Recess Marine Trial

Defense Counsel on Mysterious Weekend Trip

Asked for Cancellation of Session to Gather Evidence, Testimony

McKeon is on trial because of the tragic night march he led into a swamp here April 8. Six of the 74 recruits on that march drowned.

Berman asked for and got yesterday a cancellation of today's scheduled session because he said he had to make a flying trip in connection with the case.

A defense spokesman declined to say where Berman was going and whom he will see. He did indicate that the mystery trip is in connection with potential testimony or evidence in the case.

The story of the tragic march that McKeon led was unfolded from the stand yesterday in the command-crisp voices of marine combat veterans and the hesitant tones of youth.

The session saw McKeon's senior drill instructor describe him as "outstanding" and the court hold that marine training methods of the past could be introduced in evidence.

HEARS THREE CHARGES

English Blonde Causes Kinsey Hospitalization

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (INS) — Dr. Alfred Kinsey, the sex expert, admitted today that a blonde English newspaperwoman pestered him so much he landed in a hospital.

* * *

Dr. Kinsey confirmed reports that Elizabeth Cowley of the London Gazette beseiged his office at Indiana University so doggedly she got tossed out by school guards and he went into the hospital "to rest for awhile."

The incident, said Dr. Kinsey, occurred three months ago shortly after he returned to his sex research at the university following treatment for a heart ailment.

Miss Cowley, he said, ignored his refusal to grant her an interview and arrived at his office anyway. She didn't get past the outer office, but insisted on waiting until he appeared.

Five hours later, guards on the Bloomington campus were summoned and escorted Miss Cowley from the building, he said.

Prince Rainier Hires Swiss Gynecologist

LONDON (INS) — The London Daily Mail said today that Prince Rainier reportedly has asked a prominent Swiss gynecologist to consult with Princess Grace as soon as possible.

* * *

The Daily Mail reported in a dispatch from Zurich that it was understood the ruler of tiny Monaco has requested Swiss Professor Rodolphe Rochat to meet with the princess.

The Daily Mail also said the movie star princess reportedly is embarrassed by persistent questioning as to whether she is expecting a baby.

Rumors that the blonde film beauty is pregnant have repeatedly cropped up, but have not been officially confirmed.

Plan Weekend Steel Bargaining

First Such Session 'Just to Help Remove Obstacles'

PITTSBURGH (AP)—For the first time since the nationwide steel strike began July 1, union and industry negotiators called a weekend bargaining session today in an attempt to reach a contract settlement.

However, the negotiators quickly pointed out that the Saturday meeting in itself was no indication of progress. They said it would be just another effort to eliminate obstacles.

Neither David J. McDonald, United Steelworkers president, nor John A. Stephens, top industry negotiator, would comment on developments in yesterday's one hour and 20 minute session.

Both sides, however, denied reports the industry had made a new offer. They said there has been no change in positions held when 650,000 steelworkers struck 90 per cent of the nation's steel producing mills.

McDonald has rejected an industry offer of a 52-month contract, saying it was "too little and too long." The industry valued the hourly package proposal at 17 2-3 cents during the first year. McDonald said it amounted to 14 cents.

The strike has idled more than 100,000 persons in related industries, chiefly railroads and coal mining.

Second Try Breaks Pot-O-Gold Deadlock

BRAINWORK PAYS OFF — Fingering a symbolic pile of currency is Pot-O-Gold puzzle contest winner Mrs. Robert Lussier, after she was named winner of the $725 offered for the right solution. Assisting her with the stack of greenbacks is Pontiac Press Promotion Manager John A. Riley. The winning entry was the second Mrs. Lussier has submitted in the contest.

Mother of Two Wins Pot-O-Gold

Half Hour Nets $725

A few baffled skeptics said it would never happen.

But it did—to a pretty Pontiac mother of two children who spent half an hour to choose 16 words.

Yesterday, each of those words was worth about $45 to Mrs. Norma Lussier, of 2007 Henbert Rd., who was awarded a check for $725 as her prize for solving the summer's seventh weekly Pot-O-Gold puzzle.

"I was just lucky," the 23-year-old winner said after being told that her entry topped those of 9,414 other contestants while giving the Press its first solution since the word game began eight weeks ago.

When told about her achievement over the telephone Friday, Mrs. Lussier first gasped, tried to speak and finally said: "I don't know what to say."

HUSBAND DIDN'T KNOW

But she had much to say later when she told her husband Robert, a former jet pilot and now a pattern designer for an automotive firm, who didn't know until last night that his wife had even entered the contest.

First to know were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Jeror, of 360 Rosslyn Ave. "I was so excited that I had to tell somebody right away," Mrs. Lussier said afterward.

The young housewife will use the $725 (the extra $25 is a bonus for being a Press subscriber of record) to help her church and to buy presents for her husband whose birthday is next month.

* * *

The Lussiers were married shortly before her graduation from Waterford High School in 1951 and are the parents of a girl and boy: Jean, 4½; and Kurt, 3.

HAS NO SYSTEM

No system or "secret" was involved in her triumph, according to Mrs. Lussier: "I just chose the words that seemed to fit each clue the best. But I never would have entered if the Press hadn't printed a list of words that week."

The attractive contestant spent only about half an hour away from her household chores to complete the puzzle. She used the dictionary only once—for a word she couldn't even remember when she stopped at the Press to receive her check.

Mrs. Lussier struck "pay words" on her second try. Another entry, turned in several weeks ago, never even came close. And, like most top prize-winners, she has never before won a contest of any kind.

* * *

But failures were far behind as the Press' first "word wizard" tucked the $725 check into her purse and headed home to await another thrill—that of telling her husband when he returned from work.

"Won't he be surprised!" she exclaimed.

And he was.

Pot-O-Gold contestants who turn in their solutions to Puzzle No. 8 (reprinted for the last time yesterday) will have an opportunity to win $100 next Friday, plus $25 if the winner is a subscriber. Don't forget—the deadline is Tuesday at midnight.

The ninth puzzle in the series will start Monday, and as usual the Press will add $100 to the pot. Watch for the official entry form which is your ticket to enter this fascinating summer word contest. It can mean money to you.

Order Unveiled During First Day of Defense Test

Millions of Americans 'Killed' as Enemy Planes Stage Mock Raid

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

President Eisenhower has proposed that civilian rather than military leaders maintain law and order if the U.S. is devastated by enemy nuclear bombs.

This was the essence of a presidential order issued last night holding military leaders to their defense and counter-attack role in the event of all-out war and attack on the U.S.

The plan, first outlined to the National Security Council, would give the Federal Civil Defense administrator vast emergency powers for a 60-day period. Federal officials have been working on the plan for a year.

The new concept of leading the nation in a struggle for survival was unveiled as the first 24 hours of "Operation Alert—1956" drew to a close.

Seventy-three of the nation's major cities were a theoretical wasteland today in the wake of the giant simulated nuclear attack.

Millions were reported "killed" as mock enemy bombers smashed targets across the country yesterday. The biggest test in this hemisphere also affected Canada, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

It was a grim rehearsal for a possible disaster that may strike any time.

For most Americans the drill is already over. Civil Defense workers, however, were expected to tackle new problems today, the second day of the 50-hour exercise "Alert III."

REPLACES MILITARY

Theoretically, there was enough time yesterday for the nation to brace itself for the enemy blow. In Washington, President Eisenhower hurried into an emergency session of a temporarily enlarged National Security Council as soon as the sirens wailed "yellow alert" at 11 a.m. EDT.

The presidential order, which replaces the "limited martial law" concept tested in last year's operation alert, calls for all executive departments and the armed forces to help the civil defense administrator to the maximum possible extent.

The order directs the administrator to give all possible aid to local government officials still able to perform essential functions. Where they have been put out of action, the administrator is authorized to take over until a local government can once again operate.

THE FIRST CONCERN

The administrator could commandeer private resources he may urgently need and could call on the Secretary of Defense for "whatever personnel, material and facilities (that) could be made available."

The statement also notes that the President indicated the government's first concern in the event of an attack would be the "relief and rehabilitation of the civilian population."

While handing great powers to the Civil Defense Administrator, the order also authorizes the Secretary of Defense to establish and maintain strict control over military areas wherever needed to per-

'Miss U. S. A.' Now 'Miss Universe'

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A tall, trim Iowa girl, who came here a week ago with ambitions of becoming a school teacher, was acclaimed today as Miss Universe of 1957.

For Carol Morris, 20, the award completes an unprecedented sweep of top honors in the international beauty contest. She was first named the most popular girl in the opening day parade and then went on to win the title of Miss United States.

Last night the dark-haired blue-eyed beauty from the Middle West matched her charms against those of 14 girls from other nations and again came out on top. Germany's Marina Orschel placed second in the final judging. Ingrid Goude of Sweden was third, Iris Waller, England, fourth, and Rosanna Galli, Italy, fifth.

The only previous winner of the Miss USA and Miss Universe titles was Miss Miriam Stevenson of Winnsboro, S.C. in the 1954 contest.

Her father, the Rev. LaVerne Morris of Ottumwa, Iowa, who flew in with his wife, disclosed that for three weeks he has been carrying a penny in the toe of his shoe.

"I found it on the street," he said. "And at the same instant a picture of Carol flashed in my mind."

Among the prizes won by the new Miss Universe is a six-month motion picture contract at $250 a week. Rev. Morris made it clear he is not too keen on his daughter entering the movies.

He said he wanted Carol, a junior at Drake University, to complete her college education and go on with her plan to become an elementary school teacher.

Miss Morris, a champion swimmer, is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 129 pounds and measures 36-25-36.

In addition to the movie contract, she won a three-month personal appearance contract with a bathing suit manufacturer at $250 a week, a convertible coupe, a white fox stole and several lesser prizes.

Chicago Fights Polio Outbreak

City-Wide Salk Serum Innoculation Started to Avert Epidemic

CHICAGO (AP)—Chicago, hard hit by an early outbreak of polio, struck back with widespread inoculations with Salk vaccine today in a dramatic effort to head off an epidemic.

Health officials expressed confidence the Salk vaccine — could keep the outbreak under control if enough people receive the shots.

"I would like to see a half million children vaccinated," said Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the Board of Health.

With the reporting of 19 new cases yesterday, Chicago's total for the year came to 245—including five deaths. At this time last year, only 38 cases had been reported, with two deaths.

Of the 245 Chicago cases, about half have come from a relatively small tenement area on the West Side. The disease has striken particularly children under five years of age.

The city has four fulltime inoculation centers operating. Officials estimate that since July 12 about 20,000 children have been given the Salk vaccine. Two more centers will be opened Monday.

Bundesen said of all the cases reported in Chicago this year, only 19 had received Salk shots.

Woman, 28, Killed Fishing When Lightning Strikes

A Flint woman was killed by a bolt of lightning yesterday as she fished in Davis Lake 2½ miles northwest of Lapeer. Four others in the boat were unharmed.

Mrs. Gurneth Laminack, 28, was struck during an electrical storm which hit the Lapeer area about 6:30 p.m. Knocked from the boat, her body was recovered immediately. She was dead.

Fishing with her were Mrs. Wallace Washington, 32, also of Flint; her sons, Gerald, 14 and Wallace Jr., 12; and, Mrs. Laminack's son by a previous marriage, Charles Brannon, 8.

The Brannon boy was treated for shock, but not hospitalized.

Mrs. Washington and her son Wallace Jr. retrieved the body, which was taken to the Brown Funeral Home in Flint.

The prediction for tomorrow is partly cloudy with little change in temperature. The high will be 76 to 80 degrees.

The lowest temperature reading in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 62 degrees. The thermometer registered 82 degrees at 2 p. m.

Burkemo in Front Against Bob Zander

CANTON, Mass. (AP) — Milton (Babe) Lichardus, Bound Brook, N. J., accomplished the second important upset in the 38th PGA championship today when he knocked out Dick Mayer of St. Petersburg, Fla., 2 and 1, in a second round match.

Defeat of Mayer provided a high spot of a rainy morning which saw Masters champion Jackie Burke, Freddie Hass and Fred Hawking come through as expected.

Defending champion Doug Ford of Mahopac, N. Y., took a two-up lead over Mike Dietz of Lake Orion, Mich., after six holes. Ex-champion Walter Burkemo of Franklin, Mich., led Robert Zander of Fayetteville, Ark., two up, at the sixth.

Results of today's 18-hole 2nd round matches:

Opposition to Courthouse Rests on One Point

This is the last of a two-part series on the present status of the proposed new Oakland County Courthouse, now slated for construction on the County Service Center site at the western city limits of Pontiac.

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ, JR.

Opposition to the proposed new Oakland County Courthouse is centered now on one point.

In order to build the courthouse as planned, county officials have asked the Pontiac City Commission to vacate a portion of West Boulevard which would cut off part of the six-story "central court tower" planned as the first stage of the building.

The request was voted by the county Board of Supervisors April 17 in a roll call vote. Six Pontiac supervisors voted no.

City commissioners have listened to the request at one informal meeting and one formal session. Both times it was deferred, "pending further study."

In asking the action, supervisors offered to relocate and pave the street at their own expense. The new route would run around the new courthouse in a loop to the east.

According to City Commissioner Philip E. Rowston, speaking for six of the seven Pontiac city commissioners, the Commission's opposition to moving the courthouse stems from "our concern about the economic impact on our community of moving the courthouse from downtown Pontiac."

In addition, he says, "The voters of the county have never been given an opportunity to express their opinion on the proposed courthouse site."

In 1954, Rowston says, county voters twice rejected extra millage to pay for the courthouse.

However, voters authorized a bond issue for the building while rejecting the tax to pay for the bonds.

The question of where the proposed courthouse should be built did not appear on any of the three ballots.

The "further study," Rowston explains, is an investigation by City Manager Walter K. Willman into marketability of title to he present courthouse site.

Willman has asked Abstract & Title Guaranty Co. for an opinion whether the title is insurable. To date, he says, he has received no reply.

Officials of the company say they have "no comment" on the question.

According to Rowston, his own opposition to moving the courthouse is fourfold.

First, he says, he opposes losing "the multiple services the present site offers to citizens, courthouse employes, and attorneys in this community."

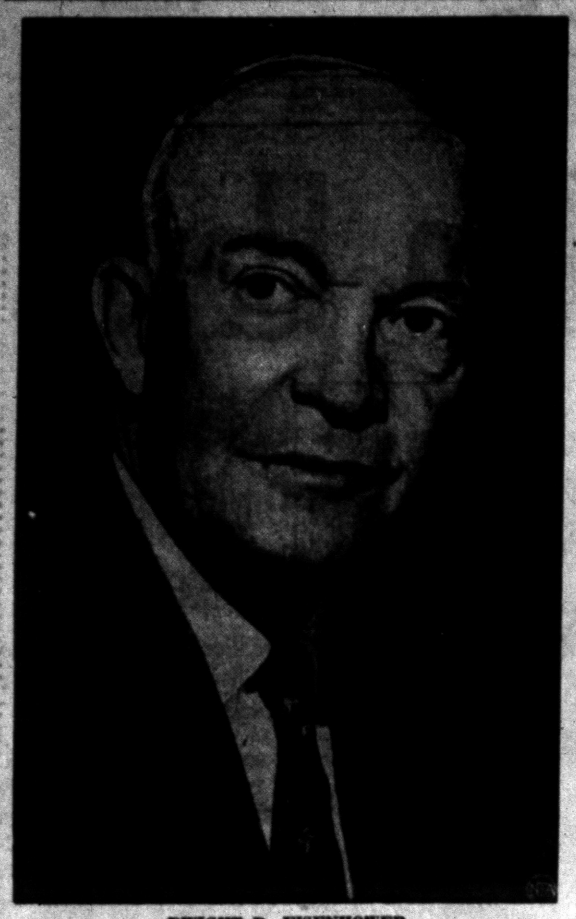

Second, the present site is available to citizens throughout the county by established public transportation.

Pact to Cement Economic Ties

Heads of American Nations Meet Today

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

PANAMA (AP) — The chiefs of state of 19 American republics, a convalescent President Eisenhower among them, converted on this tropical crossroads today for a meeting designed to strengthen the historic bonds of Pan-American friendship.

Eisenhower winged southward on an overnight flight from Washington to meet the other presidents and presidents-elect at the hemisphere parley commemorating the first Pan-American conference called by Simon Bolivar 130 years ago.

The conference will reach its climax tomorrow when the executives sign a "Declaration of Panama" calling for cooperation in solving economic problems and working for peace in a world "gravely threatened by totalitarian forces."

Today was "get acquainted day," renewing old friendships and making new ones. The conference has no formal agenda — only assorted ceremonies, speeches and fraternizing.

The trip offered Eisenhower a double opportunity to display his ability at personal diplomacy and to exhibit his stamina before the world and the U.S. electorate. He is still recuperating from his June 9 intestinal operation, but the White House has pictured him as able and eager to go on this goodwill mission.

IKE SPEAKS SUNDAY

He boarded the presidential plane Columbine III three hours ahead of its midnight takeoff time in Washington in order to get some extra rest.

Accompanying Eisenhower were his brother, Milton Eisenhower, his son, Maj. John Eisenhower, and other aides.

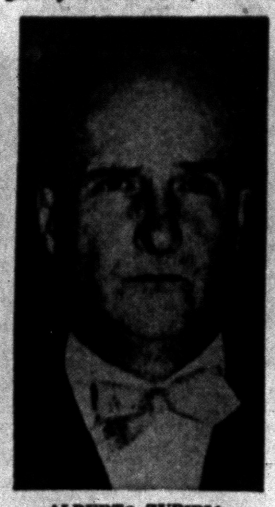

Apparently Eisenhower is something of a magnet for the other American presidents. Only 15 or 16 were expected at first. Now the number is up to 18, leaving only two absentees — Gen. Gustavo Rojas Pinilla of Colombia and Julio Lozano of Honduras.

Eisenhower hopes to talk individually with most of the chiefs of state. Some have special matters they want to take up with him.

Panama is swarming with secret police and bodyguards for the meetings. Security precautions are extra tight.

Precedent-Setting Benefits:

Expect Social Security Bill to Pass Senate and House

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Social Security bill carrying precedent-setting benefits for women and disabled workers was headed today for almost certain passage by Senate and House.

But there was a question as to whether President Eisenhower would sign the measure in view of his administration's opposition to several of its major provisions.

After Senate-House conferees finished work last night, Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn), chairman of the group, said it would be next Tuesday before staff specialists could have the bill in shape for House consideration.

Both branches are expected to pass it quickly and send it to Eisenhower.

One major provision of the compromise bill calls for a ½ per cent increase in the Social Security tax starting next Jan. 1. This would be split evenly between employer and employe and would apply on the first $4,200 of earnings each year.

The tax boost is designed to finance the new program of benefits for persons totally and permanently disabled at age 50. The first benefits would be paid next July.

The new age 62 retirement for women accepted by the conferees involves little or no extra cost.

Under the bill, widows would be able to get at 62 the same retirement payments to which they now are entitled at 65.

But working women electing to go on the Social Security rolls at 62 would receive a rate of payment equal to 80 per cent of the benefits to which they would be entitled at age 65. Wives of retired husbands would get at 62 only 75 per cent of the age 65 payment.

The other major disputed provision involved a Senate amendment to increase federal grants to the states for needy aged, blind and disabled.

Weekend Recess for Marine's Trial

on duty. He is not charged, however, with being drunk.

If convicted, the 31-year-old father of two—and his wife is expecting a third—could receive a maximum sentence of perhaps six years and a dishonorable discharge.

The first of the survivors of that grim night in the mud and water to take the stand was Pvt. Earl Grabowski, 18, of Kearney, N. J.

The youngster told of coming back from evening chow and smelling alcohol on McKeon's breath. "It could have been beer or something," he said. The government says it was vodka.

When McKeon broke out the platoon for the disciplinary march, Grabowski related, "he told us we were going for a swim."

Grabowski then recounted the march across the rifle range.

"When we came to 'C' range we made a column left . . . Sgt. McKeon said 'watch out for sharks and snakes' or something like that . . . he told us 'follow me'."

Berman asked, "there was a considerable amount of kidding around wasn't there?" The baby-faced blond marine replied softly, "yes, sir."

Berman then asked:

"What kind of a drill instructor was Sgt. McKeon?"

"A good one, sir."

The young marine also offered the opinion that the discipline among Platoon 71 "was not good."

Grabowski said the march went about two feet straight into the water, turned right for about 30 feet on a course paralleling the bank.

There, he related, McKeon ordered another column left and moved again on a course parallel to the bank.

"That's when I dropped into a hole," he said. "That's when the panic broke."

The rest was a story of men grabbing each other in the darkness and struggling for survival.

Raid by Vice Squad Results in 2 Arrests

A vice squad raid on a house at 105½ E. Huron St. late last night has checked the "recruiting" activities of an alleged ring of sex deviates, Pontiac Police said today.

According to vice squad Lt. William Nesbitt, the raid came after a month of investigation by Patrolman Gerald Navarre, on special duty with the squad.

The two occupants of the one-story frame house, Richard W. Copeland, 29, and Lamberths H. Prins, 21, were arrested on warrants. Copeland is charged with gross indecency, and Prins is held for investigation of gross indecency.

Four men in the house also are held for investigation. Obscene pictures and phonograph records were confiscated by police.

Det. Eugene Hendren said the house was frequented by men from Detroit, Royal Oak, Birmingham and Rochester. Copeland and Prins allegedly acted as "recruiters" for the group.

Famed Pontiac Motor Driver to Assist Police

Ab Jenkins, a veteran automobile race driver and safety consultant to Pontiac Motor Division, will instruct state highway patrols across the country in the technique of safely controlling and braking a car at high speed, S. E. Knudsen, Pontiac General Manager and GM Vice President, said today.

* * *

The 73-year-old Jenkins, world famous for speed and endurance records set on the Bonneville Salt Flats, will assist state police on a scheduled basis, Knudsen said. He will attend training schools to discuss safe driving and give demonstrations of car control techniques in emergency situations often encountered by law enforcement officers.

With fifty years of driving experience behind him, Jenkins has driven over 3,000,000 miles without an accident.

Jenkins does his high speed driving on the Salt Flats and on race tracks where it belongs, Knudsen said. He recently set new records with a Pontiac covering 2,841 miles in 24 hours.

Knudsen said Jenkins is safety consultant because his wide experience in this field of safety work fits in perfectly with Pontiac's policy of building safety into its cars and the school driver training program which Pontiac pioneered back in 1936.

Exchange, Front Sts. One-Way Monday

Two Pontiac streets Monday will be made one-way in the city's program to reduce traffic congestion.

Exchange street will become one-way northbound. Front street, which parallels Exchange, will be one-way southbound.

Traffic Engineer Theodore M. Vanderstempel said the changes were to reduce congestion at Orchard Lake avenue and Bagley street.

Drowned Baby Not Weinberger

FBI Continues Search for Kidnaped Gotham Child, Mother Prays

WESTBURY, N. Y. (INS)—Nassau County police and the FBI continued efforts to solve the Weinberger baby kidnaping today after the discovery of a dead infant in the Hudson River proved a false lead.

* * *

A new born infant found floating off Pier 51, Manhattan, was at first conjectured to be the missing Peter Weinberger. However further examination has proven that the child, despite some similarities, was too young, being only a few hours old at the time of his death.

The month-old Peter was kidnaped from his fashionable Westbury home July 4 by a still untraced abductor who left a note in the baby's buggy demanding $2,000 for the baby's return.

Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger refused to view the dead infant saying:

"I know that is not my baby. I am confident I will get my baby back. I know he is alive."

4 Die in Reno Flash Flood

Six Others Are Injured; Highways Closed, Cars Wrecked in Rampage

RENO, Nev. (AP)—Four persons disappeared in the churning waters of Galena Creek last night following a cloudburst and mountain flash flood.

Six other persons were injured as scattered floods covered a section of Reno, closed highways and wrecked automobiles over a wide section of western Nevada and the California High Sierra.

All the missing persons were lost when Galena Creek cut a ravine through the Mt. Rose road between here and Lake Tahoe.

The flood also closed a nearby section of U.S. Highway 395, the main north-south route through western Nevada and eastern California.

* * *

Elsewhere, heavy rainstorms in western Maryland, West Virginia, Virginia and Pennsylvania caused local floods and one death—a 5-year-old boy drowned after falling off a water-covered bridge in Charlottesville, Va.

The Nevada Highway Patrol said Wachwoicz sought unsuccessfully to save his wife and two of their children. Another son, Fred, 10, was found near the scene with only minor injuries.

Highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies reported the roads in the flooded areas littered with abandoned cars and huge boulders. At least three cars were flung into the trees in a ravine.

BALTIMORE (INS) — Police reported today three persons were drowned and 11 others died in auto accidents as a result of drenching rains and flash floods throughout most of Maryland.

State authorities were rushing aid to 500 persons reported stranded by the rising Patapsco River, near Daniels, Md.

