit finished second with 9,169. Soutar led going into the final game of the tourney, But Stefanich's 225-178 victory shot down his chances.

The PBA tour moves tos-Fresno, Calif., next week for the $32,000 Fresno Open.

Mauch Fired; New Skipper Leaves Farm

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "Rich Allen is a tremendous player. Many managers would like to have him. One of those is Bob Skinner."

So said Skinner of the player whose disregard for off- field rules led to the firing of Gene Mauch and appointment of Skinner as manager of the Phillies.

Almost in the same breath, however, the 36-year-old Skinner said he expected his players to abide by his rules, big and small. "I expect every man to be prompt to do his job," he said at a news conference at Connie Mack Stadium Sunday.

The 42-year-old Mauch was fired Saturday and Skinner, manager of the club's San Diego farm team, named as successor. Skinner arrived Sunday and directed the Phils in their game against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

SPECIFIC RULES

Skinner said that while he had specific rules for his players, "all problems are not that cut and dry. I am very understanding and usually can work things out with my players. I don't anticipate any problems."

Asked if he planned to talk with Allen, the new skipper said, "I have plans to talk with all the players individually. Allen will be one."

Skinner, who spent 12 years as a player in the National League before becoming manager at San Diego last year, noted that he felt a manager "had to be respected, then liked."

"Do I Have To Have Two Strikes Against Me Just For Being Born?"

Pontiac's Negro citizens have their eyes on how the people of our city respond to the crucial issue in next Monday's election.

The issue: taking the clamps off housing so people can have as decent a place to live as they can afford, so kids who come into the world don't have two strikes against them right from the word "go."

Your answer holds the key to the future of our city.

Is it more blight for Pontiac, more slums as Negroes are confined to only the left-over, run-down housing? Is this what you would want for YOUR kids?

Is it a city without hope, a city with more businesses moving out of our once-thriving downtown area, more stores standing empty, more jobs disappearing? Is this what you want for YOUR kids?

Or is it a strong, positive vote that says "yes" on housing—and by doing so, also says "yes" to Pontiac progress, "yes" to Pontiac properity, "yes" to more opportunities and more jobs? Isn't THIS what you want for YOUR kids?

Progress in Pontiac means more opportunity, fair play and less of a tax burden for all citizens, young and old. Continued decay means a growing downtown wasteland, fewer jobs and a bigger tax burden for all of us.

Progress or decay in Pontiac? The key to that is housing.

The answer is up to you.

Vote "FOR" Fair Housing Monday, June 24

U.S. Gal Golfers Keep Cup

NEWCASTLE, England (AP) — The golfing girls of the United States left Sunday for France with the Curtis Cup still in their possession.

The girls play a European team at St. Cloudy Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Robert Monsted, the non-playing captain from New Orleans, La., said: "I'm delighted at the way the girls played against the British Isles. "They were slightly depressed after trailing the first day—but I think that made them play all that much better yesterday."

ROYAL LINKS

The United States defeated the British Isles by 10½ to 7½ over the sunbaked Royal County Down links which stretch 6,535 yards and cards a par of 38-38—76.

The seven American girls will return to England Friday after playing the European team to prepare for an assault on the British Women's Amateur championship. That takes place at Walton Heath, about 25 miles south of London, June 25-29. Phyllis Preuss, of Pampano Beach, Fla., had the best record on the United States Curtis Cup, winning her three matches.

Others on the team are Roberta Albers, of Temple Terrade, Fla., winner of both her singles matches; Jean Ashley, a schoolteacher from Chanute, Kan.; Peggy Conley, a 21-year-old from Spokane, Wash.; Mary Lou Dill, reigining U.S. Women's Amateur champion from Deer Park, Tex.; Shelley Hamlin, from Fresno, Calif.; Miss Preuss and Mrs. Ann Welts, three-time winner in the U.S. Women's Amateur and five times member of the U.S. Curtis Cup team, from Mt. Vernon, Wash.

HOCKENHEIM, Germany (AP) — Austria's Jochen Rindt drove his Brabham to victory in the German Motor Sports Association's formula two race Sunday.

In an exciting scramble for the lead over 126.5 miles, Rindt just managed to hold off Britain's Jackie Oliver, whose Lotus screamed past the finish line just 1.2 seconds behind the Brabham.

Rindt's time was 1 hour, 1 minute, 41 seconds for an average speed of 127.7 miles per hour.

Streaking Southfield Hikes Record to 6-0

Southfield's steaking nine upped its winning streak to six straight Sunday while a new face emerged as a possible contender for the District 18 honors in the American Legion baseball program.

Southfield whipped Milford twice, 2-1 and 7-4, with the first game lasting 13 innings. The twin victory left it unbeaten and still one game ahead of Waterford, who dropped Clarkston two times, 16-1 and 8-2.

Also winning a twinbill with surprisingly tough pitching was Troy, topping Farmington, 6-0 and 1-0, to take over third place.

Walled Lake and Berkley slipped into a fourth place deadlock by splitting. Chuck O'Brien's 14 strikeouts featured a 4-1 Walled Lake Trimuph, and Berkley prevailed, 8-2, as Dan McDivitt homered and singled for three runs.

17 STRIKEOUTS

Troy coasted behind David Wakefield's four-hitter and two hits for four RBIs. Then Jim Burton outdueled Tom Dropalski, striking out 17 Farmington batters and allowing one hit.

Burton also had two put outs and two assists to figure in all 21 of the outs for Troy. Terry Morgan's single in the sixth plated the game's only run.

Greg Main of Southfield and Milford's Rich Sharpe also had a brilliant duel. Both went the maxiumum 11 innings with Main whiffing 21 during his stint. Reliefer Rick Ellison doubled and scored the winning run on a Milford error in the 13th.

Gary Betrus was the winner and Dave Fournier had two hits and a pair of RBIs in the nightcap conquest by Southfield.

12 HITS

Steve Goit, Mike Murphy and Jim Bruns cracked four hits each to hand Dennis Wooster and Mike Harkey the victories for Waterford. The two held Clarkston to six hits in the twin bill.

Goit's slugging raised his legion baseball average to .625 after six games.

Tom Johnson's two hits and two rbi's backed O'Brien's hurling in Walled Lake win; while McDivitt's batting handed Scotty Destenboe (10 strikeouts) the second game win for Berkley.

Waterford Shines in Jaycee Track Test

Waterford athletes set a winning pace Saturday as they grabbed seven of nine qualifying spots in the state Jaycee Junior Champ Track Meet slated for July at Saline.

Bill Penoza of Waterford Kettering and Bob Woodroof of Rochester captured individual honors in the senior division competition.

The meet drew contestants — both boys and girls — in ages 9 through 18.

Woodroof picked up three firsts. He took the 100-yard dash in 10 seconds flat, the 220-yard dash in 22.3 seconds and anchored the winning 440-yard relay team. Penoza took the 180-yard low hurdles in 19.9 seconds and the 120-yard high sticks in 14.1 seconds.

OTHER QUALIFIERS

Other Waterford athletes qualifying for the trip to Saline were Harry Perry (220), Dave Galloway (mile), Tim Martin (pole vault), Dana Hilthon (long jump), Jim Gould (hop-step-jump) and Gary Miller (high jump). Also making the trip will be Mike Imirie (880) of Bloomfield Hills Andover.

Several other qualifying berths in the state meet will be filled by athletes in the intermediate division (age 15-16).

Waterford Jaycee officials said the intermediate qualifiers would be selected early this week and contacted.

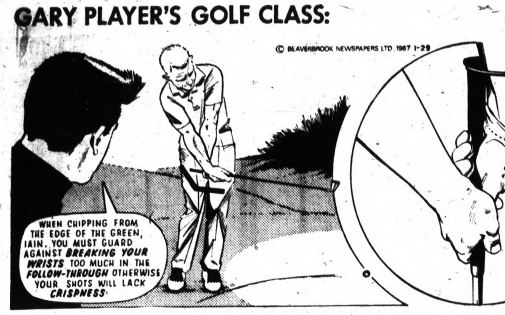
GARY PLAYER'S GOLF CLASS:



A one-piece chipping action

Beanball Brings Revenge With Bat

By United Press International

It was Joe Torre who was beaned, but it is pitcher Church artenstein who is paying the price.

price.

And what a price:

The muscular catcher-first baseman of the Atlanta Braves has faced the slim Chicago Cub pitcher three times since the April 18 incident — and is batting 1.000 with two singles and a double.

Torre, who says he is no longer bothered by the injuries which sidelined him for a month, doubled home Hank Aaron Sunday from first base to give the Braves a 1-0 11-inning victory over the Cubs.

"The situation was the same as on April 18," noted Torre. "Aaron was on first base and running with the pitch."

CONCENTRATES ON GAME

"I was conscious of the beaning the first time I batted against Hartenstein," admitted Torre, referring to a game in Chicago on June 7. "But this time I was thinking of getting a hit so we could win the game."

The St. Louis Cardinals beat the Cincinnati Reds 4-2, the San Francisco Giants defeated the New York Mets 4-1 and then lost 3-1, the Pittsburgh Pirates swept the Houston Astros 3-1 and 11-2 and the Los Angeles Dodgers topped the Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 in other National League games.

Catcher Johnny Edwards' two-run single with two out in the fifth inning capped a threerun Cardinal rally which gave Ray Washburn his fourth victory of the season.

Edwards' single came after singles by Dal Maxvil and Lou Brock, sandwiched around a walk to Washburn and produced the Cardinals' first run off George Culver.

Homers by Willie Mays and Jack Hiatt supported Ray Sadecki's five-hit pitching as the Giants won their opener. The Mets won the nightcap, however, when Cleon Jones doubled in one run and scored another in the first inning and Danny Frisella and Al Jackson combined in a seven-hitter.

Jose Pagan doubled in one run and scored two others as Steve Blass won his third game with ninth-inning relief help from Luke Walker and Elroy Face. The Pirates completed the sweep with a 16-hit attack which included three hits each by Manny Jiminez and Fred Reliever Jim Brewer struck out Richie Allen with the bases filled to end a seventh-inning threat and spoil Bob Skinner's debut as the Phillies' manager.

Town & Country Inn and Local-594 continued their hot battle for first place in fastpitch, while the slowpitch loops ended their first halves yesterday in city men's softball makeup games.

Town & Country downed Milbur Industries, 6-1, behind Roger Reynolds' strong pitching, while Local-594 stayed a half game behind the leaders by trimming Timberlanes Lounge, 6-3.

Wagon Wheel Tavern backed into the Slowpitch National title by gaining a 7-0 forfeit decision over Local-594's entry, and Oxford Mattress earned a share of third place in the American circuit by thumping Eagles-1230, 6-1.

THREE HITS

Reynolds limited Milbur to three hits while whiffing seven. T&C tallied three runs in both the second and third innings, Ron Olszak cracking run-scoring singles in both outbursts. Dick Greenlee belted a triple and two-run double for the winners.

Timberlanes could manage only three hits off the combined servings of Walt Travis and Algie Black of Local-594.

Cy Green, Hank Thomas and Earl McKee — the four, five and six batters — rapped two hits each to spark the unionmen's attack.

Oxford Mattress held the Eagles scoreless until the last of the seventh. Greg Mutrynowski's lead-off homer in the top of the final inning featured a three-run uprising that clinched the decision. John Glynn had two key singles.

Opening lead—♠J

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

Jim: "You have told me many times that when you first played in expert competition, the late P. Hal Sims was the best player of all. What was his strongest point?

JACOBY

Oswald: "He knew more about the play of the cards than anyone. In those days every expert knew a good deal about squeezes and end plays but, as far as I know, Hal was the only one who knew much about safety plays. Of course, they all knew the very common ones. It was the unusual ones that no one but Hal knew."

Jim: "I see you are showing a hand that is cold for seven no-trump the way the cards lie but will only produce six no-trump if South makes a safety play in clubs. Was Mr. Sims the declarer?"

Oswald: "No, I was. The game was rubber bridge and I had committed some form of lese majesty when I opened two no-trump. Hal did not like his partners to bid no-trump, but that didn't stop him from taking me right to six. I wasted no time with the hand. At trick two I led a club to dummy's jack.

"Then I cashed the ace of clubs and when both opponents followed there were 13 top tricks. Hal remarked, 'You came out all right, but you played the hand like a millionaire and risked your contract. If East had won the first club with a singleton queen, you would have gone down'."

Jim: "I remember your teaching me this play right after you got back from the Korean war. The sure-thing play against all combinations except five in one hand is to play dummy's ace of clubs, return to your own hand and lead toward the jack. If clubs broke 3-2 you were never in jeopardy. If either opponent held four you would take care of his case."

Oswald: "You were almost 20 when I taught you. In line with modern education I assume that you will teach Jim Q (James Oswald Jr.) before he is 10."

Valedictorian Hits Viet War

HANOVER, N.H. (AP) — The valedictorian of Dartmouth College caused an uproar at graduation ceremonies Sunday when he called the Vietnam war a "colossal stupidity" and urged his fellow graduates to refuse to serve in Vietnam "when the call comes to you."

Loud applause, jeers and shouts of "Get out of here" greeted the address by James W. Newton, a magna cum laude graduate in psychology from Glendale, Ariz.

About 6,000 students, parents and alumni were present.

"Thank God we are losing the Vietnam war," said Newton, who has a neatly clipped red beard. He suggested that students opposed to the war could go to a "country to the north which has greater freedom than our own," referring to Canada which has no draft.

