

School Bus Drivers Called Negligent

JACKSON (B) — A locomotive engineer charges that some school bus drivers in Jackson, Washitaw and Calhoun Counties are failing to use precaution at railroad crossings.

And H. C. Clark, secretary of Local 240 of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, says he's going to do something about it.

Clark says he is preparing a letter for State Superintendent of Public Instructions Clair L. Taylor, describing negligence on the part of some drivers and requesting that something be done to avert a tragedy.

Several engineers, Clark says, have reported near-collisions with school buses this fall.

Endurance Mark Set in Utah by '57 Ford

SPEEDWAY, Ind. (INS) — The United States Auto Club has announced a 50,000-mile endurance run at an average speed of 108.16 miles an hour has been completed by a 1957 Ford at Utah's Bonneville Salt Flats.

USAC said no other vehicle in history has gone so far so fast. Duane Carter, USAC director of competition, said a 1957 Ford Fairlane V-8 Club Victoria whirled over the famous salt bed on a 10-mile circular course for 19 days and nights.

Carter said that in addition to the Club Victoria, a second closed car and a convertible were tested and that the three cars captured a total of 458 international and American records. A team of 14 drivers alternated at their wheels.

Paint Shows Up Planes Better

CAA Seeking Methods to Prevent Collisions in Mid-Air

INDIANAPOLIS (U) — The Civil Aeronautics Administration said today it has developed two promising ways of making planes easier to see—and therefore, less likely to collide—in daytime.

One, a powerful flashing light, has extended the distance a plane may be seen by more than 25 per cent, the CAA said.

The other, a fluorescent paint, makes a plane stand out prominently whether viewed against the sky, or against a green or brown background of earth.

At the same time, the CAA reported the gravest danger in the air is not of head-on collisions but of one plane overtaking another.

WARNINGS DON'T HELP

The CAA also revealed studies showing a warning to a pilot there are other planes in the vicinity may have little or no effect on his ability to sight other craft quickly enough to avert a collision.

The agency made no attempt, however, to relate the findings to collisions over Arizona's Grand Canyon in June when one airliner overtook another. In that case one pilot had been forewarned and the other didn't know their planes were converging.

Studies of aerial collisions, airplane conspicuity, and projectors for development of "proximity warning" devices, were described by research engineers during a visit to the CAA's Technical Development Center here by 400 electronic experts attending the annual meeting of the Radio Technical Commission for Aeronautics (RTCA).

Hal Boyle Says:

How About Tagging Cocktail Party Guests?

NEW YORK (U) — Everybody wrong with most cocktail parties. talks about how terrible the average cocktail party is, but nobody does anything about it — except maybe throw a worse one himself later.

It's reached a point where, when a host invites you to a cocktail party, you wonder whether it's because he really wants to see you, or merely is seeking revenge because you had him over to your last house party.

After attending some 3,000 of these social marathons — I have the same morbid interest in them that old women have in attending funerals — I believe I've figured out a way cocktail parties can not only be made endurable but enjoyable.

First, let us examine what is with Miss Wambutt... She's so intellectual... and also with Mr. Frothingham... He's a real dear," says the hostess and gallops off fast.

Many complain that the talk at cocktail parties sounds more like screaming than conversation. This is true. People start screaming because they are so bored with the person they are talking to they can't stand to hear him say another word.

That's the crux of the whole trouble. You rarely get to pick the people you talk to. It is a kind of verbal lottery, and the odds are against your getting a likely number, someone interested in the same things you are.

"I know you'll be enchanted with Miss Wambutt... She's so intellectual... and also with Mr. Frothingham... He's a real dear," says the hostess and gallops off fast.

Two hours later you know the deadly reason, Miss Wambutt, who wears Clara Bow bangs, is bipped on reincarnation and is sure she remembers you from a previous life in Nineveh — or was it Tyre? when she was a princess and you were her pre-Christian slave. Mr. Frothingham, a distinguished codger with a silver mustache, has only two words — "Uh" and "uh-huh." His main interest in life is in dipping his mustache into a martini and then squeezing it dry with his lower lip.

How can we avoid these situations? By taking a tip from business conventions, at which delegates wear identity tags bearing their names and business firms.

Here is my idea. Every cocktail party guest should be made to wear, not merely an identity tag, but a printed biography card listing his interests and prejudices — in large clear type.

For example, a card like this:

Subjects I don't want to talk about: Politics, religion, flying saucers, the opera, interplanetary flights, the possibility of life on Mars, and John Foster Dulles.

Subjects I do like to talk about: Sex — if you're a girl under 40, golf — if you know a sure way to shoot under 100, any new income tax deductions you've heard of, the unreasonable demands of labor, and why the government will do anything for the farmer but nothing for the small businessman.

"My name is Elbert Sticher. I manufacture ladies' undergarments. Yes, I find it interesting. My income is upward of $20,000 a year.

"I have a wife and three children — all grown. If you don't show me pictures of your family, I won't show you mine.