STATE LEADERS FRET

In Michigan, civil defense headquarters whipped through the first phase of "Operation Alert" while officials fretted over the possibility that a bomb could destroy the nerve center itself.

"We are in dire need of a control center 15 or 20 miles away from Lansing. If a bomb fell here we would of course be completely out of business," said John E. Griffin, civil defense director.

The conduct of the national test, designed to train Civil Defense, military and government personnel to cope with problems arising from a nuclear attack, varied in different cities. Some required public participation, some did not.

Close Community House for August Refurbishing

BIRMINGHAM — Several major redecorating projects are in store for the Community House during the month of August, when the House will be closed.

Details of the refurnishing were discussed when board members met this week.

Other decisions included opening voting powers at the Oct. 3 annual election to all who donated one dollar or more in the annual Roll Call drive and opening the House on Sundays.

Nominating committee members were delegated at the meeting to contact candidates for the board posts. Election will be at the Oct. 3 meeting.

Mrs. Anthony Daley, a board member who has worked especially with the members of the Senior Activities Group, is leaving soon for California. She and her husband, whose job has been transferred, will reside there.

She has just completed arranging for new groups to work with the elderly women in the senior group, since the Junior League is withdrawing after successfully starting the group.

Decoration projects of the House will include new draperies for the auditorium, first since 1923; carpeting to reduce noise on the stairway; accoustical ceiling, cork tile and redecoration in the Girl Scout room, and re-doing the auditorium floor.

Earl Wilson, interior decorator for the Harrison-Pringle firm is consulting decorator, with the project in charge of Board Member Mrs. Charles Kass.

Sunday opening for the house, never approved before, will begin in the fall, but first event under the new plan is the open house July 30 for the departing city manager, D. C. Egert.

The Sunday use was suggested by Norman Weston, board treasurer, who contended that the house's use was being cut by one-seventh by having it unavailable the one day a week. William Lerchen, board member, made the formal motion.

A tight schedule and increased House activities was cited for need for Sunday meetings.

Among programs planned previous to the annual August closed-month are the Civil Air Patrol Dance, a Recovery, Inc., meeting, and the Egbert Open House.

Birmingham's approval of the city's share of the Twelve Town Drain project is not expected until July 30, according to City Manager Egbert.:

Officials took the share figures under study this week. Of cities involved, only Oak Park has accepted its figures:.

Birmingham's share in the original figures is being changed slightly, since they had been computed with four acres being in Troy Township. The acres were recently annexed to Birmingham.

Courthouse Opposed on 1 Major Point

Fourth, Pontac is "moving toward a solution of its parking problem, and there is adequate land available for all county offices on the present site."

Rowston "wholeheartedly endorses" a recent proposal by the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce that a 10-story courthouse and office building be built on the present site.

Chamber advocates claimed the 10-story construction would be cheaper than the present county plan. County officials said it would be more expensive.

Rowston admits the city would like to delay action on the request to vacate West Boulevard until a legal decision has been reached on validity of the 1954 annexaton of 111 acres of the County Service Center site to Pontiac.

Since only the eastern half of West Boulevard is within the pre-annexation city limits, he points out, the city might be admitting the annexation was valid if commissioners assumed authority over the western half of the road.

Harold K. Schone, chairman of the Special Building Committee of the Board of Supervisors, points out that the city already has assumed authority over the annexed land by issuing building permits and a permit to erect a sign there.

In any case, Schone says, validity of the annexation would not effect the building of the courthouse, since court functions will be housed in that part of the building to be constructed inside the pre-annexation city limits.

But Commissioner Rowston says, "I don't believe we can act on the county's request to vacate West Boulevard until we have determined that every possibility for rebuilding on the present site has been exhausted, and that the annexation is definitely valid."

As a last resort, Schone says, the county could condemn the disputed portion of West Boulevard.

City Commissioners William W. Donaldson, Floyd P. Miles, John A. Dugan, John E. Carry and Gilbert W. Long have told the Pontiac Press they concur with Rowston's statement.

Dr. Roy V. Cooley said he had "no comment" on Rowston's statement.

Senate GOP Leaders Switch Their Position on Military Money

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate's two top Republican leaders led today a fight to chop off all new arms aid to Yugoslavia after helping win the administration's battle for $2,300,000,000 in military assistance.

Republican leader Knowland (Calif) and Sen. Bridges (NH), chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee, joined yesterday with Senate Democratic leader Johnson (Tex.) in beating back attempts to cut military aid.

But they switched position for today's voting on proposals to cut off any more U.S. arms help to Yugoslavia. The Eisenhower administration opposes these anti-Yugoslav moves.

Sen. Ellender (D-La), spearhead of all the fights to cut general military assistance funds, said in an interview he would oppose an amendment by Knowland, Bridges and Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine) to withhold from Marshal Tito all new military equipment, including jet fighters already in the pipeline, and limit future help to maintenance and spare parts for equipment he already has.

Ellender said he feared such action "might push Tito into Moscow's arms."

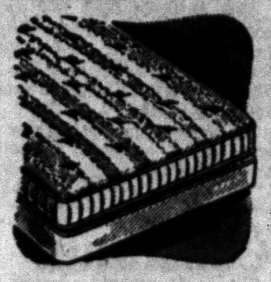

But Ellender, loser in three efforts to cut military aid by as much as 565 million dollars, said he would concentrate today on attempts to cut defense supports and economic assistance by 10 per cent.

The bill, as it stood before today's session carried a total of $4,110,500,000 in military and economic aid. This is $5,500,000 more than the appropriations committee recommended, and 685½ millions more than the House approved.

About 500,000 acres in French Morocco are irrigated.

Security for You

You Still Must Pay Tax on All Security Payments

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

From I. M. H. of Cottonwood, Ariz.: "Both my wife and I are over 72 and we get a small Social Security check every month. I have a part-time job and Social Security tax is deducted from my pay. Do I have to continue to pay Social Security tax under such circumstances?"

Yes. All persons covered by Social Security must pay the tax, no matter what their age or whether they're drawing checks from Social Security.

* * *

From Mrs. E. I. D. of Gold Beach, Ore.: "My mother has drawn Social Security benefits since reaching 65 because she was the dependent of a son who was killed in a logging accident. She passed away recently and I would like to know if I, her daughter, am entitled to anything because I paid my mother's burial expense."

No. You are not. Your mother wasn't receiving Social Security because of her own work record. She was receiving it because of your brother's work record. Thus no death payment is made by Social Security following her death.

* * *

From Rev. J. M. of New York City: "How does a clergyman obtain coverage under Social Security?"

To obtain coverage, the individual minister, Christian Science practitioner, or member of a religious order must file a certificate with the District Director of Internal Revenue telling him you want to be covered. It's strictly voluntary.

* * *

From D. K. of Iowa City, Iowa: "For some years I've been working for someone in a restaurant and Social Security tax has been deducted from my pay. In a few weeks, I plan to go into business for myself and, I'll be self- employed. How will I pay my self-employment tax?

The tax is payable at the time you file your Federal income tax return every year. At that time, you enter the amount of your self-employment earnings and tax on a special form attached to your tax return. This form will be detached and will be forwarded by Internal Revenue to the Social Security Administration where this self-employment income will then be credited to your Social Security account.

* * *

From Mrs. B. C. of Los Angeles: "My husband and I will be eligible for Social Security retirement benefits next month. He plans to continue to work some and may exceed the $1,200 yearly earning limitation. Since my benefits will be due to my husband's work record, will my monthly payments stop during any month in which my husband's income will exceed the limit?"

Yes.

* * *

From J. R. B. of Washington, D. C.: "I soon will be eligible for Social Security retirement payments. Will they start automatically?"

No. You must apply.

* * *

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

2 Police-Chiefs Cause City Council Headache

* * *

They hope a circuit court hearing Thursday will unscramble the current situation in which two men claim to be chief.

A majority of the council told Circuit Judge Grady Crawford they fired Mayor J. A. Grimsley as chief and directed him to appoint a temporary successor. They complained that Grimsley straightway appointed himself.

Furthermore, said the council members, Grimsley still maintains he's chief and won't turn over badge, car or office to William J. Geronimo Jr., whom they appointed to the job yesterday.

Civil Rights Bill May Pass House

Southern Leaders Say Measure Will Be Killed in Senate, However

WASHINGTON, July 21 (UP)—The House has cleared the way for passage of the civil rights bill Monday, but a leading Southern opponent said today:

"They won the battle; we won the war."

* * *

By this, Rep. Willis (D-La) meant that while the bill is considered certain to pass the House by a comfortable majority, it is considered just as certain to die in the Senate as Congress rushes toward adjournment late next week.

Nevertheless, Rep. Keating of New York, who led Republican supporters of the bill, insisted "the House leadership is in a position of control. It should decline to assent to adjournment until the Senate has acted one way or the other on this key measure of the President's program."

There appeared little likelihood this would happen.

* * *

Supporters beat off most amendments, and in test votes they demonstrated they will have votes to spare when final action is taken Monday.

21 at Utility Conference

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Some 84 public utility officials, averaging 21 years of service among them, are attending a University of Michigan public utility executive program this summer. They hail from 26 states, Canada and South America. Expenses are paid by their firms.

Soviets Find French Dance – 'So Silly'

LONDON (INS) — An age-old French institution known as the can-can got a knock on Radio Moscow when a commentator said Russian tourists in Paris found the dance "so silly."

The commentator said that Russians who recently visited the famous Paris cabaret 'Moulin Rouge' found the high-spirited can-can movements, "so strange."

The can-can was popular at the turn of the century and has been immortalized by French painter Toulouse Lautrec who was an habitue of the 'Moulin Rouge.'

The commentator said the Russians who visited the popular tourist attraction described the dancers as "half-undressed" laughing girls lifting their legs above their heads, performing some extra-ordinary movements."

Disgusted Holdup Men Lock Victim to Wheel

NEW YORK (UP) — Two disappointed bandits handcuffed a supermarket clerk to the steering wheel of his car yesterday after they found only $25 in his wallet.

The clerk, Ray Gantz, 30, told police they handed him the wallet back intact with a single comment.: "Phooie." They they handcuffed him to the steering wheel.

Runaway Car Kills Pedestrian, Injures 3

CHICAGO (UP)—A Michigan-owned automobile slammed through a third-story brick wall of a downtown Chicago parking garage yesterday and landed among some pedestrians, killing one and injuring three others.

* * *

Police said the car, owned by Rudolph Schneider, 60, of Rural Route 1, Three Oaks, Mich., was being parked by Isiah Hudson, a garage attendant.

The rampaging car tore a hole 8 by 12 feet in the garage wall, flipped in mild-air and landed partly on top of a small car halted at a stop light on the street below.

Neither Hudson, nor the driver of the other car were injured. But Harold Wolf, 46, of Michigan City, Ind., who was walking past the garage at the time, was killed by the plunging automobile.

Three other pedestrians were hospitalized.

Gross National Product Exceeds $400 Billion

The United States has reached and passed an important economic objective.

Corrected Department of Commerce figures for the last quarter of 1955 reveal that for the first time in the Nation's history our gross national product had passed the $400 billion a year rate. The term, Gross National Product (GNP) is used by economists to describe the total value of all goods and services produced in a year.

This achievement is as important to the record of the Eisenhower Administration as balancing the Federal budget. First news that the long sought goal was near came five months ago in a report from the department's Office of Business Economics. This showed a GNP rate of $397.3 billion for the October-December quarter of 1955.

Now corrected, these figures show that in the last three months of last year that rate reached $401.9 billion, an increase of $3.7 billion over the first estimate. The rate for the first quarter of 1956 reached $403.4 billion.

It is worth noting that this recovery followed a period in 1954 when the GNP dropped to $360.5 billion. Also noteworthy is the fact that the upturn came at a time when Government spending was being reduced by $12.8 billion. At the same time personal spending was almost doubled to $23.4 billion and operated as a recovery factor.

Saginaw Death Costs Michigan Fine Citizen

Michigan and newspaper circles in general have lost an ardent and valiant worker in the sudden death of Arthur R. Treanor, of Saginaw.

Mr. Treanor was identified with the newspaper profession throughout his life and was very well known in Wolverine councils and in the nation as a whole.

For many years he was one of the ranking executives in Booth Newspapers and during his long devotion to the publishing business he was a constructive force for betterment and advancement.

The Saginaw man had a fine sense of humor and was especially fond of people of all types and kinds. He knew ranking American business men and politicians personally and was equally acquainted with those from the humblest strata.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Treanor was unusually active in his home town, heading many civic movements throughout his lifetime and devoting hours of his personal time to community affairs without a cent of recompense and as is so often the case, without thanks. His latest efforts in behalf of Saginaw centered around a rousing drive to raise 1.5 million dollars which assured a 3.5 million construction program at St. Mary's hospital. Although he did not live to see the work started, he did have the satisfaction of sensing that the goal was attained.

★ ★ ★

A fine man and solid newspaper figure has gone to his eternal reward, leaving a long list of splendid achievements behind.

Booklet Charts Path of Human Progress

An interesting booklet, "Science of Industry," outlines the parts played by science, invention and technology in the advancement of modern civilization.

Six basic scientific principles are involved, says the booklet distributed by the Du Pont Company. These include Einstein's theory of relativity, Lavoisier's analysis of the composition of air and Newton's law of universal gravitation. The others are Darwin's theory of evolution, Pasteur's theory of bacteria and Copernicus' concept of the solar system.

The six inventions which have done so much to speed human progress are the airplane, the telephone, the steam engine, movable type, the automobile and the clock with interchangeable parts.

One important point emphasized is that the consumer's well-being is in direct proportion to industry's ability to harness science and invention for his benefit. Also pointed out is that it was not social reforms that reduced poverty and disease. Instead, it was the growth of invention and technology and greater individual production.

Industry's principal contribution to human progress, says the booklet, has been to bring together three different areas of human effort — science, invention and technology. Obviously, if there is to be progress at all, there must be a mechanism to accomplish this. That mechanism, of course, is industry.

Employers Irked

Extension of Jobless Pay May Hurt Gov. Williams

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—State Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) says a recent change in the unemployment compensation law has roiled a lot of small employers.

★ ★ ★

He predicts their vexation will be taken out on Gov. Williams at the polls Nov. 6, even though the responsibility rests with Congress and the national administration.

Of course there's a lot of time for political fence-mending between now and November, and Democratic strategists will have plenty to say on the subject.

It brought under the law, and made subject to a state payroll tax of 2.7 per cent, businessmen with between four and eight regular employes. Before, only those with eight or more employes were covered.

Since Jan. 1, the effective date of the change, some 13,300 small employers have registered and formally become liable, bringing the total number of Michigan payroll taxpayers to about 45,500.

MORE EXPECTED

The Michigan Employment Security Commission expects another 15,000 to sign up by the end of the year, many of them filling station operators, druggists, grocers and others in the service field.

★ ★ ★

Goulette sees a political disadvantage for the Democrats, especially in outstate areas, because of the timing of the tax coupled with Gov. Williams' proposals for boosting jobless pay benefits

Goulette said that while the pocketbooks of many small businessmen still were stinging from the first bite of the new tax, due April 25, they read about the governor's desire to hike payments—and taxes.

Goulette said misgivings were heightened in comparatively low wage areas by what Williams since has called "a particularly outrageous misrepresentation"—namely that a jobless worker could draw up to $90 a week under the governor's proposal.

★ ★ ★

Whatever the facts, Goulette said that many of the affected businessmen have gotten angry at Gov. Williams.

LOW TAXES IN PAST

In the past, some employers have paid a payroll tax as low as one-tenth of 1 per cent.

But under the law, newcomers to coverage must pay at the fixed rate of 2.7 per cent for four years before qualifying for a lower rate. This is another factor in the situation, Goulette said.

Tax returns are due quarterly. The last deadline of the calendar year is Oct. 25, just two weeks before the general election.

Spain's Patron Saint Was Apostle

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Wednesday, July 25 is the day of St. James the Great, patron saint of Spain. It is a happy, lively holiday in that country, where they call him "Santiago." This James, who was one of the Apostles, is known as "the Great" to distinguish him from the other Apostle James, who is called "the Less." What was greater about this one and lesser about the other is not quite clear. It may have to do with age, or it may mean that this James was the taller.

* * *

St. James was the brother of the beloved St. John. These two, with St. Peter, were obviously the Lord's favorite apostles. Several instances are recorded where He took these three with Him into some special situation in which the others did not participate. The most notable of these occasions was the Transfiguration.

The Spanish have a lovely legend about how St. James came to be their patron saint. They tell that when he died, in Palestine, his body was put into a boat and on the next day this little boat, without rudder or crew, arrived at Compostela on the Spanish coast. It had been guided and powered by angels.

St. James was buried, but his burial place was forgotten until about the year 800. A hermit who lived in the vicinity noted that strange heavenly lights constantly played about a certain spot. He investigated and found the body. A church was built there, around which the town of Santiago grew up. The place soon became a shrine with legends and miracles of its own. In the 13th Century people began to call the Milky Way the Way of St. James because they believed it was put in the heavens to guide the pilgrims to St. James' grave.

Some Spanish stories about their patron are much like those the English told about St. George. In the 10th Century, when Spanish troops were fighting the Moors, St. James appeared in their midst on a white charger and led them to victory, just as St. George led the British soldiers during the Crusades.

PARDON OF AURAY

Thursday, July 26 — The word "pardon" seems a strange term for a festival, but one of the greatest of European festivals is called "The Pardon of Auray." It is held in the town of Auray, in Brittany, every year on St. Anne's Day (Thursday) and on the eve preceding.

The story behind this celebration is that in the year 1623, St. Anne, the mother of the Blessed Virgin Mary, appeared to a local peasant and told him to rebuild her chapel, which had been in ruins for a thousand years. The priest to whom the peasant reported the incident was not much impressed, but soon an ancient, dilapidated image was found nearby and identified as the image of St. Anne.

When word of this discovery got around, pilgrims by the hundreds poured in and left more than enough money to build the chapel. The bishop ordered that the building be erected.

Sometimes as many as 80,000 pilgrims visit on these two days each year. A well adjoins the chapel and many miraculous cures have been brought about by its waters.

"TOUCH WOOD"

When we make some statement about our good health or good fortune, why do we feel that we have to say "touch wood" or "knock wood" and put a hand on some nearby piece of wood? It is because we feel we are challenging fate, which doesn't approve of boasting, and so we appeal to holy forces to protect us against the anger of fate.

Some say the appeal is to the protection of the Cross of Christ, which is, of course, the holiest of all wood. But actually, the superstition goes back much farther than that.

It goes back, in fact, to the days of tree-worship. The oaktree, observed by primitive people to be the tree most often struck by lightning, was thought to be the favorite tree of the Sky-god, who, incidentally, hated braggarts. It, therefore, behooved anyone to be in touch with the Sky-god's tree, for everything in contact with it was beneficially affected.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Castor Oil Will Help Relieve Warts

Son had 5 seed warts on sole of his foot. Foot doctors said the only thing was to burn them out, and no guarantee of cure. He spent five weeks vacation with my sister, and she told him of your castor oil cure. He used it, and the warts disappeared and have never returned . . . (Mrs. M. F.)

Answer — Thank you, Ma'am. Sometimes warts on the sole are painful and obstinate. If there is considerable callus, the callus should be softened and wiped away (by the standard corn remedy) and then the castor oil applied to the wart every night. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for booklet Care of the Feet.

At 47 I have only 14 teeth. Nevertheless I chew my food longer, and I believe this compensates . . . (T. A.)

Answer — Somewhat, maybe, but hardly for the loss of half of your teeth. Deduct from one to two years from your life expectation for every tooth lost and not immediately replaced with a functionally efficient denture. I'm sorry, sir, but you can't say I didn't warn you. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for the first of the 7 Keys to Vite, the booklet Save You Teeth.

I am twelve years old. I have a breaking-out on various parts of my body. My ear is bad—I have to itch it all the time. The doctors here tell me it is an allergy and they can't help it . . . (Jan)

Answer—I'm sorry I can't advise you, Jan, sorry for my own sake, for I like to do whatever I can for a young correspondent, hoping I may make the young one a friend. If the trouble is really allergy and not scabies (the itch) or a type of ringworm, the doctors should find the cause in your surroundings. Maybe the information in the pamphlet I am sending you will be useful—Relief for Allergy. Anyone may have a copy if he sends stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Have you the list of exercises for an expectant mother preparing for natural childbirth? (M. L. C.)

Answer—No. I have only the booklet Preparing for Maternity—for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope. Instructions for doing the exercises are given in Helen Heardman's Natural Childbirth, published by William Wilkins, Baltimore, available on bookstores, at what price I forget.

Every year I have had a complete physical examination, but no one ever mentioned calcium or iodin. In less than a year of calcium feeding and iodin ration, I am an entirely different person . . . (Mrs. C. B. H.)

Answer—Thank you, Ma'am. The standard physical or medical examination gives little if any knowledge of the state of nutrition. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Little Lesson 26, The Calcium Shortage, and the pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

By watching what I eat I hope by next summer to be immune to hay fever. Thanks so much for the pamphlet. Also I find kalion "works like magic" . . . (Miss M. R.)

Answer—Hay fever sufferers should send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet Hay Fever.

Multiple warts on hands and feet disappeared soon after I began applying castor oil daily. Except one on ball of foot. It is big and painful . . . (Mrs. L. W.)

Answer — First soften callus over it with the corn remedy, then continue the castor oil applications. Send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope for Care of the Feet.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Katherine Baker Lauds Citizens' Altruistic Spirit

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Pontiac's citizens are altruistic. When much news of today is clouded by accidents, and shrieks with murder and kidnapping stories, it is heartening to read the recent article carried by The Pontiac Press June 28, 1956, and interestingly illustrated, which explained the painting of Mrs. Ella Wilcox's home at 38 N. Shirley St.

Mrs. Wilcox, an elderly widow who is partially blind, because of meager means, has been forced to neglect this much needed improvement.

The two fine Navy men who gladly donated their time for the better part of two weeks to paint the house, and the paint company who supplied the pair, are to be commended.

This altruistic deed was sponsored by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce. The modest pretty home is now an asset to N. Shirley St. and the owner, a grateful happy woman.

An organization that engages in and carries out such a worthy undertaking is a credit to any city.

Khrushchev Continues Lies to Russian People

By J. M. ROBERTS
AP News Analyst

As he does so, the smile offensive looks more and more like a leer.

Speaking primarily to official visitors from puppet East Germany this week, Khrushchev deliberately took note of the fact that there were representatives present from non-Communist countries.

"If representatives of those countries think I speak too sharply, they should understand I speak as the Communist Party secretary," he said.

As much as to say "I give no quarter."

Then he launched out on the old familiar Stalin-Molotov-Vishinsky-Pravda line.

He said East German Communists must wait patiently for diplomatic recognition by other powers, as much as to say that there would be no reunification of Germany. He said Soviet Russia waited 16 years for recognition by the United States, not mentioning the lying promise she made to get it — that she would stop interfering with America's internal affairs.

He bragged about Russia's "liberation" from the free world to which she could not be tempted back "if they handed it to us on a platter."

Presumably the Russian government prevents the Russian people from getting even a good glimpse of the free world because they couldn't stand the horror of it.

He complains because, he says, in the free world radio, telegraph and similar agencies are in the hands of monopolies. He does not mention how many towns in Russia are not served by telegraph at all, how many Russians would have the money to use the telegraph if they could, how much objective discussion there is over Moscow Radio, how many Russians have private telephones.

In the free world, he says, only the capitalists have freedom of the press. The workers, he said, might have a few newspapers and radio stations, but they haven't got the money. He makes no comparison, however, as free world labor unions make repeatedly, of labor unions in Russia and abroad. Nor does he mention the millions of dollars in free labor union treasuries, or the three million labor intends to spend in this year's American elections to look after its own interests.

Khrushchev blew his top in London when somebody in a crowd shook a fist at him and made dire threats, including the use of atomic missiles.

Drunk or sober he insults foreign representatives. He lays his propaganda on so thick it appears foolish. He begins to look more and more irresponsible.

Don't Try to Evade Your Problems

Lois was like Jonah who thought he could flee from duty and thus play hookey from God's schoolroom called Earth. It doesn't work. So learn to solve your problems instead of running from them into alcohol or hypochondria or even suicide and insanity. Let this case prove to you how love can be developed if you simply go through the proper motions.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-318: Lois R., aged 23, was very happily married for two years.

Then she and her husband were in an auto wreck. He was killed instantly but Lois lay unconscious in a hospital for a week.

* * *

When she finally regained consciousness and learned that her husband was dead and buried, she was stunned.

All interest in life disappeared. She acted like a person in a daze. She ate only at the bidding of her parents. One night she took an overdose of sleeping medicine in an attempt to rejoin her dead husband.