Some of the 741 graduates wore white armbands in protest against the war.

Wants 4th Term

ALLEGAN (AP) — Allegan County Sheriff Robert Whitcomb has announced that he will seek reelection to a fourth two-year term. In making his announcement, Whitcomb said he had no desire to turn the office over to an inexperienced man in times he considered "crucial for all law enforcement agencies."

Congress has spent $51 billion on farm subsidies since 1933.

'RFK Principles' on N.Y. Primary Ballot

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The last of the year's major presidential primaries will be held Tuesday in the home state of Robert F. Kennedy, whose delegates now are running as "supporters of the principles" of the slain senator.

The primary will fill 123 of the state's 190 national convention delegate slots.

There is a Kennedy slate in 31 of the state's 41 congressional districts. Supporters of Minnesota Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy have slates in 37 and supporters of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey are in 25 districts.

Before the assassination, Kennedy's backers had hoped to use the home-ground race to give him a large boost in the delegate count.

But now, according to state Democratic Chairman John J. Burns, they are running simply in support of his principles. Many of the candidates have said they will work to put into the Democratic platform Kennedy's views on major issues.

On the Republican side, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is being challenged by supporters of Richard M. Nixon for only 11 of 82 delegate seats at stake in the primary.

Another 65 Democratic delegates and 10 more Republican delegates will be picked by their respective state committees after the primary.

For the first time in this century, rank-and-file Democrats will choose a candidate for the U.S. Senate.

3-WAY RACE

A three-way race to oppose Republican Jacob K. Javits, who seeks a third term, resulted from a new direct-primary law.

Eugene Nickerson, Nassau County executive, was picked by the Kennedy-controlled state committee. U.S. Rep. Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville won enough committee support to challenge Nickerson, and Paul O'Dwyer, a New York City lawyer and McCarthy backer, are on the ballot through petition signatures.

Javits has no Republican opponent. He was endorsed by leaders of the state's Liberal party, but that support was challenged by Murray Baron, a labor lawyer.

An Associated Press compilation shows that there are 31 contests for nominations to Congress, 68 for the state assembly and 15 for the state senate.

GRATEFUL TO COUNTRY — Mrs. Rose Kennedy and Sen. Edward M. Kennedy (left), mother and brother of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, talk to the patriarch of the Kennedy family, former U.S. Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, 79, who is partially paralyzed. They had just finished addressing the nation on television Saturday at Hyannis Port, Mass., expressing their thanks for "the strength and hope" Robert's family drew from the nation's response to his death.

Jackson Crowns Rose Queen

JACKSON (AP) — An 18-year-old Jacknon girl — Susan Gwen Hersha— was crowned Jackson Rose Queen of 1968 Saturday.

First runner-up was Margaret Schroeder, 18, and second runner - up was Dariel Ann Smith, 21, both of Jackson.

Kennedys Thank Nation for RFK Death Response

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (AP) — The Kennedy family has expressed its thanks to the nation for their response to the death of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Remarks by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and his mother, Mrs. Rose Kennedy, were taped Saturday at the Kennedy compound and telecast later in the day.

The Massachusetts senator the family's lone surviving son said every American must decide how best to fulfill the goals of his late brother.

"And each of us will have to decide in a private way, in our own hearts, and in our own consciences, what we shall do in the course of this summer and future summers," he said.

FATHER PRESENT

Joseph P. Kennedy, 79, father of the slain senator and the late President John F. Kennedy, sat in a wheelchair beside his wife. He lost his speech after a stroke 6½ years ago.

Edward Kennedy and his mother spoke from white wicker chairs on the lawn overlooking Nantucket Sound.

Mrs. John F. Kennedy watched the taping but did not take part.

Taunt Strains Endurance of London Guard

LONDON (UPI) — The picture postcard guardsmen who protect Queen Elizabeth must grit their teeth and bear the verbal slings and arrows of passersby. But for one young trooper the limit of endurance came Sunday.

A student demonstrator called him "pretty boy."

It happened at Horse Guards, an ancient military citadel near Downing Street. The Life Guard regiment stands silent, statuelike sentry while tourists feed sugar to their horses and snap pictures.

A band of anti-germ warfare militant students was pushing down Whitehall, Britain's Pennsylvania Avenue. Came the taunt: "Hey, pretty boy. Why don't you use your toy on me?"

The "toy" was a shining sword; the kind the Life Guards used in centuries past to beat down Fuzzy Wuzzies, subdue Indian revolts, destroy Napoleon at Waterloo and build an empire. The young trooper in red and white tensed.

MORE TAUNTS

From the students came more taunts, more laughter. Tourists stepped back.

The trooper lowered his sabre from present arms and turned on his tormentors. "Come any nearer and I'll use this. I will. I will," he said.

The students, no longer militant, fell back.

Selling Hits High Flyers

Stock Market Settles Lower

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market settled a bit lower early this afternoon, and some of the recent high flyers were hit by selling.

Losses outnumbered gains by more than 200 issues on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 2.47 at 911.15.

The market was mixed at the start, with gains outnumbering losses by a slight margin. The small early edge vanished within a half hour, and the list began to work irregularly lower.

WARNINGS VOICED

Many warnings about excessive speculation were voiced by advisory services and brokerage houses, and these were said to have influenced many traders and investors to "stop, look and listen."

Steels, motors, chemicals and building materials were in a general downtrend.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .3 at 342.1, with industrials off 1.8, rails up .7, and utilities up .1.

Prices remained higher on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of 2 points were made by Tesoro Petroleum and by Lockwood, Kessler & Bartlett "A". American Book-Stratford Press and Consolidated Oil & Gas rose a point or more in active trading. Reliance Insurance dropped 2. Siboney, Bloom Building, and Canadian Marconi advanced fractions in active trading.

No Gains Seen in Peace Talks

Sources Say N. Viet Awaits Military Boost

PARIS (UPI) — Diplomatic sources predicted today Vietnam war talks will make no progress this week because North Vietnam apparently wants to score a major military victory before changing the pace of the negotiations.

Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman of the United States and Xuan Thuy, chief North Vietnamese delegate, meet Wednesday in their ninth session of preliminary talks designed to scale down the war and allow full-scale negotiations.

The sources cited North Vietnamese troop buildups in northern and central South Vietnam as well as continued guerrilla pressure on Saigon. These might carry Communist hopes for a major military victory to aid their side in talks here.

STILL DEADLOCKED

The talks remained deadlocked at the eighth session last Wednesday. Harriman warned Vietcong rocket attacks upon Saigon were threatening the future of the negotiations. It has been the United State's position that the Communists should reduce their military effort in response to the U.S. partial bombing pause of the North Vietnam ordered March 31.

North Vietnam has insisted that the United States end all bombing of North Vietnam before further issues be discussed.

If rocket attacks against Saigon are continued, Harriman may make a new strong protest spelling out reprisals the United States might take, diplomatic sources said.

The Vietcong have boasted they will unleash massive bombardments against the South Vietnamese capital.

3 N-Powers to Assure All Who OK Pact

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States plan to give formal assurance to the U.N. Security Council today for the safety of nonnuclear countries which accept the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

The three nuclear powers were to declare that they would seek immediate Security Council action to help any such countries threatened or attacked by nuclear weapons.

The treaty, approved by the General Assembly Wednesday, would pledge countries with nuclear weapons not to transfer them to others and pledges the others not to acquire them.

The Big Three worked out their declaration and a council resolution supporting their warning to ease the fears of countries worried about protection if they give up the right to make atomic bombs.

FRANCE BOYCOTTS

A fourth nuclear power, France, boycotted the Geneva negotiations which produced the treaty and abstained from voting on the General Assembly Resolution endorsing the treaty. But France's U.N. delegate said his government would act just as if it were signing the treaty.

The three-power warning was aimed mainly at the fifth nuclear power, Communist China. The Chinese Communists have charged that the treaty is a Soviet-American plot against them.

Mismanagement Cited in Paper Glut

Is Wall Street Culprit?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — As Wall Street sinks under a sea of paper work its wails have a plaintive, hurt tone, a quality you might expect from an innocent child or a dog that was unexpectedly and unjustly punished.

CUNNIFF

This punishment by paper was not without warning, however. True, not all could have foreseen the causes of the paper glut—the growth of stockholders, the performance cult, the speculation. But there were warnings.

To say that paper work is the culprit is to say that nobody is to blame. But a lot of people believe that mismanagement is one of the real reasons Wall Street is so dangerously snafued in bookkeeping that it must curtail its hours.

For years the exchanges promoted the concept of every American a stockholder, and now there are 24 million of them, a 250 per cent jump in one decade. They encouraged institutions—funds, insurance companies, banks—to use their facilities.

SALES EMPHASIZED

At the same time, brokers emphasized sales rather than service. Front offices were polished. Back rooms, aptly called cages, seemed like stage settings, with green eyeshades, sleeve garters, spittoons and metal-shaded light bulbs.

The Bawl Street Journal, an irreverent, once-a-year spoof of the investment community by the Bond Club of New York, jibed that one firm jumped into automation with two adding machines and a Monroe calculator, 1934 model.

With the arrival of the volume business it had hustled to attract, the financial community found its systems and methods outdated. How could 1890 methods record the business of mutual funds, whose assets had risen from less than $1 billion to more than $40 billion in 20 years? How could they handle government forms?

A few brokers still think that this growth might have been handled by old methods except for another factor: This was "performance," and it multiplied many times the impact of this stockholder growth.

BEST RECORD

Performance means a portfolio always must show the best record. Funds and trusts once bought stock and left it idle in vaults, confident that some year it would begin to grow. Now such stocks might be sold in a few months if they don't perform.

Goading them on are "report cards" issued by several brokers which show month to month just how well a fund is performing. Computers now permit the same techniques to be applied to funds left with banks for investing.

In some instances, for example, large institutions give their funds to three managers for investment, thereby putting all three in competition with each other for the best performance. Trading soars as a result.

A spokesman for a large investment banking firm commented, "Once a bank trust officer would have been ashamed —might even have been fired— to show too much action. Now he'd be embarrassed not to show plenty of activity."

HAVEN'T BEEN SLEEPING

Small investors haven't been asleep to what is going on. They too have stepped up their trading, spurred by the urge to outrace inflation. With institutions, they have helped to set volume records almost daily.

This soaring business—more than 21 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange in one day—leaves many brokers almost hopelessly outdated, and some are in serious danger of losing bookkeeping control. Why did they permit this to happen? Answers are freely offered.

Here are a few:

- This business is a paper business and always will be. It can't be fully automated. How can a machine, even an educated machine, tell the difference between a stock and a bond?
- Wall Street laid an egg in the 1930s and so it didn't attract new blood. It wasn't until the mid-1950s that talent reappeared. So now there's a gap in senior management.
- This is an industry of small businesses. Many brokerage houses felt they could survive with old-fashioned methods until a few years ago. Now they can't afford computers unless they merge with another broker. That or go out of business.
- A broker speaks: "You just can't find good workers today. The central city has been emptied of good clerks these days. The girls we get just aren't sharp. The college-trained girls like to work uptown near the stores."

A more realistic answer is that the brokerage business, while forecasting the boom in other industries, failed to prepare for its own. Having sold the idea of stock ownership, it then couldn't deliver the goods.

Now there is something pathetic about such a powerful and critical industry begging for $90-a-week clerks to bail it out of paper.

Powell Is Strong Favorite in Harlem Vote Tuesday

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell, who was ousted from Congress and then won relection but failed to claim his seat, goes before the voters of Harlem again Tuesday. And he's an overwhelming favorite to win renomination.

His opponent in the Democratic primary is John Young, 52, a former member of Powell's staff.

Whether the flamboyant Powell, who is 59, actually returns to Washington is still subject to question. even though few in Harlem doubt he will win renomination and reelection.

Congress may again refuse to seat him. Or, as he did after the last election, he may not claim his seat. Or he may get caught up in complications stemming from a drawn-out state court action involving a libel suit he lost.

SELF-EXILE

Powell has ruled the 18th Congressional District for over two decades — of late from self-exile on Bimini, the preacher-politician's own sunny Elba in the Bahamas.

Many Harlem voters feel Powell got a "raw deal" in 1967, when Congress expelled him, overriding a select committee that had recommended censure and a fine.

Powell had held his House seat for 22 years before expulsion on charges of misusing public funds and flouting New York state courts in the libel judgment case.

"We still feel he was jobbed out of his job because of his race," said the Amsterdam News, Harlem's Negro weekly newspaper, in endorsing Powell last week.

REFUSED STATUS

After the expulsion, Harlem sent Powell back to Washington —he won reelection overwhelmingly in a special election last year. However, he didn't try to reclaim his seat. He said he wouldn't go back as a freshman and demanded restoration of the seniority that had made him chairman of the education and labor committee.

Paris Students Battle Anew Against Police

PARIS (UPI)—New skirmishes broke out today between French students and police just when the French government appeared to have won control of the student situation and the strike movement which had been the most crippling in French history.

The strike movement neared its end when 85,000 holdout strikers at the state-owned Renault automotive plant voted to return to work. It appeared fewer than 100,000 of the original 10 million strikers would still be out by midweek.

Police yesterday evicted students from the 700-year-old Sorbonne University, dispelled a counter-demonstration and kept the French tricolor flying today in place of the red and black flags of revolution and anarchy.