"I am an intermittent Presbyterian and a registered Democrat.

vote Republican, but my father told me with his dying breath that if I ever did he would roll over in his grave.

Let everyone wear biography cards like that and no cocktail party could be dull. If Mr. Sticher didn't appeal to you, all you'd have to do is move on, murmuring, "sorry, I'm afraid I'm one of your pet peeves."

And Mr. Sticher would be as grateful to see you walk off as you'd be to leave him. No hurt feelings, no little white lies.

No one would have an excuse for getting stuck in a boring conversation unless he simply could not read. And whatever else you say about cocktail parties, you have to admit most of the people who go to them can read.

Well, until the third martini, anyway.

Brooklyn Dodge rooters, and people who think it's funny to ask me, what's new in brassieres these days besides foam rubber?

"Special warning: No matter how many martinis I drink, I never lend money to strangers at a party, so save your breath.

"Special request: If you know any atom bomb secrets, don't tell me, I talk in my sleep."

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run... Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah... it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

We wanted them to prove to you—in action—the stamina and performance we had built into them. No words of ours could speak with equal conviction.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now being offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world... a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

We feel that by their deeds, you shall know the '57 Ford cars.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy... and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

Keefe Braselle's Wife Wins Point in Divorce Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The wife of actor Keefe Braselle says he told her he was going to Europe to seek work—and that if she thinks she can collect on a court order against him, try it.

In superior court Mrs. Norma Braselle, 29, tried. The court appointed a receiver to take over Braselle's assets, which his wife's attorney listed as half of the $100,000 equity in a Beverly Hills office building.

Mrs. Braselle's attorney said Braselle is $1,175 in arrears in alimony and child support and owes $1,000 in attorney's fees.

Mrs. Braselle obtained an interlocutory divorce decree last March 29 but Braselle had it set aside. A contested divorce suit is pending.

AMBASSADOR FOR '37—The Super four-door sedan, above, will be the lowest priced model in the 1937 Nash line, American Motors officials said today in announcing that the new cars will be on display in dealer showrooms tomorrow, Oct. 25. The model above is powered by a 225-horse power V8 engine and has a 121 1/2-inch wheelbase. The Ambassadors will be on display at Rogers Sales & Service, 695 Auburn Ave.

Go on Display Thursday Four-Headlight System, Lower Price for Nash

DETROIT (INS)—The 1937 Nash Ambassador, with a revolutionary four-headlight system, will be introduced Thursday in Nash dealer showrooms across the nation.

The new Nash models—lower than the '36 models by two inches—also features a new 255-horsepower V-8 engine.

George Romney, American Motors president, recently disclosed that the price of the new Nash, Hudson and Rambler models will be lower than the '36 models.

The 1937 styling changes begin at the front with the chrome-encased headlights set in the fenders. Roy Abernathy, vice president of automotive distribution and marketing for American Motors Corp. said:

"The new headlight system, with two lamps mounted vertically in each fender, is the greatest advance in automobile lighting since the advent of sealed-beam units. It also gives the car an attractive new styling area."

All four lamps are used for the high beam, while only the upper two are used for the low beam. Actual night driving tests made by American Motors proves that the new system supplies up to 100 extra feet of illumination, while at the same time concentrating the light in such a way that oncoming drivers are not "blinded," said Abernathy.

The upper lights direct more light down the right side of the road, and the two lower lamps probe down the highway.

All 1937 Nash models are powered by the new, larger AMC V-8 engine, rated at 255-horsepower. The engine has a compression ratio of 10 to 1, displacement of 327 cubic inches and torque rating of 345 foot-pounds.

State Police Search for Parole Violator

ITHACA (AP)—State Police today asked for public assistance in the search for a parole violator wanted in connection with the raping of an eight-year-old Gratiot County school girl Monday.

Sheriff Robert J. Russell said the girl had identified the suspect as Edward David Seifort, 37, from pictures taken when he was a prison inmate.

The young victim of the attack was reported in "satisfactory" condition in Alma Community Hospital following surgery.

The Gratiot county prosecutor has issued a warrant charging Seifort with statutory rape. State Police said he also was wanted for questioning in connection with other unsolved sex cases.

Seifort, who has a prison record dating back to 1935, was described by police as 5-8, 190 pounds, with brown hair and eyes and wearing glasses.

He is believed to be driving a 1949 black Ford with a blue top and damaged left rear fender. The car has a blue out-of-state license, believed to be from Nevada.

Watched His (Wine) Step and Landed in Jail

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP)—Cafe owner Albert Jones watched his step too closely and ended up in jail. Liquor board agents Jack Graves and Walter Sparks noticed that Jones carefully skipped the sixth step when climbing the stairs at his place.

There were 19 pints of wine under the step and Jones went to jail on a charge of possessing win on premises licensed only for beer.

This Unfair Exchange Was Real Robbery

CINCINNATI (AP)—A jewelry store operator told police that a slick thief exchanged a bogus diamond ring for a genuine one.