Her parents then brought her to me. She said she had not the slightest interest in living. She wanted to die.

* * *

But I insisted she had an obligation to her parents and to all of us college professors who had helped train her.

* * *

"God abhors inefficiency and it certainly would be wasteful for a talented girl like you to throw away your life in a futile gesture.

* * *

"Don't be so egotistical and selfish!" I said in a deliberate attempt to jolt her.

"You aren't on this earth just for your own pleasure. This is a schoolroom where God has placed you to learn your lessons and solve prescribed problems."

So I browbeat her into going to business college. Then she later entered a Chicago office as a secretary. She still acted rather indifferent to life but at least was making herself go through the proper motions.

LOVE REPEATS ITSELF

Later another secretary had a little dinner party in her home and invited Lois.

"I didn't care especially about going or about not going, so I accepted the invitation simply as the line of least resistance," Lois explained.

At the party she was paired off with a young unmarried dentist. He was jolly and occasionally caused her to laugh.

* * *

A few weeks later she was again invited to a party as the companion of the dentist.

Later they accidentally bumped into each other one noon on State Street so he invited her to have a sandwich with him.

* * *

As they were leaving, he looked up the street at the Chicago Theater and said:

* * *

"Lois, I don't have office hours tonight so I'd like to take in a movie. Have you seen the show there at the Chicago Theater?"

She hadn't so he invited her to accompany him. She hesitated but with typical masculine high pressure he stampeded her into accepting.

And from these casual acquaintances, they lated attended concerts and church together; went on picnics and visited the Art Institute, plus a few athletic events.

GOD'S SCHOOLROOM

In the spring he invited her to accompany him to Michigan where he was to read a paper at a dental convention. It was apple blossom time.

* * *

They had a picnic lunch en route and on the way home late that night the full moon was shining. He stopped the car where they could overlook Lake Michigan.

* * *

They sat and talked. He cuddled her against his shoulder and proposed. She accepted. Soon they were married.

* * *

A year later I met her pushing a perambulator down the street, with a baby boy therein.

"Dr. Crane, I am happier now than I ever have been in my whole life," she volunteered the information, "and my parents are delighted with their first grandson. Think what I would have missed if I had tried to flee from life."

God has a plan for everybody, so don't try to evade your problems in God's schoolroom called Earth. Learn to solve your problems intelligently.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

U. S. Decision to Quit Aswam Dam Boosts Red Mideast Influence

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new Russian drive to expand its influence in Egypt and the Arab world was foreseen today as a probable consequence of American cancellation of an offer to help Egypt build its proposed Aswan high dam.

The United States decision was disclosed to Egyptian Ambassador Ahmed Hussein by Secretary of State Dulles in a 50-minute meeting in Dulles' office yesterday. It was announced by the State Department immediately afterward.

* * *

The next moves in the tough diplomatic struggle — which could have a fateful bearing on the future of the Middle East — are now clearly up to Cairo and to Moscow.

Russia reportedly has made several offers to help Egypt build the dam. Some officials think she will now push her offers. Others express doubt, and say that even if Russia does agree to back the project, she may not be able to make good on it.

Dulles and his top policy advisers were reported to have weighed carefully the dangers involved in canceling the U.S. offer, and to have decided that in the circumstances the United States must take a calculated risk in order to achieve its own major purposes.

Among these purposes, highly placed informants said, was the need to put an end to the idea growing in many neutral countries that their best interests lie in playing off the United States and Russia against each other.

The decision not to go through with the Aswan dam deal was described in State Department quarters as a "stiff warning" that the United States will not submit to bargaining by "blackmail."

The formal statement said that has concluded that it is not feasible in present circumstances" to participate in the dam construction project.

CONCLUSIVE REASONS

Two reasons for this conclusion were stated in general terms. One was that Egypt had not reached agreement with other states, notably the Sudan, on the use of Nile River waters to be impounded by the $1,300,000,000 dam.

The other was that Egypt's ability to carry out its 900-million-dollar share of the huge construction project "has become more uncertain" than it was when the offer was made seven months ago.

The statement held the door open to Nasser for negotiations on some new and less ambitious Nile River development program — on two conditions. Agreements would have to be worked out with the Sudan and Ethiopia as well as the British territories of Uganda and Tanganyika for a program that would bring benefits to all the countries on the Nile. Also, officials said, water development work in Egypt would have to be on a more modest scale than the Aswan dam.

* * *

Egypt's ability to carry through its part of the bargain was questioned here, officials said, because President Gamdal Abdel Nasser has mortgaged a large share of his national assets to the Russians for years to come to obtain weapons for his military buildup against Israel.

The United States joined with Britain last December in promising to provide Egypt up to 200 million dollars for the Aswan dam. The World Bank was to lend another 200 million.

The American withdrawal from the deal after consultation with the British and after informing the World Bank effectively kills off the whole undertaking, officials said.

IN THE WOODS — 6

A Flying Squirrel

Looking down from a plane a forest looks like a solid carpet of green, with occasional breaks where there is a clearing. Dead trees that have been struck by lightning, or died from lack of sunshine or sap nourishment can easily be seen.

The forest has its own flier too, the flying squirrel. They are quite scarce and usually fly at night, but you may see one occasionally in a clearing.

They do not really fly, although they look as though they do. By spreading the loose folds of skin that extend from their front to back legs, laying back their ears and stretching their tails out stiffly behind them, they can sail through the air like gliders.

Use your crayons to color the picture, and then stick it down on cardboard. Cut out the parts with care. Paste the squirrel's tail under the end of his body as indicated by the cross.

Attach the long pivot behind the background through the holes shown with a brass fastener or a bent pin. Punch holes at the top and put a string in them. Then you can hang up the green frame of leaves, and send the little flier sailing across the opening.

(Paul Bettencourt, of San Leandro, Calif., first sent us this idea. Perhaps you have an idea for Junior Editors. If so send it in care of this newspaper, and it may win you $10. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Honeymoon Mate Whistles at Night—Divorce Granted

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. W. L. Blackerby won a divorce because she said her husband whistled all night on their honeymoon.

"Was it a sort of wolf whistle?" asked Dist. Judge James K. Evetts. "A wolf whistle might not have been out of order on a honeymoon."

Mrs. Blackerby replied: "It was just plain whistling. He would sit in the rocking chair by the bed and whistle. And sing, too. No particular tune."

* * *

She said that her husband apparently wanted to aggravate her because of a minor argument.

Dior Unveils Newsworthy Furs

Sheer luxury is reflected in this little jacket of Crown sable by Christian Dior. New on the fashion scene are its short, short length and the circular working of the sable skins. It goes equally well with slim and full-skirted fashions for the coming fall and winter season. The ball gown is one of Dior's creations from his fall and winter 1956-57 collection.

Clearly "signed" Christian Dior is this sweeping sashed coat of Umpa ranch mink. The hat is also from Dior's collection.

Beverly Warnke Is Married Today

Beverly Warnke became the bride of Gerald A. Monte at a 10 o'clock ceremony this morning at St. Michael Church. The Nuptial High Mass was read in the presence of friends and relatives of the couple.

Beverly, formerly of Augusta avenue, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beardley of Oxford, and Gerald, of Detroit, is the son of Mrs. Samuel Adams and John Monte of New York.

The church altar was decorated with baskets of gladioli and carnations for the service.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace with a sweetheart neckline, fitted basque waistline and long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. The front of the bouffant skirt was fashioned of Chantilly lace, the back was of alternating tiers of Chahtilly lace and nylon tulle ending in a chapel train.

Her handmade crown headpiece was trimmed with seed pearls. Her finger tip veil was of pure silk with French lace edging.

Mrs. Clarence Zeeman wore a gown of white English organdy embroidered in orchid with a full apron effect, a V neckline, fitted bodice and cap sleeves for her duties as matron of honor. She wore a picture hat of white horsehair with ribbon streamers of the orchid color.

John Warful served as best man. Seating the guests were Douglas Simms, Harold Simms and Garth Johnson.

A wedding breakfast was held at Rotunda Inn immediately following the ceremony. Members of the immediate family and the bridal party attended. Four hundred and fifty guests will attend the evening reception at Fisher Body Union Hall.

For traveling to New York, the new Mrs. Monte will change to a white polished cotton dress with embroidery of small rosebuds and white accessories and will wear the orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

On the couple's return they will reside in Detroit.

MRS. GERALD A. MONTE

Married this morning at St. Michael Church were Beverly D. Warnke and Gerald A. Monte. The bride, formerly of Augusta avenue, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beardsley of Oxford. Gerald, of Detroit, is the son of Mrs. Samuel Adams and John Monte of New York.

Italian Designs Multi-Purpose Bedroom Lamps

NEW YORK (INS) — Italian lamp designer Maurizio Tempestini thinks the American bedroom is in a sad state because it's so poorly lit.

* * *

"Everybody thinks about the living room," he said, "but nobody does anything about the bedroom.

"The bedroom is a very important room," the gentleman from Florence continued, "and we must concentrate on it. My new lamps are specially designed for the bedroom because they are so adjustable.

* * *

"Bedroom lamps must fit a number of needs, particularly those near the bed."

* * *

He explained that ideal bedroom lamps should be so flexible as to give a number of different types of light—strong light for reading, softer light for relaxing, clear light for making up, and shielded light when one person wants to sleep and the other wants to read.

Husband - Wife Designers Disagree on Fall Accent

Simonetta Emphasizes Waistline While Fabiani Stresses Back Effects

* * *

Other than that, there were strong similarities between the rival lines they presented Thursday night in a show closing the second day of Rome's fall and winter style previews.

Simonetta accented the waistline by swathing it with draperies, dropping panels from it, or using bolero jackets.

* * *

Her suit lines differ widely, but the waistline remains fixed—at its natural level. Some jackets are belted in behind, others are belted in front and fall free in the back. Loose fitting jackets have martingales sloping down from the waistline.

Daytime skirts are narrow. Those intended for after dark are full. Coats are double-breasted and boxy or in widening pyramids. Simonetta cuts skirt panels into dress fronts, knotting them up into bodices as prominent frontal draperies.

* * *

She liked a hat she designed in collaboration with the Rome milliner Canessa. It's a cloche, fashioned like a closing umbrella, and slanting down over the nose. For one wearing it, visibility of anything but the wearer's toes is improbable. But it's gay.

Only for evening does Simonetta let the face be shown, then often under an upright circus pony plume.

Fabiani has many of the same panel tricks as his wife, but he concentrates on back effects with panels attached at one side. Only one or two have front-concealing panels originating in chest - high bows.

* * *

* * *

Gattinono chose "winged victory" for her theme. From the Greek statue she shows smooth-fronted creations with the fullness drawn into skirt backs and little wing-like carpets. Tiny removable capes, some in rich fur, top both suits and dresses.

Amvets Auxiliary Conducts Meeting

Mrs. Norman Windiate of Erie drive opened her home to members of Jimmy Dey Post 12, Amvets Auxiliary, Wednesday evening. Mrs. George Sugg assisted the hostess.

Mrs. Theodore Keiffer was chosen chairman of the "Broomstick Whirl," the annual dance being planned for October.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. William Leight, Mrs. Lyle Mavis and Mrs. Jackie Smith.

Dr. Neafie Tells of Vaccine at Meeting Held Friday

Representatives of service clubs and women's organizations as well as volunteers of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis heard Dr. Charles A. Neafie, Pontiac Public Health Director tell of the important role volunteers play in educating the public about polio and the Salk Vaccine.

* * *

The county-wide meeting and tea was held Friday afternoon in the Civic Room of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Dr. Neafie told of the known symptoms of polio and stated that the Salk vaccine was not intended as a preventive of poliomyelitis but as a preventive of paralytic poliomyelitis.

"It is hoped that immunization beginning in the second six months of life will become routine and standard practice in pediatrics," the speaker stated.

* * *

Mrs. H. B. Stenbuck, director of Women's Activities for the North Oakland County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, presided at the afternoon meeting.

* * *

Others present were Mrs. Joseph DeVriendt, chairman for South Oakland County and Blake Ferris, Eastern Michigan Representative.

Also on the afternoon program was the presentation of the National Foundation film on the Salk Vaccine, "Unconditional Surrender." This was the first showing of the film in Oakland County.

Mrs. Ruth Weber Parshall, director of the Oakland County Chapter, outlined plans for distribution of polio and vaccine literature and posters.

Provide Proper Place for Storing Toys

Storage of play equipment is an important matter which parents should consider while a child is very young. Serious falls often result because playthings are left on steps, stairway, walks or scattered about the yard or home.

If parents provide a proper place, such as a toy chest, or open shelves within reach of the child, and teach that child to put away playthings when play time is over, many serious falls will be avoided. The habit of orderliness developed by supervision early in life will carry over into later life.

Duke of Kent Goes All Out to Win Genuine Popularity

(This is the last of four articles on the Duke of Kent, the dashing young man who is seventh in line for the British throne, but first in the ranks of London's gay social set.)

By FRED DOERFLINGER

LONDON (INS) — There's much more to Edward George Nicholas Patrick, Duke of Kent, than the escapades, denied and undenied, that have brought him fame and notoriety before he has come of age.

* * *

Eddie is undoubtedly the greatest "trier" in the whole British royal family. He is fully aware that unless he badly blots his copybook he is destined for a field marshal's baton, a prominent role in royal affairs and a much-to-be envied social position.

But those who know the young duke best emphasize that these things in themselves cut little ice with Eddie.

His one ambition in life is to be thought of as regular guy, to be genuinely popular for himself and not for the "snob appeal" that draws people to him like bees to honey.

* * *

The young duke is in fact what the British recognize as a "decent bloke." No member of his high caste could be more kind, thoughtful, considerate or attentive to other people than Eddie.

He is going all-out to win popularity. If royal status were a uniform Eddie could be said to invariably leave his home in his wardrobe.

MUNCHING PEANUTS

It is not an unusual sight to see him strolling in London's smart West End with a couple of army colleagues nonchalantly sharing a bag of peanuts.

* * *

The girls like him not so much because he is a hot-shot on skis, a fashionable jazz addict or a dream on the dance floor but because he takes such pains to make a date fun, even to the extent of playing the fool.

Yet Eddie probably spends less on a date than an American high school lad with understanding parents.

His girl friends are more likely to find themselves at a cinema, a Chinese restaurant, a modest dine and dance establishment than at a swank West End nightclub, expensive hotel ballroom or select and fashionable restaurant.

* * *

NO PRETENTIONS

The duke, who realizes that his gifts and abilities are no more than a good average, has no pretentions whatsoever, as a British European Airways hostess, Carol Herdman, can testify.

Carol, blonde and neat in a pair of slacks, was cleaning her apartment one afternoon when a friend phoned to ask if he could bring some people around for an impromptu party.

They arrived and some sat on the floor because Carol only had three chairs. Then one of the guests asked if he could invite Eddie as well.

Carol was more than a little surprised when she saw who "Eddie" was and was even more amazed when her royal guest declined the offer of a chair, sank to the floor and sat there drinking cup after cup of tea as if it were his usual custom.

Eddie is always nice to people. Once, in a period when he wasn't driving, and a male friend of the family was giving him a lift home from a private dance, the party was just leaving when this friend spotted an acquaintance he hadn't seen in years.

"Do you mind," he said to Eddie, "if I have just one dance with her?"

"Not at all," replied the duke who had already collected his coat and hat, "as a matter of fact there's a girl over there I wanted to have a word with."

* * *

And Eddie makes a point of always thanking people like bandleaders when they comply with his request for a favorite tune like "Willow Weep for Me" or some New Orleans jazz number.

The young duke's restlessness and nervousness is reflected in his habit of singing or humming as he dances. Eddie, with his whimsical streak of humor, is a ready but not easy mixer. He is innately shy and it means real effort to turn himself into the life of the party.

Britain's prize catch smokes a little and drinks a bit more, generally Scotch or beer, but not to the extent that some critics allege. The truth is that Eddie is a "social drinker" who unfortunately would never win a prize for holding his liquor.

Recently, the duke has taken up the cult of the Sauna—the Finnish version of the Turkish bath. After late evening parties he has started to visit the Sauna in London's Kensington borough, spends an hour or two there sweltering in the steam and finishes up with a massage.

GOES TO EXTREMES

* * *

He is undoubtedly wise not to stand too much on royal dignity but there are many among his true friends and well-wishers who would like to advise him not to be quite so susceptible.

For among the coterie who surround him are always those social climbers who egg him on to crazier and crazier antics and pranks, and Eddie, who is not the strongest of characters and wants so desperately to be recognized as a good sport, good-naturedly complies.

And so another silly-looking photograph of the duke appears in the newspapers and another piece of evidence is added to the case history of the allegedly wildest royal buck since King Henry VIII.

* * *

The half dozen young men who have been his friends since Sandhurst Military Academy days seldom talk about him, but they all are agreed that while Eddie is no miracle man, there's nothing that's bad in him.

He's a bit spoiled, they admit, but everything else about him is fundamentally down to earth.

HIS WILD OATS

Their concensus is that Eddie will "be okay when he has finished sowing his wild oats." And they add: "And they are not so wild as some; he is pretty conscious of his position as a member of the royal family."

In the meanwhile the family is keeping its fingers crossed that "young Eddie" will not hit the headlines in any "improper" way for the next few months.

The family realizes that the boy has hung up something of a record for wildness, and that a period of calm and quiet behavior will do Eddie a lot of good publicly.

Daughter's Beau Fails to Dress Up

Mother Objects to His Sloppy Attire for Dates

By EMILY POST

A mother tells me. "My 17-year-old daughter has been dating a young man of the same age for the past two months. On Saturday nights they usually go to the movies and then stop and have a soda.

"He seems to be a very nice boy, but I object to the way he dresses when he comes to call for my daughter. She always looks very nice but he arrives in slacks, shirt open at the neck, no tie and no coat.

"I think this is very unflattering to her, and it seems to me as though he doesn't care enough for her to dress properly. When I mentioned this to my daughter, she said all the boys dressed that way.

"If I were a young girl I would refuse to go with anyone who dressed in that fashion when he came to take me out, and I think she should do the same. I would very much like to know what you have to say about this."

Answer: I agree with you and I would like to have her refuse to go with him.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I'm always in doubt about when to wear a hat and gloves. Will you please answer about these occasions: (1) a morning reception; (2) informal afternoon tea; (3) dinner at a friend's house; (4) dinner in a restaurant; (5) theater in the evening."

Answer: (1), (2) and (4) hats always. (3) No hats at dinner in the evening. (5) No hat when in evening clothes, otherwise optional (but remember to take it off during the performance.) Gloves are always correct except when actually at the table.

Church Women Are Entertained by Mrs. Tucker

Twenty-five members attended the Thursday evening meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Advent. Mrs. J. George Tucker opened her Pine Lake road home for the meeting, with her daughter, Lois, assisting.

Plans are being made for a fall fair to be held at the church the early part of November. Mrs. John Black invited the group to meet at her home in Foxcroft Aug. 9.

Scalp Massage May Improve Hair

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I receive many letters asking what to do about hair which is falling out. While animals shed their hair periodically, humans shed theirs constatnly.

A certain amount of this shedding is usual. If you are not losing more than about 50 hairs a day you can consider it normal.

I do not believe that there has been any time in history when there was as much baldness as there is today. There also has been a lot of premature graying among women in recent years.

Inheritance seems to play some part in both instances. Modern life, however, with its nervous tension, our sedentary way of life, our refined and often devitalized foods, no doubt has played its part.

Experts feel that scalp massage is most important in promoting hair health and beauty. They also feel that massage of the neck and shoulder muscles is advantageous.

Some go so far as to say that the massage of the neck and shoulder muscles is even more important than massaging the scalp.

A CERTAIN AMOUNT

It is almost impossible to give ourselves this massage successfully but we can accomplish a certain amount. I believe you will be surprised when you discover how tense your shoulder muscles are.

* * *

There seems to be a swing-back in the popularity of the egg shampoo. Some years ago it had quite a vogue. During recent months I have received many letters asking how to give one. Today I will tell you how.

* * *

Use four eggs. Beat the yolks and whites separately. Then mix them. Wet the hair. Apply one-half of this mixture. Massage it into the scalp.

* * *

Let it remain for about 10 minutes. Rinse it off with warm water. Apply the second half. Massage it into the scalp, let it remain for a few minutes and then rinse it off well with warm water.

* * *

If you would like to have my leaflet about hair care send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 52. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

There seems to be a swing-back in the popularity of the egg shampoo.

Correct Way to Pack the Two-Suiter

There's a correct way and an incorrect way to pack a two-suiter bag—and upon destination, clothes will reflect their owner's knowledge of this fact. Here's the correct way.

Take out the hangers on the suit side of the bag. Place suit trousers on the bottom, parallel to the hinge, with the top of one pair against one end. The legs are left hanging over the side, and the next pair are placed with the top at the opposite end. Place the first coat on a hanger and stuff tissue paper in the shoulders to prevent crushing.

Fasten the hanger in the bag and smooth out the coat front on the bottom of the bag, with the lower part hanging over the front. Smooth out the sleeves and fold them around the coat body, following the side seams.

When the coats are in, drop the divider on top of your pants and coats, then fold the coat bottom over it into the case, and smooth out all wrinkles. Fold the trouser legs into the bag over the coats, and the major packing is finished. Fasten the strap on this side.

Packing the other side calls for attention to weight distribution. Put heavy objects such as shoes, near the hinge. Use handkerchiefs, socks and underwear to wedge shirts firmly in place.

New Fall Styles Bare Shoulders

NEW YORK (INS) — Your new fall dress may be a high-necked affair that's not only sleeveless but shoulderless.

The idea is to have a dress that narrows from the top of the bustline up to the collarbones, or even the throat.

An example of these Arthur Cole—Mr. Mort creations was a lurex-wool, horizontally striped sheath. The fabric came to a point at the throat, with straps extending from it and crossing in the back for a halter effect in the rear. Shoulders and back were bare, even though the dress came right up to the model's neck.

Another model had a Grecian look. The narrow, shirred neckline widened at the bustline with a softly draped effect and the skirt fell wide with permanent accordion pleats.

The sweater look is another one that will be seen around this fall. Such unlikely fabrics as lace are given the cardigan treatment for wear over black cocktail and evening gowns.

Carole Lewis Is Honored

Dressy blouses soften Bermuda shorts and are worn by teen-agers who rebel against wearing long pants or dresses during hot weather.

While the beauty of the long, frilly, feminine dance dress is absent during hot and humid weather, country dancers look cool and attractive in the new softer look in blouses they are wearing with their shorts.

Don't Show Weight

If you have a weight problem, stay away from Italian mules, slacks or shorts of any kind and pullover sweaters. Your weight definitely limits you in your fashion choices and you'll look your best in plain pumps, tailored shirts and dark colors that trim down your figure.

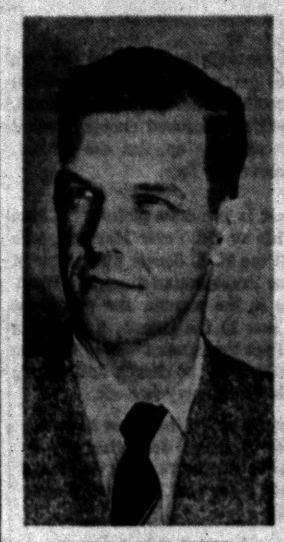

A variation of the Tumbling Block design was used by Grandmother Eisenhower to create this handsome quilt. (Her now-famous sons helped to cut the pieces for the original!)

Confident Living:

Peale Says Great Faith Will Return Great Results

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Some weeks ago, I saw the story of the actress, Marjorie Rambeau, on Ralph Edward's "This Is Your Life" television program. Miss Rambeau told of an automobile accident in which she had been severely injured.

★ ★ ★

The doctors told her she would never walk again. When she was well enough to work, she managed to get some parts in television plays in which she could act her parts sitting down. Eventually, her condition improved enough so that she could also work standing up. But she couldn't walk; she couldn't move her legs.

PEALE

Then she was cast in a motion picture, "A Man Called Peter," the life of Dr. Peter Marshall, who had been chaplain of the U. S. Senate and pastor of the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church in Washington. In one scene in the picture, she was to be shown in the front pew in the church, first sitting and later standing. Then the camera was to focus on the congregation walking out of church and, during this time, stagehands could carry her out.

When they played the scene, she was in the front pew listening to another actor, in the part of Peter Marshall, delivering one of Dr. Marshall's famous sermons on faith. Marshall's point was that, if you really believe and it is a right thing and it is God's will, trusting to faith, you can do anything.

Sitting there listening, Miss Rambeau forgot that both she and the man in the pulpit were merely actors. She listened to the message of the sermon and, when the congregation of actors stood and then walked to the exits, she automatically moved out of her pew and started down the aisle. It literally stopped the show. Every person connected with that production felt the presence of God as this woman, a little shaky but filled with certainty, made her way down that aisle.