Today the students — and some workers—gathered on the corner of the Boulevard St. Michel and the Boulevard St. Germain on the Left Bank and shouted taunts and insults at police guarding this university area.

SHOUT AT POLICE

The students shouted in particular at the French security police (CRS) who played a leading role in breaking up recent clashes. They shouted "CRS—SS" in a reference to to Nazi police, "CRS murderers!" and "Fascism shall not pass!"

Police broke up the demonstration with tear gas.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—Please give your opinion on Canadian Industrial Gas & Oil (Toronto Exchange) and current price—F. B.

A—A series of mergers formed this company in 1965, giving it high speculative potential in Northwest Canada's Rainbow-Zama area, the Arctic Islands, the North Sea's offshore drilling operations and mineral properties in Wales. About 90 per cent of CIG is owned by Northern & Central Gas Co., so for trading purposes shares are limited to around 900,000.

Price range was narrow until this year when shares recently hit an all-time high of 17¾, up from an April low of 11¼. Back of this spurt was the disclosure of a rich mineral discovery in Wales, including silver in addition to zinc, lead and copper. Because oil companies are diversifying into a worldwide search for wanted minerals, CIG is considered to be an extremely interesting speculation.

Q—I'd like to know what are hidden stocks and how to find out where they are.—R. M.

A—Hidden stocks, commonly called sleepers, are unrecognized bargains. For a stock to become active on the upside of the market, it requires a well-informed following — investors who are aware of the company's products and future prospects. Sometimes an astute analyst discovers a little-known company showing consistently good profits from some ordinary product or service. He sees an undervalued issue with growth potential and low price-earnings ratio. Shares are likely to be unlisted but this is not necessarily so. When such a sleeper is awakened by news releases about its company's progress and bids for the shares begin to climb, the stock could become a new glamor issue.

Investors or analysts, searching for sleepers, look for rising earnings and a modest price-earnings ratio. If a cash dividend is paid, the yield is likely to be better than average. To pick a real sleeper requires financial insight, factual knowledge and an occasional hunch about industry developments and socio-economic trends.

NRA Gun Lobby Readies Counterattack to Block Controls

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Rifle Association, its amazing record of blocking strict federal gun controls in jeopardy, has begun its counter-attack.

And if the gun lobby lives up to its past successes, hundreds of thousands of letters opposing gun controls will rain down on Congress by midweek — just before a House committee considers restrictions on gun sales.

The deluge of mail will be in response to a weekend plea by the NRA for its 900,000 members to "express their views without delay to their senators and congressmen."

The letter-writing campaign, a favorite gun lobby tactic, is the NRA's answer to the demands for tough gun controls flowing from the assassination of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy with a $30.95 pistol.

SMOTHERED

In the past—even after President John F. Kennedy was murdered with a mail order rifle—the NRA and its allies have successfully smothered proposals to regulate gun sales or require registration of guns.

This comes in the face of overwhelming public support of such legislation. This spring, for example, pollster Louis Harris reported 71 per cent of Americans favored stricter gun control laws.

What is the NRA? How does it operate? Why does it pack so much power?

Founded in 1871 by a group of National Guard officers interested in improving their marksmanship, the NRA has grown over the years to an organization with 900,000 members and a net worth of nearly $12 million.

BASIC CREDO

It operates from an eight-story glass-and-marble headquarters building in downtown Washington. Emblazoned in gold letters above the main entrance is the basic NRA credo: "The right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

This is from the second article of the Bill of Rights: "A well-regulated militia being necessary to the security of a free state, the right of the people to keep and bear arms shall not be infringed."

Inside the building, NRA President Harold W. Glassen puffs on his pipe and proclaims: "Make no mistake about it—there is a step-by-step move afoot to accomplish the ultimate deprivation of the American right to keep and bear arms."

Glassen, a Lansing, Mich., lawyer, gets very annoyed by references to the NRA as a gun lobby.

'BALONEY'

"All this talk about the gun lobby is baloney," he said in an interview. "We don't tell anyone to write to their congressmen."

Last Saturday, a two-page letter signed by Glassen went to all NRA members. "Unless the sportsmen of America clearly express their views without delay to their senators and congressmen," it said, "individuals will be prohibited from acquiring long guns (rifles and shotguns) in interstate commerce and general firearms registration will become a reality."

The NRA's ability to generate mail is a major ingredient to its successful fight against tough gun control laws. NRA officials have boasted in the past that they can depend on their members to flood Capitol Hill with up to 500,000 letters within 72 hours.

Veterans of earlier battles over gun control legislation don't doubt NRA's claims. "The first surge of mail after an assassination is always overwhelmingly in support of strict gun laws," says one congressional aide. "But about a week later the NRA mail takes over and continues for weeks."

TIE VOTE

Much of the new mail will be aimed at members of the House Judiciary Committee which by a tie vote last week rejected administration-supported legislation outlawing mail order sale of rifles and shotguns, over-the-counter sales of these guns to out-of-state residents and sales to anyone under 18. The committee meets Thursday to reconsider its rejection of the bill.

The NRA's monthly magazine, the American Rifleman, and various special bulletins keep members abreast of the battle against stiff restrictions.

Members are supplied with point-by-point interpretations of proposed legislation—interpretations that are often quoted word-for-word in subsequent letters to congressmen.

Sen. Joseph Tydings, D-Md., gives an illustration of how closely the letters follow NRA publications. One NRA document misspelled his name "Tidings," he said, and "I got literally thousands of letters and postcards from my constituents all misspelling my name and all giving the line that was in the propaganda issued by the NRA."

BILLS DEFEATED

After President Kennedy's assassination in November 1963, scores of gun control bills were introduced in Congress. None passed.

In 1964, 189 gun control bills were proposed in state legislatures and city councils. In its 1964 annual report, the NRA noted that "members reacted promptly, firmly and in force. No serious restrictive proposals were enacted."

But the present drive for gun controls appears to have a better chance of succeeding. President Johnson, governors and mayors have joined in the call for strong legislation, and some key members of Congress are shifting their positions.

One is Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, who said Saturday he would support a bill introduced by Tydings and nine other senators which would ban mail order sales of rifles and require registration of all guns.

IN JEOPARDY

NRA chief Glassen appears worried. In his letter Saturday, he said "the right of sportsmen in the United States to obtain, own and use firearms for proper lawful purposes is in the greatest jeopardy in the history of our country."

Interviews with a number of congressmen indicated NRA officials are seldom in direct contact with members of the House and Senate.

"We have yet to spend one single dollar on lobbying," Glassen said. "We have never hired a lobbyist."

Neither the NRA nor any of its national officers is registered with congress as a lobbyist. But to keep its members informed of gun control proposals and other bills, it has a "legislative service" with a budget of $131,000 in 1967.

ACTIVE BACKERS

In a recent House speech, Rep. Richard D. McCarthy said "The NRA does not have to hire lobbyists in the technical sense. It has active members right in this chamber."

Glassen said he didn't know how many congressmen belonged to NRA, but estimated about 40. Among the more active backers of the NRA view are Reps. Bob Casey, D-Tex.; John D. Dingell, D-Mich.; Cecil R. King, D-Calif.; and Robert L. F. Sikes, D-Fla., all NRA members.

Surveys show half of all households in America have one or more firearms, and NRA member Casey says millions of persons use weapons "very peaceably and pleasurably," says NRA member Casey. "I don't see why they should be punished because of a bunch of deadbeats and no-goods."

Another NRA member is Rep. James H. Scheuer, D-N.Y. "I am as enthusiastic a sportsman as any member of the NRA but I totally abhor the NRA's stand on gun control," Scheuer said in an interview.

NO INFRINGEMENT

"The registration of all guns is no more infringement of an individual's inalienable rights than the registration of cars and the licensing of drivers."

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover takes the same view. "You have to get a license for your dog," he told Congress last year. "You have to get a license to drive your car. You have to get a license to go into various business ventures. I see no great problem to the individual in requiring all guns to be registered."

FBI statistics show that nearly 60 per cent of the murders in this country are committed with guns. In 1966, the last year for which figures are available, 5,660 persons were murdered with guns. In 1965, there were 5,015 gun murders.

Glassen argues that if murderers had no guns they would use some other weapon. "A man bent on homicide will commit homicide," he says. "The availability of a gun has nothing to do . . . with the over-all homicide rate."

JAPAN'S RATES

And he often says that Japan, which has very strict gun control laws, probably has just as high an over-all murder rate as the United States.

NRA is not alone in its fight against gun control laws. Among its allies are thousands of gun and sportsmen's clubs and conservation groups across the nation, as well as the gun and ammunition industry and some of its offspring—the National Shooting Sports Foundation, the Sporting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers Institute and the National Reloading Manufacturers Association.

But some chinks are appearing in the previously solid coalition. On Saturday, three gun manufacturers—Remington, Savage and Winchester-Wester—issued a joint statement supporting a ban on mail order sales. The companies suggested, however, that states be allowed to exempt themselves from the ban.

To charges that it opposes all gun control legislation, NRA spokesmen reply that the association supported Sen. Roman Hruska's, R-Neb., amendments to prohibit shipment of firearms into states which have laws against such gun sales and to bar all interstate sales to persons under 18.

OPPOSE REGISTRATION

But the NRA strongly opposes any registration system or restrictions on rifles and shotguns.

Retired military officers abound in NRA hierarchy.

Franklin L. Orth, NRA executive vice president, is a former deputy assistant secretary of the Army. Of the six NRA field representatives, four are retired Army colonels and one is a Marine Corps Reserve major.

Until late last year, NRA members were entitled to purchase surplus government rifles from the Defense Department. After criticism that military weapons were falling into the hands of criminals, the Pentagon cut off such purchases. The Defense Department also ended last year its support of NRA-sponsored National Rifle Matches.

In its 1967 annual report, the NRA listed its net worth as $11.9 million and said its total income for the year was $5,797,441. Of its income, 65 per cent came from membership dues—$5 a year for individuals—and 25 per cent from advertising in the American Rifleman. Most of this advertising is placed by gun dealers and manufacturers.

Cyrus P. Vance, diplomat and deputy negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, was named yesterday as a new trustee of Yale University.

Vance, U.S. ambassador-at-large, won out over William L. Buckley Jr. and businessman John Musser.

Yale President Kingman Brewster Jr., in announcing the election results at the annual alumni reunion, said a record 30,000 Yale alumni took part in the balloting over the past two months.

The announcement did not mention the actual vote count, or who finished second or third.

VANCE

Vance, a 1939 Yale graduate, will assume his new duties July 1 as a fellow of the 19-member Yale Corporation, the university's governing board of trustees. The term is for six years.

Vance succeeds William McChesney Martin, chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve System.

Dr. King's Pulpit to Be Taken by His Brother

The Rev. A. D. Williams King will take over the pulpit of his slain brother, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta.

The Rev. Mr. King announced during a sermon yesterday at Louisville's Zion Baptist Church that he will assume the associate pastorate at Ebenezer. He has been pastor here for 3½ years.

"A minister travels life's journey under sealed orders," the Rev. Mr. King said. "I've just opened my sealed orders and find that this time my journey leads home."

In moving to Atlanta, he will join his father, the Rev. Martin Luther King Sr., the other associate pastor of the 4,500-member church. Three generations of the King family have held the pulpit at Ebenezer.

His resignation at Zion Baptist Church will be effective August 25.

Friendly's marriage to the former Dorothy Greene ended in divorce. His marriage to Mrs. Mark took place at a private home with a few friends in attendance. Rabbi William Braude performed the ceremony.

WALLACE'S SIGNATURE — Former Alabama Gov. George Wallace, presidential candidate, signs an autograph yesterday in a garage in Washington following a television-radio appearance. The autograph-seeker was kept out of the garage. At the right is a police officer, with three Alabama security men.

Wallace Hits Gun-Control Laws

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — George C. Wallace, back on his presidential fund-raising tour of the South, says federal gun-control legislation will do little, if anything, to combat crime.

Wallace interrupted his campaign swing through Dixie long enough Sunday to fly to Washington for a network television show and then to Boston.

His schedule today at Richmond included a news conference, a $25-a-plate dinner and a political rally tonight.

In Virginia, the former Alabama governor ran into a feud between his American Independent party and the Virginia Conservative party which wants Wallace for president and California Gov. Ronald Reagan for vice president.

CONSERVATIVES DINE

The Conservative party has a $6-a-plate dinner tonight at the same time as the Wallace dinner.

In his TV appearance, on ABC's "Issues and Answers," and at a Boston news conference, Wallace once again took a stand against tighter gun control laws. He said they would do nothing more than "keep guns out of the hands of law-abiding citizens. The criminals will get them like they always have."

Wallace said the only real deterrent to crime "is to enforce the criminal laws and reverse some of the decisions of the federal courts which make it almost impossible to uphold the laws."

"Seeing a murder punished," he added, "is more effective than any gun-control legislation."

JUST AS TRAGIC

Wallace said the assassinations of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. were tragic and senseless, but that "It is just as tragic that a working man's wife can't go to the supermarket in the big cities for fear of her life."

On other issues, Wallace said:

- Poor Negroes "are being used" by the Poor People's Campaign in Washington.
- Most congressmen who advocate school integration refuse to send their children to public schools in the nation's capital.