Police said he told them the "customer" visited the store several times and finally asked to see a $1,350 ring. After looking it over, he handed a ring back to the clerk and walked out with the real one.

State police in a few of the states are limited in their authority to the enforcement only of the motor vehicle and traffic regulations.

Stumps in Detroit Area

Kefauver Lambastes GOP for Illusion of Prosperity

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver said today the administration's economic policies have created an "illusion of prosperity" that has served only to "fatten the treasuries of the giant financial empires while the American people have been lagging behind."

Kefauver struck out at what he called Republican "stop-gap election eve prosperity" as he came to this auto manufacturing center for a full day of campaigning in the Detroit area.

The Democratic vice presidential candidate's chartered plane arrived here early today from the Corn Belt, where in speeches yesterday at Waterloo and Mason City, Iowa, he drew cheers with attacks on what he called Republican "election bait" farm promises.

In a speech prepared for delivery before a luncheon audience of Detroit business and professional men, he assailed what he said were "misleading generalities" by GOP orators on the nation's economy.

He said Detroit had a first-hand reminder of the "illusion of GOP prosperity" in the idle Studebaker-Packard plant.

He charged Secretary of Defense Wilson with driving the company "to the wall" by a "narrow base procurement policy" of concentrating government defense purchases in the hands of a relatively few manufacturers.

"On the verge of collapse with 23,000 workers, 4,000 dealers and 100,000 shareholders," he asserted "Wilson has now cooked up a deal with Curtiss Wright to tide it over until after election day."

He called this "a maneuver not unlike that of Dick Nixon, who went to the Midwest and returned hurriedly to Washington with word that hog prices had to be kept at $15 a hundred until after election." Kefauver said the family pocket-book, not corporate profits, is the true index of economic well-being. But as auto workers wages have risen 14 per cent since 1932, General Motors profits have gone up 113 per cent, he asserted.

In additional comparisons, he said corporate profits have advanced 29 per cent faster than wages and corporate dividends 75 per cent faster.

On the other hand, he declared, net farm income is down 25 per cent from 1932, the small business share of corporate profits has dropped from 7.3 to 4.5 per cent, unemployment is up, while 90 per cent of tax relief has gone to corporations and wealthy individuals.

Budget Not Padded, Robert Moore Says

including the new cottages recently built, and Camp Oakland cares for 20 more.

"The Contagious Hospital budget for 1956 was set at $186,500," he said. Its disbursements in 1955 had been $151,938. Disbursements in the first six months of 1956 have totaled $83,492. This indicates that a surplus of some $20,000 may remain at the end of the year, if there is no epidemic.

"However, some of the other department budgets will show deficits," he pointed out.

"Far from having any surplus in our general fund today, we have instead a deficit of $11,362.85.

"The only instance in which we have not acted entirely in accordance with the law," said Moore, "has been in a few past years when we spent more than a tenth of a mill on capital improvements. We did that because the buildings were badly needed and because, by paying for them as they were built, we saved the taxpayers thousands of dollars in interest."

In commenting on this fact Dr. Louis Friedland, governmental expert from Wayne State University who is advising the supervisors in their plans for the new courthouse, said, "The rigidity of statutes does not keep pace with the needs of a rapidly growing area. The fact that the law was changed this year showed a tardy realization of the need."

"The law formerly limited capital improvement spending to a tenth of a mill," said Moore. "Our population was expanding so rapidly that we had to have new buildings. The state finally recognized this and the law was changed this year to legalize the spending of any budget surplus for capital improvements."

"The Auditor General's Department in a few past years had noted in its audits the fact that we had failed to keep within the maximum provided. However, there was no such comment in the latest audit which we have just received.

"As a result of the changing of this law, we have been transferring surpluses remaining in several funds to our building fund.

"I have told you how, through the use of surpluses we have been able to build several of our present county buildings," Moore continued.

"We also used some surplus money to buy the added land we needed from the state for the proposed courthouse site on Telegraph Road.

"I have said that we have not padded the budget to build up a fund for building a new courthouse, and that is true. But we have had surpluses. In any county that is growing as rapidly as Oakland County, it would have been unwise to cut budget estimates too fine.

"So we have had surpluses, but we have also had plenty of deficits as unexpected needs arose."

Proposed Yard Site Supported by C. of C.

It would, they claim, prevent extending Stanley avenue north to Walton boulevard.

They have repeated the need for the extension as a north-south arterial to relieve traffic congestion on Baldwin avenue.

The Chamber letter presented figures to substantiate their claim "the dispersion of the automobile industry is already a fact and is gaining momentum."

DISCUSSION FOLLOWS
In a discussion period following presentation of the letter, Harold L. Blackwood, Pontiac realtor, suggested commissioners "think in terms of business not being so easy from now on."

"When a man buys a home in that area he's running a risk," Blackwood said. "They should have reasoned that with the expansion of industry there would be an expansion of the railroad."

Railroad officials have repeatedly stressed to city officials that the proposed site south of Walton and north of the belt line, was zoned manufacturing, legally permitting construction of the yard there.