HOW TO GO ABOUT DOING IT

When I saw Miss Rambeau on television she stood and she walked. For she had discovered that, if you have faith, you can accomplish anything.

I have tried to formulate this as the law of creative accomplishment. Suppose you want to accomplish something? How do you go about doing it?

First, you must pray about it. Why pray? To be sure it's a right thing you want, because if it isn't right it must necessarily be wrong. And a wrong thing can never turn out right. Then, too, prayer is necessary to give you insight and wisdom that you do not ordinarily possess.

★ ★ ★

Second, you paint in your conscious mind a picture of yourself as accomplishing the thing you want. Then you hold it and repeat it until it sinks deep into your subconscious. Picture what you want as coming to pass, not in the future, but soon, now.

★ ★ ★

Third, do all you can to bring what you want to pass, constantly checking with God and asking His help.

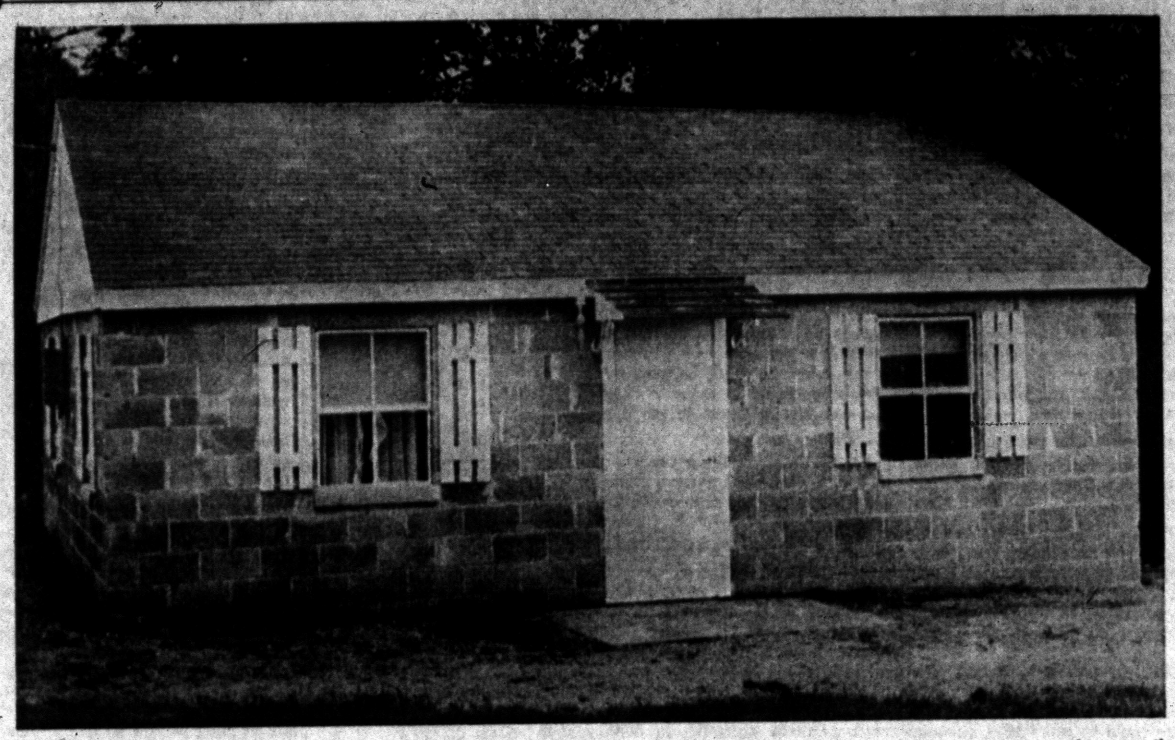

★ ★ ★

And, fourth, leave the rest in the hands of God, in full confidence that He will not let you down.

★ ★ ★

Pray, visualize, work and have faith—and, with God's help, you can accomplish anything.

BUILT BY YOUNG PEOPLE OF EVANGELISTIC TABERNACLE — Recently completed, the missionary cabin on the Watkins Lake Rd. acreage of the Evangelistic Tabernacle was entirely built by the church youth. Made of cement blocks with white trim, it contains the office of the pastor, the Rev. A. J. Baughey, and rooms for visiting missionaries. Young people are now working on the Tabernacle. In the near future a separate building containing a dining hall and kitchen will be constructed. All labor is donated by friends and members of the church.

Evangelistic Tabernacle Holding Camp Meeting

Camp meetings are being held in the Evangelistic Tabernacle, 2800 Watkins Lake Road with the pastor, the Rev. A. J. Baughey in charge.

Opening Thursday, services are held daily at 10 a.m., 2:30 and 7:30 p.m. They will continue through July 29.

Former college president, the Rev. L. W. Lacy of Muncie, Ind., and the Rev. R. R. Sharp of Oshkosh, Neb., will be guest preachers.

Three quartets will bring special musical numbers. "The Word of Life" quartet will be here from Bethel College of Mishawaka, Ind.; coming from Cincinnati, Ohio, will be "God's Bible School" quartet and the Free Methodist College quartet of Greenville, Ill., is also scheduled to sing.

The Powers Castle Family known as the Musical Messengers of Indianapolis, Ind., song evangelists, will bring the message in song.

The congregation of the Evangelistic Tabernacle bought 19½ acres on Watkins Lake Rd. and are planning, besides their tabernacle, a separate building for the dining hall and kitchen; several cabins for visiting missionaries and a motel.

During the summer when camp meetings are held the motel will accommodate 40 families.

The tabernacle is constructed of cement blocks with laminated rafters. The sanctuary, 80x120 ft., will seat between 1000 and 12000 people. Most of the work is being done by members of the church and will be finished in the near future.

One cabin is already completed. It contains the pastor's office and rooms for visiting preachers or missionaries.

Graham Lambastes Goofball Addicts

SCHROON LAKE, N.Y. (INS)—Evangelist Billy Graham this week blasted Americans who "rely on sleeping pills and goofballs to blot out their neuroses and fears."

"We are a one-sided people," Graham declared. "We have built ourselves physically and mentally, but have starved ourselves spiritually."

Graham addressed some 8,000 persons who jammed the front lawn of the Word of Life Inn at Schroon Lake.

The fiery evangelist prefaced his speech by announcing there will be a giant crusade in New York's Madison Square Garden May 15.

Rev. James L. Randall Comes to Stringham United Missionary

A native of Battle Creek, he attended Spring Arbor college in 1950 and was graduated from Bethel College, Mishawaka, Ind. in 1955 with majors in Biblican literature and history.

The past year he attended Goshen College Biblical Seminary in Goshen, Ind.

During his college years, he served as assistant pastor at the United Missionary Church in Athens from 1950-1951 and of the Liberty Drive Church in Mishawaka, Ind., from 1954-56.

He is very much interested in the youth work of the church and all sports, especially football and baseball.

The Rev. Mr. Randall married the former Edna Darlene Faulk in Athens in 1953. Parents of one-year-old Connie, the Randalls make their home at 25 N. Roslyn Ave.

The local church was started by the First United Missionary Church of 135 Prospect St. as a Sunday school group using Stringham School for quarters.

It moved into the new basement in October 1954 and the auditorium was occupied in the spring of 1955.

The former pastor, the Rev. Kurt Kobernik, is leaving to take up home mission work for the United Missionary Church in southern California.

Kentucky Hill School Founder Sets Retirement

The Rev. Hiram M. Frakes, former superintendent and promotion director of Henderson Settlement, Frakes, Ky., will retire this summer after 31 years of service to Kentucky mountaineers.

The log cabin school which he founded some 30 years ago has grown into a center with 22 buildings on a 700-acre campus and enrollment of 500 children.

Frakes left his pastorate in Pineville, Ky., in 1925 when he heard a murder case in court. Disturbed by the situation revealed in the trial, he determined to establish a school for mountain youths.

At first the mountaineers, many of whom had never before seen a preacher, were suspicious of him, but their attitude changed gradually. The first man to give land to the pastor was a moonshiner and feudist. The late Bishop Theodore Henderson of the Ohio Methodist Conference, and the Methodist Board of Missions cooperated also.

Pastor to Show Movies of Parade, Bible School

The Rev. Gordon Lindsey of Five Points Community Church will show more than 200 feet of colored movies at the church Sunday evening at 6:30.

The pictures will be of the Vacation Bible School Parade and of boys and girls attending the classes of Bible study and handicraft. The summer enrollment was more than 225.

On May 3, 1952, a ski-and-wheel equipped Air Force plane made the world's first successful North Pole landing.

The book that Conquers Fear
SCIENCE AND HEALTH
with Key to the Scriptures
by MARY BAKER EDDY

The false mask of evil's boasted power is torn off by Christian Science. No longer need anyone drink a dose of despair and live in fear. A great book shows to any sincere seeker the way of liberation.

This book that conquers fear is the Christian Science textbook. New light is shed on the Bible. New hope is ours as we see how to find God's infinite goodness right where we are.

Multitudes have found release from every human woe. You can do the same and find freedom from fear.

Catholics Studying Plan to Punish Carelessness on Highways

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The Roman Catholic Church is considering ecclesiastical punishment for persons found guilty of having caused traffic accidents, Prof. Pio Ciprotti, a canon law expert, says.

* * *

Ciprotti made the statement in an interview appearing today in L'Osservatore Della Domenica, a magazine published in the Vatican.

Last week the magazine appealed for "Christian conscience" to halt the rising toll of trafic deaths. It declared the Fifth Commandment, "Thou shalt not kill," applied equally to crimes on the highways.

* * *

Ciprotti said a decision to hand out ecclesiastical punishments could be taken by the various bishops who "know better than anybody else" the particular needs and conditions in their dioceses, rather than by the Vatican itself.

A Vatican spokesman said, however, that a decision on the matter "could be made directly" by the Pope.

New Alma College Head to Assume Post on Sept. 1

Dr. Stephen S. Nisbet, Chairman of the Board of Trustees at Alma College, has announced the appointment of Dr. Robert D. Swanson as the new president of the Presbyterian Synod College at Alma. He will assume his new duties on Sept. 1.

Dr. Swanson comes from the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago, where he has been vice-president and associate professor of homiletics for the past seven years. Born in Sioux City, Iowa, he was graduated from Park College, Parkville, Missouri with a Bachelor of Arts degree in History in 1937. After studying at the University of Iowa, he returned to his alma mater as director of physical education for one year.

The new Alma president attended McCormick Theological Seminary graduating in the class of 1941. He received the Doctor of Divinity Degree from James Milliken University in 1950. Dr. Swanson distinguished himself as an outstanding minister when he became pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Tulsa, Oklahoma in 1941. He served the U. S. Navy as a chaplain in the Pacific Theater during World War II. In 1946 he became the Dean of Students of McCormick Seminary and in 1949 was elected vice-president of the school.

This outstanding leader in the Presbyterian Church is well known in college circles and has been in popular demand as a speaker. He has been an active leader in Presbyterian affairs in the Chicago area and a member of the executive committee of the Council on Theological Education of The Presbyterian Church U.S.A. Dr. Swanson and his wife Roberta have two children, a boy and a girl.

The new president comes to Alma College at a time when the school is enjoying the most vigorous vitality in its history. It is expected that the enrollment will reach an all time high of 740 students in September. A new women's residence hall to house 206 students will be opened for the beginning of the fall semester. This is the fourth new building to be erected on the Alma campus in the past five years.

WHO WROTE THE BIBLE ANYWAY?

For 1800 years the Bible has been the subject of much controversy. Is it an authentic book? Is it to be trusted? Where did the Bible come from?

Many people are under the false impression that the Bible was given to the world in the third century A. D.—this is not true. All the authors of the New Testament were firsthand witnesses of the establishment of the Christian Church. The Bible itself tells us that these "holy men of God spake as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." (II Peter 1: 21)

These men made it their business to set down an accurate and reliable account of the events which figured in the founding of the Christian Church. Bible-believing Protestants have found that God so directed in the writing of the Scriptures that the result is an accurate record of God's message to mankind.

The Bible itself claims to be from God. In Paul's second letter to Timothy we read that "All scripture is given by inspiration of God." Either we must believe such a claim, or we must take the Bible to be a completely false record.

Bible-believing Protestants, down through the ages, have put their complete trust in the Scriptures as God's message.

The entire Bible message is centered in Jesus Christ as the Son of God, and in the salvation which God has made possible through the death and resurrection of Christ. The Bible says: "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved." (Acts 4: 12)

A true understanding of the Bible message is the doorway to salvation. You may be interested in knowing more about the Bible and what it can mean to you. Many of your questions will be answered in a pamphlet which you may have FREE of charge by simply filling in and mailing the following:

Kiwanis Assist Youth Activities by Servicing Cars

Some 70 Downtown Kiwanis Club members will pitch in at two local service stations Sunday to earn money for their youth activities in the area.

Throughout the day, 20 overall-clad members will man the pumps, to give each car quick service and a free safety inspection.

* * *

Cooperating with the club members are Joiner's Service Station at Orchard Lake and Telegraph Roads, and Border's Service at Auburn and Paddock Streets.

Volga of Vodka Causing Reds to Act Vulgar

In a condemnation of drunkenness as one of the most harmful survivords of bourgeois society, the official Soviet Radio declared hooliganism caused by "hard drinking is widespread."

The broadcast made no mention of the Soviet Union's most famous drinking man, Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev, who in a drunken state is said to have insulted guests at a recent Moscow reception.

The warning apparently was aimed at humbler Russian citizens because it cautioned that under the law drunks can be evicted from their apartments.

BAD MANNERS SURVIVE

The radio asserted that where vigilance is lacking "the bearers of survivals of the past are trying to introduce into our Soviet daily life the disgusting manners of bourgeois society."

These manners, it said, include "greed and grabbing, rude manners, hard drinking, slander, hooliganism and thuglike attitudes toward women and children."

DYNAMITE DAME — Explosive is the word for Italy's bang-up beauty, screen star Sophia Loren. She's sitting pretty on a movie prop near Madrid, Spain, where "The Pride and the Passion" is being filmed.

Local Bank Employe Continues Studies

Gordon M. McLeod, Assistant Cashier and Auditor of the Community National Bank of Pontiac will attend his junior year at the NABAC School for Auditors and Comptrollers at the University of Wisconsin. Classes for the 305 bankers begin tomorow.

The school, sponsored by the National Association of Bank Auditors and Comptrollers, offers a three-year program of two weeks sessions each summer. Students study bank accounting, bank auditing and bank controls.

The NABAC School was organized to provide bankers an opportunity to improve knowledge in this bank field.

Car Crash Kills Two Outside of Jackson

JACKSON (AP)—David Bercaw of Mason, Ohio, and his wife, Betty, both 39, were killed last night in a two-car collision on a U.S. 27 bypass south of Jackson.

Eight persons were injured. Police said Donald Evenden, 28, of Adrian, was attempting to pass a semi-trailer when the headon crash occurred.

KKK Meets Tonight for Cross Burning

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan will gather its forces here tonight for the first statewide rally of the hooded organization in several years.

* * *

The klan has announced it will be "an old time speaking rally and cross burning." About 2,000 members are expected to be on hand at a leased site north of the city to hear a minister, two lawyers and others talk on white supremacy and world conditions.

* * *

At the same time the Negro congregation of St. Luke's Free Will Baptist Church will hold a mass meeting to pray for the klan. The Rev. O. L. Williams said the purpose of the prayers will be to strengthen the spread of Christian love for one another.

Man Suffers Brain Injury, Family Suing Store

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The operators of a Norfolk jewelry store are being sued for $650,000 by the family of a merchant seaman who contend he suffered "complete destruction" of the upper brain from drinking diluted cyanide in the establishment.

Mrs. Everett F. Johnson said her husband had lost his sight hearing, speech and taste. In her suit, she said he had "completely lost his reason" and had been taken to a governmental mental hospital.

Driver Institute Set

DETROIT (AP)—The annual driver training institute will be held at the University of Michigan Aug. 20-31 with the largest enrollment in its 27-year history. Some 144 high school driver education instructors have signed up. They will instruct an estimated 60,000 high school students each year.

Hollywood Headlines

James MacArthur Joins Second Generation Club

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Still another offspring of a famous star has made the leap into the big time. This time it's James MacArthur, adopted son of Helen Hayes.

* * *

Jim, 17 years old and soon to enter Harvard, joins many others in the second (or more) generation performers club. Among them: Tony Perkins (son of Osgood), Pat Wayne (John's sprout), John Barrymore Jr., Elizabeth Montgomery (daughter of Robert), Robert Dix (Richard's son), etc.

Young Jim has rugged good looks, a curly crew cut, a nose that may have seen some battering on the football field and a medium but solid build. Unlike some performers his age, he's a good talker. But that's only natural. His father was the brilliant Charles MacArthur.

* * *

Jim's first real role has proven a big step toward prominence as an actor. Previously he had done only a few small parts in summer stock. His only appearance with his mother was on a radio show several years ago.

"Then I got acquainted with Hern Manulis, who was producing a Producer's Showcase show my mother was on," Jim recalled. "He was doing a drama called 'Strike a Blow' on TV and asked me to read for it. I didn't get the part.

"Later he went to Hollywood and asked me if I'd like to try out for the part again. It was a free trip to California, so I decided why not?"

* * *

He won the role that time. He made a big enough impression so that he was signed to repeat the role in the film version for RKO. It's now called "The Young Stranger," and he costars with Kim Hunter and James Daley.

But this doesn't mean that his film career will now blossom.

"I'm going to college first," said Jim, who will enroll as a freshman at Harvard in September. "I'll finish school before I decide about an acting career. I'd have to finish or my mother would blow a fuse."

Detroit Judge Loses Equal TV Time Appeal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communications Commission says that a Detroit television station, WWJ-TV, acted "within its rights in turning down a request for equal time" by a candidate for probate judge.

* * *

This opinion, written by Commission Secretary Mary Jane Morris, was forwarded to a representative of the candidate who had been refused time by the station, William Cotter.

Cotter had complained that Wayne County Probate Judge Nathan Kaufman had appeared on a television program last May, and insisted that he should be allowed an equivalent time period.

But Miss Morris said that at the time of the telecast neither Kaufman nor Cotter were officially candidates.

Fred Allen Didn't Feel He Would Be Missed

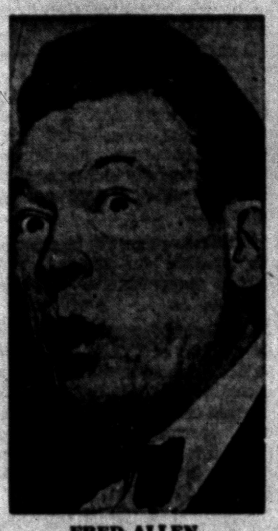

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Always at this time of year Fred Allen would bat out guest columns. They came as surely as summer, so that a columnist could have a day off.

★ ★ ★

I, who miss this generous and talented man so much, have decided to put together some of his writings that I've come across, so that there'll be a guest column from Fred Allen even in this year of his death.

"Freddie Allen, the juggler," was his billing in the 20s when he began writing, from "the road," to his friend the late Sam Tishman, who preserved those missives on hotel stationery.

FRED ALLEN

"The audience laughs in the wrong places—the drug store, poolroom, anywhere but in the theater," he wrote from Mason City, Ia., in 1921. "The manager is a happy rascal," he wrote from Centralia, Ill. "There are moths in his suit that are old enough to vote. He thinks the show 'The Bat' was written by Babe Ruth. Rip Van Winkle played a season out here and took the 20-year sleep to get used to the mattress."

He was criticizing in fun, for he even circulated some insulting letters written to him by William J. Slattery, a Cedar Rapids theater manager.

"I am now afflicted with the poorest business in my career as manager of this house," Slattery wrote. "I do not give you all the credit for the condition, but you are doing your share toward maintaining it.

"I heard the customers emit shrieks last night and listened to learn why they were laughing but was unable to discover a cause, as your pants were buttoned."

Years later—when radio was new—Fred was a Broadway personality and as addicted to radio as some people are now to TV.

"I have been in the house for so many weeks Portland was thinking of having me upholstered so that I would look better with the furniture," he said in another letter. He had graduated now to a typewriter, but not yet to lower case letters.

The Roxy Theater was opening.

"The city needs this theater like Glasgow needs more pay telephones. (Editor's note: he didn't say telephones.) When the Rockefellers are through with this theater John D. will be giving away passes instead of dimes and the whole thing will be a filling station."

And now we come to 1947 when he wrote me from "west harwich, mass."

"have been working on some vacation ideas," he said. "a pair of hiking shoes with built in pebbles for people who would rather sit around saloons on their vacations than take long walks. also a self-wetting bathing suit to make others think you're been in the water on cold days.

"column writing isn't my metier. (metier is french for racket.) i could never be a bistro blazac, a saloon sandburg or a dive de maupassant."

The strange thing about Fred Allen was that he never thought anybody would miss him.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

"In which trunk is Kim?" . . . Pier Angeli saw "Somebody Up There Likes Me"—the first time she's ever seen herself in a movie. She claimed it made her "feel funny inside," but husband Vic Damone coaxed her into it . . . Blind pianist George Shearing was offered a music professorship at McGill Univ.

It'll cost the Steve Allen TV'er $1,000 a minute to televise that 12-minute hunk from Birdland this weekend . . . Rudolph Bing and the Met Opera chorus are still feuding, despite the new union contract.

Senate OKs Hansen's Nomination to Farm Job

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has approved the nomination of Kermit H. Hansen of Des Moines, Iowa, as head of the Farmers' Home Administration.

Hansen, a former banker in Mason City, Iowa, has been director of the Farmers Home Administration's regional office in Des Moines since 1954.

He was named to the top job in the agency to succeed Robert McLeaish, who quit in June during a congressional investigation of his conduct.

The agency makes loans and supplies advice to low income farmers and also assists in handling drought relief programs.

There's Always Someone — but This Was a Tank

ST. ALBANS, W. Va. (AP) — A group of national guardsmen had red faces yesterday during the evacuation of St. Albans as part of the nationwide "operation alert."

Rumbling through the streets in a 25-ton tank, they clanked up to the civil defense communications start the tank again. It sat immobilized in the no-parking area through most of the two-hour exercise.

Walled Lake Votes Monday on 2-Mill Operating Levy

OAKLAND COUNTY 'DOE DAY' — This is the time of year that women's golf leagues all over Oakland County celebrate a "Doe" day. Inhibitions are cast to the four winds as women gather dressed in everything from gunny sacks to elaborate Gay Ninety gowns. Big prizes are awarded and some golf leagues even call the affair "Dough" day — but any way you look at it the women are out to have fun. More than 200 league women gathered at Twin Beach Golf club, Thursday at the invitation of the Twin Beach League, and the celebration was a cross between a 3-ring circus and Halloween night. Pictured above (left to right) are prizewinners Mrs. Madalyn Brown, Mrs. Jean Watson and Mrs. Grace Wallace, (who took first prize).

Ballot 2nd Time on School Issue

Polls to Be Open All Day in Five Precincts; Locations Listed

WALLED LAKE—Polls in five precincts in the Walled Lake School district will open at 7 a.m. Monday for the special school election, and remain open until 8 p.m. Voters will cast their ballots on a 2-mill levy for operating purposes.

Figures released by Clifford H. Smart, superintendent of the Walled Lake Consolidated School District, show that total school enrollment has been increasing at the rate of about 10 per cent each year since 1951.

This rate of growth is expected to continue for several more years, according to projected figures.

Enrollment, Smart said, increased from a total of 3,321 in 1951 to 4,707 in 1955. School membership is expected to hit 7,421 by 1961. This jump in enrollment is a big reason why operating expenses have climbed to a point where increased taxation has been proposed by the Board of Education.

Monday is the second time registered voters in the school district will vote for or against a proposed 2-mill tax hike for school operation. The same issue was defeated by a margin of 75 votes in June.

The following five precincts will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. on Monday:

Precinct No. 5—Glengary School in Oakley Park.

School officials have emphasized that they are more than willing to assist anyone who is not sure where he should vote. A call to the office of Supt. Clifford H. Smart can provide the answers to any questions regarding the election.

They also state that a person does not have to be a property owner to vote, any registered elector may cast a ballot.

Keego Approves Bill Payment

Council Agrees After Seeing Statement; Ask City Hall Site Lease

KEEGO HARBOR — After very heated discussion a special closed meeting was officially opened at 12:45 a.m. Friday by the Keego City councilmen.

* * *

Bills were passed to be paid after a presentation of a satisfactory financial statement had been presented.

Dissension had arisen over the fact that a complete financial report had not been given the council for over a year, and Mayor Jack Loveland, supported by Councilmen Lylia Ross and Wilma Webb, had refused to sign any more checks until an accounting had been made.