MD Suggests Scorecard for Pronouncing Death

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A life-and-death scorecard has been suggested by a doctor as one way to answer the difficult medical and ethical question: When is a patient dead and his organs available for transplants?

The suggestion came from Dr. Vincent J. Collins, professor of anesthesia at Northwestern University School of Medicine, at a panel discussion at the annual convention of the American Medical Association.

This was his proposal:

The patient's heart, brain, lungs, circulation and reflex activity would be monitored for one or two hours. Each activity would be scored 2 if normal, 1 if depressed and 0 if stopped.

A score of 5 or more would indicate continuing life. Less than 5 would mean death was near. And 0 would be a sure indication of death.

COMMON STANDARD

Collins suggested that such a system could provide an answer for transplant surgeons seeking a common standard to determine if a potential donor is in fact dead.

Collins was one of three specialists who discussed moral and legal problems in "Medicine and Religion" here Sunday.

Dr. Howard P. Lewis of the University of Oregon Medical School said doctors "cannot evade the unpleasant responsibility" of deciding the moment of death and of saying who shall receive organ transplants.

Dr. J. W. Provonsha of Loma Linda (Calif.) University said "doctors are playing God" in deciding "what attitude we ought to have toward those who have ceased to be persons."

Crash Injures Three Youths

Three Shelby Township teenagers were in satisfactory condition this morning at St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens, following an auto accident early today.

Shelby police said the auto, driven by Miss Walker, was southbound on Ryan between Hamlin and 22 Mile when it crossed the center line, swerved to avoid an oncoming vehicle, went out of control, and rolled over.

Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said the move would help the school system hire more teachers just out of college. Otherwise, there could be a critical teacher shortage this fall, he noted.

Other items scheduled to be discussed in a short meeting are the selection of architects for the proposed senior high school and naming of appraisers and realtors for property in the area of the proposed Human Resources Center.

INFORMAL DISCUSSION

The board will meet at 7 to 7:30 p.m. before they are scheduled to informally meet with their human relations committee, which has objected to the board's proposals to relieve de facto school segregation.

WE WISH TO thank our friends and neighbors for the beautiful floral tributes and many kind expressions of sympathy shown us at the death of our loved husband and father. The family of Arthur Newmarch.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF my husband Foster Fawcett who passed away June 16, 1967.
It broke my heart to lose you,
But you did not go alone
For a part of me went with you,
The day God called you home.
God gave me strength to bear it,
The courage to take the blow,
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.
When evening shadows are falling,
And I sit here all alone.
To my heart there comes a longing,
If you could just come home.
Sadly missed by his wife, Fanny.

IN LOVING MEMORY of Larry Eugene Markey who passed away June 16, 1967.
LOVING MEMORIES
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall
You had a kindly word for each and died beloved by all
The voice is mute and stilled the heart that loved us well and true
Ah, bitter was the trial to part from one so good as you.
You are not forgotten loved one nor will you ever be
As long as life and memory last we will remember thee.
We miss you now, our hearts are sore,
As time goes by we miss you more,
Your smile, your gentle face,
No one can fill your vacant place.
Sadly missed by mother, father and family.

Earl Sees Sentimentalism Staging Comeback in U.S.

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "Heart" is making a comeback in our land.

You know, all those corny, square, out qualities . . . sentiment . . . warmth . . . decency . . . neighborliness . . . love of family? That all the sophisticated people have been sneering at?

You're allowed to choke up now and feel soft-hearted and you won't get hissed. I noticed this especially when Barbara McNair opened at the Americana Royal Box. The eyes of some of the customers misted up when she sang the Bert Bachrach-Hal David "Windows of the World" and "What the World Needs Now" . . .

"The windows of the world are covered with rain" . . . "What the world needs now is love, sweet love . . ."

WILSON

Yes, I sense a sudden reversal. "Heart" will be O.K. now.

Maybe the recent tragedies have shaken people up.

Barbara, who was so big with the GIs in Vietnam, is a very modern girl . . . she wear weights ("Tonematics") around wrists, ankles and tummy to lose weight . . . she and husband Jack Rafferty have a night club in San Francisco . . . her plunging neckline doesn't plunge, it dives.

Then there was the gifted Norm Crosby, from Boston, the Mr. Malaprop, who says he "establishes a rappaport" with his audience, "vernacular" though it may be, with a tale of today about scientists "who taught a flea to fly."

Encouraged, they got a Gov't. grant to remove the flea's wings and said, 'Fly, flea!" but the flea wouldn't fly, so the head scientist grabbed his notebook and hastily wrote: "When you remove the wings from a flea, he becomes deaf and can't hear the orders you give him."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Bobby Darin'll work one weekend in July at Mr. D's in San Francisco, to make up for the time he missed when he asked 'em to close so he could attend the Kennedy funeral . . . Eartha Kitt stopped her Persian Rm. act to introduce Hugh Shannon, who urged her to try it on her own in '48.

Mike Douglas, sculling on the Schuylkill River with Noel Harrison for his TV show, fell overboard . . . A handsome young actor is about to declare bankruptcy . . . Richard Harris described poteen, an Irish whiskey: "During the Rebellion our lads not only drank it, they blew up British barracks and post offices with it."

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A man complained of how henpecked he is: "My wife learned to make ashtrays in her ceramics class—so she made me start smoking."

WISH I'D SAID THAT: A hippie is merely an unwatered flower child.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Fame usually comes to those who are thinking about something else." — Oliver Wendell Holmes.

EARL'S PEARLS: Leonard Levinson reports he enjoyed his flight to L.A., "except someone beat me to all the coupons in the Reader's Digest."

There's too much public apathy. A woman who was mugged wouldn't call the police—because she didn't want to get involved. That's earl, brother.

Fire Chases Hotel 'Guests'

SEATTLE (AP) — It was an old hotel and nobody was supposed to be living there any more. But firemen said a check of "guests" fled when fire broke out in the three-story building Sunday.

At least one of the nonguests was a high liver. Firemen found four empty bottles of six-year-old Canadian whisky and a good-sized, half-eaten steak in one of the abandoned rooms.

The fire was quickly quelled. No one was hurt.

Red Carpet Rolled Out--for Governor?

CHARLESTON, S.C. (AP)— A 50-foot red carpet was rolled out at the Charleston Municipal Airport to welcome Gov. John Connally of Texas when he arrived for the Southern Governors Conference.

A plane taxied up Sunday and out stepped L. A. Stalling of Tulsa, Okla., pilot of a private company's B26 which had stopped for fuel and was flagged to the wrong parking area.

Stalling told the welcoming committee: "I'm Gov. Stalling from the state of Confusion."

A Look at TV

U.S. Open Golf a Hit

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — The hit television show of the weekend was the windup of the U.S. Open golf tournament at Rochester, N.Y. It had everything—live action, drama and the birth of a star.

ABC's cameras and commentators skilfully showed the play for about 90 minutes Saturday. Golf is hard to cover because the action is spread all over the place and when the network switched to a tape of the Memorial Day Indianapolis 500, it was like the end of an episode in an old cliff-hanger serial.

Two young players, Bert Yancey and Lee Trevino, were battling it out for the lead and the big name stars were trailing.

On Sunday, for the windup, there was more drama, with Jack Nicklaus coming on strong, Yancey dropping back and Trevino, a 28-year-old Mexican-American from El Paso, holding on to his lead and winning.

PUTTS AND TRAPS

There were times on both days when the camera seemed to jump around, but sometimes it was because two critical plays were in progress at the same moment. The problem was usually solved by showing a crucial putt live and then returning to a tough shot out of a trap in slow motion.

NBC's "Animal Kingdom" premiere Sunday night was a report on the great annual migration of animals at the beginning of the African rainy season. It was par for a nature documentary, with routine photography and a commentary that had a travel-talk flavor.

"The Art Game" on NBC Friday night was a disappointment, primarily because too much was crammed into a one-hour special.

The result was that what should have been a very visual documentary turned out to be almost entirely a series of interviews with experts talking about the joys and pitfalls of buying and selling paintings and sculpture.

MEMO ON VIOLENCE

All three television networks are concerned over criticism of the medium for its use of violence and by the prospect of an inquiry by the presidential commission on violence headed by Dr. Milton Eisenhower.

A stern memorandum has been sent to editors in the ABC censorship department and to its independent producers by Alfred R. Schneider, ABC's assistant executive vice president.

"In the review of scripts, rough cuts and final prints for air, not only should you prohibit the use of violence for the sake of violence, but you should give special attention to encourage the de-emphasis of acts of violence," the note says in part.

Recommended tonight: "National College Queen Pageant," NBC, 9-10 EDT, with Mike Douglas as host, from Miami.

Florida Reef Grounds Ship

KEY LARGO, Fla. (AP) — An Israeli refrigerator ship remained aground Sunday on an offshore reef.

The Coast Guard in Miami said the 236-foot Atid, a 1,365-ton vessel registered in Haifa, Israel, was in no danger and had not requested assistance. Coast Guard vessels tried unsuccessfully Saturday to free the Atid from Carrysfort Reef.

The freighter's crew of 18 men remained aboard.

OXFORD, England — Hobbits, as many American teenagers will tell you, are three-feet tall, paunchy, and have curly hair growing between their toes.

They are unambitious, peace-loving creatures who live in snug holes in the ground. They adore food, tobacco and beer. They are also the heroes of a best-selling fairy tale, "The Lord of the Rings," which has made its author, 76-year-old Professor J. R. R. Tolkien, the idol of American youth overnight.

No one is more surprised than Tolkien at the smash hit he has made in America.

Tolkien clubs have sprung up all over the United States. Club members wear buttons reading "Tolkien is Hobbit-forming" and "Gandalf for President" (Gandalf is the wizard in Tolkien's books).

Tolkien has been deluged with American offers for the film and television rights to "The Lord of the Rings," all of which he has rejected. There have even been offers to turn the book into a Broadway musical, also turned down.

A jigsaw puzzle manufacturer wants to bring out a puzzle based on "The Rings," while a soapmaker would like to market bars of soap shaped like hobbits.

But Tolkien, who is tall, silvery-haired and genial, turns a deaf ear to all such commercial exploitation. With sales of "The Rings" nearing the 1-million mark in America alone he doesn't need the money.

The latest news is that Tolkien has become the craze among hippies, who perhaps find in the "Middle-earth" fairy world that the professor has created an escape from their own drab existence. Nowadays no pad from San Francisco to Nepal is complete without a set of Tolkien's works.

LSD TRIP?

"Dear darling Professor Tolkien," writes a hipster who was probably coming off an LSD trip, "I have just been to Middle-earth and back, and I loved every glorious minute of it."

Tolkien receives five American fan letters for every fan letter from Britain or elsewhere, though his following extends to such far-off places as the New Guinea jungle. Housewives in Milwaukee write to him, as do astronauts at Cape Kennedy, but the bulk of his mail comes from college campuses.

Most fans are curious about the professor, himself, questioning him on his views about everything from religion and sex to Vietnam.

American fans send Tolkien drawings of hobbits, tape recordings and hobbit songs set to music, and Elvish dictionaries. (Elvish is the language Tolkien has invented for the people of Middle-earth.)

FOOD DELICACIES

They also send him parcels containing cranberries, dried mushrooms and nuts — food delicacies that hobbits particularly adore.

Tolkien, who is married and has four children, is almost as shy and elusive as the hobbits he writes about. Born in South Africa, he was brought as a child to England, where he was impressed with the lush green countryside after the arid veldt. (His fairy tales are full of descriptions of trees and flowers.)

After an uneventful career as professor of English literature at Oxford, he retired in 1959 to live on the outskirts of this university town.

The hobbits were born in Tolkien's fertile imagination back in the 1930s. Bored one day with correcting examination papers, he wrote on the back of one of them: "In a hole in the ground there lived a hobbit."

He thought it an excellent beginning for a fairy tale to amuse his own children. The professor was persuaded to publish it commercially in 1937, and since then he has never looked back.

U. S. Jets Down Red Copters

From Our News Wires

SAIGON — American jets yesterday shot down seven Communist helicopters being used in South Vietnam and the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ) for the first time in the war, military spokesman said today.

Related Story, Page A-3

Never had North Vietnam sent its Russian-built helicopters south of the border to challenge total American air superiority.

The U.S. planes destroyed the helicopters in two encounters as the North Vietnamese craft apparently were hauling ammunition to bases inside the DMZ.

U.S. military headquarters said daylight reconnaissance was made today.

CALLED ESCALATION

Lt. Gen. Hoang Xuan Lam, commander of South Vietnam forces in five provinces just below the DMZ, said such Communist use of the helicopters in combat for the first time marks "an escalation of the war."

Lam said two helicopters were shot down south of the Ben Hai River which divides the DMZ between North and South.

The U.S. radar tracking station at Don Ha, seven miles south of the DMZ, traced the first cluster of North Vietnamese choppers early yesterday. U.S. Navy F4 Phantom jets intercepted the copters and shot down three of them.

Another group of helicopters crossed into the buffer zone last night. Four of these were shot down.

All the helicopters were said to be Soviet-made M14s. Earlier they had been spotted only on the ground at several North Vietnamese airbases. Never had they gone into combat.

U.S. intelligence sources said reconnaissance indicated Hanoi has stationed about 20 helicopters near the DMZ.

One chopper was reported downed near the mouth of the Cua Viet River where a U.S. Navy patrol boat was sunk Sunday.