Commissioner Floyd P. Miles told Blackwood that "because there was a belt line there—that was no indication of the intensified railroad program."

The Chamber warned the commission that their "duty was to all the people—not just to one small segment. Your present action—or inaction—will affect all of our citizens."

Residents of the area have filed verbal and written protests to commission asking the yard be built elsewhere.

NEW SCHOOL ASSURED
Hiringer said it "was fairly well assured" that a new school would be built at Kennett and Stanley Roads.

He mentioned this as protesting this resort community 10 miles north of Ann Arbor.

Mother, Infant Injured in Three-Car Collision

A mother and her seven-month-old son were slightly injured in a three-car accident on Telegraph Road yesterday at the Gulf Road traffic light, Pontiac police said.

Mrs. Mable Snyder, 37, of 5802 Prentiss St. and the boy, Bruce, both were treated for minor head injuries.

They were with Pauline B. Poulter, 32, of 400 Plumstead Rd., who stopped at the light behind the car of Sylvia Thomas, 19, of 3200 Lexington Rd., police said.

A car driven by Constantino J. Barbas, 30, of 2278 Garland Rd. rammed Mrs. Snyder's car from behind, police said, forcing it into the car in front.

Population Increases
LOS ANGELES (U)—Los Angeles County population has swelled by 50,000 persons in the last year, the Regional Planning commission estimates. This brings the county total, as of July 1, to 5,342,755. Los Angeles city, which added 18,157, now has 2,277,997 residents.

Smoot Awaits Trial on Murder Charge

Zacharias Smoot, 39, of 206 Westson St., was returned to Oakland County Jail to await trial on charges of first degree murder in the death Oct. 13 of a 29-year-old divorcee, Smoot stood mute to the charge Monday.

Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland entered a plea of innocent for Smoot, but set no trial date.

Smoot reportedly turned himself in after the shooting of Mrs. Bessie McKinney of 18 Clove St. and the wounding of her two daughters, Joan, 14, and Tanya, 6.

Two other children were uninjured in the fracas, which police say grew from a quarrel between Smoot and Mrs. McKinney.

WHITMORE LAKE (U)—A jeering crowd of 500 residents last night angrily protested location of a new boys vocational school in this resort community 10 miles north of Ann Arbor.

6-County Group to Hear Report

Detroit Area Body to Convene Tomorrow at Old Mill Tavern

Supervisors of six Detroit area counties, meeting tomorrow at the Old Mill Tavern, Waterford Township, will hear a progress report on a survey of area water, sewer and drainage facilities being conducted by the National Sanitation Foundation.

The Inter-County Committee, composed of delegations from the Boards of Supervisors of Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Monroe, Washtenaw and St. Clair Counties, also will hear a proposed state law providing legal authority for their group.

The committee previously has been organized informally, with each member Board of Supervisors voluntarily providing finances. It has powers only of suggestion.

Under the proposed bill, which the committee hopes to have considered at the next session of the State Legislature, the arrangement would be legally recognized.

Son's Shot Kills Ferndale Man

Former Mental Patient Fires as Dad Prepares to Take Him to Doctor

A Ferndale man was killed today by two shotgun blasts reportedly fired by his 29-year-old son, a former mental patient.

The victim was George P. Emlet, 59, a factory worker. His son, George S. Emlet, of Highland Park, who police say admitted, "I did it, that's all there is to it," is being held for investigation of murder.

Emlet reportedly had gone to the son's Highland Park home to take him to see a doctor. The son has been under treatment for mental illness, according to police, and was released last April from St. Joseph's Retreat.

The father arrived with another son, John, 21, early this morning, police said, and watched George S., a factory worker, go upstairs to get dressed. He reportedly came downstairs without a word of warning, police said, and fired an automatic shotgun point blank at his father, hitting him in the chest.

John grabbed his brother and wrestled the gun from his grasp as a third shot went into the ceiling, police said.

edus as premier and installed Nagy, who was purged in 1955.

All through the night students, workers, off-duty soldiers and others shouted for Nagy as premier and demanded the expulsion of Soviet troops from Hungary.

But when the Communist government gave in to the demands for Nagy, apparently the rebels were not to be appeased without some indication the Russians would get out.

The cry "Russkies go home" mingled with gunfire near a statue of Stalin that young workers tried to topple.

Today's accounts of the fighting came from the official Budapest radio and from travelers who reached the Austrian frontier.

Direct telephone communication with Budapest was cut off after Andre Marton, AP correspondent there, gave a detailed account of the early hours of the uprisings.

The rebellion was far more violent than that in Poland, where emphasis was on independence of the Communist party from Kremlin domination.

It appeared from these announcements that the country was aflame. Hungarians, a nation of about 10 million persons, has armed forces and security police totaling at least 280,000 men. Yet the Red leaders figured they had to call for aid from the Russians under the Warsaw Pact to put down the revolt.