Instructions were issued to the city's attorney Thomas Dillon, to draw up a lease for the Marriott Building at the corner of Cass Lake and Orchard Lake Roads, which will be used as the new City Hall beginning Aug.: 15.:

* * *

Southfield Plans 12 Mile School

Meet Monday on Future Needs; List Progress on Buildings

SOUTHFIELD — A new 13-room elementary school on Twelve-Mile road at an estimated cost of $300,0000 will use the last of the $3½ million issue money approved by voters here last year.

Architicets Dolgner and Rollason have been authorized by the school board to make tentative plans for the new school.

Supt. Glenn Schoenhals has called a special meeting of the school board for Monday to discuss the future building needs of the district.

Schoenhals said this morning that the new Lederle school Nine-Mile and Evergreen has been completed and that additions to McKinley and Brace schools should be completed by September.

The Anglin school addition will not be completed until the end of the year. The swimming pool addition to the high school is already under way.

The Southfield board has been plagued by rising costs, building delays and late planning. In spite of the fact that estimated costs for schools have been higher than planned, Schoenhals said that what was left of the $3½ million would be sufficient to cover remaining costs.

The board has renamed Fred Leonard, president; Mark Rehbine secretary; Will J. Oliver, treasurer, and Leiv Larson and Ernest Coverdill, trustees.

Reflections

Boundless Mother Love

J. L. VOORHEES

Mother-love goes far beyond the most intelligent comprehension. Her sacrifice, in most cases, is taken for granted; the heroism of Mrs. Jean Shaklin exemplies the ultimate of mother-love.

*Mrs. Jean Shaklin was busily engaged with her household duties. Her two three-year-old twins and Gregory, five, were in their nursery. She smelled smoke, ran upstairs. The hall was blazing. She raced to the nursery door, burst into the room, scooped up the twins in one arm, grabbed Gregory, turned to see the door literally explode into flame. Windows were high, sealed. She covered the children with her body. Flame swirled over her. The fire department found them. She and her children were taken to a hospital. The babies were only slightly injured but Mrs. Shaklin paid with her life.

M. E. SIPLE

Kirbys Build Second Dream House on Maceday Lake

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Few individuals have the opportunity to build their dream house. Even fewer people get that chance twice. The A. C. Kirbys of Maceday Lake are exceptions to both statements.

They have lived on a peninsula jutting out into this beautiful lake for many years. They have lived in summer homes, in small inconvenient cottages, in a brand new gray shingled house and finally, in a charming brick and ledgerock home.

Several years ago the Kirbys planned and built the house next to the one in which they now live. It wasn't long before they sold that first house and started plans for a second new one. First they had to tear down an old house on their lot.

Then Mrs. Kirby fell ill and was forced to spend three months in bed. There wasn't even a window on the side of the little cottage that overlooked the building site. But Mrs. Kirby could still plan.

She had ample time to think up all sorts of ideas for the builder and her husband to incorporate in the new house. Fortunately, she was on her feet before it was time to pick out such things as linoleum and rugs.

The new house has several advantages over the old one. It is all on one floor—Mrs. Kirby has never seen the basement. And anything the Kirbys wanted changed in the original plan was changed.

At the rear the house looks like the letter H, with wings jutting out on either side of a bay window. A circular drive lets guests step out right at the door. The Kirbys moved a three-car garage from their original lot to the back of their present lot.

There is an entrance hall, floored in slate. The walls which match those in the living room are foam green. The only furniture is a maple deacon's bench. On either side of the door there are windows with shelves to display pieces of colored antique glassware.

The living room, of course, is on the lake side and has a picture window with a view. Underfoot there is green and gold wool tweed carpeting. Here and there are hoked throw rugs.

The furniture is traditional in styling. Needlepoint covers several of the mahogany chairs. Brocaded satin in pastel shades covers others, as well as the sofa.

MARBLE TOP HAS HISTORY

The Kirbys have several marble topped tables that have been refinished. One in the living room belonged to the Crofoot family, a family prominent in Pontiac history.

Between the living room and dining room is a double open doorway. A sliding door can be closed to separate living room and den.

This room is paneled in cherry. Next to the ledge rock fireplace bookshelves and cupboards are built in. The carpeting is gold wool tweed.

The comfortable upholstered furniture is brown and tan, with a hint of gold in the material of the chairs. Here again are marble topped tables. Another antique piece is the armless cane rocker with a walnut frame.

Repeating the woods seen outside, the draperies are printed with a waterfall and forest pattern in brown and green. The lighting is indirect, as it is throughout the house.

A braided rug in brown, greens and yellows covers only part of the oak floor in the dining room. The choicest piece of furniture is the dropleaf table that belonged to Mrs. Kirby's great grandparents.

She estimates that this walnut table, the one with which her ancestors started housekeeping, is over 150 years old. The modern reproductions of Hitchcock chairs in antique cherry go beautifully with the table.

The wainscoting in this room is Philippine mahogany. Above it the wallpaper has a pink and white design on a soft green background. In one corner there is an over-sized cupboard. The bottom section alone holds a 100-piece set of dishes.

Lovers of antiques never extend that love to kitchen furnishings — fortunately. While Mrs. Kirby has used decorative touches of Victorian vintage, her utilitarian features are strictly modern.

The floor has pink and gray linoleum. The walls and ceiling are pink, the soffit white. Counter tops are gray Formica. Cupboards have a driftwood finish.

HAS HEART-SAVER KITCHEN

Because Mrs. Kirby has heart trouble, everything in her kitchen is fixed to save her stretching and bending. Shelves below the stove have pull-out sections that hold trays and large pans. The mixer is on a board that pulls out and up. A planning desk with a rush seated chair offers a place to relax whenever possible.

Separated from the kitchen by a serving counter with storage space on both sides, the breakfast room is a miniature dining room. Here the wainscoting is birch and the corner cupboard is smaller.

The maple Ethan Allan table has a plastic finished top. Two of the chairs are Governor Carver models, two have rush seats. The hanging light is a Victorian fixture.

Beyond the breakfast room there is a porch at the rear. Windows on three sides give three views of Maceday Lake. The bamboo furniture has green and terra cotta upholstery. The walls are birch.

This is a two-bedroom house. In between is a hallway that boasts two large closets. One, the linen closet, has space for card tables and other bulky articles. The other is a wardrobe closet, with one high pole for long dresses.

PINK KITCHEN — Pink walls, gray and pink floor and gray counter tops make this kitchen an attractive one. There's a small planning desk in one corner. Birch cabinets with a driftwood finish are so planned that Mrs. Kirby need do no excessive bending or reaching. The room seen through the door in the background is the den.

LIVING ROOM, DINING ROOM—The living room is the most formal room in the house. Walls are sea foam green, while the carpeting is a tweed mixture of green and gold. The mirror on the wall over the table is an antique. The dining room in the background of this picture has a three-sided bay window. This is the only room to have a rug, rather than carpeting. At the right, part of the front door and the glass shelves next to it are visible.

AT EASE IN THE DEN — Mrs. Kirby relaxes in the den with Happy, the family boxer. Happy came from the first litter of pups born to the boxers Murray D. Van Wagoner brought back from Germany a number of years ago. The ledge rock fireplace in this room gives a note of cheerfulness, while the built-in shelves provide a place to keep treasured articles. There is a sliding door between this room and the living room.

FRONT PORCH — On the lake side of the Kirby house there is a shallow flagstone porch. Ledge rock trims this part of the house and is used to make the planter boxes in front. Red and green stepping stones lead from the house down to the lake. Both the bedroom on the right and the den on the left have doors opening on to the porch.

Closet Space Most Desired

Closets, more floor space and a little privacy — that's what the women of America are asking for in the family dwelling. So reports the Government Housing Bureau which conducted a survey recently among 4000 average homemakers.

Probably the biggest item with those families of three or more children is the problem of closet space. Housewives emphasized that with the inclusion of builtin closet and bureau walls, especially in bedrooms, more floor space would be available.

Always anxious to please the lady of the house who is aware of the needs in a family home, architects are utilizing wood construction for necessary storage space demands of today's family. Builders and designers are finding that wood installations keep cost down, especially when such economical but beautiful softwoods as Douglas fir, west coast hemlock and western red cedar are used to bring glamour and convenience to the modern residence.

The demand for privacy invokes another use of these fine softwoods. Room partitions in the form of use walls separate areas in the home and utilize every inch of space. Service bars and storage peninsulas mark dining-kitchen separation, and music walls, storage dividers or bookcase units separate other main living areas.

NEW PATCHING MATERIAL — A new solvent-activated patching material provides an inexpensive way to make quick and durable repairs to torn canvas or leather and even wood or metal. The patch itself is a 5x8 inch swatch of fabric saturated with Bakelite vinyl resins that become highly adhesive when dipped in solvent. An all-purpose repair kit is made up of two of these Lab-Patches and a half pint of Lab-Solvent. Both are also available separately since the patches are generally used up faster than the solvent. To repair torn canvas in the seat of a lawn chair, for example, one of the resin-impregnated patches is cut to cover the hole and overlap its edges (top left photo) by at least one inch. Three to five seconds of dipping into Lab-Solvent that has been poured into a shallow, open container (top right photo), makes the Lab-Patch tacky enough to apply over the hole on the underside of the seat (bottom left photo). Smoothed tightly over the surface, the wet patch dries in about an hour's time and hardens into any shape or contour formed. The edges of the torn canvas are held firmly together by the strong adhesive properties of Bakelite vinyl resins (bottom right photo). These resins also resist water, rain and rust to which outdoor furniture is frequently exposed. This patch kit may also be used to mend broken toys, reinforce seams in worn luggage, briefcase or handbags, patch rips in awnings, boat sails, tents or golf bags, cover rusted out holes in metal such as garbage cans, and cover holes or large cracks in plaster. The solvent may also be used to clean the surfaces of the object to be repaired before the patch is applied.

Undercoater Needed on New Woodwork

On woodwork that is new and that is to be given an opaque coating, an undercoater is required. For a finishing coat, you can use semi-gloss, enamel or flat oil paint.

Keep it in mind, however, that flat oil paints are easily finger-marked and are unsatisfactory for window sills. Emulsion and rubber-base paints are suitable, too, for woodwork. Most of these coatings can also be used to refinish woods that have been varnished or shellacked.

MODERN LAUNDRY TUB — This new laundry tub matches today's appliances and does the job of two compartment tubs. It is equally at home in the basement or the upstairs utility room. The 21-gallon tub is made of Fiberglas. Removable overflow tube allows free use of the tub for hand washing, saving suds, soaking or bleaching while water from washer empties through the tube directly into the drain. The lid is reversible and can be used as a carrying tray. Note storage space underneath.

Carports Give Home a Double Service

Carports not only give a home more sweeping lines when the roof sections are carefully designed, but they offer a wide variety of additional storage space.

* * *

One of the cleverest ideas of the season is the use of a free standing storage cabinet in two-car carports for a divider wall.

They offer a multitude of storage room. The fisherman-hunter can keep his more odorous gear out of the house, yet under lock and key. The same for golfers and other sports-minded men.

To give maximum utility, most of the storage walls are designed with sliding doors, to protect cars from bumping and scratching.

* * *

Of course, the storage walls, whether along the outside wall of the carport, or used as a divider section, should be finished to match the remainder of the exterior siding of the home, whether stained, painted, oiled or left natural.

Gain Storage Space Against House, Fence

Householders with the outdoor urge, who have no basement and yet need storage for garden and play equipment, have discovered a smart way to get added storage space.

* * *

Compact units built against a fence or a house can be air tight and frost tight if tongue-and-groove Douglas fir flooring is used for the sides and roof. Shingles or composition roof will make the structure watertight.

Stain the storage unit to match fencing or house siding. These units can be long and narrow and require very little space.

Big Home Selling Point

Biggest selling point in homes offered for sale in large housing developments are wood-paneled rooms.

Such popular softwoods as Douglast fir and west coast hemlock take high preference with buyers because these woods have a beauty of texture and grain that is distinctive.

Two Ovens in One Add Convenience to Kitchen

* * *

Engineers have developed a new wall oven that is really two ovens in one. It requires only the same amount of precious wall space as an ordinary oven. Yet it offers all the flexibility and convenience of two separate units.

With this remarkable appliance the homemaker can bake a cake and broil a steak at the same time. Or she can simultaneously bake different foods requiring different temperatures.

Such kitchen magic is made possible by an extra set of heating elements and a divider which separates the unit into two complete ovens, each with its own controls. Whenever one large oven is preferred, however, the oven can be converted quickly and easily.

CENTER-OPENING DOORS

Another space saving feature which designers have incorporated into this oven are handy center-opening French doors. Open one of these unique twin doors and the other swings out automatically. This not only makes it easier for the homemaker to work close to the oven when inserting or removing food, but also eliminates the necessity for locating the oven where there is room to open an ordinary swing-down oven door.

The compact surface units, which also are available in brushed chrome, feature an easy-to-clean one-piece top with gently raised edges designed to catch and hold spillovers. A finger-tip control cluster is conveniently mounted right on the unit where it is easy to see and easy to use, but out of the reach of small children.

BOILS WATER IN SECONDS

One model of this new countertop range is equipped with a thermostatically controlled surface unit which automatically maintains any selected cooking temperature, insuring perfect results in the most critical surface cooking operations.

BUFFET-AND-HUTCH — Magnificently typical of Martinsville's new Travertine groupings, this two-piece unit features natural cane and brushed nickel accents against warm spice-toned mahogany. The curved drawer fronts herald the new softer silhouette in modern stylings. The buffet is also available with genuine travertine marble top, has reversible cane-or-mahogany sliding panels, and white lacquered, Lustrewood-lined drawers for added practicality. The separate hutch with sliding cane doors would also make a dramatic bookcase unit, placed directly on the floor or on a low shelf.

Natural Wood Beauty Being Used in Homes

U. S. architects for a decade have been usjng more and more of the natural beauty and building designs exploiting the lovely texture grain and colorings of wood as a decorativedevice.

Exposed beams and ceilings and paneled walls are typical cases, where architects have put nature's own materials, such as Douglas fir and west coast hemlock lumber to work serving the dual purpose of structural value and appearance.

Low Room Divider Breaks Up Big Room

If you have a large, ungainly living room which is also used for dining, and furniture just doesn't seem to do anything for it, here is a suggestion. Build a low room divider to separate living and dining areas.

* * *

You can build this divider as a storage unit, with drawers and cabinets on one side for linens, silver and glassware, and install simple book shelves in the opposite side. Made of easy-to-work Douglas fir or west coast hemlock, the divider will look as luxurious as any piece of furniture and will be inexpensive to build. It can be finished to match your furniture, with stains and several coats of varnish bringing out the lovely grain and texture of these woods.

* * *

These divider units can be wide enough so that decorative objects, vases, fish bowls, planters or books can be placed along the top.

So you're the proud owner of a new carpet? Don't be distrubed if it sheds wool, as most new ones do. Vacuuming of a good carpet will remove the excess wool.

Expert Works Wood Before Installing It

When paneling a room with either west coast hemlock or Douglas fir, one prominent wood finisher does all the sanding, buffing and lacquering of the panels before he installs them on the wall.

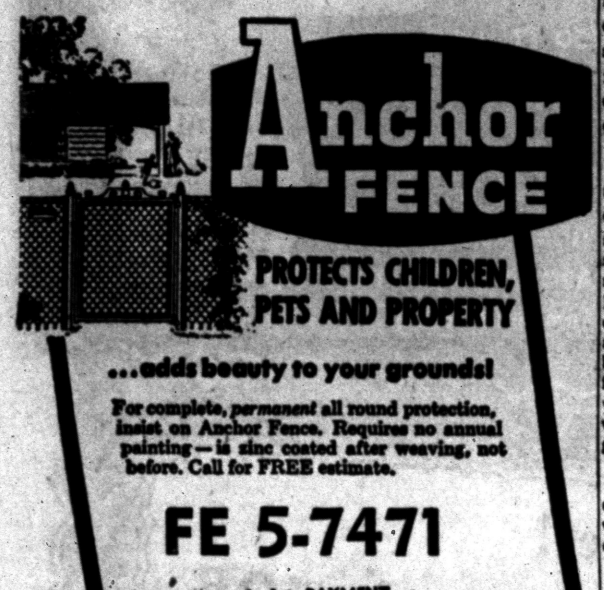

He cuts them to size, works on them on sawhorses, sprays on such finishes as plastisyn, rez, lacquer and varnish, using as many coats as needed.

The result is beautifully polished panels with the rare grain and textures of the wood brought out in startling loveliness. He says it is easier to work when the panels are flat.

Like the ostrich, the rhea is a walking and running bird and is flightless.

In the United States as a whole, four out of every five new homes built are of wood frame construction, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports. Kirbys Tear Down Outmoded Cottage

Dark gray paper has white, pink, black and aqua in its design. The fixtures are all pink. The lighting is indirect. Pink curtains with a gold thread-hang at the high window.

The guest room has an ashes-of-roses rug, pink walls and a white ceiling. A white Colonial type spread covers the bed. The draperies are pink with a spatter of gold on them.

Chamois, a warm creamy tan, is the color of the walls and rug in the master bedroom. There are two large closets. The bedspread is rose taffeta, the flowered draperies have a cream background. In the adjoining tan and beige bathroom there is a stall shower.

The utility room is a big one. It has ample storage space for canned goods, as well as room for a freezer, and laundry appliances. This well-thought-out room is the main reason why Mrs. Kirby need never go to her basement. A louvered door shuts the room off from the hall.

On the lake side of the house, there is a shallow covered porch, flanked by rock planters. Red geraniums glow brilliantly against greenery in the boxes. Red and green stepping stones lead to the boathouse, built halfway down the hill.

Glenn H. Watson, a long-time friend of the Kirbys, helped them put their plans into final form, then built their house. The basement was in last August; the Kirbys had a moving day on Washington's Birthday.

One of the functions of a good furniture finish is to provide sanitation and cleanliness. Unfinished wood collects and holds dirt. Because of its porous nature, dirt, grease and bacteria become embedded in the wood and are difficult to dislodge. A well finished wood surface is easy to clean.

Old Pails, Roller Pans Make Painting Easier

Paint pails, available at your paint dealer's, are inexpensive and make painting easy. They're ideal for mixing modern paints and their wide tops accommodate all size brushes.

* * *

Also helpful are brush holders—small clamps that fasten to paint pail rims. One of these will hold your brush neatly inside the pail.

Handy roller pans, which contain just the proper quantity of paint for use with a roller, have clamps that fasten to a ladder.

Save the Big Job

The homemaker who has a regular cleaning schedule will not find it necessary to do a seasonal cleaning as the old-fashioned housewife did. When used regularly the vacuum cleaner and its tools prevent the accumulation of dust and dirt.

Do You Have Fuzz Balls?

Check your closets often for those litle fuzz balls. They are an invitation to the moths and should be kept out of existence with the ever reliable vacuum cleaner. Then reverse the vac, spray all garments not used constantly. Hang them in dust-proof bags.

In mythology, the Muses are the nine goddesses of the arts and sciences.

Asphalt tile floors should not be be coated with anything but emulsion1type wax.

ELECTRONIC CHOW CALL — This portable two-way intercommunication set called Com-ette serves as a handy cook's helper to the barbecue chef who takes pride in his skill at the outdoors grill and wants to serve his guests piping hot food. There are no connecting wires to be strung the length of the yard. Just plug one unit of the set into the electrical outlet in the kitchen or on the sunporch and the other near the barbecue pit. The cook no longer has to work alone. With a flick of the switch he can call for spices, refreshments, listen to music or the ball game from the radio indoors, chat with guests and call them to "come 'n get it" when the cooking's done.

PLANTS IN THE BATHROOM —Practical surfacing of floors and walls in the average bath makes this a natural habitat for hobbies requiring a bit of splashing about. The gardener, for instance, needs but a few moments to nurture a few plants. And relatively high humidity such as you find in a bathroom actually benefits growing things. Here, glass block creates interest as background for plants as well as letting in light. Greenery and translucent panels are of Japanese inspiration.

Wood Toothpick Leaves Impression on Steel

How strong is wood? The National Lumber Manufacturers Association suggests that an indication of wood's strength may be found in the results of a recent toothpick test.

* * *

Retaining 'Natural' Effect Can Harm Outside Walls

WASHINGTON — The desire to be in style—to obtain a "new look"—sometimes submerges more practical considerations. Take this matter of retaining the "natural look" on outside walls, for instance. At present it's proving highly popular with home buyers and, therfore, with home buyers and, therefore, fect is not obtained, of course, simply by leaving the materials in their natural state and even when it's possible, it's not always wise to do so.

* * *

Take stone. It might well be considered the building material most likely to retain its natural appearance without man-made additions. Tough and durable as it is, it's porous. Stone can be the avenue for moisture which can condense and cause costly damage to inside surfaces. The mortar between joints can allow the same penetration.

And take that indispensable building material—wood. Once a tree has been killed, the wood starts the slow imperceptible process of distintegration unless it is given man-made protection.

TRANSPARENT COATING

You can, of course, retain the natural appearance of such building materials and increase their serviceability—by applying transparent coatings to their surfaces. On masonry, such a transparent coating will greatly increase its water-repellency. It's usually wise to apply three coats, to begin with, and to add another coat or two approximately every three years. Application, incidentally, can be made with either brush or spray gun.

On wood, you can use transparent coatings also, if you wish to keep the grain and wood markings visible. If you do, however, you must recoat the surfaces at regular and frequent invervals.

Pigmented coatings have greater durability and a longer life span than the clear finishes devised for exterior use. Even the addition of half a pint of color-in-oil (oil containing a pigment) to one gallon of clear exterior finish will lengthen its life considerably.

ONE ROOM APARTMENT — This attractive setting for a one-room apartment can be arranged on a budget of about $500. Focal point of the room is a sofa bed. Its destinctive well proportioned lines have a versatile air, equally at home in traditional or provincial settings. The cabinets are painted to suit the general color scheme and answer the need for sufficient closet space.

One-Room Apartment Practical, Cozy but Presents Decorating, Space Problem

One-room apartments are cozy and practical for hundreds of bachelor girls (and boys, too). But new or old, these small flats present both a decorating and space problem.

If closets are included, they are often completely inadequate for linens, personal accessories, and the hundred other items that are household necessities. Adele Whitfield, decorator for Kroehler Mfg. Co. looks at it this way:

If you haven't got closets—make 'em.

She designed a one room apartment which has two attractive walls of functional storage area—a feat in itself when done on a budget.

Wood storage units bought unfinished are both inexpensive and good looking. They can easily be built up, one upon another, wall fashion. The cabinets themselves can be alternated with bookshelves and chests.

On the floor she recommends a cotton tufted rug. On the walls, for a clean and rustic effect, white brick paper. Focal point of the room is the place to sleep, sit, and entertain. The grouping consists of a sofa bed, a new leather-like upholstered arm chair, and a tweed swivel.

All are practical for a multitude of reasons. The dual purpose sofa which is a sofa by day and a bed by night, is covered in a long wearing, rough surfaced upholstery.

The leather-like chair — wipes clean in seconds as no leather ever did. And the swivel can be used for TV viewing or as a desk chair. Both chairs and the cocktail table are light and easy to move.

Meanwhile, the storage units hiding all the necessities, and painted to fit in with the green, black and white color scheme are adding gaiety to the setting.

Flowers Need Proper Watering After Being Cut

A rose may be a rose, but it's not a marigold, and people should remember that when taking care of cut flowers.

Roses condition best when they are cut in the bud and allowed to stand in a deep container of water in which one teaspoon of alum per quart has been added.

Calendulas, zinnias, marigolds, and snapdragons all respond to one teaspoon of sugar for each quart of water.

Forget-me-nots, lilies of the valley, and coralbells like two drops of alcohol in each quart of water.

Violets like water on their flowers. Bunch them first. Immerse the bunches face down in water, and let the flowers drink from the flower heads as well as the stem ends.

* * *

Iris and tulips last longer when picked in the tight bud. Wrap in wet newspaper immediately and put into water up to the buds.

Shrub material such as forsythia, apple blossoms, pear, and quince, all do best when cut in the bud. Crush the stems so they will absorb more water.

What do pigmented coatings have that clear ones lack? It's the ability to repel the destructive ultra-violet and infrared rays of the sun. Without this coat of armor that pigments provide, the light and heat of the sun can disintegrate the organic matter of the clear coating.

Home Projects in Wood Explained in Booklet

"71 Home Projects in Wood" is the title of a new publication designed especially for the not too expert do-it-yourselfer. The publication explains with simplified text and drawings how to build a variety of useful items for the home and garden. To save you time and money when ordering materials, there are checklists of everything you'll need for every project. Moreover, every job uses standard lumber grades and sizes available at any lumberyard.

The booklet may be available at your local lumberyard. Or you can order a copy direct from the publishers by sending 35 cents in coins, check or money order to the Association, 1319 18th St., N.W. Washington 6, D. C.