PAUF to Abandon Home Solicitations

House-to-house collections are being discontinued by the Pontiac Area United Fund, Frederick Poole, president of the PAUF board of trustees, announced today.

The formal residential division, which has been in existence in the Pontiac area for 19 years, will be replaced by a new community division, which will solicit small businesses and a small number of specified givers at home.

Alger V. Conner, this year's PAUF general campaign chairman, explained, "Actual door-to-door campaigning has become an outmoded method, both nationally and locally. We believe, being true to the United Fund tradition, in trying to cut down on 'many' solicitations. Too much duplication of collection has been growing in our community.

"We also feel along with the ever-growing surge of small businesses, that much more concentration could be given to these businesses. We hope to up-date the campaign through development of this new approach and are looking forward to a very progressive and successful year."

AREA INCLUDED

The community division, will be headed by Mrs. Jack Ross of 6101 Adamson, Waterford Township. Areas included in this new approach include: Pontiac, Independence, Waterford, Orion and Pontiac townships.

Oxford, as a recent PAUF participant, will continue house-to-house solicitations until next year.

Ray Rebuttal Prepared

LONDON (UPI) — A British law firm today started to prepare a rebuttal to the American demand for extradition of James Earl Ray, accused of killing the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Diplomatic sources said the London law firm of Dresden and Co. had been given American documents supporting the request that Ray be turned over to U.S. authorities for extradition to the United States. The firm was named by the British to defend Ray.

Students Routed From Sorbonne

PARIS (AP) — The Sorbonne, symbol of France's student uprising, fell to the gendarmes last night and angry students battled the police again in the Latin Quarter of Paris.

The last occupiers—less than 150 of them—filed out of the main building of the University of Paris without a fight. The red and black flags of revolution and anarchy were hauled down, and the French Tricolor was run up.

Bands of young people fought hit-and-run skirmishes with police on the Left Bank for about three hours. But the police did not let the students establish any fixed positions and chased them off the main boulevards. Faced with an uneven battle, student leaders dispersed their followers.

The Sorbonne had been occupied by the students since May 13, at the start of the revolt. Last week the occupying committee ordered its followers out of all but five lecture halls to clear away accumulated filth. After the cleanup, only a token force remained in the building.

FOCAL POINT

The end of the occupation of the Sorbonne seemed to indicate the collapse of the student revolt. A number of other university buildings in Paris and provincial towns still are held by students. But the Sorbonne was the focal point and the others are expected to capitulate whenever the government decides to move.

The education ministry has promised to start talks with students and professors on university reforms. All sides agree that many changes are needed in the university system and administration, but reorganization is expected to be a long and difficult process.

Ike Stable After Heart Attack

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower was in stable condition today and resting comfortably after suffering his second heart attack in the last two months, according to Walter Reed Army Hospital officials.

Although doctors were not minimizing the danger, there were indications Eisenhower's situation was not considered grave.

Stable condition usually means the patient's treatment and condition are satisfactory.

The attack came Saturday night at Walter Reed, where the 77-year-old five-star general was recuperating from a mild heart seizure which struck him April 29 at Palm Desert, Calif., where he keeps a winter home.

COMFORTABLE NIGHT

In yesterday's announcement disclosing the latest attack, the hospital said, "The general spent a comfortable night and his present condition is stable."

Mrs. Eisenhower was with him at the hospital.

No details were given in Sunday's announcement, but several factors indicated no extreme danger for the general, who now has suffered five heart attacks since 1955.

One indication that the attack was not considered grave came in the announcement by the hospital that Eisenhower's original plans to return June 24 to his Gettysbury, Pa., home will be delayed, seemingly implying that doctors expect the move to be made later on.

MEDICAL BULLETIN

Also, when the former president was considered in more dangerous condition the medical bulletins were issued at much more frequent intervals than the 24 hours between the first announcement and the second report, scheduled for 10:30 a.m. today.

Eisenhower was taken to Walter Reed by Air Force Plane May 14 after his doctors indicated he had recovered enough from his April 29 attack, to be moved.

He had been reported improving and received a visit last Tuesday from President Johnson.

Johnson Presses for Law Limiting Sale of Long Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pressure for tougher gun control laws continues to build across the nation, but one presidential candidate has called for caution in framing the bills and the National Rifle Association has started a campaign against stiffer legislation.

President Johnson over the weekend ordered a top-priority campaign to get Congress to pass an administration-proposed bill restricting the sale of rifles and other long guns.

In addition to the President's bill, which is for reconsideration in the House Judiciary Committee Thursday after being blocked by a tie vote last week, even tougher legislation is sponsored by Sen. Joseph D. Pennsylvania Governor Endorses Rocky

By The Associated Press

New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has won a big-state endorsement from Pennsylvania Gov. Raymond P. Shafer for his GOP presidential bid—but acknowledges a drive for such backing could give new delegates to rival Richard M. Nixon.

Shafer announced the endorsement at the end of the Republican Governors Association Conference at Tulsa, Okla., over the weekend and estimated 45 to 50 of Pennsylvania's 64 Republican delegates would join him in backing Rockefeller.

Said Rockefeller: "In the last week, my campaign has really taken off." But he said further endorsements from governors who are now favorite sons could also release delegates to join Nixon's already substantial block of nominating votes.

"There is a delicate balance," he said.

Nixon's campaign manager, John Mitchell, said meanwhile the former vice president already has "more than enough delegates" to win the GOP presidential nomination and "will not engage in an exchange of charge and countercharge with Rockefeller."

Newsweek magazine said yesterday its tabulation shows Nixon only 29 votes short of the 667 needed for nomination, with 573 delegates favoring Nixon, 252 Rockefeller and 146 California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

pressing questions on Vietnam and other issues he has raised.

But former White House press secretary Bill J. Moyers predicted Humphrey will soon begin spelling out his differences with Johnson administration policies, including military escalation in Vietnam.

Delegates were selected by party conventions over the weekend in Idaho and Montana.

A poll of 25 Idaho Democratic delegates indicated 17 would vote for Humphrey and 5 for McCarthy with 3 uncommitted. The 14 GOP delegates reportedly favored Nixon but could pivot to Reagan.

Humphrey got 24 of Montana's 26 Democratic delegate votes and McCarthy 2.

A straw vote at the Minnesota Republican Convention Saturday favored Nixon by 80.9 per cent to 44.4 per cent for Rockefeller. Minnesota's 38 GOP delegates will not be bound by the vote.

In other political developments, Rockefeller reportedly suggested to fellow Republican governors at Tulsa that Reagan be given a leading role at the national convention in televised presentation of the party platform, taking advantage of the California's skill in television presentations.

Birmingham

School Pact Is Ratified by Teachers

BIRMINGHAM — Settlement of teacher salaries and school calendar for 1968-69 in this school district has been announced by Supt. of Schools Dr. John B. Smith and Don Cameron, executive secretary for the Birmingham Education Association.

The announcement came Saturday, just four days after bargaining was reported at a standstill.

According to school officials, a tentative settlement was reached early Firday morning after an all-night negotiating session.

Birmingham teachers ratified the agreement at a meeting Saturday morning by a vote of 423-32.

NEW SCHEDULE

The salary package agreed upon amounts to about $725,000, almost midway between the last reported offers of the two sides.

Salaries under the new schedule include a BA minimum of $8,900 and maximum of $11,050; an MA minimum of $7,425 and maximum of $12,850; and an MA-plus-30-hours minimum of $7,700 and maximum of $13,875.

The total increase in salary, including the automatic yearly increase, ranges from $600 for a first-year teacher with a BA degree to $1,175 at the maximum; for an MA, the range is from $625 to $1,575; and for an MA-plus-30-hours, it is $600 to $1,500.

Spokesmen for both sides were enthusiastic about the agreement.

SETTLEMENT HAILED

Smith called the agreement "a great accomplishment" and added, "This settlement will make it possible for all of us to begin the 1968-69 school year with time and energy to devote entirely to the students in Birmingham."

Cameron commented, "We are extrmely pleased with this agreement and with the constructive attitude exhibited by Dr. Smith and the board of education. We hope this marks the dawn of a new era in Birmingham."

Last year, teachers were ordered to classrooms by court injunction Sept. 18, several days after the scheduled opening of school.

Final contract agreement was not reached until Jan. 15.

SAME CALENDAR

The school calendar for 1968-69 will remain the same as in past years, except for a few minor changes.

The opening day of classes will be Sept. 4, the Wednesday after Labor Day, rather than Thursday, the traditional opening day. School will be dismissed at 12 noon, and a full day is scheduled for Thursday.

Two half-days of in-service training — one each semester — will be scheduled by the administration.

The calendar provides for 181 student days and 185 teacher days.

The City Commission will hold a public hearing on the assessment roll for this city's 1968 seal-coat program at its regular meeting at 8 tonight.

A. P. Blethen, superinendent of public works, has recommended that four streets on which the need for seal-coating was questioned by residents at an earlier hearing, be included in the program.

The streets and excerpts from Blethen's comments are as follows: Pilgrim from Redding to Quarton — "exhibits a large amount of checking and ravelling"; Suffield from Redding to Fairfax — "excessive maintenance may be anticiapted if not done this year"; Madison from Hunter to Adams — "The edges of the street have broken up, been patched and repatched"; and Golfview from Fairway to Lincoln — "freezing and thawing action of this past winter and spring caused extensive breakup."

Also on tonight's agenda is a report from City Engineer William T. Killeen on improvement of the Bloomfield Art Association (BAA) parking lot, located near 14 Mile and Cranbrook.

W. Germany Seeks Ways to Fight Squeeze on Berlin

BONN (AP) — The West German Cabinet searched today for ways to combat the new Communist squeeze on West Berlin as the isolated city and the western half of Germany marked the anniversary of the 1953 uprising in East Germany.

Officials said Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger might fly to Washington to talk to President Johnson about the situation. The government announced Friday that Kiesinger would write or telephone the president, but officials now are talking about a personal visit to dramatize West Germany's concern.

Kiesinger called his Cabinet together to discuss what to do about the new Communist taxes and restrictions on surface travel between West Germany and West Berlin. Parliament is to debate the situation later in the week.

The United States, Britain and France have protested the East German regulations, which include passports by July 15 for all West Germans and West Berliners traveling by surface routes, visas and increased taxes and travel costs on German goods shipped overland. Kiesinger announced that his government would pay the increases, which are estimated at $18.5 million a year.

NOT SUFFICIENT

Foreign Minister Willy Brandt said Saturday that protests by the Western allies would not be sufficient to meet the situation, but he did not suggest what else the allies could do.

Some members of Kiesinger's Christian Democratic party want him to put pressure on Washington and Moscow by refusing to sign the new treaty against the spread of nuclear weapons unless the Russians intervene against the travel regulations.

Romney's Son Hurt in Crash

BORDEAUX, France (AP) — Walter Mitt Romney, 21, son of Gov. George Romney of Michigan, was reported resting comfortably today in a hospital in the nearby village of Bazas, following an auto collision.

Friends reported he suffered torn ligaments in one elbow and head injuries yesterday, but they were said not to be serious. He is expected to leave the hospital in about two days. An earlier report from the hospital said he was not injured.

South Viets Dump 'Honest' General

SAIGON (AP) — A dynamic South Vietnamese general regarded as too honest by many of his colleagues has been dumped from another top job, reliable sources reported today.

The ouster of Lt. Gen. Nguyen Duc Thang was regarded here as part of President Nguyen Van Thieu's purge of senior military men allied with Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky.

Thang, who is 37, was once the American-supported boss of the pacification program. For the past four months he has commanded the 4th Corps Area, which includes the Mekong Delta.

Thang, a native of North Vietnam, has removed eight province chiefs of corruption and revitalized the military effort in the delta.

Reliable sources said Thang's closeness to Ky was the main reason that he was replaced today by Lt. Gen. Nguyen Van Le, former inspector general of the armed forces. Thang is for the time being o "indefinite sick leave," a euphemism for being fired, the sources said. His dismissal had been rumored for a week.

Poverty March Planners Are Confident of Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lights burn most of the night in the small, two-story brick slum building that is the headquarters for Wednesday's "Solidarity Day" march in support of the Poor People's Campaign. And the people who keep those long hours say they're accomplishing an almost impossible job.

By AUSTIN SCOTT

Sterling Tucker, the man charged with getting people to come from across the country, accepted his job just eight days ago, and there are only two days left to do it in.

"We had 10 days to do what took three months in 1963," said deputy local coordinator Chip Wood. Nevertheless, he's confident that there will be what he calls "a good march."

With time so short Tucker, director of the Washington Urban League for the past 11 years, had to rely on already organized groups to send people from cities around the nation.

Labor unions, religious organizations, the still active Poor People's Campaign support groups that sent the original demonstrators to Resurrecion City and the city of Washington are the backbone for Wednesday's march.

Tucker refuses to speculate on numbers beyond saying he expects at least 25,000 demonstrators. The National Student Association alone has pledged to supply that many.

Wood said in an interview yesterday he would guess that 75 to 100 organizations have pledged their support, including the United Auto Workers. Its president, Walter Reuther, will not only lead a UAW contingent, but will also be one of the main speakers. And because Tucker was the march's Washington organizer before he took over the position that Bayard Rustin resigned, he plans to turn out as many local residents as possible.

The list of supporters includes such varied groups as the National Council of Churches, the American Jewish Committee, the League of Women Voters the District of Columbia Medical Society and Women for McCarthy.