Had Good Intentions

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—Billy Fuller wanted to surprise his wife with a ready-to-eat breakfast when she got home from her night job at a local hospital.

But he didn't quite make it. Fuller appeared at the hospital for emergency treatment just before his wife was scheduled to leave. He suffered burns when grease popped up from sizzling bacon.

Woman Hurt in Crash

A Rochester woman received minor injuries in a two-car accident at the intersection of Walton and Pontiac Rds. last night.

Mrs. Florence U. Hosking, 64, of 2690 Rochester Rd., was released after treatment for muscle strains at Pontiac General Hospital. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, James. The other vehicle involved was operated by Allen L. Buck, 38, of Detroit. Oakland County Sheriff Department deputies said today the accident occurred when Hosking made an improper turn. Hosking said he thought he had the right-of-way. Buck told officers the other vehicle turned in front of him making it impossible to avoid the crash.

SWELLING AND INTENSE PAIN of ARTHRITIS GONE

"O-JIB-WA BITTERS was highly recommended to me by many of our church parishioners," says Mrs. Walter St. Peter, 364 Fox Drive, Kingsford, Michigan.

"For three months I suffered the intense pains of arthritis in my knees, shoulders and hips. My knees were swollen to about twice their normal size, and my legs were so stiff that I sometimes needed help to walk. I was quite a job for me to get in and out of bed, and my daughter had to do most of the housework. I used to sit on our front porch and let the sun soak my legs, but that didn't help much. Then I read about O-JIB-WA BITTERS in the Iron Mountain paper, and was urged to try it by several of our church parishioners. I told my husband that it couldn't hurt me to try O-JIB-WA, so I started taking it that day. On the fifth day, I could feel my circulation improving, and the swelling actually beginning to go down. Inside of a month, I was feeling like my old self again. I'm so glad to have found this wonderful medicine, that I want to recommend it to anyone who suffers from rheumatism or arthritis. I haven't been bothered for four years now, so I just can't praise O-JIB-WA BITTERS enough."

Aunt Hurt by Bride's Behavior

Niece Doesn't Hide Her Annoyance at Intrusion

By EMILY POST

"My niece, aged 19, was married recently in another town about 35 miles from here. As we didn't know how traffic would be, we left rather early to drive to the wedding."

"We arrived about an hour before the time set for the ceremony. As it was too early to go to the church, we stopped off at my sister's house. The bride was in her room getting dressed."

"I went into the bedroom to see her and speak to her for a few minutes. She seemed quite surprised to see me and said, 'You shouldn't be here, you should be at the church.' I was never so hurt in all my life and thought her very rude."

"My husband says I was wrong to have gone in in the first place. Perhaps I was wrong, but I still feel her rudeness was a greater breach of etiquette."

"I have always been very close to this niece and thought the least she could do was to see me for a few minutes. I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: I am sorry not to be able to approve what you did; I have to agree with your husband. It is unfair of you to feel hurt at the bride's actions, because just before the wedding is a time of such confusion.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The invitations to my daughter's wedding have been sent out. An invitation was sent to my niece who lost her husband three months ago."

"This morning I received a telephone call from her, telling me in no uncertain terms how wrong I was to send her an invitation knowing that she was in mourning. I feel terrible about this and would like to know if I was wrong to have sent her an invitation."

Answer: You would have been excused if you hadn't sent one, but your sending was not wrong. A person in deepest mourning can certainly go to the church service.

Watkins Hills and Loon Lake Projects Detailed

Win Approval in Township

Howard Johnson Among Items in Planned Area; OK 80 New Homes

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A residential and a commercial development were given temporary approval when the Township Board met Monday evening.

Both are subject to approval of roadways, water systems, proper drainage and percolation tests.

The residential plat approved was for Watkins Hills No. 3 which will eventually contain some eighty homes and connect with Watkins Hills No. 1 and No. 2.

The commercial development approved is the Loon Lake project which will have a Howard Johnson restaurant, two gas stations, several stores, and eight terraces of the permanent-resident type.

Joseph Mancinelli, low bidder for the sewer line to be installed in the Sylvan Shores subdivision, was on hand to discuss details of the project with the Board.

Estimated cost of the line plus contingencies will amount to $110,000.

In other business, the board approved the purchase of a Scott-Airpak for the fire department. This is a mask, oxygen and tank unit to be worn by firemen when entering burning buildings.

Approval was also given for the transfer of an S.D.M. license from Frank and Catherine Engleman to Julius and Rose Heida.

The property involved is a grocery store on Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road. A soft drink license was granted to restaurant owner, Ernest Felice, of 7953 Cooley Lake Road.

No further action was taken on the request submitted last week by a restaurant owner for a dancing permit. This was tabled until the Board could establish rulings to cover all such requests.

Pipelines now lead from several Australian Tiroless mountain farms to convey milk to the valleys before it goes sour, Vienna reports.