POURED CONCRETE ROOF — Five hundred yards of concrete were used, according to Charles Hutchings, Jr., general superintendent for Steinle-Wolfe Builders, when the roof on the new Derby Junior High school gymnasium was poured recently. It took 16 hours to pour the concrete, made thick enough that it set almost immediately. This is the largest roof of its kind in this area and is similar to the flying buttresses of the Gothic cathedrals. It is supported by three arches and in no place does it touch the ground.

Automatic Devices Ease Home Living

Two plug-in control devices now on the market offer the homeowner or apartment tenant more control of his indoor comfort conditions this summer. They are the summertime counterparts of the automatic thermostat.

• • •

One is a thermostat that can be attached to a portable or window air conditioner to automatically regulate its operation. The other control is a thermostatic unit designed for portable dehumidifiers.

Each unit is simple to install: Each hangs on a wall, one end plugged into a nearby electrical outlet, the other into the air conditioner or dehumidifier unit.

The plug-in controls were developed by Minneapolis-Honeywell engineers to monitor the temperature or humidity and maintain conditions at predetermined levels. Their chief advantage is that they operate the air conditioner and dehumidifier only as needed to maintain desired conditions and this holds operating costs to a minimum.

Varnish Manufacturers Keep Abreast With Late Changes in Chemical Industry

WASHINGTON, D.C.—When you brush a gleaming coat of varnish onto a hardwood floor or run your finger over the smooth, transparent film on a piano, you're admiring a type of coating that's older than recorded history.

* * *

The very origin of the name is lost in legend. "Varnish", the romanticist will tell you, "is a variation of the name 'Berenice'—she who was Queen of Cyrene in ancient times. She vowed that if her husband came safely home from the wars she would cut off her magnificient, amber-colored hair and place it on the altar of Venus.

The warrior returned unharmed and Berenice kept her word. Her lovely tresses were transported to the heavens, where, on starry nights, you can still see Berenice's Hair in the Milky Way—just as you can see its amber color in the lustrous coating named for her."

If you are more earthbound, you may prefer the explanation that the word "varnish" comes from sandarac resin which was once exported from, and took the name of the Red Sea port of Berenice—now known as Benghazi.

OTHER TYPES

Whichever story you prefer, you may be interested to know that there are new types of varnish available today that were not known even to our fathers. The earliest were spirit varnishes. Later oleoresins varnishes were developed. However, both of these types are constantly undergoing changes. Both types may contain natural or synthetic resins. The natural resins are secretions of threes or insects while the synthetic resins are man-made.

More recently or maybe not so recently we have had water varnishes. Definitely in recent years catalytic varnishes, have come into use.

The catalytic varnishes are highly resistant to water, alkali, acids and solvents. Used primarily for industrial finishing, they take their name from the fact that a catalyst is added just before application to speed the drying or its resinous content.

SPIRIT VARNISHES.

Water varnishes include the "fixatives" employed by artists to protect delicate pastel drawings and other types of art work, the "sizes" used to stiffen straw hats and various hair-dressing aids. They are emulsions or dispersions of resins or gums in water.

Spirit varnish is a resin or other film-forming material dissolved with a volatile liquid. evaporates, the resin remains on the coated surface as a film. Large quantities of spirit varnishes are used for coating such familiar objects as playing cards and food cartons. They are also used in the paints that safeguard our lives by marking traffic lanes on highways.

Most familiar of all types and most widely used are the oleoresinous varnishes which are mixtures of resin, oil and drier, dissolved in a volatile liquid which serves as a thinner. The resin and oil are processed by cooking.

Oleoresinous varnishes include many types. The names may describe the ingredients, some special characteristic, or end use. There are tung oil, phenolic, asphalt and epoxy varnishes; long and short oil varnishes; flat varnish, air dying and baking varnishes; spar varnish (so-called because originally designed for use on wooden spars, masts and rails of ships); aluminum varnish (for mixing with aluminum pigment), floor, furniture, lithographic, electrical insulating, heat resistant varnishes, and many others.

Floor resilience is a measure of the instantaneous yielding of the surface to the impact of the foot and the surface's return to its original position.

Make It a Point to Be Forward in Using Ladder

CHICAGO (INS) — Make a point of being forward when you're using a ladder in your cleaning and decorating chores around the house.

* * *

You should face it not only in climbing but when you are raising or lowering it.

So say safety experts who also provide these tips:

To be sure a ladder propped on the outside of a house is safe never allow the ground distance from the foot of the ladder to the house to be wider than one fourth of the ladder's length.

The safety experts frown upon painting ladders. But they urge that the ladders be kept clean so defects in the wood can be spotted easily.

Remove Outlet Plates

When you're painting a wall, remove the electrical switch and outlet plates and paint them separately on a newspaper. If you paint the plates on the wall, they'll stick and possibly disfigure the surrounding area the next time you take them off.

A mirrored shelf below can be skirted in a quilted chintz fabric that repeats the pink. A bench, painted to match the mirror frame—and cushioned with a pad of the same material as the dressing table skirt—completes the attractive group.

POURED CONCRETE ROOF — Five hundred yards of concrete were used, according to Charles Hutchings, Jr., general superintendent for Steinle-Wolfe Builders, when the roof on the new Derby Junior High school gymnasium was poured recently. It took 16 hours to pour the concrete, made thick enough that it set almost immediately. This is the largest roof of its kind in this area and is similar to the flying buttresses of the Gothic cathedrals. It is supported by three arches and in no place does it touch the ground.

Automatic Devices Ease Home Living

Two plug-in control devices now on the market offer the homeowner or apartment tenant more control of his indoor comfort conditions this summer. They are the summertime counterparts of the automatic thermostat.

• • •

One is a thermostat that can be attached to a portable or window air conditioner to automatically regulate its operation. The other control is a thermostatic unit designed for portable dehumidifiers.

Each unit is simple to install: Each hangs on a wall, one end plugged into a nearby electrical outlet, the other into the air conditioner or dehumidifier unit.

The plug-in controls were developed by Minneapolis-Honeywell engineers to monitor the temperature or humidity and maintain conditions at predetermined levels. Their chief advantage is that they operate the air conditioner and dehumidifier only as needed to maintain desired conditions and this holds operating costs to a minimum.

Varnish Manufacturers Keep Abreast With Late Changes in Chemical Industry

WASHINGTON, D.C.—When you brush a gleaming coat of varnish onto a hardwood floor or run your finger over the smooth, transparent film on a piano, you're admiring a type of coating that's older than recorded history.

Protects the Face

Items made of stainless steel or highly polished metal sheets as well as tools and dies are frequently given a special temporary coating by spraying, dipping or rolling before shipping. Purpose of such a coating is to protect the item against scratching, rust or abrasion. Although strong, this coating can be stripped off easily.

Florida Becoming Worried by Mail Order Land Sales

WASHINGTON (INS) — Ethical real estate men and other responsible persons in Florida are worried about a recent outbreak in mail order sales of home-building lots in the state.

They are taking steps to curb the spectacular—and often misleading if not downright false—advertising of undeveloped sites as well-planned communities with homes ready for use.

The proportion of legitimate developments was estimated to be between 75 and 95 per cent by informed sources consulted in a five-day survey of south Florida.

But they are concerned over the small, and growing, numbers of castle-in-the-sky projects which so closely resemble the underwater lot sales that helped to bust the 1925-26 boom.

Gov. Leroy Collins, who rates second only to the sun as Florida's best salesman, has moved in to see how state laws can be tightened to protect innocent investors from sharp promoters.

ZONING ORDINANCES

Most major cities, but only a few counties, have zoning ordinances requiring that new plats provide streets and water and sewerage facilities or a bond to cover them.

• • •

Legitimate real estate dealers themselves are cracking down on the one-shot schemes of fly-by-night operators, and one of their best weapons is simple but hard competition.

"We can't afford not to be on the level," explains Royal F. Raidle, of Palm Beach, the state's largest real estate broker.

"The first sale is only the starting point. We want to make that client happy so he will come back again and send his friends."

Although this hits only indirectly at mail order frauds, a prominent Miami engineering and architectural consultant believes no one has been "hurt" yet by the "acreage fever."

While condemning false advertising, Kenneth J. Carpenter, a partner in Rader and Associates, maintains that dollar-down and dollar-monthly sales have been good investments on the whole. Many lots are sold at a profit by the time they are paid off.

In one criticized development, which Carpenter's firm was retained to straighten out, 67 per cent of the sales were made only after the northern buyer had personally inspected—or had a Florida friend or relative check on—the property.

POPULATION UP 50 PER CENT

Despite unethical practices, Florida's second land boom has been solid enough to boost the state's population by about 50 per cent since it started at the end of World War Two.

Attractive new homes, from bungalows to mansions, are available for purchase in most areas of the state.

A notable exception is around Patrick Air Force base—about mid-state on the Atlantic coast—where 2,000 or more homes will be needed in the next year for missile and satellite - manning personnel.

Prices reflect construction costs cheaper than in most sections of the country. There are no central heating systems, basements are not used, and little if any insulation is necessary.

Small but substantial two-bedroom homes, with one bath, range from $10,500 to $12,500. Three bedrooms and two baths go upward from $12,500 depending on location, size and equipment.

Being on the "waterfront"—man-made canals from the back door to the ocean—adds about $1,000 to the lot cost.

To protect potential buyers of mail order lots, the greater Orlando Chamber of Commerce has prepared a mimeographed sheet of precautions that advises knowing something about the promoters.

It also poses 13 pertinent questions covering location, size, free and clear ownership, improvements, water, sewerage and drainage. It warns that undeveloped lots are "pure speculation."

Mirrors Do It

"Claustrophobic" bathrooms can be completely "cured" with today's twin-ground plate glass mirrors. Experts say a large mirror over the counter-and-wash-bowl area and another on either adjacent wall will double the apparent size of the room without creating double-image confusion.

They can be dispatched usually by running a wire up the channel, fumigating or applying DDT.

UTILIZE THE ATTIC — Is your attic idle while your living floor areas are jammed to overflowing? You can devise unlimited ways to utilize this waste space. For instance, normal headroom is not needed above a bed or a couch. Thus where extra beds for guests are needed for occasional use, they can be of the low, roll-away type of suitable width and height to fit into space at the eaves. Here, a full-width bed is concealed behind hinged panels under the sloping portion of the roof. It pulls out as shown when needed.

Modern finishing in clear lacquers or varnishes utilizes the coloring and attractive natural markings in these woods as a decorative feature of many rooms.

Inspect Shrubs Now for Borer Evidence

Inspect dogwoods, birches, lilacs and other shrubs for telltale evidence of borers. They enter the tree close to the ground and make a little pile of sawdust as they chew their way up the trunk.

BUILD A BOAT — If you like to spend a holiday cruising lakes or rowing in shallow trout streams you will be delighted with this sturdy boat. It is light enough to carry on top of your car. Two panels of marine plywood ⅜-inch thick and 12-feet long are used for the shell. One panel is 34-inches wide and one is 37-inches. The frame members are of oak with pine used for the inside work. The first step in boat building is to make an erecting frame or strongback, on which the shell is constructed upside down. A pattern showing each step from making the frame to the final finish is included in the Sportsman's Packet which is $1. postpaid. Or you may order the boat pattern No. 220 for only 25 cents.

Attractive Room Colors Gained From Chintz

Many attractive room color schemes have been derived from that widely used favorite—chintz—which may serve for both drapery fabric and slip-cover material on at least one important piece of furniture.

• • •

The mantel has been finished in a mellow beige. Beige tone is repeated in the plain floor covering while the coral is echoed by a chair covering and the chartreuse by a lamp shade. The ceiling is painted off-white.

Home-Owner Financing May Be Eased by Congress

Congress soon will make financing easier for home-owners who want to do extensive remodeling, predicts Raymond M. Foley, former administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

Foley, writing in Practical Builder, a magazine for professional builders, reports that late action in Congressional committees "give good reason to expect passage" of administration proposals to liberalize FHA-insured loans for home remodeling.

If Congress approves FHA Title 1 loans for home modernization and repair would be increased from the present limit of $2,500 to $3,500 with a five-year maturity instead of the present limit of three years.

PAYMENTS HIKED

At the five-year rate, Foley said, a $3,500 loan could be paid off at $72 per month. Under the present law, payments of nearly $80 per month are necessary to write off the $2,500 limit in three years.

The new regulation also would permit FHA to insure loans of up to $15,000 for repairing and modernizing multi-family structures. The present ceiling is $10,000.

"Those levels will permit a great many real improvement jobs to go forward instead of the piecemeal approach so common in the past," the former government official said.

REVISION POSSIBLE

Foley said that Congress may also see fit to eliminate a present requirement that a residential structure must be lived in for at least six months before its occupants are qualified for a home improvement loan insured by FHA.

This would open the way for thousands who want to buy an older home and begin remodeling and repair work immediately.

Foley also predicted that Congressional adoption of the proposals would have a liberilizing effect on various uninsured "bank plans" now in use for remodeling.

He added that more builders probably would be encouraged to enter the remodeling field if financing is broadened and terms eased.

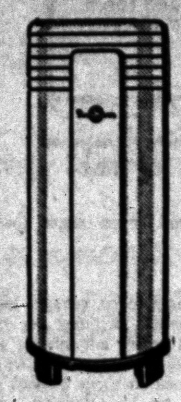

When home repair or remodeling jobs are being done, it is a good idea to keep the vacuum cleaner handy to pick up the resultant litter.

Woman Embarrassed by Hidden Cleaner

She was greatly embarrased one day, however, when a caller's pet boxer brought the entire assemblage to light, piece by piece. The hostess declares that from now on her apartment is open only to toy poodles and chihuahuas.

TWO MAIN LEVELS — Two main levels feature large rooms conveniently arranged for family comfort. The living room is five steps up from the ground floor foyer and seven steps down from the bedroom level.

With the main foyer, garage, laundry and extra lavatory on this same level many advantages are obtained. Direct access is provided to the recreation room without necessitating tracking through the house. The tracking of outside dirt into the living area also is avoided.

LOWER LEVEL — The main entrance to the house is on the lower level. This level also has a second living room and kitchen to take care of the entertaining needs of a large family. The house may be built with or without a basement.

STATISTICS:

Design HW-9 has a combined area of living and bedroom levels of 1,646 sq. ft.

The house contains 30,096 cu. ft., with basement.

The laundry, located directly under the main bathroom, makes use of a clothes chute for all bedroom linen entirely practicable. The laundry is of adequate size to accommodate a dryer, still it is convenient to an outside drying yard accessible through the garage.

* * *

Unusual plumbing economy is made possible by the grouping of both bathrooms, the kitchen, laundry and lavatory back-to-back and up-and-down. All plumbing lines are concentrated in one zone.

ECONOMY IMPORTANT

The economy of a split-level house over a one-story house, both in construction and land, also is illustrated in this plan. If you vis- house moved out so that the bedrooms would not be elevated, you can see that the size of the house would be increased by almost 50 per cent, calling for more foundation, more roof and more land.

This is one of the reasons properly planned split . level houses are proving as popular on flat land as on slopes. Some experts contend that a true split-level is a house with more or less of an even grade all around it, while a split-level on a hillside is merely an adaptation of house to land.

Also this house can be built economically with or without a basement. The lower level of HW-9 already is built on a slab and the living room level could readily be adapted to a slab or crawl space. The only basement space incorporated in this plan is under the living area. This provides an adequate basement without creat- This basement is only seven risers down from the foyer level.

* * *

A small crawl space could be substituted to provide for storage and a horizontal heating or air-conditioning plant. Such space would be only three steps down and involve less foundation work.

This flexibility makes HW-9 suitable for any part of the country—for warm or cold climates, rolling highlands or low ground.

* * *

Changing family needs are anticipated in this plan. Four bedroom allow for average family growth and the dining room is large enough to conform with the most exacting appraiser's dimensions for dining room size in a four-bedroom house. Two of the bedrooms are separated by a folding partition, which can be opened to join these rooms into one large playroom for children, or to provide a 20-foot combination sitting room and guest room after the children have grown and gone.

Press House of the Week Is Economy Split-Level

A house designed to show why the split-level is becoming one of the most popular types of homes for any location is featured in plan HW-9 for The House of The Week.

This is a four-bedroom house with two and a half bathrooms and a two-car garage built into the house. A large family recreation room has sliding glass doors to a built-in porch and to an open garden terrace. Living room, dining room and kitchen are removed from both the recreation room level and the bedroom level, yet conveniently accessible. Half of a flight of stairs connects each of the separate zones of the house, giving bedrooms the advantages of privacy that they have in a two-story house.

All of this is achieved on an area of only 1,646 square feet, which is the combined area of living and bedroom levels. At the same time an exterior design of substantial dignity answers the often-heard question: "When will split levels become good looking." The architect of HW-9—Rudolph A. Matera—has answered with this attractive facade tying the two distinct units of the house together without trying to camouflage them.

A hip roof keeps the two-story wing of this house low in harmony with the smartly low-pitched roof over the living area. Brick veneer all the way around on the lower floors unifies the exterior. The upper story, cantilevered out similarly to early American styles, is faced with wood shingles.

BOWBAY WINDOW

A large bowbay window and shutters large enough to be used, a massive brick chimney, low brick planting boxes and a side-lighted front entrance are other interesting details.

This house is planned to meet a maximum of modern living preferences. Spreading demands for informal family rooms are met with the ground floor recreation room.

Roof Inspection Worth the Cost

Many a homeowner who has put off replacing a weathered old roof has had sincere cause to regret it. The interior damage caused by leaks can be more costly than a new roof.

The time to prevent interior damage from leaks is before leaks show up, and the best method is to have the roof inspected periodically by a reliable roofing contractor.

The National Bureau of Standards says that patching an old roof seldom pays. Research has shown that a roof wears out uniformly—not in 1 or 2 places but all over. If a weathered roof starts to leak in one place, chances are it soon will leak in other spots.

Time and labor costs of removing the old roof can be saved by installing long-wearing asphalt shingles over the old roof covering. This retains the insulating value of the old roof.

* * *

During 1956, designated as Home Improvement Year, great emphasis has been placed on color, inside and out. Homeowners planning to reroof will find that asphalt shingles come in a wide range of solid colors suitable for any setting or type of architecture.

These include the designs offered by the 3-tab square butt strip shingle, the 2 or 3 tab hexagonal strip shingle, the individual hexagon shingle, the giant individual shingle, and the lockdown shingle.

Michigan Tech to Open New Ore Lab Aug. 8

HOUGHTON (AP) — Michigan Tech's $750,000 Ores Research Building will be dedicated Aug. 8.

The building is Michigan's first state-supported laboratory for research on uses of low-grade Michigan ores and other minerals.

* * *

Grover J. Holt, general manager of the Ore Mining Department of Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co., will address the program.

* * *

The college's Bureau of Mineral Research said although the new building is geared primarily for research on copper and iron ores, it will consider research on any other problems involving such minerals as dolomite, limestone, salt and brines, oil and natural gas.

Delay Seen in Parking Lot Project

In a progress report on city projects to the City Commission, City Manager W. K. Willman said "some delay might be experienced" in the acquisition of property needed for the $600,000 municipal parking project.

* * *

"However, it is planned to proceed on all lots, insofar as we possibly can, so that some parking will be available in each of the three lots by Sept. 1," Willman added.

At a meeting of the committee-of-the-whole, the commission voted, despite objections of Commissioners Floyd Miles, John Dugan and Gilbert Long, to have Willman negotiate with Mrs. Pearl Merriman for two lots on Jacokes street. A condemnation suit is already pending on the lots.

WATER PLAN SOUGHT

In a continuation of his progress report, Willman said "It is my hope that by the end of the current year . . . to have an economical and feasible plan for a supply of water." He had reference to the groups of which he is a member and are studying permanent water supplies for the southeastern Michigan area.

The manager gave the following report on public improvement projects in the city:

Paving, curb, gutter and drainage, 50 per cent completed; asphalt recapping not commenced but under contract; blacktopping 75 per cent completed; curb, gutter and drainage, 50 per cent; sanitary sewers, 50 per cent; storm sewers, 60 per cent; combined sewers completed; sidewalks, 25 per cent; and grading and graveling, 65 per cent completed.

"The airport expansion project received federal approval and the bids are now under consideration by state and federal aeronautical authorities," Willman said.

REPORTS ON PROJECTS

He said work was under way on the Public Safety Building and the addition at Pontac General Hospital, and that bids were due July 30 on the new fire station.

A Toledo engineering firm has been instructed to submit a contract for commission approval on a new storm drainage system in Pontiac, the manager said.

The firm is also studying the city's water rate structure preparatory to financing a permanent water supply and the new sewage treatment plant.

Seven million gallons per day have been added to the city's water supply since the advent of two new wells, Willman said.

* * *

An allocation of $20,000 from the present budget for work on city parks is being employed, the report indicated. Work is under way for putting Richardson Park "back in shape as park property."

Mexico City Hackies Threaten to Cut Service

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico City taxi drivers have threatened to halt all service at 11 o'clock nightly as a result of a series of attacks on drivers.

Union officials said appeals to the government for increased protection have brought no response.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

CHAPTER 20
11:00 P.M.

When Shayne put the telephone down after Lucy's call, he strode back and forth across the office rumpling his hair angrily. "Let's try to make a little sense out of all this. Let's see what we know at the moment."

* * *

He stopped and held up one finger for each item as he said it aloud:

"First. The man who told me he was Bert Paulson—who had a wallet with Paulson's identification—isn't Paulson. He doesn't answer the description from Jax, and though he's trying to pose as Paulson, he evidently doesn't know that Nellie's brother has been living with her in Jacksonville all along. Else why would he have bothered with a story about working in Detroit and just coming down two weeks ago in answer to a wire from her?"

He glared at Gentry and Rourke as he frowned at his own question. "Well, why did he tell me that? If he does know about Nellie's trouble in Jax—and he must because he said he hired a private detective to locate her—then he must know she pulled the badger game there with her brother, and it ruins his chance of getting by with impersonating Paulson by adding the Detroit touch. So why do it?"

IT'S YOUR BABY

Shayne said, "All right. That's one thing we know for certain. That he isn't Paulson. Now, let's see what we actually know about Nellie.

"Fact No. 2. She evidently didn't lie about being frightened in the Hibiscus by some man not her brother. Their two stories agree on that one point—other than the mix-up in relationship. But what about the dead body she claims she saw? Her brother with his throat cut?"

"The body that isn't there any more?" Tim Rourke put in.

"Yeh. But we have proof that she did call down to report a body. At least, someone called down from 360. Oliver Patton backs up that much of her story. Why would anybody do a crazy thing like that if there wasn't a body?"

CRAZY

"I think the crux of the whole matter lies in one word you just used," said Gentry placidly. "Crazy. If the girl's off her rocker, there's no use trying to find a reasonable motivation for anything she says or does."

"Will, I don't believe that girl's crazy. Scared and hysterical—sure. But I talked with her for 10 minutes. She acted exactly as I'd expect a girl to act who'd been through exactly the harrowing experience she described."

"You're not a doctor," said Gentry impatiently. "I think we better put on a pick-up on both of them, Mike. Sit down and write out the best description you can of both of them. I'll put it on the radio to all cars."

GIVE IT TO ME!

Shayne shrugged and sat down and drew a sheet of paper toward him. He scribbled swiftly on it for several minutes, then shoved it toward Gentry. Knowing the girl was safely parked in Lucy's apartment was his ace-in-the-hole now. He didn't want her picked up for questioning yet, but he didn't mind her description going out on an All Cars because he knew they'd never find her. And he did want the scarred-face man picked up.

Will Gentry read the two descriptions over the inter-com, and was about to switch it off when he stiffened and said, "Yes. Give it to me."

It was a voice from the Communications Room, and it said, "Report just came in of a man's body found floating in bay. Throat cut. Ambulance dispatched to pier at Tenth Street to pick up for morgue. Unidentified man in rowboat reported body."

The three men in Will Gentry's private office sat very silent for a long moment. Then Shayne asked quitely, "The Hibiscus frontes on the bay, doesn't it?"

* * *

Shayne got to his feet and the others followed suit. He said, "If either 360 or 316 face the east—"

TO THE MORGUE

Gentry nodded. "I think it's time we took a look at the Hibiscus. We can go to the morgue from there."

They went out together, parting at the end of the corridor with Gentry going ahead for his own car, Rourke and Shayne turning out a side door to ride together in the detective's Hudson.

They made it to the Hibiscus in a few minutes, and as Shayne pulled into the curb in front, Gentry's automobile with two uniformed men in the front seat nosed in behind them.

* * *

Dick spoke hurriedly over his shoulder to Evelyn, and as they came up to the desk he said brightly, "Good evening. Do you want Mr. Patton? He'll be right out."

"Why, 316 does, Chief. Three-sixty is—"

"I Can Sell It to You for Less"

An unscupulous operator will often quote the lowest price. But when he delivers the merchandise or does the work, you will find that he has "cut corners." He will give you shoddy workmanship and materials. He will not give the service you have a right to expect.