Chief speakers include Sen. Edward Brooke, R-Mass., the first Negro elected to the upper house since Reconstruction; Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Whitney M. Young Jr., executive director, National Urban League, and Mrs. Martin Luther King Jr., vice-chairman of "Solidarity Day."

Mrs. King issued a statement in Atlanta late Sunday urging all who believe "that America can not afford poverty, can not tolerate racism, and can not survive war," to join her Wednesday.

"Solidarity Day" is being organized separately from the Poor People's Campaign, whose leaders held another march on the Agriculture Department Sunday to support the roundthe-clock vigil that has camped there since Wednesday.

Another Official Quits OCC Post

DR. RICHARD E. WILSON

Another top administrator at Oakland Community College has quit.

The college's board of trustees have been informed that OCC's sixth top administrator has resigned within one year.

Latest to go is Dr. Richard E. Wilson, 34, provost of OCC's new Orchard Ridge campus in Farmington Township.

He has been appointed project director for a three-year program of assistance to new community colleges to be administered by the American Association of Junior Colleges (AAJC) effective July 1.

PREDECESSORS

Others to precede Wilson in leaving were the college's original three presidents and Presidents Dr. John E. Tirrell and its director of finance.

All left for more prestigious jobs, except Tirrell whose resignation is still somewhat of a public mystery.

The board of trustees is expected to name an interim president of the college tomorrow night while considering the selection of a president from many candidates.

Based on seniority and the availability of only two candidates, the selection is most likely to be Dr. Stanley Hergenroeder, provost of the Highland Lakes campus in Waterford Township.

The regular meeting is scheduled to begin at 8 p.m. in the college's Bee Executive Office, 2480 Opdyke, Bloomfield Hills.

Troy Schools' Modular Schedule Lauded

TROY — A visiting group of educators from the University of Michigan Bureau of School Services has commended this school district's controversial flexible modular scheduling program.

The program, introduced at Troy High School three years ago, was scheduled to be dropped next year if additional millage was not approved by voters in the June 10 election.

However, according to Supt. Rex B. Smith, passage of the 4-mill property tax hike will enable the district to continue the debated system.

The comments of the 11 instructors, who visited the school May 1, appeared in a letter to Clyde D. Peterson, Troy High principal, from Kent W. Leach, director of the Bureau of School Services.

Several educators commented on the favorable attitudes of students and teachers.

"Probably the most oustanding feature in mathematics is the fine rapport between students and teachers. The classroom atmosphere is relaxed, yet businesslike. The students are responsive, inquiring, and eager to learn," said A. F. Coxford, assistant professor of education.

"The discipline and morale of students seemed good. The relationship between students and teachers was especially impressive: there was a kind of openness and honesty which I think is unusual," added Alan B. Howes, associate professor of English.

Under the system, the frequency and length of class meetings are determined by a computer on the basis of the type of instruction, the subject and the kind of students in the class.

CLASS LENGTHS VARY

A class day consists of 25 15-minute "teaching modules," with individual classes varying from 45 minutes to 1½ hours.

Some classes meet daily while others, where a minimum of actual teaching is necessary, may meet only once a week.

The student is provided a workroom and is alloted a certain amount of nonscheduled time. He is encouraged to use it to work at his own pace on class-related projects.

The program came under fire from parents at first. Many felt that pupils had too much unscheduled time. The amount of assigned time was subsenquently increased, and a survey of parents' opinion early this year indicated general satisfaction with the system as presently administered.

RECOMMENDATIONS MADE

Recommendations of the bureau visitors included some administrative changes, and investigation of the results of the modular system in certain areas.

Richard W. Bailey, assistant professor of English, called the restoration of department heads, eliminated this year after a millage defeat, "of major importance to the continuing effectiveness of the English program."

Leach also remarked upon the lack of department heads, saying that teachers felt "it would be wise to consider" establishing coordinators within departments and between departments.

The director added, with regard to the scheduling debate, "There seemed to be a fairly high degree of emotoinal feeling concerning the pros and cons of so-called "free time" verus control.

'FEW MODERATE VIEWS'

"There didn't appear to be many moderate viewpoints expressed."

Compromises could be worked out, he suggested, by intensive discussion among board members, administrators, teachers, students and parents on the meaning of terms like "freedom" and "responsibility."

Both Leach and Coxford expressed concern about the effect of the program on students of average and lower ability.

Leach said college-preparatory students appear to use unscheduled time more wisely, and recommended programs and activities be designed to appeal to non-college-bound pupils.

Coxford urged looking into the effect of reduced teacher-student time on student achievement, particularly among those having less ability.

Garbage Can Liner Sale Set

ROCHESTER — The city is about to engage in the garbage can liner business.

A public hearing to rezone 1.5 acres south of Crittenton Hospital and north of McGregor School for apartments was set for 7:30 p.m. July 8. Aikens Fund Development Co. of Pontiac has requested the rezoning in line with similar zoning in the township.

The zoning ordinance was amended to allow a six-man zoning board of appeals. Difficulty in obtaining a quorum with the five-man board was given as the reason. Dale Martin, 423 Parkdale, was named to fill an existing vacancy.

COMBINATION BID

The council accepted a combination bid of General Motors Truck and Coach Division and Fire Trucks Inc. in the amount of $27,106 for purchase of a new fire truck.

The bids were referred to the township for further action since the township has agreed to pay half the cost.

A committee of Mayor Roy Rewold, Manager William Sinclair and Attorney Arthur Cox was named to negotiate with Avon and Oakland townships on a plan for operation of Woodward Memorial Public Library. A sharing of costs is contemplated.

City Manager Royce Downey said more members will be appointed.

Immediate aim of the group is the collection of historical data pertaining to Walled Lake and the area. In the future the committee hopes to purchase an older home to serve as a museum.

In other recent business, the council adopted a swimming pool ordinance which provides, among other things, for fencing of all pools deeper than 12 inches.

Tht new contract, which expires June 30, 1969, was recently ratified by the school board and the union, a chapter of the local AFL-CIO.

There is not yet a total of what the hikes will cost the district, but they are within the budget, said Schools Supt. Leif Hougen.

A committee to learn about candidates who are seeking positions on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors was named recently by the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association.

Called the Candidate Information Committee, the group was formed at the request of association members in the southern part of Oakland County.

"Our Candidate Information Committee will tell us how candidates for the Board of Supervisors feel about county spending and how they will vote if elected," said Association President Glenn Swindler.

Announced candidates for the board of supervisors will receive questionnaires from the committee in order to survey their opinions on pertinent spending issues.

WHAR Head to Speak to Group in Holly Twp.

HOLLY TOWNSHIP—Ben East, chairman of WHAR (Why Have Awful Roads), will address residents of Hawaiian Gardens Mobile Home Park at 7:30 p.m. tonight at the home of Mrs. Arthur Anthony, Lot 34, Grange Hall Road.

The Mauna Loa organization of residents has collected 1,403 signatures towards a goal of 1,500 which they intend to present to the County Road Commission in seeking a traffic signal at the Grange Hall-North Holly Road intersection.

Mrs. Anthony contended that residents of the park have been using private roads to avoid the intersection, which she termed congested and hazardous.

School Budget to Be Revised

The Avondale Board of Education will meet at 8:30 tonight at Auburn Heights Elementary School, 260 S. Squirrel, to revise the 1968-69 budget in the light of a second millage defeat.

Voters last Monday sunk a 7.7-mill increase, having previously defeated a 12.7-millage request in February.

Also expected is discussion of a third millage vote this year.

A resolution to contribute $5,000 to Avon Township on preliminary planning for sewers will be considered. Residents of the area, anxious for sewage service, have been asked to make up the $150,000 preliminary costs.

MRS. JAMES H. KLIPFEL

Lake Angelus Woman in Race for County Seat

Mrs. James H. Klipfel, 59, of 830 Lake Angelus Shores, Lake Angelus, has announced her candidacy for the Republican party nomination in the 22nd district to the reapportioned Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

The election will coincide with the state Aug. 6 primary and national Nov. 5 election.

Mrs. Klipfel seeks to represent a district that includes Orion Township, Pontiac Township, Lake Angelus Village and the northeastern corner of the city of Pontiac.

She is a board member of the Oakland County Homeowners and Taxpayers Association, a group which has been critical of the board of supervisors' taxing and spending policies.

15-YEAR RESIDENT

She is a member of the League of Women Voters, a former assessor of Lake Angelus Village and an area resident for 15 years.

Her strongest stand is opposition to the proposed development of the Oakland-Orion Airport. The airport, if allowed to expand, would have much longer runways than those at the present Allen Airport and is very near her home.

Also opposed to planned expenditures for a new county jail, Mrs. Klipfel said, "I feel spending $6.4 million on a jail is far too much. Under the proposed plan, the criminals would have better housing than many people in Oakland County. We have to put the government back in the people's hands."

Wixom Initiates Pension Plan for 15 City Employes

WIXOM — A pension plan for the 15 city employes has been initiated here after five years of discussion. It will cost the City Council $5,100 the first year.

The city pays a larger share than the employes, according to the Michigan Municipal Employes System's plan being followed.

The city's cost is 4.17 per cent of the first $4,200 of an employe's salary and 5.91 per cent of the salary above that.

The employe's share is 3 per cent of his first $4,200 and 5 per cent of salary over the base amount.

RETROACTIVE COVERAGE

The council is also allotting $14,668 for retroactive coverage for several employes who were working when Wixom became a city in 1958.

In other recent action the council has approved the final plat for 73 lots of Highgate on the Green No. 1 south on Loon Lake Road between Ben Stein and Wixom roads. The subdivision is being developed by Douglas Colwell.

The council also postponed a decision on a request for a traffic light at the westerly city limits from the Micro Poise firm on West Maple. Action is awaiting reports from the police and public works departments, said a city spokesman.

Surprising Oakland A's Saddle Orioles With 2 Losses

Trojan Team Keeps NCAA Track Crown

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Gerry Lindgren figures he was the beneficiary of a miracle, but his Washington State teammates weren't so lucky.

Lindgren completed the third double of his college career when he won the 5,000-meter run at the National Collegiate Athletic Association track and field championships Saturday. But favored Southern California repeated as team champions by one point over the Cougars.

The Trojans scored 58 points to Washington State's 57 as the Cougars won four individual titles to Southern Cal's three.

The winning margin came on the basis of Tim Barrett's third-place finish in the triple jump. Barrett tied with Eric Klein of Washington at 51-0, but had a better second jump and was awarded third.

TWO POINTS

The difference between third and fourth was two points.

Lindgren, who won the 10,000 meters in 29:41.0. Thursday, said he was hurt and tired during the 5,000 and when three contestants got past him late in the race, he figured it was all over.

"I was dead back there," he said. "I could hardly move."

* * *

But move he did, shooting past Kerry Pearce of Texas-El Paso, Arne Kvalheim of Oregon and Dave Stagebert of Georgetown on the final backstretch to win in 13:57.2, a meet record.

"I don't know where I got it" Lindgren said. "It was a miracle."

Washington State's other winners were John Van Reenan with a 194-foot, 10-inch discus throw, and Carl O'Donnell with a 258-11 javelin toss.

HURDLES WIN

Southern Cal's winners were its 440-yard relay team of Earl McCullouch, Fred Kuller, O.J. Simpson and Lennox Miller with a 39.5 clocking and, on Friday, McCullouch in the 110-meter high hurdles at 13. and Miller in the 100-meter dash at 10.1.

Other winners Saturday included surprising Jon Vaugh of UCLA with a pole vault of 17-0 ¾, beating out Southern Cal's Bob Seagren; Dick Fosbury of Oregon State, with a 7.2¼ high jump in his inimitable upside down fashion and Lennox Burgher of Nebraska with a 53-1¼ triple jump.

Also, Dave Patrick of Villanova won the 1,500 meters in 3:39.9, dashing past Oregon's Dave Wilborn on the final backstretch; Dave Hemery of England won the 400-meter intermediate hurdles in 49.8; Lee Evans of San Jose took the 400-meters in 45.0; Byron Dyce of New York University took the 800-meters in 1:47.3; Emmett Taylor of Ohio University took a close 200 meters in 20.8. And Villanova won the mile relay in 3:.08.6.

Other winners the first two days of the meet were Bob Narcessian of Rhode Island with a 202-1 hammer throw, Pertti Pousi of Brigham Young with a 26-3½ long jump, Pearce in the 3,000 meter steeplechase at 8:50-8 and Steve Marcus of UCLA with a 61-7¾ shot put.

USC WINS—Pat Kuehner of Southern Cal is carried off the field by his teammates after he hit a dramatic two-run pinch triple with two outs in the last of the ninth inning to give USC its fifth NCAA College World Series baseball championship, 4-3, over Southern Illinois Saturday night in Omaha.

Southern Cal Baseball Titlist

Trojans Take NCAA Title With 4-3 Win

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Southern California's NCAA baseball champions may or may not rate with the top teams in College World Series history, but Coach Rod Dedeaux says "no USC team had a greater sense of pride."

"It's true we don't have as many outstanding players as past USC championship teams," said the 53-year-old head man. "But I've never had a team that kept coming from behind like this one."

"We were behind in four out of five games here and won them all," he said. "Each time a different guy did it."