BEES WORK OUTDOORS — Swarming below an odd shaped comb of wax, these bees seemingly are hurrying against time that might bring a cone-destroying rain storm. The rare formation without a hive or tree to hold the comb's shape is termed nearly impossible except in a dry season such as this year's. It was found by Alex Geno of Dequindre road in northeast Oakland County while he was hunting. According to Geno, who has done bee work since he was eight years old, the bees apparently had started the comb on a red cedar bush about six feet high, and gradually the weight of the honey and bees drew the bush downward, partially breaking the branch, shown at right. Tiers of honey were added until it was about 16 inches long and weighed 25 pounds, actually resting on the ground.

Stymied on Buying Site in City

FARMINGTON — Hopes of the Farmington Board of Education for a school site in the city have been dashed again.

O. E. Dunkel, superintendent of schools said yesterday after meeting with Baird Tupper, board president, and Lawrence Kelly, an executive of the Farmington Development Co., that there was no progress at the meeting.

"We are stymied," he said.

It was revealed at this week's board meeting that action of the city council last week on a rezoning proposal had blocked efforts of the board to purchase six acres of land on the cutoff just west of Maple street.

The land which the board wishes to purchase is part of a parcel belonging to the Development Company.

The company has indicated that it would sell six acres to the school board for $25,000 provided the remainder of their property could be rezoned from residential to commercial.

The school board declined to take any part in a request for rezoning.

The planning commission recommended that the company's request be denied, and at their regular council meeting last week the council agreed.

Several residents of Warner Farms, a subdivision just behind and adjacent to the property in question, were present at the school board meeting and made it clear that they want the school at that site.

"The site is almost the last site in the city where a school could be built."

"We want the school and would not object to the right kind of commercial development," one resident stated.

Douglas Hammill, board trustee, reported talking with many families in the subdivision, and had not found one who would oppose commercial development if it is necessary to secure the site.

Hammill also pointed out the serious need in the heart of the city. "If we can build that school as we planned, we'll just be even- Steven in next September, he said.

"We won't have an extra seat left over."

"Unless the property is rezoned, the developers feel that they cannot afford to sell to the board for $4,000 an acre. And the board is in no position to pay a higher price," he said.

Speaker to Spark Growth of Recordings Library

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Area residents are invited to hear Mrs. Carrie Palmer, head librarian for the Royal Oak Public Library speak Nov. 1 at 8 p.m. at the West Bloomfield Public Library, 3201 Orchard Lake Rd., Keego Harbor.

She will talk on possibilities of building a music library of recordings in the West Bloomfield library, having herself developed such a library in Royal Oak.

"We are especially interested in her talk on music library development because that is what we intend doing here," said Mrs. Wendell Moore, trustee of the library board.

The library has been given a new record player and part of the state aid library money has been voted by the board to buy records.

The talk is open to the public and a social hour will follow.

Four Towns

The Elizabeth Russell Guild is holding its regular meeting this Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Four Towns Methodist Church basement.

Mrs. A. N. Carnes will be the guest speaker on the subject of ceramics, and examples will be on display.

Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. C. E. Patterson, Mrs. Henry Pleischer, Mrs. J. S. Looney and Mrs. Norval Parker.

Rochester

The new Rochester Community High School will officially open next Wednesday, with students at brief opening exercises around the flag pole prior to entering the building.

A parade from the old High School Building at 8:00 a.m. with the band and all students and teachers in the procession will begin the program. With arrival at the new high school, students will gather around the flag pole on the various levels of the court in front of the building.

Invocation will be by the Rev. J. Douglas Parker, presentation of the flag by the Women's Relief Corps members Mrs. Claude Cross and Mrs. Conrad Zollner, and acceptance will be by Monte Clute, Student Council vice president.

The High School band will play the Star Spangled Banner, Lewis B. Arscott, board of education president will welcome students, and Student Council President Fred Weaver will respond.

After the choir plays "Alma Mater," John Yuella will give the benediction before students enter the building for the first full day of classes since this fall's term began.

Final details in one or two departments still remain to be completed, but most of the school's facilities will be ready for occupancy that day.

Rochester Rotary Hears Candidate Decry Routes in Michigan

ROCHESTER—At the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club here, John B. Martin, Republican nominee for Secretary of State said, "Highways should branch out from cities and towns and extend to local points."

He debated in brief talks with Deputy Attorney General Horace W. Gilmore for the luncheon program.

Introducing them was Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr., president of the club, who gave each ten minutes, and then allowed five minutes for rebuttal.

Martin addressed the group mainly on the State Highways, saying, "Highways to local points would encourage small industry, and benefit the farmer, and also bring more money to the state."

He also said that, "Gov. Williams had never said where he would build highways."

Martin used the last four minutes of his time to talk about how the heavy tax load is driving industry out of the state. He also stressed uniform justice.

Gilmore talked of the general achievements of the Gov. Williams administration, saying, "We have seen the greatest growth of all time, under Gov. Williams."

"One of the greatest achievements is the new Mackinac Bridge, which will open next November."

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — Revised zoning maps of White Lake Township have recently been printed and are now available at the Town Hall for a fee of 25 cents, according to Andrew Plano, Township Building Inspector.