So, before you make a purchase or sign a contract, at what appears to be a saving to you, know with whom you are dealing. Remember, when a man says, "I can sell it to you for less," he is not always telling the whole truth.

Why not buy in quantity when your grocer has "specials" on frozen foods? Doing so amounts to a double saving. You spend less money per package—spend less time shopping. And frozen vegetables, like tender green peas, stay garden-sweet for months in a home food freezer or two-in-one refrigerator-freezer.

Bolt First to Taste Upset in PGA Meet

CANTON, Mass. (AP)—Remember Lee Mackey Jr.? The unknown from Birmingham, Ala., shot a record 64 in the first round of the National Open golf championship at Merion in 1950 and then disappeared into obscurity.

* * *

Charley Prentice, a boyhood buddy of Mackey, pulled the same sort of stunt in the first round of the PGA championship at Blue Hill when he eliminated Tommy Bolt, the smooth-swinging, short-tempered Texan who was generally rated among the top three or four tournament favorites.

But unlike Mackey, who faded almost out of sight the day after his record feat, Prentice, who plays out of Columbia, S.C., figures to be around a while longer. As the only player who seriously disturbed the well-contrived PGA seeding system, he now is in a favorable spot for today's two rounds.

His opponent in the second round this morning was Chuck DuPree, a 38-year-old Independence, Mo., pro who also is playing in his first PGA championship. A victory there would send Prentice up against either Al Smith, a very slightly surprising conqueror of ex-champion Vic Ghezzi in a 22-hole match, or Teri Johnson, a 46-year-old club pro from Wilmington, Del. Charlie doesn't figure to run into another "name" player before Sunday's double round.

Apart from the defeat that sent Bolt home muttering to himself and angrily refusing to talk to writers, the first day's surprises were rather mild. The 32 players, picked by the PGA on the basis of past feats or current records for seeding in the draw, stood up very well.

* * *

Ed (Porky) Oliver, the home club pro and a tournament player of considerable stature for years, was beaten and so were a couple of players who had reached the final of this tournament in the past.

Oliver, harrassed by the duties of setting up a tournament at a club which had to rebuild its burned out clubhouse at the same time, had played only four full rounds at Blue Hill before yesterday. Then he ran into long-hitting Mike Krak of Steubenville, Ohio, a solid player who shot two-under-par golf for 16 holes and won, 3 and 2.

* * *

Some of the stars had a few bad moments on the 6,634-yard, par 36-35—71 Blue Hill course, which provided a much sterner test than had been anticipated. But players like defending champion Doug Ford, three-time winners Sam Snead and Gene Sarazen, former Open champions Ed Furgol and Jack Fleck, and the well-liked Burkemo, Ted Kroll, Jackie Burke and Jimmy Demaret managed to win one way or another.

Prentice, who provided the big thrill for 4,758 spectators, is a lean, 32-year-old ex-sailor who never has won an important tournament. He grew up in Birmingham with Mackey, caddied with him and was best man at Mackey's wedding.

* * *

The seeded draw left room for a couple of outstanding second-round matches this morning—Harbert vs. Skee Riegel; Ed Furgol vs. Jack Isaacs; Ford vs. Mike Dietz and Al Besselink vs. Claude Harmon, for example. By afternoon they'll begin knocking heads, and tomorrow, when two more rounds will cut the field to eight players, every match should be a torrid one.

Three Michigan pros, including two former PGA champions, were among 61 others today in the second round.

The three Michigan hopefuls to fall were Warren Orlick, Jimmy Johnson and Ron LaParl.

Harbet was forced to go 20 holes before bouncing Henry Williams Jr. of Fleetwood, Pa., in a sudden-death playoff. Harbert, the 1954 champion, canned a 12-foot putt on the 19th to stay in the running.

LaParl was conquered, 1 up, by Fred Haas, a touring pro; Orlick lost by the same score to Teri Johnson of Wilmington, Del.; and Jimmy Johnson bowed to Mike Fetchick, another touring pro, 3 and 2.

Williams Feuds Again With Boston Writers

No longer "the kid" but a veteran approaching 38, Williams uses gestures on the field to back up his remarks to writers in the confines of the clubhouse.

* * *

The temperamental outfielder made contemptuous gestures to the press for the second time within four days last night while being cheered by 29,806 fans for a fine catch.

* * *

Williams misjudged a line drive by Jim Brideweiser of Detroit but backtracked and made a one-handed stab for the final out of the top of the seventh inning.

As the crowd roared its appreciation of the catch, Williams fired the ball some 50 feet into the air. He tossed his glove high into the air as he reached the infield.

Then, standing at home plate to lead off the Boston seventh, Williams turned his head toward the press box and spit. Next he turned and spit toward the first base stands.

Williams first made a spitting gesture toward the press last Tuesday night as he crossed home plate following the 400th home run of his major league career.

After last night's game, won by Detroit 9-6 and telecast by a Boston TV station, Williams lined up local writers in the clubhouse and sounded off. "Gutless . . . no good" were some of his words.

Since joining the Red Sox as a youth in 1939, Williams often has feuded with Boston writers.

Quast, Lesser in Final Play

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Ann Quast expressed a wish last Sunday that she wouldn't have to run afoul of Pat Lesser in the Women's Western Amateur and she got that wish until today when they meet for the golf championship.

They made it an all-Washington state affair yesterday by being better able to withstand the closing pressure of the semifinals.

Miss Quast, medalist of the 56th tourney with a record 70, also settled down to par golf in the home stretch to take Berridge Long, the host heroine, 3 and 1.

Lions to Open Rookie Camp at Ypsi Monday

DETROIT—Coach Buddy Parker will begin his sixth season as head coach of the Detroit Lions by welcoming 37 players, including 28 rookies and nine veteran players, to drills at Eastern Michigan College (formerly Michigan Normal) at Ypsilanti, Monday night, July 23.

All players are due to report for the evening meal on Monday and for a brief indoctrination lecture that evening. Physical examinations and informal practice sessions are slated for Tuesday morning, July 24, with the first full-scale drill set for Tuesday afternoon.

"We are bringing in early our service veterans, halfback Gene Gedman, defensive halfback Yale Lary, and tackle Oliver Spencer, in an effort to help them get adjusted after being away from professional football for a couple of seasons," Parker commented.

"Several of the other veterans, Harry Gilmer, Jim Doran, Jim Salsbury, Ted Topor, George Atkins and Gil Mains have been invited early to camp to receive some additional individual instruction and learn new positions and assignments," he added.

Three top Lion rookies, halfback Howard "Hopalong" Cassady of Ohio State, halfback Don McIlhenny of Southern Methodist, and quarterback Jerry Reichow of Iowa are in training with the College All-Stars and will rejoin the Lions after their Aug. 10 meeting against the Cleveland Browns in Soldier Field, Chicago.

Gene Gedman, back from two years Army service in Panama, tops the list of players who will bid for offensive backfield spots with the '56 Lions. Gedman was a regular with the '53 championship Lions team but has not played football during his service career.

Texans Move Up in Net Trials

CHICAGO (AP)—A pair of Texans, Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of Dallas and young Sam Giammalva of Houston, advanced promisingly as the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournament entered the semifinal round today.

Bartzen, seeded second, took the favorite's role after Giammalva, a 21-year-old junior from the University of Texas, knocked off top-seeded Art Larsen, San Leandro, Calif., 7-5, 6-8, 6-3, in a near two-hour match on the River Forest courts.

Jewelers to Face Hamtramck Outfit

Pontiac Shaw's Jewelers softball club makes its 3rd try for a title in the annual Metropolitan Beach Class A tourney, Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

He was expected to open Sunday's game, against the Lutomski Post Majors of Hamtramck. If they win Shaw's meets winner of the Keith Lumber (Mt. Clemens), Greenlane Enterprises game at 5 p.m. With two wins the Pontiac club would return July 27-28 for the finals.

Extra-Hole Battles Mark Birmingham Golf Matches

By H. GUY MOATS

Five of the eight opening matches in the Birmingham Country Club Invitational best-ball championship, yesterday, were tight affairs. Two went into extra holes, and both co-medalist teams were eliminated.

Championship flight was halved as a result of Friday's match play with eight pairs remaining for today's 18-hole round.

Steve Purdo and Bill Jordan eliminated co-medalists veteran Bill Nettle and young Jim Kraus of Pine Lake, one up. Gale Stringer, Birmingham CC proxy and Ed Ervasti the other medalist team were turned back by Tony Lopucki and Earl Burt in a 19-hole scrap, one up.

Day's longest match, however, was the 20-hole victory for John Riddell and Don Dawson over G. I. Connely and Harry Martin of the host club. Martin's round was the individual best of the day, a one-under 70 for the regulation distance. Both pairs birdied the 1st extra hole (Dawson, Martin), but Riddell's birdie three on the 20th (No. 2) beat Connely's par 4. Their 68 was three under par.

* * *

Dick Wibel and Bill Krall defeated Randy Ahern and Ted Stillwell two and one, Tom McMahon and George Webb eliminated Roy Burgin and Dr. Frank Lovell, two and one. In other matches Chuck Kocsis and Jim Nick beat Frank Jarrard and Ken Place five and four; Ben Smith and Bud Gould beat Ed Grabowski and Tyler Riggin three and two; Tommy Watrous and Bill Adams defeated Fred Micklow and Dr. George Jaaksi six and five.

Newcombe Holds Grip on Cards

Brooklyn Meal Ticket in St. Louis

By The Associated Press

Where in the world would the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers be in that National League race without big Don Newcombe? Or without the St. Louis Cardinals, for that matter.

Newk and the Cards have become regular mealtickets for the so-called "gutless wonders." The strapping righthander has been Manager Walt Alston's stopper more often than not, and the Redbirds, who once staged those thrilling pennant scraps with the Brooks, are keeping the Dodgers healthy these days.

After dropping two of three at Cincinnati and slipping six games behind the leaders, Brooklyn stopped the skid with a 4-1 decision over the Cards last night as Newcombe pitched a five-hitter for his 13th victory. It was Newk's seventh straight over the Cardinals, who haven't beaten him since August, 1951. It also was the eighth victory in 11 games with St. Louis this season for third place Brooklyn.

Milwaukee retained its two-game edge with Bob Buhl tossing a two-hitter for his 12th victory and Hank Aaron pumping across four runs in a 10-0 frolic against Philadelphia. Runner-up Cincinnati, scoring all its runs on homers, beat Pittsburgh 6-4 in 12 innings on Smoky Burgess' two-run shot.

In the American League, Whitey Ford tied an AL record with six straight strikeouts while winning his 12th as the New York Yankees defeated Kansas City 6-1. That raised their lead to a high of 11 games over Cleveland, rained out at Baltimore. Detroit stomped Boston 9-6. Chicago and Washington also were idled by rain.

Stan Musial was the only Card to give Newcombe any trouble, lining his 17th home run and a single in three trips. Newk got the first of four third-inning singles as the Dodgers scored three to beat

Champion Trades In Slats for Wings as Stewardess

* * *

She says:

"It means giving up competitive skiing, but I hope my flight schedules will allow me to be near some ski areas during the winter months. We get quite a bit of time off and I still want to ski for pleasure."

SKIER OF THE WEEK

A winter-summer sports enthusiast, Barbara also held a one-year post as swimming instructor at Traverse City municipal beaches. In 1955 she performed as a member of a professional water ski troupe in Chicago.

She studied in January, 1955, with ski instructor Stein Ericksen at Boyne Mountain with a tentative eye toward possible Olympics contention. But, she says candidly, "Gaining an Olympics berth is an awfully big job."

Barbara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Sherberneau, enrolled for two terms in a secretarial course at Central Michigan College. Until three weeks ago she worked as secretary-receptionist at a Traverse City firm.

A "spur-of-the-moment" decision prompted her application as an air-lines stewardess. She tried Capital because it serves her home—and the adjacent ski area.

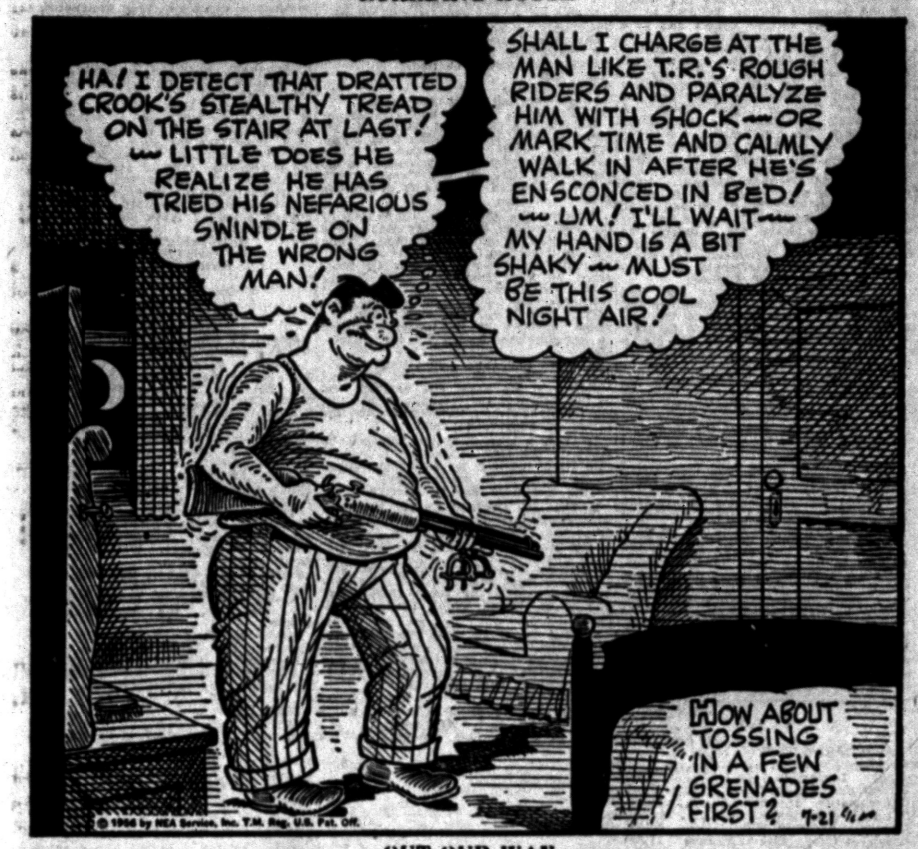

"They called me immediately and I've just finished two weeks of basic training. I go to Washington soon for further training and a permanent assignment," she said.

Report of Legislative Committee on Passage of Legislation for 1956.

By Mr. Schone

In Re: Report of Legislative Committee on Passage of Legislation for 1956.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

On the 13th day of January, 1956, your Committee met our State Representatives and our Senator at an evening meeting and presented to them, for submission to the Legislature, four amendments to Act 316 of the Public Acts of 1933, The Drain Law was in process of recodification, both Senate and House were averse to amending the new code and much difficulty was experienced in getting our amendments, with another from Macomb County in which we were vitally interested, on the new "Drain Code," known as House Bill No. 3. The difficulties were overcome and I am pleased to report that our entire program in this field is now a part of the law, with the exception that we got thirty years on bonds instead of the forty years we requested.

Mr. Morris and Mr. Main worked closely on the Drain Bills and were largely responsible for bringing about the successful conclusion which resulted.

This Board also approved several other proposed amendments to existing laws which we will discuss one at a time.

The first was an amendment to Act 243 of 1939 to provide that when a City had voted to incorporate but had not adopted a Charter, the Township Board could contract and bind the City until the Charter was adopted. This amendment was attached to House Bill 233 and was passed with immediate effect. This will be of material aid in connection with the Evergreen Interceptor Sewer Project. It was presented to the Governor March 22nd and will become immediately effective when signed by him.

Another important bill of legislation was the Bill to amend the Tax Law to legalize the employment of technical personnel to assist in equalizing taxes. This Bill, H.B. No. 77, was prepared by the City of Detroit in cooperation with our Equalization Committee and Mr. Merritt, and "I am pleased to report it was successfully engineered through both Houses of the Legislature, was given immediate effect and is now part of the Tax Law.

Another Bill in which the Townships were concerned was an amendment to the Plat Act to permit the County Road Commission to require streets to be paved with bituminous concrete. House Bill 303 was amended at the suggestion of the Towns and Counties Committee in the House so that the County Road Commission can require paving of any suitable material. This will permit, by cooperation of the Township Boards and the Road Commission, any type of paving acceptable to the Township Boards. This Bill is now part of the law.

Another Amendment passed and approved by this Board was to Act 137 of Public Acts of 1943 which broadened the Act to include construction of public buildings and equipping the same and specifying certain funds which might be used therefor. The amendment will be helpful to every municipality in the state. The amendment was House Bill 3040. At this date it has passed both Houses and awaits the Governor's signature.

In addition to the foregoing, several Bills broadened the powers of Townships and have been passed by the Legislature. One such Bill is House Bill 13 which authorizes the Townships to contract with the Road Commission for improvements on Township roads. This Bill had rather a hectic career but finally became law and will be of some benefit to the Townships.

One other bit of Legislation in which we were interested was relative to the right of Townships to call Special Elections. While this authority has been presumed to exist for sometime, there was nothing specific in the Statute on it and an amendment was prepared and placed on House Bill 417 and this Bill, with our amendment on it, was passed by both Houses and sent to the Governor for signature. This will eliminate any question about the right of Townships to call a Special Election.

The one Bill which failed in passage and which we were particularly interested in was Bill 356 to amend Act 188 of the Public Acts of 1954 pertaining to improvements by Townships. We attempted to have the percentage necessary on petitions reduced from 51 to 51%. This Bill passed the House and Mr. Merritt arranged for hearing on it and other of the Bills mentioned in the Committee on Municipalities in the Senate and, as Chairman of the Committee, I outlined all of the Bills, including this one. However, it failed to come out of Committee.

Last year the Corporation Counsel prepared a Bill to clarify the law relative to the incorporation of cities and to also clarify the voting rights in the period between the incorporation vote and the adoption of a Charter. The Bill died in Committee in 1955. This Bill was introduced this year as House Bill 242, passed both houses and is now law.

Many of our Bills were in the Committee on Towns and Counties in the House and hearings were arranged, at which time your Legislative Committee, together with the Chairman and Chairman pro tem, met in Lansing and had an opportunity to express to the Committee why we wanted the Bills passed. When the Bills were finally passed by the House and reached the Senate again hearings were arranged before the Committee on Municipalities and again the Chairman and Chairman pro tem, with the Legislative Committee, appeared and had an opportunity to express to that Committee why we wanted the various Bills passed. Supervisor Lloyd Anderson attended both meetings and lent his help with the others.

The amendments we were directly and actively interested in numbered 12, and 11 of that 12 are either law today due to immediate effect having been given the Bills or will be effective 90 days after the Legislature adjourns. This is a splendid record, as we believe the average of Bills which get through the Legislature is 1 out of 3 or 4. The Legislative Committee wishes to thank the Chairman and Chairman pro tem of this Board and other Supervisors who attended the meetings and aided in the passage of these Bills. Mr. Rawson, representing the Township Supervisors Association, Mr. Frieberger of Detroit, Mr. Tom Leonard and Mr. Howard Estes, both of Oakland County, were very helpful and the cooperation of all concerned resulted in an exceptionally successful Legislative program.

The Committee recommends that sometime next September or October the Legislative Committee gather from all members of this Board who have any suggestions for amendments all of your suggestions and prepare a Legislative program in advance of the convening of the Legislature, and we urge each one of the Supervisors to submit to the Committee any suggestions or ideas they may have in the way of new laws needed or fixing to pass your suggestions on to the Legislative Committee so that the Bills may be prepared in advance, then submitted to the Board and those approved by this Board will be concentrated on when the Legislature meets.

We further recommend that the Committee be authorized to establish full time headquarters in Lansing, if possible, for the duration of the next Legislative Session. This will cover at the outside January, February, March and April and cost about $150.00 per month. This will stabilize a headquarters and be much better for all concerned.

While the success of our program this year speaks for itself, we would be remiss in our duty if we did not call to your attention the particular value of Mr. Merritt's services. His broad acquaintance with members of both House and Senate and the confidence the members have in his integrity are invaluable to us.

We also want to pay tribute to Mr. Leonard and others who cooperated 100% with Mr. Merritt and many times through a Session this is very important.

We also want, personally, to thank each of our Representatives and our Senator for their help.

Mr. Chairman, I move the adoption of this report.

In Re: Rochester City Proposed Incorporation

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Boundaries Committee reports as follows:

On December 2, 1955, a petition was filed to incorporate the Village of Rochester and certain additional territory from Avon Township as a City. Subsequent thereto, or on December 15, 1955, a second petition was filed in which the description varied somewhat from the first petition. On March 7, 1956, a third petition was filed as a substitute for the second petition filed December 15, 1955.

Hearings were conducted on the several petitions and all interested parties given an opportunity to be heard.

Your Committee finds that the first petition filed on December 2, 1955, does not sufficiently comply with the Statute to warrant this Board in taking any further action thereon.

Under the provisions of the Statute, it is unnecessary to determine the validity or invalidity of the second petition filed December 15, 1955, because the third petition filed March 7, 1956 is filed as a substitute for the second petition.

Your Committee finds that the third, or substitute petition filed March 7, 1956, complies with the Statute and the question of incorporation of the area described in said petition should be submitted to the electors affected as defined in the Statute.

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Committee, I offer the following resolution:

1. Be It Resolved that the petition filed December 2, 1955 to incorporate the territory therein described as the City of Rochester be declared to be insufficient and no further action be taken thereon.

2. Be It Further Resolved that the petition filed March 7, 1956 praying for the incorporation of the following described lands, to-wit:

"All of the present Village of Rochester, Oakland County, Michigan, and portions of the Township of Avon, Oakland County, Michigan, and more particularly described as follows:

In Re: Rochester City Proposed Incorporation

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Boundaries Committee reports as follows:

On December 2, 1955, a petition was filed to incorporate the Village of Rochester and certain additional territory from Avon Township as a City. Subsequent thereto, or on December 15, 1955, a second petition was filed in which the description varied somewhat from the first petition. On March 7, 1956, a third petition was filed as a substitute for the second petition filed December 15, 1955.

Hearings were conducted on the several petitions and all interested parties given an opportunity to be heard.

Your Committee finds that the first petition filed on December 2, 1955, does not sufficiently comply with the Statute to warrant this Board in taking any further action thereon.

Under the provisions of the Statute, it is unnecessary to determine the validity or invalidity of the second petition filed December 15, 1955, because the third petition filed March 7, 1956 is filed as a substitute for the second petition.

Your Committee finds that the third, or substitute petition filed March 7, 1956, complies with the Statute and the question of incorporation of the area described in said petition should be submitted to the electors affected as defined in the Statute.

Wherefore, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Committee, I offer the following resolution:

1. Be It Resolved that the petition filed December 2, 1955 to incorporate the territory therein described as the City of Rochester be declared to be insufficient and no further action be taken thereon.

Moved by Lilly supported by Moberly the resolution be adopted.

Discussion followed.

A sufficient majority having voted for the motion, the motion carried.

2. Be It Further Resolved that the petition filed March 7, 1956 praying for the incorporation of the following described lands, to-wit:

"All of the present Village of Rochester, Oakland County, Michigan, and portions of the Township of Avon, Oakland County, Michigan, and more particularly described as follows:

3. Be It Further Resolved that the question of incorporation of said territory as the City of Rochester be submitted to the residents of the territory to be incorporated, at a Special Election to be held on the 5th day of June, A. MICHIGAN STATE TAX COMMISSION
LANSING

Oakland County Board of Supervisors
Court House Office Building
Pontiac 15, Michigan

Gentlemen:

The State Tax Commission upon appeal from Waterford Township fixed the county equalized value of Oakland County in 1955 in the amount of $1,385,250,000 on September 21, 1955. A schedule of the valuations for the townships and cities was contained in the official order.

Section 211.34 Compiled Laws of 1948 as amended provides that the action of the State Tax Commission shall be final and binding upon the Board of Supervisors for two years unless the State Tax Commission approves in writing specific increases or decreases occasioned by gains or losses of property values based upon investigation of values in the county affected and after consultation with the local assessing officers.

The State Tax Commission has received the reports of the assessing officers of Oakland County and has consulted with the representatives of the Equalization Committee of the County concerning the reports of property losses and gains in order to fulfill the requirements of the above quoted section.

Therefore please be advised that the State Tax Commission at a meeting held April 24, 1956 approved the attached amended schedule of County equalized valuations for the townships and cities of Oakland County for 1956 and directs that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors adopt the valuation as per the attached schedule and set the total equalized valuation of the County in the amount of $1,588,392,983 for 1956.

Very truly yours,
EDWARD W. KANE,
Secretary.