Pat Kuehner did it Saturday night, smashing a two-run, 375-foot triple off the fence in right center, with two out and two strikes on him. It gave USC a 4-3 victory over Southern Illinois and its fifth NCAA baseball title.

Kuehner's jubilant teammates carried him off the field. He had gone hitless in 14 previous times at bat in the series, but this isn't a measure of his ability. He was the club's third best rbi man during the season and drafted by the Washington Senators.

Bill Seinsoth, 210-pound first baseman for USC who stroked a two-run homer in the fourth and hit .389 in the series, was voted most outstanding player of the tourney by newsmen.

The Trojans finished with a 50-14 record, winning 30 of their last 34 games.

Ken Harrelson Homers in 8th to Lift Bosox

Jim Lonborg Pitches Five Innings in First '68 Start for Boston

Mike Hershberger's two-run pinch homer in the eighth inning capped a three-run rally that shot Oakland past the Orioles in the opener and Sal Bando drove in three runs with a double and two singles as the A's completed their sweep.

Chuck Dobson, 4-8, stopped Baltimore on five hits, including homers by Fred Valentine and Curt Blefary in the first game. Lew Krausse, 3-7, survived Frank Robinson's three-run homer in the nightcap but needed eighth inning relief help from Catfish Hunter.

* * *

Ken Harrelson's three-run homer in the eighth inning powered the Red Sox past Cleveland. Boston's Rico Petrocelli smacked a two-run homer in the seventh.

* * *

THREE STRAIGHT

The Twins put together three straight victories for the first time this year in trimming Washington, which has lost five times in a row, behind Dave Boswell's four-hit pitching and a 12-hit attack. Cesar Tovar clubbed a two-run homer for the Twins after teammates Tony Oliva and Ted Uhlaender poked run scoring singles.

CAUGHT AT HOME — Detroit catcher Bill Freehan puts the tag on Duane Josephson of the Chicago White Sox as the Chisox' backstop tries to score on a fly ball to left, off the bat of Pete Ward in the seventh inning of their first game in Chicago yesterday. Tigers' Willie Horton hauled in the ball in medium leftfield and fired to Freehan for the put-out. Chicago went on to win this one, 3-2, but Tigers rebounded for a 6-1 verdict in the nightcap.

"He's one helluva pitcher this year," said Smith. "He's got pitches now he didn't have two years ago. He's concentrating and his control is great."

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers said Saturday that relief pitcher John Wyatt has been acquired from the New York Yankees.

The 33-year-old Wyatt joined the American League at Kansas City in 1961 after playing with 11 minor league clubs.

Wyatt was traded to the Boston Red Sox in June, 1966, and sold to the Yankees this spring.

A Tiger spokesman said Wyatt will join the bullpen staff of Detroit and be used exclusively as a relief pitcher.

Wyatt, who was acquired at an undisclosed amount above the waiver price, will fill the vacancy left on the team roster by Eddie Mathews, who is confined to a hospital with a back ailment.

Miss Bardahl Captures Cup in Hydro Test

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A blown engine and two penalty laps made it easy as Miss Bardahl, driven by Billy Schumacher of Seattle, Wash., to run away with the first Wisconsin Cup race for unlimited hydroplanes Sunday.

* * *

Schumacher and Bill Munsey, who piloted the fastest qualifier, Miss U.S., to a pair of preliminary heat victories, were paired in the final race, but Munsey blew his engine on the second 2.5 mile lap.

Schumacher also won his first two heats.

Two other boats, Notre Dame and My Gypsy, jumped the gun on the final heat and had to run an extra lap. That made it a two-boat race, with Bardahl pitted against Savair's Probe. Bardahl was ahead all the way.

Savair's Probe also was second in the final standings with 900 points. Bardahl finished with 1,200. Third went to My Gypsy, 863 and fourth was Notre Dame, 850.

Schumacher's victory was his first this season. He wound up fourth in the opening unlimited race two weeks ago at Guntersville, Ala. He won six of eight races last year.

Donnie Allison Captures Carolina 500-Mile Race

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Donnie Allison, only one year out of the rookie class, won his first Grand National stock car race Sunday, outlasting a 44-car field in the Carolina 500-miler at Rockingham.

The 28-year-old Hueytown, Ala., father of two children, NASCAR's rookie of the year in 1967, finished more than two miles ahead of his older brother Bobby Allison to climax a day of attrition among top drivers unlike anything seen in southern stock car racing in years.

Donnie Allison, driving a factory-sponsored Ford, supervised by former driving great Banjo Mathews, added $15,675 to the $22,350 he already had won this season. The purse was $78,280.

Bobbie Allison, 31, who deserted a factory Ford 10 days ago to campaign in his own independent Chevelle, won $9,650.

OVER 5 HOURS

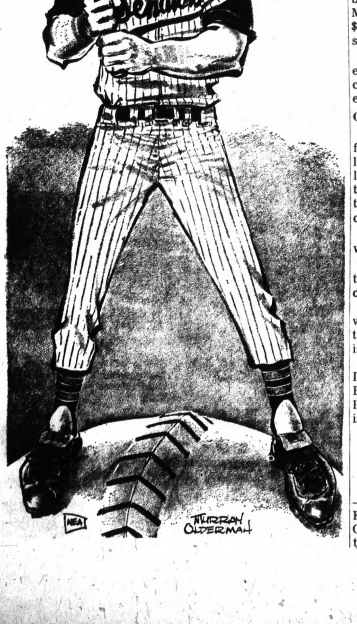
It took the winner just over five hours to negotiate the 500 laps of the one-mile North Carolina Motor Speedway, where temperatures, according to a tire company official, were 145 degrees on the track surface.

The winning average speed was 99.337 miles an hour.

A crowd of 50,000, largest in the track's history, baked in 95-degree temperatures.

Only 18 cars finished of the 44 which started, and only two of the 14 factory-backed car finished.

James Hylton was third in a Dodge Charger, rookie Dick Brickhouse was fourth in a Plymouth and Roy Tyner fifth in a Ford.



Lady Bowler Stars in Debut on Pro Circuit

ST. PAUL (AP) — Pat Costello of Morago, Calif., appearing in her first Professional Woman Bowlers Association Tournament, captured the $1,300 first prize in the St. Paul Open Sunday night.

The 21-year-old former junior champion defeated Shirley Sjostrom of Bloomington, Minn., 207-201 in the championship match.

Prior to that title match Miss Costello edged Phyllis Massey of Alameda, Calif., 170-169.

Bev Ortner of Galva, Iowa, wound up fourth and Patty McBride of Grand Rapids, Mich., finished fifth.

Mrs. Sjostrom who led the qualifying after 21 games won $850 while Mrs. Massey earned $715, Miss Ortner $615 and Miss McBride $540.

Gary Bettenhausen in Sprint Auto Win

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Gary Bettenhausen slipped by Scratch Daniels on the 37th lap and won the U.S. Auto Club 50-lap feature race for sprint cars at the Vigo Country Fairgrounds Sunday.

Bettenhausen won $2,070 and Daniels, who was second, got $1,438.

Rollie Beale took third, Sam Sessions was fourth and Carl Williams was fifth. A. J. Foyt, running third went out with engine trouble on the 48th lap and was 10th.

Genth Is Leader for First Half in Bahama 500

FREEPORT, Grand Bahama (AP) — Richard Genth of North Miami, Fla., with former heavyweight boxing champion Rocky Marciano as one of two crewmen, led the field in the $92,000 Bahamas 500 powerboat race from the start to the halfway mark at Nassau Sunday.

Genth's 31-foot inboard, Thunderbird V, averaged 53 miles per hour but was trailed by defending champion Odell Lewis of St. Cloud, Fla., and John Bakos of Fond du Lac, Wis., the fastest qualifier, each one minute behind Genth coming into Nassau.

Four of the 37 boats dropped out of the race.

The race began in heavy rain and choppy seas when a flare was fired at Freeport.

The 589-statute mile circuit around the islands of the British colony was expected to take 10-12 hours for the leader, perhaps all night for end men. First prize is $20,000.

Jerry Langer, in seventh position over-all at Nassau, was leading the outboard class in his 27-foot Magnum-Donzi powered by three 115-h.p. Evinrudes.

Net Player Shift to Pros Cramps Style of U.S. Gals

By GEOFFREY MILLER

LONDON (AP) — The Wightman cup is back in Britain—and United States women's tennis is beginning to count the costs of professionalism.

Without two of their most brilliant girls—Mrs. Billie Jean King and Rosie Casals, now pros—the Americans lost the cup to Britain Saturday for the first time in eight years.

The British won four matches to three but U.S. non-playing captain Mrs. Betty Pratt was not dismayed.

"I knew all along it would be a tough job," Mrs. Pratt said. "It was a desperately close series, and it might have gone either way. Most of our girls are young, and they performed with credit.

"It doesn't happen often that you lost two girls like Billie Jean and Rosie at the same time."

Mrs. King and Miss Casals signed professional contracts three months ago.

PEACHES WINS

Three of the girls who faced Britain in the two-day series at Wimbledon were new to Wightman Cup tennis—Peaches Bartkowicz of Hamtramck, Mich., 19, Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., 21, and Stephanie De Fina of Hollywood, Fla., 22.

Miss Bartkowicz won her match against Winnie Shaw but Miss Harter and Miss De Fina lost the last deciding doubles—a desperately exciting affair—to the Truman sisters, Mrs. Christine Truman Janes and Nell Truman.

Packer Star Willie Davis Lands Award

CHICAGO (AP) — Willie Davis, All-Pro linebacker of the Green Bay Packers, was named Sunday winner of the National Football League's top award for contributions to his team, league and community.

Davis, who last week received a master's degree from the University of Chicago, received the Justice Byron Raymond "Whizzer" White Award at the NFL's second annual awards night dinner, a $100-a-plate affair.

The award is named for the UMS. Supreme Court justice who was a former football-American and professional football player. Davis received the award from last year's winner, quarterback Bart Starr of the Packers.

Finalists in the award competition were Davis, Frank Clarke of Dallas, Bobby Mitchell of Washington, Mike Pyle of Washington, Mike Pyle of Chicago and John Unitas of Baltimore.

Tarding Fairly Active

Market Opening Is Irregular

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved irregularly in fairly active trading early today.

Gains outnumbered losses on the New York Stock Exchange by nearly 50 issues. The exchange's index, however, eased after showing a slight plus at the opening.

Most changes were fractional, but there was a scattering of 1-point moves, most of these on the downside. Losses of a point or more were taken by Polaroid, Santa Fe, Merck, and Schering. Xerox fell about 2. Texas Instruments rose more than a point.

Fractional losses were taken by Control Data, Chrysler, Ford, Sperry Rand, United Aircraft and International Nickel.

FRACTIONAL GAINS

Up fractionally were CIT Financial, International Paper, Cerro and A. J. Industries.

Expectations that the House would vote favorably Thursday for the tax increase-spending cut bill, plus the sharp rise of were cited as bullish background factors for the market.

Among early blocks were:

American Telephone, up ¼ at 50 on 35,000 shares; Louisville Gas & Electric, off ¼ at 29⅞ on 25,400; Cox Broadcasting, off ⅜ at 60 on 11,500 and Standard Oil (New Jersey), up ¼ at 68 on 7,300.

No Gains Seen in Peace Talks

Sources Say N. Viet Awaits Military Boost

PARIS (UPI) — Diplomatic sources predicted today Vietnam war talks will make no progress this week because North Vietnam apparently wants to score a major military victory before changing the pace of the negotiations.

Ambassador-at-Large W. Averell Harriman of the United States and Xuan Thuy, chief North Vietnamese delegate, meet Wednesday in their ninth session of preliminary talks designed to scale down the war and allow full-scale negotiations.

STILL DEADLOCKED

The talks remained deadlocked at the eighth session last Wednesday. Harriman warned Vietcong rocket attacks upon Saigon were threatening the future of the negotiations. It has been the United State's position that the Communists should reduce their military effort in response to the U.S. partial bombing pause of the North Vietnam ordered March 31.

North Vietnam has insisted that the United States end all bombing of North Vietnam before further issues be discussed.

If rocket attacks against Saigon are continued, Harriman may make a new strong protest spelling out reprisals the United States might take, diplomatic sources said.

The Vietcong have boasted they will unleash massive bombardments against the South Vietnamese capital.

3 N-Powers to Assure All Who OK Pact

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Britain, the Soviet Union and the United States plan to give formal assurance to the U.N. Security Council today for the safety of nonnuclear countries which accept the treaty to check the spread of nuclear weapons.

The three nuclear powers were to declare that they would seek immediate Security Council action to help any such countries threatened or attacked by nuclear weapons.

The treaty, approved by the General Assembly Wednesday, would pledge countries with nuclear weapons not to transfer them to others and pledges the others not to acquire them.

The Big Three worked out their declaration and a council resolution supporting their warning to ease the fears of countries worried about protection if they give up the right to make atomic bombs.

FRANCE BOYCOTTS

A fourth nuclear power, France, boycotted the Geneva negotiations which produced the treaty and abstained from voting on the General Assembly Resolution endorsing the treaty. But France's U.N. delegate said his government would act just as if it were signing the treaty.

The three-power warning was aimed mainly at the fifth nuclear power, Communist China. The Chinese Communists have charged that the treaty is a Soviet-American plot against them.

In debate on the treaty in the assembly's main political committee, some countries argued that the Big Three declaration would not give give them any assurances that are not already in the U.N. charter. Even some supporters of the three powers say their resolution does not involve them in any new commitments.