Plano points out that the Rural Zoning Ordinance and Building Code, adopted by the Township Board in 1935 and printed earlier this year, are also available.

An average dollar bill remains in service about nine months.

The visiting teacher's duties are concerned principally with emotionally disturbed children, and are mainly supplementary help to the classroom teacher.

Appointed to the new post last spring, Mrs. Norman has taught eight years at Stiles School and last year at Brookline School.

A native of Kentucky, she trained at the University of Kentucky, received her bachelors degree from Wayne University, and is studying special education at Wayne.

Rochester Reveals Changes in Faculty

ROCHESTER—Several faculty changes have been announced by the Rochester Community Schools.

Patricia Higgins has joined the faculty of the Harrison Central School as a fourth grade teacher. A graduate of Emerson College in Boston, Mass., she takes a group being formed in order to relieve the overcrowding on that grade level at Harrison Central and Woodward Schools.

Joining the High School English faculty is Mrs. Betty Lamb who has replaced Robert Giglio who resigned because of illness. Mrs. Lamb, who has been substituting, is a graduate of Western Michigan College and has had several years of teaching experience.

In five states—Connecticut, Kentucky, Rhode Island, Tennessee and Vermont — more than 60 per cent of their communities have no rail service.

Set Workshop on Yule Ideas in Clarkston

CLARKSTON—Sponsored by the North District of Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council, a Christmas Workshop is planned at the Independence Township building Friday from 10 a.m. until 3 p.m.

For the public, it will include a demonstration by skilled persons on copper enameling, ceramics, tile-painting, and glass etching.

Also, to be studied is the making of weather vane, Christmas tree ornaments and gift wrappings.

Many other articles will be displayed, with patterns and directions available.

All adults in the community are invited to attend.

New Troy Farmer Digs Giant Spuds

Herman Gnodtke, who operates a 140-acre farm near New Troy in Berrien County, dug up several giant Chippewa potatoes from his four-acre planting of the tubers.

Mrs. Gnodtke counted at least 12 which weighed about three pounds each. "They ran a pretty good size this year," she commented. The giants are about three times the size of an average potato.

COSTUMED FOR PENNY DRIVE — These youngsters will embark Halloween for pennies for UNICEF, rather than the usual trick-or-treats. Shown adjusting George McCall's outfit

Clarkston Tots to Seek U.N. Funds

CLARKSTON — Clarkston Elementary school children will visit homes in the Village on Halloween, late afternoon and evening, with canisters for United Nations Children's Fund again this year.

Third year for this fund instead of the traditional Trick or Treat, the funds collected will be sent overseas for medicines and food for starving and sick children.

Last year the children in 6,000 communities participated in the drive for funds and $320,000 was realized from this drive.

Milk and medicines were sent to the sick and hungry children in ninety countries from the Halloween collections.

Clarkston's children alone sent $50.00. Over 5,000,000 children had milk to drink every day from shipments of the UNICEF fund.

Last year the Pontiac Press printed a picture of the children of the Clarkston area, and this picture appeared in children's magazines and Church school papers over the country, along with the story of the drive and their contribution to this drive.

Within three years, the Dominican Republic will complete a new airport at Punta Caucedo. A potato the size of a football was shown at the Bihar, Indian Agricultural Exhibition this year.

Waterford (6-0) Meets Walled Lake (6-0)

'The' Game in Inter-Lakes

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
Friday is "THE" game of the season for Waterford and Walled Lake. Both teams are boasting 6-0 records and both teams are hungry for the Inter-Lakes Conference title which has avoided each of them since the present setup of the league was arranged in 1952.

Walled Lake actually won the title in 1951 when the league was made up of four teams including Farmington, Berkley and Keego Harbor.

Since then, however, neither the Vikings or the Skippers have won the crown, and it is doubtful that either is willing to settle for a tie Friday and share the title.

Two fast moving backfields will be the feature of the game with the offensive line play becoming the big factor in shaking loose talented runners on both sides.

Senior halfback Lyndie Sainthiel will spearhead the Waterford attack with vastly improved Terry Kalmes matching his fullback chores against well-polished Johnny Walker of Walled Lake.

Quarterbacks have been at a premium in the Inter-Lakes circuit, but the league's two best will be seen against each other Friday.

Larry Dion will guide Walled Lake's unit while Warren Miksch, who wore a Viking uniform two years ago, directs the Skippers.

Speedster Frank Fink, who picks up ground in lots rather than yards, is the lone sophomore in either starting lineup. Fink has picked up 349 yards in 30 carries for an amazing 11.6 average for WL.

He has, however, not overshadowed his junior teammate Don Yeargan who has ground out 491 yards in 43 attempts for a 11.4 average.

For Waterford, Jim Larkin and Miksch will share co-captain's duties in the crucial encounter.

Larkin a 235 pound guard, along with 225-pound tackle Rod Evans, 190 pound Clayton Roth, are the big-weights in the Skipper wall.