On April 24, 1956 the State Tax Commission addressed a letter to you with an attached schedule of equalized valuations for the townships and cities in Oakland County for 1956 in accordance with the provisions of Section 211.34 C. L. 1948. The law above cited requires that an equalization by the State Tax Commission remain in force for two years and therefore the equalization of 1955 must remain in force except for adjustments to be approved by the State Tax Commission for losses and gains.

On April 26, 1956 the Equalization Committee of Oakland County advised this office by letter that it had made an error in furnishing data for the City of Ferndale by reporting $2,906,000 of assessed valuation of new real estate instead of the correct figure of $893,800 of assessed value of new real estate. This department has taken cognisance of the error as reported by your Equalization Committee and therefore has recomputed the equalized valuations of the county. You will find attached the revised schedule of equalized valuations for all of the townships and cities in Oakland County for 1956 which the Board of Supervisors is hereby directed to adopt as the county equalized valuation for 1956.

Very Truly Yours,
EDWARD W. KANE,
Secretary

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING

April 27, 1956

To Members of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Ladies and Gentlemen:

You are hereby notified that there will be a Special Meeting of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors on Tuesday, May 1, 1956 at 9:30 a.m. for the purpose of apportioning the state and county taxes to the several assessing districts in accordance with the equalization as made by the State Tax Commission on April 24, 1956, the report of which was received and filed in the Oakland County Clerk's Office April 27, 1956.

This meeting is required by statute Act 206, P.A. 1893, as amended, being Sec. 34 of the General Property Tax Act) to be called not less than three days nor more than five days after the filing of the said report of the State Tax Commission.

Yours truly,
LYNN D. ALLEN,
Oakland County Clerk.

Report
By Mr. Zapf

Mr. Chairman and Members of the Board of Supervisors:

Last year, as the result of an appeal from the report of our Equalization Committee, the State Tax Commission equalized our entire County. The least we now about the experience the better. Since the September 28, 1955 meeting of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, the following motion was adopted: Moved by Wright, supported by Carter that the Equalization Committee be instructed to study and make a report as to what could be done in order to bring about better equalization which would be less likely to cause appeals to the State Tax Commission."

Since that time, no stone was left unturned in our efforts to cooperate fully with the State Tax Commission. Conferences were made to ascertain the views of the Commission. Proposed changes were submitted before work was progressed to assure our efforts would be in the right direction. Copies of all completed work were submitted for review and inspection. Full cooperation was accorded us. Our efforts were received cordially and receptively. At no time were we able to report to you the results of these efforts until receipt of the State Tax Commission's equalization report for this year under date of April 24, 1956.

Now we are pleased to report that the Commission accepted our personal figures 100%, accepted our township figures 96% and accepted our city figures 55%. In other words, of the 25 townships, the Commission accepted our work in 24. In only one township, Holly, was our work not accepted. This was not because, to date the Commission has not had sufficient time in which to complete its study. Of the 20 cities, the Commission accepted our work in 11. In the remaining 9 cities, the Commission has not had sufficient time in which to complete its studies. The Commission has accepted our work in four of our 45 units for a percentage of 77%. As a Committee, we feel proud of this result and are sure that next year, a complete report of 45 will in our County will be forthcoming in a manner satisfactory to the Commission.

In view of the fact that it is a legal requirement that the Commission again review our County this year, that acceptance of its report is compulsory regardless of any opposition to our actions thereof, and that the results of the work of our Committee and Department is now being very favorably received, we seriously and sincerely recommend the adoption of the Equalization Committee's report when it is submitted to you for consideration. A "nay" vote can be construed only as opposition to the work of our Committee with no effect upon the report of the State Tax Commission.

Mr. Chairman, I move the adoption of this report.

TO THE HONORABLE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF THE COUNTY OF OAKLAND, MICHIGAN

Gentlemen:

Your Board of County Road Commissioners, in compliance with the statutes relating thereto, takes pleasure in submitting for your approval our Forty-Third Annual Report of the work of this department for the period January 1, 1955, to December 31, 1955.

NEW GARAGE AND OFFICE BUILDINGS

This Commission has under construction a portion of our new buildings on the county service center site. The contract was awarded to the Campbell Construction Company at a low bidder in the sum of $270,538.00 or approximately $6.00 per square foot. These buildings will be ready for occupancy in the spring.

Plans are in progress for the construction in 1956 of an office building and a building to house a paint shop, electrical laboratory, engineering laboratory and sign letting shop. The funds for this construction will be available from an established building fund and the sale of present buildings.

The construction of water lines, steam lines and sewer lines have been completed as well as considerable grading of the yard and tank foundations.

FARMINGTON-BRIGHTON EXPRESSWAY

The Farmington-Brighton Expressway extending from U.S.23 in Livingston County and paralleling U.S.-16 easterly to a point on U.S.-16 about 1 mile southeast of Middle Belt Road in Oakland County is underway. There are several of the bridge structures under construction with other work being placed under contract as rapidly as plans are completed. This Expressway is under the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department. The total cost of the project is estimated at $11,000,000 of which Oakland County participated to the extent of $500,000 payable from motor vehicle funds in 20 equal annual installments. The Huron Clinton Metropolitan Authority paid to the County $40,000 for its share of a grade separation at Kent Lake. This money was transferred to the Fiscal Agent in charge of a $5,000,000 Bond Issue covering the project.

HIGHWAY NEEDS STUDY

Highway needs for Oakland County as projected by a highway study committee of the State Legislature indicated that county primary roads requires a maximum expenditure of $130,000,000 over the next 20 year period. This divided into yearly expenditures of $6,464,000 per year. The Local Road System of the County also requires an annual expenditure of $5,043,000 per year for the next 20 years to bring these roads up to a standard for traffic needs during the period. There has not been devised any means for financing this huge program by the Legislature.

EIGHT MILE ROAD

Wayne and Oakland Counties have joined through their respective Boards of County Road Commissioners to lay out, open and establish 8 Mile Road (a county line road) extending from a point near Trail Road to Griswold Street near Village of Northville according to Section 17 of Chapter IV of Act No. 283 of the Public Acts as amended. Due to topographic and geographic conditions the right of way for this 1.47 miles of highway will extend North of the county line in Oakland County. Right of way is now being acquired for future construction.

COUNTY ROAD MAINTENANCE

The expense of maintaining county roads has increased due to the added cost of labor, materials and equipment. Traffic conditions brought about by a large volume of new homes and industrial buildings in this county and surrounding area has also required additional maintenance on highways. Primary County Roads as indicated in our construction program are gradually being improved as to line, grade, drainage and surface. This Commission have also participated in the widening and other improvements of Primary roads in the Cities of Royal Oak, Clawson, Oak Park, Ferndale and Hazel Park all of which are an aid to traffic. Local roads have been maintained to the extent of funds available under Act 51 of the P. A. 1951 supplemented by contributions from Townships.

Maintenance of County Primary roads cost $1,402,530.20 including labor, material, equipment rental, overhead and distributive expense, or an average of $2,900.95 per mile.

The Cities of Hazel Park, Oak Park, Ferndale and Berkley maintained Primary Roads during 1955 within their respective city limits under an agreement with this Commission.

Maintenance of County Local Roads cost $861,691.01 including labor, material, equipment rental, overhead and distributive expense, or an average of $478.93 per mile. These cost figures include sale of culvert pipe, calcium chloride brine as a dust layer, and contribution by Townships.

State trunk line highways in Oakland County are being maintained by this Commission under contract with the State Highway Commissioner for the fiscal year July 1, 1955, to June 30, 1956. This contract amounts to $436,141.00 or an average of $2,341.36 per mile.

New subdivision street mileage added to our county local road system in 1955 amounted to 134.04 miles. The incorporation of the Cities of Keego Harbor, Madison Heights, Troy and the Village of Bingham Farms reduced the local road mileage by 134.77 miles.

There were 34 cases of debris dumped on public roads investigated. Warrants were served from various justice courts and violators were made to clean up such messes and in some cases were fined by the court.

66 requests were granted to weigh and examine vehicles to determine legal axle loads allowed on county roads.

Numerous complaints were investigated at the request of the State Highway Department and Michigan State Police concerning illegal vending on county and State road right of ways, the majority of these were on weekends and holidays.

We escorted eight special moves of extra large equipment where ordinary permits might cause safety hazards or impair the normal flow of traffic.

A program was started this past year at the request of the Prosecutor's office to inspect trucks operating on county roads as to the condition of their safety equipment and safety devices.

This practice was put into effect and numerous spot checks were made throughout the county and literature was sent to the various trucking concerns informing them of this program.

A number of accidents involving trucks were investigated at the Prosecutor's request to determine if defective equipment was responsible for said accidents. The direction of posting and closing roads during the spring restrictions is done by this department by authorization of the Commission.

Many complaints of excessive dust caused by trucks were investigated and violators ordered to control and maintain such routes or forfeit their bonds and permits to operate in said areas.

There were 7,067 special permits issued covering the moving of extra large equipment on county roads.

The following listed material was used during 1955 and charged out of our County Stock:

REMOVAL OF DUTCH ELM DISEASED TREES

During the year of 1955, we removed 179 elm trees which were infected with the above mentioned disease or were condemned as breeding places for the beetles. In 1954 we removed 80 trees, so this is a 124% increase over 1954 and 1500% over 1953 when only 11 diseased trees were removed. If this continues to increase in this manner, you can see where it will have a very serious effect on our Local Road Budgets.

Because of a pay increase in 1955 and with the distance in which we have to haul the wood to dispose of it until it can be burned, I would say that it has averaged us $65.00 per tree to remove and haul away the wood.

The burning of the logs can be included in this average. Following is a chart showing what roads and townships were affected by this disease and removals:

Roads	Location	Number of Trees	Approximate Cost to Remove
Primary	County	62	$5,865.00
Local	Southfield Township	39	2,550.00
Local	Farmington Township	8	425.00
Local	Royal Oak Township	39	2,550.00
Local	Bloomfield Township	28	2,550.00
Local	Troy Township	6	510.00
Local	West Bloomfield Township	7	595.00
Local	Pontiac Township	1	85.00
Local	Avon Township	2	85.00
Local	Orion Township	1	170.00
		1	85.00

This chart also shows how the disease is spreading in the County as in 1954 only four (4) townships were involved in the removal program. Up until now we have been using the Bloomfield Pit to store the wood and logs so as we were refused to continue at the pit our disposal problem would become very serious. We could haul to our Commerce or Bald Mountain Pit but this could add to the removal cost. During the year of 1955, we spent approximately $15,215.00 for just the removal of infected trees. This is further proof of how financially we would be unable to start a Control Program.

Change Sought in Courtships

Lutheran Leader Says Women Should Have Equal Rights as Men

NEW YORK (AP) — A Lutheran leader today proposed a change in American courtship customs that would give women as much right as men to ask for dates or propose marriage.

* * *

The Rev. Leslie Conrad Jr., executive secretary of the Luther League of America, the Young People's Auxiliary of the United Lutheran Church, cited the problem of "mismatched mates" and said:

"I am for changing our cultural pattern to such a degree that young ladies might have just as much freedom in choosing their husbands as husbands have in picking their wives."

* * *

In a message in the league's publication, Luther Life, he told the 32,000 members that 95 per cent of young men are against the idea, but most women would favor it—and he sides with them.

"I'm for making it a two-way street with the traffic going in either direction and having the same privileges," he said.

'Johnny Cake' Enters Native Diet in Mission

When Myrie Louise Patterson was a young schoolgirl in Wyoming, Ill., her mother taught her to make "Johnny Cake" from the corn so plentiful in that part of the Prairie State.

Now that the little girl is Mrs. Edward J. Aeschliman, wife of a missionary serving in the villages of Southern Rhodesia, Africa, she is again turning to her childhood experience to help the village women in their culinary efforts. Theirs is a "corn country" and "mealies" (corn meal) is the staple food.

In her classes among the women, Mrs. Aeschliman has shown them how to make "Johnny Cake," as her mother did, and they have adapted the oven method to baking over an open fire. Mrs. Aeschliman has been teaching the women to make an appetizing variety of foods with native materials—but "Johnny Cake" is the favorite.

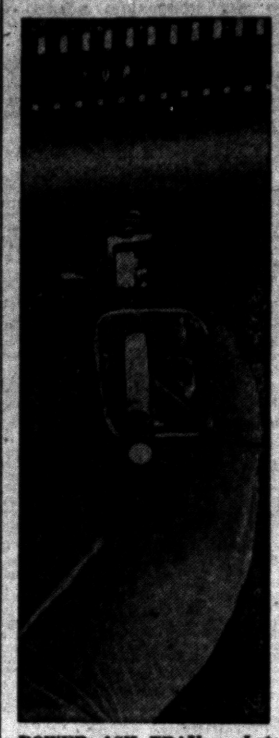

Anglican Bishop Off for Talks in Moscow

"We are going to discuss the extent of unity in belief and practice between our two churches. We shall be working toward a goal when we hope for the mutual recognition of one another as portions of one church, one God."

He said atheistic propaganda may have had a terrible effect in Russia, but expressed conviction the people there have a latent spirituality which cannot be destroyed. The conference will last about two weeks.

POWER ASH TRAY — Latest gadget for the car dashboard is a vacuum ash tray that snatches away discarded cigaret stubs, extinguishes their fire and vacuum-packs them for future disposal. Manufactured by a firm in Pacific Palisades, Calif., the vacuum power whisks away stubs and ashes through a tube into a sealed glass container which needs emptying only four times a year.

Russia Winning War on Judaism

Religion Almost Dead in Soviet Union, Touring Rabbis Reveal

NEW YORK (AP)—Russian Jews, despite heroic efforts to preserve their faith, are "waging a losing battle against communism's fundamental hostility to religion," three American rabbis said on their return from the Soviet Union.

A joint statement they issued on their arrival home this week said their experiences in the U.S.S.R. led them to "the melancholy conclusion that Judaism in Russia is seriously threatened with extinction."

The statement added:

"While the Soviet regime speaks of religious freedom and has, in fact, somewhat relaxed some of its repressive measures, its policies continue to restrict and strangle Jewish life.

"We were shocked to find that the major institutions of the Jewish religion and the vehicles of expression of Jewish culture had all but vanished, leaving a Judaism that is anemic and moribund."

The three, Rabbi Emanuel Rackman, New York, president of the New York Board of Rabbis; Rabbi David I. Golovensky, New Rochelle, N.Y.; and Rabbi Dr. Morris N. Kertzer, Rockville Centre, N.Y., spent two weeks in Russia.

* * *

The rabbis said "the fears of Jews were far more acute a year and a half ago."

"Many said that had we come two years ago they would not have felt free to talk to us," they added.

The rabbis expressed hope that "this is the beginning of a trend that will ultimately make for justice for our coreligionists and help recreate the instruments for the restoration and perpetuation of Jewish life."

Presbyterians Vote for Merger

Mid-South Synod OKs Joining Blue Ridge Unit in Tennessee

Synod of Mid-South of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., meeting on the campus of Maryville College, Maryville, Tenn., has voted unanimously to approve merger with Synod of the Blue Ridge.

* * *

Blue Ridge Synod, also in the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., is composed of Negro members in 34 churches and three presybteries with approximately 2,350 communicants. It has been known as a segregated synod.

Mid-South is composed almost wholly of white members, with nine presbyteries, 237 churches, and approximately 31,000 communicants.

The new merged synod will be known as Synod of Mid-South. First step will be a merger on the synod level only, bringing under one synod organization all presbyteries of the two synods. Merger of overlapping presbyteries will be a matter for future planning. Likewise local congregations are not at present changed.

* * *

The action of Synod of Mid-South came in the form of approval of recommendations of a committee of the synod appointed a year ago to confer with a similar committee from Synod of Blue Ridge.

Synod of Blue Ridge will act on a similar recommendation in October. If its action is favorable, and the General Assembly of the church approves the plan, actual merger will take place in June 1957.

Churches Vital in Anti-Red War

Immediate Opposition Needed to Quench Fire of Communism

As American churches were urged by their leaders to end their "fiddling," and fight the fires of communism and nationalism raging throughout southeast Asia, a high Washington official warned that their aid must be immediate.

At Silver Bay, N. Y., Assistant Secretary of Labor Ernest J. Wilkins told 550 delegates to a conference airing the urgencies of the Christian World Mission, that the United States must give to the nations of southeast Asia "every aid and comfort, every ounce of truth, every device to accelerate their progress, every procedure to assure "their strength and independence among free nations."

He agreed with conferees meeting at Silver Bay last week that southeast Asia is under a heavy "barrage" from the Reds, that there is danger they may fall into the "maelstrom" in the world power struggle, and that America must bolster their "upright posture in the family of free people."

"These nations have dinned into them day and night the impressive achievements of the Soviet Union and the rosy tales of Communist China," Mr. Wilkins said. "Further, they are constantly warned against Western 'imperialism', Yankee capitalism and 'decaying democracy'. It is strange that the restless millions barely above the starvation level have not already succumbed to the siren song."

"Communism has more missionaries in southeast Asia than Protestantism has in the whole world," one report pointed out. "The Communists spend more on literature in India than our State Department spends on its entire southeast Asia operation . . . In one six month period, 10,000 Chinese high school students left their homes in Malay for Red China."

State Wheat Growers Favor Quota System

LANSING (UP) — For the first time since the quota system started four years ago, Michigan wheat farmers have given the necessary two-thirds vote to retention of acreage controls.

* * *

The nationwide vote is being tabulated in Washington. The quota system will be maintained for the 1957 wheat crop if a two-thirds majority is compiled in the total U.S. vote.

About 67.8 per cent of the Michigan farmers casting ballots yesterday voted in favor of the quota system. Out of 6,574 votes cast, 4,430 were in favor of controls and 2,060 were against them.

Nine other ballots were listed as "spoiled" and 165 were challenged.

Clarence Prentice, administrative officer for the State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, said Michigan was the first Midwestern state reporting the statewide results to Washington.

* * *

Prentice said only about half the eligible Michigan farmers voted yesterday. The ballots were limited to farmers planning to plant more than 15 acres of wheat in the fall.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF CLYDE West who passed away July 21, 1955.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
Silent is the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sadly missed by son, daughters, sister and brother-in-law.

French Professor Finds Prehistoric Art in Cave

POITIERS, France (AP) — A French professor announced today the discovery of a cave in southwest France rich in paintings by prehistoric man.

* * *

Its walls are lined with black and red figures of mammoths, rhinoceroses and horses painted possibly 25,000 years ago. The cave may turn out to be a treasure house of prehistoric art equal to France's famous Lascaux Grotto.

Louise Rene Nougier, professor of prehistoric studies at the University of Toulouse, reported the discovery in the closing session here of the 15th French congress of prehistoric studies.

A whole series of decorated caves were found in the valley of the Vezere River in the same region, among these was the Lascaux Cave discovered in 1946. It has gained world reknown for its many red, black and yellow prehistoric paintings of animals.

EXPLORE ENTIRE CAVE

The new find was made by Prof. Nougier and Romain Robert, president of a regional society of prehistoric studies. They notified Abbe Henri Breuil, 79-year-old dean of French students of prehistoric man. The three men made a further exploration of the cave last Tuesday.

They found 61 paintings or drawings of mammoths, 12 bison, 8 goats, 6 horses and 4 rhinoceroses plus a myriad tracing of drawings of serpents and complex designs. The paintings were black and of incredible freshness.

Abbe Breuil estimated the drawings were done by prehistoric men of the latter Aurignacian or early Magdalenian periods—some 25,000 years ago in the stone age.

* * *

Five groups of figures were considered classics for the period: a painted frieze of rhinoceroses; a painted frieze of mammoths of the last ice age; a carved frieze of mammoths; a tall frieze of painted horses each more than six feet long and pierced by arrows symbolizing magic powers; a red fresco of six painted and finely carved huge mammoths.

Paul Hoffman OK'd as Delegate to U. N.

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate after bitter debate today confirmed President Eisenhower's nomination of motor magnate Paul G. Hoffman as a U.S. delegate to the United Nations. The vote was 64 to 22.

* * *

Three Republicans — GOP policy chairman Styles Bridges (NH) and Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy (Wis) and William E. Jenner, (Ind)—led the attack on Hoffman, a former chief of the nation's foreign aid program and an ex-official of the Ford Foundation.

* * *

Hoffman also was assailed by a top Democrat, Armed Services Chairman Richard B. Russell, (Ga) who was not present for the roll-call vote but who later charged on the Senate floor that the appointee was guilty of "waste and extravagance" in administering foreign aid.

* * *

Other members of the delegation, again headed by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., and this time including Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif) and Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn) were approved Thursday without opposition.

Red Chinese Planes Attack Matsu Island

TAIPEI (INS)—The Chinese Nationalist Air Force today reported six Chinese Communist jet planes were destroyed or damaged in two fierce dogfights over Matsu Island.

* * *

The Nationalist communique said it was the greatest air victory of the long war between the Nationalists and the Reds.

Two of the Communist jets were reported definitely downed, two possibly downed and two damaged as eight Nationalist jet fighters fought off 31 sorties by the Red planes.

The Nationalist communique said one air battle was fought between four Nationalist Thunderjets and Red MIGs from 12:13 to 12:32 p.m. (Taipei time) and the second from 12:30 to 12:46 when four Nationalist Sabrejets jumped another flight of Communist MIGs.

* * *

In the first engagement, the Nationalists said, one Red MIG was downed, one possibly downed and two damaged. One Red jet was reported downed and one possibly downed in the second battle.

Deputies Investigate Gas Station Thefts

* * *

Owner Charles E. Kinney told deputies he has missed money several times from the station at 1686 Auburn Road. He said he believes the thefts were committed by someone familiar with the station.

Southfield Police Hold Pair in Gasoline Thefts

Two Detroit area men were arrested by Southfield Township police this morning as suspects in a series of gas tank thefts from a township firm during the past year.

* * *

James E. Agar, 27, of Livonia, and Paul Letwinski, 18, of Detroit, are in Oakland County Jail under investigation for grand larceny. Three others have been held since Thursday when arrested at the scene by Southfield police.

* * *

The McDace Underground and Utility Company at 26440 W. Eight Mile Road reported gasoline valued at more than $600 had been taken from a gas supply truck parked in the company yard. The lootings occurred within the last four months, investigators said.

Rebuff of Congress Brewing Hot Battle

Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-N.M.), chairman of the Congressional Atomic Energy Committee, accused Strauss of a "studied insult" to Congress.

He said Strauss told newsmen Thursday that fall-out in H-bomb tests in the Pacific can now be "localized," and then sent a copy of his statement to the committee 18 hours later.

He complained that the committee "had been trying to find out the results of the tests," but had received no word from AEC.

Anderson added: "It will be proper to have a hearing, if time permits, to find out whether all members of the Atomic Energy Commission were advised the statement was going to be made."

Youth Gets Cut Lip When Cycle Hits Car

A Waterford Township youth escaped with only cuts of the lip when the motorcycle he was driving struck the rear of a car and went off the highway yesterday.

Victor P. Jewell, 18, of 8624 Highland Rd., was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital following the accident. He reportedly was thrown off the vehicle when it skidded into a field after the collision.

The driver of the car was Malcolm D. Bowick, 17, of 7732 Highland Rd. Bowick told investigating Township police he was struck from behind by the motorcycle as he was making a right turn from Williams Lake road into Hatchery road.

She's Beeman's Queen

Block-printed playing cards were in use all over Europe by 1400, more than a half century before the Gutenberg Bible was printed.

Girl Thankful for Zoo Elephant From Thailand

LONDON (INS) — Eleven-year-old Brookie Gordon, en route to thank the King of Thailand personally for an elephant he gave to the Portland, Ore., Zoo, arrived at Hong Kong today.

* * *

The overnight flight from Tokyo left Brookie a little tired. She said she wanted to get some sleep then go shopping and sightseeing.

Gladys Bowen, society editor of the Portland Oregonian, who is accompanying Brookie on the trip, said the little girl was enjoying the trip tremendously, particularly the flight today from Hong Kong.

Brookie is looking forward to a four-day trip to Bangkok beginning Monday. She probably will be received by the Thai King there. Brookie's mother is also accompanying her on the trip.

Cisler Is Questioned on Interests Conflict

By International News Service

Detroit Edison President Walker Cisler was subject of a Congressional inquiry yesterday into a possible conflict of interests in his dual role as promoter of an atomic power plant and a government adviser on European power.

The House Appropriations Committee said yesterday that Cisler "turns up as an official consultant of the United States Government on grave problems of progress in the nations of Europe on the development of atomic electric pwer."

The committee report went on to say Cisler is also head of a powerful combine of private utilities planning to build a 40-million sollar atomic power station near Monroe.

However, last night, the committee's chairman said all remarks directed toward Cisler would be deleted from the committee's report after Republican leaders called them derogatory.

Cisler is a consultant to the International Cooperation Administration and also heads the power reactor development company, the group which is planning the Monroe atomic plant.