But they also say the fact that the Soviet Union, the United States and Britain together are reaffirming previous commitments should carry special force against nuclear blackmail.

Mismanagement Cited in Paper Glut

MAKE OVER PAGES

Is Wall Street Culprit?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — As Wall Street sinks under a sea of paper work its wails have a plaintive, hurt tone, a quality you might expect from an innocent child or a dog that was unexpectedly and unjustly punished.

CUNNIFF

This punishment by paper was not without warning, however. True, not all could have foreseen the causes of the paper glut—the growth of stockholders, the performance cult, the speculation. But there were warnings.

To say that paper work is the culprit is to say that nobody is to blame. But a lot of people believe that mismanagement is one of the real reasons Wall Street is so dangerously snafued in bookkeeping that it must curtail its hours.

For years the exchanges promoted the concept of every American a stockholder, and now there are 24 million of them, a 250 per cent jump in one decade. They encouraged institutions—funds, insurance companies, banks—to use their facilities.

SALES EMPHASIZED

At the same time, brokers emphasized sales rather than service. Front offices were polished. Back rooms, aptly called cages, seemed like stage settings, with green eyeshades, sleeve garters, spittoons and metal-shaded light bulbs.

The Bawl Street Journal, an irreverent, once-a-year spoof of the investment community by the Bond Club of New York, jibed that one firm jumped into automation with two adding machines and a Monroe calculator, 1934 model.

With the arrival of the volume business it had hustled to attract, the financial community found its systems and methods outdated. How could 1890 methods record the business of mutual funds, whose assets had risen from less than $1 billion to more than $40 billion in 20 years? How could they handle government forms?

A few brokers still think that this growth might have been handled by old methods except for another factor: This was "performance," and it multiplied many times the impact of this stockholder growth.

BEST RECORD

Performance means a portfolio always must show the best record. Funds and trusts once bought stock and left it idle in vaults, confident that some year it would begin to grow. Now such stocks might be sold in a few months if they don't perform.

Goading them on are "report cards" issued by several brokers which show month to month just how well a fund is performing. Computers now permit the same techniques to be applied to funds left with banks for investing.

In some instances, for example, large institutions give their funds to three managers for investment, thereby putting all three in competition with each other for the best performance. Trading soars as a result.

A spokesman for a large investment banking firm commented, "Once a bank trust officer would have been ashamed —might even have been fired— to show too much action. Now he'd be embarrassed not to show plenty of activity."

HAVEN'T BEEN SLEEPING

Small investors haven't been asleep to what is going on. They too have stepped up their trading, spurred by the urge to outrace inflation. With institutions, they have helped to set volume records almost daily.

This soaring business—more than 21 million shares on the New York Stock Exchange in one day—leaves many brokers almost hopelessly outdated, and some are in serious danger of losing bookkeeping control. Why did they permit this to happen? Answers are freely offered.

Here are a few:

- This business is a paper business and always will be. It can't be fully automated. How can a machine, even an educated machine, tell the difference between a stock and a bond?
- Wall Street laid an egg in the 1930s and so it didn't attract new blood. It wasn't until the mid-1950s that talent reappeared. So now there's a gap in senior management.
- This is an industry of small businesses. Many brokerage houses felt they could survive with old-fashioned methods until a few years ago. Now they can't afford computers unless they merge with another broker. That or go out of business.
- A broker speaks: "You just can't find good workers today. The central city has been emptied of good clerks these days. The girls we get just aren't sharp. The college-trained girls like to work uptown near the stores."

A more realistic answer is that the brokerage business, while forecasting the boom in other industries, failed to prepare for its own. Having sold the idea of stock ownership, it then couldn't deliver the goods.

Now there is something pathetic about such a powerful and critical industry begging for $90-a-week clerks to bail it out of paper.

Powell Is Strong Favorite in Harlem Vote Tuesday

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Adam Clayton Powell, who was ousted from Congress and then won relection but failed to claim his seat, goes before the voters of Harlem again Tuesday. And he's an overwhelming favorite to win renomination.

His opponent in the Democratic primary is John Young, 52, a former member of Powell's staff.

Whether the flamboyant Powell, who is 59, actually returns to Washington is still subject to question. even though few in Harlem doubt he will win renomination and reelection.

Congress may again refuse to seat him. Or, as he did after the last election, he may not claim his seat. Or he may get caught up in complications stemming from a drawn-out state court action involving a libel suit he lost.

SELF-EXILE

Powell has ruled the 18th Congressional District for over two decades — of late from self-exile on Bimini, the preacher-politician's own sunny Elba in the Bahamas.

Many Harlem voters feel Powell got a "raw deal" in 1967, when Congress expelled him, overriding a select committee that had recommended censure and a fine.

Powell had held his House seat for 22 years before expulsion on charges of misusing public funds and flouting New York state courts in the libel judgment case.

"We still feel he was jobbed out of his job because of his race," said the Amsterdam News, Harlem's Negro weekly newspaper, in endorsing Powell last week.

REFUSED STATUS

After the expulsion, Harlem sent Powell back to Washington —he won reelection overwhelmingly in a special election last year. However, he didn't try to reclaim his seat. He said he wouldn't go back as a freshman and demanded restoration of the seniority that had made him chairman of the education and labor committee.

Powell didn't appear in Harlem during that campaign. He once said that his followers would elect him "Until I die, and even after I'm dead, I think some of you will write my name in."

Most in Poll Oppose U.S. Assured Pay

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A majority of Americans don't like the idea of a guaranteed annual income for nonworkers but overwhelmingly support a plan that would guarantee everyone enough work to earn at least $60 a week, according to the Gallup Poll.

The poll reported Sunday that a recent survey of 1,570 adults across the nation found that the lower a person's income the more likely he was to supp0rt a guaranteed minimum income.

But the survey added that a significant fact reported was that an overwhelming majority of persons in all income levels and of all races supported a plan guaranteeing work rather than money.

The guaranteed work plan was favored by 78 per cent of those questioned, and opposed by 18 per cent. The 4 per cent balance voied no opinion.

58 PCT. OPPOSED

By comparison, the guaranteed minimum income plan was opposed by 58 per cent of those surveyed and supported by 36 per cent. The remaining 6 per cent had no opinion.

The guaranteed income plan proposed by some economists would provide a four-member family with a minimum $3,200 per year whether or not family members are working.

A breakdown of those responding to the survey according to race, found that 33 per cent of whites favored the guaranteed annual wage while 60 per cent were opposed. Sixty-six per cent of nonwhites favored the plan while 30 per cent were opposed.

Successful Investing

Q—Please give your opinion on Canadian Industrial Gas & Oil (Toronto Exchange) and current price—F. B.

A—A series of mergers formed this company in 1965, giving it high speculative potential in Northwest Canada's Rainbow-Zama area, the Arctic Islands, the North Sea's offshore drilling operations and mineral properties in Wales. About 90 per cent of CIG is owned by Northern & Central Gas Co., so for trading purposes shares are limited to around 900,000.

Price range was narrow until this year when shares recently hit an all-time high of 17¾, up from an April low of 11¼. Back of this spurt was the disclosure of a rich mineral discovery in Wales, including silver in addition to zinc, lead and copper. Because oil companies are diversifying into a worldwide search for wanted minerals, CIG is considered to be an extremely interesting speculation.

Q—I'd like to know what are hidden stocks and how to find out where they are.—R. M.

A—Hidden stocks, commonly called sleepers, are unrecognized bargains. For a stock to become active on the upside of the market, it requires a well-informed following — investors who are aware of the company's products and future prospects. Sometimes an astute analyst discovers a little-known company showing consistently good profits from some ordinary product or service. He sees an undervalued issue with growth potential and low price-earnings ratio. Shares are likely to be unlisted but this is not necessarily so. When such a sleeper is awakened by news releases about its company's progress and bids for the shares begin to climb, the stock could become a new glamor issue.

Investors or analysts, searching for sleepers, look for rising earnings and a modest price-earnings ratio. If a cash dividend is paid, the yield is likely to be better than average. To pick a real sleeper requires financial insight, factual knowledge and an occasional hunch about industry developments and socio-economic trends.

Cyrus P. Vance, diplomat and deputy negotiator at the Vietnam peace talks in Paris, was named yesterday as a new trustee of Yale University.

Vance, U.S. ambassador-at-large, won out over William L. Buckley Jr. and businessman John Musser.

Yale President Kingman Brewster Jr., in announcing the election results at the annual alumni reunion, said a record 30,000 Yale alumni took part in the balloting over the past two months.

The announcement did not mention the actual vote count, or who finished second or third.

VANCE Vance, a 1939 Yale graduate, will assume his new duties July 1 as a fellow of the 19-member Yale Corporation, the university's governing board of trustees. The term is for six years.

Vance succeeds William McChesney Martin, chairman of the board of the Federal Reserve System.

Dr. King's Pulpit to Be Taken by His Brother

The Rev. A. D. Williams King will take over the pulpit of his slain brother, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., at Ebenezer Baptist Church in Atlanta.

The Rev. Mr. King announced during a sermon yesterday at Louisville's Zion Baptist Church that he will assume the associate pastorate at Ebenezer. He has been pastor here for 3½ years.

"A minister travels life's journey under sealed orders," the Rev. Mr. King said. "I've just opened my sealed orders and find that this time my journey leads home."

In moving to Atlanta, he will join his father, the Rev. Martin Luther King Sr., the other associate pastor of the 4,500-member church. Three generations of the King family have held the pulpit at Ebenezer.

His resignation at Zion Baptist Church will be effective August 25.

Friendly's marriage to the former Dorothy Greene ended in divorce. His marriage to Mrs. Mark took place at a private home with a few friends in attendance. Rabbi William Braude performed the ceremony.

Wallace Hits Gun-Control Laws

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — George C. Wallace, back on his presidential fund-raising tour of the South, says federal gun-control legislation will do little, if anything, to combat crime.

Wallace interrupted his campaign swing through Dixie long enough Sunday to fly to Washington for a network television show and then to Boston.

His schedule today at Richmond included a news conference, a $25-a-plate dinner and a political rally tonight.

In Virginia, the former Alabama governor ran into a feud between his American Independent party and the Virginia Conservative party which wants Wallace for president and California Gov. Ronald Reagan for vice president.

CONSERVATIVES DINE

The Conservative party has a $6-a-plate dinner tonight at the same time as the Wallace dinner.

In his TV appearance, on ABC's "Issues and Answers," and at a Boston news conference, Wallace once again took a stand against tighter gun control laws. He said they would do nothing more than "keep guns out of the hands of law-abiding citizens. The criminals will get them like they always have."

Wallace said the only real deterrent to crime "is to enforce the criminal laws and reverse some of the decisions of the federal courts which make it almost impossible to uphold the laws."

"Seeing a murder punished," he added, "is more effective than any gun-control legislation."

JUST AS TRAGIC

Wallace said the assassinations of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy and Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. were tragic and senseless, but that "It is just as tragic that a working man's wife can't go to the supermarket in the big cities for fear of her life."

On other issues, Wallace said:

● Poor Negroes "are being used" by the Poor People's Campaign in Washington.

● Most congressmen who advocate school integration refuse to send their children to public schools in the nation's capital.

MD Suggests Scorecard for Pronouncing Death

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A life-and-death scorecard has been suggested by a doctor as one way to answer the difficult medical and ethical question: When is a patient dead and his organs available for transplants?

The suggestion came from Dr. Vincent J. Collins, professor of anesthesia at Northwestern University School of Medicine, at a panel discussion at the annual convention of the American Medical Association.

This was his proposal:

The patient's heart, brain, lungs, circulation and reflex activity would be monitored for one or two hours. Each activity would be scored 2 if normal, 1 if depressed and 0 if stopped.

A score of 5 or more would indicate continuing life. Less than 5 would mean death was near. And 0 would be a sure indication of death.

COMMON STANDARD

Collins suggested that such a system could provide an answer for transplant surgeons seeking a common standard to determine if a potential donor is in fact dead.

Collins was one of three specialists who discussed moral and legal problems in "Medicine and Religion" here Sunday.

Dr. Howard P. Lewis of the University of Oregon Medical School said doctors "cannot evade the unpleasant responsibility" of deciding the moment of death and of saying who shall receive organ transplants.

Dr. J. W. Provonsha of Loma Linda (Calif.) University said "doctors are playing God" in deciding "what attitude we ought to have toward those who have ceased to be persons."

City Pay Hike Expected for New Teachers

In an effort to hire more teachers, Pontiac's board of education is expected to guarantee inexperienced teachers a salary of at least $6,750 at a special meeting tonight.

The current beginning salary is $6,250. A new bachelor's degree minimum is currently being negotiated with the Pontiac Education Association.

Supt. Dr. Dana P. Whitmer said the move would help the school system hire more teachers just out of college. Otherwise, there could be a critical teacher shortage this fall, he noted.

Other items scheduled to be discussed in a short meeting are the selection of architects for the proposed senior high and naming of appraisers and realtors for property in the area of the proposed Human Resources Center.

INFORMAL DISCUSSION

The board will meet at 7 to 7:30 p.m. before they are scheduled informally meet with their human relations committee, which has objected to the board's proposals to relieve de de facto school segregation.

The manufacturer's excise tax on autos was first levied in 1917 at 3 per cent.