Junior tackle Bob Masters is 175, guard Dick Startweather, 160, center Doug Hales, 160 and end Chuck Gillis, 190, are the other starters.

This is Walled Lake's home finale and a record-breaking crowd is expected for the homecoming battle.

Midget Football All-Star Night Scheduled Saturday

Pontiac's football stars of the future get their chance to shine this Saturday when the 10th annual Midget Football All-Star Night is staged under the lights at Winer Stadium.

Youngsters from the 5th, 6th and 7th grades will wage two hours of continuous gridiron activity to climax a six-week program of fundamental football drills.

Instruction has been conducted for the past five Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Winer Stadium.

An activity of the Parks and Recreation Department, Midget Football All-Star Night is co-sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Pontiac Board of Education.

Proceeds from Saturday's show will go to the Junior Chamber of Commerce Youth Fund.

Beginning at 7 o'clock, the 5th and 6th grade boys will play a series of four games with each contest using half of the field. Two games will be played simultaneously for two quarters at which time two more will start.

The 7th graders will follow the same system of rotation, but they will employ the full gridiron. Rotation continues until all games are completed.

Tickets are available from Junior Chamber of Commerce members, the Pontiac Boys Club and the Parks and Recreation Department. Marty Utley of the Jaycees is ticket chairman.

Detroit Grid Great Found Dead at Home

ROYAL OAK (INS) — Edward J. (Mal) Maloney — one of the greatest fullbacks in the University of Detroit's history — was found dead yesterday in the yard of his Royal Oak home by a neighbor.

A star on Titan teams in 1926-27-28 under Gus Dorais, Maloney had been on the sales staff of Lippman's for 20 years. He was at work yesterday morning and had stopped at his home after making several calls on clients.

The 51-year-old former fullback played on the undefeated Titan team of 1928, which won nine in a row, including triumphs over Michigan State, Fordham and Georgetown.

Leaders Change

'Derby' Gains Momentum

The Pontiac Press "big pheasant derby" is gaining momentum. With only a few days of the season gone, leaders in the newest division of the contest have changed several times, with a 38 and 1/2 inch rooster now holding the top spot. New leader, entered yesterday by Ortonville High School student Eugene Crane, 17 years old, went out in front by nearly three inches over the earliest "long" bird, a 36-inch.

Crane's entry was almost two inches longer than the previous leader, listed by Alan Brown, 3490 Watkins Lake road, earlier Tuesday. Crane downed his rooster, a 3-pounder, in his own backyard. He got his limit on Saturday and Sunday, bagged the long one Monday night.

A bit of unusual circumstance entered into the taking of the leader. Two roosters were fighting when Crane saw them, took one shot. Other pheasant flew away safely.

Brown bagged two nice birds hunting near Telegraph and Pontiac Lake roads, Monday evening. One was 37 1/4 inches long, 2-pounds 15 ounces heavy. The other was a 3-pounder, with shorter tail. A number of other prospective entries failed to top the "hefty" bird division, with Marcia Lauck's 3 1/2-pounder still in front.

Hunters are again advised that all entries must be brought to the Press sports department for weighing and measurement. They will be taken between 7 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. daily, except that none will be taken after 11:30 a.m. Saturdays and none on Sundays.

Heaviest bird entry will win a $50 U. S. bond, while the longest rooster will get a $25 bond.

DERBY LEADER — Changes in leadership in the current Pontiac Press "big pheasant derby" have been coming pretty fast the last two days. But they have been only in the "long bird" division, a new angle to the "derby" this fall. Above is the latest "long" leader. Smiling Eugene Crane of Ortonville holds his prize rooster, a 38 and 1/2 inch specimen that weighed an even three pounds.

Nocturnal Sport

Plenty Coons, Hunters Say

Hunters taking to the wooded sections of Oakland County and adjacent areas in search of the nocturnal wanderers, the masked raccoon, report there appears to be plenty of the sassy furbearers this fall. Season on coons opened last Saturday, and a number of good catches have been reported.

Probably the biggest, and most successful foray was that of Admiral George Dewey of Lake Orion and Bob Penfold of Pontiac, and their redbone hounds, Leader and King. Hunting at night in Livingston County, they took a dozen fat animals, saw many more.

"We expect to get a couple dollars a hide for these prime coons," Penfold said. "There's a lot of good eating, too."

The pair's bag averaged from 15 to 25 pounds. John E. Hendry, 2098 Willhite, Pontiac, also shot a fat coon, Tuesday morning. The animal, observed in a tree, weighed 21 pounds. Ralph Spivey, 2091 Willhite was hunting with Hendry. They were hunting squirrels when they discovered the raccoon.

Five-year-old Debbie Sowden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clare Sowden, 691 Third Street, was sitting on the front porch at the Sowden home playing with a chalk-writing board when an injured cock pheasant dropped beside her. She called her mother who picked up the bird, placed it in a box in the basement, where she tried to feed it.

Bird appeared to have broken leg, Mrs. Sowden reported.
